Early-Morning Crash Injuries Kill Local Man

Donald R. Black Dies After Car Rams House on Kennett Road

A 21-year-old Pontiac factory worker was killed here this morning when his car, reportedly traveling at high speed, went out of control and struck a tree and a parked car on Kennett Road.

Donald R. Black of 334 W. Huron St. was pronounced dead by Dr. Vernon C. Abbott at Pontiac General Hospital four hours after the 2:25 a.m. crash.

A witness, Willie R. Spence of 2269 Overridge Rd., told officers Howard Lenigan and Thomas Larrison that Black was following another car at speeds up to 70 m.p.h. on Kennett road when he suddenly lost control.

The car began swerving from one side of the road to the other, Spence said, and then left the road, striking a car belonging to Walter A. Schmitz, in his driveway at 109 W. Kennett Rd.

After ramming Schmitz' automobile, Black's vehicle careened off and crashed to a stop against Schmitz' home 100 feet away. Police said Schmitz' car was demolished as was Black's.

Police today were checking with Fisher Body officials in an attempt to locate the driver of the car which Black was following. Spence told officers that he returned to the scene but disappeared before police arrived.

Police said that Spence told them that he, Black, and an unidentified man had been drinking and that he (Spence) warned Black not to drive.

Summer Visitor Brings Memento From Germany

FOR THE FRIENDSHIP OF NATIONS—A 13-year-old Girl Scout, Karen Kassner (right) of Union Lake, makes a special bid for friendship between Germany and the United States as she pours water from the Rhine River into Union Lake. "May the two countries mix as well as these two waters," were Karen's words as she made the symbolic gesture. Witnessing the ceremony are members of Green and Union Lake Girl Scout troops. Karen brought the water back from Germany, where she spent the summer. Last August, she poured water from Union Lake into the Rhine River, in a similar ceremony attended by German dignitaries and reported in German big-city newspapers.

Envoys Reach Accord at 14th Geneva Parley

Negotiators to Take Up 'Practical Matters' at Next Session

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Red China reached final agreement today on the release of American civilians.

The agreement was reached at the 14th meeting between U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan.

A Red Chinese spokesman said after the meeting negotiations on the question of detained civilians had been concluded and the talks would continue on the second item of the agenda.

JOHNSON

The ambassadors, who have been meeting at intervals since Aug. 1, agreed to meet again Wednesday morning.

Under a previous understanding, settlement of the question of detained civilians would automatically take the talks to the other item of the agenda: "Other practical matters at issue between the two sides."

WANG

The Red Chinese have been anxious since the talks opened to reach this item, under which they might bring up anything from increased trade with the West to a Formosa settlement or admission to the United Nations.

A similar delayed announcement at the end of the last meeting of the ambassadors on Sept. 6 reported Chinese readiness to let 12 civilians go home, the first positive result of the talks which opened Aug. 1.

Johnson originally presented Wang a list of some 40 Americans in prison, under house arrest or denied exit permits. The exact number involved fluctuated from time to time as the circumstances of the persons concerned changed.

None of the 12 persons the Chinese said Tuesday they were willing to release was imprisoned or under house arrest. Two of them Wang said, had not applied for exit permits, the issue was now narrowed down essentially to the release of 25 Americans in prison and three others under house arrest.

CHINESE CAN RETURN, TOO

The United States was understood to have given an understanding that all Chinese in the United States could go to the Communist-controlled mainland of China if they wished — including students sent to the United States from Nationalist China.

The agreement was understood

Tension Reigns Supreme

'Miss America' Selection Set for Midnight Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Selection of the 1956 Miss America— heiress to a $50,000 jackpot of prizes and personal appearances—will be made late tonight by a team of 11 judges.

Six preliminary winners held a commanding lead today as the beauty contest moved into the final stage.

The judges' decision, expected near midnight, will end a tense, exciting week for the 49 contestants from 45 states, Chicago, District of Columbia, Hawaii and Canada.

The new Miss America, to replace 1955 winner, Miss Lee Ann Meriwether of San Francisco, will be selected on the basis of beauty, talent and personality.

PRELIM WINNERS

Three nights of preliminary judging have brought valuable point honors to these winners:

Swim suit division—Barbara Mamo Vieira, a tall, tanned Honolulu hula dancer entered as Miss Hawaii; Ann Campbell, a 21-year-old Oklahoma City art student; and a petite 18-year-old blue-eyed blonde, Clara Faye Arnold of Raleigh, N.C.

Talent division—Soprano Patricia Byrd Huddleston, hazel-eyed Southern belle from Clanton, Ala.; honey blonde Sandra Wirth of Miami, Fla., a baton twirler; and drama student Virginia E. Maffucci of Watertown, Mass.

* * *

All six girls have a good chance of being among the 10 finalists, to be announced when the final judging begins tonight.

Points acquired in evening gown appearances and personality ratings at breakfasts with the judges will help decide the final winner.

The contestants, who have put in a grueling week in their bid for the nation's beauty queen title, have no competitive activities scheduled during the final day.

They will vote among themselves, however, to select Miss Congeniality, who will receive a $1,000 special scholarship award.

Also to be named tonight is the most talented contestant not in the finals. She too will get a $1,000 scholarship.

* * *

The naming of Miss America 1956 at this seashore resort's huge convention hall will be televised over a national network. ABC, from 9:30 p.m. (Pontiac time) until midnight.

Ike Keeps Mum on Second Term

GOP Leaders Expected Decision Announcement at Denver Breakfast

DENVER (INS) — Republican chairmen from all the 48 states sit down to breakfast with President Eisenhower today brimming, with confidence—on the surface at least—that he will lead the party to victory again in 1956.

* * *

Eisenhower, in the role of old pro, will give the heads of the Republican state organizations some tips on how he thinks the GOP should go about winning next year's elections.

He won't answer the big question—whether he will head the party ticket—but most of the GOP bosses are ready to answer it for him as they arrived in Denver by chartered plane last night after graduating from a campaign "college" in Washington.

Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall put it in these words:

"I assume he is going to run, and that is enough for me."

COLD SHIVERS

No one was ready with an answer as to what would happen if Eisenhower decided not to seek re-election, but it was a thought that sent cold shivers down the spines of the Republican leaders as they assembled in Denver.

The first hot day of the month dawned on Pontiac today, but the weatherman says it's not the beginning of any heat wave.

Although the mercury climbed to 91 at 2 p.m., the U.S. Weather Bureau says the heat will fade with evening. It will be much cooler tomorrow, with the high temperature not expected to be above 68 degrees.

Scattered thundershowers are predicted for this afternoon, with the high possibly reaching 95. Tonight's low reading will be in the low 50s. Yesterday, the mercury reached 83, while the low was a mild 71.

Indians Predict Williams Victory

Iroquois Tribe Makes Chief a 'Blood Brother' in Syracuse Pow Wow

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Gov G. Mennen Williams has an Indian sign on the White House.

* * *

The Democratic State Executive who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the presidency in 1956, was made a "Blood Brother" of the Iroquois Indians at New York's State Fair yesterday.

He was given a small leather pillow marked with what the Indians said was prophetic beadwork. It depicted a small home with a path leading to a larger building. A figure is walking along the path.

The figure, the Indians said, is the Governor on the path from the Governor's mansion (which Michigan doesn't have) to the White House.

A shining sun was called a token of Williams' "glory." A tree represented the "many branches of his business."

Williams was made a brother in the tribe by crossing wrists with Indian Princess Claudia Reed. The ceremony symbolized the mingling of blood.

Williams was given the Indian name "Hungwadio" which means "next to God."

* * *

Williams said he would "try to make the lady who made this pillow feel she did not predict too badly."

About 600 persons attended the ceremony at the Fair's Indian Village.

Girl Scout's Goodwill Gesture:

Brings Rhine Water to Union Lake

By WILMA GREENWAY

A pretty young goodwill ambassador, 13-year-old Karen Kassner of West Bloomfield township, has found a new way to promote the brotherhood of nations.

By mixing the water of the German Rhine with that of Oakland County's Union Lake, the freedom-loving Girl Scout hopes to increase the friendship of Germany and America, and so help to cleanse the world of conflict.

Karen, who lives at 2401 Burleigh, Union Lake, went to Germany last May to visit relatives and learn something of her parents' homeland. With her she took two bottles of water from Union Lake.

In a ceremony attended by German officials and representatives of the press, Karen poured the water into the Rhine River as a gesture of international friendship. Then she refilled the bottles with water from the Rhine to bring back on her return to Michigan this week.

Thursday, while members of her Girl Scout troop looked on, Karen repeated the symbolic performance by emptying the Rhine River water into Union Lake.

"I pray that the two countries will mix as well as these two waters," were the simple words of the bright-eyed, serious young girl, as she made her bid for peace among nations.

Karen is a member of Green Lake Girl Scout Troop 212, and a top student at Walled Lake Junior High School. She attends Cedar Crest Lutheran Church and is a member of the Sunday School confirmation class.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kassner, both came to the United States in 1923 and were married in Detroit. Mr. Kassner is a plant superintendent at the Pontiac Precision Tool and Die Co.

Karen went to Germany by plane on May 30. She spent June and July in the village of Sielen in West Germany, where she stayed with an aunt, Miss Heldegard Goebel.

While there, she attended school in the village (German schools are in session until August) and learned to speak the language. She also entered the life of the community, milk the cows each day, drove the oxen, and helped harvest the wheat.

In a competitive sports event, she won in three contests—running, jumping and "schlagball," a German variation of baseball—and made headlines in the local newspapers.

"I wanted to show the people that an American girl can do more than put on lipstick," Karen said.

The last month of her visit was spent in the city of Duisburg, where her uncle, Walter Kassner, is the German consul for Haiti. It was here that on Aug. 30 she poured her water from Union Lake into the Rhine River.

The ceremony was witnessed by German dignitaries and the story of the little American girl and her goodwill gesture was written up in daily newspapers in three important German cities.

Home again, Karen told of the inspiration and knowledge she had gained from her trip, but admitted that "home is best."

"To know of other countries is wonderful," she said, "but the luckiest thing of all is to be a citizen of the United States. That's the most important thing I learned."

GOP Leader Harry Toy Dies After Noted Career

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

DETROIT—Harry S. Toy, who served Michigan as an Attorney General, State Supreme Court Justice and Detroit Police Commissioner, died yesterday at the Whittier Hotel in Detroit. He was 63 years old.

Germans Shun Russian Offers

Refuse Diplomatic State Until Reds Settle POW Return Question

MOSCOW (AP)—West Germany reiterated emphatically today in a storm session with Soviet leaders that it would not establish diplomatic relations with Russia until the German prisoner of war question is settled.

Heinrich von Brentano, West German foreign minister, stated the German position anew in a meeting at Spiridonovka Palace that lasted more than three hours.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer emerged grim-faced from the working session, without comment.

Von Brentano spoke after Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin said the Soviet Union is not holding any German prisoners of war but has in its custody 9,626 "war criminals whose sentencing was a humanitarian act."

The positions of the two governments after today's session was announced at a news conference presided over by Leonid Ilyichev, Soviet Foreign Office press officer.

Bulganin set the tone of the opening working meeting when he warned by implication that Germany should not attempt to bargain from a position of strength.

Inmate Near Death in Prison Uprising

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)— Shotgun-armed guards watched restless inmates of the Nebraska State Reformatory pace their cells today while in a hospital an inmate was near death from a wound received in gunfire during the breaking of a riot yeaterday.

* * *

Fire had blazed through two prison shops before the force of reformatory guards — backed by guards from the state penitentiary which itself has seen two full-scale uprisings this year—moved in to force iron bar and slat armed rioters back into their cells.

The wounded inmate is Luis Morales, 28, San Antonio, Tex., who was shot in the back. He was serving an auto theft sentence, and an added term for walking off from a work detail.

Today Supt. M. L. Wimberly and Lancaster County Attorney Elmer Scheele, were firing questions at 23 inmates who might be ringleaders in the riot.

California Crews Grimly Battling 7 Mile Fire Line

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fire-fighters concentrated on a seven-mile line today in the touchy battle against a dangerous brush fire near Santa Barbara but elsewhere in this fire-ravaged state workers were growing more optimistic.

* * *

Five hundred Marines joined the crews on the lines near Santa Barbara, a community of 50,000 on the Southern California coast.

"If the fire cannot be held at the top of the ridge, 20 or more cattle ranches will be in critical danger," said Robert Jones, Los Padres National Forest supervisor.

The area where firemen concentrated was between the Alisal Guest Ranch and Nojoqui Fall State Park.

A total of 2,000 men were fighting the blaze which has swept over 70,000 acres of brush and timber. Nolan O'Neal, fire control officer, estimated damage to the watershed at more than five million dollars.

Firemen planned to try out 3,000 gallons of a chemical fire retardant today. One officer said the fluid would be getting first real test under real forest fire conditions. The retardant is sprayed from pressure tanks as a foam extinguisher and also can be spread by plane-dropped balloons.

At Sequoia National Forest in the Sierra Nevada east of Fresno, Supervisor John Beebe said "things look good" although one blaze that jumped fire lines Thursday is still out of control.

The fire is in converse basin, west of the huge Boole tree, north of the main fire and south of King's Canyon.

Both the Gen. Grant tree and the Boole Tree are apparently out of danger. The Grant tree is believed to be the world's oldest living thing.

Forest Service experts from as far away as Arizona and Colorado were directing much of the work.

State forest men near Eureka said the fires there were 99 per cent under control. More than 35,000 acres were burned over.

And in Los Angeles, the longest and hottest heat wave the city ever experienced has come to an end, at least temporarily. The weather man said today's high would be 83 degrees at the Civic Center.

Cooling sea breezes forced their way in yesterday and the highest temperature was 88 degrees.

The heat wave saw temperatures of 100 degrees or more in the city for eight straight days. The maximum was 110. The toll was 103 lives and caused millions of dollars loss in livestock and crops.

Court System Eyed by Ingham

Lansing Official Likes County No-Record Court for Juvenile Offenders

Ingham County Prosecutor Charles E. Chamberlain said today he is "very interested" in setting up an "off-the-record" court to handle juvenile offenders similar to Oakland County's.

Chamberlain stated he has invited Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor to come to Lansing in November and outline the system to local law-enforcement officials.

"We want to do something toward a new and constructive approach to the juvenile problem in our county and the court-of-no-record seems to have succeeded in Oakland," said Chamberlain.

The court here, as set up by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem and Taylor, has no actual legal jurisdiction and makes no record of proceedings.

An offending teenager must ask to be handled by it. "He is told he will acquire no criminal record, but will be given another chance," Taylor explained.

"However, if he fails to follow through, the complainant may still come in and sign a complaint, a warrant will be issued and the case handled through regular court channels."

The offender with his parents or guardians is required to appear before Taylor in a regular court session attended by the complainant and police officers involved.

Terms of probation are worked out. Of 171 juveniles handled to date, only two have broken probation. Some 35 have enlisted in the Army with only 1 failing to make good.

Taylor's aim in instituting the court was to allow young offenders a chance to straighten themselves out without the burden of having a criminal record.

Taylor Named Area Delegate to State Group

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor has been named an Oakland County delegate to the Michigan Institute of Local Government, according to the group's President D. Hale Brake.

The group, in existence since 1943, has conducted several projects toward bettering local self-government.

Its program includes: a three-day conference course for newly elected county officers at which experienced public officials act as instructors.

An annual, three-week forum on state and local government designed for teachers and future teachers of government in high schools.

A "Senior Government Day" program for all high school seniors in both public and parochial schools in a given county.

County Register of Deeds Orrin McQuaid and Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore are also local delegates.

Land Fraud Figure Will Leave Prison

LANSING (AP)—G. Palmer Seeley of Grand Rapids, one of the principals in last year's western Michigan highway land frauds, will be paroled Monday, the State Parole Board said today.

Seeley, former head of the Grand Rapids right-of-way office for the State Highway Department, was sentenced June 18, 1954, by Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox of Muskegon. He has served his minimum sentence less good time and will remain on parole until the end of his maximum sentence, June of 1958.

The board quoted Judge Fox as saying Seeley had made complete restitution of the sums he obtained in a conspiracy to profit by highway land purchases.

The board imposed a special condition of parole that Seeley cooperate with the attorney general in clearing up the title mess left by his operations.

Seeley's co-defendant, Mrs. Lois Moon Ley, was paroled about three months ago.

Polls Open Monday

School Building Financing on Hickory Grove Ballot

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Hickory Grove school district voters will be asked Monday to approve two millage increase propositions, with which a $550,000 bond issue would be financed for construction of a new and larger elementary school.

A six-mill increase would allow purchase of the site and building construction, while the second proposition would add three mills for operating costs.

* * *

Adding this to the present 8.5 mills tax levy would bring Hickory Grove into line with other districts in the area, said Dr. James Read, school board president.

Eight classrooms, a kindergarten, library and multi-purpose room would be incorporated into the proposed one-story building designed by Linn C. Smith, Birmingham architect.

The 34-year-old Hickory Grove Elementary School on East Square Lake road is the only school in the district and this fall houses 180 students.

It contains four classrooms and an auditorium-gymnasium which was just converted to a classroom for sixth through eighth graders.

MASS MEETING HELD

On Thursday the board held a mass meeting, when Dr. Donald Leu, profesor of education and school planning consultant at Michigan State University, reviewed educational problems of the district and supported the building program.

The architect showed sketches of the building's exterior and described preliminary plans. Nathan Hargett, principal, discussed crowding and awkward conditions prevalent in the existing school.

District residents may vote between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. at the school.

Judges Approve Court Reforms

Michigan Jurists Adopt New Set of Proposals at Dearborn Confab

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's 95 judges have adopted a comprehensive program of judicial reforms at their second annual compulsory conference in Dearborn.

* * *

The judges approved these recommendations:

1. Retired judges be made subject to recall for temporary courtroom duty in congested circuits.

2. Intermediate appeal courts be established to lighten the burden of the State Supreme Court and to provide less expensive appeals.

3. Judges be permitted by court rule to follow the doctrine of "comparative negligence" in deciding damage suits in traffic accidents.

Detroit Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara, president of the Michigan Judges Assn., introduced the proposals for the recall of retired judges and the intermediate appeals courts.

O'Hara cited recent studies showing that appeals to supreme courts often exceed $10,000 in costs of printing the record, special attorneys, and travel expenses.

Having lost three of their first four exhibition games with George Raterman pulling the strings at quarterback, Browns now will see if they can regain their "touch" with Otto Graham back in the saddle again.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Will Confirm Parking Assessment Roll

BIRMINGHAM—On Monday the City Commission will meet to confirm the $130,000 assessment roll for the Pierce-Merrill-Brown municipal parking lot. Assistant City Manager Dana Whitman has issued a brief review of methods which the businessmen may use in securing off-street parking.

"Through the City Commission, the city has worked as rapidly as possible on its off-street parking program, in the belief that it is good for the city and good for the city's business," said Whitman.

Whitman first pointed out the four means by which businesses may provide the one square foot of parking area per one square foot of retail floor space, required of new and expanding businesses.

The businessman may provide parking on his own site, establish such an area within 500 feet of his building, or join with neighboring merchants in a collective parking lot.

The fourth method allowed is a city-approved program through special assesment or otherwise.

"Many merchants have found it to their advantage to provide their own off-street parking," Whitman said. "The city's one-to-one formula would require 44 spaces for a company like B. Siegel." Siegel's is planning a store for the southeast corner of Maple and Bates.

"It would be reasonable and even a conservative estimate for a business of this type to provide 100 to 150 parking spaces, which far exceeds the requirements of our ordinance," said Whitman in conclusion.

* * *

On City Engineer L. R. Gare's recommendation that bids received for the city's 1955 sidewalk construction program were too high, the City Commission this week postponed all but about $2,000 of the work until next spring. Low bidder J. J. Barney of Detroit, had asked 44 cents a square foot, for a total bid of $18,280.

Because of the soon-to-be started Twelve Town drain project, local property owners will find the tax levy up ½ mill for county drains in the 1955 tax assessment. Lawmakers upped the levy from its usual ¼ mill, which will return a revenue of $13,312.36.

Rosh-Hashanah to Begin Friday

Sounds of Shophar Call Men to Combat Evil and Wrongdoing

In synagogues throughout the world, the Jewish religious New Year will be ushered in at sunset, Friday, Sept. 16.

The commemoration of Rosh-Hashanah, which means the beginning of the year, inaugurates a ten-day period of spiritual self-analysis and prayer. This is climaxed by Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, which begins at nightfall, Sunday Sept. 25.

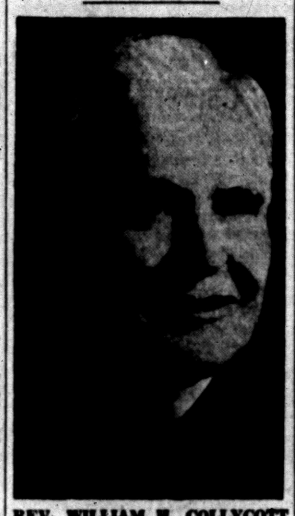

The ritual for the so-called High Holy days is highlighted by the sounds of the Shophar, or ram's horn, the ancient instrument which once called men to warfare and now calls for combat against wrongdoing and shortcomings. Special prayers and melodies voiced in the worship services stress the themes of repentance and divine mercy.

Rosh - Hashanah is observed two days by traditionalist Jews; one, by Reform Jews.

The following schedule will be observed at Congregation B'nai Israel.

Catholics Slate 'Youth Week'

Special Focus on Good Contributions by Young Parishioners Urged

WASHINGTON, D. C. (RNS) — Roman Catholic leaders set aside a special week this fall to focus attention on the wholesome, positive contributions of youth to national and community life in contrast to "the frequently spotlighted juvenile delinquency aspects."

The occasion will be the fifth annual National Catholic Youth Week, Oct. 30-Nov. 6. Theme of the observance is "Youth — Our Hope."

Some 7,000,000 Catholic Young people in the United States are expected to join in the event, according to Msgr. Joseph E. Schieder, director of the Youth Department, National Catholic Welfare Conference, the sponsor.

Auxiliary Bishop Leo R. Smith of Buffalo, N. Y., moderator of the department, said this year's observance offers "a grand opportunity to show a concerted expression of our approval of our youth."

"We must provide encouragement and leadership for them," he said, "since they learn through our approval or disapproval."

The opening day of the observance usually is designated as Natonal Catholic Youth Communion Sunday and initiates the Communion Crusade that moves from parish to parish during the ensuring year.

During the special week, school, college, university and other youth groups participate in parades, radio and TV programs, special religious exercises and social and athletic events.

Msgr. Schieder said the NCWC department has prepared a promotion kit including posters, stickers, suggested skits and other items to assist local groups in planning programs for the event.

Huron Valley Board to Accept Construction Bids Soon

Officials Foresee Early End to High School Site Dispute

MILFORD — Only a few minor details remain to be ironed out before the Huron Valley Board of Education will ask for construction bids for the new $1,250 000 high school.

* * *

Building site for the school has been one of the most controversial issues that the Board of Education has ever encountered according to Harold Hansen superintendent. With the taking of an option on a 60-acre tract of land from Mr. and Mrs. L. T Drake of 2810 North Milford Rd., board members hope to get the ball rolling in approximately two weeks.

The Drake property is just west of a tract of land owned by Capt. G. J. Larges and her mother. The Huron Valley Board of Education had hoped to acquire the Larges property but when the Board offered $250 an acre, the owners refused to sell.

In March, Attorney Carl Ehrum of Detroit was authorized to begin condemnation proceedings. When a jury in circuit court handed down a verdict of $612 an acre as a fair price, recently, the Larges' again refused and appealed the case in State Supreme Court.

Capt. Larges and her mother must give a right-of-way to the school district as there is no way of getting to the newly optioned property, except over the Larges' land.

The Board has asked that the owners convey without cost a right-of-way over their land, sufficiently wide along its quarter mile length to provide for two roadways and a center boulevard with side walks.

INDICATE SETTLEMENT

Attorneys for both Miss Larges and the School Board have indicated that settlement of the road issue is close at hand.

Lee Brooks, Oakland County Road Commissioner, also has indicated that the proposed road will be accepted by the Road Commission according to their specifications very soon in order to speed up construction of the high school.

* * *

After the school board acquires formal title to the Drake property, the architects will immediately proceed with completion of plans and specifications for the new high school. This work will require approximately two months. Then construction bids will be asked, Hansen said.

IT WAS LONG HAUL—Dr. Ben Bragg (left) president of the Huron Valley Board of Education and schools Supt. Harold Hansen smilingly shake hands in the thought that the way is nearly cleared for the building of the new $1,250,000 high school on North Milford road.

Ready Hospital Building Plans

Romeo Schedules Fund Raising Campaign to Launch Drive

ROMEO — Another step was taken this week to assure the construction of the new Community Hospital to be located between the villages of Romeo and Almont.

* * *

A fund raising campaign is slated to begin Monday to provide money for the $350.000 area hospital. Solicitation for funds from memorials and special gifts will start in about a month, a hospital board spokesman announced today.

The drive will be professionally directed by Ward Jenks of Ward B. Jenks and Associates of Chicago. The Community Hospital board had voted earlier this year to secure the services of a professional firm to conduct the drive because of the tremendous organizational and educational work required.

The public drive is scheduled to begin in November with the entire campaign slated to terminate about December 15.

Present plans call for the organization of a campaign executive committee and the appointment of a chairman of the board, board president Leon Bishop said today. Following organizational procedures the drive will get underway to provide medical facilities for families living in the Romeo, Almont, Armada, Capac, Dryden, Lakeville, Leonard, Imlay City, Washington, Memphis, and Allenton areas.

Every dollar contributed will be used for the construction and equipment of the proposed 30-bed hospital because all expenses of the drive will be met by an anonymous donor.

The 10-acre site upon which the new hospital will be built is located near the southeast corner of Van Dyke and Bordman roads and was the gift of W. Ross Lawrence of Almont.

All Share in Education

Principal Explains Place of Schools in Community

WALLED LAKE — "Teaching is the most important profession in the world," Superintendent Clifford H. Smart told 165 teachers at a general meeting in the high school cafeteria, this week.

* * *

He claimed education must extend not only to the students, but to parents and the taxpayers who make public schools possible. Unless they recognize the need for better schools, teachers and facilities, he said no progress can be made.

Smart added, it is up to the teachers to work for a better world, one where the forces of good may prevail. "It is a race between education and catastrophy. It is up to the teachers to see that education wins the race, or all of the gains of the past will mean nothing," Smart asserted.

* * *

Too often, he said, teachers are apologetic about their profession or use it as a stepping stone to other professions. He claimed teachers must be dedicated individuals who recognize the importance of their role in society.

Entitling his talk "Tasks, Tools, andTeachers", Smart first reviewed the purpose of education stressing under "tasks" that the purpose of public school education is to qualify the student to meet civil and social duties.

A major problem, he said, is to get residents and boards of education to realize that teacher duties change with the times making that which was adequate or good enough for an agrarian socity is no longer applicable in this changing world.

* * *

Under "tools", Smart discussed equipment available in addition to texts, needed to make the tasks of the teacher easier to aid the student in learning.

Reflections
That Plain Band Ring

J. L. VOORHEES

M. G. SIPLE
A plain band wedding ring is endless, symbolizing forbearance, affection and understanding. These attributes are the reinforcing to withstand the stresses and strains of passion. Without them that ring is like a circle of peppermint candy, easily shattered. Concrete, enduring as it is, without reinforcing is easily broken; a marriage without deep and abiding affection will crack with the first impact of anger. Trials and tribulations are as much a part of marriage as the highest ideals of human experience; forbearance is one element to make it enduring. To accept the vows of matrimony without understanding is attempting to build a temple without mortar.
That plain band ring represents the crest of the highest human ideals; it will endure forever with forbearance, affection and understanding.

New Turboprop Opens Air Era

Latest Motor Develops Silent Aircraft Flight in Commercial Travel

WASHINGTON — Bridging past and future, a quiet new giant of the skies is opening a chapter in North American commercial aviation.

Nicknamed "turboprop," the aircraft sucks in air like a supersonic jet but uses the powerful blast of hot gases to spin a propeller, the National Geographic Society says. Compared to the piston engine with myriad parts churning up and down, the hybrid motor has neither vibration nor deafening sound.

* * *

Trans-Canada Air Lines recently inaugurated service between New York and Toronto in British-made turboprops, the first to span commercial skyways in the United States. Capital Airlines awaits delivery of the first of 60 turboprops on order and plans to give travelers a taste of such flight in early summer.

In appearance the turboprop fits into the family of familiar, streamlined transports. Its design is a cousin of the jet plane that bulleted military fighters and bombers into a new era of aviation.

The turboprop destined to speed passengers between American cities is a product of Vickers-Armstrongs, a British firm that built the famous wartime Spitfire.

* * *

The advent of turboprops, in the jet age, kicks new life into the time-honored propeller. However, it's the jet age's whirling turbine that bosses the blades.

New Drug Effective in Treating Arthritis

A new drug, prednisnone, has been shown in preliminary trials to be possibly "four or five times more potent" than two other compounds now used to relieve pain and other symptoms of rheumatic disease.

A report in the American Medical Association's Journal says that use of the drug indicates that the new hormone compound may have distinct advantages in treating patients with joint pains, tenderness, stiffness, and inflammation from rheumatoid arthritis, and patients with rheumatic heart disease or gout.

The Department of Agriculture estimates there are 120,000 farmers in the Union of South Africa and 33,000 of them are engaged in sheep raising.

School Days Interesting for Ages 6-19

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—To the delight of 1,068 male students, Colorado School of Mines' female enrollment has doubled.

Catherine Larkin, 19, of Douglas, Wyo., and Dawn Hayford, 18, of China Lake, Calif., have enrolled for classes starting next Wednesday.

Mines' lone female student last year, Nancy Easley of Corpus Christi, Tex., has transferred to the University of Colorado.

FARGO, N. D. (AP)—A taste for "high living," including plenty of taxicab rides, brought the arrest of two brothers, aged 9 and 11, on charges of theft from several churches and business places.

They were arrested after police received a tip that two boys who seemed to have a lot of money were taking numerous taxi rides around town.

The boys' mother said she thought they were in school.

When arrested, one of the youngsters had $50 cached in his wallet and in one of his boots.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A little more than six years ago, Mrs. Lee Steorts and Mrs. Aaron F. Skolnick shared the same room in the maternity ward of a Salt Lake City hospital.

Both had sons. This week, the two mothers met again for the first time since their 1948 meeting. Each was bringing her son to register in the first grade.

Both were assigned to the same classroom.

Dad Forgets to Hide Gun, 4-Year-Old Son Kills Self

PITTSBURGH (AP)—For years O. D. Henderson had kept a .32-caliber pistol under a pillow at night for protection against prowlers. And each morning he had locked it in a trunk before going to work.

Yesterday he forgot. Three times he phoned his wife from the construction site where he was working, but she was in hte basement washing clothes and didn't hear the phone.

She did hear a shot upstairs. She ran up. Her 4-year-old son Dennis stumbled into her arms and died. Police said he had accidentally shot himself.

Nimble Robber Catches Cash Box, Runs Away

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Helen Wenner closed her restaurant early today and walked away. A handkerchief-masked holdup man pointed a pistol at her.

She hurled a book she was carrying. He dodged. She threw her pocketbook and he dodged again. Then she threw a money box with the day's receipts of $200.

He caught it and ran.

Dismantle for New Air

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — Part of one of the first air conditioning systems in the United States was dismantled by the Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Assn. here.

The original conditioner, being given modern improvements, was installed when the bank was built in 1917 — an idea of the Chicago architect, Louis Sullivan. It used rain water from the roof of the building. City water will be used in the more modern system.

Empire Fell at Huey Long's Death

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—An empire began to die, just a little bit, around 4 a.m., 20 years ago today.

* * *

It was Sen. Huey Long's political empire in Louisiana.

It began to die, I think, in Our Lady of the Lake Hospital in Baton Rouge a moment after Long himself died there from a bullet wound, and before he was cold. I was in the hospital at the time.

* * *

On Sunday night, Sept. 8, 1935, he walked down a hallway of the Louisiana State Capitol accompanied as always by his bodyguards, who later said this is what happened then:

* * *

Dr. Carl Austin Weiss, a physician, walked up to Long and shot him. The bodyguards riddled Weiss to death on the spot. Long was taken to the nearby hospital and died there at 4:10 a.m., Tuesday, Sept. 10.

* * *

Long's was the most complete political machine in America in our time. He controlled it, from the State Legislature and the state police on down to the sheriffs.

It was terrible power for one man to have. And Long's bodyguards, who were on the state payroll, were the symbol of it.

They had a long record of beating up reporters and photographers who worked for newspapers Long didn't like. Their assaults varied from fracturing a skull with a blackjack to smashing a face with a fist.

The ones they hated most were reporters on the New Orleans Times-Picayune, which had fought Long for years. It was a perilous expedition for one of them to approach Long to ask a question or take a picture.

* * *

I worked on the T-P then and early on the morning of Sept. 10, when we heard Long was slipping, I was sent to the hospital to keep a death watch. Arrangements were made with the hospital to let me in.

I couldn't have gone in, otherwise. Bodyguards stood shoulder to shoulder on the hospital steps. Thirty or 40 of them sat in the chairs in the hospital lobby, and two more endlessly went around trying the doors in the basement and examining the hallways.

* * *

They seemed afraid, even with Long dying, that one of his many enemies might break in or sneak in to finish off the senator on his deathbed.

At 4:10 a.m., or a little later one of Long's men from upstairs came down. I don't know whether he gave the bodyguards a sign or they saw something in his face. But they jumped to their feet.

The Long man leaned over the woman reporter to whisper. I tried to hear. He said:

"Get back, you." I got back. But I heard him say: "He's dead." I had to be sure and the only place to be sure was on the second floor.

I ran for the stairs. The whole lobbyful of guards ran for the stairs. I was squeezed in tight, trying to go up. I couldn't move. I thought: "This is where I get it." A strange thing happened.

* * *

The bodyguards who an hour before might have thrown me down the stairs fell back and let me through. No one said anything to me. We all went up the stairs together, walking, no running, with me in front.

Later, I thought: Long had been their link with the fantastic political machine which was their protection and their bread and butter. And now he was dead and the link was broken.

* * *

In the rush to the stairs they acted for the first time without Long around to guide and save them in whatever they did and, without him, suddenly they felt alone, each of them individually, and uncertain.

Their power had been diminished and it was diminished more as time went on.

Big Bill Usage Becoming Rare

Treasury Reports Drop in Large Denomination Certificate Demand

WASHINGTON—The $10,000 bill, biggest and often termed the "rarest bird" of United States currency, is gradually returning to roost in Federal Reserve and Treasury Department vaults.

Under present cash-transaction regulations and banking methods, the need for so sizable a tender is passing. But bills of large denomination have circulated throughout America in surprising numbers, the National Geographic Society says.

* * *

In 1940 when enormous cash dealings weren't unusual, some 60 million dollars in $10,000 bills were in circulation. By 1947 only 11 million dollars' worth of them was in public hands; by April, 1955, about 9 million dollars.

The seldom-seen $10,000 note bears the portrait of Salmon P. Chase of Ohio, President Lincoln's first Secretary of the treasury. The reverse side is inscribed with the ornate but alluring letters: Ten Thousand.

The $5,000 notes are next highest. Over 3 million dollars in these existed not long ago. They bear a portrait of President Madison and, on the reverse side, a flashy Five Thousand.

Over 400 million dollars in $1,000 bills, picturing President Cleveland were recently in circulation. Lowest of the big-denomination notes is the $500 bill, honoring President McKinley.

Counterfeiters shy from duplicating the closely scrutinized high-denomination bills, though at least one attempt was made at a $1,000 note. Counterfeiting usually centers around $10's or $20's and occasional $100's.

* * *

President Grant and the United States Capitol adorn the $50 bill. The $20 note shows President Jackson and the White House, the $10 Alexander Hamilton and the Treasury Building. President Lincoln and the Lincoln Memorial embellish the $5 bill; President Jefferson and his home, Monticello, the $2 bill; Washington the familiar $1 bill.

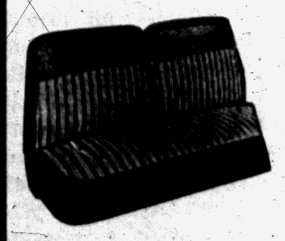

A portrait of President Wilson decorates the $100,000 gold certicate, which is strictly for business between the Federal Reserve System and the Treasury Department.

A Note on Savings Bonds

In times like these, when nearly everyone has a job and a car and an electric refrigerator AND a television set, when wages are going up and the future looks rosier than it has looked in a generation, some of us are likely to get into the "easy come, easy go" frame of mind.

★ ★ ★

It is a joyous frame of mind but hardly a prudent one. It is true the country is prosperous. It is true the outlook is for a continuance of good times. It is true that most of us will manage somehow to pay off the debts we have accumulated during these days of easy credit.

But—and there is always a but.

In the old days, there used to be a saying, "Keep something in the sock." In more genteel circles, its form was "Lay something aside for a rainy day." However you decide to say it, it is good advice.

The best sock of all is a United States Savings Bond. Of course, it is patriotic to buy savings bonds. Everybody knows that. Savings bonds are a brake on inflation. They help to keep the value of money stable. They don't hold out the hope of glittering rewards, like some of the common stocks we have heard of. They aren't for gamblers who are looking for a lot of fast bucks. Rather, they are for the man who is thinking ahead, thinking about his wife and his family and the uncertainties of the future.

Savings bonds are a hedge against most foreseeable hardships. If, as we all hope, the economy of the country remains stable, they sit there in your desk or in your safe-deposit box, piling up compound interest for years to come. If, because of unwise economic policies, there should come a recession or even a depression, the savings bonds would be the salvation of the man who owned them. Stocks go down at such times; even real property, like farms and houses, declines in value because few have the money to buy it. But savings bonds stand firm, gathering their interest every year. If the value of other things goes down, the buying power of Government bonds goes up. Ask Dad, he knows.

And, if Dad is wise, he knows that when the time comes for the children to go away to school or college, it is pleasant to go to the bank and cash a few savings bonds to pay for them. He knows that if ill-fortune strikes—say a big hospital bill, or an accident—it is a great comfort to know that the bonds are there, in the old sock if you like.

★ ★ ★

A man we know began buying savings bonds on a small scale back in the early forties. As his income improved, he increased his investment in the payroll savings plan. Before he knew it he had several thousand dollars—enough for the down payment on a pretty house in the suburbs and some left over to buy into a business run by a trusted friend. Today, he is sitting pretty, if anyone is.

Inflation Warning

Looking ahead for signs of what conditions may be six months hence is a wise business practice.

That many purchasing agents in the country have been doing that is obvious from their replies to questionnaires circulated by the trade publication Purchasing. Their answers add up to expectations of another wave of inflation.

Of 449 industrial purchasing agents answering the questionnaire, 75 per cent say they think a generally inflationary trend is under way. More than half, 56 per cent, believe their own firms' prices will be higher by early next year.

There is a reassuring note, however, in the opinions of the men who buy the things industry needs. They not only don't fear uncontrolled inflation, but consider that four factors will operate to put the brakes on the upward spiral. These are:

1. Competition. 2. Increased productivity and efficiency. 3. Consumer resistance. 4. Anti-inflationary policies of Government.

Tourist Budget Increase

At its meeting on Mackinac Island, the State Tourist Council voted approval of a $136,564 increase in its operating budget for next year.

★ ★ ★

This increase brings the grand total for 1956-1957 to $521,089. About half of the budget increase is to be devoted to reprinting of the promotional material circulated in the interests of the State's tourist and resort industry. The rest is needed to maintain advertising of the State's attractions at the level of recent years.

Before this budget can be submitted to the Legislature, it must be okayed by Gov. Williams and the State Department of Administration.

★ ★ ★

The tourist industry ranks third in the State and hence is of vital importance to Michigan's economy. For these reasons there should be no doubt about approval by both the Governor and the department. The same consideration should result also in legislative endorsement of the expanded budget.

Williams Trying to Stitch GOP Into Tight Pocket

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—Like a busy seamstress, Gov. Williams is happily trying to stitch the Republicans into a tight political pocket.

• • •

And the Republicans are whisking around with scissors trying frantically to cut their way out before the pocket is closed.

The nub of it, of course, is the special session of the Legislature which the governor has scheduled for late in October

He is busy creating an emergency which will justify him calling the lawmakers back this fall. He says the state's traffic toll has gotten to the place where something must be done and that the state must act at once to eliminate a waiting list of more than 1,000 mentally retarded children seeking admission to state institutions.

• • •

And suddenly sighting some extra cash in the treasury, he is demanding "emergency" $200-a-year pay raises for public school teachers who are supposed to have just gotten a $400 a year raise.

• • •

Now no one can deny that all of these are matters which require attention. No one doubts that too many people are being killed on the highways, that too many poor children need mental care and that teachers are underpaid.

NOTHING NEW

But none of these would appear to have suddenly become such emergencies that they warrant a special session of the Legislature two months before the 1956 regular session. All have existing with rising seriousness for many years, including last spring when the Legislature was still in session.

• • •

So it must be assumed—and it is being assumed in political circles—that Williams is again trying to put the Republican-controlled Legislature on the spot in a session at which, constitutionally, he can dictate the subjects to be considered and thereby focus public attention on what the lawmakers do or fail to do.

The Republicans, on their part, seem to recognize the pocket Williams is fashioning and are displaying sufficient political acumen to avoid their mistakes of the past. That is, so far.

Once they would have let go peals of outraged indignation at the very idea of such a special session, now they are recognizing the popular appeal of the subjects Williams raises and at least making noises like they will consider his proposals carefully.

• • •

They, too, have their eyes fixed on the 1956 political campaigns.

• • •

At least one Republican legislator has said he will sponsor the teacher pay raise, carefully emphasizing that it was first suggested by a Republican, Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction.

OTHERS JOIN IN

Several others have rushed in with traffic safety ideas of their own.

• • •

Speaker Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo) has said the lawmakers will give serious consideration to Williams' programs if the governor will have the grace to submit specific and careful proposals. He has asked Williams to consult with them to achieve some agreements before the session convenes.

Days of All Faiths

Brittany Honors Martyr Pope Wednesday; Jewish High Holidays Begin Saturday

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Although he did not actually die at the hands of an executioner, St. Cornelius, whose memory is honored Wednesday is listed as a martyr for the faith. He became Pope in 251. Within a year he had endured sufferings that brought about his death and earned him the martyr's title.

In the pleasant land of Brittany they make much of this day, which they call St. Cornely's Day. The festival centers around St. Cornely's church in the seaside town of Carnac, and a feature of the day is the blessing of all horned animals, particularly the cattle.

There is a legend about the saint's special interest in these beasts. It is said that once when he was fleeing from a band of soldiers who were under orders to kill him, he reached the sea at Carnac and was, of course, unable to continue any farther. In a last desperate plea for divine help he stretched his arms to heaven, and the kindly oxen in a nearby meadow fell to their knees and joined their prayers to his. So effective was the appeal that the soldiers were stopped in their pursuit and turned to stone.

It was by this legend that the devout people of Carnac accounted for a great number of oddly shaped rocks, some resembling human forms, in the fields near the town.

FIRST ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Sunday Schools are so much taken for granted these days that it would be hard for any American Protestant to imagine a time when they did not exist. But it was was 175 years ago that the first one was established, which makes them a comparatively new thing in the 2000 year history of Christianity.

September 14, 1735 was the birthday of Robert Raikes, a printer in the English city of Gloucester, who is generally considered to have been the founder of the Sunday School movement. His schools in Gloucester were not actually the first ones, but they were the first to attract the sort of attention that brought imitation and caused the idea to spread throughout England and America.

JEWISH NEW YEAR

Rosh Hashanah, the Jews' "head of the year," is not like the New Year's day of the secular calendar, to be celebrated with parties and gaiety. Nor is it like any other Jewish holiday, for all the others are concerned either with the annual cycle of nature or with some historic event in the life of Israel.

The High Holidays, beginning Saturday with Rosh Hashanah and ending 10 days from now with Yom Kippur, are concerned only with the deep things of the soul—self-examination, repentance, forgiveness, the inner religious life of man. For today is the day on which, 5716 years ago, God created heaven and earth, and this is the day, every year, when each man is judged in heaven and his fate sealed and inscribed for another year in the Book of Life.

New Year cards have been sent, bearing the greeting that will be on the lips today: "May you be inscribed (in the Book of Life) for a good year."

ALL PARTICIPATE

Shops will be closed today, work will be put aside, and even those who are casual about observing other festivals will be seen in the synagogues today.

Rosh Hashanah is mainly a synagogue service, not a home festival, but it does have its home ceremonies. On the eve of the holiday—Jewish days begin at sundown—the festive candles are lighted, and at the family meal a piece of apple is dipped in honey and eaten while the traditional expression "May it be God's will to grant us a good and sweet year" is said.

It is customary also to dip a piece of bread in honey, symbolizing the hope that "as the bread is sweet so may the experiences of the coming year be."

Writer Credits Her Move to Michigan With Clearing Up C-R-I Complaints

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
Questions and Answers

Agree with you about C-R-I. Back East for years my head was constantly stopped up and nose running. Overheated rooms. Came out here three years ago. Head clear as a bell. No runny nose. In winter fish through ice, stiff with cold, agony to wade snowbanks to get home. But never a sign of the old nose, throat or sinus trouble. Keep up the good work. (Mrs. C.C.R., Michigan)

Answer—Your experience goes to show that it is chiefly the climate—the indoor, artificial, overheated and excessively dried out atmosphere plus careful protection of the skin from getting ultraviolet from sunshine or diffuse daylight.

This holds true, I believe, wherever you happen to live in North America. What a lot of poor stupid Yankee Wiseacres need is a change of climate—at home.

How to change climate at home is described in the chapter "Any Other Climate" in the booklet Call It C R I—for the booklet send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I have many of your pamphlets which have helped me to keep fit and enjoy good health and happiness, I, too, say God bless you, Doctor, for your stand on temperance and WCTU work. Dr.—, of the —Church here, is my brother. (Mrs. —).

Answer — Thank you, Ma'am, but you had better be careful. If the religious leaders of the community were to find out about this, your brother might be out on his ear.

Enjoy your column so much. Most of your advice is homepath or naturapath. How do you get by the AMA? (F.N.O.)

Answer — The words are homeopathic and naturopathic. It doesn't matter whether my advice is homeopathic or naturopathic—that's 19th-century nonsense. And I can't imagine what the A M A has to do with it.

I suspect the days when you don't do so well on the bowling green are the days when you get a kink in back or neck rolling somersaults. . .(J. C. F.)

Answer—I have never gotten a kink rolling them, though I have occasionally refrained from rolling because of a kink otherwise acquired. When I get too old to roll I'll be Ol' Doc Brady and no fooling.

No druggist in town (I believe I have tried them all) will sell me aluminum chloride. Most of them hem and haw or "never heard of it," but one informed me in a patronizing manner that I'd have to have a prescription. (C.E. H.)

Answer—Many readers have told me they have used it for years with great satisfaction, as I suggest in the pamphlet "Excessive Sweating," available only on signed, written request accompanied with stamped, self-addressed envelope. Clipping of this item will bring no reply.

Aluminum chloride is just one more home remedy I recommend which the mostrum mongers and the fast-buck druggists would rather not sell you simple customers—not enough profit in it.

Please send in the stamped, self-addressed envelope your pamphlet on Stage Fright and Examination Jitters. Will instructions therein help me stop squirming under the dentists' d-r-i-l-l? (Dorothy O'L.)

Answer—No. Where did you find your dentist—at the Chicago World's Fair? Hasn't the old gentleman heard about local anesthetics? A competent dentist can do all the drilling necessary without giving more discomfort than one would have from a shave or a hairdo.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Couple's Racial, Religious Differences Spell Marital Unhappiness in Future

What are Margery's chances of happiness if she goes through with her present wedding plans? We psychologists would say she has no better than one chance in three. Use the tests below to help pick wisely, for you cast the proxy votes for your future unborn children. Be sure you give them the best possible parent.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-336: Margery L., aged 26, is engaged to be married.

"Dr. Crane, they had a shower for me last week, and my wedding day is three weeks from this Saturday," Margery began.

• • •

"But my mother and married sisters are opposing the wedding. They tell me I am almost sure to be unhappy.

"For my fiance and I come from diametrically opposed religions. Neither will give an inch.

"And he is from an immigrant family which still uses that foreign language at home.

"However, he has broken away and become educated till he now has an engineering degree. And he seems fairly independent of his family, though he insists I join their church at the dictate of his family.

• • •

"Dr. Crane, I always felt that personal differences would grow less after the wedding. Am I right or wrong?"

FACE THE FACTS

Many girls past 25 grow panicky and decide to follow the old adage that half a loaf is better than none.

• • •

This means they are scared lest they will become old maids, so they are more willing to gamble against the known odds.

Don't make the mistake of thinking you can never be happy as a single girl, or that perfect bliss inevitably follows the receipt of your wedding ring.

That's not always true. Many single girls are far happer than browbeaten married women.

"Margery, I'll give you just one chance in three of marital happiness," I told her.

• • •

We psychologists admit that personality differences between the ego of bride and bridegroom tend to level off as time passes.

MORE TOLERANT

Husband and wife should thus become more tolerant and more understanding of each other with each month that passes, if they work hard at the job of making a success of their marriage.

• • •

But deeply entrenched religious and racial differences often loom larger as time passes.

For when children arrive, then feuding may start afresh over which church should be chosen for the religious education of the youngsters.

And racial or color lines are often accentuated when children arrive on the scene.

• • •

"Margery, most marriages start out with only one strike against them," I concluded, "and that is the personality clash between the young husband and wife.

"Most marriages weather that storm, although 20 to 25 per cent do not.

THREE STRIKES

"But you have three strikes against you. For you face a serious religious feud and a racial clash, on top of your personality conflicts.

"Remember, your boy friend now is proably behaving at his best. For courtship is the sales stage of romance where each person puts his best foot forward.

• • •

"But after the wedding when you have accepted his ring, he will be likely to revert to his childhood attitudes. Since these differ very markedly from your own childhood background, the prognosis is not very good.

"So I'd suggest you defer your wedding date and play the field a little longer, for I think both of you would be happier if married to people who possessed more nearly your own type of background."

Send for my 200-point "Tests for Husbands & Wives."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Future Ten-Hour Week Not Likely, Reader Says

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these ill not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

In Tuesday's paper I was amused, shall I say, at Hal Boyle's column about Reuther predicting a ten-hour work week.

The truth is, as of now, our work day is not eight hours but as many as General Motors Corporation wants us to work and nothing we can say or do will change it.

It is a fact that they have worked a group of men 13 and 14 hours per day for more than a month, and then when the men wanted to work only eight hours on Saturday, they were told to work the time scheduled and the ones who went home at the end of eight hours were penalized.

This condition is present today and Ruether couldn't even get us a ten-hour 'day', so a man could go home if he wanted to.

Frankly, the hole in Ruether's hat is a big one.

DAR Plans Constitution Celebration

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution are making elaborate plans to celebrate Sept. 17-23 as "Constitution Week" because their president general figures that Americans are being called upon 125 times this year to observe a week for this or that.

According to Miss Gertrude Carraway's list, these weeks range from "Odorless Decoration Week" last January to "Prosperity Week" this week, and they include weeks dedicated to potato chips, macaroni, cleaner air, pickles and laughs.

• • •

Also there are weeks designated for horses, cats, dogs, birds, bees, wildlife, and babies.

"And so," said Miss Carraway at a news conference, "I couldn't see why the U.S. Constitution couldn't have a week's observance too, instead of just the usual Constitution Day, Sept. 17, memoralizing the day it was adopted."

Accordingly the DAR annual convention last spring endorsed the idea by resolution, urging that Congress and President Eisenhower proclaim Sept. 17-23 as "Constitution Week." This Congress and the President did this summer.

The 180,000 Daughters in their 2,780 local chapters are urging governors and mayors to follow suit and Miss Carraway said they are getting excellent response. The mayor of Gulfport, Miss., was the first city head to put out a proclamation, Miss Carraway said.

• • •

In preparation for the week the DAR national headquarters received requests for 317,000 pieces of literature—copies of the Constitution, pamphlets giving its history—as well as 15,000 auto stickers, a like number of window stickers and 25,000 small stickers for the backs of letters.

These latter read "Protect America's Future—Observe Constitution Week—Sept. 17-23."

• • •

The DARs themselves throughout the country are planning special programs and suggesting observances in the schools. Miss Carraway has a heavy speaking schedule in the District of Columbia area.

She is speaking Sept. 14 in Lancaster, Pa., at a luncheon arranged by a group of DAR chapters; and during the week she will speak at several local DAR meetings as well as participate in the District of Columbia Constitution program at the Archives Building Sept. 17.

• • •

Of course since there are but 52 weeks in the year some of those 125 special observances overlap. In fact, the Constitution is sharing its week with the dogs, for Dog Week is Sept. 18-24.

Very few of the other weeks ever get presidential and congressional endorsement, however. Mainly they are sponsored by interested organizations.

Astronomical Confab Ends

Delegates From Russia Mingle With Jesuits at Dublin Convention

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—One of the strangest international conferences ever held in these days of world tension came to a close here this week.

The shadow of politics hung overhead—but no word of politics was mentioned at the ninth General Assembly of the International Astronomical Union.

* * *

Mingling at the meetings were astronomers from the Soviet Union and Jesuits from the Vatican, star gazers from Red China, the United States and 38 other countries.

Many of their governments do not recognize each other diplomatically, but the astronomers talked freely and swapped data.

* * *

Presiding over the conference was Dr. Otto Struve of the University of California, who explained:

"Ideological and political differances fade away in our common goal, the exploration of the universe."

* * *

Dr. Struve is a White Russian who fought the Communists in the Bolshevik uprising against the Czar and fled to the United States in the 1920s. During the meetings, Struve served at times as an interpreter for Russian astronomers when they ran into language difficulties.

* * *

Prof. B. V. Kukarkin, leader of the Soviet delegation, was the busiest man present. He was smiling and shaking hands with everyone, insisting "different political systems don't prevent friendly scientific relations."

Michigan Bar Will Hear U.S. High Court Justice

LANSING (AP) — Three legal lights, including a justice of the United States Supreme Court, will address the annual State Bar of Michigan meeting in Detroit Sept. 14-16.

Among 27 guests speakers will be Associate Justice Harold H. Burton of the Supreme Court; Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz of New York's Kings County court and a former noted criminal lawyer, and E. Smythe Gambrell of Atlanta, Ga., new president of the American Bar Association.

Gov. Williams will address one session.

Federal Relief Eyed for Erosion in State

ALLEGAN (AP) — Rep. Clare E. Hoffman indicated this week that favorable action on aid for Lake Michigan erosion problems is expected when Congress reconvenes next winter.

Hoffman wired White House aides Aug. 24, emphasizing the financial loss around the Great Lakes from flood waters and storms. He requested that President Eisenhower inspect the situation personally as he did two weeks ago in a flight over the flood-ravaged, hurricane-battered East Coast.

The Hoffman wires went to Homer H. Greunther, special assistant to the President, and to Gen. Wilson B. Persons, deputy assistant to the President.

The veteran congressman said both had replied.

88 Million Vehicles Listed in All Nations

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Commerce Department states that there were 88,357,615 passenger cars, trucks and busses traveling the highways of the world last January 1.

* * *

This was an increase of 18 per cent over the 74,725,898 vehicles registered on Jan. 1, 1952, the date of the last previous survey.

Of the total registration, about 74 per cent were in operation in the Western Hemisphere with the biggest part of them accounted for by 58,589,863 vehicles in the United States.

Canada had 3,620,000, Europe 17,236,096, Asia 2,006,788, Oceania 2,947,882 and Africa 1,574,611.

In addition to the multi-wheel vehicles, there were 11,507,600 motorcycles, including 9,985,014 in Europe, 661,327 in Asia and 577,665 in the Western hemisphere.

The survey covered registrations in 171 foreign countries. The Department pointed out that figures for the Iron Curtain countries were taken from the most reliable information available.

New Song Urges Railroad Freight to Move Faster

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —The Pennsylvania Railroad is going to try music to help move its freight cars faster.

* * *

In an unusual stunt to spur its employes, the PRR has made recordings of a song titled "Don't Stand Me Still," set to the music of Cole Porter's catchy tune "Don't Fence Me In."

The lyrics urge the freight cars to keep moving.

A PRR spokesman said the program is aimed at moving each freight car 15 more minutes a day, which would be equivalent to providing the Pennsy's freight customers with 20,500 more cars a day.

Besides the song, which will be played at PRR installations and employe meetings, the railroad is devoting space in its monthly magazine to the campaign.

State Fair Profits May Reach $60,000

DETROIT (AP)—The 1955 Michigan State Fair should manage an operating profit of $40,000 to $60,000, a fair spokesman predicts.

If the present trend continues, it would be the third successive year the fair has shown a profit, Donald L. Swanson, general manager, said.

Swanson reported to the State Fair Board that fair revenues for the first five days were $570,216 — $110,250 above last year's figure at the time.

To break even, the fair must take in $744,000 during its 10-day run, he added.

Reported revenue increases were shown from gate admissions, coliseum shows, the rodeo, midway, parking lots, concessions and advertising space.

City Merchants Warned on Bogus Army Checks

Pontiac merchants were warned to be on the look-out for any attempts to cash imitation Army Reserve checks that have been circulated throughout the state to try and boost participation in active Army Reserve units.

Capt. A. Haggis, Public Information Officer of the Michigan Military District said today that he has received four reports of attempts to cash these checks.

Pontiac Police received one such report from Arthur J. Law of 200 Earlmoor Blvd. He said he had cashed the check for $376.74 but later notified police that he believed the check to be false.

Police apprehended the cashee later who told police detectives that he believed the check to be good. He returned all the money to Law and no complaint was filed.

Capt. Haggis said approximately 62,000 of these checks were sent out to inactive ex-servicemen throughout the state to show how much the individual would have received had he actively participated in a local reserve unit during the past year.

The checks range from $354 to $720 and are printed on green bond paper. In the upper right corner is an eagle with the words Army Reserve, Michigan Military District."

All checks are signed by Capt. Haggis and the word "cancelled" appears across the individual's name and address. They are dated Aug. 29, 1955.

GM Auto Sales Set Record for August

DETROIT—Retail sales of new General Motors passenger cars in the United States for August were the highest in history for that period, GM President Harlow H. Curtice said today.

* * *

Retail deliveries of new GM cars last month totaled 337,956 or 146.1 per cent of the total for the same month in 1954.

Retail sales of both new and used General Motors passenger cars in the United States during the first eight months of 1955 were by far the highest for any similar period in history, Curtice added. Record eight-month sales totals reached by GM dealers were 2,597,332 new cars and 3,353,471 used cars.

Governor to Seek Teacher Pay Hike

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Gov. Williams states he will broaden the special legislative session this fall to include a $200-a-year pay raise for Michigan's 50,000 public school teachers.

Addressing the Michigan Municipal League, Williams said sales tax revenues are booming at such a rate that the schools will get about 15 million dollars more than the Legislature anticipated when it wrote the school aid bill last spring. That bill provided for a $200-a-year teacher pay boost, legislators said.

The last session of the Legislature increased the state school aid allotment for school operation by 10 million dollars and specified unofficially that the money be used for teacher pay raises.

Legislative leaders conceded the action was not binding on local school boards, which fix teacher salaries, but expressed confidence that the boards would acceed to the legislative wish that the money be used to raise salaries.

California's gold was discovered in 1848, only 10 days before the treaty ending the Mexican war and transferring the territory to the United States was finally signed.

English Pubs Becoming Gilt Edged Lounges

LONDON (AP)—Britain's social revolution is catching up with the pubs.

* * *

Treasured landmarks are vanishing in the country's general prosperity and faster tempo. The government is concerned. During the past year nearly 400 pubs — or inns, as some are known — have been tabbed for preservation because of historic or architectural importance. These buildings cannot be altered without official authorization.

For centuries the pub has been a neighborhood club, a place to visit and argue as well as to drink. But the atmosphere is changing.

There are 73,422 pubs in England and Wales — fewer in proportion to population than the 24,000 in the time of Queen Elizabeth I four centuries ago.

* * *

The nightly gatherings for drink and talk are fading away. Television, more automobiles and coffee bars are largely responsible, along with rising costs for upkeep.

Brewers own most of the pubs. They are taking drastic measures. Several have installed special soft drink bars, some now sell ice cream. One brewer is working up a side trade in packaged groceries.

* * *

New pubs look more like gilt-trimmed cocktail lounges than the sawdust floor institutions known in song and story as "the local." But the folksy atmosphere is being retained as much as possible. They are still run—under brewer ownership—by a family who live on the premises and know most customers by name.

Vegas Hotel Suing Lanza for $124,970

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS) —The swanky Last Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas has sued singer Mario Lanza for $124,970 for his failure to appear at the hotel's opening last April.

* * *

The hotel charged in its Federal Court complaint in Los Angeles that it lost $100,000 in goodwill and profits when the portly baritone failed to show.

Lanza reportedly was under a $50,000-a-week contract for the appearance. In addition, the hotel seeks to collect $10,121 on its guarantee of Lanza's promisory note given to a bank in Monette, Ark.

The bank had to pay approximately $15,000 for expenses such as orchestra rehearsals and advertising in anticipation of the singer's appearance.

The singer's wife, Betty, was named as co-defendant in the suit.

Onion Shipment Heads Back to Italy in Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—With 350 passengers and 1,000 cases of Italian onions that couldn't be unloaded because of the dock strike, the Greek liner Olympia has headed back to Italy — and an uncertain future for the onions.

Officials said they hope to return the 25 tons of sweet onions to the Naples shippers, but if the cargo can't be unloaded there, it probably would be in a useless "soft and sprouting condition" by the time the ship returns here Oct. 5.

Race Track License Cannot Be Withheld

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held today the state racing commissioner may not deny a race track license to an applicant who has met the requirements of the law and the commissioner's regulations.

Kavanagh ruled at the request of Rep. Frank A. Mahoney (D-Detroit).

The opinion said the legislature had given the commissioner broad powers to regulate racing, but that he must license anyone who has met the standards fixed.

Kavanagh also said that a license to operate a track is separate from one to conduct a racing meet and that the commissioner has considerable discretion in issuing the latter as long as he does not abuse that discretion.

Detroit Area Gets Gas to Heat 35,000 Homes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Natural gas to heat 35,000 additional homes in the Detroit area is now available by the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co.

The homes are in addition to 43,000 new heating customers the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. which serves Detroit previously announced it would take on this fall.

Gets Record TD Quota

DETROIT (AP) — Detroiters will be asked to contribute a record $14,450,000 to the 1955 Torch Drive. The money will be used to support 159 metropolitan Detroit health and community services. Last year some $14,008,000 was raised.

U. S. Trees Thrive in Sherwood Forest

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — Sherwood Forest, where Robin Hood roamed, is being preserved through the help of American trees.

Red oaks are being imported from the United States for replanting in the famous woodland. English weather is proving too uncertain for home grown oaks, whereas the American oaks thrive.

The Manchester Guardian, frankly admitting somewhat of a blow to English pride, said of the America trees:

"Though the timber is neither so beautiful nor so strong, the trees grow faster than ours."

make it a matched team!
Match your electric washer with an electric clothes dryer
Wash day becomes extra easy when you add a new electric clothes dryer to your electric washer. Here's why: There's no heavy wet wash to haul up the stairs and hang on the line. You have only to load the dryer and flip a switch. Out comes the laundry, fluffy-dry, sparkling clean. Old-fashioned line drying can't compare with the carefree, modern way to dry clothes—electrically!

Should Children Learn About God—In School?

Some people will emphatically say "no." They will contend that the purpose of education is to train the mind . . . to make good citizens . . . to equip children to use their talents for useful living.

And some of them will argue that it is un-American, un-democratic, and un-necessary for Catholics to maintain their own schools. The public schools, they say, are all we need.

But are they right? It's a good question for parents—both Catholic and non-Catholic—to think about.

Religion, as Catholics see it, is not a subject to be set apart from other fields of learning. On the contrary, it is the very core and center and hub of all human knowledge. It is the governing factor in our understanding and appreciation of all other learning. It relates all of the knowledge we acquire to the divine purposes for which we were created.

Children cannot, of course, get this kind of education in public schools. There is a law against it, and a ruling of the Supreme Court has been interpreted by many states as prohibiting public schools from even excusing children for outside classes in religious instruction.

It is for these reasons that your Catholic friends and neighbors willingly pay their share of the cost of maintaining the public schools . . . and yet build Catholic schools for their own children. It is not due to clannishness on the part of Catholics, to any dissatisfaction with the academic efficiency of the public schools, nor to any doubt about the high standards of morality among the great majority of school educators.

It takes years of school life for a child to learn the principles of democracy and social responsibility. Can we expect children to gain a knowledge of religion in a once-a-week Sunday school? Or in a week-day school where God's name is seldom mentioned and a prayer is never heard?

Free A highly interesting pamphlet explaining in detail what goes on in a Catholic school, how Catholic schools benefit the nation, why Catholics have their own schools . . . why parents, Catholic and non-Catholic, must concern themselves seriously about the education of their children for success in life, and for the salvation of their immortal souls. For your free copy, write today. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-31.

Company Directors Veto Under-the-Table Contract

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Some years ago, a group of executives of a Denver, Colo., luggage manufacturer sat around a conference table. The sales manager presented a proposition which had been made to them by a multi-million dollar retail chain.

If the luggage company would make a special price, far below that at which they were selling to competing retailers, the chain would place a record order. The sales manager pointed out that, even with the price reduction, the large volume would enable the manufacturer to realize a substantial profit.

DR. PEALE

The president of the company looked around at his associates. "How does this affect our basic policy?" he asked, reaching in his pocket to pull out a marble and roll it down the table.

Each of them watched the marble as it rolled by. Some reached into their own pockets to feel a similar marble they carried. Then they voted to send a letter to this very important customer saying that they could not make discriminatory price arrangements.

And what did the marble have to do with this? Well, this particular marble had a gold band around it carrying the words of the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you." It was the sales policy of their company.

Started 44 years ago on $3,500 and this policy borrowed from the Bible, Denver's Shwayder Brothers have grown so that today they spend a million and a half dollars in advertising alone. They sell a large percentage of all American luggage and employ more than 4,000 people.

HAS FAITH IN GOLDEN RULE

Jesse Shwayder, the president, believes that all business can profit from the application of the Golden Rule. He carries a supply of these gold-banded marbles with him and gives them to people he meets. And many a businessman, fumbling in his pockets for change or keys, has been reminded of basic principles by touching one of the Shwayder marbles.

* * *

A popular subject for sermons over many years has been "What Would Jesus Do?" And this would be a wonderful rule by which to live if each of us could put himself or herself in Jesus' place. Unfortunately, few of us are capable of standing in His place or thinking exactly as He would. But the Golden Rule is His rule too, and there is not one of us who does not know exactly how he wants to be treated by his fellow men.

Whatever your religious conviction—or lack of conviction—you can make your life better, happier and more rewarding if you make the Golden Rule the touchstone of your every act. And not only will this change your life for the better, but it will change the lives of the people around you. As Thomas A. Kempis wrote five hundred years ago, "He does well who serves the common good rather than his own will."

The heart and soul of Bible teaching is the Sermon on the Mount. Read it from beginning to end and you will find that it tells you exactly how to live the Golden Rule: "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them; for this is the law and the prophets."

Take these words from the Sermon on the Mount and make them your guide. Write them on a band around your heart and live by them and you will find that your world is all that your faith promises it can be. The Golden Rule seems a very practical plan for living.

WCTU Session Okays Crusade

Group Pushes for Total Abstinence for Youth and All Adults

LONG BEACH, Calif. (RNS) — Delegates to the 81st annual convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union here approved a nationwide Christian Citizenship Crusade among both adults and youth.

Mrs. Glenn G. Hays of Evanston, Ill., president who proposed the program, said its first objective will be total abstinence among young people.

A keynote of the campaign, she said, will be a "widely expanded program of alcohol education in schools and colleges, including courses for teachers, intercollegiate oratorical contests, and the production of visual aids for both high and grade schools."

"Other things being equal," she said, "the abstainer from drink has a far better chance of becoming a 'man of distinction' in his community because of his freedom from alcohol in his daily life.

"The new generation will replace past negation with the affirmative 'I shall live sanely.' There is no part of our civilization that will not gain new momentum and new creative ability through alcohol-free living."

Salvation Army Leaders Leave for Kansas City, Mo.

Captain and Mrs. Vernon Vie of the Salvation Army have been placed in charge of the Salvation Army Youth Activities in the Kansas and Western Missouri Division with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Captain Vie was in England this summer attending the International Staff College where he took a two month seminar course. In the class were 25 leaders from several nations—China, Uraguay, Australia, New Zealand, India, Norway, Sweden, Holland, Canada, two from Scotland and four from the United States.

The Salvation Army has a three-fold program—religion, social work and character building. The building, open throughout the week with its recreational facilities, is always available to teen age young people.

The group sponsors Boy and Girl Scout troops. A young people's Bible class is held weekly and members participate in a national Bible correspondence course.

A great deal of attention has been given to music. The band participates at local and civic functions.

Social service work includes transient care, both meals and lodging. Full responsibility has been assumed for a limited number.

At the summer camp near Lakeville, under-privileged mothers and children spend some time there, as well as young people of the Army.

The army has also served as a parole officer and finds employment for prisoners.

The Vies with their children, Jim and Leah, will leave soon for their new home.

CLEVELAND (AP)—A telephone call to Liberty 1-1311 will bring a one-minute recorded prayer that begins:

"This prayer must come from your heart as well as from the voice that speaks it."

The "Dial a Prayer" idea, as it is called, was started this week as a special community service by the East Cleveland Congregational Church. The nondenominational service is on a round-the-clock basis.

Installed at the church are two machines much the same as those used for transmitting recordings of the weather and time.

Twice each day, the church's pastor, the Rev. Earle C. Hochwald, prepares a new recording.

Cheers Don't Impress Grid Stars

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: The boy I'm crazy about is on our school football team, and I'm one of our cheerleaders. Every game we have I scream my head off for him, but I don't think he even knows I exist or that I care for him.

"In school we see each other every day, but he just smiles and that's all. Please, what can I do?"

Answer: Your football hero probably hasn't the slightest idea that there's anything personal in the way you scream your head off. From his angle, there are some howling dervishes on the sidelines who whip up a fine frenzy and cajole the populace into sound fortissimo.

He doesn't even dream that you considered your position as cheerleader an opportunity to be closer to him in his hour of triumph.

Unless you change the angle, he's going to go on associating you with loud noises and that's all. But what opportunities you have to correct that impression!

* * *

You go to the same school, so you can see him every day. You have football in common. So it's something you could talk to him about. A cheerleader, after all, is supposed to know more than a little about the game. He's just the one to explain the fine points.

And you don't really need an introduction to get close enough to him to talk. Everybody knows you both. So you're entitled to speak as though you knew each other.

If you insist on being formally introduced, you've scads of mutual friends who could do it for you. And there are scads of things to talk about once you get started.

* * *

Next time you see him, don't settle for a smile. "How are you?" "How was the test?" "Is it going to rain Saturday?" A thousand idle chatter questions you could ask to get things started.

All of which will make him associate your face with a low voice, a sweet smile, neat, attractive clothes, pretty hair. A very different impression from the one you make in uniform, howling your head off, and gesticulating like a monkey on a string.

* * *

Keep at it, day after day. Get to know him gradually. Let him see that you're impressed—not just by his football—but by him. Your quiet, persistent attention is bound to have an effect on him. He'll know you're alive. And if he's attracted he'll do something about it.

---

"Dear Miss Woodward: Things just have to be different for me this year—it's my last chance. You see, I'm a senior now, not exceptionally popular though I do have lots of friends, especially girls.

"I have plenty of friepds among the boys too—but their friendship isn't the dating kind. I'm just an understanding soul to help them with their girl troubles, a sympathetic ear, and a nice shoulder to weep on.

"If I were ugly or didn't have any personality, I don't think I'd find this so hard to take. But my mirror tells me I'm pretty, and if my personality didn't pass the test, I wouldn't have so many friends, would I?

"So what's the matter? And what can I do about it?"

Answer: You can sit back and listen to the problems of all the boys you know. Or you can change the angle and make them listen to yours for a change. Being that understanding friend is all very well and good. But you'd like to be some special boy's problem, wouldn't you?

Well, while you're deciding just whose, invent a mythical creature who is causing you no end of trouble—and ask the boys' advice.

It's putting the power of suggestion to work. They'll wake up to the fact that somebody thinks you're pretty wonderful. It will give them ideas. And the news will travel fast.

Then start a campaign of concentration on one particular boy. Draw him closer into your private circle by inviting him to your house to parties. Flirt with him a bit. Make a bit of fuss over him.

Let the word get out that you like him. If he's not already taken, he'll see you from a very different angle. Just the way you wish somebody would!

By EMILY POST

"My husband and I were invited to a dinner at the house of a business associate of his. After dessert the table was cleared by the hostess while I sat talking to the host. After about 15 minutes, when the hostess did not return to the room, I realized that she was washing the dishes.

"Thinking that I was doing the right thing, I went into the kitchen and offered to help and was readily handed a dish towel to dry the dishes. My husband later criticized me for doing this and said I was wrong to have left them and gone out into the kitchen since it was our first visit.

"He said that one only does this with intimate friends. I would like your opinion on this matter."

---

Answer: I think in this particular case the hostess was at fault, not you. She should have stacked her dishes quickly and come back into the living room. But as she stayed and washed them, it certainly was both friendly and helpful on your part to have stayed and helped her.

---

"Dear Mrs. Post: I'm about to order my wedding invitations but I'm not sure how they should be worded. A year ago my parents were separated (not divorced) and at that time I moved to a women's hotel as I did not want to take sides with either one.

"Now that I am to be married I don't know whose name should appear on the invitations. I am fond of both and don't want to slight either one.

"Would it be completely wrong to word them Mrs. Mary Brown and Mr. Henry Brown request . . . etc.? or would it be better to say 'The honour of your presence is requested . . . etc' "

---

Answer: I think in your particular situation, "The honour of your presence is requested . . . etc." In this way you can avoid having to use the name of either of your parents.

New Sewing Aid

A new idea in sewing kits can help keep all the materials together. Spools of thread are slipped onto a circular wire chich is topped by a hanger top.

This handy sewing helper can be hung in the closet when not in use. When put to work, all the spools are easy to get at and they are all kept together.

Thread can be unwound without removing the spool. Hanging from the top is pin-cushion and some models also have suspended emery bags as well.

Plastic Starch Lasts

There are two main types of clothing starches: plastic and vegetable. Plastic is initially more expensive, but it lasts through several washes.

Plastic starches should be used lightly on dry fabrics, vegetable starches should be used on damp fabrics.

Part-time Jobs Can Spell Trouble

By ANNE HEYWOOD

More and more young mothers are beginning to get part-time jobs while their children are in school. But there is one important fact that they are apt to overlook and that is the matter of hours.

Many times the hours are specified very loosely — five mornings a week or five afternoons a week. And this can get you into a good deal of trouble.

Mary J., for example, took a job for five mornings a week. It was clerical work and typing in a small office that really needed a full-time worker. But they wanted to save money, so they figured part-time help would do it.

The result was that the work was never done by 1 o'clock and Mary J. found herself staying till 2 or 3 most days.

* * *

She wasn't paid extra for this. On the contrary, the office manager tried to imply that it was only because she was slow that she couldn't finish.

But Mary wasn't slow. She was a good worker. Finally she blew up and left. They replaced her with a full-time worker, at twice the salary.

MUST PROTECT SELF

This happens all too often and the part-time worker must protect herself from it.

* * *

Girls in reception jobs are supposed to work, say, from 9 till 1. But then when their replacement is out sick, or the girl who is supposed to relieve them is late in getting back from lunch, they find themselves stuck for several extra hours.

Meantime, the household schedule and the children are left to fend for themselves.

It isn't always meanness or stinginess on the employer's part. Many times it's just thoughtlessness or lack of experience with part-time workers.

But any woman taking a part-time job should make sure it doesn't work out that way and the best way is this:

* * *

Try to have the job specified by the hour — four hours per morning five days a week.

Explain that you must leave on time, as you have children to pick up, or whatever, and make it clear that you cannot often stay late, and that if you do, you must be paid extra as it will cost you extra.

PAY BY THE HOUR

Unless you are very patient and your hours are very flexible, try to work for a place that has already had part-time help.

Otherwise, you will be the trail-blazer and will have to educate the employer all by yourself.

Be sure the job, the hours and the pay are all specified before you begin. Afterwards is usually too late.

Room for Laundries

In older homes, owners are converting back porches, pantries and even breakfast rooms to laundries.

With ample space, they can add to the laundry equipment such conveniences as stationary washtubs for hand-laundering, wall cupboards for laundry supplies, and a comfortable chair for "sit down" work.

Great Beauty Always Includes Good Posture

Everyone does service to posture as one of the most basic aspects of feminine beauty.

* * *

But only when one sees a woman who gives the impression of great beauty when she is merely graceful does one recognize how much posture means.

"Walk tall," says one posture expert.

"Walk as though you were beautiful," says a dance teacher.

"Cultivate the graceful movements of nature," advises another beautician.

But whatever the catchword, it means taking stock of your present posture and acting to improve it.

"Turtle neck" is a prime posture difficulty. Many women never realize they do this, for it's hard to look sideways into a mirror.

"Turtle neck," is leading with the head. When a woman with this fault walks, her chin is leading instead of her chest.

A simple remedy is to walk as though the entire body were suspended from a string attached to the top of the head.

This pulls the head up and in, lifts the rib cage out of the abdomen and moves the pelvic girwalking.

* * *

If you are not sure what your posture fault is, let someone in the family take a picture of you in your "comfortable" stance. You'll find out, much to your dismay, what needs to be done.

Sheer Wool Is Nice Did Y'know This?

One new discovery is the sheer wool sport shirt, either long—or short-sleeved. These are made of fabric so light and soft that it might be hard to believe they are wool. The fabric weighs three-and-a-half ounces to the yard and is so sheer that light can be seen through it. Hand washable, as well.

Red Arms Query Befuddles West

Sobolev Asks Puzzling Question of U. N. Group Seeking Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. disarmament subcommittee members puzzled today over a Russian query whether President Eisenhower's blueprint exchange plan means conventional as well as nuclear arms.

The question was put before the subcommittee last night by Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev. Harold E. Stassen, disarmament adviser to Eisenhower, did not answer at the time. Later American circles said they did not understand what Sobolev meant.

It was the first time the Russian delegate has asked a direct question in the talks here about the Eisenhower plan. He kept silent on Moscow's attitude toward the plan.

It was recalled the United States already has said the Eisenhower proposals included conventional armaments, such as ordinary guns and cannon. Stassen is expected to try to clear up the question when the subcommittee resumes meetings next Tuesday.

Sobolev also asked Stassen what the United States meant by placing a reservation on all plans on disarmament before the Geneva conference. Sobolev asked whether this meant the United States has disavowed these plans and has gone back on the work of 10 years.

Stassen repeated his explanation that the reservations meant the United States is not now reaffirming the plans or discarding them, but is holding them on the shelf while study is being made to see whether the presence of atomic weapons can be detected by scientific devices and what controls can be instituted.

Jimmy Gleason Filing Social Security Claim

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Movie Actor Jimmy Gleason has filed for social security benefits of $103.50 a month.

Jimmy, who is 73, isn't retiring; he has just finished a movie and has commitments for another and for television performances too, but through a friend he learned that under the 1954 amendment to the social security law, persons 72 years or over may draw full retirement benefits regardless of their earnings.

The district manager said that social security records are confidential but that Gleason wanted to make his public so others who might be eligible would learn of the amendment.

Jayne Mansfield Career: New Jersey -- Hollywood

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I bring you Jayne Mansfield, the country's newest—and prettiest "character" . . . who, of course, is from Texas.

Let me mention that Jayne was married in high school, had a baby daughter, took the baby to chemistry class while she cut up frogs, also took the baby to class while she modeled nude for an art class in college.

★ ★ ★ ★

Jayne loves mice, and hamsters, and once put two hamsters in a housemother's bed in Los Angeles, which caused the housemother to develop a distaste for her.

Only 22 now, Jayne has a pink Jaguar, a divorce, a home in Beverly Hills, a size-38 bust, a Marlyn Monroe wiggle and a new towel she'll wear while taking a massage in the new Broadway show "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?"

"Excitedly, she tells her own story . . . born in Bryn Wawr, Pa., picked up and left two weeks later . . . Phillipsburg, N. J., till she was 6 . . . then Dallas.

"There was a very big deal in Highland Park High School when I was 16" she spoke on.

Jayne (Palmer was her real name) married another high school student, Paul Mansfield. At 17, she was a mother.

"We took Jayne Marie to class with us. We had a baby carriage with a built-in everything. We stuck a bottle in her mouth and every so often I'd have to change her diaper."

"I think we were the only couple in high school doing that."

Her husband went into the Army and Jayne when to Southern Methodist.

"When I got stuck without a babysitter, I took my baby to chemistry class.

Jayne's since been in five movies—she co-starred with Dan Dailey in "Illegal," just finished in Philadelphia—but believes her success started when she went to Miami for the "Underwater" premiere wearing a skin-tight red flame bathing suit.

It wasn't surprising that George Axelrod and Julie Styne signed her up for their Broadway show. Daughter Jayne Marie hasn't attended any rehearsals. Mama can afford babysitters now.

★ ★ ★ ★

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

"DON'T PRINT THAT!": Friends are shocked at the pushing around a noted movie singer takes from her husband . . . Sec'y Dulles is reported blocking Nixon's trip to Russia; he's afraid we'd have to invite a leading Commy in return—during an election year.

Thelma Ritter's son, Tony Moran, gave up a job at the Concord Hotel for a movie role. The newest attraction at drive-in theaters is individual air conditioning units . . . A playboy's many bouncing checks are before the D.A.

★ ★ ★ ★

Gant Gaither hopes to persuade Jan Sterling that she's right for his "Man With the Golden Arm" show . . . Dean Allen, Donald Duck's original voice, is now a disk jock in Ohio.

★ ★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Taffy Tuttle says she just rented an apartment that would be ideal for a nudist couple—it has no closets.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A woman starts lying about her age when her face begins to tell the truth about it."—Dan Bennett.

Singapore to Refuse Fuel for Mystery Ship

SINGAPORE (AP) — The government of this British crown colony raised a fresh obstacle today in the path of the mystery freighter Katerina S. She is reported carrying a cargo of arms from Communist Bulgaria to Haiphong, North Viet Nam, for Red China.

* * *

A spokesman said the port would refuse to fuel the freighter, identified by U. S. State Department officials as a Greek-owned vessel of 1,618 tons that has sailed under the Panamanian flag.

The colony's government acted after receiving press dispatches saying Panama had canceled the ship's registry under the Panamanian flag.

Texas Baptists Battle, Governor Taken Aback

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A veteran observer of floor debate summed up an hour-long discussion of a single point by Texas Baptists yesterday.

The executive board members were divided on changing of the name of Baptist District Missionaries to Baptist District Secretaries. Finally the point was sent to committee for re-study.

"I thought for a minute I was in a session of the legislature," Gov. Allan Shivers told fellow board members.

Kent Helps Flood Relief

Dispute Delays Bonus Checks

State, 2 Services at Odds Over Meaning of 'Foreign Service'

LANSING (AP) — Thousands of Korean War veteran applications are being delayed because of an interpretation of the "foreign service" clause in the bonus act, state officials admit.

Hardest hit by the interpretation were Navy and Marine Corps veterans whose applications have in many cases been held up for months.

The difficulty, officials said, stems from confusion over whether "foreign service" means time attached to a ship or time actually spent at sea.

Payment is made on the basis of $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 for each month of "foreign service."

* * *

For pay purposes, the Navy and Marine Corps credit men with sea duty whenever they are attached to a ship, regardless of the time spent in port.

STATE INTERPRETATION

The state, however, insists that "foreign service" means only that time actually spent at sea or in foreign countries.

The adjutant general's office has mailed out some 13,000 questionnaires to Navy and Marine Corps applicants requesting additional information on foreign service.

The questionnaires ask the veterans to list the day, month and year of departure from and arrival in the United States.

* * *

Officials of the adjutant general's office which processes the claims, conceded that in many cases this information is impossible to obtain.

Baird said in practice veterans were being permitted to estimate the length of time actually spent at sea. But the questionnaires do not authorize such an estimate.

Heredity Often Determines Our Mental Outlook

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Your emotions and mental attitude are more inherited from your parents than has been previously believed, a University of Michigan psychologist states.

* * *

Speaking before the American Psychological Assn. at the annual meeting of the American Institute of Human Biological Sciences, Steven G. Vandenberg said it appears that the influence of environment may have been over emphasized.

Vandenberg, basing his findings on work done with Michigan's Institute of Human Biology, told of research with both identical and fraternal twins.

The study he said, indicated that perception, personality, likes or dislikes for abstract or art forms, and vocational interests. Even clothing likes and dislikes may be governed by heredity.

The ability to read and spell, Vandenberg said, may also be limited by heredity influences. But, he added, this is not conclusive and more work must be done before any definite conclusions could be drawn as to the reading difficulties of the nation's youngsters.

Mrs. John Derek, Actor Separate After 7 Years

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mrs. John Derek said today that she and her film actor husband have separated.

Married seven years, the Dereks have two children, Russell, 5, and Sean, 2 months. Derek recently finished working on the picture, "The Ten Commandments."

40 Businessmen Booked in Dallas in Gambling Raid

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dallas police clerks were still busy this morning after vice squad officers pulled a surprise raid and booked more than 40 local businessmen for gaming.

The men were members and guests of a civic group holding its annual stag party. They were placed under $10 bonds for gambling after police allegedly broke up a dice game at a popular restaurant.

Four detectives attended the stag party, incognito, sat through a strip-tease act, then called headquarters for a raiding party when a dice game started.

Police Chief Carl Hansson said the men "were respectable citizens, but they were endangering the restaurant owner's liquor license by gaming in his establishment and had immoral women running around in the nude."

Worst Fire in 8 Years

PAW PAW (AP)—A $12,000 fire destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kaltz Thursday. No one was injured in the blaze. Firemen said the fire was caused by defective wiring. It was the city's worst fire in eight years.

Wreckers Haul Away Wrong House in Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—County Building Commissioner Jake Ballard took a second look at a house being moved down a boulevard.

"It looks like the county's house but . . . well . . . no, that couldn't be," he mused.

He shrugged the matter off but yesterday morning the idea returned to nag him. He checked and, sure enough, the house was gone.

It turned out the wrecking company hauled off the house by mistake.

The commissioners court and the company will work it out Monday.

About 27,000 Americans become blind annually.

Brazil-Ecuador Rift Investigation Begun

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Four nations, entrusted to keep peace between Ecuador and Peru, took steps today to investigate border tension involving the two countries.

* * *

A diplomatic source said Brazil, Argentina, Chile and the United States whose representatives have been conferring here over the latest friction, had decided to send a commission to make an on the spot check.

The four nations were named guarantors in the 1942 treaty settling previous frontier friction between Ecuador and Peru.

* * *

Ecuador complained this week to the Organization of American States in Washington that Peru has massed 20,000 to 30,000 troops on the border, constituting an invasion threat.

Meanwhile, a Lima newspaper quoted Peruvian Foreign Minister David Aguilar as saying the Ecuadorian charges were absurd and accusing Ecuador's President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra of stirring up antiPeruvian sentiment.

New 'Crusader' Program to Tell Refugees' Stories

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the new shows entering the fall TV sweepstakes is an item called Crusader. The title role is not played by a knight in armor, but by a free-lance writer in a business suit.

* * *

The crusader will be Brian Keith, the handsome actor who made a hit in the movie "Tight Spot." He'll play a magazine author who roams the world in search of stories about refugees and displaced persons.

Producer Dick Lewis admits it is unusual, but he thinks the public will go for the idea.

* * *

"I think there has been a growing acceptance for drama with a documentary flavor," said Lewis! a young veteran of the radio and TV scene. "You see that in movies like 'On the Waterfront,' which was semi-documentary in treatment. And you see it in TV shows like Dragnet and Medic.

"We have a wealth of material to choose from. Some of our stories concern escapes from Iron Curtain countries or Russia itself. Some are about people who are removed from their homes. There is a great deal of excitement in such tales.

* * *

"There is the added quality of reality. All of the stories are true. We have gotten wonderful cooperation from governmental agencies, religious groups and other organizations that deal with refugees.

"I think this show can do a lot of good in this country. After all, we will be letting 250,000 persons into this country by the end of 1956. It is important that we know their problems."

* * *

The filmed show will appear on CBS' Friday nights. Incidentally, this may be an indication of TV's power: Brian Keith has a two-picture-a-year deal with Columbia Pictures, but the Crusader series takes priority on his services.

France to Sanction Union-Joining Moors

RABAT, French Morocco (AP)—In an attempt to head off new trouble from the Nationalists, French authorities announced late last night they plan to give Moroccan workingmen freedom to join labor unions.

* * *

Until now, only the French and other European residents of this North African protectorate had that right.

The top minimum wage for city workers in Morocco is about 16 cents an hour. Farm workers must get about 65 cents a day in cash, plus additional pay in produce.

* * *

A spokesman for the resident general's office said the proposal for labor union freedom will be made to his department heads Saturday.

Recover Drowned Body

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS, N. J. (AP)—The high school cheerleaders got more pre-football season yelling practice than they bargained for this week.

Legion Group OKs UNESCO

Probe Committee Fails to Find Trace of Red Taint in U. N. Affiliate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special American Legion committee has termed "utterly without foundation" charges that the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural organization is communistic.

Summarizing an 18-month investigation of the controversial U.N. affiliate, the six-member group said in its report:

"UNESCO is not favorable toward world government . . . is not atheistic and . . . is in no sense or degree communistic."

* * *

The special group thus placed itself at odds with the legion's Americanism commission which has said it has evidence there are a number of Communist sympathizers in UNESCO.

The 40,000-word report was made last May 5 to the Legion's national executive committee which 11 months ago refused 51-6 to send a representative to the U.S. Commission for UNESCO. A printed copy of the report became available today.

* * *

The report is destined for submission to the Legion's national convention in Miami, Fla., Oct. 10-13 where it may stir up a fight over acceptance or rejection.

Seaborn Collins, the Legion's national commander, was out of town and could not be reached for comment.

Tribe, NY Hang on, Bosox, Chisox Slip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first division isn't exactly cluttered up with dead bodies yet in that killing American League Pennant race, but Chicago and Boston suddenly have taken on a frightening pale look.

* * *

After being struck down by first place Cleveland and the second place New York Yankees yesterday, the Red Sox and White Sox have reached the now-or-never point. With only 15 games remaining, Chicago is 3½ games out—and three games behind on the lost side.

Boston's in the same precarious spot—5 full games behind and 4 games back in the lost column with 16 games remaining.

The Indians laid Boston low last night, clubbing three home runs to trip the Red Sox into a second straight defeat 3-1. New York, still trailing the Tribe by a half-game, shook up the White Sox 5-4 with Joe Collins' two homers belting Chicago to a second straight defeat.

Manager Marty Marion is confident his lefty ace, Billy Pierce, can tumble the Yanks today. It's practically a must if the White Sox hope to make any ground when they meet Boston in a doubleheader tomorrow while the Yanks and Indians slug it out in two.

* * *

The same goes for Boston in one last chance at the Indians today.

Al Smith, Ralph Kiner and Al Rosen, leading off the sixth, seventh and eighth innings with their homers, produced Bob Lemon's 17th victory, but relievers Ray Narleski and Don Mossi had to wrap it up. It was the veteran righthander's fourth straight victory—but also the 18th consecutive time he has failed to finish.

* * *

The Yanks had no easier time with the White Sox, who now have lost six of 10 games with New York that were decided by one run. Collins, who had been benched for weak hitting, gave the Yanks a four-run edge with his two clouts, but in the end it was Yogi Berra's double that did it.

All three of the big blows were off Dick Donovan, who lost his seventh against 14 victories and departed on Yogi's smack in the seventh. Don Larsen won his seventh, but tasted no longer than Donovan as the Chicago righthander touched off a three-run seventh inning with a two-out single.

* * *

Detroit officially fell from the AL race with an 8-3 defeat at Baltimore, Kansas City split with Washington, losing 6-5 and winning 7-6 although Roy Sievers tied the Senators' home run record he set last year with his 23rd and 24th home runs in the nightcap.

* * *

In the National, Brooklyn's champs staggered through a hectic doubleheader at Chicago after a pennant celebration the night before. The Cubs, who belted eight of the 13 homers in the twinbill, beat Don Newcombe in the opener 11-4, but lost the second 16-9. The Dodgers had just eight hits in the nightcap.

* * *

Newcombe, 20-5, has been beaten three times by the Cubs, who had two home runs each from Dee Fondy, Randy Jackson and Ernie Banks. Banks now has 42. Don Zimmer hit a pair for the Brooks.

* * *

Milwaukee tightened its grip on second, beating Pittsburgh 3-1 on Del Crandall's two-run homer in the seventh. Joe Nuxhall won his 16th for Cincinnati by four-hitting New York 5-0 while Wally Post and Gus Bell homered for the Redlegs. St. Louis, led by Solly Hemus' two triples that scored four runs, fractured Philadelphia 11-2.

Loss to Orioles Puts Tigers Officially Out of AL Race

BALTIMORE (AP)—Detroit Tigers were officially out of the American League pennant race today.

An 8-3 defeat by the Baltimore Orioles coupled with Cleveland's 3-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox last night dropped the Tigers 15 games behind the 1st-place Indians with only 14 games to play.

Ex-Tiger southpaw Bill Wight held Detroit to one earned run on eight hits in posting his 4th victory of the year against seven defeats.

Detroit's two unearned tallies came in the 1st inning on two errors by rookie Don Leppert at 2nd. Leppert bobbled Harvey Kuenn's grounder, then threw past 1st for his 2nd error.

One run came in on a single by Al Kaline and the other on Ray Boone's sacrifice fly in the 8th, scoring Bill Tuttle, who had singled.

The Orioles pounded Ned Garver for eight hits and six runs before the veteran righthander was lifted for a pinch hitter in the 7th.

J. W. Porter, making his 1st appearance as a Tiger catcher, collected two hits off Wight and Chick King, playing left field had another.

Walt Streuli finished the game behind the plate and forced King on his only time at bat.

Garver gave up four runs in the 4th inning on three hits, a walk, his own throwing error and a sacrifice fly. Pinch hitter Bob Hale drove in two runs on a double.

Rookie Duke Maas, was scheduled to face the Orioles today in the last meeting of the season between Detroit and Baltimore.

Seixas Collides With Australian in Tennis Semis

Rosewall Confronts Vic, Trabert Runs Into Hoad in National Net Tests

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Defending champion Vic Seixas met hill young nemesis, Ken Rosewall, and top-seeded Tony Trabert went against Lew Hoad today in the semifinals of the National Tennis Championship, the exact pairings of the Davis Cup Challenge Round two weeks ago.

* * *

Trabert and Rosewall were the favorites to advance to the final when the tournament opened. It goes without saying that Tony has the best chance of the two Americans of coming out on top today.

He has the kind of game that can blow over anyone in the world. Furthermore, Hoad, as was the case yesterday when he gained his semi-final berth, has a tendency to forget the business at hand although he got past Sam Giammalva, 6-3, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

Trabert, for his part, never looked better in downing Herb Flam, an ex-gob from Beverly Hills, Calif., who was seeded eighth, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Hoad had his troubles with Giammalva and for a time in the third set, it appeared he might fold.

* * *

Seixas' chances against Rosewall certainly are not bright. The Mighty Mouse from the Anzacs has whipped Vic in 11 of their 13 duels.

Defending champion Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., meets Mrs. Dorothy Knode of Forest Hills and Barbara Breit of Hollywood, Calif., plays Pat Ward of England in the semifinals of the women's division.

Boswell Leading at Halfway Point

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Charlie Boswell, Birmingham, Ala., the 1955 U.S. Blind Golfers Assn. champion, holds a commanding halfway lead in the second annual International Blind tournament at Beach Grove Golf Club when he fired 56-51—107 over the par-72 layout.

Boswell, former University of Alabama football star who lost his sight during the Battle of the Bulge, used his powerful tee-shot game to good advantage Friday to post a five-stroke advantage over his closest rival, Detroit's Peter Bell. Defending champion, Joe Lazaro of Waltham, Mass., had 118.

Louise Suggs Leads St. Louis Tourney

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A pair of subpar rounds have put Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., in the lead as the $5,000 St. Louis Women's Open Golf Tournament moved into its third day today. It continues through tomorrow.

A three-under-par 72 yesterday, combined with a 71 on the tournament's opening day, gave Miss Suggs a 143 total. Four strokes behind was Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex.

HESITATION—Chicago White Sox shortstop Chico Carrasquel, left, seems to have time to toss ball to 2nd baseman Nellie Fox, center, to make force out on sliding Billy Martin of the New York Yankees but chooses instead to throw to 1st not in time to get Yankee pitcher Don Larsen in 4th inning of game at Yankee Stadium yesterday. Larsen was credited with a single on his grounder to Carrasquel. Yanks won, 5-4.

Rams Walloped by Forty-Niners

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, on the power running of halfback John Henry Johnson and the passing of quarterback Y. A. Tittle, broke loose for three touchdowns in the second half and whipped the Los Angeles Rams in a National Football League exhibition game 31-10 Friday night.

A brilliant pass for 42 yards from Tittle to end Billy Wilson set up a tie-breaking touchdown in the third period. The pass put the ball on the Ram five and Johnson crashed over to break a halftime 10-10 tie score.

A crowd of 65,633 saw the game.

The 49ers played without the services of two of their brilliant backfield men, halfback Hugh McElhenny and fullback Joe Perry, both of whom are on the injured list.

Big Bats Aid Indians

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland is using the home run, the baseball weapon against which there is no defense, and improved pitching to maintain its slim half game lead in the tense American League race.

* * *

The Indians parlayed home runs by Al Smith, Ralph Kiner and Al Rosen and clutch relief jobs by bullpen aces Ray Narleski and Don Mossi into a 3-1 victory over Boston last night. It was Cleveland's ninth win in its last 11 starts.

* * *

The defeat marked the end, virtually, for Red Sox flag hopes.

"I feel that 95 victories will win the pennant," Al Lopez, manager of the AL defending champions, said after the game.

This would mean the Indians, who have won 86 games, would have to take only nine of their remaining 14.

The Yankees would need 10 of 15, Chicago, for whom time is running out, 13 out of 15 and the Red Sox, a disheartening 15 out of 16.

* * *

Against the Red Sox last night, Cleveland got eight hits but wasted five singles. But leadoff homers by Smith in the sixth, his 22nd, Kiner in the seventh, his 17th, and Rosen in the eighth, his 21st, told the story. Boston got six singles and a double but needed two wild pitches to set up its run.

The Tribe had beaten Baltimore the day before on Larry Doby's home run in the 10th.

Bob Lemon, though failing to finish in his 18th straight start, was credited with his 17th victory. Wobbly at the start, he gave up a single to Billy Klaus in the first, put him on third with two wild pitches, then yielded Boston's only run on a single by Ted Williams.

The Sox loaded the bases on Lemon in the fifth on two walks and a double but Jackie Jensen hit into a double play.

Lemon had retired nine men in order before he ran afoul with two out in the eighth. A single, a walk and a wild pitch put men on second and third.

Narleski, making his 55th appearance of the season, got Sammy White on a short fly ball. He sailed into the ninth with two strikeouts, but a walk to pinch hitter Faye Throneberry and Billy Goodman's single called for a change.

No Place for Tiny Tad Weed on Rams' Club

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams released tiny Tad Weed, rookie place-kicking specialist from Ohio State Friday night.

Coach Sid Gillman said there is "just not room on the club" for the 5'5, 143-pound youngster on a squad limited to 33 players.

Weed had kicked one out of three attempts for the Rams in exhibitions thus far after starring for the All-Stars against the Cleveland Browns last month. The Rams will rely on lineman Less Richter for their place kicking.

Andrade Beats Zulueta

NEW YORK (AP)—Cisco Andrade realized a long-time goal Friday night when he drubbed Orlando Zulueta in Madison Square Garden. Now the flashy, 25-year-old Compton, Calif., lightweight wants a shot at the winner of the Wallace (Bud) Smith-Jimmy Carter title fight.

Wolverines to Get Full-Dress Workout

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's Wolverines plow through their 1st full-dress, secret scrimmage of fall practice today — just two weeks before their opening battle against a weak Missouri squad.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan called off drills for this morning and put his team through light practice yesterday in preparation for the game-length scrimmage in the Michigan stadium this afternoon.

He also was hoping that fullback Lou Baldacci's two bruised heels, right halfback Tony Branoff's turned ankle and guard Jim Fox's pulled muscle would round into shape for the heavy contact work.

Army 9's Clash Todcy

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Ft. Bragg, N.C., and Ft. McPherson, Ga., meet today with the 3rd Army Baseball championship at stake and the North Carolinians hope they won't have to face Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell again.

Forest Lake Club Sets '56 Date for Wolverine Open

The nation's outstanding professional and amateur women golfers will again play in the Detroit area, it was announced today by the board of directors of Forest Lake Country Club. Second annua Wolverine Ladies Open Invitational will be held at the club June 21-24, 1956, according to Blaine Eynon, club president.

He said the club had received written assurance from one of the major sporting goods manufacturers that its staff players, among the leading money winners of the Ladies Professional Golf Association, will compete in next year's tournament. Several were absent at the Wolverine Open last May because of prior exhibition commitments.

"We have been assured that we will have virtually all of the best women professionals and many of the top amateur players next year," Eynon said. "And we are getting a head start now, whereas our 1st tournament was organized and run in a matter of three months. It was a complete success and we can expect an even better field next June," he added.

The main event will be a 72-hole medal play tournament. The purse, although as yet undetermined, is expected to be larger than the $5,000 provided last spring. A one day exhibition tourney will include Michigan men pros and LPGA members.

George E. Jaquillard, tourname chairman, said the June dates were picked in hopes of better weather than was experienced last May.

Pontiac Golfer Hits First Ace at James River

Bill Nettle Shoots Hole-In-One During Tuneup in Virginia

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — William Nettle of Pontiac, Mich., scored the 1st hole-in-one of his career yesterday.

Nettle shot an ace on the 167-yard No. 4 hole of the Country Club of Virginia's James River course in a tuneup round for the 55th National Amateur Golf Tournament. The tourney opens here Monday over the 6,713-yard, par 70 course.

Nettle used an 8-iron on the par three hole. He didn't divulge his score for the round.

"We just hit a few," he said.

Bill Nettle is one of Pine Lake's top golfers. He has been among the leading shotmakers in the DDGA for years and this summer appeared in every district tourney, including the big Pine Lake two-ball invitational and the Birmingham CC two-ball invitational.

Evvie Defends Iowa's Shift, but Changes It

Coach Says Maneuver Isn't Designed for Luring Foes Offside

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Coach Forest Evashevski vehemently protested last night that Iowa's much-criticized shift was not designed to lure opponents off side but said it will be modified this year.

Evashevski, addressing a group of touring sports writers, did not say how the Iowa shift would be modified. He indicated it might affect the Hawkeye offense.

The one-time Michigan star's announcement followed sharp criticism of the Iowa shift by several Big Ten football coaches.

Stu Hocomb of Purdue and Woody Hayes of Ohio State's national champions said they intended to use a so-called "sucker shift" for protection against any team which might use it.

The complaining coaches charged that in shifting from the split T, to a tight line jerky motions were used to lurg opponents offside.

"I never coached my players to draw an opponent off-side," Evashevski said. "We're one of the few teams which use the shift from a split T to a tight line as an integral part of our offense."

However, the Iowa coach said the change in the formation was made this week.

Apparently bitter over the "revenge" attitude of Holcomb and Hayes, Evashevski said "if they want the ball games that bad they can have 'em."

Only Finisher Takes All in Ontario Swim

TORONTO (AP) — Long distance swimmer Cliff Lumsden is at least $25,000 richer today because of his stamina.

The 24-year-old swimmer won the Canadian National Exhibition's 32-mile swim in Lake Ontario Friday merely because he finished the grind. No one else in the field of 30 could last it out in the chilly water. With first place went $15,000 first prize money put up by the CNE, $5,000 from an anonymous donor, $3,600 in lap money from a Toronto newspaper and $1,000 each from the City of Toronto and a night club operator here.

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — "We're better in every way except for the loss of Jim Podoley."

This is coach Bill Kelly's frank appraisal of his Central Michigan football team, which opens its season tonight in a charity game against Kansas State Teachers in Saginaw.

'Flies Only' Ruling for Au Sable Stretch

ROSCOMMON (AP) — The State Conservation Commission, by a 4 to 3 vote, Friday imposed a "flies only" restriction on 20 miles of the Au Sable river in Crawford county.

The restriction closes the river to bait-fishing for trout in Crawford county when the 1955 season ends Sunday. About half of the water already was restricted.

The commission also approved a legal minimum size limit of nine inches for trout taken from the restricted water.

Formal approval was given the Oct. 1-Dec. 9 waterfowl season and the federal regulations governing it.

Better Fishing Seen

LANSING (AP) — Generally improved fishing conditions for the northern half of the Lower Peninsula were predicted by the state conservation department.

The department said trout streams mostly were normal and clear, but that fishing success had been only fair. Rainbow fishing was fair to good on the Manistee river below the Tippy Dam and the department speculated that the fall rainbow runs were starting.

Fishing pressure on inland lakes was normal to heavy last weekend, the department said, with fishing success generally good.

Junior Olympic Finals

Finals of the United States Junior Olympic Equestrian trials will be held today and Sunday at Franfield Farms, Base Line and Beech roads, Plymouth. Bloomfield Hills Fairlaners are favored over the Grosse Pointe Rascals and Bloomfield Irishmen. Competition starts both days at 9 a.m.

At Wolverine Raceway last night Chief Lenawee won his 4th race in a row, defeating five older horses in the featured $2,000 handicap pace.

Ward Accorded Favorite's Role in U. S. Amateur

Walker Cuppers Pick Teammate for Event Starting Monday

RICHMOND, Va. — Favorites just don't win the U. S. Amateur Golf Championship, but two Walker Cup players today picked their teammate Harvie Ward as the logical choice for the favorite's role.

* * *

Harvie, a late arrival for the 55th championship, which gets under way Monday at the James River Course of the Country Club of Virginia, wasn't on hand to defend himself.

Billy Joe Patton and Jimmy Jackson, who should be rated among the favorites themselves, put the finger on Ward.

* * *

"You have to string along with the form," said Patton. "I'd say Ward should be the choice—but favorites don't win this tournament. Joe Conrad is another who should have a good chance and Doug Sanders has been playing well."

Ward won the British amateur in 1952 and was a quarterfinalist in the U. S. Amateur in 1947. His rivals feel he has the steady, straight game and the experience to cope with the demanding 6,713-yard James River course.

* * *

Jimmy McHale, a former Walker Cup player, tossed the names of Hillman Robbins and Jimmy Vickers into the pot of possible winners. Conrad, who might have been No. 1 favorite himself but for a quirk of a revised draw, predicted that "some young fellow" will win the title left undefended when Arnold Palmer turned pro.

Conrad, who never had won even one match in the U. S. Amateur when he was selected for the Walker Cup team, was drawn in a quarter of the field where comparatively little strong opposition was in sight.

Haas Heads Field at Scotch Plains

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J. (AP) — Freddie Haas led the field, trimmed to the low 90, into the third round of the $50,000 Cavalcade of Golf Tournament today, running two strokes ahead of the crowd.

Haas fashioned his lead with some excellent putts yesterday, coming in with a three-under-par 67. That gave him 137 for the first 36 holes over the Shackamaxon Country Club course, which he toured in a par-matching 70 opening day.

Right on the heels of the Claremont, Calif., veteran was little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, who had a 70-69—139.

Detroiter in Title Test for Waite Tourney Honor

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE, Pa. In the Old Masters tournament for golfers over 50, running jointly with the Waite, Allen Rankin, Columbus, and Ed Randall, Rochester, N.Y., were matched against Bill Murtha, Jenkintown, Pa., and Jim McAlvin, Lake Forest, Ill.

McMahon, who is slated to represent the Detroit area in the National Amateur tournament, and Norbury, gained the final of the Waite with a 2-and-1 victory over Hud Samson Jr., Pittsburgh, and Leon Bishop, Brockton, Mass., yesterday. Smith and Allan defeated Wallace Ivers of Birmingham, Mich., and Burt Gibson of Chicago.

Rankin and Randall won their masters match with Ed Keating, South Londonderry, Vt., and Paul Hyde, Buffalo, N.Y., on the final hole. Murtha and McAlvin defeated Jack Wallace of Rutherford, N.J., and Egon Quttner, Philadelphia, 2 and 1.

Your Neighbor's House

Experimental Home Pleases Family

By JANET ODELL

It doesn't pay to be too positive about what you want in a new house. You may end up with something entirely different and find you like it. Mrs. B. B. Kimball did.

Three months ago the Kimballs moved into their new home at 6845 Lahser road, just south of Maple road, in Westchester Village. Mrs. Kimball chuckled as she told us about it.

"I wanted a red brick house with a basement. This one's gray brick with a utility room and no basement. Since I had a brand new electric range, I didn't want a built-in stove. I got it, and I love it."

It seems that the Kimballs were looking at a lot in the neighborhood when a real estate man persuaded them to go through a model home. Indifferent at first, the more they saw the better they liked it. The deal went through quickly and, with three days' notice, they moved from their Pontiac home on Oneida road where they had lived for 29 years.

Those of you who watched the Mr. Peepers show earlier this year saw the Kimball home on the television screen. It was Mr. Peepers' Honeymoon House.

There are a number of experimental features about the house. Most unusual of these is the metal roof made of individual aluminum shingles. Mrs. Kimball says that a gentle rain falling on it is rather soothing in sound. During a heavy downpour, however the noise all but drowns out conversation.

The aluminum siding is as fireproof and as easily maintained as the roof. Painted green, it contrasts nicely with the gray bricks below. Aluminum windows are used throughout the house which is completely air-conditioned.

You feel comfortably at home as you enter the knotty pine hallway which is tiled in beige and tan. On either side of the front door there are shutter doors, one concealing a closet, the other opening into the kitchen. The bedroom wing is off to the right.

Mrs. Kimball has kept furnishings to a minimum here. A sturdy pine bench stands against one wall. Above it is an interesting three-shelf pine whatnot. Tiny louvered doors fold back on both sides. This whatnot is an ideal place to show off souvenir pieces the Kimballs have picked up in their travels.

Straight through the hall to the back of the house is the living area. A tremendous brick fireplace divides the room into a sitting room and a TV room. Open on two sides, it is built of narrow, handmade, gray bricks. The living area of the house is open construction so that the fireplace is visible up to the roof. The exposed beams on the ceiling are stained dark, making a pleasant contrast with the white spaces between.

Concealed lights on one long wall of the living room give a subdued light to that room and some light to the hall. A double spotlight over the front door and a single one over the closet complete the hall lighting.

The gray rug in the living room is a neutral foil for the soft greens and yellows in the upholstered pieces. One vivid note is struck by the royal purple velvet chair in front of the long windows. Curtains throughout this area are maize-colored draw drapes.

In the TV room and the dining room the walls are made of pickled fir. A folding door separates these two rooms. The asphalt tile floor is bare in the TV room, while a rose rug covers the dining area. From the TV room a Dutch door opens out onto a patio furnished with white iron furniture.

A beautiful breakfront buffet made of fruitwood was in the house when it was shown as a model. The Kimballs bought this piece, then purchased a dining set in the same wood. The chair seats are particularly interesting. Made of nylon, the rose, green and maize flowered material is washable; it picks up similar colors in floor, rug and walls.

Mrs. Kimball loves fine china and has an extensive collection. The buffet houses her group of china figurines, Heirlooms of Tomorrow. Behind the grilled doors on either side she keeps her numerous fine cups and saucers.

The kitchen is a dream room. It's gay, practical and efficient. Counter tops and splash board are covered with yellow formica. Walls on two sides and all the cupboards are knotty pine. The other two walls are covered in oilcloth in a brick design so real we had to touch it to be convinced. Mrs. Kimball has hung three bright Mexican plates on one of these gray "brick" walls.

The slanting cupboards beneath the sink have sliding doors. To maintain a continuous knotty pine surface, even the dishwasher front is paneled in pine. Little spice cupboards below the dish cupboards also have the sliding doors. Other cupboards have wrought iron hardware.

The built in stove is set kitty-corner. Wide formica counters on each side leave ample room for working. Close to one end is the refrigerator, while the oven is but a step away on the other side. There's room for a breakfast table.

There are six large closets in the bedroom wing. One room is a study, one is occupied by daughter Barbara, and the third is the owners' room. Two bathrooms are set back to back.

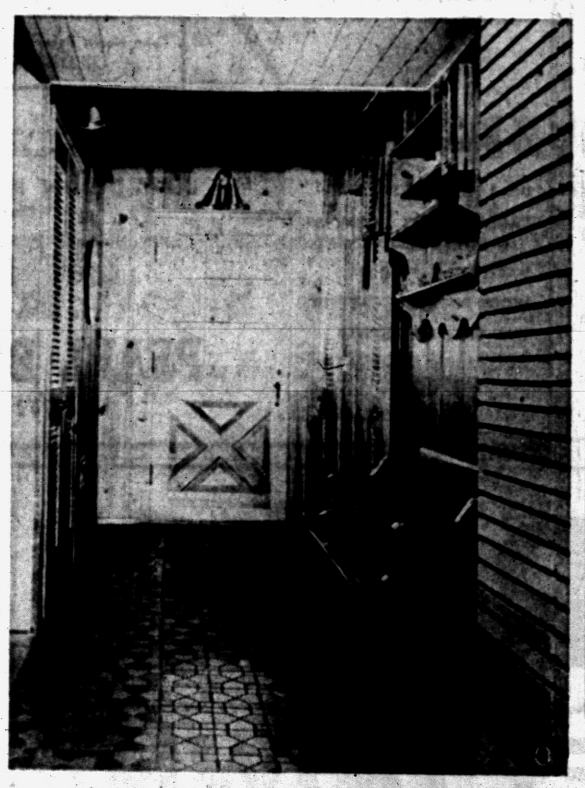

The larger bathroom is pink. Above the tiling the walls are papered in a black and white leafy patterned paper. Sheer glass curtains have the same design. The smaller bathroom is aqua.

We were intrigued with the curtains in the master bedroom. Made of sheer white cotton, they're embroidered along

WESTCHESTER VILLAGE HOME — The home of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Kimball at 6845 Lahser Road is a friendly low structure. The walls are made of gray brick and green aluminum siding. Aluminum shingles are a distinctive feature of this house which was known as Mr. Peepers' Honeymoon House.

PLEASANT CORNER — The brick of the fireplace extends around the room on one wall back of the sofa. Just below the top of this wall is concealed lighting. The fireplace with its raised hearth opens into both living and TV room. In the picture to the left we see the pine bench in the tiled entrance hall.

FRUITWOOD FURNITURE — The Kimballs' chose fruitwood furniture for their dining room. Dominating the room is the beautiful breakfront buffet, to the right. It is an excellent display case for the coffee service and the decorative ceramics. The walls of pickled fir and the exposed ceiling beams show distinctively in this picture.

PINE KITCHEN — Mrs. B. B. Kimball enjoys cooking in her colorful new kitchen. Concealed lighting above the sink gives plenty of illumination to this area. The shallow cupboards just above the counter tops are useful for storing small boxes of supplies. Their sliding doors allow easy access.

Rattan Manufacturers Add Peel, Plastic Parts

All rattan components are joined in the manufacturing process by either rattan peel or plastic binding. Where binding has cracked through age, either rejoin split parts with small brass tacks, or replace old binding with new.

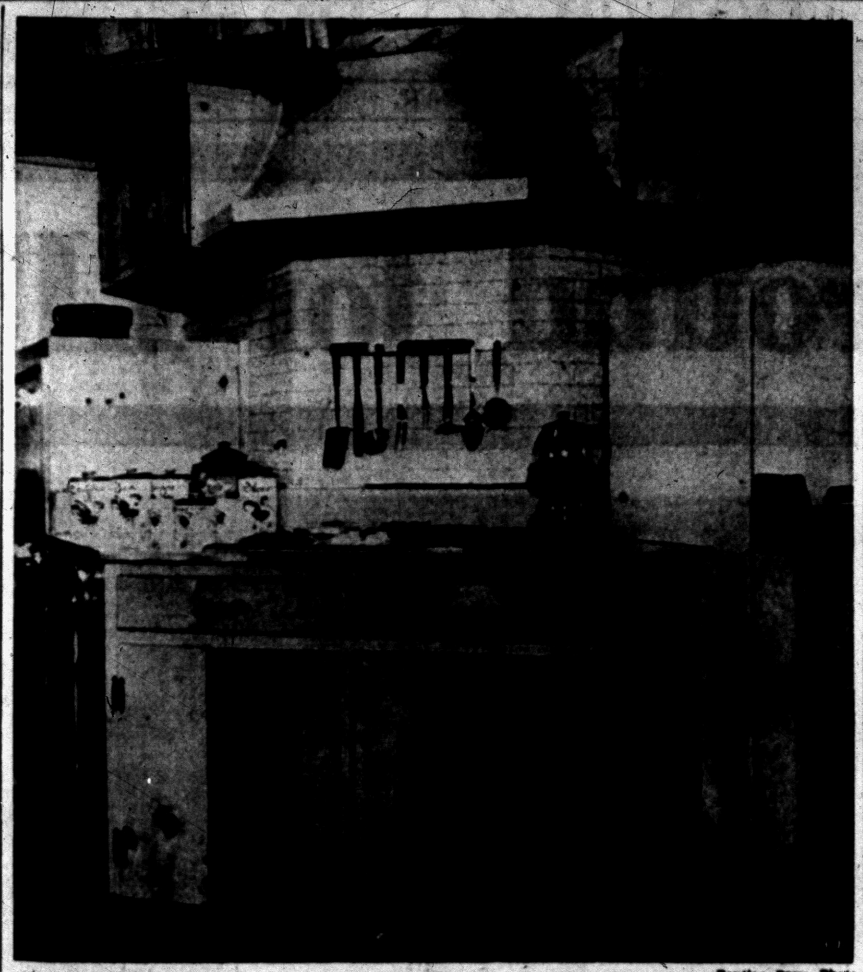

New binding must be wetted first, so that it can be stretched before it is put on. In drying, it contracts. A stiff brush or vacuum cleaner is best for general cleaning of rattan, wicker or reed. Scuff marks on rattan can be removed by first sanding, then applying clear varnish.

KITTY-CORNER STOVE — The built-in stove is set across one corner of the room. Behind this wall is the closet housing the oil furnace and air-conditioner. An aluminum ventilating hood traps odors before they get to the rest of the house. The wall oven can be seen to the extreme left.

Lawn Furniture Is Best Preserved by Soap, Water

NEW YORK—The wonder drugs have wrought miracles in prolonging human life. But simple household tools—soap, water, and a sponge or stiff brush can add years to the "life" of summer furniture, experts here advise.

* * *

A careful sponging with suds before storage for winter will result in many added years of service, whether frames are made of wood, rattan, aluminum, steel or wrought iron.

A warm-water sudsing with a sponge is sufficient for most pieces. If dirt is deeply ingrained, however, heavier suds —also of mild soap—and scrubbing with a stiff brush is suggested.

Pieces thus treated should be rinsed with clear water. Washing should be in bright sunlight, so that pieces will dry quickly.

* * *

Even when furniture used out-of-doors during warm months is removed to the playroom or den for the winter period, such steps should be taken. But when stored instead of used during the winter, the dryest possible place should be used.

Wise to Bedeck Walls With Well-Placed Stars

Bedecking your walls with various size-and-shape stars of such materials as raffia instead of the proverbial picture or wall planter can result in an inexpensive yet smart decorative treatment for your living room or den.

Recently illustrated by Selig of Leomanster, three natural colored stars were hung at different heights over a couch.

Again, to emphasize the versatility of these accessories, four odd-designed yet same size stars were placed at equal heights on a wall left otherwise free of decoration.

Pewter, capa shells (pressed oyster shells) and cane, all used as accent materials, for table tops and shelves, are included in the list of differing materials employed in one collection.

Authorities Say Moths Are Year-Round Pests

Every so often someone bobs up with the information that the normal time for moths to lay their eggs is May, June, July, September and October.

Don't let this statement lull you into a false sense of security. Many authorities declare that moths are ever with us, unless we observe proper precautions.

In a home where the vacuum cleaner is used regularly, closets are kept clean and anti-moth preparations are used methodically, there is little danger of an invasion of these damaging insects. The vacuum cleaner sprayer or blower is a safe and easy way to apply the necessary moth-killer.

Rust spots on wrought iron can be removed by touching up with exterior enamels.

Westchester Village is the last large plot of land that is to be connected with Birmingham sewer and water facilities. Eventually there will be 600 homes, although this first section has only 104. No lot is smaller than 120 feet; the Kimball's is 140x160. About half the homes are custom built.

The Kimball home was built by Sullivan-Smith, Inc. of Birmingham.

Get Rid of Crabgrass

Now, in the fall, the lawn owner should get rid of the crabgrass even if it has to be dug out. Permanent grasses that will grow over the winter should be planted in the bare spots early in September. Otherwise, when the first frost kills the crabgrass, the existing bluegrass and fescues will be retarded as they move in to retake lost ground.

Central heating dates its origin to the 1870's when cheap iron and steel made it possible to make and sell direct cast iron radiators.

Furniture Makers Bemoan Fringe Pay

CHICAGO (AP) — Furniture manufacturers report fringe benefits are costing them up to nearly 50 per cent as much as direct labor costs.

A fringe benefit survey report compiled by Lloyd B. Norris, of the National Assn. of Furniture Manufacturers, shows some manufacturers pay as much for rest periods as they do for paid vacations.

The survey, first of fringe benefits costs covering factory employes in the industry, was released yesterday at the NAFM convention.

The annual average fringe benefit cost per employes is $494, ranging from $100 to $948 per employe.

Decorative Cabin Touch Found in False Shutters

A decorative touch may be added to the plain walls of the summer cottage by the use of false shutters. Attractively painted to contrast with the color of the building, they enhance the beauty of the structure.

* * *

The shutters are easily made. Use 1 by 6-inch lumber for the panels, cutting them to correspond to the height of the window. Suggested patterns for the silhouette figures are a sail boat for the beach cottage and a tree for the mountain cottage. Fasten the shutter panels together temporarily with cross braces, using finishing nails with protruding heads for easy removal. Draw the pattern on a grid of 1-inch squares, as shown. Then separate the panels and saw out the half silhouettes in each piece. A straight-line silhouette such as that of the tree may be cut with an ordinary handsaw, but a compass saw should be used for curved silhouettes.

Then fasten the two panels together permanently by edge gluing, using waterproof glue and clamps. Add the two cross braces made of 1 by 2-inch lumber, each 10¼ inches long. These are fastened with No. 9 flathead wood screws, 1¼ inches long, countersunk.

The shutters may be mounted on wood siding with No. 9 wood screws, 2 inches long, placing one screw 2 inches from each corner. To fasten the shutters to brick or concrete block walls, use anchor bolts or masonry nails.

DISPLAY SILHOUETTES

To display the silhouettes when the shutters are placed on brick or other dark surfaces, fasten a piece of sheet metal, painted a contrasting color, behind the silhouettes before mounting.

The 11¼-inch overall width for these decorative false shutters may be varied, depending upon the width of the window. If hinged shutters are desired, they should be made half the window width.

Care of Lawn Trees Adds to Home Value

Sound attention to trees is necessary if we are to preserve these valuable assets on our property, since we need trees to keep property values from depreciating.

Real estate people tell us that the well-landscaped property has a resale value of fifteen to twenty per cent greater than the property poorly landscaped.

Caring for trees properly sometimes is a fair item of expense. Not to care for them, however, may be even more costly. Some aspects of tree care, especially pruning, are highly dangerous if the trees are tall. For this work, which includes wind-and ice repairs, the services of a tree expert are practically mandatory.

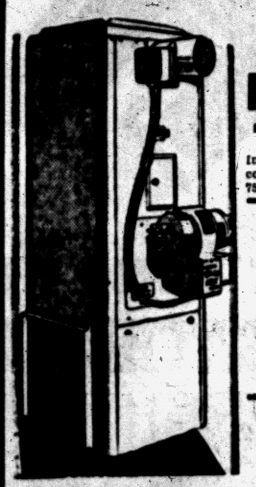

All reliable tree firms carry this protection for the property owner.

Slate Memo Board Made Very Easily

Here's a clever way to make an attractive memo slate for your home:

* * *

Take an old picture frame; the size isn't important. Give it a good cleaning and sanding. Then prime and enamel it to suit the surroundings in which you plan to hang your memo slate. For best results, sand lightly between coats.

Now you'll need a piece of plywood to fit the old frame. Take it from your stockpile or buy some at the lumber yard. Also obtain some chalk-board paint, either black or green.

Finally you mount the chalkboard in the frame. A piece of scrap aluminum bent into a U shape or a discarded Venetian blind slat screwed to the bottom of the frame makes an excellent trough for a piece of chalk.

* * *

You now are ready to hang the memo slate in a convenient place. Unframed chalkboards may be made in any useful size, too. They are excellent for grade school youngsters.

Plans to stage Detroit's second and only Do-It-Yourself and Home Improvement Show, October 22 through 30, at the Michigan State Fairgrounds were announced today by R. George Wood, general manager of the show.

This year's show will be bigger and better than ever, according to Wood, because of the consolidation of the two separate shows which

Some 300 exhibitors representing the do-it-yourself, home improvement and their related industries, will occupy more than 150,000 square feet of exhibit space.

The huge Coliseum Building at the State Fairgrounds will house the exhibitors and events.

Experts will be on hand to advise and demonstrate the latest techniques in self-application of wood, plastic, metal, home operated machines as well as 1,000 and one other products.

Included with the many do-it-yourself projects, will be daily entertainment activities designed to appeal to every age group in the family, including the youngsters.

Concrete Life Boosted

NEW YORK — A longer useful life for concrete highways, bridges, and pavements and better road visibility for motorists is expected to result from silicone treatment of the concrete.

Tests shows that sample concrete blocks treated with silicones resist deterioration twice as long as untreated samples under freezing and thawing conditions.

Wigs began to be very popular in Europe when Louis XIII began to grow bald and turned to elaborate wigs which were imitated by his followers.

Road Men End Meet

Handy Cleaning Hints

Clean the living room in minutes. It's the most lived-in-room in the house and most difficult to keep neat. Tips to be considered:

Use the vacuum cleaner with all its attachments. With the aid of the wand the cornices, door tops, the tops of draperies, Venetian blinds, etc. can be cleaned.

Remodel Old Fireplace

Nothing will add new life to a tired-out living room like a remodeling of your fireplace. It's usually the center of focus in the room and a handsome, fireproof facing of colorful ceramic tile will give it a fresh new appearance.

Aerators for Faucets

Aerators are now standard equipment for many new faucets. Aerators make water taste better, look better, and wash and rinse better because this device puts millions of tiny bubbles in water. Bubbles in the stream act like a cushion, preventing splash.

Dem Chiefs Plan Meet

LANSING (AP) — The Democratic State Central Committee has been called to meet Sunday, Sept. 18 at 2 p.m. in the Porter Hotel in Lansing to discuss autumn and winter projects for the party.

Touch Up Cracked Paint

Rust spots on steel furniture which may develop when rust-resistant paints crack with time, should be sanded off and then touched up with a good outdoor furniture paint resistant to moisture and sunlight.

If a complete repaint job is needed, spraying is best. If painting is not needed, the surface should be washed with soap and water and a soft sponge, rather than with a stiff brush.

Pearl Builders Open Project

The model house now open at 773 West Madison is the first of 40 such homes to be constructed by the Pearl Building Company of Detroit in the north end of Pontiac.

Close to $300,000 is the estimate put on the project by the builders. The two-bedroom, asbestos-shingled houses will sell for $7,345. Lots are all 40 feet wide and average 130 feet deep.

Each house contains a living room, two bedrooms, tiled bath with shower, roomy kitchen and utility room. Gas heat and automatic hot water are included.

Built near the new Pontiac Junior High School, these houses are being constructed on Madison, Mansfield, Tennyson and Arlene, west of North Perry street. The model is open for inspection seven days a week from 1:00 p. m.

Home Incinerators Reduce Fire Hazard

Home incinerators are reducing the number of fires caused by accumulated trash, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association finds.

* * *

Instead of sticking odds and ends that are no longer useful in the basement to get them out of the way, the man of the house now dumps them into the gas incinerator for immediate disposal, automatically ridding his home of a major fire hazard.

But primarily, GAMA says, homeowners buy gas incinerators for the convenience of getting rid of food waste any hour of the day or night, simply by pressing a button, and discover "plus" values as they go along.

* * *

For example, an incinerator eliminates the strain of carrying heavy cans to the curb and in the case of middle-aged or older people, may actually prevent serious injury.

Utility Room Is Handy

Newest demand of practical-minded housewives moving into new homes: the utility room. If surfaced with a handsome yet durable, scratchproof material like ceramic tile, the room can be used for storage, laundry, workshop, even a hobby room. It needn't be hidden, either; tiled surfaces will make it a pleasure to see and be in.

Trouble Boring Holes? —Employ Door Knobs

Using a door knob instead of a brace, when confronted by the need to bore a hole in a confined area, the craftsman can proceed without trouble.

Simply slip the knob on the shank of the bit and tighten the setscrew so that the bit can be turned by hand.

Another emergency method: Use a ratchet wrench that has a square hole of the proper size for the shank of the bit.

Places where eggs are kept should be held at a temperature of 50 to 60 degrees and have a 70 to 80 per cent humidity.

Would You Buy Diamonds from a Blacksmith?

OF COURSE NOT.

When you buy diamonds, you buy them from a jeweler, who is a gemologist. For you know your investment is safer when you deal with a jeweler than with a blacksmith . . . when it comes to diamonds.

WHEN

It comes to Real Estate, your investment is safer, too, when you deal with a Realtor.

WHY?

BECAUSE a Realtor is not only a real estate broker but is, in addition, a real estate broker who has QUALIFIED for acceptance in the professional organization of real estate brokers known as the National Association of Real Estate Boards.
He has qualified for acceptance because of his background, professional training, and experience. And, he has PLEDGED to be fair and ethical to both the buyer and seller. So when you deal with a Realtor, you have the assurance that you are dealing with someone well-qualified, who has your interests uppermost in his mind.

Decorative Fabrics Help Carry Out Color Accent

Decorative fabrics can pick up and complement wall and floor colors, as well as introduce that vital dash of spice—your color accent. But remember to keep your overall fabric scheme simple and dramatic.

Attractive slip covers can be made with fabric left from draperies, or from short lengths of decorative fabrics that you have picked up from time to time. Combinations of patterned fabrics and plain colors are often used in professionally upholstered pieces. You can use these same decorator ideas in your home sewing.

You can make your sofa look like a new sectional piece by using contrasting material on the arms and center panel. If your main pattern has a light background, use darker pieces for contrast and greater durability on wear areas.

Use the darker material on places that receive heavy wear. Plaids are best in wear areas because they show little dirt. Solid colored decorative fabrics that pick up the chief color of the patterned fabric are especially good around the sides to minimize the size of chair or sofa.

Head and arm rests used to be crocheted in Grandmother's day. You can tailor these of contrasting fabrics and bring this wonderful idea right up to date. These "slip-ons" help to keep chair and sofa arms and backs clean. Fit them tightly or stitch or snap them on. Use the "slip-ons" on the actual upholstery or add them to the slip covers. Seats and backs of chairs wear better, stay fresh-looking longer with these attractive additions. For patterned chairs, use the solid colors. These "slip-ons" gain in decorative values if contrasted with the actual piece of furniture on which they are used.

Fabric and color can be used to camouflage big, bulk pieces of furiture which are out of scale. Dark colors tend to make a piece appear smaller, while light colors add bulk and size. Patterned fabrics can be used to break up unattractive lines in your furniture.

Use slip covers to create definite periods for mongrel chairs, sofas and other pieces. They can hide bad leg construction and ornate carving, as well as correct bad lines. For an Early American appearance, select ruffled flounces and florals or plaid decorative fabrics.

For 18th Century pieces, choose trim box pleats, medium-to-large woven. Straight, box, inverted florals or stripes—either printed or rich colors, plain fabrics, concorners give a modern air. Use contrasting trim or stripes, repeating a color already used in a room.

Use slip covers whenever possible. They're smart decorating; they're very practical, especially if you have small children; they're clever camouflage when the color of your upholstery fights with the general theme. They also make possible frequent, yet inexpensive, changes in your decorative scheme.

Water Heater Models Differ

Hot water, plenty of it, at all times, makes all household tasks easier — makes for cleaner, healthier living.

New equipment for the modern home, such as electric dishwashers and automatic washing machines calls for even larger quantities of hot water.

Indirect water heaters in connection with automatically fired hot water and steam heating systems are fully able to meet the growing demand for hot water in American homes, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

The same boiler which supplies heat for the home also heats the domestic water, thus saving space and the cost of extra equipment. Tests conducted at the University of Illinois have shown that this is a very economical way to heat water.

There are two general types of indirect water heaters, the Bureau explains. The storage type heats water which is stored in a tank for use as needed during the day. All that is required are the copper coils, built into or connected to the heating boiler and immersed in the hot boiler water, a storage tank, and the piping between the storage tank and the heater.

The tankless type works on exactly the same principle. However, it has many more feet of copper coils than the storage type. The resulting longer travel of the domestic service water through this extra length of copper tubing enables it to be heated instantaneously as it is used in the home.

The Bureau emphasizes the fact that boiler water and domestic water are in separate circuits and never mix.

Home Builders Invite Russians to Visit U.S.

The National Association of Home Builders has invited the Soviet to send a group of Russian housing officials to the United States in October to inspect American homes modern construction techniques.

The invitation was extended the Russians on August 29, through Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zaroubin in Washington. He said the invitation has been discussed with and approved by the U. S. Department of State.

"It is the earnest hope of the home builders of the United States that the Russians will accept this invitation in the spirit in which it is extended," Earl Smith, NAHB head, said. "I am confident that a visit by Russian building officials would be equally profitable to both the American and Soviet peoples."

Women Invade Furniture Mart

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Women buy furniture, keep it clean and use it most, but traditionally, men sell it.

* * *

That is, they did until two pert San Francisco women decided to prove that there is no monopoly that can't be broken. They plunged into the masculine world that moves the nation's chairs, and sofas from the manufacturer to the retail store.

* * *

They launched Fontana & Pasero, a furniture manufacturer's representative firm, in the Western Merchandise Mart in San Francisco. Between market days, they tour northern California visiting buyers in department stores.

* * *

"After all," Mrs. Loretta Fontana points out, "it's the woman who is the final judge of what furniture sells to the customer; the husband only foots the bill. We decided our knowledge of what was acceptable was definitely saleable."

They're the only feminine firm in the furniture field in the western merchandise mart. They believe that their unique status holds in the other big furniture marts in the nation as well.

* * *

"But we did start out gently," Mrs. Fontana added. "We began a year and a half ago with lamps and cushions. We finally progressed and are now selling upholstered furniture and an early American line and have two showrooms here at the mart.

* * *

"Both of the furniture manufacturers we represent are doing 100 per cent more business today than they were a year ago when we took over in northern California."

Bolivia Is Three Times the Size of Montana

Bolivia, the fifth largest country in South America, has an area of 419,470 square miles, about three times the size of Montana.

Its population is estimated at more than 3,000,000. Bolivia's altiplano, or high plateau, with an average height of 12,000 feet above sea level, is one of the world's highest inhabited regions.

This area produces little food, but the minerals that are the country's chief export are found here.

The family was large and the house was small so the three boys had to share one room. The sleeping problem was solved by this modern version of the old-time trundle bed. This one differs importantly in that any boy regardless of his length could fit any one of the three beds as they take standard springs and mattresses, sold for twin beds.

This is a grand way to save floor space during the day and to provide for those overnight guests. All the various parts for the three beds may be cut with a hand saw. The pattern gives a cutting list of the number of each piece and the size, with illustrated assembling procedure. Copy of pattern 438 will be mailed for 25 cents. ## Bedroom Space Problem Solved

NEW YORK — This may be the era of the small bedroom — but there's a way of making them larger than their actual blueprint dimensions — thanks to new furniture designs.

* * *

The problem of bedroom space has been ingeniously met by furniture designers and manufacturers in a variety of ways. Scaling has been reduced, and pieces have been given a low axis to compensate for lower ceilings. Storage-space has been created in multi-purpose pieces whose good looks would never lead you to expect to find lingerie, underclothes and the like tucked away behind their facades.

A recent consumer survey of furniture preferences made by a leading trade paper in the home-furnishings field revealed that larger bed units, with built-in storage and even built-in night stands lead the field in popular-priced furniture.

* * *

One bedroom grouping has a generous-scaled headboard to "house" bookshelves and other needs, while "flush-fit" chests afford dresser needs for husband and wife. A corner desk, which slips into place between the chests, provides either desk or dressing table facilities.

* * *

The warm brown finish on sturdy rock maple makes it possible to use any color scheme—light or dark.

Wind Grabs Paper, Gives It to Officer

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP)—Could it be that the "long arm of the law" can influence the wind?

* * *

County Attorney Matt Walsh was holding some important papers and gestulating with that hand as he walked with a friend down a court house second floor hall.

Came a gust of wind. Swish—out a window went one of the papers. Walsh jumped to the window, leaned out, watched the paper sail and then zip through another window on the first floor.

* * *

There he found his paper — settled on the desk of chief deputy sheriff Wayne Moser.

Report 13 Crewmen Dead in B29 Crash

TOKYO (AP)—The U.S. Air Force said tonight there were apparently no survivors of the 13 crewmen missing in their B29 Superfort since Thursday night.

The Air Force said an unopened parachute found 80 miles south of Miyako Island belonged to the missing plane. Miyako is some 200 miles southwest of Okinawa.

Unopened rafts, oxygen bottles and flight box lunches were found Friday in the same area.

Air Force, Navy and civilian search units are fanned out over a 20,000-square-mile area. The plane was last heard from at 8 p.m. Thursday while on a routine run.

Home Mortgages Secured Readily by Sincere People

The supply of home mortgage credit, although a bit tighter than at the start of 1955, will be ample to finance a high level of building and buying through the remainder of the year, J. Howard Edgerton, president of the United States Savings and Loan League, said today.

* * *

Edgerton said prospective home buyers with moderate down payments and the ability to pay off their mortgages would experience little difficulty in obtaining home financing.

"There is plenty of mortgage money available," said Edgerton. "The only complaints come from those who seek to provide or achieve home ownership without a down payment requirement, or on mortgage terms that extend over an excessively long period of years."

He also expressed belief that the national administration was correct when it recently boosted down payments on FHA and GI loans by two per cent, and shortened the length of these mortgages from 30 to 25 years.

"These mild restrictions actually will serve to help American families who are planning to buy homes, since they will work against rising building costs and the higher housing prices that result," said Edgerton.

NOT BEST WAY

The league president pointed out that families do themselves no favor when they buy homes with no money down and on the longest possible terms.

"The smaller the down payment is, and the longer the term of the mortgage, the more the home buying family will have to pay in interest and the longer time will be required to build up an equity," he said.

By way of illustration, Edgerton pointed out that on a $10,000 mortgage loan, a home buyer with a 20-year loan would have paid off nearly $4,000 of the principal in ten years. In contrast, the buyer with a 30-year loan would have paid off little more than half that amount.

Edgerton also strongly urged families who are planning to buy homes this fall to secure home mortgages with a full "prepayment privilege." Under this plan, the borrower may pay as far ahead on his mortgage as he wishes.

* * *

"In these years, when prosperity is general and incomes are high, families will be well-advised to take advantage of the prepayment privilege," he declared. "This insures protection in future years when the family income may decline, because of illness or any of a variety of problems that can trouble a family."

Ottoman Return Revives Comfort

NEW YORK — Fashion spins her wheel — and once again we have the ottoman — full-sized, foam rubber soft and as comfortably relaxing as in "the good old days".

* * *

Placed in front of the comfortable lounge chairs which spot the market, the combination of easy-chair-and-ottoman results in a masculine version of a chaise lounge. Not to be overlooked, too, in the return of the ottoman, is its use as an extra seating piece anywhere about the house.

Typical of the new pieces is one combining a walnut frame with rattan crosspieces and plaid upholstery for eye-appealing comfort — even in sophisticated city surroundings.

Another is a large square of foam rubber with sturdy soil-resisting fabric set on a wrought iron frame. Leg tips feature gold anodized aluminum for additional distinction. For use with the ottomann, a companion lounge chair with overall generous cushioning, including the arms, re-emphasizes the clean "squared" feeling.

* * *

More "formal" ottomans, too, are available. One features a 43-inch-square piece, richly upholstered in tufted leather for grand comfort in the grand manner.

Scatter Rug Cleaning

Little scatter rugs are comparatively easy to wash at home, and the operation is made still simpler, and better, by using the vacuum cleaner beforehand. This rids each rug of its dust and dirt and makes the actual washing a far quicker and more pleasant operation.

Dust Off Plants, Too

Plants get dusty as well as furniture. Put them in the bathtub or the kitchen sink, if you have no porch, and turn on the sprayer attachment of the vacuum cleaner. It assures a gentle, even distribution of water and gives the plants added life and beauty.

National Homes Expand Here

National Homes Corp. of Lafayette, Ind., is planning to build 495 houses in the Pontiac area in the immediate future.

Johnson Construction Co. of Birmingham will be responsible for 48 houses on Union Lake road, a little over a mile north of Union Lake village. This 3-bedroom contemporary type home is called the Mayflower.

About a dozen homes are being built in the Lake Orion area by Cra-Min-Yan and offered for sale by Crawford Realty Company. They expect to build a total of 40 or 50 of these National Homes in the northern part of the county. Prices of their models range from $11,500 to $13,250.

Two hundred four acres on Joslyn road at Silverbell are to become the site of the largest development, built by the Avon Investment Co. of Birmingham. This will be known as Judah Lake Estates, and models will sell for $6,995 and $7,250.

This community will have a 23-acre recreational area of its own on Judah Lake. The Carpenter School is on the property, which means children have no highways to cross to get to school. Lots are 75x135, and the houses will be staggered to avoid the row look. Free black dirt and trees are offered to the owners.

Natural gas will be available, and there is a community water system, including fire hydrants.

Buyers have their choice of exterior color and two different floor plans. Built with three bedrooms, ample closet space and big kitchens, the houses can be added to easily. Screens and side drives are included in the purchase price. Additional features are optional.

These homes are located four miles north of Walton boulevard, out Joslyn road and are now open for inspection.

Helpful Suggestions to Forestall Fires

Because matches, smoking and misuse of electricity cause nearly 40 per cent of all fires of known origin, Construction Research Bureau specialists stress the importance of guarding against these hazards. Everyone should understand their potential danger at all times.

* * *

Do not put a smoldering cigarette into an open trash-can, or on upholstered furniture or onto a bed. Never smoke in bed. Keep all matches in fireproof boxes out of reach of young children.

Electric circuits are designed to carry certain maximum current loads. Blowing of a fuse signifies a circuit is overloaded or defective. Only fuses of the right amperage should be used for home circuits. Avoid overloading or tampering with them.

Heating equipment should be professionally inspected and cleaned once a year, or oftener. If the outside of a chimney feels too hot for comfort after several hours of use, it is not safe, and a professional heating engineer should be called in.

* * *

A spark arrester on top of the chimney will protect the roof against fires from sparks.

Rug-Beating, Brushing, Found to Be Harmful

You prolong the life of any floor covering when you keep it clean. But some of the attention given rugs and carpets is misguided, to say the least.

Beating a floor-covering is a brutal, ineffectual way to protect it. Threads in the base are broken, bindings are loosened, general harm is done.

Harsh brushing is the next worst way to attempt care for a carpet. It digs out fibers, loosens tufts.

Carpet authorities agree that using the vacuum cleaner regularly is the approved means for keeping rugs and carpets at their best. Vacuuming should be done every day in the heavily traveled areas.

Chair Arrangements Solve Party Problem

In a recent market one firm took five identical Danish lounge chairs of a generous size not ordinarily used for cocktail-table grouping, upholstered the five chairs in bright primary hues — wheat gold, Siamese red, tangerine, turquoise and amethyst — and arranged them around a large circular coffee table for complete and unusual comfort at cocktail time.

The table, sufficiently sizeable to hold enough of the "fixings" to eliminate repeated "serving trips" by the hostess, permits her the same relaxation as her guests.

Another unusual arrangement of chairs eliminates the traditional plan which placed two love-seats at right angles to a fireplace. Two occasional chairs at each side of the fireplace provide comfortable seating for four, while a large circular coffee table in front of the fireplace is within reach of all four guests.

Plants Enhance Scene

An appealing seating arrangement recently suggested, is possible with a trio of chairs—and a bay window with a view. The window, filled with growing plants is fronted by three lounge chairs which look outside onto the view for an inviting conversational corner.

See this amazing softener today.

2 Important Features Necessary in Bathroom

If you have a small but badly outdated bathroom which needs remodeling, your best bet for real improvement within certain budget limitations is to plan for the two most important features and forget other fancy ideas until later. The biggest single improvement you can make for the bath is to surface it with waterproof yet handsome ceramic tile. It will last forever, resist all stains and be as fresh and colorful generations hence.

The next important improvement is to plan for a division of bathroom functions. Install a separate shower stall; put the toilet in a compartmented area; build a small vanity table or circle your washbasin with a countertop. This way you'll increase the use of the bath.

Ike Says U.S. Wares-Cultural Show Garnering Friends Throughout World

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower today sent Congress a report saying America is winning friends throughout the world with a five million-dollar program showing off U.S. wares and cultural artists.

* * *

The report deals with this country's participation in international trade fairs in Europe and Japan, and with the appearance abroad of such American attractions as the Philadelphia orchestra, the New York City ballet, and the stage production "Oklahoma."

The summary, dispatched to Washington from the President's vacation headquarters here, covers activities for the period April 1 through June 30. It was prepared under direction of Theodore C. Streibert, chief of the United States Information Agency.

"This has been the most active period to date, not only in the number of projects presented but also in the creation of favorable climates of opinion throughout the world," the report says.

* * *

It was sent to the Senate and House Appropriations committees.

The new survey reports on 11 trade fairs — 10 in Europe and one in Japan — and notes that three others were held earlier in Europe and one in Thailand.

* * *

"Since the program started, some 2½ million people have visited U. S. exhibits in 15 fairs," the report says. "More than 25,000 trade inquiries by foreign businessmen have been made."

"Over 800 American firms have patriotically contributed their products for display at the U. S. government exhibits to demonstrate American industrial quality, progress and power."

* * *

The report adds that further benefit derived from the fairs "has been the direct contrast stimulated in the minds of the spectators between the nature of the goods produced in a free society and those produced under a totalitarian economy."

The report also speaks of warm receptions given to American cultural artists. An unnamed Japanese Cabinet minister is quoted as having said after a performance by the Symphony of the Air orchestra:

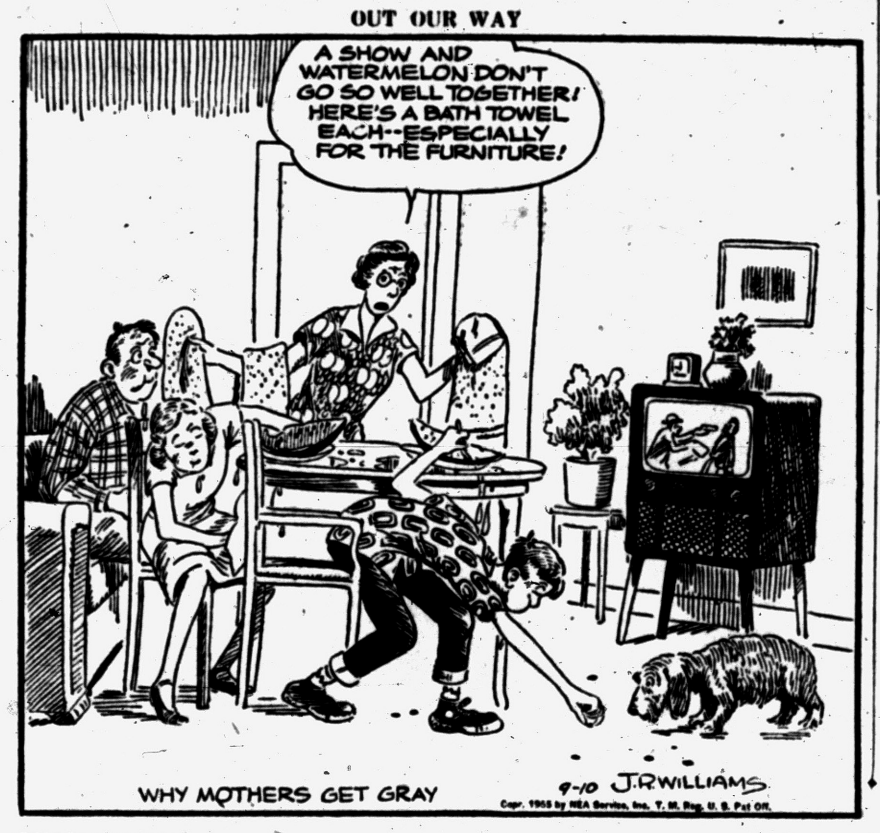

* * *

"If America were to withdraw all their security forces from Japan I am sure we would defend your orchestra to the last man."

PICKET PARENTS' PLANT—Leading a half-dozen pickets in front of a dry cleaning company at 6700 Dixie Hwy., Clarkston, are two sons of the owners, Orville R. Berg, 29, (left) and Robert E. Berg, 31, both of Drayton Plains. Behind them is F. C. Johnson, 54, of Waterford Township, former route manager.

Labor-Family Dispute

Sons Picketing Parents' Clarkston Cleaning Firm

Two sons are leading a group of pickets parading in front of their parents' Clarkston dry cleaning establishment.

The sons, Orville R. Berg, 29, and Robert E. Berg, 31, both of Drayton Plains, claim they and four other employes were fired for joining a union.

The parents, Jesse R. and Florence Opal Berg, say the six were not fired, that they quit. "We didn't even know they were members of the union," said Mrs. Berg, 45.

Signs bearing the wording "This Company Fired Drivers for Joining AF of L Teamsters Local 614" have been carried by the pickets in front of Berg Cleaners, 6700 Dixie Hwy., since Thursday.

"What they say on the cards is absolutely untrue, "said Mrs. Berg. "They quit last Friday." She said the men, five of whom are drivers, presented a handwritten list of wage-hike demands at that time. She termed the demands "sort of fantastic."

The five drivers said they joined the local Aug. 30. Robert, who operated the dry cleaning machinery and drives a taxi part-time, already was a member and joined the drivers in their wage demands. The men said they were fired when they presented a written request for the pay hike.

A temporary Circuit Court injunction has been issued against the pickets preventing them from interfering with business operations or customers. No hearing date has been set.

Worker Hospitalized After Knife Attack

After being attacked this morning by knife-wielding attacker, Richard Mitchell, 22, of 32 W. Fairmount Ave. was in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Hospital authorities reported that Mitchell, a Fisher Body employe, suffered extensive lacerations.

The injured told Pontiac Police detectives that he was attacked in the rear of a bar on Baldwin Avenue and that he did not know who the assailant was.

2 Injured Seriously in Head-On Crash

Two men were seriously injured in a head-on collision on Grand River in Novi Township just before midnight last night, Novi Township police reported.

One driver, William H. Dempsey, 35, of 2907 Welsh Rd., Walled Lake, was reported in poor condition at Pontiac General Hospital today with a broken leg and multiple internal injuries.

The second driver, Shirley B. Henry, 55, of Howell, is in the same hospital with multiple fractures. He was reported in fair condition.

According to witnesses, Dempsey swung into the center lane after coming upon an auto with defective tail lights in his own lane. Henry's auto was approaching in the center lane of the three-lane highway and the vehicles collided head-on.

Traffic was delayed for more than 45 minutes, according to Chief Lee BeGole.

Dead of Heart Attack

GAYLORD (AP)—Harold Jones, 56, of Wolverine, died Friday when he apparently suffered a heart attack and fell from his fishing boat into Grass Lake east of Vanderbilt.

Battle Creek Police Hunt Junkie's Killer

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—State Police sought the driver of a red convertible today for questioning in the fatal beating of a Battle Creek area junk dealer.

Troopers said the motorist was seen near a Bedford Township dump yesterday a short time before Jess Selman, 79, was found lying on the rubbish heap by Floyd Miller of Battle Creek.

Miller had stopped at the dump to look over some old tires. He heard Selman groaning and called police.

Selman died later in Battle Creek Community Hospital.

Police said he had been slugged on the head. A bloody wrench with corrugated paper wrapped around the handle was found at the scene.

Nearby residents said they saw the red car in the area and a tall, slim man in light colored clothing walking around the dump a few hours before Selman was found.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE OF our "Grandpa Johnston" whom we shall never forget.
Michael and Davy.

IN MEMORY OF GEORGINA C. Strickland who passed away 2 years ago today. Nothing but memories as we journey on, Longing for a smile from a loved one gone; None knows the depths of our deep regret, But we remember when other forget. Sadly missed by her husband, children and grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear father Nicholas Schabitz who passed away Sept. 10, 1940 and of my dear mother, Margaret, who joined him. July 28, 1955.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who lose can tell
The grief I bear in silence
For the ones I loved so well.
Someday, sometime, I shall see
Their faces I keep in memory.
Your loving daughter, Helene MacDonald.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

FUN IN THE BACKYARD—5
The Hammock

Here's a Junior Editor who likes to swing in the old hammock in his backyard. All his friends get a chance to swing. Five swings cost a penny. The same penny is passed back and forth so that everyone really gets a free turn.

This is how you can use the hammock. Paste down the picture on stiff paper and color it with crayons or paints. Be sure you color the front and back the same.

Fold the picture in half so the front and back match perfectly. Then cut out the center and the outside along the black lines and paste the halves together.

Put a piece of string through the holes at the ends of the hammock and hang it on a branch like the little picture in the center.

Just push a little and the Junior Editor in the hammock will swing.

Monday: The Three R's.

Lewis Drops Chordettes From Television Shows

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — The Chordettes were dropped from the Robert Q. Lewis TV shows and Lois Hunt and Earl Wrightson will limit their R. Q. L. appearances to twice a week.

The emphasis now will be on more jukebox stuff, with the search on for a young boy and girl singer.

The termination of the Chordettes - Lewis relationship was pleasant, with everyone sorry it had to end, no hard feelings.

Lower 15-Foot Boat From Third Story

NEW YORK (AP)—A piano mover cautiously lowered a 15-foot boat from a third-story window and maneuvered it to a safe landing on Seventh Ave., yesterday.

* * *

The "voyage" marked the end of 13 months of hard work for Kurt Adam, 45-year-old cabinet maker and New York University instructor.

He had labored on the plywood and fiberglas boat for that length of time, working with a $300 do-it-yourself kit. Sometimes, he said, he devoted as much as 50 hours a week and stayed at it until 4 a.m.

* * *

But tomorrow this labor will be forgotten. Adam will take the craft, called the "Puffin," on its maiden voyage in the East River. An outboard motor will provide the power.

Radford Office Refutes Chief

Admiral Says Defense Spending Cut but Aides Claim 'No Change'

DENVER (AP)—Despite an apparent slip of the tongue on figures by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, his office says no major change in defense spending now is planned.

* * *

Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, himself said as much yesterday after conferring with President Eisenhower. He created a bit of confusion, however, by mentioning a figure of $37,750,000,000 for the current basic military program. At another point he indicated to newsmen he expects the total to be between 34 and 35 billion.

* * *

To questions raised after Radford had departed, his office said the admiral meant what he said in stating no major change was in prospect.

After an hour-long conference with Eisenhower, Radford told newsmen that from a national security standpoint the United States "was never better off." He said he and the President discussed national security problems, including military spending.

* * *

His remarks on the security picture were in response to a request for comment on former President Truman's assertion that "the cuts in our ground forces are unjustified and most dangerous at this time."

Town Names Manager

WHITEHALL (AP) — John Edward Kane Jr., Whitehall businessman and Continental Motors Corp. employe, has been named city manager to succeed Howard Gwinnup, who resigned Aug. 24 after 10 years. Gwinnup had charged the Whitehall City Council with "lack of cooperation."

The End of Minnie End

HAILEY, Idaho (AP) — Minnie End paid a $25 fine for fishing without a license yesterday.

As she left the court she told Probate Judge John Wright:

"This is the end of Minnie End fishing without a license."

Russians Release 'Mystery Man,' Missing 8 Years

BERLIN (AP)—A German living in Hamburg today identified a "mystery man" released by the Soviets as his son, missing for eight years.

* * *

U.S. officials said they had received positive proof that the man, released as Frederick Charles Hopkins of New York, actually is Klaus Friedrich Glaubitz, 27.

The Soviets turned the man loose Monday with two American soldiers and insisted he was an American.

"Hopkins" contended, as soon as he was free, that he was "Glaubitz" and that the Russians simply would not believe him. They maintained he was an American spy, he said.

An Army spokesman said the returnee's father sent pictures and other proof of his son's identity here and indicated that the case is just about closed.

* * *

He probably will be turned over to German authorities in West Berlin and if there is no case pending against him he will be returned to Hamburg.

The returnee said he got drunk in Luebeck, West Germany, with an acquaintance who drugged him and turned him over to the Soviets July 13, 1947. He was questioned in the Soviet zone and was identified by the Russians as Hopkins, born in 1921 in Jersey City.

The two soldiers, released by the Soviets along with Hopkins-Glaubitz, are under arrest pending a decision on a court-martial. They were missing from their posts in Europe since 1948.

Peronistas Propose Civilian Militia Units

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's army minister has described the offer of the powerful General Confederation of Labor to serve as a civil militia as "generous."

* * *

The minister, Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero, said yesterday the government would consider calling out the confederation's members in times of crisis.

The CGT had announced it was offering its six million members to the army as a civil militia to be "utilized in defense of law, the constitution and constituted authorities."

* * *

The labor organization was developed by President Juan D. Peron and forms a major basis of his strength. The offer appeared to be a move by the CGT to gain political ground. The army played the key role in putting down a revolt against Peron's regime June 16.
