Old-Man-Weather Still Scowling

AUTO SNOW MAN — Owner of this automobile (in Eugene, Ore.) merely turned on his windshield wipers and swiped his hand across the hood to create this startling piece of snow sculpture. With winter battering most of the nation, the expression is appropriate.

The Weatherman—He's Working Hard

Maybe winter is half over, according to the calendar, but we don't think the weatherman is half trying to improve things.

Take tonight's forecast, for instance: 2 to 8 degrees, rather windy, snow flurries! Getting rather tiresome, isn't it! Last night the mercury dropped to 11. The forecasters admit it just might get up to 20 Sunday, but drop again Sunday night. With more snow flurries!

At 2 p.m. today the mercury registered 20.

Other areas are faring even worse. Biting cold numbed vast sections in the western three quarters of the country today. A mass of arctic air sent temperatures tumbling below zero.

The belt extended from Idaho to Lake Michigan and southward through Nebraska and Iowa.

Montana was the hardest hit. Temperatures dropped into the 40 below range in some areas. The Weather Bureau said no immediate relief was in sight.

The cold air continued its southeastward movement from the plains and temperatures were lower through the Ohio Valley.

The frigid air headed eastward and was expected to cover all but the extreme southeast section of the country by tonight.

Southeastern Texas and the far Southwest missed the icy air, with temperatures in the 40s. Northern visitors to Miami (the lucky dogs) enjoyed 69-degree weather today.

Advisory Committee for Oakland County Branch Meets at Bloomfield

Membership of the committee of Oakland and Macomb county citizens who will advise Michigan State University on the establishment of the proposed branch near Rochester was announced today to East Lansing by MSU President John A. Hannah.

The gift by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of their Meadow Brook Estate and a $2,000,000 cash endowment to establish the branch was accepted officially yesterday by the governing board of Michigan State.

The committee members were nominated by a steering committee named Jan. 3 when the gift was announced. Roger Kyes, Bloomfield Hills, vice president of General Motors Corp. and former deputy secretary of defense, served as chairman of the selection committee.

Other members were Mrs. Wilson, Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press, and J. Robert F. Swanson, Bloomfield Hills architect and chairman of the Oakland County Planning Commission.

"We are gratified by the response of Oakland and Macomb County people to our suggestion that they take an active part in the planning of this branch operation," President Hannah commented. "The very caliber of those who have consented to serve in an advisory capacity insures the local cooperation and support without which this project could not possibly succeed."

The new advisory committee met for luncheon at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club today to organize and to discuss the procedure

Russian's View Proves Him Not Well-Read Red

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, former Hungarian Minister of Finance now on a southwestern speaking tour, tells this story of a visit to Moscow:

While waiting for a Kremlin meeting to begin, Nyaradi took an American newspaper from his briefcase and began reading.

"Ha!" exclaimed the Russian after a few minutes of silence, "just what we always suspected would happen in capitalistic America!"

Nyaradi said he glanced at the banner headline to which the Russian was pointing. It read: "Indians murder Senators!"

Collision Kills City Trucker

Dies After Accident With Loaded Haulaway in Northern Illinois

A Pontiac man was killed early yesterday when his loaded haulaway collided with a cattle truck at the intersection of Route 116 and U.S. 45 near the northern Illinois city of Watseka.

Dead is Frank Horak, 34, of 451 Third St. The other driver, Sherman Lawler, 26, of Springfield, Mo., was injured. Thirty-nine of the 127 calves aboard Lawler's truck were killed.

Horak, employed by the Motor Car Transport Co., was enroute to St. Louis with a load of four new Pontiacs aboard his haulaway, a company official said. He left for the trip at noon Thursday. The accident ccurred at 3 a.m. Friday.

Born in New York, Horak worked in his native state until 1948 when he moved to Ohio. He drove buses in New York and worked for an Ohio transport trucking company before coming to Pontiac more than three years ago.

Funeral services will take place at 2 p.m. Monday at the A. H. Peters Funeral Home, 12057 Gratiot Ave., Detroit. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery. Horak's sole survivor is his wife, Betty Jane.

Crucial Debate Looms on Suez Problems

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — U.N. diplomats moved today into a weekend of intense behind-the-scenes maneuvers in preparation for a crucial debate on the explosive Middle East dispute.

The debate is to start Monday in the 80-nation General Assembly. The key point will be Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's 3,500-word report on Israel's delay in pulling her invasion forces back of the 1949 Palestine armistice line.

Israeli sources said Hammarskjold's report was not clear enough and declared it gave a legal approach to a political problem.

Hammarskjold informed the Assembly yesterday Israel has not fully complied with five resolutions calling for withdrawal of its forces.

He added that numerous political and legal barriers prevent the U. N. from accepting Israel's conditions for a complete pull back.

WANTS GUARANTEES

Israel still holds two areas seized in the October-November invasion, the Gaza Strip and the Sharm El Sheikh sector on the Gulf of Aqaba. Israel insists it must have firm guarantees that its interests will be protected before quitting those areas.

Sharm El Sheikh guards the Gulf of Aqaba, Israel's link with the Red Sea. Prior to the recent invasion, Egyptian guns had kept Israeli shipping out of the area.

The Gaza Strip on the Mediterranean was controlled by Egypt after the 1948 Palestine War. Is-

Air-Sea Force Returns to Scan Collision Area

3 Rescued Yesterday; Lansing Man One of 3 Not Accounted For

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An air-sea search force was ordered back to island-studded Caribbean waters south of Cuba today in quest of three fliers missing after a training-flight collision of B47 bombing planes.

Earlier rescue of three other bomber crewmen kept hope alive for finding Maj. William E. Norris, 41, of Lansing, Mich., Capt. James H. Parker, 35, of Rock Hill, S. C., and Lt. Earl Chrisawm Jr., 26, of Sumter, S. C.

The search planes and ships were augmented by a ground party organized to investigate reports of wreckage on Isle of Pines, off Cuba's western tip.

Navy divers were to probe what looked like sunken wreckage near Islas de Mangres, near Isle of Pines.

It was on and around Islas de Mangres that Air Force Reserve fliers, based 325 miles northeast in Miami, rescued Maj. James M. McFarland Jr., 37, of Watsontown Pa., Maj. Winfred E. Lynn, 33, of Paducah, Ky., and Lt. James E. Rose Jr., 28, of Dallas, Tex., yesterday.

THREE HOSPITALIZED

McFarland, Lynn and Rose, hospitalized at Key West for shock, were interviewed by Air Force officials who are investigating the collision of the two stratojet bombers which were part of a group executing a mass refueling exercise over Isle of Pines Thursday night.

No information obtained from the rescued men was disclosed at once.

Air Force Reserve Capts. Jack T. Woodyard and M. L. McCurry reported that Rose cried, "Boy, am I glad to see you guys!" when he paddled a liferaft to an amphibian plane which rescued him.

Woodyard said his and McCurry's amphibians spotted the men after noticing mirror signals, an "SOS" trampled on a beach, and Rose waving his arms on a raft surrounded by a dye the downed flier had spread on the sea.

Five Serve 550,000

Area Judges Face Burden of Over-Crowded Dockets

By PETE LOCHBILER

Comparison shows that Oakland County Judges are shouldering a big burden—a bigger burden, at least, than carried by their brother-jurists in populous neighboring counties.

It's an ever-increasing burden that has led to the clamor for more circuit and probate judges to serve Oakland County needs.

A comparison of the number of county judges and the total population they serve gives an idea of the case load each judge has. In Oakland County, such a comparison shows the judges are burdened, if not really over-burdened.

The four circuit judges and one probate judge serve an estimated population of 550,000. This is a conservative estimate.

It means that each circuit judge has about 137,000 people to worry about, including adults and children. The probate judge serves the whole 550,000.

Right now the circuit judges are just about holding their own. That is, by the end of last year there weren't many more cases pending than were started during the year.

It is believed though, that by this fall the backlog of cases will start building up.

BETTER IN MACOMB

A third Macomb County circuit judge was added Jan. 1, and a fourth circuit judge will be added June 1 in Genesee County.

★ ★ ★

This means there are now three circuit judges to serve Macomb's estimated 280,000 population and there will be four to serve Genesee's 325,000.

That's one Macomb judge for

Fishermen Pull Boy From River After Ice Breaks

DETROIT (AP)—Quick-thinking by two 16-year-old boys rescued a seven-year-old from the icy waters of the Detroit River yesterday, after a game that could be called "thin ice."

The winner or victim of the Smith, who, with other young boys, was playing a game to see which one could walk the farthest on ice toward the river's center.

As the lightest, Marvin made it to within three feet of the place where the ice gave way to open water. Then the ice broke dunking him. He couldn't get back on the ice shelf.

Jesse Smith and Dan Chalou were ice fishing nearby. They chased the younger boys back and unsuccessfully tried to extend a wooden plank to Marvin.

Finally Jesse ran 150 feet back to the river bank and sliced off 50 feet of mooring line from a boat harbor.

Marvin just managed to grab the rope as his head went under water. The older boys pulled him to safety. He was taken to a hospital for treatment. Jesse and Marvin, both Smiths, are no relations.

Some 25 to Compete

Pick 3 'Queens' Tonight

Some 25 of the county's prettiest young ladies will step daintily across the Elks Temple's main ballroom in evening gowns tonight to vie for a place among the finalists who will reign over the 1957 Auto Show.

Of the three whom the judges pick as finalists, one will eventually be "Miss 1957 Auto Show," royal claimant to all that nine local auto dealers can bestow in the way of honors.

The judging will take place during intermission at the Elks Club's monthly dance, according to Richard Moore, manager of the Feb. 1-3 exhibits of 1957 automobiles.

Judges will be Fred Ziem, Oakland County prosecutor; Howard Powers, president of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce; and Mrs. Lyda Ryan of Birmingham, official chaperone.

Moore said this morning that about 25 residents of the county became candidates by turning in entries before yesterday's deadline.

The winner will be crowned "Miss 1957 Auto Show" Feb. 3 when she will be picked from the three finalists. Among her awards will be a $100 defense bond from the Community National Bank.

Missing Co-Ed Sought by Police

Pretty U. of M. Student Vanishes From Campus Without Explanation

ANN ARBOR (INS)—Ann Arbor police have entered the search for a pretty co-ed who disappeared from the University of Michigan campus a week ago.

She is Barbara Agler, 20, of Susquehanna, Pa., a junior in the college of literature, science and the arts.

Miss Agler roomed alone in a private home in Ann Arbor. She disappeared the night of Friday, Jan. 18.

Her landlady notified University authorities on Monday and they began a "confidential investigation" of their own, which resulted in informing her parents of her disappearance. Her father appealed to city police last night.

Police Sgt. Claude Damron said the girl left no note, and obviously had left in haste, taking with her only a few possessions. He expressed a theory that, although considered a capable student, she had run away to avoid term examaminations held this week.

★ ★ ★

Damron said her room also disclosed correspondence with students in Dudley, Mass., Binghamton, N.Y., and the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. There was also an application for admission to the University of Maryland, College Park.

FBI Turns Efficiency Against Espionage Agents

By DON WHITEHEAD

Ninety-one persons were convicted of spying against the United States from 1938 to 1945. And the shame of it was that 64 of them were American citizens betraying their own country.

The greater number worked for the Hitler government because of loyalty to Germany. A few others were mere adventurers.

A few were recruited by threats of death or injury to loved ones held by the Nazis. A few became enemy agents because they saw a way to easy money.

The Nazis tried desperately to establish an espionage and sabotage apparatus in the United States to equal the spy ring organized before World War I. But this time the FBI was alert to the threat.

★ ★ ★

One enemy agent was caught with a box of ordinary-looking safety matches. Most of the matches were just that, but four of them turned out to be tiny pencils which wrote invisibly.

Messages were sealed into fountain pens whose barrels had to be broken to extract the note. Codes were concealed in books and magazines by minute pin pricks through certain letters.

★ ★ ★

But one of the FBI's most exciting achievements was in uncovering the Nazi secret of the micro-dots, perhaps the cleverest espionage weapon of World War II.

Early in 1940 the FBI received a tip from a double agent that the Germans were developing a new method for slipping information from Allied countries.

★ ★ ★

The agent said the method had something to do with a new photographic process in which full-page messages would be transmitted on dots no bigger than the head of a pin.

In fact he had been shown one under a microscope at espionage school and told to watch for these dots in the messages he would receive. But he could give no further information.

Then a young Balkan arrived in New York City from South America. He checked into his hotel and didn't appear surprised when he found two FBI agents waiting in his room.

Even though recruited by the Germans as an espionage agent, it can now be revealed that he was working for the FBI.

"Did you bring them?" an agent asked.

★ ★ ★

The young man pulled from his pocket four blank telegraph messages. The papers were sent to the FBI Laboratory in Washington and under a fluorescent lamp a laboratory technician saw tiny black dots embedded in the paper.

He pried one of them loose; it was a dot no bigger than the period at the end of this sentence.

FINDS MESSAGE

Under a microscope that enlarged the tiny object 200 times, the technician saw a full-page message reproduced. He pried other "periods" loose from the papers and found all of them were messages reduced to midget size.

This was the secret of the dots, a triumph in photography.

★ ★ ★

Discovery of the micro-dot secret opened a door through which the FBI got onto the trail of espionage agents and their confederates, a trail that led through the United

Mideast Policy to Be Scanned

Sen. Fulbright Predicts an Inquiry Will Follow Economic Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said today he believes a Senate review of administration Middle East policy will follow congressional action on President Eisenhower's military-economic proposals for that area.

★ ★ ★

Fulbright conceded, in an interview, that he does not have sufficient votes to defer action on the Eisenhower resolution, now the subject of hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees.

"But I think the inquiry will be approved," he said.

Fulbright said he would seek approval for the policy review Monday when the two committees meet in closed session to continue their questioning of Secretary of State Dulles. Dulles is opposed to any such review on grounds it would harm U. S. relations with the British and French.

Again and again, Dulles has urged the committees not to "bog down" consideration of the Middle East resolution wth details that he said might "destroy its usefulness."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) said he would resist any effort to start a general policy study until after Congress acts on the resolution.

The Senate hearing was in recess today, but the House Foreign Affairs Committee arranged to meet behind closed doors to try to finish work on its report on the Eisenhower resolution.

Buses to Resume Perry Park Run on Trial Basis

Pontiac City Lines Inc. will add buses beginning Monday to serve residents of the Perry Park Subdivision on the city's east side.

The service will be for a two-week trial period, according to E. W. Dreasher, transportation superintendent. "Sufficient patronage by the public in this area during this two-week period will enable these additional trips to be established as permanent service," he said.

On weekdays the runs will be from 5:15 a.m. until 5:55 p.m. On Saturdays they will be from 7:45 a.m. until 6:20 p.m. The trips will be available from 8:20 a.m. until 8:50 p.m. on Sundays.

City Manager Walter K. Willman told the City Commission the company agreed to restore the service after dropping it because of lack of patronage.

World-Wide Art of Children Exhibit to Be in City Schools

Pontiac Press Photo

ON DISPLAY — Pontiac Elementary Schools are participating in "Art for World Friendship," and pupils will view 60 pieces of art created by youngsters from all over the world. Here Miss Yolanda Grimaldi shows some of the pictures which will circulate through the schools.

"In hearts too young for enmity, there lies the hope to make men free," is the theme of a group which is seeking to teach children of all nations how to live together peacefully.

The Pontiac Elementary Schools will participate in this new venture called Art for World Friendship, says Yolanda Grimaldi, elementary art consultant for the Pontiac Schools.

Now on display at the Pontiac Board of Education office and soon to be circulated in the 23 elementary schools in the system are 60 pieces of art drawn by children between five and 15 from countries all over the world.

These pictures show the lives, the clothing, the land, the customs, the sports and the feeling of color and art that are found in every country represented—all in pictures drawn by children.

Pontiac school children in participating in the project, will submit pieces of their art work which reflect their individual lives and ideas. They will be sent to a foreign country and in return the children will receive pictures drawn by new friends in some different land.

CLOSER TIES

"Through this project which is now world-wide, we hope to build an understanding among children by bringing them closer to each other through art, regardless of their countries," Miss Grimaldi said.

The pictures themselves come from Greece, South Africa, Ceylon, England, Ireland, Germany, Australia, Poland, Korea, India, Japan, Formosa, Mexico, Alaska and the South American countries.

★ ★ ★

They're signed with names such as Maureen O'Brien, Mahameo I'asky, Janina Piotrowski, Pansy Yone, Zbyszek Siestrzencewicz, and Maria de Jesus Carvajal Gomez.

They show the brown earthiness of the Irish farmer planting his potatoes, the flamboyant colors of Mexican flowers and even some modern skyscraper-type abstractions from our own United States.

These are the pictures which will be on display in the schools. These are the pictures that will bring every country and every school child just a little bit closer together.

★ ★ ★

The schedule for schools receiving the art exhibits follows: Whitfield and Bethune, Jan. 28-29; Webster and Bagley, Jan. 30-Feb. 1; Crofoot and Whittier, Feb. 4-5; Bailey, Feb. 6; Wilson, Feb. 6-7; Wisner, Feb. 7-8; McConnell, Feb. 8-11; Hawthorne, Feb. 11-12; Central, Feb. 12-13; Wever Feb. 13-14; Baldwin, Feb. 14-15; Malkin, Feb. 15-18; McCarroll, Feb. 18-19; Owen, Feb. 19-20; Mark Twain, Feb. 20-21; Emerson, Feb. 21-22; Longfellow, Feb. 22-25; LeBaron, Feb. 25-26; Willis, Feb. 26-27 and Will Rogers, Feb. 28-March 1.

Tourists Given Look at Defendants

Public Interest Feverish in Italy's 'Drugs, Sex' Trial

VENICE (INS)—Some time next week the judges hearing the Wilma Montesi "drugs and sex" trial will visit the lonely stretch of beach where the one-time party-girl's body was washed ashore nearly four years ago.

From the beach at Tor Vajanica, where Wilma's nude body was found, the judges are expected to go to self-styled Marquis Ugo Montagna's nearby hunting lodge, scene of many an alleged orgy.

★ ★ ★

First, however, the judges must complete their preliminary examination of a dozen defendants in the case, including Montagna, a former chief of police of Rome, and Piero Piccioni, Jazz-composing son of the Italian delegate to the United Nations.

Although the examination of the minor defendants is beginning to get tedious, public interest in what has been called Italy's "trial of the century" continues to mount.

Every day the court room is jammed and outside on "Insurance Street," where Venetians centuries ago used to insure ships against pirates, a radio truck transmits an estimated half-million words daily to the world's press.

PEEK AT DEFENDENTS

Tourist guides, drumming up a bit of slack season business, include a peek at the trial along with visits to the Doges' Palace and St. Mark's Square. They also point out the principals in the trial, such as Montagna, who every morning now prays at the Church of the Saviour before taking his seat in the courtrooms' "accused row."

★ ★ ★

Center of interest continues to be Piccioni, who has been charged with manslaughter for allegedly throwing Wilma's body in the Mediterranean when she succumbed to an overdose of narcotics at a party.

Piccioni was met outside the courtroom Thursday by French movie star Francoise Arnoul, who is in Venice shooting a murder mystery entitled, "Does One Ever Know?"

Position of Kashmir Ignites Pakistan Unit

HYDERABAD, West Pakistan (AP) —Twenty thousand Pakistanis demonstrated today against integration of Indian-held Kashmir into India. They hurled stones at the offices of the Indian assistant high commissioner, breaking windows.

The U. N. Security Council called again on the two countries Thursday to permit Kashmir's 4½ million people to decide their own future in a plebiscite. Pakistan had asked that a U. N. police force be sent to Kashmir to hold the plebiscite. India rejected the idea, declaring that Kashmir has been in the Indian Union since 1947.

Six-Year-Old Injured When Hit on Oakland

A six-year-old girl was injured yesterday when she was struck by a car near her home on Oakland Ave., near Blaine Ave.

Laura May Straugh, of 743 Blaine Ave., is reported in good condition today by Pontiac General Hospital.

Driver of the automobile, Jack Swartzbaugh, 22, of 5240 Pine Knob Rd., Clarkston, told police he was attempting to pass a car that was stopped in the center lane on Oakland Ave. when he struck the little girl.

"The car was stopped and I thought it was going to make a left turn," said Swartzbaugh. "As I started to pass him on the right the little girl ran out from in front of the car. I tried to swerve, but she ran right into me."

Toy Trucks and Tears!

COVINA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Strong found out where her son, Richard, 2, put those toys she told him to pick up the other day. It all came clear in a flash when she turned on the oven to cook dinner and clouds of smoke came billowing from the broiler. Richard took one look at the bubbling plastic pool that was his collection of boats, cars, trucks and guns and burst into tears.

Woman Suffers Cuts in Two-Car Collision

A young woman was injured in a collision last night when she was thrown from the car in which she was riding on Auburn Ave. at Paddock St.

Helen Gilbert, 28, of 1334 Mt. Clemens St., was treated and released from St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital for lacerations of her head and right shoulder.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Elva Wyzgoski, 25, of 56 McKinney St., who told police she "didn't see the other car in time to avoid the accident."

Driver of the other automobile was Joseph E. Alexander, 29, of 139 Howard St.

Car Sinks Through Ice, but Youths Escape

Three Utica youths escaped death yesterday when they leaped from their car just before it broke through ice on Anchor Bay and sank.

Police said Walter Sinsuskas, 16; Ronald Randazo, 17; and Patrick Sexton, 18, were spinning the car on the ice when it struck a soft spot.

Grimes Case 'Confession' Now Allegedly Denied

CHICAGO (INS) — Capt. Walter Fleming of the Cook county sheriff's police said today Bennie Bedwell, skid row dishwasher, admitted being with the Grimes sisters before they were murdered—and then denied the story.

The development followed a series of denials by the 21-year-old Bedwell that he ever knew the teen-aged Chicago sisters whose nude bodies were found Tuesday near suburban Willow Springs.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Fleming said Bedwell under several days' questioning finally agreed he toured skid row taverns with barbara Grimes, 15, and her 13-year-old sister, Patricia who had disappeared from home Dec. 28. Fleming said:

"Bennie confessed that he slapped the girls around. He said that when he left the girls were alive.

"After making the confession, Bennie repudiated it and insisted he knew nothing of the killings."

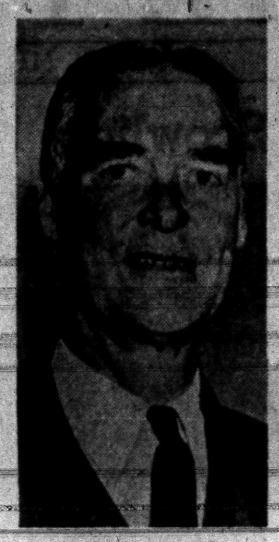

Bennie has repeatedly insisted he and another man went out drinking with two young girls but that they were not the Grimes sisters.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, a 19-year-old Grand Rapids, Mich., girl has told police she was with Bedwell during the time he was identified as having been with the sisters.

The girl, Irene Dean, said yesterday she and a 19-year-old girl and another man toured skid row bars, restaurants and a movie with Bedwell around Dec. 29 or 30.

Police sought the other girl, identified as "Carol King," as well as the male companion.

CHRISTIAN A. HERTER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has formally nominated Christian A. Herter, former Republican governor of Massachusetts, to be undersecretary of state.

Herter previously had been named as the choice for the job and has been in training at the State Department for weeks. He will succeed Herbert Hoover Jr. who has resigned.

Area Judges Face Crowded Dockets

every 93,300 people and one Genesee judge for every 81,250. Right now, with three men on the Circuit bench, the Genesee figure is one judge for every 108,000.

Even without a fourth circuit judge, the Genesee ratio is better than Oakland's one judge for every 137,000 people.

Oakland County emerges worse in a comparison of the load carried by probate judges. Although Macomb and Genesee have similar populations, both counties have two probate judges.

★ ★ ★

They serve 140,000 people each in Macomb and about 162,000 in Genesee County.

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore's Oakland County load is staggering in comparison.

SIMILAR IN WAYNE

A glance south to Wayne County shows a different picture. There are 20 circuit judges regularly at work, 18 elected plus two who are usually visiting.

Estimating the population at 2,770,000, there is one judge for every 138,500 persons, a ratio practically the same as here.

There are six probate judges, each serving about 453,300 persons. This is less than the Oakland County probate load.

Proponents for more Oakland judges have another point to press—the booming population.

Oakland County's has swelled to between a half to two-thirds again as much as it was in the 1950 census. The trend is continuing full force.

Gorwth during the same period in Macomb County, however, has brought today's population up to slightly less than half again as much as 1950's. In Genesee County there has been a one-fifth increase.

Wayne County has gained only about 250,000 in the past six years.

This could mean more judges are going to be needed here sooner than in the other counties. Advocates for more judges say it does mean that.

96,000 at Auto Show

DETROIT (INS)—Attendance at the 44th annual Detroit auto show reached 96,000 yesterday—surpassing the record for last year's entire run. The day's attendance was 12,283.

Other department heads are Earl Boyt, Sunday School; Wayne Foore, Youth; and Mrs. Hazen Jones, Missionary Society.

India Marks 7th Birthday

Zhukov Views Parade as Nation Celebrates Its Independence

NEW DELHI (AP) — India celebrated its seven years as a republic today with fireworks, pageantry and a display of armed forces.

Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov reviewed a two-hour parade with Prime Minister Nehru. But Nehru paid little attention to his guest except for the actual period while the colorful floats, turbaned lancers, American-made tanks and other parade units went past.

Zhukov arrived Thursday to represent the Soviet Union at the Republic Day celebration. Indian officials have played down any political aspects of the visit.

Other parade guests included Lady Mountbatten, wife of Britain's last viceroy in India, and former U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles.

The parade wound through seven miles of old and New Delhi, lined by hundreds of thousands of Indians, including many who walked long distances to see the show.

Were Fares 'Fair' Sex? Hardly So, Thinks Cabbie

DENVER (AP)—Robert Rich, 37, tried to stop a fight between two women in his taxicab. One of them, he said, bit off part of his right ear.

Rich picked up his militant fares early at a tavern. The battle broke out as Rich drove toward a residential district.

When he stopped his cab and ordered the women out, one grabbed him and the other bit him, he said. Then they got out and hurried away. Rich drove to a hospital.

Big Debate Shaping on Suez Questions

rael repeatedly has charged it was used as a base for Arab commando raids into Israeli territory.

★ ★ ★

Israel was said to feel that Hammarskjold's report harks back to the 1949 armistice, which Israel considers a failure and no solution to the problem.

The Israelis also were said to feel that the right of navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba is not an armistice question, but one of preventing belligerency.

Britain and the United States described the report as constructive.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, these three main plans were being worked over for the next round of debate:

1. The Western sponsored resolution to give Hammarskjold greater authority to deploy the U. N. emergency forces in Egypt and give the force itself greater scope, including duties of the old Palestine truce supervision organization.

2. An Asian-African demand that stiff economic penalties be clamped on Israel.

3. A move by a group of neutrals to form a sort of "third force" in an effort to solve Arab-Israeli differences. There were no details on this plan.

Brazil's constitution forbids any war of aggression.

Your Income Tax

IT'S CAPITAL!

If you sell your personal residence, car, furniture, real estate or any other kind of property at a profit this must be reported on your tax return. Generally, such sales are considered capital gains — and if held in excess of six months — only half of the profit is subject to tax.

Losses on property such as your home or any other asset that was not held for the purpose of producing income are not deductible.

If you fail to collect a personal loan which was made with a true expectation of collecting, the loss is a short-term capital loss. Loans to close relatives which are really in the nature of gifts are not deductible.

If your personal residence was sold at a profit, it is possible the gain will not be subject to tax if certain requirements are met. Use the Schedule D for reporting capital transactions.

Further information on income tax problems is available, without cost, to taxpayers at the Internal Revenue Service office, 631½ West Huron St. Phone FE 3-0200.

Jury Sent Home in Kidnaping Case

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The long deadlocked Latham kidnaping jury was dismissed late yesterday and two accused women, one weeping, were led back to jail.

Superior Judge John A. Hewicker told the jury he did not know whether Mrs. Beatrice Winn, 57, and Mrs. Lucille Whisenand, 36, would be tried again.

The jury had spent 71 hours in actual deliberation, over a period of 9 days.

It reported it was deadlocked 7 to 5 on all counts — that the two women kidnaped Mrs. Ruth E. Latham, 52; attempted to murder her, robbed her and burglarized her home.

Mrs. Latham, wife of wealthy George Latham, 56, who specializes in investments in real estate trust deeds, testified that the two women kidnaped her Sept. 12, bound her and buried her alive under rocks in a desert.

Successful as She Is, Julie Frets About TV

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Lucky me—I had a date with Julie Andrews.

★ ★ ★

'Twas in her Broadway dressing room that the pretty 21-year-old star of "My Fair Lady" relaxed in a three-quarter length white nylon housecoat, gazed across the teatable and the cookie jar.

★ ★ ★

Quietly modest about her success, she ducks the limelight. Julie's a little terrified about her "Cinderella" TVer because, as she says, "More people will see me that night on television than a whole year in 'Fair Lady.'"

JULIE

★ ★ ★

"But you don't worry about it?" I asked.

"It sounds a bit schmaltzy, but I do. I'm going into a monastic sort of life to get ready for it. That means getting straight to bed every night, to get 9 or 10 hours of sleep."

★ ★ ★

"You haven't sent your boy friend back to England?"

"Send him back! That's a dreadful thought. Oh, he's pretty strict with me."

Julie and her English beau, Tony Walton, are wild young people whose dissipations include having a "Windsor Delight," a banana concoction embellished with three scoops of ice cream, at the Windsor Drug Store around 12:30 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Nobody knows better how much Julie has grown up than Lou Wilson who first saw her impress London critics with her perfect pitch when she was 12. Seven years later when she came here in "The Boy Friend," he went to the airport to meet her.

"I was looking down at the ground for the girl of 12 I'd remembered," he says. "I suddenly look up and——"

★ ★ ★

Five-foot-seven Julie will have a vacation from "Fair Lady" before long. Back to England maybe?

"I don't want to sound calloused, but there would be so many relatives to see," she said. "I've never had a holiday in the sun. Maybe I'll go south and just travel around the islands."

Ike to Welcome Saud at Airport

Plans to Roll Out Carpet for Saudia Arabia King Next Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia will receive a "red carpet" welcome — including an airport greeting from President Eisenhower — when he arrives here next Wednesday for a three-day official visit.

★ ★ ★

For the first time, Eisenhower will greet a foreign visitor at the airport rather than on the White House steps.

Saud is scheduled to arrive in New York Tuesday, and will fly to Washington about noon Wednesday aboard the President's plane, Columbine III.

Eisenhower and Saud will start their first conference three hours later.

In addition to Eisenhower, the airport welcoming group will include several top officials, among them Secretary of State Dulles and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In addition to the Wednesday afternoon talks, Eisenhower will hold a stage dinner for the Arab King that night and will receive him again at the White House on Friday. Friday night, Saud will honor Eisenhower with a dinner at the Hotel Mayflower. No meetings between the two are scheduled for Thursday.

Meanwhile, a Washington rabbi today criticized Saud as a "foe of democracy and of free institutions."

In a prepared sermon, Rabbi David H. Pantiz told the Adas Israel Congregation that Saud has discriminated against Jews, and that he "is not among the peace-loving statesmen of today."

★ ★ ★

The rabbi added:

"We call upon President Eisenhower to make full use of Ibn Saud's visit to the United States for a full review of these matters and urge the President to apply his religious devotion to morality and principles of decency for the benefit of mankind."

Congress May Recess Should Tito Visit U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Communist President Tito of Yugoslavia visits the United States, despite mounting protests, Congress may arrange to be out of session to avoid inviting him to address it.

Customarily, when heads of foreign states visit Washington, Congress isses such speaking invitations to them.

But some leaders suggested today Congress might lengthen its customary Easter recess so it would be out of town while Tito is here.

Although there has been no official announcement, there have been indications from diplomatic quarters that Tito will visit the United States — as a guest of President Eisenhower — some time in April.

Area GOP Delegates Show Increase of 17

Oakland County Republicans will have 141 delegates at the state Republican convention next month, county chairman Chad Ritchie said today.

This is an increase of 17 delegates more than allowed the county during the 1954 spring campaign, Ritchie said. The increase, he explained, is due to the increased vote in the last general election.

★ ★ ★

At the county convention at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St., 65 delegates-at-large will be appointed. There are 76 delegates who will continue to serve two-year terms won in last fall's primary election.

The county delegation will attend the state convention Feb. 9 in Detroit, where a platform will be adopted and candidates nominated for the April 1 election.

Posts to be filled include state highway commissioner and state superintendent of public instruction. There will be two members of the University of Michigan Board of Regents selected, and two members of the State Board of Agriculture plus one member of the State Board of Education.

Nominations will be made for three justices of the State Supreme Court, who will run on the nonpartisan ballot.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — "Where's the key to the gasoline pump?" car 1 asked the radio desk at police headquarters. "Here in the desk," replied Sgt. Alan Fosmire. "Come in and get it." "That fellow," broke in Gloversville car 1, "will have to come a long way. He's broadcasting from Colorado." Experts blamed sunspots.

Soil Bank Plan Off to Good Start

"The 1956 participation in the Soil Bank indicated that in some cases whole farms are being put in the Conservation Reserve or into a combination of the Acreage Reserve and the Conservation Reserve. If this occurs on a voluntary basis, as under the present program, it is all to the good," Secretary of Agriculture stated on January 7.

Conservation Reserve is a long term program to cut back crop production in general by shifting land to conservation uses. The Acreage Reserve is a short term program to reduce surpluses of the six basic crops — wheat, cotton, corn, tobacco, peanuts and rice — by adjusting acreages below established allotments.

★ ★ ★

About 3,500 U. S. farmers have signed contracts putting all their eligible land into the Soil Bank for from three to 13 years in return for Government payments. These payments are $10 an acre and 80 per cent of the cost of putting that land under conservation cover. Washington hopes there will be a growing number of farmers who will do likewise instead of producing surplus crops.

★ ★ ★

Of the 17,100 Conservation Reserve contracts signed in 1956, about 2,540 or 15 per cent covered all eligible land on the farm. Preliminary 1957 figures show 935 or 21 per cent of the contracts are for all eligible land. Soil Bank officials expect that by the March 15 deadline, 35,000 whole farms may be returned from production.

Contracts for whole farms have been concentrated in the drought stricken areas of the Southwest and Southeast where farmers are converting from cotton to tobacco and forestry.

The maximum annual payment to a farmer is $5,000. Secretary Benson has authority to waive this limit for farms where all eligible land is in the Conservative Reserve but he has not yet been called upon to do so.

The main objetcive of the program is to reduce surpluses and the more tillable land taken out of production the less surplus. Secretary Benson is well pleased with the way the plan is working out.

Conflicting Views in the Middle East

At a recent meeting in Abkara four Baghdad Pact powers of the Middle East—Iran, Iraq, Turkey and Pakistan, endorsed the Eisenhower Doctrine.

They opposed Communist infiltration and called upon the United Nations to be responsible for peace between Israel and her Arab neighbors. These anti-Communist Moslem powers also favor "freedom of navigation in the Suez Canal" and want the U.N. to assume a continuing responsibility in the area.

★ ★ ★

At the same time a conference in Cairo among the rulers of Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Syria and Jordan rejected the Eisenhower Doctrine. They say they never would allow their countries "to become a sphere of influence for any foreign power and will follow a united Arab policy."

The Baghdad Powers, with better understanding, note that the Eisenhower plan is not designed to create spheres of influence nor to enslave the peoples of the Middle East.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia, leader of the pro-Arab bloc, arrives here son for a conference with President Eisenhower. Perhaps the conflicting viewpoints of the Moslem world may be reconciled. U.S. policy is to help these nations with economic aid so they can help themselves and resist all aggression.

GOP Hopes Rise

Lawmakers to Draw Up Uniform Party Policy

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—Republican lawmakers anxious to see their party pulled together into a cohesive unit that once again can win sweeping statewide victories are heartened by progress of recent weeks.

★ ★ ★

The road ahead is beset by many pitfalls, and they know it but still are genuinely hopeful.

An important bridge will be crossed in the unity movement next Tuesday when Republican Senate and House members, 84 strong, meet to organize their Legislative Policy Committee for the present session.

On the agenda are selection of a presiding officer for future policy committee meetings, or joint caucus, and of an executive committee to steer the effort.

★ ★ ★

There undoubtedly will be discussion about possible ways of solidifying the necessarily loose organization, perhaps through weekly or bi-weekly buffet suppers affording opportunities for strengthened individual social ties and at the same time for exchanging ideas on current legislative problems.

MAJOR PROBLEMS

And there is bound to be at least some talk on major issues, notably how to meet the rising tide of demand for more money for education and, if possible, avoid inflaming taxpayers as they do so.

★ ★ ★

The makeup of the executive committee will have a lot to do with the outcome of the ambitious project.

The ideal qualifications for members would be the wisdom of Solomon, the faith of Paul and the cunning of Judas Iscariot.

Such men will not readily be found.

In any event, to give the movement strength they must be acknowledged as leaders among their fellows, tactful in securing ultimate conformity with committee stands once taken and devoted to an image of their party that will attract a broad base of support statewide.

★ ★ ★

The Republicans, as in the past, have clear cut majorities in both Senate and House.

PARTY PROGRAM

If somehow they can be induced to agree on one specific legislative goal after another, enunciate them and prompty translate them into legislative acts, an unmistakeably Republican program will emerge from the session, one that presumably will be a marketable package to voters come election time.

★ ★ ★

At least some Republicans acknowledge that while their votes have produced popular governmental gains in recent years the public has tended to identify many of them as accomplishments of Democratic Gov. Williams.

If this is true, it has been at least partly because Republicans did not speak with one voice for these objectives—while the governor spoke clearly and often.

A great opportunity beckons in a Republican solution to the anticipated budgetary problems of the session, especially if this can be done while finding a way to keep from raising taxes.

It appears almost certain that the governor will call for new or higher taxes to make budget ends meet.

★ ★ ★

If he does so and the Republicans, especially through the processes of the Republican Legislative Policy Committee, can come up with another answer, it should endear the party to voters.

Only time will tell.

Days of All Faiths

Youth Week to Begin Tomorrow

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

From Jan. 27 to Feb. 3 is National Youth Week among the denominations of the National Council of Churches. The special objective of this week is to help Protestant teenagers in choosing their careers. Guidance experts point out that the variety of jobs offered today is the greatest in history, and the individual's problem of personal selection of his lifework is therefore more difficult than ever before. The U. S. Office of Education says more than 40,000 kinds of employment are listed today.

★ ★ ★

Theme for National Youth will be "Consider Your Call." Naturally, religious leaders hope many of the youngsters will be led to a choice of the Christian ministry or some other work directly connected with organized Christianity. But they also hope the young people will see all work as potentially a kind of Christian ministry. They say, "Every job through which a man can contribute something to the world in the spirit of Christ is a Christian vocation."

Featured today will be community youth services in which young people of all Protestant groups will unite in worship to set the tone of the week. During the week they will hold "vocation seminars," in which the Christian approach to all work and to the individual's own preference will be discussed.

Youth week was first held in 1944.

LIFE SERVICE SUNDAY

While National Youth Week is emphasizing the religious aspect of all kinds of work, churches of the American Baptist Convention are specifically asking their young people to consider careers within the organization of the church.

Their special theme is "Called to the Church Vocation." Their aim is to persuade young people to commit their lives to the ordained ministry, or to the lay opportunities in the mission field, teaching etc.

Tomorrow in these Baptist churches the youth will participate in the morning service and will hear a sermon by the pastor on "Called of God." Before the close of the service, the young people, both boys and girls, will be given an opportunity to sign "declaration cards" and to place them on the Communion Table as a public announcement of their intention to find their careers in the church.

"GOLDEN-MOUTH"

One of the fundamentals of Christianity is God's love for even the worst sinners, but through the centuries Christians have often resented any practical demonstration of this principal.

★ ★ ★

One thinks, of course, of the stern Puritans in early America, who relentlessly hounded the wrongdoers among them, but the puritans were far from being the first of their kind.

LI'L ONES

"I'd like five cent's worth of those and a dollar's worth of looking."

Chrysostom means "golden-mouth," a term applied to John after his death in recognition of his unparalleled ability as a preacher. A large number of his sermons are still in existence, and they support his reputation. It was his tremendous oratory that brought him in 398 — so much against his will that he had to be kidnaped—to his high place as Archbishop. His stormy career in that position seems to prove again, if any proof is needed, that people cannot stand a man who practices what he preaches.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Tried Running Barefoot in Snow?

"I take iodin ration, eat whole wheat, and run around with the kids barefoot in the snow. We have fine times together and enjoy excellent health, thanks to your teachings." (Mrs. W. S.)

Answer — Yahbut what will the neighbors say? My congratulations to the kids for their wise selection.

"We have six children ranging from 3 to 13 years of age. They like milk, and we want to provide at least 1½ pints a day for each of them. That is more than a gallon of milk a day. We can get raw milk from a neighbor for 60c a gallon, but other neighbors say we could contact undulant fever from drinking raw milk." . . . (A. R.)

Answer — Yes, you had better have your local health officer's advice or your family physician's advice about that. Otherwise you should scald the milk — heat it to the boiling point for a few seconds, then let it cool, to make it safe for anyone to drink.

"Aged 46, for the last year had many sick headaches. For the last month I have taken the castor oil treatment as described in your pamphlet and want you to know in that period I have not had one headache. I feel better than I have felt for years . . .(Mrs. M. F.)

Answer — Instructions in pamphlet "Why Have Headache" available to anyone who asks for it and incloses stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"You are so right. I suffer more in weeks following operation than I had ever suffered from piles. And now, a year later, I have little relief. If they know about ambulant treatment in the big or best advertised "clinic" they certainly do not tell their patients . . . (Mrs. A. M. F.)

Answer — Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet "You Need Not Have Piles Some things you have to learn the hard way.

"We have found your writings ever so helpful in raising our six children, who are allowed as much or as little clothing, as they please in any season or weather, despite the ominous predictions of the well-meaning neighbors. Ours are the healthiest, happiest children around. (Mrs. M. E.)

Answer — Yahbut, if any of the children should happen to get pneumonia, pulmonary tuberculosis, infantile paralysis, or rheumatiz at any future time the neighbors will say "What did we tell you?"

"I have been taking an iodin ration for over a year and I believe it has benefited me in many ways. But a party said iodin in any form is poison to your system. . . . (Mrs. H. H. M.)

Answer — I've been taking it since Tony was a pup and no poisoning evident yet. A certain party will tell you aluminum is poison to your system. For many years I've been eating food cooked in aluminum, and that has benefitted me in many ways. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet "The Iodin Ration.

"I tried your nonsurgical drainage of the gall bladder. It gave me great relief for several months, more than I had obtained from any other remedy or treatment. Thanks . . .(R. T.)

Answer — Instructions in Little Lesson No. 3, "So You Have Indigestion? for which send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Discusses Greek Contributions

Dr. Soter is a Chicago physician of Greek ancestry who invited Mrs. Crane and me to one of the most pleasant evenings we have ever experienced. If you are not well aware of the splendid Greek contributions to America, be sure to read this brief account.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

He visited my Bible Class at the St. John's Church on Sunday morning and then asked me if I'd speak before the Hellenic Professional Society of Illinois.

"We have a big dinner-dance to honor all the college graduates in Chicagoland who are of Greek descent," he began.

"So we'd be greatly pleased if you would consent to address our group."

GREEK AMERICANS

Mrs. Crane and I were present at the big party and greatly enjoyed ourselves.

★ ★ ★

She was a very vivacious and beautiful woman, and the mother of three children.

"In our Greek Orthodox Church," she said, "our priests can marry before they are ordained."

"But the married priests are not promoted to higher church offices, such as bishops."

Dr. Soter also told me when he and some of his fellow Greeks immigrated to America about 1914, there were very few Greek families in Chicago.

"In fact," he laughed, "when we wished to recruit eight Greek bridesmaids for a wedding during World War I, we couldn't find that many.

★ ★ ★

"And this Hellenic Professional Society of Illinois was started in 1925. At the outset, it was to offer an annual party for the new Greek immigrants.

"But now we have almost 75,000 people of Greek descent in Chicago so we have changed our program to one in which we honor our children who are new college graduates."

Many of Chicago's leading professional men are of Greek ancestry. And among some 100 new graduates that night, there were those with a B.S. or B.A., as well as graduate nurses, lawyers, physicians and two who had obtained their Ph.D. awards.

"It is a triple personal pleasure to be invited to address your splendid group," I began my banquet speech.

"For I was educated originally as a psychologist. And your famous Aristotle was our greatest psychologist of antiquity. In fact, he had over 1,000 of the leading scholars of the known world sending him their raw data for analysis, and that beats any scientist even today.

★ ★ ★

"Then I studied medicine and when I graduated from Medical College, my classmates and I were asked to subscribe to the Oath of Hippocrates, your Greek Father of Medicine.

"And as a Bible Class teacher each Sunday for the past 35 years, I appreciate the fact that the early Christian church was really launched primarily in Greece.

"In fact, Paul's letters to the Corinthians and Epesiaans and Philippians and Colossians and Thessalonians, show that his major pioneer churches were started in your ancestral land or among your people in Asia Minor.

"Furthermore, of the first five books of the New Testament, three were written by Hebrews, but Luke and Acts were written by the Greek physician, Dr Luke.

"So, from my own major activities, I am trebly indebted to the contributions of Greece, notably in psychology and medicine and religion.

"And the world knows the tremendous impetus which the Greeks gave to art and sculpture, dramatics and poetry, as well as to the field of sports, where we obtained our Marathon races and the Olympics."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Harried Motorist' Wants Correction of Road Hazard

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I certainly think something should be done to correct the road hazards such as at Elizabeth Lake and Cass Lake roads.

Repairing is being done in what was used as a right hand passing lane. When several cars are lined up for a left turn, other drivers pull into that lane to avoid holding up traffic. I did that the other day and ended up almost on top of the repair barriers, as there were no signs to indicate the road ahead was impassable.

As I went by the next night, the blinker lights used as warnings were practically useless. They were so dim a driver couldn't see them until he was right on top of them.

To make matters worse, a very large, deep hole is dug there, deep enough possibly to kill a child if he should fall into it. The covering is completely inadequate. It is nothing but a lot of old lumber thrown helter-skelter over the hole, with enough space left uncovered for even a very large adult to fall into.

Those responsible should cover the hole with something more solid than loose boards, put up more substantial barricades and get enough lights around it to keep cars from running into it. And, for goodness sake, put up a "road repair ahead" sign.

'Basketball's Fine; What of Football?'

Here we are all elated about our basketball team. They are good enough to take care of themselves.

Well, you know Spring is just around the corner and no football coach as yet. You know Flint Northern, Flint Central and Ann Arbor always come up with some of the best coaches. Is Pontiac going to take just what's left? If the Board of Education will get on the ball, I am one of the many fans who would be glad to hear the outcome.

'City Lines Should Provide Service'

I agree that something must be done about the bus situation. Bus drivers work hard and give us excellent service. They try their best to be on time and treat us with courtesy.

The runs such as Perry Park have been cut down to nothing. The new Mt. Clemens route is the excuse. The public and drivers are being put on the spot. If service isn't given, the city permit should be revoked.

'What Happened to Hoover Report?'

What became of the reports and recommendations of the Hoover Commission which the Republicans hailed with such fervor?

Have they been forgotten? Have they been discarded? Why aren't they in the foreground of all administration planning? As I recall, they showed how we could reduce our Federal budget by several billion dollars. I favor tax reductions and I favor them right now.

Potter Protests Storage Rates

Claims Eastern Roads Plan Ruin of Detroit, by Strangling Seaway

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) has charged that eastern railroads are trying to "ruin" Detroit and other Great Lakes ports by "strangling the St. Lawrence Seaway in its infancy."

Potter referred to the recent action of 12 eastern railroads in filing protests with the Interstate Commerce Commission against liberalized storage charges on freight awaiting shipment a lake ports.

Potter said in a statement: "The eastern railroads fought us every step of the way during the years we pushed legislation authorizing the St. Lawrence Seaway. Now that the Seaway approaches reality, they are trying to kill its usefulness."

Potter noted that western railroads increased free storage time allowed freight shipments to seven days after the ICC canceled an order which permitted only two days of free storage in lake cities. The eastern companies protested this move.

Failure of the ICC to approve the new tariffs, the Senator said, "will place Great Lakes ports, midwest shippers and producers in an adverse, uncompetitive situation and will stifle the St. Lawrence Seaway in its early stage of development."

JA Week to Spark Fund Campaign

By JAN HAYHOW

The time-honored busy bees don't have a thing on Pontiac's 234 junior achievers who can rightfully claim the busiest beehive for miles around.

A visit to the Pontiac Junior Achievement Center, 375 Auburn Ave., on any week night between 7 and 9 will find two or three of the Junior Achievement firms laboring away.

Activities during the two-hour periods run the gamut of all business experiences from business meetings to working on production, from planning sales to designing new products and from compiling financial statements to the final selling of the item.

The man who keeps things running smoothly at the center every night is District Manager Robert Mehoke.

Junior Achievement, Mehoke says, fills a special place in educating today's teenagers. It teaches them as no other source can or does teach them about America's backbone . . . the system of free enterprise.

Millions of teenagers the country over are members of this organization.

Briefly the JA setup is this: The members break down into corporations, each corporation sponsored by a local business firm. Three advisers from the sponsoring firms assist at the weekly meetings by advising the teenagers in business, sales and production.

Then the youngsters choose a product to sell. Following this choice they call on friends and parents to purchase 50c shares of stock in the small company. This working capital collected, they make their product and sell it.

Everyone works. Complete charts, wage scales, month-end reports, are all part of the JA training.

FIVE SHARE LIMIT

At the liquidation of the company which usually occurs in May just before school is out, the companies try to declare a dividend to pay stockholders. If such a thing isn't possible, not too much is lost as stockholders are limited to the purchase of five shares.

Junior Achievement companies the country over will celebrate Junior Achievement Week beginning Sunday. In conjunction with the week, a campaign for operating funds will be staged by local JA supporters.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's goal for the fourth straight year is $10,000, Carroll Osmun, chairman of the Pontiac Area JA, reports. A contingent of 24 JA supporters will call on local businesses and friends next week for contributions toward that goal, Osmun said.

The funds will go toward the operation and maintenance of the Pontiac JA Center on Auburn avenue.

Some of the local firms in operation include the Michigan Bell-sponsored company, Jamaco, which has taken old stand-up telephones and changed them into lamps. The old phones are rewired so that when the receiver is taken off the hook the lamp goes on and vice versa.

The Kwi-Klip Co., sponsored by Detroit Edison, makes a fancy tieless apron for the housewife. When this company's at work, the sewing machines and irons are going at full pace.

Other companies include Achieve-Co sponsored by Community National Bank. This company's now in the process of dressing small dolls in huge and elaborate gowns made of simple milk machine filters; Japont, bottlers of "super rich" shampoo and producers of a new wooden planter, sponsored by Pontiac Motor; Kart-A-Kan, another Pontiac Motor-sponsored group that produces a metal desk pencil holder.

★ ★ ★

Scented candles are the product of the Scent-O-Lite Co., which is sponsored by Standard Oil, and the Le Ja Co. makes a scotty lamp. Le Ja is sponsored by Fisher Body. A hurricane lamp is the product of JA Enterprises sponsored by General Motors Truck and Coach Co., and Prodaplast Co. sponsored by Consumers Power produces a memo pad.

The Exchange Club's Fi Fli Co. makes and sells fishing tackle.

Some of the firms are highly successful business-wise, Mehoke says. Top sales firm last year hit $1,200.

WHOA, THERE — Checking their weapons at the Pontiac Boys' Club, a routine procedure, are Steve Rounding, 8, and Dave Gillespie, 11. George Roberts, Boys' Club staff member, accepts the guns from these cowboys in hopes of decreasing the cowboy and Indian activity in the halls.

Employes Pay Vacation Costs for Happy Boss

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — It was turnabout time today for a manufacturer who feels it's a good idea to shut down the plant from time to time and bundle all the workers off to New York or Miami for a round of play.

E. Claiborne Robins, president of a pharmaceutical firm, had ample opportunity to reflect on how his 170 Richmond employes regard his operating methods as he and Mrs. Robins winged toward Acapulco, Mexico, via Dallas on a two-week vacation.

★ ★ ★

"They called me out by the Coke machine and handed me a couple of checks — one drawn on the Bank of Good Times for a Good Vacation—the other a real one for $4,200."

★ ★ ★

Robins said he didn't think the gift, presented on his 20th anniversary as president, carried with it even the gentlest suggestion it would be his turn again to do the honors next time.

"But we're going to continue to have these unscheduled trips for employes," he said. "I'm convinced these investments in a little fun pay big dividends in the attitude of our people toward their jobs. Playing together seems to create a spirit of working together."

The company - paid employe trips started as modest junkets to Washington. Then came bigger ones to New York, with theater and night clubbing included, and one in the winter of 1955 to Miami.

Dingell Fights for Bill Father Couldn't Pass

WASHINGTON (INS)—A 30-year-old House member set out yesterday to try to pass a law for which his dead father fought in vain in the House for more than a decade.

Rep. John D. Dingell (D-Mich) joined with Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont) in sponsoring legislation to set up a compulsory national health insurance program.

The elder Dingell, who died in 1955 and was succeeded by his son, first introduced a similar bill 14 years ago. It was blasted as "socialized medicine" and denounced as a "cradle-to-the-grave" insurance measure.

However, with members of Congress tending to become more and more economy-minded, it is doubtful if the new Dingell-Murray team will be any more successful than the old one in pushing the bill to passage.

Spain's merchant fleet will gain a millions tons of new shipping in the next 10 years, through addition of tankers and cargo and passenger ships, Madrid reports.

Would Expand Welfare

JACKSON (AP)—Jackson union officials say they will propose a change in the state law to enlarge county welfare boards to five members. The move is part of a drive to obtain federal surplus food for families which undergo hardships because of strikes. The proposal will be made at the AFL-CIO Conference on Community Affairs in Lansing Saturday.

Suit Filed for $8 Million Against Mary Pickford

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Former actress Mary Pickford is being sued for $8,000,000 over a hotel deal.

The action was filed in Superior Court Thursday by George C. Curtis and Jack Waxman. They allege that she agreed to buy the Mayflower Hotel in Los Angeles for $1,885,000 and then backed out.

The amount they are demanding represents expenses, legal fees, lost profits and punitive damages.

Ceylon has placed new restrictions on bringing in explosives, Colombo reports.

THAT OLD PHOTOGRAPH

J. L. VOORHEES

M. E. SIPLE

In one hand I hold a photograph that has the touch of an artist; in my other hand I hold a photograph that is an image and little else. The subject has the tight bodice, high neck and ramrod back of her day; today, even the least expensive cameras would do better but when grandma was a girl daguerreotype photography was an innovation. In spite of its limitations, then, without it I would have no idea of the appearance of this sweet old lady.

The person who conceived this invention gave us illustrations in magazines that are creations of beauty. He gave us a means of keeping fresh the joys of babyhood, the charm of wife, lustre of her smile, the parade of boys going away and returning, the exquisite beauty of a butterfly in flight, rich colors of autumn—this wonderful invention has never stopped evolving since 1839.

Time swallows the old and brings us the new.

P. S. We, too, create a picture, with spiritual solace as the theme.

REV. PAUL P. KUENNING.

WHAT IS A MISSION

What happens at a Mission? According to the pastor, vital messages relating the Christian Gospel to everyday life are given by a guest pastor, called a "missioner." He speaks at the services and answers any questions concerning the Christian religion.

Members and friends of the congregation can help the mission by praying for the Mission; attending the services; inviting others to the Mission and by preparing their own hearts for God's call.

The Rev. Mr. Kuenning was graduated from Midland College, Fremont, Nebr. He received his M. A. degree from Northwestern University and his B. D. degree from Chicago Luthern Seminary.

In 1953 he became assistant pastor at St. Luke's Lutheran Church Park Ridge, Ill. and in 1955 became pastor of his present charge, Unity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Chicago.

He has served as secretary of the Chicagoland Pastors' Association and vice president of the Seminary Alumni Association.

Evangelism is leading others to Christ .Before and after the Mission services, laymen in the congregation will discuss motives and methods of evangelism to become equipped to share their faith.

A social hour will follow each service that those attending might become better acquainted.

Confident Living

Cripples Radiating Cheer — World's Unsung Heroes

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

One of my closest friends, a man who in his time had been a magnificent athlete, a beloved college president, and a golden-voiced speaker, lay dying of a dread disease of the throat. I stood by his bed and talked to him, but he was unable to speak to me.

DR. PEALE

He picked up a note pad and wrote: "I didn't expect to end this way. But there is lots of fight in me yet. My faith has never wavered, and the Lord sustains me."

* * *

I was reminded then of something another friend, the late Vicomte du Nouy, had written: "Without anxiety, suffering and fear man does not really humanize himself nor liberate his spiritual aspirations. It is because of this that pain is fruitful . . ."

For pain, difficult as it may be to endure, seems to be a release mechanism designed to bring greatness out of human nature. As a preacher I knew when I was a boy in the Midwest used to say, "Storms bring out the great eagles, but the little birds take to cover."

It is not easy to achieve greatness of spirit through pain, let alone live with it day after day, but this world is full of unsung heroes and heroines who do just that. Others are not unsung; think, for example, of the last days of Lou Gehrig and Senator Robert Taft. Think of Franklin D. Roosevelt and his victory over his crippled body and young Senator John Kennedy and his battle with pain resulting from his war injuries.

* * *

These are names everyone knows, but think with equal admiration of all the people you see all around you every day fighting the same fight. Think of the paraplegics and the cerebral palsied holding down jobs in your own community and trying to live normal lives. Think of your own sick friends who manage to inspire those of us who are well by their cheerfulness.

NO LIFE WITHOUT PAIN

All these people have learned a basic lesson of living, that there is no life without pain — and they have learned to live with pain. Most of us are fortunate enough never to have to feel pain for very long at any one time, but we never know when we may have to spend the rest of our life with suffering.

* * *

How can you learn to live with pain, if you must? Those who do this successfully seem to follow these practical steps:

1. Believe that pain can teach you something extra deep about life's values.

2. Think of your pain as a release mechanism to bring greatness of spirit out of you.

3. Realize that some pain may be psychic pain resulting from unhealthy thinking. Supplant that with healthy thinking.

4. Banish hates, grudges, resentments and guilt. This will conserve energy to meet your problems.

5. Keep the atmosphere around you as peaceful, quiet and serene as possible.

6. Practice the art of being cheerful.

* * *

7. Believe that God has some purpose in your pain.

8. Do pleasant and interesting things each day to counteract the unpleasantness of pain.

9. Keep busy in a constructive way.

PRAY FOR OTHERS

10. Pray for and help others in pain. This will tend to minimize your own.

11. Practice the presence of God and His healing.

12. Pray and keep on praying. As Brother Lawrence wrote, hundreds of years ago, "God is often . . . nearer to us, and more effectually present with us, in sickness than in health . . . Put then all your trust in Him . . ."

Local Congregation Votes to Construct New Church

"Central Gives Thanks to God," is the theme of the Golden Anniversary being celebrated by Central Methodist Church.

The festivities began last week when the congregation met at an inspirational banquet and voted to replace the present church with a new one to be located on the same site.

★ ★ ★

Dr. William O. Moulton, superintendent of the Flint District of Methodist churches, will speak Sunday morning at 10:45. His subject will be "Teammates."

Sub-topics will include "Heritage of the Past," "Opportunity of the Present" and "Vision of the Future."

The young people will be in charge of the worship hour at 7 p. m. The Junior Choir will sing and one of the group will bring the message, "Facing the Future."

Just 50 years ago, when the First Methodist Church seemed to have outgrown its building and equipment, at the suggestion of the pastor, the Rev. G. W. Jennings, 90 members of the mother church founded another Methodist Church in the northern part of the city.

The church was first called the Oakland Avenue Methodist Church and later known as Central Methodist.

In the rooms of the YMCA on East Lawrence street, 26 members drew up the articles of incorporation.

The first location of the church was at 90 Oakland Ave. in the old Osmun home.

According to the minutes, during the first year the following were members of the official board: Dr. N. B. Colvin, chairman; W. A. Pardee, secretary; A. F. Marsh, treasurer; Dr. J. F. Spring, music; George Cleary, Mrs. Paul Beardsley, and George Stanaback.

Others were Charles Gearhart, Luther Miller, Charles Hill, Miss Eva Wixom, William Hoffman, R. A. Grant, George Clark and Edward Linabury.

The pulpit for the new church was given by the First Methodist Church; a piano loaned by a Mrs. Waldo; the dishes donated by the WCTU and the carpet and clock by local firms. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sheriden gave the gas stove.

The minutes of the board meetings reveal interesting information. The first pastor's salary was $800, the first budget totaled $1,500; the pianist was paid $1 a week and an additional stove was purchased for $4.

One of the entries voted upon that first year was "It was moved and seconded not to rent the barn on the church property as we need it for our own members."

Because of the crowded conditions of the temporary church, in April 1910, the church voted "to proceed at once with plans for a new church."

WORSHIP IN TENT

In May, a tent was purchased and pitched on the federal property where the post office now stands, and proved satisfactory until it blew down. In August of that year the present site at Perry and East Huron streets was purchased.

When cold weather came, the congregation met in Forrester's Hall which was rented for $16 a month.

In December 1910, the name of the church was officially changed to "Central Methodist Episcopal Church." In July 1911, the congregation held worship services and Sunday School in the assembly room of the Oakland County Court House.

The cornerstone was laid in October 1911 and a month later in November the basement of the present building was occupied. On Dec. 17, the unit was dedicated. On June 12, 1915, the auditorium of the church was dedicated.

Former pastors of the church include Dr. Dunning Idle, Dr. D. H. Glass Dr. W. H. MacClenthen, Dr. Russell H. Brady, Dr. Weldon F. Crossland and Dr. Lloyd H. Nixon, Dr. Robert M. Atkins, Dr. Ermil B. Frye, Dr. W. Clyde Donald.

Dr. Milton H. Bank, the present pastor, has served Central Methodist since 1949.

Men of First Christian Have Supper, Worship

Kenneth Thompson conducted the business meeting of the Christian Men's Fellowship of the First Christian Church following the recent chop suey supper.

"God and My Job" was the topic of the program presented by John Radenbaugh. The Rev. D. D. McColl, pastor, spoke on the theme, "Peter, the Rock."

As ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.

Methodist Minister Slated for First Congregational

REV. JAMES WRIGHT

The third in the series of five evening programs of Inter-Church Fellowship will be held in the First Congregational Church, Sunday. The Rev. James Wright of the First Methodist Church, Mt. Clemens will preach at 7:30.

★ ★ ★

A graduate of Albion College, the Rev. Mr. Wright received his B. D. degree from Yale University.

From 1943-46, he served as chaplain with the U. S. Army in Europe, and has been pastor of churches in Ontonagon, Marquette and Mount Clemens. He was an associate pastor in Birmingham.

The Sunday speaker is a member of the Board of Ministerial Training, vice chairman of the Conference Board of Education and chairman of the Port Huron District Board of Education.

A member of the Kiwanis Club, he is also a 32nd Degree Mason and a member of the Hi-12 Club.

Seek Best State Mother

A contest for the nation's best mother of the year is again in full swing, according to Mrs. Charles F. Kuhn, chairman of the Michigan Mother's Committee.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kuhn lives on Lake Angelus road in Waterford Township and was Michigan's Mother of the Year in 1952.

This is not a beauty contest, or a contest for young mothers, Mrs. Kuhn said, as the youngest child of the nominee must not be less than 15 years of age.

First, state mothers are judged by a panel from the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs and civic officials, using applications stating each mother's potentialities.

When the Michigan Mother of the Year is chosen, her name will be submitted to the national headquarters of the American Mother's Committee, as a candidate for the American Mother of the Year.

WINNER HONORED

In May, the state mothers will meet in New York City for one full week of planned festivities and the National winner will be honored at the annual Mothers Conference at the Waldorf-Astoria.

★ ★ ★

The American Mother will be chosen from among the 52 state mothers selected by the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Six rules govern qualifications for the American Mother. She must be a successful mother, as evidenced by the character and achievements of her individual children, and she must be an active member of a religious body.

The top mother must embody those traits highly regarded in mothers such as courage, cheerfulness, patience, affection, kindness, understanding and homemaking ability.

★ ★ ★

The state and American mother must exemplify in her life and conduct the precepts of the Golden Rule. She must also have a sense of responsibility in civic affairs and she must be active in service for public benefit.

DETROIT MOTHER

Last year's nationally famous American Mother was Mrs. Jane Maxwell Pritchard, 67, of Detroit. She was the first Michigan State Mother to be chosen as the American Mother of the Year.

★ ★ ★

Deadline for the nominations has been set for March 5, and application blanks may be obtained by writing to Michigan Mothers Committee, Box 1010, Pontiac.

When not conducting physical education classes at Webster, Whittier and Central Schools, lovely Miss Barbara Heflin of Edison street is often found gracing various ski slopes at Mt. Holly and Caberfae.

Patricia L. Wilder Becomes Bride of L. J. De Coninck

Married this morning at Our Lady of the Lakes Church, Waterford, were Patricia Lynn Wilder and Leopold J. DeConinck. The 10 o'clock service was celebrated by the Rev. Frederick J. Delaney.

★ ★ ★

Patricia is the daughter of Mrs. Martha Wilder of Drayton Plains and Ralph Wilder of West Huron street. Leopold's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Omer DeConinck of Lowell street.

For the ceremony attended by 250 guests, the bride wore a gown of tulle over satin with a lace bodice. The bouffant skirt of tulle was fashioned with lace appliques. Her fingertip veil was secured by a satin pillbox headpiece trimmed with seed pearls.

★ ★ ★

Elise LaMean of Royal Oak was maid of honor and Mrs. Richard Kremlick of Flint was a bridal attendant. Their gowns were ballerina-length pink crystalette. They wore white fur headbands and carried pink glamellias on white fur muffs.

★ ★ ★

The evening reception will be held at Knights of Columbus Hall. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wilder wore a mint green wool dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. DeConinck chose beige brocade with brown accessories. Her flowers were yellow roses.

When the newlyweds left on their wedding trip to northern Michigan, the bride had changed to a navy blue suit with navy accessories and a corsage of pink glamellias. They will make their home on Lorraine court.

London's Styles Have Soft Lines

Designers Frown Upon Busty, Hippy, Revealing Fashions

LONDON (INS) — The general trend in London's line of spring fashions is toward a softer outline with sharp reaction against busty, hippy and revealing creations.

★ ★ ★

In the collections shown so far by the city's fashion makers, stiffened petticoats and boned bodices have been absent. Waists are gently defined at the normal level and hemlines are generally longer for daytime wear.

Ronald Paterson introduced a new shape called the "Crozier Line," because it supposedly follows the outline of a bishop's staff. It is delightfully curvy, with a broad-shouldered, narrow-hipped, long-legged and loose-waisted look.

Paterson's favorite neckline is boat-shaped with a high front dipping violently in back. Instead of a mitre, one of the mannequins wore a high-crowned floppy-brimmed hat.

Following the trend toward curve and flow, his lachosse suits emphasized a fluid look with softer shoulders. Jackets had slight bloused effects.

★ ★ ★

Victor Stiebel reintroduced his "little boy" look showing Eton-type jackets with slightly L-shaped skirts worn with soft boater hats and berets.

FROTHY CREATIONS

★ ★ ★

Hardy Amies emphasized a slim line but with longer skirts while suit jackets have an unusual box-pleated back from yoke to waist, finishing in smooth peplum.

In dresses, he showed a softer line with bloused bodice above a slim skirt.

Conversely, as day skirt lengths became lower, evening skirts, even for formal ball dresses, were raised to ankle length.

★ ★ ★

GRACEFUL CONTOURS

Noted English designers, like Norman Hartnell, the Queen's dressmaker, offered instead a new look achieved with graceful contours and intricate use of fabrics.

★ ★ ★

Hartnell, for example, featured sheer white coats over orange and blue dresses for both color contrast and filmy outlines.

Special Chairs Conserve Energy

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Since energy is the coin with which we purchase the things we want from life, it is of the utmost importance to us. It is therefore essential that we cut out any meaningless and unnecessary leaks. A half dozen of these can make a great difference in our verve, in our accomplishments, our appearance and our pleasure in daily living.

★ ★ ★

Surveys have shown that office workers seated in custom-fitted chairs are much less susceptible to mid-afternoon fatigue and restlessness. These chairs are fitted to the workers's height and body contours.

Chairs, desks or work benches which are too tall or too short lead to poor posture and weariness as well as to less efficiency. During World War II this was a vital factor since the greatest possible output was so essential to winning the war.

While it is not usually practical for companies to fit individual chairs to every employe, they should provide chairs adjustable in height. The same thing should be the rule in the classroom. Many a child has a spinal curvature because of desks which are the wrong height.

★ ★ ★

When we think of this it seems strange that this knowledge has been applied in such a limited way to the woman in the home. She must be the victim of much fatigue which comes from stools, tables, chairs, sinks and cabinets which are either too low or too high.

The average woman spends many hours in her kitchen, and she should sit rather than stand whenever possible while ironing, preparing foods or washing dishes.

Any unsuitable working condition is just one of the seemingly small leaks in energy which could be used so enjoyably in other ways.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Pep" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 56 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Princess Dress Suitable

The princess silhouette continues as the favorite of all sizes and ages, but when Mr. Mort does it for his junior following, he adds a special zest that gives it wearability at any time of the day or night, the hour completely dependent on the choice of fabric which might be linen, cotton, shantung faille or wool.

Be sure to put on a petticoat so that the flared skirt has the flair it deserves. From this chart select the one size best for you.

Size 13 requires 5⅛ yards of 39-inch material for dress. To order Pattern No. 1297, state size, enclose $1.

Easy to make, the pattern has exclusive designer measurements with precise perforations so that the soutache braid trimming the convertible neckline and pocket flaps is simple to handle with professional finish.

Man Claims Wife Acts Snobbish

By EMILY POST

A reader writes: "My husband is the manager of a small company and has a private secretary and a few other workers under him. The place is very informal and everyone calls everyone else by first name.

★ ★ ★

"When I call my husband on the telephone I ask his secretary if I may speak to Mr. Jones. My husband thinks this is being very snobbish and that since he and his secretary call each other by first name, I should ask for him by first name when calling. I disagree with him and do not think it is correct. Will you please settle this matter?"

Answer: I agree with you. But to please your husband, you might ask to speak to "my husband" or possibly "John."

"Dear Mrs. Post: When giving an informal dinner party for eight guests, is it permissible for the hostess to wear velveteen slacks and a dressy blouse? There is some difference of opinion about this and we would like to know what you think about it."

Answer: If these guests are all intimate friends and slacks at dinner are customary in your community, there is nothing to prevent your wearing them if you have the figure for them.

Waterford Township police still had little to go on today in a $5,000 burglary of an Elizabeth Lake road store believed to have occurred between Wednesday night and Thursday morning.
The money, which included $400 in change, was taken from a safe at Russ' Country Store, 4500 Elizabeth Lake Rd. The business is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jackson.
Mrs. Jackson discovered the burglary Thursday. Investigation by Township police disclosed the safe had been pried open with a chisel and file. Entry to the store was gained by smashing through the back door, according to Capt. Millard Pender.

Aldo Credits Odd Voice With Opening His Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Aldo Ray is an object lesson in how to turn a handicap into an asset.

When you think of Aldo, you think of his voice. It sounds like a muted foghorn on the San Francisco Bay, which is where he grew up. His voice is his trademark, the thing that sets him apart from other actors.

Yet many people would consider his voice a handicap. And Aldo did too in his earlier years.

"My voice was normal until I was 9 years old," he recalled. "Then one day I was playing football with the bigger guys. They were teaching me how to tackle, showing me I should grab low at the ball carrier's legs.

"On one play, I took a dive at a guy's legs and his heel came up and hit me right in the Adam's apple. The breath was knocked out of me; I couldn't talk. I went home scared.

"For 24 hours I couldn't talk. My mother was frightened, but she couldn't afford to take me to a doctor. Those were depression days; a $2.50 doctor bill would have been a catastrophe. Eventually I was able to talk, but my voice was never the same."

His playmates in Crockett, Calif., often tormented him about his voice. Aldo got into many a battle over their taunts. But then he changed his attitude.

★ ★ ★

"People noticed my voice," he said. "I was always being chosen president of the class and captain of the team. I figured that the voice must be an advantage, that it called attention to me. So I decided to use it as an asset."

And he did. He continued winning honors in school. And he credits the voice for starting his acting career.

Director David Miller was interviewing football types in San Francisco for roles in "Saturday's Hero." Aldo's brother wanted to try out for it, and Aldo went along with him. When Miller heard his voice, Aldo was signed.

★ ★ ★

He was a hit in pictures from the start. His voice seemed to fit him perfectly — a big, chunky, tough guy who could also be soft. Now he's got one of his best roles so far, as a hardbitten sergeant in "Men in War," a superior battle picture.

Chiefs Hang Up 8th Straight Victory

Start Slowly, Wind Up Fast in 66-33 Win

Whitmer's 21 Points Set Pace When Ray Cools Off

By H. GUY MOATS

There was a big scalping party last night out at Pontiac High school's spectator-packed gymnasium, with Art Van Ryzin's Chiefs ambushing the Arthur Hill Lumberjacks 66-33.

The Lumber scalps were the 8th to be added to Pontiac's collection for the season, and the 6th in Saginaw Valley Conference action. Nary a loss mars the Chief's record, the finest string of victories Pontiac's cage squad has hung up in modern times. The win was a big step along the path to a possible unbeaten season.

For a few minutes at the start of the tilt against Chuck Fowler's overpowered club things looked bad. Almost immediately Herb Hinds dunked a bucket and Jim Appold added a gift shot and a basket before Pontiac found the hoops. Chiefs couldn't hit the buckets until they had missed 10 consecutive tries. Big Jim Skinner started the PHS scoring with five points. Dick Whitmer and Hud Ray added five more for a 10-5 1st period count.

Chiefs were off then, rolling to a halftime count of 24-13. They continued to gather momentum and pounded the meshes for 23 counters in the 3rd, 19 in the finale.

Where long Hud (Goose) Ray, 6-5 center, was the big gun in the 64-59 win over Saginaw, last night it was husky junior Dick Whitmer who swished the top production with 21 poinnts. That total was Whitmer's best for the season. Ray, who nevertheless did a fine job on board control and handling rebounds had only 7 points. Dave Diehm warmed up a bit over last week's efforts and turned in 15.

Friday's count of 66 points was the highest for PHS this season. Highest previous total was 64, scored in two games.

The Hillites, unable to break through a stiff PHS defensive pattern with any consistency, failed to get a single scorer in double figures, and provided what amounted to only token resistence.

Van Ryzin swept his bench in the finale, using every varsity player, 11 of whom figured in the scoring. "Firsts" in scoring were turned in by Dave Scriven, Henry DeWalt, Dick McLaughlin, and Johnny Bandy.

It was Whitmer, who basked in the spotlight. Outside his point making, Dick also shone in taking rebounds. He was only slightly behind Ray's work in this particular, with 18. Ray had 20.

Just how much better Pontiac was than its opponents was shown in the margin it held midway the finale. Chiefs had hit for 61 points to 26, a spread of 35 points.

PHS Junior varsity also had a scoring "field day" swamping the junior Jacks 59-33. Harrison Munson set the pace with 23 points.

Skippers Stumble at Farmington

Walled Lake Keeps Rolling

By BILL CORNWELL

Walled Lake continued its march towards the Inter-Lakes Conference crown last night at Van Dyke with a 75-62 decision over the Abes as forward Dean Hess ended his high school basketball career.

Things didn't go so well for Waterford, however. The Skippers encountered rough going at Farmington where the Falcons dealt them a 66-49 licking.

Waterford remains buried in the league cellar with Southfield, which yielded to Berkley's superior force 72-55 in Friday's other I-L game.

★ ★ ★

The completion of Hess' playing days was the only sad note in Walled Lake's victory. Hess, a mid-year graduate, bowed out in a big way with 12 field goals and a pair of free throws for 26 points.

Walled Lake enjoyed a 40-30 lead at intermission and just coasted through the 2nd half for its 5th league triumph and 8th overall.

Center Larry Hughes contributed 13 points to the Viking attack and Tom Willwerth added a dozen. Tom Thorpe topped Van Dyke with 19.

Chuck Gillis' shooting eye was stored in a deep freeze unit while Waterford was losing to Farmington. Gillis, Oakland County's 2nd leading scorer, could find the field goal range only three times and finished the evening with nine points.

★ ★ ★

The Falcons stormed into a 36-23 halftime advantage and wrapped up the verdict for keeps with a 20-9 bulge in the 3rd quarter.

Farmington had excellent scoring balance with four players in double figures, headed by Bud Jones who tallied 16 points. Dave Struble's 10 points were high for the Skippers.

Berkley had too much height for the Jays. The Bears trailed going into the 2nd period 18-15, but they rebounded for a 33-27 halftime edge and won going away.

Big Jim Zalenski netted 27 points for the Bears, who remain in Inter-Lakes title contention with a 4-1 record. Mel Alldredge led Southfield with 18 points.

'HOLD IT, BOYS' — Referee Johnny Massar, Flint, looks like he's holding off a double-barrelled attack by Paul Doersam (with ball) of Arthur Hill, and Chiefs' big forward Jim Skinner. Actually Johnny was calling a personal on Skinner in last night's Valley game between Pontiac and the Lumberjacks. Chiefs won 66-33.

Pontiac Press Photo

'LET'S MOVE' — That was what coach Art Van Ryzin told his big Chiefs last night after a rather bad 1st period start against Arthur Hill. It was evident the club listened to what Art had to say, for it immediately ran up a string of 10 points without a break to take the lead 10-5. Chiefs went on to hit the season's top score (66-33) and win their 8th straight game. Above, from left are Dave Diehm, Larry Peet (3), Van Ryzin and Dick Whitmer (bending over). Hud Ray is just back of Peet, Jim Skinner hidden by the coach.

Roseville 11, Lake Orion 7.

A hard-earned victory kept Avondale in contention for title honors while unbeaten Troy and an up-and-down Lake Orion five also posted wins in the Oakland B League last night.

A field goal and three foul shots by Tim Mulholland pulled out a 53-51 verdict for Avondale with two minutes to play after Fitzgerald had led most of the night.

Poor foul shooting hurt both sides as they hit a combined total of only 36-for-76 of the charity tosses. Mulholland and Jerry Hill paced Avon to its 5th loop win in seven starts with 13 apiece, Bob Bush topped the Spartans with 16.

The losers' Frank Birdwell missed a chance to tie the game by failing on two foul shots with 17 seconds to play.

Trailing at the 1st period, Lake Orion turned on all its power to romp over Roseville by a 84-66 count. An amazing 84 per cent foul shooting performance for 43 attempts made the difference as the Dragons won despite making four less baskets.

★ ★ ★

Nick Neira fired in 26 digits, Jim Drake tallied 16 and Dave Golladay tallied 14 for the victors. Duane Hussey's 26 topped the losers.

Troy remained atop the standings comfortably with a 54-38 triumph over Madison for its 7th straight.

The leaders had to come from behind with a big last half to win it as Wayne Figley hit 20 of his 29 digits after the halftime intermission. Hal Perkins caged 19 for Madison.

Wilson Hits 44 as Lapeer Wins

Peerless Tom Wilson of Lapeer went on a 44-point scoring rampage Friday night as the Panthers defeated Flint Tech, 72-69, in a free-wheeling basketball game at Flint.

Wilson's blistering total set a new school record and equalled the Lapeer County mark set in 1953. The 6-foot-2 forward meshed 17 field goals and 10 foul shots for his evening's work. Dick Jacobs tallied 27 points for Tech.

Lapeer forged into a 37-30 halftime lead and was never headed. It was the 6th triumph in nine games for the Panthers.

VanNocker and Peters Lead Way in 85-61 Triumph Over Romeo

A red-hot Rochester quintet chalked up its 7th straight victory and 8th in nine starts with a convincing 85-61 trouncing of Romeo last night.

Three Falcons combined to outscore the losers with a total of 69. Jim VanNocker paced the trio with 29. Dave Peters hooped 26 and Loren Eldred added 14.

The Fowler boys, Don and John, were the big guns for the Romeo contingent with 23 and 18, while Tom Williams contributed 12 more.

Rochester had three 20-plus quarters along the way with 26 points in the opening eight minutes. The victors dominated the play throughout and had very little trouble following the first half which ended 46-38.

Boys' Club Quints Trip Ypsi Visitors

Pontiac Boys' Club Prep basketball team was host to Ypsilanti Boys' Club this week and found the going easy as they topped the visitors by a 60-21 count.

Boys' Clubbers used an effective fast break to pile up the score. George Mays paced the attack with 14 points followed closely by Len Sharp and elbert Green who notched 11 and 10 points respectively.

An All Star team from the Biddy basketball league defeated a similar aggregation from Ypsilanti 20-10. Rick Fisher matched the visitors' total by notching 10 points.

Pool Records Fall in Maples' 5th Win

Five pool and school swimming records were set in Birmingham's close meet, last night, against Royal Oak High. Maples scored 49 to 47 for Acorns in the Birmingham pool. Five firsts, five seconds and six thirds produced the win, 5th for the season.

Records included Pete Sintz (B) 23.8 for 50-yard freestyle; Sintz' 54.1 for 100-freestyle; Tom Bechtel (B) 1.38.00 for 150-yard medley; Gilanders (RO) 1:01 for 100-yard butterfly and Nutter (RO) 1:02 for 100-yard backstroke.

Chief Wrestling Team Scores 40-12 Victory

A historical notch was cut into Pontiac High's athletic program Friday when the Chief wrestling team won its first match since installing the sport this season.

The win came by a 40-12 margin over Fitzgerald of Van Dyke. Jack Keller (95 pounds), Dave Payne (120), Ed Smith (127), Mel Nosanchuk (133), Charles Ratcliff (145), John Herron (165), Duke Relyea (175), and Willie Duncan (heavyweight) scored victories in the match.

Rams Triumph, Frigid Mikes Bow

Bill Mountain, St. Frederick's 6-foot-2 center, bowed out in a big way as the Rams downed Royal Oak St. Mary, but St. Michael suffered a miserable evening at Orchard Lake in Suburban Catholic League basketball engagements last night.

Mountain, who is ineligible from now on, poured 28 points through the hoop in his final outing to spark St. Fred's 61-59 conquest of the Irish at Royal Oak.

The Shamrocks were colder than Coach Bob Mineweaser hopes they'll ever be again as they were outclassed by Orchard Lake St. Mary, 53-25, in their battle for 2nd place.

St. Mike was so frigid that only six points were registered on the scoreboard in the 1st half compared to St. Mary's 20. The unbelievably low output included two field goals, both by Ken Halpin.

The Mikes matched the Eaglets, 12-12, in the 3rd quarter, but it was too late then. Pete Madelans led the Eaglets to their 6th league win in seven games with an 18-point spree. Chuck Brown and Halpin scored 10 apiece for St. Mike.

★ ★ ★

Mountain had a strange evening to go along with a strange game. He connected for 16 free throws out of 16 attempts, giving him 24 consecutive successes in his last two contests, and then fouled out in the 4th period.

St. Fred led the Irish all the way, despite the fact that the two teams alternated quarters outscoring each other by wide margins. The Rams got the 1st period jump, 26-5, and that was the difference.

The triumph was St. Fred's 5th in seven league starts, good for 3rd position in the standings.

Maples Drop EML Contest

Isbell Held to Seven Points as Birmingham Bows to Ferndale

Plagued by bad breaks and Bob Isbell's poorest shooting effort of the season, Birmingham dropped a tough 49-48 decision to strong Ferndale Friday night in an Eastern Michigan League basketball game at Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

Isbell made only one field goal in 13 attempts and wound up the evening with a skimpy seven points. Bob Stephenson paced the Maples with 14.

Birmingham trailed throughout the 2nd half, although the difference was always slim. Ferndale's Earl McNeal was the thorn in the side of the Maples with 23 points.

Gary Ballman netted 24 points, Ron Emerick 22 and Dick Kehrer 18 as undefeated East Detroit handed Mt. Clemens a 72-58 pasting in an Eastern Michigan scrap at East Detroit.

It was the 2nd straight win for the Wildcats after five failures and avenged a previous drubbing at the hands of the Cardinals.

Rangy Bill Noles, playing his last game for Oxford before moving to Clarkston, paced the attack with 17 points. Dick Hoard scored 12 for Millington. The Wildcats trailed at intermission, 30-26, but finished strong to win.

Utica holds undisputed possession of 1st place in the Bi-County lead today on the basis of its impressive 61-49 conquest of Center Line in a battle for the top siot last night.

In another one-sided game Trojans beat the Royals 38-16. Don Langford led the winners with 20 points.

Northville, Holly Winners

Clarkston Wins on Fouls

There was little change in the Wayne-Oakland loop standings as a result of last night's action although the front-running Northville club had a good scare before clinching a victory over scrappy Brighton.

Clarkston continued its winning ways by downing Clarenceville, 52-46, to remain a 2nd in the race. Northville edged Brighton by a 51-47 final as Holly evened its W-O ledger at 3-3 by thumping Milford.

Some fine foul shooting and the excellent all around play of Leroy Parks and George Lang led the Wolves who were ahead all the way. Parks hit 22 and Lang 16 to offset three of the losers' reaching double numbers. Dave Hanaford led the group with 15. Clarenceville made one more field goal.

Brighton's big last minute rally gave Northville the jitters but was too late to make any difference. Brian Watson tallied 22 points for the losers, 11 in the last period drive. Bob Bell rung up 16 for Northville.

Almont, New Haven Keep Rolling in Thumb Race

Almont and New Haven remained nip-and-tuck in the close Southern Thumb League race by chalking up successes in opposite type games last night. The other tilt saw Armada trounce Brown City.

Almont had a breeze walloping Capac 72-42 for its 8th consecutive victory as scoring ace Larry Kersten hit the hoop for 27 points.

Meanwhile, New Haven was having a close shave improving its record to 7-1 on a 44-43 verdict over Memphis. The winners went into a stall in the final three minutes and Stan Gleason's foul put it on ice.

He paced the scoring with 17, eight in a 3rd period rally. Len Jakubiag was the Memphis pointgetter with 15.

Elsewhere of interest, South Lyon bowed before unbeaten Manchester in the League of the Lakes 59-36, despite 14 points by Dave Wren, Clawson had little trouble walloping Oak Park to the tune of 63-28, Marlette decisioned Yale 66-55, and Bay City Central overpowered Owosso 77-30.

NEW AND OLD CHAMP—Former Junior Mr. Michigan, Vic Seipke (left) also Jr. Mr. America from Detroit, gave way his title at the Pontiac YMCA last night to George Schoell, 30-year-old draftsman from Detroit. A physique entry can claim the Jr. Mr. Michigan title only once. Next in line of competition is the Sr. Mr. Michigan and then the Mr. America contests.

Baseball Feud Nears Showdown

Major League, College Heads Exchange Ideas

Ford Frick Engages in Brisk Debate With Tug Wilson

CHICAGO (AP)—The existing feud between college heads and the major leagues in the signing of college baseball players appears headed for a showdown.

Ford Frick, commissioner of professional baseball, has an answer but K. L. (Tug) Wilson, chief of the Big Ten Conference doesn't think it's the correct solution.

Frick and Wilson engaged in short but brisk debate yesterday at the Executives' Club of Chicago in discussing the recently rejected major league rule against signing college players after their sophomore year.

The majors scuttled the ruling last December and college coaches immediately raised a cry of protest. And this week, Cub shortstop Ernie Banks was banned from working out at the University of Chicago in what may have been the beginning of college retaliation. The University said crowded conditions at the fieldhouse was the reason Banks and several minor league players were banned.

Frick said the major league ruling was meaningless since the minor leagues never concurred with it.

Wilson immediately fired back, saying "I've always felt the majors mainly own the minors and could tell them what to do."

Actually, the majors would like to sign young prospects and pay their way through college and have them compete in baseball after their education is complete. But at the same time they want the boys to play college ball. However, the colleges claim a player is ineligible as an amateur the moment he comes to any agreement with a professional team.

Frick said he is willing to sit down "for five weeks, if necessary, to settle" the dispute "but it isn't a one-way street."

Frick also said that at last December's minor league meetings, the leader of the fight against a proposed college rule was a man, "not affiliated with the major leagues in any way."

Frick disclosed no identify but it was believed to be Leslie O'Connor, president of the Pacific Coast League.

Wilson later said he couldn't understand how one man could dictate the policy for the entire major leagues.

Wilson added "We're interested in a boy getting an education. If memory serves me, I think that of the last 600 college boys signed by the majors only 22 have made the big leagues. The rest have simply drifted off. And another thing, I believe 40 per cent of the players in the majors have attended college.

"It all boils down to this," continued Wilson, "The majors are turning more and more to colleges for their talent and we don't intend to be their proving grounds."

Wings to Play Twice

TORONTO (AP)—A weekend doubleheader beginning in Toronto and winding up in Detroit will decide whether the Detroit Red Wings retain a share of first place in the National Hockey League.

Currently deadlocked with the Montreal Canadiens, who have a pair against Chicago and Boston, the Wings meet the Maple Leafs here tonight and return to Detroit's Olympia Sunday evening for their 10th game of the campaign against Toronto.

Detroit has whipped the Leafs five times, tied them twice and bowed once. The Red Wings have been especially effective in Maple Leaf gardens, winning three times in four visits. It's the best mark in five years for a Detroit club on Toronto ice.

Detroit's new defenseman, husky Gordon Strate, made his National Hockey League debut Thursday night in Detroit in the 6-2 win over Chicago, but suffered the customary first-game jitters.

His performance was a solid one, but coach Jim Skinner believes "we'll know more about what he can do in two or three more games. You can't tell much about a new kid the first time you throw him into a game."

Strate will help carry the load at least until Al Arbour — out at least two weeks with a kidney injury—returns to the lineup.

Despite the advantage in victories, the Wings have had little scoring success against Toronto goalie Ed Chadwick. They have registered just 19 goals against him, and this is their lowest output against any foe.

★ ★ ★

But the Leafs have managed only 44 goals—four of them by Dick Duff. Norm Ullman and Billy Dea lead the Red Wings in goals scored against Toronto, each having three.

Detroit Mucleman Takes Jr. "Mr. Michigan" Honors

George Schoell, 30-year-old auto firm draftsman from Detroit, took Junior Mr. Michigan honors last night in the state junior physique and weightlifting championships held at the Pontiac YMCA.

Schoell, a 175-pounder from Detroit, was the recent winner of the Mr. Detroit contest in physique.

Runnerup honors went to Bill Tant of Dearborn with Henry Allarie of Bay City in third place.

In weightlifting competition Pontiac's lone victory came in the heavyweight division when Cal Rhodes combined lifts of 220-205 and 265 for a 690 total in the press, snatch and clean and jerk series.

★ ★ ★

Rodney Morrill was second in the 148-pound class, and Pontiac lifters Tom Beaudoin and Marv Copeman were 2nd and 3rd repectively in the 165-pound class.

Swim Records Set by Preps

LANSING (AP)—Battle Creek Central set a national high school record, swimming the 400-yard freestyle relay in 3 minutes 33.4 seconds in a dual meet against Lansing Sexton last night.

The Battle Creek quartet of Dave Diget, Dan Convis, Alec Borden and Fred Rounds broke the old record of 3:33.5 set by Evanston, Ill. high school in 1955.

★ ★ ★

JACKSON (AP)—Mike Natelson, a Jackson High School senior, whipped through the 100-yard butterfly in 59.7 seconds last night to better the national high school record.

The young Jackson swimmer led his squad to a 66-33 victory over Kalamazoo in the process.

Sloppy Track for Coast Race

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — For the third time in the last four years Santa Anita's Maturity Stakes is being run on an off track today. Rain began falling last night and the racing strip had been labeled slow yesterday because of previous rains, so at best it will be slow going today.

A turnout of 50,000 is estimated.

This is the 10th running of the Maturity, limited to 4-year-olds, and with 12 entered, the purse will be $170,230, the winner getting $93,870.

Rawls Leader at Lake Worth

LAKE WORTH, Fla. (AP)—Three strokes and one record to the good, Betsy Rawls led 23 other contenders into today's second round of the $5,000, 54-hole Lake Worth Open golf tournament.

★ ★ ★

The Spartanburg, S.C., golfer, who won the Tampa Open, fired a one-under-par 69 on the 5,654-yard Lake Worth Course in the first round yesterday. Her 33-36 round set a women's competitive record on the tournament links.

★ ★ ★

Betty Dodd of Louisville, Ky., was first-round runner-up at 36-36—72. Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kan., and Alice Bauer of Palos Park, Ill., were tied for third at 36-37—73.

Four Tied With Wall in Thunderbird

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Handsome Art Wall Jr. was $1,000 richer and aiming at $2,000 more today in the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational golf tournament.

But Wall would be the first to concede that the going can be rough and the opposition tough as he and 42 pros head into the final two rounds of play.

Tied with the 33-year-old pro from Pocono Manor, Pa., are four others, Doug Ford, Julius Boros, Billy Maxwell and young Ken Venturi, all with 36-hole scores of 134.

This is eight-under-par for the Thunderbird Country Club's par 36-35-71 and its 6,843 yards of expensive real estate in this desert oasis.

He played with movie actor Randolph Scott and Los Angeles auto dealer Harrison Fisher. Their best ball score was 112.

One stroke behind the jammed co-leaders was Cary Middlecoff. Spread within four strokes of the pacesetters were Mike Souchak and Stan Leonard tied at 136; Bo Wininger and Bob Roseburg at 137; and at 138 were defending champion Jimmy Demaret, George Bayer and Bud Holsher.

"Any of these players is enough to make a fellow lose sleep," said Wall.

Medal scoring honors yesterday belonged to Ford, the aggressive pro from Mahopac, N.Y. He shot a 64 and he was one man who got his putts down, long and short—the longest 45 feet, the shortest, one foot.

Boros had his moments, too, particularly when he shot the last nine in 30 strokes.

It was 67 for two straight days for Wall, Boros of Mid Pines, N.Y., and Maxwell from Odessa, Tex. Venturi, the pro of only two months from San Francisco, had a 68.

Twenty-nine players were still under 142, setting forth today. With the amateurs out, the course was to be made more difficult.

Machen Scores Unanimous Win

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Less than three years after he launched his professional boxing career, young Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., believes he is ready to meet heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

"I think I could fight Patterson now," the 24-year-old Machen told sports writers last night after he had pounded his way to a unanimous decision over Joey Maxim, the former light heavyweight champ and the only man who ever beat Patterson.

Already the No. 3 contender in the heavyweight division, Machen now has won 20 straight pro fights, 14 by knockouts.

Judge Gus Jacobson scored it 99-90 in Machen's favor, Judge Fred Aaronson 97-93, Referee Eddie Coachman 98-94 and The Associated Press 99-93.

Swimming Star Critical After Auto Accident

MELBOURNE (INS)—John Marshall, Australian Olympic swimming star and world recordholder, was reported in critical condition today after he was injured in an automobile accident outside of Melbourne.

The former Yale swimmer suffered a fractured skull and other injuries when his car overturned as a result of a blowout Friday night 97 miles northwest of Melbourne.

The 27-year-old champion, who broke 10 world freestyle records in 1950, made a comeback last year after a four-year retirement. He competed in the 1956 Olympic games.

Sarazen Sets Senior Record

Gene's 65 One Under Barfield; Al Watrous in Running With 71

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Gene Sarazen, 54 years old, played one of the best rounds of his 38 years of competitive golf to take the first round lead yesterday in the PGA Seniors tournament.

The chunky gentleman in the baggy knickers carded a 65, seven under par and a tournament record. Sarazen, playing out of Germantown, N.Y., had to be near perfection to nose out unheralded Jim Barfield of Grand Rapids, Mich., whose score was 66. That equaled the old tournament record set by Harry Schwab of Dayton, Ohio, three years ago.

Despite heavy fog in the late afternoon, the 222 golfers — 50 years old and older — shot some remarkable golf. Seventeen beat par 72 over the 6,589-yard PGA national course and seven more matched that figure.

Trailing the two leaders were Gunnard Johnson of Minneapolis, 68; Willie Goggin of Rutherford, N.J., and Bob Stupple of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, both 69.

Still in the running in the 54-hole, $8,500 tourney were Denny Shute of Akron, Ohio, 70; Jack Ryan of Louisville, 70; Al Watrous of Birmingham, Mich., 71, and Mortie Dutra of Calexico, Calif., 71.

Plan Feather Eliminations

NEW YORK (AP) — Tiny Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico and handsome Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn were just about set today to open the four-man featherweight elimination tournament in Madison Square Garden in March.

Acting swiftly after four major boxing bodies had picked the tourney field, matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club, said today Berrios and Costa had agreed to the match.

Brown said he hoped to get commitments soon from the others, France's Cherif Hamia and Hogan Kid Bassey of Nieria.

The four 126-pound contenders were selected yesterday by four major boxing bodies to battle it out for the title vacated by retired Sandy Saddler.

Hamia was ranked first and given a bye into the final round. Bassey, British Empire king, was ranked second, Berrios third and Costa fourth.

Tabori and Sime in Losing Races

WASHINGTON (AP) — Miler Laszolo Tabori and sprinter Dave Sime—who turned in losing performances last night in Philadelphia—buck speedy competition again tonight in the Evening Star Games.

Tabori, the Hungarian refugee who was beaten in the two-mile in Boston last week, failed to show a finishing kick last night as he placed third in the mile event of the Philadelphia Inquirer Games.

The 25-year-old European—who has run the mile in 3:59—finished behind George King of Boston and Phil Coleman of Chicago. King's winning time was 4:10.1.

Hoad Upset Loser, Fry, Gibson Winners

MELBOURN (AP) — America's Shirley Fry and Althea Gibson won the women's doubles title in the Australian National Tennis championships today, but their feat was overshadowed by the surprise defeat of Australia's ace, Lew Hoad, in the semifinals of the men's competition.

Hoad, the defending champion, was whipped by his countryman, Neale Fraser, 7-5, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4. His hopes of a 1957 grand slam by sweeping the Australian, France, Wimbledon and United States championships thus was nipped at the very start.

ESPIONAGE DEVICE — An FBI technician looks over an instrument used by German spies to reduce messages to dots no bigger than the head of a pin. The method was used in the early days of World War II to slip information out of Allied countries.

FBI Cracks Secret Method of Smuggling Information

One of the most successful double agents developed by the FBI had the code name of ND98. He was operating an import-export business in Germany when he was recruited for espionage by the Nazis.

Like the others, he was schooled in secret writing, telegraphy and codes, and given instruction reproduced on the easily hidden microphotographs.

One day in 1941, a Nazi official told him:

"You will go to Uruguay . . . Here are your papers and instructions."

ND98 had a pleasant voyage to Montevideo. But once he was certain that he wasn't being watched, he met a U. S. State Department official. ND98 was willing to sell his services. Was the United States interested?

A few days later ND98 advised his Nazi bosses:

"Impossible to establish radio station and obtain information desired. Am going to United States where I will be able to operate more freely."

In New York City, he was taken in tow by the FBI.

Under FBI guidance, ND98 made radio contact with Germany from a secluded Long Island radio station similar to the one the FBI had set up for double agent William Sebold.

The Nazis asked for information as quickly as possible on aircraft, ship and arms production and troop and cargo movements, and for any reports on new weapons.

In August of 1943, the Hamburg station was grumbling that while ND98's information was good, it was certainly expensive. By this time the Nazis had paid him approximately $34,000, which was turned over to the Alien Property Custodian.

★ ★ ★

ND98 replied: "Sorry you regard information as too expensive. If not satisfactory, will be glad to withdraw as strain and danger are great."

The Nazis hurriedly assured ND98 that not only was his work satisfactory but he would receive another $20,000 in due time.

ONE LAST HOAX

Among the final hoaxes played on the Nazis were a series of messages sent just before the Allied invasion of Normandy on June 6, 1944.

The Germans were told that invasion plans had been delayed by a breakdown in the production of invasion boats and that troops had sailed from New York for the Mediterranean.

Thus ND98 added to the confusion of reports fed to the Germans on the Allied invasion plans.

The first Long Island radio installation was established on Dec. 4, 1941, and until the final radio contact with Germany was received on May 8, 1945, a total of 2,829 messages were transmitted to Germany in connection with the several double agent cases involving these installations. The Germans sent 824 messages.

The Nazis sent money, diamond rings, diamonds, expensive watches and other valuables to the United States to finance their espionage. The wife of one agent tried to smuggle in $10,000 hidden in her girdle. A seaman courier hid a large bill in his bridgework. Final accounting showed that $366,125 in cash and valuables had been seized from German intelligence agents and turned over to the Treasury Department.

Repaid for Big Buildup When Fiancee Reneges

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Joseph P. Donnelly went to court after Katherine Addy decided not to marry him.

They had planned to be married in July 1955 and spent $3,527 to put her house into good condition so they could live there, Donnelly told the court. After all that, he testified, Miss Addy broke the engagement and refused to repay him.

He won a judgment for $4,575, which also covered some furniture purchases.

Couple Pools Skill to Build Lake Home

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When Mrs. Arthur Pond of Loon Lake Shores tells the story of her life to her grandchildren, it will be a fascinating one. It starts in Spain, goes on to Mexico, comes to Pontiac and finally ends in a charming ranch type home on a quiet inlet of Loon Lake.

★ ★ ★

The Ponds have been married only a year so this is Mr. Pond's first home. Mrs. Pond was widowed at the end of World War II. In the intervening years she has worked and supported her two children. Now she is enjoying a more leisurely life. Mr. Pond was a bachelor.

Born in Spain, Mrs. Pond was taken to Mexico at the age of ten by her godmother. Here she lived with her uncle, a priest, until he was killed during one of Mexico's civil wars. She met her first husband when he was vacationing in his native Mexico; he was attending school in the United States.

After they were married they came to Pontiac where Mrs. Pond has lived ever since.

But back to the house . . . it was in the building stage for three years. Mr. Pond is a carpenter and did all the work himself, except for the brick laying and the plastering. It took him nearly a year after his marriage to get the house ready for occupancy.

The Pond lot is irregularly shaped, resembling a pentagon. On the road side it is only 63 feet wide, whereas on the lake it is 49 feet; but on the channel it measures 170 feet. One side is 196 feet, the other is 296 feet. The house has a complete basement, even under the garage.

There is already a fireplace in the basement, but the recreation room has not been completely walled off. Mr. Pond is planning to have his workshop down here. The wall overlooking the lake has a large picture window.

You step through the front door into a slate-floored hall. Here the walls are painted gray like the living room adjoining. Light comes in through the ribbed glass next to the door and also from the star light fixture.

The twenty-nine foot room overlooking the water is divided by a sectional sofa into living and dining rooms. At one end is a Tennessee ledge rock fireplace. Instead of the usual metal openings that allow heat to escape into the room, the builder made use of the stones in a grillwork pattern.

Once upon a time Mrs. Pond owned a soda fountain. The marble top from the soda bar is now the mantel above the fireplace in her new home. The raised hearth is topped with slate. All fittings are brass.

Cutting the glare, but not keeping out the light, the rose beige draperies have a thread of gold running through them. The room is carpeted in rose beige textured wool.

There are two comfortable chairs near the fireplace, one upholstered in gold, the other in red. In front of the window there is a cherry table with drop leaf ends and two lower shelves.

The coffee table for the sofa is also cherry, but circular in shape to repeat the shape of the sofa itself. Custom made for the room, this sectional piece is upholstered in turquoise.

The dining room furniture is all Heywood Wakefield maple. It includes a corner cupboard, a buffet and a hutch cupboard in addition to the drop leaf table.

Pleasantly efficient best describes the Pond kitchen. The walls are pale aqua; the floor is covered in tan vinyl tile. Counter tops have a tweed-like pattern combining aqua and brown in the plastic. Splash board tiles are rose.

Mr. Pond made all the birch cabinets and the scalloped valance above the window. Mrs. Pond put up very short curtains with a three-inch fringe on the bottom.

The top of the breakfast table is bound in brass. Legs are black and seat cushions are brown tweed plastic. Both range and oven are built in. A door from the kitchen opens into the garage where the stairs lead to the basement.

★ ★ ★

While Mr. Pond's contribution to the house building was the heavy work, Mrs. Pond was busy dreaming up color schemes and painting the walls. In the den which also serves as a sewing room, she used green for the walls with a brown and yellow tweed carpet. The draperies have a fishing print pattern on them. The studio couch is gold.

The guest room is pale yellow. Flooded with sunlight and on the lake side of the house, it is a cheerful room. Brown tweed carpeting makes a good background for the golden honey blonde furniture. Curtains are white with yellow flowers. The bedspread is a white heirloom type.

Because the third bedroom had three large windows the Ponds chose it for themselves. All three bedrooms are identical in size, but furniture arrangements make them appear different.

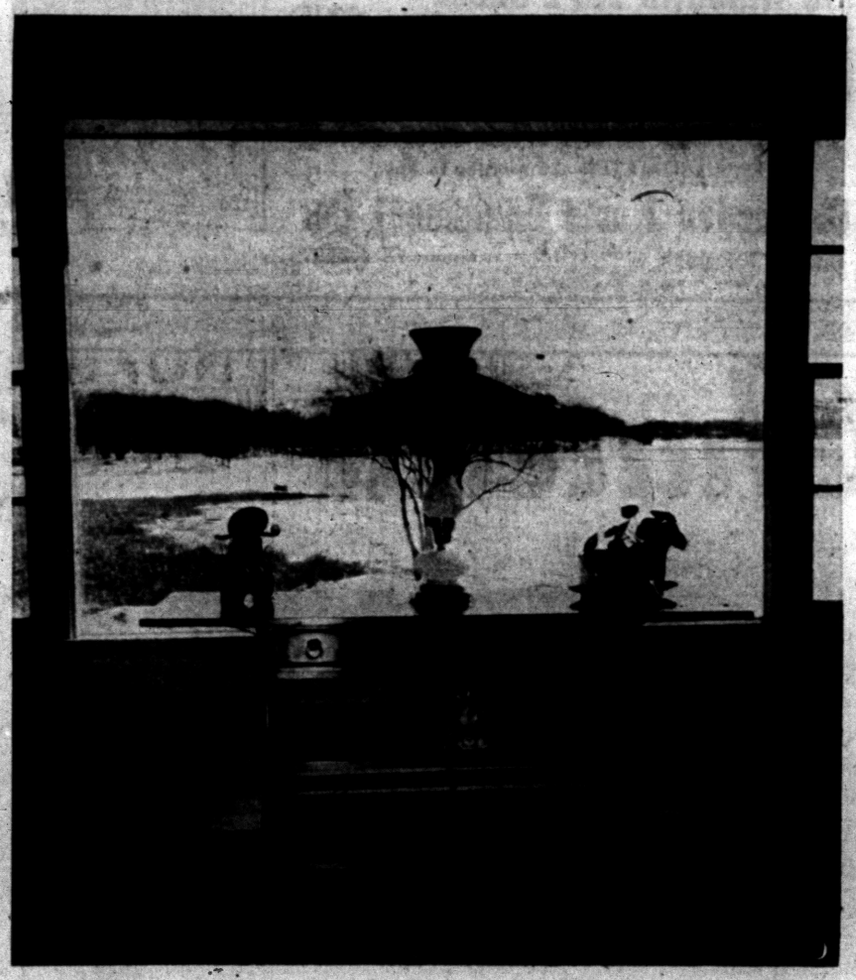

In this room the walls are pink and the carpeting gray and blue tweed. The furniture is Willett maple. Criss-cross curtains and aqua draperies maintain the privacy needed in a bedroom.

The Ponds have had no opportunity to do any landscaping since the house was finished. They are anxious to do this and to finish the basement. Then they can settle down to complete enjoyment of their home.

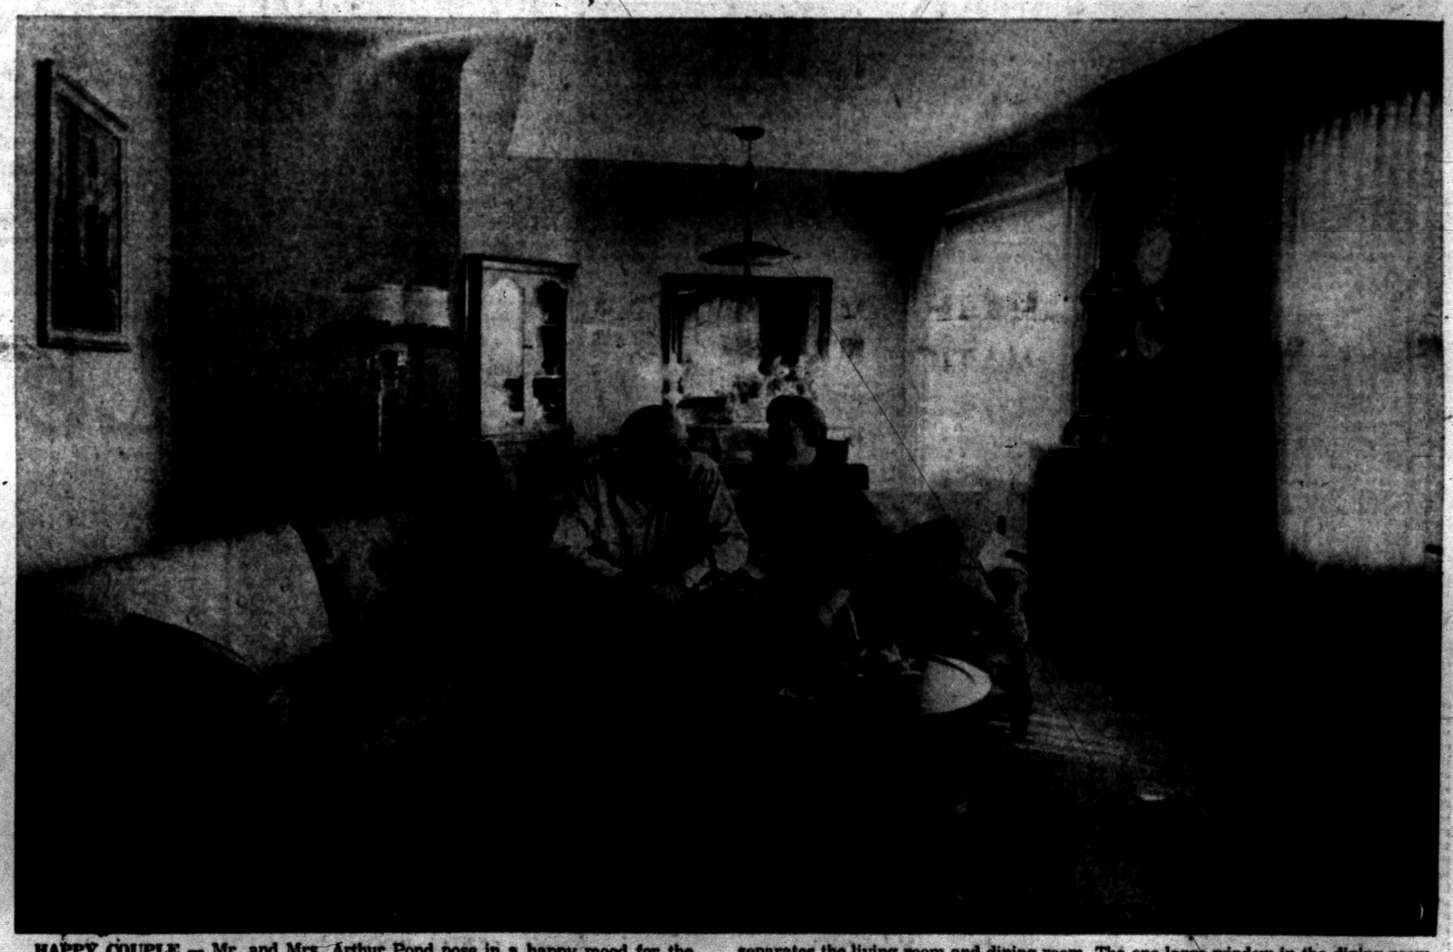

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderwerp

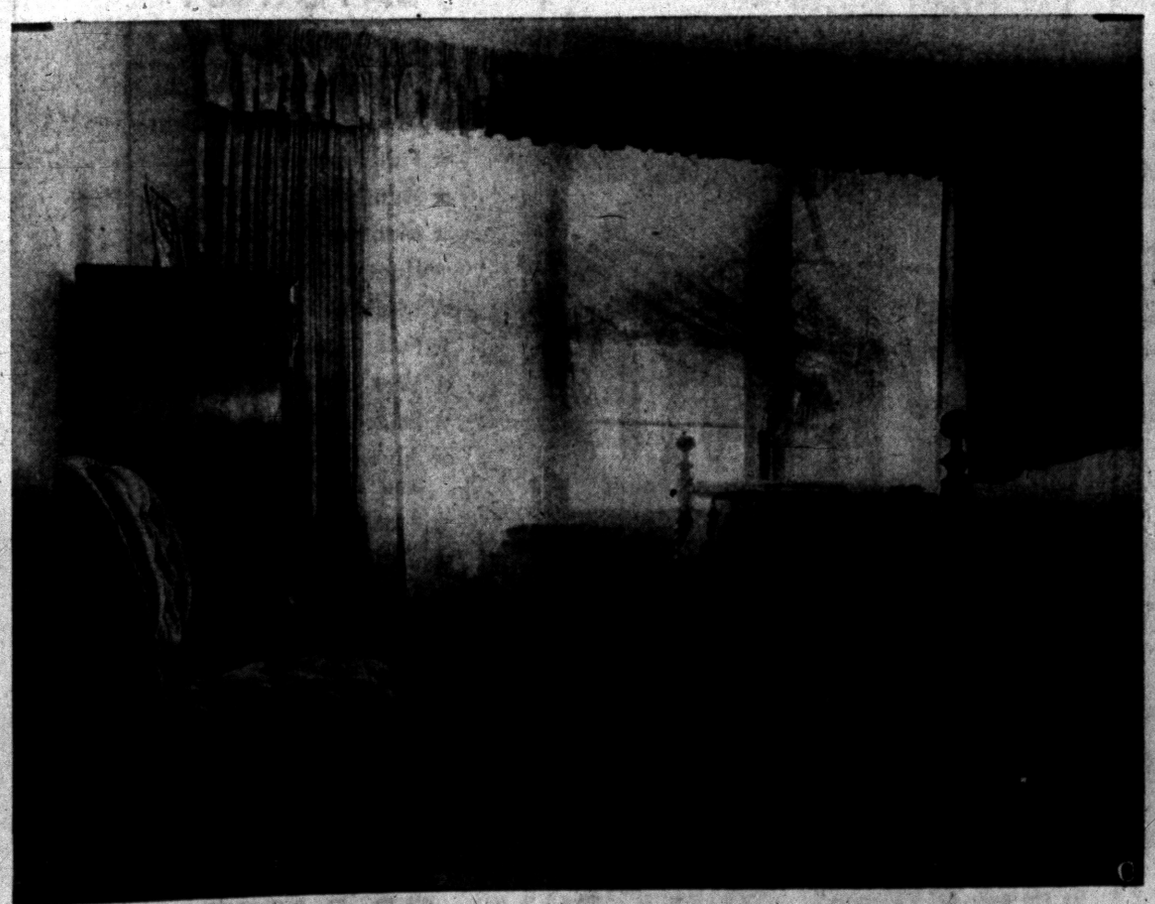

ON LOON LAKE — This eighty-foot long yellow brick home with its two car garage is located on Loon Lake Shores drive, just south of Walton boulevard. Owners are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pond. There are two entrances from the road, one into the garage, the other into the main part of the house. The three windows to the right of the main entrance are bedroom windows. There are trees on the lake side of the house.

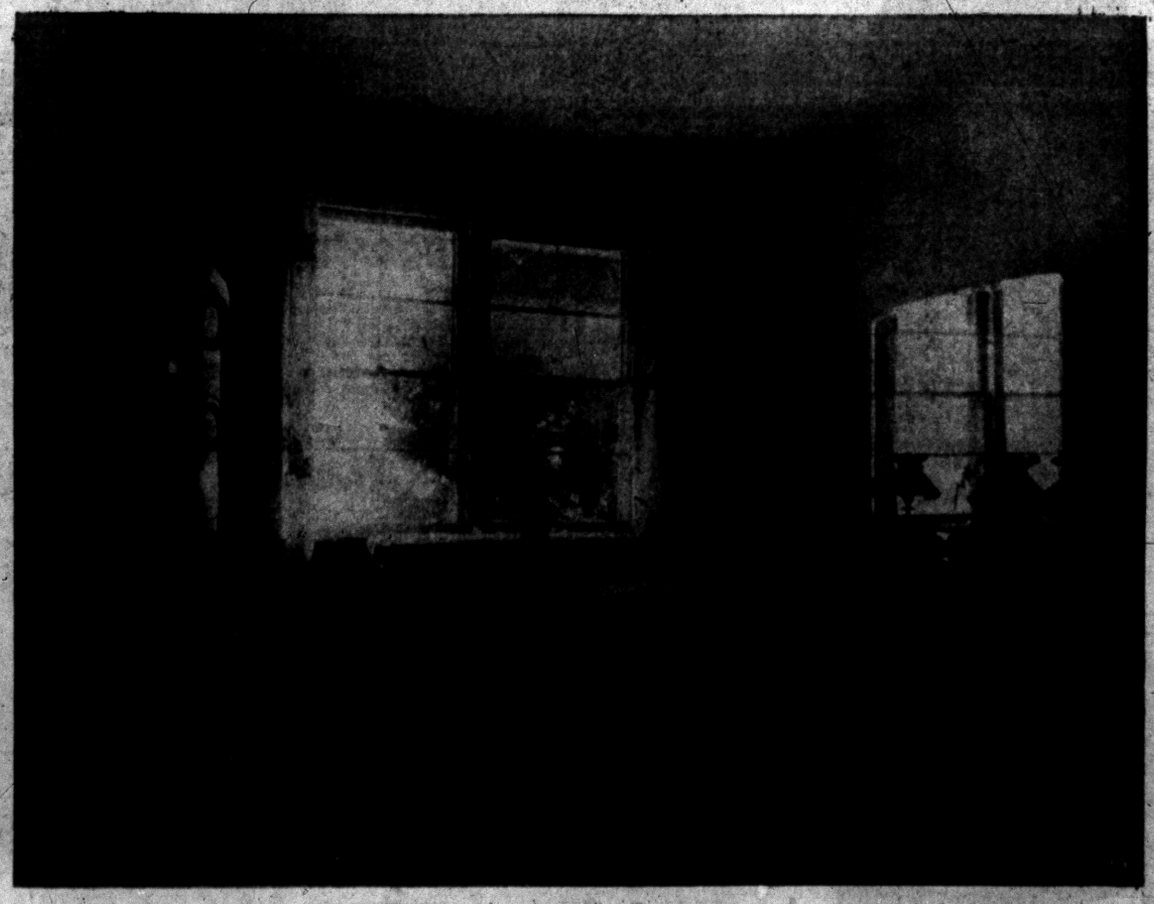

LAKE VIEW — From the living and dining room windows the Ponds have a clear view of Loon Lake. Directly in front of the house is a channel where they moor their boat. Draperies are kept pulled back so that the view becomes part of the house.

HAPPY COUPLE — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pond pose in a happy mood for the Press photographer. Married just about a year, they have lived in their Loon Lake Shores home since November. The turquoise sectional sofa in the foreground deftly separates the living room and dining room. The one large window in the dining room overlooks the channel and the lake beyond. This small dining room is a bright and sunny place.

QUIET ELEGANCE — A fully carpeted floor and draperies in addition to glass curtains give this room simple elegance and privacy. The spindle bed is maple with a white organdy spread. Walls in this room are pink. From the windows of this room the view is of the back yard and the subdivision road. Lots are deep out here and neighbors are not too close.

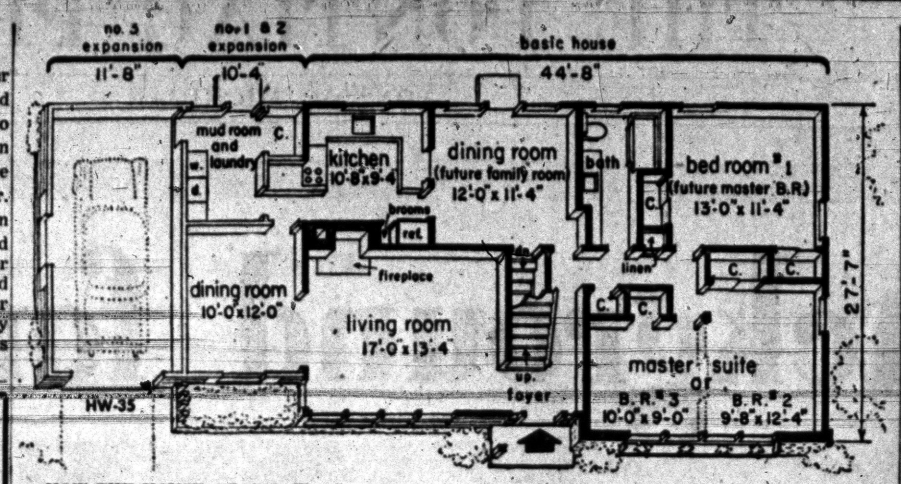

BEDROOM ON THE LAKE — This guest bedroom is a honey colored one. On the floor the carpeting is brown tweed. Walls are pale yellow, while the flowers in the curtains repeat this shade. All the furniture is a warm golden blonde. Large trees will protect the room from the glare of the summer sun but not obstruct a view of Loon Lake.

Top Radiator by Plants

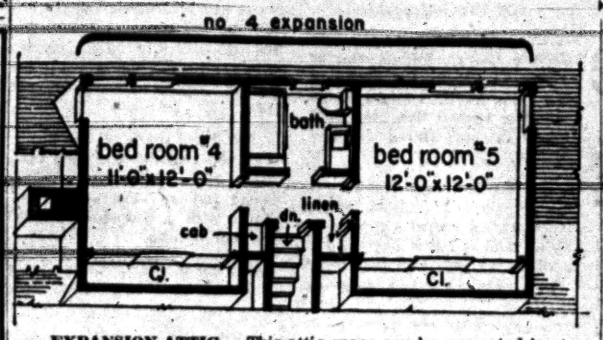

An unsightly radiator top can be dressed up by capping it with a window garden. Use asbestos shingles or a strip of asbestos board as a base. An air space should be kept open above the radiator grill.

Brighten Drab Room

Do you have a room in your home that has become drab and dull through the years? Want to breathe new life into it? You can do so without extensive, expensive remodeling. Try using color. Splash it around generously in money-wise forms like paint and fabric and sensible surfacing. For example, if your rug is worn and old, you can surface your floor with colorful, durable, easily cleaned ceramic tile that makes a new carpet unnecessary.

HOW THE HOUSE GROWS—The first change is a sliding wall in the master suite. Then comes the porch which next is enclosed to make two rooms. The third expansion is the garage. This will give you an eight-room house on one floor.

EXPANSION ATTIC — This attic space can be converted in step number four to two bedrooms and an additional bath. Or, if not needed, the fifth bedroom need never be built.

Window Units Pre-fitted

Window units of ponderosa pine are pre-fitted at the factory where they must pass tests for air infiltration and where weather-stripping is precisely installed. The wood also is treated chemically to resist warping, shrinking and swelling.

★ ★ ★

Class sessions will meet at 4:30 and 7:30 p.m. in Rooms 220 and 221, Pontiac Senior High School, 250 West Huron. Enrollment, which is limited because of the nature of the instruction, may be made in advance through the cooperating board, or at the opening session. The fee is $22.00.

★ ★ ★

The instructor of this class is W. Earl Taylor, Ann Arbor realtor and sales specialist, who has spent 25 years in selling and sales educational work. Taylor will cover various phases of salesmanship with special reference to the selling of real estate.

★ ★ ★

Among the topics to be taken up are the building of sales kits, advertising, the securing of listings and prospects, and the showing of property. The course is designed to help students build up confidence in themselves and their ability in dealing with people. It will include lectures, discussions, film strips, and sound films.

★ ★ ★

Several courses in the University's real estate program have already been given in Pontiac. The program is presented by the University of Michigan Extension Service with the support of the Office of Vocational Education, State Department of Public Instruction. Big Paint Job

Two thousand gallons of paint are required to cover the dome and central section of the U. S. Capitol in Washington. The job is done every four years.

Money for Mortgages Tight for Buyers

Forty representative home builders from all sections of the United States, meeting in the National Housing Center, told high government housing and monetary officials and Congressional staff representatives, that the current condition of the mortgage market had made building plans for this year so uncertain, that unless corrected, there would be a decline of about 20 per cent from 1956 levels.

★ ★ ★

"There are plenty of customers," as one builder said, summarizing his views—"but I simply can't get financing to meet the needs of the people who want and can afford new housing in my community."

★ ★ ★

The uncertainty and the decline were attributed almost unanimously to difficulties in securing mortgage financing on terms and prices suited to the market. Not only is mortgage money tight, said these builders, but frequently when available, it can be obtained only under terms and conditions which disqualify many otherwise eligible home buyers.

Most builders agreed that the market potential was far greater than current financing conditions would permit. They also expressed real concern over the increasing volume of second mortgages—a dangerous trend which will, unless corrected, prove a major disservice to home buyers.

★ ★ ★

These conditions prevailed in nearly every part of the United States, although the situation was described as somewhat better in New England and some portions of the mid-west. Hardest hit have been, and will continue to be, the rapidly growing areas in the West and Southwest, which have, in the past, been responsible for a substantial percentage of the nation's home construction, particularly that done under the FHA and VA programs.

These builders forecast a continuing decline in moderate priced housing in 1957, as a result of unfavorable financing conditions, and increasing land and materials costs, and predicted the typical home sales price would be up again this year.

Insulation Used in 1840

Although mineral wool was not used widely as insulation for homes until after 1927, it was being produced commercially in the U. S. when General Grant was president. Its earliest use was as insulation for boilers and steam engines in 1840. Shortly after the Civil War mineral wool was installed in the floors and walls of railroad cars to add to the comfort of passengers.

FUNCTIONAL FIREPLACE — When this Tennessee ledge rock fireplace was constructed, the builder made openings between the rocks to allow the heat to circulate throughout the room. Walls in this room are gray, the ceiling is white. Carpeting is rose beige in a textured pattern. Furniture in the living room is upholstered, while tables are made of cherry. Mr. Pond did all the work himself with the exception of the brick work and the plastering.

Big Paint Job

Two thousand gallons of paint are required to cover the dome and central section of the U. S. Capitol in Washington. The job is done every four years.

Money for Mortgages Tight for Buyers

Forty representative home builders from all sections of the United States, meeting in the National Housing Center, told high government housing and monetary officials and Congressional staff representatives, that the current condition of the mortgage market had made building plans for this year so uncertain, that unless corrected, there would be a decline of about 20 per cent from 1956 levels.

★ ★ ★

"There are plenty of customers," as one builder said, summarizing his views—"but I simply can't get financing to meet the needs of the people who want and can afford new housing in my community."

★ ★ ★

The uncertainty and the decline were attributed almost unanimously to difficulties in securing mortgage financing on terms and prices suited to the market. Not only is mortgage money tight, said these builders, but frequently when available, it can be obtained only under terms and conditions which disqualify many otherwise eligible home buyers.

Most builders agreed that the market potential was far greater than current financing conditions would permit. They also expressed real concern over the increasing volume of second mortgages—a dangerous trend which will, unless corrected, prove a major disservice to home buyers.

★ ★ ★

These conditions prevailed in nearly every part of the United States, although the situation was described as somewhat better in New England and some portions of the mid-west. Hardest hit have been, and will continue to be, the rapidly growing areas in the West and Southwest, which have, in the past, been responsible for a substantial percentage of the nation's home construction, particularly that done under the FHA and VA programs.

These builders forecast a continuing decline in moderate priced housing in 1957, as a result of unfavorable financing conditions, and increasing land and materials costs, and predicted the typical home sales price would be up again this year.

Insulation Used in 1840

Although mineral wool was not used widely as insulation for homes until after 1927, it was being produced commercially in the U. S. when General Grant was president. Its earliest use was as insulation for boilers and steam engines in 1840. Shortly after the Civil War mineral wool was installed in the floors and walls of railroad cars to add to the comfort of passengers.

ATTRACTIVE GARAGE — To match their red brick Cape Cod house the Allen E. Priestleys of Edgefield drive had this matching garage built. Made of white clapboards, the garage has planter boxes on either side of the double door. A weather cock perches jauntily on the cupola. Mrs. Priestley says the planter boxes are lots prettier in summer. Bob's building Service did the construction work.

The average home in 1956 was 6 per cent larger than a year ago and fully one-fourth larger than 1950.

Beautiful Floors Furnish Background for Comfort

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The burnished woods of well-kept floors can reflect your pride and interest in providing a setting of comfort and beauty for family activities. Beautiful floors, of course, don't just happen. Neither do they stay beautiful without attention. But these days, caring for them is a simple matter that can be done with ease.

If you have never sanded a floor the idea may sound difficult to you. But it isn't, if you rent a sanding machine. It's easy to operate . . . just remember to sand with the grain of the wood. You'll get satisfaction from seeing a fresh, clean surface revealed through your own efforts.

If you are lucky enough to have an old house with the original flooring, you can enhance the grain of those fine woods to harmonize with the patina of your beloved furnishings.

Staining will do the trick. Stains not only bring out the grain of the wood, but to certain softwoods they give tones similar to hardwoods. Water stains are best. They soak in readily and give a clear color to both hardwoods and softwoods.

★ ★ ★

Suppose you have an oak floor. To waterstain it, wet it lightly first with clear water. Let it dry and remove the fuzz with sandpaper. Apply the stain thinly with a clean brush or sponge. Go with the grain Wipe the stained surface at once with a soft cloth. Then let it dry for at least 24 hours.

★ ★ ★

You will, by the way, have better control and get better effect if you use two coats of weak stain rather than one coat of stronger stain. Now you're ready to apply filler, then varnish, lacquer or shellac—and finally, wax.

Perhaps you prefer the charm of floors mellowed by countless waxings. Such floors are symbols of loving care and improve with age, even with heavy use. However, it's better not to have too high a polish on waxed floors. A glittering finish lessens the value of the floor design.

COLOR FLOOR IF DRAB

If you have a problem room—one that always looks drab—painting the floor in color may be your answer. You can contrast the floor with the furniture, or give it a deeper color than the walls.

★ ★ ★

If the wood is in good condition, just sand it lightly before coating it with a floor enamel. It's advisable to apply two coats. Lightly sand the first coat when it's dry, wipe off the dust, then apply the second coat.

★ ★ ★

Once your floors are in tip-top condition, caring for them is easy—with a few helpful hints. Do you know what to do about white moisture spots on shellacked floors? They will disappear if you sponge them lightly with a mixture of equal parts of denatured alcohol and turpentine. How's your supply of mops? Don't use an oiled mop on a waxed surface. It will make the wax gummy and dull.

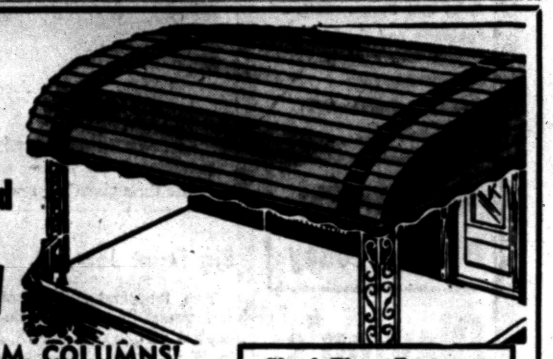

★ ★ ★

You can clean a surface waxed with paste or liquid buffing wax by using more of the same wax. Really stubborn smudges come off when rubbed with steel wool dipped in wax. Afterwards, re-wax and re-polish the spot of course.

The wisest measure in caring for any floor is to practice "preventive maintenance" and restore the finish at heavy traffic areas before it's too late.

Light Kitchen Is Safer

A single ceiling fixture is no longer considered adequate for the kitchen, according to the American Home Lighting Institute. For better working conditions and for safety, there should be local fixture lighting over the sink, range, and each counter.

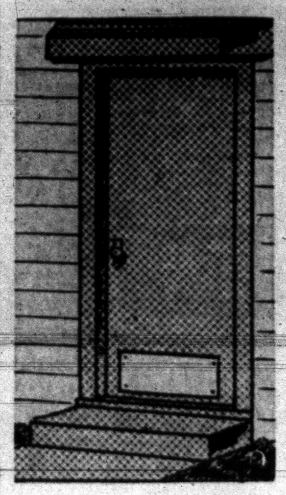

Use Mineral Wool as Farm Insulation

Farm buildings and other structures built without inside wall studs can be insulated with mineral wool blankets.

A popular method is to attach the blankets to the wall with furring strips. Nails and washers, nailing clips, or one of the common types of metal clips which stick to the walls with adhesive may be used.

When the mineral wool is in place, insulation engineers advise covering it with a vapor barrier of waterproof paper.

LET 'EM KICK — Between the children and the dog, the wear and tear on the back door is terrific in many homes. If this is the case in your home, why not try this idea. Center a standard asbestos - cement siding shingle, in any color you desire, along the lower edge of the door. This tough, colorful plate will absorb the scuffs and scratches while the door itself is undamaged.

Level Tells Lies on House-Barge at Chicago Show

WASHINGTON, D. C. — One of the features of the National Association of Home Builders' big Convention and Exposition at Chicago, Jan. 20-24, was the "House On The Barge."

The house was erected on a barge in the Chicago river. During construction, the weight of the materials caused the barge to list to port. But when the brick mason began to lay his courses he did it with the same level he had been using for 15 years.

When a supervisor came aboard to inspect, he noticed that in eight courses the wall slanted out two inches. The mason removed the faulty courses, put away his level, and relaid his brick with a carpenter's square and the deck of the barge as the median.

Another oddity in connection with the barge: a well-dressed man came aboard one day and offered to move in his family to live there as a model family in a model home.

He was employed in an office in the Merchandise Mart — just down the river — and said he'd commute to work in an outboard motor boat. This, he said, would take less time than commuting from the suburb of Lyons as he now does.

Furnace Can Be Funny

Here's an idea from a home magazine . . . make the furnace the brighest, gayest part of the basement. Rather than hide the heating plant behind a partition, get the family together and paint it to resemble a clown. Fits perfectly into a partially finished cellar or one that's used mostly as a children's playroom. Other circus figures painted on surrounding walls add to the fun.

How Did Noah Caulk the Ark?

Could Be With Asphalt, Used for Waterproofing Since Dawn of History

If Noah used asphalt to caulk his ark before the great flood, he was making use of the best waterproofing agent known.

★ ★ ★

Today, despite all the scientific advancements in other fields in the centuries since Noah's time, science has been unable to discover a better waterproofing material than asphalt.

For this reason, modern man uses asphalt where efficient waterproofing is vital—as the basic material in the roofing that protects eight out of ter homes being built today in the United States.

Asphalt has been weathering the test of time since before the dawn of history by proving it can hold things together and keep water out. In 3,000 B. C. the Sumerians used it to cement ornaments to statues. Many of these ornaments still are intact.

PRESERVED MUMMIES

Asphalt was used 30 centuries before Christ to cement brick walls in Babylonia and India. The Egyptians used it as a part of their mysterious formula to preserve mummies.

★ ★ ★

Asphalt roofing first was made in Sweden near the end of the 18th century. Within a few years the idea caught on in the United States and houses were roofed with sailcloth coated with asphalt.

The effectiveness of this crude form of roofing in protecting homes from weather has led to more than a century of continuous research and development.

The result of this research is modern asphalt shingles. These have an "armor plate" of heavier asphalt over the saturated felt to seal the felt and saturant from sun and rough weather. This coat is further fortified by embedding millions of tough mineral granules into the heavy asphalt.

★ ★ ★

These opaque granules keep sun rays from drawing out the natural oils and resins in the asphalt and make the roof more durable by giving it a covering of stone. Asphalt shingles also get their wide range of colors from the granules, which are colored by a special ceramic process.

Conceal Scratches

Light scratches on furniture may be concealed by rubbing them with equal parts of boiled linseed oil, turpentine and white vinegar.

If you would like to have some new wood paneled walls installed in your home, but don't feel like paying too much for this sparkling new home improvement feature, then here is a tip. Ask your lumber dealer about lower grades of flooring, either Douglas fir or west coast hemlock. These come in three and four inch widths, are tongue-and-groove, and make very striking looking walls.

Start New Budget Home; Let It Grow With the Need

A complete family-size home can be started on newlyweds' budgets if the house is planned to grow economically to meet each new need for more room.

An unusual plan providing for such expansion in nine progressive stages, with only four of these steps involving construction work, is shown as Design HW-35 for The House of The Week.

This is a plan that answers dreams. You can start with a honeymoon cottage and wind up with a house big enough for children and in-laws. Or you can build the entire house at once and have a luxurious four or five-bedroom layout, a modern family room and a separate dining room.

You can start with the basic house, comprising 1,187 square feet—a modest size, close to the FHA average for the year. You can add a dining room and laundry with a combined area of 231 square feet and have a medium-size dwelling of 1,418 square feet. By finishing the upstairs, you can add 480 square feet of floor space, getting a total of 1,898 square feet of livable area—a comfortable big house. And you can build with or without a basement, or partial basement, as you choose.

★ ★ ★

Rudolph A. Matern, architectural authority on small homes, planned this house to grow in the following nine ways:

1. The basic unit may be built first as a one-bedroom house in which the master suite in front is used as your bedroom and the rear room (No. 1) becomes a den or study.

2. When there's a new arrival in the family, or mother-in-law moves in, a sliding wall is installed in the master suite and the rear bedroom becomes your master bedroom. This partitioning of the front suite can create one bedroom (No. 2) and a den or study (No. 3).

3. When a third bedroom is needed, the den becomes bedroom No. 3. A fold-away bed would let this room double as a part-time study or den. If both front rooms are used for children, the sliding wall is a versatile separator—open for play hours and closed for sleeping.

4. By this time or possible before, a porch may be added as construction expansion No. 1.

5. With increased family size, a laundry and a family room would help to make life easier. This can be accomplished by enclosing the porch as construction expansion No. 2 and the original dining room becomes a family room.

BASEMENTLESS construction is simplified for Design HW-35. A separate conversion sheet is included with all blueprints for this house. It shows how to adapt the plan for building over a crawl space, part basement or on a concrete slab.

Modern heating and air conditioning plants can be placed in crawl spaces or in attics. The ground floor laundry in this plan eliminates another need for basement space. Additional storage is provided under the roof in space not required for upstairs bedrooms.

6. With increased income and a new car, a garage may be the next step and this is construction expansion No. 3. An option would be to make the garage the first expansion, separated from the house by a breezeway which could later be enclosed for the new dining room and laundry.

7. With an additional member of the family arriving, the next expansion area is upstairs. Bedroom No. 4 and a short attic hall to the stairway can be finished as construction expansion No. 4. The rear dormer for this room can be built during the original house construction, or if the budget is tight, it can be created when the fourth bedroom is needed.

8. A home with four bedrooms occupied requires more than one bathroom. The upstairs bath meets this need. Water, waste and heat lines should be installed when the house is built to avoid disturbing finished work on the main floor.

★ ★ ★

9. The fifth bedroom is the last to be finished. If a fifth bedroom is never required, this attic space provides a fine secluded study, or a children's play area.

Tells Lighting Purposes

The three main purposes of adequate fixture lighting, according to the American Home Lightting Institute, are: First, to cast general room illumination; second, to provide light for certain visual tasks such as cooking, reading, sewing; and third, to provide accent light to enhance interior decor.

NEWS VIEWS

I wonder how we got so tense all of a sudden. It seems that last year Americans spent $100 million on the new tranquilizing pills. These are sometimes called "happiness pills" . . . because they are supposed to relax you like a bucket of ashes. However, there are some people, including a lot of doctors, who are beginning to wonder if we're not carrying the whole idea too far. Here we are in the land of the free and the home of the brave, with greater prosperity than ever before in history, and more leisure time on our hands . . . yet we're snapping up tranquilizers like hot peanuts. Maybe a few worries are good for us. They keep us on our toes . . . and help us grow. Happiness doesn't come in pills . . . we have to earn it.

After looking through the society columns, a fellow says he's happy to see that with all the trouble in the world today there are still folks who worry about which fork to use.

There's never been a better time for calling this the "Land of Opportunity." Our operations grow more exciting every day, as we keep posted on the variety of fine business opportunities available in the Pontiac area and throughout the State. Use Vat Colored Fabrics for Colors That Won't Run

If you buy vat colored fabrics for your draperies or slip covers, you will find that you can wash them without any worry about color running or fading. The secret of vat color's lasting appeal is in the preparation and application of the dyes in cotton, viscose rayon or linen. The application of vat color's is a carefully controlled step-by-step chemical process that eventually impregnates the vat colors into each fiber of the material . . . for life!

Take cotton for instance. Most cotton taken from the loom contains a sizing material which makes its both coarse and stiff.

Then the fabric is rolled over hundreds of tiny fiber jets and the flames singe off a fuzzy layer of lint. It is put in a solution that removes the starching properties and leaves the material limp and pliable.

Next it is scoured at boiling temperature and bleached. It is then ready for dyeing. The vat color can be introduced in any one of three processes during which the dye is applied to the material in solubule form, and then made permanently insoluble by oxidation of the material. After this process the material is washed and dried.

In this process the color does not merely lie on the surface of the material, it is deep dyed into each fiber and so possesses the maximum fastness to light, chlorine, washing, rubbing off, perspiration and dry cleaning.

If your slip covers or draperies are vat dyed you can launder them to perfection in your washing machine . . . and the color will never fade.

Just remember that one divan and one chair slip cover make a washer load . . . so don't overload your machine.

If you have an automatic dryer, it is advisable to remove the covers while they are still damp to the touch and to place them on the furniture to assure a smoother fit when completely dry. If you do not have a dryer, stretch the covers on two lines for drying to assure fewer wrinkles, and again place them on the furniture while slightly damp.

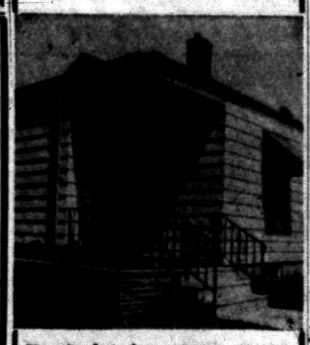

Whether you wash your slip covers or dry clean them, you can be sure vat colored fabrics will never fade or bleed. Vat colors are special chemical dyes that will last the lifetime of your cotton, rayon or linen fabrics.

Industry Spawns Near Boston

Rolling Hills Converted to Gold-Paved Highway

BOSTON (INS)—The old saying about opportunity, "Thar's gold in them thar hills" can be changed today to "there are profits along that highway."

Now that the first few millions of the $33-billion federal road program are being put to use, a look at what happened along one well-placed, modern super highway is revealing.

The highway is the six-lane, limited access route 128 which cuts an 80-mile semi-circle around the fringes of suburban Boston, 10 to 20 miles from the heart of the city.

The highway's primary purpose was to ease traffic congestion in the narrow streets of the sprawling old, metropolitan area.

But as a byproduct of the highway's existence, more than $75-million of industrial construction has been completed, is under way or planned along or near the right of way.

The largest part of the construction is attractive to the eye of the motorist. Happily the day of the red brick factory with grimy little windows is past.

Most of the factories and office buildings which dot the landscape, along Rte. 128 are one and two story buildings of steel, chrome, glass, and tinted concrete and cinder. They are landscaped like country clubs.

SWANKY FACTORIES

Perhaps the swankiest factories in the world are located along a four-mile stretch of the highway in Waltham, a town which encouraged the industrial development but regulated it carefully. A zoning allows only one-acre of building to five acres of land.

The highway also brought soaring land prices. The commonwealth of Massachusetts reportedly paid an average of $300 an acre to cut through rolling farm land, scattered residential areas, swamps and rocky hillsides.

The new building brought new business, but also new expenses for the local government. Waltham, for instance, installed a $1,200,000 sewerage extension and has greatly increased snow plowing obligations.

But it is indicated there will be 25 to 30 million dollars worth of commercial building along the right of way within the city. This will be assessed at about 50 per cent of the valuation, and the tax rate is about $58 a thousand.

First Girlstown Will Open Soon

Plan to Provide Home for Teen Agers Needing Specialized Help

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The first of the State's Girlstown homes for emotionally disturbed girls will be opened at nearby Belleville within the next year.

Patterned as a miniature facsimile of the more famous Boys Town in Nebraska, Girlstown will care for girls between 10 and 15 who cannot receive the proper help in existing community facilities.

The statewide project began six years ago, but just recently was the first site found. The project is sponsored by the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs, which eventually intends to have seven homes throughout the state similar to the one at Belleville.

The Belleville home—a century-old mansion—will serve Washtenaw, Wayne, Livingston, Oakland, Lenawee and Monroe counties.

* * *

Mrs. Frank Ferris of Ann Arbor, a member of the federation's advisory committee, said Girlstown will provide a good atmosphere for the girls in home-like surroundings. It is hoped that, cared for properly, the girls will be rehabilitated and permitted to return to their homes.

★ ★ ★

The teen agers at Girlstown will attend local public schools, Mrs. Ferris explained.

She said the institution will not serve as an orphanage nor will there be any girls who are not of normal learning ability.

Cost of Living Climbs – Hits All-Time High

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living rose two-tenths of one per cent in December to a new all-time high, the government reported today. The total increase in consumer prices during 1956 was nearly 3 per cent.

* * *

The bureau of labor statistics reported December rises in the cost of almost all items in the family budget except food and apparel and it said the usual January-February price decline may not occur.

The consumer price index edged up 0.2 per cent in December to 118 per cent of the 1947-49 average. A year ago it stood at 114.7 per cent.

* * *

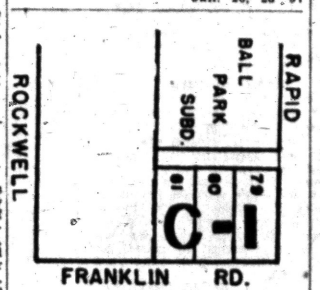

The 1956 price climb—most of it occurring in the past six months—means that the average city family is paying about $1.03 cents for the goods, services and housing that cost $1 a year ago.

BLS Commissioner Ewan Clague told the newsmen that prices normally decline in January and February but said he cannot forsee "much change" this year.

Allies Resent 'Slur' at Soldiers

British Papers Hit Dulles; His Remark Worries U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles' remark that he would rather not have a French and British soldier beside him in the Middle East brought a rash of indignant headlines today in British newspapers. But editorially the secretary was seen as a well-meaning man who talks too much.

The Dulles statement came as he was testifying yesterday before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees in support of the Eisenhower proposals for powers to block Communist expansion in the Middle East.

★ ★ ★

Dulles was asked why the Eisenhower administration had not sought a British and French commitment to help in any fight against Communist aggression in the Middle East. He replied that "serious consideration" should be given to Arab hostility resulting from the recent invasion of Egypt. Then he added: "Personally, I'd rather not have a French and British soldier beside me, one on my right and one on my left."

Every London newspaper reacted with the same "safer without British" headline theme. Editorial comment contained an almost equal mixture of resentment and amusement.

Under the headline "Britain and France not wanted," the Times described Dulles' remark as "clumsy," but dismissed it as "another of his irritating gaffs."

The staid Times acknowledged that "admittedly he was being hard pressed by the Congress committee and was no doubt tired and exasperated, but a statesman should guard his tongue."

The scholarly Manchester Guarian said "Mr. Dulles is roaming again among the prickly pears of the English language" and added:

"There are times when one knows what Mr. Dulles means and this is one of them: All the same he might have put it another way . . . Part of the truth may be that all ministers talk too much in public, but Mr. Dulles talks more than most."

The Daily Express said the remark is "likely to give offence, but the proper response to it is patience."

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials were concerned today that a remark by Secretary of State Dulles about British and French soldiers might deal a new jolt to U. S. relations with the two countries.

★ ★ ★

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White, after consultation with Dulles, tried to head off negative overseas reaction with an assurance that Dulles did not mean to insult British and French armed forces.

But it appeared from the first reaction in British newspapers that the explanation didn't do the trick. The London Daily Sketch carried a front page banner headline reading: "Dulles Insult to Forces."

The remark in question was made by Dulles yesterday while he was testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committee in support of President Eisenhower's request for special military-economic powers to block Communist expansion in the Middle East.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Morse (D-Ore), a critic of the Eisenhower proposals, said he wanted to know why the administration had not sought a commitment from the British and French to help the United States in any fight against Communist aggression in the Middle East.

In reply, Dulles said Morse ought to "give very serious consideration" to Arab hostility to the British and French because of their invasion of Egypt last fall.

Then Dulles added in a humorous vein:

"Personally, I'd rather not have a French and British soldier beside me, one on my right and one on my left."

★ ★ ★

After this comment was made British and French correspondents asked the State Department whether Dulles intended a slur on the troops of their countries.

Officials became alarmed at the possibility of what they felt might be a serious "misinterpretation" of Dulles' remark.

U. S. relations with the two big European allies have been strained since the United States denounced the British-French attack on Egypt and used its influence to force the Paris and London governments to halt the attack and withdraw their forces.

If Son Skips, Mom Pays

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP) — Mrs. Frances Carrion will serve a two-day jail term the next time her son misses a day of school. Justice of the Peace Richard I. Floyd suspended the sentence and issued the warning after the son failed to attend school all this week. The hookey-playing junior high schooler has missed 57 days this school year.

Wife Killer Convicted

DETROIT (AP) — John Bishop, 45, has been convicted of first degree murder in the shooting of his wife, Caroline, last Oct. 6. A Recorder's Court jury deliberated 75 minutes in the case. Bishop said the shooting climaxed a family argument.

Sick Boy Wills Savings to Polio, Kills Himself

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A high school boy, handicapped by polio for 11 years, apparently killed himself after willing to the March of Dimes all his savings and any money which might be spent for flowers at his funeral.

The body of 14-year-old David Putnam was found by his father in the bathtub of the family home Thursday night. A .22 pistol lay nearby and the youth had a bullet wound in his right temple.

A note to his father, an elementary school principal, outlined the March of Dimes request and was signed: "With love, David." The youth, whose left arm had been paralyzed since he was 3 years old, had saved $100 towards the purchase of a car.

Residents to Register for City Dance Class

There won't be any rock 'n' roll, but there will be plenty of opportunity to learn dances like the schottische, gavotte, waltzes, polkas, and the varsouvienne when the Pontiac Parks and Recreation begins its winter Novelty Dance Class, Feb. 5.

Classes in these dances will be held each Tuesday evening from eight until 10 at Webster School through March 5.

"We're not teaching rock 'n' roll because that's a fad and not a novelty," John A. Streit, assistant director of the department, explained.

Streit urged persons interested to register for the classes at the City Hall, or by calling federal 3-7131. Registration by couples is preferred, he added.

Austria Fears Reds, Says Victor Reuther

LANSING (AP) — Russia is looking for an excuse to crash troops into Austria just as it did in Hungary, a top union spokesman warned last night.

Victor Reuther voiced the warning last night at a Michigan CIO legislative conference as he urged unionists to bombard Washington with demands for asylum for Hungarian refugees.

Reuther, director of the UAW-CIO department of international affairs and assistant to his brother, Walter, president of the mammoth union, recently returned from a three-week trip to Europe.

"I talked to hundreds of refugees who had just crossed the border from Hungary to Austria and they all had the same fear. So did many people—responsible people—in the Austrian government.

"They all fear the same thing—that Russia is building up an excuse to cross the Austrian border."

DOWN IN DAVY JONES' LOCKER — 6

The Colorful Fish

Color the picture brightly with crayons. The ugly looking scarlet bump-head at the top left is, as his name indicates, colored a bright scarlet. Paste this picture on cardboard.

Cut out all four fish carefully and put threads through the holes as indicated. Then you will be able to draw the fish through the tank or hang them in place.

Sometimes fish seem to hang motionless in water, the movements of their fins so slight they can hardly be noticed. So, if you place the fish in different sections of the tank and fasten the threads to the cardboard strips at the top, you will have a realistic effect.

Put the fish at different depths, with some near the front and others further back. They will move gently on their strings as if alive.

Now you can move your frogmen through the tank as you like. But keep each set of figures in its row so the strings don't get tangled.

(Karyl Seaman, Oak Ridge, Tenn., receives $10 for sending in this idea. Perhaps you have an idea for Junior Editors. Send it care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Foes of Light Fantastic

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—The Sherman school board of trustees has taken under advisement a petition with more than 1,200 names asking that dancing be stricken from the physical education program of Sherman schools. The Rev. James Giles said a large number of parents expressed opposition to the program due to the social pressure they said was applied to their children when they did not participate.

New 'Tonight' Announces Oddly Contrasting Lineup

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — When the new columnist-crammed "Tonight" starts on Monday on NBC-TV in place of Kovacs and Allen, the premiere lineup will include this weird contrast in types:

Jayne Mansfield, Al Landon, Roberta Sherwood, George Gobel, Mount Sinai (NYC) Hospital's maternity ward, an atomic lab in Chicago and the poker houses—legal—at Gardena, Calif., near Los Angeles.

"Break the $250,000 Bank," which tried to get attention by offering celebs an assured $10,000, suddenly sank in its channel right after Ethel Waters won her $10,000. It was replaced without fanfare Tuesday by another quiz, "Hold That Note," which sounds like a switch on "Name That Tune."

Miss Waters (already paid the $10,000 she'd won) and panelist-musician Bobby Sherwood were going for $13,000 when the quiz left the air.

Besides Miss Waters, two other panelists of the quickly vanishing old bore also were paid off: Frederick Leuffer of Brooklyn hefted home $15,000 and Pierre Szamek of Newark ended his TV career with $10,000.

As we guessed, "21" chipped a bit of Lucy's Trendex rating (22.3 for "21" to Lucy's 36.2) but didn't affect Bishop Sheen's customary smaller but loyal TV congregation.

Perry 30.1, Jackie 23.1 . . . Jerry Lewis' first TV solo attracted a big curiosity audience (40.5 in the first half, slipping to 37.7 in the second half as the curiosity was killed by a dull show).

PICKS UP OPTION

Sid Caesar picked up Dick Lee's option and the very good boy baritone will be aboard Sid's show tonight.

Ed Sullivan signed Xavier Cugat and wife for two TV shots after Abbe Lane's virtuoso jiggling on the Steve Allen Show.

J. Fred Muggs gets his pink slip March 1 and he's not even a vice president.

Will Rogers offers $20,000 to any talking dog—limited to English-speaking pups. . . . The offer comes as a result of one of Will's producers (Bob Northshield) who thought he heard his own dog "Spotty" say "Good Morning," which just also happens to be the name of Will's CBS-TV morning klatch.

Heads M66 Association

IONIA (AP)—Allan M. Williams of Ionia Thursday was elected president of the M66 Assn., a group formed to promote travel on the Michigan route which runs from the Indiana State line to the Straits of Mackinac.

City Recreation Program Serves All Ages, Interests

The various recreational and public service facilities of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. grew in popularity and use during the past year, the annual report of the department disclosed.

More than 42,000 youngsters flocked to the city's 18 playgrounds located throughout the city. Under the supervision of 55 trained staff personnel, the children, some 705 more than those who used playgrounds in 1955, used the playgrounds, which numbered two less than operated the previous year.

Five hundred members of Pontiac's younger set enjoyed summer fun during the department's seven-period Frog Hollow Day Camp program.

Community center programs carried on at 20 different locations, mostly schools, were popular too, as 6,422 more children participated in these after-school activities than in 1955.

Wandering Buck Finds Way Home — but It's Weaker

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of the wandering dollar was marked closed today.

The one-dollar bill was issued in September 1874 by the now defunct First National Bank of Cedar Falls, Iowa. It turned up recently in a tin box belonging to a deceased customer of the National Provincial Bank Ltd. in London.

The bill then was passed on to the London office of the Hanover Bank, New York, as "a memento of historical interest."

Forwarded to Hanover's main office, the way-worn bill made the last leg of a long voyage home when it was presented to the First National Bank, Cedar Falls, nearest "kin" to the original issuer, which failed in 1893.

The note is still worth a dollar but it won't buy what it did 82 years ago.

At that time national banks could issue their own money on their holdings of treasury bonds. This practice was discontinued in 1935.
