County Valuation OK'd by State

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Jack Ruby told yesterday how he took numerous stimulant pills before killing presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald and then expressed fear that he and Oswald would be linked in the assassination.

"To the American people and the world . . . I'm going to be branded a part of a conspiracy with Oswald," said Ruby.

JACK RUBY

"You're going to forget how I felt about the beloved President Kennedy. There has been so much torment, so much hardship."

Ruby's discourse, wandering from topic to topic and punctuated with emotional pauses, came during a hearing in which attorney Joe Tonahill, who was on Ruby's trial defense team, was taken out of the case for Ruby's forthcoming sanity hearing.

Tonahill's removal was ordered by Judge Louis T. Holland, Montague, Tex., who said the question of Ruby's counsel would be settled by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals following the sanity hearing.

Cold War Vets' GI Bill Is OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee today approved a GI bill to give cold war veterans benefits similar to those received by veterans of World War II and the Korea War.

The bill, offered by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., with more than 40 co-sponsors, was approved, 11 to 5. The committee's 11 Democrats favored the measure and the five Republican members opposed it.

Yarborough told newsmen that about 5 million veterans would be eligible for educational benefits and home loan assistance under the bill.

2 Lake Orion Officials Out Following Stormy Meeting

By BILL EASTHAM
Assistant City Editor—Suburban

The village of Lake Orion is now officially without an assessor and, as of June 1, it will also be minus a full-time village attorney.

A month or so ago Village Assessor Robert Swem resigned and Village Attorney Robert V. Parenti's contract was extended for another year.

Two weeks ago Swem's resignation was withdrawn and it was announced that he would remain in office.

But when the village council adjourned last night after a stormy, three-hour session, Swem was out of a job and Parenti's contract was terminated, effective June 1.

Swem, who was elected last March by a margin of eight votes, submitted a formal letter of resignation to the council at its April 26 meeting.

Following the council's May 10 meeting Village President Clarence Rossman told The Pontiac Press that Swem's letter had been returned to him without action; that he had accepted it and would remain in office.

Rossman also said he had informed the council of Swem's withdrawal of his resignation. Last night's meeting had barely convened when Councilman Ted Cole moved that the council accept Swem's resignation.

NEW UNIT — This mobile unit, to be put into service June 7 by Family Service of Oakland County will provide confidential counseling service to outlying areas of the county.

according to Robert J. Janes, executive director of the agency. Its purchase was made possible through a $9,000 grant from the McGregor Fund.

THOMAS F. WIETHORN

GM Official to Chairman UF Division

Manager of the Pontiac Fisher Body Plant, Thomas F. Wiethorn, has been named chairman of the Industrial Division of the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Wiethorn's appointment was announced today by Calvin J. Werner, general chairman of this year's drive which begins in October. The goal has not been set yet.

Upon accepting the UF assignment Wiethorn said, "I am sure that we will get the needed support to provide the necessary services to our residents."

He added that he considered it a "privilege" to be heading the industrial division again.

Wiethorn, 2640 Broadway, Birmingham, is a former industrial division chairman and four years ago served as general campaign chairman.

Last year the industrial division raised $637,243, or 69 per cent of the total amount raised during the UF drive.

Active in various community endeavors, Wiethorn serves on the advisory board of St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

He has been manager of the local Fisher Body plant for the past 10 years, is married and has five children.

U.S. Toll in Viet Equals Spanish-American War

WASHINGTON (AP)—The combat death toll of U.S. servicemen in Viet Nam today reached 385 — equaling the battle deaths in the 1898 Spanish-American War.

The wounded in the Viet Nam War has reached a higher level than in the Spanish-American War. In 1898, in a war lasting four months, 1,682 Americans suffered wounds.

Family Service Gets New Mobile Unit

Family Service of Oakland County will now be able to give family counseling service in the western edge of the county with a new mobile unit introduced today.

Specially designed for interviews, it is the first mobile unit of its kind in the nation, according to Robert J. Janes, executive director.

The 27-foot, self-propelled, self-contained unit is divided into an interviewing room and waiting room.

The mobile unit was purchased through a grant from the McGregor Fund at a cost of $9,000. Family Service is supported by the United Foundation and the Pontiac Area United Fund and provides counseling to families and individuals in Oakland County.

The increased population of Oakland County has made it difficult to serve the large area, particularly in the western edge of the county.

Up to the present time service in this area has been restricted to the use of temporary quarters in schools, churches and halls or vacant stores, Janes explained.

FIRST SERVICE

The new unit will go into service first at Walled Lake and Milford two days a week.

It will also be used in Royal Oak Township, where the agency is temporarily without an office due to an urban renewal project in the area.

"Family Service needed more flexibility to be able to reach those who needed its services," Janes pointed out.

"We believe that the mobile unit will give us needed confidential interviewing space which will provide flexibility in a program to help troubled families," Janes said.

The idea originated with two staff members, Donna Kehoe and Hazel Randolph. The administration and board then developed the idea.

The agency now has two offices with the main office located at 2351 12 Mile, Berkeley, and a second office in the United Community Services Building, 132 Franklin Blvd., Pontiac. Eventually, the agency hopes to extend the service to areas north of Pontiac such as Orion, Oxford and Independence Townships.

The unit has its own generating plant, air-conditioning and heating units, plumbing, a built-in desk and file cabinet.

Pontiac Motor Division today reported that sales of Pontiacs and Tempests in the second 10 days of May were the highest for that period in the history of the company.

General Sales Manager E. R. Pettengill said May 11-20 sales totaled 28,333 units — a 35 per cent increase over sales in the same period a year ago.

The previous record for the period was 20,926 cars set last year. Pettengill also said that sales in the period were best for any midmonth period topping the previous high of 24,676 set in the middle 10 days of February this year.

Since the introduction of the 1965 models, Pettengill pointed out, Pontiac dealers had established 18 new 10-day sales records.

State House Votes $7,500 Pay Raise

LANSING (AP)—In a continuing attempt to "up grade the quality of the legislature" already the highest paid in the nation, the House last night voted to raise lawmakers' salaries to $17,500.

Without a vote to spare, the House passed a 50 per cent pay hike to take effect Jan. 1, 1967, providing the measure is passed in its present form by the State Senate where the bill must now go, and signed by the governor.

Debate Limited on Voting Bill

Cloture Is Approved by Senate, 70-30

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate clamped a tight time limit today on further debate on the voting rights bill urged by President Johnson. The action was regarded as assuring the measure's early passage.

The vote to put the Senate's cloture or debating-closing time into effect was 70 for and 30 against. This was three more than the required two-thirds majority.

The debate restriction limits to one hour each senator's speaking time on the bill and all amendments from now on.

Debate on the bill began April 22.

Most of the 100 senators will not make use of their allotted time and leaders were hopeful of passing the bill tomorrow, if not tonight.

KEY SPOKESMAN

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., a key spokesman for Southern senators who have denounced the bill as unconstitutional, told newsmen he intended to call up 10 or 11 more amendments but would spend only a few minutes on each.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a major architect of the administration bill, said that except for Ervin's amendments he expected only three or four others to be offered.

Dirksen said he thought the bill might be passed tonight, as did Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

SECOND TIME

This was only the second time the Senate has invoked its debate-limitation rule on a civil rights measure.

The first time was the 71-29 vote to shut off debate on last year's general civil rights bill. The vote then came on the 75th day of debate and throttled a southern filibuster.

$138.7 Million Rise Features Oakland Figure

City Total Also Up; Will Mean $239,000 Increase in Revenue

By JOE MULLEN
The State Tax Commission yesterday upheld a state equalized valuation increase of $138.7 million for Oakland County including a $21 million boost in the City of Pontiac tax base.

This will mean an estimated increase of $239,000 in revenue this year for the city.

Toughly $200,000 of the added revenue will go to the city's $6.7 million general fund which is at its charter limit of 10 mills.

The balance of the added revenue will go into the capital improvement fund.

City officials began eyeing the prospective added revenue a month ago after the Oakland County Board of Supervisors confirmed the county valuation set by its equalization committee.

MADE REALITY

Yesterday's tax commission action, concerning with the $2.247,383,400 valuation set at the county level, made the additional revenue a reality.

City officials view the nearly quarter million boost as "keep pace" money that will permit the city to meet increased costs which mount annually.

The hike should put Pontiac's equalized valuation at $366,315,648.

Total equalized valuation for the state was set at $27.08 billion.

Yanks, Vietnamese Disagree on Identity of Four Jet Raiders

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Four planes made a strafing attack on a South Vietnamese outpost just south of the border with North Viet Nam today, a Vietnamese command report said but had evidence reports the planes were Communist MIGs, but a U.S. military spokesman in Saigon said they were U.S. jet fighters that had strayed off course.

Five Vietnamese were wounded in the attack.

The U.S. spokesman in Saigon said an initial investigation showed that 20mm shells were fired by the planes at the Gia Lam outpost five miles south of the 17th Parallel dividing Viet Nam.

tion, a statewide increase of $733 million.

It was the second highest increase in the state's history, exceeded only in 1960 when valuation soared $2.4 billion over the prior year.

FOLLOW-UP HEARING

The equalized valuation, on which local property taxes are based, was set following a State Board of Equalization hearing in Lansing.

Rates set by several county boards of supervisors were altered by the Tax Commission as the final valuation figure. It established was $2.36 billion above the totals submitted by the county boards.

Oakland County's valuation was determined by the equalization committee of the board of supervisors headed by chairman Vance Fouts. It was approved April 27 by the supervisors.

Based on the new equalization figure, property taxes will produce $36.7 million at a 15-mil statutory tax rate for budgets of Oakland County government, school districts and township governments.

$2 MILLION MORE

This would mean about $2 million more than last year in tax revenues due mainly to new construction in the area.

Fouts reported that his committee had examined properties and compared assessment rolls of all townships and cities in the county prior to setting equalization figures.

New Plot to Kill French Leader?

Six Jailed in Alleged Assassination Plan

PARIS (AP) — Police today announced the arrest of six Secret Army plotters they said were part of the ruse that tried to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle last August with a badly trapped flower pot.

The police said the same gang had planned to try again with a bomb trapped to a World War I bomber. Georges Clemenceau during de Gaulle's tour of western France last week.

de Gaulle and several members of his Cabinet escaped death last Aug. 15 while at a ceremony in southern France.

An ornamental flower pot at the foot of a staircase leading to a military museum had been loaded with explosives, which were to be tossed off by a radio signal. The timing system failed to function.

NEAR STATE

Interior Ministry officials said today that the Secret Army gang had fashioned a new electronically controlled bomb which they planned to hide in or near a statue of Clemenceau at Saint-Denis, in west-central France. The explosives were to have been fired as de Gaulle laid a wreath at the statue.

Apparently the plotters were arrested before they could plant the explosives.

Police said those arrested were:

- Yves Boissignol, 27, student agricultural engineer from Grignon; Robert Conlon, 47, grower at Aubagne; Charles Destandeu, 37, doctor from Menton; Gilles Luciani, 60, director at a school at La Roche; Pierre Agami, 49, insurance agent from Roquebrune-Cap-Ferrat; and Armand Botton, 31, farmer from Menton.

RING LEADER

Authorities said the leader of the ring was Jean-Jacques Susini, one of the right-wing leaders who tried to reverse de Gaulle's policy of independence for Algeria.

Susini, who once worked closely with ex-Gen. Raoul Salan, is at large in Europe. Salan, former head of the terrorist Secret Army Organization, is serving a life prison term.

PETROLEUM STORAGE

U.S. Air Force planes blasted a petroleum storage area near Vinh, in North Viet Nam today, and the pilots reported they left the target area engulfed in flames and smoke.

Military spokesmen said eight F105 Thunderchiefs, supported by four other F105s hit the petroleum site 140 miles south of Hanoi and dropped 24 tons of 750-pound bombs. They said the pump house and all adjoining buildings were destroyed and there were many secondary explosions.

Safety Walks Are Proposed

Construction of elevated walkways at four locations by September to provide greater safety for schoolchildren was proposed last night by the Waterford Township Board.

Cost of the project would average $13,000 per location to be shared equally by the township and school system over a 10-year period.

Elevated walkways were proposed over Elizabeth Lake Road for Stringham School, over West Walton for Grayson and Mason Junior High School, over Williams Lake Road for Schoolcraft School and over Pontiac Lake Road near North Cass Lake Road for Leggett and Cray Junior High School.

The proposal to erect the five-foot wide steel walkways will be referred to the school board.

If it agrees on the cost sharing, bids for the job would be sought immediately.

ACTION STARTED

The school board initiated action last year for greater walking safety for children by proposing installation of sidewalks throughout the township.

Due to estimated costs of $1 million, the township board had tabled the proposal. Sidewalks, however, are being required in new subdivisions.

Dominican Accord Remains Elusive

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican rebels were optimistic today and the Americans pessimistic about prospects for a coalition government. The junta showed no sign of giving way.

A rebel spokesman said negotiations to form a government headed by Antonio Guzman Fernandez, minister of agriculture under deposed President Juan Bosch, were "very advanced." Other rebel sources said the talks were nearing "a successful conclusion."

The Washington Post reported Monday night that President Johnson has ordered a team of FBI agents into the Dominican Republic to investigate the extent and nature of Communist influence in the Caribbean nation.

Court Ruling Sought by Ousted General

LANSING (AP) — Dismissed State Adjutant General Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald said Monday he will ask the courts to decide whether Gen. George Romney was justified in firing him for malfeasance.

"I am deeply aware of the fact you have found my actions as adjutant general were 'with the highest possible motives,'" McDonald said in a letter to Romney.

McDonald announced his decision after meeting with a citizens committee which paid his legal expenses for a 93-hour hearing before the governor.

The committee said it "enthusiastically supports" McDonald's decision.

NEW ATTORNEY

Committee chairman James F. Anderson of Lansing said a new attorney, George E. Bushnell Jr., would handle the appeal.

Romney announced last Friday he had found McDonald guilty of malfeasance, misfeasance and gross neglect of duty in connection with irregularities in the Michigan military establishment.

He also found Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert, state quartermaster general, guilty of malfeasance and gross neglect. But he reinstated Neifert effective June 8 — at the end of a seven-month suspension without pay.

Bushnell said questions to be raised on appeal include whether Romney should have convened a military court martial rather than face the case himself and whether facts established at the hearing were serious enough to warrant McDonald's dismissal.

FINAL ANSWERS

"I believe the governor would be among the first to say the general should have the final answers," Bushnell said from Detroit.

Romney was out of town Monday and not immediately available for comment.

McDonald and Neifert were accused of failing to inform the State Military Board of alleged illegal land transactions at Camp Grayling and alleged illegal use of local army funds to buy equipment for the camp and Lansing headquarters.

Romney said McDonald had instituted the questioned practices and that Neifert had stopped the army spending system.

Bolivians Sign a Cease-Fire

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Bolivia's military junta and its tin miners agreed last night to a cease-fire calling for an end to the miners' eight-day-old strike and withdrawal of troops from the mines.

The truce was signed after a battle between government forces and workers in the industrial suburbs of La Paz which continued into last night. At least 19 persons were killed and more than 70 wounded.

Heavy casualties were reported in mining centers south of the capital where miners tried to repel troops under government orders to occupy the state-owned mines.

The cease-fire agreement was signed by Gen. Alfredo Ovando Candia, the armed forces commander, and leaders of the Bolivian Drivers Union who have been mediating the dispute between the junta and the leftist miners union.

Radio Mendez in La Paz said representatives of the two factions will meet in the capital to implement the agreement. The broadcast said it now stipulates that:

- The miners will call off the strike they may lift to protest deportation of their leader, former Vice President Juan Lechín.
- The junta will pull its troops out of tin mines they have occupied and stop their advance on other mining centers.
- Bloody rioting erupted in La Paz last week following the start of the strike, and the junta sent 17 labor leaders into exile in Paraguay to join Lechín.

Principal speaker following the 6:45 dinner will be Jess Foster, scout executive of the Nottawa Trails Council, Battle Creek.

Foster will speak on "Scouting, 1965 Model — Turning Today's Challenge Into Tomorrow's Opportunity for Boyhood."

Additional meeting highlights will include election of council officers and executive board members for the coming year, and presentation of the Silver Beaver Award — the council's highest honor for distinguished service — to four adult volunteer leaders.

The Clinton Valley Council, one of the largest in the Midwest, consists of four districts.

The organization is responsible for delivering the scouting program to more than 11,500 boys and 3,700 adult volunteer leaders in 75 communities comprising 90 per cent of Oakland and Macomb counties.

City Commission OKs Peripheral Road Plans

BIRMINGHAM — Plans for a peripheral road through the downtown area were accepted by the City Commission last night, but no action was taken to implement the proposals.

Further study of the one-way street system will be made by the city administration.

The plan is a corrected and revised version of one submitted in late March by the traffic consulting firm of Lloyd B. Reid and Associates of Southfield.

No change was made in the major recommendation of making Oakland, Willets, Chester, Brown and Hunter the route of the ring road. Traffic would travel counter clockwise on the streets.

The Michigan State Highway Department will be contacted to learn its reaction of using Hunter as the east leg of the route.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, a $21,250 contract was awarded to the Chisum Construction Co. of Birmingham for the construction of a fire department training tower.

The firm was the lowest of five bidders. The high bid was $27,900.

The tower is to be built at the Adams Fire Station and will be completed within 80 days.

A series of five classes in external heart massage will begin tonight at the Chesterfield fire station, 1600 W. Maple.

The lifesaving course is sponsored by the Birmingham Area Fire Department.

To Present Revision for R44 Project

A revised financial plan for Pontiac's R44 urban renewal project is to be presented to the City Commission tonight.

The revised plan would lengthen the time limit on the project from Aug. 31 this year to March 31, 1967.

In addition to the new completion date, the revised plan hikes the project's net cost from its present $1.6 million to $2.5 million.

Increased costs are due to a reduction in the appraised value of R44 land which has dropped from $983,950 to $610,524.

Also, the revised R44 plan provides for the acquisition of the Lewis Furniture Company building, which previous plans had not provided for.

SEEK APPROVAL

Local urban renewal administrators will ask City Commission approval to submit the revised plan to Chicago renewal authorities for approval.

The commission is also scheduled to make three appointments to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees. Three terms expire in June.

In other business, commissioners are to receive a request from Attorney James L. Howell on a pending rezoning for property adjacent to the Columbia Avenue Extension of the Pontiac Boys' Club.

The rezoning was deferred two weeks by the commission with the understanding that negotiations would be held to resolve the issue.

OPPOSE PROPOSAL

Representatives of the Boys' Club and other area residents have opposed the proposed multiple housing rezoning.

Howell is expected to ask that the commission hold off reconsideration of the matter for an additional 30 days.

Three Escaping Convicts Killed

Guards Open Fire; 2 Others Recaptured

PARCHMAN, Miss. (AP)—Three convicts were killed by guards yesterday in a daring daylight escape attempt on the 18,000-acre Mississippi State Prison farm.

The watching guards opened fire when a guard, being marched to a gate as a hostage, struggled free from a convict who was holding him with a knife poised at his throat.

Two of the five prisoners making the break leaped into a prison truck and got away—only to be captured at a road-block 30 miles away less than two hours after the midday escape.

Supt. C. E. Breazale said the prisoners were armed with the knife and two homemade "zip" guns equipped to fire shotgun shells. It was not explained how they got the weapons.

The episode occurred at Work Camp Five, one of a number of barracks like housing units on the Mississippi delta prison, where convicts raise cotton. The camp is about a mile from headquarters.

MAXIMUM SECURITY
A few prisoners are kept in maximum security cells at Parchman but most of them do farm work.

Breazale said Sgt. Kenneth Bagwell was seized in a dining hall, and marched to a gate with the knife at his throat. When he grabbed the knife hand, the guards opened fire.

Bagwell received a minor wound on his arm. He was the only prisoner employee hurt.

Killed were Henry Ernest, serving a sentence for murder; Emory Waltham, serving a burglary sentence; and William Hill, serving a burglary sentence.

KILLED AT GATE
Ernest and Waltham perished at the gate. Hill died shortly afterward in the penitentiary hospital.

Breazale said the convicts also grabbed an inmate helper in the dining hall and there were unconfirmed reports the "call-boy" received minor wounds. The convicts captured at the roadblock near Webb on U.S. 49 were Michael Ewing and Mul-coll Houston.

Teen-Ager Killed in Fall Into Old Gold Mine Shaft

CENTRAL CITY, Colo. (UPI)—A 17-year-old high school choir boy hiking in the Colorado Rockies near this rustic old mining town fell 300 feet to his death down an abandoned gold mine shaft tonight.

A rescuer discovered the body of Craig Stenseng of Edgewater, Colo., a Denver suburb, about five hours after he tumbled down the 600-foot shaft.

Gilpin County sheriff officers said the narrow mine shaft prevented efforts to bring the body to the surface.

T. J. Jennings, a Central City mine official, found Stenseng's body when he was lowered for the second time into the mine.

AF Academy Tests Are Locked in Safes

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Air Force Academy instructors now keep examinations in locked safes until they are ready to test cadets, officials said today.

This appears to be the chief way in which security at the academy has been tightened in the wake of a cheating scandal which led to the resignation of 109 cadets earlier this year.

The cadet wing of about 2,500 has not been subjected to any special surveillance, it was indicated.

2 Village Officials Out After Meeting

A heated discussion developed between Cole and Rossman, who accused the councilman of bringing out of order, offering such a resolution before the bills and other matters were taken care of.

Cole in turn accused Rossman of telling The Press that Swem would stay in office without tell-meeting to order and called for a roll-call vote.

All voted to accept Swem's resignation except Rossman, who abstained, and his father, Councilman Lewis Rossman, who voted no.

The meeting then proceeded to more routine matters and remained relatively calm for a couple of hours. The calm was shattered, however, when Rossman played his trump card in the form of a letter from the attorney general's office to Rep. Robert J. Slingerland, Lake Orion Democrat.

"The council not only failed to consent to such an appointment but also adopted a resolution extending the term of the former village attorney for an additional year. Mr. Rossman inquires as to the legality of such action by the village council."

The letter went on to explain that under state statutes, the president shall "by and with the consent of the council" appoint such officers as the charter provides.

"The above action clearly places the appointing power in the president of the village. True, the consent of the council is also required and it is the prerogative of the council to refuse to consent to such an appointment."

EXTENT OF AUTHORITY

However, that is the extent of the authority of the council. It has no authority to appoint such an officer."

As soon as he read the letter, Rossman informed Parents that "your services are terminated as of June 1, and you will receive no remuneration after that date."

The council immediately exploded with angry comments.

Councilman Robert D. Stokes told Rossman, "I don't see how you can fight for a man who promises the way you do."

ONLY COMMENT

Parents' only comment was, "I shall continue to function as village attorney until June 1."

Rossman told the council that Prosecutor Jerome S. Bronson would provide legal council for the village on a per diem basis until permanent arrangements can be made.

The president said later that Tempin, a former assistant prosecutor whom Rossman attempted to appoint as village attorney last month, is still available for the job.

He offered no comment when asked when or how he intended to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Swem.

Second Vote Scheduled on Bond Issue

ROMEO — A $14 million school bond issue will be resubmitted to voters in the June 14 school election.

A citizens committee petitioned the school board with 2,540 signatures last night, asking that the issue be put up for another vote.

Fifty per cent of the registered voters, or 2,200 signatures, were needed to get the proposal back on the ballot. Without the petition, it would have been six months before it could be resubmitted.

The proposal was defeated April 12 by a 416 to 372 vote. It was to have been used for additions to the junior and senior high school and a new elementary school near the corner of Campground and 29 Mile.

It would have raised school taxes in the district by 3.29 mills ($3.29 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation).

Supt. T. C. Filpula said the same proposition will be resubmitted.

Women's Group Plans Church Dinner, Bazaar

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Howarth Methodist Church will hold a dinner and bazaar Wednesday.

The affair will begin at 5 p.m. at the church, Silverbell and Bald Mountain roads.

Board Okays New School

Farmington Approves Pact With Architect

FARMINGTON — The board of education last night added another new elementary school to its current building program.

The $558,000 unit is to be built in the northeast corner of Farmington Township.

While setting the budget for the construction, the board authorized the signing of a contract with Linn Smith Associates of Birmingham.

The architectural firm now is engaged in preliminary planning for the unit, which will contain 12 regular classrooms and two kindergarten rooms.

Site for the school is at the end of Oakcrest east of Old Farmington subdivision.

When completed in September 1966, the school will have a 400-student capacity.

The board plans to open bids on the construction in two months.

Funds for the school were included in a $5-million bond issue approved by district property owners in 1963.

The building will be the district's 17th elementary school.

LARKSHIRE 16TH

The 16th - Larkshire - now is under construction on Tuck Road south of 10 Mile between Orchard Lake and Middle Belt.

Workmen now are putting up the exterior walls of the school, which is to be completed by this fall.

Other building projects now going on in the district include a 24-room addition to North Farmington High School. With the expansion, the three-year-old unit will be able to accommodate 1,500 rather than 970 students.

A similar addition to East Junior High School will increase its capacity from 810 to 1,530. That building now is in its second year of operation.

Also under construction now are library additions to Middle Belt and Bondy elementary schools.

To Assess Residents for Street Widening Despite Objections

ROCHESTER — Residents on Parkdale will be assessed for widening of the street from 20 to 30 feet in spite of several objections at the Council meeting Monday night.

According to Village Engineer William Sinclair, the cost to each property owner will be about $440 per linear foot, including the curb and gutter.

Residents claim they were not notified of the assessment until the street was partially out up. They also said the increased width of the street is "more likely to hurt the neighborhood than to help it."

Councilmen pointed out that several months ago, residents at a meeting unanimously favored a 30-foot wide street which would exclude parking.

The original plan was to increase the street to 36 feet but residents said this would leave only six inches between the curb and sidewalk on each side. They warned of the danger to children in such a short distance between road and sidewalk.

NO ONE THERE

"Where has everyone been?" asked Councilman Louis Mitzel-feld. "The assessments were posted April 26 and not one person showed up for the public hearing."

PUBLIC HEARING

Village Manager Richard N. Don pointed out that a public hearing must be held before anything is decided.

He said there has been "constant pressure" on the council "to do something" about Parkdale.

Bids on the project will be opened June 8.

Other residents protested a proposed rezoning on West University from Madison to Ludlow.

MEDICAL OFFICES

Dr. Nick C. Rendziperis has asked that the property be rezoned from multiple residential dwelling to O-1 Office, which would allow for medical offices.

His request for rezoning a smaller section was turned down two weeks ago because it would have meant "spot" zoning.

As requested, he obtained the signatures of residents in the area in question.

The objectors explained that "this is one of the nicest entrances to Rochester and that others would spoil the appearance."

Corn Contest Entries Sent Out

Entry blanks for the 1965 Oakland County Corn Contest were sent to area farmers last week by the local Cooperative Extension Service office.

Jay Poffenberger, extension agent, agriculture, sent an accompanying note encouraging farmers to enter the contest and return their filled-in entry blanks as soon after planting as possible.

Purpose of the annual contest is to encourage farmers to experiment and try new methods, fertilizers, weed controls and seed.

A careful record is kept of methods of tillage, amount and kind of fertilizer and herbicide, as well as kind of hybrid and plant count per acre.

At harvest time, the yield from a measured plot is accurately recorded to determine the yield per acre.

BASIS OF YIELD

The winners are determined on the basis of yield as well as cost of production per acre.

Last year's winning yield was 154.7 bushels per acre on the contest plot, compared to a county average of about 75 bushels, Poffenberger said.

AREA NEWS

ing the council or permitting the council to act on the assessor's resignation.

ARRIVES LATE

Swem arrived a few minutes late at the meeting and found himself defending his position from the hallway before he had a chance to find a seat in the crowded council chambers.

He reiterated his argument that the assessor's books should have been turned over to him when he was sworn into office, alleging that the council was in violation of both the village charter and stated law in not seeing that he received the books at that time.

Councilman William O'Brien pointed out that it has long been a custom for the outgoing assessor to complete the books for the current year before turning them over to the incoming assessor.

Swem has obtained an attorney general's opinion on the legality of the "custom" and was informed that he would have to take the matter to circuit court, as the attorney general's office does not become involved in such matters.

HEATED DISCUSSION

After nearly 30 minutes of heated discussion between Swem, councilmen and spectators, Rossman gaveled the

Avondale Schools to Greet Starters

It is designed to acquaint parents and children with kindergarten procedures and to handle the pre-enrollment of the children for next year.

Parents of all preschoolers who will be 5 years old by Dec. 1, 1965, are requested to visit their neighborhood elementary school and bring their child's birth certificate.

The council had indicated dissatisfaction with the slow service of the Tri-County Sanitation Co., Inc. The firm was hired by the City May 1.

Representatives of the firm met with the council last night to discuss the problem. City Manager Paul York said they promised "an all-out effort" to improve the service.

WAR PREDICTION — Financier industrialist Cyrus Eaton is shown at a Detroit news conference yesterday where he predicted that the U.S. will be at war with China and Russia in "a week to four weeks" unless the United States ceases bombing North Viet Nam. The 81-year-old Cleveland resident returned Sunday from a tour that took him to Prague, Budapest and Moscow.

Predicts N. Viet Bombing to Bring Full-Scale War

DETROIT (AP) — Unless the United States ceases bombing North Viet Nam, financier-industrialist Cyrus C. Eaton predicted Monday, this country will be at war with China and Russia in "a week to four weeks."

Eaton, 81-year-old chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co., returned Sunday from a tour that took him to Prague, Budapest and Moscow.

"In my sober judgment, we are on the brink of a catastrophe, and unless some miracle occurs in the next month I feel mankind is doomed," Eaton said in a speech before the Economic Club of Detroit.

At a later news conference, Eaton said there was "great probability" the "catastrophe" would be nuclear war. Asked how long before it would come barring change, he replied: "A week to four weeks."

CONFERENCES

The Cleveland elder executive said his recent trip included conferences with Russia's Premier Aleksei Kosygin and President Anastas Mikoyan, as well as with Premier Janos Kader of Hungary and President Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia.

Recalling a meeting with Kosygin last Thursday, Eaton said he never had seen a man "so serious, so wrought up," and that "the burden of his (Kosygin's) remarks was that the United States had declared war on the Soviet Union."

He quoted Kosygin as saying Russia was committed to the protection of North Viet Nam and was "left no alternative but to fight, go in with everything we have, and we will." He added Mikoyan expressed a similar view.

At one point, in his news conference, Eaton asked, "Who says the people of South Viet Nam want our form of government?"

ON VIET NAM

At another point, he snapped his fingers and said "Viet Nam doesn't mean that to us."

He advocated trade with the communist bloc and was critical of U.S. policy makers, including by name President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara.

Women Find Careers in Heaps of Rubbish

SARANAC (AP) — Mrs. Iva Bennett, 32, and her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Chase, 42, have invaded a field once thought to be a man's world. Since last fall they have been operating a garbage and rubbish pickup route here.

"The idea was born three years ago when Mrs. Chase and her husband, Harold, an Ionia city employee, helped Charles Miller with his refuse route while he was hospitalized."

"We told him that if the time ever came when he wanted to get rid of it, we'd take it," says Mrs. Chase. The time came and they took the route.

Their original truck was a 1949 model. When it started acting its age, Mrs. Chase took on the job of overhauling the motor with an assist from her husband.

"He gave me a new truck for Christmas," she says.

The sisters average about three loads a day which they take to the Saranac dump. They visit households on their route on a prearranged schedule. They charge a flat fee, but extra work may mean extra pay.

Their unusual occupation also has brought unexpected rewards.

When they started their job, Mrs. Chase weighed 176 pounds.

"Now I'm down to 159 and Iva went from 185 in September to 175 now," she says.

They shun such extravaganzas as power lifts on the truck and lug the rubbish containers by hand. They move the 55-gallon burner barrels and rubbish containers about with apparent ease.

"I just kind of liked the work," says Mrs. Bennett. "It gives me a chance to get outside."

Practical Pointers on Motoring Miscues

The long Memorial Day weekend lies invitingly ahead for the millions of pleasure-bent Americans who will take to the Nation's highways and byways.

There is little doubt, considering the length of the holiday, that a new traffic-volume record will be set. And, with it, the likelihood that another record — a tragic one — will materialize in the totality of death and injury from highway accidents.

Unfortunately, the reiteration of casualty statistics, the repetition of rules for safe driving, the pleas for driver responsibility seem without effect in lessening the gruesome highway toll that steadily mounts.

Through the goodwill of General Motors Proving Grounds, there appears on page 26 some simple but proven rules for safe driving.

While not intended as a definitive course on the subject, the specifics offered by a qualified facility that has logged over 300 million miles of test driving is worthy the earnest and continuous consideration of every motorist.

Significantly capsuling the many constructive suggestions is this trenchant warning: "The single most important factor in driving safely is still the one that can't be built in any factory — THE DRIVER HIMSELF."

Singer Hits Sour Note in Scaling Down Cooks

A lovely young singing star of motion pictures and television made a statement the other day that can't help but interest housewives—and homemakers, too, if there is a difference between a housewife and a homemaker.

This young lady was explaining that she didn't like to cook and that fortunately she had so much dough she didn't have to.

So far, so good. But then she said: "I don't feel cooking is a challenge. If you can read and follow directions, you can cook."

That's what she thinks! Millions of homemakers and their lucky well-fed families know better. They know that the magic touch which makes mom's meals something out of this world can't be found in a cookbook. Not by a tablespoonful.

You couldn't blame these geniuses of the culinary arts if they were to retort to the young vocal artist: "And if you can read and open your mouth real wide, you can sing."

Tests Flunk in Probe for Executive Talent

Through aptitude and projective tests, business has taken much of the gamble out of personnel and junior executive hiring. But when it comes to picking future top management talent, all bets are off.

Tests in this area are generally ineffective because no one seems to have a definitive answer to what specifically makes a good manager good.

Lending authority to this practical limitation is a foremost British industrial psychologist. He says: "If it were possible to know every single detail of a person's private life, we would still not have the faintest idea of whether or not he would make a good manager in a particular firm."

And the president of a large American company implicitly echoed the Briton when he fixed the intention of his personnel department to give "projective tests" to applicants for executive jobs.

Behind his refusal was the personal conviction that had he been subjected to such a test when joining the company 20 years before, he not only would not have become its president but wouldn't even have been given a job.

The modern projective tests are highly scientific, and can tell us a great deal about the individual tested. But when used for the unscientific purpose of evaluating the abstract qualities of a potential leader they fall short in concrete revelation.

"Retail sales of autos have increased much faster than national income."—Trade note. Of course. Purchases these days are equated with personal credit—not personal income.

WHAT people do when they have nothing to do causes a lot of trouble. Efforts should be made to persuade them that when they have nothing to do, they should do nothing.

Where Are Reds in Latin Revolt?

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Whatever happened to the Communists who, President Johnson said, had taken over the revolution in the Dominican Republic?

That's one of the least clear points in all the confusion — and there has been plenty — about the revolution which started April 24 and this country's role in it. There were three stages:

1. When this country didn't even mention the Reds as a problem.
2. When this country said they had seized control of the revolution.
3. Now when U.S. officials say the Reds are not in control.

Throughout there has been one major figure, Col. Francisco Caamaño Domo, who has been in command of the rebels from the beginning and through all three stages.

When Johnson sent in the Marines April 28 he said the purpose was to save American lives in the upheaval. U.S. officials further explaining, said this country was taking no sides.

Caamaño was the rebel commander at that time.

A few days later, May 2, Johnson announced the U.S. goal in the Dominican Republic was to prevent a Communist takeover.

CAAMAÑO STILL COMMANDER

But on that date Caamaño was still called the commander.

Now Sunday, three weeks later, the Associated Press from Santo Domingo reported U.S. officials are said to be convinced that Communist leaders no longer dominate the rebel command.

And Caamaño is still the boss of the rebels.

The AP also said that, in the view of the men shaping American policy there, the Communist threat remains serious, and would quickly erupt into a new bid for power and a second Cuba if U.S. troops were withdrawn.

VARIOUS GROUPS INVOLVED

Various groups have been involved in the revolution. And no doubt Communists were. A revolution is made to order for them. Nor can there be any doubt that in the Dominican Republic, as elsewhere, they would turn it into a Communist state if they could.

But this question, despite the various official statements, hasn't been answered:

If Caamaño was rebel commander all the way through—even when Johnson said the Reds had taken control of the revolution — was Caamaño under their thumb. This writer has seen nothing to indicate he was. But, if he was, what has happened to the thumb?

Or was the information Johnson got about events in the Dominican Republic wrong or exaggerated?

Enough To Drive One Mad!

David Lawrence Says:

Voting Bill Spells Dictatorship

WASHINGTON — On the day the voting rights bill becomes law, a federal dictatorship will begin.

Some states will, for 11 practical purposes, be driven out of the union.

They will not be able — as is the privilege of all other states — to enact and enforce certain laws unless the attorney general of the United States, or perhaps subsequently a federal court, declares that such state laws may be permitted to operate.

One provision of the pending bill specifies that certain states shall not be allowed to prescribe the qualifications for their own voters if the U.S. attorney general determines that a "test or device" has been used during the five preceding years for purposes of discrimination in individual cases.

The phrase "test or device" is defined as any requirement that as a prerequisite for voting or registration for voting, a person must "demonstrate the ability to read, write, understand, or interpret" any matter, demonstrate any educational achievement or his knowledge of any particular subject, possess good moral character, or prove his qualifications by the voucher of registered voters or members of any other class.

The federal government, therefore, becomes the judge of whether certain state laws — although duplicating statutes existing in several other states of the union — shall be permitted to operate at all in what might be called "suspicious states."

BASED ON SUSPICION

While there is a provision for court review, the whole issue turns on the circumstance that what is lawful in one state of the union could be adjudged unlawful in some other state — based wholly on suspicion of alleged abuse or misuse of power.

Hitherto, whenever the Constitution has been violated, the courts have been in a position to punish the guilty individuals, including state officials.

But this is the first time that a whole state is to be deprived of its constitutional right to set voter qualifications, even though these may be identical with state laws in other parts of the country which are being left untouched.

The phrase "equal protection of the law" becomes a mockery so far as the federal government is concerned.

UNDER SUPERVISION

Since the voting-rights bill which is about to become law deprives certain Southern states of the right to set voter qualications and puts them indefinitely under supervision by the U.S. Department of Justice and the courts, efforts will be made, of course, to get the Supreme Court to pass judgment on the constitutionality of such a procedure.

Meanwhile, it is surprising that so many men in Congress who are familiar with constitutional law have hesitated to come out in the open and criticize what is being done, though privately many of them express grave doubts about the constitutionality or the wisdom of such coercive legislation.

For if the precedent is set and the Supreme Court upholds it, a federal dictatorship can be made, of course, to operate to deprive any state or group of states at any time of any rights or privileges specifically delegated to the states under the explicit words of the Constitution.

Dominican Crisis Plagues LBJ

By BRUCE BROSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — With all the bungling and confusion that has marked events in the Dominican Republic, it seems plain enough that President Johnson would make the same basic decision to move in if he had it to do over again.

The evidence: that a Communist take-over threatened was credible enough to satisfy some very cool heads in Washington.

"At last you Americans are being decisive!"

The Latin Americans obviously don't hold to that view any more. Our efforts strike some of them as painfully amateurish.

A seasoned associate of the President thinks a fundamental difficulty is that the administration saw the problem too simply at the outset. It was thought we could thwart the Reds, wave a wand over a quickly formed provisional government, and get out.

The situation, this man emphasizes, probably was never as we saw it. We were unprepared for its complexities, and we are now badly enmeshed in them.

Paramount on the list is the terrible dearth of suitable government talent. The decades of the dictator Trujillo

You only hear about a small majority of the young people—those who get in trouble. Very little is ever said about the greater majority—those who behave more like adults than some adults. Comments on Condemning of Property

After reading about the unfair authorization to condemn land in Waterford township for the use of an elementary school, I began to wonder how really safe our supposedly guaranteed rights as citizens of the United States are. Is it really fair that individuals must suffer for the progress of the majority? Is it fair that an individual owning land must either sell it for a price he feels is unfair or have our local government take action by condemning the land so that they may have it for their price?

Why don't they build schools that can be expanded? Waterford's population is growing by leaps and bounds. However, our township fathers should have been able to foresee this.

Since a child I have been taught that the United States is the greatest place to live. I still find it so, but things like this make me wonder if it is all I believed it was. I hope so.

Exec Finds U.S. Image Shining Anew in SE Asia

NEW YORK — Audrey Meadows Six, making a trip through Southeast Asia with the president of Continental Airlines, who is her husband, writes us a different sort of war correspondence out of Saigon.

"Our stock in this part of the world is definitely on the rise, much better than when Bob and I were here in November.

"One thing that has helped the entire picture, and you get this by bits and pieces in conversation rather than direct statements, is the consistent bombing going on in the North.

"Knocking out the bridges and supply routes is something everybody can understand.

"It's a good feeling to travel around knowing we have regained our national pride.

ALL-TIME HIGH

"President Johnson is praised and admired everywhere, and his stock is certainly at an all-time high in this area.

Goldwater Lectures via Phone Hookup

TAKOMA PARK, Md. (AP) — Barry Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential candidate, lectured a freshman English class at Montgomery Junior College Monday from his Phoenix home.

Connected with the class by telephone, Goldwater expounded on his book, "Conscience of a Conservative," and fielded questions from students.

In answer to one question, Goldwater named former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. George Romney of Michigan and William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania as Republicans of conservative bent who could lead the party in the next national election.

SAFE IN PORT — A 21-foot pleasure boat tied up at the Coast Guard station in St. Joseph after seven young men and women spent the night helplessly adrift in Lake Michigan. Four young men from Benton Harbor and three women from Owosso were adrift 19 hours after their engine developed trouble on a trip from Saugatuck to St. Joseph.

Romantic Boat Ride Ends in Doldrums

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Seven young people, adrift overnight in their stalled pleasure boat on Lake Michigan, were rescued unharmed Monday by the Coast Guard after hours of searching.

A plane spotted the group when a fog lifted and a Coast Guard boat towed them to shore here from five miles out on the water.

The seven — four young men and three young women — had come to grief Sunday night when the inboard engine of their 21-foot craft conked out.

The group spent approximately 18 hours on the lake in alternate rain and fog.

Parental reaction at the rescue indicated the tension that built up during the hours of search.

UNDECIDED DAD

"I don't know whether to belt him back in the lake again or hug him," said Richard L. Hooker, father of Michael Hooker, 23, one of the seven.

"How can we thank people like you?" Mrs. W. J. Kosik told Cmdr. Royce Fulcher of the Coast Guard station here.

Mrs. Kosik's son, Peter, 21, took the boat from nearby St. Joseph with young Hooker and David Wenger, 24, and George Marutz, 24, for a trip to Saugatuck, resort center about 35 miles up Lake Michigan.

The youths, all of Benton Harbor, met three Owosso girls at Saugatuck and invited them to return with them.

ENGINE FAILS

But the engine conked out shortly after they set out.

"No, never again," laughed Claire Hemond, 22, when she stepped safely on shore and was asked if she'd try a boat ride again.

Miss Hemond had accepted the ride along with Joan McAvoy, 26, and Kathy Sivak, 21.

"I was worried out of my mind," said Mrs. Kosik. "I never want to put in a day like this again."

WERE LUCKY

The unlucky mariners were lucky in one respect. Though they got wet and hungry and admitted being scared, the lake was calm and they had no trouble on that score.

From a radio on board they heard of the attempt to find them. They tried to paddle with boards they pried from boat seats but that didn't work.

The Coast Guard had some criticism. Only two of five cushions on board were equipped as lifesavers. Regulations require one lifesaver cushion for each person aboard.

Senators Oppose Pick

LANSING (AP) — Former Sen. Frederic Hilbert, a Wayland Republican, won nomination Monday as state labor commissioner and promptly ran into strong Senate opposition.

The Senate broke with custom and refused to immediately consider the appointment of a former senator, sending Hilbert's name instead to the Senate Business Committee.

"He doesn't have a labor background," said Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit. "That's been the problem with the Labor Department for too long."

Business Committee Chairman Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, said "there is some apprehension" about Gov. George Romney's appointment.

Hilbert represented the 8th District taking in Allegan, Barry and Van Buren Counties from 1960 through 1964 until he was defeated in a try for reelection.

The post pays $12,500 a year. Hilbert was named to succeed Roy Johns, whose term expired April 22.

Car Skids Into Group of Teens

SOUTHFIELD — A car skidded into a group of Southfield youths waiting for a school bus in this Detroit suburb today.

None was reported seriously injured.

Southfield police said three ambulances were needed to carry the injured to William Beaumont Hospital in nearby Royal Oak.

Officers said one of the ambulances was involved in a minor traffic accident on its way to the scene.

Ambulance driver William Harley, 24, of Highland Park, and attendant Donald Nowak, 21, of Birmingham, were treated upon arrival at the hospital for minor injuries suffered in the mishap.

WERE TREATED — Seven youngsters ranging in age from 15 to 17, and one woman, the driver of the car, were treated at Beaumont; the hospital said.

One of the youngsters, James Mancine, 17, was released immediately.

Officers identified the driver as Mrs. Helene Dyer, 48, of Wixom. She reportedly lost control of her car while trying to pass a truck and skidded sideways into the group of teenagers.

The injured, in addition to Mrs. Dyer, were identified as Kathleen Allen, 16, Linda Bakken, 15, Nancy Gray, 15, Christine Nordyke, 17, Kenneth Flowers, 16, and Patricia Davis, 15.

Rescuers Find Body of Miner

700 Feet to Go to Reach Four Others

ROBBINS, Tenn. (AP) — The body of one of the five men trapped inside a mountain mine could mine near here has been found, officials reported early today.

Rescue workers still have from 600 to 700 feet to go before reaching the other four men.

The blast, which ripped through the shaft Monday, was so strong it leveled grass and weeds for several feet outside the mouth of the east Tennessee mine.

Pockets of gas, which apparently caused the explosion, remained in the Cumberland plateau pit and posed the threat of another blast.

OVERCOME BY GAS

Three rescue workers were overcome by gas Monday night and were taken to a hospital at Oneida, 20 miles north of here.

The four men were believed trapped about 3,000 feet from mine entrance. Rescue workers, working in shifts, labored into the night trying to reach the men.

Telephone wire was strung inside the mine to set up communications. Tucker was taken in to block off rooms that had bad air and to rebuild supports.

Charlie Welch, a foreman for the Highland Telephone Co., said a seven-man rescue squad was standing by equipped with a new type breathing apparatus.

LITTLE HOPE

State mine inspectors and veteran miners all but abandoned hope of finding any of the men alive. They said the violence of the explosion left little doubt that the men died instantly.

"I don't think there is a chance for the men to get out alive," said Victor Volles, a storekeeper.

Voices and others who entered the mine said most of its timbers had been knocked loose by the explosion. Debris littered the floor of the pit.

All said they ran into a wall of dust and gas.

2nd Trusty Recaptured

The second of three trustees who walked away from the Oakland County Jail May 9 has been recaptured.

Benjamin Hargraves, 30, of 860 Scott Lake, Waterford Township, was picked up by sheriff's deputies last night at Dixie Highway and Walton in Waterford Township.

Claude L. Key, 20, of 225 E. Pike, another walkaway, was arrested last Thursday in Albany, Ga. Guy L. Pittman, 20, of Detroit, is still at-large.

The announcement of the launching came at 4:50 p.m. (9:50 a.m. EDT) nearly two and a half hours after the apparent launch itself. The Bochum Observatory in Germany reported at 7:22 a.m. EDT that it heard signals it believed came from a new Cosmos spacecraft.

Zoning Changes OK'd

Two zoning changes from single family residential to multiple dwelling were approved last night by the Waterford Township Board.

One was for a 12-acre parcel in Watkins Lake Road out of Orchard and the other concerns a two-lot parcel in Supervisors Plat 66.

Both rezoning proposals previously had been recommended by the township planning commission.

In other action last night, the board authorized taking bids for a proposed sidewalk special assessment district on Pioneer.

Estimated cost for the 161-foot project is $2.95 per front foot.

CARNIVAL PERMIT

Also last night, the board approved a carnival permit June 1-5 at the Spartan Shopping Center and authorized a July 3 fireworks permit for the Lakewood Drive Association.

A first notice of the request for transfer of a beer and wine license at 494 Clintonville from Clara and Zena Tremelin to Edward M. White was read.

Due to the Memorial Day holiday observance next Monday, the board will meet the following day at 7 p.m.

Rogers County officers fired tear gas into the home to end 2½ hours of terror which began in this town of 6,500 persons when Miss Betty Potts, 37, shot at two boys playing with a puppy.

Sheriff Amos Ward said he tried to talk to Miss Potts before entering, "but she kept calling everyone a Communist" and wouldn't listen.

Neighbors said Miss Potts had been a quiet woman who seldom did any visiting but was "a perfect neighbor and never caused any trouble."

No one was injured in the gunfire, which the meticulous junior high school English teacher carefully recorded.

Her entries told of shooting at the boys, a passing red pickup truck and at "Amos Ward," and "Pres. Johnson." Officers said she apparently had mistaken a policeman for the President.

Claremore Police Chief Buck Johnson said after the door was knocked down, and Miss Potts carried out, he found seven empty cartridges "lined up like a row of soldiers on a chest."

The teacher was taken to the psychiatric ward of St. John's Hospital, at Tulsa, 20 miles southwest of here.

Astronauts May Match Soviet Feat

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut Edward H. White II may emerge into space rather than just stick his head out of a spacecraft when he and James A. McDivitt make their four-day orbital trip starting June 3.

And McDivitt may open his hatch to help his space partner, so that both astronauts are exposed to the space environment simultaneously. He also would photograph the floating White.

Reliable sources told the Associated Press Monday night the maneuvers are being rehearsed.

The attempt would match the Russian feat of March 18, when cosmonaut Alexei Leonov took a 10-minute stroll in space.

A POSSIBILITY

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has said only that there is a possibility that White will open his hatch and expose the upper part of his body to space without emerging. Space agency officials admitted that a 10-foot tether line had been delivered to Cape Kennedy for possible use on the flight.

For the stand up maneuver, only a three-foot lifeline is needed.

The sources also reported that a new space suit — more resistant to radiation, meteoroids and temperatures had been acquired for White and that additional oxygen bottles had been obtained to strap to his legs.

No New Silver Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has reversed itself and decided against issuing 45 million silver dollars.

The decision announced Monday night came just as the first silver dollars in more than 30 years were set to roll from the Denver Mint.

The Treasury is reluctant to mint silver dollars because both silver and minting facilities are needed to meet a continuing shortage of other coins and because government supplies of silver are running short.

President Johnson announced May 15 that substantial progress had been made in reducing the coin shortage and that he therefore was ordering minting of the cartwheels authorized last year by Congress.

In reversing this decision, the Treasury said the go-ahead order was given on the assumption that it was the intent of Congress. Since May 15, the Treasury said, members of key congressional committees have asked that the order be held up.

A Treasury report due shortly is expected to recommend reduction or even elimination of the silver content of dimes, quarters and half dollars to conserve the government's dwindling stocks.

Present supply is 1.03 billion ounces — enough for more than three years at present rates of coinage. The proposed 45 million silver dollars would have consumed 38 million ounces.

Hundreds of millions of silver dollars have been issued over the years, but most have disappeared from circulation. They are popular in some Western states, but the great majority is in the hands of dealers, collectors and speculators.

The administration last year supported the silver coinage bill. It was strongly favored by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, who represents the silver-producing state of Montana and was up for reelection

Violence Hits Montreal Area

200 Are Arrested
14 Policemen Injured

MONTREAL (UPI) — Violence and teen-age rioting swept over a wide area of the city last night, capping a day of separatist-inspired Victoria Day demonstrations sparked by the blast of a homemade bomb.

About 200 persons, mostly youngsters, were arrested in the disorders. Sixty teen-agers were released last night, the others faced appearances in city police court today on a variety of charges.

At least 14 police officers were injured though none seriously, by flying bottles, rocks and bricks as the youth mobs rampaged through the streets last night.

Six police vehicles and an ambulance were damaged by rocks. Mailboxes and park benches were overturned.

Trash cans were emptied on the street and their contents set afire. Plate glass windows of several stores were smashed.

FALSE ALARMS
Fire authorities reported scores of false alarms, as did the city's police bomb squad, which began the day investigating the blast of a crude paper-wrapped bomb at a downtown insurance company building.

The worst outbreak occurred last night at the sprawling Lafontaine Park in the city's predominantly French-Canadian working class east end area.

Harassed policemen fought to keep scores of the demonstrators confined to the park and repeatedly blocked massed attempts to march out toward the downtown areas.

Though several officers were hit by flying bottles in one instance, a lighted molotov cocktail — rocks and bricks, the police refrained from using their black batons.

Firemen were called in when the demonstrators set fire to a small children's zoo and a small summer stock theater building.

Massive traffic jams in the area delayed police and fire vehicles as thousands of motorists, attracted by live radio broadcasts from the scene, flocked around the park area.

Whites in Bogulusa Want to Oust Mayor

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Angry whites, fighting any move toward desegregation, pressed today for a recall election aimed at ousting the mayor.

About 500 whites milled around a bonfire rally in a city park Monday night after the park gates were ripped away.

Mayor Jesse Cutrer Jr., and the Commission Council had closed the all-white parks here last Wednesday after about 100 Negroes, staging a test picnic, were attacked by whites.

The recall petition was started by the Bogalusa Citizens' Council after Cutrer announced the city's illegal segregation laws would be wiped off the books.

"I have to do what I think is right for the community," the mayor said. "You can't let those on the fringe lead. All I can see, otherwise, is chaos and violence and killing."

The Citizens Council accused the mayor of "going along with scalawags, carpetbaggers and outside agitators."

The council petition increased the pressure on Mayor Cutrer, 50, who has been in the uncomfortable middle between the Ku Klux Klan and civil rights workers for months.

The black-haired mayor, an ice cream manufacturer, said he will not back off from his stand.

Negroes make up about 35 percent of the 23,000 residents of this southeast Louisiana city, located in an area which the Klan claims as its own.

At Monday night's park rally, big signs reading, "This park closed indefinitely by order of Commission Council" were torn down.

There were cries of, "Let's go to City Hall." Some drove to the white-columned City Hall, which resembles an antebellum mansion, but found it closed.

About 150 then gathered outside the office of John Gallspary, a lawyer who is chairman of the Community Affairs Committee, made up of business, civic and religious leaders.

Gallspary declined to issue an immediate statement. As the crowd broke up, one of them told a newsman: "We're not giving this town to James Farmer."

Farmer is national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, which backs the Bogalusa Civic and Voters League in its civil rights drive.

It Speaks Well of Dad's Relationship With Son

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: In just a few weeks my brother is getting married. He asked Dad to be his best man, and it doesn't sound proper to me. Please give me your opinion. I would appreciate an answer in your column so he can see it, too. Thank you.

ABBY JANE
DEAR JANE: It is entirely proper and I think a beautiful gesture on the part of your brother. In these days when diamonds are a girl's best friend, how refreshing for a man's best friend to be his Dad.

DEAR ABBY: I have a pet peeve that sounds so petty and stupid that I am almost ashamed to mention it. It's people who come and sit down beside me on the piano bench while I'm playing.

ers me so much, but it does. Now you know, Abby, you can't tell someone to get up and go sit somewhere else without hurting their feelings. But it would be a big relief

Isn't Major Etiquette Faux Pas

By The Emily Post Institute
Q. My girlfriend called for me last night to go to the movies. When she rang the bell, I answered the door and told her that I would be right out.

I went back into the house to put on my hat and coat. My mother reprimanded me for not asking my friend to come in. She said I was very impolite. I would very much like to have your opinion.

A. It was not very polite to leave your friend standing outside and you really should have asked her to come in.

But if it was only a matter of a very few seconds, and moreover, you left the door ajar, it was not a serious breach of etiquette.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

A curvaceous figure can be at its height of beauty, but for swimming, it needs support and control. Oleg Cassini designs a suit for Peter Pan with a soft skirt and diagonal seams. Built in is an actual girdle and a B-cup bra that adjusts to a C-plus. Sizes 12 to 20 in stretch nylon.

Rose Marie Reid creates the one-size swim-suit that fits everybody. Fashioned in 100% stretch nylon, it may be worn with its own one-size separate bra. Without the bra, tiny swim-straps can be worn for swimming or may be tucked away for sunning. Perfect for guests at poolside or surfside, the Every-Body comes in its own plastic travel case. $12

Ship shapely... and loaded with eye-appeal, the figure-following sailor suit at left boasts racy sea stripes that fill the high tide peckline. A crisp pleated skirt swings long on the torso. A double breasted row of "navy" buttons and contrast soutache trim adds a final nautical air to this one-piecer. By Bobbie Brooks. The back-to-nature influence seen in swimwear last season with the topless suit is now being tempered with a naughty but nice approach, as shown at right by Jantzen.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice C. Wright of Pon Valley Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Ann to Daniel Blar Groves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Groves of Beverly Hills. The bride-elect was a former student at Oakland University and her fiancé attended Western Michigan University. Mid-October vows are planned.

The John B. Olsons of Middle Straits Lake have announced the engagement of their daughter, Bonnie Jean to Clark William Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Barnes of Westwood Drive, Commerce Township. An Oct. 23 wedding date was set at the announcement dinner in Edgewood Country Club. Mr. Barnes is a senior at Pontiac Business Institute.

Your Brother Is Living in Secret Terror

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Whenever my nephew, B., comes to our house, the first thing he wants to do is to put on one of my daughter's dresses.

He is a bright boy; but his effeminate ways are a terrible worry to my brother though he never mentions them. I know that the boy is the cause of most of the trouble between him and my sister-in-law. She coddles the boy.

Recently he came to a meal with his head draped in some chiffon he had found in my daughter's rag bag. His mother laughed but my brother left the house.

ANSWER: Are you telling me that the problem is possibly homosexual trends in this child?

I don't think it is. I think it is your brother's willingness to live in secret terror of these possible trends in the child instead of hauling him off to a psychological clinic and saying, "Is my son sick? If he is, let's start trying to make him well."

However, the boy's healthy development is not my point. His father's is.

To be willing to live in secret apprehension that a child is developing abnormally, whether the abnormality is homosexual trends, mental retardation or any other deviation tells us that we have a problem—a problem of arrogance.

We are victims of the proud belief that we are responsible for the abnormality. Secretly, we believe we held the power to alter the circumstances which produced it—and failed to alter them.

This is not only an arrogant belief but an unrealistic one. The circumstances which produce abnormalities in children are uncontrollable and beyond our power to alter.

If we married a woman who chooses to feminize our son, the forces which attracted us to her, such a woman were unknown to us; and we cannot be held responsible for their results. But we are responsible for refusing to be punished for those results.

We are responsible for getting up on our hind feet and saying to the woman who finds our son's effeminacy amusing. "This is not funny to me. I am through suffering over it. And I'm taking my son to a clinic so that he can be turned back into the boy he is."

I don't know whether you can get your anguish-loving brother to do something about his pain.

But I can tell you one thing: Nothing better could happen to his son than to see his father claim his rights as a man and a father as nothing worse could happen to him than to see that father continue to cooperate with his destructive mother.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. What causes warts and how can I get rid of them? My friends have told me about all sorts of remedies, but I am afraid to try them.

A. Warts are caused by a virus. This can be picked up practically any place if you have a break in the skin. Sometimes warts disappear spontaneously without any treatment. Do not try to treat them yourself. They can be easily removed by a dermatologist.

Q. I am a 14-year-old girl and I weigh 107 pounds. I have a medium build and am only 5 feet tall. Do you think I am overweight? Do you have any exercises that will increase my height?

A. You are overweight. You should weigh about 95 pounds. This isn't a lot to lose. Just leave off between-meal snacks and rich desserts. Improved posture is the only way to increase height.

Q. What would be an ideal weight for me? I am 16 years old, 5 feet 2 and weigh 120 pounds. My measurements are 35-24-35 inches. I have a small frame. What should my girlfriend weigh? She is 5 feet 2 and weighs 87 pounds?

A. About 105 pounds for both of you.

If any of my readers would like to have my booklet "Your Bust" which gives you directions for developing and maintaining an attractive bustline, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for that booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Polly's Pointers

Using Old Hula-Hoop

DEAR POLLY: Our new home has a shower in the basement but there was no shower stall around it.

My husband took a Hula-Hoop, fastened it around the top of the shower with screws and then hung two shower curtains around this hoop frame.

We now have a wonderful stall with plenty of room. MRS. M.V.

DEAR POLLY: Storing the rings from coming top the ring to present a real problem. I open a wire coat hanger, turn a big ring with the lower part around a hook on the end and loop it around the original hanger hook. I slip the ring on the big wire ring which hold many of them.

When ready to use the tops again, I just hang this gadget near my canning center, open the hook and they are easy to take off as needed. MABEL.

DEAR POLLY: Keep a chamois skin in one of the kitchen drawers so it is handy for polishing bright appliances like the toaster and waffle iron. It keeps them shiny and neat.

I saw a hint I had sent in published under someone else's name and have been watching the mail for an acknowledgment and the dollar but it hasn't come. Anyway, undaunted, I am trying again. MRS. R. J.

MRS. R. J. AND GIRLS: I am sorry when any of you have the experience Mrs. R. J. had but often we receive many, many duplicates of the same hint. Even though you may feel yours was sent in long enough before so that it should be first, please remember that quite a bit of time elapses between the day a hint is mailed in and the day it is published.

Please believe that every effort is made to be perfectly fair about this. I hope any of you who might be disappointed like Mrs. R. J. will be the good sport that she is and send in another Pointer.

We are so grateful to all of you for all your wonderful ideas and letters. POLLY.

Parents of the couple are the Raymond Ruppels, Avon Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jaynes, Oxford Township. With Mrs. Allen Tank were bridesmaids Shirley Romero, Tina Feltan and Linda Mann. Alvin Tank was best man. Ushers were Robert Wilson, Gary Huber and the bridegroom's ship mates, Seaman Leston Armstrong, USN, P.O.3.C. Storekeeper Peter Phillips, USN, and Seaman Personnelman Jerry Hochglenner, USN, all aboard the USS Orion, Norfolk, Va.

Absence of Red Drive in Laos Puzzling

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — With about two weeks to go before monsoon rains drop the curtain on major military activity in Laos, U.S. and Laotian officials are wondering what happened to the annual Pathet Lao offensive.

The absence of a significant Communist push in Laos so far has puzzled many here. Normally, the Pathet Lao and their North Vietnamese allies unleash attacks just a few weeks before the rainy season to grab some important piece of territory. After the monsoons start it is practically impossible for government forces to mount a counterattack.

Last year, this tactic gained the Communists virtually the entire Plaine des Jarres and bottled up neutralist forces of Gen. Kong Le. He lost almost all of his 40 Soviet-built tanks in the retreat.

The war practically has split Laos down center, dividing it into east and west. The Communists have done little this year to alter the basic front line. Western officials here have speculated that the absence of a Communist spring offensive this year might be attributable to these factors:

1 — The Communists already have secured the territory that is of importance to them now. These are areas adjacent to Communist China, North Viet Nam and South Viet Nam, for the needed corridor to South Viet Nam.

2 — A big offensive would embarrass the Soviet Union, which is cochairman of the Geneva conference, and Poland, which is a member of the three-nation International Control Commission.

3 — The Communists believe in ultimate victory in South Viet Nam and presumably think that when this victory is achieved, Laos will be scooped up automatically.

EXTREMELY DIFFICULT —

In addition to these considerations, the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam and Laotian air force bombings in Laos made a buildup of troops and logistic supply from North Viet Nam extremely difficult.

Laotian sources particularly credit air action with the present containment of Communist military activity in Laos.

But it was pointed out that since North Viet Nam has an army of more than 350,000 men, Hanoi has the potential military ability to launch major operations in Laos.

Estimates of Pathet Lao strength run from 10,000 to 20,000 and the number of North Vietnamese advisers and troops in Laos between 6,000 and 15,000.

Most gasolines are clean when they leave the refinery. But on the way to your car—in transit and in storage—they pick up impurities that could choke off power, reduce engine efficiency... could even stop you cold. Automotive engineers asked for an answer to this problem—American Oil Research developed the American FINAL/FILTER. It cleans gasoline one last time, right at the pump nozzle. If you depend on your car for your livelihood (and even if you don't) it pays to "fill 'er up filtered" with American, Regular or American, Super-Premium.

Stock Mart Makes Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made a substantial recovery today with trading active early this afternoon.

Prices rebounded after three straight sessions of sharp decline. The downturn, however, was accompanied by a day of

Meany in Plea on Union Shop

Cites 'Undermining' of Nation's Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany told Congress today state laws forbidding union shop contracts are undermining the nation's economic and social progress.

Prosperity rests on high wages, said on weekdays, said the nation's chief spokesman for organized labor in urging repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The repeal measure, proposed by President Johnson, would virtually wipe out laws now on the books in 19 states forbidding labor and management from signing union shop contracts unless all employees must join the union. Section 14B permits states to enact the laws.

Meany said such laws are peddled primarily on the inference that they will attract industry by keeping unions weak and labor costs low.

Opponents of the repeal measure, led by the National Right to Work Committee, argue that where there are union shops, some workers are forced into unions against their will. They deny unions have been weakened in the 19 states which ban the union shop.

Many spoke in testimony prepared for a House Labor subcommittee Monday. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz testified in favor of the repeal bill.

The AFL-CIO places its top priority on winning the repeal bill in Congress this year.

Meany said he was speaking for the millions affiliated with the AFL-CIO.

This is not just a trade union bill," he said. "It will practically eliminate a form of wasteful, unproductive conflict that has divided Americans for too many years. And it will make a positive contribution to the kind of social and economic progress represented by President Johnson's Great Society."

At their recent annual meeting, held in the Ruckham Building, the stockholders of Albert Kahn Associated Architects and Engineers elected Paul C. Fleck, 32328 Sheridan, and Daniel H. BANK'S NEW LOOK

An artist's drawing shows the building now under construction on West Maple near Adams in Birmingham, which will become the main office of Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank when completed in late July. The structure is designed to provide ample parking space and easy access, according to Louis Hadstone Architects, Inc. The present main office of the bank at Bates and Martin in Birmingham will become a branch when this building is completed.

Cautionary Note Sounds

Market Spring Fever?

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The stock market has been indulging in what looks like an attack of spring fever. And the question is, whether that's all it is, or whether an authentic period of caution has set in for stock traders.

After climbing to highs in the first two weeks of May, stock prices slid in the third week, with trading slackening off as the sun warmed up.

Brokers are watching to see if the market stays backsliding until the long Memorial Day weekend. For many this will mark the start of a new season, whatever the solar time table may say.

Cautionary signs are clearly visible.

The international news has been disturbing on several fronts. Increased fighting in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic on this nation's doorstep has led many to wonder what may be ahead: more orders for defense firms? Less emphasis on domestic programs?

THE ACROPOLIS

QUESTION: Why is the Acropolis in Athens so famous?

ANSWER: In ancient days, it was customary to build fortifications on high places, where arrows and other missiles could be rained down on attackers.

The Greeks added the building of temples, dedicated to their gods, to this use of a high place.

Often a city would grow around such a combined fortress and temple, and the word acropolis came to be used, because it was composed of the Greek words for highest and city.

Although there was more than one acropolis in Greece, we think today of the acropolis at Athens as THE acropolis. One of the reasons is that it is crowned by the matchless Parthenon, erected between 447 and 438 B.C. in honor of the patron goddess of Athens, Athena Parthenos.

This structure is often called the world's most beautiful building. Under the shadow of the acropolis took place those gatherings of Greek citizens which led to a government they called democracy, meaning rule by the people.

Although their democracy was not as complete as ours is today — slaves and women could not vote — we can feel grateful to the Athenian Greeks for a powerful impulse toward the ideas which are back of our own conception of living.

FOR YOU TO DO: Read some more about the golden age of the Athenians. You may not agree with all the Greek ideas, yet you can hardly fail to see how great a heritage of thinking and culture the Greeks left for us to use and improve.

British to View Bridge Cheating Charge

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Godfrey Butler, president of the British Contract Bridge Association said Monday night that the case against two star British players accused of cheating, has been very well documented.

All the evidence has been turned over to the British bridge authorities who will have to decide what to do, Butler said.

Butler was one of several officials of the World Bridge Federation who gathered evidence against Terence Reese and Boris Schapiro, at the 13th world bridge championships.

The two were accused Sunday night of transmitting information to each other by using finger signals. Both denied the charge.

CLOSE RACE

Britain, which was in a close race with the United States for second place, forfeited all points and ended up last. Italy won the championship for the seventh consecutive time. The United States was second and Argentina third in the four-nation finals.

Butler said Reese and Schapiro had been under suspicion for four or five days. He said the evidence was gathered by direct observation by authorities of the World Bridge Federation. He is president of the federation's appeals committee.

Ralph Swimmer, nonplaying captain of the British team, also participated in one of the observation sessions. He was not available for comment but said the decision to cancel Britain's wins in the tourney.

An authoritative source said photographs were taken of Reese and Schapiro and a study was made of the hands they played.

THE EVIDENCE

"You add all of these together and you get the evidence," the source said.

The source said the two used finger signals to communicate their hands to each other. "He would try with his pipe and the other would signal with hands and finger mannerisms," the source said.

"Ever since we arrived we noticed an atmosphere of great hostility against us," Reese told.

Big Mac Plan Believed Dead

House, Senate Nix Bridge Bonding Move

LANSING (AP)—Refinancing of the Mackinac Bridge apparently is dead for the current legislative period.

Moves in both the Senate and House Monday to resurrect a bridge bonding plan said to mean $1.5 million in annual savings were turned down by heavy Democratic opposition.

Action in the Senate took the form of a motion by Sen. Haskell Nichols, R-Jackson, to discharge a bridge refinancing bill from the State Affairs Committee, where it had been caught up in a dispute replete with political charges.

But only the 13 Republicans on hand voted for the discharge.

Majority Leader Raymond Dandridge, D-Detroit, said possible refinancing of the bridge should wait for possible federal action to assume some of the $99.8 million cost of the span.

Refinancing advocates want to replace the high-interest revenue bonds with a general obligation issue available at lower cost.

Gov. George Romney has asked for a toll-free bridge. The bond shift would save advocates, bring the tolls from $3.75 for a one-way auto trip down to $2.35.

In the House, Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena, tried to tack the contents of a bill by Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey to the $278.48 million restricted fund budget bill.

His amendment, however, was ruled not germane to the bill.

Spurns Movies

London Play Next for Actor

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Having starred in three major movies, Christopher Plummer is going off to play "Peer Gynt" on the London stage.

"He's out of his mind," agrees the wise crowd in Hollywood. They figure any actor with his sanity would consolidate an ascending career in films.

Plummer's agent received the news more violently.

"The venue shifted in his temple," the actor recalled, "he spluttered and turned a shade of purple. He couldn't believe it."

Indeed, why would Plummer play then for a pittance when star-hungry studios would gladly pay him a six figure salary to make a film?

"Because I was sitting at the beach feeling as if I were vegetating," he explained.

His interpretation of Shakespearean heroes has been hailed at all three Stratford—Conn., Ont., on Avon—and his television "Hamlet," filmed at Elsinore Castle, was considered brilliant.

His stage fame brought him film offers. He took two "Stage Struck" and "Across the Everglades," he terms both of them disasters.

"Peter Coe (the director) dropped in and suggested we do a play in London together. I just bought a house there I would like to see, and he has a house in London, too. I had always wanted to do 'Peer Gynt,' so why not now?"

His agent still considers that Plummer is playing fast and loose with his 90 per cent. But that's the way the Canadian-born actor is.

He has finally made it in films after two false starts, but he still considers the stage his profession.

This is not an unreasonable stance. He has starred on the New York and London stage to critical acclaim.

Back he went to the theater, returning to films two years ago for "Fall of the Roman Empire." He believes the epic did not receive its due in this country.

LIMITATIONS

"Certainly we all know the dramatic limitations of spectacles, but the picture was better than most of its kind," he said.

"It was obviously handsome and authentic, much better than 'Cleopatra' with its tacky costumes."

Roman Empire did well everywhere except in the United States, where it lacked a publicity campaign because Samuel Bronston ran out of money. It's shameful that critics would attack it because it wasn't properly publicized."

On the other hand, Plummer agreed with critics who called his next film "The Sound of Music" saccharine. "We tried not to make it that way, but the material overwhelmed us," he said. "Anyway, it was what I needed: a big commercial success."

'Mass' Jail Escape by Women Prisoners

GRANADA, Nicaragua (AP)—Nicaragua's entire female prison population escaped from jail Monday. One of the four escapees had second thoughts later and turned herself in.

Until this little Central American country's only women's prison was completed two months ago, women offenders were allowed to serve out their terms at home.

1 Dead, 23 Hurt in Bus Crash

Vehicle Flips Over After School Outing

GREENSBURG, Pa. (U) — A school bus returning from an outing in Pittsburgh flipped over on an exit ramp of the Pennsylvania Turnpike yesterday, fatally injuring a young girl and injuring 23 other persons, two seriously.

Virginia Herr, 13, of Donegal died shortly after arriving at Frick Memorial Hospital in Mount Pleasant. Patricia White of Jones Mills and Mrs. Catherine Kinneer of Donegal were in critical condition at Somerset Community Hospital.

Ambulances and turnpike vehicles pressed into emergency service rushed the injured to the two hospitals.

"They really had them packed in there," a spokesman at Frick Memorial said. Eleven persons were taken there, five were treated by doctors at the scene and the rest were transported to Somerset.

The bus was carrying 38 persons, mostly children who were pupils at the Donegal elementary school.

BRACKES FAIL
State police said the vehicle's brakes failed as it approached the toll booth at the Donegal interchange in the western part of the state.

Its brake fluid leaked out after a bracket holding the exhaust pipe broke, letting the hot pipe rest on the brake hose and cracked it, they said.

Earlier in the day the pupils had toured the food processing plant of H. J. Heinz Co. in Pittsburgh.

Recreation Areas, Property Values Hit

Many Communities Face Pollution Problems

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second of a five-part series on water pollution. Associated Press writer Phil Brown of Lansing spent several weeks visiting areas of pollution and treatment and talking with water problem experts. Today: The Problem.)

By PHIL BROWN
Associated Press Writer

LANSING — Michigan residents may learn more of the language of the sewer in years ahead, because it tells the story of water pollution problems their communities may face.

Critical pressures already are building up in many populous areas. Specialists discuss them in language such as "biochemical oxygen demand," "coliform count" and "activated sludge."

Citizens who notice an unpleasant odor from local rivers in midsummer probably can blame "biochemical oxygen demand" (BOD).

Citizens who find swimming beaches closed probably can blame "coliform count."

'ACTIVATED SLUDGE' Despite its unglamorous sound, "activated sludge" is a means of easing pollution problems.

But at best it is about 90 per cent effective. The 10 per cent of undesirable elements left in sewage is what is creating problems, even in areas where sewage agencies are doing their best not to foul rivers.

The undesirable, measured in terms of BOD, use up the dissolved oxygen needed to sustain aquatic life and to keep the river from smelling.

About two parts per million of dissolved oxygen will prevent a stink. Six or seven parts are desirable for such sensitive fish as trout.

OXYGEN DROPS

In some rivers, such as the Grand near Lansing and the Kalamazoo near Kalamazoo, the oxygen drops to or near zero in midsummer because the BOD goes beyond what the river can meet.

The treatments that cut BOD generally cut coliform count at the same time.

Coliform count is the measure of bacteria which might carry water-borne diseases such as hepatitis, typhoids and eye, ear, nose and throat infections.

The greater the population, and the more industries discharge sewage into a waterway, the more undesirable elements find their way into the river.

CRITICAL PRESSURES

Communities that "don't already have these critical pressures can expect they will occur in the whole metropolitan area in the southeast portion of the state," said Ralph Purdy, chief engineer of the State Water Resources Commission (WRC), Michigan's pollution control agency.

"We're staying ahead of the problems so far," added Norman Billings, WRC assistant executive secretary.

"Detroit's progress is an indication of it," he said. "Many rivers are a lot better than those 20 years ago. But with the continual growth of industry and population, we have to keep redoubling our efforts."

Billings explained that "solving a pollution problem under the basic injury-prevention concept of Michigan law means reducing the pollution content to the extent necessary to avoid injury."

NOT NOTICED

There is concern among some persons, though, that pollution could work so gradually that its damage would not be noticed right away.

Howard Tanner, chief of the State Conservation Department's Fish Division, said, "it is possible for an entire fish population to disappear from a stream without a law ever being violated."

Tanner is concerned about two trout streams, the AuSable and Manistee Rivers, which he said "well deserve their national reputation."

As more cottages spring up along these rivers, he said, more sewage will seep into the river, even when good septic tanks are used, and the river's oxygen supply gradually could drop enough to prompt trout to leave.

AN INDICATOR

Fish may be an indicator, too, Tanner added. "Fish live in this (the water) in question and are sensitive to concentrations that humans are insensitive to on a short term basis," he said.

The Conservation Department already has problems on Lake Erie. The Health Department posted signs late in 1961 marking the beach at Sterling State Park, near Monroe, unsafe for swimming.

Attendance at the park dropped from 651,726 in 1961 to 255,314 in 1962. Last year, attendance was 319,500 — "about 50 per cent of the potential," a parks division spokesman said.

"If Sterling State Park is to be, certainly the rest of the lake must be the same," said John Chasica of Newport, president of the Lake Erie Cleanup Committee, a citizens group.

BEACH AREAS

"Most people along beach areas here south of the Detroit River don't permit their children to go in the water," he added.

Before a 1962 conference on the Detroit River and Lake Erie, one Lake Erie property owner complained to the committee that his beach area property had depreciated more than 40 per cent in value in 15 years.

The U.S. Public Health Service staged the conference. The agency's Murray Stein concluded, "We have a very, very complex, subtle and sophisticated problem in this area. We do not have massive discharges of raw wastes that you can spot and which need correction."

The service conducted a two-year study after the conference. It reported in April that Detroit River pollution was serious enough to cause "interference with municipal water supply, recreation fish and wildlife propagation, and navigation."

RECOMMENDATIONS

It made city-by-city and factory-by-factory recommendations for measures to cut pollution in the river.

"The WRC last year reported 'dramatic results' for a state-industry cooperative program to improve the Detroit River.

Compared with 1946-48, it said, discharges of oil were down 80 per cent, phenol 78 per cent, cyanide 71, ammonia 47 and suspended solids 63.

This program has been important to the Conservation Department because waterfowl traditionally use the lower Detroit River as a wintering area because it doesn't ice over completely.

12,000 DUCKS

In 1960, a loss estimated at 12,000 ducks was attributed mainly to sewage and wastes.

An oil coating on a waterbird, the department said, can lead to starvation by reducing the bird's mobility or even could drown the bird. Detergents can drown birds by removing natural oils from their feathers.

The WRC said the state has some 700 spots which need constant watching to prevent pollution problems.

Among areas where pressure is building up, it says, are on the Grand River from Jackson to Lansing, the Kalamazoo River below Kalamazoo, the Clinton River below Pontiac, the Huron River below Ann Arbor, the Rouge River, the Raisin River and the Tittabawassee River below Midland.

ESTIMATES DIFFICULT

Dollar estimates are hard to come by, though, on how much damage pollution has caused Michigan communities in terms of recreation lost or property values fallen.

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs point out that the National Wildlife Federation made "fight dirty water" the slogan of National Wildlife Week March 14-20.

You'll probably be on the road over Memorial Day. So here are some suggestions to make your trip more enjoyable.

These tips from the people at the GM Proving Grounds in Michigan and Arizona aren't an all-inclusive course in safe driving, but rather some extra guidelines. Insights that have been arrived at in over 300,000,000 miles of test driving.

First, have your car safety-checked. Make sure everything is working just right. If not, have it taken care of before you leave.

Next plan to stick to the freeways as much as possible. Even though those back road short cuts seem a good idea, you may find out a lot of other people had the same idea. Besides, our own testing on all kinds of roads proves today's modern highways—with limited access rights of way, generally easier curves and hills—are safer as well as faster.

Driving and scolding don't mix

If you have youngsters, decide in advance which of you is going to be the driver and which is going to be the disciplinarian. From driving with our families and from driving with test equipment, we know the value of letting the driver keep his full attention on the road. If that calls for rearranging your usual seating, do it. It can be worth it. And let the one who's not driving be the navigator, too.

Drive defensively

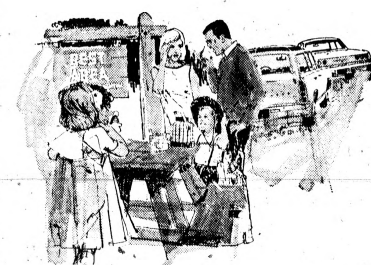

On the highways, keep in mind what you'd do if the "other guy" does something wrong. Use your turn signals. Watch for conditions at least a half mile or more ahead. (With practice, you can learn to "look through" the cars ahead of you.) Include your rearview mirror in the regular sweep of your eyes, and keep your eyes moving.

A special tip about passing: Before you pull out, look for some indication that the driver in front has seen your signal—like his slowing down or moving slightly to the right.

Use those seat belts

The first thing to do behind the wheel is buckle up those seat belts. As you drive, grip the rim of the steering wheel instead of the spokes. Many of our drivers vary the grip every so often, for less fatigue.

We tell our drivers who drive alone to keep the radio on—and switch stations now and then. A variety of programs will help you fight drowsiness. Take time off, too—at least once every two hours, and oftener at night.

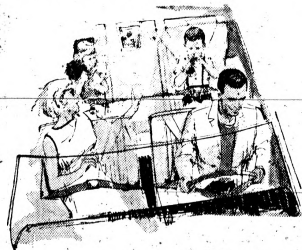

Now about speed. You know that if you drive like there's no tomorrow, there very likely won't be. But, beyond that, it's good to keep in mind what our test drivers keep in mind: Adjust your speed not only to the posted limit, but to road conditions, too. Cut it down if it's wet, if the highway is crowded, and at night.

The most important thing

But, remember, the single most important factor in driving safety is still the one that can't be built in any factory: the driver himself.

He can make all the difference in the world. We hope these suggestions will help make your trip more pleasant. And your Memorial Day holiday the most enjoyable you've had in years.

State House Votes for Pay Hike

'Took Stimulant Before Killing'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby told yesterday how he took numerous stimulant pills before killing presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald and then expressed fear that he and Oswald would be linked in the assassination.

"To the American people and the world... I'm going to be branded a part of a conspiracy with Oswald," said Ruby.

"You're going to forget how I felt about the beloved President Kennedy. There has been so much torment, so much hardship."

Ruby's discourse, wandering from topic to topic and punctuated with emotional pauses, came during a hearing in which attorney Joe Tonahill, who was on Ruby's trial defense team, was taken out of the case for Ruby's forthcoming sanity hearing.

Tonahill's removal was ordered by Judge Louis T. Holland, Montague, Tex., who said the question of Ruby's sanity would be settled by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals following the sanity hearing.

Ruby, his face pallid from over a year in jail, said he took 30 antibiotic pills and others that "stimulate you and make you want to do positive things" after awakening on Sunday, Nov. 24, 1963, the day Oswald was shot to death.

KENNEDY CHILDREN

He said he brooded about the Kennedy children being fatherless but noted, "what quirked me after that I don't know. As God is my judge, that is the truth."

Ruby repeatedly referred to "one of the most bizarre conspiracies in the history of the world" to link him to Oswald, and seemed to have lost hope of escaping the electric chair.

"I know that I am a lost cause as far as saving my life — I don't believe Joe Tonahill — I know there is a whole conspiracy behind it," Ruby said.

At another point, he noted, "I walked into a trap when I walked in."

State Upholds County Figure on Valuation

Represents Increase of $138.7 Million Over Total in 1964

The State Tax Commission yesterday upheld the $2,447,383,400 — equalized valuation figure for Oakland County as it established a total state equalized valuation of $27.08 billion.

This represents an equalized valuation increase of $138.7 million for Oakland County, or about six per cent above last year's total.

Highest equalized valuation of all county communities is $386,315,648 for the City of Pontiac.

This represents 15.78 per cent of the total county valuation and compares with Pontiac's percentage of 15.79 last year on a valuation of $365,426,083.

Statewide, the increase was $733 million, the second highest increase in the state's history. It was exceeded only by the $2.4 billion valuation boost in 1960.

FOLLOWS HEARING

The equalized valuation, on which local property taxes are based, was set following a State Board of Equalization hearing in Lansing.

Rates set by several county boards of supervisors were altered by the Tax Commission as the final valuation figure it established was $2.36 billion above the totals submitted by the county boards.

Oakland County's valuation was determined by the equalization committee of the board of supervisors headed by chairman Vance Fouts. It was approved April 27 by the supervisors.

Based on the new equalization figure, property taxes will produce $36.7 million at a 15-mil statutory tax rate for budgets of Oakland County government, school districts and township governments.

This would mean about $2 million more than last year in tax revenues due mainly to new construction in the area.

Fouts reported that his committee had examined properties and compared assessment rolls of all townships and cities in the county prior to setting equalization figures.

The miners will call off the strike they began May 17 to protest deportation of their leader, former Vice President Juan Lechin.

The junta will pull its troops out of tin mines they have occupied and stop their advance on other mining centers.

Bloody rioting erupted in La Paz last week following the start of the strike, and the junta sent 17 labor leaders into exile in Paraguay to join Lechin.

Showers and scattered thunderstorms will come and go through Thursday.

The weatherman predicts temperatures will shoot up into the 80s tomorrow. Tonight's low will be near 60. Warm and humid weather will continue.

During the night and early morning 2 of an inch in rain fell in the downtown Pontiac area.

The low recording prior to 8 a. m. was 58. At 1 p. m. the mercury reading stood at 78.

NEW UNIT — This mobile unit, to be put into service June 7 by Family Service of Oakland County will provide confidential counseling service to outlying areas of the county.

according to Robert J. James, executive director of the agency. Its purchase was made possible through a $9,000 grant from the McGreggor Fund.

Family Service Gets Foster's Trial Opens July 13

Family Service of Oakland County will now be able to give family counseling service in the western edge of the county with a new mobile unit introduced today.

Specially designed for interviews, it is the first mobile unit of its kind in the nation, according to Robert J. James, executive director.

The 27-foot, self-propelled, self-contained unit is divided into an interviewing room and waiting room.

The mobile unit was purchased through a grant from the McGreggor Fund at a cost of $9,000. Family Service is supported by the United Foundation and the Pontiac Area United Fund and provides counseling to families and individuals in Oakland County.

The increased population of Oakland County has made it difficult to serve the large area, particularly in the western edge of the county.

Up to the present time service in this area has been restricted to the use of temporary quarters in schools, churches and halls or vacant stores, James explained.

The new unit will go into service first at Walled Lake and Milford two weeks a week.

It will also be used in Royal Oak Township, where the agency is temporarily without an office due to an urban renewal project in the area.

"Family Service needed more flexibility to be able to reach those who needed its services," James pointed out.

"We believe that the mobile unit will give us needed confidential interviewing space which will provide flexibility in a program to help troubled families," James said.

The idea originated with two staff members, Donna Kehoe and Hazel Randolph. The administration and board then developed the idea.

The agency now has two offices with the main office located at 2351 12 Mile, Berkley, and a second office in the United Community Services Building, 132 Franklin Blvd., Pontiac.

Eventually, the agency hopes to extend the service to areas north of Pontiac such as Orion, Oxford and Independence Townships.

The unit has its own generating plant, air-conditioning and heating units, plumbing, a built-in desk and file cabinet.

Assistant Prosecutor Walter D. Schmier said Foster would probably be returned to the state prison to await trial. He is being held in the county jail.

Foster was returned to Pontiac and charged with first-degree murder.

He was bound over to circuit court after a friend, Wayne D'Autremont, 22, of 466 S. Marshall, testified during the preliminary examination in Pontiac Municipal Court that Foster had once told him that he (Foster) killed his wife.

Pontiac Motor Division today reported that sales of Pontiacs and Tempests in the second 10 days of May were the highest for that period in the history of the company.

General Sales Manager E. R. Pettengill said May 11-20 sales totaled 28,333 units — a 35 per cent increase over sales in the same period a year ago.

The previous record for the period was 20,926 cars set last year.

Pettengill also said that sales in the period were best for any midmonth period topping the previous high of 24,676 set in the middle 10 days of February this year.

Since the introduction of the 1965 models, Pettengill pointed out, Pontiac dealers had established 18 new 10-day sales records.

Raise Would Add $7,500 to Total Salaries

Bill to Take Effect in 1967, if Senate, Romney Go Along

LANSING (AP) — In a continuing attempt to "upgrade the quality of the legislature" already the highest paid in the nation

the House last night voted to raise lawmakers' salaries to $17,500.

Without a vote to spare, the House passed a 50 per cent pay hike to take effect Jan. 1, 1967, providing the measure is passed in its present form by the State Senate where the bill must now go, and signed by the governor. The hike from $10,000 a year to $17,500, to which $2,500 expense money is added, passed 56-49.

New York pays its assembly members $10,000 a year, but no blanket $2,500 expense money.

The Michigan Legislature reached that mark for the first time this year. A raise from $7,000 plus $1,250 expenses was voted a year ago. Lawmakers also receive mileage allowances.

The $789,000 pay hike, which includes $5,000 pay raises for the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and secretary of state, was tacked onto a bill appropriating $39.57 million for general government operations in the coming fiscal year.

It was among nearly $500 million in appropriations bills passed yesterday — including $278 million in restricted funds, over which the legislature does not have discretionary power. The pay raise itself would not affect the coming year's budget.

PRESENT SALARIES

The governor now receives $30,000 a year, the attorney general and secretary of state $20,000 each, and the lieutenant governor $17,500.

Most lawmakers were quick to point out they were not voting the raise for themselves.

House OKs Oxford Twp. Dumping Ban

A bill which would prohibit the dumping of garbage and refuse in Oxford Township passed the House of Representatives, 97 to 20, last night.

The proposal now goes to the Senate for debate.

The bill includes an amendment of Rep. Robert J. Slingerland, D-Lake Orion, that would prevent anyone, including governmental authorities, from establishing a dump without the consent of township officials.

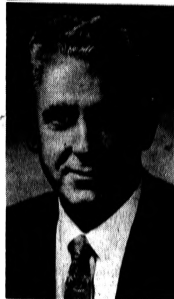

The Detroit Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission has proposed that a 2,400-acre gravel pit northeast of Oxford Village be used as a sanitary landfill. The township is opposed to the plan.

Slingerland's amendment also allows the local unit of government to establish rules regarding dumps that are more strict than those that would be established by the State Health Department.

CONDEMNATION

"Basically, it would prevent anyone from starting condemnation proceedings against the township in connection with a dump," said Slingerland.

Slingerland said he visualized the day that the gravel pit would be transformed into a lake, "rather than a housing development where the homes would eventually settle."

Fisher Body Manager Heads Industrial Unit

Manager of the Pontiac Fisher Body Plant, Thomas F. Wiethorn, has been named chairman of the Industrial Division of the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Wiethorn's appointment was announced today by Calvin J. Werner, general chairman of the series drive which begins in October. The goal has not been set yet.

Upon accepting the UF assignment Wiethorn said, "I am sure that we will get the needed support to provide the necessary services to our residents."

He added that he considered it a "privilege" to be heading the industrial division again. Wiethorn, 54, of 2540 Broadway, Birmingham, is a former industrial division chairman and four years ago served as general campaign chairman.

Last year the industrial division raised $637,243, or 69 per cent of the total amount raised during the UF drive.

Active in various community endeavors, Wiethorn serves on the advisory board of St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

He has been manager of the local Fisher Body plant for the past 10 years, is married and has five children.

2 Lake Orion Officials Out Following Stormy Meeting

By BILL EASTHAM
Assistant City Editor—Suburban

The village of Lake Orion is now officially without an assessor and, as of June 1, it will also be minus a full-time village attorney.

A month of so ago Village Assessor Robert Swem resigned and Village Attorney Robert V. Parenti's contract was extended for another year.

Two weeks ago Swem's resignation was withdrawn and it was announced that he would remain in office.

But when the village council adjourned last night after a stormy, three-hour session, Swem was out of a job and Parenti's contract was terminated, effective June 1.

Swem, who was elected last March by a margin of eight votes, submitted a formal letter of resignation to the council at its April 26 meeting.

Following the council's May 10 meeting Village President Clarence Hossman told The Pontiac Press that Swem's letter had been returned to him with out action; that he had accepted it and would remain in office.

Rossman also said he had informed the council of Swem's withdrawal of his resignation.

Last night's meeting had barely convened when Councilman Ted Cole moved that the council accept Swem's resignation.

Cease-Fire Is Signed in Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Bolivia's military junta and its tin miners agreed last night to a cease-fire calling for an end to the miners' eight-day-old strike and withdrawal of troops from the mines.

The truce was signed after a battle between government forces and workers in the industrial suburbs of La Paz which continued into last night. At least 19 persons were killed and more than 700 wounded.

Heavy casualties were reported in mining centers south of the capital where miners tried to repel troops under government orders to occupy the state-owned mines.

The cease-fire agreement was signed by Gen. Alfredo Ovando Candia, the armed forces commander, and leaders of the Bolivian Drivers Union who have been mediating the dispute between the junta and the leftist miners union.

Radio Mendoza in La Paz said representatives of the two factions will meet in the capital to widen the agreement. The broadcast said it now stipulates that:

• The miners will call off the strike they began May 17 to protest deportation of their leader, former Vice President Juan Lechin.

• The junta will pull its troops out of tin mines they have occupied and stop their advance on other mining centers.

Bloody rioting erupted in La Paz last week following the start of the strike, and the junta sent 17 labor leaders into exile in Paraguay to join Lechin.

Six Jailed in Alleged Assassination Plan

PARIS (AP) — Police today announced the arrest of six Secret Army plotters they said were part of the ring that tried to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle last August with a body-trapped flower pot.

The police said the same gang had planned to try again with a body-trapped statue of World War I Premier Georges Clemenceau during de Gaulle's tour of southern France last week.

De Gaulle and several members of his Cabinet escaped death last Aug. 15 while at a ceremony near Ton in during the commemoration of the World War I landings in southern France.

An ornamental flower pot at the foot of a staircase leading to a military museum had been loaded with explosives which were to be touched off by a radio signal. The fusing system failed to function.

NEAR STATUTE

Interior Ministry officials said today that the Secret Army gang had fashioned a new electrically controlled bomb which they planned to hide in or near a statue of Clemenceau at Saint Germain, in west-central France. The explosives were to have been fired as de Gaulle left a wreath at the statue.

Apparently the plotters were arrested before they could plant the explosives.

Police said those arrested were:

- Yves Roissignol, 27, student agricultural engineer from Grignon, Robert Goulet, 47, grocer at Aubagne, Charles Destan, 27, doctor from Monton, Gilles Luciani, 40, director of a school at Lamon, Pierre Agnani, 49, insurance agent from Roquebrune Cap, Fernand Armand Botton, 31, farmer from Monton.

RING LEADER

Authorities said the leader of the ring was Jean Jacques Sassi, one of the right-wing leaders who tried to reverse de Gaulle's policy of independence for Algeria.

Sassi, who once worked closely with ex-Gen. Raoul Salan, is at large in Europe. Salan, former head of the terrorist Secret Army Organization, is serving a life prison term.

The flower pot bomb was discovered when apparently spontaneous combustion set off a fire in the pot without exploding the bomb. Police at the time said the bomb did not go off during the ceremony because a gardener had soaked the pot with water shortly before.

Safety Walks Are Proposed

Construction of elevated walkways at four locations here September to provide greater safety for schoolchildren was proposed last night by the Waterford Township Board.

Cost of the project would average $13,000 per location to be shared equally by the township and school system over a 10-year period.

Elevated walkways were proposed over Elizabeth Lake Road for Stringham School, over West Wallon for Grayson and Mason Junior High School, over Williams Lake Road for Schoelcraft School and over Pontiac Lake Road for North Cass Lake Road for Leggett and Cray Junior High School.

The proposal to erect the five will be referred to the school board.

If it agrees on the cost sharing, bids for the job would be sought immediately.

ACTION STARTED

The school board initiated action last year for greater walking safety for children by proposing installation of sidewalks along the township.

Due to estimated needs of $1 million, the township board has tabled the proposal. Sidewalks, however, are being required in new subdivisions.

INSPECTION

A joint military patrol formed by the Organization of American States is inspected in Santo Domingo as they assumed the task of patrolling the revolt.

Yanks Pessimistic

Dominican Accord Remains Elusive

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican rebels were optimistic today and the Americans pessimistic about prospects for a coalition government. The junta showed no sign of giving way.

A rebel spokesman said negotiations to form a government headed by Antonio Guzman Fernandez, minister of agriculture under deposed President Juan Bosch, were "very advanced." Other rebel sources said the talks were nearing "a successful conclusion."

But a U.S. spokesman, noting strong opposition to Guzman from the junta, said prospects for a quick settlement were still dim. U.S. officials would only say that "a number of conversations have taken place and are continuing."

Sources close to the junta recalled Brig Gen Antonio Imbert Barrera, said Imbert had not been consulted on the coalition government. He called in U.S. Ambassador W. Taylor Bennett Jr. and Jose A. Mora, secretary general of the Organization of American States, to ask them for an explanation of the extent and nature of Communist influence in the Caribbean nation.

Bennett reportedly told Imbert that the United States was not trying to impose a government. However, the United States is known to favor Guzman as a compromise choice.

COMPROMISE CHOICE

The newspaper said that details about these FBI activities were being kept strictly secret. It said White House spokesmen had denied that the FBI has been brought into the Dominican situation at all.

However, it is known the President personally contacted FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover last week and requested him to undertake the investigation, the report said.

The FBI said it would have no comment. There was no immediate comment from the White House.

The State Department announced that the 21,000 U.S. troops in the Dominican Republic are now under the command of the inter-American force formally created Sunday.

The commander is Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim of Brazil. Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer of the United States is deputy commander.

Besides the U.S. contingent, the inter-American force is made up of 1,250 Brazilians who begin arriving today and small contingents from Costa Rica, Honduras, Nicaragua and El Salvador.

but for whomsoever wins the 1965 elections.

The measure, sponsored by Majority Floor Leader J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, and Reps. Daniel Cooper, D-Oak Park, Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena, and Thomas Ford, R-Grand Rapids, also says "the legislature shall be a full-time position." It does not, however, provide for enforcement of the requirement.

The measure also grants the senate majority leader $5,000 in addition to his salary and expense money, bringing him up to the level of the house speaker.

OFFICER BONUSES

Other house and senate "officers" would receive "bonuses" of $2,500 or $1,000 each.

"We are trying to bring the salaries in line with the position and tremendous responsibility of these state officials," Traxler said. He said the legislature rapidly is becoming a 10-month operation instead of four or five months as in the past.

Minority Floor Leader Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, objected that making the legislature a full-time position merely encouraged lawmakers to slow down.

Opponents of the raise retaliated by refusing to vote immediately effect for the measure. This means it would not take effect until 90 days after the legislature adjourns although it appropriates money for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Imbert has been demanding that the rebels surrender and has refused to step aside in favor of a coalition. The rebel chief, Col. Francisco Caamaño Dengo, has said he would resign if an agreement is reached on the coalition.

The Washington Post reported Monday night that President Johnson has ordered a team of FBI agents into the Dominican Republic to investigate the extent and nature of Communist influence in the Caribbean nation.

The newspaper said that details about these FBI activities were being kept strictly secret. It said White House spokesmen had denied that the FBI has been brought into the Dominican situation at all.

Local urban renewal administrators will ask City Commission approval to submit the revised plan to Chicago renewal authorities for approval.

The commission is also scheduled to make three appointments to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees. Three terms expire in June.

In other business, commissioners are to receive a request from Attorney James L. Howell on a pending rezoning for property adjoining to the Columbia Avenue Extension of the Pontiac Boys' Club.

The rezoning was deferred two weeks by the commission with a pending that negotiations would be held to resolve the issue.

OPPOSE PROPOSAL

Representatives of the Boys' Club and other area residents have opposed the proposed multiple housing rezoning.

Howell is expected to ask that the commission hold off reconsideration of the matter for an additional 30 days.

City Commission OKs Peripheral Road Plans

BIRMINGHAM — Plans for a peripheral road through the downtown area were accepted by the City Commission last night, but no action was taken to implement the proposals.

Further study of the one-way street system will be made by the city administration.

The plan is a corrected and revised version of one submitted in late March by the traffic consulting firm of Lloyd B. Reid and Associates of Southfield.

No change was made in the major recommendation of making Oakland, Willits, Chester, Brown and Hunter the route of the ring road. Traffic would travel counter clockwise on the streets.

The Michigan State Highway Department will be contacted to learn its reaction of using them as the east leg of the route.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, a $21,250 contract was awarded to the Chissas Construction Co. of Birmingham for the construction of a fire department training tower.

The firm was the lowest of five bidders. The high bid was $27,900.

The tower is to be built at the Adams Fire Station and will be completed within 90 days.

A series of five classes in external heart massage will begin tonight at the Chesterfield fire station, 1600 W. Maple.

The lifesaving course is sponsored by the Birmingham Area Fire Department.

To Present Revision for R44 Project

A revised financial plan for Pontiac's R44 urban renewal project is to be presented to the City Commission tonight.

The revised plan would lengthen the time limit on the project from Aug. 31 this year to March 31, 1967.

In addition to the new completion date, the revised plan hikes the project's net cost from its present $1.6 million to $2.5 million.

Increased costs are due to a reduction in the appraised value of R44 land which has dropped from $883,950 to $610,534.

Also, the revised R44 plan provides for the acquisition of the Lewis Farmington Company building, which previous plans had not provided for.

Local urban renewal administrators will ask City Commission approval to submit the revised plan to Chicago renewal authorities for approval.

The commission is also scheduled to make three appointments to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees. Three terms expire in June.

Rescuers Find Body of Miner

700 Feet to Go to Reach Four Others

ROBBINS, Tenn. (AP) — The body of one of the five men trapped inside a mountain mine near here has been found, officials reported early today.

Rescue workers still have from 600 to 700 feet to go before reaching the other four men.

The blast, which ripped through the shaft Monday was so strong it leveled grass and weeds for several feet outside the mouth of the east Tennessee mine.

Pockets of gas, which apparently caused the explosion, remained in the Chamberlad gas fan pit and posed the threat of another blast.

OVERCOME BY GAS

Three rescue workers were overcome by gas Monday night and were taken to a hospital at Oneida, 20 miles north of here.

The four men were believed trapped about 3,000 feet from the mine entrance. Rescue workers, working in shifts, labored into the night trying to reach the men.

Telephone wire was strung inside the mine to set up communications. Timber was taken in to block off rooms that had had air and to rebuild supports.

Charles Welch, a foreman for the Highland Telephone Co., said a seven-man rescue squad was standing by equipped with a new type breathing apparatus.

LITTLE HOPE

State mine inspectors and veteran miners all but abandoned hope of finding any of the men alive. They said the violence of the explosion left little doubt that the men died instantly.

"I don't think there is a chance for the men to get out alive," said Victor Voiles, a storekeeper.

Voiles and others who entered the mine said most of its timbers had been knocked loose by the explosion. Debris littered the floor of the pit.

All said they ran into a wall of dust and gas.

Both rezoning proposals previously had been recommended by the township planning commission.

In other action last night, the board authorized taking bids for a proposed sidewalk special assessment district on Pioneer.

Estimated cost for the 161-foot project is $2.95 per front foot.

CARNIVAL PERMIT

Also last night, the board approved a carnival permit June 15 at the Spartan Shopping Center and authorized a July 3 fireworks permit for the Lakewood Drive Association.

Astronauts May Match Soviet Feat

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut Edward H. White II may emerge into space rather than just stick his head out of a spacecraft when he and James A. McDivitt make their fourth orbital trip starting June 3.

And McDivitt may open his hatch to help his space partner, so that both astronauts are exposed to the space environment simultaneously. He also would photograph the floating White.

Reliable sources told the Associated Press Monday night the maneuvers are being rehearsed.

The attempt would match the Russian feat of March 18, when cosmonaut Alexei Leonov took a 10-minute stroll in space.

A POSSIBILITY

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has said only that there is a possibility that White will open his hatch and expose the upper part of his body to space without emerging.

Space agency officials admitted that a 10-foot tether line had been delivered to Cape Kennedy for possible use on the flight.

For the stand-up maneuver, only a three-foot lifeline is needed.

The sources also reported that a new space suit more resistant to radiation, micrometeoroids and temperatures had been acquired for White and that additional oxygen bottles had been obtained to strap to his legs.

Isn't Major Etiquette Faux Pas

By The Emily Post Institute

Q. My girlfriend called for me last night to go to the movies. When she rang the bell, I answered the door and told her that I would be right out.

A. I went back into the house to put on my hat and coat. My mother reprimanded me for not asking my friend to come in. She said I was very impolite. I would very much like to have your opinion.

A. It was not very polite to leave your friend standing outside and you really should have asked her to come in. But if it was only a matter of a very few seconds, and moreover, you left the door ajar, it was not a serious breach of etiquette.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

A curvaceous figure can be at its height of beauty, but for swimming, it needs support and control. Oleg Cassini designs a suit for Peter Pan with a soft skirt and diagonal seams. Built in is an actual girdle and a B-cup bra that adjusts to a C-plus. Sizes 12 to 20 in stretch nylon.

It Speaks Well of Dad's Relationship With Son

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In just a few weeks my brother is getting married. He asked Dad to be his best man, and it doesn't sound proper to me. Please give me your opinion. I would appreciate an answer in your column so he can see it, too. Thank you.

ABBY: JANE: DEAR JANE: It is entirely proper and I think a beautiful gesture on the part of your brother. In these days when diamonds are a girl's best friend, how refreshing for a man's best friend to be his Dad.

DEAR ABBY: I have a pet peeve that sounds so petty and stupid that I am almost ashamed to mention it. It's people who come and sit down beside me on the piano bench while I'm playing.

I don't know why this bothers me so much, but it does. Now you know, Abby, you can't tell someone to get up and go sit somewhere else without hurting their feelings. But it would be a big relief to me if I could get them to move in a nice inoffensive way.

Any suggestions from you, or anyone who has solved this problem, would be greatly appreciated.

LOST CHORD: DEAR LOST: People want to sit beside you while you're playing, because they're fascinated. Change your attitude and regard their presence as a compliment and it might be easier to bear.

P. S. You might also change your piano bench for a piano stool.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROBERT: There's only one way to succeed. You've gotta want. And it's a do-it-yourself project all the way. You can't borrow the ambition. You can't borrow the perseverance. Nor can you borrow the self-confidence it takes to become a success.

But above all, you've gotta want so passionately that nothing—and no one—can discourage you.

Elegant cover for a "swinging swim suit." The lacy fishnet beach coverup has a generous hood to keep damp hair in place, it forms a lovely collar in the "down" position. The great-fitting (almost scandalous) swim suit is in white cotton-pique. By Country Set.

Two pieces of dashing white dotted like mad and joined by a slip of stretch mesh: 100% Helanca nylon in black only. By Cole of California, Inc.

Rose Marie Reid creates the one-size swimsuit that fits everybody. Fashioned in 100% stretch nylon, it may be worn with its own one-size separate bra. Without the bra, tiny swimstraps can be worn for swimming or may be tucked away for sunning. Perfect for guests, at poolside or surfside, the Every-Body comes in its own plastic travel case. $12

Ship shapely... and loaded with aye-appeal, the figure-flooding sailor suit at left boasts racy sea stripes that fill the high tide neckline. A crisp pleated skirt swings long on the torso. A double breasted row of "navy" buttons and contrast soutache trim adds a final Nautical air to this one-piece. By Bobbie Brooks. The back-to-nature influence seen in swimwear last season with the topless suit is now being tempered with a naughty but nice approach, as shown at right by Jantzen.

Polly's Pointers

Using Old Hula-Hoop

DEAR POLLY — Our new home has a shower in the basement but there was no shower stall around it.

My husband took a Hula-Hoop, fastened it around the top of the shower with screws and then hung two shower curtains around this hoop frame.

We now have a wonderful stall with plenty of room.—MRS. M.Y.

DEAR POLLY Storing the rings from canning jar tops used to present a real problem. Now I open a wire coat hanger, form a big ring with the lower part, bend a hook on the end and loop it around the original hanger hook. I slip the jar rings on the big wire ring which hold them in place.

When ready to use the tops again, I just hang this gadget near my canning center, open the hook and they are easy to take off as needed. MABEL.

DEAR POLLY Keep a kitchen skin in one of the closets drawers so it is handy for polishing bright appliances like the toaster and waffle iron. It keeps them shiny and neat.

I saw a hint I had sent in published under someone else's name and have been watching the mail for an acknowledgment and the dollar but it hasn't come. Anyway, undaunted, I am trying again.—MRS. R. J.

MRS. R. J. AND GIRLS — I am sorry when any of you have the experience Mrs. R. J. had but often we receive many, many duplicates of the same hint. Even though you may feel yours was sent in long enough before so that it should be first, please remember that quite a bit of time elapses between the day a hint is mailed in and the day it is published.

Please believe that every effort is made to be perfectly fair about this. I hope any of you who might be disappointed know Mrs. R. J. will be the good sport that she is and send in another Pointer.

We are so grateful to all of you for all your wonderful ideas and letters. POLLY.

Instant Gems in the Future

Press the switch, wait two minutes, out comes an emerald! If you have 10- or 15 minutes to spare you can whip up a whole necklace.
