Rusk Is Optimistic of Peace Possibility in Crucial Year '64

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk predicted today that 1964 will be "a period of probing for the possibilities of peace."

But Rusk expressed concern about the "vigorous and hostile promotion of . . . world revolution" by Communist China and said the world will have to continue dealing with some "very large and dangerous questions" Berlin, Germany, Cuba and South Viet Nam particularly.

Nevertheless, Rusk in an interview recorded for broadcast in Japan and released by the State Department today, described his outlook as one of "modest optimism."

Overhaul Eyed for Foreign Aid

Hostility in Congress Prompts Full Review

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The multimillion-dollar foreign aid program, a cornerstone of United States diplomacy since shortly after World War II, may be in for a massive overhaul in 1964.

The difficulties that President Johnson and his predecessor the late President Kennedy encountered this year in steering the program through a frequently hostile Congress prompted the latest scrutiny of the often-criticized aid program.

The House and Senate slashed Kennedy's $4.5-billion aid request to $3 billion after a long and bitter debate which still has not ended. Even the usually friendly Senate Foreign Relations Committee urged a wholesale reappraisal of the program.

The Senate meets Monday and is expected to pass the bill appropriating the money for the present fiscal year, already all most half over.

REVIEW PROGRAM

President Johnson's new committee to review the aims and operations of the program held its first full-dress session yesterday.

Johnson, in announcing formation of the study group Thursday, instructed it to conduct an "intensive review" of the controversial aid program with particular emphasis on possible economies.

The President is understood to have asked the committee to give him its recommendations by Jan. 15, so he will have them when he sends Congress his foreign aid address covering the projected outlay for the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

"I do believe that 1964 will be a period of probing for the possibilities of peace," he said. "My impression is that there is a certain soberness in the attitude of the principal governments of the world; that there is a recognition that crises such as the missile crisis in Cuba in October 1962 must be avoided if possible."

The major issue before the world and probably the possible cause of a major war, he said, is posed by the question, "What kind of a world community shall come out of this period of history?"

"Most of us in the world," he said, "are committed to the kind of world described in the United Nations Charter. There are some who say the world must be transformed by revolution into a Communist world."

"This is the underlying issue, and it is not going to be easy to make that issue disappear. We can have peace if everyone would decide today to leave other people alone and let them live in peace and work out their own future for themselves."

Swainson Won't Run Next Year

DETROIT (AP)—Former Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson announced today he will not run for governor next year.

Swainson made his announcement in a television statement in which he said his doctors had advised him against it because of shrapnel found in his leg from World War II wounds. He said the doctors told him he probably could not stand a hard election campaign.

Michigan political observers said Swainson's statement not to seek the nomination for another campaign against Republican Gov. George Romney was a substantial boost for the political future of Rep. Neil Stuebner, D-Mich. Stuebner is expected to announce his candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination early next week.

Swainson said in his statement he felt Stuebner would make a "very fine governor of Michigan."

ALMOST CERTAIN

Stuebner has been considered an almost certain candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Today's decision by Swainson had the effect of eliminating any fight between the two men over the nomination.

President Listens to Ike, Plans Briefing Sessions

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson says he has been accepting advice from Dwight D. Eisenhower and is arranging to keep the former chief executive up-to-date on late developments.

Johnson did not specify the items in his program that had been suggested by the Republican leader, now 73. But he hinted that Eisenhower had urged him to adopt the economy-in-government program that Johnson claims as his first new policy.

Dressed in rancher's togs, the President told an informal news conference yesterday that he has ordered that Eisenhower be briefed on steps he had taken in response to the former President's suggestions.

The briefing will be done by John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

These were some other highlights of Johnson's third informal news conference since assuming the presidency:

Mail reaction is running 5 to 1 in favor of his moves to close unneeded military bases. Johnson said he is setting up a Pentagon committee to find more installations that are ripe for the same treatment.

He accused Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Arizona Republican who could be his opponent in the 1964 presidential election, of ignorance in alleging that the President had dictated to Congress and violated the spirit of Christmas during this week's foreign-aid fight.

FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT

Federal civilian employment dropped by more than 1,000 in November and fell 3,500 short of the year-earlier level.

Johnson said that if payrolls had increased as fast as the population, the total would have risen by $60,000 during the year.

Teodoro Moscoso is being eased out as coordinator of the Alliance for Progress and will become an aide with the rank of ambassador to Thomas C. Mann, the newly named assistant secretary of state who will supervise all Latin American policy.

Press to Present Diet

Census statistics may tell you that the young male population of the country is really growing.

But reaching the last notch in the belt shows which direction the growth is in. It's all in front.

Beginning Jan. 2, The Press will run a special feature, "The Thin Thirties Diet." It is written for men by Gaynor Maddox, food editor of Newspaper Enterprise Association.

Wives who had to get their young husbands' sweaters or shirts a size larger this year will welcome the advice on how to keep their mate trimmed down. Watch for this feature beginning next Thursday.

Both Leaders Declare Goal Is World Peace

Conference Is Held With Other Leaders at LBJ Texas Ranch

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard met today and exchanged warm greetings and assurances that peace is their goal for all peoples.

The two heads of government, meeting at Bergstrom Air Force Base, near Austin, spoke of their hopes for peace and their determination to achieve it—as Erhard said, "all over the world."

Johnson told his guest, who came to the United States for two days of conferences with the President, that:

"We have much to do to strengthen the forces of freedom, to reinforce the Atlantic partnership, to increase our cooperation with all free nations, new and old, and to enlarge the prospect of peace."

He gave renewed assurances that the United States will support freedom and self-determination for all Germans, and said "today the freedom of West Berlin is more secure than ever."

Erhard, in response, said that it is a privilege during these quiet days of the Christmas season to follow the message of Christmas and to "do everything in our power to deepen and enlarge the peace all over the world."

NEW WORLD HOPE

"That is our task," the chancellor said. He voiced the hope that he and Johnson can bring a new hope to the world.

"I am speaking not only for Germany but for Europe," Erhard said, "when I say that we have to preserve peace and freedom."

Erhard, flying to Bergstrom after an overnight stop at Houston, landed six minutes after Johnson had arrived.

He and his party were greeted by the President and Mrs. Johnson, Gov. and Mrs. John B. Connally of Texas and other dignitaries.

Cyprus Hits Turkey: Gunboat Diplomacy

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Cyprus charged Turkey at an emergency U.N. Security Council meeting early this morning with jeopardizing a cease-fire on the Mediterranean island with "gunboat diplomacy." Turkey denied the charge.

The 11-nation Security Council adjourned at 1:02 a.m. today without acting on the Cypriot charge or setting a date for a further meeting.

Zenon Rossides, Cypriot chief delegate, accused Turkey of speeding a dozen warships toward Cyprus to terrorize the Greek Cypriot population.

Adnan Kural, Turkish chief delegate, said his government has no intention of invading the small eastern Mediterranean island.

Rossides said his Foreign Office had telephoned him at 5 p.m. yesterday, informing him that planes of the British Royal Air Force had spotted the Turkish ships—five submarines, four destroyers and three troop-carriers or auxiliaries—23 miles north of Cyprus.

But, he said, less than an hour after he had requested the council's emergency session "we got information that those ships were not speeding toward Cyprus—they were changed to another direction."

Rossides claimed the trouble in Cyprus had started because Turkish Cypriots, on advice of Turkey, had rejected proposals from the president of Cyprus, Archbishop Makarios, to change a constitution.

THEODORE B. BLOOM

Area Chamber Chooses Chief

Theodore B. Bloom Is Elected President

Pontiac Motor Division personnel director Theodore B. Bloom was elected 1964 president of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

Bloom, 48, of 4875 Old Orchard, Orchard Lake, succeeds Dr. F. Milton Hathaway, Pontiac optometrist.

Other newly elected officers are Charles F. Brown, Pontiac district manager for Consumers Power Co., first vice president; and Kenneth S. Miller, traffic manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division, second vice president.

Re-elected officers are Gaylord L. Herrington, manager of Associates Discount Corp., Pontiac office, secretary; Harold A. Cousins, owner of City Beverage Co., treasurer.

Two new board members were also elected. They are Harold B. Euler, administrator of Pontiac General Hospital, and William G. Dickinson, of Dickinson's Men's Wear.

Bloom was appointed personnel director of Pontiac Motor Division in 1959. He has been associated with General Motors since 1942.

He is a graduate of the University of Missouri.

In 1962, he was chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund Campaign Drive.

Bulgaria Told to Pay

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The United States is demanding compensation from Communist Bulgaria for damages done to U.S. property Friday when 3,000 Bulgarians demonstrated outside the American Legation in Sofia.

The demonstrators overturned four American cars and smashed all windows on the legation's first three floors by hurling chunks of ice from the streets.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage. None of the legation's personnel were injured.

STRONG PROTEST

The U.S. demand for compensation was made in a strong protest in Sofia to the Communist government of Premier Todor Zhivkov by the ranking legation official, Richard Johnson in the absence of Eugene Anderson, U.S. Minister to Bulgaria. Johnson, reached by telephone today, said the Bulgarian government had assured the United States that "adequate protection" would be given the legation to prevent further incidents.

He said the Communist regime had increased the guard outside the legation from one to four militiamen and Bulgarians had started repair work on the windows.

"All is quiet now," Johnson said.

DESCRIBED ATTACK

Mrs. Anderson, vacationing in Winoski, Vt., described the attack as a "complete surprise to me" and "a real setback for relations between Bulgaria and the United States, which had been showing improvement."

The attack appeared to be in retaliation for the alleged U.S. employment of a former Bulgarian diplomat, Ivan Asen Christov Georgiev, 56, as a spy. A U.S. legation spokesman charged Bulgarian authorities had taken their time in dispatching police to the besieged building.

This contradicted a report issued by the official Bulgarian telegraph agency BTA, which said the demonstrators had been quickly dispersed by mounted police. BTA identified the group as "university students and young people."

VIEW HELD

Public demonstrations in Communist lands are usually government inspired, a view held of this outbreak by U.S. officials in Washington. They theorized that the demonstrators had been quickly dispersed by mounted police. BTA identified the group as "university students and young people."

The Bulgarians have carried out a sweeping de-Stalinization program along the lines of the Soviet Union, but they may not want to be aligned entirely with one side during the current Moscow-Peking dispute.

Talks Warm for Leaders

Gerhard Schroeder, the West German foreign minister; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; and the ambassadors of the two countries.

The exchange of greetings at the airport preceded a flight to Johnson's ranch for discussions of East-West relations and other world problems.

With reference to Germany's status as a nation split into east and west zones, Johnson said: "The United States of America remains committed to the great purposes of freedom and self-determination for all Germans and freedom and self-determination for all men everywhere."

STAND UNITED
"Germans and Americans still stand united against danger and strong in hope."

He noted that "the people of West Berlin for the first time in years are able to cross the wall dividing East and West Berlin on errands of simple humanity."

"Yet the wall itself remains. The guards who man it still shoot to kill. Germany is still divided. There is work to do for freedom in your land."

terms, saying he believes that the Soviet people want peace and "the big question is how to move toward points of agreement among governments."

"There will be explorations through diplomatic channels," he continued. "There will be discussions at the Geneva disarmament conference which opens again in the latter part of January."

"It will take some time and some patience to bring other matters following up the limited nuclear test ban treaty to agreement. But we should not be discouraged too soon."

Asked whether he foresaw an East-West summit meeting in the near future, Rusk said he was sure heads of government would be willing to meet if a summit has a good prospect of producing a new step forward on an important matter.

AGREEMENT POSSIBLE
He expressed the opinion that Soviet Premier Khrushchev feels about the same way on the possibilities of a meeting.

As to the immediate outlook, Rusk said he personally does not "expect an early summit meeting."

In discussing Red China, Rusk declared that recent official statements about the U.S. "Open Door policy" toward the Chinese Communists refer to the far future and not to present circumstances.

Some U.S. officials have been developing the idea that if Red China would change its behavior, the United States would be prepared to reconsider its policies toward Communist China.

MUCH CONCERNED
Rusk declared that "we are very much concerned about the attitudes that we find in Peking in this most recent period."

He said the Red Chinese not only are promoting vigorously world revolution but that they have failed to support international accords on Laos, have interfered in Latin American countries, and show some signs of "hoping to interfere in the continent of Africa."

Regarding the United States, the Chinese Reds still insist we must surrender Formosa, he continued.

"It is not up to us," Rusk said. "But in any event we won't surrender Formosa. We can't surrender 10 or 11 million people against their will to these people on the mainland."

He added that he did not foresee any early improvement in Chinese Communist policies that would make their relations with other countries more peaceful.

Greeks Probe Ship Tragedy

Inquiries Opened in Pleasure Ship Sinking

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greece's Merchant Marine Ministry opened a preliminary inquiry today into the burning of the Greek cruise liner Lakonia. The Lakonia's skipper, Capt. Mathios Zarbis, 53, was summoned before the investigators shortly after his arrival by air from Madrid.

Other officers and crew members also were questioned.

DEFENDS CREW

The inquiry is closed to the public. After the investigation the files will be sent to the Ministry of Justice to decide whether the case should be referred to the Commission of Maritime Accidents for further action.

At the airport, Zarbis, tired and drawn, again defended the predominantly Greek crew from the criticism of some passengers.

"We passed through a drama, my grief is so great that it is impossible for me to give a decision or statement," he said. "Anyhow, I would like to point out that my crew, in spite of what was written or said, behaved faultlessly."

Latest figures show 91 persons perished and 64 are still missing in the disaster which occurred 100 miles north of Madeira last Sunday night.

A total of 1,041 passengers and crew members were aboard the 20,314-ton ship for the holiday cruise which left for Southampton.

Pontiac Youth Pleads Guilty to Theft at U. of M.

A University of Michigan senior, Glen L. Baril, 22, of Pontiac, pleaded guilty yesterday to grand larceny in the Nov. 18 theft of $6,000 in cash from a university office.

Washtenaw County Circuit Court Judge William F. Ager Jr. set sentencing for Jan. 17.

Baril of 94 S. Francis took the money from the cashier's office in the Student Activities Building, fleeing pursuit by snapping a door lock behind him.

He had fixed the lock to the inside of the door beforehand. He turned the money over to an unwitting couple in a package and police were called when its contents were discovered.

Memorial Is Proposed for Honor Guard Officer

BIRMINGHAM — The head of a local public relations firm doesn't want Birmingham students to forget Capt. Michael D. Groves, the late commanding officer of President John F. Kennedy's honor guard.

So he's spearheading the drive for a "perpetual memorial" to his friend "Mike" — a scholarship fund.

"We hope to establish this because of Mike's close relationship with Mr. Kennedy, and because we feel he exemplified what youth should be today," explains Bruce Unwin, president of Bruce Unwin & Associates.

Unwin was a neighbor of Groves when the late captain lived in Birmingham. "He was a real level-headed young man," Unwin says.

HEART ATTACK
Groves was 27 when he died of a heart attack early this month. He played a significant role in the late president's funeral. Prior to that he graduated from Birmingham High School in 1955, and later from the University of Michigan.

Unwin said letters have been sent to several Birmingham residents asking them to serve on the organizational committee. Among them are an attorney, an associate judge and a school superintendent.

"We hope to meet the first or second week of January," Unwin said.

"I'm convinced that a scholarship fund would be a perpetual memorial, and would benefit needy students in the Birmingham School System."

The Baldwin Public Library has added several new paintings to its rental framed picture collection, including works of Monet, Picasso, Renoir and Caravaggio.

The additional canvases, all suitable for home decor, are available beginning today. Among the new arrivals are Monet's "White and Purple Water Lilies" and "The Bridge at Basket of Fruit," a spring landscape by Renoir and a study in blue by Picasso.

Others include a seascape by Feininger and a green floral abstract by Cavale.

Parking Lot to Be Vacated

Lease Terminated for Downtown Site

The parking lot at the site of the old downtown courthouse, Huron and Saginaw, is scheduled to close down effective Monday night when the proprietor will have terminated his lease of the county-owned property.

Sam L. Stolorow, who also operates several other downtown parking lots, is exercising a 10-day cancellation clause within terms of the lease. Chairman of the County Board of Auditors John C. Austin said yesterday.

Austin said he didn't know why Stolorow was ending the lease although the county official noted that city tax assessments are effective Jan. 1.

Under other terms of the lease, Stolorow would have to pay taxes on the property if he held it at assessment time, Austin said.

NOT AVAILABLE
Stolorow was unavailable for comment.

Austin indicated that another lease of the auto parking site would be offered to any high bidder, probably after the tax review board meets in April.

Meanwhile, the lot will be sealed off with chains and posted with no trespassing signs scheduled to go up Tuesday morning.

Stolorow obtained the present lease as a high bidder after winning a Circuit Court case that barred the county from allowing free parking on the site.

Stolorow maintained that the county was interfering with the free enterprise of his other lots in the downtown area.

BLOCK-LONG SITE
He was paying $1,150 a month to lease the block-long site at Pontiac's major downtown intersection.

The site was leveled for parking after the old courthouse and former prosecutor's office were razed.

The county has since been unsuccessful in efforts to sell the property. It is still available for purchase, said Austin.

Red Bullet Kills American Pilot Over Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Army lieutenant was killed at the controls of his helicopter today by a Communist bullet slamming into the cockpit.

The pilot died immediately, but the copilot flew the helicopter back to Saigon without further incident, U.S. authorities said. There were no other casualties.

The incident occurred while the helicopter, an armed HUB, was escorting a second helicopter on a mission over Kien Hoa Province in the Mekong River delta, 55 miles southwest of here.

The lieutenant was not identified pending notification of next of kin.

The officer was the 88th U.S. serviceman to die in combat in South Viet Nam, and the 163rd to die of accidental or other noncombat causes.

700,000 See Grave

WASHINGTON (UPI)—More than 700,000 persons have visited the grave of President Kennedy at Arlington National Cemetery since his burial Nov. 25.

Cemetery custodians expect this weekend and New Year's Day to bring a continued large procession of visitors to the site on a slope overlooking the Potomac River.

Approximately 22,000 persons tramped through the snow yesterday to pay their respects at the gravesite compared with 15,000 on Christmas Day.

At an early hour yesterday, traffic was slowed to a crawl from the Virginia side of the Memorial Bridge over the Potomac to the main entrance of the cemetery — a distance of half a mile.

VEHICLES BARRED

Because of the snow and the difficulty of handling traffic, vehicles have been barred from cemetery roads during periods when there is a heavy flow of visitors to the grave.

The Army's military district of Washington, the organization responsible for the cemetery, has arranged to maintain a guard at the Kennedy grave for as long as necessary to supervise the large crowds.

Five men from the 3rd Infantry Regiment, the capital's famed "old guard," are posted at the site from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

From 4 p.m. to 8 a.m., a guard is posted at the grave and another patrols adjacent roads in an Army vehicle.

Chief Justice
Hung in Effigy

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren was hung in effigy Wednesday at a downtown intersection, authorities reported.

They said they did not know who was responsible.

SIGN READ

Sheriff's deputies said the sign read: "Earl Warren, ex-American, head of Oswald whitewash committee, is betraying the U.S. to the international anti-Christ in the Kremlin."

A sheriff's deputy cut the dummy and sign down.

Dist. Atty. Vern B. Thomas and Sheriff James W. Webster said they had launched an investigation of the incident.

The chief justice is head of a special committee appointed by President Johnson to investigate the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the murder of his accused assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald.

Voters Show Realism in Two Democracies

Two cheering election reports come from "down under."

Australia voted a victory for Prime Minister Sir ROBERT MENZIES, whose tenure extends from 1949—the oldest in term of service of free-world statesmen.

Sir Robert campaigned on an issue of less, rather than more, government in business—wallowing the Australian Labor Party, which promised more welfare measures and a bigger national health service.

The continent has enjoyed a prosperous economy with but 1.2 per cent of the labor force unemployed. Not to be outdone, New Zealand voters, 1,200 miles eastward, got into the spirit of the thing, and bought Prime Minister KERR J. HOLYOAKE's philosophy of "less government in business"—a National Party slogan. Defeated was an opposition pledged to compulsory unionism, a huge health program, higher payments to the aged.

The conservative National Party has been in power since 1949, except for a three-year stretch ending in 1960. New Zealand, too, has had a healthy economic climate, with unemployment at a minimal one-tenth of 1 per cent.

We salute the peoples of both commonwealths on their realistic outlook and spirit of independence.

Christmas Opens Gap in Berlin Wall

Reassurance of the reality of Santa Claus that once comforted little Virginia came to thousands of West Berliners last week.

The Communist regime of East Germany unaccountably let down the barrier between East and West Berlin that inhabitants of the free city might make 24-hour visits to relatives in the Soviet zone.

It was the first time since the erection of the wall, 28 months ago, that restrictions were removed for social contact, brief though it is, for family members cruelly separated by the inhuman device of the Reds.

In effect since Dec. 20, the visiting privilege will continue through Jan. 5 and permit an estimated 800,000 West Berliners to enjoy holiday visits with kinfolk.

The wall, in concept and reality, is a stark symbol of the failure of Communist ideology of state control on one side closely contrasted with the flourishing ideal of democratic freedom on the other. Let us hope that this first sign of Soviet humanitarianism is but a forecast of greater good in store for the beleaguered people of East Berlin.

House Rules Body—'a Law unto Itself'

The controversy over the function of the House Rules Committee has been going on for a long time.

The committee was originally established as a means of preventing a flood of useless legislation and of bringing order and some reasonable sense of priority to House consideration of proposed bills.

Only long after its inception did the body take it upon itself to block certain major proposals from the floor—bills which usually had the determined opposition of some influential House members.

With many important pieces of proposed legislation currently bottled up in the Rules Committee, the question arises again on the wisdom of allowing a small group of House members, often (because of seniority) quite unrepresentative of the larger body, to act virtually as final arbiters in determining what bills shall come to the House floor.

It seems so basic it should not have to be said: All major matters, including the most controversial, ought in a freely working democracy to have a full airing and then be voted up or down.

But the Rules Committee today, not just in civil rights but in many matters, labors unabashedly to prevent the very kind of open, free discussion by the Nation's lawmakers which our system of Government is supposed to assure.

When it comes to the choice between existing within their incomes or living under increasing debt, most people these days choose the latter.

Who can say this isn't a land of opportunity? "A family of seven on relief were found to have two color television sets, two extra-rate extension phones and maid service."

Time for Renewal of License Plates

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON—About the time you get Christmas paid for, it will be time for another annual expense—automobile plates.

This is an item that has been going up generally, with more and more cities and towns getting into the act along with the states.

The top charges run as high as $72.95, in Oklahoma, and $69.35, in Minnesota.

A mass of information has been gathered about car tags by the American Automobile Association and the National Geographic Society.

For one thing, there seems to be a trend toward making the plate good for more than one year. Nineteen states now issue stickers or tabs instead of requiring an annual replacement of plates.

Also, more states each year are using reflective plates. These cost a little extra to make, how much depending on how many years they are supposed to last.

The average cost of manufacturing tags runs about 15 to 30 cents. Nearly all are made by prison labor. The size is now a standard 12 by 6 inches, after many years of variety.

Various states like to use the tags to advertise their special qualities or attractions. Rarely is there any objection from car owners, but it was reported recently that one citizen threatened to go to court to prevent New York from advertising its world fair on his 1964 plates.

One of the most elaborate emblems ever used was a sparkling red peach, by Georgia. It was made with tiny glass beads that reflected light. It worked well, but was too expensive to last.

Registration of autos began in 1901, in New York State.

The need was obvious—to help identify a car that was stolen or involved in an accident. At the beginning the revenue didn't amount to much—$1 a car.

There has always been a special appeal in low numbers, these usually being reserved for top state officials. Peculiar combinations also are popular.

UPSIDE DOWN
A Wisconsin man named Ole Le managed to get plates numbered 337,370 which he put on upside down, to spell his name.

Mickey Mantle, whose baseball uniform carries the number 7, got plates with the number 77-7777.

Heavyweight boxer Rocky Marciano once had the letters KO.

By paying an extra fee Connecticut car owners have been allowed to get special combinations of four letters.

ROCK 'N' ROLL
Two teen-aged friends had jalopies that sported rock and roll.

A man named Krout was happy with tags reading sour.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODIE ISHMAEL

According to Matthew, "the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, arise, and take the young child, and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring word: for Herod will seek the young child and destroy him. When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night and departed in Egypt."

What faith it took for Joseph to leave his home and carpenter shop and take Mary and the infant Jesus on a hazardous journey over rough country into an unknown land. And it was this very faith, which he had already displayed under even more trying circumstances, that carried the Holy Family to safety.

Days of All Faiths:

Observe Festival of Massacre

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

All the world knows how the wicked King Herod, frightened over the Wise Men's question "Where is he that is born King of the Jews?" sent his men out to kill all children two years old or less in the town of Bethlehem. (Matthew: 2:16) Churches in the West remembered those murdered children yesterday, on Holy Innocents' Day, or, as it was called in the Middle Ages, Childermas. The East honors them tomorrow, with the festival of The Massacre of the 14,000 Infants.

It is hardly likely that Herod killed 14,000 babies. Bethlehem was a small town. There could not have been that many children there under two years of age, even if you include all the surrounding territory. Some scholars estimate that there would not have been more than twelve or fifteen.

But whatever the number, it was an appalling act. Indeed, there is no doubt that it was the act of a madman. Herod, through fear of even the remotest threats to his throne, had been reduced to utter insanity. He was, in fact, so crazed that he had his own three sons put to death in order to remove any obvious successors.

These pitiful children, 14 or 14,000, were in a sense the first of all Christian martyrs. The thing that distinguishes them from St. Stephen, who is called the first martyr, is that they did not voluntarily give up their lives. They did not actually die for Christ; they died instead of Him. They were "martyrs" in the word that is used in the Bible.

HEROD AND BIRTH CONTROL
Opponents of contraception find in modern mechanical birth control procedures a parallel to Herod's massacre of the children. They say that all who practice and all who promote such prevention of life are Herod's agents and successors.

A day set apart in honor of the slaughtered babes is first heard of in North Africa early in the fifth century. By the end of that same century it was generally observed throughout Christendom.

NEW YEAR'S EVE SAINT
St. Sylvester, who died on New Year's Eve in 335, is remembered not so much for anything he did, but rather for the things that happened while he was Pope.

He became Bishop of Rome in 314 and held the office for twenty-one years. Up until the reign of Sylvester, it was dangerous to be a Christian—a capital offense, in fact.

In those days, therefore, Christianity was literally an underground affair: services were held in burial caves, called catacombs. Just before Sylvester's election, the Edict of Milan had proclaimed religious freedom and Christians no longer had to worship in secrecy. Sylvester was, therefore, the first Pope of a free Church.

He is remembered, too, for his relationship with Constantine, the first Christian Emperor of Rome. Legend says Sylvester healed Constantine of leprosy. This may or may not be true, but there is a tradition that Sylvester baptized the Emperor, and that may quite well be factual.

The Council of Nicea, the first of the Church's great ecumenical councils, was held in 325, while Sylvester was Pope. He was not present, however, but was represented officially. This was the council that formulated the Nicene Creed, which is still Christianity's basic doctrinal statement.

Sylvester was also the first Pope to have a church building he could call his own. Constantine gave him the Lateran Palace, which he converted to a cathedral—the present St. John's Lateran.

Deer Sausage on 'Active List'

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Presidential Press Secretary Pierre Salinger was a bit taken aback when at a late afternoon briefing, he was asked:

"Is the President going to give anybody gifts of deer sausage this Christmas season?"

Replied Salinger: "I don't know. I'm putting it on my active list—'deer sausage'."

This sign was seen attached to the in-basket of a Pentagon colonel: "It has come to the attention of this desk that T O O MUCH comes to the attention of this desk."

The Republicans' rumor factory is constantly abuzz with reports as to where Leonard Hall, former national chairman and veteran professional, will land in the 1964 GOP presidential campaign.

More Discuss Kennedy's Assassination

The President has been murdered by a Marxist-Communist and it's time every red-blooded American joined one of the patriotic American organizations that is fighting communism. We must stamp out this conspiracy for all time to come.

The Communists will laugh at our grief, but not at our resolutions.

Mrs. Bertha Taylor

It is comforting to hear soothing voices in times of stress. Even the Old Master, David Lawrence, is in a soothing mood urging us to dismiss hate-angles that might be involved in the tragedy. The John Birch Society calls on "every red-blooded American."

This noble attribute has been in misuse in our times.

People who have sniped at each progressive measure proposed by our late President have used it—and outright bigots have abused it in order to embellish their names and purposes. It has been attributed to those who dropped incendiary pamphlets in the streets of our cities, ran black-bordered ads defaming the President and let their children cheer at the assassination of their President.

We are told that "too many people just want to believe in a conspiracy" which may be true—at least until better evidence to the contrary convinces us otherwise.

New Chinese Confidence Bad News for West in '64

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — It is big. It is secretive. It is belligerent. And Red China will continue to be news in 1964, as it has for 14 years.

The news will be of concern to the West, the rest of Asia and Soviet Russia.

China has made progress in pulling itself out of economic hard times. This is good news for the millions who faced starvation during the years of the 1950-60 "great leap forward."

But a newly confident Communist leadership may well be less amenable to persuasion, more liable to stridency in the year ahead.

WIDENING RIFT

The outlook is for intensification of the quarrel with the Russians over ways and means of defeating the West; greater encouragement to pro-Communists in Laos, Vietnam, subversives in South Viet Nam and left-leaning neutrals in Cambodia.

It may mean a new Chinese effort to demonstrate that a club, and not words, is the way to deal with India on the border issue.

The Chinese are growing economically independent of Russia, on which they depended heavily in the years after 1949. They are likely to speak in harsher tones as they pursue their ideological quarrel with Premier Khrushchev.

And, because they link Khrushchev and his policies with the United States, President Johnson undoubtedly will be the object of tirades.

RELAXED PROPAGANDA

Curiously enough, the propaganda volleys against the rest of the "imperialist" world may diminish. Having lost Soviet trade, Peking has begun to lean heavily on the non-Communist nations of Europe, on Canada and Australia.

Better times alone might not prompt China to greater belligerency. But the consciousness that it is losing appeal in the less developed nations of Asia, Africa and South America may do so.

If it cannot persuade the emerging nations that its industrial experiments are valid, it can try to make them accept its oft-repeated line that their only salvation is in struggle and violence.

To make their arguments stick, the Red Chinese need a stunning example. That is where the bad news may come in.

Cost of Living Up in Detroit for November

DETROIT (AP) — Cost of living increased in Detroit during November for the second straight month.

The Labor Department reported Friday that the Detroit index stood at 103.7 at the end of November, compared with a national average of 107.4, a new record. Detroit, however, still was below its all-time high of 104.4, hit last August.

Detroit's $103.7 index means that it now would cost $10.37 to buy the same things that would have cost $10 during the so-called base (100.0) period of 1957-59.

The national cost of living advanced will have no immediate effect on wages of auto workers. Rises and falls under the so-called cost-of-living escalator clauses are measured quarterly and the next review isn't scheduled until March, when January figures are released.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, however, reported the November increase would result in a one-cent increase for about 6,000 employees of Dow Chemical Co. of Midland, and that about 4,000 Kellogg Co. employees at Battle Creek would lose a penny, since the Michigan average, to which their contract is tied, was below that of the June-August period.

Eye Rezoning in Waterford

Two Requests Going to Township Board

Rezoning requests to allow construction of two apartment buildings will be considered Monday by the Waterford Township Board.

One request seeks a change in zoning from commercial and Residential 1 to Residential 1A on 17 lots at Cooley Lake Road and Lockhaven.

The other asks that Outlot A of Holiday Farms subdivision be rezoned similarly. Located at M59 near Nancywood, the outlot is 805 by 240 feet.

Rezoning for both proposed developments has been approved by the Township Zoning Board.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business at the weekly meeting, the board will open bids on 34,000 gallons of gasoline to be used in 1964 for town-owned vehicles.

Also slated for board attention is the proposed transfer of beverage licenses at 1655 W. Main.

Board members also will consider the addition of personal injury coverage to the township's present general liability insurance.

Eyes Saved; She Will Be a Nurse

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Medical science saved part Carolyn Purcell's eyes when she was a child. Now at 17 she has 20-20 vision and one major objective.

"I'm going to be a nurse," the slender high school junior said.

Her favorite subject is biology and she has seen so many nurses that the choice of a profession came naturally.

It was Christmas of 1950 that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Purcell, realized that she couldn't see the toys clearly at their home in the Big Creek community near Cumming.

EYE DISEASE

They brought her 45 miles to Atlanta. Specialists made a preliminary diagnosis and said she probably had a rare eye disease. To save her life, her eyes would have to be removed.

Mrs. Purcell couldn't face that and fled the hospital with Carolyn in her arms. A photographer recorded the tearful departure. The picture was published in many parts of the world and brought hundreds of expressions of sympathy.

The Shrine Patrol in Atlanta helped, and Carolyn and her anxious parents flew to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

At that time the medical profession had a new drug, ACTH, which was just beyond the experimental stage. Carolyn was among the first to receive it and started to recover.

N.Y. Court Decision

Red Speakers Permitted

By ROBERT T. GRAY
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The interests of academic freedom make it permissible for avowed Communists to speak at the State University, an appeals court held unanimously today.

"The tradition of our great society has been to allow our universities . . . to explore and expose their students to controversial issues without government interference," the Appellate Division for the 3rd Judicial Department said in the precedent-making decision.

The court overruled a lower-court opinion that has kept Dr.
Herbert Aptheker from speaking at the University of Buffalo, a unit of the State University of New York.

A student association had invited Aptheker, a member of the National Committee of the Communist Party, to give the final lecture in a series on political ideologies.

SUIT FILED
William Egan of Ballston
Lake, an attorney and Democratic candidate for Congress at the time, filed a suit to bar Aptheker's appearance.

Justice Russell G. Hunt of State Supreme Court, the lowest state court, held that use of state-owned facilities for "expounding a subversive doctrine to a student body on campus" was contrary to state policy.

The appellate division said that no contentions had been made that "Dr. Aptheker advocates, has advocated or will advocate at the lecture in question the forcible overthrow of our government as any more than an abstract doctrine."

NO SPECIFIC LAW

The court noted that there was no specific law to cover the case before it. Without express legislative direction, the opinion said the court "cannot find such abstract advocacy to be against the law of this state."

Attorneys for Egan said they would have to study the Appellate Division decision before deciding whether to carry the case to the state's highest court, the Court of Appeals.

2 Women Chat
on Phone Call
—Via Telstar

DETROIT (AP)—Two women who live 21 miles apart in the Detroit area chatted Friday by way of Telstar satellite beaming their voices 4,000 miles from home to home.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration conducted the 25-minute call as an experiment.

The call originated in the home of Mrs. William Lavery in suburban Trenton. It bounced off Telstar which was orbiting at 18,000 miles an hour about 2,000 miles above the earth. It came through to a daughter-in-law, Mrs. John R. Lavery, who lives in Redford Township.

ARRANGED CALL
Mrs. William Lavery's son,
William Jr., who is an AT&T engineer working on the Telstar project, arranged the test call.

Mrs. Lavery, a grandmother of five, said, "We talked for 25 minutes before the voices faded and a telephone research engineer told us the satellite was out of range. And just think, it was free! Ordinarily it's a toll call from here to Redford."

CubaGroup to Disband, Paper Says

NEW YORK (AP)—The Fair Play for Cuba Committee, with which the late Lee Harvey Oswald said he was affiliated, reportedly is disbanding.

The New York Times today quoted unidentified persons formerly active in the pro-Castro group as saying they are discussing how the committee's affairs can be wound up. But they said they are finding it difficult getting someone to attend to the liquidation.

The Times said the group had been disintegrating before the Nov. 22 assassination of President John F. Kennedy, an act charged to Oswald, an avowed Marxist.

Oswald distributed the committee's literature in New Orleans, but after the assassination
the organization disowned him as a member, saying his application never had been accepted.

The committee's remaining supporters say the group had been dealt a fatal blow by the disclosure that Oswald had resented himself as one of its collaborators, according to the Times.

The committee was founded in 1960 by Robert Taber of New York. He was succeeded as national chairman, in turn, by Richard Gibson and Vincent T.
Lee. The latter resigned when the group began breaking up, prior to the assassination.

director of the distribution staff sales section. The distribution staff has been redesignated the marketing staff.

He has been a GM employee since 1930 and has held a series of marketing and sales positions.

Is Weird Spot in Space a Neutron Star?

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

SPACE MYSTERY: A rocket astronomer thinks a mysterious spot in deep space—invisible, silent but a remarkably strong source of X rays—may really be a neutron star.

Dr. Herbert Friedman of the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory told the American Astronomical Society Friday that the neutron star could be the remnant of a supernova which exploded more than 1,000 years ago, in 1054.

According to Dr. Friedman, the neutron star, with its compacted core of neutrons, would measure only 5-10 miles across but would weigh as much as the sun. It could give a new explanation of what happens from an exploding star.

INCREASE BRILLIANCE

Such explosions occur only once every 200 years and increase the star's brilliance to 100 million times that of the sun before the brilliance slowly diminishes.

An Aerobee rocket last April found two individual sources of X rays, one in the constellation
Scorpius and the other in the Crab nebula, in our Milky Way.
The latter may be the collapsed core of the supernova.

NEW ENVOY: Vu Van Thai,

an economist who left the government of the late President
Ngo Dinh Diem two years ago, is slated to be South Viet Nam's new ambassador to the United States.

The Viet Nam Embassy announced here Friday that President Johnson had approved the appointment of Thai. This was a preliminary to his formal selection by the new military government of South Viet Nam.

CHRISTMAS MAIL: Postal officials estimate that Christmas mail this year set a record of 12 billion pieces.

This came, they said, despite a late start caused by the Nov.

22 assassination of President
John F. Kennedy. As a re-
through Christmas Eve.

AIR SERVICE: The Administration of the Federal Aviation Agency predicts an agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union within 30 days that would permit commercial air service between New York and Moscow.

Speaking at a news conference Friday, N. E. Halaby said that while he personally favors such an agreement, negotiation of a treaty is up to the State Department.

Halaby returned recently from an eight-day visit to the Soviet Union.

The Army has awarded a $430,000 contract for designing a fuel-created nuclear power reactor that can be sent to the moon.

Lady Bird Is Hostess

By FRANCES LEWINE
JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Lady Bird Johnson says life at the LBJ Ranch is colorful but it doesn't seem like home since her husband got to the White House.

Things have changed so "hardly recognize my own home," the First Lady said as she conducted a guided bus tour of the Johnsons' 436-acre ranch Friday.

A big welcoming portrait of West Germany Chancellor Ludwig Erhard hung from the balcony of the stone and frame house, 100 years old, and red, orange and black flags of the West German Republic fluttered along the driveway. Erhard arrives today.

The tree-lined banks of the calm Pedernales River swarmed with 200 reporters and photographers whom President Johnson had invited to a chuckwagon Western barbecue that turned into an informal press conference.

MET ARRIVALS

Mrs. Johnson met the arriving busloads of press, hopped aboard, took up a microphone, and in professional style launched a tour of the Johnson spread.

Breathily introducing herself—"I'm Lady Bird Johnson, you all"—she pointed to a newly constructed small, white Secret Service sentry box and said: "This little thing is one of the changes, and I hope the neighbors don't mind it."

The First Lady, in brown suede jacket and the bright green wool marimekko casual dress her husband brought from Finland, gave a running commentary that ranged from ranch livestock to Johnson family history.

She pointed out a hilly spot where the spire of a country church peeks through the trees and said the view, one of her favorites, "makes your troubles get quiet."

FAMILY GRAVEYARD

In the stone-fenced family graveyard, where 25 to 30 of Johnson's relatives lie buried, three decorated Christmas trees stood. Mrs. Johnson called attention to a plaque at the gate and recited the stanza from Grey's "Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard" which is engraved there.

The Johnson homestead is on land the President's grandfather settled before the Civil War. The Johnsons bought the house from one of the President's sisters in 1951 and restored it.

Mrs. Johnson said she was sorry the ranch was being viewed with the "sere, dry and gray" look of winter. But she did approve of the balmy temperatures in the last few days, noting "my husband sure did want some sunshine."

Mrs. Johnson, in what was virtually her first press conference since becoming First Lady had a rapt audience as she turned sometimes poetic, sometimes philosophical and sometimes political in her tour comments.

In Holy Land Visit

Pope, Eastern Patriarch to Meet on Trip

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — An Eastern Orthodox prelate today set the stage for a meeting in the Holy Land between Pope Paul VI and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras I of Constantinople.

A high Vatican source said the prelate's meeting with the Pontiff "seems to mean that the meeting with the Patriarch is definitely expected to take place and that only details have to be arranged."

The Pope received the Vatican diplomatic corps for a New Year's audience an hour before conferring with the prelate.

Pope Paul will be in the Holy Land Jan. 4-6. If he talks with Patriarch Athenagoras there, it would be the first time the leaders of the Eastern and Western churches have met since the churches split in 1054.

The Pope's pilgrimage to the Holy Land provides a convenient occasion for the meeting by removing the obstacle of precedence.

Patriarch Athenagoras has long been sympathetic to the goal of Christian unity set by the late Pope John XXIII, but he did not want to come to Rome lest the trip be considered an implicit recognition of papal primacy.

When the Pope announced plans for his pilgrimage to Palestine, the Patriarch at once suggested a meeting there with "mutual contrition of spirit and heart."

The Pope later sent Father Pierre Duprey of the Vatican's Christian unity department to Istanbul to inform the Patriarch of his plans for the trip and of his willingness to meet.

been trying to secure the approval of the entire Eastern church for the meeting. Thus far he has won approval from the patriarchs of Alexandria, Damascus, Jerusalem, Belgrade, Bucharest and the Independent Church of Greece.

Steward Eyes Sabotage in Disaster on Greek Liner

PARIS (UPI) — A 25-year-old steward from the ill-fated Greek cruise liner Lakonia said last night he suspects the fire that wrecked the 20,314-ton ship was set by saboteurs.

George Democrito said the Lakonia's chief engineer told him the fire broke out simultaneously in the ship's barber shop, engine room and laundry.

"That makes us think it was an act of sabotage," he said.

The Greek line's latest figures show that 91 of the Lakonia's 1,041 passengers and crewmen are known dead, and 64 officially are missing. Some of them may have been picked up by a Portuguese fishing boat.

CREW CRITICIZED

Many passengers have criticized the actions of the crew after the fire broke out. Democrito and Capt. Matteo Zarbis denied the charges.

Democrito endorsed Zarbis' charge that rescue ships did not come close enough, saying, "For some inexplicable reason they stayed three miles away."

"They doubtless feared an explosion on the Lakonia despite the signals flashed in Morse indicating there was no danger and we needed help," he said.

A Greek line spokesman said none of the charges or counter-charges has any value outside a court of inquiry.

INQUIRY ORDERED

"Pending the official inquiry which has been ordered by the Greek government, the owners of the Lakonia regret that they are unable to make any comment on the circumstances of the disaster," he said.

The British government is considering an inquiry into the disaster. Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home is expected to consult Transport Minister Ernest Marples before making a decision.

Record State Year for Tourist Dollar

LANSING (AP) — Improved highways, favorable weather and a fattened budget for promotion boosted Michigan to a record tourist business year in 1963, the Michigan Tourist Council said Friday.

Tourists spent $727 million in the state—an increase of between 7 and 10 per cent over 1962, the council said.

An expanded legislative appropriation in the budget for the current fiscal year was given credit for part of the tourism rise. A general upturn in national and state economy also was cited.

Dividend Declared

Michigan Seamless Tube Co. of South Lyon has declared a cash dividend of 25 cents per share on the $5 par value capital stock. The dividend is payable Feb. 20, 1964, to shareholders of record on Feb. 5.

Rich Greens, Blues Frame Friday Vows

Dr. Harold C. DeWindt officiated at the marriage of Sylvia Jean Longyear to Donald Meroy Heggen, Friday, at Kirk-in-the-Hills Presbyterian.

After the reception in Forest Lake Country Club, the couple left for Shanty Creek Ski Lodge, Bellaire.

Their parents are Dr. and Mrs. Harold W. Longyear of West Long Lake Road, Mrs. Abner M. Heggen of Cottontail Lane and the late Mr. Heggen.

Velvet motifs and pearl banding graced the bride's Bianchi gown of Dulcette sat in fashioned with controlled skirt and chapel train. A satin circlet held her veil of imported silk illusion. She carried white orchids and Stephanotis.

With maid of honor, Karen Saathoff of Burlington, Iowa, was the bride's sister Charlotte and Phyllis Stark of Midland, bridesmaids.

They wore floor-length Empire gowns of woven emerald green and royal blue brocade with tiny matching crowns with velvet loops. Blue metallic balls accented their white carnation nosegays.

Julie Longyear attended her cousin as flowergirl. The bride's brother Howard carried the rings.

Best man was John F.

Going to Bar Not Wrong at Club

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Our daughter was married last Saturday. We arrived a little early at the country club where the reception was held. The dining room was not as yet ready due to an earlier wedding.

Therefore, the guests had to wait in another room until the waiters set the tables. After a while, several of the guests went downstairs to the bar and remained there until it was time to go into the reception.

I thought these guests were very much out of order. Am I right or wrong?

A: Unless the guests you speak of became inebriated or charged their drinks to you, there was nothing wrong in their having gone to the bar to wait while the reception room was being made ready.

Q: Recently my son, a high school senior, was introduced to the new principal of the school by one of his teachers. My son immediately offered his hand to the principal.

His teacher corrected him later saying that he should have waited for the principal to shake his hand. Was my son wrong to offer his hand first?

A: Strictly speaking, your son's teacher is right, but his spontaneous extending his hand first was a very unimportant breach of etiquette.

Q: Is there any set or proper procedure as to who lifts the bride's veil? I have always understood that it was proper for the groom to do this when he kisses her, but I have heard from several people that the maid of honor lifts the bride's veil. Is one method more acceptable than the other?

A: The face veil is lifted back by the maid of honor.

Who pays for what at the wedding? The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Expenses," answers this question in detail.

Two exciting ways to greet the New Year with a bang: Left: A straight-a-string skirt topped with a sable-cuffed jacket in coral and gold brocade. Right: A superb gold and many colored paisley jacquard material forms a dress as thin as chiffon but with enough body to make the simple cut hang exactly right.

Employee Should Chip In for Present From the Office

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: The daughter of my husband's boss was married recently, and someone in the office decided that a collection should be taken up for a wedding present.

My husband said that since we were not invited to the wedding, and didn't socialize with the boss, he didn't want to chip in on the present.

The girl collecting the money said he was entitled to that, and let it go at that. Well, it seems a gift was bought for $90, and through some mistake, my husband's name got on the card. He got a nice personal "thank you" from the boss himself, but he didn't tell the boss that his name got on the card by mistake, and he didn't deserve any thanks.

The office people think my husband should kick in with $5 since he got credit for being in on the gift. What do you think?

HIS WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Having accepted the unearned "thank you," your husband should kick in with the $5.

DEAR ABBY: A girl who works with us got a genuine mink stole from her boyfriend for Christmas. What do you think she gave him?

THE OFFICE GANG
DEAR GANG: It wasn't the cold shoulder.

DEAR READERS: The Houston Police Department prepared Ten Easy Rules for Raising a Delinquent. A and here they are:

1. Begin at infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.

2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute.

3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21, and then let him "decide for himself."

4. Pick up everything he leaves lying around—books, shoes, clothes. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others.

5. Quarrel frequently in his presence. In this way he will not be too shocked when the home is broken later.

6. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. Why

Law Student Wed Before Home Altar

The mantle of her parent's home formed the backdrop for the Friday marriage of Rebecca Ann Odell to Roger Laurance Clough of Chicago. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmi J. Odell of Ogema Road. Her new husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurance L. Clough of Delmar, N.Y.

Wearing a street-length white embroidered Swiss cotton dress with a modified bell skirt and scoop neck jacket, the bride carried a hand bouquet of white carnations and garnet roses. Her shoulder length veil was held by a satin pillbox with an open crown.

She wore a blue peau de soie sheath with a detachable overskirt and carried a hand bouquet of pink carnations and garnet roses.

Olof Lundberg of Slingerland, N.Y., was best man at the ceremony performed by Rev. Malcolm K. Burton of the First Congregational Church.

Following the ceremony performed before members of the immediate family, a reception was held in the Odell home. The new couple then left for Chicago where they will reside.

Both the bride and her husband are graduates of Antioch College. The bridegroom is currently attending the University of Chicago Law School.

Coded Cards Dial Phone for You

A new telephone for the home automatically dials. It's called a card dialer. You insert a coded plastic card and push a start bar. Cards are coded with a pencil point or similar object.

The manufacturer reports the card dialer is designed for those who make many calls or call the same numbers frequently. Space is provided in the phone itself for filing 40 cards.

Post-20 Club Sets Meeting

A travelogue and bingo game will be featured at the Friday meeting of the Post-Twenty Cood Club at 8 p.m. at the YWCA.

At this second meeting, the group will select a program chairman to plan future activities.

Anyone interested in joining the group is invited. Refreshments and social time are included in the evening's schedule.

James A. Ervin Jr., son of the senior Ervins of West Huron Street, is engaged to Beverly Ann Raycroft, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. Newman Raycroft of Howell. His fiancée attended Cleary College while he is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee, Ill. A late summer wedding is planned.

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Mrs. E. Hawkinson left Thursday for her home in South Bend, Ind. after visiting her son and daughter-in-law of Guiford Road.

Accompanying her on the homeward trip were her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson.

Host to all three were Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. Hawkinson. Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Roy T. Hawkinson of Franklin Road and their daughter Gail. She has just returned from San Francisco after a three month stay in California.

Kris Hewlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Hewlett is home from Randolph Macon College in Lynchburg, Va. and enjoying visits with her former Kingswood school classmates.

Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Hewlett are entertaining their friends with luncheon at the Orchard Lake Country Club.

During the holidays Peggy Darragh and Debbie Field were cohostesses at a supper dance at the Darragh home on Armory Road. The "Road Runners" provided the music.

Following the Longyear-Heggen wedding on Friday evening, Mrs. Abner Heggen, mother of the bridegroom, of Cottontail Lane was hostess to several houseguests.

The guest list included Mrs. Donald Kehl and daughters Kathleen and Janet of Dexter. Others there were Mrs. Kehl's mother, Mrs. Elsie Herbert of Fond Du Lac, Wis. and the senior Mrs. Kehl of Dearborn.

The Heggen and Kehl families have been very close since their late husbands were working together for a New York law firm.

College Students Participating in Worship Services

REHEARSE FOR SUNDAY — Taking part in services at Bethany Baptist Church tomorrow will be Julie Drove of 3660 Brookdale, Waterford Township and Joel Snyder of 3381 Devonbrook, Bloomfield Township, all students at colleges or universities. The Bethany Church is observing College Student Sunday. The three are looking over the order of worship and reading aloud portions of Scripture.

Student Recognition Day will be observed at the 9:15 and 10:45 morning services of worship in Central Methodist Church tomorrow.

Immediately after the second worship service at 12:30 p.m. members of the church will honor Mrs. W. Henry Sink with a reception. Mrs. Sink will retire as organist after serving the church 34 years.

A tea honoring the college students will be held in the church parlor at 4 p.m.

More than half of the 50 students to be honored will take part and serve as ushers in the recognition services.

Nancy Crawford and Susan Stitt will give the call to worship; Robert Kibbie and Ronald Stanke, the responsive reading; John Roush and Ronald Murphy, the Scripture; and Thomas Murphy and John Kerns, the prayer.

The Chancel Choir will sing the anthem, "Gloria in Excelsis Deo." The quartet will present "Arise, Shine, For Thy Light Is Come" by Maker.

Dr. Milton H. Bank's sermon topic will be "And the Shepherds Returned."

Among other holiday services Central Church has planned a Watch Night Service for 11 p.m. Tuesday. The New Year's Eve theme will be "The Spirit of Christmas for the New Year." The ministers of Central will lead the people in this candlelight dedication service.

OAKLAND AVENUE U.P.

"Let's Get Down to Business" will be the theme of Rev. Theodore R. Allebach's sermon at 10 a.m. tomorrow, in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

All of the students who are home from college will be given recognition at the service.

The last Sunday of the year is also called Victory Sunday, a time for all members to catch up on their giving so the 1963 budget needs may be met. Pastor Allebach said.

Youth Fellowships will see the film, "From Boston to Brownsville" at the 5:45 p.m. meetings tomorrow.

At 7 p.m. the pastor will preach on "Forget and Remember." Diana and Debra Meredith will sing a duet and Mrs. Ross Morton will be heard in a solo number.

All senior high school young people are invited to a progressive dinner meeting at the church at 7 p.m. New Year's Eve.

From 11:15 to 12:05 there will be a Candlelight Communion service in the sanctuary for the congregation. The pastor will preach and special music is planned.

ST. ANDREW'S

Celebrations of Holy Eucharist will be at 8, 9:30 and 11:15 a.m. Sunday in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Waterford Township. There will be no church school tomorrow, Rev. Edward A. Lowry said.

There will be a nursery at the 11:15 worship hour with Mrs. Wayne Duney in charge.

The Parish Family Christmas Party will begin at 5 p.m. tomorrow with a short service of carols and the reading of the Christmas story by six young people. The group includes Anna Marsh, Peter Morgan, Martha Lynn Elliott, Judy Thompson, Tim McPartlin and Ricky Dale.

Refreshments will follow in the parish hall under the direction of Mrs. Gordon Bryce and Mrs. John Thompson.

BETHANY BAPTIST

"Reflections at the End of a Year" will be the theme of College Student Sunday at Bethany Baptist Church at 11 a.m. tomorrow. The college young people will have charge of the services.

Julia Drove, a senior at Michigan State University, Douglas Spurlock, a senior at Western Michigan University, and James Winger, senior at R.E.T.S. Electronics Schools, will bring the morning message.

Nancy Crawford, a junior at Central Michigan University, and Joanne Stout, a freshman at Stephens College in Missouri, will read portions of the Scripture.

Joel Snyder of Michigan State University will lead in the call to worship and prayer. Other college students will assist as ushers.

At 7:30 p.m. there will be a year end service of worship with Mary Jean Thornton of Alderson - Broadus College reading the Scripture. Rev. Chalmers Mastin, minister of Christian education at Bethany, will preach on "Renewing Our Vision."

LEAVES CENTRAL CHURCH — Honoring Mrs. W. Henry Sink on her retirement as organist of Central Methodist Church for 34 years, the church is giving a reception at 12:30 p.m. Sunday following morning worship. Friends in the community and congregation are invited.

ST. MARY'S-IN-HILLS

A service of carols and lessons according to the English rite will be conducted in St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church at 11 a.m. Sunday.

There will be no sermon in the service as the story is told entirely through words of the Bible. The congregation will participate in the singing.

Edwin Knapp and Robert Watts of Lake Orion will sing "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" by Jolley; and John Ward will present "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" by McGimsey as an offertory solo.

The first service of the day at 9 a.m. will be the celebration of Holy Communion without sermon at 9 a.m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Rev. Paul D. Cross, assistant pastor, of First Presbyterian Church, has selected "A Backward and Forward Look" as the topic of his sermon tomorrow. The Chancel Choir will sing "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" by Jolley; and John Ward will present "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" by McGimsey as an offertory solo.

Deacons serving as hosts at the coffee hour following worship include Mr. and Mrs. Guy Duffield and Mr. and Mrs. William Hilderley.

Boy Scouts of Troop 18 are on a weekend campout at Tamarack Lake under the leadership of Albert A. Riddering, scoutmaster.

IST CONGREGATIONAL

"Lift Up Thy Voice" will be the theme of Rev. Malcolm K. Burton's sermon at First Congregational Church tomorrow morning.

The Chancel Choir will sing

"We Three Kings," an American carol. Two Polish carols will be presented. Mrs. Carl Leonard will be heard in "When the Saviour Christ Is Born," and a trio comprised of Max Sutton, Arnold Simson and Richard Canfield, will present "Hark, in the Darkness."

The church council meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. Monday.

ORCHARD LAKE

"More to Come" will be the theme of Rev. Edward D. Auchard's sermon at Orchard Lake

Community Church, Presbyterian tomorrow.

Mrs. Alice Smith, organist, will play "Light on the Jordan Hills" by Taylor as prelude, and "The Star and the Magi" by the same composer as the offertory number.

The Chancel Choir will present "The Gate of the Year" by Gillette at 9 a.m. The Westminster Choir directed by Clarence Brown will sing "Christmas Morn" by Gaines at 11 a.m.

The choir will be accompanied by Bette Fuller at the organ and Martha Kurzwil, violinist.

The Senior High Fellowship will complete plans for the Watch Night service when they get together Sunday evening.

Friends and members of the Orchard Lake Church are invited to the 11:30 p.m. service in Fellowship Hall. Reservations are necessary for the breakfast.

Pastor Auchard will meet with boys who are interested in the God and Country Award in Boy Scouts at 11 a.m. next Saturday.

GRACE LUTHERAN

Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer will preach at the 8 p.m. service of Holy Communion in Grace Lutheran Church New Year's Eve.

Sylvan Lake Lutheran

A spoken prayer office with liturgy is scheduled for 8 p.m. New Year's Eve at Grace Lutheran Church.

At 10 a.m. New Year's Day there will be a celebration of Holy Communion.

Ecumenism Here

to Stay Says Jesuit

BOSTON — Ecumenism is "in the Catholic Church to Stay," Fr. Gustave Weigel, S.J., told some 400 Catholics and Protestants clergymen here.

Fr. Weigel, a faculty member at Woodstock (Md.) college and a leader in the ecumenical movement, said no one at the Vatican Council has spoken against Christian reunion, although there are different ideas on how to achieve it.

He said the success of the council must be measured by spiritual values, "You cannot regard the council workings as merely human," he said. "We must see things through the eyes of the Holy Spirit, and from this point of view much has been done."

The Jesuit theologian took part in a discussion on the council with Dr. Douglas Horton, former dean of the Harvard University Divinity School. The discussion was sponsored by the Paulist Information Center.

White Sisters Sing New Year's Eve

Instrumental and choral arrangements will be featured at the New Year's Eve Musicales at First Baptist Church Tuesday.

The evening will begin at 9 p.m. and continue past midnight.

The White Sisters, a trio of girls consisting of Faye, Janet and Joyce White, will present musical numbers many of which they have recorded. The girls have been singing together since Faye was seven and the others, twins Joyce and Janet, were five.

Before turning to the sacred art of music, the girls won first place on Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts" while still in high school. They appeared in radio numbers with Dr. Billy Graham in his Madison Square Garden Crusade.

The musicale will also include instrumental and choral arrangements by Al Yungton.

Following the program there will be a time of fellowship and refreshments.

Just before midnight everyone will gather in the sanctuary for a commemoration of the Lord's Supper.

Dr. Dale C. Recker will direct the publication and distribution of literature for the blind through the society.

Last year, the society distributed 62,683 copies of the Scriptures in Braille, other raised characters and on records in 15 languages and systems.

FREEBURG, Ohio — For 11 years, the women's and men's fellowships of the Freeburg Church of The Brethren have joined forces to make about a thousand jars of apple butter, including some without sugar for those on restricted diets.

The fund-raising project is a family affair, with men, women and children working in the church basement and "apple butter house." They say that "Fellowship — people working toward a common goal — is really the important thing" in the project.

White Sisters Sing New Year's Eve

Instrumental and choral arrangements will be featured at the New Year's Eve Musicales at First Baptist Church Tuesday.

The evening will begin at 9 p.m. and continue past midnight.

The White Sisters, a trio of girls consisting of Faye, Janet and Joyce White, will present musical numbers many of which they have recorded. The girls have been singing together since Faye was seven and the others, twins Joyce and Janet, were five.

Before turning to the sacred art of music, the girls won first place on Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts" while still in high school. They appeared in radio numbers with Dr. Billy Graham in his Madison Square Garden Crusade.

The musicale will also include instrumental and choral arrangements by Al Yungton.

Following the program there will be a time of fellowship and refreshments.

Just before midnight everyone will gather in the sanctuary for a commemoration of the Lord's Supper.

Dr. Dale C. Recker will direct the publication and distribution of literature for the blind through the society.

Last year, the society distributed 62,683 copies of the Scriptures in Braille, other raised characters and on records in 15 languages and systems.

Revision in Attitude Urged Toward Laymen
CHICAGO (AP)—The church faces possible "ecclesiastical suicide" unless it makes some radical changes in its traditional attitude toward laymen — particularly its youth, says the Rev. Dr. Robert W. Stackel, of Akron, Ohio.
He told a Lutheran Church in American conference of youth workers that lay church activity is "geared too much to maintaining the existing organizational machinery. In some cases the church machinery being maintained is already obsolete."

New Year's Eve Services Scheduled

"Three Wise Boys," a color film with an unusual story will be shown at 7 p.m. Sunday in Silvercrest Baptist Church. The story centers around a mid-western farm family of a generation ago.
It presents the real meaning of Christmas, that it is more blessed to give than to receive. Pastor Wayne E. Smith said.
At the 11 a.m. worship hour Pastor Smith will speak on "New Things for the New Year."
The annual Watch Night service will open at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday with the showing of Dr. Billy Graham's color film, "Africa on the Bridge." The picture portrays Dr. Graham's meeting with the African people and his evangelistic crusade there.
The fun and fellowship hour will begin at 10 p.m. The senior young people will present a humorous skit and provide refreshments.
At 11 p.m. the congregation will gather for the candlelight service of Holy Communion.
The service will close as the New Year comes in with a "Testimony of Lights." The congregation will form a circle around the sanctuary each holding a lighted candle as members share blessings of the old year and anticipate the opportunities of the New Year.
The "Faithful Followers and Gospel Carriers Sunday School classes will be in charge of the service at Pontiac Rescue Mission at 8 p.m. Friday.

Leaders Sign Document on Role of Clergymen

Three leaders representing the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish communities in Seattle, Wash., have issued a statement on "The Proper Role of the Clergy."
The document was one of several coming out of the recent Seattle Conference on Religion and Race of which Dr. Lemuel Peterson, executive director of the Seattle Council of Churches, is a cochairman.
Other signers of the statement were the Rev. John D. Lynch, Rabbi Jacob Singer and the Rev. Samuel B. McKinney, chairman of the steering committee.
Setting the historical background to the role of the clergy, which in ancient times was in opposition to "imperial officials and royal governors," the document declares: "In many other struggles for freedom, justice and human rights in our nation and elsewhere, religious leaders have been in the forefront of bringing pressure to bear upon constituted authority who usually have wished to preserve the status quo."
"We have tried in our own way, in our own time, and in our own community to carry on this historical and honorable task," said the statement, adding: "If we do not fulfill this task (of serving as the corporate conscience of society as a whole) we will become false prophets, religious leaders who fail to be God's spokesmen, and Church and Synagogue without integrity or purpose."
The statement deplored "the humiliation of the Negro" and predicted that advances in human rights and equality will come about in part "because of the moral revulsion over the inequities of our present discriminatory practices."

Catholic Cardinals Plan Conference
Six Roman Catholic cardinals — three from Latin America and three from the United States — will be sponsors and co-presidents in January of a Chicago conference aimed at increasing friendship and furthering cooperation between U.S. and Latin Catholics.
The first annual conference of the Catholic Inter-American Cooperation Program (CICOP) will be held at Chicago's Edge-water Beach hotel Jan. 18-21. Participants, estimated at 2,000, will include hierarchy, clergy, nuns and lay representatives from North, Central and South America.

COUNT COINS — Susanne B. Anker of 1945 S. Lapeer, Lake Orion, (left), Barbara Evildner of 6800 Macdoug, Waterford Township and Susanne's brother, John, count coins they have saved in bags to present to the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Adventists will build many homes for missionaries and national workers in South Africa with the funds brought by Sabbath School members this morning.

Sabbath School Brings Savings

Adventists Build Homes in South Africa

The Seventh-day Adventist Church, 156 Mt. Clemens will be investing in a large scale home building operation, according to DeForest L. Patchin, superintendent of the Sabbath School.

Members of the school brought money saved and earned during the past 13 weeks to church today. All ages are participating in the project.

Scores of small homes will be erected in South Africa as a result of contributions made this week by local Adventists and fellow church members throughout the United States and Canada.

The homes, which will be modern, efficient structures, will replace native huts which in many cases have served national workers in mission outposts.

Supintendent Patchin said the national workers in Africa have increased rapidly over the past few years, outdistancing the existing accommodations on mission stations.

Well educated and holding responsible positions, many of these consecrated workers have had to be content with far from desirable living quarters, he said.

CHURCH GROWS

R. H. Pierson, president of the South African Division of the Adventist Church, reports that Sabbath School members in the 19 countries comprising his area now number nearly 400,000. Heading the newly elected officers of the local church is Dr. Raymond L. Mayor, lay elder.

Other elders include Charles C. Glidden, Lawrence L. Townsend, George B. Clarke, Howard A. Noedel, Robert J. Edwards, and Conrad E. Nyhre.

Fifteen deacons and eight deaconesses were chosen to serve with Hunter L. Saville, head deacon, and Bertha M. Plunz, head deaconess.

Rev. Sturm From North

Associate Minister
Coming to All Saints

The new associate rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, Rev. Charles E. Sturm, comes from the northern part of the state where he was rector of Trinity Church, West Branch; and vicar of St. Andrew's Church in Rose City.

Born and raised on the northeast side of Detroit, Rev. Mr. Sturm attended Denby High School and was graduated from Wayne University.

While in business in Detroit he worked at Mariner's Inn and for a year and a half was layreader in St. Thomas Church when there was no resident clergyman.

While engaged in work at St. Thomas he decided that the ordained ministry should be his life work. He entered Bexley Hall Theological Seminary in the fall of 1958, completed his work, and was ordained in June 1961.

The new associate minister, his wife, Thelma, and three children, Charles Jr., David and Isabel, will move to Pontiac the last week of January.

Members of the board of auditors to be installed include Donald Tinson and Walter Richley; and Bert Colbeth, Floyd Haroun, Rollin Black and George Kuhn, board of trustees.

The usher staff with Nelson Pressel, head usher, will be installed the first of the year. A New Year's Eve service of Holy Communion will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

U. S. Missionary-Nurse Is Evicted From Sudan

NEW YORK (U. S. A. nurse, Miss Arlene Schulteman, serving at a missionary clinic at Nasir in the Sudan, has returned to her home in Sioux Center, Iowa, evicted from the Sudan by the government there.

Reporting the case, a joint United Presbyterian-Reformed Church missionary office said the ouster brings to a total of 23 the number of American missionary personnel forced to leave their posts in the Sudan.

Turk Invasion Rumored

Jets Buzz Low Over Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Three unidentified jet fighters roared over Nicosia at rooftop level after daybreak today after a tense night filled with rumors of an imminent Turkish invasion.

The jets passed twice over the walled Turkish Cypriot quarter, then headed north over the Mediterranean toward Turkey.

The low-level buzzing was the third such incident in the past four days and followed a nerve-racking night during which Turkish warships were reported off the northern Cyprus coast.

RENEW CHARGES

The buzzing brought renewed charges by Greek Cypriots that the Turkish air force was "showing the flag" in an attempt to incite the Turkish Cypriot community in Nicosia.

The invasion rumors roused U.S. Ambassador Frazer Wilkins and acting British High Commissioner Denis Cleary from their beds. They hurried to the Presidential Palace for an emergency conference with Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus and leader of the Greek Cypriot community.

Cyprus Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou accused the Turks of waging a war of nerves against his country with the ships and plane movements. But he told newsmen after a seven-hour Cabinet meeting the Turkish ships had not violated Cyprus territorial waters.

Many Cypriots kept their radios on through the night, waiting for a promised government announcement. But the announcement did not come.

Despite the overflight, actual communal fighting between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots had died down under the watchful eye of British patrols.

But the seriousness of the situation was underlined further by the emergency departure for Cyprus from London of Britain's Commonwealth relations secretary, Duncan Sandys, in a plane carrying British troop reinforcements to the former British colony.

The Greek Cypriot community plans a funeral today for 50 Greeks they claim were killed during the past week's intercommunal fighting. The ceremony could cause further incidents.

The Turks take their own dead at 60. Each side accuses the other of exaggerating losses.

The fighting between Cyprus' Greek majority and the Turkish minority broke out last Saturday, rekindling the old antagonism between the two communities.

Maj. Gen. P. G. Young, commander of the 10,000-man British garrison on Cyprus, conferred Friday with the commanders of the smaller Greek and Turkish military units on setting up mixed patrols to keep the peace.

A British soldier was wounded in the shoulder while on patrol in the southeast port of Larnaca. His wound was not serious.

In Athens, Greek students demonstrated and revived an old demand for union of Greece and Cyprus, 80 per cent of whose population of about 500,000 is of Greek descent. In Ankara Turkish students demanded annexation of the island by Turkey, which ruled over Cyprus for three centuries until Britain got control in 1878.

RECEIVED STUDENTS

Turkey's Premier Ismet Inönü received some of the students and told them: "Peace and order have been restored in Cyprus. A settlement will be reached as you wish. My request for Turkish youth is that they act with restraint and not cause any disturbance."

Greece's King Paul I urged President Cemal Gursel of Turkey to use his influence to avoid any action that might upset the precarious cease-fire in Cyprus.

Underlying the tension is Makarios' proposals to deprive the island's Turkish minority of its veto power over certain types of legislation. He says the veto prevents passage of necessary laws. The Turkish Cypriots accuse Makarios of trying to erase minority rights guaranteed by the 1960 constitution.

12 Said Dead in Siam Crash

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Twelve persons were killed yesterday when a C47 transport crashed and burned on the Thailand-Malaysian border.

The Bangkok Post reported that the victims included three Chinese-American crew members.

The newspaper identified the three as Herbert Loo, the pilot, P. H. Siah, the co-pilot, and L. S. Yu, the radio operator.

They were not further identified and no confirmation could be obtained from Air America which chartered the plane to the U.S. overseas mission to fly supplies to Thai border patrols.

The other nine persons aboard were identified as Thai policemen.

Moon Eclipse Is Monday

BOSTON (AP)—The moon stars in a 3½-hour spectacular Monday, an eclipse visible in all North America and along the West Coast of South America. Watchers in the Eastern United States will have to set their alarm clocks early to catch it, off the moon's face and the eclipse will be ended.

At that hour the Hayden Planetarium explained, the moon will enter the umbra or dark shadow of the earth. Between 5:28 and 6:47 the moon will be completely in the earth's shadow. At 7:50 the last of the earth's shadow will have passed off the moon's face and the eclipse will be ended.

Says Church Leader

Unity Talks Easier

NEW YORK (AP)—A leader in the World Council of Churches says that in the quest for Christian unity "there is now a willingness to delve into the real causes of separation."

Dr. Roswell P. Barnes, executive secretary in the United States for the council, said Friday in his annual report: "It is now possible to discuss those differences with much of the understanding of emotional tensions removed."

"As between the constituents of the World Council of Churches and Roman Catholics, patterns of association are becoming fairly well defined and established."

He noted that there is a new "ease and candor of conversation" as a result of the Vatican Ecumenical Council and the World Council's conference in Montreal.

"Christians of various confessions from many nations and races are becoming accustomed to being with one another," he said. "Differences in dress and language are less distracting than formerly. We are getting acquainted with one another as people."

Polaris Sub Is Launched in California

MARE ISLAND, Calif. (AP)—The nuclear-powered Polaris-firing submarine Woodrow Wilson—capable of remaining submerged for more than two months—joined the U.S. fleet Friday.

The Navy said there is scarcely a point on the earth's surface beyond the reach of her 16 missiles.

The 7,500-ton warship, first to bear the name of the 28th president, seeks "to guarantee the peace, and its range is global," said Chief Justice Earl Warren at the outdoor commissioning ceremonies at Mare Island shipyard.

"This epitomizes the purpose and concept of Woodrow Wilson. This is the cause for which he gave his life."

U.S. High Hit in Road Dead

Total Up 6 Per Cent From Record in 1962

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic fatalities for the first 11 months this year and for the month of November established new highs, the National Safety Council said today.

The November total of 4,107 traffic deaths pushed the 11-month total for 1963 to 39,280, up six per cent from the record 1962 figure.

During the first 11 months of 1963, 37,129 persons died in traffic accidents.

The November monthly increase was up 11 per cent over the 3,700 in November 1962. The total also eclipsed the 4,048 record fatality count established in November 1962.

RATE CLIMBED

The fatality rate during the first 11 months of 1963 climbed to 54 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles, a 2 per cent increase over a comparable period last year when the percentage was 5.3 per 100 million vehicle miles.

During the first 11 months this year, 1.4 million persons suffered disabling injuries and 1.4 million others received minor injuries.

Two of the five U.S. cities with more than a million population reduced traffic deaths during the 11-month period.

Los Angeles remained in first place with the lowest vehicle-death rate. Chicago, Philadelphia, New York City and Detroit followed in that order.

LOVELY ENTRANCE—Many, many feet have peddled up and down this dramatic stairway in the Kahn's big entrance hall. Heavy, arched doors; high, hand-hewn beamed ceilings; and spaciousness make this lovely English manor-type home one of the county's show places. Deep reds and greens mix with browns in the old tile on the floor. That door at the landing leads down to the kitchen area.

background for LIVING

ENGLISH MANOR—Although cars drive up on the other side of this house into a big courtyard, this is really the front of the house. Even in midwinter, those vines retain their leaves as they wind across the top gable like giant eyelashes. From this front patio can be heard the splashing of water over a dam way below this level. Years ago, William's father, Louis Kahn, had the river dammed up, making a natural swimming hole for his children. Later, a huge, pure-water swimming pool was installed on the west side of the mansion.

SPACIOUS LIVING ROOM—This white-carpeted room is 40 feet long and 30 feet wide. Despite its size, it is warm and comfortable and has several areas for complete relaxation.

In front of the fireplace, a huge orange rug unites a good conversation area. The beige sofa seems to curve around one edge of that deep-piled rug, encouraging guests to sink down and relax. The monk's table and chair behind the sofa are over 100 years old and are strategically placed so as not to hide the time-worn satiny finish of the rare antique.

They Live Like Royalty

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Drive up the long, tree-lined driveway and into the brick-paved courtyard of the William Kahn home off 14 Mile near Franklin, and you'll find a castle-like hideaway.

There's only the sound of wild birds chirping or the stirring of dead leaves as an occasional squirrel scampers around for the last morsel of food.

Inside the big, English manor-type home with its dignified furnishings all is warmth and friendliness as the Kahns help their three children grow up. There are Petra, 14 ("She's a girl," says Mrs. Kahn), Sandra, 12, and Robert, 9.

The big home which was built 40 years ago as a summer farmhouse, is situated in the center of 25 acres of trees, hills, pasture land, formal gardens, orchards and patios.

Nearby is the huge barn that now houses the children's three riding horses. Private trails wind over hill and dale, and hidden way back in the woods is a completely furnished log cabin where everyone can "get away from it all."

Small footbridges arch over narrow places in the tiny stream that flows through the property, and two dams have provided two small lakes with scenic islands in the center.

Although the summer is the nicest time of the year on the Kahn estate, winter is a time when family fun goes inside. Three big fireplaces liven up the atmosphere as the children sprawl in front, reading or playing quiet games.

The library is packed from floor to ceiling with first editions collected by Kahn's father, Louis. Most of the old-world flavor has been retained in the wrought-iron light fixtures, the arched doorways and heavy hammered-iron door hinges.

Pegged wooden floors are covered with luxurious carpets in decorator colors. Modern, Italian and French Provincial all blend with surprising unity, but above all, this home is strictly a haven for quietly "growing" together.

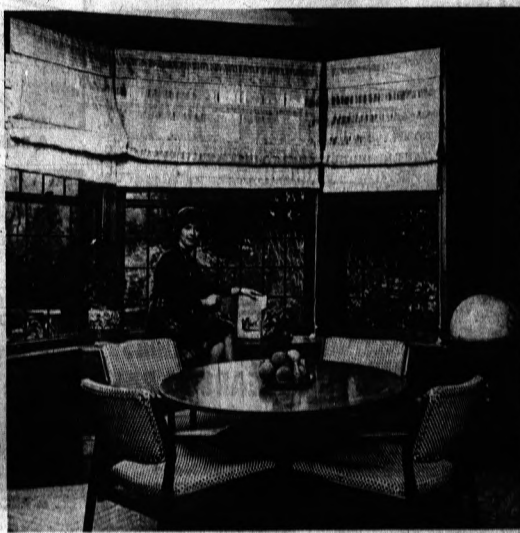

OLD WITH NEW—Streamlined Danish modern furniture seems to accentuate the beauty of a pair of old Italian sideboards at right. This one was created in 1720 and was reproduced by a Cranbrook carpenter-artist to balance the decor of the dining room. A soft-blue carpet over pegged wooden floors make this a most unique and attractive area.

DEN-GUN ROOM—William Kahn is an old-gun enthusiast, and this room is one of the most interesting in the entire home. The guns have been collected from all over the world, and every one of the four walls has some relic artistically displayed. The three Kahn children have learned about guns and know the danger in handling them.

PLACE FOR RELAXING—Every old English home has a book-filled library, and here the charming Mrs. Kahn finds relaxation and quiet from her busy community life. Opposite this bay window, a big 5-foot-square oil painting has been hung on the fireplace wall. It gives every detail of the Kahns' 25-acre property layout, depicting the four seasons of the year in various areas.

Sewing Center for the Home

Compact Unit Can Fit Nearly Any Area

A home sewing center can be mighty compact.

In an apartment, it might be concentrated on the inside of a closet door. In a house, take just six feet of wall space in each direction from a corner.

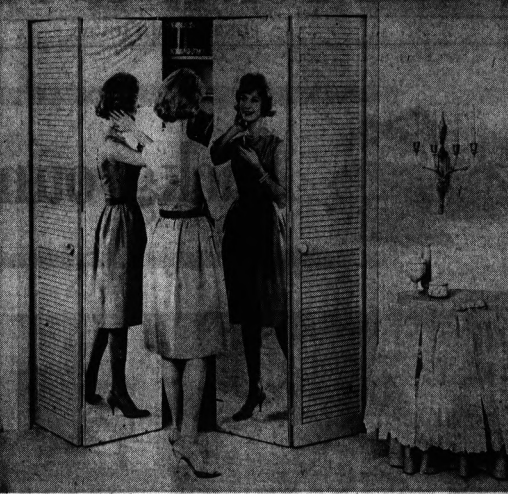

That was how the Masonite Design Center solved a homemaker's dilemma of having "a big need for a sewing center but little space available."

Ingredients for the home improvement are (1) a bit of wall space, (2) three panels of factory-finished honeycomb such as Royalco Honeycomb cherry, (3) a table and chair, (4) a portable sewing machine, (5) a wall-supported work shelf for supplies, (6) a framed panel of Peg-Board on which to mount spools and other supplies, and (7) miscellaneous sewing equipment and wall decor.

In some homes, if even less space is available, one eight-foot wall would serve, according to George Parenti, director of the design bureau.

There would need to be a greater concentration of accessories, but still an attractive center could be established.

Department and variety stores have many sewing supplies that will enable the homemaker to accessorize the space once she has staked a claim on it.

GOOD "LOOKING"—Front and back views are possible with these mirror K-Doors by Kennatrack. "A mirror on the door makes a closet serve you more," says Kennatrack. These folding mirror doors permit front and back, head-to-toe viewing and full closet access. They also add spaciousness to small bedrooms. The full-length doors (shown above) are factory-hinged to mirror panels. Mirrors and all hardware are factory-mounted for ease and accuracy of installation.

Calls for Veto of Lumber Bill

Gain Living Space in Unused Home Areas

WASHINGTON—William Blackfield, newly elected president of the National Association of Home Builders, has urged President Lyndon B. Johnson to veto a lumber import-making bill which, he said, would increase the cost of housing in this country.

The bill, (H.R. 2513) carries an amendment which would require the marking of all imported sawed lumber by country of origin. It is aimed principally at Canadian lumber imports.

Blackfield, in a letter to Mr. Johnson, said that enactment of the bill would "seriously and adversely affect the costs of construction to our industry and the costs of housing to future home buyers because of the imported lumber-marking requirement in the bill."

"We are convinced," he added, "that restrictions imposed upon the importation of Canadian softwood lumber will result in higher prices generally for American lumber."

Construction Expert Foresees Good Year

The home building industry has enjoyed its second busiest and most productive year in history. All signs point to another good year in 1964, according to William Blackfield, president of the National Association of Home Builders.

The new house count for 1963 is almost 1.33 million units, a 10 per cent increase over 1962. The home building industry's best year was 1959, when 1,721,000 housing units were produced. These were private, non-farm units, as are the totals for 1963.

The situation in 1960 and in this last year is quite different. In the peak year of 1959, the industry was building to catch up to the housing demand, which followed World War II, during which private house construction came to a virtual standstill and the worst housing shortage in American history ensued.

In 1963, a buyer's market prevailed. Prospective home buyers were not so interested in finding a place to live as they were in upgrading their living.

FINE VARIETY

They had a fine range of new homes from which to choose, with design geared to living, greater comfort, more conveniences and beauty.

The value of new housing placed on the market in 1963 reached about $19.5 billion, compared to $15 billion in 1962.

At the start of the year, no one expected 1963 to be as good a year for the industry as it proved to be. The surprise came in October, a month when housing starts usually taper off.

But this year there were more one family housing starts in October than in any previous month. They reached 104,100 housing starts—exceeding the usually peak spring months. Starts in April this year were 102,800 and in May they were 105,500.

Multiple family housing also held up amazingly well in October, with starts at 58,100 units, only a little less than May's top of 59,400 units.

APARTMENT BUILDINGS

The 1963 housing picture was dominated by the increase in apartment construction. Multi-family housing units accounted for about 36 per cent of the total production. This was greater than in 1962, when apartment units amounted to 32.4 per cent of the total.

Apartment building no doubt will continue strong in 1964 but it probably will be a little less percentage-wise than in 1963. Expectations are it will amount to about 35 per cent of the total housing production.

Mortgage money during 1963 was readily available and it should continue so with little change in interest rates for the next six months. However, there are scattered signs pointing to a slight increase in the mort-

Firm Offers Solid Siding

Something new in building material has been introduced by the Joe Valley Co. of Rochester. He is the distributor of solid vinyl siding for outside construction of homes and other buildings.

Valley claims it is a dramatic scientific advance in home beauty and protection that is guaranteed to last the lifetime of a home. He points out that hail storms will not damage the siding, it never needs painting and has been time-tested for durability.

More information may be obtained by calling the Valley company.

Inside Is Taken Outside for Year-Round Pleasure

Any homeowner has those two housing problems: how to bring the inside outside in summer and what to do with the children inside in winter.

An imaginative answer is provided by architect Lester Cohen in a versatile, all-weather house, H-9 in the House of the Week series.

With an eye to balmy outdoor living in summer, Cohen has designed the dining room to face out through full-length glass doors onto a patio so in a jiffy mealtime can be moved outside.

He's taken further advantage of the gentle seasons with a living room-size porch that shares the privacy of the back yard.

PORCH IS KEY

And the porch is the key to more relaxed winter-time living when the children are inside and underfoot.

The porch not only can be converted to a family room but its location away from the living and sleeping areas means greater privacy for Mom and Dad when they're entertaining and more peace when they're resting.

Adding to the graciousness of the design as well as helping to tone down too much togetherness is the large center hall dividing the bedrooms from the dining-living-play areas.

The living area and basement each measures 1,320 square feet and the family room-porch and laundry room are another 325 square feet.

2-CAR GARAGE

The two-car garage is 421 square feet and the house overall measures 70 feet by 32 feet 4 inches.

By means of the center hall and separate dining room the living room is out of the traffic flow and can be kept company-fresh.

Thoughtful planning continues into the kitchen, handy either to the dining room, patio and porch and is even provided with a hooded barbecue that backs up to the living room fireplace.

SPECIAL FEATURES

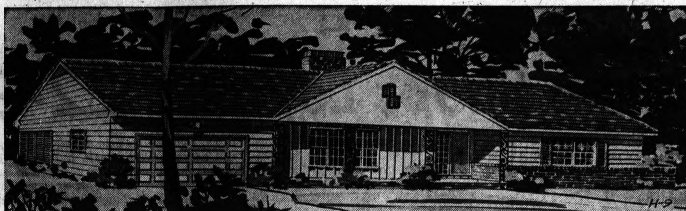

Special features abound in the bedroom wing. There's a built-in vanity in the master bedroom plus a stall shower bathroom.

Two other bedrooms, another full-size bath and linen closet open conveniently off the core hall.

The hall also gives access to the storage attic through a scuttle.

There's also that big basement available for fun, work or storage and additional room in the garage for tool storage and a workbench.

Built-in space is generous with 6-foot closets in each bedroom and, for those cold winter nights, there's a TV nook next to the fireplace.

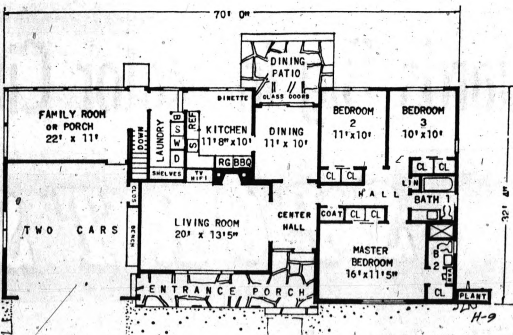

LIFETIME HOUSE—The separation of the bedroom wing and living room from the activity centers of the kitchen and family room make this a restful home for indoor living.

The family room and dining room, however, can be easily converted for outdoor summer enjoyment. Architect is Lester Cohen.

H-9 STATISTICS

A well-planned ranch house with three bedrooms, two baths, two-car garage, living room, dining room, porch-family room, laundry room, kitchen, patio and center hall. Main level contains 1,320 square feet as does the basement. The porch-family room and laundry add another 325 square feet. Dimensions are 70 feet by 32 feet 4 inches.

FLOOR PLANS—The living area covers 1,320 square feet plus an additional 325 square feet for the laundry and porch-family room. The basement lies under the living, dining and sleeping areas. Note the separation of living, sleeping and utility centers.

Landscape Analysis Set at MSU Conference

EAST LANSING—You can have your landscape analyzed by specialists at a Feb. 5 meeting at Michigan State University.

If you mail slides of your landscape, on or before Jan. 28, they will be discussed in a special landscape program Feb. 5 during Michigan State University's 49th annual Farmers' Week at East Lansing.

Analysts will be Joseph T. Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at MSU, and William R. Nelson, extension landscape architect from the University of Illinois.

The slides you send in should be cardboard mounted 35 mm. color slides. Cox suggests they be taken about 100-foot distance, showing front, side or back views of buildings. If you have pictures of your landscape without snow, these are preferred.

LABEL SLIDES

Label each slide with your name and indicate return address on your envelope. Slides will be returned to you by mail after Farmers' Week. Mail your slides to Cox at the School of Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture, MSU, East Lansing.

To hear the analysis you should attend the program in Room 32 of the MSU Union Building at 10 a.m. on Feb. 5, 1964.

Nelson will also be speaker for a 2 p.m. program called "Landscape Design for Today's Family." He will discuss up-to-date ideas of landscape planning and will illustrate his talk with a film. This meeting will also be in Room 32.

"Michigan Agriculture Grows with Michigan" is the theme for Farmers' Week this year.

Install Tile Bars for Safe Bathroom

One way to increase the safety of your bathroom—the most accident-prone room in your house—is to install two ceramic grab bars in your bath and shower enclosure.

Set one low, just about the tub line, and the second at a convenient height for the average adult.

Two grab bars set firmly in the ceramic tile wall will give an extra measure of safety in slippery tub areas. The lower bar should be in easy reach of youngsters.

Old Ceiling, New Look With Tile

Homeowners can give that old ceiling a new look using an economical new decorative ceiling tile that can be installed as a do-it-yourself project.

Frosted ceiling tile has a distinctive, three-dimensional pebbled texture. Contrasting tones of white hues add further elegance to the new ceiling when the tile is installed.

No painting, further finishing or cleanup is necessary once the tile is in place. The decorative tile can be installed using either acoustical cement or a staple gun.

If the old ceiling is sound and even, the homeowner can "stick up" the tile with acoustical cement.

If the ceiling is not level, furring strips should be nailed to the old ceiling and levelled with thin strips of wood for the staple gun application of the tile to the furring strips.

Common NFL Foe Favors Giants

Conditions Better for NY Offense

CHICAGO (U)—Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers, who just missed winning in the Eastern Conference said "If the field is frozen, I have to give the edge to the Giants."

The Steelers tied the Bears and lost to the Giants on frigid afternoons.

"The pass receivers know where they are going, but the defense does not. When we played the Giants on a frozen field in New York two weeks ago, each team had receivers, wide open all afternoon. The difference was that Tittle hit his and our guy Ed Brown was not having one of his better days."

SLIGHT EDGE

The Giants rate a slight edge in the game to be witnessed by a sellout crowd of 46,001 at the Chicago Cubs ball park.

New York's explosive attack has produced 57 touchdowns, 18 running and 39 passing. Tittle connected with a record 36 TD passes. The Bears' offense produced only 37 touchdowns.

On the other hand, the Bears defense gave up only 14 points, an average of 10 per game.

Coach Alie Sherman led his Giants into town Friday night with a bit upset about a rumor that Shofner would be traded to Green Bay for Paul Hornung, who is under an indefinite suspension for betting.

The Giant coach denied the story strongly and called the report "a grave injustice to Shofner."

BRIEF WORKOUT

Sherman scheduled a brief workout today and set an 11 p.m. EST curfew for his club. The game Sunday will start at 1 p.m. EST.

The contest will be carried on network NBC television and radio with the Chicago area blacked out on TV. About 25,000 fans are expected to watch at three closed circuit TV arenas in Chicago.

Hals took his Bears to a late frost Friday for a workout.

He said his only concern was to keep his team off Wrigley Field because it had been snowed lightly and he didn't want to roll back the cover.

Sherman brought sneakers, cleats and hip-sole shoes for his Giants, who once upset the Bears in 1934 by using sneakers on the frozen field of New York's Polo Grounds.

The only doubtful position in the Giants starting line-up has been right end, or tight end position. Sherman said Aaron Thomas would start over Joe Walton. He said the entire club was in good shape physically and "did not have an alibi to stand on."

Informed that heaters would be provided on the sidelines, Sherman remarked: "We just like to be sure they are working on both sides."

NOSE CONE—That's Chicago Bears' tackle Bob Wietoska in back of the knitted face mask and nose cone yesterday as the Windy City eleven worked out for Sunday's National Football League title clash with the New York Giants at Wrigley Field.

Favor West 11 Over East in 39th Meeting

From Our Wire Services

The middle course on the college football post-season bowl menu will be served to Kerr of the National Basketball League's Philadelphia 76ers, it's Saturday the 70th—a very special date.

Barring mishaps, Kerr plays his 70th consecutive NBA game tonight, against Los Angeles in Convention Hall, breaking the record of 706 set by 76ers Coach Dolph Schayes.

Kerr tied Schayes' record Friday night in Hershey, Pa., as the 76ers, defeated the Detroit Pistons 119-107. The 6-foot-9 veteran scored 12 points, while teammate Chet Walker, a 6-4 forward from Bradley, was high man with 29.

OTHER GAME

In the league's only other game, Oscar Robertson's ambitious hook shots spearheaded a 91-87 victory by the Cincinnati Royals over the Boston Celtics.

Hayes Jones Ups Mark to 41 Straight Indoors

From Our Wire Services

SAN FRANCISCO—Hurricane Hayes Jones still has no peer.

The native of Pontiac who's now a Detroit youth counselor won his 41st consecutive indoor high hurdle race last night in the Holiday, Invitational track and field meet.

Jones, who has now rolled up 49 straight including outdoor meets, took command at the halfway mark of his specialty which he captured in a time of :07.2. Blaine Lindgren, former Utah star, was second in :07.3.

Jones is in the running for the Sullivan award this year and will be shooting for the Gold Medal in the Olympics in Tokyo next year before retiring from active competition.

However, 17-year-old Gerry Lindgren of Rogers High, Spokane, Wash., was named the outstanding athlete at the San Francisco Examiner Holiday Invitational for his incredible nine minutes flat clocking for two miles.

A Canadian, Bill Crothers, knocked a tenth of a second off the American indoor 880 record with a smashing 1:50.2 triumph over Jim Dupree, the best U.S. half-mile.

Two Olympic veteran surprise losers were broad jumper Ralph Boston, beaten one-half inch at 26-6½ by Washington's Phil Shinnick, and Ron Morris, topped in the pole vault by 16-foot newcomer Jeff Chase of San Jose State.

Crothers, last year's U.S. champion, led from the start of the 880, passing the quarter mile in 55 seconds. Dupree ran at Crothers' shoulder until the Canadian cut loose with 120 yards to run and won by 1.5 seconds.

Lindgren was another wire-to-wire winner as he lapped a strong prep field. He was far under the previous best-ever two-mile by a high schooler—an outdoor 9:08.8 by Mike Ryan of Santa Clara, Calif.

Arizona State's Ullis Williams drove past Adolph Pummer for a 50.5 victory in the 440, thus continuing his hex over the world record holder.

INDOOR MARK—Canadian Bill Crothers breaks the tape to set a new American indoor mark for the 880 in the San Francisco Holiday track meet last night. His time was 1:50.2, one-tenth of a second faster than the six-year mark of Arnie Sowell.

Best Gate Likely

CHICAGO (U)—Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, said Friday that the net receipts of Sunday's New York Giants-Chicago Bears title game will set a record.

He said a net gate of about $730,400 was in prospect, without counting the income from closed circuit television in Chicago.

The league's all time high is the $716,500 from the 1962 championship game between the New York Giants and the Green Bay Packers in New York's Yankee Stadium.

"We are assured of record net receipts," Rozelle said. He told a news conference that he expects each players' share to be about the same as last year, when each member of the winning Green Bay squad collected $5,888.57 and each member of the losing Giants received $4,166.85.

He explained that the number of active players had been increased from 36 to 37 and he believes that more shares will be allotted.

He placed the gross income from the game at $1,461,000, minus receipts from closed TV in Chicago. He included in this gross about $500,000 from the box office at Wrigley Field, $926,000 from the TV contract with NBC; $25,000 from game films, and $10,000 from local radio in Chicago and New York.

Ex-Boxer Takes State Post

New Fight Czar to Scrap Rule Changes

Cavanaugh Selected as New Chairman; Replaces Gudelsky

LANSING (UPI)—Dave Gudelsky's stormy reign as Michigan boxing czar has ended.

And with Gudelsky's departure will go some of his innovations such as the 90-second rest between rounds and the two-minute rounds.

Frank Cavanaugh, a 66-year-old former boxer, was named yesterday by Gov. George Romney as the new boxing chairman to replace Gudelsky.

Cavanaugh quickly announced he would do away with Gudelsky's changes and return to the three-minute round and the 60-second rest between periods.

The changes were inaugurated by Gudelsky after the death of Benny Paret.

Chuck Davey, the former Michigan State boxer who became an idol during the heyday of televised boxing before his loss to Kid Gavilan, was appointed a board member replacing Morris B. Gruskas, a Detroit attorney.

Gudelsky became a controversial nationwide figure when he pulled Michigan out of the World Boxing Association and then staged "title" fights between Paulie Armstrong and Kenny Lane and Henry Hank and Eddie Cotton.

It was all started by the WBA's refusal to force lightweight champ Carlos Ortiz to fight Kenny Lane, who's been ducked by both Joe Frazier and Ortiz the last five years.

Cavanaugh said he "wants to look over the commission office to determine what the conditions are before making any other changes."

He said he wants to look into the business of promoters also serving as managers. "The boxer always seems to get the short end of those deals," he added.

Cavanaugh said that Jackie Vaughan, secretary of the commission, will be replaced but no successor has been named.

The other board members besides Cavanaugh and Davey are Sylvester Flabury of Manistee, Claude Ward of Flint, Frank Rodman of Hermusville and Dean Rockwell of Detroit.

No Armory Mat Action

Promoter Paul Parks told the schedule would resume next Saturday at the National Guard Armory.

Rangers' Win Over Chicago Led by Henry

By The Associated Press

Little Camille Henry supplied the knockout punch Friday night as the lowly New York Rangers finally floored Chicago's heavyweight Black Hawks after six unsuccessful bouts with the National Hockey League leaders.

Henry, lightest NHL performer at 145 pounds, scored twice in the final period as New York decided the sagging Hawks 4-2 and climbed out of the league cellar in a rare Friday encounter. The defeat was Chicago's fifth in its last eight starts.

SNAPS TIE

The classy left-wing's 14th season goal snapped a 2-2 deadlock midway through the third stanza and his 15th, into an open net, clinched the Rangers' first victory over Chicago after five defeats and a tie.

After a scoreless first period, Stan Mikita took over the NHL point leadership on his 21st goal to give the Hawks a 1-0 edge.

Harry Howell's 40-footer tied the count before Chicago's Ab McDonald and New York's Andy Bathgate traded third period battles and set up Henry's closing rush.

Jeane Ratelle, up from Baltimore to sub for ailing Phil Goyette, assisted on Henry's first goal. The second, in the final minute, came after the Hawks pulled goalie Glenn Hall for a sixth star.

Farmington Loses

Royal Oak Kimball wrapped up the city cage championship last night with a 63-53 decision over Royal Oak Dondero before an estimated 2,000 fans on the Knight's court.

The win was Kimball's second in succession in the city rivalry. Dondero holds a 5-4 edge in the seven-year series.

Pacing the Knights' attack were Steve Lloyd (15), Pete McVittie (14) and Rick Muenchhausen (15).

Bill Sevald picked up 14 markers for the Acorns and John Walters added 10.

Detroit Thurston raced to its fifth win of the season Friday evening, downing North Farmington, 67-56, in the semifinals.

FARMINGTON LOSES

Grosse Pointe knocked off Farmington, 60-54, to remain in contention for the Livonia Belt tournament crown.

John Olander led the Farmington five with 14 markers. The Falcons were slated to meet Highland Park in a consolation game this afternoon.

Church League Tied by Three

Macedonia Baptist, slowed down the Trinity Baptist Express that has sped through the YMCA Church basketball league's senior division the last two years with a 40-37 win Friday night.

It marked the first defeat for Trinity in two seasons.

Macedonia grabbed an early lead and held on against Trinity. Cedric Patterson led the victors with 17 points.

Tim Kaul's 30 points led Central Methodist past St. Paul Methodist, 91-16, and First Congregational squeaked by All Saints Episcopal, 44-42, in overtime led by Len Gaches 15 points.

Oakland Park was down, 18-8, at halftime against First Baptist and lost 31-25.

Farmington Loses

Royal Oak Kimball wrapped up the city cage championship last night with a 63-53 decision over Royal Oak Dondero before an estimated 2,000 fans on the Knight's court.

The win was Kimball's second in succession in the city rivalry. Dondero holds a 5-4 edge in the seven-year series.

Dondero held a 14-13 lead at the end of the first quarter, but the Knights went ahead at intermission, 24-22, and put the game away with 39 points in the second half.

The victory gave the Knights a season mark of 3-1. Dondero slipped to 2-4.

Pacing the Knights' attack were Steve Lloyd (15), Pete McVittie (14) and Rick Muenchhausen (15).

Bill Sevald picked up 14 markers for the Acorns and John Walters added 10.

Detroit Thurston raced to its fifth win of the season Friday evening, downing North Farmington, 67-56, in the semifinals.

Ex-Dentist Finds TV Toothsome

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Dentistry's gift to acting, Edgar Buchanan, appears to have found a steady job. "I don't count on anything until it happens," says Buchanan. "But it looks pretty good."

He needn't be so cautious in talking about "Petticoat Junction," the THOMAS television series in which he is a star. It has scored higher in the ratings than any other new show this season and appears a cinch to continue running.

"If it happens, that's okay with me," Buchanan said. "This series has cured my ulcer. I don't have to worry about where my next job is coming from—no for a while, anyway."

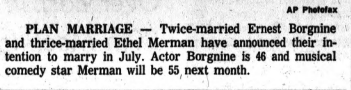

STEADY WORK
Buchanan acted in 15 or more television series during the year, and he figures he's taking a loss by sticking with "Petticoat Junction." But it's steady, and he's getting more public recognition, and he'll be able to pick up some of that lush personal appearance money available to television stars.

"Petticoat Junction" could scarcely have been made without Buchanan, trafficking as it does in small-town humor. He has played more village rogues and grizzled deputies than he can remember.

The Buchanan saga is part of Hollywood legend—how he took a drama course at the University of Oregon because he needed to raise his grade average, how he got the acting bug and wanted to quit his medical studies, how his father, a doctor, urged him to study dentistry so he would have a profession to fall back on.

Buchanan practiced dentistry for 10 years, then came to the Pasadena Playhouse and was discovered by the movies.

Neither Parent Wins Child

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sancie Ann Moreland, 3, center of a bitter custody battle between her divorced parents, will be given to neither.

Juvenile Court Judge Bernard Jefferson ruled Friday that the child will remain a ward of the court. He said both parents had been irresponsible and guilty of character assassination.

Jefferson said Robert J. Moreland, 30, had portrayed his former wife, Carol, 25, as a sexual deviate who had no interest in Sancie Ann.

DESCRIBED HUSBAND
Mrs. Moreland, he said, had described Moreland as highly emotional, cruel, violent and said he had kept her in constant fear.

"Where does the truth really lie?" the judge asked.

Sancie Ann's case attracted wide attention this fall when her father took her from a hospital ward Sept. 22 and kept her hidden for nearly two months. The child had been suffering from encephalitis — sleeping sickness — and he said he was convinced she needed his love to make her well. Doctors said, however, that the child was already past danger and convalescing when he took her from the hospital.

Child-stealing charges against him were later dismissed.

Jefferson's ruling followed conflicting opinions of two psychiatrists who examined Moreland.

Dr. James Edward McGinnis, who was appointed by the court, said he had found some anxiety in Moreland's emotional makeup but no evidence of psychosis. He said Moreland was impulsive "but does not pose a threat to his wife or child."

Marie McDonald
Seeks Divorce

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - Actress Marie McDonald yesterday filed suit for divorce or annulment from her sixth husband, film producer Donald F. Taylor. They were married 57 days.

Miss McDonald, 40, contended that Taylor harassed her, hit her with a belt and threw a flatiron at her in the three days before the couple separated last Sunday.

She gave as grounds for the divorce or annulment that the marriage Nov. 1 in Tepic, Jalisco, Mexico, did not conform to Mexican law.

THOUGHT OF MORTALITY

Situation Likely to Change

Few Eye State's No. 2 Post

By RICHARD PYLE
LANSING (AP) — Judging from what currently appears to be a lack of interest, nobody would ever suspect the lieutenant governorship of Michigan will acquire sudden new importance in 1964.

Candidates for the state's No. 2 post aren't exactly falling over each other these days. Even the man who has the job says he doesn't want it any more.

As a capital humorist put it: "If there was one serious candidate for lieutenant governor right now, he'd be a crowd."

All of this is subject to change, and probably will, once it becomes clear just who is running for governor in 1964 and who isn't.

FOR FIRST TIME

In 1964, for the first time in state history, candidates for the second spot will be picked by the Democratic and Republican party conventions, and will run on a "ticket" with candidates for governor.

In much the same way candidates for president pick their vice presidents, the gubernatorial aspirants — for the first time — will help select their running mates.

Because this assures the governor and lieutenant governor will always be of the same political party, it is to be expected the potential governors will try to pick men who reflect similar political philosophy as well as "balance" the ticket.

But more importantly, in the view of many capital observers, it means the No. 2 candidate is likely to be one who can be prepared for the governorship if and when the time comes.

LITTLE FUTURE

This in itself is a departure from the history of the lieutenant governorship, never a great jumping-off place in politics. Former Gov. John Swainson was only the second man in this century to move upward from lieutenant governor. Philip Hart is the first to have vaulted directly to the U.S. Senate.

The first man in the 20th century to move from the lieutenant governor's chair to the governor's was Lauren Dickinson, who did so through the death in office of Gov. Frank Fitzgerald in 1939.

Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, now in his second term, says he's ready to leave the job because it doesn't offer the challenges he seeks in government.

EYES GOVERNORSHIP

Lesinski has talked of running for governor in 1964, but around the Capitol he still is regarded as a more likely candidate for the new state Court of Appeals.

Regardless of what his political future holds, Lesinski appears to have gotten the maximum mileage out of the job of running the Senate.

Since election of Republican Gov. George Romney, he has served as the leading spokesman for Democrats, their chief representative on the Administrative Board, and the man to consult on strategy and policy decisions.

Like Lesinski, other possible candidates in both parties voice no high regard for the lieutenant governor's job as a role in government.

EYES CONGRESS

Senate GOP majority Leader

Stanley Thayer, R - Ann Arbor, is eyeing Congress, the appeals court, and the lieutenant governorship, but apparently in no order.

Sen. William Milliken, R-Travelers City, says he'd run — but only if a shot at Congress falls to open up. Sen. John Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge, considers it "one of several possibilities."

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingsford, regarded by many as a logical candidate, has most recently stated he plans to run again for the House.

Green said he would be willing to run for lieutenant governor, however, "if Romney — or whoever runs for governor — decides I could help the ticket."

NO LONGER ELECTIVE

On the Democratic side, Treasurer Sanford Brown and Aud. Gen. Billie Farnum, both of whom lose their elective posts under the new constitution, have expressed some interest.

Another well-known figure — former Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn — reported he's been asked about running by several people but hasn't thus far considered it seriously. Until the 1964 political race shapes up more clearly, the lieutenant governorship will be just another $10,500-per-year job (not counting expenses) that few politicians really want but most probably would accept.

Cold Snap Grips Italy; 14 Are Reported Dead

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Northern Italy was in the grip of a new cold wave today. Twelve deaths were blamed on the subfreezing weather.

The new cold snap set in yesterday in the Alpine areas of Italy, and ice and fog continued today to hamper road and rail communications. The winter weather also settled over Milan, and forced the closing of this city's two big airports.

Search Fails to Find Ship

MADRID (AP)—A Spanish cruiser and two frigates in the Atlantic have found no sign of the 10,300-ton Castillo de Montjuich, seven days overdue on a voyage from Boston, Mass., to La Coruna.

The ship, with a crew of 37 and carrying a cargo of 9,000 tons of corn, left Boston Dec. 5. Agents of the owners, Em-presa Naciola Elcano, said they last heard from the freighter Dec. 14 when she radioed her wireless equipment was not working well and gave her position as about 400 miles northwest of the Azores.

The dominion of any ship's habit will fearfully estrange us from His presence. A single consenting act of inward disobedience in thought or will is enough to let fall a cloud between Him and us, and to leave our hearts cheerless and dark. —H. L. Manning.

Mother, Girl Die in Crash

MANISTEE (AP)—A Manistee woman and her 11-year-old daughter were killed Friday night in a two-car, head-on, crash on snow-slicked US 31, about three miles south of here. Dead are Mrs. Agnes Paph, 51, and her daughter, Sally Paph, Mrs. Paph's husband, Charles, 51, and Harold Lloyd, 23, of rural Manistee, driver of the second car, were injured critically.

Staff Elects 1964 Officers at City General Hospital

DR. Z. F. ENDRESS

Dr. Zachary F. Endress has been elected chief of staff and Dr. Robert T. Lyons vice chief and chief-elect at Pontiac General Hospital.

Dr. Endress, of 1790 Tiverton, Bloomfield Hills, is director of the radiology department at Pontiac General.

He has been a staff member for about 17 years and served as vice chief of staff during the past year.

A graduate of Georgetown University Medical School, he came to Pontiac General after completing his residency at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit.

SUCCESSOR

Dr. Endress succeeds outgoing chief Dr. Ralph D. Wigent.

Dr. Lyons, 1917 Bayou, Orchard Lake Village, is former chief of medicine at the hospital.

He has been a member of the staff for 13 years. Dr. Lyons completed his residency at Pontiac General prior to joining the staff.

Other officers elected by the staff are Dr. C. R. Semper, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. James R. Blakeney, member-at-large to the executive committee.

State Big Winner on Racing Scene

LANSING (UPI)—State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced yesterday that Michigan ranks eighth nationally in total road and street mileage.

Michigan had 111,992 miles of roads and streets on Jan. 1, 1963.

Texas, with 234,696 miles, led all states, followed by California, 151,629; Kansas, 132,786; Illinois, 127,000; Minnesota, 124,724; Missouri, 113,339; and Iowa, 112,011.

Michigan's roads break down to 91,400 paved and the remaining were listed as nonpaved mileage.

Doctors also elected five new department heads and reelected three others.

Newly elected heads are Dr. N. E. Durocher, chief of eye, ears, nose and throat; Dr. D. S. Smith, chief of internal medicine; Dr. D. J. Trumppour, chief of pediatrics; Dr. M. E. Willis, chief of psychiatry; and Dr. Glenn A. Sanford, chief of surgery.

Reelected department heads are Dr. R. W. Albrecht, general practice; Dr. Harold A. Furlong, obstetrics and gynecology; and Dr. Aben Hoekman, anesthesiology.

'Put Efforts on Tourism in Upstate'

BOYNE FALLS (UPI)—The owner of two of Michigan's lushest ski resorts said today upstate promoters should stop trying to lure factories and concentrate on developing the tourist industry.

Everett Kircher said, "This is the tourist county. It would be wise if everybody would wake up to that and quit talking about bringing in factories."

"You can build a city along any polluted river that's over-run with railroad tracks and has slum areas. But resort areas exist by virtue of their natural beauty and the absence of factories."

Kircher, who has operated Boyne Mountain Lodge for 15 years and who just opened his New Boyne Highlands near Harbor Springs, said "I don't want to see this become another Wayne County."

TOURIST LURE

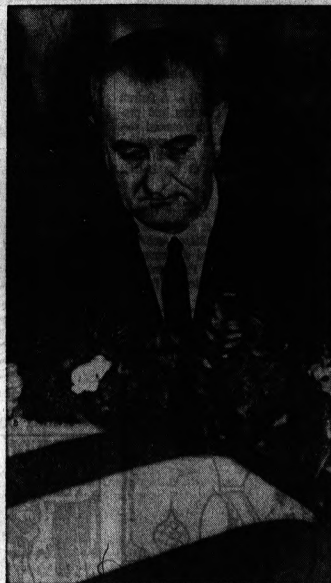

Kircher claimed that if there were widespread factory developments in the northern Lower Peninsula and in the Upper Peninsula it would destroy the area's tourist lure.

The 45-year-old former Detroit resident said tourism is enjoying a good rate of growth and can be just as substantial an economic keystone as heavy industry.

"In the last year we paid in excess of $500,000 in state, federal and local taxes," Kircher noted.

He has also invested heavily in the Northern Michigan area. Boyne Highlands was built with private capital at a cost approaching $2 million. Over the next five years Kircher has plans for investing another $8 million in the new resort.

76.6 million out of an estimated total population of 180 million in the United States are engaged in some sort of educational endeavor.

Kent County Sets Deadline

Communities Must Decide on Pipeline

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Kent County's Department of Public Works has set Jan. 14 as a deadline for area communities to say whether they would take part in a proposed new Lake Michigan water pipeline.

The date was set Friday in a department conference with some 50 representatives of municipalities in Kent and Ottawa counties to outline the plan which would cost approximately $33 million.

The proposal aims at shaving costs for local governmental units through joint efforts with the Kent County DPW in obtaining a water supply that would meet future needs.

GIVE CREDIT

It would give $7 million credit to Grand Rapids for use of the city's existing facilities including a Lake Michigan filtration plant and transmission lines.

Grand Rapids City Commissioner Robert Jamo believed his city could give a definite answer by Jan. 14.

Grand Rapids City Commissioner Robert Jamo believed his city could give a definite answer by Jan. 14.

Jack Magnuson, city commissioner from neighboring Wyoming which would be the second largest user, said his unit is interested in saving money for its taxpayers.

He added, however, that Wyoming was not slowing a drive to build its own proposed $125-million pipeline but said he believed that any bond sale to finance the project could be delayed until after Jan. 14.

AT SESSION

Also at the Friday session was Henrik Stafseth, head of the Ottawa County Department of Public Works and Road Commission. The Kent County plan envisions Ottawa County as a pipeline participant.

Oswald Wife to Be Quizzed Warren Commission Plans Questioning

NEW YORK (AP) — The counsel for the Warren Commission said today he and a member of the commission plan to question Mrs. Lee H. Oswald in Dallas early next year.

J. Lee Rankin, the counsel, said the exact date and the member of the commission who will accompany him have not been decided.

The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, was appointed by President Johnson to investigate the assassination of the accused assassin.

Rankin was solicitor general in the Eisenhower administration.

He said the commission tentatively had decided to hold the hearing with Oswald's widow in Dallas instead of Washington.

By having the hearing in Dallas, he explained, local law enforcement officials could sit in. He said he hoped the closed hearing could be in January.

The question of whether other members of the Oswald family might be called as witnesses has not been discussed by the commission, Rankin added.

The murder trial of Jack L. Ruby, the man who shot Oswald two days after the president's assassination, is to start in Dallas on Feb. 3.

Mr. Hughes said he and his wife were prepared to write to each of the addresses until she found the owner of the purse.

It contained $40 "and to a college student that's a lot of money," said Robinson.

The Michigan Supreme Court, sitting for the last time with 60-year-old Leland Carr as its chief justice, Friday passed up a chance to end the controversy when it took no action on a rehearing request.

The request from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley asked the high court to reconsider its Dec. 5 ruling that the State Pharmacy Board, which had refused to license the Battle Creek discount drug store, must issue the license.

Had the court rejected Kelley's request, which was filed only Thursday and immediately answered by SuperX attorneys, the board would be under the court's mandate to license the store, which is planned as a base for a chain to be operated by Kroger Co.

Carr, a Republican, ends 50 years of active government service Tuesday when he retires, to be replaced numerically by former Justice Paul Adams, a Democrat. The newly-constituted court will name a new chief justice.

The case has been a controversy since September, 1962, denial of a license. A political fight developed when Romney, on the basis of a preliminary report to the Supreme Court on the board action, tried to fire Democrat David Moss, who was the board's director.

Romney failed, but the political implications drew in Ferench, who with Romney came in for harsh criticism in the Detroit press.

Yesterday another local man, Fred B. Walsh, of 1265 Bleiby, Waterford Township, spent a half hour before Judge Parker. Walsh is president and general manager of J. A. Utley Co., a Royal Oak construction firm.

For the second time in three nights, the Infra Corp., 5454 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township, was broken into last night and robbed of tools and electrical equipment.

Police said cardboard over a side window was removed sometime to gain entry.

The extent of the loss has not yet been determined.

'Cold-Blooded, Heartless'

UAW Blasts Burroughs Plant Closing

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union, which recently won a representation election among employees of Burroughs Corp., charged the company Friday with "cold-blooded, calculated heartlessness" in deciding to close its 59-year-old main plant in Detroit.

Burroughs announced Thursday it would "phase out" operations at the old five-story plant on Second Avenue over their next two years as part of a general world-wide realignment of operations.

Joseph McCusker, codirector of UAW Region C-A, said "it is significant that the company announced its decision before a union contract had been negotiated."

Burroughs said earlier that there was no connection between its closing decision and the union vote or contract situation. It pointed out the so-called phasing out would take two years and said it anticipated most main factory workers would be transferred to other Detroit plants.

ORIGINAL REACTION
The original reaction from the UAW was mildly critical, but later statement Friday:

"It is shameful that a company identified for so many years with this city and state should think little of its responsibility to its workers and to the community that nurtured and sustained it."

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh said after a Friday conference with Burroughs president, Ray Eppert, he was convinced "this is purely an effort by Burroughs Corp. to modernize and update its production procedures and technology."

Cavanagh said he now felt "there might not be any reduction at all" in the number of jobs at Burroughs plants in Detroit, and added: "I think that in the long run, if there is not net reduction in jobs, the decision will be a good thing for Burroughs and the city."

Eppert told newsmen he thought the mayor "might be putting a slightly rose interpretation on some points," but "deliberately trying to spell out the worst possible result" in its closing announcement.

Eppert declined to say positively that Burroughs headquarters would remain in Detroit, but asserted "we have no intention of leaving Michigan."

WITH MAJORITY
Carr had decided with the majority. Conceivably, if Adams sides with the minority in a new hearing, a 4-4 split could develop, which would leave the board's refusal of the license standing.

Two of the cases involved sizeable damages awards to persons injured by falling.

The court upheld a Saginaw Circuit Court jury's award of $14,000 to James Sparks, who slipped on a banana in 1959 and sued S.S. Kresge Co., claiming the store was negligent in leaving the fruit on the floor.

Two Bandits Rob Grocery

A Pontiac grocer and his wife were threatened with a knife during the robbery of their store by two men last night.

Frank Mazza, 68, owner of Mazza's Market, 683 Joslyn, told Pontiac police that the bandits came into the store about 7:30 p.m. Both wore hoods over their heads.

One of them held a knife at Mazza's neck while the other emptied the cash register of between $300 and $500.

Mrs. Mazza was then forced by the man with the knife to show him out the rear door. The other left by the front. They were in their late teens or early twenties, according to the Mazzas.

Cheerless Cards Sent by Exiled Ghana Party

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Holiday greeting cards distributed here by Ghana's United party in exile dispensed with the usual expressions of good cheer.

The cover picture shows two Ghanaian jailers escorting a man in chains supposed to represent one of the accused in the recent treason trial in Accra.

The message inside says "this year" to receive a card this year.

Avon Man Hurt in Crash

An Avon Township man was injured early this morning when his farm tractor was hit in the rear by a car on Rochester Road, Avon Township.

Frederick A. Jolley, 22, of 55 Windsor, is in the Avon Memorial Center following the 2:10 a.m. accident, just north of Hamlin. He was hurled from the tractor.

The driver of the car, Beryl M. Boughner, 44, of 55 Meadow, Rochester, nor his passenger was seriously injured.

Company Broken Into

Police said cardboard over a side window was removed sometime to gain entry.

The extent of the loss has not yet been determined.

Order Binds Pickets

DETROIT (AP)—A judge is sued one order against the union picketing the Playboy Club Friday while denying the club another.

The newly opened restaurant and bar was granted a temporary restraining order prohibiting pickets from threatening or interfering with employees or guests or engaging in vandalism.

Circuit Judge Thomas E. Brennan granted the order against the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union. He declined, however, to issue an order limiting the number of pickets.

IN PROTEST

The union has been picketing in protest of what it calls a "tips only" pay policy for waitresses.

The union has denied any responsibility for vandalism to club guests' cars Thursday night.

Sam LeVigne, 51, union business agent, stood mute to a charge of assaulting a policeman and was released in $500 bond. An officer on duty at the picket line said LeVigne pushed him.

Crash in Troy Kills Driver

Avon Twp. Father Dies in Accident

A 22-year-old Avon Township father was killed yesterday in a two-car collision at East Maple and John R. in Troy.

George T. Clark, 22, of 1165 Avon Manor was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after the accident.

Clark's car was struck broadside at the intersection by a car driven by Stanley B. Staples, 38, of 1311 Langley, Clawson.

Staples told police his foot slipped off the brake onto the gas pedal as he approached the light.

Clark, married and father of one child, a daughter, Kimberly Ann, was thrown from his car by the impact.

Staples was released after making a statement to the prosecutor's office.

Johnson-Erhard Meeting Begins

Rusk Is Optimistic of Peace Possibility in Crucial Year '64

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk predicted today that 1964 will be "a period of probing for the possibilities of peace."

But Rusk expressed concern about the "vigorous and hostile promotion of . . . world revolution" by Communist China and said the world will have to continue dealing with some "very large and dangerous questions" Berlin, Germany, Cuba and South Viet Nam particularly.

Nevertheless, Rusk in an interview recorded for broadcast in Japan and released by the State Department today, described his outlook as one of "modest optimism."

"I do believe that 1964 will be a period of probing for the possibilities of peace," he said.

"My impression is that there is a certain soberness in the attitude of the principal governments of the world; that there is a recognition that crises such as the missile crisis in Cuba in October 1962 must be avoided if possible."

The major issue before the world and probably the only possible cause of a major war, he said, is posed by the question, "What kind of a world community shall come out of this period of history?"

"Most of us in the world," he said, "are committed to the kind of world described in the United Nations Charter. There are some who say the world must be transformed by revolution into a Communist world."

"This is the underlying issue, and it is not going to be easy to make that issue disappear. . . . We can have peace if everyone would decide today to leave other people alone and let them live in peace and work out their own future for themselves."

REVIEW PROGRAM
President Johnson's new committee to review the aims and operations of the program held its first full-dress session yesterday.

Johnson, in announcing formation of the study group Thursday, instructed it to conduct an "intensive review of the controversial aid program with particular emphasis on possible economies."

The President is understood to have asked the committee to give him its recommendations by Jan. 15, so he will have them when he sends Congress his foreign aid address covering the projected outlay for the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

DETROIT (AP) — Former Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson has decided not to run for governor next year. The Associated Press learned today.

DETROIT (AP) — Former Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson was due to announce today whether he will run for governor in 1964.

Swainson, 38, came to his decision after a physical checkup at the University of Michigan Medical Center in Ann Arbor.

Beforehand, he had said he would weigh all the factors involved, presumably including the prospective candidacies of several others for the Democratic nomination.

Prominent among these is Congressman - at - large Nell Staebler. An announcement is expected from Staebler within the first week of the New Year.

LOST IN 1962
Swainson, running for a second term, lost to Republican Gov. George Romney by 80,000 votes in 1962 when the GOP won the governorship for the first time in 14 years.

Swainson made the comment in saying he would not make the race if former Gov. G. Mennen Williams were to return from Washington and try for the governorship.

President Listens to Ike, Plans Briefing Sessions

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson says he has been accepting advice from Dwight D. Eisenhower and is arranging to keep the former chief executive up-to-date on late developments.

Johnson did not specify the items in his program that had been suggested by the Republican leader, now 73. But he hinted that Eisenhower had urged him to adopt the economy-in-government program that Johnson claims as his first new policy.

Dressed in rancher's togs, the President told an informal news conference yesterday that he has ordered that Eisenhower be briefed on steps he had taken.

The briefing will be done by John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

These were some other highlights of Johnson's third informal news conference since assuming the presidency: Mail reaction is running 5 to 1 in favor of his moves to close unneeded military bases. Johnson said he is setting up a Pentagon committee to find more installations that are ripe for the same treatment.

He accused Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Arizona Republican who could be his opponent in the 1964 presidential election, of ignorance in alleging that the President had dictated to Congress and violated the spirit of Christmas during this week's foreign-aid fight.

FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT
Federal civilian employment dropped by more than 1,000 in November and fell 3,500 short of the year-earlier level.

Johnson said that if payrolls had increased as fast as the population, the total would have risen by 400,000 during the year.

Teodoro Moscoso is being eased out as coordinator of the Alliance for Progress and will become an aide with the rank of ambassador to Thomas C. Mann, the newly named assistant secretary of state who will supervise all Latin American policy.

For Young Men

Press to Present Diet

Census statistics may tell you that the young male population of the country is really growing.

But reaching the last notch in the belt shows which direction the growth is in. It's all in front.

Beginning Jan. 2, The Press will run a special feature, "The Thin Thirties Diet." It is written for men by Gaynor Maddox, food editor of Newspaper Enterprise Association.

LBj Declares Leaders Seek Road to Peace

Historic Conference Held at Texas Ranch During the Weekend

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard—two new leaders in the East-West struggle—begin sounding each other out today on how to deal with the Soviet Union.

"There is nothing more important than East-West relations," Johnson said yesterday as he declared the issue will be "the most important part" of his weekend conference with Erhard.

"We are going down the road that will lead to peace," Johnson said in a news conference in a barbecue grove of the LBJ Ranch.

"We believe that progress can be made, and we are going to do our best to do our part."

Another important part of the meeting will be the business of Johnson and Erhard learning to know each other and taking each other's measure.

They met briefly at the funeral of John F. Kennedy. Both saw the need for a longer session together under less emotional circumstances.

The President meets his guest this morning at Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin, then they fly by helicopter to the Johnson ranch.

TWO-DAY MEETING
The two-day meeting with Erhard is Johnson's first formal conference with a foreign leader.

U.S. officials believe the American-German meeting should answer the question of whether the new Bonn leadership is less antagonistic toward a new round of talks with Moscow than former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was.

Since Erhard took over from Adenauer last October, Bonn has made it clear it would not object to continuation of exploration talks with the Kremlin.

The Germans also let it be known, however, they have grave reservations against such Soviet-proposed projects as an East-West nonaggression pact or the exchange of military observation posts between the NATO and Warsaw pact nations.

Cyprus Hits Turkey: Gunboat Diplomacy

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Cyprus charged Turkey at an emergency U.N. Security Council meeting early this morning with jeopardizing a cease-fire on the Mediterranean island with "gunboat diplomacy." Turkey denied the charge.

The 11-nation Security Council adjourned at 1:02 a.m. today without acting on the Cypriot charge or setting a date for a further meeting.

Zenon Rossides, Cypriot chief delegate, accused Turkey of speeding a dozen warships toward Cyprus.

And Cyprus to terrorize the Greek Cypriot population.

Adnan Kural, Turkish chief delegate, said his government has no intention of invading the small eastern Mediterranean island.

Rossides said his Foreign Office had telephoned him at 5 p.m. yesterday, informing him that planes of the British Royal Air Force had spotted the Turkish ships—five submarines, four destroyers and three troop-carriers or auxiliaries—25 miles north of Cyprus.

But, he said, less than an hour after he had requested the council's emergency session "we got information that those ships were not speeding toward Cyprus—they were changed to another direction."

Rossides claimed the trouble in Cyprus had started because Turkish Cypriots, on advice of Turkey, had rejected proposals from the president of Cyprus, Archbishop Makarios, to change a constitution.

THEODORE B. BLOOM

Area Chamber Chooses Chief

Theodore B. Bloom Is Elected President

Pontiac Motor Division personnel director Theodore B. Bloom was elected 1964 president of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

Bloom, 48, of 4875 Old Orchard, Orchard Lake, succeeds Dr. F. Milton Hathaway, Pontiac optometrist.

Reelected officers are Gaylord L. Herrington, manager of Associates Discount Corp., Pontiac office, secretary; Harold A. Cousina, owner of City Beverage Co., treasurer.

Two new board members were also elected. They are Harold B. Euler, administrator of Pontiac General Hospital, and William G. Dickinson, of Dickinson's Men's Wear.

Bloom was appointed personnel director of Pontiac Motor Division in 1959. He has been associated with General Motors since 1942.

He is a graduate of the University of Missouri. In 1952, he was chairman of the Industrial Division of the Pontiac Area United Fund Campaign Drive.
