LED AWAY — James McConnell, 15, of 133 Hi-Hill, Orion Township, is shown being taken to Juvenile Court following the apprehension yesterday in the shooting of his father.

'Just Wanted to Scare Him,' Says Boy Who Shot Father

By JOE MULLEN

"I just wanted to scare him away. But he kept coming toward me. Then I shot."

This was the way James W. McConnell, 15, described the Thursday afternoon shooting of his father after he was apprehended yesterday.

Later the youth appeared before Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard who ordered him held at the county juvenile home until Oct. 22 when a hearing on the case is scheduled.

The boy told sheriff's department detectives Raymond Bills and Gerald Gaedt that his father, William McConnell, 37, of 133 Hi-Hill, Orion Township, had come to his room at 3:15 Thursday to discipline him for skipping school and being involved in a car theft.

"KNEW HE WAS ANGRY"

"I knew he was angry and I just wanted him to go away," the boy said.

"When he didn't, I shot. He still kept coming and I jumped over the bed and ran out of the room and out of the house."

Wounded in the chest just an inch above the heart, the elder McConnell staggered into the living room of the house and collapsed on a couch.

He is reported in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

HID IN WOODS
The boy hid in a wooded area near the house south of the Bald Mountain State Park until dusk.

Then he was driven into Pontiac by a friend.

He spent part of the night riding around in this car and then slept for a few hours in a disabled car at the rear of another friend's home.

James told detectives he wandered around Pontiac yesterday morning. A friend gave him a jacket to wear and he told police he thought this would help conceal his identity. He was described as wearing a pullover short sleeve shirt in the police alert.

The boy was apprehended early in the afternoon by Pontiac police officers Ron Corbett and Eldon Mudge. They were eating lunch in a restaurant on Perry near Madison when a youth told them that McConnell was in a car at Perry and Robinson.

TURNED OVER TO SHERIFF
After apprehending the boy, the officers turned him over to the sheriff's department.

James told deputies that he and his dad "didn't hit it off too well together."

The boy also said that he has been unhappy since last March when the family moved from its home in northern Pontiac to Orion Township.

He said he has not been accepted by boys at Lake Orion High School because he had come from a rival institution, Pontiac Northern.

Waterford Set for School Vote
Waterford Township voters will cast ballots Monday on a proposed five-year extension of a 10-mill operating levy expiring the end of this year.

The millage proposal represents approximately 20 per cent of the school system's total operating budget.

Based on a school district valuation of about $112 million, the 10 mills would yield $11.2 million in local revenue.

Since the special election proposal seeks merely to continue a levy that taxpayers have been paying, no increase in taxes would result.

VOTERS APPROVAL
Voters approved a six-mill increase in school taxes last June 10 when 3.5 mills were authorized at the polls for a school building program and another 2.5 mills were allowed for staff salary increases.

The millage renewal election was scheduled this month by the school board for two reasons:

First, board members felt that the new constitution might complicate an election after the first of the year.

Voter Ineligibility Hits City Electorate

More than 10,000 of Pontiac's 37,000 registered voters are expected to become ineligible to vote Jan. 1.

Each year about this time, City Clerk Olga Barkeley pulls the voter registration cards of persons who haven't cast a ballot or registered in the last four years.

This year she's cutting that time limit in half. The new state constitution specifies voters may register every two years, instead of four.

That law goes into effect Jan. 1, 1964.

"Normally, we find roughly 1,000 expired registration cards," said Mrs. Barkeley. "To date we've gone through about half the city's registered voters and have pulled cards on more than 5,000."

"When we're finished, I expect we'll find more than 10,000 persons who won't be registered under the new law."

Persons who have not registered or voted in the city since Jan. 1, 1962, must renew their registrations by the end of the year.

There are no elections slated in Pontiac between now and Jan. 1 at which persons could automatically renew their status as electors by voting.

It could mean that nearly 25 per cent of Pontiac's current voting force would be ineligible to vote in the special election set for Jan. 22.

In about a month, the clerk will start mailing notices of suspension of registration and applications to continue registration.

Venezuela Is Ripped by Castro Terrorists

CARACAS, Venezuela, (UPI) — Pro-Castro terrorists of the Armed Forces of National Liberation staged a wave of violence in Caracas and several interior cities last night that left at least five dead and 10 wounded today.

Police and military forces made at least 200 arrests. The communist-leaning FALN terrorists, in an apparent effort to challenge the government's massive countrywide display of force in recent days, launched a series of coordinated hit-and-run attacks.

At one stage during the night, army patrol radios picked up an anguished cry of alarm from Pfc. Rafael Angel Castillo, who reported that the patrol truck in which he was riding was being ambushed while stopped in the Lidice area.

Lidice is a low income apartment house development in the western section of the city.

Suddenly, the frantic cries for help stopped and all that could be heard over the radios was the chatter of machine gun fire.

Fifteen minutes later, when reinforcements arrived, another soldier reported that Castillo had been killed in the ambush.

Almost simultaneously, reports began to come into police headquarters from a dozen places in the city, where terrorists in speeding cars fired machine guns into crowds or at army or police sentries.

FOUR WOUNDED
At one political meeting of the Accion Democratica, President Ramulo Betancourt's party, four persons were wounded by machine gun fire at the workers suburban development of El Valle.

Police stations in the Santa Rosalia, Lidice and Casella districts were fired on. There were at least a dozen cases where snipers were reported firing from rooftops throughout the city.

One police officer was kidnapped by terrorists in a black and white Volkswagen while directing traffic on the Main Avenue Urdinets, within 300 yards of Betancourt's office in the Miraflores Palace.

The shooting in the Lidice area continued until midnight, when army troops finally raided eight large 200-family apartment buildings and arrested suspects by the busload.

Florida Threat Eases

Flora Weaker, Veers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Flora began to weaken today over the mountains of Cuba and gave signs of turning southwestward back into the Caribbean Sea. Hurricane warnings were lowered in the Bahama Islands.

This unexpected turn in what forecasters called the most unpredictable storm in many a year also lessened the danger to Florida.

At Nassau, forecaster Arthur Pike said the hurricane, which had battered Eastern Cuba for 25 hours, might turn as far south as Grand Cayman Island, 700 miles south of Cuba, in the Caribbean.

At the national hurricane center in Miami, Chief Forecaster Gordon Dunn said it remains "very, very uncertain, with the lack of a definite steering pattern, as to what Flora will do."

At least 45 lives have been claimed so far by Flora, most savage hurricane to come out of the tropical Atlantic in two years.

Dr. Gerard Philippeau, Haitian Minister of Health, reported today by telephone from Port Au Prince that Haiti was devastated by the hurricane.

"Entire cities have been destroyed and bodies are floating in the streets," Philippeau told the Miami News after telephone communication with Haiti was re-established for the first time since Flora struck.

Sixth Burning Throws Saigon in New Turmoil

Immolation Happens 4 Days After Report on Progress in Nation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A young Buddhist monk burned himself to death today in front of hundreds of horrified on-lookers in Saigon's central market, throwing the Vietnamese capital into a new and potentially explosive turmoil.

The suicide, the sixth by Buddhists protesting alleged persecution by the predominantly Roman Catholic government of President Ngo Dinh Diem, came only four days after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara left Saigon with a report for President Kennedy on the progress of the Vietnamese war against Communist guerrillas.

Minutes after the monk's charred and blackened body toppled over, troops and police rushed in, tanks and armored cars rolled up and barred wire barricades were thrown around downtown Saigon.

GRIMACED BRIEFLY

To Select Auditors' Chairman

By DICK HANSON

The appointment of a chairman of the County Board of Auditors will be the main order of business when county supervisors meet Monday morning in the new courthouse auditorium.

But, before the County Board of Supervisors can make the appointment, they must select the chairman's salary and appoint a new member to the board of auditors.

The vacancy caused by retirement of Robert Y. Moore Jan. 1, when all new appointments become effective, must be filled by the supervisors Monday.

MAJORITY VOTE
County Clerk - Register Daniel T. Murphy is the only announced candidate to succeed Moore as a member. He also is a candidate for chairman of the board of auditors.

Murphy, 44, will vie with Robert E. Lilly, 44-year-old secretary member of the board of auditors for the chairman's post.

While other nominations might be made from the floor to succeed Moore, Murphy is the only one known to have wide support among the supervisors.

He will need the majority vote of the 25 supervisors to get on the board, and the majority vote of those present at Monday's meeting to become chairman.

Murphy's supporters want to make him the chief administrator in county government by extending the responsibilities of the chairman of the board of auditors.

He is being pegged for the job because of the administrative ability he has shown in his present elective office, which he has held since the position was created in 1959.

Lilly is banking his chances for the chairmanship on the 14 years experience he has as a member of the board of auditors.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for the chairmanship last year when he was beaten by John Austin, 60.

French Envoy to Talk in D.C.

Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville arrives here tonight, and Kennedy administration officials expect he will clarify some of the mysteries of de Gaulle foreign policy. They have a list of questions ready.

Some officials hinted that President Kennedy and his aides also may sound out Couve de Murville on the chances of persuading France to return to the Geneva disarmament conference.

Dozens of foreign ministers come to Washington every autumn from the fall session of the U.N. General Assembly in New York. But Couve de Murville is the only one to come directly from his capital, and he will return to Paris "without even turning his head" toward the United Nations headquarters, as one diplomat put it.

OPEN SNUB

Though a French delegation is attending the U.N. sessions, and France remains a permanent member of the Security Council, President Charles de Gaulle is openly snubbing what he recently called the "so-called United Nations."

Couve de Murville, officials said, informed Washington last August that he would visit here early in October. He has no appointments Sunday but will meet with Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday and Tuesday. He plans to fly back to Paris Wednesday.

Viet Monk Burns Self in Protest raised stiffly before him, the monk keeled over dead.

American news correspondents were only 10 yards away.

A leaflet thrown into the yard of Vietnamese intelligence headquarters identified the monk as Thich Quang Huong. It said he sacrificed himself for the Buddhist cause.

GRABBED CAMERA

Vietnamese plain-clothes police kicked and pummeled three American correspondents to the ground, grabbed a camera and ran off.

John Sharkey of the National Broadcasting Co. and Grant Wolfkill, also of NBC, were attacked as they turned movie cameras on the burning monk. Sharkey was bleeding from head injuries.

David Halberstam of the New York Times went to Sharkey's and Wolfkill's assistance, and he was beaten also. The newsmen did not fight back but tried to protect their equipment.

Wolfkill lost his camera but Sharkey's was not confiscated. The police stopped the newsmen from driving off in a taxicab. They made their way to a nearby hotel and called a hospital.

TOOK POSITIONS

Fire engines, squads of riot police and troops in battle gear took up positions in the middle of the intersection.

A low moan rose from a crowd that quickly gathered after the monk stepped out of a cab and lit the match.

A child cried in her mother's arms. A woman laughed hysterically.

U.S. Warns Latins

By The Associated Press WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has raised a warning flag for any more Latin American military leaders contemplating a grab for power.

It made an example Friday of a Dominican Republic and Honduras, whose governments were toppled in quick succession.

Going further than merely suspending aid and diplomatic relations, the United States ordered withdrawal of the U.S. economic and military aid missions from the two countries—making it that much more difficult for assistance to be resumed.

UTMOST GRAVITY

"We view the recent military coups in the Dominican Republic and Honduras with the utmost gravity," Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in a statement announcing the action.

Earlier in the day, the State Department suspended diplomatic relations and deliveries of military and economic aid to Honduras.

The rapid series of actions came within a day after the Honduran Army overthrew the government of President Ramon Villeda Morales and forced him into exile in Costa Rica.

The Honduras coup came on the heels of a military clique's ousting Juan Bosch from the presidency of the Dominican Republic last month.

The State Department's announcements showed that administration officials have become alarmed that military leaders, encouraged by the coups in Honduras and the Dominican Republic, might try to take over Latin American governments.

In his statement Rusk said, "The establishment of and maintenance of representative and constitutional government is an essential element in the Alliance for Progress."

"Stable and effective government responsive to the popular will is a critical factor in the attainment of social and economic progress."

"Under existing conditions in the Dominican Republic and Honduras there is no opportunity for effective collaboration by the United States under the Alliance for Progress or for normalization of diplomatic relations."

William McConnell, a Navy veteran, was a die maker at Pontiac Motor. His wife, Delores, said that he had been working long hours recently.

IN KITCHEN

Mrs. McConnell told sheriff's deputies she was in the kitchen when the shooting occurred.

She said she summoned neighbors for help while waiting for the ambulance to arrive.

The boy fled from the house, leaving the 22-caliber gun behind.

Mrs. McConnell described her son as high strung and nervous. "He had been having difficulty adjusting to school and the new environment," she said.

NO ARGUMENT BEFORE

Father and son had no previous serious arguments, according to Mrs. McConnell.

She said that her husband had ordered the boy to wait for him in the house after school Thursday. He wanted to talk to James about skipping school Wednesday and the youth's possible involvement in a car theft the same day.

James and three other youths were questioned by Pontiac police earlier Thursday at Lake Orion High School in connection with a car stolen the day before near the Simms store, 98 N. Saginaw.

Pontiac police detective Albert Foster said the four boys, all juveniles, admitted taking the car and driving it around Wednesday afternoon. The boys were released pending a hearing on the charge.

No Organized Crime Ring in County, Taylor Repeats

County Prosecutor George F. Taylor yesterday reiterated his stand that there is no evidence of organized crime in Oakland County.

Taylor repeated words he uttered on the subject earlier this week as he commented on yesterday's mention of two recent gambling raids in the county by U.S. District Attorney Lawrence Gubow in Detroit.

"There was no evidence that the men arrested in those raids were connected with a national crime syndicate," Taylor said, pointing out that his office cooperated with federal agents in one of the raids.

Taylor's reference was to a July 19 raid in which eight men, including five from Pontiac, were arrested and charged with gambling without a federal gambling stamp in what federal agents described as bookie operations that netted $1.5 million a year.

SOUTHFIELD RAID

Gubow also mentioned a raid last week in Southfield that closed two alleged bookmaking operations.

However, Gubow did not say specifically that organized crime was operating in Oakland County, Taylor pointed out by way of clarification.

Those who were arrested "could be just local independent operators," he said, adding that he and Gubow "were not at odds" on the issue.

Asked whether he believed organized crime was operating in the county, Gubow would say only, "The syndicate does operate in Michigan."

"I don't mean to say there's no crime in the county," Taylor said. "Just that there's no evidence of organized crime."

CRIME ON INCREASE

"Although crime is on the increase, I still think that Oakland County, considering its population, is a fairly clean county."

Taylor earlier this week said he decided that organized crime operated in the county and was surprised at Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley's statement that it was operating in Michigan cities with 50,000 population or more.

"He never brought us any such information before," Taylor said yesterday.

U.S. Recalls Viet CIA Chief

Order Comes Amidst Reports of Conflicts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Central Intelligence Agency's (CIA) chief in South Viet Nam has been ordered back to Washington for consultations with top officials.

The recall of the intelligence official, John H. Richardson, comes amid published reports recently of a conflict between the CIA and the American Embassy in Saigon over the United States stance during the concurrent guerrilla war and domestic political crisis in South Viet Nam.

Informal sources said there was no immediate indication that Richardson would return to the Saigon post.

Reports from Saigon have indicated disagreement between the American Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Richardson's CIA operatives, as well as with U.S. military leaders. Lodge has been represented as feeling that the political crisis and the conduct of guerrilla war are closely related.

FAVORED COOPERATION

The Saigon reports have indicated that the CIA favored cooperation with the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem. The view of some military leaders has been the United States should concern itself only with helping the South Viet Namese win the guerrilla war with Communists and stay out of the domestic situation.

Lodge is said to be concerned that the anti-Buddhist policies of Diem government be damaging the war effort.

The recall of Richardson "for consultations" followed some demands in Congress for an investigation of the CIA role in Saigon.

Birmingham Area News Cranbrook Is Offering Course in Astronomy

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Junior high school students intrigued by our solar system and the stars beyond it can gain knowledge to support their interest in a new course offered at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

The use of star charts and other instruments which aid astronomers will be covered during the seven-session course starting Oct. 17.

Making use of classrooms, planetarium and observatory, the course will be held Thursdays from 4:45-6 p.m.

In addition, one evening will be scheduled in the observatory for use of the Hubbert six-inch refracting telescope.

Notification of intent to register is expected by the institute, but actual registration can be done at the first session.

The new system is highly economical to operate, according to Jeanne Lloyd, director.

Patrons are finding that they can check out as many as seven books at a time with the help of the newly-installed machine.

Although used in retail stores for some time, the Regiscopes is a relative newcomer to library use, Miss Lloyd said.

that under no circumstances is he a candidate for the job of chairman next year.

He asked the supervisors to appoint a younger man.

Regardless of who wins the chairmanship, Austin will remain a member of the three-man board of auditors. His current term as a board member runs until 1965.

The ways and means committee, whose members are among Murphy's supporters, will recommend that the chairman's salary be increased to an average $20,000 a year because of additional duties as chief administrator.

While the chairman's duties as administrator are yet to be fully defined, in general he would make many of the day-to-day decisions that now must wait for periodic meetings of the ways and means committee.

CONTINUITY

"The purpose of this move is to give greater continuity to county government," explained ways and means chairman David Levinson.

The board of auditors chairman's new salary would be $18,500 the first year, $20,000 the second year, and $20,500 for the third year. Currently he is paid $13,400 annually.

In other business Monday, the board of supervisors will hold a public tax hearing prior to spreading taxes throughout the county.

The 15 mills allowed by state law will bring in $3 million for schools, townships and county government next year. Approximately a third of this sum will go to county government, with the schools to get most of the remainder.

Meyers will spend a week in New Orleans on this trip. Most of the week will be spent at the Sisters of Charity Home there.

SISTER SISTER

He will visit his sister, formerly Alma Meyers and now Sister Albina, 79, whom he has not seen in 47 years. The reunion will climax a six-year wait.

Meyers, who conducts his vending business from his home, suffered a heart attack six years ago and his doctors had ruled out the trip.

"We've written over the years," though," he said, "but she is only allowed one letter a month and sometimes I don't hear from her for awhile."

Sister Albina has been stationed in New Orleans since 1912. Meyers said he saw her in 1918, but hasn't seen her since his stint in World War I.

The 68-year-old Pontiac man said, "I'm the baby of the family. She's 11 years older." He said his family came to the United States from Hamilton, Ontario. Another sister and brother still reside in Canada.

Nixon: U.S. Selling Out East Europe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon charged today that the Kennedy administration is drifting toward a policy of negotiating away the freedom hopes of 97 million people under the Communist yoke in Eastern Europe.

Nixon, who recently returned from a trip behind the Iron Curtain, said there are "strong pressures from within as well as from outside" the administration for conclusion of a nonaggression treaty between the NATO nations and the Communist Warsaw Pact powers. He then asserted: "It would be shockingly immoral for the United States to do anything directly or indirectly which would give the impression that we accept (Soviet Premier Nikita) Khrushchev's price—namely, that in return for 'peaceful coexistence' we would draw a line down the middle of Europe and accept as permanent the Communist enslavement of 97 million Eastern Europeans."

Nixon said "only the mobilization of an aroused and informed American public opinion will prevent the sellout" of Eastern Europe.

Writing in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, he said, "I believe that we are now entering a period of the greatest danger of Communist expansion in the free world since immediately after World War II."

"All signs point to an inescapable conclusion: a great new Communist offensive is being launched against the free world, an offensive without resort to war, an offensive all the more dangerous because it is so difficult to recognize and to meet effectively."

STATIC POLICY
"We cannot meet and defeat such an offensive by a static policy of defense... Our goal for freedom can be nothing less... Our goal must not be simply to keep freedom from shrinking but to make it grow too. Our goal must be a free Cuba, a free Eastern Europe, a free Russia, a free China.

And every policy must be directed to reach that goal through peaceful means," Nixon said.

"This was once the stated policy of the Kennedy administration, but it has been watered down and wrapped in double-talk from the time negotiations for the (nuclear) test-ban began."

Nixon said the claim that the danger of war had decreased because of the signing of the test-ban treaty "is open to question." However, he added:

Postage Stamps Honor Col. Glenn Alan Shepard and the Russian Spacemen

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (UPI)—A new series of postage stamps honoring the American Astronauts and the Russian Spacemen is to be issued by Togo according to the Togo Mission to the United Nations. The stamps are to be distributed by the Elmont Stamp Co. Because of the lively interest in space and rocket stamps, Elmont's New York Office has prepared a collection containing the Togo set plus stamps from Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia picturing rockets and space vehicles and the Astronauts in space suits. Collectors may obtain this set of 20 Space stamps by sending $1.00 to ELMONT STAMP CO., Queens Village 29, N.Y. (limit 4 sets to a customer). This special offer is made to introduce Elmont's approval service.

"There is no doubt whatever that if the danger of war has been decreased, the danger of defeat without war has been substantially increased... moreover, there is a genuine danger that, as a result of the test-ban agreement, our real sense of urgency may be replaced by a false sense of security."

He said a nonaggression pact would amount to giving the Soviets "a quickclaim deed—a legal title from the West" to Eastern Europe. It would give the Russians "recognition by the West of the legality and permanence of... (the) Eastern Communist regimes." At present, he said, the Russians have "squatters' rights" in these nations.

Nixon said that because of the test-ban treaty "the 'new' Khrushchev is being pictured as the leader in the fight for peace and in reducing tensions between East and West."

"But what has he actually done to reduce tensions? In Western Europe, in the United States and in Latin America, the Communist parties with Khrushchev's approval and support are stepping up their programs aimed at the overthrow of free governments."

'China Hurts Soviet Aid Policy'

MOSCOW (UPI)—A leading Soviet newspaper charged today the Red Chinese are trying to hurt Soviet relations with underdeveloped countries by attacking Russian motives.

The Chinese have accused the Soviet Union of siding with the West, especially since the limited nuclear-ban treaty was signed.

"The aim of the Chinese leaders," said a long article in Sovetskaya Rossiya (Soviet Russia) "is to punch holes in the friendly and cooperative relations between national liberation movements and the Soviet Union and other Socialist states."

DAMAGE POSITION

The Chinese, said the article, are using "lies, slander and insinuations" to damage the Soviet position in the world of Communist revolution. The article defended Soviet aid to underdeveloped countries as wholly different from the aid given these countries by the United States.

America and other capitalist states, said the article, seek only to grab markets for themselves, while the Soviet Union, instead, seeks to help to build up state-owned industry in the new countries.

Communism has made its greatest gains through this kind of indirect aggression."

Violin Break Stops Show for Minute

MONTREAL (UPI)—Yehudi Menuhin began playing Brahms violin concerto with his prized Stradivarius last night but finished it with a borrowed fiddle.

The lower bridge of Menuhin's 240-year-old violin snapped as he neared the end of the concerto during a performance with the Montreal Symphony Orchestra.

Menuhin and the orchestra stopped, and there were a few moments of silence.

Then Menuhin borrowed concertmaster Calvin Sieh's violin, also a Stradivarius.

Looking slightly annoyed, and 57-year-old virtuoso, making his debut in Montreal's new $10-million concert hall, took up where he left off and the concert continued to intermission without incident.

Menuhin said the violin was "a beautiful instrument, but it was not in tune."

Discrimination Charged

Detroit Bank Picketed

By The Associated Press
About 20 Negroes and whites sat blocking tellers' windows in a protest demonstration at a downtown Detroit bank yesterday and police carried them out on stretchers when they refused to leave.

The sit-in was in support of a demand that "First Federal (Savings and Loan Association) discontinue its racial discriminatory practices against Negroes in employment and the negotiation of home loans," organizers said.

Demonstrators from the Detroit branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People picketed inside and outside the bank about five hours before the blocking tactics started, police said.

Police arrested sit-in demonstrators on misdemeanor charges of creating a disturbance in a business or public place.

Hans Gehrke Jr., president of First Federal, said discrimination charges against the bank are "simply not true."

He said at two meetings during the last two weeks, the NAACP failed to "show that there has been one instance of discrimination by our association in employment or housing mortgages."

ASK AMENDMENT

Meanwhile, spokesmen for the Michigan Real Estate Association called for an amendment to the new state constitution to guarantee property owners the right to sell or rent their property as they see fit.

Albert Saunders, executive vice president of the association, said he believes a petition drive will be started to promote the amendment.

"We feel the people have the right to deal with each other uncoerced by law, to reserve to themselves a complete freedom to dispose or not to dispose of their property free from state control," said E. R. Trebilcock, legal counselor for the association.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley issued an opinion Thursday that the new constitution pre-empted the field of civil rights for the state, and once it takes effect, city ordinances relating to discrimination in housing will not be valid.

"A constitutional amendment would seem to be the answer to settle any confusion," said Trebilcock. "The people always have a right to reserve to themselves any area free from state control."

In an earlier opinion, Kelley held that Michigan's new Civil Rights Commission has the power to investigate and seek enforcement of civil rights in housing matters.

CARRIED AWAY — Police used a stretcher to remove this girl from the First Federal Bank in downtown Detroit yesterday during demonstration by the NAACP protesting alleged discrimination by the firm in hiring and loan-giving policies.

'JFK Thief' Gets 4 Years

OLDHAM, England (UPI) —

An 18-year-old clerk who wore a rubber mask in the likeness of President Kennedy to snatch a $10,483 payroll from a messenger was sentenced to four years in prison yesterday.

Roger J. Higo pleaded guilty to the July 25 armed holdup in the midlands town of Greenfield. The messenger pursued and captured Higo after he lost his pistol in attempting to swim a river to get away.

Strike Over Short Break

THEFTFORD, England (UPI) —

Eighty furniture factory workers went on strike yesterday because a horn, installed to mark the end of their tea-break, went off two minutes early.

The number of white collar workers in the United States has increased from 20 million in 1947 to about 30 million today.

Flora May Halt Plane Search

MIAMI (UPI) — The Coast

Guard, weather permitting, resumes its search today for two American adventurers missing since Sunday on a flight to Central America in a rented plane.

Missing are freelance photographer Alexander I. Rorke and Geoffrey Sullivan, long-time associates of the anti-Castro movement.

The Federal Aviation Agency in Miami said the twin-engine plane left Fort Lauderdale Sept. 24 for Honduras. There has been no word from the aircraft since and a check with aviation officials in Central America was "completely negative," the FAA said.

The Coast Guard, called into the search Thursday, said it had turned up no clues to the missing plane. A Coast Guard spokesman said Hurricane Flora may force cancellation of the search today.

Bulgaria Restricts Use of Electricity

VIENNA, Austria (UPI) — The Bulgarian Communist government has ordered cuts in the nation's electric power supply.

Radio Sofia announced yesterday that the new restrictions affect hot plates, stoves, boilers and irons, which may not be used between 8 p.m. and 9 p.m.

The broadcast blamed the restriction on "the reduction of the capacity of hydroelectric plants and the dry weather spell."

Power cuts are also in effect in Czechoslovakia, which has been suffering from a chronic power supply problem.

One-half the geologists in the U. S. are engaged in the search for petroleum.

Venezuela, Colombia

Bombs Rip S. America

By The Associated Press

CARACAS, Venezuela — At least five persons were killed last night in a renewal of terrorist violence in Caracas' slum areas touched off by a roundup of top Communist and leftist leaders.

Some reports said the death toll may be as high as 12. There were dozens of wounded.

CIVILIANS WOUNDED

The known dead included two policemen, two civilians and one possible terrorist. Several civilians were wounded by stray shots.

The terrorist offensive began after dark when the government obtained a court order transferring 23 Communist and pro-Castro congressmen to military jurisdiction.

The government began the roundup of the legislators, despite congressional immunity, after a recent attack on an excursion train. The violence has been attributed to the FALN terrorist organization.

BOGOTA, Colombia — Five hundred windows were shattered at the national university yesterday when terrorists tossed a bomb onto the roof. There were no injuries.

The blast came on the second day of a student strike protesting the expulsion of two students described by the university as leftist troublemakers. Police said it was the most severe explosion in a recent rash of terrorism here.

In Tulua, a town in western Colombia, a terrorist accidentally blew himself up with his own bomb and wounded an accomplice, police said. They wanted to place the bomb outside a school.

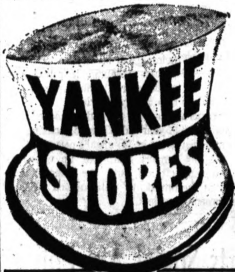

Missouri and Idaho are the top lead-producing states.

East Europe Wants Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Friday there have been approaches from the governments of Communist Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Bulgaria for the purchase of American wheat.

Press officer Robert McCloskey said it is his understanding that "no specifics have been discussed as to the amounts or payments for the wheat."

He said the request from the three Eastern European Communist bloc countries had been on a government-to-government level. There has still been no formal approach from the Soviet Union on a government basis for American wheat supplies.

Over Security Charges

Rusk Welcomes Chance to Answer Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk appeared today to welcome the possibility of a showdown with Senate investigators on his department's security policies.

Rusk responded promptly — almost eagerly — to a "polite request" from the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee to appear soon to answer questions raised about departmental policies.

A State Department spokesman said Rusk "has been hopeful for some time that this matter would be raised at the level it demands," namely his personal appearance before the committee as the official responsible for the operation of the Department of State, including its security program.

"The committee has long been aware of the secretary's desire to discuss these procedures with the committee, and he will avail himself of the opportunity in the near future," the spokesman said.

At issue is the State Department's recent action in filing charges against its chief security evaluator, Otto F. Otepka. The department is investigating whether Otepka gave classified information to the subcommittee without authority.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., vice chairman of the Internal Security subcommittee, went to New York Wednesday to discuss the Otepka case with Rusk.

POLITE REQUEST

He said he made a "polite request, not a demand" that Rusk appear at a hearing and that other department witnesses testify.

Rusk agreed to meet with the subcommittee at a "mutually arranged convenient date."

The department has said the charges, which could result in Otepka's dismissal, involved unauthorized declassification of security matters relating to other department employees. In one case, Otepka was accused of having provided the subcommittee's chief counsel, J. G. Sourwine, with questions to ask his own chief, John F. Reilly, deputy assistant secretary of state for security.

State department officials denied the charges were in retaliation for Otepka's testimony before the subcommittee in secret session.

Sources in the department say that what is involved is a breach of former President Harry S. Truman's 1948 order banning disclosure of personnel security records on the basis of "executive privilege."

"Executive privilege" has come under attack frequently over the years. The last onslaught occurred when Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara claimed it in refusing to divulge names of Pentagon personnel who had censured speeches of military leaders.

WILL FIGHT CHARGE

Otepka is a veteran of about 35 years of government service, 10 years of it with the State Department. He has said he will fight the charges before the U.S. Civil Service Commission and into the courts if necessary.

Otepka's attorney made public the State Department's letter of charges against his client after the department refused to disclose what they were other than to say Otepka had been charged.

Learn to Fight, Doctor Tells Married Pairs

EAST LANSING (U) — Dr. George Bach, a psychotherapist from California, has proposed a municipal fight center — for married couples to learn how to fight.

Bach, in Michigan Thursday on a visit sponsored by the Michigan State University Department of Psychology, described marriage generally as a "power struggle" which erupts in "disorganized arguments."

Those arguments should be programmed so that each partner gains knowledge of the other, Bach said.

The psychotherapist said that family tensions may build up because the awareness of the impracticability of war in these times blocks a traditional release of people's aggressive drives.

In his practice, Bach said he urges couples to record their arguments on tape. Then he asks them to listen to their own arguments.

"Many do," he said, "and you should see the reaction when a husband listens to himself. Some can't believe what they hear." Bach is married and has four children.

Italian Ship Sinks in Fog

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI) — The 54-year-old Italian freighter Giuseppe Emilio sank today after colliding in fog with the 3,000-ton Romanian freighter Braila off the Turkish coast.

First reports said the radio operator of the 1,851-ton Italian ship was missing, but that all other crew members were rescued.

The Giuseppe Emilio, operating out of Venice, was built in 1909. The Braila was constructed in 1961.

Christians Celebrate Worldwide

To Observe Holy Communion

In rustic country churches, chapels and city cathedrals, Christians around the world will gather for the 24th annual observance of Worldwide Communion Sunday tomorrow.

Began in the winter of 1936 by a small group of Presbyterian ministers in an effort to meet spiritual needs in depression days, the observance has grown since 1939 into a worldwide observance in more than 50 countries.

The theme which the celebration will take are the forms endeared to a particular people through years of worship, sometimes centuries, but always meaningful.

Bells in tall spires will ring out over cities, and tomtoms will resound in the jungles, calling to gether all who would remember the life and death of Jesus. In some churches celebration occurs on Sunday, other once in three months but all Christians will join in remembering Christ in services tomorrow.

OAKLAND AVE. U.P.
Worldwide Communion will be observed at the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church at 10 a.m. and again at 7 p.m. tomorrow. Rev. Theodore R. Allebach will speak on "The Problems of Satan."

R.G. Cries will be evening soloist and Paul, Craig, Mark and Margaret Allebach will be heard in a vocal number.

"Let's Really Rally" is the theme of Rally Day during the 11:30 a.m. Sunday School. A goal of $50 is hoped for. There will be a Sunday School staff meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Pioneers and Builders Youth Groups will meet at 5:45 p.m. Sunday.

The pastor will begin a series of Bible studies at the Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7 p.m.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL

"All Men Shall Be Offended" will be Rev. Malcolm K. Burton's sermon theme tomorrow at First Congregational Church when Holy Communion will be celebrated.

The Chancel and Youth Choirs will sing "Let Us Break Bread Together."

Reservations are still being taken for the bus trip to Grand Rapids on Oct. 12. The occasion is the fall meeting of the Michigan State Association of Congregational Christian Churches.

The bus will leave the church at 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

CENTRAL METHODIST

Central Methodist Church will observe Worldwide Communion with two services at 9:15 and 10:45 a.m. The Chancel Choir will sing "Create in Me a Clean Heart" by Mueller. Soloist Robert Stoner will present "Offering" by Laubin.

Dr. Milton H. Bank will begin a series of sermons in the symbolism found in the church. The wheat and grapes carved on the Communion rail will be the subject of his meditation Sunday.

On Oct. 13 he will have the church inspire for his subject with the theme "A Finger Lifted to God."

FIRST CHRISTIAN

The congregation of First Christian Church will observe Worldwide Communion at morning service tomorrow. Elders Don Woodward and Paul Colton will assist the pastor.

Deacons participating include William Appenroth, Dick Kain, Brady Adams, Darryl Lee, Hill Shambolt, Lynus Grant, Floyd Reynolds and Lester Otterback.

All men and women of the church are invited to the Christian Women's Fellowship meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Webster will lead the panel discussion and Mrs. James Vaughn will be in charge of the worship. Panelists include David Wells, Mrs. John Appleton and Eugene Thompson.

AUBURN HEIGHTS U.P.

Each member of the congregation of Auburn Heights United Presbyterian church will receive a Communion token at the morning service tomorrow when Holy Communion will be celebrated.

Communion tokens were the outgrowth of secret symbols used by the early Christian Church for identification of its members. The use of tokens was almost universal among Presbyterian and Reformed churches throughout the world during the 17th, 18th centuries and extending well into 19th century. Rev. F. William Palmer said.

The new Senior High Choir

under the direction of Mrs. Milton Patrick will sing "Accepting to Thy Gracious Word." The Chancel Choir will also sing directed by Robert Evans.

The Communion meditation is entitled "Every People, Tongue and Nation."

The superintendents of each department of the Sunday School will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. R. Grant Graham will preside.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

The sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered at 9:30 and 11 a.m. in First Presbyterian Church Sunday. Rev. Galen E. Hershey will preach on "As I Come to the Lord's Table."

A group of senior high youth accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Brown, the Robert Everetts and Rev. and Mrs. Paul D. Cross are spending the weekend in a retreat near Lapeer.

Young adults will meet at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Cross tomorrow evening.

BETHANY BAPTIST

Worldwide Communion will be observed in Bethany Baptist Church tomorrow.

A planned cooperative dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. Those attending are asked to bring place settings for the family and a favorite dish. Pictures in color and quarterly church session will follow.

Lord's Supper at Bloomfield

Moody Science Film Scheduled for Sunday

Bloomfield Hills Baptist Church, 3600 S. Telegraph Road will observe the Lord's Supper with Rev. Harold W. Gieseke giving the Communion meditation, "When the Song Began."

Jack White will direct the choir accompanied by Mrs. J. Merle Antis, organist.

The latest in the series of famed Moody Science Films, "City of the Bees," will be shown at 6 p.m. All of the Sunday evenings in October will feature special events.

On Oct. 13 a team from the Voice of Christian Youth will present the program. They also will be featured in the 9 p.m. sing-along to which all young people of the Pontiac-Bloomfield-Birmingham area are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland MacLean who are under appointment as missionaries to New Guinea will be working with the Bloomfield Hills Church for the next seven months under Missionary Internship Inc.

Mr. MacLean is a graduate of Princeton University and Dallas Theological Seminary. The practical training afforded them by the church will help in their duties on the mission field, Pastor Gieseke said.

The MacLeans will assist the pastor in youth work, music and visitation.

Quartets in Session

The quarterly meeting of the Michigan Quartet Fellowship will be in session at 3 p.m. Sunday in Friendship Baptist Church. Group singers from all parts of the state as well as the Pontiac Spirituals and Charmettes will offer musical numbers. Mrs. Bobbie White, president of the local group, said the public is invited.

"THROUGH GATES OF SPLENDOR"

Welcome to a Friendly Church

To Direct 30 Churches

Accepts Indiana Call

Dr. J. Allen Parker, pastor of Newman A.M.E. Church for the past 20 years, has accepted a call to become district superintendent of the denomination's churches in the northern half of the State of Indiana.

He will be supervising more than 30 churches including those in Indianapolis. This is one of the largest districts in the nation, Pastor Parker said.

The congregation will honor its pastor and family with a dinner and reception at 6:30 p.m. on Oct. 12 in Jefferson Junior High School. The public is invited.

Before coming to Pontiac in 1943 Dr. Parker was athletic director and physical education instructor of the Jones High School in Orlando, Fla. He received his secondary education in Ohio, and obtained a bachelor of science degree from the State College of Georgia.

Dr. Parker took post graduate work at Atlanta University. He received his doctor's degree from Wilberforce University in 1952.

SERVES STATE

The Newman A.M.E. pastor has served as grand chancellor of the state convention of Knights of Pythias representing Success Lodge No. 10. At the state convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in 1951, he was chosen chaplain.

Pastor Parker was the first Negro to become president of the Pontiac Pastors' Association. He has been vice president of the Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship and a director of the Urban League.

He has served two terms as a member of the Pontiac Board of Education. On Aug. 17 an appreciation banquet honored Dr. Parker for his 20 years as pastor of the Newman Church.

DR. J. ALLEN PARKER

ker for his 20 years as pastor of the Newman Church.

Dr. and Mrs. Parker have four children: Joseph Jr., Toussaint, Jacobium and Sudine. They will make their home in Gary, Ind. Rev. A. N. Reid of Albion will succeed Pastor Parker.

Organ Recital in New Troy Methodist

John Rossfield, director of music at First Baptist Church in Detroit, will play an organ recital at 3:30 Sunday afternoon in the new Troy Methodist Church, 6383 Livernois, north of Square Lake Road.

The guest organist studied at Northwestern University, the University of Michigan and the University of Vienna, Austria. A free offering will be received for the purpose of purchasing new choir robes for the Chancel Choir.

Autumnal Holidays to Close

The Jewish Feast of Conclusion beginning at sunset Wednesday will mark the end of the harvest season and the autumnal holiday. At conservative Congregation B'nai Israel services will be conducted at 8:40 Wednesday night and at 7:30 a.m. Thursday and Friday. The Junior Congregation will meet at 10 a.m.

The memorial Yizkor prayers will be recited Thursday at 8:30 p.m.

A special service for children, which will include the procession with the Torah scrolls, will take place at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The reform Temple Beth Jacob will hold Consecration Service Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Children recently enrolled in the kindergarten department will be blessed and will participate in the worship. Included are Alan Barnett, Karen Dickstein, Ross Mandel, Jeanne Neulicht and Jody Talan.

The Thursday morning service at 10:30 a.m. will include the reciting of the Yizkor prayer.

workers and those interested in theology of the Church School curriculum.

Persons interested in serious Bible study are invited to the message by Rev. and Mrs. Auchard either Monday, Wednesday or Friday evening.

Junior High Fellowship will meet for supper Thursday evening. Plans are underway for the annual Halloween United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund collection.

The pastor will begin a series of Communion's classes at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

PINE HILL
Rev. Harry Clark will begin a series of eight sermons on "What Is Your Religion Suppose to Do" tomorrow in Pine Hill Congregational Church.

Services are currently being held in the Pine Lake Elementary School at 11 a.m.

Dr. Alfred Grey, minister emeritus, will lead devotions when the Michigan Association of Congregational Christian Churches meets in Grand Rapids Saturday. Attending from Pine Hill Church will be Dr. and Mrs. Lester Olmstead and Pastor and Mrs. Clark.

Pine Hill young people are planning a parent's night Sunday evening at the home of Tom Lovell, 2720 Lone Pine Road, Orchard Lake. George Sene will be in charge of the evening entertainment.

Rev. Dr. Walter F. Wolbrecht, of St. Louis, Mo. told the large crowd gathered there.

He is executive director of the Lutheran Church Missouri-Synod.

The new $8 million campus will provide the first two years of college for students who are planning church careers in teaching or the ministry.

One of 11 similar schools operated by the Synod, the new Junior College is the first to be built in 35 years. It is located on a 218-acre site overlooking the Huron River.

In his dedicatory address Dr. Wolbrecht said the formal and systematic study of the Bible and Christian training are the beginning and the ending of all that the school is, and that which binds it together is one unified whole.

Churches Rush Supplies to Flood-Stricken Ghana

NEW YORK, N.Y. — In response to an urgent request for help, Church World Service this week rushed sanitary supplies and blankets to 50,000 Ghanaians made homeless by flood, it was announced.

By telephone contact with the New York headquarters of Church World Service, Robert McCabe, West Africa director of the Protestant relief and rehabilitation agency, reported that entire areas of north and south Ghana have been cut off by a twenty-one foot rise in the Volta River following six days of heavy rainfall.

The big river bisects Ghana and emerges into the Atlantic fifty-eight miles up the coast from Accra.

James MacCracken, associate executive director of Church World Service, announced that within an hour of the request for help, $5,000 had been cabled for immediate use. In addition, one million water purification tablets and 2,000 blankets were shipped to Accra, Ghana.

From Church World Service supplies on hand in Ghana, approximately forty tons of flour and dehydrated milk were being shipped via airlift to the flooded areas to assist the homeless.

The Volta River was reported flooding from two to five miles of its shoreline, forcing thousands of Africans to flee. Estimates on loss of life, or destruction of crops and livestock were not available.

Church World Service is the overseas relief and rehabilitation agency of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.

Senior Highs at Retreat

Young People Mark Communion at Camp

A planning and self-evaluation retreat is being attended by the senior high youth fellowship of Trinity Methodist Church, Waterford, this weekend.

The Faith Wing Camp on Gale Road, owned by the Inner City Church of Detroit, is the site of the meeting.

Communion on Sunday morning will climax the weekend's activities.

The youth council planning the session is composed of James Wohlgehausen, Connie Griesbach, Sandra Couturier and Ann McMillan.

Adults attending the retreat are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ball and the Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Thompson.

During 10:30 a.m. worship services held at Schoolcraft School the church will observe World-wide Communion Sunday. A coffee hour is planned for 11:30 a.m.

Tuesday evening the executive committee of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. Gerald Otzman. Each Tuesday evening and Thursday morning the society will hold a work bee at the Otzman home in preparation for their Nov. 9 bazaar.

Mrs. Thomas Patton is chairman of the event.

Pontiac Unity Center Will Welcome Minister

Everett A. Dell who has been serving Pontiac Unity Center as acting minister since July completed his ministerial training at Unity School of Christianity, Lee's Summit, Mo. in September.

The local congregation will welcome him back as minister at 11 a.m. tomorrow. His morning topic will be "The Unity of Today."

In addition to Sunday services Mr. Dell conducts two weekly classes in metaphysical Bible study. He is also a member of the teaching staff at Detroit Unity Association.

Before taking up the study of theology, he was engaged in the industrial world serving as a supervisor at Royal Oak Tool and Die Co.

Mrs. Dell accompanied her husband to the Unity School to further her knowledge in Sunday School work. The Dells make their home at 23 Winona, Highland Park.

Mrs. Dell, a registered nurse, is director of central supplies at Harper Hospital, Detroit. She teaches in the Unity Sunday School.

The public is invited to attend the homecoming service and participate in a cooperative dinner following the service.

Nearly All Auto Firms Report Record Sales

DETROIT (AP)— Virtually every U. S. auto firm reported record high sales last month as dealers strove to sell the last of their 1963 models and the first of their 1964 lines.

With virtually all the new cars on sale by the end of September, a check of sales for the three-day announcement period of the 1964 models showed the public was in a buying mood.

A typical comment was that of Senon E. Knudsen, Chevrolet division general manager, who said, "I can't recall any announcement period when customers arrived at showrooms more willing and able to buy."

the nation last year, said it sold 30,662 of its 1964 models on Sept. 26, the best September showing for Chevy since 1955. It was 12.9 per cent ahead of the total for September 1962.

Chevrolet deliveries for the final 10 days of September hit 75,746 cars and trucks—almost 1 per cent ahead of the similar period last year.

Ford Motor Co., whose Ford division was runner-up in the sales race in 1963, said that 24,900 new Fords were sold in the three day introduction period, far ahead of the 20,960 sold in a like three days last year.

M. S. McLaughlin, assistant general manager of Ford Divison, said more than 5 million people visited Ford dealerships 26, its public announcement date, and the two succeeding days. It took customer orders for an additional 50,000 cars and trucks in those three days, Knudsen said.

BEST SHOWING

Chevrolet deliveries for September totaled 151,726 cars and trucks across the nation on Sept. 27 and 28 to see the new cars.

Ford sales in the final 10 days of September totaled 44,290 units, up 83 per cent over the previous 10 days.

Ford sales for September hit 126,715, bringing the nine-months total for 1963 to 1,447,441 — up almost 135,000 over the first three-quarters of 1962.

Lincoln Continental Division of Ford sold 1,235 cars on its 1964 introduction date, compared with 968 the year before.

The rosy sales picture led Ben D. Mills, Lincoln-Mercury Division general manager, to say, "this could be the best year in history for this car."

A DROP

The combined L-M Division sales figure for last month was 15,363, a drop of about 1,500 from September 1962. Industry sources said the drop probably was due to the fact that most of the cars sale until after Oct. 1 this year, and many of the September sales reflected a cleanup of 1963 models.

GM headquarters in Detroit said its final September sales figures were not available yet, but a spokesman said he believed it would be the best September in GM history.

Chrysler-Plymouth dealers delivered 21,719 new passenger cars in the last 10 days of September to bring the month's total to 41,628 cars.

C. E. Briggs, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, said that 22,581 new cars were sold in the nine selling days since introduction of the 1964 Chrysler, Plymouth and Valiant cars. This was 3 per cent ahead of a like period last year. The Imperial did not go on sale until today.

RAMBLER RECORD

model year just ended, with September deliveries the highest in its history.

The 1964 Ramblers went on sale last Thursday. Thomas A. Coupe, AMC vice president, said Rambler sales for the 1963 model year totaled 441,472 compared with 331,397 in 1962.

ALL-TIME HIGH

Rambler deliveries in September totaled 28,491, compared with 26,770 sold in September of last year. The latter figure had been an all-time high for the month at AMC.

Studebaker sales during the last 10 days of September were 2,006 units, or nearly double the 1,022 retailed during a comparable 10-day period of 1962.

The daily selling rate for the first four days of the Studebaker 1964 models was 40 per cent ahead of the 1963 sales rate, said L. E. Minkel, president of Studebaker Automotive Sales Corp.

In Canada Dock Strike

New Violence Feared

MONTREAL (AP)— Shippers braced for the possibility of new trouble on the waterfront today after violence marked the departure of a luxury liner from Quebec City.

Striking longshoremen kicked and pummeled a Cunard steamship executive and another man attempting to leave the 20,000-ton Carmania Friday night and pelted the ship and a tug with stones. The liner's crew turned fire hoses on the strikers.

Another liner, the 26,000-ton Homeric, was scheduled to sail today from Quebec and there was apprehension that the men may encounter similar trouble.

There was fear also that the two-day-old strike by 3,000 longshoremen, already reported imperiling Canada's $500-million wheat deal with the Soviet Union, may be compounded by a halt of freight trains hauling the grain from the prairies to dockside. Locomotive firemen threatened a walkout to back demands they be allowed to work a six-day week.

An official of the striking International Longshoremen's Association said reports that the strike would jeopardize the wheat deal have been exaggerated. Union officials gathering to consider a federal mediator's proposal invited Teddy Gleason, head of the International Longshoremen in New York, to attend the meeting. A Canadian union spokesman said Gleason was asked to try to ensure the cooperation of all Atlantic ports, especially New York, in the strike.

A top union official said the

Monroe Father, Son Released on Bond

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)— Bud Haddix of Monroe and his son, Jack, of Blaisfield, were free on bond today after standing mute in U.S. District Court to charges of theft by conversion and fraud with corn in government storage.

Plans of innocent were entered for both men yesterday by Judge Raymond W. Starr. The elder Haddix, now a resident of Florida, was released on $1,000 cash bond, pending a trial date. His son, currently manager of an implement sales firm at Blaisfield, was released on personal recognizance bond.

A 13-count federal grand jury indictment against the Haddixes stemmed from their operations of Woodbury Grain Co. near Lake Odessa and Michigan Grain Co. of Decatur in 1961-62.

Both men are also awaiting trial in U.S. District Court in Eastern Michigan on similar indictments involving operations of storages at Monroe, Blaisfield and Durand.

The government claims monetary losses of more than $700,000 through their operations with corn stored under the Commodity Credit Corp. All five elevators were placed under federal receivership as a result of investigations started in July, 1962.

The 13-count indictment charged the Haddix pair with converting to their own use some 112,500 bushels of CCC-stored corn from Woodbury and Decatur, selling some 6,750 bushels of corn of which 5,513 bushels were government-owned, and allegedly overcharging the government some $4,154 for corn in storage.

Neighbors 'Purr' as Tenant Leaves; 35 Cats Follow

NEW YORK (AP)—The neighbors all purr when the lady moved from her Queens apartment. It meant the loss of 35 other "tenants"—all cats.

Helen Auld, 55, a school teacher, occupied a second-floor, 2½ room flat in the 55-family apartment house. In it she kept those almost three-dozen felines.

Miss Auld, served with a dispossession order, left Friday. Agents of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals moved into her former quarters and removed the cats.

Spring Arbor College Dedicates New Library

JACKSON (AP)— Spring Arbor College dedicated its new $300,000 library yesterday. It is named after Detroit accountant Hugh A. White, chairman of the board of trustees of the Jackson-area college and a former student there.

Spring Arbor, an accredited four-year liberal arts college, has an enrollment of 500 students.

First Lady on Yacht to Istanbul

ATHENS, Greece (UPI)— Jacqueline Kennedy headed for exotic Istanbul aboard a luxury yacht today, with the possibility that she may also visit Lebanon, Israel and Egypt.

The U.S. embassy in Athens confirmed today that Mrs. Kennedy's first stop aboard Greek millionaire Aristotle Onassis' glittering yacht Christina would be Istanbul.

She was expected to reach there tonight. The First Lady's exact destination was cloaked in mystery and confusion last night when she sailed out of Athens aboard the yacht, which was loaded with cases of champagne and other wines and various food delicacies.

Before the yacht sailed off into the moonlight, Onassis told reporters the first stop would be Delphi, followed by random stops at whichever Greek islands Mrs. Kennedy wished to see.

However, his brother-in-law said the Christina would put into Istanbul first, and a crew member said Onassis would take his famous guest to Istanbul, Haifa, Beirut and Alexandria.

Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, continually stressed that the itinerary was not set and that stops would depend on the desires of the First Lady.

WHEAT LOSS FEARED

Some shippers and Prime Minister Lester Pearson's opposition in parliament said that Canada may lose part of its wheat transaction with the Soviet Union as a result of the strike.

About 60-million bushels of the record 220-million-bushel deal, valued at $600 million, were to have been cleared before the winter freezeup. The contract calls for the entire shipment to be completed by next July 31.

The longshoremen, seeking a 6-cent an-hour package increase to their $2.35 basic wage, and officials of the Shipping Federation of Canada met with federal mediator Rene Lippe Friday. A union official said the shippers had offered a 25-cent increase. E.M. Strange, head of the Shippers' labor committee, denied the offer had been extended. The federation offered a 16-cent package last March but union members turned it down.

Phil Cutler, union attorney, accused the Pearson government of haphazard efforts to end the strike by what he said were government threats to intervene in the labor-management negotiations.

The Carman cancelled a stop at Montreal and sailed for Europe with 300 passengers despite the threat of 30 St. Lawrence River piers Montreal, Quebec and Trois-Rivières.

The strike started, witnesses said, when seamen aboard the Carmania threw pennies at the strikers. The stevedores retaliated with stones.

They also hurled stones at a tug approaching to help the liner from dockside. The Carmania crew cut the ship's mooring lines and the backed out of her berth under her own power while sailors trained fire hoses on the strikers.

J.G. Colquhoun, 61, manager of the Cunard Steamship Co. in Quebec City, and J.W. Martin, a representative of the Saguenay Fish Co., were beaten and injured slightly as they attempted to walk down the liner's gangplank.

About 25 policemen at the dock did not interfere in the incident. In Montreal, police sealed the 11-mile stretch of waterfront parolled by bands of pickets. No trouble was reported.

Forty-one ships were reported tied up in Montreal, four at Quebec and a few at Trois-Rivières. This represented only about half the number normally present in the ports during the peak fall shipping season.

But shippers estimated the loss at Montreal alone may run as high as $3 million a day.

Of the ships tied in Montreal, only three were loading wheat for the Soviet Union. Six or seven grain carriers also were docked at Montreal.

Chic Fashions Unveiled for Fall, Winter

COUNTESS ALEXANDER

PAT SADLER

OLEG CASSINI

For that fall and winter social event which requires that you look your most elegant, top fashion designers have created an abundant variety of styles from which to choose.

The floor length sheath has come into its own this season in a number of styles and fabrics. For those who prefer the short dance dress, a large number of elegant gowns are also available and still very much in fashion.

The Countess Alexander has a special way with evening clothes, and this is one of the more romantic of the evening costume looks. In the 1963 tradition, the dress is long and narrow, the coat is long and covering.

Here the luxury of white

rink coat sleeves makes this a really grand evening affair. The romantic rose-pink and silver brocade is of silk, metalized yarn and nylon.

DANCE DRESS

From the fall of 1963 collection of Pal Sandier for Highlight comes a short dance dress of beige silk satin combined with a sparkle-covered elongated bodice.

The skirt is moderately full for easy movement.

Oleg Cassini creates a black and yellow evening dress full of fascinating detail. The skirt is cut with the new low flare — a brilliant yellow diagonal twill of "Antron" nylon and silk.

The overblouse has another surprise in the bead-geared fringe on the sleeves and at the hips. The whole effect is a

Q: A little over a year ago I was bridesmaid for a close friend and with the maid of honor and the other bridesmaids, gave a bridal shower for her. She is now expecting a baby and I would like to know if we are expected to give a stork shower for her.

I have been told that it is customary for those who were in the bridal party to give a stork shower for the first baby. I have never heard of this and would like to know if it is true.

Frankly, I cannot afford to go through this expense again.

A: I have never heard of this either, and there is definitely no obligation of etiquette for those who were in the bridal party to give a stork shower for the mother-to-be.

Q: When setting the table for dinner at which salad will be served on a separate plate but along with the meat course, is it necessary to include a salad fork at each place, or may the dinner fork also be used for the salad?

A: Correctly, a salad fork should be included but as most people use the dinner fork to eat both the meat and salad, the extra salad fork is not necessary.

Q: My boy friend will be leaving in three weeks to fulfill his two years of military training. We do not plan to be married until he is discharged.

We would like, however, to announce our engagement before he leaves. Would it be proper to do so at this time or is it too far in advance of the wedding to announce our engagement?

A: While there is no rule against your announcing your engagement now if you wish, it would be unusual so far in advance of the wedding. It would be better to wait for at most a year before announcing it.

Newlyweds Given Blessing by Pope

Some 400 guests attended a Nuptial High Mass offered by Rev. Daniel A. Britz for Eileen Mary Scott and William James Flynn today in St. Michael Church. A Papal blessing was extended to the couple.

White peau de sole apparelled with beaded Alencon lace, for the daughter of the Daniel M. Scotts of East Rutgers Avenue, swept into a chapel train. Her bouffant tiered veil was French illusion.

A gold-throated white orchid centered her cascade bouquet of Fuji chrysanthemums and Pittosporum.

MAID OF HONOR

Ann Capogno, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Sam Mandalari, Rochester; Mrs. Howard Jarvis, Oxford and Mary Degg, wore turquoise peau de tulle sheaths with overskirts.

They carried chrysanthemums in fall shades with Pittosporum. Yellow Mary Jo roses accented the honor maid's bouquet. Carol Ann Scott attended her aunt as flower girl.

The bridegroom, son of the Richard P. Flynn of Fenton, had Paul Hogan of Flint for best man. Harry Neminski and Joseph Gosling, also of Flint ushered with John Groll of Fenton.

The wedding breakfast was served at Ted's Restaurant, with the evening reception in the CAI Building. The couple will tour northern Michigan and will make their home in Fenton.

MRS. WILLIAM J. FLYNN

Barbara Wright Speaks Vows

Barbara Ann Wright was wearing white silk bombazine as she became Mrs. James Lawrence Schimp today in St. Michael Church, with Rev. James Hayes officiating.

Chantilly lace fashioned her basque bodice and bordered a draped silk overskirt which ended in a cathedral train. She donned a French illusion veil and held a missal topped with white orchids, Stephanotis and Pittosporum.

MRS. JAMES L. SCHIMP

Parents of the couple are the Diamond Wrights of Lowell Street and the Earl Schimps of Petrolia Street.

Mrs. Lawrence Pfeiffer, honor matron, and bridesmaids Mrs. Wendell White and Patricia Wright attended their sister along with Carol Johnson.

They wore emerald green taffeta faille and carried fall pompons and natural wheat. Pfeiffer's crescent bouquet.

John Schimp was best man for his brother, Gerald Peterson, Lake Orion, Thomas Wright and Lawrence Pfeiffer ushered.

After a reception in the Knights of Columbus club rooms, the couple left for Miami, visiting the Smoky Mountains en route. They will reside on Baybrook Drive.

Anne Saunders Weds

The Robert Armstrong Kirkpatricks (Anne Casteel Saunders) left for Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands after a champagne luncheon and reception today in Pine Lake Country Club.

Parents of the couple, wed

before Rev. John Albrecht in Christ Church Cranbrook, are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Saunders, Bloomfield Hills, and the Charles Kirkpatricks of Hinsdale, Ill.

Cascading phalaenopsis orchids and a veil of French illusion complemented the bride's gown of candlelight peau de sole, styled with chapel train.

Mrs. Saunders Black, Birmingham, and Mrs. Robert H. Nelson, Des Plaines, Ill., attended their sister as honor matron and bridesmaid along with Mrs. Howard C. Essl of Madison, Wis. and Jean Butler of Lake Angelus and Chicago.

They wore moss green silk-lined net with velvet bodices and held gold Fuji chrysanthemums with bronze accents in the honor attendant's bouquet.

Elizabeth Jane Black was flower girl.

Howard C. Essl was best man for his brother-in-law. Ushers were Robert H. Nelson, Edward A. Klemm of Boston, Carl H. Doerge Jr., Shaker Heights, Ohio, Eugene M. Kay Jr. of Cincinnati and Karl C. Duchek, North Plainfield, N. J.

MRS. ROBERT A. KIRKPATRICK

Wed today in Christ Church Cranbrook were Anne Casteel Saunders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Saunders, Bloomfield Hills, and Robert Armstrong Kirkpatrick, son of the Charles Kirkpatricks of Hinsdale, Ill.

Gold Star Group Picks New Officers

Officers for the coming season were elected at the Wednesday evening meeting of chapter No. 34 of the Gold Star Mothers. Mrs. Olive Burgess opened her Hamilton Street home for the event.

Leading the group will be Mrs. Clarence Sutton as president. Assisting her will be Mrs. Leone Hagberg, first vice president; Mrs. Carl Rutherford, second vice president; Mrs. Cecil Briggs, secretary; and Mrs. Burgess, treasurer.

Others elected to office include Mrs. Eva Welch, chaplain; Mrs. Edward McDonald, flag guard; and Mrs. David Richert, sergeant-at-arms and banner guard.

The state board meeting will be held in Lansing November 4.

Oakland County Food Expert Addresses Editors' Meeting

Executive Women's Editor
CHICAGO—Oakland County's own Josephine Lawyer spoke to the food editors yesterday on the subject of meat buying habits and problems of consumers. The consumer information agent was a member of the panel on meat presented by Oscar Mayer Co.

When Sunbeam Co. entertained at breakfast Thursday, they proudly presented their newest product—a carousel rotisserie. This table model appliance can hold a few kabobs or a medium size turkey or roast.

All their other table appliances were put to use to give us a wide choice of breakfast items. Most interesting was Bismarcks made from refrigerated biscuits.

STOOD IN
Although the Jolly Green Giant didn't come to lunch, his owners stood in for him nicely. The giant now sports a bright red scarf to keep him warm as he stores Green Giant's new frozen vegetables. These vegetables should be available nationally by Nov. 1.

The Drake Hotel personnel were a bit startled to find one of their meeting rooms turned into a supermarket late Thursday afternoon. This supermarket dispensed new food ideas in a colorful fashion.

A 20-foot meat case taught chicken arithmetic, showing the 31 ways chicken is packaged for the consumer's convenience today. Some of the experimental products, the poultry line were also shown.

A pyramid of canned foods 6-feet wide and 10-feet high, or just about the number of cans used by the average family each year, displayed the indispensability of canned foods in our national menu.

UNUSUAL DISPLAY
One of the more unusual displays was a group of antique cans from the Can Manufacturers Institute collection.

To see how sharp our taste buds were after four days of eating, one section featured foods with "surprise" flavors. I guessed the peppermint meat balls and the tamarind carrots, but failed on the smoky olives and the garlic pineapple.

The charming little girl who had made salt sculptures earlier in the week was passing out ginger cookies from the American Molasses Co.

Friday morning we had another potpourri of food exhibits to visit. The Realemon Co. provided a lemon flavored brunch.

ENHANCED BY
Later we saw the many foods that are enhanced by the addition of raisins, noted the new fish products soon to be seen in the frozen food counters, applauded an attractive array of picture-perfect apple pies, and laughed at the clothes of the Twenties worn by the John Oster people.

Oster, celebrating its blender's 40th anniversary, was demonstrating quick chaffon pies, glamorous puddings and homemade almond butter.

Tuna talked Esperanto at the closing luncheon yesterday. A delicious cup of hot tuna chowder greeted our arrival. For the luncheon itself we had tuna appetizers, tuna salad and two kinds of tuna main dishes. That's enough tuna for a while.

The luncheon speaker told of research going on in all parts of the oceanic world in an endeavor to increase and improve the fishing industry.

At the present time about ten per cent of the world food is fish. It must be greater if the peoples of the world are to survive.

The last round of handshakes and sampling of food at a farewell party and the 21st Food Editors' Conference became past history.

But the ideas and recipes will be yours in many weeks to come!

MSU, Alumni Present Hootenanny Hoedown

The Michigan State University club of Oakland County will present a Hootenanny Hoedown this evening at the Hansen's Picnic Park grounds on Rochester Road.

MSU alumni and friends are invited to the event, which will feature a barbecue, folk music by the "Bi-Folk-La", dancing, and competitive games.

A bus excursion is planned for the MSU University football game game Oct. 12 and will leave Southold High School at 10:30 a.m.

Reservations for both events may be made through Robert Bogan at the Birmingham Community House.

Fraser of Niagara Avenue and new member Mrs. W. K. Nison of Morningview Terrace.

Canterbury to Begin Season

The Canterbury Club will begin its new season this evening with a dinner-dance at Edgewood Country Club.

New members to be introduced this evening include Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schimmel Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Archambeau, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCandless, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Papenguth.

Leading the group this season will be Walter Eia as president. Assisting him will be Mrs. Bruce Jacobsen, secretary, and Charles Knowlton, treasurer.

Other board members include Mrs. Robert Anderson, Dr. John Primrose, Mrs. William J. Dean Jr., Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Philip Pratt.

200 Watch Art Event at Oakland University

At 2:30 p.m. yesterday, approximately 200 people stumbled into a darkened room at Oakland University — each carrying a stick of gum.

At 3:30 p.m. these people wandered out with comments ranging from "a ridiculous waste of time" to "a fine achievement."

During that time they had seen an "art happening" called "Yam Lecture, Oakland Version." Created by Robert M. Watts, associate professor of art at Douglass College Rutgers University, the event was the third program in OU's symposium on primitive and contemporary art.

When their eyes became adjusted to the darkness, the audience, about three-fourths students, saw two movie screens at the front of the room.

At the far side of the left screen a male university student sat at a table, at the far side of the right screen sat an OU coed, dressed in black. On both the tables was a lighted candle, a tea pot, and a hat stuffed with envelopes.

A flashlight beamed briefly on the ceiling and the "event" started. For an hour, two projectors spewed a collage of life's moments, desires and stupidities, in color and black and white, on the screens, on the walls and on the ceiling.

For an hour, the two student "centerpieces" read whatever they found in the envelopes, ranging from nursery rhymes to excerpts from bad novels.

DRESSED IN WHITE

For an hour, student participants, dressed mostly in white, wandered intermittently through the audience, talking, reciting, playing catch, or whatever their instruction card directed them.

For an hour, sound equipment at the back of the room belted everything from weather reports and supermarket ads to distorted selections of music.

The significance of the sticks of gum, handed to the audience upon entering, became evident about half-way through the "event." The mouth of a man chewing, in a remarkably boyish manner, was projected first on the right, then left wall.

A theme repeated frequently on the sound track was "the important thing is the result." In one hour, Prof. Watts had projected an impression of man and man's achievements—all much that is beautiful, much that is ridiculous.

Whether it is a "waste of time" or a "fine achievement" is up to the individual.

The male "centerpiece" was Joel Levinson, New York City. His female counterpart was Mrs. Carentan Renner, Rochester. Both are students at OU. Over 15 students participated in the event.

This was Prof. Watts' second "Yam Lecture." The first was performed in New York City last January. He has presented similar creations ranging up to 30 hours.

The symposium will conclude at 5:15 this evening at Pontiac Northern High School Auditorium, with a concert by pianist Ruth Slenczynska. Admission will be charged.

Monday marks the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Wylie of Pinedale Road. They are the parents of Norman Wylie of Hatchery Road and Mrs. Edward Dobat of Rochester. The couple will be honored at an open house Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the home of their son. They have five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Honeymoon Trip Follows Wedding

Rev. and Mrs. Harold Gene Roberts (Carolyn Ann Blasingsame) left for a southern honeymoon following their marriage and reception today in the First United Pentecostal Church.

Daughter of Mrs. William L. Phelps, Auburn Heights, and the late Marion H. Blasingsame, the bride appeared in a gown of imported Chantilly lace over white taffeta.

Her sequined bodice with wrist-point sleeves extended into a bouffant skirt and a tiered-back panel. The silk illusion veil fell from a jeweled tiara.

Wearing emerald satin brocade were Sue Blasingsame, her sister's maid of honor, who carried pale yellow carnations. The bridesmaids, similarly clad, were Lorinda Graves, Mrs. Donald Blasingsame, Linda Talley and Mrs. Roy Well. They held green-tipped white carnations.

The bridegroom, son of Rev. Eugene L. Roberts, who performed the ceremony, and Mrs. Roberts, of Mt. Clemens Street, had his brother David for best man. Ushers were James Roberts, Roy Well and Donald Blasingsame. Completing the usher list were Stanley, Norman and Shirley Eastman, all of Jackson.

CHARMING LIVING—A dramatic curved bay window has three tiers of snowy white cafe curtains and is topped by a tailored valance. Cocoa beige carpeting was used throughout the house, and the high backed antique wing chair is about the same mellow color. The brown and white printed loveseat has another one of those little Queen Anne-type drop-leaf tables at the back. Every one of those treasures over the fireplace has its own interesting history.

background for LIVING

Home Has Colonial Charm

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Not only does the outside of the Leonard Wolfes' lovely home savor of the Early American way of life, but the inside is even more so.

All the authentic detail of the fine Colonial house is evidenced in this gracious home's attractive exterior. Inside: spacious living room, family room, dining nook and formal dining room.

A wide welcoming center entrance keynotes good traffic pattern to all parts of the charming house, and an aura of informality and comfort is readily apparent throughout.

In the living room, a visitor's curiosity is immediately aroused by the unique mantle arrangement. Old keys, prints, spoons and other treasures are tastefully arranged and do not look cluttered.

Ten white louvered shutters can be folded open or closed between the living and dining rooms to separate the antiques collected through the years.

As in most area families, the Wolfes' inviting activities room is the very heart of the home. Chairs are comfortable, the cut stone fireplace wall with its big copper hood is in constant use by the Wolfe parents and their children, Judy 11, and Tom, 8.

At the end of the all-pine kitchen, a small harvest table is flanked by deacon's benches. More antiques are artfully displayed on the squared glass window ledges and are just as attractive from the outside terrace as on the inside.

In this kitchen you think of munching crisp holiday cookies at the end of that sunny breakfast table.

More than 90 per cent of all the furnishings in the home are authentic antiques—sturdy and with still much livability for the Wolfes to enjoy.

HOME ON A HILL—Nestled among giant oak trees on top of a hill, this lovely home of the Leonard Wolfes is one of the nicest on Franklin Road. The white brick front is broken in the center by a sweeping bay window surrounded by colorful cut glass. To the left of the picture is Wolfe's private office quarters, four steps up from the activities room.

SOLID WORK AREA—The very hub of things, this brick and wood working area is not only substantial, but charming as well. Everything is within arm's reach, and the area was thoughtfully designed to make working a pleasure. All of the cupboards and trim are of pine wood and hinged with black wrought iron hinges.

AMERICAN ENTRANCE—The four silhouettes add charm to the old clock and apothecary chest in the slate-floored entrance hall. The tiny beige and cocoa colored wallpaper is a delightful contrast to the snow-white woodwork. The entrance from the hall into the living room is a surprising 3 feet wide and low like ceilings of yesteryear.

KITCHEN AREA—Yellow and white daisies are splashed all over the Early American print wallpaper and on down into the chintz valance in the breakfast room. Satiny pine furniture, copper and brass items blend with old pewter and crockery that was used many years ago by pioneers. The yellow of the wallpaper was projected in the bright speckled floor.

BLENDS TOGETHER—There's a surprise in this room's decoration. The wainscoting is wallpapered in the same small red and white print of the cafe curtains and accessories. The little pine rocker is old, as are the wash stand, and tables and bed-bench.

DINING'S A DELIGHT—Comfortable simplicity—one of the many moods of this charming house—is found in the small dining room. The unique candle holder over the table once lighted the way for worshippers in an old English church. The little cherry dining table with its Queen Anne legs is surrounded by four Sheraton reed-bottomed chairs. A French door leads to a large patio.

A MAN'S DEN—This is the favorite room for the entire Wolfe family. Judy, 11, and Tom, 8, gather their friends around the big copper-hooded fireplace and roast hot dogs. In an opposite corner is a small but massive curved bar made of the same cut stones as in the fireplace. This is a quiet, private place for family consultations as well as for entertaining.

Guest Closet Door Can Be Brightened to Walk Barefoot to Test Floor

Turn your guest closet into a conversation starter, suggests Mary Ann Wills, decorating consultant.

Hang an amusing piece of art, such as an old-time cigar store Indian or a knight in shining armor, on the inside of the door to surprise and greet callers. Reproduced from original deep relief carvings, the Indian and knight are dramatically scaled and vividly colored by hand. You can find them in gift, furniture, and department stores.

How can you tell whether your kitchen floor is really free of grime or grit or merely looks that way?

A good test is to walk across it on your bare feet, which not only will feel the dirt but also can be inspected easily. Some flooring materials tend to obscure abrasive grit because of their softness and dark colors. Not so, however, ceramic tile. Real tile can be cleaned completely with a brush or a wipe, and grit can't stick or lodge itself on its smooth, hard surface.

FLOOR PLAN—Main level contains 1,279 square feet of living area not counting 7-foot by 28-foot 9-inch porch. Lower level contains 580 square feet not including the garage, storage area or heater room. Note the two sets of stairs, greatly simplifying movement between levels.

STATELY AND ECONOMICALLY: This handsome blevel contains four bedrooms and two full baths, yet its basic area is only 1,279 square feet. The lower level holds 580 square feet of bonus living area which can be developed when needed. The architect is Rudolph A. Matern.

Statistics J96

A blevel home with four bedrooms, two full baths, living room, dining room, kitchen, recreation room, laundry, two-car garage, 500 cubic foot storage room, heater room. Main level contains 1,279 square feet not counting 7-foot by 28-foot 9-inch porch; lower level 580 square feet, excluding garage, storage and heater room. House is 44-feet 6-inches wide, 28-feet 9-inches deep plus 7-foot porch projection.

This Small House Grows Along With Active Family

A small house that can grow right along with a family is the goal of many young couples.

But finding one isn't easy—one that actually does grow, not one that just provides extra space for a future bedroom.

After all, adequate sleeping space solves only part of a family's housing problem. It's when everybody is awake and active that overcrowded conditions become really unbearable.

Today's House of the Week is a complete three-bedroom home of less than 1,300 square feet.

But, when family expansion demands and financial conditions permit, an entire floor can be developed, adding a fourth bedroom, second full bath, recreation room and other features.

In other words, it holds in reserve for the future both the daytime and nighttime space an expanding family requires.

BLEVEL DESIGN

The house is a blevel design whose traditional styling will remain in vogue for years to come. The architect is Rudolph A. Matern, and the house is design J96 in the weekly series.

A blevel is simply a one-story home which has been raised out of the ground so the basement becomes livable too; and the front door dropped a half flight so it's at grade level.

It's the basement area of this home which can be finished later, and most of the work can be done by a handy husband.

NOT SURPLUS AREA

Meanwhile the area plainly is not surplus—it still serves as a basement, the laundry facilities are down there, and so is a full two-car garage, at least a $1,500 item if built in addition to the house.

The house is a simple rectangular plan in modest dimensions of 44 feet 6 inches wide by 28 feet 9 inches deep.

A portico with four stately columns projects seven feet into the front and is 28 feet 9 inches wide.

The main level contains 1,279 square feet of living area not including the porch; the lower level contains an additional 580 square feet not counting the garage storage room and heater room.

An excellent feature of the house is the second set of stairs in the rear, greatly simplifying movement between the two levels.

Moreover, the rear stair railing is built as a dramatic balcony for the breakfast table.

The front stair also shows creative use of wrought iron. An iron grill, not a railing, provides privacy as well as a decorative touch to the living room.

A mirrored planter and vanity niche is another eye-catcher at the entry foyer.

The living room is a spacious 18 feet by 15 feet, but the rear portion of it actually has the effect of being 22 feet wide considering the area in front of the guest closet and planter.

A log-burning fireplace complements the iron grill on the opposite wall, and the formal dining room adjoins in a connecting ell.

EFFICIENT KITCHEN

One of the finest features of the house is the kitchen, interestingly arranged and efficient at the same time. Double windows are above the double sink, offering excellent supervision of the backyard.

The rear service entry is down a half flight of stairs, equally accessible to both levels.

When the lower level is completed it will produce more than 230 square feet of recreation area as well as a well-ordered laundry, bathroom and corner bedroom.

This doesn't mean there will be no room left for storage—architect Matern has provided more than 500 cubic feet of storage space at the rear of the garage, not to mention the extra space, in the heater room.

Look before you landscape. You'll enjoy a more attractive home if you plan and plant it well.

Points Are Listed for Builders

Procedure for Inspection Revised by FHA

Beginning this week, a new inspection procedure will be used by the Detroit office of the FHA.

Since this is a complete departure from the system now used by the agency, there has naturally been some concern and confusion in getting the program off the ground, said Louis Hechtman, FHA-VA committee chairman.

The members of the committee are unanimous in their opinion that this new inspection procedure will be a benefit to the builders and the FHA inspection department, Hechtman said. The following points have been agreed upon and all builders in the FHA program are urged to take note of them:

• All mortgages will be given an ample supply of inspection cards from the FHA stockroom. These cards can be mailed to the FHA inspection department at the proper time by either the mortgagee or the builder.

• The first card will be mailed to the FHA so it is in their hands at least 48 hours prior to the date the builder wants the first inspection. The FHA will make every effort to make the inspection on the day requested.

• If the Inspector does not see the builder or his superintendent on the job, he will leave a copy of the inspection report attached to the city building permit board which the builder normally exhibits on the property or in a mailbox placed on the same property by the builder.

• Prior to the time construction is scheduled to reach the stage where a second compliance inspection is normally made, the second inspection card will be sent to FHA.

If the Inspector does not see the builder or his superintendent on the job, he will attach a copy of the inspection report to the opening framed for the medicine cabinet in the main bathroom or someplace else in the same bathroom.

• The third and final card will be submitted to FHA at the time all on-site improvements are completed and the building is ready for occupancy.

• Plans and specifications — builders on scattered lots must have their plans and specifications at the job site on the day that inspections are scheduled.

• Builders on scattered lots often look their houses before the second inspection. In this case, the builder will have to wait for the Inspector on the job or be sure the house is open for inspection.

• FHA will make unannounced optional inspections on the job as their schedule permits.

• Houses under construction under existing commitments issued prior to Sept. 30 will follow the new inspection procedure unless the compliance inspection report indicates that reinspection is required.

Prepasted Wallpaper Requires Know-How

Many wallpaper manufacturers are showing a wide variety of papers which are not only pre-trimmed but prepasted as well.

While this has eased the task of do-it-yourself wallpapering, the paper won't go up by itself. It takes some knowledge and a normal amount of common sense.

After you've selected the paper, you'll need a special water container, a waxed trough available for 25 cents or less at your wallpaper dealer.

Other items you will need are newspapers to spread on the floor, a pair of scissors or shears, a ruler or yardstick, a large sponge, a pencil, a piece of blue chalk, a single-edge razor blade, a seam roller or a wooden chair caster, a long strip to which a weight is attached, a wallpaper brush for smoothing the paper after it has been placed in the trough, and a stepladder.

You can start the job anywhere you wish — in a corner or even above the windows or doors. But the professional method is to hang the first strip to the right of the doorway.

FOR STRAIGHT LINE

To insure a straight plumb line, fasten a thumb tack at the ceiling line and attach a weighted string, on which blue chalk has been rubbed.

After the weight has stopped swinging, hold it with one hand against the baseboard and pull the cord a couple of inches or so, letting it snap back.

You now have a straight, blue line running from ceiling to baseboard. This is your guide to insure that the first strip is hung correctly.

Cut the first strip after measuring the distance from the ceiling to the baseboard, allowing three inches at the top and bottom for easy trimming.

Put the water container at the baseboard where the first strip is to be hung and fill it about two-thirds full.

RIGHT SIDE UP

When you place the first strip — and subsequent strips — into the trough, be sure the pattern side is on the inner side of the roll and that the paper is right side up.

It's a good idea to insert some sort of smooth weight in the trough like a stainless steel ball. This will keep the entire roll from popping out when you lift the strip.

After the roll is completely submerged for a minute or so, hold the top edges with your fingers and withdraw slowly from the water, making sure the entire surface has been thoroughly saturated.

Mount your stepladder and position the top of the strip on the wall at the ceiling, lining up the right edge with your plumb line. Gently smooth the strip with a wet sponge, moving from top center downward and outward.

TRIM EXCESS

Trim the excess paper at the top and bottom with a single-edge razor blade. Wash the entire strip with a wet sponge and clear water.

Press the edges firmly, using a wallpaper roller or a wooden chair caster.

Before cutting and putting the second strip into the water trough, hold the rest of the roll against the strip already on the wall to match the design, again allowing three inches at top and bottom for trimming when you cut the second strip.

Do this with all other strips. But the edges tightly and wipe each strip with a sponge and clean water.

When Heat's On Danger Rises

By DICK SAUNDERS

This is one time of the year when that "tired-all-over" feeling might not be caused by a FLU bug.

The culprit could be a FLUE bug, according to Robert Hawkins, city heating inspector.

Autumn is also the season when the wall of a fire siren early in the crisp morning air often is the result of a faulty furnace.

warns Charles Metz, city fire

It all adds up to a few good reasons for residents to get their furnaces checked before they flip the thermostat.

"If flues are clogged or dirty, the result can be carbon monoxide gas escaping into the home through hot air ducts," says Hawkins.

"It's best to be sure the chimney is clear and ducts are clean before furnaces are turned on and storm windows are up," he explains.

GRADUAL EFFECT

Effects of carbon monoxide gas in a home are usually gradual, building up over a period of time. If such conditions exist, the effect can become deadly once the house is "sealed up for the winter," Hawkins says.

Both Hawkins and Metz can be reached at city hall and will gladly answer questions involving the safe operation of heating devices.

Particularly important are gas and oil shutoff valves which automatically stop the flow of fuel if the pilot fails to ignite.

Nationally accepted standards place maximum time for gas shutoff at 3 minutes and maximum time for oil at 90 seconds.

Although not as explosive as gas, oil can be very costly in property damage. A faulty shutoff valve often results in a basement ankle deep in oil.

Metz points out that a faulty heating unit can and does very often overheat, a common starter of fires.

Both men agree that either way—explosion or overheating—the end results are much the same and could be avoided by a check-up now by any qualified heating contractor or repairman.

Sun Weekens Fibers, So Protect Curtains

Tests made by the U.S. Bureau of Standards have demonstrated that all fibers placed in direct sunlight deteriorate much more rapidly than those that have not been exposed.

Research has established, for example, that curtains wear better than there are shades at the window to protect them!

Chicken wire is helpful to shape free-form pools and hold the concrete. For angular pools a form is necessary. Remember that concrete should "cure" for several days before you fill the pool.

Dear Bob: I am very happy to write this letter to you now four months ago when I first contacted you. I really had my doubts that what you presented could really be done as easily as you said, and so times I felt bad for the hard times I gave you.
However, now, as I am getting ready to move into my new Caddie Home I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and all the Caddie family for the wonderful help you gave us all the way. I must state here that the quality of materials we received is exactly as you show in your model, and there was more than enough of it. We found that we paid the sub-contractors not more than what you quoted us, and the sub-contractors are more than what you quoted us.
As a matter of fact, we are so thrilled with our home, and in appreciation for what you did for us, we would like to hold open house for you—invite more in.
Everyone invited!

Sincerely yours,

Repatriated Playwright Digs Boyhood Diggings

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Harry Kurnitz, the Parisian from the Lower East Side, the Philadelphia contribution to world gaiety, came home recently — back to Second Avenue . . . back to Rafter's restaurant . . . to rehearse the musical he's written with Noel Coward . . . and he was amazed at what's come over the slum he once knew.

"This used to be as dark and dank down here as a tomb," said the tall, gray wit and playwright . . . "but look now!"

And his eye took to the brightly sparkling clean-up street with pet shop signs such as "Fish 'n' Cheeps" and other manifestations of the new mode of living that's come to the Lower East Side.

"I remember" said the bachelor pet of hostesses from Singapore to San Francisco. "When we moved to Philadelphia, which I thought was somewhere away in the Wild West."

"I was nine. I went to sleep on the train. When I woke up in Philadelphia and looked around, I saw the same tenements, the same smells, the same delicatessens. It had all been moved with me."

How did one work with Noel Coward? A good question—since Noel Coward hadn't collaborated before.

A log of their writing would be a travelogue. They first discussed the project in London, and have written at the Hotel de Paris in Monte Carlo; at Coward's chateau in Montreux, Switzerland; on Loel Guinness' yacht, on which there was a piano; on Sam Spiegel's yacht, on which there was Sam, and in Harry's apartment in Paris, in which there was a lot of cables and phone messages from his agent, Irving Lizar.

The Weekend Windup . . .

MGM and 7 Arts say "Night of the Gnu," with Richard Burton and Ava Gardner, will be "the second most publicized movie in history." (They hope it won't also be the second most expensive.) . . . Don Murray will appear in "Traveling Lady" for producers Alan Pakula (who'll wed Murray's ex, Hope Lange) . . . Vaughn Meader, the ace JFK impersonator, comes to the Blue Angel Oct. 15 for a fifth time. . . Stripper Mary Ronney complains she gets Mickey Ronney's Equity mail by mistake. Adding: "I wouldn't mind getting his bills, if I also got his billing."

Jack Lemmon, Edie Adams and Dean Jones of "Under the Yum Yum Tree" all have record albums out—but the producers brought in James Darren to sing the title song. . . Jack Dempsey was at the Priar's to watch movies of his Tummy fights, and Joe E. Lewis said, "Do you think Jack can win them this time?"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Nonce Canon reports he discovered an unusually interesting oyster—inside was a string of pearls.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Sid Allen suspects a certain guy he knows is going to be a failure, if he ever gets a profession.

EARL'S PEARLS: Skinny, bespectacled Woody Allen says at the Blue Angel he lives in a rough neighborhood, so he joined a gym to develop muscles. "But it didn't work out, so now I just give the money to Vic Tanny and he walks me home." That's Earl brother.

Escapee Gets Guilty Verdict

Robbery Partner Gets Perjury Warrant

The third of three men who escaped May 30 from Camp Pontiac, a minimum-security prison in White Lake Township, was found guilty of robbing yesterday and a perjury warrant was issued against one of the other two.

Charles Byas, 22, of Detroit, was convicted by a Circuit Court jury that deliberated 25 minutes before reaching its verdict in the trial before Judge Frederick C. Zieman. Byas will be sentenced Oct. 29.

The perjury warrant was issued against John W. Breathour, 26, of Port Huron, who testified at the trial that Byas did not take part in the robbery of a Waterford man hours after the trio's escape.

Assistant Prosecutor David Breck said Breathour was charged with perjury because he previously had said several times, including once in a sworn statement, that Byas did participate in the crime.

Breathour and Norman Royer, 21, of Avon Township, are currently serving 5- to 15-year prison terms for their part in the robbery. They pleaded guilty Aug. 5.

Royer also testified at Byas' trial, saying Byas did take part in the robbery of William R. Cleveland at his home at 1530 Williams Lake. The three were accused of forcing their way into Williams' home and taking money and his car.

Royer turned himself in to Romeo state police three days after they fled the camp, and Breathour was captured in Port Huron the same day. Byas was seized June 4 by Detroit police who found him hiding in a Detroit home.

30 Days to Better Grades—XVIII

Got to Get Organized? Outline!

By
THE READING LABORATORY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

Let's set the stage for this article. You're home and ready to study. You have a page of main-idea lecture notes from the morning's class. You have textbook open to the chapter that applies to the lecture.

You have a clean notebook and a pencil. You're alert, bright-eyed, bushy-tailed and ready to get started. So what do you do?

You could give it all up as a bad job and watch television, but that would be the coward's way out.

Or you could combine your lecture notes and the textbook chapter into a single, coherent outline. Making outlines is sometimes more work than watching television, but always results in better grades.

In the long run, working from outlines is far less work than any other method of studying. When tests roll around, you need only study your notebook. If there's anything in your outline that doesn't make sense, you can always refer to your text.

But you'll never have to read the whole textbook through. And if you outline what you're supposed to know, you'll be sure of knowing it.

STEP-BY-STEP

Here's a step-by-step procedure for integrating your lecture notes with your textbook:

- Overview the pertinent chapter before the lecture.
- Take lecture notes on main ideas, or on little tidbits that the teacher is particularly fond of. Take notes only on material that is new to the text.
- Reread lecture notes that evening.

• Resurvey text—again just for the main idea.

• Begin a main idea outline that combines the lecture and text notes. Don't be afraid of mixing the two together.

• After starting the outline, begin to "survey and resurvey" the textbook chapter to find the subordinate ideas and consolidate your grasp of the main ideas.

Read the bold print, the maps, the graphs, the first sentence of each paragraph. Then skim through the body of the text, starting the important secondary ideas.

(It's best to make marginal notes; for example, "I" for an important idea, "I" for a very important one, and "I" for absolutely crucial ideas.)

• Incorporate the starred ideas into your outline—put them into their proper places under the main ideas you noted from the lecture and the textbook.

The beauty of this system is that you have to study a chapter only once. Once you've constructed a running outline of the lecture and the textbook, the subject matter is yours.

There'll be no frantic cramming before a test; you'll have to look through only your notebook. The amount of reading time you'll save will be enormous.

Outlining will be a fairly easy job if you follow two simple rules: use key words instead of long, windy sentences; don't try to put every little detail in your outline.

In other words, keep your outlines as short as possible. Don't spend hours rewriting the textbook.

Your outlines should be a memory cue that will help you remember the material. Short, quick, to-the-point outlines are the easiest to make, the easiest to study and the most useful.

(NEXT: The mechanics of fact organization.)

Racial Negotiations Go On but So Do Demonstrations

Negroes and whites held an historic meeting in Birmingham, Ala. yesterday in an effort to solve their racial problems at the conference table, but demonstrations erupted again in South Carolina and Louisiana.

Racial developments elsewhere in the nation: Columbia, S.C. — About 70 young Negroes were arrested on Columbia's main street late yesterday on charges of parading without a permit. It was the first time police had brought such charges against Negro demonstrators and the largest mass arrest made in about two weeks.

Jacksonville, Fla. — About 5,000 persons planned to march through the streets of Jacksonville to the city hall today in a "peaceful" demonstration for better jobs and freedom for Negroes.

Biloxi, Miss. — Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said yesterday "No" business and no individual and personal right will be safe from destruction" if President Kennedy's civil rights program gets through Congress.

Statesville, N.C. — The City Council is scheduled to consider next week a seven-point position from Negro leaders which asks for additional desegregation and job opportunities.

Officers intercepted the march two blocks from the downtown area. They said later violence might have erupted if Negroes had reached the business district, crowded with whites.

At Plaquemine, La., Negro students staged a "freedom song" classroom demonstration at a high school. Officials suspended classes.

School officials said nearly all of the 500 students at Iberville

High were involved in the singing, chanting anti-segregation demonstration in the racially troubled industrial community just south of Baton Rouge.

Police at Orangeburg, S.C., broke up a mass march on the business district and jailed 318 Negro demonstrators.

Television's New 'Crisis': Short on Jobs

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television is suffering an occupation crisis.

The industry is running low on lines of work on which to base series. Extent of the crisis is demonstrated by the new shows this season.

There are series based on a bellhop, The Bill Dana Show; teachers, Mr. Novak, Channing; spies, Espionage; a frontier attorney, Temple Houston; frontier doctor, The Travels of Jaimie McPherson; Marine officers, The Lieutenant; visitor from outer space, My Favorite Martian; circus boss, The Greatest Show on Earth; social worker, East Side, West Side; factory foreman, The Phil Silvers Show.

And that isn't all. "The Fugitive" is a series about a convicted murderer on the lam — he's innocent, of course.

The most bizarre of the new series relies is the homicide detective of "Burke's Law." He is a coolie on a railroad work gang doctor, The Travels of Jaimie McPherson; Marine officers, The Lieutenant; visitor from outer space, My Favorite Martian; circus boss, The Greatest Show on Earth; social worker, East Side, West Side; factory foreman, The Phil Silvers Show.

I have gained possession of an inter-office memo from a major network. It shows what television moguls are doing to combat the crisis:

To: Production Dept.

Subject: Ideas for new series. 1. "Hobo-mong Rides Again." A coolie on a railroad work gang doctor, The Travels of Jaimie McPherson; Marine officers, The Lieutenant; visitor from outer space, My Favorite Martian; circus boss, The Greatest Show on Earth; social worker, East Side, West Side; factory foreman, The Phil Silvers Show.

And that isn't all. "The Fugitive" is a series about a convicted murderer on the lam — he's innocent, of course.

5. "Daddy was a Safecracker." A situation comedy based on the home life of a lovable hood.

6. "I was a Contender in the Peace Corps." Cold war intrigue in Nigeria.

7. "The Ozark Vanderbilts." The hilarious adventures of blue-bloods who settle among the mountain folk.

Such programs would merely be stopgap measures, however. The occupational hazard will increasingly plague television. Creators of series might heed the example of "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet," which has survived a dozen years.

Ozzie doesn't have an occupation.

Held in Husband's Death

Widow Accused of Killing

CHICAGO (UPI) — An attractive young widow was held on a murder charge today in the alleged love triangle slaying of her executive husband.

Mrs. Irwina Weinstein, the petite 38-year-old mother of two children, surrendered voluntarily to police yesterday five days after the charred body of her husband was found in his first-sweep station wagon in a South Side garage dump.

Her husband, Harvey, 31, was an executive for Royal Display, Inc., a firm operated by Mrs. Weinstein's father.

The woman was implicated in the case by a bulky ex-convict, Richard Mattox, 31, who told police he and Mrs. Weinstein had been carrying on a love affair.

ALSO CHARGED
Mattox, who also has been charged with murder, said Mrs. Weinstein asked him to kill her husband so that they could get married. Mattox said he refused, however, and that she found another man — whom he could not identify — to help her do the job.

Mrs. Weinstein refused to speak with reporters after a 30-minute session with the state's attorney but denied through her attorney that she had anything to do with the death of her husband.

Attorney Frank Whalen unsuccessfully sought the widow's release from police custody and she was held in jail.

State's Attorney Daniel P. Ward said Mrs. Weinstein refused to answer his "appropriate questions" about the case. He said no bond would be set for the pretty brunette because "it's a murder case."

Space Officials Back Industry

Deny Work Sloppy on Mercury Flights

HOUSTON (UPI) — Top Federal Space Agency officials defended industry yesterday against a General Accounting Office (GAO) report that contractors were inefficient on the nation's first space effort.

A press conference of a two-day meeting summarizing Project Mercury yesterday turned into a statement and question period between newsmen and four top space figures.

The four were Walter Burke, vice president of McDonnell Aircraft, prime contractor for the Gemini spacecraft; Hugh Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA); Robert Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center; and Dr. Walter Williams, deputy director for mission requirements.

Burke, representing industry, said "I have never known of any evidence of deliberate sloppy workmanship."

He said the fact that parts functioned correctly was testimonial to industry and the space team. "Six men flew (in space capsules) and nobody lost their lives," he noted.

Gilruth said the contractors on Project Mercury were a "highly dedicated group on the government-industry team."

Williams, clarifying a paper he presented to the session concerning industrial testing standards, said the paper was not intended to be "indictory" but only to point out that such testing must be geared to search for the tiniest flaws.

Because testing did not simulate complete flight conditions, Williams said, the possibility that moisture might collect in capsule electrical components was not revealed.

COOPER CAPSULE
Such actually did occur in astronaut Gordon Cooper's "Faith 7" capsule, causing failure of the automatic controls as Cooper readied for reentry.

Williams added that correct functions on Mercury components was "better than 99 per cent."

Burke said discrepancies pointed out in the paper at the conference were caused by regular duties into the Cooper spacecraft.

John D. Hodge, assistant chief for flight control at the Houston center, told the conference deliberate crises were simulated for ground controllers before the Cooper flight.

Christine Goes Into Seclusion

LONDON (UPI) — Call girl Christine Keeler went into seclusion today, shielded for the moment from probing into her lurid double life and from the shouts of angry women who have been pursuing her through the streets.

The good times appeared to be over for the 21-year-old redhead from the country who became the kiss-and-tell star of Britain's sex-and-security scandal.

After months of telling public most of what she knew about the men in her life, she listened white-faced in court this week while details of her other life — a life of sex, ex-convicts, blackmail and beatings — was paraded before the public eye.

Miss Keeler, whose affair with ex-War Minister John Profumo led to his resignation in disgrace, is charged with lying and conspiring to frame a discarded lover, Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon, on charges of beating her.

ADJOURN HEARING
The prosecution presented its case against Miss Keeler at a three-day pretrial hearing this week. The hearing adjourned yesterday until Monday.

Three other persons — Miss Keeler's 23-year-old roommate, Paula Haffilton-Marshall; the 36-year-old housekeeper, Mrs. Olive Brewer; and 38-year-old chauffeur Rodolph (Truelie) Fenton face similar charges.

If convicted, they could be sent to prison for as long as seven years.

They are accused of railroad-gordon into prison — He was released on appeal — by testifying that he beat and kicked Miss Keeler in her apartment last April 17.

'Confession' Written on Blackboard

HONOLULU (UPI) — A deaf-mute and a district court magistrate wrote off a drunk charge and a 30-day jail sentence yesterday with humor on both sides.

On a blackboard, prosecutor Patrick O'Connor wrote the words, "Were you drunk on King Street last night?" The deaf-mute, an elderly man, gave an emphatic shake of his head — no.

Prepared to take that for an innocent plea, O'Connor returned to his seat, but the deaf-mute grabbed the chalk and wrote, "Hotel Street."

"Are you guilty of being drunk on Hotel Street?" O'Connor wrote.

"Yes," nodded the defendant with a wide grin.

"Thirty days," said magistrate Francis DeMello.

Then, with a smile, he suspended sentence.

France Miners Still Protesting

BETHUNE, France (UPI) — A total of 156 coal miners remained for the second day at the bottom of their mine today in a protest against plans to close it sometime this month.

Food, drink and straw for bedding were sent down to the miners, who are at the 500-meter level.

Mine operators contend that the coal has virtually run out. But the miners argue that there still is a supply left.

Vicar Claims Article 'Error'

LONDON (UPI) — The Rev. John Whiteham, Vicar of an Anglican church in South London, said today the appearance of an article praising burglars in his parish magazine was "all a horrible mistake."

The article, included in error by the printers, said burglars "prevent two-dimensional displays of wealth" and are "a necessary and integral part of our society."

"I knew nothing about it until I saw the magazine," Whiteham said. "I don't know who wrote the article or where it came from."

The vicar suffered a broken nose and two black eyes last year when he was beaten up by a youth he caught robbing the poor box in his church.

Next Election to Be Secret

LA PORTE, Ind. (UPI) — The little-tale voting machines of La Porte County will be back on the job in the Nov. 3 elections — with their lips sealed.

The machines were removed from election booths last year when it was discovered they clicked three times for a Democratic vote and six times for a Republican.

The clicks could be heard about 50 feet away from the machines, which have now been "revised" by the manufacturer.

Flint Man Is Charged With Theft in Missouri

GIs Lose Overseas Bonus

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It used to be in the armed services that if you had to take a boat to get to a duty post you were overseas and you got paid accordingly. But not any more.

With a single stroke yesterday, the Defense Department reduced the budget for overseas duty pay from $93 million to $35 million a year by eliminating overseas duty allowances for 375,000 enlisted men.

The move is expected to draw some stiff protests from the troops because it virtually wipes out the new pay increases granted the troops this week.

Another 225,000 troops in Alaska, the Panama Canal Zone and other locations designated by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara will continue to receive the overseas allowances, which range from $8 to $22.50 a month.

More Farmlands Are Nationalized by Cuba Council

HAVANA (UPI) — The Cuban government extended its ownership of farmlands yesterday in a decree designed to "take away the economic and social influence of the rural bourgeoisie."

The decree, issued by Premier Fidel Castro's Council of Ministers, declared that all farms larger than about 165 acres are the property of the state, together with livestock, equipment and buildings.

It also confiscated the bank accounts of the farm owners, to be used to pay off farm owners and settle any outstanding debts on the land.

The document said the action was taken because "Yankee imperialism is stepping up its activity against the nation and the revolution, backed by classes which are enemies of the workers and peasants — principally the rural bourgeoisie."

Europe, Hawaii and most of Japan the withdrawal of overseas allowances will almost completely offset the effect of the pay hikes voted by Congress, effective last Tuesday.

Master sergeants with 20 years service, for example, will get a $25 pay boost, but lose $22.50 in overseas allowance. Many other enlisted men, especially single men and those with less than four years service, will fare no better.

McNamara's action was authorized in the congressional enactment, but its extent and application were determined at the Pentagon.

The Defense Department contended that the across-the-board pay made no allowance for wide differences in living conditions abroad.

In the areas designated by Mc-

Namara, however, married men will receive this allowance in addition to overseas pay.

DOLLAR SAVING NEGLIGIBLE
Because of new benefits voted by Congress, including a $65-a-month bonus for troops under fire in South Viet Nam, the dollar saving in the overseas budget is expected to be negligible.

The department said McNamara's order would have no effect on the allotment payments to families in the United States of servicemen who are overseas.

McNamara decided to allow duty pay in all assignments where the standard duty tour is 30 months or less or movement of family dependents is not authorized. It also was authorized in places offering "difficult living conditions," excessive physical conditions.

Huskies Surprise Victims of Berkley; Waterford Deadlocked

PNH Dumped, 21-13; Skippers in 6-6 Tie

Pontiac Northern's Huskies saw their hopes for the school's first unbeaten football season consumed in the dust at Berkley last night, 21-13.

In the afternoon, Waterford journeyed to Farmington for a 6-6 contest that only proved neither school would contend for Inter-Lakes League title honors this season.

Berkley celebrated homecoming by handing Northern its first loss in four starts with the aid of a first half that would make an opportunist drool.

Two fumbles and a blocked kick turned the Bears from an uninspired foe into a high flying spoiler in front of the large PNH crowd that followed its hopefuls to Berkley.

The Huskies marched 60 yards on the ground to score after receiving the opening kickoff. Don Weyer went over from the three-yard-line; but Dean Souden's kick was wide and it proved a crucial point.

Berkley could not move after the ensuing kickoff, but the Northern safety man fumbled the punt and the home team covered the ball on PNH's 12.

Three plays later fullback Skip Smith ran one yard for the touchdown and Mike Roth converted the first of three extra point boots for the evening.

On the first play of the second quarter, Jim De Florio's jersey was knocked by Berkley's punt Boreland and Jim Leadford carried the ball eight yards to the PNH 12.

Smith again ran for the score, this time going six yards. The winners' lead went to 21-6 and a half minute later following a fumble recovery at the Northern 11.

Rick Krumm, filling in for the regular Berkley quarterback, tossed 20 yards to Boreland for the six-point at 6:20.

Fumbles Help Groves Win Over Thurston

Birmingham Groves capitalized on three Detroit Thurston fumbles for a come-from-behind 27-20 victory in a Northwest Suburban League game at Seaholm last night.

The victory gave Groves a 24th record and first place in the league.

Triggered by Al Dolan's 28-yard kickoff return, Thurston hustled to a 20-7 lead midway in the third quarter. But the Bears struck back with three TDs.

Al Proctor scored the first Groves touchdown on a two-yard dive after the Falcons recovered a fumble on the Thurston 30. Fullback Dave Kaweki made the score 20-14 with a one yard plunge.

Two fourth quarter fumbles killed Thurston's bid. Kaweki scored 27 after a recovery on the 41 and Proctor ran 15 after a fumble recovery on the 33.

Rochester Beats Clock

3 O-A Teams Win

By HERB PETERS

A stunning upset and two close calls with underdogs culminated in the Oakland A Conference last night as three teams remained unbeaten.

Fitzgerald handed fifth-ranked Class B Clawson its first defeat.

Rochester played its own version of "Beat the Clock" at Madison and went to 2-4 in the race with a 7-4 prize winner.

Although both teams battled through four periods of hard-nosed football, the lone touchdown came on the final play of the first half.

Only eight seconds were left when the Falcons lined up at the 13-yard line after a march from their own 45. Quarterback Roger Thompson stepped back quickly and fired a pass in the right flat to Carl Stefanski, who used the time threatening his way to the goal line. Mike Konley placed the extra point.

HOME COMING

The pass ruined Madison's homecoming in more ways than that. After recovering a Rochester fumble on an opening kickoff and moving to the eight, the Eagles were halted on an interception by Al Boughner in the end zone.

Rochester's next two opponents, Fitzgerald and Clawson, put on a free-wheeling show. The Spartans scored on a 33-yard pass from Jim Knack to Tom Doherty in the first time they had possession.

Clawson closed to 7-6 in the first period on a 33-yard run by Brodie Burton, but Fitzgerald made it 14-6 at halftime on Knack's one-yard plunge and the conversions of Glenn Cherub's three conversions.

Randy Chaffin went six yards for Fitzgerald in the third before Clawson whittled the score to 20-13 in the fourth on Burton's 13-yard sprint and his extra point. The Spartans nailed down the lid, however, on an eight-yard scamper by Mickey Smilborck.

Troy trailing without Cousins 14-13, going into the final period and it took a 31-yard gallop by Ken Holder to gain the decision. The Colts started with a 13-0 lead when Dan Armstrong ran 13 yards for one touchdown and plunged a yard for another.

Cousins closed to 13-7 by halftime on a 45-yard pass from Nick Guitler to Mario Contrera.

Thomas Passes for 19-18 Win

Vikings Have 'Score

Walled Lake survived its second score in two weeks to take command of the Inter-Lakes League race last night by nipping a game Southfield eleven, 19-18.

John Thomas needed all his passing wizardry to carry the Vikings past the rallying Blue Jays who trailed 13-0 at halftime. Thomas, the big quarterback for coach Dave Smith, hit 17 of 23 tosses for 218 yards and three touchdowns. His favorite target was Don Robinson who received seven for 86 yards.

Just last week at Berkley,

Thomas couldn't move the team and reserve Rick Trueman had to come in and direct a fourth quarter scoring drive for a 7-0 Viking victory.

The margin of victory came early in the game when Wayne Mervis ran for the point after touchdown following Thomas' 17-yard pass to flankerback Robinson.

That first period score was followed by a 27-yard scoring pass from Thomas to end George Bullock in the second period.

The home team could only amass 25 yards total in the first half, but a 6-yard return by Jim Larsen on the kickoff beginning the final half ignited Southfield.

Larsen ran seven yards into paydirt on a fourth down play shortly afterwards for the Blue Jays' first six points. Jerry Hough took a six-yard pass from Terry Thompson later in the period for another touchdown.

The kick for the extra points failed both times, leaving Southfield down, 13-12.

Walled Lake finally began moving again in the last period. Thomas connected with end Dave Ferguson for a 20-yard six-point play. The Blue Jays roared back, though, as Thompson scooted 25 yards on a fourth down play to make it 19-18 with four minutes left. The tying PAT kick was blocked by the charging Vikings, however.

The winners then marched down to the Southfield 16 but lost the ball on a fumble with 15 seconds remaining; but the home team never got a play underway, the clock running out.

Walled Lake is now 2-0 in the league, 4-0 overall and is ranked among the top ten Class A football teams in the weekly AP poll.

FLINT — Flint Central is the oldest football foe in Pontiac Central's history—and the toughest.

The Indians reaffirmed their domination of the series here last night by handing PCH a 47-0 beating. It was the second worst defeat in Pontiac Central's years of gridiron play.

The victory boosted unbeaten Flint Central into a first place with Bay City Central in the Saginaw Valley Conference. The Wolves played a non-league game at Alpena.

In rolling up its fourth win, the Indians defeated winless PCH for the 10th time in the last 11 years. Flint Central now holds a 10-3-3 advantage in series that dates back to 1918.

In 1924 the Tribe defeated Pontiac 47-0. This is the second widest point spread the Chiefs have ever been defeated by. The greatest margin was 48-0 by Flint Northern's powerful 1950 state champions.

Quarterback Terry Laster had a field day passing against the Chiefs last night.

FOUR 'BOMBS'

He connected on four scoring aeriels.

Flint Central intercepted a PCH pass on the third play of the game and capped its victory.

Laster drove the PCH 49 by passing 10 yards to Mel Summers.

The Indians scored twice in the second quarter on an 18-yard aerial bomb from Laster to Leroy Blasinskie and a 15-yard run by George Hoey to leave the field with a 21-0 halftime bludge.

The 5-8 Laster turned the contest into a rout in the third period by passing 10 yards to Mike Jefferson and 23 to Summers for TDs.

Flint's passing was turned over to Bob Holec in the last quarter and he connected with Blasinskie on a 53-yard scoring play. Ernie Wallace ended the game with a one-yard plunge.

Laster has now thrown 11 TD passes this season. The Indians are averaging close to 43 points a game and have yielded only 18 to the opposition.

So strong was the Flint defense that the Chiefs could not get past the Indians' 41. They reached that point in the third quarter. The only other PCH invasion of Flint territory was in the first quarter when the Chiefs reached the 48.

PCH, suffering its third shutout in four losses, gained only 63 yards with halfback Ken Seay netting 47 in seven carries, including a 22-yard jaunt. The Chiefs completed only one of seven passes for two yards.

In other SVC games, Midland downed Flint Southwestern, 7-6; Flint Northern stopped Arthur Hill, 13-6; and Bay City Handy topped Saginaw, 14-0.

Southern Cal Defeats MSU, 13-10; Titans Fall

Spartans Lose 10-0 Lead in Final Period

Trojans in Big Rally With Bedsole Scoring on Diving Catch

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Stunned by a 30-yard field goal and an 80-yard scoring pass play by halfback Sherman Lewis, Southern California came from behind with a spectacular counter attack of its own for two touchdowns and a 13-10 football victory over Michigan State Friday night.

Sophomore halfback Mike Garrett on the first play of the fourth quarter, ripped through the middle of the Spartan line for 52 yards and within six more minutes, quarterback Pete Beathard connected with a 16-yard touchdown pass in the end zone to lowering end Hal Bedsole.

A crowd of 58,127 in Memorial Coliseum, which had just about given up any hope of a Trojan victory, was electrified by the abrupt turn of events.

Southern Cal, defending national champion, seemed destined to lose its second straight game after the Oklahoma defeat last week.

Garrett's spectacular run on a quick option obviously fired up the Trojans. When Willie Brown returned a punt by the Spartans' soccer-style kicking specialist, Lou Bobich, the Trojans promptly struck again.

Bedsole flipped a short pass to Brown, who raced 51 yards to the MSU 18. Garrett gained two, but the Spartans held.

With fourth down and eight to go, the Spartans put a big rush on Beathard and chased him to ward the sideline. A noted scrum, Beathard finally located his 6-foot-5 receiver in the corner of the end zone and Bedsole made a jumping catch—his first after dropping several previous throws.

Michigan State completely dominated the first half but scored only a field goal from 36 yards by Bobich.

The Trojans never were able to penetrate beyond the Spartans' 43-yard mark and only twice did they cross the midfield.

So Michigan State held a 3-0 lead at the half.

Lewis' sensational 80-yard run on a screen pass from sophomore quarterback Steve Gajda lengthened the margin.

Lewis took the ball on the short flip and never was touched as he raced down the sideline in front of his own bench. Bobich kicked the extra point.

Monroe Too Strong for RO Dondero 11

A pair of touchdowns came by Darrell Myers and Tom Salvo paced Monroe to a 23-13 Border Cities League football win over Royal Oak Dondero last night.

The Trojans held a 10-0 half-time lead.

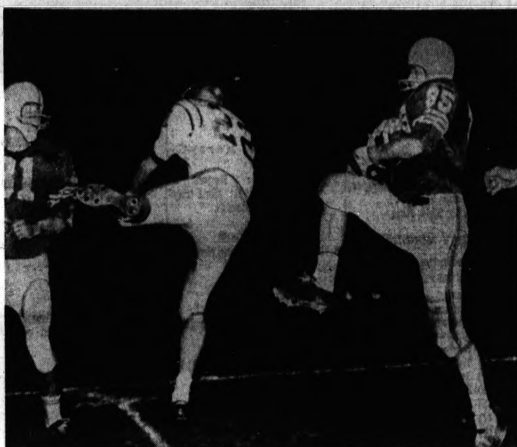

Fred Russ scored on a five-yard burst and Vince Caruso on a four-yarder for the Accors. Jim Jacobson kicked the extra point.

Nearly 400 boys are expected to participate in the Ford Pontiac Fall and Kick Contest sponsored locally by McAllister Ford with the cooperation of the Pontiac Optimist club.

Tom Kennedy, director of the program for the Optimists, announced that closing date for registrations is Friday, October 11th and the final will be held October 15th at Winner Stadium at 6:30 p.m.

Boys 8 to 11 are eligible to compete. Registrations can be made at the Pontiac Boys' Club and the local Ford dealers.

Monday night at McAllister on Oakland Ave., Detroit Lions' punter Yale Lary will be present.

TD PASS — End Dick Johnson (85) gets behind Boston College back John Barrett (22) and takes a touchdown pass from quarterback Tom Zientek to move U. of D. to within one point, 7-6, in their game at Titan Stadium last night.

night. Detroit's Tom Siedlacek (31) is at the left. The Titans gambled for two points when the score was 13-12 and missed and a desperation pass in the final minute resulted in B.C. interception and final TD.

Yanks Not Dead

No Panic—Casey

By CASEY STENGEL
SPECIAL TO THE PONTIAC PRESS

LOS ANGELES—Now don't you Yankee fans go jumping off the George Washington bridge or the Golden Gate bridge or any other bridge because there's a lot of traffic both ways and you're liable to get hit by passing buses and anyway this thing ain't over yet.

But I'd like to be in Mr. Alston's shoes right now. I've been there before, with two games in the bank, and you feel like doing the old soft shoe dance, with pink ribbons and bows on them.

And he's got pitchers like Koufax and Podres and Peralta, with his radar ball which he throws right at your knees and I tell them that's what the man is getting paid to do. And they switch to a right-hander today, Mr. Drysdale. He is a rough son of a gun, who throws from around third base and does not want the batters to get too familiar.

But I'm staying at the same hotel with the Yankees, and they ain't cooped up in their room but are out in the lobby telling everybody, "We'll get going, we'll never lose four straight to this bunch out here." Which is the fighting spirit and they show it, without dragging their heads. But they got to be a little bit worried, deep inside, because they are going to see those pitchers again.

I picked the Dodgers in seven because of their pitching and the way they run with real speed, and Mrs. Stengel was going back to New York with me to see the end, but I called her and told her she better come out today, tomorrow and maybe Monday because she might not get to see another Series game in New York this year.

REMEMBER — However, I got to remind you that the last three teams that win the first two World Series games wind up losing the Series, and I was in all three of them, winning two, and you could look it up.

I lost in 1955, when the Dodgers were still over in Brooklyn, where

I made good money managing three years once and I got paid one year for not managing. The Yankees win the first two, but there was that fellow Podres, who winds up pitching a shutout, and he has not lost the habit.

Brooklyn did it in 1956, they knock out Ford and Larsen, but we win because Mr. Berra, who is out there coaching today, hits two straight homers, and Mr. Skowron, who likes the weather in October, hits a grand slammer off Craig, who is now pitching good ball for my Mets.

Gambles Fail as Boston 11 Wins, 20-12

U. of D. Rollies Twice But Favored Eagles Prevent Upset

Detroit — University of Detroit was a gambling team Friday night but none of the gambles paid off.

The Titans outplayed Boston College most of the way before the Eagles pushed over a touchdown in the final minute to clinch a 20-12 triumph.

Behind, 7-6 midway in the third quarter, the Titans had a half and a half yard on their own 37. They elected to gamble and failed.

The Eagles took over and Don Moran climaxed the short march from the one to give his team a 15-6 lead as the PAT failed.

U. of D. however came back and with No. 2 sophomore quarterback Bill Madaya guiding a 70 yard march, the Titans made 12-12 as Madaya went over from the seven yard line.

Another gamble failed. Detroit tried to make it an 8-point play by running but halfback Bob Burghardt fumbled Madaya's handoff.

Boston College scored in the first quarter on an 80 yard march. With 4th down and 10 on the Titan 14, quarterback Jack Concannon went back to pass and was trapped. He zig-zagged around the backfield and got free to the two yard line for a first down. He then went over to make it 7-0.

Sophomore quarterback Tom Zientek passed to Dick Johnson for a nine yard TD to make it 7-6 as the point was missed. The Titans moved inside the Boston College 20, five times but couldn't score.

An interception and a string of penalties killed two of the chances.

OTHER GAMES — In a game in New Orleans, Miami had to resort to a field goal and a fumble to gain a 10-0 victory over Tulane last night.

The Citadel won 27-22 from George Washington in another game last night.

Bob Gajda of Forest Lake made the cut with a 76-74-150, one stroke better than Franklin's Walter Burkeme who posted 79-73. Scores of 151 or better qualified for the final two rounds.

Pontiac's Gene Bone fired a second round 78 for a 155.

Lions Could Get Shock From 49ers

The Detroit Lions badly need a transfer.

Even the San Francisco 49ers, their Sunday foes who are winless, can point to better statistics than the Lions.

In most statistics the Lions are last among the 14 teams in the National Football League.

They are last in rushing, last in passing, last in completions, passing percentages, in first down, and second to last in points. The cellar spot belongs to the Rams who have scored only 22 points.

Even with such poor offensive statistics, the unhappy fact remains also that the defensive unit has given up more than 27 points in three of the last four games including the final exhibition against the Dallas Cowboys.

It has been 20 years ago, back in 1948 when any team scored more than 24 points against the once-vaunted Lions' defense.

San Francisco, with new head coach Jack Christiansen former Detroit defensive leader makes his debut in the Motor City, the 49ers may be tougher than the Lions figure.

With John Brodie out of action with a fractured wrist, the Oakland quarterback assignment has been awarded to Bob Waters with veteran Lamar McHan, obtained last week from Baltimore, ready to take over the duties.

Mike Plumm, whose status as starting quarterback for the Lions is at stake, will probably get the nod but coach George Allen is expected to get Earl Morrill into last action should Plumm ever appear to perform as poorly as against the Bears last week.

In the rest of the NFL, the Baltimore Colts will try to put a halt to the Chicago Bears' winning ways in the Windy City Sunday. The twice beaten Colts can't afford another loss. It would seriously hurt their chances for the Western Division title.

CLEVELAND GAME — Tonight, in Cleveland, the Browns' powerhouse offense and the Steelers' powerful defense battle for first place in the Eastern Conference.

A crowd of 80,000 is expected for the 7:30 p.m. kickoff. The Browns, paced by Jim Brown's running and Frank Ryan's passing lead the league with 98 points and 1,276 total yards.

Meanwhile, the Steelers have allowed only 34 first downs, 31 points and only 254 yards rushing. In other Sunday games, Dallas is at Philadelphia, Los Angeles at Green Bay, New York at Washington, and St. Louis at Minnesota.

Russia Starts 3rd Sale of Gold

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union drop of one cent in the dollar, needing still more Western price of gold fixed Friday morning, to pay for its huge bill by the London bullion exchange imports, has started a third change, lowering it to $85.97 an ounce, when more gold was sold. When more gold was sold, the dollar fell another 10 cents. The newspaper estimated that transactions during the past 24 hours boosted Soviet gold sales to well over 200 tons with the last of the gold disposed of by the Russians has been absorbed.

House Plans Probe of Sugar Speculation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional investigators want to know if speculators are behind the recent upsurge in raw sugar prices.

Prices for raw sugar have risen from 6.5 cents a pound a month ago to 8.62 cents on Sept. 25 and 8.5 cents on Oct. 2.

Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., chairman of a House subcommittee, said yesterday she planned to hold a hearing later this month. She wants to ask sugar industry representatives to explain the unusual rise in prices.

"We will give the sugar industry's witnesses a full opportunity to explain the reasons as they see them," she said.

SHARP RISE
Her subcommittee already has investigated a sharp rise in retail sugar prices earlier this year when consumer prices rose from about 11 cents a pound in January to nearly 18 cents a pound in early June. Since then, they have dropped to between 12 and 13 cents per pound.

An agriculture Department report in August attributed the spring price boost to excessive speculation in sugar futures, particularly on the part of non-professional speculators.

The Agriculture Department theorized that one reason for the present raw sugar price increase might be the effect of the Russian purchase of $500 million worth of wheat from Canada.

SPURRED ADVANCE
This news spurred the advance in sugar values on the theory that if the grain crop was damaged, the sugar beet also may have suffered, the department said in a statement.

Yet, the department noted in a recent Soviet publication, it was reported that Russia now has greater sugar beet stocks on hand than a year ago.

In the United States, the department said, marketable supplies of sugar this year total about 12,500,000 tons, or about 550,000 tons more than an annual consumption.

Mrs. Sullivan said that in view of the record harvest and large imports "It is hard to understand why prices in the United States should be rising again."

Parade to Mark Fire Prevention

Fire-Fighting Pieces to Pass in Review

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6-12, will be highlighted with an evening parade Thursday in downtown Pontiac.

Some 60 pieces of fire fighting equipment from area departments will pass in review during the hour-long parade that will begin at 7 p.m.

The line of march will start at Pike and proceed north up Michigan and Oakland and end at Clark.

Fire fighters from 17 community departments and five industrial fire units will participate.

UNITS PARTICIPATING
They are Pontiac, Avondale, Brookline, Rochester, Birmingham, Franklin, Troy, Walled Lake, Union Lake, Oxford and the townships of Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Waterford, White Lake, Commerce, Independence and Farmington Hills.

Industrial fire crews will be from GMC Truck & Coach, Pontiac Motors, Fisher Body, Michigan Bell Telephone and Consumers Power Co.

The Sheriff's department will parade its rescue vehicles, including its recently acquired water-land craft, an amphibious "Duck."

PRECISION DRILLS
Precision drills will be performed by the Racine, Lam O' Lakes and Mickey Burns marching units.

Smiley the bear will be featured by the Michigan Conservation Department.

During the week those interested in learning about their fire departments are welcome to tour facilities. An appointment should be arranged in advance.

Five officials said there would be no field day program during the week because there have been in past years.

Survivors include two sons, William H. Russell and Bernard, all of Pontiac; a daughter Mrs. Albert Viney of Pontiac; two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Eckridge of Troy and Mrs. Mary Larson of Midland; and nine grandchildren.

MRS. DUNCAN R. McDONALD
Service for Mrs. Duncan R. (Florence E.) McDonald, 81, of 44 Mark will be at 1 p.m. Monday at the DeWitt C. Davis Funeral Home with burial in the Lakewood Cemetery, Port Huron.

Knickers Are Knocked

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the blue surf of Waikiki Beach in Hawaii can no longer consider it a hardship making them eligible for special pay.

But soldiers who have to mosh through their enlistment in frozen Alaska will still continue to draw hardship pay under new rules announced by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Friday.

Some 375,000 GIs lose their eligibility for special overseas pay under the new order because their living conditions are considered no different than in most of the continental United States.

Another approximately 225,000

enlisted men remain eligible for the extra pay for such hardships as undesirable climate, isolation and lack of normal community facilities.

HOFFA: A U.S. Solicitor General
Archibald Cox says it is "of the utmost importance that the jury tampering trial of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa not be delayed any longer than necessary."

Cox said in a motion filed in the Supreme Court that Hoffa's case "deals with the integrity of the administration of justice."

Hoffa is appealing to the Supreme Court a lower court refusal to dismiss the jury-tampering case which grew out of a trial on labor law charges in Nashville, Tenn.

Cox's motion asked to delay the trial until Hoffa's appeal can be filed and disposed of by the Supreme Court.

Cox said his motion, if granted, could dispose of the issue of Hoffa's appeal by Oct. 21.

Anti-Soviet Propaganda

VIENNA, Austria (UPI) — Austrian Communists have received anti-Soviet propaganda leaflets printed in Peking with the request to pass them on to local addresses in Communist East Germany, informed sources said here today.

The booklets were mailed to Austrian Communists by the "Chinese society for international relations."

Head-On Crash Kills Woman

Two Men Seriously Injured in Collision

A 61-year-old Goodrich woman was killed and her husband and a Royal Oak man severely injured when their cars collided head-on in Brandon Township last night.

Dead is Mrs. Florence M. Rockafello, 61, of 9544 Haged. She died of a fractured skull.

Mrs. Rockafello was a passenger in the car driven by her husband, Milton J., 53.

Rockafello and the driver of the other car, Floyd E. Hathaway, 51, of 806 N. Alameda are in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

A third car was involved in the accident but neither the driver, Rowland Spencer, 39, nor his wife, Grace, 39, and their two children were injured.

Spencer told police he was following the Rockafello car north on Orionville Road when "All of the sudden an oncoming car turned in front of them, and when they bounced apart, I was between them."

'Just Wanted to Scare Him,' Says Boy Who Shot Father

By JOE MULLEN

"I just wanted to scare him away. But he kept coming toward me. Then I shot."

This was the way James W. McConnell, 15, described the Thursday afternoon shooting of his father after he was apprehended yesterday.

Later the youth appeared before Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard who ordered him held at the county juvenile home until Oct. 22 when a hearing on the case is scheduled.

The boy told sheriff's department detectives Raymond Bills and Gerald Gaedi that his father, William McConnell, 37, of 133 Hi-Hill, Orion Township, had come to his room at 3:15 Thursday to discipline him for skipping school and being involved in a car theft.

'KNEW HE WAS ANGRY'

"I knew he was angry and I just wanted him to go away," the boy said.

"When he didn't, I shot. He still kept coming and I jumped over the bed and ran out of the room and out of the house," Wounded in the chest just an

Waterford Set for School Vote

Voter Approval Asked on Operating Levy

Waterford Township voters will cast ballots Monday on a proposed five-year extension of a 10-mill operating levy expiring the end of this year.

The millage proposal represents approximately 20 per cent of the school system's total operating budget.

Based on a school district valuation of about $113 million, the 10 mills would yield $11.3 million in local revenue.

Since the special election proposal seeks merely to continue a levy that taxpayers have been paying, no increase in taxes would result.

VOTERS APPROVAL

Voters approved a six-mill increase in school taxes last June 10 when 25 mills were authorized at the polls for a school building program and another 2.5 mills were allowed for staff salary increases.

The millage renewal election was scheduled this month by the school board for two reasons:

First, board members felt that the new constitution might complicate an election after the first of the year.

And secondly, October is recognized as the best time for such a vote.

Venezuela Is Ripped by Castro Terrorists

CARACAS, Venezuela, (UPI) — Pro-Castro terrorists of the Armed Forces of National Liberation staged a wave of violence in Caracas and several interior cities last night that left at least five dead and 10 wounded today.

Police and military forces made at least 200 arrests. The communist-leaning FALN terrorists, in an apparent effort to challenge the government's massive countrywide display of force in recent days, launched a series of coordinated hit-and-run attacks.

At one stage during the night, army patrol radios picked up an anguished cry of alarm from Pfc. Rafael Angel Castillo, who reported that the patrol truck in which he was riding was being ambushed while stopped in the Lidice area.

Lidice is a low income apartment house development in the western section of the city.

10,000 Citizens May Not Ballot

Voter Ineligibility Hits City Electorate

More than 10,000 of Pontiac's 37,000 registered voters are expected to become ineligible to vote Jan. 1.

Each year about this time, City Clerk Olga Barkeley pulls the voter registration cards of persons who haven't cast a ballot or registered in the last four years.

This year she's cutting that time limit in half. The new state constitution specifies voters may register every two years, instead of four.

That law goes into effect Jan. 1, 5,000 PLUS

"Normally, we find roughly 1,000 expired registration cards," said Mrs. Barkeley. "To date we've gone through about half the city's registered voters and have pulled cards on more than 5,000."

"When we're finished, I expect we'll find more than 10,000 persons who won't be registered under the new law."

Persons who have not registered or voted in the city since Jan. 1, 1962, must renew their registrations by the end of the year.

There are no elections slated in Pontiac between now and Jan. 1 at which persons could automatically renew their status as electors by voting.

It could mean that nearly 25 per cent of Pontiac's current voting force would be ineligible to vote in the special election set for Jan. 22.

In about a month, the clerk will start mailing notices of suspensions of registration and applications to continue registration.

Florida Threatened

MIAMI, Fla. — Death-dealing Hurricane Flora, already responsible for at least 42 deaths, probed the Bahamas with its fringe winds today and took aim on South Florida.

"Florida is under the gun," said weather forecaster Gilbert Clark of the Miami Weather Bureau. The season's sixth tropical storm slowed to a dead walk after hitting the mountain ranges of Eastern Cuba.

"This storm is very hard to pin down," said Gilbert. "It is over land and it could go anywhere."

"It could even veer to the south, but right now it is on a course that will bring it directly south of Florida, and this is bad."

Flora had 125 mile-an-hour winds when it slammed into Cuba yesterday, dealing the big naval base at Guantanamo Bay a glancing blow.

Although slowed somewhat by its bout with the land, the big storm was expected to rebuild over the flat terrain of Central Camaguey Province and the open water.

Winds of hurricane force were reported at Santiago on the south coast and Punta Luceria on the north coast of Cuba and gale force winds extended out into the Bahamas.

South Florida residents were warned to keep in close touch with future hurricane bulletins.

Sixth Burning Throws Saigon in New Turmoil

Immolation Happens 4 Days After Report on Progress in Nation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A young Buddhist monk burned himself to death today in front of hundreds of horrified on-lookers in Saigon's central market, throwing the Vietnamese capital into a new and potentially explosive turmoil.

The suicide, the sixth by Buddhists protesting alleged persecution by the predominantly Roman Catholic government of President Ngo Dinh Diem, came only four days after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara left Saigon with a report for President Kennedy on the progress of the Vietnamese war against Communist guerrillas.

One of Kennedy's aims in dispatching McNamara to South Viet Nam was to determine whether the political-religious crisis had hurt the war effort.

Minutes after the monk's charred and blackened body topped over, troops and police rushed in, tanks and armored cars rolled up and barbed wire barricades were thrown around downtown Saigon.

The monk, in his early 20's, stepped out of a taxicab at the busy central market intersection shortly after noon. He squatted down in the Buddhist lotus position, pulled a can of gasoline from a small rubber bag, poured the contents on his lap and lit a match.

GRIMACED BRIEFLY

He grimaced briefly as the flames engulfed him, but maintained his erect posture as the flames ate through his Buddhist robe, baring his gradually blackening body. The lotus position is a traditional Buddhist sitting position with the legs crossed.

Weather Wonderful for That Color Tour

Wonderful weather for a color tour of autumn or a local football game is scheduled through tomorrow. Sunny skies and warmer temperatures will prevail.

The mercury will dip to a low of 50 tonight, says the weatherman, but climb to a heat-wave high of 78 tomorrow.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. today was 47. By 1 p.m., the area had warmed up to 67.

To Select Auditors' Chairman

By DICK HANSON

The appointment of a chairman of the County Board of Auditors will be the main order of business when county supervisors meet Monday morning in the new courthouse auditorium.

But, before the County Board of Supervisors can make the appointment, they must select the chairman's salary and appoint a new member to the board of auditors.

The vacancy caused by retirement of Robert V. Moore Jan. 1, when all new appointments become effective, must be filled by the supervisors Monday.

County Clerk - Register Daniel T. Murphy is the only announced candidate to succeed Moore as a member. He also is a candidate for chairman of the board of auditors.

Murphy, 40, will vie with Robert E. Lilly, 46-year-old secretary member of the board of auditors for the chairmanship.

While other nominations might be made from the floor to succeed Moore, Murphy is the only one known to have wide support among the supervisors.

MAJORITY VOTE

He will need the majority vote of the 85 supervisors to get on the board, and the majority vote of those present at Monday's meeting to become chairman.

Murphy's supporters want to make him the chief administrator in county government by extending the responsibilities of the chairman of the board of auditors.

He is being pegged for the job because of the administrative ability he has shown in his present elective office, which he has held since the position was created in 1959.

Lilly is banking his chances for the chairmanship on the 14 years experience he has as a member of the board of auditors.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for the chairmanship last year when he was beaten by John Austin, 60.

An unwilling candidate last year, Austin was drafted when Lilly was the sole candidate.

March Envoy to Talk in Paris

Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville arrives here tonight, and Kennedy administration officials expect he will clarify some of the mysteries of de Gaulle's foreign policy. They have a list of questions ready.

Some officials hinted that President Kennedy and his aides also may sound out Couve de Murville on the chances of persuading France to return to the Geneva disarmament conference.

Dozens of foreign ministers come to Washington every autumn from the fall session of the U.N. General Assembly in New York. But Couve de Murville is the only one to come directly from his capital, and he will return to Paris "without even turning his head" toward the United Nations headquarters, as one diplomat put it.

OFEN SNUB

Though a French delegation is attending the U.N. sessions, and France remains a permanent member of the Security Council, President Charles de Gaulle is openly snubbing what he recently called the "so-called United Nations."

Couve de Murville, officials said, informed Washington last August that he would visit here early in October. He has no appointments Sunday but will meet with Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday and Tuesday. He plans to fly back to Paris Wednesday.

Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, the U.S. envoy to Paris, will be sitting in on the conferences. The talks will be informal, without an agenda, and officials said there has been no indication what issues Couve de Murville may bring up.

There is, on the other hand, a sheet prepared at the State Department with a number of questions. Kennedy and Rusk want to know, informants said, what de Gaulle has in mind in his various speeches recently when he touched on international problems.

SEVERAL SPEECHES

De Gaulle has made several speeches recently, and all of them were studied in Washington with great care.

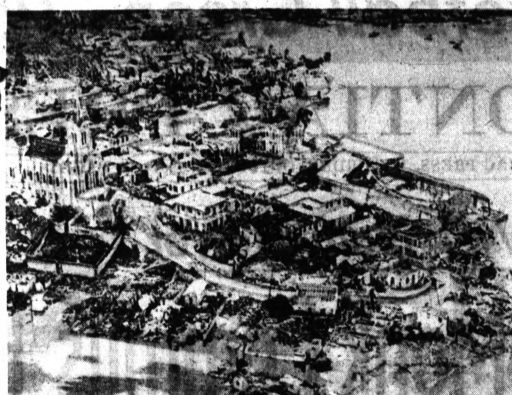

When he talked about France's determination to follow an independent course within the Atlantic alliance, or when he insisted that his country must develop its own nuclear deterrent, his statements were noted here, but no eyebrows were raised. These were restatements of de Gaulle's position, and he is not expected to change them.

But the French leader injected some new points. In Strasbourg, at a meeting of the 18-nation Council of Europe, his representative proposed that when the French nuclear force becomes operational, it be used "by all European nations for the common defense."

OPPOSED TO FORCE

The United States has opposed creation of independent nuclear forces and advocates a multinational NATO nuclear force of super-vessels.

De Gaulle also made some statements during the peak of the Viet Nam crisis that he needed clarification, officials said. He proposed that France and Viet Nam enter into a "cordial cooperation" to assure the Vietnamese of both parts of the divided country may live in "independence, peace and amity" with one another.

U.S. Warns Latins

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has raised a warning flag for any more Latin American military leaders contemplating a grab for power.

It made an example Friday of the Dominican Republic and Honduras, whose governments were toppled in quick succession.

Going further than merely suspending aid and diplomatic relations, the United States ordered withdrawal of the U.S. economic and military aid missions from the two countries—making it that much more difficult for assistance to be resumed.

"We view the recent military coups in the Dominican Republic and Honduras with the utmost gravity," Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in a statement announcing the action.

Earlier in the day, the State Department suspended diplomatic relations and deliveries of military and economic aid to Honduras.

The rapid series of actions came within a day after the Honduran Army overthrew the government of President Ramon Villeda Morales and forced him into exile in Costa Rica.

The Honduras coup came on the heels of a military clique's ousting Juan Bosch from the presidency of the Dominican Republic late last month.

While issuing a plea for the State Legislature to grant him subpoena power to deal with organized crime in Michigan.

He referred to the national crime syndicate termed "Cosa Nostra" by turncoat mobster Joseph Valachi before the U.S. Senate Crime Committee.

Taylor repeated words he uttered on the subject earlier this week as he commented on yesterday's mention of two recent gambling raids in the county by U.S. District Attorney Lawrence Gubow in Detroit.

"There was no evidence that the men arrested in those raids were connected with a national crime syndicate," Taylor said, pointing out that his office co-operated with federal agents in one of the raids.

Taylor's reference was to a 1919 raid in which eight men, including five from Pontiac, were arrested and charged with gambling without a federal gambling stamp in what federal agents described as bookie operations that netted $15 million a year.

Gubow also mentioned a raid last week in Southfield that closed two alleged bookmaking operations.

However, Gubow did not say specifically that organized crime was operating in Oakland County. Taylor pointed out by way of clarification.

Those who were arrested "could be just local independent operators," he said, adding that he and Gubow "were not at odds" on the issue.

Asked whether he believed organized crime was operating in the county, Gubow would say only, "The syndicate does operate in Michigan."

"I don't mean to say there's no crime in the county," Taylor said. "Just that there's no evidence of organized crime."

CRIME ON INCREASE
"Although crime is on the increase, I still think that Oakland County, considering its population, is a fairly crime county."

Taylor earlier this week said he doubted that organized crime operated in the county and was surprised at Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley's statement that it was operating in Michigan cities with 50,000 population or more.

"He never brought up any such information before," Taylor said yesterday.

Troy Boy, 14, Found Dead

Both Brother, Sister Died of Arizona Heat

Searchers found the body of a 14-year-old former Troy boy on a parched, rocky desert mountain in Southern Arizona yesterday after an all-night hunt which first turned up the body of his 13-year-old sister.

The two youngsters, Claire (Butch) Carter Jr., 14, and Starr Lynn, 13, set out in 102-degree heat Thursday on a hike up the 4,500-foot Newman Peak, highest in the Pichacho Peak region, 44 miles north of Tucson.

Final County (Ariz.) Coroner Glen Hatchcock said both apparently died of exposure and exhaustion. The girl's body was found on a slope of the mountain, while the boy's body was discovered 200 yards from his parents' camp.

A step-uncle, Douglas Brainerd, 17, started the hike with the youngsters, but he told Sheriff's Deputies he became separated from the others after they climbed for several hours.

Brainerd said he heard Butch calling and he asked about Starr. Butch, according to Brainerd, said she had fainted farther up the mountain. He sent Butch back to camp and went to search for her.

He found the boy missing when he got back.

The Carter family left Troy Sept. 23 headed for San Diego, Calif. The father was going to look for work. He had arthritis in his foot and found it difficult to work in this climate, friends said.

The Carters have two other children, Connie, 15, and John, 5.

ALARM IN U.S.
The State Department's announcements showed that administrative officials have become alarmed that military leaders, encouraged by the coups in Honduras and the Dominican Republic, might try to take over other Latin American governments.

In his statement Rusk said, "The establishment of and maintenance of representative and constitutional government is an essential element in the Alliance for Progress."

"Stable and effective government is a critical factor in the attainment of social and economic progress."

"Under existing conditions in the Dominican Republic and Honduras there is no opportunity for effective collaboration by the United States under the Alliance for Progress or for normalization of diplomatic relations."

There were approximately 2,200 passengers on the maiden voyage of the supposedly unsinkable liner. The estimated number lost ranges from 1,490 to 1,517.

Cranbrook Is Offering Course in Astronomy

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Junior high school students intrigued by our solar system and the stars beyond it can gain knowledge to support their interest in a new course offered at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

The use of star charts and other instruments which aid astronomers will be emphasized during the seven-session course starting Oct. 17.

Making use of classrooms, planetarium and observatory, the planetarium and observatory, the stars will be held Thursdays from 4:30-5:30 p.m.

In addition, one evening will be scheduled in the observatory for use of the Hubbert six-inch refracting telescope.

Notification of intent to register is expected by the institute, but actual registration can be done at the first session.

A bit of photography is aiding librarians at Baldwin Public Library in Birmingham.

The "camera" called a Regscope — is aimed at the book cards of patrons.

The new system is highly economical to operate, according to Jeanne Lloyd, director.

Patrons are finding that they can check out as many as seven books at a time with the help of the newly-installed machine.

Although used in retail stores for some time, the Regscope is a relative newcomer to library use, Miss Lloyd said.

Resident Set for Nostalgic Dixie Visit

John Meyers, 68, of 50 S. Shirley will make a trip Monday that he has awaited for nearly six years.

He will board a bus at the Waldron Hotel for Detroit Metropolitan Airport Monday afternoon and begin the first leg of a reunion journey to New Orleans, La.

Meyers, owner of the M & W Vending Co., Pontiac, has not been to New Orleans since 1916. He visited there after his discharge from the Marine Corps.

He was 21 years old.

Meyers will spend a week in New Orleans on this trip. Most of the week will be spent at the Sisters' Charity Home there.

VISIT SISTER

He will visit his sister, formerly Alma Meyers and now Sister Albin, 78, whom he has not seen in 47 years. The reunion will climax a six-year wait.

Meyers, who conducts his vending business from his home, suffered a heart attack six years ago and his doctors had ruled out the trip.

"We've written over the years, though," he said, "but she is only allowed one letter a month and sometimes I don't hear from her for awhile."

Sister Albin has been stationed in New Orleans since 1912. Meyers said he saw her in 1916, but hasn't seen her since his stint in World War I.

The 68-year-old Pontiac man said, "I'm the baby of the family. She's 11 years older." He said his family came to the United States from Hamilton, Ont.

Another sister and brother still reside in Canada.

Vietnamese plainclothes police kicked and pummelled three American correspondents to the ground, grabbed a camera and ran off.

John Sharkey of the National Broadcasting Co. and Grant Wolfkill, also of NBC, were attacked as they turned movie cameras on the burning monk. Sharkey was bleeding from head lacerations.

David Halberstam of the New York Times went to Sharkey's aid and Wolfkill's assistance, and he was beaten also. The newsmen did not fight back but tried to protect their equipment.

Wolfkill lost his camera but Sharkey's was not confiscated. The police stopped the newsmen from driving off in a taxicab. They made their way to a nearby hotel and called a hospital.

TOOK POSITIONS

Fire engines, squads of riot police and troops in battle gear took up positions in the middle of the intersection.

A low moan rose from a crowd that quickly gathered after the monk stepped out of a cab and lit the match.

A child cried in her mother's arms. A woman laughed hysterically.

GOP Front Runner Product of the Times?

Seldom has the political scene offered a greater paradox than that portrayed by Sen. BARRY GOLDWATER.

With the presidential nominating conventions but nine months away, the Arizona man would seem to have the GOP nomination well within his grasp. Today an independent survey gives him 500 of 655 votes needed for party nomination, with prospect of considerably more.

But ironically, Goldwater has yet to indicate his acceptance of the role of GOP standard bearer. The ground swell of popular support from the ranks of both young and old that has lifted him high above all other potential nominees originated as a spontaneous and unmaneuvered political phenomenon.

We grant that proper timing is an essential bit of strategy in announcing pursuit of political office, and that the Senator may well believe that the time is not yet ripe for such announcement.

But there has been a stronger reason back of his reluctance to cast his hat into the ring.

It stems from GOLDWATER's devotion to the cause of Conservatism that, though a minor Congressional force, he has ably championed on Capitol Hill.

Feeling confident of re-election to the Senate and thus in position to continue espousal of conservative doctrine, he has understandably hesitated to risk stalling his Congressional voice by vacating his Senate seat for what but a short time ago would have been deemed a futile bid for the White House.

But significant shifts have cast a shadow over JFK's once-conceded re-election. The unforeseen enthusiasm for GOLDWATER among all segments of the electorate, the certain defeat of Southern Democrats as result of Federal involvement in the race issue and the inept performance of the 88th, Democratic, Congress have importantly changed the complexion of the Presidential campaign now shaping up.

Another independent survey, assessing the likely swing of electoral votes in various states, reports that Goldwater could give President Kennedy a breathlessly close contest "in the present climate of opinion," with the outcome hinging on how Texas will go.

The pallor that once symbolized Republican Presidential prospects has given way to a glow of returning hope—hope embodied in BARRY GOLDWATER and the fateful decision he soon must make.

Riots Not Sanctioned in 'Demonstrations'

Historians may stigmatize 1963 as the "Year of the Demonstrations." There have been all varieties of the phenomena, including the old reliable one aimed at disrupting a Congressional hearing.

Peaceful assembly to press for redress of real or imagined grievances is an assured American right of citizenship. But it is obvious that peaceful assembly, by definition, does not include riot.

Evidently not so clear to some demonstrators is that it also does not include any other interference with the orderly processes of democracy, or with the functioning of the economic system which flourishes under democracy.

It is worse still when those who commit this serious error about "police persecution" almost automatically when their interference with orderly life is curbed.

The automatic about of "persecution" has an empty sound when uttered in such circumstances. It amounts to contending that one should be left alone to disrupt democracy and that anyone who is interrupted is by that fact the victim of "undemocratic" force.

Those who so glibly make the complaint damage no cause but their own. When the police become a total and automatic enemy, the rule of law is not respected. For the police are among the necessary guarantors of the orderliness so essential to the democratic way.

Grid Contest Down to 387

Lions 5 to 1 Favorite
Over Frisco's 49ers

The gridiron wheel of fortune took another spin last evening and left 387 Press Football Contestants happy, 185 crestfallen, as Boston College defeated U. of D. 34-12. Likewise steeped in gloom are the 7 who predicted a tie.

So now we get to tomorrow's 48ers vs. Lions game. For this setto, 316 were moved to keep the home fires burning and stuck with Detroit—while 66 followed the advice of Horace Greeley and went West—to San Francisco. Five are neutral and don't care what happens—so long as neither team wins!

This game should really tighten things up, as those still in the running move within reach of the winning award of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond. Tuesday's issue will bring a further progress report.

Any Real Value in Valachi Show?

By J. W. DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Now that the Senate spectacular starring Joseph Valachi is in intermission, it might be a good time to consider whether it's worth all the hullabaloo.

The only legitimate purpose of a congressional investigation is to help establish whether Congress ought to pass new laws. Congress' real job, of course, is passing laws.

On the surface, it would appear extremely doubtful that a gangster, dope peddler and convicted murderer could be of much help to Congress in the performance of its duty. Who could believe such a character in the first place?

And, Washington being a suspicious town, these other questions arise:

How is it that the Senate cannot get around to voting on tax cuts, civil rights legislation and appropriations, yet has time for this show?

Could it be that the senatorial investigators are primarily interested in a golden opportunity to parade in print and on television? There is no question about the show being a hit. It's a smashover on television.

It may be recalled, incidentally, that both Kennedy and his brother, then senator now President, were rackets players along with McClellan in their climbs to fame.

Atty. Gen. Kennedy testified early in the Valachi hearings. He said he'd like a new law granting the Justice Department more authority to use wiretap evidence against gangsters.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODY ISHMAEL

The Elm could not be saved and had to be cut down. But on one branch was an oriole's nest, with eggs in it. Palmer Starnes, professional arborist, believes all of God's creations should be protected and cared for, even the least of them.

He carefully cut the branch from the tree and tied it to the iron railing of a high porch near by. Then he coaxed the oriole back to her nest, where she completed her task of raising her young.

Palmer Starnes says, "We are working with God's things and are constantly serving His wonders. A person could not be a good scientist, conservationist or forester without a well-grounded faith in God." His deep faith and love of nature was instilled by his father who was a devout lay worker in the Broad Street Presbyterian Church in Columbus, Ohio, as well as an ardent naturalist.

Mr. Starnes believes that through the power of faith we all have an obligation "to leave this world a little better off than it was when we arrived."

Days of All Faiths:

The Rosary—an Aid to Prayer

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER
Oct. 7 is Our Lady's Rosary, a day of devotion originally associated with the naval battle of Lepanto in 1571, in which the Christians defeated the infidel Turks. The victory seemed to be the direct result of the rosary prayers that many people in Rome had been saying.

In its simple sense a rosary is a string of beads, divided into fifteen sections, called decades. As he touches each bead, the user of the rosary says a "Hail Mary," which is a paraphrase of the greeting the Archangel Gabriel gave to Mary when he announced to her that she was to be the mother of Jesus.

At the end of each decade the Lord's Prayer and the Gloria are said. (The Gloria is the ritual sentence "Gloria be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost, as it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.")

But the larger meaning of the word rosary is the devotion itself in which the beads are used as an aid in counting. During the saying of each decade a meditation is made on one of the fifteen principle mysteries in the life of either Jesus or His mother.

THE FIFTEEN MYSTERIES
These mysteries are divided into three sections, headed—joyful, sorrowful, and glorious, respectively.

Under joyful are:
The Annunciation: This is the scene in which Gabriel brings Mary the news of her selection to be the mother of the Savior. St. Luke 1:26-38.

The Visitation: Mary's visit to her kinswoman, Elizabeth, mother of John the Baptist. St. Luke 1:39-56.

The Nativity: The birth of Jesus at Bethlehem.

The Presentation: The appearance of Mary and Joseph at the Temple, for Mary's purification and the offering of the Child to God. St. Luke 2:22-39.

The Finding in the Temple: The discovery of the boy Jesus talking with the learned scholars after the parents had lost Him for three days. St. Luke 1:41-49.

The sorrowful mysteries are:
The Agony in the Garden: Jesus' lonely prayer at Gethsemane. When He asked that if possible He might be spared the Cross. St. Matthew 26:36-39.

The Crowning with Thorns: xxii:28.

The Carrying of the Cross to Calvary.

The glorious mysteries are:
The Resurrection.
The Ascension: Acts 1:9.
The Descent of the Holy Ghost: Acts 1:4.

The Assumption of Mary.
The Coronation of Mary as Queen of Heaven.

Ordinarily the user of the rosary contemplates one set of mysteries (five decades) in one day, thus taking three days to complete the whole devotion.

AN ANCIENT DEVOTIONAL AID
Literally, the word rosary meant just what it sounds like: a string of roses. As a name for this string of beads, it was introduced in the thirteenth century by Thomas of Cantimpre, who called it "Mary's Rose garden."

For centuries there was a strong tradition that the rosary as an aid to prayer was introduced by St. Dominic in the thirteenth century after the Blessed Virgin had shown it to him in a vision.

Voice of the People:

'Will No Longer Hesitate to Uphold Dog Ordinance'

I read the letter about the ordinance on barking dogs. For sure, it's the truth in my neighborhood, too. How people put up with a dog yelping all day and most of the night is beyond me. But I've decided there's no reason for us to ignore this law-breaking situation when people have been told. Why should we be tolerant just to keep these ignorant owners from being angry?

From now on I'm enforcing this law and I hope it will eliminate this nuisance.

Discussion Continues on Racial Issue

To "Housewife" who says discontented Negroes should go back to Africa, there are whites living in Africa, too. Most immigration from social pressures are by white people. Negroes don't run!

Your forefathers ambushed, stole and brutalized Africans from their country. They forced the Negroes entry here.

Regarding crime, in my Northern home town, where ours was the only Negro family for years, there was rape, prostitution, adultery, suicide, murder, embezzlement, stealing and every sort of sin. Though innocent fellow citizens were often victimized, we found some white the lowest, most sneaky hypocrites imaginable.

Has Difficulty Driving Through Pontiac

Cheers for the "urban renewal project"—but have you tried to drive in Pontiac lately? Aside from the extra time and gasoline it takes to get anywhere downtown, it is rough on the nerves.

While heading north on Saginaw Street, I was routed to Oakland Avenue where I dodged trucks and bulldozers on a single lane. I was pursued by a screaming fire engine and there was no place to go but up.

Welcome Mat Jerked From Tito

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Tito of Yugoslavia, coming to see President Kennedy on Oct. 17, is getting a bigger advance unwelcome than any official visit in Washington's memory.

Says Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., in his letter to his constituents:

"Tito, in the best traditions of gangsterism, has in recent years attempted to purchase a cloak of respectability with the power and wealth he captured in years of blood-letting, gutter fighting and Communist cautions."

As the mayor hopped out at the field, he looked about nervously and said:

"I hope my wife's here. She's got the key to the city."

She wasn't, and Stoller had to send a car racing into town to bring her— and the key—back in time for the governor's arrival.

During debate on the President's tax cut bill, Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee pointed out that the present interest on the U.S. public debt is $10 billion per year. To illustrate the buying power of this amount, he told this story:

"A man gave his wife a million dollars with instructions to spend $1,000 a day. She took the money and spent $1,000 a day. In three years she was back for more. This time he gave her a billion dollars and she didn't come back for 3,000 years. Think what would have happened if he gave her $10 billion."

Pres. Rep. Joe Pool D-Tex., was asked by a page in the House cloakroom if he wanted a low-calorie cola.

MAKE OVER FASHIONS

Unveiled for Fall, Winter

PAT SADLER

OLEG CASSINI

For that fall and winter social event which requires that you look your most elegant, top fashion designers have created an abundant variety of styles from which to choose.

The floor length sheath has come into its own this season in a number of styles and fabrics. For those who prefer the short dance dress, a large number of elegant gowns are also available and still very much in fashion.

The Countess Alexander has a special way with evening clothes, and this is one of the more romantic of the evening costume looks. In the 1963 tradition, the dress is long and narrow, the coat is long and covering.

Here the luxury of white

rink coat sleeves makes this a really grand evening affair. The romantic rose-pink and silver brocade is of silk, metallized yarn and nylon.

DANCE DRESS

From the fall of 1963 collection of Pat Sadler for Highlight comes a short dance dress of beige silk satin combined with a sparkle-covered elongated bodice.

The skirt is moderately full for easy movement.

Oleg Cassini creates a black and yellow evening dress full of fascinating detail. The skirt is cut with the new low flare — a brilliant yellow diagonal twill of "Antron" nylon and silk.

The overhouse has another surprise in the bead-edged fringe on the sleeves and at the hips. The whole effect is a glittering combination of ripple and glitter, with a tiny train on the stiffened skirt.

Typical of Marc Bohan's evening designs for Dior is this long bias sheath that flares, with little beaded bolero. The dress is garnet satin of "Orlon" acrylic and silk, the bolero garnet beads on net.

Necklines at Dior, when not plunging deep, rise high and are often pinned with a big brooch. The little bolero such as this, richly beaded, is new and important in Paris. It is used to give elegance to the evening sheath.

Matte-finish crepe of Celanese acetate, rayon and nylon fashions this one of the most sensational shapes of the season.

Bold, black and beguiling this figure defining sheath is as sassily chic as it's daintily décolleté.

With very V'd neckline and a general air of savoir-faire, this black magic gown features a bowed waist and white button trim.

Newlyweds Given Blessing by Pope

Some 400 guests attended a Nuptial High Mass offered by Rev. Daniel A. Britz for Eileen Mary Scott and William James Flynn today in St. Michael Church. A Papal blessing was extended to the couple.

White peau de sole appliqued with beaded Alencon lace, for the daughter of the Daniel M. Scotts of East Rutgers Avenue, swept into a chapel train. Her bouffant tiered veil was French illusion.

A gold-throated white orchid centered her cascade bouquet of Fuji chrysanthemums and Pittosporum.

MAID OF HONOR

Ann Capogna, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Sam Mandalari, Rochester; Mrs. Howard Jarvis; Oxford and Mary Degg, wore turquoise peau de tulle sheaths with overskirts.

They carried chrysanthemums in fall shades with Pittosporum. Yellow Mary Jo roses accented the honor maid's bouquet. Carol Ann Scott attended her aunt as flower girl.

The bridegroom, son of the Richard P. Flyms of Fenton, had Paul Hogan of Flint for best man. Harry Neminski and Joseph Gosling, also of Flint ushered with John Groll of Fenton.

The wedding breakfast was served at Ted's Restaurant, with the evening reception in the CAI Building. The couple will tour northern Michigan and will make their home in Fenton.

Barbara Wright Speaks Vows

Barbara Ann Wright was wearing white silk bombazine as she became Mrs. James Lawrence Schimp today in St. Michael Church, with Rev. James Hayes officiating.

Chantilly lace fashioned her basque bodice and bordered a draped silk overskirt which ended in a cathedral train. She donned a French illusion veil and held a missal topped with white orchids, Stephanotis and Pittosporum.

Parents of the couple are the Diamond Wrights of Lowell Street and the Earl Schimp of Petrolia Street. Mrs. Lawrence Pfeiffer, honor matron, and bridesmaids Mrs. Wendell White and Patricia Wright attended their sister along with Carol Johnson.

They wore emerald green taffeta faille and carried fall pompons and natural wheat, pompons and natural wheat. Pfeiffer's crescent bouquet.

John Schimp was best man for his brother, Gerald Peterson, Lake Erie, Thomas Wright and Lawrence Pfeiffer ushered.

After a reception in the Knights of Columbus club rooms, the couple left for Miami, visiting the Smoky Mountains en route. They will reside on Baybrook Drive.

Obligation Not True This Case

By EMILY POST INSTITUTE

Q: A little over a year ago I was bridesmaid for a close friend and with the maid of honor and the other bridesmaids, gave a bridal shower for her. She is now expecting a baby and I would like to know if we are expected to give a stork shower for her.

I have been told that it is customary for those who were in the bridal party to give a stork shower for the first baby. I have never heard of this and would like to know if it is true.

Frankly, I cannot afford to go through this expense again.

A: I have never heard of this either, and there is definitely no obligation of etiquette for those who were in the bridal party to give a stork shower for the mother-to-be.

Q: When setting the table for dinner at which salad will be served on a separate plate but along with the meat course, is it necessary to include a salad fork at each place, or may the dinner fork also be used for the salad?

A: Correctly, a salad fork should be included but as most people use the dinner fork to eat both the meat and salad, the extra salad fork is not necessary.

Q: My boy friend will be leaving in three weeks to fulfill his two years of military training. We do not plan to be married until he is discharged.

We would like, however, to announce our engagement before he leaves. Would it be proper to do so at this time or is it too far in advance of the wedding to announce our engagement?

A: While there is no rule against your announcing your engagement now if you wish, it would be unusual so far in advance of the wedding. It would be better to wait for at most a year before announcing it.

Anne Saunders Weds

The Robert Armstrong Kirkpatrick (Anne Casteel Saunders) left for Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands after a champagne luncheon and reception today in Pine Lake Country Club.

Parents of the couple, wed

before Rev. John Albrecht in Christ Church Cranbrook, are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Saunders, Bloomfield Hills, and the Charles Kirkpatrick of Hinsdale, Ill.

Cascading phaenopsis orchids and a veil of French illusion complemented the bride's gown of candlelight peau de soie, styled with chapel train.

Mrs. Saunders Black, Birmingham, and Mrs. Robert H. Nelson, Des Plaines, Ill., attended their sister as honor matron and bridesmaid along with Mrs. Howard C. Esal of Madison, Wis. and Jean Butler of Lake Angelus and Chicago.

They wore moss green silk-lined net with velvet bodices and held gold Fuji chrysanthemums with bronze accents in the honor attendant's bouquet.

Elizabeth Jane Black was flower girl.

Howard C. Esal was best man for his brother-in-law. Ushers were Robert H. Nelson, Edward A. Klemm of Boston, Carl H. Doerge Jr., Shaker Heights, Ohio, Eugene M. Kay Jr. of Cincinnati and Karl C. Duchek, North Plainfield, N. J.

The bride was graduated from University of Michigan. Her husband is an alumnus of Yale University and the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business. They will make their home in Chicago.

MRS. ROBERT A. KIRKPATRICK

House Plans Probe of Sugar Speculation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional investigators want to know if speculators are behind the recent upsurge in raw sugar prices.

Prices for raw sugar have risen from 4.5 cents a pound a month ago to 5.62 cents on Sept. 25 and 5.8 cents on Oct. 2.

Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., chairman of a House Commerce subcommittee, said yesterday she planned to hold a hearing later this month. She wants to ask sugar industry representatives to explain the unusual rise in prices.

"We will give the sugar industry's witnesses a full opportunity to explain the reasons as they see them," she said.

SHARP RISE

Her subcommittee already has investigated a sharp rise in retail sugar prices earlier this year when consumer prices rose from about 11 cents a pound in January to nearly 18 cents a pound in early June. Since then, they have dropped to between 12 and 13 cents per pound.

An Agriculture Department report in August attributed the spring price rise to excessive speculation in sugar futures, particularly on the part of non-professional speculators.

The Agriculture Department theorized that one reason for the present raw sugar price increase might be the effect of the Russian purchase of $500 million worth of wheat from Canada.

SPURRED ADVANCE

"This news spurred the advance in sugar values on the theory that if the grain crop was damaged, the sugar beet crop also may have suffered," the department said in a statement.

Yet, the department noted in a recent Soviet publication, it was reported that Russia now has greater sugar beet stocks on hand than a year ago.

In the United States, the department said, marketable supplies of sugar this year total about 10,500,000 tons which is about 500,000 tons more than annual consumption.

Mrs. Sullivan said that in view of the record harvest and large imports "it is hard to understand why prices in the United States should be rising again."

Some 375,000 GI's lose their eligibility for special overseas pay under the new order because their living conditions are considered no different than in most of the continental United States.

Another approximately 225,000 enlisted men remain eligible for the extra pay for such hardships as undesirable climate, isolation and lack of normal community facilities.

HOFFA: U.S. Solicitor General Archibald Cox says it is "of the utmost importance" that the jury tampering trial of Teamsters' Union President James R. Hoffa not be delayed any longer than necessary.

Cox said in a motion filed in the Supreme Court that Hoffa's case "deals with the integrity of the administration of justice."

Hoffa is appealing to the Supreme Court a lower court refusal to dismiss his jury-tampering case which grew out of a trial on labor law charges in Nashville, Tenn.

Cox's motion asked to delay the trial until Hoffa's appeal can be filed and disposed of by the Supreme Court.

Cox said his motion, if granted, could dispose of the issue of Hoffa's appeal by Oct. 21.

Crash Kills Woman

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the blue surf of Waikiki Beach in Hawaii can no longer consider it a hardship making them eligible for special pay.

But soldiers who have to mosh through their enlistment in frozen Alaska will still continue to draw hardship pay under new rules announced by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Friday.

Some 375,000 GI's lose their eligibility for special overseas pay under the new order because their living conditions are considered no different than in most of the continental United States.

Another approximately 225,000 enlisted men remain eligible for the extra pay for such hardships as undesirable climate, isolation and lack of normal community facilities.

HOFFA: U.S. Solicitor General Archibald Cox says it is "of the utmost importance" that the jury tampering trial of Teamsters' Union President James R. Hoffa not be delayed any longer than necessary.

Cox said in a motion filed in the Supreme Court that Hoffa's case "deals with the integrity of the administration of justice."

Hoffa is appealing to the Supreme Court a lower court refusal to dismiss his jury-tampering case which grew out of a trial on labor law charges in Nashville, Tenn.

Cox's motion asked to delay the trial until Hoffa's appeal can be filed and disposed of by the Supreme Court.

Cox said his motion, if granted, could dispose of the issue of Hoffa's appeal by Oct. 21.

Anti-Soviet Propaganda

VIENNA, Austria (UPI) — Austrian Communists have received anti-Soviet propaganda leaflets printed in Peking with the request to pass them on to at least one address in Communist East Germany, informed sources said here today.

The booklets were mailed to Communist Party branches in the "Chinese society for international relations."
