It's a Girl for Lynda and LBJ's Delighted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A squalling, ruddy girl with black hair was born at 12:03 a.m. today to Lynda Bird Robb, touching off a round of free cigars handed out by beaming grandfather and father.

LYNDA BIRD

The grandfather, President Lyndon B. Johnson, announced the birth to newsmen at suburban Bethesda Naval Medical Center.

The father, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, was in his sin-roofed office of the 1st Marine Division's supply section in Vietnam.

Robb's first reaction? "It's a tradition here," he said. "Outstanding is the word we use."

'VERY HAPPY'

"Very happy" were the words Johnson used to describe the family. The 24-year-old mother "Seems to be quite normal and relaxed about it all," he said.

The little girl, who weighed 7 pounds, 8 ounces and measured 20 inches long, wasn't named. Asked what names were under consideration, Robb replied, "I'll have to let Lynda answer that one, since she's had custody for the last nine months."

The new baby was "healthy and vociferous," the President said.

Lynda entered the hospital at 8:20 last night, about two hours after labor started. She spent just 15 minutes in the delivery room.

Lynda had a regional block anesthetic and was conscious throughout.

The whole family went to see Lynda and the baby after the birth and the President laughingly told reporters, "We would still be there talking to her except that the doctor thought they ought to go through some procedures."

'Laotian Regime Told U.S. Plans Viet Bomb Halt'

VIETIANE, Laos (UPI) — The United States has informed the Laotian government it intends to halt its bombing of North Vietnam but that no date has been fixed, Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma said today.

Souvanna told UPI in an interview he was informed of the U.S. plans Tuesday by U.S. Ambassador William H. Sullivan.

★ ★ ★

The prince said Sullivan told him American planes would stop bombing North Vietnam but that no date for the halt has yet been agreed upon with the North Vietnamese.

(Diplomatic sources in European capitals have described the Washington-Hanoi talks as in a delicate stage with the United States apparently demanding proof of Hanoi's willingness to de-escalate the war before there is any bombing pause.)

LAOS MISSIONS?

Souvanna did not say whether such a bombing halt would also affect U.S. air missions over Laos. The United States flies both bombing and "armed reconnaissance" flights over Laos but admits only to the reconnaissance flights.

★ ★ ★

The premier said a small number of the estimated 40,000 North Vietnamese troops in Laos have been reported by military intelligence sources to have crossed the border back into North Vietnam.

He said if the Communists open another offensive next spring with the aim of gaining control of more territory in Laos the government would not hesitate to ask for military assistance from the powers which signed the 1962 Geneva agreement.

Souvanna did not elaborate on what kind of assistance would be asked.

★ ★ ★

The agreement, which supposedly established Laos as neutral territory, includes the United States among its signers.

Souvanna said activity by both the North Vietnamese and Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas has tapered off during the past two months.

Nixon, Wallace Say Pentagon Needs Overhaul

From Our News Wires

Defense policy is back in the forefront of the presidential campaign, with Richard M. Nixon and George Wallace agreeing the Pentagon needs an overhaul.

In a nationwide radio address, Nixon said yesterday the Democratic administrations since 1960 have led the country into a "gravely serious security gap" that could bring a "survival gap" in several years if not fixed.

Nixon said the U.S advantage over Russia in land-based intercontinental missiles has slipped from a 50 per cent edge to a "marginal" lead; the Soviets now lead in bomber strength, and the policies created by former Defense U.S. lead in nuclear submarines has been cut 20 per cent.

Wallace said "computerized defense" policies created by former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara are failing to provide "an adequate and effective defense of this nation."

HUMPHREY ON VIETNAM

Hubert H. Humphrey meanwhile told a group of ministers in Los Angeles that if peace has not come by Inauguration Day Jan. 20, one of his first moves as president "would be to meet with leaders of South Vietnam to work out a program for reduction of American forces and a de-Americanization of the war."

Nixon stumped Pennsylvania yesterday. Wallace prepared his defense policy address for his first New York City rally, but discarded it for his customary law-and-order speech when disorders broke out in a crowd of 15,000 at Madison Square Garden.

President Johnson announced he will make his first televised speech on Humphrey's behalf the Sunday evening before the election.

Cavanagh Absent, Romney Cancels Talks on Stadium

LANSING (AP) — In a tersely phrased letter, Gov. George Romney has told Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit that there was "no point to a meeting" on a new sports stadium unless both men attended the session.

Romney said he canceled a meeting on the proposed stadium yesterday because Cavanagh had said he could not be there personally but would send a representative.

★ ★ ★

"There is no point to a meeting unless you and I can both be present," the governor wrote Cavanagh.

"It was my inability to be there, not my unwillingness," Cavanagh explained to newsmen. He expressed willingness to meet with Romney when a new session could be arranged.

U.S. Marks Time to Change Clock

By The Associated Press

Most Americans will be getting an extra hour of sleep Saturday night as they turn their clocks back 60 minutes for the annual switch from Daylight Saving Time to Standard Time.

Exceptions are citizens living in states that decided they'd rather fight the Uniform Time Act of 1966 than switch to daylight saving every April.

★ ★ ★

The time act required all states — except those that exempted themselves — to go on daylight time from 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in April to 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October. Congress was trying to clear up confusion surrounding semiannual time changes

A survey by The Associated Press indicated today, however, that as of the end of the first full year of operation, the law hasn't changed the situation much.

CONFUSION IN MICHIGAN

Michigan and South Dakota, for example, exempted themselves from the law. But backers of daylight time circulated petitions demanding a referendum on the issue and kept the exemption from taking effect. The question will be on the ballot in both states Nov. 5.

Most of Indiana has been following Eastern Standard Time the year-round, but some areas in the northwest and southwest have been on either Central Standard or Central Daylight Time.

Similar situations exist in North Dakota and Kansas.

UAW Pact Pays a Dividend at GM

DETROIT (UPI) — A cost-of-living adjustment, affecting more than 450,000 General Motors Corp. hourly-rate employes goes into effect Monday, a spokesman for the auto maker said today.

The workers will receive an eight-cent-per-hour raise for the second year under the terms of the 1967 contract between GM and the United Auto Workers union.

★ ★ ★

The pay hike was determined from the rise in the Consumer Price Index published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, GM said.

For eligible salaried employes, the quarterly cost-of-living will be increased $40 — from $25 to $65 — effective No. 1.

Super High School Ruling in 3 Weeks

By DICK ROBINSON

A decision on where to put Pontiac's super high school—either at Pontiac State Hospital or adjacent to the downtown area — is expected to be made in three weeks.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer told more than 100 residents at the board of education meeting last night that the board "plans to take official action to designate the site on or before Nov. 18."

★ ★ ★

The board is waiting for a final report on construction costs and time on both sites from urban planner David Lewis of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Lewis' written report is expected to be ready in one week and is scheduled to be presented to an open meeting of Pontiac Area Planning Council, which requested a complete report, on Nov. 14.

STUDIES BEING MADE

Whitmer said after the meeting that time and cost studies on the school construction are being prepared by the super high school's architect, O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, Inc., of Birmingham, and Pontiac Public Works Director Joseph Neipling.

Most opinions so far point toward the favorability of the hospital site, including support from the community as indicated last night.

★ ★ ★

Of approximately 20 residents who spoke, most favored the hospital site and a few said the center city site around Orchard Lake Avenue and Bagley should be considered.

In an emotion-packed, standing-room-only-crowd hearing, applause rang out on five occasions after these remarks from the audience:

- "How do you (the board and school administration) expect to pass future millage elections if you change the site?"

★ ★ ★

- "I voted for the high school at the hospital location and I don't want my vote taken away. I don't want my children going into another area. I'm not in favor of going the other way."
- "If you use the center site with federal funds, you have to give the federal government $1.60 to get $1 back. Build this school with local money and use vacant land."
- "Only if the hospital site fails should another location be considered."
- "I expected construction to be under way by now. We want to start this building now."

STUDY STIRS CONTROVERSY

Controversy over the site arose when Lewis presented an oral site study report which indicated that the center site would do the most to benefit the city.

Forty-one was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. today. The mercury climbed to 41 by 2 p.m.

15 Companies, 8 Execs Indicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal grand jury today indicted 15 companies and eight of their executives on criminal charges stemming from an alleged international conspiracy involving quinine and related drugs.

The Justice Department announced the indictment, returned by a grand jury in U. S. District Court in New York.

Named were 12 foreign companies and three U. S. manufacturers. The American firms are Rexall Drug and Chemical Co., Meade, Johnson and Co., and R. W. Greeff and Co., of New York City.

The companies are accused of three violations of the Sherman Antitrust Act involving restraint of trade and monopolization violation of the Wilson Tariff Act, and conspiracy to defraud the government in the purchase of quinine from federal stockpiles.

Six Dutch firms and three West German were among the foreign companies indicted.

Mere Maids to Aid Sealab?

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Officers of the Navy's Sealab 3 think they have the answer to one of the great problems facing men who will spend long weeks at great depths under the sea.

The problem: boredom when they're not working.

The answer: female aquanauts.

The intriguing situation arose at a news conference yesterday as officials disclosed technical problems have delayed lowering of the 57-foot-long Habitat until mid-November or later.

12-DAY STAY SET

Five teams of eight or nine men are scheduled to spend 12 days each in the cylindrical sea hut at a depth of 600 feet near San Clemente Island off the southern California coast.

On their return to the surface they will have to spend six days in decompression chambers, getting rid of atmospheric gases forced into their tissues by pressures 19 times that at the surface.

★ ★ ★

During that period one of their big problems will be boredom, as it will be for future undersea workers in mining and drilling operations.

Capt. Grady H. Lowe, commander of the Naval Undersea Warfare Center at nearby Pasadena, suggested that the best solution would be female as well as male aquanauts.

NO PLANS FOR WOMEN

Capt. George F. Bond, medical officer for Sealab 3 and its forerunners, said the Navy has no plans to use women in any deep-diving occupation, "but I see no reason why they could not do the work."

"I think this may come very soon," he said, "as coeducational academic institutions go more and more into oceanography."

★ ★ ★

Former astronaut Scott Carpenter, a Navy commander who, spent a record 30 days in Sealab 2 at a depth of 205 feet off La Jolla, Calif., in 1965, disagreed with Bond's observation that female aquanauts probably are not needed "at this time."

"That," said Carpenter, "depends entirely on your viewpoint."

Fighter-Bombers Blast North Viet Supply Lines

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers took advantage of improved weather to deal North Vietnam's supply lines some of the heaviest blows given them in several weeks, military spokesmen reported today.

U.S. pilots logged 122 missions between the demilitarized zone and the 19th parallel yesterday.

"The weather was good enough to do visual daylight bombing," a U.S. spokesman said.

The improved weather, with scattered clouds at 3,000 feet, continued today as U.S. jets kept up their attacks on North Vietnamese trucks, boats, storage areas, highways and bridges. Reports on today's strikes will not be announced until tomorrow.

'SUPPLIES HIT HARD'

The U.S. Command headquarters said in yesterday's raids "the enemy's supply system was hit hard as the pilots bombed fuel stores, warehouses and bunker complexes."

The Air Force, Navy and Marine bombers also struck at trucks and boats ferrying arms and ammunition toward South Vietnam.

* * *

Pilots reported smashing at least 39 boats and trucks and four bridges, and touching off numerous secondary explosions and fires, indicating hits on fuel and ammunition stores.

In one of the most spectacular raids, Navy A7 Corsair bombers from the carrier America dropped 500-pound bombs on three gasoline storage tanks 15 miles south of Vinh, and huge fireballs rose into the air.

GASOLINE DESTROYED

The pilots said at least 10,000 gallons of gasoline were destroyed.

More such raids on the North are planned for tomorrow.

In the air war over South Vietnam, more than 70 of America's huge B52 bombers made heavy attacks on Communist positions ranging from the Mekong Delta to the northern coastal lowlands.

In 12 missions, the eight-jet Stratofortresses dropped 2,100 tons of bombs on troop concentrations, storage facilities and bunkers. Two of the strikes were within 28 miles of Saigon, along jungle attack routes north-northeast of the capital.

LEAVING CZECHOSLOVAKIA — Polish military units are shown crossing the border into Poland from Czechoslovakia yesterday after occupying the latter country with other Warsaw Pact countries.

E. Germany Trying Invasion Protesters

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany has launched a series of secret trials of dissenters who objected to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in which East German forces took part, authoritative sources reported today.

The sources said that Horst Bonnet, stage director at the East Berlin Comic Opera, had been sentenced to 2½ years in prison for distributing leaflets protesting the invasion.

* * *

They said additional trials might involve 20 or more persons, among them the 16-year-old and 19-year-old sons of scientist Robert Havemann. The father lost his membership in the Communist party and his post at East Berlin's Humboldt Universiay in 1964 for his independent views on how socialism should develop.

Sources in the Czechoslovak Embassy in East Berlin say the Aug. 21 Warsaw Pact blitz on Prague produces a wave of sympathy and other demonstrations of support by individual East Germans for the cause of liberalism in Czechoslovakia.

East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht was in the forefront of those demanding that the liberalization drive in Czechoslovakia be halted. He feared it would spread to the East German people.

Ulbricht declared that a cultural liberalization such as occurred in Czechoslovakia would not be tolerated in East Germany.

Soviets Narrow N-Missile Gap

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford acknowledged today the Soviet Union has narrowed the nuclear missile gap but claimed "We have today a substantial military superiority over the Soviet Union."

Clifford read to a news conference previously secret figures showing the Soviet Union now has 900 intercontinental ballistic missiles. This is 154 fewer than the U.S. arsenal and a Russian increase of 180 since a year ago.

* * *

Clifford said the Soviets have 75 to 80 submarine-launched nuclear missiles compared with 656 U.S. Polaris submarine missiles.

But Clifford contended the real test of nuclear power lies in the number of nuclear weapons that can be delivered on target.

Clifford also disclosed he has ordered the Navy to develop a new quieter nuclear submarine.

Teacher Back From Japan Atomic Forum

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Floyd W. Bunt, head of the science department at Cranbrook School, has returned from Japan where he addressed the Japan Atomic Industrial Forum, and discussed peaceful uses of atomic energy with Japanese scientists.

Bunt, a Cranbrook faculty member for 24 years, spent five weeks in Japan and the Far East on grants from Cranbrook and the Fund for Peaceful Atomic Development.

* * *

Included in his itinerary were Taipei, Manila, Hong Kong, Macao, Cambodia, Thailand and Singapore.

Bunt is known for his diverse interests, including the invention of improved automobile systems and experimental engineering work for several automobile companies.

While in Japan, Bunt interviewed several Japanese educators who have studied in the U.S. on Fund for Peaceful Atomic Development grants. Cranbrook and Bunt have hosted several of these groups.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A picture shooting session will be held Monday at 8 p.m., at the Cranbrook Hall of Science, by the Bloomfield Hills Camera Club.

Kim Chi Ba of the House of Kim will model for the photographers.

An exhibit of 50 national prize-winning prints by Scholastic Magazine will be featured, as well as a photographic slide competition for members.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A. Keith Dressell, 712 E. Valley Chase, has been promoted to vice president of First of Michigan Corp., Detroit.

Formerly assistant vice president, Dressell joined the firm in 1964.

* * *

John R. Taylor, 220 N. Glengarry, was appointed as an assistant vice president of the firm.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The American Arbitration Association was to hold a hearing today in Detroit regarding a grievance made by the Bloomfield Hills Education Association against the Bloomfield Hills School Board concerning an agreement made between the two in September, 1967.

The BHEA will not begin negotiations with the school board at the hearing as previously reported.

Meeting of 'Big Brothers': Honors, Awards, Elections

Several Pontiac area men were honored for serving as Big Brothers for more than five years at the annual Big Brothers of Oakland County meeting and election last night.

Bernard Salvatore, assistant advertising director for The Pontiac Press, received an award for the contributions made to Big Brothers by himself and The Press. The Press recently printed a picture page on Big Brothers and had it reprinted for national distribution by the group.

* * *

Keynote speaker Hubert G. Locke, director of Religious Affairs, Wayne State University, told some 90 listeners at the Belanger House, Royal Oak, that people must face up to the problem of law and order.

He insisted that people must open their minds and help fight the problem by participating in community activities and civic organizations such as Big Brothers.

The crime rate was higher in 1926 and during the depression than it is today, he added.

ELECT OFFICERS

Officers elected include James Cummins of 4252 Derry, Bloomfield Township, president; James Willoughby of 1641 Graefield, Birmingham, vice president; Edward Hoot of Royal Oak, treasurer; and Mrs. Virginia Loveland of 7165 Henry, West Bloomfield Township, secretary.

* * *

New board members are William M. Brown of 7090 Commerce, West Bloomfield Township; Mrs. Betty Turpin of 108 Franklin Blvd.; and Ossie Tower of 26330 Normandy, Franklin; and Mrs. Loveland.

* * *

Men receiving plaques were Jake Edwards of 51 Oneida, Willie McCray of 282 Elm, Henry Wallace of 401 Thors and Larry Robinson of 393 W. South Blvd., all of Pontiac. Others were Duane Hamilton of 2633 Elsinore, and Stephen Ryeson of 4095 Elizabeth Lake, both of Waterford Township; and Howard VanCamp of 3414 Gregory, Orion Township.

* * *

Plaque recipients from Bloomfield Township included John Anderson of 801 W. Long Lake and John Bosley of 1350 Forest Lane, Bruce Moore of 235 Helen, Rochester; Edward Underwood of 1717 W. Auburn, Avon Township; and Willoughby were also named.

Negro Economic Potential Cited

Pontiac's Negro community has the potential of establishing a strong base for economic growth and profit-making contributions to Negro areas as well as the city at large, an Oakland University professor of economics last night told Negroes attending a black unity meeting.

Dr. Karl Gregory, who is assistant to the chancellor on urban affairs at OU, said it is apparent that the Negro community is formulating a base for unity and cooperative action.

* * *

More than 60 Negroes in professional, business and educational fields, as well as young adults representing youthful Negro organizations attended the meeting sponsored by the Rema Club. The club, founded in 1947, is composed of about 30 of the city's leading Negro business and professional men.

Charles M. Tucker Jr., Rema president, said he was very enthused about the results of the meeting. He said Pontiac's Negro community, long considered dormant, is beginning to take a leading role in planning progress for the city.

PRESIDES OVER MEETING

Tucker, elected Rema president this summer, presided over the club's first meeting since then. Other officers are: Dr. William E. Hill, vice president; Billy E. Roach, secretary - treasurer; and Trustees Rev. Amos Johnson, Dr. Robert Turpin, Booker Yancy, Charlie J. Harrison Jr. and Henry McShan.

Tucker announced a $500 donation from Rema Club to the Pontiac Black Cultural Center at East Wilson and Sanford, a store-front-type classroom mainly funded by Oakland University. Richard Northcross, president of the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth, accepted the check for Albert Munson II, the cultural center director.

Other speakers were William Hawkins, Pontiac coordinator of the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority, and Joseph Durant, Pontiac businessman.

Disputes Vexing State's Schools

By The Associated Press

A number of Michigan schools faced continued troubles today in disputes with pupils and employes.

The Clio School District ordered classes canceled for its 5,000 pupils again today as a strike by school bus drivers moved into its third day.

* * *

The drivers yesterday rejected a condition set by the school board that they return to work before negotiations could resume on a contract.

Clio teachers have refused to cross picket lines set up by the drivers.

STRIKE NEAR MOUNT CLEMENS

A strike by most of the teachers in the Chippewa Valley School District near Mount Clemens continued in a dispute over proposals to insert a "grandfather" clause in their contract, exempting a reported seven teachers from the union shop provisions.

In Detroit, six Negro students, members of the militant Black Council Organization, were suspended yesterday from Mackenzie High School. School officials said the youths were suspended until Monday at the earliest, or until officials talked with parents of the youths.

* * *

The six were suspended as a result of an assembly held last Monday at which Negro militant students spoke and called some teachers "racist pigs." Several hundred students later demonstrated outside the building and roamed the halls.

Meanwhile, the Grosse Pointe Education Association and the Grosse Pointe Board of Education reached agreement yesterday on a new contract. Teachers are expected to vote on the proposed pact next week. The teachers had been working without a contract.

Ruling on School in 3 Weeks

Residents, including those last night, said they were led to believe that when they approved the $19-million school in a bond referendum in March that it would be built on the hospital grounds.

* * *

The board of education had passed a resolution in February which stated that the board "intends to locate the school on a site on the state hospital grounds unless subsequent events or new information derived from further studies makes this unfeasible or impossible."

A prime speaker in favor of the center site was James Dyer, a Negro leader who is a delegate to the PAPC.

QUERY ON PLANNING

"Why wasn't the Finance Study Council (who proposed the hospital site in the referendum) concerned with comprehensive planning?" he asked.

His remark came after Trustee Mrs. Lucille Marshall explained that the PAPC, which was conceived by the school board to coordinate city and school planning, took it upon themselves to recommend a study by Lewis to the school board.

Trustees agreed to the study to see if the hospital site was the best location.

"The whole basis here is a racist society," a Negro teacher said as a resounding of "no's" echoed through the primarily white audience. "You shouldn't feel obligated to a mistake. People are more concerned with putting the school in the black community."

CENTRAL SITE FEELING

A white resident who said he voted for the high school said he felt it should be considered that the center city site would benefit the city as a whole.

* * *

Francis Webster, chairman of the Finance Study Council, suggested to the board that Lewis present his final study to the public at a meeting Nov. 4. The board said they would see if this was possible.

* * *

Whitmer explained the state hospital land could be sold to the school district early in 1969. Department of Mental Health officials are willing to recommend it to the State Legislature, who would have to take action.

A statement from the school board said "one of its most significant decisions in years will be made solely by the board of education.

* * *

"The board has already invested more than two years of study and deliberation on the 'best' way to expand senior high school facilities.

"The board believes that the overriding consideration must be the present and future welfare of public education in the school district. It is necessary to build a new high school as soon as possible."

At Meadow Brook Theatre

Politics Pulls 'The Apple Cart'

By DON BRAUNAGEL

With politics so prominent, Meadow Brook Theatre's third-season opener, G. B. Shaw's political comedy "The Apple Cart," is timely.

But, like most election campaigns, the play is too long, wordy and often dull, yet sometimes thought-provoking and frequently funny.

* * *

"The Apple Cart" pokes fun at politics and men of power, particularly the British government, with its combination democracy and monarchy.

The play is about a conflict between a British king and the elected ministers, who intend to reduce his remaining power to nothing. He thwarts them by threatening to abdicate and use his popular appeal to become prime minister himself. Thus the believers in the supreme power of the people ironically lose to a monarchist because of that power.

TOPICAL POINT

But—and this is Shaw's main point—it doesn't really matter who wins because the country is actually run by a supercorporation, Breakages Ltd. The name indicates the firm's technique: Make sure everything needs frequent repair, then get the job of fixing it.

This company controls most of the ministers, directly or indirectly, and suppresses inventions that might cut into its profits. But the people are happy, since there is full employment and high wages, so the king and cabinet are really battling over a facade of power.

* * *

All this provides plenty of targets for Shaw's barbs ("No king is as powerful as a trade union official"; "Elected ministers give the English people the sensation of self-government") but there are too many targets to be effective, especially when a segment is introduced about America planning to rejoin the British Empire, seemingly inserted only to allow a few jabs at Americans.

Shaw wrote "The Apple Cart" in 1930 but projected it into the future to indicate timelessness, and director Richard Curnock has updated it more with such touches as automatic doors and a princess in mod dress.

BRIGHT NEW TALENT

The cast, mostly new to Meadow Brook, had no weak spots but three bright ones, all newcomers. Douglas Seale was relaxed and enjoyable as the wily king, Virginia North was delightful as the irreverent frolicsome postmistress general and Joseph Shaw was properly mercurial as the prime minister.

In the play, which will continue through Nov. 24, the king says politics is for those who are "fanciers of public speaking and party intrigue." The same is true of "The Apple Cart."

Skijack Suspect's Kin Is in Seclusion

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The wife and children of Alben Truitt, grandson of the late Vice President Alben Barkley, have gone into seclusion in this island city where federal authorities say Truitt chartered an airplane that was seized and flown to Cuba.

Allison Truitt and her three children reportedly fled yesterday from tents they had occupied in a campground-trailer park complex for nearly a month.

Wallace Fans Drown Out Foes in NY

NEW YORK (AP)—George C. Wallace, protected by the heaviest police detail assigned any candidate this year, received thunderous cheers in Madison Square Garden from supporters who drowned out the boos of hecklers in a tumultuous rally Thursday night.

Unbothered by the dissidents inside, and apparently unaware of several thousand demonstrators outside, the third-party presidential candidate, appearing with his running mate, Curtis E. LeMay, listened with obvious relish to waves of cheers from a less than capacity crowd.

* * *

The evening was easily the emotional high point thus far in the Wallace campaign, and the crowd was one of the most responsive Wallace has attracted.

Whisked into the arena through a side entrance under a heavy police guard, Wallace did not see the scuffles between pickets and police outside.

POLICE PELTED

At one point, mobs pushed through barricades and pelted police with eggs, tomatoes, rocks and bottles. Police said 25 persons were arrested inside and outside the Garden and charged on various disorderly conduct counts. One policeman and four other persons were treated for minor injuries.

* * *

Several groups of hecklers in the arena, surrounded by helmeted police who shielded them from the Wallace supporters, chanted anti-Wallace slogans.

* * *

The former Alabama governor said "Don't worry about them. I can drown them out." And he and his vocal audience did.

The heckling began even before Wallace and LeMay arrived, and squads of police several times waded into various sections of the grandstand to toss out troublemakers and break up fist fights.

CROWD ESTIMATE

The Secret Service, according to a Wallace aide, estimated the crowd at 14,000. The Garden holds 20,000. About 2,500 seats were roped off and unoccupied for security reasons.

When Wallace stepped to the stage, balloons cascaded from the ceiling and the crowd cheered for 15 minutes before allowing him to speak.

* * *

Wallace accepted the applause with snappy salutes while the band alternated with choruses of "Dixie" and "Yankee Doodle." Perhaps the most enthusiastic applause followed Wallace's promise to "make the streets of New York and other cities safe again."

Wallace said that if elected he would give his moral support to the police and tell them, "You enforce the law and make it safe on the streets and your president will stand with you."

SLAMS NIXON

He assailed both his presidential rivals and criticized Republican Richard M. Nixon for refusing to debate on national television. When he arrived in New York, Wallace said he would withdraw completely as a participant in a presidential debate, leaving the field to Nixon and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Supervisor Lee Valentine Points Out Proposed City Boundaries

Residents Told Cityhood Vote for Oxford Virtually Inevitable

OXFORD — The process may be unfair, but it is the law. These were the plain facts provided last night at a hearing on the proposal to incorporate this village and parts of the surrounding township.

An election comes next for some 3,400 residents living in both the village and the some four square miles of township land involved in the cityhood proceedings. The date probably will be set Nov. 12.

* * *

Philip O. Mastin Jr., chairman of the County Board of Supervisors Boundaries Committee, told some 150 people gathered at Oxford High School last night that there is no way now except perhaps with court action, to stop an election being held.

He said his committee would recommend a date for the election at its meeting Nov. 8 and that the County Board of Supervisors would probably act on that recommendation Nov. 12.

Should the vote be favorable, a charter commission elected at that time would have two years in which to prepare a charter. That, too, would have to be voted on by the people.

* * *

"The procedure is controlled by statute," he told people who objected that cityhood is even being considered. The only possible way to stop it, he said, would be to take court action.

To Mrs. Lila McKiver, 14 Cross Timber, Oxford Township, Mastin said that if it could be proven that discrimination was used on the letters sent out (asking for incorporation petition signatures), then maybe the election could be stopped.

* * *

Most of the people present — the crowd was about evenly divided between township and village residents with a few from that part of the township outside the area considered for incorporation — were seemingly opposed to cityhood.

'This Is Not A Power Grab. We Need The Tax Base'
---Village Manager Robert Smalley

CROWD ORDERLY

It was an orderly crowd — applauding only over statements to the effect that its an "unfair" process that determines cityhood. There were objections because only a simple majority vote is needed to start the cityhood process.

* * *

The questions were primarily money questions. Taxes. Sewers. Roads. Drainage. Street lighting.

Village Manager Robert Smalley said that the 2,400 present residents of the village would probably get some tax relief should incorporation take place and a wider tax base be established for the city — "for three or four years."

Present township residents would get "a summer tax."

Village residents now pay 16 mills plus their township, schools and county taxes.

'SEWERS NOT AFFECTED'

Sewers would not be affected, Smalley said, by incorporation.

"It's going to hurt us," said Township Supervisor Lee Valentine. "We'll lose about $10,000 a year in local taxes, some state sales and income tax rebates."

* * *

"It's not going to ruin us. We'll just have to tighten our belts and wait for progress to catch up to us," he said.

Valentine pointed out that the township has grown by about 1,400 residents since 1960 while the village has grown by 150 in that time.

'PREFER COUNTRY'

"We're building at the rate of about 50 homes a year in the township," he said. "It seems to me that people prefer to live in the country."

Smalley pointed out that as a city, Oxford would have a greater municipal identity with increased borrowing powers, its own assessor, and one voting place for all elections.

* * *

By widening the city limits, he said, more people of higher quality would be available to run for governmental office.

"If incorporation wasn't really needed, we wouldn't ask for it. This is not a power grab. We need the tax base. We need to maintain and do better than we have."

ASKS ABOUT PARK, OFFICES

Harold Campbell, 44 Park, a member of the audience, asked about use of the township park which lies outside the area to be incorporated, about the township offices and the library which are within present Oxford village limits.

"Disposal is based on agreement forced by statute," said Robert Allen, county corporation counsel.

* * *

It developed that the city would by law take over the cemeteries within its boundaries, that the township could probably still use its offices, and that an agreement on the library and the park could probably insure their use by everyone.

* * *

The park is financed by a special three-fourths mill levy and the library by a special one mill levy, spread over the whole area.

Avon Twp. Firm Sale Finalized

AVON TOWNSHIP — The June sale of National Twist Drill and Tool Co., 6841 N. Rochester, to Lear Siegler Inc. has been finalized, according to John G. Brooks, chairman of the board and president.

The transaction, involving Lear Siegler Inc. common and preferred shares with a market value in excess of $30-million, has received the approval of regulartory agencies.

* * *

The companies' boards of directors approved the acquisition in June, and National Twist shareholders voted their approval Oct. 9. No shareholder approval from the purchasing company was needed, Brooks said.

National Twist will operate under its present management as a subsidiary of Lear Siegler and will be part of the company's power equipment group, manufacturing rotary metal cutting tools for automotive, aerospace and other industrial markets.

* * *

The Avon Township company had sales of more than $40-million in 1967, it was announced.

Oxford Twp. Boy, 8, Saves Child in Pool

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Fast work by an 8-year-old boy saved a 3-year-old youngster from drowning in a back-yard swimming pool late Wednesday afternoon.

Gary Edwards of 1369 Cardigan is credited with the heroics.

* * *

The rescued boy was identified by Oakland County sheriff's deputies as Allen Jackson of 8810 Cardigan.

Gary was playing in his back yard with some friends when he heard what sounded like a small boy crying next door, his mother, Mrs. James Edwards, reported.

She said her son went through an opening in the fence surrounding the yard and saw the small boy holding on to a box in the pool.

A friend held his feet while Gary reached in and pulled the crying Allen out of the pool.

Sheriff's deputies said the owner of the swimming pool, Wolfgang Linder of 1351 Cardigan, said that apparently some older youths had pulled the gate open and thrown some lawn furniture into his pool. He said Allen may have wandered through the open gate.

Allen is susceptible to pneumonia and was taken to the hospital for an examination, sheriff's deputies said. He was unhurt.

* * *

The incident occurred around 5 p.m., Deputies said.

Candidates to Speak Monday in Rochester

ROCHESTER — The League of Women Voters will host a candidates' meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the senior high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Donald Hildum, moderator, will allow candidates Donald E. Bishop, Ronald S. Knowles, Thomas G. Plunkett, Louis W. Berklich, Fred D. Houghten, Robert P. Allen and Robert L. Shipper five minutes each before questions are allowed from the floor.

Bottle Pickups Discarded

Less Profit, but More Litter

By JEAN SAILE

Time was when a young man could launch his first million dollars by collecting returnable beer bottles from the roadside.

Towing a little red wagon, he could pick up enough two-cent discards, redeemable at the corner store, to make him financially independent — as far as movie, candy bar and ice cream money went.

* * *

And it went quite far in those days. And it also served to keep the roads neat.

Then — along came progress. Beverage manufacturers began experimenting with canned and nonreturnable bottles.

PROFIT SHARING

The would-be neighborhood tycoons had to find another source of income — mainly so they'd be able to pay the taxes necessary when they grow up, which include hiring somebody else to clean up the nonreturnable bottles and cans from the roadside.

It costs the County Road Commission $100 a day for truck and crew to do the job that enterprising small fry used to do for private profit.

* * *

That's when the commission has the truck and the crew to spare — and anybody who drives Oakland County roads knows that truck and crew would be better utilized elsewhere.

The problem of trash disposal from along the roads has prompted the commission to engage in the land-fill — dump to most of us — business, and that's not garbage either.

COSTLY JUNK

The State Highway Department estimates it spends $2,000 a day picking up litter — much of it the nonreturnable bottles and cans.

The State Conservation Department is engaged in a program to clean up streams. There are areas where there are more bottles and cans afloat than fish.

* * *

Proposed legislation to limit the use of the nonreturnable bottles never got off the ground.

Neither have the bottles.

EVERYTHING CHANGES

Neither have many young entrepreneurs.

And come to think of it, the little red wagon is disappearing, too.

Chicken Dinner Sunday

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Thomas Chapter OES will serve a chicken dinner from 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday at the Oakwood OES Hall, 5855 Oakwood. The public is invited.

Wixom, S. Lyon Plans Recertified

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has recertified the workable programs for Community improvement for the cities of Wixom and South Lyon.

Federal recertification means that the cities are eligible for several types of federal aid.

* * *

Communities draft workable programs when they undertake federal - funded urban renewal. Annual recertifications of the improvement plans are necessary to continue to receive federal aid.

Federal loans and grants may be made to finance an urban renewal project, such as Wixom has applied for; low-rent public housing as well as FHA mortgage insurance to aid in private redevelopment projects.

GOP in White Lake, Commerce Sets Rally

Congressman Jack McDonald of the 19th District and State Reps. Clifford H. Smart and Loren D. Anderson will be the featured guests tomorrow at a rally sponsored by the Republican clubs in White Lake and Commerce Township.

The 3 to 5 p.m. program at Clifford H. Smart Junior High School is open to the public. The school is located on Commerce Road just west of Union Lake Road.

Dublin School PTA to Present a Program on 'Helping Hand'

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The Dublin School PTA will present a program devoted entirely to the "Helping Hand" project Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Dublin School gym.

Mrs. Carmen Ginter, former president of the Walled Lake PTA Council will be the guest speaker. She will explain what the project is and why it is needed in the Dublin area.

* * *

Many schools in the Walled Lake system have already started Helping Hand programs. Both the Walled Lake PTA Council and the Dublin PTA support this project.

Parents living in the Dublin School area who are interested in volunteering or finding out more information about the program are asked to attend the meeting.

PROTECTION FOR CHILDREN

Helping Hand is a project which involves all interested members of the community who live along a route where children walk to school, live near a school or near a school-bus stop and want to aid and protect the children of the area.

Baby sitters will be available at the school to look after children during the PTA meeting.

Economics Favors Apartments

Single-Family Home May Be Doomed

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor-Suburban

News Analysis

The days of the single-family homestead with bits of neatly cropped greenery may be numbered. Apartments may one day take over the landscape and for several good reasons—most of them economic.

Not everyone is happy about the prospects of unanimous multiple dwelling, and lately dissenters to the trend have been inclined to say so.

* * *

Until they're ready to make the switch themselves, single-family dwellers have never been too friendly with apartment and town house-type projects. Generally, the home owner has wanted to make double darn sure the apartments were appropriately screened from the "better" life.

Most of the fight so far has been to keep apartments in the proper neighborhood. This was the main motive. The home owner didn't want to have to look at the apartments, put up with the added traffic, noise and the pressure on schools. Otherwise, in the home owner's view, apartments were all right in their place.

MORE SPECIFIC

The objections currently — noted in Avon and West Bloomfield townships—have grown more specific. Apartment living, of course, has made tremendous strides in recent years.

* * *

The "planned community" with swimming pools, golf courses, recreation halls, etc., has accelerated the popularity of apartments. Both the number of projects and their size have drastically increased.

* * *

A while back 50 or 60 units might have constituted a medium-sized apartment project. Such developments today are planned for 800-1,200 units. This is frightening for the private home owner.

This too much of a good thing occurs primarily due to economics. Land is growing scarce and consequently more expensive.

ANOTHER PHENOMENA

While this is an obvious cost factor for the would-be land developer, it occurs while still another phenomena is happening, namely, utility growth. Sewers and water systems are coming to Oakland County. These cost money, much money. Even money is more expensive.

Hence, the builder has to buy expensive land and install equally expensive utilities, and naturally, he has to extract a profit from this procedure. Thus, the builder looks for the highest and best use of the land.

It is obvious that an apartment project that puts 10 people on an acre, provides for a greater dollar return than a single family home. Further, there is a huge demand for living space and apartments are renting as fast as they are built.

The home owner understands the economics, but he values his greenery, shouting "enough is enough." He pleads with township and other local government officials to stick to master plans, which hopefully include some sort of balance between single family and multiple-type dwellings.

It perhaps is premature to forecast the eventual elimination of the traditional subdivision lot, but it probably is a safe assumption that single-family homes in the future will tend to be more expensive than in the past.

NY Can Regulate Coffee Houses

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge ruled Thursday that the city has valid authority to regulate coffee houses even though the regulations may place an incidental limitation on folk singing and poetry reading.

U.S. District Court Judge Inzer B. Wyatt threw out a suit by the owner of two Greenwich Village coffee houses, who claimed the city's coffee house law, cabaret law and zoning laws violated free speech and equal treatment provisions of the federal Constitution.

Pledges Major Reorganization

Nixon Stresses Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, indicting Democratic handling of national defense, pledges a major reorganization of the Pentagon, more influence for top military officers, and more missiles, warplanes and nuclear submarines, if elected.

The Republican presidential candidate, in a nationwide CBS radio broadcast Thursday night, accused the administrations of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson of "creating a security gap for America" — a phrase reminiscent of Kennedy's 1960 contention that the presidency of Dwight D. Eisenhower had created a missile gap.

In his most extensive discussion to date of defense policy, Nixon argued that the military decisions of the Kennedy and Johnson teams have put the nation in such straits that by 1970 or 1971 it might even face a "survival gap."

Unless he's elected on Nov. 5, Nixon says, Americans might discover "that we are irretrievably behind in the most critical areas in a few years."

PENNSYLVANIA TOUR

Nixon flew to New York Thursday night after touring 157 miles through eastern Pennsylvania, making four formal appearances and eight impromptu stops.

The crowds were good and generally receptive. But there were some sour notes, notably scuffling in the audience at Reading where 10 persons were injured slightly and two men were arrested and charged with assault on a state police sergeant. Police said they did not know what started the fighting.

The GOP candidate will be in New York three more nights. On Friday night he makes a live television broadcast to 10 states and the District of Columbia. Saturday he will be driving to rallies in suburban New Jersey. And on Sunday he will appear live on the CBS-TV "Face the Nation" program—his first appearance before a panel of reporters on television since 1966.

* * *

In his radio speech Nixon said that "in recent years our country has followed policies which now threaten to make America second best both in numbers and quality of major weapons."

The nominee said that the United States under Democratic administrations has gone from first to second in bombers, first to second in tactical aircraft, has virtually lost a 50 per cent advantage in intercontinental ballistic missiles and is steadily losing its advantage in nuclear submarines.

He pledged to:

- "Initiate a major reorganization of the DepartmtenoeDf zation of the Department of Defense to correct its overcentralization and streamline its top-level overstaffing."
- "Restore ready access of our top military professionals to the president of the United States."
- "Root out the "whiz kid" approach which for years in the Defense Department has led our policies and programs down wrong roads."
- Make effective use of the National Security Council, which he said met weekly under Eisenhower and, since 1960, "has virtually disappeared as an operating function."

Live below your means.

If you'd like to get around the high cost of living, we have a suggestion:

Cut down on the high cost of getting around.

And buy a Volkswagen. It's only $1,972.41.*

That's around $1,200 less than the average amount paid for a new car today. (Leave it in the bank. More's coming.)

A VW saves you hundreds of dollars on upkeep over the years.

It takes pints, not quarts, of oil.

Not one lota of antifreeze.

And it gets about 27 miles to the gallon. The average car (thirsty devil that it is) only gets 14.

So the more you drive, the more you save.

And chances are, you'll drive it for years and years. (Since we never change the style, a VW never goes out of style.)

Of course, a VW's not much to look at. So a lot of people buy a big flashy car just to save face.

Try putting that in the bank.

Finds Breech Life Story Engrossing

An airplane flight to the Olympic Games in Mexico City was shortened appreciably by reading the current account of ERNEST R. BREECH'S dynamic and eventful life.

BREECH

Without question, Mr. BREECH stands as one of the all-time great figures in automotive history. He started about one rung below the bottom of the ladder and climbed to the pinnacle through his own accomplishments, achievements and perception.

★ ★ ★

The list of formidable organizations that he has actually headed or in which he played a top role and leading part is almost legendary, it embraces so many important organizations.

This area is justly proud of this all-star who began life as the son of a small town blacksmith and fought his way to the crest of a dozen waves. Modest, unassuming and yet filled with confidence and limitless determination, he won over an unbelievable list of captains of industry who turned to him repeatedly in hours of stress and uncertainty.

And as a purely incidental but interesting sidelight, this entrepreneur who has been a friend of mine for a third of a century turned in a 45-39—84 against me a week ago on the golf course at the age of 71.

Long may he wave.

Russia Gives Alien Dissidents Short Shrift

An American girl and a British boy stood on a Moscow corner and passed out leaflets that panned the Reds for invading Czechoslovakia. Also, they condemned the U.S. for our Vietnam actions.

What happened?

You can easily guess.

★ ★ ★

The pair were promptly whisked away in a paddy wagon and arrested. And before they were "safe" in police hands, they'd been shoved about a bit by Russian citizens. The two were detained six hours in the hoosegow and then told to leave the country immediately by the first available plane—or else.

★ ★ ★

Compare this with the way we allow the Reds over here to preach their communism, attack America and foment riots, disorder and aid in arson.

In Russia they don't have a sympathetic Supreme Court that seems anxious to forgive and forget.

Will 'Protest Vote' Decide Presidential Election?

If RICHARD NIXON is elected president Nov. 5, as is presently indicated, astute political observers see it as a reflection of public disaffection with the steady drift to the left under six Democratic administrations.

Political ideology, in other words, emerges as of more concern to the body politic than the personalities of either NIXON or his Democratic opponent, Vice President HUBERT HUMPHREY.

Indications are many that the political pendulum has about completed its leftward swing and is about to begin a movement back toward the center, if not the right.

★ ★ ★

The most significant sign of a reversal in political philosophy was the developing discontent of Congress, reflecting as it did the predominant sentiment of the American people.

It was clearly seen in the Senate's denial of the nomination of Supreme Court Justice ABE FORTAS for the Chief Justiceship. Although the nomination was thumbed down for plausible reasons, the action to large extent symbolized Congressional disapproval of the trend of the High Court's decisions.

Reflecting that trend are:

- The Court's disposition to remake the Nation in a new image by its own legislative edicts.
- A too sympathetic emphasis on the rights of criminals at the expense of society.
- Protection of pornography.
- Insistence on forced integration.
- Narrowing of rights of states.
- Overthrow of the Nation's traditional political base with a "one person, one vote" doctrine.

★ ★ ★

Additionally, the Congress balked at more public handouts and more Government spending.

On the state level, there have been demands by legislatures and college boards of trustees that restraints be applied to revolutionary activists among faculty staffs and student bodies.

By and large, it would appear that the Country "has had it." The Nov. 5 vote may well reflect that general attitude.

Lesson for City in NY School Mess

BY DICK SAUNDERS

Kids are enjoying some free time today as teachers in Pontiac attend a conference at Pontiac Northern High School. This conference is a particularly significant one because it deals with human relations, rather than the fundamentals of teaching.

SAUNDERS

Much attention is being focused on a report prepared by the Pontiac School District Citizens Study Committee on Equality of Educational Opportunity.

★ ★ ★

The study unearthed things like only five of our 28 elementary schools have integrated student bodies; of the city's six junior high schools, two are integrated; of the two senior high schools, one is integrated.

Much the same pattern was reported with respect to segregation in the teaching staffs.

★ ★ ★

To simplify it, there is very little semblance of student bodies or teaching staffs in our schools that approximate the over-all racial composition of this city's population.

In another area, that being inservice training in human relations for teachers, the report found that such programs are few and far between.

★ ★ ★

Where they exist, they often gain impetus from the bottom up — first student sessions, then teacher inservice programs. Administrative encouragement at the central office level is evident, but administrative leadership at the school level is, with few exceptions, nonexistent. The middle man is missing, or at best, merely permissive.

I look at the New York City school crisis. It is like a Class D western.

★ ★ ★

Both sides are guilty of immaturity and lack of understanding. The experiment there is decentralization of school administration. A community board was given the authority to rule over a small island of ghetto schools with problems far removed from the sophisticated policies and restrictions of a metropolitan board of education, even though that ghetto fell within the jurisdiction of the metropolitan board.

The community board acted immaturely when it suddenly fired all union teachers in the ghetto.

The teachers' union has now retaliated with a citywide strike. The union is showing only that it is capable of being as immature as the overly enthusiastic policy-making body.

Thus, nothing has been accomplished other than brewing antagonism on both sides. The kids are the losers. The noble experiment will die.

The implications for Pontiac, or any other city, should be quite evident.

In New York City, teachers are doing an effective job of applying the final death blows to a project designed to further equality of educational opportunity.

Thus, the opposite should also be true. If, as a unified group, they can destroy something, they should also be able to build something. That something is basic human dignity.

Would it be too much to expect that someday, teachers might demand student and staff integration, rather than financial gain?

David Lawrence Says:

GOP Readies Poll Watchers

WASHINGTON — Was the 1960 election stolen from Richard Nixon? Many Republicans in high places are convinced that it was and that no chances should be taken this year for a repetition of the frauds that were committed.

LAWRENCE

The Nixon headquarters has organized 100,000 watchers to keep their eyes on what is happening in connection with the registration of voters and the voting on election day.

Out of this number, at least 20,000 are examiners who have been trained and instructed about things to watch in specific areas in the big cities.

★ ★ ★

Few people today are aware of what happened in the election just eight years ago.

Nixon was urged at the time by his supporters to contest the election. But, on looking into the legal aspects, he discovered it would take at least a year and a half to get a recount in Cook County, Ill., and that there was no procedure for getting a recount in Texas.

DECIDED AGAINST IT

He finally decided against it "because of the chaos it would have created in government."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is fully aware of the immediate problem of preventing frauds in the 170,000 voting precincts throughout the country.

★ ★ ★

It is believed, however, that much of the irregularity occurs primarily in four or five of the big cities.

The FBI has already started a probe of what is happening in Chicago based on irregularities discovered this month by the Chicago Daily News and the Better Government Association.

'GHOST VOTERS'

Two Chicago aldermen this week demanded that the FBI broaden its inspection of "ghost voters" to include 28 of the city's 50 wards.

Apparently there are not always enough enforcement officers or agents to detect the frauds that go on in many districts. This is why the Nixon organization has sought out volunteers, several of them former agents of the FBI, to uncover fraud and submit the evidence to the FBI.

★ ★ ★

The Voting Rights Act of 1965 provides safeguards to the right to vote and defines new offenses growing out of violations of voting laws.

Also, under the other federal laws, conspiracies to injure, threaten or intimidate any citizen in the free exercise of his constitutional rights and conspiracies by election officials to stuff ballot boxes or miscount votes or omit certain returns are punishable by fines up to $5,000 and 10 years in prison. The laws apply not merely to actual balloting but to registration.

Bob Considine Says:

Booming Harness Racing Is Enjoying Golden Age

NEW YORK — Harness racing moves deeper into its Golden Age at Roosevelt Raceway tomorrow night with the 13th running of the Messenger — for a pot of $189,000.

CONSIDINE

It's come a long way from Goshen . . .

The betting handle nationally at harness tracks will nudge toward the $2-billion level this year. Once upon a time it was merely another attraction at the county fair, competing for attention with exciting contests involving embroidery, cake-baking and hog-calling.

As part of any golden age combining sport and business with gambling attached, harness racing now also has its security force.

EYE FOR MALPRACTICE

It is called Harness Tracks Security Inc., whose job is to keep a sharp eye out for malpractices that may range all the way from fixed races to graffiti on the gents room walls. HTS now guards 23 standardbred tracks in 10 states.

The man in charge, John L. Brennan, came to harness racing with impressive credentials: Boston College law, Harvard Business, FBI agent at age 22, administrative assistant to J. Edgar Hoover, and 20 years of service as executive vice president of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, which is headed by another former FBI man, Spencer Drayton. Like Drayton, Brennan has enlisted the services of many graduates of J. Edgar Hoover U.

★ ★ ★

The vigilance in behalf of the bettor takes such forms as the finger-printing of all track personnel and the lip-tattooing of horses. There is probably also a lookout for what the late great Walter Haight of the Washington Post called the ultimate in fixes: sulky axles lubricated by "slow grease."

A national record for purse disbursement for two afternoons of racing at a fairgrounds was set at the State Fair, Syracuse, late in August — $298,760.

HONORS COME YOUNG

Nevele Pride, greater than Dan Patch or Greyhound or any other critter in the game's hall of fame, won the Hambletonian at DeQuoin, Ill., this year, then set a new world mile trotting record at Indianapolis to go with its mile record for 2-year olds set last year. Nevele Pride is the first standardbred ever to be named Harness Horse of the year at the tender age of two.

Last month at little Freehold, where the late Ed Durling never missed a racing afternoon, the handle one day spurted over the million-dollar mark — first time in Jersey, where there has been harness racing ever since the invention of the wheel.

★ ★ ★

A little over a month ago, Cardigan Bay, the incredible pacer, became the first harness horse in history to earn a million bucks.

For its owner, that is.

'Commend Sports Editor for Olympics Coverage'

I am only an occasional reader of The Pontiac Press because I live somewhat out of the area. However, I did see several copies of your paper while sports editor Bruno Kearns was in Mexico covering the Olympics. I commend him and the paper for the excellent coverage of the stories I was fortunate enough to read.

★ ★ ★

Instead of covering the water and sociological problems so many other sports people covered, Kearns gave you a story of the Olympics. He wisely left the allegedly bad water and accommodations to travel writers.

★ ★ ★

I believe many reporters tried to show their assumed sophistication by griping. The truth is it really shows their naivete and lack of sophistication because real travelers know the water and food in Mexico is better than it is in most places of the world, and such tales about the primitiveness of the great city of Mexico went out with Pancho Villa. In fact, I got one of the worst cases of dysentery in Key West, Florida.

★ ★ ★

My congratulations to your sports writer.

Question and Answer

I would like to will my body to medical science. Could you tell me whom to contact and just what is involved?

NO NAME PLEASE

REPLY

It's a fairly simple procedure, and you can write to any medical school (University of Michigan, Wayne State) for the necessary information and forms to fill out.

Question and Answer

Sept. 29 we went to a lounge in Pontiac and were told we had to pay $1.00 for "Plunkett for Prosecutor" if we wanted to get in. Is this within the code of the Liquor Commission, and is this how people running for public office solicit funds?

MRS. R. W.

REPLY

We talked with the lounge manager, Plunkett and the Liquor Commission. Both the manager and Plunkett said a private party for Plunkett was there, for which tickets had been sold ahead of time. However, the $1.00 you were asked to pay was a cover charge, which the manager says is standard practice at the lounge when there's entertainment. Mr. Pekrul of the Liquor Commission says charging for a candidate would have been illegal, and if you have other questions about the matter you can reach him at DU 3-4000 in Detroit.

Police Training

The Milwaukee Journal

A new program for police recruits in Baltimore illustrates an approach to law enforcement training that is urgently needed today.

Under the experiment, 30 recruits will go to Morgan State College to take a course in Negro sociology. If they pass, they will receive three hours of college credit.

★ ★ ★

They will also take three courses in law enforcement at the Baltimore police academy under the auspices of American University in Washington, D. C. They can earn nine additional college credits, if successful. Those courses will deal with criminal law and the background of law enforcement.

The recruits will take the standard 14 week academy program. They will attend classes for six weeks, spend three weeks in the field, return to class for four weeks, go back in the field for three more, then return to school for a final four weeks.

★ ★ ★

The head of the Baltimore police training and education division, Maj. Norman Pomrenke, has explained that the new approaches were needed because, up to now, police training has been too narrow, teaching policemen what to do without giving them the background for the social problems they meet in the street.

Try Yoga

Calgary (Can.) Herald

A world famous authority on yoga has suggested that if politicians spent some of their time standing on their heads the world would be a more pleasant place.

★ ★ ★

The idea is bizarre, but it can't be dismissed summarily. Yogis, after all, wield an unusual influence in today's world, and until recently, anyway, were able to number among their followers even such remarkable minds as those of the Beatles. If the Beatles can fall under their spell politicians certainly cannot be considered immune.

★ ★ ★

There are those, of course, who might be so unkind as to suggest that the average politician doesn't need to learn how to stand on his head as long as he can put his foot in his mouth.

Others may be under the impression that politicians already make a practice of standing on their heads since they produce so much upside-down talk.

Hubert Cuts Short California Visit; Drive Raises $1.5 Million

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An intensive week of campaigning by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has helped raise an estimated $1.5 million to fuel the last stage of his drive for the White House.

Humphrey plans to use the money for a heavy schedule of television appearances and advertisements in an effort to overcome the lead the polls give his Republican rival, Richard M. Nixon.

* * *

The Democratic candidate cut short a California visit today and headed East a day early. A campaign official said the extra day would be used to film some of the television appearances for later showing.

The reason given for canceling a day's campaigning in the San Francisco-Oakland area was a labor dispute involving employes of the San Francisco hotel where the Humphrey entourage planned to stay. Humphrey would have had to cross a picket line to enter the hotel.

DINNER CANCELLED

Canceled by the sudden schedule switch was a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in San Francisco tonight. The tickets had already been sold, but a campaign spokesman said the money for them is not included in the $1.5 million raised this week. Humphrey said he would go to San Francisco before Election Day to make good on the dinner.

The big fund-raising week started with a $1,000-a-plate dinner in New York City and included a $100-a-plate luncheon in Fort Worth, Tex., a private breakfast at which 150 southern Californians paid as much as $1,000 each, and a $500 a ticket ball in Beverly Hills.

* * *

It winds up tonight with a $100-a-plate affair in Albuquerque, N.M.

Humphrey's California visit, which ends with a stop at San Jose today, was aimed at winning voting support among Negroes, Mexican-Americans and labor.

Into his schedule Thursday night, he fitted a stop in Compton, a Los Angeles suburb, to dedicate an elementary school named after Robert F. Kennedy. The audience, mostly Negro, included only about 200 parents and their children.

Humphrey was introduced by Kenneth O'Donnell, a close associate of the Kennedy family, who said Humphrey would be a president who could carry on the traditions of John F. Kennedy and Robert Kennedy.

* * *

Humphrey went from there to his largest gathering in Los Angeles, where he spoke to 6,600 shouting supporters packed into Shrine auditorium. It was a labor-sponsored meeting and Humphrey criticized Nixon's voting record on labor and welfare issues.

He recited a list of programs sponsored by Democratic administrations and asked what Nixon had done to help them. Each time the audience roared "Nothing!"

Ex-General: RFK Unfair to Joint Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Marine Gen. David M. Shoup says the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy unfairly depicted the role played by the Joint Chiefs of Staff during the 1962 Cuba missile crisis.

In a magazine article published last week, the late senator wrote that his brother, President John F. Kennedy, was distressed because most of his military advisors seemed to give so little consideration to the implications of the steps they suggested."

* * *

Kennedy wrote that some of the ideas put forth by the joint chiefs included an air strike and an invasion of Cuba and even an attack directly on the Soviet Union.

Shoup, Marine commandant and a member of the joint chiefs in 1962, said in an interview:

* * *

"It is not fair to say that the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended, to the exclusion of any other course, that we go right in and blast the missile sites off the face of the earth," Shoup said.

NOT TREATED LIGHTLY

"I'm pretty sure nobody recommended in my presence unequivocally that we immediately try to wipe out the missile sites with bombs without any other consideration of the implications."

The former Marine leader said that "I spent many, many hours in the tank at that time and I don't remember anyone who had a flippant attitude about flipping nuclear weapons."

* * *

The "tank" is the slang name for the Pentagon room where the military chiefs deliberate.

"Robert Kennedy did not sit in the tank. He had to draw that conclusion by looking at the face of a man who was under stress for days," Shoup said, adding that he doubted Kennedy knew the real inner thoughts of the chiefs "except as he guessed them."

During the Cuban missile crisis, Shoup said, the chiefs told President Kennedy "we were ready to do a certain list of things a mile long."

COURSES PROPOSED

"If he decided to use the armed forces arm of his government," Shoup said, "the president had available to him the capabilities and the time to frame to put his decisions into effect.

"There were no one-two-three-four-five courses of action proposed . . . I don't believe any paper came over officially asking us that," Shoup said.

"My position was that every possible avenue—diplomatic, political, every one — should be pursued to the very last minute before we took any action that could cause a nuclear exchange to finally become necessary."

The retired fourstar general said "I fought against invasion of Cuba from the start."

Shoup indicated an invasion would have resulted in heavy U.S. losses.

AIR STRIKE

Under repeated questioning, Shoup said the joint chiefs "might have recommended an air strike as one avenue to eliminate the missiles."

President Kennedy finally decided on a naval blockade of Cuba, generally limited to halting Soviet ships carrying missiles. The tactic worked, Soviet ships heading for the Castro-run island either turned back or diverted their course, and the missile sites were torn down.

* * *

Besides Shoup, the Joint Chiefs in 1962 included Air Force Gen. Curtis LeMay, Army Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who was chairman, and Navy Adm. George W. Anderson Jr.

LeMay, in responding to the article, said earlier this week he couldn't recall whether he recommended bombing the missile sites or an invasion of the island.

Escapees Caught

SARANAC (AP) — Authorities Thursday recaptured two men who had walked away earlier in the day from the Ionia State Reformatory. Picked up at I-96 near Saranac were Sidney Weeks, 23, of Flint and Leroy Gigger, 21, of Detroit. Officials said Weeks had been serving a term for robbery and Gigger a term for attempted auto theft.

GIs Held in N. Viet Write Brief Letters Home

NEW YORK (AP) — The mother of an Air Force pilot imprisoned in North Vietnam said Thursday he and fellow captives are limited to four lines dealing with their health and families in their infrequent letters home.

Mrs. Harold H. Temperley, Newton, Mass., mother of captured Capt. Russell E. Temperley, was one of those who has received letters passed along by a Brazilian newsman after a visit to a Hanoi prison for American fliers.

★ ★ ★

Temperley's letter said: "Dear Mother. We have just celebrated Vietnamese Independence Day, which is similar to our Labor Day. We had a duck dinner. My health is still very good. I hope you and my sisters are well. Give my love to all, and mother, I love you."

Mrs. Temperley said the letter, the fifth she has received from her son, was written like the others on a stationery form bearing instructions on what may be discussed and specifying that prisoners may address mail only to their next of kin.

'CRIED LIKE A BABY'

Anne Driscoll of Chicago received one of the 47 letters collected by the Brazilian journalist, Antonio Collado, during his prison visit.

It brought the first word from her pilot son, Capt. Donald Driscoll, 28, since he was shot down 30 miles northeast of Hanoi in April 1967. Driscoll was last seen parachuting from his F105 fighter plane, hit and set afire on his 112th mission.

★ ★ ★

"I cried like a big baby," said Mrs. Driscoll.

She said her son's letter consisted only of a few lines saying "he was all right, that he was concerned about me, and for me to sell his old car and buy myself a new one."

Another of the letters went to Mrs. E. M. McNish of Franklin, N.C., from her son, Thomas. She said:

"He said he continued in good health. Outside of that it was just love and regards to various members of the family. He ended the letter 'see you soon,' so I know, at least, that his courage and spirits are still strong."

Benjamin Black of Bethlehem, Pa., received the first letter in about two years from his son, Arthur, a sergeant shot down Sept. 20, 1965. He described it as "rather vague, on a printed form, asking how everyone was doing and reporting he was well."

★ ★ ★

Black said he had last heard from his son about a year after the sergeant was reported missing.

Bonnie Metzger of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., wife of Navy Lt. (j.g.) William H. Metzger, received a letter which she called just a note to let her and his parents know he is "alive and okay and in fairly good health."

Metzger's jet fighter was shot down May 19, 1967. His only previous letter was in July 1967.

★ ★ ★

Grant Abbott, Deckerville, Mich., father of Air Force Capt. Robert A. Abbott, said he had received three letters since his son was captured about 18 months ago.

"His letters are very short, just possibly four lines," said Abbott. "That's all that gets out at a time."

★ ★ ★

A number of other prisoner relatives to whom Collado forwarded letters declined to answer any questions until they had discussed clearance with the Air Force or Navy.

Expert to Discuss Kidney Machines

An expert on the operation of artificial kidney machines in the home will be the main speaker at a dialysis workshop Nov. 8 at Wayne County General Hospital (Eloise).

Dr. George Applegate, medical director of the Artificial Kidney Center at Methodist Hospital in Indiana, will talk about the "Practical Aspects of Home Dialysis."

The one-day workshop is called "Developments in Dialysis" and is cosponsored by the hospital's Home Training Center and the Michigan Kidney Foundation.

THE GOVERNOR

Warned that the state has no "magic solution" to growing school finance problems and urged careful consideration of a proposed 10-mill increase in Detroit school taxes.

Appointed a 22-member state advisory council on comprehensive health planning to "help assure the highest level of health attainable for every person in Michigan."

THE STATE COURT OF APPEALS

Ruled that Allegan, Berrien and Muskegon counties may temporarily use their present apportionment plans for election of county supervisors, although they are imperfect.

1914 Rolls-Royce With Bullet Holes Sold for $22,800

LONDON (AP) — A 1914 Rolls-Royce with World War I bullet holes was auctioned to an Italian museum Thursday for $22,800. The original selling price was $5,000-$6,000.

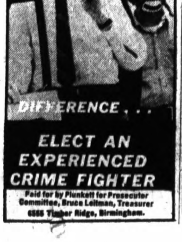

The open touring model brought the top bid from 3,000 persons attending a sale of 74 antique automobiles at Southeby's auction house.

★ ★ ★

The Rolls-Royce came under German sniper fire when it was used by Col. Sir Francis McClean, a pioneer aviator, to inspect military airfields in France. The car still has bullet holes in its radiator.

It was given by Sir Francis to Dr. A.R.H. Williamson in 1948 and was bought today by Ian R. Grant, a London banker, for the Museo Automobile Carlo Biscaretti, the Italian motor industry museum in Turin.

Court Asked to Lift Curbs on Sirhan Case Reporting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Los Angeles district attorney prosecuting Sirhan Bishara Sirhan for the alleged assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has asked the Supreme Court to ease restrictions on newsmen covering the case.

Sirhan, 24, stands trial Dec. 9 on charges of murdering Kennedy in Los Angeles last June following the New York senator's California Democratic presidential primary victory.

Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. Evell J. Younger petitioned the high court Thursday to consider whether restrictions on reporters amounts to a violation of the First Amendment and fosters circulation of rumors.

"The only feasible way to meet this danger of false charges and rumors is to allow responsible public officials to indicate, on occasion, why certain witnesses have not been used, or how certain leads have proven false or irrelevant," Younger said.

California Superior Court Judge Richard Schauer has barred attorneys and public officials from releasing any information that does not come out during the trial. Officials are also prohibited from commenting on any aspect of the case.

Trooper Transfers Are Announced

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police have announced the promotion of Trooper Harry Mapes of Battle Creek to detective and his transfer to the Flat Rock post. Other transfers included: Troopers James Adams, South Haven to Flint, Stuart Hampton, Battle Creek to Romeo, Jerry Wensloff, Flint to South Haven, Robert Wilde, Romeo to Battle Creek.

Loan for Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a $383,000 loan to the Bay City, Mich., Housing Commission for purchase and rehabilitation of 23 low-rent houses in Bay City.

Officials Protest Office Closing

LANSING (AP) — The Paul Bunyan Road Council, representing county road officials of 14 counties in the Cadillac area, has sent a resolution to the State Highway Department protesting the closing of the Cadillac office. The department said the closing was ordered for economy and efficiency purposes.

Car Recovered After Shooting

CHICAGO (UPI) — Authorities have recovered the auto of a Michigan woman allegedly forced by two men to drive to Chicago, then raped and shot.

Mrs. Sally Heaton, 31, Mattawan, Mich., remained in critical condition with two bullet wounds in her head and one in a hand.

She was found wandering near a tollway early Wednesday by a passing motorist.

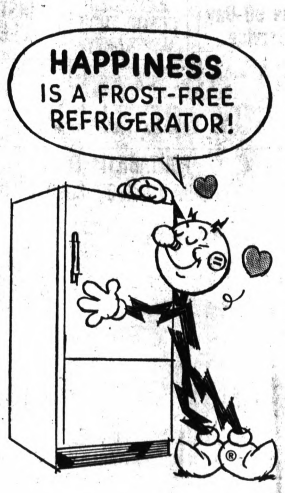

* * *

Cook County sheriff's police said the auto, owned by Mrs. Heaton's husband, Columbus, was found abandoned in suburban Berwyn. It was being examined by the Chicago Crime Laboratory, but authorities made no estimate of when the report would be available.

Before losing consciousness, Mrs. Heaton told Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and sheriff's police she had been abducted after a bowling party in Kalamazoo, Mich., Tuesday night. She reportedly said she had agreed to give two men she had met at the party a ride home. Once in the car, she said, they forced her at gunpoint to drive to Chicago where they raped her, shot her and left her on the tollway.

Hospital officials said one bullet remains lodged in the woman's neck, near the base of the spine, and particles of another are still in the region around her left temple. Bullet exit and entry holes indicate there were three separate wounds, they said.

Mrs. Heaton is the mother of three children, a daughter, 9, and two sons, 7 and 2.

What a happy thought! Replace your old frost-builder with a new electric refrigerator-freezer that's completely frost-free in both sections and forget messy defrosting forever! You'll like the added roominess of the new refrigerator-freezer, too — and the storage bin that's automatically kept full of ice cubes.
See your electric appliance dealer soon and learn the wonderful "inside story" of the new frost-free electric refrigerator-freezer!

Romney Advice: Issue Analyses Bore Voters

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Thursday offered this advice to presidential candidates: don't bore the voters with a careful analysis of the issues.

"I tried to discuss the issues in detail and I was a complete failure," he said. "I was a flop. I got buried."

* * *

Romney late last year announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination but withdrew before the New Hampshire primary, conceding that voters had not responded to his efforts.

He said a candidate who carefully analyzes the issues in his speeches will bore his audience and won't win prominent coverage in the press.

"If you want the audience to react so that the press will say you had an enthusiastic audience, you don't do it by making a careful, in-depth speech," Romney said. "I didn't say that's the way I like it. I said that's the way it is."

He made the comments at a press conference while defending GOP presidential candidate Richard Nixon's refusal of a broadcast debate with Democrat Hubert Humphrey. Romney repeated his assertion that Nixon was making the right decision for a front-runner.

* * *

"When I was running way behind in New Hampshire, I tried to get Mr. Nixon to debate me," he said. "It's a great way to lift yourself up by the other fellow's bootstraps."

Romney also predicted Nixon would carry Michigan Nov. 5.

'68 Politics: Committees by the Dozens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The frenetic windup of the presidential campaign may be remembered in history as the day of the political permanent wave, or for the taxi drivers more interested in giving tips than getting them.

These are the days of the Citizens Committee for ——(fill in the name of the candidate of your choice), a phenomenon which gives special interest and professional groups an opportunity to work for the candidate that best represents their views.

* * *

Members of the committees are volunteers, ordinary citizens and political novices, put together in loosely organized nationwide groups coordinated from Washington.

Both Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon have them by the dozens, more than 40 professional and special interest groups each. And this excludes the nationality groups which both sides say are too numerous to count. In contrast, no similar committees could be found in Washington for George C. Wallace.

ROLLS UNCERTAIN

Both sides also say that because the committees are so loosely organized, their memberships cannot be accurately calculated. Various estimates of the size of the Pharmacists Committee for Nixon-Agnew, for example, ranged from 15 all the way to 20,000.

Discussing the citizens committee boom, an aide to Humphrey confided that the whole thing may have gotten out of hand.

* * *

"There's a committee of librarians for Humphrey-Muskie," he said. "To tell you the truth, I don't really understand that one. I don't think even Richard Nixon opposes books."

Nixon has the support of the Cosmetologists Committee for Nixon-Agnew. Humphrey counters with Beauticians for Humphrey-Muskie.

OLDER AND SENIOR

Humphrey has the Older Americans Committee; Nixon's got Senior Citizens.

Nixon has life insurance people. Humphrey has the life underwriters.

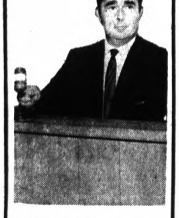

* * *

Both claim agriculture committees, conservationists committees, dentists committees, educators committees, lawyers, mayors, pharmacists, physicians, scientists, veterans, young adults, and on and on.

The earliest form of mass urban transit dates back to 1827 in New York City when a horsedrawn vehicle seating 12 operated up and down Broadway.

6 Compete for Waterford Crowns

By JANICE CRISP

Awaiting next Friday's pep assembly are six Waterford Township High School students, contestants for homecoming king and queen.

At the assembly the winners will be announced. Homecoming festivities will be Nov. 1 and 2.

★ ★ ★

The three girls competing for queen are Beverly Kems, Tina Poulos and Susan Steele. Running for king are Steve Golt, Bill Foley and Brad Potter.

Committee chairmen include Martha Frick, halftime activities; Sue Allen, invitations committee; Greg Copenger, pregame bonfire; Kris VanDeusen, tickets; Kathy Johnston, refreshments; Sharyl Williams, coronation; and Sheryl Van Dan, publicity.

SETTING THE MOOD

Giant mushrooms and vines will set the mood at the Coronation Ball according to Denise Poteet, chairman of the decoration committee.

The entertainment committee has run into a snag, reports Colleen Farris, chairman. There is a dearth of bands available on ball night.

"You touched me! You touched me! You unmitigated fool! Don't you know that a touch can kill?"

Overheard in a rehearsal, the words are from a scene in "David and Lisa" by James Reach. Presented by the dramatic department, the play will be performed Nov. 20, 21 and 22, and is open to the public.

Nov. 20, it will be presented during the school day for students.

Directing the production is Mary Reynolds, with Sandy Armstrong, assistant director. Ann Hobart, dramatics instructor, is the producer. Stage manager is Sue Neff.

★ ★ ★

Playing the lead roles are Dan Sherman, David and Sandra Alphoss, Lisa. Others are Randy Green, Dr. Allen Swinsorg, the head doctor; Dennis Perrault, John, a therapist; Harriet Mansfield, Barbara, another therapist; Dane Dalton and Gayle Shattuck, Mr. and Mrs. Clemans, David's parents; and Sherrie Pilot, Maureen Hart.

OTHERS IN CAST

Also in the cast are Carol Schad, Kate; Sally Nelson, Josette; Bonnie McCallum, Sandra; Tom Whaley, Carlos; Sam Keith, Simon and Duane Williams, Robert.

Still others include Betty DeLong, Mrs. Ferris, one of the house parents; Dan Jarrett, first boy; Jim Main, porter and second boy; Joanne Reed, secretary; Sandy Armstrong, a girl; and Lori Jones, a woman.

The dramatics department's next undertaking will be "Cinderella." It will be directed by Carol Schad and presented in January.

Groves High's Debate Team Is Busy, but Always Ready for an Argument

By KIM SEROTA

In a remote passageway at Groves High School is a door. If you open it, be prepared for an argument. It's the entrance to the debate team lounge.

The lounge is cluttered with desks, chairs, books and papers, and of course, the debate team.

★ ★ ★

This year's varsity team consists of Steve Halpert and Randy Weisberg arguing negative and Steve Mintz and Brian Premo on the affirmative. The team also has a junior varisty with alternating members from the Debate Club and is advised by teacher Ted Stanley.

The Groves team which has a full schedule as a member of both the Northwest Suburban League and the Oakland B League began its season Monday afternoon.

CLEAN SWEEP

The team won all of its debates for a clean sweep over North Farmington. A rematch against the North Farmington affirmative team will be held because it was unable to attend the meet.

The topic being debated is, "Should the U.S. establish compulsory service for all citizens?" The cases, negative and affirmative, were prepared by Randy.

★ ★ ★

The team feels a strengthening factor this year was Brian's and Randy's attendance at an Eastern Michigan University seminar on debate.

Adviser Stanley appears to concur on this opinion as Randy student-teaches one of Stanley's debate classes.

A sidelight to the debate organization at Groves is "the Dynasty." Any member of the team, club, or class who contributes to debating at Groves is considered for membership in the fraternal group.

★ ★ ★

The Groves Scriptor (newspaper) held a mock election poll Monday and Tuesday mornings.

★ ★ ★

The tickets included: Humphrey-Muskie (Democratic), Nixon-Agnew (Republican), Wallace-LeMay (American Independant), Cleaver-Hochman (Peace and Freedom), and Halstead-Boutelle (Socialist Workers).

NIXON'S THE ONE

Of 1524 votes cast Nixon received 809 to win the election. Humprey came in second with 376. Wallace received 75, Cleaver 61 and Hallstead, three.

There were 258 write-in votes received, including some for McCarthy, Rockefeller, and Kennedy. Several votes were also cast for Pat Paulsen, Louis Abolafia (a nudist), and Pigesus (the Yippies' candidate — a pig).

Northern Focus on Campaigns

By LARRY HELTSLEY

Pontiac Northern civics classes are conducting vigorous campaigns for the three national presidential candidates.

Signs and slogans around the school proclaim each candidate's virtues.

★ ★ ★

A schoolwide mock election will be held with voting machines to acquaint students with the election procedure.

Candidates for class sophomore office also are staging their campaigns. Candidates were given time to present their ideas and views in a preschool assembly Wednesday. Voting will take place some time next week.

SWIM CLUB INITIATES

Initiates of the Catalina swim club are wearing different colored socks, clashing clothing and pigtails.

Nov. 9 Northern seniors will take the Michigan Competitive Scholarship Test.

★ ★ ★

International Clubs homecoming sale was a success, with more than 300 mums sold. Profits are added to the club's treasury to help pay the expenses of foreign exchange students.

Sheila Themm and Kathy Dougherty are student directors of the first drama club presentation, "You Can't Take It With You," Nov. 22 and 23.

CAST LEADS

Leads will be Jock Felt as Martin Vanderhof; Pam Green, Penelope; Debbie Raboin, Essie; Dave Roerink, Ed; Charlene Depner, Alice; and Larry Lusius, Tony Kirby.

Committee chairmen are Michelle Dumbrique, publicity; Anders Lassen, stage manager; Beth Furness, props; and Mary Ward, costumes.

★ ★ ★

Greg Carline will handle sound and Pam Coleman the makeup crew.

Mott Girls Don't Skirt Grid Issue

By GEORGIA ROSEWALL

"Go, juniors, go" is the cry of Waterford Mott junior girls as they take another opportunity to show the sophomores which class is the best.

The Powder Puff football game between the two classes will be held Tuesday at Waterford Township's field.

★ ★ ★

Starting time is set for 5:30 p.m. with a 25 cents admission charge.

Five representatives of the Student Council were elected to the School Government Board (SGB) this week. They are Dennis Price, Cinda White, Mari Lynn Hutson, Chuck Dohner and Joe Kahn.

Student Council President Jim Durnbaugh is automatically a member.

Made up of six students, six members of the faculty, and the principal, the SGB will work together to try to solve various school problems.

Under the leadership of Larry Gibons, Student Council vice president, the Activities Board is organized. Elected to the board representing the sophomores are Jan Wooderson and Paul Coglen. Nancie Bateman and Gary Andrews are junior class representatives.

The Mott varsity football team will meet Bloomfield Lahser at Waterford Township's field tonight at 8.

There will be an aftergame dance featuring the Fish Wild Review. Sponsored by the varsity cheerleaders, admission is 35 cents.

Holly High Homecoming Queen Hope Madsen

Holly Students Awash in Work

Homecoming Floats Classy

By MARCIA CLARK

"Thank heavens for teacher's institute" was a familiar cry around Holly High School this week.

Teachers' institute is traditionally two days of rest for the students at HHS; not so this year.

★ ★ ★

Students used this time to put finishing touches on their floats for the annual homecoming parade which will be held today at 2 p.m.

The senior float, built in an old casket factory much to the amusement of the underclassmen, was an old-time locomotive entitled "Drive 'Em Loco."

RIVERBOAT THEME

A paddle-wheeled riverboat was the subject of the junior float entitled "Steam on to Victory."

Poker chips, roulette wheels and a carom board graced the sophomores' "Holly's A Sure Bet."

★ ★ ★

"Spook 'Em," the freshman float, featured a large ghost.

These floats were judged by local businessmen.

Hope Madsen was crowned 1968 Homecoming Queen by last year's queen, Nancy Perry last Friday.

COURT ANNOUNCED

Her court was also announced at this time. Two representatives were chosen from each class by direct vote of the students in the respective classes and the homecoming queen was chosen by direct vote of the entire student body.

The senior court members were Merry Marlowe and Michele Sperry.

Debby Butts and Kathy Wheeler were the juniors' choice.

Representatives from the sophomore class were Tena Harding and Sue Bloomer.

Ruth Creque and Cathy Pettis represented the freshman class.

COURT RIDES FLOATS

Court ladies ride on the floats in the homecoming parade.

The queen and her court and their escorts will be presented to the public at the halftime ceremonies at the game tonight. The escorts are all also members of the HHS student body.

A dance sponsored by the cheerleaders will be held immediately following the football game in the high school Students' Center. Dress should be school wear.

Last night was also a big night. A bonfire made up of scrape lumber left over from the floats was burned and served as a kickoff for a snake dance through the streets.

Bedecked for the festivities was the HHS bell used to herald the victories of HHS. It will be hung under the direction of Clifford Beauchamp, special education teacher at HHS.

★ ★ ★

Aptitude Tests at Walled Lake

By JOANNE SANDERSON

Juniors and seniors at Walled Lake High School will take the Preliminary Scholarship Aptitude Test Saturday. The test will be held in the high school cafeteria beginning at 8 a.m.

Wednesday night classrooms at Walled Lake High had a different look as parents became "students" once again. The Parent-Teacher Association held its annual open house for parents.

★ ★ ★

First prize in the annual Homecoming float judging went to the seniors ("Three Little Vikings") for the best all-around entry.

Other prizes were awarded to the varsity cheerleaders for "The Viking and the Seven Dwarfs," best miscellaneous; and the junior entry of "Rapunzel," most original.

BEST-CONSTRUCTED

The best-constructed entry was the Tennis Club's float "Little Old Viking in a Shoe."

The Future Teachers Association held its yearly reception for the new teachers Tuesday.

The Spanish Club held its initiation of new members Wednesday.

After eight weeks of training, the Cave Club selected members on the basis of skill and endurance.

FIRST TRIP SET

The club will have its first trip, beginning Nov. 1, to Sloans Valley, Ky.

The Viking (WLHS yearbook) went on sale this week at $4.

PC Students Cast Ballots After Vigorous Campaign

By GERI KLINKHAMMER

Pontiac Catholic High School took to politics this week as the senior class sponsored a mock election.

★ ★ ★

Activities began Monday, as hats and banners for Humphrey, Nixon and Wallace appeared on bulletin boards and students. The cafeteria was decorated by the Senior Government Seminar and rallies were held daily during lunch periods.

★ ★ ★

Government classes were instructed on how to use voting machines and, with the help of ballots donated by the city, students were able to familiarize themselves with issues and candidates.

Yesterday, a voting machine operated by two city election officials, was located in the cafeteria and the students voted for their choice of candidates during their study periods.

Tuesday, the upperclass members of the National Honor Society took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test.

A Mass was held in Pontiac Catholic's chapel for PC's senior girls and the girls of Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes on Wednesday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Audiovisual Club members directed by Sister Regina Curran S.S.J. were announced.

They are Gayle Barnes, Doug Walther, Pat Hoffman, Jim LaLonde, Vince Holland, Richard Morrin, Toby Vanover, Tarris Shepherd, Mary LaFave and Julius Martin.

PLAY TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the one-act play to be presented by the students of PC at the Genesian Festival, began Wednesday under the direction of Howard Hoeflein, speech and drama instructor.

Seniors took first place in the float contest Sunday and Pat Tryell, a junior, won the best-decorated car prize for her class.

A tentative date of Nov. 3 was proposed for the senior ring ceremony.

Brandon Sets Goal in Magazine Drive

By MARJORIE WIDMAN

Monday launched the magazine sale at Brandon High School, which has a goal of raising $4,000.

Chris Beardsly received $5 as high salesman, selling $72.05 the first day.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the magazines are earmarked for the exchange student fund.

Tuesday, two representatives from political parties debated in the Brandon gymnasium.

★ ★ ★

Representatives were Guy Foster for former Alabama Gov. C. Wallace and March Miller for Richard Nixon.

The representative for Vice President Hubert Humphrey could not attend.

Club Haunt-Ins Set at Andover

By ANN PETERS

Ghastly, ghostly Halloween hauntings are planned at Bloomfield Hills Andover High School as prizes and surprises will be featured at a Roman Halloween party Tuesday.

Sponsored by the Andover Latin Club, members will attend dressed as their favorite mythological characters.

★ ★ ★

Fun will be found in eerie game booths. Games will include "Pin the Horn on the Unicorn," "Turtle Race," "Trojan War," "Roulette," "Oracle" and the traditional "Apple Bob."

French Club will hold its Halloween party Thursday. A seance and special "surprise" awaits club members.

REFRESHMENTS PLANNED

Cider and doughnuts will end the scary festivities.

This week's football game against Brighton will mark an Andover first. Senior class member Tom Williams, following the footsteps of the Paper Lion, George Plimpton, will make his debut as Paper Baron.

As sports editor of the school newspaper, The Shield, Williams will play fullback on the team. He will then write of his experiences in an exclusive series.

OUT OF ORDER — Judge Jan Rykert of Avondale High School declares fellow seniors Caroline Lind and Dan Sonheaver out of order in a simulated courtroom scene. The sixth-hour law class is acting out a criminal case.

Law Class Tries a Case

Here Comes Avondale's Judge

By KAREN SHELDON

Here comes the judge! The gavel bangs and the Avondale High School Circuit Court is in session once again.

The court consists of students in the sixth-hour law class who are acting out a criminal case.

★ ★ ★

The prosecution is made up of Caroline Lind and Karen Sheldon, while the defense consists of Dan Souheaver and Dennis Graham.

Both sides have been busy for the past few weeks doing research, gathering witnesses, and setting up exhibits.

Last week a six-member jury was sworn in, and both sides presented their opening statements.

Tuesday, members of the Student Council attended a Leadership Conference in Ann Arbor. The conference, sponsored by the Michigan Association of Student Councils, was attended by Larry Davis, president; Marcia Gee, Carol Carr, Debbie Sage, Cathy Cassidy and Martha Vanderbrook.

The government classes have chosen Oct. 30 as the date of their all-day convention that will be held in the gym.

Each government class chooses its own candidates and sets up its own party platform.

Representatives from each class will form a national committee which will set up the rules for the convention.

Tonight during halftime, the junior and senior high school bands will perform as one. "Discover America" has been selected as the theme for the show and will be directed by David Moore, junior high band director, and Paul Richmond, senior high band director.

The juniors of Avondale have had a busy week. Monday they received their class rings, Tuesday, many of them took a Preliminary Aptitude Scholarship Test, and Wednesday, they went to the powder puff football game and cheered for their team.

Troy Students Stage Mock Election

By LUANNE GREENSTEIN

Troy High School will hold a mock presidential election this year. It will consist of both popular and electoral college voting.

Each homeroom has drawn a state and will be alloted that state's electoral votes. A chart showing the states and home rooms has been set up in the school office.

In order to vote, students must have registered.

Ballots will be handed out to homeroom teachers on the day of Troy's election, Oct. 30. Each student can vote for one candidate, and the candidate receiving a majority will win all electoral votes for that state. In case of a tie, the homeroom teacher will be able to cast a vote on a second ballot.

STRIVE FOR REALISM

Troy High is trying to conduct the election as close to the real election as possible.

All students are urged to participate. Any questions should be brought to the teachers in Cluster A.

Happenings at Other Schools

Stevenson

By GAIL NELSON

The Vanguard (newspaper) staff at Stevenson High School will attend journalism day at the University of Detroit in December.

Eight students attended high school newspaper day at Michigan State University Oct. 17.

Our Lady

By CHRIS GINGRAS

Honored this week at Our Lady of Lakes was Pat Benning, the senior girl nominated by the entire senior class for the Daughters of the American Revolution Citizenship Scholarship Award. Pat will receive a questionnaire from the DAR in January.

Seniors have chosen their class patron, song, flower, motto, colors and school gift.

Their patron is St. Jude; their song, "The Impossible Dream"; motto, "Some men see things as they are and say why . . . We dream of things that never were and say why not?" (G. B. Shaw), flower a blue-tipped carnation; colors, blue and gold; and class gift, letters spelling "Our Lady of the Lakes High School" for the outside of the building.

Lake Orion

By CHERYL GRITZINGER

An innovation at Lake Orion High School is the Pep Squad.

"It is a subcommittee of the Pep Club, limited to senior girls who have shown merit in the past," explained Leslie Baker, the captain.

★ ★ ★

Belonging to the squad are Chris Boughner, Debbie Curtis, Sue Dewis, Viki Dewis, Jan Gibson, Sue Rhodes, Debby Rome and Debbie Wingett.

There are stirct rules governing the members. They must attend all varsity games and help at pep assemblies. Each girl has a partner and their job is to circulate among the crowds, urging others to cheer. The Pep Squad will also mimeograph new cheers and pass them out to help the cheerleaders.

"We hope to be in full swing by basketball season," Leslie added. The members will wear white sweaters with green lettering, and dark green coulottes.

At the end of the school year, the Pep Squad will choose new members from among juniors who are members of the Pep club.

West Bloomfield

By SHARON CARR

The Literary Club of West Bloomfield High School will be separate from the journalism class this year. Sponsored by the creative writing instructor, Robert Hope, it plans to publish a magazine in April.

The editor, Harold Cowan, exlpained: "This magazine will contain original literature and poetry by students from WBH."

★ ★ ★

Aiding Harold will be publicity and sales manager, Margrit Grommes, and art editors, Lee Pement, and Mary Den Boer.

Pelihara will be the magazine's name. 'Pelihara' is the Malay word for "thought." The title was contributed by WBH's Malaysian exchange student Gopal Rampal, who is a member of the Literary Club.

Oxford

By LINDA HOUSER

"This meeting will now come to order" is the familiar sound in the English classrooms. Students at Oxford High School are learning parliamentary procedure in order to carry on the student council and club meetings more efficiently.

Floats were judged and results were announced at last Friday's football game.

★ ★ ★

"Happiness is Victory," a float depicting Snoopy and his doghouse, won the senior's "most beautiful" award.

"It's Time to Win," depicted by a large cockoo clock, the National Honor Society's float, was judged "most original."

The sophomore's, "Run 'em Thru the Mill," won "most humorous."

Crowned 1968 Homecoming Queen was Donna Gemmel, escorted by Bill Biebuyck. Betty Connor, last year's queen, escorted by Dick Valentine, presented "her majesty's robe" to the new queen.

U-M SEMINAR

Tuesday, Student Council officers and senior class officers attended a Student Council seminar for senior high schools at the University of Michigan.

Novi

By THOM HOLMES

The sophomore class has named Nov. 1 National Spirit Day at Novi High School. Students are asked to wear green and white for the occasion.

Sophomores are going to sell green and white pinup dolls, and green and white cupcakes at lunch.

★ ★ ★

One of the special events for National Spirit Day will be the Spirit King and Queen contest. Students may vote for the candidates of their choice at one penny per vote.

The winners of that contest will be announced that night at the Spirit Dance, lasting from 8 through 11 p.m.

HALLOWEEN DANCE

The senior class is sponsoring a Broomstick Bash Halloween Dance tomorrow night at 8 at the high school.

Novi's homecoming queen is Cathy Carr. In her court are Virginia Clift, Sue Vivian and Kathy Winner.

★ ★ ★

Cathy is a senior, on Student Council, and will appear in the NHS stage play in November.

With a friendly wave, Mrs. Hubert Humphrey leaves a tea at the Birmingham Community House Thursday afternoon. Before shaking hands with hundreds of women, she stopped for a few shots on a nearby shuffleboard court. "Play fair, will ya," says retiree Ben Winters of Birmingham as Mrs. Humphrey scores a point.

Muriel Is Equal to Campaign Demands

By JANET ODELL
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

Mrs. Hubert Humphrey's schedule was already running late Thursday morning when she met newspaper, radio and television reporters in Detroit. But she didn't seem flustered.

She had time for a quick greeting to everyone assembled before she faced four microphones, the inevitable lights and questions she has probably heard dozens of times before.

★ ★ ★

Summer visits to the Humphrey's Waverly home have left her deeply tanned. If she's tired, she doesn't show it. Her deep blue eyes sparkle and her smile is warm.

She's a more mature campaigner than she was when we met her four years ago. She exhibited complete poise as she spoke with conviction about the things in which she believes.

This is her fourth time around during the present campaign. Everywhere she goes, she visits centers for Head Start programs, juvenile delinquents, day care, Job Corps and special education.

HONORED

Wednesday night she received the Distinguished Service Award of the National Association for Retarded Children at a dinner in Detroit.

If she becomes First Lady, she expects to continue and expand her interest in the areas mentioned above.

What is most needed to help the mentally retarded, she thinks, are more skilled people and more research in prevention.

"It's an exciting field," she said, "because it encompasses so many things. Educators are finding that what helps the mentally retarded, helps the normal child learn, too."

She thinks that teens today are terrific and the most informed group of young people we have ever had. They're deeply involved in being of help in their communities and many are beginning to help the mentally retarded.

Michigan is very important to the Humphrey campaign as it is considered a "swinger state."

"We Humphreys never take anything for granted. It's been a long six months, but I think we have overcome the disadvantages with which we began."

Always the wife of a presidential candidate is asked what she would do as First Lady and what changes she might make in the White House.

AWARENESS

Muriel Humphrey says, "I am aware of the tremendous role one has. I would follow a very wonderful, hard-working and dedicated lady. But every First Lady adds a dimension by her own personality.

"I would want to further help the mentally retarded and education in general throughout the country, from the young child on through to adult education.

"We want to give people a better chance to use their talents — to have an exciting challenge. We call it education for living."

Does she help HHH write his speeches? No, she said, but she may add some ideas to his and is thrilled when he does use them.

And, gals, it was a man reporter who posed the question about Jackie Kennedy's marriage.

"I just wish Jackie Kennedy every happiness. She's had so much tragedy. Why did she marry Mr. Onassis? Because she was in love with him. That's why any woman marries a man."

Advice From Abby

Try More Reading, Less Kissing

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am worried. I read somewhere that a girl can get cancer from kissing a boy who smokes a lot if the boy happens to have an open cut on his tongue or lip. Is this true?

THIRTEEN AND WORRIED

DEAR THIRTEEN: No, it's not true, although there are other diseases which are transmitted in this manner. Obviously you're old enough to read but you're hardly old enough to go in for the kind of kissing you describe, so the word from here is to read more and kiss less, and you won't have to worry.

ABBY

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a married man. I know this sounds corny, but his wife doesn't understand him. (I do.) He spends half his time with me, and the other half at home because he has children. He tells me he hasn't loved his wife for a long time and that he has absolutely nothing whatsoever to do with her, but last night in his sleep he called me by her name. What do you think?

THE GIRL FRIEND

DEAR GIRL FRIEND: I think you ought to pray that this never happens in reverse.

DEAR ABBY: I am a normal, red-blooded, 29-year-old man who would like to get married. I am not looking for a rich girl, or a beauty either, as I am nothing out of the ordinary. But I do want a woman no man has ever had before.

I was on the brink of marriage twice in my life. One was a divorcee and the other a widow. I simply could not bring myself to marry either one of them knowing they had been in the arms of another man. I fully realize it was not the widow's fault that her husband died, and the divorcee was also blameless because her husband ran off and left her.

All the same, I want a woman who has never been with a man — if you know what I mean. Am I asking too much? Sign me—

"LOUIS THE FIRST"

DEAR LOUIS: No, but your kind usually winds up "LOUIS XVI!" And now may I ask you a question? Have you ever been with a woman—if you know what I mean?

Recent Excursion to Italy Is Arts Tour for Bloomfield Hills Couples

By SHIRLEY GRAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. Philip Moses and their Bloomfield Hills neighbors, the Carney D. Mathesons, are back from a five-week tour of Italy, or more exactly, of Italian art.

Mrs. Moses, who has lived and studied in Italy, served as tour guide. Introducing her husband and their friends to the bountiful art works there was the best part of the trip, she said.

Especially fascinating was a visit to a monastery just outside of Florence, where monks are still at work on restoring books damaged in the disastrous flood of the River Arno two years ago.

Florence, says Mrs. Moses, has recovered well from the flood. "You'd never know Florence had been touched," she marveled.

GERMANY

On the way home, Mr. and Mrs. Moses spent four days in Hanover, Germany, as the guest of Col. and Mrs. Charles Howard Anderson. The colonel is well known to many in this area; he was for many years senior judge at the Detroit Horse Show.

★ ★ ★

Here's word of another event — on a calendar that threatens to buckle from the weight of all the "x's."

The Michigan Mineralogical Society holds its annual meeting on Saturday and Sunday at the Light Guard Armory.

Twenty or so of the society's members are residents of this area; they meet monthly at Cranbrook.

ORCHID

One of the most versatile is Mrs. John R. Ylvisaker. In addition to taking part in the arrangements for rock displays, she will set up an orchid display, showing off her talents as a grower and fancier of the exotic flowers.

The orchid display will be a joint project with fellow orchid enthusiast, Mrs. J. Philip Moses, who is chairman of the Pointe Orchid Forum, of which Tecla Ylvisaker is also a member.

Vatican at Odds With Cushing

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Lawyers at the Vatican say no matter what Cardinal Cushing says, the Roman Catholic Church considers that Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis is living with another woman's husband.

Cardinal Cushing, the Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston and a close friend of the Kennedy family, said Tuesday it was "a lot of nonsense" to say that President Kennedy's widow had excommunicated herself by her marriage to Aristotle Socrates Onassis, a divorced member of the Greek Orthodox Church.

★ ★ ★

It is technically correct that she is not excommunicated, canon lawyers and marriage experts at the Vatican said, but they explained that her church regards the new Mrs. Onassis as a "public sinner" and as such she is barred from receiving the sacraments, such as confession, communion and extreme unction. She may still attend Mass, however.

★ ★ ★

These sources said the church does not consider the former first lady married to Onassis because it does not recognize his divorce and still considers him married to his first wife, the former Tina Livanos. The first Mrs. Onassis is now married to the Marquess of Blandford, a Briton.

ALTERNATIVES

Canon lawyers said there are two courses open to the former Mrs. Kennedy if she wants to get back in the good graces of her church: leave Onassis and receive absolution, or get a ruling from the church courts that his first marriage is invalid and marry him in the Roman church.

There has been speculation that Cardinal Cushing arranged some sort of agreement for the Vatican to accept the Kennedy-Onassis marriage last weekend, but lawyers at the Vatican said they had no knowledge of anything like that.

★ ★ ★

The Vatican's press spokesman indicated the Vatican would have nothing to say about the cardinal's remarks.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Onassis and her multimillionaire Greek husband continued to honeymoon on his private island in the Ionian Sea and went for a swim in a secluded cove Wednesday.

NO SIGNS

Crew activity aboard Onassis' yacht Christina appeared at a minimum, leading to speculation the newlyweds planned to stay for a while on the island.

Mrs. Onassis and her 62-year-old husband appeared on deck shortly after lunch and drove to the cove. Mrs. Onassis wore a yellow one-piece bathing suit and petaled cap.

★ ★ ★

The storms that raged over the tree-studded island during the wedding had blown away and the sun was warm.

The Washington Post reported that Onassis' wedding gift to his new wife was a "priceless set of heart-shaped rubies surrounded by diamonds" which Paris newspapers reported was valued at $1.2 million.

Party Is Announced

Oakland County Alano Center will host a Halloween Party for adults and children from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday at 1143 Joslyn Street. Hot dogs and cider will be served.

Soviet-American

International Exchange Is Fashionable

MOSCOW (UPI)—Fashion speaks an international language.

The fact showed clearly here when the Soviet's leading designers showed some of their new styles to U.S. women and the American women did the same for their Russian audience.

All the fashions could well have carried labels from Los Angeles or New York or Paris or Rome or London or Moscow. Any idea that haute couture is just a phrase, not a reality in the Soviet, is all wrong.

★ ★ ★

What is correct, however, is that all the creations dreamed up by the Russians do not seep into the mass market. But then, the fact applies to a degree also in the United States. How many of the masses of American women have yet dared Paris's latest see-through dress tops?

★ ★ ★

The style "cultural exchange" occurred at the House of Fashion, an elegantly impressive building whose first floor houses samples of the whole range of ready-to-wear, for men, women and children.

★ ★ ★

It was on an upper floor with chandeliered lighting that the two-way style show was presented. The U.S. models were a dozen of the 60 prominent women on a tour of Eastern European countries for a private and unofficial "woman to woman" exchange.

The American women, many with experience in charity fashion shows back home, showed portions of their own wardrobes.

★ ★ ★

Russian professional mannequins, in turn, paraded a wide range of styles representative of what the House of Fashion's 64 designers have created for next spring.

Applause getters from America included:

● A splashily patterned black and white tweed coat, shown with knee boots in patent, worn by Mrs. George (Barbara) Vucanovich, of Reno, Nev., who was selected by Gov. Paul Laxalt to represent the state in the U.S. delegation.

★ ★ ★

● A brown leather miniskirted jumper with double-breasted brass button closings, worn with long-sleeved and horizontally striped knit blouse in gold and red tones, modelled by Judith Swearingen, of New York, an executive with a programming sciences firm.

● A short white brocade sheath with white mink cuffs and boa collar, modelled by Mrs. Harold H. (Jeanne) Hopper, of Hillsborough, the wife of an internist-clinical instructor in medicine at Stanford Medical School.

● Camel-colored wool pants suit with orange scarf for travel, modelled by Mrs. James C. (Elizabeth) Greene, of Pasadena, Calif., wife of a prominent Los Angeles attorney.

● And a blue and green flecked tweed travel coat with wide self-belt, shown with black patent boots, and part of the wardrobe of Mrs. Thomas C. (Pat) Lynch, wife of the attorney general of California.

Impressive about the Soviet designs were the fabrics, many of them synthetics and all from Soviet mills; the bright colors that have caught on in Moscow as in the rest of the world; their skill with furs, as shown in a golden nutria coat with huge shawl collar of white fox; and the fact that the mini-skirt isn't here, although hemlines for day are above the knees.

"We're a little more conservative," said one House of Fashion source.

About the midis, or midcalf length currently popular in the Western world? "Well, they're hardly new with us."

Laughter, for Russian women are used to bundling well against the cold.

AP Wirephoto

Consumers to Have Their Day and Say

On Nov. 4, 5, and 6, Detroit area homemakers will have an opportunity to examine and evaluate a number of new products. The occasion is a series of duplicate meetings of Michigan State University's Consumer Preference Panel.

Sessions will be held at Consumer's Power Company, 4000 Coolidge Highway, Royal Oak, at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 4; at Westland Shopping Center, at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on Nov. 5; and at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 6.

Local panelists, many of whom are members and guests of the Informed Food Shoppers Group, an organization developed by the Consumer Marketing Program in Detroit, together with residents chosen from a random telephone sample from the greater Detroit area, will become part of the University's state-wide panel.

As a continuing and important part of the Consumer Marketing Program, this Preference Panel offers consumers a way of registering their opinions and preferences concerning new food products, as well as evaluating proposed changes in the form of packaging of familiar foods and other agriculture products.

* * *

Opinions of panelists, after tabulation on the University's computer are analyzed by Marketing Specialists and reported to Michigan's food industry.

* * *

The panel, sponsored by Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, brings Hildegard Hesse, Detroit District Consumer Marketing Agent, and Mary Zehner, Marketing Specialist of Michigan State University, together.

Miss Hesse reports, "The women really enjoy the experience! So much enthusiasm is exerted in the excitement of judging the food products, the only trouble we have is keeping everyone from 'talking over' their decisions while the testing is going on."

Women Say TV Must Police Self

WASHINGTON, D. C. — While commending Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, for the recently adopted film rating system, the Sixth Congress of Career Women Leaders urged producers, sponsors and networks to eliminate crime, violence, and immorality on television.

The text of the resolution, adopted at the Congress seminars on Safety and Crime Prevention held recently at the Mayflower Hotel is as follows:

* * *

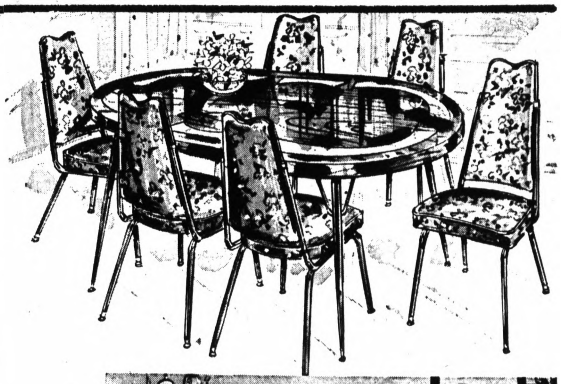

"Resolved that this group record its protest at the objectionable material and demoralizing influence of many TV programs and motion pictures. We express our determination and ask the support of TV producers, sponsors, and networks to de-emphasize and eliminate questionable programs and subjects.

* * *

"It is particularly important that such programs be discouraged at the times of day when young people and children are a large part of the audience.

"We commend the recent decision of the Motion Picture Association of America and its president, Jack Valenti, to develop a system for rating motion pictures in terms of their moral acceptability."

Illinois Guard Gets Enlisted Woman

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP) — The first enlisted woman in the Illinois Air National Guard says there are advantages in being the only female among the 950 men of her unit.

"I get treated like a queen, not just another airman basic," says vivacious Cathleen Kovacs, 20, of Arlington Heights.

★ ★ ★

She was sworn in recently as an administrative specialist in the 126th Supply Squadron, headquartered at O'Hare International Airport.

"They put flowers on my desk, which they'd never do for another fellow . . . and they sure do clean up their language when I'm around," she said.

Cathy was first in line when the Air National Guard authorized enlistment of women July 1, but will have to wait until January before she undergoes basic training.

"This long a lag is unusual," she said, "but it's because I'm the first woman to join up and processing is a whole new procedure."

★ ★ ★

There are other women in the guard, but since nurses enter as commissioned officers, Cathy is the lone female enlistee in Illinois.

A 5-foot-8, blue-eyed brunette, she is among five women in the country who have enlisted in the Air National Guard since July 1. Others have enlisted in California, Connecticut, Missouri and New York, said Maj. Phil Gunby, public information officer.

TRAIN WITH WAFS

Like the nurses, Cathy will take six weeks of basic training with the WAFS at Lackland Air Force base in San Antonio, Tex. Then she'll travel to Mississippi fo a 3½-month tour of active duty at a technical-administrative school and return to college in the fall.

The National Guard is a family tradition for the Kovacs. Cathy's father, Joseph, 46, is a colonel and director of operations at O'Hare, where her brother, Lawrence, 19, is an airman first class. When she was sworn in Aug. 14, her father — a 27-year guard veteran, did the honors.

★ ★ ★

Cathy says guard duty is a way of demonstrating her patriotism by "doing something for the country."

She plans to teach high school English after she graduates from college while maintaining her guard activities. "I'll only have to put in two weeks active duty every summer while I'm on vacation from school."

SHE'S IN THE GUARD — Cathleen Kovacs, 20, of Arlington Heights, Ill., is shown with a classmate, ROTC David Hook, at Western Illinois University in Macomb. Miss Kovacs is an administrative specialist in the 126th Supply Squadron of the Illinois National Guard and the only woman among 950 men in the unit.

Vehicle Plates Sales Near

Notice to procrastinators!

Your opportunity to begin putting off the purchase of 1969 Michigan passenger vehicle license plates will come Nov. 15.

* * *

Thus, you may initiate plans to be among the thousands of your fellows lined up outside various secretary of state branch offices Feb. 28 for 11th-hour efforts to avoid being ticketed for outdated plates.

However, should you live up to the resolution you made in that line last February, shivering in the cold wind and blowing snow, there are some facts you might use.

PURCHASING PLACES

Northern Oakland County branch office purchasing places will be 96 E. Huron in Pontiac, 4520 Pontiac Lake Road in Waterford Township, 329 Walnut in Rochester and 141 E. Walled Lake Drive in Walled Lake.

Money, in the form of cash, payroll checks or cashier checks, but not personal checks, will be acceptable in different denominations - per - vehicle this year.

* * *

No longer will "bug" or small sports car owners get away with relatively light fees.

The scale begins with a minimum fee of $12 for vehicles weighing up to 2,150 pounds. Those weighing 2,151 to 2,250 pounds will bring a $12.10 fee.

ADDED FEE

Larger cars will cost 55 cents per 100 pounds from that point on the scale.

An additional $1 fee is levied for each driver for the state's Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund if he carries liability insurance. A $35 fee is levied if he is not so insured.

Office hours will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturdays.

* * *

The basic fee scale:

Weight	Cost
2,150 and below	$12.00
2,151-2,250	$12.10

Meany Fires Head of Wayne AFL-CIO

DETROIT (AP) — Russell Leach a former United Auto Workers official, has been ousted from the presidency of the Wayne County AFL-CIO by AFL-CIO president George Meany, Detroit labor leaders disclosed Thursday.

Leach had indicated earlier he planned to quit the post and return to the UAW, but Meany's action came as a surprise. The directive is effective Oct. 31.

Meany has reportedly held Leach responsible in part for limited financial contributions to the county council since the UAW was ordered out of the AFL-CIO nationally last summer.

Indian Powwow Set for Weekend at Elk Rapids

ELKD RAPIDS (AP) —An all-Indian powwow, the first in several years to be held in northwestern Michigan, will attract tribes of the Great Lakes region to Elk Rapids Saturday and Sunday.

The meeting is sponsored by the Chippewa, Ottawa and Potawatami tribes of the Grand Traverse area.

Many other tribes such as the Sioux, Cherokee, Oneida, Mohawk and Taso-Pueblo also will be represented.

Tribal dancing, ceremonies and exhibits of Indian culture will be features of the powwow.

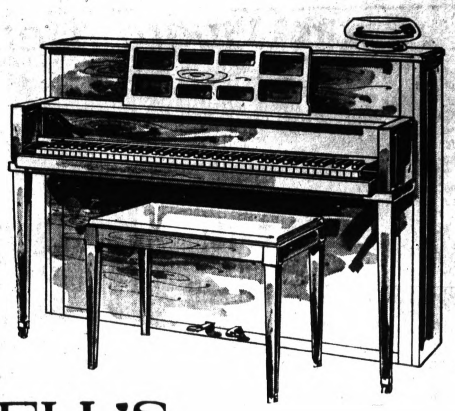

Bus Kills Boy

LANSING (AP) —A 5-year-old Lansing boy, Dennis Dryan, was killed Thursday when he was struck by a school bus on Lansing's south side. Police said the boy had just gotten off the bus and apparently darted in front of it as it began to move.

Is your home going to turn into a desert this winter?

A lot of homes will.

In wintertime, people in houses with flame-type heating wake up mornings with that stuffed-up feeling. With hoarse, dry throats. Furniture dries out and starts creaking.

Sound familiar? You bet it does. The best way to stop it is with electric heat.

You see, electric heat isn't a dry or drying heat. So you usually don't need a humidifier. The moisture from bathing and cooking is all you need for natural comfort.

An Edison-Approved Electric Heating Contractor will be glad to tell you all about comfortable, moisture-retaining electric heat. He'll figure your operating cost, and explain the operating cost guarantee. And right now, your contractor's offering a $100 trade-in on your old heating system. Call him for a no-obligation electric heat survey. He's listed in the Yellow Pages under "Electric Heating Equipment and Systems."

He'll show you how to turn your desert into an oasis.

Lawn and Garden News

CERTIFICATE OF MERIT — Whites Nursery of 71 S. Cass Lake, Waterford Township; earned an American Association of Nurserymen's certificate of merit for its work on the F. Joseph Lamb Co. building, Warren. Scott, Prote, Krause & Associates was the landscape architect and also received a certificate of merit.

AWARD — Scott, Prote, Krause & Associates of 27 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Hills; received an American Association of Nurserymen's award yesterday in Washington on its landscape design for the central office of Chrysler Corp., Highland Park.

Remontant Iris Blooms in Fall

Spring is iris time in most home gardens, but there is at least one variety that blooms in the spring and fall. It is the Remontant Iris, known for three centuries.

John Gerard, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth I, made woodcuts of this iris in his "Herbal," perhaps the first real English flower book. The Herbal showed Iris BiFlors and Iris Violaces.

The first Remontants reportedly were intermediate, crossing of dwarfs with tall bearded. But the tall bearded returned to pupularity.

For good bloom, the Remontants must be fed heavily in spring and summer with bone meal, 5-10-10 and super phosphate — manure dug in well, advised Mrs. Frederick Walther of Upper Montclair, N.J., who did much to develop fine iris.

* * *

Dr. Percy Brown of Massachusetts has been one of the leaders in producing new varieties of Remontant, and before him was Jacob Sass of Nebraska.

Lloyd Zubrigg developed "Northern Spy," which Mrs. Walther said "really resembles the Northern Spy apple," with white background and red splashes.

Among outstanding Remontant gardens are Presby in Upper Montclair, N.J.; Cooley's in Silverton, Ore.; Robert Schreiner's in Salem, Ore.; Dr. William Garvey's in Oswego, N.Y.; Percy Brown's in Barre, Mass. and Edwin Rundlett's in Staten Island, N.Y.

Area Firms Receive National Recognition

Two area businesses were honored yesterday as Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson presented national landscape awards and merit certificates at the American Association of Nurserymen's Annual Landscape Awards Program in Washington.

James C. Scott representing Scott, Prote, Krause & Associates of 27 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Hills; received both an award and a certificate of merit.

* * *

Receiving the certificate of merit on the behalf of Whites Nursery of 71 S. Cass Lake, Waterford Township was Harold E. White.

The program, now in its 16th year, is credited for playing a major role in causing business to be aware of its responsibility to make industry a pleasing addition to the community.

"Beautification makes good business sense," said Robert F. Lederer, executive vice president of the association. "And previous award recipients attest to the fact that an attractive environment not only wins greater public affection, but also increases the profit potential of a business."

Any industrial or commercial business, institution or municipality is eligible to participate in the program.

Garden Center Sets Workshop Agenda

The Detroit Garden Center, 133 E. Grand River, Detroit lists its fall workshop schedule. Workshops begin at 10 a.m. and run until 3 p.m.

Mrs. Stanley Brown will instruct the Oct. 30 program, "Christmas Angels."

On the agenda for Nov. 7 is "Candles and Wooden Plates," small arrangements, under the guidence of Mrs. J. T. Craig.

Discussing "Holiday Arrangements in Unusual Containers" is the subject of the Nov. 13 meeting with Mrs. Harold Brown will head the group.

Plant Lawn in Autumn

Fall is not only the best time of year to plant new lawns and renovate old ones — it's also the best time of year to weed the lawn.

Any product containing 2, 4-D will kill most broad-leaved weeds. Many others will die when a combination of 2,4-D and 2, 4, 5-T is used instead of the 2, 4-D alone.

Be sure you keep one sprayer for weed killers only. Or, use the granular products that can be applied with a fertilizer spreader.

To Eat or Not to Eat That Is the Question

There are two kinds of chestnuts, one can be used for roasting on an open fire or stuffing your Thanksgiving turkeys, the other is not edible.

The chestnut famed in song and sonnet for its delicious flavor is the Castanea dentata, a true chestnut which belongs to the beech family.

The other chestnut is the horse chestnut, a name given to a nut once believed to cure shortwindedness and caughing of horses. They are bitter and can have dire results if eaten raw.

GROW YOUR OWN — The Cleveland School Garden program offers youngsters like this one an opportunity to grow a garden and to show off the results in an autumn show held in his own school.

Harvest Time Gives Gardeners a Boost

Show-offs, that's what gardeners are, whether they are youngsters or grownups. They work along all season, growing vegetables and flowers, and then comes harvest.

Not all at once, of course, for all along they've been picking and their families have been using vegetables and flowers. But, later in the season comes the real payoff — vegetables and flowers galore.

There wouldn't be any flower shows or harvest shows if gardeners weren't ready and willing to exhibit the results of their labors. Just think what a loss that would be to the community!

* * *

Good natured competition never hurt anyone and each ribbon, if it isn't blue, makes a gardener want to try a bit harder next year.

After all, the aim of gardening is to produce what's needed to delight the eye and the stomach. Children of either sex love to arrange flowers and will eat, with gusto, the vegetables they produce themselves.

And grownups love to deprecate their efforts. Instead of the fisherman's "you should have seen the one that got away," they say "mine were much bigger last year" or "earlier in the season" and, of course, they always tell visitors "you should have seen my garden last week."

* * *

Is it unworthy for a gardener to be a show-off? No, for showing off is just a small part of the game and the hours of work outdoors in fresh air and sunshine are the other, greater part.

The two together make gardening the increasingly popular hobby it is — ranking third among hobbies in the United States.

Sweet Odor of Spring

Hyacinths should be a part of every spring garden. They have stately beauty and the unparalleled "fragrance of spring." They can be planted almost anywhere. A complete bed is a welcome addition to any landscape. Or, plant them in groups of a dozen or more (of the same color) in and among the shrubs around the house. They will give color before the other plants bloom.

* * *

In addition to the white, soft pastel blue and pink colors, for which hyacinths have long been loved by gardeners, modern varieties come in exciting strong shades — red, deep purple, yellow and orange are a few examples.

* * *

Three or four dozen hyacinth bulbs planted this fall near an entrance or window will give the house a sweet fragrance next spring.

It is possible to have flowers in bloom during the entire spring season by planting a selection of different kinds of bulbs. some Dutch bulbs, like Snowdrops, will bloom in March.

Don't Let Borer Toll Death Knell

Check your peach trees, dogwood and locust trees. If the leaves are dying back, borers may be invading your prize specimens.

Look near the base of the tree near the ground level, if you find a small hole surrounded by a sticky mass — you've found the invader.

* * *

Though it's too late to control the borer now, the trees can be helped. Cut out the dead or affected branches and in November fertilize the tree with a good, balanced fertilizer to promote root growth.

This will provide a boost for spring and get the tree or shrub off to a vigorous start.

GLENWOOD PLAZA — NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

PINCH OF SAGE — The leaves of common sage are used for seasoning in many foods and for a delicious tea, good for a spring tonic.

Distinctive Sage Plant Adds Color to Gardens

Common sage is a well-known, widely used herb that is sufficiently strong and distinctive in flavor so a little goes a long way.

Thus, the directions in cookbooks read, "Use just a pinch of sage."

★ ★ ★

Added to stews, sausage, stuffing for duck or goose (but too strong for chicken stuffing) or used in cooking salt fish or pork, sage adds a "certain something" to the dish.

It can even be used sparingly in vegetables, but most cooks consider sage too strong or use in salads.

GARDEN ACCENT

Not only is sage used in cooking, but it also is used in gardens where its gray leaves and light purple blossoms are a beautiful sight.

Sage plants grow about 2 feet tall and, in 4-5 years, become woody and less attractive. Then it's time to discard them and grow new plants.

★ ★ ★

This is easy to do from seeds sown in autumn or in early spring. Sow in rows or broadcast seeds, as you prefer. They'll sprout promptly.

When the seedlings are 2 to 3 inches high, thin them to stand from 12 to 18 inches apart. This spacing allows for the size of mature plants.

PROTECT

In cold climates, protect the plants by covering them with straw for the winter. Prune in early spring, just as the new leaves appear. Cut away all dead twigs.

★ ★ ★

Harvest the leaves you wish to dry for cooking from tender young shoots, near the top of the plant. Cut off the top 3 inches of stem before the plant blooms.

When plants are older, 2 to 3 pickings a season are possible. Fresh leaves can be taken from plants any time.

Tie shoot tips in a clean, white cloth bag and hang it over the stove. Dried quickly, leaves will retain color and flavor.

Remove leaves from stems and pack in tightly corked bottles or pulverize leaves and store the same way for future use.

Use care in storing pesticides. Put them in a safe place preferably in a locked cabinet.

Fescues Thrive in Shady Spot

Grass seed mixtures that contain a high percentage of fescue should do well in shady situations.

★ ★ ★

Among the most popular varieties are Pennlawn, Chewings and Illabee.

Fescues Like Shady Areas

The turfgrass varieties best adapted to a shaded lawn and the reasons why other varieties cannot survive under shaded conditions have been pinpointed by a Michigan State University scientist.

Dr. James Beard, MSU turfgrass researcher, says Pennlawn creeping red fescue is the best species for shaded sites.

★ ★ ★

While Pennlawn can be severely thinned by leafspot disease, it usually recovers from the injury and develops into an adequate turf, he says.

★ ★ ★

A major contribution to turfgrass research was made by Beard and his colleagues when they discovered the actual cause of grass death under shaded conditions was not due to a lack of sunlight, as previously believed. Their studies show that the real cause is a more favorable environment for disease-producing microorganisms, plus a lack of disease-resistant varieties.

For example, permanent loss of Kentucky bluegrass has been caused by powdery mildew which is severe under shaded conditions.

Beard is currently working with other scientists to develop new varieties that will thrive when grown in the shade. He says there is a definite need for this kind of variety, since about 25 per cent of Michigan's turf acreage is under some degree of shade.

Cut Seedlings at Three Inches

Do not cut new lawn grass until the shoots are a minimum of three inches high.

By this time the root systems of the fledgling plants are strong enough to absorb the shock of cutting.

MONEY PLANT — The silver membranes of money plant are exposed to view by carefully removing the brown skin on either side of each silver oval.

Money Grows on This Particular Plant

You've undoubtedly been told that money does not grow on trees, but it does grow on one particular plant, commonly known by a good many different names: money plant, silver penny, honesty, Pope's penny, penny plant.

★ ★ ★

Choose the one you like the best, but do try to grow your own "money."

★ ★ ★

Seeds of this interesting plant can be sown this fall or in early spring. If your climate will permit the plants to come up this fall, better put the seeds in now. For money plant is a biennial and produces only the leaves the first year — blooms by and grows money the second year.

★ ★ ★

By fall seeding, you save a year. This plant thrives in shade as well as sun and is beautiful in flower; the blooms a deep, red-purple. Don't pick them for you'd just be picking off your money.

★ ★ ★

When flowers fade the seed-pods form; flat, oval, and covered with thin, brown "skin," under which are the seeds, attached to a silver membrane. This membrane is the ornamental part of the plant which can be used, dried, for winter decorations.

The silver pennies are borne on sturdy stems and need not be removed from them. The entire stem with all its membranes laid bare can be used as a unit.

★ ★ ★

An arrangement of money plant stems alone is interesting but prettier arrangements by far are made when only a few stems are used for height and line, while rounded heads of strawflowers or some similar plant give weight at the base.

★ ★ ★

You'll enjoy the interest your pennies create among your friends. Perhaps you can buy each a packet of seeds and start them growing their own money.

Shrub Border Plan for Continuous Color

Your shrub borders need not be devoid of bloom in summer. With a few additions you can have color all season long.

Perhaps, the best kown of the summer-blooming shrubs is the butterfly-bush or buddleia which grows 4 to 6 feet tall and blooms in mid to late summer. In the most northern states it dies to the ground and comes up again each spring — although so late you are often tempted to give up hope.

★ ★ ★

Pink, blue, lavender, and white are the principal colors of the flower clusters which look like elongated lilac heads. At the season's end cut the old stems to the ground to leave place for the next years'. The flowers are very sweetly-scented and attract many butterflies, hence the common name.

Possibly, the next best known is the woody hibiscus, H. syriacus, which produces large, bell-shaped blooms of red, pink, bluish or white on plants that can eventually reach a height of 15 feet in good soil. Fully hardy, the flowers can be almost as large as those of the perennial form.

Completely dependable, its only requirement being an occasional thinning of the too-thick branches.

FOR FRAGRANCE

For another, and one with a very sweet fragrance try the clethra or summer-sweet, a native of the eastern states, especially in damp spots. The white clusters, somewhat like those of the wild cherry are exceedly sweet and last over a long period in mid-summer.

For sandy, gravelly spots or other poor soil, as well as for garden conditions, one can't go wrong with the Japanese beach rose, often sold as Rosa rugosa. The single or double, white or deep pink flowers are plentiful and followed by large orange fruits.

★ ★ ★

Golden yellow flowers in July and August mark the hypericums, also tolerant of poor soils. Various sorts exist growing from 18 inches to 3 feet in height.

For a dainty effect 6 to 10 feet high try the vitex or chaste tree. Coming in lavender-blue or white, the flowers look like those of the perennial veronica.

TALLER

Taller and more tree like are the stewartias, franklinias, smokebushes, and sourwoods — all attractive and worth looking into.

In all cases prepare the soil well, spading or forking at least two spades deep (not including the handles) and plant in early spring or fall.

★ ★ ★

Work in plenty of long-lasting plant food — the new 3-year packets are good — and hoe to loosen the soil and eliminate weeds whenever necessary. Water as needed but not excessively.

Pruning Hints for Gardeners

"How to Prune Almost Everything" (M. Barrows & Co.), by John Philip Baumgardt, instructs in pruning of more than 300 plants, the common, the rare, trees, shrubs, vines, perennials and fruits, grown in warm and cold areas.

There is an A to Z section to facilitate finding treatment for your favorite plant. Burrows tells you why, how, when and where to prune.

SEN. FRANK CHURCH

Idaho Dove Fights for His Senate Seat

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — An Idaho Democrat generally classified among the doves on Vietnam is in a tight fight to retain his seat in the U.S. Senate.

But Sen. Frank Church, at age 44 seeking his third six-year term, is seen as the likely winner over his Republican challenger, Rep. George V. Hansen.

* * *

Hansen, 38, gave up what most political observers regarded as certain reelection to Congress to challenge Church.

In contrast to Church's dovish label, Hansen generally is rated a hawk on Vietnam.

FIRST MISTAKE

However, both Church and Hansen say it was a mistake to send American troops to Vietnam in the first place.

Hansen criticizes conduct of the war now, asserting that this nation has set up sanctuaries which threaten the security of American troops in Vietnam. He says military commanders should be free to use all the facilities they have against whatever targets they wish.

Church says he favors gradual withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam, with the task of fighting North Vietnam being turned over to the South Vietnamese.

Church says his concern over foreign policy goes beyond Vietnam.

NO ISOLATIONIST

"I do not propose swinging the pendulum back to ostrich-like isolationism," he says.

* * *

Hansen calls Church a big spender.

"The financial backbone of a democracy," Hansen says, "is sound money and a sound economy. This nation is debt-ridden."

Church has emphasized the seniority advantage he would have over Hansen.

FIRST DEM REELECTED

Church was elected to the Senate at age 32. He was the first Democratic senator in Idaho's history to win reelection to a second term.

He is an attorney and practiced law in Boise prior to his election to the Senate.

* * *

Hansen has served two terms in the House. He was in the insurance business in Pocatello prior to his election.

Church was the object of a short-lived recall movement in 1967. There has been no mention of it in the election campaign.

WALLACE BACKER

One of those active in that effort was Joseph Stumph Jr. of Twin Falls, now the Idaho state chairman of George Wallace's American Independent Party.

At its organizing convention, the AIP did not nominate a candidate for senator, but endorsed Hansen. Hansen says he welcomes the AIP support as long as there are no strings attached. He says there are none.

* * *

Both men are natives of Idaho. Church was born in Boise, Hansen in the tiny eastern Idaho farming community of Tetonia.

Both men are good speakers, although Church is the more accomplished orator.

REP. GEORGE HANSEN

Both Squads Still Unbeaten in Big 10 Play

ANN ARBOR (AP) — More will be at stake than the traditional Little Brown Jug when Michigan plays host to the Gophers of Minnesota in a homecoming football game in Ann Arbor Saturday.

The Little Brown Jug is the trophy in one of the nation's oldest football rivalries, dating back to 1892. The teams have played each other every year since 1920 and in the total series, the Wolverines have won 34, lost 22 and tied three. Last year, Minnesota defeated Michigan 20-15.

★ ★ ★

But this time around the real interest in the game will be the fight for leadership of the Big Ten. Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio State are locked in three-way tie for first place in the conference with 2-0 records.

The winner of the game will either move into undisputed possession of the lead or, more likely, into a tie with Ohio State, which is heavily favored to defeat Illinois.

THREE VICTORIES

Michigan Coach Bump Elliott said the Gophers have strength which belies their 3-2 season record. Minnesota has lost to top-ranked Southern California and to a strong Nebraska squad and has defeated Wake Forest, Illinois and Michigan State.

The Wolverine season record stands at 4-1.

Elliott predicts the Wolverines will have a tough game against Minnesota. "We are not a team that walks all over anybody," he said. "We have to take each one as it comes. We are not an overwhelming team."

★ ★ ★

The game is a vital one for both teams. The Gophers were Big Ten cochampions last year, but missed a Rose Bowl trip because cochampion Indiana had never gone. Michigan, which has been surprisingly strong this season, has visions of its first Big Ten title since 1964.

FUTURE TROUBLE

But Minnesota must still play Purdue and Michigan must play Ohio State. A loss for either team this week would probably put them out of contention.

★ ★

The victory is especially important for the Wolverines, since if they tie for the conference championship with either Minnesota or Ohio State, they would not go to the Rose Bowl.

★ ★ ★

Elliott says the Wolverines are ready for the game. He also says all injured players, including flanker Paul Staroba, who has been sidelined for two games with a shoulder separation, will be ready to play.

AP Wirephoto

HANGING ON — Reclaiming this prized Little Brown Jug won't be easy, but Michigan's Wolverines will try to do just that tomorrow when they play host to the Gophers of Minnesota. Holding onto the jug is Milt Holmgren, equipment manager for the Gophers since 1947. Minnesota took possession last year with a 20-15 victory in Minneapolis.

Blues Break Ice With Late Flurry, Take Loop Lead

By United Press International

One quick outburst lifted the St. Louis Blues into first place Thursday night in the National Hockey League's Western Division.

The Blues, blanked for the first 55 minutes, seemed on the verge of being shut out by Boston Bruins' goalie Ed Johnston when they erupted for two goals in a 28-second span to record a 2-1 come-from-behind triumph.

★ ★ ★

In the only other NHL game, Philadelphia rallied for two third period goals to tie Minnesota 3-3.

★ ★ ★

Gary Sabourin collected his fourth goal of the season with just 4:49 left in the game to enable the Blues to tie the Bruins 1-1. Then 28 seconds later, former Bruin Ab McDonald connected to give St. Louis the victory. Bobby Orr scored the only Boston goal.

★ ★ ★

Trailing 3-1 in the final period, Philadelphia got goals from Gary Dornhoefer at 6:42 and Earl Heiskala at 15:57 of the final period to gain the deadlock. Claude LaRose, Milan Marcetta and Gene Paul Parise scored for Minnesota.

Michigan Wolverines Taking on Kentucky in Cage Invitational

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — Michigan meets host Kentucky and Army faces Bradley in opening round action of the University of Kentucky Invitational basketball tournament Dec. 20-21.

College basketball's winningest coach, Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, Thursday announced the pairings for the tourney.

★ ★ ★

The three visiting teams will be making their first appearance in the tournament, a traditional sellout at Memorial Coliseum.

The host Wildcats last year defeated Dayton and South Carolina for their 10th title in 15 tournaments.

Top Grid Plum

Jug Stirs Rivalry

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Milt Holmgren placed a prized case Thursday among University of Minnesota uniforms, helmets and other football gear for the airplane flight to Detroit Friday.

In the case was a stone water jug, perhaps the most fabled of all college football trophies.

★ ★ ★

The Little Brown Jug goes to the winner of the Michigan-Minnesota football game. Minnesota defends its right to possess the jug Saturday in Ann Arbor against the 12th-ranked Wolverines.

Holmgren, equipment manager at Minnesota since 1947, has been custodian of the jug since the 1967 season when Minnesota beat Michigan 20-15 in Minneapolis.

"We have kept it under lock and key since then," Holmgren said. "It will be sitting right by our bench Saturday. If we win, we'll take it back home with us. Usually, the team that wins just rushes over and takes it."

The jug isn't brown at all. The school colors of the two rivals, maize and blue for Michigan and maroon and gold for Minnesota, are on the jug. The scores of every game since the two teams began battling for the jug are painted on it.

★ ★ ★

This is how it all started:

The Michigan trainer forgot the stone water jug in Minneapolis in 1903 after the teams tied 6-6. When Michigan Coach Fielding Yost asked Minnesota authorities to return the jug, he was told to come and get it.

★ ★ ★

Since then, Michigan has won The Little Brown Jug classic 32 times, lost 19 and tied in three.

In Holmgren's 21-year tenure, the Gophers have won eight games, lost 12 and tied one.

DUPLICATE STOLEN

Holmgren says there is little chance for pranksters to swipe the jug. It has been kept in one of three Minnesota equipment rooms. Minnesota has a duplicate on display in a trophy case. The duplicate was stolen several years ago, but later retrieved.

"I've got the real one right here in the case if I want to see it," Holmgren said. "It will be on our bench Saturday."

★ ★ ★

This year's Little Brown Jug winner not only will get the prized water jar but also will hold at least a share of first place in the Big Ten race. Minnesota and Michigan are 2-0 in the conference.

★ ★ ★

"We hope to take it home with us Saturday," Holmgren said. "It is one of the biggest trophies in football."

Highlanders After State Harrier Title

The Highlanders of Highland Lakes campus of Oakland Community College go after cross-country honors in the Michigan Community and Junior College Athletic Conference tomorrow.

There are 18 schools in the meet and the Highlanders are playing the role of host. The event is slated to open at 11 a.m.

The Highlanders are among the favorites, but topping the list is Henry Ford Community College, the only team to defeat Highland Lakes (21-1) during the regular season. Among the other contenders are Delta and Flint.

Freshman Roger Cleaver of Highland Lakes heads the list of favorites in the race for individual honors.

Miss Mann Facing Tough Odds in Bid to Top Win Mark

CONROE, Tex. (UPI) — Time and tournaments are running out on Carol Mann's bid to surpass another of the many records Mickey Wright posted among the lady pro golfers before she decided to go into semi-retirement.

Miss Mann, the willowy blonde New Yorker, teed off as the early favorite today in the $12,500 River Plantation Golf and Country Club Invitational with 10 tour triumphs to her credit and with but five more 1968 stops in which to beat Miss Wright's total of 13 in one year.

Yank Cager Ailing as Title Tilt Nears

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States basketball team was more worried about Montezuma's Revenge today than it was about Yugoslavia, the Yanks' rival in the 1968 Olympic basketball showdown tonight.

Montezuma's Revenge is the nickname tagged by foreigners on diarrhea, and towering Spencer Haywood was hit by the ailment Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

"I think he'll play, but he's real sick," said Coach Hank Iba, whose attack hinges on the rebounding and shooting of the 6-foot-8 junior college star from Detroit.

"We hope he'll be all right by gametime," added Iba, who is out to keep intact the United State's record of never having lost an Olympic basketball game.

The Americans with a healthy Haywood are solid favorites. Without the flashy youngster the odds on the Yanks would drop sharply.

This game, scheduled for 11:30 p.m., EDT, is a rematch, the USA having drubbed Yugoslavia 73-58 in the first round. It will be televised live to the United States in color by ABC.

★ ★ ★

The Slavs upset mighty Russia in the semifinals and now here they are preparing to contest the USA as it goes after its 75th straight Olympic triumph without a single defeat.

Coach Ranko Zeravica of Yugoslavia is conceding that the USA not only is a better team but that he doubts he can get his men back up after their suprising 63-62 victory over Russia.

Iba says he has no trouble along the latter line — "when they are playing for the gold medal there is no reason for not being up psychologically."

NO LONG WAIT

Of course Iba doesn't face the problem of Coach Zeravica — his team hasn't had to wait a long time to beat a traditional rival.

Zeravica also observed that the USA was subject to change in its type of play and that he felt Iba would bring out something quite new.

"The USA has so many variations," he said.

★ ★ ★

The USA has six players 6-foot-6 or better, the tallest being Ken Spain, who is 6-9. Haywood, who has collected 129 points, is 6-8. Bill Hosket, James King and Don Dee are each 6-7.

Against this array of tall men Yugoslavia matches Zoran Maroevic, 6-8¼; Trajko Rajkovic, 6-8¼; Cosic Kresimer, 6-8¾; Damir Solman, 6-6¼; and Zorgan Alojosa, 6-6¾.

The top scorer for Yugoslavia has been Radijoj Korac, who has tallied 100 points, and Ivo Daneu with 83. Korac is 6-5¼, Daneu 6-0.

Winless Illini on OSU Menu

By the Associated Press

First it was Purdue. Now it's Illinois' turn to tackle Woody Hayes in the college Football Memory Game. And Illinois is expected to miss, just as Purdue did, when the winless Illini face second-ranked Ohio State Saturday.

A 17-13 Illinois victory knocked Ohio State out of a share of the Big Ten title last year and a possible trip to the Rose Bowl. Purdue also upset the Buckeyes to provide State's only other 1967 Big Ten loss, a 41-6 thrashing.

★ ★ ★

The Buckeyes, reminded by Coach Hayes of last year's debacle, beat then top-ranked Purdue 13-0 two weeks ago. All Illinois appears to have going in its favor to combat Hayes' memory is the fact it will be playing before a homecoming crowd.

If State's speed, strength, sturdy defense—and Hayes' memory—prevail, the Buckeyes could move into first place in The Associated Press Poll. No. 1 Southern California is idle this weekend.

OTHER GAMES

In other Top Ten action, Michigan States faces fifth-ranked Notre Dame; third-ranged Kansas tangles with Iowa State; fourth-ranked Penn State meets Boston College; seventh-ranked Purdue tackles Iowa; eighth-ranked Georgia clashes with Kentucky; ninth-ranked Miami of Florida plays Auburn and 10th-ranked Syracuse takes on 11th-ranked California.

★ ★ ★

In other Saturday games, 13th-ranked Texas, will be at Rice in a night game; 14thranked Missouri travels to Kansas State; 15th-ranked Florida, will be at Vanderbilt; 16th-ranked Arkansas will entertain North Texas State in a night game in Little Rock; 17th-ranked Mississippi will play host to Houston in Jackson; 18th-ranked Louisiana State plays at home against Texas Christian at night; 19th-ranked Texas Tech tackles Southern Methodist and 20th-ranked Florida State tangles with South Carolina at night.

Duffy Sending Sophomore QB Against Irish

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty has decided to start a sophomore quarterback against Notre Dame Saturday.

Bill Triplett, who performed well although his team lost 14-13 to Minnesota last week, will get the initial signal-calling assignment.

★ ★ ★

"Based on his performance last week, he deserves to start," Daugherty said. "It was probably the finest starting performance Ive ever had from a sophomore."

As a side note, the Michigan State band will play "impossible dream" as a featured piece during the half of the game at Spartan Stadium.

SENIOR TO PLAY

Daugherty said he also will call on senior quarterback Bill Feraco for some action during the game, Scooter Longmire, another sophomore quarterback, also may see some action, Daugherty said.

Triplett will be facing Terry Hanratty, the Notre Dame quarterback who has led the Irish to an average of 40 points a game so far this season.

★ ★ ★

Last week, Hanratty broke the yardage record set by Notre Dame's famous "Gipper" — George Gipp, who played in the early era of Irish football power.

Triplett did show he can move the ball. He ran for 101 yards and passed for 155 against Minnesota in the losing cause. He also connected with end Frank Foreman for the two MSU touchdowns.

TWO-WAY PLAYER

The two Spartan quarterbacks have a pair of fine ends as receivers. Senior Al Brenner, who also stars on the defense, has 15 catches for 258 yards. Foreman has 13 receptions for 204 yards.

Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian isn't down-rating MSU at all for this one.

★ ★ ★

"I'm really impressed with their quickness of defense and speed on offense," he said. "I think this is one of the good Michigan State teams.

"They do everything but win," the Irish coach said of the Spartans. "They fumbled away the last two games. I'm concerned about this one."

Notre Dame still was a two to three touchdown favorite.

The Irish will bus in late this afternoon. They plan to have an early workout at home and will not exercise at all in Spartan Stadium before entering for the showdown Saturday.

Unofficial Games Crown Nearer for U.S. Squad

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The United States, recapturing a title it lost to Russia 12 years ago, now is certain to be crowned the unofficial team champion of the Olympic Games.

A lot of action still is ahead before they sing "Auld Lang Syne" for the games of the XIX Olympiad in this ancient Aztec capital Sunday, but Uncle Sam's lads and lassies have too big a lead over the Soviets to be caught now.

★ ★ ★

Going into today's competition, which will feature the big basketball championship game between the United States and Yugoslavia, the Yanks have 88 total medals, including 37 gold, against 53 total medals for the Russians, who have won 16 golds.

★ ★ ★

That U.S. total doesn't include seven certain medals in boxing and one in basketball — which means the Yanks have clinched no less than 96 medals. They probably will go well over the 100 mark —for there are 21 more medals to be decided in swimming with the U.S. probably getting 10 or more.

LOSING CAUSE

That means that Russia — running into heavy competition in a sport which always has produced many Soviet medals, gymnastics — faces the impossible task of doubling its present total of 53 medals in the last two full days of competition.

★ ★ ★

So mark it down that the United States, which surrendered the No. 1 place in total medals to Russia at Melbourne in 1956 and trailed again at Rome in 1960 and Tokyo in 1964, now has regained its place as the world's top amateur sports power.

★ ★ ★

Swimming, of course, has been the U.S. strongpoint — and that was emphasized again Thursday when Debbie Meyer of Sacramento, Calif., won her third invitational gold medal of the games by setting an Olympic record of 9:24 in the women's 800-meter freestyle and Carl Robie of Drexel Hill, Pa., won the 200-meter butterfly in 2:08.7.

★ ★ ★

Those two gold medals were the Yanks' 17th and 18th in swimming.

YANK HEROINE

Miss Meyer became the top American heroine of the games — the first swimmer, male or female, in the history of the Olympics to win three individual gold medals.

★ ★ ★

Ironically, her latest triumph came on a day when Don Schollander of Jacksonville, Fla., America's top hero at Tokyo, was beaten in the finals of the men's 200-meter freestyle by Australia's Mike Wenden in 1:55.2. Schollander won two individual and two relay gold medals in 1964.

It was the sixth victory without a loss for River Rouge.

Huskies Play Saturday

Salvage Time for PNH

With expectations of a grand season already down the drain, Pontiac Northern's Huskies head into the home stretch hoping just to keep their heads above water.

Northern is off tonight, but the team will move onto the field at Wisner Stadium tomorrow night against a visiting Southfield Lathrup squad.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies are 2-3-1 on the season and 1-3 in Inter-Lakes League play. A win over Lathrup would square the one mark and still leave the Huskies with a chance of finishing with a 5-3-1 record. After Lathrup, the Huskies play host to Wyandotte Nov. 1 and then take on Pontiac Central in the '68 finale Nov. 15.

HOPES FADE

Preseason estimates of the PNH squad were that it would figure in the league championship picture. But then came losses to Livonia Stevenson (6-2), Walled Lake (24-0) and Waterford (17-12). Poof! There went the title.

★ ★ ★

Although the Huskies have had their problems, they're nothing compared to the season Lathrup has experienced. Playing its first varsity campaign, Lathrup has struggled to an 0-5-1 mark.

The PNH-Lathrup clash is one of a handful on the Saturday schedule.

KEY GAME

A big one tomorrow night at Kettering High School finds Waterford Our Lady of Lakes playing host to Royal Oak St. Mary in a Northwest Catholic League contest.

★ ★ ★

WOLL is not out of the title race yet. The Lakers are 4-1-1, and if they win tomorrow night, and Ferndale St. James and Pontiac Catholic are upset on Sunday, then WOLL is the new champion. St. James (5-1) plays host to Farmington Our Lady while defending champion Orchard Lake St. Mary (1-5) visits Pontiac Catholic (5-1).

Among other games Saturday, Birmingham Brother Rice entertains Detroit Austin, Cranbrook visits Western Reserve, Grosse Pointe University School is at Detroit Country Day and Oak Park travels to Livonia Franklin.

BIG COLLISION

A key game on the Eastern Michigan League slate finds unbeaten Mount Clemens (6-0 at Port Huron Northern (5-1). A win for the home squad would create a deadlock for the top spot in the EML. Another league contest finds winless Utica Stevenson (0-6) playing host to Roseville (0-6.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere, Royal Oak Shrine plays host to Detroit Benedictine and St. Gertrude visits Utica St. Lawrence.

TITAN BLOCKER — Guard Rick Polmear is a key performer along the line for Pontiac Catholic's Titans. The 5-8, 170-pounder is in his junior season and has hopes of being on a championship team at the end of play Sunday afternoon. PCHS will entertain Orchard Lake St. Mary in Wisner Stadium in the last league game.

Russia Losing Hold on No. 1 Spot in Sports

Yanks Medal Harvest Grows, Total Nears 100 Mark; USSR 2nd

Pam Kruse of Pompano Beach, Fla., took second behind Miss Meyer and John Nelson, also of Pompano Beach, was third behind Wenden and Schollander. Ada Kok of Holland won the only other gold medal in swimming Thursday, taking the women's 200-meter butterfly as Ellie Daniel of Elkins Park, Pa., gained the bronze.

★ ★ ★

The United States advanced only three boxers to the finals, compared to five Russians. The big shock was the decision defeat of middleweight Alfred Jones of Detroit, even though Jones floored his opponent twice and punched him around from pilar to post.

THREE IN FINALS

Yanks reaching the finals were heavyweight George Freeman of Houston, who scored a second round knockout, featherweight Albert Robinson of Phoenix, Ariz., and lightweight Ronnie Harris of Canton, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Russia, for the day, won the gold medal in women's team foil fencing, a silver in equestrian Grand Prix team dressage, and two silvers in men's gymnastics — not much encouragement toward overcoming the U.S. lead.

★ ★ ★

West Germany won the gold medal in team dressage. Japan won the gold medal in men's all-around gymnastics and Sawao Sato of Japan won in individual gymnastics.

★ ★ ★

Thursday produced the Olympic Games' first disqualification in 56 years as Sweden lost its bronze team medal in the modern pentathlon. One of the Swedes was found to have too high an alcohol content in his blood.

Lakers Disappointing With Big Trio of Stars

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When the Los Angeles Lakers acquired Wilt Chamberlain to team with Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, the National Basketball Association race took on aspects of a runaway.

So the opening week has proved shocking. Los Angeles stands 1-3 as they approach their first home game tonight.

★ ★ ★

"It's brought us to reality," says Coach Bill van Breda Kolff on perhaps the only optimistic note of the situation. Then he adds:

The Lakers have lost at Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Detroit while downing the Knickerbockers at New York.

KNICKS UPSET

The Phoenix Suns, one of the NBA's new teams this year, upset New York 109-92 at Phoenix set New York 109-92 at Phoenix in one of two NBA games scheduled Thursday night. In the other game at San Diego, Baltimore beat San Diego 119-115.

No league games were scheduled in the American Basketball Association.

★ ★ ★

Injuries also have plagued Los Angeles with Baylor, West and Keith Erickson on the list. Baylor should be ready for tonight, the other two are problematical.

Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1 giant, has scored 94 points in his first four games as a Laker and has proved his usual outspoken self.

★ ★ ★

"We should never have lost to either the Pistons or Royals," he declared. "We blew both games. Both times we got early leads but couldn't sustain the attack.

"I guess it's just going to take time before we all get used to playing with each other."

Gail Goodrich threw in 31 points to lead Phoenix over New York. Willis Reed topped the Knicks with 24 points.

★ ★ ★

Baltimore came from behind with 15 straight points in the fourth period in overcoming San Diego. Earl Monroe was high for the Bullets with 35 points while rookie Elvin Hayes paced the Rockets with 25.

Beman Leads Haig Tourney; Sets Record

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Former amateur champion Deane Beman, who gave up a lucrative insurance business to take a fling at professional golf, may regard his new career as something of an insurance risk today.

★ ★ ★

The 30-year-old Bethesda, Md., pro of only a year led the way into the second round of the $110,000 Haig National Open Tournament with an initial flourish of 64—seven strokes under par and a putting mark of 19 which equalled the PGA record for 18 holes.

★ ★ ★

But Beman was only one stroke in front. Challenging from four strokes or less back were such threats as Billy Casper, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Al Geiberger, Bruce Crampton, Bob Rosburg and others.

Play is over the short 6,650-yard, par 36-35—71 Mesa Verde Country Club course, where Thursday 61 of the 150 players fractured par.

Series Win Brings Big Purse for Tigers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Members of the world champion Detroit Tigers earned nearly $11,000 each for their winning World Series effort against the St. Louis Cardinals earlier this month, it was announced Thursday by the baseball commissioner's office.

The Tigers voted 32 full shares, amounting to $10,936.66 each, as the seven-game series grossed a record $3,018,112.40. The largest previous receipt total for series was the 1965 seven-game fall classic between the Los Angeles Dodgers and Minnesota Twins that took in $2,975,041.60.

A full share for members of the Cardinals came to $7,078.71, not far below the $8,315 each member of the Cardinals earned for winning the 1967 series.

While this year's series grossed a record total in receipts, since clubs share in only the receipts, based upon attendance, for the first four games, each Tiger's award was below the record winning share of $12,794, earned by members of the Dodgers in 1963 when they whipped the New York Yankees in four straight.

LOSERS' PAY

The Dodgers also have the honor of taking home the largest loser's share $8,189 for dropping four in a row to Baltimore in 1966.

In addition to 32 full shares, the Tigers also voted two half shares and six cash awards in dividing up a $362,109.66 jackpot.

The Cardinals split $241,406.44 into 32 full shares, one half share, five one-quarter shares and four cash awards.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, after voting full shares to the players, coaches and Manager Mayo Smith, also awarded full shares to trainer William Behm, batting practice pitcher Julio Moreno and equipment manager John Hand.

The full shares earned by Wayne Comer, Ray Oyler and Jon Warden of the Tigers figure to come in especially handy since these three players were chosen in the recent expansion draft. Pitcher Larry Jaster was the only full share player lost by the Cardinals in the NL draft.

Detroit Tigers

Full shares ($10,936.66)—Gates Brown, Norm Cash, Wayne Comer, Pat Dobson, Bill Freehan, John Hiller, Willie Horton, Al Kaline, Fred Lasher, Mickey Lolich, Ed Mathews, Dick McAuliffe, Denny McLain, Jim Northrup, Ray Oyler, Daryl Patterson, Jimmie Price, Joe Sparma, Mickey Stanley, Dick Tracewski, Don Wert, Earl Wilson, Tom Matchick, Jon Warden, Manager Mayo Smith, coaches Wally Moses, Tony Cuccinello, John Sain and Hal Naragon, trainer Bill Behm, batting practice pitcher Julio Moreno, equipment manager John Hand.

Half shares ($5,468.27)—Don McMahon and John Wyatt.

St. Louis Cards

Half shares ($3,539.37)—Assistant trainer Bob Allen.

One fourth shares ($1,769.67)—Bat boys Don Dawson and Jerry Gibson, clubhouse boy Jerry Risch, guards John Lynch, Mike Torres.

Cash awards—Floyd Wicker and Pete Mikkelsen ($1,000 each), Joe Hague and Ted Simmons ($250 each).

Wedding Bells for Olympic Star

MEXICO CITY (AP) —Mexican wedding bells ring Saturday for Vera Caslavaska; the "flavine"- haired queen of gymnastics, and Josef Odlozil, silver medalist in the 1,500 meters four years ago in Tokyo. But the honeymoon must wait for the two brave Czechs.

"We must show the people at home that our hearts are with them," said the pretty, 26-year-old Miss Caslavaska, who repeated as the all-around women's gymnastics champion of the Olympic Games.

★ ★ ★

"We will return to Prague next Monday and then maybe on the following Monday we will have our honeymoon."

"Yes, perhaps, somewhere in Europe," interjected the prospective groom, a tall and handsome 30-year-old mile runner.

"Perhaps in Italy or on the French coast where it is warm."

The courageous Czechoslovakian athletes, 124 in number, are being dispatched back to their homeland as soon as their competitions are completed. The track team already has left.

IRON BACKBONE

The purpose, the Czechs say, is to show the Soviet Union's occupying forces that the backbone of the little nation is still like iron and determined to outlast its aggressors.

"Every Czech athlete will be in Prague by the night of Oct. 29," said the delegation's chef de mission, Oldrich Hradec, a well-built, bushy-haired man in his early 40s. "Defections? They are unthinkable.

"There is no compulsion on the government's part—we have no strong arm secret police with us. This is an act of free will. All of our athletes are anxious to get home to prove their love for their country and their determination to make it free."

The courageous Czechs have been the matinee idols of these 19th Olympic Games—cheered wildly by the Mexicans and the international galleries in every venue. The cheers became thunderous when the Czechs were pitted against their invaders, the Russians.

The first occasion was in the opening day parade when the salute to the red-and-blue clad athletes from behind the Iron Curtain matched in volume the cheers for the host Mexicans.

TEAM CHEERED

Early in the Games, the Czech womens' volleyball team met the heavily favored Russians at the Olympic gymnasium and every Czech score was cheered madly by the crowd of 7,500. The Russians won, three sets to one, and were booed.

The Russian coach, visibly upset, later told newsmen his players were not bothered by the reaction. "They are mature," he said.

Lions Bracing for 'Action' by 49ers QB

DETROIT (AP) — Coach Joe Schmidt says his Detroit Lions will be braced for "a lot of action from John Brodie and a charged-up attack" when the San Francisco 49ers come to Detroit Sunday.

Schmidt said the Lions defense will "have its hands full' in keeping Brodie from connecting with the 49er receivers—particularly Clifton McNeil who has caught 34 passes in his six games with San Francisco this season.

★ ★ ★

Covering McNeil will be Lions cornerbacks Lem Barney, who leads Detroit in pass interceptions with four, and Dick LeBeau, who has robbed enemy receivers of two passes this season.

The contest will give Detroit its first look at the 49ers under their new coach, Dick Nolan. It is the only meeting this year between the two teams. The last time they played, the Lions whipped San Francisco 45-3 last year on the Coast.

RUNNING ATTACK

Mel Farr is set to pace the Detroit running attack. The National Football League rookie of the year in 1967 has rushed for 490 yards this season, averaging 4.7 yards a carry.

Earl McCullouch, a top candidate to succeed Farr for the rookie honors, has hauled in 23 passes in the six Lions games this season for 501 yards. He scored five times.

The Lions are at the top of the Central Division of the NFL with a 3-2-1 record.

St. Louis Stars Soccer Team May Throw in Towel

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Stars of the North American Soccer League may fold unless attendance at home games increases, President Robert H. Hermann said Wednesday. He said the team has lost more than a million dollars in two years.

"We don't know how long we can hold in with the losses we're taking," Hermann said.

★ ★ ★

He said a decision whether the 17-team league will continue will be made Nov. 1 at Chicago.

Hermann said Boston, Detroit, Vancouver and Baltimore have decided to quit and Houston and Washington are undecided.

Credit for Touchdown

Due to an erroneous report, Larry Whippo of Lake Orion Junior Varsity Wednesday was given credit for a touchdown scored by Fred Seigward in a Press sports story.

TEMPLE CITY, Calif. (AP) — Jack Bliss, who played with the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team from 1906-11, died Wednesday at 86.

DePaula Seeks Win Over Boxer Tiger

NEW YORK (UPI) — Frank DePaula goes after his sixth consecutive knockout tonight when he faces the toughest challenge of his career against former light heavy and middleweight champion Dick Tiger at Madison Square Garden.

Tiger, a captain in the Biafran army, was knocked out for the first time in his career when he lost the light heavy title to Bob Foster in his last bout. But despite the loss and advancing years, the 39-year-old Tiger finds himself in the unusual position of being favored.

The former champion hardly ever went into a title fight as a favorite, but his experience and tenacious strength are expected to be enough to give him a victory over DePaula.

Olympic Schedule

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Saturday's schedule of events in the 1968 Olympic Games, with all times Eastern Daylight:

Women's 400-meter freestyle relay final. Men's 400-meter medley final.

Volleyball Loop

Men interested in playing volleyball in Waterford Township may join the league at a meeting Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Pierce Junior High School. Other information on the league is available at the Waterford Recreation Department, 674-0376.

FIGHT RESULTS

PORTLAND, Maine—Irish Bo Jaynes, 130, Lowell, Mass., outpointed Durango Kid, 130, New York (10).

LOS ANGELES—Lenny Brice, 117½, Los Angeles, knocked out Roberto Alvarez, 115, Mexico (10).

Games Medals Real McCoy

Are the medals awarded at the Olympic Games currently in progress at Mexico City actually made of gold, silver and bronze? The answer is yes.

A check with jewelers revealed there was no reason why this wouldn't be true.

Mrs. Kenneth Wood, mother of silver medal winning ice skating star Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills, confirmed that the medal presented to him at Grenoble, France, during the winter Olympic Games this year is indeed solid silver and not silver plated.

★ ★ ★

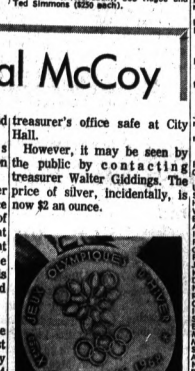

When one realizes that the 3½-inch (diameter) by almost ¼-inch thick gold medal won by hurdler Hayes Jones at the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo is made of a metal that now costs $41.50 an ounce, it is easy to understand why the medal — which he presented to the City of Pontiac — is kept under wraps in the treasurer's office safe at City Hall.

However, it may be seen by the public by contacting treasurer Walter Giddings. The price of silver, incidentally, is now $2 an ounce.

Colts, Morrall Next in Line for Rough Rams

NEW YORK (AP) — The Fearsome Foursome gets its chance to gnaw on Earl Morrall and the Baltimore Colts Sunday in the most important game in the first half of the National Football League season.

If the Baltimore Colts, upset by Cleveland last week, can't handle the challenge of the onrushing Los Angeles Rams in Baltimore, they can forget about any Super Bowl cash. A win for the Rams would put them on easy street.

★ ★ ★

The Colts have to be a team with a mission. The Rams tied them in Baltimore last year and then shattered their dreams of a perfect season by beating them in Los Angeles 34-10.

Toss in a Green Bay-Dallas rematch in the Cotton Bowl on national television (CBS) Monday night, and you have the makings of a weekend that could knock out a groggy picker.

Last week's record was a shaky 7-5-1 with 5-2-1 in the NFL and 2-3 in the AFL for 41-22-2 on the season. Let's try to do better. All games are Sunday, unless otherwise indicated.

NFL

Los Angeles 23, Baltimore 20- Rams' offense ordinary but Roman Gabriel is hitting Billy Truax with consistency and that defense is turning quarterbacks gray.

Dallas 27, Green Bay 21 (Monday night)- Somehow, some way you have a hunch the Packers will find a way to pull it out but the figures say Dallas on a more explosive attack. Return of Bart Starr narrows the gap.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota 24, Chicago 17- The Bears won in Minnesota 27-17. Now it's Vikings' turn despite erratic air game. Chicago went with ex-tax) squad quarterback, Virgil Carter, and sneaked past Eagles.

St. Louis 24, New Orleans 23- The Cards just squeaket home in first meeting 21-20 after trailing 17-0 at the start of the last quarter. But St. Louis is coming on behind Jim Hart and Willis Crensahw is hot.

San Francisco 23, Detroit 21- The pick here is an upset although the game is in Detroit. The 49ers have well-balance attack with line that can pressure Bill Munson. Lions' Mel Farr is big threat and Earl McCullouch will test 49ers deep defense.

New York 34, Washington 28- Giants romped in first game 48-21 when Fran Tarkenton was healthy and club still was unbeaten.

★ ★ ★

Cleveland 24, Atlanta 17- Bill Nelsen fitting in groove as No. 1 quarterback and Ernie Green is back to give Leroy Kelly some help. Falcons' weak pass defense could do them in.

★ ★ ★

Pittsburgh 21, Philadelphia 17- Something has to give. Each has lost six in a row. Everybody runs on the Eagles so why not Dick Hoak. Give Steelers edge at home although Eagles have beaten them four straight.

AFL

New York 24, Boston 13- Joe Namath shook off interception jitters and led Jets to win in Houston with flawless 80-yard march in closing minutes. Mike Taliaferro will find old mates tough to handle as in earlier 47-31 Jet win at Birmingham where Namath was intercepted four times.

★ ★ ★

Oakland 31, Cincinnati 10- Raiders must be ready to explode after dropping two in a row to Chargers and Chiefs.

Houston 21, Buffalo 10- Much depends on condition of Oilers after tough loss to Jts.

★ ★ ★

Miami 17, Denver 14- Despite 2-3-1 record Dolphins still have outside chance in Eastern race with Bob Griese on the beam.

Kansas City 23, San Diego 20- What surprises will Hank Stram have for Sid Gillman after springing old tight-T on Raiders? Johnny Hadl, Chargers' quarterback, only passer in league over .500 in passing.

Duffy Defends Roving Player

'Don't Knock Monster Back'

By DUFFY DAUGHERTY
Head Football Coach
Michigan State University

Don't knock the monster man. He's here to stay in college football and he's not the ogre some of the less average fans picture him to be. The monster actually is an intelligent rover back who seeks to stop the team with the ball.

He is one of the basic differences between college football and the game the pros play. Most college teams try to establish their ground attack first and hopefully compliment it with a passing game.

* * *

The pros for the most part establish their passing game and then build their running game around it, running from the same flanker and split end sets that they throw from.

* * *

On defense, the pros almost without exception use a 4-3-4 with a lot of man for man coverage in the secondary. Occasionally they go toward a zone defense with one free safety. Sometimes they cover an exceptionally fast receiver with a corner back and a safety. This means their linebackers are forced to cover men out of the backfield man for man.

FIVE-MAN FRONT

The defense in vogue in college ball is the monster defense or rover type of defense. This is where you have a five-man alignment of two ends, two defensive tackles and a middle guard.

* * *

Backing them up is the monster man, two inside linebackers and three secondary men. Most of the time this is a zone defense that divides the field into thirds.

* * *

The monster man or rover will play outside one of the defensive ends. He usually goes to the wide side of the field or to the strength of the opposition's formation.

* * *

This leaves a possible weakness on the defensive end away from the monster. To counter this, most monster teams will slant the tackles and middle guards away from the monster on the snap of the ball.

There are other variations from the monster defense. Some teams will stack two inside linebackers behind tackle and will stunt or fire by using a lot of red dogging.

* * *

The obvious strength of this type of defense is that you can position your monster, who is one of your finer defensive players, where you think the opposition may run or pass on any given down or situation. You are trying to stop what your opponent is most likely to do at that particular time.

* * *

You try to force them into a play that is less likely to succeed. The position of the monster man often forces the attacking team to change its play after the huddle. Sometimes it's the monster man who forces the other team into a time out.

This is an exciting type of defense because you can occasionally change and go man for man, especially when you are using your monster in a blitzing situation.

* * *

A monster man must acquire a lot of agility and skill. One of the best monsters or rovers is John Tatum, a 204-pound sophomore from Passaic, N.J.

He was No. 1 fullback on Ohio State's 1967 freshman team and Coach Woody Hayes picked the right spot for Tatum when he made him the Buckeye monster man. It was Tatum who covered All-American Leory Keyes so effectively in the upset of Purdue.

Equals National Dragster Record

Jerry Sidock of Union Lake pushed his A Experimental dragster to a new Lapeer Dragway record and matched the class national record last weekend in his 1966 Mustang.

* * *

En route to his fourth street eliminator victory of the season. Sidock hit 132.67 miles per hour and an elapsed time of :09.78.

Time Favors Lakers' Conley in Grid Race

W. Bloomfield Back 15 Points Ahead of Novi's VanWagner

Time is fleeting for those gridders who are chasing West Bloomfield's Terry Conley in the Oakland County scoring race.

With two games to go, Conley has piled up 90 points on 15 touchdowns and he holds a 15-point lead over John VanWagner of Novi.

VISIT CLARKSTON

The speedy Conley and his teammates are at Clarkston this evening and a victory would give the Lakers at least a share of the Wayne-Oakland League title. They close the season next week against Bloomfield Hills Andover.

★ ★ ★

Holding the No. 3 spot on the scoring ladder is Jeff Roley of Andover with 60 points.

Winner of the scoring title will receive the Pontiac Press Scoring Trophy for 1968.

★ ★ ★

Unless Conley falters in the final two games, he should claim the crown. VanWagner and his teammates meet Williamston tonight and Flint St. Mary next week and he'll have to do a lot of scoring to overtake the Laker flash.

GARCIA SECOND

In the Saginaw Valley Conference race, Pontiac Central's Rollie Garcia has moved into the runner-up spot behind Joe Dissette of Midland.

★ ★ ★

The Midland ace has 49 points, while Garcia has 42 on seven touchdowns. Garcia and PCH entertain Flint Central this evening at Wisner Stadium.

In the area scoring column, Port Huron Northern's Ron Thurshman continues to set the pace with 113 points. A distant second is Bryan Mousseau of Anchor Bay with 54.

Casper Still 1st

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (UPI) — Headed by the $179,466 of Billy Casper, eight of the top 10 money winners on the professional golders' tour have won more than $100,000 in 1968. Jack Nicklaus is second with $155,286, Tom Weiskopf third with $152,947, and Julius Boros fourth with $148,310.

Regionals Set Tomorrow

Harriers in State Bid

Runners across the state will launch their bids for individual and team honors tomorrow at 14 regional cross country sites.

Qualifiers in the regional runs will then advance to the state runoff next Saturday (Nov. 2) at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

GO TO STATE

In the Class A and B regionals, the two top teams plus the top 10 individuals — who are not members of the qualifying teams — will advance to the state meet. In Class C-D, three teams qualify along with the top three individuals.

★ ★ ★

At the state meet, there will be an individual race for Class A and B runners. The three C-D individual runners will compete in the team race.

STRONG LOCAL FIELD

Locally, there are a couple of strong Class A regionals — at Bloomfield Hills Andover and Royal Oak Kimball.

Among those in the lineup at Andover — the race will be run at West Hills Junior High on Lone Pine east of Middlebelt — are Pontiac Central, Brother Rice, Pontiac Northern, Farmington, North Farmington, Rochester and Clarkston.

REGIONAL FAVORITE

Brother Rice, the Oakland County champion, is the favorite at Andover, and the real race is likely to see who finished second. Here, Farmington, North Farmington, Pontiac Northern and Rochester look the best.

★ ★ ★

Individually, Gary and Larry Williams of Farmington are considered the best, but they'll get some competition from Jon Costello of Pontiac Central and Keith Wattles of Rochester.

Wattles broke his own record yesterday with a 10:32 clocking in leading Rochester to a 23-17 victory over Clarkston. Fred Seyler ran second for Clarkston.

Oxford, one of the area's strongest Class B squads, is heading for Fenton to defend its regional title, while West Bloomfield, another strong 'B' contender, will journey to Kimball.

REGIONAL CROSS COUNTRY SITES

1. Classes B-C-D, Paw Paw High School; 2, Classes A-B, Kalamazoo Norris High School; 3, Classes A-D Napoleon High School; 4, Class A, Trenton High School; 5, Class A (2), Detroit, Department of Health and Physical Education; 6, Classes A-B, Detroit, Redford Union High; 7, Class A, Andover High School; 8, Classes A-B, Royal Oak Kimball High School;
9, 2 Class A, Flint Central High School; 10, Classes B-C-D, Fenton High School; 11, Class B, Lansing Eastern High School; 12, Classes A-B, Grand Rapids, Department of Physical Education; 13, Class B, Spring Lake High School; 14, Classes B-C-D, Mount Pleasant, Central Michigan University.

Player Misses Course Record

South African Ties for Tourney Lead

PERTH, Australia (AP) — South African golfer Gary Player lipped the cup with a 65-foot putt on the 18th hole and missed equalling the course record on his first round of the Australian Open Golf Championship at Lake Karrinyup Club near here Thursday.

Player had a simple tap in to finish a five-under-par 67 and to share the first round lead with Australia's Billy Dunk.

★ ★ ★

The pair led by one stroke over titleholder Peter Thomson — holder of the course record set in 1964.

Next best was America's Arnold Palmer with 69.

Jack Nicklaus of the United States slammed his way out of trouble, finishing with a 71-one under par. Turning at 39, Nicklaus blasted home in four-under 32 which included an eagle on the 528-yard, par-five sixteenth.

Vet Boxer Eying Higher Division

PHILADEPHIA (UPI) — Veteran boxer Stanley "Kitten" Hayward will turn middleweight after his Tuesday night welterweight bout with former welterweight and middleweight champion Emile Griffith.

★ ★ ★

His manager said Thursday that Hayward "comes in too weak" as a welterweight and needs to step up his best fighting weight of 152 to 155 pounds.

get two-stage relief from that snowed-in feeling
Driveways clogged? Sidewalks stuffed up? Then you need the quick relief power of the all new two-stage Bolens Artic 70, the powerful snow caster that gets rid of that snowed-in feeling, fast.
Bolens engineers have designed a difference into this hefty newcomer. And the difference is an exacting balance between a 26" rotor and a brawny 7 hp engine. The balance makes the Artic 70 handle like a lamb, work like a lion.
Another part of Bolens remedy for easy, rapid snow removal is a two-stage action that features (1) a pick-it-up auger, and (2) a throw-it-out impeller. Snow is cast up to 30 feet away, and chute direction is adjustable over a 200 degree range. Rate of snow discharge is governed by machine and engine speed.
Other standard Artic 70 features include:
• 4 forward, neutral and reverse speeds
• Separate clutches for rotor and drive
• Free-wheeling lever for ease in non-operating movement.
See the Artic 70 today, at your Bolens dealer. While you're there, see other Bolens outdoor power equipment featuring Difference Designed, with Performance in Mind.

Where is most of the Pontiac area's high scoring taking place presently? An early compilation of the 1968-69 High Score List indicates one consistent response: Huron Bowl.

A review of the best actual scores reported to date has the top figures in all eight men's and women's categories being achieved on Huron's 32 lanes. In two cases the honor is shared.

There have been two perfect game rolled by men. One was Bob Garrett's last week in the Huron Classic and the first was registered last month by Don Roehl at West Side Lanes.

The Huron Classic is also responsible for the best men's actual series to date, Jim Rutkowski's 734.

Hartford Roofing and Herks Auto Supply lead in team game and series with actual 1150 and 3247, respectively. Both, again, were rolled in the Huron Classic.

* * *

Among the women, a pair of 275 games are tops. Laura Chenoweth's came first in the 300 Bowl Ladies All Star, then Peggy Green matched it last week in the Huron Gala of Gifts League.

A Huron Ladies Classic member Laura Chenoweth bowled a 638 for the best women's actual series reported to date, and the Huntoons' team of the same circuit has 923—2709 actuals for the best in those divisions.

* * *

Bowling reporters are available at local establishments for league secretaries to send in their best scores. The list will be up dated based on those reports.

SPARE PINS

Not eligible for the High Score List but fancy shooting even for unsanctioned bowling are the 238-266-247—751 and combined 1441 rolled last Saturday at Howe's Lanes in the Moonlight Doubles.

Bud Mulholland hit the 751 and teamed with Pat Sweeney (224-237—680) for the record actual 1441 team total.

* * *

Energetic Maxine Yontz finally slowed her pace as the Pontiac Blind Bowlers secretary long enough to have surgery last week at Pontiac General Hospital.

* * *

Reportedly she will remain there for an extended period and will be out of her team's lineup for much of the season. Maxine is an enthusiastic promoter of the popular Monday morning program at Huron.

* * *

Contributions to charity by the Pontiac Woman's Bowling association totaled $2,700 this year with a majority of it going to the Bowlers' Victory Legion at Veterans' hospitals.

* * *

Other donations were directed to area hospitals and county children's activities.

High Keg Series More Frequent

The 700 series are beginning to become more frequent as the weather turns cooler and the daylight grows less and less, encouraging perhaps more practice time on the lanes.

* * *

Despite a perfect game last week by Bob Garrett in the Huron Bowl Classic, Bud Mulholland of Herks Auto Supply posted the top series, 716. Garrett had a 714 for Hartford Roofing.

* * *

Mulholland's games were 255-235-226. Ed Jostock of West Side Lanes rolled 223-246—684; and Hartford's Ed Gibbs posted 224-246—673. Pat Sweeney's 254 for Herks was the third best game. The auto men hold a 15-point lead in the race.

* * *

Savoy Lanes' Dirty Dozen Tuesday witnessed a 254—715 effort by Ron Councilor. Cooley Lanes' Men's Classic was paced last week by Bob Chamberlain's 256-222-235—713.

Teammates Jack Henel (243—618), Perry Allagreen (226-223—621) and Jim Goodale (244) supported him and Sportsman's Bar totaled 1026-1026-1093 for 3145 actual.

* * *

Bill Campbell's 202-257—607 sparked Doyon's Painting to 1091-1015 games. Bill Dunkel's 236 featured Chandler Heating's 1092. Ed Gibbs bowled 257-225—674.

* * *

There's a three-way tie atop the West Side Lanes Classic. Al Hanoute has jointed North Hill Lanes and Pontiac Janitor Supply, and another trio of squads is knotted 10 points behind them in fourth place.

* * *

The Wolverine Entertainers led the team efforts Monday with a 1002 game. Jerry Perna took both game and series laurels with his 250—676 scores.

* * *

Joe Foster had a 627 and Larry Pulanecki rolled 234. Rich Toles and Dick Beamer each hit 233 games.

Road Rallye Slated Tomorrow at OU

The annual fall Road Rally sponsored by the Oakland Engineering Society (OES) of Oakland University is slated for tomorrow from 3-6:30 p.m.

More than 130 cars are expected for the event, which features two different types of runs—a gimmick and a straight time and distance.

The gimmick will require the driver to solve some riddles before he can complete the course.

In the time and distance, emphasis is on how well the driver follows directions and how well the car performs. The OES will wind up the day with a dance from 9 p. m. until 1 a.m.

Jim Stefanich Sets Top Pace

AKRON, O. — Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., has slowed down only slightly from his torrid pace of mid-summer but with only the fall tour left to go he's leading the average race of the Professional Bowlers Association.

Figures released today by the PBA show that Stefanich is averaging 211.806 pins per game for the 28 tournaments in which he was competed this year. Earlier this summer he was averaging 214.

Ed Bourdase of Fresno, Cal., who led the average race for last winter's tour, is less than half a pin behind Stefanich in the tight race with an average pinfall per game of 211.512.

Opening lead—♣K

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

The Australian team finished fifth in the Olympiad. They were on their way to do even better when their star player, Dick Cummings, was taken ill and hospitalized for several days.

JACOBY

The Australians had great faith in Dick's ability to play the dummy, as may be evidenced by North's jump to three spades. They were playing limit raises but in our opinion only a kangaroo would consider jumping with the North hand. True, there were 10 high card points and a doubleton club among his securities but there was no ace and just one king.

★ ★ ★

West opened the king of clubs and continued with two more leads of the suit. Dick ruffed the third lead with the 10 of spades.

East decided not to overruff in the hope that he would collect two trump tricks instead of one. There was nothing wrong with that decision but there was a lot wrong with East's choice of a discard. He let go the seven of hearts instead of a low diamond.

★ ★ ★

This gave Dick a chance to go all-out for his contract and he made the best of the opportunity by running off four diamond tricks in order to get rid of his losing heart.

After that it was a simple matter for Dick to lead dummy's three of trumps and finesse against East's nine with the seven spot. A spade was then led to dummy's queen and the best East could do was to take his ace of spades and give up.

Dick was lucky indeed. He had to get that misplay by East and had to find East with all four trumps and four diamonds but one test of a good player is his ability to take full advantage of things like that.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Practical matters may appear to interfere with ambitions. Key is realistic view. Success will take time. Know this and half the battle is won. Ignore it and disappointment results.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Face responsibilities. Trying to duck out of commitment is no wise. Keep promises. Stand tall. You eventually make, significant gain. News from afar could brighten evening.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): What appears to be a wonderful proposal may lack financial solidity. Means check past records. Deal only with those who have reputation for keeping promises. This avoids disappointment.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Don't be in too much of a hurry to sign agreement. Something better migh be upcoming. Wait and see. Meantime, get fresh viewpoint. One you meet today could play significant role.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Strengthen personal philosophy. Know why you feel certain ways about specific issues. Once straightened out within, external values will be clarified. Message becomes crystal clear by tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You may be spending more than is necessary. Have fun, but curb extravagance. Excellent evening for social activity. Take care not to offend with remarks. Mate, partner is sensitive.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Basic issues connected with home repair, security are accented. Be aware of apparent minor matters. Check details. Avoid overspeed. Have facts available. Consult source material.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Stress versatility. Relative may make unusual request. Study facts of matter then decide. Base answer on available information, not speculation. Significant change indicated, possible travel.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Desire to please children, other loved ones could create financial dilemma. Key is moderation. Home entertainment is favored. Use the fresh, the engaging to others. Keep on even keel.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You are able to get true picture of current situation. Inquiries result in valid answers. Facts of matter are made available. Cycle high. Circumstances favor you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Give full play to intellectual curiosity. Investigate. Ask questions—obtain answers. What you need to know is available, but obscured. If persistent, you get what you need.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Friendship and money do not mix today. Know this—and avoid yourself aggravation. Simplicity wins over garish display. Know this—act accordingly. Choose quality over flash, tinsel.

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are capable of winning the confidence of important persons. This being so, you also attract responsibility. Recent domestic adjustment proves favorable.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for CAPRICORN, AQUARIUS, PISCES. Special word to VIRGO: remember budget resolutions.

Traffic Is Blocked by Truck Accident

A truck and trailer overturned on the I-75 turnoff at Lapeer Road yesterday and interrupted traffic at that Pontiac Township intersection for almost five hours.

Driver of the truck, Howard Dillon of Dearborn, was not seriously injured.

* * *

His truck and trailer went over at 3:45 p.m. as he turned off the northbound lane. Apparently one of his wheels gave way, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

The wreckage was not cleared away until 8:30 p.m., deputies said.

County Group Tours GM Site

Oakland County Driver Education Association members yesterday toured the General Motors Proving Ground near Milford to view safety testing facilities.

About 70 members of the organization inspected the two newest additions to the proving grounds — the safety research and development laboratory and the high speed handling area where an impact sled is used to simulate a high-velocity crash.

Arrangements for the tour were made by the Traffic Improvement Association of Oakland County (TIA).

Formed last June under TIA sponsorship, the association seeks to improve the quality of driver education, act as a "clearinghouse" to advance the knowledge of its members, and serves as a unified voice in defining the problems and responsibilities of driver education in the county.

$300 in Game Bagged by Thief

More than $300 in frozen wild game was reported stolen from a freezer in the carport of Cleon Moorman of 1987 Grange Hall, Holly Township, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies were told yesterday.

Taken were three deer and three antelope which Moorman and his friends had killed in Wyoming, deputies said.

Trial Ordered for Suspect in Shotgun Death

A salesman from Pontiac Township yesterday was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court to stand trial on first-degree murder in the shooting of his ex-wife's husband.

Reginald F. Armstrong, 48, of 26 Trulane was then returned to the Oakland County Jail without bond to await his arraignment Nov. 12 at 9 a.m. before Judge William R. Beasley.

* * *

Armstrong is accused of the shotgun slaying of John J. Lowes, 44, of 2385 Oaknoll, Pontiac Township. Lowes was a former village president and councilman in Rochester.

His body was found in his home Oct. 16 by a neighbor who was asked to check the house by Lowes' wife, Barbara. The couple was married last August.

* * *

Armstrong, employed by a trophy firm, was bound over to the trial court following his preliminary court examination before Waterford Township Justice Kenneth H. Hempstead.

WSU Asks Fund

DETROIT (AP)—The Wayne State University board of governors Thursday submitted a capital outlay request of $12.5 million to the state of Michigan. The board requested $6.9 million for the university's main campus and $5.6 million for the medical campus.

Exam Postponed in Extortion Case

The preliminary court examination of an alleged Mafia leader on an extortion charge was postponed from today to Tuesday.

Attorneys for Joseph M. Barbara, 32, of Fraser asked for the additional time after he subsequently was charged with rape.

The hearing on the extortion case is scheduled for 9 a.m. before Farmington Township Justice Byron D. Walter.

Truck Injures Man Slightly

A mechanic at Boutell Driveaway Co., 245 E. Walton, escaped serious injury when a truck rolled over him at the company yesterday afternoon.

Pontiac police said Claude A. Kaddatz, 40, of 834 Pine, Oakland Township, attempted to stop a wrecker truck when its brakes apparently gave way about 1 p.m. Kaddatz was knocked down when he attempted to get into the moving cab, police said.

* * *

The truck rolled over his legs, inflicting severe bruises. He also suffered a slight head injury. Kaddatz was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Some 8,000 doctors were graduated from the nation's medical colleges this year.

Civic Unit Picks Pontiac Leader

A Pontiac man, Kenneth Ballien of 271 Dick, has been elected president of the Pioneer Highlands Civic Association, Inc.

* * *

Others elected to office were Phillip Townsend of 235 S. Josephine, first vice president; Robert Eienheuser of 260 Tilden, second vice president; and Shirley J. Ryden of 194 S. Josephine, secretary-treasurer.

2 Highland Boys Hurt in Separate Shooting Mishaps

Two Highland Township boys were injured in separate outdoor shooting accidents in the township yesterday afternoon, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

In satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital after being shot in the left shoulder with a 20-gauge shotgun is Timothy Turner, 14, of 4794 Hickory. He was hurt when his gun accidentally discharged while he was hunting at Beaumont and Duck Lake roads.

Accidentally shot in the left leg with a small-caliber rifle was Ronald A. Heft, 14, of 245 Eleanor. He was shooting in a field near Harvey Lake and Lakeview roads. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

A group of chemicals — called prostaglandins, which appear to play a role in regulating the actions of the different cells within the different organs of the body have been synthesized.

Forecaster to Head Bureau

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Marshall Soderberg, a forecaster at the Grand Rapids weather bureau for seven years, has been named to head the office. He replaces James Zoller, who is being transferred to the Detroit weather bureau. The announcement was made by Roy Fox, regional director of the Kansas City headquarters.

2 Lines Sought for Air Route

CAB Hears From Detroit, San Antonio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spokesmen for Detroit and San Antonio, Tex., have asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to authorize two competing airlines to serve a new route between the cities.

The plea was heard Thursday at a CAB meeting in Washington after a board examiner recommended that just one airline serve the route because he said he felt there wasn't enough traffic to make competing service feasible at this time. The testimony came as the board considered Gulf-Midwest routes.

★ ★ ★

"Both cities believe there should be two new carriers," said C. W. Pope of San Antonio. "Waiting will make the awards obsolete too soon. We expect 78,000 passengers a year between the cities."

Pope asked that neither Dallas nor Houston be a part of the new San Antonio-Detroit route and that the intermediate stops be Kansas City and St. Louis. He said he had no objection to Cleveland, Memphis, or Indianapolis being the other intermediate stops.

NO DALLAS BID

"Dallas has not asked to be put on our routes," Pope said. "And we like Houston, but our honeymoon with Detroit is just beginning, and we don't want even our best buddies to help us out."

Cecil A. Beasley of Houston replied in a later presentation that "We'd be happy to be on the honeymoon with San Antonio. I think they should realize that they're going to have to pick up Houston passenger traffic to depend on any frequency of flights."

★ ★ ★

Beasley said there currently were no Houston-Detroit straight flights "and it's remarkable that the traffic has developed to the rate it has."

Harold Hood, speaking for Detroit, agreed with San Antonio's plea for a second airline for the San Antonio-Detroit route when it is opened. He said about 200 daily passengers were anticipated.

ST. LOUIS STOP

He also asked that St. Louis be added as an intermediate stop on a Detroit-Dallas route, also new on a nonstop basis. The examiner has recommended that the stops be Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Cleveland for both airlines chosen, American and Delta.

The Bureau of Operating Rights disagreed, suggesting the American flight be authorized stops at St. Louis and Indianapolis and a Braniff flight be allowed Chicago and Kansas City stops.

Plans OK Delayed on School Complex

Approval of preliminary plans of Pontiac's Human Resource Center elementary school complex has been delayed until Nov. 7, the board of education was told last night.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer informed the trustees the cost estimates of the estimated $4-million structure, to be built east of City Hall, won't be ready until next Friday.

"Action to approve the preliminary plans should be withheld until these cost estimates have been received and studied," Whitmer said. "Action on the plans could then be taken at the board meeting Nov. 7.

"If costs are higher than expected, some of the complex might have to be redesigned," he said.

ESTIMATOR HIRED

Michael F. Kenney Inc. of Southfield has been contracted at $7,500 to make cost estimates of the center at three stages of development.

Representatives of Urban Design Associates (UDA) of Pittsburgh, Pa., presented the preliminary plans for the center to the board Oct. 3.

★ ★ ★

School officials are acquiring properties for the 2,000-pupil complex which would be on a 19-acre site. Construction is scheduled to start in March and be completed in August 1970.

A master site plan for roads, parking, overpasses and walkways prepared by UDA is being studied by the city.

In another building matter, a report from a consulting engineer showed that 67-year-old McConnell Elementary School has not deteriorated much since its last engineering study six years ago.

Pontiac School Affairs

Parents Say Board Went Back on Word

Pontiac school officials were accused last night of going back on a promise to provide every school in the system with remedial reading services.

A recommendation of the citizens millage committee was to provide the reading service at every school, but there are only 12 special reading teachers in the 28 elementary schools this year.

Two parents living in the Hawthorne Elementary School area, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Compagnoni, pleaded with the board to place a remedial reading teacher in Hawthorne School. They presented a petition with 41 signatures.

They found some sympathy in two board members, and Board President Monroe Osmun said the matter would be studied.

Assistant Supt. William Lacy explained that 27 remedial teaching positions planned for this year were cut to 12 by the teachers' contract settlement.

He said there are seven other elementary schools without reading teachers that show greater need than Hawthorne and that one reading teacher for each school would be planned for next year.

Development of Rural Jobs Urged at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—Lack of jobs in rural areas may be a cause for many problems in big city ghettos, says a Michigan State University labor specialist.

Dr. Daniel W. Sturt, head of the MSU Rural Manpower Center, says people are leaving rural communities to seek city jobs for which they are not qualified.

★ ★ ★

"Attention must be given to the development of rural industries and taking jobs to people rather than people to jobs," he says.

Rural areas must do more to attract industry," he adds.

SHORTCOMINGS

"One of the reasons people leave rural areas and one of the reasons rural economies fail to develop is the lack of adequate education, transportation, communication and other services available in rural areas."

Sturt says development of industry provides a community with a combination of rural living and urban employment which "affords workers an opportunity to achieve better incomes while maintaining residences and active cultural ties to their rural communities."

Vital Statistics Check Cost Up

LANSING (AP) —It will cost double the previous fee starting Nov. 15 to find out from the State Health Department if you officially were born, died, married, divorced or adopted.

The fee was upped by the 1968 Legislature from $1 to $2 to check on such documents as birth certificates.

The $2 will pay for a search of records of three years. An additional charge of 50 cents will be levied for each additional year searched.

Even if the record cannot be located, the fee will be kept by the state to pay for the search of records.

In addition, special searches for research projects will be paid for at a fee to be set by the director of public health to meet costs.

The new law also specifies that fees charged by local registrars shall be the same as those charged by the state.

Grants to WSU

DETROIT (AP)—The Wayne State University board of governors said Thursday it had accepted grants totaling $2,078,609 for a one-month period. More than $898,000 of the total was received from the U. S. Public Health Service, including a $264,392 grant for a professional nurse program.

New Council to Advise on State Health

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has appointed a 32-member state advisory council on comprehensive health planning, to "help assure the highest level of health attainable for every person in Michigan."

The council — chaired by Dr. Andrew D. Hunt Jr., dean of the Michigan State University college of human medicine — is charged with helping the comprehensive state health planning commission develop state and regional programs.

★ ★ ★

"The continually increasing costs of health care and the difficulties in making good health equally available to all citizens underscore the need for planning," Romney said.

"Federal comprehensive health planning legislation proposes a partnership between public and private agencies and between professions and consumers.

Spanish Armada Ship Found, but Treasure . . . ?

DUBLIN (AP) — The remains of the Santa Maria de la Rosa a ship of the Spanish Armada sunk in 1588, have been found, but hopes of recovering her reputed treasure must wait until next summer.

When Lt. Comdr. John Grattan, 33, of Britain's Royal Navy, surfaced in the middle of Blasket Sound with the cry "We've found her!" it ended a four-month search in which 15 divers covered 3,000 acres.

* * *

The Santa Maria de la Rosa was one of 24 ships of the Armada which sank off the Irish coast in September 1588 after Philip of Spain's abortive attempt to invade Elizabethan England.

Sydney Wignall, 45-year-old Welsh businessman and chief sponsor of the search, said: "You'll get some idea of the difficulty if I say that we were like 15 Batmen flying over a town of 40,000 population peering into everybody's back yard to find a toy boat"

POWERFUL CURRENTS

Blasket Sound, at the tip of the Dingle Peninsula, is pounded by Atlantic combers. Powerful currents stream between three barren, uninhabited islands. It's no place for amateur skin divers.

Everybody knew the Santa Maria lay in the sound. Fishermen who speak only the ancient Gaelic language knew it because their fathers told them — a legend handed down through the generations. In Spain there are documents describing exactly how the ship sank. In London are accounts of how she sank with only a single survivor of the 233 soldiers and 64 sailors on board.

The exact location was a mystery until last July. The wreck lies in the form of a long heap of ballast stones pointing approximately northwest. Cannon shot of three sizes and terra cotta pottery have been hauled to the surface.

The divers are silent about any discovery of treasure. Documents in London, dated 1588, say the galleon carried 50,000 gold ducats and 50,000 silver coins. Today that would be worth around $2 million.

SPANISH LICENSE

John P. King, Dublin lawyer who acts for the diving team says: "We have been granted a license by the Spanish government to salvage Armada wrecks. We deposited a bond of $3,000 in return for which we may retain all objects of historical interest and 80 per cent of all coin or other treasure, the Spanish government retaining the remaining 20 per cent."

The treasure hunt starts again next summer, with underwater metal detectors, diver-to-diver and diver-to-ship telephones, water jets and suction pumps. It is estimated that survey and salvage will last up to five seasons.

* * *

But dreams of treasure are not shared by everybody.

Tom P. Kilfeather, author of he book "Spanish Graveyard," says: "They are wasting their time. The Santa Maria de la Rosa was not even a galleon. She was a converted merchantman or freighter, armed with a few cannon and sent off with the Armada.

"Why should such a ship carry a fortune in gold and silver? Nobody goes to war with holds stuffed with treasure. There is no reason why any ship of the Armada should have carried a huge amount of gold and silver coins — all the sailors were paid before they left Spain."

Kilfeather thinks the sole survivor of the wreck invented the treasure in an attempt to save his life. He was executed, however.

The Gourmet Adventures of Jayson's

Anyone who has ever raised a radish will be glad to tell you how to grow vegetables. But telling you why to grow vegetables—that's another matter. Unless you have tasted young peas served within an hour of the time they were picked, how can you understand why? Or, perhaps you have had a mixed green salad, made up of several lettuces, each of a different color, texture, and taste, a few new beet leaves to add mystery, some chopped dill, several sprigs of basil or tarragon — all tossed in a bowl rubbed with a cut clove of garlic, seasoned with olive oil and vinegar. Gardening is hard work — But, oh — but delicious results.

The results are always delicious at JAYSON'S, 4195 Dixie Hwy., at Hatchery Rd., Drayton Plains. Facilities for banquets, parties, meetings. Enjoy the J. C. Heard Trio Tues. thru Sat. Cocktail hour daily 4-6. For reservations call 673-7900, where dining pleasure and hospitality go hand in hand.

Oil Strike May Spark Boom for Alaska

(EDITOR'S NOTE — An oil strike on the frozen north coast of the land of the midnight sun could spark another rush to Alaska, America's last frontier. If estimates are correct, the oil field could boost North American oil reserves by 25 per cent.)

By WICK TEMPLE

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — When you step off a plane at the Arctic Ocean village of Barrow, Alaska, you are met by a wheezing, puffing snow tractor. Emblazoned on its side are these words:

"Barrow Taxi Service. We Aim to Freeze."

* * *

With this hearty good nature, the men who labor by the light of the midnight sun are about to awaken America's great sleeping giant — Arctic Alaska, the last frontier.

After 101 years under the American flag and only nine years of statehood, a fantastic oil strike on the frozen north coast is about to give Alaska its opportunity to break the shackles of weather, distance and too few people.

SPARK FOR SURGE

Just as the turn of the century gold rush laid the foundation for present day Alaska, this oil bonanza is expected to provide the spark for another surge forward for the 49th state.

Atlantic Richfield Corp. and Humble Oil, working together, have brought in two rich wells on the frozen tundra near Prudhoe Bay on what is called Alaska's North Slope, where the sun doesn't set for two months in summer and isn't seen at all for two months in winter; where most of the residents are Eskimos and where dog sleds are still a very effective means of travel.

* * *

The exact size of the oil field is still undetermined. Reserves are estimated at between 5 and 10 billion barrels. If the higher figure is correct, the field could increase North American oil reserves by 25 per cent. The field could easily be as big as the reserves of East Texas.

But politicians and oilmen alike say there is a possibility that the deposits cover the entire north coast of Alaska. Gov. Walter J. Hickel says the total reserves may be 40 billion barrels, which would almost equal the reserves of all the rest of North American.

NORTH OF FAIRBANKS

The oil strike is 360 miles north of Fairbanks, Alaska's second largest city and the jumping-off point to an undeveloped Arctic area encompassing 200,000 square miles.

The location presents fascination and great problems for Alaskans who hope to see their state leap ahead on oil wealth.

* * *

There are no roads into the vast Arctic, where winter temperatures hit 60 below zero. The north coast is locked by ice most of the year. The Alaska Railroad terminates at Fairbanks. Huge air freighters have landed on the frozen tundra to get supplies and equipment to the drillers.

A pipeline 600 miles long will be necessary to get the oil to the comparatively warmer southern coast where it can be loaded on tankers. A commission established by the legislature to plan development of the north country has recommended extending the railroad into the Arctic at a cost of $210 million.

A MAJOR TOPIC

Oil is the major topic of conversation in Alaska, from the modern suburban home in the largest city, Anchorage to the sawdust floor of the Red Dog Saloon in the capital city, Juneau.

Alaskans hope a 12.5 per cent oil royalty and a 4 per cent severance tax will fatten the annual state budget of $113 million to the point where no state income tax will be necessary. They also hope it will provide enough people and cash to ease a cost of living that is 18 to 25 per cent above that of the rest of the nation.

* * *

Joe Fitzgerald of Anchorage, chairman of a federal field commission for development planning in Alaska, says the North Slope oil fields eventually could yield as much revenue to the state as Alaska now collects from all sources.

* * *

How will the find affect the "south 48," as Alaskans refer to the continental U.S.?

U.S. LESS DEPENDENT

"This changes the whole petroleum ball game in North America," Fitzgerald said. "U.S. dependence on imported oil will be lessened considerably."

But, most important, this strike "gives Alaska real control over its own destiny," he said. "There has been too much federal involvement in Alaska. This puts Alaska in the driver's seat."

* * *

Ninety-seven per cent of Alaska's land is federally owned. The state has been handicapped by three problems—high unit cost, long distances and what Fitzgerald calls "low traffic density"—not enough people.

Of the state's 279,000 people, 125,000 live in the Anchorage area. The rest are spread over 586,000 square miles, a fifth the size of the "south 48."

3-4 YEAR DEVELOPMENT

Development of the oil fields will take three to four years, says Bill Bishop of Anchorage, manager of the Alaska Division of the Western Oil and Gas Association. The two discovery wells are only seven miles apart, and this fall, three more wells will be sunk to further explore the size of the field.

* * *

Oil is no stranger to Alaska, which means "The Great Land" in the Aleut dialect. Onshore and offshore wells on the southern coast and especially in the Cook Inlet already have made Alaska the nation's eighth-ranking oil-producing state.

With the North Slope fields active, Alaska easily could be among the world's top oil producing areas.

* * *

Gov. Hickel envisions railroad trains 100 cars long hauling ore from the frozen tundra. He adds that to the already flourishing fishing, lumber and tourist industries, and sees a limitless future for this massive piece of real estate bought from Russia 101 years ago for only $7.2 million.

Schlesinger Gives Support to HHH

NEW YORK (AP) — Historian Arthur Schlesinger Jr. said Thursday he was supporting Hubert H. Humphrey because the vice president has "now recognized the futility of further military escalation in Vietnam."

The former presidential adviser to the late John F. Kennedy had endorsed the presidential candidacy of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and switched to Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota before Humphrey won the Democratic presidential nomination.

Minuteman 3 Success in Test

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The triple warhead Minuteman 3 missile has advanced an other step toward its role as America's No. 1 strategic rocket with a second successful test firing.

* * *

The swift intercontinental range missile was fired from an underground silo Thursday and flung its warhead package toward a target area more than 5,000 miles away, near Ascension Island in the south Atlantic. It covered the course in 22 minutes.

The Air Force reported the launch phase was successful but declined to report on performance of the warhead section for security reasons.

* * *

On the first launching last Aug. 16, each of the three warheads struck within 1.6 miles of their targets. The weapon is to be operational in 1970.

Choice: More Nose Cones or Nothing to Sneeze At

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The successful flight of the Apollo 7 moonship means that the next U.S. president will be confronted with a difficult decision in fixing budgetary priorities.

Should he allot millions of more dollars to continue the program aimed at the conquest of outer space?

Or should he divert this money into another program aimed at the conquest of the common cold?

* * *

With their near-perfect performance, the Apollo crew members reminded us that man's age-old dream of reaching the stars apparently is nearing reality.

FAR FROM CURE

But they also reminded us that man's age-old dream of curing the sniffles apparently is as far from fulfillment as ever.

By making an all-out effort, the United States likely could achieve one of these goals. It is doubtful, however, that the nation's resources are great enough to support both quests simultaneously.

* * *

It will be up to the president to choose between them, and I certainly don't envy him that task.

One thing the president must keep in mind is the historical perspective. Is history to record that the first human being to set foot on the moon had a runny nose?

INCONGRUOUS FINDING

Chances are that scholars of the future would find this incongruous, to say the least. How could a nation have been advanced enough for space travel if it were baffled by postnasal drips?

* * *

Another consideration is the question of whether the space program can ever expand to its full potential as long as the cold problem remains unsolved.

* * *

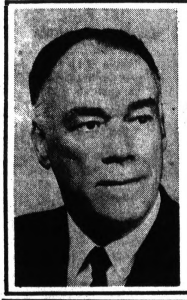

It isn't easy for man to keep his eyes on the stars when his nose is buried in a handkerchief.

There is even a remote possibility that a cure for colds will be found on the moon.

Our astronauts may discover that the germs are killed by earthlight.

The Social Security Administration reported recently that the number of Americans it regards as poor declined by more than nine million between 1959 and 1966.

Kids' Pockets Are Like Mom's Purse

By MEL NEWMAN

Maybe kids' pockets aren't too different from a woman's purse.

They contain a few necessities—change, pencils, etc.—and many objects which can't readily be categorized. Perhaps the cardinal rule is that anything which seems even temporarily or potentially interesting or useful is socked away.

The Huck Finn concept of boys' jeans being loaded with hordes of toads, garden snakes, sticks and rocks doesn't seem to apply these days.

Urbanization, no doubt.

★ ★ ★

A random sampling shows things have changed even in the past few years.

Bubble gum cards have all but disappeared.

No longer do the images of major league baseball players come popping out of pockets, ripped free from their crinkly wrappings and sickeningly sweet gum slab.

The gum was incidental anyway, and rarely chewed, though it often could be found at wash time by some timidly searching mother whose hand became glommed by the pink, semimelted mess.

It was the cards that counted, with a three-color head-and-shoulders or action shot of some diamond hero on one side and his record all the way from Sioux Falls to Yankee Stadium on the reverse.

What was seemingly the proof of immortality was itself mortal.

But other pocket packing has apparently remained constant.

There are still combs, erasers, mirrors, papers, pennies, toys, candy, gum and theater stubs.

And more important, there are objects with no explanation for their being kept in custody other than whimsical. Only the child with a certain special rock knows why the rock is important.

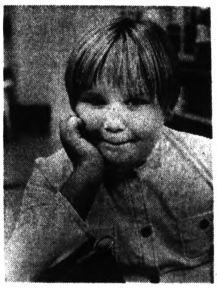

Or maybe he doesn't know why, but it's important anyway.

After all, it is in his pocket.

BROOKS BONANZA — Gwendolyn Brooks of 225 Fisher, a Bagley Elementary School pupil, apparently leans toward jewelry and coins in her collection. She also carries pencil and paper, tissue and a baby bottle in case her doll gets hungry.

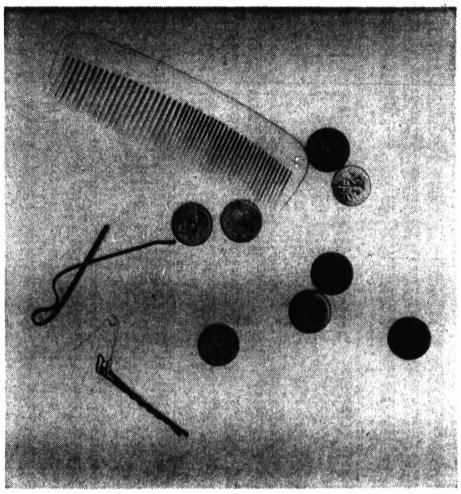

JUST IN CASE — Mary Sledge of 254 Draper, a Webster School pupil, carries typically feminine articles — a wallet full of pictures, a necklace, a comb and mirror. She also travels with a can opener, in case she wants to open something or "dig something out of dirt."

ENERGETIC — Robert Benton of 341 Howard McNeill, a Bagley School pupil, has in tow a spelling test, enough writing utensils to take 300 more of the same, a wrench for more physical problems and batteries for energy.

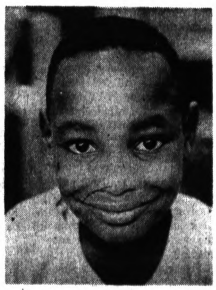

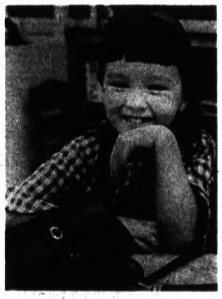

TRAVELING LIGHT — The collection of Tony Linsenman of 277 Elizabeth Lake is small but effective. He has enough cash for 17 pieces of bubble gum, a comb for good grooming and hairpins with which to form large letters of the alphabet.

HE'S PREPARED—Mark Reed of 283 Crystal Lake, a Bagley School pupil, is equipped for either of two emergencies. He has a mound of crumbs in case he gets hungry and a gas cap in case he finds a car without one.

ARTISTIC BENT — A large drawing, a colorful kerchief and love beads are among the items from Marleen Kilmer's purse. A Webster Elementary School pupil who lives at 81 DeWitt, Marleen is practical, too. Witness her effort to stay on mom's good side.

Selling Pressure Eases

Mart Pokes Into Plus Territory

NEW YORK (AP) — Selling pressure eased and the stock market poked its nose into plus territory early this afternoon.

Gains outnumbered losses by nearly 100 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 355.2, with industrials up .8, rails off .7, and utilities up .7.

Blue chips were reactionary at the start in a continuation of Thursday's sharp selloff, which was surrounded by disappointment that no apparent progress had been made in Vietnam peace moves.

Hopes of a breakthrough in the Paris peace talks began to emerge as the session warmed up, however, and there was some precautionary preweekend buying in the event that a big news break on peace might send the market to a runaway rally next week.

Third quarter earnings reports also were unexpectedly good and gave the market a firm economic backdrop.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.61 at 958.29.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher in slower trading than Thursday's.

HIS EYES — A leader dog is the eyes of this blind man. With the canine aid this man became rehabilitated through travel independence. Leader Dogs for the Blind, a PAUF agency at 1039 S. Rochester, Avon Township, offers facilities and means whereby blind persons are trained in the use of a dog guide.

Africa Hunt Fails to Find Plane

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) —Searchers spent a fruitless day looking along the equator Thursday for signs of a light plane carrying three U. S. missionaries, en route from Mbandaka to Boende.

One of those aboard was a nurse from Port Huron, Mich.

The plane disappeared 11 days ago. Searchers had hoped for results from separate reports of villagers from the region who claimed they saw the plane go down.

Missing are Max Leslie Meyers, 34, of Indianapolis, Ind. the pilot; Mrs. Harry Goodall, about 35, of Birmingham, Ala., and Nashville, Tenn., and Mary Hoyt of Port Huron.

Car Crash Fatal to Jackson Boy

NAPOLEON (AP) — Matthew M. Herdman, 2, of Jackson was killed Thursday in a traffic accident in Napoleon, near Jackson. The car he was riding in struck another car in the rear, then careened into a tree.

Hospitalized in fair condition are three others in the car, including the victim's 19-year-old mother, Minnie. Also hospitalized are the driver, John Wilkie of Napoleon, and 21-year-old Elnora Goodall of Jackson.

Party for a Ship

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—A silver anniversary celebration of the commissioning of the Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw has been planned for next year by a special committee representing the Cheboygan City Council, Chamber of Commerce and former crew members.

A Look at TV

Commercials Catch It

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Jim Nabors, who is preparing to graduate from country-style comic to next season's variety show host, appeared in a CBS special Thursday night mostly as a sorig and dance man.

But, just to let the "Gomer Pyle" fans know that under the fancy city clothes there was the same homespun innocent, he occasionally broke out his high-pitched voice and called his lady guest stars "ma'am."

* * *

The hour concentrated on musical numbers with Nabors using his excellent singing voice in everything from opera to pop.

He was at the center of a merry, artfully produced program and worked well with Carol Burnett, Debbie Reynolds, Mary Costa and Vikki Carr.

SOME SHOCK

After a couple of seasons watching Nabors specials, his deep singing voice is no surprise, but there is always some shock when he acquits himself so well in the dance numbers. He worked with the chorus girls with ease and grace.

The nonmusical sketches didn't amount to much, but a series of commercial jingles to the music of Wagner, Strauss and other composers of operatic classics, was bright and to the point.

* * *

Kidding television commercials has been a favorite comedy theme since the completion of the coaxial cable. Recently it has been done even more than usual since some of the commercials seem to beg for satiric treatment.

In the Nabors show, the cast took off on a remedy for tension —to the music of Rossini—and made hilarious fun of a mouth wash sales pitch—to Strauss music and in Student Prince costumes.

COINCIDENCE

By coincidence, the program that followed on another network also poked a bit of fun at commercials. It was ABC's "That Girl." Marlo Thomas, still playing a stagestruck girl, was hired to do some TV commercials which involved jumping from airplanes, dropping off a cliff and otherwise acting like some of the bemused characters frequently sighted during station breaks.

* * *

Johnny Carson, on his NBC show the other night, wandered into some off-the-cuff comment about current commercials, in particular expressing his dislike for the specifics illustrated in some antiperspirant commercials.

He was aghast, too, at the offer of a mouthwash manufacturer to have viewers send in the name of associates who "offend," as they daintily call it, and let the impersonal company break the bad news.

Candidates Going All Out for Support of Celebrities

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — They are trying desperately to get all the celebrities to declare themselves in the presidential race and so if you're a celebrity and haven't been asked to come out for either Nixon or Humphrey, you're probably not really a celebrity.

WILSON

Believe this or not, but on the edges of a Humphrey fund-raising dinner at the Waldorf the other night, around 12, a fellow asked me:

"Can you get me Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme's phone number? The Vice President wants to take a picture with them."

Rod Steiger made a videotape for HHH. Ed Ames, opening at the Empire Room, sang earlier at the Humphrey dinner—one song being "Impossible Dream," but not facetiously. He meant that HHH in his opinion could bring about the impossible dream of peace.

"I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby" was also sung to the Humphreys by Ames. It was their courting song. We understand that one of the fund raisers commented:

"And that's what the money guys have been saying to Hubie, too . . . they can't give him anything but love, baby."

Ames did a good show in his opening; the Empire Room fits him. He had some remarks about Jackie and Onassis, one reminiscent of Mike Todd and Liz Taylor: I can't understand what he sees in her."

* * *

A Nixon-type listener said, "Humphrey made a great 10-minute speech and it only took him an hour and a half to do it."

* * *

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Composer Burt Bacharach's out of the hospital after a pneumonia siege; wife Angie Dickinson flew in from L.A. . . . Max Youngstein's a hot prospect to become prez of MGM . . . Mia Farrow with director Joe Losey, talking about the Maharishi . . . Art Carney poured champagne backstage at "Lovers"—he became a grandpa for the second time.

"A Mother's Kisses," which folded out of town, kissed away $450,000 . . . Saul Chaplin, producer of "Star," says his next production will be—his honeymoon; he and script supervisor Betty Levin were married before "Star" started . . . Luchow's, open on Monday this week for the first time in decades, had lines waiting outside.

* * *

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "If the author of 'Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire' was alive in the U.S. today, he'd be taking notes like crazy."—Former Ambassador Phelps Phelps.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "There is no limit to what can be accomplished if it doesn't matter who gets the credit."

EARL'S PEARLS: Taffy Tuttle hears that we've offered to stop the bombing if Hanoi de-escalates Asian flu.

At his Waldorf dinner, Vice Pres. Humphrey updated an old story to tell of a life-long Democrat who, on his deathbed, registered as a Republican: "If someone has to go, it ought to be one of them." . . . That's earl, brother.

Defense Election Issue

From Our News Wires

Defense policy is back in the forefront of the presidential campaign, with Richard M. Nixon and George Wallace agreeing the Pentagon needs an overhaul.

In a nationwide radio address, Nixon said yesterday the Democratic administrations since 1960 have led the country into a "gravely serious security gap" that could bring a "survival gap" in several years if not fixed.

Nixon said the U.S advantage over Russia in land-based intercontinental missiles has slipped from a 50 per cent edge to a "marginal" lead; the Soviets now lead in bomber strength, and the policies created by former Defense U.S. lead in nuclear submarines has been cut 20 per cent.

Wallace said "computerized defense" Secretary Robert S. McNamara are failing to provide "an adequate and effective defense of this nation."

HUMPHREY ON VIETNAM

Hubert H. Humphrey meanwhile told a group of ministers in Los Angeles that if peace has not come by Inauguration Day Jan. 20, one of his first moves as president "would be to meet with leaders of South Vietnam to work out a program for reduction of American forces and a-de-Americanzation of the war."

Nixon stumped Pennsylvania yesterday. Wallace prepared his defense policy address for his first New York City rally, but discarded it for his customary law-and-order speech when disorders broke out in a crowd of 15,000 at Madison Square Garden.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson announced he will make his first televised speech on Humphrey's behalf the Sunday evening before the election.

Johnson said he thought rising Humphrey strength would prevent the election from going to the House.

AGNEW RAPS HUMPHREY

Spiro T. Agnew, GOP vice presidential candidate said in St. Louis that if Humphrey had been given free rein "there's little doubt he would have undermined" the Paris talks.

Edmund S. Muskie, Democratic vice presidential candidate, told Pennsylvania coal workers Nixon "never did anything to improve the lives of the people."

Curtis E. LeMay, Wallace's running mate on the American Independent party ticket, said in Boston he expects little success at the Paris talks "until we twist the Communists' arm some more."

Super High School Ruling in 3 Weeks

By DICK ROBINSON

A decision on where to put Pontiac's super high school—either at Pontiac State Hospital or in a decaying predominantly Negro section—is expected to be made in three weeks.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer told more than 100 residents at the board of education meeting last night that the board "plans to take official action to designate the site on or before Nov. 18."

★ ★ ★

The board is waiting for a final report on construction costs and time on both sites from urban planner David Lewis of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Lewis' written report is expected to be ready in one week and is scheduled to be presented to an open meeting of Pontiac Area Planning Council, which requested a complete report, on Nov. 14.

STUDIES BEING MADE

Whitmer said after the meeting that time and cost studies on the school construction are being prepared by the super high school's architect, O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, Inc., of Birmingham, and Pontiac Public Works Director Joseph Neipling.

Related Stories, Page C-10

Most opinions so far point toward the favorability of the hospital site, including support from the community as indicated last night.

★ ★ ★

Of approximately 20 residents who spoke, most favored the hospital site and a few said the center city site around Orchard Lake Avenue and Bagley should be considered.

In an emotion-packed, standing-room-only-crowd hearing, applause rang out on five occasions after these remarks from the audience:

● "How do you (the board and school administration) expect to pass future millage elections if you change the site?"

★ ★ ★

● "I voted for the high school at the hospital location and I don't want my vote taken away. I don't want my children going into another area. I'm not in favor of going the other way."

● "If you use the center site with federal funds, you have to give the federal government $1.60 to get $1 back. Build this school with local money and use vacant land."

U.S. Marks Time to Change Clock

By The Associated Press

Most Americans will be getting an extra hour of sleep Saturday night as they turn their clocks back 60 minutes for the annual switch from Daylight Saving Time to Standard Time.

Exceptions are citizens living in states that decided they'd rather fight the Uniform Time Act of 1966 than switch to daylight saving every April.

★ ★ ★

The time act required all states — except those that exempted themselves — to go on daylight time from 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in April to 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October. Congress was trying to clear up confusion surrounding semiannual time changes

A survey by The Associated Press indicated today, however, that as of the end of the first full year of operation, the law hasn't changed the situation much.

CONFUSION IN MICHIGAN

Michigan and South Dakota, for example, exempted themselves from the law. But backers of daylight time circulated petitions demanding a referendum on the issue and kept the exemption from taking effect. The question will be on the ballot in both states Nov. 5.

Most of Indiana has been following Eastern Standard Time the year-round, but some areas in the northwest and southwest have been on either Central Standard or Central Daylight Time.

Similar situations exist in North Dakota and Kansas.

Romney Cancels Stadium Session

LANSING (AP) — In a tersely phrased letter, Gov. George Romney has told Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit that there was "no point to a meeting" on a new sports stadium unless both men attended the session.

Romney said he canceled a meeting on the proposed stadium yesterday because Cavanagh had said he could not be there personally but would send a representative.

★ ★ ★

"There is no point to a meeting unless you and I can both be present," the governor wrote Cavanagh.

"It was my inability to be there, not my unwillingness," Cavanagh explained to newsmen. He expressed willingness to meet with Romney when a new session could be arranged.

FAVORS RIVER

Cavanagh reportedly wants a new stadium located on the Detroit River near the downtown section. Other suggestions and proposals for a site have been at Pontiac, at Livonia and at the Michigan State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

Romney said the scheduled meeting arose from a discussion he and Cavanagh had while the two officials waited at Willow Run Airport to greet the Detroit Tigers after their World Series victory.

Romney's letter recalled he told Cavanagh that the Tiger triumph "might spark the private and public support necessary to get a modern stadium."

UAW Pact Pays a Dividend at GM

DETROIT (UPI) — A cost-of-living adjustment, affecting more than 450,000 General Motors Corp. hourly-rate employes goes into effect Monday, a spokesman for the auto maker said today.

The workers will receive an eight-cent-per-hour raise for the second year under the terms of the 1967 contract between GM and the United Auto Workers union.

★ ★ ★

The pay hike was determined from the rise in the Consumer Price Index published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, GM said.

For eligible salaried employes, the quarterly cost-of-living will be increased $40 — from $25 to $65 — effective No. 1.

It's a Granddaughter for LBJ as Lynda Gives Birth to Girl

WASHINGTON (AP) — A squalling, ruddy girl with black hair was born at 12:03 a.m. today to Lynda Bird Robb, touching off a round of free cigars handed out by beaming grandfather and father.

The grandfather, President Lyndon B. Johnson, announced the birth to newsmen at sububran Bethesda Naval Medical Center.

★ ★ ★

The father, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, was in his tin-roofed office of the 1st Marine Division's supply section in Vietnam.

Robb's first reaction? "It's a tradition here," he said. "Outstanding is the word we use."

'VERY HAPPY'

"Very happy" were the words Johnson used to describe the family. The 24-year-old mother "Seems to be quite normal and relaxed about it all," he said.

The little girl, who weighed 7 pounds, 8 ounces and measured 20 inches long, wasn't named. Asked what names were under consideration, Robb replied, "I'll have to let Lynda answer that one, since she's had custody for the last nine months."

The new baby was "healthy and vociferous," the President said.

Lynda entered the hospital at 8:20 last night, about two hours after labor started. She spent just 15 minutes in the delivery room.

Lynda had a regional block anesthetic and was conscious throughout.

The whole family went to see Lynda and the baby after the birth and the President laughingly told reporters, "We would still be there talking to her except that the doctor thought they ought to go through some procedures."

'Laotian Regime Told U.S. Plans Viet Bomb Halt'

VIETIANE, Laos (UPI) — The United States has informed the Laotian government it intends to halt its bombing of North Vietnam but that no date has been fixed, Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma said today.

Souvanna told UPI in an interview he was informed of the U.S. plans Tuesday by U.S. Ambassador William H. Sullivan.

★ ★ ★

The prince said Sullivan told him American planes would stop bombing North Vietnam but that no date for the halt has yet been agreed upon with the North Vietnamese.

(Diplomatic sources in European capitals have described the Washington-Hanoi talks as in a delicate stage with the United States apparently demanding proof of Hanoi's willingness to de-escalate the war before there is any bombing pause.)

LAOS MISSIONS?

Souvanna did not say whether such a bombing halt would also affect U.S. air missions over Laos. The United States flies both bombing and "armed reconnaissance" flights over Laos but admits only to the reconnaissance flights.

The premier said a small number of the estimated 40,000 North Vietnamese troops in Laos have been reported by military intelligence sources to have crossed the border back into North Vietnam.

He said if the Communists open another offensive next spring with the aim of gaining control of more territory in Laos the government would not hesitate to ask for military assistance from the powers which signed the 1962 Geneva agreement.

Souvanna did not elaborate on what kind of assistance would be asked.

The agreement, which supposedly established Laos as neutral territory, includes the United States among its signers.

Souvanna said activity by both the North Vietnamese and Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas has tapered off during the past two months.

But he said plans to trim the government forces from 70,000 to 50,000 men were dictated by budgetary problems rather than an improvement in the military situation.

Mere Maids to Aid Sealab?

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Officers of the Navy's Sealab 3 think they have the answer to one of the great problems facing men who will spend long weeks at great depths under the sea.

The problem: boredom when they're not working.

★ ★ ★

The answer: female aquanauts.

The intriguing situation arose at a news conference yesterday as officials disclosed technical problems have delayed lowering of the 57-foot-long Habitat until mid-November or later.

12-DAY STAY SET

Five teams of eight or nine men are scheduled to spend 12 days each in the cylindrical sea hut at a depth of 600 feet near San Clemente Island off the southern California coast.

On their return to the surface they will have to spend six days in decompression chambers, getting rid of atmospheric gases forced into their tissues by pressures 19 times that at the surface.

★ ★ ★

During that period one of their big problems will be boredom, as it will be for future undersea workers in mining and drilling operations.

Capt. Grady H. Lowe, commander of the Naval Undersea Warfare Center at nearby Pasadena, suggested that the best solution would be female as well as male aquanauts.

NO PLANS FOR WOMEN

Capt. George F. Bond, medical officer for Sealab 3 and its forerunners, said the Navy has no plans to use women in any deep-diving occupation, "but I see no reason why they could not do the work."

"I think this may come very soon," he said, "as coeducational academic institutions go more and more into oceanography."

★ ★ ★

Former astronaut Scott Carpenter, a Navy commander who, spent a record 30 days in Sealab 2 at a depth of 205 feet off La Jolla, Calif., in 1965, disagreed with Bond's observation that female aquanauts probably are not needed "at this time."

"That," said Carpenter, "depends entirely on your viewpoint."

LEAVING CZECHOSLOVAKIA — Polish military units are shown crossing the border into Poland from Czechoslovakia yesterday after occupying the latter country with other Warsaw Pact countries.

Fighter-Bombers Blast North Viet Supply Lines

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers took advantage of improved weather to deal North Vietnam's supply lines some of the heaviest blows given them in several weeks, military spokesmen reported today.

U.S. pilots logged 122 missions between the demilitarized zone and the 19th parallel yesterday.

"The weather was good enough to do visual daylight bombing," a U.S. spokesman said.

The improved weather, with scattered clouds at 3,000 feet, continued today as U.S. jets kept up their attacks on North Vietnamese trucks, boats, storage areas, highways and bridges. Reports on today's strikes will not be announced until tomorrow.

'SUPPLIES HIT HARD'

The U.S. Command headquarters said in yesterday's raids "the enemy's supply system was hit hard as the pilots bombed fuel stores, warehouses and bunker complexes."

The Air Force, Navy and Marine bombers also struck at trucks and boats ferrying arms and ammunition toward South Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Pilots reported smashing at least 39 boats and trucks and four bridges, and touching off numerous secondary explosions and fires, indicating hits on fuel and ammunition stores.

In one of the most spectacular raids, Navy A7 Corsair bombers from the carrier America dropped 500-pound bombs on three gasoline storage tanks 15 miles south of Vinh, and huge fireballs rose into the air.

GASOLINE DESTROYED

The pilots said at least 10,000 gallons of gasoline were destroyed.

More such raids on the North are planned for tomorrow.

In the air war over South Vietnam, more than 70 of America's huge B52 bombers made heavy attacks on Communist positions ranging from the Mekong Delta to the northern coastal lowlands.

In 12 missions, the eight-jet Stratofortresses dropped 2,100 tons of bombs on troop concentrations, storage facilities and bunkers. Two of the strikes were within 28 miles of Saigon, along jungle attack routes north-northeast of the capital.

E. Germany Trying Invasion Protesters

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany has launched a series of secret trials of dissenters who objected to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in which East German forces took part, authoritative sources reported today.

The sources said that Horst Bonnet, stage director at the East Berlin Comic Opera, had been sentenced to 2½ years in prison for distributing leaflets protesting the invasion.

★ ★ ★

They said additional trials might involve 20 or more persons, among them the 16-year-old and 19-year-old sons of scientist Robert Havemann. The father lost his membership in the Communist party and his post at East Berlin's Humboldt Universiay in 1964 for his independent views on how socialism should develop.

Sources in the Czechoslovak Embassy in East Berlin say the Aug. 21 Warsaw Pact blitz on Prague produces a wave of sympathy and other demonstrations of support by individual East Germans for the cause of liberalism in Czechoslovakia.

East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht was in the forefront of those demanding that the liberalization drive in Czechoslovakia be halted. He feared it would spread to the East German people.

Ulbricht declared that a cultural liberalization such as occurred in Czechoslovakia would not be tolerated in East Germany.

Teacher Back From Japan Atomic Forum

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Floyd W. Bunt, head of the science department at Cranbrook School, has returned from Japan where he addressed the Japan Atomic Industrial Forum, and discussed peaceful uses of atomic energy with Japanese scientists.

Bunt, a Cranbrook faculty member for 24 years, spent five weeks in Japan and the Far East on grants from Cranbrook and the Fund for Peaceful Atomic Development.

★ ★ ★

Included in his itinerary were Taipei, Manila, Hong Kong, Macao, Cambodia, Thailand and Singapore.

Bunt is known for his diverse interests, including the invention of improved automobile systems and experimental engineering work for several automobile companies.

While in Japan, Bunt interviewed several Japanese educators who have studied in the U.S. on Fund for Peaceful Atomic Development grants. Cranbrook and Bunt have hosted several of these groups.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A picture shooting session will be held Monday at 8 p.m., at the Cranbrook Hall of Science, by the Bloomfield Hills Camera Club.

Kim Chi Ba of the House of Kim will model for the photographers.

An exhibit of 50 national prize-winning prints by Scholastic Magazine will be featured, as well as a photographic slide competition for members.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A. Keith Dressell, 712 E. Valley Chase, has been promoted to vice president of First of Michigan Corp., Detroit.

Formerly assistant vice president, Dressell joined the firm in 1964.

John R. Taylor, 220 N. Glengarry, was appointed as an assistant vice president of the firm.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The American Arbitration Association was to hold a hearing today in Detroit regarding a grievance made by the Bloomfield Hills Education Association against the Bloomfield Hills School Board concerning an agreement made between the two in September, 1967.

The BHEA will not begin negotiations with the school board at the hearing as previously reported.

Meeting of 'Big Brothers': Honors, Awards, Elections

Several Pontiac area men were honored for serving as Big Brothers for more than five years at the annual Big Brothers of Oakland County meeting and election last night.

Bernard Salvatore, assistant advertising director for The Pontiac Press, received an award for the contributions made to Big Brothers by himself and The Press. The Press recently printed a picture page on Big Brothers and had it reprinted for national distribution by the group.

★ ★ ★

Keynote speaker Hubert G. Locke, director of Religious Affairs, Wayne State University, told some 90 listeners at the Belanger House, Royal Oak, that people must face up to the problem of law and order.

He insisted that people must open their minds and help fight the problem by participating in community activities and civic organizations such as Big Brothers.

The crime rate was higher in 1926 and during the depression than it is today, he added.

ELECT OFFICERS

Officers elected include James Cummins of 4252 Derry, Bloomfield Township, president; James Willoughby of 1641 Graefield, Birmingham, vice president; Edward Hoot of Royal Oak, treasurer; and Mrs. Virginia Loveland of 7165 Henry, West Bloomfield Township, secretary.

★ ★ ★

New board members are William M. Brown of 7090 Commerce, West Bloomfield Township; Mrs. Betty Turpin of 108 Franklin Blvd.; and Ossie Tower of 26330 Normandy, Franklin; and Mrs. Loveland.

★ ★ ★

Men receiving plaques were Jake Edwards of 51 Oneida, Willie McCray of 282 Elm, Henry Wallace of 401 Thors and Larry Robinson of 393 W. South Blvd., all of Pontiac. Others were Duane Hamilton of 2633 Elsinore, and Stephen Ryeson of 4095 Elizabeth Lake, both of Waterford Township; and Howard VanCamp of 3414 Gregory, Orion Township.

★ ★ ★

Plaque recipients from Bloomfield Township included John Anderson of 801 W. Long Lake and John Bosley of 1350 Forest Lane, Bruce Moore of 235 Helen, Rochester; Edward Underwood of 1717 W. Auburn, Avon Township; and Willoughby were also named.

Negro Economic Potential Cited

Pontiac's Negro community has the potential of establishing a strong base for economic growth and profit-making contributions to Negro areas as well as the city at large, an Oakland University professor of economics last night told Negroes attending a black unity meeting.

Dr. Karl Gregory, who is assistant to the chancellor on urban affairs at OU, said it is apparent that the Negro community is formulating a base for unity and cooperative action.

★ ★ ★

More than 60 Negroes in professional, business and educational fields, as well as young adults representing youthful Negro organizations attended the meeting sponsored by the Rema Club. The club, founded in 1947, is composed of about 30 of the city's leadin& Negro business and professional men.

Charles M. Tucker Jr., Rema president, said he was very enthused about the results of the meeting. He said Pontiac's Negro community, long considered dormant, is beginning to take a leading role in planning progress for the city.

PRESIDES OVER MEETING

Tucker, elected Rema president this summer, presided over the club's first meeting since then. Other officers are: Dr. William E. Hill, vice president; Billy E. Roach, secretary - treasurer; and Trustees Rev. Amos Johnson, Dr. Robert Turpin, Booker Yancy, Charlie J. Harrison Jr. and Henry McShan.

Tucker announced a $500 donation from Rema Club to the Pontiac Black Cultural Center at East Wilson and Sanford, a store-front-type classroom mainly funded by Oakland University. Richard Northcross, president of the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth, accepted the check for Albert Munson II, the cultural center director.

★ ★ ★

Disputes Vexing State's Schools

By The Associated Press

A number of Michigan schools faced continued troubles today in disputes with pupils and employes.

The Clio School District ordered classes canceled for its 5,000 pupils again today as a strike by school bus drivers moved into its third day.

★ ★ ★

The drivers yesterday rejected a condition set by the school board that they return to work before negotiations could resume on a contract.

Clio teachers have refused to cross picket lines set up by the drivers.

STRIKE NEAR MOUNT CLEMENS

A strike by most of the teachers in the Chippewa Valley School District near Mount Clemens continued in a dispute over proposals to insert a "grandfather" clause in their contract, exempting a reported seven teachers from the union shop provisions.

In Detroit, six Negro students, members of the militant Black Council Organization, were suspended yesterday from Mackenzie High School. School officials said the youths were suspended until Monday at the earliest, or until officials talked with parents of the youths.

★ ★ ★

The six were suspended as a result of an assembly held last Monday at which Negro militant students spoke and called some teachers "racist pigs." Several hundred students later demonstrated outside the building and roamed the halls.

Meanwhile, the Grosse Pointe Education Association and the Grosse Pointe Board of Education reached agreement yesterday on a new contract. Teachers are expected to vote on the proposed pact next week. The teachers had been working without a contract.

Lindsay Cancels Visit to County

New York Mayor John Lindsay has canceled his visit to Michigan and Oakland County today because of New York's teacher strike and the unrest among police and firemen.

LINDSAY

He had planned to tour four congressional districts in behalf of GOP candidates.

A speech he was to give at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in Detroit's Cobo Hall will be presented through closed-circuit television.

Lindsay had planned on being at the Pontiac Mall shopping center to promote the campaign of Congressman Jack McDonald of the 19th District.

Ruling on School in 3 Weeks

● "Only if the hospital site fails should another location be considered."

● "I expected construction to be under way by now. We want to start this building now."

STUDY STIRS CONTROVERSY

Controversy over the site arose when Lewis presented an oral site study report which indicated that the center site would do the most to benefit the city.

Residents, including those last night, said they were led to believe that when they approved the $19-million school in a bond referendum in March that it would be built on the hospital grounds.

★ ★ ★

The board of education had passed a resolution in February which stated that the board "intends to locate the school on a site on the state hospital grounds unless subsequent events or new information derived from further studies makes this unfeasible or impossible."

A prime speaker in favor of the center site was James Dyer, a Negro leader who is a delegate to the PAPC.

QUERY ON PLANNING

"Why wasn't the Finance Study Council (who proposed the hospital site in the referendum) concerned with comprehensive planning?" he asked.

His remark came after Trustee Mrs. Lucille Marshall explained that the PAPC, which was conceived by the school board to coordinate city and school planning, took it upon themselves to recommend a study by Lewis to the school board.

★ ★ ★

Trustees agreed to the study to see if the hospital site was the best location.

"The whole basis here is a racist society," a Negro teacher said as a resounding of "no's" echoed through the primarily white audience. "You shouldn't feel obligated to a mistake. People are more concerned with putting the school in the black community."

CENTRAL SITE FEELING

A white resident who said he voted for the high school said he felt it should be considered that the center city site would benefit the city as a whole.

Francis Webster, chairman of the Finance Study Council, suggested to the board that Lewis present his final study to the public at a meeting Nov. 4. The board said they would see if this was possible.

★ ★ ★

Whitmer explained the state hospital land could be sold to the school district early in 1969. Department of Mental Health officials are willing to recommend it to the State Legislature, who would have to take action.

A statement from the school board said "one of its most significant decisions in years will be made solely by the board of education.

"The board has already invested more than two years of study and deliberation on the 'best' way to expand senior high school facilities.

"The board believes that the overriding consideration must be the present and future welfare of public education in the school district. It is necessary to build a new high school as soon as possible."

At Meadow Brook Theatre

Politics Pulls 'The Apple Cart'

By DON BRAUNAGEL

With politics so prominent, Meadow Brook Theatre's third-season opener, G. B. Shaw's political comedy "The Apple Cart," is timely.

But, like most election campaigns, the play is too long, wordy and often dull, yet sometimes thought-provoking and frequently funny.

★ ★ ★

"The Apple Cart" pokes fun at politics and men of power, particularly the British government, with its combination democracy and monarchy.

The play is about a conflict between a British king and the elected ministers, who intend to reduce his remaining power to nothing. He thwarts them by threatening to abdicate and use his popular appeal to become prime minister himself. Thus the believers in the supreme power of the people ironically lose to a monarchist because of that power.

TOPICAL POINT

But—and this is Shaw's main point—it doesn't really matter who wins because the country is actually run by a supercorporation, Breakages Ltd. The name indicates the firm's technique: Make sure everything needs frequent repair, then get the job of fixing it.

This company controls most of the ministers, directly or indirectly, and suppresses inventions that might cut into its profits. But the people are happy, since there is full employment and high wages, so the king and cabinet are really battling over a facade of power.

★ ★ ★

All this provides plenty of targets for Shaw's barbs ("No king is as powerful as a trade union official;" "Elected ministers give the English people the sensation of self-government") but there are too many targets to be effective, especially when a segment is introduced about America planning to rejoin the British Empire, seemingly inserted only to allow a few jabs at Americans.

Shaw whote "The Apple Cart" in 1930 but projected it into the future to indicate timelessness, and director John Fernald has updated it more with such touches as automatic doors and a princess in mod dress.

BRIGHT NEW TALENT

The cast, mostly new to Meadow Brook, had no weak spots but three bright ones, all newcomers. Douglas Seale was relaxed and enjoyable as the wily king, Virginia North was delightful as the irreverent frolicsome postmistress general and Joseph Shaw was properly mercurial as the prime minister.

In the play, which will continue through Nov. 24, the king says politics is for those who are "fanciers of public speaking and party intrigue." The same is true of "The Apple Cart."

Skijack Suspect's Kin Is in Seclusion

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The wife and children of Alben Truitt, grandson of the late Vice President Alben Barkley, have gone into seclusion in this island city where federal authorities say Truitt chartered an airplane that was seized and flown to Cuba.

Allison Truitt and her three children reportedly fled yesterday from tents they had occupied in a campground-trailer park complex for nearly a month.

6 Compete for Waterford Crowns

By JANICE CRISP

Awaiting next Friday's pep assembly are six Waterford Township High School students, contestants for homecoming king and queen.

At the assembly the winners will be announced. Homecoming festivities will be Nov. 1 and 2.

★ ★ ★

The three girls competing for queen are Beverly Kems, Tina Poulos and Susan Steele. Running for king are Steve Goit, Bill Foley and Brad Potter.

Committee chairmen include Martha Frick, halftime activities; Sue Allen, invitations committee; Greg Copenger, pregame bonfire; Kris VanDeusen, tickets; Kathy Johnston, refreshments; Sharyl Williams, coronation; and Sheryl Van Dan, publicity.

SETTING THE MOOD

Giant mushrooms and vines will set the mood at the Coronation Ball according to Denise Poteet, chairman of the decoration committee.

The entertainment committee has run into a snag, reports Colleen Farris, chairman. There is a dearth of bands available on ball night.

"You touched me! You touched me! You unmitigated fool! Don't you know that a touch can kill?"

Overheard in a rehearsal, the words are from a scene in "David and Lisa" by James Reach. Presented by the dramatic department, the play will be performed Nov. 20, 21 and 22, and is open to the public.

Nov. 20, it will be presented during the school day for students.

Directing the production is Mary Reynolds, with Sandy Armstrong, assistant director. Ann Hobart, dramatics instructor, is the producer. Stage manager is Sue Neff.

★ ★ ★

Playing the lead roles are Dan Sherman, David and Sandra Alphoss, Lisa.

Others are Randy Green, Dr. Allen Swinsorg, the head doctor; Dennis Perrault, John, a therapist; Harriet Mansfield, Barbara, another therapist; Dane Dalton and Gayle Shattuck, Mr. and Mrs. Clemans, David's parents; and Sherrie Pilot, Maureen Hart.

OTHERS IN CAST

Also in the cast are Carol Schad, Kate; Sally Nelson, Josette; Bonnie McCallum, Sandra; Tom Whaley, Carlos; Sam Keith, Simon and Duane Williams, Robert.

Still others include Betty DeLong, Mrs. Ferris, one of the house parents; Dan Jarrett, first boy; Jim Main, porter and second boy; Joanne Reed, secretary; Sandy Armstrong, a girl; and Lori Jones, a woman.

The dramatics department's next undertaking will be "Cinderella." It will be directed by Carol Schad and presented in January.

Groves High's Debate Team Is Busy, but Always Ready for an Argument

By KIM SEROTA

In a remote passageway at Groves High School is a door. If you open it, be prepared for an argument. It's the entrance to the debate team lounge.

The lounge is cluttered with desks, chairs, books and papers, and of course, the debate team.

★ ★ ★

This year's varsity team consists of Steve Halpert and Randy Weisberg arguing negative and Steve Mintz and Brian Premo on the affirmative. The team also has a junior varisty with alternating members from the Debate Club and is advised by teacher Ted Stanley.

The Groves team which has a full schedule as a member of both the Northwest Suburban League and the Oakland B League began its season Monday afternoon.

CLEAN SWEEP

The team won all of its debates for a clean sweep over North Farmington. A rematch against the North Farmington affirmative team will be held because it was unable to attend the meet.

The topic being debated is, "Should the U.S. establish compulsory service for all citizens?" The cases, negative and affirmative, were prepared by Randy.

★ ★ ★

The team feels a strengthening factor this year was Brian's and Randy's attendance at an Eastern Michigan University seminar on debate.

Adviser Stanley appears to concur on this opinion as Randy student-teaches one of Stanley's debate classes.

A sidelight to the debate organization at Groves is "the Dynasty." Any member of the team, club, or class who contributes to debating at Groves is considered for membership in the fraternal group.

★ ★ ★

The Groves Scriptor (newspaper) held a mock election poll Monday and Tuesday mornings.

★ ★ ★

The staff circulated printed ballots with five parties and a write-in to choose from.

The tickets included: Humphrey-Muskie (Democratic), Nixon-Agnew (Republican), Wallace-LeMay (American Independant), Cleaver-Hochman (Peace and Freedom), and Halstead-Boutelle (Socialist Workers).

NIXON'S THE ONE

Of 1524 votes cast Nixon received 809 to win the election. Humprey came in second with 376. Wallace received 75, Cleaver 61 and Hallstead, three.

There were 258 write-in votes received, including some for McCarthy, Rockefeller, and Kennedy. Several votes were also cast for Pat Paulsen, Louis Abolafia (a nudist), and Pigesus (the Yippies' candidate — a pig).

Northern Focus on Campaigns

By LARRY HELTSLEY

Pontiac Northern civics classes are conducting vigorous campaigns for the three national presidential candidates.

Signs and slogans around the school proclaim each candidate's virtues.

★ ★ ★

A schoolwide mock election will be held with voting machines to acquaint students with the election procedure.

Candidates for class sophomore office also are staging their campaigns. Candidates were given time to present their ideas and views in a preschool assembly Wednesday. Voting will take place some time next week.

SWIM CLUB INITIATES

Initiates of the Catalina swim club are wearing different colored socks, clashing clothing and pigtails.

Nov. 9 Northern seniors will take the Michigan Competitive Scholarship Test.

★ ★ ★

International Clubs homecoming sale was a success, with more than 300 mums sold. Profits are added to the club's treasury to help pay the expenses of foreign exchange students.

Sheila Themm and Kathy Dougherty are student directors of the first drama club presentation, "You Can't Take It With You," Nov. 22 and 23.

CAST LEADS

Leads will be Jock Felt as Martin Vanderhof; Pam Green, Penelope; Debbie Raboin, Essie; Dave Roerink, Ed; Charlene Depner, Alice; and Larry Lusius, Tony Kirby.

Committee chairmen are Michelle Dumbrique, publicity; Anders Lassen, stage manager; Beth Furness, props; and Mary Ward, costumes.

★ ★ ★

Greg Carline will handle sound and Pam Coleman the makeup crew.

Mott Girls Don't Skirt Grid Issue

By GEORGIA ROSEWALL

"Go, juniors, go" is the cry of Waterford Mott junior girls as they take another opportunity to show the sophomores which class is the best.

The Powder Puff football game between the two classes will be held Tuesday at Waterford Township's field.

★ ★ ★

Starting time is set for 5:30 p.m. with a 25 cents admission charge.

Five representatives of the Student Council were elected to the School Government Board (SGB) this week. They are Dennis Price, Cinda White, Mari Lynn Hutson, Chuck Dohner and Joe Kahn.

Student Council President Jim Durnbaugh is automatically a member.

Made up of six students, six members of the faculty, and the principal, the SGB will work together to try to solve various school problems.

Under the leadership of Larry Gibons, Student Council vice president, the Activities Board is organized. Elected to the board representing the sophomores are Jan Wooderson and Paul Coglen. Nancie Bateman and Gary Andrews are junior class representatives.

The Mott varsity football team will meet Bloomfield Lahser at Waterford Township's field tonight at 8.

There will be an aftergame dance featuring the Fish Wild Review. Sponsored by the varsity cheerleaders, admission is 35 cents.

Holly Students Awash in Work

Homecoming Floats Classy

By MARCIA CLARK

"Thank heavens for teacher's institute" was a familiar cry around Holly High School this week.

Teachers' institute is traditionally two days of rest for the students at HHS; not so this year.

★ ★ ★

Students used this time to put finishing touches on their floats for the annual homecoming parade which will be held today at 2 p.m.

The senior float, built in an old casket factory much to the amusement of the underclassmen, was an old-time locomotive entitled "Drive 'Em Loco."

RIVERBOAT THEME

A paddle-wheeled riverboat was the subject of the junior float entitled "Steam on to Victory."

Poker chips, roulette wheels and a carom board graced the sophomores' "Holly's A Sure Bet."

★ ★ ★

"Spook 'Em," the freshman float, featured a large ghost.

These floats were judged by local businessmen.

Hope Madsen was crowned 1968 Homecoming Queen by last year's queen, Nancy Perry last Friday.

COURT ANNOUNCED

Her court was also announced at this time. Two representatives were chosen from each class by direct vote of the students in the respective classes and the homecoming queen was chosen by direct vote of the entire student body.

The senior court members were Merry Marlowe and Michele Sperry.

Debby Butts and Kathy Wheeler were the juniors' choice.

Representatives from the sophomore class were Tena Harding and Sue Bloomer.

Ruth Creque and Cathy Pettis represented the freshman class.

COURT RIDES FLOATS

Court ladies ride on the floats in the homecoming parade.

The queen and her court and their escorts will be presented to the public at the halftime ceremonies at the game tonight. The escorts are all also members of the HHS student body.

A dance sponsored by the cheerleaders will be held immediately following the football game in the high school Students' Center. Dress should be school wear.

Last night was also a big night. A bonfire made up of scrape lumber left over from the floats was burned and served as a kickoff for a snake dance through the streets.

Bedecked for the festivities was the HHS bell used to herald the victories of HHS. It will be hung under the direction of Clifford Beauchamp, special education teacher at HHS.

★ ★ ★

Mums which sport the initial H will be sold at the football game as mementoes of the occasion.

Aptitude Tests at Walled Lake

By JOANNE SANDERSON

Juniors and seniors at Walled Lake High School will take the Preliminary Scholarship Aptitude Test Saturday. The test will be held in the high school cafeteria beginning at 8 a.m.

Wednesday night classrooms at Walled Lake High had a different look as parents became "students" once again. The Parent-Teacher Association held its annual open house for parents.

★ ★ ★

First prize in the annual Homecoming float judging went to the seniors ("Three Little Vikings") for the best all-around entry.

Other prizes were awarded to the varsity cheerleaders for "The Viking and the Seven Dwarfs," best miscellaneous; and the junior entry of "Rapunzel," most original.

BEST-CONSTRUCTED

The best-constructed entry was the Tennis Club's float "Little Old Viking in a Shoe."

The Future Teachers Association held its yearly reception for the new teachers Tuesday.

The Spanish Club held its initiation of new members Wednesday.

After eight weeks of training, the Cave Club selected members on the basis of skill and endurance.

FIRST TRIP SET

The club will have its first trip, beginning Nov. 1, to Sloans Valley, Ky.

The Viking (WLHS yearbook) went on sale this week at $4.

PC Students Cast Ballots After Vigorous Campaign

By GERI KLINKHAMMER

Pontiac Catholic High School took to politics this week as the senior class sponsored a mock election.

★ ★

Activities began Monday, as hats and banners for Humphrey, Nixon and Wallace appeared on bulletin boards and students. The cafeteria was decorated by the Senior Government Seminar and rallies were held daily during lunch periods.

★ ★ ★

Government classes were instructed on how to use voting machines and, with the help of ballots donated by the city, students were able to familiarize themselves with issues and candidates.

Yesterday, a voting machine operated by two city election officials, was located in the cafeteria and the students voted for their choice of candidates during their study periods.

Tuesday, the upperclass members of the National Honor Society took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test.

A Mass was held in Pontiac Catholic's chapel for PC's senior girls and the girls of Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes on Wednesday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Audiovisual Club members directed by Sister Regina Curran S.S.J. were announced.

They are Gayle Barnes, Doug Walther, Pat Hoffman, Jim LaLonde, Vince Holland, Richard Morrin, Toby Vanover, Tarris Shepherd, Mary LaFave and Julius Martin.

PLAY TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the one-act play to be presented by the students of PC at the Genesian Festival, began Wednesday under the direction of Howard Hoeflein, speech and drama instructor.

Homecoming court winners were announced last Friday night at the dance. They are JoAnne Walters, freshman; Marianne Zelinski, sophomores; Judy Walters, junior; Sue Giglio and Jean Hoisington, seniors; and Mary Bard, queen.

Seniors took first place in the float contest Sunday and Pat Tryell, a junior, won the best-decorated car prize for her class.

A tentative date of Nov. 3 was proposed for the senior ring ceremony.

Brandon Sets Goal in Magazine Drive

By MARJORIE WIDMAN

Monday launched the magazine sale at Brandon High School, which has a goal of raising $4,000.

Chris Beardsly received $5 as high salesman, selling $72.05 the first day.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the magazines are earmarked for the exchange student fund.

Tuesday, two representatives from political parties debated in the Brandon gymnasium.

★ ★ ★

Representatives were Guy Foster for former Alabama Gov. C. Wallace and March Miller for Richard Nixon.

The representative for Vice President Hubert Humphrey could not attend.

Club Haunt-Ins Set at Andover

By ANN PETERS

Ghastly, ghostly Halloween hauntings are planned at Bloomfield Hills Andover High School as prizes and surprises will be featured at a Roman Halloween party Tuesday.

Sponsored by the Andover Latin Club, members will attend dressed as their favorite mythological characters.

★ ★ ★

Fun will be found in eerie game booths. Games will include "Pin the Horn on the Unicorn," "Turtle Race," "Trojan War," "Roulette," "Oracle" and the traditional "Apple Bob."

French Club will hold its Halloween party Thursday. A seance and special "surprise" awaits club members.

REFRESHMENTS PLANNED

Cider and doughnuts will end the scary festivities.

This week's football game against Brighton will mark an Andover first. Senior class member Tom Williams, following the footsteps of the Paper Lion, George Plimpton, will make his debut as Paper Baron.

As sports editor of the school newspaper, The Shield, Williams will play fullback on the team. He will then write of his experiences in an exclusive series.

GROW YOUR OWN — The Cleveland School Garden program offers youngsters like this one an opportunity to grow a garden and to show off the results in an autumn show held in his own school.

Harvest Time Gives Gardeners a Boost

Show-offs, that's what gardeners are, whether they are youngsters or grownups. They work along all season, growing vegetables and flowers, and then comes harvest.

Not all at once, of course, for all along they've been picking and their families have been using vegetables and flowers. But, later in the season comes the real payoff — vegetables and flowers galore.

There wouldn't be any flower shows or harvest shows if gardeners weren't ready and willing to exhibit the results of their labors. Just think what a loss that would be to the community!

★ ★ ★

Good natured competition never hurt anyone and each ribbon, if it isn't blue, makes a gardener want to try a bit harder next year.

After all, the aim of gardening is to produce what's needed to delight the eye and the stomach. Children of either sex love to arrange flowers and will eat, with gusto, the vegetables they produce themselves.

And grownups love to deprecate their efforts. Instead of the fisherman's "you should have seen the one that got away," they say "mine were much bigger last year" or "earlier in the season" and, of course, they always tell visitors "you should have seen my garden last week."

★ ★ ★

Is it unworthy for a gardener to be a show-off? No, for showing off is just a small part of the game and the hours of work outdoors in fresh air and sunshine are the other, greater part.

The two together make gardening the increasingly popular hobby it is — ranking third among hobbies in the United States.

Sweet Odor of Spring

Hyacinths should be a part of every spring garden. They have stately beauty and the unparalleled "fragrance of spring." They can be planted almost anywhere. A complete bed is a welcome addition to any landscape. Or, plant them in groups of a dozen or more (of the same color) in and among the shrubs around the house. They will give color before the other plants bloom.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the white, soft pastel blue and pink colors, for which hyacinths have long been loved by gardeners, modern varieties come in exciting strong shades — red, deep purple, yellow and orange are a few examples.

★ ★ ★

Three or four dozen hyacinth bulbs planted this fall near an entrance or window will give the house a sweet fragrance next spring.

It is possible to have flowers in bloom during the entire spring season by planting a selection of different kinds of bulbs. some Dutch bulbs, like Snowdrops, will bloom in March.

Don't Let Borer Toll Death Knell

Check your peach trees, dogwood and locust trees. If the leaves are dying back, borers may be invading your prize specimens.

Look near the base of the tree near the ground level, if you find a small hole surrounded by a sticky mass — you've found the invader.

★ ★ ★

Though it's too late to control the borer now, the trees can be helped. Cut out the dead or affected branches and in November fertilize the tree with a good, balanced fertilizer to promote root growth.

This will provide a boost for spring and get the tree or shrub off to a vigorous start.

Forecaster to Head Bureau

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Marshall Soderberg, a forecaster at the Grand Rapids weather bureau for seven years, has been named to head the office. He replaces James Zoller, who is being transferred to the Detroit weather bureau. The announcement was made by Roy Fox, regional director of the Kansas City headquarters.

2 Lines Sought for Air Route

CAB Hears From Detroit, San Antonio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spokesmen for Detroit and San Antonio, Tex., have asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to authorize two competing airlines to serve a new route between the cities.

The plea was heard Thursday at a CAB meeting in Washington after a board examiner recommended that just one airline serve the route because he said he felt there wasn't enough traffic to make competing service feasible at this time. The testimony came as the board considered Gulf-Midwest routes.

★ ★ ★

"Both cities believe there should be two new carriers," said C. W. Pope of San Antonio. "Waiting will make the awards obsolete too soon. We expect 78,000 passengers a year between the cities."

Pope asked that neither Dallas nor Houston be a part of the new San Antonio-Detroit route and that the intermediate stops be Kansas City and St. Louis. He said he had no objection to Cleveland, Memphis, or Indianapolis being the other intermediate stops.

NO DALLAS BID

"Dallas has not asked to be put on our routes," Pope said. "And we like Houston, but our honeymoon with Detroit is just beginning, and we don't want even our best buddies to help us out."

Cecil A. Beasley of Houston replied in a later presentation that "We'd be happy to be on the honeymoon with San Antonio. I think they should realize that they're going to have to pick up Houston passenger traffic to depend on any frequency of flights."

★ ★ ★

Beasley said there currently were no Houston-Detroit straight flights "and it's remarkable that the traffic has developed to the rate it has."

Harold Hood, speaking for Detroit, agreed with San Antonio's plea for a second airline for the San Antonio-Detroit route when it is opened. He said about 200 daily passengers were anticipated.

ST. LOUIS STOP

He also asked that St. Louis be added as an intermediate stop on a Detroit-Dallas route, also new on a nonstop basis. The examiner has recommended that the stops be Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Cleveland for both airlines chosen, American and Delta.

The Bureau of Operating Rights disagreed, suggesting the American flight be authorized stops at St. Louis and Indianapolis and a Braniff flight be allowed Chicago and Kansas City stops.

Plans OK Delayed on School Complex

Approval of preliminary plans of Pontiac's Human Resource Center elementary school complex has been delayed until Nov. 7, the board of education was told last night.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer informed the trustees the cost estimates of the estimated $4-million structure, to be built east of City Hall, won't be ready until next Friday.

"Action to approve the preliminary plans should be withheld until these cost estimates have been received and studied," Whitmer said. "Action on the plans could then be taken at the board meeting Nov. 7.

"If costs are higher than expected, some of the complex might have to be redesigned," he said.

ESTIMATOR HIRED

Michael F. Kenney Inc. of Southfield has been contracted at $7,500 to make cost estimates of the center at three stages of development.

Representatives of Urban Design Associates (UDA) of Pittsburgh, Pa., presented the preliminary plans for the center to the board Oct. 3.

School officials are acquiring properties for the 2,000-pupil complex which would be on a 19-acre site. Construction is scheduled to start in March and be completed in August 1970.

A master site plan for roads, parking, overpasses and walkways prepared by UDA is being studied by the city.

In another building matter, a report from a consulting engineer showed that 67-year-old McConnell Elementary School has not deteriorated much since its last engineering study six years ago.

Parents Say Board Went Back on Word

Pontiac school officials were accused last night of going back on a promise to provide every school in the system with remedial reading services.

A recommendation of the citizens millage committee was to provide the reading service at every school, but there are only 12 special reading teachers in the 28 elementary schools this year.

Two parents living in the Hawthorne Elementary School area, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Compagnoni, pleaded with the board to place a remedial reading teacher in Hawthorne School. They presented a petition with 41 signatures.

They found some sympathy in two board members, and Board President Monroe Osmun said the matter would be studied.

Assistant Supt. William Lacy explained that 27 remedial teaching positions planned for this year were cut to 12 by the teachers' contract settlement.

He said there are seven other elementary schools without reading teachers that show greater need than Hawthorne and that one reading teacher for each school would be planned for next year.

Development of Rural Jobs Urged at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—Lack of jobs in rural areas may be a cause for many problems in big city ghettos, says a Michigan State University labor specialist.

Dr. Daniel W. Sturt, head of the MSU Rural Manpower Center, says people are leaving rural communities to seek city jobs for which they are not qualified.

★ ★ ★

"Attention must be given to the development of rural industries and taking jobs to people rather than people to jobs," he says.

Rural areas must do more to attract industry," he adds.

SHORTCOMINGS

"One of the reasons people leave rural areas and one of the reasons rural economies fail to develop is the lack of adequate education, transportation, communication and other services available in rural areas."

Sturt says development of industry provides a community with a combination of rural living and urban employment which "affords workers an opportunity to achieve better incomes while maintaining residences and active cultural ties to their rural communities."

Grants to WSU

DETROIT (AP)—The Wayne State University board of governors said Thursday it had accepted grants totaling $2,078,609 for a one-month period. More than $898,000 of the total was received from the U. S. Public Health Service, including a $264,392 grant for a professional nurse program.

Vital Statistics Check Cost Up

LANSING (AP) —It will cost double the previous fee starting Nov. 15 to find out from the State Health Department if you officially were born, died, married, divorced or adopted.

The fee was upped by the 1968 Legislature from $1 to $2 to check on such documents as birth certificates.

The $2 will pay for a search of records of three years. An additional charge of 50 cents will be levied for each additional year searched.

Even if the record cannot be located, the fee will be kept by the state to pay for the search of records.

In addition, special searches for research projects will be paid for at a fee to be set by the director of public health to meet costs.

The new law also specifies that fees charged by local registrars shall be the same as those charged by the state.

New Council to Advise on State Health

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has appointed a 32-member state advisory council on comprehensive health planning, to "help assure the highest level of health attainable for every person in Michigan."

The council — chaired by Dr. Andrew D. Hunt Jr., dean of the Michigan State University college of human medicine — is charged with helping the comprehensive state health planning commission develop state and regional programs.

★ ★ ★

"The continually increasing costs of health care and the difficulties in making good health equally available to all citizens of Michigan underscore the need for planning," Romney said.

"Federal comprehensive health planning legislation proposes a partnership between public and private agencies and between professions and consumers.

JOINT EFFORT

"The council and the commission together will work for the development of comprehensive care services and environmental health programs which will help assure the highest level of health attainable for every person in Michigan," the governor said.

Antipoverty Aid

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has announced approval of an $83,209 economic opportunity grant to the Menominee-Delta-Schoolcraft Community Action Agency, for continuation of antipoverty programs currently in operation.

A Look at TV

Commercials Catch It

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Jim Nabors, who is preparing to graduate from country-style comic to next season's variety show host, appeared in a CBS special Thursday night mostly as a song and dance man.

But, just to let the "Gomer Pyle" fans know that under the fancy city clothes there was the same homespun innocent, he occasionally broke out his high-pitched voice and called his lady guest stars "ma'am."

★ ★ ★

The hour concentrated on musical numbers with Nabors using his excellent singing voice in everything from opera to pop.

He was at the center of a merry, artfully produced program and worked well with Carol Burnett, Debbie Reynolds, Mary Costa and Vikki Carr.

SOME SHOCK

After a couple of seasons watching Nabors specials, his deep singing voice is no surprise, but there is always some shock when he acquits himself so well in the dance numbers. He worked with the chorus girls with ease and grace.

The nonmusical sketches didn't amount to much, but a series of commercial jingles to the music of Wagner, Strauss and other composers of operatic classics, was bright and to the point.

★ ★ ★

Kidding television commercials has been a favorite comedy theme since the completion of the coaxial cable. Recently it has been done even more than usual since some of the commercials seem to beg for satiric treatment.

In the Nabors show, the cast took off on a remedy for tension —to the music of Rossini—and made hilarious fun of a mouth wash sales pitch—to Strauss music and in Student Prince costumes.

COINCIDENCE

By coincidence, the program that followed on another network also poked a bit of fun at commercials. It was ABC's "That Girl." Marlo Thomas, still playing a stagestruck girl, was hired to do some TV commercials which involved jumping from airplanes, dropping off a cliff and otherwise acting like some of the bemused characters frequently sighted during station breaks.

★ ★ ★

Johnny Carson, on his NBC show the other night, wandered into some off-the-cuff comment about current commercials, in particular expressing his dislike for the specifics illustrated in some antiperspirant commercials.

He was aghast, too, at the offer of a mouthwash manufacturer to have viewers send in the name of associates who "offend," as they daintily call it, and let the impersonal company break the bad news.

Candidates Going All Out for Support of Celebrities

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — They are trying desperately to get all the celebrities to declare themselves in the presidential race and so if you're a celebrity and haven't been asked to come out for either Nixon or Humphrey, you're probably not really a celebrity.

WILSON

Believe this or not, but on the edges of a Humphrey fund-raising dinner at the Waldorf the other night, around 12, a fellow asked me:

"Can you get me Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme's phone number? The Vice President wants to take a picture with them."

Rod Steiger made a videotape for HHH. Ed Ames, opening at the Empire Room, sang earlier at the Humphrey dinner—one song being "Impossible Dream," but not facetiously. He meant that HHH in his opinion could bring about the impossible dream of peace.

"I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby" was also sung to the Humphreys by Ames. It was their courting song. We understand that one of the fund raisers commented:

"And that's what the money guys have been saying to Hubie, too . . . they can't give him anything but love, baby."

Ames did a good show in his opening; the Empire Room fits him. He had some remarks about Jackie and Onassis, one reminiscent of Mike Todd and Liz Taylor: I can't understand what he sees in her."

★ ★ ★

A Nixon-type listener said, "Humphrey made a great 10-minute speech and it only took him an hour and a half to do it."

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Composer Burt Bacharach's out of the hospital after a pneumonia siege; wife Angie Dickinson flew in from L.A. . . . Max Youngstein's a hot prospect to become prez of MGM . . . Mia Farrow with director Joe Losey, talking about the Maharishi . . . Art Carney poured champagne backstage at "Lovers"—he became a grandpa for the second time.

"A Mother's Kisses," which folded out of town, kissed away $450,000 . . . Saul Chaplin, producer of "Star," says his next production will be—his honeymoon; he and script supervisor Betty Levin were married before "Star" started . . . Luchow's, open on Monday this week for the first time in decades, had lines waiting outside.

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "If the author of 'Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire' was alive in the U.S. today, he'd be taking notes like crazy."—Former Ambassador Phelps Phelps.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "There is no limit to what can be accomplished if it doesn't matter who gets the credit."

EARL'S PEARLS: Taffy Tuttle hears that we've offered to stop the bombing if Hanoi de-escalates Asian flu.

At his Waldorf dinner, Vice Pres. Humphrey updated an old story to tell of a life-long Democrat who, on his deathbed, registered as a Republican: "If someone has to go, it ought to be one of them." . . . That's earl, brother.
