C. of C. Seals Officers at Annual Meeting

Kenneth S. Miller, assistant traffic manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, last night was installed as president of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Also installed at the chamber's 56th annual meeting at the Pontiac Elks Temple were Harold B. Euler, first vice president; Alger V. Conner, second vice president; Eugene Russell, secretary and Alvin Steinman, treasurer.

Past president Stuart E. Whitfield was honored at the dinner for his 15 years service to the chamber as a member of the board of directors.

Study Group Backs Guaranteed Wage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blue-ribbon commission recommended to President Johnson and Congress today that every American family be guaranteed a minimum annual income.

The annual cost of such a plan was said to range from $2 billion to $20 billion, depending on its scope.

As many as 35 million Americans could be affected if a minimum-income level was fixed at $3,000 a year.

This was but one of dozens of ambitious recommendations that grew out of a year-long study by a 14-member National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress.

The group was created by Congress and appointed by Johnson to study "technological unemployment and related problems."

Many of the commission findings are certain to arouse controversy.

Consumers to Spend $4.6 Million in Area

More than $4.6 million will be invested by Consumers Power Co. in its Pontiac division this year to expand and improve the company's natural gas and electric service.

The expansion program was announced today by Charles F. Brown, Pontiac division manager.

Brown said that installation of more than 137 miles of new gas mains is planned this year to bring natural gas to an additional 5,600 customers.

This project results from population growth, Brown said, and new mains will be placed in several Oakland County communities.

In addition, improvement projects involving several miles of older mains serving 650 existing customers are scheduled, he said.

54,000 CUSTOMERS

The company's Pontiac division provides gas service to 54,000 customers in a 420-square mile area and electric service to 14,500 customers within the city limits of Pontiac.

Electric department projects this year will include the necessary service extensions to accommodate about 10 new customers, Brown said.

He pointed out that the Pontiac division's construction program is part of Consumer Power Co.'s statewide expansion and improvement program in which the company is investing a record $134 million this year.

LEGISLATION

He pointed out that both federal and state legislation this year would affect business communities.

Entertainment at the dinner was provided by Wes Harrison, billed as "Mr. Sound Effects."

U.S. VICTORY — Hands are raised as members of the U.N. Security Council voted yesterday to debate the Viet Nam war question — a victory for the United States in its peace offensive. Reds' Missile Might Boosted During Lull SAIGON (UPI) — Communist North Viet Nam took full advantage of the 37-day American peace offensive to prepare for an even tougher war.

Informed sources told United Press International today the Communists took advantage of the halt in American bombing to construct at least 10 new surface-to-air (SAM) missile sites.

Howe Guarded After Threats

BOSTON (UPI) — Detroit Red Wing hockey star Gordie Howe has received a series of threatening letters and was provided with bodyguards when he got off a plane last night, officials disclosed today.

Red Wing officials said two plainclothes men met Howe at Logan International Airport and escorted him to his hotel.

Uganda, Nigeria and Mali Trying to Reach General Agreement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Africans on the U.N. Security Council were reported looking today for some way the council could help settle the war in Viet Nam.

Council diplomats said Mali, Nigeria and Uganda were seeking to get some general agreement on the subject before the council went into the full Viet Nam debate that it decided late yesterday to hold at the request of the United States.

One African stressed that they were still sounding out other countries for some breakthrough and were not yet talking about submitting a resolution.

But a non-African speculated that the Africans might eventually submit a resolution calling for a reduction of hostilities and a new Geneva conference on Viet Nam without advance conditions.

The United States already has a resolution before the council calling for unconditional discussions among interested governments to arrange a conference to secure application of the 1954 and 1962 Geneva agreements on Indochina.

SOVIET VETO

But the U.S. resolution is expected to run into a Soviet veto if it goes to a vote as it stands.

The council's decision to debate "the situation in Viet Nam" was a headline victory for the United States, which brought the war to the U.N. Monday after its turn of the year peace offensive failed and it ended its 37-day pause.

House Committee OKs New GI Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Veterans Committee today approved a permanent new GI bill of rights carrying college aid and other benefits for persons serving in the armed forces since 1965.

The bill, similar to benefit programs provided for World War II and Korean veterans, would offer in addition to school aid home loan guarantees and limited medical care for ailments not incurred in military service.

The cost of the bill as recommended unanimously to the House by the Veterans Committee was estimated at about $35 million the first year. The five-year price tag was put at $2.1 billion.

January Sales by Pontiac High Despite Weather

Despite inclement weather in many sections of the country, near-record sales of 64,590 Pontiacs and Tempests during the month of January were announced today by John Z. DeLoorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

The previous January record of 65,492 units was set a year ago when the division was selling cars at an accelerated rate to catch up with the demand of an earlier strike.

In the final 10 days of the month a total of 20,539 cars were sold.

It Looks Like a Job for Batman

LONDON (UPI) — It smacked of "U.N.C.L.E.," "SMERSH" and maybe even "Zowie." Call in James Bond, Napoleon Solo or our man Flint. The villains planned a "full-scale military attack" complete with "limited atomic weapons."

The words coming from Durham County Police Chief Alec Muir sounded to reporters like something from Ian Fleming.

He disclosed that army riflemen had been sent to Durham Prison when it was feared an all-out assault would be made on the Alcatraz-like fortress to free one of Britain's three "great train robbers."

The three are Douglas Gordon Goody, Roy (the Weasel) James and Thomas Wisbey, convicted for their part in the August 1963 holdup of a royal mail train which netted $7.3 million.

Muir revealed yesterday he demanded the troops three months ago when he became convinced associates of the three planned to spring at least Goody, regarded as the brains behind the robbery.

TROOPS CALLED

He said the attack could include the use of tanks, bazookas, bombs and "limited atomic weapons." Regular army troops of the Royal Irish Fusiliers, an infantry regiment, were rushed to the prison and have been on duty since the request, Muir disclosed.

"With over two million pounds at their disposal they can go to any lengths irrespective of risk to life or limb," the chief said. "If that happened there would be a pitched battle and a lot of people would be killed."

"It was on that basis that I signed a document saying I could no longer be responsible for maintaining law and order as it affected prison security. I demanded the help of the army."

The home office had no comment on the disclosure, but Laborite member of Parliament Marcus Lipton called the situation "fantastic."

HARD TO FIND

"Where can anyone get a couple of tanks?" he asked. "You don't just get them off the peg."

But Muir declared he was "satisfied that Goody's friends were prepared to launch a full-scale military

County Gets Poverty Grant to Aid Elderly

A federal grant of $38,000 to the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OEO) for Operation Medicare - Alert was announced yesterday by Sen. Patrick McNamara.

Funds will be used to hire some 70 older persons to work on a part-time basis in helping elderly persons in low-income areas apply for Medicare coverage.

Persons hired under Operation Medicare - Alert will be paid from $1.25 to $1.75 hourly, according to Luther Flanagan, deputy director of the county OEO action centers.

Their main function will be to contact the elderly and arrange for them to attend group meetings where the Medicare application procedure will be explained.

Some 50 persons already have applied for the positions, Flanagan said.

Study Asks Fire, Police Additions

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — More policemen, more firemen and one more fire station were proposed for the township at a township board meeting last night.

The proposal was made by a citizens' committee headed by C. E. Rouse of 2489 W. Square Lake.

The committee, appointed by supervisor John C. Rehder last October, did preliminary work leading to their proposal for a millage election this spring which would cost township property owners an extra two mills.

The levy would cover only the cost of increasing the fire and police departments. The new fire station, and equipment would be purchased through use of surplus funds.

The board noted two problems in the committee's proposal for a special election.

Both the length of the assessment, and time of the election caused the board to suggest a special meeting to be held Thursday.

A new factor was introduced into the proposed election when a board member noted another election for school millage was scheduled for June.

The board also noted that the levy would be permissive and that the board could levy up to two mills, but it would not necessarily have to levy the full amount.

In addition to the proposal of the citizens' committee, Township Board members also considered the possibility of a complete reappraisal of township property.

Rehder and Township Assessor Roland Harkless recommended that the reappraisal be done to correspond with a new state law requiring municipalities to assess at 50 per cent of market value.

The township presently assesses at 30 per cent, but there are inequities which could be corrected by a reappraisal, Rehder said.

"A complete reappraisal would eliminate the present stopgap measures now being taken," Harkless said, "and the high cost of professional appraisers would be worth the accuracy."

A complete reappraisal of the township would cost as much as $60,000, Rehder said.

GROUP STUDY

The board will select a committee to study the matter and the township assessor will obtain bids and report his study at March.

Harkless also pointed out that some neighborhoods in the township were advancing in total land value far more rapidly than others.

"We no longer complete the appraisal of one area before the value of the area has changed," he said.

It was noted that professional appraisers would have to compile all the figures on the township and do all the work, thereby enabling the township assessor to devote full time to his own duties.

Harkless said township employees have been used in the past and that the time set aside to train them has greatly hampered accuracy and speed of the appraisal.

An accurate appraisal would necessarily have to be started soon and completed within one year," he added.

Ex-Area Man Is Honored by JCs in Florida

CLARKSTON — Former resident Wellington Squier has found success in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he lives with his wife and two daughters.

Squier has gained recognition as a first-rate designer and planner of department stores. His work has been featured in national publications.

The young industrial-interior designer recently was selected by the Jaycees as one of Fort Lauderdale's five outstanding men of the year.

Squier and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest V. Squier, who live in Fort Lauderdale, formerly resided at 52 N. Main.

Board Okays Land Rezoning Country Club Planned in Independence Twp.

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has rezoned a 120-acre parcel of land on Maybee Road for use as a private country club, which will include a par-72, 6,800-yard championship golf course.

The change in zoning was from suburban farms to recreational.

Previously, the Township Planning Commission and Oakland County Coordinating, Zoning and Planning Committee had recommended approval of the rezoning request.

Pine Knob Golf and Country Club Inc., composed of 22 shareholders, is building the country club.

Cost is estimated at $750,000 by Herbert Schaefer, 6995 Wellesley, Waterford Township, president of the board of directors.

Completion date for the first nine holes is set for next Aug. 1. The whole layout is scheduled for completion by the summer of 1967.

SWIMMING POOL

A swimming pool will be installed later, according to Schaefer, who predicted membership will approach 350.

Schaefer emphasized that Pine Knob Country Club has no connection with the ski lodge by the same name.

Located between Dixie and Sashaw, the parcel of land also contains Spring Lake. The clubhouse will be built adjacent to the lake.

Watered fairways and greens will be a feature of the lengthy layout.

Development Firm in Shelby Is Ordered to Stop Selling Sand

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The developers of the Lake Arrowhead Subdivision at 25 Mile and Jewell have been ordered by the Township Board not to remove sand from the site until they comply with the recommendations of the township engineers.

The developers two weeks ago requested that they be allowed to resume selling sand from the area, but the engineering firm of Lehner Associates of Mount Clemens recommended that the west sector first be brought up to grade.

In a report to the board Tuesday night, a representative of the firm said the west sector is 75 per cent filled.

Township Clerk Mrs. Mae Stecker said the attorney for the developers agreed with the engineers' recommendations. Th engineering firm spokesman also said that the northern portion of the site near 25 Mile has been untouched for the past three years.

TWO PORTIONS

He said the northern portion adjacent to the lake and the southern portion west of the lake are 75 per cent filled and the central area west of the lake is 20 per cent filled.

In 1957, the developers proposed to build a subdivision and a man-made lake, but the township issued a stop order when it appeared they were mining gravel rather than building a subdivision.

A court hearing on the matter is scheduled for Monday.

In other action, the Township Board approved the rezoning of a section of land around 25 Mile and Van Dyke.

The five zone changes involved are two one-family sections to general business classifications, two one-family to multiple dwellings and a retail business to general business.

AREA INVOLVED

The area involved extends from 25 Mile south for a half-mile. It extends east from Van Dyke 1,820 feet and west 1,320 feet.

On the request of Supervisor Lorin Evans the board voted to add office space to the present township hall to make more room for bookkeeping and the water department.

A request for money to build a new township hall and fire station was turned down by voters last November.

The board last night also instructed its attorney to investigate the possibility of resubmitting the proposal for a new firehall in the August primary.

'Abolishment' Move Readied

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A move to do away with the township water board will be started at the Feb. 16 meeting of the Township Board.

After two members of the water board submitted resignations Tuesday night, township attorney Roy W. Rogensue was ordered to prepare an amendment which would repeal an ordinance adopted in 1955, creating a water commission.

Chairman Hubert DeWolfe, a member of the board since 1958, resigned because of his health. He was injured in an automobile accident a year ago.

His resignations left the water board with only two members.

REPEAL DUE

A repeal of the ordinance will be introduced at the next meeting.

The Township Board also received a request from Local 133 of the International Association of Fire Fighters that they be allowed to act as sole bargaining agent for the township firemen.

Supervisor Lorin Evans requested that the fire department submit a membership list to him before any decisions are made.

At State Farmers Meeting

Romney Urges Uniform Food Laws

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney told Michigan agricultural leaders yesterday that he supports adoption of uniform food laws similar to "model legislation" already enacted by 35 states.

In a speech at the annual Farmers' Week meeting of rural leaders at Michigan State University, Romney said Michigan was "trying to regulate processed products with legislation as outdated as the horse and buggy."

"Therefore I am recommending adoption this year of a uniform food law-model legislation already enacted by 35 states," Romney said.

"Its enactment would permit the Michigan Department of Agriculture to have specific labeling requirements for food products."

"It would help control advertising which makes claims for food products, including therapeutic claims. It would cover such vital areas as pesticide chemicals, color, and food additives," Romney added.

Along with this new legislation, Romney said he also advocated new funds to expand food research at the MSU agricultural experiment station, and for expansion of a state Agriculture Department foreign trade marketing program.

In other Farmers' Week activities, "Distinguished Service to Agriculture" Awards were presented to state Rep. Lester Allen, R-Ithaca, Blague Karkk, of Quincy, and J. Stanley Sherman of East Lansing. The three were also inducted into MSU's "Agricultural Hall of Fame."

Allen, who operates an 800-acre livestock farm, was honored for efficient farm management.

Knirk operates a 1,000-acre livestock farm and is currently serving as chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Commission.

NATIONALLY KNOWN

Sherman has been manager of the Michigan Elevator Exchange in Lansing since 1949 and is nationally known for his grain marketing efforts.

Honored as the "Master Farmer in Muck Crops" for 1965 was Peter Brink, 46, who grows 300 acres of carrots and onions in Newaygo County. Dr. Clinton D. Peterson, plant breeder in vegetable crops at MSU, received the 1966 "Associate Masters Award in Muck Crops."

Lake Michigan to Be Cleaner

CHICAGO (AP) — A government official says the lower end of Lake Michigan will be free of harmful bacteria and safe for water contact sports by this summer, and free of industrial contaminants by the end of 1968.

Murray Stein of Washington, D.C., chief enforcement officer of the federal Water Pollution Control Commission, said Wednesday the response of municipalities and industries to water purification recommendations "has exceeded our fondest expectations."

Stein made the announcement at a conference on water pollution attended by representatives of the steel, oil and other industries, the state of Illinois and Indiana, the Sanitary District of Chicago and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Stein said some industries already have reduced their discharges of waste products into Lake Michigan by as much as 90 per cent and that he is confident the antipollution program will be fully operative by December 1968.

HUGE COST

He estimated that the cost to industry will run into the "hundreds of millions of dollars."

The lake area involved in the cleanup program extends from the Burns Ditch area in Indiana to the Lake-Cook County line in Illinois.

Stein said the steel and oil industries have developed criteria for 200 specific contaminants and have agreed to the December 1968 time schedule for final cleanup of the lake area.

Easterners Digging Out of Wintry Onslaught

By the Associated Press
New snow ranging from flurries to two inches or so fell today almost unnoticed in the drift-laden East where digging out by snowbound dwellers continued.

Another night of cold pushed freezing temperatures as far south as northern Florida, but there was little threat to fruit and vegetable crops which survived even lower temperatures early in the week.

In the Far West, a vigorous new storm brought rain, and gale warnings were posted along the north Pacific Coast from Half Moon Bay in northern California to Tatoosh Island, Wash.

New freight air moved south across the Canadian border into the Upper Plains with 20 below-zero temperatures.

MASSIVE DRIFTS

A state of emergency continued in Oswego, N.Y., on the shore of Lake Ontario, where 102 inches of snow accumulation had blown into 20-to-30-foot drifts.

Main arteries in Oswego and in Syracuse which had 55 inches of snowfall from one of the century's worst storm onslaughts were open, but officials said it would be at least Friday before most secondary streets and highways could be made passable.

An inch of new snow fell during the night at Binghamton, N.Y., and similar amounts were received at Wilmington, Del., and Blairsville, Pa., in the now paralyzed region. Salisbury, Md., measured two inches of fresh snow.

Schools in Onondaga County, N.Y., are expected to remain closed until Monday. New York State counted 23 deaths attributed to rigors of the week's weather. At least 187 storm deaths occurred in the nation.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

In hard-hit Maryland where 23 weather deaths were reported, most schools remained closed as crews struggled to free more highways. Baltimore's public and parochial schools were to reopen today.

Accumulations in Maryland ranged up to 56 inches in Frostburg, and drifts were heavy in many sections.

More than 100 persons marooned in western New Jersey's Hunterdon County spent their

Ex-Aeronautics Head Is Dead After Stroke

LANSING (AP)—Brig. Gen. Floyd Evans, long-time director of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics and a veteran of three wars, died Wednesday following a stroke. He was 73.

Evans, who was aeronautics director from 1930 to 1940 and from 1946 to 1948, gained a national reputation for laying out the first statewide airport program in the nation in the early 1930s.

fourth night with diminishing food and fuel supplies amid 15-foot drifts. A National Guard tank thrown into the battle to clear one key back road could not break through and was withdrawn.

In the southeast, temperatures dipped as low as the teens and 20s over much of Georgia as light snow sifted down, and the weather was again bitter in the Carolinas where there were still some schools shut because of snow-blocked rural roads.

Copters Get Supplies to Stranded

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Helicopters are getting food, medicine and fuel to hundreds of families in snow-paralyzed sections of Upstate New York.

Civil Defense and Red Cross helicopters dropped packages to isolated residents across central and western parts of the state where blizzard winds piled snow up to 30 feet deep.

In one airdrop, food was parachuted Wednesday to 80 families in the Oswego County community of Pennellville.

In Pompey, near Syracuse, another helicopter airlifted medicine to a patient in an iron lung.

ARMY CHOPPERS

Paul Phillips, executive director of the Albany area Red Cross, said his organization was using two Army choppers to deliver food and medicine to stranded families.

A fleet of up to 40 snow scooters plied between snowbound homes, which were reported running short of food and supplies.

Heavy equipment concentrated today on opening 160 miles of major, snow-blocked city streets here.

However, Syracuse temporarily planned to bypass 240 more miles of secondary city streets, leaving them choked with drifted snow that ranged to 30 feet in depth.

Hundreds of cars were reported buried in the drifts. The snowfall—56 inches in Syracuse and 8½ feet in Oswego—was fanned by blizzard winds Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

However, a state of emergency remained in Oswego, where Mayor Ralph Shapiro described the situation as still critical.

SNOWY HAVOC—Huge drifts up to 30 feet high paralyze the Oswego, N.Y., business district during the three-day blizzard that dumped 102 inches of snow on the Lake Ontario city. This scene was taken Tuesday before the plows could get into action. Lower windows visible on the right are the second floors of buildings.

Junior Miss Pageant Wins Jaycees Laurels

BONNIE

The 1966 winner, BONNIE BRITTON of Farmington, will compete for the title of America's Junior Miss in Mobile, Ala., next month. It was in 1958 that the Mobile Junior Chamber broadened its local Azalea Festival to a national concept. The 18 state titlists who qualified for the Mobile event that year grew to 50 by the third year.

Michigan Jaycees got on the Junior Miss bandwagon in 1959, and Pontiac was named the host city — as it has been ever since — for semifinal judging of winners of statewide contests. The 29 who competed here this year as compared with the seven who appeared eight years ago is eloquent testimony to the national popularity the Junior Miss Pageant has attained.

With the emphasis on scholarship, talent and personality rather than entirely on beauty — though beauty is by no means a liability! — the competition is restricted to high school seniors. State winners receive $1,000 scholarship and $500 savings bond awards while the national winner takes home a $10,000 scholarship.

Serving as the host city of the state pageant represents a year-round assignment for various key members of the local Jaycees with virtually the entire membership of 90 becoming involved during the climax of the event.

In addition, there has been enthusiastic cooperation among the business community in underwriting various financial commitments and on the part of the "host families" who entertain the young contestants while in the city. This year, 15 households opened hospitable doors to the visitors.

To all who had a part in the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant The Press extends felicitations on the excellence of the production with the ardent hope that our Farmington charmer may emulate Michigan's 1965 Junior Miss, PATRICE GAUDINER, and carry off the national title in Mobile.

Gas Cutoff in Zero Air Puts City in 'Sweat'

It matters little whether the closing of a valve at the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. Alpena plant, shutting off the flow of gas to 2,000 users early Sunday morning in zero weather, was an act of sabotage or that of a diabolical prankster.

What does matter is that so vital a factor in the distribution system of a municipal fuel supply was unprotected and subject to tampering with by anyone agile enough to climb the fence that enclosed the utility's pumping station.

Granted that similar acts of lawlessness are indeed rare, the potentiality for destruction of property and injury or death for humankind are not pleasant to contemplate.

It is likely that the Alpena utility has already taken precautions against a repetition of the outrage and that others are also looking to security of their key controls. If they are not, their inaction is unpardonable.

There should be immediate establishment of positive, foolproof safeguards against a community disaster arising from lax control of so explosive an element as gas.

'Short Interest' Greater in Skirts Than in Pants

Most men have noticed that women's skirts are getting shorter and shorter.

But how many women have noticed that men's trousers are also getting shorter and shorter? Not many.

Does this mean that men are more style-conscious than women? Or that women are less observing than men?

Or does it mean that shorter skirts are for some reason more interesting than shorter trousers?

Whatever it is, men, let's not fight it. After all, every woman in a short skirt is one less woman in plaid slacks.

High Court Gives Hoffa 'New Life'

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court's review of James R. Hoffa's jury tampering conviction not only revives the Teamsters Union president from prison, but virtually guarantees his reelection as head of the world's biggest labor union.

The court's decision to hear the case, like the blizzard that enveloped Washington, felt like a fistful of cold snow down the necks of those who want to unseat the controversial leader of the Teamsters.

"This means that practically anything Hoffa wants at the next convention, Hoffa gets," said one Teamster source.

And what Hoffa wants, many Teamsters insiders say, is to win a new five-year term as president and then change the constitution of the union so he can rule it from jail if necessary and return to take over his plush office in the shadow of the U.S. Capitol.

Hoffa faces an eight-year sentence if the Supreme Court turns down his appeal, but could be paroled within 32 months.

WONT BE BANNED
And, jury tampering is not one of the crimes that bans a labor leader from holding office under federal labor law.

All this means plenty of fireworks at the Teamsters July 4 convention in Miami Beach, with Hoffa setting off most of the rockets.

Cautious moves inside the union to dump Hoffa if he went to jail quickly went underground in the wake of Monday's Supreme Court decision to hear Hoffa's appeal.

Hoffa argues his conviction was illegal because a Justice Department spy—Louisiana Teamsters official Edward Grady Partin — was planted in his inner councils during his 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville, Tenn., and his testimony admitted during Hoffa's jury tampering trial in 1964 at Chattanooga.

FEDERAL INDICTMENT
Partin is under federal indictment for stealing union funds.

A spokesman for Elmer Moffa, West Coast Teamsters vice president who earlier said he would run for the top job if Hoffa went to jail, said today, "He's not going to put up any opposition to Hoffa."

There was also no hint of open opposition from Teamsters. Vice President Harold Gibbons of St. Louis, long an unannounced front-runner for Hoffa's $75,000-a-year job.

"If Hoffa is at the convention, he will have no opposition," a Gibbons spokesman said.

Hoffa, who quickly moved in and took over in 1957 when his predecessor Dave Beck went to jail on an income tax conviction, once again is in indisputable control of the giant union and its $1 billion in assets.

And those who covet Hoffa's job, but don't want to risk a toe-to-toe slugfest, will have to wait awhile.

Another Walk In Space

David Lawrence Says:

France Blundered on U.N. Vote

WASHINGTON — The government of France made a fateful blunder when it refused to cast its vote in favor of a debate in the U.N. Security Council on ways and means of settling the Viet Nam war.

Rarely in the history of democracies in the world has the exercise of the right of debate been opposed by another nation, especially a long-time ally.

The United States had merely asked to present its case to the international organization, whose specific function is to do everything it can to preserve peace in the world.

Whether Gen. de Gaulle himself adopted the autocratic attitude which caused the French representative to refuse to vote to permit the debate, the fact remains that the French government has put itself in the position of opposition to the full disclosure of the viewpoints of members of the United Nations on a problem that, if not settled soon, result in a major war.

France has been saved twice by the sacrifices of American soldiers and sailors and Marines and airmen.

AN ADMIRATION

Throughout the United States, there is an admiration for the French people, but what is incomprehensible today is that Gen. de Gaulle's obstinacy, including an indifference to America's many acts of friendship, could bring about such an action as was recorded this week. For without the vote of a small country in the Middle East — Jordan — the necessary nine votes to place the Viet Nam problem on the agenda would not have been secured.

France "abstained," but this was the equivalent of a negative vote, since the entire opposition from the Communist countries plus the support of France would have defeated the proposal if Jordan hadn't come to the rescue.

If, after the debate, the Soviet Union vetoes the resolution introduced by the United States, the whole problem will be transferred to the General Assembly where the issues can be presented once more by this country in the hope that some action will be taken or, at least some recommendations made that could result in an armistice.

Even if the Security Council refuses to take any action after the United States has stated its case, the extension of the debate to the General Assembly will require that the voters of all the members will have to be recorded publicly.

TRUE VALUE
This will be a showdown as to the true worth of the United Nations as a peace-making apparatus.

Congress will watch with great interest, especially since a "foreign aid" bill is soon to be considered by both houses.

Nations which are aligning themselves with the Communists or refusing to go along with the effort of the United States to bring peace to South-east Asia are not likely to find themselves in good favor in this country.

The persistence of the United States in seeking to present to the United Nations every phase of the Viet Nam controversy is in itself significant.

It reflects a confidence that, when all the facts are made available, the disinterested and altruistic position of the United States in trying to save a small country from being enslaved will be fully disclosed to the whole world. Moral force now faces a supreme test.

Bob Considine Says:

LBJ's Bombing Decision Recalls Truman's in '45

NEW YORK — President Johnson's terribly difficult decision to crank up the stalled bombing of North Viet Nam reminded us of President Truman's earnest search before he gave the historic nod that meant the atomic bombs — the only two we had at the time — would be dropped on Japan.

Both presidents were driven to the utter ends of their patience by senseless resistance.

Japan's leaders had been given overwhelming evidence that they had lost their war and by continuing it could only court their brave people limitless additional hardship. But they would not listen to reason.

And therefore, with heavy heart, President Truman made the final decision that would kill 200,000 Japanese in order to save the lives of many times that number of Americans, our allies, and Japanese men, women and children who would have fought us to the marrow of the bone after the planned invasion of October 1945.

President Johnson has now made a decision which could shorten the war in Southeast Asia or possibly escalate it into the greatest conflict of all time.

HAD TO BE MADE

The decision had to be made. And by the President alone, after listening to counsel that ran the gamut of possible action and inaction.

LBJ was criticized for his decision to restart the bombing of North Viet Nam but he may take some comfort from something Lincoln said in 1864:

"I desire so to conduct the affairs of this administration that if at the end, when I come to lay down the reins of power, I have lost every other friend on earth, I shall at least have one friend left, and that friend shall be down inside of me."

Grover Cleveland, when he was president, once said to a bright boy named Roosevelt, "Franklin, I hope you never become president."

Warren Harding signed his friend William Allen White, "My God, this is a hell of a job! I have no trouble with my enemies. I can take care of my enemies all right. But my friends, while they're the ones that keep me walking the floor nights."

No man knows how LBJ will feel when he turns the job over to someone else at the end of his White House stay.

President James Buchanan knew. On March 4, 1861, he shook hands with his towering successor, A. Lincoln, and said to him, "If you are as happy, my dear sir, on entering this house as I am in leaving it, and returning home, you are the happiest man in this country."

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Curiously enough, Red China may become a captive of her expensive nuclear missile program.

To develop a meaningful production of nuclear weapons and missile delivery systems, Mao Tse-tung must use a hefty slice of Communist China's technical brains (CROMLEY and critical resources for a decade.

Sustained diversion of scientists and engineers, raw materials, manufacturing skills and funds to the nuclear program would hold down Mao's ability to wage aggressive war, expand his industry and solve agricultural shortages.

Soviet Russia's slowdown in industrial growth began when she started to divert more skilled men and resources to nuclear weapons and space while trying to keep her armies large and well-equipped.

Mao at home already is faced with continuing enormous economic problems. Farm food output is now believed at about the Very few realize how rewarding the recent Michigan Junior Miss Pageant was to contestants. Those few days together were an experience that we'll never forget. We met so many new friends among contestants and sponsors.

The sponsors, the Pontiac Jaycees and their wives, deserve a very special "thank you." The Women's Jaycee Auxiliary was wonderful in serving delicious food and giving needed help getting in and out of our various outfits. The Jaycees were incredible in the stage work and directing the program. The Pontiac Press and the radio gave us excellent coverage in all events and kept the public well informed.

Peking Considered Biggest Threat Despite Russia's N-Might

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russians will have enough nuclear power and versatility by 1970 to kill up to 135 million Americans in a surprise attack, according to the calculations of defense experts.

Yet, officials responsible for U.S. strategy and armament are more worried about Red China — which still is about 10 years away from ability to mount a significant atomic threat to the United States.

This is because American analysts believe the Soviet Union will be deterred from a calculated strike against this country by the realization that the U.S.S.R. would be devastated in return.

They are much less confident that the same kind of logic will temper Red Chinese policy when Peking achieves submarine-launched and intercontinental-range missiles.

McNAMARA STATEMENT

This Under Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement to the House Armed Services Committee that: "Obviously, the threat of greatest concern to the United States is that posed by Communist China."

"The development and deployment of even a small force of ICBMs might seem attractive to them as a token threat to the U.S., designed to undermine our military prestige and the credibility of any guarantee which we might offer to friendly countries."

"The prospect of an effective U.S. defense against such a force might not be able to negate that threat, but might possibly weaken the incentives to produce and deploy such weapons altogether."

RECENT PROGRESS
In this connection, U.S. officials are heartened by recent progress in developing an antimissile system of a kind that might be effective against a relatively primitive menace presented by Red China.

McNamara says a "light" antimissile missile system installed at a small number of cities "offers promise of a highly effective defense against small ballistic-missile attacks of the sort the Chinese Communists might be capable of launching within the next decade."

A light system would encompass a combination of rockets to intercept enemy warheads hundreds of miles away, short-range missile killing rockets for intercepts within the atmosphere and fast anti-aircraft missiles to down bombers.

The Nike X antimissile system, under high priority development, fits this description, along with the new Sam-D anti-aircraft missile now in a very early stage of development. The Nike X has cost the United States more than $2 billion so far, with another $400 million-plus in the new budget.

LIGHT SYSTEM

To put such a light system into place, McNamara estimates, would cost between $5 billion and $10.5 billion, depending on the number of cities to be guarded and the density of the coverage. This would cover initial investment and operating costs for five years.

With the $8-billion program, defense analysts figure U.S. fatalities in a Chinese-type attack might be held between 3 and 6 million. With the $10.5-billion plan, the deaths might be held to as low as 2 million, or even to practically zero.

But unlike the relatively unsophisticated missile force the Chinese might produce in the next decade, Soviet nuclear striking power already is truly formidable and is likely to grow more so.

The Soviets have about 270 intercontinental ballistic missiles, plus submarines armed with about 300 nuclear rockets. The submarines could hit U.S. cities from several hundred miles at sea.

UNDERGROUND BASES

The Russians are believed putting their intercontinental missiles in underground launch bases, as the United States has done to protect its rockets from destruction.

Also, it can be assumed that the Soviets also are developing decoy devices and other penetration aids to fool future U.S. missile defenses, as well as maneuverable warheads and possibly multiple warheads for single missiles.

At this time, the United States has no defense against missile attack. The Soviet Union is in about the same shape.

Experts estimate it would take about four years to get an antimissile system into operation, once a decision is made to go into production. That decision has been postponed at least until late this year.

LACK PROTECTION

Therefore, in 1970 the United States probably still will be without protection against missile attack. It will have a defense against bomber assault and a limited civil defense program — plus a huge offensive missile force of about 1,700 weapons, plus several hundred bombers.

One of the significant missions of this huge offensive arsenal is to knock out enemy missile and bomber bases and thus, hopefully, to limit the impact of any second enemy attack following up on a surprise assault.

Taking account of the probable U.S. defense structure in 1970, as well as probable growth in Soviet strength, Pentagon analysts arrive at the judgment that a Soviet first-strike probably would kill 120 million to 135 million Americans.

Carrying their projections to 1975, the analysts conclude that the addition of a full fallout shelter program costing $3.4 billion — but still no antimissile batteries — would reduce fatalities by about 15 million to 20 million lives.

LITTLE HOPE

McNamara feels that there would be little hope of cutting U.S. fatalities below 50 million persons in a massive surprise attack — even with $30-billion worth of antimissile complexes, a full fallout shelter network, the advanced Sam-D anti-aircraft missile and 2,000-mile-an-hour interceptor planes to counter intruding bombers.

"Against the forces we expect the Soviets to have during the next decade," McNamara said, "it will be virtually impossible for us to be able to ensure anything approaching complete protection for our population."

The answer then, so far as the Soviet menace is concerned, is to maintain big enough and survivable enough forces to make the price of nuclear aggression too high. Or, as McNamara put it:

"The ultimate deterrent to a deliberate nuclear attack on the United States or its allies is our clear and unmistakable ability to destroy the attacker as a viable society."

The defense secretary assured Congress that this country has that ability — more than enough to ruin both the Soviet Union and Red China simultaneously, if need be.

In saying this, McNamara was speaking not only to the American people and their Congress — but to the Russians and the Chinese as well.

He hopes they are impressed.

Nagging Problems Still Plague Algeria

Off to the right, the Casbah reaches toward distant hills, and to the left amid a descending cluster of red-tiled roofs the university rises.

This week Algiers students launched a three-day strike against the government which had ordered the Algiers section of the National Students Union dissolved.

It had begun as a small thing over an issue not even concerning Algeria — as a protest demonstration against the kidnapping and apparent murder in Paris of a left-wing Moroccan politician named Mehdi Ben Barka, ident Gamal Abdul Nasser of But within the demonstration the United Arab Republic, Ben and subsequent strike were political ramifications which it was feared could spread.

There is a saying that revolutions devour their sons.

In Algeria there had been six "historic" leaders of the Algerian Revolution.

By a series of power plays, five of these had been eliminated as of June 19, 1965. On that date, Ahmed Ben Bella, the last, was eliminated by his trusted commander of the Algerian armed forces, Col. Houari Boumediene.

REPERCUSSIONS

Boumediene's take-over had a both economic and political repercussions.

Under Ben Bella's haphazard economic management, there had been mounting unrest both within 265,000-man Algerian labor federation and among 600,000 peasant families whose promised aid has not been forthcoming.

That unrest continues.

Ben Bella's increasingly bombing attacks against the United States has brought those of a left-wing Moroccan politician named Mehdi Ben Barka, ident Gamal Abdul Nasser of But within the demonstration the United Arab Republic, Ben Bella actively supported Congolese rebels in direct opposition to U.S. policy and despite the fact that literally millions of Algerians depended for their living upon U.S. surplus foods.

PEACE PRIZE

Increasingly, his relations with the Soviet Union became closer, including acceptance of the 1964 Lenin Peace Prize.

All of these conditions, Boumediene promised to change.

To the great reception he received from the United Arab Republic, Cuba, and the Soviet Union, he replied: Algeria has "no need of advice from abroad on how to build socialism."

To the United States he said: "We are still against your policies in Viet Nam, Cuba, the Cong, but there is no point in daily policies. We have more immediate problems at home."

Middle-Class Teen's Trouble Tied to Father

By Science Service

PHILADELPHIA — The anti-social attitudes of delinquent middle class boys can often be traced to the somewhat dishonest values of their fathers.

Norman Epstein of the Brooklyn Psychiatric Centers, Inc., reported this to the 23rd annual meeting of the American Group Psychotherapy Association here.

In his work with 49 teen-age boys referred for treatment by school psychologists, Mr. Epstein found that one factor was the father's need to be a pal or an equal to his son.

Instead of setting standards and offering mature guidance, fathers of these delinquents often subtly accepted their sons' behavior, especially in the case of school truancy, reported Epstein.

In several cases it became evident that the fathers enjoyed a form of vicarious living through their boys' activities.

PROJECTING ANXIETY

In fact, these men often appeared to be projecting anxiety about their own masculinity onto their offspring.

Few of the delinquents came from families with income of less than $5,000 a year and $20,000 was not unusual, said Mr. Epstein.

Brookdale Hit AF Uses Big 'Flashbulb' on Hazardous Birds in Hope They Will See Light With Huge Suir

DETROIT (AP) — A $15-million suit charging Brookdale Cemetery with negligence, breach of contract, fraud and misrepresentation was filed Wednesday in the 1963 burial of a Detroit man whose grave has not been found.

The suit was filed in Wayne County Circuit Court by Ollie McGee, mother of the late Robert L. Dowdy, and Dowdy's two brothers.

Named in the suit were the Brookdale Cemetery Association, Brookdale Memorial Park, former manager Sydney List, former Brookdale receiver John Starrs and McFall Brothers Funeral Home of Detroit. Two exhumations have failed to locate Dowdy's body. The suit brings to $23 million the amount of suits filed on behalf of persons claiming inability to locate graves of relatives in the Livonia cemetery.

MOODY AIR FORCE BASE, Ga. (AP) — The Air Force popped a gigantic "flashbulb" Wednesday night that it hopes will mean bye bye blackbird and so long stalling.

As a result of the blinding flash an estimated four million birds may be seeing purple spots in their usual haunts around Moody Air Force Base today.

The 500-million candlepower photo-flash bomb, which shook the buildings slightly, was designed only to rattle the birds. Moody authorities said the birds are a hazard to aviation at the base.

Observers said the bomb, a device used by the Air Force for night aerial photography, lit up the sky similar to a gigantic flash bulb. How it appeared to the birds was not known, but Moody authorities are hoping it scared them enough to start a migration away from the base.

CHECK PLANNED
An evaluation team planned to check the wooded area this afternoon, and if the flash was successful, the birds will be hit by two more flash bombs tonight. And while they're still reeling, authorities will be setting up two more bombs for Friday night.

The targets of the bombs are an estimated four million migratory birds, mainly starlings and blackbirds, which camp in a swampy section east of a runway.

"This is the first time this has been tried anywhere." The technique grew out of a discussion of the bird problem by ordinance experts, base officials and representatives of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Division.

Gilliam, a civil engineer at Moody, has been in charge. "Within the past three months," a base spokesman said, "we've had 17 reports of birds striking aircraft. One of these caused extensive damage which almost resulted in the loss of a plane."

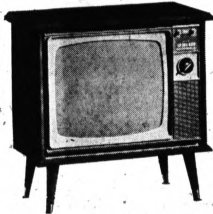

The flash bomb was set off on the ground in the area. The team going into the area today will collect any birds killed or injured and turn them over to fish and wildlife authorities for evaluation.

Our Senseless Weapons Laws—3

Rifle Club Fights Arms Restrictions

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a three-part series on the dangers in our law gun laws made weapons too easily obtainable. It warns of the opposition that reform measures have met from entrenched organizations and the "gun lobby.")

By TOM NOLAN
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Lobbyists come in different shapes and sizes.

From its plush headquarters on Farragut Square, the American Medical Association — a registered lobby for more than 200,000 doctors — spent $152,000 in one three-month period last year in its losing fight to prevent passage of Medicare.

In a small office on Indiana Avenue, Harry Maginnis directs the activities of the Associated Third Class Mail Users — also a registered lobby.

On a budget of $70,000 a year — dues from 800 junk mailers — Maginnis has been remarkably effective in protecting the present low third-class postage rate.

And from its new $3-million building on Rhode Island Avenue, the National Rifle Association wages an intensive and effective battle to prevent "unreasonable restrictive" firearms control laws.

In 1963, NRA's Legislative and Public Affairs Division spent nearly $145,000 to produce, among other things, 42 special legislative bulletins urging members to oppose various gun bills.

ence between the tactics of the AMA lobby, Harry Maginnis and the activities of the Associated Third Class Mail Users — also a registered lobby.

The reason for this is that NRA claims its function is not to influence legislation, but merely to "inform" or "educate" its members and the public.

This is one of the ways in which NRA "educated" its members on the evils of the President's gun bill last April 9.

"If you transported your rifle or shotgun to another state for a lawful purpose, such as hunting, you would have to comply with such burdensome restrictions and red tape as might be required."

HUNTER MAP
To hunter Bill Willard of Grangeville, Idaho, this spelled the end of his beloved mountain-goat-hunting forays to Wyoming.

He promptly fired off protests to his congressman and senators and to Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., sponsor of the President's bill.

Tens of thousands of other hunters did the same.

As Dodd pointed out to NRA Executive Vice President Franklin Orth in hearings last year, there are no restrictions in the President's measure pertaining to anyone other than criminals or fugitives who transport rifles or shotguns across a state line.

The deluge of letters resulting from NRA bulletins played an important part in Congress' failure to act on any firearms-control bill last session.

OPPOSITION URGED
Though the organization vigorously denies it is a lobby, an NRA folder urges readers to "watch for firearms-control proposals that may appear in Congress or your state legislature, in your community, city or town" and to oppose them "by letter, telegram, or telephone call or by personal appearance at open hearings."

The 1963 NRA Operating Report states that: "During 1963 350 bills of concern to gun owners were introduced in state legislatures and 32 in the U.S. Congress . . . 42 legislative bulletins were mailed to 220,000 members and clubs in 50 states.

NRA members reacted promptly, firmly and in force. As a result, none of the legislation deemed severe was enacted."

One NRA bulletin said, "Any one engaged in the manufacture of ammunition would be required to have a $1,000 manufacturer's license."

In fact, the bill provides only a $500 license fee. Shotgun ammunition is excluded altogether.

The NRA also implies that the bill introduced by Dodd — at President Johnson's request — is more "far-reaching and restrictive" than the President intended.

"The NRA knows this isn't true," Dodd asserts. "It knows the complete backing of the administration on this bill. Yet it has persisted in confusing the issues and disrupting the truth."

Lobby or not, the NRA is probably the only private pressure group to receive a direct subsidy from the U.S. government. A Defense Department program has provided NRA member — and only NRA members — with free ammunition and surplus government guns at a fraction of their retail value.

TAXPAYERS PAY

It is run by the Army's National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice and since 1959, it has cost taxpayers more than $12 million. From 1959 to 1964, the board gave away to NRA-affiliated gun clubs nearly 250 million rounds of free ammunition worth some $7.2 million.

Though the practice has now been curtailed, the board in the last six years has sold some 500,000 guns to NRA members.

In effect, the NRA is the sole beneficiary of the board's annual appropriation of $500,000, which includes most of the cost of putting on the National Shooting Matches each year at Camp Perry, Ohio, a tournament staffed by some 2,000 U.S. servicemen who spend the week operating as cooks, target-pullers and judges.

Last year at Camp Perry, Armed Forces' PIO issued a "press kit" containing, among other items, the latest issue of the American Rifleman (the NRA official publication) which contained a blistering attack on the President's gun bill.

Long Line Of Troops Heads Out To Meet Foe

Attitude of Home Folk Puzzles Viet Gls

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tom Tiede, winner of the Ernie Pyle Memorial Attitude Award, wrote this article at home in N. Y. where, he was visiting for a brief holiday before returning to cover the war in Viet Nam.)

By TOM TIEDE

NEW YORK (NEA)—There is a feeling in Viet Nam that the politicians and the military here still dismiss the conflict as a confrontation of diplomats rather than dogfights, that it is a war not of warriors but of words.

Indeed, a GI can easily feel he's part of a political poker match as Viet Nam's curious casino draws countless office holders who joy in visiting briefly and sometimes ignorantly playing the game.

Clad in khaki they helicopter (at 250 tax dollars an hour) into a war zone, summon up weary troops from home districts, slap them on the back and ask if anyone has any problems?

Any problems? Well, sir, first there are the Viet Cong. They're a problem. Then there are the insects big enough to carry a man away, the malaria and dysentery, the 14-15 hour workdays, the absence of women, booze and overtime pay.

LEARNS OF PROBLEM
One VIP learned of a problem recently when he asked a troopser:

"Anything bothering you here, son?"
"Yes sir," the soldier replied.
"Well, what? We'll try to get it fixed up." The boy hesitated. "What is it?" the visitor persisted. "I'll take care of it, boy."

INGROWN TOENAIL

"Well," the kid said, "I got this ingrown toenail, see, and ..."

The GI was not being impertinent. In his own way he was trying to make the point that this is war.

That it's not a game. That though the visitor will leave, the troopers won't. That it is dirty, rotten and serious.

DON'T UNDERSTAND

Feeling in Viet Nam is that most backhousers, including lawmakers, do not understand or accept this truth. That the bulk of America considers Southeast Asia with confusion and thus, if anything with mild contempt.

A soldier returning home from the front will find many people can't yet point Viet Nam out on a map, can't guess the number of weekly casualties there, can't figure out who the enemy is, and can't understand what it's all about except they guess freedom is involved.

"You think Viet Nam is bad?" a statesider will grin. "Brother, you should have been in New York during the blackout."

"Too bad you're home," another adds grimly. "Traffic's terrible."

REAL WAR

"Is Drang?" a third will say. "Nothing. You should've seen the Battle of the Bulge. Now that was real war."

Indications are that few comprehend.

Viet Nam is still a pop art oddity 12,000 miles away.

The public worries more about living with a possible tax increase. Officials worry about living with world opinion. The GI worries only about living.

HIS WORLD

His world there is nightly blackout and mortar traffic. It's alive with booby traps that can blow his legs or his life to shreds. It's occupied by an enemy and an ally who look exactly alike.

He'd give a month's pay for a sound sleep.

And 10 years of his life for a night at home.

He is not a bit player in a comic opera conflict, not the trump in an international card game and not 12,000 miles away, but as near as the muddy and bloody pictures in the newspapers.

He is an American citizen in a hell of a fix. And thus are we all, in fact. Because this is war.

Mrs. Harry Arnkoff of Illinois Avenue (left) and Mrs. Isaac Grabelsky, Pike Street, are pleased with the Temple Beth Jacob Sisterhood's traditional foods cook book to be sold at their annual smorgasbord Feb. 13. Mrs. Arnkoff and Mrs. Grabelsky are ticket and recipe book chairmen, respectively.

She Inherited His Brains; They Deserve One Another

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, who lives in another state, was having a little trouble with her husband, so she and her four kids came back home to live with her Pa and me. She stayed five weeks and then her husband came and got her. They went home again as everything was patched up. My husband never did know the real reason why she came home.

ABBY

He didn't ask so nobody told him. He must have found out some way because I got a letter from my daughter saying her father had sent her a bill for $140 for room and board while she was here.

He said that if her husband didn't pay it he'd turn it over to a lawyer; that he could collect, too, because after a woman gets married, her HUSBAND is supposed to support her, not her father. That's not all. My daughter got mad and had the police pick up her father for driving without a license. (He hasn't had one in six years, and she knew it.)

Which was worse? Sending a daughter a bill, or sicking the police on a father?

IN THE MIDDLE DEAR IN: You all sound like a bunch of kids to me. I think your daughter inherited her father's brains and they deserve each other.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old. Many times I have started to write a letter to you about my problem, but I always end up throwing it in the wastepaper basket. I have finally summed up my problem with these three questions. (1) What is a friend? (2) How do you get friends? (3) How do you keep them?

FRIENDLESS DEAR FRIENDLESS: A friend is someone who likes you and wants nothing of you but friendship. He doesn't like you less when you're crabby, moody or mean. He understands you.

He can tell you when he thinks you're wrong without worrying about losing your friendship. And he forgives you without making a big deal out of it. You "get" friends by being the kind of person you WANT for a friend. You "keep" them by continuing to be that kind of person.

DEAR ABBY: A friend's daughter was recently married. They are very social people in town, so I went overboard on the wedding gift, but I was foolish because when all the gifts were displayed there were no cards with the gifts, so no one knew who gave what.

I think this was a dirty trick. I wonder why they did this? Or is this something new to protect cheapsakes?

WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: It's nothing new, and it is proper to display wedding gifts with the givers' cards removed. It's neither to "protect cheapsakes" nor to deflate show-offs. It's one of the rules of etiquette which makes sense.

Concert to Remain a Pleasant Memory

By RICHARD MORSE

Last night was a memorable one for true music lovers in Pontiac.

The University of Michigan Band under the superb direction of Dr. William D. Revelli gave a never-to-be forgotten concert at Pontiac Northern High School. The band was brought to the city by the school district of Pontiac.

In the afternoon 1600 instrumental music students heard this famous organization at Pontiac Central High School.

Dr. Revelli's magnificent organization is in a class by itself. Its world-wide reputation is richly deserved. The program opened with the stirring "M Fanfare" by Bilik, composer-arranger in residence at Michigan University.

LOCAL GIRL

Donna Rolfe, former flutist with the Pontiac Central band and now a U-M senior, conducted it.

With George Cavender, assistant conductor, as narrator for the evening, Dr. Revelli conducted the "Militaire Francaise" from the "Suite Algerienne" by Saint-Saens.

As was to be expected, his mastery was complemented by the superb technic and faithfully reflected interpretation of the band.

WAGNER

"Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" by Wagner was next.

In this work, the phrase and sound paralleled that produced by the illustrious Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. The stately tempo, so difficult to establish and maintain, was easily controlled by the conductor.

The Flower Song from Bizet's "Carmen" was arranged for euphonium by Harding. The three members of this section did it with perfect phrasing and authentic interpretation to band accompaniment.

No band concert is complete without a march. Dr. Revelli's choice was "Pride of the Wolverines" by Sousa, dedicated to a former mayor of Detroit.

A novelty, "The First Driving Lesson" by Herman, complete with auto horns and crashing glass, was amusing.

The Danza Final from the "Estancia Dances" by Ginastera was riotous in tone color and rhythm.

SPEECH

At its conclusion Dr. Revelli complimented Pontiac on its instrumental music program and capped it with a plea for more emphasis on good music at home as well as at school.

He emphasized the vast difference between what is acceptable and what is accepted.

To conclude the evening, Ernest A. Jones, a Michigan alumni formerly closely associated with Dr. Revelli, was invited by him to conduct "The Victors" by Ebbel.

Zipper Problems?

Your small child will be able to get his galoshes on more easily by himself if you fasten a notebook ring to the zipper pull. He won't lose them, either, if you show him how to hook them together by the rings.

Bookcase and desk are combined in this roll-top escritoire with glass door and glass shelves. The pull-out writing leaf is covered in black leather embossed with a gold fleur-de-lis design. Thomasville makes it in a hand-rubbed antique wood tone finish. Line available locally.

Adapted from an original Adam corner cupboard, Circa 1770, this handsome pine cupboard is one of a group of reproductions in Drezel's Wallace Nutting collection. The unusual door treatment forming an arch at the top, and the deep carving in the base doors make it an important addition for living or dining room. The pickled pine finish gives it an antique look. Line available locally.

Bamboo—either realistic looking or barely suggested—is a motif evolving from the English restoration in furniture styling. These Oriental inspired bookcases by Thomasville Furniture Industries have a pagoda top and bamboo trim design. They stand 76 inches tall. Line available locally.

Could Ruin Gal's Image

Working wives, you're going too far. Now, it's okay to get a job to fatten up the family pocketbook. It's perfectly sincere of you to want a "purpose" and a career of your own. It's all right to go out and work and leave the children in a nursery. It's marvelous that you're at last getting your share of "equal opportunity" at the employment office.

But, working wives, you're getting a little out of hand. Look, how would your husbands feel if they read in Today's Secretary magazine that 2.3 million wives brought home bigger paychecks than their husbands this year? Don't tell, it could ruin your image.

Experts Will Meet

A luncheon will be held in the Holiday Inn Friday at 12:15 p.m. for Oakland County home economists. Lyle B. Abel, county extension agricultural agent will speak on "Horticulture for Spring 1966."

Polly's Pointers

Lose Weight, Too

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer mirror against the wall, moved is on how to lose weight and enjoy it. I was so overweight my boy friend teased me and called me Fatty, which I hated. I ate all the time. Before Christmas I found something rather expensive that I wanted to give my parents as a gift. I had been using most of my school lunch money for sweets and other fattening foods. I saved that money as well as what I made baby sitting and doing other odd jobs.

The money began to accumulate and meanwhile I lost about 15 pounds. As I worked harder to earn more money I got plenty of exercise which helped me to lose weight.

I went down from 160 to 140 pounds. So, girls, if you are overweight and want to get your parents a gift for some special occasion do as I did and you will be most pleased.—MISS S. W. I.

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell the other mothers about an experiment we tried in our home recently and with great success.

For one son's fourth birthday his 5-year-old brother gave him as a gift his snowsuit from last year as well as pajamas and a sweater he had outgrown. Before he wrapped his gifts I intended and pressed them carefully, changed the buttons for others of a different color and "big brother" put pennies in some of the pockets and candy in others.

He gift-wrapped them all by himself. The younger lad is now wearing these gifts with great pride rather than thinking of them as hand-me-downs.—M. B.B.

G.I. Loan on House Requires Appraisal

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband and I are thinking of buying a house. Is it possible to get a GI Loan if the house is at the moment covered by an FHA mortgage? How does one know if a house is worth the price they're asking? MARY FEELEY
Mrs. N. H., New York City.

Dear Mrs. H.: If your husband is eligible for a GI Loan, he can get it. As for a sound appraisal of the property, get an expert's opinion. If you are able to get a GI loan, the Veterans administration requires that an appraisal be made by a professional appraiser. This cost is $25 to $35.

Dear Mary Feeley: When you take over a GI mortgage, are you supposed to receive only the payment book from the bank? Or are there other papers you should have? I would appreciate it if you could advise me about this. Mrs. W. H., Com-mack, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. H.: You need more than a payment book. Get a copy of the mortgage, also a title policy. It's your responsibility to have the title to the property searched. Your lawyer will see to this for you.

Dear Miss Feeley: If both a husband and wife are veterans, eligible under the GI loans provisions, can they buy property jointly? The object, of course, would be to increase the amount of the loan. M. F., New Orleans.

Dear M. F.: Yes, you have this privilege. Remember, however, that the amount may not exceed 60 per cent of the loan for home purposes — or 50 per cent for any other real estate purchase.

Real estate loans for home purposes (purchase, construction, alteration, improvement, or repair) may be guaranteed up to a maximum of $7,500. Real estate loans for farm or business purposes may be guaranteed up to a maximum of $4,000.

Dear Miss Feeley: I was in the Air Force on active duty for four years, from 1961 to 1965. I would like information pertaining to the GI Bill of Rights, and my privileges under this bill. Of particular interest to me is knowing whether I am eligible to obtain a GI Home Mortgage. M. A. M., East Coast.

Dear M. A. M.: As of now, the GI Bill of Rights does not pertain to those years from 1961 to 1965, but a bill is pending in Congress to this effect. The FHA offers benefits to veterans, and for all the details you can address your request to Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press.)

LBJ War Policy Faces Stiff Challenge

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the spreading Senate debate over the Vietnamese war policy, the hawks and the doves agree on one issue: They feel the United States is drifting into a bigger and much more dangerous conflict and they want to know what President Johnson plans to do about it.

The two-front attack on his policy — from those who want it softer and those who want it tougher — threatens a severe challenge to Johnson's war leadership in the weeks ahead.

But it is also a challenge to the meaning of 10 years of violent history. For U. S. intervention in Viet Nam has built from the beginning a record of disappointed hopes, rising costs and drift into a war both dangerous and undeclared.

LBJ CRITIC

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and a critic of Johnson's policies, told Secretary of State Dean Rusk a few days ago that he doubted the existence of an adequate legal base for what the United States is doing in Viet Nam, going back to the start of the policy in years ago.

Yet Fulbright said that the raising of questions does not necessarily mean opposition to policy but primarily a desire for clarification.

There is a lack of understanding of the situation in Viet Nam," Fulbright said. "All I am asking for is a clarification of United States policy."

Behind some of the senatorial attacks on Johnson's policy seems to lie concern over the fact that the shooting conflict has never been declared by Congress as a war, is not being sponsored as was the war in Korea, and involves an open-ended commitment which could American troops are engaged in mean war with Communist China some day, perhaps even nuclear war with the Soviet Union.

HAS AUTHORITY

Johnson has every confidence — as he has made clear publicly and privately — that he has all the authority he needs to conduct military operations and commit more and more forces as he judges necessary. He also recognizes that Congress has the power to deny its approval of what he does and to withhold money.

But administration officials generally see the leadership issue as posed in more subtle terms. Some at least believe the debate now developing may help to clarify policy and meet unspoken but presumably widespread concern among the citizenry at large.

The situation which Johnson faces, however, is one known also to his predecessors. The Vietnamese policy has always been full of uncertainties. It began in 1954 when the Viet Minh rebels, including today's Communist leaders in North Viet Nam, finally defeated French forces and put an end to French control. The United States had given arms aid to the French and the Eisenhower administration considered, but finally withheld, actual combat support.

U.S. DETERMINATION

In the beginning Washington's mood was one of determination not to lose any more territory to Communist control. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles held the "domino theory" that a loss of all Viet Nam would lead to the loss of other countries in the area.

With the 1954 Geneva peace settlement, Viet Nam was divided between pro-Communist rule in the north and the U.S.-supported government in the South. The U.S. support was small at that time, 1954-55, consisted of financial assistance and limited military help in building up defense forces, at the request of the South Vietnamese government. The U.S. military assistance mission started out at 327 officers and men. Today more than 197,000 ended commitment which could American troops are engaged in mean war with Communist Chi-

In the enormous leap, over a decade, from the initial military advisory mission to the present expeditionary force, four presidential decisions were of overriding importance:

1. The first was the initial determination by President Dwight D. Eisenhower to support the regime of premier, later president, Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam. Following the Geneva settlements in the spring — which the United States supported but did not sign — Eisenhower wrote Diem that the United States would thereafter give aid directly to the government of South Viet Nam instead of through the French. It was generally understood that this was another move in the general policy of containing communism.

JFK DECISION

2. The next great decision was made by President John F. Kennedy in December 1961. The Communist forces, which had first gone underground or gone north and later launched a terror campaign in South Viet Nam, had by then started the guerrilla warfare. Kennedy's decision was to expand greatly the U.S. military assistance effort and to put U.S. aircraft into operation in support of Vietnamese ground troops. Thus Americans began shortly to be involved in combat actions though on a small scale and technically as "advisers."

3. President Johnson made the third big decision. That was to send American combat units into South Viet Nam in increasing numbers, with a reported target level at that time at 125,000 men before the end of 1965. The level was several times increased as the Viet Cong forces and North Viet Nam also enlarged their efforts.

4. The fourth decision, also made by Johnson, was to bomb North Viet Nam starting Feb. 7, 1965. This radically changed the terms of the war by "directly" threatening the existence of a Communist state with close ties to Red China and the Soviet Union.

At the same time it radically reversed dying morale in South Viet Nam and was one of the acts which probably prevented a Communist victory in the south within a few months. Each of those decisions and many others by Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson had a profound effect on the future development of the conflict with communism in Southeast Asia. Each was also marked by a hope that it would be enough to turn the tide, and thus each was followed by a sense of shock or disappointment.

RED THREAT

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has been more severely criticized on this point than any other official because at one point McNamara thought the Communist threat could be North Viet Nam starting Feb. 7, brought under control and reduced of U.S. forces started by the end of last year.

The U.S. position under President Johnson has been that Communist aggression repeatedly created the challenges to which the United States reacted.

When the war with France ended and Viet Nam was divided, an estimated 40,000 Viet Minh troops of southern origin chose to go into the Communist north. About 10,000 went underground in the south.

RELATIVE STABILITY

There followed a period of growing prosperity and relative political stability until about 1958 when the Communists in the south mounted a large scale terror campaign against village and provincial officials. This precipitated a crisis which caused Eisenhower to increase assistance to Diem in 1960. The size of the military assistance group was raised from 327 to 685.

In 1959-61 thousands of the Viet Minh soldiers who had gone north began filtering back into the south and the Communist drive to take over the country began expanding into full-scale civil war. This led to a new appeal from Diem for help and the Kennedy's decision in December 1961 to make a large increase in U.S. aid.

AF Support of Foot Troops Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House subcommittee says the Air Force is responsible for "unbelievably tragic" shortcomings in techniques of close air support for ground troops in South Viet Nam.

The group said yesterday the failings were all the more incredible because such close support has been a key tactical weapon since World War II.

The House Armed Services subcommittee charged yesterday in a report that:

• Until recently Army troops on the ground have been unable to communicate directly with Air Force planes above them, leading to delays and dangerous situations when close support is needed.

• The Air Force has dragged its feet in developing aircraft specifically designed for supporting troops on the ground. The subcommittee said no such plane had been developed because the service insists on multipurpose planes.

"We feel that in its magnificent accomplishments in the wild blue yonder, it has tended to ignore the foot soldiers in the dirty brown under," the subcommittee said of the Air Force. "They need and are entitled to better support than they have received."

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., is one of several House groups which has been conducting investigations into various phases of the Pentagon's operations under the leadership of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

It held closed hearings last fall on reported shortcomings in close air support.

While criticizing the Air Force, the panel said it nevertheless deserved much credit for the fact that the tide in the war "appears to be turning our way."

'Till Death Do Us Part'—She Meant It

SPARTA, Ill. (AP) — For the last year, Mrs. Clifford Reed gave nearly all her time to her invalid husband. Yesterday she apparently gave her life for him.

Fire struck their two-story frame home that night and despite shouted pleas from neighbors, Mrs. Reed, 62, apparently chose to remain with her husband of 28 years. He was 63.

Her body was found lying beside his in an upstairs bedroom. Death was attributed to smoke inhalation.

"Susan was a very, very devoted, a very, very dutiful wife," said Mrs. Lester Walker, a neighbor. "Unusually so."

★ ★ ★
"She stayed with him constantly. The few times she left him to go shopping or run an errand, she was always rushing to get back to him."

CAME DOWNSTAIRS

Fire Chief Burdell Menke said she left her husband once during the fire to come downstairs to accompany an unidentified telephone repairman to her husband's room.

The repairman, however, was driven off by smoke and flames and had to escape on hands and knees, neighbors said.

"Apparently, Mrs. Reed didn't elect to do so," Menke said.

Her husband had been in poor health for about eight years. He had not been out of the house in five years and was confined to bed the last year after injuring his hip in a fall.

KEPT WORKING

She had worked for a cleaning establishment in town and then at a nursing home, said her sister, Mrs. Gus Falkenheim of Baldwin, Ill.

Mrs. Reed quit her job last year to take care of her husband. They lived on money she had saved and money she earned by mending and sewing.

There were no children.
"She had been active in several organizations before," said Mrs. Clyde Bradley, "but she gave them up in order to take care of her husband."

"She was truly a devoted wife."

Khrushchev Is Reported Hospitalized

MOSCOW (AP) — Former Premier Nikita Khrushchev is in a hospital for Kremlin leaders, Soviet sources said today.

Reports on his ailment varied. Some sources said gall stones. Others said kidney stones.

Khrushchev, 71, was reported to be in "mild" condition. One source said he had been hospitalized for several months.

He was hospitalized last August for medical tests. A daughter, Rada Adzhubei, said in early September that her father was in good health and had returned to his country home.

LAST REPORT

That was the last authoritative report on the ousted leader.

Official Soviet spokesmen now refuse to answer questions about him. They say he is a private citizen living on pension and therefore of no official interest.

FBI Is Probing Shooting in Mississippi

KOSCIUSKO, Miss. (AP) — Two FBI agents began an investigation today into a report that four shotgun blasts were fired into a home where nine civil rights workers were staying.

Geuther Frenz, a member of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party, said Donald Salisbury, 19, Pulaski, N.Y., was nicked by a shotgun pellet, treated and released from the Martha Jones Hospital.

BUMPS HEAD

Frenz said the police had investigated the shooting. But police told newsmen they had no report of a shooting and knew nothing about it.

Frenz said Richard Klausner, 19, Oberlin College, Ohio, received a bump on the head when he raced for protection as the shots started pelting the wooden frame house on Nash Street.

The FBI agents arrived after midnight and launched a probe into the incident.

Kosciusko is located about 50 miles northeast of Jackson.

Frenz said he has been in the States which no longer require listing of hair color on drivers' licenses include Georgia, New York, Iowa, New Jersey, New Hampshire, and Maine, as well as the District of Columbia.

WORLD WAR II SOUVENIR — Bomb disposal workers stand by in a dinghy as a 500-pound unexploded Nazi bomb is hoisted from the Thames River mud beside the Blackfriars Road bridges in London yesterday. The bomb was located during a routine inspection of the rail bridge which carries thousands of commuters to the city daily.

Governor of Mississippi Urges Legal Liquor Sales or Dry State

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Gov. Paul Johnson yesterday issued a blunt call for either legalization of liquor in Mississippi or a state as dry as the Sahara Desert.

Johnson told the legislature the vast illegal, but heavily-taxed sale of liquor under the present largely ignored prohibition laws was shameful, and made Mississippi "the laughing stock of the nation."

He asked lawmakers to set up a state-wide referendum March 15 with two options on the ballot, local-option legalization of liquor or "a mandate to dry up Mississippi."

Johnson asked that if voters turned down legalization, the legislature approve the money and means "to give the governor what it will require to dry this state up like the Sahara Desert."

The governor said he would sign a legalization bill only if it provided for state - owned and operated liquor stores under a State Control Commission in the counties which approved liquor sales.

Weekend Airlift to Repatriate 600 Americans From Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An air-lift of Americans from Cuba starts this weekend. U.S. officials call it the largest repatriation movement of its kind since World War II.

About 600 U.S. citizens, lifetime or long-time residents of Cuba, and their families, will be flown to Miami. New flights will be added to the program of twice-daily flights that have brought more than 7,000 Cubans to the United States since last Dec. 1.

Government and welfare officials say many of the Americans have no relatives in the United States. Many may never have been here. In such cases, U.S. citizenship probably was attained through a parent with citizenship.

BORN IN CUBA

Passenger lists for the first flights show most of them were born in Cuba. Others were born in New York City, Puerto Rico and Florida. Most of the names are Spanish.

Officials said the repatriates will be placed into two groups. If the head of the family is a Cuban citizen, the entire family, including the American wife, will be treated as refugees.

Unless they have relatives in Miami, the family probably will be resettled in another city just as more than 100,000 Cubans have been since 1961. The family could qualify for $100 monthly federal aid.

AT GOVERNMENT EXPENSE

If the breadwinner is a U.S. citizen, the family also will be transported elsewhere at government expense, but under an established repatriation program. Public Welfare Department, agent for the program. "Otherwise, the destination will be determined after consultations," said Hazel Adams, Miami director of the Florida ance until it becomes self-sus- about 160 persons arriving from war-threatened countries. The Americans remained in Cuba in most cases, U.S. officials said, to be with their families, whose exit was restricted by the Fidel Castro government.

GLENWOOD PLAZA CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

OPERATION ACTION — A nurse and doctors cluster around a patient during a recent operation at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. More than 5,000 major surgical operations were performed last year at the hospital. With only four major operating rooms, present facilities are overtaxed. A new and larger surgical department is among the benefits of the hospital's current expansion program.

Increase in Surgery Indicative of Gains

During 1964, a total of 5,184 major surgical operations were performed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

This is more than twice the number performed there in 1965.

Why the sharp increase in the amount of surgery done at the hospital?

One reason is that present-day surgery can correct or alleviate many conditions about which little could be done as recently as 10 or 20 years ago.

Another is that surgery is much safer today than it used to be, people are no longer fearful of going to the operating table as they once were.

CONFIDENCE

This increased confidence on the part of the patient whose doctor tells him he needs an operation is fully justified.

In the first place, the risk of infection, once very great, has been reduced to almost negligible proportions by improved aseptic techniques and use of new drugs and antibiotics which destroy germs or control their multiplication and spread.

Ready availability of blood and blood plasma from the blood bank has substantially reduced danger of surgical shock.

Hemorrhage, as well as blood clotting, once serious hazards following surgery, are now combated and controlled by drugs. Safer anesthetics have been developed and techniques of administering anesthesia have improved. It is now possible to keep a patient safely anesthetized for much longer periods than were formerly possible.

Special methods have been developed for greatly reducing the hazards, even in instances in which the patient would once have been regarded as a poor surgical risk.

Tests performed in the hospital laboratory now tell the surgeon and the anesthesiologist much about the patient's condition, enabling them to take precautions that minimize danger.

New X-ray procedures make more accurate diagnosis possible and often help the surgeon perform the operation more quickly and effectively.

'TOP CONDITION'

Improvements in preoperative study and care now bring the patient to the operating room in "top condition," thus increasing resistance and speeding recovery.

Postoperative care likewise has improved.

However, the increase in surgical patients has placed a severe strain on the surgical department at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Although the four major operating rooms there are continually in use until 11 p.m., it is impossible to serve promptly all those who need surgery.

POSTPONEMENT

When patients requiring emergency attention are admitted, there is no choice but to postpone other operations that have been scheduled — and there are many emergencies.

Patients seeking admission for elective procedures usually must wait two months before being admitted and, even then, their operations must sometimes be postponed.

This critical situation will be remedied when the hospital's current expansion program is completed.

Plans call for a new surgical department with 12 operating rooms and a large post-operative recovery room where patients will be kept under constant observation immediately after their operation and until they are ready to be taken to their rooms.

NEW LOCATION

In addition, the new department will be more conveniently located with regard to the laboratory and X-ray facilities.

Several scrub-up and sterilization rooms will supplement the present inadequate scrub-up facilities.

One of the operating rooms will be equipped for closed-circuit television transmission as an aid in teaching.

The program also calls for a much larger and better integrated central sterile supply.

With these improvements, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital will be far better equipped to serve those requiring surgery as a result of either illness or injury.

Good Turn Earns Crossbow, Arrow

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — When Dr. Robert M. Filler, 34, comes home from Viet Nam, he'll have something extra in his medicine kit — a crossbow and arrow.

The weapon was a present to the doctor, an Army captain, after he successfully removed a Viet Cong bullet from the heart of Xak, a 6-year-old Montagnard village girl.

Dr. Filler told of the incident in a letter to his wife, who lives in Medford. He is due to return home in June.

OTHER CONTESTANTS

Completing the list are Carol Hofer of Alexandria, Va., Varsity Club; Suzanne Wibby of Berkley, Janis McLeod of St. Clair Shores and Bonnie Hall of Alexandria, Va., all by Dormitory Phylve and Gayle Graves of Royal Oak, Pickwick Club.

In last year's Miss Michigan Contest, OU's Sharon Snyder was first runner-up and Kathleen Sullivan, Miss Oak Park, was third runner-up.

The competition will consist of talent, swimsuit, evening gown, personal interviews with the judges, and the ability to answer spontaneous questions.

The winner will represent Oakland in the Miss Michigan Pageant, held in Muskegon in June.

PRELIMINARIES

Preliminaries will be held Feb. 10 from 7 to 10 p.m. and

Feb. 11 from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Gold Room.

Casino Night, patterned after a "roaring twenties key club," will be held the evening of Feb. 11 in the Sports and Recreation Building.

Driving Record Measure Dies

Senate Kills Bill to Keep 'Points' Secret

LANSING (AP) — A bill to keep point-system records of erring drivers confidential died in the Senate Wednesday when it was defeated by a 12-10 vote. It was debated last night in the Senate after the House had passed it.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, sponsor of the measure, said he agreed to let the bill die in committee because he didn't think he had enough votes to get it through the Senate at this time.

"I still think the intent of the bill is proper," Brown said. "I still intend to make a thorough analysis of the law. The idea would be not to keep the records secret but to see they aren't used improperly."

Brown said he thought the issue could not be considered objectively at this time because of a recent squabble in the House over the idea.

SIMILAR BILL

He referred to a debate last week when a similar bill was introduced by Reps. James Del Rio, D-Detroit, and Edward Michalski, D-Detroit.

Some fellow House members criticized them for bringing up the idea.

Brown said he still might try to get a bill restricting the use of the records through the Senate this session if he could find a measure to tack it on.

The companion bill in the House still is alive.

Miners Given Job Promise by Belgium

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The Belgian government tried to appease discontented miners today by assuring them they will not be jobless when their mines are closed.

A statement shortly before midnight promised miners priority would be given to the finding of new jobs and that trade unions would be consulted if obstacles arise.

It came on the eve of the funerals in Zwareberg and Waterscheel of a miner and a student, killed in Monday's bloody clashes between demonstrators and state troopers.

Thousands were expected to attend the funerals as trade unions declared an official day of mourning. By agreement with management, all work in the local mines was stopped today.

The job promise followed more than three hours of discussions between a government delegation — led by Premier Pierre Harmel and Limburg Province Governor Louis Rophe — Social Christian and Socialist trade union delegates, led by their chairman, August Cool and Louis Major, and representatives of the National Coal Board.

House Debate Centers on How Long to Postpone Fights on Key Topics

LANSING (AP) — The House spent most of a three-hour session Wednesday fighting over how long it is going to postpone fights on a number of topics. They included: city income taxes, increased property tax exemptions for farmers and small businesses and funding of some of the estimated $700 million debt in the teachers' retirement fund.

Passed was a bill to ensure that senior citizens whose homes sit on leased land are covered by the property tax exemption passed by the Legislature last year.

The measure would affect an estimated 4,000 over-65 citizens in the Upper Peninsula and Lower Peninsula.

Law Officer to Retire

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police Sgt. Oscar Anderson, commander of the Gaylord Post, retires Feb. 18 after 30 years of service.

Hughes of Jackson will be promoted to sergeant and assigned to command the post.

SET ASIDE

The other measures were debated, then set aside. Much of the debate was over whether they should be postponed or acted on immediately and over how long the delay should be.

The House leadership side-stepped debate over the right of attorneys to sit in the Legislature.

O'Brien asked Kelley's opinion on that and on whether lawyers may vote on legislation affecting the judicial branch of state government and practice law before state agencies.

Rep. H. James Starr, D-Lansing, tried to get the House to urge the attorney general to "give emergency consideration" to the letter.

He was ruled out of order by the chair and told to present his motion later in the day. It never came up again.

TEACHER RETIREMENT

Postponed until Friday was a bill to start the state toward catching up with the teacher retirement fund, which currently runs a deficit — in comparison to the total amount that could be demanded by presently retired teachers — of an estimated $700 million.

With Republicans anxious to present their own veterans' homestead tax relief program, a Democratic bill — along with one substitute and eight amendments — was put off for another night on an Israel patrol boat on the lake, an Israel army spokesman said.

Also delayed, until Feb. 16, was a bill that would require a vessel, which continued on its popular vote before a city could route, he said.

Baffling 'Jet Stream' Blamed for East Drought

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Two storms, one of them a blizzard, have rolled up the East Coast, throwing paralyzing blankets of ice and snow across the drought-stricken Northeast. But they were late this year, and the drought continues.)

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's eastern swath of earth becomes progressively more dry. Experts blame it on the baffling, prolonged shifts of currents in the upper sky.

Since 1961, the Northeast has endured accumulating drought, an ailment now stretching farther south. The weathermen ascribe it, tentatively, to puzzling deviations of the "jet stream" high above.

And few signs yet appear of when, or if, the desiccating trend will end — despite the recent blizzard that left most of the East under a heavy blanket of white.

Already the drought has dried up wells, depleted reservoirs, pushed water tables slowly down, lowered rivers, stunted annual crops and, in towns and cities, stirred a gathering anxiety.

SAPS GROUND
Similar to other recent troubles — blackouts, frigid weather, strikes and transit strain — it saps the country's most immensely populated ground. Nature, in this case, not men or apparatus, has occasioned it.

But engineering countermeasures have begun in many places to develop extra sources of that prime essential — water.

The five-year problem reaches through New England, New York State, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and increasingly, southward into Delaware, Virginia and the Carolinas. Recent east-bitter southern cold appends another freakish note. The water situation is "very grim," says Malcolm Graf, director of the Massachusetts Water Resources Commission.

CRITICAL SITUATION
"It's critical," says Carl Gerken, assistant county agent in Virginia's northern half. "It looks as if it will continue critical."

Normally, snow begins to spread into the Northeast in late November and early December. But this year, for example, New York City didn't get its first measurable snowfall until Jan. 23.

New York City's acting water chief, Herman Forster, said "I can't see at this moment anything happy in the picture." Geological surveys he added, indicate another drought this year — the sixth successively.

And still, mysteriously, that flowing band of high, thin air, blowing strongest 30,000 feet above the land, continues to behave abnormally, veering off its path across the East, making weathermen suspect it as the trouble's cause.

RESUME COURSE?
When will it resume its ordinary course?

"We just don't know," said Dr. Murray Mitchell Jr., of the Weather Bureau, Washington, D.C., and a noted specialist on long-range weather trends. "We keep expecting it to come back to normal, but it doesn't."

Usually, the jet stream blows across the country, west to east, accompanied by storms which drop their rain and snow. But it has started dipping southward in the west, then sweeping north across the middle of the country, and onward into Canada, missing much of the U.S. Northeast and the Carolinas. Recent east-

Since it shifted, the Midwest has had more moisture than usual, and a rising crop production, Mitchell said. But, he says, "it's different in the Northeast" and the difference hurts.

What has caused the upper winds to stray?
DON'T KNOW CAUSE
"I just don't know," said Mitchell. "And I don't think anybody knows. If we knew the answer maybe we'd be better forecasters."

Although the altitudinous anomaly is generally blamed for the lack of water, other theories have been offered. One, not proved, concerns the complex interaction between atmosphere and oceans.

LINGERING EFFECTS
If, for instance, a big area of ocean cools down, this has lingering effects upon the atmosphere since cooler water doesn't evaporate as fast as warm. Lately, the Atlantic has been somewhat cooler.

A drought emergency, declared six months ago by the Delaware River Basin Commission, embracing Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware with the federal government as a partner, remains in effect.

Reservoirs supplying metropolitan New York were around 40 per cent of capacity this month, about 190 billion gallons, compared to a normal 75 per cent of capacity at this time, or 350 billion gallons.

Construction of a pumping station at Chelsea, N.Y., capable of drawing 100 million gallons daily out of the Hudson River into the New York City system, was expected to be completed this spring.

BELOW NORMAL
Precipitation remained below normal. The deficiency below the usual amount totals more than 50 inches.

It's "almost unbelievable" how little snow has fallen over the upstate watershed this season, Forster said. Even the blizzard which whipped across the region last weekend dumped only a little more than half an inch of water on the reservoirs.

GREATER RESTRICTIONS
He said New Yorkers may face even greater restrictions.

than last year, when bans were a section of West Wareham, Mass., several hundred families joined in a project to have water hauled to temporary storage tanks.

COMPLETELY OUT
The town of Weymouth, completely out of surface water, resorted to wells and purchases from other systems. In Brockton, the reservoir was so low, Graf said, that outlet pipes had to be lowered to get the remaining water.

The same troubles hit as far south as Virginia, especially in northern and central parts, where numerous wells have gone dry. In many areas of the state the past year has been the driest since the drought of 1930.

Many communities have launched crash programs to boost water supply. In mid-January, Springfield, Mass., contracted to buy five million gallons daily from the Metropolitan District Commission, which serves 31 other communities. In

More snow is vitally needed by farmers to replenish depleted subsurface moisture in time for spring planting and the usually drier summer afterward. So far, winter moisture has been sufficient to maintain ground cover crops such as water for irrigation.

Nathaniel Tilden, director of the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture, said that if the water tables keep going down, even fruit and vegetable growers who irrigate their crops won't have enough water for irrigation.

The Federal Geological Survey says the flow in some streams in the southern sector were at record lows. Ground-water levels also were far below normal. William Schneider, staff hydrologist, said: "The continuing declines of ground-water levels at this time of year indicate the normal seasonal pattern of replenishment of water that usually occurs in the late fall and early winter before the ground has frozen did not take place in 1965."

Report 1 of Every 2 Workers in 1975 Will Wear White Collar

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national commission said today virtually one out of every two workers in the United States will wear a white collar by 1975.

Other highlights of predicted job trends set forth in a 210-page report by the National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress:

The number of farm workers will decline by about 950,000 in the next decade.

BIGGEST GAINS

Payrolls of state and local governments will show the biggest gains, rising by 69 per cent.

Manufacturing industries expected to register the largest increases in number of jobs are instruments and related products, up 38 per cent, and rubber and miscellaneous plastic products, up 34 per cent.

Biggest job declines in manufacturing are anticipated in petroleum refining and related industries, down 13 per cent, and tobacco manufacturers, down 10 per cent.

The commission, created by Congress and appointed by President Johnson, got its figures from the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

TOTAL EMPLOYMENT

Total employment in 1975 forecast at 98.7 million, an increase of 26 per cent over the 1964 level of 78.4 million.

The white-collar workers are expected to number 42.8 million — up 38 per cent from 31.2 million in 1964. The biggest increase in demand will be for professional and technical workers.

The number of blue-collar workers in 1975 is predicted at 29.9 million, an increase of 17 per cent from the 1964 total of 25.5 million. However, there will be almost no increase in the 3.6 million common laborers now employed.

Service workers, a separate category, are expected to increase by 35 per cent during the decade, from 9.3 million to 12.5 million.

DOWN 21 PCT.

But farm workers will register a 21 per cent decline, from 4.45 million to 3.5 million.

Although a 69 per cent increase is predicted for payrolls of state and local governments, the report said federal employment is likely to increase by only 8 per cent, from 2.35 million to 2.53 million.

In addition to petroleum refining and tobacco, the following industries are expected to offer fewer jobs in 1975: mining, lumber and wood products except furniture, aircraft and parts, food products and textile mill products.

The biggest gainers with anticipated increases of more than 20 per cent include contract construction, furniture and fixtures, fabricated metals, machinery, electrical equipment, paper, and real estate and wholesale and retail trade.

11 Dead, 12 Lost After Samoa Storm

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP) — The governor of American Samoa, H. Rex Lee, says a South Pacific hurricane that literally blew homes apart has left 11 dead and 12 missing in American and Western Samoa.

Western Samoa, an independent island nation with about 120,000 people, listed nine deaths. The other two deaths were in American Samoa, which has a Coast Guard cutters and private population of about 25,000.

LEFT FOR DEAD—Chester James Austin, 31, of Quincy, Mass., was rescued after 5 days in the trunk of an automobile where his captor had thrust him, thinking he was dead. He was taken prisoner in a robbery while working at a service station and was found in Ellijay, Ga., where he is recovering. The FBI charges Donald F. Maskell, also of Quincy, with kidnapping and unlawful flight.

Army Mail Order House Offers Almost Anything GI Could Want

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Viet Nam is only one of the American soldiers in Viet Nam emergencies to which MEC has — or anywhere — can order anything from palm leaves for Easter Sunday to delousing machines from the Army's own department store.

The official designation for this GI mail order house is the House when a hurricane caused extensive floods in Louisiana — MEC. MEC has a supply list of 77,000 items and a special added attraction for advertising only — Miss Army 1965, Donna Rose Miller, 20, a secretary at the command's St. Louis headquarters.

"Our job is to support the field soldier," says Deputy Commander Col. G. A. Sweeten. "We give him the equipment he needs to keep moving and fighting."

This ranges from a can of dog food to a $3-million 338-foot ship with a loading capacity of 690 tons.

"Our primary mission in Viet Nam is providing bridging and general crossing equipment for the troops," says the colonel.

That bridging equipment has come a long way since Caesar and first used pontoon bridges in piece. Gaul. Pontons are still used, but they will soon give way to something called the mobile floating assault bridge ferry, which is just what the name repairs.

"We don't want him to tear down something and not be able to put it back together again," says Pilcher.

FEBRUARY AT HIGHLAND BEGAN LAST NOVEMBER

But you're just in time... It's just that we started planning and working last November, December and January to bring you the many special purchases you will find during the month of February at Highland... It's a fact... our buyers traveled the nation, they searched, found and bought... not just ordinary buys at ordinary dealer prices — but very special purchases, manufacturer's clearances, distributor's close-outs, factory surpluses, we bought by the carload, by the truckload — we bought at great savings to be sold at even greater savings. We specified delivery in February to give our stores a chance to clear their decks... everything is ready — our stores are stocked, you will find many new items — everything is top-brand, top-quality. And all these special purchases are tagged at even less than Highland's traditionally low prices. Come in today — you'll be just in time for the event that started three months ago!

GRAHAM CANDIED YAMS — There's nothing new about candied yams as such. But when you add a layer of graham cracker crumbs mixed with spice, sugar and orange rind, you have a new vegetable dish.

Layer Yams With Crumbs, Then Bake

Yams, an old favorite, go with just about any main dish. For fixing them a new way, make delicious Graham Candied Yams.

You boil the yams until tender, and then add graham cracker crumbs, spices and orange rind. Pour a mixture of corn syrup and orange juice over them, bake, and you have created an exciting new side dish to serve with ham, turkey or any other meat.

Graham Candied Yams

6 yams, about 3 lbs.
2-3 cup packaged graham cracker crumbs
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/4 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
3 tablespoons shortening, melted
1 cup light or dark corn syrup
1 cup orange juice
Boil yams until tender. Skin and cut each into three or four slices lengthwise, keeping slices to a uniform thickness. Place a layer in shallow casserole with a third of sliced yams.

Mix crumbs with allspice, sugar and orange rind. Sprinkle a third of crumbs over yams, and drizzle with 1 tablespoon shortening. Repeat layers twice.

Mix syrup and orange juice well; pour over and around yams. Bake uncovered in slow oven (325 degrees) for 1-1/2 hours. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Sour Cream Aids Burger

Give the humble hamburger a new party dress in your house. Just a dollop of sour cream will give this everyday food new appetite appeal.

Better yet, mix 1 cup of dairy sour cream with 1/2 cup crumbled Blue cheese, 1/2 teaspoon of salt, dash of pepper, 1 tablespoon minced onion, dash of Worcestershire sauce and 1 teaspoon of lemon. Served on a juicy hamburger, it is out of this world. Could you think of anything easier for the next teen party at your house? The adults will go for them too.

BAKED TURKEY SALAD — You can have your favorite turkey salad served hot during cold winter weather. Combine 3 cups diced cooked turkey, 1 1/4 cups diced celery, 1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper, two tablespoons finely chopped onion, one teaspoon grated lemon peel and one tablespoon lemon juice. Toss lightly. Stir in 1/4 to one cup mayonnaise. Pour into greased two-quart casserole or individual ramekins. Top with one cup shredded cheddar cheese and one cup crushed potato chips. Bake in 350-degree oven about 30 minutes. Makes six servings.

Heat drained canned Blueless grapes in butter or margarine with dill weed and lemon juice. Lake green beans with seed-garline in saucepan. Season to taste.

Cheese Pastry Nice and Crisp

Serve these first at a meal, then at snacktime.

Cheese Diamonds

1 package (10 ounces) pie-crust mix
2 cups medium-grated (1/4 pound) cheddar cheese
Cold water

Into a mixing bowl, turn the pie crust mix; add the grated cheese and mix lightly with a fork. Add the amount of water called for on package and form into a ball.

Divide dough in half. Roll out each half on an 8-inch square; cut out with a small diamond-shape (each side 1 inch) cookie cutter. Press together the top ends of dough, roll out 1/4-inch thick and cut.

Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet, slightly apart, in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 5/4 dozen. Store in tightly covered container; freshen by reheating.

Ever prepare baked grapefruit? Cut the fruit in half and loosen the sections. Spread the top with light brown sugar and place in a very hot (450 degrees) oven until the sugar begins to seep down.

Broccoli Likes Cheese

What a storehouse of goodness and vitality is found in Broccoli. It is a highly developed form of the cabbage family which has been popular for over 2000 years.

Broccoli is as vitamin-rich as it is beautifully green. One cup of cooked broccoli provides more than the full amount of vitamin A needed each day, yet it has only 44 calories.

Canners Compete With Vegetables

For years now, canned vegetables have been standing on shelves watching their frozen neighbors piling into shopping carts by the armload.

But now the canned variety is trying to make a comeback. The old-fashioned cans will soon contain some new pizzazz — in the form of butter.

Will buttered vegetables in an old can be as happy and successful as they seem to be in a modern plastic bag? Business Week reports that one company thinks so; it's bringing out a line of canned corn, peas, and lima beans in butter.

The canned vegetables are much cheaper, so if they taste as good, the frozen ones will have some new old competition.

Smothered Broccoli Supreme is a delicious combination of toast, bacon, and broccoli spears topped with a rich cheese sauce. The colorful combination of browns, greens, and yellows will whet everyone's appetite.

Smothered Broccoli Supreme
1 cup favorite cheese sauce
1 package (10 oz.) frozen broccoli spears
9 slices bacon
3 slices toast
Pimiento strips
Prepare 1 cup of your favorite cheese sauce. Cook broccoli spears according to package directions.

Meanwhile, fry bacon until crisp. Cut toast diagonally and place 2 pieces on each plate. Add 3 slices of bacon and one-third of broccoli.

Top with a generous amount of cheese sauce and garnish with a colorful strip of Pimiento. Makes 3 tasty servings.

Tangerines Do Colorful Job

It's a mighty salad indeed — and a mighty tasty one — this "Western Whopper Salad".

Western Whopper Salad

1 head western iceberg lettuce
2 tangerines
1/2 tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt or salt
1/4 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup onion rings
2 cups torn spinach leaves
Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in saran or plastic bag. Peel and section tangerines; cut each section crosswise in half and remove seeds.
Mix oil, vinegar, syrup and seasonings in small bowl or jar. Add tangerines and onion rings and marinate 30 minutes.

Tear enough lettuce into bite-size pieces to measure 1 quart; combine with spinach in salad bowl. Pour dressing mixture over; toss. Serve at once. Makes 5 to 7 servings.

Improvise your own curry powder with these ground spices: pepper, ginger, cardamom, cumin and turmeric.

COTTAGE CHEESE DIP

Cheese Ring for Luncheon

For an economical, yet flavorful luncheon dish, make a Cheese Muffin Ring — filled with any favored sauce, whether your own recipe or one ready-prepared.

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Stir ¾ cup shredded American cheese into dry ingredients of basic muffin recipe. Add liquid ingredients and mix as directed. Spoon batter into greased 9-inch ring mold and bake 25 minutes, or until golden brown.

As a suggestion, turn out ring and fill center with an onion-seasoned white sauce, to which bits of ham or other cooked meat and vegetables have been added.

Eggplant and Meat

Layered Casserole Is Tasty

A bold and genial dish, this special Eggplant Casserole includes ground beef and sausage (it could have come from the plains of Lombardy in northern Italy) to make a real satisfying meal-in-one for blustery days.

Eggplant lends body and substance, the ever ready, always dependable canned tomato sauce gives emphasis and flavor. Combine them both in one easy dish like this and you have a double delight.

Melting Mozzarella contributes a fine velvety texture and an appetizing colorful pattern to top it off.

Eggplant Casserole
¾ pound ground beef
½ pound ground sausage
½ cup chopped onion
2 clove garlic, minced
2 (8-ounce) cans tomato sauce

¼ teaspoon ground oregano
¼ teaspoon basil leaves
1 large eggplant
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup pure vegetable oil
½ pound Mozzarella cheese, sliced

Saute beef, sausage, onion and garlic until browned; pour off excess fat. Add tomato sauce, oregano and basil; simmer while preparing eggplant.

Peel and slice eggplant into thin slices; dip in egg and saute in pure vegetable oil until golden brown on both sides. Arrange eggplant, cheese and meat sauce in layers in shallow 2 quart casserole, ending with cheese.

Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes, until bubbly and the cheese has melted. Makes 8 servings.

Folks Like Cottage Cheese

By JANET ODELL,
Pontiac Press Food Editor
It's a convenience food. It's low-caloried. It's economical. It's tasty and good for you. It's cottage cheese.

What more can you ask of any food?
American homemakers use over 800 million pounds of cottage cheese in a year. Their foreign counterparts all enjoy it, too.

An interesting fact is that high-income families use cottage cheese more regularly than those with lower incomes.

No one knows why, but the thought is that upper-income families tend to be better educated and more alert to weight control. Cottage cheese, being an inexpensive food, has no status as does high-cost meat.

Cottage cheese is made of pasteurized skim milk. The cream added for palatability makes very little difference in the calorie count, but lots of difference in taste.

Use cottage cheese for a spread or dip to be served on the appetizer tray.

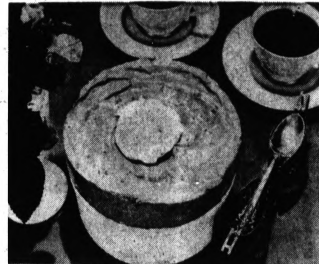

COTTAGE CHEESE SPREAD OR DIP

1 pound (2 cups) large curd cottage cheese, sieved
1 cup (2 sticks) soft butter or margarine

1 tablespoon caraway seeds
1 tablespoon anchovy paste
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Salt and paprika to taste
Combine all ingredients and blend well adding salt and paprika to taste. Chill until ready to serve.

Use as a filling for sandwiches, raw mushroom caps, and chips, as a dip for toast, endive leaves, raw vegetables, vegetables or pretzels. Makes as a spread for bread, crackers about 4 cups.

CHOCOLATE CHEESE SOUFFLE

Cream Onions With Beans

Remember those good old-fashioned creamed onions that grandmother used to make? But do you remember the time it took to peel and boil those onions and make the cream sauce? Here's a brand-new quick and easy recipe for creamed onions which features wax beans as the surprise ingredient.

Tender, flavorful canned diagonal-cut wax beans — sliced just the way you would do it in your own kitchen, convenient canned onions, and that couldn't be without mushroom soup are combined in a casserole, topped with bread crumbs and Parmesan cheese and popped into the oven. What could be easier?

Onion-Bean Bake

One 16 oz. can diagonal-cut wax beans, drained
One 1-lb. can small onions, drained
One 10½-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup
2 tablespoons diced pimiento
¾ cup fine bread crumbs
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
Combine in 1½-quart casserole beans, onions, soup and pimiento. Combine bread crumbs, cheese and butter or margarine; sprinkle over casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Have you ever thought of using cottage cheese like ice cream? Try it in a banana split with several different fruit toppings.

Layer cottage cheese with frozen or canned fruit in a parfait glass for an attractive dessert.

COLD COTTAGE CHEESE SOUFFLE

1 package chocolate pudding (not instant)
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
¼ cup water
2 egg yolks
1 pound (2 cups) creamed cottage cheese
¼ cup sugar
½ cup finely chopped nuts
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Cook pudding according to package directions. Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Beat gelatin into hot pudding. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Beat hot pudding into egg yolks. Cool. Fold in cottage cheese, sugar and nuts. Fold in egg whites and heavy cream. Fasten a collar of foil around a quart soufflé dish raising level of dish about 2 inches. Pour soufflé mixture into dish. Chill until firm.

Carefully remove foil collar. Serve soufflé topped with additional sweetened whipped cream frequently with a mixture of ¼ cup melted butter, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and 1 teaspoon dried leaf tarragon.

A food the whole family can enjoy is rare! Cottage cheese can be made interesting to any member of the clan. Here's one of the small fry eating his cottage cheese in a sweet cone as a "goodie."

Combine Livers on Skewers, Broil

Chicken livers offer a wonderful change of pace for a quick, easy meal. For guests or family, try simple Chicken Livers en Brochette, suggests the National Broiler Council.

Alternate halved chicken livers on skewers with any combination of fruit or vegetables (tiny white onions, green pepper, tomato wedges, pineapple chunks, mushrooms). Place skewers on broiler rack; broil 7 minutes on each side, basting frequently with a mixture of ¼ cup melted butter, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and 1 teaspoon dried leaf tarragon.

Sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve with curried rice.

LONG-A FAVORITE — Hot, spicy Welsh Rarebit served in the ancient manner over thick slices of warm buttered bread becomes a marvelous meal. Beer or ale is an essential ingredient to bring out the best in the aged natural cheddar cheese.

Rarebit's Worth a Little Fussing

Welsh rarebit was originally a peasant dish — rich, hearty, flavorful and a complete meal in itself. Although many of the origin is lost in obscurity, and the variations are many, the recognized champion of this famous dish makes use only of sharp aged cheeses, beer or ale and mustard and Worcestershire sauce.

Today, thin slices of toast are the most frequent accompaniment but the very early Englishmen, in the days of William the Conqueror, spooned their rarebit over thick chunks of fresh hot bread.

Although Welsh rarebit is one of the easiest things to make, the hand of the experienced cook is evident in the final consistency. That's because cheese is a natural food and varies in moisture content.

A well-aged cheddar will produce a thick rarebit and the proportion of one cup of ale or beer to one pound of cheese is generally ideal. Beer or ale is a compulsory ingredient in a real Welsh rarebit and the consistency is controlled by adding more or less beer.

Frequently, a tablespoon or two of butter is melted in the pan to prevent the cheese from sticking. The beer or ale should preferably be room temperature to avoid a tendency to making the cheese mixture lumpy if ice-cold liquid is added to hot melting cheese.

A rarebit can be made over low direct heat, in a chafing dish or a double boiler. In any case, it must be stirred constantly with a wooden spoon.

To serve a Welsh rarebit properly, everything must be hot. The plates should be almost too hot to handle; the bread steaming hot and the rarebit still bubbling from the stove.

The only proper beverage with a Welsh rarebit is a large mug of glass of ice-cold, sparkling beer or ale. The drink, of course, should be chilled to just the right temperature.

Classic Welsh Rarebit
1 pound aged natural Cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon butter

1 cup beer or ale (about)
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1 teaspoon paprika
Large round loaf fresh white bread

Remove rind and grate cheese coarsely or cut in small pieces. Melt butter and tip pan to coat bottom. Add cheese and as it begins to melt, gradually add beer or ale which has been poured out and allowed to reach room temperature. Stir constantly with wooden spoon.

Add the seasonings and continue to stir until the cheese follows the spoon around the pan. If too thick, gradually add more beer.

To have bread ready for immediate serving, cut loaf into serving sections and butter well between slices. Reassemble loaf and wrap in aluminum foil. Heat in 350 degree oven while making rarebit.

Heat dishes in oven for last few minutes before serving. Spoon hot rarebit over thick slices of fresh hot bread and serve with chilled beer. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Cereal Crumbs on Coffee Cake

At this time of year, there's almost sure to be an ample supply of breakfast cereals on your kitchen shelf. So, use them in baking as well as for breakfast. Their streamlined ease of preparation makes them ideal convenience foods.

Spicy corn flake coffee cake is one of the more impressive suggestions. It is the kind of sweet bread that is really nicest served as a simple, homespun dessert.

The flavor is excellent whether the cake is served hot, cold, or lukewarm. And it is just as good the second day, or the third.

Spicy Corn Flake Coffee Cake
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1/2 pint (1 cup) dairy sour cream
2 cups corn flakes, crushed to make 1 cup crumbs
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
1/2 cup finely chopped pecans

Sift together flour, cinnamon, baking powder, soda, and salt. Cream butter or margarine. Add granulated sugar and cream well. Add eggs; beat well. Add dry ingredients alternately with sour cream; stir in 1/2 cup corn flakes.

Combine remaining corn flake crumbs, brown sugar, and pecans; mix. Spoon one-half of the batter into a greased 9x2 1/2-inch square pan; sprinkle with one-half of the crumb mixture. Repeat with remaining batter and crumb mixture.

Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees until done, about 40 minutes. Serve warm or cold, as desired.

Yield: One 9-inch square cake (16 to 20 pieces).

Sauerbraten Sauce Is Hamburger Changer

Hamburgers don't always have to be hamburgers. They can be bratenburgers. Bratenburgers are hamburgers soaked in a sauerbraten sauce, seasoned with exotic spices and vinegar.

Try this zesty recipe for delicious bratenburgers. You will find it one of your favorite menu features. Serve bratenburgers with American or French fried potatoes, or mashed potatoes, on buns, or on a bed of hot rice. Add a salad for a complete meal.

Bratenburgers
3 slices dry bread
1/2 cup hot water
1 pound hamburger meat
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 egg
2 teaspoons salt
Crumble dry bread and soften in hot water. Add hamburger meat, chopped onion, egg

Devilish Idea

Give hamburgers special appeal by sandwiching lively-flavored deviled ham and blue cheese between thin patties. Brown them slowly under the broiler and serve in toasted hamburger buns.

SPICY COFFEE CAKE — Spicy cereal coffee cake, enhanced with the grain-like flavor of crisp corn flakes, is fit for breakfast or a simple dessert.

Cooking School Recipes Well Tested

Although about 4000 women attended The Pontiac Press cooking school last week, there are many area homemakers who might like to use some of the recipes demonstrated.

Several are printed here and more will come in the near future.

HAWAIIAN WALDORF SALAD

1 cup crushed pineapple (9 oz. can)
1/2 cup golden seedless raisins
2 cups fresh or frozen pineapple chunks, well drained
2 cups diced celery
1 cup mayonnaise

Drain crushed pineapple well, reserving syrup. Add raisins to this syrup and heat just to boiling. Remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes to plump raisins, then drain.

Mix pineapple chunks, diced celery and raisins. Combine crushed pineapple with mayonnaise; add to raisin and pineapple mixture and toss lightly. Chill well.

To serve, arrange in lettuce-lined bowl. For trim, roll edges of one or two pineapple rings in snipped parsley; add maraschino cherries and parsley sprigs. Makes 6 servings.

SPINACH SURPRISE

1 package frozen chopped spinach
1 tablespoon instant onion

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon vinegar

Cook spinach with onion and butter or margarine. Add salt and sour cream and blend together. Stir in vinegar just before serving. Makes 4 servings.

BANANA ORANGE LOAF

3/4 cup mashed fully ripe banana

Combine banana and water. Prepare batter with muffin mix by package directions. Use banana mixture in place of water.

Bananas Are Baked in Honey, and Juice

Baked bananas are a wonderful accompaniment for your best roast. Arrange peeled bananas in a shallow baking dish; dot lightly with butter. Combine 1/2 cup honey, 1/2 cup orange juice and pour over bananas.

Bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes, basting occasionally. Sprinkle with toasted almonds to serve.

Stir in vinegar just before serving. Makes 4 servings.

Start with a muffin mix for this delicious bread.

Combine banana and water. Prepare batter with muffin mix by package directions. Use banana mixture in place of water.

Pour into greased 8x4x2 1/2 loaf pan. Bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees. Remove from pan. Cool.

Little About February That Appeals to Hal Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Let us make snowballs together and throw them at time.

What else is there to do? It is February. The year is in cocoon.

February is to a man what laundry day is to a woman — only it is 27 days longer.

February is for the birds, but there are few birds around except a few shivering chickadees and maybe here and there a lonely robin that took an early flight back from the South to avoid the crowd.

Arthritis rules the land.

In February, everything's in the deep freeze, paused and postponed.

The groundhog emerges, takes a yawning look at the wintry sky, crawls back into his den and starts snoring again.

Nothing grows on the suburban lawn, neither the forbidden crabgrass nor the hardy legions of the dandelion, whose yellow banners are still furled.

The ceiling of earth, the floor of heaven, is as laden and gray as a dying face.

PULSE MUFFLED

The pulse of life is muffled in February. Everything creaks, Nam grinds, whines, sobs, groans or squeaks. People are grouchy and grumbly.

Nature itself is quiet. The owl feathers as its talons reach for the straining rabbit. All that is heard in the everlasting hills are the sounds of snapping ice-laden branches and the everlasting wails of skiers with broken limbs.

Hope College Students

Seek Funds for Vets

HOLLAND (AP) — A city-wide campaign, originated by students at Hope College, was begun Wednesday to provide a school and health center for the village of Le Loi, South Viet Nam.

The students obtained city council approval for the project and plan to solicit money and materials to construct the building.

There really isn't much about February even a poet can find to praise. No bud stirs. Everything is either mushy or frozen slippery.

What else is wrong with February? Well, let's see:

FEWEST PAYDAYS

If you are paid by the week, it has the fewest paydays of any month on the calendar. It is also the month with the fewest rainbows.

Few men get raises or promotions in February. No matter how well you do your job the boss doesn't notice it. He's down in Florida or the Bahamas playing golf.

All you have to do is to sneeze in a crowded bus and you make 46 mortal enemies.

In February melting slush always finds a hole in the roof you forgot to have fixed, and the shoe you neglected to have re-soled.

TOO HUNGRY

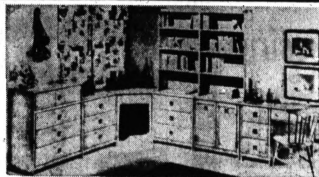

In February you can't even go on a successful diet. The cold makes you too hungry.

It is true that St. Valentine's Day, the anniversary of true lovers, falls in February. But if you send her a sentimental card she is likely to freeze up, too, and remain unthawed until June. She can't wear a card on her engagement finger.

So come, let us make snowballs together and throw them at time.

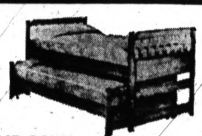

What else is there to do? It is February. The year is in cocoon.

KEATON AND MEMENTOS — Comedian Buster Keaton, who died of cancer in Hollywood this week, poses last year with mementos of his film career that began in the early days of silent movies. At his side is a special Oscar given him several years ago for distinguished contributions to motion pictures.

Keaton Death Trims List of Silent Stars

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television writer
HOLLYWOOD — The list grows thin. The death this week of Buster Keaton removed one of the last of the great comedy practitioners of the silent screen.
Only Charlie Chaplin and Harold Lloyd had remained of the great comedy artists of the silent screen. Both are millionaires, and it isn't likely that either will perform before the camera again.
Keaton was active to the end.

Aussies Jostle Singer Newton

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A crowd of about 150 youths demonstrating against the Viet Nam war jostled and abused American singer Wayne Newton outside Sydney Stadium Wednesday night.
Newton appeared with Bob Crosby and many leading Australian entertainers in a performance to raise money for comforts for Australian troops in Viet Nam.

The demonstrators from the "Youth Campaign Against Conscription" and the "Save Our Sons Committee" gathered first in a park, heard speeches and watched three youths burn their draft cards. Then they assembled outside the stadium carrying banners with such slogans as "Hitler Himmler Johnson McNamara" and "War on Poverty not Children."

Nearby about a dozen youths counterdemonstrated, but police kept the groups well separated. "IDIOTS"

The antiwar demonstrators set on Newton as he walked across the road to join the other group. Police quickly cleared the road, and Newton later told the stadium audience of 8,000 the demonstrators were the "biggest bunch of idiots I have ever seen."

The burning of the draft cards, the first in Australia, was staged to mark the second semi-annual intake of draftees for a two-year term with the possibility of service in Viet Nam or Malaysia.

The nation is served by more than 2,000 local public employment centers operated by states affiliated with the U.S. Employment Service.

Ask U. S. Aid on 'Safety Car'

New York Delegation at Senate Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate got a plan today that cost "a measly $100,000" but is designed to help with what President Johnson calls the nation's greatest problem next to the war in Viet Nam.

It is a feasibility study for a safety — first car worked out for the State of New York by Republic Aviation Corp.

New York lawmakers explained at the Senate hearings that the safety car prototype "is the most promising in the world because it can result in virtual elimination of injuries and fatalities at the crash — impact speeds which now cause 75 percent of these injuries and fatalities."

New York would like the federal government to share in the estimated cost of $4 million to perfect and build the prototype, said State Sen. Edward J. Spe-no.

MAKES POINT
He told the subcommittee: "I submit to you that this is as important as flying to the moon. We are talking right now about something like $4 million to save at least 160,000 lives and prevent at least 650,000 permanent crippling injuries during the next 10 years. Can't we use a tiny fraction of the billions of dollars the federal government spends each year for this specific purpose?"

The Senate subcommittee, headed by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., already has a bill under consideration to provide for development of a prototype and Ribicoff welcomed the New Yorkers as "real pioneers in the field of traffic safety public policy."

As Ribicoff opened his new round of hearings on highway safety Wednesday, the President was announcing he will soon propose a comprehensive highway safety act "to arrest the destruction of life and property on our highways."

In a message to the Trial Lawyers Association in New York City the President declared: "You and I know that the gravest problem before this nation next to the war in Viet Nam — the death and destruction, the shocking and senseless carnage that strikes daily on our highways and that takes a higher and more terrible toll each year."

MUST STOP
"It must stop," he added. "There is cause for sacrifice in Viet Nam. There is no cause for suicide at home."

The study, which Speno said cost New York only "a measly $100,000" so far, envisions an auto with such safety features as: A front end which would collapse to absorb much of a crash's impact.

A collapsible steering column.

A PERISCOPE
A periscope that would be raised from the roof to provide a panoramic rear and forward view over cars and hill crests.

In other testimony Wednesday, Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, said statistics indicate that crash fatalities in small cars are "up to five times more frequent" than in the bigger models.

But he said the fatality rate could be cut sharply by installation of better door locks and food seat belts.

Pyle also said the council believes automakers should accelerate the engineering and design of safer cars "even though the American public already has available the safest automobile ever sold on a mass-produced basis."

LBJ Broadening Program

'Food for Peace' Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson is overhauling the "food for peace" program to broaden its attack on world hunger which communism exploits with promises of full larders and farm front reforms.

Additional details of the program — aimed in part at countering the Communist tactic — were disclosed yesterday with reports of a secret meeting of the President and congressmen on it.

Johnson had been expected to deliver his "food for peace" message to Congress today, but the White House said last night that he would not. It may be submitted later this week.

Rep. Mark Andrews, R-N.D., said that the new program, if it lives up to the expectations he drew from Monday's White House conference, will help prevent such conflicts as the Viet Nam War.

Andrews said the program "is aimed at developing agricultural industries, and there is where trouble under the old ways always developed."

TIED TO FARMS
"The rise of communism in China was an agrarian revolt. Fidel Castro got his start in Cuba on the farms. In Viet Nam, we hold the cities, but we cannot hold the rural areas."

"And in South America, it's the countryside where the troops are sent, not the cities."

The conference also convinced some congressmen that the President will carry through with his announced intention to emphasize self-help in the allocation of food.

It also persuaded Andrews that the administration will call for creation of a food reserve as a matter of national policy.

EYE SAVINGS
Andrews said such a reserve would mean savings of 350-400 million bushels of wheat for use in case of war, drought or other disasters.

According to Andrews, these reserves would be held off the market and would not be used "as a club to batter down prices" as was done "with recent sales of commodity credit corporation surplus stocks."

Some details of the food for peace effort have been given in the President's earlier messages, the over-all budget presentation and yesterday's call for a half-billion dollars to help stamp out ignorance and disease.

In the budget message, he asked for a greater volume of food for shipment abroad, but said it would cost less because of lower food prices. The cost would be $1,539,000,000.

OTHER DETAILS
Other details were contained in foreign aid requests which would pay workers in underdeveloped countries with food, and feed mothers and children in a "headstart" program.

Request for the Agency for International Development show more than a one-third increase in requests for funds to finance agricultural programs to a total of nearly $500 million.

State Jaycees
Open Drive to Aid S. Viets

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Jaycees have launched a statewide drive known as "Project Free People," aimed at raising $5 million in cash, clothing and food for South Vietnamese civilians.

The Jaycees plan to coordinate their drive with the Marine Corps' "Civil Action Fund," which currently distributes CARE packages in South Viet Nam, and the Navy's "Operation Handclasp," in which bulk cargo is shipped free aboard Navy craft.

Edward James of Clawson is state chairman of the "Project Free People" campaign, and he said that when the national Jaycee convention meets in Detroit in June it is hoped to expand the drive to include the national organization's 250,000 members.

Michigan has 8,000 Jaycees members. The organization formerly was known as Junior Chamber of Commerce.

3 Said Facing Passport Ban

Hanoi 'Peace Trip' Leads to U. S. Move

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The state department is reported to be in the process of revoking the passports of Yale Prof. Staughton Lynd and two other Americans who made a much-publicized trip to Hanoi in December.

The department declined yesterday to comment on the report, but informed sources said Lynd, U. S. Communist party theoretician Herbert Aptheker and Thomas E. Hayden, leader of a student antiwar group, were being notified of the revocation.

If the usual procedure is followed, the three will be asked to return their passports and told they may request a hearing on the action.

In addition, it is expected that the justice department may enter the case to decide whether there are grounds for criminal prosecution since they violated travel regulations in going to North Viet Nam.

It was understood also that similar action may be taken against several other Americans who have traveled to North Viet Nam and Red China in recent months.

Among them is Mrs. Beverly Reilly, a 38-year-old San Francisco woman who apparently made an unauthorized 20-day trip into Communist China last month.

State department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the U. S. consulate general at Hong Kong had stamped Mrs. Reilly's American passport as valid only "for immediate and direct return to the United States."

According to McCloskey, Mrs. Reilly was reported missing from Hong Kong Jan. 10, apparently crossed the border into Red China the next day and returned to Hong Kong Jan. 30.

She did not have the required state department validation of her passport necessary for travel to mainland China.

Asked whether she would be prosecuted for violation of the regulation, McCloskey said only, "I would not offer a judgment at this point."

GETTING A GOOD LOOK — Some of the spectators at the Candace Mossler first-degree murder trial under way in Miami, Fla., take a good look in the court hall yesterday at the principal in the case, Candace herself (right). She is on trial with her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, charged with the death of her husband.

State Calls 1st Star Witness in Mossler Murder Trial

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The state calls the first of its star witnesses today in the murder trial of blonde Candace Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers.

He is Roscoe Brown, a Negro handyman and chauffeur in the Mossler household.

"I would call him a key witness," State Atty. Richard Gerstein told newsmen.

The tall, dark-haired prosecutor is pressing a circumstantial murder case. As far as is known, he has no eyewitnesses to the 1964 slaying of Mrs. Mossler's multimillionaire husband, Jacques.

DID WASHING
The state says that on the afternoon of June 29, 1964, Brown washed the drainboard and top of the dishwasher in Mossler's apartment.

Mossler, 69, was bludgeoned and knifed to death in the apartment at 1:45 a.m.

"Upon dusting for prints on the kitchen counter and the dishwasher top, no prints were found except a palm print of Melvin Lane Powers," the state said in its opening statement to an all-male jury.

Thus the state hopes through Brown to place Powers on the murder scene somewhere around the time Mossler died screaming with 39 knife wounds in his body.

BOTH CHARGED
Mrs. Mossler, a tiny blonde grandmother, who gives her age as 39, and her 220-pound nephew, Powers, are charged with plotting Mossler's death at the culmination of "a sordid, illicit love affair."

The maximum penalty for first-degree murder in Florida is death in the electric chair. The jury, however, can decree a life sentence.

The trial began Jan. 18, and Wednesday's second day of testimony featured an effort by the defense through cross-examination to show there was cash on the line to buy Candace's conviction. She would inherit the bulk of her husband's $33-million estate, unless convicted.

A sheriff's investigator, Lt. Jerry Evans, denied he had been promised a reward if he pinned Mossler's murder on Candace.

MANY BENEFIT
The defense contends many persons in and out of Mossler's banking empire stood to benefit from his estate, once the widow was out of the picture.

Another witness Wednesday was a radio station general manager, Marvin Tavel. He said he had seen a man resembling Powers leaving Mossler's apartment building the night of the slaying.

Looking at a picture of Powers, Tavel testified there was "a similarity" to the man he saw leaving the building.

Mrs. Robert Arone testified for the state that, as she was preparing for bed in the same building that night, she had heard a dog bark frantically in the Mossler apartment. An attractive red-haired former model, Mrs. Arone said she had heard a cry. "Don't do that to me," followed by sounds of a scuffle, a thud and retreating footfalls.

one spade, North will jump to three spades. Then comes the key bid.

North jumps to five spades and South realizes that North has told him to bid the slam if he can take care of the second round of hearts.

The slam is also pretty easy to bid for a partnership that is used to handling weak two bids and the responses to them.

The bidding in the box shows the method. North's two no-trump response is forcing and asks South to rebid something other than three spades if he has a good weak two bid.

South has a very good high card point but he has 6-4-2-1 distribution and his three club bid also implies a high card in clubs.

This club high card is of no interest to North. He bids the singleton ace of clubs himself. However, the information conveyed by this bid tells North quite plainly that the partnership has enough potential for the slam. What North is worried about is the heart suit.

North's three diamond bid continues the force started by his two no-trump response and all South can do is to go to WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is scheduled to visit southeast Michigan Monday in his capacity as chairman of the President's Task Force on Youth Employment Opportunity.

The vice president will speak at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti on school dropout and youth employment problems. Area high school representatives will take part in the discussion.

Following a reception on the university campus Humphrey is scheduled to travel to Detroit for a tour of youth employment and retraining centers.

2nd Day of Rebound

Market Advance Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—A snapback by American Telephone from its recent lows was a highlight of an advancing stock market early this afternoon.

Trading was active as the market went into the second day of sharp rebound from the big drop of Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.2 at 365.3 with industrials up 1.1, rails up .8 and utilities up 1.2.

The market was up from the start but the opening of AT&T was delayed because of an accumulation of buy orders resulting from a published article quoting an official of the Federal Communications Commission as saying that the investigation of the company's rates did not indicate that the commission was opposed to AT&T or its rates.

GAIN IMPROVED

AT&T opened on a block of 55,000 shares, up 2 1/2 at 61 1/2, improving the gain slightly, then halving it as traders took profits.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.62 at 949.1.

The trend was generally higher among aerospace stocks, electronics, oils, airlines, rails, building materials, utilities and nonferrous metals.

National Dairy spurred more than 2 points on news of a proposal for a 2-for-1 stock split.

Up about 2 were Valley Metalurgical, General Super Markets, Conduction and O'Kie Copper.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds rose.

Big Investor Gives Pep Talk to Stockholders

DETROIT (AP)—Millionaire sportsman Robert B. Evans vowed Wednesday to do anything he could to get American Motors back on the high road to automotive prosperity.

He then proceeded to back up his promise by giving a five-minute pep talk to executives and stockholders alike at the firm's annual meeting.

Most taxpayers already expect to pay more this year, but that is the question of whether higher levies is resolved.

This is because many are paying more taxes at the state or local level. Workers and their employers are paying increased Social Security taxes. Most observers expect Congress to rescind the excise tax cuts that went into effect Jan. 1.

And Congress seems likely to make tax collections higher this year by stepping up the rate of payment. Thus, many individuals would have their federal income tax withholding increased, so that their take-home pay is smaller. And corporations would be paying the full amount they might not have paid a year from now.

AMC Chairman Richard E. Cross told stockholders AMC, which reported a net loss of some $13 million for the final quarter of the 1965 fiscal year, made about $4 million in the quarter ending Dec. 31. This was well below the $9.5 million made in the comparable quarter a year earlier.

Several of the stockholders expressed disappointment during the general meeting that the firm had been forced to skip the first dividend payment.

VERY SICK

Rev. Roy G. Parry, a Congregationalist minister from Hartford, Conn., called AMC "a very sick corporation" and said drastic measures were needed to cure it.

The suggested Cross and Abernethy should be elevated to executive advisory posts with two new top men brought in.

"We need a natural born promoter like George Romney," he said.

Neither Cross nor Abernethy had any comment on the minister's suggestion but they found a defender in Evans.

He told the meeting he had "complete confidence in the present management" of American Motors.

The country-haired, 59-year-old Evans said in his pep talk that he had aided in reorganization of some 30 firms in which he is a stockholder and that he would do all possible for American Motors.

MISSION FOILED — Parachutist Nick Piantanida is welcomed back to earth yesterday by followers of his unsuccessful effort for a world free-fall record from a balloon. When he prepared to jump, he found that the hose fastening his space suit to an oxygen tank was frozen. So he rode the balloon down, landing near Elmore, Minn. Project technicians said the balloon reached 123,500 feet.

Doughty Dowagers

Unruffled by Ruffians

LONDON (AP) — Lady Diana Duff Cooper is 70 and Miss Iris Tree is 68, but it takes more than being bound and robbed to change their plans for the evening.

Lady Diana, once England's greatest beauty, and Miss Tree, a playwright and poet, were chatting away at the former's London home last night when Lady Diana's chauffeur, Ettore Pascutto, 39, heard a knock at the door.

"When I open it," Pascutto said later, "four masked men pushed me back into the hall and punched me in the face and stomach. They forced my arms behind my back, gagged me and tied my hands and feet, then they forced us all into a bedroom."

"I tried to reason with them," said Lady Diana, widow of a noted diplomat. "I told them that robbery ultimately would not help them."

"That was no good so I tried to bargain with them. I asked them not to take things which were of enormous sentimental value to me and little use to them."

The gang tied up the two dowagers also and made off with a $15,000 mink coat plus jewels and art objects still to be valued.

Fifteen minutes after they left, Lady Diana managed to knock a telephone off a table and yell for help.

Miss Tree, daughter of the Edwardian actor-manager Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, went off to the opera.

Lady Diana, who starred 40 years ago in Max Reinhardt's stage production of "The Miracle," went out to visit friends.

"She took it wonderfully," said composer Lennox Berkeley a neighbor.

Sky Diver Foiled in Bid for Free-Fall Mark

ESTHERVILLE, Iowa (UPI) — It wasn't quite as bad as Pig's Eye dump, but it was still a disappointment for Nick Piantanida.

The daring Brick Town, N.J., sky diver rode a balloon to a harrowing height of 23 miles above the frozen midwest farm country yesterday but had to abandon his hopes of jumping overboard in quest of a new world's free-fall record.

The ride was an improvement on his previous attempt, when Piantanida and his balloon landed ingloriously in Pig's Eye dump near St. Paul, Minn.

But things started going wrong as soon as he hit the stratosphere.

It didn't work out that way.

The 33-year-old father of three rode the balloon to a height of 123,500 feet, nearly two miles above the world's manned space

ATTACH LINE

He had to disconnect his oxygen line from oxygen tanks in the gondola and attach it to the tanks he carried strapped on his back.

But when he yanked on the fitting, it refused to disconnect. It was frozen solid with ice.

Piantanida said he thought about slicing the line with a knife and holding his breath while he plunged to earth. He decided against it.

Instead, he gave up on his try at a record free-fall and asked controllers on the ground to disconnect the gondola from the balloon by radio signal.

THRILLS, CHILLS

What followed gave him enough thrills and chills to last a lifetime.

The gondola began to fall. It fell and it fell. Piantanida looked out the door and watched the gondola's unopened parachute in a knot falling beside him.

The gondola spun over, turning its opened door to the earth below. Piantanida braced himself against the wall to keep from falling out.

"I figured I had had it," he said later.

CHUTE OPENS

Then, after five miles of screaming descent, the gondola's chute opened. Piantanida was slammed with a force four times as strong as gravity.

Three more shock waves followed, and then he swung dizzily to earth.

He landed at Elmore, Minn., about 40 miles from his planned destination here, but even farther from Pig's Eye dump.

Driven here by car, he limped into the Estherville air terminal to be examined by a doctor.

Kentucky Five Eying Fifth National Crown

By the Associated Press
Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, the nation's winningest active college basketball coach, had his sights set today on a record fifth national championship and his first unbeaten team in 12 years.
The 64-year-old coach, known famously as The Baron of the Blue Grass and The Man in the Brown Suit, was in a happy mood after his unbeaten 1965
Kentucky team had routed Vanderbilt 105-90 for its 16th straight victory Wednesday night.

It was a remarkable repeat victory for the nationally second-ranked Wildcats over the third-ranked Commodores in that it came on Vanderbilt's home court in Nashville. The Commodores had vowed revenge after their 96-83 rout of Kentucky's home court Jan. 15.
Instead Kentucky put on its finest performance of the season paced by the 42 points scored by Louie Dampier, a six-foot junior from Indianapolis.

RIDDLE DEFENSE

The Wildcats riddled the Vanderbilt defense and at one time led by 22 points, 79-56.
Kentucky's impressive performance overshadowed the 107-89 road victory of the St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia over Boston College and West
Virginia's 74-45 triumph over Davidson on a neutral court in Charleston, W.Va.

Eight-ranked St. Joseph's, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, rebounded from its defeat by Dayton last Saturday to hand Boston College its worst setback of the season. Cliff Anderson, with 25, and Matt Goukas, with 23, combined for 48 points to more than offset John Austin's 24 for BC.

Ron Williams' 24 points paced West Virginia over Davidson, the latter's first defeat in Southern Conference competition.
Houston won its ninth in a row with a 112-82 home tech decision over Lamar Tech, but Bowling Green snapped the 10-game winning streak of Miami of Ohio with a 74-62 road triumph over the Redskins.

gerald's 400 freestyle relay

mer meet last night.
Fitzgerald now stands 8-4 for the season.

points and Charlie Robinson added 14 for the winners.

Bloomfield Hills Game First of Three Major Road Tests for Clarkston Five

Clarkston has the toughest row field Hills is on Clarkston's agenda for the second half of the three remaining days tomorrow night. Then will the season was won by Clarkston's Wayne-Oak come visits to Northville, tied ton, 63-61, at West Bloomfield League basketball championship. Clarkston for first place, last week. The loss was the Lakers fourth and virtually eliminated them from the title picture.

West Bloomfield goes to Holly, Milford is at Northville and Brighton goes to Clarencville in other league action tomorrow.

Defending champion Bloomfield Hills has come on strong scorer with a 32.6 average, is after a slow start and is only a player Bloomfield Hills must have chalked up five victories game behind the league leaders stop. The sharpshooting junior in six W.O. games. Dave Robi-That's why Clarkston can expect scored 33 points in an earlier lard has developed into a top major trouble in the Barons' meeting won by the Wolves, 71- score for the Barons, although the team has considerably more scoring balance than show by Birmingham Groves can take a giant step toward the North-west Suburban League basketball championship tomorrow by defeating Detroit Thurston.

This will be the second meeting between the league powers. Groves won the first at Thurston, 70-64. The rematch will be in Birmingham.

Groves, the state's eighth ranked Class A team, is 6-0 in league play and 11-0 over-all. Thurston has lost only to the Falcons in six league games.

Another win over Thurston would give Groves a two-game lead with three games remaining. They would have to win one more to assure a tie and two to win outright.

Mike Rafferty has been the top scorer for the Falcons with a 20.9 average. But he has received good support from Rick Whiteman (13.3) and Mark Harris (8.0) who is a strong rebounder.

Angie Fiorini, 5-7 guard, is the team's sparkplug and playmaker. Mike Forrester is another strong rebounder who has been in double figures enough to help keep opponents honest on defense.

The top replacement is 6-7 Craig Love who is averaging 7.6.

New 18-Hole Course Under Construction

A new layout will soon be added to Oakland County's growing list of golf courses.

Under construction in Independence Township, between Sashaw and Maybree roads, is an 18-hole, 6,800-yard course which is expected to be completed by spring of 1967. Cost of the course is expected to run about $750,000.

Building the course is the Pine Knob Golf and Country Club, Inc., headed by Herbert Schaefer of Waterford.

Plans call for a complete watering system on the 128-acre course. Officials said the first nine holes should be open by Aug. 1 this year.

Two Loyola Cagers Declared Ineligible

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Loyola, the nation's fifth-ranked college basketball team, was dealt a sharp blow Wednesday with announcement that regular guard Alan Miller was placed on academic probation.

Miller is averaging almost 13 points a game in Loyola's current 15-1 record.

A sophomore reserve, Robert Calihan Jr., son of U. of Detroit head coach will also be ineligible the rest of the Rambler season.

Two Big Problems for St. Fred

St. Frederick's Rams will be faced with two big problems when they play St. Michael tomorrow night at Madison Junior High.

Ray Lavoie, 6-2, and Bill French, 6-4, of St. Michael did a complete wrecking job on the Rams the first time the teams met this season. They scored 47 points and grabbed a like number of rebounds between them to lead a 69-55 win.

The Mike-men have been sputtering along recently and face the possibility of sharing the Macomb League championship and losing a berth in the Second Division playoffs if they fail to get past the Rams.

St. Frederick can tie for the crown by winning, but will have to beat the Mike-men by more than 14 points to take the playoff spot — if Waterford Our Lady doesn't grab it first.

The Lakers host Richmond St. Augustine in another key contest on the final night of league action.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, which already has wrapped up a spot in the Second Division playoffs, goes after the North.

Lavonia had 20 markers and west Catholic title tomorrow at 16 rebounds.

Farmington OLS. The Eagles are assured a tie for first. St. Frederick will be counting on St. Augustine to beat WOLL like it did two weeks ago while the Rams are polishing off St. Michael. WOLL's Lakers need a St. Frederick victory.

It would enable them to tie for the crown and go to playoffs because they beat St. Fred and St. Mike by larger scores. In a game the Pontiac schools defeated Our Lady.

The Mike-men have other ideas. A victory over St. Fred would give St. Michael the outright crown and the berth in Sunday's playoff action at University of Detroit.

Unless the Rams can contain French and Lavoie this could very well happen. In the first meeting, the Rams were helpless under the boards as French snared 31 rebounds and scored a spot in the Second Division playoffs.

Lavonia had 20 markers and west Catholic title tomorrow at 16 rebounds.

Foul Play Hinted in Air Crash

By West at N-Ban Confab

BREMEN, Germany — Investigators tried to learn today what significance, if any, an American "Mr. Fixit" had with the crash last week of a Lufthansa airliner at Bremen. Forty-six persons were killed. The American was a passenger in the plane. A pair of American-made pliers were found yesterday in the hand of the dead copilot.

Since the West German airline does not equip its crews with such tools, the possibility of foul play was raised. Thousands of pieces of the twin-engine Conqair were spread across the cement floor of a hangar at the Bremen airport — parts of a grotesque puzzle that may answer other questions about the mysterious crash.

Why did the airliner approach the airport for what appeared to be a routine landing and then suddenly nose up into a cloud bank, followed by the crash?

VETERAN PILOT — Did the veteran pilot stall the engines resulting in the fatal loss of altitude?

Airport authorities also were trying to determine whether any of the passengers aboard the plane bought any unusually large amounts of life insurance.

Investigators also found two other pairs of U.S.-made pliers in the wreckage. The American passenger, William Raleigh Baker, 31, was reported to have boarded the airliner with a tool case.

However, there was no hint that Baker, who worked for a private U.S. finance agency in Frankfurt and had a reputation as a "Mr. Fix-it," was involved. Police were not even sure the pliers belonged to Baker.

3 CHILDREN

Baker lived in Bad Homburg, near Frankfurt, with his German wife and three children. His brother-in-law, police said, identified the pliers as similar to those Baker carried, but there was speculation he might have lent his tools to someone else.

"Baker liked to fix things with those tools," said his employer Thomas R. Wayne of Wayne, N. J.

"Why, he'd fix a car's transmission faster than any garage could do it," he said Baker had a habit of carrying the tools with him.

Pontiac Teen Is Sentenced in Gun Death

A 3-to-15-year prison term was ordered this morning for a Pontiac teen-ager convicted of manslaughter in the shooting of his brother-in-law.

The sentence was imposed on Luther Curry, 16, of 317 Hughes by Circuit Judge James S. Thornburn.

A jury found Curry guilty Dec. 20, 1965, of killing Hightland Martin, 25, of 459 Highland.

Martin was found dead the morning of Sept. 11 on the road way in front of 357 Branch. He had been shot in the chest.

The youth's father told in custody at his home shortly after the shooting and turned over to juvenile authorities. They later waived jurisdiction.

Curry was charged with second-degree murder but Judge Thornburn instructed the jury to rule only on manslaughter.

List Pontiac Man Hit by Car as 'Fair'

Peter P. Grabowski, 25, of 86 Cottage is listed in "fair" condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after being struck by an automobile yesterday afternoon. Pontiac police said Grabowski was hit by a car driven by Earl W. Lee, 26, of 3161 Warren, Waterford Township.

Lee told police Grabowski ran in front of him from between lanes of traffic on E. South Blvd. near the intersection of R. Glend. Lee was not held.

Kosygin's Talk Welcomed Cautiously

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Western delegation officials today cautiously welcomed Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's new message to the 17-nation disarmament conference. Western officials said the tone of the Soviet message Wednesday was "encouraging" because it seems to confirm other powers agreed to do so. The Soviets are really determined to keep the disarmament talks separate.

Kosygin called for a ban on use of nuclear weapons against countries which do not have such weapons on their territory. He said the Soviet Union would abide by such a ban provided the other powers agreed to do so. The only mention of Viet Nam in the message saying "aggression against Viet Nam is aggression against all countries and peoples who are upholding their freedom and independence."

RESUMED BOMBING — Resumed American bombing of North Viet Nam so far has not hampered the Geneva negotiations for a treaty to curb the spread of nuclear arms.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, said in December that use of atomic weapons by the United States in Viet Nam was "inevitable" and had not even been considered.

Western sources said except for the call against the use of nuclear weapons against nonnuclear countries, Kosygin's message repeated previously stated Soviet positions.

The new point said: "With the object of facilitating an understanding on the conclusion of a (nonproliferation) treaty, the Soviet government expresses its readiness to insert into the treaty an article on forbidding the use of nuclear weapons against nonnuclear states, parties to the treaty which have no nuclear weapons on their territory."

NEW PROPOSAL — Western experts said the new Soviet proposal was also aimed at discouraging countries from allowing the United States to station nuclear weapons on their territory. It appeared aimed mostly at West Germany, which has a heavy concentration of U.S. nuclear forces.

Nations that have nuclear weapons are the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and Communist China.

Nonnuclear nations, including India, had been seeking a guarantee against nuclear powers if they agreed not to acquire nuclear weapons of their own.

Among the Soviet offers Kosygin repeated was one not to be the first to use nuclear weapons providing other nuclear powers would make the same commitment.

RESTATED REFUSAL — The Soviet premier also restated the Soviet refusal to allow international inspectors to police a ban on underground nuclear testing. This has blocked extension of the 1963 nuclear test ban to include underground explosions.

Britain's chief delegate, Lord Chalfont, warned the conference today that any reduction of atomic weapons might involve serious risks for the nuclear powers.

It might involve the reduction of the capacity of these countries to guarantee the safety of nonnuclear countries against attack or the threat of attack from a third nuclear power," he said.

This could be interpreted as a warning unless China also signs the disarmament agreement, the threat of nuclear war will persist. China and France are the only atomic powers not attending the conference.

But, Lord Chalfont said, "these risks are not as great as they seem if we are not prepared to take them, we shall achieve nothing."

Hope Rides Silver Meteor

TO STAR-STUDD NY BENEFIT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Bob Hope got snowbound in Philadelphia . . . persuaded "Mrs. Oulhan," a train dispatcher, to put him on a Silver Meteor not supposed to pick up passengers . . . and thus landed into our Big Fight for Sight show which he m.c.'d at Lincoln Center Philharmonic the other night.

"I told Mrs. Oulhan I had to do a benefit show, and she said, 'What's your name?' Milton Berle?" he said.

He received a doctorate in human relations at Pennsylvania Military College. "I have so many doctors degrees, I'm beginning to resent Medicare," he said. "Although there are still a lot of homes I'd like to visit."

Bob said Ben Gimbel, a Philly pal, hired a snow-pusher to get Hope out of his house.

Our great show (Hope m.c.'ing the last half) played to a packed house despite the blizzard. The stars: Marty Allen (m.c. the first half) Mel Allen, Woody Allen, Lisa Kirk, Joy Heatherton, Dinah Shore, Tony Bennett, Herschel Bernardi, Lionel Hampton and His Jazz Sextet, Jackie Vernon, Ford and Hines, Killer Joe and His Dancers, Tony Bianco and the Corpus Christi Choir, and Sammy Fidler's orchestra.

Lisa Kirk had to be carried above the snow into the hall by Mel Allen. Lisa explained she didn't want to get her feet wet in the snow. Mel seemed happy to help out.

At a big fight for Sight party at Uchitel's Voisin at midnight, Len Durocher and Sandy Kousser phoned Frank Sinatra, in Las Vegas. "Are you still on the wagon?" asked Frank. "No," he said, "I fell off—didn't you hear the crash?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Atty. Roy Cohn and partner Tom Boland met Carl Erbe in Switzerland and said they were going to Luxor, Egypt. "What are you going to Luxor for?" asked Erbe. "For the baths," replied Cohn.

A comic and an actor—both married—are feuding over dates with the same girl . . . Lawrence S. Lawrence, of the Shubert family, was introduced at the Friars luncheon. "Lawrence S. Lawrence—that's an unusual name," said the master of ceremonies—disk jockey William B. Williams.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Some girls get pearls from oysters. Others get diamonds from shrimps—Joan I. Welsh, Quote.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A moonlighter is sometimes a guy who holds two jobs so he can drive from one to the other in a more expensive car.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Life is something like a trumpet. If you don't put anything in it, you don't get anything out."—W. C. Handy.

In this cold weather, many people will contract severe colds. Doctors call it "politicians' flu" because you get it in rooms filled with hot air. . . . That's earl, brother.

Scientist Says Being Overweight (Chubby) OK; but Don't Be Obese (Downright Fat)

BOSTON (AP) — Harvard shows that mortality tables and the scientist said he has developed the "Seltzer Index" to 25, five feet 10, with a large frame should not allow himself to weigh more than 179 pounds.

But Seltzer says she can weigh 157.

Seltzer is a research associate in physical anthropology at Harvard University's School of Public Health.

Writing in the New England Journal of Medicine, he said by noting variations in individual body build.

All this means that height, weight and life span. That is, the more you weigh, the shorter your life span, at all levels of overweight.

BETTER GUIDE

He said his method gives a better guide to mortality rates than an arbitrary standard. Instead, he said, the yardstick should be a direct measurement of the amount of fat under the skin.

He said individuals who are moderately overweight show no serious mortality risks.

President John Tyler had 14 children, seven by each of his two wives.

And judging from his research, the nation can breathe a great, collective sigh of relief and let out its waist line.

Dr. Seltzer says his research he said.

The index is determined by taking the cube root of a person's weight and then dividing it into the height in inches.

For example, one table, computed by the traditional actuary method says that a man over 25, five feet 10, with a large frame should not allow himself to weigh more than 179 pounds.

But by the Seltzer Index he may weigh 216 and still not reduce his chances for a long life.

Detroit Moving to Nip Epidemic

DETROIT (AP) — The death of a 4-year-old Detroit boy has been traced to diphtheria — the city's first such death from the contagious disease since 1962.

The victim was Lonnie Hill, 4, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Bozy Hill.

Injured Teen Gets $45,000

Independence Boy Hit by Boat in 1963

A 14-year-old Independence Township boy and his parents yesterday received a $45,000 settlement in Circuit Court for injuries suffered by the youngster when he was run over by a motorboat more than two years ago.

The settlement was reached just prior to the case going to trial before Judge William J. Beer.

The teen-ager, Earl J. Brendle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brendle, 5889 Lakewood, spent two and a half months in Henry Ford Hospital following the July 20, 1963, accident.

Brendle was injured while swimming in Walters Lake, Independence Township.

His right side and back were severely cut by the blades of the outboard motor and his right arm nearly severed.

The damage suit was filed by the Brendles in February 1964 against the operator of the boat, Warren D. Baker of 426 Boyd, Edward Snow, of Warren who was being towed on water skis, and two others in the boat, who since have been dropped from the case.

Baker, 33, was found guilty of recklessly operating a motorboat in November 1963 as a result of the accident and fined $15 by Independence Township Justice of the Peace William H. Stamp.

Brendle's attorney, Thomas J. O'Dowd of Detroit, said that as far as he knows this is the first time that a water skier has been brought in a joint venture suit and assumed for liability.

The boy received $25,000 which will be placed in a trust for his future welfare and education. His parents received $20,000 to cover medical expenses.

Council Adopts U.S. Bid for War Debate

Diplomats Are Being Sounded Out in Effort for a Breakthrough

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Africans on the U.N. Security Council were reported looking today for some way the council could help settle the war in Viet Nam.

Council diplomats said Mali, Nigeria and Uganda were seeking to get some general agreement on the subject before the council went into the full Viet Nam debate that it decided late yesterday to hold on the request of the United States.

One African stressed that they were still sounding out other countries for some breakthrough and were not yet talking about submitting a resolution.

But a non-African speculated that the Africans might eventually submit a resolution calling for a reduction of hostilities and a new Geneva conference on Viet Nam without advance conditions.

The United States already has a resolution before the council calling for unconditional discussions among interested governments, to arrange a conference to secure application of the 1954 and 1962 Geneva agreements on Indochina.

SOVIET VETO
But the U.S. resolution is expected to run into a Soviet veto if it goes to a vote as it stands.

The council's decision to debate "the situation in Viet Nam" was a headline victory for the United States, which brought the war to the U.N. Monday after its turn of the year peace offensive failed and it ended its 37-day pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam.

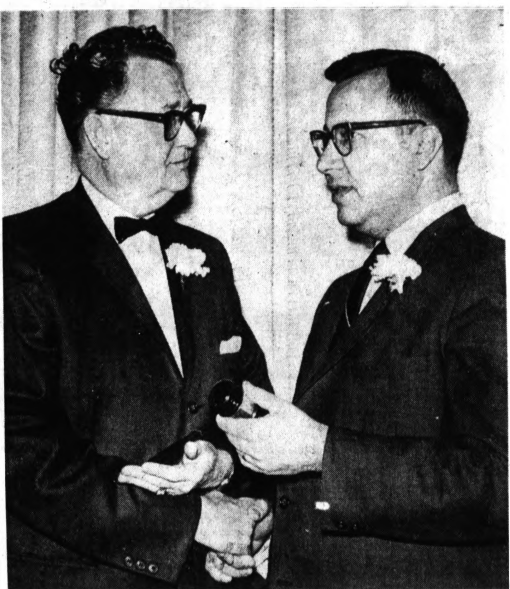

The U.S. request for a debate got the nine votes necessary for its adoption after Jordanian delegate Waleed M. Sadi received last-minute instructions from his government to cast the crucial ninth vote in its favor.

There were two votes against a debate and four abstentions.

THOSE IN FAVOR
Beside Jordan and the United States, those in favor were Argentina, Britain, Nationalist China, Japan, the Netherlands, New Zealand and Uruguay.

Those against were the Soviet Union and Bulgaria. Those abstaining were France, Mali, Nigeria and Uganda.

Council President Akira Matsuo of Japan told newsmen he did not expect to hold another council meeting before Monday.

C. of C. Seats Officers at Annual Meeting

Kenneth S. Miller, assistant traffic manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, last night was installed as president of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Also installed at the chamber's 56th annual meeting at the Pontiac Elks Temple were Harold B. Euler, first vice president; Alger V. Conner, second vice president; Eugene Russell, secretary and Alvin Steinman, treasurer.

Past president Stuart E. Whitfield was honored at the dinner for his 15 years service to the chamber as a member of the board of directors.

He was presented a plaque by John A. Riley, Pontiac Press advertising director, also a past president of the chamber.

OUTGOING PRESIDENT
Charles F. Brown, outgoing chamber president, said that the organization had enhanced its sphere of operation last year.

"I'm satisfied that the chamber was a catalyst to make things happen in 1965," Brown noted.

Brown noted that 101 new members were added last year.

Forecast Flurries, Warmer Weather

A few brief snow flurries will move in on the Pontiac area late today and tonight with a warmer 15 to 22.

Skies will continue overcast through Saturday with highs somewhat colder — 10 to 25.

West to southwesterly winds at 7 to 14 miles per hour will shift to west-northwest at 10 to 18 miles tonight.

Twenty-one was the low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury stood at 27 at 1 p.m. and predicted that this year would be a constructive one for the chamber.

In accepting the president's gavel from Brown, Miller said that a chamber of commerce organization will be as good as the members make it.

LEGISLATION
He pointed out that both federal and state legislation this year would affect business communities.

Entertainment at the dinner was provided by Wes Harrison, billed as "Mr. Sound Effects."

January Sales by Pontiac High Despite Weather

Despite inclement weather in many sections of the country, near-record sales of 64,590 Pontiacs and Tempests during the month of January were announced today by John Z. DeLoe, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

The previous January record of 65,482 units was set a year ago when the division was selling cars at an accelerated rate to catch up with the demand of an earlier strike.

In the final 10 days of the month a total of 20,530 cars were sold.

Bus-Truck Crash Kills at Least 4 Children

BROOKSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A school bus and a truck-trailer loaded with rocks collided at a rural intersection today and officers said at least four youngsters were killed.

"We know of four dead and there may be more," a sheriff's office dispatcher said. "Several injured were taken to the hospital, but we don't know how many."

Consumers to Spend $4.6 Million in Area

More than $4.6 million will be invested by Consumers Power Co. in its Pontiac division this year to expand and improve the company's natural gas and electric service.

The expansion program was announced today by Charles F. Brown, Pontiac division manager.

Brown said that installation of more than 137 miles of new gas mains is planned this year to bring natural gas to an additional 5,600 customers.

This project results from population growth. Brown said, and new mains will be placed in several Oakland County communities.

In addition, improvement projects involving several miles of older mains serving 650 existing customers are scheduled, said Brown.

These improvement projects are planned mainly in the Pontiac and the fringe area of the city, according to Brown.

54,000 CUSTOMERS
The company's Pontiac division provides gas service to 54,000 customers in a 420-square mile area and electric service to 14,500 customers within the city limits of Pontiac.

Electric department projects this year will include the necessary service extensions to accommodate about 80 new customers, Brown said.

He pointed out that the Pontiac division's construction program (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Guaranteed Wage Backed

Ambitious Plan Part of Commission Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blue-ribbon commission recommended to President Johnson and Congress today that every American family be guaranteed a minimum annual income.

The annual cost of such a plan was said to range from $2 billion to $20 billion, depending on its scope.

As many as 35 million Americans could be affected if a minimum income level was fixed at $3,000 a year.

This was but one of dozens of ambitious recommendations that grew out of a year-long study by a 14-member National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress.

LONDON (UPI) — It smacked of "U.N.C.L.E.", "SMERSH" and maybe even "Zowie." Call it James Bond, Napoleon Solo or our man Flint. The villains planned a "full-scale military attack" complete with "limited atomic weapons."

The words coming from Durham County Police Chief Alec Muir sounded to reporters like something from Ian Fleming.

He disclosed that army riflemen had been sent to Durham Prison when it was feared an all-out assault would be made on the Alcatraz-like fortress to free one of Britain's three "great train robbers." The three are Douglas Gordon Goody, Roy (the Weasel) James and Thomas Wisbey, convicted for their part in the August 1963 holdup of a royal mail train which netted $7.3 million.

Muir revealed yesterday he demanded the troops three months ago when he became convinced associates of the three planned to spring at least Goody, regarded as the brains behind the robbery.

TROOPS CALLED
He said the attack could include the use of tanks, bazookas, bombs and "limited atomic weapons." Regular army troops of the Royal Irish, Fusiliers, an infantry regiment, were rushed to the prison and have been on duty since the request, Muir disclosed.

"With over two million pounds at their disposal they can go to any length irrespective of risk to life or limb," the chief said. "If that happened there would be a pitched battle and a lot of people would be killed."

"It was on that basis that I signed a document saying I could no longer be responsible for maintaining law and order as it affected prison security. I demanded the help of the army."

The home office had no comment on the disclosure, but Laborite member of Parliament Marcus Lupton called the situation "fantastic."

HARD TO FIND
"Where can anyone get a couple of tanks?" he asked. "You don't just get them off the peg."

But Muir declared he was "satisfied that Goody's friends were prepared to launch a full-scale military attack even to the extent of using tanks, bombs and what I believe the army calls limited atomic weapons."

"Once armored vehicles had breached the main prison gates there would be nothing to stop them," he said. "A couple of tanks could easily have gone through the streets of Durham unchallenged."

Muir said the troops would remain at the prison at least until the train robbers are sent to maximum security quarters under construction

County Gets Poverty Grant to Aid Elderly

A federal grant of $38,050 from the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OEO) for Operation Medicare - Alert was announced yesterday by Sen. Patrick McNamara.

Funds will be used to hire some 70 older persons to work on a part-time basis in helping elderly persons in low-income areas apply for Medicare coverage.

Persons hired under Operation Medicare - Alert will be paid from $1.25 to $1.75 hourly, according to Luther Flanagan, deputy director of the county OEO action centers.

Their main function will be to contact the elderly and arrange for them to attend group meetings where the Medicare application procedure will be explained.

Some 50 persons already have applied for the positions, Flanagan said.

CONTOVERSIAL Many of the commission findings are certain to arouse controversy.

Perhaps anticipating this, it said "today's more advanced ideas will be commonplace tomorrow."

The guaranteed income idea was labeled worthy of further study in Johnson's economic report to Congress last month.

Under the plan, the federal government would make up the difference between a family's actual income and a fixed minimum standard.

FULL SUPPORT Almost every recommendation drew unanimous support from the panel, which included such prominent citizens of diverse viewpoints as board chairman Thomas J. Watson Jr. of IBM Corp. and Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union.

Among the unanimous recommendations in the 210-page report were these:

The federal government should become "employer of jobs, paying them to work in hospitals, schools, police departments and other useful community enterprises."

at Parkhurst Prison on the Isle of Wight. The new cells are scheduled for completion in 1968. The inmates have set up machine guns in an employment shielded by sandbags. New searchlights and nets also were installed at Durham.

There are 18 soldiers at Durham — an officer, a sergeant and 16 men.

A prison officers association spokesman said he had no doubt there had been a "serious attempt planned" to free one or all of the train robbers.

"If what the chief said is true," the spokesman added, "it's a good job we had soldiers there."

Muir was asked how the great train robbers were doing at Durham. He said they are making mailbags in the prison shop. At Parkhurst, Muir added, their experience will put to use stitching money bags for the Royal Mint.

WILLIAM HINE

Petition Filed for City Post

Ex-Union Official, 31, Seeks District 5 No

A 31-year-old factory worker and former union official will seek the District 5 nomination in the City Commission primary March 7.

William Hine of 490 Desoto, formerly financial secretary of United Rubber Workers Local 12 (AFL-CIO), in Pontiac, is the first person in District 5 to file nominating petitions.

Hine, now a final inspector at GMC Truck & Coach Division, filled the union post when he worked for the Baldwin Rubber Co., which went out of business.

Citing District 5 as the largest growing residential area in the city, Hine said closer planning was needed.

He said the projected relocation of a junk yard in the district would be a campaign issue.

CITY RESIDENCY An 11-year resident of Pontiac, Hine graduated from Carrier Mills High School and attended Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill., and George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

Hine is an Army veteran and served in the Army Security Agency in the Far East and Korea.

A member of the constitution and bylaws committee of United Auto Workers Local 594, Hine is married and has two children.

County Man, Detroit Die in Accidents

A 23-year-old Oakland County man and an 81-year-old Detroit man were killed in separate accidents in the county early this morning.

Roger L. Smith, 22, of 4161 Gregory, Orion Township, died at Martin Place Hospital, Madison Heights, after his car collided with a parked truck on I-75 north of 12 Mile at 2:58 a.m.

Madison Heights police said the truck had been involved in an accident earlier in the evening and pulled off the expressway where it was left without any lights on.

Anthony Walter of Detroit died when he was struck by a hit and run car at 1:30 a.m. near the intersection of Grand River and Middle Belt in Farmington Township.

The field of hopefuls for a seat on the Oakland County Circuit Court bench continued to grow with the announcement today that Royal Oak attorney Maurice A. Merritt has entered the race.

Merritt of 1721 Bonnie View is the sixth to announce candidacy for the judicial post.

An attorney for 20 years, Merritt's law office is at 950 E. Maple, Birmingham.

"While I, too, believe that integrity, judicial temperament and trial experience are very important factors, and that no judge should be without them, I don't believe they are the sole issue of the current campaign," said Merritt.

"Of at least equal importance is knowledge, ability and the fortitude or 'guts' to determine what is the fair and practical policy for today, and then apply the law to that policy, objectively and impartially," he said.

His civic activities include being a member of the Oakland Citizens League.

Other candidates who have announced candidacy are Birmingham City Commissioner Carl F. Ingraham, State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, former senior assistant prosecutor Robert L. Templin, Huntingdon Woods City Attorney William R. Beasley, and Ferndale City Attorney Robert J. Turner.

Consider New Bloomfield Twp. Library

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The prospects of constructing a $1.5-million library are being considered by the Bloomfield Township Library Board.

Building consultant Robert H. Rohlf recently estimated that an adequate library for the township would cost $1.25 million to $1.5 million.

He urged the board to begin immediately to develop a step-by-step building program which would meet current as well as long-range needs.

A special election for building funds now is being considered by the board, according to President John Ramsey.

He indicated the balloting might be done sometime between May 2 and June 3 or at the Aug. 2 primary election.

NO PLANS DRAWN

While no plans have been drawn for the proposed facility, Rohlf estimates it would be constructed with funds from a half-mill levy.

"Costs for public libraries are currently averaging close to $30 per square foot," Rohlf said. "The longer the board delays its building, the more costly it will be," he warned.

He noted his estimated cost figures do not include acquisition of a site.

"Good library sites, like good commercial sites, are usually in prime business development areas," he said.

4TH FASTEST GROWING

According to Rohlf, Bloomfield Township is the fourth fastest growing metropolitan area in the nation.

With population booming, the community has maintained a distinction, he said.

"Bloomfield Township is far from being an average community, either in terms of level of education or income," he said. "Nor does the township appear to be the kind of community which would be content with bare minimums or a sub-standard public library program."

The township library, currently operating in leased space at 4036 Telegraph, is supported by a 1-mill levy approved by voters in 1963.

BIRMINGHAM — Karen Radom, 21, of 881 Arlington, a senior and co-chairman of the People-to-People student organization at Michigan State University, will visit a South Vietnamese village this month to help dedicate a market place.

Miss Radom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Radom, will accompany her co-chairman and two political science professors to the village of Long Yen near Saigon.

The student group "adopted" the village and sponsored a drive to raise funds for the building of a new market place.

South Vietnamese Premier Ky and other members of his diplomatic staff will attend the official dedication, which was postponed to allow the group from MSU to attend.

Miss Radom, a graduate of Seaholm High School, is a political science major at MSU. Mrs. Radom said her daughter's plans for the future are uncertain, but it is likely that she will continue her activities in public affairs.

Junior Miss Pageant Wins Jaycees Laurels

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce may well take pride in the superb job done in the annual staging of the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant. The 1966 winner, BONNIE BARTON of Farmington, will compete for the title of America's Junior Miss in Mobile, Ala., next month.

It was in 1958 that the Mobile Junior Chamber broadened its local Azalea Festival to a national concept. The 18 state titlists who qualified for the Mobile event that year grew to 50 by the third year.

BONNIE

Michigan Jaycees got on the Junior Miss bandwagon in 1959, and Pontiac was named the host city — as it has been ever since — for semifinal judging of winners of statewide contests. The 29 who competed here this year as compared with the seven who appeared eight years ago is eloquent testimony to the national popularity the Junior Miss Pageant has attained.

With the emphasis on scholarship, talent and personality rather than entirely on beauty — though beauty is by no means a liability! — the competition is restricted to high school seniors. State winners receive $1,000 scholarship and $500 savings bond awards while the national winner takes home a $10,000 scholarship.

Serving as the host city of the state pageant represents a year-round assignment for various key members of the local Jaycees with virtually the entire membership of 90 becoming involved during the climax of the event.

In addition, there has been enthusiastic cooperation among the business community in underwriting various financial commitments and on the part of the "host families" who entertain the young contestants while in the city. This year, 15 households opened hospitable doors to the visitors.

To all who had a part in the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant THE PRESS extends felicitations on the excellence of the production with the ardent hope that our Farmington charmer may emulate Michigan's 1965 Junior Miss, PATRICIA GAUNDER, and carry off the national title in Mobile.

Gas Cutoff in Zero Air Puts City in 'Sweat'

It matters little whether the closing of a valve at the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. Alpena plant, shutting off the flow of gas to 2,000 users early Sunday morning in zero weather, was an act of sabotage or that of a diabolical prankster.

What does matter is that so vital a factor in the distribution system of a municipal fuel supply was unprotected and subject to tampering with by anyone agile enough to climb the fence that enclosed the utility's pumping station.

Granted that similar acts of lawlessness are indeed rare, the potentiality for destruction of property and injury or death for humankind are not pleasant to contemplate.

It is likely that the Alpena utility has already taken precautions against a repetition of the outrage and that others are also looking to security of their key controls. If they are not, their inaction is unpardonable.

There should be immediate establishment of positive, foolproof safeguards against a community disaster arising from lax control of so explosive an element as gas.

'Short Interest' Greater in Skirts Than in Pants

Most men have noticed that women's skirts are getting shorter and shorter.

But how many women have noticed that men's trousers are also getting shorter and shorter?

No many.

Does this mean that men are more style-conscious than women? Or that women are less observing than men?

Or does it mean that shorter skirts are for some reason more interesting than shorter trousers?

Whatever it is, men, let's not fight it. After all, every woman in a short skirt is one less woman in plaid slacks.

AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court's review of James R. Hoffa's jury tampering conviction not only revives the Teamsters Union president from prison, but virtually guarantees his reelection as head of the world's biggest labor union.

The court's decision to hear the case, like the blizzard that enveloped Washington, felt like a tidal of cold snow down the necks of those who want to unseat the controversial leader of the Teamsters.

"This means that practically anything Hoffa gets at the next convention, Hoffa gets," said one Teamster source.

And what Hoffa wants, many Teamsters insiders say, is to win a new five-year term as president and then change the constitution of the union so he can rule it from jail if necessary and return to take over his plush office in the shadow of the U.S. Capitol.

Hoffa faces an eight-year sentence if the Supreme Court turns down his appeal, but could be paroled within 32 months.

WON'T BE BANNED

And, jury tampering is not one of the crimes that bans a labor leader from holding office under federal labor law.

All this means plenty of fireworks at the Teamsters July 4 convention in Miami Beach, with Hoffa setting off most of the rockets.

Cautious moves inside the union to dump Hoffa if he went to jail quickly went underground in the wake of Monday's Supreme Court decision to hear Hoffa's appeal.

Hoffa argues his conviction was illegal because a Justice Department spy—Louisiana Teamsters official Edward Grady Partin — was planted in his inner councils during his 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville, Tenn., and his testimony admitted during Hoffa's jury tampering trial in 1964 at Chattanooga.

FEDERAL INDICTMENT

Partin is under federal indictment for stealing union funds.

A spokesman for Einar Mohr, West Coast Teamsters vice president who earlier said he would run for the top job if Hoffa went to jail, said today, "It's not going to put up any opposition to Hoffa."

There was also no hint of open opposition from Teamsters Vice President Harold Gibbons of St. Louis, long an unannounced front-runner for Hoffa's $75,000 a-year job.

Hoffa, who quickly moved in and took over in 1967 when his predecessor Dave Beck went to jail on an income tax conviction, once again is in indisputable control of the giant union and its $1 billion in assets.

And those who covet Hoffa's job, but don't want to risk a toe-to-toe slugfest match, will have to wait awhile.

Another Walk In Space

France Blundered on U.N. Vote

WASHINGTON — The government of France made a fateful blunder when it refused to cast its vote in favor of a debate in the U.N. Security Council on ways and means of settling the Viet Nam war. Rarely in the history of democracies in the world has the exercise of the right of debate been opposed by another nation; especially a long-time ally.

LAWRENCE

The United States had merely asked to present its case to the international organization, whose specific function is to do everything it can to preserve peace in the world.

Whether Gen. de Gaulle himself adopted the autocratic attitude which caused the French representative to refuse to vote to permit the debate, the fact remains that the French government has put itself in the position of opposition to the full disclosure of the viewpoints of members of the United Nations on a problem that could, if not settled soon, result in a major war.

France has been saved twice by the sacrifices of American soldiers and sailors and Marines and airmen.

AN ADMIRATION

Throughout the United States, there is an admiration for the French people, but what is incomprehensible today is that Gen. de Gaulle's obstinacy, including an indifference to America's many acts of friendship, could bring about such an action as was recorded this week. For without the vote of a small country in the Middle East — Jordan — the necessary nine votes to place the Viet Nam problem on the agenda would not have been secured.

France "abstained," but this was the equivalent of a negative vote, since the entire opposition from the Communist countries plus the support of France would have defeated the proposal if Jordan hadn't come to the rescue.

If, after the debate, the Soviet Union vetoes the resolution introduced by the United States, the whole problem will be transferred to the General Assembly, where the issues can be presented once more by this country in the hope that some action will be taken or at least some recommendations made that could result in an armistice.

Even if the Security Council refuses to take any action after the United States has stated its case, the extension of the debate to the General Assembly will require that the voters of all the members will have to be recorded publicly.

TRUE VALUE

This will be a showdown as to the true worth of the United Nations as a peace-making apparatus.

Congress will watch with great interest, especially since a "foreign aid" bill is soon to be considered by both houses. Nations which are aligning themselves with the Communists or refusing to go along with the effort of the United States to bring peace to Southeast Asia are not likely to find themselves in good favor in this country.

The persistence of the United States in seeking to present to the United Nations every phase of the Viet Nam controversy is in itself significant. It reflects a confidence that, when all the facts are made available, the disinterested and altruistic position of the United States in trying to save a small country from being enslaved will be fully disclosed to the whole world. Moral force now faces a supreme test.

Bob Considine Says:

LBJ's Bombing Decision Recalls Truman's in '45

NEW YORK — President Johnson's terribly difficult decision to crank up the stalled bombing of North Viet Nam reminded us of President Truman's earnest soul-searching before he gave the historic nod that meant the atomic bombs—the only two we had at the time — would be dropped on Japan.

CONSIDINE

Both presidents were driven to the utter ends of their patience by senseless resistance. Japan's leaders had been given overwhelming evidence by the summer of 1945 that they had lost their war and by continuing it could only cost their brave people limitless additional hardship. But they would not listen to reason.

And therefore, with heavy heart, President Truman made the final decision that would kill 200,000 Japanese in order to save the lives of many times that number of Americans, our allies, and Japanese men, women and children who would have fought us to the marrow of the bone after the planned invasion of October 1945.

President Johnson has now made a decision which could shorten the war in Southeast Asia or possibly escalate it into the greatest conflict of all time.

HAD TO BE MADE

The decision had to be made. And by the President alone, after listening to counsel that gave the gamut of possible action and inaction.

LBJ was criticized for his decision to restart the bombing of North Viet Nam but he may take some comfort from something Lincoln said in 1864:

"I desire so to conduct the affairs of this administration that if at the end, when I come to lay down the reins of power, I have lost every other friend on earth, I shall at least have one friend left, and that friend shall be dead inside of me."

Grover Cleveland, when he was president, once said to a bright boy named Roosevelt, "Franklin, I hope you never become president."

Warren Harding sighed to his friend William Allen White, "My God, this is a hell of a job! I have no trouble with my enemies. I can take care of my enemies all right. But my friends, White, they're the ones that keep me walking the floor nights."

No man knows how LBJ will feel when he turns the job over to someone else at the end of his White House stay.

President James Buchanan knew. On March 4, 1861, he shook hands with his towering successor, A. Lincoln, and said to him, "If you are as happy, my dear sir, on entering this house as I am in leaving it, and returning home, you are the happiest man in this country."

Put yourself in a president's position . . .

Home Problems Pressure Mao

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Curiously enough, Red China may become a captive of her expensive nuclear missile program.

To develop a meaningful production of nuclear weapons and missile delivery systems, Mao Tse-tung must use a hefty slice of Communist China's technical brains and critical resources for a decade.

Sustained diversion of scientists and engineers, raw materials, manufacturing skills and funds to the nuclear program would hold down Mao's ability to wage aggressive war, expand his industry and solve agricultural shortages.

Soviet Russia's slowdown in industrial growth began when she started to divert more skilled men and resources to nuclear weapons and space while trying to keep her armies large and well-equipped.

Mao at home already is faced with continuing enormous economic problems. Farm food output is now believed at about the

The Jaycees were incredible in the stage work and directing the program. The Pontiac Press and the radio gave us excellent coverage in all events and kept the public well informed.

(Editor's Note: City Manager Warren says just report it — as you're doing now.)

They want more evident material progress. The Communist Chinese are not living as well as the Japanese. The Nationalist Chinese on Formosa, the South Vietnamese or the South Koreans. These home problems put heavy pressure on Mao to be cautious, however loudly his propagandists speak in public.

But "cautions" as applied to Mao must be defined. Caution won't keep Mao from "careful" adventures on the Indian border (but he'll make certain he has a line of retreat). Caution won't keep him from shelling Quemoy and Matsu off the China coast opposite Formosa. Caution won't keep him from upping his aid to North Viet Nam nor make him reluctant to send revolutionary agents to Africa, Latin America, Thailand or Burma.

It probably wouldn't prevent him from sending in his armies, if U.S. troops moved up to the China border in North Viet Nam.

Concert to Remain a Pleasant Memory

By RICHARD MORSE
Last night was a memorable one for true music lovers in Pontiac.

The University of Michigan Band under the superb direction of Dr. William D. Revelli gave a never-to-be forgotten concert at Pontiac Northern High School. The band was brought to the city by the school district of Pontiac.

In the afternoon 1600 instrumental music students heard this famous organization at Pontiac Central High School.

Dr. Revelli's magnificent organization is in a class by itself. Its world-wide reputation is richly deserved.

The program opened with the stirring "M Fanfare" by Blikk, composer-arranger in residence at Michigan University.

LOCAL GIRL

Donna Rolfe, former flutist with the Pontiac Central band and now a U-M senior, conducted it.

With George Cavender, assistant conductor, as narrator for the evening, Dr. Revelli conducted "Militaire Francaise" from the "Suite Algerienne" by Saint-Saens.

As was to be expected, his mastery was complemented by the superb technique and faithfully reflected interpretation of the band.

WAGNER

"Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" by Wagner was next.

In this work, the phrase and sound paralleled that produced by the illustrious Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. The stately tempo, so difficult to establish and maintain, was easily controlled by the conductor.

The Flower Song from Bizet's "Carmen" was arranged for euphonium by Harding. The three members of this section did it with perfect phrasing and authentic interpretation to band accompaniment.

No band concert is complete without a march. Dr. Revelli's choice was "Pride of the Wolverines" by Sousa, dedicated to a former mayor of Detroit.

A novelty, "The First Driving Lesson" by Herman, complete with auto horns and crashing glass, was amusing.

SPEECH

At its conclusion Dr. Revelli complimented Pontiac on its instrumental music program and capped it with a plea for more emphasis on good music at home as well as at school.

He emphasized the vast difference between what is acceptable and what is accepted.

To conclude the evening, Ernest A. Jones, a Michigan alumni formerly closely associated with Dr. Revelli, was invited by him to conduct "The Victors" by Ebbel.

Amvets Unit Hears Two

Guest speakers, Mrs. P. H. Wills and Mrs. James Houck highlighted the program at the Wednesday meeting of Amvets Auxiliary, Jim m y Dey Post No. 12.

Mrs. Louis C. Hadden was hostess to the group in her Wisner Street home.

Plans were discussed for the 18th annual "Mid-Winter" ball on Feb. 19.

Chairmen Named

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Metropolitan Club, Spirit No. 6, met Tuesday in the club rooms on Yale Street.

Committee chairmen were named and money making projects discussed.

Mrs. John DePauw was the hostess.

Mrs. Betty H. Hall of Midvale Street, Avon Township announces the engagement of her daughter Susanne Lee Hall to Airman Bobby Joe Wheeler, son of the Gail Wheelers of Lance Street, Orion Township. He will be stationed at Lackland AFB, Texas. Miss Hall is also the daughter of Lewis J. Hall of North East Boulevard.

Engagement news is made by Central Michigan University students Candace Jeanne Krueger and Brian Roger Gilles who are majoring in physical education. Their parents are the Wilbert Kruegers of Newman Road, Orion Township, and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gilles of Plymouth, Mich. August vows are planned.

Engaged to be married in June are Diane E. Peltier, daughter of the John Peltiers of Rochester and Larry G. Detter, son of the Miles E. Detters of Fort Wayne, Ind. Her fiancé holds a bachelor of music degree from Western Michigan University.

Late summer vows are planned by Bonnie Irene Graham, daughter of the Arthur T. Gramhams of Walled Lake and Pvt. Paul Edward Hoffmaster, son of the Edward Hoffmasters of Close Street.

The Glen R. Erjournals of Adams Road, Oakland Township announce the engagement of their daughter Lada Dawn, to Delmer Lavorne Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Welch of Leonard. A June 18 altar date has been set.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcello Tamayo of South Edith Street announce the engagement of their daughter LaVaughn Beek to Robert L. Turton, son of the Ernest A. Turtons of Upland Street. A May wedding is planned.

Kosygin's Talk Welcomed Cautiously

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Western delegation officials today cautiously welcomed Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's new message to the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Western officials said the tone of the Soviet message Wednesday night was "encouraging because it seems to contain what the Soviets are really determined to get the disarmament talks and Viet Nam entire-ly separate."

Kosygin called for a ban on use of nuclear weapons against countries which do not have such weapons on their territory. He said the Soviet Union would abide by a ban provided other powers agreed to do so.

The only mention of Viet Nam in the message saying "aggression against Viet Nam is aggression against all countries and peoples who are upholding their freedom and independence."

RESUMED BOMBING
Resumed American bombing of North Viet Nam so far has not hampered the Geneva negotiations for a treaty to curb the spread of nuclear weapons.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, said in December that use of atomic weapons by the United States in Viet Nam was "inconceivable" and had not even been considered.

Western sources said except for the call against the use of nuclear weapons against non-nuclear countries, Kosygin's message repeated previously stated Soviet positions.

The new point said: "With the object of facilitating an understanding on the conclusion of a (nonproliferation) treaty, the Soviet government expresses its readiness to insert into the draft treaty a clause on forbidding the use of nuclear weapons against non-nuclear states, parties to the treaty which have no nuclear weapons on their territory."

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A hantox-shaped mechanical weather vane swung into orbit around the earth today to herald the start of the first full-time, worldwide weather forecasting operation.

The picture-taking weather satellite will be the first member of the Tiros operational satellite system in a series of maneuvers during the next 24 hours on position it to send back to earth pictures of cloud formations and storm patterns.

Its cameras will probably not be turned on until Friday morning, officials said.

The spacecraft, to be called ESSA I for Environmental Survey Satellite Administration if it operates successfully, was propelled into a north-south orbit by a Delta rocket, which blasted off at 2 a.m. EST from Cape Kennedy.
