Tributes Pouring In; Truman Expresses Sorrow at Passing

By The Associated Press
Tributes have been paid in all parts of the country to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur — called by President Johnson "one of the most distinguished soldiers in the history of the United States."

Johnson, ordering the nation's flags flown at half-staff until after the funeral next Saturday, said MacArthur was "a living embodiment of the code he so eloquently expressed — duty-honor-country."

Former President Harry S. Truman, who fired MacArthur from all his commands in a dispute over conduct of the Korean War, said he was "deeply sorry at the passing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who has given of himself with exceptional strength and valor and will be remembered as one of the great military men in our history."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., called MacArthur "one of America's greatest soldiers and one of its finest citizens."

"Had his advice been heeded," said Goldwater, "victory would have been ours in Korea."

IMPORTANT AREA

"Had his admonitions and warnings about the Southeast Asia been listened to and acted on, we would not now be faced with the loss of so much of that important area of the world to communism."

PROPOSES MEETING

He proposed a meeting between President Charles de Gaulle of France and President Johnson, saying "the rift with France has already lasted too long."

Rockefeller called for creation of a permanent body within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to formulate common trading policy, strategic doctrine and long-range goals for the Western alliance.

He said the United States must work to develop a "truly United Western Hemisphere approach" aimed towards removal of all Soviet troops and weapons from Cuba.

Rockefeller said it is vital to U.S. interests to develop a "consistent, long-range policy," in dealing with Southeast Asia. "The freedom and unity of Southeast Asia cannot be achieved until there is a decisive victory in South Viet Nam," he said.

Rocky Calls for Tightening of Ties With West Nations

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said today the United States must strengthen ties with Western nations to correct the "dis- mal and tragic failures" of the Johnson administration's foreign policy.

Rockefeller, a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, called on the United States to take the initiative in developing an "affirmative free world program" for negotiating with the Soviet Union and other Communist nations.

Rockefeller commented in a speech prepared for delivery at the Detroit Press Club's celebrity luncheon. His one-day agenda here also listed appearances at a campaign reception, on a television show and at a Rockefeller-for-President rally.

In his luncheon address, the governor reiterated charges that the Johnson administration has failed to recognize fully the Communist threat, to anticipate Communist moves and to act decisely with crises in Berlin, Cuba, Panama, Laos and South Viet Nam.

"Unity of purpose and action among the free nations of the world is essential," Rockefeller said, "to thwart the expansionist drive of international communism."

Temperatures Below Normal for Next 5 Days

We had a Continental morning today: a little bit of Paris rain and a lot of London fog.

If its dreariness seemed forbidding, it was. For the next five days temperatures will average slightly below the normal high of 55 and low of 35.

It will be colder tomorrow, warming Thursday and Friday and colder again Saturday. Precipitation will total one-half to three-quarters of an inch of rain on Wednesday and Friday.

Precipitation over the week-end totaled one-half inch. The damp, gray low before 8 this morning was 40, by 2 p.m. it had risen to 48.

Urges Peace, Calls Peking Leaders Idiots

KAZINCBARCIKA, Hungary (AP)—Premier Khrushchev made a passionate plea for peace today, called U.S. President Johnson a reasonable man and said Chinese Communist leaders are idiots.

"The Chinese leaders say it would not be a bad thing to have a war — one half of the people in the world would be destroyed and the other would survive," Khrushchev said in a speech to several thousand workers of a chemical plant in this northeastern Hungarian industrial center.

"They say that after some time women again would bear children and mankind would be as before. People who think like that do not show an overabundance of brains, but rather a lack of them."

Khrushchev said he had been accused by the Chinese of being afraid of war.

"I say it is only a child or an idiot who does not fear war," he declared. "If Hitler had known how World War II would end and that he would shoot himself, he probably would not have started the war."

DISCARDS TEXT

Khrushchev made his remarks after discarding a prepared text.

"The United States is an imperialist country, but its government judges the world situation soberly," he said, and added that President Kennedy's speech at Washington University last summer in which Kennedy demanded a peaceful solution to East-West problems was a reasonable one.

Interest High for Election in Bloomfield

City Clerk Robert Stadler is predicting a record turnout in today's Bloomfield Hills election, dominated by controversy over the city's new zoning ordinance.

Over 600 voters, including 219 absentees, had cast their ballots by noon, Stadler said. The city has 1,527 registered to vote.

The ordinance, which includes provision for three-story multiple residences, became effective Saturday.

The "two-story" slate formed in opposition to the code consists of Robert Frye, 1255 Rowbridge, running for a two-year term on the City Commission, and two sticker candidates.

They are Ross Pierce of 105 Hilltop, seeking a one-year term and George H. Webb of 140 Harlan, running for a two-year term.

Two of the commissioners who favored the code are making bids for reelection — James A. Beresford and John Blanchard. Blanchard is a candidate for a one-year term while Beresford and Edward A. Schirmer, 456 Lone Pine Court, are seeking two years.

HONORED BY COLUMBIA — Gen. of the Army Douglas MacArthur, who died yesterday, appeared with his wife last year, April 19, at Columbia College in New York to receive a Columbia College Lion for distinguished service. A chair in history has been established at the school, an undergraduate college of Columbia University.

Widow, General's Nurse

Two Women United by Grief

WASHINGTON (AP)—She wore a sweater over her white nurse's uniform against the coolness of the late afternoon. Her eyes were red with fatigue and sadness.

Since March 6, 2nd Lt. Bonnie Ritter had cared for the ailing Gen. Douglas MacArthur as recovery room nurse—and for the past two weeks, there had been little rest.

Now, she and her husband, Capt. Richard Ritter, an Army doctor, were going home.

They had just been to Mass in the chapel at Walter Reed General Hospital.

So it was by accident that they became part of the crowd outside the hospital's east wing as the general's widow came out yesterday to begin the trip that would take her husband's body home to New York.

FEW MINUTES

There were only a few minutes to wait before the olive green Army ambulance brought the flag-draped coffin.

In those few minutes, Mrs. MacArthur saw the pretty, young nurse in the crowd.

Despite her own sadness, Mrs. MacArthur asked to speak to Bonnie Ritter.

She came forward hesitatingly, almost in half-step, in answer to the beckoning wave of Army Surgeon General Leonard D. Heaton.

OUTSTRETCHED ARMS

When she got to the limousine, behind the shelter of the open door, she saw the outstretched arms of Mrs. MacArthur.

For one moment, they embraced and kissed, and Mrs. MacArthur murmured her thanks, and it was over.

Then, as the motorcade began to pull away, Bonnie backed away, suddenly aware of the cameramen, and where she was.

Her husband took her by the arm and led her away.

Family, Friends View Body Clad in Khakis at NY Funeral Home

NEW YORK (AP)—Flags flew at half staff today as the body of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur reposed in a funeral chapel attired in a simple khaki tropical uniform without any of the medals and ribbons earned in his military lifetime.

At the general's coffin was an honor guard of all the military services.

Twenty policemen stood duty outside while many men and women, on their way to work, paused briefly in front of the funeral home where they knew the body of the "old soldier" reposed.

See Pictures, Stories, Pages 7, 9, 20, 22, 27

It was part of the nation's homage to the 64-year-old warrior who died yesterday at 2:39 p.m. at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D.C., after a gallant struggle to survive three operations.

At the chapel today, only the family and close associates could view the body. The casket, the upper portion open halfway, rested on a black-draped catafalque.

OPEN TO PUBLIC

Tomorrow, at the 7th Regiment Armory on Park Avenue, the casket will remain open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. so the public can pay their last respects to the man who helped make history at St. Mihiel, Bataan, Corregidor, New Guinea, Manila, Tokyo and Inchon.

At noon today, the traditional 19-gun salute for a five-star general booms out over New York harbor from Ft. Jay on Governor's Island, facing the southern tip of Manhattan.

On Wednesday, the body will (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Modern Town House-Type Units Planned For East Pike Near Civic Center

Developer to Ask City for Rezoning

By DICK SAUNDERS

In the next few weeks, the City Commission will be asked to rezone 31 acres outside Pontiac's urban renewal project area for some $4.5 million in proposed cooperative housing projects.

The housing has been proposed by Charles L. Langs, a major redeveloper in Pontiac's urban renewal area.

Langs has proposed three town house - type cooperative housing projects — one on R20 urban renewal and two outside.

If all three projects are fully developed as planned, they would represent nearly $5.5 million in new construction, Langs estimated.

This would add about $2,750,000 to the tax base.

FEDERAL PROGRAM

Langs' projects have been referred to in recent weeks as "221-D3 housing" because they are to be financed under the 221-D3 program established in 1961 by the federal government.

A 221-D3 project is designed for moderate income families. The mortgage on a 221-D3 home runs 40 years. The Federal Housing Administration (FHA) insures it at a 3% percent interest rate.

"The result is that the moderate income family can afford a home which would otherwise be out of its price range," said Langs.

Langs' urban renewal project is a 65-unit development on E. Pike at Douglas for which he already has Federal Housing Administration approval.

PLANS ACCEPTED

The city has accepted his plans and price offer for the land and will approve a sales contract as soon as it is formally approved by federal urban renewal officials.

Langs proposes homes ranging in size from one to four bedrooms, all with full basements. The homes, or units, will have an average value of $12,000 each, according to Langs.

The 221-D3 projects he proposes outside urban renewal are contingent on the city rezoning his proposed sites for each.

One is identical to the E. Pike development but larger (up to 200 units) on a 16-acre site in the East Boulevard - Michigan-Tasmania area on the east side. This rezoning is slated to come before the city commission. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Civilian Control Stressed

Senator Rips Military

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, who only 13 days ago touched off an explosive debate on foreign policy, now says "the American people are not now exercising effective control over the military, and neither is the Congress."

The charge by the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a speech Sunday night at the University of North Carolina seemed almost certain to stir another controversy—this time with the Pentagon.

RICHOCET

The Arkansas Democrat's March 25 foreign policy speech ricocheted through both halls of Congress, the State Department and the White House. It still is drawing fire in some quarters.

His comments on the military came in a keynote speech to the 1964 Carolina Symposium, a five-day series of lectures at the University of the North Carolina and the Aims of a Free Society.

Fulbright said the military establishment has a vested interest in the continuation of the cold war and its high military spending.

DOMESTIC PROGRAMS

He said the "elimination of superfluous defense funds"

would encourage spending on domestic programs, and that "the cold war is an excuse, as well as a cause" for high military budgets.

Fulbright's comment about control of the military recalled a statement by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in his farewell address as chief executive on Jan. 17, 1961.

Eisenhower warned then of the need to "guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex."

"Only an alert and knowledgeable citizenry can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of defense with our peaceful methods and goals," Eisenhower said.

His views were described a year later as well taken by President John F. Kennedy.

Fulbright's criticism of the lack of civilian control over the military came only hours after General of the Army Douglas MacArthur died in Washington.

MacArthur was dismissed as commander of United Nations and United States forces in Korea in April, 1951, by President Harry S. Truman after a policy clash.

MacArthur said he fired MacArthur because military operations must operate within the framework of the U.S. Constitution, which gives supreme authority as commander-in-chief to a civilian—the president.

PURSUED POLICY

—In his address, Fulbright pursued one of the points of his March 25 Senate speech. He said the nation's interests could be served better by ending the present "moribund preoccupation with the danger of Communist expansion abroad and subversion and disloyalty at home."

He said President Johnson's proposed war on poverty and other education-welfare programs "are, at least as important to the security of our country in the long term than a national defense establishment and a good deal more important than a voyage to the moon."

Among the many other military leaders who paid tribute to MacArthur was Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, who shared the Pacific command in World War II.

MILITARY QUALITIES

He praised MacArthur's "qualities of military character, leadership and administrative skill."

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said MacArthur's "devotion to duty, honor and country will stand forever as an inspiring example for his comrades in arms."

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, quoting from a speech made by MacArthur after the recapture of Corregidor in 1945, said:

"His courage was as high as the flag his troops raised; 'Hoist the colors to its peak and let no enemy haul them down.'"

He said it was the biggest first-quarter sales total since 1951.

March deliveries paced the sales gain.

Werner stated that a total of 9,186 trucks and buses were delivered last month, compared with 7,512 in March a year ago.

SEOUL, Korea (U)—Two separate boat accidents took the lives of 17 persons, yesterday and today national police reported.

Nine persons drowned yesterday when a ferry boat crossing the Han River near Yongwul capsized after a rubber ducky, causing the vessel to drift into a swirl. Five persons were rescued.

Both were charged with contempt of court for their actions in 1962 when James H. Meredith, Negro, sought to enroll at the University of Mississippi.

EX-PRESIDENTS

Tributes also came from two other former presidents, Herbert Hoover, who named MacArthur chief of staff in 1931, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who twice served on MacArthur's staff.

Calling MacArthur "a great man, a great general and a great patriot," Hoover said "the world is a finer place for his having lived in it."

Eisenhower said, "Through a long lifetime of service he earned the admiration and respect of his fellow citizens and the personal devotion of those he led in battle."

Viet, Red Casualties High in Fierce Weekend Fights

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (U)—Government and Viet Cong forces suffered heavy casualties in fierce fighting throughout South Viet Nam this weekend, according to reports today.

Communist terrorist bomb-throwers also took their toll of civilians.

Six Americans were wounded as they assisted Vietnamese army forces in defending an outpost northwest of Saigon in the heaviest weekend battle.

The Communist guerrillas were routed in the fighting in Tay Ninh Province.

Reports from American and Vietnamese military spokesmen estimated Viet Cong casualties in five separate clashes as high as 177. Government casualties were set at 110.

The government press agency reported five persons were killed and 33 wounded in two terrorist bombings.

TWO INJURED

Two Americans were injured in a bomb attack on the U. S. officers' billet in the town of Truc Giang south of Saigon.

A U. S. military spokesman estimated Communist losses at about 185 killed or wounded. Some reports from the battle zone said about half the 600 strong Red attacking force may have been lost.

Government casualties were put at 14 killed, 20 wounded and eight missing.

A Vietnamese defense ministry spokesman reported that a two-day operation in Dinh Tuong Province south of Saigon ended Saturday with 11 Viet Cong killed and three captured.

OTHER CASUALTIES

At least 60 other Communists were believed killed or wounded, the spokesman added.

The operational forces reported 10 killed and 19 wounded, he said.

The spokesman reported three Viet Cong attacks over the weekend in the Mekong River Delta south of Saigon.

The government press agency said four persons, including a child, were killed and 33 others injured when a terrorist tossed a bomb into a crowd watching

Sorrow for General

Expressed by Romney

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney issued the following statement on the death of Gen. Douglas D. MacArthur:

"The world has lost a great man. All citizens of Michigan join in expressing gratitude for his lifetime of service to the people and deep grief at his death. He was a great soldier, a great leader, a great American. The world has been enriched by his life and has been made poorer by his death."

When he died, his wife, the former Jean Marie Faircloth of Murfreesboro, Tenn., and their son Arthur, 26, were grieving at the bedside.

MacArthur during his career made soldierly history. At West Point, he averaged 98.14 in his studies—the highest ever scored—and he collected in war the Medal of Honor and five Distinguished Service Medals.

The following are maximum incomes set by FHA for Pontiac:

—$5,850 a year or $487 a month for a family of two.

—$6,300 a year or $525 a month for a family of 3 or 4.

—$7,850 a year or $654 a month for a family of 5 or 6.

—$8,950 a year or $745 a month for families of 7 or more.

Single persons are not eligible.

These maximums are a notch above those required for living in a federal public housing project. Comparable public housing maximums range from $3,800 for a family of two to $5,600 for 10 or more.

Cigarette Vendors Seek Self-Regulation of Sales

BIRMINGHAM — Operators of cigarette vending machines in the city have come up with some alternate suggestions to the proposed city ordinance which would require them to obtain licenses.

The ordinance now being considered by the City Commission is aimed at curbing the sale of cigarettes to minors through licensing. Sale of cigarettes to minors would mean the loss of the vending machine to a proprietor.

A group of vending machine operators recently met and formulated six counterproposals for self-regulation.

They suggested that machines be located through a survey and that "minors are forbidden" decals be applied to each, along with the name, address and telephone number of the operator.

The cooperation of proprietors should be solicited, the operators said, and the machines removed if necessary for proper supervision.

REMOVE MACHINES

They noted the machines should be removed from premises where the sale cannot be prevented.

The operators urged "cooperation between competitors to achieve area-wide compliance of preventing purchase of cigarettes by minors from vending machines."

Specifically, they sought the establishment of a local committee to work with police officials on the enforcement of state laws.

City Manager L.R. Gare, while commending the vendors for their efforts, will recommend in a report to the commission tonight that the ordinance be approved.

ADEQUATE CONTROL

He noted that all 24 vendors in the city did not participate in the meeting and that "every machine would have to be adequately controlled or the enforcement efforts would be seriously hampered."

Work on the ordinance began several weeks ago when City Commissioner Carl Ingram asked about the problem.

The resulting survey by Birmingham police disclosed that none of the 19 businesses inspected had good control of the sale.

Only three of the proprietors knew the legal age for the purchase of cigarettes is 21.

By JIM DYGERT

Taking a brief furlough from his command post in the congressional fight for a civil rights bill, U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart told a Hazel Park audience Saturday night that the bill is only half the battle.

"This is something you and I can do more about on an individual basis than on any other issue that confronts us today," Hart said to more than 800 admirers at a dinner in his honor by Oakland County Democrats.

"Racial discrimination is condemned by public policy in the north and officially it's wrong," Hart said. "But, on a person-to-person, day-to-day basis, it's done."

Hart is one of the leaders in the fight to win passage of the Johnson Administration's controversial civil rights bill in the U. S. Senate where a filibuster by Southern Democrats against the measure looms as the major obstacle.

"Federal legislation will help," Hart said, "but it's up to each of us in our day-to-day conduct and attitude to insure that our practices in this country are consistent with what we preach."

UNTRUE 'TRUISM'

"The 'truism' that we judge each individual on his merit just isn't true," Hart said, "as long as the way our name is spelled, the side of the tracks we come from, or the color of our skin makes a difference."

"It's not true if you judge someone while he's 50 feet away before you even get a chance to know him."

Hart predicted that Congress would pass the civil rights bill, which would put the force of federal power behind prohibitions against racial discrimination in public accommodations (hotels, restaurants, etc.), housing, education and voting.

"Delivery has been made on the tax cut and will be made on civil rights," Hart said. "When this is done, this congress will go down in history as a remarkable one."

PREOCCUPATION

Hart said preoccupation with the tax cut and civil rights issues was responsible for last year's "do nothing" label pinned on congress.

Currently in his sixth year in the Senate and facing a reelection contest this year, the former Bloomfield Hills resident and Michigan lieutenant governor also commented on a number of other current issues at the event, the seventh annual Phil Hart dinner.

On boxing: "Federal regulation and licensing would prevent promoters from moving from state to state to take advantage of the most lenient state laws." Hart is chairman of the Senate's anti-trust subcommittee, which held hearings on boxing after the Clay-Limon heavyweight championship bout.

On the "truth in packaging" bill now in committee: "It could save $250 a year for the average family... Packaging and labeling practices have improved, but I would like to see how many are concerned about giving consumers accurate and understandable labeling after the threat of the bill is gone."

GMC Sales Rise 17 Pct. Over 1963

He said it was the biggest first-quarter sales total since 1951.

March deliveries paced the sales gain.

Justice Tom C. Clark delivered the 5-4 decision.

Both were charged with contempt of court for their actions in 1962 when James H. Meredith, Negro, sought to enroll at the University of Mississippi.

Barnett was governor at that time, and Johnson was lieutenant governor. Johnson won the election to succeed Barnett and was inaugurated as governor on Jan. 21.

Justice Tom C. Clark delivered the 5-4 decision.

mission for a public hearing and final approval April 14.

The city's planning staff has recommended that the rezoning be approved contingent on Lang's meeting several specifications concerning more detailed plans and financial arrangements.

The planning commission has recommended that the zoning be denied and nearby property owners have protested the rezoning. However, five of the seven city commissioners have favored the rezoning to date.

Lang's other project is a similar development without basements and up to 175 units in size. It's proposed for a 15-acre site south of Bethune school on Pontiac's south side.

ZONING APPROVAL

The rezoning of this land has been recommended by the planning commission. That recommendation will go to the City Commission tomorrow night and is expected to be approved.

Final approval of the south side rezoning should be slated for some time next month.

Budget OK Is Main Action

Few Attend Township Meetings

AREA NEWS

In time-honored fashion, residents of 18 areas townships had a voice in local government at annual township meetings Saturday.

In most instances, the voice was small with only a handful turning out for the brief sessions. Exceptions were in White Lake, Highland and Avon where numbers showed up and in Dryden where attendance was nil.

Following is a rundown of action taken, primarily approval of tentative budgets, at each session:

Avon

More than 100 registered voters crowded into the township's hall for the annual meeting Saturday to witness a debate on severance pay, vacations and a travel allowance for township officials.

When it was over, a majority voted to retain a policy of no travel vacation period for elected officials and no termination bonus, the same practices now in effect.

Those present also approved an increased 1964-65 budget of $238,100 for the township this year's expenditures total $279,600.

Reasons behind the budget hike included additional election costs, payment for production and publication of new zoning regulations, including the township's master plan, and expected operating cost increases.

Cutting down on spending, the audience endorsed a motion by Township Board Trustee Donald J. Campbell to bring the supervisor and assessor into the township's master plan as other employees, an allowance of 10 cents per mile. Both had received flat rate pay of $100 per month.

A senior at Lake Orion High School, she is active in the honor society, yearbook staff and Girls' Athletic Association.

Dress review alternates were Linda Berry of the Busy 4-H Pals and Martha Hord of the East Orion club.

Judges for the senior miss dress review included Mrs. Frances Birch of The Singer Company; Mrs. Millard Bixler, 4-H clothing leader; Mrs. Lewis Goders, former 4-H member; Mrs. Stanley Kipp, 4-H clothing leader; and Jeanmarie Elkins, of The Pontiac Press.

GROUP AWARD

A novelty dance entitled "Ball-let Brutes" won the large group award for the East Orion club.

Placing second in the large group category was the Bloomfield club with a shadow play "Dr. Ben Crazy."

First place in the small group awards went to Branda Long of the Milford club for a novelty recitation of Little Bo-Peep.

The electorate also voted to increase the supervisor's expense allowance $500 during the meeting, which lasted an hour.

Addison

For the first time here the budget decision was placed before the electorate Saturday. It was set at $23,470.

Prior to this year's annual meeting the budget decision has been made by the board.

The 11 voters who set the figure upped it $4,119 from this year's. Planned with the additional funds are remodeling of the front of the township hall and the addition of two restrooms.

Other funds will be used to pay for converting the building's furnace from oil to gas.

During its two-hour meeting the electorate also set the day of the regular board sessions for the first Monday of every month. On holidays it is to be postponed one week.

Independence

The 1964-65 budget of $160,688, nearly $13,000 over the current one, was approved at the annual township meeting Saturday.

Only 27 residents attended the brief 40-minute session.

Approximately $8,000 of the budget increase is earmarked for the newly established planning commission.

Half of this amount is for operating expenses and the other $4,000 is specified as a proposed matching fund with federal monies for consulting services.

The 9-member planning commission was established in January to serve as a joint zoning and planning board. The former zoning board was eliminated at that time.

The remaining $5,000 of the budget increase reflects expanded service provisions in several areas including an additional $1,000 allocation for the township recreation program.

Rose

A new township budget reflecting a substantial percentage increase over last year's was approved Saturday.

An even dozen township residents attended the 1 1/2-hour session at the township hall to tentatively approve the $23,460 budget for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

Most of the nearly $5,000 budget increase is earmarked for road improvement matching funds and increased zoning expenses.

Royal Oak

Only eight people showed up for the Royal Oak Township annual meeting which was adjourned almost immediately after being called to order.

Supervisor Edward L. Kennedy raised a question about the number of people needed at a meeting. This triggered the adjournment.

The meeting probably will be rescheduled for a date later this month.

Shelby

Shelby Township's annual meeting lasted about six minutes with some 30 people in attendance.

Upon advice of township attorney Roy Roggeness, the board decided to postpone action on the budget until after the Macomb County Allocation Board meets.

Roggeness said that under the new constitution the township should schedule a public hearing after the County Allocation Board meeting. This will probably be in June.

Washington

The 16 residents who attended Saturday's annual session approved a tentative budget of $65,000 for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

This figure is about the same as this year. Only proposed hike in expenditures is for a 20-foot addition on the south side of the township hall in Romeo.

Bids will be opened Tuesday night for the wing which will contain two offices in front of a room in back for Precinct 1.

As soon as the Macomb County Allocation Board approves an anticipated one-mill tax levy for township purposes, the local board will formally adopt its budget. This should be some time in June.

Bruce

A tentative budget of $33,361, up some $6,000 over this year's, was approved by some 15 residents at the annual meeting.

Most of the required increase is reflected in two areas — the township's share in paying for construction of the new Boardman Road bridge and the hiked allocation for elections because there will be two this year.

Also the road chloriding program is expected to cost more during the 1964-65 fiscal year, according to Township Clerk Ed Sutherland.

Hiring of a township attorney P. G. Horler on a retainer basis at $4,000 an extra $1,000 hike in the budget.

One of the most important decisions made at the session was to sell the old schoolhouse at 24 Mile and Van Dyke which has served as headquarters of Precinct 2 for about two years.

If the township can get a suitable price, the building will be sold and the money put into a special fund to provide for construction of a new addition on the township hall to handle Precinct 2 voting.

White Lake

A $115,000 tentative budget including a $14,000 capital improvement program was approved by White Lake Township residents Saturday.

The figure is some $17,000 from this fiscal year's $98,000 total.

Planned expenditures include $8,000 in matching funds for road improvements, $2,500 for a new police car, $500 for grass fire truck equipment and about $2,000 for a new roof on the Township Hall.

The remaining $9,000 in the increase will be used for general disbursements, where higher costs are anticipated. Treasurer Ronald Voorhees reported a $7,063 balance in township coffers from this year.

A lesson in local government consumed about two hours — more than half of the annual meeting.

EXPLAINING DUTIES

The 65 persons attending listened to eight officials explain the work of each of the township's departments.

Supervisor Edward L. Chey explained the discussion with an explanation of the township's organization chart. Details were then presented for each department.

Chey said the innovation met a favorable response and will be continued at future annual meetings.

Springfield

The $36,000 tentative budget approved by Springfield Township residents Saturday is about $800 less than that for the current fiscal year.

Township officials credited general economy in every department for the cut. About 15 persons attended the 45-minute session.

Lyon

A resolution allowing Township Board members to meet in the afternoon rather than evening during the hardest months of winter was passed at the annual meeting Saturday.

The board can convene at 1:30 p.m. instead of 8:30 p.m. the first Tuesday of January, February and March if it so desires.

Besides the five board members, three residents attended Saturday's meeting. They approved a tentative budget based on this year's financial statement which amounted to about $15,000.

A resolution to install 19 street lights at Dixie Highway intersections was passed at the Groveland Township annual meeting Saturday.

The work, which would also include four lights on M-16, is to be considered by the Township Board.

Trustees will call a special meeting later this month on a proposed township budget expected to be $18,400.

Highland Township residents approved a $94,000 tentative budget for 1964-65.

The figure marks a decrease of about $8,000 from the current sum because the township library was completed and paid for during this fiscal year.

However, the budget provides that library operational funds be increased from $5,000 to $6,000.

The 75 persons attending passed a resolution providing that the Township Board study heating, electrical and plumbing codes which might be applicable to the township.

The $25,200 tentative budget approved in Milford Township includes a $12,000 expenditure for the library, $8,000 for the fire department, $5,000 for the cemetery and $200 for the dump.

In Dryden, the board completed exactly the same business taken up at last year's annual meeting — nothing. And the reason was the same as last year's — no one showed up.

Avon Twp. College Has New President

AVON TOWNSHIP — E. Lucien Palmer, an administrator at Michigan Christian College (MCC) since its beginning five years ago, has taken over the duties of president of the school.

Palmer assumed administrative responsibility of the institution after the resignation of President Otis Gatewood in January.

At its last quarterly meeting, the school's board of directors invited Palmer to take over the reins of MCC.

In announcing their selection, the board expressed "complete confidence in his ability to guide Michigan Christian College academically, financially and spiritually."

The new president has served as academic dean and vice president of the school. Prior to coming here he spent several years in Nigeria, Africa, directing establishment of several Christian schools there.

FORMER PRESIDENT

He is also former president of the Nashville Christian Institute, Nashville, Tenn.

Palmer lives with his wife and two children at 123 Nesbit.

Commenting on Palmer's acceptance of the new post, G. Wheeler Utley, chairman of the school's board, called him the logical success to the post.

"The college has achieved many successes under the Gatewood-Palmer tenure and the board as a whole stands united in the conviction that under Palmer these successes will be expanded as a result of his leadership and direction."

SUCCESSOR NOT CHOSEN

No successor for Palmer has yet been named.

Located at 800 W. Avon, it was organized in 1959 with an enrollment of 54 students. Presently a total of 189 attend.

Humphrys' subject for the 8 p.m. session will be "Inroads into the Rights of Riparian Property Owners."

The association has invited other lake-owner associations and West Bloomfield Township officials to attend the meeting at Pine Lake Elementary School, 3333 W. Long Lake.

Election of officers and presentation of a weed-control program also are scheduled for the meeting, according to President Richard Sloan.

Humphrys, at MSU for nine years, worked with the Michigan Department of Conservation for three years. During the past year he has held 14 workshops throughout the state on the utilization of lakes and streams and preservation of riparian rights.

They say "money talks"

What does your money say... about the way you save or spend it?

Some people can't seem to save for things they need or want. Many just can't get ahead of ever-present bills. Some put money aside—in a cookie jar or ordinary savings account—often with little interest. Others won't borrow for emergencies, though it's often the best thing they can do.

How do you save... meet money emergencies... get the things your home and family need?

Money talks for over 100,000 of your neighbors who wisely save and borrow at one of 76 Oakland County credit unions. Why? Because credit unions help people build financial security! They are owned and run by the members, solely to serve members' needs... not to make a profit on them!

This is why credit unions provide lower loan costs, have more sympathetic understanding of personal credit requirements, are often the only place people can turn for emergency help.

Credit unions also provide sound, impartial financial counseling, develop wise money habits, help build savings that would not otherwise be saved, pay higher dividends on savings. And they match members' savings, protect their loans with life and disability insurance at no extra cost!

Perhaps you too can qualify for credit union membership... can begin making money talk for you! Ask about eligibility now. We'll also send you—

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alabama Gov. George Wallace's Wisconsin primary election bid highlights a week of political activity that also will include selection in three other states of delegates to the national nominating conventions.

Wallace, challenging the Johnson administration's civil rights bill, now before the Senate. Political leaders of both parties will be watching closely to see what impact the legislation may have had on the northern state's voters.

After Wallace filed, Reynolds got into the race to protect Wisconsin's 46 votes for President Johnson.

The Republican delegates to be chosen in Wisconsin, Kentucky and North Dakota will swell the total chosen for the July GOP convention to 192. It will take 655 votes to win the nomination.

UNCOMMITTED
Three more Kansas district delegates were picked Saturday. All described themselves as uncommitted, but leaning at this time toward Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. The delegation will be completed at a state convention April 8.

An Associated Press poll of GOP delegates chosen so far shows 91 either instructed, committed or favorable to the Arizona senator. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge has 14 votes. Twenty-two are uncommitted, undecided or have not said who they favor.

So far Democratic delegates representing 106 votes have been chosen. Fifty-five votes in Tennessee and 15 in New Hampshire are instructed or pledged to Johnson. The remainder, from South Carolina and Kansas, have not been formally pledged, but there has been no opposition voiced to nomination of the President.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special)—One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

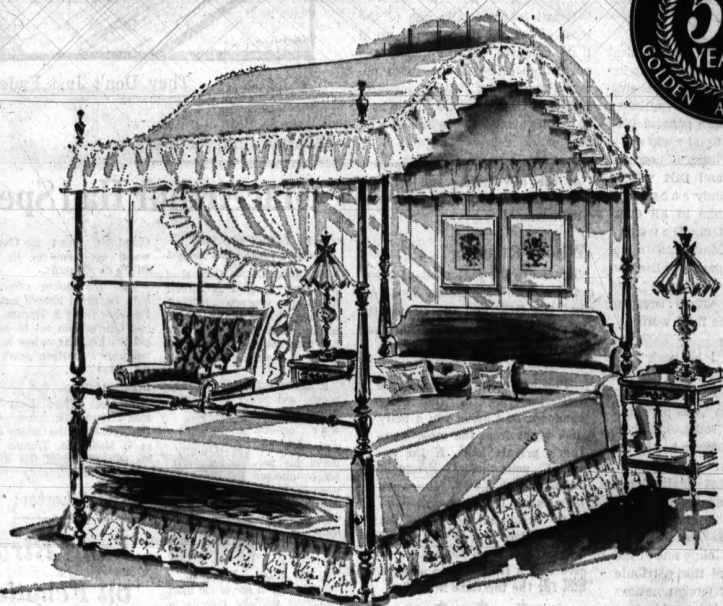

No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

It Seems to Me . . .

Nation's Truly Great Soldier Lost in MacArthur's Death

This Nation loses one of the truly great soldiers of all time in the death of General DOUGLAS MACARTHUR.

An international figure that commanded respect all over the world, he will go down in history as one of the most astute military leaders our country ever possessed.

Fearless, doggedly independent and a keen analyst, he was as impressive and convincing in his civilian character as he was in uniform.

The general has truly earned a "hero's homage" and this will be duly accorded him in all quarters. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR appealed to the "average man" and Gen. MACARTHUR soldiers accepted his decisions as the final word.

His famous: "I'll be back" will live forever in history. And his own classic: "old soldiers never die—they just fade away" was prophetic in his own case. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR will remain forever in the annals of our country.

Some people just instinctively appeal to those on all sides. The quality is indefinable and can't be simulated or faked. Gen. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR was certainly one of the shining examples of this attribute and the citizens of foreign nations were charmed and impressed along with his own countrymen.

A man as independent as the Fourth of July goes to his reward with the love of a nation and the respect of the world lingering forever.

'Do-Gooders' . . .

Sometimes it seems the crooks have more friends than the decent people. The professional do-gooders are turning on the heat to have the sentence for peddling narcotics reduced from 20 years to five.

If I could bring about a change it would go from 20 years to 40—or 80. Can you think of anything more despicable than the miserable baboons that nudge decent folk into taking dope "just for kicks" knowing full well they probably will become permanent customers and human derelicts?

I still recall the small (paid) reader that ran at the bottom of page one of The Owosso Argus-Press 30 or 40 years ago which said substantially:

"I understand a dope peddler is working at the Owosso High School. If I catch this character even talking to my son, I will shoot him on sight. I am one of the most accurate rifle shots in the world and have the medals to prove it."

JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD
Personally, I'd place the whole matter in the hands of a forthright, persuasive, understanding American of this type.

Revolution Backed . . .

In Brazil's current turmoil, strangely enough, the government seems to be backing the revolution while the "rebels" have been struggling to prevent it.

President Goulart began cocking an increasingly attentive ear to the blandishments of the Communists and the boys didn't go for it. Also, he began to enact the role of a Brazilian Castro, minus the personal standing and the necessary guns. The military protested this Russian influence, but to no avail. Goulart believed he was atop until open and deadly hostility caused his abrupt departure for personal safety.

Brazil is potentially one of the most powerful nations of the world if she can ever mass her forces, take advantage of her unmeasured potential and start steadily forward. Inflation has run riot and the lack of employment leaves observers heartsick.

Our own government approves of the new regime and better days lie ahead, but the task is monumental.

Who's Running? . . .

These are the perilous days when everyone has "the inside dope" on what the GOP and the Democrats are going to do at their national conventions.

Pontiac readers shouldn't be left lingering in the outer shadows, so I serve you a tasty dish right from the inner sanctum's private halls. If the national polls show President Johnson with a 60% total when they meet, the GOP will nominate Scranton. However, this isn't to place him in the role of a sacrificial lamb but rather to give him a trial heat to prepare him for the Big Race in 1968.

However, if the Republicans feel they have an even chance as they had four years ago, they'll send Richard Nixon to the starting gate with instructions to come out at full gallop, lead to the first turn, down the back stretch, come into the far turn on top then leg it for home all-out.

Johnson's running mate? That's more complicated, but this greatest of all public prints will let you in on the know before Johnson finds out himself. And it won't be Bobby.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Headline: "Gargantuan Itching to Challenge Cassius." Would that be mentally or physically?

Amateur photography is becoming "big business." Two and a half million are now classified as "advanced amateurs" and half of these have their own dark rooms.

DARYL ZANUCK: "Why should TV kill movies? Playing at home hasn't harmed the churches." We end each year with 26 seconds left over and in 5075 it would amount to a full day, so the "official" clock is adjusted periodically.

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young lady: Karen Marney, Miss National Press Photographer. . . . Baseball writers agree KAREN are the three hottest rookies are the Tigers' Horton, the Phillies' Allen and a lad named Budford who replaces the timeless Nellie Fox. . . . Camera pictures add ten pounds to your weight and that's why TV and

Extraordinary Qualities

MacArthur Had Special Qualities

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur had brains, character, fabulous courage, grace, and a special quality which some men have had from antiquity. Anthropologists call it mana.

It means extraordinary magnetism and power to impress.

Mixed with it was egoism. And this produced his personal disaster when he let the egoism collide with his judgment in disobeying the president.

It was a mana MARLOW militating end to one of the most glamorous military records in American history, 52 years of service, longer than the combined military service of George Washington, Ulysses S. Grant and Andrew Jackson.

He became a symbol, the phoenix of the American spirit rising from the ashes of calamity when the Japanese drove him out of the Philippines and he said "I shall return," and did.

MUSIC SOURCED
He was 70 when the Korean war began June 25, 1950. Victory would have been the soaring finish to the military symphony of his life. But the music soured, victory eluded him, and in seeking it he made mistakes of judgment.

First, he had an optimistic misunderstanding of the enemy, perhaps because he wished so hard to win.

He thought all he had to do was whip the North Koreans, that the war would be over by movie people practically starve. . . . These frenzied Panamanians have been watching some personal chickens come home to roost. During the recent row, U.S. cruise ships ceased stopping there and they lost that grand business.

Twelve-year-old: "I'm glad we have an encyclopedia. It helps me do my homework done lots faster." . . . Vending machines are causing a serious shortage of coins. A New York paper suggests they start accepting credit cards. . . . The White House counts calories even more faithfully than you do. That goes for Mrs. and Mr. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—the Red downland in Brazil; the J's—Ole Man Winter. —HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

Christmas, that the Chinese would not come in. He was wrong on all counts.

Then his egoism overcame him. He pitted himself against President Harry S. Truman who had ordered him not to assert publicly his ideas on how to win the war. MacArthur didn't listen, didn't obey.

BOMB BASES
His ideas differed from Truman's. He wanted, among other things, to bomb the Chinese bases in Manchuria. Truman and his advisers feared this might

Capital Letter:

Lady Bird Influence Felt on Female Appointments

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — Lady Bird Johnson, with her remarkable flair for business and frank preference for "women doers," may well go down in history as the First Lady who influenced her husband to name more women to high office than any of his predecessors.

During the past three months, President Johnson has appointed the unprecedented total of 89 women to top-level jobs, and the list continues to grow.

Some critics complain that this is a patently political move to lure the feminine vote. If so, it merely demonstrates LBJ's political acumen, for it was long overdue.

Moreover, it reflects the President's tremendous admiration for the abilities of his own wife.

While I was interviewing the President for my new book, "Mrs. LBJ," he said of her:

GREAT DEPTH
"She is one of the best planners, best organizers and best directors ever born. She never loses her dignity. . . . Lady Bird is the soul of efficiency. . . . She's a woman of great depth and excellent judgment. I never ask her opinion but that she doesn't help with constructive criticism."

It takes a big man to accept criticism and suggestions from a member of the opposite sex.

Lyndon Baines Johnson has demonstrated that he not only takes it—but welcomes it.

This fact is illustrated by his weekend appointment of Mrs. Lee Walsh, woman's editor of the Washington Star, to a newly created post as deputy assistant secretary of state for evaluations.

Mrs. Walsh sees her unique job as principally one of public relations: traveling abroad to evaluate our overseas programs, suggesting ideas for improving the U.S. image, and in-mean World War III, with the Soviet Union coming in on China's side.

Truman considered MacArthur insubordinate and his statements injurious to the conduct of the war and relations with allies. Thus it became a contest between a general and his commander-in-chief, the president.

MacArthur lost, was fired. This time there was no return. Even in the legend, the phoenix came out of the ashes only once.

Voice of the People:

'Press Editorial Asked Meaning of Christianity'

Your editorial on the "Twice-a-Year Christians" was most timely. It will arouse some anger but it will also bring cheers. Most important, it might awaken some to the realization that there is far more to Christianity than attending church twice a year.

I feel that the criticism could be shared with many who attend church faithfully. Are we not all to blame if many have yet been untouched by Christ's message? We are concerned with our own salvation but do we care about our neighbor? Are we not a little hesitant to tell others? In our modern world we prefer not to discuss religion; we are afraid to appear fanatic and be ridiculed. Going to church doesn't make a real Christian any more than holding a paint brush can make one an artist. One has to work at it.

Faith is not enough. Good deeds are not enough. There must be love to have any worth. Until we can learn to love as He did and are willing to lose ourselves to gain others for Him, there will always be a multitude of "Twice-a-Year Christians." We, too, who call Him Lord will answer when He asks if we have fed His Sheep.

And your powerful editorial should create a deep impression on many people. We desperately need people who have strong convictions and do not hesitate to risk the wrath of others in exposing them. This country needs a moral and spiritual reawakening.

Why can't people mind their own business? What did Mrs. Alger have in mind when she brought up the fact that the PNH mascot is not a Husky? The idea of having a real Husky of our own has been spoiled. This might not mean anything to a non-PNH fan, but it bothers us.

'Springfield Grandma' Favors Bingo

I agree that we need the return of bingo. Springfield business people held bingo once a month in a hall donated by a member. Prizes were donated by other members. We had large turnouts and collected enough money to maintain a "youth center." This kept youths off the streets and none of them got into trouble. When bingo was outlawed we couldn't keep the center and some of them got into trouble. I sincerely believe interesting and constructive activities will keep our young folks out of trouble and help them become responsible citizens.

Ex-Teacher Against Prayer in Schools

I am against the bill to allow prayers in public schools. I am a former teacher (retired after 30 years) and at every PTA meeting, banquet, etc., I recited the Protestant prayer. Never once was a Catholic or Jewish prayer offered.

A prayer is a prayer, but I also resent having it forced upon Jewish and Catholic children. Every Christmas Jewish children had to witness Nativity scenes.

Public schools are for all nationalities. If teachers are to teach religion, each will put in her own beliefs as she teaches the history of our world. The United States will not be allowing freedom of religion if prayers are allowed in schools.

The optimism of Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, was more restrained.

While he gratified that the six Common Market countries "bought nearly $1.3 billion of United States agricultural exports in 1962," he was fearful that they might "sacrifice sound trade policies to protect sound domestic farm programs." And so they might.

Even so, there cannot be a real surplus in a hungry world.

Neutralization

The New York Post

Richard M. Nixon, campaigning in Southeast Asia, and doing a little business on the side for his clients, is described as taking a dim view of neutralization.

The "immorality" of neutralism was a theme long labored by the late John Foster Dulles. It gave a self-defeating rigidity to U.S. policy in the Fifties; it has less applicability than ever in the Sixties, when the adherence of Gen. de Gaulle and Mao Tse-tung to their respective alliances is nominal while allegedly non-aligned India is a more anxious supporter of U.S. policy toward Red China than is Pakistan.

In rejecting neutralization, Nixon cited Laos as the "bitter experience . . . a mistake we must not repeat."

But there are other happier experiences—Austria, for example—not to mention Switzerland, Sweden and Finland. And what were the alternatives in Laos? By the time President Kennedy assumed office, there were few options left.

Nixon's inflexibility toward neutralism is matched by his standpoint views on Red China. He acknowledges that Peking and Soviet Russia are at loggerheads but appears to believe this should have no impact upon U.S. policy.

The Nixon speech in Bangkok was a good example of what Sen. Fulbright aptly described as "the vocabulary of make-believe" to which too many American statesmen resort when they talk about the Far East.

Twice in Fourteen Years

General's State Visits Warned of War and Militarism

By AL SANDNER
LANSING (AP).—Gen. Douglas MacArthur visited Michigan twice in the past 14 years—warning against the dangers of war and militarism.

The five-star general, a hero of three wars, delivered the commencement address at Michigan State University in 1961, warning graduates that "it may take another cataclysm of destruction to prove the bald truth that further evolution of civilization cannot take place until global war is abolished."

His first visit served as a triumphal tour of the state just 13 months after President Harry S. Truman removed him as United Nations commander-in-chief in the Korean War.

An estimated 120,000 persons turned out to see him in Lansing—when the city had a total population of 78,000. The visit was arranged by a committee of Republican legislators after tempers cooled following bitter partisan debate over Truman's action.

GREATEST VICTORY

Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, now a congressman, had sponsored and engineered through the House a resolution stating "world Communism has achieved its greatest victory of a decade."

Broomfield headed the committee that later sponsored the whirlwind two-day tour of 16 Michigan cities.

After he left Lansing, the MacArthur motorcade drove to Detroit, making stops at half-a-dozen communities along the way.

MacArthur told the MSU graduating class: "No longer can war be a successful weapon of international adventure. If you lose, you are annihilated. If you win, you stand only to lose. War now contains only the germs of double suicide."

WORLD'S STANDARDS

The abolition of war could produce a wave of prosperity that would raise the world's standard of living beyond anything ever dreamed of by man, he said.

Although the nation could not afford to be caught unprepared for war, MacArthur said, "the hundreds of billions of dollars now spent in mutual preparedness could conceivably abolish poverty from the face of the earth."

Ten years after the event, the memory of his removal from his post still was vivid.

As the final weapon of statecraft, he said, war is regulated by the basic principle that a nation that enters on war and does not see it through to victory ultimately will suffer all the consequences of defeat.

MAJOR DISASTER

"That is what happened in Korea," he said, adding, "With victory within our grasp, and without the use of the atom bomb, we failed to see it through. Had we done so, we would have destroyed Red China's capability of waging modern war for generations to come. Our failure to win that war was a major disaster to the free world."

His parting advice to the graduates was: "Be strong enough to know when you are weak and brave enough to face yourself when you are afraid; not to substitute wishes for actions, not to seek the path of comfort but to face the stress and spur of difficulty and challenge; have a predominance of courage over timidity, an appetite for adventure over love of ease and have in your heart the sense of wonder, the undaunted challenge of events, the unflinching hope for what next, and the joy and inspiration of life."

Sentencing Set for Teen Knifer

An 18-year-old Pontiac youth faces sentencing May 1 for felonious assault in the fatal stabbing of another teen-ager last September.

Carl V. Grandison of 408 Osmin pleaded guilty to the assault charge before Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Grandison originally was charged with second-degree murder in the death of Aubrey Cayton, 16, of 519 Dittmar, who was knifed in front of the Post-tite Armory, 57 Water. The charge was reduced to manslaughter in Pontiac Municipal Court.

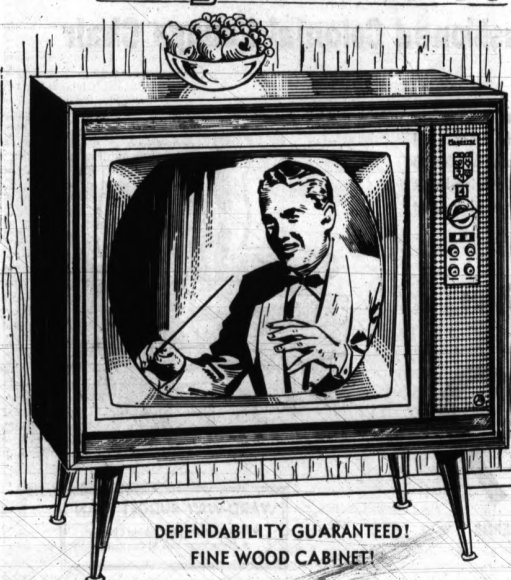

Assistant Prosecutor Daniel C. Devine, who agreed to permitting Grandison's plea to the lesser charge, said, "We felt this was equitable and just way to dispose of the case."

Devine said Grandison's defense was to be self-defense, and that evidence showed he had been attacked three times by Cayton before the fatal stabbing.

'MacArthur Was Callously Brave'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The following recollections of Gen. Douglas MacArthur were written by a correspondent who covered the General's campaigns in World War II and the Korean War.)

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK (UPI) — "That's a Nip gun," the General said, harking to a burst of automatic-weapon fire down the road in front of us. Then he turned to his aide, Col. Lloyd Lehrbas, and said:

"Larry, get out and go down there and see what's going on."

Larry got out of the jeep and went, although he didn't look too happy about it. It was World War II, and we were before Manila, maybe six or ten miles from the outskirts. The advancing American line was a couple of three hundred yards in front of the MacArthur jeep.

MacArthur was a five-star man by that time, but he hadn't bothered to change the insignia.

Also, he never bothered to put on the green twill clothing that every other American wore in a combat area. His brown khaki uniform was a blazing signal for any sniper.

CALLOUSLY BRAVE

And since the Japanese at that time had honed and polished sniperism into a fine art—lying themselves in trees and waiting for someone who looked like a big shot to come within range—it's a wonder they never got him. Maybe they thought the whole thing was some kind of diabolical Yankee ruse.

For a man who had been wounded twice, and knew how it felt, General MacArthur was callously brave.

In Manila, when we held the northern bank of the Pasig River, a narrow stream, and the Japanese were on the southern bank, the general would talk along on the north side almost as if he were sticking his famous profile out and daring them to shoot at it.

MacArthur was a pacer as he thought command decisions through during wartime. He was a believer in well-reasoned audacity of maneuver to outwit the enemy.

PIPE ALWAYS OUT

MacArthur could be highly dramatic, as when he flew into Korea on a dark day of the war here and declared: "No one is going to drive us into the sea."

Never have I seen a face with such a determined look on it. Or when he escaped from Corregidor at the start of World War II—on the President's order to break through the enemy lines and proceed to Australia—and said: "I came through and I shall return."

MacArthur was the only member of military high brass I ever encountered in wartime who wouldn't talk about the war unless you prodded him.

In talking, he had time to catch his breath often because his corncob pipe was forever going out because of inattention to it. He would sweep up a box of matches, light it puffing vigorously, and then slam the matchbox down on the table before starting his discourse again.

SOLDIER'S DADDY

MacArthur could reminisce charmingly about "my old daddy," who was Lt. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, hero of the Civil War and Spanish-American War.

When MacArthur was fired in 1951 by President Truman for his Far East commands, he got his first news of it while he was having a quiet lunch with two guests in Tokyo. An aide heard it on the radio and frantically summoned Mrs. MacArthur.

She returned, bent down and whispered the news to him. MacArthur was sternly silent for a moment.

Then he said to her gently:

2 Kennedy Children' End Skiing Vacation

STOWE, Vt. (AP)—Caroline and John F. Kennedy Jr. have left Stowe after an eight-day session on the ski slopes of Mt. Mansfield.

Tax Tips

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following income tax information is supplied by the Internal Revenue Service as a public service.)

Q: I am a widow. During 1963 I paid $75 a month to a day nursery for the care of my boy. May I claim a deduction for this?

A: If these expenses were necessary to enable you to be gainfully employed, you may deduct as a child care deduction the amount you spent, not to exceed $600. You are gainfully employed if you are working for wages or operating your own business for profit. To claim a child care deduction, you must itemize your deductions on Page 2 of Form 1040. In addition, the person for whom the care is needed while you are working must qualify as your dependent and either be a child under 12 years of age or be a person who is physically or mentally incapable of caring for himself.

For the answer to YOUR question, call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Briefing Set for Polio Drive

Volunteers Will See Mock Feeding Station

A briefing session will be held Wednesday evening for Oakland County volunteers in the tri-county oral polio immunization program.

Held at the Birmingham Community House, 380 S. Bates, the briefing will feature a mock "feeding station" and show how the vaccine is to be distributed.

The Oakland County Medical Society is sponsoring a polio immunization program on two Sundays, April 19 and 26, June 14.

Ninety-five "feeding stations" will be set up throughout the county and oral polio vaccine administered through "sugar lumps" to everyone over the age of one.

Also at the briefing Wednesday, beginning at 7:30 p.m., will be mayors, 11 village presidents, county officers and other civic leaders.

NOT DETERMINED

A medical society spokesman said that it had not yet been determined, but the dignitaries might get their first antipolio "lump" at the meeting.

The tri-county immunization drive aims at "feeding" 3 1/2 million persons in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb Counties.

Two "feedings" spaced eight weeks apart are necessary for immunization against polio.

GOP Ticket Suggested by Dem Leader

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — Because they have "so much in common," State Democratic Chairman Zolton Ferency suggests New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Michigan Gov. George W. Romney as the Republican slate for the 1965 presidential election.

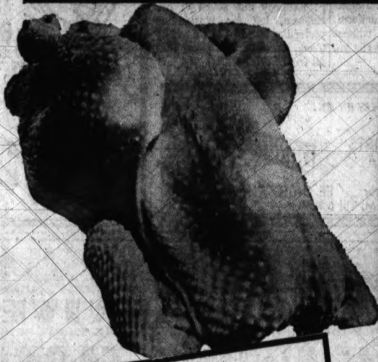

In an open letter to Rockefeller, read at a 4th District Democratic strategy conference Saturday, Ferency said:

"A Republican-controlled legislature in Michigan rejected George Romney's 'tax reform.' A Republican-controlled legislature in New York rejected your 'liquor reform' proposal."

"With so much in common, would you accept Gov. Romney as a running mate?" Ferency asked.

Britain Makes Trade Offer

Will Open Doors to Have-Nots' Imports

GENEVA (AP) — Britain offered today to open its doors to duty-free imports of primary commodities from all the developing nations of the world and to extend to them tariff preferences now only applicable to the Commonwealth.

The British offer came in a 10-point plan presented to the U.N. Trade and Development Conference by Secretary of Trade and Industry Edward Heath.

Heath said that if the program was carried out, Commonwealth countries which suffered by sharing tariff preferences with other nations should receive compensation in other directions.

"We should therefore need to act in concert with the other major industrialized countries to ensure this is brought about," Heath told the 122-nation conference.

GREATER ACCESS

British sources said their government expected the United States and Europe to provide far greater access to goods from the developing nations, inside and outside the Commonwealth, in return for any such concessions.

Heath also stressed that where preferences are the subject of agreements with Commonwealth countries, Britain could not act without the consent of those governments.

The 10-point plan was outlined to a number of Commonwealth leaders in private weekend talks with Heath. It is expected to be a major subject for discussion at the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference in London in July.

Detroit Negro Gets High Post in White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named Detroit Negro attorney Hobart Taylor Jr. as the No. 2 White House legal officer — one of the highest ranking federal government posts ever assigned to a Negro.

Johnson announced Saturday that Taylor will become associate special counsel at the White House, sharing the No. 2 rank with Lee White. Meyer Feldman will become the No. 1 White House legal officer.

Taylor now is executive vice chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity. When he was vice president, Johnson served as the committee's chairman.

Service Is Scheduled for Auto Crash Victim

ROYAL OAK (AP) — Funeral service will be held Tuesday for Michael M. Finlay, 24, of Huntington Woods, who died Saturday of injuries suffered in an auto crash. Finlay, son of Robert M. Finlay, editorial director of Automotive News, was injured Thursday when a car in which he was riding struck a tree on the lawn of the Finlay home.

$1,000 cash a month

even for the rest of your life while hospitalized from any accident.

No, this is not a misprint. If you qualify, you get an iron-clad guarantee which pays you at the rate of $1,000.00 CASH a month beginning the first day you are in a hospital (other than a sanitarium, rest home or government hospital) from any accident. Even if you're so confined only one day, you still get $33.33.

There are no gimmicks. Your policy will have No Exceptions, No Exclusions, No Limitations, no waiting periods, no ifs, ands or buts.

And what's more — — —

This plan is NON-CANCELLABLE and GUARANTEED RENEWABLE for Life.

1. Use your policy as often as you need to—you own it, it can never be taken away as long as you pay your premium on time. Your premium can never be raised; your benefits can never be reduced.
2. You are paid the full amount even though you have other insurance or compensation. You get CASH . . . use it for any purpose: pay bills, buy groceries, pay rent, etc. When you are hospitalized your everyday living expenses still go on. Help meet them with the TAX FREE cash this policy provides.
3. THIS PLAN PAYS CASH WHILE YOU ARE HOSPITALIZED FOR ANY ACCIDENT, ANYWHERE, ANYTIME. You DON'T have to be hurt in any particular kind of accident such as: Auto, Pedestrian, Bus, Traffic, Train, etc. ALL Accidents are covered—at home, at work, at play—24 hours a day.

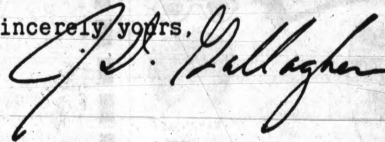

You get a full month's coverage for 25¢. Send no money. When you receive your policy, read it carefully. Only after you agree it does everything we claim, send in your quarter. This doesn't even cover our cost, but we'll gamble that you will continue at the regular rate of only $5.00 a month — — — just as thousands of others have done. Remember for each day you are in the hospital, you get $33.33.

How can this policy be offered at such a low cost? The answer is simple. You are buying directly from the company through the mail and the savings are passed on to you. No agent or salesman will call or bother you.

Compare this with others. We welcome comparison because this policy pays from the first day, we can't pay any sooner; it pays forever, we can't pay any longer. Remember, the cost is only $5.00 each month, or, if paid in advance, $55.00 a year and the benefits are $1,000.00 a month. Policy issued ages 1 through 80 if you qualify.

Don't wait until it's too late. Fill out the application and mail it today. There are no strings attached; you are under no obligation.

Sincerely yours,

My Daffodil Is Dying

Can't Stay Silent This Spring, Rachel

My DICK WEST
WASHINGTON UP — I don't happen to have Rachel Carson's address handy. So I am putting this letter afloat in an old bottle of weed-killer in hopes it will reach her in time.

"Dear Miss Carson,
"Your book 'Silent Spring' made a deep impression on many people, myself included. We were greatly disturbed by your warning that indiscriminate use of pesticides and fungicides threatened to upset the balance of nature.

"Last year, in compliance with your admonition, I undertook to break the chemical habit. And soon found that I was spraying less but enjoying it more. For that I am grateful.

"But now another spring has rolled around and I find myself confronted with another problem that seems to have an oblique relation to the subject aired in your book.

"I would very much appreciate having your views on the matter, for it has impaled me on the twin daggers of dilemma.

"As you may know, the weather here thus far this spring has been frightful. Meteorologists say the danger of snow and ice will soon be over. But in my backyard, an impetuous daffodil lifted its head above ground before the all-clear had sounded.

"Continued exposure to the elements almost certainly will prove fatal. The question is: Should I extricate the daffodil from its own folly?

"All of my instincts cry out for me to go to the aid of the daffodil. I long to lift it by the roots and take it into the house. There to nurture and succor it until it is safe outdoors.

"On the other hand, a little voice within me says that if a daffodil is too stupid to know what to bloom, it deserves to freeze.

INNER CONFLICT

"I would like to resolve this inner conflict as intelligently as possible, which is why I have turned to you.

"It occurred to me that perhaps nature intended for daffodils like this one to die. This may be nature's way of maintaining a balance between daffodils and, say, geraniums.

"By rescuing the daffodil, I might be interfering with a basic natural pattern. However well-meaning the act, it could be as irresponsible as spraying an azalea for aphids.
"I certainly would not want to be guilty of inhumanity to daffodils. But neither do I want to tamper with the fate of a doomed daffodil at the expense of general floral well-being.
"As an expert on these matters, Miss Carson, your advice on how I should handle this crisis would be most welcome. But please make it quick.
"The way the weather has been lately, I don't think that daffodil can hold out much longer."

REMAINS OF WRECK — This is all that remains of eleven cars of a 16-car Santa Fe passenger train, which was derailed yesterday when it smashed into a rockslide 15 miles west of Williams in north-central Arizona.

Rail Wreck Kills 1, Hurts 8

WILLIAMS, Ariz. (AP) — An engineer was killed and eight other persons, including four crewmen, were injured when a Santa Fe train was derailed in the pre-dawn darkness yesterday by a rockslide 15 miles west of Williams in north-central Arizona.

Miraculously, the five passenger cars of the 16-car train stayed upright. The train carried 160 passengers bound from Chicago to Los Angeles.

A railroad spokesman said the train was traveling at around 87 miles per hour when the five-unit diesel locomotive struck the rockslide.

Diesel units were piled side-by-side across the tracks, and ten baggage cars — smashed and ripped open — were jackknifed behind them.

Railroad spokesmen said they hoped to have the tracks cleared today.

Killed was George Crawford, 63, of Winslow, Ariz., the engineer. Seriously injured were the train's fireman, W. M. Loucks, 25, of Winslow, and baggage engineer Anthony Turnette, 62, Los Angeles; and C. F. Johnson, San Gabriel, Calif. Brake-man John Guffey, 57, of Fontana, Calif., suffered a broken leg.

BROKEN RIB

Mrs. Lydia Olson, 80, of Las Vegas, Nev., appeared to be the most seriously injured passenger. Williams Hospital reported she apparently suffered a broken rib.

Passengers treated for minor injuries were Mrs. Maria Sanchez, 36, and her son, Timmy, 4, of Fontana, Calif., and Mrs. Barbara A. Singer, 22, Topeka, Kan.

Eddie Fisher: 'Still Married to Elizabeth'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) Singer Eddie Fisher says he still considers himself the husband of actress Elizabeth Taylor, who considers herself the wife of actor Richard Burton.

Fisher, asked whether he will marry again, told a Hollywood reporter: "I've been married two times (first to actress Debbie Reynolds) and besides I'm still married. I don't remember getting divorced."

Miss Taylor got a Mexican divorce from Fisher. She's now married to Burton.

"With the experience I've had," said Fisher, "I'd have to think awhile about another marriage — maybe about 10 years."

MacArthur to Get Salute of 19 Guns

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — The U. S. Military Academy, where Gen. Douglas MacArthur graduated 61 years ago, pays homage to his memory today with a 19-gun salute.

All 24 companies of the corps of cadets have been summoned to hear an address by Maj. Gen. J. B. Lambert, superintendent of West Point.

Ice Stops 3 Ships With Broken Props

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Three Canadian freighters, each with her propeller broken by ice, were trapped in 22 inches of ice in the lower St. Marys River Sunday.

The American Wilfred Sykes and the Canadian Midland Prince, meanwhile went through under their own power and the Coast Guard icebreaker Naugatuck brought four others upriver.

Disabled with broken propellers were the C.A. Bennett, Algonquin and Donna Cona.

Saved Him From Being 'Hey, You'

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I took a young man with me to a party at the house of a friend. It was the first time the hostess had met him.

As other guests arrived, I introduced him to them as I was well acquainted with the new arrivals.

I was told that I should have let the hostess do the "honors" and that I belittled her by not letting her introduce him. Was I wrong?

A: You were right. In fact, unless your hostess is very adept at hearing and remembering new names, it is quite likely that you saved her from the awkwardness of those lame introductions in which the stranger is given no name but "you."

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Table Rules of Importance," describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods.

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

But Her Outfit Was Cute

Little Girl Was Freezing

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: While sitting in my dentist's outer office yesterday, a smartly dressed woman came in with her daughter, who appeared to be 4 or 5 years old.

The mother wore a wool suit and a full-length coat with a fur collar, as it was exceptionally cold and windy for this time of year.

The child wore a short and gaudy dress, anklets and a short jacket. She looked like a little doll, but her lips were blue and quivering and she was sniffling.

I wanted to say something to the mother for disregarding the child's health and comfort for the sake of beauty.

After my opportunity had passed I berated myself for not having said something. I could hardly sleep last night for worrying about that poor child.

Should I call the dentist's nurse and ask her if the woman was, and write her an anonymous note?

Maybe seeing it in writing would bring her to her senses? COULDN'T SLEEP

DEAR ABBY: What a coincidence! My husband was stationed at Camp McCoy for a short time during World War II, and he had "Herb" tattooed on him.

But we were married at the time, and I am quite sure nobody ever saw his "Herb."

HERB'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: Will you please describe the proper way to hold a fork while cutting with the knife? My husband holds his like a catapult. Perpendicular, at right angles to his plate.

Our grown children have mentioned it to me, but I hate to hurt his feelings. I've searched through all the etiquette books, hoping to find a picture, but to no avail.

Shouldn't somebody tell him? Your answer will probably be, "Just be thankful you have a husband with two good arms and don't be ashamed of him as long as he brings home the pay check."

"MRS."

DEAR MRS.: Not this time, friend. It is surprising how many well-mannered people with most of the social graces lack this one.

Yes, somebody should tell him. Allow me?

The fork should be held with all the fingers gently wrapped around it, except the index finger and thumb, which should hold it down near the neck at an angle of 45 degrees or less.

Eight Negroes Attend St. Augustine Church

By United Press International
Eight Negroes attended previously all-white Grace Methodist Church in St. Augustine, Fla., yesterday, the same church that turned away Negroes on Easter Sunday.

The Rev. John Gill, pastor, said the services "went right smoothly."

Almost 300 persons, including Mrs. Malcolm Peabody Sr., the mother of Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody, were arrested in St. Augustine last week during an integration drive.

Among the places the integrationists tried to integrate was the Grace Methodist Church. Rev. Mr. Gill said at the time he was "not in accord" with the turning away of a group of Negroes.

Asked yesterday if he planned to open the church on a regular basis to Negroes, Rev. Mr. Gill said, "I don't know about that."

SLAMMED DOOR

Malcolm Peabody Jr., brother of the Massachusetts governor, said in Boston he was told that ushers first slammed a door in the faces of the integrationists yesterday. Later, he said, another door was opened and the group made its way to front pews. Whites remained in their seats and there were no incidents.

"They were there (the Negroes) when I went out into the pulpit," Rev. Mr. Gill said in commenting on the service.

Peabody said a northern Episcopal minister, the Rev. Malcolm Deer, was turned away from Trinity Episcopal Church in St. Augustine when he tried to enter that church Sunday morning with eight Negroes. That church canceled a communion service last Tuesday when Mrs. Peabody announced she would attempt to cause those services to be integrated.

New York City spent $30 million to improve the neighborhood of U.N. headquarters, which was forced to move to a shum and slaughterhouse moved in.

Japan Leads Tribute to Former Conqueror

TOKYO (AP) — A saddened Japan led the world tribute today to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, its wartime conqueror who led it to peace, prosperity and democracy.

A sense of sorrow also swept the Philippines and South Korea, two other Asian nations in whose destinies MacArthur was deeply involved, at the news of his death.

The Japanese government sent the nation's most beloved elder statesman, former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, to represent Japan at MacArthur's funeral.

"I cannot forget the great achievement of the general in rebuilding our nation out of the ashes of defeat," said Yoshida.

LAID FOUNDATION
"Out of the stringent food shortages, out of the confusion of our political, economic and social systems, and out of the insecurity of man's hearts, MacArthur laid the foundations for a new Japan which became the source of our nation's prosperity today."

In a message to President

Johnson, Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda said the Japanese respected MacArthur "not only as a soldier but as a friend." Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako also sent their condolences.

On the streets of Japan, people remembered MacArthur particularly for bringing in huge quantities of food in the immediate postwar months to feed a destitute population.

"I think his occupation policy was right and proper, especially his decision to preserve the imperial household," said commentator Shigeru Araki, 62.

PHILIPPINES MOURN

In the Philippines, where MacArthur's wartime pledge "I shall return" gave hope during the Japanese occupation, President Diosdado Macapagal declared a period of national mourning.

"A source of courage in our darkest hour, Gen. MacArthur symbolized the highest degree of Philippine-American friendship and affection," Macapagal said in a message to Johnson. "Your loss is our loss. His name is deeply engraved in the hearts of all Filipinos."

The Philippine Senate recessed after unanimously adopting a resolution expressing the nation's grief.

Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, president of the University of the Philippines, former diplomat and one of MacArthur's wartime aides, said: "For the Philippines, to mention him is nearly to say all in Philippine-American friendship."

FINAL VISIT

MacArthur returned for a sentimental final visit to the Philippines in July 1961, receiving a tumultuous welcome and honorary Philippine citizenship. South Korea's President Chung Hee Park said Koreans will remember MacArthur forever for "his contributions toward their independence and democracy."

"Not only the United States

but the whole world has lost a most outstanding soldier and one of the greatest of statesmen," Park said.

Korea was the scene of MacArthur's last military campaign. He was removed from command of the U.N. forces in Korea in 1951 for opposing President Harry S. Truman's decision to limit the conflict to Korea.

MEMORIALIZED

New Zealand's Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake memorialized MacArthur as "one of the greatest commanders of the last war."

"His passing was keenly felt in New Zealand because his role as commander of the U.S. Army forces in the Pacific and the Far East was of decisive importance to the defense of New Zealand and the whole Pacific," Holyoake said in Wellington.

An Indian government spokesman said MacArthur was "one of those few great generals who proved themselves even greater administrators."

In Canberra, Australian Prime Minister Sir Robert G. Menzies said MacArthur was

"undoubtedly a great soldier, a man of remarkable talents and personality and he has an assured place in Australian history."

BEFORE CONQUEST

MacArthur set up his command post in Australia after leading the Philippines shortly before the Japanese conquest.

British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home described MacArthur as "one of the great soldiers of our time."

"In Britain, in the darkest days of the war, we admired the courage and tenacity of purpose which brought him up from defeat at Corregidor to lead the Allied forces to victory in the Pacific," Douglas-Home said.

Another Briton, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, said MacArthur "fought a wonderful campaign in the Pacific" and was "the best soldier the United States produced during World War II."

In Ottawa, Gen. Charles Foulkes, former chairman of the Canadian chiefs of staff, said MacArthur was "the most distinguished American soldier produced in the whole of United States history."

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.
New York, N.Y. (Special) — A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast. Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma — the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BROMENTIN.
Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, no air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BROMENTIN, with two asthma-relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs. The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eases and no fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep. Get BROMENTIN — available at all drug stores without prescription.

Disputed Goal Gives Hawks 3-2 Lead in Stanley Cup Series

Wharram Gets Delayed Light in Tying Tally

Wings Claim Score Came After Udvari's Whistle

CHICAGO (U) — No one will ever convince the Detroit Red Wings that a game-tying goal in their 3-2 Stanley Cup semifinal playoff loss to Chicago Sunday night was a bonafide score.

The goal, credited to Kenney Wharram, came at 5:25 of the final period, only 13 seconds after the Red Wings had taken a 2-1 lead on Andre Pronovost's goal and some 10 minutes before Stan Mikita clinched the victory with a 25-footer past goalie Roger Crozier.

The victory gave the Hawks a 3-2 lead in their best-of-seven series.

DELAYED SIGNAL

When Wharram scored the disputed goal, goal judge Grant Easson of Toronto did not signal the red light for several seconds. When the light did go on, referee Frank Udvari conferred with Easson.

Udvari then huddled with linesmen Ron Wicks and Matt Pavelich before again talking to Easson. Meanwhile, the crowd of 16,585 was getting impatient. Suddenly, Udvari signaled in favor of the Hawks and the Red Wings needed a few seconds before climbing all over Udvari.

Crozier, filling in for injured Terry Sawchuk, insisted that "Wharram put it in after Udvari had blown the whistle."

"What right does he (Udvari) have to go out and talk to the goal judge?" asked Coach Sid Abel.

"What was Udvari asking the goal judge? Was he (Udvari) asking him (Easson) if he (Udvari) had blown the whistle? All I can say is it's a lousy way to lose a game."

Udvari later said, "I blew the whistle when I saw the puck either lying on the mesh on the outside of the net or inside the goal—I wasn't sure where the puck was at the time. But I knew the puck was dead and so I blew the whistle. As I skated towards the net, I noticed the puck was inside."

AUTOMATIC RULES

"We have automatic rules and procedures we must follow in the National Hockey League on plays like this. I followed them either by talking to the goal judge. He said the puck was in. Then I asked the linesmen but neither was in position to see the puck. So, I double check. I went back to the goal judge to confirm his earlier decision."

Both the Hawks and Montreal were tied by talking to the goal judge. He said the puck was in. Then I asked the linesmen but neither was in position to see the puck. So, I double check. I went back to the goal judge to confirm his earlier decision."

The Hawks are at Detroit and Montreal at Toronto Tuesday night. If seven games are necessary they will be played in Chicago State and in Montreal Thursday.

Track Stars Set Records

By The Associated Press
World records by Dallas Long and Henry Carr, impressive comeback marks by two Olympic veterans and a general upswing of performances snapped western track and field into mid-season form last weekend.

Long put the shot 65 feet 1 1/2 inches, bettering his own 1962 record by one inch. He was idle most of last season but is already the favorite for the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo.

Carr, who knocked the full turn 220-yard dash record from 20.5 to 20.3 seconds last year, clipped it down to 20.2 in an Arizona State University meet at Tempe.

The measured crosswind was 1.1 miles an hour, well within the allowable maximum. Despite Carr's performance, Arizona State lost to the Southern California Striders 90-54.

George Smith Hits Way to Tiger Job

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Second baseman George Smith will stay with the Detroit Tigers for a while, and if he keeps hitting the way he has he may be around for a long time.

Smith singled in the 10th inning Sunday and romped home on Al Kaline's single to center to give the Tigers a 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and snapped a five-game losing streak.

The hit was Smith's second of the game, giving him seven in 14 trips to the plate this spring for a nifty .500 average.

"Sure, he'll stay with us a while," manager Charlie Dressen said. "If he would have played the way he has last year, we would not have had to look for a second baseman."

BEST DAY

Billy Bruton had his best day of the exhibition season as he hit a home run leading off the fourth inning and added two singles to pace Detroit's 10-hit attack.

His single in the seventh inning tied the score after the Phillies had scored their two runs in the top of the inning.

The hitting of Smith and Bruton, however, did not overshadow another fine pitching performance by Frank Lary.

Lary was touched for four singles in the six innings he pitched and appeared to get stronger as the game progressed.

"He threw more fast balls today than he did all of last year," Dressen declared, indicating that the ace right-hander's comeback continues to be successful.

MORE INNINGS

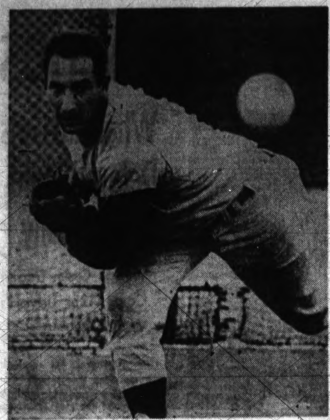

Lary has given up four earned runs while pitching more innings than any other member of the regular staff—25. That gives him a 1.44 earned run average which is even more impressive when one considers that the ERA for the entire staff was 4.00 going into the game.

The Tigers got only one hit off Jim Bunning, their former teammate now chucking for the Phillies, in the first three innings.

Bruton's homer came on the first pitch thrown by reliever Art Mahaffey.

STRIKEOUT KING — Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers presents this view to opposing batters when he releases a pitch. Koufax fanned 306 National League batters last season for a new record. He won 25 games and led the majors with a 1.88 earned run average.

Olympic Selections Please Cage Coach

NEW YORK (AP)—There are many basketball coaches around who'd love a chance to pick at the leftovers now that the 1964 Olympic basketball squad has been selected.

But Hank Iba, who'll coach the U.S. entry at Tokyo in October, has no complaints with the 12-man squad and seven alternates chosen after three days of trials at St. John's University.

"I got what I wanted," said Iba, the Oklahoma State coach, who has achieved 700 collegiate victories.

What he got was two All-Americans heading a power-packed team which includes three members of the Goodyear Wingfoots, National AAU champions.

Johnny Wooden Raps Picks Among Guards

LOS ANGELES (AP)—UCLA Coach John Wooden says he is "immensely surprised at some of the selections" made by the committee that picked the U.S. Olympic basketball team.

"I never thought they would pick two guards from the same team," Wooden said Sunday night, referring to the selection of guards Larry Brown and Dick Davies of the AAU champion Goodyear Wingfoots.

All-America Walt Hazard, a guard for Wooden's NCAA champions, was named to the 12-man Olympic team. But guard Gail Goodrich, UCLA's leading scorer, was picked only as an alternate.

NO COMMENT

Wooden would not comment directly on the exclusion of Goodrich. But he said picking Brown and Davies was "like comparing them with Hazard and Goodrich."

"Why, to do that," Wooden said, "is ridiculous." Wooden said he "can't understand how in the world Walt Jones (of Villanova) was left off the squad."

"I thought he'd make it," Wooden said. "He plays a lot like Hazard."

Howe Passes Scoring Mark

CHICAGO (AP)—Gordie Howe, the amazing 36-year-old star of the Detroit Red Wings hockey team set a Stanley Cup scoring record in Sunday night's 3-2 loss to Chicago.

When Howe tied the score at 1-1 with a second period goal, it gave him a total of 127 in 122 Stanley Cup games, including 51 goals and 76 assists.

Maurice Richard of Montreal retired with 126 points in 133 Stanley Cup games, including 82 goals and 44 assists.

Northville Also Strong Contender

Clarkston After W-O Baseball Title

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of pre-season roundups of county high school baseball leagues. Today we look at the Wayne-Oakland league.)

Last spring coach Pete Thompson and the Clarkston baseball team spent most of the season pursuing champion Bloomfield Hills in the Wayne-Oakland League race.

The Barons had the league's best pitcher, Johnny Augusten, and despite an opening loss to Clarkston, won the title by two games as Augusten posted a 12-2 log.

But he is gone now and Bloomfield has no apparent successor for him, leaving the race wide open. Runner-up Clarkston (led with Northville at 10-4) appears the logical chief contender.

Thompson has the Wolves' top hitters and both pitchers back, and a promising freshman candidate to push the letter-winning hurlers.

John Williams was Clarkston's ace pitcher last year, backed by Gary Pearson, who also stood out as a sophomore cleanup slugger.

Outfielder Jon Gary and infielder Ken Miskin were the top batters, and return with second baseman Dan Craven, a fine leader.

Dan Fife is the promising plebe who can play both shortstop and pitcher.

HILLS STRONG

Hills should be strong on the left side of the infield with Andy Anderson at shortstop and Dick Janz at third. Mike Miller is the team captain, catcher and top returning hitter.

But Jay Shinnick must carry the burden alone on the mound unless first-year coach Hal Henderson can uncover some hidden talent among 11 other candidates.

Northville lost most of its team that tied with Clarkston and finished third in the Pontiac prep invitational baseball tournament. New coach Charles Shonta has some promising pitchers to build around, however.

Clarkston's strength appears up the middle with catcher Joe Neistroy, shortstop Jim both expect to rise in the conference standings after trying for sixth last year. Coach Walt Poe has two seniors, catcher Mike Grubke and pitcher-infielder Dan Redkins both on the mound and at the plate.

Dave Molianen and Mike Fremlin, right-handers, round out the mound prospects while John Kasper leads some hitting punch to the infield.

Brighton went with sophomore lead of last season and coach Bob Kucher expects only senior Don Hartman, a shortstop break into an otherwise junior lineup.

Lead May Change in ABC Team

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Bel Mateo Bowl team of San Mateo, Calif. fired a 3.134 series Sunday, the best opening bid by any classic division team in the 61st American Bowling Congress Tournament.

The Bel Mateos need only 2,897 in their second block Monday to overtake the defending champion California Bombers of Los Angeles who dominate the professional class with a six game total of 6,021 they assembled over two weeks ago.

Billy Hardwick, sensational young star who was the leading money winner in the professional bowlers tour last year and winner of the PBA open two weeks ago, set the pace for the Bel Mateos with a 694 series.

Don Johnson chipped in 622, Wayne Zahn had 613 and Earl Johnson 597.

Everett Collins, with 588, was the only member under a 200 average.

Maui Transfer of Seattle took third place in regular 5-man standings with 3,036. The team seemed headed for the lead after shooting games of 1,030 and 1,015, but slipped off to a 991 finale. Joe Parutto led his mates with a 671 series.

All-Coast-Vancouver of Seattle continued to lead the regular division with 3,055.

MSU to Platoon Teams

EAST LANSING (AP)—Coach Duffy Daugherty will try to start building three separate football platoons at Michigan State today.

Daugherty is going back to the platoon system of the greatest winning Spartan era. His plans are made possible by freer substitution rules this year.

He plans to try to build separate offensive and defensive units and a third outfit able to go both ways.

"This may be our only salvation," said Daugherty as the Spartans prepared to open five weeks of spring drills.

"There are a lot of holes to be plugged because of the losses through graduation to the team that had a 6-2-1 record last fall. State tied with Ohio State for second in the Big Ten after a 13-6 loss to Illinois in the final game that cost the Spartans the league title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

"The last time we had a strict platoon system was back in 1952," Daugherty recalled.

"That was when Daugherty, now starting his 11th season as head coach, was an assistant under Biggie Munn, while Munn was enjoying a 28-game winning streak.

With the exception of good strength at quarterback, the entire offensive backfield is gone. Among the missing are halfbacks Sherman Lewis, Deway Lincoln and Ron Rubick and fullbacks Roger Lopes and Joe Begany.

The No. 1 and 2 quarterbacks—Steve Juday and Dick Froehle—are with the baseball team but will return in the fall. Third stringer Dave McCormick will be running the team this spring.

Juday, a sophomore last year and the best passer of the three, won base starting assignment. His two understudies shared the duties the last three games after he was injured.

U-M Squad Opens Spring Grid Practice

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Spring finally has come to the University of Michigan. Football practice started Saturday.

Football was to have started last Tuesday, but bad weather forced a delay. Saturday's chilly session brought 91 candidates out for drills.

Head coach Bump Elliott said he was pleased with the turnout. He said his chief problem this spring will be filling the interior line, decimated by the graduation of tackles Tom Keating and John Houtman and guards Joe O'Donnell and Dave Kurtz. Among the spectators were two injured players—both expected to be top candidates for right half this fall. They were Dick Rindfus, injured in a campus basketball game, and Rick Sygar, who broke his right leg in a fall on a slippery street.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY — It will be a happy 28th birthday today for Pontiac school teacher Earl McGee as he puts The Press's city men's recreation basketball Most Valuable Player trophy among his collection of awards.

Teacher Earns MVP Nod

Earl McGee, a teacher who sets example for his pupils, is the winner of the 1963-64 Parks and Recreation Department Most Valuable Player trophy for the adult basketball program.

A physical education instructor at Baldwin and Wilson Elementary schools, McGee received his award from the Pontiac Press.

Celebrating his 28th birthday today, the Western Michigan University graduate played guard on the Southwest Community Club team that finished second in the Class A race.

He has a four-letter winning at Convent High School on the varsity basketball team, and

He was a standout on defense, consistently scored in double figures and served as a playmaker for the team's fastbreak offense.

Peter Snell Will Miss May West Coast Races

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—World mile record-holder Peter Snell of New Zealand will not race in Los Angeles next month.

The chairman of the New Zealand Amateur Athletic Association, Harold I. Austad, said Monday the invitation for track meetings in Los Angeles would not be passed on to Snell as he had no days available for the trip.

"Snell has already exceeded his 28 days limit," said Austad.

Victory Drought Ends in St. Pete Tourney

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Mary Lena Faulk, winner of the $10,000 St. Petersburg Women's Open Golf Championship, says things are looking up after a victory drought of nearly two years.

"It's a good way to start the new year," she said Sunday after picking up $1,500 first prize money for her three-stroke victory over 37 professionals and 125 amateurs.

Miss Faulk of Thomastown, Ga., tied for seventh two weeks ago, in the Western Women's Open at Pensacola, the opening event of the 1964 Ladies Professional Golfers Association tour.

Her second St. Petersburg title—she won the event in 1967—came on rounds of 74-71-70-74 for a 73-hole total of 289, five over par.

Second place was shared by Clifford Ann Creed and Betsy Rawls. Both finished with 292 and collected $1,065 each.

Sandra McClinton picked up $800 for fourth place at 294. Four professionals, Barbara Romack, Shirley Englehorn, Kathy Cornelius and Sandra Haynie, won $352 in a four-way tie for fifth at 295.

Veteran tournament player Patty Berg's 296 was worth $350 and ninth place.

The amateur crown was taken by Gloria Ehret of Danbury, Conn., who fired a four-round total of 309 to unseat defending amateur champion Roberta Albers of Tampa, Fla., who finished at 308.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Bud Shelton

One of the most unusual nicknames for a team in sports is the "Dodgers". Do you have any idea how that nickname came into being? ... The Brooklyn baseball team then was given their name ... After a few years, they shortened it to simply "Dodgers".

Did you know the great racehorse Man O' War won 21 races in his career, and finished first 20 times? ... The only time he failed to win was in the Sanford Stakes at Saratoga in 1919. ... He finished second in that race ... And the only horse to ever beat him was named, appropriately, "Ghost".

It's easy to guess which American League team has won the most pennants ... It's, of course, the Yankees ... But, can you guess which National League team has won the most flags ... This one's a little tougher ... If you sold the Giants, you're right ... They've won 16 pennants ... Next come the Dodgers who have won 12 ... The Yankees by the way, have won 28.

I bet you didn't know ... that the place to get the right deal on a new Pontiac or Buick (or a real good used car) is at Shelton's See us soon.

Pro Grid Loop Rejects Toronto Membership Bid

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The United Football League turned down an application from Toronto and worked on its 1964 schedule Sunday in completing a two-day meeting.

The schedule was not completed. Commissioner George Garoff said it should be completed early this week after minor details are worked out.

Toronto's application for membership was rejected because the Canadian city failed to send a representative to the meeting.

The UFL, a minor pro league, includes Grand Rapids, Mich.; Charleston, Joliet, Ill.; and Cleveland in its Western Division and Wheeling, W. Va.; Indianapolis, Montreal and Toledo in its Eastern Division.

ground in Japan. But the Japanese are not too sure.

They agree that Communist influence in the trade unions is diminishing. They also agree that the party has been split by the Sino-Soviet dispute. Yet, the Reds polled 1,600,000 votes in last fall's parliamentary elections — compared with 1 million in 1960.

They also increased their number of seats from three to five. The number of card-carrying Communists hit a low of 37,000 in 1959, but since has climbed back to 120,000.

In a country with a booming and widespread prosperity like Japan's, the best explanation is the simplest.

As the once rigidly doctrinaire Japan Socialist party eases toward the middle ground in a quest for "respectability" and power, its extreme left drifts away to the Communists.

BERLIN TALKS

Western officials doubt that a new round of talks between West Berlin and East German representatives — reopening this Wednesday — will achieve agreement on passes for West Berliners to visit relatives in East Berlin.

The West Berlin government has agreed with the West German government it can not accept the main Communist condition — that the passes be issued by East German functionaries from offices in West Berlin.

FRENCH RIGHT

Extreme French Rightists are getting ready for the 1965 presidential campaign with a candidate of their own to fight both President Charles de Gaulle and Socialist Gaston Deferre.

He is prominent Paris trial lawyer Jean-Louis Tixier-Vignancour, who was chief defense counsel for many of the Secret Army Organization leaders tried for terrorist opposition to de Gaulle's Algerian policies.

He will toss his hat into the ring with a news conference on April 20.

SINO-AMERICAN POLITICS

The Nationalist Chinese government will try again this year to keep its nose out of domestic American politics — but once again, it probably won't succeed.

There is no hiding the plain fact that Nationalist leaders are solidly pre-Republican, and the more conservative the Republican, the more "pro" they are.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon won their hearts when he defended the Nationalist position on the offshore islands in the 1960 debates with John F. Kennedy, and he is sure to get a warm reception when he arrives in Formosa for a three-day visit starting tomorrow.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, though a conservative, is not well-known in Taipei. On the Democratic side, President Johnson's stock dropped somewhat in the wake of the speech by Sen. William Fulbright warning that the United States should keep an "open door" to the possibility of improving relations with Red China.

Despite denials by the Johnson administration and the State Department that Fulbright was speaking only for himself as an individual, the Nationalists still have a lingering feeling that he was floating a trial balloon.

Reds Arrest 3 British GIs

BERLIN (UPI) — Three British military policemen may face "disciplinary action" for wandering into East German territory and into the hands of Communist border guards, a British military spokesman said today.

The East German guards arrested the three British soldiers at a checkpoint yesterday and held them for four hours before releasing them on the border. They fired five warning shots into the ground before arresting them, West Berlin police said.

"British military police patrols have strict instructions not to cross the usual border," the spokesman said. "When they were arrested by East German border guards, the three MPs were on East German territory."

He refused to disclose further details or even the men's names because "disciplinary action is envisaged."

The men might face court-martial for the incident, informed sources said.

The government has authorized funds for five saline water demonstration plants designed to convert seawater to fresh water.

Onetime Boxer Set for Panama Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's nomination of Jack Hood Vaughn as ambassador to Panama is expected to reach the Senate by midweek, and the onetime boxer is "rarin' to go."

Johnson told a news conference Saturday that Vaughn, now director of the Peace Corps' Latin-American operation, will be on his way to Panama "just as soon as he can be confirmed by the Senate."

No difficulty is anticipated, and Vaughn, who has been holding his breath for three months, then will head for his "second home."

Vaughn, 43, who boxed both as an amateur and as a professional, was ticketed for the Panama assignment last January when it appeared the United States and Panama might be able to maintain diplomatic ties despite bloody rioting had broken out in the Canal Zone. But the two countries broke relations, and they were not resumed until Saturday.

FIRST CHOICE
Since January, Vaughn said in an interview, "I've been sort of on the hook, waiting in the wings." He said that of all foreign countries Panama would be his first choice for assignment.

"I have a special fondness for Panamanians," he said.

At his news conference Johnson praised Vaughn as a man who knows personally about as many Panamanians as any U.S. citizen does.

This familiarity stems from his 1954-55 assignment in the country to aid in economic development via pilot projects in low cost housing, water resources surveys and the like.

The post of ambassador has been vacant since President John F. Kennedy accepted the resignation of Joseph S. Farland in August. Farland reportedly disagreed with the late President's policies.

Off-Duty Officer Arrests Fugitive Riding With Him

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — An off-duty Missouri highway patrolman, returning home to Columbia from Jefferson City Saturday night in his private car, saw a cold, wet man standing on US83.

Patrolman George Grazioplene usually doesn't pick up hitchhikers, but this one looked so miserable he broke the rule.

A short time later Grazioplene realized his passenger was wearing prison clothes, and arrested him.

The fugitive, Delbert Cornett, 26, said he had escaped from a prison farm near Jefferson City that afternoon but was so cold when Grazioplene picked him up he didn't mind being caught.

'No. 1 Son' Is Cast in Real Dilemma

DETROIT (AP) — Victor Sen Yung, 48, movie and television actor, was held as a police prisoner in Receiving Hospital's psychiatric ward today in connection with a traffic escape.

Police said Yung ran several stop lights while he pursued him in a downtown area Saturday after he almost ran down an officer directing traffic.

Yung played the "No. 1 Son" role in Charlie Chan movies and the cook in the Bonanza TV show.

Death Takes 'Old Soldier'

By United Press International
General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, the "old soldier" who fired his first shot in battle 61 years ago and served with distinction as a fighting general in three wars, has lost his final battle — to death.

MacArthur, 84, had lived the life of a recluse in his New York hotel apartment for several years, but his health had been robust until last February.

On March 2 he entered Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington for medical examinations for what was described as "abdominal trouble."

Arrangements for the general's admission to the hospital were made by President Johnson who called MacArthur when he learned the aging warrior had been feeling ill.

An Air Force plane was put at the general's disposal for the trip to the capital and the hospital's executive suite, reserved for presidents and dignitaries, was assigned to him.

LAST APPEARANCE
MacArthur made his last public appearance at a birthday dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York on Jan. 26. A delegation of cadets from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, where the general's illustrious career began, honored him on this occasion.

He had recently completed his autobiography, part of which has been serialized in a national magazine. The book is due for publication this fall.

The death of the five-star general, senior-ranking officer in the United States Army, removed from the American scene a public figure who had written himself brilliantly into the history of his time not only as a soldier but as a statesman.

As United Nations commander in the occupation of Japan, he became the first foreigner to govern that country.

WORLD FIGURE
The impact of his personality alone — his public utterances and conduct were in the grand manner — had made him an outstanding world figure since he came dramatically out of retirement and into field command in the Philippines at the start of World War II.

With him at the end was Jean Faircloth MacArthur, the Murfreesboro, Tenn., girl who became his second wife in 1927 and sailed with him to the Orient — and into 14 years of adventure and personal danger in two wars and a military occupation.

They did not return home until 1951, when the MacArthur battlefield career was ended in the middle of the Korean War by his abrupt dismissal by President Truman as a commander who publicly disagreed with the military policies of the administration.

The planning and execution of his campaign as commander of Southwest Pacific operations in World War II led allied forces from Australia back through jungle islands and through the Philippines.

MASTERLY CAMPAIGN
It has been called masterly by military critics.

The audacity and calculated chance-taking of some of his maneuvers caught the enemy completely off balance.

In the Korean War, in which he was United Nations commander, he conceived and carried out the Inchon amphibious landing in 1950 despite opposition from his field commander and initially from the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The MacArthur legend that developed in the United States during his 14-year absence was built in part on the scrambled-egg, crushed cap, the classic profile above an open collar, the low-bowl corncob pipe, and the rolling language of his communiqués and policy statements.

PUBLIC BYWORD
"I shall return" . . . "I have returned" . . . "these proceedings are closed" when he accepted the Japanese surrender . . . "old soldiers never die" . . . are some of the MacArthur phrases that became public bywords.

Secretary of War Newton D. Baker in World War I called MacArthur "the country's greatest frontline general."

He became a World War I brigadier in the 42nd Infantry Division — which he named the "Rainbow Division" and with which he was wounded twice and gassed in the trenches.

A son of the famed Lt. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, who won the Medal of Honor as a regimental commander in the Civil War and was a hero of the Spanish-American War, Douglas MacArthur was born in an Army barracks in Little Rock, Ark., on Jan. 26, 1880, and was baptized — quite literally — in battle.

INDIAN ATTACK
When he was a baby, his father was given duty at a wilderness outpost in what is now New Mexico, and Douglas was baptized there when he was four — the ceremony being interrupted by an Indian attack on the post.

He was graduated first in his class at West Point and immediately — the year was 1903 — transferred as a 2nd lieutenant to the Philippines.

MacArthur recalled those early days in his speech to a joint session of Congress after Truman fired him from his Far Eastern posts as allied, U. S. and United Nations commander.

He said he remembered the refrain of one of the most popular barracks ballads of that day: ". . . which proclaimed, most proudly, that old soldiers never die, they just fade away. And like the old soldier of that ballad, I now close my military career and just fade away . . ."

CONVENTION KEYNOTER
After record-breaking ovations in several cities, MacArthur keynoted the 1952 Republican National Convention, which nominated his former aide, Dwight D. Eisenhower, as president.

But MacArthur received no further military assignments, although still, by law, on active duty as a general of the Army.

He became chairman of the board of Remington Rand, Inc. and when its parent company, the vast Sperry Rand Corp. was formed, he transferred to its chairmanship.

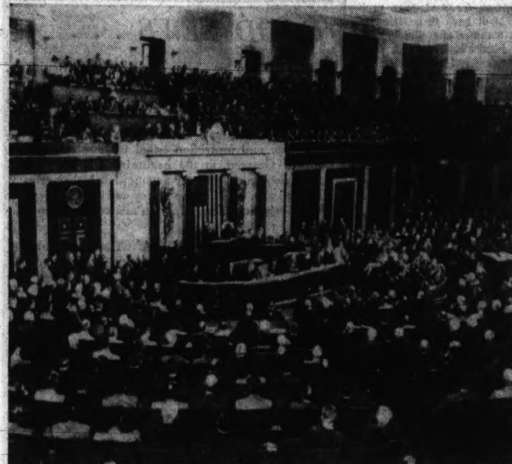

Gen. Douglas MacArthur

FAREWELL SPEECH — Every seat in the House chamber was filled and standees thronged the galleries April 19, 1951, as Gen. MacArthur delivered his farewell speech. A few days before, he had been relieved of command of forces in Korea by President Truman. The general was in favor of pressing the war into Red China itself.

HIGHLIGHT OF CAREER — One of the biggest moments in the long career of Gen. MacArthur came Sept. 2, 1945, in Tokyo Bay as he signed the Japanese surrender document. Looking on were Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright (left) and Lt. Gen. A. E. Percival, both former Japanese prisoners.

BACK FROM JOURNEY — Gen. MacArthur and his wife were greeted by their son Arthur in New York on July 12, 1961. The pair had just returned from a "sentimental journey" to Japan and the Philippines.

Makarios Eyes Troop Ouster

Turkey Hits Cypriot Action

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Turkish President Ismet Inonu and his Cabinet today warned Sunday night that it will oppose any Greek Cypriot attempt to evict Turkish troops from Cyprus.

A Turkish government spokesman said Turkey won't accept Cypriot President Makarios' decision to cancel the 1960 treaty of alliance. He said Turkey would continue to exercise its right under the treaty to keep troops on the island.

Makarios notified Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu Saturday that the Greek Cypriot government considered the treaty reimposed. They have suffered a number of casualties in shooting incidents in the area in the past few days.

SCENE OF SHOOTING

Greek Cypriot fighters also moved into the Greek village of Alevga. British officers described this as an attempt to encircle Ayios Theodoros, which also has been the scene of shooting.

Indian Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyal, the U.N. force commander, flew into the area by helicopter.

Although the rest of the island appeared calm, the Greek Cypriot press trumpeted the story of the capture of 20 British paratroopers by Greek Cypriots in the town of Kato Fyrgos Sunday.

Teachers Who Inspire Are Rated High

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

When students rate their present teachers they place firmness, fairness and friendliness as the most desirable qualities. However, how the student feels he is learning runs a close second in importance.

Looking back at their schooling, college students and adults place learning first, followed by the same firmness, fairness and friendliness.

DR. NASON

Actually, all four elements must be present in a successful classroom. The order in which they are placed is not important. But leave out any one and the rest seem to disappear.

Students prefer the teacher who operates the classroom in a responsible, systematic and consistent manner. They enjoy the firmness which lets them know where they stand at all times.

What students mean by "friendliness" covers a wide range of attitudes. They may say "This teacher is wonderful. She gets through to us," or of another teacher, "He likes kids. He understands us."

Often they are talking about the enthusiasm for learning, a thing that cannot be taught directly by the teacher. It must be "caught." In the most successful classrooms, it is contagious.

The discouraged student who is not doing well may rate a teacher unfairly. The student himself must bring a desire to learn to the relationship. Without learning, the other elements of the pattern fail to function.

NEGLECTED STUDENT

A student who neglects his homework and avoids entering into class work may interpret a teacher's firmness as bossiness.

A student who learns carelessly often has a feeling that he has really mastered the subject. The amount he has learned satisfies him.

The day of the test he reports that it was easy — that he made an A or at the very least a B. When his paper is returned to him marked D it seems to him that the teacher is unfair.

I have known a teacher to receive top billing and bottom billing from two students in the same class. These students were to a great extent, rating themselves.

LOOKING BACK

Looking back over his school career a person is in a better position to judge the effectiveness of his teacher.

He rates as a good teacher one who has inspired him to learn and, at the same time, helped him to acquire learning habits which stood him in good stead regardless of what he tried to learn at a later date.

Many adults can trace their high school or college success back to the start given by an outstanding teacher.

The adult is always grateful for the teacher who helps him up to high standards of industry, of honesty, of reading comprehension and accuracy.

It is what these teachers inspired while teaching the subject matter, rather than the subject matter itself that proved important in the long run.

Most of the time, the way to win at bridge is to play straight down the middle and to let your opponents gallop around among the highways and byways.

So, just because today's article is going to illustrate sensational and normally un-JACOBY sound play, don't think that I approve of such tactics except on very rare occasions.

curs when your opponents have reached game on decisive bidding.

Obviously they expect to make this game and obviously they have enough strength to warrant this expectation.

One lead that may upset their spleen is that of a doubleton ace or king. It doesn't take a great deal of nerve to lead a doubleton ace, but lots of players will never open a doubleton king because they look so silly if they lead it right into declarer's ace-queen or some equally uncomfortable card combination.

Now supposing you hold the West hand. Your opponents have reached four spades on decisive bidding.

You have three little trumps and know trumps are going to break nicely for declarer. You have ace and one diamond, so there should be no trouble setting up dummy's suit.

Do you want to give up or do you want to lead the king of hearts and hope to collect two quick heart tricks and a heart ruff?

This time if you lead the king of hearts you are a hero. Next time you are likely to be a bum.

Improve Your Reading - IV

Phrase-at-a-Time Method Is Key to Speed

(EDITOR'S NOTE - This is the sixth article in a 20-part series designed to help you improve your reading. Times your reading of this column and compare your speed with that indicated at the end. The expected speed assumes a daily 5 per cent improvement.)

By THE READING LABORATORY, INC.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

As you read this paragraph, place your fingers on your throat. Outside of the normal pulse, is there any other movement there as you read?
If there is, you are a word-by-word reader, and your silent reading is no faster than reading aloud. The fellow who mumbles his words really betrays himself.

Now read this paragraph. While you are reading, count out loud (fill the end of the paragraph. If you are able to get full meaning from what we're saying here while you keep up the count, then you are on your way to phrase reading.

Throughout this series of articles we are going to keep that circle up there at the top.

Through the hole you make in that circle, observe a friend's eyes as he reads, then have him count your eye fixations.

READING WRONG

If he takes 41 fixations for 41 words, he is reading word-by-word.

To cut the number of fixations to a bare minimum, we'll start by reading in phrases.

In the following paragraph we'll use larger spaces to separate the phrases.

So far we have learned the real need of pre-reading and questioning for comprehension in our reading.

Now we must place the emphasis on our eyes. It is likely that most of us are word-by-worders. This paragraph is just one way to help become phrase readers instead.

Gleanings From the Mailbag

Like Interests Breed Content

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Familiarity doesn't necessarily breed contempt. According to psychologists, marriages in which husband and wife share many mutual interests have less tension than those in which they do not.

At least there's one commodity which doesn't seem to have gone up much in price in recent years—buggy whips.

Diamonds were worn exclusively by men until a French woman named Agnes Sorel started the Court of Versailles in 1444 by showing up wearing a necklace of sparklers.

There's a backlog of over 196,000 patent applications at the U.S. Patent Office.

LAST REQUEST
Apology: Sometime back we chronicled here that the dying request of frontiersman Kit Carson was for a plate of chili. A number of Western culinary experts have written in to say he had a low opinion of chili and that what he really asked was a big chunk of buffalo steak.

Our quotable notables: "A germ thinks of a man only as the swamp in which he has to live"—Don Marquis.

One test of a civilization is how much water it needs. The per capita use of water in the United States has risen since 1900 from 600 gallons a day to 1,500. The figure is expected to double by 1980.

Imagine anything in Boston being wild. Well, there's a radio station there—WILD.

UNEVEN EYES
Some 65 per cent of people who suffer chronic headaches have one eye located higher in their head than the other.

Folklore: A girl who mops

the floor crossways of the boards will have a drunkard for a husband. Anybody who tips a chair over backward won't marry that year. A girl who marries a man whose last name begins with the same letter as her last name will be worse off than when she was single.

Worth remembering: "It's called the mother tongue because father seldom gets to use it."—Arnold H. Glasow.

Famous last words: Voltaire remarked, "Do let me die in peace." Daniel Webster mumbled, "Life, life! death, death! how curious it is!" The Emperor Vespasian commented, "I suppose I am now becoming a god."

been produced in America.

It was La Rochefoucauld who observed, "A person is never as happy or unhappy as he thinks he is."

Ex-Musician Leads Nursing School Chorus

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The chorus at the Iowa Methodist hospital nursing school in Des Moines has as its conductor Dr. Laverne Wintermyer, who was enjoying a successful musical career when he decided to be a doctor.

He interned at Iowa Methodist and although he is in private practice now he likes to keep up his music by directing the nurses' chorus.

Star Sighted the 'Palace' but His Shots Fell Short

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—You've heard the wonderfully happy stories about the vaudeville guys who finally played the Palace...

Well, the TV and movie star Don Knotts never made it to the Palace... fact is, he got fired from the Jefferson Theater on 14th St.

"When I see those movies where Phil Silvers says, 'We're gonna play the Palace, Baby!' I suffer," Don said with a wince as we sat reminiscing.

"Because after I played the Jefferson my agent called and he said 'Baby! You're canceled.'"

"He said, 'Baby!' again and then he said, 'You need new material.'"

"I told him my stuff had gone over real good in Brooklyn and West Virginia," Don remembered. Shuddering slightly, he went on.

"I was different, that was my trouble. When I came out the orchestra leader said, 'Where's your music?' I told him I didn't have any. He said, 'Then give me some $10's to put on the music racks. I told him I didn't have any pictures. He said, 'What kind of an act is this?'"

"Then the manager came up—I was about ninth on a bill of 14, and there was also a movie—and he said, 'Eight minutes and NO MORE!' Was I embarrassed! I only had 4 minutes."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...
Abbe Lane'll be snapped up by Hollywood to become a new Marilyn Monroe-type Sex Symbol (who can sing beautifully in several languages and wiggle in even more) after her bustup with Xavier Cugat becomes positive. Cugat who last heard from her March 28th when she gave him a kiss on the telephone, is reduced to writing her letters to find out her plans which seem to be that she's seeing lawyers about going single—in every way. Both she and Cugat are loaded. Cugat's still got old money and Abbe's got a new Rolls and new jewels.

Vince (Ben Casey) Edwards was at Danny's with blonde actress Sharon Farrell in a tense plague necktie... Rip Torn said Jilly's turned him away because of his Lewis, cowboy boots and suede jacket... Broadway's abuzz with merely a rumor that it will be without "In God We Trust" (series E, 1953) are worth $5... Long Island socialites are saying about one of those "perfect marriages" "It had to bust up eventually."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Compliments are like perfume—to be inhaled, not swallowed."—Charley Jones.

EARL'S PEARLS: A small town is where folks talk about you if you don't do anything—and gossip about you if you do something.

Stan Freeman tells of the Peace Corps girl returning from Africa with a voodoo charm and a ring through her nose. Her mother cried, "No, no—I told you to marry a rich doctor!" That's earl, brother.

(The Earl Syndicate, Inc.)

Much practice is required here, so don't have your reading friend do all the work. Have him observe your eyes move from phrase to phrase. There are 31 phrases. There should have been only 31 eye fixations.

We don't have to tell you that you must practice. So, go back with your friend over the preceding paragraph and work for improvements.

QUESTION: Does it hurt a horse to be shod?

ANSWER: One of the valuable materials nature provides is the tough horn which is composed of "keratin." The keratin is a kind of insulating material which, in horses' hooves, gives protection to the animal and provides him with strong footing.

Think how much more slowly a horse would run if he could feel all the ground surfaces through the horn of his hooves.

The same kind of horny keratin gives protection to the ends of our fingers. We all know our fingernails keep growing out and would become very uncomfortable unless we clipped the ends or filed them as Nellie is doing in our picture.

We all know, too that it does not hurt to clip of file our nails. In the same way, a horse's hoof would be very uncomfortable to him if allowed to grow out without trimming down, and when his hoofs are trimmed by a skilled horseshoer it does not hurt him at all.

To give horses even better footing, metal shoes are nailed on, but since the nails go through the horn part of the foot, the nailing does not hurt the horse.

FOR YOU TO DO: Run the cold water from the tap until it is really cold. Then let it run only over the outside of one of your fingernails. Because of the protection of the nail, it won't feel very cold. But turn your finger around so the fleshy part is under the cold water and then you'll really feel it.

Five Children Die as Father Sleeps

BERWICK, Pa. (AP) — Five children died in a fire that leveled their house in Fishing Creek township, seven miles north of here yesterday.

The victims were found in their second story bedrooms. Their father, Wright Ansbach, 30, was baby-sitting with the children while his wife was at a movie. He apparently fell asleep and smoke around midnight to find the house filled with smoke. He tried to reach the children, but the flames drove him back.

For the first time a team of young adults will compete against experienced adult drivers in this gruelling coast-to-coast test of skill and concentration. Can they hope to win? Why did Chevrolet decide to let them try? You may find the answers interesting and very refreshing!

This year, for the first time in the history of the Mobil Economy Run, teen-agers are being given the chance to compete as a team against experienced adult drivers.

The nine Chevrolet entries will be piloted and navigated from Los Angeles to New York, April 3 to 9, by teams of young persons from all parts of the country.

Chevrolet is giving them this opportunity for one reason: to demonstrate dramatically to other young people that it takes much more skill to drive a car economically than it does to drive it fast. Anyone can stomp and steer, but it takes skill, intelligence and patience to be a good economy driver in national competition.

We believe this may be a good way of arousing the interest of teen-agers everywhere in safer and saner driving habits.

Who are these youngsters who will drive for Chevrolet?

Well, one thing they have in common is that all are members of Junior Achievement. They were selected from hundreds of applicants for this challenging test.

For about the past month a technical training staff has endeavored to teach the Chevy Teen Team something about automobiles, engines, fuel principles and how to drive for maximum economy.

Whether they can make a good showing competing against experts remains to be seen. If effort and enthusiasm can overcome inexperience, they will, we are sure.

More important, we think, are some of the reasons they gave for wanting to compete. Here are their own words:

"It's a fabulous opportunity to learn more about automobiles, safe driving, our country and its people."

"I think I'm a typical teen-ager. I'd like to demonstrate my alertness and capability as a driver."

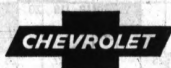

"To meet new people because I like people."

"It's quite a challenge to prove that we teen-agers can drive safely and sensibly."

"To help raise the image of teen-ager drivers. Maybe my experience will influence other teen-agers to drive more safely."

"I am confident that I can fulfill the job entrusted to me by Chevrolet and gain more respect for teen-agers through good example."

Good luck, kids. See you in New York, April 9. Drive carefully.

Nation Pays Homage to MacArthur

HONORED BY COLUMBIA — Gen. of the Army Douglas MacArthur, who died yesterday, appeared with his wife last year, April 19, at Columbia College in New York to receive a Columbia College Lion for distinguished service. A chair in history has been established at the school, an undergraduate college of Columbia University.

Widow, General's Nurse

Two Women United by Grief

WASHINGTON (AP) — She wore a sweater over her white nurse's uniform against the coolness of the late afternoon. Her eyes were red with fatigue and sadness.

Since March 6, 2nd Lt. Bonnie Ritter had cared for the ailing Gen. Douglas MacArthur as recovery room nurse—and for the past two weeks, there had been little rest.

Now, she and her husband, Capt. Richard Ritter, an Army doctor, were going home.

They had just been to Mass in the chapel at Walter Reed General Hospital.

So it was by accident that they became part of the crowd outside the hospital's east wing, as the general's widow came out yesterday to begin the trip that would take her husband's body home to New York.

FEW MINUTES

'Peaceful' K Slaps China, Praises LBJ

KAZINCBARCIKA, Hungary (AP) — Premier Khrushchev made a passionate plea for peace to day, called U.S. President Johnson a reasonable man and said Chinese Communist leaders are idiots.

"The Chinese leaders say it would not be a bad thing to have a war — one half of the people in the world would be destroyed and the other would survive," Khrushchev said in a speech to several thousand workers of a chemical plant in this northeastern Hungarian industrial center.

"They say that after some time women again would bear children and mankind would be as before. People who think like that do not show an overabundance of brains, but rather a lack of them."

Khrushchev said he had been accused by the Chinese of being afraid of war.

"I say it is only a child or an idiot who does not fear war," he declared. "If Hitler had known how World War II would end and that he would shoot himself, he probably would not have started the war."

DISCARDS TEXT

Khrushchev made his remarks after discarding a prepared text.

"The United States is an imperialist country, but its government judges the world situation soberly," he said, and added that President Kennedy's speech at Washington University last summer in which Kennedy demanded a peaceful solution to East-West problems was a reasonable one.

In these few minutes, Mrs. MacArthur saw the pretty, young nurse in the crowd.

Despite her own sadness, Mrs. MacArthur asked to speak to Bonnie Ritter.

She came forward hesitatingly, almost in half-step, in answer to the beckoning wave of Army Surgeon General Leonard D. Heaton.

OUTSTRETCHED ARMS

When she got to the limousine, behind the shelter of the open door, she saw the outstretched arms of Mrs. MacArthur.

For one moment, they embraced and kissed, and Mrs. MacArthur murmured her thanks, and it was over.

Then, as the motorcade began to pull away, Bonnie looked away, suddenly aware of the cameramen, and where she was.

Interest High for Election in Bloomfield

Today's drizzle is not dampening voter interest in Bloomfield Hills' election, dominated by controversy over the city's new zoning ordinance.

City Clerk Robert Stadler is predicting a record turnout.

The ordinance, which includes provision for three-story multiple residences, became effective Saturday.

The "two-story" slate formed in opposition to the code consists of Robert Frye, 1255 Trowbridge, running for a two-year term on the City Commission, and two sticker candidates.

They are Ross Pierce of 105 Hilltop, seeking a one-year term and George H. Webb of 140 Harlan, running for a two-year term.

TWO IN FAVOR

Two of the commissioners who favored the code are making bids for reelection — James A. Beresford and John Blanchard. Blanchard is a candidate for a one-year term while Beresford and Edward A. Schirmer, 456 Lone Pine Court, are seeking two years.

Military Hero Is Dead at 84

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation—and much of the world—began paying a hero's homage today to Douglas MacArthur, gallant old soldier who has faded away.

The rugged heart of the 84-year-old general of the Army, which had kept beating through three grievous operations, was stilled at 2:39 p.m. yesterday at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D.C.

Soon thereafter the body of the man who etched his name on so much history—St. Mihiel, Bataan, Corregidor, New Guinea, Manila, Tokyo and Inchon—began a historic funeral journey into a starlit night.

The body was brought by motor hearse to this city—where he had lived in a hotel suite since coming home from the wars 13 years ago.

Until tomorrow morning the body will be at the Universal Funeral Chapel.

Then from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. tomorrow it will lie in repose at the famous old 7th Regiment Armory on Park Avenue, a great brick building with battlements and towers, and filled with the trophies of many heroes.

On Wednesday, the body will be returned by train to Washington.

From 3:30 that afternoon until noon Thursday it will lie in state in the Capitol rotunda, where so recently the body of the martyred President John F. Kennedy also rested.

Then, by military plane it will be flown to the naval city of Norfolk, Va., for funeral services.

MILITARY PAGEANT

All along the funeral journey there will be the military pageantry reserved for the nation's great.

The general had expressed a wish to be buried in Norfolk, because there his mother, the former Mary Pluckney Hardy, was born, reared and married.

Leaders Mourn 'Great Soldier'

Flags at Half-Staff Until After Funeral

By The Associated Press Tributes have been paid in all parts of the country to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur—called by President Johnson "one of the most distinguished soldiers in the history of the United States."

Johnson, ordering the nation's flags flown at half-staff until after the funeral next Saturday, said MacArthur was "a living embodiment of the code he so eloquently expressed — duty-honor-country."

Former President Harry S. Truman, who fired MacArthur from all his commands in a dispute over conduct of the Korean war, said he was "deeply sorry at the passing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who has given of himself with exceptional strength and valor and will be remembered as one of the great military men in our history."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., called MacArthur "one of America's greatest soldiers and one of its finest citizens."

"Had his advice been heeded," said Goldwater, "victory would have been ours in Korea."

Rocky Calls for Tightening of Ties With West Nations

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said today the United States must strengthen ties with Western nations to correct the "dismal and tragic failures" of the Johnson administration's foreign policy.

Rockefeller, a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, called on the United States to take the initiative in developing an "affirmative free world program" for negotiating with the Soviet Union and other Communist nations.

Rockefeller commented in a speech prepared for delivery at the Detroit Press Club's celebrity luncheon. His one-day agenda here also listed appearances at a campaign reception, on a television show and at a Rockefeller-for-President rally.

In his luncheon address, the governor reiterated charges that the Johnson administration has failed to recognize fully the Communist threat, to anticipate Communist moves and to act decisively with crises in Berlin,

Cuba, Panama, Laos and South Viet Nam.

"Unity of purpose and action among the free nations of the world is essential," Rockefeller said, "to thwart the expansionist thrust of international communism."

PROPOSES MEETING

He proposed a meeting between President Charles de Gaulle of France and President Johnson, saying "the rift with France has already lasted too long."

Rockefeller called for creation of a permanent body within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to formulate common trading policy, strategic doctrine and long-range goals for the Western alliance.

He said the United States must work to develop a "truly United Western Hemisphere approach" aimed towards removal of all Soviet troops and weapons from Cuba.

Rockefeller said it is vital to U.S. interests to develop a "consistent, long-range policy," in dealing with Southeast Asia,

"The freedom and unity of Southeast Asia cannot be achieved until there is a decisive victory in South Viet Nam," he said.

Europe's Weather Comes to Pontiac

It will be colder tomorrow, warming Thursday and Friday and colder again Saturday. Precipitation will total one half to three quarters of an inch of rain on Wednesday and Friday.

Precipitation over the weekend totaled one half inch.

The damp, gray low before this morning was 40, by 1 p.m. it had risen to 58.

Developer to Ask City for Rezoning

By DICK SAUNDERS

In the next few weeks, the City Commission will be asked to rezone 31 acres outside Pontiac's urban renewal project area for some $4.5 million in proposed cooperative housing projects.

The housing has been proposed by Charles L. Langs, a major redeveloper in Pontiac's urban renewal area.

Langs has proposed three town house - type cooperative housing projects — one on R29

urban renewal and two outside.

If all three projects are fully developed as planned, they would represent nearly $5.5 million in new construction, Langs estimated.

This would add about $2,750,000 to the tax base.

FEDERAL PROGRAM

Langs' projects have been referred to in recent weeks as "221-D3 housing" because they are to be financed under the 221-D3 program established in 1961 by the federal government.

A 221-D3 project is designed for moderate income families. The mortgage on a 221-D3 home runs 40 years. The Federal Housing Administration (FHA) insures it at a 3 per cent interest rate.

"The result is that moderate income family can afford a home which would otherwise be out of its price range," said Langs.

Langs' urban renewal project is a 65-unit development on E. Pike at Douglas for which he already has Federal Housing Administration approval.

PLANS ACCEPTED

The city has accepted his plans and price offer for the land and will approve a sales contract as soon as it is formally approved by federal urban renewal officials.

Langs proposes homes ranging from one to four bedrooms in size, all with full basements. The homes, or units, will have an average value of $12,800 each, according to Langs.

The 221-D3 projects he proposes outside urban renewal are contingent on the city rezoning his proposed sites for each.

One is identical to the E. Pike development but larger (up to 200 units) on a 16-acre site in the East Boulevard - Michigan-Tasmania area on the east side. This rezoning is slated to come before the city commission. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Civilian Control Stressed

Senator Rips Military

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, who only 12 days ago lashed off an explosive attack on foreign policy, now says "the American people are not now exercising effective control over the military, and neither is the Congress."

The charge by the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a speech Sunday night at the University of North Carolina seemed almost certain to stir another controversy—this time with the Pentagon.

RICHOCET
The Arkansas Democrat's March 25 foreign policy speech ricocheted through both halls of Congress, the State Department and the White House. It still is drawing fire in some quarters.

His comments on the military came in a keynote speech to the 1964 Carolina Symposium, a five-day series of lectures at the university on the topic "Arms and the Man: National Security and the Aims of a Free Society."

Fulbright said the military establishment has a vested interest in the continuation of the cold war and its high military spending.

DOMESTIC PROGRAMS

He said the "elimination of superfluous defense funds"

would encourage spending on domestic programs, and that "the cold war is an excuse, as well as a cause" for high military budgets.

Fulbright's comment about control of the military recalled a statement by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in his farewell address as chief executive on Jan. 17, 1961.

Eisenhower warned then of the need to "guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex."

"Only an alert and knowledgeable citizenry can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of defense with our peaceful methods and goals," Eisenhower said.

His views were described a year later as well taken by President John F. Kennedy.

Ironically, Fulbright's criticism of the lack of civilian control over the military came only hours after General of the Army Douglas MacArthur died in Washington.

MacArthur was dismissed as commander of United Nations and United States forces in Korea in April, 1951, by President Harry S. Truman after a policy clash. Truman said he fired MacArthur because military commanders must operate within the framework of the U.S. Constitution, which gives supreme authority as commander-in-chief to a civilian—the president.

PURSUED POLICY
—In his address, Fulbright pursued one of the points of his March 25 Senate speech. He said the nation's interests could be served better by ending the present "moribund preoccupation with the danger of Communist expansion abroad and subversion and disloyalty at home."

He said President Johnson's proposed war on poverty and other education-welfare programs "are at least as important to the security of our country in the long term than a national defense establishment and a good deal more important than a voyage to the moon."

MacArthur was a great man, a great general and a great patriot," Hoover said "the world is a finer place for his having lived in it."

Eisenhower said, "Through a long lifetime of service, he earned the admiration and respect of his fellow citizens and the personal devotion of those he led in battle."

Among the many other military leaders who paid tribute to MacArthur was Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, who shared the Pacific command in World War II.

MILITARY QUALITIES
He praised MacArthur's "qualities of military character, leadership and administrative skill."

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said MacArthur's "devotion to duty, honor and country will stand forever as an inspiring example for his comrades in arms."

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, quoting from a speech made by MacArthur after the capture of Corregidor in 1945, said: "His courage was as high as the flag his troops raised. 'Hold the colors to its peak and let no enemy hand them down.'"

He said it was the biggest first-quarter sales total since 1951.

March deliveries paced the sales gain.

Werner stated that a total of 9,186 trucks and buses were delivered last month, compared with 7,512 in March a year ago.

ments and up to 175 units in size. It is proposed for a 15-acre site south of Bethune school on Pontiac's south side.

ZONING APPROVAL
The rezoning of this land has been recommended by the planning commission. That recommendation will go to the City Commission tomorrow night and is expected to be approved.

Final approval of the state side rezoning should be sought some time next month.

"We expect monthly payments on the urban renewal development to range from $65 for a one-bedroom ranch unit, to about $108 for a four-bedroom, two-story unit," Langs said.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS—This is the new home of the Pontiac Municipal Employees Credit Union on East Pike in the civic center. The credit union celebrated its grand opening yesterday afternoon. The event also marked completion of the first major structure built on land purchased and cleared in Pontiac's R20 urban renewal project. The credit union was formerly housed in a main floor office at City Hall.

With the loss of so much of that important area of the world to communism."

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, an opponent of Goldwater for the Republican nomination for president, said MacArthur's "brilliant leadership and heroic patriotism were in the highest tradition of this nation."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said MacArthur was "a true giant on the American and world scene—liberator of the Philippines, architect of victory in the Pacific and creator of modern Japan."

"But his greatest legacy is his counsel that there is no substitute for victory in the struggle against world communism," said Nixon, who was in the Philippines, where he had stopped.

EX-PRESIDENTS
Tributes also came from two other former presidents, Herbert Hoover, who named MacArthur chief of staff in 1931, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who twice served on MacArthur's staff.

Six Americans Wounded in Victory Over Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—Government troops carried out mopping-up operations today in Tay Ninh province where they routed Communist guerrillas in a fierce weekend battle that caused high casualties.

Six Americans were wounded as they assisted army forces of the South Vietnamese government in defending an outpost northwest of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman estimated Communist Viet Cong losses at 183 killed or wounded. Some reports from the battle scene said about half the 400-strong Red attacking force may have been lost.

Government casualties were put at 14 killed, 20 wounded and 8 missing.

A few hours after the battle ended yesterday, the military regime of Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh announced a mobilization plan to involve more of the population in the war effort.

RIGID DRAFT
The program provides for an expanded and more rigid military draft and organization of a civil defense corps.

The scene of the weekend battle at the Phuoc Tan outpost, 45 miles from Saigon, was a shambles. Much of the fortification was damaged and nearly two-thirds of the nearby village was burned by the Reds.

The attackers used automatic fire and explosives to try to pierce the walled outpost. The defenders and U.S.-aided reinforcements who rushed to their assistance retaliated with artillery, air strikes and automatic fire.

Last night and today government forces were scouring the area for stray guerrillas and repairing damage at the outpost. Government authorities and officials of the U.S. aid mission were busy resettling the villagers whose homes were burned.

One of the wounded Americans, who was hit while accompanying Vietnamese army troops in the area, was in serious condition.

The other five Americans were crewmen of helicopters.

Expressed by Romney

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney issued the following statement on the death of Gen. Douglas MacArthur: "The world has lost a great man. All citizens of Michigan join in expressing gratitude for his lifetime of service to the people and deep grief at his death. He was a great soldier, a great leader, a great American. The world has been enriched by his life and has been made poorer by his death."

Cigarette Vendors Seek Self-Regulation of Sales

BIRMINGHAM — Operators of cigarette vending machines in the city have come up with some alternate suggestions to the proposed city ordinance which would require them to obtain licenses.

The ordinance now being considered by the City Commission is aimed at curbing the sale of cigarettes to minors through vending machines.

The operators recently met and formulated six counter-proposals for self-regulation.

They suggested that machines be located through a survey and that "minors are forbidden" decals be applied to each, along with the name, address and telephone number of the operator.

The cooperation of proprietors should be solicited, the operators said, and the machines moved if necessary for proper supervision.

The operators urged "cooperation between vendors to achieve area-wide compliance of preventing purchase of cigarettes by minors from vending machines."

Specifically, they sought the establishment of a local committee to work with police officials on the enforcement of state laws.

City Manager L.R. Gare, while commending the vendors for their efforts, recommended in a report to the commission tonight that the ordinance be approved.

ADEQUATE CONTROL
He noted that all 24 vendors in the city did not participate in the meeting and that "every machine would have to be adequately controlled or the enforcement efforts would be seriously hampered."

Work on the ordinance began several weeks ago when City Commissioner Carl Ingraham asked about the problem.

The resulting survey by Birmingham police disclosed that none of the 19 businesses inspected had good control of the sale.

Only three of the proprietors knew he legal age for the purchase of cigarettes is 21.

Heads Competition in Portrait Category

One major award and two others were presented Pontiac Press photographer Edward R. Noble at the Michigan Press Photographers Association seminar Saturday in Flint.

The 26-year-old cameraman received a first-place award in the portrait category, and second and third place recognition in feature photograph judging.

Feature prize winners were Noble's shots of ROTC cadets peering through a bullet-riddled target, and of a horse craning over a fence to reach a grain field.

Noble, a Ferndale resident and trustee of the Press Photographers Association, has been on The Press photographic staff three years. He formerly was with the Associated Newspapers in Wayne.

Barry Edmunds of the Flint Journal was named Michigan Press Photographer of the year during the two-day, 16th annual seminar.

By JIM DYGERT

Taking a brief furlough from his command post in the congressional fight for a civil rights bill, U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart told a Hazel Park audience Saturday night that the bill is only half the battle.

"This is something you and I can do more about on an individual basis than on any other issue that confronts us today," Hart said to more than 800 admirers at a dinner in his honor by Oakland County Democrats.

"Racial discrimination is condemned by public policy in the north and officially it's wrong," Hart said. "But, on a person-to-person, day-to-day basis, it's done."

Hart is one of the leaders in the fight to win passage of the Johnson Administration's controversial civil rights bill in the U.S. Senate where a filibuster by Southern Democrats against the measure looms as the major obstacle.

"Federal legislation will help," Hart said, "but it's up to each of us in our day-to-day conduct and attitude to insure that our practices in this country are consistent with what we preach."

UNBURE TRUISM

"The truism that we judge each individual on his merit just isn't true," Hart said, "as long as the way our name is spelled, the side of the tracks we come from, or the color of our skin makes a difference."

"It's not true that you judge someone while he's 50 feet away before you even get a chance to know him."

Hart predicted that Congress

would pass the civil rights bill, which would put the force of federal power behind prohibitions against racial discrimination in public accommodations (hotels, restaurants, etc.), housing, education and voting.

"Delivery has been made on the tax cut and will be made on civil rights," Hart said. "When this is done, this congress will go down in history as a remarkable one."

PREOCCUPATION

Hart said preoccupation with the tax cut and civil rights issues was responsible for last year's "do nothing" label pinned on congress.

Currently in his sixth year in the Senate and facing a reelection contest this year, the former Bloomfield Hills resident and Michigan lieutenant governor also commented on a number of other current issues at the event, the seventh annual Phil Hart dinner.

On boxing: "Federal regulation and licensing would prevent promoters from moving from state to state to take advantage of the most lenient state laws." Hart is chairman of the Senate's anti-trust subcommittee, which held hearings on boxing after the City-Liston heavyweight championship bout.

On the "truth in packaging" bill now in committee: "It could save $250 a year for the average family. . . Packaging and labeling practices have improved, but I would like to see how many are concerned about giving consumers accurate and easily understood labeling after the threat of the bill is gone."

Werner said domestic retail deliveries of trucks and buses during January, February and March totaled 25,639 units, a 17 per cent increase over the similar period of 1963.

He said it was the biggest first-quarter sales total since 1951.

March deliveries paced the sales gain.

Werner stated that a total of 9,186 trucks and buses were delivered last month, compared with 7,512 in March a year ago.

Britain Makes Trade Offer

Will Open Doors to Have-Nots' Imports

GENEVA (AP) — Britain offered today to open its doors to duty-free imports of primary commodities from all the developing nations of the world and to extend to them tariff preferences now only applicable to the Commonwealth.

The British offer came in a 10-point plan presented to the U.N. Trade and Development Conference by Secretary of Trade and Industry Edward Heath.

Heath said that if the program was carried out, Commonwealth countries which suffered by sharing tariff preferences with other nations should receive compensation in other directions.

"We should therefore need to act in concert with the other major industrialized countries to ensure this is brought about," Heath told the 122-nation conference.

GREATER ACCESS

British sources said their government expected the United States and Europe to provide far greater access to goods from the developing nations, inside and outside the Commonwealth, in return for any such concessions.

Heath also stressed that where preferences are the subject of agreements with Commonwealth countries, Britain could not act without the consent of those governments.

The 10-point plan was outlined to a number of Commonwealth leaders in private weekend talks with Heath. It is expected to be a major subject for discussion at the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference in London in July.

Detroit Negro Gets High Post in White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named Detroit Negro attorney Hobart Taylor Jr. as the No. 2 White House legal officer — one of the highest ranking federal government posts ever assigned to a Negro.

Johnson announced Saturday that Taylor will become associate special counsel at the White House, sharing the No. 2 rank with Lee White. Meyer Feldman will become the No. 1 White House legal officer.

Taylor now is executive vice chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity. When he was vice president, Johnson served as the committee's chairman.

Japan Leads Tribute to Former Conqueror

TOKYO (AP) — A saddened Japan led the world tribute today to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, its wartime conqueror who led it to peace, prosperity and democracy.

A sense of sorrow also swept the Philippines and South Korea, two other Asian nations in whose destinies MacArthur was deeply involved, at the news of his death.

The Japanese government sent the nation's most beloved elder statesman, former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, to represent Japan at MacArthur's funeral.

"I cannot forget the great achievement of the general in rebuilding our nation out of the ashes of defeat," said Yoshida.

LAID FOUNDATION

"Out of the stringent food shortages, out of the confusion of our political, economic and social systems, and out of the insecurity of men's hearts, MacArthur laid the foundations for a new Japan which became the source of our nation's prosperity today."

In a message to President Johnson, Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda said the Japanese respected MacArthur "not only as a soldier but as a friend." Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako also sent their condolences.

On the streets of Japan, people remembered MacArthur particularly for bringing in huge quantities of food in the immediate postwar months to feed a destitute population.

"I think his occupation policy was right and proper, especially his decision to preserve the imperial household," said commentator Shigeru Araki, 62.

PHILIPPINES MOURN

In the Philippines, where MacArthur's wartime pledge "I shall return" gave bode during the Japanese occupation, President Diosdado Macapagal declared a period of national mourning.

"A source of courage in our darkest hour, Gen. MacArthur symbolized the highest degree of Philippine-American friendship and affection," Macapagal said in a message to Johnson. "Your loss is our loss. His name is deeply engraved in the hearts of all Filipinos."

The Philippine Senate recessed after unanimously adopting a resolution expressing the nation's grief.

Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, president of the University of the Philippines, former diplomat and one of MacArthur's wartime aides, said, "For the Philippines, to mention him is nearly to say all in Philippine-American friendship."

FINAL VISIT

MacArthur returned for a sentimental final visit to the Philippines in July 1961, receiving a tumultuous welcome and honorary Philippine citizenship.

South Korea's President Chung Hee Park said Koreans will remember MacArthur forever for "his contributions to their independence and democracy."

"Not only the United States

but the whole world has lost a most outstanding soldier and one of the greatest of statesmen," Park said.

Korea was the scene of MacArthur's last military campaign. He was removed from command of the U.N. forces in Korea in 1951 for opposing President Harry S. Truman's decision to limit the conflict to Korea.

MEMORIALIZED

New Zealand's Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake memorialized MacArthur as "one of the greatest commanders of the last war."

"His passing was keenly felt in New Zealand because his role as commander of the U.S. Army forces in the Pacific and the Far East was of decisive importance to the defense of New Zealand and the whole Pacific," Holyoake said in Wellington.

An Indian government spokesman said MacArthur was "one of those few great generals who proved themselves even greater administrators."

In Canberra, Australian Prime Minister Sir Robert G. Menzies said MacArthur was

"undoubtedly a great soldier, a man of remarkable talents and personality and he has an assured place in Australian history."

BEFORE CONQUEST

MacArthur set up his command post in Australia after fleeing the Philippines shortly before the Japanese conquest.

British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home described MacArthur as "one of the great soldiers of our time."

"In Britain, in the darkest days of the war, we admired the courage and tenacity of our pose which brought him up from defeat at Corregidor to lead the Allied forces to victory in the Pacific," Douglas-Home said.

Another Briton, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, said MacArthur "fought a wonderful campaign in the Pacific" and was "the best soldier the United States produced during World War II."

In Ottawa, Gen. Charles Foulkes, former chairman of the Canadian chiefs of staff, said MacArthur was "the most distinguished American soldier produced in the whole of United States history."

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) — A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma — the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma sticks, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN®, with two asthma-relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is free breathing is restored, tension eased and no fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to peaceful sleep.

Get BRONITIN® — available at all drug stores without prescription.

Foreign News Notes

Japan Not Sure Red Influence Slipping

By WILLIAM J. FOX
United Press International

A recent U. S. State Department report said Communist influence is declining in Asian countries, including Japan. The report said the Reds are losing ground in Japan. But the Japanese are not too sure.

They agree that Communist influence in the trade unions is diminishing. They also agree that the party has been split by the Sino-Soviet dispute. Yet, the Reds polled 1,500,000 votes in last fall's parliamentary elections — compared with 1 million in 1950.

They also increased their number of seats from three to five. The number of car-carrying Communists hit a low of 17,000 in 1950, but since has climbed back to 138,000.

In a country with a booming and widespread prosperity like Japan's, the best explanation is the simplest:

BERLIN TALKS

Western officials doubt that a new round of talks between West Berlin and East German representatives — reopening this Wednesday — will achieve agreement on passes for West Berliners to visit relatives in East Berlin.

The West Berlin government has agreed with the West German government it can not accept the main Communist condition — that the passes be issued by East German functionaries from offices in West Berlin.

FRENCH RIGHT

Extreme French Rightists are getting ready for the 1965 presidential campaign with a candidate of their own to fight both President Charles de Gaulle and Socialist Gaston Deferre.

He is prominent Paris trial lawyer Jean-Louis Tixier-Vigancourt, who was chief defense counsel for many of the Secret Army Organization leaders tried for terrorist opposition to de Gaulle's Algerian policies.

He will toss his hat into the ring with a news conference on April 20.

SINO-AMERICAN POLITICS

The Nationalist Chinese government will try again this year to keep its nose out of domestic American politics — but once again, it probably won't succeed.

There is no hiding the plain fact that Nationalist leaders are solidly pro-Republican, and the more conservative the Republican, the more "pro" they are.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon won their hearts when he defended the Nationalist position on the offshore islands in the 1960 debates with John F. Kennedy, and he is sure to get a warm reception when he arrives in Formosa for a three-day visit starting tomorrow.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, though a conservative, is not well-known in Taipei. On the Democratic side, President Johnson's stock dropped somewhat in the wake of the speech by Sen. William Fulbright warning that the United States should keep an "open door" to the possibility of improving relations with Red China.

Despite denials by the Johnson administration and the State Department that Fulbright was speaking only for himself as an individual, the Nationalists still have a lingering feeling that he was floating a trial balloon.
