Bill Earmarks Over $11 Million to Up Salaries

Measure Differs From Dem Proposal, Includes Maintenance Help

LANSING (AP)—The House passed by a 101-6 vote today a bill appropriating $11,500,000 to raise the salaries of Michigan's public school teachers, administrators and maintenance workers.

The bill, introduced by Rep. John J. McCune (R-East Lansing), would give school districts $9 for each pupil and would guarantee a $200 pay increase for teachers of rural one or two-room schools.

The measure, which now goes to the Senate, failed to meet the demands of Democrats for a guaranteed $200-a-year pay increase for all teachers as advocated by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Under the bill, school districts could allot the money as they saw fit, provided they use it for salaries of teachers, administrators or others.

The measure also doubles the amount appropriated for the teaching of mentally handicapped, from $1,680,000 to $2,369,200, and boosts the amount appropriated for teaching of physically handicapped from $310,800 to $621,600.

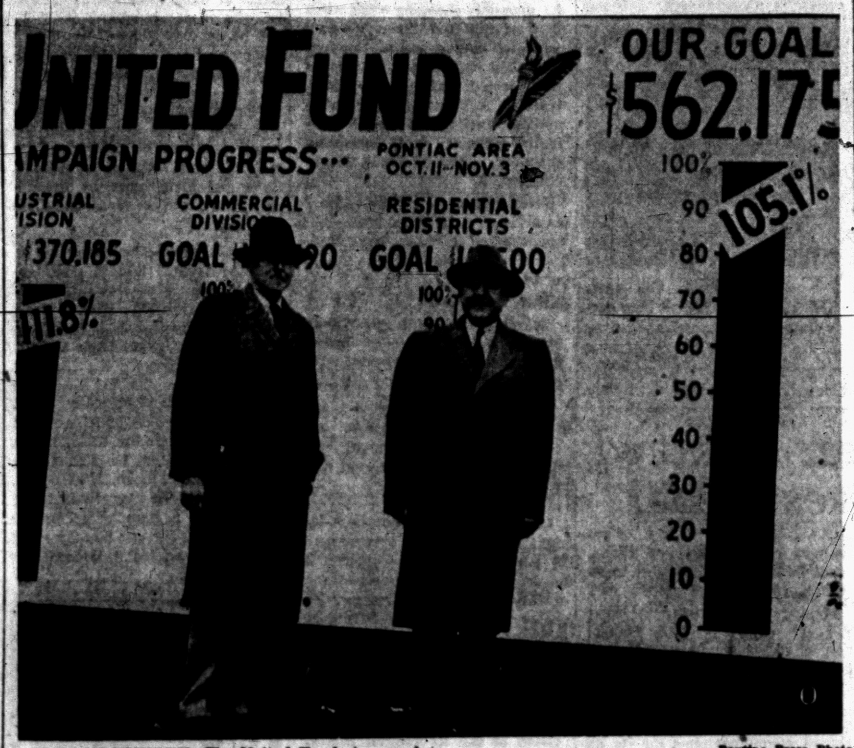

Meanwhile, an inter-chamber hassle loomed over a bill given preliminary approval by the House to provide emergency care for 1,725 mentally retarded children.

Both houses have passed resolutions which will force them to adjourn by midnight tonight and it appeared the legislators would need every minute of the time to clean up the work of their special session.

The institutional bill would authorize the state to lease the Ft. Custer Station Hospital, providing 800 beds at a cost of $982,000, buy

Sign Tells It — UF Over Top

SIGN OF VICTORY—The United Fund sign reads 105 per cent, and no one is happier than William B. Hartman, UF president, left, and campaign manager Robert M. Critchfield. This is the first time the drive has reached its goal without a time extension.

$562,175 Goal Passed Without Time Extension

Donations Climb $31,549 Over Need Established to Support Local Agencies

Hitting a resounding $593,724 total at yesterday's deadline, the Pontiac Area United Fund sailed $31,549 over its goal, Campaign Manager Robert M. Critchfield reported today.

The local drive reached the top without a time extension for the first time in its history, Critchfield told a jubilant gathering of more than 500 volunteer workers at a victory luncheon in the Elks Temple.

The total represents 105.5 per cent of the $562,175 goal, he stated.

"I would like to extend my personal thanks to all the people in the Pontiac, Waterford and Pontiac Township areas who have so generously supported our drive this year," he said.

"It is an extremely fine showing and indicative of the warm heartedness and generosity of the people of our area. I am also sure that this enthusiastic support of the 55 service organizations supported by the UF will heighten their resolve to even further increase the fine work which they do in our community."

Critchfield expressed appreciation to the group chairmen, captains and volunteer workers who "worked so hard to make the campaign a success."

"A great deal of credit for the fine showing this year must also go to the Pontiac Press, radio station WCAR and WPON, the Chamber of Commerce and merchants association for the enthusiastic support they gave us this year."

The campaign manager also congratulated the Industrial Division, which, he said, set the pace early in the drive and "inspired the whole campaign organization to greater efforts by reaching 113.7 per cent of goal."

The Industrial Division pledged $413,910, compared with a $370,185 quota.

Among the large employe gifts in the division were Pontiac Motor Division, $139,335.81—118 per cent of quota; GMC Truck and Coach Division, $77,046.34—103 per cent of quota; and Fisher Body Division, $47,515.50 — 121 per cent of quota.

The Geographic Division has hit 85.5 per cent of quota with contributions totaling $15,814.

Some $143,000 has been raised by the Commercial Division—98.2 per cent of quota.

10 Dig Out of Penitentiary

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — A mother-murderer and nine other tough inmates of the tumult-ridden Washington State Penitentiary escaped last night after weeks of tunneling through seven inches of concrete and 30 feet of earth.

The escape was discovered at a 7:30 p.m. change of guards, an estimated two hours after the 10 men had crawled through the 30-inch wide tunnel to liberty just outside the west wall.

And hours later, despite a widespread cordon of scores of police, assisted by four bloodhounds, no trace of the men had been found except tracks a half mile from the gaping hole in the prison side.

The tracks, leading into the surrounding rolling wheatlands, were multiple, and associate Warden David Gerechet said he believed the convicts had remained in a group at least that long.

Back in the prison the guards found a neat circular slab chiseled from the seven-inch-thick concrete floor of one of the cells. It led into an unused dirt floor basement. The 30-foot-long tunnel started there, running straight as a die to the exit point.

Only a few hand made digging tools were left behind. The dirt apparently had been flushed down prison toilets a bit at a time. Guards said the big chunk of concrete probably had been replaced each day by the felons after a night of digging.

One of the men who escaped was William B. Bracey, 26, who shot his mother at Tacoma two years ago when she refused him the use of the family automobile. He was serving 30 years for second degree murder.

The mass breakout was another in a series of riots, fires, strikes and other disorders which have rocked the prison the past several years.

* * *

Twice this year the institution has been upset by riots, one of which lasted two days and during which a number of guards were held as hostages.

* * *

An almost steady stream of convicts has escaped from the sprawling brick and concrete institution which houses 1,600 prisoners. Two years ago, more than a million dollars damage was caused when hundreds of inmates rioted, setting fire to the big metals plant in which the state manufactured its automobile license plates.

* * *

The area surrounding the prison is largely farm acreage, much of it planted to wheat. It is bisected, however, by several streams and creeks and the Walla Walla River.

U. S. Urges Talks

Israel Beats Back Attack by Two Egyptian Platoons

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel said two Egyptian platoons today attacked an Israeli advanced position near the lower sector of the Gaza Strip. No action was reported along the El Auja-Nizana zone border where a bloody battle was fought yesterday.

An official Israeli spokesman said the Israelis beat back the Egyptians with rifle and machinegun fire and suffered no casualties.

Both sides claimed they held the strategic El Sabha checkpost in the El Auja-Nizana zone, scene of a 17-hour battle yesterday described as the heaviest fighting between Arabs and Jews since the 1948 Palestine War. El Auja is about 50 miles south of Gaza.

The El Sabha fighting brought these other developments:

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold gave Egyptian and Israeli representatives at U.N. headquarters in New York a new peace plan for the border region.

It called for withdrawal of Egyptian troops from the zone and the setting up of permanent markers along the triangular area's borders.

In Washington, the U. S. State Department urged Israel and Egypt to hold high level peace talks instead of trying to shoot out their "explosive" border dispute.

The United States announced that it supports the call of Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion for direct talks between the governments of Israel and Egypt to find a way to avoid war.

Forecast Good Labor Situation

Employment Head Says Higher Work Levels in Store Locally

Good business in the Pontiac area for the rest of 1955 was forecast today by James H. Dudley, manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission office here.

"Beginning next week, there is going to be a labor shortage," said Dudley. "And I would say it will run over into the new year," he added.

Figures released by Dudley show employment levels at 80,600. And through mid-December an increase of 1,000 workers is anticipated, he said.

The majority of the increase will be accounted for by the Christmas sales boom, Dudley stated. Motor vehicle plants have scheduled an increase of 700 employes.

Dudley said the majority of short-term Christmas jobs will be filled mainly by new entrants into the labor market—housewives, students and part-time workers.

Currently, the unemployed — numbered at 2,500—make up just less than three per cent of the total labor force. Dudley termed the percentage "very low." It compares with 3.1 for September and August and 6.2 in October, 1954.

Dudley reported that unemployment insurance volume jumped sharply in October, reflecting the brief model change layoffs of 13,500 workers.

By mid-October, production and employment had returned to the pre-model change level of September, he said.

Willingness Seen Keynote as Advisory Council Meets

The willingness to help of a Pontiac High School coed was enthusiastically received by civic-minded citizens as the "keynote" of their meeting last night.

Miss Patricia Zielke was among 100 persons of the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council, meeting to elect executive officers and committeemen. She said: "We young people have enjoyed the city's facilities; now what can we do to help?"

Mayor William W. Donaldson replied, "That's the purpose of this group. We're here to develop the leadership which we've lacked in the past, so that people who want to help will be able to."

The Council seeks to enlist support of all organizations in the area to help solve community needs. Miss Zielke was a representative of the International Order of Job's Daughters.

Organized this year, membership in the community group is open to all citizens.

Projects brought up before the meeting included employment of the handicapped, civil defense, recreational facilities for persons of all ages and a civic auditorium.

Study committees for these and other problems will be appointed by the executive board.

Elected to the board last night were Fred V. Haggard, president;

Ike, Gen. Taylor to Meet Today

Hagerty Says That Visit Will Be Purely Social With Wives Attending

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower, able to dine outside his hospital room now, looked forward to a social visit today with Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff.

The White House said the two old service friends planned no discussion of national defense problems, and added they would be joined by their wives at the late afternoon meeting.

"It will be purely social," said James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary.

Taylor, named chief of staff by Eisenhower a few months ago, is on an inspection tour of U. S. military installations.

Tomorrow the President will be visited at Fitzsimons Army Hospital by another old comrade in arms, Field Marshall Viscount Montgomery of Great Britain, deputy commander of North Atlantic Defense Forces in Europe.

Then on Sunday the President will get definite word whether he can leave the hospital and fly back to Washington a week from today, as planned tentatively by the physicians at Fitzsimons.

The President now has discarded his wheel chair and is being permitted to walk anywhere he pleases on his floor, including out onto the sun deck. He did so for the first time yesterday, and he also dined outside his room for the first time.

For luncheon of prime ribs of beef, Eisenhower, in pajamas and a robe, walked about 60 feet from his own room to one which members of his family and White House aides have used occasionally as a dining place. He was joined there for the meal by the First Lady.

Arthritis May End Domestic Lion's Traveling Career

HERSHER, Ill. (AP) — Tex, the traveling lion that has been plagued by arthritis, is seriously ill and not expected to recover.

Miss Bobbyetta Porter, 29, who raised him from a cub, said special veterinarians hold out no hope for his recovery.

Tex weighed 325 pounds when he became ill a month ago. Now, he has lost weight and is on a diet of milk and eggs.

Tex was taken from his special cage adjoining the Porter's living room and given the run of the house, two weeks ago but this special privilege failed to boost him. He sleeps on a special bed next to the davenport.

Bobbyetta bought Tex from a Texas animal dealer when he was 3-months-old. She equipped the station wagon with bars so she could take him for rides.

He went with the family to Florida this spring. They had hoped the warmer weather would help his arthritis.

Warmer Predicted After First Snowfall

Warmer weather will be enjoyed in Michigan tonight and tomorrow following the season's first big winter storm.

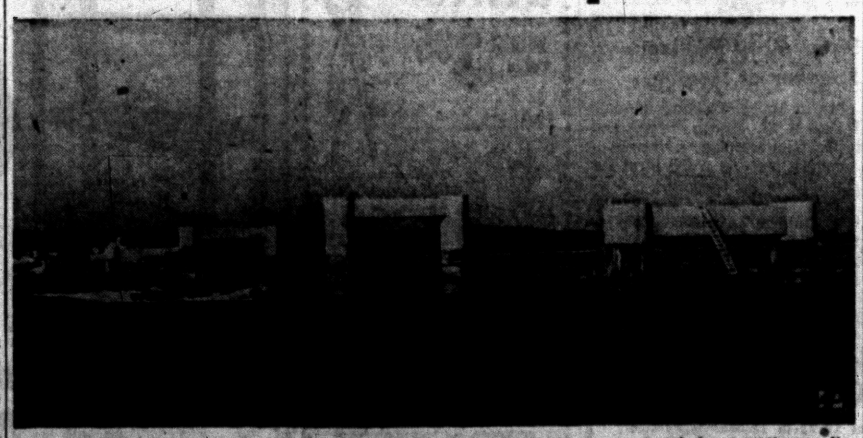

The low tonight will range from 32 to 36 degrees. The high tomorrow will be from 46 to 50 degrees. It will also be partly cloudy according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Winds up to 52 m.p.h. lashed the state yesterday, bringing snow up to eight inches deep in the top half of the lower peninsula.

U.S. 27, a main artery to the Straits of Mackinac, was completely cut off from traffic for four hours when eight inches of snow drifting two feet covered previous ice on the road, making it impassible.

The lowest temperature preceeding 8 a.m. was 30 degrees. The downtown temperature at 2 p.m. was 34.

Piers and Foundations Span Straits

SEASON'S WORK NEARLY DONE—Nearing fulfilment of one of the Mackinac bridge 1955 construction season objectives, piers and main suspension bridge foundations now stretch in a continuous line across the straits. The St. Ignace causeway is at left.

To Hold Ruling on Sewer Case

Judge Black Asked to Delay His Opinion on Drain Controversy

Port Huron Circuit Judge Eugene F. Black told the Press today he will withhold his opinion on the Pontiac-Waterford Township sewer dispute until Nov. 19 allowing the two units time to negotiate.

Judge Black heard the case as a visiting judge here Oct. 24 through 26.

In the suit filed Aug. 31 Pontiac contended Waterford illegally seeks to hook a sewer line from a planned shopping center at the northwest corner of Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Rds. in the township to the Pontiac system.

The attempt violates a 1935 agreement between the two units, the city alleged. It claimed that under the agreement all plans for changes, enlargements or additions to the system must be approved by the City Commission and said approval was not given in the disputed instance.

Waterford maintained the line was not an enlargment, but a connection.

Judge Black said he received a phone call from Waterford Attorney John W. Bell who said the two units are attempting to negotiate a new sewer agreement which would solve the problem. Bell asked the judge to hold back his decision two weeks, he said.

"My opinion is already prepared," Judge Black stated. "But if the opposing attorneys file a formal request with the Oakland County Clerk stating their reasons for wanting a delay, I'll wait until Nov. 19 to mail my findings.

"But regardless of whether their negotiations are successful the opinion will be filed."

Flying Fan, 79, Reserves Seat on Atlantic Jet

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—The man who held the first airline ticket for flights across the Atlantic and the North Pole reported today his bid for commercial transatlantic jet flight No. 1.

Said the enterprising, 79-year-old William J. Eck:

"As soon as I learned that Pan American has ordered jet transports and will use them between North America and Europe, I went down and reserved a seat on he first flight."

"The jet planes won't get into service for 2½ or 3 years yet, but that's not too far ahead for a reservation."

Eck flew in Pan American's new Dixie Clipper from Port Washington, N.Y., to the Azores and Europe June 28, 1939, on the first scheduled transatlantic service. He returned on the first westbound flight.

How about a first flight on a space satellite? Eck called a halt on that one.

"I don't want to go any place I can't return from," he said. "Life's too good."

Brother, Sister Struck by Auto

Barbara, Arthur Wyatt Treated, Released After Crossing Mishap

A Pontiac brother and sister were hit by a car yesterday on their way to school.

Ten-year-old Barbara Wyatt and her five-year-old brother, Arthur, of 162 E. Pike St., were crossing the intersection of East Pike and Union streets when they were hit by Nichols Vetters, of 2863 Midvale St.

Police said today Vetters, who is charged with reckless driving, was going too fast to stop when the light changed. Skidding, he passed a stationary car on the right side, crossing the white line and hitting Barbara and Arthur as they stepped off the curb.

The children were treated and released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Their mother, Mrs. Fairvell Wyatt, recalling the deaths of Glenn and Helen Best a week ago, said today she "thanked God" her children were not seriously injured.

"It didn't have to happen," she said. "People have no business driving that fast through a school zone."

Vetters appeared in Municipal Court yesterday. He pleaded not guilty to the reckless driving charge, and was released on $100 bond by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

He is due to appear again Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

House OKs Raises for School Systems

the private Children's Hospital at Farmington at a cost of $1,268,965 and buy the Oakland County TB Sanatorium for $2,618,563.

With construction of addition at the Mount Pleasant Home and Training School and the Goldwater Home and Training School, it would provide emergency care for 2,095 mentally retarded children.

Most House members were pessimistic over the bill's chances in the Senate, however. The upper chamber firmly rejected a proposal to buy the Farmington hospital and there appeared little chance that Senators would buy the House plan without a stiff fight.

State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said today he will oppose as being "premature" an immediate appropriation to buy the Oakland County TB Sanatorium.

"It would take six months to transfer patients and renovate the structure. We need immediate housing. I will press for the state's leasing the TB annex, which is vacant and could house at least 75 youngsters immediately.

"Oakland officials need time to set a fair price on the main building and decide where they will move tuberculosis patients. If the whole institution is to be sold, the move should be considered during the regular session beginning in January after a thorough study is made."

Thus, the bill appeared headed for a conference committee, with some speculation that this would delay the windup of the session.

House committees killed a Senate-approved bill to make drivers guilty of reckless driving if they cross a yellow line to pass another car.

Also killed by a House Committee was a bill to make auto safety belts mandatory.

Legislature Kills Chemical Tests for Drunkenness

LANSING (AP)—Watered down by the Senate, a Republican sponsored bill to legalize the use of chemical tests for drunkenness went down the legislative drain in a house committee.

The measure, which had the backing of Gov. Williams, was killed by the House Judiciary Committee, whose members said they thought it would accomplish very little.

It would have allowed motorists to volunteer for chemical tests of the blood, breath, urine or saliva to determine the amount of alcohol in the body.

It provided that persons with less than .05 per cent alcohol in the blood would be considered sober. But a higher percentage of alcohol would not have been proof of drunkenness.

Supporters explained that the bill would allow motorists to establish sobriety by submitting to the tests.

Vander Werp's original bill would have required motorists to submit to the tests if arrested for drunk driving. It stipulated that drivers with more than .15 per cent alcohol in their blood were to be considered drunk.

Hoodlum-Stock Idea Rejected by Council

LONDON (INS) — A suggestion that hoodlums should be placed in old-fashioned stocks was recently rejected by The Chalfont St. Giles council — because the stocks would not last long enough.

Chalfont St. Giles has suffered badly from damaged street lamps, demolished brick walls, broken fences and windows, and the council was discussing whether "civic pride should form part of the school curriculum in an effort to stop hooliganism."

The idea of stocks was offered by councilman Ken Murison as a measure which would assist in stamping out hooliganism.

But colleague Harry Bowman said the stocks would probably meet the same fate as other property and would not last long.

ACCEPTS AWARD — Mrs. Eliel Saarinen accepts the Founders Medal in behalf of her late husband, the famous Finnish architect, from George S. Booth, chairman of Cranbrook Foundation. Founders of Cranbrook Academy, where Mr. Saarinen served 25 years, were George G. Booth and Ellen Scripps Booth, portrayed in the oil painting above.

Eliel Saarinen Honored; Widow Receives Medal

Cranbrook's late Eliel Saarinen, "architect of buildings and ideas," was posthumously honored yesterday at the institution which he helped make famous for beauty, art and study.

During an informal ceeremony in Cranbrook House, his widow accepted in his behalf the Founders Medal, an award from the Cranbrook Foundation. The medal reads:

"To Eliel Saarinen, who as architect of buildings and ideas, contributed much to our institution, 1873-1950."

Making the presentation, Henry S. Booth, chairman of the Foundation, cited Saarinen's contributions to Cranbrook.

* * *

"He helped establish a broad social concept of architecture and placed stepping stones for its advancement," Booth said.

Recalling that the architect during his lifetime refused any honors, Booth said, "We just couldn't conceive of a founders Medal without having him receive it."

Saarinen, who died July 1, 1950, served Cranbrook since 1925, first as designer of many school buildings and then as head of the Architectural Department of Cranbrook Academy.

* * *

He was famous as a city-planner and designed prize-winning buildings in several parts of the world.

The Founders Medal, new this year, was also awarded to Carl Milles, the late Swedish sculptor, and Michael Vittraino, head gardener at Cranbrook for 50 years.

Dec. 5 Chosen for Men to Do Christmas Shopping

BIRMINGHAM — It may seem shocking to the men in town to learn today, Nov. 4, that they have only one day in which to do their Christmas shopping, but it's a fact as far as the merchants are concerned.

Fortunately, that particular date happens to still be 25 days away, since Dec. 5 was the date announced yesterday for the annual "Men's Night" here.

Gentlemen who started the for-men-only shopping habit when it was initiated three years ago are well aware of the fact that they can spend the 7 to 10 p.m. period making their selections at a leisurely pace, minus the hustle and bustle normally connected with Christmas shopping, explained Aaron Kershenbaum.

Kershenbaum heads the committee arranging the stag night, which is sponsored by the Retail Merchants' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

WORKING ALSO

Working with him are Wilbur Mason, James Cousens, James Kilpatrick, James Schmidt, Arthur Lake and Martin Frank.

"We plan on the largest crowd ever," said Kershenbaum, and added that the fourth annual event will have almost 100 per cent merchant participation.

Recreation Board members last night continued their screening of 18 job applications received thus far for the newly created positions of City Recreation Director. The choice was narrowed to seven, but the board will meet again Wednesday to review any new applications and begin a job analysis.

The director will work as a middle man under direct supervision of the Recreation Board, coordinating recreational facilities between school and city.

Work was also started on a time schedule for operating the Eton Park Ice Skating Rink. This, and the rink operating budget, will be on Monday's City Commission agenda.

As outlined, the rink would be in use for recreational skating from 1:30 to 5:30 and 7 to 9:30 p.m. week days, plus longer hours on Friday nights and weekends. This would leave the rink available most mornings for special skating event requests.

The "hello" at the other end of the telephone may seem a little cheerier these days if the caller has dialed any Municipal Building personnel. On Wednesday, employees embarked on the first of three sessions in a refresher public relations course, this one on telephone courtesy.

Basil Vernier, of Bell Telephone Co., presented the illustrated lecture. Ray Hayes of the public relations staff of General Motors, will conduct a Nov. 16 class on meeting the public.

The course, similar to one given in 1951, will conclude on Nov. 30, with an administrative employe panel discussion on complaint procedures.

Kathleen Pikel, children's librarian at Baldwin Library, has announced her reading selections for tomorrow's 10:30 a.m. half-hour story period for kindergartners through six graders, which are, "The Talking Pot," a Danish fairy tale, and a favorite, "Toads and Diamonds."

Birmingham Gun Club's clubhouse in Commerce Township will be open all day tomorrow for what will be the only shoot of the month for members and friends, according to Warren E. Bertolet.

It was yesterday after L. R. Walser of Ferndale had his wallet returned through the mail, minus $18 in cash, that he reported a pick pocketing incident to police. Walser said he recalled being bumped by a man while in the Birmingham Theater Sunday night and discovered his wallet missing shortly after.

Road Committee Kills Bill Aimed to Halt Freeways

LANSING (AP)—The House Roads and Bridges Committee has discarded the Clements bill to abandon highway construction projects which would "compete" with the proposed Saginaw-Flat Rock toll road.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville), would have deleted the relocation of US10, US16 and other four-lane arterial construction authorized by the last session of the Legislature.

Clements said the bill had "served its purpose" in informing the public that the Legislature has required construction of "competing" highways.

Clements, himself a member of the Roads and Bridges Committee, said State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zeigler "has a mandate from the Legislature to build these freeways through the heavily populated corridor between Detroit and Saginaw.

"If freeways in their area are not built so that the turnpike could be constructed," he said, "these people would be forced to contribute to roads out-state but would have to drive over toll roads themselves."

Zeigler proposes building a free expressway roughly paralleling the proposed turnpike.

Sister Mary William Speaker at Meeting

Sister Mary William, administrator of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, this morning addressed a breakfast meeting of the First Friday Club at the hospital.

The 60-member organization is a Catholic Laymen's group established here in 1940. Its members come from Pontiac-area parishes.

President of the club is Harold E. Brady, assistant administrator of the hospital.

Princess Meg Joins Family at Gathering

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret last night joined the other members of Britain's royal family at a glittering presentation party given by her sister, Queen Elizabeth II, at Buckingham Palace.

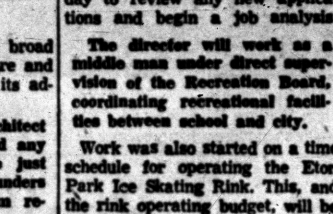

* * *

It was the first social function for the 25-year-old Princess since she announced she would not marry divorced commoner Peter Townsend.

And Group Capt. Peter Townsend flew off to his "exile's" post in Brussels today putting the English Channel between him and the princess he had loved and lost.

There was no one at the airport to shed tears. No "royal" farewell was accorded him. It was a quiet and simple departure.

Takes Brain Work to Prepare Problem

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University psychologists say that people do more brain work preparing to solve a problem than in actually solving it.

Dr. D. M. Johnson, department head, said this finding is contrary to previously-held theories.

He said it was established by ringing a doorbell to distract volunteer students as they read a set of problems and again as they worked out the answers.

"Errors made in the test were more frequent when distraction came in the preparation period than when it came in the response period," he said. "As the preparation becomes more complete, the response become more automatic. We may say that the activity of the preparation period is intellectual, while the activity of the response period approaches, in the simplest case, a prepared reflex."

EAST LANSING (AP) — H. Clay Tate, editor of the Daily Pantograph of Bloomington, Ill., will address the annual Community Newspaper Editorial Conference at Michigan State University Nov. 11.

Ohio Crash Kills Two Michigan Men

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—Two Michigan men were killed last night when the car in which they were riding crashed head-on with a tractor-trailer on U. S. 20 at nearby Monroeville.

Dead were Walter M. Egler, 41, of New Boston and James T. Kemp, about 30, who was identified by a card, found on his person, from the Ypsilanti State Hospital.

State highway patrolmen said the crash occurred when the Michigan car, heading east, sped around a curve and went into the middle of the road. The truck driver, Bob Bittner, 30, of Clyde, Ohio, was taken to a hospital in fair condition with multiple cuts and bruises.

$1,406,420 U.S. Surplus Distributed in Michigan

LANSING (AP)—The state has distributed federal surplus property valued at $1,406,420 to Michigan schools and hospitals in the past fiscal year.

State Controller James W. Miller said the local recipients paid $94,279 in freight, warehouse and administration costs to get the property, ranging from tools and trucks to land and buildings.

Miller said he understood that larger amounts of surplus will be available in the future.

May Lose in Politics but Not in Business

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — The Republican City Committee wants Richmond to elect Bert Keller mayor next Tuesday because "you can trust folks who love flowers."

The committee in an advertisement yesterday praised at considerable length the virtues of folks who love flowers.

If the advertisement doesn't elect Keller it still may help him in his business. He's a florist.

$73 Million Contract on Tanks Given Alco

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says a 73-million-dollar contract for M48 Medium Patton Tanks has been awarded to Alco Products Inc., of Schenectady, N.Y.

An Army spokesman said yesterday Alco, formerly American Locomotive Co., outbid Chrysler Corp. for the contract. Deliveries are scheduled to begin June 1, 1956.

The Army said Continental Engine Co. of Muskegon, Mich., will supply engines for the tanks under a $15,700,000 separate contract.

Reuther Calls for Arms to Combat Communism

LANSING (AP) — CIO President Walter Reuther told a Lansing audience last night this country's fight against communism "is not old-fashioned struggle for geographic areas, but for men's hearts and minds."

"We must remain armed to combat communism," Reuther told an audience at the new Lansing Civic Auditorium during dedication services. "The Russian smile is only a shift in tactics," he said.

Reuther said the United States must fight communism with "every social, political and economic weapon at its command."

Vicar Is Cause of Divided Village Over Public Job

LONDON — Arguments are raging in the Shropshire village of Sheriffhales-cum-Woodcote, England, since Rev. Robbie Giles, the vicar, was named chairman of the Midland Electricity Consultative Council. With the job goes a salary of $2,100 a year.

Says one school of thought: "People won't like this. What a waste of public funds! The vicar should visit parishioners more instead of sitting on a council."

Responds the other school: "He's a good'un, is our vicar. He's got to earn a living somehow. Good luck to him. Anyway, who wants a vicar visiting your house and noseing about?"

Rev. Giles, vicar at Sheriffhales-cum-Woodcote for 22 years, seems unworried. He has been a member of Shropshire County Council for 20 years, a county alderman since 1950 and is active in British Legion affairs.

Free Lancing Policeman Arrests Drunk Driver

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Edward F. Lopez, 63, paid $100 and costs in court yesterday because of a motorcyclist who made a citizen's arrest.

The motorcyclist, James A. Harper, 25, said he saw Lopez brush a car while driving, "so I followed him and made him stop."

County police charged Lopez with failing to stop to render aid and public drunkenness in a car.

The failing-to-stop charge was filed away and Lopez, a machinist, was fined on the drunkenness charge.

Promoted to Detective

EAST LANSING (AP) — The State Police today promoted trooper Frederick M. Carpenter of its Houghton Lake Post to the rank of detective and transferred him to the Erie Post.

Seventy thousand pounds of ink and 7,000,000 pounds of paper were needed this year to print the 56,000,000 basic personal income-tax forms, No. 1040.

Oklahoma to Observe Will Rogers' Birthday

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma today observed the birthday of the late Will Rogers, world famed humorist, with an official state holiday.

All state offices will be closed by proclamation of Gov. Raymond Gary. Rogers, whose droll wit and homespun philosophy endeared him to all America, was killed in a plane crash more than 20 years ago in Alaska along with his flying companion, Wiley Post. He was 56 at the time of his death.

The nation's annual game crop is now estimated to be in excess of 450 million pounds dressed weight.

Dutiful Police Chief Gets 2 Overparking Tickets

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP) — Police Chief Wallace Flannery knows his men are following his standing order to make no exceptions in tagging cars for overparking.

Twice this week Flannery has driven into a parking space and then walked into a nearby store to get change for the meter. Both times he found tickets on his car.

After paying the second 50-cent fine yesterday, the chief said: "The order still stands."

Education Week Set

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has proclaimed the week of Nov. 6-12 as Education Week in Michigan. He urged citizens to acquaint themselves better with the needs and problems of the schools.

School Boards Oppose $200 Raise for Teachers

So far there has been little or no public discussion of Governor Williams' proposal to raise Michigan school teachers' pay $200.

That doesn't mean, however, that the Governor's idea of taking the necessary funds out of the State's current operating surplus isn't opposed. It is opposed by several school boards in this part of Michigan, according to Louis H. Schimmel, president of Pontiac Board of Education and widely known tax expert.

★ ★ ★

When questioned by the Press, Mr. Schimmel not only expressed his opposition to the plan but added that we "could say so out loud." In discussing the question further, Mr. Schimmel made it clear that he is no foe of fair salaries for school teachers. It is his opinion, however, that the $200 proposal is purely a political maneuver aimed at luring teachers' votes.

★ ★ ★

Continuing, Mr. Schimmel explained why the raise is opposed by several school boards in this part of Michigan. Because it is only a one year proposal, he said, it puts the school boards on the spot. Next year, if there isn't another $200 from the same source, the boards will be under terrific pressure from teachers to raise their pay by that amount and the teachers won't care where the money comes from.

★ ★ ★

Because there has been no public discussion of this issue, what the Republican controlled Legislature will do with it remains to be seen. In view of its controversial nature, however, and its $10,200,000 cost for the State's 51,000 teachers, it obviously should have most careful consideration.

34 Michigan Passengers Saved by Alert Flier

Thirty-four Michigan residents quite properly are singing the praises of an alert Eastern Air Lines pilot, Capt. Dave Shriner.

The Miami flier was in charge of a DC7B Golden Falcon on a scheduled nonstop flight from Detroit to Miami. About 120 miles north of Charlotte, N. C. the plane's left outside motor caught fire.

When the builtin fire fighting equipment failed to conquer the blaze, Capt. Shriner's sound judgment came into play. He decided to land at Charlotte and did so without injury to any of the passengers. There they were breakfasted and within an hour were on their way in a second plane.

Credit is due the plane's pilot and crew whose calm efficiency reassured the passengers during the 15 to 20 minutes of grave danger. It is wise judgment like this which, no doubt, helps build the wonderful safety record of our commercial airlines.

Traffic Crisis Upon Us

For fresh convincing proof that the need for modern new highways becomes more imperative annually, consider Pennsylvania's turnpike.

In the 12 months ending July 31 the oldest of a now impressive network of toll roads carried 15,342,000 vehicles. Far more important, that total is 23 per cent greater than for the previous 12 months.

There can be no question of considering this increase a natural development on a new road just coming into its own. The fact is that the center section of the Pennsylvania turnpike, pioneer among toll roads, is 15 years old.

Instead, there is no escaping the conclusion that the Nation's long predicted traffic crisis isn't coming. It's here.

Israel's First Liner

Arrival in New York of the S. S. Israel was a maritime event of more than ordinary interest.

Not only is this modern 10,500 ton vessel Israel's first ocean liner, but it re-establishes direct passenger shipping service to the Holy Land.

The Israel's arrival was noteworthy also for one small item in its cargo, an 1,822 year old coin sent as a gift from the Mayor of Haifa to New York's Mayor Wagner. The coin was struck during the era of Bar Kochba's insurrection against the Roman rulers.

The liner itself reflects the energetic young republic's realization of the importance of international trade and its value in maintaining friendly relations with the United States.

Ready for Winter

Farmers, Others Dependent on Weather Quite Happy

Double chin: Putting on weight—or two women getting together.

The first snow of the season finds our farmers and others who are dependent on the weather all quite prepared for it. Every farmer agrees that the young wheat never had a better stand for the coming of winter. Its growth in recent weeks has been truly marvelous. This year's crops are all secured, thanks to the delayed frost, and in the words of a prominent Oakland County farmer, "Never were we in better shape at this season." The work of putting up the snow fences beside the main highways has been completed, plenty of ice removing material is ready, and the snow plows have been repainted and put in top condition, and are poised for the work we all hope they will not have to do.

A Relaxed World

James Marlow Says:

GOP and Dem Administrations Accused of Curtailing Flow of Legitimate News

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials in both the Truman and Eisenhower administration have put blocks in the way of a fully free flow of information from government agencies when the information did not involve national security.

Both Democrats and Republicans, depending upon which of them was running the government at the time, have accused each other of suppressing legitimate news.

* * *

Newspapermen — particularly through the American Society of Newspaper Editors and the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., have banged away at the government, seeking to force out more information.

In the past two days the Eisenhower administration got a double jolt on this score: From a congressional committee and from a special report of the American Civil Liberties Union which studied the problem.

* * *

And next week the House committee starts public hearings in its investigation of alleged news suppression. That investigation will last into 1956.

During the Korean War — in September 1951 — President Truman set up strict controls on the release of information from government agencies which might aid the enemy. This covered all of the government.

Truman said no censorship was intended, and he instructed agency heads not to use his order to suppress nonsecurity information or cover up mistakes. This left a great many editors unsatisfied. They blistered Truman's order.

* * *

They considered the order so broad that it was like an umbrella under which agency heads could conceal information that was embarrassing to them or which they didn't want known for other reasons that did not involve security.

Late in 1953 President Eisenhower narrowed down the field of government agencies which had had the right under Truman's order to withhold information. He took it away from 29 agencies, but still left it with 16.

* * *

Under Eisenhower's order, information supposedly was to be withheld only if its release endangered security. It could be withheld only if it was marked "top secret," "secret," or "confidential." That seemed simple enough.

But the ACLU in a 70-page report yesterday said all Eisenhower's order did was eliminate some of the "more glaring absurdities" in Truman's order. These two orders of Truman and Eisenhower were the background for what follows.

This year the Democratic-run Government Operations Committee of the House instructed a subcommittee — headed by Rep. Moss (D-Calif)—to investigate the whole government's handling of information. Monday it begins hearings.

* * *

But in getting ready for these hearings Moss' group last summer sent a list of 30 questions to 63 executive agencies about their information policies . . . on Wednesday the subcommittee issued a 352-page summary of the replies.

This summary showed that about 30 classifications have been added by the individual agencies to the three which Eisenhower authorized.

* * *

Here are some of the classifications being used by agencies to keep information away from newsmen and the public: Not for publication; official use only; for administrative use only; for official distribution; administratively restricted.

Yesterday the ACLU produced its report on government suppression of news. It had commissioned a New York newspaperman, Allen Raymond, to do the job because freedom of information is basic in the ACLU's work and operations.

Raymond turned out a highly critical study. He said: "Invisible government is now worse than at any time in many years. These abuses have curtailed the power of the press and of Congress itself to be of service to the people by finding out what goes on in government."

* * *

The report said it is a fair consensus among Washington correspondents that abuses of the power in federal agencies to suppress information of value and interest to the nation were "never so rampant as now."

That meant the Eisenhower administration was worse than Truman's in holding back information. While he was at it, Raymond took a crack at Congress for the many times its committees make important decisions on legislation behind closed doors which prevent the public from knowing who said or did what.

It Takes More Than Soap, Hot Water for Safe Dishes

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

"Oh, Grandma, you have to eat a peck of dirt before you die!" we used to reply when Grandma saw us diving into the watermelon after a summer's game of One-old-cat. "Tch, Tch, child, those hands!" But grand mother subsided.

* * *

Today's grandmother ought to know better. Today's housewife certainly should. But do you? Even educated persons have the mistaken notion that if the water is hot enough, the dishes will be clean.

True enough boiling the dishes for three minutes would sterilize them, but no tap water can do that trick. It's the soap, madam, the soap and plenty of it, that does the cleaning. Soap is a detergent. Detergo means to cleanse.

Now you may scrub your dishes with soap, but what of the smiling and dangerous helper, standing by with the tea-towel you used yesterday for wiping up spills? What hostess has the gall to request a guest to wash his hands before helping her with dishes?

* * *

You wash; the guest who just played with the dog, dries; the guest who came to your party although he should have stayed in bed with his "cold" puts the dishes away. By now the jig is up. If you prefer your family to the insurance they might realize, here's what to do:

WASH HANDS FIRST

Brush dishes clean of food particles. Wash in very soapy water. Rinse in hot water. Leave to drain dry. Wash hands with soap before washing dishes. Wash hands before handling dry dishes. If you insist upon drying use a towel freshly laundered, not one you've used to wipe the dog's paws or the baby's nose.

Table settors need freshly washed hands. Waiters and waitresses should not handle money and means with the same hands used to serve your plate. No reputable restaurant or home would allow glasses to be grasped by the drinking rim. If you see this done, ask for a straw. Never accept a glass whose rim is notched, cracked or otherwise a harbouring-place for lipstick and associated smears.

And remember, soap is the cleansing agent. Soap, not hot water. If you prefer one of the available detergents to soap it is equally efficient as cleanser and disinfectant.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Dog owners, attention. It is the time of year that we should inspect the old dog house for draft and water leaks. A good flap should be placed over the door.

When you are in that nice, warm bed, try to picture your pal and most loyal friend out there half frozen. A little half hour on that dog house will do more good than most anything you could do. It will make you feel better, too.

And don't forget, he would do anything he could for you.

One Who Asks Only Fair Play.

Finds Another 'Scrooge' on Halloween Journey

Halloween is over for 1955 and, lo and behold, we have unearthed another Scrooge, only this one doesn't look at all like Scrooge. He is rather young and nice looking, and he had carved a large pumpkin and placed it in the picture window, as though to invite the youngsters to his door.

That pumpkin, however, was a false sign, for when the small fry called lustily, "Trick or Treat!" he bounced from his TV chair, flung open the door and snarled, "don't you know what time it is . . . 7:30! You should have been done with this nonsense at 7:00!" Then he banged the door in their startled young faces.

We, tagging along in the car due to our concern over recent attacks on little folks, heard the snarl and felt sorry to discover one of our neighbors with such an unsavory disposition. We were a bit rueful, too, that we had insisted our kids leave all soap at home.

We pondered that such a young man could really have grown so old in spirit as to have forgotten his youth and the fun of Halloween. Of course, he may have been one of those unfortunate individuals denied the privilege of such fun in his childrood.

I do hope he will be able to see through his windows in the morning. The sunrise is so inspirational.

It's Better to Loan Cash Than to Guarantee Credit

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

As a result of heavy buying of homes, appliances and automobiles, consumer debt is at a new peak, but the official statistics understate the actual loan. For the published figures do not include personal loans made by friends and individuals to those in need.

One hard-boiled man, whenever he is approached for a "touch," says: "I have an agreement with my bank. It will not compete with me in making pants, and I in turn agree to stay out of the personal loan business."

But Frank Scully, the author, in his new autobiography entitled "Cross My Heart" (Greenberg), has a different set of operating rules.

Reporting about a friendly interchange with J. P. McEvoy, the writer, Scully says: He (McEvoy) wanted to know what a job like mine on Variety paid. I bragged and said $50 a week, $10 over what it did pay.

"'What are your ideas on borrowing and lending?'

"'Well,' I said, 'I give what I wouldn't miss, instead of loaning what I couldn't afford to lose. If a guy needs a dollar and I need a haircut, another few weeks without a haircut would not bother me particularly.

"'If it's big money they want, I at least start them on their way with, say five dollars. I did that for a fellow only yesterday. He was really in a jam.

SORT OF FLATTERING

"'You know, it's sort of flattering in a depressing way to have friends who think you are better off than they are. I mean if someone does not think of me as sick and crippled, he is giving my morale a boost, and if there is a bite involved—well, so is there a bite involved in morale-builders in plays and musicals, or movies or books.

"'Our Lord could tell those with financial worries to consider the lilies in the field and that if God took care of them so beautifully, why would He neglect those made in His own image? . . . There's not worse sickness than being broke, unless it's the inability to help those who believe they are worse off than we are.'"

Economics, despite the complicated academic scholars, deals with simple realities, such as the family budget and people helping people.

One author called his book on economics "The Promises We Live By," and in real life simple people make promises to repay to one another as well as to austere financial institutions. It was the original J. P. Morgan who said that "the best collateral for a loan is character."

It is now relatively easy for those with a reputation for common honesty and a job to get access to credit. Credit has important uses, but self-discipline is needed to keep from overworking one's credit. Some banks are willing to extend credit for such nonessentials and intangibles as a pleasure trip or a vacation nowadays.

MORE SENSIBLE

Frank Scully's homely philosophy for lending makes vastly more sense than the easier initial process of endorsing the other fellow's note, or IOU.

Sound lenders, including instalment sales finance agencies, such as the GMAC, counsel the public that credit is costly, and that you should not use any more of it than you need.

Smiles

A compromise is when the whole family agrees to go to a vacation spot that dad didn't want to go to.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Men's Middle-Age Emotional Muddle Can Be Controlled by Wifely Conquest

Myron is a classical example of the middle-aged male who has developed a defeatism complex. This can start in the bedroom; then be transferred to a man's job. Wives, never let your husbands lose their sex morale and thus belittle themselves. Insure your final 20 years of marriage by the advice below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-389: Myron D., aged 47, has been a successful manufacturer.

"Dr. Crane, we need some help very badly," his attractive wife informed me.

"We have been married for 25 years. I used to be a school teacher, and also taught high school English for several years after our marriage.

"We have two grown daughters. And my husband has made a great success of his own business. He built it by himself.

"But he is an introvert and never talks much. He is constantly tense and a victim of peptic ulcer plus other ailments that stem from his pent-up feelings and nervous strain.

* * *

"In the past few months he has been worse than usual. One night I awakened to find him crying, which I had never seen him do before.

"Later, he made his will and purchased a revolver. I think he planned to do away with himself that same day but I got home earlier than usual.

"He tells me he isn't any good and is a total failure and might as well free me so I can marry some man who is able to satisfy me.

* * *

"Dr. Crane, I am very happy with our marriage, even though he has been comparatively impotent for the past two years. But I am not passionate so it hasn't disturbed me. I love him and I want to help him, so what can I do?"

SEX DEFEATISM

Myron is a classical example of a man who feels himself a general failure just because he has developed a sexual defeatism complex at home.

Often such victims then transfer their domestic failure over to their business and then begin to depreciate their ability on the job.

They may refuse deserved promotions by saying they can't cope with the work properly. Their colleagues will vouch for their fitness, yet they themselves will persist in debasing their skill. They belittle themselves.

And it may all go back to the bedroom, for a man who loses his sex morale, may soon lose his confidence in sales work or at his manufacturing plant. His marital defeatism may spread over to his social and business life, too.

CLIMACTERIC MALES

Men go into an emotional muddle at the age of 40 to 50, just as women have done since the time of Eve.

We call this period the climacteric in men and the menopause in women. And in both sexes, it is chiefly due to false notions.

* * *

For God Almighty placed no date line on the sexual functioning of men and women.

But if either sex imagines that it must be finished with romance and "on the shelf" by the age of 45 to 50, then this faulty idea can produce all the bad effects of real impotence.

Furthermore, a man can develop a defeatist attitude in one night which can render him totally impotent despite hundreds of hypodermic shots of sex hormones.

For the mind is stronger than glands and glandular extracts!

* * *

Young husbands of 21 can thus be rendered entirely impotent with their wives even on their honeymoon, just by this same type of defeatism complex.

Since it is usually above the eyes, namely, in the victim's mind, then a smart and devoted wife like Myron's can soon remedy the matter.

Wives, just become more seductive and moderately aggressive in your boudoir. Prove to your mate that you can banish his defeatism.

Myron thus became a changed man inside of a week's time. His whole attitude improved. He began to whistle at his work and took a new zest in living.

So send for my booklet, "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c (non-profit). It can salvage your marriage.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

GOP State Control 'Won't Be Easy'

MUSKEGON (AP)—D. Hale Brake, former state treasurer, states it "won't be easy" for the Republican party to gain control of Michigan's government offices in the next election.

"The Republicans will have to put up a topflight candidate for governor and even then it won't be easy," he said in an address before the Muskegon County Board of Supervisors.

* * *

Brake predicted the next Republican candidate for Michigan governor "Probably will be someone who has not sought state office before."

"I don't expect any candidates on the state ticket of 1952 will be candidates next year," he added.

Brake believed Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo probably was "in the best position" to get the nomination.

Special Traffic School Proposed for Dearborn

DEARBORN (INS) — Dearborn Municipal Judge George T. Martin states he would meet soon with Police Chief Lawrence J. Schaefer to discuss the possibility of establishing a special traffic school on Saturday mornings for drivers between 17 and 21.

* * *

Judge Martin said if the Saturday morning session were not feasible he would suggest an evening meeting during the week.

Turncoat Officer Given 10 Years

Major Ronald E. Alley Gets Hard Labor Term for Aiding Reds

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — Two avenues of hope remain open for Maj. Ronald E. Alley, who today faces the stiffest sentence yet given an army officer for cooperating with the Communists while a prisoner of war in Korea.

* * *

An Army court-martial yesterday sentenced the 35-year-old artillery officer from Bar Harbor, Me., to 10 years at hard labor ordered him dismissed from service and to forfeit all pay and allowances.

He was convicted of giving the enemy military information, urging fellow prisoners to do the same and taking part in enemy programs designed to indoctrinate POW's with communism.

* * *

He faced a possible maximum sentence of life in prison.

Alley, who entered the Army from the National Guard in 1941, has served 17 years. He spent 33 months in various enemy prison camps in Korea.

Convict Axilrod of Manslaughter

Dentist Is Sentenced to 5 to 20 Years in Prison in Strangling of Patient

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Dr. A. Arnold Axilrod, 50-year-old Minneapolis dentist, was convicted yesterday of first degree manslaughter in the strangling of a young woman patient.

Axilrod, married and the father of two children, was sentenced to 5 to 20 years in prison immediately after a jury of seven women and five men returned the verdict after deliberating some 50 hours.

The defendant was charged with first degree murder in the slaying April 22 of Mrs. Mary E. Moonen, 21, a soldier's wife, who, Axilrod said, had threatened to "tell the world" that he was the father of her unborn child.

Axilrod denied that he was the father, but admitted he was with the young woman the night she was slain.

Axilrod's attorneys indicated they would appeal for a new trial.

As the verdict was read, Axilrod blinked as if trying to hold back tears. He said:

His attractive wife, Fanny, 42, sat clasping a Bible as Judge Leslie Anderson imposed sentence.

Wanting Open Battle if Ike Doesn't Run

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) has called for an open convention fight for the Republican presidential nomination next year if President Eisenhower does not run again.

"If the President decides not to be a candidate, I believe we will better serve our constitutional and electoral processes if we have a free choice of alternatives rather than a single designated successor," said Knowland.

British Quiz Mixes Money and Marmalade

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

LONDON (INS) — Unlike the American taxi driver, who is forthright and fearless sometimes unto obscenity, the British hackie is a man of tolerance. Even in times of stress, when the world about him is honking, he is genteel.

* * *

"Pardon me, madame," said one who was driving me genteelly through Piccadilly, "but someone keeps blowing at me, and I rehily don't quite know why."

He stopped the cab, strolled pleasantly to its rear, discussed the matter with the horn-tooter, and returned.

"It was nothing at all, madame," he said. "The gent-man only wished me to move a bit faster. My fault entirely."

Now this attitude of politeness would possibly lead a man to sudden death in New York City, but here it leaves everyone smilingly placid. There is a moral in this somewhere, but after a couple of days in London, one is too relaxed and lazy to dig it up.

* * *

The London cabbie is similar to the U.S. cabbie in that he is eager to inform the passenger of what is going on. This man, whose name was John Lindley, was especially interested in the popular TV program, "What's My Line?" (British version)—a topic that New York and California drivers dropped some years ago as old hat.

AMUSING MEMORY

"It's quite amusing, the highlight of Sunday night, actually," he explained, chuckling with the memory of a recent show. "There is a panel of what they call experts.

"These are people who have been in the news quite a lot—not obscure people, by any means—and they must meet other people who appear before them and try to guess what these people do to make a shilling."

Well, they pick "all sorts of queer things." One man may be a tub bottom maker, and another may be a sock bottom knocker. "You know, amusing things like that, that you wouldn't expect the experts to guess up ever 'tall."

The amazing part, said Lindley, tooting his horn pleasantly at a bicycle rider, is the panel of experts guesses up to 60 per cent of the professions. "They even had that sock bottom knocker—right speedy, too."

After agreeing with the driver that this was quite a feat and betting that they would never guess him as a cabbie (he blushed modestly), I asked if the British TV had a program called "The $64,000 Question."

"No, madame, we don't, but we have another one which is rather fun, called 'Have a Go.'"

In "Have a Go," he explained, contestants win money for giving the correct answers to tricky questions. For the first question, they get a half-crown (35 cents); for the second, it's five shillings (70 cents); third, 15 bob ($2.10); and 32 shillings ($4.48) for the last.

"It really adds up, you see," said Lindley, "and there's a big question for the person who answers the most questions correctly.

"If he gets it, he goes home with a big jar of marmalade or something of that sort besides all the money."

Lindley dropped me off then. The last I saw he was wedged among cars, smiling beatifically. Dreaming—rehlly no doubt about it—of money and marmalade.

Double Judging Here

BRANDY, Va. (AP)—It was a double-judging affair when the Virginia Aberdeen-Angus Assn. met on the farm of Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. First they sampled the beef, cooked by the Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary, then did the judging on the hoof.

Harriman Wins Truman Praise

Ex-President Applauds Governor of New York in Memoirs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The wartime service of New York's Gov. Averell Harriman draws praise from former President Truman in the first volume of Truman's memoirs.

The memoirs, published Wednesday, mentioned Harriman in connection with his high government jobs some years ago — before his present prominence as a Democratic presidential possibility.

* * *

The book does not touch on Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 nominee. Truman has praised both Stevenson and Harriman as '56 possibilities for president but his first volume, "Year of Decision," deals with a period when he had no contact with Stevenson.

Declaring that Harriman performed "vital service" as U. S. ambassador to Moscow in World War II, Truman tells of a White House meeting with the New Yorker April 20, 1945. That was shortly after Truman became president and before the war in Europe had ended.

* * *

Truman quotes Harriman as saying the United States was "faced with a barbarian invasion of Europe" by the Soviets after the war, and that this country should stand firm against such a move.

"I stopped Harriman to say that I was not afraid of the Russians and that I intended to be firm," Truman recounts. "I would be fair, of course, and anyway the Russians needed us more than we needed them."

* * *

Much of the book tells of U. S. efforts to keep this from happening in Poland and other countries which since have fallen behind the Iron Curtain.

One acre out of every ten planted in the United States is still lost annually to insect damage.

Charge Women With Larceny

Issue Warrant Against Doctor's Ex-Employe Mrs. Beth S. Wix

A doctor's former receptionist, charged with taking $1,792 of her employer's funds between March 1, 1954 and July 31 this year, demanded examination when arraigned before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy yesterday.

Mrs. Beth S. Wix, 36, of 2988 W. Huron St., will appear for examination Nov. 17 at 9 a.m. in Waterford Township Hall.

She was accused with larceny by conversion in a warrant issued yesterday by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem on complaint of Dr. Joseph J. Ruva, of 4463 Dixie Hwy., Drayton Plains.

Mrs. Wix is accused of signing the doctor's name to checks, cashing them and keeping the money, said Ziem. Also of writing receipts from a separate book of her own and pocketing the cash, the prosecutor added.

She is free after posting $2,500 bond, according to her attorney Bernard Girard, of Pontiac.

3-Car Crash Injures Four City Persons

Four persons suffered minor injuries in a three-car accident last night.

Treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital were Mr. and Mrs. James Mattson, 641 Third Ave.; Carlyle J. Hoffman, 3076 St. Clair St., and Milton Linsley, 599 LeBaron St.

Police said that the car driven by Hoffman, 19, struck the auto of Marcel Lorthrup while it was parked in front of his home at 304 E. Columbia Ave. The car driven by Mattson, 22, hit Hoffman's car, they said.

But testimony differed as to who struck what car first. Linsley was a passenger in Hoffman's car. No one was in the parked car, police reported.

You Gotta Sore Throat?

ANN ARBOR (INS) — The dean of the University of Michigan Medical School said yesterday medical attention should be sought by persons suffering with acute laryngitis if the condition lasts more than 10 to 14 days. Dr. Albert C. Furstenberg made the suggestion in a report in the Michigan State Medical Journal.

Reds, Burma Sign 'A' Ban

MOSCOW (AP)—A joint statement calling for an unconditional ban on atomic and hydrogen bombs has been signed by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Burma's Prime Minister U Nu.

THAT'S A RIOT — The "guns" atop these trucks in Rome, Italy, can do a lot of spraying, but not with bullets. They squirt red-dyed water, instead, and can dampen the spirits of the most ardent demonstrators. The tank-like antiriot trucks feature twin turrets above the cab. They're shown here during Rome's annual police parade.

U. S. Will Start Trading Goods With Reds, Satellites

WASHINGTON (INS)—The U. S. has announced that it is carrying out "the Spirit of Geneva" by easing restrictions on trade with Russia and her European satellites.

* * *

Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks reported that the government is working up a list of nonstrategic goods which U. S. firms can sell to nations behind the Iron Curtain without an export license.

The new program—which does not apply to Communist China—should be ready by Jan. 1.

Weeks' announcement followed a declaration by Secretary of States John Foster Dulles, at the Big Four conference in Geneva, that the U. S. was ready to "simplify export control procedures on shipment of peaceful goods to the Soviet bloc."

This was in line with the objective, set at the July Big Four conference, for an East-West agreement to permit more trade and cultural exchanges.

* * *

The lowering of the trade barriers for goods to Russia and other Red Nations brought mixed reaction on Capitol Hill.

DOUGLAS AGAINST

Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), declared that fostering trade with the Soviets is a mistake. He said that even sending consumer goods will enable Russia "to divert more energy into the production of military goods. Until there is a real and prolonged change in the behavior of the Russian government, I think we should increase the pressure upon them rather than reduce it."

* * *

However, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who may seek the Democratic presidential nomination in 1956, approved of the administration program. Kefauver said he believes the U. S. has more to gain than Russia in such trade. He added that any restrictions on imports of Soviet goods should be tied closely to foreign policy and "not judged solely on a business basis."

Some of the items that American exporters will be able to sell to Russia and Communist nations in eastern Europe under the new regulation are cigarettes and tobacco, hides and skins, tallow, wool rags, pencil slats, phosphate rocks and resin.

Commerce Department officials stated that, for the most part, the new order will merely provide for shipment to the Iron Curtain countries of things which have been allowed to go there whenever applications have made for export licenses.

Planetarium Set to Have Visitors at Cranbrook

A limited number of people can be accommodated at demonstrations starting this weekend in the new Planetarium at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Reservations may be made for programs starting at 2:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at 2:15 p.m., 3:15 p.m. and 4:15 p.m.

The official opening will probably be in December, when demonstrations will be held throughout the week, an official said.

Work is still going on in the dome of the building, where a landscape silhouette encircling the interior is being completed and chairs are being installed.

An exhibit of editorial photographs will open Saturday in the galleries of the Academy of Art. It will remain open from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. weekends during November.

Murder Suspect Shoots Himself

Adman William Turner Dies Before He's Cited for Killing Woman

MANCHESTER, Mass. (AP) — A quiet, well-respected advertising executive fatally shot himself on a lonely beach yesterday shortly before authorities would have arrested him on a warrant charging him with the murder of a Pennsylvania girl.

The body of William R. Turner, 40, married and the father of a daughter, was found on White Beach while Pennsylvania state troopers were on their way to his house in this fashionable suburb north of Boston.

The troopers had a warrant charging Turner with the murder of Miss Doris Hatch, 22, who vanished two years ago from her home town of Cambridge Springs, Pa. Her skeleton was found Tuesday in a Connecticut woodland.

After Turner's body was identified, the troopers said: "We consider the case closed."

LEFT NOTES

Turner left two notes. One was addressed to his widow, the former Diane Brown of Manchester, and said only: "Sorry for all the trouble I have caused you. This is the only way out."

Contents of the other note were not disclosed.

Miss Hatch had worked for Turner on a part-time basis when the latter operated a hardware store in Cambridge Springs, a farming community in northwest Pennsylvania.

WARRANT ISSUED

The murder warrant was issued against Turner in Crawford County, Penn., after Coroner Bernard J. Ackerman of Rockville, Conn., said the girl had been apparently stabbed to death.

Pennsylvania authorities said that when questioned about the girl's disappearance in 1953 Turner told conflicting stories about bloodstains found in his car.

Turner was employed as an advertising executive "at more than $5,000 a year" with the Jet Spray Cooler Co., Boston, a soft drink vending machine concern.

Fellow-employes and superiors said he was quiet, well-liked, and went to work for the concern "with excellent recommendations."

Police said Turner had studied law at the University of Pennsylvania and at one time said he wanted to take the examination to be an FBI man.

Later in 1953, he suffered a breakdown and was confined to a mental institution several months.

Record Beet Yield Seen

Joseph Benson was named first vice president; Ben Hawkins, second vice president and Dr. Lynn Allen Jr., third vice president. Leslie Langford, Leonard Buzz and William O'Connor were elected new directors.

Quiz Duchess on Woodwards

Sportsman, Wife Called 'Ideal Couple' at Party Before Slaying

NEW YORK (INS)—The Duchess of Windsor has described millionaire sportsman William Woodward and his beautiful wife who shot him to death as an "ideal couple."

The Woodwards attended a party for the duchess Saturday night only hours before Mrs. Woodward shotgunned her husband when, she claims, she mistook him for a prowler.

The duchess told police yesterday the Woodwards were an "ideal couple" at the party and that she knew of "no marital or any other difficulties between them."

Police said an intensive investigation had failed thus far to discover any indication that the Woodward marriage was at a "serious point of failure."

* * *

Mrs. Woodward still is in the hospital recovering from the shock which set in after the shooting. She will be visited again today by her two sons, William, 11, and James, 7.

'HAPPY VISIT'

The boys called on their mother yesterday for the first time since the shooting. It was described by her physician as a "happy visit."

Dr. John Prutting said, however, that "one could see that the older boy and she understood the sorrow between them."

Meanwhile, Nassau County Detective Chief Stuyvesant Pinnell said he hoped to question Mrs. Woodward soon "but not in a hospital room, not where there are a lot of nurses around."

* * *

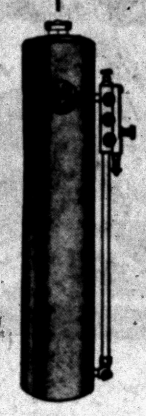

Dr. Prutting has indicated that his patient will remain in the hospital the rest of the week.

Aspirin Eyed for Kidney Ills

Believe Drug May Aid in Stopping Formation of Painful Stones

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CHICAGO (AP)—Aspirin or similar drugs may provide a good treatment to prevent formation of new or more painful kidney stones, a surgeon said today.

The possibility is raised by a new approach to the study of the cause and prevention of kidney stones.

* * *

This new approach to a common ailment was summed up by Dr. Samuel A. Vest, urologist of the University of Virginia School of Medicine, Charlottesville in a prepared talk. He spoke at a summation on new developments in surgery and surgical problems at the close of the American College of Surgeons' 41st Annual Clinical Congress.

Kidney stones come from formation of crystals of materials like calcium and magnesium. The crystals grow and become stones which block the urinary passage.

* * *

Dr. Edwin L. Prien of Brookline, Mass., tested aspirin as one means of preventing formation of urinary stones.

Dr. Prien finds that 5 to 6 aspirin tablets daily apparently stopped formation of new stones in 17 to 19 persons who had suffered repeatedly from such stones. One was a man who had formed new stones 100 times.

* * *

One stone-preventing chemical is apparently glucuronic acid, which comes from the liver. Aspirin or other salycylates stimulate production of more of the acid, or chemicals like it, so that calcium is removed from the bloodstream and the urine.

Find Glyptotherium Bones

BENSON, Ariz. (AP)—Fossils believed to be nearly three million years old have been discovered near here. Dr. John Lance, a paleontologist from the University of Arizona, said the remains include the hoof of a pre-historic three-toed horse, bones of a mastodon and pieces believed to be from the shell of a phlytotherium, a seven-foot long mammal.

John Doe Freight Train

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—John Doe is a freight train very much disliked by Samuel S. Gisinger. He made the complaint for a John Doe warrant issued by Justice Ernest Booker and charged a road was blocked by a freight train.

Flowers Keeping Ore Stockpiles From Eroding

NW YORK—Stockpiles of ore and the like may soon be entered for garden-club prizes.

Chemical Week magazine reports that a chemical company accidentally discovered the advantage of controlling stockpile erosion with flowering vegetation.

When a load of chrome ore from South Africa containing seeds of corn and castor beans sprouted, was discovered that the stacks of ore no longer washed away.

The firm then investigated other grasses and vegetation and found that the most effective was the hardy morning-glory.

Deer Hunt Flattened

GWIN, Mich. (AP)—State Police stopped to aid two motorists fixing a flat tire. The officers noted blood on the tire, opened the trunk and found the carcass of a deer.

The two men were arrested and fined $50 for possessing venison out of season.

Court Order Halts Business Expansion

A temporary Oakland County Circuit Court order restrains two brothers from expanding their business at 3685 Drahner Rd., Addison Township, where they make fibreglass boats and automobile bodies.

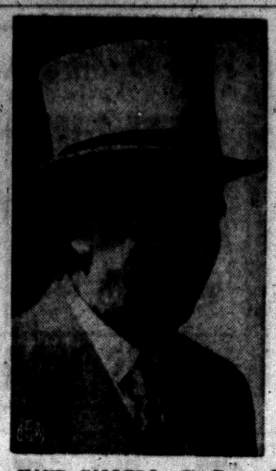

The order stops Gino and Cesare Testaguzza from expanding their buildings or adding employes pending the outcome of a suit filed against them by Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Dahl, 3991 E. Drahner.

The Dahls claim the Testaguzzas' operation is illegal, alleging deed and abstract restrictions on the brothers' property allow only residential use.

Fire Losses Hit Low

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The city's all-out fire prevention campaign last month was praised this week for cutting October fire losses to a record low in Grand Rapids. Fire Chief Frank H. Burns said fires destroyed only $2,890 in property, compared with a fire loss of $33,071 for the same month last year. The previous low was $3,631 in 1948.

The United States government is officially represented in more than sixty international organizations.

HAND CALLED?—Sir Bernard Docker, one of Great Britain's richest men, threatened to sell his holdings and live abroad if taxes were raised. $30.5 Billion Spent on Plant Expansion

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Commerce Department reported today that from Jan. 1, 1950, through June 22, 1955, private industry invested 30.5 billion dollars in 19,964 defense-related plant expansions.

The department said it was possible to place $19,541,167,000 of the total in individual states with the remainder overlapping state lines in the transportation, utilities and communcations industries.

Six states with the largest investments in defense plant expansions were: Pennsylvania, 2.4 billion dollars; Texas, 2.1 billions; Ohio, 1.6 billions; California, 1.3 billions; Michigan, 1.2 billions; and New York, 1.1 billions.

Moose Honors Hero

LOWELL (AP)—Raymond Yager, 14-year-old newspaper carrier, has been named the west Michigan winner in the Moose International Youth Safety Awards contest. He received a Red Cross award last July for the feat.

West Drafts Legislation for Four Key Dams

DENVER (INS) — Political and reclamation leaders from four western states have drafted legislation calling for construction of four key dams in the initial phase of the Upper Colorado River project.

The strategy meetings in Denver continued this week after delegates from Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico agreed unanimously to reject Colorado Gov. Ed Johnson's proposal calling for construction of only one dam—the giant Glen Canyon project.

They voted that dams to be included in pending Upper Colorado River legislation should be Glen Canyon, Flaming Gorge, Curecanti and Navajo. It was agreed that Colorado be allowed to substitute any other dam for Curecanti if desired.

They also agreed to exclude the controversial Echo Park dam as part of the multi-million dollar reclamation project.

DAM OPPOSED

The proposed dam, which would have inundated a portion of Dinosaur National Monument in eastern Utah, was bitterly opposed by conservation and wildlife groups throughout the country as an "invasion" of the national parks.

* * *

Inclusion of the project in legislation introduced in the last session of Congress was a major factor in its defeat.

Delegates said that despite the fact Johnson's proposal for a one-dam project was defeated, he scored a major victory for Colorado.

It was agreed to develop the Navajo irrigation project under the Leavitt Act, or similar legislation, which would provide the project with a "non-reimburseable" feature. It would be constructed as aid to the Navajo Indians.

If approved, power profits from the Glen Canyon dam would not be diverted to pay for the Navajo project, but instead, would revert to the federal government for use in building participating projects, particularly in Colorado.

OBJECTIONS TOLD

Johnson had objected to the Navajo irrigation project on grounds it was economically unfeasible and would divert profits from Glen Canyon dam that should be used for further reclamation and power projects.

* * *

The irrigation project would permit irrigation of thousands of acres of arid land in the Navajo reservation, but irrigation of the land could not pay for the cost of the project.

However, Navajo dam, one of the participating projects, is considered necessary by engineers and reclamation experts to control the river and allow for silt control.

Ival Goslin, secretary of the Upper Colorado River Commission, said:

"It was the impression of delegates that Gov. Johnson was deeply appreciative of efforts of the group to meet his objections and come up with proposals to allow legislation more equitable to Colorado."

Science 'Knows Nothing' About Muscles, Hormones

DETROIT (UP)— A biochemist internationally recognized as an authority on muscles said today "we know nothing about how muscles work."

* * *

He also added: "We know nothing about the causes of human energy. We know nothing about hormones."

The answers, said Dr. Albert Szent-Gyorgyi, will be found only by "a complete revolution" on the part of medical scientists seeking to solve the mystery of the make-up of the human body's molecules.

Dr. Szent-Gyorgyi, discoverer of vitamin C and 1937 Nobel Prize winner, spoke at an international symposium on enzymes, the basic unit of biological structure and function. He is director of research at the Muscular Research Institute at Woods Hole, Mass.

He said present views on how chemical energy in the body is transformed into muscular power are unsatisfactory, adding:

"People try to solve the diseases. That is not the way. We must get right to the bottom of nature to find the answers.

"Our work today consists of miracles on one hand and complete ignorance on the other. We have not applied new knowledge of the atom into biology yet. It is the most important step made in chemistry, yet we are behind."

Dr. Szent-Gyorgyi, a native of Hungary and author of "The Nature of Life," said he now is concentrating his research on providing better understanding of the cause of heart ailments and muscular dystrophy.

* * *

The symposium is being sponsored by Henry Ford Hospital and the Edsel B. Ford Institute for Medical Research. Besides Dr. Szent-Gyorgyi, it attracted four other Nobel Prize winners in science or medicine.

Hump of Camel No Water Tank, Experts Decide

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)— When a camel takes a drink it's just satisfying a thirst and not storing up water for a dry day.

The legendary Arab who killed his camel in the desert to get the water in the animal's stomach was disappointed by what he found.

These are some of the conclusions of Knut and Bodil Schmidt-Nielsen, a husband and wife research team from Duke University who led a group of scientists in studies of the camel in the North Sahara.

The Schmidt-Nielsens, writing in the UNESCO Courier, say the camel—a ruminant like the cow—has a stomach divided into several compartments. One is the rumen, which contains large quantities of fluid. But this is a "rather foul smelling, unappetizing green fluid" resembling a digestive juice.

Tool and Die Job Shops 'Can Expect' Big Year

DETROIT (UP) — Tool and die contracting shops in the Detroit area can expect a "banner" business year in 1956, Daniel Karpinski, a director of the Detroit Council of the National Tool & Die Manufacturers Assn., predicted.

Karpinski told the association's annual convention here that the increased trend toward automation and expected changes in 1957 automotive styling will swamp the shops with orders from major auto producers. He said there will be a big demand both for new model dies and tools for automation.

Two Touring Movie Stars Have Busy Day Locally

By JUDY CLEMENCE

It was a busy day for actor John Agar and actress Cleo Moore yesterday when they arrived in the city in connection with the opening of their latest movie, Universal-International's "Hold Back Tomorrow."

They just arrived at Hotel Pontiac when they were whisked with police escort to the Pontiac Press.

Agar, who has been in movies since 1946, told us during luncheon at Pontiac Motor, that he was doing quite well in Uncle Sam's Army as a buck private when he happened to be invited to a party attended by film producer, David O. Selznick.

This meeting resulted in a screen test for Agar, and he made his first picture, "Fort Apache" in 1947.

Since then there have been successes like "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon," "Woman on Pier 13" and "Sands of Iwo Jima."

During the interview, the star of the picture which opened at the Strand theatre yesterday, was asked for his signature by employes of Pontiac Motor.

When asked by an employe if he were bored with "autograph hounds," Agar replied, "I've got news for you. The day I'm bored will be the day I'm no longer asked for my autograph."

His lovely wife, Loretta, a well known West Coast fashion model, accompanied him and his leading lady, Cleo Moore on the trip to Pontiac.

Miss Moore, a Columbia star, borrowed by Universal for the picture, has been in Hollywood seven years and has made 20 pictures. She has had leading roles in eight of the films.

There's just the slightest trace of the southern accent—Miss Moore was born in Baton Rouge, La., but the famed voice coach, Josephine Dillon, has produced an actress with a very soft, pleasing voice.

Since she was five years old Miss Moore has wanted to be an actress. First it was the neighborhood plays held in someone's backyard. Then it was the church and school plays, until finally she was "discovered" in Hollywood at a boxing match.

Following the interview we were taken on a tour of Pontiac Motor, a real thrill for these Hollywood stars.

Later they met Pontiac residents in Osmun's store and made their final appearance last night at "High Fever Follies" held in Pontiac High School before continuing their tour.

Tobacco Exports Drop

RIO DE JANEIRO — Brazil exported 61,900,000 pounds of tobacco during 1954, an increase of 17.6 per cent above the previous year but a decline of some 5,000,000 pounds from the 1952 export total.

Bandits Hold Up Bar but Pay Cost of Drink

DALY CITY, Calif. (AP) — Two men held up bar owner Abe Rosenstein yesterday and got away with about $3,000.

* * *

But one left Rosenstein a dollar bill — to pay for the whisky sour he had ordered while waiting for his partner.

Pistol Stolen in 1931 Returned to Owner

DETROIT (AP) — A pistol stolen nearly 25 years ago from John E. Mettie of Flint was returned to him last night.

The pistol was found in a shiny, black box beside a highway in western Wayne County.

* * *

Robert Fitzgerald of Taylor Township spotted the box Sunday. He opened it and saw a .38 caliber Smith & Wesson revolver in almost new condition. He turned the gun over to authorities.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Office checked the serial number with Lansing. Records showed it had been stolen early in 1931 from the Flint man.

Police in Flint told Mettie of the find and he drove to the Sheriff's Road Patrol Office in Wayne to reclaim the gun. Mettie said it had been taken from his summer cottage on Fenton Lake.

Smallest and most densely populated Central American republic is El Salvador.

Treated, Released After Two-Car Collision

James Tuttle, 43, of West Bloomfield Township was treated and released from the Walled Lake Clinic yesterday after a two-car collision on South Commerce Road near Commerce Road.

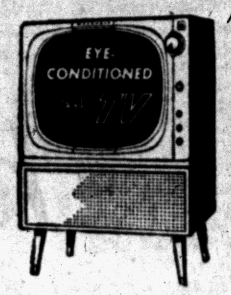

Sheriff's deputies said Tuttle lost control of his car, hitting one driven by Frederick J. Kreza, 40, of Commerce Township.

Microbiologists Discover Anti-Cold Vaccine

WASHINGTON (INS) — Eight scientists have announced the development of a safe and effective vaccine against one of the virus diseases closely akin to the "common cold."

Researchers from the U. S. Public Health Service and Johns Hopkins University disclosed after a three-year study that they have successfully used the vaccine in humans to prevent a respiratory illness which strikes millions of Americans each year.

The disease results in a five-day illness marked by fever, sore throat and conjunctivitis, or "red eye." It is caused by one of nine related viruses in the APC (Adenoidal, Pharyngeal, Conjunctivitis) group.

The scientists emphasized their vaccine is "still experimental" and there is no prospect of production for public use "in the near future." But there was little pessimism in their report.

ONE SHOT DOES IT

They urged prompt action to develop a one-shot preventive for the entire family of APC viruses and noted that these and other respiratory ailments strike the average person six times a year, causing perhaps half of the normal absenteeism in schools, factories and offices.

They said tests with volunteer prison inmates showed the vaccine was up to 71 per cent effective, giving "substantial protection" against infection and illness. Officials said the effectiveness compares favorably with that of many other vaccines in general public use.

According to the U. S. Public Health Service announcement, APC infections are "widely prevalent" and are easily transmitted from one person to another. The disease can be sporadic or can occur in sharp outbreaks and epidemics.

The scientists said that although these infections do not cause the "non-feverish, running nose type of infection which is often called the common cold" the symptoms are sometimes virtually indistinguishable.

"Collectively," the researchers said, "the so-called 'minor' infections constitute a major public health problem," bringing about "a great variety" of respiratory illnesses.

The vaccine was developed by Drs. R. J. Huebner, J. A. Bell, W. P. Rowe, R. G. Suskind, R. S. Paffenbarger, and Miss J. W. Hartley of the National Microbiological Institute, and Dr. T. G. Ward of John Hopkins University.

They used as subjects for their experiments 83 volunteer inmates at the Chillicothe (Ohio) Federal Reformatory and the Maryland State Reformatory for males at Breathedsvile.

INSPECT PROJECT — Proclamation of Optimist Week by Mayor William W. Donaldson has not slowed the club's activities toward setting up Optimist Park as a playground for youngsters. Inspecting equipment at the Strathmore and Fairview Avenues site are (l-r) Dr. H. A. Miller, chairman of Optimist Week, Elwood Brown, secretary-treasurer of the club, Dave Ewalt, club president, and Dr. E. F. Denne, chairman of the Boys Committee.

Optimist Week Celebration Doesn't Halt Club Project

With community observance of Optimist Week scheduled for Nov. 6-12, Pontiac Optimists are going forward on the latest project in their role of "friend of the boy".

That's the half-block area at the corner of Strathmore Ave. and Fairview Ave. which the club is helping to turn into a playground.

Working with the Department of Parks and Recreation and committee of neighborhood citizens. Optimists have put up $1,500 to get the project rolling and to purchase playground equipment for the 700 children who live in the neighborhood.

The club took over the project in the spring, David R. Ewalt, president said.

Since then, interested neighbors formed a committee and collected $225 for the playground, he said. Now they're trying to raise money for a park shelter, he added.

Also director of the Parks and Recreation Department, Mr. Ewalt emphasized this: "If the club, department and neighbors can all successfully cooperate in this venture, the playground will be a model which we can follow in other areas of the City."

He said that the Optimist Club, working closely with the department, has spent $10,000 in the last 10 years, helping to establish community centers in five Pontiac schools.

"Helping our young people is the Optimist Club's job, and that's why Mayor William W. Donaldson proclaimed Optimist Week," Mr. Ewalt said.

The week will be observed by more than 1,000 Optimist Clubs all over the nation, he said.

$64,000 Quiz Giving $16,000 to Losers

NEW YORK (AP)—For those who make the top try and lose on "The $64,000 Question" CBS television and radio show, the consolation prize from now on will be $16,000 instead of an expensive car.

Sponsors said yesterday the consolation prize has been increased because some persons were afraid to risk shooting for the $64,000 after they reached the half-way mark.

Lawyer Verifies Rita's Divorce

Claims Action Against Haymes Will Be Filed in Reno Shortly

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Rita Hayworth's divorce suit against her fourth husband, Dick Haymes, will be filed as soon as papers arrive from Paris, Reno attorney William K. Woodburn states.

Woodburn said he has been informed by the actress' New York lawyer, Bartley Crum, that she has signed a divorce complaint alleging the usual Nevada charge of extreme mental cruelty.

Woodburn said Miss Hayworth claims Nevada residence from 1951 when she first started divorce proceedings against Prince Aly Khan. In addition, he said, she and Haymes spent almost a year on the Nevada side of Lake Tahoe before returning to Hollywood last June to make a picture.

He said it is possible for her divorce to be granted without her returning from Paris, but that the legal plans have not been worked out pending determination of what action Haymes intends.

The actress is in Paris so five-year-old Yasmin can visit her father under terms of the divorce agreement between Aly Khan and Rita.

Business Society Honors Henry Ford II

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Society of Business Magazine Editors has announced that Henry Ford II, youthful president of the Ford Motor Co., has been chosen to receive its first annual "Voice of Business" award yesterday.

Ford was honored yesterday for "making the most substantial contribution to industry in 1955 in leadership, in business ethics, and in making it understood that most businesses are conducted with careful regard for the public interest."

A $500 educational grant goes with the award. The society said Ford will present it to a college graduate or undergraduate student studying business journalism.

Moscow Approves Visa for U.S. Catholic Priest

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Rev. Louis F. Dion of Worcester, is scheduled to leave for Russia "probably early in December" to be chaplain to American Roman Catholics in Moscow.

The Rev. Armand H. Desautels, president of Assumption College, said last night that the Soviet government had approved a visa for Father Dion who will succeed the Rev. George L. Bissonette, of Central Falls, R. I., who was expelled by Soviet officials last March.

Japanese Chess Game to Have A-Bomb Piece

TOKYO (AP)—Toymakers are modernizing a 75-year-old game, Japanese military chess.

In addition to the usual captains, marshals, generals and privates, the new version has three new pieces — atom bomb, spy and military policeman.

The makers ranked the atom bomb as the most powerful piece, equivalent to the queen in Western-style chess. They haven't decided where to rank the spy and MP.

Judge Composing 'Nice' Love Letter to Man's Spouse

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge is going to write a love letter to another man's wife.

Cornelius Byrd appeared in court yesterday on a failure to provide action brought in Milwaukee.

"Your wife and child should be out here," said Superior Judge Elmer Doyle. "Send her a ticket."

Byrd said his wife, Jewell, "wouldn't pay any attention to any letter I'd write."

Judge Doyle replied: "You send her a one-way ticket and I'll write the letter. I'll make it a nice love letter. That's the way I won my wife."

The judge also instructed Byrd to pay $50 a month for support of his son, James, 3.

Motorist Puts on Act but Official Watches

GALLUP, N.M. (AP)—A car sideswiped another on a Gallup corner yesterday. The driver jumped out, whipped around to the sidewalk folded his hands behind his back and joined the other spectators.

He watched his passenger move to the driver's seat and drive off. He was asked what had happened and told the questioner he didn't see a thing. There was one catch, though. Through the whole thing, Asst. Dist. Atty. Larry Ortega had watched.

Today, Hosteen Yazzie, 31, who lives near Gallup, is in jail in lieu of a $10 fine after pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

Brotherhood Asked to Postpone Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Mediation Board today asked the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (IND) to postpone a strike against the Pennsylvania Railroad, scheduled for 6 a.m. next Sunday.

Eugene C. Thompson, secretary to the board, said a telegram was sent to the union headquarters in Cleveland asking a delay in the strike pending the appointment of a mediator.

He said this was done under the emergency clause of the Railroad Labor Act, which says the board can offer its services in an emergency. But Thompson said the union doesn't have to accept and he added that no reply had been received in midafternoon to the board's telegram.

The strike would affect about 8,000 members employed by the railroad.

Snaggle-Toothed Babes Missing Their Front Teef

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The only requirement for membership in a new club of second graders at the LaFayette Grade School is loss of two or three front teeth.

* * *

The organization, complete with officers and a club song, is known as the Snaggle-Toothed Cherub Club. It was formed by Mrs. Grace Cochran, teacher of the 7-year-olds.

She says the main aim is to teach children good dental care and general health practices. Instructive material is compiled on how to clean teeth and the proper foods to eat to protect new ones.

Mrs. Cochran says she knows from experience that all 39 of her pupils soon will be members.

KEEP ADDING

"We keep adding names as they lose teeth."

The youngsters wrote their own song:

"We're the Snaggled-Tooth Cherubs—see
"We've lost one tooth or three
"We laugh and lisp
"Since our teeth we have missed
"Snaggled-tooth cherubs are we."

Principal Wade Davenport, pleased with the new club, commented, "I think they'd pull teeth to get into it." But nature makes that unnecessary.

* * *

Mrs. Cochran says the No. 1 lesson is; Regardless of what you eat, the baby teeth come out, but if you eat an adequate diet and take care of your teeth, the new ones will "come in strong and pretty."

"Every year I get these little snaggle-toothed things," Mrs. Cochran said, "and I love them so."

"It's just a sideline," she explained. "When you have 39 of them, you have to keep a sideline going to keep it interesting. And I think they all love school."

CD Workers Get Break on Income Tax Deduction

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Civil Defense workers may deduct for income tax purposes the money they spend out of their own pockets in performing their volunteer duties.

* * *

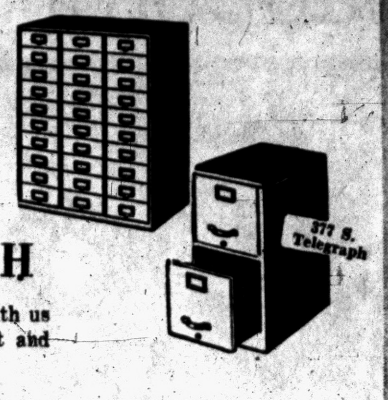

This was reported today by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. It said a ruling to this effect had been received from the Internal Revenue Service, applying to "actual unreimbursed expenses incurred by civil defense volunteers" which were "connected with and solely attributable to the rendition of such volunteer services."

Show Ends Amid Praise of Audience

Cast of 120 Stages Gay Revue to Aid General Hospital

"High Fever Follies" chalked up another success Thursday night in the final performance held at Pontiac High School.

* * *

Comments heard throughout the evening included "It's even better than last year's performance", and "I wouldn't have missed it for anything."

Actors and actresses, dancers and singers too numerous to name appeared on the stage during the 2½ hour performance in costumes that were as gay as the spirits of the performers.

The cast of 120 was made up entirely of local people, all willing to devote many hours for the project which will benefit Pontiac General Hospital.

Under the leadership of Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, president of the Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital, and Mrs. Charles Scribner, general chairman of the follies, committees were chosen and plans formulated for the event several months ago.

Climaxing the affair was the cabaret party held at Hotel Pontiac following the final performance.

All members of the cast and behind-the-scene workers were invited to the get-together.

Two members of the reception committee for the cabaret party held Thursday evening at Hotel Pontiac were Mrs. William J. Dean of Ottawa drive and Dr. James Quinn of Marlborough drive. The party climaxed the two performances of "High Fever Follies" sponsored by the Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital.

Ex-Model Shows Girls the Ropes

This is another article on the professional and private lives of America's most glamorous and successful models.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service

Warning to would-be models:

Thousands of attractive American girls aspire to be models but many of them fail to make the grade.

It takes more than a pretty face and a lovely form to compete with the stars of the profession. Many attractive out-of-town girls come to New York with high hopes of becoming another Jean Patchett or a Sunny Harnett, only to encounter despair, disillusion and failure.

Candy Jones, famous ex-model and one-time cover girl, says that every girl who comes to New York to be a model "should have enough money in her piggy-bank for at least four months."

"Not every girl makes the grade," Candy warned.

"The modeling profession is strictly business. Too many girls see only the glamorous side. They shouldn't come to New York unless they are prepared to work—and to work hard."

"MOTHER CONFESSOR"

Candy Jones knows whereof she speaks. She still is in the thick of the profession in New York where she is regarded as a "mother confessor" to young career girls and would-be models.

This beautiful, slim, blonde woman, with the slightly uptilted nose, bright blue eyes and charming personality, is the wife of Harry Conover, the model agency man.

He and John Powers, of another New York agency, long since achieved fame—Conover for his "Conover cover girls" and Powers for the celebrated "Powers models."

Just as the old-time Ziegfeld Follies girls like to say, "I was a Ziegfeld girl," many former models around New York proudly brag: "I was a Conover girl," or "I used to be a Powers model."

In her heyday—in the 1940s—Candy Jones was "a model's model," one of the best in the business. She was so alluring—and capable—that Conover, the agency boss, fell in love and married her.

Today she is director of the Conover School for Personal Improvement, a business run separately but in connection with her husband's agency. Although she is the mother of three sons, she's still a career woman.

Candy is not only talented but she is smart. She was one model who knew how to "sell" herself. She believed in advertising. And she spent money to make money.

"CANDY WAS HERE"

When she was hitting her stride as a model in the 1940s, she used to leave her trademark—a red and white striped card bearing her name—at the Stork Club, El Morocco, "21," the Colony and other exclusive restaurants she patronized.

The card had the pink and white coloring of a stick of peppermint candy. On the reverse side were the word:

"Candy was here."

Advertising executives and businessmen (some of whom hired models) began asking: "Who is this Candy Jones?"

She also left match booklets on restaurant tables around town. The booklets were gotten up in the same red and write stripes set off by a candy cane, and on the cover were the catchy words: "Who is she?"

Looking inside the booklets, curious people read: "Candy Jones, of course."

She also played up the red and white candy stripe and the candy cane in various adornments she wore, such as bracelets, watches and earrings. Everybody got to know who Candy was.

Candy came to New York from Wilkes-Barre, Pa. She was intelligent and well-bred. Her mother was a doctor and her grandmother was one of the first women physicians in Pennsylvania.

HIRED IMMEDIATELY

One day she went to the Conover agency to look up a girl friend who was a model. Conover took one look at the beauteous Candy and she was hired.

Conover saw at once that Candy had what it takes to make a good model. He changed her name from Jessica Wilcox to "Candy Jones"—and she was on her way.

Several years later—in 1946—she and Conover were married. They have three sons, Harry Jr., 7, Cary, 6, and Christian, 4.

"Girls who would succeed at modeling must have looks and brains to start with," Candy says. "Secondly, they must basically be good actresses.

"Thirdly, a good model must be inherently sensitive and be able to take directions intuitively. That saves time and money when they are posing."

STILL SELLS SELF

Candy still sells herself. Her pictures are often seen in the magazines and newspapers. In addition to her job as director of the Conover school, she is a beauty authority for a line of toiletries. She poses for pictures illustrating cosmetic advertisements.

She also does radio transcriptions and TV commercials.

"In my day, models were more relaxed than now because competition didn't seem to be so keen then. But the models of today are as beautiful and capable as ever, and I'm 100 per cent loyal to the profession," Candy proclaims.

Enthusiasm Banishes Mousiness

By ANNE HEYWOOD

We all know how important good grooming, cosmetics and clothes are in enhancing the appearance, but sometimes we forget how important the intangible qualities are, particularly enthusiasm.

A real enthusiasm, a real interest in life, can work wonders for a girl's looks.

* * *

SEEMED MOUSY

I have known Mary since we were both in high school. She was a sweet girl, sort of mousy and pale gray. I saw her the other day and you've never seen such an improvement in your life!

* * *

Mary has been married for 15 years and has three children and a lot of housework to do. You would expect that she might have gotten even mousier, more harassed, with less time for her looks.

But instead, Mary is radiant, and one of the most attractive matrons I ever saw.

When I asked her for an explanation, she said gaily, "I collect glass!"

* * *

Now, collecting is a fine hobby, but I hadn't realized what a change it could make in a person's life and outlook.

"You see," Mary explained, "I was always terribly shy and self-conscious. I never could think of anything to say. On top of that, I never went to college and I guess I had a block about being uninformed.

HISTORICAL PIECES

"Then a relative died and left me a couple of pieces of Sandwich glass. They were lovely, and I got interested in the history that went with them.

"Next thing you know, I went to the library and read up on all kinds of glass, how it is made and where, and the whole history of the subject. I was enthralled!

"Next, I went to lots of old shops and looked at the glass they had and chatted with the shopkeepers. It was the first time in my whole life that I ever felt at ease conversationally.

"Then I began chatting with some of the customers who collected glass, and found them to be just my kind of people. Me, talking to total strangers!

* * *

"As the years went by," she concluded, "my hobby of collecting glass just grew and grew. When Bill and I went on vacation, I'd kind of keep an eye peeled for glass.

"And this hobby has enlarged my friendships, led me into all kinds of historical, artistic and scientific research, educated me, and given life such excitement."

Dem Women Will Launch 'Tea Chain' to Raise Money

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Democratic women hope to set off a chain-reaction tea party which will bring in hundreds of new members and raise thousands of dollars for the party treasury.

The tea-drinking campaign will start Saturday at the home of Mrs. G. Mennen Williams. Speakers include Gov. Williams and Rep. Martha W. Griffiths (D-Mich).

Each of the 350 women expected will be asked to put $1 in the kitty. Idea of the teas, conceived by the Democratic National Committee, is to raise money to finance appearances of Democratic candidates on television.

The Williams' tea is just the beginning of the campaign. Women attending the kick-off will be asked to invite ten women to teas in their neighborhood at $1 a head.

Each woman attending the neighborhood tea will be asked to hold her own tea, inviting more tea-drinking contributors, and so on.

After a few rounds of tea, the results are staggering.

"I figured out once that it wouldn't take many teas to raise a billion dollars," said John Murray, Democratic party publicist.

"Of course, that's ridiculous. But if we had four perfect rounds we'd have $11,1000," Murray said. The tea is optional. It could be coffee or a brunch instead.

Mimeographed campaign material will be supplied where requestioned. Hostesses might say, "Let's talk about highway safety," or simply suggest a round of bridge, he added. Murray, who has been touring the state explaining the idea to Democratic groups, said it has met with "great enthusiasm."

"We have found that housewives tied down with children are a little fearful of the routine political meeting.

"This idea has an instinctive appeal for women who want to help out but who don't want to go out ringing doorbells," he remarked.

Half of the contributions will go to the national organization to finance TV appearances of national candidates and half to the state and local candidates.

LAY AWAY NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

You'll Have to Answer Either 'Yes' or 'No'

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: A boy in my class asked me for a date, and I told him I would have to ask my parents. I don't want to go with him; I want to go with another boy in my class. Both of them know I can go on dates.

"How can I get the boy I like to ask me for a date? What excuse can I use so I won't have to go with this boy who has already asked me?"

Answer: It's either yes or no to a date invitation. Saying that you will have to ask your parents is just stalling for time—unless you really do have to get their permission. In either case you have to wind up with a yes or a no.

You have your issue all clouded up with details that have nothing to do with the case. Your liking for some other boy has no bearing on this date. And the fact that you aren't crazy about the boy who has asked you isn't too important, either.

The point is: Would it be a pleasant evening? Would you enjoy the movie or the party or whatever it is he has planned? If not, turn it down and tell him you're sorry but you won't be able to go with him. If he expects details, tell him your family has plans that include you, and you can't get out of it.

But don't get the idea that turning down this date will get you any nearer to having a date with the boy you like. On the contrary, going out with this boy may prod the other into asking you for a date himself.

This one date doesn't tie you to going only with him, so you'd be free to accept dates from the other boy if any came your way. And getting better acquainted with him, playing up to him a bit around school, might make that happen.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm nearly 14 and in the eighth grade, and I like a boy who is 17 and a junior in high school. Do you think I am old enough to go out with him once in a while? If not, what should I say when he asks me?"

Answer: If your family knows the boy and likes him, and if his invitation is to do something your parents consider reasonable, you might get permission on occasion to go out with him.

If you've never done any dating at all, and if they don't know him, they might consider that you were aiming a bit too high. In which case I'd agree.

So if and when he asks you for a date, tell him you'll have to see what your parents say and ask him if you can't call him back.

Broach the subject at home, discuss it back and forth, and get your yes or no answer from them. If it's no, break the news to him regretfully while encouraging him to ask you again sometime.

Soda Kills Vitamins

Home economists advise there's no need to add soda to frozen vegetables when cooking. Soda destroys valuable vitamins and makes the vegetables mushy; they'll be tastier, better for your health and bright-colored if you use a minimum of water and follow directions on the package in cooking over the top burner of your gas range.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Byrnes Refutes Truman's Contention, Says FDR Didn't Favor Him in '44

5 COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—James F. Byrnes says he did not tell former President Truman that Franklin D. Roosevelt favored Byrnes for vice president in 1944.

* * *

Nor, says Byrnes, did Truman scold him for going beyond his authority when as Truman's secretary of state he attended the 1945 foreign ministers conference at Moscow.

Byrnes' statement, issued yesterday, denies assertions in Truman's newly published memoirs. It marks the latest round in a long-standing, publicly-aired disagreement between the two.

Byrnes said Truman sent him a book in 1952 with the autograph inscription: "To my former good friend, with kindest regards, whose friendship I would still value most highly! Harry Truman."

"It is difficult," Byrnes commented, "to reconcile Mr. Truman's privately expressed desire for my friendship with his publicly expressed reflections upon my integrity and my public service."

But Truman, saying he did not want to get into a controversy with Byrnes, reiterated at his home in Independence, Mo., that "the statements I made are correct."

In the first volume of his memoirs, "Year of Decisions," Truman says:

1. Byrnes won Truman's support for the Democratic nomination for vice president in 1944 through Byrnes' assurance that President Roosevelt wanted Byrnes for the post. Truman said that actually Roosevelt had decided against Byrnes and sent Byrnes word of this.

2. Truman called Byrnes to the White House after the Moscow meeting and dressed him down for acting too much on his own initiative and for failing to keep Truman informed of developments. Truman said Byrnes had come to regard himself as bigger than the president.

In denying both statements Byrnes said:

1. "I did not tell him (Truman) President Rsooevelt would advocate my nomination. I did not know that the president favored him. Prior to my talk with Mr. Truman, President Roosevelt, in a conversation over the telephone of which I have shorthand notes, told me political bosses had expressed a preference for Mr. Truman or Mr. Supreme Court Justice William Douglas, but that he had expressed no such preference."

2. "It is regrettable that Mr. Truman . . . portrays our relations at the time I was secretary of state as being so different from what the evidence shows them to have been.

"Had President Truman read to me in January, 1946, the 'lecture' he now reports, I certainly would have resigned immediately; not in personal pique but because of my deep conviction that the president of the United States must at all times have complete confidence in his secretary of state . . ."

So far as communications allowed, Byrnes added, he had kept Truman informed of what happened at Moscow.

Expected Baby Lost by Mrs. Clark Gable

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Clark Gable's wife, the former Kay Williams Spreckels, has lost the baby she was expecting next May.

Mrs. Gable suffered influenza three weeks ago and was still in a weakened condition. She was taken to Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital Wednesday night. Her physician said yesterday she should be able to return home in a day or two.

Gable and his wife were greatly upset over the loss of the child, which would have been Gable's first.

This is his fifth marriage, her fourth. She has two children, Adolph Spreckels III, 6, and Joan Spreckels, 4.

700 Pontiac High School Vocalists Ready for Concert

By VICKY MICU

Activities at Pontiac High School are fast and furious this week. Seniors are preparing for picture sittings, juniors have begun work on their J-hop, vocal students are attending last-minute rehearsals for the vocal clinic Monday. The Chiefs travel to Saginaw tonight to take on Saginaw Eastern in a grid match, and the cast for the play, "Our Town" is chosen and ready to begin work.

More than 700 vocalists will take part in massed chorus for the Fall Vocal Festival, to be held at 8:15 p.m. Monday in the big boys gym. Special numbers will be given by the a capella choir and the girls and boys glee clubs.

George Putnam, PHS vocal director, assisted by Mrs. Doreen Voltman and Merlin Asplin, say they are getting some "great music" from the student choruses in rehearsals. Guest conductor Monday will be Maynard Klein, of the U. of M. Music Department.

PLAY GETS STARTED

"Our Town," a sentimental comedy, will be presented at 8:15 p.m. Dec. 1 and 2. Bob Crandall, Barbara Kenney, and Dick Ramsdell will take lead parts as Stage Manager, Emily Webb, and George Gibbs, respectively.

This play concerns a small town and small town people, with pantomime being predominant and few props used. Stage Manager will address the audience directly, filling in details and thus make the play very informal. Mary Parrish, assisted by Shirley Pengilly will direct the production.

Sports talk also fills the air this week, with the football team taking on Saginaw Eastern tonight, hoping for a long sought after win.

SWIMMERS PRACTICE

Practice began this week, too for the PHS Nators, swimming team, and the basketball team. Challenge bouts were fenced for the first time this week by the Fencing team, as they started the first round in competition for the school trophy.

Seniors made appointments for pictures, which will be taken next week. Juniors dubbed their Dec. 3 J-hop "Fantasy in Frost." Carrying out this chilly theme will be chairman Marylee Mogg, assisted by Marcelene Dennis.

Nancy Wood will head tickets and publicity committee; with Judie Wood, decorations; John Ortez, entertainment. Marge Doyle heads patrons committee and Clayton Cockings has charge of the post-dance committee.

DEBATERS RATE HIGH

Congratulations and praise from the students of PHS debaters were heard at school this week, as the Debate Squad walked off with 10 superior ratings at the PHS-Flint Northern Saginaw Valley discussion Oct. 27.

Equally praised were five boys in the vocational department who received five of the nineteen awards offered at a drafting contest in Detroit.

Other PHS students making the news were senior Marcia Thomas, chosen Good Citizen from PHS by the General Richardson Chapter of the DAR; and Doug Bartlett, chosen to take over Student Union manager duties for next semester.

Plans are being made by the Latin club for the annual Christmas edition of the Epistolae Scholae, the Latin paper.

FORTISSIMO! — George Putnam, director of PHS vocal department, urges "more volume" as the massed chorus rehearses for the school's ninth annual Fall Vocal Festival, to be given at 8:15 p. m. Monday in the boys' gymnasium. Maynard Klein of the University of Michigan music department will be guest conductor for the concert, which will feature 700 vocalists. More than 2,000 are expected to attend.

Food Director at WTHS Back From Convention

Shirley McCoy Waterford Township High School food director, attended the five-day convention of the American School Food Service Assn. in Denver, Colo.

Journalism students have been kept quite active lately as they published the first programs of this year for the Homecoming game, and are planning the second annual "Waterlog" assembly to be held Monday. This program is put on by the journalists to push the yearbook sales, which begin next Monday. Price of the book this year is $3.25 with an activity card, or $3.75 without the card.

St. Frederick, St. Michael Students Back After Festive Holiday, Halloween Parties

Students of both St. Frederick and St. Michael Catholic High Schools enjoyed a holiday this week, according to the schools' Press reporters.

Correspondent Ann Scharchern reports that St. Frederick students "let no grass grow under their feet" in celebrating the long Halloween weekend. They returned to classes Wednesday, and are into the swing of things again. Wednesday also saw the start of the school's new hot lunch program.

Tonight there will be a sock hop in the gym for all students, from 8-11 p. m., sponsored by the Teen Club. Monday afternoon the Student Council will hold its first assembly for the whole student body.

Saturday, 14 St. Fred sodalists were delegates to the annual Sodality Day at U. of D. High School in Detroit.

St. Fred's is bursting with pride over its grade school football team. Monday they trounced formerly undefeated Holy Name of Birmingham to remain the only undefeated team in the suburban CYO league.

The big game with St. Michael's is tomorrow afternoon. Defeat of the Little Shamrocks means the championship, and our boys "are not aimin' to stop now."

AT ST. MICHAEL

St. Michael High students enthusiastically took advantage of the free day Tuesday, according to reporter Janet English.

The CYO will hold its Fall Fiesta dance from 8:30 to 11:30 tonight in the school hall, to the music of Dub Masters and his orchestra.

A "first" in decorations will be a huge white bell in the center of the hall, forming a flower-bedecked grotto with a statue of the Virgin Mary—aimed to lend unusual beauty to the dance and also point up the spiritual nature of the club.

Seniors balloted for selection of class colors, flower, motto and patron this week. Choice was Saint Pius X for patron, blue and silver as colors, the carnation flower, and the motto, "Not the End but the Beginning."

The Shamrocks are hoping to duplicate Sunday's victory over St. Rita's when they play the St. Benedict Vikings Sunday at Highland Park.

STOLE THE SHOW — Pontiac High drafting students "stole the show" last Friday when it came to receiving drafting awards. Five of instructor Joseph L. Atwell's seniors copped five of the 19 prizes given in the American Society of Body Engineers (ASBE) contest for the Southern Michigan area. Above, looking over one of the drawings, are winning draftsmen (left to right) Gilbert Hernandez, Larry Dobbins, Instructor Atwell, Lloyd Hughes, Tom Robb and Robert Hrynyk. The drawings won ratings in the 6th to 19th place category. One of the students, Gilbert Hernandez, already is employed half days with Pontiac Motor Division's engineering department. In making the awards of $25 drafting sets at the national convention of the ASBE in Detroit, the speaker remarked that out of 44 schools competing, one school had taken 25 per cent of the prizes. "These boys must be getting some pretty good instruction," he commented. A count of individual entries in the contest was not yet available, but last year over 500 students competed. The contest was open to 11th and 12th grade students.

Homecoming Is Over; Juniors Get Rings; Team Plays Milford Tonight

By JEAN LIIMATTA

Waterford Township High School is calm once again.

After a week end filled with homecoming activities, students are getting into the everyday routine once more. Homecoming events proved to be very successful with close to 2,000 people attending the variety show on Friday evening.

Topping Waterford's all-time football record, the Skippers placed second only to Van Dyke in the Inter-Lakes League by winning the homecoming game, 7-0.

In honor of the senior football players, the Sophomore Class sponsored a pep assembly today. The Skippers aim to beat Milford this afternoon in the last football game of the season.

Juniors received their school rings Wednesday after waiting "patiently" for an extra week because of Career Day. Some of the rings cost as high as $27.

PLAY COMING UP — Final rehearsals for "Strange Boarders," as "Smiley the sad-faced thug" seems to have the draw on Jim Newell, comedy mystery to be given by Avondale High seniors at 8 p. m. Thurs- "the Deacon," (center) while Bonita Carey, the eccentric boarding day in the school auditorium, are in progress. Above, Jack Barnharthouse keeper, considers what to do next. Play advisor is William Lyle.

Junior High Schools in High Gear

Talked-over topics at Pontiac's junior high schools this week were the recent Halloween parties, planned open house festivities, magazine drives and football games.

AT WASHINGTON

Washington Junior High maintained its record of four years without a defeat Wednesday in an exciting tie game with Lincoln Junior High. Neither team scored, but the game produced some tense moments, with both teams fighting hard for a victory.

The game puts the Washington Braves' record at 17 wins and 2 draws in consecutive games. The other tie was some time ago with Eastern.

Students pronounced last Monday's Halloween party for Washington and nearby parochial pupils a "big success." Mobiles of moons, stars, bats and cats set the background for the fun night. Besides dancing, there was a program sponsored by the Student Council, at which pantomimers, tap dancers and singers displayed their talents.

A number of prizes were given for unusual or effective costumes. One went to Norma Soditch for the costume "most in the spirit of Halloween." Susan Smith was attractive enough to be "anybody's baby" when she appeared in a baby buggy wheeled in by nursemaid Sherry Fink. The two eighth graders got prizes as the "most original couple."

AT EASTERN

Enthusiasm is running high at Eastern Junior High School, as homerooms compete to get the most magazine subscriptions. The campaign, started Monday, will last until Nov. 14. Funds will be used for new stage equipment in the auditorium.

The winning homeroom will be treated to lunch at Devon Gables and a movie. Each homeroom that reaches its quota will be eligible for ice cream in the cafeteria.

The top boy and girl salesman will each receive a three-way portable radio. Second prizes will be flash cameras; third prizes are table radios. Other prizes will range from watches, purses, wallets and jewelry to pencils and jackknives.

Eastern will hold Open House Wednesday from 7-9 p.m. All parents are welcome to come and visit the teachers. Work will be on display in some of the rooms. A short program is planned.

AT LINCOLN

Although disappointed that they couldn't beat Jefferson High Wednesday, Lincoln's Railsplitters are still happy that the game was a draw. Students think they did well, considering the Braves' long run of victories.

Big news of coming events is the Open House next Monday, in observance of National Education Week.

All rooms will be open to the public. Teachers will be on hand to meet parents and answer questions relative to school work.

AT WEVER

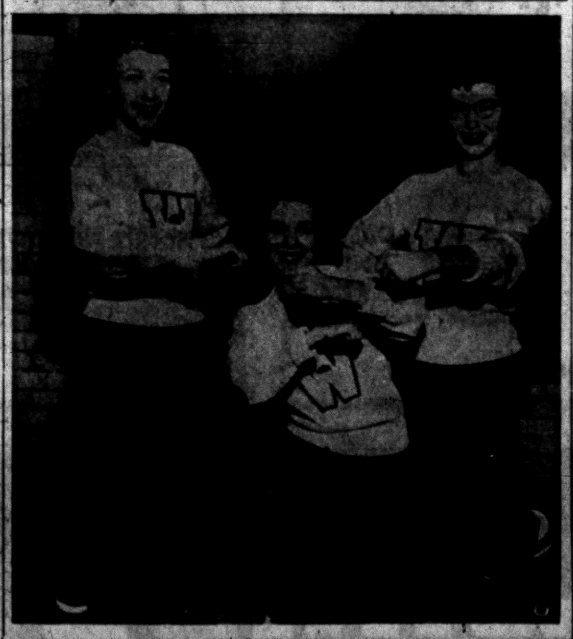

Teachers at Wever Junior High set the mood at Monday afternoon's Halloween Party by starting off with their own "Bunny Hop," and students quickly joined in the fun. The party included dancing, games and cider and doughnuts. PTSA helped with the affair.

The magazine subscription drive is this week's attention-getter. Each day the teacher whose homeroom sold the most has received a flower, and the top salesman has had the privilege of autographing our "autograph hound."

The drive ends tonight, and the winning salesman will receive the hound for his own. Funds will be used to buy pictures for the new school.

AT JEFFERSON

Jefferson Junior High students are still jubilant over their team's victory Tuesday over Wever Junior High. The Warriors beat Wever 19-0.

FIGHT TEAM, FIGHT! — Washington Junior High cheerleaders (l-r) Judy Thompson, Isabel Hawn and Sandra Erwin were right in there rooting when the Braves played Lincoln's Railsplitters Wednesday for a no-score draw. Undefeated in four seasons, the Braves have chalked up 17 wins and 2 ties.

Area Schools Plan Plays, Education Week Programs

Plans for American Education Week programs, a play, elections and scholarship tests sparked activities at high schools in Oakland County this week.

PLAY AT AVONDALE

The Avondale High senior play is in the last week of rehearsal. The comedy mystery, "Strange Boarders" by Batson and Kirkland, will be given at 8 p. m. Thursday in the school auditorium. The cast is made up of 15 students.

Preparations for the annual Sadie Hawkins dance, sponsored by juniors, are underway. The dance, from 9:30 to 12:30 next Friday night, will follow the final football game of the season, against Rochester.

PLAN FOR EDUCATION WEEK

At Walled Lake High, events of American Education Week will include a broadcast of the Student Council's weekly meeting over the PA system and, on Wednesday, a special assembly.

The assembly will feature music and a panel discussion on experiences of Walled Lake students in Germany as compared with German exchange student Horst Weinert's experiences in the United States. Participating will be Horst, Bill Duckwitz, Mary Roach, Shirley Wooden and moderator Mrs. Rachael Andresen of the Michigan Council of Churches.

Ten seniors took a two-hour exam last week in tryouts for Merit Award scholarships.

BEGIN REHEARSALS

The West Bloomfield High School's senior class has begun rehearsals on the comedy-drama "The Night of Jan. 16" to be presented Nov. 22 and 23. Leading roles went to Bob Miller, Sue Zimmerman, Greta Oman, Gloria McKim and Carol Larson.

Homecoming game with Clarenceville is tonight, with the queen to be crowned at half-time.

Four outstanding seniors, — Gloria McKim, Pete Begle, Sue Zimmerman and Phil Schultz — took preliminary screening examinations for the national Merit Award scholarships.

Elected by the Girls Athletic Assn. last week were Louise Smith, president; Betty Giesey, vice president; Betty McPeake, secretary; Barbara Rollo, treasurer; and Peggy Wilkinson, publicity chairman.

LAKE ORION EVENT

Lake Orion High will celebrate Education Week with an Open House at 8 p.m. Monday. Parents will have a chance to meet teachers and inspect their students' work. Big night last week was the Witches' Waltz and masquerade Saturday.

CROWNED QUEEN

Kaye Schnepp was crowned queen of the North Branch High homecoming at the game with Millington Friday, and reigned at the dance which followed. Members of her court were Betty Tatar, Joyce Shaver, Sandra Fricke, Barbara Seelye, Colleen Horecki, Delores Ruhlman and Marilyn Richards.

Explains Shady Dealings to Economics Class

St. Michael High Schools economics students got the lowdown on shady dealings in all forms of business when a representative of the Business Ethics Board spoke to the class Thursday.

On the social side, Marge Bateman had a breakfast for the Crock-a-Dolls after the 7:30 a. m. Mass Sunday.

Wilson Heifer Wins Grand Championship

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Two-year-old "Windrow Stormy Candy," an entry from the Birmingham, Mich., farms of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, won the grand championship award here yesterday in the National Ayrshire Sweepstakes.

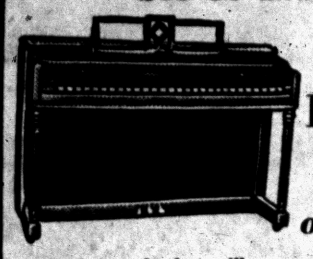

The heifer was exhibited for Secretary Wilson by Charles Miles, manager of Windrow Farms.

Students Make Honor Roll

North Branch High School listed honor roll students this week. On the roll were 19 from seventh grade, 17 from eighth; 24 from ninth; 13 sophomores; 14 juniors, and 29 seniors.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

AMERICAN FOLK LORE—4.
Stormalong, the Old Whaler

In the days of clipper ships, a sailor appeared on a Boston wharf to sign up on "The Lady of the Sea," the largest clipper that sailed to China.

The captain, not looking up, asked the sailor's name.

"Alfred Bullrod Stormalong," was the answer. The captain wrote "A. B. Stormalong." Then he looked up and UP. Stormalong stood 30 feet tall.

Said the captain: "An able-bodied seaman if ever I saw one." And to this day sailors put A. B. after their names.

Stormalong was very useful. He could reach up from the deck to furl topsails and hold the pilot's wheel steady in the worst storm with a touch of his little finger.

For your Stormalong, paste this picture on cereal box cardboard and color with crayons. His dark blue jacket has brass buttons. Cut out the parts. Fasten the separate arm behind Stormalong's shoulder with a brass fastener or a bent pin, and he'll lift his shiny black hat like sailors used to wear.

Fold back the end panels and Stormalong will stand up. Put his ditty-box on the dock. Now he's ready to go aboard.

Emergency Ward Meets All Kinds —Even the Needy

EAST MEADOW, N. Y. (AP)—A little old lady showed up at the Meadowbrook Hospital emergency ward last night to have an ailing leg treated.

* * *

Doctors at the Nassau County institution gave her some medication. Considering admitting her to the hospital, they asked her if she had any valuables to put in the safe.

She started digging into various parts of her clothing and soon produced $63,000 — of which $25,000 was in $100 bills, $25,000 in $50 bills and $13,000 in assorted denominations.

She paid the usual $1.50 fee and was advised to go to a private hospital.

* * *

Hospital authorities withheld her name, to protect her from robbers.

Alaska's current population is about 170,000.

Seaway 25 Pct. Toward Reality

St. Lawrence Project May Cost Nation Less Than Original Figure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway, one of the world's greatest construction projects, is about 90 million dollars, may now

That estimate came from Edward R. Place, information director of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., the agency administering the U.S. portion of the 27-ft.-deep international waterway.

Place also reported that the U.S. share of the cost, first estimated at about 90 millio ndollars, may now be 87 million. Most major contract awards have been for amounts less than anticipated.

He said the Grasse River and Robinson Bay locks—by far the major items of expense in the U.S. portion of the seaway—will cost between 20 and 25 million dollars each.

Place gave his report on the seaway in a speech before the Washington unit of the American Public Relations Assn.

He said that about 90 per cent of the world's cargo vessels will be able to use the completed seaway. Place said the development corporation anticipates that the waterway will handle about 36½ millions tons of cargo each year. Estimates by Canada are about 1½ million tons less.

Fabulous Dinner to Display Varied Foreign Flavors

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—M-M-M-M, boy!

The first International Buffet Dinner, a fabulous display of foreign and American delicacies, will be spread out today at Grand Rapids art gallery.

* * *

The feast — including 150 items — is co-sponsored by the Friends of Art and the Western Michigan Chapter of the International Stewards and Caterers Assn.

Tickets reportedly have been sold out for weeks.

William Dehaan, food services director of Blodgett Memorial Hospital, and Donald Thompson of the Friends of Art, are co-chairmen of the event.

"This is the first culinary art show ever held in Grand Rapids and we're going to make it so good it'll be an annual affair," they declare.

Stewards and caterers from throughout the state, Chicago and other points have planned Strasbourg-Geoise filet of beef in aspic; canape platters and a 14-foot Eiffel Tower carved in ice.

Elsewhere on the menu are listed pizza pie a la Napolenta, jumbo shrimp Javanese style; yabrah (a Syrian dish of lamb in cabbage leaves); charshue (Chinese barbecued pork tenderloin); Parisien salade, pate de fois gras and 35-pound whole Chinook salmon on five-foot white oak planks.

Honest, Folks, They're Just Sentry Boxes

GENEVA (AP)—Geneva police — with acute embarrassment—today removed two little wooden houses from the front gates of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's villa.

"It is unfortunate," said Brig. A. A. Gusson. "The little wooden houses actually are sentry boxes, but someone complained that they resembled another sort of little wooden house and asked that they be removed."

Pressed for details the Swiss officer said:

"Someone—I'm not saying who—thought they resembled the little wooden houses that stand behind farm houses in Russia and other agricultural areas of the world. There was a complaint and they had to go."

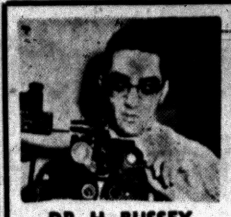

The little houses were moved from beside each villa gate and placed in a clump of bushes on the other side of the road.

The Geneva newspaper La Suisse politely explained that someone thought they were "too conspicuous."

Yellow Knife Booming

TORONTO — Yellowknife, in Canada's District of Mackenzie, is a booming gold mining town in the midst of one of the world's largest remaining empty quarters, says the National Geographic Society. Its 3,300 inhabitants are surrounded by 1,250,000 square miles settled by only 13,300 people.

In former days toll charges on ships going through the Suez Canal were so high that some liners used to disembark their passengers for transfer overland by rail and reembark them after the vessel had passed through the Canal.

Romeo Group to Intensify Program After Setback

Milk Producers Reject New Organization Move

Harold Fritz, head of the Romeo local of the Michigan Milk Producer's Assn. said today, "We are going to continue our court action and intensify our whole program, despite yesterday's setback in East Lansing.

"We (the Romeo local) are such a small group in a small locality, we have to branch out and educate more association members," he stated.

"The significant factor," Fritz continued, "was that 95 per cent of the people approached, signed the petitions."

Delegates to the 39th annual Milk Producer's conference at East Lansing yesterday defeated Fritz's motion that new directors and managers be elected and the organization be revamped, by a vote of 370 to 77.

STILL ENTHUSIASTC

Fritz is still "enthusiastic" about seeking a more "democratic rule" in the association, stating that the response received by people circulating the petitions was "remarkable."

"If we had contacted more association members we would have had more success at yesterday's meeting.

"We did, however, show the court we were acting in good faith. We acted along the lines of the opinions we have received."

Fritz yesterday presented a petition signed by 2,000 members of the organization asking for reorganization. He also asked for a review of a federal investigation into the price of milk.

Romeo Producers six months ago asked for an investigation into alleged price fixing. The demand preceded a Federal Grand Jury investigation.

6 Children at Neighbors

Home Burns as Family Attends Milford Church

MILFORD — Returning home from church with her six children last night, Mrs. William Combs, 1525 Burns Rd., found her home completely engulfed in flames. Her husband was visiting his brother at White Lake at the time the fire broke out.

First to discover the blaze was Combs' brother, Eversole, who lives behind the house.

"I looked out the window and saw flames shooting from the structure and called the Milford Fire Department," he said.

Firemen could not determine the cause of the fire because of its progressed stage by the time the alarm was turned in.

The children, Henry, 17; Wilson, 16; John, 14; Mary Alice, 10; Donald, 9 and Susie, 4; are being taken care of by neighbors.

Firemen estimate the damage at $8,000 for the 12-year-old frame house and contents, which was not covered by insurance.

Set Bond Election Dec. 12

WALLED LAKE — At a special meeting of the Walled Lake Board of Education this week, Monday, Dec. 2 was chosen as the date of a special election, at which time approval of a $750,000 bond issue for school construction will be sought.

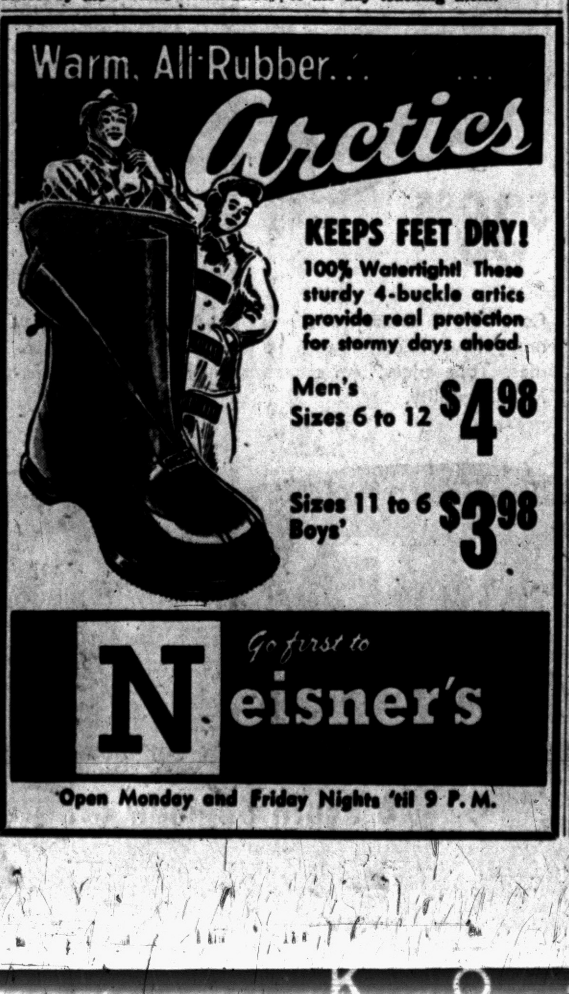

The money is needed to provide classrooms up to and including the school year 1958. Studies of census rolls and previous projections indicate an increase of one thousand elementary students by that time, officials state.

Approval of the issue will not, however, mean an increase in taxes for school construction as the district has already reached the 13 mill limit. It will merely mean the continuation of the levy which may be applied to the new issue as previous ones are paid off. With the rapid increases in valuation in the district, board members say, it may even be possible to reduce taxes for construction purposes in the not-too-distant future.

At the Dec. 12 meeting of the board, bids will be opened for construction of the proposed Decker Road elementary school. Approximately $100,000 remains in the building and site fund toward this construction, but approval of the new bond issue will be necessary to proceed according to Supt. Clifford H. Smart. Architect Walter C. Anicka of Ann Arbor was authorized to go ahead with specifications, following approval of the plans at the special meeting.

The class of 1933 asked and were granted permission to plant a birch tree on the lawn of the junior high school as a memorial to one of their classmates who was lost in World War II.

The regular meeting scheduled for Nov. 14 was postponed and no date set. However, at the next regular or special meeting bids will be accepted for a drivr training car. One car is furnished the school by the Pontiac Retail store, but is not sufficient for the number of student drivers enrolled. Each sophomore must take the course, and there are more than two hundred members in the class. Two instructors are busy each hour of the day teaching them.

Wrecked Plane Found in Canada

Skeletons Discovered Believed to Be Detroit Brothers Lost in 1953

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — A wrecked, burned plane containing two skeletons, believed those of Detroit brothers who disappeared in a foggy night Aug. 12, 1953, has been found by three Canadian hunters.

* * *

Al Ryan of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., said he and two hunting companions came upon the wreckage about 31 miles north of the Canadian border in rugged country five miles off Ontario Highway 17.

The Detroiters who disappeared on a flight to Wawa, Ont., on a fishing trip, were Harry and Walter Butler, building contractors. Harry was the pilot and the brothers were on their fifth flight to Wawa, 280 miles north of the Soo.

Ryan said the plane was found on a rocky hill some 800 feet high, its nose buried in the ground and most of the plane burned. Three trees it had clipped off had fallen over it.

A two-week search by Royal Air Force, U. S. Air Force and private planes failed to locate the Butlers' plane after it disappeared.

Mrs. Harry Butler said in Detroit she had not been advised of the find, but said it was in the area where the brothers were last heard from while flying through fog and trying to follow the course of a railroad track.

GOP Women Plan Campaign for Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A doorbell-ringing appeal by women for GOP campaign contributions was announced Thursday by the Republican national committee.

A pilot program already set up in Maryland will be launched formally in Baltimore Nov. 15, said Miss Bertha Adkins, women's director. It will be expanded on a national scope early next year, she said, under general direction of Mrs. Julie B. Kirlin of Boston.

The campaign will seek small contributions from women to help finance next year's election drive.

Japan expects a population increase this year of 1,030,000 and an addition of 840,000 new workers to the labor market.

Bob Considine Says:

Russia Invades This Country---With Vodka

NEW YORK (INS)—People . . . places . . . and vodka.

John G. Martin, "rebel of the rum business," tells me that the Russian revolution has succeeded in this country. Vodka has become popular even among members of the Union League Club who still vote for Alf M. Landon.

Many people in the booze business, one of America's leading industries, feel this is pretty terrible. Mr. Martin, a big man's man' type who fought in North Africa, thinks it's okay.

He should. Martin makes about half the vodka consumed in the U. S. today. He is president of a Hartford, Conn., concern named Heublein.

* * *

"I had a public pulse company sound out 14,000 hard drinkers in New York and they came up with the fact that only 7,000 of them like the taste of whisky," he said, while enjoying a drink of, that which caused a shudder among the other 50 per cent.

"Maybe that's the secret behind vodka, not just our vodka but the vodka made by every other firm in the country—and there are 60 or 70 now turning it out. It has little or no taste."

RAPID GROWTH

As a non-vodka man, I asked him what was the turning point in this stuff's life. Ten years ago in this country the vodka business represented only $50,000 of a $2,000,000,000 a year industry. Today it is up to $50,000,000 of it.

"It's a long story," he said. "Around the turn of the century it's said that the richest family in the world was the Smirnoff clan in Russia. They had a lock on the world business in vodka.

"But the November revolution came along and everything went to pot. Vladimir Smirnoff got out to Paris, broke, met an old girl friend who loaned him $100,000, and he started up a Paris edition of the old distillery.

"He went broke all over again. Or, at least, the girl friend did. Then it was brought here, which gave some work to White Russian royalty as salesmen. They couldn't sell it. Nobody could sell it.

"We bought it for one dollar. I mean the rights to make it. A bottle cost more than what we bought the rights for.

"Well, we had them make up 2,000 cases of it for us. That was half the annual output. They didn't have enough corks to plug up the bottles so they used some old corks they had stamped 'whisky.'

"We coaxed a South Carolina dealer into taking five cases though he didn't know what it was. He had to unload it so he examined the bottle, the cork and the contents and put up a sign on his store which read: "Smirnoff White Whisky—No Taste, No Smell."

FROM 5 TO 50 TO 500

"We didn't know anything about this. All we knew was that a few days after we sent him the five cases he ordered 50, and a few days after that he ordered 500. You have to look in on things like that, and we did.

"We found out that people in South Carolina weren't drinking vodka as it had been drunk for generations . . . you know, the toast, or the thing to be sipped in a tiny glass.

"They were mixing it with coke and milk and Dr. Pepper and Lord knows what. It didn't change the color of what they were drinking and they couldn't taste it."

Vodka disappeared in the country from 1924 to 1946, but apparently only South Carolina missed it. When Martin came home from the war he and a fellow he met during the war, Jack Morgan, who runs the Cock 'n Bull Pub in Hollywood, dreamed up something called the "Moscow Mule."

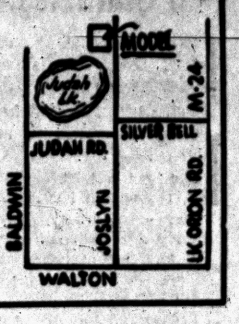

Martin supplied the copper mugs. It was vodka and ginger beer. People began to talk about the drink and to experiment.

When somebody mixed it with orange juice it became the "Screw Driver." When somebody dumped it in tomato juice it became the "Bloody Mary."

Whither vodka? I asked. Martin answered:

"I'll live too see it outsell everything else in the industry. You don't have to age it or store it. Just strain neutral spirits through charcoal made of eight different types of wood and there it is."

Okay. There it is.

Navajo Woman Runs Her Own Telegram

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP)—Mrs. Jimmie K. Lujan, Navajo indian wife of a Walker Air Force Base sergeant, decided to visit her father on the reservation in northwest Arizona.

She sent a telegram when she left, telling him her arrival time.

Days later, after much difficulty driving over reservation "roads," she and her husband reached a trading post still some distance from her father's home.

"If you're headin' home," the trader said, "you can deliver this wire to your father."

He handed her the telegram she had sent from Roswell.

Did He Pick Up His Future Bride in Pickup Truck?

NOWATA, Okla. (AP) — A man brought his old model car to the Luttrell Auto Agency here for repairs and asked for the use of another so he could go to Claremore to get married.

Told there was none available, he decided to take a pickup truck out for a trial spin "to decide whether to buy it."

Police were notified when he didn't return.

The truck borrower returned the following day, left the truck and drove off in his own car. A company official who tried to intercept him gave up, declaring:

"All I wanted to know was whether he got married."

Turkish Matron Tackles Staggering Education Job

ANKARA, Turkey (INS)—A stunning young woman whose rigidly secluded childhood was spent behind a veil in a Turkish harem has tackled the job of giving a brighter outlook to millions of children in Turkey today.

* * *

She is Mrs. Vedide Baha Pars, Turkey's outstanding educator, and head of the Government college assigned to cope with the staggering problem of educating a population which until recent years had no school system at all.

At present, Turkey's amazing strides toward Western living standards are still so far short of the goal in school facilities that one million children of school enrollment age this year will be passed over for lack of schools to go to and teachers to teach them.

Mrs. Pars, whose prematurely gray hair, well bred elegance and calm poised manner give her a queenly appearance, is the president of the Gazi Teacher Training College in Ankara, the Turkish capital and nerve center of the country's new modernization program.

To the American visitor, Gazi could be any co-ed college campus in the midwest on a late Spring day—classic college buildings with columns and broad flights of stone steps, tree-shaded campus with walks and benches on which casually dressed boys and girls bustle or lounge.

But when you realize that this is Turkey, the thought makes you gasp. The parents of these students only a generation ago would never have been allowed to see the opposite sex, much less mix in free camadarerie, with equal rights, equal opportunities and equal hopes.

FOUNDED BY HERO

The school was founded by the nation's hero, Kemal Ataturk, in 1926 for the purpose of training teachers to provide free eudcation to every child in Turkey.

At that time Mrs. Pars was a child, newly released from the muffled folds of the Turkish harem trousers and the sheer silk veil edged with gold which she still remembers with hatred.

"I had been quite a tomboy as a little thing," she said. "Then when I was about ten I had to put on the elaborate feminine dress. But my father was one of Kemel Ataturk's associates, so he could not object when I wanted to be among the first to be free of the old taboos."

Her own excellent private education gave Mrs. Pars the qualifications to assume a post with the educational branch of the government. Today she plans and supervises the course of training for teachers in ten different spheres of upper school education from languages, science and history to art and physical culture.

Gazi has 470 students and graduates an average of 180 teachers each year—a small but vital combat group against 2,000 urgent vacancies at the junior high school level.

"It is a heartbreaking thing to anyone who loves his country to feel the yearning for education on the part of so many children and know that there is just no way to solve the problem for more than a few each year," she said.

"But our country has such a will to improve its standard of living, and there are so many new methods of communication that we hope to be able to work out some original approaches to basic education."

English Teacher Learns to Write

College Professor, 75, Signs Up in Undergrad Course at U. of M.

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Dr. F. W Plunkett, 74, retired after more than 20 years as head of the English department at Arkansas State College, has enrolled as a student at the University of Michigan. He already holds degrees from several colleges.

Now he's studying creative writing.

"I think I might have a little talent along this line," he says. "It won't take but one semester to find out. If I do, then I will try to develop it! if I don't, that's well and good, too."

He has branched out into new fields before. With a Bachelor of Science in Education and a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Missouri plus a couple of years of school teaching, Plunkett decided to become a fig raiser.

In 1909, he went to Texas. But before he could get his fig trees, a freeze killed off the orchards in the area. He decided that fig raising was not his line.

* * *

For a time he operated a dairy farm. Then, in 1925, he entered Rice Institute to get his Master's degree. He did graduate work at the University of Texas, University of Chicago and won his Ph.D. at the University of Indiana in 1931.

By that time, he had been head of the Arkansas State English Department for a year.

His interest in creative writing was born with retirement.

Predicts Competition Will Conquer Disease

BIG RAPIDS (INS)—The U.S. and Canadian sales manager of Parke, Davis & Co., predicts there will be great progress in conquering disease through competition in the pharmaceutical industry.

Carl Johnson, speaking in Big Rapids at the banquet of the Third Annual Pharmaceutical Seminar Ferris Institute, said:

"Money alone won't account for the quickened tempo which will be so obvious to us in the period just ahead. A very lively rivalry within the industry—with intensified competitive pressure—is spurring on new product development and process development to a faster pace than ever before."

New Quarters Dedicated by AFL Teamsters Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL teamsters union, self-styled "world's largest labor union," planned to dedicate a five million dollar white marble headquarters today with appropriate, Hollywood-like ceremonies.

All of Washington's million-odd citizens were invited in four solid pages of newspaper ads to watch the opening ceremonies featuring AFL chiefs and a contingent of movie stars, including Walter Pidgeon and Jack Haley.

The building is separated only by a stretch of lawn from the nation's Capitol. But the classic, domed home of Congress looked positively antique compared with the modernistic, sharply-designed teamsters headquarters, replete with blue-tinted picture windows, penthouse and piped music.

Inside, uniformed attendants guided visitors through masses of flowers over rugs of luxurious thickness. Just the small ashtrays cost $7.50 each, bronze boxes for outgoing mail on each desk $17.50. The building has no mortgage. Everything was paid for in cash.

"We didn't build for today," teamsters President Dave Beck told some fellow union members ahead of the ceremony, "we built for the next 25 or 30 years."

This labor union was begun in 1903 as an organization of horse-drawn wagon drivers. It now claims 1,400,000 truck drivers and assorted other workers as members, and no one doubted today it has really arrived. A press release said now "the union thinks on a coast-to-coast basis."

President Eisenhower sent congratulations from Denver. "It is fitting," he messaged Beck, "that this structure be built in the capital of a free republic which accords to labor and its representatives their equal and rightful place in its social and economic life."

The occasion pointed up the growing trend of labor unions, intent on making themselves heard in national policy-making, to move their main offices to Washington and acquire permanent quarters here.

Beck reported that in his 2½ years as president of the teamsters, the union had picked up 300,000 members and, partially by reinvesting funds at higher interest rates, had parlayed its treasury from 23 to 32 million dollars.

'Shine Makes Dog Cold, Policemen Find Answer

ATLANTA (AP)—Police wondered why a small dog was shivering in the cold outside a new dog house in Atlanta's southwest section.

Patrolmen E. B. Lyle and R. L. Rhodes investigated and found the dog house stacked full of moonshine liquor.

The officers confiscated the hooch.

Examination Trial Set for Teenage Killer

HAZARD, Ky. (UP) — Examining trial was set today for a teen-age girl who shot and killed her sweetheart during a drinking party and then used the pistol to hold up a restaurant.

Miss Janie Young, 15, surrendered to police shortly after the shooting yesterday and was held without formal charge.

Police chief Bob Heath said the bluejeans-clad girl, who has been baby sitting, gave a detailed story of her actions but was unable to explain them.

The chief said she admitted shooting Irvine Combs, 25, outside his liquor store at nearby Lothair. Then she said she walked to a drive-in restaurant and took $20 at gunpoint.

Walking to Hazard, she met Jim Prater, who disarmed her. The girl then ran to the home of Douglast Combs, no relation to Irvine, and asked him to call police.

Age Melts Under Lens of Old Portrait Camera

"A cocktail party's where people go to kill time and murder reputations."—Ted Steele.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—There comes a time in a man's life when he must "have a new picture taken."

It was my crew-cut, or "stir haircut," as the convicts call it, that forced me to "sit."

For 13 years, I'd been happy with a portrait taken by Bruno of Hollywood. As you doubtless know, Bruno of Hollywood isn't located in Hollywood, but on 57th St. in New York. Bruno of Hollywood originally comes from Boston, and there are three of him, Tony, John and Nick. The Brunos have certain little tricks for making flat-chested girls look overly endowed which they are not going to reveal, but who wants to talk about clothespins, anyway?

WILSON

Through thick and thin—during the thick period I weighed 40 pounds more than I do now—this portrait served me well, although, if I do say it, women would frequently remark:

"But you're so much HANDSOMER than your picture!"

And it wasn't always a starlet or girl press agent who said it, either.

Then I went to Las Vegas and got clipped—got a crew-cut—and now I wasn't the same fellow I'd been 13 years ago.

One day I asked my good friend Gary Wagner, the glamor photographer, to do his best with me.

EARL & KIM

Somehow Gary goofed. I suspect that he saw how handsome I was and got overconfident. The pictures he took the same day of me with Kim Novak were very good—of Kim—but, as I remarked later to my wife, he didn't capture the real me.

"Maybe he didn't want to," she suggested delicately. "Maybe he was fighting against it."

One day in Hollywood a photographer, David Kovar, a favorite of Conrad Hilton, suggested he'd like me to sit for him. Otherwise, he seemed quite intelligent. At his studio, he announced, "They say I've put photography back 100 years."

He used an ancient camera and little light.

When his prints arrived, it was clear he had captured the real me—the dirty louse. By amputating a couple of chins and bags under the eyes, however, he produced a fellow who looks like he's about 17 and getting ready to enter Culver Military Academy next year.

NANCY

And so that's to be me for 13 years more, or, roughly, until I am old enough to be the grandfather of the guy in the picture.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Lu Ann Simms, latest of Godfrey's ex-Friends, is working up a night club act . . . Liberace was a Copa visitor, and asked Nat "King" Cole to sing "Smile" . . . Ethel Waters celebrated her birthday at Lindy's, telling friends, "I'm 55—and I've been kissed."

"The Big Payoff" will ask viewers to guess the number of sequins on Nancy Walter's bathing suit.

Jenny Grossinger, of the famed resort, is ailing . . . Mario Lanza's friendly, cooperative attitude on the "Serenade" set is a big H'wood story . . . Sandy Wilson is writing a B'way musical based on the Meg-Townsend story.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGHS: Lenny Kent explained about the new slot machines at El Rancho Vegas: "They take wrist watches."

★ ★ ★ ★

Patrice Munsel explained that she never gets over her nervousness onstage: "The first night I have butterflies in my stomach. After that I have tired butterflies" . . . That's earl, brother.

EARL'S PEARLS: Those folks who complain about how hard they work seem to have plenty of time in which to complain.—Ima Washout.

More Members to Leave UAW

Contract Dissatisfaction Chief Cause for Auto Workers' Withdrawal

DETROIT (UP) — The CIO United Auto Workers Union lost about 800 members to independent unions as a result of dissatisfaction among skilled workers with the general contracts signed earlier this year in the auto industry.

The latest loss occurred yesterday when skilled die craftsmen at the Detroit Chevrolet Forge Plant voted to withdraw from the UAW.

In an election conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, the craftsmen voted 196 to 62 for representation by the International Die Sinkers Conference, an independent union. The election involved 275 employes.

In four other NLRB elections conducted in the past six months at Michigan plants, the UAW lost more than 500 skilled-worker members.

The membership loss, however, represents only a small percentage of the 250,000 skilled workers among the UAW's total membership of 1,500,000.

Another potential threat to the UAW's representation of craftsmen has developed from the recently formed Society of Skilled Tradesmen in the Detroit area. The group claims a membership of nearly 10,000. Leaders of the group have called a mass meeting in Detroit Sunday to decide whether to pull out from the UAW and seek recognition as a bargaining agency from the NLRB.

Detroiter Is Named NLRB Area Head

WASHINGTON (UP)—Thomas Roumell, a Detroit attorney, has been named Detroit regional director of the National Labor Relations Board.

Roumell, 41, will direct all NLRB cases in Michigan's Lower Peninsula. He will take his oath of office Nov. 14 in Detroit from Federal Judge Thomas P. Thornton.

The Greek-born lawyer came to Detroit at an early age, attended Wayne University and received his law degree from De Paul University in Chicago in 1939.

Roumell served as general counsel to a Michigan Senate committee investigating loyalty of state employes in 1950 and was Michigan commander of the American Legion from 1951 to 1952.

He replaces William T. Little, acting regional director since July, 1954. Little will resume his old post as chief law officer of the region.

Sleeping Juror Halts Trial, Sent ot the Pokey

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (UP) — Trial of a damage suit was halted yesterday when Dist. Judge C. F. Holt observed a juror sleeping in the jury box.

Holt said the juror, John Glovna of Stockett, has been found in contempt. The judge has under advisement what penalty should be imposed.

Holt ordered the juror confined to the Cascade County jail overnight and to appear in court this morning "in proper condition."

Different Roles Led in Real Life by Private Eyes

RICHMOND, Va. (UP) — The Private Eye in real life doesn't seem to be quite the type that divides his efforts between twitting the D.A's office and fighting off blondes while drilling an unsavory character here and there. At least that's the way it seemed at a meeting of the Professional Detective Assn. of Virginia. The facts:

The average detective at the meeting was 55, married, a bit overweight, didn't pack a rod, and was a former peace officer of some sort. He had one modest drink of blended whisky before lunch and after lunch smoked a 10-cent cigar.

A Real Diplomat

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (UP) — Baron Silvercruys, Belgian ambassador to the United States who first began serving his nation in Washington in 1919, explained why he seldom makes a speech. "My thought is that diplomats are like children," he said. "They should be seen and not heard."

Hall Predicts GOP Victory

Chairman Says Party Will Win on Platform Based on Ike's Record

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said today he is optimistic about a Republican victory in 1956 because what he called a youthful and united party will be running on a platform upholding the Eisenhower record.

"I say the Republican party is the strongest it has been in 25 years," Hall said in an address prepared for a Western States party conference luncheon. "We are in that condition today because President Eisenhower has led us along that way. I repeat — the philosophy of the President is the philosophy of the party; his record is the platform we will stand on next year.

"That was true three months ago. It is true today. In that respect nothing has changed since the sudden illness of the President."

Among the highlights of the Eisenhower record is a "booming economy," he said, and added:

"In fact, we're not hearing too many Democrat chants of gloom and doom of late. Perhaps they decided they can't talk America into a depression. Democrats apparently have shifted their gloom and doom tactics to the farm issue."

Hall praised Eisenhower as a "captain of the Republican team" and said:

"It is interesting to note the difference between this team performance and what happened in previous administrations. We have it on the word of Harry Truman that President Roosevelt was in effect not only president but also secretary of war, secretary of Navy, secretary of state and secretary of the Treasury.

"We ought to be grateful that President Eisenhower does not believe in that type of government."

U.S. Supermarket Theory Copied by Home Builders

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The American supermarket theory has now been extended to the highly unlikely field of building materials.

Victor M. Di Suvero, a San Francisco engineer who found he was spending a good part of his time showing off samples of building materials to friends in the industry, has opened the Construction Materials Center.

He terms it a "three dimensional catalogue, a sort of reference library for the building and architectural industry, and it is a gold mine of information for anyone building a home.

No one has built a home without weeks of worry and indecision over such problems as these:

What material will I use for the exterior? What will the flooring and roofing materials be? What type heating do I want and what are the comparative prices?

Are there wall coverings or window hangings which have an interesting texture yet a serviceable or "wipeable" surface?

The Center has the answers available in the form of samples and brochures on the products of some 400 competing manufacturers in the building supply field and the Center is for the free use of home builders, architects and contractors in the San Francisco Bay area.

Display panels pull out with samples and brochures on the following items: structural material; masonry; wood products; acoustic material; lighting; heating; hardware; windows doors flooring; tile—metal, ceramic and plastic; plastic laminates; kitchens; appliances; wall coverings; adhesives; paints and finishes.

Below the panels are drawers for samples of building material and three-dimensional displays. Even testing apparatus is available.

Tables are provided for architects to both display and work on plans and a kitchen has been constructed with appliances and materials of participating firms. Architects have the use of this kitchen to serve lunch to clients.

"The Center didn't just grow out of thin air," DiSevero said. "In our work of design and color, we had developed a large sample collection. More and more persons heard about it and were calling us up to get information.

"In the future, we also plan to have a research center where manufacturers can display new products before they go into production.

"They will be able to get builder and consumer reaction and this gathering of opinions will be a very important function. It will save a manufacturer a great deal of money to be able to judge public acceptance in advance."

Hollywood Headlines:

Jennifer Jones May Star in 'A Room Full of Roses'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — If you were on a quiz show and were asked "Who gave 20th Century-Fox it's name?" would you know the answer? Well, it was producer Sam Engel who moved in with Darryl Zanuck when the company was formed and bestowed the trade name now known around the world.

The reason I'm mentioning this is that it is little wonder that 20th sets great store by Sam's films and he usually gets what he wants—the latest being a new contract.

His first is "A Room Full of Roses," current Broadway hit, starring Patricia Neal.

In the Engel movie version, Jennifer Jones is top choice for the star role of a divorcee who loses the custody of her teenage daughter. Jennifer just completed "Good Morning, Miss Dove" for Sam—and her "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" is a big hit currently.

Russ Tamblyn's bride-to-be, 17-year-old Venetia Stevenson, is the daughter of Anna Lee and director Robert Stevenson, which was a surprise to me. Anna now is married to Capt. George Stafford, by whom she has three children, and is expecting another any day.

Anna has moved to Los Angeles. She told me that she lived on a ranch in Montana, miles and miles from schools or churches, so she came here to live until her husband can sell their ranch.

Anna says that she has given up acting but is now writing and has written a story for the Loretta Young TV show.

Grange Shadow Awaits 'M'; MSU in Tough Test

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The shadow of Illinois' Red Grange awaits unbeaten Michigan tomorrow in Memorial Stadium. Bennie Oosterbaan will keep this date.

It's exactly 31 years, two weeks and two days since the Illinois homecoming game of 1924, when Grange, the great Galloping Ghost rambled to a 39-14 victory over an unbeaten Michigan team.

Tomorrow Illinois meets another unbeaten Michigan squad.

It was Grange's elusiveness, his speed and drive that remains a thorn in Michigan memory. He personally stopped an unbeaten string of 19 games in which Michigan had only been tied twice.

Then came a young sophomore from Muskegon and the next year, 1925, he helped stop Grange. Michigan, under Fielding Yost, held Grange to eight yards on the ground, 40 in the air, to win 3-0.

Now that young sophomore is the Michigan coach, Bennie Oosterbaan. But he has the same problem he had in 1925. This time it's a Red Grange with many legs.

The Illini have speedy backs like Harry Jefferson and Bob Mitchell. They both run the 100-yard dash well under 10 seconds. Mitchell runs it in 9.5 seconds.

The Illini have speed and power in Mickey Bates and Ray Nitschke.

These backs make Illinois one of the nation's leading ground gainers with almost 2,000 yards in six games.

Michigan assistant coach Pete Kinyon, who scouted the Illini, points out that Jefferson is the Big Ten's leading rusher with 312 yards in 55 attempts. That's a 5.3 yard average which Jefferson has earned as the workhorse of the Illini.

Kinyon says Illinois quarterback, Em Lindbeck, throws a lot of short passes in an effort to shake loose his fast backs. Illinois passes 30 per cent of the time, Kinyon says.

Ray Eliot, the Illinois coach, has developed a heavy, mobile line. And Eliot said after the Michigan State game, "we're going to beat Michigan this year."

Wolverines are in bad shape at left halfback where the speed of the team lies. Both Terry Barr and Jim Pace are nursing injuries and are doubtful starters.

Illini have an even record of three victories and three defeats, but they'd consider the season a success if they can upset third-rated Michigan, the Big Ten leader.

While the Illini have beaten Iowa State and California, they've topped only one Big Ten team, Minnesota. They've fallen to Ohio State, Michigan State and Purdue.

Michigan is a two touchdown favorite, based mostly on their six straight victories, four in the Big Ten. They lead in the long series between the two teams with 26 victories over 14 defeats and no ties.

Oregon State in Bowl Scene

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Unsung Oregon State is threatening to complicate the Western end of the Rose Bowl picture.

UCLA's Bruins, the nation's fifth-ranked collegiate football team, still are prime favorites to repeat as Pacific Coast Conference champions and win the Rose Bowl bid. But the single-wing Beavers, under new Coach Tommy Prothro, have boomed into serious contention. Under the right set of circumstances they could take it all.

* * *

The "take it all" tag hinges, primarily, on a Southern California win over UCLA in their Los Angeles date Nov. 19. It depends also, of course, on Oregon State defeating its three remaining PCC foes.

Here's how it stands today:

UCLA leads the race with a 4-0 record in conference play. On the Bruins' heels are Southern California and Oregon State with 3-1 marks.

* * *

The Beavers have three games left—against Idaho, California and Oregon—all second division teams. Southern Cal and UCLA have two apiece—one with each other—the Trojans taking on Stanford Saturday, the Bruins facing Washington Nov. 12.

Simple mathematics show that if Oregon State wins its three games the Beavers will finish at 6-1. If UCLA and USC dispose of their other opponents—and the Trojans upset the Bruins—each will have a 5-1 slate.

* * *

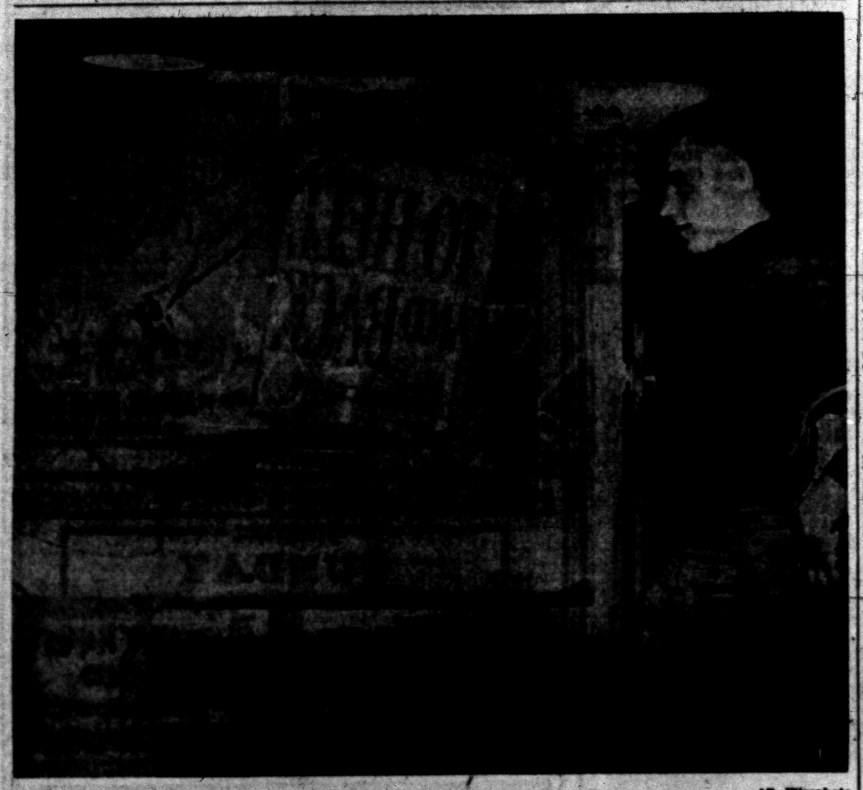

The Beavers popped into the picture as a complete surprise to West Coast fans and coaches. Two months ago, when The Associated Press polled conference coaches, the consensus was that Prothro's team would wind up eighth in the nine-team race.

* * *

Then came a 33-0 win over Brigham Young in a non-conference opener, followed by a 10-0 upset of Stanford. UCLA administered a 38-0 whipping and College of the Pacific a 13-7 non-league loss. After those defeats, the Beavers edged Washington State, 14-6, and Washington, 13-7.

* * *

If Oregon State should bounce into the PCC title and the Rose Bowl it would be the school's first appearance in the Pasadena classic although it has one victory to its credit. The 1941 Beavers won the PCC crown and the post-season award, but the "Rose Bowl" was played at Durham, N.C., in 1942 because of the war. OSC beat Duke, 20-16.

SHORT OF MARK—Michigan State halfback Walt Kowalczyk, right, rushed for 172 yards Saturday in 27-0 Spartan win over Wisconsin. His performance wasn't enough to eclipse MSU single game rushing mark of 184 yards, set in 1950 by present backfield coach Sonny Grandelius, who points with pride to his total.

Out-of-Place Pupil Teaches Grid Lessons

Star LaCrosse Back Shows Coaches-To-Be How Game Is Played

LACROSSE, Wis. (AP) — Willie Berzinski is like a duck out of water at LaCrosse State College, except on the football field where he need tip his helmet to no one.

He's majoring in business education at a school widely known for its physical education courses and the guy who doesn't want to be a coach is showing coaches-to-be a thing or two about how the game should be played.

In two games shy of four years the will-o'-the-wisp fullback from Arcadia, Wis., has amassed 3,256 yards on 444 ball carrying forays for a sparkling average of 7.33 yards per try.

The pros already are knocking at Berzinski's door and Willie has said he'll be home to the best offer. He has received questionnaires from the Los Angeles Rams, Green Bay Packers and Cleveland Browns.

Olympic Champ Starts Practice on West Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Sammy Lee, former Olympic diving champion, has arrived from Colorado Springs, Colo., to begin his practice as eye, ear and nose specialist at Anaheim.

He and his family will move into theeir new home today. In an effort to buy a home at Garden Grove last July Lee was rebuffed because of his Korean ancestry. A storm of protests and a flood of offers to buy elsewhere followed.

Dr. Lee was separated from the Army last Monday with the rank of major after 12 years of service. He was stationed at the Ft. Carson Army Hospital near Colorado Springs.

Coaches Plan to Suit Up to Bolster Eleven

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP)—Coach Jerry Clark of the Ft. Carson football team said today he and his three assistants will suit up for possible duty against the Pensacola Naval Air Station team at Pueblo, Colo., Sunday.

"We're hurting," said Clark, a second lieutenant. "The Ft. Sill game left us in a bad way."

Spartans Face Big Ten's Top Defensive Club

But Daugherty's Team Is Rated 2-TD Margin Over Purdue

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—According to the statistics, Michigan State will have to sweat hard tomorrow for every yard the Spartans make against Purdue.

Yardage-wise, Purdue has the best defense in the Big Ten. The Boilermarkers have given opponents an average of only 201 yards per game and have held rival runners to 95.2 yards per game.

Michigan is the 2nd best defensive team according to Big Ten figures and Michigan State is 3rd.

"We know Purdue's big line is very capable," said Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty. "They are strong enough to stop anybody if ways to get around them aren't figured out. That's what we've been working on all week. And I hope we've got it figured out."

Daugherty could take heart from the thought that figures don't always add up to facts in football.

Using the same measurement of yards gained, Wisconsin had the best offensive in the Big Ten. But last week's Michigan State's score was 27-0 over Wisconsin. The Badgers weren't able to put enough yards together for a single touchdown.

Wisconsin blanked Purdue 9-0 in their meeting earlier this season.

Michigan State, on the strength of five wins and a single loss to Michigan, was a two touchdown favorite going into the game.

Purdue has won three, lost two and tied one.

Purdue, of course, has recent history on its side since the Boilermakers upset Michigan State 6-0 two years ago and won 27-13 last year.

But the odds-makers are figuring on the Michigan State multiple attack to be too strong for Purdue. This is especially so since left half Clarence Peaks, recovered from an ankle injury and some sinus trouble, is in top shape for the 1st time in three weeks.

The 38-man Michigan State travelling squad flew from Lansing to Indianapolis this morning.

LINEMAN OF WEEK — Tom Maentz, University of Michigan's 220-pound end, was named this week Associated Press Lineman of the Week for his play last Saturday against Iowa. Maentz pulled in a last quarter forward pass and went 60 yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown.

First Meeting With Leo

Kaline Signs 1956 Contract and Sees Leo Durocher at Torch Drive Dinner

DETROIT (AP) — Leo Durocher met Al Kaline yesterday.

* * *

The former manager of the New York Giants was addressing a United Foundations torch drive dinner here. In slipped the 20-year-old Detroit Tiger outfielder who led both major leagues with a .340 batting average, last season.

* * *

"I never met you, Al," hollered Leo across the crowded room. "But I hear you just signed your 1956 contract. Don't know what you got, but it wasn't enough," grinned Durocher.

* * *

Kaline signed his 1956 contract with the Detroit Tigers yesterday for a reported $20,000.

* * *

"I'm not kicking," said Al. "I went in with a figure in mind, my bosses had the same figure. It was easy."

* * *

"I still say you should've made me your agent," yelled Leo. "'Ya ever hear how I got Willie Mays up in the big bucks last year?"

Kaline hadn't.

* * *

Durocher recounted:

"Willie was making $12,500 in 1954, his first big year. You know what a year he had.—Hit .345, belted 41 homers and drove in 110, in addition to running into the bleachers to pull down long flies.

* * *

The boss (owner Horace Stoneham) calls me and asks me what I figure Willie ought to get.

"I tell Horace I think they ought to give Willie the Polo Grounds and a big hunk of Ft. Knox, before we get sort of serious about it.

* * *

"Stoneham finally says he figures he ought to offer Wilie about 25 grand to start the dickering and then asks me if he thought he should go as high as $30,000.

* * *

"I hedge for a while and finally he tells me that I might as well bargain with Willie and for me to make the best deal I can. I tell him okay and get Willie on the phone.

* * *

"I don't even mention the 25 grand. 'Willie,' I say, 'I'm sending you a contract for $30,000.'"

Aeschylus Gains Entry at Laurel

Turf Club Win Brings Chance in 4th Running of Nov. 11 Race

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—A new gate to the Laurel International next Friday was opened today and Douglas R. Small's Aeschylus walked through it for a chance to make a rags-to-riches story of the turf.

Laurel decided this week to make the winner of its Turf Cup Handicap an automatic eligible henceforth for the International, provided the horse is American-born.

* * *

Aeschylus won the Turf Cup last Saturday before this plan was announced. His entry is the third for the United States, and fixes the field for the fourth running of the $65,000 International at a dozen, two more than ever before.

Aeschylus was an unknown outside of his own backyard before he won the Turf Cup. It was only second victory of note and the $17,000 he won more than doubled his earnings for the year.

Little Chiefs Spank Saginaw

Pontiac JV's Trounce Eastern, 21-6, for 7th Straight Victory

Sparked by Dick Whitmer, who passed for one touchdown and scored another, Pontiac's Junior Varsity football team downed Saginaw Eastern, 21-6, at Wisner Stadium Thursday afternoon for its 7th straight victory.

Undefeated Little Chiefs, coached by Ed Heikkinen and Tony Pizza, spotted the visitors a 6-0 lead in the 1st quarter, then came back with three TD's to win going away.

A Pontiac fumble set up the touchdown for Saginaw. The upstaters recovered the bobble on the Pontiac 15 and moved in to score their only marker. From then on the issue was never in doubt.

On the 2nd play after the next kickoff, Whitmer pitched a 25-yard aerial to Jim Hawkins who raced into pay-dirt. The scoring pass totaled 60 yards. Whitmer added the extra point on the quarterback option.

In the 2nd period Little Chiefs struck again when John Phlegm intercepted a pass on the Saginaw 25 and outran the lone defender into the end zone for a TD. Whitmer converted with another optional run.

Pontiac marched 45 yards for its final touchdown in the 3rd quarter. Whitmer scored the six-pointer on a 15-yard dash up the middle and passed to Hawkins for the bonus point.

Cranes Aim for 1st Title in Inter-State Grid Loop

Cranbrook's football team aims for its 1st Inter-State Prep League championship since 1939 Saturday afternoon at Cranbrook against Shady Side of Pittsburgh. Game time is 2 p.m.

Coach Fred Campbell's amazing Cranes are enjoying a surprisingly good season. When only three letter winners reported at the Cranbrook camp this fall, a gloomy season was the general forecast.

But the Cranes have developed into a strong unit. Sparked by quarterback Pete Hubert, transfer from Birmingham, Pontiac's George Gary, center and captain, and veteran end Pete Bedford, Cranes have rolled to four victories in six games.

Only blots on the record were caused by Birmingham and Nichols of Buffalo. Inter-State foe Nichols held the Cranes to a 13-13 tie while the Maples administered their lone defeat, 22-13.

Cranbrook reached the heights last Saturday by walloping defending champion University School, 53-6, at Cleveland. Their other league victim was Western Reserve from Hudson, Ohio, 14-6. Cranes hold non-loop decisions over Flint Tech (28-14), and Lake Forest, Ill. (13-0).

Shady Side is expected to give the Cranes a busy afternoon. A win over the Pennsylvania invaders will hand Cranbrook an undisputed title.

Birmingham is not scheduled this week. Undefeated Maples are taking tonight off before tackling Berkley a week hence. The Eastern Michigan League champions finish their slate Thanksgiving Day at Royal Oak.

All other EML teams see action tonight. They are Royal Oak at Ferndale, Hazel Park at Van Dyke Lincoln, East Detroit at Hamtramck, Grosse Pointe at Port Huron and Owosso at Mt. Clemens.

Record Crowd to Watch Tilt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unbeaten West Virginia faces one of its sternest tests tonight against a big, fast George Washington team that ranks sixth in the nation in defense.

* * *

The biggest home crowd in GW's history, some 25,000, is expected to be on hand for the 8:15 p.m. (EST) kickoff at Griffith Stadium. It marks the Colonials' only home appearance of the year.

* * *

A victory over GW, and another over Pittsburgh next weekend, could well earn West Virginia a Sugar Bow invitation and an opportunity to avenge the Mountaineers' 42-19 lacing from Georgia Tech two years ago.

* * *

Assistant Coach Russ Crane, who has scouted GW in three of its games, reported that the Colonials have "the toughest team we have faced so far."

* * *

GW's big, mobile line averages 209 pounds and is the first line to outweigh the 206-pound West Virginia line this season. The big men in the GW line are end Paul Thompson, tackle Dave Liddick and center Dick Gasparl, all of whom Coach Bo Sherman avers he wouldn't swap for anybody in the country.

Maligned Prophet!

Harassed Hoople Sticks Neck Out on UM-Illini

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

My word! The mailman developed a veritable bunion on his shoulder bringing my mail week before last, and most of it abusively critical!

But the results of the football games bore me out, and the prophet stands triumphant.

A less sturdy soul would have quailed at the contumelious remarks hurled at me by the readers, many of whom offered to wager on the outcome of games in question — Pitt over Duke, Kansas State over Iowa State; Ohio State over Wisconsin; Tulane over Georgia.

You know what happened!

My upset choices won, and I deem the results the best reply to my critics.

Not too many upsets this week. One is Illini over Michigan's Wolverines (14-7); Michigan State will bow to Purdue in another (14-13), and Stanford will trip USC (19-7).

Following are the selections for Saturday's other contests:

At Saginaw—Pontiac 19, Saginaw High 13!

Big Ten—Ohio State 20, Indiana 18; Minnesota 14, Iowa 6; Wisconsin 7, Northwestern 0.

Army 20, Yale 7; Brown 18, Cornell 13; Princeton 13, Harvard 6; Maryland 26, LSU 13; Navy 34, Duke 7; Syracuse 14, Penn State 0; Iowa State 13, Nebraska 7; Oklahoma 34, Missouri 14; Alabama 13, Tulane 7; Rice 20, Arkansas 13; Miss. Miami Rates 21-Point Favorite Over Eastern Invaders Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—About 40,000 Homecoming fans are expected in the Orange Bowl tonight to see the University of Miami tangle with Boston College in what may be a free-scoring game.

"Our only chance is to outscore the Hurricanes, because I don't see how we can hold them," said Boston Coach Mike Holovak upon arrival with his 32 players late yesterday.

* * *

Holovak, who played in the Orange Bowl against Alabama in 1943, said his chief concern is lack of depth and he does not expect to use more than 22 of the players he brought South.

Miami's Coach Andy Gustafson has only one worry—that his team may still be in the clouds after thumping Pittsburgh, 21-7. The Hurricanes are a 21-point favorite to down the visitors and run Miami's season record to 3-3.

MSU Harriers Run Last Dual, Saturday

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's cross-country team will see its last dual meet action of the season Saturday against Ohio State at Columbus.

Then the MSU runners will enter the IC4A meet at New York City Nov. 14, the Big Ten meet at Chicago Nov. 18 and the NCAA meet here Nov. 28.

Spartans have defeated Penn State and Wisconsin this year, won the Michigan AAU title and have been defeated by Notre Dame.

EAST LANSING (AP)—The crack NavCad drill team from the naval air base at Pensacola, Fla., will entertain fans during half-time of the Michigan State-Minnesota football game Nov. 12.

Harbert Cagey Over Lineup of Ryder Cup's Pro 4-Some

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Ryder Cup enthusiasm, a distinct novelty in this otherwise golf conscious desert resort, took over Palm Springs on the eve of the start of the 11th edition of the international matches.

* * *

The nation's leading professionals compete here each winter. President Eisenhower has played here. But the Ryder Cup series, pitting a select team of players from the British Isles and the United States, is something else again.

This is brand new to Palm Springs and only the second time the series has been played on the West Coast since it was inaugurated in 1927.

* * *

Members of the 10-man teams, civic officials, an Army band and dignitaries of the host Thunderbird Country Club paraded through the crowded main street this morning.

Late today the rival captains, Chick Harbert of the defending Yankee team and Dai Rees of the British, had more serious matters to conclude.

* * *

This is when they announce the pairings —the team personnel which will go into formal action tomorrow and Sunday over Thunderbird's 6,843-yard, par-71 course.

Harbert disclosed that he has already determined the eight professionals who will lead off tomorrow in the Scotch foursome doubles competition. But he wouldn't tip his hand until showdown time late this afternoon.

* * *

For the uninitiated, Scotch foursomes mean that each of a two-man team alternates on a shot—one drives, the other approaches, the first putts (provided they reach the green in two strokes, of course).

Play is match for both the doubles and Sunday's singles.

Members of the British teams are Rees, Harry Weetman, Harry Bradshaw, Ken Bousfield, Eric Brown, Johnny Fallon, John Jacobs, Arthur Lees, Christy O'Connor, and Sydney Scott.

* * *

The American team consists of Harbert, Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff, Jack Burke Jr., Doug Ford, Jerry Barber, Marty Furgol, Ted Kroll, Tommy Bolt and Chandler Harper.

Rory Calhoun KO's Lester in Third

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rory Calhoun, 160, of White Plains, N. Y., rang up his seventh KO this year with a third-round knockout of Clifton Lester, 156, of Los Angeles, in the scheduled 10-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium last night.

Lester was a last-minute replacement for Stan Bryant, of Oakland, who, the State Athletic Commission said, injured his elbow yesterday.

The free-swinging Calhoun led all the way. In the second round he caught Lester with a solid right, and the inexperienced Los Angeles battler sat down for a four count.

Apprentice Jockey's 1st Win Starts Rich Double

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP) — Don Lewis, 17-year-old apprentice jockey from Bakersfield, Calif., started a $1,607 daily double payoff when he won his first race in California at Tanforan track yesterday.

Lewis booted home the long shot Don't Panic for a $117.40 payoff. High Notion $48.40 won the second to complete the double.

Restaurant Owner's Five-Year-Old Jumper May Become Olympic Champion Horse in 1956 Games

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. equestrian team, as well as the spectators, are keeping a close eye these days on a 5-year-old jumper at the National Horse Show who may be an Olympic champion of the 1956 games.

* * *

The horse is Riviera Wonder, property of Bernie Mann, Port Washington, N. Y., restaurant owner, and at present leading in points for the coveted open jumper championship at the Madison Square Garden show.

Riviera Wonder is a son of the great jumper of former years, Bonne Nuit, and his dam is Winter Rose, a steeplechase mare who won 16 straight races. This makes Wonder a full brother to Miss Budweiser, who represented the United States in the last Olympic games. Wonder was purchased during a midnight deal at Mann's eatery.

* * *

"Riviera Wonder was bred in Virginia at the Llangollen Farm of Mrs. Dick Lunn," Mann related. He said he was talking about the horse with Mrs. Lunn one night in July a year ago, and at 1 a.m. she telephoned the farm and ordered Riviera Wondeg sent to Belmont Park.

* * *

"I got him the next morning, and we've been bringing him along slowly. He was a green working hunter, won four classes at the Westchester show, and five more down in New Jersey.

* * *

"This is his first indoor show, and he is one of the greatest prospects to come along in many years," Mann declared. "Billy Steinkraus, captain of the U. S. equestrian team, wants him for the next Olympic games, and I've got to make up my mind after the Toronto Winter Fair. He may be a year or so too young for such strenuous international competition.

Riviera Wonder has won two classes, and has 11 points toward the jumper title. Others in the wide open battle include two with 8 points each. They are Star Fire, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Sadlier, Indianapolis, and Diamant, from the stable of Miss Eleanor R. Sears, Pride's Crossing, Mass. Velvet Lassie, the Harrisburg, Pa., champion owned by Mrs. Hubert R. Thomas, Indianapolis, is one of four horses with 5 points.

* * *

In the international jumping, the U. S. team finally came through on the third day of competition, and won both events to put the Stars and Stripes ahead of Mexico, Ireland and Canada, each with one victory.

Billy Steinkraus of Westport, Conn., won the President of Mexico Trophy last night, after Charles Dennehy, Jr., Lake Forest, Ill., had taken the second event of the 3-day low score competition challenge trophy in the afternoon.

23 Area Elevens Close '55 Grid Action in Tonight's Tilts; 2 Seek 1st Crowns

Twenty-three prep elevens in and around Oakland County close their 1955 gridiron campaigns tonight, while 18 schools have one more battle left. Three teams ended their scheduled play last week.

Clarenceville of the Wayne-Oakland League and Madsion of Oakland-B, can clinch their 1st football titles with wins over West Bloomfield and Troy respectively. Victories would assure both squads of perfect records in their leagues.

Clarenceville - West Bloomfield clash is scheduled for the Keego field at 8 p.m. Other W-O battles: Milford playing at I-L Waterford (3:30) Clarkson at Holly and Northville at Brighton.

With the Oakland-B spotlight on the Madison-Troy flag encounter at Troy (kickoff at 3 p.m.), other schools in the loop battle for important places in the race standings. Avondale and Fitzgerald close their league play at Van Dyke. Both schools have one inter-sectional game left.

Lake Orion, 1st year member of the Oakland-B conference, shoots for 3rd place at Roseville. In the last conference tolt, Clawson entertains non-league Oxford.

With circuit play ending last Friday, all six Inter-Lakes League school face inter-sectional teams tonight. Champion Van Dyke arms to protect its top Class A rankings in the area when the Abes host Hazel Park. Plymouth is at Walled Lake, Southfield hosts Redford Union, (3:30) Berkley preps for its next week's struggle with powerful EML winner Birmingham when it entertains Ypsilanti, and Bentley goes to Farmington.

Red Wings Outplay Foes, Have to Settle for a Tie

DETROIT (AP) — It sure does not show in the standings, but the Detroit Red Wings actually are outplaying some of their more fortunate rivals.

Such was the case last night when the last place Wings, for some reason, came out with only a 1-1 tie against a New York Ranger squad that was hustling to keep up with them all night.

For instance, look at the goal saves. New York's Lorne Worsley had to come up with 37 saves. Detroit's Glenn Hall only had to keep 15 from the net. But goalies have been looking great against Detroit all season.

With Red Kelly playing forward as an experiment, the Wings got the 1st goal of the game. Kelly took his 1st tally of the season in the 2nd period while New York had two players in the penalty box.

Wally Gergesheimer tied it up for New York a short while later.

Wally Hergesheimer tied it up rebound while standing directly in front of Detroit's net.

Detroit plays at Chicago Saturday night in its next game.

Woman Without License Trains Horse for Race

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—A woman is training a horse for the International for the first time in its four runnings.

But Mrs. Johnson-Houghton, conditioner of the 3-year-old Nucleus from England, won't be listed as such on the program for the Nov. 11 race.

Women aren't licensed as trainers in England and Mrs. Johnson-Houghton will follow suit here.

Nucleus, a colt, also is owned by a woman, Mrs. Dorothy Paget. His program trainer will be Charles Jerdein.

Mrs. Johnson-Houghton has been unofficially training horses in England since the death of her husband, who was licensed, five years ago.

'Babe' Zaharias Wishes Ike 'Green Fairways'

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — One convalescing golfer sent a hurry-up-and-get-well telegram to another yesterday. It went like this:

"Congratulations from one golfer to another on your excellent recovery from the rough, and here's hoping you have only green fairways from now on."

Babe Zaharias the famous woman golfer recovering from her second cancer attack, sent the message to President Eisenhower who's getting over his heart illness.

Now in its 67th season of collegiate competition, Notre Dame boasts 18 undefeated seasons and 10 undefeated, untied years.

Pontiac Shoots for 1st Valley Victory Tonight

Contest Pits League's Beefiest Club Against One of Fastest

Shooting for its 1st Saginaw Valley victory of the season, Pontiac High School's football Chiefs invade the Saginaw Eastern field tonight.

On the basis of the season's play Trojans hold an edge over the Chiefs. Saginaw defeated Flint Northern 34-24 for its only SVC win. PHS meets the Vikings in the season finale here next Friday night.

But the facts really give Pontiac the edge, if any. Many observers rate the contest a tossup.

Where Saginaw boats the SVC's beefiest club with a line that outweighs PHS forwards from 15 to 25 pounds per man, Chiefs can claim some of the Valley's speediest set of backs.

It's a question whether or not Coach Ed Graybiel's charges can combine their speed with some blocking to shake them loose on scoring runs.

If such runners as Freeman Watkins, Kennie Fusilier, Bob Casteel, Charley Spann, Lonnie Humphreys and others can get by the line of scrimmage they'll be hard to stop, or catch.

And it's a cinch that Graybiel's club will resort to its effective aerial weapon, with either Art Poe or Casteel throwing the shots to the receivers.

Starters for Chiefs will include: Ends, Kennedy and Cagle; tackles, Kelly and Kors; guards, Baker and Neaves; center, Hardy or McCurry; backs (qb) Poe or Casteel, halfbacks, Fusilier or Watkins, Bob McDonald or Robinson, and either Larson or Spann at fullback.

Saginaw expects to put much hope on Charley Ruffin, Haggert and Jim Sherely in the backfield, along with George Bohnm, Deb Blondin and Bob Huebner at fullback.

Bowling Clinic

STAY INBOUNDS — Bowling is one sport in which you can let out. Whoop, jump, swing your arms, have fun. If we may remind you, though, there's definitely a limit on how far you can go.

That you stay inbounds is of first importance, therefore make it a point to come as directly back from the foul line as possible after the ball delivery. Avoid interfering with those on opposite alleys, just as it's a courtesy they'll extend to you.

And in any form of competition — league, match or tournament—bear in mind that those who distract others intentionally will soon be bowling alone. With a little judgment that just won't happen.

Scholarship to Honor Memory of Grant Rice

Vanderbilt Course in Sports Writing Backed by Racing Group

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Vanderbilt University today announced establishment of the Grantland Rice Memorial Scholarships to train future sportswriters at Rice's alma mater.

* * *

The four-year, all-expense awards will be financed by a grant from the Thoroughbred Racing Assns., the nation-wide organization of race tracks. One scholarship will be awarded each year.

* * *

The university said sports editors of the nation's daily newspapers have been asked to recommend "the likeliest prospect in America to become a fine sportswriter" for the initial scholarships next fall.

Winners will receive $1,800 a year for regular expenses plus $500 each summer for field work.

Rice, who died in 1954 after a distinguished career as a sports writer, played varsity baseball and football at Vanderbilt, graduating in 1901 with a Phi Beta Kappa key.

Billy Pierce of the White Sox won 15 games during the 1955 season but could have won 20. He lost four 1-0 games and two 3-2 contests.

Rams, Eaglets Clash Holds Top SCL Spot in Weekend

Orchard Lake will be the scene of the Suburban Catholic League's key football game Sunday afternoon when St. Frederick's bedraggled Rams encounter St. Mary's unbeaten Eaglets. Game will get under way at 2:30 p.m.

The 1955 SCL race ends Sunday with a complete card of four games. Other contests scheduled are St. Michael at Highland Park St. Benedict, Royal Oak St. Mary at Hazel Park St. Rita, and Center Line St. Clement at Ferndale St. James.

St. Fred's harried forces, listing two ties and five losses this season and winless in their last 23 games, face the prospects of a gloomy Sabbath afternoon against St. Mary's high-scoring machine.

Gene Wright's Rams will attempt to contain the explosive Eaglet backfield of Ted Kopacki, Gerry Leszczynski, Paul Franckowiak, and Len Mallat, a feat six previous opponents have been unable to accomplish. The St. Mary quartet has rolled to an awesome total of 31 touchdowns. The Eaglet defense has yielded only six.

St. Michael and St. Benedict, both with 3-3 league marks, battle for 3rd place at Highland Park. Smarting from last Sunday's one-sided loss to Orchard Lake St. Mary, the Bens promise formidable opposition to the Shamrocks of Bob Mineweaser. Kickoff time is 3 p.m. at Ives Field.

State Table Tennis Titles at Stake in Two-Day Event

A strong contingent of 15 players from Toronto today gave the Michigan Open Table Tennis Tournament here, an international flavor. Annual competition opens Saturday noon at the Pontiac Boys Club gymnasium and will continue through Sunday.

Pere Secord, tourney chairman, reports that nearly 100 entries have been received, representing seven midwestern states, and including a number of nationally high - ranked paddle wielders.

Men's singles crown has been tossed into the ring as Champ John Somael of New York is not expected to defend his title. Fifty men will be battling for this title, including Max Hersh of Detroit, Frank Thoraldson of Chicago, Tim Boggan and Ralph Ramsey of Dayton, O., Bill Byrnes, Detroit among ranking stars.

* * *

Considerable interest center on the senior men's division where John Varga of South Bend hopes to retain his championship. Chief contender will be Howard Thomas of Dayton, O. Western Open senior king.

Others offering serious threats in this class are Pontiac's own perennial star, Perc Secord, Bobby Pippel of Grand Haven, Sam Gerber, Al Wasserman, Bill Rapp, all of Detroit, and Manfred Feher of Cleveland.

Norbert Van deWalle of Chicago, who starred at the recent Canadian Internationals is a strong challenger for Steve Isaacson's junior men's championship. Leo Griner of Detroit and Bob French of Aldershot, Ont., along with a group of Toledo juniors, also aim for this title.

Seven Toronto women have entered the ladies division and will meet players from Pontiac, Detroit, Chicago, Flint and South Bend Carolee Liechty of South Bend holds the title at present. Mildred Shaihan, 1954 National Women's Champion, will be here from Chicago.

* * *

Ten events, including men's, women's and mixed doubles are scheduled with sizable entries in each. Trophies will be awarded all winners, in ceremonies at the close of the finals Sunday evening. Honorary Chairman Charles Gaffney will preside at the presentation.

A dance, buffet and talent contest for tournament players is scheduled late Saturday evening.

Spectators are invited to watch all playing sessions.

Johnson Given Slim Edge Over Boyd in TV Battle

CHICAGO (AP) — George Johnson, Trenton, N.J., middleweight, rules a 7-5 favorite over Chicago's Bobby Boyd tonight in what should be a free - swinging, action-crammed 10-rounder at Chicago Stadium.

Johnson's only loss in five scraps this year was to Ralph (Tiger) Jones and he has an overall record of 26 victories in 38 starts, 22 by kayoes.

* * *

Boyd, 21, showed marked improvement in upsetting Gene Fullmer last month to gain his fourth straight triumph of the year.

* * *

Johnson, 25-year-old descendant of the Seminole Indians, last January was a last-minute substitute in a nationally televised bout for Ernie Durando and defeated Ramon Fuentes. In September, he subbed for middleweight champion Bobo Olson and beat Bobby Dykes.

Tonight's bout, televised nationally (10 p.m. EST—NBC), replaces the originally scheduled title fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Olson.

Expect 53,000 to Watch Irish Toy With Penn

ND Seen Cinch to Hand Winless Quaker Team Its 16th Setback

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—About the most interesting aspect of this Saturday's Notre Dame-Penn football game here figures to be the attendance figure.

Notre Dame, topped only by fourth-ranked Michigan State, and itself ranked sixth among the nation's powerhouses, should be able to "call" its own final score against the hapless Quakers who now have a 15-game losing streak.

* * *

Yet, the Penn Athletic Office announced yesterday there are still 12,000 seats "available" for the encounter at Franklin Field which seats about 65,000, after removal of some temporary stands.

Any way you look at it, the drawing power of the Irish is amazing — especially with the ducats going at $5.25 apiece and with the game being televised in Philadelphia and environs.

* * *

The game against Navy here two weeks ago, when the Middies were still unbeaten, drew the the season-high crowd of 34,583 without TV. Next came Penn State, also traditionally a good ticket seller here, 28,206. In 1952, when Notre Dame and Penn both fielded strong teams, the Irish drew a then-capacity 74,711 to Franklin Field. Last year, when Penn was still winless, the Irish drew some 60,000.

Grains Retreat in Quiet Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains went into a slow retreat in quiet dealings on the Board of Trade today. Losses were small in all pits.

Lack of exports, slow domestic flour business and a little selling by traders at the wheat end were mainly responsible for the slight downturn. Cash corn receipts at 288 cars also were somewhat larger than had been expected.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅝ lower, December $2.05; corn ½ to ⅝ lower, December $1.29¾; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, December 64⅜; Rye ½ to 1 cent lower, December $1.12; soybeans ½ to 1 cent lower, November $2.36½, and lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $11.62.

Red Policy on Arms Sale Hinted for Geneva Meeting

GENEVA (INS)—The Western foreign ministers at Geneva convoked today a surprise meeting apparently to discuss talks which Russia's V. M. Molotov had this morning with the British and French delegates.

The Soviet diplomat requested the session with France's Antoine Pinay at a dinner last night, and then this morning asked Britain's Harold Macmillan to confer with him privately.

Meanwhile, Molotov summoned to Geneva his ambassador to the United Nations, Arkady A. Sobolev.

The call for Sobolev led immediately to speculation that Molotov wished to confer on the Soviet policy of arms sales to the Middle East.

It was understood the Soviet minister had discussed the Indochina situation with Pinay, asking if Paris would adhere to the July 1954 Geneva accord on Indochina which calls for all-Viet Nam elections by next July.

Pinay replied yes and said there had been no change in the French policy. Molotov may have discussed the same issue with Macmillan.

But there was a strong possibility that some sort of Soviet statement on the Middle East crisis might be forthcoming.

The sudden flurry of activity before this afternoon's formal session might also be connected with a reported "new" offer that the Russians were preparing on the German reunification question.

Meanwhile, Dulles met with the Italian observer at Geneva, Ambasador Bova Stoppa. This afternoon the secretary was to confer with West German Ambassador Herbert Blankenhorn, who returned to Geneva today from talks in Bonn with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Leaders Strong in Early Deals

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock market was higher today in early dealings with many leading issues strong.

Standard Oil (NJ), which led yesterday's market in a vigorous rally, was up around 2 points today. It added 7½ points yesterday at 139⅝ after directors proposed a three-for-one stock split and raised the dividend.

Gains today were between 1 and 2 points in many cases. Scattered losses were fractional.

Best action was found in steels, motors, railroads, coppers, oils, chemicals and radio-televisions.

Also higher were Du Pont (which started on 1,000 shares up 1 at 221), U. S. Steel, General Motors, Caterpillar Tractor, Zenith Radio, American Telephone, Anaconda Co., International Nickel, American Cyanamid, International Paper, Alco Products, Udylite, Southern Railway, Texas Co., Schenley Industries, United Air Lines, Chrysler and Curtiss-Wright.

Stolen Funds Repaid by Guilty Borrower

NEW YORK (INS) — It took some time for one guilty conscience to produce action, but when it did it paid off in full, with a bonus on top of it.

This letter reached C. E. Weger, comptroller of Cities Service, from Covington, Ky.:

"I borrowed this money from your company over twenty-five years ago. (By borrowed, I mean stole it from a service station.) I needed it badly at the time. The amount was $80."

Two $100 bills were enclosed.

3-Day Late Surprise: Was Once Governor

HOBBS, N.M. (AP) — It came as quite a surprise to Donald D. Hallam to learn he had been governor of New Mexico recently.

Hallam is speaker of the state House of Representatives. With the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and president protem of the state Senate all out of state, Hallam took over. He learned about it three days later.

Development of a new strain of cotton has made California the second cotton-growing state in the Union.

WOW!—That's what Mrs. Helena Farrar's visitors say when they come to her home in Southport, England. For greeting them at the door is Mrs. Farrar—and Rajah, a 250-pound lion. Rajah was brought home by Mrs. Farrar, a zoo keeper, because the lion was ill and needed more attention.

Romania Gay Compared to Bleak Russia

By RICHARD R. KASISCHKE

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Women with waistlines and men wearing white shirts and neckties.

Those are among the things you notice in Bucharest after getting out of the habit of seeing them in Russia.

* * *

In the streets and cafes Romanians are polite to foreigners. They are especially curious about Westerners but they are extremely reserved with them.

* * *

Only three times in nine days here did people come up to speak to us voluntarily. It happened twice while my 18-year-old daughter was taking photographs in the streets and markets.

* * *

The third time came while we were dining in a restaurant where a competent Western-style jazz band was turning out American tunes—mostly 5 and 6 years old. Two Romanian men came up to ask my daughter to dance. In two years in Russia, no Russian ever dared ask her to dance.

* * *

Churches in Bucharest are open and attendance is apparently unhindered. The Communist-led government has things under control; there appears to be an understanding that if the churches don't preach against the regime they can operate freely.

* * *

We walked into several churches and often saw people kneeling in prayer.

* * *

Government sources assured us Romania is not waging any systematic antireligious campaign. Western diplomats say the Communists figure here, as in Russia, that they train the youth from childhood and time is on their side. They also point out that a person ambitious to rise in government or party ranks does not frequent the churches.

* * *

The Romanian press has little but bad to tell about the United States and its Western friends. The newspapers report racial discrimination in the Southern United States, child starvation in the big cities of America, and stock market declines with economic distress all over the Western world.

Pilotless Plane Loses Beam and Crashes

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—A radio-controlled Marine target Drone plane went "on the loose" for several hours yesterday after being launched in Virginia. It crashed near here doing little damage.

* * *

The plane, a World War II piston-engine F6F, escaped its radio control after it was launched at Chincoteague, Va., Naval Air station.

* * *

The pilotless fighter plane flew without guidance for hundreds of miles before it crashed in a wooded area on Bass Island in the Santee River.

Detroit Industralist Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Funeral service will be held Saturday for Clarence A. Dauer, president of C.A. Dauer Co., industrial sheet metal fabricators. Dauer, 61, died Wednesday on a business trip to Herrin, Ill. A native of Saginaw, he began his industrial career in Detroit in 1910.

TV Stations Growing

WASHINGTON — The Federal Communications Commssion reports that from the 108 stations operating in 63 communities when UHF television broadcasting was launched in 1952 the number of operating outlets has grown until now more than 430 TV stations are on the air. More than 100 of these are of the ultra-high-frequency type.

Mud Flats Are Good Nurseries

Marine Life Nourishes and Survives Growth in Reclaimed Areas

WASHINGTON — Tidal mud flats, often reclaimed for building purposes or used as dumping sites, are proving to be among America's most valuable marine nursery grounds.

* * *

Such prolific mud flats lie in quiet estuaries and bays around the world where nutrient-rich rivers and streams blend with the sea.

Multi-million-dollar fisheries are dependent upon the survival of tidal inlets. Commercial oysters and food clams cannot live elsewhere. Menhaden, shrimp, striped bass, salmon, shad, mullet, and the important Oriental food item, milk fish, all must go into brackish waters to carry out their life cycles, the National Geographic Society says.

Biologists still know little of bay mechanics. But they have learned that filamentous green and blue-green algae, which thrive on marine flats around freshwater outlets, are back of the mysterious principle that guides fish migrations into brackish water. Fish do not feed directly on the living plants but on decayng algae.

WHIPPING CREAM

The menhaden typifies this process. Hatched on the rolling waves, the young fish instinctively move toward shore, nuzzling the coast for entrances to brackish lagoons. They reach them or perish.

New England Indians fertilized corn with menhaden. Today the bony and oily fish are ground into meal for animal feed. The oil is used in such diverse products as whipping cream and oleomargerine in some parts of the world. The menhaden provide the largest fish catch in the western hemisphere.

The problem of protecting mud flats extends to the Deep South. In the Gulf of Mexico, shrimp with a total catch value of over 50 million dollars a year spawn in 20 to 30 fathoms. Young shrimp drift landward through passageways into bays and bayous. There, for six weeks, the crustaceans gorge on organic matter, growing to adulthood. Then they return to the open sea to complete their life cycles and perhaps to be swept up by the shrimpers' nets.

Injured Law Officer Still on Critical List

An Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy, injured Sunday in a head-on collision, was still on the critical list this morning in Pontiac General Hospital.

Perry Earp, 39, suffered severe injuries to knee and hip in the crash. His partner, Neil Blackmer, 24, who is in "good" condition, broke both arms.

The two were speeding to the scene of an accident Sunday night, with flasher and siren on, when Lynn Polan, 50, of Lake Orion failed to yield right of way and collided with them head on.

Fourteen-Year-Old Hurt in Two-Car Smashup

Fourteen-year-old Donald Douglas of Auburn Heights was reported in "good" condition this morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after an accident last night at East Boulevard and Auburn Road.

Douglas suffered possible head injuries when the car in which he was riding, driven by David E. Titherage, 17, also of Auburn Heights, was hit by one driven by Francis A. Scribner, 28, of 530 Granada Dr.

Police said Scribner drove through the red light after his brakes failed.

Standard Oil (NJ) Is Up $8 Overnight

NEW YORK (AP) — Stockholders of Standard Oil (NJ) hit a half-billion-dollar jackpot today when directors proposed a three-for-one split of the stock.

The stock closed yesterday at $132.37, and after the split announcement today it sold around $8 above that figure. That meant a paper profit of better than a half billion dollars for the holders of more than 65 million shares of the stock outstanding.

In addition, stockholders were voted a dividend of $1.50 a share. In the three previous quarters this year they got $1.25 a share.

High priced stocks usually are split to make trading easier and to spread ownership of the securities among a larger group of persons. In many instances, stocks almost automatically rise on word of a split proposal.

Wild Isle Royale Remains Free of Tourist Mobs

ISLE ROYALE, Mich. (AP) — This untouched wilderness — jutting out of blue Lake Superior — is one of the few public sites in this country where one can wander without tripping over beer cans and spotting cigarette butts.

Instead the island's trails that wind through the primeval woods are littered with thimbleberries, clintonia, wild orchids and trillium.

You don't see much of man because he's uncommon and most of the time is outnumbered by moose. For instance, only 2,830 people visited Isle Royale in 1952 while 41 million toured the entire national park system.

But then, there isn't much to do. All you can do is pull 10-pound lake trout out of the ice clear water, hike along paths framed by stately pines and birches, look for greenstones along Lake Huron, watch an eagle soar above or a family of mink at your feet.

Castor Oil Poisons Kids

SUFFOLK, Va. (AP)—Do children dislike castor oil, or don't they? Three youngsters became ill. Investigation showed they had eaten castor beans. A physician said that oil is made from the beans but that the hulls contained a dangerous poison which made them ill.

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Joseph Boudreau, 67, of nearby Erin Township awakened today to find his year-old Toy Terrier on his bed, whining and tugging at the covers. And he's mighty thankful the dog woke him.

Boudreau, who lives alone, found his house afire from an overheated chimney.

"I woke to find the room filling with smoke," he said. "The dog apparently had trouble waking me because he was all out of breath. We got out of there."

Nor ever shall you be;
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF DENA Ottegier who passed away 6 years ago, Nov. 4, 1949.
We have only your memory,
dear mother
To remember our whole life through.
But the sweetness will linger forever,
As we treasure the image of you.
Sadly missed by husband and children.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LOUIS M. Coppage who passed away Nov. 3, 1954.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we love
From memory pass away.
Sadly missed by wife and children, Louis, Frances, James, Janet.

Chicago TV Station to Be First All-Color

CHICAGO (INS)—Chicago television station WNBQ, owned by the National Broadcasting Company, will be the first all color TV station in the world.

That information came yesterday from Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the boards of RCA and NBC. He said in the first closed circuit color TV press conference between Chicago and New York City that WNBQ will complete conversion to all-color use by April 15. It will cost $1,250,000.

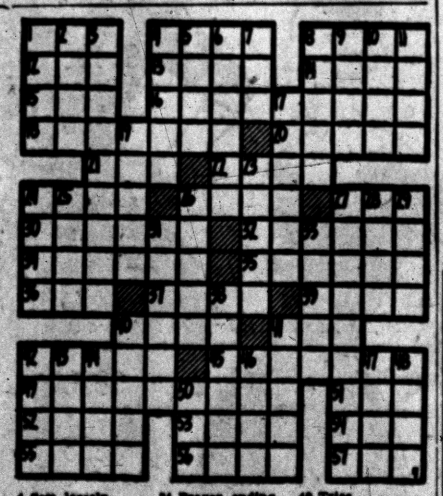

At that time 10 hours of color TV casting is expected daily.

Law Officers to Meet

IONIA (UP)—Some 200 members of the Central Michigan Law Enforcement Assn., will be guests of Ionia County Sheriff Peter Van Vleck Tuesday at a meeting here. They will come from Eaton, Ingham, Livingston, Shiawasse, Clinton, oMntcalm, Gratiot, Isabella and Ionia counties.

Because of the pause your heart takes after every beat, you live one sixth of your life with your heart stopped.

Jan's Birthday Sets the Mood

Program Recreates the Days When Everyone Loved Everyone Else

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — After a great many Wednesday nights of badly conceived Arthur Godfrey shows, this week's variety had a little of the old flavor when everyone thought everyone on the show loved everyone else.

The notion of framing the show around Janette Davis' birthday was nice enough; the diversion was about as customary — Frank Parker singing well, the McGuire sisters delivering their presently popular jukebox favorites, Godfrey in a bantering rather than an irritated mood, Carmel Quinn with customary Irish melodies.

Janette Davis (born Dorothy Janet Davis 37 years ago) sang; and Pat Boone, the newest Godfrey acquisition, was introduced with a little of the old Godfrey paternalism, revealing Pat was working his way through college with the help of Godfrey showmanship.

It therefore was clear the TV air was being armed, the old mood of general palship was being wooed, the return to the "good old days" was the understandable intention, for in the good old days everyone loved everyone else and no one had to take sides among the troupe or in the viewing audience.

Maybe it's the new leaf the show needs.

COME LATELIES

On "I've Got a Secret," the panel proved they were real come-latelies when they didn't recognize one of the stalwarts of vaudeville, Jesse Block (Block & Sully) whose "secret" was — he attended Jack Benny's 39th birthday party — 22 years ago . . .

It'll be interesting to see what happens Nov. 10 when "That Ryan Girl" will be televised on CBS-TV's "Star Tonight."

Interesting because it was a two-performance flop on Broadway with June Havoc starred.

Interesting also to us, because it was written by one of the most charming gentlemen we've ever met, Edmund Goulding, the film director, who was far better as a salesman of his literary output than as a dramatist.

Lu Ann Simm's first post-Godfrey-firing songfest will be on Gleason's "Stage Show" a week from Saturday.

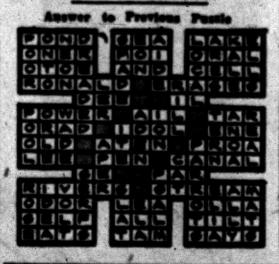

GINGER MAY STAR

Ginger Rogers may star in a CBS-TV musical based on the life of Dorothy Fields, who wrote lovely lyrics (Lovely to Look at, Can't Give You Anything But Love, Don't Blame Me, Sunny Side of the Street) to melodies by Kern Romberg, McHugh . . .

Alan Young can't get a comedy show so he'll try two dramatic roles, "Star Stage" Nov. 11 and studio One Nov. 28 . . .

J. Gleason wants to start in "The Arkansas Traveler," a film from a Budd Schulberg story; and Steve Allen and Jose Ferrer are hot after "The Great Man," for Universal; both thin fiction about the same radio-TV ego.

Letter and Joke to Cheer Up Ike Brings Response

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Ten-year-old Joyce Chiles' efforts to cheer President Eisenhower in his illness with a letter and a joke brought her a reply from the first lady.

Mrs. Eisenhower's "thank you" note said:

"The President and I are deeply grateful for your expression of good wishes and prayerful concern in his illness. I assure you your message has been helpful to him."

Joyce said she wrote to the President on impulse.

"I was listening to a man on the radio talking about how sick the President was — and I just thought I should write him because I felt sorry for him," she said.

Other than an expression of concern over his health and an account of her school activities, the letter to the President contained this joke:

"What did the hen say when she saw the farmer's wife scrambling eggs?"

The answer:

"Look at those crazy, mixed up kids."

Hal Boyle Says:

Morning Mail Offers Wealth of Vital (?) Data

NEW YORK (AP)—Some things a columnist might never know if he never opened his morning mail:

That nearly everyone knows Abraham Lincoln was the tallest American president — 6-feet-4 — but nine out of 10 people can't name the smallest.

He was James Madison, who was exactly a foot shorter than Lincoln.

That Buchanan was the only bachelor president of the White House and President Tyler was the most prolific. Tyler had 14 children, seven by each of his two wives.

That up till now, Dwight David Eisenhower is the first and only president to hold an air pilot's license.

That it is hard to estimate how many superintelligent people there are in this country, but there are probably 1,600,000 who are mentally deficient. (This doesn't include Sunday drivers.)

That in times past, man has used for money such odd things as the teeth of porpoises and whales, boar tusks, beaver skins, stones, the scalps of redheaded woodpeckers, pretty slaves and tobacco, salt, rum, sugar and beer. (Remember when they even used real money?)

That for each person in America today, there is about $11 in coins, $172 in paper money, and $630 in checking accounts.

That business transactions in the United States average about six billion dollars daily ("Here it comes, there it goes"), or over two trillion dollars a year.

That only 10 per cent of business involves an exchange of cash, the other 90 per cent is done with checks.

* * *

That 19 million checks are written every day in this country, and the amount of the average check is slightly under $300.

That nobody I know writes checks that average anywhere near as high as $300 each, so maybe I'd better start dropping my cheap friends and mingle with a better class of people.

* * *

That business and industry lost half a billion dollars last year because of stolen, fraudulent or forged checks.

That Christmas must be really getting close, or I wouldn't be wasting so much time thinking about money. (Anybody want to trade one dirty $10 bill for a couple of nice fresh redheaded woodpecker scalps?)

That a pocket edition of Lillian Roth's best-selling autobiography, "I'll Cry Tomorrow," sold out a first printing of 750,000 copies in 10 days.

That Irwin H. Kramer, 32-year-old owner of the Hotel Edison, retained a fashion expert to advise his lady guests on what to wear while in New York.

That 35 women in Short Hills, N.J., by collecting and melting down old eyeglasses frames, have raised enough funds in the last quarter century to provide new eyeglasses and artifical eyes for 105,000 people.

That a good hearty belch will relieve many persons of the fear they have a heart ailment. The feeling of pressure around the heart often results from a habit nervous people have of swallowing too much air.

That if your stenographer gets uppity at her work, it may be because your office is painted the wrong color. Psychologists say color affects the emotions. Green is supposed to lessen excitement, blue induces tranquility and brown is restful and warming. Therefore the psychologist recommend these colors as best suited to the modern business office. (But don't overdo it — the hired hands may fall sound asleep on the job.)

That actor Raymond Massey wants to know: "Is it true that Liberace gets his dress clothes from a Dior-to-Dior salesman?"

* * *

That the rest of my morning mail today wouldn't interest you any more than it does me. Who likes to read bills?

Fighting in the Korean War cost the United States about 18 billion dollars, not including the pay of service personnel.

Doctor Decries Dirt in Many Hospitals

CHICAGO (AP)—A Boston surgeon today said he finds many U.S. hospitals are dirty, or not safely clean enough in their operating rooms.

"Hospitals have got to get back to being clean and safe places," Dr. Carl W. Walter told the American College of Surgeons.

"It is always the surgeons responsibility to see that the environment is safe for patients," Dr. Walter said in a prepared talk.

Among cities in which he found what he called dirty conditions were some hospitals in Boston, Chicago and Detroit, Dr. Walter said.
