'Slaughter Hill' Leveling OK'd

Broomfield Says Work on M24 North of Orion Will Begin Early in '56

Widening of M24 north from Lake Orion to the Oakland-Lapeer County line will begin early in 1956, State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) told the Pontiac Press today.

Broomfield said he received the commitment from State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Broomfield during a conference at Pontiac today.

The senator requested that on request of citizens of the Lake Orion-Oxford area. The work is expected to include leveling of "Slaughter Hill," the dangerous hollow a mile north of Oxford.

Completion of the project will see M24 widened from two to four lanes all the way from Mt. Clemens street in Pontiac to the north county line.

The stretch from Opdyke road to Lake Orion is scheduled for widening starting this spring, with the widening from Opdyke on into Pontiac to follow in 1956. Cost of the whole project has not been determined as yet.

"Ziegler assured me his department will let contracts for the work from Lake Orion north this year and start construction as early in 1956 as possible," said Broomfield.

Interest paid shareholders totaled $96,881.82. New loans also hit a new high, averaging $321,000 a month. Total loans closed topped 1953 by $1,453,821.54.

Shareholders were informed the association hopes to occupy its new main office building at 761 W. Huron St. by mid-year. It will continue to operate two branch offices, one in Rochester and the present main office on E. Lawrence street, which will then become a downtown branch.

Present officers and directors were re-elected.

Pontiacs Draw 'Ohs' and 'Ahs' as Throngs See Waldorf Spectacle

By HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

Publisher Pontiac Press

NEW YORK — Well, this is it.

There will be automobile shows in many cities, of course. In fact, GM's Motorama hits a glorified sawdust trail itself, but the current offering here at the Waldorf Astoria, right in this vast citadel, stands unchallenged as the real piece de resistance.

This is the show-down.

General Motors takes the rubber band off the most gargantuan of all corporate bank rolls and experts pour it on. They have a field day. Wednesday afternoon's affair was a preview and they unfurl the flaps on the main tent today.

This means the guys and gals from Gotham, the most worldly populace in the world according to its own self-appraisal, will form queues four blocks long to see this GM extravaganza.

Wednesday's audience consisted of a medium sized army that came through invitation. It would probably fill Waverly Stadium, but it's a social event, Park Avenue's there. But it's business, too.

There are leading executives from New York and other cities. Also, it's a quasi-public huddle of the interested, the curious and those who come to see and be seen.

There are lots of suppliers. The press is always present. So are radio and television. There are photographers, and flash bulbs pop all over the place. There are models and show people.

There are assorted singers and dancers and if you mounted the dias and asked for a rajah, two authentic numbers from India probably would step one pace forward, complete with turbans. And furthermore, if you called for a strip-tease artist, somewhere in that heterogeneous crowd an ex-

Pontiac Chilled by 10-Degree Temperature

The coldest weather of the year hit Pontiac and vicinity today when the mercury plunged to 10 degrees above zero at 6 a. m.

By 10 a. m. the temperature reached 18 and by 2 p. m. it had climbed to 30. Yesterday temperatures in downtown Pontiac ranged from a low of 14 to a high of 25 degrees, with snow flurries most of the day totaling .01 of an inch.

The U. S. Weather Bureau says it will be warmer tomorrow. The forecast is for rain probably mixed with snow as temperatures rise to a high of 32 to 35. Tonight is expected to be cloudy with a low of 18 to 22 degrees.

The Weather Bureau reported today that the major storm track across the country for the last two weeks has been consistently farther south than normal. This has brought an extensive snow belt across the middle sections of the country from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast while there are considerable bare spots farther north.

Snow measured 1 to 5 inches deep across Kansas and Missouri. From Tennessee and Kentucky eastward to near the Atlantic snow was on the ground with depths ranging up to about a foot in the mountain areas.

$900 Million Expenditure Urged in Next Six Years

Williams Submits Sweeping 24-Point School Aid Program to Joint Legislature

From Our Wire Services
LANSING — Gov. G. Mennen Williams called today for a history-making, multi-million dollar expansion of Michigan's public schools, colleges and junior colleges to absorb a "tidal wave of students" during the next five or six years.

In a message prepared for delivery in person to the legislature this afternoon, Williams said $750,000,000 worth of construction will be needed for elementary and secondary schools in the next five years.

He recommended state expenditure of $100,000,000 in the next six years for new construction at state colleges and junior colleges.

More taxes will be needed, Williams indicated.

This was the program submitted personally to the Legislature by

Seeks Federal Aid in School Building

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five billion dollars in federal money for school construction over the next five years would be provided under legislation proposed today by Rep. Bennett (R-Mich.).

States and local communities would be called upon to match the federal funds to make a total building program costing $10 billion.

Bennett, in a statement, said the nation is short 350,000 classrooms and the problem "is far too big for the states to handle it alone."

the governor today at a joint session of House and Senate:

1.—A constitutional amendment pledging the state's full faith and credit to a bond issue of unspecified amount for local school construction.

This, he said, would allow schools to obtain low interest rates

5.—Legislation permitting state trust funds and other reserves to be invested in local school bonds where other means of financing are unavailable. Interest rates would be high, he said, but would aid these schools unable to get other financing.

3.—State help in obtaining the best advice on school plans, especially standardization of buildings.

4.—A legislative request to Congress for federal school aid.

5.—Legislation requiring each school district to certify, through the proper agency, that its buildings and equipment conform to reasonable standards of health and safety. After a reasonable period of time, penalties in school aid should be assessed against any district which continues to use structures failing to meet sanitation and safety standards.

6.—Minimum salaries of $4,000 a year for fully certified school teachers and $3,000 for teachers without degrees, plus a penalty in state school aid for schools failing to meet these rates.

7.—Coordination of the pension plans for state employees, out-state teachers and Detroit teachers.

8.—Increasing school employee pensions to a maximum $2,400 annually.

9.—Extension of federal social security benefits to teachers in addition to their present pensions.

10.—Limiting state aid to schools which maintain a "reasonable" ratio between teachers and pupils—possibly 35 pupils per teacher the first year, 34 the second year and an ultimate 30.

11.—A special state school aid allowance of $1,000 to schools for each fully certified teacher hired at the required minimum salary.

12.—Recodification of school laws to simplify annexations, bonding plans and provide a more equitable base for school tax assessments.

13.—Legislation requiring districts which operate no schools to combine with operating districts within, say, three years.

14.—Elimination of state tuition payments to districts as an encouragement to district mergers.

GM Unveils Fantastic Stage for Motorama Car Exhibits

Freezing Temperatures Across U. S. Follow Mid-South Snowstorm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow tapered off over most of the country today but moderately cold weather continued in nearly all sections.

Freezing weather again today extended southward to Atlanta while in northern Florida, Cross City reported an early morning low to 36. Temperatures were mostly in the high 40s in southern Florida and southern Texas.

Coldest readings, zero and 5 below, were in Wisconsin and Michigan. Temperatures moderated a little across the plains. It was generally below freezing in most of the west except in the far Southwest and near the Pacific.

The Weather Bureau reported today that the major storm track across the country for the last two weeks has been consistently farther south than normal. Boston Convicts Defiant as Prison Gets Explosives

BOSTON (INS)—A large quantity of high explosives was delivered to embattled, ancient Charlestown State Prison today, but was taken to a nearby armory on orders of prison officials.

An ordnance officer, who accompanied the explosives, brought to the prison in an Army staff car, said cryptically:

"There's enough here to blow out a whole wall at Cherry Hill."

Hope of a possible end to the two-day holdout of the four prisoners, holed up in the Cherry Hill solitary confinement wing, was shattered as they pledged they will die rather than surrender.

The note of defiance was struck by Fritz Swenson, convicted Boston cop-killer, as the siege entered its third day. Swenson, an equal partner in the rebellion with Theodore Green, bank robber and escape artist, gunman Walter Balben, and Joseph A. Flaherty, rapist, told his brother:

"We're going to stick it out. They'll kill us anyway. We have enough ammunition to hold them off."

Swenson told his brother, Russell, who came to the prison to

Britain Considers Asking U.N. to Intervene in China

LONDON (AP)—Britain disclosed today that she has consulted with the United States and New Zealand on a possible move in the United Nations to obtain a cease-fire in the China fighting.

A Foreign Office spokesman, replying to a reporter's question, said the proposal "was one of a number of possible changes of action which we have discussed with the United States and New Zealand in the course of exchanges over recent months."

"But no decision to carry it out was taken," the spokesman added.

President Eisenhower said at his news conference yesterday that he would like to see the United Nations use its good offices to halt the shooting war between Red China and Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese forces on Formosa.

At Hong Kong, the Jobson Shipping Co reported today that the 1,717-ton British vessel Edendale was sunk last night by unidentified planes in the Chinese Communist harbor of Swatow, due west of southern Formosa.

In Singapore, Britain's naval headquarters for the Far East renewed its warning to all British ships trading with Red China to keep clear of Chinese coastal waters.

At Taipei, Formosa, Nationalist China today asserted its guerrillas were still clinging desperately to their fingerhold grip on battered Yikiangshan, two full days after Peiping radio trumpeted the tiny outpost had fallen to Communist invaders.

President's Economic Report Shows Glowing Optimism

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, in his economic message today—

1. Reported recovery "well under way," foresaw 500-billion-dollar output by 1965.

2. Gave strong promise of tax relief next year. None this year.

3. Cautioned that stock speculation or labor strife could damage prosperity.

4. Called for a 90-cent minimum wage, higher jobless pay.

In a glowingly optimistic economic message, Eisenhower gave virtual assurance of a "general, though modest, reduction in taxes" in 1956, made possible by a broad business recovery now in process.

He wagged a warning finger at the soaring stock market, declaring that "continued economic recovery must not be jeopardized by over emphasis of speculative activity."

The government, he said, will meet its "great responsibility" to prevent a financial boom-and-bust.

Picturing the present as a time of industrial expansion, he said labor strife often increases in such periods with "serious economic repercussions."

The report, third and last of the major presidential messages, urged the states to increase the amount, duration and coverage of unemployment compensation and called again on Congress to raise the minimum wage from 75 to 90 cents.

He discouraged the proposals of labor leaders and some Democrats for a wage floor of $1 or $1.25 an hour. The 15-cent increase, he said, is all that can be "economically justified." A higher minimum might cause lower production and substantial unemployment in several industries.

He proposed, however, that Congress consider extending minimum wage protection gradually to 20 million workers not now covered.

These were among 33 recommendations in the 207-page report. But Eisenhower stressed that government's role—in helping to achieve the 40 per cent production rise needed to reach a 500-billion-dollar annual output of goods and services in 1955—will be primarily that of encouraging private initiative. Russians Free Missing Soldier

Pvt. Verdine Released After 5 Years in Soviet Prison Camp

BERLIN (AP)—Pvt. William A. Verdine of Starks, La., was released by the Russians in Berlin today after five years of Soviet captivity, including a long stretch in Vorkuta prison camp.

Verdine is the third American to come from Vorkuta this month. The Soviets, according to repeated requests, turned loose John H. Noble of Detroit, and Pvt. William Marchuk of Norristown, Pa., on Jan. 8.

Verdine has been listed by the Army as missing since 1949. He had been stationed with the 14th Armored Cavalry at Coburg in West Germany, not far from the American-Soviet zonal frontier.

The soldier was reported at various times in Russian prison camps by German and Austrian repatriates. Noble, on his release here, said Verdine was not in good health.

The army announced in mid-afternoon that Soviet authorities had turned Verdine over to U.S. liaison officials in the Russian headquarters in East Berlin.

The army added that Verdine is in military custody and will remain there during an inquiry into the circumstances of his disappearance. The soldier faces a possible court-martial for being away without official leave or perhaps desertion unless he can prove that he blundered into the Soviet zone through no fault of his own.

In the meantime, the soldier will be given a complete medical examination.

Health Center Report Expected

Supervisors Will Hear Details of $270,000 Building Project

Oakland County Board of Supervisors tomorrow expect to hear a report on proposed construction of a $270,000 health center at the county service center on North Telegraph road.

A joint report on the project is scheduled from the Building and Health committees during the special meeting beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St.

The planned health center would provide enlarged and modern quarters for the County Health Dept., according to Highland Township Supervisor Louis F. Oldenburg, who heads the Health Committee.

The Ways and Means Committee has adopted a resolution to be presented to the supervisors recommending that funds be appropriated for the building. Oldenburg said.

As planned now, the structure would provide about 10,000 square feet of floor area. It would be constructed on wings could be added on each side in the future.

The Health Department is now housed in 4,000 square feet of space contained in the old county jail building behind the courthouse at Saginaw and Huron streets in Pontiac.

Of the total cost, about $30,000 would come from federal aid and the rest from the county general fund, Oldenburg explained. An approving vote by the supervisors is needed to get the project under way.

In other action, a report is expected on the proposed incorporation of Southfield Township as a city, which was tabled at the last meeting.

A report is also scheduled on a petition from the village of Ortonville to annex more territory.

The Road Committee is slated to report on progress toward the sale of $300,000 in bonds to finance the county's share of the planned Farmington-Brigance Expressway.

A committee report is expected on awarding a contract for appraisal of county buildings and equipment.

The move is designed to obtain an accurate valuation of county property and determine if insurance coverage is sufficient.

A recommendation is expected from the Ways and Means Committee that the few county offices still remaining open on Friday nights be allowed to close.

Discussion is expected on a proposal that an acting county director of civil defense be employed.

part would start peeling without further inducement.

It's an accurate east coast stand-in for Hollywood's "stupendous" and "colossal." It's super-duper and at times through sheer inadvertence, it's a pushy, bumpy madhouse.

As curtain time approached, all hands were in a final frenzy Wednesday, which is a concomitant part of every New York show. But somehow, everything slides into place at the last breathless minute and the last-gasp polishes are hustled out rear doors with their wiping cloths showing, just as the first guests greet Harlow Currier.

A short reception line forms at the top of the stairs. Mr. Currier, smiling, debonair and with an easy savoir faire that becomes him mightily, stands first. He shakes hands with everyone and calls an astounding number by name.

Truly, Mr. Big is a capable and splendid representative of Big Business.

Next to him are the two executive vice presidents, Albert Bradley is GM's financial wizard and while Mr. Bradley is one of the largest powers in the innermost circles, he isn't quite as well known in Pontiac as his associate, Oakland County's own Louis Clifford Goad.

Mr. Goad bears the distinction of being the only left handed executive vice president in GM history and former Big Ten pitcher still recall what a nuisance he was at the plate for Illinois.

However left handed proclivities didn't put him where he is. Ability did that and you can capitalize all seven letters. Of course Mr. Bradley hit the corresponding high spot through more of the same. He was born in England but he attended Dartmouth and Michigan.

Once past the receiving line, you're strictly on your own. Your faithful and factual reporter has a quick message for the home town boys on the line that built these cars.

Your handiwork is getting a tremendous play. All of these Pontiacs are scoring and scoring heavily. There were constant crowds around them Wednesday. They command just as many "Oh's" and "Ah's" as they did at home.

GMC Truck and Coach Division is more of a hot shot this year. In the past, the corporation has restricted the big South Boulevard institution somewhat as this is primarily a passenger car show.

But our own Philip Monaghan contrived to work a minor miracle by wheeling and wheeling a truck into the south lobby of the Waldorf. Right there under the cold scrutiny of the jorgnettes of Park Avenue's celebrated dowagers and under the surveillance of top business men from all over America, stands this Pontiac product.

It's this new "L'Universelle" which is ten inches lower and ten inches shorter than current panel delivery trucks. Furthermore, with only a minimum of black magic, it becomes a bus, a taxi or a station wagon and they've made it big enough to hold Phil Monaghan's whole family.

No truck in all automotive history has ever been rubbed by so much costly mink or ever been appraised by so great a horde of top flight executives. Score another victory for the Truck and Coach Division.

In the same section of the lobby is one of the new LaSalle's. Even the visionary dreamers struggled to come up with this one. It's only 99 inches long and still more astounding, it's only 33 inches high.

Place your hand on top of a yardstick standing straight up from the floor and you're above the top of the body of the LaSalle. Another LaSalle occupies a place of honor in the main ball room.

The ball room holds a Pontiac Strato-Star, a Cadillac El Dorado, and Olds Delta, a Chevrolet Biscayne and Buick Wildcat. These are the cars of tomorrow and I don't dare mention the colors by name. They defy analysis.

Color is rampant. It's running wild. It takes a robin egg blue, splashed with the radiant red of a summer sunset to command a second look. These cars are brilliant and resplendent. They're beautiful.

It required more than a decade for the manufacturers to pry the public loose from somber, funeral jet blacks. And it took another decade to edge buyers away from strictly conventional reds, blues and greens. But the transition is nearing completion.

This year GM will build enough solid black jobs to supply the undertakers, the white bearded bankers of eighty summers and the boys who are transporting hot goods unseen in the dark of the moon. But that's about all.

Pontiac's star piece is the new Safari. This is a station wagon that will claim tremendous attention. It's only 53 inches high and is one of the most striking models in the entire show. Mr. Critchfield says they expect to be in production some time in February.

Boy Leads Cops on Wild Chase

Police Officer Injured in 9-Mile Race Behind Fleeing Teenager

A 14-year-old Birmingham boy, who authorities said took the family car without permission, led police on a wild nine-mile chase through southern Oakland County and Detroit early this morning.

The chase ended when Birmingham Police Sgt. Richard Brown, one of the pursuing officers, hit another auto at Lahser road and Grand River avenue.

The boy and a 13-year-old companion stopped the car a short time after the accident at the Cranbrook and Maple road intersection.

Sgt. Brown gave chase when he spotted the two boys driving from a parking lot behind the Birmingham High School.

Brown raced down Lahser road in pursuit but was cut off by the youthful driver each time he attempted to pull the car over to the side of the road, police said.

The two youths were released to their parents and will make statements to the police today.

Brown will be x-rayed today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, for chest injuries he received in the accident. Everett P. Sewell, driver of the auto struck by Brown, was not hurt.

curbing monopoly and avoiding encroachment on industry.

Most of the specific recommendations underscored requests made in the earlier State of the Union and budget messages. Eisenhower asked Congress to:

Promote foreign commerce by extending for three years the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, with presidential power to reduce tariffs by as much as 15 per cent.

Postpone the cuts in corporation and excise taxes scheduled for April 1. By next year, Eisenhower said, rising revenues and further federal economies "should make possible another step in the reduction of taxes."

Take action "this year to help meet our nationwide needs for school construction." The President again did not specify the kind or amount of federal aid he has in mind. A special message will be sent Feb. 15, he said, dealing with "appropriate" plans.

Give the President power to tighten credit terms and increase down payments on federally underwritten mortgages when inflation threatens, and relax the terms when real estate activity slackens off.

Authorize $5,000 public housing units in each of the next two years, and increase the mortgage-insuring authority of the Federal Housing Administration.

Sharpen the teeth of the Sherman antitrust law by raising "substantially" the maximum fines.

Extend the program of small business loans which expires June 30, and increase the lending authority.

Let the government put 25 billion dollars, largely raised by bond issues of a proposed independent authority, into a 10-year, 100-billion-dollar highway construction program in partnership with the states.

Increase the ceiling on the national debt. The limit now is temporarily at 281 billion dollars and is being crowded; on June 30 it reverts to 275 billion.

Provide additional funds to finance city and state planning of public works, and for operating a new "office of coordinator of public works" in the White House.

Expand the Commerce Department's program for helping depressed areas and ailing industries.

Criminal Cases Set for February Being Reviewed

A review was begun today of 130 criminal cases now slated for trial in the February term of Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge George B. Hartick and Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor will hold pre-trial conferences with each of the accused or their attorneys.

"Many persons who first plead innocent, immediately change their plea to guilty when they appear in court for a jury trial," Taylor explained.

"In the pre-trial conference, the case is reviewed and each individual given opportunity to change his plea then, instead of waiting for a jury to be assembled and a trial date arranged."

Many persons change their pleas, said Taylor, lightening the jury trial docket and preventing unnecessary assembling of juries.

Sees Few Foes of $500,000,000 Road Bond Issue

"Few, if any, of the Michigan state legislators seem outwardly opposed to a $500,000,000 bond issue to finance a large-scale road building program," Oakland County's State Senator William S. Broomfield said today.

"However, we want all the facts before asking the people to vote on the bond issue," he added. "I'm vitally interested in knowing what Oakland County can expect to gain from it."

A group authorized to make a study of state road needs by the Legislature is expected to report in mid-February, the senator stated, "and we expect to get more details soon on the proposed multi-billion-dollar federal highway program."

After the two reports are in, a quick decision will probably be reached on submitting the bond issue for a statewide vote April 4, he added.

Troy Township Girl Hurt in Car Crash

A 16-year-old Troy Township girl suffered a broken leg yesterday when the car she was riding in went out of control on 16 Mile Road, and hit a tree.

Patricia Ann Dula of 1730 Beech Lane Rd. was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Driver James Green, 17, of 1950 Boulton St., Troy, received a cut chin.

He told police something went wrong with the steering. Green was ticketed for failure to have an operator's license. He said he borrowed the car from Viola Aspinwall of 61 Cutting St., Troy Township.

23—A request to Congress to expand the school lunch program, now worth two million dollars a year to Michigan.

24—A request to Congress to continue Michigan's $1,100,000 annual share of the vocational educational program.

In addition, Williams said he had set up a committee to consider the role of Wayne University, a Detroit-financed institution receiving some state help, in state education.

Michigan, Williams said, ranks second among the states in median income per family and is 12th in per capita income. But, he said, it is 33rd among the states in percentage of income spent on public schools.

"To realize this program," Williams ended, "the state will need to find sources of additional revenue, a topic which I shall treat fully in a later message."

Convicts Are Defiant as Explosives Arrive

pled with him to surrender, that if state troopers try to shoot their way into Cherry Hill they will find the five hostage-guarded shackled to windows and doors. The brother quoted Swenson as saying:

"If they get us they'll get them, too. We aren't going to kill the guards. We'll shackle them to the windows and doors. The troopers will shoot them if anyone shoots them."

The felons, who are keeping four prison guards and six other inmates as hostages, showed late last night the first signs of weakening in their demands for a "safe-conduct" pass to freedom.

The indication was given to the Rev. Edward J. Hartigan, the Roman Catholic chaplain at the prison, after they had rejected tearful pleas from relatives to give in.

The hardened convicts themselves, however, continued to issue statements that they would release the hostages only after the state provided a getaway car and guaranteed their flight to freedom.

Fr. Hartigan expressed optimism over the possible end to the minor rebellion after the rebels talked with him and Dr. Samuel Merlin, the prison physician, for an hour and a half.

The somewhat conciliatory talk with the priest and the physician came after a day of defiance and caustic refusal to listen to relatives and officials who appealed to the four to surrender.

Some of the tension appeared to be gone from the cell block, where the convicts hold the five guards and six fellow convicts prisoners.

They shouted good-natured jibes at state troopers who edged closer to the bastion in the sub-freezing temperatures.

The troopers replied in kind. Prison officials were puzzled, meanwhile, by the apparently large quantity of ammunition possessed by the convicts.

They claimed to have 450 rounds and those who visited the cell block said they had the ammunition stacked on tables and had at least three pistols and possibly a shotgun.

The Day in Birmingham

Area Group Set to Name Permanent Youth Council

BIRMINGHAM — Having last week released its first major recommendations on facilities needed to avoid a serious area juvenile problem, a nine-member youth committee last night held a meeting of minds with the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills-Franklin Council of Community Services, to interpret the report.

The main suggestion, that a permanent youth committee be formed by the council to deal with problems of all youth organizations, won unanimous approval.

Charles Kass, council chairman, appointed a group under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harvey B. Greene to name the new committee, probably at a meeting next Tuesday.

The citizens group making the study of area-wide needs were appointed by the council a year ago after other residents expressed growing concern.

Birmingham news is now being handled direct through the Birmingham desk at the Pontiac Press, FE 2-8181.

Following a dinner meeting at 6:30 tonight at the Community House, Business Women's Club members will hear Mrs. W. F. Tighe give a book review.

Last-minute scurrying to buy those 1955 car license plates before the Feb. 28 deadline, may be further heightened until local auto owners become aware of changes made this week. The Secretary of State's office has moved from Chamber of Commerce headquarters at 350 E. Maple Ave., to 820 S. Woodward Ave.

Accountant Edwin P. Dowd, of 588 Larchlea Dr., will take charge of the office. Assisting him will be Mrs. J. H. Loud, 1547 Washington Blvd.

5-Sided Classrooms Tried in New School

NEWTON, Mass. (UP)—A "new look" in school buildings is being tried here. An experimental structure of four pentagon-shaped rooms is being watched as a possible answer to the constant demand for more school space.

The five-sided classrooms maintain all modern safety requirements and give more space to students and teachers. The cost is two or three times lower than conventional buildings.

They are also portable and can be disassembled and moved to a new site.

Police Fielding Poor

EAST HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—A week after a thief stole first, second and third base sacks from Memorial Field, someone completed the round trip by swiping a new $12 home plate.

Villagers Make Solid Move to Collect Taxes

GIBRALTAR, Mich. (UP)—This little community stands solid as its namesake rock these days after villagers voted for incorporation. The move was designed to reap some $155,000 in village taxes yearly from a steel company, which is building a $12 million plant within the town limits.

Without a charter, the village would not be eligible to collect the taxes.

Parking Change Bowl Proves People Honest

OAKLAND, Calif. (UP)—When parking meters were installed in 1950, real estate man Lawrence Ustvedt put $10 in change in a bowl on his counter. Four years later it contained $10.17. "People," Ustvedt commented, "are honest."

STAR OUT OF WATER—Though seemingly out of her natural element, swimming star Esther Williams presents a pretty enough picture in her furs as icy winds rush to greet her at Idlewild Airport, New York. The actress flew there from Los Angeles for TV show appearances.

African Witchdoctor Kills 'Evil Spirit' in Otter Form

JOHANNESBURG (UP)—When word got around among the inhabitants of Johannesburg's Western Native Township that a "tokoloshe" had been killed in their midst by a witch-doctor there was much excitement and hasty offering of prayers.

London Dairy Whips Up Nip With Lottsa Zip

LONDON (U)—A big London dairy has begun production of an alcoholic milkshake—a potent brew of three parts milk and honey to one part whisky—to sell for the equivalent of 35 cents a four-ounce slug.

The lactical liquor was thought up by Brian Laidlaw, a director of a suburban dairy chain, after his firm's fruit-flavored milk scored a big hit with the local small fry.

"We decided that if the kids liked it, their fathers might go for something similar with a kick in it," he said.

After tests, the government gave the dairy a license yesterday.

The mixture, called Noggo, will be sold in taverns and liquor stores. It will also come with gin, rum or brandy in place of the whisky.

U.S. dairies have been selling eggnog mixtures for several years but their customers have to add their own liquor. No honey, either.

For, as is well known among all Africans, the tokoloshe (call it leprechaun, goblin, evil spirit or what you will), can assume the shape of a fearsome animal and can easily strangle any man, woman or child it catches.

This particular tokoloshe—brown, turrey and about three feet long—was found hiding on the step of a Western Native Township home.

No ordinary human dare tackle it, so the witch-doctor was called and killed it with a "medicine stick."

Excited groups of natives gathered to discuss the killing as the body was taken to the police station. Superstitious Africans caressed their throats as they thought of the strangulation they had escaped.

An official of Johannesburg Zoo later pronounced the carcass to be that of a magnificent otter, strayed from its natural river-side habitat. But the Africans of the Western Native Township know that to be nonsense.

"Whoever heard of a tokoloshe assuming the shape of so harmless a creature as an otter," one said.

A single female house fly can lay 600 to 1,000 eggs in her lifetime.

Ancient People Will Be Studied

U.S., Egypt Cooperate in Digging Into Life of Commoners

CAIRO (UP)—Archeologists of the University of Pennsylvania will set out on an expedition at Mit Rehina on the site of ancient Memphis, early in 1955 to search for little-known facts in the life of the ancient Egyptian commoner.

The expedition will be a joint undertaking by the university's museum and the Egyptian department of antiquities.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dimick of Washington, D. C., came to Cairo last summer in advance of the university group, which is expected to arrive here next February.

Dimick, a research associate with the university, said the expedition will be under the direction of Dr. Rudolph Anthes, curator of the Egyptian department of the university's museum.

Dimick credited the present Egyptian regime for choosing "selected outside interests" to co-operate with Egyptian archeologists in tackling the mountainous amount of research that remains to be done here.

Dimick said the government evinced keen interest in the plans for the forthcoming expedition and showed "enormous goodwill" in extending to the museum all the privileges needed for the work at Mit Rehina.

The associate Egyptologists and scientific personnel for the expedition will be supplied by the university and the department of antiquities.

The university will underwrite the physical costs of the joint venture. A rest-house, provided by the Egyptian government, will be maintained by the university at Mit Rehina for the personnel.

The archeologists intend to dig up at Mit Rehina "the lesser known facts about the life of the ancient Egyptian common man, his implements, housing and living conditions," Dimick said.

This work on the vestiges of ordinary people of long ago will contrast sharply with the much-publicized excavations at the Sakara necropolis, a short distance uphill from Mit Rehina.

Generations of archeologists have concentrated their researches on the pyramids and other tomb structures at Sakara where pharaohs and other great personages were buried at death in their glittering ornaments.

Mit Rehina lies in the area of the original Nile flood and has suffered from perennial inundation, whereas the Sakara plateau was spared the ravages of the floods.

The forthcoming expedition intends to carry on the thorough research in Egyptology conducted by the University of Pennsylvania museum in the past and to fire the imagination of the public with the far-flung field work of its staff of archeologists.

While laying the groundwork for the expedition, Dimick is also on a research fellowship with the American Research Center in Egypt Inc. He is collaborating with Dr. Bernard Bothmer, director of the research center, until the Mit Rehina excavations get under way.

The mission of the research center is to establish a permanent headquarters for American archeologists in Cairo.

Supposedly Ill Wind Proves to Be Windfall

ONTONAGON, Mich. (UP)—It's an ill wind, etc.

A 1953 tornado leveled 1,500 acres in the 50,000-acre Porcupine Mountains State Park. By the end of 1954, the Michigan Conservation Department reported it had salvaged 10 million board feet of lumber from the wind-felled trees.

Patient Can't Stay Away

STAMBAUGH, Mich. (UP)—Vernon Carlson was released from the hospital after five weeks treatment of acid burns suffered in an accident at an iron mine. To celebrate he decided to go hunting. While he was loading his gun, his dog jumped on him. The gun discharged and shattered a bone in his leg.

He was returned to the hospital the same day he was released.

GM Chief Sees Upturn

General Motors' President HARLOW H. CURTIS has looked ahead into 1955 and likes what he saw.

What he saw was the basis of his annual economic forecast. This he outlined at a New York luncheon preceding GM's Motorama in that city. Highlights of his address were predictions that our gross national product would reach a new peak value of $370 billion, or three per cent above 1954.

It is Mr. CURTIS' opinion that the auto industry should turn out 6,800,000 cars and trucks "provided we continue to enjoy labor peace." This is 800,000 more than were produced last year. For 1955 he visions the greatest sales total in the corporation's history. Sales last year in the U. S. and Canada totaled 3,450,000 units.

Mr. CURTIS said consumer income and spending would be at record high levels this year. He also predicted that a high level of employment would be maintained. Pointing out that GM employees now number 520,000 in the U. S. and Canada, he called this proof that technological advances don't wipe out jobs.

In praising President EISENHOWER's multibillion dollar highway program, the GM chief said:

"Its beneficial effects will multiply endlessly to reach every business and every household in the Nation. It deserves vigorous support on the part of every citizen."

The importance of this address is enhanced by the accuracy of Mr. CURTIS' previous economic surveys. Barring unexpected developments, the facts listed promise good business this year for Pontiac, for Michigan and for the Nation.

Still a Defense Budget

For taxpayers the dominant fact in President EISENHOWER's $62.408 billion budget for the next fiscal year is its continuing emphasis on national defense.

Though the expenditures in this 27,000 word document add up to a billion less than the current budget, 65 cents of every tax dollar in it will be devoted to national defense.

For that reason and because the prospects are for a deficit of $2.5 billion, about half the current deficit, there is no justification for further tax relief. The President therefore has asked Congress to extend for a year the present 52 per cent tax rate on corporation income. He also asked extension of certain excise taxes scheduled to expire April 1.

If this is bad news, its impact is softened by the good news in the budget. For example, the President said:

"A growing prosperity will result in increasing revenues and should make possible both a balanced budget and lower tax rates in the near future. I hope that tax reductions will be justified next year."

It also is good news that two-thirds of the money allotted for defense goes to the Air Force and that two-thirds of knows better than Democratic critics of his inability to balance the budget, that the cold war is expensive and its progress beyond Administration control.

The reassuring truth is that of all the countries in either the free or slave worlds, none is as well off economically as ours.

Nautilus Goes to Sea

Both transport and naval history were made when the USS Nautilus, the world's first atomic powered submarine, went down the River Thames from Groton, Conn., for its first sea trials.

Never before in human history have men been transported in any ship, plane or vehicle propelled by such fuel. The occasion was additionally historic because the Nautilus undoubtedly is the forerunner of an entirely new breed of warship.

The 2,800 ton, 340 foot submarine was towed out into the river from its Groton dockside. In a few minutes came radio signals that the craft was moving under its own power and it headed toward Long Island Sound for its first surface tests.

These tests were delayed many weeks by an unfortunate and costly mistake. Somehow welded steel pipe got mixed up with seamless pipe required for the sub's steam plant, and had to be replaced.

The Nautilus is a pioneer in many respects. Its steam is generated by a piece of atomic fuel about the size of a golf ball. It could circle the globe without surfacing. Equipped with an unusually stout hull, it can dive deeper than any other sub and its engine can drive it under water at a 30 knot rate.

The Man About Town
Detroit Claims 'Em

Its Papers Have a Habit of Stretching the City Limits

Old Timer: One who remembers when women touched up their own hair.

Widely known people who live in Oakland County often are referred to by the Detroit papers as being "of Detroit." Our county is the home of many people who quite regularly make the headlines. Among them is

Harold Newhouse, whose home for many years has been at Franklin. He likes us so well that when his connection with the Detroit Tigers was terminated and he went to Cleveland, he still lives here. In fact, he now is building a new home in the same community. Hal was a luncheon guest Tuesday of Henry D. Price at the Pontiac City Club. He speaks in glowing terms of this area, and we are glad that, like many others, he is to continue to be "of Oakland County."

For several years driving a round trip of 80 miles every day, from his home north of Holly,

Jack Toombs says that, so far, this has been the most open winter he has experienced, and he has had no trouble with ice and snow.

In answer to the query received from "It Looks Pretty Young to Me," and several others, I find that the court house annex at 1 Lafayette St. was built in 1933-4, by local Masons for a Masonic Temple.

Widely known among Pontiac attorneys, and otherwise here, 81 year old

John E. Brendige, retiring municipal judge at Royal Oak, a position he has held since 1931, has done a good job under a terrible handicap. He has been blind for 30 years.

Committee appointments in the House of Representatives at Washington have just been announced, and our own Congressman George A. Dondore continues on the Public Affairs Committee. When the Republicans are in power he is its chairman. When the Democrats are in control of the House as at present, he is the ranking Republican member of this committee.

A letter just received from Bobby Hastings of Rochester, says he likes the Pontiac Press comics very much. "They're the best—and without sloppy daubs of color—which I hate," he says.

"Hey—Which Team Are You Fellows On?"

Why Didn't Michigan Employment Office Offer Me Position, Queries F. E. Fleming

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

On January 5, 1955 I registered with the Michigan Employment Security Commission as being out of work and applied for compensation.

On January 6 or 7, I registered with the Midwest Employment office, a private organization.

On or about the 15th of January the controller of a well-known local company called the State employment office for an assistant.

On January 14 the private employment office called me and arranged an appointment with the aforementioned controller.

I was offered the job and would like to have accepted it except for the $200 fee. Half cash, half within 30 days.

Why couldn't the state employment office have called me and saved me the fee and how did the private organization just happen to call this well-known local company the next day and ask if they needed an assistant to the controller? Coincidence?

Favors 'Nearing 60's' Ideas on Social Security

I agree with "Nearing 60." I think Social Security should be paid to anyone at the age of 60. I am a housewife and my husband was forced to retire in June of 1952.

He received his Social Security but I will have to wait four years before I can start to draw any. Here's hoping they do start to pay at the age of 60.

Acne Coupled With Desire for Notoriety Cause of Delinquency in 17-Year-Old

Frank was becoming a juvenile delinquent largely because of his pimples. For acne colors a teenager's outlook and either makes him more shy, or it causes him to be more belligerent. If you have acne, then be sure to send for the bulletin mentioned below, for it will explain in detail how to remedy your pimply complexion.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case N-328: Frank R., aged 17, has been a problem in high school. "Dr. Crane, he just goes out of his way to cause trouble," one of his teachers informed me.

"And he is barely making passing grades. But he really has a high I.Q. and could be on the honor roll. But he skips classes and spends a lot of time at a pool room. He smokes and drinks and tries to attract attention."

"I'd hate to see him drop out because he has a brilliant mind, so would you talk to him, please?" When Frank entered my office, I saw that his face was covered with pimples.

Frank was a victim of acne, as are thousands of high school and college youth.

And when Frank got through with his story, I had learned that in his sophomore year, a girl classmate turned him down for a date.

Frank imagined it was due to his pimples. So he grew hostile, belligerent and wanted to make a big impression on his classmates.

Instead of doing this in the laudable manner by getting on the honor roll or by winning his letter in athletics, he took the simpler route.

You can get notoriety in a few minutes by breaking laws and violating the established social codes. But fame is a slower affair and requires long, grueling hours of study or practice on the athletic field.

Besides, Frank had been enamored of the girl who turned him down, so he wanted to go to the devil and make her sorry.

This "make 'em sorry" attitude is a typical juvenile emotional state when we are fazed or otherwise defeated in our ego. It really underlies much of the would-be-outside's emotion. And when a girl has been fazed, she often confesses:

"Dr. Crane, I feel I might as well be a bad girl. What's the use of leading a moral life?"

That initial desire to shock people, coupled with the wish to make them feel sorry, was part of Frank's teenage problem.

But his acne was also involved. For whenever you feel you have some stigma or defect, you begin to pay undue attention to that flaw. Soon it looms so large you lose your normal perspective. Acne also afflicts rich and poor alike. It is simply an inflammation of the sebaceous (oil) glands in the human skin. They may get plugged up with dust and form blackheads.

The oil and dirt act like a cork in a bottle and thus plug the outlet of these oil glands.

If some bacteria are imprisoned therein, as is the usual thing, then inflammation begins and they become large, red pimples, often with a white center.

The remedy is to soap and steam your face at night. Then carefully express the blackheads with a blackhead remover which you can buy at the drug store. Don't pinch them between thumb and fingers! For further advice, send for my bulletin "The Psychology & Medicine of the Face," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Injection Treatment of Hernia in Office Once Violently Opposed by Dr. Brady

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
 Avowedly I am no great shakes as an authority on anything. Nevertheless a good many people, even those who assume doctors who call themselves specialists are more competent than "ordinary" doctors, are apt to think there must be some truth in my teachings if I keep repeating things here that no qualified physician openly denies.

There are good reasons why real doctors hesitate to answer in print teachings of mine which they believe are wrong. In the first place, it imparts a physician's standing in the profession and in the community to break to print even to chastise a would-be, in the next place, there

David Lawrence Says:
Dems Can Break Down Confidence in the Dollar

WASHINGTON—What the President of the United States says about the business outlook is usually the product of what his economic advisers have assembled from the most authentic data available.

Hence, when Eisenhower says there is a good chance for a healthy expansion of the national economy, it is a well considered judgment.

"Economic well-being," he says, "sustains our whole national life. A high and rising standard of living brings to more of our people the opportunity for continued intellectual and spiritual growth."

This is the thesis which the President's economic report to Congress has emphasized. But, entirely apart from the statistical facts, there is such a thing as a good or a bad climate for business. Eisenhower says:

"A free economy has great capacity to generate jobs and incomes if a feeling of confidence in the economic future is widely shared by investors, workers, businessmen, farmers and consumers."

But what is that feeling of confidence? What makes it and what breaks it? Unrestrained spending and a reckless disregard for the soundness of the nation's currency is one thing, but almost as destructive is the tendency in some quarters to put the government into all sorts of business, thus stifling private initiative and rendering uncertain the future of many enterprises.

To those in doubt on that point, the President makes this significant comment in his message:

"The role of the federal government in the achievement of these goals is to create an atmosphere favorable to economic activity by encouraging private initiative, curbing monopolistic tendencies, avoiding encroachment on the private sector of the economy, and carrying out as much of its own work as is practicable through private enterprise."

"It should take its full part at the side of state and local governments in providing appropriate public facilities. It should restrain tendencies toward recession or inflation. It should widen opportunities for less fortunate citizens, and help individuals to cope with the hazards of unemployment, illness, old age, and blighted neighborhoods."

This is a general statement, of course, but it breathes the spirit of a conservative liberalism as opposed to what might be called a radical liberalism. None of us who support the first of the two schools of thought wants to see governmental intervention in the economic life of the country prohibited, for the truth is it has been going on ever since the days of Alexander Hamilton, who urged protective tariffs for infant industries.

But this principle is far different from plunging the government into the electric-power business, which is what the critics of the Dixson-Yates contract are really eager to accomplish. But if government ownership is right in one case, it is right in all others, and then state capitalism takes over the field of private enterprise.

At the root, however, of all these controversies between those who want to conserve the fruits of the individual's labor—his savings and his property—and those who are ready to confiscate a large part of both to assist specially privileged groups or areas, there is the basic question of solvency for the government itself.

Earlier this week the President in his budget message made a telling point when he said:

"We must maintain financial strength. Preserving the value of the dollar is a matter of vital concern to each of us. Surely no one will advocate a special tax on the widows and orphans, pensioners, and working people with fixed incomes. Yet inflation acts like a tax which hits those groups hardest. This administration has made a stable dollar and economy in government operations positive policies from the top down."

First I learned from numerous readers that a mid-western physician of good professional standing was successfully treating hernia in his office, without hospitalization and without detaching the patient from his regular work, play or social activities for more than a few minutes at each session.

Unhesitatingly I branded the doctor as a charlatan and assured the readers who described their experience that cure of hernia by such treatment was utter humbug.

For doing so I was branded by my good colleagues—the poor going can't think for themselves—a "radical," "dangerous," "a man

The big question now is which of the two major political parties will have the better record on this point when the 1956 campaign is at hand. For the Democratic Party is in control of both houses of Congress and can, by unrestrained spending, break down confidence in the dollar, thus bringing on inflation, or it can aid the Republican administration in cutting expenses so as to balance the budget.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Been some letters about diplomacy at the top-legend level. It got more results than a short circuit in an electric blanket.

Back in 1945 we were playing ball with both sides and trying to umpire too. An old China hand told me, "Don't waste pearls whether they're gems or onions."

We spilled plenty of brass-bound protocol in the Orient. Even if we had pushed the camel through the eye of the needle we couldn't have tied a knot in the thread.

While we were getting up pressure in the boiler room of the paper dragon our man lit out for Formosa. If there was anything we didn't need in 1945 it was another island.

Story of Guam, Philippines, Wake and the Et Cetera Archipelago proves there are two things you cannot hold. One is an eel in the rain. The other is an island.

In these days of atomic worship an island is as vulnerable as a cardboard shirtfront in a laundry.

The Japs took 'em away from us and we took 'em back like the shuffle in two-handed canasta.

Chiang Kai-shek is firmly stagnated on Formosa with what the experts call an army-in-being. Translating that at the present rate of interest means it's being armed by us, it's being clothed by us and it's being fed by us.

We agreed with Washington recently that there is no active war. But there are many places you shouldn't look around a corner unless you have an extra head under your arm.

We mean there are still plenty of spots where a tourist should stay one jump ahead of his souvenir postcards.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father is not? The words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself, but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.—John 14:10.

Injection Treatment of Hernia in Office

Once Violently Opposed by Dr. Brady of some experimental investigation a young doctor an hour from home was conducting, pertaining to the effects of various chemical solutions on animal tissues, I determined his work until he determined precisely what formula to use for injection (ambulatory) treatment of hernia.

I watched him and later other doctors administering the treatment, and observed the effects on their patients.

Ultimately I plunked for ambulatory, office, injection treatment of hernia.

For doing so I was branded by my good colleagues—the poor going can't think for themselves—a "radical," "dangerous," "a man

OAS Proposes No Man's Land

Costa Rica - Nicaragua Border Zone Suggested to Prevent Clash

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (U)—The inter-American investigating commission today proposed a demilitarized zone be set up along the western sector of the Nicaragua-Costa Rica border in an effort to prevent a clash between the two countries over the rebel outbreak against President Jose Figueres.

The five-nation commission made its proposal in the wake of a protest from Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza that two Costa Rican FBI fighters, on their first mission since the planes arrived Monday from the United States, had veered over Nicaraguan territory yesterday during an attack on the rebel-held town of La Cruz, seven miles from the border.

Somoza, a long-time foe of the Costa Rican president, announced four of his own fighters would patrol the border to meet any further trespassers. He told a news conference last night in Managua, the Nicaraguan capital, that the situation could become "an international conflict."

Somoza's protest said he was also reinforcing his border garrisons to meet the "very tense" situation created by the air trespass. The commission, sent here by the Organization of American States, proposed a security zone 18 miles long and six miles wide between Lake Nicaragua and the Pacific. The zone would straddle the border three miles on either side.

Under the plan, planes of both nations would be forbidden to fly over this strip. The southern limits of the zone would be just over a mile north of La Cruz, rebel headquarters in the northwest corner of Costa Rica.

The purpose of the zone would be to limit the area of military action. One person attached to the Commission explained it thus: The Costa Rican government forces could chase the rebels as far as the zone limits on their side of the border. The rebels could escape into Nicaragua, but OAS observers would patrol the zone itself while only OAS observation planes could fly over it.

The Commission has charged that the rebels were aided from outside Costa Rica. The Costa Rican government has accused Nicaragua of training, arming and supplying the rebel force, a charge Nicaragua denies.

Commission chairman Luis Quintanilla of Mexico sent Jorge Maciel, technical adviser of the Brazilian delegation to Managua by air to deliver a copy of the proposal to Nicaraguan Foreign Minister Oscar Sevilla Sacasa.

Another copy was to be handed Costa Rican Foreign Minister Mario Esquivel here in San Jose.

Figueres, meanwhile, predicted today would see the decisive stage in his government's fight against the rebels in northwest Costa Rica.

Chicago Police Hunt Missing Woman

CHICAGO (U)—Police said today they have asked the FBI to aid in a search for Mrs. Lee Tatham, 31-year-old office manager, who has been missing for a week and may have been kidnapped.

Her husband Harry, a layout artist for the Roeder Studios, said his wife last was seen Jan. 12 when she left work at the Illinois Shade Cloth Co. to obtain license plates for a new automobile. Police said her car later was found in a parking lot near her office.

Police said Tatham reported he had received a telephone call Jan. 13 from a woman whose voice sounded like that of his wife. He quoted the caller as saying: "Harry, I'm being held. They kidnapped me. Don't call police or they'll hurt me."

Nips Suitor's Advances

MANILA (U)—Amorous Norberto Escudero eyed Tarcila Santos tripping gaily from school, then tried to steal a kiss. A doctor patched his punctured lip. Tarcila bit.

TOM DICK AND HARRY THREIVE—Tom, Dick and Harry, left to right, pose to show progress they have made since that hectic day last Sept. 22. Tom was born in the family auto as his father, Velmar, was rushing the triplets' mother to the hospital. Dick was born in hospital elevator and Harry in the delivery room. Each now weighs more than 10 pounds.

Local Training Given to 9 Practical Nurses

Nine women among a group of 30 practical nurses being graduated today from Ann Arbor Practical Nurse Education Center, at Jones School auditorium, received their training, or a part of it, at Pontiac General Hospital and with the Pontiac Visiting Nurse Association.

They are Mrs. Edith Blocher, Mrs. Grace Fuller, Mrs. Ruth Gracey, Mrs. Helma Hoyt, Miss Mildred Itell, Mrs. Helen McVoy, Mrs. Marion Powers, Mrs. Madelyn Roberts and Miss Rita Wolofski.

Road Commission to Present Study

The Oakland County Road Commission has been requested to make a detailed highway-needs study for presentation to the Michigan Automotive Safety Foundation by Feb. 15, according to Road Commission Engineer-Manager Leon V. Belknap.

The report will tell the foundation what work is needed in Oakland County to make roads adequate to handle present and expected traffic volume, Belknap explained.

The foundation is making a stateside roads study for the Michigan Legislature in preparation for a possible public vote April 4 on a $500,000,000 bond issue for highway construction.

That's What They Say

MOSCOW (U)—The newspaper Pravda today denounced new U.S. travel restrictions on Soviet citizens as an "iron curtain." It said, "Those American citizens who can tear their way out can count on a welcome reception and freedom of movement in our country."

Try to Rescue Trapped Horse

Group of Ranchers Now
Scaling Icy Peak to Lead
Hungry Animal Down

FAIRPLAY, Colo. (UP)—A group of ranchers set out yesterday for the high slopes of Mount Silverheels to rescue a tethered horse trapped above timberline for a month.

No one knows how the horse got caught on the mountainside. Binoculars show that he has grubbed beneath the snow for grass as far as his harness rope will allow.

The horse may have been tied there and abandoned, or may have fouled the rope while grazing and been unable to work it free.

The little flat stretch on which the horse is trapped is three miles away from a usable road, and one rescue party was forced to turn back because of snow and ice conditions.

Whether a party could reach the horse today depended on whether wind and temperature turns sufficiently moderate in the frigid high country.

Without food, and now apparently unable to reach the ring of snow lying just outside its tethered reach, the animal must die unless it is freed and led down the mountainside.

Clayton Hill, a prominent rancher who first spotted the trapped horse and is leading the rescue plans, said that if the animal is beyond help it will be shot to save it further suffering.

Death Stops Speeder Police Couldn't Slow

BISHOP, Calif. (U)—Death finally accomplished what traffic officers had attempted to do—stop Leo Reisig from speeding.

Reisig, a Porterville shoe salesman, lost control of his car on an icy highway about 12 miles south of here last night. His auto side-swiped another, overturned in a field and killed him.

About noon yesterday he got a ticket near Ridgecrest for doing 70 m.p.h. And six hours later he received another citation for traveling 75 m.p.h. near Lone Pine.

OKs Counsel Nomination

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Finance Committee today approved the nomination of David W. Kendall of Michigan to be general counsel for the Treasury Department. The appointment now goes to the Senate for approval.

Dorothy McGuire Back on Key With Husband

NEW YORK (INS)—The on-again off-again marriage of singer Dorothy McGuire went back on key today when she reconciled with her estranged GI-husband, Sgt. John H. Brown.

Dorothy was reported to have told crooner Julius La Rosa by telephone that their romantic dust was over.

Her decision climaxed days of conflicting reports on whether she would reconcile with Brown, who recently returned from Army duty in Korea. The reconciliation followed an effort by TV star Arthur Godfrey, acting as cupid in the affair, to bring the couple back together.

Plans Renewed Fight for State Speed Limit

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) yesterday renewed his unsuccessful 1954 fight to impose a speed limit on Michigan highways.

He filed in the Senate a bill to set a speed limit of 55 miles an hour during daylight hours and 55 miles an hour at night.

Faulkner was defeated last year on the same measure. He argued that high speed was the major cause of serious auto accidents.

Michigan now has no highway speed limit but a law requiring motorists to keep their cars under control at all times.

Dems Win Controversy Over Solons' Ash Trays

MARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Rep. Daniel J. Mahoney, a Democrat, won the Legislature's ashtray controversy, but the Republicans had the last word.

Mahoney was rebuffed last week when he suggested ashtrays be installed to protect the Legislature's new carpeting. House majority leader Norman K. Farnell said ashtrays could be thrown too easily "during the heat of debate." Yesterday Mahoney announced that an ashtray has been donated to each lawmaker. Farnell's comment was: "This is another example of how Republicans can save money."

Says MSC Student Died of Heart Attack in Bog

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Washtenaw County Coroner Edwin C. Ganshorn said yesterday that the 23-year-old Michigan State freshman found dead in a swamp near Saline last week died of natural causes.

Ganshorn made his statement after receiving a chemical analysis of vital organs from the state crime laboratory in East Lansing. He said the student, Loren Harlow King of Ironwood, had a severe coronary disease.

Ganshorn said the report was negative as to alcohol, nicotine, carbon monoxide or potassium cyanide. This, he said, ruled out either suicide or foul play, two previous theories.

Sheriff Calls Off Posse; Quarry Jailed by Wife

Silent Children Today's Misfits

'Seen and Not Heard' Saying Is No Longer
True, Doctor Claims

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP) — The old saying that "children should be seen and not heard" is all wrong, according to Dr. John Pruis, director of training for speech teachers at Southern Illinois University.

"The silent type, young or old, is a misfit in today's world," Pruis said.

"Free expression" helps clarify thinking, and a child with a large vocabulary usually leads his group of playmates, he said. On the other hand, a child who has a limited word knowledge seldom is popular with other youngsters.

The professor also has a theory on why children ask so many questions:

"They ask incessant questions not so much for information as to hear parents talk so they can copy them."

"This method, annoying as it may be, should be encouraged not curbed. It helps the child master the basic tool of communication—the spoken word. If he can't use this tool by the time he enters school, he is in for a rough time learning to read, write and listen."

The speech specialist said the child who can speak many words when he starts to learn to read will have little trouble trying the printed symbol to the word in his mind.

After the child learns to read, he should be given plenty of opportunity to read aloud at all age levels, Pruis said. He noted that adolescents who have poor diction and unpleasant voices probably also are poor spellers and writers—because they've had too little supervised practice in reading and speaking to people.

"Have you listened to them talk?" he asked. "They say 'Jest- yet, yeguma gessume chow."

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

Bringing in Cases

Big trucks carry to stores the groceries that your mother buys there. When you go marketing with her you may see one of these trucks, and men unloading big cardboard cases from it.

Danny helps with this on Saturdays when he does not have school. He carries cases of groceries into the store with the help of a small hand truck. In the store, clerks take the groceries and put them on the shelves so that customers can find them.

In coloring this picture, give Danny a dark blue apron and light blue shirt, if you wish. You can make his pants (shown in the circle) brown and the grocery cases any color you wish.

Paste the picture down on cardboard and cut out the big figure and the circle. Put the circle behind the boy and fasten it to him with a paper fastener at the dots marked with arrows. Now he'll look as he does in the little drawing.

Fold back the strip under the truck. Push the truck and Danny will walk.

now? and you are supposed to know they are asking 'Did you eat yet? Are you going to get some chow now?'

Pruis' answer for the above is a regular, systematic program to help children at all grade levels to use language effectively with special help for the five to 10 per cent who have clinical speech troubles.

Dog Tag Gives Clue

BRANFORD, Conn. (UP) — Three-year-old Jan Philgren couldn't give his name or address when he was found wandering about town with two dogs. But it didn't stump police. They traced his address through the number on one of the dog's tag.

Tuesday Night Bingo Replaces Court Session

STANHOPE, N. J. (UP) — The borough council found that gambling paid better than court fines and acted accordingly. When the Stanhope Fire Company wanted to hold recently legalized bingo games on Tuesday night to improve public facilities, the borough council shifted Magistrate Regis Smith's Tuesday night court sessions to Monday night.

The bingo games and court sessions are conducted in the same room.

Irish Setter Points Fish, Then Hauls Them Out

WILMINGTON, N. Y. (UP) — Frank Weed, internationally known dog trainer, has an Irish setter that can point and catch trout. Weed started training Si "just as a gag," but the act turned out to be one of the biggest attractions of a recent sports show here.

Si sits beside a pool, points to a trout, and "occasionally dives into the pool to retrieve the fish."

Weed says Si isn't always successful, but at least he puts on a good show for the visitors. He drew so much attention that he became a permanent part of the show and had to perform the trick each day.

No white man to date has ever completely explored the miles of winding channels in the Everglades which spread over four million acres.

Detroit Interchange Worries Experts

DETROIT (AP)—Traffic experts today cast anxious looks at Detroit's spectacular new Ford-Lodge expressway interchange, built at a cost of 50 million dollars to speed up traffic in and out of the city.

Opened partially to traffic Tuesday, the multi-level interchange got its first rush hour tests yesterday morning and evening. It failed miserably as motorists found themselves ensnared in one of the city's worst traffic jams in recent years.

Alerted to the advantages of the expressway system and the interchange, motorists roared by the thousands onto the east-west Ford expressway and the north-south Lodge expressway, anticipating a swift, non-stop ride to the heart of the city.

Glen C. Richards, commissioner of the Department of Public Works, said the jam was the result of publicity and curiosity on the part of the motorists.

"The tieup was caused mostly because a lot of people wanted to try out the interchange," he said.

Seek Shopping Center

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Mayor George Veldman and city commissioners met with property owners on lower Monroe avenue yesterday and heard a request for city help in developing a multi-million dollar shopping center to restore that section of the city's downtown district. Monroe avenue is the city's main street but the lower end has deteriorated as a center of retail trade.

TOKYO TRUMPETER—Night-club entertainer Aiko Suehiro does a backbend to show how easily she ripples off some "cool" notes on the trumpet. In addition she does some dancing and acrobatics while entertaining people in Tokyo.

Believe Bar Owner Shot Girl Friend, Self

DETROIT (AP)—Distraught over his broken romance, a Detroit bar owner apparently murdered his attractive blonde girl friend yesterday, then committed suicide, police said today.

A maid found the bodies of Jack Frank Fera, 47, and Sue Marie Myers, 21, yesterday in a room at a hotel in downtown Detroit. Detectives said they had been dead for about 12 hours.

Officers said Fera evidently had shot Miss Myers in the chest, slashed his wrists in an adjoining bathroom and returned to the room where he fired another shot from his .45 caliber pistol into his own chest. Fera's wallet contained $531.

Eddie Cantor Ran for President—Received 6 Votes in 1932 Election

By EDDIE CANTOR

In 1932 a group of people insisted that I run for president. It was a large and distinguished group consisting of Ida, Marjorie, Natalie, Edna, Marilyn and Janet.

Every member of the family voted, and that's what I finished with—six votes. Not bad for a guy who never finished grammar school.

However in 1936 it's going to be different. I already have the backing of many business groups. Take the druggists, for instance. They insist that I run. It seems they're overloaded with aspirin and feel that with Cantor as president they have a very good chance of getting rid of it.

Industrialists are for me. They applaud my theory of what causes inflation. So simple, too. Here's the reason: You go into a store and you want to buy a nickel candy bar, but you've got to pay a dime for it. Why do they charge you a dime? Because the man who makes it has to pay more for sugar.

Why does he have to pay more for sugar? Because it costs more to grow the sugar. Why does it cost more to grow the sugar? Because it costs more to pick it. Why does it cost more to pick it? Because the man who picks it is getting higher wages.

Why does he have to get higher wages? Because when he goes into the store to buy a nickel candy bar, he has to pay a dime for it.

The first thing I'll do when I'm president will be to change around the map of the world for the purposes of peace. I'll put France where Germany is—I'll put Germany where England is—I'll put England in Holland—I'll put Russia in Egypt. Y'see, all these people would be so busy learning a new language they just wouldn't have time to fight!

Ghost Town Put on Auction Block

Old Upper Peninsula Village Reputed Hiding Place for Gold

DETROIT (AP) — For sale: One ghost town. If you've ever had the desire to treasure hunt for gold, here's your chance.

The town of Fayette pop. 000 is for sale.

A Detroit owner is asking $65,000, which, if you believe in legend, could be the buy of the year. A treasure is supposed to be buried somewhere near Fayette.

Where is Fayette?

It is located in the Garden Peninsula of the Upper Peninsula. It's not too far from Escanaba.

Once a booming community of 1,000 persons, Fayette died many years ago after its timber reserves ran out. All that remains are dark crumbling buildings, dust, quiet . . . and the hope that a treasure really is buried somewhere.

The fascinating legend concerns one Alphonse Bellanguette. It goes like this:

Back in 1872, Bellanguette, a French-Canadian, came to Fayette, then a charcoal iron smelting town.

He was disappointed to find that the sale of liquor was prohibited. So up the beach away, he established his own tavern. Symbolically, it was named "Hole in the Ground."

Bellanguette didn't trust anyone. Not even his wife. So he buried his profits. On moonlight nights he could be seen slipping away with a bundle of cash in one hand and a shovel in the other.

On his death bed, it is said, he drew a map revealing the whereabouts of his fortune.

But before you head for Fayette, let it be pointed out that others have tried—and failed—to uncover the lost gold.

Dirty snow melts faster than clean snow in sunny weather because the white snow reflects the sun's rays while the darker dirt diffuses the rays into the surrounding snow.

ENDING TO DISCOVERY—Young Carl Higginbotham, showing a courageous smile, pedals without going anywhere in order to strengthen his polio-weakened leg muscles, at the Crippled Children's Hospital in Memphis, Tenn. The tricycle he uses has its front wheel suspended.

Hal Boyle Says:

Dominican Republic Finds Peace at Point of a Pistol

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP)—Leaves from a cruising notebook:

The Dominican Republic, called by Christopher Columbus "the fairest land under heaven," is today one of the most peaceful countries in the world.

Peace is maintained at pistol point. Here a man can worship any God he pleases. He is also completely free to say anything he wants to—so long as he doesn't want to say anything against Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina, or the things Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina stands for. If he does want to, his freedom of speech becomes a figure of speech.

For this is a one-man republic of 2,500,000 people, and the one man is Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina, called by his critics a ruthless tyrant but known officially as "the benefactor of the fatherland."

A visitor here has the feeling of being watched, and the feeling is no illusion. All police states keep an eye on the movement of strangers.

Before leaving a cruise ship in the harbor, the tourist is handed an identity slip, a carbon copy of which has already been delivered to Dominican police.

"Don't lose this slip," he is warned. "The ship can't leave until all the slips have been turned back in."

Dominican citizens all carry an identity card too.

"Already I feel about as free as a handcuffed mummy," mumbled one tourist.

As you come ashore the first sight you see is an old fort. Atop it is mounted a gun able to fire either at ground targets or raiding airplanes. The fort is patrolled by armed guards.

Armed national police also walk the street. They are on guard at most national buildings, including the capital, and the palatial residence of the generalissimo himself.

There is no doubt that tough-minded Trujillo has brought stability to a revolutionary country which in one single century of its past had 50 changes of government. In a quarter of a century he has taken a shabby, disease-ridden, chaotic land and guided it well up the road to modernity and prosperity.

Seeing the visible evidence of the tremendous changes Trujillo has wrought, one tourist in our party remarked:

"You know, maybe with a backward people like this, a dictator is needed to straighten them out and get them going. You can see he's done a lot of good."

"I can remember when they used to say the same thing about Mussolini," replied another.

But Trujillo hasn't made the big mistake Mussolini did. He hasn't led his people into any wars of conquest.

Outside criticism doesn't bother him overly—and he knows how to deal with criticism within the country. It is silenced.

Who's Happened?

EL CERRITO, Calif. (AP)—Street work resulted in several deep holes near a school and Police Officer Ray Morris was guarding a pedestrian crossing in the rain. Warning the children to be careful, he stepped forward — and sank almost to his chin.

Conversation Lag Dooms Many 'Happy' Marriages

By MARGARET LATOBE

This concerns conversation, and happy marriages. It has been said (by someone who didn't know much thereof) that true love will thrive on silence. "Darling, we know each other so well—we need for words between us..."

Hi-m-m. My observation is just the contrary. A little silence between friends and lovers goes a long way toward boring everybody silly. I think really happy marriages frequently bubble—and occasionally boil over—with conversation.

When someone claims the bliss of "never a difference of opinion, never a cross word" you can expect the flower pots to begin flying through the air. And with the greatest of ease the happy pair will surprise all their friends one day by getting divorced.

Maybe these couples surprise their pals in this lamentable way simply because they never surprised each other. They were afraid to clear the air of small irritations, afraid to disagree, afraid to talk at all. Why? There can still be respect in disagreement.

Some fictional folk of Dorothy Parker's never had anything to say to each other when alone at home. "How is the pie, dear?" Mrs. Weldon noticed other married people chatted eagerly and incessantly with each other. What on earth about? "The pie? Fine, dear. I like pie." The Weldons were considered an ideal couple. Their divorce came as a great surprise.

A recently publicized marriage of the movie and sports world reached an impasse not because of another woman, another man, but simply for lack of another thing to talk about. Reports said the luscious doll, who is widely advertised as the answer to every man's dream, and her hero husband found themselves sitting in sullen silence for days.

Nothing more to say. And although they might have consulted 14 almanacs for fascinating facts, it wouldn't have helped.

For conversation is more than facts. Or wit. Or brilliance. Or pompous discourse on learned topics. It doesn't have to be bright. It doesn't even have to be particularly sensible. It only needs to be of interest to the people involved. And if two people are interested in each other, almost any conversation is absorbing to them.

It isn't wayward blondes who break up marriages. It often isn't anything more than just not caring what the ever-loving spouse is going to say next.

Maybe I'm wrong, but I don't hold with the silence theory. For two people, once in love, to stare into space at the villain, boredom, to have "talked themselves out," doesn't make sense.

"Guess what's for supper to-night, dearie? Pie? Sure, but what kind of pie?"

U.S. Tax Return Error Revealed

Mistake in Schedule K Effects Persons Who Are Retired

A mistake on income tax return Form 1040 which affects retired persons who earned more than $600 in 1954 has been discovered by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

A correction on the form was announced yesterday by A. M. Menninger, Michigan district director for the service.

The mistake is in lines 2 and 3 of Schedule K, on page four of the new Form 1040.

As printed, line 2 reads, "Enter here amount shown in line 1 or $1,200, whichever is lesser." The line should read, "Enter here $1,200," since that figure is correct in all cases.

Line 3 reads, "Balance (line 2 minus line 4)." The error here is the omission of the phrase, "or line 1, whichever is lesser."

These two mistakes in printing, the Internal Revenue Service pointed out, could lead a taxpayer to computing his tax due at too high a figure.

The Internal Revenue office in Pontiac at 53 1/2 W. Huron, has announced that tax accountants are on duty there each weekday to assist persons filing returns.

Anyone who needs help in making out his income tax return, or who desires information on the return or any other tax problem, may visit the office or telephone Federal 2-0208.

Psychiatrist Urges Sports Participation

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UP)—Americans are becoming too "gladiator-minded," according to a University of California psychiatrist.

Dr. Frank Tallman, at the university's Los Angeles Medical School, pointed out that thousands of Americans sit watching football, baseball, boxing and wrestling or see such contests on television.

"This is not too good, according to Tallman, because we take part in sports only as spectators.

"Direct participation in some form of group activity rather than just in the role of an observer would be a much healthier form of recreation," he said.

"More active participation in recreation would ease some of the tension of modern living."

The UCLA psychiatrist suggested that many parks and playgrounds are not as good as they could be.

"Public parks are really too neat," Tallman said. "They might be better with plain dirt and less grass to keep off."

More Fun to Eat Out

PLEASANT HILL, Calif. (U)—Poochie ate most of his meals at the home of neighbors, Stella and Howard Walte. So they asked his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Art Hakel, for the dog.

The Hakels agreed but now the Waltes never see Poochie. He went back to scrounging meals from his original owners.

Sheppard to Join Family at Burial of Father Today

CLEVELAND (U)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard joins with his two brothers today for the second family burial in 10 days—the third in six months.

On a snow-flecked knoll overlooking a lagoon in Sunset Memorial Park, their 64-year-old father, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard will be placed next to his wife Ethel, who shot herself to death Jan. 7.

The eldest of the osteopath family died Tuesday night of a serious respiratory ailment. His sons said he "lost his will to live" after the suicide of his wife, who left a note saying she "could not go on without Dad."

Shackled to a deputy as he was at his mother's funeral, their youngest son, 31-year-old Samuel, will be taken under guard to a Lakewood mortuary, and later to the cemetery, 10 miles away.

Both his parents were ailing during his nine-week trial for the July 4 shotgun-murder of his pregnant wife Marilyn. Sheppard is appealing his second-degree murder conviction.

The Rev. Alfred C. Kreke, pastor of the Bay Methodist Church, officiates at the private services today. It was the Rev. Mr. Kreke who delivered the funeral sermons at the rites for the young osteopath's mother, and six months ago, for his wife.

The family requested that the time of the services be kept confidential to prevent crowds of curious onlookers from appearing. Several hundred persons clustered near the cemetery when the elder Mrs. Sheppard was buried.

Besides the convicted osteopath, his brothers and their wives, only a small group of close relatives and some doctor friends are to attend.

Science Finds Some 'Bugs' Freeze-Resistant

GENEVA, N. Y. (UP)—The number and kinds of bacteria found in frozen vegetables stored over long periods have been determined by a Cornell University food bacteriologist at the state Agricultural Experiment Station here.

Dr. George J. Hucker said that cultures isolated from snap beans and lima beans were found to contain freeze-resistant bacteria which remained alive after were stored for two to 10 years. The low-temperature-growing bacteria is known to bacteriologists as "psychrophilic."

Similar bacteria were also isolated from frozen asparagus, Brussels sprouts, broccoli and cauliflower. None of the organisms so far observed in frozen vegetables has any significance from a public health standpoint, Dr. Hucker added.

Dem Convention Choice Between Chicago, Philly

WASHINGTON (U)—Choice of a site for the 1956 Democratic presidential nominating convention appeared today to lie between Chicago and Philadelphia.

Chairman Paul M. Butler told newsmen after a Democratic National Committee meeting here yesterday he will name a site committee within the next 10 days. He said a suggested Aug. 27 starting date seemed to have general approval.

Butler made it clear the Democrats intend to pick their own city. He said, however, they will "not indulge in novelty for the sake of novelty" by deliberately placing the convention in a city other than that chosen by the Republicans.

In recent years, the two parties have been meeting in the same city and sharing some of the costs. Butler said that when the Democrats choose their site, it will be on the basis of the best facilities offered for delegates and representatives of the press, radio and television.

He added that he understands both Chicago and Philadelphia are offering each party $250,000 and that Philadelphia has indicated it would furnish its Convention Hall free.

ENTERTAINMENT — Lovely dances whirled on artificial lily pads on a 500-square-foot pool of water, part of the unique stage upon which a Broadway musical review is presented as a feature of the General Motors 1955 Motorama. New Policy Will Shorten Patients' Stay, Lessen Crowding at Pontiac General

Thanks to a policy of trimming "unnecessary" days from a patient's stay, Pontiac General Hospital last year reduced the average number of patient-days while increasing the number of patients treated.

In releasing a compilation of 1954 statistics yesterday, Lauretta Paul, hospital director, explained the policy stemmed from acutely crowded conditions at the hospital.

As a result, 15,156 admitted patients spent a total of 89,155 patient-days in the institution. (A patient-day is a day a patient spends in the hospital. One patient spending six days would make six patient-days.)

These totals compare with 14,791 admissions in 1953 for a total of 89,826 patient-days.

"Efforts continue to be made to have beds available for emergency cases and what appears to be unnecessary stay in the hospital is carefully checked," Miss Paul said.

Occupancy in the 198-bed city medical institution averaged 207.4 patients per day in 1953. Percentage of daily occupancy dropped to 104.7 from 106.9 the year before. (Crowded conditions are expected to continue until construction of a $3,000,000 addition approved by taxpayers in November is completed. Initial paper work is under way on the project, which is expected to add 120 beds.)

Newest Gadget Would Increase Woes of Drivers

CHICKASHA, Okla. (INS)—The poor motorist won't like this:

Lee Fitzpatrick of Chickasha said today he has applied for a patent on a device which would "erase" the time left on a parking meter when a driver pulls away. It would force the next motorist parking in the space to use his own money and do away with the furtive game of driving around looking for an unexpired meter.

Fitzpatrick said his gadget is simple. A metal bar is attached parallel to the curb and attached to an arm which, in turn, is connected to the clock mechanism on the parking meter.

The motorist must have his car wheels on the bar before he can insert his money in the meter. When he backs away, the remaining time on the meter is wiped away.

A bumper crop of babies broke the hospital's all-time yearly birth record. In the 12 months, 2,890 births were recorded. November was the high month with 259 bouncing newcomers.

The number of outpatients treated in the emergency section totaled 21,200, an increase of nearly 1,800 over 1953.

Reflecting the drop in number of days spent at the hospital by the average patient, the number of meals served dipped to 374,100 from 392,517 the year before.

The hospital's total operating income for 1954 totaled $2,970,527 and its total operating expense was $2,589,447, Miss Paul reported.

Despite being in the black in operations, the hospital showed a net loss of $18,734, due chiefly to bad debts, the director said.

At that, the loss was down from the $19,780 deficit recorded for 1953. Percentage-wise, the bad debt write-off was down from 3.5 of the operating income in 1953 to 2.9 in 1954.

Mystery Veils Bomb Slaying

Police Refuse Comment on Booby Trap Death of Texas Woman

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (U)—Deepening mystery today veiled the booby trap bomb death of attractive Mrs. Harry E. Weaver, wealthy wife of a prominent architect and geologist.

Mrs. Weaver, 52, was killed yesterday about 8:30 a.m. as she set out for a local hospital to visit her ailing mother.

A Houston businessman, questioned following officers' long conferences with Weaver, was accompanied to the Harris County Court House by Texas Rangers and sheriff's deputies and his two small children.

Four Rangers accompanied the man and the children back to their home in a well-to-do section of Houston. Neither he nor officers would discuss what took place in the long session behind locked doors.

Officers would not answer questions either about the man's identity or any other development in their hunt for the person or persons who planted the nitroglycerine bomb in one of the Weaver automobiles.

Tom Green County Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes said no arrest warrants had been issued. He refused to comment about possible suspects but did say he was working with information furnished by Weaver and other members of the family.

Weaver, 60, said he was in the big, old-fashioned home of Mrs. Weaver's mother, Mrs. Ralph Harris, when the blast occurred outside. The architect and his wife formerly lived in Houston. In recent years they resided on a showplace ranch 23 miles north of here and maintained an apartment in San Angelo.

City May Hire Students as Parttime Traffic Cops

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (U)—Here's a new gimmick for college students looking for an after-school job and some extra cash. City Commissioner Stanley J. Davis says he's drawn up a plan which would authorize students at the city's two colleges to ticket cars parked overtime at parking meters. Davis said the plan would release members of the police force for more important duties.

HAIR-RAISING—Looking as though she'd just seen a werewolf, Thelma Chaney, student at the University of Washington, Seattle, was actually getting a charge out of a Van de Graff electrostatic generator. The current discharged into the air through her hair, making it stand on end.

Eats 53 Hotcakes After Breakfast to Break Record

EPHRAIM, Wis. (UP)—Knudson House here has a new champion "Scandinavian pancake" eater in Tom Häfner, who downed 53 of the tasty morsels recently—after breakfast.

The resort owner, Tom Mayhew, started the marathon in 1941 by eating 25 and daring his guests to top the figure. A plaque has been put up on which each new record is dutifully recorded.

Häfner's exploit dropped a previous record of 52 pancakes set by Don Kerbis of Chicago. Häfner ate a breakfast of eggs, juice and cereal before the pancakes. The Scandinavian pancake is slightly smaller than its American cousin. Häfner ate his with butter and syrup.

The average number of persons per family in the United States declined from 3.77 in 1940 to 3.60 in 1950.

U.S. Women Lift Arabian Taboos

Ban on Driving Last Straw for American Wives of Oilmen

CAIRO, Egypt (U-P)—King Saud and Arabian American Oil Co. officials have learned that Saudi Arabia hath no fury like an American woman crossed. The world's most absolute monarch has graciously bowed to aroused oil company wives.

Not only has the King canceled a ban on women drivers, but he also is letting Christian ministers preach openly in oil company areas of Saudi Arabia—a sharp break from tradition in the ultraconservative Moslem country.

Angry women drivers started it all.

Saudi Arabia has a long list of restrictions on the activities of foreigners, mostly stemming from conservative Moslem doctrines which have weakened in some parts of the Arab world. They include no drinking of alcoholic liquor, no Christian marriage ceremonies, restriction of imports of dolls, and censorship of imported literature.

Ever since Aramco started operations in 1934 in the Persian Gulf area, Christian churches have been forbidden. Christian ministers traveled as "teachers" on weekend trips from Bahrain to hold household services for company personnel.

American oil officials, in the interests of good will, did not protest much against the restrictions.

But their wives—there are about 2,000 women in the air-conditioned oil camps—hit the roof about three months ago when Saudi Arabia announced women would no longer be allowed to drive cars. Since practically no Arab women go out in public in the country, the edict hit the foreign women, mainly Americans.

"They nagged their husbands until the oil company finally drew the matter to the attention of the King," one American said.

An Aramco spokesman in Cairo said oil company officials submitted a petition to the King recently listing the restrictions. As a result, the monarch lifted the ban on women drivers and announced Christian ministers could reside and preach in oil company areas.

French Woman Acquitted in Poisoning of Cousin

PERPIGAN, France (U-P)—One of France's most sensational postwar murder trials ended early today with the acquittal of Marguerite Marty on charges she poisoned her cousin Mrs. Jeanne Candela to get the cousin's husband.

During the nine-day hearing, Miss Marty admitted the husband, Eugenio Candela, was her lover but she denied poisoning his wife. She charged police beat her repeatedly in an effort to get a confession.

Hotfoot Coin Machine Developed in Austria

VIENNA (U-P)—An Austrian has developed a slot machine to warm feet on cold days.

Vinna newspapers report the first of the machines is to be installed at a cable car station on 7,000-foot high Mt. Hafelekar near Innsbruck.

You put a coin in the machine, stand on a platform and your feet are irradiated with ultrashort waves for 15 seconds. It gets the circulation going and that warms the feet, the newspapers said.

The surface of Lake Erie is about eight feet lower than that of Lake Huron.

PINK ELEPHANTS—Pastel colored elephants are not just something you hear about. They actually exist. Here, actor Jack Sterling splashes one of five elephants with pastel water colors for a television color show. The big animals, in pink, orange, blue, green and orchid paraded for the "Big Top."

Stevens Expected to Assist Probers

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Secretary of the Army Stevens was said today to have promised to cooperate with the Senate Investigations subcommittee in its proposed new investigation of the Peress case.

A committee source, declining to be quoted by name, said Stevens gave such an assurance to Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) yesterday in a private conference devoted mostly to other matters.

McClellan declined comment. But he announced a postponement until Monday of a subcommittee meeting which had been called for today, and said he expects then a "tentative discussion" of plans to reopen the Peress case.

Irving J. Peress, an Army dentist, received a promotion to major and an honorable discharge after invoking the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about communism. His case figured largely in accusations by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that the Army had coddled Communists. Stevens, while disputing that, has said Peress' case was badly handled.

McClellan told newsmen he will submit a tentative budget asking the Senate for "a little less than $200,000" to finance subcommittee activities in the next 12 months. This would be about the same as the committee's spending under the chairmanship of McCarthy in 1954.

Luther Burbank produced the Shasta daisy in eight years by cross-pollinating three varieties of the plant, two English and one Japanese.

Flagpole-Sitting Fails to Bring Fame to Woman

PARKLAND, Wash. (U-P)—Once upon a time all you had to do to grab yourself lots of attention and some offers of this and that was to climb a pole and perch there for a few days.

It was only 25 years ago, in fact, that Alvin (Shipwreck) Kelly really got some notice with a 100-hour stint. Within a year or two the time was 14 days, then 25, then 34.

The stunt broadened out to nationwide proportions but the publicity thinned down. As far as Mrs. Kathleen Donham, 18, is concerned, it's just plain disappeared. And here she is about to set a record of 153 days atop a 60-foot pole—if she hangs on until tomorrow—just listening to the radio and talking on the telephone.

She is sponsored by an oil distributing company which presumably takes care of her food and laundry problems. But thus far no one has offered her anything in the way of fame and fortune.

Is she discouraged? Not at all. She's just going to sit there until Feb. 5 to be certain her record is secure for awhile.

Bill Collector Must Pay

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (U-P)—Mike Villareal, a bill collector for the Friendly Finance Co. here, was fined $25 for disturbing the peace. Louis Gomez told the judge in justice court that Villareal threatened him with an ax while attempting to collect a debt.

Thirty-nine of the states will grant divorces based on proof of drunkenness.

Two Airliners Land Safe in Emergencies

DEXTER, Iowa (AP)—A United Air Lines Convair and a TWA airliner made safe emergency landings in Iowa and Pennsylvania yesterday after apparently developing equipment trouble.

The two-engine Convair crash-landed in a snow-covered field near this central Iowa town 20 minutes after leaving the Des Moines Airport for Omaha. None of the 30 on board was injured.

In Pennsylvania, a twin-engine Martin Skyliner, carrying 40 passengers and a crew of three to New York, landed at a Phillipsburg airport after the plane's automatic fire-extinguishing system filled the cabin with smoke.

There are more than 800,000 municipal firemen in the United States, but only about one out of eight is a full-time professional fire fighter. The others are volunteers.

SHOEMAKER, SPECIAL BRAND—James McKenzie is a special brand of shoemaker at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor. He has worked on the special shoes for five years.

Cripples Aided by Shoemakers

UM Hospital Workers Operate Shop Making Special Footwear

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Shoes to set his feet a walking are the job of a special brand of shoemaker at the University Hospital.

In the appliance shop of the hospital at the University of Michigan, expert leather and metal workers fashion footwear for people who never thought they would walk again.

These are shoes with special metal braces that give the legs of polio patients strength to stand, and then to walk.

But polio patients aren't the only ones. The shop makes the same shoes for cerebral palsy victims, muscular dystrophy patients and others.

Unlike regular shoemakers, these artisans are happy, the sooner their customers discard their special shoes. They even keep a pile of discarded footwear, returned by satisfied customers.

Most customers though, keep their shoes as reminders of their battle to walk again. Some must wear them all their lives.

The appliance shop, where nine men and women work in a homely atmosphere, also turns out crutches, special corsets, arm and neck braces and splints.

The shoes, out of necessity, are not solely constructed by the shop. They are the regular products of the national shoe manufacturers.

But the workers at the shop measure the customers, and then rebuild the shoe, adding weights to the toe, building the shoe with extra leather and attaching the metal braces.

Many times the shoe has to be specially cut for a patient. Every shoe needs some work done on it. This takes from four weeks, except in emergencies.

For the doctors and experts who make the blueprints and the final shoes, the job never ends. The shop turns out some 700 shoes a year.

Lincoln's Visit Marked on Gen. Lee's Birthday

FT. MONROE, Va. (AP)—The date had to be chosen to suit the convenience of those taking part, the Army explained.

That's why ceremonies were held here yesterday—Robert E. Lee's birthday—to dedicate a drawing commemorating Abraham Lincoln's 1862 visit to Ft. Monroe. Taking a prominent part was the commander in chief of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War—Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant III.

Islands' Size Belie Worth

Tiny Ramparts North of Formosa Are Targets of New Red Attacks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Yikiangshan . . . the Tachens . . . Pishan . . .

Tiny specks of land in the East China Sea, so small they can't be found on most maps. But with a strategic value all out of proportion to their size.

They are island outposts of Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese Nationalists, sharp thorns in the sides of the Chinese Reds.

The Communists took the first step to remove these thorns Tuesday, invading Yikiangshan.

Today the Reds turned their attention to the Tachens, blasting the islands with a 200-plane raid and raising Nationalist fears of an imminent Red invasion. And they shelled Pishan, posing a threat there.

The islands at a glance: Yikiangshan: It has an area of but three square miles. It was garrisoned by guerrillas who had some artillery. The island is eight miles north of Tachens.

The Tachens: The most important of the northern offshore islands, anchoring Nationalist positions 200 miles north of Formosa. While the two main islands total little more than 15 square miles in area they are mountainous, landing beaches are few and they are defended by 30,000 well-armed soldiers and guerrillas.

Pishan: It is 32 miles south of the Tachens. Area is about three square miles. It has a garrison of 1,500 men with artillery and naval units. The Nationalists use it for raids on the Red coast, only 12 miles to the west.

There have been no fortifications along the Canadian-American frontier anywhere since the War of 1812.

Says U.S. Changing Policy on Red China

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today it appears the United States "is changing its policy" toward Communist China. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said he is not ready to say a shift is in the making.

Mansfield, avoiding any expression of approval or disapproval of what he called "an apparent degree of further recognition of the Red Communist regime," said in an interview:

"We seem to be shifting in part the responsibility over the Formosa situation to the United Nations. Up to now we have been the sole arbiters."

Both Mansfield and Knowland serve on the Foreign Relations Committee. Knowland, the GOP leader, has disagreed with some aspects of administration policy in the Far East.

Ambassador T. F. Tsiang, Nationalist China's chief delegate to the U.N., said in a New York speech last night the Chiang Kai-shek government on Formosa "will never bind its hands by U.N. resolution or any other method."

New Guinea is 1,500 miles long.

Attorney General Pledges Legal, Efficient Service

LANSING (UP)—Thomas M. Kavanagh, new Michigan attorney general, says he wants his department run on a strictly legal basis, with no special or secret favors to government officials or private corporations.

Kavanagh, who was elected in the Democratic sweep of last Nov. 2, already has banned so-called "letter" or "off-the-cuff" opinions which are not recorded or kept on file.

"I picture my department as a large law office giving service to state officials and the people of Michigan," Kavanagh said. "As such, I want it run on an efficient, legal basis."

From now on, all legal opinions will be a matter of record and kept on file, he said.

Kavanagh, a 44-year-old attorney from Carson City who has practiced law for 23 years, also said he intends to eliminate requests for opinions from unofficial agencies or private corporations.

Requests for attorney general's opinions must come from government officials or agencies. Probably the closest link between the attorney general's office and the the assistants to go into policy matters of the various departments if their offices are located within the departments," he said.

The attorney general said he wants the assistants to steer clear of policy matters and rule only on legal questions.

Navy Plane Reported Down in Pacific Ocean

HONOLULU (U-P)—The Hawaiian Sea Frontier reported last night a Navy PBV was presumed down at sea somewhere between Johnston and Kwajalein islands in the central Pacific after radioing an SOS.

The plane normally carries up to seven men, but a Navy spokesman said it was not reported how many were on the missing craft.

Planes were being readied to sweep the area and two vessels were diverted to search.

Fleet of Ships Run Afoul of Shores and Shortages

NORFOLK, Va. (U-P)—Got troubles?

Consider the plight of one Norfolk shipping company operator, who has one ship ashore at Bermuda, another out of fuel and being towed in, two out of fuel and awaiting bunkers in Bermuda, two others returning to the Azores because of fuel shortages and all others running 3 to 10 days late.

There were 388,000 divorces in the U.S. in 1953.

With Rennel Dundee Lady Loses 28 Pounds

Rennel Dundee is the partner for the last of the Dundee family who remember the name Rennel for the loss they can't forget. Proper weight, better health, and an improved emotional and mental outlook add to the happiness of a couple. Come this pleasant note from Mrs. Charles Fink, 411 Tecumseh St., "Being a little over 1 foot tall and weighing 154 lbs. made me feel unattractive. So I decided to do something about it, chose Rennel as my reducing aid, and with its gentle laxative effect, the losing that weight was not a strain on my health. Instead I felt much better and more lively. My husband says I have become much more attractive since taking Rennel. I am grateful indeed to Rennel for a happier life."

You too can regain your pride, health and your natural figure. If you are value minded and Rennel is what you will ask your druggist for Liquid Rennel. Ask for free booklet. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for refund. Price $1.00. Inset on and be sure to get Rennel.

'Miracle' Drugs Studied in Plant Disease Control

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The use of antibiotic "miracle" drugs against plant diseases could cause as big a revolution in agriculture as it has in human medicine.

This is revealed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture following its recent announcement that a streptomycin-terramycin spray has been developed which effectively controls the costly pear blight.

The pear blight victory is considered the breakthrough in the new battle of the antibiotics against plant diseases. USDA, British and state agricultural experts all have launched major research projects in the field during the past 12 months.

John C. Dunegan, the USDA pathologist who did most of the work on the pear blight spray, says: "Several years ago I publicly lamented that plant pathologists did not have magic control materials like DDT which are possessed by our entomological colleagues. But the antibiotic materials offer possibilities of disease control we hardly dared dream of 10 years ago."

Attention of USDA experts was first directed to the possibility of antibiotics for plant diseases in 1930 by Dr. Alexander Fleming of England, discoverer of penicillin. English scientists had just begun exploring the field. But it has only been in the last 12 months that major studies have been launched on a wide variety of plant diseases.

High cost and limited supply of the drugs are problems in the picture, but not insurmountable. Last year the U. S. drug industry produced 746 tons of the five most-used antibiotics. Great expansion is possible, with the price coming down through mass production.

Further, only relatively small quantities of the drugs—about 38 grams in 100 gallons of water—are needed.

Some West Coast growers are expected to use the new pear spray next year on their commercial orchards. At the present price of about 20 cents per gram of the crude drug, it's estimated that it will cost about $68 per acre per season to apply.

That's economical for many growers because the old-type spray damaged the skin of the pears, forcing growers to sell at a lower price only to canners.

The effectiveness of the new spray is proved by a test with 600 Bartlett pear trees. On a group of unsprayed trees there were an average of nine infections in each tree, while in the treated trees only one infection in every six trees was found.

Several lesser known antibiotics have been tried successfully against apple tree diseases. A California test has shown that a bacterial canker of tomato plants is greatly reduced by soaking the tomato seeds in a streptomycin solution before planting. Certain potato seed diseases are being licked the same way.

In the topics studies are under way with an antibiotic called musarin for the control of various banana diseases.

Knudsens Plan Caribbean Cruise

By ETHEL TOMBRINK

MIAMI — While icy Lake Michigan waters toss in the wintry winds, Mr. and Mrs. Neise S. Knudsen will be sailing through tropical waters of the Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico.

The Knudsens, formerly of Pontiac, who make their home in Hollywood, Fla., will be aboard the SS Trade Wind when it pulls up anchor Jan. 29 and heads out through Government cut toward the Gulfstream.

During the 12-day cruise, the Knudsens and fellow passengers aboard the Trade Wind will see Haiti, Dominican Republic, Jamaica, Aruba, N. W. I., the northern coast of Colombia and the Panama Canal Zone.

Reason for the trip, if one needs a reason other than fun, is that Mr. Knudsen "needed a rest." He's just finished a hectic two-weeks as campaign manager for one of the candidates running for a place in the Florida legislature.

Expected in Hollywood soon are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Owen. The Stuart C. Cogdills of Bloomfield Hills are expected this weekend at the Sea View Hotel in Bal Harbour, just north of Miami Beach.

GM's annual Motorama will bring a group of Michiganders to Miami the first week in February and there'll be a round of parties for them.

Joining in the festivities will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Klingler of Delray Beach.

They'll be staying at the Golden Strand Hotel. Mr. Klingler, who retired last August as a GM vice president, is now in New York for the Motorama there.

So far this winter, "we've just been taking it easy," says Mrs. Klingler. Next month, they'll be welcoming their family — son, Harry Jr., and his wife and their youngsters, who live in Ann Arbor, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warner, of Birmingham.

Up in Fort Lauderdale, Mr. and Mrs. Donald U. Bathrick are entertaining house guests.

Early in February, they'll welcome Battle Creek friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Hawkes; and later, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Briggs Jr.

The Bathricks made frequent trips down to Miami Beach for Problems of discipline and human relations proved most popular as subjects for further discussion at a meeting of the Webster School PTA Wednesday evening.

More than half of the group of over a hundred parents and teachers expressed a preference to discuss the subject of discipline and guidance.

Other groups included human relations, sources of authority, development of citizenship skills, and community expectations.

Groups were organized for discussion at the next meeting on Feb. 16, under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. DeCou, Mrs. Elsie Welch, Mrs. Paul Gorman, Mrs. William Wright, Mrs. J. E. Jones and Mrs. Robert Jaggard.

By Volunteer Bureau Presidents' Tea Set Jan. 28

Invitations have been mailed out for the Presidents' Tea sponsored by Northern Oakland County's Central Volunteer Bureau. Birmingham Community House will be the setting for the Jan. 28 event.

Mrs. James Conway, director of Lansing's three-year-old volunteer bureau will speak. She will explain, to club presidents and organization leaders, the functions of such an organization and how it answers a definite need in a community.

The recently established Central Volunteer Bureau in this area, with offices in Pontiac serves as a clearing house for the volunteer needs of 20 social county and state agencies of the Northern Oakland area.

The advisory committee of this bureau expresses its feeling that volunteers perform vital work in community health, recreation and social service agencies. The bureau's purpose is to recruit, screen and channel such volunteer help to the places where it is specifically needed.

Junior League of Birmingham will assist the bureau with arrangements for the tea.

White Glove Right

Neatest look for a long sleeve-length, whether suit or coat, is the wristbone length white cotton glovelet. Washable, too, so it should always be snowy white.

Therefore this glamorous profession pays an average wage of $3,333.33 a year. And considering the really large sums paid the top writers in the U. S., this leaves an even lower sum for beginners and unknowns.

New Dry Milk Dissolves Fast

New processes now give budget-minded housewives dry milk that dissolves quickly in water, even when it's ice cold.

At a test session guests were given one-third of a cup of the dry milk granules and a glass of ice water to try mixing the beverage themselves.

The "milk" was ready to drink with a few stirs of a teaspoon.

Let Husband 'In On Things' in the Home Early; Makes Retirement Easier

Houses Need Personality Developed

By ANNE HEYWOOD
Sometimes, it seems to me, we tend to think of the home as woman's balliwick, and forget that the man deserves consideration, too, and that he does more than just pay the bills.

In this connection, I mentioned some time ago a letter from a woman whose husband was about to retire, and who was extremely worried over the idea of having him around all the time.

She was afraid they would get on each other's nerves. The other day I got a wonderful letter from Mrs. George H. Hinderer of Fort Wayne, Indiana, in reply to that column.

Says Mrs. Hinderer: "You say houses are balliwicks for women. I say that houses are balliwicks for women."

"A house becomes a home when it is shared and enjoyed by husband and wife alike; but many women are selfish and make it 'hers' instead of 'theirs.'"

"If women would only realize that home is 'his' as well as 'hers,' and should be enjoyed by both, they would not have the fear and dread of their husbands' retirement. It can be more 'theirs'."

retirement if they share tasks and pleasures together.

"I know whereof I speak. My mother and father had 18 lovely, happy years together after his retirement, until he died at nearly 81. They just shared everything. What sweeter time of life than the golden years; to find peace and contentment with the one you have lived with and loved so dearly?"

"My husband and I are praying for, and planning on, his retirement four years hence, so that we can share and enjoy retirement just as we have always shared and enjoyed our home."

If it weren't for the great geographical distance involved, I would love to get Mrs. Hinderer together with my earlier correspondent, the one who dreaded her husband's forthcoming retirement. And I think all of us can take a hint from her, and begin inviting our husbands into the home, so to speak, and letting them in on things.

Retirement need not be the big emotional upheaval it so often is, and the time to prepare is not after it, but in the years before!

Wants Public Statement of Her Beau's Affection

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD
"Dear Miss Woodward: I have recently moved to this small town and have started to run around with the teenagers from our church. I like one of the boys very much. He has told his parents, his very best friend and all the other boys that he likes me too."

He has told me that he liked me better than the other girls. But he will not admit it to the other girls. Is it because he doesn't really like me that he won't admit it to them?"

Can't you be content with hearing the good news direct from the source of supply? Doesn't it warm your heart to listen to him when he tells you he likes you best? Isn't it a boost to your ego to know that he confides in the boys and has even told his parents how he feels about you?

Why do you insist that he make a public statement before the feminine contingent? Can't they observe that he likes you best, likes to be where you are, seeks you out and shows you all his attention? Can't they believe what they hear from the other boys? Can't they take your word for it? And why does it matter to you so much that they should be convinced? Is your romance with this boy their business? Can't it exist without their knowledge, permission and approval? Can't it be so even if they don't believe it?

You know—and he knows—that you like each other. Any amount of public discussion will make it no more official.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I like him so much—but when anyone tells him I like him he doesn't believe it. If I liked someone else he'd flirt with me constantly. His brother likes me, but I don't like him. What can I do?"

Maybe he doesn't want to believe it. He knows his brother likes you and he'd rather hear, for his sake, that you like him. Maybe he doesn't want the responsibility of being liked by you.

Perhaps he enjoys flirting with you, but doesn't want to get involved in having you for his girl friend. If he doesn't want to be bothered with a girl, refusing to believe what he's told is an excellent defense.

So why say anything more about it? And why let your friends gossip in your behalf? Call off the dogs—and go go quietly about the business of showing him that you enjoy him, admire him, find him attractive. He may not believe what he hears—but eventually he'll have to believe what he sees!

Hearts and flowers form a gay centerpiece for this intimate valentine party table set in appropriate pastels with lovely pin and gray design on gray circular mats. Old fashioned nosegays for the girls and boutonnières for the boys add a romantic note atop each napkin.

About Themselves

McBride Turns Against Telling Friends Truths

By MARY MARGARET MCBRIDE
I certainly know better, but she was so wistful, so eager, so sincere.

"Tell me," she pleaded, "what is the matter with me? Tell me what I do that makes everything work out so badly."

So I told her—all the things I had been thinking and wanting, I guess, to tell her for a long time. I explained painstakingly my ideas about why her life is in constant turmoil, why her love affairs blow up before they really get started. I must have done a good, thorough job, too, for she no longer is a friend.

Now I am simply aghast at myself. Long ago, when I was a young boarding school girl, I vowed that never, never would I play truth against anyone. I was so sure of my faith, I called it, and we sat around in a circle taking turns at being victim and victimizer.

Usually, we ended in tears and sometimes hysterics. More than once I ran sobbing off to my room, hating everybody, and myself most of all because they'd told me I was selfish and stubborn and had a bad temper, all of which I knew to be true.

I was just as enthusiastic as anybody, though, about telling other people what was wrong with them. I never made a friend that way and lost several. So I know that the truth game is one that ought not to be played, even on invitations.

No matter how hard the Daisies and the Mays of this world plead for counsel and a frank reading, they really don't want it—and if you give it to them, the result is inevitably dislike and dislike if not hatred.

I must say I felt I had been rather flattered by Anne, though. I said that I thought the reason behind her apparent failures in career and love was that she doesn't want either enough to concentrate on getting it.

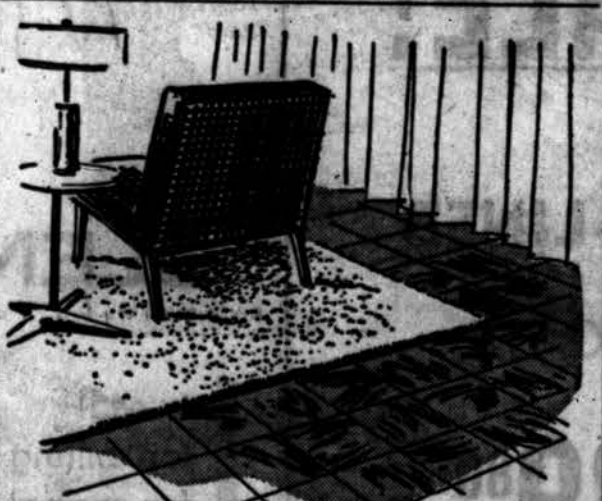

I said I considered her well-dressed, intelligent, the possessor of a good sense of humor and fine conversational ability even though she seemed to me slightly, fickle and often foolish. I reinforced this by pointing out examples of her lack of sustained interest in any one job or any one man.

"Just when it comes time for a job to be permanent or a gentleman to produce a ring, you start looking beyond," I pronounced oracularly. It was then that she turned cold and we terminated the session.

As I look back on the conversation, I believe I was not as reluctant as I thought about accepting her invitation to tell her what was wrong. Apparently I never learn.

Many Problems Solved With Versatile New Tile

By ELIZABETH HEYNER
Asphalt tile, rubber tile, and the new vinyl tile, find a place in any room in the house today. They not only solve problems, but have become a fashion, which answers Mrs. J. M.'s question. She's concerned about style as well as practicality, and writes, "Wall-to-wall carpet simply isn't the thing for a house that holds four small children. We plan to put down asphalt tile in the other rooms before we move into a house we just bought, but we are wondering if it can also be used in the living room. We'd like to use cotton rugs on it that can be taken up and washed. We'd really like a smart room we can be proud of but believe it should be planned so the children can enjoy it too."

That's one of the wonderful things about today's fashions for the home, Mrs. M. They can be smart and still be so practical. The so-called resilient floor coverings are very much in style and quite appropriate to the kind of living room you want, which, because every member of the family can enjoy it, is the best kind.

Automatic Heat Plant Can Be Safe

By HUBBARD COBB
Your modern furnace or boiler has been carefully designed to make it as safe a piece of equipment as possible. It is fitted with all sorts of safety devices so that if any trouble occurs in the system, nothing serious can happen.

Many homes, however, don't have modern heating or boilers that are many years old and many were at one time hand-fired jobs that have been converted into automatic systems through the addition of a burner and a thermostat.

Every automatic heating system should have a stack switch which is mounted on the smoke pipe that runs from the furnace to the boiler. The purpose of this switch is to shut off the burner should it fail to ignite after a certain number of seconds of operation.

If there is no such switch there is a chance that the burner will pump a good quantity of oil into the burner which, if it did suddenly ignite, might blow off the door of the boiler or furnace.

Hot water and steam boilers should have a low water limit switch which will prevent the burner going into operation if the level of the water in the boiler is below the minimum required, and steam systems should have a pressure switch which will turn off the burner should the pressure of the steam in the boiler become too great.

Of course, both steam and hot water boilers should be fitted with a mechanical safety valve which will open up if the pressure becomes too great.

Not Jealous but Friends Annoy Her

Good-Natured Hint May Cease Re-Hash of Bachelor Days

By EMILY POST
A letter tells me: "I have recently married and have come here in my husband's hometown to live. I am a stranger here and the only people I know are my husband's friends of whom there are many."

These friends come to our house often and whenever they get together, all they do is talk about the good times they used to have and about my husband's old girl friends, and where they went and what they did.

It is not that I am jealous, but I am beginning to feel that I'm the cause of his good times coming to an end. I am afraid some night I am going to say something downright rude if you don't come to my aid and tell me how to handle this situation tactfully."

Say good-naturedly, "Now look here, we've heard enough about John's happy bachelor days for tonight, now let's talk about when I'm in the picture."

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have been invited to a dinner party at the house of his employer. I would like to know how long before dinner we are expected to arrive, and how long do we stay after dinner is over. They are very formal people and this will be our first visit to their house.

You should arrive on the stroke of the hour set for dinner, and stay about an hour after dinner. It would be rude to leave sooner than that.

When everyone is having a very good time and conversation is gay and amusing, people naturally stay on. On the other hand, if the conversation has lagged, one should not stay longer than the conventional time.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have always been under the impression that in order for a man to use Jr., after his name he had to have his father's full name. The man in question has a different middle he claims that as long as their name from that of his father, but first names are the same he is Jr. Which one of us is right?

You are right. The suffix Jr. is used only when the names are identical.

If you need slimming—

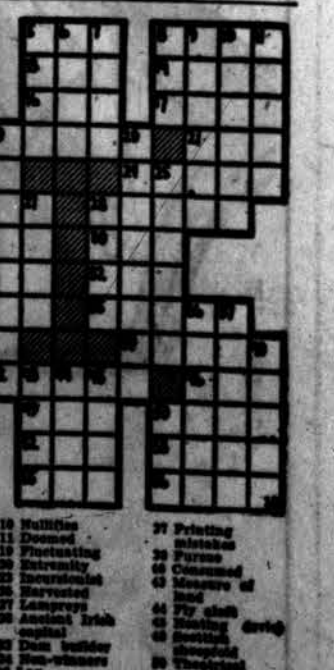

Best silhouette and details while the cellulite can take away pounds. Avoid slouching or flexing.

Mrs. N. S.—In sharp contrast to the paper doll silhouette is the linear silhouette which gives the impression of extra length. Here slim, with easy longwaisted look to the bodice and nice neckline detail, all kept inside the figure outline.

Eyebrows Natural

When penciling your eyebrows, remember that a pointed eyebrow gives you a slightly quizzical look, and a foreboded brow adds width to the forehead. In general, the fashion trend for eyebrows is a generous, natural-looking eyebrow.

Paper Plates Good Media

Here is a fish that you can make to hang in your room and I'll bet that Mother would like one, too. It is fun to make presents for Mother throughout the year, you don't need to wait for a special day. These little fish are made from paper plates and construction paper. Look at the first one. Use the plate just as it is, only cut away the mouth part. The fins are cut from colored construction paper and pasted on.

Follow the outline of these for yours. Ink on eyes and markings. The second fish has the plate cut away to form a mouth. Paint on folds, eyes, even scales. See how the fins differ in the two fish. Look at some fish pictures for other ideas. These can be thumb tacked to the wall or hung with string so that they seem to "float" in space. Make several pairs.

You can also hang two or three of these from the same length of string and have a mobile. TRY IT!

Ike Starts Third Year in Office

Doctor Says President in Excellent Health for Man of 64

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower started his third year in office today and his physician declared "he's in excellent health" for a man 64 years old.

Eisenhower scheduled only one official engagement for the day—the regular weekly meeting with the National Security Council. The discussion there was likely to deal in part with attacks by the Chinese Reds on the island outposts of Nationalist China.

Such problems may have been what the chief executive had in mind in telling a news conference yesterday that "like everything the presidency is not a matter of wholly untroubled blessings."

He made the remark with a smile when asked how he likes his job after two years.

He laughed off a new attempt to find out whether he will seek re-election in 1956. He called it "a loaded question."

His doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said in an interview: "I would say he is in excellent health for a man of his age. He doesn't show as much wear and tear as one would expect in the light of the serious way he takes his responsibilities."

"Actually, there has been very little change in his physical condition during the last two years, and it was very good when he was inaugurated."

Snyder said the President's weight fluctuated between 172 and 180 pounds and "usually has been about 176"—only about four pounds more than he weighed when he played football at West Point more than 40 years ago.

Snyder's only complaint was that Eisenhower "doesn't get enough exercise to satisfy me—not nearly enough since he got back from Colorado last October."

Peron Appears Unhurt by Anti-Catholic Actions

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A series of actions by President Juan D. Peron has lessened the power of the Roman Catholic Church in several aspects of Argentine affairs. But there is no noticeable evidence, as of today, that Peron's actions have weakened the support of his followers, most of them Catholics.

He has been battling the clergy openly for about three months, and so far has won all the battles. He started it because religious groups, apparently counting on support of the Catholic Church, decided to form a Christian Democratic party like those that have won widespread support in Italy and Germany since the last war.

If such a party got an effective start in a predominantly Catholic country like Argentina, it might one day effectively challenge Peron's own Peronista party, Peron recognized the threat when less discerning politicians had not yet sensed it. Peron saw that such a party could oppose him on some parts of his program that the church did not like. He was ready to legalize divorces and reopen houses of prostitution; and he already had antagonized the Catholic hierarchy by giving illegitimate children the same rights as legitimate children in Argentina.

Ten priests were arrested for causing disturbances or for disrespect of the president. One priest served 30 days in jail, two others were placed under house arrest for five days and one was fined 100 pesos (about $7).

The church's traditional right to appoint teachers of religious education was canceled. Priests serving in schools were discharged. Churches were denied the right to hold outdoor meetings or march in processions. Two religious programs on Buenos Aires radio stations were cut off the air.

In a few days, Congress obediently legalized divorce, and Peron by decree authorized houses of prostitution.

The church itself has taken a carefully moderate position. The cardinals and bishops issued two pastoral letters which were read in all Argentine churches defending the clergy from charges of interfering in political affairs. They also wrote Peron urging him to veto the divorce law, but he signed it just the same.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano has published editorials severely critical of Peron's stand.

Plan Group Starts County Road File

The Oakland County Plan Commission is starting a file to contain all data pertaining to county roads, according to Highway Engineer Robert A. Larson.

Information on traffic counts, high-accident points, congested streets and intersections plus right-of-way widths will be kept in the file, Larson explained.

"As the information builds up, it will be available to interested persons and all local county governmental units to use in their own planning," said Larson.

Romance Blooms for Nancy Sinatra, Bing's Youngest

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Crooner Frank Sinatra says his 14-year-old daughter Nancy's favorite boy friend—at the moment—is Bing Crosby's youngest son, Lindsay.

"Lindsay's been paying her so much attention that Mr. Crosby and I have looked at the possibility of a merger," Sinatra quipped at a press conference here yesterday.

The singer is now on tour in Australia. Questioned about the reported "romance," Sinatra said it started a couple of months ago. He said Crosby phoned him one day to ask if he intended to "keep on barking into a microphone, making films and working for the next 15 years."

"I told him I supposed so and asked him why," Sinatra said, quoting Crosby as replying: "Well, my youngest son Lindsay—he's about 15—is stuck on your daughter. He's been walking around with sheep eyes for weeks and I want to be sure of his future."

Millionaire Helps Actors Shed Physical Liabilities

NEW YORK (INS) — The girl had a big talent, everyone agreed on that, but it wasn't big enough to make people forget the birthmark that splashed like a bitter berry stain across her face. She was going nowhere in show business.

Then, six months ago, the millionaire heard about her. The average man might have said "tough" and let it go. But this was an unusual man, as will be pointed out in a moment, and so within three weeks the girl was out of a hospital with a new, flawless face.

The plastic surgeon who removed the berry stain had even trimmed down her too-full nose.

Today the girl is on her way, getting second billing in a famous musical show. Her name can't be revealed because only two handfuls of friends know that she was once homely, and she would rather keep it that way.

But the millionaire must be exposed because most of the wonder that touched her also touched him, and now he wants to perform more and fancier miracles.

"Show business is tough enough to break into, without having the added problem of a physical handicap," explained Dr. John Myers in a brusque, don't-call-me-a-Santa-Claus kind of voice. "I am a theater lover and a TV fan, and I have money to spare. What is more logical than my helping people with talent and troubles?"

So the simple give-away offer of the day is this: Anyone with show business talent and a physical liability—he is a crooked nose, a speech defect, a correctable posture problem—is invited to state his case. If it is worthy, Dr. Myers will pick up the tab for whatever medical repairs or transformation is required.

He doesn't want, personally, to meet his would-be beneficiaries, however. "I might be tempted to judge, myself, which would be worthy of help and which would not. Since I really know very little about show business, I'm not qualified to do that," he says.

Anyone applying for the free Cinderella offer, therefore, must contact Clarence Derwent, producer-president of ANTA (American National Theater and Academy). Derwent will decide who is deserving. John Myers will foot the bill.

Feeding the bills is an old habit with the good doctor. For years he has been doing out dollars surreptitiously, like they were so many hot potatoes to be gotten rid of as rapidly as possible.

On the surface, Dr. Myers is a graying, 55-year-old businessman with a wife and two daughters (one of them is the rising red-haired starlet, Tina Louise) and a pleasant apartment on 5th Ave. His title, "Dr.," is legitimate. He was a prominent oral surgeon in London until, protesting the socialized medicine aspect of doctors' practices, he came to the U. S. in 1938, and became vice president of the American Flange and Manufacturing Co., Inc.

Before he knew it, what with investments on the side, he was—in a neat, unobtrusive way—filthy rich. So he set up a John Myers Foundation to distribute his excess money. Art is Dr. Myers' hobby, so one way the foundation gets rid of money is to donate 20 full art scholarships annually to young talents.

It also contributes to more than 100 charities, and is responsible for bailing more than 200 minor offenders out of jail, finding them jobs and seeing to it that they have every chance to become respected members of society.

But of all his charities, Dr. Myers is most excited about the idea of helping theater folk.

"As a former surgeon," he explains, "I look at people in the

Dem Squeeze Removes Safety Group Chairman

LANSING (AP) — The new Williams administration has squeezed the state school chief out as chairman of the state Safety Commission.

Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, resigned the chairmanship to which he was elected Dec. 10 in one of the last moves of the outgoing Republican administration.

Dr. Taylor, a Republican, withdrew from the job after Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, a Democrat, ruled that his election had been illegal.

Tree Wins Court Fight Over Hanging Branches

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—A tree won a state supreme court battle here and saved itself from destruction.

The tree is a 40-foot high catalpa growing on the property of Mrs. Pearl Winstel. Neighbors contended that the tree had become a nuisance, its branches damaging a garage roof and its roots causing cracks in the garage wall and floor.

The neighbors brought suit to have the tree removed but an official referee, Paul J. Batt, ruled that "it is the law that overhanging branches, not poisonous or noxious in nature, are not a nuisance per se."

Cites Growth by Township Governments

LANSING (AP)—Joseph A. Parisi Jr. of Kalamazoo, president of the Michigan Township Association, told his delegates yesterday just how big township government in Michigan is.

He said a survey made by the three-year-old association showed that almost 80,000 persons participated in township government, either on a paid or volunteer basis. He said:

There are 16,735 elected officials in the 1,374 Michigan townships and 19,546 appointed officials.

There are approximately 801 regularly organized volunteer township fire departments with 20,250 firemen and 1,015 pieces of equipment.

There are 164 township police departments ranging from those with one cruiser and an officer to those with 15 patrol cars and 60 officers.

There are more than 14,500 full-time and part-time township employees in more than 600 townships.

More than 7,500 citizens serve on township election boards.

"I wonder if the critics who have referred to us as 'horse and buggy' every took the trouble to get some of these facts," Parisi said.

It is estimated that it requires at least twice as much power to crank a gasoline engine at 10 degrees temperature as at normal summer temperatures of 80 degrees or more.

The South African gold-mining industry is the largest in the world.

WEST SCARBOROUGH, Me. (UP)—When Roy Waterman set aside a quiet plot on his 100-acre farm as a burial ground for the family's pets, he didn't realize it would become an institution.

Friends from all over southern Maine have been burying their deceased pets in the plot on the bank of a brook near a stand of pine.

TV in 1880—Almost

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP)—Three men named Ayrton, Perry, and Carey invented a sort of television set in 1880, according to General Electric researchers. Their camera had a lens and a bank of selenium cells. It almost worked, too.

Kraut Will Help Trim Waistline

Good Teammate for Swiss Steak

Plain, but Filling Meal Is Perfect Answer to Too Much Gorging

If hearty holiday meals have added inches to your waistline, here's a New Year's resolution that will keep your weight in check. To avoid the need for long-term diets later, plan to eat a plain but filling meal after every one that has been excessive.

Tangy sauerkraut is an ideal food for cutting down your calorie count. One serving provides only 30 calories, and its wholesome, salty flavor is perfect for palates fatigued by high-style foods.

You'll feel better and be healthier, too, if you make a habit of having a simple kraut dish "the evening after the day before."

Kraut Swiss Steak
1 pound lean round steak, 1/4-inch thick
Salt and pepper
1 No. 3 can sauerkraut
1 cup tomato juice
1 medium-sized onion, sliced

Place steak on broiler rack; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Broil 3 to 4 inches from heat five minutes on each side, or until browned.

Place browned steak in skillet; add undrained sauerkraut, tomato juice and onion slices. Cover and cook over low heat 1 hour and 30 minutes, or until tender. Makes four servings.

Calories per serving equals 312.5.

Steam Sponge Cake if It's Baked Too Stiff

If you have baked your sheet sponge cake too slowly and it is too stiff for rolling up neatly, you may be able to remedy the trouble this way.

Cover a very hot baking sheet with a wet cloth; place a sheet of paper on top of the cloth and the sponge cake on top of the paper. After a minute or so the cake will be steamed enough so it can probably be rolled up with ease.

KRAUT SWISS STEAK—Tasty kraut with a thick wheat muffin and a juicy fresh orange and apple salad complete this healthful meal.

Ham and Yams Just Naturally Belong Together

Ham in almost any form seems to just naturally call for yams. These are as chummy a twosome as ribs roast or beef with oven-browned potatoes or steak with French fries.

When baking a half ham, to make sure it's completely tender, allow 25 minutes per pound. (If you know that the ham you've bought is a ready-to-eat, completely cooked one, it will require only 14 minutes per pound.)

When serving ham with yams, there are some good combinations:

Baked ham—Candied sweet potatoes; whipped yams baked with marshmallows.

Broiled ham slices—Baked yams; baked peach halves filled with whipped spiced yams.

Ham loaf—Scalloped yams with apples or pineapple.

Spread Seasoned Beef on Buns, Then Broil

Add various seasonings to ground beef—horseradish, prepared mustard, grated onion or crushed garlic and catsup. Spread the cut sides of hamburger buns with the meat mixture, making sure it covers the edges of the roll.

Broil several inches from high heat until meat is done as much as desired. Watch carefully so the meat won't be overdone. You can spread six hamburger buns with a pound of meat this way.

Winesap Apples Have Good Baking Qualities

Washington Winesap apples are good bakers because they hold their shape and texture and their characteristic spicy flavor. For a treat next time you're baking, moisten mincemeat with a small amount of orange juice. Fill the centers of the cored apples with the mixture and bake as usual. Serve warm, or chilled with whipped cream cheese.

Instant Apple Dessert for two is made by slicing two Winesap apples about a quarter-inch thick. Fry the apple slices slowly in 2 tablespoons of butter for 5 to 10 minutes. Sprinkle with sugar and serve with cream.

Hot Baked Bananas Spark Any Menu

An easy dish is whole baked bananas. These are made by peeling firm bananas, those that have all-yellow or slightly green-tinged peel, and placing the whole bananas into a well-greased shallow baking dish.

The bananas are brushed well with melted butter or margarine, and sprinkled lightly with salt. Then they are baked in a very hot oven (450 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes, or until tender.

The test for doneness is that the bananas can be pierced easily with a fork. These baked bananas are delicious to serve hot as a vegetable with almost any meal combination, or as a dessert, topped with cream, syrup or hot fruit sauce.

Bananas have important nutrition in their well-rounded supply of vitamins, essential minerals and their high food energy. You'll find them an easy asset for your winter meals.

Luncheon Sandwich

Want a good luncheon sandwich? Brown thin small slices of cooked ham in a little butter or margarine in a skillet. Pile the browned ham between the halves of a toasted buttered hamburger roll along with some pickle relish.

Serve Over Turkey

Mix a can of condensed cream of mushroom soup with a third cup of milk and curry powder to taste. Serve over slices of leftover turkey arranged on buttered toast.

LEMON LEAF CAKE—Cake and frosting, both made from a mix, are shown here—a tempting sight. Cake mixes are "old hat" to the homemaker these days; but a seven-minute type of frosting from a box is new. It stays soft, permitting a beginner to experiment with making pretty decorations.

Lemon Leaf Cake Made Entirely With Easy Mixes

Even if you've never made a cake before, you can make one as beautiful as this, and with little time and trouble. It's hard to believe, but it's true.

One package of yellow cake mix and one package of a new product, an instant frosting mix, are the items you will use. Here's how to make a lovely cake this new easy way.

Following package directions, bake two lemon-flavored layers (see recipe below). When cool, put the layers together and frost top and sides with a fluffy egg-white-type frosting made with this new instant frosting mix.

The mix requires only cold water and a little beating to produce lovely fluffy frosting—so quick and easy that even a child can do it with complete success. Once you've tried it, you will be looking for reasons for making a cake.

Lemon Leaf Cake
 1/4 cup cold water
 1 package instant frosting mix
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
 Green food coloring
 2 round 8-inch lemon cake layers

Pour cold water into a deep 1 1/2-quart mixing bowl. Add contents of Bag 1 from the frosting mix package. Beat with egg beater or at the highest speed of electric beater until stiff peaks are formed.

when beater is raised. Scrape bowl occasionally. If beaten mixture fills the bowl, transfer to larger bowl.

Add contents of Bag 2. Mix slowly; then beat at highest speed until frosting is smooth, glossy, and thick enough to spread. Add vanilla and lemon extract and beat just until blended.

Set aside about two-thirds cup of the frosting to make leaf design. Spread remaining frosting between layers and over top and sides of cake.

Add a few drops green coloring to the reserved frosting and fold it gently to tint a pale green. Swirl ovals of the tinted frosting, evenly spaced, around the sides of frosted cake, using about 1 tablespoon for each leaf. Flatten slightly with a spoon.

Then, with point of a knife, pull through each oval to make a graceful leaf design and to connect leaves. If desired, outline leaves and draw in veins, using a toothpick dipped in green coloring.

Make cake from 1 package of yellow cake mix; follow package directions and add 1 tablespoon rind with the last addition of liquid.

Potatoes, Liver Are Teammates

Maybe it's true that "do-it-yourself" schemes are finding favor everywhere but in the kitchen.

Homemakers today are given a wide choice of partially prepared foods that require the minimum time devoted to home preparation. These labor-savers have been wholeheartedly embraced by the ladies.

However, the old-time one-dish meal has long been a favorite of the busy cook who wants freedom from the tyranny of the kitchen... and it continues to hold its place as a quick and easy way to get a good meal on the table.

Here's one... a hearty winter dish that will find special favor with the menfolks of the family. It's as easily made as plain scalloped potatoes but the body-building liver makes it a complete one-dish meal.

Packed full of proteins, minerals and vitamins, it makes good eating of the protective foods needed to keep health and energy high during the cold season. Topped off with a tossed salad, it's real he-man fare.

Scalloped Liver and Potatoes

3 slices bacon
 1 pound liver, sliced thin
 Flour
 4 medium potatoes
 1 small onion, minced
 Salt and pepper
 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
 1 1/2 cups milk

Fry bacon until crisp, remove from pan and drain. Dip liver slices in flour and brown lightly in bacon fat remaining in pan. Pare potatoes and slice thin.

In a greased baking pan place a layer of raw potatoes, sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper; add a dash of garlic salt, some of liver slices, bits of crisp bacon and minced onion. Continue layers until all ingredients are used, ending with top layer of potatoes.

Pour in milk. Cover and bake one hour in moderate oven (350 degrees) or until potatoes are tender. During last few minutes of cooking, remove cover and allow potatoes to brown on top.

Rice Croquettes Sparked by Lemon

A record rice crop in the United States this year is an invitation to try this tempting new recipe.

Lemon Rice Croquettes

1 cup cooked rice
 1/4 cup milk
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1 teaspoon salt
 Grated lemon peel
 2 eggs
 1 tablespoon water

Combine the rice with milk, sugar, salt, lemon peel and one beaten egg. When the mixture is cold, shape it into cylinders or pyramids and roll these in the remaining egg which has been diluted with water.

Then roll them in bread crumbs or rolled crackers and fry them in hot deep fat until they are brown. The recipe serves three, and these croquettes are good luncheon teammates for a green salad and crisp bacon.

Thaw Frozen Meat for Uniform Cooking

If you want frozen meat to be uniformly cooked, thaw it before putting it into the oven, broiler, skillet or kettle.

But be sure to cook it as soon as it is defrosted so you won't lose good meat juices.

Fill toast cups with creamed oysters and garnished with sliced hard-cooked egg. Serve with cooked green peas and a salad.

Food Editor Learns Much as Judge in Pie Contest

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Even though National Cherry Week doesn't come for nearly a month, we want to discuss cherry pies today. The reason is that we spent most of last Saturday at Waterford High School, helping judge the annual Cherry Pie contest for Oakland county girls.

Twelve girls arrived early, loaded down with the ingredients for their pie making. We watched them work, and a most efficient group they were! I wonder how many of us more experienced homemakers get all our equipment out ahead of time and arrange it in the manner that will be most labor-saving.

Not until after lunch could the pies be judged, as they had to cool in order for us to note the consistency of the filling.

The results were interesting. Some we could see at a glance had no chance of placing in the winning group; they were burned—the filling was too skimpy for the size of the crust—the pastry looked gummy—the filling was so thick it practically stood alone.

It was those other ones that gave us a difficult hour. We had to taste a bit from every pie, had to decide whether the crust was presentable, the filling tasty and the general appearance good. Did you ever eat twelve pieces of pie, even little pieces? Some, of course, we had to taste several times.

Although Beth Rose (the first place winner shown in the above picture) baked her pie at 350 degrees for the entire time, most cookbooks in the past have suggested 450 degrees for the first ten minutes, then 350 for the rest of the time. Some of the girls used 475 degrees at first; that definitely was too high and resulted in a burned crust. Although the new edition of the Better Homes and Gardens cookbook uses 400 degrees the entire time for all its fruit pies, I am sticking to the 450-350 routine.

There must be some thickening agent in a cherry pie or the filling will run all over when it is cut. One girl used tapioca, letting it stand with the cherries, juice and sugar while she made her crust. This type of filling must be thoroughly cooled before the filling is set.

All the other girls used cornstarch or flour to thicken their fillings. Some cooked the cherries, others cooked only the juice, then added the cherries. Cornstarch seems to give a more glazed appearance to the finished pie.

Personal preference naturally is the deciding factor in flavoring the filling. But we judges agreed that the filling should not be too sweet, that it should have a distinctive cherry flavor, and should have an attractive color. A few drops of almond extract intensifies the cherry flavor; a few drops of red food color improves the color. Take it easy, for too much coloring makes the pie look artificial.

A pastry wheel makes attractive looking strips for the lattice crust that was required on all the contest pies. Those girls who did not have this gadget managed well. Beth Rose twisted the strips for her lattice. Others just wove the pastry like a basket. Looks do count, but it is taste that is the final deciding factor.

I learned a great deal from judging this contest. I shall be more critical of my own cherry pies now. I intend to experiment with the various kinds of thickening.

We know the girls benefited. Those who failed to place this year are encouraged to try again next year. It is only through practice that we learn to do anything well. Making good cherry pie is no exception.

1 Box of Mix, 2 Cakes

Bake a package of cake mix in two layers. Split one layer in half to make two thin layers and sandwich together with prepared packaged vanilla pudding; top with chocolate frosting. Top the remaining cake layer with penuche frosting and save for another meal.

Top Peach Cobbler With Cheese Pastry

The cheese topping of this cobbler makes a fine contrast to the fruit.

Peach Cobbler
1 No. 2½ can cling peach slices
1-3 cup sugar
¼ cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
Salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup shortening
¾ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
1-3 cup milk

Turn peaches and syrup into 8-inch round baking dish. Mix sugar, cornstarch, cinnamon and one-eighth teaspoon salt well; sprinkle over fruit. Dot with butter. Sift together flour, baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Cut in shortening; stir in cheese; add milk; mix well. Pat or roll on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth to fit top of dish. Cut slashes in top to allow steam to escape. Bake in hot (400) oven about 30 minutes. Serve warm. Makes six servings.

TOP PASTRY COOK—Fifteen-year-old Beth Lorraine Rose of North Cass Lake road won top honors in the Oakland County Cherry Pie Contest judges to see and to taste.

A package of frozen strawberries will dress up some dishes of vanilla pudding when you have unexpected company.

Cereal Included in Liver Patties

Have you tried the quick-cooking rice cereal as a thickener for your meat patties and meat loaves?

Here is a savory liver recipe that we think you'll like... easy and simply to make and not expensive. Serve the patties with your favorite tomato sauce... or garnish with a few strips of bacon.

Liver Patties

1 pound beef liver
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon thyme
½ cup quick-cooking rice cereal

Cover liver with boiling water and let stand five minutes. Drain well. Remove skin and any tubes. Put liver through food chopper. Melt fat over moderate heat in top of double boiler. Add onion and let cook one minute over direct heat. Add parsley, milk and seasonings. Place over boiling water and heat thoroughly.

Sprinkle in rice cereal. Cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Let cook five minutes more, stirring frequently. Remove from heat and add the chopped beef liver.

Mix thoroughly. Chill in refrigerator until at least lukewarm. Shape into patties and brown under broiler, or in small amount of fat in frying pan. Serve immediately. Yield: Four servings.

Sweetbread Sauce Served on Spaghetti

Older folk need nourishing food that is easily eaten and digested. Tender creamed sweetbreads on spaghetti with carrots and peas makes an appetizing and colorful meal for veteran gourmets.

Creamed Sweetbreads and Spaghetti

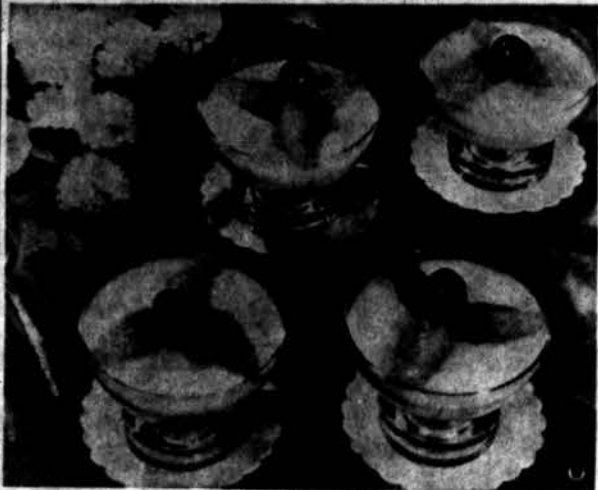

1 1/2 pounds veal sweetbreads
Salt and pepper
3 tablespoons bacon drippings
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1 cup chicken stock or bouillon
1 cup milk
1/4 cup sherry
1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup carrot
1/2 cup peas
1/2 cup spaghetti
Chopped parsley

Clean sweetbreads and remove membrane; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Heat fat over medium heat. Add sweetbreads and cook until well browned on all sides; stir in flour.

Add stock or bouillon and milk; cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Stir in sherry. Cover and continue cooking 30 to 40 minutes.

About 10 minutes before sauce is done, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

Drain in colander. Turn cooked spaghetti onto serving dish and pour sauce over spaghetti. Makes four to six servings.

VANILLA-ORANGE PUDDING—This dessert will not only appeal to the family but will also give each member valuable additional milk in the day's diet. Nonfat dry milk is added to vanilla pudding mix. Before serving, orange wedges are folded in and added for decoration.

Yolk Color Unimportant

The flavor and nutritive value of an egg yolk are not affected by the color of the yolk. Color is determined by heredity and some feeds eaten by the hen.

New filling for old-fashioned sponge-cake roll: Chop figs and dates fine and mix with currant jelly.

Oranges Enrich Vanilla Pudding

"What's for dessert?" For the members of the family who have no waistline worries that is an all-important question.

Taking advantage of that, mothers can easily slip in a little extra food value by serving prepared puddings made with additional non-fat dry milk.

During this season of abundant supplies of citrus fruit, you will want to use them often. In this recipe, orange wedges are not only folded into the pudding but also provide top decoration.

Vanilla-Orange Pudding
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk
1 (3 1/2 ounce) package vanilla pudding mix
2 cups water
1/2 cup orange sections

Combine nonfat dry milk powder with vanilla pudding mix. Gradually stir in water; blend well. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened, about five minutes.

Fold in orange sections. Pour into individual serving dishes. Chill. Makes four to six servings.

Salad Features Wine Flavoring

A molded salad combining the refreshing flavor of golden pineapple, grapes and apricots in a wine-flavored gelatin sounds just right for party menus, doesn't it?

Pineapple-Wine Salad Mold is a perfect salad for gala dinners and buffet suppers featuring turkey or baked ham. It isn't a tricky salad to make, yet it looks exceptionally festive and fits almost any menu.

This colorful salad is full of textural contrasts molded with lime gelatin.

Make-ahead Pineapple-Wine Salad Mold is most attractive when garnished with watercress, halved pineapple slices and grapes. Serve it with sour cream dressing or one of half honey and half lemon juice.

Pineapple-Wine Salad Mold
1 (No. 2) can pineapple chunks
Cold water
2 packages lime-flavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups sherry wine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 1/2 cups seedless or seeded, halved grapes
8 small canned apricot halves
1 cup thick sour cream
Salad greens

Drain syrup from pineapple. Add enough water to it to make 2 cups liquid. Heat to boiling. Pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Blend in sherry and lemon juice.

Chill until thickened but not yet firm. Carefully stir in grapes, drained pineapple and apricots. Rinse a tall 6-cup or 8-inch ring mold in cold water. Spoon in fruit gelatin leaving about 1 cup in bowl.

Fold sour cream into remaining gelatin. Spoon evenly over nearly firm mixture in mold. Chill until firm mixture in mold. Chill until watercress or other greens. Decorate with pineapple rings and grape clusters.

Serve with a sour cream dressing or one of half honey, half lemon juice. Serves 8 to 10.

To Store Pimientos

Here's a pointer about storing pimientos: Opened canned pimientos will keep almost indefinitely if completely covered with water and refrigerated in a glass jar.

Lemon Eggnog Will Bring Kids Home in Hurry

When hungry youngsters come home from school, you want to fix them something good, quick and nutritious. They'll love this at home after-school snack as much as stopping at the soda fountain if you fix them lemonade eggnog and serve it with cookies and a sandwich.

A lemonade eggnog is refreshing, healthful with vitamin C, and so easy to make when you use frozen concentrate for lemonade.

With the lemonade eggnog serve a peanut butter sandwich. Make the eggnog in an electric blender.

Lemonade Eggnog

Snowball Peaks Brighten Menu

Snowball Peaks are a quick dessert to make to brighten winter menus.

This delectable dessert begins with cookbook quality pink snowballs, one of the many 10 cent treats available at your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department.

When you see snowballs in their transparent wrappers, you see petal pink marshmallow twins covered with fine-shredded coconut. When you cut into them you find luscious chocolate cake all the way through.

To make Snowball Peaks, cut tops from snowballs, slanting the knife toward the center. Lift out the "peak." Fill the centers with chocolate pudding, either your own, made from your favorite recipe, or one made with a pudding mix, or one of the new instant puddings.

Fill well, letting the pudding run over the sides of the snowball. Press "peaks" into place, peak side up.

You'll find Snowball Peaks such a good tasting dessert and so eye-appealing that you'll choose it for many guest occasions as well as family meals.

2 cups water

Brown pork chops in heated shortening. Drain off excess fat, reserving 1 tablespoon.

Cook onions in the 1 tablespoon of drippings until soft but not browned. Remove from heat. Combine with remaining ingredients and pour into 2-quart casserole.

Arrange pork chops on top. Cover. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 45 minutes, or until rice and pork chops are tender. Yields six servings.

Most Fish Rate High in Protein, Low in Calories

The new government booklet, "Composition of Cooked Fish Dishes," which lists the nutritional content of 161 fish dishes, re-emphasizes the fact that fish and shellfish are high in protein and comparatively low in calories.

The booklet, compiled by Charles F. Lee, Fish and Wildlife Service chemical engineer, with the assistance of FWS home economists, may be obtained for 25 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

"The energy value per 100 grams of the fish dishes," Lee says in his summary, "ranged from about 70 or 75 calories for some chowders to 350 calories for pastries, fritters and a few other dishes."

He goes on to say, "The carbohydrate content of fish dishes is determined entirely by the non-fish ingredients since, with the exception of oysters and other shell fish containing glycogen, fish contain virtually no carbohydrates."

These facts, the National Fisheries Institute comments, makes fish dishes of especial interest to dieters and this book of value in planning menus for them.

For example, haddock fillets in a mustard sauce provide only 145 calories a serving; the following recipe for cod fillets baked in a Spanish sauce contains only 150 calories a serving.

Cod Fillets Baked in Spanish Sauce
2 pounds cod fillets
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or other fat, melted
1/2 cup tomato sauce
1/2 cup canned tomatoes
1 whole clove
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Dash pepper
1 bay leaf

Cook onion in butter until tender. Blend in flour. Add remaining ingredients except fillets, and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Remove bay leaf and clove.

Arrange fillets in a well-greased shallow baking dish and cover with sauce. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 25 to 30 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Garnish and serve hot. Serves six.

Top Off Duck Dinner With Broiled Grapefruit

Broiled grapefruit makes a refreshing ending for dinner when roast duck has been on the menu. Cut the grapefruit in halves and remove seeds, if any. Cut around each section with a small sharp knife to loosen from membrane. Dribble honey over grapefruit and place under broiler, about 3 inches from source of heat.

Broil about five minutes and serve at once. Brown sugar may be used instead of the honey, if desired.

Versatile Kraut and Franks Take On Mexican Appeal

You don't have to be a magician to pull an economical and appetizing meal out of your chef's cap. With kraut and frankfurters, you can produce all sorts of fine main dishes. For instance, you might try Sauerkraut Tamale Pie which is a new dish with a south-of-the-border flavor.

Kraut and frankfurters are appetizingly combined with minced onions and canned tomatoes and baked in a cornmeal shell. The result is a first-class creation.

Create a real party mood by using colorful paper plates and cups. In addition to adding a bright note, they'll make the tidying up a cinch.

Sauerkraut Tamale Pie
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 No. 2 can sauerkraut
1/2 cup minced onion
3 tablespoons brown sugar
4 frankfurters
1 cup canned tomatoes

4 beef bouillon cubes
1 quart boiling water
1 cup yellow cornmeal
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cold water
1 egg, well beaten

Combine butter or margarine, sauerkraut, one-half cup onion, brown sugar, frankfurters and tomatoes. Cook over medium heat until onions are tender. Meanwhile, dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water. Combine cornmeal, salt and remaining onions with cold water and add to bouillon. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until cornmeal mixture is thickened, or about 10 minutes. Cool slightly and add egg.

Spread three-fourths of cornmeal mixture in bottom of greased 8x12-inch baking dish. Arrange sauerkraut mixture over cornmeal mixture. Spread remaining cornmeal mixture in a border around outer edge of dish. Garnish with additional frankfurters, if desired. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes. Serve piping hot. Makes six servings.

Perk Up Salads With Bartlett Pears

Here's a different twist to that old favorite—canned Bartlett pear and cottage cheese salad. Add chopped candied ginger to cheese, mound in lettuce cups, sprinkle with paprika and chopped nuts and flank with buttery canned Bartlett pear halves.

Next time you serve crab salad, place a half canned Bartlett pear on either side, cut side up and in the center of each pear half, place a large pineapple cube, then sprinkle sliced, toasted almonds over all. Different and delectable!

For a light but taste-teasing salad, grate sharp cheese over canned Bartlett pears and serve on a bed of salad greens. Add a bit of French dressing of course, for extra zip!

Winter shortcake: Arrange canned sliced peaches and whipped cream between two layers of spice cake. Top with more cream and peaches.

Theresa Butts to End 50 Years of Court Service

LAPEER — Fifty years of service to the courts of the state will end Feb. 1 for Miss Theresa Butts, court stenographer for the Tuscola-Lapeer 40th Judicial Circuit since its inception in 1916.

On that day the woman, so long a familiar part of the courtroom scene, will retire.

Miss Butts, who before 1916 worked in the Lapeer-Oakland County Circuit, has no specific plans for the future. She will, however, continue to do stenographic work for the Justice and Probate Courts, a county appointive position.

During her many years as court stenographer, Miss Butts has served under the jurisdiction of eight circuit judges.

Last week, 62 members of the bar associations of Tuscola and Lapeer Counties, with their wives and several honored guests, paid tribute to Miss Butts at a testimonial dinner in Lapeer. She was presented with a double string of pearls and a travel clock in recognition of her work.

Disabled Child's Future Brighter

Wayne Educator Tells Pontiac Group of Need for Special Education

"Teamwork — with parents, teachers, nurses, physicians and vocational rehabilitation workers cooperating — is the answer for the child who needs special education."

Thus spoke Dr. John J. Lee of Wayne University Wednesday night before a public meeting on special education. It was sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chapter of the International Council for Exceptional Children.

Speaking in the Lincoln Junior High School Auditorium, Dr. Lee forecast a brighter picture for the physically and mentally handicapped child by the year of 1960.

"There is immediate hope for a child in this county who is exceptional and cannot function as do normal boys and girls," he said.

Pointing to the recent action taken by Oakland County whereby a millage increase will establish and operate special education programs and facilities for handicapped children, Dr. Lee said this county set a precedent for the entire nation.

"It is noteworthy that the pioneering in this program began here," he said.

He stated that this was a definite sign of the awakening of public interest which is a vital force in the operation of a special education program.

An encouraging sign, too, he said was the new recognition of the role vocational rehabilitation plays in educating the exceptional boy or girl.

Dr. Lee serves as adviser for Wayne's special education department and also is on the advisory committee for elementary and secondary education in the U. S. Office of Education.

Operative Risks Good for Oldster

Doctor Claims Elderly Patients Survive Most Surgery Well

CHICAGO (UP) — Old patients survive most operations as well as young patients, although they don't recover from more serious surgery as readily as young folks, according to a recent study.

The results of the research conducted by Dr. Warren Cole of the University of Illinois Medical School, was released by the Illinois division of the American Cancer Society.

In 3,638 operations surveyed, most of them of a serious nature, there were only 109 deaths. Of the patients under 60 years of age, 2.07 per cent died during or after the operation, and 5.1 per cent of the patients over 60 died.

Older patients withstood stomach operations better than the young. On the other hand, older patients were more vulnerable than younger ones on a ratio of five to three for removal of the esophagus and lung, 5.9 to none for removal of the rectum and 6.6 to one for radical mouth and neck surgery.

Dr. Cole said the chief differences in the condition of the young and old patients were: Hardening of the arteries makes the old more susceptible to shock, older patients are more sensitive to some anesthetics and to infections and older people are not so well nourished, due in part to the fact that dental complications make eating a chore.

He added, however, that the healing power is as strong in old tissue as in young — contrary to public opinion.

Trouble Only Started With Bad Left Turn

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The left turn that Julian Olden made in his auto yesterday led from bad to worse.

Police told Olden the turn was illegal. They said his driver's license had expired. Then they learned he was wanted on a warrant charging nonsupport of a child.

Officers said Olden then told them he had stolen the car and that under the seat was a pistol he had stolen, that he staged three robberies in nearby Whittier and five others in Palm Springs.

He is booked on suspicion of robbery.

Popular Bandleader of 1920s Dies at 56

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Gus Arnheim, once one of the nation's favorite bandleaders, was stricken yesterday by a heart attack and died in his home. He was 56.

Arnheim's band was one of the big and flourishing musical organizations in the 20s. Bing Crosby, one of a trio that included Harry Barris and Al Rinker, sang with Arnheim's band. The trio had started with Paul Whiteman and was known as the "Rhythm Boys."

Arnheim was born in Philadelphia and received his education at the Chicago Conservatory of Music. He played in Broadway shows with Sophie Tucker and other top entertainers. His band toured America and Europe, and Russ Colombo and Shirley Ross were among his singers.

First Come—First Served

Golfers Start Shooting at San Diego

Spotlight Shifts to Inter-Lakes

The prep basketball spotlight in the Oakland County area shifts to the Inter-Lakes Conference Friday night. With other league activity and two very interesting non-league matches on tap, it will be a busy night on the prep front.

Five teams in the 6-member Inter-Lakes are still contenders for the loop title, taken last year by Farmington.

Berkley and Van Dyke share the lead with 3-1 records, while Walled Lake, Farmington and Southfield each have 2-2 marks. Only Waterford (0-4) is out of title contention, but the Skippers could well be a factor.

The only two conference triumphs gained by Waterford last year came at the expense of champion Farmington and runner-up Southfield. The Skippers will be on their home floor against Van Dyke Friday.

Walled Lake tangles with other co-leader, Berkley, on the Bears' court. Niles Freeland's Vikings bump into a team that has won its last three games after losing 3 out of four.

The other I-L encounter sends Farmington to Southfield. Getting most of their scoring punch from Bob Evans and Ken Moser, a pair of small-sized guards, the Bluejays have won five games out of nine.

Farmington has hit its stride with four victories and a one-point loss to Van Dyke to show for its last five outings. The Falcons' first center, Jerry Rice, found the range for 19 points in Tuesday's win over Livonia Bentley, but Ron Donaghy, a good rebounder, will be lost for the Southfield game with a sprained ankle.

In the Wayne-Oakland, league-leading Clarkson goes on the road again for a date at Clawsonville, while in the Oakland-B, the three co-leaders are very apt to stay that way. Troy hosts Watson Clawson. Roseville goes to Avondale and Madison to Fitzgerald.

Birmingham's title hopes in the Eastern Michigan circuit will rise or fall Friday night at Port Huron. Port Huron and Mt. Clemens share the lead with 3-0 records and Birmingham is 2-1. While the Maples and Big Reds tangle, Mt. Clemens will entertain Ferndale.

Imlay City can gain a full 2-game lead in the South Central by beating Mayville, and the Imlay five has the home floor advantage. The Spartans are one of the area's highest-scoring combines with an average of 64 points per start.

The only unbeaten fives, Shrine (6-0) and Utica (5-0), rate the favorite's role to stay that way as the Knights from Royal Oak go to Holy Redeemer and Utica plays at home against Lakeview. Almost (9-1) should have little trouble gaining its 10th straight win at Dryden.

Milford and Rochester will play at home in two top non-league affairs. The high-scoring Redskins meet a capable, but unpredictable Oxford quintet, and Rochester hosts Cranbrook, another potent offensive team.

The visitors in each case carry 5-2 records and Oxford totes a 4-game winning streak to Milford. Rochester snapped a 3-game losing streak Tuesday at Keego, and found new scoring help in center Bill Dean, a six-footer who dunked in 17 points.

Cranbrook has dropped two one-point decisions in seven games and Bob Kenny's Cranes are hitting 66 points per game, including a 36-point outburst against Romeo.

American Links Team Is Winner in Hopkins Test

Harbert and Middlecoff Pace 17-10 Win Over Canadian Pros

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—California's winter golf picture shifts to the Mission Valley Country Club on the outskirts of this city today, where a field of nearly 150 players starts shooting for $15,000 cash in the 72-hole San Diego Open.

Leading the contingent is the winning Hopkins Trophy team from the United States, victor over a valiant Canadian team in the fourth edition of the series sponsored by the International Golf Assn.

The Yankee shotmakers scored 17 points to 10 for the Canadians to win the award, inaugurated by John Jay Hopkins, wealthy industrialist, as a Canadian-United States good will gesture.

The Hopkins, held for the first time in the United States, was played at the neighboring La Jolla Country Club — 6,583 yards, par 36-36-72.

The United States scored 11 points in winning three, losing two and splitting one singles match, and winning two and losing one of the doubles attractions.

Briefly, the results: Singles — Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich., defeated Pat Fletcher, Saskatchewan 4-up, 3 points to zero; Ed Furgol, St. Louis, defeated Al Harding, Toronto, 1-up, 2½ points to ½ point; Henry Martell, Edmonton, defeated Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., 3-up 2½ points to ½.

Cary Middlecoff, Klamath Lake, N.Y., defeated Bill Kerr, Montreal, 5-up 3 points to zero, and Jack Burke, Klamath Lake and Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C., ended even, each 1½ points.

Doubles — Burke-Ed Furgol defeated Fletcher-Leonard 2-up 2½ points to ½; Harding-Gordon Brydon, Toronto, defeated Middlecoff-Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., 3-up 2½ points to ½; Harbert-Marty Furgol defeated Martell-Kerr, 3-up 3 points to zero.

In addition to the two international teams, the San Diego field has a representative entry list.

Headed it is Gene Littler, the San Diego product now from Palm Springs, Calif., who won the event as an amateur a year ago and turned pro a week later.

Weather Cold for Golf Test

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Most of the nation's top pros and amateurs fought both par and cold weather today in the opening round of the $5,000 Tampa Women's Open Golf tournament.

Temperatures in the mid-thirties were expected for the early starters in the annual 72-hole event.

Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., winner of last year's tournament, is back again. Every other title since the tournament began in 1947 except one is back and she is Polly Riley, the star amateur from Dallas, Tex.

Favored by Miss Rawls to win this year on the 6,207-yard Palma Ceia course are Babe Zaharias of Tampa, Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., and Jackie Pung of Honolulu who won last week's Sea Island Open. Par is 75.

Top amateurs in the field include Mary Lena Faulk, former National Amateur champion from Thomaston, Ga., and Pat Lesser, the Seattle star.

Aber on Tiger List

Aber came to the Tigers last season from the Cleveland Indians.

Gould Tallies 30 Points in Milford Victory

Center Sets Pace as Redskins Drub Trojan Quint, 84-52

Milford High School's power-laden basketball team currently in Oakland County's hottest prep outfit, yet, ironically, the Redskins can't even claim first place in their own conference, the Wayne-Oakland.

However, Jack Minzey's fast-moving crew was a step closer to its goal after swamping Clarenceville, 84-52, Wednesday night on the Trojans' floor.

It was the 4th time Milford had passed the 80-point mark this season. Reserves saw action in the 2nd quarter and played the entire last period.

Nine of the 12-member squad shared in the scoring honors, but it was Tom Gould's show.

The 6-2 senior center banged in 19 points in the first quarter as Milford rolled to a 32-10 lead. At the half, Gould had caged 26 as the Redskins enjoyed a 54-29 advantage. He wound up with 30 before calling it a night.

Bob Grose, Clarenceville's set-shooting guard, led the Trojans with 16. If league-leading Clarkson hurdles the same Clarenceville team Friday night, while Milford plays a non-league engagement with Oxford, it will set up a first-place battle next Tuesday at Clarkson.

Prep Relay Record Set by Eastern Team

EAST HAMPTON, Mass. (AP)—The Williston Academy 400-yard freestyle relay swimming team Wednesday set a new national prep school record with a 3:33.6 in a dual meet with Westminster school. The old mark was 3:34.7 established by Exeter in 1951. Williston won 50-25.

K-State Acting Speedily to Replace Grid Coach

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Kansas State College will act speedily on the job of replacing head football Coach Bill Meek who resigned Wednesday to accept a similar position at the University of Houston.

School officials indicated the list of probabilities had been narrowed to three or four coaches who have expressed interest in keeping K-State's resurging football fortunes rolling.

While Kansas State officials declined to mention just who is in

Gal Gridders BC Sororities Meet in Powder Bowl Tilt

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—The blondes and brunettes, with perhaps a few red heads thrown in from the University of British Columbia cap a month of no-footing football workouts in the Powder Bowl Game today.

Girls from two sororities line up for four 10-minute quarters of American-ruled football, complete with running, passing, kicking — and tackling.

The teams — Alpha Delta Pi and Gamma Phi Beta — have worked out two hours a night, five nights a week for a month in the interest of alma mater. Proceeds

McMahon Tops All-Star Meet

New Jersey Bowler Holds 2-Pin Lead on Ed Lubanski

CHICAGO (AP)—Junie McMahon, of Fair Lawn, N.J., twice winner of the National All-Star Bowling tournament, early today led the 14 qualifiers into the match-play finals.

McMahon topped the 45 qualifiers, with a score of 7,563, for 36 games. He held a slim 2-pin lead over Ed Lubanski of Detroit. McMahon took over the No. 1 spot early Wednesday with 1,338 and then finished his night's round of six games with 1,259.

Steve Nagy, of Cleveland, and Graz Castellano, of New York, wound up in a two-way tie for the 14th spot in the men's final with 7,315, necessitating a six-game roll-off. The New Yorker slipped to 1,088 in his last set enabling Nagy to tie.

In the women's division, Merle Matthews, a Long Beach, Calif., stenographer, paced the field with a score of 4,679 for 24 games, an average of 195. She got stiff competition for the top spot from Peggy Farley, a southpaw bowler of Panorama City, Calif., who trailed by only 43 pins with a score of 4,636.

The 14 finalists will be joined today by the champions and runners-up of the 1954 tourney.

Beau Jack to Try Comeback Tonight

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Beau Jack, world lightweight boxing champ in 1943, will find out tonight if he's too old for a comeback.

The 33-year-old Augusta, Ga., native says he'll carry "that old killer feeling" into the ring against middleweight Eddie Green, 27, of Kannapolis, N.C. The 10-round bout will be his first since May, 1951, when Gil Turner stopped him in the eighth round.

The Richland County Boxing Commission found Jack in top physical condition.

Heyliger Defends Canadians in College Hockey

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Vic Heyliger, University of Michigan hockey coach, says attacks by eastern coaches on Canadian players in U.S. collegiate hockey are "sour grapes."

Miffed by statements made to newsmen by Dartmouth coach Eddie Jeremiah, Heyliger declared that Jeremiah "has had losing seasons for so many years he is frustrated."

"Canadian boys in our hockey have improved the game tremendously," Heyliger said. "The Canadian influx has stimulated hockey at the college and civil level."

Heyliger acknowledged that the Michigan team has a number of Canadians, as do other teams.

"But, he added, 'the Minnesota team is entirely made up of American boys and they should have won the national title for the last two years. We beat them two years ago—but we had no right to do it.'"

Heyliger said that the University of Michigan is only 40 miles from the Canadian border and the Canadian players find it easier to go to school here than do students from Michigan's Upper Peninsula 600 miles away.

Ready for Title Defense

Even With Five Championships Behind Her, Miss Ladewig Is Jittery Bowler

CHICAGO (AP)—The little lady twisted her handkerchief nervously as ten-pins crashed in a rhythmic cacophony on the Coliseum's gleaming bowling alleys.

"I'm always jittery before I bowl a match game," explained the little lady, none other than Marion Ladewig, five-time champion of the National Match Game Bowling championships today entering their final phase.

Mrs. Ladewig, a slim, comely woman of 40, takes her bowling as seriously as Babe Zaharias takes her golf, or Maureen Connolly her tennis.

"I'm just as nervous going after my sixth championship as I was trying for my first," she smiled wilyly.

In a way, the quiet bowling queen from Grand Rapids, Mich., is probably the most distinctive performer who never has won the annual Associated Press Feminine Athlete of the Year award. Last year she placed seventh. In 1951 she was fourth after averaging an amazing 211-15 in the all-star finals.

The distasteful side of the national match game competition never has known any other champion than Mrs. Ladewig since it started in 1948. For 272 games rolled towards five titles in this world series of bowling, Marion has averaged better than 197 pins.

Mrs. Ladewig, who warmed up for the four-day set of finals with a 4,690 to 4,612 special 24-game match victory over Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia, wonders without rancor what it takes for a feminine bowler to win the acclaim given such sports as tennis, golf and swimming.

"Let's compare golf and bowling, for instance," she said. "There are more women bowling than playing golf. If you are shooting for scores rather than relaxation, bowling demands just as much skill and concentration as golf."

"The one reason bowling lacks the proportionate number of high-level women performers as golf or tennis is probably that many of the good women bowlers are housewives or working girls. They can't leave their families or jobs, even for occasional national meets."

FACE LEADERS—Currently involved in a 3-way deadlock for 3rd place in the Jumbled Inter-Lakes Conference basketball race, Walled Lake will travel to Berkley Friday night to meet the co-leaders of the loop. Facing a stern test will be Viking regulars (left to right) Myrel Taubee, John Reid, Bob Hess and Dede Aughenbaugh. Coach Niles Freeland's Lakers have a 4-3 season record.

Grill Quintet Wins Overtime Thriller 62-60

Downs Machinists in Class B Tilt; GMC Beats Boys' Club

Griff's Grill retained its undefeated status in City Basketball League Class B play last night after edging Davis Machinery, 62-60, in overtime.

Grill team had to overcome a 44-40 3rd-period deficit to gain a 56-all deadlock at the end of regulation time. Homer Harrison paced the victory with 16 points, while Woodmore had 15.

Bill York and D. Robinson piled up 17 points apiece to lead Greater Motors to a 60-48 triumph over Boys' Club in another "B" contest.

Elks won their 6th consecutive Class D start, 65-26, over Spartans. Lawrence Peet's 19 points were high for the Elks. He was backed up by Garrett Douglas and Felix Brooks with 14 points each.

Boys' Club downed the Wolverines, 53-31, in the 2nd Class D tilt. Joe Barron led the winners with 13 points.

TONIGHT'S SCHEDULE—Show's Jewelry vs. Chuck's Shack (Class A, 7 p.m.); Stadium Inn vs. Courtesy Floor (Class B, 8:30 p.m., PHS); Griff's Grill vs. Davis Machinery (Class C, 8:30 p.m., PHS); Elks vs. Spartans (Class D, 8:30 p.m., PHS).

Mechanization Forced MSC to Discard Polo

EAST LANSING (AP)—Time was when an athlete could earn a varsity letter at Michigan State by climbing up on a horse and knocking around a little white ball with a long mallet.

Looking back on MSC sports history on the occasion of the college's 100th year, it's been discovered that polo is the only varsity sport that has been discarded.

Michigan State had polo teams in the 1920's and early 1930's when cavalry units of the ROTC were stationed at the college. Army officers also were the coaches and the college gave varsity letters for polo.

Farm boys of the era took readily to the sport. But when the army became mechanized, the ROTC lost its mounts and MSC gave up polo.

Former Stars Plan to Fight Delinquency

Kansas City Group Is Formed in Teams for New Campaign

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Some outstanding athletes of the past and present plan to do something to curb juvenile delinquency.

Ernest Mehl, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, said they have organized as the fellowship of Christian Athletes.

They plan to visit colleges and high schools in teams "in the belief that a great many prominent sports figures who want to be counted as to their Christian convictions can have a great bearing on the thinking and conduct of American youth," Mehl said.

Members enlisted include Doak Walker, Otto Graham, Dan Towler and Kyle Rote, professional football players; Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma football coach; Bob Mathias, Olympic decathlon champion; Carl Erskine, Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, and others.

These starters watched the last quarter-and-a-half of play from the benches against Arthur Hill after trying unsuccessfully to get their attack clicking in the 1st half of the game.

Tuesday's performance was the Chiefs' poorest of the year, and they should bounce back with vengeance against the off-beaten Bay City five. Coach Art Paddy's Wolves have won only one game in five starts—that victory a 45-45 upset of Flint Northern last week.

Top scorer in the BC lineup is 6-footer Harold Busch, who has averaged 11.4 points from his center position. Remainder of the lineup has Pete Carras and George Stevenson at forwards and Jim Cheaney and John Kraft at guards.

Marvin Caswell, who will alternate with both King at forward and "Blacklaw" at center, will be playing his final game for Pontiac Friday. A 2nd-term senior, he will graduate at the end of this semester.

Drug, Harry's Keep Rolling

The Drug quintet whipped Philgas, 77-47, with six players scoring in double figures. Bob Thatcher's 14 was high, but Dick Hesselgrave of Philgas took game honors with 19.

Harry's held only a 6-point advantage over Waterford Merchants in the 3rd quarter, but pulled away in the finale to win, 35-25. Jerry O'Shaughnessy paced the Recreation five with 11 points, while Mel Peters had 12 for the Merchants.

The Arlington Futurity was worth $149,785 last year and Wilton Stable's Royal Note took the first-prize share of $94,785. The Washington Park Futurity went to Georgian and $89,820 of the gross $144,820 was awarded to owner Hal Price Headley.

PHS Five Hopes to Bounce Back Against Wolves

Pontiac High's basketball team, hoping to partially atone for its miserable performance against Arthur Hill Tuesday, returns to Saginaw Valley Conference play tomorrow night at Bay City Central.

Coach Art Van Ryzin plans to start his regular lineup of John James and Walt King at forwards, Dick Blacklaw at center, Bob Johnston and Walt Poe at guards.

These starters watched the last quarter-and-a-half of play from the benches against Arthur Hill after trying unsuccessfully to get their attack clicking in the 1st half of the game.

Tuesday's performance was the Chiefs' poorest of the year, and they should bounce back with vengeance against the off-beaten Bay City five. Coach Art Paddy's Wolves have won only one game in five starts—that victory a 45-45 upset of Flint Northern last week.

Henry to Get Back Against Red Wings

BOSTON (AP)—Veteran Boston goalie Jim Henry will replace injured rookie John Henderson tonight when the Bruins meet Detroit's National Hockey League leading Red Wings.

Henderson is expected to have X-rays taken today to check if he has a broken index finger on his left hand.

Henry hasn't appeared in the Bruins nets since Dec. 19 against Chicago here. Henry aggravated a groin injury in the first period and Henderson had to dress hurriedly to take over.

Better Weather Sought for Hunting Dog Trials

QUITMAN, Ga. (AP)—Owners and handlers hoped for better weather today for their prize hunting dogs as the open all-age stakes continued in the Continental Field Trials at the Dixie Plantation.

Chilling winds hampered Wednesday's braces and only two pointers showed championship form. Rumson Farm Haymaker, handled by Earl Crangle of Waynesboro, Ga., had a near-perfect find in tough cover and ran a ground race that proved pleasing to Judges Earl Miles of Brooklyn and Richard Dumas of Eldersburg, Ark.

Billy Hope, handled by veteran Ed Farrar of Union Springs, Ala., had an equally impressive find and ran well.

Savage, Mims to Meet

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Salt Lake middleweight Milo Savage has been signed to meet Holly Mims Feb. 7 in New York's St. Nick's arena.

Savage's manager, Jack McCarty, said today Savage was pleased to face the No. 8 ranked middleweight on the basis of his victory over Moses Ward Monday night in the same arena.

Tiger Jones Hands Sugar Worst Beating

CHICAGO (U)—They fed Sugar Ray Robinson to a tiger Wednesday night and he was gobbled up. From all indications, it is the end of Sugar Ray's ring comeback, but Robinson, himself, insists he wants to continue.

Ralph "Tiger" Jones, dropped from the middleweight ratings after losing five straight, chugged hungrily after Robinson from the start of their nationally televised fight in Chicago Stadium and slogged him almost at will for an overwhelming 10-round decision.

The International Boxing Club, looking ahead to a possible big attraction of Robinson and Kid Gavilan in another month, appeared caught out of breath.

IBC Secretary Truman Gibson, asked about any future bout for Robinson, an 8-1 ringside favorite, muttered: "I just don't know. . . I just don't know."

The former welterweight and middleweight titleholder, now 34 and who started his comeback after 30 months as a song-and-dance entertainer by kayaking Joe Rindone two weeks ago, was handed the worst beating of his career by Jones.

With his timing off, and with most of his best shots whizzing harmlessly past the "Tiger's" noggin, Robinson rustily tried to fight off his stalking foe with combinations that were weak imitations of the broadsides that had blasted a ring record of 137 victories in 142 bouts.

Time and again, Jones drove Robinson into the ropes and mauled him pitifully. Sugar Ray's right eyebrow and nose bled throughout most of the scrap and at times his arms dangled as if helplessly weighted down.

All three officials scored it heavily for the 26-year-old Jones—

Referee Frank Sikora voting 99-94, Judge Ed Hintz 100-88 and Judge Ed Walsh 98-89. The Associated Press card had it 99-95 with Robinson taking only one round, the last.

Each fighter weighed 159 pounds. A crowd of 7,282 contributed to a gross gate of $27,419 and a net of $22,778. Robinson's share, including $4,000 from television, was about $12,000.

"I want to continue," Robinson insisted later. "I think Jones was just too tough an opponent for a second fight. But being egotistical I wanted to take him on even though Joe Glaser (Ray's business manager) was against it from the start."

"I think people remember me as I was three years ago. I don't want to live on my former reputation. I have to establish myself again."

"I think I can do better with a few more fights, and if I can't then I'll quit. When I decided to make a comeback, I didn't think I would win every fight. It takes a champion to lose as well as win. I've been beaten before."

But who is Robinson going to get to fight next?

Wings Lose, Miss Chance to Pad Lead

Worsley and Bathgate Team to Hand Detroit Team 2-0 Blanking

NEW YORK (U)—The Detroit Red Wings missed an opportunity to pull away from the second place Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League race last night, but they may get another chance tonight.

The Wings, out in front of the NHL by two points, came into New York boasting a five-game winning streak. They had lost only two of their last 20 games.

But the 5th place Rangers stopped them cold—2-0—on goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley's shoutout and Andy Bathgate's pair of goals.

Tonight the Wings move on to Boston for a match with the 4th place Bruins. Meanwhile, Montreal, like last night, will face 3rd place Toronto.

Bathgate fired in his 1st goal early in the 2nd period and added the clincher with less than three minutes to play.

Worsley, racking up his 2nd straight shutout on Madison Square Garden ice, turned in 41 saves in a sensational performance.

Edgar LaPrade assisted with a drop pass on Bathgate's 1st goal, a 15-foot screen shot into the left side of the net.

It's Time Out!

Round Ring for Wrestling Gaining Favor

UM's Cliff Keen Puts Idea Into Action With Favorable Results

ANN ARBOR (U)—Michigan wrestling coach Cliff Keen saw his brainchild take shape this season—a circular wrestling ring. He has great hopes for it.

Keen brought up the idea of a wrestling "ring" last year at the meeting of the American Wrestling Coaches and Officials Assn. at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla.

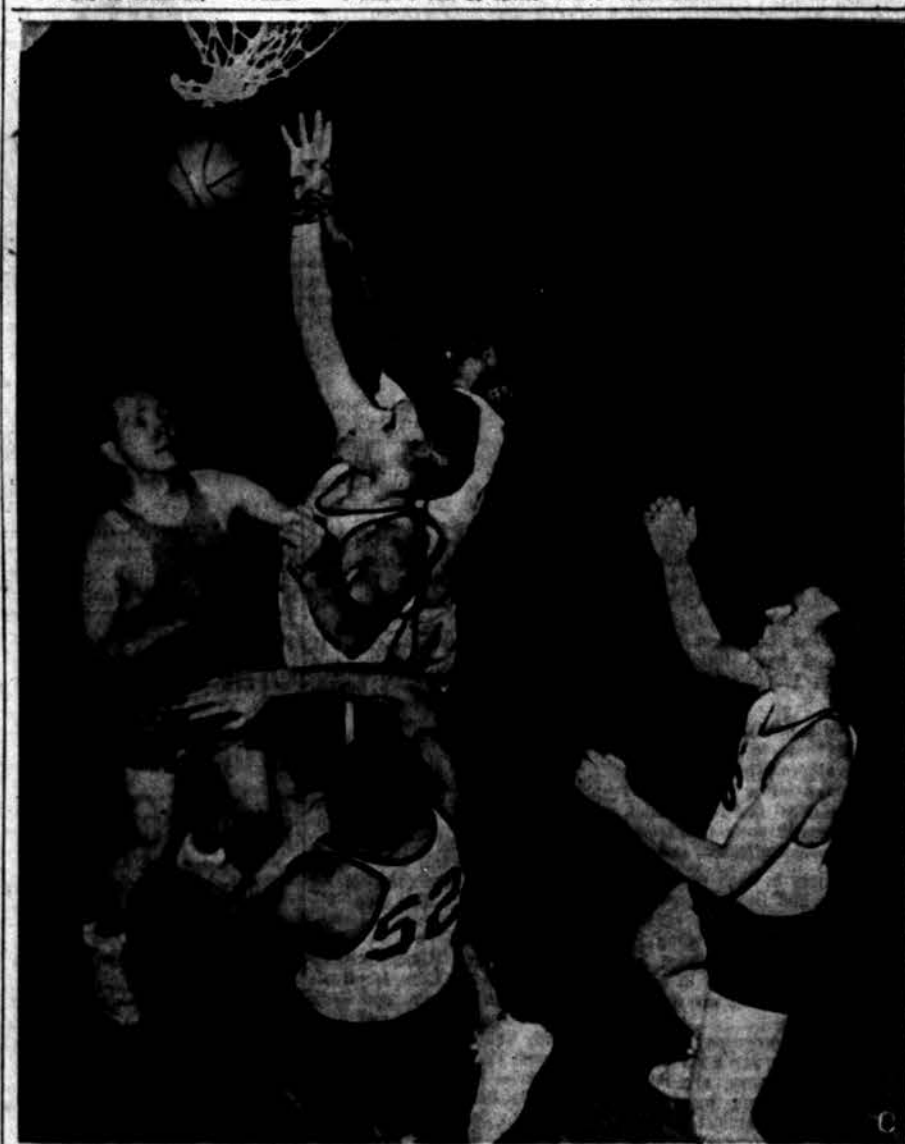

As president of the group this year, Keen helped set up the 1st tournament on the round ring at Wilkes College, Pa. His matmen walked off with the prizes.

Last Saturday, Michigan and Indiana wrestlers paired off on the round ring for the 1st time in Big Ten history.

"The boys all liked it," Keen said, "and so did Indiana's coach, Charlie McDaniel—and so did I. We all agreed it speeded up the game."

Principle behind the round ring is the elimination of the corners. Keen explains that it's too easy for a wrestler to reach for the edge of the ring and pull himself out.

The total 1954 attendance for thoroughbred racing in New York was 4,392,257. This is a decline of 107,310 from 1953.

WRESTLOCK?—It looks like Williams, Cleary College player, was going to stop a try for a basket by St. Mary's Stan Kryzstofik any way. That looks like a good old wristlock applied to Kryzstofik's right arm as the ball falls away. Other Eagles in the picture are (56), captain Leonard Wojcinski, and (32) Val Kurmaniak. St. Mary's won this, its first college game in six years, 82-40. The sport was resumed a few weeks ago after the long layoff.

Polish Eagles Rip Ypsilanti Quintet 82-40

St. Mary's Club Makes Fine Start After Six Year Layoff

St. Mary's College Eagles soared back into the basketball firmament last night after a 6-year absence from the hardwoods. Against Cleary College of Ypsilanti, on the Eagles' floor, Rev. John Gabalski's club showed it had a lot of promise. Without too much effort Eagles ripped the visitors 82-40, with 13 squadmen getting into the fray.

After a 1st period 16-9 lead, Eagles went on to win any way they wished.

Captain Gabalski was pleased with the game's result.

"The way the team came through it appears to have considerable promise for the future," Rev. Gabalski said.

Next outing for the Eagles, once outstanding among the state's small colleges, has not been determined, but an exhibition will be played Saturday night against Milford Merchants. Exams will put a temporary halt to collegiate action next week.

AMHERST, Mass. (U)—Bob Cousy, Boston's "Mr. Basketball," will be out of the Celtics lineup for the first time in his five-year, 336-game National Basketball Assn. career tonight.

The all-everything guard was declared out of tonight's game at Syracuse Wednesday night after limping through 16 minutes of Boston's 105-94 loss to Fort Wayne.

Cousy received a twisted knee Tuesday night in the all-star game in New York to add to a severe charley horse which had bothered him for several weeks and caused him to be well taped in recent games.

K-State Upsets Home Court Myth, Beats Missouri

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Whatever happened to the so-called home court advantage in college basketball? It was nowhere to be found in the cold, gray stone field house at Columbia, Mo., Wednesday night as Kansas State played like it owned the joint to dump Missouri on the already crowded upset heap.

It was a 78-67 demise for the Tigers, previously unbeaten in the Big Seven, as K-State scored on 51 per cent of its shots from the field. To further confuse the home court argument, it was just last Saturday that Missouri—in the No. 8 spot in this week's Associated Press poll—toppled the Wildcats at Manhattan, Kan., 94-85.

They also split their two-game series last season, each winning away from home.

Missouri slipped out of the Big Seven lead with the defeat, leaving Colorado (3-0) alone in first.

There wasn't much chance for major upsets elsewhere Wednesday night and except for Amherst, which was knocked off for the first time this season by Wesleyan 62-58, all the favorites got home safe. LaSalle, ranked No. 4, disposed of West Chester (Pa.) State 85-50 while Dayton, No. 18, beat Western Kentucky 91-73 and Niagara, tied for 20th, defeated Assumption of Windsor, Canada, 99-55.

They were the only ranked teams at work officially, although Duquesne (No. 5) lost to Andrews AFB 84-70 in an exhibition.

Little Pachin Vicens, a 5-9 sophomore, was the standout for K-State against Missouri, scoring 21 points while playing an excellent floor game. Bob Reiter topped Missouri with 32, but that was the only bright spot for the Tigers, who hit on just 33.8 per cent of their field shots.

Coach Sparky Stalcup's club, ceded his best in nine seasons at Missouri, held a 40-36 lead at the half, but it was all K-State from there on in.

High-scoring Johnny Horan was missing with an injury suffered last week, but Dayton didn't run into any trouble against Western Kentucky. It was 46-31 at the half and 7-foot Bill Uhl finished with 28 points for the Flyers. Bob Fieley, filling in for Horan, hit 19.

LaSalle also breezed in, finding opportunity to use its notoriously weak bench while winning No. 13 Tom Gola led with 22 points as the Explorers' second team played the last four minutes.

Height was the story for Niagara as the Purple Eagles controlled the boards for their 12th victory. Ed Fleming, tops in Niagara scoring, was high with 28 points.

Dick Ricketts sat out Duquesne's exhibition loss to rest his injured right ankle. It was the 21st consecutive victory for Andrews AFB, which sprinted out of a 60-60 tie late in the last half. Two ex-Kansas State stars led the Fliers —

Dick Knostman with 22 and Bob Rousey with 21. St. Green paced the Dukes with 18.

Elsewhere, Little Geneva (Pa.) knocked off Pittsburgh for the second time this season, winning 101-96 in a double overtime although Ed Pavlich scored 34 for Pitt; Louisville won No. 13 by jumping all over Morehead 99-62; Penn State went into overtime to defeat Lehigh 81-75, and high-scoring DePaul had to hustle against Bradley before pulling out a 65-62 triumph, the 12th success in 14 games for the Blue Demons.

Other major results: Army 78, Penn Military 70; Florida State 91, Mississippi State 76; Villanova 77, Drexel 63; Xavier (Ohio) 74, Murray (Ky.) State 68; Seattle U 70, Regis 54; Coll. of Pacific 81, Santa Clara 79.

Switch of Stan Musial to 1st May Be in Wind

NEW YORK (U)—You won't get any member of the St. Louis Cardinals' official family to admit it, but don't be surprised if Stan Musial winds up the regular Redbird 1st baseman again next season.

The Musial switch figures, especially if Bill Virdon, the spectacular rookie outfielder from Rochester, comes through as expected. Observers who watched Virdon capture the International League batting crown with a .333 average claim he has more power than Wally Moon.

They insist the 23-year-old left-handed slugger is faster, has a stronger throwing arm and is a better defensive outfielder than Wally. And all Moon did was win the National League rookie award with the Cardinals last season.

If Virdon should "make it," manager Eddie Stanky probably will play him in center field, switch Moon to left and keep Rip Repulski, the only righthanded hitting outfielder with the exception of rookie Harry Elliott, in right.

Musial, easily the best defensive 1st baseman on the club, could shift to 1st, a position he played on and off from 1946 through '52. Of course, this neat arrangement could go up in smoke should either Joe Cunningham or Tom Alston catch fire in spring training.

SIGNED, SEALED—Jerry Wooliever (left) and Chester A. (Chet) Crites, smile happily as they sign the 1955 contract that brings the National Skeet Shooting Association championships to Pontiac. Jerry is Oakland County Sportsman's Club president (host club again), and Crites (Detroit Industrialist)

OCSC Plans Improvements for NSSA Test

International Shoot Returns to Oakland County in Fall

A highly pleased Oakland County Sportsman's Club is already talking plans for improvements about the skeet-shooting area at the Waterford location where the 1955 National Skeet Shooting Association championships will again take place. Site and dates for the shoot were announced Wednesday afternoon following a conference at OCSC between NSSA president, Chester Crites of Detroit, and OCSC officials.

Crites and OCSC prexy Jerry Wooliever joined in announcing that the event would come here on Aug. 28-Sept. 4. Last year's big test also was held here and many of the contestants expressed the desire then that it be returned.

Among improvements discussed is the planting of grass plots on all the score or more skeet fields. This will add greatly to the looks of the area, and at the same time add to the comfort of the shooters. The grass will eliminate the dust nuisance, always present on bare earth areas.

Other changes expected to be made will be concerned with the rifle pits adjoining the skeet fields and in "commercial row". It is expected the commercial setup will be improved over last fall. Details of improvement plans will be completed soon.

Higher Scoring, Less Fouling in Big 10

CHICAGO (AP)—With the Big Ten basketball season about one-third over, the new bonus free throw rule has made for a trend of higher scoring games and less fouling, the conference's statistical department reported today.

Big Ten teams are averaging a combined total of 168 points a game, 24 more than last season. They are scoring 48.2 free throws a game to 45.8 last year and are being called for only 42.5 fouls a game compared to 45.7.

The bonus rule that permits a 2nd free throw if the 1st one is made reflects the trend, but greater shooting accuracy also is apparent.

Eight teams currently are hitting better than the 37.7 per cent from the field that Ohio State topped the league with last year.

Iowa, which defeated Illinois Monday 92-80, tops team scoring with an average of 88 points, followed by Minnesota with 85.8, Iowa rates 2nd on defense and Minnesota third.

Northwestern, Iowa's television opponent Saturday, has hit 43.9 of its shots from the court to lead the Big Ten. Iowa is next with 43.1.

and the Gophers 3rd with 41.7. Wisconsin heads the free throw percentage with 75.7.

Ohio State's Robin Freeman continues, as the scoring pacesetter with an average of 35.6, followed by Indiana's Don Schlundt with 30.4 and Minnesota's Dick Garmaker with 28.0.

Las Vegas Bids for Marciano

Group Hopes to Get Title Defense Against Cockell in May

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A group of local sportsmen has made an attractive guarantee to Rocky Marciano to defend his heavyweight title against British champion Don Cockell here in May.

Hank Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun and chairman of the group, said a meeting will be held Friday with a representative of the International Boxing Club to discuss the offer. Beldon Kattelman said he and other hotel owners are willing to put "up to $300,000" to get the match for Las Vegas.

In New York, Marciano's manager, Al Weill, said he had talked with Greenspun and others "but they made no $300,000 offer nor anywhere near it." Weill said he has a $350,000 offer from San Francisco but isn't making any decision until the condition of the champion's nose, damaged in the Ezzard Charles defense, is determined.

Value of Trotting Classic May Lower

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—A total of 68 three-year-old trotters included the highly regarded Scott Frost have been kept eligible for the 30th Hambletonian but the value of the Aug. 3 renewal of the sulky classic may fall below $100,000 for the first time since 1952.

Last year, with $7 eligible as of Jan. 1, the race had a value of $106,830. And in 1953 the gross value was $115,000. Depending on how many start this year's race figures to be worth around $92,000.

Thumb should be turned to right of ball-center, and, as sketch illustrates, that hand position is maintained at release of ball. The thumb still is to the right. The swing must be smooth, unhurried. The follow-through full, long, and reaching.

Duke of Windsor Finds Dump for His Trash

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The titanic problem of who empties the Duke of Windsor's rubbish near Paris has been solved in a chic manner. The Duke's and Duchess' home is between Paris and Neuilly, a suburb, and the Paris dustmen groused about emptying the Duke's rubbish, as his house was outside the city.

Neuilly was invited by the Duke's secretary to take over this rather distinguished rubbish, and an immediate polite reply was dispatched to the Duke's secretary, as follows:

"We shall be delighted to collect the Duke's rubbish. In view of the Duke's illustrious standing, the dustmen will call every day instead of making their usual three times a week collection enjoyed by other citizens."

Ousted Security 'Risk' Reinstated After Study

WASHINGTON (INS)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson announced last night he is reinstating Annie Lee Moss, who was suspended from the Army Signal Corps supply section last August on charges she was a security risk.

Mrs. Moss was barred from her Defense Department job after she appeared before Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and denied that she was ever a Communist party member.

Wilson stated that the Defense Department "has just completed a study of her file" and that: "In our opinion the record does not support a conclusion that she is actually subversive or disloyal to the United States."

Williams Seeking Contracts for State

LANSING (U)—Gov. Williams and a delegation of state residents will go to Washington Wednesday to seek more defense contracts for the state.

Williams said the principal problem was the March 30 ending of a federal contract at the Chrysler Tank Arsenal in Macomb County with no prospects it will be renewed. The plant employs 3,200 men, he said.

The delegation, probably enhanced by Michigan congressmen, will submit a brief on other major plants in Michigan which need defense contracts to keep operating. The group will meet with Thomas Pile, assistant secretary of defense for supply and logistics.

The same night Williams will address a national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary in Washington.

New Legislation Would Kill Tax on Chain Stores

LANSING (U)—Legislation to repeal Michigan's 22-year-old chain store tax was filed in the Senate today with strong chances it will pass.

The law was adopted during a nationwide wave of antagonism against the growing size of chain stores.

Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids), principal sponsor of the bill, said that at one time 29 states had tax laws discriminating against chain stores, but that the list had dropped to 14 and that no new taxes of this type have been passed since 1941.

Florida and Georgia dropped theirs in the past two years.

The Michigan tax imposed graduated levies on all retailers with more than one store. The tax ranged from $10 for a second store to $250 for each store in companies having more than 25 stores.

Greene said the State Revenue Department reported that less than two per cent of the companies pay in the top bracket and that the tax has been a burden on small merchants desiring to expand.

MOUNT PLEASANT (U)—A party of 10 Mount Pleasant school officials will go to Norman, Okla., next week to inspect the new high school building there, considered one of the most advanced in design among school buildings in the United States. The local group hopes to obtain ideas for design of a $1,500,000 high school building planned here.

Actor Reports Ingrid Bergman Seems Happy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U)—A report on Ingrid Bergman comes today from actor Kurt Kreuger, just returned from making a film with her in Munich.

After five years in Europe, Kreuger is back in Hollywood, this time to stay. He is full of details on movie making abroad, and his most interesting engagement was acting with Bergman in "Fear."

The film was directed in Germany by her husband Roberto Rossellini. "It happened quite by chance," Kreuger remarked. "I ran into Rossellini at a party. A picture I made here in 1942 with Humphrey Bogart—'Sahara'—is playing in Europe now, and he asked me if I didn't play the pilot in it. I said I did. He said he had a part for me in his next movie."

"I thought nothing would come of it. But I later was told that once he tells you something, he sticks by it."

Kreuger reported to the Munich studio for the film, which has only four characters. The picture was to be made in English and German versions, and the set became a Tower of Babel.

Miss Bergman, who is part German, could handle both languages. The other two actors spoke only German. They needed an interpreter with Rossellini, who can't speak German. The director explained scenes in French and English to Kreuger and in Italian to his wife.

Kreuger found Miss Bergman to be happy and talkative.

"Start her on any subject—say, maids—and she talks on and on until you stop her," he said. "Always she was knitting between scenes, and she talked as fast as she knitted. She was very helpful to the other actors and cooperative with the press. Was she like that in Hollywood?"

I replied no. She was inclined to be cool and distant in interviews here.

"Then perhaps Rossellini has changed her," he said. "He is very publicity conscious. And she appears to be very much in love with him."

Does she miss America? "She doesn't seem to. I think she would be happy to return here. But she would make a picture here."

Township Association Blasts Equalization Ruling

Supreme Court Decision Scored

Restoration of Power to Local Units Sought by Resolution

LANSING (UP)—The Michigan Township Association struck back today at a State Supreme Court decision which ordered state equalization of local property valuations instead of county equalization.

The Association's convention adopted a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment to "restore to local taxing authorities the power to determine valuations and the function of equalizing valuations." The resolution did not specify the wording or type of constitutional amendment desired.

The resolution also urged legislation requiring the State Board of Equalization to accept county equalized valuations as correct unless an objection was raised by another county.

The State Board would function only as an appeal body to act on disputes between counties.

The 600 delegates elected State Rep. Roy H. Brigham (R-Battle Creek) as president after Leonard Broquet, Redford Township, withdrew from the race.

Other officers elected were: Joseph A. Parisi, Jr., of Kalamazoo, executive director of the association said townships should give serious study to such proposals ahead of a $500,000,000 highway bond issue, more money for public schools and a revision of the state constitution.

Ruth Ann Jarvis was her sister's maid of honor, and Marie Cassada was the bridesmaid.

Farmers Offer Eggs for Free

Irate Poultrymen Picket Agriculture Department, Hand Out 240 Dozen

WASHINGTON (INS)—Disgruntled poultry farmers dished out free eggs in front of the Agriculture Department today in protest against what they consider the government's failure to aid their industry.

About 25 members of the Eastern Farmers Union from New Jersey, in effect, picketed the department briefly in a demonstration against low egg prices.

Their mood apparently was reflected by one picket's sign which said philosophically: "We are going broke anyway; take some eggs."

Skeptical at first, passersby caught on after a while. From then on it was first come, first served as a large woman in a red coat dished out 240 dozen free eggs.

A few dozen Agriculture Department employees dished out to the sidewalk to claim a share of the booty. Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson hadn't returned from testifying before the Senate Agriculture Committee when the picketing group showed up.

Proposed Seal of Quality Getting Lukewarm Start

LANSING (UP)—Gov. Williams' proposal for a "seal of quality" for Michigan farm products is getting a lukewarm reception among agricultural experts.

The plan, outlined in his introductory message to the legislature, provides for inspection and labeling of quality products.

Rep. George A. Gillespie (R-Gaines), chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, says he will introduce a bill today to establish the seal of quality.

The bill is identical to measures introduced several times before, Gillespie said. Previous bills have been killed in committee. Gillespie said he would introduce the bill as a "feeler" to get reaction on the proposal.

Stanley Powell, legislative counsel for the Michigan Farm Bureau, said his organization is "not antagonistic" to the seal of quality idea.

"But we've discovered very little interest in it," he said. "I've certainly received no mandate to get busy and promote it."

William Brake, master of the State Grange, said the proposal "has merit, but the difficulty lies in policing it."

"The State Department of Agriculture is doing an excellent job of inspection on farm products but they need more manpower," he said. "We'd certainly back that."

Miles Nelson, chief of the department's Marketing and Enforcement division, said the bill would allow voluntary subscription to the program by producers.

"This bill has got teeth in it," he said. "Another good feature is that it won't cost the public any money. Producers will pay for inspection in return for the prestige of the seal of quality."

PTA Council Seeking School Building Talks for Growth Program

MILFORD—At a meeting at the Brooks Elementary School last night the Huron Valley Council of PTAs passed a resolution urging the board of education to call a special public meeting within the next few weeks.

Enrollment is now 515 and expected to pass the 700 mark by 1957. Harold Hansen, superintendent of schools pointed out that there is a two-year time lag between voting of revenues and actual construction.

Shade Trees Stage Return

Rush to Suburbs Cited for Revival of Business by Ohio Firm

KENT, Ohio (UP)—As part of the post-war rush to the suburbs, Americans are getting acquainted again with an old friend—the shade tree.

For the Davey Tree Expert Co. that spells good news and good business. The nation's oldest and largest tree-care company expects to plant and prune its way this year to a $9,000,000 volume, or double its 1948 figure.

"Business has boomed along with the suburban trend and new housing," said Martin L. Davey, Jr., president. "Then, too, the power saw and post-war chemicals for spraying provide better techniques for taking care of trees."

From its headquarters here, the company keeps tabs on 1,600 field men, or "tree doctors," ranging over 40 states.

If a customer wants a sycamore, oak or maple for his front lawn, Davey will find one—usually buying the tree from a farmer in the area—and deliver it. The firm also looks after the tree after re-planting it, thus providing a type of cradle-to-grave service.

The current homeowner taste in trees runs more to smaller ones of varied types than to massive trees popular a generation ago.

Field men often save trees uprooted by storms. The secret is to place the tree back into position before the roots dry out.

The migration to the suburbs and greater tree space—by American families is matched by a decentralization of industrial plants.

"Industrial firms are getting more tree-conscious and paying increased attention to their landscaping needs," said Davey.

He added that some people grow so fond of their shade trees that they move them—just like household goods—on going to a new home.

It's Against the Law

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (UP)—The city council passed a law prohibiting dogs from barking between 11 p. m. and 8 a. m. Two days later a dog barked—at 1:10 a. m. Its owner, William R. Price, was given a suspended fine of $5.

Helicopter Service Into Grand Canyon Would Put Mule Teams Out to Pasture

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (NEA)—A history-making pilot, first man trained by the Army to fly helicopters, has come up with a plan that could put the famous Grand Canyon mules out of business.

Fred H. Bowen of Burbank, Calif., only pilot to fly to the bottom of the canyon, land and return, is planning a helicopter ferry service into this mile-deep gorge. Carrying passengers and freight, he figures he can hop off the high rim and spin down in 20 minutes.

If he's right, the legendary and picturesque mule trains may be driven to permanent pasture by his "flying windmill" service. There's a growing demand for quick vacations by tourists, and Bowen says his helicopters can make getting into the Grand Canyon "like walking across the street." The only way into this famous gorge now is by steep, narrow, twisting trails which take hours to travel.

Bowen's unprecedented plan is backed by his more than 5,000 hours of helicopter air time and a sensational freighting job he recently handled for a big steel company.

The 34-year-old pilot put his 'copter into the Grand Canyon and back 44 consecutive times—all without mishap. Some 6,000 pounds of structural steel were ferried to an Indian village, nearly a mile below the corrugated rim.

"Nothing to it," says Bowen. "I simply pulled the ship off the rim, banked out over the canyon, then dove into it. A good updraft lifted me to the rim on the return trip."

Aerial tourists can make this exciting round trip into the canyon the same way when the ferry service begins. The difference will be that the course has been pioneered by Bowen's first trips, which made flying history.

His plans call for 10 flights a day. His "payload" per trip can be only one passenger and light luggage or equivalent freight.

The two-place helicopter will be based at a field near Grand Canyon village, and make daylight flights only. Cost of the service hasn't been set. "Maybe $15 each way," says Bowen. "Depends on the traffic."

Besides answering the demand for fast trips to the canyon floor and longer vacations there, the ferry service can give tourists a new and thrilling view of the canyon's colorful scenery.

Figures show that the famous mule trains have been packing a big load during the past 30 years, carrying more than 20 million people down the sides of Grand Canyon.

BOARDING HOUSE

Advances Made by Feed Grains

CHICAGO (U)—Feed grains made small advances but the rest of the grain market eased on the Board of Trade today.

Wheat started out higher, supported by reports of a better flour business, but quickly gave up its gains. Soybeans and rye had an easier time from the start. Dealings were less active than in the past couple of sessions.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to 1/4 lower, March $2.29; corn 1/4 to 1/2 higher, March $1.54; oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher, March $1.19; soybeans unchanged to 1/4 lower, January $2.80; and land 2 to 2 1/2 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $12.52.

Michigan King Not Forgotten

Beaver Island to Have Permanent Monument to Mormon Leader

ST. JAMES, Beaver Island, (UP)—This historic island in northern Lake Michigan will have a permanent monument in honor of the man who ruled the island as a king 100 years ago, it was announced today.

R. P. Hoffmann, Plymouth industrialist, said he has purchased the old Mormon printing house and will restore it as a historical landmark.

The building housed Michigan's first daily newspaper north of Grand Rapids, the Northern Islander, and is the last remaining landmark from the era of King James Jesse Strang, who ruled the island from 1850 to 1854.

Hoffmann said that after the building is restored to its original state, he hopes to develop it into a museum on Mormon history and the history of printing in America. King Strang was a Mormon leader and all of his followers were Mormons.

Hoffmann purchased the building built in 1850, from mFrancis E. Left for $2,500. Left has been threatening for several years to raze the building to make room for cottages.

Dr. Lewis Beeson, executive secretary of the Michigan Historical Commission, hailed purchase of the building by Hoffmann as "the best thing that has happened to Beaver Island in years."

Beeson said the commission will name a special committee to work with the Beaver Island Historical Society, which will be formed by Hoffmann and other summer and permanent residents of the island, to raise funds to repay Hoffmann part of the purchase price and to finance restoration of the building.

Hoffmann said he visited Beaver Island for the first time last October when he bought some property for a summer home and that while on the island he heard the printing shop was going to be torn down. He said he immediately obtained an option to buy the building.

The newly formed Beaver Island Boat Co. announced recently that it will build a $75,000 luxury ferry to operate between the island and Charlevoix, a distance of 30 miles. The new boat is expected to be a boon to the island's tourist industry.

Most of the work of promoting Beaver Island and its historic significance has been done by persons who live here only during the summer.

Compliment May Result in New Hat for Mamie

WASHINGTON (INS)—If Mamie Eisenhower gets a hat in the mail one of these days, it may be the result of a hint dropped by Democratic Sen. Robert Kerr.

Kerr ended a weekly newsletter to the home folks in Oklahoma by reporting that when wives of college presidents were received at the White House recently, the first lady held up the line several minutes by exclaiming to one woman, "My dear, that cute hat! Turn around and let me see it."

Kerr, who said that he heard of the incident from an Oklahoman in the line, added: "I don't know if the lady will send her hat to Mrs. Eisenhower but when the President admired my tie, I sent him one just like it."

Rainfall in Seattle, Wash., averages 58 inches annually.

Holland Wants Channel

HOLLAND —The Holland City Council Wednesday night adopted a resolution asking Congress to provide funds for improving the channel from Lake Michigan here.

Copies of the resolution will go to both Michigan senators and Rep. Ford (R-Mich.).

Predicts 70 Pct. Boost in College Enrollment

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Dr. J. Paul Leonard, president of San Francisco State College, predicts that by 1970 the number of young people attending college in the U.S.

Leonard, speaking before the colleges and universities department of a recent American Home Economics Assn. convention here, predicted there will be 13,600,000 people of college age by 1970. He estimates 3,400,000 of them will be going to college, compared to the present nationwide enrollment of 2,250,000.

Gold was first discovered in Colorado along a small stream that flowed into Cherry creek, not far distant from the present site of Denver.
