3 OK as Airplane Rams Into Truck

By DICK HANSON

Three men miraculously escaped serious injury last night when a twin-engine plane crashed into a semi-truck on M59, opposite Pontiac Municipal Airport.

The truck driver suffered only slight chest bruises when the impact flipped his empty rig.

The flight instructor and his student pilot walked away from the demolished plane with minor facial cuts.

The two pilots, Joseph Robert Greenhalgh, 46, of 75 Ottawa Drive, and his student, Stewart Palka, 37, of 3358 West Wind Drive, Commerce Township, were treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital.

Pontiac state troopers pulled Herman Bledsoe, 41, of Orleans, Ind., from the cab of the overturned truck. He was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and later released.

Didn't Know What Hit Me — Driver

"I didn't know what hit me," said Herman Bledsoe's reaction when a 4,000-pound airplane clobbered his semitruck as the 41-year-old trucker drove along M59 by Pontiac Municipal Airport last night.

Bledsoe, of Orleans, Ind., was en route to Albion to pick up a load of pig iron when his truck was hit. He didn't see the plane before the crash.

"Lucky for them (the two fliers) in the stricken plane who escaped with minor cuts) I wasn't handling that load of pig iron," said Bledsoe at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The empty aluminum trailer served as a cushion when the plane piled into its side, passed through the top and came to rest against a roadside tree.

Helped by state troopers from his overturned truck cab, Bledsoe

2 Charter Amendments on Pensions and Dogs

When voters go to the polls next Monday in the city's general election, they will be faced with two proposals on the ballot.

One is a proposed amendment to the City Charter concerning a new pension plan for Pontiac firemen and policemen.

The other is a proposed amendment to the city's dog ordinance, concerning a law to require rabies vaccination for all dogs before they can be licensed.

The two proposals are explained in the following articles.

CHARTER AMENDMENT

To Establish New Pension Plan for Policemen and Firemen

Statement of Purpose

Shall sub-sections 2.24, 2.25 and 2.26 of Section 2 and Sections 3, 4 and 18 of Chapter XVIII of the City Charter be amended to remove Policemen and Firemen from the existing employee pension plan and to add Sections 29 and 40 thereto, transferring pension assets of Policemen and Firemen to a new pension system and adding Chapter XIX to the City Charter creating a new pension plan for Policemen and Firemen resulting in increased pension and annuity benefits and increased costs. The increased costs shall be paid by the City and the Policemen and Firemen.

This proposal asks the voter if he wants to take firemen and policemen from the present Chapter 18 of Pontiac's City Charter, and establish a Chapter 19 for fire and police personnel alone.

Chapter 18 is the current pension and benefit system for all city employees.

Passage of the proposal would leave Chapter 18 in effect, but only for general city employees. Passage would also, automatically, add the new Chapter 19, which is the proposed pension plan for firemen and policemen alone.

As with any proposal, there are two sides. Both sides agree the proposed pension is sound and that fire and police personnel should have increased pension benefits.

The argument centers around cost. The reason this is being put to public vote is because it is a charter change and its cost will be paid by taxpayers.

Briefly, both sides agree the pension would cost taxpayers roughly $100,000 next year. City officials feel this is too much. Firemen and policemen feel it isn't.

WOULD MEAN INCREASE

The cost would necessitate a 1936 tax rate increase of 35-cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation. The 1962 tax rate already stands to increase some 26 cents.

Since firemen and policemen are not covered by Social Security, their benefits currently are about $47,000 under those for all other city employees combined. The city contends that adding this amount to benefits of fire and police personnel would be acceptable but adding $100,000 is not without voter approval.

8-Millionth Auto Produced at Pontiac Motor Division

U.S. Lawyers Studying Way to 'Break' Steel

Meet Today and Check Possible Antitrust Move Against Big Firm

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Department lawyers were reported considering today possible antitrust action aimed at breaking up the powerful U.S. Steel Co. which touched off the steel price rise.

Sources close to the situation acknowledged that as an angered administration held a top-level White House conference on the increase. There was no sign of immediate action from that meeting.

President Kennedy, who had already delivered a hot blast at the industry's action, sat in on the meeting.

Event Heralded by Estes as Most Significant

Says Growth of Firm Is Tribute to Employees' Know-How, Ingenuity

A small car looked mighty big to Pontiac Motor Division officials today.

Rolling off the production line this morning, a sleek, compact Tempest LeMans convertible became a Pontiac Motor's eight-millionth car.

The event was heralded by E. M. (Pete) Estes, GM vice president and general manager of the division, as "the most significant production milestone in our 36-year history."

It came less than three years after the seven-millionth Pontiac was assembled—far cry from the 10 years it took to produce Pontiac's first million cars before 1925 and the five more years to produce the second million.

Shortly after driving the bright red convertible off the final assembly line, Estes told company officials gathered for the milestone celebration that "the vast strides taken by our division over the past year are truly a tribute to the know-how, ingenuity and loyalty of Pontiac employees who take such great pride in building a quality product."

In a statement observing the eight-millionth Pontiac milestone, Estes said:

"Pontiac's popularity growth has been phenomenal. In 1925, our first year, we built 76,000 cars. This still stands as an all-time high for production and quality achievement of a manufacturer. Last year for the first time in our history we achieved third place in the industry and the future looks very bright."

After World War II, Pontiac recorded a rapid succession of million milestones, beginning with three million in 1949, four million in 1951, five million in 1954, six million in 1956 and seven million in 1959.

Charge Signals Attack

JFK at War With Steel

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in his administration President Kennedy is engaged in a furious battle with a major segment of U.S. industry. He threw himself into the fight with a charge that big steel showed ruthless disregard of the public by raising prices.

Kennedy launched the attack Wednesday at a news conference in which he denounced U.S. Steel the West Coast shipping strike. (It got the injunction a short time later.)

But through the half-hour, neither his or newsmen's focus on steel.

Kennedy said the United Steelworkers Union, which signed a contract he thought would hold prices in line, added by its responsibilities. "And this govern-most also has responsibilities which we intend to meet," he added.

In view of the speed with which other steel manufacturers fell in line behind U.S. Steel, he said, the Justice Department and Federal Trade Commission will determine whether any laws have been broken. He obviously had at least the antitrust laws in mind.

Congressional committees will inquire into the need for new laws, he said.

Throughout the steel negotiations, Kennedy said, his administration sought no commitments from the companies or union. He and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, he insisted, emphasized the government's only interest was obtaining an agreement that would not precipitate a price increase.

Offer Beer Tax to Bail Out State

GOP House Committee Has 'Nuisance' Plan as Countermeasure

LANING (AP) — Michigan beer drinkers will bail the state out of its financial troubles if the legislature adopts a $97.6-million tax program proposed by a committee of Republican lawmakers.

The seven-man committee of House members, several of them key leaders, submitted the multi-tax program to a GOP caucus yesterday as a counter measure to Gov. Swainson and Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, R-Tipton, chairman of the House Taxation Committee.

Included on the GOP committee was Henry Hogan of Birmingham.

More than half of the new tax revenue — $51 million — would come from a three-cent-a-bottle tax on beer, a 900 per cent increase in the present tax.

"The beer tax of $1.25 a barrel has not been increased since prohibition went off in 1933, except for an 18-month period in 1959 and 1960 when it went up to $2.50," said Rep. Wilfred G. Bassett, R-Jackson, House speaker pro tem and a member of the special tax committee.

The committee also proposed a five per cent tax on theater performances, sports contests and other amusements, based on the federal amusements levy. It would yield about $1.8 million a year.

INSURANCE LEVY

Rounding out the package would be four taxes included in a $50-million package of "nuisance" levies that expired last year. They include a four per cent use tax on telephone and telegraph services, worth $8 million; a penny-a-pack tax on cigarettes, producing $10 million; a four per cent liquor tax, which would yield $7 million; and a one-mill corporate franchise tax, worth $13.4 million.

Corp. and fellow steel price hikers with the strongest language he has leveled at anyone or anything since becoming president.

His voice rising, his forefinger poking for emphasis, Kennedy said steel price boosters had displayed "utter contempt for the interests of 185 million Americans." He said their "pursuit of private power and profit exceeds their own sense of public responsibility."

Kennedy made important announcements at his meeting with newsmen:

Barring serious deterioration of the international situation, he said, the 145,000 Reservists and National Guardsmen called to active duty last year will be allowed to return home in August.

The government would seek a Taft-Hartley injunction to force an 80-day cooling off period in

Rainfall Coming—But Maybe Not; Cooler on Friday

Will the weatherman change his mind again and shift to the east rainfall headed this way, as he did last night, or will he shower the Pontiac area according to the forecast? That is the question.

Showers are supposed to end Friday morning with the temperature somewhat colder, the high near 47. Tonight's low is expected to drop to 34.

Miss Spring refuses to be pushed aside. She'll be back again Saturday with the forecast of fair and warmer.

Morning northerly winds at 8 to 15 miles per hour will become northeasterly to north at 10 to 20 m.p.h. during the night.

Thirty-four was the lowest recorded in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 54 at 2 p.m.

Two Charter Amendments on City Servants, Canines

Much revolves around how much interest the proposed pension fund can earn as it is constantly invested in future years.

The higher the interest rate earning per year, the less cost to the city and taxpayers.

The present plan's interest rate earning assumption over the long haul is 3 per cent. The interest rate assumption for the proposed plan is 3 1/2 per cent.

If the proposed plan is adopted and it earns less than 3 1/2 per cent average interest the cost will go up. If it earns more than 3 1/2 per cent, the cost will go down. The interest assumption is subject to revision in five years.

A. G. Galt and Co., consulting actuaries for the city, believe that a 3 per cent is a reasonable interest rate assumption since "it is not likely that the retirement system (proposed pension plan) will continue to earn 3 1/2 per cent."

Pro

- Cost to the city and taxpayers would be considerably less than $100,000 next year if comparison is made assuming a 3 per cent interest earning per annum for both the proposed and current plans.
- Although the pension board has adopted a rate of 3 per cent per annum for the current plan, it is presently earning 3 1/2 per cent.
- Police and firemen also argue that even a 3 per cent rate isn't much. For someone with a home assessed at $5,000, the tax hike would total $1.75 per year or less than 3 1/2 cents per week.

Con

- Based on 1962 pay rates, the proposed pension plan would cost the city about $107,000, earning 3 1/2 per cent interest, and at least $182,000 earning 3 per cent interest, in 1963.
- The actuary for the firemen and policemen agrees that the plan would probably cost Pontiac about $100,000 in its first year of use (1963).
- To raise an additional $100,000 would require a tax rate increase to all city taxpayers of 35 cents.

Dog Ordinance

To Amend Dog Ordinance No. 869

"Shall the ordinance to amend the title of Ordinance 869 and to amend Sections 6 and 7 of said ordinance so as to compel compulsory vaccination of dogs be adopted?"

The second proposal to be voted on by Pontiac residents next Monday asks the question: Do you want a law that says all dogs in Pontiac must be vaccinated against rabies at regular intervals?

If passed, the proposal would change the present city dog ordinance in two ways:

- Require proof of rabies immunization of all dogs before they can be licensed each year.
- Change the annual dog license fee for buying a dog license from $5 to $10.

In effect, the proposal would make it illegal to own or harbor a dog in Pontiac that wasn't immunized against rabies, since it is already illegal to own or harbor an unlicensed dog.

A valid certificate of immunization would be issued by the veterinarian who had the vaccination, showing protection through Dec. 31 of the following year.

The law would not apply to dogs less than six months of age. The license fee would remain the same as it is now — $5 before the deadline; $5 after.

The law does not require a rabies shot each year since some rabies vaccines give immunization periods of two or more years.

2 Daily Papers in Detroit Fail to Print Today

DETROIT — Detroit's two daily newspapers suspended publication today following a contract dispute between the Teamsters Union and the morning Detroit Free Press.

Teamsters Local 372 went on strike against the Free Press yesterday. The morning paper suspended publication of its Thursday editions.

The Detroit News, an afternoon publication, announced today it had suspended publication of its Thursday editions.

Together the papers serve a metropolitan area of some three-million population. Federal and state mediators moved into the Free Press contract dispute this afternoon, summoning management officials and officers of Local 372 to a meeting in an effort to effect a settlement.

... of both," said one government lawyer.

The attorney general indicated last night his department was looking at the steel price increase situation in at least three aspects:

1. Possible antitrust action.

2. A 1951 consent order signed by major steel companies after the Federal Trade Commission accused them of unfair pricing practices.

3. An examination of whether present antitrust laws are adequate.

The steel industry, however, said it did not admit having engaged in them in the past.

But in something of an understatement of Kennedy's views, Hatchet told reporters:

"I think it is safe to say he would like steel prices to remain as they were when the steel contract was signed."

Four cabinet members sat in on the conference at the White House. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was there. So were Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Undersecretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler, Chairman Walter Heller of the Council on Economic Advisors, and Paul H. Rand Dixon of the Federal Trade Commission.

Investigating officer Roy Farnell said whoever called for the ambulance called a white ambulance.

The Day in Birmingham Golf Fee Increases to Be Refunded

BIRMINGHAM — Golfers who have paid the recently increased membership fee for use of the Springdale course will receive refunds from the city.

The City Commission has recommended the increase so that the cost of operating the course would be shared more equally by members and those using the facility on a day-to-day basis.

An expanded elementary summer school program will be offered this year in the Birmingham District, according to James Liddle, director.

Registration will begin Monday and continue through May 15.

Parents may register their children at the school they are now attending. Nonresidents may enroll their children by contacting Liddle at the Pembroke Elementary School.

Liddle said the summer program would provide special help for students who are having reading

Wants JFK Ban on U.S. Funds for All-White Houses

WASHINGTON — Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver said today he feels use of federal money to build segregated housing should be banned by presidential order.

But he added, in hearings before the Civil Rights Commission, "The timing on this is up to the President."

A number of groups, including the Civil Rights Commission, have urged President Kennedy to ban use of federal funds where housing is occupied on the basis of racial discrimination.

However, Kennedy made no mention of any plan for such an order in a statement read earlier to the commission.

The President's house was a decent home in a suitable environment for all Americans — cannot be reached while equal access to the housing market is denied to some because of race or religion.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—A Negro girl, who lay injured in a street about 15 minutes while a white ambulance driver waited and waited for a Negro ambulance to show up, was improved today but still remained in serious condition.

Upon arriving and finding the victim to be a Negro, Farnell said he suspected a Negro ambulance had been dispatched.

"We waited, thinking every minute a Negro ambulance would show up," Farnell said, "and when nobody came, I asked the driver of the white ambulance if he would do me a personal favor and take the girl."

Atom Power Station Operating in Canada

ROLEFSTON, Ont. (AP) — The atomic furnace in Canada's first nuclear power station went into operation yesterday. The $33-million experimental station is scheduled to start producing electricity in several months after a variety of tests.

The station is about 150 miles northwest of Ottawa and 12 miles up the Ottawa River from the Chalk River Atomic Energy Research Center.

The station will produce 20,000 kilowatts of power but not economically. Canadian scientists believe information obtained from its operation will make possible power production from large plants that will be competitive with conventional methods of producing electricity.

No, No, Rover, It's Not That Kind of a Bone

BATH, England (AP) — Keith Webber, 20, suffered severe leg injuries five days ago when his motorcycle and a car collided. At Royal United Hospital it was found a piece of his thigh bone was missing.

County police went to the scene of the accident and a police dog found the bone in a roadside hedge. The surgeon in charge of the case said the bone has been sterilized and will be fitted back into place. He expressed hope it will knit into place normally.

Starve on 'Harvest Trip'

White's Nomination Approved by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Byron R. White's nomination as an associate justice of the Supreme Court has whizzed to speedy Senate confirmation.

The voice vote came yesterday, after the Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved President Kennedy's choice of national accounting firm of Wolf taker. Whitaker retired April 1 on advice of his physician. White, 44, a former Rhodes scholar who was nicknamed "Whizzer" as an All-American football player in the 1930s, sat silent for nearly two hours while witnesses sang his praises before the judiciary committee.

Shah of Iran Visits U.S. Requesting Aid

An interesting visitor this week in Washington is the Shah of Iran and Empress FARAH.

The young Shah is held in deep affection by the large proportion of the illiterate masses who revere the monarchy as an institution. The dynasty, only dating back to 1925, is a recent one by any standards.

Naturally one reason the Shah is popular at home is that Queen FARAH presented him with an heir in October 1960. After a visit with President KENNEDY the Shah's tour will include U. S. military installations.

This is for the home folks in hopes that it will present an image of close association with the United States. And of course, like a great majority of the callers in Washington, the Shah would like more military aid.

The KENNEDY Administration, on the other hand, stresses financial and economic assistance. Since 1945 U.S. aid to Iran, military and economic, has come to about $1.5 billion. This is a lot of sugar to be passing out without imposing some requirements.

Our current aid program is attempting to work somewhat differently, in that some basic requirements would be established over a long-term financing program. We hope that any outlay to the Shah will have some strings attached.

Iran has always been a target of Soviet Russia. During World War II the land was jointly occupied by Russia, Great Britain and the United States.

The future of Iran could be questionable. It was just a year ago that Soviet Premier KHRUSHCHEV declared a Communist revolution in Iran inevitable.

Nuclear Testing Sure to Bring Protests

Beginning about mid-April, the fallout controversy is certain to intensify. Large quantities of radioactive debris from last autumn's Soviet tests of nuclear weapons will come down with the spring rains.

The September-October tests, of course, included the big blast which had a force of about 58 megatons.

With the Geneva talks on a test ban deadlocked, U.S. plans, as outlined by President Kennedy in a nationwide broadcast on March 2, call for resumption of testing in the atmosphere in late April and early May. We have no other choice.

It is expected that about 25 weapons of various types will be exploded in the vicinity of Johnston and Christmas Islands south of Hawaii, over a period of two or three months. They are to be conducted, according to the President, under conditions which "restrict the radioactive fallout to an absolute minimum, far less than the contamination created by last fall's Soviet explosions."

Nevertheless, the President will be bombarded with appeals for postponement or outright abandonment of the tests. One such was made by 50 American women, members of Women Strike for Peace, on April 5.

In a cable from Geneva they told the President: "Disarmament conference delegates interviewed agree you hold key to future." Nuts. Russia holds the key to the future, make no mistake about that.

form is strontium 90, which may cause bone cancer or leukemia.

But despite extensive research, little is definitely known about the effects of fallout radiation on the human body. The strontium 90 being taken in our food is well below the amount the experts think might be harmful. Russia could call a halt to this whole sorry mess if she so desired.

The Man About Town

He Likes Mailmen

And Is Happiest When He Can Be With Them

By JOE HAAAS

That old theory that all dogs are a menace to mail carriers is exploded. Here's a mongrel canine that loves them. The only time he wags his tail is when he sees one. And then he nearly wags it off. When he accompanied the family to Grand Rapids the other day, he followed a mailman, and nearly got lost. In Lansing he saw one of the car. He doesn't recognize any other profession. This dog is owned by Charles Coutsaras of Birmingham, and distributes his affection among the carriers in his own city. His original name was "Growler," but he has not growled any since going for the mails, and now is called "Uncle Sam."

Glove compartment: An oversized boy's pocket. Surely chasing old man winter off the map are tulpas of William W. Barnett of 285 Pioneer St. His Red Empress were in bloom April 7, and others are bursting in.

Somewhat out of the regular blooming season is a poinsettia plant in the home of Mrs. Alfred W. Martin at 2140 Lancaster St., now in blossom.

Quite concise and to the point is the nationally advertised expression about the Pontiac Tempest car:

"The 4 that acts like an 8."

Most of us are quite in agreement with that astute observer

Morris Manetow of Birmingham, who phones that the annual Oscar movie awards have become a pain in the neck.

Herself prominent in that city for 35 years, and sister of a former Flint mayor,

Mrs. Lola Kelsey, died this week at her home on Holly Road, near the Oakland County line, aged 99.

Our readers are getting more prompt. Last year over 75 entries in our baseball contest arrived too late. This year there are less than a dozen.

In his 26 years of attending opening day baseball games at Detroit.

Bill Schanck of Birmingham says they've been snowed out, rained out or frozen out five times. "And on other occasions," he adds, "I've wished I'd taken along a hot water heater, and filled it with the remarks thrown at the umpires."

"With the commercials on a single TV program running from diaper rash and constipation to perfumes, cosmetics and hair dryers," phones

Mrs. Elizabeth Leach of Waterford, "There's no doubt about what's the matter with television."

My principal peeve is the use of the word "elderly" in connection with anybody over 60. And to call them "oldsters" should be a capital crime.

A native of Oakland County was Mrs. Gertrude Hawk of Flint, whose funeral was held today, born in Farmington 96 years ago.

Where'd You Learn to Shoot, Soldier?

Look at Other Side of Steel Picture

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy has made perhaps the worst blunder of his political career. He has delivered a severe blow against the sound system of private capitalism in America. The statement the President made to his Wednesday press conference not only impugned the integrity and patriotism of the various executives who manage one of America's biggest industries—steel—but, in effect, told other businessmen that, when their costs go up due to labor union extortion, they must absorb such costs, without increasing their prices.

Without waiting to examine all the facts on both sides, Mr. Kennedy spoke impulsively and gave the impression that he had never read the statement issued on Tuesday night by the U. S. Steel Corp. in announcing its reasons for an increase in prices.

Yet he called its action in raising prices "a wholly unjustifiable and irresponsible defiance of the public interest."

The threat to use punitive powers will prove to be a psychological discouragement to industry leaders throughout the country.

Mr. Kennedy didn't reveal any knowledge either of just how prices are developed competitively in industry. He talked as if he didn't know that the largest company usually takes the lead and the others follow. This is the result of the antitrust laws of the day.

"SUDDENESS?"

He spoke of the "suddenness" of the decision of many companies—as if for several months now everyone in the industry hasn't known the approximate increase in labor costs to be expected from the union settlement and the impact it would have upon prices.

It's only fair to present the other side. Businessmen will understand it, even if the President doesn't. Here is what the U. S. Steel Corp. said in part:

"Since our last overall adjustment in the summer of 1958, the level of steel prices has not been increased but, if anything, has declined somewhat."

"This situation, in the face of steadily mounting production costs which have included four increases in steelworker wages and benefits prior to the end of last year, has been due to the competitive pressures from domestic producers and from imports of foreign-made steel as well as from other materials which are used as substitutes for steel."

"The severity of these competitive pressures has not diminished; and to their influence may be attributed the fact that the partial catch-up adjustment announced today is substantially less than the cost increases which have already occurred since 1958, without taking into consideration the additional costs which will result from the new labor agreements which become effective next July 1."

The steel corporation emphasized that its last annual report had shown clearly "the effect of the profit squeeze," and then added: "In the three years since the end of 1958, United States Steel has spent $1,385,000,000 for modernization and replacement of facilities and for the development of new sources of raw materials."

"During the period 1958-1961, we have actually borrowed a total of $800 million to provide for present and future needs. And this must be repaid out of profits that have not yet been earned, and will not be earned for some years to come."

"During these three years, moreover, U. S. Steel's profits have dropped to the lowest levels since 1952; while reinvested profit—which is all the profit there is to be plowed back in the business after payment of dividends—has declined from $115 million in 1959 to less than $3 million last year."

Small wonder that steel shares in the stock market have been dropping in value recently, particularly since it became apparent that the new labor settlement would cost the industry an estimated $100 million a year.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For thou, my God, hast revealed to thy servant that thou wilt build a house for him; therefore, thy servant has found courage to pray before thee.—I Chron. 17:25.

Take courage. It is sweet to talk with God; we walk in the wilderness today and in the promised land tomorrow.—Dwight L. Moody.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcohol in Any Form Narcotic, Not Stimulant

It is beyond my capacity to judge, but it may be that my teetotalism is a bit extreme, on the rabid side. Many friends or acquaintances with whom I have discussed the "alcohol and narcotics" question think so.

In every instance, I believe, people who think so are occasional, social or habitual drinkers. I cannot recall a total abstainer who has considered my view of drinking either prejudiced or unfair.

We must stipulate that alcohol in any form, dose or circumstance is a narcotic and not a stimulant. This is the consensus of physiologists, therapists, pharmacologists and physicians.

In the 1961 winter issue of the periodical "Addictions," published by the Alcoholism and Drug Addiction Research Foundation, Ontario, Canada, Robert D. Russell, professor of health education at Stanford University in California, says we should not associate alcohol and narcotics too closely, lest we foster inadvertently the idea that "alcohol and narcotics are alike, and I see people drinking all the time, so narcotics can't be so bad." Are college students as morose as that?

At the same time, I maintain that smoking is injurious to persons under 21 and for the young person's character especially, the pledge not to drink should include the pledge not to smoke before the age of 21.

It is not because I am prejudiced against cigarette and cigar smoking, but simply that nearly all the ill effects from smoking, such as tobacco amblyopia (partial blindness), phantom gastric or duodenal ulcer (all the ulcer symptoms but no X-ray confirmation), tobacco heart, etc. seem to occur in cigar or cigarette smokers, seldom in pipe smokers.

And these figures, I think, for the ill effects of smoking are not from nicotine but from CO (carbon monoxide) anoxia. The nicotine in tobacco is destroyed by combustion. Combustion of tobacco and the paper of cigarettes produces CO, and the immediate effects of unaccustomed or too much smoking are identical with the effects produced by breathing air slightly polluted with CO.

Actual chemical analyses of cigar smoke and cigarette smoke show a considerable amount of CO, whereas chemical analysis of pipe smoke shows little or none.

Voice of the People:

'Washington Crime Wave Is Disgrace to Country'

I was shocked to read Ruth Montgomery's story in The Press concerning the Negro crime wave in Washington, D. C. The intemperance and immorality cited in the article are astounding. That these conditions should exist in our nation's capital is a shame and an outrage.

What will the President and the Supreme Court do to correct this barbarity? Will Congress take any action? It is certain that if this were a question of forcing racial integration in the south, the armed forces and FBI would be pressed into action.

However, since nothing more serious than murder, rape and armed robbery is involved in Washington, it is doubtful that the branches of the federal government will initiate any drastic action. It might mean the loss of the votes of the pressure groups.

'Another Chaperone Needed for Dances'

The Teen Club in Auburn Heights holds a dance weekly and it is chaperoned by two mothers and the well-attended. Now one mother has to stop. No one else has volunteered. Surely some of the parents could give an evening now and then. A well-chaperoned dance is a much better place than roaming the streets. Call Ulysses 2-1055.

I compliment The Pontiac Press for the new crossword puzzle as it is much easier to work. It is especially nice for those of us whose eyesight isn't too keen. Why isn't there a puzzle in the Saturday paper?

Believes in Men Reporting Dogs

Having meter men report dogs is a good idea. I have never called the dog warden or police without giving my full name and address. My yard is a mess from stray unleashed dogs. I can't tell the dog catcher where they live. I am against dogs running over other people's yards. When I can't sleep for a dog barking, I'm the kind to tell the police. People near us have a dog tied and it barks every single minute. I'd sign my name but I'd get 1,000 telephone calls.

Warns Keego People to Vote in Election

If more people would've voted, the results of Monday's election might have been different. Keego Harbor has a population of 2,767 with 1,250 registered voters. It is a shame that only 328 people voted.

One favor I can run in the next election and the people had better vote to keep me out.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

We Must Help Reduce Taxeaters

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE L-482: Charley W., aged 48, is a barber.

While it was getting a haircut recently, he began complaining about taxes.

"The government is going to drive us all out of business before long," he griped. "Unless we can reverse the trend. What's the answer, Dr. Crane?"

"Charley," I began, "suppose Uncle Sam should use your taxes to include the barber shop? He isn't a barber shop owner, is he?"

"And let's assume you were forced to furnish all the tools, plus light and heat, and pay the wages of all the rival barbers employed. Then, if the shop was in debt at the end of each year, Uncle Sam would also make you pay the losses."

"Do you think that would be fair to you, a private barber trying to finance your own shop?"

Charley snorted his "no."

Yet that is why taxes are sooming in America. For Uncle Sam has created The competing corporations, valued conservatively at over $100 billion, which are now competing with us hardworking taxpayers.

Those 700 governmental competitors—what fair? Or the American way?

Certainly not, and all loyal Democrats as well as Republicans know very well that Socialism is in the saddle at Washington. For our founding fathers expected Uncle Sam to be simply the impartial referee or umpire, to supervise our free competition on the playing field.

Thus, Uncle Sam was to referee competition between factory vs. factory, or grocer vs. grocer, doctor vs. doctor, or barber vs. barber.

But Uncle Sam was not to invade the playing field as a playing manager.

Our forefathers did not expect Uncle Sam to compete with us taxpayers in business or the professions.

But in 1916, Uncle Sam invaded the playing field when he started the Postal Savings System, thereby competing with every small bank and life insurance firm in America. Since then he has invaded 260 other fields.

If those 700 tax-exempt government corporations were sold back to private investors, then the $100 billion realized from such sales would cut down our federal debt one-third.

We taxpayers vote for only 520 people in Washington—our 100 U.S. senators, plus 427 representatives, plus one president and one vice-president.

But there are now over 2,377,684 civilian employees of our government.

Yet we never voted for 2,377,684 of them—they are tax-exempt bureaucrats.

So send for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic." We taxpayers must cut down the tax-eaters.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan 48301. I'll send you a free copy of my booklet "How to Save Our Republic" and 20 cents to cover the cost of the booklet and postage.

Judge Moore Challenges County

Asks Attack on Drop-Out Problem

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore yesterday challenged Oakland County to show leadership in solving the problem of children dropping out of schools, beginning with a countywide pooling of information on what causes drop outs and what is being done to keep them in school.

Moore also challenged taxpayers to either pay more for education now or be faced with even higher costs in welfare and unemployment taxes.

An estimated 30 school board presidents and superintendents who had gathered in Moore's office said they will discuss the possibility of a countywide study at the next meeting of the Oakland County School Superintendents Association.

Describing himself as an interested layman, Moore said he had called the meeting (1) "because this is a problem for everyone: schools, juvenile courts, social services, welfare agencies and parents." (2) because he sees some of the drop-out products in his court as delinquents, and (3) because "there is a better chance to get leadership from a county with a medium-sized problem than from one with a much larger problem such as Wayne County has."

CLEARING HOUSE: He said he sought to establish a central clearing house on the county problem.

Moore's contention that more money would help keep youngsters in school was backed indirectly by County Supt. of Schools William J. Emerson. Dr. Emerson said a twofold program would achieve more than any other in remedying a crucial factor in drop-outs—illiteracy.

"If you folks in this room really want to get at the problem of reading," Emerson told the school officials, "you'll see to it that two things happen in your schools:

"1 — Get for your teachers the best texts, supplementary texts, and trade books available and see to it that not a single classroom contains a single teacher unprepared for his task.

"2 — Have not more than 20 kids in a classroom."

Both upping of teacher standards and reduction of class size could be expected to require larger school budgets.

Responsibility of parents for the drop-out problem was stressed by the Pontiac School District representative, Pontiac Central High School attendance counselor Harold Smead.

Smead said the Pontiac district already had done nearly everything suggested by Judge Moore in improving conditions to keep children in school. Smead added:

"Seventy per cent of the drop-outs come from what we call 'unusual' homes. These are homes in which either both parents are working, or the child is with a stepparent or is living with a relative such as an aunt or an uncle.

"The other 30 per cent almost all come from homes where both parents are in the home, but where either the mother is an alcoholic or the father is, or perhaps one has had a heart attack, or one of them is sick.

"I don't think we're going to improve our drop-out record until we do something about the home and the family."

A suggestion that a new look at the entire high school program may be needed was made by one school official, who said that in training youngsters for useful jobs in life "we're doing more of the same thing than we have ever done before but our social situation is changing and perhaps we need a complete reversal of the standard pattern."

The question also was raised whether high schools actually channel into certain programs (such as a vocational program) those youngsters with a special aptitude for that work or merely use such programs as a haven for slow learners.

The school officials at the end of the one-and-a-half hour session agreed that a greater exchange of information was needed in the county. They also conveyed by a show of hands their willingness to consider a countywide study at the May meeting of the county superintendents.

School Board to Act on Budget

Waterford Twp. Group Meets Tonight Over Increased Figures

Members of the Waterford Township Board of Education will hold a special meeting tonight to act on a proposed budget of $3,229,073.68 for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The proposed budget compares to that of $3,833,422.42 under which the school district is currently operating.

The major portion of the $335,451.26 increase comes in the category of instruction. The current budget provides for $3,717,244 while the proposed budget calls for $3,867,092, an increase of $149,848.

This boost results in the anticipated hiring of 27 additional teachers to meet an enrollment increase, and also the provision for teacher increments under the salary schedule. No general pay raise for teachers is provided in the proposed budget.

Auditorium Bids Top $494,564

Low Figure Skips Cost of Items in Alternate Construction Estimates

The lowest price Oakland County can expect to pay for the proposed auditorium at the County Service Center is $494,560, based on construction bids opened yesterday by the County Board of Auditors.

The price tag, although it comes close to the architect's total estimate of $494,564, does not include costs for such items as marble wallcovering, granite, or aluminum facing, covered in alternate bids.

County engineers have until Monday to tabulate the figures in 10 construction bids, eight electrical bids and 12 bids for plumbing and heating fixtures. The engineers will make their recommendations for awarding of contracts when the County Board of Supervisors meets at 9:30 a.m.

The building is to be built with the county's capital improvement funds.

The low base bid of $324,000 for construction was submitted by the F.H. Martin Co. of Detroit. Adding the low bids of $30,590 for electrical wiring and $131,000 for heating and plumbing fixtures brings the total to $484,590.

Second low base bidder on construction was the Bundy Construction Co., 1509 S. Telegraph Road, Bloomfield Township, with $325,000. The Bundy firm is building the new wing onto the courthouse tower.

TO RAZE COURTHOUSE

County auditors also opened bids to raze the old, vacant courthouse and former prosecutor's office at Saginaw and Huron streets.

In contrast to the new construction bids, where bidding was sharp, the demolition bids ranged from a low of $33,700 to a high of $128,000. Kalka Equipment and Contracting Co. of Detroit was low bidder.

Reservists, Guardsmen Will Go Home in August

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 145,000 National Guardsmen and Reservists will go marching home from the cold war in August unless the Communists raise a new hot war threat.

This will clip as much as two months from the year they could have been kept in uniform under a special act authorizing their call to duty at the height of the Berlin crisis last fall.

TO BE READY

But President Kennedy, in announcing plans for the August release, stressed Wednesday that these Army, Navy and Air Force units "will remain available, in a new and heightened state of combat readiness, if a new crisis should arise."

The decision to demobilize the Guard and Reserve does not stem from any marked change in the international situation which continues to have many dangers and tensions, Kennedy said at his news conference.

"It is the result, rather, of our successful build-up of permanent instead of emergency strength," he said.

Because of higher draft calls and enlistments, the nation's regular armed forces will total 2,680,700 next September after the Guard and Reserves return home. This will be about 300,000 more than last June 30, before the Berlin crisis mobilization began.

In a mark of gratitude, Kennedy said "I know that I speak for all Americans in paying tribute to all those whose emergency service in this year of growing national strength is doing so much for the national interest."

The Army, which has 110,000 of the Guardsmen and Reservists under arms, informed Congress it plans to move major units to their home stations during the first 10 days of August. All units, it said, will be released before Sept. 1.

The exact dates for release of specific units hinge on transportation and processing requirements, the Army said.

UP Rocket Plan Stirs Canadians

Mayors of Communities Across Border Protest They're in Range Area

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (AP) — Mayor Sol Laskin says Michigan legislators had better look at a map before they start lobbying rockets over Lake Superior and "the vast, uninhabited area to the north."

Mayor William D'Arcy of Schreiber backed him up. "We're inhabited — that's for sure," he said.

Cause of the statements was a move in the Michigan State Legislature for major rocket site on the south shore of Lake Superior — pointing north.

Six House members pushed a resolution to create a committee to study the possibilities of the project on the Keweenaw Peninsula, in northernmost Michigan.

Rep. Gilbert E. Bursley explained the site is an ideal launching pad. He said it is the only acceptable spot in continental United States for orbital shots hurtling north.

But Canadian communities on the other side of the lake, about 100 miles away, had other thoughts.

William O'Neill, mayor of Nipigon near the north shore of the lake, said: "This is hardly a wilderness. We have communities all along the lakeshore and for about 130 miles inland."

Mayor E. H. Read of Fort William said: "This isn't uninhabited area as far as the lakehead is concerned."

He suggested there are also "a few Indians and Eskimos" farther along the range who might have an opinion.

Kennedy Confers With Shah at the White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Shah of Iran conferred today with President Kennedy.

He arrived at the White House promptly on schedule at 9:30 a.m. and was escorted to Kennedy's office.

Those accompanying him included the Iranian foreign minister, Abbas Aram.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Julius C. Holmes, U.S. ambassador to Iran, were among the U.S. officials at the conference.

The Shah was expected to urge full U.S. participation in the Central Treaty Organization (CENTO) and to ask help in modernizing Iran's armed forces.

The President's caustic assertion at yesterday's news conference that a steel price increase was "a wholly unjustifiable and irresponsible defiance of the public interest" seemed to draw the lines for a Democratic attack on big business in this year's political campaigns.

Kennedy sketched this strategy with the contention that the price boost would hit the masses of voters through increased costs of homes, autos, appliances for the average consumer and of machinery and tools for business men and farmers.

CAMPAIGN ISSUE
"It would seriously handicap our efforts to prevent an inflationary spiral from eating up the pensions of our older citizens, and our new gains in purchasing power," he said. For the benefit of those who lack budget balancing, he said the price increase would boost defense spending by $1 billion in the next fiscal year.

Democrats, sensing a fresh issue, rallied quickly to the President, denouncing big steel's action.

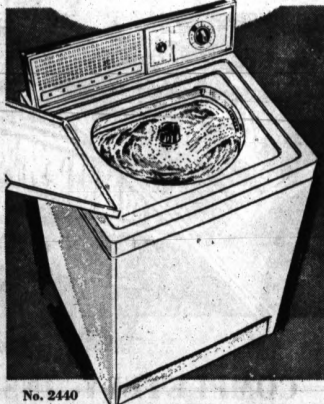

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., called it "an affront to the President and an irritant to labor." Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., predicted that "the country will pay a stiff price" for the boost.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said "I'm a friend of business but this was a dumb thing to do"—a view obviously shared privately by some Republicans.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who once said the Republican party should be proud to be the party of business, told the Senate "I deprecate and deplore" the price increase. He said it is "very likely to put the steel industry in hot water with the people of the United States."

Senate Tax Vote Put Off Today

2 Area Women Named by Dental Assistants

Two Oakland County women were among three vice presidents named yesterday by the Michigan Dental Assistants Association during the 105th annual convention of the group.

Swainson Wants More Time; Also Newspaper Publicity Lacking

LANSING (U)—Promised Senate showdown votes on two bitterly disputed income tax items were postponed again today—one by news coverage from Gov. Swainson's office, the other because the Detroit newspapers are not publishing.

One of the bills, aimed at the proposed Detroit income tax, would forbid cities to tax incomes of non-residents.

Although the votes were ready, action was postponed until Monday night because Gov. Swainson wanted more time to work out his tax differences with Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh and other city officials.

The other income tax issue was the threatened attempt to discharge the Senate Judiciary Committee from consideration of a resolution that would set up a vote of the people on a constitutional amendment permitting an income tax.

Backers of the discharge move frankly admitted they were delaying action because the two Detroit newspapers were not publishing and they wanted maximum news exposure of their discharge attempt.

Dem Spending 'More Dangerous Than Steel Hike'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate-House Republican leadership said today that Democratic spending—rather than a rise in steel prices—poses the biggest danger of inflation.

The Republican added that President Kennedy, in his attack on the steel industry for its $2-a-ton price increase, is looking in the wrong place for the basic cause of inflation.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate GOP leader, read to a news conference a leadership-approved statement which said:

"Apparently, everybody is supposed to make sacrifices except the New Frontier president."

He and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House party leader, agreed that the justification for the steel industry's action, would have to be determined by the facts developed in administration and congressional inquiries.

Blue Scout Rocket Fails Today's Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (U)—An Air Force attempt to launch a secret payload, reportedly to test heating and other re-entry characteristics, failed today when the second stage of the Blue Scout carrier rocket did not ignite.

The three-stage projectile darted skyward right on schedule, spewing a trail of white smoke from its solid-fuel engine. The smoke trail ended abruptly when the first stage burned out, indicating a fizzle in the second stage.

NEW YORK (UPI)—A five and dime store chain is hoping to cash in on the nation's prosperity. It has established a "genuine diamond and 14-carat gold jewelry department." Cheapest item is a $7.77 diamond pendant. Most expensive: a $39 diamond ring.

Gimics Pump Gas Sales

NEW YORK (UPI)—Oil companies, burdened with over-supplies of gasoline, are resorting to some razzle-dazzle at the pump to spur sales. These include a portable vacuum cleaner to clean car ashtrays and floors, piped-in music and part station hostesses.

Khrushchev in Life-Death Gamble on Food Production

Editor's Note: From China's Pacific Coast to the Red Sea, the story is the same. If Communists are hungry, on Khrushchev's own testimony the Soviet Union produced less grain and had less livestock in 1953 than it did under the tsars.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Soviet Premier Khrushchev's biggest cold war gamble is not Berlin or Viet Nam or any other of the world's hot spots. It is in Soviet agriculture.

He is gambling that he can get away with heresy in a desperate attempt to cure the chronic food troubles which historically beset Soviet and other Communist-ruled lands.

IF HE WINS!

If he wins out in a relatively short period of years, the Khrushchev can consider it a victory far more important than taking over a new slice of real estate.

If he loses, he can lose his job. Persistent failure of Communist agriculture is regarded in Washington as one of the most important aspects of the cold war. President Kennedy is known to feel that if the U.S.S.R., while it still is led by those obsessed with the notion of world domination, should ever outproduce the United States in food and consumer goods, the cause of the whole free world would be in danger.

Agricultural failures are common to the whole Red bloc, an ever-present reminder to other countries that communism means anything but abundance.

Red China is in a perpetual state of crisis in food supply. Red East Germany's leaders have just completed a long session laboring farmers for failures and exhorting them to produce more.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

Hungary is chronically short of grain and frequently even such humble staples as potatoes. Bulgaria and Poland both have had to turn to the United States for grain purchases. Of all the Communist states, only advanced Czechoslovakia has made a show of meeting her farm problems, but even Czech production continues under prewar, pre-Communist levels.

What's the matter with Communist agriculture?

Causes of the failures go all the way back to the early days of the Stalin era. Because communism requires blind obedience, other regimes imitated Stalin and suffered similar consequences.

Shortly after Stalin died nine years ago, Khrushchev, rising implicitly to pre-eminence in the party, boldly exposed the right-left mess that was Soviet agriculture. By his account, Soviet output of grain and the livestock population both were lower in 1953 than in czarist 1913.

Soviet agriculture received a heavy blow when Stalin forced collectivization with a campaign of slaughter of unwilling peasants. That brought the U.S.S.R. to the edge of famine.

FARMER INDUSTRY

Food production troubles were intensified by Stalin's insistence that heavy industry, which builds world and military power, retain priority over the consumer side. Khrushchev continues to insist on that but with some modifications.

The investment in heavy industry prevented delivery of sufficient farm machinery, fertilizer and other essentials for modern farming to feed huge populations. Productivity suffered. Even today one Soviet farm worker can produce only enough to feed five persons. One U.S. farm worker produces enough to feed 40 persons.

Khrushchev blamed Stalin. He said there had been too much bureaucracy, too much foot-dragging to the boss, too much "indulging in eyewash." All decisions had to be made at the center and problems could not be solved on the spot. Today—as for years—the most productive side of Soviet farming is the private sector, the produce of peasants' own small plots which they sell on the free market. Khrushchev intends eventually to eliminate this, as too closely resembling capitalism. But he must have something in its place.

He is seeking what he calls material incentives. He proposes bonuses for production, payment in money to collective farmers instead of in goods, payment of both managers and farmers on the basis of what they produce.

He experiments with decentralized authority. He demands radical reorganization of collective farms. He demands that managers solve their problems on the spot without reference to a central bureaucracy. He demands cost reduction.

Some of his proposals smack of heresy to doctrinaire Communists. The heresies add to the bloc's ideological confusion.

But doctrine still gets in the way. When Khrushchev commits heresy he creates new doctrine and it, too, can be followed out the window.

For example, Khrushchev currently is campaigning against the kolkhozes system which ruled Soviet farming under Stalin. This involves rotation of crops with planting of grass in alternate years. It was intended by its sponsor, Prof. Vasily Williams, son of a U.S. engineer, only for the humid northwest areas.

But once Stalin blessed the system, fearful underlings adopted it all over the nation rather than risk being accused of treason. Results were disastrous. Now Khrushchev is blasting the system. This can mean its abandonment all over the country. Soviet politics being what they are, with new disastrous results.

Ever since Khrushchev came to power he has been promising the Red world that Soviet food and consumer goods production would catch up with and surpass that of the United States. Year after year he revises his estimate. The promise for catching up now stands at 1970, for surpassing at 1980.

But in 1961, by Khrushchev's own figures, meat production fell three million tons short of planned output, grain and milk each by more than 16 million. Khrushchev is raising the roof.

Khrushchev has lost several big agricultural bets in the past. But there can be convulsions all over the Red bloc.

he wins this time he will be a hero of communism. If he loses, he is an inveterate gambler. If the Red bloc,

Study Says It's Bad in Pregnancy

'Smoking Affects Unborn'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government scientist says a study shows that women who smoke during pregnancy are more likely than nonsmokers to have small, unhealthy babies.

Dr. Richard Mastrand, who heads the National Institute of Neurological diseases and blindness, said this was shown by a study of 7,500 pregnant women. He said it is part of a long-term study of 50,000 expectant mothers and their babies.

Mastrand testified before a Senate appropriations subcommittee in support of his agency's request for a $71.2-million appropriation for the next fiscal year.

"The woman who smokes is more likely to have a small baby to the extent that the health of the baby is impaired," he said, adding:

"In this study, birth weight decreased proportionately to the number of cigarettes smoked daily during pregnancy."

West Berliners Cut Off Water for Wall Repairs

BERLIN (AP)—The West Berlin Water Co. cut off the water supply today to the north railroad station, close to the Communists' Berlin wall.

They found that East German authorities, who control the railroads, were using water from the station to repair the hated wall dividing the city.

To Examine Trio in Armed Holdup at Gas Station

Three of four men charged with the $3,000 armed robbery of a Cavalier Gas Station at 4900 Dixie Highway Jan. 4 will be examined on the charge April 20 before Waterford Township Justice John E. McGrath.

Robert F. Murphy, 24, 451 S. Telegraph Road, and two Flint men, Marion C. DuPlassey, 38, and Charles R. Thomas, 28, stood mute in their appearances before McGrath yesterday. All three are being held at the Oakland County Jail. McGrath set bond at $25,000 each.

Jack V. Young, 31, formerly of the Pontiac area, also is charged with the gas station holdup. He is serving a sentence at Jackson State Prison and will appear before McGrath later.

Apply Hardboard Over Old Hearth

If the hearth of your fireplace is badly worn, it can be given new life with a new surface of marble-patterned Marlite.

The paneling, a predecorated hardboard available at lumber yards, comes in a variety of authentic reproductions of imported marble. A tempered hardboard base and baked melamine plastic surface give the paneling unusual durability.

Marlite can be applied with wall-board adhesive or contact cement to almost any surface that is free of loose material. Paneling left over from the hearth installation can be used for matching tops on nearby coffee or occasional tables.

$52,000 School Deficit Hangs on 6-Mill Hike

Novi Board OK Given to Budget

Voters to Decide Fate of Tax on Monday Ballot Aimed at 'Red Ink'

NOVI — A 1962-63 preliminary budget with a $52,000 deficit was adopted by the Novi Board of Education last night in hopes that voters Monday will erase the deficiency by approving a six-mill tax increase for operations.

The tax increase would provide the school district with about $70,000 annually for the next five years. Currently, only 25 mills is levied for operations in the district, the lowest rate of any county school system.

Superintendent Thomas Culbert said the new funds would eliminate the deficit in the proposed budget. In addition, $10,000 would be set aside to retire accumulated deficits of past years, and $10,000 would be used this year to improve the curriculum program.

The preliminary budget of $372,000 is $38,000 higher than the one adopted last year. The increase is reflected in higher instruction costs, higher tuition costs for high school students in Northville classes and one new teacher.

The Novi School District has no high school facilities and must send its students to the neighboring community.

Culbert said the school district has been operating in the red for a number of years, accumulating a deficit in excess of $40,000.

TAX BOARD NEXT
If the millage proposal is not approved, Culbert said, it will be necessary for the school board to review the proposed budget and make cuts wherever it can.

No specific plans have been made on cutbacks if the millage isn't approved, Culbert said.

The budget now will be presented to the County Tax Allocation Board, to decide what portion of the county limitation of 15 mills the school district will receive.

Last year the county allocated .837 mills to the school district, which thus had a total of 10.837 mills for operation. Novi would have 16.877 mills if the increase is approved, and the county allocation remains the same.

The 2.5 mills has been levied the last four years and will expire in one more year.

Seven voted mills also is levied in the school district for debt retirement, presently giving the system a total tax of 17.877 mills. This would be hiked to 23.877 mills if voters accept Monday's proposal.

Firemen Rescue Father of 2 From Flaming Trap

LAKE ORION — A father of two was saved from a flaming trap in a dramatic rescue this morning by Lake Orion and Oxford firemen.

Det. Kowalski of 704 Butler Drive, a Lake Orion volunteer fireman, was pulled from the furnace room of an automobile agency basement when he was trapped when a fire door blew shut.

He had entered the room to halt a series of explosions in the big oil furnace by turning off the electricity. Firemen broke down the door with an axe to pull him out before he was injured.

An estimate of damage was not immediately available. It was confined to the furnace room at Al Hanouti, Inc., Chevrolet, Buick Agency, 209 N. Park Blvd.

$150-Million Wildwood Project

Could Save Development

ORION TOWNSHIP — Plans for the $150-million Wildwood development have not been thrown out yet, despite failure of county supervisors to clarify direction of their airport proposal.

Victor Adler, a representative of the developer, Thompson-Brown of Detroit, today described two possible events that would save the development.

A feasibility report on the airport proposal is expected in May. Adler said, if this indicated disapproval of the airport, the county would be forced to withdraw from the development.

Walled Lake Mayor to Resign From Race
WALLED LAKE — Mayor Marshall E. Taylor announced last night he will withdraw from the mayoralty race when the City Council meets Tuesday to elect officers.

The election was to have been held last night but the absence of two councilmen caused the adjournment until 7 p.m. Tuesday, prior to the regular council meeting.

It was the second time this week that the election had been postponed. A stalemate in balloting for the mayor's post Monday was the reason for rescheduling the meeting for last night.

Will Try Suit to Collect From Dead Embezzler
ALMONT — The litigation case against Mrs. Mary M. Averill, a convicted embezzler, will go to court even though the defendant died last November.

Wayne County Circuit Judge Nathan J. Kaufman has said that the suit to collect $86,757 brought by Mrs. Averill's former employer will be tried as soon as possible.

The Almont woman was charged with taking the money from Giffels & Rossetti, a Detroit architectural firm, between Feb. 6, 1960, and Feb. 28, 1961. She was in charge of the company's financial records during that period.

An audit in November 1961, seven months after Mrs. Averill resigned, uncovered the shortages, the suit charges.

The case was scheduled for trial last Oct. 30 but was postponed when one of the defendant's two attorneys, then the other was hospitalized. Mrs. Averill herself died a month later. She was 62.

She was convicted in February 1961 of embezzling $58,313 in 1959 and 1960 from her employers. She was sentenced to four months in the Detroit House of Correction and placed on five years' probation.

Under constant medical care since 1961, the Almont woman continued to maintain her innocence throughout the court proceedings.

The Internal Revenue Service has filed a tax lien on all the property owned by Mrs. Averill and her husband, Glenn, a retired Detroit police detective.

This includes a $600,000 farm at 6300 Borden Road and reportedly three homes in Tecumseh, Ont.; a Canadian hunting lodge and considerable Florida real estate.

only when it becomes definite the county will never build a major jet airport.

The 3,500-acre development was to include 5,000 sites for homes in the $20,000 to $40,000 range, a 400-acre industrial park, 25 acres for commercial use, a sewage treatment plant, water lines and paved streets.

Planning was halted Feb. 6 when the county disclosed its airport plans.

TRY TO STALL PLANS
The motion, made by Orion Township Supervisor John Lessner, was an effort to stall airport plans. Its referral to the Aviation Committee left the supervisors free to spend money to acquire land for the airport. It also left Lessner very disappointed.

Adler and other airport opponents are sure the county will shun airport plans when it discovers how costly such an airport is likely to be.

The Wildwood project, located between Baldwin and Lapeer roads south of Clarkston Road, could be killed by a delay in resolving the issue as well as by certainty of an airport, Adler explained, referring to property options containing time limits.

He said the project will resume

To Ask Transfer to School Budget

W. Bloomfield Board to Bid for Voters' OK of Debt Fund Conversion

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Authorization to transfer a portion of millage in the debt retirement fund to the general operating budget will be requested by the West Bloomfield Board of Education in the June 11 school election.

School district voters will be asked to approve the conversion of two mills, now levied to pay off bonded indebtedness, into operating revenue.

Currently, six mills are levied for operations, and eight for debt retirement. The transfer would just reverse the figures.

The school system also receives 3.5 mills for operations from the county.

In adopting a preliminary 1962-63 budget of $883,000, however, the school board did not take into consideration the possibility of the approval of the extra two mills.

This would mean that the school board could revise the budget to provide more services if the transfer is approved by voters.

The proposed budget is about $36,000 higher than last year. It now goes to the County Tax Allocation Board for review.

Orion Twp. to Donate to 2 Youth Centers

ORION TOWNSHIP — Donations totaling $2,500 to two youth centers have been approved by the Township Board.

The Lake Orion Youth Center, located since March 13 at the re-modeled State Theater building on South Broadway Street in Lake Orion, will receive $1,500 from the township.

A $1,000 donation will go to the Gingerville Youth Center.

Township trustees have also approved a visit-children program in which residents and the township will each pay $30 per 1,000 feet of road. Orders for checking must be in the township hall by May 15.

The township's 1962-63 budget will be discussed at a special meeting of the board scheduled for April 24.

Township clerk Mrs. Margaret Stephen reported today that petitions opposing the county's proposed jet airport have been pooled into township offices covered with signatures.

A count of the signatures has not yet been made, she said. The petitions have been in circulation for almost two weeks. Township officials hope for 10,000 signatures.

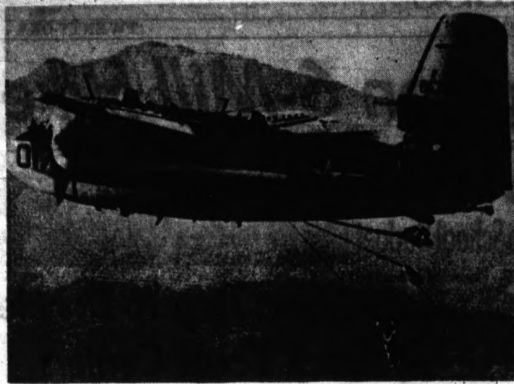

Almont Music Dept. Sets Concert Tonight
ALMONT — The music department of Almont High School will present its annual spring concert at 8 tonight in the school gymnasium.

The high school choir will open the program with music by Lotti, Handel, Palestrina, Brahms and Rodgers and Hammerstein.

Following the vocal portion, the band will play the three numbers that won its members a first division rating in the district festival.

NANCY RUPP

Announcement is made of the engagement of Nancy Rupp to Stanley A. Rock by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Rupp of Gowanda, New York. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Helen DeLongchamps of Marion, Ind., and Stanley Rock of 438 Furth St., West Bloomfield Township. A fall wedding is planned.

Con-Con Appeals to Swainson for Completion Cash

LANSING (UPI) — Constitutional convention officials have appealed to the governor for assistance in getting funds to complete their work.

At the same time they have decided on a tight work schedule in an effort to save some money by wrapping up the convention before May 15 when their pay is scheduled to run out.

"We requested the governor to use his good offices to explain to us how we are required by the constitutional amendment calling the convention to publish an address to the people," said convention president Stephen S. Nibset.

"At the same time we want to get through over here as quickly as possible."

The state Senate voted down a request by the convention for $125,000 to publish the records and an address to the people setting forth the accomplishments of the convention.

Students at CMU Continue Protest on Censorship

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI) — Students at Central Michigan University continued their demonstrations for a student "Magna Carta" last night, and announced plans to raise money for an independent, censor-free newspaper.

However, amidst the clamor, there were indications that the ideological gap between the students and administration was tightening.

Wilbur E. Moore, vice president in charge of student affairs, agreed to meet with students and administration representatives at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

The student demonstrations have been going on since Monday, touched off by alleged administrative censorship of student publications and unwarranted expulsions.

Centaur Trouble Delays Firing Another 8 Days

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Centaur high-energy space rocket, already grounded nearly a year by a variety of problems, must wait at least eight more days for its maiden test flight.

The 105-foot rocket, the first utilizing powerful liquid hydrogen as fuel, came within 60 seconds of launching Wednesday. But at that point a low pressure reading was received from a gauge in the liquid oxygen fuel tank in the Atlas first stage.

Officials called off the launching until at least April 20 in order to correct the trouble.

France Will Pay U.S. $58 Million Long Due

PARIS (AP) — France is going to repay the United States $58 million overdue on its long-term debt, finance minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing said today.

The payments were due in 1958 and 1959 but were delayed because of France's unfavorable foreign exchange balance at that time. After the payment France will still owe the United States $1.6 billion.

Dogs Master Right to Train

Hound Leads a Commuter's Life

By JACK V. FOX

SUBURGIA, U.S.A. (UPI) — A funny thing happened to a guy on the 8:01 commuter train coming to the city the other day. His dog got on with him.

That's something you don't often see—a wire-haired terrier riding the morning train.

This is how it happened. The gentleman in question is one of those types who plays a sort of game of driving to the station seconds before his train pulls out.

In those fleeting moments he kisses his wife, purchases the morning papers, sometimes buys his commutation ticket and then makes a last exhilarating dash for the train steps.

Last Monday he went through the same stimulating routine. But as he strode into the smoking car, a girl began to giggle, leading men to raise their heads from newspapers the length of the aisle.

And there, right before our friend, wagging his tail, was the wire-haired. He had jumped out of the car and followed his master joyfully in the train.

Ignoring wisecracks about Mary's little lamb, the commuter lifted his beloved dog into his arms and stood there stoically. Obviously this was a moment of truth: Could he possibly take the dog to the office?

The answer had to be reached quickly. There was only one more stop and then the train was an express to the city.

We came to the last local stop. The commuter turned and glared at the entire staring assemblage.

Then he got off the train in a dignified fashion, dog in arms, and headed for a telephone.

Computers face all sorts of strange problems.

We recall the case of another friend who had missed the evening 5:11, the 6:01, the 7:05, the 8:00, the 9:00 and subsequent trains clear through the midnight express. It had developed into a rather spirited evening.

He had a companion who lived in the city and who dearly wished to get to his own bed and board. But he had apprehensions about leaving the fun-loving commuter on his own — particularly since he had now shown symptoms of falling fast asleep.

Then inspiration struck. The city-bred friend stored his country cousin to a telephone booth 50 feet from the 1:25 a.m. tracks.

He got him in the booth, sound asleep, recorded the number of the pay phone, closed the folding door and went to his apartment.

At 1:15 a.m., he picked up his telephone, dialed the pay phone and awakened the errant suburbanite.

"Now walk straight-forward through entrance 21 and get on that train," he said sternly. And that is how the commuter caught the last train.

Red Strontium Now Appearing

But Fallout Slow and Light From Last Fall's Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The expected spring fallout from last year's Russian nuclear tests is beginning to show up, although apparently very slowly, the Public Health Service said yesterday.

But an official who reported this indicated that the service still thinks there will be no need for special protective measures to reduce human intake of radioactive strontium-90. That is the fallout material which causes the greatest potential concern from the health standpoint.

When the Russian tests started last September, officials said there would be some immediate fallout, but most of the debris would rise into the stratosphere and stay there until spring.

First evidence that it is now falling was reported today in response to questions.

The official, of the health service's division of radiological health, said slight increases in the radioactive strontium content of milk had been noted in rough checks of milk samples from some southern states.

He added that while some of the increase might be due to fallout from all past tests of all nations which accelerates each spring, "unquestionably some of it was also due to the recent Russian series."

Teens to Taste U. S. Politicking at Rally in May

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's first political rally for teenagers will be held in Lansing next month, the Ingham County Teenage Republicans (TAR), has announced. Local teen Republican spokesmen said they expected as many as 1,000 young delegates for the day-long political rally May 13.

George Romney, probable GOP candidate for governor, will be asked to speak, said Ernest Kautela, a 24-year-old Lansing businessman and organizer of the Ingham County group.

Banners, posters, bands, parades, chants and other campaign props will "provide the youngsters with an authentic taste of American politicking," he said.

The movement started in Kent County, he said. New groups now are being organized in Cadillac and Waukegan counties.

Court Asked to Order Trust Funds Be Used

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley asked the Wayne County Circuit Court yesterday to order construction of a home for old people with $7 million accumulated in a charitable trust created in 1925.

Kelley took the action under a 1961 law requiring registration of charitable trusts. Investigation has disclosed that millions of dollars in trust funds are not being used for the purposes intended when they were set up, he said.

One of the 1,510 trusts registered so far was created by Lucila Hansen of Detroit to build and operate a home for the aged and infirm.

She directed that income from the trust be used to give financial assistance to those who would be eligible for admission to the home until funds ample for construction were built up.

8 Bus Strikers Sent to Jail for Contempt

BOSTON (AP) — Eight of nine accused drivers for the Metropolitan Transit Authority — which supplies the public transportation for Boston — were sentenced to jail today for contempt in connection with a recent two-day work stoppage.

Superior Court Judge Lewis R. Goldberg sentenced seven men to 30 days in jail and an eighth to 60 days. The eighth man was a bare captain. The court found he incited others.

A ninth man was acquitted. He reported sick the day of the walk-out which had been barred by a court restraining order.

The court action stemmed from paralysis of public transportation in the 14-community metropolitan transit district.

Sign on a soft-drink machine with an adjoining bottle rack: "Test your IQ. Try putting the little round bottles in the square holes." "Before I was married," a fellow said, "I had three theories about bringing up children. Now I have three children, and no theories." — Earl Wilson.

Japan-Russ-China-U. S. Peace Alliance Urged

TOKYO (AP) — Former Prime Minister Tanaka Ishiwashi has proposed a "peace alliance" among Japan, Communist China, the restored world peace.

Soviet Union and the United States.

In an article in the latest issue of the monthly magazine Chuo Koron, the former Liberal-Democratic party leader wrote he hoped a "peace alliance" among Japan, Communist China, the restored world peace.

Birds of Broadway: No. 3

Some Have Head Start on Road to Fame

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — There are two types of aspiring actresses who have a head start, when it comes to crashing through to fame and fortune on Broadway.

And Janet Margolin and Patricia Harty exemplify these types. Miss Margolin is a native New Yorker. Miss Harty is a talented dancer.

Both were therefore able to concentrate on trying to get their big break without having to worry too much about money — one lived at home, the other earned her way dancing.

Girls, like Janet Margolin, who have no board and room problems are one step ahead, free to pursue the big dream without having to take side jobs. They can accept 10-weeking, off-Broadway parts. They can go to auditions at any time of day. They can study their craft.

Miss Margolin, a dark-eyed, raven-haired beauty, is only 18. This is the age when most of the stage-struck youngsters first leave home and head for New York. But already she has done a play and collected some rave notices in her scrapbook.

Janet is the daughter of a theatrical buff, an accountant in love with the theater. Many of her father's friends and clients are associated with the theater in one way or another, and they watched their friend's daughter grow up into a strikingly beautiful girl.

"They kept asking me to audition for things," Janet says. "But I always wanted to be a doctor. Until three years ago, I was sure I should be a doctor. But I guess there was always something about acting that interested me."

SHE TRIES IT

"When my father's friends kept insisting I should act, I thought I should try it. So I enrolled in the High School of Performing Arts. Through the school, I got to do a little television work. And I got a manager, who arranged for me to audition for 'Daughter of Silence.'"

This play was not a success, but Janet got wonderful personal notices. And she also got a few surprises.

"I found actual stage work," she says, "surprising and a little bit sad. I had never realized quite how commercial the theater was."

"It seemed like all our rehearsals were for something other than acting — there were lighting rehearsals and set rehearsals and costume rehearsals. So few were for the actors alone."

Since her good reviews, Miss Margolin has suffered through another surprise.

"A girl came up to me," she says, "and wanted to start a fan club for me. She showed me a journal she had done for Jane Fonda."

"I was appalled by it — all the flatteries! — and I said no. I don't want that kind of thing —

I not only don't want it, I will try to avoid it."

"I don't want articles in fan magazines about some horrible thing I did as a child. I don't want pictures of me drinking a soda with Fabian."

"I'm in acting because I enjoy it, and I want to do the best I can. It's nobody's business about my childhood or who I drink sodas with."

And so she turned to something she knew well, dancing. Her mother had been a dancer (in fact, she had been signed for a New York ballet company, but her parents said no) and she herself had danced since high school.

She got jobs on television, first on the Pat Boone Show and then on the Garry Moore Show. And she supplemented her income by modeling.

From there, she moved to the chorus line of "Fiorello," and later to a small part in that show. She was spotted there by Noel Coward, then writing "Sail Away."

He kept coming to see her in the show and one day he left a note, asking her to stop in at his office.

She did and he said, "Would you like to hear your song?"

When "Sail Away" opened last fall, Patricia Harty had the second lead — singing, dancing, acting. Anybody who saw her realized she was on her way to glory.

Italian Schools Struck by 370,000 Teachers

ROME (U-P) — Italian public school teachers started a three-day strike yesterday, giving elementary and high school pupils an extra spring vacation.

Most public schools were closed until Saturday. An estimated 370,000 teachers were out.

City Clerk, 81, Returned to Post Held 50 Years

SUTTER CREEK, Calif. (AP)—Miss Minnie Provis, city clerk of this community for 50 years, is starting another four-year term. She is 81.

Miss Provis didn't campaign, but her backers did and she had no opposition in Tuesday's city election.

"I had about decided not to run again, but my friends talked me into it," Miss Provis said. "I guess they've gotten kind of used to me."

Miss Provis also operates a bookkeeping and notary public office in her home where she carries out her city clerk duties.

U.S. Pushing W. Berlin Morale

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

An important change has taken place in the United States policy toward West Berlin.

Until very recently, U.S. reaction to Soviet threats against the city primarily was military.

The military phase received stepped-up emphasis after President Kennedy's 1961 Vienna meeting with Nikita Khrushchev in which the Soviet leader placed a year-end deadline on a peace treaty with East Germany and abolition of Allied rights in West Berlin.

Tense moments followed as Gen. Lucius Clay arrived in Berlin to be the President's personal representative and the U.S. began re-establishing its rights on the German autobahns, in the air corridors and on its side of the wall dividing the city.

Allied military determination may be credited with instilling into Khrushchev at least a degree of caution.

Now a second phase equal to the military is being emphasized.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk left Geneva with the belief that so long as the Soviet challenge remains, there also remains a threat to West Berlin morale and a subsequent threat to investment and production.

On this basis then, Soviet harassing tactics in the air corridors represented less a challenge to Allied rights of free access than to the spirit and economic health of West Berlin—an attempt to discourage establishment of new business and to encourage West Berliners to leave.

TO BOOST FIRMS

In answer, the United States is trying to encourage U.S. firms with operations in Germany to open branches in West Berlin. Student exchanges are being considered, as are suggestions to make West Berlin universities centers for international education programs.

A glance at statistics illustrates the cause of U.S. and Allied concern.

West Berlin gained steadily in population from 1953 to 1958 when Khrushchev issued his first ultimatum against the city.

Since then, there has been a slow but steady decline.

The population which reached a peak of 2.2 million in 1960 has been projected to 1964 at an even two million.

German government officials explain it partially by the fact that Berlin is a city of the old, with a death rate far exceeding the birth rate.

But it also is true that West Berlin's work force has diminished at a rate of between 15,000 and 20,000 a year since 1958.

CUT REFUGEE FLOW

Formerly, the city replenished its work force with refugees from the east. The Soviet-erected wall cut off that flow to scarcely more in a year than used to arrive in a week.

New investments in West Berlin have been running at a rate of $500 million annually.

West Berlin industry and citizens receive certain tax advantages and worker housing is among the best in all of Germany.

But if it is to remain West Germany's No. 1 industrial city and a free world beacon, the question of morale is as important as the soldiers who guard it.

Hawaii's Gov. William Quinn appealed to the White House to intervene because of steadily dwindling food supplies. The pinch also was felt on the West Coast where some processors contracted with foreign flag ships to bring in raw materials.

Judge Harris directed attorneys for the three unions and the Pacific Maritime Association, the employer group, to appear Monday for a hearing on an injunction calling for an 80-day cooling off period.

The hearing is to fix terms, not to argue whether an injunction will be issued. The judge made it clear he would issue one.

Time for a Change

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) — When Vernon D. Lovley complained that his water bill was $31.98 instead of the usual $9, the Geneva board of public works let him take his pick of 25 new water meters stocked by the city.

Asks for Rehearing on Gas Rate Hike

LANSING (AP) — The city of Monroe petitioned the State Public Service Commission yesterday for a rehearing on its order last October granting Michigan Gas Utilities Co. an $839,000 annual rate increase.

The city complained that $654,000 of the increase was ordered for the company's southern division, which includes Monroe, and only $185,000 for the western division.

It asked merger of the two divisions for rate-making purposes.

'Postmen' Give Lift to Colleague $42,000 Lift

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — Five thieves dressed in postmen's uniforms walked off the main railway station platform Wednesday night with a mail bag containing 15,000 pounds ($42,000) in cash and other valuables.

They told a real postman who was sorting a pile of bags from London: "We'll look after this one for you, chum."

A postoffice spokesman said it was a mystery how the thieves knew which bag to take.

Dem and GOP Groups to Meet

Will Be in Lansing This Weekend to Plot 'Agin' Each Other

LANSING (U) — Republican and Democratic high commands will assemble in the same building this weekend to plot against each other. Meetings of the parties' state central committees in Lansing's civic center will focus on developments at the constitutional convention, activities in the legislature and planning for the 1962 campaigns.

George Romney, the probable GOP candidate for governor, will review progress of the convention, where he is a vice president, at a dinner Friday night.

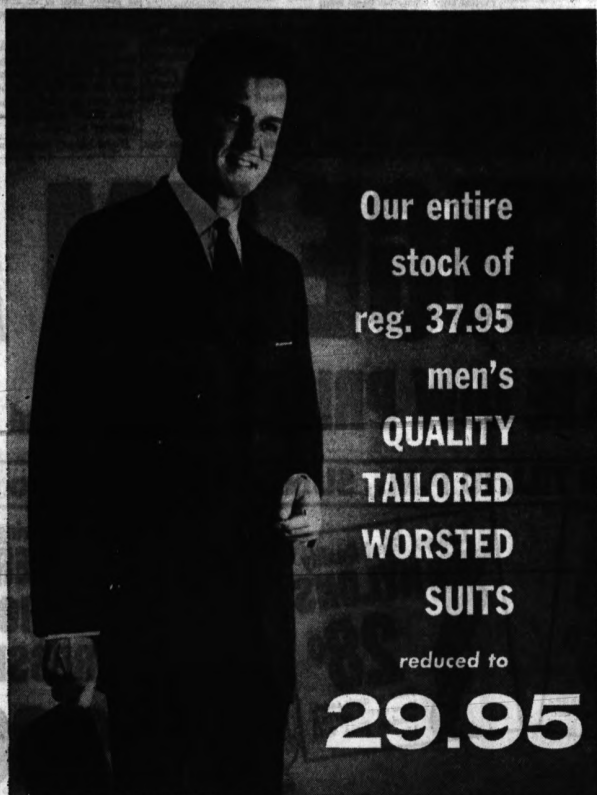

An attendance of 300, including Republican legislators and convention delegates, is expected.

Gov. Swainson will tell Democratic policy-makers about progress toward tax reform in the legislature.

Another speaker will be Neil Staehler, Democratic national committeeman who reportedly is ready to announce his candidacy for congressman-at-large if the legislature fails to set up a 19th district.

Just Wait, More 'Freedom' Sonic Booms Are Coming

By BOB CONSIDINE

STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, Offutt Air Force Base, Neb. — The B58 Hustler, which can fly for limited periods at twice the speed of sound, is breaking windows and knocking an occasional citizen out of bed these days and nights — doing what comes naturally.

When its pilot pours on the coal and makes a supersonic training pass over a ground target the Hustler unrolls a wide rug of shock waves across the land below.

This has been likened to a long stick of storable bombs strewn along the bomber's line of flight. The sonic booms, as they are called, are not so destructive of course.

But they develop enough energy to splinter plate glass, crack plaster, dislodge chimneys, rattle the Spode and cause cows to abort — all of which amounts annually to uncounted dollars worth of damage suits compiled against the Air Force and the Navy, which offends with its supersonic fighters.

The Air Force at first simply paid the claims and hoped, for security reasons, that the stories wouldn't make the papers.

It seemed embarrassed by the very skills which produced and which operated these vitally essential machines of defense and retaliation. Then its attitude changed.

It said, in effect, that Americans should be ashamed of themselves to be afraid of these thunderbolts from on high. After all, this was "the sound of freedom," THEY WRITE LETTERS

The people who were hit by the booms didn't buy that. They wrote indignant letters to their congressmen and lired here today that there is a new pitch, at least at SAC — which got into the sonic boom class with the introduction of its Hustler and will be in with both feet when the B570 comes along.

The highly controversial 70 will be able to fly at three times the speed of sound, not just a sprint, not for just an hour, but for as long as three non-stop passes across the United States. It must therefore lay down bigger and louder booms over a much more expanded terrain.

The new pitch at SAC is to announce to newspapers, radio and TV and civic organizations as long as a week in advance that the people in that particular area will be struck by a boom or booms on such and such a day at about such and such an hour.

It's a bit like a prediction from the weather bureau, a tip from a broker, a warning that one's insurance is due.

It gives a wife time to put the china under a blanket in the cellar, and the husband fair warning when it might be disastrous to hit a swimming marital to the fact that shall never touch mine.

But, alas, things haven't worked out quite as well as expected. The B58 is not quite as predictable as Halley's Comet or Elizabeth Taylor. Sometimes it is erratic in delivering its promised booms. Sometimes it doesn't even show up at all.

THEY GET ANGRY

SAC has found that when that happens people who have been standing there with their fingers in their ears and eyes tightly shut for long periods are inclined to be as upset over not being boomed as people used to be angered by being boomed without warning. There are irate calls.

"Your boom is now eight minutes late," a nice old lady complained recently to the duty officer at this last great hope of free man in event of a nuclear war, "That certainly seems inefficient to me!"

If you haven't been boomed, be patient, you'll get yours. The Air Force now has a 10-car railroad train loaded with radar and other electronic gear moving here and there about the country to serve as new "targets" for the B58 and the supersonic job.

Its purpose is to attempt to jam the radar bombing apparatus of the incoming aircraft and the aircraft in turn attempts to destroy the train's sensitive warning system. So don't despair.

There's a boom in your future. And probably the man was right when he called it the "sound of freedom."

American Consumer in Midst of New-Car Binge

By BEN FLEIGAR
AP Automotive Writer
DETROIT—American consumers appear to have gone on one of their periodic new-car binges, buying automobiles at a clip equaled only on rare occasions.

Dealers said they delivered 618,000 cars last month, more than in any month since September 1959, the spectacular year in which the industry for the first and only time sold more than seven million cars.

The daily selling rate of 22,000, with Sundays excluded because many states don't permit sales on Sunday, has been surpassed only twice since 1955.

One occasion was last November, when current models first were readily available, and the other was June 1960. Total sales in 1960 ran second only to 1955.

Surveys by such agencies as the Federal Reserve Board and the University of Michigan Survey Center indicate continued high demand for new cars. And to be sure the customers stay interested all but three makes—Chevrolet, Cadillac and Lincoln—have some type of sales contest or rebate system in effect at the moment.

Chevrolet, with the aid of such a contest in six of its major sales areas in March, recorded the highest monthly sales ever posted by any car line, 187,788.

Comparative figures against last year look very good—sales up 29 per cent—but present a distorted picture since the first three months of 1961 were real dogs. From now on sales will run much closer to year-ago figures simply because 1961 improved from April onward.

One of the quirks in the market has been the outstanding success of General Motors (Chevrolet up 44 per cent; Pontiac up 44 per cent; Oldsmobile up 42 per cent; Buick up 51 per cent; Cadillac up 7 per cent) and a much more uneven pattern of progress by the other four manufacturers.

General Motors is the only company to boost its sales at least as much as the industry average. It's up 45.1 per cent after three months. American Motors, which has improved each month so far, was up 35.1 per cent for the quarter. Ford showed a 16.7 per cent increase from a year ago. Hudson's 18 per cent and Chrysler was barely on the plus side at 1.6 per cent.

The GM record is even more impressive when it comes to its share of the market. Here the five General Motors divisions account for 55.6 per cent of all the business against an even 50 per cent in the first quarter of 1961.

The biggest loser so far is Ford, which has dropped from 30.2 per cent to 27.4 per cent. Chrysler has lost 2.5 points to 9.2 per cent while Studebaker has lost two-tenths of a point at 1.5 per cent and American Motors is off one-tenth of a point at 6.5 per cent.

CUT BACK FORECAST
So far the original industry forecast of about seven million sales for the year, including some 400,000 imports, continue to look impressive.

One surprise has come from General Motors, however. The GM estimate of last fall said sales might reach as high as 7.35 million including imports.

This has now been cut back to seven million, despite the fact that General Motors' business is by far the best of the lot.

The threat of a possible steel strike, and its resulting effects upon the general economy, has been removed and the road ahead looks smooth, at least until the end of the model year.

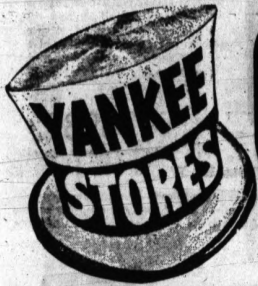

Most divisions will quit building 1962 models sometime in July. The 1963 varieties will begin rolling from assembly lines in August for sale starting in late September or early October.

Boat Makers Hurting

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pleasure boat manufacturers received a buffeting from the 1960-61 recession. Sales last year declined 10 per cent from the $2.5 billion volume of 1960. However, many boat makers who attended the recent National Motorboat Show here report business already is picking up.

Seeking Sabbaticals

CHICAGO (UPI)—Sabbatical leave, a custom for university professors, was proposed by the Packinghouse Workers Union in bargaining with Swift & Co. It asked the company to give employees 13 weeks off with pay every five years.

Tornado Due? Radar to Get Spring Tryout

DIRECTOR DIES — Michael Curtiz, veteran motion picture director and Academy Award winner, is dead in Hollywood after a long illness with cancer. He was 72.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert J. Manning was sworn in yesterday as assistant secretary of state for public affairs. He will serve as chief public information adviser to Secretary Dean Rusk.

Manning, a newsmen for a quarter of a century, is the second man to hold the $20,000-a-year position since Rusk took office at the outset of the Kennedy administration in January, 1961. The previous public affairs chief, Roger W. Tubby, was recently named U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and other international organization headquarters at Geneva.

Racer-Aviator Killed

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Ron Flockhart, 38, Scottish racing auto driver and aviator, was killed today when his Mustang plane crashed into a hillside near Melbourne.

plained. "It has picked up storms as far west as Chicago and as far south as the Ohio River."

How about tornadoes? "We can't say we'll be able to detect tornadoes when they occur. This will be the first time this unit has been used in spring storms," Oak continued.

GROUND OBSERVER

"We will be in a much better situation so far as being able to detect severe storms which might result in tornadoes. We should be able to follow those storms."

"Although certain features of a tornado are significant, you can't always detect a tornado just by what you see on radar."

The echo has to be confirmed by a ground observer."

Moreover, Oak said, the radar limit on a tornado is about 100 miles. And since tornadoes have a very short life it's likely some won't be detected when they form.

"But if someone spots it and lets us know, then we can pick it up on the radar and follow it, alerting people in its path," he said.

The tornado warning would be sent over a special weather bureau teletype network which goes to the offices of Detroit radio stations, newspapers and United Press International. UPI would send the warning on its teletype network to radio stations and newspapers around the state.

Oak, a native of Missouri, said Michigan does not have many tornadoes. Weather bureau records show an average of only four a year in the state.

This is in sharp contrast with "Tornado Alley" in the southwest. Texas and Kansas average 25 twisters yearly; Oklahoma 21 and Iowa 14. Indiana counts about 7 a year and Illinois 8.

Veto School Bond Issue

COLOMA (AP)—Voters have rejected a proposed $750,000 bond issue to finance construction of a 20-room junior high school to relieve overcrowding at Coloma but the school board plans to revise the proposal and submit it at a later date. The vote Tuesday was 517 no to 468 yes.

Berlin Aide Clay 'Ready to Return' if Crisis-Arises

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay says he stands ready to return to Berlin as the President's special representative if the Soviets plunge the divided city into some new crisis.

Clay is resigning as President Kennedy's special ambassador in West Berlin, a position he took on last August in the midst of the crisis arising from East Germany's construction of a wall sealing off West Berlin.

TO MEET JFK

He meets with the President this afternoon at the White House. On his arrival in New York Wednesday night from Germany, Clay said the Soviets are easing tensions in Berlin. But he said he didn't want to infer that there is yet a solution to the Berlin problem.

Who Does Protect Our Food Now?

CONCERNED — This group of Extension Club members is concerned about the safety of the food they buy for their families. They expect to learn more about it at the public meeting Tuesday evening, April 17, at Lincoln

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Ever since the cranberry scare of a couple of years ago, home-makers have been more conscious of food safety, we think.

Really, we have come a long way from the days when house-holders got their milk dipped out of a can at the front door and when almost everything in the grocery store was in open containers. Producers, retailers and government inspection men will testify to that.

Next Tuesday evening, April 17, at 8:00 p.m. at Lincoln Junior High School a group of experts will tell the food safety story, "Who Protects Food for the Consumer?"

This meeting, sponsored by the Marketing Information Program Advisory Council, is being presented by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University, in cooperation with the County Board of Supervisors. Admission is free and the public is invited to attend.

Moderator for the Panel discussion will be Mrs. Maxine Virtue, Assistant Attorney General. Speaking for the producers is Dr. Stanley H. Rice, Horticulture expert from MSU. Robert Petz of Peters Sausage Company; Jack Rose, Manager of Michigan Chain Store Council; and W. R. Kessey, Michigan Food Retailers Association, will represent the retailers.

George T. Daughters, Director

Food & Drug Administration; Lyle Littlefield, Chief, Foods and Standards, Michigan Department of Agriculture; and Charles S. Cohen, Chief City Sanitarian, Pontiac will discuss the government's role in protecting the food supply.

irmingham will speak on the consumer's angle.

This meeting will take the place of the annual banquet of the Marketing Information Advisory Council.

Baked Rice Dessert Has Fruit Surprise Below

This is a "honey" of a rice dessert full of "yum yum" goodness and—honey. It is truly one of the most superbly delicious rice desserts ever to bring eaters to a glorious mealtime finish.

Let the spoon dive deep to the very bottom of the casserole for the golden apricots buried under the custardy goodness of inexpensive rice. Revel in the delightful and refreshing flavor the bit of lemon adds to this sumptuous rice dessert.

Avoid Overuse of Vitamin D

Too much of a vitamin may sometimes be as bad as not enough.

A case in point is vitamin D for children, according to Robert Hershey, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at Michigan State University.

"Modern science is proving that too much vitamin D can interfere with growth and appetite in young children," she says. "Vitamin D is important to help in the formation of bones and teeth, but 400 units daily is usually enough."

She points out that the person who drinks a quart of vitamin D milk a day—or its equivalent in evaporated milk—is getting an adequate amount of the vitamin, since 400 units is the usual amount added.

"One problem," she says, "is that so many other foods have been enriched with it that one needs to watch labels. If more than 1,000 units a day are to be used, they should be prescribed by the child's physician. And if the physician has prescribed a certain amount, the mother can still watch the intake from other foods."

"Vitamin D is not common in ordinary foods."

"Nature intended for us to have vitamin D activated in our skin by sunlight," the specialist explains. She adds that the vitamin helps the body use calcium and phosphorus and states that there is "no point in taking vitamin D unless you are getting these minerals." Milk, she says, is a rich source for the minerals.

"We actually don't know for sure whether adults need vitamin D or not, but any growing young person who is adding bone length to his body must have it, even though he might be 18 or 20 years old."

"For other tips on the growing child's food needs, you may want to obtain Miss Hershey's leaflet, 'Mealtime for Little Folks.' Write for Extension Folder F-283, Bulletin Office, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich.

Low Calorie Dressing

Marinates Mushrooms

Crisp raw mushrooms are just as delicious as their sautéed counterparts and make a deliciously different salad accompaniment for chicken or meat. Wash one pound of raw mushrooms and dry well. Slice thin and sprinkle with lemon juice.

Mix ½ cup low calorie French dressing with a mashed clove of garlic and a generous grind of fresh pepper. Pour mixture over mushrooms and mix well. Chill at least two hours. Serve on a bed of lettuce.

Four Meals Are Possible With Half Ham

CHICAGO — Here's a way to get extra mileage from your Easter ham and save money, too. What's more, by following these suggestions from the American Meat Institute, you can get four fresh-cooked meals from a half ham.

Buy the shank half rather than the butt half of ham for this method, and make sure the ham has a full shank. You'll find that shank halves are usually offered at an even lower price than other ham cuts.

For meal No. 1, have the meatman saw off a generous shank end. Have an old-fashioned "boiled" dinner, by simmering the ham with carrots, onions, potatoes and wedges of cabbage.

You can easily divide the remaining part into two portions. The piece with the bone can be used for your Easter feast. The slices will be small because of the bone, in the middle, but delicious, and just enough for one meal for a small family.

The rest of the ham is boneless and easily sliced with a sharp knife. Cut thicker slices from the larger end to pan-fry or broil. Cut the small end into thinner slices or cubes for ham and scalloped potatoes or other one-dish meals.

FROZEN SPRING SALAD—Nothing quite so refreshing as a frozen fruit salad. Start serving this now and you'll continue all through the warm months. Mold the creamy, fruit-studded mixture in No. 2½ fruit cans for perfect round slices.

Circles of Salad Gay With Fruit

For a tasty salad that literally melts in your mouth, Frozen Spring Salad will certainly take the prize.

If you are planning to entertain at luncheon or supper, here is a menu suggestion featuring Frozen Spring Salad. . . include a platter of cold ham slices and cheese, garnished with radishes, celery and pickles, assorted hot rolls, butter, milk and butterscotch-nut sundae for dessert.

Frozen Spring Salad
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ pint (1 cup) dairy sour cream
2 packages (3 ounce each) cream cheese, room temperature
1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges, drained
1 can (1 pound) sliced peaches, drained
1 can (1 pound 14 ounces) pitted dark sweet cherries, drained
2 cups miniature marshmallows
½ pint (1 cup) whipping cream, whipped

Set gelatin in cold water in small metal pan. Place over hot water to dissolve gelatin. Combine sugar, mustard, lemon juice, sour cream and cream cheese; beat until well-blended. Chill until mixture thickens and begins to set. Beat until smooth.

Fold in fruits, marshmallows and whipped cream. Pour into 2 refrigerator trays (1 quart size) or clean round No. 2 or 2½ size fruit cans. Freeze.

To serve: unmold, slice and arrange slices on crisp lettuce leaves. If desired, top with whipped or sour cream. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Abundant Supply of Eggs Good News Near Easter

Plenty and thrifty could be the tune of eggs this spring, says the Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Two per cent more hens than a year ago are laying about one per cent more eggs. Supplies for 1962 will be largest during the next two months and these increased supplies will mean lower prices for shoppers.

Thanks to research, we have better breeds of laying hens that work overtime to give good quality eggs. If a hen does not lay more than 266 eggs a year, she is culled from today's productive flock. Today, 13 per cent fewer hens produce 60 per cent more eggs than 30 years ago.

Spring is the time when most eggs are of large size. Eggs classified as "Large" must weigh at least 24 ounces to the dozen according to U.S. Department of Agriculture Standards. Extra large eggs must weigh 27 ounces while medium size eggs must weigh 21 ounces. Weight-wise there is a 3-ounce difference between each egg size.

The grade mark on the carton is your guide to quality. Fresh, Fancy Quality and Grade AA are tops in quality. Next comes U.S. No. 1, Grade A, Grade B and then C.

Egg grades are based on the internal and external quality of the eggs. Internal egg quality is determined by the size of the air cell, the appearance of the yolk, the position of the yolk in the white, and the thickness and appearance of the egg white. These qualities are observed by candling before a strong light. External egg quality is judged on the basis of uniformity, shape, size and color.

The egg shell color is determined by the breed, and has no relation to the inside quality. If you want large size Grade A eggs, choose the lowest price carton meeting those requirements. A dozen of all-white eggs may be priced as much as five cents more per dozen than dark-shelled eggs of the same grade and size.

Refrigeration is the rule if you wish to keep the egg quality that you buy. Rush eggs into the home refrigerator, and remove only the amount you plan to use at any one time.

Up-to-date producers are careful to collect eggs several times daily, and today more are refrigerating eggs at the farm. Retailers are required by law to keep eggs under refrigeration. But unless these good examples are followed in the home, egg freshness can soon disappear at room temperature.

A check of food stores will show that pork supplies are in the limelight this week. Many canned ham values are available. Remember that canned ham will keep for months if left unopened in the refrigerator. Special emphasis is also given smoked hams, Boston butt (the lean shoulder roast), bacon and frankfurters.

Families wanting veal for Palm Sunday will find most cuts marked at less than usual this week. Many stores are listing leg roasts for 49 to 59 cents a pound.

Larger supplies of some fresh vegetables may be of interest to food shoppers. Heavier supplies of ripe and hot house tomatoes at slightly lower prices mean plenty of flavor and color for mixed salads. Head lettuce, Michigan cultivated mushrooms, carrots, and cabbage supplies are increasing.

Many processed fruits and vegetables represent fine values from standpoint of price.

Applesauce Turnovers

Leftover pie dough? Make small turnovers of the rolled out pastry with a filling of applesauce flvored with grated orange rind. Use a couple of teaspoons of the applesauce for a 4-inch pastry square, then fold over, press edges together and bake.

First Aid for Frosting

If cooked white frosting becomes sugary, beat in a little lemon juice, says a tip from Kitchen Aid, producer manufacturer of electric mixers. If you can't get this type of frosting to set, add sifted confectioner's sugar, a small amount at a time, until mixture stiffens.

Mocha Milk Shakes Appeal to Teens

When teenagers meet, they bring along their energized appetites. To satisfy those appetites and win compliments for yourself, provide cupcakes made from a box of mix — served with mocha milk shakes. Make the shakes this way:

Mocha Milk Shake
3 tablespoons instant coffee
3 tablespoons chocolate syrup
4 cups milk
2 pint vanilla, coffee or chocolate ice cream

Combine instant coffee, chocolate syrup, and part of the milk in a bowl, shaker, or electric blender. Blend well. Add remaining milk. Spoon ice cream into milk mixture. Beat until ice cream is melted and mixture is frothy. Makes 4 servings, about 1 1/4 cups for each person.

HOT CROSS BUNS — Hot cross buns are a traditional part of the Lenten season. The ones shown in this picture are made from a no-knead dough and baked in muffin cups. You'll find them easy to make and delightful to serve for any occasion.

1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup wheat germ
1 egg
1/2 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained)

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt; stir in wheat germ. Beat egg until foamy; gradually beat in the sugar; continue beating until thick and smooth; add buttermilk; beat to combine. Add flour mixture and raisins.

Stir just until all dry ingredients are moistened. (Batter will be on the thin side.) Turn into a greased loaf pan (3 by 4 by 5 1/2 inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on wire rack; turn right side up. Cool.

Loaf may now be cut into 1/2-inch slices. If stored in a tightly covered container overnight, it may be sliced quite thin. Nice made into cream cheese sandwiches for the lunchbox.

Add Cottage Cheese and Bread to Eggs

Dutch style scrambled eggs are delicious and filling for Lenten lunches.

Brown 1/2 cup day old bread cubes in butter in your skillet. Add 6 eggs, beaten slightly with 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper and 1 teaspoon salt. Cook over low heat until the eggs are creamy, but not firm.

Fold in 1 cup creamed cottage cheese. Continue cooking until eggs are set. You'll have enough for 4 servings.

For Fruit Salads

Mix half mayonnaise with half slightly softened vanilla ice cream; fold in 3 or 4 tablespoons well drained crushed pineapple. Serve over tossed fruit salad of pineapple chunks, whole strawberries, banana slices and orange sections arranged attractively in lettuce cups.

Surrounded by paraphernalia of the trade, Mrs. James Stewart shows the silk organza, daisy-bedecked hat she made for her daughter to Mrs. Kenneth Goff and Mrs. John Gribble. The women met Wednesday to resume spring custom millinery classes at the Young Women's Christian Association. Perched on the headblock or "block-head" is Mrs. Goff's almost completed red straw braid pillbox which she hopes to have wound up before Easter.

It's a Man's Job, Says Abby Eyeing Wrong Medicine

DEAR ABBY: I have the world's worst liar for a husband. He has been seeing another woman for a year now and, you know, you can't get away with that stuff in a small town. Everybody knows it, but he denies it when I question him.

He "hides" his car in her garage and pulls down the garage door, but the crazy old fool should know that people see him coming out of her garage at all hours. The woman is divorced and he isn't the only one she sees.

Should I find myself a sweetheart, too? Maybe if my husband got a taste of his own medicine it would cure him.

CHEATER'S WIFE: DEAR WIFE: The kind of "medicine" you are considering has never cured anyone. Someone should collar your husband and try to make him see the light. It's a man's job. Get one of his friends to talk to him.

DEAR ABBY: Would it be proper for a mother to go down the aisle with her only daughter and give her away in marriage? She has no brothers or uncles to give her away, and her father hasn't done a blooming thing for her since she was born. To be honest with you, he took off years ago. I don't know where he is and I am not about to hunt him up. Thank You.

WIDOW OF A LIVING LOUSE: DEAR WIDOW: Talk to your clergyman about the "giving away" part of the ceremony in your church. Not all ceremonies include it. And in some, it is perfectly permissible for a mother to go down the aisle with her daughter. Or the bride may go down alone.

Sorority Plans Banquet

Pontiac chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority celebrate the 31st anniversary of the organization's founding April 23. The 11 local chapters will observe the occasion during a banquet at Edgewood Country Club.

Central event of the evening will be Mrs. Thomas Ogden's presentation of the message from the sorority's founder.

President of City Council, Mrs. Elmo C. Jones will act as chairman and toastmistress for the event and Mrs. Howard Armstrong, of the Oakland County Childrens Home, will accept the donation for books at the home.

Committees for the affair include Mrs. Clyde Haskell, Zeta Eta chapter, reservations; Joan Wilson, Phi Alpha Iota chapter, favors; Mrs. John Whitehead, Xi Beta Beta, and Virginia Luther, Xi Phi, program; Mrs. Thomas Wallace, Phi Alpha Kappa, flowers; Mrs. Vincent Schneider, Alpha Omega, speaker; Mrs. William Chasal, Xi Alpha Nu, entertainment; Mrs. Robert Wedow, Xi Beta Theta, name tags; and Dorothy Phelps, Epsilon Rho, publicity.

Beta Sigma Phi Pontiac City Council recently held elections and presented the following officers: Mrs. Clyle Haskell, president; Mrs. Elmo Jones, vice president; Mrs. Menzer, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Galland, treasurer; and Judith Brown, corresponding secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Beni, Denby Drive, Drayton Plains, announce the engagement of her sister, Mary Irene Ward, to Gerald W. Henderson, son of the Clarence W. Hendersons, Dorothy Lane, Waterford.

Hat-Making Pupils Turn Out Stylish Models in 'Y' Classes

By LINDA LA MARRE

Bits of flowers, yards of straw, pieces of string, wire, needles and pins — sound like a 6-year-old's treasure-trove? Perhaps — but only if he's a connoisseur of fine chapeaux!

The beautifully hatted students in Mrs. Arthur Gloster's millinery class are obviously just that, and under her skilled tutelage they turn out hats of distinct style and individuality.

The first lesson in an eight-week series, swung into action at the Young Women's Christian Association Wednesday morning from 10 to noon. The enthusiasm for last fall's course carried right over into the spring session, despite the demands of spring cleaning and gardening.

STUDENTS RETURN

Mrs. Kenneth Goff, Mrs. John Gribble, Mrs. James Stewart and Mrs. J. K. Tanner, all of Bloomfield Hills, are last "semester's" students who returned with half-finished projects or prepared for more hat makin'.

Straw seems to be the order of the day, and the season too. Straw braid and straw over jersey fabric lend themselves well to the ever-popular pillbox and the sailor silhouette. Not only is this material easiest for beginners to handle according to Mrs. Gloster, but once her students have mastered the technique of covering the pillbox crown and the sailor, they're ready to cover almost anything. The nonpliable fabrics, such as velvet and satin, discourage beginners, she added.

The next step is working with wide brims, the rolled breton and less flexible materials. If trims are applied correctly, she said, a woman can make one hat do the job of three or four by some quick change artistry.

'CHICKEN COOP'

The "chicken coop" frame, a larger mesh frame than most, is currently replacing the wimpy, old-fashioned "box-head" of "coops," Mrs. Gloster pointed out where these frames need not be completely covered with braid or fabric to create an attractive cloche or breton. Net frames, flowers and other materials are purchased at millinery supply houses in Detroit. Although the cost of most beginners' hats run about $5, this price varies with the amount or quality of materials used.

Most of the women agreed that an abundance of hats does create one problem — storage. Attics, closets and boxes seem to be the most suitable resting places for their handiwork — when not on the head, of course. Most of the women wouldn't be seen without a hat, especially if it's one of their own custom designs.

"What happens if you don't like it after six weeks of work? Why they wear 'em anyway!"

A moment of reflection erases any misgivings Mrs. J. K. Tanner may have encountered during the six weeks or so that it took to create her spritely little chapeau. A touch of veiling and cluster of blooms are right in step with this year's light 'n' airy millinery dictates too.

contacting the parks and recreation department at city hall.

Bell-Chorale Readies Easter Concert

The Bell-Chorale, a choral group sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, will present its annual Easter Concert, Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in the Pontiac Central High School auditorium.

The chorale is directed by Frederic Bellingier, who organized the group about a year ago.

A highlight of the concert will be the Oratorio, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," by Theodore Dubois. Soloists will be Marquita Harrison, Clara Hatchett, Freddy Edwards and John Leonard.

The complete program consists of 11 selections ranging from Mozart compositions to Robert Shaw arrangements. Full information about the concert can be obtained by

It's easy! . . . once the master craftsman takes over. Mrs. Arthur Gloster explains one of the finer points of applying straw braid as she pins a frothy white creation by one of her students. Variations on a hat may be played by changing its trims, but careful attention to pinning, stitching and gluing is vital.

College Doings

President and Mrs. Kennedy welcome the Shah and Empress of Iran as the couple arrive Wednesday for a state dinner in their honor. Choreographer Jerome Robbins and his dance group entertaining for the royal visitors, presenting the first ballet performance ever given in the White House.

Choreographer Jerome Robbins and his dance group entertaining for the royal visitors, presenting the first ballet performance ever given in the White House.

Jazz Ballet Is Staged for Iran's Royal Family

WASHINGTON (AP)—Iran's royal family—bedecked in medals and jewels—saw a finger-snapping sweat shirt and sneakers jazz ballet staged at the White House.

It came as the climax Wednesday night to a glittering state dinner President and Mrs. Kennedy gave for the Shah of Iran and his young queen, Farah.

Queen Farah's gown was encrusted with sparkling sequins, gold and jewels. She wore a dozen or so medals suspended from ribbons across his chest.

Kennedy's only color was a blue conifer in his lapel—the flower that is Mrs. Kennedy's favorite.

The center of attraction after the state dinner was Jerome Robbins' "Ballet: U.S.A." It was the first time a ballet company had ever performed in the White House. The dancers put on their show on a special stage that took up nearly half the East Room, to the light of dimmed crystal chandeliers.

The performance emphasized contemporary developments in the American dance, beginning with a modern version of "Afternoon of a Faun" and ending with five jazz themes.

One of the boys in the ballet troop confided to Kennedy: "This is the dressiest audience we ever played to." Said Kennedy: "That doesn't happen every night."

Sorority Chapter Elects Officers, Hears Students

Officers for Xi Beta Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority were elected Tuesday evening in the Hotel Waldron.

Serving with incoming president, Mrs. John Whitehead, will be Mrs. Fred Rigotti, vice president; Mrs. Francis A. Colton, treasurer; Mrs. Idamae Fraser, recording secretary; Mrs. William Long, secretary.

City council delegates are Mrs. Ray Slaughter and Mrs. Cecil Elsholtz.

Talks were given by Marilyn Coffing on her stay in Bremen, Germany, as an exchange student in 1961 and Juan Hernandez of Madrid, Spain, who has been in Pontiac for the past year.

Members are planning to attend the annual founder's day banquet April 25 at the Edgewood Country Club.

Honor Couple at Open House

Mr. and Mrs. John Donley of Sheridan Avenue were honored at an open house Sunday on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

One hundred people attended the affair which was given by the couple's children. Earlier the honorees were entertained at brunch by Mrs. Donley's parents, the Thomas Goffneys of Charlotte.

Earlier this month the couple received the Silver Anniversary blessing at St. Michael's Church and were feted by Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Lee and the Lep Half-pennys at Hawaiian Gardens.

Movie Premiere to Benefit Camp Oakland

Mrs. Ben D. Mills of Bloomfield Hills was hostess Wednesday to area women planning a May 10 special premiere of Walt Disney's new movie "Bon Voyage" for benefit of Camp Oakland.

her picturesque home were Drayton Plains women (from left) Mrs. Louis Scarlotti, Francesca Drive; Mrs. James Clarkston, St. Jude Street; and Mrs. Edward Dalton, Francesca Drive.

Plans to present a special premiere of Walt Disney's new movie, "Bon Voyage," have been announced today by Mrs. Ben D. Mills, chairman of the women's committee of Camp Oakland.

At a morning coffee Wednesday in her home at Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Mills told 60 women's committee members that the film's leading lady, Jane Wyman, will fly here from Hollywood to attend the benefit premiere at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, May 10 in Ford Auditorium.

At the same time Mrs. Mills introduced special chairman for area communities whose residents will be invited to become patrons of the benefit premiere.

Cochairmen of the patron committee will be Mrs. Parbury P. Schmidt of Wing Lake Road, and Mrs. John S. Kerr of Samingdale street, both of Bloomfield Township.

Two other Bloomfield Township residents are ticket committee chairmen. They are Mrs. W. B. Calhoun Jr. of Pine Tree Trail and Mrs. L. W. Newbern of Oak Hills Drive.

"Bon Voyage" will be the first Camp Oakland benefit to be held in an auditorium convenient to the entire Detroit Metropolitan area.

A special 1961 benefit showing of the Broadway hit, "An Evening with Mike Nichols and Elaine May," and the 1960 premiere of "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" were held in Oakland County.

Fifty children will be transported from their homes at the 300-acre Oxford camp to join in the premiere night occasion. They will occupy a reserved section of the huge auditorium.

The youngsters, who live in Camp Oakland's Boys' Ranch and Girls' Ranch, are wards of the court because of difficult family situations. They will be visited by Miss Wyman during her stay in Detroit.

Deeply interested in such projects, the Academy Award winner will tour the Camp Oakland buildings at the Lakeside where 500 underprivileged children annually are given free summer camping.

The premiere will raise funds for new and more adequate quarters for Boys' Ranch.

Miss Wyman is expected to head a long list of celebrities who will attend the film premiere, which will be introduced and speak briefly.

The actress costars with Fred MacMurray in the technicolor comedy-romance. It relates the adventures of a Terre Haute, Ind., family and their three children on their first European trip.

It's Better to Call Maid by Name

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: Last Saturday I did a woman come in to do some house cleaning. My husband and I had to go out that day and as we were leaving I said to him, "I left the money for the cleaning woman on the table and she will lock up when she leaves."
The woman overheard me and was highly indignant because I referred to her as "the cleaning woman." She said, "It was very degrading. Will you please tell me if I was rude to refer to her the way I did?"
A: I'm sorry to say that you were rude to refer to her as "the cleaning woman." You should have said I left the money for Mary (or Mrs. Jones if that is what you call her) on the table.

Club Welcomes New Member

Mrs. Paul Etter opened her Clarkson home Tuesday evening to members of the Past Chiefs Club of Mirqah Temple No. 7, Pythian Sisters.

After the invocation by Mrs. William Vance, Mrs. William Cowie was welcomed as a new member.

May hostess will be Mrs. Edward Kerr of Coesburn Drive, Drayton Plains.

Members of Group Gather at Home

Eighteen members of the Dorcas Class of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church gathered Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Alex Joss on Lakeview Street. Mrs. John Gemmell was co-hostess.

Mrs. Bruce Davis led devotions and several members gave highlights of their Florida vacations. Easter favors were completed for the rest home on Mt. Clemens Street.

Who pays for what at the wedding? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Wedding Expenses" answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Tailor Trix Winner of the week is Elsie Black, St. Clair Shores, Mich., with this suggestion.

"The neatest way to apply bias tape on material is to turn the narrow edge of the bias fold out, and stitch along the wrong side of the tape, on the fold line.

"Then fold the bias over onto the right side of the material and stitch close to the edge. In this way you will never have a part of the tape that hasn't been caught in the seam. This will work wonders if you do a lot of aprons etc., for your church bazaar.

Your interesting column has been a great help to me, now I am hoping you will answer my question. My one shoulder is lower than the other, which causes wrinkles to fall in the bodice on the low side. What is the correct way to fix this?"

Mrs. H.S.

Instead of relying on an extra shoulder pad, which was the way this situation was formerly corrected, take up the shoulder seam about 1/2 inch, tapering to nothing at the neck edge. Now when you see the wrinkles disappear, you will know you have taken up the correct amount.

Since you have made the armhole smaller, you will have to cut out the lower edge of the armhole the same amount that you have taken out of the shoulder, tapering to nothing at the notch in front and back of the armhole.

CUT FROM DRESS PATTERN

"Dear Eunice,

"Is it possible to make a blouse from a dress pattern? I think it is very hard to find nice blouse patterns and I do have a favorite neckline on a dress."

Mrs. A.R.

Yes, this is possible, and not too difficult. Since all blouses need a little extra "ease," in other words, they are not fitted as close as a dress, allow a little extra length.

You could lay a skirt pattern over the bodice pattern, and in this way you would get the correct curve for the hip-line.

However, once again, I want to warn you that you must allow for more length in the bodice, and a little extra in the width. Your blouse should be about 6 inches below the waist so it doesn't slip out of your skirt easily.

Many women forget that a skirt can be made from any skirt of a dress pattern. You do not need to buy an extra pattern for the skirt if you have a favorite one. Just cut it as usual, making any pattern changes necessary for fitting, and then apply the waistband.

HEAVY HIPS?

"Dear Mrs. Farmer,

"I carry most of my weight from the hips down. Please tell me what kind of skirt would be the most becoming to my figure. Your column is wonderful for those of us who would like to sew but do not know how. Many thanks."

Mrs. J.L.B.

If most of your weight is in the hips, avoid pleated and very full skirts. Instead of hiding anything, they make you look larger.

You could wear a four-gore skirt that has a little fullness at the lower end of the skirt, or a one-piece skirt in front, with 3 sections in the back for extra ease. If a straight skirt is fitted properly, I really feel that this can be your most becoming style.

YOUR SEWING GLOSSARY:

Blouson: This is a term that has been used a great deal in recent years in describing ready to wear clothes as well as patterns. It simply means a little extra "blouse" or fullness above the waistline. Sometimes this is very exaggerated, but it can be adjusted so that it is becoming to your own figure.

Our Mothers Have Failings, Fears, Too

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Dear Mrs. Lawrence:
My mother has a habit that irritates me 'till I sometimes think I can't stand it. I have three youngsters, and this winter I did all her marketing in addition to my own work because she has had a bad arthritis attack. But instead of thanks, all I get is reminders of what she has done for me.

Yesterday, when I delivered her week's supply of groceries, she ignored the bags I was putting on the table to ask me if the sweater I was wearing wasn't the one she gave me for Christmas two years ago. When I said it wasn't, she insisted that it was.

ANSWER: It may be as painful for your mother to say "Thank you" to you as it is to read one of her swollen joints. Has she always taken great pride in her generosity? If so, the feeling of gratitude can be terribly threatening to her.

For people who take pride in their generosity use it to support their self-importance. When illness or old age compels them to take from you, they become frantic.

One of the ways they deal with their panic is to remind us of what we owe them. They go back to the past to evade the humiliating present.

Like you, children are usually "irritated" by this kind of ingratitude in parents. I'm not criticizing; your irritation is understandable, but I have to suggest that it derives from idealization of your mother. She is not, you know, the faultless, all-powerful creature of your childhood imagination.

You do not realize that her inability to say "thank you" may not be meanness in her but a weakness over which she has no control. As her child who is not yet free of mother, it is easier for you to resent her ingratitude than to know it is weakness and fear.

Just as we parents have to change our ideas about you, our children, so do you have to have enough to outgrow your romantic views of us.

It's hard to do. The moment we see mother as frightened and weak instead of mean or selfish or ungrateful, all the values she has given us become unsteady. As doubts of her perfection assail us, so do doubts that everything she has told us is true. That's always a very scary situation, so children in your position often prefer to avoid it. They prefer to protest mother's weaknesses to accepting her as possibly unreliable. They prefer to resent her to seeing her as weak and frightened.

Yet a parent who cannot refrain from reminding his child of past favors is weak. He reminds his child of his generosity for the same reason that a beggar draws his rags closer about him in a cold wind.

ELIZABETH JANE SCHAULE

The Robert Schaulés of Birmingham announce the engagement of their daughter Elizabeth Jane to Larry McCray, son of the Carmon McCrays of Clawson. July 28 vows are planned.

Barbara Berg Opens Gifts at Bridal Shower

Bride-elect Barbara Berg of West Pike Street opened personal gifts at a shower Sunday afternoon in the East Stratmore Avenue home of Mrs. Frank D. Kurkowski. Mrs. John Hill, aunt of bridegroom-elect David A. Diehm, was cohostess.

Parents of the honoree are the Oscar Bergs of Unionville, Conn., formerly of Pontiac.

Guests at the shower included Mrs. Andrew A. Diehm, of Pinegrove Avenue, mother of Miss Berg's fiancé, Barbara Heasler, Mrs. Dan Drops, Mrs. James Souden, Mrs. Richard Ryan, Mrs. Ronald Holland, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Paul Hoffman, Mrs. John Hill, and Mrs. Charles Sherer.

Out-of-towners were Mrs. Jack Rinkes and Jar-lee Rinkes, Bedford, Ohio; Mrs. Jack Kohl and daughter Christine, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio; Mrs. Ralph Margo, Mrs. Joseph Gaveri, Akron, Ohio; Mrs. James Leising, Lansing; Mrs. Cecil Denison, Auburn Heights; Mrs. James Farmer, Keesee Harbor; and Mrs. Jack Thompson, Wallied Lake.

Highlight of the party was a telegram enclosure with a gift from Mrs. Robert Covington, Munich, Germany, sister of David Diehm. Mrs. Kurkowski will be matron of honor at the April 28 vows in St. Michael Church.

The Edwin Heidens of St. Joseph announce the engagement of their daughter Marcia Ann of Desmond Street, Waterford, to Leo L. Klein, son of Mrs. Erwin Klein of Coopersville and the late Mr. Klein.

MARCIA ANN HEIDEN

Bridal Shower and Tea Honor Miss Armstrong

Kathleen Helen Armstrong opened bridal gifts at a tea Saturday afternoon in the Wrenoth Drive home of Mrs. Herbert Lake. Guests included Mrs. Corliss E. Armstrong, of Wrenoth Drive, who attended her daughter's party with Mrs. William Clifford, Mrs. Matt L. Grabek and daughter Joan, Mrs. Donald Hagsdane, Mrs. Sherwood Nye, Mrs. Marshall Smith and Mrs. A. F. Wittgen.

Out-of-town guests included Sue John and Beverly McCaskey, Lansing; Mrs. Frankie Meyer, Grand Lodge; Janet Wilgus and Mrs. Robert Van Buhler, Detroit.

All Saints Episcopal Church has reserved for the April 28 vows of Miss Armstrong to Leo H. Voelke, son of the Medard Voelkes of Endicott, N.Y.

The teachers of Midway School, Holt, where the bride-elect teaches first grade, will honor her at a party this week.

Presbyterian Circle Meets in Drayton

Marbach Circle of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Edwin Ojay of Shawnee Lane, Drayton Plains, Tuesday evening.

Cohostesses Mrs. George Beauchamp and Mrs. Cramer Partridge served dessert after the business meeting and devotion. Mrs. Robert Irwin led devotions and Mrs. Robert Anderson gave the Bible study.

Benefit Is Planned by Sandburg PTA

The Carl Sandburg School Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a benefit sale Saturday beginning at 8:30 a.m. at the United Rubber Workers local union hall on West Pike Street.

Mrs. Francis Fleck is chairman. Committee members include Mrs. Frank Harshbaker, Mrs. William Stormer, Mrs. Eugene Berg, Mrs. Reuben Armstrong, Mrs. William Franklin, Mrs. Ford Andrews and Mrs. Frederick Poole.

City Teacher to Be Married in Kalamazoo

A June 23 wedding in St. Monica Church, Kalamazoo, is planned by Marcia Ann Heiden, elementary vocal music teacher in the Pontiac public school system. Her parents, the Edwin Heidens are from St. Joseph and her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Erwin Klein of Coopersville and the late Mr. Klein.

She holds a bachelor of music degree from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, where she affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi and Sigma Alpha Iota sororities. Mr. Klein, who is a candidate for a B.M. degree from WMU in June, is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia.

Will Attend Camp Fire Conference

Four local women will represent the Pontiac Council at the Camp Fire Girls' conference in Chicago this week. Richard Jarvis, council president, announced.

Volunteers attending the three-day conference, today through Saturday are Mrs. Bernard Stikney of South Francis Street and Mrs. Ruth Donaldson of South Edith Street.

Mrs. Donald Beck, executive director and Barbara Battin, field director, will represent the staff at the meeting.

NEW PROGRAM

Blue Birds, formerly for girls 7, 8 and 9 will be for 7 and 8-year-olds only. Nine-year-olds, in turn, will become campfire girls, formerly reserved for girls 10 to 14. The campfire girls will be 9 through 11, while a separate junior high program for 12- and 13-year-olds is being planned. Girls 14 to 18 will continue to be members of the Horizon Club, the senior program.

The Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls is a member of the Pontiac Area United Fund. Its services offer a character-building program for girls 7-18 in neighborhoods where volunteer leadership is available.

Molestations Up This Time of Year

Shun Strangers, Children Told

Since child molestation complaints increase at this time of the year, parents should strongly warn their children against accepting lures of strangers to go for walks or rides, said Sgt. Mike Ahlgrim, commanding officer of the Pontiac post of the Michigan State Police.

This cautionary advice, given now and occasionally repeated, might prevent some child from suffering an experience which could blight his or her life and even result in injury or death, he said.

Records of previous years show that child molesting complaints begin to increase in the spring, reach a peak during the summer months, and taper off when schools resume. "Warn your children to have nothing to do with strangers. That's the safest rule for them to follow," Ahlgrim advised. "Urging them to tell you right away if any stranger approaches and tries to lure them with candy or other things to go for walks or rides."

In 1961 there were 233 sex offense complaints, which include child molesting, that were investigated by the state police. This was 15, or 2 per cent, more than in the previous year.

Highest incidence of these complaints was in August with 84. July was next highest with 66; May, third with 57; September, fourth with 54; and June, fifth with 53. No month had less than 32.

FEAR EMBARRASSMENT

Fear of embarrassing publicity, makes some parents reluctant to report molestation incidents to the police. This is unfortunate because it increases the difficulty in coping with these situations.

Names of children molested and their parents, however, are not used by the press, radio and television except when necessary in cases of severe emergency, such as abduction or murder.

If all incidents were reported, police would have a better chance of apprehending the offenders and curtailing such offenses, Sgt. Ahlgrim said. Lack of such reporting may encourage the molester to strike again.

Children should be assured that policemen are friends who want to help and protect them. They should be encouraged to notify police of any strangers loitering around playgrounds, schools, public restrooms or in the neighborhood.

Following are suggested rules for children:

1. Don't talk to strangers or accept any offer of money, candy or gifts to go for a walk or ride with them.

2. Report to your parents, police or teacher any suspicious stranger who tries to join you or your group.

3. Stay with playmates when outdoors. Don't play or walk alone in alleys, deserted buildings or other secluded areas.

4. Don't go alone to the movies, fairs or carnivals. Try to have at least one companion wherever you go.

5. Keep a safe distance from the road so that a stranger in a passing car cannot easily reach out and seize you.

6. Don't loiter in public rest rooms. These are danger spots.

7. These rules are for your protection. Don't let anyone persuade you to disobey them. If you have any question or problem, tell your parents.

The following are ways that children can help in checking child molestation practices:

REMEMBER DETAILS

1. Write down or memorize descriptive details of any stranger who tries to bother you. Note such things as height, weight, age, color of skin, eyes and hair, and unusual features such as a mustache, eyeglasses, tattoos, jewelry or physical defects.

2. If the stranger has a car, remember its color and try to get the license number and letters. Write this down or if necessary use a stick or stone to mark it on the sidewalk or dirt.

3. Your suspicions can help protect you and your friends from harm. Any stranger investigated by police should not be offended if he has a proper explanation for his actions.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States yesterday announced two new loans to India totaling $52.5 million to pay for a big hydroelectric project in the southern state of Kerala.

Fowler Hamilton, administrator of the Agency for International Development (AID) said the loans bring total U.S. loans to India since last summer to $448 million. The United States last June pledged a total of $45 million to help in the first year of India's third five-year development plan.

'Jackie Look' Will Shift to Kelly Look'

LONDON (UPI) — The fashion editor of the London Daily Express predicted Wednesday that the "Jackie Kennedy Look" will be out of fashion by summer, and the "Grace Kelly Look" in. This will happen "on the very first warm day," wrote fashion editor Jill Butterfield.

"I'm sure," she said, "because the Kelly Look is the essence of summer."

"Kelly girls," Miss Butterfield went on, "have hair that looks as if it actually grows on the head. Instead of being whipped up there with an egg beater."

"The Kelly Look is the look of tomorrow, while the white-smiling, hard-working American First Lady climbed on to a fashion bandwagon which had been turning for quite awhile before her grin and gaiety gave the pillbox hat, bouffant hairstyle, campus-cute suit, and hot, bright colors a new fillip."

Miss Butterfield summed up the "Kelly Look" as mild and milky in color, featuring simple suits, skirts and classical drapes that "are easier to spend the summer in than the straight tight dress which is the Kennedy uniform."

It's Smart to Belong to 'Promise-Breakers' Club

By PHILLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK — I have just been appointed a lifetime member of a rather new organization called "The Guild of Mind-Changers and Promise-Breakers."

When the hand-drawn certificate of membership arrived, the first reaction was rebellion. Okay, so I change my mind occasionally.

But breaking promises is not in my line. In fact, in this uncertain world I'm a coward about promises and secrets: Never make them and never listen to them.

"The Mind-Changers and Promise-Breakers" was founded by a crusading gentleman who writes on the stationery of the exclusive Union Club on Park Avenue, Edward D. Dunn. It was formed in a good cause.

Dunn is a writer. Like most writers, he despises telephones. Early in 1956, when he had a special editorial project to complete, he writes, his telephone would ring all through the day and all through the evening, despite the fact he had an unlimited number.

He called the telephone company and ordered the phone removed.

"My family and close friends approved," writes Dunn. "They even envied me. They sent telegrams or post cards when they wanted to call me to their homes or a neighborhood bar. It was convenient."

"But other acquaintances grew and complained so endlessly that I fell into the habit of saying, 'All right. My special work will be finished before the end of the year. As a Christmas present, I'll order a telephone and you'll receive the unlisted number on a Christmas card.'"

Dunn finished his special writing project in mid-November.

"But the tranquility of my life prompted me to defer installing the phone until the date set — Christmas. In those remaining six weeks, I did three months work."

In the week before the holiday, cards began to arrive, with the notation: "Remember your PROMISE about the telephone."

Dunn, in peace perhaps for the first time in his professional life, pondered each reminder. And the person who sent it: Here was a woman who served on benefit ticket committees; here a political party worker; there a distant, not quite enough, relative; ah, and here a borrower; this one was "a telephone hound," who just liked to chat; and these people — these people were the people he'd wished secretly for 10 years — he'd never met.

"I decided, on Christmas Eve, that I couldn't go through with the promise. Instead of sending Christmas cards with a new number, I devised 'The Guild of Mind-Changers and Promise-Breakers' and sent out memberships. Thought it was a clever idea — would amuse at the same time it saved my conscience.

"But — alas! Maledictions and curses! It boomeranged!"

Suddenly, members of "the guild" began dropping in on Dunn. Lovable old Dunn, with his sense of humor.

"They came early, stayed late, and enjoyed any brand I happened to have. I began to wish I had a phone again, to give me an excuse to excuse myself from the presence of my continual flow of guests."

Recently, Dunn solved his problem, the letter explained.

He moved. He now lives in a tiny apartment which has no telephone, no knob on the door, and a welcome mat which advises "SCRAM" in large, black letters.

He says he has never been happier. And he sent me a membership (with no phone number or return address) because he thought all writers and other type telephone-haters might profit by his experience.

Thank you, Mr. Dunn. Indeed I am honored to join "The Guild of Mind-Changers and Promise-Breakers."

(Note to my acquaintances who manage to telephone while I'm feeding the baby or writing, even though my number is unlisted: Of course I don't mean to offend you. I promise . . .)

Fight Blue Law by Amendments

Senators Trying to Kill House-OK'd Bill to Shut Stores in Big Counties

LANSING (AP) — After failing to deliver an outright death blow, senators are trying to kill with multiple amendments and ridicule a bill that would shut down most retail stores on Saturday or Sunday.

The House-approved measure would ban the sale of all but necessities, emergency and recreational items on Saturday or Sunday, with the choice of day left up to the state owner.

It is eligible for final vote today. As passed by the House it would apply only to the 11 counties with more than 130,000 population. Counties with less than 130,000 would be able to apply the ban by a vote of their supervisors.

"This is an effort to curtail seven-day-a-week commercial operations," said Sen. John P. Smeekens, R-Coldwater, a backer. "It tells what is lawful. The small stores with three or less employees can still operate."

"It is pretty hard to legislate morals," commented Sen. Elmer R. Porter, R-Birmingham. "It is unfair to have a bill that only covers certain items on certain days in certain areas. You shouldn't impose anything on the people you can't enforce."

Two attempts to kill the bill by sending it back to committee failed.

Sen. Clarence F. Gracber, R-Saginaw, resented because his county would be affected by the closing while neighboring ones would not, put in an amendment that would have the measure apply to counties of 30,000 population.

"GET THEM ALL!" "Might as well get them all," suggested Sen. Frank D. Beadle, R-St. Clair, amending the amendment to have the bill apply to counties of 3,000 population. The amendment passed.

Beadle said later he intended to cover the entire state. But he forgot that Keweenaw County had only 2,417 residents in the 1960 census count.

A later amendment included even Keweenaw County.

Fills Vacancy on Council at Sylvan Lake

Clement F. Cleveland of 1835 Woodland Ave. last night was appointed to fill a Sylvan Lake City Council vacancy created by the resignation of Joseph E. Gilson. Gilson resigned for reasons of health.

Cleveland was nominated by Mayor Edward Jarvis who said Cleveland's experience as a research employee of Ford's Tractor Division would make him valuable for his knowledge of equipment for possible use by the DPW, "even though he could not vote on anything we buy."

Jarvis also recommended Cleveland because "he's from the same area in which Gilson lives." Gilson lives at 1815 Woodland Ave.

Sunk Sub Rumor Wrong, Says Navy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Navy spokesman denied yesterday a rumor that a U.S. submarine had been sunk by a Soviet submarine and that American survivors were in a Tokyo hospital.

Rear Adm. Daniel F. Smith, Navy chief of information, said he had been informed the rumor was current in the area of Santa Barbara, Calif.

"It is not true," Smith told a reporter. "We have all of our submarines. Nobody is being treated in any hospital for injuries in any such attack."

Con-Com Moves to Ban Pari-Mutuel Betting

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's four commercial race tracks, which handled nearly $12 million in bets last year, would be forced out of business under a proposal tentatively approved by the constitutional convention.

Delegates voted 80-42 yesterday to ban pari-mutuel betting in a surprise move that appeared to have startled everybody.

Many of the delegates who voted for the provision frankly admitted to nervousness that they really had not expected the proposal to be adopted, or they wouldn't have supported it.

The proposal is subject to at least two more votes and most delegates were willing to bet that the result would be overturned later.

"This is the most astounding thing I've ever heard of," said Edgar Hayes, state racing commissioner, who pointed out that the state collected $7.5 million in taxes from the tracks last year.

Hayes said race track patrons, who numbered over two million in 1961, would merely take their business to Canada or neighboring states.

HAZEL PARK REVENUE
Rep. John C. Hitchcock, D-Hazel Park, whose community gets $500,000 a year from Hazel Park harness race track, said he was not a betting man himself but that he saw no necessity for the convention's action.

Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, Democratic floor leader, denounced the vote as a "negative step."

"I hope the convention will come up with a positive alternative to recover the millions of dollars in revenue the state would lose," he declared. "I don't see where this improves state government at all."

A senator whose district encompasses the Jackson harness track, Sen. Haskell Nichols, R-Jackson, said the constitutional provision would throw a large number of people out of work and result in the loss of a good deal of revenue for the state, directly or indirectly.

"We have a regulated system, and I don't see the need for doing away with the tracks," he commented.

The vote to outlaw pari-mutuel betting came shortly after delegates had voted 91-25 to defeat a motion to legalize bingo by local option.

The blago question was placed on the ballot in 1964 by legislative petition, but voters defeated the amendment, 644,883 to 303,383.

posal, unhappy over the rejection, challenged their fellow delegates to show whether they were being hypocritical on the question of gambling, including race track betting.

"Let's be honest and vote against horses," said Arthur Madar, D-Detroit, who favored the bingo provision. "You should see the suffering that results—when wage earners lose all their money at the tracks."

MADISON SPONSOR

The sponsor of the amendment, Lee Walker, D-Madison Heights, said that state income from taxes on the pari-mutuel handle falls far short of covering the cost of welfare and aid to dependent children

(ADC) resulting from tragic gambling losses.

The ban on pari-mutuel betting was adopted as additional language in a constitutional provision which already prohibits the legislature from authorizing any lottery or the sale of lottery tickets.

William Marshall, D-Lansing, said he felt the debate, which lasted for about two hours, was a waste of time.

"I think the delegates should now come to their senses and realize that they should strike the whole section—including the lottery ban, which doesn't belong in a constitution," he said.

Glenn Allen, R-Kalamazoo, who opposed banning race betting, said the outcome of the vote could be embarrassing to many delegates because if they switch their stand on a later ballot, they might be accused of having bowed under pressure from racing interests.

Any delegate who later switches his vote could be politically embarrassed by the whole thing, said Glenn Allen, R-Kalamazoo.

Allen, who opposed the ban and voted against it, pointed out that delegates changing their votes will leave themselves open to accusations of having bowed under pressure from race track interests.

Tigers Rained Out Again

Showers Cost Regan Chance Against Nats

Lary Expected to Hurt Friday in Home Opener Against Yankees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those April showers that make the cherry blossoms grow pretty in Washington are keeping the Detroit Tigers from getting their season started in last night's postponed game with the Washington Senators, and today Jim Bunning lost his chance to work against the Senators.

Manager Bob Scheffing now is bypassing Regan until Saturday.

Frank Lary is Scheffing's choice for the home opener tomorrow with the New York Yankees.

"We'll go with Frank if he's all right," said Scheffing after the Senators called off last night's game before noon yesterday.

QUICK CURE?

Lary's shoulder remains a little sore and tight, but Scheffing hopes a crack at the Yankees will be a quick cure for Lary.

The ace right hander has a 27-10 record against them since he became the American League's top Yankee-killer.

Regan will follow in Saturday's game against the Yankees, who visit Detroit for a three-game series that should draw 100,000 fans the first weekend of the season.

Then Don Mossi, 4-1 loser in the opener to the Senators Monday, would pitch Sunday against the Yankees—if it doesn't rain before then.

Scheffing is mindful that a pitcher can't afford to miss too much work at the start of the season.

A day off and a rainout didn't please him and he's afraid more rain will start putting rust spots in the pitching rotation he hoped to use to get a fast start.

Cartier's Mark Certain to Fall

Pro Bowler's Tourney Enters Final Stages as Field Is Reduced

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harry Smith needed 1.103 pins in his final five games to break Don Carter's qualifying record as the $25,000 Professional Bowlers Association tournament entered the final stages today. At the conclusion of 30 games Wednesday night, Smith was well ahead of the field with 4,523 pins.

Carter, the pro tour's leading money winner, set the PBA record with 5,024 pins for 25 games at Akron, Ohio, last February.

The 144-man field was reduced to 32 after Wednesday night's action. Today's five-game block will cut the group to 16, who will engage in match play that will leave just four bowlers for tonight's final.

Detroit's veteran Joe Joseph was nearest Smith with 4,450 pins. Another Detroit, George Howard was next with 4,446.

Carter, who was far down in the field after Tuesday's games, came last in Wednesday's games and finished with 4,240.

Tresh Comes 'Home' as Yankee Regular

NEW YORK (AP) — For most ball players, opening day is the time for butterflies and nervousness.

But when the New York Yankees meet the Detroit Tigers in Detroit tomorrow afternoon, Tommy Tresh will probably be more excited than he was on opening day in New York.

For Tresh, Detroit is home and the Yankee rookie shortstop will be trying to make a good impression on his neighbors. He'll have one fan rooting especially hard for him tomorrow. That would be ex-American league catcher Mike Tresh, who just happens to be Tommy's dad.

Mike has seen Tommy play before but right now his boy is Yankee shortstop and as Tommy puts it:

"For the first time, I feel like a major leaguer."

Tommy, a switch hitter, won the shortstop job in training camp after a spirited battle with roommate Phil Linz. The spot was opened when Tony Kubek was called into the army last fall.

Last year with Richmond, Tresh batted .265, and was MVP in the international league. He hit .302 during spring training.

GETS ONE HIT
Tresh got one hit — a single — in Tuesday's opening game. He hit came in front of Roger Maris, the Yankees' first baseman.

In the field he handled his chances clearly and if he was nervous, it didn't show.

"I feel good now," Tommy explained. "I have confidence in myself because I don't think my opponents are any better than I am. I'm starting to feel like a major leaguer."

Tresh's battle for the shortstop job with Linz has been a friendly one.

"Phil and I have known each other since I've been in baseball," says Tommy. "He's (Ralph) Hook hasn't indicated that the job is really mine yet."

But right now Tresh is the Yankee shortstop and tomorrow he'll get to show his hometown neighbors and one fan in particular just how he earned his chance.

OL St. Mary Relays Saturday

PCH Hosts Flint Northern

An invasion by high powered Flint Northern and the second annual Orchard Lake St. Mary's Relays will highlight a heavy track schedule Friday and Saturday at Oakland County Schools.

Pontiac Central will host Flint Northern, boasting one of the top track squads in the state, and Bay City Handy Friday at Winder Field.

The triangular meet will get under way at 4 p.m.

Eight teams will join host OLSM for the invitational meet Saturday at 1 p.m. Four schools—Waterford, Oxford, Birmingham Seaholm and Milford—are sending contingents to Saturday's big relay meet at Mansfield, Ohio.

PCH and Flint Northern are rated the top contenders for Saginaw Valley League honors. The Vikings have hosted the Chiefs in two relay meets this year.

Flint Northern took first place honors at the Huron and Central Michigan invitational meets. PCH was sixth at Ypsi and third in the "Little Valley meet" at CMU.

KEY INQUIRY

Flint Central finished second in the invitational meet which featured eight of the nine SVL schools and four others. One of the reasons for the Chiefs not edging PCH was an injury to hurdler Willie McDaniels in the preliminaries.

McDaniels is PCH's leading hurdler with Charley Humphrey close behind. If McDaniels is ready for the triangular meet Friday, the Chiefs could give Northern a tough battle.

Flint Northern will be strong in the sprints, relays and hurdles.

The Chiefs' strong points will be the field events and possibly the hurdles.

Handy is not expected to challenge the other schools.

OLSM is defending champion in its relay meet.

The Eagles beat out Saginaw SS Peter & Paul last year in the inaugural.

The Saginaw school will have a team on hand as will Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, Grosse Pointe St. Paul, Ann Arbor St. Thomas, Dearborn St. Alphonsus, Detroit St. Anthony, Detroit Service and Detroit Holy Redeemer.

Eleven events are scheduled.

McGuire Talks Cage Terms at South Carolina

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Coach Frank McGuire of the professional Philadelphia NBA Warriors was due here today to discuss the head basketball coaching vacancy at the University of South Carolina.

McGuire, former coach at the University of North Carolina, was to meet with South Carolina Athletic Director Marvin Bass.

It was reported Wednesday that Warrior owner Eddie Gottlieb has decided to sell his club to a group in San Francisco. McGuire reportedly does not want to move his family to the West Coast. He now lives in Chapel Hill, N.C.

Gibbons, McClung Sign Contracts With Lions

DETROIT (AP)—Veterans Jim Gibbons and Willie McClung signed their 1962 National Football League contracts with the Detroit Lions Wednesday. Gibbons, an offensive end, signed for his fifth season in the NFL and offensive tackle McClung signed for his seventh.

McClung injured his knee in the third game last fall and missed the rest of the season. But doctors told Lion General Manager

Edwin J. Anderson, who signed the two players, that McClung has recovered completely after surgery on his knee.

Home Run Topples 'M'

TEMPE, Ariz.—A three-run homer by Paul Runge broke up the ball game in the bottom of the ninth and gave Arizona State a 7-6 victory in the third of their seven game-series with Michigan here yesterday.

The teams meet again today, with the visitors hoping to square the series at 2-2.

It's Official — OLL Wins

Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes won its first track meet yesterday—three days after the meet was held.

Ralph Owen, Catholic League athletic director, ruled in favor of a protest filed by OLL coach Bob Minewasser.

Minewasser contended that a Detroit St. Charles athlete had participated in too many events in the meet Sunday at Winder Field. Joe Bono won both hurdle races, the shot put and placed second in the 800-yard run.

This enabled the Dragons to outscore Our Lady 57 3/10 to 51 7/10. In allowing the protest, Owen took away all points Bono had accumulated in the running events. This gave Waterford Our Lady the victory. The official final scores: Waterford OLL 51 7/10, St. Charles 44 3/10.

Eye 2nd Straight Win Fired-Up Maple Leafs Meet Chicago Tonight

TORONTO (AP)—Fired-up Toronto aims for its second straight victory over the Chicago Black Hawks tonight in the Stanley Cup championship series, but the Maple Leafs might find the rope is around their necks.

In winning the coveted cup last year and gaining the finals this year, the Hawks have established a reputation of playing better hockey when they have their backs against the wall.

Pilonis conceded the Hawks will have to change their style of play. "We'll have to adjust," he said. "They (the Leafs) are a little different than the Canadiens. They charge in your own end and put more pressure on than Montreal did. But we'll bounce back, we always do."

Toronto opened the series with a 4-1 victory over the lites and apparently tried Hawks Tuesday night. Another triumph on home ice tonight will give the Leafs plenty of breathing room before meeting the Hawks in Chicago Sunday and again Tuesday.

STORMED BACK

The Hawks were down two games to Montreal in the semifinals and stormed back to win four straight. Last year in the semifinals they were down 2-1, returned back to defeat the Canadiens in six games and went on to capture their first cup in 23 years in six games against Detroit.

"Maybe that loss was what we needed to get us really going," said Chicago Coach Rudy Pilonis. Neither Pilonis nor General Manager Tommy Ivan was especially upset over being one game down.

After all, the Hawks have won but one game in Toronto in two years. They lost last month and one must go back to January 2, 1959, to find Chicago's previous triumph at Toronto.

Because Toronto finished second to Montreal and the Hawks were third during the regular season, the Maple Leafs get the advantage of playing four games at home.

NO QUALIES

The Maple Leafs and Coach Punch Imlach have no qualms about staying ahead of the Hawks. "We'll take anything we can get and let them worry about catching up," said Imlach, who insisted the Hawks wouldn't get a chance to rebound against his club as they did against Montreal. One thing is certain and that is the Hawks cannot wear down the Maple Leafs in an extended series. They have succeeded in doing this against Montreal but Toronto

6 Detroit Boats Enter Gold Cup

14 Unlimited Hydros to Make Challenges at Seattle

Detroit—Six Detroit entries are among 14 unlimited hydros which have entered challenges for the Gold Cup of the American Power Boat Association.

Holder of the cup presently is Miss Century 21, owned by Willard Rhodes of Seattle. Miss Century took Gold Cup honors last year at Lake Pyramid near Reno, Nev., as well as the high point championship in unlimited racing.

The Gold Cup race this year will be held August 5th at Lake Washington in Seattle.

Among the Detroit boats entered are: Miss United States (owned by U.S. Equipment Co., Detroit); Miss Lumberville (owned by DKD Boats unlimited, Inc.); Miss Detroit (owned by Chuck Thompson, Detroit); Gale V (owned by W. D. Gale, Inc.); Miss Thunderbolt (owned by George Zigas, Detroit).

Others entered include: Miss Madison (City of Madison, Ind.); Miss Bardahl (Seattle); Miss Seattle Two Mill and Glen Stone, Seattle; Miss Fascination I and Miss Fascination II (Bob Gilliam, Seattle); S Bill (Lawrence Schuyler, Arcadia, Calif.); Miss Everett (Robert Miller, Everett, Wash.); and Tempest (Rater Woock, Seattle).

Oxford Lake Chosen for State Tournament

For the 5th time in six years, trick events for men, women, boys, girls and senior men. Junior boys and girls (12 and under) will compete in the same division. The other events is the mixed doubles.

The site of the 1962 tournament, July 21-22, will be Oxford Lake, on Lakeville road, three miles east of Oxford. The last two state tournaments were held at Loom Lake just north of Pontiac. Two other state meets were held at Sherwood Lake near Millford.

Oxford Lake will be the site of another tournament, the International Invitational, which will feature skiers from the East and Midwest regions of the United States and from Canada. This tourney will be held July 14-15, one week prior to the state meet.

It was also announced the MWSA, which held its annual meeting at Ann Arbor recently, that Sea Ray boats, with offices in Oxford, would be the official tournament boat for the 1962 water ski season.

The two day state affair will feature 15 events in five divisions. There will be jumping, slalom and

Racing Rules Booklet Distributed by APBA

DETROIT—The American Power Boat Association, with offices in Detroit, has announced that Outboard Pleasure Craft Racing rules are now being distributed for the public. The rules have had minor modifications approved by Stock Outboard Racing Commission of the APBA under whose jurisdiction pleasure craft racing will be held. A copy of the rules can be obtained by request of the secretary or commodore of an organized boat club by writing to the APBA, 2534 St. Aubin Ave., Detroit, Mich.

ABL Losses Put at $1,500,000 in 1st Season

HONOLULU (AP)—Abe Superstein, American Basketball League president, said today the league lost an estimated $1.5 million during its first season.

"I don't really look on it as a loss, but rather an investment," Superstein said. "We look for improvement next year."

He called the 1961-62 season an "artistic success," and declined to break down losses of individual teams.

Superstein said Long Beach, Calif., which will replace the defunct Los Angeles franchise, looks like a very strong operation. "And there is a possibility the league will expand to nine teams with Dallas coming in," he added.

The excellent vinyl fabrics now available can save you a remarkable amount of maintenance time. It takes slightly longer than applying a coat of paint, but the fabric's life is generally greater.

Large Harness Contingent Expected by Hazel Park

California will again have its representation when Hazel Park Harness Raceway opens the 1962 racing season on Thursday, April 18.

Requests from the horsemen currently racing at Santa Anita are at an all-time high. Included is the Ken Cartal stable which wants to bring 21 horses.

Cartal, who was Hazel Park's leading driver in 1955, bypassed the track last year but wants to return this season.

Others planning to make the long trek to Michigan are Eddie Wheeler, Jacques Grenier, Joe March Jr., Joe Lighthill, Tommy Winn, and Jack Williams Jr., among others.

Most of those shipping east have made California their base of operations since last fall. They first raced at Hollywood Park, then wintered at Del Mar and will close their Santa Anita campaign on The Monday, April 9 opening of the Hazel Park barn area is ideal for them. Most are scheduled to arrive about April 12 which will give them a full week to shake down from the long trip before the April 19 opening.

Sea Ray Grows in Boat Production

Housed in its new ultra-modern building and on a 100 acre site north of Oxford, Sea Ray boat company is only in its third full year of operation, but it is Oakland County's largest producer of boats.

In production, Sea Ray now ranks among the top ten fiberglass boat builders in the country, 5th in the Midwest and first in Michigan.

At the Boat Show in Chicago recently, Sea Ray introduced its 1962 line of boats, featured by the 808 Cruise-boat, a new design of outboard cruisers.

"We've made interior and mechanical styling much in line with automotive styles," said sales manager Tom Dugali at Sea Ray. Many of the models feature automatic style bucket seats, vinyl carpeting, side paneling with two-tone

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Lightweight Johnny Bizzarro of Erie will fight Jacky Donnelly of Buffalo, N.Y., and middleweight Joe Giardello will fight Tom Gerardo of Warren, Pa., in the two featured bouts of a boxing card here Friday night for the benefit of the late Benny Paret's son and another expected child.

Paret died last week from brain injuries received in his title fight with Emile Grifflin in New York City.

Safe Boat Week, July 1-7

By proclamation of President the chairmanship of Captain John F. Kennedy, the 1962 National Safe Boating Week dates will be July 1-7.

The National Safe Boating Week Committee is comprised of 13 organizations interested in boating safety. Although the observance of Safe Boating Week covers only one week, the period serves as a kickoff to a year-round promotional effort to stimulate interest in safe boating through more than 1,000 local volunteer committees throughout the country.

Expert to Give Tips About Operating Boat

NEW YORK (NEA)—There are 7,750,000 recreational boats in the United States and "millions more would be enjoying life afloat if they knew how easy it is to own and operate their own craft," according to Ted Jones.

Jones, designer of record-breaking speedboats such as the Shio-Mon IV, Hawaii Kai III and Miss Seattle, as well as numerous more sedate pleasure craft, was in New York preparing a series, "Your Boat" for Newspaper Enterprise Association which will be in The Pontiac Press each Thursday starting next week.

"A boat can cost less to own and operate than the cheapest new automobile," said the Seattle marine designer. "J. P. Morgan once said that if a man had to ask if he could afford a boat, he couldn't. That made him to scare people away from the water than the sinking of the Titanic. Morgan was referring to luxury yachts—really ocean liners—in vogue during his era when small boating was impractical. Today, for about $1,100—less than the price of a compact car—anybody can own a fine, new family power boat."

The new series is being written primarily for those who want to own a boat and those who already have one but aren't getting the most out of it.

Court's Ruling Causes Concern of State Group

Boaters, Skiers Want Uniformity of Rules on Michigan Lakes

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
ANN ARBOR — The Michigan Water Ski Association with support from the Boating Club of America and its Michigan affiliates passed a resolution calling for support of Michigan House Bill 575 under consideration in the state House Ways and Means committee.

Since a Michigan Supreme Court ruling several weeks ago, upholding the local ordinance of Fabius Township in St. Joseph County, which put time limits on water skiing and boating, an open war has taken shape among water sports groups on the lakes and waterways of Michigan.

The court ruled that municipalities can regulate local health and safety as long as there is no conflict between local ordinance and state statute.

House Bill 575 would reverse the court ruling. It declares it to be the policy of the state to reserve regulatory control of vessels exclusively to state legislature in order that tourist travel and mobility of vessels would not be abridged or interfered with by a multitude of local regulations.

Its purpose is to set up a committee made up of representatives of various water sports groups and of the Michigan Waterways Committee, which would prescribe uniform boating regulations.

This would not eliminate local authority. For any community whose governing body felt regulations were necessary, a public hearing would be held and regulations set up accordingly and more uniformly.

"There would be chaos on Michigan waters," said Richard Burge president of the Michigan Water Ski Association, "if every lake community passed different laws. It would hurt the tourist trade because boaters from other states would have to check the state of rules which would be set by every lake group."

Other Midwestern states, Minnesota and Ohio, decided that boating is a statewide problem and local regulation would be "chaotic, unmanageable and absurd."

The Outboard Boating Club of Michigan and America noted in a statement that "multiple local regulations would be an undue burden on the mobile boating public."

An apparent opposition group, the Waterfront Property Owners Association, a new group was organized several weeks in a gathering at Michigan State University, for the purpose of "promoting property rights included with riparian lands."

In a statement in their brochure, the association noted, "New enabling legislation must be passed to enable lake associations manage water. Lake owners must assert their rights of ownership."

Many lakefront areas in the state and in the Pontiac area have indicated regulations, some against fishermen, others against power boaters, water skiers, skin divers and other water sports.

Barr Likes Cleveland Trade

Lion Payers Expect Offensive Punch

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI)—Grand Rapids' Terry Barr and tackle Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions have appeared before the team's successor to the Green Bay Packers as champion of the National football League.

The two, here for an "old newsboy's day" program, claimed only four touchdowns separated them from the Western Division last December and that next fall there would be no such deficit.

OFFENSIVE PUNCH

Karras, who has been with the Lions since graduating from the university of Iowa five years ago, said, "We're going to have more offensive punch this year with Milt Plum at quarterback and Tom Matlock at halfback. The defense will be all right but we're not going to be able to concentrate entirely on (halfback Nick) Pietrosante to stop our running attack like it did last year."

"Consequently," he continued, "we're going to score more."

Karras also said the loss of end Bill Glass, who switches to the Cleveland Browns in the trade that brought Plum to Detroit, would not injure the Lions defensively. "We have a young defensive unit with some very fine linemen," he said. "If we can find someone who can do just an average job at the end position we'll be all right because the linemen are good enough as they can cover up on any mistakes."

Barr, who started his football career as a high school boy in Grand Rapids before going on to the University of Michigan, agreed with his teammate that the Lions, his team for the past six years, will be tough in 1962.

Neither player was concerned by the fact the Lions failed to sign any of their top four draft choices last winter.

"It's true it doesn't look like we're going to have many bright and shiny rookies in camp this year," Karras said, "but we've got a young ball club anyway."

"I guess it'll just leave more money to spend on the older ball players," Barr commented.

Karras smilingly added, "In fact, with the longer season and everything I figure I should make about $6,000 more next year — and that includes the championship game of course."

Requests from the horsemen currently racing at Santa Anita are at an all-time high. Included is the Ken Cartal stable which wants to bring 21 horses.

DOWNTOWN PLAZA DOWNS — Crowds fill the new covered mall of Midtown Plaza during formal opening ceremonies in Rochester, N. Y., yesterday. At center is the huge "Clock of Nations" which was unveiled. The $40-million project in the heart of downtown includes an 18-story office-hotel building and the covered mall which provides access to 40 stores, two major department stores and a city-built underground garage.

Hit-Run Fatal to Two Admitted by Youth

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — James Abraham, 19, of Highland Park, was held for investigation of manslaughter today after admitting, police said, that he ran down a blind man and his companion and then fled.

The blind man, John Ruge, 65, and Fred R. Lloyd, 58, both of Highland Park, were dead on arrival at a hospital early Wednesday.

Abraham was arrested by police seven hours after the accident. Sgt. Jacques Warden had spotted the car, fitting a description given by two witnesses, parked near a grocery store four blocks from the accident scene and a block from the police station.

Only about 6,000 stars are bright enough and near enough to be seen without artificial aids to vision.

Fail to Agree on Legislation for Nonskeds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate House conferees yesterday failed for the second time to reach agreement on legislation that would give the supplemental airlines permanent operating authority but under far stricter rules.

A joint conference committee met for about 30 minutes but apparently could not break the deadlock over the main bone of contention — whether the nonscheduled airlines should be allowed to operate a certain number of individually ticketed flights per month between certain cities.

It was reported that the conferees will make another attempt to reach agreement sometime next week.

DFC Medal Presented to Pilot's Widow, Son

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A pilot who died rather than let his plane crash into a populated area in Japan has received posthumously the Distinguished Flying Cross.

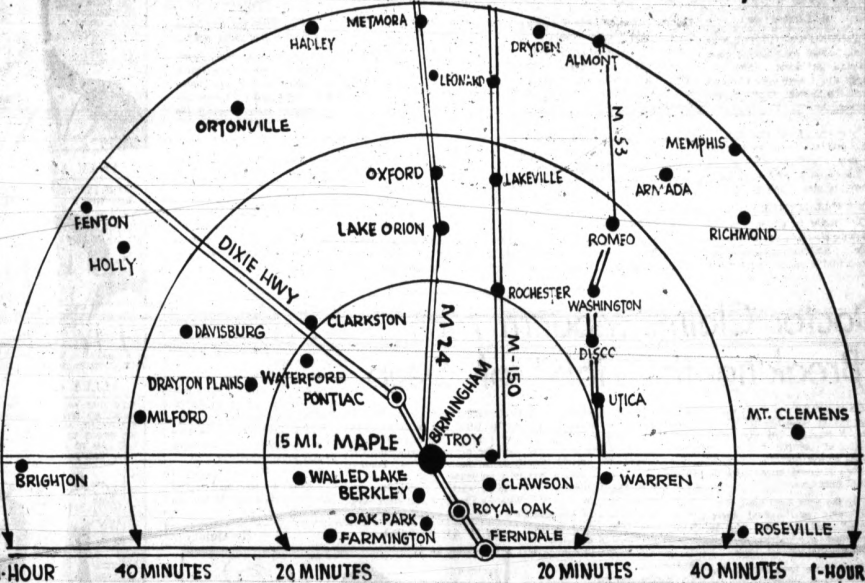

The DFC, the Air Force Commendation Medal and two Japanese dollars were presented to John A. Sollars Jr., 9, the pilot's son, and to his widow, Myrtle Sollars of Montgomery yesterday.

Contract Signed for 100

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Local 21 of the United Auto Workers Union yesterday ratified a new contract with Cone Drive Gears, a division of Ex-Cell-O Corp. of Detroit. The contract covers more than 100 employees at the Traverse City plant.

Sylvan Lake to Go Ahead With Paving, Storm Drain

Sylvan Lake City Council last night gave the go-ahead for construction on both the 1962 paving program and the Woodland storm drain project.

Present at the public hearings held on both projects were councilmen Edwin F. Clark, John M. Dawson, Frank J. Dickie and Mayor G. Richard Jarvis. The seat vacated by Joseph E. Gilson's resignation was not filled until after the hearings, with the appointment on suggestion by Jarvis of Clement F. Cleveland, 1823 Woodland Ave.

The decision on the $29,000 paving program was unanimous, after Dawson and Clark changed their original "no" votes. Their switch followed a discussion of the issue in the middle of the voting.

GIVES REASONS
During discussion, Dawson said he voted no because he doubted a black-top cover on Ferndale Avenue would last because of the street's proximity to the Sylvan Lake and a resulting high water table and also because only 16 of 30 property owners had driven ways onto the street. Clark raised the upke question about Ferndale and another street, Lakeview Avenue.

The city engineer, Frank Webster, had already testified to the contrary: That the streets would last the normal minimum of 10 years with normal city maintenance.

Upon Clark's suggestion that members of the audience of 30

Two Waterford Township high school students last night talked themselves into top place in the local district elimination of the Knights of Pythias Speech Contest.

Named first-place winner at the Pythian Building, 18 1/2 W. Huron St., was Douglas Stranahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Stranahan of 3264 Fremont Drive. Second place was awarded Loretta Avery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Avery of 4336 Lotus Drive.

The two -- along with three other contestants -- spoke on the topic "My Hope for My Country." The duo now will represent Pythian District 11 at the area finals scheduled for April 27 at Oxford, competing against two finalists from Carsonville representing Pythian District 10.

8-Millionth Pontiac Rolls Off the Line

Plan Probes to Retaliate for Steel Price Increase

PITTSBURGH (AP)—National Steel Corp., the nation's fifth largest steel producer, announced an increase in its prices today. The increase was about the same as that announced earlier by other major steel producers—64 a ton.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Angry Washington today whipped up two congressional investigations and a price-fixing probe in swift counterblows at the steel industry's price increase.

Court action against steel-makers also was a possibility. Spurred by President Kennedy's scathing assault on what he called the "wholly unjustifiable and irresponsible" act of a tiny handful of steel executives, the administration and Democratic legislators set out to:

1. Force a rollback, if possible, of the 36-a-ton boost posted Tuesday by U.S. Steel Corp. and adopted with alacrity by its biggest competitors.

2. Discourage a similar price hike in aluminum, steel's chief competitor, now that steel has opened the breach in Kennedy's program of voluntary stabilization.

3. Pave the way for possible legislation giving the government a stronger hand in the wage-setting and price-fixing process.

4. Retain if possible the cooperation of labor in the anti-inflation drive by showing that the administration meant business in demanding the same restraint of management as it asked of unions.

5. Expose the price increase—termed by U.S. Steel a modest catch-up adjustment but denounced by Kennedy as a ruthless profit grab—in such patently scurrilous and publicly as much detestable firms and industries.

HOPES FOR REVERSAL

Kennedy hinted at his news conference Wednesday that he still hoped U.S. Steel, the industry bellwether, would rescind the increase.

But by that time five other firms—Bethlehem, Republic, Jones and Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Wheeling Steel—were committed to the new price averaging $15 a ton. Altogether the six produce 70 per cent of the nation's steel.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Jones and Laughlin hold the first four places in the industry.

Kennedy's angry, by stressing the pending antitrust investigations, to deter the scores of lesser steel producers from joining the price parade.

Kaiser, Colorado and Inland have said they are studying possible price hikes.

In announcing the price increase, U.S. Steel President Leroy B. Worthington gave as the reason a continuing cost-price squeeze on profits since 1958, when prices last were raised.

Worthington said these costs have continued to rise without end, considering higher labor costs after July 1 under new contracts signed last week.

Few in Washington expected Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel, would back down an inch when he faces reporters at a news conference this afternoon in New York.

PRESENTING KEY—Bud Starr, (center), Pontiac Motor Division Works manager, presents a large key, symbolic of the 8 millionth Pontiac to roll off the production line, to E. M. (Pete) Estes, (left), GM vice president and general manager of the division, at ceremonies this morning. The ceremony of passing a million mark is old hat to David White, (right), of 67 Foster St. White joined the Oakland Motor Car Co., Dec. 6, 1950.

But through the half-hour, either he or newsmen put the focus on steel.

Kennedy said the United Steelworkers Union, which signed a contract he thought would hold prices in line, abided by its responsibilities. "And this government also has responsibilities."

Charge Signals Attack

JFK at War With Steel

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy and high Cabinet advisers held an unusual White House meeting today to explore a broad range of possible government actions to combat effects of the steel price increase.

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in his administration President Kennedy is engaged in a furious battle with a major segment of U.S. industry. He threw himself into the fight with a charge that big steel showed ruthless disregard of the public by raising prices.

Kennedy launched the attack Wednesday at a news conference in which he denounced U.S. Steel.

His voice rising, his forefinger poking for emphasis, Kennedy said steel price boosters had displayed "utter contempt for the interests of 185 million Americans."

He said their "pursuit of private power and profit exceeds their own sense of public responsibility."

Kennedy made important announcements at his meeting with newsmen.

Barring serious deterioration of the international situation, he said, the 15,000 Reservists and National Guardsmen called to active duty last year will be allowed to return home in August.

The government would seek a Pat-Hartley injunction to force an 80-day cooling off period in the West Coast shipping strike, later, to get the injunction a short time later.

Will the weatherman change his mind again and shift to the east rainfall headed this way, as he did last night, or will he shower the Pontiac area according to the forecast? That is the question.

Showers are supposed to end Friday morning with the temperatures somewhat colder, the high near 61. Tonight's low is expected to drop to 34.

Miss Spring refuses to be pushed aside. She'll be back again Saturday with the forecast of fair and warmer.

Morning northerly winds at 8 to 15 miles per hour will become northeast to north at 10 to 20 m.p.h. during the night.

Thirty-four was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 49 at 1 p.m.

Flash

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors said today its Opel Division in Germany will build a new small car for introduction in the European market later this year.

END OF FLIGHT—Two pilots, sole occupants of the twin-engine seven-seater plane that crashed into a truck on take-off from Pontiac Municipal Airport last night, walked away from the wreckage with minor cuts. The driver of the truck received only slight chest bruises.

Training Plane Crashes on M59, Takes Wild Path

Three men miraculously escaped serious injury last night when a twin-engine plane crashed into a semi-truck on M59, opposite Pontiac Municipal Airport.

The truck driver suffered only slight chest bruises when the impact flipped his empty rig.

The flight instructor and his student pilot walked away from the demolished plane with minor facial lacerations.

Pontiac state troopers pulled Herman Bledsoe, 41, of Orleans, Ind., from the cab of the overturned truck. He was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and later released.

The two fliers, Joseph Greenwald, 46, of 71 Ottawa Drive, and his student, Stewart Palka, 37, of 3348 West Wind Drive, Commerce Township, were arrested and released at Pontiac General Hospital.

Airport control tower operator Payer Harder Jr. said the crash occurred at 6:30 p.m. following a simulated landing for training purposes, using one engine.

Harder said he cleared the plane for immediate take-off at pilot Palka's request after the wheels skimmed a short distance down the runway.

Both Harder and State Trooper John Brown, who was watching, said the plane failed to gain altitude in time.

Greenwald told troopers later that the craft's feathered engine failed to respond to his student's efforts to revive it in the aborted take-off.

In quick succession, the plane grazed the top of a gasoline tanker truck at the end of the south runway, clipped off a row of mail boxes, knocked down a traffic sign, passed between two rows of parked cars and barely missed a restaurant.

Its wing tip torn off by a fence rail, the seven-seater plane cart wheeled into the side of the westbound truck. The plane tore through the empty aluminum trailer and crashed into a tree.

Palka declined comment.

The plane, a Cessna 750, belonged to Multi Flyer, Inc., a flying club at 2100 W. Long Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township. Palka is a member.

HELMAN BLEDSOE

Wha' Hoppen? Asked Driver

Dazed After His Truck Tangles With Airplane on M59 Last Night

"I didn't know what hit me. This was Herman Bledsoe's reaction when a 4,000-pound airplane hobbled his semitruck as the 71-year-old trucker drove along M59 by Pontiac Municipal Airport last night.

Bledsoe, of Orleans, Ind., was on route to Albion to pick up a load of pig iron when his truck was hit. He didn't see the plane before the crash.

"Lucky for them (the two men in the stricken plane) who escaped with minor cuts," said Bledsoe at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

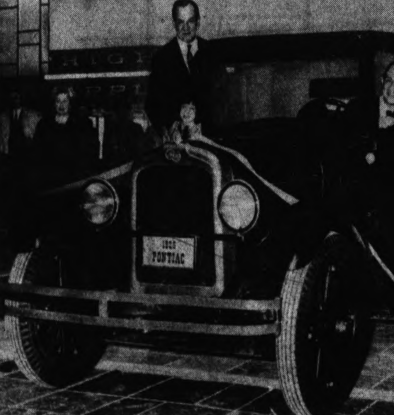

The empty aluminum trailer served as a cushion when the plane piled into its side, passed through the top and came to rest against a roadside tree.

Helped by state troopers from his overturned truck cab, Bledsoe was dazed and wondered what had happened.

While sitting in the wreck, Bledsoe said he thought maybe a car had smashed into the side of his trailer, but realized the crash was too loud.

The father of three children, Bledsoe said he expected to continue his truck run to Indianapolis today after picking up the pig iron he missed last night.

Marks Opening of Store

OLD AND NEW — A stateliest 1962 Pontiac drove through a ribbon at the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center today to mark the opening of the center's new Hughes-Hatcher-Suffrin Clothing Store. Bernard Pincus, president of the clothing firm, stands with little Lisa Pincus, 4, while her father Max Pincus, executive vice president of H.H.S., drives the venerable 'old auto' through the ribbon.

Estes Heralds Milestone as Most Significant

Says Growth of Firm Tribute to Know-How of Division's Employees

A small car looked mighty big to Pontiac Motor Division officials today.

Rolling off the production line this morning, a sleek, compact Tempest LeMans convertible became a Pontiac Motor's 8-millionth car.

The event was heralded by E. M. (Pete) Estes, GM vice president and general manager of the division, as "the most significant production milestone in our 35-year history."

It came less than three years after the 7-millionth Pontiac was assembled, a far cry from the 1929 it took to produce Pontiac's first million cars before 1955 and the five more years to produce the second million.

Shortly after driving the bright red convertible off the final assembly line, Estes told company officials gathered for the milestone celebration that "the vast strides taken by our division over the past year are truly a tribute to the know-how, ingenuity and loyalty of Pontiac employees who take such great pride in building a quality product."

In a statement observing the 8-millionth Pontiac milestone, Estes said:

"Pontiac's popularity growth has been phenomenal. In 1929, our first year, we built 74,000 cars. This still stands as an all-time high for production and public acceptance of a first-year car. Last year for the first time in our history we achieved third place in the industry, and the future looks very bright."

After World War II, Pontiac recorded a rapid succession of million milestones beginning with 3 million in 1948, 4 million in 1951, 5 million in 1954, 6 million in 1956 and 7 million in 1959.

Charter Amendment for Police, Firemen

When voters go to the polls next Monday in the city's general election, they will be faced with two proposals on the ballot.

One is a proposed amendment to the City Charter concerning a new pension plan for Pontiac firemen and firewomen.

The other is a proposed amendment to the city's dog ordinance, concerning a law to require rabies vaccination for all dogs before they can be licensed.

The two proposals are explained in the following articles.

CHARTER AMENDMENT
To Establish New Pension Plan for Pontiac Firemen and Firewomen

Shall sub-sections 2.24, 2.25 and 2.26 of Section 2 and Sections 3, 4 and 16 of Chapter XVIII of the City Charter be amended to remove Firemen and Firewomen from the existing pension plan and to add Sections 39 and 40 thereof, transferring pension assets of Firemen and Firewomen to a new pension system and adding Chapter XIX to the City Charter creating a new pension plan for Firemen and Firewomen resulting in increased pension and annuity benefits and increased costs. The increased costs shall be paid by the City and the Firemen and Firewomen.

This proposal asks the voter if he wants to take firemen and firewomen from the present Chapter 18 of Pontiac's City Charter, and establish a Chapter 19 for fire and police personnel alone.

Chapter 18 is the current pension and benefit system for all city employees.

Passage of the proposal would leave Chapter 18 in effect, but only for general city employees. Passage would also, automatically, add the new Chapter 19, which is the proposed pension plan for firemen and policemen alone.

As with any proposal, there are two sides. Both sides agree the proposed pension is sound and that fire and police personnel should have increased pension benefits.

The argument centers around cost. The reason this is being put to public vote is because it is a charter change and its cost will be paid by taxpayers.

Briefly, both sides agree the pension would cost taxpayers roughly $100,000 next year. City officials feel this is too much for firemen and policemen but it isn't.

WOULD MEN INCREASE
The cost would necessitate a 35-cent-per-$1,000 increase in assessed valuation in the 1962 tax rate. The 1962 tax rate already stands to increase some 26 cents.

Since firemen and policemen are not covered by Social Security, their benefits currently are about $47,000 under those for all other city employees combined. The city contends that adding this amount to benefits of fire and police personnel would be acceptable but adding $100,000 is not without voter approval.

Police, Firemen's Pensions on City Ballot Next Monday

Which involves around how much interest the proposed pension fund can earn as it is constantly invested in future years.

The higher the interest rate, the less cost to the city and taxpayers.

The present plan's interest rate assumption over the long term is 3 per cent. The interest rate assumption for the proposed plan is 3 1/2 per cent.

If the proposed plan is adopted and it earns less than 3 1/2 per cent, the cost will go up. If it earns more than 3 1/2 per cent, the cost will go down. The interest assumption is made to revision in five years.

A. G. Gabriel & Co., consulting actuaries for the city, contend that 3 per cent is a more realistic interest rate assumption since "it is not likely that the retirement system (proposed pension plan) will continue to earn 3 1/2 or more on investments for an extended period."

A. A. Weinberg, consulting actuary for the police, a fire personnel, claims that a 3 1/2 per cent rate is warranted because the present plan is actually earning 3 1/2 per cent interest and prospects for the future point to continued earnings of 3 1/2 per cent or more.

So, the cost factor is a complex one. Due to its uncertainty, which could conceivably range from below $100,000 to nearly $300,000, it is a point of much controversy.

As for what benefits lie in the proposed plan itself, these are clear and definite. A major cost of the proposed plan is the off-duty death survivor's benefit. It would provide amounts of $25,000 and up to survivors, where the present plan has no provision.

The greater benefit to the employer and employee of service retirement allowance is about one-third that of the present plan.

DISABILITY ALLOWANCES

Duty disability allowances are six or more times that of the present plan while off-duty death benefits to survivors would be triple under the proposed plan.

The proposed plan offers minor increases in non-duty disability allowances.

Totals figured by the actuaries add up like this — The city's total cost of the present plan at 3 per cent interest assumption per annum is $190,187 or 12.41 per cent of pay.

Cost to the city of the proposed plan at 3 1/2 per cent interest rate would be $306,564 or 19.10 per cent of pay; the cost at 3 per cent would be $381,039 or 23.74 per cent of pay.

Listed below you will find some of the major pros and cons concerning the present plan on which you will vote April 16.

Pro

- Cost to the city and taxpayers would be considerably less than $100,000 next year if comparison is made assuming a 3 1/2 per cent interest earning per annum for both the proposed and current plans.
- Although the pension board has adopted a rate of 3 per cent per annum for the current plan, it is presently earning 3 1/2 per cent.
- Police and firemen also argue that even a 35-cent tax rate hike isn't much. For someone with a home assessed at $5,000, the tax hike would total $1.75 per year, or less than 3 1/2 cents per week.

Con

- Based on 1962 pay rates, the proposed pension plan would cost the city at least $107,000, earning 3 1/2 per cent interest, and at least $182,000 earning 3 per cent interest.
- The actuary for the firemen and policemen agrees that the plan would probably cost Pontiac about $100,000 in its first year of use (1963).
- To raise an additional $100,000 would require a tax rate increase to all city taxpayers of 35 cents.

Dog Ordinance

To Amend Dog Ordinance No. 989 Shall the ordinance to amend the title of Ordinance 989 and to amend Sections 3 and 7 of said ordinance so as to require rabies vaccination of dogs be adopted?

The second proposal to be voted on by Pontiac residents next Monday asks the question: Do you want a law that says all dogs in Pontiac must be vaccinated against rabies at regular intervals?

If passed, the proposal would change the present city dog ordinance in two ways:

- 1 — Require proof of rabies immunization of all dogs before they can be licensed each year.
- 2 — Change the annual deadline for buying a dog license from May 15 to March 1.

In effect, the proposal would make it illegal to own or harbor a dog in Pontiac that wasn't immunized against rabies, since it is already illegal to own or harbor an unlicensed dog.

A valid certificate of immunization would be issued by the veterinarian who did the vaccinating, showing the protection through Dec. 31 of the year for which the license is being purchased.

The law would not apply to dogs less than six months of age. The license fee would remain the same as it is now — $3 before the deadline; $5 after.

The law does not require a rabies shot each year since many rabies vaccines give immunization periods of two or more years.

Pro

- It is our duty to use every available method of protecting ourselves against this admittedly terrible disease.
- Measures have been taken to improve enforcement of the existing dog ordinance. These measures have resulted in nearly 1,000 more dog licenses being sold this year than were sold as of this date in 1961.
- Oakland County made rabies inoculations mandatory in 1953. Presently, the shots are required by law everywhere in the county except Pontiac.
- Health officials say there was an average of 100 cases of rabies in dogs in the county each year before 1953. There have been only one or two since then.

Con

- The lack of cases in Pontiac is due largely to the fact that the city is surrounded by immunized areas.
- The vaccine being used today is much more refined and "safe" for dogs than that used as recently as 10 years ago. County health department officers state they have vaccinated about 100,000 dogs since 1953 and only two dogs suffered paralysis. Both recovered in two weeks.
- Doctors, veterinarians and health officers argue that it is senseless to wait until some child or adult dies from rabies, before taking action to prevent it.

Offer Beer Tax to Bail Out State to Bail Out State

GOP House Committee Has 'Nuisance' Plan as Countermeasure

LANSING (AP) — Michigan beer drinkers will bail the state out of its financial troubles if the legislature adopts a $97.5-million tax program proposed by a committee of Republican lawmakers.

The seven-member committee of House members, several of them key leaders, submitted the multi-tax program to a GOP caucus yesterday as a countermeasure to Gov. Swainson and Rep. Rollo G. Collins, R-71st, chairman of the House Taxation Committee.

Included on the GOP committee was Henry Hogan of Birmingham.

More than half of the new tax revenue — $51 million — would come from a three-cent-a-bottle tax on beer, a 900 per cent increase in the present tax.

"The beer tax of $1.25 a barrel has not been increased since prohibition went off in 1933, except for a 10-cent period in 1959 and 1960 when it went up to $2.50," said Rep. Wilfred G. Bassett, R-Jackson, House speaker pro tem and a member of the special tax committee.

The committee also proposed a five per cent tax on theater performances, sports contests and other amusements, based on the box office receipts. It would yield about $7.5 million a year.

'NUISANCE' LIST

Rounding out the package would be four taxes included in a $50-million package of "nuisance" taxes that expired last year. They include a four per cent use tax on telephone and telegraph services, worth $8 million; a penny-a-pack tax on cigarettes, producing $10 million; a four per cent liquor tax, which would yield $7 million; and a one-half cent corporate franchise tax, worth $13.4 million.

Auditorium Bids Top $494,564

Low Figure Skips Cost of Items in Alternate Construction Estimates

The lowest price Oakland County can expect to pay for the proposed auditorium at the proposed Service Center is $494,564, based on construction bids opened yesterday by the County Board of Auditors.

The price tag, although it comes close to the architect's total estimate of $498,584, does not include costs for such items as marble wallcovering, granite, or aluminum cladding, covered in alternate bids.

County engineers have until Monday to tabulate the figures in 10 construction bids, eight electrical bids and 12 bids for plumbing and heating fixtures. The engineers will make their recommendations for awarding of contracts when the County Board of Supervisors meets at 9:30 a.m.

The building is to be built with the county's capital improvement funds.

The low base bid of $24,400 for construction was submitted by the F.H. Martin Co. of Detroit. Adding the low bids of $38,900 for electrical wiring and $131,000 for heating and plumbing fixtures brings the total to $494,564.

Second low base bid on construction was the Bundy Construction Co., 1509 S. Telegraph Road, Bloomfield Township, at $25,000. The Bundy firm is building the new wing onto the courthouse tower.

TO RAZE COURTHOUSE

County auditors also opened bids to raze the old, vacant courthouse and former prosecutor's office at Saginaw and Huron streets.

In contrast to the new construction bids, where bidding was sharp, the demolition bids ranged from a low of $3,700 to a high of $15,000. K.A. Equipment and Contracting Co. of Detroit was low bidder.

Reds Ask West to Join Test Halt

But No Mention Made of International Control During Talks; Allies Veto

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union offered today to refrain from further nuclear testing during the present 17-nation disarmament talks if the United States and Britain would do the same.

But the Russians made no mention of international controls as demanded by the West, and the proposal was turned down by American and British delegates who said a Russian promise could not be taken at face value.

"I say this with regret, but we do not have any confidence in a Soviet promise to halt nuclear testing," said an American delegate Arthur H. Dean told the conference.

British Minister of State Joseph Godber said "the United Kingdom could not take up a Soviet offer which gives us no security at all."

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin pleaded that Dean's answer was inconclusive, so the American tried again.

"I thought I made it abundantly clear," Dean said, "that the United States would find any unilateral moratorium unacceptable."

Dean reminded Zorin that the Soviet Union had declared during three years of earlier fruitless talks on a test ban agreement that it would not use nuclear weapons. Yet it broke that promise, making preparations in secret and setting off a nuclear test series last fall.

Teamster Strike Halts Publication of Detroit Papers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Free Press and the Detroit News did not publish editions today in the wake of a labor dispute with the Teamsters Union.

Teamsters Local 372 went on strike yesterday at the Free Press over a new contract. The morning paper subsequently announced suspension of all its editions.

The Detroit News, an afternoon paper, announced suspension of its editions this morning.

A News spokesman said "We are sorry, we will not publish today."

Both the Free Press and the News are negotiating new contracts with Teamsters Local 372. Both papers negotiate with unions through the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association.

Golf Fee Increases to Be Refunded

BIRMINGHAM — Golfers who have paid the recently increased membership fee for use of the Spradley course will receive refunds from the city.

The City Commission has restored the former annual membership fee after voting last month to increase rates $15 for individuals and $25 for a family.

Rates at the course, which opened last week, will remain at the 1961 level of $35 for single memberships and $65 for family memberships.

The commission reversed its earlier decision after numerous complaints were made about the increase.

The hike in the golf rates had been made to equalize the ratio between season memberships and daily green fees.

City Manager L. R. Gare had recommended the increase so that the cost of operating the course would be shared more equally by members and those using the facility on a day-to-day basis.

An expanded elementary summer school program will be offered this year in the Birmingham District, according to James Liddle, director.

Bill Gives Firms Break on Taxes

Swainson Signs Motion Easing Levy on New Businesses in State

LANSING — A bill to give certain out-of-state employers a break on state unemployment compensation taxes when they move their operations to Michigan was signed by Gov. Swainson yesterday.

Industries or businesses with low unemployment records will be taxed at the same rate as Michigan employers with good records.

Currently all incoming employers must pay the top rate until they establish a good "experience" rating with the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Swainson signed the bill with little enthusiasm.

"It is true that an employer with a good experience rating could benefit from this provision," he said.

VOICES DOUBT

However, if the employer did not bring his employees with him when he moved, it is likely that the resulting unemployment in the other state would result in charges to his Michigan rating account such as to negate any advantage.

Sponsors promoted the bill as an additional lure to new industry. Other bills signed today will:

Soviets Back Castro's Denunciation of Red

HAVANA (AP)—The Soviet Union has endorsed Prime Minister Fidel Castro's public denunciation and disgrace of top Cuban Communist Anibal Escalante.

An editorial in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda, reprinted in Havana newspapers today, said "Escalante has been justly criticized for his unjust methods" as organizing secretary of the United Party of the Socialist Revolution, Cuba's future monolithic political party.

Escalante subsequently left for Moscow and his trip caused some uneasiness in government circles here. But the Pravda editorial said Castro's actions were "fully in accord with the spirit and letter" of policy set down at the last year's Soviet Communist party meeting in Moscow.

Battle of Hastings Is Still Hot

WASHINGTON — The battle of Hastings is still a live issue in England — though it was fought nearly nine centuries ago. Every schoolboy knows, or should know, that in 1066 Duke William of Normandy started the Norman conquest of England by defeating King Harold at the Battle of Hastings.

Time has not completely healed the wounds of the battle on the southeast coast of England, the National Geographic Society reports. Churchmen, crowned Harold.

William, though illegitimate, was related to the English royal family. The Norman duke also claimed that Edward had made him heir, and that Harold had promised him the throne. Harold rushed north and defeated the attackers in a great battle at Stamford Bridge.

A retired admiral protested the celebration of an English defeat by a foreign "gangster," a housewife with Norman sympathies maintained that William had a strong claim to the English throne. While Harold was guarding the "noblest figure" of the fray; answerer who deserved to die with One letter called Harold the other said he was a bigamist and a Norman arrow in his eye.

Harold traced his descent on his mother's side from Scandinavian kings, but was not next in line for the throne when Edward the Confessor died early in 1066. Nevertheless, the Wilan, or great council of nobles and Meanwhile, Duke William had landed at Pevensey, on the south coast, on September 28, 1066. As William stepped from the boat, he fell flat on his face.

His soldiers murmured about the bad omen, but the resourceful William sprang to his feet, his hands clutching English soil. He shouted: "I have taken England with both my hands!"

MADE FORCED MARCH

Harold and his "house-cards," or regular army, made a forced march of 200 miles in seven days to London. There, the king gathered what forces he could muster from an apathetic and divided England, and marched to meet William. Harold halted his weary troops on a steep hill, some eight miles inland from Hastings, to bar the road to London.

About 9 a.m. on Oct. 14, the Normans marched with cavalry and archers against Harold's army and spearmen. Ivo Taillefer, the Norman minstrel knight, led the first charge on horseback.

As the amazed Saxons watched, he rode into battle chanting the "Song of Roland" and juggling his sword. The gallant minstrel was the first to fall.

The Saxons held firm, but William won the battle by feigning a retreat and then cutting down the undisciplined militia that pursued his cavalry. The tactic still rankles.

An English historian, writing some 550 years after the battle, "groans with humiliation" that his ancestors were deceived by the "transparent trick." The staunch house-cards stood firm around Harold, and it was not until 5 o'clock that he fell.

William marched to London, and on Christmas day was crowned king. It took him five years, however, to subdue the rest of England and become, in truth, William the Conqueror.

Describing the final conquest in "The Birth of Britain," Sir Winston Churchill intones in Biblical cadences: "Woe to the conquered! Here were the Normans entrenched on English soil, masters of the land and the fullness thereof."

Though the conquerors were harsh, they imposed unity upon the discordant nation, infused it with vigorous new blood, and linked England anew to the continent.

Reservists, Guardsmen Will Go Home in August

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 145,000 National Guardsmen and Reservists will go marching home from the cold war in August unless the Communists raise a new hot war threat.

This will clip as much as two months from the year they could have been kept in uniform under a special act authorizing their call to duty at the height of the Berlin crisis last fall.

TO BE READY

But President Kennedy, in announcing plans for the August release, stressed Wednesday that these Army, Navy and Air Force units "will remain available, in a new and heightened state of combat readiness, if a new crisis should arise."

The decision to demobilize the Guard and Reserve does not stem from any marked change in the international situation which continues to have many dangers and tensions, Kennedy said at his news conference.

"It is the result, rather, of our successful build-up of permanent instead of emergency strength," he said.

Because of higher draft calls and enlistments, the nation's regular armed forces will total 2,800,700 next September after the Guard and Reserves return home. This will be about 200,000 more than last June 30, before the Berlin crisis mobilization began. In a mark of gratitude, Ken-

Kennedy's Steel Attack Sounds Like FDR

By JACK REEL
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's sharp-tongued indictment of "a tiny handful of steel executives whose pursuit of private power and profit exceeds their public responsibility" had the ring of FDR's 1936 assault on the "new economic dynasties, thirsting for power."

The President's caustic assertion at yesterday's news conference that a steel price increase was "a wholly unjustifiable and irresponsible defiance of the public interest" seemed to draw the lines for a Democratic attack on big business in this year's political campaigns.

Kennedy sketched this strategy with the contention that the price boost would hit the mass of voters through increased costs of homes, autos, appliances for the average consumer and of machinery and tools for business men and farmers.

CAMPAIGN ISSUE
"It would seriously handicap our efforts to prevent an inflationary spiral from eating up the pensions of our older citizens, and our new gains in purchasing power," he said. For the benefit of those who lack budget balancing, he said the price increase would boost defense spending by $1 billion in the next fiscal year.

Democrats, sensing a fresh issue, rallied quickly to the President, denouncing big steel's action.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., called it "an affront to the President and an irritant to labor." Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., predicted that "the country will pay a stiff price" for the boost.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said "I'm a friend of business but this was a dumb thing to do"—a view obviously shared privately by some Republicans.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who once said the Republican party should be proud to be the party of business, told the Senate "I deprecate and deplore" the price increase. He said it is "very likely to put the steel industry in hot water with the people of the United States."

They said "I know that I speak for all Americans in paying tribute to all those whose emergency service in this year of growing national strength is doing so much for the national interest."

The Army, which has 110,000 of the Guardsmen and Reservists under arms, informed Congress it plans to move major units to their home stations during the first 10 days of August. All units, it said, will be released before Sept. 1. The exact dates for release of specific units' hinge on transportation and processing requirements, the Army said.

Night Talkathon Staged by GOP

Doubt Effectiveness of House Republican Blast at Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans staged a nighttime talkathon against the Kennedy administration, but whether it was as effective as it was entertaining is debatable.

The six-hour show last night was not meant to be funny. A procession of Republican speakers tried grimly to stick to their appointed task of lambasting the administration but some Democrats made it difficult.

There was Rep. John C. Kluczynski, D-Ill., for instance. As the torrent of words continued he donned a pair of buff-colored earmuffs, put his feet up on the chair in front of him, and with an unlit cigar in his mouth read a newspaper.

And there was Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, who twice in the early going forced a halt while a quorum was rounded up and was talked out of others only by Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass.

OTHER TROUBLE
McCormack finally put Hays in the speaker's chair, trying to forestall any further quorum calls. But trouble broke out on a new front.

As presiding officer, Hays was happy to announce the expiration of a speaker's time and reluctantly recognized a new one. His performance drew cries of rage from the Republicans who declared the chair out of order. This was a point on which Hays, as acting speaker, had to rule.

"Well, the chair is in the chair, so what are you going to do about it?" he replied, and gaveled the show along.

And there was Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., who at one point asked the organizers of the event, "Is this a revolt by the neanderthals against the Ev and Charlie show?"

Seat Belt Use Would Double Death Benefits

DETROIT (AP)—A policyholder killed or injured in an auto accident while wearing a seat belt will be entitled to double benefits under a plan announced yesterday by Citizens Mutual Automobile Insurance Co. of Howell.

President Berthold Woodhams said he hoped the plan would encourage not only the installation of seat belts in cars but the use of them.

Woodhams said the new plan would also apply to policyholders using seat belts while riding in another person's automobile.

The company's normal policy provides a death benefit of $1,000. Medical payments are available in varied amounts depending on the policy.

Our Mothers Have Failings, Fears, Too

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 Dear Mrs. Lawrence:
 My mother has a habit that irritates me till I sometimes think I can't stand it. I have three youngsters, and this winter I did all her marketing in addition to my own work because she has had a bad arthritis attack. But instead of thanks, all I get is reminders of what she has done for me.
 * * *
 Yesterday, when I delivered her week's supply of groceries, she ignored the bags I was putting on the table to ask me if the sweater I was wearing wasn't the one she gave me for Christmas two years ago. When I said it wasn't, she insisted that it was.
 ANSWER: It may be as painful for your mother to say "Thank you" to you as it is to head one of her scolding jabs.
 Has she always taken great pride in her generosity? If so, the feeling of gratitude can be terribly threatening to her.
 For people who take pride in their generosity use it to support their self-importance. When illness or old age compels them to take from us, they become frantic.
 TURN TO PAGE

what we owe them. They go back to the past to evade the humiliating present.
 Like you, children are usually "irritated" by this kind of ingratitude in parents. I'm not criticizing; your irritation is understandable, but I have to suggest that it derives from idealization of your mother, she's not, you know, the faultless, all-powerful creature of your childhood imagination.

 You do not realize that her inability to say "thank you" may not be measured in her but a weakness over which she has no control. As her child who is not yet free of mother, it is easier for you to resent her ingratitude than to know it is weakness and fear.
 Just as we parents have to change our ideas about you, our children, so do you have to be brave enough to outgrow your romantic views of us.
 It's hard to do. The moment we see mother as frightened and weak instead of mean or selfish or ungrateful, all the values she has given us become unsteady.
 As doubts of her perfection assail us, so do doubts that everything she has told us is true. That's always a very scary situation, so children in your position often prefer to avoid it. They prefer to protest mother's weakness to accepting her as possibly unreliable. They prefer to resent her to seeing her as weak and frightened.
 Yet a parent who cannot refrain from reminding his child of past favors is weak. He reminds his child of his generosity for the same reason that a beggar draws his rags closer about him in a cold wind.

Barbara Berg Opens Gifts at Bridal Shower

City Teacher to Be Married in Kalamazoo

A June 21 wedding in St. Monica Church, Kalamazoo, is planned by Marcia Ann Heiden, elementary vocal music teacher in the Pontiac public school system. Her parents, the Edwin Heidens are from St. Joseph and her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Erwin Klein of Coopersville and the late Mr. Klein.
 She holds a bachelor of music degree from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, where she affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi and Sigma Alpha Iota sororities.
 Mr. Klein, who is a candidate for a B.M. degree from WMU in June, is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia.

Will Attend Camp Fire Conference

Four local women will represent the Pontiac Council at the Camp Fire Girls' conference in Chicago this week, Richard Jarvis, council president announces.
 * * *
 Volunteers attending the three-day conference, Thursday through Saturday are Mrs. Bernard Stickey of South Street and Mrs. Ruth Donaldson of South Edith Street.
 Mrs. Donald Beck, executive director and Barbara Butlin, field director, will represent the staff at the meeting.
 Adult campfire members from six midwestern states will gather mainly to discuss program revisions to become effective this fall.

NEW PROGRAM
 Blue Bird, formerly for girls 7, 8 and 9 will be for 7 and 8-year-olds only. Nine-year-olds, in turn, will become campfire girls, formerly reserved for girls 10 to 14.
 The campfire ages will be 9 through 11, while a separate junior high program for 12- and 13-year-olds is being planned. Girls 14 to 18 will continue to be members of the Horizon Club, the senior program.

Sylvan Lake to Go Ahead With Paving, Storm Drain

Sylvan Lake City Council last night gave the go-ahead for construction on both its 1962 paving program and the Woodland storm drain project.

Present at the public hearings held on both projects were councilmen Edwin F. Clark, John M. Dawson, Frank J. Dickie and Mayor G. Richard Jarvis. The seat vacated by Joseph E. Gilson's resignation was not filled until after the hearings, with the appointment on suggestion by Jarvis of Clement F. Cleveland, 1835 Woodland Ave.

The decision on the $20,000 paving program was unanimous, after Dawson and Clark changed their original "no" votes. Their switch followed a discussion of the issue in the middle of the voting.

GIVES REASONS
During discussion, Dawson said he voted no because he doubted a black-top cover on Fernside Avenue would last because of the street's proximity to the Sylvan Lake and a resulting high water table and also because only 16 of 30 property owners had driven ways onto the street. Clark raised the upkeek question about Fernside and another street, Lakeview Avenue.

The city engineer, Frank Webster, had already testified to the contrary: That the streets would last the normal minimum of 10 years with normal city maintenance. Upon Clark's suggestion that members of the audience of 30

Children's Hour Set for Saturday at Main Library

In recognition of National Library Week, the Pontiac public libraries have made arrangements for a special program of children's stories and songs Saturday at 2 p.m.

The program will be presented in the auditorium of the main library, 60 E. Pike St., by Anthony B. Oster, 2285 Garland Ave., summarizing their position by saying:

"This is no time to start regarding the city into paved and unpaved streets. I didn't object to the paving of Garland several years ago when I had small children playing on the streets. Even though I knew the speed of cars would be increased, because I wanted to go along with the rest of the city which decided all of the city would be paved."

After half an hour's discussion, Clark suddenly said he would change his vote in favor of the paving program, saying:

"So many times, people come in later and say, 'I wish I had a chance to say something,' — so by saying something myself maybe I opened the door. I will change my vote. I feel this has given people a chance to say something."

Dawson followed in the vote switch, "I'll follow the engineer's recommendation and vote 'yes'."

The vote overruled a petition signed by 30 residents of Lakeview Avenue who protested paving of their gravel-covered street because of an expected increase of traffic speed in an area along the lake where children play.

Marine Corps Bans Drumming-Out Rite

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Marine Corps has banned drumming-out ceremonies like the one used in Norfolk, Va., last week for a young Marine with a bad conduct discharge.

The corps said it had completed its investigation of the incident and a directive would be issued ordering that the centuries-old discharge ceremony "is not to be used."
