President to Meet Mikoyan Saturday; Berlin Stand Seen

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will meet with Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan at the White House Saturday morning. Press Secretary James C. Haggerty said no time limit has been set.

Secretary of States John Foster Dulles and perhaps some other officials will be present, Hagerty said.

Eisenhower is expected to impress upon Premier Nikita Khrushchev's top deputy that the Western Allies have no intention of abandoning West Berlin or creating a neutralized Germany.

The Soviet visitor met with both Dulles and Vice President Nixon a week ago before starting his present tour around the country.

Interest in the forthcoming discussions was sharpened over the weekend by two surprise Moscow moves.

1. In notes to the United States and 26 other countries that fought Nazi forces in World War II, the Soviet government proposed a 28-nation conference to meet at Warsaw or Prague in two months to write a German peace treaty. The 12-page note was accompanied by a 25-page detailed outline for a treaty, including provision for withdrawal of Western and Soviet troops from Germany and a ban on German membership in any military alliance. West Germany is a member of NATO.

2. In a second note Saturday night, the Soviet Union called for resumption of East-West talks on the problem of preventing surprise attack in the nuclear missile age. The United States responded promptly with a statement saying it favors resuming the talks — which broke down at Geneva Dec. 18— but wants an agreement with the Soviet Union on the range of problems they should deal with.

Related Picture, Story on Page Two

Both notes were received at the State Department Sunday. But even before the German peace treaty plan came in, officials said on the basis of a Moscow announcement Saturday that it was clearly unacceptable. They expressed hope that detailed study might open up an opportunity for some constructive counter proposal, however.

One of the provisions of the Soviet plan for Germany was that West Berlin should be converted into an unarmed free city until East and West Germany are reunited.

Pending unification, the proposed peace treaty would be made with both the Communist East German regime—which the Western powers have declined to recognize—and the anti-Communist West German regime.

Mikoyan in his talks in Washington and other cities has given no evidence of any weakening of Soviet policy on German questions.

If Mikoyan came here with any really new propositions or concessions in his pocket, they are still there, but many U. S. officials feel that he may spring a surprise when he sees Eisenhower.

The basis of this reasoning is that Soviet leaders, notably Khrushchev, have made no effort to hide their dislike of Secretary Dulles.

It is felt, therefore, that if Khrushchev had an important card to play he would prefer that the play be made to Eisenhower rather than Dulles.

Mikoyan's visit with Nixon apparently was cordial. Their discussion included a tentative invitation for Nixon to visit the Soviet Union, but the vice president replied that would be difficult to arrange.

Cuba Speeds Up Executions for Batista Backers

50 Supporters Dead, 3,000 Waiting Fast Military Trial

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Executions of the followers of former Dictator Fulgencio Batista are mounting in Cuba as the forces of rebel leader Fidel Castro continue hurry-up military trials.

Thus far about 50 Batista supporters have been executed. Nearly 3,000 are awaiting trial.

Asked Sunday why the Batista followers were being executed without open trials, Castro said, "There were not so many. . .two or three dozen criminals."

"They were judged," he said, adding that "if anyone killed 15 or 30 people, he has no right to live."

Correspondent Jules DuBois of the Chicago Tribune reported that the mutilated bodies of 160 anti-Batista prisoners were found Sunday in a mass grave on the outskirts of San Cristobal, 60 miles west of Havana.

Military authorities in Manzanillo announced Sunday that Cubans will not be allowed to witness the firing squad executions of Batista supporters. But they will be allowed to see the bodies afterward.

The announcement came after a crowd of 3,000 attended the execution Saturday in Manzanillo of six Batista supporters convicted by a military court. The announcement said public executions do not conform "with our culture."

Directorate troops Sunday began moving out of the University of Havana and the board of governors was working on plans to reopen the university. It has been closed since Castro started his revolution.

All public and private schools, closed since before Christmas, were ordered to reopen today.

Firing squads executed four alleged war criminals on an army firing range here at dawn today.

The executions followed a 4½-hour trial by a three-man summary court that wound up at 3 a.m.

Billy Graham Defies Illness

Goes Ahead With Plans for World Tour Despite Eye Ailment

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham went ahead with his plans for a world crusade today in the face of advice by physicians to curtail his activities because of an eye ailment.

Graham told reporters that he intends to go to Australia, Indonesia, Malaya, Cairo, Jerusalem and Berlin this year.

Graham's illness earlier caused him to cancel a scheduled appearance at the Dallas First Baptist Church.

"The program may be cut somewhat by doctor's orders," Graham said of his projected tour, "but right now I plan to go."

He had announced previously he would go to Rochester, Minn. Tuesday for a check-up at a Mayo clinic instead of leaving for the West Coast en route to Australia.

Graham insisted he felt all right but "there's something wrong with one of my eyes."

"But I don't know what it is," he continued. "The doctor told me what it is—a long technical name — but I think he's as confused as the Republicans are these days."

"I spent two days in doctors' offices and about midnight last night I got orders not to preach," he said of his canceled church appearance. "I don't have cancer, I've had no heart attack; I haven't had a stroke and I'm not blind."

A cable sent to Australia said the medical examination showed "angio spastico edema of the macula." The macula lutea is a small yellow spot on the human retina and is the most sensitive area of the retina. The description suggests a spastic congestion of blood vessels serving the macula.

Eleanor Wants to Show U.S. to Khrushchev

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (UPI)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said last night she would like to take Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "by the hand and show him around the United States."

"It would be the best education he could get," the former first lady said, "but I would not like to do it if there were demonstrations against him."

Mrs. Roosevelt, speaking for the American Association for the United Nations, said it was easy to sympathize with refugees who rioted against Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, but called the demonstrations "unfortunate, because we wouldn't like it if such a thing happened to one of our government officials over there."

Britons Afraid to Speed on Superhighway

LONDON (UPI)—The first official report on use of a new superhighway designed for fast travel indicated today that most Britons are scared of speeding.

Lancashire County Police Chief T. E. St. Johnston reported to Transport Minister Harold Watkinson that most drivers timed during its first month's operation stuck to 40-50 miles per hour.

Only one driver timed by police in the first month was doing more than 75 on the eight-mile highway called the Preston Bypass, St. Johnston said.

Airliner Crashes in Blinding Rain

36 Die, Three Survive Following Fire, Blast on Brazilian Beach

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI) —Officials today blamed a blinding rain squall for the crash of a German Lufthansa airliner which killed 36 persons in an explosion and fire "hot enough to start a chain reaction."

Three crew members survived. All were reported out of danger today.

The only American aboard, pilot Capt. Wren McMains of Westover Park, Stamford, Conn., died at the controls after he missed the runway Sunday at Galeao International Airport in a blinding rain storm.

The plane touched down in Rio Bay instead, bounced onto Tubiacanga Beach on Governador Island, where the airport is located. It exploded and split apart in flames.

Heavy mud delayed the rescue until it was too late. Most of the victims were burned to death.

Eyewitnesses said the plane's landing gear dipped to the water near the end of the runway. The plane rose several feet to clear the seawall, but then bounced off the runway, dipped sharply to the left and crashed and exploded on the beach.

The three survivors were navigator Heinz Wilhelm Jeppel, hostess Hilde Dehler and steward Karl Francfrank. They were tossed free of the wreckage with 10 passengers, but the passengers were killed.

Among the dead was Gary Levy, Latin-American director of Reuters News Agency, who was en route back to Rio following a television interview in London. Others were Count and Countess Jaroslav Kottulinsky, who were married in Vienna on Dec. 7, 1955 in a wedding attended by most of Europe's royalty.

Worker Hunting Gas Leak a Victim; Father Saves Girl, 4

DETROIT (AP)—Two persons were killed and two injured today when a gas explosion ripped through a suburban Romulus township bar and living quarters as workers sought to find a leaking line.

Mrs. Josephine Smiegel, 53, owner of the bar, and Harry Garavaglia, 32, Taylor Township, a Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. employe were killed.

Leonard Smiegel, 32, son of the bar owner, was critically burned in a fire touched off by the blast. Smiegel managed to save the life of his 4-year-old daughter, Tonette — by throwing her out a second story window of their home next to the bar.

Smiegel's wife, Betty, 28, suffered cuts on the legs as she rushed from the house.

Police said Garavaglia was in the basement of the bar trying to trace a reported gas leak when the blast occurred.

Another gas company worker, Philip Becker, of Wayne, survived the explosion and caught the Smiegel child as her father dropped her.

Becker said he, Smiegel and Garavaglia were in the basement under the house and that Garavaglia had crawled into a basement under the bar to reach a line to a gas water heater.

"He hadn't been gone five seconds when there was a tremendous poof," said Becker, "air and flames shot past my face and all around me."

Ask Capsule for Manned Space Flight

WASHINGTON (AP) — McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis was selected today to design and build a space capsule to carry the passenger in the nation's first manned satellite.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said negotiation for a formal contract with McDonnell will begin immediately.

Twelve firms submitted bids to NASA on the basis of specifications set forth at a meeting with 38 manufacturing and research organizations last November.

NASA said a single satellite capsule with its connected equipment is expected to cost over 15 million dollars.

NASA said the space capsule, to be shot into space by a powerful booster, will be designed to carry a human passenger through the atmosphere into orbital flight and return him safely to earth.

Mother Refused to Give Up Hope

NEW YORK (AP)—"I never gave up hope that Lisa would be found. My first faith was in God. My second in the FBI and the police."

These were the words of a jubilant mother, Frances Chionchio, for whom nine days of anxiety and agony ended early today with the safe recovery of her kidnaped infant daughter.

The 26-year-old teacher, who has been on maternity leave, said she first learned the baby was found alive and healthy from her husband, Frank, who telephoned from St. Peter's Hospital about 5:30 a.m.

She said she didn't know when she would be reunited with her child, but as long as she knew the baby was being cared for, she could wait — at least for a while.

Chionchio, 28, a Port Authority lawyer, had been called to the hospital for identification of the infant, missing since the night of Jan. 2 when she was kidnaped 2½ hours after birth.

Chionchio said he recognized his daughter immediately. He had only seen her once, shortly after birth. "She has a birthmark over her left eye," he said, "but I really recognized her by her beautiful feet and hands."

A holiday atmosphere pervaded the house—a two-story brick dwelling in the Borough Park section of Brooklyn. It is the home of the mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fumo, where Mrs. Chionchilo has been staying.

Friends and relatives poured in. They embraced the Chionchios and each other. Some of them had stayed with Mrs. Chionchio during the week's anxious hours.

Most of the gathering, including the Chionchios, had been awake since they went to church Sunday morning. When reports circulating Sunday night indicated a break in the case might be imminent, they all stayed up through the night.

PETOSKEY, (AP) — Former insurance broker Paul Achenbach today was sentenced to 10 to 15 years in prison for manslaughter in the death of his 78-year-old mother, Mrs. Clara Achenbach.

Circuit Judge Edward H. Fenlon made no recommendation and the sentence was accepted without comment by the defendant.

Achenbach, 46, had been charged with first degree murder and accused of fatally beating the woman whose body was found in her apartment last November. Authorities said she had been dead at least six months.

Anonymous Tip Leads Police to Woman's Flat

Divorcee-Widow Denies Snatching Infant From Hospital After Birth

NEW YORK (AP)—The kidnaped Chionchio baby was found alive and healthy Sunday night in a Brooklyn apartment. The infant girl had been the object of an intense search since she was snatched from a hospital 2½ hours after her birth nine days ago.

Police and FBI agents, acting on an anonymous tip, located the baby in the second-floor flat of Jean Lavarone, a 43-year-old divorcee and widow with seven living children.

Mrs. Iavarone was booked today on a charge of kidnaping. All night she had insisted she was innocent.

Her apartment is about 1½ miles from St. Peter's Hospital where the child was kidnaped late Jan. 2.

The child was returned to the hospital. Authorities said she was "in good condition." The youngest baby ever kidnaped here, she was taken before her parents had the chance to have her baptized "Lisa Rose."

Mrs. Iavarone denied the kidnaping and claimed the child is hers, police said. They quoted her as saying she had delivered the baby unattended in her apartment Jan. 2.

Chief of Detectives James B. Leggett and J. Kenneth McCabe, chief assistant district attorney of Kings County Brooklyn, said Mrs. Iavarone would be charged with kidnaping.

McCabe questioned the woman for an hour.

Asked what evidence there was to support the charge, McCabe said the footprints of the Chionchio baby taken shortly after birth match those of the baby found Sunday night.

He said that footprints, like fingerprints, are only one of a kind.

Telling newsmen of his questioning of Mrs. Iavarone, McCabe said: "She still says it's her baby. She answers questions in a calm voice."

First positive identification of the baby was announced by the FBI, quoting the father, Frank.

Chionchio, 28, a lawyer for the Port of New York Authority, said he recognized the baby on the basis of a "general family resemblance" and a small scar over the left eye he had noticed the night the baby was born.

"I feel very happy," Chionchio said as he left the hospital to rejoin his wife, Frances, 26. She has been staying with her parents in Brooklyn.

Leggett said the baby "certainly" is the Chionchio child. He indicated the footprint of the baby found in the apartment matched the footprint of the Chionchio baby taken shortly after birth. He said the comparison was "okay."

Pontiac Press Previews New York Styles

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, Pontiac Press

NEW YORK — With the potato sack, pyramids and balloon dresses all but out of the picture, there's nothing left for a woman — but to look like a woman.

This spring dresses will be fitted and curves will be back where they belong. New York dress designers, unnerved by the bellows of rage from the American male, have brought back a normal, natural look for women.

MRS. CLEMENCE

The high waistline of the Empire is still an important look, but it is completely modified, with the whole waistline clearly defined. (The nightgown look is out!)

According to Eleanor Lambert, director of the Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute, the new silhouettes get a "rising vote of thanks from the citizenry, male and female."

The 30 designers who will show spring collections to more than 200 fashion editors here and abroad are showing new editions of old favorites, the shirtwaist, easy-fitted suit, the "little black" dress and the full-skirted dress.

COLLARS BIG

We're told that few designers will show carryovers of the unfitted look. Necklines are low, and the larger the collar the better this spring.

The most popular outfit will be the easy suit with short unfitted jacket, slender skirt belted at the natural waistline.

Hemlines vary — some just cover the kneecap, others are about two inches below the knee. The bouffant type evening dress has been nosed out by the long, narrow version, and street-length evening coats are worn over the gowns.

Important fabrics for evening are satin, printed silk lace or layered chiffon.

Large, bold checks and plaids are in. Colors are vivid with all versions of green the most popular choice for spring.

Most of the shows will be held in the Waldorf-Astoria. Tomorrow we'll tell you more about the "new look" as we preview individual designer's collections.

Johnson Speaks on Filibuster

Confident Outcome of Fight to Limit Debate Will Be Fair

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today voted down a proposal to let filibusters be cut off by vote of a bare majority of the senators. The vote was 67-28, by roll call.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, said today he is confident the outcome of the Senate fight over the filibuster rule "will be a fair reflection of the will of the Senate and the will of the nation."

Johnson spoke as the Senate met two hours earlier than usual to start voting on specific proposals to make it easier to choke off filibusters.

A proposal to permit debate to be cut off by a majority of the Senate, or 50 of the 98 members, after 15 days, was the first up for action. Under present rules it takes the votes of 66 senators, two-thirds of the members.

Johnson said senators who want debate limitation by majority vote, as well as those who are opposed to any change in the existing rule, can work their will if they can get their colleagues to go along with them.

He is sponsoring, along with Senate leaders of both parties, a compromise under which filibusters could be shut off and issues forced to a vote by two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

Ex-Boy Friend Arrested After Witness Describes Assault in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit man is being held for investigation of assault with intent to commit murder in the shooting of a woman as she was riding in a car on a Detroit expressway.

Carolyn Barnett, 21, of Detroit was hospitalized with bullet wounds of the neck and side and head cuts. She was riding along the Edsel Ford Expressway in a car driven by John Martin, 21, of Detroit, police said, when another car raced past and a shot was fired.

The bullet ripped through the car door and struck Miss Barnett in the neck. Police said James Tate, 34, an ex-boy friend of Miss Barnett's, is being held for investigation.

Police said Martin told them he stopped the car to seek help but ran away when he saw Tate had stopped and was running toward him. Martin said he heard two more shots and saw Tate beat the woman before driving away, police reported.

Tate was arrested about a half hour later.

Mikoyan Pays Visit to Hollywood Studio

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan takes time out today in his good-will tour to visit a movie studio.

Last night, in a discussion of cold war issues he called for a mutual withdrawal of U. S. and Russian troops from Germany.

"If the West does not want to withdraw all its men at once," Mikoyan said, "perhaps it could withdraw one third at first, and subsequently withdraw others in stages."

He will tour Paramount studios today where a reception will be held for him after a visit to the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles and a luncheon as guest of the World Affairs Council.

Mikoyan's three-day visit to Los Angeles began yesterday. His plane was prevented from landing at International Airport because of heavy fog and had to make an unscheduled landing at Lockheed Air Terminal in Burbank, about 25 miles away.

Demonstrators, armed with eggs, placards, and at least one sling shot, were left without enough time to travel to the other airport to meet Mikoyan and his party.

The only other known attempt to demonstrate against the high Soviet official occurred outside the Beverly Hills Hotel last night where Mikoyan was given a dinner by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America.

Two men identified as Zoltan Laszlo, 20, and Miklos Laborczy, 29, threw eggs at the hotel entrance when Mikoyan arrived and were arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct.

It appeared that Mikoyan was unaware of the egg-throwing incident.

Mikoyan's first day here was a far cry from his reception in San Francisco where he was greeted by an angry egg-throwing crowd at the airport.

Mystery Man Tries to Burn Restaurant

DETROIT (AP) — Police today were looking for somebody who's trying to burn up a Detroit restaurant piecemeal.

The owner, Ernest Manfredini, 56, of Farmington, told police last week he had received threatening phone calls. Saturday night firemen had to put out four small blazes in the kitchen. They could find no evidence of forced entry.

Fire Inspector Marshall Robinson, during the investigation, picked up an apron hanging on the wall. From it fell a piece of highly inflammable phosphorus. It burst into flames on the floor. Robinson found a dozen other pieces of the chemical in the kitchen.

Yesterday Det. Sgt. Glenn McQueen visited the restaurant to speak to Manfredini. A fire erupted in a box of napkins and in a metal canopy above the stove.

McQueen tried placing a pan under phosphorus that was dripping to the floor. It burned through his overcoat, suit jacket and shirt sleeve. He was treated for burns at a hospital.

McQueen said a suspect named by Manfredini was questioned but denied arson. The detective said the probe would continue today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today upheld a lower court ruling requiring dissolution of the International Boxing Clubs of New York and Illinois.

The ruling, by U. S. Dist. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan in New York, also held the Madison Square Garden Corp. and its majority stockholders — James D. Norris of New York and Arthur M. Wirtz of Chicago — along with the two clubs had violated the Sherman antitrust law.

Decision Due on Thompson

Flint Teamster Official May Stand Trial in Dry Cleaners Arson

A decision will be handed down tomorrow morning on whether Flint Teamsters official Jack D. Thompson should stand trial for arson in the mysterious burning of his fellow unionist, Frank Kierdorf, last August.

Flint Municipal Judge Donald R. Freeman, who heard two days of testimony last month during Thompson's preliminary examination, said today he would deliver his opinion from the bench Tuesday.

He has to rule on whether Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke presented enough evidence to link Thompson, 41, with the Aug. 3 burning of the Latreille Dry Cleaners just outside of Flint.

This evidence, according to Thompson's attorney, James E. Haggerty of Detroit, contained "not a scintilla of proof" and "relied upon inference built upon inference" to put Thompson as an accomplice at the fire which cost Kierdorf his life.

Kidnaped Infant Found Alive in Brooklyn Flat

chio, the FBI said, but did not correspond to Mrs. Iavarone's.

Leggett said medical examination showed that Mrs. Iavarone did not bear a child nine days ago.

He said the woman took "good care" of the baby. "She had plenty of experienced caring for children of her own," he said.

Officials at St. Peter's said the baby weighed 7 pounds, 1 ounce when it was returned to the hospital. The Chionchio infant weighed 7 pounds at birth.

Leggett said Mrs. Iavarone, a department store employe, had been married twice and had eight children. The youngest is 3. The oldest, a 23-year-old son, died last summer, he said.

Her first marriage, to John Robert Getch, ended in divorce, Leggett said; and her second husband, Peter Morello, died two years ago. The use of the name Iavarone was not immediately explained.

Police had been working on the theory that the kidnaper was a frustrated mother who took the baby out of a longing for a child of her own.

Thousands of tips were checked out, hundreds of persons questioned and many square miles of territory searched.

A special telephone was set up by police to receive calls from anyone who thought he had any information about the case.

It was on this phone that the tip was delivered.

H. G. Foster, special agent in charge of the New York FBI office, said it was "a heartwarming experience to see the close cooperation between the Police Department and the FBI."

He praised newspapers for having "played a very important part in this case."

Newspapers published the formula the baby was supposed to be fed.

Gangster Killing Trial to Open

Accuse Ex-Convict Here in Slaying of Texan After Struggle

The prosecution is expected to open its case tomorrow against Demitrios Tsermengas, accused of the murder of a self-styled Texas gangster prince in a Commerce Township home 13 months ago.

Chief Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said he expected the second-degree murder trial to go before Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty on schedule.

Tsermengas, a 39-year-old ex-convict formerly from Galveston, Tex., and now of Ecorse, has admitted shooting George Kean, but said it was accidental.

He said he and two companions from Texas feared for their lives after Kean, following a day of drinking, threatened to kill them with one of three guns he carried.

Kean, who Texas police said was a known narcotics peddler and involved in several murders, was shot in the head as the three wrestled away the pistols from him.

His body was found in a grave near Alpena last September by Texas Rangers and Michigan State Police detectives acting on a tip given to Rangers in Texas.

U.S. Uses Most Nickel

OTTAWA — An estimated 60 per cent of the free world's 1957 nickel production—which amounted to about 490,000,000 pounds, a new record — was delivered to the United States. The previous record was set in 1956 with 450,000,000 pounds.

Nation Generally Warmer

Freeze Hits North Florida

By The Associated Press

More frosty weather kept Florida citrus growers on the alert Monday after another all-night vigil to protect their crops.

Strong winds fanned cold air from the southern Appalachians into the Southeast. Temperatures dropped to below freezing in northern parts of Florida.

Generally warmer weather prevailed in most of the nation. Skies were mostly clear to partly cloudy except for rain areas in the Pacific Northwest and snow flurries across Northern sections.

At Lakeland, Fla., Homer E. Hooks, Florida Citrus Commission manager, said he didn't believe the damage to crops thus far was too extensive. However, he said, another two or three nights of freezing weather could be dangerous. Most citrus men, he said, had been warned in advance of the cold.

A warming trend was reported in New England and from the Great Lakes region through the lower Mississippi Valley and eastward across the Appalachians into the middle Atlantic states. Texas also warmed considerably Sunday, with temperatures in the 70s in southern areas. Southerly winds spread the warm air into central Missouri and across Kansas to along the eastern slopes of the Rockies in Colorado. Readings were in the 50s and 60s.

LONDON — The worst freeze in 12 years coated Britain with ice and snow today. It left a trail of stranded motorists.

Heavy snow fell in the interior of the continent, isolating several villages in Hungary and causing floods in French towns along the River Seine. The British ship Benvrackie hit a mine in the North Sea, but was making for a German port under its own power in heavy seas.

Drifts up to 20 feet high clogged roads and isolated villages in northeast Scotland. Two snowplows worked for two hours to take an expectant mother 10 miles to a hospital from the village of Coly in Aberdeenshire. A 10-year-old boy drowned in the flooded New River at Cheshire.

Victim of Fumes Still on Critical List

A 31-year-old Waterford Township man who was found unconscious on the second floor of the Auto Electric Shop, 367 S. Saginaw, Saturday morning was improved but still on the critical list at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Edward Shaw, of 6401 Elizabeth Lake Rd., an employe of the shop, was lying on the 2nd floor of the shop where co-workers found him when they arrived to open up at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Apparently Shaw was overcome by fumes from a can of metal solvent which he tipped over while working late Friday night.

Police said when Shaw passed out he fell into the liquid, inhaled the fumes and suffered body burns.

Pythians to Hold Speech Contest for Students

The Pontiac Knights of Pythias Lodge 19 is accepting applications from high school students in Pontiac interested in competing for honors in the 14th Annual Knights of Pythias speaking contest.

Applications may be obtained by students from their speech teacher, and in turn writing to the lodge, 18 W. Huron St.

Deadline for filing is March 30. The subject for this year's speeches is "My Favorite Character In History."

"The Pontiac lodge winner will be eligible to compete in a district elimination contest with the finalist going on to state and sectional contests.

The finals will be held in Denver, Colo., in August. First prize will be a $1,500 scholarship.

Other prizes will be $750 and $500 scholarships and three for $250.

Past commander Sherman Randell has been appointed the chairman for this year's contest at the Pontiac lodge.

Means What He Says

WINOOSKI, Vt. (UPI) —When Joseph Sprano took over as chief of police here, he promised "there will be no partiality or exceptions" for violators of road safety laws. A week later, his son, William, 22, was fined $5 for speeding.

County Theft Rate Up but Major Crimes Drop

The crime rate in Oakland County rose for the second consecutive year, according to figures released today by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Bright spots in the department's year-end report were the decrease in serious crimes and the drop in drownings for 1958.

There were 861 theft complaints during 1958 compared to 634 in 1957 and 493 in 1956.

Nineteen persons drowned during the 12-month period, compared to 22 in 1957, paralleling the drop in traffic fatalities from 103 in 1957 to 95 last year.

'RECESSION SPURRED THEFTS'

A growing population and several months of economic recession during the first half of 1958 were the major cause of the increase in thefts, Sheriff Frank W. Irons said.

"In any year where unemployment is unusually high for any period, we experience a rise in larcenies and break-ins," he said.

The totals were swelled by minor thefts of food and clothing, Irons said.

"Our department handled only two murder cases last year, compared to seven in 1957 and three in 1956."

"The increase in thefts brought a decrease in closed cases mainly because our detective bureau staff is by and large the same size it was in 1957, the sheriff said. "The men have done a good job considering the increased responsibilities."

20% CASES SOLVED

There were 550 break-ins reported last year. Each was investigated and 207 were officially closed by the end of the year, for an average of slightly under 38 per cent solved. Four hundred were reported in 1957.

Federal law enforcement agencies state that 33 per cent is a better than average mark for law enforcers handling theft complaints.

Grand larcenies went from 155 a year ago to 207 in 1958. Of the 207, detectives closed 44 cases.

The number of simple larcenies rose from 80 to 104. Detectives solved about 23 per cent of these cases.

This makes a total of 275 cases solved out of the 861 reported, or approximately 32 per cent closed. In 1957 a total of 227 cases were closed out of the 634 reported, for a mark of 37 per cent.

Undersheriff Donald Francis said, "Our actual gains may be realized during the next few months."

"Perhaps we will apprehend several suspects this month who will confess to having been responsible for a dozen burglaries last year," Francis said. "Thus we would be adding considerably to our total of cases closed and improving our percentage."

The drowning figures are much better than expected. All of the 22 victims in 1957 drowned between June and September. Authorities were alarmed early last summer by the fact that seven persons had drowned before June 1.

PATROL HELPED

Then the special sheriff's lake patrol went into operation for the first year in the county's history. It patrolled lakes from June through September.

In that period, in which 22 had drowned the preceding year, the toll was cut to 10. Two freak accidents contributed the remaining two victims in October.

Records show that boating accidents accounted for six drownings, while four victims were swimmers ranging in age from 14 to 20.

Nine of the victims were children who fell into water too deep for them. They ranged in age from 19 months to eight years.

In normal years, at least 85 per cent of the drownings occur from June 1 to Sept. 1. The lake patrols nearly reversed this figure, with only 52 per cent occurring in that span, Irons pointed out.

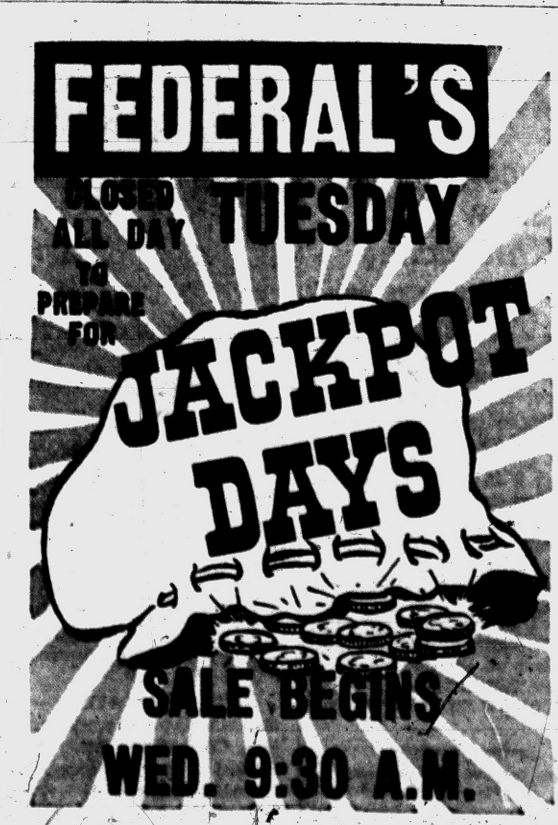
Rounding out the final report, the department recorded a drop in the number of jail prisoners by 450.

In 1958, 6,350 passed through the Oakland County Jail, compared to 6,800 the year before.



Mail Goes Through—Even After 31 Years

MORRISTOWN, N. J. (AP)—Paul Rochelle was a bit surprised the other day when a post card was returned for additional postage.

He'd mailed it 31 years ago—when postage was a penny—to a seed company for a free 25-pound trial bag of fertilizer.

Legislator Goes on Trial Today

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Democratic Congressman William J. Green Jr., accused of taking a $10,000 bribe and participating in a conspiracy to defraud the U.S. government, goes on trial today in federal district court.

Green, who has denounced the two-year-old charges and described them as politically-inspired lies, is one of the most powerful political bosses in Pennsylvania. He ranks high in party circles by virtue of his chairmanship since 1953 of the Democratic Comittee in Philadelphia, one of the nation's largest cities.

The 48-year-old congressman, an insurance broker since 1937, stands trial with six other defendants who have been linked by the government in the same conspiracy. The federal charges grew out of alleged irregularities uncovered in a grand jury probe of construction of the 33-million-dollar Army Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna, Pa.

That investigation resulted in eight other indictments. Two men already have been convicted of fraud.

Green is accusd of getting $10,000 in cash, plus lush insurance business, from five contractors working at Tobyhanna in exchange for favors and influence by the congressman while a member of the House Armed Services Committee. It was this committee that handled details of the depot's construction in northeastern Pennsylvania between 1951 and 1953.

Conviction would force Green to quit Congress, where he has served 12 years. Last Tuesday he began his seventh term in the House.

LANSING (UPI)—More than 200 special attractions will be available for Michigan vacationers this year, the Michigan Tourist Council has reported.

The council calendar lists such events as festivals, sports contests, parades and fairs with 57 affairs scheduled for January, February and March on the winter sports level.

Atomic Clocks Agree

NEW YORK (UPI) — American and British-made atomic clocks were compared and found to be only one 20,000th of a second apart in each 24 hours of operation. Each clock was constructed to different standards, demonstrating that time measurement keyed to the inner-workings of the atom is the most accurate yet devised.

Lag Behind Russia Big Issue

Space Race Hearings Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The question of where the United States stands in the space race with the Soviet Union will come under renewed congressional inquiry this session.

Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La), prospective chairman of the new House Space Committee, said today he could not yet speak for the House group since it had not been officially organized nor his chairmanship confirmed.

However, Brooks said, "I personally would favor holding hearings."

The Louisiana Democrat spoke in an interview against a background of conflict over whether this country is lagging in the space contest and whether it should step up its effort.

The temporary House Space Committee of the last Congress, headed by Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass), issued a final report over the weekend picturing the Soviets as perhaps 1½ years or more ahead of the United States in space progress.

Brooks was a member of the temporary committee as well as senior Democratic member of the House Armed Services Committee.

The space committee saw America's extinction as the likely cost of Soviet victory in the space race. Calling for the utmost national effort, it quoted estimates that even with a thoroughgoing program it will take the United States "at least five years to close the gap."

Vice President Nixon holds a different view, according to information given newsmen Sunday.

Nixon, who sits in top strategy councils, says the United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in developing military missiles and is catching up fast in other phases of the space race.

Nixon does not think more money can be spent wisely on satellites. He blames on the previous Democratic administration what he says is a lag of several years in a U.S. start on developing big rocket engines. Under a massive effort now, he says, this country is fast overtaking the Soviets in rocket power and satellites.

'Meter Maids' Check on Overtime Parking

MONTCLAIR, N. J. (AP)—Police are assigning women to help keep an eye on overtime parkers.

Called "meter maids," they will patrol streets in the business district and report overtime meter violations to police.

King and Prince Take Refuge in Common Inn

LONDON (AP)—Prince Philip and young Prince Charles took refuge in a three-bedroom fishermen's inn over the weekend when their own hunting lodge got flooded.

Britain's 10-year-old future king, his father and several friends were shooting wild fowl on the Norfolk Broads.

The party planned to stay at luxurious Whiteslea Lodge, but on arrival Friday night, they found a foot of water in the bedrooms.

They went on to the nearby Pleasure Boat Inn, a calling place for hunters and fishermen.

Camel outsells every other cigarette for 10th straight year

Latest published cigarette sales figures* prove that Camel continues its 10-year leadership over every other cigarette—every filter, every king-size, every regular. The reason is clear: Camel's costly blend of Turkish and domestic tobaccos has never been equalled. No other cigarette brings you the rich flavor, the easygoing mildness, the comfort of Camels. Today as always, the best tobacco makes the best smoke.

*Compiled for 1958 by Harry M. Wootten, the tobacco industry's foremost authority on cigarette sales.

Have a real cigarette—have a CAMEL

Bob Considine Says:

Space Vocabulary Getting to Be Mouthful

NEW YORK—When INS went away, as we say, one of our top fellows, Marvin Stone, who was Far Eastern bureau chief, went back to school.

He is now on a Fellowship at Columbia studying how to write science fact. Science fact is not only stranger than science fiction, it's tougher to write.

Mad Marv, we called him. Going back to school! But hold . . .

There was a time, and not too long ago, when a bloke in my business would open up his mail and the heaviest-domed matter that would fall out would be a note from a publicity man revealing exclusively that Max, the bartender-proprietor of Max's Silver Dollar Saloon, was actually Maximiliam Feodorovich Kasmiriwicz, late of the Polish Cossacks.

That's gone. The darndest things pop out now. No fool he, Stone. Marvel Marv, we now call him.

To wit:

Republic Aviation has just issued a glossary of astronautical terms without which we will soon not be able to communicate with one another.

Samples:

Abort—The failure of a rocket or missile to function properly.

Ablation—Melting of nose cone materials during re-entry of space ships or vehicles into the earth's atmosphere at hypersonic speeds.

Apogee—The point farthest from earth in the orbit of a missile or satellite. (Perigee—The point closest, etc.)

Auntie—Anti-missile missile. The anti-missile missile missile will be known as grand auntie.

Biosphere—In which you live, dope.

Cislunar—Space between earth and moon.

Doppler effect—Radio frequency changes as a missile moves toward or away from target.

Emissivity—The ability of a surface to effect thermal radiation.

GOP VOICE — Mrs. Vera Glasser of St. Louis has been named director of public relations for the Women's Division of the Republican National Committee. She was formerly on the staff of Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich).

Free Radical—A crazy, mixed-up bit of an atom.

Gantry—Not Elmer. A supporting scaffolding for missiles.

Hypersonic—Nothing to shoot into your arm. It means speeds beyond Mach 5. Mach 5? That's 3,800 m.p.h. at sea level, as every schoolgirl knows.

Isostatic—Out of this world? Nope. Means "under equal pressure from every side," like a guy on a defaulted note.

Light Year—The year the option wasn't taken up? Naw. Means the distance light can travel in a year—lousy 6,000 billion miles.

Lox—No, no, no. Short for liquid oxygen.

Oxidizer—Don't try it as a detergent. It's fuel for a "biopropellant-rocket," whatever that is.

Parsec—The equivalent of 3.26 light years, stupid.

Reaction motor—Ham Fish's old car for sale? Not a bit. An engine which expels a stream of moving particles.

Sensible atmosphere—A change of tone in the UN peace talks? Well, not exactly. It refers to something you can feel and offers resistance. Which is enough of that!

Stol—Short takeoff and landings, like from a bar.

Umbilical Cord—Imagine. It now means "any one of the servicing fluid or electrical lines connecting a rocket or missile with the ground units. It is quickly detached at launching time." Good.

Weightlessness—What they promise you after taking all the pills, normally, but in the "spatial age" it means "the absence of any apparent gravitational pull on an object."

Zip Fuel—Save your stolen money, you cunning little thugs of the Jet Gang. This ain't no ammo for rumbles, see? Just high-energy jet engine fuel.

Clancy's Cozy Gin Mill? Where I'm going. He's got a cold 20-to-1 martini on the launching pad. Thirty thousand pounds thrust. Start the count-down.

Man Puts Up Wife as Security for Loan

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI) —Rennie Thomas, 47, sought new ways to raise a loan today after a dozen pawnbrokers declined to lend him $56 with his wife as security.

Mrs. Thomas, 41, the mother of four children, said she had planned to repay the loan by cooking, washing and cleaning for the pawnbroker. She said the idea was as much hers as her husband's.

Ike's Message Faces Issues

President DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER's annual message to Congress on the current state of the union produces a wide variety of reactions just as nearly all Presidential messages do.

Democrats yawned.

Of course, the Democrats are paid to disparage and the GOP is committed to support. And there's some justification for both. Sharp critics of ANYTHING can stifle an actual physical yawn or do so symbolically on almost anything you do. On the other hand, it's equally true that there is real cause for enthusiasm over some of the President's pronouncements.

He speaks of the fact that we enter 1959 on an upward economic trend and this has not been true for the past few years. This is definite cause for rejoicing, whatever the party. And his present observation is based on the facts and figures and not on faith and trust.

He asks Congress to "cut the cost of Government" which he says will be possible under the budget he will submit shortly. If the Democrats yawn at this, they do so with a clear understanding and full knowledge of their own intent, for they control Congress and this objective can only be achieved with their support.

The taxpayers want it.

That's for sure.

And this applies to the smallest and the largest and includes every last, Tom, Dick and Harriet in between. Ask your best friends — or your worst enemy—and see.

Once again, the President faces integration in the South. He pledges to uphold the law as promulgated by the Supreme Court and states he will bend every effort to bring about equal and joint schooling for whites and blacks. This will bring a resounding blast from the rock-ribbed Democratic states in the South which have no such intention and which are dedicated to keeping the colored people as isolated and segregated as they can.

Make no mistake about that.

The President asked for action by the committee on the matter of "corruption, racketeering and abuse of powers and trust" in the administration of union affairs. This committee was controlled by the Democrats in the last Congress and the whole thing was bottled up by those in control. Eisenhower wants the group to become active in 1959.

The question of inflation was touched upon and again labor and management were asked to hold down price advances. He suggested a committee for "price stability" but this newspaper holds little hope for any definite results unless the Government proposes to institute a freeze of some sort on everything.

He asks new farm legislation to cut Government outlays in agriculture price supports and this will be a hotly disputed question, whenever and wherever it appears.

The President warns against the frightful costs of an armament race. This SINGLE DIVISION of Government takes more than half of all the tax dollars you pay. In other words, were all defense to be scrapped, income taxes could be cut more than fifty per cent. It's unthinkable, but it shows the tremendous cost that the constant Russian threat is inflicting upon the taxpayers of this country.

By and large we feel the President has faced the issues of the times squarely. He hasn't avoided the disputatious issues or skirted around the edges of controversial matters. He lived up to the demands of the office.

THE Pilgrims have been thoroughly debunked in a current magazine article, and now one wonders if we haven't been taking that tale about the Plymouth Rock for granite.

A "WOLF" that is probably most obnoxious to girls is the one that has lost his "fangs."

Bird Feeders Report Much Pleasure and Satisfaction

Straight: What the drunk driver goes only when the road curves.

The sunflower seeds and cracked corn at the bird feeder of

of Sylvan Lake, find daily patrons in a flock of evening grosbeaks. The male is yellow, with black and white wings, and nearly the size of a starling, suggestive of an overgrown goldfinch.

The sparrows outwit the blue jays in a strategic manner at the bird feeding board of

of Birmingham. Of course the jays try to hog the whole menu, and easily drive the sparrows away. But a pair of the latter will pester the jays into flying after them for some distance—while dozens of other sparrows gorge themselves. Then a new pair takes over.

"Our squirrels are thrifty and saving," phones of Rochester, who says a pair who still have several bushels of nuts and acorns stored under their garage floor, now try to steal all of their food from her bird feeder.

"If you think the robins go south in winter, you should put out something for them to eat when the ground is covered with snow," phones of Lake Orion, who says she counts 20 or more every day.

A tame canary that escaped from the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Coulter

of Walled Lake last fall, has returned in a badly bedraggled condition — but sings better than ever before.

There's sorrow in the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Roswell of Keego Harbor. Their parakeet escaped the other night, and its frozen body was found on their front steps less than an hour later.

A rather unique suggestion comes from

of Waterford, who writes, "Why not drive out this cold weather by starting your baseball contest?"

More Texas weather news comes from

who writes that his car radiator was OK until he reached that state, when it froze up.

But Look Who'd Be Holding the Key

David Lawrence Says:

Ike's Message Tells Off Russia

WASHINGTON—The most sensational section of President Eisenhower's address to Congress last Friday seems not to have made the big headlines in many newspapers in this region.

LAWRENCE

Yet the fact that he said what he did, particularly while Anastas Mikoyan is in this country, can hardly be without considerable significance, especially to the men in the Kremlin—if they really care to learn what is actually blocking a Soviet-American understanding today.

For the President's statement was perhaps the strongest declaration about the Soviet Union made by any President of the United States since the close of World War II. Here are Mr. Eisenhower's exact words:

"We cannot build peace through desire alone. Moreover, we have learned the bitter lesson that international agreements, historically considered by us as sacred, are regarded in Communist doctrine and in practice to be mere scraps of paper. The most recent proof of their disdain of international obligations, solemnly undertaken, is their announced intention to abandon their responsibilities respecting Berlin.

"As a consequence, we can have no confidence in any treaty to which Communists are a party except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-enforcing mechanisms. Indeed, the demonstrated disregard of the Communists of their own pledges is one of the greatest obstacles to success in substituting the rule of law for rule by force."

This is the most severe indictment of the Communists that any Western government has made in recent years. On top of it has just come nevertheless a grandiose proposal from Moscow that peace talks over the Berlin issue be held with the 28 governments allied in the last war.

It's the same old game of presenting in a spectacular manner to the world the picture of a Soviet government supposedly anxious to talk peace and make peace. But there's no evidence that the Communist regime will respect whatever written agreement may be consummated.

President Eisenhower realizes, of course, that the United States, to satisfy world opinion, must exhibit a constant willingness to talk. He adds, therefore, in his message:

"Yet, step by step, we must strengthen the institutions of peace —a peace that rests upon justice— a peace that depends upon a deep knowledge and clear understanding by all peoples, including our own, of the causes and possible consequences of failure in this great purpose."

So, with no reliance to be placed on the word of the perfidious Communist regime, the real chance for a change in the whole picture may have to come through economic pressures from western Europe that will eventually cause a successful uprising inside the Soviet Union and the captive countries contiguous to it.

Only when a free government emerges in Moscow, whose word can be trusted, will "the world be made safe for democracy." The principle is as sound today as when President Wilson expounded it in his war message of April 1917.

The Country Parson

"When folks tell me they enjoyed the sermon, I ask God to forgive my ineffectiveness and let me have another chance at them."

Dr. William Brady Says:

To Be Labeled 'Square' Is a Mark of Character

"My friends all think I am a square," writes a Midwest reader, "and tell me pop" (the reader names a popular brand of colored, sweetened carbonated beverage) "will ruin my stomach. Do you consider three bottles a week too much?"

DR. BRADY

The reader's friends think he is a square because he is a teetotaler. Now there's a line there somewhere beyond which the reader's befuddled friends should not be permitted to go. It may be that they they wouldn't think of going beyond the line when they are not under the influence of the narcotic.

When they call him a square he should either call them nitwits or remove himself from their company.

A good many teenage boys and girls become drinkers because they haven't enough character to say "No, thank you." Especially when they are in the company of older or more adventurous ones who have already learned to drink.

What they need in such situations but rarely have nowadays is the strength one gets by taking the pledge, solemnly promising parent, pastor, teacher or anyone he or she respects not to use alcohol or tobacco before he or she is 21.

A man prominent in public life in Washington necessarily attends many social functions. He says he is an abstainer. But does he say "No, thank you" when he is invited to drink at the party or when the host or an attendant seeks to replenish his glass? No, he fills his glass with pop upon arriving and carries the nearly full glass about with him to indicate that he is drinking.

He hasn't enough character to say "No, thank you," and he feels no concern about the example he makes for young persons who readily believe that any one who doesn't drink is a square."

Drinking people who regard one who doesn't drink as a square belong in the psychopathic category of young punks who call the boy or girl who boggles at any of their horrible adventures "chicken." I don't know just when these terms acquired their present significance but I remember that an earlier generation was actuated by the same principles or lack of them.

"I am 33 and my hair is turning gray. Can you advise me how to keep my hair from getting gray?" (J. F. W.)

Answer — Many readers have reported that the iodin ration has even restored some of the natural color to their hair. For the pamphlet The Iodin Ration send self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Even Dogs Learn, Transmit Fear

Notice how Fritz developed his intense phobia. And then see how he passed it along by contagion to the other dogs in the neighborhood. CASE A - 425: Fritz, aged 13, is a collie dog who lives across the road from our farm home in Indiana.

DR. CRANE

He belongs to Uncle Vick and one day the lightning struck a tree beside my uncle's house.

Fritz was lying nearby and apparently felt a shock from the lightning. Ever since then he has been terrified whenever a thunderstorm is brewing.

Long before the lightning begins to flash, he becomes panicky and whines to be let inside the house, though he is an outdoor dog.

Then he tries to hide under my uncle's bed. If he is left outside until the storm actually begins, he will race over to our house and beg to be let indoors.

Fritz thus has a justifiable dread of thunder and lightning, for he once suffered a jolt when struck.

FEARS ARE CONTAGIOUS

But now notice what happens to the other dogs, who haven't been "stung" by lightning at all.

Belle, who lives at the corner and belongs to 96-year-old Grandpa Miller, is also terrified by thunder and lightning.

She also runs inside the house and hides under the bed during a thunderstorm.

And our two dogs — Sandy and Botch — likewise are scared and demand to be let inside the house when a storm is brewing. They, too, try to jump into my lap if I am seated or tremble and press against my leg when I am standing.

Yet they have never had any unpleasant firsthand experience with lightning.

No, they simply learned to dread a thunderstorm because they caught their fear by contagion from Fritz!

Terror is thus contagious, but so is courage! So it behooves parents to set a POSITIVE example before their children, even if they themselves are secretly scared.

Put up a bold front. At least ACT brave, for the sake of your youngsters, or you may fetter them throughout their entire lives by foisting on them an abnormal phobia of snakes or mice or lightning or water or childbirth or dentists or any other dread that obsesses mama and daddy.

"Keep your fears to yourself," said Robert Louis Stevenson, "but share your courage with others."

That is psychologically sound! Let your children memorize it as a helpful gem. And you parents should paste it on the bathroom mirror so you are reminded every day to set a good spiritual example.

When Captain Cook first set foot on some of the islands in the Pacific, he found the birds so tame that he and his men could knock them over with sticks.

But after a few gunshots at the birds, the latter became fearful. Years later, travelers found the birds still afraid of mankind, even though the parent birds had died in the interval.

For the terror that Captain Cook's men originally engendered, had been passed along from mother bird to her fledgling and thus had served as a cultural heritage.

Many parents likewise pass along a racial or religious or even a political bias to their children which may color the latter's lives for generations.

Beware about foisting your negative attitudes on your youngsters! Instead, give them a POSITIVE outlook.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Let's Wake Up and Fight for Our Greatest Heritage'

Advocate says we don't need communism in the U.S. but a great dose of socialism would certainly help. I guess he must like high taxes, because that's the only thing socialism can give us. It's just common sense that every time we ask the Government (and that's no one but ourselves) for something, our taxes must go up.

Besides, when the Government does it, it deprives tax-paying free enterprise from doing it, so we not only spend our tax money foolishly, but deprive ourselves of additional tax money. It's a proven fact free enterprise can usually do the same job for less money.

Socialism is just one step closer to communism, and that would really make the Russians happy. Let's wake up, Americans, and fight for the one thing that made this country the greatest in the world — FREE ENTERPRISE.

Young, Modern American

Parents Discuss Education Funds

In reply to pay-as-you-go school plan, it would be wonderful if possible, but we never ask if more money will help out!!

We have paid taxes for quite a few years and just now one of our children will soon enter school. Some way should be figured out whereby all families of school children pay taxes. Then the full burden wouldn't rest on just a few families. The greater percentage of property owners don't at present have any interest in schools unless they have little ones in school.

Another reason taxpayers are against increasing the school system is that the architects seem to dream up such fantastic creations. If schools were built of more simple design and the children taught more fundamentals, the general public would probably be all out for more and better schools.

Taxpayer and Mother of 3

In the near future we in Waterford will be asked to approve another four million for new schools. We realize we must provide proper educational facilities for those of school age and demand we receive full value for our tax dollars.

I suggest we form a citzens committee or league as has been done in other areas with excellent results to work toward better education. We can't sit and let the chips fall where they may. As individuals our suggestions or complaints fall on deaf ears, but as a united organization, we can accomplish many things.

We must take an active interest. Noted educators are appealing to parents to become active in a program for better education. Let's get the ball rolling in Waterford. Can we hear from others?

Raises Questions About Proposal

Despite the singular aspects of his proposal, it's believed Dr. Kevorkian is acting in good faith and is desirous of observing high standards of ethics associated with his profession.

However, wouldn't a practice of that nature result in a weak link in the golden chain of trust that now exists between physician and patient, who believes a doctor is sworn to support life to the best of his means and ability? God gives life and He takes it. Although only condemned criminals and volunteers would be used, even capital punishment is debatable, so how can the medical profession accept this procedure without some mental reservation?

Sometimes an innocent victim is condemned. Can the medical profession accept the laws of man which are subject to error and gamble with the possible outright violation of the professional oath and also the Fifth Commandment? Even suicide cannot be justified in the eyes of God.

This isn't intended to discount the doctor's proposal as being cruel inhuman and ungodly. There is merit to every suggestion that can be applied constructively and ethically. It's believed the proposal can stand a cross census of public opinion and further discussion among members of the medical profession.

She Phones Friends on Sun Rises

ROBERTSON, Ga. (UPI)—When the dawn comes up like thunder, Mrs. Paul Westmoreland Sr. grabs the telephone. "This is Bea," she says. "Go look at the sun." Then she hangs up.

A beautiful sunrise is a delight to Mrs. Westmoreland. For years she has been calling friends, on the more spectacular mornings, to let them share her hobby.

She doesn't bother those whose view is cut off by nearby mountains, Mrs. Westmoreland says. "But when I know folks have an open view, and I'm sure they're the kind to appreciate it, then I call right away."

How do the neighbors react to the calls? "They look forward to them," she says. Her reason for calling: "I know what it means to get a lift like that early in the morning."

Reds Report Rocket Now in Sun Orbit

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's new cosmic rocket has steered itself past the moon and into orbit around the sun, Pravda reported today.

The Communist party newspaper, in a two page article on interplanetary flight, said the missile launched Jan. 2 utilized an automatic guidance system which kept it on a predetermined trajectory and regulated its final speed.

The Soviet rocket was launched vertically from a point in the Soviet Union, said Pravda, then entered its assigned trajectory under its own selfcontained guidance system.

With the lengthy scientific article — which disclosed no additional details of the rocket itself or the site of its blast-of — Pravda published a series of photographs and charts on its latest space entry.

Hal Boyle Says:

Today's Roads Are Saltier Than the Food

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

This has been a great decade for hypochondriacs. Eighty new viruses affecting the human system were discovered in the last 10 years. And did you know 750 million prescriptions now are filled yearly in the United States?

In ancient days salt was an expensive luxury. Now more salt is sprinkled on icy roads in America than is used on food.

Ever wonder about the milkman's job?. Well, the average milkman covers 25 miles a day, makes 125 stops, and delivers 500 containers.

Apt definition: "Tact," says Grace Downs, operator of an air hostess school, "is the ability to make a point without making an enemy."

Tip for housewives: if you place a shoebox top in the bottom of your shopping bag, the bag won't tip over every time you set it down.

During World War II, Americans joked at British fondness for tea breaks. Now more than 60 per cent of U.S. industrial workers have coffee breaks on the job.

Speaking of tea, did you know there are 3,000 varieities of this brew?. Like French wines, they are named for the districts where they are grown.

The high cost of loving: "Few things today," says Shannon Fife, "are more expensive than a girl who is free for dinners."

If your dog has an annoying habit of gnawing your slippers or biting his own nails in public, you can cure him by giving him a new canine chewing gum. The seven-inch-long sticks are beef flavored and won't stick to dog, rug, or furniture.

Another new product: a German physician has developed a pill made of yeast and plant extracts which he claims will keep you sober no matter how heavily you drink. Who on earth would want a pill like that?

Odd ruling: if a member of your family has a bad heart and you buy him a special reclining chair, it is tax deductible—but only if the rest of the family stays out of the chair. If a guy from the Internal Revenue Service calls at your home, don't let him sit in it either!

In some Middle European countries during the 18th century, according to a historical study by the Bon Ami Institute, matrimony held an unusual reward. After marriage a girl no longer had to bathe. Some women today believe a wedding ring gives them the right to show up at breakfast in a sloppy robe and wearing their yesterday's face.

A recent survey of 5,000 American husbands showed that three out of four help their wives with housecleaning chores.

The young generation: "Many a teenager has driving ambition," points out actor Walter Slezak. "That's why their parents have to hide the keys to the family car."

Life-is-so-unfair-to-men note: a man is considered medically obese if his fat exceeds 20 per cent of his body weight; but a woman isn't regarded as obese unless she is more than 25 per cent fat.

It was Ralph Waldo Emerson who observed: "For every thing you have missed, you have gained something else; and for every thing you gain, you lose something."

Ike Plans Series of Short Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reportedly plans a series of short, fighting fireside talks to appeal directly to the public for support of his legislative program during the next two years.

Eisenhower has told close associates the battle he will wage for his program will be the most energetic since he was elected.

The President and Vice President Nixon have agreed to the direct appeal, hurdling the heavily Democratic Congress.

Eienhower's 15-minute television-radio messages, it was disclosed over the weekend, will deal with the cost of living, adequacy of space and defense programs and other key issues as they come up in Congress.

Houston Negro Takes School Board Seat

HOUSTON (AP)—A negro house wife takes her place on the Houston School Board tonight, the first Negro elected to public office here since Reconstruction days.

Mrs. Charles E. White, wife of an optometrist, will be sworn in on the new board composed of four women and three men.

She polled some 36,000 votes to about 29,000 for the white incumbent, Dr. John Glen, in an election last November.

Houston, the largest school system still segregated in the South, has about 160,000 students enrolled.

Freud's Grandson Urged to Get Psychoanalyzed

LONDON (UPI) — A judge has advised the grandson of psychoanalyst Sigmund Freud to get psychoanalyzed.

Magistrate Frank Powell fined Lucien Freud, 36, an artist, five pounds ($14) for careless driving and one pound ($2.80) for failing to give a pedestrian right-of-way at a crossing.

"I think you are temperamentally unfitted to drive a car," Powell told him. "I think you ought to see a psychiatrist. Having regard to your name, I think you will see the point of that."

The cold is murderous, the air is shot with deadly cosmic rays and the low pressure problems are out of this world. . .

How do we know? From the kind of signals sent back to earth by a special radio transmitter inside the satellite. Two Bell Telephone inventions are being used in American satellites. Both of these inventions were developed to improve your telephone service.

One of the devices is the transistor . . . a mighty mite, no bigger than a bean, that amplifies the radio signals. Transistors, which are used in certain types of telephones, obviously make the most of the very limited space inside our satellites.

The other telephone invention is the solar battery. First used experimentally to power a telephone line in a rural area, it is now supplying power for the radio in one of our satellites. Or, to be more accurate, it is drawing power from the sun, so that it remains active many months after ordinary batteries are lifeless.

The transistor and the solar battery are small in size but huge in importance. The Bell Telephone research that produced them is constantly seeking new ways to keep your telephone service the best in the world.

Michigan Negro to Test Airline

Will Enter Next Class for Pilot Training, May Set Precedent

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado Anti - Discrimination Commission says a Negro aviator from Michigan has advised he intends to enter Continental Airlines' next pilot training class.

If successful, he would become the airline's first Negro pilot and presumably the first to be employed by a major U.S. airline.

The word came from Marlon D. Green, 29, of Lansing, Mich., a former Air Force captain and now a pilot for the Michigan Highway Dept.

The commission ruled last month that the Denver-based airline was "guilty of a discriminatory and unfair employment practice" in its earlier refusal to hire the Negro.

It ordered Continental to process Green's application for acceptance as a co-pilot trainee.

The agency said Green appeared better qualified than any applicant interviewed by Continental at the time Green applied.

Skilled Operator, at 2, of Junior-Size Tractor

TROY, Ala. (AP) — Dan Thompson is only a little over two years old but he's a skilled opperator of a junior-sized tractor.

Dan's hero is Cecil Parks, Pike County's champion teen-aged tractor driver, so on Dan's second birthday his father, Ira Thompson, gave the lad a little tractor he had made out of a lawn mower engine and scrap metal.

Now Dan's busy practicing for the time when he drive a big one in a contest.

Next Envoy to Cuba May Be Career Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — The next United States ambassador to Cuba probably will be a career diplomat, diplomatic sources indicated today.

Earl E. T. Smith, who had been in disfavor with Fidel Castro's revolutionary movement, resigned Saturday as American ambassador to Cuba.

The resignation came unexpectedly, only a few days after Smith had returned to Havana from a series of State Department consultations here.

West Germany Needs 7,000 More Teachers

BERLIN—West Germany has a serious teacher shortage, with 7,000 teaching positions unfilled. About 224,000 teachers are employed full-time at present, 100,000 of them in private schools, about 40 per cent of the teachers are women. Half the teachers are over age 45.

About 22,000 more classrooms are needed; an average classroom costs $24,000. Since 1954 about $24 000,000 has been spent on classroom construction.

Starlings Cure: Owls, Falcons to Scare 'Em Out

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Robert Matthews, engineer and wild life enthusiast, has recommended that the Springfield City Council purchase two dozen hoot owls and a like number of falcons to chase the starlings from downtown roofs.

The Illinois State Journal, reporting Matthews' idea, said: "At dusk one of the owls would be let out to frighten the starlings away, and the other owl kept in the cage to entice its mate back when its starling elimination job is completed.

"The falcons would be used by policemen patrolling the streets about an hour before sunset.

"The falcons could be trained, according to Matthews, to sweep down upon the starlings and scare them from the vicinity, after which they could return to their perches upon the officers arms.

Matthews pointed out that this would eliminate coating the window sills and ledges of buildings with a sticky chemical compound, which was credited with chasing the starlings off the state house.

Tuesday Musicale to Hear Richardsons

Dramatic Sequence on Schumann Set

John and Florence Richardson, concert artists from East Lansing, will make their first appearance before members of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church.

They will present an original musical dramatic interpretation entitled "Robert and Clara: Romantic Duo." The program is based on the life and works of the composer Robert Schumann.

Both pianists, the Richardsons are noted for their unique programs on the lives of composers. Through a series of dramatic sequences, both solo and duo, the couple projects the mood of the music performed.

The Schumann program is one in a series which they have created on famous composers. In preparing these programs, the Richardsons have spent time in Europe, visiting the shrines of the musicians.

While abroad for a sabbatical year, they studied in Germany with the late concert pianist Walter Gieseking. This fall they returned from a summer of study and concert work in England.

Mr. Richardson is a member of the piano faculty of Michigan State University and is a graduate of Yale University and New England Conservatory of Music.

Mrs. Richardson is a graduate of Olivet College and the University of Michigan. She is a former member of the faculty of Michigan State University.

It's Hard to Use a Razor on Flying Fur

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister (very bossy) told me she was giving our 14-year-old daughter an electric razor for Christmas. I told her I'd rather she didn't because we didn't allow our daughter to shave her legs yet. She said, 'It's high time you did. She looks like a baboon.' I ignored the remark and sure enough at Christmas our daughter received the electric razor. Now she is begging us to let her use it. Do you think it was right of this sister-in-law to give our child a gift she knew we disapproved of?"

ABBY

VERY ANGRY

DEAR VERY: Your sister-in-law used very poor judgment. Put the shaver away and don't bring it out (or mention it) unless you want to see the fur fly.

"DEAR ABBY: Our son, 28, is the heartbreak of our lives. We brought him up in our church, which he never fully accepted. For 10 years he cast around investigating this religion and that. He studied Greek and Hebrew in order to translate the original scriptures. He finally decided to dedicate his life to teaching the religion he calls the only 'true' religion. He has drifted away from his family, and we feel that we have lost our son. Is there any consolation for parents such as we?"

INCONSOLABLE

DEAR INCONSOLABLE: A great philosopher said: "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music he hears, however measured, or far away."

"DEAR ABBY: Have you lost your mind? Say listen, Sister, when an 8-year-old kid uses dirty words you do not IGNORE him—you do what my mother did to me. You wash his mouth out with soap. Now will you retract your advice and print mine instead?"

OLD-TIMER

DEAR OLD: No soap. You're outta lux!

"DEAR ABBY: First of all I want to say that I am 38 years old and single. I have been going with this future husband of mine for 10 years. Everything that could possibly come up between two people to postpone a marriage has happened to us. Fights, sickness, bills, problems with his family, and even a paternity suit which he won, but it cost him a lot just to prove his innocence. Well, he is 42, and his latest reason for not marrying me is that he thinks we are TOO OLD to get married. He says I'm too old to have my own children and the adoption agencies won't favor us at this age, so without children, what's the sense of getting married? Should I drop him after 10 years or keep going with him, hoping he'll break down?"

TIRED OF WAITING

DEAR TIRED: You will "break down" before he does. This man is allergic to orange blossoms. If it's marriage you're after, lose him while you're still under 40 and look further.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DIXIE: You were not PATRIOTIC—you were IDIOTIC. Did you at least get his name, rank and serial number?

How to Get Along With That Man

By RUTH MILLETT

To get along with men, a woman has to know at least this much:

Every time she wins an argument with a man she loses a little of his admiration for her as a woman.

There are a few things a man doesn't enjoy being kidded about; his hair if it is receding; his helplessness in the face of a balky car or leaky faucet; and his making a big deal out of a small illness.

The surest way of making a man wonder if he really does love you is to insist he doesn't.

The more a woman talks the less attention a man pays to what she says.

It is just asking for trouble to persuade a man to do something for you and then to stand around giving him directions and offering suggestions and criticisms.

While a man may not be entirely satisfied with his job he doesn't want to have his wife belittle it.

All bad news should be saved for a husband until after he has finished a good dinner and had time to put his mind at rest.

Few men like to be asked what they want for dinner—especially at the breakfast table.

It is as insulting to a man to have a woman question his ability to judge character as it is for a woman to have a man question her taste or her social savvy.

No matter how often she has heard her husband tell a funny story, a wife must laugh as heartily as though she were hearing it for the first time.

If she doesn't intend to take a man's advice she shouldn't ask for it, for it riles a man to have a woman consider his opinion and then overrule his decision.

Every time she says "I" instead of "we" a woman is actually pushing her husband into the background.

Probe Chicago Paper Merger

Combining Sun-Times With Daily News May Violate Anti-Trust Laws

CHICAGO (AP)—A multimillion dollar transaction which reduced the number of Chicago daily newspublishing groups from three to two is under routine investigation by the government's Anti-Trust Division.

Field Enterprises, Inc., headed by Marshall Field Jr., editor and publisher of the Chicago Sun-Times, bought a controlling interest Monday in the Chicago Daily News, headed by John S. Knight.

The purchase price was not announced, but Field offered to buy minority holdings at $50 a share. At that price purchase of all News stock would cost 24 million dollars.

Earl A. Jinkinson, chief of the Chicago office of the Department of Justice Antitrust Division, said Friday he had requested information on the details of the transaction. He added the request is routine in most cases.

Purchase details are needed to determine possible violations of Section 7 of the Clayton Act prohibiting "acquisition of one company by another when such acquisition will create a monopoly or tend to lessen competition," Jinkinson said.

With the transaction, publication of Chicago's four major dailies now is directed by two organizations. The morning Tribune owns the afternoon American. The Sun-Times competes with the Tribune in the morning field and, through The News, with The American in the afternoon.

Pollution Threat Ends as Oil Well Capped

JONESVILLE (AP)—An oil well which ran out of control and threatened to pollute the St. Joseph River was capped over the weekend by conservation officers and drillers.

State Police said they anticipated no further trouble with the well.

The well, on the Fern Housenecht farm north of here, went out of control Friday when a control valve broke. It splattered the countryside for nearly half a mile around the farm with oil, mud and water before it was capped Saturday.

Woman, 2 Sons Drown as Car Falls Into Creek

GUNTERSVILLE, Ala. (UPI)—A woman and her two small sons drowned last night when a blowout sent the family car careening into a creek.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Flora Alice Gentry, 28, and her sons, Dalton N. Jr., 2 and James Davis, 10 months. The woman's husband, Dalton N. Gentry, 31, managed to free himself from the car in 12 feet of water and swim ashore.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A blonde widow, waltzing at a lonely hearts party, collapsed in her partner's arms and died minutes later Sunday night.

Cleveland Vice Probe Opens

Police, Fire Department, Runaway Girl, 15, Said Linked in Scandal

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Police launched an intensive investigation today within their own ranks in a vice scandal allegedly involving the police and fire departments and a 15-year-old runaway girl.

Police Chief Frank Story said he would consult with the prosecutor regarding the issuance of warrants. He said the investigation of the girl's story might take several days.

He said she was unable to give names in every case, but was able to give accurate descriptions of the places where she allegedly met members of the two departments.

Rookie patrolman James W. Kelly, 24, was stripped of his badge and jailed after signing a statement admitting he had shared a room with the girl last October.

An entire platoon of one fire department engine house was placed in a lineup for identification by the girl. Among those accused were four firemen, three patrolmen, a civilian ambulance driver and a suburban police chief.

The girl, from a suburban Euclid family, and Carl Galipo, 21, whom police said admitted acting as the girl's procurer, told of their activities yesterday.

The girl's parents said they had spent $6,000 on medical and psychiatric care for their daughter since 1956. They said she had run away before but had not been guilty of such immoral behavior.

Inspector Michael Blackwell, in charge of the uniformed force, pledged a full investigation, saying, "We don't care who this hurts."

Sad Dane Asks Space Ride to Cure Woes

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—A lonely, bitter Copenhagen carpenter, brooding over a broken marriage, says he has applied for a seat on the first manned Soviet space rocket because life on earth has no promise for him.

"Why not try in space?" Boerge L. Jensen, 45, asked.

Jensen said he sent his application to Moscow a year ago. A reply he said was signed by Premier Nikita Khrushchev acknowledged the application but said Soviet citizens would have priority.

Spanish Flood Toll 153, Still Mounting

ZAMORA, Spain (AP)—The toll of dead and missing in the Riva-delago flood has reached 153 and still is not complete. Most of the victims were old men, women and children.

Phone Answering Service Combines Drama, Humor

By DICK SAUNDERS

There are a number of dedicated Pontiac women who leave work each day with their bosses' orders literally "ringing in their ears."

They get their orders from a telephone.

The Pontiac Branch of the Telephone Answering Service, Inc., 15½ W. Lawrence St., is where they work.

The switchboard lights up on an average of 1,500 times in each 24-hour period. Most of the calls are received during the day, emergency calls usually coming at night.

This works out to roughly 10,000 or more calls a week for the firm's customers, who number about 200.

The customers can be almost anyone. They cover nearly 30 different classifications, from construction companies to those offering services or repair work, doctors and other professional men.

The answering service, owned and operated by John Engerson, of 17139 Kirkshire St., Birmingham, is set up to fit the customers needs, no matter how simple or how complex.

Some use the service as a substitute for an expensive rented office and secretarial staff. Their mail is addressed to the office, the operators take all calls as though they were employes of the customer's firm—and in a way they are.

In many cases, operators do more than they're asked or paid to do.

One afternoon a light flashed on a Detroit answering board over a jack marked "elevator." The operator found herself talking to a terrified man who said he was calling from inside a self-service elevator which had stopped between floors in a nearly deserted building. Three women were also in the elevator.

"Our men will be there right away," said the operator. She flipped a switch, pulled out a file card before her, and sent mechanics to the rescue.

For the next hour or so in between other calls she continued to talk to the people in the elevator. She offered to relay messages, reported the score of a ballgame in progress at Briggs Stadium, and even told jokes. When the four were freed, they were laughing.

An area operator answering for Alcoholics Anonymous, a wide user of the service, once held a desperate man on the line until a member of the organization could reach him.

Engerson now has three Detroit offices, as well as offices in Pontiac, Birmingham and Royal Oak. At one time he was a school teacher and real estate man.

His idea wasn't due to a brainstorm as much as a "rainstorm." When, in 1928, a frozen water pipe burst in his Detroit home at 3 a.m., the thought came to him during his frustration of trying to reach a repair man.

The service is made possible through the use of actual extensions of the subscribers' own telephone, whether at work or at home, or both.

"Our girls are seemingly always between life and death situations," says Engerson. "Doctors are our biggest customers and I'm glad to say we've helped many professional men live longer by relieving the strain of phone calls."

A night operator who was a registered nurse and a mother of three once gave instructions to a frantic husband in Redford as his wife gave birth to a baby.

When the doctor, an ambulance and police arrived moments later there was little for them to do. The baby, mother, husband and operator had survived the ordeal with flying colors.

An area doctor's son suffered an attack of acute appendicitis at school one day but the doctor couldn't be located as it was his day off. The fast working operator sent an ambulance to the school to transport the lad to a hospital.

She then located another doctor listed by the boy's father, arranging for him to meet the boy at the hospital. After trying several places for the father, she found him at a restaurant where he and his wife frequently dined on his day off.

The boy's father didn't arrive in time to perform the appendectomy, but his alternate handled the operation successfully and he was waiting for his son when they brought him from the operating room.

Operators must use tact and many show moments of good humor that catch their customers by surprise and give them an opportunity to relax.

A fine example of this was an area operator who had handled calls almost constantly all day for an obstetrician who was literally swamped with expectant mothers who all decided to have their babies the same day.

When the operator made her last call to him he was sitting exhausted in his office. She inormed him that another of his patients was on her way to the hospital and he exploded, chiding the operator for having hounded him all day.

"If this goes any further I'll have to hire an assistant," he shouted. The operator's small voice replied, "Why, doctor, it seems you have all the men in the neighborhood working for you already." The doctor was still roaring with laughter when he hung up.

Operators, too, have "favorite" stories about themselves. They will tell you about one of their fellow workers who took a call for a private family named Smith and was asked, "How is Danny?"

"Oh, he's out right now," she said cheerily, "but can I have him call you?"

"If you can," replied the voice, "it will really be something. Danny is the Smith's cocker spaniel."

In Detroit a woman told an answering operator, "I want the oil burner man who was out here last Friday night." Informed he was unavailable, she persisted. The woman finally explained, "Well, he kissed me and I want him back again tonight."

In one of Broadway's hits last year, "Bells Are Ringing," which starred Judy Holliday, the plot was built around the telephone answering service idea.

Miss Holliday hits the nail on the head with one of her lines, "Take Romeo and Juliet. If they had had a telephone answering service, those kids would be alive today!"

CARNIVAL RIDE? — No, it's not a device for entertainment that's pictured above, but rather a new bed at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital designed to promote the health and comfort of patients. Operated electrically, the new-type bed with its hoop-like frame can adjust itself into virtually any position demanded by the patient's medical condition, said Harry H. Whitlow, hospital administrator. Miss Meebe Terry, a hospital employe, demonstrates how the bed works. The hospital expecter to receive a full supply in the near future.

THE LADIES WITH THE SMILES IN THEIR VOICES—This switchboard and file box looks pretty small when you consider it and three operators take the place of 200 private secretaries. The ladies with the smiles in their voices (from left), Mrs. Carmack Sprouse, Mrs. Norman Mallery and Mrs. Joseph Lorenz, are working on the day shift at Telephone Answering Service, Inc.

Max Richardson in Poor Condition

Friends Rally to Aid Golfer

Tragedy often makes friendship a moving force.

Such was the case today of Max Richardson, 40, of 2624 Walton Blvd., Waterford Township, who has made many friends through his activities in Oakland County ing circles.

They are rallying to his aid as he lies in poor condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with first, second and third degree burns over 50 per cent of his body.

Richardson, who left Commerce Township's Edgewood Country Club a month ago to become vice president and manager of Hillcrest Golf and Country Club near Mount Clemens, was critically burned last Monday when an electric heater ignited gas fumes in his garage, setting off an explosion and fire.

His many friends throughout the Pontiac area began calling St. Joseph Mercy Hospital inquiring about him and asking if they could help him in any way. There were so many that two special operators were required to handle them until Saturday.

At the same time plans were getting under way for a "Max Richardson Fund" at Edgewood, prompted by members who called the club offering aid.

Heading the fund is Mrs. Robert Stengler, a member who lives at 8877 Edgewood Dr., Commerce Township.

"We were shocked to hear of his accident and so far response to the fund has been terrific," she said.

A group of 30 men, only 10 per cent of the total membership, made a donation of $200 over the weekend. Calls are also being received from members offering to donate blood.

Richardson, a member of the Elks, also is receiving blood donations from that organization.

He has been well known in golf circles in Oakland County for many years as manager at the Pontiac Country Club, Edgewood, and for his work at other area golf clubs.

Jack Hoffmann, ex-pro at Edgewood and now pro at Hillcrest, has begun plans to promote a benefit dance at Hillcrest for Richardson. The club's owners have assured Richardson that he will be kept on the payroll during his recuperation.

Originally admitted to the hospital in very critical condition, he is now showing some improvement, due mainly to his fighting spirit and will to live, according to doctors.

Richardson served in the Air Force during World War II and currently holds the rank of major in the Air Force Reserve.

Anyone interested in donating to the fund or wanting information about Richardson's condition may call Mrs. Stengler.

Six Are Injured in Avon Area 3-Car Collision

Six persons were injured in a three-car collision Saturday afternoon on Rochester road at the south entrance to the North Hill Shopping Plaza in Avon Township.

All the injured were passengers in a car driven by Mrs. Mildred Lindsey, 36, of Highland Park.

They were Mrs. Lindsey, her daughter Elizabeth, 1, and son John, 7; Mrs. Hazel Brewer, 41, her daughter Lana, 8, and Dace Hughes, 9, all of Highland Park.

Mrs. Lindsey is in satisfactory condition at Avon Center Hospital. The rest were treated and released.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the Lindsey auto struck a car driven by Mrs. Jane A. Meier, 39, of 1291 Washington Rd., Rochester, from behind, and then careened into another car driven by Allen E. Russ, 29, of 447 Rochdale Dr., Rochester.

Need New Notary Law in Michigan--Adams

LANSING (UP) — Attorney General Paul L. Adams says Michigan's notary public law is in need of complete revision.

Calling the law shocking and disgusting, Adams said Michigan authorities have launched an investigation of cheating by notaries.

The investigation is the result of a probe and prosecution of 23 persons for sales tax evasion, Adams said. He said many notaries notarize documents without the presence of applicants.

In at lease one case, Adams said a notary notarized his own signature on a so-called legal document.

Adams said he became aware of what the notaries were doing during the investigation of new car bootlegging.

He said auto dealers had evaded the Michigan sales tax by forging documents to show buyers resided out-of-state and did not have to pay the three per cent tax.

"Cheating notaries naturally figure in preparation of these sales documents," said Adams.

His chief criminal assistant, Jerry S. Cohen, said the probe of the notary law would follow the trials of 23 persons accused in Wayne County of sales tax fraud.

Michigan law permits any resident over 21 who received an endorsement from a legislator or a county probate or circuit judge to become a notary. His fee is $1.50 for a notary license and $5 for an insuring bond.

"No investigation of the applicant is made at any stage and his appointment by the governor is almost automatic," said Adams. "There is no knowledge of his educational qualifications or even if he has a criminal record."

Two Tots Die in House Blaze

Ann Arbor Father Tries in Vain to Rescue Girls From Burning Home

PINCKNEY (UP) — Two young sisters playing in the living room of their home died in a fire over the weekend as their father tried desperately to rescue them.

The victims were Jeanette Bryan, 4, and her sister, Yvonne, 2.

Their father, Lester, 25, an Ann Arbor factory worker, said an oil stove in the living room apparently exploded as his daughters were playing and set the house afire.

Bryan said he was asleep in another room in the one-story frame house five miles south of here when he was awakened by smoke.

The father tried to enter the blazing living room and rescue the girls but was driven back by the flames. He said he then ran outdoors and tried to force his way in through a window but was again driven back.

ARRESTING—It's questionable whether Irene Glachan, 25, will smile so winningly for clients in her new line of work. The top fashion and photographer's model is first woman police officer in Hamilton, Canada.

Fire Routs 100 at Grosse Ile

Housing Unit Destroyed in Blaze Started by Child With Candle

DETROIT (UP)—A fire apparently touched off by a child playing with a Christmas candle destroyed a 27-family housing unit at Grosse Ile Naval Air Station yesterday.

Yoeman 1/c Robert Sheldon, 29, of East Detroit received minor burns on the hands and face in the fire that started in his apartment, Navy officials said.

The blaze chased 100 persons, including 48 children, into subfreezing cold.

Sheldon was treated at the base dispensary and released.

His wife, Beverly, 28, said the fire apparently started when her son, Robert Jr., 4, played with a candle left over from Christmas.

The Navy estimated damages at $30,000. Five families living in the unit lost all their clothing and furniture in the blaze. The personal effects of the others were damaged extensively.

Flames were prevented from spreading to 12 other units by firemen from the air station, Grosse Ile and nearby Trenton.

Unit residents were given temporary shelter in other buildings on the base until other housing could be found.

UAW Members Protest Overtime, Ask Short Week

DETROIT (UP)—Unemployed United Auto Workers members with placards and flags picketed the City-County Building today protesting overtime in the auto industry while other workers are out of jobs.

The demonstration was sponsored by the UAW Production and Skilled Unemployment Committee which represents workers laid off in the auto plants and not recalled when production of 1959 models started.

A delegation from the group asked the City Council to support a proposed 30-hour work week, greater public works expenditures and a lower retirement age.

Plays Against Orders

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Pianist Van Cliburn leaves by plane today for a concert in Atlanta, Ga., despite his dentist's orders against fulfilling the engagement.

Plane Will Drop Food to Ice-Stranded Deer

GRAND HAVEN (UP) — An air drop of food was expected to be made today to a deer reported stranded on a Lake Michigan ice floe a quarter of a mile off Ottawa Beach.

Sheriff's men said the deer has been on the floe for three days. A private plane which flew over the area Saturday was unable to find the animal, but deputies said it was reported off Ottawa Beach yesterday.

They said dogs probably chased the deer onto the ice.

Man Hacks Wife, 2 Children to Death

MAITLAND, Fla. (UP) — A 40-year-old man hacked his wife and two of his four children to death at their home early today, Sheriff Luther Hodges reported.

The dead were identified as Ruth Higgins, 37; Richard, 8; and Bryan, 12.

The father, Harry Higgins, came here from Waltham, Mass., about six months ago. He is a technical writer for the Martin Co. at Orlando.

Sheriff Hodges said Higgins would be charged with murder.

Williams to Reveal Park Bonding Plan

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams says he will again propose a bonding plan to finance state park improvement and expansion.

"To postpone any longer, capital improvement and land acquisition programs for our state parks, is to be guilty of great disservice to the people," Williams told a meeting of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs yesterday.

The Governor said details of his bonding plan "will be made known at the proper time in a message to the Legislature."

LAKE PATROL IN TRAINING—The Oakland County Sheriff's Department already is looking ahead and training for next summer. Because the traffic on area lakes became an acute problem, and a new law was put in effect to protect boaters last summer, this group of about 25 men was deputized as a special lake patrol unit. With the experiment now a decided success, the department is training the lake deputies in advanced skills usually taught to regular deputies. Members of the lake patrol have been learning the art of self defense through judo lessons for the past few months. Shown here, department judo expert Detective Charles Whitlock (not in uniform), demonstrates some basic techniques on Deputy Basal Ewell. Sheriff Frank W. Irons (right) expects the advanced training will enable the deputies to handle any conceivable situation they may encounter on area lakes next summer.

Wade Takes 'Goat' Role in West's Pro Bowl Loss, 28-21

East Division Gets Final TD on Interception

Van Brocklin Stars for Winners; Gifford Most Valuable

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Billy Wade, who missed the most valuable player award by a fourth quarter pass interception, today took the blame for the west's 21-28 loss in the annual pro bowl football game.

But West coach Weeb Ewbank and his fellow players don't consider the lanky Los Angeles Ram quarterback the goat of yesterday's rough and tumble battle before 72,250 Memorial Coliseum fans.

"We beat ourselves through mistakes," said Ewbank, coach of the world champion Baltimore Colts.

"It was my fault," insisted Wade after the East turned the interception into a field goal and later scored a game-winning touchdown.

"I knew it was risky to pass from my own 13, but I wanted to pick up some yardage and then stay on the ground," said dejected Billy.

"I threw that pass right where I wanted it," Wade said in the dressing room. "But Walt Michaels of Cleveland backed into it and stole it.

Moments before, Wade had marched the west 80 yards for a touchdown and a 21-16 lead in the see-saw struggle among the elite of the National Football League.

After the interception, the East settled for a 25-yard field goal by Cleveland's Lou Groza.

Then, with less than three minutes to go, Philadelphia's Norm Van Brocklin rallied the east for a final and successful charge against the West's ramparts.

The 70-yard drive was climaxed by a Van Brocklin to Pete Retzleff pass play that covered 15 yards. Eagle Retzleff took the ball on the seven and faked past Ram Will Sherman into the end zone.

Frank Gifford of the New York Giants, who beat out Wade for Most Valuable Player, said, "I knew we had the plays . . . I was just worried about getting possession of that ball toward the finish. But our defense took it away from them and that's all we needed."

Lenny Moore of the Colts set up the first West touchdown by racing 37 yards to the one. Two plays later, Colt fullback Alan Ameche plunged over.

Later in the opening quarter, Gifford's 22-yard pass to Gene Schnelker of the Giants put the ball in position for Groza's first 25-yard field goal. Groza's eight points in the game was tops, incidentally, in individual scoring.

Just before the first quarter ended, Gifford passed to Giant Alex Webster, who grabbed the ball on the West 17 and raced over for the score.

The lead changed again when Wade directed the West 77 yards in 12 plays. The payoff was a pass to Hugh McElhenny of the San Francisco 49ers, who wiggled 20 yards to the end zone.

But the East, led by little Eddie LeBaron of Washington, bounced back for a touchdown and a 16-14 halftime lead. The East went 74 yards with LeBaron passing the last seven to Gene Nagler of the Chicago Cardinals.

It was the fourth victory in the nine meetings for the East.

OSU Bows by 4; State Nips Illinois

Surprising 'M' Wins 8th

By United Press International

Michigan stands at the halfway point of its schedule with the possibility of its best overall record in a decade.

The Wolverines meet weak Wisconsin tonight, the 11th club on Michigan's 21-game schedule. They've won eight of the first ten including a 78-74 squeaker over Ohio State Saturday.

The wonder of the Wolverine record is the fact that coach Bill Perigo has instilled new life using, for the most part, only six players. Those six and the rest of the team will get 16 days off after the Badger game due to the semester examination break.

Only once since the 1948-49 season has Michigan come up with a winning record either in overall or Big Ten play. That was in 1956-57 when the Wolverines posted an 8-6 conference mark for fifth place and 13-9 overall record.

It was M. C. Burton, George Lee and John Tidwell in the dominant roles Saturday. Lee pumped in 23 points and Burton 21 and Burton grabbed 15 rebounds — as many as Buckeye center Larry Huston who is two inches taller than the Muskegon Heights star.

Tidwell's jump shot just before the half gave Michigan a lead it never relinquished although the Wolverines needed a pair of free throws by Burton and one by Tidwell in the closing seconds to preserve the win after OSU came within one point.

Michigan State, which doesn't get back into Big Ten play until a week from tonight against the Buckeyes, marked up its second victory at Illinois in six tries. Johnny Green tipped in Bob Anderegg's missed free throw with seven seconds left for the 97-96 decision. Green netted 33 points in the game and sophomore Dave Fahs had 17. Anderegg had 16.

Detroit fell to Notre Dame for the 27th time in 28 starts, 73-62 and Western Michigan, after taking a five-point lead early in the second half, was routed by Miami of Ohio, 83-69.

Michigan Tech and Northern Michigan each recorded victories over Wisconsin schools. The Huskies went into overtime to nudge St. Norbert 68-67 while Northern Michigan had an easy time in trouncing Oshkosh 74-51.

Wayne State remained winless, losing 69-60 to John Carroll and Baldwin Wallace took a high scoring game from Lawrence Tech, 92-83. In a non-league game, Wabash whipped Kalamazoo 78-61.

Hope bolstered its MIAA lead with an 84-55 victory over Albion and Alma tripped up Hillsdale 78-57. The Dutchmen now have won five in a row in league play. Alma moved into second place with a 4-2 mark.

Only three games are scheduled for tonight in addition to the Michigan contest at Wisconsin. Ferris is at Central Michigan, Olivet at Aquinas and Western Ontario at Wayne State.

Basketball Pilot Hung in Effigy

SEATTLE (AP)—Tippy Dye, whose Washington Huskies were pre-season favorites to win the Pacific Coast Conference basketball crown, was hung in effigy Sunday.

A dummy bearing the crudely lettered sign "Tippy, you are through," was found hanging in mid-day from the yardarm of a utility pole near the downtown business section.

Hoover Leading Buffalo Event

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Dick Hoover, who won the All-Star Bowling Tourney nine years ago on the day after he turned 21, topped the qualifiers today after two days in this year's tournament.

Hoover rolled games of 221, 176, 230, 167, 192 and 227 for a 1,313 series yesterday and a total of 2,589.

Right behind him was Billy Welu of Houston, Tex., who shot 1,246 with a high game of 245 to make his total for the 12 games so far 2,585.

Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich., grabbed third with a 1,328 pinfall yesterday that included a 258 game. His two-day total was 2,568.

In the women's division Olga Gloor of Norwood Park, Ill., took the lead with a 1,611 pinfall for eight games. One pin behind her was Donna Zimmerman of Akron, Ohio, who rolled the best series of the day, 839, including a 244 game.

Other Michigan men among the top 16 were Detroiters Pete Carter, with 2,503, and Bob Hitt with 2,501. They were 13th and 14th respectively.

In the women's division, Elvira Toepfer, of East Detroit was 4th with 1,579. Marge Merick of Detroit was 6th with 1,567, and Val Mikiel of Detroit was 10th with 1,534.

Farmington CC to Host Three Golf Tourneys

The 1959 Michigan Pro-Amateur golf tournament, the 1960 Michigan PGA tourney and the 1961 Michigan Open event all will be held at Farmington Country Club.

The pro-am event is to be staged next Aug. 30. The field is limited to 60 teams with an entry fee of $25 a team. The 36-hole best ball tournament will offer a $2,000 purse.

The defending champions are pro John Dalrymple and amateur Gene Woodard. They captured the 1958 event on their home course, Lakepointe.

Boilermaker Assistant Succeeds Fromhart at Detroit Post

Purdue assistant coach Jim Miller, who was instrumental in building many strong Boilermaker lines, was named today as head football coach at the University of Detroit.

The announcement was confirmed at a press conference this morning in the U. of D. athletic office.

It ended a search for a successor for Wally Fromhart who was fired December 2, after a 4-4-1 season. In five years at Detroit Fromhart's record showed 19-25-2.

Miller became the leading candidate after Jerry Burns, backfield coach at Iowa, turned down the job after getting an attractive offer from the Hawkeyes to remain with coach Forest Evasheski.

Miller was the second assistant coach lost by Purdue over the weekend. Bill Daddio, end coach for Jack Mollenkopf, joined Joe Kuharich at Notre Dame Saturday.

"I welcome the opportunity to coach the Titans," said the new Detroit coach, who faces a program intent on bigtime football.

U. of D., with the aid of the Gus Dorais Foundation, has made schedule commitments for future seasons with Tulane, Kentucky, Michigan State, Holy Cross, Army, Navy and Pitt.

Miller said he would be in Detroit tomorrow night.

He was co-captain of the 1941 Purdue team as a guard. He then served three years in the Navy Air Force, and coached at Monticello, Ind., high school after World War III.

He then went to Wabash, Ind., college as football assistant and head track coach, and in 1949 he took over the head coaching job at Niagara University.

He returned to Purdue in 1954 as freshman coach and was promoted to varsity assistant in 1955 and since then he has worked mainly with the interior Boilermaker lines which have been become known among the toughest in the Big Ten.

Pettit Buries Pistons With 50-Point Game

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bob Pettit didn't pay much attention to Detroit coach Red Rocha's argument that the Pistons can catch the high-flying St. Louis Hawks in the league race.

He scored 50 points Sunday as the Hawks won, 111-100.

Only 24 hours earlier Rocha had said his Pistons still would be able to overtake the first place Hawks in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn.

After Pettit's point spree, Detroit is trailing St. Louis by 9½ games and is in danger of losing its second-place standing to Minneapolis.

Pettit started slowly, getting 15 points in the first half. The Hawks led by only a point at intermission.

But the 6-9 former Louisiana State All America was brilliant in the second half. He netted 35 points in an amazing one-man show. Overall, Pettit scored 18 field goals, tripling the best floor effort of any of the Pistons. He added 14 free throws in 17 attempts to his total.

Pettit's performance was the NBA's best of the season. But it was the third time he had reached the charmed figure of 50 in the last two seasons.

Dick McGuire and Gene Shue topped Detroit's scoring. Each had 14 points, feeble compared with Pettit's output.

The Pistons will remain in St. Louis until tomorrow when they play the Cincinnati Royals in the first half of a doubleheader.

New Rule Hits YMCA Chances in Saginaw Meet

Pontiac YMCA swimmers ran head-on into a new scoring rule, Saturday, at Saginaw, and missed a junior division victory, 45-42, as a result. Saginaw won by placing a 2nd freestyle team in the 160-yard event, where Pontiac had no entry.

Saginaw also won the prep division, 53-36. Pontiac took two firsts in prep, six in junior events. Dick Ries (40-yard freestyle, 26.7 seconds), Skip Ervin (80-yard ind. med., 1:08.7) won for preps. Junior firsts were Tom Harrington (40-yard breaststroke, 28.9), Bill Main (diving), Tom McKinnon (80-yard ind. med., 1:01.4) and med. relay (Cashin, Velzy, Harrington, Butler, 1:45.4).

Squad's next competition will be at Port Huron, against a team coached by George Balch, formerly of Pontiac YMCA. A meet, the following week, at Flint will precede the traditional Jan. 31 "Y" conference battle with Lansing at Lansing.

Lakers Consider Move to Coast

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Robert Short of the Minneapolis Lakers sees a "good possibility" of his pro basketball team moving to San Francisco for next season's play.

Still he isn't quite ready to rule out remaining in Minnesota and also considers Los Angeles, Houston, and Seattle as sites for a new home for his National Basketball Assn. club.

San Francisco put up a mighty enticing argument last night in the form of 13,652 fans paying a gross of $31,400 to see the Boston Celtics nip the Lakers 109-106 in an overtime NBA thriller.

Boston's Bobby Cousy calmly dropped in two free throws with two seconds left in the regulation game to knot the count at 99-99 and in the final 90 seconds of the five-minute overtime, Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioropoulos drove in for field goals that meant the victory.

Tom Heinsohn and Bill Sharman led the Celtics with 26 points apiece while Bill Russell, noted 6-foot, 10 alumnus of the University of San Francisco, collected 17. Dick Garmaker paced the Lakers with 20.

The two clubs meet again tonight in Seattle in the test run of possible new homes for NBA clubs, with the Celtics leading the Eastern dvision by 5½ games.

"There is a good possibility that we will move to San Francisco next year," Short asserted. "The only way of the NBA coming to the coast at this time, as I see it, would be to move existing franchises. With half of the teams in the league not doing as well as they might, I don't believe it will expand. I don't say that in five or six years it might not expand."

Asked which teams he meant, Short listed the Lakers, Cincinnati, Detroit and Syracuse.

"I would vote against new franchises and I know others who feel the same way," he said. It would take a ¾ vote of the eight clubs to permit expansion.

He said the present management lost $100,000 with the club last season and has averaged but $7,500 per game for the 14 home contests played in the twin cities so far this season. While here Short has talked with leaders in sports and business.

The St. Louis Hawks' Bob Pettit did his share of newsmaking this weekend too, but it was by scoring 50 points yesterday as the Hawks topped Detroit 111-100. It was the highest individual total this season.

Elsewhere, Detroit romped over Cincinnati 101-69 and Philadelphia defeated New York 103-97 in a fight-filled game in Philly Saturday night. A tussle between the Knicks' Richie Guerin and Philadelphia's Andy Johnson overflowed into the stands and also had spectators and players fighting on the court.

When order was restored, New York's Guy Sparrow and the Warriors' Woody Sauldsberry started the melee again and police finally restored peace.

Sunday, the Knicks defeated Philadelphia 111-95 in New York, but without any fights and Syracuse defeated Cincinnati 127-110.

Bathgate Is Hot Again

By United Press International

Benched for one period last week because of a prolonged scoring slump, Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers regained his "touch" during the weekend to take over the goal-producing lead in the National Hockey League.

The Rangers' "cover boy" picked up two goals and two assists as New York tied the Detroit Red Wings, 3-3, in Saturday's TV game and then rallied to defeat the Chicago Black Hawks, 4-3, last night.

Bathgate now has 23 goals, one more than Dickie Moore of the Montreal Canadiens and Don McKenney of the Boston Bruins, but trails Bernie Geoffrion of the Canadiens in total points 51-49.

He came through last night at Chicago with a third period tally that deadlocked the score at 3-3, then rookie Les Colwill added the winning goal at 14:20.

In Sunday night's other games, the Canadiens rallied to tie the Bruins, 3-3, on a third period goal by Claude Provost while the Red Wings wiped out a three-goal deficit to gain a 6-6 standoff against the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The weekend results left the Canadiens 13 points in front of the second-place Black Hawks while Rangers now trail Chicago by only three points.

Baylor Grid List Cut to Six Names

WACO, Tex. (AP)—The list of prospects for the Baylor head coaching job was reported narrowed to six names Sunday with the job expected to be filled in a week or 10 days.

Radio station WACO of Waco said the reports came from a reliable source who could not be quoted by name.

Reported on the list are Wade Walker of Mississipi State; Cliff Speegle of Oklahoma State; Dave Nelson of Delaware; Sam Baugh of Hardin-Simmons; Tom Pruitt, a Baylor assistant coach, and Claude Gilstrap of Arlington, Tex. State.

From The PRESS BOX

John Kosiancic scored five goals as Michigan Tech walloped Michigan 10-2 in hockey Saturday. A last minute score by Bob Norman earned Michigan State a 3-3 tie at Minnesota. MSU won a triangular gymastics meet over Wisconsin and Central Michigan but took a 20-7 wrestling beating from Indiana. Michigan won seven of nine events to dominate the Big Ten Invitation swimming relays.

The Detroit Lions have signed 235-pound tackle Mike Rabold of Indiana to a 1959 contract. He is expected to bolster the offensive line.

Bolt, Vossler Even for Finale

Share Tijuana's Lead With 205s After 54 Holes of Play

TIJUANA, Mex. (AP) — Golf pressure mounted today as United States Open champion Tommy Bolt and unheralded Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., led the way into the final round of the $20,000 Tijuana Open.

Tempestuous Tommy and the 30-year-old Texan, all even after 36 holes, were still deadlocked after 54 holes with scores of 205.

No less than 17 professionals were packed within a margin of four strokes, including the co-leaders, as play resumed today at the par 36-36—72 Tijuana Country Club course, which again was stretched to its full length of 7,400 yards.

One stroke behind the leaders were Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., with rounds of 69-67-70—206, and 23-year-old John McMullin of Alameda, Calif., with 66-69-71—206.

Former U.S. Open champion Jack Fleck, after rounds of 69 and 67, took a 72 yesterday for 208.

Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills shot a 69 for a 211 total and Joe Zakarian of Detroit had 215 after a round of 73.

Hillsdale Owns 3 Turf Wins in Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bardstown and Hillsdale definitely have established themselves as the "big" horses of the 1959 winter turf season.

With the richer handicap races still to be run in Florida and at Santa Anita on the West Coast, Bardstown has a record of two straight victories and Hillsdale three in as many weeks.

Bardstown, 7-year-old gelding from the Calumet Farm, added the $67,600 Tropical Park Handicap to his string of victories Saturday. And at Santa Anita, Hillsdale accounted for the $28,250 San Fernando Stakes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Wolfensberger of Hagerstown, Md., Sunday won the $1,000 top money and diamond medal in capturing the championship of the National Duck Pin Bowling Congress.

Wolfensberger, the 1956 National Duck Pin All-Star match game champion, had a 15-game score of 2,001.

Wings Need 6 Goals to Tie

Toronto Blows Early Lead as Game Ends, 6-6

Detroit Front Office Futile in Effort for Trade With Leafs

DETROIT (AP)—"I never thought I'd see the day when we'd have to score six goals to get a tie," said Sid Abel, "but that just goes to show how futile we've been in the last month."

The Detroit Red Wings scored six times last night at Olympia stadium but could get no more than a 6-6 tie with the last-place Toronto Maple Leafs.

Just as futile were front office efforts to make a deal with the Maple Leafs. General manager Jack Adams of the Red Wings is willing to trade off Billy McNeill, Forbes Kennedy, Claude Laforge, Gene Achtymichuk, and a couple of older players—but the Toronto club wants Alex Delvecchio.

The Red Wings, not too far out of last place in the National Hockey league, now have only one victory in their last 13 games—and that spans more than a month of play.

The six goals equalled the Detroit production high for the season, and the Toronto production also was a season-high.

The Maple Leafs, running the Wings nearly off the ice in the early going, blew 3-0 and 6-4 leads and had to settle for a tie when Gordie Howe slammed in Detroit's sixth goal in the final three minutes of the action-packed thriller.

George Armstrong, Larry Regan and Frank Mahovlich scored in the first three minutes and the Wings never looked more impotent. Defenseman Red Kelly finally broke the spell with a goal in the late stages of the opening period.

Then it was Detroit's turn to threaten a runaway. Early in the middle period, Johnny Wilson, rookie Charlie Burns and Norm Ullman counted in quick succession for a 4-3 Detroit lead.

A couple of defensive lapses by the Wings gave the lead right back to the Leafs. Dick Duff and Bob Pulford scored before the second period was over, and in the first minute of the third period Ron Stewart slapped in a 25-footer off goalie Terry Sawchuk's skate.

Wilson got his second goal of the night and his ninth of the season after a big assist from Howe, then Howe tied it up again. Toronto was shorthanded when Howe scored the tying goal. He had assisted on three earlier goals.

The Wings tried to get the Leafs to part with one of their defensemen, either Marc Reaume or Noel Price.

"Those guys are just sitting around," Adams growled. "The coach (Punch Imlach) isn't even using them, but they won't trade them away. Then they yell about balancing up the league."

Adams also would like to have either or both of the Cullen brothers, Brian and Barry.

"I've got any number of players I'll trade," he said, "but all Toronto talks about is Delvecchio. I'm not trading him."

Cleveland Back 'Player of Year'

Brown NFL's Best

NEW YORK (AP)—Jimmy Brown, one of the mightiest fullbacks in football history, was voted 1958 player of the year today by an Associated Press panel of experts covering the National Football League campaign.

The Cleveland Browns' battering ram, who was similarly honored in 1957, his rookie year, received stubborn competition from Johnny Unitas, the brilliant Baltimore quarterback. Brown received 22 of the 41 votes cast and Unitas got 15.

The remaining four votes were divided among four players — quarterback Bobby Layne of Pittsburgh; halfback Lennie Moore of Baltimore and defensemen Sam Huff and Roosevelt Grier of the New York Giants.

The sophomore season, usually a jinx for most players, proved no obstacle to the 22-year-old Brown. In 1957, the Syracuse grad gained 942 yards and scored nine touchdowns.

This past season, he crashed and dashed for a total of 1,527 yards, easily disposing of the old mark of 1,146 yards set by Steve Van Buren of Philsdelphia in 1949.

It was not Brown's fault that Cleveland failed to clinch the Eastern title in their final regular season game against the Giants on Dec. 14. On the first play of scrimmage, he raced 65 yards to put the Browns ahead. It was his 18th touchdown of the year, tying Van Buren's mark.

Often called "Gabby" by his teammates because he has so little to say, the 6-2, 228-pounder admitted this year was a little easier than last.

"I know a little more," he said, "but really I'm in no position to make any statements yet."

Paul Brown, the Cleveland coach cautiously declined to compare him with Marion Motley, former bone-crushing Brown fullback, but he did not hesitate to rate Jimmy as the best in the business today.

Face Ravens at PCH on Tuesday

Shamrocks Seek 4th Win

St. Michael's Suburban Catholic League basketball squad today was in fine fettle, aiming for its third straight victory in its longest win streak of the campaign. Shamrocks entertain a tough St. Benedict quintet from Highland Park, in Pontiac Central High's spacious court Tuesday night.

This contest is one of two in league circles for Tuesday.

It is very important to both. Shamrocks must win to keep their chances alive for a spot among the leaders.

"We face a very rough road test of the way in," coach Jim Niebauer of the north side club, said this morning. "This is the halfway point. After Tuesday we go against St. James, Orchard Lake St. Mary, St. Frederick and St. Rita in that order."

In the league's other tilt, at Orchard Lake, St. Mary will shoot for its fifth straight victory in an unbeaten season. Eaglets face the winless St. Rita club, and are favored to keep their slate clean. They are the current loop leaders and its only unbeaten five. There will be no lineup changes from the five that went so well in the 36-27 win over St. Frederick, last week.

Shamrocks showed evidences of finally jelling in their 63-56 win over RO St. Mary, last Thursday. Balanced scoring, effective work on the boards marked the Mikemen's play. At Robak, George Drake, who led the scoring, Chuck Steinhelper, Pat Campbell and Tom Dabbs will get the call.

Ravens top threats are big Art Massucci and Everhardt.

A preliminary at 7 p.m. will precede the varsity game at 8:15 o'clock. Same times have been set for the St. Mary-Rita game at Orchard Lake.

Cagers Extending Streak Started in Football

Auburn Teams Don't Lose

From Our Wire Services

Except for the NCAA, no one is stopping Auburn these days as its football and basketball teams continue rolling up concurrent streaks unmatched in collegiate history.

Plenty of football teams have had longer unbeaten streaks than Auburn's 24. A bundle of basketballers have won more than 21 in a row, the current status of Auburn's winning streak.

But no one has ever dominated both major sports at the same time the way the Tigers are doing now.

The basketball Tigers, who bagged their 10th straight of the season 63-54 over Florida Saturday night, and St. Bonaventure (8-0) of Olean, N. Y., are the only major unbeatens in college basketball today.

The football Tigers had a tie with Georgia Tech last fall but have whipped all 23 others they've met since losing to Florida in their sixth game of the 1956 season.

Both, however, have been shooting only for poll and conference recognition because the NCAA has tagged Auburn with probation through 1961 for football recruiting irregularities.

Continued success has put Auburn in the driver's seat in the Southeastern Conference race, one of a half dozen wide-open scrambles to devlop in a topsy-turvy college basketball season.

At a time when the cream usually has risen to the top, perennial Kentucky is no better than third in the SEC, favored Texas A&M is tied for last in the Southwest, touted Maryland is no better than third in the Atlantic Coast, Cincinnati and Oscar Robertson have a dogfight on their hands in the Missouri Valley, and the favorites lag while Minnesota, with a 4-5 overall record, heads the pack in the Big Ten.

Even West Virginia, with 41 straight Southern Conference victories, may have a sure-for-shootin' challenge on its hands from ambitious William and Mary or Virginia Tech.

Utah and Kansas State, the preseason Skyline and Big Eight conference choices, are living up to the reputations. And, as everyone thought, Dartmouth and Princeton probably head the Ivy League class.

Kentucky, nearing its 600th victory under coach Adolph Rupp, and three other top teams see action tonight in a college basketball schedule that also includes three important Big Ten games.

Kentucky's Wildcats, surprised by Vanderbilt last week, rebounded Saturday night with a 70-61 win over Louisiana State and will be trying to regain still more of their national prestige tonight against Tulane.

Cincinnati (8-2) defends its league lead against North Texas State (4-8) and Bradley (9-1) and unranked Houston (6-5) battle for undisputed second place in the same circuit while Illinois meets Iowa, Indiana plays Minnesota and Wisconsin takes on Michigan in the Big Ten. Victories by Illinois, Indiana and Michigan would create a three-way tie for first place in the already-confused circuit.

This week's action also includes a showdown battle Wednesday night between the Atlantic Coast Conference's top teams — North Carolina State (11-1) and North Carolina (9-1). State is 5-0 in league play after Saturday's 67-60 win over Duke while North Carolina is 4-0.

SMOTC Observes Tenth Anniversary

Southern Michigan Obedience Training club observed its tenth anniversary Saturday night and Sunday, with a pleasant banquet and a "fun trial." Demonstrations at three Pontiac area schools this week, and next, open the club's 11th season of dog training.

Banquet at Huck's Inn, Saturday, was attended by about 75, including Dean and Mrs. W. W. Armistead, Dr. and Mrs. W. V. Lumb of Michigan State University's veterinary college, and Richard Sika of the Rochester Leader Dog school. New prexy Rudy Buchmann presided. The three speakers praised the aid SMOTC has extended for research and other work at MSU, and for leader dog work, through its gifts of money to the organizations.

Top winner at the "fun trial" held at Ferndale on Sunday, was Shirley Peterson of Royal Oak, whose doberman won a "runoff" at 193½, plus points over 12-year-old Betty Breedlove's (Bloomfield Hills) miniature poodle also with 193½ points.

Others in the top four, from a field of 19 dogs, included Jerry Talbot of Waterford, collie 191¼ points and Sue Strengel, 13, of Rochester, weimaraner, 190 points. Eleven school groups were represented by top dogs from their recently concluded fall and winter classes. A handsome trophy went to the winner.

Overtime Game Takes Spotlight

Sudden Death Counter Wins for Fisher Hill in Hockey Tourney

The Fisher Hill Merchants and Rochester Royals in Class A and Bulman's Hardware and Pontiac Northern B in Class B skated to victory Saturday in the City Junior hockey tournament at Northside ice rinks.

Art Atkinson's goal after 17 minutes of sudden death overtime brought Fisher Hill a 2-1 triumph over Huron Valley Boys Club in the most action-packed game on Saturday's program.

Dick Nichols scored for the Merchants in the 1st minute of the 1st period, then Huron Valley's Bill Halberstudt tied the score in the 2nd period to set the stage for Atkinson's game-winning counter.

The Royals defeated Spencer Floor Covering, 3-2, with Jim Gallivan's 2nd goal of the contest in the 3rd period gaining the decision. Roy Brook tallied Rochester's other counter while Jim Dickson fired both Spencer goals.

Jon Shaw collected four goals, Don MacLean three and Dan Carr one as Bulman's routed the Thunderbirds, 8-0. Goalie Dennis Hoyes performed the shutout.

First period goals by John Kendall and Larry Quick gave Northern a 2-1 verdict over Jim's Hardware. Bob Read clicked in the 2nd period for the loser's only goal.

The Class B division of the double elimination tourney resumes Wednesday night at the Northside softball field. Class A teams swing into action Thursday evening on the same ice.

Gentlemen Rebels Take Place of Mink Dolls

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

HAVANA—Fidel Castro's Rebels are gentlemen with black beards and impassive eyes.

They carry guns casually, as ladies carry handbags—crooked in the elbow, slung over the shoulder, swung offhandedly by a strap.

Where most men keep wallets, they keep knives.

They are also idealistic men, as accustomed to honesty as to warfare. Politely, they check in and out of the best Havana hotels, now evacuated by the mink-wrapped sophisticates and gambling molls, and they take nothing but the food and lodging.

Not a handtowel has been missed, nor a circle of carpet removed by a Rebel cigarette. What hotel manager can say that after a visit from dolls and molls?

It is frightening to land at Havana's airport (for one who has not been on a battlefield lately) and see two dozen troops of these proud, grimy-bearded ones waiting. But you don't understand them then. It takes time to realize they are perhaps more pinciples than your best friend.

With neither friendliness nor belligerence—only with a passionless gesture of rifles—they herd you into the customs waiting room. You sit. For a long time.

The American tourist is accustomed to being hurried through customs politely, in countries where there is delight in the dollars. But the Rebels are in charge here, and they have fought for less tangible goals.

The political exiles, then, go through customs inspection first. These are human symbols of what they fought for. You wait almost an hour until they place exiles and their families together.

Then a giant whiskered man steps forward, holding a Spanish-American War vintage rifle loosely, his finger placed significantly on the trigger.

"Are there any United States nationals here?" he asks in perfect, distinct English.

You raise your hand, along with two other strangers.

"So. Are you carrying any firearms?"

One of the strangers giggles nervously. You shake the noggin like it had egg on it.

"Okay," he says. "I like it."

The customs rigamarole proceeds. Your handbag is researched by a man whose beard is scrawny with adolescence, while the man behind you is "frisked." Your baggage is perused like a good book.

Okay. They like it. Two hours after the plane arrives, you emerge from the airport into the soft night air, still a little touchy, more than a little scared.

Then you drop a letter, and a Rebel stoops to pick it up—hands it over with a polite bow of the head and maybe even a smile in the darkness.

At the Habana Hilton Hotel, there is a rope around the entrance. Lounging behind it are more of the same. Dozens more beards, with the other paraphernalia of the rebel, the bland face and the guns. They let you pass and you go to the desk, where the assistant manager greets you cheerfully.

"You'll get used to it," he assures. "These are good men. They don't drink. They don't steal. They don't have any interest in women except their own. . . "

For three days, you never get on an elevator without seeing a rifle—But you never cross a street without enough to point it at the ceiling. But you never cross a street without passing guns. Amazingly often, you hear a shot or a flurry of shots, and you never get used to it, like the hotel assistant manager said.

But you get accustomed to a face, if it's a good one. And I have not seen a mean one in all of Castro's lot.

New Trial Opens for Atlanta Man

Jewish Temple Blast Case Reopened After December Mistrial

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—George Bright was scheduled to go on trial today on a newly phrased charge of dynamiting the Jewish Temple. His first trial ended in a mistrial.

A new count was added to the indictment on Dec. 23. It called for sentences of from 1 to 20 years for persons convicted of blowing up buildings in which no one lives.

The original one-count indictment called for the death penalty or life in prison for persons convicted of bombing dwellings or houses within the limits of a city.

Trial on the original indictment ended in a mistrial on Dec. 10 after a jury deliberated 26 hours without reaching a verdict.

The Temple was dynamited early on Oct. 12. Bright, 35, was one of five Atlanta men indicted in the case. The others have not yet been tried.

White House on Wheels

Noted Railroad Car Retired

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The latest White House-on-wheels is going to roll into formal retirement this week. Chances are it won't have a successor.

The sumptious railroad car Magellan, which for 10 years was the home away from home for presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman, has been declared surplus material. It has been donated to the Florida Development Commission, which will enshrine it at the University of Miami at Coral Gables.

The car, a gift by the Assn. of Railroads, came into being in the swift-moving days of World War II. But President Eisenhower prefers a sleek airliner to the Magellan. He used the railroad car only twice, once for a New York trip and once on a state visit to Canada in 1953.

Mrs. Eisenhower was the last of the official family to use it, when she traveled to Groton, Conn., in 1954 to christen the first atomic submarine, the Nautilus.

Theodore Roosevelt became the first President of the United States to ride in an automobile in 1902.

CHAPTER XXIV

"That looks hopeful," commented Angus, when they had walked away from Miss Seton and Mr. Holt.

"Yes and no," said Angela. "I can see he's impressed, but I can't make her out. She's—she's not secretive, exactly, but she hasn't said much to anybody on the trip."

"I think that she—like your father—has got something on her mind."

"Do you know that, or are you just guessing?"

"I know that she got bad news over the phone the first night of the journey, but that's something I shouldn't tell you."

She smiled.

"You take this job seriously, don't you?"

He looked surprised.

BETTER NOW

"I wouldn't have said so. Perhaps I see more in it than I did when old Sir Claud was writing it up in headlines.

"All I feel about it is that I'm being well paid and that the company has high standards and that it's up to me to keep them high if I can—in return for the aforesaid pay packet. And that's why I'm sorry I've blotted the record."

"Do you think Maurice is going to ring up London and argue about delaying the coach?"

"There's nothing to stop him. If he does, I imagine they'll advise him to stay behind when the coach leaves Burgos and offer to pay his expenses by air to allow him to catch us up."

"Catch us up where?"

"Salamanca, I suppose—or further on, at the Portugese border. But now that he's got his fancy dress on, he might decide to come on with us and get a new outfit in Lisbon. Are you tired?"

"No. Why?"

"Let's walk up the hill."

"What's at the top?"

"Nothing much but the view. All that's left of the castle is a few stones."

"What happened here," Angus asked her, "In August 1254?"

"I've no idea, but it must be jolly hot here in August." She sank on to a grass-grown mound and pulled him down beside her. "What happened, anyway?"

"Edward I was brought here by his mother, to be married to Eleanor of Castile. She—"

"Angus, couldn't you enter for one of those quiz programs and win an awful lot of money? You could choose English history and then—"

"Did you come up here to talk about quiz programs?"

"I'm sorry. I'm truly sorry. Go on about Eleanor."

"Will you please tell me why a bunch of people take the trouble and go to the expense of traveling all the way from London to Lisbon by road if they haven't the slightest intention of taking the smallest interest in anything they see on the way?"

ARE THEY INTERESTED?

"Darling, you wouldn't want us to go about in shorts and low-heeled shoes carrying knapsacks and fat guide books and peering at things all the time?"

"All I'm waiting for is the first spark of intelligence in any one of the passengers."

"But look how interested they were in Perigord."

"That was gastronomic, not historical."

"Well, what I really came up here for was to talk about our future. Don't think I'm not interested in Edward and Eleanor, I couldn't be more so, but—"

"But you don't care if you never hear their names again."

"All I was going to say was, now that you've got my father's approval—"

"I've got it?"

"Of course. Angus—"

"Well?"

"When we're married, will you tell our children that I pursued you relentlessly until you gave in and married me?"

He turned to smile at her.

"Yes. I shall tell them often, and at great length. I shall tell them that you had more honesty and more courage than any woman who ever lived, and that—"

He stopped. She was near, and she was as soft and as warm as the sunshine. The past was in the stones all round them. The future could be settled some other time—but this was the present and he must make the most of it.

Some time later, they saw two figures coming slowly up the hill, and identified them.

"Miss Seton and Holt," said Angus. "Perhaps she's brought him up here to talk about their future."

"If so, they couldn't have chosen a better spot. Shall we let them have it?"

NO DESIRE TO STAY

Miss Seton, however, seemed to have no desire to linger among the ruins. She and Mr. Holt looked at the view, walked a little way and then came back and asked the others if they were going down.

"If so, let's go together," she suggested.

The four walked down the hill, Angela and Miss Seton ahead, the two men following. Mr. Holt seemed thoughtful, and said nothing for a time, then he put a question to Angus.

"All these what you call accidents," he said. "You got any theory about them?"

Angus hesitated.

"No," he said at last. "But I don't quite agree with what you said this morning about their being—about their having some connection with one another."

"Well, I still think they're hooked up," said Mr. Holt. "I told you it might be a joker, but I don't think so any more. Somebody means business.

"You remember the driver reported that someone had tried the bolts of the garage door? Did you follow that up and find out anything?"

Once more, Angus hesitated, and the other man gave a sigh.

"Oh, I know, I know," he said. "You're on the company's payroll and your job is to keep the passengers' minds on the scenery.

"And you'd like to discuss it with me, maybe, but you can't because you can't team up with passengers on business that strictly isn't theirs. That I see.

"So what it comes to, I just have to tell you what I think, while you keep what you think to yourself. That's how it goes, isn't it?"

"It sounds unfair, but that's how it has to be, I'm afraid. Do you know anything definite?"

NOT ISOLATED INCIDENTS

"If I do, I'd like to look into it before committing myself. Swapping theories is one thing, undergoing cross-examination is quite a different thing.

"All I'm telling you is that in my view—and these glasses are good—I think everything that's happened has a tie-up and the incidents aren't isolated, they're following in logical sequence. And they've got one object in view."

"Which is?"

"To delay the coach."

There was a long pause. They were walking slowly, and both men were deep in thought.

"I think you must be wrong," said Angus at last.

"Wrong? I don't think I'm wrong, but I can't prove anything—yet. I haven't got it figured out, but I'm working on it, and I'd get along faster if I could make anybody come out into the open and tell me what they know. But they won't."

"They?"

"They. I know my grammar. When I say they, I mean the plural and not the singular. Nobody'll talk — and from now on, that includes me.

"But you know something? Tarrant won't ring up your headquarters and try to get the coach held up."

When Angus got to his room, he found on his table a short message: would he go to the Admiral's room when it was convenient?

He went at once.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

American Ends Pilots Strike

Some Jet Fliers Will Get $28,400 Per Year Plus Retroactive Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Airlines planned to resume half its flights today under a new contract that could earn $28,440 a year for some jet pilots.

The contract, approved Sunday, ended the last in a series of national airline strikes.

Since October, walkouts have disrupted flights by Eastern Air Lines, Trans World Airlines, Capital Airlines and American at various times. Among major domestic lines, only United Airlines was unaffected.

Ater the 22-day American strike ended, the company immediately started partial service. A full schedule of flights was expected Tuesday.

The Air Line Pilots Assn., which called the strike against American, estimated the settlement would net its 1,500 pilots a 15 per cent pay increase and a total of five million dollars in retroactive pay. The contract dates back to August 1957.

A union spokesman said the captain of a Boeing-707 jet, which American plans to start using later this month, could earn $28,440 a year. A Convair captain, the spokesman added, could earn $17,892 a year. The old contract would have given him $15,288 a year.

American, before the strike began Dec. 19, had offered a pay increase of 10 per cent, the union spokesman said.

The new contract also provides a third pilot for jet crews. Current piston plane crews comprise two pilots and one flight engineer.

The strike cost an estimated loss of 33 million dollars to the company, its suppliers and their employes. During the strike, American, which leads the other airlines in number of passenger miles flown, furloughed 20,000 employes.

American is a member of a mutual aid pact of six airlines. Under this agreement, the airlines hand a struck pact member the revenue from any extra business they attract because of the strike.

Tow Ends Woe

Doe Trapped on Floe

Afloat on a floe was a doe.
She was trapped with no place to go.
A coast guard lasso brought her in tow
And that was the end of her woe.

POUGHKEPSIE, N.Y. (AP)—That is the saga of a deer floating down the Hudson on a cold Sunday afternoon.

The Coast Guard cutter Mariposa, out on ice patrol, spotted the deer and set out on a rescue mission.

A seaman scrambled onto the floe and tied the deer's legs so she wouldn't hurt herself when she was hauled aboard.

And then back to the woods she did go.

Oil Stove Explodes in Cincinnati House, Kills Parents, Five Children

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bradshaw and their five children never had a chance when flames from an exploding oil stove engulfed their frame and stucco home early yesterday, firemen said.

Firemen rushed to the suburban Lincoln Heights home and quickly brought the fire under control, but they couldn't save the occupants, whose bodies were burned so badly authorities had trouble distinguishing them.

The victims were identified as Bradshaw, 35; his wife, Emma, 36; James, 9; Michael, 8; Mary Margaret, 5; Horace Jr., 3, and Betty Jane, 1.

The bodies of the parents were found near a door leading outside. The children's bodies were in two bedrooms, two lying on the floor, the rest in bed.

Boxing's Top Brass in London for Bout

B JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

LONDON (AP)—The fight men with money and influence have moved in on London — the scene of tonight's title fight between British heavyweight champion Brian London and challenger Henry Cooper.

Truman Gibson, president of the International Boxing Club, is here.

So is Eddie Alvqvist, manager of European champion Ingemar Johansson.

American promoter Bill Rosensohn is expected.

Lew Burston, foreign representative of the IBC, also has a date at Earl's Court — the scene of the battle.

All of them want to see just how good London, second-ranked challenger for Floyd Patterson's world title, and Cooper, seventh-rated challenger, really are. London is a slight favorite.

To Settle Assets in Southfield

New City Expected to Pay $3,000 to $4,000 to Township

SOUTHFIELD — Settlement of all fixed assets with Southfield Township will be made at tonight's regular council meeting, City Clerk Patrick Flannery said this morning.

The new City of Southfield is expected to pay the Township between three and four thousand dollars for cars, equipment, etc. Still to be settled is the division of Water Dept. financial matters because of bonds outstanding.

The 26½ square-mile section in the southern end of Southfield Township became a city last September, leaving four acres of Southfield as a township.

Winter Wheat Expected to Fall Short of '58

The department also predicted that citrus fruits and winter fresh vegetables would top last year's standards.

In other parts of the report, the department said farm feed supplies were adequate for livestock, milk production was up, and egg production was higher.

The department also raised its winter potato crop forecast 2 per cent from the Dec. 1 prediction.

Farm employment dropped 18 per cent in December, the department said, reflecting the normal low level of winter activity in agriculture.

Robert Taylor Signs Up to Make Picture in Africa

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—The next of our Hollywood stars to go to Africa to make a picture is Robert Taylor.

Bob signed a contract late Friday with producers Cubby Broccoli and Irving Allen to do "Adamson," which is based on a novel, "Tales of the African Frontier," by J. A. Hunter and Daniel P. Mannix.

The picture, a Warwick production, will be released by Columbia.

Bob leaves here Feb. 16. He will go to London, then to Mobasa. The film will be shot in Kenya.

Bob was quite excited at the chance to see far-away places, and he seemed unconcerned at the possibility of having to undergo the rigors which are said to go with picture-making in Africa.

He said he won't be separated long from his wife, Ursula. She is decorating their house now, and will join him as soon as she finishes.

Elizabeth Taylor has indicated to close friends that she will be in Chicago on the first anniversary of Mike Todd's death. In the Jewish religion that is a sacred time when the monument at the tomb is erected.

There have been all sorts of rumors as to what kind of monument will be erected to the memory of the brilliant showman, but certainly it won't be an Oscar as was reported.

The Oscar is copyrighted and cannot be used for purposes other than the specific award, which of course Mike won for "Around the World in 80 Days."

I doubt if any premiere ever generated more excitement than "Compulsion" which took place at Sun Valley, Idaho, when Dick Zanuck showed his picture there to the National Convention of District Attorneys.

To Build Educational Wing at Congregational Church

OXFORD — The Board of Trustees of Immanuel Congregational Church here is proceeding with plans to borrow the money needed to start construction of a new $69,000 educational wing early next summer.

A total of $43,000 was raised in cash and pledges in a financial drive to support the proposed project last June. Now the church membership has voted to borrow the remainder of the money needed upon the recommendation of the Board of Trustees.

Faced with the growing need for more space — especially for Sunday School classrooms — the church planning committee began work on an expansion program in the summer of 1957.

The church membership subsequently approved a plan designed by the architectural firm of John Roth and Sons, Inc., Birmingham. It is for a two-story wing, 42' x 72', to be attached to the west end of the church and to extend to the south end of the church property.

The addition will contain a kitchen, all-purpose room, 12 to 14 classrooms and church offices.

The church located at the corner of Dennison and Hovey streets was organized Feb. 27, 1877, and observed its 75th anniversary May 18, 1952.

The Rev. Anthony A. Nelson is the present minister, and at the recent annual meeting, Jack Valentine was elected moderator and Louis B. Coryell, re-elected clerk. Mrs. Maude Becker is financial secretary and Mrs. Don Awrey, treasurer.

May Eliminate Milking Chore

Mobile Unit Traveling From Farm to Farm in Michigan Next?

By United Press International

A trend that is catching on rapidly in Europe may someday spread to Michigan and eliminate the chore of milking for many farmers.

Under the system, a mobile milking unit travels from farm to farm and undertakes the entire milking chore.

The idea emerged from Holland and Germany and is now being tried on an experimental basis in Sweden.

Each mobile unit is equipped with six milking machines of the overhead suspension type. In addition, each unit has a washing machine, water tank, water heater and three 160-gallon milk tanks.

Two men operate a mobile milking unit and make a trip to each farm in the morning and again in the evening. Each unit can handle about 65 cows daily.

The export publicity department at Gothenburg, Sweden, says experiments have proceeded very smoothly and the farms taking part have been relieved of considerable work.

If the mobile milking system continues to grow in Europe, it likely will be adopted in the United States as well.

Doesn't Take from Rich and Give to Poor

Inflation Is Not a Robin Hood--Ike

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The President's sermon on thrift to the Congress and to the American people is based on the practically unchallenged thesis:

Only by prudent economy can the nation ward off further inflation. But will it try to?

The rub comes in this: Will the Congress, and the people it represents, care enough about fighting a future and somewhat nebulous inflation to do without the present sugar plums the President's new economy drive proposes to withhold?

Supposing the Congress goes along — and the President points out that Congress alone holds the purse strings — many industries will be cut off from some orders they would get from freer federal spending. The first economy drive some two years ago showed how quickly some industries could be hurt when Uncle Sam tightened up on his spending.

The President offers the classic indictment of government spending in excess of income, with the end result of whittling away the purchasing power of the dollar:

"Inflation is not a Robin Hood, taking from the rich to give to the poor. Rather, it deals most cruelly with those who can least protect themselves. It strikes hardest those millions of our citizens whose incomes do not quickly rise with the cost of living."

The proposed economy would end the federal deficit financing, which the President lists along with the wage-price spiral as basic causes of inflation.

If Congress fools the experts and approves tight budgeting, what would it do to present business expectations?

A realistic appraisal of most of the predictions of good times in 1959 shows that one of the factors they strongly count upon is a rise in government spending — at the federal, state and local levels — and spending beyond the amounts the President says he will propose to Congress.

In dollar volume defense spending would be as high as expected — the President approves a slight increase in the coming year. The uncertainty to be dissolved when the detailed budget and defense department programs are spelled out lies in what direction these defense dollars will be channeled.

Switching from one type of weapon to another usually sends the company with the new contract booming and leads to layoffs in the concern whose contract is canceled.

It is in other fields than defense that the President seeks dollar cutbacks. He mentions in general terms the ending of some costly housing, farming and veteran programs.

Those who supply or work for builders could have some of their hopes dashed. Those who sell to farmers could find some of them less enthusiastic buyers of goods. Veterans benefits have a way of passing quickly through the beneficiary's pockets and out into various trade channels.

A real economy drive would mean cutting back the number of government workers — a total that seems to grow year by year. Their spending boosts retail volume across the nation. This was especially noted last summer when their pay increased.

And a successful economy drive could dampen some of the ardor of the stock market. The bull market has fed on expectations of further inflation from deficit spending and from the wage-price spiral that it often speeds up.

The bulls also have counted strongly on a big upsurge in general business — an upsurge helped along in part by increased government spending.

Inflation doesn't help the economy really. It only seems to. But the thrift that would thwart the continuing deterioration of the American dollar sometimes tastes like bitter medicine.

Grain Demand Slackens Off

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans attracted some scattered support but grains generally were a bit easier today in early activity on the Board of Trade.

The slackening in demand for grains was understood to be hinged to failure of expected export business to develop over the weekend. Neither India nor Pakistan had made the wheat purchases they were believed late last week to be negotiating.

The only export sale of consequence was about a half million bushels of corn to Norway for delivery in February.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅝ cent a bush lower to ¼ higher, March $1.96¾; corn was unchanged to ⅝ lower, March old type contract $1.13⅝; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, March 66⅛; rye unchanged to ⅝ lower, March $1.34; soybeans ½ higher to ¼ lower, January $2.15⅞.

Street Repairs Hearing Slated

Waterford Township to Discuss Assessment for Camley Street Blacktop

A second hearing on establishing a special assessment district for improving Camley street will be one of many items of business scheduled for tonight's Waterford Township Board meeting.

Estimated cost for blacktopping the one block street from Edgefield to Elizabeth Lake road, is $8,208, which would be distributed among property owners of 41 parcels of land.

Board members are expected to award contracts for two new police cars. Seven bids were submitted at last week's board meeting. A special committee has made a study and will present its recommendations tonight.

Clerk James Secterlin will present a request that the township purchase frost-breaking equipment for the Water Department.

He also will ask for approval for voters to register at the fire stations Friday, Saturday and Monday, the deadline.

The Board will discuss some type of plan to clear up the water problem in the Watkin Hills subdivision. The four-year-old system is saturated with iron bacteria, and although not harmful, it is clogging the lines, Secterlin said.

Engineers Johnson & Anderson have made plans, cost estimates and their report will be presented tonight, along with their recommendation to correct the situation.

Tool and Die Peace After Sunday Talks

Details of the contract will be withheld until ratification by the union membership, said state labor mediator Walter Quillico. A ratification meeting has been scheduled for next Sunday.

Market Edges Latest Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market edged above its latest record high in heavy trading early today.

Most changes of key stocks were fractional, a few going as high as a point.

Acme Steel was an exception, jumping 3 points on an opening block.

American Telephone, up a fraction at the start, erased the gain and dropped about a point.

The ticker tape was late in prolonged period of active dealings.

Wall Streeters forecast an early challenge to the 600 level in the Dow Jones Industrial Average which closed Friday at a record 595.72. Meanwhile economic news remained good with steel orders moving at a fast pace and copper demand reported steady.

Phelps Dodge, U.S. Rubber, Eastman Kodak and Allied Chemical advanced about a point each.

Inland Steel, another wide gainer, rose 5 points on an opening block of 1,500 shares.

Fractional gains were made by such assorted stocks as U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Ford, General Motors, Goodyear, United Aircraft, Radio Corp., Anaconda, Kennecott, Pennsylvania Railroad, American Airlines and Pfizer.

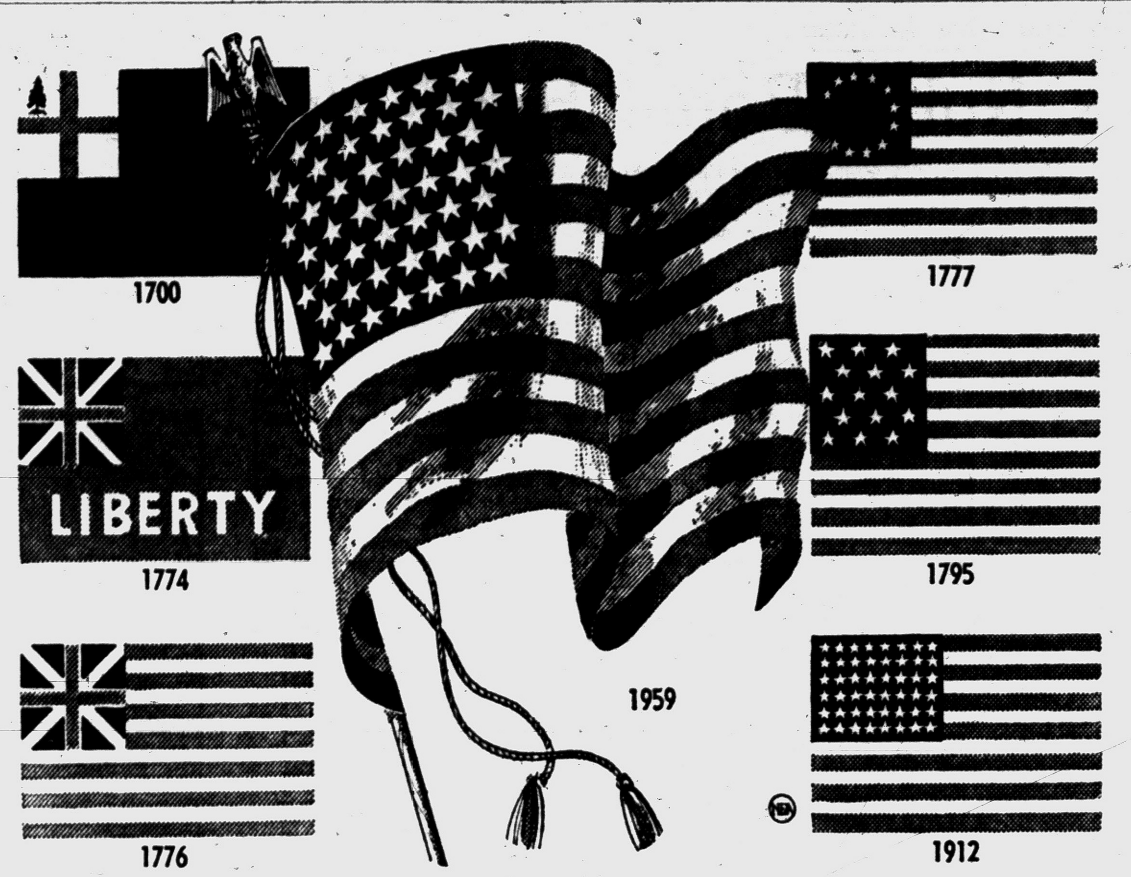
First Commencement Is Held Under 4 Moons

TUCSAN, Ariz. (AP) — College graduates are really going out into a unique world — thanks to the earth satellites.

Addressing the University of Arizona's 1958 graduating class, Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation, noted:

"It is safe to say this year's commencement is the first to be held beneath four different moons —one placed there by nature and three by man."



OLD GLORY'S EVOLUTION—The American flag has been studded with pine trees, carried stars in many patterns, and featured variations of the Union Jack. Some of the milestones in the progress of the banner to its present 49-star design are depicted above. The New England flag, upper left, designed around 1700 and carried at the battle of Bunker Hill, featured a pine tree insigne. Predating the Revolution by two years was the Liberty flag, hoisted over the green at Taunton, Mass. The Grand Union flag, featuring 13 red and white stripes, one for each colony, was carried in 1776 by the newly formed Continental army. In 1777, almost a year after the Declaration of Independence, the Continental Congress adopted the "Betsy Ross" banner with its 13 stars and stripes. Honoring the admission of Vermont and Kentucky, two more stripes were added in 1795. The practice of adding stripes was soon discontinued, and the flag reverted to 13 bars. A star continued to be added for each new state. The 48-star field came into being with the admission of Arizona in 1912. It remained unchanged until Alaska's formal entry into the Union this year.

Giant New Oil Tanker Rivals Queens, Forrestal in Weight

NEW YORK (UPI)—The biggest merchant ship ever built in the Western Hemisphere will be a homeless waif in most parts of the world.

The 70,700-deadweight-ton Princess Sophie, a giant oil tanker rivaling great ocean liners in size, will find few deep water ports capable of handling her when fully loaded.

This behemoth of the seas, scheduled to be launched Nov. 15 at Bethlehem Steel's Quincy (Mass.) shipyard, can carry in one trip the equivalent of one day's crude oil production in Oklahoma.

Her carrying capacity also is equal to approximately 27 million gallons of gasoline, or enough to drive an automobile to the moon and back 1,100 times.

When fully loaded, the 20-million-dollar vessel will weigh about 100,000 long tons. This will make her heavier than any passenger ship in existence, including Britain's Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth. The Princess Sophie also will outweigh the super-carrier U.S.S. Forrestal.

The tanker will be christened by Queen Frederika of Greece, after whose oldest daughter the vessel is named. The ship will fly the Greek flag.

A spokesman for the Stavros S. Niarchos fleet, owners of the Princess Sophie, said the tanker will operate between the deep-water ports of the Persian Gulf and California.

The 12,000-mile run from the Persian Gulf, through the Indian Ocean and across the Pacific to California, is said to be the only route that can accommodate a fully loaded ship this size.

In order to enter major East Coast refining centers, the Princess Sophie would have to pump part of her cargo into barges and lighters before entering. This includes such important refinery areas as New York and Philadelphia.

Since the end of World War II, the oil industry has been going in for bigger and bigger tankers in an effort to combat rising operating costs.

During and immediately after World War II, the tanker fleets of most nations consisted almost solely of 17,000-deadweight-ton T-2 tankers. They had a capacity of about 122,000 barrels of crude oil, compared with more than 625,000 barrels for the Princess Sophie.

Chairman Conlin Says Tax Plan Not UAW's

LANSING (AP)—An assertion that the United Auto Workers Union dictated a graduated income tax plan urged by the Citizens' Advisory Committee has been labeled "ridiculous," by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin.

Conlin, Republican chairman of a special legislative committee which received the citizens' group recommendations, commented yesterday.

"There were 25 committee members, three of them from the UAW. There were many people from business and industry fully as competent as any from the UAW.

"To say that these three were the tail that wagged the dog is ridiculous."

A Detroit report said the controversial tax proposal was "written in Solidarity House," and emerged as a committee recommedation with little change.

Under the graduated tax—with rates ranging from three to eight per cent, the heaviest burden would be borne by persons in the $8,000 to $20,000 brackets. Wage earners in the lowest brackets would incur little or no liability.

The report said the UAW offered its plan after spokesmen on the citizens' committee objected to a flat rate tax of 3½ per cent which earlier had ben under consideration.

Asked about the report, Conlin said the story was "possibly an attempt at influence" — presumably to scare away potential non-union support for the proposal.

Without expressly endorsing it, Conlin defended another controversial feature of the citizens' tax package—a recommendation for a $9 a person annual rebate of state sales tax, the estimated portion paid on food purchases.

He said he disagreed with a critic's assertion the device was a lollipop to make the entire tax package more palatable.

"I am impressed by the fact that under the existing tax structure 20 per cent of a $2,000 income is paid out in taxes, whereas it's only 6 per cent on a $6,000 income."

Conlin said the state deficit last June 30 would have been $60,000,000, instead of $21,000,000, but for fiscal manipulations by the 1958 legislature which cannot be repeated.

With others, he has estimated the state's deficit by mid-year will rise to $100,000,000 or more.

Pair Arrested at Cadillac

5 Area Burglaries Solved

Oakland County sheriff's detectives closed five burglary cases over the weekend as two Pontiac area brothers, picked up by State Police at Cadillac last Thursday, admitted committing the crimes.

Howard R. Wardell, 30, of 111 Gladstone Pl., and his brother, Robert C., 30, of Milford, were brought to the Oakland County Jail Sunday morning for questioning.

They had been charged with the burglary of a tavern near Cadillac, arraigned Saturday and held under $5,000 bond after waiving examination in a justice court.

Sheriff's detectives said the pair told them they had been responsible for five area breakins since last July. One of the burglaries netted about $2,000 worth of merchandise from a Highland Township market. They also admitted stealing $500 in merchandise and tools from an area lumber company.

Detectives Harry Maur and Leo Hazen said the suspects had stolen an estimated $3,000 in merchandise from the area firms.

"The pair evidently worked in our area and the Cadillac area," Hazen said.

Both suspects were turned over to Cadillac authorities and returned to jail there late yesterday.

Alabama Judge Bows to Order

Turns Voting Records Over to County Grand Jury, Not U.S. Agents

CLAYTON, Ala. (AP)—A defiant Alabama judge, George C. Wallace, turned Barbour County's voter registration records over to a county grand jury today in the face of a federal court order to let federal agents see them.

He left it up to the grand jury to determine whether agents of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission get to inspect the records in connection with its investigation of Negro voting complaints.

Wallace is expected to call another grand jury into session in Bullock County Tuesday to turn custody of that county's records over to the jurors.

Wallace told the grand jury here that he is "willing to face the consequences" if his action brings a citation for contempt of federal court.

U. S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., had ordered Wallace to make the registration files available to commission agents today and Tuesday.

Police Believe Arrests to Solve Many Cases Over Past Year

SOUTHFIELD — With the arrest this weekend of three adults and four juveniles, Southfield police believe they have broken up a gang that has been stealing from homes in the Southfield area during the past year.

The arrests came after the home of William Bertera, 21751 Midway Rd., was broken into Jan. 4. A 12-gauge shotgun, a 22-gauge rifle, a 38-caliber revolver, a strongbox and a small amount of money were taken while the family was away.

Police are holding Leslie Lahner, 18, 17645 Cooley St., and Frank Thomasich, 18, 15106 Chatham St., both of Detroit, and James Remosier, 18, 20298 Westover Rd., Southfield. The four juveniles are petitioned to appear in Oakland Juvenile Court in the near future, police said.

Detective Sgt. Edward Ritenour said one of the juveniles, in trying to get the gun back to its owner discussed the problem with his counselor at the Lederle Junior High School. The youth took the guns to the school and placed them in the counselor's room. Assistant Principal Joseph Dunham, in checking the rooms at 9:30 that night found the weapons and called the police.

Upon questioning, the boy admitted the burglary and implicated the others.

The three adults were scheduled to appear before Judge Clarence A. Reid in Municipal Court, Southfield, at 11 a.m. today.

Diplomat's Daughter, 19, Runs Away

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — An eight states search continued today for two young women, one the daughter of the U.S. ambassador to Argentina, who have been missing from the Rhode Island School of Design since Friday.

They are Joan Beaulac, 19, daughter of Ambassador and Mrs. Willard L. Beaulac of Pawtucket, and Linda Talbot, whose widowed mother resides at Woodstock, Vt.

The girls posted at least six letters in Providence before disappearing. Several were to school friends. In one, Joan distributed art material and other articles among them.

"Linda and I are off," she wrote a schoolmate. "I can't tell you where because somebody is liable to question you and perhaps find the letter.

"Don't worry though. I've got a job waiting for me. We'll eat and take good care of ourselves."

A school oficial said Joan apparently took with her only a small suitcase and a copy of the Declaration of Independence that had been hanging on a wall of her room.

COMEDY BALLET — Janet Reed and Roland Vasques, members of the New York City Ballet Company, are featured on the new Bell Telephone Hour tonight at 8:30 p. m. (Channel 4). Besides their comedy ballet, "Souvenirs," other attractions of the colorcast include Harry Belafonte, Maurice Evans, Renata Tebaldi and duo-pianists Gold and Fizdale.

Hour Colorcast Features Stars

Maurice Evans, Ballet, Belafonte and Tebaldi Spark First of Series

Harry Belafonte, Renata Tebaldi, Maurice Evans, and duo-pianists Gold and Fizdale will be the star attractions for the new Bell Telephone Hour when it makes its television debut over channel 4 at 8:30 tonight.

The New York City Ballet, Baird Marionettes, and Donald Voorhees with the Bell Telephone Orchestra also will be featured on the hour-long program which is being telecast live and in color.

This is the first of four Bell Telephone Hour music specials to be offered this season, featuring the greatest names in classical, popular, vocal, and instrumental music. Theme of the first special will be "Adventures in Music." Later Bell Telephone Hour programs will be seen in early February, March, and April.

Belafonte will make his first TV appearance since early November to sing folk songs of the Caribbean, America, and other parts of the world.

Miss Tebaldi will give the television audience its first chance to see her in "Madame Butterfly" when she sings two excerpts from the opera, in Japanese costume and setting.

Evans, well-known for comedy and tragedy in the theater and on TV, will make his debut as a musical commentator when he recites the Ogden Nash verses for "Carnival of the Animals" by Saint-Saens. The musical description of the animals will be played by Voorhes and the orchestra, while Bill and Cora Baird's Marionettes act out the animal antics.

Duo-pianists Arthur Gold and Robert Fizdale and the New York City Ballet, featuring ballerina Janet Reed and an all-star cast, combine their varied talents to present "Souvenirs," a spoof on fashion life around World War I.

The Statue of Liberty is composed of 300 pieces of sheet copper fitted over a steel framework like a giant jigsaw puzzle. It has withstood the assault of salt-air weathering for 71 years.

Cheyenne's Star Almost Gave Up

Clint Walker Was Set to Run Health Food Business Back Home

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Clint Walker might be operating a health food business in Belleville, Ill., today if he hadn't dropped by his studio recently.

Happily for his movie and TV fans, Clint is now back in the Warner Bros. fold and will be making more "Cheyennes" and theater films.

But he came close to folding up his acting career. Relaxing in his big bare feet at his modest North Hollywood home, he told how he ended his nine-month strike against the studio:

"I had decided to pull up stakes and go back to Belleville, where my twin sister runs a health food business that we own. She thought we could really expand if I joined the operation. So I sold my house and got ready to move.

"But I wanted to hear from the head man that there was no hope for a settlement; I didn't want to move East and then have to return here if Warners made a deal. So I went to the studio on my own initiative and told them the situation."

Now Clint will be back slinging six-shooters instead of yogurt and wheat germ. He starts 1959 with a brand-new contract which assures him of doing features as well as the TV show.

"The money is the same—I'll be getting $1,500 a week," he said. "My argument was never over money; $1,500 is a good salary. I wanted to be able to do feature movies, which give much more satisfaction to an actor than TV films."

Nelson Rockefeller's Son Starts Basic Training

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steven Rockefeller, 22, son of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, was sworn into the Army yesterday and later left for Fort Dix, N. J., for eight weeks basic training.

Young Rockefeller enlisted in the Reserve Corps. After six months active duty he will return to civilian life but will be on call in the Reserves for five and one-half years.

Red Group Goes South

CAPETOWN, South Africa (UPI) —A group of 63 Soviet and Polish scientists and other specialists leave for the antarctic aboard the Russian ship Michail Kalinin today after stopping here for stores and fuel.

MOON MIDGET — It weighs only 2½ ounces, but this tiny transmitter is an important part of man's conquest of space. Connected to an 8-pound TV-type scanning system in a moon rocket, the device is capable of putting out 50 watts to send a close-up picture of the moon back to earth—some 240,000 miles. It was carried in the first lunar probe attempt, the Air Force Pioneer I.

This Is One Rumor That Didn't Pan Out

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "A columnist," somebody said, "is a guy who, if he doesn't hear a good rumor every day, makes up one."

The rumor that Perry Como wants to vacation from TV all next year was already around. NBC denied it. Perry's chief writer, Goodman Ace, said, "I doubt it—Perry did say he'd like to get a two-weeks Florida vacation this year—by taping two shows. He wouldn't really be off the air at all." Perry's ratings are high — but anyway, Ace pointed out, "Perry's never worries about his ratings—he only minds when some friend's rating are low."

WILSON

"I wouldn't doubt it—he's on the fourth year of his sabbatical right now," replied Greene. A columnist is also a guy who got a break that turned out to be a fracture, so we'll drop it, but remember, if it comes true, we scooped everybody.

MONIQUE

Busty Monique Van Vooren, the Belgian Bulge, went down to Dan Stampler's on Greenwich St., slapped Dan with her glove, threatened suit, and angrily hurled wine on an oil painting supposedly of her. "It was an insult to me," stormed Monique. "It was my face with a nude body supposedly mine. I will ask $100,000 damages because it wasn't me—and it was flatchested."

French Chanteuse Lilo, her husband Marquis Guy de la Passardiere and actress Barbara Loden—just arrived from Havana—agreed that the Castro soldiers were beautiful though bearded, polite, non-rapacious, and that in the swank hotels they slept on the floor — they weren't used to beds. They also agreed that George Raft and some of the Chicago-spawned casino operators had guns . . . obtained from "unknown sources."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Embarrassing questions: Are Liz and Eddie still going to get married? Some B'wayites doubt it . . . How do Castroites feel about Errol Flynn assuming command of the Cuban revolution—in the papers? ("Dr. Castro will be terribly disappointed," one friend grieved last night) . . . Why don't the authorities officially clear Jack Barry in the quiz show mess (since they've not accused him of anything) so the poor guy can go back to work?

End of an era: Cafe comics report Lawrence Welk jokes no longer get laughs . . . Jonah Jones was invited to play at Monaco's casino and palace, for $8,500 a week . . . Ava Gardner's contract to make "On the Beach" in Australia promises her a big house and a maid . . .

. . . . TODAY BEST LAUGH: A husband grumbled to his wife, "You promised to love, honor and obey—right now I'd settle for any of em!" . . . That's earl, brother.

2 New Westerns Give TV Horsepower of 25

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two new Westerns were dumped into the schedule during the weekend, giving the three networks a combined horsepower of 25.

Those 25 westerns now account for almost 25 per cent of the prime time of the three networks. Moreover, I should point out that I have not counted such near-westerns as Yancy Derringer and Rin Tin Tin, or the Walt Disney presents show which often features one-hour westerns. I also have failed to include such syndicated whoa-dunits as MacKenzie's Raiders or Death Valley Days which may be seen in prime time in some localities.

Obviously, in the face of such an onslaught, it's difficult to keep a decent perspective about new entries. However:

Rawhide, a one hour western, made its CBS-TV debut on Friday. It's a kind of reverse Wagon Train with the company moving from west to east in an attempt to run a load of cattle from Texas to a Missouri railhead. The opener featured Terry Moore who acted better than the horses, but not much better. The show as a whole struck me as preposterous and dull and a probable hit.

NBC-TV unveiled a half-hour oater, Black Saddle, that's built around a western lawyer. On Saturday, he showed his respect for the law by killing a villain legally. It was heartwarming. This, too, looks like a probable hit. But then, King Farouk on a horse could probably be a hit the way things are running right now.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: NBC-TV's tribute to its late vice president, Emanuel Sachs, now is definitely set for March 3 and lists as performers: Frank Sinatra, Perry Como, Bing Crosby, Dinah Shore, Eddie Fisher and Rosemary Clooney. Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis also will appear, but not as a team.

ABC-TV will launch a one hour series of Saturday night shows in February built around the Rev. Billy Graham's upcoming meetings in Australia—they probably will be kinescopes . . . ABC-TV's western, Rough Riders, has been sold for use on Japanese TV where it'll be dubbed into eastern.

Alan Lomax, the folk singer-researcher who currently is embarked on a study of rock 'n' roll, has attached himself to the ABC-TV Dick Clark show . . . ABC-TV's Maverick will do a western version of the Richard Sheridan comedy, "The Rivals," on Jan. 25 . . . NBC-TV's Jack Paar will take a two-week vacation starting Jan. 19 —Dick Van Dyke will spell Paar the first week and Hugh Downs the second.

Latest Rocket Success Makes Reds Tougher

By PIERRE J. HUSS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — The dramatic success of the Soviet Union's cosmic rocket shot and demonstration therewith that they are ahead of the United States in the outer space race undoubtedly will revive the "tough" diplomatic policy exercised by the Kremlin after launching of Sputnik I on Oct. 4, 1957.

The Anastas Mikoyan goodwill visit to the United States notwithstanding, it is generally anticipated at the U.N. that the Western powers are going to feel this kickback in the wake of the cosmic rocket and increasingly so if the Russians succeed in making good their boast to stage a man-carrying expedition to the moon.

Although the assumption is that Mikoyan's trip will throw new light on the Kremlin's intentions on Berlin, the majority of diplomatic experts are convinced that Moscow will take the utmost advantage of its new prestige and threaten oftener than it will smile.

All key diplomats at U.N. agree, however, that the Soviet Union has no intention of risking a nuclear war either over the Middle East or Germany. This opinion is backed up by a public poll undertaken just now by a German research group.

In reply to the question, "Do you believe that there will be a war within the next two years?" only 4 per cent in West Berlin answered in the affirmative.

In New Delhi, India, 25 per cent answered yes. In South Africa 19 per cent answered affirmatively; in New York, Chicago and San Francisco 17 per cent said yes in each city. In Europe, Stockholm polled 16 per cent yes, Athens 12 per cent, Oslo 10 per cent, Copenhagen and Vienna 8 per cent.

There is always the possibility that the free world will be precipitated to the brink of war by a crisis in any part of the world. But the likelihood is that the current year will have to reckon with at least one dangerous showdown on the Berlin dispute.

It is on that issue and in that city that the NATO powers must face the Soviet-directed forces of East Germany and stand or fall back into ignominious retreat not only from Berlin but for all practicability from the European continent.

In order to stress the utter importance of standing our ground in Berlin irrespective of Soviet actions, I give herewith the views of the German ambassador to the United States, Wilhelm G. Grewe, on the consequences of Western yielding to Moscow. Ambassador Grewe said:

"Western consent to the establishment of a so-called free city of West Berlin would be understood all over the world as signifying the final dismemberment of Germany. Psychologically, the Western nations and even the Germans themselves would conclude that hope has been abandoned for reunification.

"Even if the so-called free city would not immediately fall under Communist domination, its existence would be tantamount to the final dismemberment of Germany—in other words, we would have three German states instead of two, with the free city the third state.

"Under any circumstances, Berlin as a free city would lose its major political functions; to be the center of true information for the East Germans and the last remaining escape route from behind the Iron Curtain.

"Economically, West Berlin would be at the mercy of he Communists. If they were to gain control of Berlin's communications, they would possess the instrument for the permanent strangulation of Berlin's economy and even for the city's starvation. No political independence could be maintained under such circumstances.

"At any time, there would be a suitable pretext for intervention in the internal affairs of the free city government, particularly since the city would be required to prevent 'espionage.' To comply with all such Soviet requirements, the city would have to abolish freedom of the press, speech and assembly.

"Western garrisons would have to evacuate to distances of 100 miles, while 22 Soviet divisions surround Berlin to say nothing of the East German police and army.

"The proposal by Moscow to have U.N. post observers in the free city merely brings to mind that no Communist country has ever allowed freedom of action and movement to a political or military U.N. delegation.

"Another proposal to solve the problem by replacement of the Western occupation forces with contingents of the German army is not more attractive. The presence of German forces in Berlin can never have the political and psychological effect which the presence of Western forces has."

So the Soviet Union and the NATO powers must soon call their shots and decide whether Sputnik diplomacy or Allied solidarity are the best weapons in the game of peace or war.

Cutter Frees Tanker Trapped in Lake Ice

CHICAGO (AP)—The Coast Guard cutter Woodbine opened a path last night for the last of three Great Lakes tankers that became trapped in wind-piled ice in Lake Michigan Saturday.

The tanker, the Mercury operating from Cleveland, continued on its trip to Grand Haven, Mich., with a cargo of gasoline.

The ship and two other tankers had been surrounded by thick ice three miles offshore.

The tanker Clark-Milwaukee of Chicago was able to reach its Indiana Harbor destination earlier yesterday when it was freed by a shift in the wind. The Daniel Pierce of Chicago was freed by another tanker, the Blue Comet, which jarred the ice loose.

How to Speak and Write Like a College Graduate

Now, like thousands of intelligent men and women who have not had college training in English, you can gain the ability to speak and write like a college graduate without going back to school," says Don Bolander of Career Institute, Chicago.

"The new C.I. Method makes it easy. In only 15 minutes a day at home, you can build up your vocabulary, stop making embarrassing mistakes, improve your writing, discover the 'secrets' of interesting conversation."

According to Bolander, "Once you gain a mastery of English, you'll find yourself able to get ahead faster in your job and social life. You'll gain new poise and confidence plus the respect of those around you."

For those interested, Bolander has made available a free 32-page booklet that tells how you can gain the ability to speak and write like a college graduate in your own home. Just put your name and address on a card or letter and send to Don Bolander, Dept. PM-2, 30 East Adams, Chicago 3, Illinois. The booklet will be mailed promptly with no obligation, of course.

Two Texans Are Washington's Men to Watch

Johnson, Rayburn Rule Capitol Roost

(The noise of debate, of threat, of promise fills the air in Washington these days as Congress returns to the war of bills and budgets. But amid all the bluster, who are the key men in the capitol, the men who chart the course of legislation that affects us all? Following is the first of a series of articles by a noted Washington correspondent highlighting the "men to watch," including some strong early starters in the 1960 presidential race.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—This may well go down in history as the year of watchful waiting, before the political struggle of 1960 erupts.

The men to watch during the current session of Congress are as contrasting as a sunburst after rain. Some choose to thunder, some sparkle like lightning, and others are as deceptively gentle as the first fall of snow. But make no mistake about it—all carry the big stick of power.

These men, whose decisions and personal ambitions can drastically affect the pocketbook and well-being of every American citizen have at least one thing in common. All are extravagantly in love with the great game of politics.

To a man, they are dedicated to the capture of the White House prize for their own political party—if not for themselves. For that reason, nearly every major act of the new Congress will be tinged by the crucial presidential contest which looms ahead.

During the coming year, President Eisenhower will continue to hold the single most powerful job in the free world, but thanks to his party's debacle at the polls last November, his influence with the top-sided Democratic Congress may fade to a nodding acquaintanceship.

The two most powerful men in the U.S. Capitol will be ailing, dynamic, peripatetic Lyndon B. Johnson, the Senate majority leader, and aging, influential Sam Rayburn, the speaker of the House.

The two Texans between them will have more to say about the coming legislative program than a dozen Republican solons combined. Both of these political artists will need to cope with muttered complaints behind the locked doors of their own party huddles, but most GOP members will privately concede their good fortune to have two such reasonable, dedicated men as leaders of the opposition.

President Eisenhower, who well understands the vital need for wooing the Democratic kingpins, has tried his charm and engaging grin on both. He has succeeded better with Johnson than with "Mr. Sam."

The latter, in whose Texas district Ike was born, was once asked why he continually uttered such harsh criticism as a "former constituent." Grinning slyly, Rayburn humphed: "Well-l-l, I'll admit he was a nice baby."

Rayburn, who has held the speakership longer than any man in history, despite a two-times swap with minority leader Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, sees little good in Ike to write home about. He has frequently remarked that Eisenhower had as much business running for President as he himself would have had commanding troops as a five star general—without previous training.

By contrast, Lyndon Johnson is a warm admirer of Ike-the-man, and also of much that he has accomplished as President. The genial Texan who suffered a more massive heart attack than Ike only a few weeks before, has framed on his wall the last letter which Eisenhower dictated before he joined the cardiac club. It was a get-well sympathy letter to Johnson.

The super-charged senator who now controls the largest Senate majority in a generation has also assigned to himself the most powerful array of chairmanships in memory.

Besides his uncontested leadership post, he is chairman of the Space Committee, the Preparedness Committee, the Steering Committee, the Policy Committee, the Democratic Conference and the appropriations subcommittee which controls State Department funds.

A member of the Armed Services, but not of the Foreign Relations Committee, Johnson has now served notice that he expects to play an increasingly active role in foreign policy.

Rayburn, who once nursed presidential ambitions, has long since relinquished them because of his 77 birthdays. Johnson, a brilliant compromiser, would undoubtedly like to reside at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., and would be an excellent bet except for the geography of his habitat.

No southerner has had a chance at the presidency since reconstruction days, and with labor now dominating the northern wing of the party, 50-year-old Johnson is too much the realist to entertain false hopes.

Liberal by Dixie standards and seldom heard in rancorous debate, Rayburn and Johnson can be expected to plow a middle course through the current session, and to gird for the all-out party battle of 1960.
