Sight Bombers on Russ Ship Leaving Cuba

U. S. Says 18 Jets Withdrawn; Pentagon Studies Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy patrol planes have sighted 27 IL28 bombers aboard two Russian ships outward bound from Cuba, the Defense Department announced today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet ship carrying about 15 IL28 bombers has been sighted outward bound from Cuba, it was learned today.

This brings to at least 18 the number of the nuclear-capable bombers the Soviets have withdrawn from Cuba on the demand of the United States.

Last Monday, the Defense Department announced that the Soviet ship Okhotsk had been photographed with three IL28 fuselages on the deck. The Pentagon released pictures showing the three plane bodies. The pictures were taken by U.S. naval patrol bombers.

Soviet diplomatic authorities were understood to have notified the United States that a total of more than 40 of the 750-mile range bombers would be removed.

And informed sources said the withdrawal is at a pace that could have all the bombers off the island within a few days.

At the White House, the general situation was under review at a meeting this morning of the Executive Committee of the National Security Council.

ADLAI AT MEETING

U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and John J. McCloy, Cuba policy coordinator, came to Washington for the meeting.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy had decided to call the meeting on Wednesday night, but insisted it was not prompted by any specific development.

Salinger said the subject up for discussion was the continuing talks with Soviet representatives in New York on the Cuban situation.

Informants said the Soviets have taken a hard stand in New York negotiations against forcing Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to accept international inspection which President Kennedy seeks to make certain Cuba stays free of atomic weapons.

DR. DON O. TATROE

Waterford Picks Chief for Schools

Dr. Don O. Tatroe, assistant superintendent of Warren Consolidated Schools, last night was named superintendent of Waterford Township Schools effective Jan. 28.

A three-year contract at $16,500 annually was unanimously approved at a special meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Dr. Tatroe was contacted by telephone at his home following the meeting and accepted the offer.

The naming of a new superintendent ended an extensive search by the board's personnel committee for a successor to William Schunck, who resigned Aug. 18 to become superintendent of Wayne County Schools.

Nearly 50 applications were reviewed by the committee and 20 interviews were conducted.

"Dr. Tatroe has the youth, educational background, energy and educational philosophy that we were seeking," said committee chairman Eldon Rosegart.

Dr. Tatroe, 34, has been assistant superintendent of the Warren school system for over seven years. Married and the father of four children, he is living at 31649 Pagels Drive, Warren.

He received his doctor of education degree in 1958 from Michigan State University.

He is a past president of the Warren Rotary Club, Warren Community Council and a former schools chairman of the March of Dimes and United Community Services campaigns.

James Denlerder, who became acting superintendent when Schunck resigned, will continue in that capacity until Jan. 28 when he will return to his former position as assistant to the superintendent.

Letter Made Public

JFK Gives Adlai Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Kennedy hopes his public declaration of "fullest confidence" in Adlai Stevenson will put an end to speculation that the U.N. ambassador may be on his way out.

A "Dear Adlai" letter from Kennedy to Stevenson was made public by the White House last night. Officials said the decision to give it out was prompted by the President's determination to try to remove any uncertainty about Stevenson's future.

The speculation stemmed from publication of a Saturday Evening Post article written by two Washington reporters, Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, a close friend of the President.

The article quoted anonymous officials as saying that at the outset of the Cuban crisis Stevenson dissented from Kennedy's decision to throw a naval blockade around Cuba and advocated a softer approach.

★ ★ ★

Denials by the White House and by Stevenson, coupled with statements that Stevenson had in fact supported the blockade decision, failed to quiet the speculation. Officials decided the tempest could be stilled only by personal action by Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

The letter, read to newsmen by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, made two major points:

1. That Kennedy has the "fullest confidence" in Stevenson and has valued his advice "very highly."

2. That Stevenson will continue as ambassador at the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

The letter also showed that Kennedy is satisfied the Soviet Union's withdrawing of missiles and bombers from Cuba has effectively ended the nuclear threat to U.S. security.

'MENACE GONE'

The President said without qualification "We have eliminated the nuclear menace from Cuba."

★ ★ ★

He cited that point in his letter to Stevenson as evidence of "the prudence of our policy and its execution, in which you played such an active part."

Associates said Tuesday that if Stevenson had not been satisfied about the President's position he would have resigned already.

The White House said Kennedy's letter reached Stevenson at the United Nations about noon yesterday.

But there were indications Stevenson had been satisfied after a Monday conference with Kennedy that he had the President's backing in spite of the implication in the article that someone in the administration might be trying to put an end to his U.N. career.

Mistrial Ruling Sought Following Hoffa Attack

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—James R. Hoffa's attorneys said they would file formal notice for a mistrial as a result of the air pistol attack Wednesday on the Teamsters Union president.

The defense gave notice of its intention as the $1-million conspiracy trial resumed in a subdued atmosphere before a security-conscious U.S. district judge. U.S. marshals guarded entrances to the courtroom.

Daniel Maher, a Hoffa attorney, sought to move for a mistrial but Judge William E. Miller told him to put the motion in writing and submit it to the clerk. Miller said he would give it consideration but did not want to waste time hearing defense arguments.

Hoffa said he suffered no ill effects from the pellets, which bounced off his body.

The union official said that as a result of the incident he would not permit his wife to testify in the case. Hoffa said his wife, who has been ill about a year, planned to testify later but that he did not want to "subject her to this."

A government attorney announced that he had a motion, not connected with the shooting incident, which he wanted to make with the press and spectators out of the courtroom.

Over defense objections, Miller ordered the courtroom cleared and deputy marshals placed newspapers over the glass panels in the courtroom doors.

The shots were fired at Hoffa Wednesday by a man identified as Warren Swanson, 28, of Washington, D.C. Hoffa ducked, then lunged at the man, knocking him to the floor.

Swanson required 14 stitches to repair head wounds. A deputy U.S. marshal struck him on the back of the head with a pistol and a Hoffa bodyguard got in a few kicks before the bleeding man was led from court in handcuffs.

Eleven Firemen Escape Death in Wall Cave-In

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A brick wall collapsed on firemen battling roaring flames in an old warehouse early today. Eleven fire fighters were injured.

There were no fatalities.

"I'm surprised that none of us is dead," said 28-year-old Eugene Morse, a fireman for six years.

He was standing underneath a balcony and tin canopy when the wall began crumbling.

Promises to Play Fair on Tax Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin says his agency does not want to interfere with legitimate expense account deductions in setting up new tax rules.

Caplin promised yesterday that the regulations enacted by the Internal Revenue Service "will achieve a basically fair and sound approach consistent with the intent of Congress" under the law that authorized them.

Caplin issued his statement after two days of hearings on proposed tax rules which the IRS says are designed to stop expense account abuses.

The proposed regulations brought a chorus of protests from businessmen and their organizations.

The 1962 tax law, effective Jan. 1, requires more stringent business accounting of expenditures for travel, entertainment and gifts.

Attorneys Sherman Dye of Cleveland, for the American League, and Robert B. Hodes, for the National, said the regulations could cut gate receipts at major league baseball ballparks, and at other athletic, cultural and civic events.

Navy Missile Test Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A Navy attempt to score its first full success with a highly advanced Polaris "A3" missile failed today when the rocked veered out of control and had to be destroyed. It was the sixth straight Polaris failure.

3 to 6 Inches Is Prediction for Local Area

Driving Conditions Called Hazardous in All Parts of County

Continuing heavy snow with accumulations ranging from three to six inches or more is the outlook for the Pontiac area as the first storm of the season put an end today to the April-in-December weather.

Snow began falling on Pontiac during the night as a cold blast of arctic air invaded Michigan, bringing with it subfreezing temperatures.

Warning of winds reaching 25 miles an hour also were issued by the U.S. Weather Bureau, for some parts of the state.

The mercury slid from a high of 48 yesterday to 28 recorded in Pontiac at 2 p.m. Two days ago the area was basking in 60 degree weather.

The falling snow made driving conditions hazardous in all parts of Oakland County.

TRAFFIC SLOWED

Traffic was slowed during the morning hours as some motorists vainly attempted to drive up hills and even small rises in the road.

The Pontiac Department of Public Works started at 5:30 a.m. to salt all major city streets. No traffic accidents were reported to the Pontiac police resulting from the weather.

It was a different story with the Oakland County Sheriff's department where more than 30 accidents, all minor, were recorded before 10:30 a.m.

Temperatures dropped to freezing and below freezing at all 16 cities reported by the Weather Bureau.

At Grosse Ile, several schools were closed for the day because of heating troubles and 41 Cuban refugees who arrived from Florida to resettle in Michigan got their first taste of typical winter weather in the north.

The big snow storm, heaviest of the season, was hitting all of southern Michigan today. Roads in some areas became choked with snow. Highway crews were busy trying to keep even with the precipitation.

The weatherman said the snow would continue tonight and tomorrow, with occasional flurries also on tap for Saturday. Cloudy, windy and cold, was the forecast for all of Michigan.

Highs today will range in the 30s in lower Michigan and slightly colder in the Upper Peninsula. Lows tonight will dip below freezing.

★ ★ ★

The outlook for Saturday is cloudy and cold, with occasional snow.

County Road Commission Chairman Sol D. Lomerson said 15 or 20 trucks began spreading salt on county roads about 3 a.m. today.

Smog Still Blankets London With Death

LONDON (AP)—A dense lethal smog settled down on London again tonight, with the death toll already 67 and another 738 victims of the sulphurous fumes in city hospitals.

The choking pall thickened with the early darkness for the fourth consecutive night.

A government weather bureau spokesman said: "It's a repeat performance of the previous nights—just as intense and thickening at the same time.

The rest of the country is now comparatively clear, but there is no relief in sight for London and the lower Thames River areas until tomorrow, at the earliest."

Outside London, dozens of automobile accidents occurred on icy roads and another transportation freeze was predicted for England and Wales during the night hours.

A spokesman of the British Automobile Association said the number of smashed cars made some stretches of highway look like battlefields.

'SMOKE DOUBLES'

Air tests in central London showed the midday smoke content to be 2½ times the average for a comparative December day. But worse still, the concentration of the combustion byproduct—sulphur dioxide—was seven times average. That was blamed for the bulk of the deaths.

Most of the victims were elderly or were already suffering from respiratory ailments when the pall descended.

Some of them dropped dead on London streets. Others died soon after arrival in hospitals.

Welfare Man Given Backing

Board Reviews Firing of Woman; to Up Fees

Oakland County's Social Welfare Board, after reviewing the firing of Helen E. Slayton as deputy director of the welfare department by acting director George H. Williams, yesterday gave Williams a unanimous vote of confidence.

★ ★ ★

The board also approved a higher fee schedule for doctors treating welfare patients, adding an estimated $40,000 to the annual cost of medical care for the county's welfare recipients.

★ ★ ★

The vote of confidence reaffirmed an Aug. 3 resolution that Williams was to have full responsibility for the operation of the welfare department as acting director.

★ ★ ★

Williams will become director Jan. 1 when the retirement of George H. Burt as director becomes effective, according to the resolution.

ILL SINCE '61

Burt has been ill since the summer of 1961 but has kept the director's title while using up accumulated sick leave.

★ ★ ★

Williams fired Mrs. Slayton, who had been with the department for 20 years, for "insubordination" and "lack of cooperation," charges which she denied.

The boost in doctor's fees, the first change since 1947, was requested by the Oakland County Medical Society.

Talking Toys Make Youngsters Happy

(Editor's Note—This is one in a series of stories designed to aid Christmas shoppers in making gift selections at stores in the Pontiac area.)

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Comedian's jokes about talking dogs and horses will fall flat with youngsters this Christmas. There really are such animals.

One of the biggest attractions in talking toys is a rocking horse named Blaze, who demands to be fed with "Hey bub, how about some hay;" then lets out an honest-to-goodness "whinney."

The rocking horse's four legs are movable so he can "gallop." All little folks have to do to make Blaze rear up is lean back on the animal.

If it's kicking they want, the pony obliges when the rider leans forward.

Then there is Bugs Bunny — one of the "talkingest" animals you ever heard. Among the 11 different phrases that tumble out of his toothy mouth is "What's up doc," "You're a cute bunny," and "I like you."

Clerks agree the bunny toy talks plainer than the baby dolls.

Cecil the Seasick Sea Serpent, says "Now, just a darn'd minute," then launches off into a laughing spree that tickles young and old alike. Cecil also sports a complete disguise wardrobe.

One little toy doll, with closed eyes, moves her arms and legs ever so slightly — so that she can snuggle down and go to sleep with some live doll.

"Lullabye, and goodnight," is the tune played softly by a concealed music box in the washable toy.

"Barbie," one of the most popular dolls, now has a beautiful dream house filled with cardboard furniture.

This house is a portable type that folds up into a suitcase for easy storage (something new).

Barbie also has a sleek sports car among her accessories.

'Tis the Season for Bum Checks

Oakland County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long and Anthony F. Stiel, chief investigator for the prosecutor's office, yesterday cautioned businessmen to be especially alert for bad checks during the holiday shopping time.

A large portion of the more than $500,000 per year lost by county merchants because of bad checks is accounted for during this time, they said.

Stolen checks made out to women but cashed by men signing their own names have been known to be accepted, and there have been instances of merchants cashing check stubs, they said.

Most important rule, they pointed out, is to know the person cashing the check.

Long and Stiel also warned shoppers against writing checks without sufficient funds, a law violation that may carry a penalty as high as two years in prison.

Chinese Hits Yugoslavia

Brands Tito a Traitor

VIENNA (UPI)—A Chinese Communist official today attacked Yugoslavia by name and Russia by implication in a speech to the Czech Communist party congress.

The 1,500 delegates leaped to their feet in protest, the Czech news agency reported.

Chinese delegate Wu Hsiu chan called Yugoslav President Tito "a brazen traitor to the working class" at a time when Tito was engaged in friendly talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow.

He implied that Russia retreated during the Cuban crisis when he said "these modern revisionists, these brazen traitors represented by the leading group of Yugoslavia, are submitting to imperialist pressure."

DELEGATES SHOUT

But at the end of Wu's message of greeting from the Peking central committee, the news agency said the delegates leaped up shouting "long live Czech-Soviet friendship."

In Rome, meanwhile, the Albanian Communists rather unexpectedly made their voice heard in the Italian Party Congress with a message about one of the few things on which they and Moscow agree—hostility to U.S. missile bases.

The Albanians, who are aligned with China against the Kremlin and are not represented at the Italian Communist Congress, have played whipping boy in a four-day verbal offensive here of the Moscow bloc against Peking.

As if nothing had happened, Congress officials read a message of greetings today from the Albanian Workers (Communist) party.

Elect Head of Medical Society

Dr. Robert M. Bookmyer, 39, a Birmingham pediatrician, last night was chosen president-elect of the Oakland County Medical Society.

In its annual meeting, the society also installed as its 1963 president Dr. Harry Arnkoff of Pontiac.

A graduate of the Wayne State University College of Medicine, Dr. Bookmeyer served in the U.S. Navy from 1941 to 1945 and again from 1954 to 1956.

He has been in practice in Oakland County since 1956.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Arnkoff was elected last year to fill the 1963 presidency and will serve until December, 1963 when Dr. Bookmyer's term will begin.

Dr. Arnkoff succeeds Dr. James A. Read of Birmingham, who served this year.

The meeting was held at the Kingsley Inn, with an estimated 90 doctors present.

★ ★ ★

Other officers elected were: Dr. Everette Gustafson of Pontiac, treasurer; and Dr. Frederick W. Bryant of Royal Oak, secretary.

Chosen to the board of directors were Dr. Worth W. Henderson of Royal Oak and Dr. Charles P. Barker of Birmingham.

Named delegates to the state convention of the Michigan Medical Society were Dr. Bookmyer, Dr. James R. Quinn of Pontiac and Dr. Rodman C. Jacobi of Oxford.

Alternate delegates are Dr. John H. McLaughlin of Birmingham, Dr. Kenneth VandenBerg of Pontiac and Dr. Carl H. Birkelo of Drayton Plains.

Appeal for Juvenile Funds Runs Up Against Shortage

By DICK HANSON

An appeal for more juvenile care facilities to meet Oakland County's present "emergency" needs was made yesterday before the committee in control of the county's purse strings.

★ ★ ★

But David Levinson, chairman of the ways and means committee of the County Board of Supervisors, declared the purse is empty when confronted by the juvenile committee.

"We are committed to proceed with a Children's Village by having purchased property for it," he admitted.

The Children's Village is Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore's recommended solution to the lack of facilities for children placed in the county's care by his court.

The juvenile committee is urging immediate construction of initial units in the complex to ease present overcrowding of existing facilities.

ESTIMATE COST

These proposed units, including two cottages for emotionally disturbed children and two others to further relieve the overcrowding, would cost an estimated $515,000, according to Pontiac architect Harry M. Denyes Jr.

The full board of supervisors will meet Dec. 13 to study the problem and recommendations of the juvenile committee.

Yesterday, at a joint meeting with the ways and means committee, the juvenile committee recommended a building authority as the only way to finance immediate construction of the initial units of the village.

The juvenile committee proposed the establishment of the authority which would raise a bond for construction costs and then lease the units to the county at approximately $200,000 a year.

The total village will cost approximately $3 million.

AGAINST SCHEME

Levinson expressed disfavor with the building authority scheme, favoring an additional tax of half a mill to finance construction if approved by voters at the polls in April.

The additional millage would raise $3 million in three years, at a considerable savings of interest entailed in leasing arrangements.

Interest paid to a building authority would amount to an additional $3 million over 30 years, raising the total cost of the village roughly to $6 million.

The juvenile committee has suggested asking voters for a tenth of a mill instead of half a mill. The lesser rate would raise $200,000 a year toward amortising the lease.

"We would stand a much better chance of voter approval of the lesser amount, juvenile committee chairman Abraham Brickner said.

A building authority would enable immediate construction of initial units, where waiting for voter approval would require waiting two years before starting to build, Brickner said.

Levinson denied that it would take two years, stating, that once approved, the county could budget the necessary amount in its next budget and initiate construction in anticipation of receiving the additional taxes.

"Besides, I think we might be able to get half the money in a federal grant under the Acceleration Act next year," he said.

Winter Blows Across Nation

By The Associated Press

Wintry weather, with strong winds, snow and cold rain, spread across wide areas from the Rockies into the Ohio Valley today. Cold air and light snow extended southward into Tennessee and northern Georgia.

The cold air mass had not reached the Atlantic seaboard but rain or showers dampened Florida and most coastal areas from South Carolina to Maine. The Atlantic storm moved northeastward and caused rough seas along the New England coast. Rain fell inland across New England.

★ ★ ★

Cold northwesterly winds carried snow from the Upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes across the Ohio Valley to the mountains of North Carolina and the Virginia highlands. Snow flurries peppered Atlanta, where the mercury dropped to 30 degrees.

U.N. Hopes Up as U.S., Russia Sign Two Pacts

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. delegates took heart today from two U.S.-Soviet agreements on scientific cooperation in a series of space experiments and on the general economic benefits of disarmament.

Delegates expressed guarded hope that the two agreements, together with the easing of the Cuban crisis, signaled a period of comparative harmony in East-West relations.

★ ★ ★

At Geneva, however, disarmament negotiators were deadlocked as tight as ever on the key issue of controls.

★ ★ ★

In short, the Soviets and the West were agreed on the great benefits disarmament would bring, but they were no nearer agreement on disarmament itself.

HAILED BY ADLAI

Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate at the United Nations, hailed the limited agreement on cooperation in space as a "practical demonstration that our nations can, despite political differences, cooperate in a highly important field of human endeavor."

★ ★ ★

The fruit of a broad agreement between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev early in the year, it provides for scientists of the two nations to work together in the use of earth satellites in communications, weather forecasting and mapping of the earth's magnetic field.

★ ★ ★

The agreement was worked out in summary at Geneva last June by Hugh L. Dryden, deputy director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), and Soviet academician Anatoly A. Blagonravov.

★ ★ ★

Secretary-General U Thant and the 110-nation political committee were given the details Wednesday.

In 1964-65 the two nations will coordinate the launching of weather satellites after working out methods of exchanging information gained from experiments this year and next.

In 1964-65, called the international year of the quiet sun, each nation will launch a satellite to map the magnetic field.

Next year, they also will cooperate in experiments with the U.S. communications satellite Echo A12.

The agreement omitted any tests with Telstar, the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. communications satellite. The Soviet Union holds that use of space should be limited to governments.

In the second agreement announced Wednesday, a joint U.S.-Soviet declaration said world disarmament would be of multibillion-dollar benefit to lesser developed nations and would not hurt the economy of any nation. It said the world is spending $120 billion a year for weapons.

The declaration was approved unanimously by the General Assembly's economic committee which is considering a report by a group of international experts that a shutdown of arms factories would not set off an economic recession.

The declaration is less binding than a resolution.

City Planners Favor Rezoning

The City Planning Commission last night took an initial step toward increasing the amount of land available for industrial development in Pontiac.

Planners recommended rezoning an area of South Park Subdivision—containing more than 150 lots—from residential to manufacturing. A public hearing on the motion was slated for the group's next meeting Jan. 9.

The land lies north of South Boulevard between East Boulevard and Bradford Street.

There are only about 11 occupied residences in the area now. The rest is undeveloped due to a lack of sufficient sewage facilities.

Almost all of the land zoned for industrial use in Pontiac now is marked for expansion of existing industries or comes in parcels too small for development of a major industry.

Hoffa, 49, is accused of conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting undercover payments from a transport firm in return for labor peace. The trial is in its seventh week.

The jury was out of the courtroom when the incident occurred. Miller ordered the jurors locked up overnight for the first time during the trial to prevent their hearing about it.

While Swanson underwent emergency treatment at a hospital, he told newsmen he came here to kill Hoffa—a man he never had met —because of a vision he had last month.

India to Recall China Consuls

Announces Closing Due to Restrictions by Reds

From Our News Wires

NEW DELHI, India—India announced today the closing of her consulates in Communist China and Tibet because of restrictions placed on them by Chinese authorities.

Closing of the consulates, at Shanghai and Lhasa, will be effective Dec. 15, a spokesman for the Indian foreign ministry said.

Red China has been asked to close her two consulates at Bombay and Calcutta reciprocally on the same date, the spokesman said, adding a note to this effect was given to the Chinese embassy in New Delhi Monday.

In Tezpur, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said India will achieve ultimate victory and emerge stronger than ever in its conflict with Red China.

"Ultimately victory will be ours and we must emerge stronger than ever before," he said as he toured the northern border areas with Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan.

He visited a group of 64 sick and wounded Indian prisoners who were returned by the Chinese yesterday, along with the body of one dead soldier.

Nehru also held a news conference at which he warned that the country should not think delivery of Soviet-built MIG jet fighter planes should make any big difference in India's defense potential.

GMTC Has Banner Month

General Motors Corp. Truck and Coach Division today announced that domestic retail deliveries of trucks and buses this November were the highest for any month since August 1960.

The sales also topped last November's figure by 13.1 per cent, according to Calvin J. Werner, vice president of GM and general manager of the division.

He said 7,889 vehicles were delivered last month. This makes the month the best November since 1955, he said.

Soloists for this performance will be Carolyn Grimes, soprano; Alice Engram, contralto; Kenneth Ish, tenor and Amasa Tiffany, bass.

Mildred G. Ritter will be the organist. Concertmaster for the orchestra will be John Cataldo.

Dr. W. Glen Harris, pastor of the church, will officiate at the service. A reception for all who attend the service will follow in the social hall of the church.

A newly organized social group for single men and women called the 30 Up Club will meet tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the Birmingham YMCA, 400 E. Lincoln Ave. The YMCA-sponsored club will meet regularly on Friday nights.

Two films about artist Vincent Van Gogh will be shown at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Birmingham Art Center.

Entitled "Van Gogh" and "Van Gogh from Darkness to Light," the movies will be presented here under the sponsorship of the Bloomfield Art Association prior to their showing at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The movies are open to the public.

Ikeda, Kennedy Agree

TOKYO (AP) —Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda agreed with President Kennedy today on the need to contain communism in Asia but made clear Japan has no intention of halting its trade with Red China.

Editor Says Papers Key to Democracy

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — An editor of two Louisville, Ky., newspapers says "democracy will rise or fall on the quality and integrity and responsibility of its journalism."

* * *

Norman Isaacs, executive editor of the Courier-Journal and Times, addressed a teachers workshop here on the newspaper in the classroom, and termed the teacher, the minister and newspaperman as a triumvirate with a joint mission of "helping lead people toward the greatest wealth on earth: the fruits of honest investigation."

Sure to repeat their Merry Christmas message all year round are these pretty bathroom towels. They're practical, but they have spark and drama in their colors, and this gives them extra gift appeal at Christmas.

Vice Thrives in Shanghai Though Reds Deny It

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists claim prostitution has been wiped out in Red China, but a recent arrival says it is flourishing again in the port city of Shanghai.

He said gambling is also flourishing along with a thriving black market in gold and foreign exchange in the major Red China cities.

Denim Goes to College

NEW YORK (UPI)—Denim, never a fabric to take a back seat, moves up front in college clothes.

Included are frontier pants, hip huggers with their low-waisted look, street length wrap skirts, Bermuda skirts with patch pockets and back wrap treatment to be worn with leotard tights and high boots, blazers with matching slacks, and ski parkas.

Pete Loses Feathers in Vacuum Accident

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (AP)—Pete the parakeet is a little short of feathers.

Ronnie Talley, 9, was helping his mother vacuum when Pete came over to watch the process. "Whoosh" went the vacuum.

Pete was rescued, none the worse for his adventure except for a loss of plumage and interest in housecleaning chores.

Theater Group Slates First at-Home Season

ABINGDON, Va. (AP) — The Barter Theater is planning its first at-home winter season since being founded 30 years ago.

The schedule will include two-week showings here of each of the seven plays that are sent on tour. In prior years, the Barter's winter activities have been concentrated entirely on travelling productions.

Tito and Khrushchev Becoming Friends?

What was originally billed as a "vacation trip" in Russia for Yugoslav President Tito has turned into a series of talks in Moscow with NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV.

★ ★ ★

The hard Russian winter may be made more agreeable by the thawing climate of Russian-Yugoslav relations. Reliable sources seem to agree that Tito's major policy talks with K will most certainly result in a further truce from the bickering that has been going on between the two Communist nations since 1948.

★ ★ ★

These two leaders, who have not acted like "old buddies" in recent years, just happen to face a common enemy today. And, oddly enough, it is not the West. Instead they are concerned about Red China.

★ ★ ★

Peking already has told Khrushchev that the Soviet retreat, and that's what they called the Russian back-off in Cuba, was from pressure by the United States. They termed it appeasement and let it be known they were not for it.

For some little time it has been well known that MAO TSE-TUNG'S opinion of TITO and his "modern revisionism" was low. The fact that TITO has been a dealer with both the West and the Reds killed off any friendship between Red China and Yugoslavia that might have existed.

★ ★ ★

Will the fact that Tito and K move closer together dilute Tito's "positive and active neutralism" in the cold war? Some Western observers concluded from Tito's talks in Belgrade with Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko last spring that Yugoslavia's "nonbloc independence" was more fiction than fact.

We concur with this general feeling after visiting the countries a little over a year ago and talking with their ministers. The politics of the two nations are pretty much alike.

Teamster Members Approve of Leaders?

Another high Teamster official is caught shaking down a firm to provide labor peace.

Ho hum. What else is new? Teamster members read time and time again that their elected leaders are milking the treasury or selling their favors to firms.

Comes election time in the local, and the same hoodlums remain in power.

Interview some truckers and you often get this type of answer: "Truck driver pay is tops. I'm getting mine; why should I worry?"

★ ★ ★

Perhaps there is a certain pride in the notoriety of belonging to one of the most scandal- and graft-ridden unions that has ever existed.

Industrial Peace Cited in Civic Celebration

We congratulate Hart Shaffner & Marx and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America on their joint record of 52 strikeless years.

The completion of the unprecedented period of peaceful relations was recently celebrated in Chicago by a birthday dinner tendered by the union to the company. Attending were 500 civic, business and labor leaders, with Labor Secretary W. WILLARD WIRTZ heading the list of notables.

★ ★ ★

The labor secretary announced that a Hall of Honor would be established to commemorate "memorable achievements in the living history of labor-management relations." He added that the first to be honored would be the two organizations then being recognized for exemplary industrial harmony.

★ ★ ★

It is to be hoped that this long period of labor peace will serve as an inspiration in other organized labor areas—to the end that useless and unrewarding work stoppages and strikes will in time become as antiquated as the concept of labor exploitation.

Blue Jay Traced

Led to Stray by Press, Owner Given the Bird

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

It's odd how things in life go together—like ham and eggs, dollars and cents, Romeo and Juliet—and so on.

★ ★ ★

What brought this philosophical scoop to mind is a delightful letter from "Your Boy, Browne" who recently provided a floating supply of corks following a column lament that there was a great scarcity of same.

My friend wrote with insight in regard to a recent item about an AWOL blue jay named, it turned out that had been found as an orphan by

Jonnie Jay

Clarence Taylor

of 602 Mt. Clemens St., nested in a box of down and eye-dropper fed for sometime . . . imagine having to keep fixing formula for a blue jay!

★ ★ ★

But, you see what I mean. You've really got to be omniscient to pair up corks with a bird, as he did.

Well, it seems, the jay, after leading a feathered life of Riley eventually became airborne, took off one day and made an unscheduled landing on Riverside Drive. It was there that he was reported by a householder and mentioned by the MAT.

Thus made aware of his pet's change of address (the column seems to have an amazing readership, hey editor?) the patron went there complete with cage, hoping to retrieve the flyboy.

But alas! There was not a flutter of interest. Jonnie had fallen in love and decided that's for the birds.

Your Boy—Egad! . . . that Browne's got me doing it—had never heard of roses growing for Christmas, but it looks as though of Clarkston is going to score a first.

Mrs. Vern Hewitt

★ ★ ★

Acquiring an Elsa Polis bush from the South in late summer, she planted it in August for production next year.

Well, sir, just before Thanksgiving Day, a bud and rose appeared. Now the rose is still doing nicely, thank you, and two more buds are ready to bloom.

The seventeenth edition of the "Chief Pontiac" society was observed Tuesday evening at Bloomfield Hills Country Club, with 200 dues-paying members in attendance. (Memo from Treasurer: They have to pay or they don't get in.)

The organization has no particular objectives and, contrary to most, doesn't even claim any. It is an informal, nonexclusive band that assembles to honor new or departing public and industrial worthies, salute outstanding achievement —or just salute . . . Tuesday's event fell into the last category.

There is a minimum of domestic resistance to membership participation, since the observances begin at 5:00 p.m. and end promptly—repeat promptly—two hours later. Then members are free to go home . . . which some do.

The MAT's sorry that the anxiety voiced by four-year-old was sent in anonymously . . . But anyway, he'd been watching a Santa Claus parade on TV when he suddenly became worried about his expected presents. Turning to his grandmother, he asked, "Grandma, Santa looks awful old. Do you think he will live to Christmas?

Over The Back Fence

David Lawrence Asks:

What's Going On Behind Adlai?

WASHINGTON — Poor Adlai Stevenson! Twice he was the Democratic party's presidential nominee and lost.

Once he was talked of for secretary of state in President Kennedy's Cabinet. He lost out there, too.

Now the former governor of Illinois, who is this country's ambassador to and official spokesman in the United Nations, can't be exactly sure just where he stands. Will he lose out in that post, too?

For a furor has been caused by a magazine article which quotes anonymous officials as implying that Mr. Stevenson was an appeaser in the recent Cuban crisis.

Naturally, this is reported to have impaired, for the moment anyway, Mr. Stevenson's prestige at the U.N.

So the White House issues words of consolation to Mr. Stevenson and tells the public in strong words that Mr. Kennedy's ambassador to the U.N. is still a trusted adviser of the President of the United States.

★ ★ ★

In these days of "manipulated news," one doesn't know what denials and reassurances really mean.

There are rumors of "palace intrigue" and of a "Washington vendetta."

One report has it that the plan was or still is that McGeorge Bundy, a very able adviser to the President and former dean of Harvard, is being groomed to become secretary of state in place of Dean Rusk, who, in turn, is to go to the U.N. as ambassador.

But it isn't clear what post Mr. Stevenson would get. So the rumors are still purely theoretical speculation and, for a while at least, will be dismissed as groundless.

UNSTABLE SITUATION

But nobody can ignore the fact that there is an unstable situation surrounding the advisers to the President. The cabinet as such has been relegated to an unimportant position as an advisory body.

What really happened at the top-level conferences relating to Cuba? The Saturday Evening Post article—written by Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, two able reporters who are close friends of President Kennedy — merely quoted an anonymous participant in the high councils of the administration as saying:

"Adlai wanted a Munich. He wanted to trade the Turkish, Italian and British missile bases for the Cuban bases."

★ ★ ★

But it isn't clear whether Mr. Stevenson just wanted the subject of "trades" put on the agenda or whether he really recommended such a course.

Some "trading" was apparently done, as is evidenced by a speech by U Thant, secretary general of the U.N., who referred the other day to the Cuban agreement of recent weeks as having been an example of "compromise" and of "the principle of give and take."

Now, it is a bit unfair to Mr. Stevenson to picture him as an appeaser just on the basis of someone else's interpretation of his comments or basic thinking.

Mr. Stevenson has an agile mind. While he must know that appeasement doesn't pay, he is one of the school of thought which sees some virtue in marathon negotiations.

He probably did no more in the high council proceedings than sketch the idea of possible negotiation within which a settlement might be achieved.

The Washington "Evening Star," with a sense of detachment from the whole melee, asks in an editorial "Who managed the leak?" and then, with tongue in cheek, says:

"It is all very confusing. Under a system of managed news, nobody is ever quite sure of the aims of such management.

"Was it, in this case, to discredit Mr. Stevenson, or to discredit him in order to provide an opportunity to praise him?"

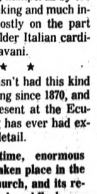
Bob Considine Says:

Reappraisal Main Issue Facing Vatican Council

There seems to be some misunderstanding about the basic purpose of the second Vatican Council, which is about to recess for nine months.



CONSIDINE

The matter of Christian unity has been stressed by the presence at the Vatican of non-Catholic Christian clergymen.

Actually, the No. 1 item on the agenda has been the Roman church's Reappraisal of where it has been, where it is now and where it is going.

In the opinion of most of the American cardinals and bishops, the council has moved along much too slowly, hampered by too much speech-making and much intransigeance, mostly on the part of some of the older Italian cardinals, notably Ottavani.

The church hasn't had this kind of inventory-taking since 1870, and thus no man present at the Ecumenical meeting has ever had experience in that detail.

Since that time, enormous changes have taken place in the world, in the church, and its relations with its colossal flock.

Streamlining the church's ancient administrative systems will be the biggest task of the Vatican Council.

In the view of its more forward-minded bishops it must elevate the stature of the laity and perhaps even give it the rights to say Mass in remote outposts unserved by priests or missionaries.

The required daily reading by priests of their breviaries is now subject to a cut-down, to release them for other tasks more closely related to the good of their parishes.

★ ★ ★

There are scores of points on which the conflicting churches of Christianity can find accord that have nothing to do with the recognition of the Pope as the supreme arbiter: the common zeal for peace, an end to poverty, ignorance and the deprivation of civil rights.

The sects have another common meeting ground.

When the last Vatican Council was held, Karl Marx was 52 years old. At 26 he had written "religion is the opiate of the people," but it is not likely that his name was mentioned at the council of 1870.

Today Communism controls 40 per cent of the peoples of the world, and one of its prime aims is the destruction of all those who sit today in St. Peter's to speak of peace, freedom, order and unity.

In Washington:

Rocky Heads List of Possibilities

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A big sampling of Republican leaders across the country generally sees New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller topping the 1964 GOP presidential list. But ideas on a possible serious rival just haven't jelled.

With Republican professionals about to gather in Washington to start making hard plans for 1964, this correspondent conducted a coast-to-coast survey by telephone to gauge the early sentiment. Their responses cannot be attributed to them by name.

In assigning Rockefeller a commanding front position, those leaders who were queried tended, in one sense, simply to confirm a widely held notion in and out of politics. But they fleshed out the impression with interesting detail.

For one thing, it is abundantly clear that Rockefeller not only leads in the more liberal Northeast but already has made a sizable dent in the conservative Central, Plains and Mountain States. The South and Southwest are, of course, the chief regions where the governor's name stirs expressions of distaste and hostility.

For another, not a single politician tapped in this survey suggested Rockefeller had been hurt by the fact that his 518,000-vote margin in 1962 fell below both the forecast and his 1958 showing. The matter was never even mentioned.

★ ★ ★

Not surprisingly, other names offered as 1964 possibilities were Governors-elect George Romney of Michigan and William Scranton of Pennsylvania, and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater. One leader tossed in Sen. Thruston Morton, recently re-elected in Kentucky.

The over-all view on Romney and Scranton was, however, that in national terms they are still pretty much unknown and totally unproven.

Goldwater, the deep South's overwhelming favorite, is fondly mentioned in nearly all parts of the country, but often by men who say in the next breath that he could not be elected and may not be a serious candidate.

No respondent talked as if he had yet made more than a mental commitment to Rockefeller, if that. Some said they were "open-minded" on the 1964 race, wanted to see more of him and others, but nevertheless felt he is today for and away the leader.

In this connection, it is not widely known that George Hinman, Rockefeller's chief forager in national pastures for the last two years, recently wrote GOP leaders in several major states disclaiming any present Rockefeller intent to seek 1964 commitments.

In substantially identical letters, Hinman said the governor not only is not now seeking support but for the time remains personally uncommitted to running — and thinks the party should keep itself free on the subject.

★ ★ ★

This can hardly brake for long the expected early moves toward the 1964 nomination. These comments illustrate Rockefeller's still improving position out front.

From a Midwesterner: "He has served with ability, got his bills paid, showed fiscal responsibility. I can't see anyone else right now."

A Plains State politician: "This stuff about Rockefeller not being popular out here. . . . I wonder where they're getting it. Not from the people I talked to. Most think he's the logical and the probable one."

A Mountain State leader: "Goldwater is well-liked here, but I find an increasing acceptance of the idea Rockefeller is ahead and may well be the nominee. On one visit he did a terrific job converting a conservative legislator who had threatened to boycott his talk."

Southern leaders' disapproval of Rockefeller is perhaps best summed up by one spokesman who said: "He is poison in the South."

But, after Goldwater, the southerners say little about alternative choices. One mentioned Romney, another Morton. Usually they stop with Goldwater.

Party leaders in other regions are, however, just about as vague on second choices.

Romney gets somewhat more attention than Scranton, but most seem to agree with the New Englander who said: "He's going to have to go through the fire first."

Reader Claims Pope John Is Obstacle to World Peace

The talk about Pope John XXIII and his work for world peace speaks admirably for him, but the Papal claim to world leadership by divine right clashes seriously with any peace.

'Why Is It So Hard to Adopt Children?'

I must speak out in behalf of the hundreds who wish to adopt children.

★ ★ ★

A considerable amount goes to various organizations which care for homeless children. Having participated in these collections aroused my interest.

Why are children held in the homes and institutions when so many people are willing and grateful to make homes for them? Could it be that these institutions are so concerned for their own security that they refuse to consider the unfilled applications?

★ ★ ★

We have applied to three institutions. Our first application was entered with the county probate court 8 years ago. We were flooded with excuses as to why there were no children. At first we applied for pre-school age children. We were told this age child was scarce. After six years we asked for a child much older — preferably 9 or 10 years. We were told that if it were younger children we wanted they would be available, but older children were hard to find and not readily available.

Why all the excuses?

Polish Reds Envision More 'Big Two' Compromises

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Polish Communists are optimistic that the Berlin and other East-West disputes may be settled in 1963 by "big two" compromises.

Their optimism has been growing ever since the Cuban crisis eased in what the Soviet bloc hails as an example of successful compromise between Moscow and Washington.

The emphasis is on direct dealing between the big two.

Warsaw as well as Moscow Communists say the United States and Russia should use this method to settle other major questions.

Polish Communist Party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka declared in a speech this week that civilization can continue only if both super-powers recognize a "co-responsibility for peace."

News Analysis

This big two approach, of course, fits neatly in the long-standing Communist line that the obstacles to a Berlin settlement come mainly from the West German government rather than from Moscow or Washington.

★ ★ ★

One report circulating in Warsaw is that even before the Cuban crisis gridelines for a Berlin settlement had been drawn during Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko's talks in the United States.

The only major question that remained to be negotiated was allied access to West Berlin, according to this report, which is unconfirmed and could be wishful thinking.

Access is one of President Kennedy's three essentials for a Berlin settlement. The others are presence of Allied troops in West Berlin and guarantees of the city's viability.

It is frequently recalled here that Gomulka and other Soviet bloc leaders a year ago were offering to agree to a symbolic presence of Allied troops in West Berlin.

Prior to the 1961 Berlin crisis, Allied officials openly acknowledged that the American, French and British troops in Berlin were pretty much symbolic when compared to perhaps 20 Soviet divisions in surrounding East Germany.

Although the Allied garrisons since then have been slightly increased, the suggestion is heard here that it might be possible to approach a settlement by freezing their level.

The important question would seem to be whether the Soviet Union and East Germany would be willing to consider the garrisons symbolic — something they could have done a year ago.

There is also the question of whether the Soviets would demand that "symbolic" Allied troops in West Berlin be joined by "symbolic" Russian troops in opposition to the wishes of West Berlin citizens.

Most important in Communist eyes would be that any Allied status in Berlin be covered by a new agreement superseding the World War II occupation rights asserted by the Western Allies.

As Gomulka put it this week, a peaceful compromise of the German problem would have to "abolish the occupation status in West Berlin" and show "respect for the sovereign rights" of East Germany.

His speech fell short of demanding an edit to Allied presence in West Berlin or of demanding outright Western recognition of the East German regime. It also omitted the old threat of a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

The Polish leader dwelt more on demands that atomic weapons be barred to West Germany and that the West recognize the present German-Polish frontier along the Oder and Neisse Rivers.

★ ★ ★

A possible interpretation would be that in a big two settlement, Western conditions on Berlin might be negotiated in exchange for guarantees against West German territorial or military expansion, particularly in the nuclear field.

Peace Corps Notes Rise in Applicants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps said yesterday applications to serve in the corps are running about 2½ times the number a year ago.

Inquiries which have not reached the stage of actual applications have been coming in at a rate between 3,000 and 4,000 a week, Richard A. Graham, director of recruitment, told a reporter. That is about 4½ times the count last year.

The corps now has 3,458 volunteers serving overseas and 971 in training, for a total of 4,429.

★ ★ ★

Crops director Sargent Shriver had said that by December the corps would have nearly 5,000 volunteers working in 40 nations.

While not quite reaching the goal, officials expressed no concern.

"I think the response has been fantastic," Graham said.

Army Pulls Major Goof

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)— Lt. Paul B. Webber, notified of his promotion recently, knew there had been a mistake. The promotion was to major instead of captain.

Webber, of Camden, Maine, a member of the 78th Engineer Battalion, is one of 43 1st lieutenants apparently promoted to major, according to an Army Spokesman.

★ ★ ★

Said Webber: "I'm still referring to myself as lieutenant until I get it clarified."

All Teen-Agers Like Watches

Such Presents Can Be Costly or Not

If tardiness is your teen-age daughter's besetting sin, put a watch in her Christmas stocking.

There's nothing like a new watch on a pretty wrist to make a teen-ager time-conscious. This, oo, is a gift that will say "Merry Christmas" throughout the year and for years to come.

For the girl in her upper teens, a watch with diamond ornamentation is in good taste. Such a watch would make the sort of glamor gift that teen-agers love.

In a new group for Christmas giving there are some lovely little models ornamented with diamonds.

One such mode is about the size of a 10-cent piece, and has a diamond at either side. Another, in a marquise shape, has small diamonds inset around the dial.

A third shape, also ornamented with diamonds, is square.

For the girl who is just entering her teens a simple watch without gem-stone ornamentation would be in good taste.

In this group, there is a tiny gold watch in a tear-drop design with the bracelet an integral part of the watch.

* * *

This new trend to integrate the bracelet into the design of the watch is seen on several other shapes, notably an oval dial and another in a square shape. All have jeweled movements that insure accuracy.

Tot's Toys Good Clue for Santa

Every Christmas, fond parents, and doting relatives and friends flock to toy counters for gifts for the children.

But what these happy folk forget, says Dr. Martha Glauber Shapp, editor - in - chief the Book of Knowledge and consultant to a toy company, is that what appeals to adults is not necessarily what youngsters will enjoy.

Dr. Shapp has formulated a guide to help adults select toys this Christmas.

Remember play is not merely filling time. It is the way a child learns to use his developing skills. Toys should be chosen for each stage of this development.

WATCH HIS PLAY

Observing children's play interests — and they are varied at any particular time — will give the adult a clue to the general type of toy youngsters will enjoy.

Children like to construct and create at all ages. They enjoy toys they can take apart and put back together.

Active physical play is a necessity for children. Push-and-pull toys, balls, wheel toys and sports equipment are perfect playthings for aiding physical development.

* * *

"Teach-me dolls" that help a child learn how to tie shoe laces, manipulate zippers and buttons are ideal for acquiring the coordination needed for such tasks.

* * *

To stimulate imagination, tea sets, junior baking kits, cars, trucks, trains and costumes are fine. They teach the child to understand the adult world through dramatizing its activities.

Kaiser to Slow Car Production

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Industrias Kaiser Argentina (IKA), an Argentine company belonging to the Kaiser group, has announced it will cut production and lay off 1,500 of its 6,000 auto plant workers in Cordoba.

IKA is one of 22 auto manufacturing and assembling companies — most of them foreign-owned — operating in Argentina and hard hit by the 9-month-old business recession.

In a statement, IKA's president, James F. McCloud, said production rates are far over present sales capacity, then added:

"If that measure is not taken, IKA's capital will all be tied up in unsold vehicles in less than a month."

IKA manufactures the Jeep line in Argentina, together with local versions of the French-designed Renault Dauphine, Renault Gordini and the U.S. Rambler.

McCloud's announcement, disclosed that IKA had offered the auto workers union a cut-down in the number of working hours, but the union refused.

Death of Tots Traced to Use of Mailbox

WASHINGTON (AP)— A woman, doing a favor, took a package of strychnine pills that had been mailed to her neighbor out of their jointly shared mailbox.

* * *

The woman's 18 - month - old daughter and son, 3, found the pills on a dresser. They were rushed to a hospital but the girl died.

This and other incidents have been cited by the Post Office Department and the Food and Drug Administration in issuing a warning to shippers and handlers of drugs and chemicals.

They urged the use of tamper proof containers and caution in handling upon receipt.

The strychnine had been mailed to the neighbor by a physician, and it resulted in the only known fatality caused by such mail shipments. But the FDA surveyed its district offices and found several close calls.

* * *

For instance, a drug mailed to the home of a professor of medicine was picked up by a neighbor's child who swallowed several of the tablets, became unconscious, and had to be hospitalized.

U. S. Funds to Aid in Midland Project

MIDLAND (AP)—A $350,000 grant to help pay for Midland's new sewage treatment plant has been approved by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The Midland City Council applied for the funds after a majority of residents favored the plan in an advisory vote. Prior to the vote, the council had opposed federal aid.

The cost of the treatment plant is estimated at $2.5 million, with the city financing its share of more than $2.2 million through revenue bonds.

Hunter Beats Handicap

HARRISVILLE, W.Va., (AP)— Ted Cox, a Harrisville jeweler who hunts from a wheel chair, bagged a deer on the opening day of the season in West Virginia.

"Dear Santa" letters will surely reach their destination when mailed in this smiling Santa Mailbox.

Santa Mailbox Easy to Make

What greater assurance could a child have that the mile-long list of Christmas presents will receive Santa's personal attention than by dropping it into a special mail box?

To form the body, roll a 30x36-inch piece of lightweight cardboard into a tube 36 inches high. Hold together with long strips of invisible magic tape.

The face is made from 9x30-inch strip of pink paper taped around the top of tube. The eyes are cut from green tape and the nose is a bright red Christmas ball.

Cut out an opening in the shape of a smiling mouth which becomes the letter slot in the mail box.

Cover the rest of the tube with gold paper for Santa's suit, and apply strips of white plastic tape to create his beard. Tape a strip of black paper around his middle to form the belt.

Decorate the bottom of his suit with green and white striped paper cut into points.

Then secure a lollipop to each point with invisible tape.

The pointed hat is made from a half circle of red paper rolled into a cone shape and fastened with magic tape. Band the hat with more lollipops.

Elegant Doilies Need Post-Yule Special Care

Lace doilies and other fragile accessories are elegant accents for a holiday table. But once the holidays are over, these once immaculate little things are probably as "exhausted" as you are!

* * *

Besides normal soil, they are vulnerable to holiday spots such as candle drips and cranberry and gravy stains.

Fragile accessories need special care. Wash them by sudsing and rinsing in a little container which eliminates handling and rubbing. Any plastic shaker will do.

Fill the container three-quarters full of hot suds, immerse the doilies, cap the container and shake. Then rinse thoroughly with clear warm water until the soiled suds are flushed away.

Calls for End to Air Route

Second State Flight Is Defended

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner has recommended the elimination of North Central Airlines' route between Hancock-Houghton, Mich., and Port Arthur-Fort William, Ont.

* * *

Examiner Barron Fredericks said North Central should be permitted to continue operating its other route to Port Arthur-Fort William from Duluth, Minn.-Superior, Wis.

The CAB last June ordered a use-it-or-lose-it proceeding to determine whether the two routes, which had failed to meet minimum standards of traffic generation, should still receive air service.

North Central urged that it be permitted to operate both routes, and forecast for next year a $15,000 profit for the routes.

* * *

The examiner said that neither the isolation of the Canadian cities nor any other circumstance shown would justify the continued burden on the U.S. Treasury of supporting both routes.

He noted that the CAB's bureau of economic regulations had estimated that during the last fiscal year the total cost of the two routes would be $77,420, resulting in a subsidy cost of almost $14 a passenger.

* * *

Fredericks said that although the 171-mile route out of Duluth involves higher direct cost than the 91-mile route from Michigan, the Duluth routing responds much better to the public needs.

The Duluth route continues southward to Minneapolis - St. Paul. The Hancock-Houghton route extends southward to Milwaukee and Chicago.

Need for Pro Theater to Be Aired by Parley

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The need for professional theater as opposed to amateur production is among subjects for discussion Saturday in Grand Rapids at the annual convention of the Community Theater Association of Michigan.

Some 200 persons are expected to attend from civic theater groups about the state. University of Michigan Prof. Robert Schnitzer is principal speaker.

Village-Plant Scheme Left Man-Made Lakes

Ford's Decentralization Idea Never Worked Out

By ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — Henry Ford built the world's biggest manufacturing plant when he put up the River Rouge complex in suburban Dearborn after World War I.

Then strangely the creator of the famous Model T decided the plant was too big. So he started to decentralize. Ford came up with a "village industries plan."

The idea was to build small parts plants in small rural communities. He started making the move in 1933. Explaining it later, he said:

"To get rid of the overhead of the big city, to try to find the balance between industry and agriculture, and more widely to distribute the purchasing power of people who buy our products, we began to decentralize."

★ ★ ★

Ford put up about 30 of the plants, mostly in Michigan, although there were a few scattered in places like the Hudson River Valley in New York, the Imperial Valley in California and around Hamilton, Ohio.

But the idea never really worked out as Ford had hoped. It gradually became economically unfeasible. After World War II, the company under new leadership gradually began closing the plants.

OWN POWER SOURCE

Each plant, incidentally, had its own power source. The plants were located on rivers or streams which were dammed to form lakes. Hydroelectric generators were then installed. In this manner, Ford at one time owned about 30 lakes.

Now, only three lakes remain, all in Michigan. One is at Ypsilanti, about 30 miles west of Detroit, another is at Brooklyn, about 60 miles west and the third is at Northville, about 20 miles northwest of here.

The lakes came back into the news recently when township officials at Ypsilanti talked of buying or leasing the 672-acre lake for a park.

★ ★ ★

Ford said it still is using the lake as a power source for a big parts plant it has on the Huron River, but would consider any proposal if it provided for continued use of the dam by the company.

Actually, the Ypsilanti plant is much bigger than the lake-side plants Ford built in the 1930s. And probably few of the workers there double as farmers as Ford planned in the depression era.

Referring to the village plants, he once wrote:

"We have not drawn men from the farms — we have added industry to farming. One worker operates a farm which requires him to have two trucks, a tractor and a small closed car.

"Another man, with the aid of his wife, clears more than $500 a season on flowers. We give any man leave of absence to work on his farm, but with the aid of machinery, these farmers are out of the shops a surprisingly short while . . . ."

Roger Burlinghame, in quoting the passages above in his book "Henry Ford," comments that while the plants did not fulfill their economic purpose they still were useful and notes that Ford's grandson, Henry Ford II, present board chairman of the firm, has continued the policy of decentralization. But it is on a bigger scale with plants employing thousands of people, instead of a relative handful as before.

In fact, the firm now has scores of assembly and manufacturing plants scattered around the country from coast to coast employing over 150,000 workers.

Won't Roast 'Rooster' . . . Turns Out to Be Hen

PITTSBURG, Kan. (UPI) — An egg saved a chicken's life.

A stray chicken had awakened the household of Mrs. Rudy Fernetti, Pittsburg police clerk, each dawn for several days.

Mrs. Fernetti thought it was a rooster and had just about decided to roast it to get rid of the nuisance when the fowl laid an egg.

Now she's decided the layer can live.

Double Election Loss Saves Family Squabble

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Schultz were both defeated in a primary election, but perhaps it was all for the best.

★ ★ ★

Edward Schultz lost the Democratic nomination for state representative while his wife, Mildred, had sought the Republican nomination for the same office.

Freedom Obelisk, Razed by Stalin, to Be Rebuilt

MOSCOW (UPI) — A freedom monument, razed by Stalin in the 1930s, is going up again in downtown Moscow, the newspaper Pravda announced yesterday.

The monument, called "The Obelisk of Freedom in Honor of the Soviet Constitution," was unveiled Nov. 7, 1918 in front of Moscow's City Hall.

★ ★ ★

Stalin ordered the massive spire dismantled and put up in its place a mounted figure of Prince Yuri Dolgoruky, founder of Moscow.

Pravda said the Obelisk would be rebuilt from the original plans and restored to its former site. It did not say what would happen to Dolgoruky.

10 Yanks Out to Touch Roof of the World

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The leader of 10 Americans preparing for the first U.S. assault on the "roof of the world"—towering Mt. Everest and two sister peaks—figures the climb will be "95 per cent sheer hell, 5 per cent beauty."

"But in such things, we remember only the 5 per cent of beauty when it's over," remarked Norman G. Dyhrenfurth, the expedition's 44-year-old chief.

* * *

He and some of his companions outlined their plans Wednesday at a news conference staged by the National Geographic Society, a sponsor of the $326,000 venture scheduled for this spring.

Six of the Americans will climb Mt. Everest, at 29,028 feet the world's highest mountain. Two other teams of two men each will have a go at Everest's sister peaks in the Himalayas—Lhotse, 27,923 feet, and Mt. Nuptse, 25,726 feet.

FIRST TIME IN SEASON

It will be, they said, the first time a single expedition has attempted to scale the three peaks in a single season, although each has been conquered before by climbers.

Dyhrenfurth, of Santa Monica Canyon, Calif., said if the Americans reach the top of Everest, they will be the third expedition to pull off the trick.

* * *

The British, who were first, and the Swiss have done it. The Red Chinese claim they climbed Everest in 1960 and left as proof a bust of Mao Tse-tung.

Their claim has been challenged.

"If the bust of Mao Tse-tung is there, we'll send them a congratulatory telegram," said Dyhrenfurth.

TO SHUN SNOWMAN

One thing the expedition won't look for, he said, is the elusive "Abominable Snowman," which legend holds lives amid the snow and ice on Everest's slopes.

Dyhrenfurth said he believes the creature is more fact than legend, probably a man-like ape "very high on the evolutionary scale."

* * *

But the expedition aims at more practical results.

The Army, Navy and Air Force are also among sponsors of the venture, which expects to unearth new information about man's ability to perform under stress.

The men assigned to make the final stages of all three climbs will be pushed purposely, temporarily, beyond the "deterioration" point of physiological and psychological endurance.

Among other things, they'll be denied any auxiliary oxygen until they reach 25,000 feet—and during the final 4,000 feet, even though getting extra oxygen, their bodies will feel short of it.

Three teams of two men each will make the assault on Everest, and the hope is to place more than two men finally at the top. The expedition leader said that if things go well, as many more as possible would try for the grand prize.

* * *

The U.S. party will reach the peaks through the Nepal side. A more direct route lies in Red China, but the group didn't bother to ask permission to use it.

The Americans, all experienced mountain climbers, will have to reach the mountains and finish the climb during May, before the monsoon season sweeps in.

Refugee Can't Escape Clutches of Castro

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Pedro Magil, a music professor who fled from Cuba during the Castro revolution, works as a piano tuner here. He returned from a job Wednesday to find that his car had been towed away by police for being illegally parked. He was fined $5.

The patrolman who ticketed Magil's car: Henry Castro.

State Restores License to Pontiac Resident

All driving privileges have been restored to Herman L. Davis, 233 Seward St., by the secretary of state after his case was canceled.

His name inadvertently remained on the list of driver license suspension and revocations of the Michigan Department of State, published last week in The Pontiac Press.

Escaped Vopo Says Married Men at Wall

BERLIN (AP)— An East German corporal who fled to West Berlin said today the Communists prefer stationing married men as guards on the West Berlin border.

* * *

"The Communists trust married men more than bachelors," said Hans Dolgner, 25, a married man who himself was a guard at the wall.

Dolgner escaped to West Berlin early Tuesday, bringing with him his wife, 10-month-old daughter, mother-in-law, sister-in-law and another couple.

Dolgner said he had planned his escape last spring when he was serving with a border guard unit along the Baltic coast. Because he was married, he was transferred to Berlin to guard the wall.

RED THREATS

"The Communists have little hold, but they can threaten the married men with reprisals against their families if they escape to the West."

So he decided to bring out his entire family.

* * *

The corporal, off duty on Monday, diverted the attention of other border guards from the escape hatch by engaging them in some small talk. He also had cut off the electric alarm system.

BIRD BUGS NAVY—A Midway islander holds wings of a gooney bird (Laysan albatross) on the Navy's Midway Island base in the Pacific. For 40 years the Navy has been trying to rid the island of gooneys but the birds continue to return to Midway each winter to nest. They spend the summer on an unknown Aleutian island.

'Beefing Up May Help on Berlin'

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)— Dean Acheson, former secretary of state, has suggested that substantially strong Western conventional forces might force the Soviet Union to reconsider its support for the East Germans and could bring a solution of the Berlin problem.

"To accept the division of Europe along the Helmstedt line is dangerous and unnecessary," Acheson said in a speech prepared for a student conference on U.S. affairs at the military academy here.

Helmstedt is a town on the border dividing West and East Germany.

Soviet domination of East Germany, Acheson added, is "largely based on the preponderance of Soviet conventional power on their western front. If this did not exist, Soviet intervention to support (East German Communist leader Walter) Ulbrich's authority might become increasingly impracticable."

"A policy of a solution of the German question by Germans, restrained by membership in a united Europe and an Atlantic alliance, might end the dilemma of Berlin," he said.

German reunification, Acheson said, is one of the important problems which urgently requires "common thought and agreed policy" in the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance.

There has been, he said, "Too much of a tendency in many countries, sometimes even in West Germany itself, to pay lip service to unification while studiously avoiding any ideas about how when and by whom it can be brought about."

Acheson complained that the absence of a "solid political agreement" is weakening the Western position regarding Berlin and warned that "over longer periods it will not do to have no German policy beyond assuring the Berliners and one another that we shall 'stand firm' in defending the freedom of Berlin."

Youth Admits, Rape-Murder

NEW YORK (UPI)—A schoolboy confessed last night that he raped 9-year-old Lourdes Bass, then pushed her to her death from the roof of a 14-story building because she threatened to tell on him.

The arrest of 15-year-old James Rooks 27 hours after the rooftop attack ended an all-out search in which nearly 1,000 persons were questioned.

"I did it, I did it," Rooks sobbed as he broke down after hours of trying to dodge detectives' questions.

* * *

The boy told police he forced fourth-grader Lourdes into a self-service elevator and took her to the roof of one of the buildings in Brooklyn's 6,000-tenant Farragut houses.

Only 20 minutes earlier, a 7-year-old slipped away from him when he tried to corner her, police said.

Since it was the noon hour, none of the 10 private detectives hired by the housing authority for special night watch was on duty. The project has only six housing authority policemen.

Robber True to His Word

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A man who robbed a supermarket of almost $10,000 in cash and checks told the manager before fleeing that he would return any checks he couldn't convert into cash.

* * *

Wednesday, the day after the robbery, a postal clerk called the store and said a postman had turned in a money bag found in a mail box. In the store's bag were $6,000 in checks.

"Not a single check was missing," said Miss Shirley Klein, assistant to the manager.

Pick Director for Saga Part

ROME (AP) — Producer Dino de Laurentiis yesterday named Federico Fellini to direct the deluge and Noah's Ark sequences of the monumental movie "The Bible."

Fellini directed "La Dolce Vita" (The Sweet Life) and De Laurentiis' Academy Award-winning film "La Strada."

He was the second director named by De Laurentiis to handle parts of the $13-million picture. Luchino Visconti is the other.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Petitions in bankruptcy were on file in U.S. District Court by Richard F. Skinner of Kalamazoo, bartender, listing liabilities as $44,545 and assets as $18,744, and by Kent City restaurant operator Fern Brummelhoff listing liabilities as $10,680 and assets as $1,244.

Bricks Add Up to Mystery

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Police yesterday were trying to find out who substituted bricks for a $170,000 shipment of 213 calculating machines from the United States.

The substitution was discovered when the cargo of the U. S. ship Brazil docked at Santos for unloading.

Police said apparently the machines were stolen and bricks put in the boxes before the ship left New York.

The machines were being shipped to Brazil by the Victor Adding Machine Export Co. of Chicago, police said.

Voters Pick 'Alterman'

PARIS, Ark. (AP) — Sheridan Reames of Paris was finally re-elected city alderman but not before he and his brother had voters completely confused.

In the general election last month, Sheridan sought re-election but the name of his brother, Sherman Reames, accidentally was placed on the ballot.

Sherman was defeated by W. F. Miller, 148-108.

Owner's 3rd Win Record; Area Teen Top Showman

An 18-year-old East Lansing youth walked off with top honors at the 33rd annual Detroit Junior Livestock show yesterday while an Oakland County area teen-ager placed first in showmanship.

George Good of Newtondale Farms made history when his 980-pound Aberdeen Angus steer "Mitey Good" won the grand championship in the cattle division.

AP Photofax

GEORGE GOOD

Good is the first exhibitor ever to win all three championships. He won the lamb championship in 1956 and the swine championship in 1957.

The youth's 16-month-old steer placed first in the middleweight class before winning the grand championship. An Angus from his farm also placed first in the lightweight class.

★ ★ ★

Dale Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Walker of 266 Sutton Road, Metamora, exhibited a 920-pound Aberdeen Angus to win the showmanship award.

★ ★ ★

The 18-year-old 4H'er said he picked out the steer a year ago and began to prepare him for yesterday's competition.

This is Dale's eighth year of competing in the show with cattle from his parents' 350-acre farm. He said six steers are already being groomed for next year's event.

TO STUDY AGRICULTURE

Following his graduation from high school Dale plans on studying agriculture at college and then follow in his father's footsteps farming feeder cattle.

Presently he assists in the raising of 270 feeders now on the farm, when he isn't attending school or playing on the football team.

"I attended the Chicago livestock show last week to see how they exhibited the cattle and I guess I picked up a few pointers from them," he said.

★ ★ ★

After a full day that started at 8 a.m. the exhibitors gathered again in the evening at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Today the animals were to be put on the auction block.

Tax Tea Party Help Sought

Mayor Kuhn Appeals to Restaurants

DETROIT (UPI)—Berkley Mayor George Kuhn, head of the Vigilance Tax Committee, today called on Detroit restaurants and places of business to help put over the committee's Detroit Tea Party week.

The committee, set up to fight Detroit's income tax on suburbanites, previously announced that "tea parties" would be held in suburban city halls on Dec. 16, the 189th anniversary of the original Boston Tea Party.

At the parties, people will be asked to sign petitions which would mandate the legislature to write a law forbidding any city to impose an income tax without a vote of the people and would prohibit an income tax on non-residents.

Kuhn said Detroit restaurants and places of business would be asked to take part in the drive. He said Detroit city officials obviously would not let the committee use the city hall and thus there was no other alternative but to ask private business to help out.

Kuhn said about 300 pounds of tea would be made available to communities and organizations taking part in the tea party.

The Rev. Isaac W. Ruggles, a circuit rider, organized the first Congregational Church in Michigan at Rochester in 1827.

Lively Mayor's Race Seen for Southfield

SOUTHFIELD — With the announcement of Council President C. Hugh Dohany that he plans to run for mayor in next April's election, this city can look forward to a lively political campaign battle.

★ ★ ★

Mayor S. James Clarkson has announced that he will seek re-election. The two men have been at loggerheads most of the past two years from the time Clarkson first took office.

★ ★ ★

Dohany, 43, has been a member of the city council since 1956 and council president since 1959.

Rochester Citizens Work

School Needs Studied

ROCHESTER — Chairmen of five subcommittees have been named to direct the efforts of citizens working on a study committee formed to draft recommendations for district school improvements.

★ ★ ★

Frank R. Wolff, 241 Reitman Court, heads the curriculum and faculty subcommittee. Thurley E. Allen, 842 Ironstone Road, has charge of the financial study.

Directing the work of the publicity and communications subcommittee is Norman E. May, 207 Orchardale Drive, and the salary scales study, Kenneth D. Roose, 1847 Fair Oaks Court.

A husband and wife team Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Kemler, 5900 Cobb Creek Court, is serving as cochairmen of the buildings subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

The committee-of-the-whole is under the general chairmanship of Dr. David Wilder, librarian at Michigan State University Oakland.

According to May, the groups now are exploring a course of action they hope to follow in forthcoming weeks prior to making any specific recommendations.

They are meeting every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Central Junior High School. All interested school district residents are welcome to attend the sessions and to join the study committee.

★ ★ ★

The Board of Education last month directed schools Supt. Donald C. Baldwin to seek citizen assistance in examining the financial problems of the district with a view to an early millage vote.

Baldwin pointed out that the district is facing the loss of approximately $150,000 in operational funds with the expiration of a three-mill tax this month.

The amount of millage to be sought will be up to the citizens committee and board of education to determine, the superintendent said.

★ ★ ★

Last June a proposed 4.5-mill operating tax increase was defeated by a decisive 2 to 1 margin.

State Traffic Kills 1,446

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 1,446 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 1,441.

Ask Voters to Approve Five Mills

FARMINGTON — Voters in the Farmington School District will go to the polls Monday to cast their ballots on a proposal seeking renewal of a five-mill operating tax.

★ ★ ★

School Supt. Gerald V. Harrison said the school board has requested that the five mills be relevied for 10 years.

He said that the millage to be voted on Monday expires the end of this year.

★ ★ ★

The district currently levies a total of 29.95 mills for operation and debt retirement.

Of that total, 16.75 mills is for operation, the superintendent said.

Monday's special election is the first in the school district since November 1961 when voters approved renewal of three mills for operation.

12 Families From Cuba Take Look at Michigan

DETROIT (UPI) — Forty-one Cubans, seeking a new life free from the tyranny of Fidel Castro, took their first good look at Michigan today. It snowed.

★ ★ ★

But the weather was the least important thing to the members of the 12 families that landed at Willow Run Airport last night after a seven-hour flight from Miami.

When the refugees arrived, they were hustled into a chartered bus and taken to Ann Arbor where they were the guests of honor at a chicken dinner held by the First Presbyterian Church.

The trip of the refugees was sponsored by World Church Service and the United Presbyterian Committee on Resettlement Service.

Following the dinner, sponsoring church groups throughout the state and families took the refugee families to rented apartments in the Lower Peninsula and discussed job possibilities with the family heads.

One of the refugees, Felipe Bernal said that "the Communist regime is horrible—life there (in Cuba) is impossible now."

A pharmacist's assistant, he came to Michigan with his wife and two children.

Many of the refugees indicated that they would like to become American citizens.

But Grover Alison, staff member of the World Church Service said he felt the majority was "being polite . . . they all want to return to Cuba when it is free."

The group was the first of three planeloads to be brought to the state by the groups.

More Cubans originally were scheduled to come but one family was held in Miami when a child came down with measles.

ALBERTA E. WILLIAMS

At a family gathering recently Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Williams, 431 Common St., Walled Lake, announced the engagement of their daughter Alberta Evelyn to Salvatore Lumetta. The prospective bridegroom, who resides in Detroit, is the son of Antonio Lumettas of Balestrata, Sicily. No date has been set for the wedding.

16-Month-Old Dies of Burns

Walled Lake Baby 2nd Victim of Blaze

WALLED LAKE—A fire started by an explosion in a home here Monday claimed its second victim last night when 16-month-old Judy Seckman died of her burns in Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The child's mother, Mrs. Betty Seckman, 21, succumbed Tuesday of burns she suffered in the fire at their home, 1766 Scheifle Road.

★ ★ ★

The explosion was touched off when gas fumes were ignited by the pilot light of a gas fired hot water heater in the home, police said.

Mrs. Seckman's father, Donald Wilkinson, 49, is credited with saving the Seckmans' older daughter, 3-year-old Michele.

★ ★ ★

He told local police that minutes before the fire he had set a two-gallon can of gasoline in a hallway of the home and little Judy had knocked it over, spilling gasoline on the floor and on her diapers.

★ ★ ★

She suffered burns over 60 per cent of her body.

Michele and her grandfather were only slightly burned. Wilkinson also was cut when he jumped through the window with his older granddaughter.

★ ★ ★

Damage was estimated at about $4,500 by Walled Lake firemen, who were assisted by the Commerce Township department in quickly bringing the blaze under control.

Gayann Huffman Wed in Clarkston

MRS. LARRY L. BLACKETT

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP —Gayann Huffman became the bride of Larry Lee Blackett recently in a ceremony at the First Methodist Church, Clarkston. Rev. William Richards performed the afternoon rites.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jay Huffman, 6881 Almond Lane. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Blackett of 8351 Big Lake Road, Independence Township.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of Rochelle lace with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline trimmed with sequins and pearls and a bouffant skirt ending in a chapel sweep.

A pearl and sequin crown held her fingertip veil in silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of Stephanotis and chrysanthemums accented with red roses.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Melvin Spicer of Pontiac attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Becky DeLong of Clarkston and Karen Shank of Pontiac.

Richard Sphon of Clarkston served as best man. Ushers were Melvin Spicer of Pontiac, Terry Kelley of Clarkston and Fred Huffman of California, brother of the bride.

Following a reception held in the church parlors, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to New York and Washington, D.C. They will reside in Farmington.

To Choose Painting Best-Liked in Show

ROCHESTER —The popularity award for the best-liked painting in St. Andrew's annual art exhibition and sale will be determined tonight after closing of the show at 10:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Now in its final day, the show will open at 7:30 p.m. Those attending will have a chance to cast votes which will be tallied up to determine the winner in the popularity category.

A cash award will be given to the artist. The public is invited to attend the show at the church hall, corner of Walnut and Third streets.

Lot to Look For When Purchasing Jewelry

Some Light Is Shed on Gold That Glitters

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's a lot more than meets the eye in buying a piece of gold jewelry or other article containing gold and the Christmas shopper who is looking for a gift of this kind would do well to become familiar with some of the language of the trade.

* * *

Such terms are pure gold, solid gold alloy, 18 karat gold, gold plated, gold filled or rolled gold may mean little to the average shopper but are important as far as the gift's cost, intrinsic value and wearing qualities are concerned.

* * *

First of all, what's a karat? According to an authority in the field, Morris Messing, the karat designation is based on the standard that there are 24 karats in 100 per cent pure gold.

Thus, if a shopper buys a cigarette lighter that's 14 karat gold, he is buying 14-24ths of roughly 58 per cent gold. The rest of the lighter is made of a base metal.

* * *

The type of base metal used with gold is determined largely by what "gold color" the manufacturer wants on his product, said Messing, president of a New Jersey company which supplies gold solutions and formulas to jewelry manufacturers.

DIFFERENT BASES

For example, if a whitish shade of gold is desired, the base metal to which the gold is alloyed probably will be nickel.

* * *

For a greenish gold tint, it would have a silver base metal, and for pink, the base metal is copper.

* * *

Basically, Messing said, there are only three types of gold jewelry: pure gold, solid gold alloy and gold coated.

* * *

Pure, 24 karat gold is the most valuable but has a drawback. As metals go, pure gold is soft and an article made of it will mar easily and perhaps lose a bit of its shape.

* * *

The solid gold alloy category, still relatively expensive jewelry, is next.

* * *

Here the gold is alloyed with a base metal by a melting process to give the article more strength and durability.

* * *

Messing had a word of caution about solid gold alloyed jewelry. He said it may tarnish if a low amount of gold is used in the alloy, not because of the gold, which can't tarnish, but because of the base metal.

'PRETTY SAFE'

Up to around 18 karat solid gold alloy jewelry is pretty safe from tarnishing, according to Messing.

* * *

The third basic type of gold jewelry is that in which gold is used as a coating on a base metal.

This category breaks down into two broad areas, gold filled jewelry and gold plated jewelry.

In the majority of gold filled or rolled gold jewelry, as it also is called, the amount of gold in the alloy again determines the possibility of tarnishing.

* * *

The difference between gold filled or rolled gold jewelry and gold plated jewelry is that in the former, a base metal such as brass or copper is mechanically joined with the gold and the article is then stamped out from the combined metals.

In gold plating, the article is first stamped out and then the coating is applied.

* * *

For the Christmas shopper, Messing had three main ground rules.

First, always deal with a reputable jewelry retailer.

Second, find out exactly which of these types of gold jewelry you're buying, particularly the number of karats in an alloyed article.

* * *

Third, if buying either gold filled or gold plated, find out if the coating is thick enough and uniform in thickness over the entire surface of the item.

Teens Start Firm to Patch Potholes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Aware that the teen-age job market was glutted, two Shaker Heights High senior went into business for themselves last summer and cleared $700 apiece by patching driveways and parking lots.

They bought 1,000 gallons of a tar compound and some stiff brushes, rented a trailer for $2.50 a day and "we were in business," Denis Roarty and Vince LaMaida Jr. said. They sold jobs from door to door.

* * *

They plan to invest earnings in a jeep and snowplow and go back to some of their same customers this winter.

Germs Help Find Oil

NEW YORK (UPI) — Oil Facts, a publication of the American Petroleum Institute, reports that a newly patented system uses certain bacteria which thrive on methane gas in the search for new oil deposits.

CHICAGO (AP) — Failure to complete high school costs the average teen-ager $46,364, according to a study of lifetime earnings taken from U.S. Department of Labor statistics.

* * *

Commerce Clearing House, reporting the study, says a high school graduate earns an average of $257,557 during his working life. But a student who quits high school before graduation earns $211,193.

On the basis of annual income, the high school graduate can look forward to earning an average $5,567 a year. The high school drop-out's average is only $4,618.

Dad, What's a Blotter?

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (AP) —A local businessman discovered his 8-year-old son had never heard of a blotter.

A search of both his home and office failed to turn one up. Then he discovered that local stores no longer stocked blotters.

School Prayer Issue Boils Up Again

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The controversy that led to the U.S. Supreme Court ban on official school prayers still bubbles in New York State.

An attempt is being made to stop the practice in some schools of daily readings from the Bible or Declaration of Independence, or recitations from the anthem "America."

★ ★ ★

The dispute is in the hands of the state education commissioner, whose decision will set policy for all public schools in the state.

The commissioner, Dr. James E. Allen Jr., will rule on a protest brought by nine parents who want him to rescind a resolution of the Levittown School Board, on Long Island.

PRESCRIBES EXERCISES

The resolution prescribes school opening exercises that give teachers a choice of reading from the Bible, reading from the Declaration of Independence or other historical documents, or having pupils recite the fourth stanza of "America."

There are references to God in both the declaration and the stanza.

★ ★ ★

The parents, a cross-section of religious faiths, contend that the school board is trying to circumvent last June's decision of the Supreme Court.

The court ruled against use of a "non-sectarian" prayer recommended for school children by the board of regents, governing body of education in New York State.

Allen reserved decision in the Levittown case after hearing arguments this week. He gave the opposing lawyers until late December to file formal briefs.

SIMILAR CASE

In a somewhat similar case, Allen ruled last August that schools may not designate a portion of the "Star Spangled Banner" as an official prayer. The National Anthem may be recited or sung in the schools, he said, but to use it as a prayer would violate the court decision.

In the hearing on the Levittown case, the parents' lawyer argued that the Bible is a sectarian book and that reading from it in the schools violated constitutional barriers against government interference in religion.

★ ★ ★

He said the parents objected to the practice of reading from historical documents—such as the Declaration of Independence and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address — because of "the aura of religion surrounding opening exercises."

The school board's lawyer called the Bible part of "the great traditions of Judiac-Christian heritage."

He said pupils are permitted to leave the classroom if they do not want to join in the exercises.

Say Solon Ran False Contest

Charge He Advertised Himself as Incumbent

DETROIT (AP) — State Representative - elect Leonard Walton, 33, of Detroit, was charged yesterday with violating a state law by falsely representing himself as an incumbent in his campaign literature.

Walton stood mute to the charge on his appearance before Recorder's Court Judge Arthur Koscinski and was released under $300 personal bond for examination Dec. 18.

Walton declined comment to newsmen.

Walton, a Democrat, was elected Nov. 6 to serve from Detroit's 12th Legislative District.

His defeated opponent, Earl Stevens, a Republican, was one of the complainants in the case.

Walton specifically was accused of violating a 1959 statute which prohibits use of the words re-elect, re-election or incumbent by candidates who never have held the office involved.

Complainants said he used the word re-elect in some 9,000 campaign circulars.

At Lansing, experts on legislative protocol said it would be up to the incoming legislature to decide any questions which might be raised about Walton's taking office in January.

★ ★ ★

They said the court case would have no bearing on any legislative decision, since the state constitution provides that the legislature should be the sole judge of qualifications of its members.

Chile Nabs Ex-Nazi; Linked to Higher-Up

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The arrest of a higher ex-Nazi on war crimes charges may follow the detention here of a former SS colonel accused of ordering the gassing of 90,000 Jews in World War II.

Patrick Weichman, head of the international police organization Interpol in Chile, said last night "an even higher Nazi war criminal" was believed to be in this country and his arrest may follow soon.

He made the statement after former SS Col. Walter Herman Julius Rauff appeared before the Supreme Court and declared his innocence of the war crimes for which West Germany is seeking his extradition.

★ ★ ★

Weichman refused to name the second man whose arrest is expected.

He's as Good as Word; Returns to Get Goods

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — A man visited the Petri Jewelry Co. store the other day, inspected a $2,800 ring and said "I'll be back later."

He was—with two friends in trench coats yesterday and they stole gems worth more than $200,000, said Edward Petri, the store owner.

Bobby Kennedy Came Prepared for This One

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, after telling U.S. students to prepare themselves for tough questions when abroad, invited questions from his audience Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Nicholas O. Anim of Ghana asked, "When you came to Africa you got within a stone's throw of my country and then you didn't come. Why didn't you come to Ghana?".

Kennedy replied he was in Africa only two days, but did talk with a woman representative of Ghana who gave him a pair of Ghanian cuff links.

Holding up his right arm, the attorney general said, "I have them on now."

Ontario Jury Decides Lake Deaths Accident

THESSALON, Ont. (AP)—A coroner's jury ruled yesterday that Norris Dunlap, 50, of Taylor, Mich., died by accidental drowning Sept. 10 when a boat in which he and a companion were riding was swamped.

The jury was told that Dunlap and his companion, Donald Yonally of Romulus, Mich., were not wearing life preservers although the safety equipment was in the boat as they crossed Rocky Island Lake near this northern Ontario community.

Ex-Envoy Condemns Idea of U.S. Victory on Cuba

FLINT (AP) — "It is incredible," said former Ambassador William D. Pawley yesterday, than an impression is growing that President Kennedy has won a decisive victory in the Cuban crisis.

Pawley, who retired this week from his transportation enterprise in Miami, warned against the assumption that the United States has won "a decisive, perhaps ultimate, strategic victory over communism simply because Khrushchev has removed 42 missiles and has promised to remove 30 IL28 bombers from this hemisphere."

Pawley was ambassador to Brazil and Peru during the Truman administration. His remarks were prompted by a Flint Journal inquiry.

He still maintains a keen interest in Latin American affairs and has close relationships with political figures in this hemisphere.

"A few short weeks ago the President himself was insisting upon on-sight inspection and upon guarantees that no further offensive weapons would be sent to Cuba.

"Now, with neither inspection nor guarantee, and with only a promise of IL28 withdrawal, the administration has abandoned its naval quarantine, is dispersing the military forces it had widely mobilized in the southeastern United States, and is implying that the Cuban question is settled.

"During his six days of inspired firmness and in the immediate aftermath, many voices were raised in an effort to pursuade the President that half measures were dangerous, and that any Communist military base, any subversive potential, was an offensive weapon which should be removed from Cuba.

"An awesome silence has since absorbed some of the voices, and some have even joined in the chorus of jubilation over what is being interpreted as a major victory.

"It is possible that the United States has partially won a tactical skirmish. For proof of even so small a triumph, however, we must rely primarily upon Soviet guarantees, 30-day promises, and 'good faith.'

"This is indeed doubtful proof when viewed in the light of the fact that, until trapped in a monumental lie, these same Soviets were guaranteeing and promising, in 'good faith,' that they would never introduce offensive weapons into Cuba.

"Even assuming that Soviet 'good faith' means more now than two months ago, only the fatuous and gullible can deem it as a decisive victory, to have temporarily interrupted communism's frontal military assault upon the Western hemisphere without attacking the other more insidious aspects of its general assault.

"To claim a real and decisive victory, the U.S. would have been obliged to pursue its temporary advantage by tightening the Cuban blockade, by ensuring the removal of all Soviet troops from the island, and by leading the Organization of American States in a firm stand against the use of Cuba as a base for subversive conquests of other parts of the hemisphere.

"Successful accomplishments of these steps would have represented a decisive victory in one battle; beyond this, ultimate victory and final solution of the Cuban problem can be claimed only upon the total elimination from that unfortunate island of both Soviet communism and Castro totalitarianism.

"No such steps have been taken toward a really decisive victory, and the ultimate victory has not been mentioned even as a goal, since Oct. 22.

"Instead, amid a triumphant pinning of medals and reduction of military readiness, the United States is retreating from the field of potential victory, and turning to the ambiguous negotiating table.

"This apparent willingness to negotiate communism into the Western Hemisphere is the basis for considerable concern among a number of informed North Americans, and among those Central and South Americans who treasure their national sovereignty.

"It is sufficient cause for concern — and among North Americans, a degree of shame — that U. S. foreign policy has thus reneged on the President's 1961 commitment that communism in this hemisphere is not negotiable.

"Of even greater concern is the proved gullibility, even blindness, of some of those officials who are in positions to guide our negotiators and likewise to misguide public opinion by controling access to the facts.

"This varied gullibility and blindness, combined with this very desire and ability to control the news, has almost succeeded in making a doubtful short-range tactical advantage appear to be a decisive long-range strategic victory.

"These same influences have contributed greatly to the series of U. S. miscalculations which brought Castro to power, maintained him there, and permitted establishment of a Soviet base in Cuba.

"This gullibility of the present administration in this regard is perhaps nowhere so frighteningly exemplified as in its slowness to believe its own intelligence as to the seriousness of the Soviet military buildup in Cuba between July and October.

"It now appears that this reluctance can be attributed partly to the weight placed upon information said to a high government official close to the President by an official of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, whose Kremlin-assigned mission was to convince the administration of the peaceful intent of the Soviets in shipping missiles to Cuba.

"In spite of a mounting volume of incredible intelligence to the contrary, this Soviet-inspired position was the one taken by the President and State Department and transmitted to press and public alike—until it was almost too late.

"Except for an enlightened six-day interlude at the end of October, our leaders have continued to show a gullible predisposition to take Soviet word and promises at face value.

"If our negotiators can carry this predisposition to the conference table, we can anticipate a continued Caribbean fairy tale, in which 'defended' by the Soviet Union, a 'non-Communist' Castro is permitted to return to the OAS, share in the Alliance for Progress, and build 'people's democracies' into every country of the Western Hemisphere.

Otsego County Booster Former Pro Gridder

GAYLORD (AP) — Harry Collins now is promoting about the only two sports in which he never was a star — skiing and hunting. Harry never learned to ski and he never owned a gun.

Collins is secretary-manager of the Otsego County Chamber of Commerce at Gaylord, which advertises the area — according to the season — as "Vacationland, U.S.A." (summer); "Hunter's Paradise, the Winter Sports Capital of Michigan" (winter), and "Mushroom Heaven" (spring).

Otsego County is short on factories. But it is long on attractions for the vacationer, the skier, the hunter and the mushroom seeker, and Collins promotes them all with evangelistic verve — most of the time.

Promoting goes out of style quick-like in the 67-year-old Collins' pine-log office on the courthouse grounds when someone swings through the door and yells, "piggy!"

Football talk rattles the rafters, as Harry and his visitor reminisce sabout "the good old days" of the American Professional Football Association, which lasted from 1904 to 1920.

★ ★ ★

Few here ever heard their chamber of commerce secretary-manager's nickname, and just as few know that this fellow with thinning gray hair and glasses and a flare for sports shirts, once was a professional football star, who also had a fling at organized baseball and at prize fighting.

Or that he was a four-letter athlete at Miami of Ohio, meanwhile teaching swimming at the YMCA. Swimming was a sport [illegible] when [illegible]

Of mild manner, pinkish complexion, easy laugh and wide girth, it is hard to picture this 5-foot-7, 170 pounder as a football end who at less than 140 pounds used to tangle with the likes of Jim Thorpe, the gridiron immortal, or Doc Spears, Duke Slater, the Nesser brothers, Knute Rockne, Gus Dorais, Earle (Greasy) Neale, Jock Sutherland, Halas, Conzelman and Driscoll.

REMEMBERS THORPE

Some games stand out above others among the 11 teams — five from Ohio — that were to form the latter-day National Football League in Ralph Hays' Canton, Ohio, auto agency office Sept. 17, 1920.

"I remember," Collins says, "we were playing Canton at Dayton and were leading 18-0 at the half. Thorpe hadn't played the first half, but darned if he didn't nearly beat us the second half with five drop-kick field goals from all over the place.

"We won, 18-15, but that's probably because Thorpe got knocked cold for maybe the only time in his career. He and one of our Dayton players named Bacon collided in an open field. You could have heard the crash all the way downtown.

"They carried Bacon off. Thorpe finally revived enough to be led off, but he didn't come back."

How in the world did a fellow who never tipped the scales above 138 pounds compete with the pro giants?

"Well, they weren't all as big in those days as they are today, and I guess I was born with good reflexes and timing. Or else I acquired them in boxing. My dad, Alexander Collins, a Civil War veteran, made all us boys take up boxing.

★ ★ ★

"I was a favorite with the fans, too. They got a kick out of a little guy like me catching passes with two big guys smothering me. I caught passes better than anyone else in the league."

Why'd he quit after five years?

"They (the other guys) were quick, gritless and hotly . . . and I was getting older."

Collins left Miami of Ohio in the middle of his senior year in 1917.

"I got married. It was a case of having to make a living."

Harry got an end's job with what then was the Dayton (Ohio) Oakwoods, who later became the Triangles — so named because they were jointly sponsored by National Cash Register, Dayton Metal Products and Delco.

Mornings Harry worked at Delco and then reported at 2 p.m. for football practice.

PLAYED SUNDAYS

"We played every Sunday and everybody on the team got the same pay — $80 a game," he recalls. "Why, I'll never forget when halfback Norb Sachsteder signed for $1,800 a season with the Detroit Heralds (they preceded the Lions). It was headlines in all the newspapers, something unheard of [illegible]

When Harry's playing days were over he got a job as a sporting goods salesman for Wilson, then went to Spaulding. In 1935, with Sam Monetta, a one-time track star and coach at Scott High School, he founded a sporting goods store at Toledo.

Eleven years ago, on doctor's orders, Harry sold his interest and bought a motel outside Gaylord. He figured this more leisurely life would ease high blood pressure.

"But it was too confining, so I quit and we got a home on Otsego Lake."

★ ★ ★

While he was in the motel business, however, Collins had joined the Otsego County Chamber of Commerce and in 1956, when the secretary-manager left, fellow members asked President Collins to "fill in for two months while we look for somebody."

[illegible] "[illegible] filling in promoting hunting, skiing, vacationing and mushroom hunting — and whatever else you're looking for and Otsego County has.

But he doesn't mention when he was leaving Toledo that some friends invited him to "a little going away party" — and 250 turned out for it. Nor that Jack Seenn (then of the Toledo Times) wrote in his sports column:

"Civic success doesn't just happen. Behind every success are a few human dynamos who make things hum. Such is Harry Collins, for a quarter of a century a tireless worker for Toledo and Toledoans."

NASA Starts Lunar Project on Buildings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — How does one put up a building on the moon?

The question may be premature since men are not expected there for a few years yet. But is never too early to start preparing, has taken the first step toward developing lunar construction techniques.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has asked the Army engineers to lay out a research program to cover the construction of a laboratory or observatory on the Moon.

The study will take six months and cost $100,000.

An observatory on the airless Moon, scientists say, could explore distant stars and galaxies far more successfully than can be done with telescopes on the surface of the atmosphere - shrouded Earth.

"Areas of research to be considered," NASA said, "will include lunar soil movement and excavation techniques, construction materials, structural design, power generation, storing and handling of life - supporting atmosphere, water supply and sanitation, construction tools, and human engineering and training."

Vote of Confidence for Italian Premier

ROME (AP) — Premier Amintore Fanfani won a confidence vote in parliament Wednesday night, defeating a rightist attempt to put his center-left coalition government into difficulty.

The Chamber of Deputies voted 214-58 with 59 abstentions.

Representatives of the Liberal, Monarchist and Fascist parliamentary groups charged that a minor reshuffle in cabinet posts was evidence that the government was increasingly committed to the Socialists. The Socialists support Fanfani's government in parliament but do not have representation in the cabinet.

It Must Have Been Something He Ate

WELLINGTON, Kan. (AP) — George Sandell Jr. fell while working on a scaffold. He was taken to a hospital but doctors said his back was not hurt.

★ ★ ★

But when Sandell complained of a severe pain, the doctor decided it might be from a bad appendix. It was.

Operating, doctors found two buckshot in it. Sandell had been eating rabbit, shot on a recent hunt.

YOUR BEST INVESTMENT IS IN YOURSELF

Can you afford specialized business training? You can't afford not to have it. When you are young the best investment you can make is in yourself. One hundred dollars invested in a bond will bring you three or so dollars a year — unless something happens to the bond. But a hundred dollars invested in acquiring knowledge or skill will bring you dividends of pleasure and profit as long as you live. Your principal will be invested in a business you control. It will be where you can watch it. Booms can't inflate it and depression can't wipe it out. Thieves can't steal it. Relatives can't borrow it.

Lack of Funds for Congo Operation Perils U.N. Future

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. prestige faces a mortal blow if lack of funds forces the world body to abandon its Congo operation.

Secretary General U Thant warned this week that the United Nations cannot survive as an effective instrument unless members lay aside their differences and help pay the $130-million Congo debt.

Chances of getting out of the red appeared remote after the Soviet Union and France told the 110-nation budgetary committee they have no intention of paying any part of the $10-million monthly effort.

There was no sign of help coming from 48 other U.N. members who have never paid anything for the upkeep of the Congo force since it was put into the field more than two years ago.

Thant has staved off financial disaster by raising about $150 million on a $200-million emergency bond issue. He warned there is only enough money left to keep the operation alive for a few more months.

Unless payments from defaulting members improve considerably, Thant will have to ask a special session of the General Assembly next spring for emergency funds to keep the 15,000-man U.N. force in the Congo.

It has become plain, however, that the assembly is still at odds over the $200-million bond issue it authorized and would be reluctant to impose another Congo assessment.

Many delegates favor Thant's plan to reunify Katanga Province with the Congo. But they feel that the staggering expense of the operation makes it imperative that the United Nations abandon its Congo commitment as soon as possible.

Nations who have faithfully carried their share of the Congo cost have grown weary of the extra burden of buying bonds because the Soviet Union and others refuse to assume any part of the load.

The United States has paid more than $114 million of the $240 million the Congo force has cost since it was formed in July 1960.

★ ★ ★

There has been mounting opposition in Congress to the United States volunteering nearly 50 per cent of the Congo cost while the Soviet Union is nearly $22.5 million in arrears and France more than $11 million.

U.S. PRESSURE

The United States is pressing hard for a plan to have the assembly accept the World Court's finding that payment of the Congo assessment is mandatory on the same basis as assessments for the regular U.N. budget.

The U.S. delegation has expressed confidence that the resolution will get the two-thirds majority needed for adoption by the assembly. But there is a strong chance it will also draw abstentions from most of the 50 non-paying members who don't welcome any measure which would make them legally responsible to pay.

Workers Sign 100-Ton Card for Pakistan

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)— More than 1,000 workers put their signatures yesterday to what was described as "the world's biggest greeting card." It is 58 feet long and weighs over 100 tons.

It is a diesel-electric locomotive —the 200th to be shipped to Pakistan by Alco Products, Inc.

★ ★ ★

As a gesture of good will, Alco workers decided to autograph it.

Their signatures are not on the locomotive itself but on a skin-tight plastic "cocoon" sprayed on the locomotive to protect it in shipment. It will be peeled off at its destination.

Inside the engine's cab, workers at the locomotive shop in Lahore, Pakistan, will find a gift from their Schenectady counterparts, basketball equipment for the shop recreation program.

Alco workers decided to turn the locomotive into a greeting card when they heard that the Pakistani shop workers had difficulty getting top-notch basketball gear.

So they chipped in to buy equipment, packed it into the cab and took pens in hand.

The locomotive will be used by the Pakistan Western Railway. Alco said Pakistan has ordered more than $50 million worth of locomotives from the company in the last 10 years.

Earth's Poles Geographic

WASHINGTON — If the earth's poles were real shafts instead of imaginary points, the polar areas would look like pincushions.

Dotting these regions are the geographic North and South poles, the geomagnetic poles, the principal magnetic dip poles where free-swinging, magnetized needles point straight down or up, and clusters of minor magnetic poles.

Best known, of course, are the North and South Poles, the ends of the imaginary axis on which the earth spins, the National Geographic Society says.

IMAGINARY MAGNET

The geomagnetic north and south poles represent the terminals of a line running through a hypothetical magnet near the earth's center. The axis is tilted about 12 degrees from that of the geographic poles.

The north geomagnetic pole is near Thule, Greenland, and the south is in Antarctica, 791 miles from the South Pole. The geographical and geomagnetic poles are fixed points.

The actual magnetic poles, however, wander about according to changes in the earth's magnetic field. They seem to drift about the Canadian Arctic and the South Pacific near Antarctica without any known pattern of movement. These poles are not even directly opposite each other.

Ten years ago, the magnetic north pole was on the northwest edge of Prince of Wales Island in the Canadian Arctic. Since then, the pole has advanced northward across 60-mile-wide Barrow Strait to southern Bathurst Island.

Investigators Say Truck May Have Caused Crash

By ROBERT J. SERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON — Investigators today looked into the possibility that a maintenance truck, lost in the fog, blundered across the runway just before an airliner crashed and killed 25 persons last Friday night at Idlewild Airport.

SERLING

They said it might be the reason why Capt. Edward Bechtold, who died in the wreck, tried to abort his landing. They theorized that he mistook the truck for an airplane in the fog.

Sources close to the investigation said evidence still seems to show that a large and extremely thick patch of fog moved over the runway as Bechtold brought his Eastern Air Lines DC7B in, robbing him of all forward vision.

They theorized that if a maintenance truck wandered over the runway accidentally, Bechtold might have seen only the glow from the flashing red light atop the vehicle. He might have thought it was the plane that landed just ahead of him.

"His first thought would have been 'My God, I'm going to hit a plane full of people,'" one investigator said. "His first reaction would have been to pull up instantly and go around—at the very second he was almost committed to a landing and when his airspeed was low.

"The fog he probably encountered would have made things even worse because he undoubtedly lacked, truck or no truck, any visual reference to the ground."

Experts said it was unimportant that the plane crashed about 200 feet from the runway where it was to have landed. They said that in an aborted landing, it is common for the aircraft to drift away from the runway as the pilot applies power.

★ ★ ★

There was little doubt that he tried to abandon the landing. The gear was up and the throttle on full power.

Another possibility was that Bechtold encountered an asymmetrical flap condition, in which one flap was lower than the other. This might have accounted for his decision to abandon the landing and also the drift to the left.

Music Fans Loose Booze at Concerts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — There will be at least three things missing from next summer's top concerts by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra — beer, pretzels and cigaret smoke.

The city's art commission has taken the action because the civic auditorium, traditional site of the concerts, is being renovated and will not be available this summer.

The concerts, which will be conducted by Arthur Fiedler, will be held at Masonic Memorial Auditorium, where smoking is not permitted and there is no table service for beer and pretzels.

The commission said the concerts probably will be back in the civic auditorium by 1964 — presumably, with all the trimmings.

The name of Wyoming was taken from Wyoming valley in Pennsylvania and it means land of mountains and valleys. Original valley was an Indian massacre scene.

Political Inn-ovation

Capitol Suggestions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The management of the Skyline Inn, the first new hotel on Capitol Hill in 15 years, says it received the following suggestions from political-minded contributors when it asked what extras it might provide:

—An album of recordings of the congressional record to be used instead of sleeping pills (with instructions for preventing overdosage).

—A "rubber pointer: for pointing with pride, alarm or even awe."

A device to be worn while asleep "to keep the face in a smiling position and develop muscle strength in this area."

—"Recorded telephone calls from the President: to bolster morale and ego during moments of depression."

Heads Toward Political Stability

Can Expect De Gaulle to Keep Plugging

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

President Charles de Gaulle's olympian attitude toward himself, toward France and toward the world has been a source of annoyance to other world leaders ever since he emerged at the head of Free French forces in World War II.

The fact that he frequently has been correct in NEWSOM his seemingly arbitrary judgments probably has not eased that irritation.

* * *

And now that he has upset the political chartists by winning a landslide victory in French general elections, the world had better prepare itself for more of the same.

When French voters swept pro-Gaullist candidates into office in late November they did so on no clear-cut program other than that they had never had it so good and that they were for de Gaulle.

The election results swept old-line parties and old-line politicians out of power and appear to have placed France well on the road to one of de Gaulle's main goals—political stability much in the manner of the United States.

INTERNATIONAL:

Independence from the United States. Basic would be a reorganized professional French army stationed on French soil equipped with nuclear weapons and closely allied with West Germany. Involved are two de Gaulle concepts.

* * *

They are that the United States will one day pull out of Europe and that Europe should be free to make its own decisions without U.S. interference.

De Gaulle rejects as utopian the idea of a politically tightly knit Europe with its consequent surrender of national sovereignties.

He prefers a loose confederation of independent European nations from which eventually would emerge, under French leadership, a third force capable of dealing as an equal either with the Soviet Union or the United States.

* * *

He sees no need for British entry into the European Common Market, especially for so long as Britain continues to maintain its special nuclear association with the United States.

* * *

But in the far distant future, he continues to foresee an essentially united Europe extending from the "Urals to the Atlantic" and the gradual return of Russia to the European family.

DOMESTICS:

At home one of de Gaulle's biggest jobs is the reform of agriculture which remains France's largest single industry but in efficiency ranks below West Germany, the Netherlands and Belgium.

He hopes to eliminate small, unprofitable farm plots and to drain off excess farm labor into industry.

Wages will be increased to meet charges that labor so far has not had its fair share of French prosperity. An expanded public works program is expected to see new construction of highways, airports and schools.

* * *

A four-year development program instituted a year ago anticipates a steady increase in the gross national product of 5.5 per cent and an average rise of 20 per cent in the French standard of living.

W. Germans Bring War Crimes Charge

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—A request by the West German embassy has led to the arrest of Walter Hermann Julius Raus on a war crimes charge.

Chilean authorities said yesterday Raus was described as a former Nazi SS officer accused of responsibility in the extermination of 90,000 Jews in World War II.

He was flown to this city from Punta Arenas, South America's southernmost city, where he was arrested. A widower with two sons, he had been living in Punta Arenas as a salesman since shortly after the end of the war.

Police are holding Raus for the Supreme Court, which will decide whether Chile should grant West Germany's request for his extradition.

Dykstra Urges Industry Guard

'Many Plants Couldn't Adjust to War'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. president John Dykstra yesterday called for creation of an industrial national guard under which American industry would be prepared to switch quickly from peacetime to wartime production should the need arise.

Dykstra, in a speech to the American Ordnance Association, said, "important elements of American industry are not adequately wired into the space and defense efforts.

"If our nation were to be engaged in a conflict tomorrow—large scale, but something less than an atomic war—major segments of American manufacturing industry would have literally no role to play.

"Vast resources would be idled."

Dykstra said this suggests the fact that in that vast segment of American industry that is not now heavily engaged in defense production, we need the equivalent of an industrial national guard."

The Ford executive said the country needs 'to reorganize our productive resources and to put much more of our heavy manufacturing industry in a state of preparedness to switch readily from peacetime to wartime production."

At a minimum, he added, such preparedness would mean "that heavy industry would be kept current in matters of defense technology in areas of natural interest to it."

Thai King 35 Years Old

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Thailand's King Bhumibol Adulyadej turned 35 yesterday and received well-wishers at the Grand Palace.

What better way for small fry to start the big day than with a Christmas breakfast before the excitement of the tree and Santa's gifts. A table setting such as this one should get the day away to a gala beginning. The snowman set, with centerpiece, tablecloth, plates, cups, napkins, and favors all coordinated will make such a setting simple for mom. The menu can be an easy one: orange juice, breakfast food, milk and doughnuts.

Cuban Economists Travel to Moscow

HAVANA (AP)—A Cuban economic delegation left for Moscow yesterday for talks on a 1963 trade protocol.

The group was headed by Foreign Commerce Minister Alberto Mora and includes Carlos Rafael Rodriguez, head of the National Institute of Agrarian Reform.

Rodriguez is also a top member of the National Political Directorate and is considered one of the top Marxist-Leninist economists in Cuba.

He recently took part in talks here with Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

Zoos Attempt to Save Wild Malayan Ox

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two zoos are trying to save a vanishing species of wild Malayan ox.

A 2,000-pound bull sladang, six feet tall at the shoulder, has been brought from the National Zoological Park in Washington to be bred to the St. Louis zoo's sladang cow, said by the zoo to be the last female of the species in captivity.

The bull, one of two males owned by the Washington zoo, will remain in St. Louis. Under an agreement between the zoos, the first calf would go to Washington and succeeding calves would be shared equally.

To Ask Probe in Sale of Land

Legislator Disturbed by U. of M. Acquisition

LANSING (AP) — A member of a joint legislative committee on cemeteries said yesterday he will ask for a state probe of the disputed acquisition of 60 acres of cemetery land by the University of Michigan.

"I think this matter merits the attention of the state and I will propose that it be referred to the attorney general for an investigation," said Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit.

Some 15 persons who own burial plots in the Arborcrest Cemetery have charged in a lawsuit that they were victims of "fraud, deceit and misrepresentation" in the transaction by which U. of M. purchased the land for $231,000 in late 1960.

Several have testified before the committee.

U. of M. bought the property, adjacent to its developing north campus, for purposes which have yet to be announced.

The burial-plot owners contend the transaction carved Arborcrest up into a misshapen and virtually useless tract, destroying their investments.

The suit, pending in Washtenaw County Circuit court, names as defendants the U. of M. Board of Regents and Roy Hatten, the former owner of Arborcrest.

Senator Concedes Seat He Lost by Only 504 Votes

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (AP) — Sen. Joe Bottum, R-S. D., yesterday conceded the election of Democrat George McGovern to Bottum's U.S. Senate seat.

Until Bottum's surprise concession, it had been expected his backers might carry the fight to the state Supreme Court after a complete canvass of the Nov. 6 general election showed McGovern winning by an unofficial margin of 504 votes.

"I do not intend further action now that the recount is completed," said Bottum, who was a Republican appointee earlier this year to succeed the late Republican Sen. Francis Case.

The Associated Press tabulated the statewide recount results as 127,499 votes for McGovern to 126,995 for Bottum. McGovern is a former food-for-peace director and a former South Dakota congressman.

Ancient Circus Folds After 800-Year Run

LONDON (UPI) — There was no television when George Sanger's ancestors came to England in the 12th century as jesters for King John and they prospered.

Conditions are different now and a petition has been filed in Chancery Court by Sanger to disband the family circus.

One of the three children of infancy and another at the age of President Franklin Pierce died in road accident when he was 11 47. The third met death in a rail- years old.

Household Items Make Cute Yule Decorations

Package trims made with the little cotton swabs that mothers of small babies keep on hand are fun for children to make. At the right is a decoration to put on a package containing records. At the left is a cereal box made into a Santa—just the thing for odd-shaped gifts.

Simple, but effective Christmas decorations may be made from ordinary household items — cotton swabs, colored paper and cereal boxes — aluminum foil — and the bright little plastic squeeze lemons and limes you buy juice in. Let the children help.

★ ★ ★

For an eye-catching — and easy — yuletide package decoration, why not make festive Christmas carolers? Especially if your gift list includes LP record albums.

To make the distinctive white on red design, all you need are a length of plain red Christmas paper, cotton swabs and a little glue.

A package approximately 14 by 16 inches will give the best proportion.

First, wrap it in red. Then, following the design shown in the picture, place 11 cotton swabs close together to form the man. For the girl, flare them at the skirt as the picture shows.

Don't glue anything into place until all of the design parts are complete. That way you can easily make changes as you go along.

★ ★ ★

The cheery faces are about 2 inches in diameter. Use a small drinking glass to draw circles on white paper. Cut out, then use a cotton swab as a little brush to dot on eyes and a mouth with ink.

Glue dots of the red Christmas paper in place to make their rosy cheeks. Full length swabs make the legs and stovepipe hat. Snip the tips to make the girl's hair.

3-D LOOK

The "arms" and songbook give a three-dimensional look. The songbook is just two inches of stiff white paper folded in half.

To make arms, cut swabs in half. Glue one end of the "forearm" to the songbook. Glue the other to the package to meet the half swab "upper arm." Then glue all other parts to the package surface and let dry.

The round Santa to the left is also easy tomake. It's time for odd-shape gifts such as yo-yo's, harmonicas, tops and whistles. To make it, cover an empty cereal box with a bright red paper then glue a cotton swab beard in place. Eyes are paper stars on a snip of white paper. Santa's hat is made with swabs and Christmas ball tassel.

PLEATED FOIL

Pleated foil can be used in many ways to make interesting holiday trims. A circle of it around the base of lights is a beautiful reflector. Or make a pretty fan by holding one end of the pleating together with a bow and spreading out the other end.

Several fans make gleaming tree ornaments or one is a perfect frill to decorate a package. For a festive holiday table: put the pleating around the base of a turkey platter, casserole or pie plate — or around the base of the candles.

★ ★ ★

Once you've tried pleating foil, you'll think of endless decorative uses for it.

To make angel wall plaque: cut an 18 by 28 inch piece of art board or cardboard. Cover it with aluminum foil gift wrap and tape to back. Border it with decorative holiday tape.

For body of angel, double-fold a 2-foot-long piece of 12-inch-wide aluminum foil to make a square. Place three rows of holiday tape at the bottom of foil and pleat at one-inch intervals.

For wings, double-fold a 1-foot-long piece of 12-inch-wide foil and pleat. Cut in half.

Cut a styrofoam ball in half for head; decorate with small triangles for eyes and mouth, and use bits of foil for hair.

Twist a strip of foil for halo. Attach angel to background with glue or cellophane tape. To hang, attach a picture hook to back of cardboard.

LEMONS HAVE USES

Impressive Christmas decorations and tree ornaments may be made from empty plastic sitting squeeze lemons.

Here are instructions for a candle centerpiece and the snowflake ornament.

For the centerpiece you will need a dozen assorted sitting lemons and limes. Cut a 10 by 14 inch rectangle from corrugated cardboard. Cover rectangle with gay Christmas paper. Cut an 8- by 10-inch oval from cardboard. Cover with slightly larger piece of foil, "crinkled" to fit. Center oval on rectangle and glue.

★

Place a Christmas candle, large enough to stand by itself and at least 8 inches tall, in center of oval. Slit several sitting squeeze lemons and limes in half. Leave a few others whole.

Paint sitting lemons bright colors with poster paint. Sitting limes may be used in their natural color. Arrange these and the whole ones around candle. Glue these into position, using flat bottom as surface to glue to base.

BEND STRAWS

Bend gold drinking straws in half. Insert into openings of lemons. Bend straws outward. Press gummed stars on edges of straws and on inside of squeeze lemon halves.

The snowflake ornament is quite simple to make. Cut side out of one large sitting lemon. Paint inside of lemon a bright color with poster paint, or gild with gold paint. Cut "snowflake" from foil paper to fit inside of lemon. Attach with glue.

★ ★ ★

Glue cord around edge of opening of ornament. Pull gold cord through top opening of lemon and knot.

This candle centerpiece and snowflake tree ornament are made from plastic squeeze lemons. For centerpiece, halved and whole lemons are painted red and green and glued to base. Ready-made Christmas candle stands in center. Gold drinking straws, tipped with stars, are inserted in openings of lemons. For snowflake ornament, side is cut from squeeze lemon. Snowflake is cut from foil paper and glued inside.

Not all angels are in heaven. You can put one . . . a shining foil one that is . . . on your wall to fill your home with the spirit of the season. This attractive wall decoration is easily made. The angel is pleated aluminum foil attached to a gift-wrap-covered piece of cardboard; the effect is three-dimensional.

There's Plenty of Time Left to Make Will Changes—Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Is it too late to change my will? I had one made out years ago with the help of my lawyer.

ABBY

I left everything to my nieces and nephews (I have no living sisters or brothers) and I have since had some second thoughts.

★ ★ ★

My nieces and nephews have shown no interest in me. I would like to change my will and leave everything I have to one charity and a family of friends who have been very kind to me.

How can I do this? I am miles from my lawyer.

GROWING OLDER

DEAR GROWING: Either telephone or write your lawyer and he will handle the matter for you. It certainly is NOT too late.

DEAR ABBY: I like a guy very much but I don't like the way he kisses. I don't want to hurt his feelings by telling him. What should I do?

UGH

DEAR UGH: If you don't know this "guy" well enough to give him the word about his kisses, you shouldn't be kissing him.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps I am being small but we have neighbors who think they are being "neighborly" by getting our mail out of our box and delivering it to us across the street.

I think our mail is our own business and no one has the right to do the mailman's job. In the past, if we were not at home, our mailman would leave our packages with these neighbors, but when I told him to stop it, he did. So we don't have that trouble any more.

How can I tell our neighbors to leave our mail alone without getting on the outs with them?

WANTS PRIVACY

DEAR WANTS: Simply tell your neighbors (in a very "neighborly" way) that you prefer to get your own mail. And, by the way, there is a law against tampering with someone else's mail.

Potted Plants Follow the Sun

You can make it easy and simple for your clay-potted house plants to follow the sun by keeping them in planters equipped with wheels or casters so they can be moved from dimly lighted areas to sunny windows — or placed under artificial lights, which many home gardeners use successfully as a sun substitute.

Garden Club Displays Bright Christmas Show

By MADELEINE DOEREN

White Italian twinkle-lights on stout evergreens set the stage for the 25th annual Christmas show presented by the Birmingham Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, which closes tonight at the Birmingham Community House.

According to Mrs. Chester Wisniewski, chairman, some 150 exhibits were entered by 83 members.

White snapdragons and red rosebuds in a white china cherub container centered a table laid with black linen, red napkins and white china.

In a lighter vein, pale turquoise net over linen covered a table decorated with a pink Santa, pink roses and boxwood in a silver bowl.

Ceramic kittens were looking for their sequined mittens on a Christmas breakfast table set with milk glass on a blue print cloth.

WINNERS

Among blue-ribbon winners were Mrs. Grover S. Ramsey, Mrs. P. N. Askounis and Mrs. William Beatty for hanging arrangements; Mrs. William Hyland and Mrs. George Chesley, shadow boxes; Mrs. Charles Davison, bird feeder; Mrs. Carmen Adams and Mrs. W. J. Mirgeler angel compositions.

Madonnas and special compositions won blue ribbons for Mrs. Marvin Katke and Mrs. W. J. Grabendike, Mrs. Harry Hoyt, Mrs. J. L. Gailey and Mrs. H. O. Schjolin, also Mrs. Henry Gilmartin and Mrs. William Burlingame for Christmas card designs.

Ranking first in their classes were Mrs. D. D. Langlois, Mrs. Gailey, Mrs. Gilmartin and Mrs. Walter Anderson.

First winners for house plants were Mrs. Askounis, Mrs. Ben Young, Mrs. George Limp, Mrs. Frances E. Hicks, Mrs. Alvin H. Knorr and Mrs. Gilmartin.

Blue ribbons in the junior class went to Beverly Heyl; Paul Skaistis and Connie Cameron.

Kathy Lawton and Phoebe Hunter won in the 12 to-13-year-old class; Leslie Baird was a winner in the 14-to-16-year class.

This Christmas card, featuring a Madonna theme, was designed by Mrs. D. A. Shardelow of Bloomfield Hills for a 25th annual Christmas show staged by the Birmingham Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. The display closes tonight at the Birmingham Community House. Emerald green velvet forms the background for the statuette in a gilded palm frond with white pompons and juniper branches at the left.

An old Pennsylvania Dutch "hex" plaque centers a "Breakfast for Two" table done by Mrs. Clyde L. Hagerman, Bloomfield Hills for the WNF&G show. Simulated red raspberries and holly are arranged in a 100-year-old apothecary scale. An English scoop of solid brass holds red napkins. Old hobnail and ruby glassware contrast with an avocado green felt cloth fringed in red and white.

Don't Spoil Yule for the Young

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband died quite suddenly two weeks ago and I dread the thought of the coming Christmas season as I know it will be a very unhappy time for me.

However, my children are too young to realize the tragedy of their father's death and are looking forward eagerly to Christmas. For their sakes, I would like to make it as gay as possible.

Will you please tell me how far I can go without being thought uncaring and heartless by others? In other words, would it be proper to have a Christmas tree, exchange presents, etc.?

A: Certainly you may have a Christmas tree for the children and exchange presents and make it just as gay as you can for them.

It would be very unfair to them to spoil their Christmas because of your own unhappiness and I am sure everyone will understand why you are doing it.

You would naturally not give any parties for your own friends.

Q: Will you please give me your opinion on the propriety of taking up a cash donation among the families in a neighborhood where a husband has lost his wife and has four small children?

The money would be presented with a card of sympathy signed by all the families. The amounts given by each would not, of course, be mentioned.

A: Had it been the husband who died, leaving the wife to support the children, there would be an impelling reason for a cash donation, but as it is the breadwinner of the family who survives, a gift of money could only embarrass him.

★ ★ ★

Q: I would like to know if it would be proper to give my fiance a sport jacket for Christmas. I know this is something he would like but wondered about the propriety of such a present. Would such a gift be in bad taste?

A: A sport jacket is wearing apparel and as such would not be a proper present to give your fiance until he becomes your husband.

Musical's Members Hear Chinese Music

Matinee Musicale Club members heard guest speaker Mrs. John Hsu, trace the history of Chinese music to the present day during Sunday's meeting at the home of Valjean Simson of West Brooklyn Avenue.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hsu played tape recordings to demonstrate instrumental music in both orchestral and solo arrangements. She also showed pictures of various operatic characters and explained the meanings behind the complex make-up used.

★ ★ ★

Performing at the piano were Kristin Lindquist, Kathy Brown, Diane Vincent, Tim Hsu, Mary Cheal, Tom Putnam, Beth Turpin, Frank Slaughter, Molly Haydn, Miss Simson, Barbara Crossman, Susan Briney and Pam Dell.

★ ★ ★

Other performers were Bill Cheal Jr., trombone solo, accompanied by Mrs. William Cheal; Lee and Bob Cheal, cornet and trumpet duet, accompanied by Mrs. Cheal; Jordie Rosenthal, clarinet solo, accompanied by Mrs. Rosenthal; and Tim Hsu who played his own composition, "Russian Sailor's Dance."

★ ★ ★

New members in the club are Miss Crossman, Frank Slaughter, Miss Haydn and Miss Vincent.

Hostesses were Mrs. Arnold Simson, Mrs. Donald Bryson and Mrs. Walter Schmitz.

Christmas Fete Set by Altrusa

The annual Christmas dinner meeting of the Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham will be held Monday at the Bristol Lane home of Mary Bartlett of Birmingham. Altrusans and their special guests, honorary and past members of Altrusa, will listen to harp music during the dinner.

Highlighting this dinner meeting will be the gathering of articles to be used by the home economics classes of the Oakland County Children's Home and Center. Altrusans are foregoing the customary exchange of gifts this year in favor of donating articles to the Children's Home.

In addition to articles for home economics classes, usable (or repairable) band instruments are being collected to supplement the merger supply for the use of the children at the center. Contributions from the general public will be accepted.

The money which was collected from the recent lecture series was added to the Altrusa project fund. It will be used to support the Sister Kenny rehabilitation equipment fund. The Children's Home and the Birmingham Community House.

Resentment Makes Sad Situation Worse

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Several months ago my son married a divorcee with a boy of 10. The child is very rude to me. As his mother never corrects him, my son had to punish him recently for calling me a nasty name under his breath. But it has done no good.

★ ★ ★

This weekend he slammed the bathroom door in my face. I have told my son I will not set foot in his house again until this stepson of his is taught some manners . . .

Answer: Why do you want consideration from a child who doesn't want to give it to you?

Let's get down to brass tacks. Aren't you really hurting over your son's "rudeness" in marrying a woman you don't like?

SUFFERING MAY GROW

Okay. Let the suffering get bigger and bigger. Don't run away from it with nonsense about this child. Rage and weep over the real pain until you get so sick of being miserable that you disconnect from what I'm sure is causing it—resentment of your inability to make things happen the way you want them to happen.

It may well be that your son's marriage has brought your first deep realization that you can't have everything you want in this world—a shattering sense of helplessness that you may have been denying all your life. If you can take it in, you've won.

If you resist taking it in, you may continue to suffer the kind of hopeless, bitter discouragement which I think you are now feeling.

But if you can let your son be what he is, you'll find you can let this child be what he is, too.

★ ★ ★

You'll stop complaining about him. You'll know what you can do about it. Next time he slams a door in your face, you'll reopen it immediately and say, "That was rude. So I am going to put you straight about something.

'I DON'T MIND . . .'

"I don't mind your rudeness. I would like you to be polite to me but I don't need you to be. I want no niceness from you until you want to give it to me."

The sickly notion that we should be able to control the conduct of others is the enemy of self-respect. It exposes us to so many failures that we can't acquire any self-respect.

★ ★ ★

It keeps us too busy criticizing and hating ourselves every time someone fails to deliver the behavior we want that self-respect has no time to establish itself in us.

Gift Tips for Students

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE N-494: Lola J., aged 17, is a good student.

"Dr. Crane," her grandmother asked, "what would be a most appropriate gift for Lola?

DR. CRANE

"She is going to college next year and I'd like to get her something that would be useful.

"If she were your grandchild, what would you give her?"

Give your children presents that will produce lasting dividends in the way of more social and educational advancement.

Mrs. Crane and I gave each one of our five children a typewriter as a graduation present from high school.

Indeed, it is wise to see that eighth grade graduates also receive this very useful gift, for it will help boost their school marks all during high school and thus be good insurance that they can get into college.

A rebuilt typewriter can be purchased at about half price, which means less than $100.

And many business men trade in their used machines for about $35 on new ones, so if you have access to such firms, you can pick up a fairly useful machine for $35 to $50.

A typewriter not only stimulates your child to write home more often while he is away at college.

But it also helps improve his spelling, for as he strikes the different keys he becomes more attentive to the internal arrangement of the letters within the words.

HIGHER MARKS

The greatest dividends from a typewriter, however, come from the higher school marks he will receive on his English themes and term papers.

For the average college professor gets snowed under by the avalanche of such assignments.

Since most students write so poorly it is difficult to decipher their childish scrawls (even in college) the professor subconsciously draws a sigh of relief whenever he sees a neatly typewritten paper.

So he tends to become somewhat biased in its favor. Thus, a paper that might rate a "C" grade when scrawled in the usual longhand script, may be given at least a "B-" if typed.

★ ★ ★

Since competition for getting into college and also for staying there, will become more severe with each passing year, every time you offer a gift to a student that will help raise his marks, you are doing him a lasting favor.

OTHER GIFTS

Other suggested educational gifts consist of a collegiate dictionary. And as soon as your youngsters enter grade school, purchase an encyclopedia! Then encourage him to use it.

Smart parents thus assign their children simple projects to be developed from the encyclopedia. Let them report on the difference between birds or flowers or weeds. Make your dinner table a discussion clinic.

★ ★ ★

William James said his family was outstanding because his father thus encouraged discussion and debate at the dinner table.

"So we children just whetted our wits on each other's," concluded our pioneer psychologist.

A "red letter" Bible is also the greatest single book of all, so see that your children have a copy and are encouraged to use it.

For further advice, send for Your Children at Home," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

"An investment in knowledge," said Benjamin Franklin, "always pays the best dividends."

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Local U. of M. Student News

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

Operas, oratorios and prospective Broadway musicals have dominated activities at the University of Michigan this past week.

Lydia Mendelssohn Theater and Hill Auditorium have been in constant use with rehearsals for the "Messiah," "Carmen" and MUSKET's "Bartholomew Fair" in progress.

Participating students have sacrificed much sleep and study time in order to produce these high quality productions which draw an audience of both students and area residents.

★ ★ ★

Traditionally initiating the Christmas season in Ann Arbor is the University Musical Society's presentation of Handel's "Messiah."

The Choral Union, a 300-voice choir of students and Ann Arbor residents, and the University Symphony Orchestra presented this oratorio Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon under the direction of Lester McCoy, in Hill Auditorium.

★ ★ ★

Participating in this presentation of the "Messiah" were Pontiac students Jean Huttula and Carol Wargelin. Jean, a freshman of South Roselawn Street, played first violin in the orchestra and Carol, a sophomore of Voorheis Road, blended her voice with others in the alto section of the chorus.

★ ★ ★

The School of Music and Department of Speech are presenting Bizet's opera "Carmen" this weekend in the Lydia Mendelssohn theater.

Dodie Duckwitz, a sophomore of Sweetbriar Road, is portraying one of the gypsies in the chorus for this opera, being directed by Josef Blatt.

★ ★ ★

The annual MUSKET show this year, "Bartholomew Fair," was presented last weekend in Mendelssohn Theater.

MUSKET, or Michigan Union Show Ko-Eds Too, has for the second straight year presented an original musical written by U. of M. graduate students Jack O'Brien and Robert James.

Pontiac's Micki King won first-place medal in diving at the Women's Inter-Collegiate National Swimming Meet held Saturday at Michigan State University.

A member of the women's swimming team, Micki competed against divers from many Big Ten universities. She is a freshman majoring in physical education and lives on Norton Street.

★ ★ ★

Senior Kiki Sekles of Ottawa Drive is very active in the women's physical education program. Affiliated with Phi Mu Sorority, she is a member of the board for the Women's Physical Education Club.

The purpose of this group of physical education majors is to promote professional attitudes and sponsor athletic events for Ann Arbor children.

A ski trip is also being tentatively planned by the members.

Kiki is also the manager of the Women's Athletic Association badminton tournament, a round of individual competition between affiliated and independent women.

★ ★ ★

Also a member of the Women's Physical Education Club is Sandy Hilderley of Joy Road. Sandy is a junior and affiliated with Sigma Kappa Sorority.

The Sigma Kappas are busy this week decorating for their Christmas dance to be held Friday evening at their house.

Also working on this annual Christmas affair is lotte Johnson of Ogemaw Road.

★ ★ ★

Sophomore Barbara Berryman of Fourth Street attended a tea given in the lounge of her dorm, Stockwell Hall, yesterday afternoon. This tea is an annual event to which the Stockwell girls invite their favorite professors and become better acquainted in a more informal situation than the classroom.

Floating Market Highlights Bangkok Tour

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

BANGKOK, Thailand — This city of more than two million population often is called "the Venice of the East" because of the maze of canals (klongs) intersecting it and stretching into the countryside.

Gradually, however, progress in transportation in which the wheel is replacing the oar also is changing the face of the capital.

The canals, built centuries ago when slave labor was legal, are being filled to create new and widen old roads.

But progress comes slowly to one of the most colorful areas near Bangkok, the floating market — a noisy and delightful tourist attraction well worth getting up early to see.

Motor launches start at seven in the morning for the 5-mile ride up the Punan River and across a major canal, with numerous side "streets" (canals) intersecting it.

* * *

Arrival early at the floating market is a must; bartering among the hundreds, who bring their wares and create a waterways traffic-jam that'd have a Times Square traffic policeman resigning, is just about finished by noon.

Then, back go the farmers to harvest more crops.

Once you leave the river and enter the canal leading to market, the old Thailand takes over—with the new tossed in for sharp contrast here and there.

AIRY HOUSES

Airy frame houses sit right on the "klong," their doors wide open because this part of the world is hot and humid.

Universal way of cooling off: step off the front porch into the klong for a dip.

Harry Darrel, the owner of Harry's tours, who took 12 visiting newspaperwomen on a market tour, said we needn't worry about the children drowning.

* * *

"They learn to swim as they learn to walk," he said. "Their first toys are oars."

Our motor launch passed numerous sampans and other craft en route to the market center.

They were laden with everything produced from surrounding farm areas — ginger root, papaya, banana, coconut, garlic, tobacco, countless fresh vegetables, eggs, sugar cane, pineapple, fresh banana plant leaves to wrap and preserve food, flowers and betel nuts.

* * *

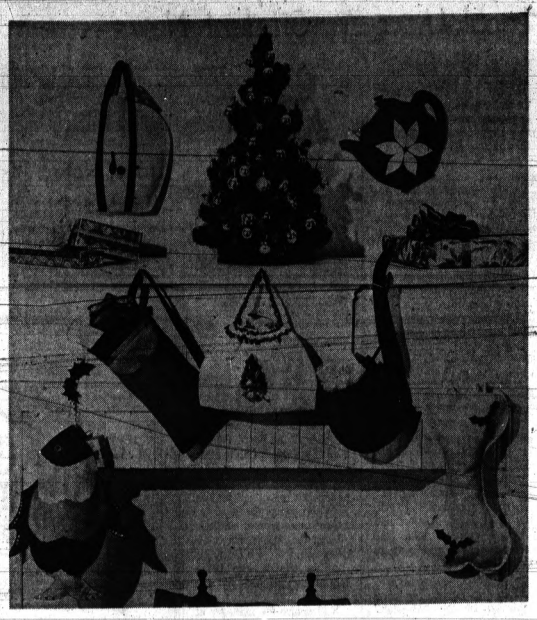
"The older generation still chews betel nuts," said the guide. "The young ones like spearmint."

A small, flat-bottomed boat with aluminum equipment aboard came into view.

"Coffee break," said the guide. "No," he said, when we laughed, "I'm serious. Sampans sell ice cream, coffee and meat around the market area.

"If the boatman rings one bell, it means he's selling ice cream. Two bells, coffee. If he blows a bugle, he's the butcher.

"The postman delivers by boat too," he said. "House number on the klong is what he goes by."



Gay and decorative Christmas stockings are fun and easy to make. Sewing experts suggest whimsical designs for every member of the family, the perfect answer for that "extra" little gift for family, friends or Christmas bazaars. With a little imagination and some bright wool felt, you can make any number of personalized stockings that will brighten the mantle on Christmas morn.

Good Grooming: Make It Snappy

NEW YORK — If you're interested in "instant grooming," try a new aerosol deodorant that sprays on, and a new electric shaver that adjusts from arms to legs with the flick of a switch. To dry nails faster, spray with a lanolin-based spray, or dry them with the manicure "blower" on a home hair dryer.

Rubber Mat Will Stop Tired Legs

When ironing or doing other work that calls for continuous standing in one spot, use a rubber mat. Then your feet won't get so tired.

Teen-Agers Offer Conflicting Views

How Does a Girl React to a Fresh Date?

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

What should a girl do if a boy propositions her?

From an adult's viewpoint, the answer seems easy enough.

But when you put questions on the subject to nearly 1,300 teen-age boys and girls, as we did recently, you find that there is nothing simple about it.

★ ★ ★

The classic retort of a slap in the face certainly hasn't gone out of style, and most of the girls assert they make firm, flat refusals.

An appeal to the boy's better nature and a wisecrack are other favored rejoinders.

As might be expected, however, the boys and girls come in with widely divergent reports of what actually goes on in this area of what was once hush-hush activity.

★ ★ ★

Parents will be pleased to know that about 85 per cent of the girls insist they are shocked or annoyed.

Only nine per cent confess their vanity is tickled.

These are percentages on only two-fifths of the girls, because the rest report that they've never run up against this sort of thing.

FEW BOYS BOAST

If you think the average boy does a lot of boasting, you are wrong.

Only 29 per cent assert they have ever propositioned any girl.

But those who do make such claims, have a view of the proceedings far afield from that of the girls.

★ ★ ★

The girls' vanity is pleased in 59 per cent of the cases, they assert, whereas 44 per cent of the girls are shocked or annoyed.

As noted above, this is quite different from what the girls say.

The boys claim they meet with firm, flat refusals only 10 per cent of the time, while 46 per cent of the girls say that is their reaction.

★ ★ ★

Fifteen per cent of the girls say they walk out on their dates under such circumstances, whereas only half that many of the boys say that has happened to them.

Fifteen per cent of the girls say they make a joke of the whole thing, but only five per cent of the boys agree.

Both boys and girls agree there are appeals to idealism in about a fifth of the cases.

Only a handful of either boys or girls concede that anything definite comes of a proposition.

★ ★ ★

About 24 per cent of the boys report they ever apologized, but 70 per cent of them say they dated the same girl subsequently.

Fifty-seven of the girls agree, and most of them indicate that events prove this is quite all right.

As one might expect, a few of the girls — 20 per cent — say they have been propositioned many times, though the largest number say they have had just one such experience.

★ ★ ★

Only 15 per cent of the boys boast they have propositioned "many" girls.

COMMENTS REVEALING

Some of the comments are more revealing, and considerably more entertaining, than statistics.

"She got mad," said a Texas boy succinctly.

"She thought I was crazy," said a South Carolinian.

"She wouldn't speak to me any more," lamented a North Carolina youngster.

"How could I apologize when she threw a wall-eyed fit," demanded an 18-year-old from Arizona.

The best way a girl ever turned him down, said a Utah boy, was to get him to think about the future.

"I don't know about the best way," said a New Jersey 16-year-old, "but the worst was with a wisecrack."

"I thought it was funny," reported a Miami girl, "but he didn't."

"It made me feel cheap," said a Minnesota girl.

Expressing a more philosophic viewpoint, a New York girl said, "Just about every boy has to find out what kind of girl he's dating. When I was shocked, this boy was relieved."

★ ★ ★

"I feel that boys' instincts are strong, but they can control themselves if given a second chance," said a Nevada girl.

Winchester, a strategic point in Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, changed hands 68 times during the Civil War.

Save Your Gloves

Washing leather gloves with dry shampoo will help retain the natural oils and preserve the gloves longer.

Let Baby Sleep

A small flashlight hung near the door of a baby's room will provide enough light to check on his covering, but not enough to awaken the child.

Enter, the Mad Hatters

NEW YORK — Teen-age girls will be crazy about crazy hats this winter. Kookie chapeaux range from head-covering wigs of curly lamb or opossum or a three-cornered kerchief of "leopard" pile to a yellow wool cloche fringed in black or a pigtailed watchcap.

Stew: Whys, Wherefores

Some veal and lamb stews, like Veal Blanquette, are served in a light gravy. The meat is not browned first. It is cooked from the start in wine, water or stock. That is why it is called a light stew. The stewing pan should be covered tightly during cooking. A temperature of 200 degrees is perfect for simmering meat.

Polly's Pointers

Hubby Has Reliefer

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I am a traveling salesman. My wife and I have no children and my wife is afraid to stay alone.

I made a figure of a man's head and when I am away from home my wife sets this wooden head in the window and turns on a light.

From the outside it looks like a man and she turns it around every once in a while to make it look more real.

TIM

DEAR POLLY—My husband is a pipe smoker and at the end of an evening, his pipe rack is empty and I used to find every ash try in the house filled.

Each time I use my cleaner, I take a few minutes to vacuum my husband's pipes.

Now he leaves the pipes full after smoking and I do the emptying.

He always has his rack full of clean pipes and the ash trays full of smoking remains are gone from our house forever.

MRS. H. M. S.

DEAR POLLY — Wind wire coat hangers with pipe cleaners to keep clothes from slipping off.

Two colors wound together make them attractive. The children enjoy making them, too. Also to take the place of a paper clip, a dress snap from the sewing basket will do the trick.

ANITA

DEAR POLLY—I used to tease my hair with a comb but my new method makes it higher and fluffier. I use a tooth brush. It also stays longer and is easier to comb out.

Woman, 67, Wins High Medic Honor

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A 67-year-old grandmother, who believes prayer can be as effective as medicine, today is the "Women's Woman Doctor of the Year."

Dr. Judith Ahlem, staff psychiatrist at Livermore (Calif.) Sanitarium, received the "Elizabeth Blackwell Award" this weekend from the American Medical Women's Association (AMWA). The distinguished service award is the organizations highest honor.

The presentation was made by Dr. Josephine E. Renshaw Washington D.C., as part of the AMWA's annual banquet and inauguration of officers. She cited her veteran fellow physician representing "the high dedication of her profession and her sex in the service of humanity."

Beef and Vegetables Simmered With Pasta

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

We're all busy with holiday preparations. Regular meals have to be planned and prepared, but simple dishes are preferred.

Mrs. Ralph Blackwell suggests what she calls a "Whole Meal Dish" for easy cooking. An outdoors person, Mrs. Blackwell likes hunting and water skiing. She is treasurer of the PTA at her daughter's school.

WHOLE MEAL DISH
By Mrs. Ralph Blackwell

½ pound ground beef
1½ cups canned tomatoes
1 medium onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 green pepper chopped
⅓ cup celery chopped
½ cup fresh mushrooms OR 1 can mushrooms
Salt and pepper
1 cup dry macaroni, noodles or rice

Brown beef in butter or margarine. Add vegetables except mushrooms and simmer 30 minutes.

Boil macaroni, noodles or rice in salted boiled water. Drain. Add to summered mixture. Add mushrooms and simmer an additional 5-10 minutes.

Serve with corn muffins. Makes 4 servings.

Here's Some Help

Soaps Confuse Women

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women, in fact most women, are bewildered by the different kinds of soaps on the market. They do not know just what their names denote or what their use is. Therefore, once is a while, I like to clarify this for my readers.

First, super - fatted soap is simply soap to which extra fats or oils or cold cream has been added.

A deodorant soap contains an ingredient which discourages bacteria. Bacteria are the cause of unpleasant odor.

Hard-water soap (also called cold-water soap) has oils or a synthetic detergent which will not combine with the minerals in hard water and therefore lathers well in any water.

Castile soap used to be made exclusively from olive oil but today we call any mild soap which has vegetable oils "Castile" soap.

SPECIAL CARE

A beauty bar, bath bar or toilet bar is a synthetic detergent with added lubricants. Since the synthetic detergents do not mix with minerals in the water, you eliminate the ring around the tub. However the suds are extremely fine and you must take special care to rinse well after using this type of soap.

If your skin is dry you will profit by using a super-fatted soap. Many women have trouble with dry skin from middle age on.

Practically everyone has some such difficulty during the cold winter months. A super-fatted soap and the regular use of a body lotion will be most helpful.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Clear The Way For Beauty," (about skin blemishes) send a stamped, self - addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 48 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Metropolitan Auxiliary Has New Officers

The Metropolitan Ladies Auxiliary, Spirit 6, elected officers for the new year at Tuesday's meeting in the club rooms on Yale Street. Mrs. Evi Allen and Mrs. Wavel Hilborn were cohostesses.

Serving with Mrs. John DePauw, president, will be Mrs. Clay Parrett, vice president; Linda Schroeder, recording secretary; Mrs. Parke Nigue, financial secretary; Mrs. Ralph Dean, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Victor Bodamer, first year trustee; and Mrs. Davy Gilpin, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Parrett will open her home for the Christmas party following a dinner in the Four Korners Restaurant on Tuesday.

The auxiliary members will serve chili to the Pontiac Goodfellows on Dec. 15.

Installation of officers is set for Jan. 12.

Holiday Brunch Ends With Champagne

Champagne brunch — a magic way to entertain that can be easy, exciting, yet inexpensive. Plan a bonafide French Provencial brunch this holiday season, without spending hours in the kitchen. The secret is in shortcuts — copying famous haute cuisine recipes with dependable American time-savers.

Soup is an example. Most Frenchmen are raised on soup — no meal is complete without it. In a country home, there's always a steaming bowl of thick, hearty soup, even for breakfast.

Since the basic element of French cookery is soup, that essential element is made easy for us, because many delicious soups are ready to serve.

Try this well-balanced brunch during the holidays and let the spicy aroma of country-house cooking greet your guests. Start with a creamy hot soup, then follow with an easy Omelette la Fitte, and a basket overflowing with a variety of hot rolls.

Choose any champagne for your brunch. It should be cool, although not iced. Cool champagne by putting it in a bucket of ice and water. A refrigerator is too cold and may rob the wine of its sparkling delight. Brut is the driest. A semi-dry is slightly sweeter, and a sweet or sec is even sweeter.

Always open champagne without popping the cork. To explode the cork is an American innovation, and usually wastes fine champagne. To open it correctly, grip the cork firmly, and twist the bottle.

One bottle will serve eight three or four ounce drinks. It's the perfect brunch beverage, and will make your party one long remembered.

Here's the menu: Bisque of Chicken and Mushroom, Omelette la Fitte, hot rolls, French champagne, Supreme of Fresh Fruit.

For the Supreme of Fresh Fruit, use orange and grapefruit sections, with a little cubed fresh apple and pineapple. Chill well before serving.

Omelete La Fitte

Cook ⅔ cups each sliced green pepper, onion and mushrooms in 2 tablespoons butter until tender. Stir in 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup, ¼ cup water, and 1 teaspoon vinegar. Cook over low heat about 5 minutes.

Meanwhile, beat 8 eggs, ½ cup milk, ¼ teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Heat 4 tablespoons butter in skillet; pour in egg mixture.

Cook slowly; lift omelet as undersurface becomes set to let uncooked portion flow underneath and cook; when omelet is cooked but still moist, loosen edges and bottom; pour sauce in center; fold one half over and roll omelet onto a warm platter. Makes 4 generous servings.

Bisque of Chicken and Mushroom

In a saucepan, blend 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup with 1 soup can milk, stirring until smooth. Add 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup and 1 soup can water. Heat, stirring now and then; but do not boil. Garnish with chopped or sliced olives. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

FRENCH CHAMPAGNE BRUNCH—the perfect party plan. This easy to prepare menu has all the savor and appeal of a country kitchen. A hearty soup, feathery omelet topped with tangy sauce, and champagne for the final happy tribute to your guests.

Two Doctors Suggest Dieting With Snacks

NEW YORK — Unhappy dieters facing Christmas feast temptations will be happy to learn that at least one doctor thinks they can do all the nibbling they want without getting fat . . . provided they have no meals.

★ ★ ★

According to The Insider's Newsletter, Dr. Clarence Cohn of Chicago's Michael Reese Hospital is leading the fight to establish the slimming virtues of frequent snacks (six to nine a day) instead of three "well-balanced" meals.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Cohn, The Newsletter says, has accumulated impressive evidence that snacking also has health advantages over full meal eating even when the same kind and amount of food is consumed.

His six-year study of laboratory animals revealed that full-meal-eating animals on the same diet as nibblers deposited twice as much fat, developed seven times as much hardening of the arteries, showed reduced thyroid gland activity and often developed diabetes.

Dr. Cohn concludes that stoking the body at regular intervals with large amounts of food forces it to handle normal foods in an abnormal way. He recently found that even proteins turned largely to fat when fed to rats in two hearty meals.

One human dieter, an overweight male, recently lost 26 pounds intwo months on a Dr. Cohn-prescribed hefty 1,500-2,000 calories regimen consumed as six daily snacks.

MORE EVIDENCE

Further encouragement for nibblers came from Dr. Edgar E. Gordon of the University of Wisconsin who also maintains that obesity involves an abnormal bodily handling of foods.

Dr. Gordon reports that he once kept a 286-pound woman under lock and key for four weeks so she couldn't cheat on her starvation diet of 800 calories a day. At the end of the regimen she had lost only three ounces.

He reasons that there was no significant weight loss because of the woman's abnormal metabolic pattern which could not be broken merely by drastic reduction of food intake.

The first step in his weight loss program, which is attracting would-be losers to his Madison clinic from all parts of the country, is a 48-hour total fast to help break the metabolic pattern followed by a six-to-eight-meal-a-day high-protein diet. Unlike Dr. Cohn, he strictly limits the intake of starches and sugars.

Yeast and Sugar Cause Bubbles in Champagne

What makes champagne bubble? . . . That's easy. Before the blend of wines is bottled, a small amount of sugar and a special yeast are added. Once bottled, the added sugar is converted into alcohol and carbon dioxide gas.

★ ★ ★

Since the gas cannot escape from the bottle, it becomes part of the wine. And that's what causes champagne to bubble when you pour it into a glass.

Try Cranberry Crunch Dessert

Cranberries, you know, have long since progressed from their role of a special Thanksgiving-Christmas feature. Thanks to processing, you can now enjoy the tart, delightful flavor and rich color of these berries the year 'round.

Right now, you'll find plenty of the fresh cranberries at your favorite food store. The U.S. Department of Agriculture reminds us that supplies of these berries this season are at a record high — about 13 per cent above last year . . . and 30 per cent above average.

However, whether you go for the fresh or the processed cranberries, their tangy berry taste, so ideal with poultry, is also right at home with meats of all kinds, souffles and casserole dishes.

One delightful preparation that's easy to make is a cranberry crunch that's a real dress-up dessert for both preholiday and holiday parties.

First, mix one cup of the rolled oats, ⅝ths cup of flour and one cup of the brown sugar together. Cut in ½ cup of butter until the mixture is crumbly. Then place half of this mixture in an 8x8-inch greased cake pan. Cover with the cranberry sauce, and top with the rest of the rolled oats mixture. Bake for 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Cut in 6 or 8 pieces and serve hot. Top with scoops of vanilla ice cream, and watch for the smiles on your family's faces.

Turnovers Rich With Sour Cream

A reader asks for this recipe. And no wonder! It's delicious.

Meat Turnovers

2 cups flour
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ pound plus 2 tablespoons sweet butter
1 cup cultured sour cream
Meat Filling

Stir together the flour and salt in a mixing bowl. With pastry blender, cut in ¼ pound of the butter until the size of small peas. With fork work in the sour cream mixing lightly as for ordinary pastry.

Roll out on prepared pastry cloth into a 15 by 12 inch rectangle. Dot with the 2 tablespoons butter cut into bits; fold into 3 layers; press edges together; roll out again; fold into 3 layers; press edges together. Wrap tightly; refrigerate for a couple of hours.

Roll and cut into 12 by 9 inch rectangle; cut into 12 4-inch squares; tag ends of dough from cutting will make another 4-inch square. Add a little of the Meat Filling to each square; fold over to make triangles; brush edges with water and press together with fork tines. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until golden brown—about 20 minutes. Serve hot.

Meat Filling: Cook ½ pound ground beef in 2 tablespoons butter in a skillet, crumbling with a fork, until meat loses its red color. Add ½ of a small onion (finely chopped), 1 chopped hard-cooked egg, salt and pepper to taste, 1 teaspoon flour and ½ cup water. Cook lightly, stirring; cool.

Two Pounds for 12

Count on boiling two pounds of onions and making two cups of medium white sauce if you are planning to serve creamed onions on a holiday menu designed for a dozen eaters.

GUMDROP CAKE — If the family simply won't touch fruit cake, you can give them a special holiday cake made with gumdrops. Moist and spicy, it is the ideal cake to have on hand for drop-in guests.

Cookie Baking Is Part of Christmas

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Every night this week we're making Christmas cookies. That's a pleasant way to burn the midnight oil.

As usual, there are always so many good recipes that we have trouble picking out the ones we want to share with you.

All the cookies in the picture are nutmeg flavored. We're giving you the recipes for three of them. The fourth one a pressed cookie, can be made with your favorite recipe for that type of cookie. Merely substitute 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg for the flavoring you have used in the past.

Nutmeg Sugar Cut-Out Cookies

1¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup (1 stick) softened butter or margarine
¾ teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 cup sugar
1 large egg
Confectioners' Sugar and Water Frosting

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Set aside to use later. Blend together butter or margarine, nutmeg and sugar. Beat in egg. Stir in flour mixture. Chill dough overnight or several hours or until stiff enough to roll.

Roll one-half the dough at a time to 1/16 inch thickness on a lightly floured board. Shape as desired with cooky cutters. Place on ungreased cooky sheets.

Decorate before baking as desired with colored sugar, raisins, almonds or pecans. Or wait and decorate with colored confectioners sugar and water frosting after baking. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 10 to 11 minutes or until lightly browned around the edges. Yield: 4½ dozen, 2½ inch cookies.

FOR GIVING—Apothecary jars brim-full of Chocolate Surprise cookies make especially fine Christmas gifts.

Nutmeg Almond Cookies

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine
1 large egg, beaten
1 tablespoon water
½ teaspoon pure almond extract

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and nutmeg. Add butter or margarine and cut it in until mixture resembles crumbs. Combine egg, water and almond extract. Add to flour mixture. Mix to make a stiff dough. Chill 2 hours or until stiff enough to handle.

Shape into 1-inch balls. Place on ungreased cooky sheets. Flatten balls to ¼ inch thickness with a glass covered with a damp cloth or with waxed paper. Press a half blanched almond in the center of each.

Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 12 minutes or until cookies have browned around edges. Yield: 6½ dozen cookies.

Nutmeg Date Bars

8-oz. package pitted dried dates
1 cup pecans or walnuts
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
2 large eggs, beaten
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
¼ cup sifted flour
¾ teaspoon ground nutmeg
Confectioners' sugar

Put dates and nuts through a food chopper, using the medium blade. Add sugar, eggs and salt. Mix well. Add melted butter or margarine, lemon juice, flour and nutmeg. Mix thoroughly. Spread batter in a one-fourth inch layer in a greased 9x9x2-inch pan.

Bake in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees) 30 minutes. Cool partially, cut into bars and roll in confectioners' sugar. Yield: 21 bars.

Candied cherries hide inside chocolate oatmeal cookie dough and provide a surprise to those who bite into them.

Chocolate Surprises

1 cup butter or margarine, soft
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
2 sq. (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 teaspoon almond extract
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

* * *

60 candied cherries
1 egg white, slightly beaten
⅓ cup chopped nutmeats

Beat butter and sugar together until creamy. Add melted chocolate and almond extract; beat well. Sift together flour and salt; blend into creamed mixture. Stir in oats. Chill dough thoroughly.

For each cooky shape a small amount of dough around a candied cherry to form a ball. Dip top of cooky in egg white, then in nutmeats. Place on ungreased cooky sheets. Bake in 375-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes. Remove from cooky sheets and cool. Makes 5 dozen.

Ready to use mincemeat adds a delightful taste to cookies and is so easy to use. These mincemeat drop cookies have honey and nuts in the recipe to give you added pleasure.

Minced Honey Dews

½ cup sugar
½ cup butter
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 teaspoon almond extract*
½ cup honey
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup ready-to-use mince meat
½ cup coarsely chopped almond or walnut meats
Whole almonds or walnut halves to top cookies

In a large mixing bowl, gradually add sugar to butter. Cream until light and fluffy. Add egg and extracts. Beat well. Stir in honey until just blended. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add flour mixture, mince meat and chopped nuts to creamed mixture. Blend thoroughly.

Drop by teaspoonfuls, two inches apart, onto a lightly buttered cookie sheet. Press a whole almond or walnut half atop each cookie. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes. If desired, after baking, cookie tops may be dipped into confectioners' sugar glaze.

*Note: If walnut meats are used in the recipe, omit the almond extract and use 2 teaspoons of vanilla extract.

ASSORTED COOKIES — No wonder the jolly Santa Claus cookie jar is smiling. He's full of Christmas cookies, all flavored with nutmeg. On the board in the foreground you can see Nutmeg Sugar Cut-Out Cookies, Nutmeg Almond Cookies and Nutmeg Pressed Cookies. In the cookies jar are also Nutmeg Date Bars.

Gumdrop Cake Spicy and Gay

To Show Rockies Film Steal London Payroll

All the color and texture of a traditional holiday fruit cake, plus a moist new deliciousness imparted by tasty, tender gumdrops are to be found in this sparkling, flavorful and easy-to-make Goodtime Gumdrop Cake.

While it looks like a fruit cake, Goodtime Gumdrop Cake is much more than that. It's something new and different that every member of your family will love — especially the children and those who prefer a cake that's softer, more moist and yet similar to a traditional holiday fruit cake.

Goodtime Gumdrop Cake

¾ cup of shortening
½ cup of sugar
⅓ cup of molasses
2 eggs
3 cups sifted flour
¾ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons baking soda
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1½ cups applesauce
1½ teaspoons rum extract
1 lb. (2½ cups) of gumdrops, cut up
2 cups chopped nuts

Cream shortening and sugar. Add molasses and eggs and beat until well blended. Sift dry ingredients together. Sift ¼ cup over the gumdrops and nuts. Add remaining dry ingredients to creamed mixture, alternately with applesauce. Add rum extract. Stir in gumdrops and nuts.

Pour batter into well greased 10-inch tube-type or angel cake pan. Bake at 300 degrees for 2 hours. Or, pour batter into two greased and waxed-paper lined loaf pans (9x4 inches) and bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour and 20 minutes.

Use Evaporated Milk

When a small amount of heavy cream is added to "finish" a curry sauce, you can substitute undiluted evaporated milk with fine results. The curry powder will mask the flavor of the milk.

Red Berries Add Holiday Color to Christmas Sweet Breads

Every homemaker needs new ideas for food to serve at teas and brunch during this "get together" season. Why not try Cranberry Holiday Coffee Cake. Features a topping of fresh cranberries smothered in a crumbly sugary topping. Super! Or serve Cranberry Wreaths, a treat made with packaged caramel nut or cinnamon rolls topped with colorful cranberry sauce. Quick and tasty.

Cranberry Holiday Coffee Cake

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons double acting baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
5 tablespoons butter
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk
2½ cups fresh cranberries, coarsely chopped

* * *

Topping:

¼ cup all-purpose flour
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons butter

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Cut in butter with pastry blender until crumbly. Mix beaten egg and milk. Add to flour mixture. Stir slowly to mix, then beat until blended well. Spread batter evenly into 8x8x2" buttered baking dish. Sprinkle halved cranberries evenly over top.

For topping, mix flour and sugar together. Cut in butter. Sprinkle over cranberries. Bake in 375 degree-oven for 30 to 35 minutes. Makes 9 coffee cake squares.

Cranberry Wreath

1 package refrigerated caramel nut or cinnamon rolls
½ cup canned whole cranberry sauce

Open rolls. Spread cranberry sauce evenly in bottom of 9-inch ring mold (lightly greased). If caramel nut rolls are used, crumble topping over cranberry sauce. Place rolls in mold, scroll side down with sides barely touching. Bake 25 minutes in 375 degree oven. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Sprinkle of Rum Flavors Cake Before Filling

Cake dessert a la Italy.

Three-Flavor Sponge Cake

1 package (4 ounces) chocolate flavored pudding-pie filling mix
3 8-inch sponge-cake layers
Dark rum
½ cup filberts
1¾ cups confectioners sugar (sifted after measuring)
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla

Make up mix according to package directions for pie filling. Sprinkle cake layers with rum and put together with filling.

Toast filberts in shallow pan in oven (375 degrees) 20 minutes; rub off as much of the brown skins as possible; rotary-grate fine. Mix nuts with sugar.

Beat egg until thick and ivory-colored; gradually stir into sugar mixture with vanilla. Allow to stand about 5 minutes to stiffen to spreading consistency. Spread over top and sides of cake. Refrigerate until serving time.

Vegetables Achieve Elegance With Sauces

One of the pleasant aspects of using quick-frozen vegetables is that with so much of the preparation work already done you can afford the time to add creative touches of your own. In that way you can give new interest to your meals and tempt the anti-vegetarians in your family to consume more of these nutritionally important foods.

As a starter, try Cauliflower a la Romana. It takes only a few minutes to prepare, but the finished dish has all the appetizing aroma and flavor of fine Italian food. This vegetable is especially good with fish, so it should be a welcome addition to a meatless meal.

* * *

Corn fritters, crisp and crunchy with the amber sweetness of maple-blended syrup poured over and around them, make a wonderful luncheon or supper dish . . . good for brunch, too, or in the company of a juicy broiled ham slice.

And satisfying enough for a main dish is Green Bean Rarebit with Baked Potatoes. A well-seasoned cheese sauce is added to quick-frozen green beans, cooked according to package directions, and served over baked potatoes. Dieter or not, bake those potatoes and give yourself a treat!

Green Bean Rarebit

1 package (9 ounces) quick-frozen cut green beans
1½ cups milk (about)
2 tablespoons fat
¼ cup flour
1½ teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
1½ teaspoons grated onion
½ to ¾ cup grated American cheese
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon diced pimento
5 hot baked potatoes

Cook beans as directed on package. Drain, measuring liquid; add milk to make 2 cups. Melt fat in saucepan. Add flour, salt, pepper, paprika, and onion and blend. Add liquid gradually and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese, Worcestershire sauce, beans, and pimento; stir until cheese is melted and mixture is thoroughly heated.

Break open hot potatoes, season with salt and pepper, and arrange on platter. Cover with rarebit mixture. Serve at once. Makes 5 servings.

NOTE: If desired, ¾ cup diced leftover cooked meat may be added with beans and cheese.

* * *

Corn Fritters

1 package (1 pound) quick-frozen whole kernel corn, thawed
¼ cup corn liquid and milk
3 tablespoons butter, melted
¾ cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon double - acting baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 eggs, well beaten
Sweet or sour milk may be used.

Drain corn in strainer, pressing slightly against sides. Measure liquid and add milk to make ¼ up. Chop corn if desired. Combine corn and melted butter.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and pepper and sift again. Add to corn mixture and mix thoroughly. Add the liquid and stir until smooth. Then add eggs and blend gently. Drop by heaping tablespoonfuls into ½ inch hot fat and fry until golden brown, 2 to 3 minutes on each side. Serve hot with maple-blended syrup. Makes 16 fritters.

Cauliflower a la Romana

1 package (10 ounces) quick-frozen cauliflower
1½ cups boiling salted water
1 small clove garlic
3 tablespoons olive oil
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Place frozen cauliflower in boiling salted water just long enough to separate florets (about 3 to 4 minutes). Drain. Saute garlic in olive oil until browned. Remove garlic; then saute florets in the olive oil until browned. Add salt and tomatoes, cover, and simmer 2 minutes. Arrange in serving dish; sprinkle with parsley and grated cheese. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

NOTE: Double all ingredients to make 6 to 8 servings.

Into a Pudding Put Mincemeat

For a different dessert try a baked mincemeat pudding. Serve it warm.

Baked Mincemeat Pudding

2¼ cups sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup butter (1 stick)
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
2 cups prepared mincemeat
⅓ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter; add sugar gradually and cream well. Add eggs and beat until light and fluffy. Add dry ingredients alternately with mincemeat and milk, 1-3 of each at a time, and stir after each addition to blend well.

Pour into greased and floured 2-quart tube pudding mold or pan. Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, until done, about 1 hour. Let stand in mold 10 minutes before turning out.

Serve warm topped with vanilla ice cream. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Canned or cooked concentrated mincemeat prepared as directed for pie filling on package label.

Raw Carrots Are Main Ingredient

You will find several reasons why carrot chutney should be in your refrigerator.

Carrot Chutney

1 pound carrots
½ medium sized onion
1 sprig of parsley
1 teaspoon salt
3-4 tablespoons lemon juice

Clean and prepare vegetables. Using a blender, fine blade of food grinder, or fine grater, blend vegetables into a smooth paste with lemon juice and salt. Store in tightly covered containers. Makes 1¼ cups.

Add Chopped Figs to Banana Bread

Fully ripened on the tree, dried in the sun for a greater concentration of natural fruit sugar, carefully sorted, thoroughly steam washed and packed under the most sanitary conditions, California dried figs provide you with unmatched goodness and nutritional value.

A genuine flavor treat and a marvelous source of quick energy, choice figs can be used in a wide array of appetizing dishes.

Looking for something different. Here it is.

Banana Fig Tea Bread

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
3 medium bananas, fully ripe
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon sour milk*
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped dried figs

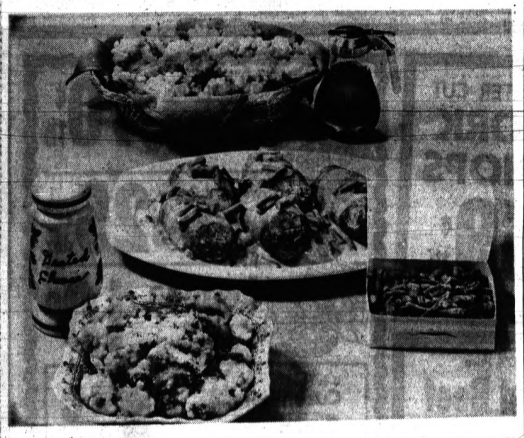
Cream together butter and sugar. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Cut bananas in chunks and gradually add to creamed mixture, beating until blended. Dissolve soda in milk; stir into batter. Beat in flour, salt and figs.

Turn into greased 9x5x3 loaf pan; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes before removing from pan.

*Use buttermilk or add ¼ teaspoon vinegar to 1 tablespoon milk.

Pimientos for Color

Creamed potatoes are extra good when they're enlivened with tiny squares of pimiento. These potatoes are delicious with steak or roast beef. Try the combination and see whether you don't agree!



DRESS THEM UP — Quick frozen vegetables are a joy to the busy homemaker. But the time comes when she wants to serve in a little different fashion. Here are quick-frozen cauliflower, beans and corn in three delicious vegetable recipes to serve as main dishes or as meat or fish accompaniments.

You can pack a little history lesson into dad's Christmas gift this year. If he's a man on the go, he'll appreciate a compact leather travel kit. And to make sure he's well groomed "on the road" this smart little lady gives him a gift set containing travel-sized flasks of after shave lotion and cologne. The apothecary-type flasks have gold caps on the bottles, which reproduce George Washington's inaugural buttons, and give the history of Yorktown as well.

Tax on Use of Water Urged as 'Insurance'

LANSING (AP) —The long, lingering shower some day may be a luxury only the rich can afford, a conference on water-use planning has been warned.

* * *

It was suggested at the conference at Lansing that a water-use tax be established to assure planning for a continuing supply of good and cheap water.

"Water is the most important and cheapest product we buy today," said Frank Suggitt, consultant for the Williams and Works Engineers and Planners of Grand Rapids.

"We tax cherries, apples, gas and autos and just about everything else but we have ignored water and water resources too long in this state of abundant water supplies," Suggitt said.

$3 A YEAR

He suggested a tax of 100th of a mill per gallon of water a year. He figured this would average just under $3 a year for the average householder.

"This would give us more than $4 million a year to research water problems and do something about them," he said.

* * *

"Michigan is now without a statewide water-use plan or policy. We can't continue in this reckless fashion. If we do, some day showers will be only for the rich."

More than 300 delegates attended the conference at the Lansing Civic Center sponsored by the State Chamber of Commerce, Farm Bureau, Municipal League and United Conservation Clubs.

* * *

Gerald J. Remus, head of Detroit's water board, said it is hard to get people to realize there is a genuine problem of water conservation.

"We should appreciate our state and develop it into a genuine water wonderland," Remus said. "For economic, health and recreational reasons we must protect our present good resources."

Cliff Robertson May Hire Himself Next

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene —

What does an actor do after he has played the President of the United States? That's the issue facing Cliff Robertson, now finished with portraying the young JFK in "PT 109."

He may just hire himself for his own production of "The Two Worlds of Charlie Gordon," which he performed on television.

THOMAS

It's an imaginative yarn about a man of substandard intelligence whose IQ is raised by an operation.

His knowledge opens a whole new world to him — and a romance — but then he slowly reverts to his previous mental status.

"I bought the property because I was tired of having the roles I originated on the stage or television go to other actors," he said.

Among the recipients: Dean Martin, "Career"; Marlon Brando, "The Fugitive Kind"; Paul Newman, "The Hustler"; Jack Lemmon, "Days of Wine and Roses."

Edward G. Robinson has been approached by two big concerns to collect a large amount of art for sale, as Vincent Price has done for Sears, Roebuck.

It's not for him, says Robinson, "but I approve of anything that introduces more people to real art."

Dean Martin takes January off for golf, then continues his heavy movie schedule.

He goes to Paramount for "Every Wednesday Night," the story of a Beverly Hills poker game "that should come easy to me," says the onetime card dealer.

After that, Martin's company joins Frank Sinatra's for "Robert Hood," a tale of gangsters in the 1930s.

Billy Wilder is currently Hollywood's most noted letter writer after his blast to Darryl Zanuck ("The sooner the bulldozers raze your studio the better it will be for the industry.")

Wilder explains that his words were inspired not by Zanuck's refusal to let Joseph Mankiewicz finish the editing of "Cleopatra." The real reason was the Fox president's dismissal of producer - writer Charles Brackett despite a contract.

Brackett and Wilder long were partners in making such distinguished films as "The Lost Weekend" and "Double Indemnity."

"Mankiewicz doesn't need any help from me," said Wilder. "He is capable of fighting his own battles."

MCA won't start its building program until April. Reason: That's when the slack season begins in television filming. Thus construction noises will have minimum interference with production.

"Jumbo" is MGM's Christmas gift for movie goers, and it's a welcome attraction for the whole family.

It's the kind of musical Hollywood used to make, with production numbers that are beyond belief, and a plot to match.

Doris Day, Jimmy Durante, Martha Raye and Stephen Boyd perform their duties with charm and humor.

About all that remains from the original stage musical are the great Rodgers and Hart songs and the classic line of Durante's when he is accused of trying to steal an elephant..

Standing in front of Jumbo, he exclaims: "What elephant?"

Fatso Hailed as Spirit of Christmas Present

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Now is the fat man's finest hour.

A fat man leads a mixed-up life in our calorie-conscious civilization.

For five weeks a year he is a hero—the king of the hill. The rest of the year he is a dumpy clown, a figure — an over sized figure — of ridicule to his skinny inferiors.

BOYLE

This is the season between Thanksgiving Day and New Year — that separates the fat men from the lean boys.

This is the brief season when everybody truly loves a fat man because he looks like those two symbols of harvest and human kindliness—the pumpkin and Santa Claus.

It makes everybody happy even to see a fat man come over their horizon like a waddling cloud. He is in the flesh so perfect an image of the joyous spirit of the time.

* * *

Even strangers come up to the fat man and poke a playful finger in his chubby stomach and say things like:

"There's a lot of good living in there, eh?"

"Better than money in the bank, isn't it?"

"Well, you're at least one fellow who can take it with him, aren't you?"

The fat man is inundated with invitations to seasonal festivities of every kind. He becomes the life of every party. For what kind of a party is it around Christmas that doesn't have a jolly fat man there, booming with laughter?

It makes other people feel good just to see the fat man eat and drink—living life up the way mankind feels it ought to all year round in a feast of endless plenty.

Unused to appreciation, the fat man falls for this accolade like a hungry kid turned loose in a store full of all-day suckers.

He bellies up to the wassail bowl and drinks mightily. He spills more calories on his necktie at lunch than the average man consumes in a day. He buffets the buffet for a third huge helping as the other guests gaily urge him on with remarks like, "Come on, have another piece of mince pie," and "My, doesn't it do your soul good to see someone get such real pleasure out of living?"

Actually, of course, the fat man isn't having all that fun. He is merely doing what is expected of him—playing a sacrificial role in order to bask in the unexpected sunshine of social approval.

In this noble task the fat man in the five weeks following Thanksgiving puts on 15 pounds, ruins his digestion, finds his clothes no longer fit him.

On New Year's Day, facing a mountain of unpaid bills and worn out by intemperate indulgence, people suddenly weary of Santa Claus and the holiday mood.

And who do they turn on? Why, the fat man. They blame him for their own orgies. He becomes the scapegoat for all.

They point scornful fingers at the bounteous stomach they so lately praised and say: "Ugh!"

"There must be something psychologically wrong with him or he wouldn't let himself get into that shape."

All at once nobody loves the fat man. He doesn't have a friend in the world, not even himself. And all he did was try to please a fickle public.

So enjoy yourself now, fat man —it won't last!

Four Escape Injury in Light-Plane Crash

HOLLAND (AP)—Four occupants of a small, private plane escaped serious injury late yesterday when it crashed after take-off from the Park Township airport.

The plane, owned by the DeKalb Agricultural Corp. of DeKalb, Ill., cleared the runway and a highway before crashing into a nearby woods.

Frozen snow on the wings was believed to have caused the crash.

The occupants, all employes of the DeKalb firm, were Hugh McCorkle, 51, Reid Rumsey, 34, and Harold Wright, 27, of DeKalb, and Niel Graham, 28, of Sycamore, Ill.

Hope to Entertain GIs

TOKYO (UPI) — Comedian Bob Hope will entertain American servicemen in the Far East for two weeks beginning Dec. 20, it was announced today.

Lab Experts Probe Death of Parolee

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — State police crime lab experts continued their investigation today to determine what caused the death of a Southern Michigan parolee whose body was found off a dirt road eight miles south of here last night.

* * *

The battered body of James Smith, 30, of Battle Creek was found in a wooded clump a short distance from U.S. 31. Smith's hands were tied behind his back.

* * *

The body was found late yesterday afternoon by Ronald Paxson of Dowagiac, owner of a cottage in the small resort area known as the Thunder Mountain area.

There is a difference of about 260 degrees between the hottest and coldest natural temperatures in the world.

DETROIT—In a pleasant small town in the lush farm and orchard country north of Detroit an automobile dealer today will deliver a new car.

At the same time dealers throughout the country will be doing the same thing. They have been all year, and especially this fall when their sales activity has been at record rates.

The particular delivery in Utica will touch off a mild celebration since it will be the car Chevrolet has designated as its two millionth retail sale of 1962.

Never before has any single maker come within 250,000 cars of selling so many in a single year.

And the total is a full 100,000 over Chevrolet's own optimistic predictions made a year ago.

★ ★ ★

Chances now look good that by the end of this month seven million new cars will have ben sold in the year. Only in 1955 have dealers sold so many.

HIGH PROFIT

But unlike 1955 this year has been singularly free of hokum, blitz selling and giveaways.

The National Automobile Dealers Association says pretax profits of dealers averaged 2.7 per cent of sales through the first nine months, compared with 1.1 per cent a year ago.

This would make the period one of the most profitable since the pre-discount days of the early 1950's.

★ ★ ★

Introduction of the 1963 models in October touched off a boom which seemed to cause genuine surprise among the Detroit manufacturers. Despite near-record production, dealer inventories of new cars have not risen since Oct. 1.

During such periods shortages obviously develop in the popular models and this time has been no exception.

For Chevrolet, the Impala continues to be the big volume seller. But the car in shortest supply is the new Corvette Sting Ray.

The trade paper Automotive News says Corvettes have been sold at wholesale auctions recently for up to $250 more than the retail sticker price. Orders are piled up for at least four months.

CHEVY RECORD

Chevrolet's sales record has been phenomenal, exceeding all other years in nine of the 11 months. For the year its sales probably will exceed total sales of all Ford Motor Co. cars.

It will outsell the combined offerings of Chrysler, American Motors, Studebaker and the Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford.

Just three years ago Ford Division alone outsold Chevrolet.

How long sales will remain at such high levels remains a subject of conjecture in automotive circles. A recent report noted that stocks of used cars in the hands of new car dealers (who normally sell about two-thirds of all cars) are the highest in two years.

Used car sales affect new car business. Some quarters believe they lead the way, up or down. In so-called normal periods dealers sell about three used cars for every two new cars.

This ratio falls in the period immediately following the new model introductions.

Used cars are important because so many new car deals include a trade-in. If used cars are selling well, dealers tend to offer more for the trades. This in turn reduces the overall cost of the new cars.

New car sales in October set a record for any month. November's were the best for any similar period.

★ ★ ★

Even the optimists concede the pace will slow sometime. The big questions now are how much and how soon.

Hope Pope to Close Session

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Ecumenical Council neared the end of its first session today with hopes that Pope John XXIII will be well enough to attend its closing ceremonies Saturday.

Today's meeting in St. Peter's Basilica was the next-to-last working conference of the council.

There will be no discussions Saturday — only the ages - old ceremony with which the Catholic Church opens and closes great events.

The Pope is expected to attend, and to speak.

The council, which recently appeared certain to go on for years, acquired a new outlook yesterday. Officials proposed that the 70 council projects—66 of them still to be discussed—be regrouped, rewritten and trimmed to 20. The move, which could save months or even years of work, seemed sure of adoption.

Pope John, who fell ill last week with stomach trouble — believed to be a bleeding ulcer—and anemia, remain confident he would be able to participate in the closing ceremonies.

In recent days he has resumed more of his usual activities. Yesterday he buoyed the hopes of council fathers when he appeared, looking hale and hearty, at his Vatican apartment window to give his blessing.

"We are convalescing," he said. "As you see, every day there is progress . . ."

Crooked Dice, Cards Surround Police Head

DETROIT (AP) — Police Commissioner George Edwards was surrounded with crooked cards and crooked dice yesterday, but it was all in line of duty.

Detroit's No. 1 policeman had the crooked gambling on materiel on hand to substantiate charges he made about recent police raids on gambling houses.

Rug Designers Leaving State

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A prestige designer and manufacturer of luxurious rugs, V'Soske, Inc., is leaving Grand Rapids.

* * *

Officials of the firm yesterday confirmed it will cease its Grand Rapids operations within two weeks and merge with V'Soske shops of Puerto Rico, commercial line maker of rugs. The firm also has manufacturing facilities at Galway, Ireland.

V'Soske employs 25 persons at the Grand Rapids location it opened in the mid-1920s. Only its Michigan sales office will remain after the move.

Frederick Tenhoor, production manager and treasurer of V'Soske, Inc., who is retiring, said a few shop men from Grand Rapids will go with the Puerto Rico operation. Most of the others have been relocated, he said.

V'Soske rugs, carpets and tapestries decorate leading hotels, department stores, the Green Room of the White House, and such structures as the New York Museum of Modern Art and the government palace in Mexico City.

Tenhoor said an economic factor is involved in the Grand Rapids move. He said an expected revival of home installations failed to materialize.

FEARED ATTACK — Detroit patrolman Allen Hertz (left) counts the $30,000 life savings of Andy Bari (center) who took the money out of his bank because he feared a Russian attack. 'Quiet Revolution in Asia Stupendous Event of Our Era'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Asia's quiet political, economic and social revolution is one of the great underplayed news stories of the day, says a husband and wife reporting team.

Ferdinand and Delia Kuhn, free lance correspondents and lecturers, are delivering speeches and taking part in classroom discussions and seminars at the University of Michigan this week, sponsored by the U. of M. journalism department.

Kuhn, who shared the platform with his wife for the first of two public lectures, called the "quiet revolution one of the stupendous events of our time," affecting some 750 million people from Turkey to Taiwan.

The goals of the revolution, he said, are:

—Political independence in the sense that "each country is free to manage its own affairs."

—Economic freedom: a chance for backward nations to catch up and become part of the modern world.

* * *

—Social justice and educational opportunity: an attack on the old class barriers and a desire to provide future educations with better opportunities.

IN 'BEST INTERESTS'

It is in the best interests of the United States to see that this revolution succeeds, he said, praising the Peace Corps program as "the first sign since the Point 4 Plan that we are getting back on the right track."

America has largely ignored the revolution, and has been impatient with it, he said. The reasons include "a retreat from democracy" in many Asian nations, attributable to the lack of mass education and the fact that few of these nations have had contact with the philosophy of democracy.

Another reason is "a bad neighbor inheritance" which affects relationships between most Asian countries.

Mrs. Kuhn described the change as a "village revolution" since the initiative and activity of the people is needed to supplement the work of government.

Mali Alphabet Devised at U.S. University

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Bam-bara, an African language in search of an alphabet, has found home—on the campus of Syracuse University.

As a result, nationals of the new republic of Mali, where Bambara is the major tongue, soon may be able to write ma ma as well as talk to ma ma in their native language.

Ma ma is one expression that loses nothing in translation. It means mother.

★ ★ ★

French has been the official language in Mali, a former French colony in West Africa.

Until the adaption here of the Roman alphabet to Bambara sounds, there was no written version of the language in general use. Some missionaries, however, had devised a form of written Bambara in translating the Bible into the native language.

The ba ba (father) of the first officially sponsored version of written Bambara is Robert S. Laubach, a linguistic expert at the Syracuse University School of Journalism.

Laubach, with the aid of five educators from Mali, devised a 28-letter system, including an accented "E" and "O," a primer and illustrated charts to aid in teaching the written language.

The charts, similar to those used in American elementary schools to teach children to read, are designed according to the formula that one picture is worth one word.

Each picture, Laubach said, is intended to give the learner "a visual association between the sound, which he knows, and the unfamiliar letters."

The learner is introduced to the letter "M," for instance, by a picture of a mother holding an infant. A subsequent illustration superimposes the letter "M" over a silhouette of the mother image. This is followed by the word ma ma.

★ ★ ★

The objects used in the illustrations, in many cases, resemble the letters they introduce. The letter "d" in lower case, for example, resembles a native he called ada ba.

A second lesson book is being developed to build upon the "ka-lang folo" first lesson.

Although Mali is rich is folklore and poetry, Laubach said, the second reader would contain simple sentences that emphasize the practical and factual rather than literature. The stress will be on such things as the history of the new republic and child care and nutrition.

"A written language," Laubach told The Associated Press, "is an indispensable tool for a newly developing country."

Mali, a nation of four million inhabitants, gained full independence on June 20, 1960. Formerly the French Sudan, Mali occupies a strategic position among emerging nations of Africa, where words have become weapons as well as tools. Among its neighbors are Algeria, on the north, and Guinea and Senegal, on the west.

HOW IT'S DONE

The process Laubach used in devising a written Bambara is called linguistic analysis.

"First, you identify the sounds, or phonemes; of the language and then you adapt Roman letters to the sounds," he said.

Laubach is discussing with the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) a plan to send a team to Mali where the material could be field-tested.

The first phase of the project, which included development of the primer, was carried out under an agreement between AID and the university. The government of Mali and the Laubach Literacy Fund, a private agency with headquarters in Washington, D.C., participated.

Laubach's father, Dr. Frank C. Laubach, is the founder and executive secretary of the fund, which is dedicated to the reduction of illiteracy in the world. The son is the fund's director of publishing.

The elder Laubach originated the letter-picture system of teaching written forms of languages and it has been employed in more than 200 literacy projects in Latin America, Africa and elsewhere.

Insurance Rate to Be Increased

DETROIT (AP) — Insurance rates will be raised next month for more than 500,000 motorists covered by the Detroit Automobile Inter-Insurance Exchange, the insurance agency of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Edward G. Rockwell, public relations director for the organization, announced the planned general increase and said the new rates already have been approved by the state insurance commissioner.

Rising costs, including larger court awards for personal injuries, make the increase necessary, Rockwell said. He said it would be the first general rate increase in many years by the AAA agency.

He said other insurance firms have raised rates in recent weeks, and predicted virtually all companies will do so by January.

Can't Miss Conventions at Nags Head Resort

NAGS HEAD, N. C. (AP) — The CFPWCCDC met at this seaside resort this summer.

There were no speeches, no election of officers, no formal meetings and only a few banquets.

The organization is the Convention For People Who Couldn't Come During Conventions.

'Lack of Job Survived by Families'

KALAMAZOO (AP) — American families often get through brief periods of unemployment without serious financial damage — by drawing on savings and economizing temporarily, the University of Michigan Survey Research Center reported today.

★ ★ ★

But "prolonged or repetitive unemployment greatly reduces the ability of a family to make discretionary purchases — even after the main breadwinner returns to work," the report, published by the W. E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research, said.

Sixty per cent of those who were out of work in the 1960-61 recession also had been unemployed some time in the previous three years, the report said.

The report, titled "persistent unemployment, 1957-61," showed that seven out of 10 workers queried in the nationwide survey of 1,300 families managed to remain employed in the four-year period. But a substantial minority of the remainder was without jobs more than once.

★ ★ ★

More than a quarter of the family heads jobless during the recession were out of work more than half a year.

The losses "often resulted in the family's having to get help from relatives, going into debt, moving to cheaper quarters, other family members having to go to work, or occasionally going on relief," the report said.

Families receiving unemployment compensation during the entire period "more often were savings and-or postponing buying," it added.

★ ★ ★

The study showed that recurrent unemployment was especially frequent in areas with substantial labor surplus.

3 School Buses Roll Up to Home Each Morning

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Patterson Harrison might easily be mistaken for a bus terminal on school mornings.

★ ★ ★

Three different buses stop in front of the house every day to take the Harrison children to school. Each of the five children is attending a different school.

Turkey Makes Big Switch From Classroom to Farm

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Mrs. Mitch, the Jackson, turkey too lovable for anyone's Thanksgiving Day table, now has a guarantee she won't be on anyone's Christmas menu, either.

★ ★ ★

She has a new home near here on the 15-acre farm of Thomas Payne, a sports car race driver and auto dealer who promises Mrs. Mitch will be "strictly a pet" for his children, Mark, 5, John, 6, and Bob, 15.

The change of address means Mrs. Mitch will give up her career as an aide to Mrs. Robert Henry in teaching biology to elementary school children of Jackson.

No longer will the big bird strut through classrooms, making friends with the youngsters while Mrs. Henry lectures.

★ ★ ★

Hatched in an incubator in Mrs. Henry's classroom, Mrs. Mitch quickly outgrew the school's facilities and Mr. and Mrs. Allyn R. Kehrer "adopted" the bird, keeping her in the back yard of their home.

WEATHER PROBLEM

But then came a weather problem.

"We have no place to keep her where she can be warm and comfortable," said Mrs. Kehrer after the fall chill set in.

★ ★ ★

The Kehrers decided to give Mrs. Mitch away. An Associated Press story and AP Wirephoto touched off a landslide of bids for the bird from people from coast to coast.

Payne wrote asking the Kehrers for Mrs. Mitch and the Kehrers agreed. They gave her to Payne as a gift.

Payne, 39, his wife, Nan, and the boys live in a century-old house and maintain a large barn. He tours the country racing sports cars.

★ ★ ★

He also has been in politics. A Democrat, he has lost twice to Rep. George Meader, Republican, in bids for Congress.

PLENTY OF COMPANY

"Mrs. Mitch will have plenty of company," says Payne. Other occupants on the farm are a donkey named John L. Lewis, horses named Sam and Merrymaker, dogs named Walter and Heidi, Cynthia the cat, two bantam hens and a cageful of pigeons.

★ ★ ★

Payne explained why he wrote for Mrs. Mitch.

He read that the bird so endeared herself to the Kehrers that they could not bear to put her on their Thanksgiving menu.

"Mrs. Mitch sounded like a real character," says Payne. "I know she'll make a lot of friends on our farm because there are plenty of real characters on it."

MRS. MITCH

Bachelor Officer Delivers Girl, Thought It a Boy

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (AP) —Patrolman M. A. (Skip) Stolz answered what he thought was a routine neighborhood emergency call Wednesday. It wasn't.

Mrs. Lloyd Hartford was at home alone, having a baby.

★ ★ ★

"I shed my hat, gloves, gunbelt and handcuffs, in that order," Stolz, a bachelor, said. Another policeman arrived and a woman neighbor of Mrs. Hartford pitched in.

Stolz made one mistake. He informed Mrs. Hartford that she had a "nice little boy."

It was a girl.

Souvenir Hand Grenade Explodes in Kitchen

NANCY, France (AP) — Since World War I Mrs. Ermantine Dury, 89, has used a souvenir hand grenade weighing a kilogram (2.2) pounds) as weight on her kitchen scale.

She absent-mindedly put the grenade on the kitchen stove Wednesday and it exploded. Mrs. Dury was badly injured.

Kennedy Trip to Los Alamos Holds Symbolic Meaning

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)—President Kennedy's trip to Los Alamos Friday holds a symbolic meaning for this country's history.

On that day in 1941 World War II started and it was from that war that Los Alamos started work on the atomic bomb. The bomb ended the war.

★ ★ ★

In a way, Los Alamos was spawned on that date and it is conceivable that without that event it would still be a mountain retreat for boys instead of a hustling city of 13,500 persons busily engaged in supersecret nuclear experiments.

BACKGROUND
4p SPECIAL REPORT
OF THE NEWS

The President has never been to Los Alamos. He will find a community that is spread across the Pajarito Plateau—a series of finger mesas created by long-ago extinct volcanos—in the Jemez Mountains.

ON MOUNTAIN TOP

It sits almost atop a mountain at 7,300 feet. The only access is by airplane, helicopter or on a twisting, turning mountain road. The Hill City, as it is called by the natives, is 35 miles northwest of Santa Fe and 96 miles north of Albuquerque.

It has only been since February 1957 that the high, wire fence and the pistol-packing guards were removed. But a supersecret complex has remained with the city.

Probably the sensitive nuclear work and the inaccessibility of the city have helped to develop this complex.

★ ★ ★

One of the main reasons for the President's coming to Los Alamos is to inspect the work being done to build a nuclear reactor to propel space ships into prolonged flights to the moon or the planets. The project is called Rover, which is a part of Nerva (nuclear engine for rocket vehicle application).

The Kiwi reactors, named after the flightless birds of New Zealand, are being developed as engines for the giant space ships.

Project Rover was set up in 1955 under the Atomic Energy Commission but has been taken over by the Space Nuclear Propulsion Office, a governmental agency staffed by personnel from the AEC and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

1st PLANNED USE

The first planned use of Project Rover is the development of a nuclear third stage for the Saturn C5 manned lunar landing operation. With the nuclear third stage, a single vehicle would be all that would be needed for a landing and a return from the moon. Otherwise, a chemical-fueled rocket would require two-launch renezvous of C5s or the development of a much larger chemical rocket.

The tree is trimmed and so is the rug, with spilled snowflakes and crumpled ornaments. But the cleanup job is quick and easy, with her new featherweight floor vacuum, weighing just a little over seven pounds.

★ ★ ★

The most important advantage of nuclear rockets is that they can use hydrogen as propellant. Hydrogen is more than a dozen times lighter, per particle, than the combustion products used to propel chemical rockets.

Rover reactors must generate great power on small fuel volume. To create the rather modest thrust of 50,000 pounds a reactor must produce about one million BTU per second, or enough energy to boil away a ton of water every two seconds.

★ ★ ★

In electrical terms, this power level is equal to 1,000 megawatts —a megawatt being a million watts. Hoover Dam's power production is 1,250 megawatts. Yet the core of the Kiwi reactor is barely larger than a kitchen range.

Another of the main projects at Los Alamos the President may inspect is Project Sherwood.

Project Sherwood searchers for the control of the fusion reactions that occur in the H-bomb. If these reactions can be controlled, the inexhaustible supply of deuterium found in sea water will replace the world's dwindling supply of fossil fuels as a source of energy.

The energy potential in one gallon of water is equal to about 300 gallons of gasoline.

STARTS IN '51

Sherwood got under way at Los Alamos in 1951. The first device for creating and controlling fusion was called perhapsatron—perhaps it would work and perhaps it wouldn't. It didn't, but the data obtained proved the idea would work some day.

★ ★ ★

Also being studied at Los Alamos is the detection of nuclear explosions in space, at the earth's surface and below ground. It is called the Vela program.

Health research programs also are being done at Los Alamos, mostly to determine the effect of radiation on people and animals.

★ ★ ★

Cryogenics, a study of the effects on materials when they are subjected to extremely low temperatures, is another of the projects being developed at Los Alamos.

The test site at Jackass Flats, near Las Vegas, Nev., to be visited by the President Saturday, has $45 million worth of test construction and equipment.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., has long been a proponent of nuclear power for space travel. It was largely through his efforts that the President decided to come to New Mexico to see its nuclear area.

Sen. Anderson is hopeful that what the President sees will impress him enough to give a higher priority to the projects and experiments being conducted at Los Alamos.

Palace Guards to Drop Famed Bearskin Hats

LONDON (AP) — Sentries at Buckingham Palace and other royal homes will discard their tall bearskin hats for the regular guards cap.

★ ★ ★

The war office said it was easier to patrol in caps than the bearskins the Guards have worn since the battle of Waterloo in 1815.

Light Drink Is Elegant for Holiday

When you plan your holiday entertaining this year, let color, sparkle and suggestion combine to make your efforts more successful. A few simple trick will turn every at-home time into a memorable event.

For example, tie a huge red satin bow around a punch bowl, then surround the bowl with fresh holly. Add tall red tapers in console candlesticks on either side of the bowl to complete the effect.

The punch itself should be a joyous toast to the season of lights, and a sparkling light punch is a delicious departure from heavier holiday beverages. You can concoct your own, but here is one recipe you might want to try.

SIXTH DAY OF PUNCH

One block of ice, one box each, frozen strawberries and green melon balls, one lemon, sliced thin, three jiggers of maraschino, a dash of cognac to taste, and your favorite French champagne.

★ ★ ★

Place ice in punch bowl. Surround with thawed fruit and lemon slices. Add cognac and maraschino. Just before serving add champagne and stir lightly.

★ ★ ★

A decorative setting and the traditional toast of good cheer starts every holiday gathering off in an elegant and festive manner.

Many Will Still Be Just as Healthy at 95

At 70, Man Has Finally Reached His Biblical Age

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Our modern, advanced, scientific, know-it-all world has finally caught up to the Bible.

The Public Health Service reports that finally, after 2,500 years on earth, man has attained the life span the Bible allotted him: three score years and 10.

BATTELLE

The 1961 figures show that average Americans now live to be 70.2 years old.

This is a 0.3-year increase over 1960.

What is more, there are a growing number of Americans living to the age of 95 and over. At least 29,000 are in that category today, and the number increases annually.

And these oldsters are far from decrepit; often—if not usually—they are happier and in many ways healthier than today's career men in their alleged prime of life.

Not too long ago Dr. Frank Gallup, the polls pundit, sent out 300 researchers to talk to these 95-plus people and found out how they thought and felt about things.

★ ★ ★

This was before the Cuban crisis, but no matter. The 95ers don't put much store in crises.

They told the Gallup men that:

Their home lives had been "peaceful and quiet, mainly," which contributed to their longevity.

They (89 per cent of them) were the type who "preferred people around," rather than being alone a lot.

FEW WORRIES

As a consequence of this social temperament, worries haven't bothered them much.

Ninety per cent never worried much about their health, 70 per cent never worried about money, and 94 per cent never worried about finding a job.

Nearly half of the oldsters had never touched alcohol, and most of the rest were infrequent, modest drinkers (although a few individual 95ers claimed they'd had a great capacity for liquor for as long as 80 years).

★ ★ ★

As for religion, 97 per cent had an affiliation with a church or synagogue.

The largest percentage came from such immoderate-climated states as Maine and Kansas.

And none of them had serious career drives.

This composite picture of the psychologically and physically healthy aged is quite different from the image of the modern, sophisticated American man who, by contrast, seems to be out to drive himself to death.

Fortunately (as the Bible preworry, drink and drive ourselves toward physical and physiological suicide, medicine appears to be driving even harder.

It's getting harder all the time to pass out of the fight early . . .

WRINKLE WORRIES

There are several new products on the cosmetic market which purport to remove lines from the face and throat, and make a woman look vibrantly young again.

I've tried a couple of them, expecting any day to wake up with the vacuous, characterless face of a spring chicken.

Instead, I have decided once again that the best way to look young is to associate socially with old people.

Remember last year when the hot Christmas item was a handy lipstick-sized tear-gas bomb for leery ladies?

This year, a manufacturer has come out with an equally thoughtful gift for the men on your list—the men who have everything but friends, brawn, courage and a knowledge of judo.

It is a self-defense cane which not only can whack an assailant heatly, but can shoot arrows or fire pellets!

Peace on Earth.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRTHDAYS

QUESTION: Why do we get presents and cakes with candles on our birthdays?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Birthday celebrations come from the feasts given by the ancient kings to honor the day on which they were born, as we can read in the Bible, Genesis 40, verse 20.

The giving of presents is connected with the great event shown in our small picture, when the Three Kings brought gifts to the baby Jesus. The feeling and warmth of this beautiful story is carried on by our custom of giving presents both on Christmas and on birthdays.

The birthday candle is another ancient symbol, for candles have long been thought of as symbols of light and have been used in many ceremonies to express the light of wisdom and spiritual understanding. It is said that the German Martin Luther was the first to put candles on a Christmas tree.

Many of our Christmas customs came from Germany, especially after England's Queen Victoria married a German prince. The cake and candles of our birthdays may have originated in Germany or other parts of Europe.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: You're going to have a birthday within a year. We of Junior Editors wish we could be present and congratulate you. But since we can't, we'll ask you to remember us at that time. So we send you many happy returns in advance.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

By LUCRECE BEALE

AP Feature

Copyright, 1962

CHAPTER FOUR

"No," said a voice close by. "You're not out of your head."

Turning in astonishment, Mr. Shnoo saw a fat little man perched on the fence. He was dressed all in red and had rosy cheeks and a white beard. He was smoking a little white pipe and nodding and smiling as he watched the reindeer spinning over head.

"Why, you're . . ." began Mr. Shnoo.

"S. Claus," said the little fat man. "From the North Pole."

Mr. Shnoo nearly toppled over with surprise. "You mean—Santa Claus?"

"The same," said the little fat man. He sucked at his pipe and blew out a cloud of smoke that almost hid him from sight. When he appeared again he was off the fence and standing beside Mr. Shnoo.

* * *

"The reindeer are magnificent," he said. "You must be very proud."

* * *

"But — I don't understand," said Mr. Shnoo. "When I left them tonight they couldn't fly at all. I've worked with them for days and days with no success at all. To tell you the truth, I had given up hoping."

He looked up in wonder as the deer did a triple somersault through the stars and Horace, the leader, carried away by the sheer joy of it all, finished off with a full gainer layout and a swan dive besides.

"Pshaw!" said Santa. "Getting them to fly was nothing." He reached into a little bag he carried over his back and pulled out a small blue jar.

FLYING PILLS

"Flying pills," he said. "Very useful things to have. I took the liberty of giving one to each of the deer. To Horace I gave two because he seemed a bit down in the mouth.

* * *

"This may have been a mistake," he added as Horace suddenly swooped low and buzzed Mr. Shnoo's head.

"My word!" cried Mr. Shnoo, ducking out of the way. "What wonderful pills! Do you suppose you might leave me some? Just think what a zoo I would have!"

He had a sudden vision of Molly, the hippopotamus, and Henrietta, the elephant, light as feather pillows, sailing through the air.

* * *

Santa shook his head. "Wouldn't do at all," he said. "Every creature would be flying off and the whole nature of things would be turned topsy turvy."

* * *

Mr. Shnoo had to admit this was so. "Although," he said longingly, "it would be a wonderful thing to make all the animals in the zoo as happy as Horace."

"Your animals are happy," said Santa. "I have never seen so happy a zoo."

"It is not mine yet," said Mr. Shnoo. "I must pay 1,000 gold pieces before Christmas day or I shall lose it. However, I am not worried as I hope to have the thousand in good time."

He told Santa how the Queen was inspecting all the zoos in the kingdom and was going to make an award to the finest one.

"I think she will like Shnoo's Zoo," said he. "Then I shall pay off Crookshank and the zoo will be mine."

* * *

Santa nodded. Then he said, "Day is breaking. I had better be off. I'd much rather stay here for I dearly love a zoo but I suppose there's work aplenty waiting for me at home."

* * *

He placed his fingers in his mouth and whistled. The flying deer wheeled about and coasted back to earth.

"I'll leave them here for the Queen to see," said Santa. "I'll be back for them on Christmas eve."

As he spoke there came a terrible sound. Somewhere an animal roared in pain.

"It's one of the bears!" cried Mr. Shnoo. "Oh, goodness me!"

POOR HONEYBUN

He turned on his heels and rushed away with Santa beside him. Past the duck pond, past the antelope pastures, past the prairie dog hills they tore until they came to the caves of the bears. There was Nancy, the polar bear, and Daisy and Henry, the black bears, and Ernest the hybrid. There was not a sign of trouble.

Then there came that fearful roar again and Mr. Shnoo clapped his hands to his head.

"It's Honeybun!" he cried as a little brown bear came tottering on two legs out of her cave.

Horace finished off with a full gainer.

Tomorrow: Poor Honeybun

Raggedy Ann to Play Lead in Palace Play

LONDON (AP) — Twelve-year-old Princess Anne is to flee the palace at midnight and be reduced to rags — while her mother Queen Elizabeth II looks on with a smile.

* * *

The blonde princess has been chosen to play Cinderella in a Christmas pantomime at Buckingham Palace.

The show goes on Dec. 18 in the Royal Throne Room.

With Anne in the all-girl cast will be 25 members of her girl scout troop. Her Prince Charming will be 12-year-old Gillian Huish, whose father is a cleaner in the Royal Mews.

Anne was voted the part by the other troop members.

"I had nothing to do with it," said Marjorie Bayliss, captain of the palace troop. "The princess is a very good actress.

* * *

"I suppose the girls felt she was so good as Joseph in last year's nativity play that she deserved to play the lead."

The queen will have a front seat. Others invited include the parents and relatives of the rest of the cast.

Italy's population is 51 million.

GI on Leave Jailed on Bad Check Count

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)— James Stroup, 22, on leave from Army duty, was held in lieu of $2,500 bond yesterday on a charge of passing worthless checks which police say amounted to some $975.

Detective William Moermond said Stroup admits passing 13 bad checks in the three months prior to departure for Georgia late in October when he enlisted in the Army. Stroup waived police court examination yesterday and was held to Superior Court.

Detective Robert Hollebeck said area police still seek a companion of the jailed man for allegedly passing more than $400 in bad checks.

Use Security Calendar

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (UPI) — The government issued yesterday a 1963 "security calendar" for use by its departments which carries mottos for each month, such as "all telephone messages can be intercepted" and "remember your obligations under the Official Secrets Act."

Fate Was on Our Side, Nimitz Says

'Pearl Harbor Could Have Been Worse'

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said today the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor 21 years ago tomorrow was a terrible blow to this country, "but it could have been devastatingly worse."

The war in the Pacific would have lasted much longer, Nimitz said, if:

—The fleet had been at sea instead of tied up at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

—The Japanese had destroyed our huge, above-ground fuel tanks in Hawaii.

—The Japanese had followed up their initial successes with raids during the next several days.

Nimitz, erect and snowy-thatched at 77, discussed in an interview with United Press International the workings of fate that began at 7:55 that Sunday morning when carrier-based Japanese bombers roared over Pearl Harbor.

In the next two hours, 18 warships were sunk and 2,403 men were killed. Eighteen days later, on Christmas Day, Adm. Nimitz arrived to take command of the shattered fleet and rebuild it into the mightiest naval force ever assembled by one nation.

★ ★ ★

"The good Lord was in some way looking out for us," Nimitz said as he sat in the memento-filled study of his home in the Berkeley Hills overlooking San Francisco Bay.

If Adm. Husband E. Kimmel had had ample warning of the approach of the Japanese task force he surely would have sent his fleet to intercept it, Nimitz said.

"Japan had six carriers, while Kimmel had only one that had gone to Wake Island. Our ships would have been picked off one by one, sunk in deep water rather than the shoals at Pearl Harbor.

"We would have lost practically all the personnel of the Pacific fleet. We would have had to start from scratch."

THREAT TO FUEL

The Navy's fuel storage tanks contained 4.5 million barrels of oil, the admiral said. The Japanese fighter pilots, firing 50-caliber incendiary bullets, might have wiped out this supply.

"It would have been very difficult to replenish our fuel because in 1942 most of our oil was earmarked for the Atlantic and Europe. Tankers were scarce."

Of 394 American warplanes on Oahu Dec. 7, 1941, only 38 got into the air against the Japanese raiders. The rest were destroyed on the ground.

"The Japanese could have come back a second, third or fourth day and leisurely destroyed everything of value," the five-star admiral said. "But they apparently had a rigid plan to advance into Southeast Asia seeking fuel and food."

Nimitz said the Japanese navy was "a most potent enemy" containing highly skilled fighting men on the surface and in the air, if less skilled in submarine warfare.

"I for one am glad the Japanese and Americans are on friendly terms now. We assisted them to get back on their feet with a modest naval defense force, and we have a mutuality of interest vis a vis Red China and Russia that is such that if we have trouble in the Western Pacific we can expect Japan to be a powerful ally."

Divorce Rate Drops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Vital Statistics Division yesterday reported a 4.2 per cent drop in the U.S. divorce rate over last year. The figure is based on reports from 33 states and the District of Columbia.

Opening lead—♠ 5

By OSWALD JACOBY

It is rare for bidding to go exactly the same way at all tables in a tournament, but when today's hand was played in the finals of the open pairs at the Springfield, Ill., regionals every South opened with no-trump and every North raised to game.

JACOBY

In most instances the opening lead was the five of spades and right here about half of the declarers went wrong. Those unfortunates called for the deuce from dummy. In that case, East would go up with his queen and return the suit. The ace would be played from dummy. Later West would get into the lead with his ace of clubs and run his last three spades.

Declarers who took time to think at trick one called for the ace from dummy, then knocked out the ace of clubs.

Now, there was no logical way for West to collect four spade tricks and beat the hand because East's queen would block the suit.

Why is the ace correct? West would lead the king if he had had the king-queen-jack of spades. If the suit breaks, South can afford to lose three spade tricks. If the suit breaks 5-2, as it actually did, West won't be able to run it.

For Friday

"The wise man controls his destiny." — Astrology Points the Way.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Now you can almost "relax" to success, greater happiness. Relax, cycle is high and you really prove your worth. Avoid headstrong response. Go easy, and let adversaries wear themselves out.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Finish one project before embarking upon a new one. Avoid scattering your forces. Key is sense of humor. The right word, a smile can mean victory. Past experience brings gain. Maintain confidence.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Good lunar aspect corresponds today to meeting new friends. Many associates may talk about your achievements. Some are motivated by admiration. Stay out of quarrels. Maintain dignity.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Key person requests information. Give all you are able to give. Be thorough, original in approach. Enthusiasm on your part "pays off." Evening fine for attention to friends.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Action is key word. Events occur quickly. Rely on yourself. Avoid excess at social gathering. Remember that tomorrow is another day. Don't try to do everything at once.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21): Look into financial matters. Realize there are some things you do require. But there are others which are not essential. Check budget. Future possibilities can't be dragged down by greed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Aid may come from surprise sources. Check with marriage or business partner, or close associate. Be sure you do not overlook minor details. Tonight, enjoy reading or the theater.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Don't push yourself too hard. Map out plans. Maintain steady pace. Especially applies to work, matters of health. Better for completing projects than for starting new ones.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Be independent in thought, action. Now is time to show off excess modesty. Best course is one of direct action. Leo individual may have knowledge which you seek. Ask questions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Get important work done early for successful day. Later, attention to home, real estate, personal appearance essential. Exchange ideas with someone you admire.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Visits, entertainment highlighted. Day is keynoted by activity, both mental and physical. Excellent for selling products in which you have faith. Gemini individual could provide good "lead."

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Element of luck on your side. Take a chance on your own abilities. Refuse to be "misled." Some financial pressure indicated. But you gain if you stand up for beliefs, put forth extra effort.

U.S. Job Picture Out of Kilter

Probe Sudden Rise in Teen Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Labor said today it is investigating why 150,000 extra teen-agers suddenly turned up as unemployed in November to throw the nation's job picture out of kilter.

The increase among job-hunting teens aggravated an expected increase in unemployment to boost the national idle rate from 5.5 per cent in October to 5.8 per cent in November, the 1962 high.

* * *

One explanation may be that the November count came toward the end of the month and perhaps caught some of the seasonal unemployment rise usual in December when many youngsters, as well as adults, look for holiday jobs.

* * *

The over-all figures showed unemployment increased by 507,000 to 3.8 million. Employment declined by about 912,000 but showed a record for the month at nearly 68 million.

The unemployment increase was somewhat higher than expected because of the teen-agers. Most of the other additional unemployment had been anticipated because of reduced outdoor activity due to colder weather, principally in farming. Nearly 400,000 withdrew from the labor force.

Weymour Wolfbein, labor department manpower director, said the new job figures do not reflect worsening economic conditions. He conceded that employment is not rising fast enough to absorb unemployment.

Compared with a year earlier employment in November was up by 630,000 and unemployment was down by less than 200,000.

The 5.8 per cent idle rate was first reached last January and, after a decline, climbed again in September. It means that 58 out of every 1,000 workers in the work force are jobless. The rate is seasonally adjusted.

Wolfbein said the labor department is investigating to determine whether the increased teenage unemployment indicates more students are quitting school, or merely that many are seeking after-class work.

GOP Leaders Slate Campaign Confabs

WASHINGTON (UPI) Republican leaders open a three-day round of meetings today to review the 1962 campaign and begin preparations for the 1964 presidential election campaign.

GOP National Chairman William E. Miller and other party officials will give an analysis of the 1962 state and congressional results at a meeting of the Republican National Committee tomorrow morning. Miller will discuss planning for 1964 later tomorrow.

The executive committee of the national committee meets with Miller this afternoon for a preview of his proposals.

Takes Reins of Musician's Union Today

CHICAGO (AP)—A dance band leader who has never held union office took over today as president of Chicago's musicians, ending James C. Petrillo's stormy 40-year reign as a labor boss.

Bernard (Barney) Richards, 57, led a rebel ticket which defeated Petrillo and most of his aides Wednesday in an election they had expected to win. Petrillo lost by 95 votes.

Petrillo, 70, apparently played his own swan song by taking the challenge too lightly. He had had no competition for the office of president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians since 1933.

Union officials announced vote totals of 1,690 for Richards and 1,595 for Petrillo. About one-third of the union's reported eligible members voted. Two candidates for minor posts said they will enter official protests and ask for a recount.

Petrillo was not available for comment.

Copacabana Club Closed for 10 Days

NEW YORK (AP)—The State Liquor Authority has ordered the Copacabana night club closed for 10 days beginning Jan. 7 for allegedly using too much force in ejecting a couple.

The suspension, announced Wednesday was described as routine.

William Phillips, assistant administrative director of the authority, said a table was turned over, and a woman knocked to the floor during a dispute as the couple was ejected for making too much noise.

'Speed' Mishap Ties Woman Driver's Leg

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — An auto accident of sorts gave Mrs. J. L. Derry of Savannah a badly swollen leg.

The speedometer cable in her car broke loose Wednesday night and wrapped tightly around her leg. Police and firemen had to use cable cutters to cut it loose.

But Some Men Will Remain on Duty

Pontiac Reserve Unit to Be Deactivated

One of three Army Reserve units in Pontiac will be deactivated as a result of the Defense Department's plan to reorganize and realign the force on a national scale.

The Pontiac unit of the Michigan Army National Guard, Company E., 2nd Battle Group, 125th Infantry, however, is not involved in the modernization schedule of the country's defenses.

Locally, plans have been made to disband the 401st Postal Regulation Detachment, comprised of 31 enlisted personnel and three officers, according to Capt. Odin T. Olsen, Army Reserve coordinator in Pontiac.

The 401st, smallest of the area's three reserve units, was set up to handle mail for 150,000 men, Olsen said.

* * *

He added that no order has yet been received as to when the unit will be dissolved. Until then, the group will continue to meet.

TRANSFER MEN

Once deactivated, however, those who still have an obligation to fulfill will be transferred to other Reserve units, the coordinator explained.

The two Pontiac units not affected by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's order to streamline the Reserves and the National Guard are the 2nd Battalion, 333rd Regiment (basic combat training) and the Howitzer Battalion, 39th Artillery of the 442nd Artillery Group.

* * *

The two remaining active units have a total of 455 men, with the Howitzer Battalion being the largest.

A spokesman for the Pontiac National Guard unit said that the group will not be disbanded and, in fact, is nearing completion of a successful membership drive to bring the unit up to its full authorized strength of 178 men.

Case Can Slow Desegregation

Rules Private School Need Not Integrate

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—An attorney claims that a federal judge's decision in the Tulane University desegregation case could provide a new legal basis to thwart desegregation of public institutions.

* * *

U.S. Dist Judge Frank B. Ellis Jr. of New Orleans ruled Wednesday that Tulane, as a private institution, cannot be forced to admit Negroes.

Ellis—President Kennedy's civil defense director before being named to the federal bench—said there was not sufficient state involvement in the operation of Tulane to bring it within the scope of the 14th Amendment, the equal rights provision of the U.S. Constitution.

John P. Nelson, attorney for the two Negro women who sought to enter Tulane, said the decision "opens the door to new and more subtle forms of racial discrimination in higher education."

PUBLIC TO PRIVATE

Nelson, in oral arguments and briefs, contended that a state university was transferred to the Tulane Educational Fund and that no new university was created. Tulane attorneys argued that the state institution called the University of Louisiana ceased to exist in 1884 and that a new private university, namely Tulane, came into existence.

* * *

Ellis cleared the way for Tulane to accept Negroes voluntarily, ruling that the state act under which the Tulane Educational Fund took over the University of Louisiana was unconstitutional to the extent that it compels discrimination.

Nelson said he will appeal the decision to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here.

Tulane has said it would admit Negroes "if it were permissible to do so."

Most Okay Sentencing JFK Sister

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — The municipal judge who sentenced President Kennedy's sister to inspect a wrecking yard and count traffic victims at a children's hospital says the majority of the hundreds of letters he has received express approval of his action.

* * *

Judge W. Blair Gibbens sentenced Mrs. Pat Lawford, actor Peter Lawford's wife, after she pleaded guilty Nov. 28 to driving with an expired operator's license after being involved in a minor traffic accident. He gave her two weeks to comply.

Gibbens said he had received more than 500 letters and "90 per cent supported him" in his action, including several newspapers.

"The London Daily News said it was astounded to think I could sentence the President's sister," the jurist said, quoting the newspaper as saying, "Why it's like sentencing the Queen's sister, Princess Margaret."

* * *

"I told them this is a democracy and they all look alike to me," Gibbens said. "I don't care who it is. Everyone gets the same."

The Santa Monica, Calif., judge gained attention for his unusual sentences in a personal campaign to reduce traffic fatalities and injuries.

He has sentenced some violators to visit emergency hospitals, to inspect wrecking yards to count wrecked cars — some of them still smeared with blood— and to clean up debris after an auto wreck.

Mrs. Lawford was ordered to write a report after finding out how many child victims of traffic accidents were treated at the hospital.

* * *

"When she brings in her written report," Gibbens said, "I will read it before deciding whether to make it a public court document. If I think it will benefit the public, then I will do so."

Renoir Price Going to Charity

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the major works of French impressionist painter Renoir was auctioned Wednesday night for $100,000 at the Parke-Bernet Galleries. The sum will go to three charities.

The painting, titled "La Fete de Pan," executed in 1879, shows a group of maidens and their companions decorating with roses a figure of Pan, in a scene of spring festival.

* * *

The painting, from the estate of an anonymous collector, was purchased by Mrs. Robert Gurney, wife of a New York industrialist.

Benefiting from the sale will be the United Jewish Appeal, the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund, and the colonies de Vacances, of Geneva, Switzerland.

Rear Admiral, 73, Dies; Held the Flying Cross

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — Rear Adm. Luis DeFlorez, 73 Rear Odm. Luis DeFlorez, 73 (USNR-Ret.), a recipient of the Distinguished Flying Cross, died Wednesday after a brief illness.

DeFlorez, a veteran aviator, served as captain of special devices for the Navy in World War II. His last assignment was in the Pentagon where he retired in 1959.

Little Wheels Grow in Replacement Use

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Little wheels have become the big wheel of the automobile replacement tire market, with 14-inch diameter tires accounting for 34.33 per cent of passenger car replacement sales in 1961.

An analysis of national sales trends by a large tire company showed these same 4-ply tires, with 7.50 and 8-inch cross sections, accounted for only 6.35 per cent of the replacement market in 1957.

* * *

The once-popular 4-ply 6.70-15 that snared 35.12 per cent of the market in 1959 accounted for only 23.35 per cent of 1961's replacement sales. Reason? — Smaller wheels on modern autos.

Yves Montand Planning French 'My Fair Lady'

The newspaper Aurore said he would play professor Higgins and that Corinne Marchand, Zizi Jeanmaire and Jeanne Moreau might play opposite him.

Botonists Have Trouble Getting Weeds to Grow

GUELPH, Ont. (UPI — Since it established a weed garden to aid in studies of weeds, the botany department of Ontario Agricultural College has found some weeds are harder to grow than other plants.

Devised by Dr. C. M. Switzer, the department's authority on weeds, the garden gives visitors an opportunity to see properly identified weeds growing in familiar surroundings. It is also used by OAC students taking weed identification courses.

Dr. Switzer said farmers and gardeners might not believe it, but certain types of weeds are hard to grow.

Better Method to Light Up Brain Cavities Found

PARIS (AP)— French neurosurgeons have developed what is said to be an improved method of lighting up deep cavaties of the brain to make diagnosis and surgery easier.

The lighting device, called a "cerebral venticuloscope," consists of a small tube which projects an intense light.

The tube is inserted into the brain, permitting a clearer view of the interior than previously possible through X-ray and other methods, the doctors said.

Better photographs of the brain are also possible with the light.

The ventriculoscope was developed by Dr. Gerard Guyot and Dr. Max Fourestier and has been used successfully here.

49ers Must Help Detroit Cause

Lions Sunday Script: Win Over Vikings, Then Wait

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Sunday is the day the Detroit Lions must win and then wait.

If anyone was going to beat the Packers, pro football experts said it would have to be Baltimore, Detroit or San Francisco.

The Colts outplayed the Packers twice but lost both times. The Lions also outplayed the Packers twice and settled for a split, being the only team to win from Green Bay.

The 49ers outplayed Green Bay for the first half and stayed within reach, 17-13 in the third quarter before Jim Taylor broke lose for a couple runs to give the Packers a 31-13 triumph.

★ ★ ★

If anyone is going to help out the Lions it will have to be San Francisco. For the Lions it will be a long day. They must beat the upstart Minnesota Vikings and as they are finishing the game in Tiger Stadium, the coast battle between the 49ers and Packers will be just getting underway.

If the 49ers don't do it, then it is very unlikely that the LA Rams can the following week when the Lions will be faced with a tough assignment in Chicago against the Bears.

Last week after the Vikings held a 10-7 halftime lead, the 49ers came back strong to win a 35-12 decision.

"Those 49ers can be tough with John Brodie," said Lions' coach George Wilson, "but those Vikings can also be tough and give us trouble."

★ ★ ★

The Vikings are a young team with great future potential headed by sophomore quarterback Fran Tarkenton.

TROUBLESOME

They have always been troublesome for Detroit, forcing the Lions to stage second half rallies in order to come out victorious.

In the earlier meeting in Minneapolis, it was Earl Morrall's outstanding second half performance which sparked the Lions to a 17-6 triumph after the Vikings led 6-3 at halftime. He completed 11 of 18 for 137 yards and two touchdowns.

Statistically, the Lions are aware of Minnesota's strength. Milt Plum, once the top percentage passer in the NFL, is now in 11th place and he is behind Tarkenton who has thrown more TD passes than anyone except Y. A. Tittle in the league.

★ ★ ★

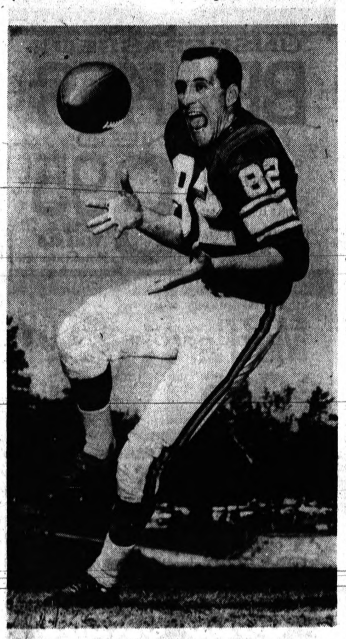
One of the starters on the Minnesota team is former Utica High School and U. of D. end Steve Stonebreaker. Stonebreaker was a 12th draft choice while a junior at U. of D., where he and Lions' rookie Larry Vargo were the starting ends.

Stonebreaker, a 6-1 and 220 pounder, caught one pass for 18 yards in the first game.

The Lions will be in better shape physically for Sunday's game with Nick Pietrosante ready for full duties.

Pietrosante played for the first time in three games Sunday after having a knee injury.

Game time Sunday is 1:30 p.m. with 7,000 bleacher seats plus reserved seats going on sale at 11:00 a.m.



EX-TITAN, NOW VIKING — Former Utica High School football star Steve Stonebreaker who was the 12th draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings when he played at the University of Detroit, has been the starting offensive end for the Vikings in his first season this year. Stonebreaker will make his first pro appearance at Tiger Stadium against the Lions Sunday.

AP Lists Two QBs on '62 All-America Team

Spartan Back Saimes Gets Honor Berth

Heisman Winner Must Share Top Spot With Miami QB

NEW YORK (AP) — Fabulous Terry Baker, Jerry Stovall, George Mira and George Saimes — responsible for a combined total offense of over 5,000 yards this season — comprise the backfield of the 1962 Associated Press All-America Football team announced today.

Baker, an honor student in mechanical engineering at Oregon State, was named Heisman Trophy winner as the outstanding player of the year and was the top National Football League draft pick.

In all, six members of the All-America were first round NFL selections, including the versatile Stovall from Louisiana State, ends Pat Richter of Wisconsin and Dave Robinson of Penn State, center Lee Roy Jordan of Alabama and Purdue tackle Don Brumm.

MSU STAR

Mira, the pass master of Miami, Fla., and fullback Saimes from Michigan State are joined by Damon Bame, fierce guard and linebacker from Southern California's national champions, tackle Bobby Bell of Minnesota and guard Johnny Treadwell, heart of unbeaten Texas' defense.

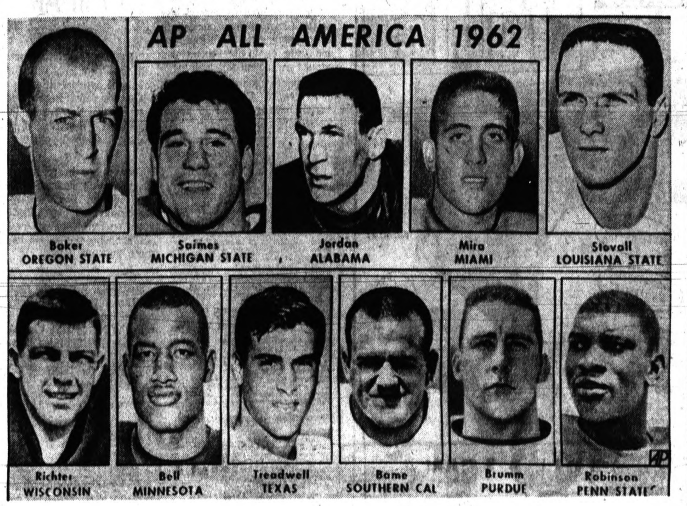
Bame and Mira are juniors, the rest seniors.

An unusual feature of the line which averaged 212 pounds per man — 20 pounds less than last year's All-America forward wall — is that the most weight is packed into the end position. Richter is a 230-pounder who guarded a flank for the nation's No. 2 power. Robinson goes 222.

The fast, hard-hitting aggregation was picked on recommendations of eight regional boards composed of sports writers and broadcasters who took into account all games through Dec. 1.

BIG YARDAGE

Only one man in collegiate history ever cranked out more career total offense yardage than the left-handed passing Baker, whose 2,276 output this fall gave him 4,980 for his three varsity seasons. Johnny Bright of Drake set the mark of 5,903 a dozen years ago.



Michigan State tackle Ed Budde signed a pro contract with the Dallac Texans of the AFL because he was happy with the contract and thought he would like Dallas better than Philadelphia. The 247 pound Detroiter was the first choice of Dallac and Eagles.

★ ★ ★

Dave Behrman, Michigan State center agreed to play in the 5th annual All-America Bowl game, Dec. 29th at Tuscon, Arizona.

★ ★ ★

Pat Emerick of East Detroit, a 238 pound guard from Western Michigan University, signed a contract with the San Francisco 49ers. He was the club's 6th draft choice. He was also picked by San Diego of the AFL.

City Cagers Bomb Basket

Two men reached the 20-point mark to pace their teams to victories last night in recreational league basketball at Pontiac Northern High School.

★ ★ ★

The presseason round - robin tournament produced triumphs by Southwest Community Club, Colonial Lumber and Columbia Avenue Baptist Church. Three more games will be played tonight at Madison Junior High School.

The evening's top offensive performance was provided by Dick Lippert of Colonial Lumber in that team's 66-52 victory over UAW No. 594. Lippert sank 22 points, including nine field goals. Chet Woodmore poured in 18 for the losers.

George Ratledge hit 20 points for the Baptists and teammate Jim McDonald scored 15. John Bridgewater poured in 15 for the Pontiac Police who were beaten 59-37 by the churchmen.

Southwest Community built up a 37-9 halftime margin against Town and Country and coasted to a 67-21 verdict. Three of the Clubbers hit twin markers with Jerry Williams' 12 tops.

Pistons Lose; Red Wings Tie

Celts Score 106-93 Win in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — The well-oiled basketball machine of the world champion Boston Celtics was too much for the Detroit Pistons last night.

The Pistons saw their three-game winning streak come to a halt as Boston coasted to a 106-93 victory in the nightcap of a national Basketball Association doubleheader at convention arena.

The Pistons were only in the game for the first eight minutes of the opening period. Then Sam Jones and Frank Ramsey each hit for two baskets to break open the contest. At the end of the first quarter, the Pistons trailed, 30-22.

From then on, it was easy sailing for the Bostonians.

Their lead soared to 58-42 at half and the Pistons were out of the running. Celtic coach Red Auerbach finished the game with his substitutes.

★ ★ ★

Ray Scott led the Piston assault with 22 points. Bob Ferry and Bailey Howell had 15 and 14 respectively to back up Scott.

Jones led the Celtics with 20 points.

The loss left the Detroiters with a season record of 6-17 while Boston upped its mark to 18 wins in 23 appearances.

Long Shot Is Tipped by Ullman

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings scored on a desperation play last night and ended with a 3-3 tie with the New York Rangers but the tie dropped them out of second place in National Hockey League standings.

Norm Ullman tipped in a long desperation shot by Gordie Howe with a minute and three seconds on the clock to clinch the tie. Detroit is now three points behind league leading Chicago Black Hawks and one behind the Maple Leafs.

Ullman's goal came when the Wings were attacking from a five-man forward line.

Ullman, stationed in the line between Howe and substitute goalie Marcel Paille about 15 feet from the net, slapped the puck while it was in flight and deflected it past the falling netminder.

Both substitute goalies performed well in the nets. Paille, under fire with 15 saves in the third period, had a game total of 35 stops while Riggin stopped 25.

Ullman's goal nullified a brilliant performance by Dean Prentice in the second period when the Rangers rallied to take a 3-2 lead.

Prentice tied the score at one minute of the second period with his first goal of the game, assisted on Larry Cahan's goal at 13:31 which produced a 2-2 tie and then batted in Andy Hebenton's rebound at 17:34 to put the Rangers in front.

Arnold Pronovost, acquired from Boston on Monday, scored his first shot as a Red Wing at 3:10 of the first period and Floyd Smith banged home Detroit's other goal at 10:43 of the second period.

Bruins Lose, 5-4

Hawks All Alone in 1st

By The Associated Press

It got to the point where one goal equalled two places.

That was the mathematics in the National Hockey League last night when the Montreal Canadiens lost to Toronto 2-1 and dropped from a share of second place to fourth.

Chicago edged Boston 5-4 and Detroit and New York struggled to a 3-3 tie in other NHL games, leaving Chicago alone atop the standings, while the three-way jam for second place was spread out a bit.

HAWKS ON TOP

Toronto emerged in sole control of second, two points back of Chicago and one up on Detroit. Montreal is one more back in fourth, but well up on New York and Boston, the last two.

Auto Accident Puts Kilmer in Hospital

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—San Francisco 49er halfback Bill Kilmer suffered a badly fractured right leg Wednesday when his convertible went out of control and smashed into a concrete abutment near here.

Dr. Lloyd Milburn, 49er team determined immediately whether the injury will jeopardize Kilmer's professional football career.

Kilmer was driving north on the Bayshore Freeway when he passed another car, then lost control, the California Highway patrol said.

TRAPPED

He ran over the cement base of a sign and went through a field 435 feet into a gully full of water. Kilmer and the right side of his car went into the water, and the car doors had to be pried open to free him.

Kilmer, 23, was taken to San Mateo Community Hospital for emergency treatment and was visited there by 49er Coach Red Hickey.

Later, Kilmer was taken by ambulance to St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco.

Dr Milburn said Kilmer had a compound fracture of the right tibia, and also had multiple cuts about the chin and eye. X-rays were taken, but had not yet been evaluated.

Milburn, however, emphasized the fracture was a major injury.

Hickey, who lives near the hospital, said Kilmer "was jovial and we were kidding right up to the time the ambulance came for him."

"I wouldn't think it will knock him out for good—our Dale Messer had a compound fracture of the ankle last year and he's playing this year. It would have to be a pretty bad fracture to keep him out.

★ ★ ★

"I personally think he'll come out of it all right, but of course it's all up to the doctors now."

Hickey said Kilmer seemed most upset about missing Sunday's game with Green Bay.

"He kept talking about how he wanted to play against the Packers," said Hickey.

"It's a big blow to lose a a boy like that when you're playing the Packers. Now we'll go with Bobby Gaiters or Jim Vollenweider."

'Bowl' Backers Abandon Post-Season Game Idea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to set up a post-season football bowl game in Washington were abandoned Wednesday for this year.

Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the National Trophy Bowl said the decision was made "because of inability to arrange for a top-flight attraction."

The game was proposed for Dec. 29, and the backers had hopes of lining up Navy against perhaps Texas Christian University. But Navy said it wasn't interested.

PCH Cagers Start SVC Action at Home Friday

Pontiac Central High School will jump right into its Saginaw Valley Conference schedule tomorrow night when Flint Central invades the Chiefs' court for an important basketball contest.

The two squads have both played one non-league game with PCH going under to Grosse Pointe, 62-45, and Flint Central whipping Lansing Eastern, 73-40. Both squads anticipate tougher times in their league opener.

Flint is rated a darkhorse in the race with a good blend of experience and height, and one impressive showing already under the Indians' wampum belt.

Pontiac's Chiefs, meanwhile, are young and generally untested. A win over the supposedly talented visitors would be a big morale booster and could foreshadowed brighter days.

LINEUP CHANGE

Coach Art VanRyzin expects to make one or two changes in his lineup in search of more offensive punch. Mel DeWalt earned a starting shot with a good showing against Grosse Pointe and Ernie Pickett put in a bid for a guard slot as a playmaker.

Ray Sain, Mckinley Jones and Gerald Henry did some impressive rebounding last Saturday and figure to retain their starting slots. Jesse Hodge, bothered by football injuries to his ankles, need a strong performance against the Indians to repel the bid by Pickett.

VanRyzin notes the coaches who saw Flint play last Friday are very high on the Indians.

"It is a typical Central team," reports the graying mentor of the Chiefs. "They are quick, very aggressive and a very good jumping team."

Coach Joe Dowdy this year welcomed back 6-2 center Al Snyder and Oddie Miller this season and has Mel Summers, Ernie Long and Jerome Rutland, also, back with varsity experience. Newcomers include 6-3 juniors Jim Blight, expected to start, and MacHenry Johnson.

Mel Summers' brother John may start at forward also. Another highly regarded Indian is guard Bill King, a 5-10 senior.

The Valley schedule for Friday includes three other league games. Midland travels to Flint Northern, Bay City Central will be at Saginaw, and preseason favorite Saginaw Arthur Hill will open its quest of the title against Handy at Bay City.

A 6:45 p.m. junior varsity game will precede the PCH-Flint Central contest. Last year's varsity games resulted in the home teams losing both times, 59-36 at Flint, and 58-56 here.

Rabaja Helps Dales Beat Olivet, 74-61

OLIVET (UPD — Hillsdale chalked up its first win in three basketball outings by defeating host Olivet, 74-61, last night.

Hillsdale led, 37-34, in the first half of the hard-fought contest and widened the winning margin in the second half on the shooting of Charles Works and Phil Rabaja of Pontiac.

Works claimed game scoring honors with 28 points, while Rabaja shot for 15.

★ ★ ★

YPSILANTI (UPD — Eastern Michigan University played a powerful second half last night to force a see-sawing game with Albion to a 78-54 win.

The game changed hands eight times in the first half until Eastern, led by Duane Lamiman with 17, forged ahead after taking the last shot of the first half, 30-28.

Top scorer for Albion was Emil de Grazia with 16.

★ ★ ★

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPD—Assumption University raced to an easy 86-59 basketball victory last night over Adrian College.

Adrian suffered its second loss as the Canadian quint forged to a commanding 40-23 halftime lead and went on to its second win against one defeat this year.

Assumption guard Bob Horvath and forward Dick Seagert of Adrian each garnered 16 points for scoring honors.

Cinci Quint First in AP

By The Associated Press

It took two long years and a couple of national titles to do it, but the Cincinnati Bearcats finally reached the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press regular season weekly basketball poll.

★ ★ ★

The veteran bearcats were an overwhelming choice for the top spot in the first weekly poll Wednesday, gaining 38 first place votes on the 44 ballots cast and outdistancing the second team by more than 100 points.

★ ★ ★

Strangely, it was the first time in three years Cincinnati had topped the poll, though the school won the NCAA title the last two seasons, Ohio State led each week for the last two seasons, only to fall before the Bearcats twice in the NCAA finals.

1. Cincinnati (38)	2	0	428
2. Duke (3)	1	0	367
3. West Virginia (2)	1	0	341
4. Loyola, Chicago	1	1	274

PNH Ready to Open? Maybe or Not

Pontiac Northern basketball coach Dick Hall is full of contradictions this week as he prepares the Huskies for their opening game at home Friday night against Flint Southwestern.

★ ★ ★

"We're coming along all right," he states. Then in the next breath he comments, "The boys are flat." Next comes, "But we'll be ready Friday."

Hall quickly reverses himself again by saying:

"I don't know a thing about Southwestern. They are foreign to me. I don't know how we can be prepared."

Both teams will be even on the latter point, Southwestern's Colts don't know what to expect from the Huskies.

Going back to the coach's original contradictions, the Huskies are "flat" because they are getting "bored" practicing against each other. The impending opener should take any staleness out of the players.

I-L CONTENDER

The "All right" part can be taken to mean that Hall is sticking by his earlier prediction that the Huskies would fight it out with Farmington for the Inter-Lakes championship.

PNH is blessed with six experienced players and at least one promising sophomore. In addition there is added height, a commodity that hasn't been too prevalent at the north side school.

Leading returnee is Gary Hayward. The 6-2½-inch senior averaged 16.2 points a game last year. Wayne Daniels, 6-3; Dean Souden, a 6-1½ junior; and Dean Thomas, 6-1½, will be available for front line duty.

In the back court Northern will go with letterwinners Dave Bihl, 5-10, and Mike Burklow, a 5-10½ junior. Daniels, Thomas and Bihl are seniors.

Roger Hayward, Gary's brother, is a 6-2½ sophomore who has shown definite promise.

This will be Southwestern's first game. The Saginaw Valley school no longer has high scoring Jim Yuille, who averaged 21 points a game last season and carried the Colt's attack.

With almost 50 per cent of the scoring gone, the Colts are a definite question mark.

S'western Swamped

Huskies Sink Flint Swimmers

The Pontiac Northern natators are showing all newcomers in the pool that they are out to win.

Flint Southwestern came to this conclusion the hard way last night at Northern when they met the hard swimming PNH group that splashed past them 62½-41½.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies, 2-0, stopping Pontiac Central 53-52 in their season opener earlier this week, took six first places from the visitors and Alex Hiller of PN broke the existing varsity and pool diving record of 202.7 set by Bill Ratliff in 1959 with a 212.0 showing.

The Ed Dauw coached red and white swimmers yielded only three first places two of these to freestyle artist Craig Horning who took honors in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle races.

Frank Frey of the invaders took the only other first managed by the Colts winning the 100-yard backstroke in 1:08.3.

Carl Cascadden was one of two double winners for the hosts.

He showed potential record breaking form in the 100-yard breastroke and individual medley in times of 2:29.9 and 1:11.7.

★

Skip Ervin made up for a second place showing against the Chiefs by edging Al Rochwitz in the 400-free swim event in 4:40.0.

He also scored a first in the 200-freestyle with a 2:08.9 performance.

The 200-medley and 200-freestyle PN relay teams also showed winning ability in their respective events in times of 1:59.8 and 1:52.1.

4 Loop Games in W-O

Before the season began, coaches in the Wayne-Oakland conference indicated there would be a five-team scramble for the crown with defending titlist Northville having a slight preference.

League play began last week and four of the top five emerged triumphant. The lone fallen favorite was — Northville.

Four more league contests are slated for Friday night and at least one of the four leaders will fall. The top games will pit Holly at Clarkston and Northville at Bloomfield Hills.

Other contests will have West Bloomfield heavily favored at Clarenceville and Milford traveling to Brighton.

★ ★ ★

Northville must win against the Barons or face an uphill battle the rest of the way. Craig Bell needs help on offense from the thin ranks of the Mustangs to make the defending champions potent again.

Bloomfield Hills displayed a balanced attack in its easy victory over Clarenceville last week but won't have it so easy this time.

Holly took an early lead over Milford last week and made it stand up, but the Broncos blew one earlier this week against Lake Fenton to lose a non-league encounter. Clarkston upset Northville at the losers' court last week to snap a 14-game regular season victory string for the Mustangs.

★ ★ ★

The Lakers of West Bloomfield shouldn't have too much trouble with Clarenceville after their easy 57-25 win over Brighton last week. Charlie Robison led the balanced attack for the winners with 21 points.

Milford appears to have too much offense for Brighton, although the Bulldogs could develop some bite on their home floor.

Mexican Cuppers Win

MADRAS, India (AP)—The surprising Mexican Davis Cup team completed a 5-0 sweep of India Wednesday by winning the two final singles matches, and prepared to leave for Australia to challenge for the big international tennis trophy at Brisbane Dec. 26-28.

The Mexican victory in the doubles Tuesday clinched the interzone victory over India, sending Mexico into the challenge round for the first time ever.

AP Photofax

TRADED — The New York Knicks obtained Tom Gola from the San Francisco Warriors yesterday in exchange for Ken Sears and Willie Naulls. It was a straight player trade.

Knicks' Deal Then Triumph

New York Pro Cagers Beat Chicago 133-117

DETROIT (AP) —With two teammates traded away, the New York Knicks were all fired up as they snapped a five-game losing streak in spanking the Chicago Zephyrs 133-117 in the opener of a National Basketball Association doubleheader here Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The Knicks, bogged down in the NBA Eastern Division cellar, hope to improve their lot tonight when Tom Gola joins the team at Cincinnati.

Gola was obtained by New York Wednesday in a trade with the San Francisco Warriors. The trade sent Kenny Sears and Willie Naulls to San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

The New Yorkers led all the way in walloping Chicago, cellar dwellers in the Western Division, handing them their fourth straight loss and 19th setback in 25 games.

Richie Guerin paced the Knicks with 33 points. Johnny Green had 23 and Gene Shue 22 for New York. Bill McGill was high for Chicago with 28.

Trouble Ahead for Orion 5

Lake Orion better enjoy its trip to Waterford Kettering tomorrow night because just around the corner looms a formidable Clawson quintet bent on discouraging all comers in the Oakland A race.

The Trojans all ready have justified early predictions that they are the 'five' to beat for conference recognition by stopping archrival Troy in a season opener, 48-45.

★ ★ ★

Defending champ Fitzgerald is seen out of contention the victim of heavy graduation losses.

Tom Dobberstein is the only letter-winner back on the squad and coupled with forward John McCullum, and guard Roger Romanski pose as the bulwark against the Troy invasion Friday.

The Spartans are off to a bad start with two losses already in as many outings.

★ ★ ★

Troy meanwhile is setting its sights on a January 25 meeting with the marauding Clawson group in hopes of revenge and top shot at the title.

Clawson, 3rd behind Troy in last year's standings, is out for blood and Madison may be the victim on its own court tomorrow.

The Avondale Yellow Jackets, edging Lake Orion 40-39 in a season opener a week ago, greet Oak Park Friday.

Buckeyes Keep Winning Pace

By The Associated Press

It wasn't supposed to be like this at all.

This was supposed to be the year that Ohio State was from nowhere and—at last—Cincinnati moved out of the Buckeye shadow and into its rightful spot in the college basketball picture.

But, like an aging star who is loathe to leave, the Buckeyes just won't give up the ghost.

BEARCATS WIN

They took their third straight Wednesday night, beating Virginia 70-46 and keeping place with top-ranked Cincinnati, which rolled over Miami of Ohio 58-36, the Bearcats' third of the season and 21st victory in a row.

The Bearcats were the only member of the Top Ten in action Wednesday. In some of the other major results, Texas put on its best defensive showing in more than 10 years in subduing East Texas State 71-38 and Nick Werkman, the nation's third leading scorer last season, scored 37 points in leading Seton Hall to a 90-70 conquest of St. Anselm's of New Hampshire.

California beat St. Mary's of California 77-63, Tennessee won from Xavier of Ohio 63-48, Oklahoma State crushed Montana 65-47 and North Carolina used a huge edge in rebounding to beat Clemson 64-48.

Two years in a row Ohio State had been picked as the nation's best, and led every weekly poll—up until the NCAA title game. Twice they lost the national title to Cincinnati.

And from that powerful aggregation the Buckeyes lost by graduation such stars as Jerry Lucas, John Havlicek and Mel Nowell.

This then, said the critics, should be the year Ohio State falls from favor and Cincinnati takes over. It looked that way in the early voting this season, too, with Cincinnati ranked No. 1 and Ohio State out of the Top Ten.

Just how right that forecast may be could be settled Saturday when Ohio State entertains the Mountaineers of West Virginia, winners of their only outing this season and ranked third in the nation.

Jim Doughty, another of Ohio State's new crop, took up some of the slack. He led all rebounders and shared scoring honors with teammate Dick Taylor, each with 15 points.

No Gross Neglect by North Coaches

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Selection of three players and a coach for the Shrine North-South all-star college football game to be played in the Orange Bowl Dec. 22 was announced today.

Coach Bill Peterson of Florida State University replaces Ray Graves of the University of Florida as South coach. Graves' team will play in the Gator Bowl Dec. 29 against Penn State.

North-South Director Andy Gustafson said two University of Detroit players will join the North team. They are Detroit co-captains Jerry Gross, a quarterback, and center Tom Arrowsmith.

Tackle Dave Graham of the University of Virginia was named to the South team.

Skiers Get on Your Mark, Snow on Way

Skiers get on your mark!

The freakish weather of the past two weeks, enjoyed by everyone except skiers, is gone and the white gold of Michigan's winter tourist trade started to leave marks around the state.

A big season is expected for the Pontiac area. More clothing stores and department stores have now gone into the ski business selling a wide selection of men's and women's ski clothes and equipment.

SIX AREAS

A new ski area has brought the number to six in the Pontiac area, while major improvements in some of the areas will be welcomed by skiers from beginners to advanced.

Alpine Valley and Mt. Holly, the two big areas locally, have each made improvements in excess of $100,000.

The M-59 area, 13 miles west of Pontiac, has been tripled in capacity. The Alpine Valley lodge has been expaneded in beautiful Alpine atmosphere for a lounge, brand new pro shop, ski shelter and change in snackbar.

* * *

The major improvements in the slope areas at Alpine include a chair lift to the top of "Horizon Hill," a new slope which will run in excess of 1,300 feet. Additional ski areas for beginners have been cut into the hill and more space for parking has been made.

Mt. Holly has expanded its lodge with a planned lounge and ski shelter area. The chair-lift is ready for full operation and the runs have ben widened.

Mt. Christie on M24, just north of Oxford, is ready for operation as is Grampian Mt., on Lakeville Road, east of Oxford. Grampian Mt. will again operate its 30 meter jump, the only one of its kind in this part of Michigan.

* * *

Instructional classes in jumping have ben arranged with area manager John Grames in charge.

Snow making veteran Fred Molitor has the Dryden ski area ready for operation with changes in the rental shop and in the runs.

Dryden, which normally has temperatures five to 10 degrees lower than in the immediate Pontiac area, will be ready to make snow this weekend. The last two years, Dryden was the first to open in lower Michigan.

PINE KNOB

Newest to the Pontiac area is the planned $1 million Pine Knob Ski Area, four miles north of Pontiac just off Sashabaw and Pine Knob roads.

Pine Knob will operate under Stein Eriksen's ski school. When complete there will be nine ski areas and a chair life and two story lodge for lounge, restaurant and ski shop. The parking area is paved.

Opening was planned for this weekend and snow making machinery will be in operation if weather permits.

Kandahar Ski Club will operate in the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area since the land was purchased by the state last spring.

The area will have six rope tows, one 35-meter jump and nine runs. There is no rental or dining setup at the area and it is now open to the public.

Ready for the season when natural snow becomes available will be Teeple Hill area operated by the Pontiac Ski Club.

2ND YEAR — Crampian Mt. will feature its 35 meter jump for the second year of operation. Instructional classes in jumping have been planned for the area. This was scene of jumping competition last season.

Steeler Improving

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pitts-Rudy Hayes, 26, stricken by a heart attack, was reported in satisfactory condition and improving late Wednesday night at Pittsburgh's Divine Providence hospital.

State Ski Facilities Improved

LANSING — The number of winter resorts open to the skier and skater in Michigan this year will be the same as in 1961, but facilities will be considerably improved, state tourist council officials report.

Seven new resorts, operating for their first full season, will fill in the vacancies left by the abandonment or temporary closing of a like number of ski areas, 83, which were open last year.

In addition to the new resorts, many of the established areas have improved and expanded facilities to meet the anticipated demands of some 200,000 skiers. Tourist council estimates are that these skiers will average three or more ski trips in Michigan during the coming winter season.

SKI INCOME

This represents a sharp increase from the 1961 estimate of 180,000 persons who made the same number of trips.

Tourist income from the skiers will increase in like amount, the council predicts. The estimate of expenditures from the 180,000 skiers last year was $18 million. Winter sports enthusiasts are expected to spend $20 million in Michigan this year, not including equipment purchases.

A longer ski season with more reliable snow conditions also is expected at a greater number of resorts this year because of the addition of snow-making machines.

Some 22 of the areas will have the ability this year to lengthen the season and keep the slopes well-groomed, as compared to 19 which had snow-making equipment in 1961.

* * *

The resort operators did not appear overly conscious of the safety inspection legislation which was approved by the state legislature this year, but all precautions for safety were taken at ski areas.

"The bill will not become law until 90 days after the session adjourns, which now looks like about next March, but it is expected to have little effect on the facilities available," Bill McGrag of the Tourist Council said.

"Safety is a primary concern to Michigan resort operators, particularly in light of a number of recent incidents," he said. "They take every precaution to be sure their facilities are safe."

* * *

The inspection legislation passed this year was prompted by two deaths on Michigan slopes last winter.

Dallas Cowboys' Nibs Horned Frogs' Gibbs

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, acting on a draft choice made last year, signed quarterback Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian University Tuesday night.

* * *

In signing the TCU star, the Cowboys acted on a future draft choice made last year while Gibbs still had another year of collegiate football to play.

Indians, Giants Join in '63 Tour of West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants will barnstorm for a week through California at the end of their 1963 spring training season, the club announced Wednesday.

* * *

The Cleveland Indians will join the National League champions on a tour through San Diego, Santa Barbara, Bakersfield, Fresno, Modesto, Stockton and Sacramento that runs from March 30 through April 6.

The clubs will play for two days in San Diego, then move north a city a day.

Afternoon Trading Slows

Stocks Show Moderate Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market backed away from its latest rally, showing a moderate loss early this afternoon as trading slowed.

★ ★ ★

Losses of fractions to about a point prevailed among most key stocks. Limited gains were produced by a minority of issues.

The market was following through from the profit taking that skimmed the cream from yesterday's vigorous early rally. Analysts saw the performance as another breathing spell.

At the same time, sentiment was somewhat restrained by the latest economic news. This included the November rise in unemployment, price cuts by U.S. Steel on raw conduit pipe, and a forecast that business spending on new plant and equipment will decline in the first quarter of 1963.

Steels, rails, aerospace issues, tobaccos, building materials, and oils showed a lower trend.

MOTORS RECOUP

Big Three motors, after taking some early losses, came back partially. Although Ford still showed a fractional loss, General Motors and Chrysler nudged to the upside. American Motors and Studebaker also showed plus signs.

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was moderate. Losses of about a point were taken by Fischer & Porter and Arkansas Louisiana Gas. Down fractionally

Treasury Bonds Firm in Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. Treasury bond prices firmed today at the opening. Corporate bonds were mixed.

An over-the-counter dealer said nearly the whole range of governments was ahead in modestly active trading.

Many distant and intermediate maturities picked up 2/32s of a point or more. Treasury bills were a little higher.

In corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange, interest was widely distributed among the various classes of bonds. Gains and losses about evened off, although the rail issues were distinctly on the plus side.

Fair Weather, Friend

The weather last month was reverse of what is expected of November.

Instead of ushering in the first major cold of winter, November eased into December on a wave of warm breezes that could easily have been mistaken for the announcement of autumn.

Most of the chillier days came during the second week of the month and specifically on the first Tuesday when the temperature dropped to a sub-freezing 25 degrees.

That first extremely cold day, however, had to vie for honors in bringing out the mackintoshes when the low temperature was equaled on Oct. 19.

But by the time the last several days of the month rolled around and December already had got its start, the frosty days had been easily forgotten.

★ ★ ★

It didn't seem like the Holiday season. The last day of the month equaled a 90-year temperature record for that day as the mercury soared to an unseasonal 62 degrees.

Both Nov. 28 and 29 were almost as nice when temperatures reached 53 and 60 degrees, respectively.

Good weather on Thanksgiving could be counted among the many small blessings of that day.

LITTLE SNOW

Six days of the month saw snow flurries, but never enough to be measured.

Although temperatures were balmy, sunny weather did not have the upper hand during November. The margin was slight —but cloudy days, with only the smallest trace of sunshine, won out.

There was some rainfall in November but during the winter months it is not measured by the Pontiac Press. A gauge wasn't needed, however, to know that it did rain on eight of the 30 days.

Twice the rain fell on weekends — the first Saturday and Sunday of the month and the second Saturday — making it miserable for anyone who planned football outings.

But the weatherman more than made up for the poor days by scheduling perfect weather on the following three weekends.

Former Jew Barred by Israel

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israel Supreme Court held today that a Jew who embraces another religion ceases to be a Jew in the Israeli national sense of the word.

★ ★ ★

The court ruled that a Roman Catholic monk of Jewish parentage was not automatically entitled to Israel citizenship under the Law of Return, which says:

"Every Jew has a right to come to this country as an immigrant."

The case stirred passionate discussion in Israel on "Who is a Jew?"

The monk, Father Daniel, who was born Oswalk Rufeisen, brought the test of the Return Law, passed by the Israeli Parliament July 5, 1950—two years after the Jewish state was established.

★ ★ ★

The 40-year-old priest, a member of the Catholic Carmelite Monastery on Mount Carmel, near Haifa, came to Israel in 1959.

He had grown up in a traditional Jewish home and surroundings in Poland, where he was active in the Zionist movement. During World War II he served with the anti-Nazi underground and embraced Catholicism after Polish Catholics had helped save him from deportation.

On coming to Israel he applied—with Vatican permission—for Israel citizenship under the Law of Return, saying he wanted his "Jewish nationality" to be recognized.

★ ★ ★

When the Interior Ministry balked he went to court, demanding it show cause why he should not become an Israeli citizen, identified in his official papers as a "Catholic of Jewish nationality."

Reporter Gets Toledo $140,090

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The city of Toledo is $140,090 richer because of the persistence of Edson Whipple, a Toledo Blade reporter who uncovered an error in assessing costs for the Detroit-Toledo expressway.

Whipple discovered during a two-month investigation that the wrong map had been used in compiling the amount of refund due Toledo in construction of the expressway.

The map included areas that were annexed after the $31-million project was completed.

City officials had expected a $434,000 refund from the state but were notified in October that the amount was only $105,837. The city reluctantly accepted the lesser payment.

QUESTIONED PAYMENT

Joe Knack, Blade city editor, questioned the reduced payment and assigned Whipple to look into the matter. The two-month investigation which entailed reviewing records, maps and financial statements dating back to 1948 revealed the mistake.

James Snyder, acting chief auditor of the state highway department, said yesterday the city would receive an additional refund of $140,090 within a week.

Snyder blamed the error on the unusual mass of detail involved in the expressway and said the Toledo matter was one of the most complex his department has encountered.

The settlement was complicated by a maze of resolutions, ordinances, amendments, cooperating agreements, overlapping contracts, shifting participating percentages, scattered construction data and changing boundaries dating back a dozen years.

It was found city funds had been improperly allocated to construction of four bridges, three miles of expressways, right-of-way acquisition and incidental items outside the city limits.

Adenauer Sets Talk to Rivals

BONN (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer decided today to resume his off-again on-again coalition talks with the opposition Social Democratic party (SPD).

The 86 - year - old chancellor had canceled a meeting scheduled for today when the Socialists indicated they wanted to discuss his early retirement as the price of cooperation.

But Adenauer huddled with leaders of his Christian Democratic Union (CDU) this morning and then invited the Socialists for new talks in his office this afternoon.

Both the Socialists and Adenauer's former coalition partners, the Freee Democratic Party (FDP), have demanded he set a date for his retirement before they join a new cabinet.

The Free Democrats pulled out of the government over the police crackdown on the news magazine "Der Spiegel," and the involvement of Adenauer's defense minister, Franz Josef Strauss.

Strauss has since resigned his cabinet post but the FDP also demands Adenauer to agree to retire next year before they return to the coalition.

15 JA Firms Get Charters

Fifteen Junior Achievement companies in the Pontiac area have received their official operating charters, Ben D. Mills, southeastern Michigan JA board president, announced today.

Mills said that the teen-ager operated firms filed application for their charter and paid a standard $2 fee to national headquarters of Junior Achievement in New York City.

The charter corresponds to incorporation papers of an adult-scale company.

The small firms which were formed in October are now producing a variety of products which are being sold to the public.

The JA companies from this area that now have charters include:

Gizmo, Win-Co, and Tru-Po-Co., all counselled by the General Motors Truck & Coach Division; Jay Co, U-Zit-Co, and Fagmites, (Pontiac Motor Division); Big Biz (Fisher Body Division); and Jaco. (Community National Bank).

Others are Bell-O-Ream (Michigan Bell Telephone); Beja Products and Posemco (Chevrolet Engineering); Ja-Ma-Co, (Chrysler Engineering Division); Jaco (Consumer Power Co.); Profiteers (Sherwin-Williams Co.) and Gem-Co (Higbie Co.).

Report Trend in Birth Rate Is Downward

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reporting that the birth rate has been dropping since July 1961, the Public Health Service said yesterday the decline "has persisted long enough to establish a significant downward trend."

★ ★ ★

There was no speculation as to why the birth rate and also the fertility rate were lower in each of the 15 consecutive months ending Sept. 30 than for the corresponding months a year earlier.

For September this year the birth rate was 24 live births per thousand population and the fertility rate was 119.7 live births per thousand women in the child-bearing ages, 15-44 years.

Those levels were 5.9 per cent and 6.4 per cent below the September 1961 rates.

There were 367,000 babies born in September this year, a decrease of 4.4 per cent under the 384,000 in September 1961. The birth rate in September 1961 was 25.5.

★ ★ ★

During the first nine months of this year there were 3.12 million births, a decrease of 3.2 per cent under the 3,222,000 in the similar 1961 span. The birth rate was 22.5 for this year, down 4.7 per cent from the rate of 23.6

Masked Bandit Terrorizes Pair

Two young Pontiac women were terrorized and robbed last night by a lone masked bandit who had hidden himself in their car and then forced them at gunpoint to drive around the city.

Linda McGlothin, 20, of 491 First St., and Nancy J. Bienman, 22, of 205 W. Sheffield St., told Pontiac police they were just pulling out of the Miracle Mile Shopping Center when the man made himself known.

The pair said he was in the boot well of their convertible. He leveled a gun on them and said "Just keep driving," they told police.

After a short time he took over the wheel and drove around the Jefferson School area, the women said.

On Luther Street, near the school, he parked and tied up Miss Blenman and unsuccessfully made advances toward Miss McGlothin.

Her screams frightened him off. He escaped with a wristwatch and $8 cash. Police found a piece of the rubber mask the man had been wearing in the girl's car.

Jury Acquits Suspect of Break-In Charge

A Circuit Court jury yesterday acquitted Robert V. Boback, 24, of 400 Ferry St., of a breaking and entering charge after a 1½-day trial before Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Boback had been accused for taking some $85 in an Oct. 11 burglary of Sid's Grill at 67 W. Huron St.

Thieves Land 'Reel' Haul

SOUTHAMPTON, England (UPI) —Thieves stole $140 in liquor yesterday from the liner Windsor Castle. They dropped fishing lines through a metal grille over the ship's bar, hooked the bottles and reeled in the booze.

Ex-Royal Oak Employes Plead Guilty to Thefts

Three former employes of the City of Royal Oak, who admitted taking more than $20,000 from city parking meter collections, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of taking money from a coin-operated machine.

★ ★ ★

William M. Gavin, 39, John C. Quinn, 28, and Eugene Brenneman, 47, entered their guilty plea as their trial on a charge of conspiracy to embezzle was about to begin before Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams.

Sentencing was set for Jan. 7. Maximum penalty is six months in jail or $250 fine.

The trio was arrested in September 1961. The thefts occurred over a four-year period, they told police.

Discovery of the thefts explained a perplexing drop in parking meter revenues.

Afraid He Must Move, So Judge Jailed Him

DERBY, England (UPI) — A defendant complained yesterday that he'd have to move if his neighbors learned he was convicted of theft.

"You will be changing your address anyway," the judge said, "you will be going to prison for a month."

OK Acquiring of 3 Sites for Fire Stations

A recommendation from the Waterford Township Planning Commission that three fire department station sites be acquired is in the hands of the Township Board.

★ ★ ★

Development of a site in the area of Lotus, Williams and Maceday lakes and another in the vicinity of Watkins Lake and Scott Lake roads is suggested as soon as possible.

A third proposed location in the Watkins Lake and Scott Lake roads section is earmarked for later development.

The township presently has three fire department stations.

Purpose of the proposed doubling of facilities outlined in the commission is to provide a well-rounded department and to contribute to a possible reduction in insurance rates.

Atlas' 'Father' Dreamed Far Ahead of Space Efforts

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Charlie Bossart is called the "father of the Atlas missile." His paternal dream had been something that might best be described as a "⅝ Saturn."

Had that dream been realized, the United States might have avoided the space-age nightmares that a steady diet of huge Russian rockets have produced for five years.

But the dream vanished long ago, and the "booster gap" it could have prevented is still around.

And Karel J (Charlie) Bossart knows the fatherly frustration of hoping for a hulking footballer only to see the kid turn out to be a bit on the scrawny side.

FAR FROM SCRAWNY

By itself, Atlas is far from scrawny.

Looming 82 feet tall and weighing 130 tons, it is an intercontinental ballistic missile —America's first ICBM—with a demonstrated ability to hurl a city-leveling nuclear warhead better than 9,000 miles, should the occasion arise.

And Bossart was none the less proud of his "kid" yesterday when, perched atop a hanger on Cape Canaveral, he watched the mightily Atlas at its graduation—its final research and development flight.

It was a rip-roaring success of 5,000 miles, and it couldn't have been better.

For that moment, Charlie Bossart had waited 17 years—nearly two decades during which he breathed life into the program when the federal government itself was ready to bury it as far down as possible.

But the Atlas launched yesterday, despite the brilliant performance, was a far cry from the missile that Bossart, now technical director for the Atlas-building General Dynamics Corp., had in mind back in 1947 when he spearheaded the first ICBM paper program, "Project MX-774."

The crew-cut Belgian native envisioned a five-engine giant that would have produced 135,000 pounds of thrust in each engine —a total of 675,000 pounds of thrust.

These same engines, now "uprated" to 188,000 pounds of thrust each, have been clustered into a group of eight.

The result is the Saturn, America's first so-called "super-booster" rocket.

Had Bossart's idea been carried through, the Atlas today would have been basically a smaller, "⅝-sized" Saturn, with five engines instead of eight and 940,000 pounds of thrust compared with 1.5 million.

The difference is that the Saturn is still two years away from space duty.

★ ★ ★

And the rockets the Soviet Union is believed to be using are estimated at 800,000 to 1 million pounds of thrust today.

In the matter of the petition concerning Sandra Crim alias Marshall, minor. Cause No. 18579.

To Frank Crim, father of said minor child.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabouts of the father of said minor child are unknown and said child has violated a law of the State and that said child should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

It is the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Oakland County Service Center, County Building, in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 14th day of December, A.D. 1962, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

If being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in The Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Witness, the Honorable Donald E. Adams, Judge of said Court in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 4th day of December, A. D. 1962.

Chief of Mental Health Boosts State Program

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's mental health progras was described by the state mental health chief as showing growth and accomplishment which compares "favorably with the leading state programs in the nation."

In an appraisal of the state's program, Director Charles Wagg of the mental health department said that "tremendous advances" have been made in the past 10 years.

"The progress that has been made reflects strong citizen and legislative support over these years," Wagg said, but added:

"If we are to eliminate remaining deficiencies and move forward with the already established new pattern of progress, continued citizen assistance and legislative backing will be required."

During the gubernatorial campaign, Republican nominee George Romney criticized the mental health program as being in critical need of improvement.

PROPOSES SCRUTINY

Romney, now governor-elect, proposed a thorough scrutiny of present facilities to insure that they were being used efficiently, plus adoption of new programs similar to those followed in some other states to effect more rapid cures.

In his evaluation of the state's program, Wagg said Michigan had 277 patients per 100,000 general population, compared with a national average of 304.

Wagg pointed out, however, that there was no reason to believe that the prevalence of mental illness is any less in Michigan than any other state.

"This ranking may mean that Michigan's program of community services and other treatment resources account, in part, for the lower state hospital load," he said, adding:

"If this is true, it can be assumed that the patients entering Michigan's state hospitals for the mentally ill represent, on an average, a more severe degree of mental disorder than is true in some states."

Wagg said that Michigan state mental hospitals increased the number of patients released by 62.6 per cent during the eight-year period from 1954 through 1961.

He said the hospitals had become more effective not only in the treatment of patients within the hospital but also in returning patients to their homes.

Polley Formally Resigns; Romney May Fill Post

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Swainson yesterday formally accepted the resignation of state controller Ira Polley and renewed his offer to Gov.-elect George Romney to appoint a successor before Jan. 1.

Polley, 45, is leaving state service to become executive director of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents. His resignation is effective tomorrow.

Swainson praised Polley for establishing "high marks in efficiency and economy, coupled with maximum service to the people," in his two years as controller.

In a letter to Romney, the governor said he would be willing to act immediately to appoint a successor of Romney's choosing to replace Polley, "should this be your desire."

The governor said he would also name an acting controller to serve until Jan. 1 if Romney is not ready to select a permanent controller at present.

The office of controller is expected to be one of the first filled by Romney, whose staff already has been at work for several weeks in helping to formulate the proposed 1963-64 budget.

Romney told newsmen this week that four persons are being considered for the post, but he declined to identify them.

However, he said, they do not include two Grand Rapids men who figured in earlier speculation—Dr. Walter Devries, Romney's chief research assistant during the campaign, and L. William Seidman, the unsuccessful GOP nominee for auditor general.

Both have served as interim members of the Romney staff, concentrating on budget preparations.

★ ★ ★

Polley, in his letter of resignation, told Swainson he was honored to have served two years in "an administration dedicated to the public interest."

Polley was first appointed to the controller's post by Gov. G. Mennen Williams in May, 1960 and was reappointed by Swainson, then the governor-elect, in November of 1960.

Red Flights Over U.S. Are Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Administration has stated emphatically that Soviet reconnaissance planes have never flown over the United States.

Both the White House and the Air Force denied a published report that Russian aircraft overflew the Southeastern United States during the Cuban crisis.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said flatly that "no such flights have ever taken place."

The report appeared last Saturday in the Scripps-Howard newspapers. It was attributed to "independent sources."

On Tuesday night in Pittsburgh Salinger said, "This type of journalism is destructive."

CONTINUE DENIALS

The press secretary and the Air Force, in the person of its chief of staff, Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, continued the denials yesterday.

Nevertheless, Scripps-Howard continued to insist — just as firmly — that the reports were true.

Editor - in - chief Walker Stone said in a statement:

"What we published is true . . . It's just too bad if nobody has bothered to tell Mr. Salinger."

★ ★ ★

In his statement, Stone identified the sources as "men high in the Kenpedy administration and its military establishment."

Salinger had no comment on Stone's statement.

In his statement, Lemay said: "The only aircraft from Cuba which have appeared over U.S. territory have been small aircraft flown by defectors who landed in the United States. Each of these aircraft has been previously announced by either the Air Force or Department of Defense."

The Scipps-Howard report stated that Soviet reconnaissance planes were spotted over Georgia and South Carolina during the East-West flareup.

Nikita and Tito Begin Talks

Form Common Front Against Peking Blasts

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev and Yugoslav President Tito began formal conferences in the Kremlin today, presumably to weld a common front against the propaganda onslaught from Communist China.

Peking has been using Tito as its whipping boy in its ideological battle with Moscow, attacking the Yugoslav leader and indirectly Khrushchev.

The Soviet news aegncy Tass said Tito and Khrushchev discussed "questions related to the present international situation" as well as "questions pertaining to the further development of fraternal Soviet-Yugoslav" relations.

Tass described the discussion as a "frank and friendly exchange of opinion."

Tito, his wife and a party of Yugoslav officials arrived in Moscow Tuesday. The Yugoslavs on Saturday will begin a short vacation tour of Leningrad, Kiev and Volgograd (Stalingrad).

Soviet aid for the hard-pressed Yugoslav economy is also expected to figure in the talks between Tito and Khrushchev.

The two leaders spent yesterday, a Soviet holiday, at a lodge outside Moscow and in the evening watched a Ukrainian ballet in the Kremlin.

Mrs. Tito was reported ill yesterday, but Tass said she accompanied her husband to the Lenin tomb today to leave a wreath.

Get New State Holiday

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown proclaimed Dec. 31 as a state holiday Wednesday in honor of "California first" days—the celebration of the state becoming the nation's most populous.

U. A. R. to Aid Algeria

CAIRO (UPI) — The United Arab Republic will lend Algeria $25.7-million interest-free to help it "overcome economic difficulties," according to an announcement here.

SURVIVES WILD RIDE—Baby sitter Regina Law comforts Ann Leevns (right) after the 22-month-old baby survived a freak auto accident in Atlanta, Ga., earlier this week. The baby, left alone momentarily in a parked car, apparently released the brake and sent the car rolling down a hill where it jumped a 35-foot embankment and overturned (left). The car was demolished but the little girl didn't get a scratch.

Doris Day Found Kissing With Steve Could Be Fun

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"Girl-Next-Door" Doris Day's new heart interest isn't a baseball player, but her handsome, somewhat younger leading man in "Jumbo," Stephen Boyd . . . so we hear now from our Hollywood espionage bureau. It started when Doris—seldom interested in love scenes—enjoyed rehearsing the kissing clinches with Steve, then insisted on more and MORE rehearsals. Significantly, Boyd has just now been trying to stall a trip to Europe. Husband Marty Melcher—who took up Christian Science for Doris—is expected to continue as her manager.

WILSON

I checked the love scene rumor with Producer Joe Pasternak who said, "Yes, when the director said 'Cut' during a kiss, they didn't cut!"

Bill Dana (Jose Jiminez) says a Russian Astronaut told him they called their first rocket "Sputnik," the one with a dog aboard "a Muttnik," and will name one carrying a man and woman together "a Picnic."

★ ★ ★

After all the effort to ballyhoo beautiful Ludmila Tcherina as "the Lady in White" for her Dec. 14 premiere of "The Lovers of Teruel" at the Coronet (she carries white luggage, wears white turbans, rides in white Cadillacs, etc.), she was at the Voisin dining, in a black mink coat, black dress—nothing white except the pearl dangling in the middle of her forehead.

★ ★ ★

Producer Windsor Lewis warned the cast of "The Living Room" he'll fire anybody injured in "outside activities" (after one actor busted an arm ice-skating). . . . N.Y. Giant footballer Roosevelt Grier, singer-guitarist, will cut an album.

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: A little girl was downhearted at the passing of November: "I've just learned how to spell it, and now it's gone."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A mighty poor investment (notes the Eureka, Kans., Herald) is a sweater that has everything on a girl who hasn't.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: It's not true that all wives are annoyed when their husbands read the newspaper at breakfast. Some wives never get up for breakfast. . . . That's earl, brother.

361 Crashes Noted for Trains, Vehicles

LANSING (AP) — Michigan has had 361 train-vehicle accidents during the first 10 months of the year, reports the State Safety Commission. They resulted in 61 deaths and 161 injuries.

During December, the report said, such accidents tend to increase. Last year there were 10 killed and 41 injured in December.

★ ★ ★

The commission urged motorists to drive carefully the rest of the month when approaching grade crossings.

Early darkness, skidding, fog, bad brakes and carelessness all will add to the toll, the report stated.

By United Press International

"CYRANO DE BERGERAC," 9:30 p.m. (4)—A 90-minute "Hall of Fame" adaptation of Edmond Rostand's classic romantic drama about swashbuckler whose sword and pen fought hypocrisy, pride and prejudice. Christopher Plummer plays title role of 17th century Gascon guardsman. (Color.)

PERRY MASON, 8 p. m. (2) — Teacher accused of improper behavior with her students.

DR. KILDARE, 8:30 p. m. (4)—Ed Begley plays coroner who makes decision about infant's death.

ALFRED HITCHCOCK, 10 p.m. (2) — Jayne Mansfield and Tony Randall in tale of boozing advertising man (married) and beautiful blonde who isn't his wife.

Movies, Reruns to Plug Six TV Program Holes

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Now that the television networks have canceled six faltering programs in midseason, it might be interesting to examine how they propose to plug the scheduling holes that result.

NBC, for instance, will fill the two-hour gap left by back-to-back departing shows ("It's A Man's World" and "Saints and Sinners") by running middle-aged feature movies. There's a rumor that these Monday-night excursions will be followed by a new Art Linkletter show.

CBS is reviving, in longer form, an established show, "Twilight Zone" to fill one gap, and pushing a game show "Password," into a late-evening 30 minutes occupied by Loretta Young.

ABC is shuffling some shows—two of them reruns—and handing a resulting open hour back to its local stations and affiliates to program.

The press handouts of all networks and packagers are loaded with little nuggets about their bold, exciting, stimulating and off-beat programing plans — for next September. There must be a reason all these tempting goodies are being carefully preserved on television's top shelf, safely out of sight.

WE DECIDE

That reason is you and I and our nasty way of deciding, early in the television season, which of the available programs we choose to see, and sticking with those choices through thick and thin until our habits are smashed by the summer re-runs.

Studies of midseason replacements over the past seasons show conclusively that new substitute programs—no matter how high their quality—have done less well, in terms of total audiences, than the failures that preceeded them.

Therefore, NBC has decided to throw in the sponge—temporarily —as far as fighting for Monday night audiences are concerned (CBS controls the evening) and will slip through the rest of the season as quietly and economically as possible. That means 1957-58 movies — comparatively inexpensive and, if the star name is strong enough, insurance for some percentage of audience. A Linkletter show, if that also is on its drafting board, carries both a popular name and a comparatively low production budget.

CBS' revival of an established old show avoids the problem of introducing a new project—"Twilight Zone" has a hard core of devout fans—and "Password" has proved modestly popular wherever it has landed.

More Freedom Asked for TV

NBC Chairman Blasts Double Standard Used

NEW YORK (UPI) — Robert W. Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the National Broadcasting Co. yesterday said that if the broadcasting industry is to have freedom in covering controversial issues then it also should have equal freedom of judging the entertainment it offers.

★ ★ ★

Sarnoff spoke at a lunch meeting of NBC television affiliates.

"It is a curious paradox," he said, "that among the very people who most forcefully advocate freedom of expression in the field of public affairs programing against all pressures and restraints are those who are equally forceful in urging the government to employ pressures and restraints in the field of entertainment programing.

"They properly want hands off news programs but they want to see a strong hand on the entertainment schedule to shape it to their own conception of what it should be.

★ ★ ★

"But there should not be a double standard for freedom in broadcasting.

"If we have the right to exercise freedom in the coverage of controversial issues, even to point of making mistakes, then surely we have the equal right to exercise freedom of judgment in the area of entertainment programing.

"Indeed, in the entertainment field, creative function is by its very nature a process of trial and error and, thanks to the power of the audience, errors of judgment are self-correcting."

★ ★ ★

He added "it is striking how often the very influence and impact of the medium are presented as reasons to restrict, control and shape it to special ends."

Want Probe of Stand

LONDON (UPI) — Thirty-five labor members of parliament asked the House of Commons yesterday to appoint a special committee to investigate the government's support of the United States in the Cuban crisis.

Expect More Snow, Winds

2 to 4 Inches Forecast for Oakland Area

Traffic Is Slowed as Mercury Slides 18 Degrees in Day

Continuing heavy snowfall with winds up to 25 miles an hour are in store for the Pontiac area as the first storm of the season today put a sudden end to the April-in-December weather.

Snow began falling on Pontiac during the night as a cold blast of arctic air invaded Michigan, bringing with it sub-freezing temperatures.

Warnings of accumulation of 2 to 4 inches of snow in the Oakland County area were issued by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The mercury slid from a high of 48 yesterday to 30 recorded in Pontiac at 1 p.m. today. Two days ago the area was basking in 60 degree weather.

The falling snow made driving conditions hazardous in all parts of Oakland County.

TRAFFIC SLOWED

Traffic was slowed during the morning hours as some motorists vainly attempted to drive up hills and even small rises in the road.

The Pontiac Department of Public Works started at 5:30 a.m. to salt all major city streets. No traffic accidents were reported to the Pontiac police resulting from the weather.

It was a different story with the Oakland County Sheriff's department where more than 30 accidents, all minor, were recorded before 10:30 a.m.

Temperatures dropped to freezing and below freezing at all 16 cities reported by the Weather Bureau.

At Grosse Ile, several schools were closed for the day because of heating troubles and 41 Cuban refugees who arrived from Florida to resettle in Michigan got their first taste of typical winter weather in the north.

The big snow storm, heaviest of the season, was hitting all of southern Michigan today. Roads in some areas became choked with snow. Highway crews were busy trying to keep even with the precipitation.

The weatherman said the snow would continue tonight

Fear Fog to Kill Hundreds

London Toll at 66

LONDON (AP) — Smog deaths rose to 66 in London today, and police predicted a final toll for Britain of hundreds of dead from the polluted fog.

Weathermen said the thick blanket, now in its third day, was thinning in many places. But they warned it would probably clamp down in London again after dusk.

"This looks like another 1952 disaster," said Cmdr. John Langworthy, chief of London's emergency bed hospital service. "There are masses of cases."

The nine-day smog in 1952 killed at least 4,000 persons.

Adding to the discomfort were electric power failures that hit large sections near the capital. Thousands of suburban homes were without lights.

"The main cause of the trouble has been overloading of the lines," said a spokesman for the London Electricity Board. "Too many people have been using electric fires at the same time and leaving them on too long."

Clammy cold weather accompanied the fog.

Port officials said 101 ships were tied up in the London area.

The dawn also brought an improvement in the fog across the country. Traffic still was idled along the east coast and in the northern county of Yorkshire, but many other areas had cleared.

London airport was closed for the third day.

Claim Pellet Attack Proof Hoffa Can't Get Fair Trial

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Air pistol pellets fired at James R. Hoffa in court by an ex-mental patient have injected a new and unexpected element into the labor leader's conspiracy trial.

His attorneys quickly claimed the attack—in which the pellets bounced harmlessly off his body—proved the teamsters union president couldn't get a fair trial.

★ ★ ★

The shots were fired at Hoffa Wednesday by a man identified as Warren Swanson, 28, of Washington, D.C. Hoffa ducked, then lunged at the man, knocking him to the floor.

Swanson required 14 stitches to repair head wounds. A deputy U.S. marshal struck him on the back of the head with a pistol and a Hoffa bodyguard got in a few kicks before the bleeding man was led from court in handcuffs.

U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller ordered Swanson committed to the medical center for federal prisoners at Springfield, Mo., for observation.

★ ★ ★

Miller ordered six additional armed marshals for courtroom duty and directed that henceforth everyone entering the court be searched.

7TH TRIAL WEEK

Hoffa, 49, is accused of conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting undercover payments from a transport firm in return for labor peace. The trial is in its seventh week.

The jury was out of the courtroom when the incident occurred. Miller ordered the jurors locked up overnight for the first time during the trial to prevent their hearing about it.

While Swanson underwent emergency treatment at a hospital, he told newsmen he came here to kill Hoffa—a man he never had met—because of a vision he had last month.

DR. DON O. TATROE

Heads Schools in Waterford

Dr. Tatroe Appointed by Board Last Night

Dr. Don O. Tatroe, assistant superintendent of Warren Consolidated Schools, last night was named superintendent of Waterford Township Schools effective Jan. 28.

A three-year contract at $16,500 annually was unanimously approved at a special meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Dr. Tatroe was contacted by telephone at his home following the meeting and accepted the offer.

The naming of a new superintendent ended an extensive search by the board's personnel committee for a successor to William Schunck, who resigned Aug. 18 to become superintendent of Wayne County Schools.

Nearly 50 applications were reviewed by the committee and 20 interviews were conducted.

FILLS THE BILL

"Dr. Tatroe has the youth, educational background, energy and educational philosophy that we were seeking," said committee chairman Eldon Rosegart.

Dr. Tatroe, 34, has been assistant superintendent of the Warren school system for over seven years. Married and the father of four children, he is living at 31649 Pagels Drive, Warren.

He received his doctor of education degree in 1958 from Michigan State University.

He is a past president of the Warren Rotary Club, Warren Community Council and a former schools chairman of the March of Dimes and United Community Services campaigns.

James Denflerder, who became acting superintendent when Schunck resigned, will continue in that capacity until Jan. 28 when he will return to his former position as assistant to the superintendent.

Soviets Speed Reclaiming of Jets in Cuba

All Bombers Could Be Removed Within Few Days, Sources Say

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union is removing its jet bombers from Cuba at a pace that could have all planes capable of carrying nuclear bombs off the island within days, informed sources report.

It appears likely that the U.S.-Soviet diplomatic wrangles over Cuba will fade with the removal of the last of the Soviet "offensive weapons."

Informants said the Soviets have taken a hard stand in New York negotiations against forcing Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to accept international inspection which President Kennedy seeks to make certain Cuba stays free of atomic weapons.

The United States appears prepared to continue aerial surveillance as a safeguard and let the diplomatic contest melt into the background — perhaps with a statement by each side explaining its position to the U.N. Security Council.

This would set the stage for a new and uncertain phase in East-West relations. The United States is expected to talk with the Soviets on a number of cold war issues.

★ ★ ★

The IL28 jet bombers, along with 42 missiles pulled out of Cuba earlier, were the nuclear-arms whose removal Kennedy demanded, terming them offensive weapons.

Informed sources said outbound shipments of bombers have been counted at such a rate that complete removal should be finished in a matter of days—perhaps by the end of this week.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev promised to have them out by Dec. 20.

The Soviets were said to have informed the United States they are withdrawing more than 40 bombers. The U.S. sources declined to give the exact figure the Soviets mentioned, but said the number exceeded previous U.S. estimates.

American experts figured early in the Cuban crisis that about two dozen IL28s were in Cuba. They later raised the count to "more than 30."

The Russian statement giving a larger number than U.S. intelligence estimates was regarded in Washington as additional evidence the Soviets intend to carry out Khrushchev's pledge to remove the planes.

Administration officials have said there is no evidence the Soviets are hiding some missiles or bombers in Cuba. If such weapons do remain, these authorities say, they could be detected before they got in position to strike.

WINTER SCENE — This magnificent scene was duplicated all over the area, as winter's first soft blanket of snow fell on Oakland County today. Trees and bushes seemed to grab the feathery snow and hang on to it as an effect for the Christmas holidays just around the corner. Housewives swept porches, children were delighted, but husbands and fathers drove to work cautiously on glazed ice under the snow. The above scene was photographed in Drayton Woods, Waterford Township.

Letter Made Public

JFK Gives Adlai Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Kennedy hopes his public declaration of "fullest confidence" in Adlai Stevenson will put an end to speculation that the U.N. ambassador may be on his way out.

A "Dear Adlai" letter from Kennedy to Stevenson was made public by the White House last night. Officials said the decision to give it out was prompted by the President's determination to try to remove any uncertainty about Stevenson's future.

The speculation stemmed from publication of a Saturday Evening Post article written by two Washington reporters, Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, a close friend of the President.

★ ★ ★

The article quoted anonymous officials as saying that at the outset of the Cuban crisis Stevenson dissented from Kennedy's decision to throw a naval blockade around Cuba and advocated a softer approach.

Denials by the White House and by Stevenson, coupled with statements that Stevenson had in fact supported the blockade decision, failed to quiet the speculation. Officials decided the tempest could be stilled only by personal action by Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

The letter, read to newsmen by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, made two major points:

1. That Kennedy has the "fullest confidence" in Stevenson and has valued his advice "very highly."

2. That Stevenson will continue as ambassador at the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

The letter also showed that Kennedy is satisfied the Soviet Union's withdrawing of missiles and bombers from Cuba has effectively ended the nuclear threat to U.S. security.

'MENACE GONE'

The President said without qualification "We have eliminated the nuclear menace from Cuba."

★ ★ ★

He cited that point in his letter to Stevenson as evidence of "the prudence of our policy and its execution, in which you played such an active part."

Associates said Tuesday that if Stevenson had not been satisfied about the President's position he would have resigned already.

Bad Checks Turn Up More at Christmas

Oakland County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long and Anthony F. Stiel, chief investigator for the prosecutor's office, yesterday cautioned businessmen to be especially alert for bad checks during the holiday shopping time.

A large portion of the more than $500,000 per year lost by county merchants because of bad checks is accounted for during this time, they said.

Stolen checks made out to women but cashed by men signing their own names have been known to be accepted, and there have been instances of merchants cashing check stubs, they said.

★ ★ ★

Most important rule, they pointed out, is to know the person cashing the check.

Long and Stiel also warned shoppers against writing checks without sufficient funds, a law violation that may carry a penalty as high as two years in prison.

Welfare Man Given Backing

Board Review Firing of Woman; to Up Fees

Oakland County's Social Welfare Board, after reviewing the firing of Helen E. Slayton as deputy director of the welfare department by acting director George H. Williams, yesterday gave Williams a unanimous vote of confidence.

★ ★ ★

The board also approved a higher fee schedule for doctors treating welfare patients, adding an estimated $40,000 to the annual cost of medical care for the county's welfare recipients.

★ ★ ★

The vote of confidence reaffirmed an Aug. 3 resolution that Williams was to have full responsibility for the operation of the welfare department as acting director.

★ ★ ★

Williams will become director Jan. 1 when the retirement of George H. Burt as director becomes effective, according to the resolution.

ILL SINCE '61

Burt has been ill since the summer of 1961 but has kept the director's title while using up accumulated sick leave.

★ ★ ★

Williams fired Mrs. Slayton, who had been with the department for 20 years, for "insubordination" and "lack of cooperation," charges which she denied.

The boost in doctor's fees, the first change since 1947, was requested by the Oakland County Medical Society.

★ ★ ★

Williams said the most of medical care for welfare patients currently runs about $160,000 per year.

Fair Tax Plan Eyed by IRS

Businessmen Protest on Expense Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin says his agency does not want to interfere with legitimate expense account deductions in setting up new tax rules.

Caplin promised yesterday that the regulations enacted by the Internal Revenue Service "will achieve a basically fair and sound approach consistent with the intent of Congress" under the law that authorized them.

Caplin issued his statement after two days of hearings on proposed tax rules which the IRS says are designed to stop expense account abuses.

The proposed regulations brought a chorus of protests from businessmen and their organizations.

The 1962 tax law, effective Jan. 1, requires more stringent business accounting of expenditures for travel, entertainment and gifts.

Attorneys Sherman Dye of Cleveland, for the American League, and Robert B. Hodes, for the National, said the regulations could cut gate receipts at major league baseball ballparks, and at other athletic, cultural and civic events.

Talking Toys Make Youngsters Happy

(Editor's Note—This is one in a series of stories designed to aid Christmas shoppers in making gift selections at stores in the Pontiac area.)

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Comedian's jokes about talking dogs and horses will fall flat with youngsters this Christmas. There really are such animals.

One of the biggest attractions in talking toys is a rocking horse named Blaze.

He demands to be fed with "Hey bub, how about some hay;" then lets out an honest-to-goodness "whinny."

The rocking horse's four legs are movable so he can "gallop." All little folks have to do to make Blaze rear up is lean back on the animal.

If it's kicking they want, the pony obliges when the rider leans forward.

Then there is Bugs Bunny — one of the "talkingest" animals you ever heard. Among the 11 different phrases that tumble out of his toothy mouth is "What's up doc," "You're a cute bunny," and "I like you."

Clerks agree the bunny toy talks plainer than the baby dolls.

Chinese Hits Yugoslavia

Brands Tito a Traitor

VIENNA (UPI)—A Chinese Communist official today attacked Yugoslavia by name and Russia by implication in a speech to the Czech Communist party congress.

The 1,500 delegates leaped to their feet in protest, the Czech news agency reported.

Chinese delegate Wu Hsiu chan called Yugoslav President Tito "a brazen traitor to the working class" at a time when Tito was engaged in friendly talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow.

He implied that Russia retreated during the Cuban crisis when he said "these modern revisionists, these brazen traitors represented by the leading group of Yugoslavia, are submitting to imperialist pressure."

DELEGATES SHOUT

But at the end of Wu's message of greeting from the Peking central committee, the news agency said the delegates leaped up shouting "long live Czech-Soviet friendship."

In Rome, meanwhile, the Albanian Communists rather unexpectedly made their voice heard in the Italian Party Congress with a message about one of the few things on which they and Moscow agree—hostility to U.S. missile bases.

The Albanians, who are aligned with China against the Kremlin and are not represented at the Italian Communist Congress, have played whipping boy in a four-day verbal offensive here of the Moscow bloc against Peking.

As if nothing had happened, Congress officials read a message of greetings today from the Albanian Workers (Communist) party.

Elect Head of Medical Society

Dr. Robert M. Bookmyer, 39, a Birmingham pediatrician, last night was chosen president-elect of the Oakland County Medical Society.

In its annual meeting, the society also installed as its 1963 president Dr. Harry Arnkoff of Pontiac.

A graduate of the Wayne State University College of Medicine, Dr. Bookmeyer served in the U.S. Navy from 1941 to 1945 and again from 1954 to 1956.

He has been in practice in Oakland County since 1956.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Arnkoff was elected last year to fill the 1963 presidency and will serve until December, 1963 when Dr. Bookmyer's term will begin.

Dr. Arnkoff succeeds Dr. James A. Read of Birmingham, who served this year.

The meeting was held at the Kingsley Inn, with an estimated 99 doctors present.

★ ★ ★

Other officers elected were: Dr. Everett Gustafson of Pontiac, treasurer; and Dr. Frederick W. Bryant of Royal Oak, secretary.

Chosen to the board of directors were Dr. Worth W. Henderson of Royal Oak and Dr. Charles P. Barker of Birmingham.

Named delegates to the state convention of the Michigan Medical Society were Dr. Bookmyer, Dr. James R. Quinn of Pontiac and Dr. Rodman C. Jacobi of Oxford.

Alternate delegates are Dr. John H. McLaughlin of Birmingham, Dr. Kenneth Vandenberg of Pontiac and Dr. Carl H. Birkelo of Drayton Plains.

Appeal for Juvenile Funds Runs Up Against Shortage

By DICK HANSON

An appeal for more juvenile care facilities to meet Oakland County's present "emergency" needs was made yesterday before the committee in control of the county's purse strings.

★ ★ ★

But David Levinson, chairman of the ways and means committee of the County Board of Supervisors, declared the purse is empty when confronted by the juvenile committee.

"We are committed to proceed with a Children's Village by having purchased property for it," he admitted.

The Children's Village is Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore's recommended solution to the lack of facilities for children placed in the county's care by his court.

★ ★ ★

The juvenile committee is urging immediate construction of initial units in the complex to ease present overcrowding of existing facilities.

ESTIMATE COST

These proposed units, including two cottages for emotionally disturbed children and two others to further relieve the overcrowding, would cost an estimated $515,000, according to Pontiac architect Harry M. Denyes Jr.

★ ★ ★

The full board of supervisors will meet Dec. 13 to study the problem and recommendations of the juvenile committee.

Yesterday, at a joint meeting with the ways and means committee, the juvenile committee recommended a building authority as the only way to finance immediate construction of the initial units of the village.

The juvenile committee proposed the establishment of the authority which would raise a bond for construction costs and then lease the units to the county at approximately $200,000 a year.

The total village will cost approximately $3 million.

AGAINST SCHEME

Levinson expressed disfavor with the building authority scheme, favoring an additional tax of half a mill to finance construction if approved by voters at the polls in April.

The additional millage would raise $3 million in three years, at a considerable savings of interest entailed in leasing arrangements.

Interest paid to a building authority would amount to an additional $3 million over 30 years, raising the total cost of the village roughly to $6 million.

The juvenile committee has suggested asking voters for a tenth of a mill instead of half a mill. The lesser rate would raise $200,000 a year toward amortising the lease.

"We would stand a much better chance of voter approval of the lesser amount, juvenile committee chairman Abraham Brickner said.

A building authority would enable immediate construction of initial units, where waiting for voter approval would require waiting two years before starting to build, Brickner said.

Levinson denied that it would take two years, stating, that once approved, the county could budget the necessary amount in its next budget and initiate construction in anticipation of receiving the additional taxes.

"Besides, I think we might be able to get half the money in a federal grant under the Acceleration Act next year," he said.

Winter Blows Across Nation

By The Associated Press

Wintry weather, with strong winds, snow and cold rain, spread across wide areas from the Rockies into the Ohio Valley today. Cold air and light snow extended southward into Tennessee and northern Georgia.

The cold air mass had not reached the Atlantic seaboard but rain or showers dampened Florida and most coastal areas from South Carolina to Maine. The Atlantic storm moved northeastward and caused rough seas along the New England coast. Rain fell inland across New England.

★ ★ ★

Cold northwesterly winds carried snow from the Upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes across the Ohio Valley to the mountains of North Carolina and the Virginia highlands. Snow flurries peppered Atlanta, where the mercury dropped to 30 degrees.

U.N. Hopes Up as U.S., Russia Sign Two Pacts

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. delegates took heart today from two U.S.-Soviet agreements on scientific cooperation in a series of space experiments and on the general economic benefits of disarmament.

Delegates expressed guarded hope that the two agreements, together with the easing of the Cuban crisis, signaled a period of comparative harmony in East-West relations.

★ ★ ★

At Geneva, however, disarmament negotiators were deadlocked as tight as ever on the key issue of controls.

★ ★ ★

In short, the Soviets and the West were agreed on the great benefits disarmament would bring, but they were no nearer agreement on disarmament itself.

HAILED BY ADLAI

Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate at the United Nations, hailed the limited agreement on cooperation in space as a "practical demonstration that our nations can, despite political differences, cooperate in a highly important field of human endeavor."

★ ★ ★

The fruit of a broad agreement between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev early in the year, it provides for scientists of the two nations to work together in the use of earth satellites in communications, weather forecasting and mapping of the earth's magnetic field.

★ ★ ★

The agreement was worked out in summary at Geneva last June by Hugh L. Dryden, deputy director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), and Soviet academician Anatoly A. Blagonravov.

★ ★ ★

Secretary-General U Thant and the 110-nation political committee were given the details Wednesday.

In 1964-65 the two nations will coordinate the launching of weather satellites after working out methods of exchanging information gained from experiments this year and next.

EACH TO LAUNCH

In 1964-65, called the international year of the quiet sun, each nation will launch a satellite to map the magnetic field.

Next year, they also will cooperate in experiments with the U.S. communications satellite Echo A12.

The agreement omitted any tests with Telstar, the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. communications satellite. The Soviet Union holds that use of space should be limited to governments.

★ ★ ★

In the second agreement announced Wednesday, a joint U.S.-Soviet declaration said world disarmament would be of multibillion-dollar benefit to lesser developed nations and would not hurt the economy of any nation. It said the world is spending $120 billion a year for weapons.

The declaration was approved unanimously by the General Assembly's economic committee which is considering a report by a group of international experts that a shutdown of arms factories would not set off an economic recession.

The declaration is less binding than a resolution.

At least one traffic death in the state was attributed to the wintry weather.

India to Recall China Consuls

Announces Closing Due to Restrictions by Reds

From Our News Wires

NEW DELHI, India—India announced today the closing of her consulates in Communist China and Tibet because of restrictions placed on them by Chinese authorities.

Closing of the consulates, at Shanghai and Lhasa, will be effective Dec. 15, a spokesman for the Indian foreign ministry said.

Red China has been asked to close her two consulates at Bombay and Calcutta reciprocally on the same date, the spokesman said, adding a note to this effect was given to the Chinese embassy in New Delhi Monday.

In Tezpur, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said India will achieve ultimate victory and emerge stronger than ever in its conflict with Red China.

★ ★ ★

"Ultimately victory will be ours and we must emerge stronger than ever before," he said as he toured the northern border areas with Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan.

He visited a group of 64 sick and wounded Indian prisoners who were returned by the Chinese yesterday, along with the body of one dead soldier.

Nehru also held a news conference at which he warned that the country should not think delivery of Soviet-built MIG jet fighter planes should make any big difference in India's defense potential.

General Motors Corp. Truck and Coach Division today announced that domestic retail deliveries of trucks and buses this November were the highest for any month since August 1960.

The sales also topped last November's figure by 13.1 per cent, according to Calvin J. Werner, vice president of GM and general manager of the division.

He said 7,889 vehicles were delivered last month. This makes the month the best November since 1955, he said.

Ikeda, Kennedy Agree

TOKYO (AP) —Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda agreed with President Kennedy today on the need to contain communism in Asia but made clear Japan has no intention of halting its trade with Red China.

Foreign Teen-Agers to Discuss Life in U.S.

BIRMINGHAM — Teen-agers from Thailand, Turkey, India, Spain and the Republic of South Africa will discuss the changes America has brought about in their lives at a meeting here next Wednesday.

The foreign students, each of them attending schools in Oakland County under the American Field Service program, will speak at a meeting of the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women.

The luncheon meeting will be held in the Birmingham Community House.

The exciting Chesapeake Bay region — land of holidays and history — will take audiences to the East Coast for two hours tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Community House.

Titled "Chesapeake Bay Adventure," the color motion pictures will be personally narrated by Mildred Capron, explorer and photographer. For the convenience of North-area residents, the same show is presented Friday and Saturday.

Tickets are available on the night of the show at The Community House.

The 85-voice Chancel Choir of First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, will present the eighth annual performance of the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" on Sunday at 8 p.m.

The choir, organ, soloists and orchestra will be conducted by L. Robert Slusser, minister of music.

Soloists for this performance will be Carolyn Grimes, soprano; Alice Engram, contralto; Kenneth Ish, tenor and Amasa Tiffany, bass.

Mildred G. Ritter will be the organist. Concertmaster for the orchestra will be John Cataldo.

Dr. W. Glen Harris, pastor of the church, will officiate at the service. A reception for all who attend the service will follow in the social hall of the church.

A newly organized social group for single men and women called the 30 Up Club will meet tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the Birmingham YMCA, 400 E. Lincoln Ave. The YMCA-sponsored club will meet regularly on Friday nights.

Two films about artist Vincent Van Gogh will be shown at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Birmingham Art Center.

Entitled "Van Gogh" and "Van Gogh from Darkness to Light," the movies will be presented here under the sponsorship of the Bloomfield Art Association prior to their showing at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The movies are open to the public.

Angus 1st in Livestock Show

Owner's 3rd Win Record; Area Teen Top Showman

An 18-year-old East Lansing youth walked off with top honors at the 33rd annual Detroit Junior Livestock show yesterday while an Oakland County area teen-ager placed first in showmanship.

George Good of Newtondale Farms made history when his 980-pound Aberdeen Angus steer "Mitey Good" won the grand championship in the cattle division.

GEORGE GOOD

Good is the first exhibitor ever to win all three championships. He won the lamb championship in 1956 and the swine championship in 1957.

The youth's 16-month-old steer placed first in the middleweight class before winning the grand championship. An Angus from his farm also placed first in the lightweight class.

★ ★ ★

Dale Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Walker of 266 Sutton Road, Metamora, exhibited a 920-pound Aberdeen Angus to win the showmanship award.

★ ★ ★

The 18-year-old 4H'er said he picked out the steer a year ago and began to prepare him for yesterday's competition.

This is Dale's eighth year of competing in the show with cattle from his parents' 350-acre farm. He said six steers are already being groomed for next year's event.

TO STUDY AGRICULTURE

Following his graduation from high school Dale plans on studying agriculture at college and then follow in his father's footsteps farming feeder cattle.

Presently he assists in the raising of 270 feeders now on the farm, when he isn't attending school or playing on the football team.

"I attended the Chicago livestock show last week to see how they exhibited the cattle and I guess I picked up a few pointers from them," he said.

★ ★ ★

After a full day that started at 8 a.m. the exhibitors gathered again in the evening at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Today the animals were to be put on the auction block.

Tax Tea Party Help Sought

Mayor Kuhn Appeals to Restaurants

DETROIT (UPI)—Berkley Mayor George Kuhn, head of the Vigilance Tax Committee, today called on Detroit restaurants and places of business to help put over the committee's Detroit Tea Party week.

★ ★ ★

The committee, set up to fight Detroit's income tax on suburbanites, previously announced that "tea parties" would be held in suburban city halls on Dec. 16, the 189th anniversary of the original Boston Tea Party.

At the parties, people will be asked to sign petitions which would mandate the legislature to write a law forbidding any city to impose an income tax without a vote of the people and would prohibit an income tax on non-residents.

Kuhn said Detroit restaurants and places of business would be asked to take part in the drive. He said Detroit city officials obviously would not let the committee use the city hall and thus there was no other alternative but to ask private business to help out.

Kuhn said about 300 pounds of tea would be made available to communities and organizations taking part in the tea party.

The Rev. Isaac W. Ruggles, a circuit rider, organized the first Congregational Church in Michigan at Rochester in 1827.

Lively Mayor's Race Seen for Southfield

SOUTHFIELD — With the announcement of Council President C. Hugh Dohany that he plans to run for mayor in next April's election, this city can look forward to a lively political campaign battle.

★ ★ ★

Mayor S. James Clarkson has announced that he will seek re-election. The two men have been at loggerheads most of the past two years from the time Clarkson first took office.

★ ★ ★

Dohaney, 43, has been a member of the city council since 1956 and council president since 1959.

Rochester Citizens Work

School Needs Studied

ROCHESTER — Chairmen of five subcommittees have been named to direct the efforts of citizens working on a study committee formed to draft recommendations for district school improvements.

★ ★ ★

Frank R. Wolff, 241 Reitman Court, heads the curriculum and faculty subcommittee. Thurley E. Allen, 842 Ironstone Road, has charge of the financial study.

★ ★ ★

Directing the work of the publicity and communications subcommittee is Norman E. May, 207 Orchardale Drive, and the salary scales study, Kenneth D. Roose, 1847 Fair Oaks Court.

A husband and wife team Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Kemler, 5900 Cobb Creek Court, is serving as cochairmen of the buildings subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

The committee-of-the-whole is under the general chairmanship of Dr. David Wilder, librarian at Michigan State University Oakland.

According to May, the groups now are exploring a course of action they hope to follow in forthcoming weeks prior to making any specific recommendations.

They are meeting every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Central Junior High School. All interested school district residents are welcome to attend the sessions and to join the study committee.

★ ★ ★

The Board of Education last month directed schools Supt. Donald C. Baldwin to seek citizen assistance in examining the financial problems of the district with a view to an early millage vote.

Baldwin pointed out that the district is facing the loss of approximately $150,000 in operational funds with the expiration of a three-mill tax this month.

The amount of millage to be sought will be up to the citizens committee and board of education to determine, the superintendent said.

★ ★ ★

Last June a proposed 4.5-mill operating tax increase was defeated by a decisive 2 to 1 margin.

Ask Voters to Approve Five Mills

FARMINGTON — Voters in the Farmington School District will go to the polls Monday to cast their ballots on a proposal seeking renewal of a five-mill operating tax.

★ ★ ★

School Supt. Gerald V. Harrison said the school board has requested that the five mills be relevied for 10 years.

He said that the millage to be voted on Monday expires the end of this year.

★ ★ ★

The district currently levies a total of 29.95 mills for operation and debt retirement.

Of that total, 18.75 mills is for operation, the superintendent said.

Monday's special election is the first in the school district since November 1961 when voters approved renewal of three mills for operation.

12 Families From Cuba Take Look at Michigan

DETROIT (UPI) — Forty-one Cubans, seeking a new life free from the tyranny of Fidel Castro, took their first good look at Michigan today. It snowed.

★ ★ ★

But the weather was the least important thing to the members of the 12 families that landed at Willow Run Airport last night after a seven-hour flight from Miami.

When the refugees arrived, they were hustled into a chartered bus and taken to Ann Arbor where they were the guests of honor at a chicken dinner held by the First Presbyterian Church.

The trip of the refugees was sponsored by World Church Service and the United Presbyterian Committee on Resettlement Service.

Following the dinner, sponsoring church groups throughout the state and families took the refugee families to rented apartments in the Lower Peninsula and discussed job possibilities with the family heads.

One of the refugees, Felipe Bernal said that "the Communist regime is horrible—life there (in Cuba) is impossible now."

A pharmacist's assistant, he came to Michigan with his wife and two children.

Many of the refugees indicated that they would like to become American citizens.

But Grover Alison, staff member of the World Church Service said he felt the majority was "being polite . . . they all want to return to Cuba when it is free."

The group was the first of three planeloads to be brought to the state by the groups.

More Cubans originally were scheduled to come but one family was held in Miami when a child came down with measles.

ALBERTA E. WILLIAMS

Dance Saturday Night for Teenage Sub-Club

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — This area's Teenage Sub-Club will sponsor a dance Saturday from 7:30 p.m. to midnight at the Pontiac Township Hall, 2060 Opdyke Road.

The club is a nonprofit organization supervised by teen-agers. Chaperones are Mr. and Mrs. James Bockman of 2732 James Road.

At a family gathering recently Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Williams, 431 Common St., Walled Lake, announced the engagement of their daughter Alberta Evelyn to Salvatore Lumetta. The prospective bridegroom, who resides in Detroit, is the son of Antonio Lumettas of Balestrata, Sicily. No date has been set for the wedding.

16-Month-Old Dies of Burns

Walled Lake Baby 2nd Victim of Blaze

WALLED LAKE—A fire started by an explosion in a home here Monday claimed its second victim last night when 16-month-old Judy Seckman died of her burns in Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The child's mother, Mrs. Betty Seckman, 21, succumbed Tuesday of burns she suffered in the fire at their home, 1766 Scheifle Road.

★ ★ ★

The explosion was touched off when gas fumes were ignited by the pilot light of a gas fired hot water heater in the home, police said.

Mrs. Seckman's father, Donald Wilkinson, 49, is credited with saving the Seckmans' older daughter, 3-year-old Michele.

★ ★ ★

He told local police that minutes before the fire he had set a two-gallon can of gasoline in a hallway of the home and little Judy had knocked it over, spilling gasoline on the floor and on her diapers.

★ ★ ★

She suffered burns over 60 per cent of her body.

Michele and her grandfather were only slightly burned. Wilkinson also was cut when he jumped through the window with his older granddaughter.

★ ★ ★

Damage was estimated at about $4,500 by Walled Lake firemen, who were assisted by the Commerce Township department in quickly bringing the blaze under control.

Gayann Huffman Wed in Clarkston

MRS. LARRY L. BLACKETT

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jay Huffman, 6881 Almond Lane. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Blackett of 8351 Big Lake Road, Independence Township.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of Rochelle lace with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline trimmed with sequins and pearls and a bouffant skirt ending in a chapel sweep.

A pearl and sequin crown held her fingertip veil in silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of Stephanotis and crysanthemums accent-with red roses.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Melvin Spicer of Pontiac attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Becky DeLong of Clarkston and Karen Shank of Pontiac.

Richard Sphon of Clarkston served as best man. Ushers were Melvin Spicer of Pontiac, Terry Kelley of Clarkston and Fred Huffman of California, brother of the bride.

Following a reception held in the church parlors, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to New York and Washington, D.C. They will reside in Farmington.

To Choose Painting Best-Liked in Show

ROCHESTER —The popularity award for the best-liked painting in St. Andrew's annual art exhibition and sale will be determined tonight after closing of the show at 10:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Now in its final day, the show will open at 7:30 p.m. Those attending will have a chance to cast votes which will be tallied up to determine the winner in the popularity category.

A cash award will be given to the artist. The public is invited to attend the show at the church hall, corner of Walnut and Third streets.

Vegetables Achieve Elegance With Sauces

One of the pleasant aspects of using quick-frozen vegetables is that with so much of the preparation work already done you can afford the time to add creative touches of your own. In that way you can give new interest to your meals and tempt the anti-vegetarians in your family to consume more of these nutritionally important foods.

As a starter, try Cauliflower a la Romana. It takes only a few minutes to prepare, but the finished dish has all the appetizing aroma and flavor of fine Italian food. This vegetable is especially good with fish, so it should be a welcome addition to a meatless meal.

★ ★ ★

Corn fritters, crisp and crunchy, with the amber sweetness of maple-blended syrup poured over and around them, make a wonderful luncheon or supper dish . . . good for brunch, too, or in the company of a juicy broiled ham slice.

And satisfying enough for a main dish is Green Bean Rarebit with Baked Potatoes. A well-seasoned cheese sauce is added to quick-frozen green beans, cooked according to package directions, and served over baked potatoes. Dieter or not, bake those potatoes and give yourself a treat!

Green Bean Rarebit

1 package (9 ounces) quick-frozen cut green beans
1½ cups milk (about)
2 tablespoons fat
¼ cup flour
1½ teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
¾ teaspoon paprika
1½ teaspoons grated onion
½ to ¾ cup grated American cheese
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon diced pimento
5 hot baked potatoes

Cook beans as directed on package. Drain, measuring liquid; add milk to make 2 cups. Melt fat in saucepan. Add flour, salt, pepper, paprika, and onion and blend. Add liquid gradually and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese, Worcestershire sauce, beans, and pimento; stir until cheese is melted and mixture is thoroughly heated.

Break open hot potatoes, season with salt and pepper, and arrange on platter. Cover with rarebit mixture. Serve at once. Makes 5 servings.

NOTE: If desired, ¾ cup diced leftover cooked meat may be added with beans and cheese.

★ ★ ★

Corn Fritters

1 package (1 pound) quick-frozen whole kernel corn, thawed
¼ cup corn liquid and milk
3 tablespoons butter, melted
¾ cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon double - acting baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 eggs, well beaten

Sweet or sour milk may be used.

Drain corn in strainer, pressing slightly against sides. Measure liquid and add milk to make 1¼ up. Chop corn if desired. Combine corn and melted butter.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and pepper and sift again. Add to corn mixture and mix thoroughly. Add the liquid and stir until smooth. Then add eggs and blend gently. Drop by heaping tablespoonfuls into ½ inch hot fat and fry until golden brown, 2 to 3 minutes on each side. Serve hot with maple-blended syrup. Makes 16 fritters.

Cauliflower a la Romana

1 package (10 ounces) quick-frozen cauliflower
1½ cups boiling salted water
1 small clove garlic
3 tablespoons olive oil
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Place frozen cauliflower in boiling salted water just long enough to separate florets (about 3 to 4 minutes). Drain. Saute garlic in olive oil until browned. Remove garlic; then saute florets in the olive oil until browned. Add salt and tomatoes, cover, and simmer 2 minutes. Arrange in serving dish; sprinkle with parsley and grated cheese. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

NOTE: Double all ingredients to make 6 to 8 servings.

Into a Pudding Put Mincemeat

For a different dessert try a baked mincemeat pudding. Serve it warm.

Baked Mincemeat Pudding

2¼ cups sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup butter (1 stick)
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
2 cups prepared mincemeat
¼ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter; add sugar gradually and cream well. Add eggs and beat until light and fluffy. Add dry ingredients alternately with mincemeat and milk, 1-3 of each at a time, and stir after each addition to blend well.

Pour into greased and floured 2-quart tube pudding mold or pan. Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, until done, about 1 hour. Let stand in mold 10 minutes before turning out.

Serve warm topped with vanilla ice cream. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Canned or cooked concentrated mincemeat prepared as directed for pie filling on package label.

Raw Carrots Are Main Ingredient

You will find several reasons why carrot chutney should be in your refrigerator.

Carrot Chutney

1 pound carrots
½ medium sized onion
1 sprig of parsley
1 teaspoon salt
3-4 tablespoons lemon juice

Clean and prepare vegetables Using a blender, fine blade of food grinder, or fine grater, blend vegetables into a smooth paste with lemon juice and salt. Store in tightly covered containers. Makes 1¾ cups.

Add Chopped Figs to Banana Bread

Fully ripened on the tree, dried in the sun for a greater concentration of natural fruit sugar, carefully sorted, thoroughly steam washed and packed under the most sanitary conditions, California dried figs provide you with unmatched goodness and nutritional value.

A genuine flavor treat and a marvelous source of quick energy, choice figs can be used in a wide array of appetizing dishes.

Looking for something different. Here it is.

Banana Fig Tea Bread

½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
3 medium bananas, fully ripe
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon sour milk*
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped dried figs

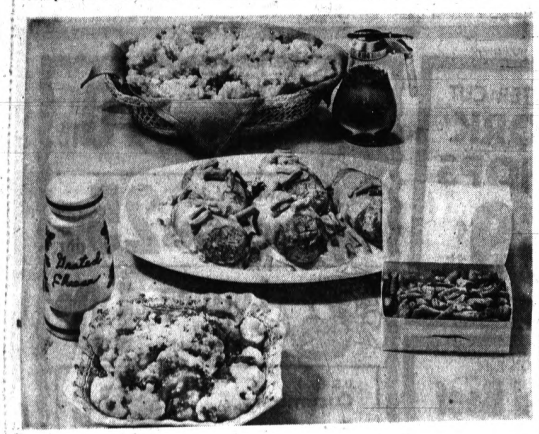
Cream together butter and sugar. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Cut bananas in chunks and gradually add to creamed mixture, beating until blended. Dissolve soda in milk; stir into batter. Beat in flour, salt and figs.

Turn into greased 9x5x3 loaf pan; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes before removing from pan.

*Use buttermilk or add ¼ teaspoon vinegar to 1 tablespoon milk.

Pimientos for Color

Creamed potatoes are extra good when they're enlivened with tiny squares of pimiento. These potatoes are delicious with steak or roast beef. Try the combination and see whether you don't agree!



DRESS THEM UP — Quick frozen vegetables are a joy to the busy homemaker. But the time comes when she wants to serve in a little different fashion. Here are quick-frozen cauliflower, beans and corn in three delicious vegetable recipes to serve as main dishes or as meat or fish accompaniments.

49ers Must Help Detroit Cause

Lions Sunday Script: Win Over Vikings Then Wait

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Sunday is the day the Detroit Lions must win and then wait.

If anyone was going to beat the Packers, pro football experts said it would have to be Baltimore, Detroit or San Francisco.

The Colts outplayed the Packers twice but lost both times. The Lions also outplayed the Packers twice and settled for a split, being the only team to win from Green Bay.

The 49ers outplayed Green Bay for the first half and stayed within reach, 17-13 in the third quarter before Jim Taylor broke lose for a couple runs to give the Packers a 31-13 triumph.

★ ★ ★

If anyone is going to help out the Lions it will have to be San Francisco. For the Lions it will be a long day. They must beat the upstart Minnesota Vikings and as they are finishing the game in Tiger Stadium, the coast battle between the 49ers and Packers will be just getting underway.

If the 49ers don't do it, then it is very unlikely that the LA Rams can the following week when the Lions will be faced with a tough assignment in Chicago against the Bears.

Last week after the Vikings held a 10-7 halftime lead, the 49ers came back strong to win a 35-12 decision.

"Those 49ers can be tough with John Brodie," said Lions' coach George Wilson, "but those Vikings can also be tough and give us trouble."

★ ★ ★

The Vikings are a young team with great future potential headed by sophomore quarterback Fran Tarkenton.

TROUBLESOME

They have always been troublesome for Detroit, forcing the Lions to stage second half rallies in order to come out victorious.

In the earlier meeting in Minneapolis, it was Earl Morrall's outstanding second half performance which sparked the Lions to a 17-6 triumph after the Vikings led 6-3 at halftime. He completed 11 of 18 for 137 yards and two touchdowns.

Statistically, the Lions are aware of Minnesota's strength. Milt Plum, once the top percentage passer in the NFL, is now in 11th place and he is behind Tarkenton who has thrown more TD passes than anyone except Y. A. Tittle in the league.

★ ★ ★

One of the starters on the Minnesota team is former Utica High School and U. of D. end Steve Stonebreaker. Stonebreaker was a 12th draft choice while a junior at U. of D. where he and Lions' rookie Larry Vargo were the starting ends.

Stonebreaker, a 6-1 and 220 pounder, caught one pass for 18 yards in the first game.

The Lions will be in better shape physically for Sunday's game with Nick Pietrosante ready for full duties.

Pietrosante played for the first time in three games Sunday after having a knee injury.

Game time Sunday is 1:30 p.m. with 7,000 bleacher seats plus reserved seats going on sale at 11:00 a.m.

EX-TITAN, NOW VIKING — Former Utica High School football star Steve Stonebreaker who was the 12th draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings when he played at the University of Detroit, has been the starting offensive end for the Vikings in his first season this year. Stonebreaker will make his first pro appearance at Tiger Stadium against the Lions Sunday.

AP Lists Two QBs on '62 All-America Team

Spartan Back Saimes Gets Honor Berth

Heisman Winner Must Share Top Spot With Miami QB

NEW YORK (AP) — Fabulous Terry Baker, Jerry Stovall, George Mira and George Saimes — responsible for a combined total offense of over 5,000 yards this season — comprise the backfield of the 1962 Associated Press All-America Football team announced today.

Baker, an honor student in mechanical engineering at Oregon State, was named Heisman Trophy winner as the outstanding player of the year and was the top National Football League draft pick.

In all, six members of the All-America were first round NFL selections, including the versatile Stovall from Louisiana State, ends Pat Richter of Wisconsin and Dave Robinson of Penn State, center Lee Roy Jordan of Alabama and Purdue tackle Don Brumm.

MSU STAR

Mira, the pass master of Miami, Fla., and fullback Saimes from Michigan State are joined by Damon Bame, fierce guard and linebacker from Southern California's national champions, tackle Bobby Bell of Minnesota and guard Johnny Treadwell, heart of unbeaten Texas' defense.

Bame and Mira are juniors, the rest seniors.

An unusual feature of the line which averaged 212 pounds per man — 20 pounds less than last year's All-America forward wall — is that the most weight is packed into the end position. Richter is a 230-pounder who guarded a flank for the nation's No. 2 power. Robinson goes 222.

The fast, hard-hitting aggregation was picked on recommendations of eight regional boards composed of sports writers and broadcasters who took into account all games through Dec. 1.

BIG YARDAGE

Only one man in collegiate history ever cranked out more career total offense yardage than the left-handed passing Baker, whose 2,276 output this fall gave him 4,980 for his three varsity seasons. Johnny Bright of Drake set the mark of 5,903 a dozen years ago.

Auto Accident Puts Kilmer in Hospital

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—San Francisco 49er halfback Bill Kilmer suffered a badly fractured right leg Wednesday when his convertible went out of control and smashed into a concrete abutment near here.

Dr. Lloyd Milburn, 49er team determined immediately whether the injury will jeopardize Kilmer's professional football career.

Kilmer was driving north on the Bayshore Freeway when he passed another car, then lost control, the California Highway patrol said.

TRAPPED

He ran over the cement base of a sign and went through a field 435 feet into a gully full of water. Kilmer and the right side of his car went into the water, and the car doors had to be pried open to free him.

Kilmer, 23, was taken to San Mateo Community Hospital for emergency treatment and was visited there by 49er Coach Red Hickey.

Later, Kilmer was taken by ambulance to St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco.

Dr Milburn said Kilmer had a compound fracture of the right tibia, and also had multiple cuts about the chin and eye. X-rays were taken, but had not yet been evaluated.

Milburn, however, emphasized the fracture was a major injury.

Hickey, who lives near the hospital, said Kilmer "was jovial and we were kidding right up to the time the ambulance came for him."

"I wouldn't think it will knock him out for good—our Dale Messer had a compound fracture of the ankle last year and he's playing this year. It would have to be a pretty bad fracture to keep him out.

★ ★ ★

"I personally think he'll come out of it all right, but of course it's all up to the doctors now."

Hickey said Kilmer seemed most upset about missing Sunday's game with Green Bay.

"He kept talking about how he wanted to play against the Packers," said Hickey.

"It's a big blow to lose a a boy like that when you're playing the Packers. Now we'll go with Bobby Gaiters or Jim Vollenweider."

'Bowl' Backers Abandon Post-Season Game Idea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to set up a post-season football bowl game in Washington were abandoned Wednesday for this year.

Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the National Trophy Bowl said the decision was made "because of inability to arrange for a top-flight attraction."

The game was proposed for Dec. 29, and the backers had hopes of lining up Navy against perhaps Texas Christian University. But Navy said it wasn't interested.

Pistons Lose; Red Wings Tie

Celts Score 106-93 Win in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — The well-oiled basketball machine of the world champion Boston Celtics was too much for the Detroit Pistons last night.

The Pistons saw their three-game winning streak come to a halt as Boston coasted to a 106-93 victory in the nightcap of a national Basketball Association doubleheader at convention arena.

The Pistons were only in the game for the first eight minutes of the opening period. Then Sam Jones and Frank Ramsey each hit for two baskets to break open the contest. At the end of the first quarter, the Pistons trailed, 30-22.

From then on, it was easy sailing for the Bostonians.

Their lead soared to 58-42 at half and the Pistons were out of the running. Celtic coach Red Auerbach finished the game with his substitutes.

★ ★ ★

Ray Scott led the Piston assault with 22 points. Bob Ferry and Bailey Howell had 15 and 14 respectively to back up Scott.

Jones led the Celtics with 20 points.

The loss left the Detroiters with a season record of 6-17 while Boston upped its mark to 18 wins in 23 appearances.

Long Shot Is Tipped by Ullman

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings scored on a desperation play last night and ended with a 3-3 tie with the New York Rangers but the tie dropped them out of second place in National Hockey League standings.

Norm Ullman tipped in a long desperation shot by Gordie Howe with a minute and three seconds on the clock to clinch the tie. Detroit is now three points behind league leading Chicago Black Hawks and one behind the Maple Leafs.

Ullman's goal came when the Wings were attacking from a five-man forward line.

Ullman, stationed in the line between Howe and substitute goalie Marcel Paille about 15 feet from the net, slapped the puck while it was in flight and deflected it past the falling netminder.

Both substitute goalies performed well in the nets. Paille, under fire with 15 saves in the third period, had a game total of 35 stops while Riggin stopped 25.

Ullman's goal nullified a brilliant performance by Dean Prentice in the second period when the Rangers rallied to take a 3-2 lead.

Prentice tied the score at one minute of the second period with his first goal of the game, assisted on Larry Cahan's goal at 13:31 which produced a 2-2 tie and then batted in Andy Hebenton's rebound at 17:34 to put the Rangers in front.

Arnold Pronovost, acquired from Boston on Monday, scored his first shot as a Red Wing at 3:10 of the first period and Floyd Smith banged home Detroit's other goal at 10:43 of the second period.

Bruins Lose, 5-4

Hawks All Alone in 1st

By The Associated Press

It got to the point where one goal equalled two places.

That was the mathematics in the National Hockey League last night when the Montreal Canadiens lost to Toronto 2-1 and dropped from a share of second place to fourth.

Chicago edged Boston 5-4 and Detroit and New York struggled to a 3-3 tie in other NHL games, leaving Chicago alone atop the standings, while the three-way jam for second place was spread out a bit.

HAWKS ON TOP

Toronto emerged in sole control of second, two points back of Chicago and one up on Detroit. Montreal is one more back in fourth, but well up on New York and Boston, the last two.

From The PRESS BOX

Michigan State tackle Ed Budde signed a pro contract with the Dallas Texans of the AFL because he was happy with the contract and thought he would like Dallas better than Philadelphia. The 247 pound Detroiter was the first choice of Dallac and Eagles.

★ ★ ★

Dave Behrman, Michigan State center agreed to play in the 5th annual All-America Bowl game, Dec. 29th at Tuscon, Arizona.

★ ★ ★

Pat Emerick of East Detroit, a 238 pound guard from Western Michigan University, signed a contract with the San Francisco 49ers. He was the club's 6th draft choice. He was also picked by San Diego of the AFL.

City Cagers Bomb Basket

Two men reached the 20-point mark to pace their teams to victories last night in recreational league basketball at Pontiac Northern High School.

★ ★ ★

The presseason round - robin tournament produced triumphs by Southwest Community Club, Colonial Lumber and Columbia Avenue Baptist Church. Three more games will be played tonight at Madison Junior High School.

The evening's top offensive performance was provided by Dick Lippert of Colonial Lumber in that team's 66-52 victory over UAW No. 594. Lippert sank 22 points, including nine field goals. Chet Woodmore poured in 18 for the losers.

George Ratledge hit 20 points for the Baptists and teammate Jim McDonald scored 15. John Bridgewater poured in 15 for the Pontiac Police who were beaten 59-37 by the churchmen.

Southwest Community built up a 37-9 halftime margin against Town and Country and coasted to a 67-21 verdict. Three of the Clubbers hit twin markers with Jerry Williams' 12 tops.

PCH Cagers Start SVC Action at Home Friday

Pontiac Central High School will jump right into its Saginaw Valley Conference schedule tomorrow night when Flint Central invades the Chiefs' court for an important basketball contest.

The two squads have both played one non-league game with PCH going under to Grosse Pointe, 62-45, and Flint Central whipping Lansing Eastern, 73-40. Both squads anticipate tougher times in their league opener.

Flint is rated a darkhorse in the race with a good blend of experience and height, and one impressive showing already under the Indians' wampum belt.

Pontiac's Chiefs, meanwhile, are young and generally untested. A win over the supposedly talented visitors would be a big morale booster and could foreshadowed brighter days.

LINEUP CHANGE

Coach Art VanRyzin expects to make one or two changes in his lineup in search of more offensive punch. Mel DeWalt earned a starting shot with a good showing against Grosse Pointe and Ernie Pickett put in a bid for a guard slot as a playmaker.

Ray Sain, Mckinley Jones and Gerald Henry did some impressive rebounding last Saturday and figure to retain their starting slots. Jesse Hodge, bothered by football injuries to his ankles, need a strong performance against the Indians to repel the bid by Pickett.

VanRyzin notes the coaches who saw Flint play last Friday are very high on the Indians.

"It is a typical Central team," reports the graying mentor of the Chiefs. "They are quick, very aggressive and a very good jumping team."

Coach Joe Dowdy this year welcomed back 6-2 center Al Snyder and Oddie Miller this season and has Mel Summers, Ernie Long and Jerome Rutland, also, back with varsity experience. Newcomers include 6-3 juniors Jim Blight, expected to start, and MacHenry Johnson.

Mel Summers' brother John may start at forward also. Another highly regarded Indian is guard Bill King, a 5-10 senior.

The Valley schedule for Friday includes three other league games. Midland travels to Flint Northern, Bay City Central will be at Saginaw, and preseason favorite Saginaw Arthur Hill will open its quest of the title against Handy at Bay City.

A 6:45 p.m. junior varsity game will precede the PCH-Flint Central contest. Last year's varsity games resulted in the home teams losing both times, 59-36 at Flint, and 58-56 here.

Rabaja Helps Dales Beat Olivet, 74-61

OLIVET (UPI) — Hillsdale chalked up its first win in three basketball outings by defeating host Olivet, 74-61, last night.

Hillsdale led, 37-34, in the first half of the hard-fought contest and widened the winning margin in the second half on the shooting of Charles Works and Phil Rabaja of Pontiac.

Works claimed game scoring honors with 28 points, while Rabaja shot for 15.

★ ★ ★

YPSILANTI (UPI) — Eastern Michigan University played a powerful second half last night to force a see-sawing game with Albion to a 78-54 win.

The game changed hands eight times in the first half until Eastern, led by Duane Lamiman with 17, forged ahead after taking the last shot of the first half, 30-28.

Top scorer for Albion was Emil de Grazia with 16.

★ ★ ★

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPI)—Assumption University raced to an easy 86-59 basketball victory last night over Adrian College.

Adrian suffered its second loss as the Canadian quint forged to a commanding 40-23 halftime lead and went on to its second win against one defeat this year.

Assumption guard Bob Horvath and forward Dick Seagert of Adrian each garnered 16 points for scoring honors.

Cinci Quint First in AP

By The Associated Press

It took two long years and a couple of national titles to do it, but the Cincinnati Bearcats finally reached the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press regular season weekly basketball poll.

★ ★ ★

The veteran bearcats were an overwhelming choice for the top spot in the first weekly poll Wednesday, gaining 38 first place votes on the 44 ballots cast and outdistancing the second team by more than 100 points.

★ ★ ★

Strangely, it was the first time in three years Cincinnati had topped the poll, though the school won the NCAA title the last two seasons, Ohio State led each week for the last two seasons, only to fall before the Bearcats twice in the NCAA finals.

Retiring Lakes Sailor Aims for Warm Waters

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Capt. Ray Knight, 65, whose 50-year Great Lakes sailing career started as a cabin boy on his father's schooner, steps down next week as harbor master, but he won't be a landlubber long.

Knight will seek work as skipper of a small boat working the Gulf of Mexico.

Profit Taking Wins Out

Stock Mart Sees Slight Loss

NEW YORK (AP) —Profit taking got the upper hand early today as the stock market took a moderate loss in active trading.

★ ★ ★

Losses at most key stocks were fractional. A scattering showed declines of a point or so. A few stocks bucked the trend, making small gains.

The seeds of the decline were sown late yesterday when a vigorous early advance was melting away but was partially saved by the closing bell. Brokers said that a factor was the largest supply of stock now eligible for long-term capital gains tax purposes six months after the selling of late May and early June.

Steels, big three motors, aerospace stocks, utilities, chemicals, oils, rails and drugs were among the losers.

American Motors and Studebaker held slight gains. Homestake recovered about a point.

★ ★ ★

Xerox dropped about 2 and Polaroid more than a point. IBM was up about a point. Du Pont was a point lower.

Losses of about a point were shown also by Amerada, Jones & Laughlin, Armco, Merck and American Smelting.

Pan American World Airways was off a fraction and Trans World Airlines was up a fraction following renewed speculation that merger plans of the two big overseas carriers are about to be announced.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange with most changes narrow. Gainers included Western Equities, Polarad Electronics, Hollinger and Creole Petroleum. Among losers were Aeronca, Syntex, General Plywood and Paddington "A."

Navy Missile Test Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A Navy attempt to score its first full success with a highly advanced Polaris "A3" missile failed today when the rocket veered out of control and had to be destroyed. It was the sixth straight Polaris failure.

Cadillac Plans Big Expansion

Outlay of $55 Million in Detroit Rumored

DETROIT (AP) — A major expansion program, reported unofficially to require an outlay of $55 million, was announced today by Cadillac Division of General Motors Corp.

Expansion and modernization of Cadillac's Detroit facilities is involved. The program is to cover a period of two years.

The program, described as probably the largest by any unit of the auto industry in Detroit since World War II, includes a new engineering center and added Cadillac car manufacturing and assembly space.

All the money will be spent in Detroit. The Cadillac car is made only in Detroit.

Harold G. Warner, general manager, said the Cadillac expansion "will permit us to meet the challenges that lie ahead and continue the Cadillac tradition of product excellence and leadership."

★ ★ ★

Cadillac, a luxury car, has reported record 1963 new car model sales in the auto industry's late 1962 production and sales boom. Cadillac reported its sales 8 per cent ahead of last year as of Nov. 20.

Warner's announcement gave no figures on the expansion cost. The $55 million estimate came from sources close to management.

The announcement had the effect of scotching reports recently that Cadillac was considering new facilities elsewhere, possibly outside Michigan.

Besides the engineering plant and added manufacturing space, the program also includes modernization and administration and foundry buildings and a multilevel parking facility at its main plant.

Cadillac employs about 10-000 men at its main plant. There is also a warehouse in Detroit. Cadillac operates an Army ordnance plant in Cleveland and has factory branch offices in New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Chicago.
