

Reuther Denies Layoffs Rigged

Answers Charges by Senator of Plot to Hike Jobless Figures

DETROIT (UPI) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, has denied charges that he is rigging the unemployment figures to manipulate auto industry layoffs.

The accusation was made at a Senate Finance Committee hearing to consider President Kennedy's $1-billion jobs pay proposal which would provide up to 13 extra weeks of unemployment compensation for 600,000 workers who have exhausted benefits.

Reuther said Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, asked on behalf of Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Nebr., "whether I had requested the automobile corporations to schedule their layoffs in that week of each month in which the official government count of unemployment is made."

"The obvious purpose of the question is to create the impression that the unemployment statistics are exaggerated. The allegation... is downright false."

CHALLENGE TO INTEGRITY

The labor leader said "the insinuation that the automobile corporations and our union would rig the unemployment figures is a challenge to their integrity as well as ours."

Reuther said Curtis "is so blinded by anti-labor prejudice that he is evidently incapable of taking a reasonable and compassionate attitude toward the tragic plight of families of America's millions of unemployed."

New Storm Pushing Eastward

A full-on northeastern storm dumped up to 1 1/2 feet of snow on New England blew out to sea today but a new batch of rain and snow pushed eastward from the Pacific Northwest.

As the storm winds subsided, Northern Maine found itself buried under 40 or more inches of old and new snow.

Shoreshores from the Pacific Ocean spilled the coast from Canada into Northern California changed to snow in the Rocky Mountains, and turned back east cold rains as they drove eastward into the Northern Great Plains.

Gusty winds of 20 to 25 miles an hour whistled across the plains south of the rain area.

The New England storm Thursday packed winds of 50 miles an hour that pushed tides 2 to 3 feet higher than normal.

Blinding snow in Maine brought highway plow drivers at Augusta to a halt.

Schools closed in Maine, New Hampshire and Northern Massachusetts.

Behind the storm, gale winds swept Ohio, New York and the South. Gusted up to 40 miles an hour smashed a plate glass window in downtown Cleveland, the wind toppled a 15-pound copystone from a New York City five-story apartment house, critically injuring a woman passer-by, and high winds caused temporary power failures at Columbus, West Point and Atlanta, Ga.

Liz Free of Oxygen Tent Aid

LONDON In — Elizabeth Taylor breathed today without the aid of an oxygen machine for the first time in a week.

"The machine is still in her room," said Sue Cardozo, a friend of the film star and her temporary press secretary, "but she's getting along without it right now."

Miss Taylor, 29, was taken off the oxygen machine Thursday after a desperate battle against double pneumonia in which the doctors twice despaired of saving her.

Early today her pulse and temperature were normal and a bulletin said she was "further improved."

May Add Day to School Year

Calendar Drawn Up, but Number of MEA Confabs Is in Doubt

Elementary school students in the Pontiac School District may be in classrooms one day more next year than they will this year.

The extra day hinges entirely on whether the Michigan Education Association and a Sylva L & L building, San G. Warwick.

For many years, there has been a long-standing fight of land to the west of Whitfield School. It is a natural catch basin for storm waters.

Dr. Otto C. Hutzinger, assistant superintendent of schools, warned the board that unless the county or state moves quickly to remedy the problem, Whitfield property will be under water.

He asserted, however, that should the problem become that drastic, the school district would use drastic measures and "plug up the existing storm drain outlet."

Major participants in the battle are the school district, the county drain commission, state highway department and a Sylva L & L building, San G. Warwick.

Charity Fund's Name Pirated, Official Charges

DETROIT (AP) — A leader of the United Foundation today charged a charity fund group with "unethical" practice for using the foundation's name without authorization.

Walter C. Laidlaw, UF executive vice president, made the charge against Ludovica Society Inc., a New York group which seeks to enlist Detroit area volunteers for an antileukemia fund drive.

Laidlaw said the group has acted in an unethical manner in associating itself with the United Foundation.

He said the group never has applied formally for UF membership though it made an informal offer several months ago.

A society spokesman said his group may make a statement later.

Approve $3,500 Recreation Pay

Pontiac Board Okays Money to Teachers in After-School Activities

After considerable debate, the Pontiac School Board approved a $3,500 appropriation in the 1961-62 budget, most of which would be used for extra pay for teachers participating in after school recreation programs.

The appropriation was proposed by Holle L. Lepley, director of physical education, recreation and athletics for the Pontiac School District.

Lepley argued that teachers who now conduct after school recreation programs receive no compensation, yet compensation is available for athletic coaches, debate and dramatic instructors and music instructors under certain circumstances.

Among "recreation" programs listed out were the girls' swim club, the ski club and some intramural sports at Pontiac Central and Northern High Schools.

Lepley also requested that the recreation programs at secondary schools be established and expanded.

Board members, in approving the $3,500, voiced a desire that it be used to pay teachers and staff salaries existing programs rather than expand and create more after school activities.

Chrysler to Lay Off 11,500 at 6 Plants
DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. plans to close six of its seven car assembly plants next week, idling 11,500 employees.

The company's announcement came Thursday after a General Motors said all its Buick, Oldsmobile, and Pontiac assembly operations will be suspended next week, with about 41,000 being laid off.

General Motors also planned layoffs. Pontiac said some 11,000 employees laid off at 11 plants this week will return to work Monday.

William James, 25, told officers the robbery occurred at Bagley and Weston Streets.

Press Assn. Gives Awards

6 Scholarships Go to U.S., Latin Journalists, Journalism Students

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — The Inter American Press Association's scholarship fund awarded six scholarships worth $2,500 each today to journalists and journalism students in the United States and Latin America.

The awards committee is comprised of Robert H. Brown of Editor & Publisher, Joshua B. Powers of Editors Press Service, New York; Jorge Mantilla of El Comercio, Quito, Ecuador; and Harold A. Flanagan of The Pontiac Press.

The North American winners are Jon R. Bauman of Austin, Tex., and Judy Linda McVey of Butte, Mont. Latin American winners are Elena Victoria Salgado of El Salvador, Erica Velez of Chile, Pedro Pablo Camargo of Mexico and Juan Carlos Diaz-Foster of Uruguay.

The Americans will study for a year in Latin America, and the Latin Americans will do the same in the United States.

of followers of the late ex-President Patrice Lumumba.

A foreign affairs ministry spokesman Thursday night announced that the U.N. command had agreed to suspend its armed patrols in the streets of the capital.

The Congolese government also was expected to cancel its military alert, an indication that friction between Congolese troops and U.N. soldiers had diminished considerably.

Eleven captured leaders of Kiva have been released from a Stanleyville jail where they had been held since last week, the U.N. reported.

While this indicated a change in attitude by the rebel regime, the U.N. command was unable to confirm reports from the leftist capital that Moscow-backed Antoine Gizenga had been deposed there.

Those reports said either the rebel military commander, Gen. Victor Lundula, or President Jean-Francois Manikala of Oriental Province had taken over. Both are considered firm supporters of the policies of Lumumba.

U.S. Behind Kasavubu-Williams

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — G. Menon Williams Thursday faced an hour of questioning by African newsmen who shouted demands that he define precisely the U.S. position on the Congo government.

Williams, assistant U.S. secretary of state for African affairs, would go no further than to say President Joseph Kasavubu is the only recognized Congo chief of state.

Kasavubu, the former Michigan governor said, "is proceeding to organize a government. We are hopeful a government of national unity will be formed and we look forward to the time when Kasavubu's government will be recognized by Parliament."

"We regard this as a government formed by the constitutionally recognized head of the state. No other government is constitutionally recognized as a government of national unity."

A dozen reporters, waving notepaper, pressed Williams for further clarification, but he closed the conference.

Nixon Concludes TV Won't Replace Papers Politically
NEW YORK (AP) — Television will never supplant the printed word in politics, says former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

In a telegram to the annual banquet of the Radio and Television Executives Society Thursday, Nixon said:

"Television is powerful but still is an infant factor in politics. It will never supplant the printed word, but its full force is yet to be seen and employed."

In creating public time for the presidential campaign, debates, television and radio "rendered the American public a distinct service. I would hope it would be enlarged and repeated," he said.

Hoffa Ready to Call Teamster Convention
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa was expected to set in motion today election machinery that would virtually assure his control of the nation's largest union until mid-1968.

Hoffa was reported ready to issue a call for a Teamsters' convention in Miami Beach, Fla., in early July that would choose officers for the next five years. He is considered a shoo-in for the $50,000-a-year presidency.

Battle Grows Over Drainage

School Board Warned That Whitfield May Be Under Water Soon

A long-standing hassle over drainage problems in the area adjacent to Whitfield Elementary School is rapidly growing into a major battle.

The battle lines began forming at Thursday night's Pontiac School Board meeting.

Dr. Otto C. Hutzinger, assistant superintendent of schools, warned the board that unless the county or state moves quickly to remedy the problem, Whitfield property will be under water.

He asserted, however, that should the problem become that drastic, the school district would use drastic measures and "plug up the existing storm drain outlet."

The Day in Birmingham

To Hold General Elections in Three Area Villages

BIRMINGHAM — General elections will be held Monday in three area villages, Franklin, Beverly Hills and Hingham Farms.

Franklin voters will elect three councilmen, clerk, treasurer and assessor and decide the proposed purchase of the Village Green by the community for $33,000.

The ball candidates for the three council posts are incumbents Donald W. Hunter and James J. Kelly, Robert L. Anderson, David Goodnow, Richard Obernuche and Robert Winkler.

"Jury for the treasurer's office are A. Newton Cole, R. M. Cadogan and Donald W. Hunter. Incumbent assessor Alfred C. Emmert will be opposed by Ralph Smith.

The village clerk Estle M. Garwood will not be challenged for her position.

The village is seeking to purchase the area known as the Village Green for a $15,000 down payment with the remainder to be paid off in 10 years or less.

Eight candidates are seeking the four existing council seats in Beverly Hills. The top three vote-getters will receive two-year terms, the fourth a one-year term.

The candidates are incumbents Chester F. Guilmette, John A. McCanath, Edward M. Shurtliff and Douglas J. Wood, Charles M. Dotterer, James R. Leach, Claude A. Shepherd and N. Ralph Tucker.

Candidates for the seven offices in Hingham Farms are uncontested. Four of the seven candidates are incumbents.

Seeking to regain their seats are Haskell E. Wright, president.

$20,000 Project Added to Patch Section of U.S. 10
Among 20 projects added to the State Highway Department's March 15 bid listing is one for $20,000 worth of pavement patching on U.S. 10 (Woodward Avenue) in Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township.

The maintenance, among $300,000 worth of projects to be let Wednesday for work in 16 Lower Michigan counties, will take place from north of Long Lake Road in Bloomfield Hills to 38th (Square Lake Road) in the township.

Meanwhile, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the contractor has started work on a $175,572 grade separation interchange at Woodward Avenue over Interstate 75 (the Walter P. Chrysler freeway) north of Clarkson.

The bridge is part of a $4-million project to be constructed by the Lansing firm of S. D. Solomon in Oakland County.

Contest Deadline Is Today

Eight Enter Competition for Miss Watertown Title

Today is the deadline for entries to the Miss Watertown Township contest, sponsored by the Watertown Township Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Eight township girls have entered and all others who submit entries today will vie for the title now held by last year's winner, Barbara Coe of 5030 Cooley Lake Road.

The contest is held in conjunction with the Jaycee's annual Sports and Builders show to be held March 17, 18 and 19 at the Community Center on Williams Lake Road.

The judging will begin Friday evening, March 17, with the judges banquet held at the Old Mill Tavern. The swim suit and talent portion of the contest will be held at that time.

The contestants will appear on the Community Center stage Saturday, March 18, in their formal gowns, to be judged on poise and personality. The five finalists will be chosen at that time, and will reappear Sunday, March 19, for the final judging.

The winner will represent Watertown Township in the Miss Michigan pageant in Muskegon

In July, in addition, she will receive gifts including a U.S. savings bond, a wardrobe and a modeling scholarship.

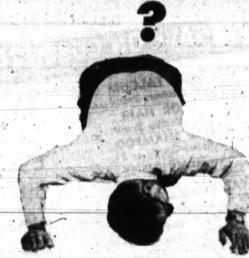

The eight entries are Watertown Township High School seniors: Judy Ballard, 247 Scott Lake Road; Diane Benedict, 1719 Elmore St.; Sue Field, 147 S. Avery; Elaine Finkbeiner, 413 Lakeside Drive; and Helen Hallock, 306 Irwin Drive.

Also Nancy Serra, 3632 Silver Sands; Sue Shaw, 3071 Old Orchard Drive; and Sue Welch, 7411 Cooley Lake Road. Donald Beedle is contest chairman.

12 Prime Ministers Chat Over Tea

British Commonwealth Pulls Power Without Rules

LONDON (UPI)—The 12 prime ministers of the British Commonwealth of Nations belong to an organization so powerful it includes one-fourth of the world's population but so informal it has no membership rules.

The Commonwealth heads of government, now meeting for their annual conference, are united by a common recognition of the British sovereign as head of the Commonwealth.

But no one has defined "head of the Commonwealth," and four of the member nations do not have Queen Elizabeth as their head of state.

There is no Commonwealth constitution. There is no majority rule in the conferences, and no necessity for a united viewpoint. Any frosty relationships are incidental to membership. Members may drop out when they wish.

An official definition describes the organization as "a community of ideals and interests shared by all alike and a voluntary determination to cooperate on all issues of fundamental importance."

HAS ADVANTAGES

It is the advantages of Commonwealth membership that make it such an easy-going organization. Few want to leave it. These same advantages keep African and Asian members in the Commonwealth, even under the leadership of fiery exponents of independence and nationalism, and after decades of colonial rule.

The Commonwealth includes Britain, Canada, New Zealand, South Africa, Ceylon, Nigeria, Australia, and the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, all of which have the queen as head of state; India, Pakistan and Ghana, republics; and Malaysia, a federation of kingdoms.

The advantages that join this diverse list of nations begin with trade preferences and include citizenship privileges, a court of appeal and arbitration, a favorable position for loans, free technical help, cheap communications, and a system of confidential exchanges.

This last advantage is regarded as one of the most valuable. It is often called "the old boy network"—a reference to the common British educational background of its participants.

Leaders tip each other off on important issues. There is broad and free discussion, more on the level of individual friendships than state talks.

The Commonwealth grew out of the old British empire, with Canada becoming Britain's first self-governing dominion in 1867. Now it covers 27 per cent of the earth's area and contains 35 per cent of the world's population. New candidates for membership are arising out of former colonies, dependencies and trust territories.

The chief condition for membership is the ability for a nation to stand on its feet. It must be financially strong and have its own police force, civil service, and other government organs.

Quitting the organization is easier. Burma, in 1947, asked for a status outside the Commonwealth during negotiations with Britain. It intended the move as a bargaining maneuver, but outside status was quickly realized.

Ireland got in in 1948, but still enjoys trade preferences and other advantages.

The fact that these are the only two nations to have dropped out of the Commonwealth, while many others are preparing for membership, is the best commentary on the advantages of belonging.

Second Journal Plant Planned for California

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Wall Street Journal will build a new publishing plant in Riverside, Calif., to speed service to readers in Southern California, Arizona and portions of Utah and Nevada.

Journal President Bernard Kilgore said the business world newspaper has 65,000 readers in the area that will be served by the Riverside printing center.

It will be the second journal plant in California and the eighth in the nation. The Journal has more subscribers in California than any other state.

JURIST ENTERS CELL.—William H. Simmons (left), ousted Seattle, Wash., traffic court judge, talks with Sheriff Tim McCallough as he enters a cell in a Seattle jail Thursday night. Simmons, 33, was arrested after he refused to honor a Superior Court order to vacate his office as Traffic Court judge. The judge was ousted by the Seattle City Council following his conviction on a second-degree assault charge. Mrs. Betty Adams, 21, (inset), was the key witness in the state's case against the judge on the assault charge.

Refuses to Leave Bench

Judge Goes to Prison

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Traffic Judge William H. Simmons was to appear in Superior Court today to answer a contempt citation issued after he refused to step down from the bench.

Challenging jurisdiction of the judge who issued the citation Thursday, Simmons spent Thursday night in jail. He had refused to post the $500 bond required for his release. He was to appear before Superior Court Judge Lloyd Shortt today.

Judge Shortt ordered Simmons' arrest on the grounds he had violated an injunction earlier in the day by returning to his court and resuming business. Shortt said Simmons arbitrarily interfered with operation of the office by Vernon W. Towne, his appointed successor.

The City Council vacated Simmons' office Monday. Mayor Gordon Clinton named a successor. Simmons was convicted on the second degree assault on a young housewife last December, given a 10-year suspended sentence if he quit his office, and has appealed.

He has continued to hold office and since Monday has been dismissing all cases, including orders such as drunken and reckless driving, for "lack of diligent prosecution." The dismissals reached 108 Thursday.

But the firms still face possible law suits from individuals and state and city governments.

What Is Supervisors' Plan for Courthouse?

A factor that may have more to do with delaying rejuvenation of business in downtown Pontiac is the lack of decision on what's to become of the Oakland County Courthouse.

Many interested citizens recognize that this is not a problem which can be settled overnight. On the other hand, it is a mighty tough job to establish much exuberance in our downtown area until the Board of Supervisors indicate what may happen to this landmark.

The Press receives numerous queries from businessmen and others seeking some sort of an explanation. Things are starting to move with urban renewal, but the question always reverts back to the courthouse property.

Previously, it had been our understanding that eventually the two buildings and property would be disposed of. Many times in the past The Press has attempted to ascertain what would become of the property once the county offices moved to their new home.

We have always been told that at the proper time action would be taken to dispose of the property. Within the last day or two ROBERT MOORE, chairman of the Board of Auditors, has been questioned by a Press reporter and all he could report was that the Supervisors had nothing to say at this time.

It seems only fair that the many other business interests in Pontiac that they have some inkling as to what may happen to this property. Since it is only a matter of a few months before it will be vacated, we would like to pose a couple of questions which are of vital interest to all taxpayers.

First, will the property and buildings be sold in the near future, or is it planned that they will remain unoccupied for some little time?

Second, if a sale is contemplated is it feasible that an appraisal be made and a price set in order that interested investors might be contacted?

At this time in the public interest we feel that an honest answer to these questions should be forthcoming.

Bill to Aid Handicapped Now Before Congress

Physically handicapped persons are deserving of any kind of a break they can get. The 86th Congress has a bill before it now which looks good to us.

Figures indicate that at the present time there are two million citizens who are unable to get to and from work in order to become productive workers because transportation is too costly.

Rep. EUGENE J. KROGH, D-N.Y., proposes in a bill to grant special income tax deductions for transportation expenses not exceeding $600 a year for the disabled. This would help defray the cost of taxis, automobiles, etc., that are used in order to get to and from jobs.

It would appear that the KROGH bill (H.R. 424) would benefit both the Nation and the handicapped.

Again U.S. Pays Bills, Supplies Man Power

With the United Nations General Assembly in session working on the Congo mess it might be wise for a couple of other points to be cleared up.

To have an effective police force, Secretary General DAG HAMMAR-

SKJOLD has indicated he will need more men than the present 16,500. In fact he is asking for 25,000.

Apparently India, Liberia and Tunisia have promised to send some soldiers. Just how many is not spelled out, but undoubtedly we will again bear the brunt of this job.

Financing the operations for 1961 are supposed to cost $135 million. Again the bulk of this will be paid by Uncle Sam. Why must we always take over the biggest share of the expense, plus the man power?

If that's the way it has to be and apparently it is the only solution we should have more say about who the civilian director will be. Since Rajeshwar Dayal, the Hindu director leans toward the Kremlin when making decisions it seems about time that he be replaced with someone on our side.

As long as we pay the bills let's have some strong man making the vital decisions instead of someone working for Russia's efforts.

Here He Comes Again

Parochial School Aid Is a Right

WASHINGTON—There's a chance that, if a law is passed by Congress that provides funds for public schools, its operation may be enjoined in the federal courts on the ground that it discriminates against parochial and other private schools.

The political strategists, led by President Kennedy, are already suggesting that the issue of loans to private and parochial schools be disposed of in a separate bill.

But this is only a way to kill the measure. For it is not likely to get a majority in Congress unless it is part of the entire aid-to-education bill, which makes grants for school construction as well as for scholarships.

To be excluded from this particular measure is what is arousing widespread resentment among Catholics as well as non-Catholics who do not want to see the constitutional clause on the "establishment of a religion" used to deprive any citizens of benefits that other citizens enjoy.

Indeed, the Supreme Court of the United States in several cases has upheld the principle that it is a violation of the Constitution for the government to demand the surrender of any constitutional right as a condition for sharing in welfare benefits.

FORFEIT OF FREEDOM

It is being argued, therefore, that to say to the millions of Catholic parents that they must send their children to public schools if they wish to receive certain financial benefits provided by the federal government—is, in effect, to ask them to forfeit their constitutional freedom of worship and thus to impose a penalty for choosing to educate their children in religious schools.

This view has been expressed often by Father Virgil C. Blum, professor of political science at Marquette University, who was one of the earliest proponents of the tax-aid or certificate plan to aid parents who incur double expense for education.

He wrote in October, 1957, "The Homiletic and Pastoral Review" as follows:

"Government cannot demand that a child not attend a church-related school as a condition for sharing in the state's educational benefits.

"When government does this, it imposes an unconstitutional condition on the exercise of a constitutional right.

"That is to say, when a child exercises his constitutional right of freedom of religion, the government may not deny him a share in educational funds. To do so is to penalize him for his exercise of religion.

The Country Parson

I'd like to quote further from Sherman for the benefit of dissenters particularly: "The swallowing of the bones and teeth which is said to be" (sic—come, if you don't care to commit yourself about it, at least say so) "a common accompaniment of pregnancy and lactation is doubtless largely due to withdrawal of calcium from these structures to meet the nutritive requirements of the fetus or the nursing."

"In the distribution of its benefits, government must be objectively indifferent to the religious beliefs of its citizens."

The government does not discriminate today, in granting tax exemptions, between church-owned property and any other kind of private property owned by a non-profit organization. This, of course, is a form of federal aid that parochial schools now enjoy. Federal money also is used to pay military chaplains.

RELEASED TIME UPHELD In the case known as Zorach vs. Clauson, the Supreme Court held that a New York State law, permitting school children to be excused from regular classes certain hours each week to attend religious classes in private buildings elsewhere, was constitutional.

Justice Douglas, speaking for the court, wrote:

"The First Amendment, however, does not say that in every and all respects there shall be a separation of church and state."

"Otherwise the state and religion would be allies to each other—hostile, suspicious, and even unfriendly. Churches could not be required to pay even property taxes."

"Fryers in our legislative halls, the apostles to the Almighty in the messages of the chief executive: the proclamations making Thanksgiving day a holiday; 'so help me God,' in our courtroom oaths—these and all other references to the Almighty that run through our laws, our public rituals, our ceremonies would be flouting the First Amendment."

Voice of the People:

'Parochial Schools Know Government Can't Help'

Han't our President enough worry, without his Church giving him more? In regards to aid to parochial schools, the Catholic Church knows what the law is and always has been. Why should it be changed now?

I don't hear the Lutherans or Baptists, who also have parochial schools, crying for help. Maybe if the Catholic Church didn't need so much money to Rome, they'd have enough for their schools.

Give Suggestions for Centennial

Congratulations to Brothers of the Brush. Your numbers are to be increased by the guardians of fire and justice, but now it appears that you are all being reduced to the rank of second class citizens. The preponderance of the education profession are also elevating their noses in your direction.

Are you willing, since the mayor has given his full endorsement of your activities, to allow your educators not to be counted in your membership? I am sure that the male members of this noble profession would be more than anxious to participate if they could gain the consent of their leaders.

There has been a great deal said about who can wear beards for the centennial and who can't. Some young men in high school are mad because they can't. I don't think all this fuss is needed. If schools forbid beards, the students should forget them or Pontiac's centennial won't be a happy one. This will be Pontiac's only centennial, so why not make it a happy one?

On this day in history: In 1862, the U.S. government issued its first paper money, in notes valued at $5, $10, $20, $50, $100, and $1,000.

In 1876, Alexander Graham Bell transmitted the first clear and distinct telephone message in Boston. His message: "Come here, Watson, I want you."

In 1942, Gen. Joseph Stilwell was appointed chief of staff of allied arms in the Chinese theater of operations.

In 1945, B29 bombers of the U.S. Air Force began their incendiary raids on Japan.

Thought for today: American writer Henry David Thoreau said: "Beware of all enterprises that require new clothes."

Looking Back

It's a shame that police and fire departments can't grow a centennial beard, but it borders on the ridiculous when the Yellow Cab Co. refuses to permit its employees to join in the centennial cause.

I must agree that women's participation in the centennial is important. I observed the Duluth centennial in 1958 and was astonished at the tremendous enthusiasm and cooperation of its citizens, especially the ladies.

My aunt recently sent me her centennial dress and I have just about finished two dresses I created, complete with bonnets and ruffles for my 9- and 10-year-old girls. With the array of inexpensive cotton prints now on display and a variety of centennial patterns in the catalogs, let's see the ladies get busy and make Pontiac's centennial worthwhile—fashionably.

Even the Bible realizes this fact for it refers to such a girl as "bumbling," meaning her spirit is broken.

Thereafter she tends to avoid looking people straight in the eye. And she is apprehensive lest her boy friend tell about his escapade, which he is almost sure to do if he uses liquor.

A high school diploma is worth $600 in future earnings, so a few sex affairs may thus ruin a fortune in actual cash.

And "forced" marriages often produce an extra amount of quarreling, especially when the boy sees his male pals going on to college and then getting higher paying positions.

Such a boy soon grows tired of himself, but then projects his anger upon his young wife, for husbands of all ages are chronic back-bashers.

Tiny Wallops Island May Be Top Spaceport

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (UPI)—This seven-mile strip of salt marsh and sand in the ocean beside Virginia's eastern shore is America's oldest and finest spaceport.

In some respects it may also be the most important. If the Mercury astronauts survive their ventures into space unharmed, they will owe much to crucial tests made here of the Mercury capsule and its escape and recovery systems.

The Wallops Island rocket range is part of the Wallops station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). The station was organized in 1950 to include the former Chincoteague Naval air station on the adjacent mainland.

The nation's other spaceports are Cape Canaveral, Fla., on the Atlantic missile range and the complex of launching sites in California on the Pacific missile range.

Wallops compares with these two giants in size as does a penny firecracker with a couple of Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles. It has none of their military bearing and general awesomeness. In addition to being the country's smallest rocket station, it is by far the most informal.

ONLOOKERS GATHER
On days when a publicized shot is scheduled, oystermen and storekeepers and women with children from the nearby island town of Chincoteague may be among the watchers on the beach at the station.

Wallops has been a flight test center since 1945 when it was acquired by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, since incorporated into NASA.

Before that it was a windy strip of dunes and marshes, a big city duck hunters. Back in the 17th Century it was the property of a colonial named John Wallop, descendant of an English earl.

Since 1945 the Wallops station has launched more than 4,000 research rockets of one to six stages to get scientific information on flight characteristics of hypersonic airplanes, missiles, and spacecraft.

Wallops research rockets also have gleaned much information about upper atmospheric winds and air densities and about the ionosphere and close-in space radiation.

HAS TOP SCIENTISTS
Two years ago the station had only a little over 100 employees. Its facilities consisted mainly of a new wind tunnel, a couple of smallish radars, and a control center which looked from a distance like a farm outbuilding.

But Wallops, meager equipment was good and its scientists were talented and dedicated. Research data acquired by the station has played an indispensable role in U.S. Aeronautical and Missile Development.

Even before NASA took over, the island was one of the world's busiest rocket stations. Firings ran 100 to 300 a year. On shot days everybody had to pitch in. The janitor helped to operate tracking equipment.

On noisier days, scientists with Ph.D. degrees often manned shovels or other tools to get construction or repair jobs finished in time for a shot.

NASA ordered a $24-million expansion. A new highway and a giant new radar with a 1,000-mile $15-million caseway have eliminated a 45-minute ferry ride.

TRIPLES TOTAL
Wallops now has pads and towers for launching the Scout, first all solid fuel rocket capable of putting a satellite in orbit; the mighty Little Joe, a rocket specially designed to fly tests of the Mercury capsule; and the Aero-bee-Hi high altitude research rocket.

The station also possesses an honest-to-goodness blockhouse like those at Cape Canaveral and a first satellite, a 15-pound, 12-foot polka dot sphere, on Feb. 16. This four-stage rocket will be NASA's small scientific satellites in orbit. Engineers hope to get it out down from about $1 million per launch to $750,000. An Atlas satellite launch at the Cape costs around $1 million.

AUCTION PONIES
Wallops is about 130 air miles from Washington, D.C. To get there by automobile you pass Modest Town, Assawoman Creek.

The Scout launched Wallops' first satellite, a 15-pound, 12-foot polka dot sphere, on Feb. 16. This four-stage rocket will be NASA's small scientific satellites in orbit. Engineers hope to get it out down from about $1 million per launch to $750,000. An Atlas satellite launch at the Cape costs around $1 million.

On the last Wednesday of July each year some of the ponies are herded across a narrow channel to Chincoteague Island and are auctioned to support the volunteer fire department. At Chincoteague you may feast on what some gourmets consider the finest oysters in the world.

Wallops has gained much as it came up in the space world. But it also has lost something—one of the longest names in the history of flight. It used to be known as: * * *

Papers Gain Stature

ROME (U)—W. Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's roving ambassador, told a news conference here today newspapers are more important than ever in the United States "because we now have a President who reads the newspapers. In fact, he caught me three times not having read a column he considered important."

2 State Dems Have Tax Plan

Irked by Swainson's
Would Kill BAT, Cut
Franchise Fee

LANSING (AP)—Two Democratic legislators, dissatisfied with Gov. Swainson's program for tax revision, have come up with a plan of their own.

It is the third submitted to the legislature this year.

The proposals by Reps. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, and Walter H. Nill, D-Muskegon, mostly involve juggling of taxes on business.

Bills drafted for introduction today would repeal the business activities tax and cut the corporate franchise fee from five to two mills. The loss to the state would total $108.2 million.

As an offset, the plan calls for a 5 per cent tax on corporation profits. It would yield $110 million a year.

Other bills introduced earlier this year fill out the O'Brien-Nill tax plan. Among them are those to remove sales and use tax exemptions for religious groups, fraternal organizations, materials used for radio and television processing and other items.

Ford Reveals Shift of Sales Personnel

The general sales office of Ford Division has named William P. Benton as manager of the sales promotion and training department in Dearborn; Blair F. Scanlon as national used-car manager; Douglas A. Holmes as fleet merchandising manager; and John B. Trevis as manager of the sales statistics and analysis department.

Also, Rupert F. Lewis, was named manager of the market representation department; Paul W. Czarnuska as executive assistant to the southeastern regional sales manager; Donald S. Morgan as executive assistant to the central region sales manager; and William H. Kennedy executive assistant to the Great Lakes regional sales manager.

OK Killing Dominicans' Favored Sugar Status

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Agriculture Committee today approved a sugar bill extension that knocked out favored treatment for the Dominican Republic on all nonquota purchases. The new bill also provided for extra purchases from those countries which agree to buy American agriculture products. The bill extended the Sugar Act for 21 months and gave no increase in American beet sugar production.

Detroit Workers Accept Pay Cut of 17 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP)—Production workers at an auto headlamp company have agreed to accept a 17-cent-an-hour wage cut to keep the plant from moving to North Carolina.

"If I hadn't made a deal I'd have been out of here by the end of the year," said Harry D. Hirsch, president of the C.M. Hall Lamp Co.

He said his company employs 150 members of United Auto Workers Union Local 204. Employment three years ago was 200.

Hirsch said a move was contemplated because it is "very much cheaper" to produce at the company's other plant at Clinton, N.C. Hall said the pay cut will reduce the hourly wage to $2.30.

'Honey Fitz' Grandpa Dripped Sweetness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Why was President Kennedy's maternal grandfather called "Honey Fitz"? Nobody seems to know for sure, but the best theory is that he got the nickname because he was a singing politician whose voice—to his admirers' ears at least—dripped sweetness.

The question came up because the President has renamed a presidential boat "Honey Fitz" in honor of the one-time Boston mayor and congressman.

Asked about the origin of the nickname, Fitzgerald's son, Thomas, said in Boston he didn't know but supposed it might be because his father loved to sing "Sweet Adeline" at political and other gatherings.

The Boston Herald once said that Fitzgerald was the only man who could render that song acceptably while sober.

Fitzgerald had many accomplishments as a political technician. For one thing, James MacGregor Burns notes in his biography of President Kennedy that Fitzgerald improved the "Irish Switch."

In the Irish Switch, a candidate shakes the hand of one voter while taking victory to another. Fitzgerald would pump one man's hand; talk to a second and gaze fondly at a third—all simultaneously.

Play Aims High but Leaves Critic in Frustration

By JACK GAVIER
UPI Drama Editor

NEW YORK — There are a number of things to admire in Dore Schary's "The Devil's Advocate," which opened at the Billy Rose Theater Thursday night, but the final effect is one of frustration.

Despite splendid acting and Schary's intelligent direction of a complex script, and appreciation of the fact that a playwright had aimed high in a season not noted for serious drama of distinction, I couldn't help feeling at the end that there had been much ado about something that wasn't quite worth the trouble.

Schary's play is based on the novel of the same name by Australia's Morris L. West.

Traffic Tickets Decline by 572

February Total Is 2,806;
Crackdown' Had Lifted
Number in January

The number of traffic tickets issued by Pontiac police in February dropped by 572 from the previous month.

The violations bureau received 2,806 citations from the police last month for processing, compared with 3,378 in January, when the order for more traffic enforcement went out.

Last month's breakdown includes 860 citations for moving violations, 1,184 tickets for parking meter violations and 662 for other parking violations.

In January, the comparable figures were 1,201 citations for moving violations, 1,452 for meter violations and 725 for other parking violations.

The violations bureau collected $8,628 on 2,814 tickets paid last month. Of these, 1,756 were paid at the Public Safety Building, 909 by mail and 249 through warrant officers.

There was $9,957 collected in January on 2,988 tickets.

Death Benefit Nixed by School Board

The Pontiac School District will not pay terminal benefits to the estate of a deceased employee.

After several weeks of consideration, such a move was deemed impossible by Harold Dudley, attorney for the school board, at last night's board meeting.

Mrs. Madge Sturdy, widow of the late E. L. Sturdy, assistant principal at Eastern Junior High School at the time of his death, had requested any terminal benefits that might be due her.

Dr. Philip J. Prood last night reported that "the school district does not have the necessary statutory authority at the present time to provide for the payment of a terminal benefit to the estate of a deceased employee, and therefore it would be impossible for the administration to recommend approval of Mrs. Sturdy's request."

Brandt, JFK to Confer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin will confer with President Kennedy Monday, the White House announced today. Plans for the conference were announced shortly after West Germany's ambassador, Wilhelm Grewe, had discussed the forthcoming visit with the President.

You'll Find Out Where UF Dollars Went

Form Cancer Crusade Here

Do you ever wonder what became of those dollars you contributed to the Pontiac Area United Fund last fall?

Well, next month Oakland County residents will get the low-down on what some of them are doing when the annual Cancer Crusade takes place.

Board Adopts New Plan to Test for School Posts

The Pontiac School Board has voted its approval of a new procedure for evaluating candidates for administrative positions.

At last night's board meeting, the plan for selecting administrators from within the school system was discussed at length and approved for use this spring.

It will cost approximately $300.

Evaluation will be done by Educational Testing Consultants of the Bureau of Educational Research and Service, Ohio State University.

The ETC service has been used by several Midwestern school districts for a number of years in selecting administrative personnel.

OBJECTIVE LOOK

While final selection will still remain with the local administrators and board members, the consultants will give an objective evaluation of candidates within the school district — or give administrators a yardstick to go by.

Until now, candidates have been evaluated by means of interviews, review of their personnel records, and evaluations of administrators who have worked closely with the candidates.

Several hundred volunteer workers are currently holding organizational meetings, planning their door-to-door crusade for the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

The crusade will take place in the Pontiac area on April 10 and 11.

In spreading the word about the foundation and how it operates, the volunteers also hope to further the battle against cancer through education.

Crusade chairman for the North Oakland Unit, located at 44 W. Lawrence St., are John W. Fitzgerald, editor of The Pontiac Press, and Mrs. Mille D. McLintock of 1044 Waddington Road, Birmingham.

Chairman of the Pontiac Region crusade is Mrs. E. M. Estes of 1083 Waddington Road, Birmingham.

DISCUSS PLANS

Divisions within the Pontiac Region have been designated as Oxford, Orion and Addison townships; Rochester; Waterford Township; and Pontiac.

With orientation meetings behind them, area chairmen are now beginning to select district chairmen and discuss plans for the crusade in individual neighborhoods.

Area chairmen for Pontiac are Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Charles Kistner, Mrs. Bernard Girard and Mrs. Leo Halfpenny.

When a Cancer Crusade volunteer knocks on your door next month, she will not be asking for anything but a moment of your time.

Volunteers will be handing out literature containing factual information about cancer that might save your life, or the life of a loved one.

They will be explaining the purpose of the Michigan Cancer Foundation and its relationship to the United Fund, the community and other cancer control agencies.

Volunteers will explain the educational and patient services of the Michigan Cancer Foundation and will identify the foundation's affiliates and how they fit into the overall program of research, education and service.

why there's no water heater like an

ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

INSTALL ONE WHERE YOU LIKE—EVEN IN AN AIR-TIGHT CLOSET. When it's an electric water heater, there's no flame, so no air is needed to support combustion. There are no fumes to be vented. An electric water heater is completely safe.

BUILT-IN QUALITY MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE. Every electric water heater installed on Detroit Edison lines must meet Edison's exacting specifications. Result: long life, high performance for every water heater.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE TABLE TOP MODEL? They're compact, go beneath counters or alongside sundry equipment. Other possibilities—in the kitchen next to sink or dishwasher or in that hard-to-use corner. Upright or table-top model, put an electric water heater where you want it.

HOTTER WATER—PLENTY OF IT! An electric water heater is capable of going on and on, delivering really hot water—160° hot—without burning out. And heavy insulation all around keeps the outside shell of the water heater cool to the touch from top to bottom. There's no hot metal anywhere.

8 OUT OF 10 FAMILIES USE THE 50-GALLON SIZE. For less than 14¢ a day (estimated operating cost for this size), you can have hot water for all the family's needs. There are also 30- and 110-gallon sizes for the few families who use more water and may require greater capacity.

To Launch Giant Study Into Storms

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The largest research program ever undertaken to study tornadoes, squall lines, and severe local storms will be launched in a multiagency project next week, the U.S. Weather Bureau announced today.

Thirteen aircraft will be used simultaneously to probe squall line segments at altitudes between 1,500 and 45,000 feet.

Participating in the project, in addition to the Weather Bureau and its severe storms research unit here, will be the Federal Aviation Agency, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Air Force, Navy, Air National Guard, Army Signal Corps, and various university research groups.

Aircraft probes will be supplemented by a dense network of ground observing stations, in a project to begin Wednesday and continue through June 1, the period of maximum storm activity.

Newsweek Is Sold for $8 Million to Post

NEW YORK (AP)—The Washington Post Co. has bought Newsweek magazine for a reported $8 million and installed Philip L. Graham as its operating head.

Graham, 45, is president of the Washington Post and Times-Herald.

He had no immediate comment on what changes, if any, he plans for the news magazine, second largest in its field with a weekly circulation of 1,442,836.

The sale of Newsweek Thursday was said to have involved transfer of 59 per cent of the magazine's stock—177,000 of the 300,000 shares—from the Vincent Astor Foundation. The stock is valued at between $45 and $50 a share.

We Proudly Present

"THE EXECUTIVE"

"A Seven Inch WHAT?"

"Drop, My Young-Looking Friend... DROP!"

"It's the term we in the suit business use to talk about the difference between a suit's chest and waist measurements.

"For example, a forty inch chest and a thirty-five inch waist means the DROP is five inches—which may've been fine for 'Mr. 1950', but doesn't come close today!"

"1961's masculine silhouette is slimmer, trimmer... right in step with modern living, better health and handsome, younger looks.

"Take yourself. Chest 41... waist 34... see, you need a seven inch drop!"

"Look at yourself in this tailored washable tropical You can even feel the difference, can't you? Certainly you can, because there isn't a seam in either the coat or trousers that we'd have to touch.

... and for all the 40 (and growing) per cent of America's 17 to 70-year old men who are Young-in-Build. Clothes specifically for the slim, trim man look and feel better from the first time you try them on.

School Facility
Rentals Limited to Three Days

The Pontiac School Board placed a limit of three consecutive days on rental of school facilities at its regular meeting last night.

Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent, told board members that recently several groups had requested permission to use the boys' gymnasium at Pontiac Central High School over an extended period of time.

"One group wanted the gym for 14 consecutive days and another wanted it for 23 consecutive days. Both requests were denied," he explained.

Hufziger felt that rental of a school facility over an extended period would in many cases create a conflict with school programs and be unfair to other outside groups.

His recommendation of a 3-day maximum was unanimously approved.

cussing case problems in municipal accounting.

George Tubbs, Royal finance director, will chair a luncheon meeting Wednesday at which John H. Russ, Michigan Municipal League director, will discuss "1961 Legislative Report."

Nearly 24 million Americans now have savings accounts at savings and loan associations.

Prepare for Anniversary

Girl Scouts Will Exhibit Skills

Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. in the Northern Oakland County Council are anticipating the celebration of the 49th anniversary of the founding of the girl scouts. Ceremonies March 18 at Miracle Mile Shopping Center will include 22 exhibits of girl scout activities. Participating in a folk dance illustrating the organization's

Pontiac Press Photos

Sports and games play an important part in the girl scout program to promote physical fitness. Deborah Hard of Irwin Drive (center) adjusts the arrow of Linda Eads, LynSue Lane, during archery practice while Claudia Mayer of Hershey Street takes careful aim at the target. Displays of girl scout skills will be on view next week at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center in connection with the March 18 49th anniversary celebration.

On the Move

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BIRMINGHAM—Among the many travel-minded Birmingham residents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Parsons who sail in early April on the S.S. Leonardo da Vinci for Cannes on the Riviera. Mrs. Parsons' mother Mrs. Robert C. Angell of Ann Arbor, will sail with them to meet Mr. Angell who preceded them by several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons are planning a motor tour through several countries before returning in June.

The Arts Festival Ball will be given June 16 at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club by the BAA, more formally known as the Bloomfield Art Association.

The decorating committee met Monday evening to organize with its chairman Mrs. Louis Dean and to decide the type of flowers, friezes, statues and urns which can be made to turn the Club into a Grecian background for the theme "a night with the gods." The group will meet early in April to start working on these decorations and costumes in the spacious rooms of the George Russell home at Lane, Pine Road.

Members of this committee include Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell, the Philip deBeauvrens, the Rocco D'Amicos, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. West and Mesdames D. J. Allison, George Hill, William Newberg, Ernest Jones, John K. Stevenson, Charles F. Adams and Louis Colombo.

Others include Mesdames James Allen, Paul Averill, Mark Kelly, Felix Bruner, James M. Roche, E. E. Hammonds and Robert Thom. There are many more.

Abby Says Security Is Basic

Tit for Tat... They Both Lose

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: From the day we were married I gave my wife a very generous allowance, but she never saved a dime. She said she wasn't going to save her money for my next wife to spend.

It took me 15 years to figure out an answer. Now I tell her that I am not going to save any money either — let her next husband support her.

Consequently, we have nothing put away for our future and no economic security. Don't you think a woman should save something or is that just a man's duty?

FEATHER MERCHANT
DEAR FEATHER: I think EVERYONE should save a part of his income or allowance. A man is morally obligated to provide for his wife's future should he go first. But a woman who doesn't lay away a little nestegg, should her breadwinner lose his job or become ill, is just plain cuckoo.

DEAR ABBY: Last night a neighbor of mine dropped by unexpectedly to visit with me. I had my table all set for a dinner party I was giving the next day. When she saw it, she all but laughed in my face.

She said, "For crying out loud, you'll have to dust your dishes by the time your guests come!"

Now, Abby, I wasn't raised in the ritziest home in the world, but it was no far shack either, and my mother always used to set her table the night before. Is it really unsanitary? Or is my neighbor wrong?

PREPARED AHEAD OF TIME

DEAR PREPARED: Most women like to set their table after the final vacuuming and dusting have been done, but if you find it easier to set your table the night before, it is quite all right. Your neighbor could dust off her manners.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter married a very nice neighbor boy. Neither one of the young people smoke, but both their fathers do. Shortly after they were settled in their apartment, they invited both families for dinner. When we got there the first thing we saw was a "NO SMOKING" sign in the living room.

I have never seen or heard anything like this before and thought surely it must have been a joke. My husband lit a cigarette, our son-in-law disappeared and didn't even come back to say goodnight. What do you make of this kind of behavior?

STUNNED
DEAR STUNNED: A "NO SMOKING" sign doesn't belong in the living room — but the host does when he's invited guests. The young man's behavior was childish.

Relax Control, Let Others Learn by Doing

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Dear Mrs. Lawrence:
Our local store is advertising a winter coat sale. Tonight I showed the newspaper ad to my older girl and said we could go shopping for one. What do you think she said? She just said that she would go wearing her old coat if I didn't let her go shopping for a new one alone without me. She is 12 years old. What's the matter with children today? This girl knows nothing about sale shopping.

ANSWER: Usually a youngster who announces his wish to do something on his own is declaring confidence in his ability to bring it off on his own. Sometimes we belittle this ability for reasons that are not apparent to us. It is a very old trick of people to belittle the powers of people they control in order to maintain their own control. For example, white people for centuries have been telling black and brown people that they were too childish and primitive for the responsibilities of freedom. Empires have justified control of colonies on the grounds that independence was too complicated for their subjects' simple brains. In some countries men still enslave women by insisting that they're too fragile or stupid for important work outside their homes.

The masters of the earth long ago discovered that the more disorganizing a case you could make of a subject person's abilities, the more likely was the subject person to continue to let the masters control him. Unconsciously we parents sometimes meet a child's demand for more independence with this belittling technique.

Your child indeed lacks the sale shopping skills that experience has developed for you. If you don't want her to acquire some in this case, give her a straightforward "no" — but don't try to justify it by belittling her wish for independence. Though the men in the Congo are having an awful time with freedom's responsibilities, the men in Nigeria seem to be doing fine with them. That is because the parent empire which held them in subjection gave them opportunities to exercise their abilities, make mistakes and learn from them. Like colonial powers, parents cannot expect children to manage independence responsibly unless they are allowed to test their powers to manage it.

Couple Honeymooning at Miami Beach

Dr. Herbert Bisglier and his bride the former Dorothy Esther Brown of Detroit left for a honeymoon at Miami Beach following their marriage Wednesday evening at the Hotel Sheraton-Cadillac, Detroit. Rabbi Morris Adler of Sharret Zedek, Detroit, performed the ceremony in the presence of some 150 guests. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown of Detroit and the Philip Bisgliers of New York City. Handmade Alencon lace enhanced the bridal gown of candlelight light peau de sole styled with floor-length pyramid tiered skirt and cathedral train. A tiam of silk caught the veil of imported silk illusion.

White cypripedium orchids and foliage comprised the bride's hand-cascade bouquet. Mrs. Myron Novitz of Detroit, honor matron, appeared in a soft green pure silk print-sheath dress with bouffant overskirt. She held a colonial arrangement of pale green cymbidium orchids and ivory. Bridesmaid Ellen Bisglier, niece of the bridegroom, wore rose pink silk organza over tulle and carried a nosegay pink and red roses. Dr. Benjamin Bisglier stood as best man for his brother, who lives on Dwight Avenue. Guests were seated by Myron Novitz and Martin Eiler. Leaving for the southern honeymoon, the new Mrs. Bisglier was wearing a beige sheer wool costume suit and black patent accessories.

She is a graduate of Miss Newman's School for Girls and Wayne State University. Dr. Bisglier attended the University of Wisconsin and is an alumnus of the Columbia University school of optometry. The couple will live in Pontiac.

Who Pays the Girl's Hotel Bill?

By the Emily Post Institute
Q: My son is a freshman at college in another state. He would like to invite a hometown girl to a Spring Festival weekend at his college. He feels he is obliged to pay for her hotel accommodations. I am of the opinion that it is most improper for a man to pay for a young woman's lodging and that he merely makes a reservation for her at the hotel but she pays her own bill. What is correct in this situation?
A: It is not proper for a man alone to pay the hotel bill of a woman alone. However, in a college situation where there is no other place such as a fraternity house or dormitory given over to the girl guests, it is quite customary for the boys to get together and engage rooms for their guests at the local hotels which the girls share, and in this case the boys pay the bill.

Q: In announcing the engagement of one's daughter, is it correct to state that she is a direct descendant of so and so and the great-granddaughter of so and so?
A: You pass those seated in whatever way will disturb them the least, this is usually by facing the stage. If they should stand up for you, or if there should be more than ordinary amount of space between the seats, you would pass facing them.

Q: A friend and I disagree on the proper way to enter a row in a theater when occupying inner seats. Some say it is proper to face the stage. I say it is wrong to turn your back on people and that it is more courteous to face them as you pass. Will you settle this, please?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — If Congress approves President Kennedy's proposed Peace Corps, as expected, Eunice Kennedy Shriver will be moving to Washington this summer. That is one of the nicest things that could happen to this capital.

The tall, willowy athlete with the unruly shock of blonde hair is a remarkable feminine version of her brother, Jack. She looks like him to a degree unequalled by any other member of this unique, look-alike family.

Eunice is quite a gal! The wife of R. Sargent Shriver Jr., newly named head of the presidentially created Peace Corps, she is a natural-born politician like JFK himself, and like their maternal grandfather, John (Honey Fitz) Fitzgerald, the one-time mayor of Boston.

This mother of three also has an in-born social consciousness that is unrivaled by her six brothers and sisters, and a pique sense of humor that makes her a hit with wits, stunts, delinquents, jailbirds, politicians and social downers.

Like all Kennedys and their in-laws, Eunice swims, rides, skis and sails; plays golf, tennis and touch football. She seems to do everything effortlessly, and well.

On the campaign trail for her brother last fall, she amazed hardened officeholders by her political savvy. Touring Texas with a female contingent, she would grab the microphone with both hands and tell her Lone Star State audience:

"There are many reasons why you should elect my brother. He has a deep association with Texas. During the war he flew with the 488th Central Postal Directory, and was killed beside a boy from Texas, and we have kept in close contact with his family."

"The Kennedys feel close to Texas, and you have given us the greatest majority leader in history." The Texans ate up the sentimental corn, and so did Lyndon B. Johnson, who called long-distance to thank her when he heard about it.

As Eunice campaigned around the country, her husband called her every night to give her encouragement and read her what the New York papers were saying about the prospects. They have a real love match, these two.

LIKES SOCIAL WORK

Born almost 40 years ago in Brookline, Mass., Eunice was educated at several convents here and in England, including the fashionable Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart in New York.

For two years in the mid 1940s she worked in the prisoner of war section of the State Department, and then transferred to the Justice Department as executive secretary to the National Conference on Preventing Juvenile Delinquency. This led to her deep interest in social work.

In 1950 she became a social worker at the federal penitentiary for women in Alderson, West Virginia, and then transferred to the House of Good Shepherd and the juvenile court in Chicago.

Jack's senatorial campaign in 1952 interrupted her career. She flew to Massachusetts, and tolled day and night with her mother and sisters to help elect him to the upper chamber. The next year she married Sarge Shriver, the handsome young Yale graduate whom Joseph P. Kennedy installed as assistant general manager of his Merchandise Mart, the world's largest business building in Chicago.

MANY PROJECTS

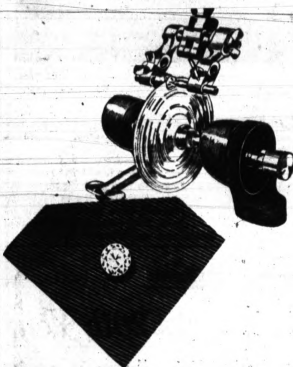

Eunice threw herself into worthy projects, including the Mayor's Commission on Youth Welfare, the American Red Cross and the Menninger Foundation.

She took a foster child into her home, and when the girl became 18 a few years ago, Eunice took in another, Patricia, who is now 16. She keeps a pony for her own three children, who range in age from 19 months to seven years.

She'll be a real addition to Washington, this Eunice, and few people will be in a better position to advise Director Shriver on the Youth Corps than his own wife.

Gray Ladies Hear Artist on Medicine

Artist Robert A. Thom of Birmingham, renowned for his paintings depicting "The History of Pharmacy" and "The History of Medicine," lectured at Tuesday's monthly meeting of the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Gray Ladies.

At present Mr. Thom's original paintings for the series are on exhibit in Bakersfield, Calif. Displays of the originals are booked in various museums and art centers throughout the country for the next ten years.

The artist showed slides illustrating his research methods to the 150 Gray Ladies and hospital staff members. His lectures covered various trips to Europe, including stops in London, Glasgow, Frankfurt and Zurich where he visited Dr. Edwin Ackersdahl, world's foremost medical historian.

In Paris Mr. Thom conferred with Dr. Ralph Setton, research expert and a doctor at the Sorbonne. Both Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of California are in hopes of adding Dr. Setton to their faculties in the near future, added Mr. Thom.

Scenes of Barcelona, Rome and the Spanish Riviera concluded the program.

Mrs. Lewis Zahn poured at the coffee hour which followed.

VFW Officers to Be Installed at Ceremony

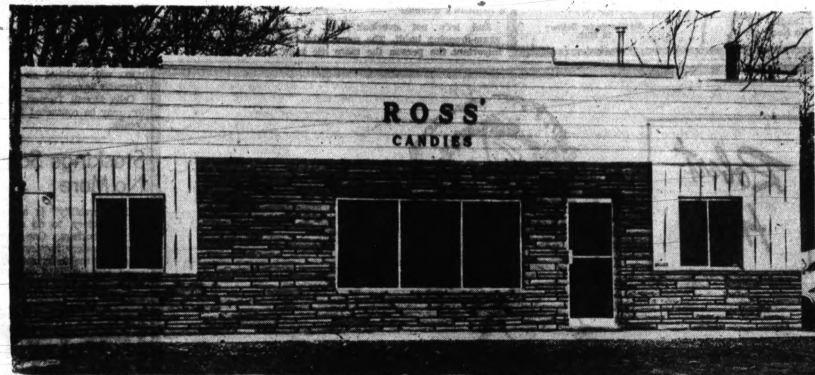

New officers for Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary 1008, will be installed at a public ceremony April 17 at the post rooms on East Pike Street.

The film "The Pontiac Story of Progress and Promise" will be shown by George W. Crabtree, assistant manager, Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, preceding an evening of cards on March 20.

A donation has been made by the group to the National Foundation.

Mrs. Ayers Miller will open her home on University Avenue March 29 for an all-day sewing session.

Many Ways to Brag — All Transparent

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Have you ever noticed how many ways women have of bragging to each other?

There's the complaining approach: "I told Jim I didn't want a thing for my birthday after all we spent on that winter cruise. And then the idiot went down and bought me an expensive mink stole."

"I think he ought to have his head examined."

There is the ruffal approach: "Just what do you do about a teenage daughter who is so busy dating, cheer-leading and going to parties that she doesn't have time to study?"

Then there is the "busy, busy, busy" approach: "I've meant to call you but I've been so busy. You know I'm president of the Guild now, and I've been working my head off as chairman of . . ."

And, of course, you know the asking approach: "I'd like your advice about junior. He has been offered scholarships to several colleges and it is hard knowing which one he ought to take."

'JUST LUCKY'

Then there is the "I'm so lucky" build-up: "I know I'm lucky, but my children have never given me a moment's trouble."

And let's not overlook the name-dropping habit. The more important the person the more important it is to be able to use a first name — or better yet, a nickname.

One thing all forms of bragging have in common is that they are never as subtle as they are meant to be.

No matter how cleverly one woman thinks she is about slipping a little bragging into her conversation, the woman she's trying to impress always knows what's coming.

Club Will Discuss Wardrobe Planning

A wardrobe-planning discussion was featured at a Maceday Gardens Extension Club meeting in the Percy King Drive home of Mrs. William Newhall. Mrs. William Sebring was hostess.

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce film "The Pontiac Story of Progress and Promise" will be shown to members and their husbands at the April meeting. Mrs. Harry Bock of Wilson Street, Drayton Plains, will be hostess.

Will-O-Way Will Offer Scholarships

Registrations Being Accepted for Spring
Term at Theater

Four scholarships for teen-ages boys and girls will be offered by the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre, West Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills.

Registrations for the spring term for all age groups will be accepted this week and next. Classes will begin between this Saturday and March 18.

Approved by the Michigan State Board of Education as a trade school in theatre, 2½ hour classes are offered once a week during the 10-week term.

All phases of dramatic training and theatre production, mime and movement studies, diction, radio speech and musical seminars in characterization will be featured this term.

Classes for children age 7 through 11 will be held Saturdays from 11:45 a.m. until 2 p.m. Beginners and advanced pupils ages 11 through 13 will be instructed from 2 to 4:15 with teen-ages scheduled at 4:15 until 6:30 on Saturdays or from 4 to 6 p.m. on Wednesdays. The teen-age workshop will be divided into beginning, intermediate and advanced sections.

Will-O-Way's professional workshop offers adults beginning and advanced technical seminars and scene studies on 'Monday' and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 11 p.m., with optional stagecraft on Thursday evenings.

Celia Merrill Turner, the director, may be contacted for further details.

"Recoverability" is a new factor in hosiery, to do away with baggy stockings. One manufacturer of hosiery uses special techniques to make nylons with unusual strength and elasticity to insure perfect fit for even the slimmest legs.

Has a Figure Problem

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Q. "I am 17 years old. One of my breasts is larger than the other. What could be causing this? My mother thinks that it is because one arm gets more exercise than the other. I am small in the bust anyway and one breast being smaller doesn't help. What should I do?"

A. Few women have breasts of exactly the same size, although the difference is not usually noticeable. I wonder if you are exaggerating your condition. If you use one arm much more than the other in any work or sport, it is possible that this might have an effect. First see your physician about this. Then you might take chest developing exercises, using only the arm on the small side.

PERMANENT REMOVAL

Q. "Can electrolysis be used to remove hair from the upper lip and the arms? Is this removal permanent?"

A. Yes. Electrolysis (removal of hair by an electric current) is the only permanent method of hair removal.

Q. "If I remove superfluous hair with a depilatory, will it grow back faster and thicker?"

A. No.

BLEMISHES UNDER SKIN

Q. "Can you help me? I have small blemishes just under the skin of my chin. Why do I have them in just this one spot and what can I do?"

A. You probably have them in this spot because the skin is often quite oily. Wash your face in soap and water several times daily, concentrating on the chin. You might also profit by the use of a complexion cream.

OVERWEIGHT

Q. "I am 12 years old, 5 feet 3 inches tall and weigh 145 pounds. I am wondering if I am overweight and should reduce. Please tell me in your column."

A. Yes, you are overweight, in fact quite a lot overweight. Since you are so young and have this much to lose, I think you should see your family physician and let him supervise your weight reduction. However, I have a leaf-

Q. "I understand that lemon juice will make a person thin. How much should I drink daily to lose 10 pounds?"

A. Lemon juice has very few calories but it will not make you thin. No food or drink makes one thin. A gain or a loss of weight depends on a person's caloric intake. Your calories should be spent on a well-balanced diet.

KEVELYN P. JOHNSON
Calhoun City, Miss.

I was the nearest young woman friend Mary had and she had sent me word a few days earlier that she wanted me with her when the time came for her fifth child to be born. When her two little sons came to me at 2 a.m. one day, I accompanied the boys to their home.

I hadn't seen Mary often because houses are far apart in the cotton country of the Delta and the people are too busy farming to visit much.

However, in passing the plantation where her husband was a sharecropper, I had often seen her either "chopping" or picking cotton and I would want to her and she would acknowledge my greeting with a cheery wave of her hand. It always amazed me that she could accept her lot in life so cheerfully; she, an impoverished, expectant mother who had to work hard in the cotton fields all day.

SHOCKINGLY SQUALID

The room where Mary and I sat down (and there were only two rooms) was shockingly squalid. There was a table, two double beds, two chairs, a washstand and a heater. The heater was a converted 50-gallon oil drum standing on end with fire in the bottom and with sand cut into the upper half.

Mary began to engage in small talk with me while I kept wondering when she intended to send for the doctor—or even if she'd have her baby that night. Not once did she complain of suffering any pain or discomfort.

Then, just as I was beginning to feel certain it was not yet time for her baby to be born, there came a light knock and a withered old Negro woman carrying a small black satchel entered the room. I could scarcely conceal my consternation when I realized that Mary intended to trust herself to the care of a midwife. It was lawful in our state (and still is), and I suppose the woman had had a lot of experience among women of little means, but I was filled with a rising sense of fear.

We were a long way from a doctor but to a young and unmarried woman like myself, childbirth seemed too precarious to manage without one.

I asked Mary to have my father fetch her a doctor, but she refused explaining that she could not afford one and that the midwife would be willing to wait for her fee.

At that point, Mary's husband came out of the other room where he had been sleeping and yawningly inquired as to how Mary was feeling, then went back to sleep.

Shortly after this, to my surprise, Mary told the midwife that she had been in pain for several hours and that the time had come for her to get in bed. In less than an hour, with the capable assistance of the midwife, Mary gave birth to a fine baby boy. And she did it without a single whimper or cry of pain.

BIBLE UNDER PILLOW

The midwife left in the early morning and I prepared breakfast for Mary and her family. Then it was that I noticed the corner of a Bible sticking out from under her pillow.

"Do you belong to a church?" I asked her suddenly.

She hesitated before answering, then smiled, and said: "No, I'm afraid not. We haven't got proper clothes. But we hold our own worship service every Sunday here in the house. Me and the children do. I mean, Bill—well he hasn't got religion yet. But he will soon 'cause I'm praying for him to."

"I know," she went on. "It sounds kinda crazy to say it, but I just know God will answer my prayer and that Bill will get religion soon. Ever since I put on the 'full armor of faith,' as the Book calls it, the Lord has been blessing me most wonderfully."

EASY TO BE UNAFRAID

I gazed about the miserable shack—blessing her? And then I realized the truth. Yes, she would feel wonderfully blessed, for she had learned to make the best of things and to face life with the courage of those who have donned the full armor of faith in God.

"Is that why you weren't afraid without a doctor?" I asked.

"Well not quite. You see there was a doctor here. I could feel His precious Presence all the time. It was really easy for me to be unfraid."

GTW Announces Five Appointments

DETROIT—Five senior appointments in the freight sales department of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad were announced here today by Harry A. Sanders, of 780 E. Square Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills, vice president and general manager.

The appointments are effective immediately in conjunction with the new plan of organization for the Grand Trunk Western-Canadian National System.

M. A. O'Brien, formerly assistant freight traffic manager, has been promoted to freight sales manager. He has also been elected a director of the Detroit and Toledo Line Railroad, with which the GTW is affiliated.

Milton J. Selcik, general freight agent, becomes assistant freight sales manager.

Gordon M. Newby, also a general freight agent, becomes assistant freight sales manager.

Richard J. Moreau, assistant general agent, has been named traffic analyst.

All four will have their offices at the railroad's headquarters in Detroit.

David Kantor, formerly assistant to the general freight traffic manager, U. S. lines of the Canadian National System, has been promoted to assistant freight sales manager of the Grand Trunk Western.

He will have his headquarters in Chicago.

Santa Fe, in New Mexico, which was settled in 1893 is generally believed to be second oldest, in the U. S.

Retail Class Is Model of PCH Curriculum

By BARR GREIFIN

Pontiac Central students in the retailing sequence of the business education curriculum gain valuable experience setting up and maintaining a display of merchandise in the showcase windows of Room 125, under the guidance of Thomas Atkinson, head of the business education department.

Students borrow merchandise from downtown stores and try to "sell" it to the class.

Stores which have furnished merchandise for this model store are George's Newsports, Cloom's, Dickinson's, Eaton's, Waite's, Penney's, United Shirt, and Kresge's.

Most retailing students are on the Co-Op program and work half the day in downtown stores, and the other half in the classroom.

Sometimes the salesmen will come to Central and speak to the class. Last week the group listened to Dick Jorgensen, a television salesman, tell about his work.

The purpose of this program is to help the student employees understand their work and become more valuable to their employer.

SELL SHAMROCKS
Next Friday, St. Patrick's Day, the junior homecomers will be selling shamrocks to the student body.

Junior will be competing for the privilege of having next year's American Field Service foreign exchange students in their homecomers.

The shamrocks will be sold for five cents and up.

Future Homecomers of America initiated 10 new members at a pool party held last Thursday in the PSCH pool.

The new members are Cheryl Allison, Betty Bell, Pam Everling, Mary Mitchell, Joan Whinn, Rosemary Mitchell, Linda Pyle, Judy Bellows, Mary Jo Brady, and Sandra Wheatley.

On March 21 FHA is planning a horseback ride at Teeple Hill.

"CAROUSEL" COMING
Tickets are now on sale for the spring musical "Carousel" to be presented April 6-8 and 13-15.

The evening performances will be April 7, 8, 14, and 15 and the matinees on 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15. Admission to the April 6 and 13 matinees will be 50 cents.

Appearing on the 500 publicity posters and 6,000 programs is the design of commercial art student Chris Lauckner. Chris' design was chosen from over 30 submitted and is done in navy, aqua, and red on a white background.

Tuesday night a group of Central students and faculty enjoyed an evening performance of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "The Sound of Music" at the Riviera Theater in Detroit.

Tomorrow morning the sophomores and juniors will be taking the National Educational Development Test and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Besides the possibility of obtaining scholarships, these tests are also valuable as colleges consider them when application is made.

U. of M. Is Large but Not Too Big, Claims Senator

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Stanley G. Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, declined today's Thayer, of Michigan, was too large, adding that it would continue to accept as many qualified students as possible.

Thayer, replying to a charge by Sen. Clarence Graber, R-Saginaw, that Wayne State, Michigan State and Michigan are "too big for their britches," said "I don't think Michigan has been guilty of extremism."

"It always has been large and its growth has been natural. It is partially because of its size that it enjoys its present position as one of the world's top institutions."

The student council sponsored activity provides fun during an evening of dancing and athletic activities. Refreshments will be served at the cafeteria.

The artists behind these works are senior, Linda Tulaia, who entered a portfolio of twelve drawings, and sophomore Vicki Davidson, who entered a collage.

These girls are now eligible to win gold medals with their names engraved on them plus cash prizes up to $50.

Other award winning entries were submitted by Judy Wade, Joellin Frost, and Vernice Brady. Don't forget the recreation night tonight at the school.

The student council sponsored activity provides fun during an evening of dancing and athletic activities. Refreshments will be served at the cafeteria.

The purpose of the fair is to afford scientifically-inclined students the opportunity to enter their work in competition and to place it before the public eye. Students in junior high as well as high school are urged to enter their projects in either the junior division (grades 7-9) or the senior division (10-12).

Displays must be entered under one of five classifications: biology, engineering, chemistry, physics, or general science. The only requirements for the projects are that they be self-explanatory and that the work be done entirely by the student.

Judging of the projects will be determined on a point basis. Some qualities to be considered are scientific thought, dramatic value, clarity, and general appearance. Judges will be professional people such as doctors and lawyers.

The exhibition will be open to the general public.

Both tests will begin bright and early Saturday morning at 8:30, and will last about three hours.

Other students have been writing tests too. Beatrice Stephens, Barbara Everett, Jean Ibbel, and Bill McManis traveled to Michigan State University last week to take part in the Alumni Distinguished Scholarship competition.

The four seniors were among approximately 700 from the United States, Japan, and the Canal Zone who are hoping for one of the top $4,000 grants.

Numerous smaller awards will also be based on test results.

Top quality books for both elementary and secondary school pupils were on display when the Pontiac Public School librarians presented their annual bookfair in the Northern library, March 7-8.

Visitors browsed from 8:30 to 5:00 each day looking over new books in many fields.

The fair next also opens Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7:00 to 9:00.

During these two sessions, parents were free to examine the volumes at leisure while small children were entertained by two excellent movies.

Thayer, replying to a charge by Sen. Clarence Graber, R-Saginaw, that Wayne State, Michigan State and Michigan are "too big for their britches," said "I don't think Michigan has been guilty of extremism."

"It always has been large and its growth has been natural. It is partially because of its size that it enjoys its present position as one of the world's top institutions."

The student council sponsored activity provides fun during an evening of dancing and athletic activities. Refreshments will be served at the cafeteria.

The artists behind these works are senior, Linda Tulaia, who entered a portfolio of twelve drawings, and sophomore Vicki Davidson, who entered a collage.

These girls are now eligible to win gold medals with their names engraved on them plus cash prizes up to $50.

Other award winning entries were submitted by Judy Wade, Joellin Frost, and Vernice Brady. Don't forget the recreation night tonight at the school.

The student council sponsored activity provides fun during an evening of dancing and athletic activities. Refreshments will be served at the cafeteria.

The purpose of the fair is to afford scientifically-inclined students the opportunity to enter their work in competition and to place it before the public eye. Students in junior high as well as high school are urged to enter their projects in either the junior division (grades 7-9) or the senior division (10-12).

Displays must be entered under one of five classifications: biology, engineering, chemistry, physics, or general science. The only requirements for the projects are that they be self-explanatory and that the work be done entirely by the student.

Judging of the projects will be determined on a point basis. Some qualities to be considered are scientific thought, dramatic value, clarity, and general appearance. Judges will be professional people such as doctors and lawyers.

The exhibition will be open to the general public.

SENIORS ORDER
Senior class members have

Both tests will begin bright and early Saturday morning at 8:30, and will last about three hours.

Other students have been writing tests too. Beatrice Stephens, Barbara Everett, Jean Ibbel, and Bill McManis traveled to Michigan State University last week to take part in the Alumni Distinguished Scholarship competition.

The four seniors were among approximately 700 from the United States, Japan, and the Canal Zone who are hoping for one of the top $4,000 grants.

Numerous smaller awards will also be based on test results.

Top quality books for both elementary and secondary school pupils were on display when the Pontiac Public School librarians presented their annual bookfair in the Northern library, March 7-8.

Visitors browsed from 8:30 to 5:00 each day looking over new books in many fields.

The fair next also opens Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7:00 to 9:00.

During these two sessions, parents were free to examine the volumes at leisure while small children were entertained by two excellent movies.

Dick Plans First Political Speech Since His Defeat

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon speaks before the Republican State Central Committee here Saturday in his first political appearance since the November election.

There's no advance assurance that the former vice president will say yes, no or maybe to running for governor of California.

He's certain, however, to pledge support to the state party in the 1962 campaign.

EXHIBITING SCIENCE PROJECTS—With the annual Science Fair in full swing at St. Michael's High School, the auditorium floor is full of scientific projects. Among those taking an active role in the exhibit are (from left) Mike Magan, Donald Gurtin, physics teacher; and David Baumgartner. Mike's project is on the human eye. Gurtin is inspecting a physics project.

and Dave shows his study of how an air thermometer works. There are some 150 displays covering all aspects of scientific endeavor. The impressive exhibit will be open to the public until 9 tonight and tomorrow. The students' long hours of hard work were rewarded this afternoon when judging took place.

26 Compete in Forensics at Clarkston

By JANET TISCH
Talking for their own enjoyment, yet having something worthwhile to talk about, 26 students participated in Clarkston High School's annual forensic contests the past week.

Under the coaching and supervision of dramatics and speech teacher Lorna Wildon, the group studied the various types of dramatic and humorous readings offered in forensic competition.

Categories the students participated in were declamation, improvisation, extemporaneous oratory and humorous.

Betty Raby and Janet Tisch took first and second places in the declamation contests with their readings of "And God Created Man" and "The Despondent and the Dedicated."

One of the most difficult of the group to participate in is interpretative reading. Students must select from a group of five readings a selection he has studied before hand.

The winners in this category were Sally Moore, with her reading of "Quality," and Alicia Lawrence, who read, "Silence."

Students participating in the extemporaneous group selected their topics and prepared them for reading in the school library. In the final contest, Earl Pearson won first place; Gary Baker, second; and Billy Blackett, third.

ORATORY DIFFICULT
Linda Chapman and Carlyn Rogers participated in the original oratory group. This could be classified as the most difficult, since the participants are required to write and memorize their own speeches.

Carlyn took first with her reading of "A Man in the Balcony," and second place went to Linda with her reading of "Challenge of Our Times."

In the humorous group, Gay Ann Hoffman took first and John Payne, second.

Pupils Display 150 Projects

Hold Annual Science Fair at St. Mike's

By PAT BURNS
One of the year's most anticipated events for science students at St. Michael's High School is taking place this week — the 9th annual Science Fair.

A display of various projects in the fields of biology, physics, mathematics and general science is for excellent projects, and white ribbons go to students for very good projects.

This year, the Science Fair is under the direction of Sister Euphrasia, biology and math teacher, and Donald Gurtin, physics, math and general science teacher.

The public is cordially invited to see this display of unusual talent.

APPROXIMATELY 150 PROJECTS are on display for the public in the school auditorium.

Students have been working busily the past month preparing their projects for the fair and the result of their hard work is evident.

JUDGE PROJECTS
Judging of the various projects took place at 2:30 this afternoon by three specialized judges — Stanley Chochlek, from Rockwell Standard Corp.; Harry Dumont, from Burroughs Corp.; and John Reyer, from the Detroit Arsenal.

The projects were judged on originality, general content of knowledge, skill, planning explanation and presentation. Two gold ribbons are awarded to the best project, two more to outstanding projects.

Blue ribbons are awarded to students for superior projects, red ribbons are awarded to students for excellent projects, and white ribbons go to students for very good projects.

In order for all the students to be able to go on the trip a point system has been devised by Harvey Fletcher, drafting and shop instructor, and one of the senior class sponsors.

It is a plan whereby, for every dollar a student makes for the senior treasury he or she gets a point.

Such activities as raffles, bake sales, car washes, and Christmas card sales are means of acquiring the points.

Some of the students already have the number of points they need and are all set to go.

The seniors have chosen a four-day trip which will take them by train to Chicago. They spend a day in Chicago and then leave by boat for Sault Ste. Marie and Mackinaw Island.

After going through the locks and touring Mackinaw Island, the boat travels toward home.

Highlights of the spring and summer besides the trip will be the senior class carnival and the prom. These activities will end for the students on graduation night, June 8.

$2.6 Million Is Planned for Jackson Area Roads
LANSING (AP) — A $2.6-million highway improvement program for Jackson County was announced Thursday by the State Highway Department.

The program includes development of a new north-south business route in Jackson. Projects will be undertaken between July 1, 1962 and June 30, 1967.

WILL FLIP FLAPJACKS at Bloomfield Hills

By DICK NETTKE
Anybody who loves pancakes is invited to a pancake supper in the cafeteria of Bloomfield Hills High School, Wednesday, March 15.

A nominal charge will pay for all the pancakes and sausage that a person can eat.

This event will be sponsored by "The Shield," the student newspaper of BHS.

Last Wednesday was a musical day at Bloomfield Hills High School. The entire school was treated to an hour of exceptionally fine music by the Michigan State University Glee Club.

The club showed a fine repertoire, ranging from popular and show tunes to the classics.

The thanks of the student body go to Clarence Luchmann for his fine arrangements with the MSU Glee Club and the MSU music department.

Also on Wednesday, Karl Hagg, music director of radio station WJR gave a talk on classical music to all who obtained the free tickets.

The intent of Mr. Hagg's talk was to promote a greater love of the classics and a fonder appreciation of their merits.

Orion Seniors Staging Three-Act Play Tonight

By ROSEMARY MORAN
Tonight the Lake Orion High School seniors are presenting the three act play "Jenny Kissed Me," written by Jean Kerr.

The play is under the direction of Jean Marcelli, head of the play department at Lake Orion, and student directors Wayne Goodwin and Delene Michealski. Miss Laura Gardner, 12th grade English Literature teacher, has designed the set.

Peggy Lane is in charge of costumes and Stan Liebart is in charge of the props.

The play is being presented in the high school gym at 8 o'clock and admission is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

Tickets to the play may be purchased from any high school senior or at the door.

When the stay extends over eight or nine weeks he realizes that the only way he's going to get rid of her is to marry her off.

Norma Walter portrays the housekeeper, Mrs. Ditzzy. Ernie Cook plays Michael Sanders, Marjane Noble plays the nun, Mary Anderson plays Owen Parkside, and Doug Larson plays Mr. Parkside.

Also in the cast are Marlene Burnett, Bonnie Simms, Janet Hamacher, Rosemary Moran, Rachel Turbomole, and Jean Hood.

The play is under the direction of Jean Marcelli, head of the play department at Lake Orion, and student directors Wayne Goodwin and Delene Michealski. Miss Laura Gardner, 12th grade English Literature teacher, has designed the set.

PNH Pupils Get Tested Saturday

Sophomores and Juniors to Take Development, Scholarship Exams

By BILL RAMSEY
"How well am I doing?" Countless students ask themselves this question every day.

Usually they can only guess, but tomorrow, sophomores and juniors who really want to know will have an opportunity to find out.

Those who have registered will be taking standardized tests to measure their abilities in five important areas.

For sophomores it's the National Educational Development Test. This examination, taken by students all over the country, will show the pupil just where he ranks among his fellows.

His scores in the areas of English, social studies, natural science, mathematics and word usage will enable him to play his future courses in high school and give an indication of his ability to do college work. They also aid teachers and counselors in spotting gifted students.

JUNIORS COMPLETE
Juniors are taking the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. They will be quizzed on the same subjects, but with the added incentive of competing for National Merit Scholarships.

Both tests will begin bright and early Saturday morning at 8:30, and will last about three hours.

Other students have been writing tests too. Beatrice Stephens, Barbara Everett, Jean Ibbel, and Bill McManis traveled to Michigan State University last

Business Predictions for April Teeter on See-Saw

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Rarely have so many offered so much advice on what to expect of the coming month. Can the ordinary citizen be blamed if he wonders if any of the experts really know? April prospects are being painted in glowing colors. They are being depicted as a more indeed. They are being seen by others as likely to holdout false hope for the unwary.

The facts right now aren't too much help.

If you go by the official figures alone, important sectors of the economy are far from being in the best of health. Some plants are closed. Others are running on reduced schedules. The lines at the employment payment windows are lengthening. Many manufacturers report new orders more of a hope than an actuality.

But if you look closer at some of the official figures, you can find reasons for assurance. In most cases this is because the business curves that are on the down side aren't falling as fast as they once did. And all past cycles went too far to fit the

Too Many Variables Overseas U.S. Best Spot to Make Film

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The troubles with "Cleopatra" underscore the movie industry's growing disenchantment with filming overseas. More and more, producers are coming to the conclusion that unless there is a good reason not to, shoot it here.

Reason is that studios have some assurance in Hollywood that weather, working conditions and a d players' health will be fairly predictable. Whatever savings can be made by cheaper sets and extras abroad can be wiped out by lengthy delays, as with "Cleopatra."

The whole town THOMAS has been wondering how "20th Century-Fox would try to film an Egyptian spectacle in an English winter. Equally puzzling is why MGM would plan exterior of "Mutiny on the Bounty" during the Tahitian rainy season.

Teen Idol Mino's an Oscar Nominee

The Joke's on Sal's Detractors

By VERNON SCOTT
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — They laughed when Sal stood up to act... but not any more.

At the age of 22 Sal Mino has won his second Academy Award nomination, a record unlikely to be matched unless Tuesday Weld gets making like Greta Garbo in a hurry.

During his six-year sojourn in Hollywood the dark-haired youngster has been something of a laughing stock, principally because of his role as juvenile delinquents and his large and ugly idolization by screaming teen-agers.

Any television or nightclub comic could get a laugh by throwing Sal's name into his patter. But Sal isn't the butt of jokes any more.

Limit Nationalists, Says Mrs. Roosevelt

AMHERST, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, a U. S. delegate to the United Nations, proposed that the Nationalist Chinese U. N. delegation be limited to representing Formosa.

"The fiction of Formosa representing the Chinese people will not be acceptable at the next session," she said Thursday night in a speech at University of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Roosevelt said Red China currently is unqualified for U. N. membership because of warlike declarations and invasion of Tibet. She pointed out that every nation desiring admittance to the U. N. must declare its peaceful intentions.

Bonn Confident in U.S.

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said Thursday night West Germany's ties with the Western allies are stronger than ever. He told a rally that the Bonn government was "calm and confident" regarding U. S. foreign policy.

His performance as Dov Landau in "Exodus" brought rave reviews from critics and an Oscar nomination. His first nomination came in 1955 for "Rebel Without a Cause," the Jimmy Dean starrer.

"Despite his recognized talents as an actor the New York son of Sicilian immigrants was getting the brush-off from movie producers, and his career was suffering a bad case of the dunks."

"After 'Rebel' I had a terrible time getting good roles in 'A' pictures," Sal said while devouring lunch at the Brown Derby.

"So I made 'B' pictures and tried a singing career. One of my records, 'Start Moving,' sold a million copies. But the more successful I became as a singer the worse it was for my acting ambitions."

"People in the movie business began to think of me as a rock and roll singer, so I gave it up. The money was great, but I want to be a serious actor. I got mighty tired of having people ask me if I carried a zip gun and a switchblade. They sort of expected me to wear blue jeans and a black leather jacket."

But Otto Preminger came to Sal's rescue with "Exodus," which Sal feels sure has pointed his career back in the right direction.

He still doesn't understand why comedians get so many chuckles with his name.

"I live in New York," he went on, "and I want to see the Mike Nichols and Elaine May show on Broadway. I almost dropped dead when my name got the biggest laugh of the night."

"Mike was portraying a reporter interviewing a dumb starlet, played by Elaine. He asked her if she was going to make a movie, and she said, 'Yes, I'm starring in a movie on the life of Ernest Hemingway. Sal Mino is playing Hemingway.'"

"The theater broke up. I failed to see what was so funny, so I went back to see the show a couple of more times, and the audience was still breaking up. I don't get it."

Dressed neatly in a conservative suit and tie, the dark-complexioned Mino looked more like a violin student than a teenage craze.

He's well-mannered, soft-spoken and anything but delinquent.

The night after the Academy Awards show, April 18, Sal will co-star with Peter Falk (also a nominee for best supporting actor) in NBC-TV's "Cry Vengeance."

"It's possible one of the stars will be an Oscar winner."

"In 1955 I lost out to Jack Palance," Sal said. "This year I might have a better chance. If I don't make it I would like to see Peter come through. We became good friends working on the television show."

"But win or lose, it's good to be aiming at 'A' pictures again."

Angry Met Star Doesn't Detect the Real Slight

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Metropolitan Opera star Rise Stevens interrupted her aria, slapped a gloved hand against the piano, and snapped:

"I'm sorry, ladies and gentlemen, but there are two girls in the audience who have been giggling during the entire thing. They are driving me out of my mind."

Quiet was restored. But Miss Stevens didn't notice another distraction during the concert.

Several patrons had brought along transistor radios to listen to the broadcast of a nearby high school basketball tournament.

Laos Plans Elections, Talks to End War

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Neutralist former Premier Souvanna Phouma of Laos and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, the strongman of the Western-backed Laotian government, agreed today on a program of conferences and eventual national elections that they hope will end the civil war in their strategic little nation.

Prince Souvanna undertook to sell the program to the pro-Communist rebels and Pathet Lao guerrillas, who control much of the Laotian countryside and up to now have recognized him as the legal head of government.

Orders Owner of Hotel to Court

Lake Orion Man Asked to Show Reason He Shouldn't Quit Building

LAKE ORION — Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem has ordered the owner of the 80-year-old village hotel, which officials claim is a hazard to explain why he shouldn't be made to vacate the building.

Frank Dunaski, owner of the Lake Orion Hotel, 52-54 S. Broadway St., has a March 20 court date to answer a show cause order. The order could give the village a temporary injunction prohibiting Dunaski's continued occupancy of the hotel.

The village sued in Circuit Court yesterday, naming Dunaski, Donald Lang, owner and operator of a tavern located in the hotel, and John Doe and Mary Roe — representing the five named permanent occupants of the hotel — as defendants.

The village charged in the suit that the hotel was a public nuisance and a hazard to the health and safety of the public.

Village officials also asked the court for an order of discovery which would allow them to enter the hotel and inspect it.

REFUSED INSPECTION

After condemning the hotel, as unsafe on Dec. 20, the suit alleges Dunaski refused village inspectors entrance to the hotel Feb. 13 for continued inspection. An inspection was necessary to point out improvements necessary or condemnation would be carried out.

Despite the refusal to enter the hotel last month, the suit lists 25 electrical deficiencies in the hotel and 17 faults in the Ver-Wood bar, gleamed from an inspection made in January.

In addition, there are improper heating, fire and sanitary facilities, the suit says.

"The building has a sagging floor and could collapse," the suit alleges. On an attached exhibit, Village Five Chief Jack Cayler said his department has made at least five calls to the hotel during the past two years.

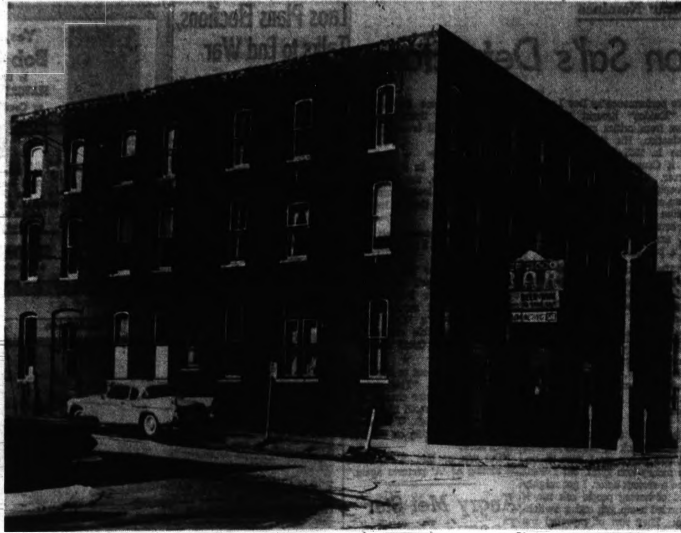

Ferndale Man Dies in M66 Auto Crash

MARION — Irvin Taylor, 85, of 603 Gardendale, Ferndale, suffered fatal injuries Thursday, state police said, in a highway crash on M66 about three miles north of Marion.

Taylor died at Mercy Hospital in Cadillac shortly after suffering injuries as a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Emma M. Hess, 47, of 553 Flowerdale St., also of Ferndale.

Officers said their southbound auto skidded out of control into a piled truck driven by Eddie Uber, 45, of Harrison. Uber escaped serious injury.

Mrs. Hess was hospitalized at Cadillac. She was returning Taylor from a relative's funeral.

SAFETY HAZARD?—Whether or not the 80-year-old Lake Orion Hotel on South Broadway Street constitutes a "threat to life and limb" will be decided in the courts. Frank Dunaski, owner of the hotel in the heart of Lake Orion's business district, will appear in Circuit Court March 20 to answer charges, alleging that his building is a "hazard to the health and safety of the public."

Area Woman to Help Conduct Theater Census

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP—A Washington Township woman is a member of a state committee that will conduct a census of all "live" theater productions in the state.

She is Mrs. Richard W. Covert of 5130 Lockwood Drive, who has been named to serve on the Theatre and Theatre Arts Committee of the governor's recently appointed Michigan Cultural Commission.

The census will be based on a 10-part division of the state, and fact sheets will seek information of all types of live performances, the kinds of theatrical companies involved, audience participation, buildings and programming.

The information, to be collected under the direction of Prof. Leon and Leone of the Wayne State University Theatre, will be used as a guide for study and recommendations.

The group is seeking ways to assist and improve the range of theatrical activity in the state.

Census Error Reduces San Francisco to 12th

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco slid quietly from 11th to 12th place among the United States' populous cities today because it erroneously included 2,339 sailors in the 1960 census.

The chamber of commerce reported a census clerk mistakenly credited the crew of the aircraft carrier Coral Sea to San Francisco. But the ship's home port is Alameda, across San Francisco Bay.

Walled Lake Studies Spraying of Trees

WALLED LAKE—A proposal to spray trees to prevent Dutch elm disease is being considered by the City Council.

Councilmen said, however, that no action will be taken until a thorough study is made of the problem and they can learn of citizen reaction to tree spraying.

City manager George Shaw said it has been estimated by one spraying firm that the city has 500 trees that could be included in the program.

Another proposal to be studied by the council is accident insurance for volunteer firemen. A report on the plan will be made at the March 21 meeting.

The city has 15 volunteer firemen.

Expert Expects Overexpansion in Poultry Area

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Michigan State University agricultural economist has predicted an overexpansion in the poultry industry that will force down prices and earnings this year.

Economist Henry D. Larzelere said current production plans point to an overexpansion. Poultry producers are expected to start the second half of this year, he said.

Prices in the last quarter will be sharply lower than the relatively high prices in October-December 1960, he said. In the third quarter, Larzelere added, wholesale prices for grade A large eggs will average about .06 cents a dozen — several cents a dozen below last year's level.

Turkey farm prices for the last four months of 1961 will average four to five cents below the national average for the same period last year.

Program on Holland to Feature Lenten Tea

ROCHESTER — A program on Holland will be featured at the annual Lenten tea to be given at 2 p.m. next Thursday by the Altar Guild of St. Philip's Episcopal Church here.

Guest speakers will be Mr. and Mrs. Harn Drenne, who spent six months last year in the Netherlands while he was field co-ordinator and acting director general of the 1960 Floriade in Rotterdam.

An internationally known horticulturist, Drenne formerly was superintendent of the old D. M. Ferry Co. (now the Ferry-Morse Seed Co.) stock and seed farm, south of town.

He and his wife will give a running commentary about their trip, illustrating their remarks with colored slides.

Tea will be served after the program, and a silver offering will be taken. The affair is open to the public.

Wakefield Man OK'd

LANSING (AP) — The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Walter Nunnemaker, 47, of Wakefield, as director of the state civil defense office for an indefinite term. The vote was 55-1.

Eight Candidates Seek 3 Spots in South Lyon

SOUTH LYON — Eight candidates will vie for three city posts in the April 3 election here. Terms expiring then are those of mayor and two councilmen.

Two candidates are seeking the post of mayor. They are Justice of the Peace John Alley and former police chief John Noel.

Incumbent councilmen Donald Scheel and Reynold Sweet will seek to regain their posts. Other candidates for council are Ralph Lloyd, Vince Winesberger, Delbert E. Curry and Robert Pollack.

Incumbent Mayor Ross Sinclair has refused to seek re-election.

The deadline for filing nominating petitions in the nonpartisan election was 4 p.m. yesterday.

Women Will Vote

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Provisional League of Women Voters will hold its annual election of officers at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Paul's Methodist Church, 632 Romeo Road.

To Attend Art Meeting

ROCHESTER — Mrs. Dorothy Whipple, head of the elementary art department of the Rochester Community Schools, will attend a board meeting Saturday of officers and liaison officers of the Michigan Art Education Association in East Lansing.

Mrs. Whipple is liaison officer of the art group of District 7, Oakland County, Michigan Education Association. The Saturday session will be at the Union Building on the campus of Michigan State University.

Delay Exam of Youthful Drag Racer

The examination in Bloomfield Hills Justice Court of a 17-year-old Avon Township youth charged with leaving the scene of an injury accident will be heard 11 a.m. March 23.

Calvin Barr of 2835 Devondale St. was to appear yesterday before Justice of the Peace Alva Richardson but neither the defendant nor his attorney was able to attend and asked for the postponement.

The charge was brought against Barr after he allegedly left the scene of an accident on Woodward Avenue following a drag race.

Witnesses told Bloomfield Hills police that a car driven by Barr and another driven by John A. Hope, 17, of 321 Fisher St., Clawson, were racing north on Woodward when they bumped fenders, causing Hope to lose control and smash into a tree. Hope suffered head injuries.

Police arrested Barr later at his home after witnesses obtained his license number.

12-Town Drain Appeal Still On

An attorney said yesterday he had been instructed by Madison Heights officials to continue with the city's appeal of a 12-town storm drain ruling to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Harry N. Dell of Royal Oak said he had been so instructed Wednesday morning following a meeting in Royal Oak of mayors and councilmen of the cities to be served by the $47 million drain.

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry said he believed the Tuesday night meeting would iron out the last of the city's complaints against the long-awaited drain, and that the city would drop its appeal to the highest court in the land.

But Dell said in Pontiac yesterday that "what Mr. Barry told the officials at the meeting was entirely different from what he had presented before." So officials instructed him to follow through with the printing of his leave to appeal "application to the high court, he said.

High Interest Reported in Three Communities

General Elections Slated Monday in 15 Area Villages

Only a small turnout of voters is expected in 15 area villages where general elections are being held Monday with the probable exception of three.

They are Rochester, Metamora and Imlay City where interest is high in all races.

In most instances the election will amount to little more than confirmation of nominations made in the Feb. 20 primary or re-election of incumbents who are unchallenged in their bids to run again for their present posts.

The only community where a proposition will be decided by the electorate is Wood Creek Farms. The proposal asks approval of a contract with Farmington Township for capacity rights into the Farmington Interceptor Sewer.

Following is a roundup of the slates of officers to be voted on in each community at the polls which will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday:

Romeo

Registered voters in Romeo will be casting their ballots in two separate elections Monday.

They will go to the village hall to vote in the village spring election and to the Washington Township hall to decide a three-mill tax levy for school operation.

The village election will amount to merely confirmation of nominations made in the Feb. 20 primary.

Up for re-election to their present posts are Village President Wayne N. Black, Clerk Dorothy G. Carl, Treasurer Elaine M. Hoser, Assessor Elgin F. Edgar Sr., and Library Directors Adger S. Priest and C. E. Preston.

The three who beat out the incumbents in the primary for the three council positions are Marvin Siewer, Donald Deemer and Howard Pallister.

If school district voters approve the three-mill operational tax, it will be levied for seven years. This is a similar proposal to the one defeated Feb. 3 by 49 votes.

School district electors outside the village will cast their ballots at the Washington Township hall in Washington and at the Davis School.

Clarkston

The village election in Clarkston is expected to be a "cut-and-dried" affair amounting merely to confirmation of nominations made at the Republican caucus Feb. 20.

Robert Voss was nominated president, replacing Russell Coleman. Chosen again to run for their present positions were Clark R. Thayer, Treasurer, Howard Altman and Assessor Lloyd Sibley.

Incumbents James Huttenlocher, L. R. Oakley and Gerald Wilford, and new hopeful Harold Goyette were nominated for trustee vacancies.

Dryden

Candidates for the seven elective offices in Dryden will be unopposed Monday. All but two of the candidates are incumbents.

Seeking re-election are Village President Robert White, Clerk Mildred Gray, Treasurer Gladys Harrington, Assessor Robert Weingartz and Trustee Robert McCauley.

William Farnum and Irvine Taggart are the candidates for the two other openings on the Village Council.

Almont

Norman Hamilton, the Almont party candidate, will attempt to unseat Village party incumbent Donald Cochran from his position as village trustee in the only contest in Almont.

Trustee Robert Voss is the only member of the Almont party who currently holds office in the village. Voss is unchallenged in his bid for re-election.

Also unopposed are Village party incumbents George Juhl, council

Rochester

A large turnout of voters is expected at the polls Monday in Rochester where eight candidates, including four incumbents, are seeking election to the four council vacancies.

The incumbents are Clarence M. Barr, Roy Rowold, Jay E. Dred and John Boeberitz. They are being challenged by Floyd C. Cummings, Dale Cypher, John Lewis and Harold Miller.

The three men polling the highest number of votes will serve for two years. The fourth in line will be elected for one year.

Those elected Monday will be sworn in at the village council's organizational meeting March 27. Then the council, in turn, will elect its own president.

Armada

Current village officials in Armada, all members of the People's party, are expected to be returned to office Monday. No candidates filed nominating petitions to run against the incumbents.

Seeking re-election will be Village President Robert E. Halloway, Clerk Byron W. Wright, Treasurer Carl Plautman, Assessor Neuman P. Frost and Trustees Louis Oden, Carl Ballard and Arthur Johnson.

Imlay City

Eight candidates are vying for the four positions on the Imlay City Village Council while John H. Balfour is unchallenged in his bid for the treasurer's position.

Four-year council terms will go to the three top vote-getters in Monday's election while the candidate with the fourth highest vote will serve for two years. The new council will select its own president after the election.

Included in the council race are three incumbents, including Roy Harley, Joseph Malson and Merlyn Muir. The fourth council opening was created by the recent death of former councilman William Lengerhammer.

Others are Albert Hill, John MacDonald Jr., Evans Parrott, Ernest E. Simmons and William Treadgold.

The treasurer candidate is seeking the office being vacated this year by Herman A. Kersten.

Lake Orion

Although all candidates for public office in Lake Orion are without opposition, what can happen at the last minute to turn a seemingly quiet campaign into an all-out race was illustrated here last year.

Irvine J. Unger, a retired Detroit city official, did not file a nominating petition but ran as a sticker candidate and won the village presidency over the then incumbent William Shoup.

Unger now is seeking re-election along with Clerk Mary Parkinson, treasurer Geraldine Campbell, Assessor Geraldine Storey and trustee candidates, Gilbert Woodcock, David Erlanson and Robert Hauswell Sr.

All but Woodcock are incumbents. He is seeking to fill the trustee position being vacated by the retirement of Carroll Kirkpatrick.

Milford

Two incumbent councilmen will be challenged in the only race for offices here.

Councilmen Vernon Rouns and Paul Plotter will be opposed for the 2 1/2 year terms by Calvin Lawrence and Edward Neale.

Wilbur Johnson is unopposed in his bid for village president as is Maxwell Kelly for the one-year term council post.

Holly

Candidates seeking the seven village posts in Holly are without competition.

The unopposed candidates are incumbents Aram Krikorian, president; George Patterson, clerk; Hilda Anderson, treasurer; Grant Hulet, assessor; and Fred Disbrow, councilman.

Clarence L. Lester and John Oldani are seeking the two other council posts.

Two former councilmen are vying for the village presidency in Wood Creek Farms. They are Norman E. Kreider and Harry O. Lang.

Unopposed for the two expiring council vacancies are incumbent Mrs. Conrad Lam and former Village Clerk Arthur J. Beach.

Voters also will be asked to approve a proposed contract with Farmington Township for capacity rights into the Farmington Interceptor Sewer.

The contract would mean the village would continue collecting a $20 tap-in fee for each new home built. The village has been doing this for two years.

The money would be used to supplement connection charges if the village ever has need of the sewer facilities.

Leonard

Village President Lawson Shiek heads the list of seven incumbents who will be seeking re-election on the Citizens party ticket in Leonard. All candidates will be unopposed.

Other candidates include Clerk John Lobben, Treasurer Lucille Porter, Assessor Wilma Gabriel and Trustees John Sutherby, Dwight Patterson and Charles Hamilton.

Eugene Mallia, who is seeking to fill a vacancy for a one-year council term, is the only nonincumbent.

Metamora

Metamora will be the scene of one of the liveliest elections in the area Monday when a full slate of Citizens party candidates will attempt to unseat Progressive party incumbents from office.

On opposite sides of the political fence in the election are two brothers, William and Howard Ribble.

William Ribble, a Progressive party incumbent, will be seeking to retain his post as councilman while his brother will be running as a Citizens party incumbent for one of the three council openings.

Other incumbents, all members of the Progressive party, are Village President Percy Clark, Clerk Grove C. Morse, Treasurer Mrs. Jeannette Schenkel and Trustee Charles Flower.

Mrs. Schenkel's husband George, a candidate for trustee, is one of two members of the Progressive party who currently does not hold office. The other is Victor Martin, assessor candidate.

Oxford

Three nonpartisan candidates, two of them incumbents, are unopposed in their bids for re-election as Oxford councilmen. The council posts are the only offices to be filled Monday.

Gerald C. Orlich and Edmund A. Unger are the incumbents. E. Wayne Converse is seeking the council seat being vacated this year by Neil Coulter.

Ortonville

Village President Raymond Barlick and his fellow Citizens party candidates, all of them incumbents, are expected to face no opposition in Ortonville's election.

Other present office holders who will seek re-election are Clerk L. A. Unger, assessor; E. Wayne Saunders, assessor; Weber Ware and Trustees Alan Stevens, Donald Barnes and John Teare. No other candidates have filed nominating petitions to challenge the incumbents.

SCOUTS HONOR DOCTORS — Two young Clarkston doctors of osteopathy, Ronald R. LePere and Alfred S. Hamilton, have been given an honor award plaque from Boy Scout Troop 128 for giving instruction in first aid alternately at regular Monday night scout meetings and accompanying the boys on periodic campsouts. Scoutmaster Jack Frost (right) gave the award to Dr. LePere (left) and Dr. Hamilton. Frost said the unusual contributions made by the two men had inspired the scouts to earn their merit badges faster and do a more thorough job than they would have without the doctors' help. The two own and operate the Village Clinic at 55 S. Main Street.

Villagers Around State Set for Trek to the Polls

LANSING (AP) — You may think politics on the city, state or national scene is exciting, but the village people know better.

Voters in Inkster, Wayne County, with a population of more than 29,000 and at Grand Beach, Berrien County, population 86, both go to the polls Monday with equal anticipation.

The event is the annual elections for 50 home rule and 241 general law villages.

In most cases, elections will decide the village president, clerk, trustees or commissioners. Some also elect treasurers and assessors. Village marshals, street commissioners and other officials are appointed by the president.

REQUIRE ELECTIONS

Polls at the 291 villages will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. State law requires elections at Lake, Farmington, Fountain, Free these villages to be held annually on the second Monday in March.

In one celebrated case, a citizen complained that no elections had been held in Harrietta, Wexford County, for several years.

"Our disclosures showed," said the elections bureau, "that no elections were held in 1956, 1957 and 1958 because the Village Council, had quietly voted to discontinue elections because they were too expensive and the same people always got elected anyway."

"To become a village, an area must have once had 250 inhabitants. Several voting Monday once had that number but now have less because of discontinuance of local lumbering, agricultural or industrial employment."

These include Copemish, Fife Lake, Fennville, Fountain, Free soil, Lake Ann and others now with less than 250 residents.

To Honor 6 Clarkston Girl Scouts

CLARKSTON — Six Clarkston girls will receive the Girl Scout Religious Award, for the first time in Michigan girl scout history, at the 11:30 a.m. Sunday service at the First Methodist Church.

The newly designated award is similar to the Boy Scout God and Country Award, which must be earned by intensive community and religious activity for one year.

The Rev. William Richards, pastor of the church, will be assisted in presenting the awards by Mrs. Homer E. Richmond, district chairman in girl scouting.

Each of the six girls will be accompanied by her parents, as they go forward to the altar for the ceremony.

Officials of the North Oakland Girl Scout Council said they do not know of any other church having made this type of girl scout award, but added that many troops have started working on the requirements.

Those who will be honored are Kriss Smith, Sue Hampshire, Elaine Keeley, Jennifer Pike, Jacque Leonard and Thel Robinson.

5 Farmington Candidates to Seek 3 Council Seats

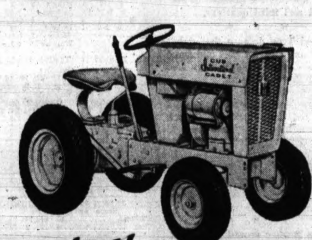

FARMINGTON—Few candidates, including two incumbents, will seek the three city council seats open in the April 3 general election here. The deadline for filing nominating petitions was yesterday.

The candidates are Mayor Robert Lindbert, incumbent Wilbur Brotherton and Henry Forrest, Jerry Cornwell and W. Allen Nelson.

The top two vote-getters will receive four-year terms. The third will serve for two years.

City Battle Decided by Depth; St. Mary Wallops Sorrows

By CHUCK ABRAH

It will be St. Frederick vs. Orchard Lake St. Mary for the District Class C championship tomorrow night at 7 p.m. at the Pontiac Northern gym.

The Rams rallied in the last half to whip city rival St. Mike 63-51 after the Eaglets had easily eliminated Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, 60-25.

"Our bench won it for us," said St. Fred coach Gene Wright and he certainly was right.

Depth was the difference just as it has been on several occasions this season for the Rams and St. Mary had the experienced reserves to use in a foul-murdered affair while losing skipper Jim Nebauer did not.

Railroaders Dave Lufkin, Craig Thompson and Ted Dobski combined for 25 big points. Dobski, a usual starter, played most of the game despite a recent illness and ankle injury but could do little rebounding. The Shamrock 2nd stringers totaled two points.

Jim Kennedy played the game of his career to spark the winners. He got 19 big points sitting 5-0-15 on field goal attempts and worked well on both backboards. Lufkin had 10.

The first half was all St. Mike. The Lewis Street cagers were in front 16-12 at the quarter and 34-30 at intermission. Wright had benched star Mike Reed and Jim Schenck early with foul fouls apiece.

St. Fred got even for the 1st time at 35-35 late in the 3rd period and went ahead to stay with Lufkin starting in the Shamrock game. It was only 41-41 in the opening minute of the 4th stanza but three successive Kennedy goals and two free throws by St. Fred broke the tie.

St. Mike's last bid, featuring Art Robak, sliced the deficit in half but four clutch points by Dobski and a Reed swisher wrapped up the difference to 63.

Orchard Lake got off to a 1-0 advantage and was never threatened. A good Eaglet score forced overtime shots which resulted in a 15.6 mark for Sorrows. It was 27-9 at halftime.

Larry Sissen highlighted a balanced OLSM attack with 13 digits in the 2nd quarter. Tom Tomaszewski made one of his best showings with 12, Glen Hass and Stan Krogulec added 11 each.

Hass served as an excellent feeder all the way. Our Lady was without the services of scoring ace Jerry McLean, who was hurt in the final regular season.

Orchard Lake's lead was heavily favored over Waterford in Class A final at Northern following the "C" tilt. The other Class A regional berth will be decided in tonight's Rochester-Union finale.

ST. MARY (C) vs. ORCHARD LAKE (A) at 7 p.m. at Pontiac Northern gym. St. Mary coach: Gene Wright. Orchard Lake coach: Larry Sissen.

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
LAKELAND, Fla.—Apparently, the Cubans don't think much of the Detroit Tigers.

Chico Fernandez finally arrived in the Tiger training camp yesterday after four days of run-around travel via Mexico and Miami.

Despite his presence manager Bob Scheffing is going to stick with his plan of using rookie Dick McAuliffe for all nine innings in today's exhibition opener against the White Sox in Sarasota.

Fernandez explained his delay. He said that Cuban officials did not permit each individual player to be taken by himself. He was told he would have to leave in a group.

While waiting to leave the country, Fernandez said he shipped his car to Miami. After the group of players from the White Sox, Minnesota Twins and some of the other clubs were given permission to leave, then Fernandez and a couple of Tiger farmhands finally got the okay.

They had to go to Mexico and there received visas. From Mexico City Fernandez flew to Miami. He picked up his car and drove to Lakeland.

"You might know it, the Tigers even rate at the bottom with the Cubans," noted one of the coaches after Fernandez' long-awaited arrival.

Chico finally got a chance to work out with the other half of what should be the keySTONE combination, Jake Wood and Chuck Cottier.

Fernandez said he was in "pretty good condition since he played a lot of winter ball in Cuba. The little Cuban did not care to talk about the political situation in his country.

"He wouldn't dare say too much, he owns property in Cuba," commented one of the players.

Following today's Grapefruit League opener against the Chicago, the Tigers play a home and home series with the New Minnesota Twins of the American League.

Manager Cooke Lavagetto feels he has several pretty good young prospects to back up his veteran mound staff of Camilo Pascual, Pedro Ramos, Don Lee, Chuck Stobbs, Jack Kralick and Ray Moore.

Southpaw Jim Kaat, Tom McAvoy, Ralph Lumont and right-handers Ted Savolick, Fred Bruckbauer and Paul Giel all figure in Lavagetto's plans. He hopes to use all of these newcomers in the two games against the Tigers.

The man in charge of the Twins' pitchers is Eddie Lopat who is helping Giel with a change-up screwball.

Of course Lopat was known as the master of many "junk" pitches while with the Yankees. "The screwball was one of my best pitches," commented Lopat in his Orlando camp. Giel is the former All-America football player at Minnesota. He had trials with the Pirates and the Giants.

Scheffing may look for some indication as for his 5th starting pitcher in Saturday's game. The three pitchers he has nominated to share the mound duties are the ones he figures will battle for the 5th starting spot.

Bank Aguirre will start and Hank Bruce will take over the middle innings. He will be followed by Phil Regan. The choice will be made late yesterday.

Russians Expected to 'Hit' Canadians

GENEVA (AP) — The Russians today warned the Canadians that they'll play them at their own game in Sunday's vital world hockey championship clash—and that means plenty of hitting. The Czechs, now slight favorites after a 6-1 victory over Russia and a 1-1 draw against Canada, fear the improving Swedes, their last opponent. Czechoslovakia, Russia and Canada are the big three in the championship race down the final stretch. The tournament ends Sunday. The U.S., with two games left, is in last place with one tie and four losses.

Lounge Cagers Upset by Van Dikes, 86-80

Young, Bradley Big Scorers in Ladies Loop

Marguerite Young picked up second high series of the season in the West Side Ladies' Classic by rolling 630 on games of 233-163-224 and has now increased her average to the 180 mark. This helped her West Side Rec. team to a clean 4 point sweep over Pizutti's Lounge 2871-2503. The West Siders also had high team game of 975 for the night. Peg Carter paced Pizutti's with 533.

For the Michigan Bake Ruth Team, it was a split match with Motor Inn Rec. 2576-2565 as Jeanette Mihalik hit 605 on 224-178-203 for the Ruth girls.

Gen Bradley of Team No. 5 rolled high game of the season, 284 in 367 to give her team a 3 point win over Collier Lanes 2405-2374. Spartan Air Conditioning whipped Lawyers Coalition 2400-2407 for 4 points as Gert Perna rolled 546 for Spartan.

Dondero, Berkley Class A Winners

Royal Oak Dondero gained a regional berth and Berkley became a district finalist in Class A tournament basketball action last night at Ferndale.

With Bill Pyles scoring 11 points and Ron Green 10 to set the pace, Dondero eliminated Oakland B League co-champion Oak Park, 47-34.

Berkley limited high-scoring Duane Piskark to seven points and handed Fitzgerald a 31-39 defeat. Gary Hoover and Ken Scheffer each tallied 13 points for Berkley while Fitzgerald's Fred Huchel took game honors with 15.

Walled Lake learned its Class A district opponent yesterday when Plymouth whipped Ypsilanti Central, 38-48, in the Ypsilanti tourney. The Vikings meet Plymouth Saturday night at 8:30.

Luckless Flint Northern lost another one-point decision, a 52-51 setback at the hands of Flint Southwestern in Flint's Class A event.

Buckeyes Better Beware of Kentucky in NCAA

By The Associated Press
Who's the biggest stumbling block in Mighty Ohio State's bid to repeat as national collegiate basketball champion?

Down blue grass way, and maybe elsewhere too, they're likely to tell you it's Adolph Rupp, now that his revitalized Kentucky Wildcats have parlayed a 10-game winning streak into a record 11th appearance in the NCAA tournament.

The Wildcats showed last night they've come all the way back by crushing Vanderbilt 84-67 in a must-win court playoff to determine the Southwestern Conference representative in the tourney.

The two had shared second place in the SEC scramble but got a chance at the NCAA berth when champion Mississippi state declined because of the state's segregation policies.

Now it's on to the NCAA mid-east regional at Louisville for the Wildcats, who have a creditable 18-7 season record. If Kentucky gets past its first NCAA game, March 17, and Ohio State also wins its first game, they'll be matched in the mid-east regional final, the next night. The winner will be one of the four national semifinals at Kansas City, March 24-25.

For the record, Ohio State — everybody's No. 1 and now riding a 26-game winning streak — has lost only three games in the two years All-America Jerry Lucas and buddies John Havlicek, Larry Siegfried and Mel Nowell have been together. One of the three losses was to — you guessed it — Baron Rupp and the Kentucky Wildcats, 96-83, back in December, 1959.

Marquette, behind 15 points at halftime, rallied behind Don Kojis to whip Xavier of Ohio, 77-74.

Tonight, regional play begins coast-to-coast in the NCAA small college tournament — with Evansville back seeking its third straight title. The winners of the eight regional games this weekend advance to Evansville, Ind., for the quarter-finals, semi-finals and finals next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Champ Sharp in Final Drill

Patterson Belts Sparring Mates in Big Clusters

Ohio Pick-Up Team Takes 1st at ABC

Ingemar Visits Friends While Floyd Is Tossing Loads of Leather

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson's final boxing workout was the talk of the town today. Whether this was a good sign or not for Patterson remains to be seen.

While opponent Ingemar Johansson visited friends in the Palm Beach area, the 26-year-old champion tossed his sparring partners Thursday with a full assortment of punches. They were thrown from all angles with precision, speed and power. Many of them were unloaded in clusters of two, three and four.

When it was all over, sparring mates Wilson Hannibal and John Henry said the champ never looked better.

"He'll knock Ingemar's head off," said Henry, a 210-pounder from New York. "I don't think it will go five rounds."

But Patterson, after the workout said, "I didn't go all out. I have had much better workouts."

Patterson defends his title against Johansson in their third fight at Miami Beach's Convention Hall Monday night.

At his press conference following the workout, Patterson made a pitch to help the ticket sale. He said another thousand tickets will be available at $20 each.

A source in a position to know said the fight will do well to gross $500,000 on a sale of 12,000 tickets for the 17,000-seat hall. The closed circuit telecast to theaters and arenas, however, represents the big payoff for the fighters. The fight will be shown in 207 locations in the U. S. and Canada.

Most of Johansson's purse will be tied up temporarily after the fight by a U. S. government claim for $28,181 in back income tax. The government, in another action disclosed that Ingo, had received a $250,000 advance a month ago on the purse for this fight. This has been deposited in Switzerland.

A source in a position to know said the fight will do well to gross $500,000 on a sale of 12,000 tickets for the 17,000-seat hall. The closed circuit telecast to theaters and arenas, however, represents the big payoff for the fighters. The fight will be shown in 207 locations in the U. S. and Canada.

Most of Johansson's purse will be tied up temporarily after the fight by a U. S. government claim for $28,181 in back income tax. The government, in another action disclosed that Ingo, had received a $250,000 advance a month ago on the purse for this fight. This has been deposited in Switzerland.

Ask Softening of Proposal

LANSING (AP) — Oil and gas producers want the State Conservation Commission to modify a proposed policy that would virtually prohibit drilling on all state parks and recreation lands.

William Palmer, executive secretary of the Oil and Gas Association of Michigan, asked the commission to adopt a compromise policy drawn up by members of his organization.

It would allow exploration for oil and gas only when there are "compelling and limiting geological, geophysical or topographical reasons" for drilling on state-owned property. The firm asking for a permit also would need to establish that there is no similarly favorable drilling site on nearby private land.

A stiffer policy submitted by state conservation officials would ban drilling on all 62 state parks and recreation areas unless oil and gas production on adjacent lands sets up the possibility of drainage from state lands.

The dispute was set off when the commission denied an application from Humble Oil and Refining Co. of Houston, Tex., to explore for oil in Waterford recreation area east of Jackson. The company already has leased mineral rights to the property from the state.

Birmingham Swimmers Contenders for State Honors

Donaldson Can Gain First Victory

Pontiac's Ben Donaldson is being given a good chance to chalk up the first championship in the state Class A swimming meet tonight.

The senior tank star is favored to top the 400-yard freestyle in tonight's only final at East Lansing. Birmingham is one of the favorites in the team event.

Preliminaries in diving are scheduled tonight in the Michigan State University pool. The preliminaries and finals in other events will be Saturday.

The State Class B swim meet gets under way tonight at Ann Arbor and will follow the same schedule as the "A" meet.

Donaldson chopped one second off the recognized state record in winning the 400 in the Saginaw Valley meet last Friday. He will also be a strong contender for 200-yard freestyle honors.

Bruce Norvell will be another contender for honors in the 100-yard breaststroke.

Pontiac Northern will have six swimmers at East Lansing. They are Lou Cucaddan, Bill Matheson, Rich Gould, Fred Kern, Rich Stewart and Chuck Gress. PNH could gain points in the freestyle events.

Birmingham will be out to dislodge defending champion Grosse Pointe. Plymouth and Battle Creek have strong teams entered.

Coach Corey Van Fleet will take a group of top Seashore swimmers to the meet. All-American Jim Elliott will be tough in the 50 and 100 freestyle and Don Spencer is a top choice in the butterfly. Ferndale's Larry Jacobs is expected to be Spencer's strongest opponent and Kimball's Ed Boothman is favored in diving.

Both Birmingham relay teams will be tough to beat.

Birmingham Groves has one of the state's better Class B breaststrokers in Bill Driver. Southfield is expected to make the best area showing in diving.

A record 53 schools and more than 600 contestants will compete in Class A championships.

The event, swim coaches say, will be one of the largest high school meets in the nation. Entries were received from 51 schools last year and 48 the year before.

Ortonville 73-58 Winner at Flint

Hawks Enter 'C' Finals; Capac Ousts Imlay City, New Haven Advances

Ortonville moved into the finals of the Flint Class C district basketball tournament Thursday night with a 73-58 triumph over Flint Holy Redeemer.

The Hawks shot a blazing 55 per cent from the floor to oust Redeemer and qualify for Saturday's championship test against Flint Atherton, the school which eliminated them a year ago.

Two Southern Thumb League schools also earned berths in Class C finals yesterday.

Capac, the Thumb champ, handed Imlay City a 61-30 trouncing in the Port Huron journey to reach Saturday's final round against Marine City. New Haven earned a title shot at Mt. Clemens St. Mary in the L'Anse Creuse competition by whipping Anchor Bay, 36-27.

Jim Hutchings placed Ortonville by firing 23 points on 9 of 13 field goal attempts and 11 of 14 at the foul stripe. The Hawks mounted a 36-21 halftime advantage and Redeemer never caught up.

Capac completely dominated Imlay with George Kobayashi bagging 22 points to spark the victory. Roger Lomerson netted 15 in a losing cause. Kent Meyer and Tom Griffin bagged 14 apiece for New Haven, but individual scoring honors went to Anchor Bay's Arnold Heller, who tallied 22 points.

Elks, Women's Keg Meets Continue

The local bowling spotlight shifts from Cobo Hall and the ABC back to the Elks State and City Women's tournaments continuing here this weekend.

It will be the 7th of nine big sessions for the B.P.O.E. boys bowling at the Lodge 519 and Huron Bowl alleys.

Early leaders have held firm most of the way including the Pontiac doubles duo of Jack Buckley and Bob Trachet. Pontiac has four of the top 10 teams and doubles while Buckley is the only local man ranking high in singles.

Men from Owosso, Allegan, Bay City, Jackson, Detroit, Clawson, Troy, Royal Oak, Coldwater and Pontiac will try to unseat the leaders this week.

The women will be going into their 2nd of four rounds at Sylvan Lanes.

Dickie Bar of Pontiac is currently the team to beat at 2966. Lowell Verbeck and Fran McCullam of Davenport head doubles with 1253. Marie Jennings tops singles at 656 on games of 222-198-236, while Les Williams and Jay Lovett had 643s on games of 232-222-189 for Les and 222-200-221 for Jay.

Other high scorers were Lyle Hook at 625 and Al Carline 621. High individual games included Howard Peterson 238, Hook 242, F. Rigotti Jr. 242, Mike Godofredo 241, Annis 236, Frank Spadofora 229, Mike Andonian 225, Lou Koprince 222, Carline 223, Dick Carmichael 222 and Hesse 221.

West Side Mohl added to its lead with 1107 in 3026 while winning two games from second place Coca Cola which had a 1020 game in a 2853 series. Other high series were rolled by Slaters Concrete 2911, Blue Cleaners 2895, Pasquale's Pizzeria 2873, Hazelton Lettner 2869 and Bicmar Inn 2845. Sparks Griffin had the other high game when they fashioned a 1020.

Tag-Team Duel Tonight

An Australian tag-team bout lights tonight's professional wrestling show at the Pontiac Armory. Featured in the tag-team match will be George MacArthur and The Mighty Tug against Louie Payneau and Ali Bey. In two single bouts, the Masked Mr. X battles "Leaping Larry" Cheek and Larry Fortig duels Red Donovan. The first match starts at 8:30 p.m.

Statistical Titles All Locked Up

CHICAGO (AP)—Except for rebounding, all statistical titles were just about locked up in the Big Ten basketball race.

Purdue's Terry Dischinger, already named a 1961 All-American, apparently has recaptured the individual scoring crown with a 29.5-point average and only Wisconsin left to face.

Official conference statistics today also indicated newly crowned champion Ohio State has wrapped up the team scoring title with an 85.5 average. The Buckeyes, who close at Illinois Saturday, probably will set a new record in field goal accuracy, now firing at 49.9 per cent clip. The old mark of 49.7 was set by Ohio State last season.

Ohio State's All-American, Jerry Lucas, again is runnerup to Dischinger in scoring with a 24.5 mark and currently leads in rebounding with 218.

Solons Receive Racing Bill

LANSING (AP)—Legislation giving the state racing commissioner broad powers to crack down on "undesirable" elements in the racing industry came into the House today.

Rep. David S. Holmes Jr., D-Detroit, the sponsor, said it carried the support of racing commissioner James S. Inglis and was drawn up by the attorney general's office.

The measure would require the commissioner to receive a license any applicant who fails to show "financial responsibility," experience, character and general fitness.

Anyone convicted of a crime or who violates racing rules, or who consorts with bookmakers, "touts or persons of similar pursuits," or who takes part in bookmaking activities himself may have his license suspended or revoked.

The commissioner's licensing authority would virtually run the gamut of those in the racing business including, from stable boys to racing officials and stable owners.

PET DOCTOR

Q. Does a puppy get immunity from its mother's milk until it is weaned or does it have to get a distemper shot as soon as it is born? R. Papantoni, Scarsdale, N.Y.

A. Mothers' milk, particularly the first milk or colostrum, is very rich in antibodies and does protect the young. As most dogs in our cities have either been immunized against distemper or, through constant exposure, have acquired an immunity to it, the puppy will be safe while nursing.

How soon after this the puppy should receive a distemper shot is dependent on the degree of immunity the mother had just prior to his birth.

A veterinarian can run a blood test on the mother before the birth of her puppies to measure her degree of immunity. He then gives you a "homograph," which tells you when her offspring will need immunization shots.

GOP Leaders Hit Slump Plan

Kennedy Antirecession Program Called Too Political, Inadequate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's antirecession program was attacked by GOP leaders Thursday as inadequate and overly political. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who called the criticism "just Republican propaganda," said the program was "an over-political approach" in mobilizing to combat the recession.

Republican congressional leaders, claiming an upsurge of GOP strength across the country charged that:

- The Kennedy administration is not keeping its campaign promises.
- Has lost its early "sense of hurry and urgency."
- Has done little legislatively to ease the recession.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., in a prepared Senate speech, added a claim that the administration has used an "overly political approach" in mobilizing to combat the recession.

Mansfield said Kennedy has "used his executive authority" and has rushed legislative proposals to Congress with speed.

He conceded that economic conditions usually improve in the spring, a development noted by the GOP leaders who contended the improvement should be credited to the administration.

Javits, a member of the Senate-Economic Committee, proposed a series of steps designed to increase productivity and expand foreign trade.

Bagwell, Romney Meet Over Con-Con

LANSING UP — Paul D. Bagwell, former Republican candidate for governor, meets here today with American Motors President George Romney in the start of a campaign to win over approval of a constitutional convention proposed on the April 3 ballot.

Bagwell, who said he has backed a constitutional convention since the proposal appeared on the 1944 ballot, said he will offer his services to Romney, head of the Citizens for Michigan, long a backer of the constitutional convention.

The former Michigan State University scholarship director said he will put the force of his campaign setup and the "Bagwell boosters" behind the proposal to revise the state's 1876-old constitution in a convention.

Grand Valley College Gets $91,541 in Pledges

GRAND HAVEN UP — Pledges of $91,541 toward the proposed Grand Valley College were announced Thursday from a fund campaign in the North Ottawa county area of Grand Haven, Ferrysburg and Spring Lake.

The drive started last month with a goal of $50,000. Executives of the campaign committee headed by E. P. Shorwood said their drive will continue informally throughout March in hopes of reaching $100,000.

Supplies, most of them suitable only for hearings in witness and line instruments are mixed in Montana.

72 Lose Right to Drive

MSUO to Play Host for Child Conference

The second annual conference of preschool children at Michigan State University Oakland will be held Saturday, March 18. Cosponsored by the MSUO Office of Continuing Education and the Family Life Committee of the Michigan State Cooperative Extension Service, the day-long program will have as its theme "Preparing Your Child for Tomorrow."

Advance registrations with the office are urged by Dr. W. E. Kuhn, executive director. A fee of $2.75 will cover the program and lunch.

Addressing the morning session getting under way at 9:30 will be MSUO Chancellor D. B. Farmer. The keynote speaker will be Mrs. Esther Middlewood of the State Department of Mental Health. Her subject will be "Preparing Your Child for Tomorrow."

Parents will be able to attend one of four classes at the afternoon session. The subjects and instructors are:

"Emotional Growth and Development of the Preschooler," Dr. William Marshall of the counseling service, Merrill Palmer School; and "What Your Child Learns Through Play," Mrs. Esther Caldwell, assistant professor of family life management, Wayne State University.

The others are "Meal Time for Little Folks," Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in foods and nutrition, Michigan State University, and "Science Experiences for Your Preschooler," Dr. Frank Youkietich, assistant professor of science education, Michigan State University.

Open to all interested persons, the conference will benefit both parents and teachers, Eklund said.

Exhibits of creative play materials as well as books, pamphlets and other literature will be on display.

The conference will conclude at 3 p.m.

ONE WITH THE WIND SPECIAL

SCARLETT COMES HOME — British actress Vivian Leigh holds a bouquet of roses shortly after landing in Atlanta, Ga., Thursday for the 21st anniversary of the premiere of "Gone With the Wind." Polishing out the night at Atlanta's new multimillion dollar airport is Major William B. Harfield. At right is Douglas Fairbanks Jr., who is attending the festivities. Miss Leigh played the part of Scarlett O'Hara, heroine of the epic film about the burning of Atlanta during the War Between the States.

Airports Get Expert Advice

Here's How to Give Birds the Brush

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government told the nation's airport operators today how to solve the bird problem—stop making the airports so attractive to birds.

A special pamphlet, "Bird Hazards to Aircraft," has been mailed to all airport operators. It contained this bit of advice:

"As long as attractive conditions exist on airports, birds will continue to take advantage of the situation."

The pamphlet was prepared by experts of the Fish and Wildlife Service under a contract with the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA). FAA asked for its publication after the crash of an Eastern Air Lines Electra at Boston last Oct. 4 killing 62. The accident has been blamed on bird ingestion that caused multiple engine failure.

The experts cited these "attractive" conditions which entice birds to airport areas:

—Dumps, sewage disposal and other unsanitary conditions which attract gulls, starlings and other birds to waste food.

—Potential roosting sites such as tall trees, weeds and brush; these also may serve as roost sites for rodents which in turn attract birds of prey.

Berry or seed-producing shrubs and weeds which are palatable to wildlife.

—Ponds and other small bodies of water which may attract birds for drinking and bathing purposes.

It also recommended that airport managers check whether their states and cities have laws prohibiting the use of firecrackers.

Sullivan and Paar Will Spar

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jack Paar today accepted Ed Sullivan's challenge to stage a "great TV debate" between themselves on Paar's late night TV show to settle their differences over guest star payments. But he said Sullivan would have to agree that a studio audience be allowed to watch.

By ANDREW MEINELS

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Sullivan offered today to take his price war with Jack Paar over performers' fees before the late-night television public and to debate Paar on Paar's own show.

Sullivan, star of a show on CBS, made the offer in answer to Paar's challenge that the two settle their differences by staging a rating duel.

Paar issued the challenge on his nationwide NBC-TV program Thursday night, suggesting he appear on the NBC network from 8 to 9 p. m. some Sunday along with Paar and see who gets the highest audience rating.

SULLIVAN SETTLED

The feud stems from a statement Sullivan made Thursday.

He said he would cut the salaries of performers who collect thousands of dollars for appearing on his show and then perform on Paar's informal program for the minimum scale of $250.

Sullivan said he had nothing against performers going on the Paar show to talk. But it was unfair, he said, for performers to ask—and get—as much as $7,500 for a performance from him and then do the same work for Paar for the minimum.

Congo Tension Eases as Dag's Envoy Leaves

From Our News Wire
LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo — Closer cooperation between United Nations officials and Congolese authorities eased tensions today and lessened the threat of an all-out conflict in the strife-torn republic.

Western observers said one of the reasons for the easing of tensions was the disclosure that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's personal representative in the Congo, Rajeshwar Dayal, was returning to New York in connection with the forthcoming U.N. debate on the Congo.

And Congolese sources claimed U.N. commander Sean McKenna has met one of their chief conditions for allowing U.N. soldiers

Pave Way for Creation of Independent States

TANANARIVE, Malagasy Republic (UPI) — The Congo's top leaders ended a stormy, nine-hour session Thursday night by agreeing to recognize independent states within the Congo.

A formal announcement said the leaders had reached agreement in principle on the recognition of existing states in fact and in law permitting the creation of new states.

Africans Press for U.N. Debate

Become Impatient With Big Power Deadlock on Cold War Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld announced today he was sending a special representative to Brussels next week to demand that Belgium speed up its withdrawal of military personnel from the Congo.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African delegates to the U.N. General Assembly pressed today for immediate debate on the Congo as the big powers remained deadlocked over whether to take up cold war issues at the Assembly session.

Leaders of the powerful African group, impatient over the haggling between the Soviets and the West that is delaying the Assembly, were trying to convince other delegates that since the Congo must be discussed, it should be discussed now.

The Africans argued that this would keep the Assembly moving and give the major nations time to work out some agreement on the agenda. But agreement at this stage appeared remote.

No nation has yet asked that the Assembly take up the Congo, but Ghana and a number of other African nations are reported trying to muster support for a debate early next week. Yugoslavia, whose foreign minister, Koca Popovic, arrives today, is said to have thrown its support behind the move.

The Assembly has before it several Congo proposals—the latest presented at the reopening of the Assembly Tuesday by President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana.

to return to their chief supply port. There was no confirmation from U.N. sources.

Maj. Gen. McKeown, Irish commander of U.N. forces, was reported to have agreed to a form of joint control over U.N. air traffic in the Congo.

The Congolese informants gave no details of the reported agreement. Nor did they say whether the Congolese were modifying other conditions they said must be met before they would allow U.N. troops to return to the port of Matadi, from which a Sudanese garrison was driven Sunday after two days of fighting.

EXPECTED TO RETURN
Dayal is scheduled to report directly to Hammarskjöld on the Congo crisis. During his absence he will be replaced here by Mekki Abbas, Sudanese chairman of the U.N. economic commission for Africa.

Although Dayal is expected to return, Congolese officials were hoping that the Indian diplomat would be reassigned.

President Joseph Kasavubu has demanded that Dayal be recalled because of his alleged support of followers of the late ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

A foreign affairs ministry communique Thursday night announced that the U.N. command had agreed (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

The two leaders had sought to tie the Congo's provinces together in a closely knit nation.

The delegates to the conference, which was marked by angry shouting and bitter arguments, also bluntly warned Ghanaian President Kwame Nkrumah to keep his hands off their country. They said in a statement that Krumah and "certain African personalities" are seeking to satisfy their personal ambitions at the expense of the Congo.

The communique said Nkrumah and others "allowed themselves to interfere directly in the internal affairs of the Congo and thus contribute to a deterioration of affairs."

Voters Slated to Cast Ballots Throughout Area

Voters in 18 area communities will cast ballots in annual village elections Monday. Chief interest centers around campaigns for council posts in Rochester, Franklin, Imley City and Metamora.

Only two villages will decide issues. Residents of Wood Creek Farms will be asked to approve a sewer contract with Farmington Township. The proposed purchase of the Village Green will be decided by Franklin voters.

The polls in all villages will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. For a complete listing of the candidates and issues, see pages 2 and 23 of today's Pontiac Press.

JFK to Get British Plan Seeking Joint Efforts in New Fields

From Our News Wire
LONDON — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will submit to President Kennedy a broad plan for an allied economic defense alliance to meet the challenge from the Soviet Union, it was learned today.

Macmillan will hold his first talks with Kennedy in Washington starting April 5.

From Moscow, U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson sent a report to Kennedy on his four-hour talk with Premier Khrushchev. He indicated the report was optimistic.

The Soviet leader interrupted a Siberian tour Thursday to receive the American envoy, who flew to Novosibirsk to deliver the message from Kennedy he had brought from Washington.

The president had urged Khrushchev to talk frankly to Thompson as he would to him and presumably the premier accepted the invitation.

ASKS LAOS COOPERATION
Kennedy has strongly urged Khrushchev to cooperate with the United States in making war-torn Laos a completely neutral nation. Less the conflict there explode into a much greater East-West clash.

Specifically, Kennedy wants Khrushchev to choke off the present heavy flow of Soviet arms to the pro-Communist rebels in Northern and Eastern Laos. He wants the United States to decide if it is compelled to launch a build-up of forces under the Western government of Premier Boum Oun.

A high diplomatic authority said the key to the British defense plan — designed at countering the increasingly serious economic challenge from Russia — is economic "interdependence" among the Western allies.

The scheme does not envisage a pooling of resources but rather joint efforts to exploit new economic fields, consultations on economic problems and a closer exchange of information.

Behind Macmillan's plan lies the growing uneasiness of British policy makers over the threat to allied strength caused by lack of joint and long-range planning.

The British argument is that the cold war will be fought in the coming years chiefly on the economic front and that the outcome will determine the world's balance of power in the future.

The supreme task before the West, it is felt here, is therefore to organize for the mobilization of its wealth and resources in order to carry out a steady policy of economic expansion.

Truman and Friends Have a Ball at Dinner

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman and a host of friends from the new and old frontiers had a most stimulating evening here Thursday night with trumpeting oratory, tenor-voiced Irish tenors and a platoon of marching warriors bearing battery-powered baked Alaska.

By the time the three-piece musical ensemble sawed through "Auld Lang Syne" in a large private dining room of the Mayflower Hotel, Truman and friends:

—Were visited briefly before dinner by President Kennedy who promised, if possible, to join the former president in independence, Mo., April 15 to help dedicate a new mural in the Truman Library.

—Heard Chief Justice Earl Warren say that steps to guard against "conflict of interests" were "greatly needed today" in federal government.

The occasion was a dinner observing the 20th anniversary of the World War II Senate Investigating Committee headed by Truman when he was a senator from Missouri.

Host and toastmaster was Charles Patrick Clark, counsel to the old Truman committee and currently representing the Spanish government in Washington circles.

President Kennedy arrived at the black tie affair in a business suit about an hour before dinner and spent 30 minutes cruising the room with Truman and shaking hands with the nearly 100 guests.

Between the lobster and cocktail and the filet mignon, Clark introduced each guest for a bow. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Disagree That Space Flight Has Removed Block From Manned Try

MOSCOW (UPI) — Two Soviet scientists clashed today over whether Russia's newest space triumph of returning a dog safely from a space flight has removed a key obstacle from man making a similar trip soon.

The exchange by the two scientists indicated that Russian scientists, pressing to get a Russian into space before the United States, are not unanimous in how close they actually are to this feat.

The scientists were quoted by the official Soviet news agency Tass after Thursday's launch and return of the 5-ton spaceship TV with its cargo, Blakie, the dog.

Tass quoted Prof. Vasil Parin of the Soviet Academy of Medical Sciences, "Already we can presume that weightlessness is no danger to manned space flight."

But the agency also quoted the Institute of Experimental Biology's Prof. Ivan Minsky: "Scientists are not yet unanimous in their conclusions on the effect of weightlessness on living organisms."

Soviet leaders have declared repeatedly that the Soviet Union will not risk a human life in the conquest of space and no astronaut will be put into orbit until he has a 100 per cent chance of surviving.

But leading Soviet researchers continued to hail Thursday's space feat as bringing them closer to the day when man will be launched into orbit and brought back.

Tass said the main purpose of the experiment was "a further improvement of space vehicle design and of life support equipment."

Reuther Denies Layoffs Rigged

Answers Charges by Senator of Plot to Hike Jobless Figures

DETROIT (UPI) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, has denied he tried to manipulate auto industry layoffs.

The accusation was made at a Senate Finance Committee hearing to consider President Kennedy's $1-billion jobs pay proposal which would provide up to 13 extra weeks of unemployment compensation for 600,000 workers who have exhausted benefits.

Reuther said Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, asked on behalf of Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., "whether I had requested the automobile corporations to schedule their layoffs in that week of each month in which the official government count of unemployment is made."

"The obvious purpose of the question is to create the impression that the unemployment statistics are exaggerated," the allegation... is downright false."

CHALLENGE TO INTEGRITY

The labor leader said "the insinuation that the automobile corporations and our union would conspire to rig the unemployment figures is a challenge to their integrity as well as ours."

Reuther said Curtis "is so blinded by anti-labor prejudice that he is evidently incapable of taking a reasonable and compassionate attitude toward the tragic plight of families of America's millions of unemployed."

New Storm Pushing Eastward

By United Press International

A full-scale snowstorm that dumped up to 14 1/2 inches of snow on New England blew out to sea today but a new batch of rain and snow pushed eastward from the Pacific Northwest.

As the storm winds subsided, Northern Maine found itself buried under 40 or more inches of old and new snow.

Shoos from the Pacific Ocean scattered the coast from Canada into Northern California, changed to snow in the Rocky Mountains, and turned back into cold rains as they drove east into the Northern Great Plains.

Gusty winds of 20 to 25 miles an hour whistled across the plains south of the rain area.

The New England storm Thursday packed winds of 50 miles an hour that plucked trees 2 to 3 feet higher than normal.

Blinding snow in Maine brought highway road drivers to a halt.

Schools closed in Maine, New Hampshire and Northern Massachusetts.

Behind the storm, gale winds swept Ohio, New York and the South. Gusts up to 40 miles an hour smashed a plate glass window in downtown Cleveland, the wind toppled a 15-pound coping stone from a New York City five-story apartment house, critically injuring a woman passerby, and high winds caused temporary power failures at Columbus, West Point and Atlanta, Ga.

Board Adopts New Plan To Test for School Posts

The Pontiac School Board has voted its approval of a new procedure for evaluating candidates for administrative positions.

At last night's board meeting, the plan for selecting administrators from within the school system was discussed at length and approved for use this spring.

It will cost approximately $300. Evaluation will be done by educational testing consultants of the Bureau of Educational Research and Service, Ohio State University.

The ETC service has been used by several Midwestern school districts for a number of years in selecting administrative personnel.

OBJECTIVE LOOK

While final selection will still remain with the local administrators and board members, the consultants will give an objective evaluation of candidates within the school district — or give administrators a yardstick to go by.

Full-time candidates have been evaluated by means of interviews, review of their personnel records, and evaluations of administrators who have worked closely with the candidates.

This has all been done by local administrators.

The ETC evaluation procedure will consist of four parts:

- 1. Written test; objective test; interview; and credentials.
- 2. The procedure emphasizes "an hour of questioning by African newsmen who shouted demands that he define precisely the U.S. position on the Congo government."

Williams, assistant U.S. secretary of state for African affairs, said he was no further than to say that the only recognized Congo chief of state was Kasavubu.

Kasavubu, the former Michigan governor said, "is proceeding to organize a government. We are hopeful a government of national unity will be formed and we look forward to the time when Kasavubu's government will be recognized by Parliament."

"We regard this as a government being formed by the constitutionally recognized head of the state. No other government is constitutionally recognized as a government of national unity."

For dozen reporters, waving notebooks, pressed Williams for further clarification, but he closed the conference.

Nixon Concludes U.N. Won't Replace Papers Politically

NEW YORK (AP) — Television will never supplant the printed word in politics, says former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

In a telegram to the annual banquet of the Radio and Television Executive Society Thursday, Nixon said:

"Television is powerful but still is an infant form in politics. It will never supplant the printed word, but its full force is yet to be seen and employed."

In creating public trust for the presidential campaign debates television and radio "rendered the American public a distinct service. I will hope it would be enlarged and repeated," he said.

Walter C. Laidlaw, U.P. executive vice president, made the charge against Leukemia Society, Inc., a New York group which seeks to enlist Detroit area volunteers for an antileukemia fund drive.

Laidlaw said the group has acted in an unethical manner in associating itself with the United Foundation.

He said the group never had applied formally for U.P. membership though it made an informal effort several months ago.

A society spokesman said the group may make a statement later.

Board members, in approving the $3,500, voiced a desire that it be used to pay teachers and stabilize existing programs rather than expand and create more after school activities.

Battle Grows Over Drainage

School Board Warned That Whitfield May Be Under Water Soon

A long-standing hassle over drainage problems in the area adjacent to Whitfield Elementary School is rapidly growing into a major battle.

The battle lines began forming at Thursday night's Pontiac School Board meeting.

Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent of schools, warned the board that unless the county or state moves quickly to remedy the problem, Whitfield property will be under water.

He asserted, however, that drastic the problem become that the school district would use drastic measures and "plug up the existing storm drain outlet."

Major participants in the battle are the school district, the county drain commission, state highway department and a Sylvan Lake builder, Sam G. Warwick.

For many years, there has been a low-lying tract of land to the west of Whitfield School. It sits as a natural catch basin for storm waters.

About 90 per cent of the swamp is owned by Warwick, who has been fighting a five year battle with state and county officials to install proper drainage in the form of a drain emptying into Sylvan Lake.

Warwick recently began filling in his portion of the swamp at a rate of 15 to 20 truckloads of shingles per day. He expects to be finished by summer.

"A storm drain from the Orchard Lake overpass and a subdivision on the southeast side of Orchard Lake Road empties into the swamp," said Hufziger last night.

"The drain's outlet is on our property. When Warwick builds his land to a height above ours, we will get all that storm water," Hufziger added.

"Something must be done. If worse comes to worse, as a last resort we will fill in our portion and plug the outlet."

If this is done, the storm water would remain at its source—the surrounding residential areas and the overpass.

Warwick is more vehement.

"I've been in Lansing a half-dozen times. I am willing to share in the cost of a drain, but I all I get is a run-around."

"As far as I'm concerned Mackie (John C. Mackie, state highway commissioner) is like a fellow who loves to play poker but is always light in the pot," Warwick quipped.

"In other words, he likes to do a good job and take credit for it, but he shirks his responsibility," Warwick asserted.

"I plan to go on filling my property. I've been waiting for eight years for someone to solve the problem and I'm tired of waiting."

Warwick has a legal right to fill his land. So does the school district, but filling their own would leave the existing drain with no outlet.

School officials are keeping a close watch on ground frost and rain clouds.

Hoffa Ready to Call Teamster Convention

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa was expected to get in motion today election machinery that would virtually assure his control of the nation's largest union until mid-1962.

Hoffa was reported ready to issue a call for a Teamsters' convention in Miami Beach, Fla., in early July that would choose officers for the next five years. He is considered a shoo-in for the $50,000-a-year presidency.

Chrysler to Lay Off 11,500 at 6 Plants

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. plans to close six of its seven car assembly plants next week, laying 11,500 employees off.

The company's announcement came Thursday after General Motors said all its Buick, Oldsmobile, and Pontiac assembly operations will be suspended next week, with about 41,000 being laid off.

Chevrolet also planned layoffs.

Meanwhile, Ford said some 17,000 employees laid off at 11 plants this week will return to work Monday.

Mendeses Convicted

YASSIADA Island, Turkey (AP) — Outcast Premier Adnan Menderes and three former members of Parliament from his disbanded Democrat party were convicted today on the charge of using terror tactics to smother opposition at the town of Canakkale in 1950.

Man Beaten and Robbed at Pontiac Intersection

A Detroit man reported to Pontiac police that he was beaten with brass knuckles and robbed at gunpoint of $37 by a lone bandit at the intersection of Pontiac and Michigan streets.

William James, 25, told officers the robbery occurred at Bagley and Weston Streets.

The Day in Birmingham

To Hold General Elections in Three Area Villages

BIRMINGHAM — General elections will be held Monday in three area villages, Franklin, Beverly Hills and Bingham Farms.

Franklin voters will elect three councilmen, clerk, treasurer and assessor and decide the proposed purchase of the Village Green by the community for $33,300.

Voting for the treasurer's office will be A. Newton Cole, R. M. Odell and Donald W. Hickey.

Incumbent assessor Alfred C. Emmerting will be opposed by Ralph Smith.

Village Clerk Elsie M. Garwood will not be challenger for her position.

The village is seeking to purchase the area known as the Village Green for a $33,300 down payment with the remainder to be paid off in 10 years or less.

Eight candidates are seeking the four expiring council seats in Beverly Hills. The top three vote getters will receive two-year terms, the fourth a one-year term.

The candidates are incumbents Chester F. Guilmet, John A. McClanahan, Edward M. Sturtevant, Douglas J. Wood, Charles M. Dutterrey, James R. Leach, Claude A. Shepherd and N. Ralph Tucker.

$20,000 Project Added to Patch Section of U.S. 10

Among 22 projects added to the State Highway Department's March 15 bid opening is one for $20,000 worth of pavement patching on U.S. 10 (Woodward Avenue) in Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township.

The maintenance, amounting to $20,000 worth of projects to be let Wednesday for work in 16 Lower Michigan counties, will take place on north of Long Lake Road in Bloomfield Hills to M24 (Square Lake Road) in the township.

Meanwhile, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the contractor has started work on a $175,522 grade separation (bridge) to carry Waldron Road over Interstate 75 (the Walter P. Chrysler freeway) north of Clarkston.

The bridge is part of a $4-million project to be constructed by the Lansing firm of S. D. Solomon in Oakland County.

Latest Shot Brings Soviet Satellites to 13

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Thursday's Soviet space shot brings to 13 the number of satellites put in orbit around the earth or sun by the Russians.

The U.S. score is 38. But the total payload weight of American satellites is but a small fraction of the Russian.

The satellite and space probe summary now stands at:

Launched to date: U.S. 38, Russia 13.

Still in earth orbit: U.S. 20, Russia 1.

In solar orbit: U.S. 2, Russia 2 (including Venus probe launched Feb. 12).

Lunar impact: Russia 1, U.S. none.

Still transmitting: U.S. 11, Russia none.

Retrievals from orbit: U.S. 4, Russia 2.

Car Buyers Want to Eat Their Gas and Have It, Too

By BEN PHILGAB
AP Automotive Writer
DETROIT—When you drive a car are you interested in its economical operation? Most people probably would answer yes.

When you buy a car are you interested in how many miles to the gallon you'll get? Once again the answer may well be yes.

Then why, asks an engineer for one of the major oil companies, do you buy a new car with a motor designed to carry it 20 miles per gallon of gasoline and then order it equipped with power everything? This, of course, puzzles not only engineers for oil companies but engineers for the automakers and hundreds of others whose job it is to build cars you'll buy.

R. G. McMahon of Mobil Oil Co. puts his case in this manner: Power in an automobile—for the engine, the generator and all of the gadgets—comes from a single source, the fuel tank.

All power accessories consume fuel for luxury and comfort that otherwise would go to the engine, to pay its way in miles per gallon. And these accessories may drink up 9 to 10 miles per gallon.

That leaves you with a 20-miles-per-gallon engine that will take you only 10 or 11 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

McMahon's calculations claim automatic transmissions use up two to three miles per gallon; power steering from one-half to one mile per gallon; air conditioning units from three to four miles per gallon; power windows, doors, radio, heater and even the cigarette lighter consume lesser, difficult-to-measure amounts of power.

And, to top it off, a large generator which is needed because of the added accessories, will in itself drain up to an extra mile per gallon of fuel.

When Ford was deciding to build the compact Falcon it asked people why they might like to buy a smaller car. Gas economy took first place on 98 per cent of the answers.

But Ed Cole, general manager of Chevrolet, says that the buyers apparently really want is smaller, more luxury and performance at the lowest possible price.

The smaller cars were barely on the market before the public began demanding the extras. In the first two months of production of the Valiant last year only one car in three was equipped with automatic transmission. By the end of the model year slightly more than half had automatics and in the first three months of 1961 production the percentage rose to 61.7.

Chevrolet pumped life into its lagging Corvair by bringing out a luxury Monza model which now is accounting for 45 per cent of all Corvair sales.

For 1961 Ford offered an optional more powerful but less thrifty engine for the Falcon and Comet. Thirty per cent of the Falcon buyers and 40 per cent of the Comet buyers grabbed for it.

McMahon says fortunately engine designers regularly have come up with ways to shave gas consumption while improving performance. A 200-cubic-inch engine today develops power that would have required an engine twice as large 25 years ago, he says.

Gasoline, too, has been improved.

But, says McMahon, the man who wants luxury and high performance had better forget about

Form Cancer Crusade Here

Do you ever wonder what became of those dollars you contributed to the Pontiac Area United Fund last fall? Well, next month Oakland County residents will get the low-down on what some of them are doing when the annual Cancer Crusade takes place.

Several hundred volunteer workers are currently holding organizational meetings, planning their door-to-door crusade for the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

The crusade will take place in the Pontiac area on April 30 and May 1.

In spreading the word about the foundation and how it operates, the volunteers also hope to further the battle against cancer through education.

Crusade chairmen for the North Oakland Unit, located at 64 W. Lawrence St., are John W. Fitzgerald, editor of The Pontiac Press, and Mrs. Mille D. McIntosh of 1084 Waddington Road, Birmingham.

Chairman of the Pontiac Region crusade is Mrs. E. M. Ester of 1085 Waddington Road, Birmingham.

DISCUSS PLANS

them, area chairmen are now beginning to select district chairmen and discuss plans for the crusade in individual neighborhoods.

Area chairmen for Pontiac are Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Charles Kistner, Mrs. Bernard Girard and Mrs. Leo Halfpenny.

When a Cancer Crusade volunteer knocks on your door next month, she will not be asking for anything but a moment of your time.

Volunteers will be handing out literature containing factual information about cancer that might save your life, or the life of a loved one.

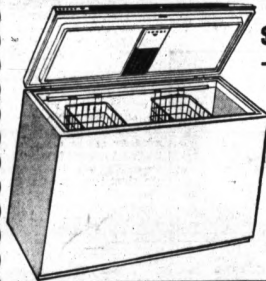

They will be explaining the purpose of the Michigan Cancer Foundation and its relationship to the United Fund, the community and other cancer control agencies.

Volunteers will explain the educational and patient services of the Michigan Cancer Foundation and will identify the foundation's affiliates and how they fit into the overall program of research, education and service.

Pontiac General Maintenance Men Learn First Aid

Even the janitors are learning something about medical care at Pontiac General Hospital.

In order to be of public service in event of a natural or military disaster, a group of 16 workers have arranged with the hospital for Red Cross first-aid training.

The workers come from such nonmedical areas as the laundry and maintenance shops.

The first training period, conducted in the hospital auditorium last night by Ralph Foreman, first aide chairman of the Oakland County Red Cross, will be followed by four more two-hour classes on successive Thursday nights.

School Facility Rentals Limited to Three Days

The Pontiac School Board placed a time limit of three consecutive days on rental of school facilities at its regular meeting last night.

Dr. Otto C. Hutziger, assistant superintendent, told board members that recently several groups had requested permission to use the boys' gymnasium at Pontiac Central High School over an extended period of time.

"One group wanted the gym for 14 consecutive days and another wanted it for 23 consecutive days. Both requests were denied," he explained.

Hutziger felt that rental of a school facility over an extended period would in many cases create a conflict with school programs and be unfair to other outside groups.

His recommendation of a 3-day maximum was unanimously approved.

3 County Officials to Attend Institute

Three finance officials from Oakland County will have a part at the 11th annual Municipal Finance Officers Training Institute at the University of Michigan on March 15-16.

Marvin Alward, Pontiac finance director, will be on a panel Thursday to discuss city financing. Robert E. Lilly, secretary of the Oakland County Board of Auditors, will be on a panel that day discussing case problems in municipal accounting.

George Tubbs, Royal finance director, will chair a luncheon meeting Wednesday at which John H. Russ, Michigan Municipal League director, will discuss "1961 Legislative Report."
