

Family Won't Say

Peugeot Ransom
in Black Satchel?

PARIS (UPI)—Roland Peugeot carried from his father's house to his own apartment today an unmarked black satchel that may have contained $100,000 kidnapers demanded for the ransom of his 4½-year-old son Eric.

Police and members of the family refused to comment but a member of the family asked newsmen and photographers maintaining a vigil outside not to follow Roland if he left again.

ERIC PEUGEOT

Just when Peugeot went to the house of his father, millionaire automobile industrialist Jean Peugeot, could not be determined.

But newsmen saw him leave there and return to his own home with the satchel.

Roland, 34, made it clear to newsmen last night he was willing to give up just about all of his considerable fortune if necessary to get his son back.

"We're living in a void," Mme. Banzel told newsmen. "The kidnapers haven't made any fresh contacts."

"Please, please don't follow my cars leaving this house or you might wreck possible negotiations with the kidnapers. A child's life is at stake."

Peugeot himself left for the office later in the day. He refused to talk to newsmen, but a neighbor quoted him as saying, "I have good hopes."

Police said the Peugeot family, owners of a 300-million-dollar-a-year automobile empire, dropped a veil of silence over the case today as the end of a 48-hour deadline approached.

The kidnapers warned in a note left at the scene of the crime Thursday that unless the family paid $100,000 ransom within 48 hours without notifying police, the chubby-faced, blue-eyed boy would be slain.

Presumably the deadline ran out between 10 and 11 a.m. (Pontiac time).

A ransom note left in the sand where the boy had been romping at a golf club playground with his brother and other children specified the amount of the ransom but apparently gave no directions for paying it.

Radwanski allegedly replied to a "your bag is heavy" comment by a Trans World Airlines employee at Port Columbus Airport with the remark, "There's a bomb in it." Then he found himself in FBI custody. By shortly after midnight he had been brought before U.S. Commissioner Robert W. Newlin for a hearing.

Radwanski was released on $1,000 bond, reported E. D. Mason, FBI special agent stationed at Cincinnati who related the incident. Radwanski, a sales engineer for a Philadelphia construction firm, is to appear in U.S. District Court next Wednesday.

TWA flight 300 from Columbus to Pittsburgh was delayed 32 minutes while officials searched for the bomb. None was found.

Earlier Wednesday in San Francisco a neon tube bomber was charged with the same offense.

The U.S. attorney's office filed the charge against William A. Grant of Belmont, Calif.

A United Airlines spokesman said Grant was trying to take out insurance on his wife after seeing her aboard a Los Angeles-bound DC8 jet when he made his remark.

Told Mrs. Grant would have to sign any insurance forms, Grant allegedly said, "Well, I guess the bomb won't do any good then."

Mrs. Grant was removed from the plane and her baggage searched. The airliner left 40 minutes late.

in Court Wednesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"Zip your lip." That wartime security slogan looks more and more like good advice to airline travelers who get an impulse to crack a "joke" about a bomb.

The FBI's arrest here Wednesday night of Julius Radwanski, 38, on a false bomb report charge was the fifth such arrest in eight days.

Radwanski allegedly replied to a "your bag is heavy" comment by a Trans World Airlines employee at Port Columbus Airport with the remark, "There's a bomb in it." Then he found himself in FBI custody. By shortly after midnight he had been brought before U.S. Commissioner Robert W. Newlin for a hearing.

Summery 78
Warns Area
for Awhile

The temperature in Pontiac yesterday topped the high of the year with a recording of 78 degrees at 3:45 p.m.

Today is expected to be somewhat cooler, the predicted high 72.

Fair and cooler and a low of 50 is the forecast for tonight.

The weatherman says Friday will be fair and continued mild, the high reaching near 70. There's a chance of showers Friday night with Saturday a little cooler.

Morning winds southerly at 18 miles an hour will become westerly at 12-18 this afternoon and diminish tonight.

Fifty-eight was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the reading was 64.

Pushing Nixon to Get Going on Campaign

Goldwater of Arizona
Feels Vice President Must Move In

WASHINGTON (AP)—New pressure built up on Vice President Richard M. Nixon today to open up with political campaigning before the Republican presidential nominating convention.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Senatorial Campaign Committee, said Nixon's showing in Tuesday's Illinois primary conceivably may bring some changes in the vice president's strategy.

In the GOP presidential primary, Nixon collected 725,000 votes with nearly 300 precincts unreported. This approached but still fell below the 781,000 President Eisenhower got in the 1956 primary.

Possibly more significant, however, the vice president fell more than 150,000 votes short of the total rolled up by Sen. Paul Douglas, a Democratic liberal who was unopposed for renomination to the Senate.

Goldwater said this outcome could be discounted somewhat because Douglas had done what he called a good job of campaigning and no special Republican drive was put on for Nixon.

"But it suggests that maybe the vice president ought to take another look at his determination not to campaign until after the convention," Goldwater said.

Nixon's lieutenants don't agree with this assessment, of course. They have plenty of precedent for their view that how a candidate runs in an unopposed primary has little to do with his final showing in November.

Nevertheless, they could be disturbed by the failure of nearly 100,000 Republicans who voted in the Illinois GOP governor's race to take the trouble to cast a ballot for Nixon, even though he was unopposed.

They obviously recognize this, and Nixon's failure to keep pace with potential Democratic presidential rivals in Wisconsin, an encouraging to those Republicans who still hope to draft Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for the nomination.

Cramton served as a U.S. representative from 1913 to 1931, is a former circuit judge, was state representative 1909-10 and was elected again to the Michigan House of Representatives in 1948 and each term since.

He is considered the father of the Fair Employment Practices Commission and in voting practice often steps over the political line to join Democrats on major issues.

More than 60 workers at a meeting last night at the Roosevelt Hotel pledged to support any plan to keep the machine company from making an anticipated consolidation move to Cleveland, Ohio.

In operation for more than 10 years, the company employs about 125 persons at its plant at 2500 Williams St., according to Russell K. Dostal, president of the firm.

The reason for consolidation with the Forest City Companies in Ohio is that this company makes only one type of permanent mold casting, Dostal said.

"With larger companies making many different types of mold castings, it is not feasible for a small company to produce only one in today's shrinking market," he said.

Wages, union problems or taxes had nothing to do with the merger plans, Dostal said.

A meeting was scheduled for 10:30 a.m. today between president of the local, Norbert Emsault, International Representative W. D. Roberts, committeemen and company officials to discuss the problem.

Campaigning in South America, He Says

Rockefeller Warns of Red Chinese

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller outlined Wednesday a five-point program for Western Hemisphere unity and said that Communist China was making inroads in South America.

Rockefeller recommended as a first step that the United States support "an all-out effort to achieve closer cooperation and far greater political unity among the 21 American nations."

The Republican governor, still being mentioned as a presidential possibility despite his withdrawal last December as a candidate, told

"What is not generally realized . . . is that Communist China, in addition to the Soviet Union, has been making a major effort at achieving influence in our sister republics. In fact, it is conceivable that the Soviet Union agreed to make Latin America primarily a Chinese sphere of influence."

Rockefeller, who owns property in South America, called for U.S. support of these policies, in addition to cooperation for political unity.

1. A determined, joint effort to raise standards of living through more rapid economic growth.

2. Development of imaginative interamerican programs to meet social problems.

3. Achievement of increased mutual understanding through exchange of people, information and cultural activities.

4. More frequent meetings of the ministers of foreign affairs to deal with common problems.

Rockefeller said the basic goals were "strengthening of the forces of democracy in all the 21 American republics" and "genuine unity and political solidarity among the Americas."

Tax Filing Deadline Delayed Three Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—Taxpayers are getting a surprise Easter present from Uncle Sam.

The deadline for filing income tax returns has been postponed until midnight next Monday.

The normal deadline would have been midnight Friday, but the Internal Revenue Service gave a three-day grace period because April 15 this year falls on Good Friday.

Releases Motel
Operator, Wife
Later in Detroit

Robbery Was Second
Committed by Same
Man; No One Hurt

With a promise that he would "come back again" a youthful bandit last night freed a 44-year-old Waterford Township motel manager and his wife after robbing the couple of $100 and forcing them to accompany him to Detroit.

The same man had held him up only 11 days earlier, Henry H. Lawrence, manager at the Savoy Motel, 120 S. Telegraph Rd., told Detroit and Waterford Township police.

Lawrence and his wife, Sue, 39 were released by the bandit near Detroit's Sinai Hospital after Lawrence pleaded for their freedom because his wife needed medical care. She is four months pregnant.

The gunman tapped him on the shoulder in the motel yard shortly before 10 p.m., Lawrence said, then asked:

"Do you remember me?"

"When I replied, 'Hell, yes,' he made me go with him to the office and he took the money from the cash register."

Both times the bandit staged holdups, he told Lawrence he was carrying a gun in his right hand.

"But he kept his right hand in his coat pocket and I don't know whether he had one," the manager said. "I certainly wasn't going to ask him to show it to me."

Lawrence said actually he had never seen a weapon.

WIFE SCARED
His wife was at the office switchboard during the robbery.

"She was so scared that when this fellow asked if she was my wife she couldn't answer," Lawrence said. "I had to answer for her."

The robber insisted that the couple go with him and they left the motel in Lawrence's car.

He sat in the rear, and ordered Lawrence, whose wife was with him in the front seat, to drive down Woodward avenue.

He refused to let them out as they passed William Beaumont Hospital.

"It's too crowded here," the gunman said. "The first thing (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

A prominent Pontiac attorney who has practiced law here 25 years thinks it's time to do something about the police department.

David E. Utley said today he supports the move to create a "clear line of responsibility" between the City Commission and the police chief.

Utley, a Pontiac voter, is active in many city enterprises, including the Greater Pontiac Community Council, of which he is a member of the board of directors.

"The chief of police is an executive of the city, just as much as the mayor, only the chief's province is limited to the police department," said Utley.

"As an executive, he has special powers which other members of the Police Department do not possess."

"The ordinary officer in the police department should have the protection of the Police Trial Board."

"But the chief is not in that category. He should be under the jurisdiction of the mayor and answerable to him."

"This means, in a practical way, that the chief must be directly responsible to the city manager, who in turn is responsible to the City Commission which the mayor heads."

The first charter amendment which the City Commission has placed on Monday's ballot would remove the police chief from the jurisdiction of the Police Trial Board, at the same time guaranteeing the continued existence of the board for the protection of all other officers.

The second amendment which the city has asked voters to approve would eliminate the Department of Public Safety as an administrative office between the manager and the police department.

If this amendment is adopted, the fire and police chiefs would become directly responsible to the manager at all times.

Easter Egg
Hunt Here
Saturday

The Easter Bunny will make his annual visit to Pontiac Friday night—in time to hide more than 3,000 Easter eggs for the sixth annual Easter Egg Hunt Saturday.

The hunt is open to all children under 11 years of age—both those who know for sure that it's the bunny who lays those eggs and those who are under the impression they come from chickens.

If you harbor the latter view, just talk to a starry-eyed child and he'll set you straight—it's the Easter Bunny all right.

The hunt begins at 2 p.m. at Jaycee Park, Murphy Park, Oakland Park and Beaudette Park.

It'll be staged rain or shine, because the eggs will be there no matter what the weather is like.

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Northside Kiwanis Club and the Neapolitan Club are cooperating with the Department of Parks & Recreation in the event.

Stagers of the hunt asked that parents send their children to the park site nearest their home.

School Funds Lose by 3 Votes

State Legislators Kill
$3 Million Hike When Trio Abstains

LANSING (UPI) — Most of the time Tuesday in the House was spent on appropriations bills where most attempts to increase them were defeated.

House, Democratic leader Joseph Kowalski's attempt to increase the higher education operating budget by more than three million dollars lost by three votes when Reps. S. James Clarkson (D-Southfield), Joseph Gillis (D-Detroit) and Frank O'Brien (D-Detroit) didn't vote.

Reps. George Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) and Louis Cramton (R-Lapeer) voted for the increase.

A proposal by Rep. Lucille McCollough (D-Deerborn) was defeated. It would have increased the capital outlay program by $634,000 for facilities for emotionally disturbed children at Ypsilanti, Northville and Traverse City state hospitals.

Wayne County legislators won a fight to counteract a move to take most of the state's women prisoners from the Detroit House of Correction.

A provision in the capital outlay measure was eliminated which would provide $175,000 for a women's camp in the Kensington Park area in southeast Michigan. The camp would house 100 of the 336 state women prisoners now in DeWitt.

An attempt by Rep. Joseph Gillis (D-Detroit) to top off a mental health increase in state payments to the DeWitt Sanatorium in Detroit was defeated.

The House had killed the per-patient, per-diem state support from the present $4.40 to $4.90 and Gillis wanted to put back in the original amount.

WON'T DIE — "You should thank God and Gov. Docking that you are going to live," Bobby Joe Spencer, 21, was told by Warden Tracy Hand at the Lansing, Kan., prison. Spencer was convicted and sentenced to death for slaying a Kansas City rooming house operator. "The last time I talked to you I told you I was going to hang you," added the warden.

Navy Named Satellite After Survey Device

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy named its new navigation satellite after the device used by surveyors to measure straight lines and determine precise locations—the transit.

Technically, a transit is a theodolite instrument which is mounted so that it can be turned or translated.

The sphere put into orbit today is called Transit 1B.

Sec. Mitchell's Report Shows Some Progress

Labor Secretary MITCHELL's report on the first six months operation of his department's administration of the so-called Landrum-Griffin law is encouraging. During this period organizational machinery had to be set up and a start made on the staggering job of handling financial statement and complaints from both unions and managements. Compliance officers of the new bureau were selected from the FBI, Treasury Department and the Civil Service Commission.

This Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 is designed to eliminate or prevent improper practices of labor unions, employers, labor relations consultants and their representatives. An estimated 17 million union members, including 500,000 officers, employers and consultants, are affected.

Hundreds of complaints of violations have reached the Secretary's office. Of these $25 still are under investigation covering more than 20 kinds of violations of the new law. Some will be submitted to the Justice Department and all require careful investigation of such matters as account books, witnesses and other evidence.

Sec. Mitchell declares that reports indicate that throughout the country union members are expressing themselves more freely at meetings and taking a keener interest in union elections. A number of office holding ex-convicts have been removed from leadership; over 100 trusteeships have been ended and, in most cases both labor officials and employers have expressed their intention of complying with the law.

On the whole, says Sec. MITCHELL, most union officials, employers and the public have been helpful. However, corrupt elements in both labor and management "whose conduct brought about the necessity for this law have done all they can to deter our activities through the intimidation of witnesses, attacks on the law itself and through attempts to cut the funds necessary to enforce its provisions. . . . corruption has not ended. . . . sharp operators still are playing their trade disguised as legitimate businessmen or union leaders."

Encouraging progress is being made but there's a long way to go. The full effect of the law has not yet been felt.

Democrats Threatened With Southern Revolt

Some Southern Democratic leaders are emphasizing North-South differences in the time-honored manner in this presidential election year. They threaten to throw the election into the House of Representatives if their party adopts a strong civil rights plank.

Nine states with 104 electoral votes are involved. Five of them—Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina—have laws enabling them to name independent electors. In four others—Louisiana, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia—state party delegates are permitted to abandon major party candidates and "take a walk" if they see fit.

Instead of organizing a third party this year the proposed plan is to force concessions by threatening to abandon major candidates. Under the Constitution if no presidential candidate receives a majority of the Nation's, 537 electoral votes, the House of Representatives shall immediately choose the president from the top two or three candidates.

This very nearly happened in 1948 when the States Rights party of the South got 39 electoral votes. A few more votes for the Republicans in California and Ohio would have turned the trick.

This well-advised friction between Northern and Southern Democrats adds heat without light to the election. Southern Congressmen are too mindful of their Congressional seniority and power to carry things so far as to make a complete break with the Democratic party.

If PEOPLES the world over would love one another, there'd be peace, but the trouble is they derive so much more satisfaction, grim though it be, out of hating one another.

OVERHEARD, disgruntled Democrat speaking: "If endorsing Nixon doesn't detract from Eisenhower's popularity, nothing will."

Your Last Chance

Still Time to Enter Baseball Contest—but Hustle

Best investment: What now? See yours if you don't act NOW. See below.

This is your last opportunity for winning that $250 in U.S. savings bonds in our baseball contest. All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by Friday at NOON—

And That's TOMORROW. As you read this, it probably will be too late for entries to reach us by mail. The safest plan is to make personal delivery. Bring or send all entries directly to our office.

This box in the cement post on the west side of the front entrance is ready for you, (on an all-day and all-night basis), to receive your entries. Lift up the lid and drop them into the slot. All that are deposited there by Friday noon will be counted.

The $250 in U.S. savings bonds, the safest investment in the world, goes to the person submitting the nearest correct answer to this question:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, May 5, and what will be his batting average?

Each entry must be on a separate piece of paper. Every member of your family is eligible to compete, regardless of age. The prize awaits you if you'll do your part. Or do you think that one of your neighbors is more entitled to it?

You have a favorite player who is waiting for you to give him a chance to win the prize for you. Do not fail him.

What'll They Think of Next?

Image of Candidates Still Vague

WASHINGTON—What sort of "image" of a man's fitness for the presidency are the American people getting as they witness the battle among the various candidates for the Democratic nomination?

Can they get their "image" out of a reading of speculative analyses of the statistics of a primary election in either Wisconsin or West Virginia?

Certainly the species as reported in the press are of a diffuse nature and rather fragmentary. Maybe the television appearances help prospective voters somewhat to form certain impressions.

But it would seem that the public hasn't yet crystallized its thinking about any of the candidates.

Talking privately with an important senator on the Democratic side who comes from a big northern state but who isn't himself a candidate, this correspondent asked first for an appraisal of the religious issue. He said:

"It seems to date to have benefited Kennedy somewhat, but I frankly don't know what counter-effect it may have. If Republicans did cross over in Wisconsin to vote for Kennedy, then we may expect Protestant Democrats to begin crossing over to the Republican side in the election."

"I deplore the issue in politics and, interestingly enough, we have elected on the Democratic ticket many governors who are Catholics, and the issue hasn't cut too deeply into the campaign."

Just now Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota are in the limelight.

It would be interesting if the results of some scientific poll were available to show how much the people really know about Messrs. Kennedy and Humphrey and their backgrounds in public life.

In the "congressional directory," which publishes brief biographies as supplied by each senator and representative, the following appears:

"Hubert H. Humphrey, Democratic-farmer-son of Waverly, Minn.; born in Wallace, S.D., May 27, 1912; educated in South Dakota schools; graduated with degree from Denver College of Pharmacy, University of Minnesota with A.B. degree, University of Louisiana with M.A. degree."

"State director war production, training 1942; assistant director War Manpower Commission, 1943; professor in political science, Macalester College, 1943, and 1944; married Muriel Buck; four children."

"Elected mayor of Minneapolis 1945 and 1947; member of First Congressional Church of Minneapolis, American Political Science Assn., American Public Administration Society, Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Sigma Rho; elected to the United States Senate on Nov. 2, 1948; reelected to Senate Nov. 2, 1954; American delegate to United Nations 1955-57."

Listed also for Sen. Humphrey are three honorary degrees from colleges and universities. Sen. Kennedy's biography gives a list of 16 honorary degrees he has received, half of them from Catholic and half of them from non-Catholic colleges. On other data, the Kennedy sketch reads as follows:

"John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Democrat of Boston, Mass.; born in Brookline, Mass., May 29, 1917; Harvard University 1940, bachelor of science cum laude; London School of Economics; joined Navy in September 1941; served in PT boats in Pacific; retired in April 1945; newspaper correspondent; married Jacqueline Lee Bouvier Sept. 12, 1953."

Dr. William Brady Says:

You Must Have Plenty of Calcium Every Day

"For years I've been taking calcium capsules and have told so many people about them. Used to have foot and leg cramps, seldom do any more. My brother said, 'Those calcium capsules really help.'"

Thank you, Ma'am, but I wish I knew you have taken calcium capsules for years and what your brother or sister said they really help.

DR. BRADY by help. In many common ailments it is beneficial to supplement the diet in this way for a month or two.

If or when this proves beneficial it need not be continued indefinitely, provided you change from your usual inadequate diet to a high calcium diet and take, say, an ounce (2 tablespoons) of cod liver oil at least twice a week, to insure intake of enough vitamin D to assimilate and utilize the daily requirement of calcium; or manufacture your own vitamin D by exposing your body to skyshine or sunshine.

A quart of milk a day is only one of the essentials of high calcium diet. Other items are beans, turnips, cabbage, oatmeal, plain wheat, nuts and peanuts.

A good many doctors harbor quaint notions about the adequate daily ration of calcium for the growing child, the athletic youth, the pregnant woman, the nursing mother, the mature adult and the inactive or feeble elderly individual.

Being uninformed or half-informed these doctors breed it through, by warning glibly customers that "too much calcium cut cause hardening of the arteries or stiffening of the joints or contract or kidney stone." There is no scientific evidence that the amount of calcium in an adequate daily ration of calcium D over caused any such condition, but the mere suggestion of such danger keeps the customers coming regularly for their "shots" and Rubé Goldberg tests.

Today we know that the bones are the storehouse of calcium and that this calcium reserve is drawn upon to supply the constant demand of the functioning skeletal muscles, the heart muscle, the muscle coat of the arteries and arterioles, the muscle coat of the alimentary canal (stomach, small intestine, diaphragm, and other breath-

Husbands, Be More Demonstrative

Men, it's cheaper to be a good husband than to pay alimony, and far more fun! So use the laws of psychology in safeguarding your home. To understand a fundamental sex difference between men and women, notice how they react to their old hats. And remember, women always retain their childhood delight in "surprises."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case E-43: Elizabeth V., aged 27, has been married for six years.

"Dr. Crane, I am happy in my marriage, but I could be more happy," she confessed.

"My husband is a fine man and has none of those bad habits which make so many wives miserable. For example, he doesn't drink or smoke or gamble or go out with other women."

"But he is too quiet, Dr. Crane. I just love to have him give me a few words of praise now and then."

"I'll take him a pie or clean up the house so it looks spick and span, or if I buy myself an attractive new hat, he makes no comment unless I ask for it."

"When I inquire if he likes my hat or pie, he will say yes, and I think he means it."

"But women prefer to receive compliments which they need to have fish for!"

"He also forgets to bring me roses or flowers or even send me a sweet, though non-sensational green card on my birthday when I am away."

Agrees With Policy for Voice Letters

The Press explains the rules for this column. They're well within reason and anyone who doesn't wish to conform shouldn't waste his time writing. Very few readers are concerned about the neighbors' dogs or kids, and the fact someone got caught running a red light doesn't justify a blanket condemnation of our law enforcing agency.

The editor and I have many areas of disagreement, but he published all my letters, many of which should have hit the waste basket. It's a good thing he has an alert girl Friday to correct spelling and grammatical errors or some of us would look pretty stupid in print.

We who read The Press are fortunate to have an editor who opens his page to writers. Many metropolitan dailies don't even have a column. My home town (pop. 175,000) has two dailies and neither was a vox pop.

Let's not abuse the privilege of having a chance to sound off. The editor could easily call a halt.

George Conbar

"This May Convince 'De-Emphasizers'"

Persons not interested in sports are often quick to condemn "over-emphasis" of athletics, saying they serve no real purpose. Just as a way of convincing even the most avid "anti's," here's a list of students (and there may be more) just from the last two or three years who from the basketball team alone that have been able to go to college because of their athletic abilities: DeWalt, Simmons, Hardy, Barge and probably Hurns.

"Harry Truman Can Help Symington"

"They'd Better Hope We Don't Compare"

What do the firemen mean when they tell us our new wage rate with cities more than 25,000 within 25 miles of Pontiac? That means water and no one else.

You can't include Detroit which has two million people. If you do, it's not fair. As they suggest when they put a 25,000 population downward limit. Flint is 35 miles away and Ann Arbor is 40.

So, O. K. We'll fix their wages like a teacher's which is a volunteer department and they will make a big saving for us taxpayers. It makes sense to me.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Husbands, Be More Demonstrative

ought to pay more attention to the little things. Wives are much like children in their emotional life. They never lose their interest in "surprises."

Moreover, it is the "surprise" that stimulates them perhaps even more than the monetary value of the gift.

Which will a child appreciate more, the gift of $10 value or 10 gifts which cost a dime apiece?

KEEP HER GUESSING
In previous articles I have told you how to love your wife against all competition, namely, satisfy her basic hungers.

These consist of the gastric appetite, the love or sex appetite, the maternal appetite, the social or gregarious appetite, and the religious or cultural appetite.

But if you wish to add a little extra "plus" to your wife's charm as a husband, give her a "surprise" occasionally even though it is no more than a 10-cent trinket, or a supper downtown.

Don't become so predictable that she can outguess what you will think or do. Keep her guessing!

Women enjoy suspense of the thrilling sort which makes them feel happy inside, and tingly, breathless or ecstatic.

They value a small gift which you purchase far more than an expensive one which you generously let them purchase for themselves. For the former is more personalized and indicates your thoughtfulness.

Beside, it is a "surprise" and keeps them excited as they unwrap it.

SEX DIFFERENCES
The longer a man wears a hat, the more he seems to become attached to it. Only excessive prodding by his wife will cause him to cast it aside in favor of a new cap.

Writers and Producers to Talk Strike Demands

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Producers have agreed to resume negotiations with writers striking seven Hollywood film studios over demands for a share in post-1948 films sold to television.
The Assn. of Motion Picture Producers announced a negotiating session next Monday with the Writers Guild organization.

A spokesman for the producers said it is hoped the recent settlement of the actors' strike may set a pattern for the end of the three-month writers' strike.

ROYAL OAK — This suburban city, once a busy market place for populous Southern Oakland County, is becoming a commercial has been.

This is painful to officers of the Chamber of Commerce and to city officials, and they have set out to right things downtown. Their plan: A $3-million redevelopment of the central business district.

If deed follows plan, four blocks of Royal Oak's busiest shopping thoroughfare, Washington avenue, will be turned into a colorful pedestrian mall. Free parking for 3,000 cars will replace 2,100 meters. One street will be widened, so that traffic can pass around the business area.

If these physical improvements prove an effective lure, merchants will be under heavy pressure to doll up their shops and enrich their offerings to match.
This is Royal Oak's comprehensive gamble: That old mistakes can be corrected dramatically — that downtown can catch up with the shopping center. It is a gamble that many cities are considering, few are risking.

And, according to Royal Oak of-officials, it is a redevelopment plan unlike any other in the country; through special assessments.

No downtown civic center, paid for by the public, is to lure business. Rather, Royal Oak's redeveloped business district is to be a working shopping district — financed by the shopkeeper.

2. The Royal Oak plan doesn't stop with a mall, but tackles all that is wrong with downtown.

Other cities — notably Kalamazoo and Toledo — have built malls. Royal Oak would build its plaza.

add parking and make it all free, and reroute traffic, all in one package.

3. The wide scope of the venture makes key partners of 200 businessmen and landowners.

After the mall is in and new parking lots are built, the extent of redevelopment is up to the individual merchants. Chamber of Commerce and city officials would like to see new store fronts, new customer entrances, store-to-store canopies, and improved merchandising.

UP TO INDIVIDUAL.
But no single landlord, or corporate landlord such as control shopping centers, can bring about such changes. Instead, 200 landlords have their own options.

The plan is under way because Royal Oak has a lot to overcome — and because the Chamber of Commerce and the city feel the prize is worth the gamble.

It is paradoxical that Royal Oak, now a city of 75,000, which can link its first residential boom to Henry Ford's Highland Park plant, so badly underestimated the auto.

The zoning ordinance of 1930 followed the concept of its day — commercial land was strung out along the major streets. When Royal Oak recognized "auto shopping" for what it is, it was too late to plan off-street parking in the downtown district.

Today downtown pays the price. Driving and parking in the business district is wretched, weekday and weekend. Empty stores stare at busy streets, reeling customers and investor alike.

Malcolm M. Heber, young attorney who heads the Royal Oak Chamber of Commerce, said flatly, "We're not an attractive investment for anyone."

Polish Painter in U. S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The art world is making a massive pilgrimage to a gallery on Upper Madison avenue this week to see paintings by the first abstract artist from behind the Iron Curtain to exhibit in America.

The visit here of Aleksander Kobzdej, dean of Warsaw's Academy of Fine Arts, is vivid proof that the 50-year-old revolution against realism in art has not been completely suppressed by the harsh Communist Party dictum that "abstract art is decadent art"—at least not in Poland.

Kobzdej, a plump, jolly man of 40, made a name for himself in the international art market last year with a sell-out show in Paris. He negotiated his current show at the galleries of French & Company independently and came here with his attractive wife without hindrance from the Polish government.

The artist brought with him 25 canvases that unquestionably rank with some of the best work being done in the unrestricted artistic atmosphere of New York, Paris and Rome. Since the show opened Monday, paintings priced from $300 to $1,800 have been snapped up by the Museum of Modern Art and such top collectors as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller III.

Kobzdej says there is "no political constraint" on artists in Poland today and "there are as many styles as there are painters."

But this was not always true, and constraints would very likely be reconstituted if the Polish experiment with live-and-let-live communism failed.

Kobzdej himself used to paint representational still lifes and portraits, but his style became markedly abstract after Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka worked out a "new deal" for Poland with Russia in 1956. However, Kobzdej explains the change in his style as the result of a study of the abstract principles developed by classic Chinese scroll painters and calligraphers.

"I have followed a development of my own, independent of politics," he said. "I try very hard not to mix art and politics."

How far Royal Oak can come back depends on its big gamble.

Urges Boat Registry for Use Out of State

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Coast Guard official urges owners of motor boats of all sizes to register their vessels if they plan to use them outside their home state.

The Federal Boating Act of 1958 requires registration of all boats powered by motors of more than 10 horsepower.

However, Capt. C. H. Broach, chief of the Coast Guard's Merchant Vessel Inspection Division, recommended that owners of smaller boats get registration numbers if they plan to use the vessels in other states or on the navigable waters of the United States.

Broach said this could forestall jurisdictional problems among the various states.

Fighting for Economic Life

Adrian Embroiled in Industry Stew

By JIM KLOCKENKEMPER
ADRIAN (UPI)—There doesn't seem to be much wrong with Adrian but it could provide a case history in Michigan's struggle to be a good state for business and industry.

Adrian, 21,789 estimated population, is an industrial city set in lush farm land.

It has good wages, housing, climate, transportation, water, power, gas, schools and colleges. There are some damned good fishing and pleasant hunting things that should satisfy the souls of both employer and employee.

Yet Adrian today is worried over its economic well-being and trying to settle its quarrels over the taxes and labor problems which it blames for the loss of five firms employing 1,550 persons in the past five years.

Public indifference to Adrian's problems if it existed is evaporating. An industrial development council is chasing a Detroit firm which is flirting with purchase of the big Air Force plant which Bridgeport is leaving, and also is after a prospect for the Hoover Ball Bearing Co. plant, empty since last fall.

A five-to-five labor-management committee is holding regular meetings. The Chamber of Commerce is promoting Adrian's advantages and April 20 is sponsoring "Operation Big Thanks" at Ritchie Hall at Adrian College to thank Bridgeport Brass for its six years in Adrian.

Don Dean, president of the Chamber of Commerce and manager of radio station WABJ, thinks the interest is late in coming.

"This town has been good to many people," Dean said. "But very few were concerned until the patient became sick. Labor asked and got and manufacturers made and spent."

"We want new industry, but we've got a problem in keeping our people happy that are here," Dean said. "Three industries are having trouble and they could leave."

It's been a rough early spring for Adrian, both weatherwise and otherwise.

First the taxpayers decended on the City Board of Review in such wrathful numbers that the Board had to hold hearings for extra 10 days.

TO IDLE 615
Then Bridgeport Brass Co. announced it was closing out its operations effective April 30, idling most of its 615 employees.

Last week the young police chief resigned in the midst of a controversy over his running of a railroad engine through a Consumers Power Co. picket line.

As a start in solving its problems, Adrian last fall spent $1,000 on an industrial survey by a Toledo management consultant firm.

The 107-page survey report put the blame on inequitable tax rates, high wages and labor-management attitudes and on public indifference.

But in all the hue and cry, the record shows that the five industries which left Adrian in the last five years, only one blamed the Air Force decision to sell its leased plant plus dropping airplane frame sales. The biggest factor in the closing down of the plants was shifting markets and outmoded products.

The survey firm declared that Michigan's, as well as Adrian's, taxes are substantially higher than taxes in Indiana and Ohio and their cities. The consultant firm also found that Adrian was taxing industry's personal property at a much higher rate than all other property.

In putting a higher tax on industry's personal property, Adrian was guilty of the same practice followed by scores of other Michigan cities. Like these larger employers in Lenawee County (not Bridgeport) insist on paying piecework or incentive rates instead of hourly rates.

Pretty soon the workers have caught on to the jobs and are earning $3.50 or $4.00 an hour and are priced out of the market."

The local Michigan Security Commission (MESC) office reports Adrian wages just below, but nearly on a par with Detroit, Toledo, Ann Arbor areas. The MESC also reports current unemployment at about 6 per cent.

White Collar Men Ahead in Number Over Laborers

NEW YORK (UPI)—The white collar workers have become the dominant force in American society, the Institute of Life Insurance said today.

White collar workers now earn 53 per cent of all the wages and salaries paid to civilians. Their income jumped by 60 per cent during the 1950s to around $134.9-billion a year. Back in 1950, white collar workers earned only $4.9 per cent of all civilian wages and salaries.

On the other hand, the share of "blue collar workers," laborers and those in the skilled mechanical trades, in the nation's civilian and salary dollar dropped from 46.5 per cent to 36.7 per cent.

This resulted entirely from the decline in the number of workers. The wage bill for blue collar workers actually increased 49 per cent to $92.8-billion.

House-Senate Fight Looms on Education, Health Cash

LANSING (AP)—A House-Senate and Means Committee tacked into fight over spending for state colleges and universities loomed today as the Legislature drove toward its earliest adjournment in years.

The record high $109,455,000 appropriation for higher education, fattened by $424,000 in new House amendments, threatened to stall agreement on a budget to finance state spending in 1960-61.

A conference committee also sought to iron out inter-chamber differences in an appropriations bill for public health programs. House Democrats, aided by a scattering of Republicans, raised allowable spending by $1,650,000.

Despite major differences, lawmakers were hopeful of returning to their homes in time for Good Friday rites tomorrow. Decisions in some areas will be made when they return briefly next month for final adjournment.

All major spending bills were ready for the governor's signature or getting a going-over in conference committees.

BOND ISSUE REJECTED

House amendments have boosted the budget to $113 million dollars, about 4½ millions over the figure approved by the Senate.

It exceeds Gov. Williams' spending blueprint by nine million dollars, but includes a 13-million-dollar allocation for construction purposes.

The governor proposed a 150-million-dollar bond issue for a long-term building program. It was rejected yesterday.

Democratic moves to raise higher education spending by more than three million dollars angered Republican leaders trying to hold down spending to within anticipated income.

Most attempts at increases were cut down. But others to give Northern Michigan College another $38,820, Michigan Tech $129,000 and adult education programs $300,000 squeezed through with help from a few Republicans.

Economy-minded senators also are expected to fight a million-dollar increase the House Ways

U.S. Will Help Save Temples for Egyptians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has taken a step toward saving 21 ancient temples from flooding by Egypt's Aswan Dam, now under construction.

The foreign aid bill was amended Wednesday to let the United States help finance removal of the temples to higher ground. The financing would involve American-held currencies of the United Arab Republic and Sudan, obtained in the sale of surplus farm commodities.

The U. S. share would be no more than a third.

Masked Thief Gets $350 From Theater

A man wearing a mask that kept slipping as he brandished a revolver held up the cashier at the West side 'Drive-In Theater, 14350 W. Eight Mile Rd., last night and got away with $350.

The cashier, Mrs. Byron Twomey, 24, of 337 Griffith St., Berkeley, told Oak Park police the bandit drove up to the ticket window at about 9 p.m. He thrust a large manila envelope at her and ordering blocked an attempt to land on a highway.

Fire on Plane in Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Police patrols fired on a light plane early today at suburban Cojimar, where Prime Minister Fidel Castro has a country home. Some reports said the firing blocked an attempt to land on a highway.

All Roads Have Been Passable

Sylvan Lake Skirts Mud

While many surrounding communities have been knee-deep in muddy roads created by the sudden spring thaw, the City of Sylvan Lake has "weathered the storm the road conditions."

"We came through in the best shape in many years," Firestone told the City Council last night.

"All our roads have been passable and we've had only three or four soft spots."

The city has a little more than eight miles of streets. Only 18 per cent is blacktop.

Firestone credited Earl Knapp, supervisor of public works, for the first time in many years.

"We got our ditches completely cleaned out last fall for the first time in many years," Firestone explained.

"That and the low water level of Sylvan Lake this year combined to keep us all out of the mud." The city is planning to launch a three-year blacktopping program this summer.

New U.S. Jobs Slashed Off Bill

Committee Is Denying 1,200 Posts but Allows More Cash July 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration requests for more than 1,200 new government jobs were denied today by the House Appropriations Committee in an $8,145,223,900 omnibus money bill for the year starting July 1.

The proposed new positions would have been scattered through more than a score of miscellaneous agencies whose appropriations are provided in the bill.

New funds approved were $27,729,600 less than President Eisenhower had requested but were $1,111,360 more than the same agencies were given for the current year ending June 30.

Included in the catch-all measure were funds for a pension for President Eisenhower starting next year, $5,322,902,000 for the Veterans Administration, 60 million dollars for airline subsidies, 150 million for slum clearance and urban renewal grants, 5 million to start an experimental program on housing for needy elderly persons, and $144,336,000 for public building construction in 20 cities.

The President's pension is provided under a law which now applies to Herbert Hoover, Harry S. Truman and the widows of Presidents Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Eisenhower had requested financing for about 8,200 new jobs in the various agencies, the biggest increases being 5,025 for the Federal Aviation Agency and 1,300 for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The committee cut 907 from the aviation agency request and 373 from the space agency.

Major money recommendations, compared with presidential requests, included these:

Office of civil and defense mobilization $54,000,000; a cut of $21,450,000. Funds approved included 30 million dollars for matching grants to states and municipalities for personnel and administrative expenses, with the stipulation that to avoid political pressures, the funds be withheld until after the election.

U. S. tourists are getting ready in 1960—800,000 of them to Europe, on newspaper advertising. And to lion dollars, in daily newspapers to travel in record numbers. Over 70 pinpoint prospects more sharp do the job, transportation companies last year—over 17 per cent more 2,000,000 Americans will go abroad. Transportation advertisers re-invested an estimated 50 million more than they spent in 1958.

Signature Drive Set for May 1-7

Plan Con-Con Campaign

LANSING (UPI)—The League of Women Voters, faced with legislative disapproval of their plan for a constitutional convention, today announced plans for a "blitz" next month in their drive toward getting 300,000 backers.

The House Tuesday rejected the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce and League as-called compromise proposal to call a con-con with delegates chosen on the basis of both Senate and Representative districts.

House Democratic leader Joseph Kowalski, Detroit, called the proposal a "half step forward" and a "compromise with democracy" because there was not enough reflection of population in delegate selection.

Rep. John Bowman (D-Bloomfield), sponsor of the plan, said there was power of big labor and farm interest in the Legislature and that lawmakers were voting against his proposal probably wanted to vote for it but "the pressure is a little too great."

The measure was defeated, 39-64, which was 35 votes short of the needed two thirds of House membership.

The House also defeated by a 48-58 vote a proposed constitutional amendment to call a con-con with delegates chosen on the basis of three per Senate district.

Democrats claimed this would have only magnified what they call the unfair representation in the Senate.

Mrs. Irwin Whitaker, legislative chairman of the League, said the House action wouldn't harm the League's drive for signatures to put the question on the November ballot.

She said the League's state board meeting in Lansing approved a "blitz" May 1-7 to concentrate activities for signatures and that as many as possible of the League's 3,200 members would be in action ringing door bells.

She said signatures presently weren't coming in fast enough and estimated it took about two hours to obtain 20 signatures in present operations.

She said 5,000 signatures were obtained in one blitz this winter in just three hours. About 231,000 signatures are needed to put the constitutional amendment on the ballot.

Cancer Society Wins Court Fight

Lincoln Park Overruled in Bid to Prevent Drive—Forms Filed Properly

DETROIT (UPI)—The American Cancer Society has won a Circuit Court order permitting it to conduct a fund-raising drive in suburban Lincoln Park on April 26.

Circuit Judge Lucien F. Sweet of Kalamazoo, sitting as a visiting judge here, ruled Lincoln Park officials exceeded their authority in denying the society permission to conduct the drive under the city's licensing ordinance.

The society had filed a proper application and met all requirements, Judge Sweet held.

The city denied the application on grounds that residents had contributed already to the Metropolitan Torch Drive, which supports the Michigan Cancer Foundation, among other agencies.

The foundation formerly was affiliated with the society, but withdrew when society national headquarters ruled that local units could not participate in give-once-for-all campaigns.

Give Credit Card for Medical Aid

Will Provide a Time Repayment Plan on All Health Needs

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Formation of the American Health Credit Plan, Inc., to provide credit card service for health expenses was announced by President W. Earle Robinson.

Under the service a credit card system will provide for all health needs with a time repayment plan for bills, Robinson said the plan was intended to supplement health insurance programs.

He said the need for such a service was created because of problems of extensions under major health insurance plans and by the difficulties encountered by the aged in obtaining health insurance.

The high cost involved in processing a small claim was also said to be a factor.

Other officers are David D. Robinson of Muskegon Heights, vice president; and Jack Rice of Belding, treasurer.

Robinson said he expects the plan to be in operation in the near future.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Electronic tubes capable of sending out a microwave beam strong enough to hold a platform 70,000 feet above the earth are almost perfect, a radio engineer says.

Dr. Ronald McFarlan of Brookline, Mass., new president of the Institute of Radio Engineers, told a press conference Tuesday rays from the tubes would not endanger planes or birds flying through the rays quickly.

However, he added, "if a bird as large as a goose should hover in the beam for two or three minutes, he'd be roasted before he knew it."

At some points in Antarctica the ice is 14,000 feet thick.

Mrs. Rosner Injured

When Car Hits Truck

Mrs. Richard A. Rosner, 21, of 1478 Irwin Dr., was injured yesterday when her car ran into the back of a truck that was waiting for a signal change at the intersection of M59 and Ellsworth Lake road, Waterford Township.

She told township police she didn't see the truck driven by Antonio LaPietola, 34, of Detroit, until it was too late to avoid the crash.

The truck was pushed into the rear of a car driven by Robert H. Hull, 19, of 6229 Macedonia Dr.

Mrs. Rosner was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for facial cuts, then released.

Some 160 million cars of 2,000 different makes have been offered to Americans since the first powered road vehicle was designed in France in 1769. To familiarize motorists with the luxury and convenience of today's new models, auto manufacturers invested an estimated $27,200,000 for new passenger car advertising in newspapers last year.

Transit Satellite Heaves Us Well Into Space Age

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — "This satellite shot shows we're well into the space age," an Air Force general excited today. He was talking about Transit IB, America's third successful space experiment in little over a month.

"We're not completely satisfied," added Brig. Gen. Robert Greer, "because the orbit was not exactly the way we wanted it. But not long ago we would have been glad to get it up at all."

The 255-pound navigational satellite was rammed into orbit Wednesday morning from Cape Canaveral, Fla., by a Thor-Able-Star rocket. It may pave the way for a network of transit satellites that can give ships, submarines or airplanes accurate position fixes in any weather, day or night, anywhere in the world.

"We've been living under the shadow of the Russian Sputnik and Luniks too long," one said. "Our recent successes should put us back in the sunlight."

3 IN 33 DAYS

Another scientist commented, "Pioneer V, Tiros and Transit all launched in the last 33 days are highly advanced space devices. All are functioning with a spectacular degree of reliability and are providing valuable information."

"What strikes me is the amazing scope of the American space program in contrast with the surprising lack of it in the Russian program."

The Soviet Union, he noted, has not launched an earth satellite since Sputnik III on May 15, 1958. They have been concentrating on moon shots and deep space probes.

"The Russians probably will come up with another spectacular launching before long," he added. "Perhaps to Mars or maybe the first man in space. But this country has a few aces up its sleeve, too. Don't sell us short."

The Transit satellite, which has future important military applications, was intended to go into a nearly circular orbit about 500 miles high and last for 50 years.

Instead it fell into an orbit varying from a high point of 470 miles to a low of 233 miles from the earth, and it may fall back into the atmosphere in about 36 months.

Still its two radio oscillators worked perfectly and will provide a significant test of the theory that underlies its potential as an all-weather navigational aid. Military sources said an actual fixing of a ship's position may be tried in a few days.

Gen. Greer explained that a slight error in launching angle apparently led to the elliptical orbit.

"OUR NEW BABY" — Laying proud hands on the new U. S. Transit IB navigational satellite is Dr. R. B. Kershner of the Johns Hopkins University applied physics laboratory. He explains at a Pentagon news conference that the satellite could provide a ship with a fix on its position with no more than a half-mile error. The new moon, launched Wednesday, was the third satellite the U. S. has lofted into orbit in the last 33 days.

Ticked Off Forty Miles First Day

SONOMA, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Barbara Moore, 56-year-old widow from England, ticked off 40 miles the first day of her cross-country hike, several miles less than the first-day stint of two British sergeants she says will pass.

But the servicemen—RAF Flight Sgt. Patrick Moloney and Army Sgt. Mervyn Evans—left earlier in the day from San Francisco as well as a day ahead of Dr. Moore. They spent Wednesday night, their second night, in West Sacramento.

Red-haired Dr. Moore stopped early Wednesday evening at Sears Point near here.

"She is a very tired woman," said her hostess, Jean Fadden. Mrs. Fadden added that her guest went right to bed.

Setting out jauntily at 9:20 a.m. Wednesday from San Francisco City Hall, Dr. Moore picked Sacramento, 53 miles away, as the goal of the first leg of her 3,032-mile hike. But the California capital was still 53 miles distant when she called it a day.

The sergeants, hearing Dr. Moore's boast that "I'll pass them," smiled.

Moloney said, "We don't consider ourselves as competing with her. We wish her the very best."

All three hope to beat a 34-year-old San Francisco to New York walking record of 79 days, 10 hours.

Arms Shipment Ban Plan Fought

U.S. Cool to Proposal by France; Afraid to Be Considered Dictator

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western premiss talks headed into a final session today with top U.S. officials reported cool toward a French plan for East-West control against arms shipments to newly developing countries.

Among other things, they fear such big-power control might give the appearance of dictatorship to the smaller nations.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was also said to be lukewarm to a British proposal for seeking Soviet agreement to an international code of ethics. The United Nations already has such a code. But he was more favorably disposed toward stepping up cultural and information exchanges with the Soviet Union.

OTHER IDEAS, TOO

These and a host of other ideas were up for possible scrutiny under the catchall "East-West" relations agenda slated for the wind-up meeting of the three-day foreign ministers conference.

Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and France's Maurice Couve de Murville are charting strategy for their government heads to use at the summit parley with the Soviet Union starting in Paris May 16.

Wednesday the foreign ministers held separate meetings on two major cold war disputes headed for summit discussion—Germany-Berlin and disarmament—and then walked out. He was Chief of Police Bob Lester.

It Makes a Difference

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—A glum-faced man walked into the police station, threw down an overtime parking ticket and 30 cent fine and then walked out. He was Chief of Police Bob Lester.

The Road to Faith

Winds Die Down ... Silence Comes

Chapter Thirty-Eight

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God."

"The same was in the beginning with God."

All things were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made."

In the hush there where we stand high up in the road of faith, the winds die down and silence comes, silence that seems to reach out, alive and vibrant on every side of the mountain.

We listen. A thousand, or ten thousand, or ten million. For each it is the same and for each it is individual, the music of silence, the intimation of the Almighty Presence.

In this pause of ours on our journey, our thoughts run on to others who sought the understanding we are now reaching.

The ancient men of primitive tribes who raised strange idols: Stonehenge and the Druids in ancient Britain and the elusive meanings and implications reaching back to the pre dawn of civilized man. Or an ancient Roman, bowing before his house-hold god to ask a minor favor.

IN THE CATACOMBS

Or early Christians in their hidden places, carving caves and flickering oil lamps in the bone-littered hush of catacombs. The king-worshippers and tree-worshippers and animal-worshippers, and Moses smashing the tablets of the Ten Commandments because the Israelites bowed before a Golden calf.

So often do we listen, and so often do we understand.

Around us are the words and the meanings, elusive as the waves of sound and the winds.

"In the beginning was the Word," declares St. John, "and the Word was with God, and the Word was God."

"The same was in the beginning with God."

"All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made."

"In him was life; and the life was the light of men."

"And the light shined in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not."

Throughout the Bible there are

State Idle Tally Up

DETROIT (AP)—The number of jobless in Michigan increased by 2,000 from mid-February to mid-March, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported today. The state's unemployed totaled 215,000 March 15. This was 15 per cent of the labor force. The Detroit area had 114,000 jobless, or 8 per cent of the labor force. The increase was 23,000 over mid-February.

Three Seeking Judgeships

Competition has added interest to what is, technically speaking, only the second time that Pontiac voters have had a say-so about the present Municipal Court setup.

It was six years ago that voters created a municipal court with two judges each serving six-year terms.

The two judges elected then — Maurice E. Finnegan and Cecil McCallum — are campaigning for new six-year terms in Monday's municipal election.

Hopeful of capturing one of the two judgeships is a candidate who, as a law authority, has spent many years before the bench in Municipal Court.

He is Edward H. Shigley, former police officer, presently on leave from his job as an assistant Oakland County prosecutor.

Finnegan, 55, of 38 Delaware Dr., has served as a Pontiac justice of the peace or judge since 1941. An Army veteran of World War II, he was graduated from University of Detroit Law School and has practiced law since 1938.

A native of Pontiac, Finnegan was a deputy Oakland County clerk and deputy Oakland County probate registrar before his election to the bench.

McCallum, 55, of 266 Cherokee Dr. attended Pontiac schools, the University of Michigan and Detroit College of Law.

A former exalted ruler of the Pontiac Elks Lodge, McCallum has been active in the Parent-Teacher Assn., the Boy Scouts, the Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and the Pontiac Alcoholic Center.

Shigley, 37, of 925 Argyle St., was a police officer 18 years until his resignation in 1954 with the rank of captain. He had previously been a principal and athletic coach at two outstate Michigan high schools.

Shigley attended Central Michigan College to get a teaching certificate, and also Detroit College of Law. He was admitted to the bar in 1941.

MAURICE E. FINNEGAN

CECIL MCCALLUM

EDWARD H. SHIGLEY

"Pontiac Municipal Court is probably the most important of all courts as far as the people of Pontiac are concerned. It is perhaps the only court in which they will ever appear. Their personal and property rights are decided there. No crime committed in Pontiac ever reaches Circuit Court before a Municipal Court hearing."

"More than 17,000 cases are filed each year in Pontiac Municipal Court."

"Of all civil and criminal cases heard in my court in the past three years only eight have been appealed to Circuit Court, a savings in time and money to parties involved."

"Despite the volume of litigation, there is no backlog on the docket of Pontiac Municipal Court."

"Factory workers and their problems are our chief concern. By fair installment payments and personal receivership, workers were protected in their jobs and at the same time paid their creditors over $600,000 through Pontiac Municipal Court in 1959."

"New filing and personal receivership systems, a modern probation department and other improvements have been established to make your court one of the best."

"If my work merits your approval, I shall appreciate your support in my efforts to be re-elected as your municipal judge."

(To Be Continued) (Copyright 1960)

"When I first took office as municipal judge I promised a good and clean administration; to improve the court; and to help make Pontiac a better place in which to live. The record shows that I have kept that promise."

"Undesirables have been removed from the streets and Pontiac no longer has a 'Skid Row.' Juvenile delinquency has been brought under control with a corresponding decrease in juvenile problems. Organized gambling has been firmly opposed."

"The traffic division of the court has been improved to the point where it has received recognition from the American Bar Assn. A modern violation bureau has been set up to assist in the handling of the traffic problems. It is one of the finest in Michigan."

"A new probation department has proven very beneficial in cases of destitute families, malicious destruction of property, weekend jail terms, unsafe drivers and other similar cases."

"The court docket is up to date. The civil case load is one of the heaviest in the state and judges here should be experienced in the trial of civil as well as criminal cases."

"I will continue to listen to both sides of an issue without prejudice and decide all cases fairly and impartially."

'Ineffective, May Cost Friends'

Hannah Doubts Wisdom of Negro Picketing in South

EAST LANSING (AP) — The chairman of the Federal Civil Rights Commission last night questioned the wisdom of Negro demonstrations in the South against chain stores which discriminate racially in the South.

John A. Hannah, who also is president of Michigan State University, said such picketing and sit-downs are ineffective and may cost Negroes friends in their drive for equal rights.

A conflicting view came minutes later from Ernest G. Green, a sophomore prelaw student who enrolled at MSU after becoming the first Negro to graduate from Little Rock's Central High school scene of integration strife.

Hannah and Green both appeared before a mixed crowd of 250 students, faculty members and East Lansing residents at a meeting of the campus chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. Green is chapter president.

UNFAIR ACTION
Pressed by questioners in the audience, Hannah said:

"I think it is a little unfair to picket the Kresge store across the street from the university because another Kresge store in the South practices discrimination at its lunch counter.

"There is no question about the right of Negroes or any other group to demonstrate in a legal way.

"I am not going to join the critics of the NAACP," he continued. "Negroes have a perfect right to be dissatisfied with their situation, but there is a serious doubt in my mind as to the wisdom of picketing stores that do not practice discrimination."

Otherwise sympathetic persons might regard such conduct as unreasonable, he said.

BACKS NATIONAL BOYCOTT
Green argued that head offices of the chain stores have the power to stop discrimination in their units in the South.

A nationwide boycott of the chains by Negroes would hasten an end to discrimination in the South, he said.

Hannah, a former assistant secretary of defense, said racial discrimination is of utmost importance in the struggle between East and West for world leadership.

Nonwhite nations will have a strong voice in the outcome, he said.

He called the problem "the acid test of American democracy."

Pacifist Cleric Again Refuses to Pay His Tax

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Rev. Maurice McCrackin, Cincinnati pacifist minister, has served notice he again does not intend to file an income tax return or pay any taxes.

The minister long has refused to pay income taxes because part of the money goes for defense purposes and he contends war is a sin. Last year he served six months in a federal prison because he refused to heed a summons to talk over his tax situation.

Elephant Kills Trainer

TOKYO (AP) — Hanako, a 12-year-old cow elephant, trampled a veteran animal trainer to death today. Zoo workers speculated that the handler, 53-year-old Masaki Saito, stumbled and fell as he entered the cage and the animal stepped on him. In 1956 Hanako trampled to death a drunk who got into her cage and went to sleep.

Car Lands Atop Trees
BEDFORD, Pa. (AP) — A car came to rest atop two pine trees Thursday after it shot off the Pennsylvania Turnpike and plunged 175 feet. The driver, Frances Canniff, 66, of Millburn, N.J., was thrown out as the car left the turnpike. She was reported in serious condition.

Sanderjord, Norway, may be the world's chief whaling port.

Go RAMBLER

Compare and see . . . model for model, Rambler wagons are priced well below competitive wagons and, in many cases, below the small U.S. "economy" sedans. That's why Rambler outsells all 6-cylinder station wagons—out-produces the two largest manufacturers combined! Model above is just one of 17 new Rambler wagons. As in all Ramblers, there's plenty of last room, leg room, entrance and exit room. SEPARATED FROM BEVERLY — Mrs. Florence Asland leaves a Juvenile Court hearing Wednesday in Los Angeles after learning that her daughter Beverly, 17, is going to be confined in Juvenile Hall. Another hearing will be held May 2 to determine if she is to remain in custody until she is 18 Sept. 16. Authorities Wednesday charged, "She has accepted dates with male adults and has engaged in numerous acts of sexual intercourse for pay." Her relationship with the late actor Errol Flynn also was brought out. She is in trouble over last weekend's fatal shooting of William Stanciu, 21, in her Los Angeles apartment.

Technical Agent Named and southeast areas of the nation. Aironic is located at Brightwaters, Long Island; Spartan said the appointment is "another step in strengthening our long-range marketing program in the military service representative for the east electronics field."

Would Be Remembered for One Legislative Act

JACKSON, Miss., (UPI)—State
Rep. George Connor asked the Mississippi Legislature yesterday to turn the Gold Eagle atop the Capitol Dome around so it would face his constituency.

As further inducement, Connor said future generations would then remember the 1960 session as "the Legislature which turned the bird."

Upholds Travel Ban on U.S. Legislator

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today upheld the State Department's denial of a passport to Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore) to travel in Red China.

A three-judge panel of the appellate court unanimously rejected Porter's contention that, as a member of Congress he has a right to go anywhere in the world except in time of war or emergency.

The court said the case did not involve any conflict between opposing claims of constitutional powers of the legislative and executive branches of government. Porter contends there is such a conflict.

Food Costs One Cent More Than Week Ago

NEW YORK (UPI)—Whole sale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. index, rose 1 cent this week, D & B reported Wednesday.

The statistical agency reported the index at $5.95 on April 12. This compares with $5.94 a week earlier and $6.16 in the same week last year.

Flour, corn, rye, lard, butter, cottonseed oil, cocoa and eggs advanced while beef, hams, coffee, raisins and lamb declined.

Wheat, oats, barley, bellies, cheese, sugar, milk, tea, beans, peas, peanuts, potatoes, rice, molasses, currants, prunes, steers and hogs were among the unchanged commodities.

The salt industry is credited with starting the city of Syracuse, N.Y.

Williams to Get Park Fee Bill

Has Rejected Similar Measures Two Times; Demos Delay Expansion

LANSING (AP)—For the third time in four years, it was left up to Gov. Williams today to decide whether admission fees should be charged at state parks.

Twice, since 1957, the governor has rejected the idea. Yesterday, after for action on minor amendments, the Legislature tossed it into his lap again.

By a 56-51 vote, the minimum passage requirement, the house passed a Senate-approved bill authorizing a $2 annual admission fee to parks selected by the State Conservation Commission.

A motorist would buy a windshield sticker which would allow him to all state parks. For others, daily admission of up to 50 cents could be charged.

Proceeds would retire a 10 million dollar bond issue which would finance a program of parks expansion and improvements.

Even if the governor signs the measure, opponents — all Democrats — have blocked an improvements program for at least a year. They postponed the effective date of the bill till 90 days after the Legislature adjourns. By then, half of the summer will be gone.

Williams told newsmen he hadn't decided whether to veto the measure, but said he still was opposed in principle to a park fee plan.

The objective of 'improving parks' good, but this is a pretty pale approach to the objective, he said.

Caryl Fires Lawyer

Chessman's 16th Appeal Due in U. S. High Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An attack on Caryl Chessman's death sentence will be carried to the U.S. Supreme Court this week for the 16th time in 12 years.

But the attorney would like to see George T. Davis, accused by the convict-author of always grabbing state billing.

Chessman requested Davis, veteran San Francisco criminal lawyer, to withdraw from the case in a bitter 10-page letter made public Wednesday by the State Supreme Court.

Chessman, who has survived nearly 12 years in San Quentin Prison's death row and escaped eight previous execution dates, now is scheduled to die May 2. He was condemned for kidnapping and sexually abusing two Los Angeles women in 1948.

A. L. Wirin of Los Angeles, an American Civil Liberties Union counsel, said in New York he expected to petition the U.S. Supreme Court this week for review of appeal claims which California courts rejected three times in three weeks.

The State Supreme Court brusquely announced the third rejection Wednesday that Chessman's 12 years' under death sentence constitute cruel and unusual punishment and that life imprisonment was the maximum sentence for the original charges against him.

The court labeled its ruling "final, forthwith," banning further hearing on the issues.

After reading Chessman's letter, Davis said he wanted a face to face talk with the condemned man before deciding to withdraw.

"Of course, if he tells me then to withdraw, that's it. But I'm inclined to stay with it," Davis said.

Vote on Bonds Almost Certain

Only Minor Changes in State School Credit Bill Need Be Okayed

LANSING (AP)—A proposed pledge of unlimited state credit to back local school district building bonds was all but assured today of going to voters Nov. 8.

Ballot listing required only House agreement to changes written into the constitutional resolution by the Senate before it received a thumping 27 to 2 endorsement by the upper chamber.

An amendment restricted the guarantee of borrowings to those for construction. A second limited the plan to 10 years, assuming voters give their approval this fall.

Under the proposal, interest on school borrowings would be shaved a fraction of 1 per cent. But because of the volume involved it is estimated statewide savings would amount to $650,000.

In debate before the roll call Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County), replying to intimations by some other senators, declared Michigan's plight was not "at all bleak."

Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland) called the proposal the lesser of two evils—an alternative to federal financial aid to education.

The state would step forward with its guarantees only after a local district levied at least 13 mills property tax and found it insufficient to meet principal and interest obligations on "qualified" bonds.

Direct benefits it would be realized by and probably limited to so-called distressed districts.

Thailand VIP Plane Crashes, Killing 18

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—The chief of Thailand's Air Force and 17 other persons died yesterday when their VIP transport crashed after takeoff following high-level military talks here.

Air Marshal Chalemsit Wattana, other officials and their wives were killed aboard a DC4 of the Thai Air Force.

It was carrying them back to Bangkok after a conference of free world air commanders from the Pacific area.

Rescue workers today recovered bodies of 16 of the 18 victims from the wreckage scattered on a cloud-hidden hill near Taipei International Airport.

There were no survivors among the 10 high-ranking passengers and their wives and seven crewmen.

Chiang Kai-Shek, president of the [re]ceived military training as a youth Chinese Nationalist Republic, re-while a student in Japan. Movie star Diana Lynn is also a concert pianist.

MacRae Owes U.S.
$140,000 in Taxes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U. S. Tax Court has upheld the Internal Revenue Service's claim that singer Gordon MacRae owes the government $139,938.99 in back taxes and penalties. The Court rejected a contention by MacRae and his wife Sheila that they were entitled to tax deductions for interest they paid on money they borrowed to buy one million dollars worth of U. S. treasury notes.

Siamese Twin Girls Born in Buffalo, N.Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Siamese twin girls, weighing an estimated 9 pounds, were reported "doing nicely" today at General Hospital. The twins, joined at the abdomen, were born Tuesday. The names of the parents were withheld. The obstetrician, said tests were under way to determine what surgical attempt will be made to separate the babies. In Brazil, butter now costs the equivalent of $1.48 a pound.

New York State Adds
1½ Million to Population

NEW YORK (AP)—New York State's population has increased by more than 1½ million in the past 10 years, a preliminary estimate shows. The Census Bureau said Tuesday that the estimate, based on a half-finished count of a total of 16½ million persons compared with 14,830,192 in the 1950 census. In Australia there are 13 sheep to every person.

Friendly U.S. Invasion Flows From Puerto Rico

NEW YORK (AP)—A friendly invasion from Puerto Rico begins today with the arrival of farm workers to help harvest fruits and vegetables in the Middle Atlantic States. Four plane loads started the annual airlift movement of workers under government supervised contracts. In all, about 12,000 Puerto Rican migrants are expected this year, compared to 10,000 last year.

Rubbish-Burning Tips Issued in Waterford

With more than 40 grass fires spreading throughout Waterford Township during the past two days, Fire Chief Elmer O. Fangbner has again issued a warning about careless burning of rubbish.

"High wind during the month of April always produces a fire hazard," Fangbner pointed out. "All rubbish should be burned in 50-gallon drums covered with a screen—then watched for possible flying sparks."

About 10,000 years ago, the time the Ice Age ended in Europe and America, the Sahara Desert was a land of abundant rivers and fertile plains.

Lecture Series Begins

Talks on Law at MSUO

Students at Michigan State University Oakland tonight will hear the first of a series of lectures by distinguished visiting professors from graduate schools across the country.

Dr. Bert S. Prunty Jr., of New York University's law school, will describe requirements of graduate study in law and underline desirable patterns of undergraduate preparation.

Prunty, 36, has been a full professor four years and has been described as "the best teacher of the law he knows" by the head of the NYU law school.

The dinner is an honors symposium which will be attended by some 100 students and faculty.

HOOPES EXPLAINS

Subsequent talks in the series will feature outstanding scholars in medicine, engineering, business, the humanities and sciences.

Dr. Robert Hoopes said the program was initiated because undergraduates "usually cherish vague and often sentimentally glamorous notions of what the reality will be in graduate training and careers."

They often receive conflicting counsel and improper preparation for graduate work, Hoopes said.

Dr. Prunty will describe actual content and requirements of graduate study in law and will suggest desirable lines of preparation for law school.

He will conduct informal discussions with students and faculty today and tomorrow at the MSUO campus.

Sylvan Residents Urged to Tap In Now for Water

The Sylvan Lake City Council last night urged all city residents who had not yet tapped into the water system to do so before black-topping gets under way.

Plans have been laid to initiate a $100,000 blacktopping program this summer.

"Such a move now would save residents money later," said City Manager David E. Firestone.

The city's water system was completed four years ago and of 700 eligible users, about 420 get their water from the system. The others still use well water.

"If a resident has to run a line under a street to reach the main line, it will cost him considerably more to tap into the system once the street is blacktopped," Firestone warned.

Brokeless Jet Airliner Lands Safely in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—An American Airlines 707 jet liner, with 78 persons aboard and its brakes gone, landed safely at Metropolitan Airport Wednesday night. It was bound from Los Angeles to Chicago.

It developed hydraulic trouble and Capt. Wes Carroll of Long Beach, Calif., decided to land here, where runways are much longer than those at O'Hare Field in Chicago. A strong crosswind was blowing at Chicago.

Home Editor
to Spruce Up Local Shelter

A home fallout shelter against radioactivity is serious business—but not completely.

That's why Janet O'Dell, home editor of The Pontiac Press, has been picked to help decide how to furnish the prototype shelter which will be completed in a few days in the basement of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dolson, 88 W. Walton Blvd.

"A shelter has to be livable—comfy, if that's possible—because a family may have to stay in it for as long as two weeks," explained Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and deputy civil defense director.

It will be Mrs. O'Dell's job to put home-like touches in the shelter, he said.

Others picked to advise on the shelter's furnishings are the Dolsons, Miss Mildred Bennett, director of the American Red Cross and head of the Civilian Aid Section, Pontiac Civil Defense Plan, and F. J. Poole Jr., the contractor. The city of Pontiac is paying for the furnishings and the federal government is paying for construction costs.

When completed, the shelter will be open to public inspection week ends.

Lost Over Sea, Plane Ditched

5 In Canadian Antisub Craft Await Aid After Instruments Fail

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—The pilot of a Canadian antisubmarine plane got lost over the Atlantic today and ditched in the sea. All five crewmen were spotted about an hour later bobbing on the waves in a life raft, waiting to be picked up.

The U. S. Coast Guard cutter Yagkat, which aided a ship in trouble only a few days ago, and the German cargo ship Sternfels steamed toward the downed fliers.

The plane was en route to Bermuda from Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, when the pilot radioed his navigational equipment was not working properly and his fuel was low. He said he was lost and was preparing to ditch.

The crewmen are expected in St. Georges Friday morning. Their names were not released.

Manhunt Nets Cowboy on Road 6 Miles South of Bay City

BAY CITY (AP)—Dressed up like a gun-slinging cowboy, Senobio Rigor, 58, described as extremely dangerous, surrendered meekly to state police today.

Rigor, alias "Tom Rogers," alias "The Cowboy," alias "The Black Kid," was taken to the Bay City Police Post for questioning about the fatal shooting of Jesse Martinez, 63.

A posse of 20 state troopers and sheriff's officers had been hunting for Rigor in a suburban area near Bay City. Troopers found him walking along a road six miles south of here.

Martinez was killed last night by two slugs from a .45 caliber automatic at his home near Munger in Bay County.

Police said Martinez and Rigor, a boarder at Martinez' home, apparently got into an argument while watching a boxing match on TV.

Rigor is employed as a laborer at a sugar company in Bay City. He wears a black cowboy hat, a wide black leather belt and black boots with his Western style garb. He is 5-feet-10 and weighs 160 pounds.

Rigor, who originally came from Mexico, speaks with a Spanish accent.

Police said they did not know how Rigor acquired his aliases but that he apparently brought them from Texas.

Southfield Widow Reports Theft

A Southfield widow of two weeks reported to police yesterday that her home had been ransacked and $118 worth of furs, watches and other jewelry were missing.

Mrs. Benjamin Tauber of 2100 Custis Rd. said she discovered the loss Saturday when she returned home after spending two weeks with friends following her husband's death.

She told Southfield police the reason she waited until now to report the theft was because she wanted to complete a full, itemized account of what was missing. Her written account filled two full pages.

Police said entry apparently had been gained by forcing the front door.

A full-length mink coat, a mink stole and five watches were among the items reported stolen.

Mrs. Tauber's late husband was a Ferndale attorney.

1 Game Enough,
Sawyer Quits
as Phillies' Pilot

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eddie Sawyer resigned today as manager of the National League Philadelphia Phillies baseball club. Gene Mauch, now managing Minneapolis in the American Assn., was named to replace him.

Bob Carpenter, owner-president of the club, made the announcement in a hurriedly called news conference in his office at Connie Mack Stadium.

Sawyer's resignation came on the third day of the National League season. The Phils lost their only game this year—at Cincinnati.

Sawyer, sitting by Carpenter's side, declined to give any specific reason except, "I just didn't want to manage."

SHOES AT DRASTIC SAVINGS!

WHY?

Late last Fall I went into the finest markets of men's, women's and children's shoes and bought large quantities of newest style creations from America's foremost shoe manufacturers especially for Easter. I had every reason in the world to believe that this Spring's business would be better than ever before. Late Easter and past seasons led me to buy as I never bought before . . . But, the temperatures have been 16 degrees below normal and the snow lasted much longer so I find myself overstocked with Easter just three days away . . . so, here goes the greatest selling event of my 20 years in Pontiac. I cannot mention the nationally famous names, but I assure you that when you see the values you'll be glad to buy your new Easter shoes at Diem's . . . Pontiac's Popular Shoe Store.

These are the Advertising and Accounting Departments of The Pontiac Press. Chances are you don't hear much about these people but without them your Pontiac Press would look a lot different to you. First of all without advertising your paper would only contain about four to six pages of mostly local news. Makes you think doesn't it? Without advertising you would have no knowledge of the new products and services that are being presented every day. It is the sale of goods through advertising which has contributed so greatly to the truly amazing growth and high standard of living of our country.

The people in these departments help to create and sell this advertising. It is their hard work which produces the revenue that makes it possible to bring you the news from all over the world for only a few pennies a day. They contribute a great deal toward your freedom to read all the news and your enjoyment of The Pontiac Press.

Olympic Athletes to Be Subjects of Sex Study

ROME (AP) — Does an athlete's sex life affect his performance in the sports arena?

The Italian Olympic Committee hopes to find the answer to this and other questions of athletic performance through questionnaires sent to thousands of entrants in this summer's Olympic games.

"We are asking each athlete about his sexual behavior," said a committee spokesman, "as well as any other personal data such as race, family and social status, studies, sports, work, whether he is a twin and similar questions. "After the games," he explained, "our medical-scientific committee will study the games' results in the light of this personal data."

Dartmouth Sells Ranch
Acquired in Bequest

HANOVER, N. H. (AP)—Dartmouth College has sold its big cattle ranch in New Mexico.

Sale of the 91,000-acre Diamond A Ranch near Wagon Mound, Mora County, N. M., was announced today by John F. Meek, college treasurer.

Robert O. Anderson of Roswell, N. M., confirmed acquisition of the ranch. More than 2,400 cattle were included in the sale.

The college acquired the property in 1958 as a bequest from the late Leon Williams of Wagon Mound, who was a member of the class of 1915.

Squeeze Capital Airlines Tighter

British Firm Begins Move to Foreclose on Debt on Viscounts

WASHINGTON (U)—A British airplane manufacturer has started foreclosure proceedings against Capital Airlines, which owes the company $33,842,000 for a fleet of Viscount airplanes.

An installment of $11,981,000 is overdue, the British firm, Vickers-Armstrong Ltd., said. Another installment of $14,158,589 will fall due within a year.

Theoretically Vickers-Armstrong could put Capital out of business by seizing the Viscounts. But lawyers quoted Maj. Gen. Sir Charles Dumble, chairman of the British company, as saying:

"Vickers is taking this action with extreme reluctance. . . (two) recognize the position which Capital occupies as a major trunk carrier and the public interest in its continued operation and would, of course, be willing to cooperate in a sound plan which makes adequate provision for the notes and for the solution of Capital's financial problems."

SUBSIDY SOUGHT
Capital, fifth largest airline in the country, recently asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for a $12-140,000 yearly airmail subsidy. The CAB turned it down pending a full hearing, which it said it would schedule as soon as possible. It would have not had such a subsidy since 1951.

Based in Washington, the airline operates 7,000 route-miles serving 77 cities on the Eastern Seaboard and in the Midwest.

Capital President David H. Baker said any such foreclosure would be a long process. He added the airline is hopeful that a satisfaction program can be worked out to protect not only the holders of the Vickers notes but the public interest and the interest of all other parties affected, without resorting to legal procedures.

Friends Finance Trip to Funeral in Hawaii
MARVILLE, Mo. (AP)—They tried to help when Nancy Lou Yamane, 35-year-old freshman at Northwest Missouri State College, got word her father had died.

"I told my friends that I didn't want them to do anything but that I would like to talk to my mother on the telephone," Nancy said.

The word spread quickly and soon more than $500 had been collected.

Nancy left Kansas City Wednesday by jet plane for her father's funeral in Waimea, Kauai, Hawaii.

"I still can't believe that everyone was so kind and I'm going home," she said.

If Census Taker Aids Too Much . . .

DETROIT (U)—If a census taker stuck around and helped you fill out the so-called blue form, that was on his or her own time. That's the ruling from census bureau brass.

Mrs. Eva Maciejewski, a spokeswoman for Detroit census takers, complained that some census takers were losing money by trying to be helpful, and that, besides, the government was violating its own minimum wage law.

"We don't get paid for leaving these blue forms," Mrs. Maciejewski complained in a recent interview. "We were told all we had to do was write the names and serial numbers on these sheets and explain to the people they were supposed to fill them out."

That is right, said Robert Gillegue, census bureau program superintendent, who added: "They're supposed to leave those blue forms and go on. If the women help people fill them out, it's got to be on their own time."

He added, "You can't be a good Joe and be an enumerator."

But Mrs. Maciejewski asked: "What happens is that you run into all kinds of people who don't want to fill them out, and they argue. I found one man who was illiterate and I had to fill the thing out for him."

"I worked more than 90 hours for $78. The government is violating its own minimum wage law."

(An hour), and we have sent a telegram to Washington and told them that . . .

"Maybe we can make things better for the next census, 10 years later."

Manager Resigns

Buckle Down, Gal, Buckle Down

You're Just a Prisoner of Love

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a Junior in high school and I came home with a bad report card last month.

My parents cut off all my enjoyments No sorority Tuesday night. No basketball games Saturday mornings, and no dating Friday and Saturday nights. They make me stay home and study all the time.

And they won't let me go out until my next good report card. The next card doesn't come out for two months. Abby, I can't keep my mind on my studies when I think of all the fun I'm missing. What should I do?

"A PRISONER"

DEAR "PRISONER": It misery loves company, this may comfort you a little. I received no less than 100 letters like yours last week. I suggest you buckle down and study. If you let your mind wander to all the fun you are missing, you'll get a bad report card again and you'll be "a prisoner" serving an extended term.

DEAR ABBY: Don't be too hard on the Korean girls of excess virtue. The Korean girls are hungry, affectionate and pathetically poor. They are lucky if they eat four times a week. Is it any wonder they are willing to be a slave to an American soldier for a good meal?

Yes, there are many Korean babies born to these girls and American soldiers. But the babies can't help it if their fathers go off and forget about them. Those half-Korean babies are the sweetest most adorable babies in the world. We ought to know—we adopted one.

MR. AND MRS. R. D. R.

DEAR ABBY: For a year I went with a boy, 19, who was gentle in both words and action. He would do anything to keep from hurting anyone.

He is good-looking (6-foot tall) and has won his share of letters in sports. He neither smokes nor drinks and is an elder in the church. He is going to college and is doing well there.

He won't be home again until June, but when he was here for Christmas he hinted that I had lost love to another girl. But how can you feel anything but love for a guy who takes you in his arms and quietly and gently tells you how sweet you are and how much he cares for you, but how it would be much better for everyone if he married another girl?

HOPING AGAINST HOPE

DEAR HOPING: Don't get carried away with his gentle presentation. He is giving you the air, my dear. Stay out of his arms so the windows of your common sense won't get fogged up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GETS AROUND": Next time you "get around" a hotel room look in the drawers. You'll find a Bible there. I suggest you read it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TOO SCARED TO TELL": Please tell your mother or father at once! They are your best friends (no matter what you think) and they will help you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO COLLEGE GRAD: A sheepskin is a poor cover for intellectual nakedness.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HUNDREDS OF READERS WHO WROTE: Thank you for your cards and letters, but the "Open Letter to a Teenager" which appeared in my column was NOT written by Juvenile Judge Philip B. Gilliam of Denver. It was erroneously attributed to him when he quoted it and failed to credit the author.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby, in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-Ager Wants To Know," send 25c and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Best-Dressed Wardrobe Partially Ready-to-Wear

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Alexandra, 23-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth, probably is the first person ever to make the list of best-dressed women with a wardrobe partly assembled in a ready-to-wear shop.

As everyone in Britain knows, Alexandra and her mother, the beautiful Duchess of Kent, by their underwear in a chain of department stores patronized chiefly by the working class.

For the tall (five feet, nine inches) Alexandra is among the "poor relations," comparatively speaking, of the royal family and she and her mother always have been budget-conscious shoppers and housekeepers.

UPI correspondent Margaret Saville has seen her shopping in a Regent street store for classic English two-piece suits. These are the backbone of a wardrobe that is modest by the "dozen best" standards even if it does include formalwear by Norman Hartnell, one of the Queen's dressmakers.

That Alexandra has replaced her cousin, 29-year-old Princess Margaret, in the New York selections is taken in Britain more as tribute to her rising new value than her dress sense.

Many Britons also believe that Princess Margaret never really belonged on the list. The tiny sister of the Queen wears what she likes and when she likes and what she likes doesn't always suit her. Her selection aroused some amusement here.

Now that Alexandra is taking a larger share of royal family duties she is getting special wardrobes for special occasions such as overseas trips. These have to be very carefully made because she is a big girl (140 pounds plus)—too big really to be a clothes horse.

And she still prefers floppy sweaters and blue jeans for casual wear, probably the only person on the "dozen best" list who can make this statement.

The speaker stressed the fact that whereas living costs have increased, school enrollments are larger and constantly increasing, local school taxes have not increased.

A proposal to increase school millage will be brought before the school electorate May 3. The club voted a donation to the BFW state cancer fund.

because the judge himself did not know who wrote the piece. Does anyone out there know who really originated it?

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby, in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-Ager Wants To Know," send 25c and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Find Them Extremely Vicious, but Few

Teachers Have Little Trouble With Gangs

(Editors' Note: This is the third of three surveys in how teachers view teen-age problems.)

By EUGENE GILBERT

To most people the very idea of mal, unorganized boys clubs of an earlier generation.

You remember, the secret society that built the house in the back-yard tree or put up a shack in an empty lot.

Are the modern gangs that innocent? How do the current organizations differ from those of a generation ago?

Here are some pointed, meaningful teacher comments:

"They show little respect for people and public property, are motivated by too many wrong ideas."—E. E. McConnell, Indianapolis.

"All are not harmful, but some seem to thrill at resisting authority by destroying private and public authority."—John O. Miller, Orlando, Fla.

"They are the 'beatniks' in rebelling against authority and conforming to their own non-conformist standards."—A. E. Blakeman, Montpelier, Vt.

"They cannot be controlled, their behavior is unpredictable."—K. E. Wright, Provo, Utah.

"STRENGTH IN NUMBERS"

"Their use of words like 'chicken' and their constant resort to dares indicates their motivation. Numbers make a coward brave."—Ralph W. Hutchins, Knoxville, Tenn.

Solutions offered by the teachers to the teen-age gang problem ranged all the way from coddling them to cloistering them.

Here are some typical answers to the question "How do you think youth gangs can best be combated?"

"Strong parental, police and school control."—Jane Fisher, Toledo, Ohio.

"By approaching them in a positive manner, making clubs out of the gangs."—LaSalle Mayes, Livonia, Mich.

"Stronger juvenile judges."—Gene Rubinstein, Permauken, N.J.

"By removing the badly adjusted to work camps similar to the CCC camps of the Depression era."—Barker D. Herr, Liberty, N.Y.

"By a planned program at youth centers, YMCA, churches, etc."—John O. Miller, Orlando, Fla.

"By developing student activities that will prove more interesting than gangs."—Robert O. Badgley, Indianapolis.

"Stiffer punishment."—J. Robert Pease, Peekskill, N.Y.

For some reason not explained in the survey comments, small town schools seem more prone to adopting regulations against gangs than big city schools.

For instance, when it came to rules against wearing gang jackets in class, 55 per cent of the small town schools had adopted such regulations, compared with only 41 per cent of the metropolitan schools.

Extensionists Hear of Drapes, Entertaining

Mrs. James E. Beall of Woodlawn road, Drayton Plains, opened her home to the Extensionists Tuesday. Assisting hostess was Mrs. H. D. Nicholson.

Mrs. Mary Hardy, extension agent, demonstrated various ways of making draperies and Mrs. Nicholae gave a lesson on easy entertaining.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. William L. Miller officers were elected for the coming year. Chosen chairman was Mrs. Miller; Mrs. George Scholtz was named vice chairman; Mrs. Charles Hauser, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Nicholae, leader.

Mrs. J. H. Trietsch was named community chairman. Mrs. Carol Appel, sunshine chairman; Mrs. Alvah Os-worth, historian; and Mrs. Lloyd Osworth, reporter.

Guests at the all-day meeting were Mrs. Howard Hatfield and Mrs. Barney McKediz.

Mrs. Gibson Lauded by Lucky 13 Club

The Lucky 13 Birthday Club honored Mrs. Eva Gibson Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ralph Deorn on Stirling avenue.

Mrs. Lewis Lingle and Mrs. John Bee won prizes for Easter hats made by Mrs. Gibson. Prizes for games were taken home by Mrs. Lingle, Mrs. Anderson Bee and Mrs. Nettie Buss.

Mr. Marion Chandler of Westbrook avenue will be hostess for the May meeting.

Guilds Plan Projects Book Smut Discussed

Thomas H. Gallagher, assistant prosecuting attorney of Wayne County, and Mrs. N. C. Dillon, president of the North-west Deamery of the National Council of Catholic Women, were guest speakers at the April meeting of Our Lady of the Lakes Rosary Altar Society.

Indecent literature was the subject of discussion. The speakers explained the problem and offered solutions for combating it through cooperation of community organizations. They added that indecent reading material may fall into the hands of young people by the age of eight.

The Rev. Vincent R. Myrick of St. Joseph Catholic Church, Lake Orion, and several of his parishioners attended the meeting.

The Rev. Frederick J. De-laney announced the all night Vigil at Our Lady of the Lakes on Holy Thursday: Forty Hour Devotions, May 8; First Communion, May 22; and a father and son athletic banquet May 25.

Plans were completed for the annual Easter luncheon and card party slated for April 18 at the parish hall. Mrs. Joseph Lado, chairman, and Mrs. Arthur LaVerne, co-chairman of St. Anne's Guild, are in charge.

Committee workers are Mrs. Jack Miesel of Immaculate Conception Guild, tickets; Mrs. Gerald Bergin of Mary Martha Guild, prizes; and Mrs. James Gannon of St. Gerard Guild, publicity. All guilds will assist with the party.

The Rosary Guild is planning a luncheon May 12. On June 7 Immaculate Conception Guild will be in charge of a luncheon. Both events will be in the parish hall.

Life of a Divorcee Is Not Glamorous

By RUTH MILLETT
An Italian professor who has returned to his own country after a visit to ours has a few hints for us on how we could cut our divorce rate.

In cases where the wife files for a divorce, the professor

by Anne Adams

suggests that the wife should be compelled to give up her husband's name and return to the status of "Miss."

He also recommends that a wife's alimony not exceed the salary she earned before marriage. And if she never held a job before marriage, he thinks she ought to be returned to her father who should share in her support.

"An American divorcee keeps most of the pleasures of marital status without having its responsibilities," says the tough-minded professor. His recommendations sound a little drastic, don't they? And wouldn't we women fight to keep our "rights" if anyone took his ideas seriously?

Actually, the American divorcee isn't as well off as a visitor, getting his ideas from divorcees he meets at cocktail parties, on shipboard, or otherwise leading the life of Mrs. Riley (ex, that is) might suppose.

Though the divorcee can keep her husband's name, nobody thinks of her as a wife. She loses that status the day the divorce is final and even her good friends begin to think of her as an extra woman who is a social problem.

SOCIAL CIRCLE CLOSES
If she is good-looking and has a way with men, women who still have their husbands and intend to keep them, close tight the social circle in which she once moved.

The "Mrs." before her name is just a signal to other women to keep an eye on her.

As for a divorcee's alimony, unless her husband is well-to-do, she is lucky if she gets as much as she earned before marriage. The divorcee living on fat alimony payments exists—but she isn't typical.

And poor old papa likely as not, is helping to support his divorced daughter and her children—not because he is required to, but because divorced daughters have a way of bringing their problems home.

On top of that, mama may find herself bringing up her grandchildren so the divorced daughter can hold down a job. Nope, even in America the life of a divorcee isn't glamorous. It might seem so to a casual observer—especially one from another land.

But behind that bright smile and that independent attitude the divorcee, even in America, is just a woman without a man of her own.

Expert Employer Recognizes Her Value

Mature Women Dependable

CHICAGO (UPI)—Age can be an asset to the feminine job hunter, say employment agency spokesmen and personnel officials.

The 45-year-old woman has no control over the attitude of her prospective boss, or the status of the labor market, both important factors. But her own attitude, as well as her skills, may be the deciding factor, the experts agreed.

She should recognize the value of her maturity and gain poise and assurance from this.

She also must be aware of the disadvantages employers have found in hiring the no-longer-young, and be alert to guard against them.

Gay Sweeney, women's personnel director for Armour from World War II through post-Korean War years, is one of the biggest boosters for the mature women.

THEY'RE DEPENDABLE

"They're stable, dependable," she said. "They come early and work late. They don't take long coffee breaks, don't demand as much as younger women, and actually do more work. I can't say enough for them."

Miss Sweeney and Ada Mostovoy, a specialist for the Illinois State Employment Service, said the mature woman's sickness record generally is good. She is less prone to "casual absences," Miss Mostovoy said, and after a serious illness, takes less time off for convalescence than does a younger woman.

Their safety records in industry are better than those of their juniors, and since they've learned how to budget, their wages seldom are garnished.

"This is an important consideration in a surprisingly large number of cases," Miss Mostovoy said.

The experts agreed that traits the older woman should guard against include:

Carelessness about personal appearance, talking too much, fear of new procedures, and technological changes, jealousy of younger workers, impatience toward newcomers, and setting for them the requirements imposed against employees 20 years ago.

Some employers are reluctant to hire a 55-year-old woman because she will not benefit from the firm's pension plan as much as longer-term employees, Miss Mostovoy said.

THE ANSWER

"One answer to this is that it's better for her to have a smaller pension later and an income now than no income."

The job field is good for skilled typists and stenographers, Miss Mostovoy said, and older, needlewomen have a "definite edge" in the garment trade. Retail stores often prefer them, for they are more likely to be polite and understanding to customers. Other service fields—in hotels, restaurants and hospitals—also offer likely openings.

The practical nursing field is excellent for the mature woman, and training in this skill is available to women up to age 55.

Allemanders Set Election

At Allemanders Square Dance Club Saturday evening, Sam Joan, caller, was assisted by Robert Longe and Melvin Shetter.

Included in the program were "Bambina Mine," "Tea Cup Chain" and round dances "Nellie" and "Bye Bye Blues."

The nominating committee presented a slate of officers for the April 23 election.

Mr. and Mrs. David Slater assisted with refreshments.

Attractive?

Your Arms Are Showing

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We are approaching the time of year when arms are in evidence more than ever. I am thinking of play clothes, summer dresses and swim suits. Then, too, the fashions this spring have a lot of arm interest with bell or flared sleeves or none at all.

Therefore it is high time that we get to work on our faithful appendages. I think flabbiness is the greatest offender to arm beauty in women of middle age. Unless a woman has been very athletic she is almost sure to have at least a hint of this.

Here are some exercises to firm up the arms.

1. Stand tall, arms at sides. Raise both arms upward with elbows stiff. Clap hands overhead. Lower both arms to sides, slapping sides with palms. Continue raising arms, clapping overhead, lowering arms and slapping sides. Arms remain straight throughout the exercise.

2. Stand with arms at sides. Clench your fists hard as you bend both elbows and touch your fingertips to your shoulders, pulling half with your lower arms toward your upper arms. Extend arms side-ward, shoulder height, palms toward the floor. Stretch to your fingertips. Again clench the fists, bend the elbows, touch your shoulders with your fingers and continue.

3. Stand tall, arms at sides. Clench the fists, bend the elbows and place the backs of the arms on the hip bones. Straighten the elbows and shoot the arms forward, arms on the hip bones. Continue. At shoulder height. Stretch forward. The elbows should be pulled in to. Again clench the fists, bend the el-ward the body when the arms are bows and place the backs of the resting on the hips.

Try this exercise for firming the arms: Clap hands over head, then lower both arms to sides, slapping sides with palms. Continue clapping the hands and slapping the sides.

Suggest Mixing Jewelry

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Don't be stuffy and unimaginative about your jewelry wardrobe. This advice comes from Joan Castle Joseph who owns a jewelry rental service which supplies about 90 per cent of the pieces used in TV and movies.

Mix costume jewelry, such as gold, silver and platinum, Mrs. Joseph says. Combine antique and modern jewelry "as you would furniture in your home." Don't adhere to the rule of gold jewelry for daytime, diamonds for night.

If you must wear a watch at formal affairs, have one set in a diamond ring or a bracelet with a cover over the face.

"Pearls are unimaginative," Mrs. Joseph added, "and school jewelry, such as a class ring, indicates an emotionally immature person. If you wear a class ring, you're hanging on to the past or are afraid of the future."

Airy Jewels

NEW YORK (UPI)—A fashionable Fifth Avenue gift store has figured out a way to rush one-of-a-kind pieces to branch customers. It uses helicopters. The copters unload diamonds, pearl necklaces, and sterling silver at parking lots adjacent to the branch stores.

Paris carries out the black-and-white theme in a chic way. A narrow white lace scarf is shown tucked into the neckline of a sleek black coat.

Patterson-Kilgore Rites Held Amid Candlelight

Candlelight nuptials of Paula Jean Kilgore and James Leslie Patterson were solemnized by the Rev. Robert Adams of Crescent Hills Baptist Church, Saturday afternoon in Bethany Baptist Church. Baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli flanked the altar.

Parents of the couple are the Paul B. Kilgore of Berrier street, Waterford Township, and the Leslie A. Pattersons of Williams Lake.

The bridal dress of white chantilly lace featured back ruffles which cascaded to the waltz-length hemline. Sequins edged the sash neckline of the fitted bodice and sleeves ended in ruffled points over the hands.

A cloud veil of imported net was secured by a pearl crown. Pink rosebuds and carnations centered a cascade bouquet of stephanotis.

Janet Wolfel of Waterford Township, honor maid, appeared in daffodil yellow crystal with matching veiled caplet. Her flowers were white carnations and orchid chrysanthemums.

Crystal Mephram and the bride's sister Virginia were bridesmaids. They wore ballerina-length orchid lace and carried baskets of yellow rosebuds and white chrysanthemums.

On the esquire side were William Fleming of Waterford Township, best man, John Remer of Royal Oak and Compton Hallcock were ushers.

Friends were greeted in the church parlors following the rites and at an evening reception at Eagles' Lodge. Mrs. Kilgore appeared in mint green lace with matching accessories and Mrs. Patterson in a rose print. Their copages were of pink rosebuds and white carnations.

The newlyweds will be at home on Lansdowne street, Williams Lake.

Steam Wool, Too

(NEA) — Nearly everyone knows that steam can restore the freshness to velvet. But it doesn't seem to be as widely known that it will also restore vitality to wool and closely woven heavy crepe.

Anticipating a 57 day history study tour of Europe this summer under the auspices of Eastern Michigan University School of Graduate Studies are

Rainy day fun for spring's inevitable showers may be planned for your stay-at-home small fry from paper

Can Make Dogs, Clowns and Masks

Child Has Fun With Paper Bags

Paper bags can save the day when the children set up the familiar cry of: "I haven't anything to do!"

A smart mother can save the grocery bags from the supermarket, and get them out to provide entertainment for a rainy afternoon.

With a supply of colored crayons, a child can make all kinds of fascinating toys out of paper bags.

One of the easiest is a pussycat.

Take any size bag, and let the child draw the head and body of a cat, coloring it to his fancy with crayons. Then stuff the bag with crumpled newspaper or tissue paper, tie a ribbon around the neck and cut out the ears, stapling them together.

The same process may be used to make a dog or any other animal.

To make a dog-in-a-doghouse, fold a paper bag in half lengthwise. A diagonal cut from the top center to the sides makes a slanting roof. Another diagonal cut an inch or two down from the center to within one inch of the sides and then cut down parallel about two inches, forms the handle. Open the bag and fold the front flap down to form a face. The back flap can be folded back or cut off. Inner folds are shaped to form ears, and the child colors dog and doghouse with water colors or crayons.

All kinds of masks may be made simply by coloring a flat paper bag and pasting on arms and feet.

Any paper bag big enough to fit over the child's head may be used. Let his imagination guide him in drawing and coloring the features, after cutting holes for eyes, nose and mouth. Yarn hair and big ears may be stapled.

Slip Into Pretty Dress, Fix Hotcake Breakfast

From NEA

Are you one of the growing number of women who don't care a fig what they look like until after they've had their first cup of coffee in the morning?

It's an alarming fact these days, with everyone always in a hurry, that breakfast time is fast becoming the forgotten hour. No one seems to remember that good looks and a cheerful start can make or break the day.

No man expects his wife to do full makeup, her best dress, and then set the breakfast table with her good china and crystal. But he does have the right to expect neatness, cheerfulness and a pretty table so that the whole household can start the day with a smile.

If you're a slightly hair setter, you don't have to show up at breakfast with bobby pins showing. There are a variety of caps that cover the hair and can make you look demure or pretty, depending on your mood.

If you want to get really gay, you can cover your hair with one of the new caps, and shock the family into wakefulness by appearing as a blonde or redhead.

Be sure to remove the cream from your face as soon as you get up. The shine should be in your eyes, not on your nose and chin.

The only makeup you need at that hour is lipstick. But don't overlook it. It takes only a second to apply, and will give you that "dressed" feeling.

WEAR PRETTY DRESS

When serving breakfast, wear something that's easy to slip into and easy to wash. A pretty washable cotton is easy to care for if there's any spillage.

A good, satisfying breakfast is a must for the family. Fixing it is no chore these days. Waffles come already prepared to pop into the toaster. Heat them and serve them with delicious corn syrup.

Pancakes take two minutes to mix and about four minutes to cook. Try adding a few drops of corn syrup to the batter for extra color and flavor. A bit of orange rind mixed into the batter is good, too.

The breakfast table can be set the night before.

'We Send In Class Treasurer'

Berates U.S. Ambassadors for Tackling Job Unprepared

By DOROTHY ROE

Many of America's representatives abroad go to their posts ill-prepared for the job ahead, says Marguerite Cullman, who had a concentrated course in diplomacy during the service of her husband, Howard Cullman, as commissioner general of the Brussels World's Fair.

"The chief requirement of a United States ambassador is to have enough money to foot the bills which go along with the job," says this sprightly and charming New Yorker, who has chronicled her Brussels experiences in her new book, "Ninety Doren Glasses."

"The result is we're sending in the class treasurer instead of the first team."

Mrs. Cullman, well-known as a successful Broadway angel before her sojourn into ambassadorial ranks, feels particularly strongly about American ambassadors who go to foreign posts with no knowledge of either the language or the customs of the country.

"How can an ambassador understand a people or a country when he can't even converse except in English?" she asks. "Often he can't read the local newspapers or magazines, understand the theater or even follow the jokes. And where does that leave him?"

Mrs. Cullman feels that our government asks the impossible when it sends in an amateur to do a professional diplomatic job. Says she:

"When my husband and I prepared to go to Brussels, where he had ambassadorial rank, we were both fairly sophisticated people, and were at least able to communicate with the Belgian people. But we moved in unaware of many of the small amenities that are all-important in any country."

"We were briefed on the climate, the rainfall, and given an outmoded list of wardrobe requirements. But nobody told us it is customary for guests to tip the butler at a private dinner party—thank goodness, I found that out on my own! I also learned that when a butler mutes numbers as he helps your wine he is not giving you a tip on the numbers game, but is announcing the year of the wine."

Professional training is vitally important for U.S. representatives abroad, in the opinion of this gracious critic, who also believes that the government should not make an ambassadorial job dependent on a private fortune. Says she:

"There is a tremendous future for young people who are interested in world affairs to start training early for diplomatic careers—to study languages, take every opportunity to travel and equip themselves to become able representatives of their country."

"This goes for girls as well as boys, because an ambassador's wife has, just as tough a job as her husband—and in many ways tougher."

Try Swim Suit First Then Buy

NEW YORK—The girls who look the prettiest on the beaches come summer are those who tried on their swimsuits. This may sound odd but it's true. For too many girls walk into a store, pick a style and color they like and buy the suit without trying it on.

They tell the clerk the size they took last year. But things have happened to the figure in the meantime. When the suit's finally tried on, it turns out that it's a bit snug. But it's too much trouble to take it back and, anyway, some stores don't exchange swimsuits.

The outcome? Another girl on the beach in a suit with pants that are too short, too tight, with rolls of flesh over the top of the suit and thighs that bulge from the line made by the pants.

This year, when you find the suit you want, ask to try it on. That way, you'll be sure.

Fly in Wool Knit

(NEA)—Travel notions have changed in the jet age. Women who used to wear slacks for air travel now are partisans of the wool knit dress. There's nothing like it for emerging from a plane, serene and unrumpled.

9 Groups Take Part in WCTU Dinner Session

Nine unions of the WCTU were represented at the dinner meeting of the Anna Gordon unit Monday in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Frank Deaver gave devotions. Audrey Linkenay was accompanist for vocal numbers by Linda Koch and Sue Froede. Patsy Sheppard showed the film "Sild Row."

Mrs. L. G. Rowley of Drayton Plains, state WCTU president, was guest speaker.

Guests included the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, pastor of the host church; Mrs. Frank Clemens of the Detroit Westlawn Union and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Green of Royal Oak. Mrs. Green is honorary president of the 18th district WCTU.

The governor's proclamation of Youth Temperance Education Week, April 24-30, was read.

Glasses Affect Veil

(NEA)—If you wear glasses, either strip the veiling from any hat you buy or wear it off-the-face. Veiling is never good company for glasses of any kind.

This will be a big year for white. Paris shows the sleeveless white flannel overblouse to wear with skirt or slacks.

Elect Sorority Officers

Officers were elected by Xi Beta Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority Tuesday evening in the Hotel Waldron. Mrs. William Kilben will be president; Mrs. John Whitehead, vice president; Mrs. Clarence Ball, recording secretary; Mrs. Perry Kelley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fred Rigotti, treasurer; Mrs. E. L. Sturdy, council delegate.

Stove Care Can Be Easy

NEW YORK—The care and feeding of her new kitchen range needn't be a traumatic experience for a young bride just learning to cook.

Here are some timely suggestions from a kitchen stove expert, Margaret Spader, a consumer consultant.

If fruit juice boils over from a pie, remove the syrup as soon as possible. It has a high acid content, which will pit the enamel of the oven bottom tray.

Any non-acid food that boils over may remain on the oven floor until charred. Then it will clean off easily.

Roast meats at low temperatures to reduce splattering of oven walls with fat. In case of splattering, use grease oil with a dry paper towel while the oven is warm and the fat is soft.

To finish cleaning the oven, saturate paper towels with ammonia and leave them in the cooled oven overnight, with the door closed. The next morning, the oven can be washed clean easily.

Clean With Soda

(NEA)—To make your teeth sparkle, brush them occasionally with baking soda. Just moisten your toothbrush with water, then scoop up the soda on the brush.

Don't Take Wedding Cake Home

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I was invited to a large wedding reception recently. A very elaborate wedding dinner was served followed by wedding cake and coffee or dessert.

As I could not eat the dessert, I asked the waiter for a paper napkin and a bag in which to wrap the cake and took my piece home with me to eat later. I was criticized for this.

Answer: You should not have taken cake served to you to eat at table, home with you. Wedding cake which is to be taken home is put into small white boxes and given to each guest as he (or she) is leaving the reception.

Dear Mrs. Post: When invited to someone's house for the evening, is it proper to leave the telephone number of your business at home in order that you may be reached there should someone want to get in touch with you?

Answer: Under ordinary circumstances, it would not be proper. But if you are expecting a very important telephone call, you may explain this to your hostess and ask to be allowed to have the call transferred to her house.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a member of an automobile insurance company. The other evening while I was on my way to visit a friend who lives in the suburbs, I had a flat tire. I called my insurance serviceman and in a short time someone arrived to fix the tire. There was no charge for this, but what I would like to know is, should I have tipped the person who changed the tire for me?

Answer: If he gave you prompt and efficient service, it would have been proper to offer him a tip, and then if there was a rule against his accepting it, he would have told you so.

Aim Is Better Nutrition

Tasting Game Used in Grade School Study

MOUNT PLEASANT (U.S.)—Researchers are feeding things like raw carrots on crackers to school kids here, hoping to teach them better eating habits.

A year from now they'll survey the children to see whether it works.

Central Michigan University is conducting a three-year study of nutrition education in the elementary schools. The object is to find out how to teach nutrition so it will do some good.

So a survey was made to find out what foods first through sixth graders in the Mount Pleasant school system were lacking in their diets.

"Too often," said researcher Mrs. Ethel R. Hyatt, "nutrition education is not integrated either with the rest of the curriculum or with eating habits in the home. The result is that health is treated as an incidental subject with little or no practical application resulting."

She said, "Many children don't like cooked vegetables or salads. . . . We can almost forecast in what areas there will be a deficiency."

The children are fed things like raw carrots on crackers so they can taste them. Then vegetables are cooked and more tasting goes on. Other food-tasting experiments have been carried out with fish, fruit, chocolate, Indian pudding and the like. The tasting stimulates the children's interest in new foods.

Mrs. Hyatt says the children are enthusiastic. In class they talk about why they need vegetables.

Other subjects are sneaked into the nutrition classes. Students in the fifth grade measure the food used in cooking and convert the measurements into fractions, for instance.

The dietary intake survey will be repeated next year to see whether the children have changed their food patterns and diet habits.

Mrs. Hyatt said the research is aimed at finding a better way to teach health and nutrition . . . one that will make children eat better.

Happy Endings for Easter Meal

Pontiac Press Home Editor

By now you have decided on the main course of your Easter dinner. But what about dessert? Although you may skip this course most of the time in the interest of a slimmer waistline, this is a special day, calling for a super dessert.

Perhaps a cake decorated with Easter "pretzles" will be your choice. The recipe below is one Mrs. Wayne deBeaulacir uses for special occasions at her home. She says it's an old reliable stand-by.

DELICATE SPICE CAKE
By Mrs. Wayne deBeaulacir

Measure into a sifted:
1/2 cup sifted cake flour
1/2 cup baking powder
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup each cinnamon and cloves

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 to 1 1/2 cups sour milk or buttermilk
2 eggs

*If you use butter, margarine or lard, use the smaller amount of milk; vegetable shortening calls for the larger amount.

Soften shortening. Add brown sugar, sifted dry ingredients and 1 cup of the milk. Mix until all flour is dampened and beat 2 minutes. Add eggs and rest of milk. Beat smooth.

Pour into two 9-inch pans lined with wax paper. Bake 25 minutes at 375 degrees. When cool, put layers together with a lemon filling. Frost with seven-minute frosting made with brown sugar.

Popcorn for dessert is a new, different and delicious idea. No, not buttered popcorn! This is sugar-coated popcorn formed into shells to hold ice cream. You may make the shells ahead of time and keep them in foil or plastic wrap.

Strawberry Popcorn Desserts
2 quarts unadorned popped popcorn
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 quart vanilla ice cream
2 cups sliced strawberries or 1 1-pound package frozen strawberries

Place popcorn in buttered bowl. Combine sugar, corn syrup, water, salt, cream of tartar and butter or margarine in heavy saucepan. Cook to hard crack stage (290 degrees), stirring frequently. Pour syrup in a fine stream over popcorn and stir carefully until syrup evenly coats popcorn.

Shape into shells using 3 large (9 1/2-ounce) glass apple dishing dishes or cereal bowls. Cool thoroughly. Just before serving scoop ice cream into shells; top with strawberries. Yield: 8 servings.

This next dessert is a convertible one. You can serve Pineapple Delight in a sherbet glass for a light and airy ending to a meal. Or you can fill pastry shells, sponge cake shells or angel food cake with the mixture. Taste your pick.

Pineapple-Coconut-Orange Delight
1 1/2 cups (14-ounce can) crushed pineapple
1/2 cup unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup vanilla
1/2 cup whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals
1/2 cup flaked or shredded coconut
1/2 cup dried orange

Drain pineapple. Combine syrup and water (if necessary) to make 1 cup liquid. Blend syrup-water mixture with gelatin in small saucepan. Heat over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves. Add pineapple and vanilla.

Chill to consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Fold gelatin mixture into whipped instant crystals (directions below). Chill until mixture mounds from spoon.

Spoon mixture into parfait glasses. Top with coconut and orange.

*To whip instant nonfat dry milk crystals (makes about 2 1/2 cups):
1. Mix 1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals with 1/2 cup ice water in bowl.
2. Beat until soft peaks form (3 to 4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice.
3. Continue beating until firm peaks form (3 to 4 minutes longer). Gradually add 1/4 cup sugar.

For our readers who must restrict the sugar in their diets, we suggest this zippy gelatin dessert. Use strawberries for garnishing.

Strawberry Zip
1 envelope low-calorie lemon-flavored gelatin
1/2 cup low-calorie strawberry-flavored gelatin
1/2 cup low-calorie ginger ale
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup water

HONEY COCONUT BRITTLE — This is an unusual candy, one you will enjoy making and serving. Honey flavors the brittle that has coconut rolled into it after it is cooked. Honey keeps candy mixtures from crystallizing.

Pineapple Filled Apples
Delicious When Baked

A delicious baked apple with a new flavor twist is made this way: Wash and core apples. Remove a strip of peel from around the blossom end. Place apples in shallow baking dish. Spoon 3 tablespoons crushed pineapple into the cavity of each apple. Sprinkle over each a teaspoon of brown sugar and a little cinnamon.

Brittle Is Topped With Coconut

Nothing tops off a family evening together as much as a piece of homemade candy passed around on a heirloom plate or a pretty candy dish. After the TV set is turned on or the family game table set up, highlight the evening with a dish of candy that you've stirred up yourself.

Honey Coconut Brittle
2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar
1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup water
2 teaspoons soda
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup sliced cashew nuts, chopped
1/2 cup small (1/2 inch) coconut

Combine sugar, honey, corn syrup, and water in a sauce pan. Bring to a boil and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until mixture when dropped into cold water, becomes very brittle (310 degrees on a candy thermometer). Remove from heat; add soda, butter, and nuts. Mix thoroughly. Pour into 2 well-oiled cookie sheets. Sprinkle with coconut and roll out thinly. Chill 10 to 15 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet and break into small pieces. Makes about 1 pound 12 ounces.

WATCHING — Don and Lynn deBeaulacir watch with the greatest of interest as their mother, Mrs. Wayne deBeaulacir of Riverview, puts the finishing touches on a cake for Easter.

An imaginative cook, Mrs. deBeaulacir took up cake decorating as a hobby and loves it. Maybe Lynn is planning to follow in her mother's footsteps.

Savory Sauce for Fish

One of the favorite fish from the North American lakes is whitefish. Sweet-meated whitefish, sold both fresh and frozen, is as popular served at home as it is in restaurants.

Probably one reason so many cooks love this meat is its ease of preparation. Steaming hot, delicious whitefish, cooked in a savory sauce, can be served in twenty minutes after it is first placed in the oven. A delicious meal as this one can be prepared while the fish is cooking.

Tarragon Baked Whitefish
Gilded Carrots
Bourbon Butter
Chicotee Joe Cream Cake Roll
The recipe for Tarragon Baked Whitefish is a simple one. The fish is placed in a shallow baking dish and sprinkled with dried tarragon and other seasonings. An out-of-the-usual liquid ingredient, lemon-lime carbonated beverage is then poured over the fish. This is then baked for 20 minutes or until fish flakes with a fork. Baste once or twice during baking. Makes 4 servings.

Tarragon Baked Whitefish
3 1/2 pounds whitefish fillet
1 1/2 tablespoons dried tarragon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup lemon-lime carbonated beverage

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Place fish in a greased, shallow baking dish. Sprinkle fish with tarragon, salt and pepper and dot with butter. Pour lemon-lime carbonated beverage over fish. Bake 20 minutes or until fish flakes with a fork. Baste once or twice during baking. Makes 4 servings.

PINEAPPLE FLAMINGO — Entertain with elegance for the first affair of spring. Serve Pineapple Flamingo as the festive dessert to please your guests. Canned pineapple chunks and strawberries are combined with a flavoring of brandy under a cap of almond whipped cream. Team it with demitasse for elegant service.

Fruit Dessert Just Elegant

No need to strike up a party mood for when the buds begin to form on the trees and the last traces of winter's shows have disappeared you know spring is in the air. Be the first to welcome in the season! Perhaps you're planning a first day of spring bridge party, a church guild meeting at your home, or a shower for a bride or mother-to-be. No matter what the occasion you'll usher in spring with all its glory with a dessert of Pineapple Flamingo.

This colorful dessert combines canned pineapple chunks and strawberries. A flavoring of brandy and a topping of almond whipped cream complete the festive dish. And, this dessert of elegance is a special treat for you because of the ease of preparation. Prepare the strawberries ahead and just before serving add the pineapple and topping.

Pineapple Flamingo
1 quart strawberries
1 cup brandy, or Kirsh
1 cup almond extract
1 cup whipped cream
Clean and stem strawberries. Sprinkle with half of the sugar; mix lightly and chill four to five hours. When ready to serve, add drained chilled pineapple. Mix lightly and put into serving bowl. Pour brandy over the fruit. Fold remaining sugar and almond extract into whipped cream. Put in mouth over fruit. Eight servings.

Add Protein to Souffle With Peanut Butter

Music to any cook's ears are the praises of praise which accompany a featherlight souffle. The creamy peanut butter in this golden souffle makes the rave notices even more vocal. Here is a wonderfully nutritious and tempting main dish for a Lenten luncheon, dinner or supper. The added taste fillip of versatile peanut butter provides protein enrichment for the meatless dish.

Baking time for the souffle allows you to chat leisurely with your family or guests. But, to paraphrase another song: "Get them to the table on time!" To enjoy a souffle to the utmost, it should always be served and eaten the moment it makes its debut.

Golden Cheese Peanut Souffle
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

New Nut Sauce for Fish Fillets

In spring more than any other time of year, most cooks try new dishes or new variations of old favorite recipes. After a long winter of hearty stew and pot roast meals, new menus are welcomed by the family.

Here is an out-of-the-usual almond sauce for fried fish fillets. The tender fillets of sole, cod or perch take on new flavor importance when this tangy sauce is served over them.

To make the sauce, saute sliced almonds in butter, add seasonings and cornstarch as a thickening agent, and then the liquid. The refreshing lemon-lime flavor of a carbonated beverage lends sparkle to this sauce. Made with natural flavorings from the skins of lemons and limes, this carbonated beverage gives a zippy accent to fish.

Almond Citrus Sauce
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon sliced almonds
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon lemon salt
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup lemon-lime carbonated beverage
Melt butter in a skillet; add almonds and saute until golden brown. Blend in cornstarch, adding salt, and cloves. Stir in lemon-lime carbonated beverage and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Serve over fried fish fillets. Makes 1 cup sauce.

Kidnap Picked Well-Known French Name

Peugeot Family Guides Auto Complex

PARIS (UPI)—Peugeot is a name only beginning to be well known outside France. But to Frenchmen it is as familiar as Ford or Chrysler is to Americans. The Peugeot firm is one of the "big five" of French automakers, the others being Renault, Citroën, Simca and Panhard. It is the only one besides Panhard still under family control.

The vast Peugeot group comprises 60 companies with an assembly business estimated at 200 million dollars.

Head of the family and firm since 1947, when his elder brother Robert died, has been Jean-Pierre Peugeot, 53. He is the grandfather of the kidnapped Eric Peugeot.

Eric's father, Roland, was educated in France and the United States where he studied at Harvard. He is a vice president of the family firm. He and his wife, the former Colette Mayensky, have one other son, Jean-Philippe, 7.

The company dates back to before the French Revolution when the first Jean-Pierre Peugeot was manufacturing the machine tools of that era.

His son, the second Jean-Pierre, branched out into whalebone stiffenings for corsets and crinoline skirts.

The family head of the third generation, Eugene, married into high Protestant society, Armand, the "poet and inventor" of the fourth generation, invented an automobile.

Inevitably, other members of the family thought it was impractical. Just as inevitably, auto became the biggest item in Peugeot's business.

Today the Peugeot complex of automobile, machine tool and steel products factories, mostly located in the Franco-Comtois region where the family originated, has 30,000 employees.

Size of the family fortune has never been hinted at but it undoubtedly runs into tens if not hundreds of millions of dollars. The company's sales amount to 20 million dollars a year.

De Gaulle to Snub U.N. in New York

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle, a man with little affection for the United Nations, reportedly will become the first head of a major nation to bypass the world body on a New York visit.

Informed sources say the austere Frenchman rejected an invitation from Secretary General

Dag Hammarskjöld to call at U.N. headquarters during his New York stay April 26-27.

Hammarskjöld acknowledged he discussed the matter with De Gaulle last month but declined to say what kind of reply he got.

The sources said De Gaulle has nothing personal against Hammarskjöld and is expected to receive the U.N. official at his hotel during his visit.

The United Nations is another matter. French relations with the organization have been strained for years.

Rehabilitation Can Create New State Taxpayers

GALESBURG (U)—Lt. Gov. John B. Swanson said last night Michigan can create 5,100 new taxpayers with its vocational rehabilitation budget of an estimated three million dollars next fiscal year.

Swanson spoke at a dinner honoring 150 volunteers who work for disabled and handicapped veterans.

The lieutenant governor, a disabled veteran himself, said the 5,100 new taxpayers will earn $300 million dollars and pay taxes of one million the first year alone.

"Rehabilitation does not cost money," Swanson said. "It pays."

Seek to Justify Free Plane Ride

Three FPC Members Accept Trip From Gas Firm; Are Criticized

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A controversy boiled up in Congress Wednesday over the disclosure that three federal power commissioners accepted a free ride to Louisiana in the private plane of a gas company seeking a multi-million dollar rate increase.

FPC Chairman Jerome K. Kuykendall said he and two other commissioners made the trip last month in a plane provided by United Gas Pipe Line Co. so they could attend the funeral of FPC member John E. Hussey.

Rep. Owen Harris (D-Ark.), chairman of the House Commerce Committee, said Kuykendall cleared the matter with him in advance and he saw nothing wrong with it. Harris said a person would have to be "pretty small" to criticize it.

But Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) said he saw no difference between this case and that of John C. Dorrer, who bowed out as Federal Communication Commission chairman after the Harris committee brought out that he spent a week aboard the Florida yacht of a broadcaster. Both incidents were "improper," Moss said.

"This is a regulated industry," he said of the FPC. "These are the people who regulate them. They shouldn't be taking favors."

Rep. Ken Hechler (D-W. Va.) called it a case of "aerials" and said it cast doubt "on the propriety and future usefulness of these members."

"The poor gas-consuming householders who must scrimp and save to pay skyrocketing gas bills surely must feel kinship for chairman Kuykendall, who couldn't afford to pay his own way to Louisiana," Hechler said in a statement.

Farm Wages Reach Record Level in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Farm wages are at their highest rate in history.

The U.S. Agriculture Department said the U.S. average composite rate per hour for farm hired hands on April 1 was 75.1 cents. This is nearly 5 per cent above the comparable rate a year ago. The index of this average, seasonally adjusted, is 649 per cent of the 1910-14 base.

The department said the increases in farm wage rates were broadly and consistently reported throughout the states and appeared in each type of hiring arrangement on which rates were obtained, whether per month, per day, or per hour.

The composite rate per hour was calculated from these rates by type as of April 1: Per month with board and room, $145; per month with board and room, $34.75; per week without board or room, $65.75; per day with board and room, $5.90; per day without board or room, $6.40; per hour with board and room, $1.03.

Lawrence, Kan., was founded in 1854 by a group of abolitionists of the New England Emigrant Aid Society, headed by Amos A. Lawrence of Boston.

Churches to Recall Christ's Death

As churches throughout Christendom commemorate the 1,927th year since Christ died violently on the cross, local observances beginning today recall the tragic events that filled His last three days on earth.

Heads will be bowed in special church services this evening. Tomorrow, Christians the world over will pause for at least a few moments of contemplation, while the many who can will file into the churches in memory of Christ's death.

Subdued spirits of the faithful will arise refreshed Easter Sunday morning with the message — "He has risen."

Churches of the various Christian faiths will observe the Holy Day in different ways; but it will mean the same for all — man's redemption from original sin through the resurrection of Christ, the son of God.

The Gingelville Baptist Church will be setting for a sunrise service at 6:30 p.m. Easter Sunday. It will feature a play, "After Three Days," to be presented by the young people of the church.

A breakfast will follow. The same evening a week of revival meetings will be launched. Speaker at the sessions, to begin at 7:30 p.m., will be the Rev. Sydney Hawthorne, church pastor.

The Moody Bible Institute Bible Team will appear at the Sunday night meeting only. The church is at 3920 Baldwin Rd.

TRADITION IN ROCHESTER
Ministers from four Rochester area churches will join in leading traditional Good Friday services at the First Congregational Church, Third and Walnut streets, from 12:30 to 3 p.m. tomorrow.

They are the Rev. Robert Herrmann, University Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Robert Jacobson, First Congregational Church; the Rev. Thomas Riddle, Church of the Nazarene; the Rev. J. Douglas Parker, St. Paul Methodist Church; and the Rev. Kyle Elliott, also of the St. Paul Methodist Church.

Organ music will be played from noon to 12:30 p.m. for those who would like the ministers of meditation before the ministers begin their part of the services.

SPECIAL MUSIC
Special music will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. Don Wanner of the Church of the Nazarene. Mrs. Merlin Spitzberg of St. Paul and Mrs. James Faust, of University Presbyterian Church.

Providing the music will be Harold Dawes, organist for the First Congregational Church.

Holy Communion will be served in connection with the special "Eucharist" service at 8 p.m. today at the St. Paul Methodist Church, Rochester.

Easter Sunday morning at 7 a.m. the annual sunrise broadcast will be served by the Senior High Youth Fellowship. Church members and friends are invited to attend.

Three services of worship will follow. Speaker at the 7:45 a.m. service will be the Rev. Kyle Elliott, minister of the Christian Education; and at the 9 and 11 a.m. services, the Rev. J. Douglas Parker will preach.

Music at all services will be provided by the youth and adult choirs.

MANDON LAKE EVANGELIST
Evangelist Billy Walker will deliver the sermon at 1 p.m. Good Friday services at the Mandon Lake Community Church, 915 Round Lake Rd., White Lake Township.

Three services of worship will follow. Speaker at the 7:45 a.m. service will be the Rev. Kyle Elliott, minister of the Christian Education; and at the 9 and 11 a.m. services, the Rev. J. Douglas Parker will preach.

Music at all services will be provided by the youth and adult choirs.

MADISON HEIGHTS — Construction has begun on the new $380,000 federal elementary school here with completion scheduled in September.

Financed through a federal grant, the new school is the first step in a $2,325,000 building program approved at the polls recently by Lamphre School District voters.

The school will provide facilities for 480 elementary pupils. It contains two kindergartens, 13 classrooms and an activities room.

Officiating at ground-breaking ceremonies were School Board President Martin Payne, School Supt. Herbert H. Beyer and representatives of H. E. Beyer & Associates of Detroit, architect for the overall program.

Included in the program are a proposed eight-room addition to Lessinger Elementary School, another new elementary school, containing 14 rooms, on 12-Mile road, and a new senior high school.

Bird Chapter, OES, Will Hold Bake Sale

CLARKSTON — Joseph C. Bird Chapter 284, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a bake sale Saturday at Kreges's store in the Drayton Shopping Center.

The chapter will file officers of other OES chapters at a Friendship Night Monday at 5 p.m. in the Clarkston High School.

A group of past matrons and past patrons of Pontiac Chapter 228 known as the Cost of 1967 will be dressed in costumes of that period to exemplify degrees as they were conferred then.

The Easter Sunday sunrise service at 7 a.m. will be under the direction of Donald Rock, Pastor of the church, the Rev. Dorr W. Fockler will give the sermon.

The 9 and 11:15 worship will have Walker delivering the sermon. There also will be a 7:30 p.m. service.

ELMWOOD SERVICES SET
The Rev. Henry W. Powell, pastor of the Elmwood Methodist Church, announces a week of evangelistic services beginning Easter Sunday evening and continuing nightly through April 24.

The Rev. Richard D. Loh of the Grand Blanc Methodist Church will conduct the services.

Elmwood Methodist Church is at the corner of Auburn road and will preach a sermon titled "Conqueror Through Love." All four church choirs will participate in the services.

SUNRISE AT COMMERCE
The Commerce Methodist Church will begin Easter Sunday with a sunrise service at 6 a.m. during which the religious drama "And Peter" by Phillip Osgood will be regnerated by the Senior High Youth Fellowship.

The worship part of the service will be led by the young people of the Junior High Fellowship.

Breakfast will be served in the church dining room afterwards.

At the 8 and 10 a.m. services, the Rev. Perry A. Thomas, pastor, will preach a sermon titled "Conqueror Through Love." All four church choirs will participate in the services.

The Rhythmic Choir will interpret the hymn "Alleluia, Alleluia, Hearts to Heaven and voices Raise."

Sunday school will be conducted at the usual hours with special Easter programs.

WAY OF CROSS
Catholics throughout the area will follow the Way of the Cross in their respective parish churches Friday from noon to 3 p.m., followed by benediction.

Special Masses were being held today, Holy Thursday, and will be at the usual times Easter Sunday.

DISCUSS SCIENCE PROJECT — Four teachers in the Rochester Community School District talk over how to make a galvanometer to register the pressure of electricity. Their discussion took place at yesterday's Teachers' School Workshop designed to promote an exchange of ideas on science projects. The four are, from left, Mrs. Joan Hubbard, fourth grade at Brooklands; Mrs. Mary Mannino, fourth grade at Baldwin; Al Valencia, junior high school; and Mrs. Mary Winton, third grade at Woodward School.

Decision on Co-Op Purchase of School Buses Due in Week

ROCHESTER — A decision is expected Wednesday from a number of Oakland County school boards as to whether they are interested in participating in a co-operative bus purchase plan.

Reports from the individual districts are due at Wednesday's meeting of school bus officials.

At that time it will be determined how many individual districts are interested and, with the total picture, how they will proceed.

"The ones who want to participate in the program will total their bus needs. From there co-operative purchasing pieces can be determined," the Rochester official said today.

"This is a means of saving tax dollars," he said, indicating that a great deal of study and investigation has gone into the plan.

Huizenga had statistics to substantiate savings that can be realized even between the purchase of 20 and 25 buses from one agency.

He pointed out earlier this year that need for increased maintenance requires more money and more time to keep old buses in proper working order.

He attributed their deteriorating condition to age and to the condition of the back-country roads.

Purchase of new buses, under the cooperative plan would make it possible to retire the older vehicles before they reach the age where increased maintenance is needed, Huizenga indicated.

In other action last night, the Rochester Board gave the local Kiwanis Club permission to use the high school stadium for its "4th-of-July" celebration July 4.

Board members termed the event an "excellent community affair."

14 Scholarships in 4-H Future

Will Be Awarded for Achievement in Health and Safety Programs

CHICAGO — A total of 14 college scholarships will be awarded to 4-H Club members this year for best achievement in the 4-H health and safety programs, according to Norman C. Mindrum, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls-Club Work.

The 14 scholarships will be presented to six national health winners and eight safety winners to be announced at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next December. The state and national champions will receive all-expense paid trips to the congress.

Club members over 14 years old who have completed three years of project work are eligible for both state and national awards, Mr. Mindrum declares. For the younger member there is a medal award given for best achievement at the county level.

In addition to developing desirable health and safety practices in day-to-day living, the programs teach the responsibility of good citizenship and effective leadership, he points out. The work is under supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service and local volunteer club leaders.

Last year nearly 1½ million 4-Hers across the nation were enrolled in these programs.

Donor of the health awards is Eli Lilly and Co. of Indianapolis, Ind. General Motors sponsor the safety awards.

Further information can be obtained from the county extension agent or the state extension office.

Lead Brandon Graduates

Valedictorian of the June graduating class at Brandon High School, Ortonville, is Sandra K. Sherman, 18, and salutatorian, Alfred W. Giroux, 17, it was announced today.

Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherman, of 788 Oakwood Rd. She has maintained a 3.77 scholastic average during her four years in high school.

A German exchange student last summer, Sandra has been active in the band, chorus, and school plays. She was treasurer of her class in the 10th and 12th grades.

Alfred has a scholastic average of 3.82 in high school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin B. Giroux, of 2075 Jossman Rd., Holly.

His extra-curricular activities include Student Council, Varsity Club, band, football, track and school plays.

Avondale High Selected for U. of M. Experiment

Avondale High School is one of four Michigan high schools selected to participate in a program initiated by the University of Michigan to encourage capable students to continue their education.

The other three are Roseville, Hazel Park and Romulus high schools.

"The program will utilize the experience gained by the North Central Assn.'s experimental superior and talented students project," said Ray E. Kehoe, associate director of the U.M. bureau of school services.

The college bureau will coordinate the experimental program. One participating U. of M. unit will be the office of admissions, the scholarships office and the bureau of psychological services.

The two-year NCA project has attempted to develop techniques for identifying, motivating and guiding the highest quarter of the high school enrollment so that many of the top students will attend college.

The U. of M. program will include the awarding of three $2,000 Frost scholarships for use in September 1961 to students in the four participating schools.

MARY POWELL GRUBBS
Plans for a June 13 wedding of their daughter, Mary Powell, to Wendell Power Jr. are announced by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Grubbs of Indianapolis, Ind. The bridegroom-to-be is the son of Mrs. Arnold Robbins of 1600 Bolton Dr., Walled Lake and Wendell L. Power Sr. of 34004 14-Mile Rd., Farmington.

Keego Sewer Starts Monday

Ground Breaking Rites Expected to Bring Gov. Williams, Officials

KEEGO HARBOR — Construction of the long-awaited internal sewer system begins Monday with ground breaking ceremonies at 1 p.m.

State, county and local officials have been invited. Gov. Williams is expected to attend. City Clerk Eileen Van Horn said.

Director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works R. J. Alexander and Peter Quinlan, city supervisor and chairman of the Sewer Committee, will break ground to kick off the project.

Completion of the sewer system that will serve some 300 dwellings is scheduled in December.

LINK TO EVERGREEN

When completed the internal system will be hooked on to the Evergreen interceptor sewer, now under construction. The Evergreen sewer is scheduled for completion this June.

The city's sewage will then be treated by a plant in Detroit. The city is now served by septic tanks.

Bonds issued to finance the project will be paid off by taxing residents $36 a year for a 30-year period.

The contract for the project was awarded to D'Agostini Construction, Inc., of Warren.

State Farmers to Start Late on Field Work

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan farmers are expected to get a late start on spring field work, the federal-state crop reporting service said today.

Although snow melted fast the last days of March, the absence of good drying weather early in April kept farmers from their fields, the service said.

The winter wheat crop was forecast at 35,100,000 bushels based on 1959.

This would be slightly less than was harvested last year but still slightly above average, the service said. Milk production during March went up compared to last year and egg production went up.

Higher output per cow was the reason for the 1 per cent jump in milk production, while weather factors influencing egg production were blamed for a drop of 10,000,000 eggs from a year ago.

Youth Guides in Keego to Hear Case Worker

KEEGO HARBOR — The Youth Guidance and Child Protection Committee will meet publicly at 8 p.m. today at Roosevelt Elementary School.

M. Neil Cooley, case worker for the area, will discuss the "Parental and Youth Code" set up by Juvenile Court.

"The main object of the group is to discover the needs of youth in the community and find out what is available to fill these needs whether it be an employment problem or an emotional one, committee Chairman Milton Parry said.

William Knapp Buys Milford Town Office

MILFORD — The former village office here has been sold. Purchasing the two-story building at 333 N. Main St. was William Knapp, president of the Knapp Redi-Mix Concrete Co. here.

The Village Council accepted Knapp's offer of $12,500. A sign in the window of the one-time bank had asked $15,000.

Immediate plans for the use of the building were not known, Village Manager Oliver Taylor said. The building was "cut up for sale in January while the village government was preparing to move into present quarters, the old Webster home, at 124 E. Commerce Rd."

'We'll Try Hoffa; What Can We Lose?'

Desperate Egg Farmers Turn to Teamsters

By ANDREW MEISELS
VINELAND, N.J. (AP) — A housewife nursing a sick husband. A former displaced person whose entire family was wiped out in a German concentration camp. A typical American farm family whose story—or at least part of it—sounds like the typical American success saga.

These are some of the egg farmers in this area who are joining the International Brother-native Americans, others by European refugees who came here to start a new life.

On March 20, more than 1,000 farmers traveled to nearby Atlantic City to hear Hoffa speak. He offered to accept them into a branch of the Teamsters Union, a move that would give all but one of the farmers room to signify that they wanted to join.

ELECT COMMITTEE
The group elected a committee to do the organizing and work out details with the Teamsters. A vocal member of this committee is Miriam Katz, vice chairman, who has been trying to organize the farmers into a large cooperative group for several years.

Mrs. Katz runs a medium-sized egg farm with her husband, Charles. One daughter, Judith, 21, is a junior at Temple University Medical School. The other, Sharon, 17, goes to Vineland High School. The newest addition to the family is Perry, 4.

An attractive blonde, Mrs. Katz once worked as a model in New York City's garment district. Seven years ago, the Katzes gave up their home in Bay Side, N.Y., borrowed a little money and bought a 10-acre farm with a modest house on it.

"My husband wasn't well," Mrs. Katz said, "and I thought country living would be good for him and my two daughters."

When the family first came here, eggs were selling for 63 cents a dozen wholesale. Before they could produce their first delivery, however, the price dropped to 35 cents.

Even so, the Katzes managed to break even their first season, but since 1954 they have lost money every year.

MRS. MIRIAM KATZ

hood of Teamsters, headed by James R. Hoffa.

Why?

Ask them, and here are some of the answers:

"We're desperate. The farmer is sick of living in uncertainty. I want to be able to live decently, to provide a decent education for my children, to pay off my debts, to be able to afford a doctor when my husband is sick."

"Nobody's helping us, not the government, not the cooperatives—nobody. I work as hard as I can, and so does my wife, but we can't even support the two of us. So we'll try Hoffa. What have we got to lose? We've tried everything else."

FEAR POORHOUSE

"Why do we want to join a union? We want to keep out of the poorhouse, that's why. You get disgraced. You work 10 or 11 hours a day, 7 days a week, and you don't make no money, and you go into a hole."

The Vineland area is a peaceful section of the New Jersey countryside, dotted here and there with a farmhouse bearing a tattered sign that reads: "Eggs for sale, cheap."

There are 1,400 poultry and egg farms in the area, some old, some relatively new, some owned by Farmers estimate it costs between 33 and 42 cents to produce a dozen eggs.

Two years ago the wholesale price of eggs dropped to 35 cents a dozen. Until recently this year, they were selling for about 30 cents.

These prices are for large eggs. Medium and small-sized eggs sell for less.

The New Jersey Farm Bureau has said that the law of supply and demand determines the price of eggs, adding that overproduction has put the farmers in their present plight.

The farmers deny this, charging that speculators manipulate the price of eggs for their own ends.

How about Hoffa himself? About the Teamsters Union, which was expelled from the AFL-CIO on corruption charges? How do the farmers feel about that?

"Hoffa's reputation doesn't concern me," says Paul Flumenbaum, "He hasn't been proven guilty of anything."

The speaker is a sad-eyed man who runs a small farm in Buena. He was born in Inowol, Poland, 37 years ago, and he spent 6 of those years in a German concentration camp.

UMW Official Urges Miners to Back HHH

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An official of the United Mine Workers (UMW) reports that West Virginia miners strongly favor Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey over Sen. John F. Kennedy in the May 10 West Virginia presidential primary.

The official said yesterday this information was supplied by UMW staff-members who recently returned from West Virginia. UMW members and their families are estimated to control approximately 100,000 votes in the state.

The official said union policy is to remain neutral and not to support either candidate. There have been reports, however, that former UMW President John A. Lewis was backing a behind-the-scenes effort to stop Kennedy.

The United Mine Workers Journal, the official union newspaper, has criticized Kennedy for his part in passage of the labor reform bill. Union sentiment in the past has been in support of Humphrey because of his pro-labor voting record.

Station in Mexico to Track Spaceman

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — One of 20 tracking stations which will follow the first U. S. satellite to carry a man into space will be installed near Guaymas on Mexico's West Coast.

U. S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill and Foreign Minister Manuel Tello signed a treaty authorizing the construction of the station. It is expected to be ready for operation by July 15.

The treaty stipulates that the staff of the station shall be made up entirely of civilians and that it shall be so designed that it could not be converted to military use.

Scores Fifth - Round TKO Over Kalingo Ending Slump

CHICAGO (U)—Rocky Kalingo, the Philippine welterweight champion, is going back to Los Angeles where it's warm after being cooled off in Chicago in more ways than one. The 24-year-old Kalingo, seventh-rated contender, scored a fifth round technical knockout over Rocky last night, spoiling his national television debut in Chicago Stadium.

Kalingo, a 5-2 underdog despite a vigorous build up by drum beaters of National Boxing Enterprises, was cooled by a right-left combination near the end of the fourth round. He sagged down the ropes to his knees and the count reached seven before the bell ended the round.

Dr. Irving Slot of the Illinois Athletic Commission examined the 24-year-old Kalingo between rounds and ruled he was in no condition to continue. He was dazed, and a cut in scar tissue over his left eye was bleeding freely.

Hart, coming off two losses and padded with his top weight of 150 pounds—7 more than Rocky—couldn't seem to collect his reflexes. The openings yawned before him and nothing happened.

By the fourth round, however, Hart got his automatic pilot working and beamed in on Kalingo with lefts and rights as Rocky crowded in. It was just a question of time from then on.

Ex-Tiger Picked by Experts

Shaw 'Pitcher of the Year'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Shaw, strapping surprise star of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff in 1959, was picked today to be the American League "pitcher of the year" by the nation's top baseball experts.

The 6-foot, 2-inch, 195-pound right-hander was selected by 13 of the 50 writers and broadcasters who composed the United Press International's 1960 board of experts. Early Wynn, veteran right-hander who won 22 games for the White Sox in 1959, was the second most popular choice with six votes.

Frank Lary and Jim Banning of the Detroit Tigers and Milt Pappas, 20-year-old Baltimore Oriole ace, were next with five votes each, followed by Bob Turley of the New York Yankees.

Dick Donovan and Billy Pierce of the White Sox, Don Mossi of the Tigers, Whitey Ford of the Yankees and Bud Daley and Don Larsen of the Kansas City Athletics had one each.

The potential strength of the White Sox' pitching staff was emphasized by the fact that 22 of the 50 voters were cast for Chicago hurlers.

Shaw, acquired from the Detroit Tigers on June 15, 1958, developed into a star under the careful tutelage of Manager Al Lopez.

He appeared in 47 games and 231 innings, compiled an 18-6 record that topped American League pitchers in win-loss percentage and had a 2.65 earned run average that was second only to Baltimore knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm's 2.19.

Shaw, who concedes he became a winner when he learned he doesn't have to strike out every batter he faces, also kept alive the White Sox' World Series hopes with a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers in the fifth game.

Wynn, who celebrated his 40th birthday last January, had a 22-10 mark and 3.13 earned run average in 1959. His 271 victories are the most of any active big league pitcher and he believes he will become the modern era's seventh 300-game winner before he retires. Lary had a 17-10 record and Orioles, Turley slumped to 8-11 the Indians.

Green Shirts, White Slacks

Puerto Ricans Invade ABC

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI)—For the first time in history a team from Puerto Rico has competed in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Nationally attired in green shirts and white slacks, the team bowled a 2488 series in open team competition here last night. The leadoff man, Don Yandoli, was high man with 578.

A group of four Puerto Rican businessmen sponsored the United States visit. Puerto Rico now has two bowling establishments and the sport is growing in the island protectorate.

Top open team score bowled yesterday was a 2938 by the Whitetown Construction Co. club of Utica, N.Y.

to Win TonightVisiting Canadiens Can Climb Fifth Straight
Stanley Cup

TORONTO (AP)—The Stanley Cup pattern set with the opening of the championship hockey competition three weeks ago continues in a familiar vein today.

The Montreal Canadiens still are winning and Toronto Coach Punch Imlach still is talking.

"We have our backs to the wall and there's only one way to go up. That's where we've headed," said Imlach. "My guys are good and mad right now."

The Canadiens, seeking their fifth straight title, lead 3-0 in the best-of-7 series. The fourth game will be played in Maple Leaf Gardens tonight. If Toronto wins, the fifth game is booked for Montreal Saturday night.

Imlach scoffed at a suggestion of a Montreal sweep, but admitted that the Leafs face tremendous odds in their bid for a four-game comeback.

"Let's not forget, though, that it happened before," he pointed out. Detroit was leading Toronto 3-0 in the finals in 1942 and then the Leafs came back to win the next four.

Although Toe Blake, the Montreal coach, is sitting in the driver's seat he exhibited his usual caution.

"I don't know if we can come back tonight," he said. "But we're sure going to give it a try. Our line of Jean Beliveau, Marcel Bonin and Dickie Moore didn't figure in the scoring in the third game and they're just about due to break out. It could be tonight."

Blake was angry with Toronto officials who scheduled a Montreal practice or 9 a. m. Tuesday. It was too early to allow the players a full night's rest and only four turned out for a light drill.

Imlach had his charges on the ice at 11 a. m. and sent them through a 30-minute practice session. Both clubs are in good shape except for Maurice Richard of the Canadiens, who has a bruised toe.

However, the Rocket, who scored his first goal of the playoffs during Tuesday's 5-2 victory, is expected to take his usual position at right wing.

3 Chips in No-Hitter

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Ken Knipechild, Jim Boren and Bob Jansen each pitched three innings of no-hit baseball and Central Michigan beat David Lipscomb 10-4 yesterday.

Dick Mrozinski hit safety three times, including a triple, for Central Michigan.

Central Michigan, 8-1, 100-104, 4-2 David Lipscomb, 7-1, 100-104, 4-2 Ken Knipechild, Jim Boren (4), Bob Jansen (7) and Glen Hain; John McDevitt and George Gault.

Bewildered about tire claims and grades? Confused about how much to spend? Don't be!

Basically there are 3 kinds of tires for 3 kinds of driving (heavy driving, light and normal).

Buying the right tire is as easy as B-F-G

For heavy driving—premium-quality tires

For light driving—economy tires

For normal driving—first-quality tires

If you travel the turnpikes, piling up mileage at superhighway speeds—you need a premium-quality tire like the "HT". This new tire has an extra-wide, extra-deep tread on top of 4 plies of extra-strong nylon cord. The "HT" gives 22% more mileage than a regular, first-quality tire... yet costs only about $3 more!

$24.60 B.F. Goodrich "HT"
6.70-15 or 7.50-14, BLACKWALL TUBELESS

Plus tax and your retreadable tire

If you do mostly light driving—like just around town—then you can save real money with economy tires like the BFG "Safety-S". This tire is fine for downtown shopping and short distance trips. With a 7-rib, safe-stopping tread, we believe there's no better economy tire value available anywhere.

$12.95 BFG "Safety-S"
6.70-15, BLACKWALL TUBE TYPE

Plus tax and your retreadable tire

If you're like most drivers, you make hundreds of short trips around the city and a few long ones each year. You need the BFG "Silvertown", the tire chosen for 1960 cars. New "Quiet Rubber" takes the hum out of highways, the squeal out of corners, gives the smoothest ride ever.

$22.35 BFG "Silvertown"
6.70-15 or 7.50-14, BLACKWALL TUBELESS

Plus tax and your retreadable tire

Fernandez and Bilko Are Keys to Tiger Hopes in 1960

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers cannot depend upon Eddie Yost and Frank Bolling to do all their infield work in 1960. Yost had the best year of his career at third base in 1959 when he hit 21 home runs and drove in 51 runs. It was Yost who kept the Tigers from near-total collapse.

He came through when Gail Harris and Larry Osborne failed at first base, and when the club learned Rocky Bridges didn't cover enough ground at shortstop. To put together a first class infield, the Tigers need top-notch glove work from newcomer Chico Fernandez at shortstop and heavy stick work from Steve Bilko at first base.

The Tigers know Fernandez will not hit for average or distance. They can carry him in their lineup only if Bilko, Harvey Kuenn, Al Kaline and Charlie Maxwell hit well enough to keep up satisfactory run production.

Both Bilko and Fernandez are long shots, and there's no denying it.

Fernandez acquired the reputation for lackadaisical play in three National League seasons. Manager Jimmie Dykes and pitching coach Tom Ferrick didn't get overboard when the front office suggested that the Tigers get Chico in an inter-league trade with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Dykes had seen him in the National League and Ferrick was even closer to the situation as the Phillies' pitching coach.

But Chico is here and Dykes is down the line, or the plank, with the good-field, no-hit Cuban who was the Phils' regular shortstop for two seasons before losing the job to rookie Joe Koppe last year.

Behind this foursome, the Tigers may have better depth and versatility than they have had in some years. Cool Veal likely will be sent out.

But Casey Wike is a capable glove man who might end up with the shortstop job. He's a slap hitter and Dykes has liked his spring work. Bridges, like Wike, can play several positions, and his perfect chances has every incentive in the world to do a good job. Whether he can hit Major League pitching well enough to offset his clumsiness with ground balls is a question that apparently won't be answered until he is tested thoroughly against American League pitching.

But Bilko and Fernandez are the keys. The Tigers, trying to make up 15 games behind their fourth-place finish and the pennant-winning Chicago White Sox, are drawing to an inside straight. If they hit, they'll be a greatly improved baseball team.

But if you ever have drawn to an inside straight, you know that your chances are slim indeed.

'Those Cubs Better Look Out' Giants' No. 1 Female Fan Ready for Action

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Don't let these wise guys kid you. The Giants' 1960 baseball season doesn't REALLY open until tonight.

That's because the club's most rabid female fan — Mrs. John (Roberta) Morrison—wasn't present Tuesday and Wednesday when the hometown heroes beat the St. Louis Cardinals twice.

"Well, I'll be there tonight," Roberta rasped in a gravel voice. "And those Chicago Cubs better look out. Why I'll bet Willie Mays wallops two homers against them and Cepeda (Orlando) and Kirkland (Willie) oughta get at least one apiece."

It was recalled that Roberta fled from a burning apartment house last summer wearing a nightgown and clutching what she considered her most prized posessions—two tickets to a Giants' game.

It likewise was recalled that during one Giants-Cubs contest last year she taunted Chicago players—and fans—with such wild abandon that one gentleman from Chicago, sitting two rows below her, dared to object.

Then she proceeded to give him such a bad time he left the stadium. And other Chicago visitors moved uncomfotably from the neighborhood of Mrs. Morrison's seat.

Last year the Giants played in Seals Stadium. It could become as cold as a gambler's stare out there at night. Everybody took blankets and vacuum jugs of hot coffee and perhaps a wee bit of corn. But not Roberta.

The lithographing company billing clerk—who admits to being more than 21 but who easily could pass for 50—braved the elements with only a light coat.

"It gets kinda windy down at Candlestick Park, Roberta. Are you going to take a blanket this year?"

"Not on your life," she retorted. "Whaddaya think? I'm going down there to see a ball game—not to go to bed."

And you better believe it!

MSU Tries Again to Open at Home.

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State will try again to open its home baseball season with a doubleheader against Alma here Saturday.

A double date with Albion last Saturday was cancelled by cold weather. The Albion game has been re-scheduled for Monday.

Coach John Kobs complained uncertain weather had kept the Spartans from steady workouts. He planned to use as many players as possible in Saturday's game.

Michigan State had a 5-4 record in a southern spring training tour. The Spartans open Big Ten play April 22 against Purdue.

Planning 1st Schedule

ALMA (AP)—Northwood Institute today announced plans to compete in basketball starting with the 1960-61 season.

The school, now wrapping up its first year, already has lined up Detroit Tech, Lawrence Tech and Soo Tech as opponents. The basketball program will include a schedule of 12 to 15 games the first year, said Gary Stauffer, former high school and Alma College coach.

Northwood has not yet selected a coach.

Give Boat Thorough Check Before Putting Afloat

Trailer Should Be Given Good Thorough Test

Large and Small Craft Need Close Checkup for Leaks

A check of your boat right now can be as important as one in mid-summer.

Your boat was made to be cradled by the water, and storage ashore does not give it that kind of support.

Here are recommended check points for this time of year:

Is the boat properly supported? Even small rowboats and dinghies resting upside down need inspection to be sure nothing has been stored on top of them that may force the hull out of shape. If out of doors, they should be off the ground on blocks or saw horses that air may pass under freely.

Nearly two million boat trailers are now in use in the United States and many are serving double duty for winter storage.

Be sure tie-downs are not too tight and that the number of supports which hold the hull are numerous and large enough so that a few small spots are not dimpling or distorting the hull.

The trailer itself should be jacked up with weight off the tires. And right now could be a good time to check and grease the wheel bearings if the trailer ever goes under water during a launch.

Th larger boat needs even more attention. Stored ashore, it should receive inspection of cradle and cover. Make certain that the hull is still stored up properly so that it receives extended support rather than in one or two places, and that none of the chocks have slipped during the winter.

Be sure now that winter covers have not already blown loose, but check as well to be certain some air can get out.

Especially with wooden boats, no ventilation can do more harm than a little moisture. Dry rot is promoted by moist air, covers must provide both protection and access for fresh breeze as well. Periodic checks can also determine if small rodents have chosen to hibernate aboard.

Climb aboard, pull back the cover and check it for leaks, sniff for mildew, inspect plumbing once more and make sure they are clear of water into the bilges and see if they are dry and clean.

When leaving the boat, remove the ladder you used to climb aboard. This can help discourage youngsters from the somewhat dangerous game of playing on and around your boat.

The craft still afloat in wet storage ponds require inspection, too. Make sure all mooring lines are not chaffing and are long enough to allow for some level calm, but that may come with spring storms. Do you have protection around your waterline?

And for the boatman cruising the sunny south, early spring check-up need only mean examination of running lines, inspection of the bottom for tropical marine growth and a change in bottom lotion bottles for more enjoyable warm weather fun afloat.

Waterford Cruise Club Plans Summer Program

Twenty-five families in the Waterford Township area are busy getting their little cruiser boats set for one of the most exciting summer programs in the history of the three-year-old Family Cruise Club.

The first scheduled cruise will be an authentic overnight Hawaiian Luau (luau) on a secluded island somewhere in Lake St. Clair. Families will sit around a huge campfire, eat exotic food and watch hula dancers provide entertainment.

A Fox & Hounds cruise, where the newly elected cruismaster, Richard Carlson will hide his boat somewhere in the lake, and family boats will travel in pairs in search for the "fox."

By popular demand, the Pirate Cruise will again be scheduled in mid-summer. The cruismaster selects a secret island; and buying glass bottles with a tip of paper designating a valuable prize. No one knows where the island is except the cruismaster, who leads the boat procession, signal file, to the "treasure island."

Remote Control Driver for Bay City Built Boat

'Iron Mike' Aims at 300 MPH

NEW YORK (UPI) — An electric "Iron Mike" will be in the driver's seat next June when the jet-powered Temp-Aloca comes out on Pyramid Lake, Nev., to determine whether a speedboat can travel more than 300 miles per hour without shaking to pieces or taking to the air.

The actual "driver" will be hovering in a helicopter, running the test by remote control. If the boat behaves, designer-builder Les Stauchder of Bay City, Mich., will take over in the cockpit in an attempt to shatter the world record of 280 miles per hour held by Britain's Donald Campbell.

"Wind tunnel tests tell us the Temp is safe up to 320 miles per hour," said builder Guy Lombardo, a racing veteran who was scheduled originally to be the driver.

"But there's no point in being foolhardy. Remote control equipment is being installed for a 300 mph test run. If it looks good, Stauchder, 47, already has gone unofficially, 280 MPH in the Temp and insists on making the record run himself although, unlike Lombardo, he has no previous racing experience."

"Actually, he is better qualified to drive it than I am," said Guy, who once won the gold cup in Tempio VI. "It has been his baby right from the drawing board and he knows more about it than I ever will. Anyway, this doesn't call for the same gills racing does."

The Temp is considerably larger and more powerful than Campbell's Bluebird which held the current world mark. It's eight feet longer at 32 feet and is powered by a 435 Allison jet engine of 3,500 pounds thrust—the same engine used in the old Air Force Sabre-Jet. Campbell's jet had 3,300 thrust.

"We're bigger but our aluminum hull makes the Temp's overall weight only a little bit more than Bluebird's," said Lombardo.

In earlier tests, the Temp topped 200 mph under less than ideal conditions at Bay City and an estimated 260 at Pyramid Lake last October.

Campbell and Stauchder, the only American who has gone over 200 MPH in a speedboat, already have disproved the old theory of a "water barrier" — similar to the sound barrier — that once was figured would shake a boat to pieces trying to break through.

"But Les has found a shaking point in the Temp between 90 and 95 and even with all the power available it takes a long time getting up to 100," according to Guy. "Once you hit 100 the rest comes easy."

Furthermore, there are excellent landmarks on the shore to help the driver judge his run though he'll be steering toward man-made bull's eye targets on the far shore.

The speed test figured to be Lombardo's last big effort in the speedboat business but since he hasn't the time to devote to it now in June he hopes to have one more season of driving in the gold cup class.

he knows more about it than I ever will. Anyway, this doesn't call for the same gills racing does."

The Temp is considerably larger and more powerful than Campbell's Bluebird which held the current world mark. It's eight feet longer at 32 feet and is powered by a 435 Allison jet engine of 3,500 pounds thrust—the same engine used in the old Air Force Sabre-Jet. Campbell's jet had 3,300 thrust.

"We're bigger but our aluminum hull makes the Temp's overall weight only a little bit more than Bluebird's," said Lombardo.

In earlier tests, the Temp topped 200 mph under less than ideal conditions at Bay City and an estimated 260 at Pyramid Lake last October.

Campbell and Stauchder, the only American who has gone over 200 MPH in a speedboat, already have disproved the old theory of a "water barrier" — similar to the sound barrier — that once was figured would shake a boat to pieces trying to break through.

"But Les has found a shaking point in the Temp between 90 and 95 and even with all the power available it takes a long time getting up to 100," according to Guy. "Once you hit 100 the rest comes easy."

Pyramid Lake, 30 miles north of Reno, has a 35-mile straightway and ideal water conditions tested daily for a record attempt.

Furthermore, there are excellent landmarks on the shore to help the driver judge his run though he'll be steering toward man-made bull's eye targets on the far shore.

The speed test figured to be Lombardo's last big effort in the speedboat business but since he hasn't the time to devote to it now in June he hopes to have one more season of driving in the gold cup class.

Denver Post Sees Nixon a Mistake

Would Draft Rockefeller

DENVER (UPI) — The Denver Post, which supported President Eisenhower in both 1952 and 1956, said Wednesday the Republican Party was making a "serious mistake" by not organizing a major draft movement for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as its presidential candidate.

It said editorially that Vice President Richard Nixon "does not measure up to being the kind of candidate the Republican Party needs . . ." in 1960.

The editorial, carried under the heading: "To Win, the Republicans Must Launch a Draft for Nelson Rockefeller," noted that

In 1956, 44 per cent of the nation's voters considered themselves Democrats and only 29 per cent considered themselves Republicans, but "Eisenhower won reelection by an overwhelming majority."

"He had the appeal to lure Democrats in large numbers across party lines and to capture the support of Independents," the newspaper said.

"Nelson Rockefeller, too, seems to have that kind of appeal," the Post said.

The editorial said Republicans are "sitting around telling one another that Richard Nixon is the certain nominee; that he has such a firm and unchallenged hold on the Party's machinery that no one can dislodge him; that the Party has no choice but to try to make Nixon acceptable to the electorate on the platform of 'Peace and Prosperity.'"

"This is the stuff that political defeat is made of," the editorial said.

The newspaper, which has the largest circulation of any in the Rocky Mountain region, said Nixon "might make a good President," but it described him as "strictly a Party product."

"The GOP has made him what he is, vice president by virtue of a ride on Eisenhower's coattails," the editorial continued.

"Republican precinct committeemen and the party faithful like him. He is their boy. But they should face the uncomfortable fact that Nixon is not the type to inspire fervid enthusiasm among uncommitted voters who will determine the outcome of the 1960 race," the Post said.

Carved gargoyles on Gothic architecture had a practical as well as artistic purpose. Extending several feet from the walls, they served as water spouts to prevent falling water from eroding stonework.

Illinois Vote Spurs Clamor for Campaign

Pressure Nixon to Fight Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—New pressure built up on Vice President Richard M. Nixon today to open up with political campaigning before the Republican presidential nominating convention.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said Nixon's showing in Tuesday's Illinois primary conceivably may bring some changes in the vice president's strategy.

Bomb Threats Are No Joke

FBI Makes 5th Arrest in 8 Days; Hoaxer to Be in Court Wednesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"Zip your lip." That wartime security slogan looks more and more like good advice to airline travelers who get an impulse to crack a "joke" about a bomb.

The FBI's arrest here Wednesday night of Julius Randolph Radwanski, 38, on a false bomb report charge was the fifth such arrest in eight days.

Radwanski allegedly replied to a "your bag is heavy" comment by a Trans World Airlines employee at Port Columbus Airport with the remark, "There's a bomb in it." Then he found himself in FBI custody. By shortly after midnight he had been brought before U.S. Commissioner Robert W. Newson for a hearing.

Radwanski was released on $1,000 bond, reported E. D. Mason, FBI special agent stationed at Cincinnati who related the incident.

Radwanski, a sales engineer for a Philadelphia construction firm, is to appear in U.S. District Court next Wednesday.

TWA flight 300 from Columbus to Pittsburgh was delayed 32 minutes while officials searched for the bomb. None was found.

Earlier Wednesday in San Francisco a non-bomb tender was charged with the same offense.

The U.S. attorney's office filed the charge against William A. Grant of Belmont, Calif.

A United Airlines spokesman said Grant was trying to take out insurance on his wife after seeing her aboard a Los Angeles-bound DC8 jet when he made his remark.

Told Mrs. Grant would have to sign any insurance forms, Grant allegedly said, "Well, I guess the bomb won't do any good then."

Mrs. Grant was removed from the plane and her baggage searched. The airliner left 40 minutes late.

"What's the matter, can't you people take a joke?" Grant commented, according to the UAL spokesman.

LONDON—The police decided today saloons in London's Metropolitan area may stay open until midnight on May 8, Princess Margaret's wedding day. Normally pubs in the area close at 10:30 p.m.

In the GOP presidential primary, Nixon collected 725,000 votes with nearly 300 precincts unreported. This approached still left behind the 731,000 President Eisenhower got in the 1956 primary.

Possibly more significant, however, the vice president fell more than 150,000 votes short of the total rolled up by Sen. Paul Douglas, a Democratic liberal who is

Summery 78 Warms Area for Awhile

The temperature in Pontiac yesterday topped the high of the year with a recording of 78 degrees at 3:40 p.m.

Today is expected to be somewhat cooler, the predicted high 72.

Fair and cooler and a low of 50 is the forecast for tonight.

The weatherman says Friday will be fair and continued mild, the high reaching near 70. There's a chance of showers Friday night with Saturday a little cooler.

Morning winds southeasterly at 18 miles an hour will become westerly at 12:15 this afternoon and diminish tonight.

Fifty-eight was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the reading was 64.

Seaway Start Delayed Till Monday at Earliest

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP)—Opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway will be delayed to Monday at the earliest, instead of tomorrow as originally planned, the Seaway Development Corp. said today.

In a statement, the U.S. agency said both the Eisenhower and Spill locks were ready for operation but the opening "now depends upon ice conditions."

Observers said the opening could be delayed as much as 10 days. This is what happened last year.

Peugeot Family Shrouded in Secrecy

PARIS (UPI)—Roland Peugeot carried from his father's house to his own apartment today an unmarked black satchel that may have contained $100,000 kidnapers demanded for the ransom of his 14-year-old son Eric.

Police and members of the family refused to comment but a member of the family asked newsmen and photographers, maintaining a tight outside not to follow Roland if he left again.

Just when Peugeot went to the home of his father, millionaire automobile industrialist Jean Peugeot, could not be determined.

But newsmen saw him leave there and return to his own home with the satchel.

WOULD ABANDON FORTUNE

Roland, 34, made it clear to newsmen last night he was willing to give up just about all of his unopposed for renomination to the Senate.

Goldwater said this outcome could be discounted somewhat because Douglas had done what he called a good job of campaigning and no special Republican drive was put on for Nixon.

"But it suggests that maybe the vice president ought to take another look at his determination not to campaign until after the convention," Goldwater said.

Nixon's lieutenants don't agree with this assessment, of course. They have plenty of precedent for their view that how a candidate runs in an unopposed primary has little to do with his final showing in November.

Nevertheless, they could be disturbed by the failure of nearly 100,000 Republicans who voted in the Illinois GOP governor's race to take the trouble to cast a ballot for Nixon, even though he was unopposed.

"They obviously recognize this, and Nixon's failure to keep pace with potential Democratic presidential rivals in Wisconsin, as encouraging to those Republicans who still hope to draft Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for the nomination."

Hoffa Gets Refusal on Ousting Monitor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A legal move by James R. Hoffa to have the chairman of the Teamsters Union monitors ousted was rejected today by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

The three-man appeals court upheld the ruling of District Judge F. Dickinson Letts who only to remove Martin F. O'Donoghue on Hoffa's charges of conflict of interest.

Letts set up the monitors two years ago and appointed O'Donoghue chairman. Hoffa and O'Donoghue have been undisputed foes ever since.

Hoffa had argued Letts should remove O'Donoghue because he had once represented the Teamsters Union, and therefore there was a conflict of interest. Letts denied the motion.

"We're living in a void," Mme. Banet told newsmen. "The kidnapers haven't made any fresh contacts."

"Please, please don't follow any cars leaving this house or you might wreck possible negotiations with the kidnapers. A child's life is at stake."

Peugeot himself left for the office later in the day. He refused to talk to newsmen, but a neighbor quoted him as saying, "I have good hopes."

'The Black Kid' Held at Bay City in Fatal Shooting

Man, 58, Surrenders Meekly to Posse of 20 After Dash on Foot

BAY CITY (AP)—Dressed up like a gun-slinging cowboy, Senobio Riogar, 58, described as extremely dangerous, surrendered meekly to state police today.

Riogor, alias "Tom Rogers," alias "The Cowboy," was taken to the Bay City Police Post for questioning about the fatal shooting of Jesse Martinez, 62.

A posse of 20 state troopers and sheriff's officers had been hunting for Riogar in a suburban area near Bay City. Troopers found him walking along a road six miles south of here.

Martinez was killed last night by two shots from a .45 caliber automatic at his home near Muncie in Bay County.

Police said Martinez and Riogar, a boarder at Martinez' home, apparently got into an argument while watching a boxing match on TV.

Martinez' son, George, 28, joined the fray in the driveway outside the house, police said, and he narrowly escaped being struck by a .45 bullet.

FLEES ON FOOT

George Martinez said he ran back into the house, picked up a shotgun and returned the fire. He said he may have hit Riogar with birdshot.

Riogor fled on foot across a plowed field into a wooded area. Police lost the trail at the hard surface pavement.

Officers resumed the search at daybreak by going from house to house in the area. They said Riogar was still armed with a .45.

Riogor is employed as a laborer at a sugar company in Bay City. He wears a black cowboy hat, a wide black leather belt and black boots with his Western style garb. He is 5-foot-10 and weighs 160 pounds.

Riogor, who originally came from Mexico, speaks with a Spanish accent.

Police said they did not know how Riogar acquired his aliases but he apparently brought them from Texas.

Blow Your Top, to Stay Healthy, Report Advises

CHICAGO (UPI)—When mad, the thing to do is blow your top. It may keep down your blood pressure.

A study reported in an American Medical Assn. Journal indicated that people who inhibit anger will have higher blood pressure than those who freely express it.

Dr. Donald Oken, a Chicago psychiatrist, said his study of 10 psychiatric patients showed a definite hook-up between repressed anger and high blood pressure.

"Hypertension (high blood pressure) may be the result of chronic inhibited angry feelings," he said.

Fights to Keep Area Firm Here

Union Votes to Take Pay Cut to Prevent Move From Waterford

In an effort to keep the Dostal Foundry and Machine Co. in Waterford Township, members of Local 457, AF of L, last night voted to take a "substantial salary cut" and double up on jobs.

More than 60 workers at a meeting last night at the Roosevelt Hotel pledged to support any plan to keep the machine company from making an anticipated consolidation move to Cleveland, Ohio.

In operation for more than 10 years, the company employs about 125 persons at its plant at 2500 Williams Dr., according to Russell K. Dostal, president of the firm.

The reason for consolidation with the Forest City Foundries in Ohio is that his company makes only one type of permanent mold casting, Dostal said.

"With larger companies making many different types of mold castings, it is not feasible for a small company to produce only one in today's shrinking market," he said.

Wages, union problems or taxes had nothing to do with the merger plans, Dostal said.

A meeting was scheduled for 10:30 a.m. today between president of the local, Robert Emswiler, International Representative W. D. Roberts, committeemen and company officials to discuss the problem.

Tax Filing Deadline Delayed Three Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—Taxpayers are getting a surprise Easter present from Uncle Sam.

The deadline for filing income tax returns has been postponed until midnight next Monday.

The normal deadline would have been midnight Friday, but the Internal Revenue Service gave a three-day grace period because April 15 this year falls on Good Friday.

The extension applies to filing of both the 1959 tax returns and the estimates of 1960 income.

Presumably the deadline ran out between 10 and 11 a.m. (Pon-tiac time). For it was between those hours on a pleasant Paris afternoon that a man believed to be in his early 30s walked up to Eric at play and said "Come," And Eric went.

A ransom note, left in the sand where the boy had been romping at a golf club playground with his brother and other children specified the amount of the ransom but apparently gave no directions for paying it.

Easter Bunny Due Friday to Scatter Eggs at Parks

The Easter Bunny will make his annual visit to Pontiac Friday night—in time to hide more than 3,000 Easter eggs for the sixth annual Easter Egg Hunt Saturday.

The hunt is open to all children under 11 years of age—both those who know for sure that it's the bunny who lays those eggs and those who are under the impression they come from chickens.

If you harbor the latter view, just talk to a starry-eyed child and he'll set you straight—it's the Easter Bunny all right.

The hunt begins at 2 p.m. at Jaycee Park, Murphy Park, Oakland Park and Edendale Park. It'll be staged rain or shine, because the eggs will be there no matter what the weather is like.

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Northland Kiwanis Club and the Neopolitan Club are cooperating with the Department of Parks and Recreation in the event.

"Stagers of the hunt asked that parents send their children to the park site nearest their home."

Most of the eggs will be white—undyed—said Leonard T. Buzz, recreational director.

But the Easter Bunny plans to deliver a few colored eggs, he said, and any child who finds one of these will receive a special prize.

The prize-winning color is a top secret—it won't be revealed until the contest is about to start.

"We don't want to encourage any child to start competing with the Easter Bunny, bringing his own colored eggs to the hunt in hopes of winning a prize unfairly," Buzz explained.

Jaycees are supporting the hunt at Jaycee and Murphy parks. Kiwanians at Oakland, and the Neopolitan Club at Beaudette.

I Game Enough, Sawyer Quits as Phillies' Pilot

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eddie Sawyer resigned today as manager of the National League Philadelphia Phillies baseball club, Gene Mauch, now managing Minneapolis in the American Assn., was named to replace him.

Bob Carpenter, owner-president of the club, made the announcement in a hurriedly called news conference in his office at Connie Mack Stadium.

Sawyer's resignation came on the third day of the National League season. The Phils lost their only game this year—at Cincinnati.

Sawyer, sitting by Carpenter's side, declined to give any specific reason except, "I just didn't want to manage."

'I'll Be Back,' Robber Warns; Took $100

Heeds Wife's Pleas for Medical Care; Drops Them at Hospital

With a promise that he would "come back again" a youthful bandit last night freed a 44-year-old Waterford Township motel manager and his wife after robbing the couple of $100 and forcing them to accompany him to Detroit.

The same man had held him up only 11 days earlier, Henry R. Lawrence, manager at the Savoy Motel, 120 S. Telegraph Rd., told Detroit, and Waterford Township police.

Lawrence and his wife, Sue, 38 were released by the bandit near Detroit's Mount Sinai hospital after Lawrence pleaded for their freedom because his wife needed medical care. She is four months pregnant.

The gunman tapped him on the shoulder in the motel yard shortly before 10 p.m., Lawrence said, then asked:

"Do you remember me?"

"When I replied 'Hell, yes,' he made me go with him to the office and he took the money from the cash register."

Both times the bandit staged holdups, he told Lawrence he was carrying a gun in his right hand.

"But he kept his right hand in his coat pocket and I don't know whether he had one," the manager said. "I certainly would go to ask him to show it to me."

Lawrence said actually he had never seen a weapon.

WIFE SCARED

His wife was at the office switchboard during the robbery.

"She was so scared that when this fellow asked if she was my wife she couldn't answer," Lawrence said. "I had to answer for her."

The robber insisted that the couple go with him and they left the money in Lawrence's car.

He sat in the rear, and ordered Lawrence, whose wife was with him in the front seat, to drive down Woodward avenue.

He refused to let them out as (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

U.S. Will Help Save Temples for Egyptians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has taken a step toward saving 21 ancient temples from flooding by Egypt's Aswan Dam, now under construction.

The foreign aid bill was amended Wednesday to let the United States help finance removal of the temples to higher ground. The financing would involve American held currencies of the United Arab Republic and Sudan, obtained in the sale of surplus farm commodities.

The U.S. share would be no more than a third.

Pontiac Lawyer in Favor of City Charter Proposal

A prominent Pontiac attorney who has practiced law here 25 years thinks it's time to do something about the police department.

David E. Utley said today he supports the move to create a clear line of responsibility between the City Commission and the police chief.

Utley, a Pontiac voter, is active in many civic enterprises, including the Greater Pontiac Community Council, of which he is a member of the board of directors.

"The chief of police is an executive of the city, just as much as the mayor, only the chief's province is limited to the police department," said Utley.

"As an executive, he has special powers which other members of the Police Department do not possess."

"The ordinary officer in the police department should have the protection of the Police Trial Board."

"But the chief is not in that category. He should be under the jurisdiction of the mayor and answerable to him."

"This means, in a practical way, that the chief must be directly responsible to the city manager, who is responsible to the City Commission which the mayor heads."

The first charter amendment which the City Commission has placed on Monday's ballot would remove the police chief from the jurisdiction of the Police Trial Board, at the same time guaranteeing the continued existence of the board for the protection of all other officers.

The second amendment which the city has asked voters to approve would eliminate the Department of Public Safety as an administrative office between the manager and the police department.

If this amendment is adopted, the fire and police chiefs would become directly responsible to the manager at all times.

Ex-Merchant Dies in Hospital

Former Fruit Dealer, Frank Spadafore Got Start With Buggy

Frank Spadafore, who started his wholesale fruit operations with a horse and buggy 32 years ago, died yesterday morning of a stroke at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mr. Spadafore, 66, started his fruit business with a horse and buggy, selling to housewives. Later he owned and operated a fruit store on South Saginaw street opposite the Oakland Theater and across from Community National Bank.

In 1924, with Tony Karol, he organized the Pontiac Fruit House. He retired from the wholesale fruit company in 1955.

He was a member of St. Benedict Catholic Church and the Italian American Club of Pontiac.

Mr. Spadafore leaves three sons, Joseph and Paul, both of Pontiac, and Albert of Auburn Heights. He has three daughters, Mrs. Lewis Spadafore of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Clinton Grow and Mrs. Settino Sesti, both of Pontiac; 12 grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Spadafore's body is at the Donelson - Johns Funeral Home where the body will be received at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Funeral service will take place at 11 a.m. Monday at St. Benedict Catholic Church with burial in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Detroit Minister Slated to Address Kiwanis Here

Dr. Robert Bruce Pierce, minister of Metropolitan Methodist Church of Detroit, was scheduled to be guest speaker at the West Pontiac Kiwanis Club meeting at noon today in Scrib's Restaurant.

Dr. Pierce's Easter message was entitled "King for a Day."

Warm Spring Rains Patter on U.S. Rooftops

By The Associated Press

Rain clouds hovered over broad areas in the central and northwest sections of the country today. Generally mild weather was the rule in most areas.

Gusty weather swept the extreme northwest coast of Washington state during the night. Winds reaching hurricane force lashed Tacoma Island. Winds up to nearly 60 m.p.h. pounded the Puget Sound area, uprooting trees and knocking down utility poles. No injuries were reported.

Rain fell from northern California coastal areas into eastern Washington. Showers or rain drenched portions from Oklahoma into eastern Kansas with thunderstorms abated.

Sputnik I Led to Transit Moon

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Americans had the Russians to thank for physics laboratory in Howard County, Maryland. The laboratory that led to today's launching of Transit at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Two Johns Hopkins University scientists, intrigued by the beeps sent out by Russia's Sputnik I in October 1957, started the research that led to today's launching of Transit at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

They are Dr. William Guier and Dr. George Weiffenbach, who work at the Hopkins applied physics laboratory in Howard County, Maryland. The laboratory developed the satellite for the Navy.

Dr. Richard Kershner, supervisor of Project Transit at the Johns Hopkins lab, explained how it works.

Guier and Weiffenbach were as surprised as everyone else when the Russians orbited Sputnik I.

STRANGE EFFECT NOTED
With a radio receiver from the lab and tape recorder brought from home, they set up a tracking station the evening after Sputnik was launched.

The beeps came in loud and clear but the scientists noted one interesting phenomenon. The frequency of Sputnik's signals changed slightly as it passed overhead.

The pitch, or frequency, shifted from high to low as the sphere passed by. Guier and Weiffenbach recognized this as what is called the Doppler shift.

You can compare it to the way a train whistle screeches higher then lower as the engine whizzes past.

Exactly the same thing happens to a radio signal from a moving satellite.

Of course it isn't as easy as it might sound. The scientists used a Univac machine in their calculations.

"The ionosphere bends radio waves, Dr. Kershner explained, and thus it manufacturers a lie about the exact position of the satellite.

"Therefore, four different frequencies are being transmitted by Transit I. Each of these frequencies are being transmitted by Transit I. Each of these frequencies is bent a different amount.

By comparing the Doppler signal received on these four frequencies the refraction effect of the ionosphere can be determined with great accuracy."

Dr. Kershner said the satellite is powered by solar battery cells which get their power from sunlight. Transit I is expected to have a five-year life, but he is orbit about 40 years.

Dr. Kershner said several of the satellites in orbit around the earth could send information that would allow any ship to determine its exact position almost instantaneously. Ships would have to be equipped with transit receiving equipment, however. The Doppler theory was originated by Christian Johann Doppler, an Austrian mathematician. In 1842 he described the effect of sound waves in motion.

Russians Grant U.S. President Big Concession

MOSCOW — The Russians are no pleased that the President of the United States is going to call on them they granted him a great concession today.

They'll let him use his own plane as he visits the several cities on his swing through this Peoples Paradise. How about that?

Vice President Nixon was given no such favor. Nor was he permitted to fly out of the U.S.S.R. via Siberia, as will the President. Once in Moscow, the Nixons transferred into a TU104, the twin-engine Soviet jet which somewhat harrowingly often needs to release a huge parachute to brake itself to a stop on a landing.

Signature Drive Set for May 1-7

Plan Con-Con Campaign

LANSING (UPI)—The League of Women Voters, faced with legislative disapproval of their plan for a constitutional convention, today announced plans for a "blitz" next month in their drive toward getting 200,000 backers.

The House Tuesday rejected the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce and League so-called compromise proposal to call a con-con with delegates chosen on the basis of both Senate and Representative districts.

House Democratic leader Joseph Kowalski, Detroit, called the proposal a "half step forward" and a "compromise with democracy" because there was not enough reflection of population in delegate selection.

Rep. John Bowman (D-Roseville), sponsor of the plan, said there was power of big labor and farm interest in the Legislature and that lawmakers voting against his proposal probably wanted to vote for it but "the pressure is a little too great."

The measure was defeated, 29-64, which was 35 votes short of the needed two thirds of House membership.

The House also defeated by a 48-38 vote a proposed constitutional amendment to call a con-con with delegates chosen on the basis of three per Senate district.

Democrats claimed this would have only magnified what they call the unfair representation in the Senate.

Mrs. Irwin Whitaker, legislative chairman of the League, said the House action wouldn't harm the League's drive for signatures to put the question on the November ballot.

She said the League's slate board meeting in Lansing approved a "blitz" May 1-7 to concentrate activities for signatures and that as many as possible of the League's 3,500 members would be in action ringing door bells.

She said signatures presently weren't coming in fast enough and estimated it took about two hours to obtain 20 signatures in present operations.

She said 5,000 signatures were obtained in one blitz this winter in just three hours. About 231,000 signatures are needed to put the constitutional amendment on the ballot.

Cancer Society Wins Court Fight

Lincoln Park Overruled in Bid to Prevent Drive—Forms Filed Properly

DETROIT (AP)—The American Cancer Society has won a Circuit Court order permitting it to conduct a fund-raising drive in suburban Lincoln Park on April 26.

Circuit Judge Lucien F. Sweet of Kalamazoo, sitting as a visiting judge here, ruled Lincoln Park officials exceeded their authority in denying the society permission to conduct the drive under the city's licensing ordinance.

The society had filed a proper application and met all requirements, Judge Sweet held.

The judge denied the application on grounds that residents had contributed already to the Metropolitan Torch Drive, which supports the Michigan Cancer Foundation, among other agencies.

The foundation formerly was affiliated with the society, but withdrew when society national headquarters ruled that local units could not participate in give-once-for-all campaigns.

Food Costs One Cent More Than Week Ago

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. index, rose 1 cent this week, D & B reported Wednesday.

The statistical agency reported the index at $5.95 on April 12. This compares with $5.94 a week earlier and $6.16 in the same week last year.

Flour, corn, rye, hard, butter, cottonseed oil, cocoa and eggs advanced while beef, ham, coffee, raisins and lamb declined.

Wheat, oats, barley, bellies, cheese, sugar, milk, tea, beans, peas, peanuts, potatoes, rice, molasses, currants, prunes, steers and hogs were among the unchanged commodities.

The salt industry is credited with starting the city of Syracuse, N.Y.

Air-to-Ground N-Rocket Has 1,000-Mile Range

Ike Has Offered Skybolts to Britain

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower is reported to have assured Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that Britain will be able to buy the projected new U.S. nuclear rocket Skybolt as soon as it comes into production.

That assurance growing out of a discussion when Eisenhower and Macmillan met at Camp David, Md., two weeks ago, apparently is behind the British government's decision, announced Wednesday to abandon its fixed base Blue Streak, a 2,500-mile-range rocket.

Eisenhower and Macmillan also talked about the Polaris submarine missile but highly placed officials said they decided against making a firm decision on the Polaris now. However, that decision did not close the door on the possibility of Britain's later getting the Polaris.

The Blue Streak, they said, U.S. officials obviously would be out of date because it would operate from fixed bases, like the present U.S. Inter-date and long range missiles— and therefore be vulnerable to enemy nuclear attack against known targets.

The Skybolt and Polaris are radically different weapons systems in that they are designed to operate from mobile bases. The Skybolt with its nuclear warhead is projected for firing from a jet bomber aircraft as much as 1,000 miles distant from the target.

The Skybolt is an Air Force development and officials hope it will be available for full scale testing in 18 months.

Macmillan raised with Eisenhower the question of acquiring the Skybolt without the nuclear warhead. Under U.S. law the President cannot transfer nuclear weapons to any other country. The British would provide their own warheads.

MOBILE FORCE

U.S. officials understand the effect of the switch will be to strengthen Britain's strategic striking power. For one thing it means that instead of relying on increasingly vulnerable fixed Thor intermediate range ballistic missiles to strike back in event of attack the British will rely on their strategic bomber force equipped with Skybolts.

The British decision also paves the way for more concerted efforts in the future on development of a Polaris mobile missile force possibly based both on submarines and on mobile land platforms such as automobile trucks and railway cars.

Defense Minister Harold Watkinson told the House of Commons Wednesday the military is halting development of the Blue Streak, which so far has cost $12 million dollars. Watkinson said the money thus far invested in Blue Streak will not be wasted if it is decided to go ahead with it as a launcher for a space satellite.

It thus appeared possible that Britain might still try to stay in the world space race.

The complete cost of the original missile program of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government would have been between $1,400,000,000 and $1,600,000,000, he said.

Authoritative sources said this country also hopes, wherever possible, to pool its research, development and productive resources with other North Atlantic Allied powers in manufacturing 2,500-mile-range rockets.

One of the main reasons advanced by officials for the switch in defense policy is that the costs of the missile program are simply beyond the nation's capacity.

A Conservative member, F. W. Fawcett, declared the government's decision was calamitous. He said it "put in pawn to the United States British scientific progress in the exploration of outer space for the next 25 to 50 years."

Labor Trouble Slows Red Economic Express

GENEVA (AP) — Severe labor shortages have slowed the Soviet Union's economic growth rate, but the Soviets still are outpacing the United States and Western Europe.

The annual survey of the U.N. Economic Commission for Europe said the current Soviet seven-year plan — 1959-65 — projects a yearly expansion rate of 7.2 to 7.4 per cent for the period.

By comparison, the current expansion averages for Western Europe is 4.2 per cent and for the United States it is 2.2 per cent. The Soviet economy expanded at a 12 per cent rate in 1954-55, 9.8 per cent in 1956-58, and 8 per cent last year. Manpower shortages have been the major factor in the continuing decline, the report said, citing low birth rates and high infant mortality in the early postwar years. The commission said the shortage "is more likely to be particularly acute" in 1960-65.

Soviet trade with the West dropped slightly last year but jumped 24 per cent with its Communist neighbors.

In other phases of its survey the commission:

Urged Western Europe to drop all barriers against U.S. imports and raise wage rates so more Europeans can buy American goods. The U.N. economists said elimination of restrictions against U.S. imports would absorb excess production.

Official sources in Havana remained silent on the rebel hunt. But Castro appeared to be making a major personal effort to track down insurgent leader Manuel Beaton, a former captain in Castro's revolutionary army who reportedly took to the mountains with perhaps 50 anti-Castro guerrillas.

REPORTS 3 CAPTURED

A government official in Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, reported that Castro-led forces combining the Sierra Maestra in Oriente captured Beaton's second-in-command and two other members of the guerrilla band.

Newspapers and radio stations in Havana have made no mention of the rebel activity. Several said Castro was on a routine inspection tour of agricultural cooperatives in Oriente.

Cancer Weapon: Putting Poison Into the Brain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A way of pumping heavy doses of poison chemicals into the brain to kill cancer cells was described today by a New Orleans medical researcher.

With the chemicals so far used the procedure will not cure or greatly prolong the lives of brain cancer victims. But researchers as a whole have about 50,000 drugs to try against cancer and some of these may meet the technique, a powerful medical weapon, he said.

'Loathing Makes Ideas Grow'

Author Saroyan Hates People

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK—"It would be pitiful if I—or you—didn't hate some people," said William Saroyan amiably.

"Loathing is a very good thing. Like yeast. It ferments, and makes ideas grow."

Saroyan, who has the reputation for being a gentle, playful, and a whimsical people-lover, told me this while back, and I was uneasy. Wasn't he at all fond of the human race?

"I do like the human race, I must say, or I'd leave it," he explained pleasantly. "It's a monstrous mess, the human race. I admit that. But when I find people who loathe both themselves and the world, I say they should leave it."

Then, Saroyan did not loathe himself. Certainly not. But "I don't like most people," he concluded. No, did he admire people who DO like most other people. "They are dull—they are just there—doing what all the other dull people are doing."

Well, having been brought up in a friendly Midwest community where to express anger toward one's neighbor is almost akin to blaspheming God, I was fascinated. And concerned. I really couldn't think of a single soul whom I hated, or even seriously disliked.

For weeks I felt like a cold clod. And, although I almost never keep notes on interviews, I set my mind on Saroyan's words the day when I might discover whether he was right; whether 'twas nobler to loathe than to love.

Today it has been brought to my attention that "anger studies" have been made to determine how people react to other people and things. The results of these surveys are not conclusive in proving either Saroyan or myself wrong—but they strongly hint that both of us is a touch neurotic.

It seems that Columbia University studies show that it is perfectly normal for persons to get burned up when people or circumstances are irritating. In fact, one of the chief symptoms of mental imbalance is emotional apathy when everyone around you is blowing his top.

"In virtually every case," reads the report, "well-balanced subjects had a more pronounced anger reaction than abnormal persons."

However, Saroyan is running contrary to the normal masculine trend when he renounces people. Men, the report reports, are more likely to flare up at inanimate objects, rather than humans.

... it is women who normally blow their tops at other people. Other revelations on lid-flipping:

Man (average American) loses his temper six times a week, whereas woman gets mad only three.

Professional men and women suppress their tempers better than those in other walks of life. Laborers and office workers lose their tempers oftenest.

People do not feel better after they have felt hateful. Two-thirds of them wind up a fit of pique feeling fatigued and irritable.

Everyone is angry sometimes, either that, or dead.

Which reminds me of the final quote in my case history of the William Saroyan interview. "Anybody who survives," he said, "is worthwhile. This is my opinion. Whether I like or hate them, I have to say with respect—Look at that guy. He's hangin' on too."

Modern progress is hampering individual enterprise in central Africa. Natives there once used a good drum beater to send messages quickly. Today, travelers report, the natives prefer to send a letter, which has little more privacy than do the drums.

TESTS X15 ROCKET PLANE — Maj. Bob White made an eight-minute get-acquainted hop in the X15 rocket plane over Edwards Air Force Base Wednesday. It was his first flight in the plane which is designed ultimately to reach speeds in excess of 4,000 m.p.h. White got it up to about 1,400 m.p.h.

Collegians Are Apathetic on Politics, Poll Shows

ANN ARBOR (AP)—College students today are "politically disinterested, apathetic and conservative," a Cornell University sociologist claims.

Prof. Rose K. Golden said her findings are based on more than 5,000 talks with students at 11 universities. Michigan and Wayne State were among the campuses surveyed.

She said students are politically apathetic because "there are no clearly defined programs around which to rally, no clearly defined answers to the problems which their generation confronts."

Students react to this "baffling complexity" by withdrawing, and in the slogan of their campus culture, "play it cool," she added.

Prof. Golden said students avoid identifying themselves with a political label of any kind and prefer to think of themselves as independent voters.

Other highlights of Prof. Golden's study were:

RELIGION—"They are, they say, virtually all believers. Yet we found no evidence of a revival of religion on the campus. On the contrary, we found a relative absence of commitment and identification with religion. In religion,

GOP Calls Bill 'Inflationary'

Dem-Backed Proposal of $1.25 Minimum Pay Would Boost Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Commerce Sec. Frederick H. Mueller Wednesday declared the Eisenhower administration's flat opposition to a labor-endorsed bill which would boost the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour and cover 7,500,000 additional workers.

Mueller told a House labor subcommittee the proposal would trigger price and wage increases all along the line.

"He said he agreed with Labor Sec. James P. Mitchell, however, that a "modest" increase in the federal minimum wage and some extended coverage would be acceptable.

But of the Democratic-backed proposal, he said: "The administration is opposed to raising the minimum to $1.25 an hour minimum.

SHOES AT DRASTIC SAVINGS!

WHY?

Late last Fall I went into the finest markets of men's, women's and children's shoes and bought large quantities of newest style creations from America's foremost shoe manufacturers especially for Easter. I had every reason in the world to believe that this Spring's business would be better than ever before. Late Easter and past seasons led me to buy as I never bought before . . . But, the temperatures have been 16 degrees below normal and the snow lasted much longer so I find myself overstocked with Easter just three days away . . . so, here goes the greatest selling event of my 20 years in Pontiac. I cannot mention the nationally famous names, but I assure you that when you see the values you'll be glad to buy your new Easter shoes of Diem's . . . Pontiac's Popular Shoe Store.

'We Send In Class Treasurer'

By DOROTHY ROE

Many of America's representatives abroad go to their posts ill-prepared for the jobs ahead, says Marguerite Cullman, who had a concentrated course in diplomacy during the service of her husband, Howard Cullman, as commissioner of the Brussels World's Fair.

"The chief requirement of a United States ambassador is to have enough money to foot the bills which go along with the job," says this sprightly and charming New Yorker, who has chronicled her Brussels experiences in her new book, "Ninety Doren Glasses."

"The result is we're sending in the class treasurer instead of the first team."

Mrs. Cullman, well-known as a successful Broadway angel before her sojourn into ambassadorial ranks, feels particularly strongly about American ambassadors who go to foreign posts with no knowledge of either the language or the customs of the country.

"How can an ambassador understand a people or a country when he can't even converse except in English?" she asks. "Often he can't read the local newspapers or magazines, understand the theater or even follow the jokes. And where does that leave him?"

Mrs. Cullman feels that our government asks the impossible when it sends in an amateur to do a professional diplomatic job. Says she:

"When my husband and I prepared to go to Brussels, where he had ambassadorial rank, we were both fairly sophisticated people, and were at least able to communicate with the Belgian people. But we moved in unaware of many of the small amenities that are all-important in any country."

"We were briefed on the climate, the rainfall, and given an outmoded list of wardrobe requirements. But nobody told us it is customary for guests to tip the butler at a private dinner party—thank goodness, I found that out on my own! I also learned that when a butler mutters numbers as he gives you a tip on the numbers game, but is announcing the year of the wine."

Professional training is vitally important for U.S. representatives around the world, in the opinion of this gracious critic, who also believes that the government should not make an ambassadorial job dependent on a private fortune. Says she:

"There is a tremendous future for young people who are interested in world affairs to start training early for diplomatic careers—to study languages, take every opportunity to travel and equip themselves to become able representatives of their country."

"This goes for girls as well as boys, because an ambassador's wife has just as tough a job as her husband—and in many ways tougher."

Try Swim Suit First Then Buy

NEW YORK—The girls who look the prettiest on the beaches come summer are those who tried on their swim-suits. This may sound odd but it's true. Far too many girls walk into a store, pick a style and color they like and buy the suit without trying it on.

They tell the clerk the size they took last year. But things have happened to the figure in the meantime. When the suit's finally tried on, it turns out that it's a bit snug. But it's too much trouble to take it back and, anyway, some stores don't exchange swim-suits.

The outcome? Another girl on the beach in a suit with pants that are too short, too tight, with rolls of flesh over the top of the suit and thighs that budge from the line made by the pants.

This year, when you find the suit you want, ask to try it on. That way, you'll be sure.

9 Groups Take Part in WCTU Dinner Session

Nine unions of the WCTU were represented at the dinner meeting of the Anna Gordon unit Monday in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Frank Deaver gave devotions. Audrey Linkeman was accompanist for vocal numbers by St. Sheppard showed the film "Skid Row."

Mrs. L. G. Rowley of Dayton Plains, state WCTU president, was guest speaker.

Guests included the Rev. Theodore R. Albrecht, pastor of the host church; Mrs. Frank Clemens of the Detroit Western Union and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Green of Royal Oak. Mrs. Green is honorary president of the 18th district WCTU.

The governor's proclamation of Youth Temperance Education Week, April 24-30, was read.

Stove Care Can Be Easy

NEW YORK —The care and feeding of her new kitchen range needn't be a traumatic experience for a young bride just learning to cook.

Here are some timely suggestions from a kitchen stove expert, Margaret Spader, a consumer consultant.

If fruit juice boils over from a pipe, remove the syrup as soon as possible. It has a high acid content, which will pit the enamel of the oven bottom tray.

Any non-acid food that boils over may remain on the oven floor until cleaned. Then it will clean off easily.

Roast meats at low temperatures to reduce splattering of oven walls with fat. In case of splattering, wipe grease off with a dry paper towel while the oven is warm and the fat is soft.

To finish cleaning the oven, saturate paper towels with ammonia and leave them in the cooled oven overnight, with the door closed. The next morning, the oven can be washed clean easily.

Clean With Soda

(NEA)—To make your teeth sparkle, brush them occasionally with baking soda. Just moisten your toothbrush with water, then scoop up the soda on the brush and clean your

Don't Take Wedding Cake Home

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I was invited to a large wedding reception recently. A very elaborate wedding dinner was served followed by wedding cake and coffee or dessert.

As I could not eat the dessert, I asked the waiter for a paper napkin and a bag in which to wrap the cake and took my piece home with me to eat later. I was criticized for this.

Answer: You should not have taken cake served to you to eat at table home with you. Wedding cake which is to be taken home is put into small white boxes and given to each guest as he (or she) is leaving the reception.

Dear Mrs. Post: When invited to someone's house for the evening, is it proper to leave the telephone number of your hostess at home in order that you may be reached there should someone want to get in touch with you?

Answer: Under ordinary circumstances, it would not be proper. But if you are expecting a very important telephone call, you may explain this to your hostess and ask to be allowed to have the call transferred to her house.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a member of an automobile insurance company. The other evening while I was on my way to visit a friend who lives in the suburbs, I had a flat tire. I called my insurance serviceman and in a short time someone arrived to fix the tire. There was no charge for this, but what I would like to know is, should I have tipped the person who changed the tire for me?

Answer: If he gave you prompt and efficient service, it would have been proper to offer him a tip, and then if there was a rule against his accepting it, he would have told you so.

Tasting Game Used in Grade School Study

MOUNT PLEASANT (U)—Researchers are feeding things like raw carrots on crackers to school kids here, hoping to teach them better eating habits.

A year from now they'll survey the children to see whether it works.

Central-Michigan University is conducting a three-year study of nutrition education in the elementary schools. The object is to find out how to teach nutrition so it will do some good.

So a survey was run to find out what foods first through sixth graders in the Mount Pleasant school system were lacking in their diets.

"Too often," said researcher Mrs. Ethel R. Hyatt, "nutrition education is not integrated either with the rest of the curriculum or with eating habits in the home. The result is that health is treated as an incidental subject with little or no practical application resulting."

She said, "Many children don't like cooked vegetables or salads... We can almost forecast in what areas there will be a deficiency."

The children are fed things like raw carrots on crackers so they can taste them. Then vegetables are cooked and more tasting goes on. Other food-tasting experiments have been carried out with fish, fruit, chocolate, Indian pudding and the like. The tasting stimulates the children's interest in new foods.

Mrs. Hyatt says the children are enthusiastic. In class they talk about why they need vegetables.

Other subjects are sneaked into the nutrition classes. Students in the fifth grade measure the food used in cooking and convert the measurements into fractions, for instance.

The dietary intake survey will be repeated next year to see whether the children have changed their food patterns and diet habits.

Mrs. Hyatt said the research is aimed at finding a better way to teach health and nutrition... one that will make children eat better.

Meet . . .

Curtis Matthews . . . A message of interest to every Chevrolet owner in Oakland County (and to all other car owners, too).

Matthews-Hargreaves Owner Relations Program Makes Your Satisfaction Our First Consideration

Here's an important message for people who own a Chevrolet . . . or are thinking of buying a new one. Chevrolet Motor Division operates a Department of Owner Relations—as far as we know the only in the industry. Its policy is to see that Chevrolet owners are completely satisfied with Chevrolet products and Chevrolet service. Matthews-Hargreaves has this policy in action—seeing to it that you're well taken care of when you do business with us. Here are the extra benefits you'll get as a Chevrolet owner:

WHEN YOU BUY CHEVY—enjoy the confidence of knowing that Chevrolet is built with the quality you expect. That's because of the excellence of Chevrolet's engineering and rigorous inspection of details at the factory. Matthews-Hargreaves pledges itself to delivering you a new Chevrolet in a condition of complete quality.

WHILE YOU DRIVE CHEVY—Matthews-Hargreaves is prepared to take better care of you with better service after you buy this fine product. It's our way of assuring you of the continued pleasure and satisfaction originally built into your Chevrolet.

WHEN YOU TRADE CHEVY—Matthews Hargreaves salesmen are ready to serve you again! Chevrolet traditionally brings you more at trading time . . . and if you're about to become a member of the Chevrolet family, you, too, can count on us for a top appraisal.

WE KEEP CUSTOMERS SATISFIED
