Supervisors to Approve Tax Valuation Monday

Thousands Journey to Churchill Downs

IT'S DERBY DAY — The eyes of the sports world today are focused on the "little men." These are the jockeys who will be guiding a large field of 17 of the nation's finest thoroughbred horses in the 85th running of the Kentucky Derby classic at Louisville's Churchill Downs. Top favorites in this year's wide open "Run for the Roses" will be ridden by two master craftsmen — Eddie Arcaro aboard First Landing and Willie Shoemaker on Tomy Lee.

Output, Selling of Pontiacs Soar Far Above 1958

Sales at Retail Store Set All-Time High for Any Month

Production of Pontiacs in April was nearly triple the output in the same month last year while the Pontiac Retail Store reported more new Pontiacs sold last month than in any other month since the firm opened in 1935.

General Motors month-end statistics showed that 41,399 Pontiacs rolled off the assembly lines last month, as against 15,333 in April of 1958.

Henry E. Gotham, manager of the Pontiac Retail Store, reported 304 new Pontiacs sold last month, topping the previous monthly all-time high set in April of 1955 when 274 cars were sold.

In April of 1958 the store sold 60 Pontiacs.

The store has already sold more new cars this year than were sold in all of 1958.

Gotham said 1,253 Pontiacs have been sold through April as against 721 for all of 1958, a 58.3 per cent sales increase with eight months yet to go in '59.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Pontiac continued to maintain its lead in the production race with the Oldsmobile Motor Division. There were 37,874 Oldsmobiles manufactured last month.

For the first four months of 1959, Pontiac's output among GM cars is second only to Chevrolet.

Figures show Chevrolet leading the five GM divisions through April with an output of 592,587, followed by Pontiac with 157,351.

90,558 IN 1958

Third place is held by Oldsmobile with 152,545, trailed by Buick with 106,112 and Cadillac with 61,019.

Through the first four months of 1958, Pontiac had produced 90,558 cars.

GMC Truck and Coach Division produced 8,262 units the past month, compared to 5,734 units in April of 1958. For the year the total stands at 31,568 as against 23,143 at the same time last year.

★ ★ ★

General Motors produced 332,504 passenger cars and trucks in the United States and Canada during April as compared with 217,965 during April, 1958.

New Rocket Boss

GEN. OSMOND RITLAND

Brig. Gen. Ritland Named Air Force Missile Chief

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Ozzie Ritland was in trouble.

Flames spewed from the engine of the British Mosquito he was testing for the Air Force, turning his cockpit into an inferno.

Ozzie bailed out at 370 miles an hour.

Experts had said you couldn't do that and live—but Ozzie had no choice. He jumped.

His parachute popped open with a snap that broke most of the shroud lines, leaving Ritland dangling beneath a half-collapsed canopy.

Down he plummeted, half-dazed, to hit the earth with an impact which broke his back.

That was in 1943, when Lt. Col. Ozzie Ritland was a test pilot at Wright Air Development Center in Ohio.

★ ★ ★

The doggedness that enabled him to recover—he was on the job with his back in a cast within two months—has carried him to one of the nation's top military posts.

★ ★ ★

Today, gray-haired, brown-eyed Brig. Gen. Osmond Jay Ritland, 49, is the Air Force's new missile boss, succeeding Lt. Gen. Bernard Schriever, recently named chief of the Air Research and Development Command.

KEPT SHOP

Ritland has been Schriever's right hand man for two years, "keeping shop" during Schriever's frequent trips to Washington, Cape Canaveral and abroad.

As vice commander of the ballistic missile division here, Ritland has borne many of the headaches of developing the intercontinental Atlas, Titan and

Little Opposition Expected in '59 County Rates

Wixom Only City on Record as Planning to Appeal Equalized Tab

With one city—Wixom—already on record as planning to appeal its tax equalized valuation, Oakland County supervisors will meet Monday to approve the 1959 valuations.

Contrary to earlier reports, it appears little opposition is mounting to the rates approved this week by the Board's Equalization Committee, according to William B. Grabendike, director of the county's Equalization Department.

Townships and cities dissatisfied with their tax equalization rates after Monday will have only one recourse remaining — an appeal to the Michigan State Tax Commission.

"At least we didn't get any rumblings of disapproval when we had every assessing officer and supervisor before us before the rates were set," Grabendike said.

★ ★ ★

The Tax Allocation Board can go to work this month and set tax rates after approval of the 1959 valuations by the Board of Supervisors.

Oakland County's total worth this year has been estimated at $1,822,915,328, or $14,245,728 higher than last year's.

Grabendike expressed some concern that this yearly increase has not been as great as should be expected for Michigans' second largest county.

"But it's understandable in the light of poor business conditions everywhere last year, very little building in the county and natural yearly depreciation of old buildings," he said.

★ ★ ★

Even before the Board of Supervisors has had time to approve the 1959 equalization figures, the city of Wixom indicated it planned to appeal its rate.

Supervisors likely will hear more about this Monday.

Should there be little or no protests aired over equalization rates Monday, it might be a fair indication that supervisors are saving up their energy for Tax Allocation Board hearings beginning May 20.

Six sessions of the Board this year promise to be some of the stormiest witnessed in years as officials are finding it harder and harder each year to slice up 15 mills among growing townships, school districts and the county, and still keep everybody happy.

See No Censure of Sen. Morse

Actions in Mrs. Luce Controversy Likely to Go Unreprimanded

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility appeared remote today of any Senate censure of Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) for his actions in the controversy that led Clare Boothe Luce to quit as ambassador to Brazil.

★ ★ ★

Republican leaders indicated privately they want no part of a proposal by Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) that the Senate officially reprimand Morse for inquiring of Mrs. Luce's physician whether she had received psychiatric treatment.

Influential Democrats laughed off the Capehart suggestions as just another stanza in the running feud between the Indiana Republican and the Oregon Democrat.

Morse said he would welcome a censure attempt by Capehart. Radio station KGW at Portland, Ore., reported Morse said in a telephone call:

"This is an old forensic trick for Homer. He's perfectly free to offer such a resolution, and I'm perfectly willing to let the Senate be the jury, which under the rules they would be. I would welcome him trying it.

★ ★ ★

Capehart told a news conference Friday he believed Morse acted with "the height of irresponsibility" in calling Dr. Michael Rosenbluth of New York to ask about treatments directed for his patient.

News Flash

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams urged state employes to stay on the job and promised them they eventually will be paid "every penny in salary that is due." Williams' plea came as the AFL-CIO State Employes Union said it would check Monday on the possibility of enjoining State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown from paying any other state bills until he meets payrolls.

17 Horses to Start in Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Kentucky Derby, America's No. 1 glamor race, drew a cross section of the country, estimated at 100,000 people, to Churchill Downs today for its 85th running.

Seventeen of the finest 3-year-olds were expected to break from the barrier at 4:30 p.m. EST for the 1¼-mile run.

Calumet Farm's trainer Jimmy Jones said this morning On-and-On would be scratched from the original field of 18.

To the owner of the winner goes the major share of a purse of $163,750 and a trophy. If the 17 parade to the post as the band plays "My Old Kentucky Home," the winner's share will total a net of $119,650. To the winning jockey goes 10 per cent of the victor's purse.

TOUGH DECISION

Jones made his announcement shortly after sending the Calumet Farm's colt a quarter of a mile.

"It is a tough decision to make, but I feel that he is not up to the type of race needed to win the derby," he said. "I'll run him today in another event at six furlongs. I plan to officially scratch him sometime before noon."

On-and-On had been Calumet's hope for its eighth Derby triumph and its third consecutive victory. Tim Tam won last year, and Iron Liege in 1957.

★ ★ ★

Jones' decision left a finely-tuned field of 15 colts, 1 gelding, and a filly in a tradition-smashing move for the turf classic starting at 4:30 p.m. EST. Nationwide telecast and broadcast is scheduled for 4:15-4:45 p.m. CBS.

★ ★ ★

The weather forecast was fair and warmer. That could mean temperatures in the low 80s and ideal conditions for the thousands who turn the infield into a country picnic scene.

Many in Churchill Downs' ancient stands and in the infield never see the race. They follow it via the loudspeaker system.

★ ★ ★

Mint juleps, selling at $1.25 with the privilege of keeping the glass, are the traditional drink.

LUKEWARM FAVORITE

First Landing, champion two-year-old of 1958 owned by C. T. Chenery of Virginia and New York, was the lukewarm favorite at 3-1 in the widest open derby in many a year. He'll be ridden by Eddie Arcaro, winner of five derbies.

Tomy Lee, English-bred colt from the barns of Fred Tuener Jr., of Midland, Tex., was the second choice at 4-1.

Adding spice is C. V. Whitney's filly, Silver Spoon, quoted at 10-1.

Sword Dancer was the morning line's third choice at 5-1 with James Norris' Easy Spur, held at 6-1. Also rated high were Neil S. McCarthy's Finnegan and Patrice Jacobs' Our Dad.

Wow! 80 Degree High Forecast for City Today

The highest temperature of the year is expected today, a balmy 80 degrees with a gentle south wind.

Tonight the weather will be fair and warm, the low near 60.

Sunday will be partly cloudy and warm with a chance of scattered thundershowers and a high of 80, the U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts. Winds will reach a velocity of 20-30 miles an hour tomorrow afternoon.

★ ★ ★

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 47 degrees. The mercury rose to 78 at 1 p.m.

Detroit Trades Hoeft to Boston

Tigers Get Ted Lepcio and Dave Sisler in Return From Sox

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers traded pitcher Billy Hoeft today to the Boston Red Sox for utility infielder Ted Lepcio and right-handed pitcher Dave Sisler.

★ ★ ★

Hoeft, a left-hander, is credited with one of Detroit's only two victories this season. Frank Lary got the other decision. The Tigers are 2-14 in the American League, and Hoeft is 1-1 for the season.

★ ★ ★

In taking on Lepcio and Sisler, the Tigers sent infielder Ozie Alvarez to its American Assn. Farm club at Charleston, W. Va., subject to a 24-hour recall option.

★ ★ ★

Lepico, although used infrequently this season, has a .333 batting average. Sisler has worked in three games, but has registered no defeats or victories.

Policeman Gets Hungry, Raids Icebox Evidence

NEW WESTMINISTER, B.C. (AP) — The case against a meat market charged with failure to close Wednesday afternoons had to be adjourned Friday because a policeman ate the evidence.

Seven cents worth of bologna allegedly sold at the store in violation of Wednesday closure laws was stored in the police kitchen refrigerator.

Godfrey Report Cites Excellent Condition Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey was reported in excellent condition this morning at the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, where he is recovering from an operation for lung cancer.

★ ★ ★

A bulletin issued by the hospital at 7 a.m. said Godfrey's condition "continues to be excellent," adding that he had spent "a comfortable night."

Godfrey was out of bed twice Friday afternoon.

The 55-year-old radio and television star was described in a medical bulletin late Friday as in generally excellent condition, with pulse and blood pressure "perfectly stable."

★ ★ ★

Godfrey received a few visitors, including his wife, Mary, his secretary, his lawyer and family physician.

★ ★ ★

In the five-hour operation Thursday, surgeons removed part of Godfrey's left lung. When he got the news that he had cancer, he made no special comment. But he did ask: "Did you get it all out."

"Yes we think we did," was the reply.

Office Building Plans Revealed

Work Slated to Start in June on $175,000 W. Huron Structure

The proposed Oakland County Courthouse played a part in the newest office building development on Pontiac's west side.

Plans for a $175,000 professional arts building on W. Huron street were detailed today by Bruce Kinzler, an associate of the John Kinzler real estate firm, promoters of the venture.

Construction on the two-story, 12-office building is expected to begin next month with opening day scheduled for Nov. 1.

The attractive, glass-front building will be located on a two-lot parcel at 711 W. Huron, just east of the new main Pontiac Post Office.

★ ★ ★

Part of the land is now occupied by a cleaning establishment, which will be remodeled slightly to make room for the office building, Kinzler said.

GET GO AHEAD

Announcement in February that the county was free to construct its new courthouse in the Telegraph road Service Center spurred plans for the new professional arts building, said Kinzler.

Not only is the real estate firm expecting to sign up members of the legal profession as leasees, said Kinzler, but it also anticipates leasing to physicians.

Pontiac General Hospital is only four blocks east of the building site, Kinzler pointed out, "and the new courthouse will only be a five-minute drive away."

Kinzler said he expected leasing

Smashups Hurt 2 Area Drivers

Both in Fair Condition After Cars Leave Road Early This Morning

Two early morning traffic accidents sent two area drivers to Pontiac General Hospital today, according to Waterord Township and Pontiac State Police.

★ ★ ★

Virginia Pratt, 32, of 6527 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, suffered cuts on the head and knees when her auto apparently went out of control on a curve and smashed into a tree, township police said.

The smashup occurred on Gale road at about 5:45 a.m. The woman, described in fair condition, was not able to make a statement as to how the accident occurred. Police said she was alone in the car.

Jerome Sova, 29, of 1334 Park St., Milford, is also in fair condition with internal injuries and head cuts suffered when his car ran off a curve on Pontiac Lake road west of Cass Lake road in Waterford Township.

State troopers said Sova's auto shot wildly off the road, flattened a traffic sign and ran over several embankments, before coming to a stop some 400 feet from the point where it left the pavement.

The accident occurred at about 4 a.m., troopers said.

Judge Trombly Back on Macomb Court Job

MT. CLEMENS (UPI)—Macomb County Probate Judge Joseph V. Trombly, a controversial figure here for the past few months, returned to the bench yesterday.

Trombly, who left the judgeship in January during a controversy over his handling of the court, resumed his duties in Probate Court saying, "I am very, very well. It is good to be back again."

He turned over the Juvenile Division to the county's other Probate Judge, Donald J. Parent.

Old Man Thor Cools Off Plains After Heat Wave

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cloudiness and thunderstorms applied the brakes to a premature outbreak of midsummer heat in the Northern Plains today and sent temperatures downward, but generally fair and mild weather warmed the East.

Showers dampened wide areas from the Mississippi Valley westward, and a few spilled into the upper Great Lakes Region and the southern Appalachians.

★ ★ ★

Rainfall amounts in the West were mostly light, although a one-inch rain soaked Eldrado, Tex., during a gusty thunderstorm. Half inch rains were measured in other sections of west-central Texas and southwest Oklahoma.

Early morning temperatures were in the 70s in portions of Minnesota. Minneapolis' 75 was the same as Phoenix, in the Southwest.

★ ★ ★

The mercury boiled into the 90s and above Friday in the Northern Plains. It hit 102 degrees at Aberdeen, S.D., and gusty winds loaded with dust from fields drove the temperatures up to 98 in Redwood Falls, Minn. Fargo, N.D., registered 97 degrees.

The large pocket of heat stretched from Texas northward through the Plains and eastward through the South to the Atlantic Coast.

★ ★ ★

By contrast, temperatures this morning were 20 degrees lower than a day earlier in Utah and Nevada. Reno with 36 was 23 degrees cooler.

Girls enrolled in homemaking classes in Pontiac schools are learning this valuable art. Publicity Hurts Road Bonds

State's Finances Remain in Political Stranglehold

LANSING (UP)—No break was in sight today in the bitter political impasse that has set Michigan on a course of financial strangulation.

Top state administrators plugged at developing a workable plan for doling out available state cash to minimize disruptions in state services.

In two main moves yesterday, formal assurance was given state bondholders that the state will not default on interest and an outright ban on payment of travel expenses to state workers was relaxed.

Nationwide publicity on payless paydays and shaky finances has hurt sale of Michigan's highway bonds, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie declared.

He said more than eight million dollars of a 25 million dollar Detroit expressway bond issue purchased by underwriters early in March remains unsold.

In contrast, Mackie said, almost all of a 100 million dollar bond issue was sold in less than a week last year.

Neither Democratic Gov. Williams nor Republican senators who have taken charge in the Legislature made any gesture toward harmonizing differences over a solution to the emergency.

Meanwhile, the director of the Michigan State Employes Union threatened to try to enjoin the state treasury from paying out funds for other purposes before paying state employes' salaries.

The next move on the GOP senators' double-barreled tax-treasury relief program was up to the House where some Republicans talked of drastic revisions.

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), House Taxation Committee chairman, didn't expect action before Tuesday or Wednesday.

The Senate use tax bill would, in effect, raise the state sales tax to four cents, a penny increase. It is the GOP answer to Williams' demand for a personal income tax.

Unless the House and the governor accept it, Republican senators vowed they would smother a bill to wring 43 million dollars in quick cash out of veterans trust fund securities.

The two measures are linked by amendments making the trust fund bill inoperable without the use tax.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) said that unless the trust fund bill was held on the Senate calendar, "Democrats could maneuver it so that there would be no other way than an income tax to take care of new revenue needs."

"We are serving warning on Gov. Williams that it is this or nothing," Morris said.

The governor told newsmen this was "blackmail" and showed irresponsibility and indifference toward ending payless paydays. A $5,100,000 payroll for 28,000 state employes falls due next Thursday.

The injunction threat against the state treasury came from Robert C. Grosvenor, director of the Michigan State Employes Union which claims 5,000 members.

He said the injunction would be sought "if the Michigan Legislature continues to stall next week and state employes do not get paid next Thursday."

Royal Oak Trying Mall Traffic Pattern

Persons in downtown Royal Oak are getting a taste of what the proposed shopping mall there would be like.

Yesterday, city officials closed Washington street to through traffic. It is being used for right-angle parking during the trial period which runs through today.

Mayor Howard K. Kelley said today it was too early yet to evaluate the test. He said the City Commission hopes to have a better idea by Monday of how the proposed shopping mall would function.

Parking meters on Washington street have been hooded and city police are routing traffic along parallel streets.

Someone Pulls the Plug — and Ship Nearly Sinks

LONDON (UPI) — Somebody pulled the plug last night and nearly sank the 15,911-ton passenger liner Gothic.

The plug was a big valve on the side of the Gothic, in London docks for an overhaul.

Thousands of gallons of water flooded the engine room. The Gothic listed sharply, but a 30-minute struggle by pumps on the ship and on shore righted her.

Two Men Slain, Put in Car Trunk

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UPI) — The bodies of two young men were found early today stuffed in the trunk of a car on a country road near here.

The dead men were identified as Joseph Patrick Greco, 21, of Rockford, and Donald L. Burton, 21, of Peoria, Ill.

Sheriff Iver Johnson said both men had been murdered, but said exact cause of death was unknown. Johnson said a pathologist had been called to examine the bodies.

The bodies were discovered by Deputy Sheriff Lester Krug who with his partner made a routine check of the 1951 two-door sedan when they spotted it sitting on the shoulder of the road about four miles southwest of this northern Illinois city.

Krug said hundreds of pairs of dice were found in a carrying case in the back seat of the car and the glove compartment was filled with decks of cards.

Vocation Show Ending Today

City Students Display Skills in Northern High Gym Exhibits

The Pontiac Northern High School gym is a showcase of accomplishment today as the Pontiac Public Schools Department of Vocational Education rounds out its two-day "Skills for Working and Living" exhibition.

★ ★ ★

Students from Pontiac senior and junior high schools are demonstrating their abilities for faculty members, parents and the general public in the vast vocational exhibit.

The many exhibits, designed to give the public a look at the learning experiences provided for senior and junior high students, range from homemaking to trade and industrial education.

Also included are business education and arts and crafts education. Practical application of mathematics, design, research, communications and many other fields are stressed.

The show, a cross section of the work of more than 6,000 students in Pontiac, opened yesterday at 6 p.m.

The event will close at 5 p.m. today. A special style show was presented last night and this morning. It is scheduled for a final showing at 3 p.m. today.

Admission is free.

To Construct Office Building on Huron

The building will have a 62-stall, asphalt-paved parking lot, a pharmacy on its first floor and a laboratory concern on its second, Kinzler said.

Total available space within the office building will amount to nearly 12,700 square feet, Kinzler said.

The property was rezoned from residential to personal service use earlier this year by the City Commission, permitting the construction.

The building will have two other unusual architectural features, said Kinzler. Its upper story will overhang the lower story by about five feet on all sides and the main stairway will be suspended between the two floors without the support of a surrounding stairwell.

Three Detroit Men Killed in Alabama Road Crash

SCOTTSBORO, Ala. (UP)—A head-on collision between an auto and a truck today killed three men from Detroit, Mich.

The State Patrol identified them as Edward Leon Gibbs, 43, driver of the car; Lester Brown Price, and David Louis House, 38.

Police identified them as Ben Hodges, about 30, the pilot, and Richard Corbitt, in his early 20s.

Both victims were stationed at Battle Creek, Mich., and had left there yesterday. Officials said that papers on Corbitt's body indicated he was from Alma, Ga.

Cuban Invaders Give Up Quickly

Panama Officials Jail 87 in Abortive Attempt at Revolution

PANAMA (AP)—Cuban invaders of Panama who surrendered without firing a shot arrived in the capital as captives during the night in eight heavily guarded buses.

Informed sources said Fidel Castro's Cuban Embassy may seek leniency for the small band who threw themselves on the mercy of the Panamanian courts in laying down their arms.

Hundreds of curious Panamanians silently watched the 87 prisoners—one a woman—marched into jail.

They will be questioned before the government decides what to do with them.

Panama defenses—aided by U.S. planes patrolling the coast—kept on the alert against the danger of more invasions.

Justice Minister J. D. Bazan said the government was still on the lookout for two more invasion ships which reportedly left a Cuban port. But, he said, "they may have turned back in view of the failure of the first expedition."

The surrender of the party that landed in Panama last weekend was carried out under the eyes of a fact-finding team of the 21-nation Organization of American States.

Fernando Lobo, Brazilian diplomat who headed the OAS peace mission, said he was checking into the possibility of a new invasion and so far found it to be "rumors, just rumors."

"If nothing comes of that," he said, "our mission is finished."

Annual Safety Checkup for Autos Is Next Week

Next week drivers throughout the city will have the opportunity to safeguard themselves and others without cost by participating in the annual May vehicle inspection program which starts Monday.

★ ★ ★

Five safety-check lanes will be set up in the city so autos may be given a thorough but brief once-over.

Drivers of autos which pass inspection will be given green safety stickers for their car windshields.

★ ★ ★

The safety check is sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Traffic and Safety Committee in cooperation with the Pontiac Automobile Dealers Assn.

'JOIN SAFETY CIRCLE'

The slogan of the campaign will be "Join the Circle of Safety."

The five lanes will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Manning the lanes will be driver training students from Pontiac high schools and members of Pontiac service clubs.

Service clubs participating in the project will be the Rotary, Optimists, Exchange, Lions, North Side Kiwanis, Civitan West Side Kiwanis, and Downtown Kiwanis clubs.

The five safety lanes will be at:

1. Huron street at the Crofoot school playground.

2. Auburn avenue at East boulevard.

3. Montcalm street at Lincoln Junior High.

4. Johnson avenue near State street.

5. Orchard Lake avenue at Berwick boulevard.

Cochairmen of the inspection program this year are Harold Marshall and Clifford Metty.

One police officer, four volunteer workers and mechanics will be stationed at each lane to operate the check.

OTHERS TAKE PART

Authorized service stations, farages and auto dealers will also take part in the program by giving patrons safety checks without cost through the month of May.

Checks will cover brakes, horns, mufflers, windshield wipers, lights, brakes, steering wheels.

Public Safety Director George D. Eastman said today that warning violations will be issued to drivers if serious defects are found in the check.

Defects must be cleared up within 72 hours and the cars rechecked either at one of the safety lanes or at the police garage at the Public Safety Building, he said.

If not, he said, formal summonses will be issued.

Last year 7,200 vehicles passed through the five lanes.

Of these, 6,687 passed the inspection with flying colors while 513 had one or more defects.

OK, Floridians, We'll Try Almost Anything

TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—A gift-wrapped package of $10,000 left Tampa Friday as a present to financially troubled Michigan from the North Tampa Chamber of Commerce.

★ ★ ★

"We are sending under separate cover to the Michigan National Bank of Lansing some Southern inflation-proof financial aid," the telegram said. The aid was in the form of Confederate currency.

LANSING (UP)—Gov. Williams says the state's cash crisis bars him from joining the Lansing Brothers of the Brush.

★ ★ ★

Albert E. Holliday, secretary of a Brush chapter, invited the governor to join the brothers who are growing beards as part of Lansing's centennial celebration.

Williams wrote Holliday: "The serious financial situation has required great attention. It has been a close shave all the way."

Retain Blue Cross Chief

Finds Stickup Was No Prank

Pontiac Man Discovers Gunman at Door; Shot in Ensuing Struggle

When Melbourne Werth of 207 W. Strathmore Ave. came upon a gunman in his home last night he thought it was a prank.

But when a bullet grazed his forehead he knew better.

The 46-year-old Fisher Body worker told Pontiac Police today he was in the basement of his home and started up the steps to retire for the evening when he saw the masked gunman standing at an unlocked door.

"This is a stickup," the gunman growled.

"I thought it was a joke but I learned it wasn't," Werth said.

★ ★ ★

He started wrestling with the bandit trying to remove his scarf, and in the melee the holdup man's revolver discharged. The bullet grazed Werth's forehead and lodged in the ceiling of the stairway.

The bandit fled through the side door.

The shot awoke Werth's wife, who was sleeping upstairs. She saw a second man run out the front door.

Werth called police who summoned an ambulance.

He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital where he was treated for a flesh wound and released.

The Day in Birmingham

Christ Church to Present Spring Carillon Recital

BIRMINGHAM — One of the area's most popular musical features will begin tomorrow when the first of the spring carillon recitals is held at Christ Church Cranbrook.

★ ★ ★

The 45-minute programs, according to Maurice Garrabrant, doctor of music at the church, are scheduled for 4 p.m. each Sunday in May.

Sidney Giles, who plays the carillon at Burton Memorial Tower at the University of Michigan, will present the first two programs.

On May 17 and 24, Frederick Marriott of Central Methodist Church, Detroit, and formerly of Rockefeller Memorial Chapel at the University of Chicago, will play the carillon.

★ ★ ★

The internatinally known Staf Nees of Mechlin, Belgium, will play on May 31.

A second attraction tomorrow will be the spring concert of the combined choirs of First Presbyterian Church at 5 p.m.

Under the direction of Phyllis Gardiner, who heads the children's choirs at the church, and L. Robert Slusser, minister of music, the 375 voices will be heard in two numbers including their own arrangement of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

★ ★ ★

Each of the choirs also will sing one anthem.

The three churches of the North Adams road community have planned a canvass during the month of May to determine the religious affiliation of the residents of that community.

Participating in the canvass will be Beautiful Saviour Lutheran Church on North Adams Road, Northminster Presbyterian Church on Big Beaver Road and St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, meeting in Eastover School on Westview road.

Planning the summer recreation programs for school playgrounds Robert Girardin, city recreation director, said a class in puppet construction will be held.

★ ★ ★

Youngsters are asked to furnish buttons and socks to make the puppets.

New officers of the Birmingham Womans Club will be installed at the annual spring luncheon meeting at Hillcrest Country Club Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

A program is planned for the afternoon, including renditions by Miss Alice Ingram, soloist, and by Mrs. E. J. Kempf, book reviewer.

Mrs. Mabel F. Callahan

Service for Mrs. Mabel F. Callahan, 79, of 1802 Pembroke Rd., was to be held at 1 p.m. today in Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co. with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Callahan died Thursday in St. Joseph Hospital, Pontiac, after a brief illness.

She was a member of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of Chatham, Ont.

★ ★ ★

Gen. Ritland Named New Missile Chief

Minuteman missiles, and the intermediate range Thor.

With this background, his words bear weight when he says "Our worst hurdles are past. We know now that we can put man in space, and we know how to do it."

★ ★ ★

Ritland says his confidence is based on the success of Discoverer II, the polar orbiting satellite launched April 13 from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. In its two weeks aloft it "showed us the configuration for the future," says Ritland.

CLOSER THAN EVER

"We are now closer to our goals than we ever have been before. Successful stabilization and orientation of Discoverer II in flight allows us to think more boldly of the future.

"We have watched earlier satellites spin and tumble and we wondered how a man could survive under such conditions.

Man will have enough problems in the weightlessness of space without having to cope with a tumbling vehicle.

"But Discoverer II proved we can stop the tumbling. Now we can begin to hope we have the means for steering these things—and that is the key to man's flight to the moon."

Ritland has been connected with research and development since the war. Prior to his assignment here he specialized in nuclear weapons, winning the Legion of Merit in 1954 for his work in this field.

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Birmingham, Mich., sculptor Marshall Fredericks is in Oslo to watch the final casting of a statue of Christ which he claims will be part of the largest crucifixion group in the world.

Ding Dong Dad at End of Line Again — in Jail

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Ding Dong Daddy of the D Line is at the end of the line again — in jail.

Francis Van Wie, 72, was sentenced to 120 days Friday for marrying his 18th wife while still legally wed to No. 17. The former San Francisco streetcar motorman went to San Quentin in 1946 for bigamy.

A probation report quoted No. 18, Minnie Reardon, 81, as saying:

"If the Lord can forgive him and give him another chance, so can I. Francis was a regular churchgoer. He had no bad habits, and I will surely stand by him."

PIKES PEAK COG LINE OPEN — The Pikes Peak cog railway is shown heading up the mountain on its first run of the year after the route was opened by a big rotary plow that cleared snow from the tracks. Six days were required to open the route this spring due to exceptionally heavy Colorado winter snows. Ordinarily, the track could have been opened in about two days.

Reflections

OUT OF BOUNDS

J. L. VOORHEES

Our home may be the center of a vast cattle ranch or be a modest dwelling on a city lot; in either case our movements are not restricted by boundaries set by nature. Habit sets our boundaries.

An eagle draws an imaginary line around his nest and hunts within that circle. A mountain lion respects the boundaries set by habit, and nature, anywhere else is out of bounds.

M. E. SIPLE

A mouse in the wall of a barn hunts, lives and dies within a prescribed area. A dog may prowl far and wide yet this animal follows his habitual route. Man puts on his left shoe first, sits in one chair, wants his meals at a certain time, goes to bed and arises at a time set by habit, drives to work over the same course, makes the same comment upon arriving at his office and home.

Habits, alone, determine our boundaries; break one habit and a boundary is pushed back. We as human beings should not tolerate even one "Out-of-Bounds" habit-boundary.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Here's Your Chance to Express Ideas on Federal Spending

"Does Inflation Worry You?"

I am very much impressed by this heading across the top of a big two page ad in The Chicago Tribune. It's causing widespread talk—and action. The Tribune is on the war path—and with due cause.

★ ★ ★

The campaign seeks to drive home the full import of this vital message: every penny the Government spends beyond its income drives down the value of the dollar.

This means YOUR dollar.

It means EVERY DOLLAR YOU HAVE. This isn't a theory expounded by a balmy group of idealists cloistered in any ivy tower. No, this simply recognizes the everyday working of all economic laws here and everywhere else. France, Germany, Argentina and many other countries have gone completely bankrupt through their failures to recognize or through their failures to cope with this factor. No one can escape — including the government.

★ ★ ★

Unless Federal spending is halted, your dollars—and I mean YOUR dollars—will buy less next year and then even less the year after, and the year after that.

How long can you stand this?

Mustn't we reach the end SOMETIME?

★ ★ ★

The Tribune points out that: "your insurance, your pension, your savings, your social security and all fixed or semi-fixed incomes will be worth less." It's inescapable. It's happening now. There's no other way the laws of economics can work; and you've seen them working that way for many, many years under a Government policy of spend, spend and spend.

★ ★ ★

Right now, this nation is experiencing the highest total income in history and we should be reducing the national debt. But we aren't. As Secretary ROBERT B. ANDERSON pointed out in his speech at the Associated Press luncheon: "If we can't cut the national debt when business is at its best, WHAT can we expect in normal and average years? And what can we expect in poorer years?"

★ ★ ★

No matter how desirable things appear to Washington lawmakers and no matter how much they may tickle the fancy of the small coterie of voters back home, this nation simply can't afford everyone's private luxuries and sacred cows.

★ ★ ★

The Tribune says many Congressmen feel just as you do, but they're hesitant and afraid. They hear mainly from those that want more spending for their own pet and personal project. Yes, indeed. They're the vocal element. They're the ones that write.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Press joins The Tribune in urging you to speak your own mind. If you want to save that slipping, skidding, failing dollar, you must act. Everyone must act. This means Democrats, Republicans and Socialists. It means the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker. It means the idle rich, the pauper and the man on relief. Let the representative you elected know what you think. He's anxious to learn. How can he act to suit you unless he hears?

★ ★ ★

We have borrowed two coupons from The Tribune that appear on this page. Mail one to your Senator, PHILIP HART, or to your Congressman, WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD. Both are long time Oakland County men. Send your idea to one of them. We have addressed the coupon for you. Copy the coupon address on an envelope—affix a stamp and drop it in a mail box. Give the other one to a neighbor, a friend—or yes, even an enemy. (He'll have to save your dollars to save his own).

★ ★ ★

The long suffering taxpayers have been silent too long. It's time they arise and assert themselves. After all, as the late—and great—"Teddy" Roosevelt said: "You and I—we're the government."

And In Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

FIDEL CASTRO told JULES DUBOIS, Chicago Tribune's Latin American authority, that he was "going home, roll up his sleeves and prove himself worthy of his great American welcome." . . . . . Boxes for four people at today's Kentucky Derby brought $500 from speculators . . . . . Fashion says the gals will wear one-piece bathing suits this summer instead of two; and HY GARDNER wonders which piece they'll use.

★ ★ ★

Washington may have a southpaw playing third base. (Name of Becquer) . . . . . Some of the more fastidious baby sitters now demand colored TV sets on busy weekends . . . . . The boys say Southern Cal and Stanford will soon be eligible for membership in the Big Ten. When we take in Hawaii, it practically makes California a mid-western state . . . . . Elaine Stritch, Oakland County's only big time musical comedy gal, decamped to Cuba where she heads the cast of "Kiss Her Goodbye," upcoming movie . . . . . I wonder if the word "psalmody" makes you blink as much as it did me? . . . . . The Bishop of North Carolina says a weary priest at the Miami convention phoned the hotel desk and asked: "Can we go swimming in the hotel pool tonight?" A lovely and throaty feminine voice replied: "We sure can. I get off at eleven." James G. Stahlman, powerful Southern newspaper publisher, sums up Castro with this: "Seldom in the history of vocal events has anyone taken so long to say so little about so much."

★ ★ ★

I'm told the Treasury Department has private observers in the biggest Nevada gambling spots to watch for heavy winners . . . . . The worried coach pleaded with the prof to give the big tackle another chance. The prof did and the next day the coach asked anxiously: "How'd ole Jonsey do?" Replied the coach: "Listen, he said 7x5 is 33." The coach took a deep breath. "Aw, give the lovely guy a break. He only missed it by one." . . . . . New Yorkers tell me some tax companies are going to experiment with two passenger cabs . . . . . The FBI is concerned over the report Red China is going to dump heroin, opium and morphine into the U.S. to raise some quick dollars to repay Russian loans.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

FAITH AMERICANS LIVE BY — 5

He has crawled through rubble below a leaning wall to speak words of comfort. He has entered blazing buildings to administer last rites. He has ordered other men off a roof before its collapse and carried an unconscious man to safety. He has broken the tragic news of death to firemen's survivors.

In trials such as these has the faith of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William J. Gorman been tested since he became chaplain of Chicago's fire department in 1922. He volunteers his services, which are in addition to his regular parish duties. Receiving no pay for his work with the firemen he has, in the words of one official, "been a source of strength."

"The great courage of firemen humbles me," says the chaplain himself. "And what is humility but knowing yourself as you really are? What few things I've done were duty; the Lord put them in my way."

People in many countries have been ruined or impoverished by inflation caused by excessive government spending. I am worried about inflation in the United States and depreciation in the value of the dollar. If our government keeps spending more than it takes in, we certainly will have more inflation and prices will keep going higher.

If this happens—

- ☐ My savings will be worth less
- ☐ My insurance will be worth less
- ☐ My pension will be worth less
- ☐ My bonds will be worth less
- ☐ My income will buy less
- ☐ My social security will buy less

I hope that you will vote only for essential expenditures, and against waste and appropriation bills favoring special interests. If we are to survive as a strong nation, we must avoid further inflation.

There isn't a Senator in Washington more hateful than Morse. First he was a Democrat, then he turned Republican, now he's turned Democrat again. So you can see how reliable he is. He's the one that should have been investigated.

'Can There Be a Compromise?'

In Oakland County a man charged with statutory rape gets a suspended sentence and a $500 fine and in Mississippi he is dragged screaming from his cell and probably killed by lynch-law proponents. There must be some kind of a compromise.

'What Will World Think of This?'

The world will take a dim view of our democracy when they read about this Mississippi rape case. Oakland County doesn't even bother sending the pups to jail.

Disgusted With Both

He Feels Sorry for Announcers

I feel very sorry for those two baseball announcers who have to try and sound very cheerful all through those horrible exhibitions the Tigers put on.

★ ★ ★

The fans can yell what they really think and so can the newspaper writers, but those broadcasters have to try and act cheerful and as though they thought the Tigers were always going to win and were a great team.

★ ★ ★

They have to keep one eye on the sponsor and one eye on the Tiger management and that handcuffs them completely. There aren't any more eyes left and they're chained to the bottom of the pit. I think they do real well and I say three cheers for great bluffs they put up and it really makes the games sound better than they look in person or on TV.

★ ★ ★

I had the bad luck to attend one this year and I was trapped into watching part of another on television.

'What Will They Do With Us?'

During the last big depression many of us who had saved for a lifetime to have a secure old age lost everything we had. Since then they don't allow us to work except at menial tasks, because we're too old.

We go to a doctor and they send us to a specialist. They play God and charge everyone all the law allows, whether the income is $100 a month or $10,000. If you say one word, they tell you to go elsewhere. We pay the same high price for everything.

2.5 Million Men Mental Rejects

NEW YORK (UPI) — A massive study initiated by Dwight D. Eisenhower before he became President showed today that the Army lost 2.5 million men—the equivalent of 165 divisions—in World War II to mental and emotional breakdowns, primarily because of a lack of adequate education.

"Dear John" letters, marital breakups and family problems at home were another major reason why so many men failed to make the grade, the study said.

Nearly two million of the men who were emotionally or mentally "ineffective" for service were rejected in draft board screening.

The rest served and were discharged, many after long and heroic duty. That meant that one out of every seven men of the 18-million screened for duty failed because of emotional or mental defects, the survey pointed out.

This compared with five and a quarter million men rejected for all reasons and with a quarter of a million American men who were killed out of the 14-million who served and helped make up the 89 divisions mobilized by the Army during the war.

The United States must find a way to save "this significant sector of American manhood" as a vital step in the defense and security of the country, the study said. It pointed out that America, with only a small segment of the world's population, faces a potential enemy which has vast human resources.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'Preview Party' Prepares Child

Sue's fear about starting to school was changed by a "Preview Party" which the tactful kindergarten teacher held for next term's incoming youngsters. This is a plan that all progressive schools should adopt, for this period can be one of the greatest emotional shocks in a persons entire lifetime if it isn't handled deftly.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B—424: Sue K., aged 5, is due to enter kindergarten next term.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, Sue is very shy," her mother began, "and I am afraid she will not be content away from me.

"So what can I do in advance to help her become better adjusted to the school situation?"

Sue's mother deserves a compliment for thus looking ahead. Smart parents should anticipate such future problems that will confront their children and thus try to avoid them.

The first great shock in the emotional life of a child is when it finds itself separted from its parents.

So "cushion" that shock. Vaccinate your toddler by slow stages to being away from mamma.

To begin with, let him get well acquainted with some affectionate neighbor, who can then serve as baby sitter for an hour while mamma goes shopping.

★ ★ ★

Later, this baby-sitting period can lengthen to an entire evening.

As the child grows older, deftly encourage it to spend the afternoon at the home of a playmate. Ultimately, see if it will spend a night with grandma or a favorite cousin.

Meanwhile, let it get accustomed to a classroom atmosphere by taking it to Sunday School from early infancy.

★ ★ ★

A Sunday School lets the child learn to cooperate with other youngsters and also be away from mamma for half an hour or longer.

PREVIEW PARTIES

Some of the most advanced schools also offer next term's incoming kindergarten children a "Preview Party."

During the last day or so of the semester, the kindergarten teacher invites the mothers of next term's class to bring their youngsters to school.

At this happy social event, ice cream is served and the newcomers are given a chance to see what a jolly, happy place the kindergarten room really is.

Thus, the child learns to place a pleasant "halo" on its being old enough to attend school.

★ ★ ★

You parents, too, should always remind the youngster that BIG children have the privilege of going to school. Keep the emphasis on this idea that school means a child is BIG or ALMOST GROWN UP.

Prior to the opening day, too, mamma should see that her child gets well acquainted with others of its age in the same city block or general farm neighborhood.

For children feel less afraid if they set off to school with playmates and familiar faces.

Remember, it is an "unknown" place or person that usually scares children. The "known" holds less fearful aspects.

★ ★ ★

So urge your PTA and the teachers in the kindergarten or the first grade to hold these "Preview Parties" for next semester's incoming tots.

For many neurotic ailments that persist even into adulthood can be traced to the emotional shock that kindergarten children receive when they aren't tactfully prepared for leaving mamma. "Cushion" this major event.

And send for my "Tests for Good

Teachers," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

★ ★ ★

Discuss them in PTA meetings, for the best teachers in the entire school system should be in the kindergarten room.

★ ★ ★

A child's first teacher can make or ruin his future educational career!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Strikers' Wives Due in Court

Ignored Injunction in 'Human Blockade' of Oil Trucks

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP)—Five wives of striking Phillips Petroleum Co. refinery workers were to go into court today to answer contempt of court citations for ignoring a court injunction against their "human blockade" of refinery access roads.

A telephone campaign was started Friday to crowd as many supporters into the courtroom as the wives could muster.

★ ★ ★

The District Court hearing was ordered by District Court Judge W. A. Barnett for Mrs. W. O. Dozier, Mrs. C. R. Fuller, Mrs. G. A. Kane, Mrs. E. H. Basford and Mrs. W. B. Wallace.

They are among 12 women and one man named in the injunction obtained by the company.

After the five were served with the citations, a new group took over the blockades.

★ ★ ★

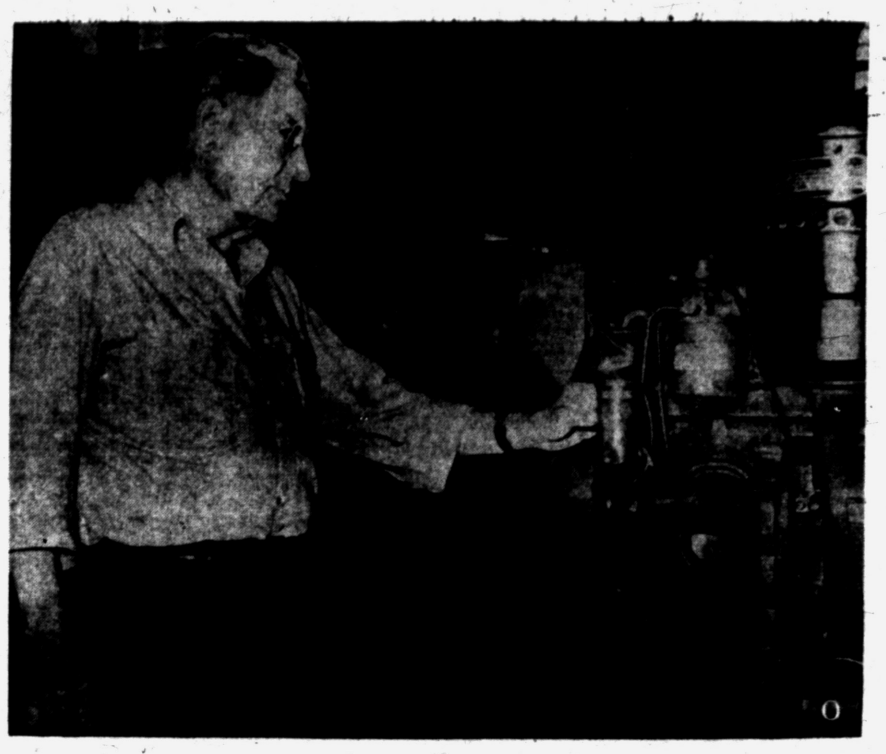
The blockades have been maintained day and night, with some of the wives holding their posts as long as 20 hours at a time, since Tuesday.

They contend their husbands' conventional picketing had not stopped the trucks from picking up oil products at the refinery.

Revolver Totin' Spinster Dies in Nursing Home

DETROIT (AP) — Miss Emma Arnold, who used to defend her crumbling farmhouse near Ann Arbor Trail with a revolver, died in a convalescent home in suburban Livonia yesterday. She was 99 and would have been 100 next Oct. 4.

She figured in the news in the late 1940 when she wounded three young trespassers on her property. A spinster, she lived alone for 33 years and was a school teacher in her younger days.



LEAVING WATER WORKS — Peter Angeloff, 177 Green St., a Water Department worker for 46 years, retired this week as operator of the water plant at 151 Walnut St. Born in Bulgaria in 1893, Angeloff was hired as a temporary employe in 1913 and as a permanent worker in 1921. Hired as a laborer, he advanced to coal passer, boiler fireman, and became plant operator in 1950.

Deadline Bills Flood State Legislature

LANSING (AP)—A flood of bills hit the Legislature Friday, deadline for introduction of all but tax and appropriation measures.

So far, 1,065 bills have been submitted in the two Houses. The Legislative Service Bureau said it had drafted 1,220, about 50 less than in the last long session in 1957.

Lawmakers have yet to agree on an adjournment date although the House has adopted a resolution setting up a schedule of deadlines which would end the session June 19.

Safety Devices Cut Highway Accident Toll

BEDFORD, Pa. (UPI)—Built-in occupant protection in the new automobiles has improved motorists' chances of surviving highway crashes, a Cornell Medical College Dr. Paul W.ETAOINUNUNUN surgeon said today.

Dr. Paul W. Braunstein told the 11th annual scientific assembly of the Pennsylvania Academy of General Practice that one of the greatest causes of death has been the ejection of occupants from a car in a crash.

"The injury rate is doubled and the death rate is multiplied by five if a passenger is thrown from the vehicle," Dr. Braunstein said in reporting on studies by the Cornel auto crash injury research unit.

He said all major manufacturers now install safety door locks in current models resulting in "a substantial decrease" in the incidence of occupant ejection and a significant reduction in the death rate. Dashboard padding and safety belts have helped reduce injuries, he said.

Another Cornell surgeon, Dr. Preston A. Wade said he believed the teaching of the use of the tourniquet in first aid courses should be discontinued, because of the danger when used by laymen.

Dr. Wade said that instead of using a tourniquet to stop bleeding, a pressure bandage should be applied directly over the point of flow and kept firmly in place.

Budgies Are All Atwitter Thanks to Iodin Ration

"Of course, living in London, we all take the iodin ration. It might interest you to know that we give our show budgies iodin ration too and their feathers are superior to others . . ." (Mrs. S.D.)

DR. BRADY

Ans. — I'm sorry I don't know what "budgies" are, but I believe every man, woman or child in Ontario, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana or Ohio needs a suitable daily ration of iodine. Likewise every cat, dog, sheep, pig, cok, horse, bird or other creature in the Great Lakes Basin. Send stamper, self-addressed envelope for my FREE pamphlet THE IODINE RATION. This is nutrition, not medicine. I do NOT advise or approve the use of any other than the I-shaped tablets described in the pamphlet.

"What remedy do you recommend for bunion?" (Mrs. H.L.)

Ans. — Bunion is partial dislocation of great toe joint with thickening of the head of the metatarsal bone and, usually, an inflamed or infected bursa over the joint. In mild cases treatment of the bursitis may give sufficient relief. In established bunion only operation on the enlarged joint will suffice — this requires hospitalization and keeps the patient off the foot for two weeks. Wearing freak shoes is the cause of bunion.

"Am I endangering my children's health or society by not having them vaccinated? I'm not convinced that children need vaccination if the parents are conscientious about their general health, physically and spiritually. Please give me your opinion of this." (Mrs. C.M. Jr.)

Ans. — I don't understand what being conscientious about general health means. The children should be vaccinated.

"Am calling your attention to the article, "Find Diversion from Stability." Many of us, for various reasons such as physical handicaps, age, occupation, are unable to walk several miles a day . . . peace of mind is the answer . . ." (C.F.S.)

Ans. — I'm afraid you and I just don't understand each other. I didn't use your term but that's what I tried to explain moderate daily exercise does for anyone whose "nerves" are jangled.

★ ★ ★

"Tell C.M. it is unwise to use saccharin as an artificial sweetener because it has no nutritional value and it can damage the kidneys when the body attempts to eliminate it." (W.C.H.)

Ans. — On the contrary, any one can use up to five grains of saccharin daily without ill consequence. A quarter-grain tablet is equivalent to a level teaspoon of sugar in sweetening effect.

Dear Abby...

Can't Face Mother's Day With 38 'Children' to Feed!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Mother's Day is coming again and I get tired just thinking about it. Last year my 7 children (all married) came for supper. They brought their families and we number 38 and ate in 3 shifts. I got up at 5:30 in the morning to start the supper. Nobody helped me peel a potato and they all started coming in at five o'clock with their kids.

"I wiped noses, heated bottles, changed diapers, answered questions and waited on everybody trying to make them feel comfortable and welcome. They left my house upside down and it took me a week to clean it up. I still love them but I am wondering how many more Mother's Days I can take like the last one? Any suggestions?"

AVERAGE MOTHER

DEAR AVERAGE: If this is the way your children "honor" their mother on MOTHER'S DAY, it's time you spoke up. Tell them on MOTHER'S DAY the kitchen and nursery are closed. Get yourself all prettied up and let them take YOU out for dinner. It's supposed to be YOUR day—not THEIRS.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: May I make a suggestion to how to handle uninvited guests when they 'drop in' and spoil your plans? Keep your coat and hat hanging near the door. When the doorbell rings, slip it on in a hurry, and then open the door. If it's someone you do not wish to entertain, tell them how sorry you are that you were just leaving and are already ten minutes late. If it's someone you want to entertain, invite them in and tell them you just got home. It works ten times out of ten. Cordially."

R. F. K.

DEAR R. F. K.: And what do you do if you say you are leaving, and the "guest" offers to go with you?

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Please tell LOVES TO DANCE to tell her mother-in-law to keep her big mouth shut and to keep right on dancing. When my first baby was two weeks overdue I won a Jitterbug contest at the Civic Auditorium and have the pictures to prove it. I am expecting my second baby any day now and am dancing my fool head off."

STILL DANCING

"DEAR ABBY: I am a sophomore at college and I feel like a child asking you this question but I'm ashamed to ask anyone else. I've dated lots of fellows and have made out with many of them but I've always kept my emotions under control. But, Abby, there is one fellow in my English Lit. class who makes me flip.

"Whenever I see him and our eyes meet, I get weak in the knees and have to look away. I can't even think straight when he looks at me. We have nothing much in common (different backgrounds, interests, religion, etc.) and I don't think he's serious about me. I'm sure this isn't 'love'—but what is it? COOKIE

DEAR COOKIE: This is "physical attraction" — and unfortunately, often passes for "love." If this is all you have in common — avoid him, because when this feeling takes over, it blots out reason, and that's the way the cookie crumbles.

Few of Us Can Afford to Go Without Rouge

About 10 years ago, someone started the idea going that it was clever to leave rouge out of the makeup scheme. Rouge, it was implied, had become old hat.

The results are apparent today in hordes of American women who think that a dash of lipstick is sufficient makeup. This is despite the fact that many of them appear ghostlike and seem to be suffering from advanced anemia.

The truth is that very few women have such flawless skins that they can go without an artful touch of rouge. Most fashion models use it, well-placed high on the cheekbone and skillfully blended.

While they are about it, the women and girls who have left off rouge have also left off powder. Instead of the smooth, flawless porcelain look they hope to achieve, they display pale, drawn, shiny faces.

Actually, makeup is an art, one which is a great aid in creating the illusion of a pretty face.

PCH Concert Combines Melody, Harmony, Youth

By DORA DAWSON

Melody, harmony, color, youth and a fine varied selection of songs were the factors in a delightful concert "Say It With Music," put on by the vocal department of Pontiac Central High School Friday evening. The 24th annual concert, under the direction of George Putnam, opened with a matinee performance April 29. The concert will be repeated tonight for the last time.

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of young people took part in this concert, the culmination of a year of singing together, memorizing every number, yielding to expert direction, and giving of the best of their talents to produce music of a standard that lives and is enjoyed.

The program was divided into four parts after the introduction by the Senior Girls' Ensemble opening with selections from "Brigadoon." There was a colorful sword dance by Shirley Hutchinson and a Scottish dance by 8 boys interpolated in the group under the direction of A. Michael Dempsey.

★ ★ ★

"Sacred Holidays" by the A Cappella Choir conducted by George Putnam, opened part two. With a beautiful backdrop picturing a church interior and effective lighting, the robed choir sang with great poise and splendid intonation five sacred numbers that expressed exaltation and religious feeling. Henry Smith sang the tenor solo in "The Lord's Prayer."

From the sublime to the old-time minstrel show, with its familiar southern songs, a Dixie Jamboree was put on by the Boys' Glee Club under the direction of Doreen Voltmann. Greg Arakalian was interlocutor and carried the show along with professional ease. Dressed in traditional garb, stovepipe hats, white shirts, cerise bow ties, dark trousers and cerise garden gloves, they carried out some very clever stunts in unison with their hands, and rising and sitting during the 8 songs. Solos were sung by Elvin King and Tom Schrodi and Joe Payne introduced a soft shoe dance.

"All You Need Is a Song" was the concluding part, sung by the entire ensemble. There were five well-selected songs concluding with "Beyond the Blue Horizon Waits a Beautiful Day." This was a lovely picture, full of color, with youthful voices singing of good cheer and faith.

There were three entre acts, when smaller groups, such as the Senior Boys' Ensemble, Junior Girls' Ensemble, Selective Girls' Glee Club, Song Spinners and the Senior Girls' Ensemble sang. All of them were a fine addition to a program that moved quickly and easily. Marilyn Vernon and Barbara Holder were heard in solos.

Excellent accompaniments were played on the piano and organ, helping throughout to make the concert such a success.

A word should be said for the handsome design on the program cover, drawn by Gary May, a student.

Dangerous if Lasting

Any May Have Symptoms

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Years ago when someone acted in completely illogical ways, was terribly hard to get along with, was constantly blue or moody or showed any other abnormal symptoms, we just shrugged our shoulders and called him or her, "mean" or "eccentric." It never would have occurred to us to try to get expert help for the individual.

Today the thinking is entirely different. We know that mental illness is an illness just like any other disability, and that the sooner it is treated the surer the cure. Yet even today loads of people need help who do not get it.

INHERITANCE FACTOR

Not everyone is able to stand the strains and stresses of life. How well you can "take it" is partly a matter of inheritance. Some folks just naturally are tougher emotionally than others; just as some are more rugged physically.

We all act irrationally at times. We are all sometimes unreasonably cross. We have our blue days. We have days when nothing seems interesting and we have no zest for life. We all show practically every symptom of mental illness at times. This is only a matter for concern if the attitude or the mood is chronic.

There should be no more stigma attached to getting help from a psychiatrist than consulting a doctor about some physical ailmet Sometimes the symptoms of an emotional disturbance show up in early childhood. It often does at teen age. So many people could have been saved from serious breakdowns had they had early treatment.

The prognosis for cure is very encouraging. About seven out of 10 patients in mental hospitals recover completely or partially if they have the right treatment soon enough. Not so very long ago schizophrenia was thought of as practically hopeless.

Today when adequate treatment is available, two out of every three of these patients are discharged as entirely or partially cured. In the case of minor disturbances the outlook is even brighter.

Here are a few of the symtoms which should be investigated if they are progressive in intensity or of long standing. As I have said we all have most of them once in a while but for a short period.

Prolonged intense sullenness, irritability or moodiness; withdrawl from friends, family or fellow workers; violent outbursts; a feeling of persecution, hoarding the feeling of being unloved or disliked; talk or behavior which doesn't make sense; lack of interest in work; a great deal of daydreaming, any strange ideas which have nothing to do with reality; exaggerated anxiety, the constant fear that something is going to happen, misplaced worry; deep depression, destructive behavior; deep feelings of inferiority. These are a few of the symptoms.

Please, Old Dears, Tell Us the Secret

RUTH MILLETT

We had finished our luncheon dessert and were on the second cup of coffee when the talk turned from clothes to husbands.

"Why is it," mused a happy young wife, "that in any family crisis a husband hurries into his den, locks the door behind him and doesn't come out until everything is peaceful and quiet?"

"And why," asked another, "is it that when you are scurrying around trying to get ready for dinner guests a man always decides to clean his guns, put fishing gear in order, or 'ransack every closet in the house looking for a jacket he hasn't worn in years?"

"And why," another wanted to know, "can't a big, strong, intelligent man do the simplest household repair job without his wife's having to stand around and hand him tools?"

"And how," asked another, "can a man who can tell you at a glance the make and model of any car on the road walk into his own living room and not even notice new curtains or a new slip cover?"

There were even more questions, but not one wife could answer any of them. So I'm asking my men readers if they have any logical explanation for the apparently illogical way that husbands act and think.

If any of you men can explain these questions which have puzzled more than one generation of women I'll be glad to publish them.

It could do a lot to make us quit wondering "Why?"

Share Taxi but Pay Own Fare

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening during a heavy rain storm, I waited twenty minutes before I could get a taxi. When I finally did get one, another woman who was standing beside me, asked if she might share the taxi with me. As she was going in my same direction, I said, 'yes.'

"I was the first to get out and never having shared a taxi with a stranger before, I did not quite know how to handle the paying of the fare. Will you please tell me how this is taken care of?"

Answer: You should have paid whatever the meter read plus a tip when you got out because that is what you would have paid anyway, and whatever the other person paid is of no concern of yours.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother would like to wear a white corsage at my brother's wedding, but the bride insists that she alone wears white flowers at her own wedding. I have never before heard of this and would like to know if it would be wrong for mother to wear white flowers?

Answer: The fact that the bride carries a white bouquet does not mean that no one else can put on even a few white flowers, which would in no way resemble the bouquet of the bride. But since the bride feels as she does, your mother would probably save a threatening situation by choosing other flowers.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Please advise me as to the correctness of using the crest on my family's coat of arms for my stationery. I have been advised that I may no longer claim the right to use my family crest since my marriage. Is this true?"

Answer: I am sorry but you must not use your father's arms or crest, and indeed even if you were not married you could not use it because a crest is used only by a male member of the family.

Church to Mark Centennial

Armada Methodists Will Celebrate Anniversary Tomorrow

ARMADA — The Armada Methodist Church will mark its 100th anniversary Sunday, the Rev. Paul L. Amstutz, pastor, announced today.

In reviewing the church's history, he noted that the congregation was incorporated on Feb. 19, 1859, and plans were made to build on land deeded by Mr. and Mrs. John Bannister that same year.

A major catastrophe befell the church in February 1942, when the frame building burned to the ground, destroying all of the contents and many valuable records. Loss was estimated at $20,000.

The present structure was completed on Aug. 3, 1943, and a new parsonage was built on Prospect street in 1948.

In special centennial services tomorrow, the Rev. John Adams, pastor of Christ Methodist Church, Detroit, will speak at 10 a.m. Bishop Marshall R. Reed will deliver the sermon at the 2 p.m. service. The Rev. Arthur Smith, Detroit superintendent, will speak during the 7:30 p.m. service.

Lunch will be served at noon for visiting guests, and a pot-luck dinner is scheduled for 6 p.m.

Services to Stress Bible in Family Life

National Family Week will be observed at Crescent Hills Baptist Church with two special services emphasizing the theme, "The Biblical Basis of the Family."

The Rev. B. A. Bohn, pastor, will preach on "The Family Guide —the Bible" at the 10 a. m. worship hour, assisted by Rudy Schettling and the Adult Choir.

The Lord's Supper will be observed and new members welcomed at the conclusion of the sermon.

A family fellowship service is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. at the parsonage. The evening will consist of readings by Marcia Cameron, a hymn sing and fellowship hour.

Raps Society's Attitude

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Dean James Fogarty of Fordham University said in a speech here that society's "extraordinarily apathetic attiude toward the appalling problems of alcoholism," is a grave modern weakness.

IT SEEMS

The above phrase is frequently used by many in their conversations with others in their everyday walk of life, and such is permissive if they so desire. However, when speaking religiously we should always say, the Bible teaches, for we should always keep in mind that the Bible contains, "All things pertaining to life and godliness." (II Pet. 1:3).

Have you ever heard an individual say when speaking of the church, IT SEEMS TO ME THAT ANY CHURCH IS ALRIGHT, JUST TAKE THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE. Or perhaps you might have heard someone say, THE CHURCH DOES NOT SAVE. Perhaps many of you have so said, if not perhaps this is your unspoken conception. But, friends, this is a misconception. Have you ever truly contemplated the inconsistency of individuals as it pertains to religious matters. In Ephisians chapter four, the writer affirms that: THERE IS ONE GOD, WE ALL AGREE, he says, THERE IS ONE LORD, WE ALL AGREE, he says ONE HOPE, WE ALL AGREE, but here our agreement ends. It should not, for there is more, but unfortunately the inconsistency of men will not allow us to agree further. In the same chapter, the writer says, THERE IS ONE FAITH, THERE IS ONE BAPTISM, THERE IS ONE CHURCH, ON THESE WE CANNOT AGREE, WHY? If one God means just ONE, and one Lord means just ONE, WHY DOES NOT ONE BODY WHICH IS THE CHURCH (See Eph. 1:22, Col. 1:24), mean just ONE CHURCH. "O CONSISTENCY THOU ART A PRICELESS JEWEL."

For a long time I have heard men express various opinions regarding the church, some would say the church is all important, others would say the church is non-essential and has nothing to do with the salvation of an individual, but I fear the most of us have forgotten to see what the LORD THINKS OF THE CHURCH. The Bible says God thought so much of the church that he made Christ the head of it. Col. 1:18. Christ thought so much of it that he gave his blood for it. Acts 20:28. Christ thought so much of the church until he made it his bride and is going to save it. See Rom. 7:4 and Eph. 5:23. IN THE FACE OF ALL THESE FACTS, HOW SAY SOME THE CHURCH IS NOT IMPORTANT? The Bible says it is, as for me I WILL TAKE THE BIBLE, WILL YOU? Are you in the church; (I do not use the term in a denominational sense for division is wrong, but in the Bible sense) if not you should be, for Christ is going to save the church. Eph. 5:23. Believest Thou This?

He Knows How to Pick Himself Up

Don't Count Arthur Godfrey Out

NEW YORK (UPI)—Arthur Godfrey has emerged from a cancer operation to confront the toughest opponent of his roller-coaster life. Judging form past performances, he should win.

★ ★ ★

It isn't the first time the self-styled Irish ruin has been down but not quite out. Each time, the 55-year-old rugged redhead has picked himself off the floor and bounced back.

In 1931, a car he was driving smashed into a truck. Doctors found he had 32 fractures, including a broken left arm, fractured skull, four broken ribs, displaced heart, dislocated hips and shattered kneecaps.

Although saddled with many scars and a permanent limp, he went on to become the world's most celebrated radio and television salesman.

Sponsors spent as much as 27 million dollars a year to have Godfrey deliver their messages in his salty, brash style.

His career also has had its ups and downs. He was working in the Pennsylvania coal mines at the age of 16, but quit when he got a bad cough. He tried to become a lumberjack, but lacked the muscle. He went on the bum and slept in jailhouses at night.

He joined the Navy and survived a number of barroom brawls at various Mediterranean ports, but acquired stitchwork on his scalp and bridgework in his mouth.

He got a job writing advertising copy for a perfume company after leaving the Navy in 1924. He was paid $100 a week, but that wasn't enough money to keep him from arguing with the boss and walking out.

Godfrey worked on an auto assembly line in Detroit, but didn't like it. He even tried selling cemetery lots. The pay was good, $500 a week, but he chucked that in favor of investing in a vaudeville company, which went broke.

Undismayed, he turned to radio and made his debut as "Red Godfrey, the Warbling Banjoist" on Baltimore station WFBR. Two years later, he was hired by NBC's station in Washington, D.C., for $50 a week. He was on the way up when the car smashup came along.

His hip never healed properly, and in 1953, he underwent surgery that left him with what he called a "tin hip."

Not long after the operation he tossed away his crutches at his farm near Leesburg, Va., and went for a swim before a nationwide TV audience. He had come back again.

RISES OVER TROUBLES

Throughout his life, he rose above his physical troubles to ride horses, go hunting, fly his own plane, swim and play golf.

Professionally, he got in hot water with his public six years ago when he publicly fired singer Julius LaRosa because he lacked "humility."

A succession of firings in the "family" followed and he found himself with sponsor trouble. In the midst of that, he was penalized for reckless flying. His ratings fell and he lost his "Talent Scout" night-time show, once a top-rated program.

Godfrey gave up his Wednesday night hour and returned this season with a Tuesday night show that failed to catch on.

Down again, he was being written off as a has-been. Then he suddenly bounced back as the heir-apparent to Edward R. Murrow's "Person to Person" show, starting next fall.

PRIDE AND JOY — The children in Mrs. John Davidson's room at Webster School have been excited all week with the two chicks that hatched in the incubator in their classroom. They dubbed the pair "Pride and Joy," and pupils from other rooms have been constant visitors to the chick nursery. Learn Latin, Lois, Advise Top Americans

MAPLEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — When Lois Kapelsohn has questions about her homework, she goes right to the summit.

Lois, 14, a ninth-grade honor student at South Orange Junior High School, wondered whether Caesar and Cicero were worth all the bother. So, as a term project, she sent out 120 letters to prominent Americans asking them if that so-called dead language should drop dead.

Ninety-nine per cent of her correspondents replied — in English — that Latin was very valuable indeed. Included among those in favor were Chief Justice Earl Warren, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Cabinet members and others.

Said the vice president: "I studied Latin for four years and it was my favorite subject. It was most valuable in teaching me how to think."

Warren and Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton urged Lois to keep plugging with her Latin.

To no one's great surprise, college presidents and professors replied in one voice: Keep Latin alive.

Groucho Marx agreed. A New York magazine editor didn't. One of the few dissenters, he said Latin was a "luxury," especially since too many Americans are incapable of speaking proper English.

Lois is keeping on with her Latin.

Hertz Charged Under Antitrust

Sued by Government for Monopolizing Car Rental Business

NEW YORK (AP)—The government has accused the Hertz Corp. of throttling competition in car rentals throughout the United States.

★ ★ ★

In a civil complaint filed Friday in federal court, the government contends Hertz spent 40 million dollars in the last five years to acquire control of other auto and truck renting and leasing companies.

The suit says the acquisitions have included airport and railway terminal concessions, garages and other facilities, and more than 20,000 vehicles.

★ ★ ★

The government wants a court order requiring Hertz to sell these acquired assets, and a ban against acquiring any additional companies.

Ike Has Perfect Veto Tally

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is champion by one way of figuring the success chief executives have had with vetoes—he has turned down the most bills without being overridden once by Congress.

Eisenhower, however, still has nearly two years to go while nine of his predecessors got through their full White House tenure without having a veto overruled. Four of the nine served eight full years, which Eisenhower has yet to do. But their vetoes were few.

Counting the House vote Thursday sustaining Eisenhower's veto of the rural electrification loan bill, his record stood at 138 vetoes and no upsets.

★ ★ ★

A Senate Library study shows an unblemished record in that respect for four presidents who served eight years: Washington 2 vetoes; Madison 7; Monroe 1; Jackson 12.

Other presidents with perfect scores: Polk 3; Buchanan 7; Lincoln 3; McKinley 42, and Harding 6.

Franklin D. Roosevelt had the highest number of vetoes with 631, but 9 of these were overridden. Andrew Johnson had the greatest number overridden, 15 out of 28. Harry S. Truman had 12 of his 250 vetoes upset.

Billy Graham to Cut Australian Crusade

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—American evangelist Billy Graham will cut his five-month Australian tour short by a week, his chief aide said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Grady Wilson, an associate evangelist in the Graham "crusade team," said Graham's decision to cut his stay in Australia was not due to the trouble the 40-year-old evangelist has had in his left eye.

★ ★ ★

"If health were the reason he would prolong (his stay) to give himself more time for rest," Wilson said. He said Graham will leave Australia for the United States after the conclusion of his Brisbane crusade on May 31 instead of June 6.

Good Year Is in Store for This Bathing Beauty

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — Joi Lansing, a beautiful blonde Mormon who often dates Frank Sinatra, was very sorry the day we met that she wasn't carrying a bathing suit with her.

★ ★ ★

"I practically always carry one," apologized Joi, who's a steady on the Bob Cummings TV show and also was in "Hole in the Head," the movie Sinatra shot in Miami. "Somebody's always asking to take my picture in a bathing suit and I like to be ready."

Joi therefore tossed her legs about and worried about her shampooed hair that wasn't dry yet—and said, "It might be a good year for me."

WILSON

Orson Welles is in her corner, too. "He starred in a picture," Joi burbled. "There were thousands of girls waiting for the audition and I intended to walk right out. When he saw me, he said, 'Where have you been?' I said, 'What?' He said, 'Tell all the other girls to go.'"

Thus she wound up in a TV pilot he hopes to sell.

JOI

Being one of the shapeliest, prettiest Hollywood gals, Joi seemed to be a natural for the Sinatra Fan Club, and she says concerning that, "Frank and I are very close friends and I intend to keep it that way."

Joi is a sexpot—of the school that includes Mamie Van Doren, Jayne Mansfield, Anita Ekberg, Barbara Nichols, and Joan Bradshaw.

The Mormons don't bar girls from being sexpots. "I don't smoke or drink or swear—well, once in a while," she said, deciding to have a cup of coffee. "I think we Mormons are allergic to alcohol.

Starting five years ago with the very first Bob Cummings show—the original pilot, even—Joi's performed regularly with him (frequently in a bathing suit as one of his photographic models). Bob's even roped her into his Vitamin Club.

Joi was married briefly to an actor named Lance Fuller and was just starting to wear bathing suits. Divorced now, she's free-lancing, as the bachelor girls in Hollywood call it.

★ ★ ★

"When were you born?" I asked her.

"April 6," she replied with what has become her standard answer.

Joi has played a lot of light parts but would like to do something dramatic . . . a role in which she winds up getting killed in a western, for example.

"I could get shot in a bathing suit," she suggested . . . That's earl, brother.

Vets to Gather at Lourdes Meet

50,000 to 70,000 From Many Nations Will Be in Peace Assembly

PARIS (AP) — War veterans from about a dozen nations are to gather in the Roman Catholic shrine city of Lourdes Aug. 30 in the cause of peace.

★ ★ ★

Between 50,000 and 70,000 veterans from the United States, The Netherlands Denmark, Yugoslavia, Italy, Greece, Turkey and Formosa, and perhaps Poland and Japan, are expected. A Soviet delegation is doubtful at present.

★ ★ ★

The pilgrimage was organized by the Assn. des Pretres Anciens Combattants, a French organization of 16,000 former fighting priests. The organization said it was the duty of veterans of the free world not to let the Communists monopolize such events.

Marshal Alphonse Juin, Five French cardinals, three government ministers and Gen. Maxime Weygand are sponsoring the pilgrimage.

★ ★ ★

In announcing the program PAC said that in Lourdes "men of all nations, of all races, of all confessions can meet as brothers."

Similar demonstrations are planned behind the Iron Curtain, it said.

★ ★ ★

Marshal Juin made an appeal to veterans all over the world to take part.

The Lourdes meeting will last three days. It will coincide with the 20th anniversary of the outbreak of World War II.

Hollywood Headlines

CBS to Pit Spacemen Against TV Westerners

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Can the space jockeys shoot down the gunslingers?

Paramount TV boss Jim Schulke thinks so. He is masterminding the film company's break into the TV filming business with a new hour show called Destination Space. It's Schulke's opinion that the next big cycle in home-screen entertainment will be space exploration.

★ ★ ★

Apparently CBS shares his faith. The network is backing the series and scheduling it Tuesday nights. The opposition: Laramie on NBC and Bronco-Sugarfoot on ABC. So Americans will have a clear-cut decision to make on whether they like their spaces wide open — or outer.

Destination Space is in good hands. The actors include John Agar and Cecil Kellaway. Director of the pilot was Joseph Pevney ("Away All Boats," "Tammy and The Bachelor," "Torpedo Run").

The coproducer and writer is Rip Van Ronkel, writer of the excellent film, "Destination Moon."

"When we did the picture," he recalled, "the events were said to be at least 25 years off. That was nine years ago, and today the seven men who will make the first named."

Keeping up with the latest developments is his problem, for the series is aiming at authenticity. The space agencies have helped him. "But I don't want to see any classfied material," he said.

"What they have in planning is more fantastic than anything I can dream."

★ ★ ★

Getting plots is the main problem, he added. "We're getting good stories, and good characters too," Van Ronkel said. "The spaceman is a new type — not the hotshot pilot at all. He's a solid engineer."

Persons 99 and Older Sought for Celebration

BIG RAPIDS (UPI) — A call went out today for persons 99 years and older to help celebrate Michigan Week May 17-23 and at the same time observe Mecosta County's 100th anniversary.

Mecosta County Michigan Week officials are conducting the search for pioneers who will be honored during the week-long celebration for the role they played "in helping lay the foundations for today's living."

Amvets Present Ike With Peace Award

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, accepting a peace award, said yesterday America "seeks for others only those privileges and rights she has for herself and will defend with everything she has."

The President spoke informally at a luncheon given by Amvets, an organization of veterans of World War II and Korea.

★ ★ ★

The national commander, Dr. Winston E. Burdine of Atlanta, Ga., presented Eisenhower the highest award Amvets offers—the "Silver Helmet Peace Award"—for "contributions to honorable world peace that all peoples might live with freedom and dignity."

★ ★ ★

Other awards included the congressional award for service "to the nation's veterans and all Americans" to Rep. E. Ross Adair (R-Ind), a member of the House Veterans Committee.

The Americanism Award, for taking "through the Iron Curtain the significance of the American Way of Life," went to pianist Van Cliburn who won acclaim in Moscow for his ability at the piano.

Japanese Scientist Says Sky N-Blasts Harmful

TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. assumption that high altitude nuclear explosions cause no harm to humans is a "gross mistake," a Japanese nuclear scientist said today.

Prof. Yasuo Miyake, chief of Japan's Geochemical Research Institute, declared strontium 90, deadliest byproduct of nuclear fission, will pile up on the earth's surface even though the explosions are detonated at an altitude of more than 30 miles.

London More Gentleman Than Fighter in KO

Patterson Ends 'Tuneup' in 11th at Indianapolis

Loser Wants Rematch; Floyd Starts Training Soon for Johansson

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — In England they have two kinds of athletes, the professionals who play for money and the non-pros called "gentlemen," who compare to our amateurs.

Last night Brian London, a professional boxer from Blackpool, England, challenged heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and he fought like a real gentleman.

Even when he was kayoed in the 11th round, London found it more gentlemanly to hit the canvas on his side rather than on his back.

When he entered the ring, London bowed to the fans on all sides and twice during the fight he apologized to Patterson because he thought he had butted the champion.

★ ★ ★

And as Tommy Farr would say, "the bloody mackeral" did not apologize for not throwing a few punches.

Someone suggested London might have been afraid to sever Anglo-American relations. He sure didn't impress anyone as being one of the best heavyweights England has to offer as a challenger.

"He was frozen from the start, I never saw him fight so sadly," said Farr who sat at ringside shaking his head throughout the 10 rounds and 51 seconds.

★ ★ ★

London was game. The jut-jawed bloke took what Patterson had to offer but had nothing to return. His right hand couldn't have smashed a fly on Patterson's ear and his left was just a mechanical punch that could hurt only if he was able to connect more than once.

His first left was hard, but he followed with lefts that piddled off Patterson's head, mussing his hair.

London did not win a round. He might have scored one even in the 6th when he connected a few in close quarters.

★ ★ ★

In the first round the crowd roared, not in approval but in amazement, as London moved in to return a couple stinging left jabs he had just taken with a few light pats to Patterson's head.

The second round Patterson missed with a long right haymaker and when the crowd roared in laughter, he shrugged his shoulders as if to say, "oh well, it was a good try."

London tried a couple long rights in the third round and ruffled the air a little bit, but then his body on the right side started to redden from Patterson's work on his ribs.

★ ★ ★

Patterson opened a gash under London's eye in the 4th round and opened it up more in the 5th round. It was in this round that London started to move in and suddenly both fighters stopped momentarily and shrugged at each other.

"He thought he butted me and started to apologize, and I told him he didn't and to start punching," said Patterson.

The champion threw a lot of punches in the 7th round but none was solid. His best connections came in the 8th and 9th rounds. In the 10th London went down on one knee and took a count of three as the bell sounded.

★ ★ ★

A long left jab early in the 11th round put a little haze in London's eyes but before they had a chance to clear, Patterson threw four straight punches and that was it.

The Briton felt the impact of the last punch in somewhat of a delayed action, because after a pause he made an effort to move forward but instead waivered backward and dropped.

"The crowd booed because they thought I pushed him," said Patterson, "but I wanted to put my hand on his head to try to help him up. I don't know why except that out of habit, when with my sparring partner, I often go to help him if I think he's hurt," Patterson explained.

★ ★ ★

"He caught me a couple times when I was moving away and they were not effective," said Patterson, "and I hammered his right side because I saw it was starting to bother him."

London, who thought he should have a rematch, said, "he's the fastest man on two feet."

"I think he deserves a rematch, but in four days I'm going back into training, because the next fight will be tougher," said Patterson.

"Why should it be tougher?" someone asked. "Because Johansson is the number one challenger," replied Patterson.

LONDON DOWN — Britain's Brian London goes down on one knee in 10th round of heavyweight title bout last night as referee Frank Sikora motions champion Floyd Patterson away. Patterson kayoed London in the 11th round to keep his title.

Johansson Would Punch More

Next Foe for Patterson Gives Credit to London

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—"I am the champ of Europe, and he (London) is now the challenger."

That was Ingemar Johansson talking in Patterson's dressing room last night. Johansson, who meets the champion in New York in June, said "London did better tonight than I thought he could. He was much better tonight compared to his other fights."

Johansson said he would do one thing different in meeting Patterson. "I would punch a little more."

"Patterson is very fast, but he was not using his experience to full advantage," said the Swede. "I think London was on defensive," he added.

Cus D'Amato, outspoken manager of Patterson, said he "thought London could beat any of the American challengers."

"He might not be the best Floyd's faced, but he was the toughest challenger and later he might get a rematch," D'Amato added.

"I was satisfied with the fight. Patterson is the kind of fighter who rises for the occasion," the manager continued, "and before he is done he still will be one of our greatest heavyweights."

★ ★ ★

"I'm coming back to the States and learn to fight."

That was London's reaction to the 11-round beating he suffered Friday night at the hands of Patterson.

"I took body punishment I shouldn't have taken," the stand-up British fighter said in his dressing room a few minutes after he was counted out in the ring.

He had a cut under his right eye, and his body was bright pink with red lacings.

★ ★ ★

The big blow London said, was Patterson's hard right that cought the challenger on the left temple near the end of the 10th round and sent him down for a five-count.

Homers for Run; Francona Keeps Yanks Losing

Wynn One-Hits Boston, 1-0

By The Associated Press

Every spring it's the same. Ask Manager Al Lopez who looks good and he'll point to a guy running in the outfield at the Chicago White Sox' training camp. "Wynn," said Lopez. "He always looks good."

At 39, and in his 19th major league season, Early Wynn is Lopez' prime example of a pitcher. Not just because he's a winner. But because he's always in shape, always ready to do a job, always ready to give another club a fight from the mound.

★ ★ ★

Last night he pulled off one of the sweetest jobs of his career, beating the Boston Red Sox and Tom Brewer 1-0 with a one-hitter and his own home run in a performance that was the more remarkable because it was far from perfect.

The only Red Sox hit was a first-inning single by Pete Runnels, the second man Wynn faced. There were seven other base runners, all on walks—but Wynn left 'em hanging as he time and again battled back with strikeouts to get out of jams. He fanned 14, his one-game high.

★ ★ ★

It was Wynn's 252nd victory, tops among active pitchers, and 38th shutout, tops in the American League. It also left the White Sox within a game of the front-running Cleveland Indians, who pulled off a whale of a job themselves in a 4-2, 10-inning victory over the New York Yankees on Tito Francona's three-run, two-out pinch homer.

Kansas City shook Baltimore loose for a full share of third by beating the Orioles 6-3. Washington tossed another shovelful of dirt on Detroit, beating the Tigers 4-3 in 10 innings.

★ ★ ★

Ironically, it was Wynn's knowhow that barred his first no-hitter. He had moved shortstop Luis Aparicio nearer third before pitching to the left-handed hitting Runnels—who bounced his single just to the left of second base, where Luis would have put it away.

After that, Wynn went to work on the strikeouts. He got the final two outs on whiffs in the second after giving up a walk. In the fifth, he walked two, but got the final out on a strikeout. In the seventh, with Don Buddin on third after a walk, passed ball and outfield fly, Wynn fanned Gene Stephens and Ted Lepcio.

★ ★ ★

This was Wynn's second one-hitter (the other was against Detroit in 1955 when he was with Cleveland) and he won it in the eighth for a 3-1 record. Brewer (1-2) walked but one, struck out one and gave five hits, Al Smith had two singles, Nellie Fox another. The only extra-base hits were by Wynn—who doubled before the home run.

Pirate Ace Friend Four-Time Loser

By The Associated Press

When Pittsburgh talked pennant last winter, the hopes were based on pitchers Bob Friend and George Witt. Now it's May, and Pirates are seventh in the National League race and seven of their nine defeats have been hung on those two right-handers.

Witt, who shrugged off arm trouble and finished his rookie season with a seven-game winning streak last year, again has been bothered by a sore elbow and is 0-3. Friend, who shared the major league lead with 22 victories as the Bucs finished second last year, now is 0-4. Neither has managed to pitch a complete game.

Friend failed again last night. Making his fifth start, he was rapped for 13 hits and lost 7-6 to last-place St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

Despite a 6-9 record, the Pirates still are just 3½ games out of the lead in another close NL race that shows only a 2½-game margin between first and sixth.

★ ★ ★

Milwaukee's first-place Braves retained a mere (.032) percentage point lead, although whipped 6-4 by third-place San Francisco. Fourth-place Cincinnati defeated the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3, and Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2.

The Cardinals, who had lost three straight, got rolling against Friend in a three-run fourth inning capped by Alex Grammas' two-run double. They put it away with another three in the seventh, with Hal Smith's two-run triple the deciding blow.

★ ★ ★

Wilmer Mizell (3-1) won his third in a row, but despite a 7-1 lead he needed Jim Brosnan's relief as the Pirates scored five in the last three innings. Smoky Burgess' two-run homer topped a three-run seventh and Dick Stuart then homered with a man on in the ninth.

★ ★ ★

Bob Schmidt unloaded a three-run homer and Jim Davenport smashed a solo homer as the Giants scored four runs in the fifth inning at Milwaukee. It was their first victory in three decisions against Carl Willey, who was making his first start of the year for the Braves. The Giants counted the winning run in a two-run sixth against reliever Bob Buhl on a walk, Orlando Cepeda's double and Andre Rodgers' single.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Frequent slumps.
DIAGNOSIS: Starting the downswing too fast.
Treatment: One of the two or three most important principles of the good golf swing is this: the downswing must be started SLOWLY and SMOOTHLY.

At this movement from the top of the backswing more golfers go wrong than at any other one place in the swing. There seems to be a natural anxiety to hit the ball as quickly as possible, once the top of the backswing is reached.

This anxiety must be overcome if you expect your golf to improve. If you've fallen into the habit of starting the downswing too quickly and jerkily, I suggest you spend some time concentrating on the point on the practice tee.

In my view, there is nothing you could do for your swing that could be more rewarding. Of course, a good golf swing isn't that simple!

Nats 4-3 Victors on Timely Hits, Detroit Errors

'Home Run' Bunning Allows 2 More; Need .543 Pace to Make .500

DETROIT (AP)—Just to get even — the Detroit Tigers must play better baseball in the remainder of the 1959 season than any Detroit team in the last eight years.

The stark reality of just what their stumbling start has done to them faced the Tigers today as they sent Gerald Davie out in his first big league pitching start against the Washington Senators.

The Senators' 4-3 victory in 10 innings yesterday gives Detroit a 2-14 record.

To fulfill a pre-season promise by manager Bill Norman — he said his team would finish in the American League's first division — the Tigers will need some mighty heroics.

★ ★ ★

The bleakest part of the entire mess is that just to finish even with the board, to break even at the .500 mark in wins and losses, the Tigers must play the remaining games at a .543 clip.

Left fielder Larry Doby was helpless against two of Harmon Killebrew's blasts yesterday, and they cost the Tigers another ball game. Killebrew hit one in the fourth into the upper left field seats. In the 10th he broke a 3-3 tie by socking another one high into the upper left centerfield pavilion.

Both of the roundtrippers came off Jim Bunning, who already is threatening to make a runaway of American League gopher-ball honors. Bunning has yielded eight homers in 24-and-one-third innings.

The Tigers led 3-2 after seven innings. In the eighth, Roy Sievers led off with a single to left. Then shortstop Rocky Bridges bobbled Jim Lemon's grounder and Sievers went to second.

★ ★ ★

Third baseman Eddie Yost erred on a backhand stop of Killebrew's grounder and the bases were loaded. Sievers scored as pinch batter Julio Becquer grounded into a double play. Thus, the game was tied.

Season's 1st Horse Show Sunday

Young Riders in Spotlight

The Pontiac area's first spring horse show for 1958 on Sunday, at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club promises to be a very interesting exhibition. There will be 13 separate events on a program in which young riders hold the spotlight, along with their mounts.

Some of the section's top youngsters are entered from Bloomfield Hills, Northville, Birmingham and Detroit. There are also several from other points, including the only girl who has worked out this year with the United States Equestrian Team. She is Miss Mary Litchfield of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Miss Litchfield, an alternate for the USET, is bringing two horses.

Among riders for Robert C. Egan, who ith Frank Farko, heads the show, arranged by Michigan Professional Horsemen's Assn are Phillip (17) and Patricia (14) Monaghan, children of General Motors' Phillip Monaghans, and Cassie daughter of the Merrill Bates of Bloomfield Hills.

Sally and Bob Sample will ride for Johnny Wallace of Northville who will have some 20 horses showing.

Max Bonham, long-time pro favorite at BOH shows, will bring 10 horses from the Firestone Lauray farms. There will be two from the Grand Rapids Gabor Foltney stable and seven from the new Dort stables at Flint. Bonham, of Waterloo, is prexy of the state horse show association.

Judges are Wendell Smith and Ted Molham. Timers are Irving A. Duffy and Stanley Humphrey. Humphrey is head of this years' BOH show.

Classes to be shown include every phase of horsemanship, for both hunters and jumpers.

Show opens at 9 a.m. runs through the afternoon, and is free to the public. A donation may be made for the USET fund.

Pitcher Tom Cheney will leave the Army in about eight days and join the St. Louis Cardinals. He appeared briefly in 1957. In football, the Philly Eagles have signed linebacker Bob Pellegrini and defensive halfback Lee Rivley.

St. Michael is assured city baseball honors for parochial schools on its 12-4 thumping of St. Fred this week. Ken Biron won the only meeting between the diamond teams.

Lionel Leads Hogan by 2

Hebert After Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Broad-shouldered Lionel Hebert set out today with a couple of par 70s in mind as he sought first money in the $27,300 Colonial Invitation Golf Tournament.

The Frenchman from Lafayette, La., leading the Colonial tournament at the 36-hole mark with a record-tying 134, said he figured two 70s would take the title. And he added, he thought he just might shoot them.

★ ★ ★

"This course (the 7,021-yard Colonial Country Club course) is a tough one and you have to think on every shot," Hebert observed. "I made some mistakes, sure, but the others made them too—some worse than mine. But I'm putting real well and I even might give you another 67."

The Calculative Hebert shot his second 3-under-par 67 yesterday to increase his lead from one to two strokes. He thought it was the better of the rounds since there was a high wind to combat.

The 134 tied the record for 36 holes in this tuornament. Ben Hogan set it back in 1946 and it was equalled by Chandler Harper in 1955 and by Mike Souchak in 1956.

Hogan was back in the groove yesterday and was chasing Hebert in his dash toward one of his biggest purses — the $5,000 first money in the Colonial.

Little Ben had a 67 and was in second place with 136 for 36 holes. He was just one stroke away from Hebert going into the 18th green. But Hebert ran down a four foot putt as a crowd of 7,000 roared and Lionel enters the third round with a two-stroke bulge over the relentless Hogan.

WRITING HIS OWN TICKET — Autographing the baseball he knocked into the left field stands to win his own ball game is Chicago White Sox pitcher Early Wynn, who hurled a one-hitter against the Boston Red Sox last night. He struck out 14 men. The lad who got the ball is Bobby Sura, 16, of suburban Argo. Wynn's homer gave the White Sox a 1-0 victory.

Filly Hoping to Defy Tradition; 18 Horses Slated to Run

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Eighteen finely tuned horses, one a filly in a tradition smashing effort, quietly waited in their stalls today for the signal sending them in quest of riches and glory in the 85th Kentucky Derby.

Although 18 remained eligible for the Churchill Downs mile and one-quarter race for three-year-olds, there was a possibility only 17 would start at 4:30 p.m. (EST). Nationwide telecast and broadcast is scheduled for 4:15-4:45 p.m. CBS.

Trainer Jimmy Jones wavered between scratching On-And-On or sending him after Calumet Farm's eighth derby triumph.

If Jones had a tough decision to make, consider the 100,000 or so prople who moved into the Downs' sprawling acreage with two ideas—pick the winner and have a good time.

First Landing, Tomy Lee, Sword Dancer, Finnegan, Easy Spur, Our Dad, Troilus, Open View and Silver Spoon, the filly—they were the names heard most frequently wherever people gathered.

Only one filly ever won the derby. She was Regret in 1915. Twenty-seven others have tried.

Easy Sput from former boxing impressario Jim Norris' Spring Hill Farm also can enter a select group. Only seven geldings have won the classic. The last was Clyde Van Dusen in 1929.

With 18 starters, the race has a gross value of $165,000 with a net of $120,900 to the winner for the second richest in history. Each scratch reduces the figures by the starting fee of $1,250.

The weatherman promised fair skies and warm temperatures as this horse-minded Ohio River city climaxed a week of celebrating.

Eddie Arcaro will be seeking his sixth derby victory aboard First Landing. Other derby winners and their mounts:

Willie Shoemaker, Tomy Lee; Bill Hartack, Easy Spur; Ray York, Silver Spoon; Bill Boland, Sword Dancer; Steve Brooks, Dunce; and Johnny Longden, Finnegan.

First Landing remained the luke warm 3-1 choice.

Golfers in Windup Today

Houston Southern Champ

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—A tightly bunched field, headed by sophomore Ron Weber of Houston, faced a 36-hole windup grind today in the 22nd Southern Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

Weber's brilliant 5-under-par 67 in Friday's second round put him out front by a stroke at 141 and helped Houston win its first team title in the event. The Cougars, who have won the past three copped the SIC crown with a 578 total.

★ ★ ★

Rollins, team leader after the first round, and Georgia tied for second at 583. Since this tournament also determines the Southeastern Conference golf titles, Georgia thus took its third straight SEC crown.

Weber, 20, held a one stroke lead over Georgia's Bob Moser, who had 16 pars and two birdies during his second round 70.

Another stroke back at 143 was Bryant Harvard, a quarterback on Auburn's football team. Jack Cupit of Houston and Bob Ross of Rollins had 144s. Harvard shot a second round 71, Ross a 72 and Cupit a 73.

Par for the 6,745-yard Athens Country Club course is 36-36—72.

Behind Rollins in team standings were Florida at 590, Auburn at 602, defending champion North Texas State at 603 and North Carolina at 606.

Roberts Seeks 2 All-Star Tilts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Robin Roberts, the National League player representative, has proposed two All-Star games be played each year and that proceeds from the additional game be used for promotion of amateur baseball, the Old-Timers Association and the pension fund.

The veteran pitcher of the Philadelphia Phillies made the suggestion here yesterday to the Major League Executive Council, which agreed unanimously to recommend its adoption by the Major League clubs.

Commissioner Ford Frick said he would poll all the Major League owners on the idea and Roberts said he would contact all the player representatives to get their sentiments.

If the players and the 16 owners approve the extra game, an attempt will be made to play it this year, Frick said.

"We have no assurance the game can be arranged this year," Frick explained. "The regular All-Star game is scheduled July 7 at Pittsburgh and we can not play it (the extra game) in that period because the schedule is too tight. If any is played in 1959 it would have to be at a later date—in late July or August and certainly not in September."

Milford Thinclads Win; Skipper 9 Edges W.L.

Two records tumbled and another was tied, yesterday on Milford High's field, where the hosts won a three - way vent from Bloomfield Hills and Northville. Milford compiled 66½ points.

Waterford's baseballers edged Walled Lake 6-4 in another Inter-Lakes event.

Bloomfield Hills counted 39½ and Northville 27 points.

In probably the best race of the 3-way event, Bloomfield's Ford hung up a 2:06.6 for the 880-yards. He jumped off to the lead at the start, held it all the way. Ron Danley of Milford was a stride back, threatening right down to the wire.

A Hills athlete also wrote the 2nd record, a 4:48.1 mile mark. Armstrong outran Milford's Ted Nelson (4:53.0) for his victory.

★ ★ ★

Milford's 880-relay team equaled the field mark of 1:39.5, with Powers, Heintzelman, Munson and Manley running in that order.

Other outstanding performances were Manley's 54.3 for the 440, Shuett's (Milford) 5-7 high jump, and Darling's (North) 23.9 for the 220.

Waterford clinched its 2nd I-L baseball win, with a big, five-run 3rd inning. Neither club had scored up to that time, but Waterford's five counters offset three Walled Lake also collected in the same frame. Four singles, by Jim Hoke, Mike Giannini, Wendy Meyer and Jim Sholts did the trick. Giannini scored the eventual winning run.

Each club scored again in the 5th.

Jim Paschke was winning hurler, Galland the loser.

Skipper, John Studt's triple was the only extra-base hit. Waterford had eight hits, Walled Lake 9.

Illinois Takes Big Ten Lead

By The Associated Press

Illinois took over first place and remained the only undefeated baseball team in the Big Ten Friday by clipping Purdue, 4-3, in 12 innings.

While Illinois was pushing across an unearned run for its triumph, defending champion Minnesota fell into a three-way tie for second place by dropping a 5-3 decision to Wisconsin.

Wisconsin and Michigan State, 5-3 victor over Ohio State, pulled into a tie with Minnesota.

In other games, Northwestern defeated Iowa 6-5 and Michigan edged Indiana, 7-5.

Purdue and Iowa remain the only winless teams in the conference.

Titans End Spring Football Practice

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Detroit ended spring football practices under new coach Jim Miller yesterday with quarterback Tony Hanley in the starring role.

Hanley, a letterman junior, pitched three touchdown passes in the spring game. The game matched the first, third and fifth units against the second, fourth and sixth. Hanley led the odd-numbered Whites to a 40-14 triumph over the even-numbered Reds.

Art Trombly, a junior from Bay City, passed for both the Reds' touchdowns.

Pars Scarce in Land of Sky

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Most of the field in the third annual Land of the Sky women's open golf tournament hoped that a change in courses today would bring a change in their scores.

Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., and JoAnne Prentice of Birmingham, Ala., were the only two in the field of 26 leading women professional golfers able to par the Biltmore Forest Country Club course yesterday.

Their par 71s over the 6,264-yard course was good for the first round leadership in the 54-hole tournament worth $6,000. Today's play switched to the Beaver Lake course. Sunday's finals will be played over the Country Club of Asheville course.

Two strokes back in third place was Kathy Cornelius of Lakeland, Fla., with 73. Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., and Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., were tied at 74 and Bonnie Randolph of Naples, Fla., was one stroke back at 75.

Ruth Jessen of Seattle, Wash., followed with a 76. Grouped at 77 were Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., and Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif.

Finger Injury to Keep Mantle Out 7 to 10 Days

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mickey Mantle has a chip fracture on the tip of his right index finger and may be sidelined for a week or 10 days.

The extent of the injury to the New York Yankees' slugging outfielder was determined yesterday when he took an X-ray at Deaconess Hospital after the team arrived here.

★ ★ ★

Mantle was hit on the finger during batting practice prior to a game with the Chicago White Sox Thursday night.

Cincy Trades Ennis for Hurler, Fielder

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, hunting for pitching help, Friday traded outfielder Del Ennis to the Chicago White Sox for left-hander Don Rudolph and outfielder Lou Skizas.

Redleg officials said Skizas will be assigned directly to a Cincinnati minor league team.

Rudolph, who won 11 games and lost 12 for Indianapolis last season, will report to the Reds Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Ennis, 33, who spent most of his 12 major league years with Philadelphia, has appeared mainly in pinch-hit roles with the Reds this season, getting four hits in 12 appearances. He has a career batting average of .285.

Borrowed Club Produces Ace for City Man

Howard Peterson, well known in Pontiac golfing circles, has been playing the game for 36 years. But it took borrowed clubs for "Pete" to come through with his first hole-in-one.

Peterson and Sam Perna, bowling proprietor of West Side Recreation, were tourning hilly Bald Mountain Golf Club yesterday and Peterson, taking his first swings of the season, was using Perna's clubs.

At the 165-yard 11th hole, Peterson hauled Perna's 5-iron out of the bag and laced his shot to the green and into the cup for the first ace of his long career. "Pete finished the 18-hole round with 75 strokes.

Security for You

Bonus Subject to SS Tax

From L.D. of San Bernardino, Calif.: "My employer usually give the staff a bonus every July 1. The amount depends on the increase in business since the previous July 1. Should the social security tax be deducted from this bonus?"

Yes, It's a bonus based on services rendered and, as such, taxable under the Social Security Law.

From M.A.F. of Bloomington, Ill.: "I've just been told by a neighbor that I might be entitled to a lump-death payment. My wife who had worked as a secretary for years died three years ago and my neighbor says I should have collected the lump-sum. Is this right?"

If you were living with your wife at the time of her death or you paid the funeral expenses, you should have collected the lump sum. But, the Social Security Law requires the application to be filed within two years after death—unless there's a "good cause" for a delay beyond the limit. I suggest you immediately get in touch with your Social Security Office to find out whether it considers you had a good cause for not applying sooner. Normally, the fact that a person doesn't know he's eligible is not considered good cause.

From S. P. of Hibbing, Minn.: "I have a chance to work as a handy man around a resort hotel this summer. The wages will be $75 a week. The job will start June 1 and end Sept. 1. I'm drawing social security and will have no other earnings during the year. If I take the job, will my social security payments be affected?"

No. Your earpings for the 13 weeks you'll be working will total $975. Under the social security, you can earn up to $1,200 a year without any effect on your payments.

From M.R. of Montreal, Canada: "Next fall I'll be a visiting lecturer for a year at the University of Michigan. Will I have to pay the U.S. income tax on my earnings?"

No. The earnings of a Canadian visiting professor are exempt from the U.S. income tax if he's in the United States for less than two years. However, your earnings will be subject to the social security tax.

Halt Is Ordered on Hot Watches

AEC Tell Companies to Stop Distributing Radioactive Dials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three watchmaking companies have been ordered by the Atomic Energy Commission to halt distribution of any luminous dials containing strontium 90.

Strontium 90, deadliest of radioactive fallout, can cause bone cancer if taken into the human system in sufficient quantities.

★ ★ ★

The AEC orders, issued Friday night, said two of the companies—General Time Corp., Westclox Division, La Salle, Ill., and Elgin National Watch Co., Elgin, Ill.—have imported many such dials, have distributed many to the public and still possess some.

The other company, Bulova Watch Co., Flushing, N.Y., was cited for a single watch with a strontium 90 dial. It was trademarked Westfield, transferred to a Louisburg, N.C. jeweler and sold to someone in 1955, the AEC said.

An AEC spokesman said in general a watch with a dial containing strontium 90 would not be more hazardous than the more common ones that have radium compounds to provide luminosity.

But, he said, in some circumstances they might be more dangerous — if the wearer kept it on while he slept and slept with his arm over his face near his eyes, for instance.

Foreign Trips Increase 13 Per Cent

Americans Trot on Globe at Record Rate During Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans scurried about the globe at a record rate during the 12 months ending March 31.

A report just released by the State Department's Passport Office shows that 891,748 Americans were permitted to go abroad during the period. This was 13 per cent over the previous 12-month period.

The figures included both new applications and renewals.

Of the major occupational categories, the skilled worker was most traveled during the first quarter of 1959. But the housewife was close behind — probably because many went with their husbands.

In the same quarter, pleasure trips accounted for most of the flow (76,934 persons) and personal business ran second (68,188). Travel for the government came next (32,302).

MORE FEMALES

Females outnumbered men by nearly 2,000 during the quarter. The largest number of travelers fell in the 20-29 age group.

Young people are traveling more, too, according to comparative figures over the past three years. From January through March of this year, 11.7 of the passport recipients were under 20.

In those three months, the number of globe-trotters from the Northeast and Pacific areas increased, but other major regions showed a decline.

The 10 states most heavily represented on the travel lists during the quarter were New York, California, Illinois, New Jersey, Pennsylvana, Ohio, Massachusetts, Michigan, Texas and Connecticut, in that order.

Of the travelers from those 10 states, 77 per cent listed Europe as their first destination. Africa was least visited during the period.

Among those who listed specific countries, France was first choice, followed by order by Italy, Great Britain, Germany, Switzerland and Austria. Russia ranked far down the list.

Brazil was the favorite in the Western Hemisphere, Japan in the Far East.

Young Mental Patient Attacks Priest at Altar

NEW YORK (AP)—A 19-year-old mental patient who had escaped from a Brooklyn mental hospital entered a Roman Catholic Church Friday night and attacked a priest at the altar.

"I wanted to become a Catholic," was the only explanation offered by Harry Reeves, Negro, after he had been subdued. Police charged him with simple assault.

Grand Rapids Judge Retires From Bench

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Judge Thaddeus B. Taylor presided in Superior Court yesterday for the last time before ending a tenure of 26½ years by retirement.

Judge Taylor said he planned to start painting his home next week as the first chore in a year of being free to do as he pleases before studying several offers at hand.

His career covers 34 years of public office. He was elected state representative on the Democratic ticket in the third Kent District, serving in 1911 and 1913. In 1928 he was assistant Kent County prosecutor, serving until his election as superior judge in November, 1932. He remained in the Superior Court post until yesterday.

Sen. McCarthy's Widow Gets $127,000 in Will

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—An estate of approximately $127,000 was left by the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) to his widow Jean. He died on May 2, 1957.

Outagamie County Judge Stanley A. Staidl approved Friday a final accounting of the senator's estate which included personal property of $83,680, insurance $86,558, and interest in jointly held property $9,702.

The total estate amounted to $179,942 but debts and claims came to about $53,000. Mrs. McCarthy is sole heir.

Keeping a Dying Patient Alive Is Wrong—Minister

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—It is just as wrong to keep a dying patient alive by extraordinary medical means as it is to kill, a Presbyterian minister says.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Dr. Carlyle Adams of Rensselaer called it immoral. He saw his father die a painful, lingering death 11 years ago.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Edward L. O'Malley, Roman Catholic chaplin at Brady Hospital in Albany, agreed.

"You have an obligation to use ordinary medical means to prolong life when death approaches," the Catholic chaplin said. "There is no obligation to use extraordinary means. This stems from the natural law."

May Day celebrations brought out the most vitriolic anti-Indian tirades, threatening the imminent possibility of a Chinese-Indian war if New Delhi "expansionists continue to interfere with China's internal affairs."

Detroit's Ingleside Club to Become Rest Home

DETROIT (AP) — The Ingleside Club, a hallowed place where Detroit bluebloods once gathered, has been sold and will be converted into a convalescent home.

The club closed its doors last year because its membership had dwindled as members moved to the suburbs. The membership once totaled 2,000. Ingleside was established in 1914 as a family club.

Among the founders were Henry Ford, Judge Clyde I. Webster, Horace Rackham, Judge Sherman D. Callender, Dean S. S. Marquis and Judge Henry S. Hulbert.

Guided missiles in use today require tires capable of standing up to landing speeds of 346 miles an hour, a considerable advance over the 100 m.p.h. which was normal for nearly all types of aircraft in 1945.

Mackinac Bridge Use Drops Sharply in April

ST. IGNACE (AP)—The number of vehicles crossing the Mackinac Straits Bridge dropped sharply last month compared to April a year ago.

The fewer number of cars and trucks cut bridge revenue by more than $30,000 in April 1959 compared to April 1958.

Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Straits Authority, said the reason for the decline was that Easter and spring vacations fell earlier this year.

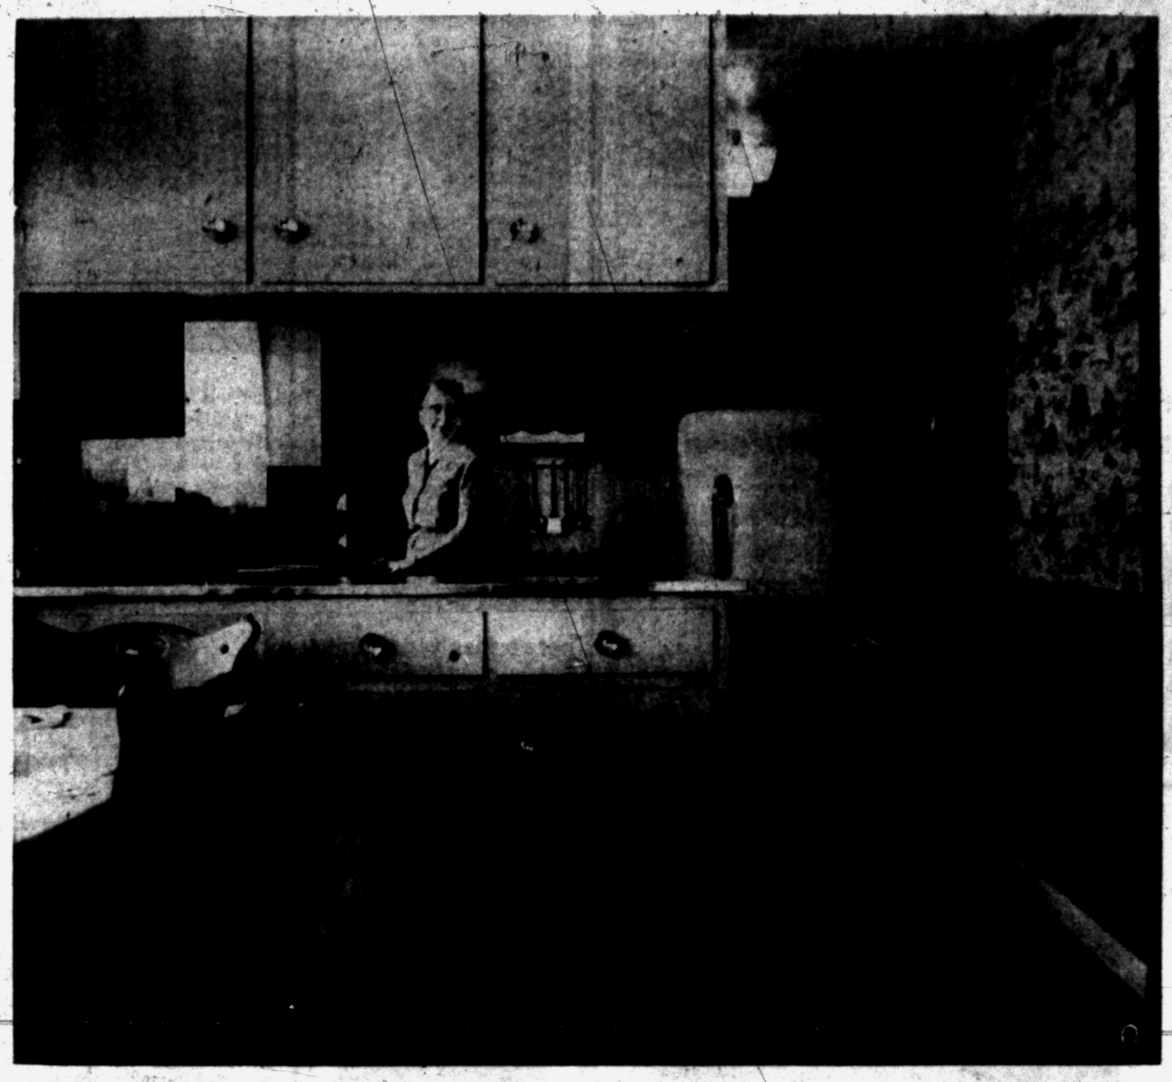
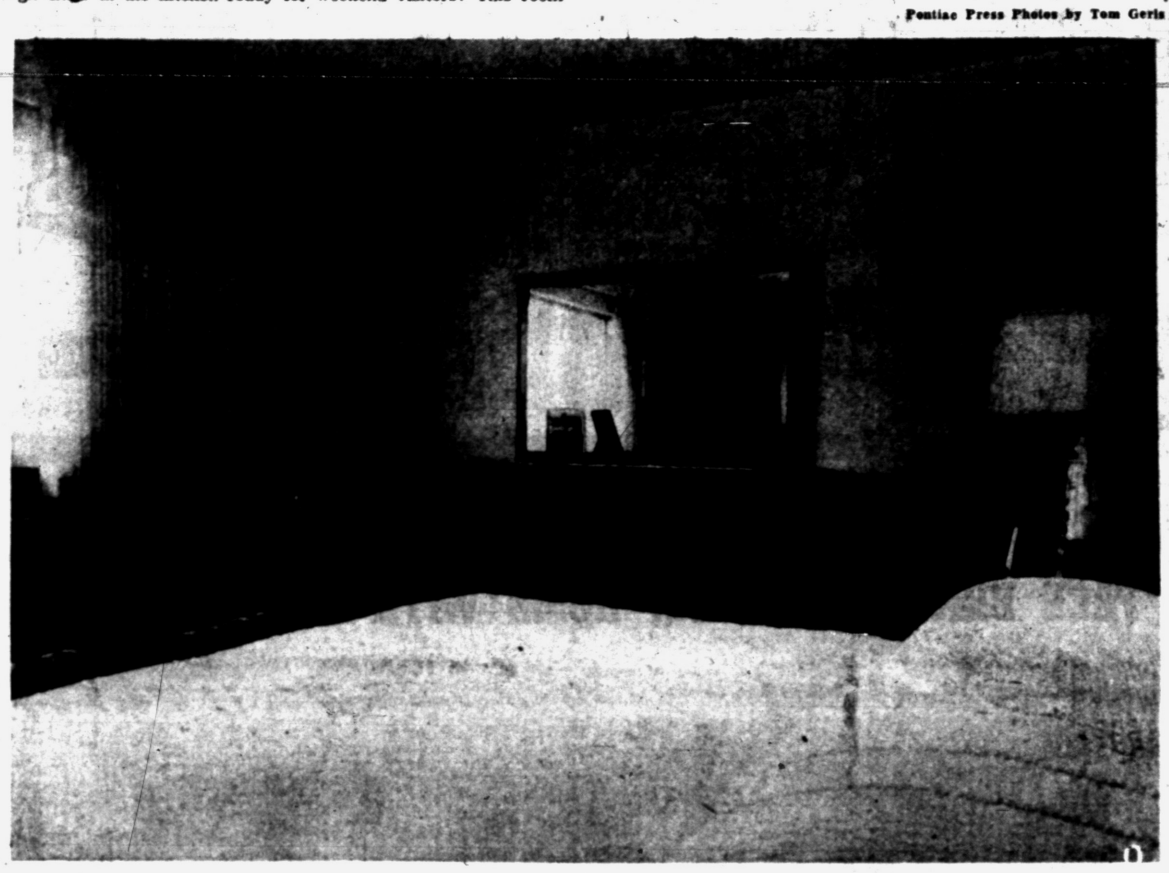
FAMILY PORTRAITS — In the family room, what could be more appropriate than family portraits? Pictures of four of the grandchildren, framed identically, are used over the sofa. See the high chair in the kitchen ready for weekend visitors? This room has the same carpeting as the living room. Walls are pink; draperies are white. The sofa and two chairs are upholstered in a documentary print.

Pontiac Press Photos by Tom Geris

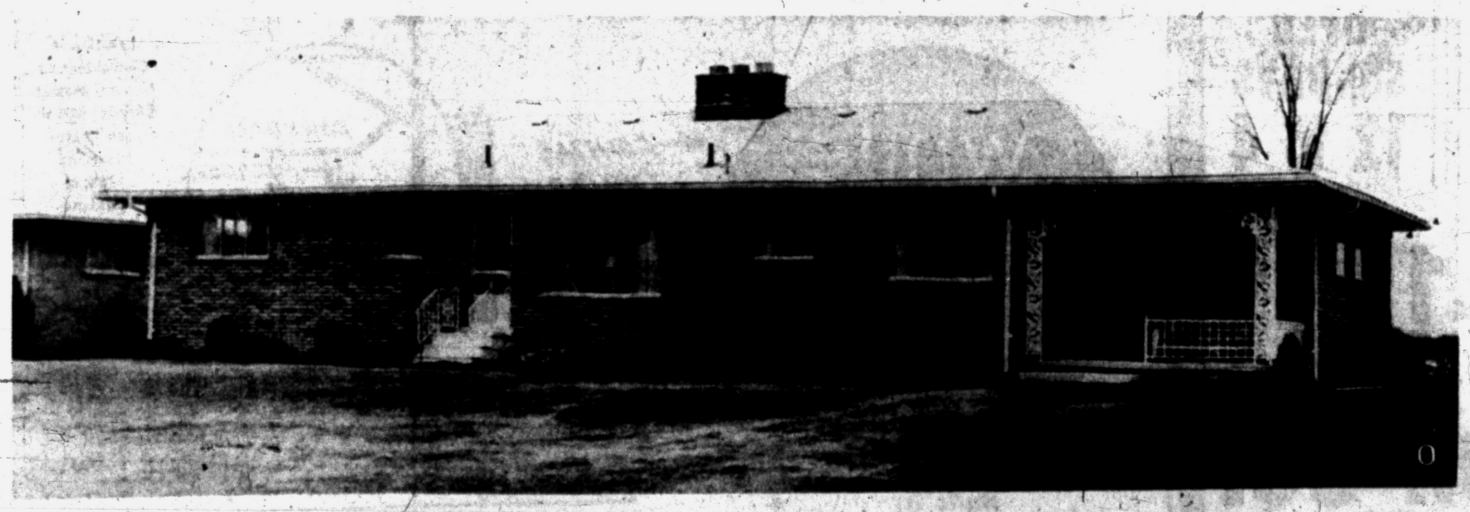


LOTS OF STORAGE — In both the breakfast room and the kitchen Mrs. Brosier has ample storage cupboards. Finished in natural birch with brass hardware they blend well with the pink floor and walls. Her kitchen is not large but has good working space out of the way of traffic through to the family room in the background.



BLACK WALNUT — Black walnut, the darling of our Victorian ancestors, has been used for the furniture in the master bedroom. All handles are carved in the fruit design. The head and foot of the bed are extremely graceful. In the mirror you can see the little shaving chest on top of Mr. Brosier's tall chest of drawers. This room is at the front of the house, has a double exposure.

PLENTY OF ROOM — This large living room with adjoining dining room is large enough to entertain large groups comfortably. Walls and draperies are white; the carpeting is beige. All the color comes from the upholstered furniture and from the beautiful wood-en pieces. The two chairs in the bay window are aqua. The sofa is gold. In the rear you can see the cherry Jackson press which is one of the Brosiers' choicest possessions.



DOUBLE-FACED — The William D. Brosiers' home has a Westlawn address but is also very much in evidence from Motorway. This is the rear or Motorway side. White lacy wrought iron is used on the little rear porch as it is on the front porch. The exterior is pinky red Clippert brick. Using a plan from The Pontiac Press, the Brosiers did some of the building themselves, sub-contracted the rest of it.

Your Neighbor's House

Brosiers Have Room for Grandchildren

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

From time to time The Pontiac Press publishes house plans other than its House of the Week series. One of these, clipped from May 5, 1956 home section pages, was the plan used by the William D. Brosiers to build their home on Westlawn. They made only minor changes in the design drawn by Rudolph A. Matern.

After their two sons and two daughters had gone from home, the Brosiers felt lost in their old house. A decision to build a home facing the Pontiac Golf Course gave them a new interest.

"We never had so much fun in our lives," Mrs. Brosier says. She adds that they learned a lot as they did some of the work themselves or subcontracted parts. They'd do it again.

The attractive ranch home is pinky red clippert brick with trim. Lacy wrought iron columns are used on both back and front porches. The back of their home faces Motorway and offers as attractive a facade as the front.

Outside of the upholstered pieces, all their furniture came from Gatlinburg, Tenn., and is custom made. For years the Brosiers have spent vacations in this mountainous area and have learned to know and enjoy the craftsmen working there.

Again quoting from Mrs. Brosier: "We never shop alone for anything. So we always end up buying what he (Mr. B) wants." Most feminine readers will feel a kinship with Mrs. Brosier.

The bay window in the living room has small panes of glass, contrary to what was specified in the original plans. The Brosiers never know when a stray golf ball might come through the window and it's far simpler and cheaper to replace a small pane of glass than a whole picture window.

White, floor-length draperies have a gold design in the material. The walls are white. All doors in the house are African mahogany. The carpeting is a beige textured floor covering.

The ledge rock fireplace is small, the stone mantel narrow. There is a slate hearth, brass fittings and a broom from Tennessee. Three long pictures above the mantel depict different seasons.

In the far corner is a grand piano. Just inside the door from the hall is a curved sofa covered in pale gold brocade. A bookcase of birch is built into the wall above it at one side.

A pair of aqua wing chairs fills the bay. Other upholstered chairs include one rose beige, one deeper rose brown. Next to the fireplace is a small tapestry covered sofa. Tables are all cherry.

The vestibule is slate floored. At one end of the double doored

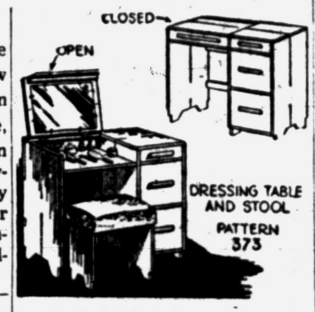
DECORATIVE SHELF — Building this wall shelf with a full size pattern is no problem at all. All that's necessary is to trace the pattern on wood, then saw out the parts and finally put them together. Required materials and easy to understand directions are always included. The cost is practically nothing when you do it yourself. Simple hand tools are all you need. To obtain the full size Beverly Hills Wall shef pattern No. 67 shown here, send 35 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, Calif.

There's Plenty of Wood

Need a new home? Many people do, and it's comforting to know that if all the homes in the nation were to burn down all at once, there is enough lumber growing in the state of Oregon to rebuild every dwelling in the U.S. Multiply that by the amount of timber growing in other parts of the country and you can see that woodwise, the country's in fine shape.



DOUBLE DUTY for a part time bedroom is the function of this dressing table which looks like a desk by day. Just raise the top; mirror and toilet articles are at hand. Pattern 373, which shows every step in making the table and the stool, is 25c. This pattern also is one of five in the Small Furniture Packet 10—all for $1. Orders under $1 add 10 cents service charge.

Moldings Made to Use With Plastic

Many different kinds of moldings have been developed for use with plywood, planks and most "dry wall" materials. The latest is a molding to be used with the installation of plastic laminates.

The backs of the moldings are aluminum. The faces are made of matching plastic, equal in durability to the high pressure laminates. Available in a wide variety of patterns, colors and shapes, the moldings provide a kind of shadow effect to a wall installation.

They eliminate the long vertical or horizontal streaks that often detract from the color and beauty of modern decorative patterns, particularly those with softer tones.

Shelter Water Tank

With a pressure water system, the tank should always be shielded from direct sunlight exposure. Too much heat can cause expansion of the tank as well cause the cold water faucet to emit warm water when turned on.

Red, orange and yellow are all "warm" colors. They attract attention, and give the impression of "lighting up" a room.

Flameless Gas Heat May Warm Outdoor Areas

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new flameless gas heating system introduced in garden restaurants here is expected to make such establishments and semi-enclosed home patios and porches comfortable for year-round use.

The heaters, a refinement of those used in drive-in theaters in cold weather, are suspended from the ceiling of a plastic-sided canvas tent. They operate on either natural or propane gas, and eventually may be used to warm building lobby entrances, enclosed swimming pools and the interior of trucks where food products must be kept warm while on the road.

If there's a smudge on the wallpaper, rub over the area LIGHTLY with an art-gum eraser. Don't rub hard; you could damage embossing.

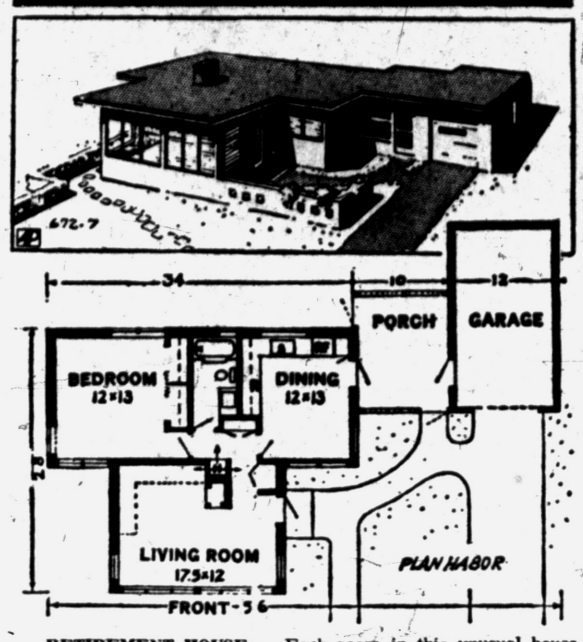
HOMES FOR AMERICANS



RETIREMENT HOUSE — Each room in this unusual house has windows on three sides to catch the maximum breeze. The design offers one bedroom, living room, and kitchen in the main house, with a screened porch and garage at the side. It is HA80R, by Architect Jan Reiner, New Port Richey, Fla. Square foot area of main house is 672 square feet.

Well-Hit Nail Stops Squeaks

Floor and stair squeaks are usually so easy to silence that it is hard to understand why people never get around to doing it.

The squeaks are caused by loose boards that rub against each other or a nail. Sometimes a floor squeak can be silenced by squirting powdered graphite between the boards with a special, squirt-type dispenser. But a surer and more lasting remedy is to nail the noisy boards to the sub-flooring.

Drive two-inch finishing nails in at an angle, close to the edges of the boards. With a nail set, sink the heads a little below the surrounding surface. Fill in over the heads with plastic wood, building it up a bit above the surface of the boards. When the plastic wood has hardened, sand it down with medium-fine sandpaper. Touch up with paint or shellac to match floor.

A couple of the two-inch finishing nails will usually take care of a squeaky stair tread. Drive the nails at an angle through the tread and into the riser that supports it. Again sink the heads with a nail set and fill in above them with plastic wood. Sand and touch up to match.

Fooling the Eye

A small bedroom can be given an illusion of extra size by paneling the room with panel boards installed vertically to give the effect of height. Also, the ceiling can be covered with beveled siding to give a unique decorative effect. Panel boards and beveled siding come in west coast hemlock, western red cedar or Douglas fir and paneling is available in a variety of patterns.

You Can Cut This Plan to Fit Your Budget

coat closet has big brass knobs in the center of each door. On the floor is a small hooked rug. At one side a maple bench has an intricately woven corn husk seat.

Windows in the dining room look out on the small front porch. But adequate light streams into this room from the wall of windows in the breakfast room next to it. The gate-legged table, pushed back against the wall, can be stretched to accommodate all the children, their mates and the 10 grandchildren.

A large tea cart with drawers stands at one side, ready to be wheeled anywhere for refreshments. But the commanding piece of furniture in this room is the Jackson Press on the opposite wall. Made of cherry, like the rest of the furniture in these two front rooms, it holds china, silver and linen. A press in this sense does exactly that by definition.

There's birch wainscoting in the breakfast room with documentary print paper in pink and gray above it. The floor is pink tile. Curtains are semi-sheer and white.

The breakfast table and chairs are maple. In one corner is a cherry muffin rack which the Brosiers use for plants. A storage counter separates the area from the kitchen.

Walls in the kitchen are pink. Counter tops are white with pink and gray "squiggles." Cupboards are birch with brass hardware. Next to the wall oven is a work counter with storage built around it. Black trivets stand out sharply against the pink walls.

SECOND FIREPLACE

Between the kitchen and the bedroom area is the family room. The carpeting in here is the same as in the front rooms. There's a Roman brick fireplace set back to back with the living room one. This one has a raised hearth. The wall above is paneled in birch.

Built-in bookcases and storage shelves next to the fireplace hold mementoes shipped to the Brosiers from their Army son in Germany.

Walls are pink, rayon draperies are white. The wall above the sofa has four studies of the grandchildren, all framed alike. This sofa and two chairs are upholstered in a documentary print material.

All the bedrooms have natural oak floors. The back room is known as the guest room. Here the walls are pale, pale green. Curtains and heirloom type bedspread are off-white.

At present the maple furniture is the lightest gold in color. It will darken in time as will the handsome cherry desk in the hall. All this furniture has beautiful detail work on it.

In the middle bedroom the furniture is pine. This room belongs to the grandchildren when they come to stay overnight at Grandma's.

The Brosiers' bedroom has two exposures. Gold striped curtains hang at the windows. On the floor there are flowered hooked rugs.

Their furniture is black walnut and includes a big square bedside table as well as a chest on a chest. There is a tiny shaving mirror with drawer below on top of the latter. All drawer pulls are carved in the fruit design.

There's plenty of room for the large upholstered chair in one corner. In the opposite corner is a small portable TV set. This room has its own bath.

Never Paint Ladders Protect With Preservative

There are dozens of places in the home where a little paint will serve as a safety reminder. But there's one article on which paint should not be used—and this, too, is a safety measure.

Don't paint a wooden ladder. Use linseed oil or some other clear preservative. Paint will hide cracks that might develop later and thus prevent you from getting advance notice that the ladder is becoming unsafe.

Stone Returns to Favor Again

The Stone Age is back. Persons can spot it cropping up around homes, both indoors and outdoors. Natural stone veneers now are processed in a broad range of muted colors ranging from charcoal gray to light blues, pinks and golds.

Cutting methods make colorful stones available in thin lightweight slabs. And the man with that poor aching back will be happy to know these are easy for him to install as interior walls, floors, room dividers, as well as in conventional fireplace designs.

Texture interest also is important in stone for decorating, the Building Stone Institute points out. There is a wide choice of stone surfaces, ranging from smooth to heavily ribbed effects, so that an interior stone wall can provide dramatic contrast to grained wood paneling or strongly textured decorative fabrics.

Modern stone veneers come in varied precut shapes and sizes. According to the institute this makes the cost of this material no more than that of fine wood or first-grade brick.

Popular types of stones for interior as well as exterior decoration use include blue stone, flagstone, quartzite, slate, marble, granite, limestone, travetine and sandstone.

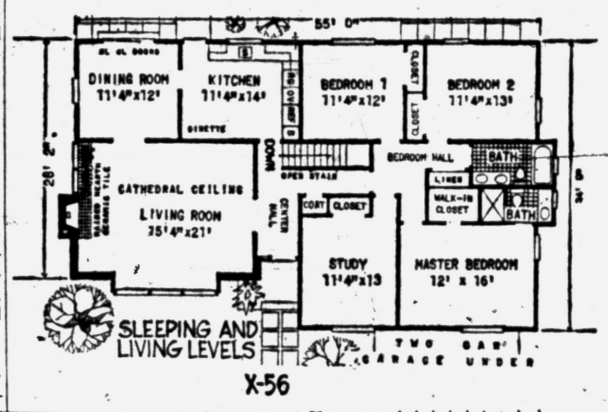
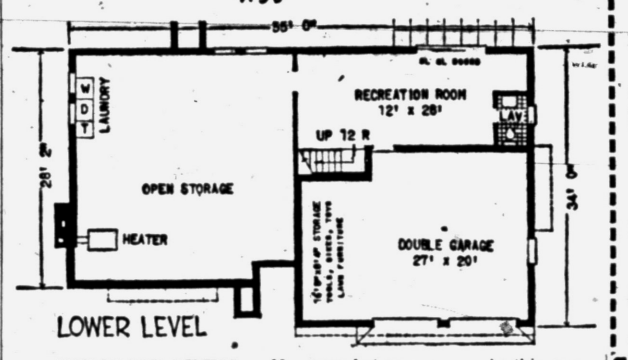
Besides stone, all the equipment needed for building a decorative wall or room divider is a trowel and a package of mix cement. Add water to a ready mix cement to make a smooth paste and spread generously. Set stones in place; then wipe off residue.

Business firms in the U. S. have increased in proportion to the population so that today there are about 38 for each 1,000 of population, compared to 21 back in 1900.

IDEAL FOR A SMALL LOT — Behind the modern bay window lies a treasure of features unique in this four-bedroom house. To keep clutter reduced to a minimum, the architect has placed a recreation room, complete with its own lavatory, behind the two-car garage. Placing the garage on a lower level cuts down costs, and makes possible generously-proportioned rooms in the house itself.





ONE FLOOR LIVING — No steps between rooms in this one-story authentic ranch house, designed for a big and busy family. A center hall divides the living from the sleeping areas, and the floor plan offers peace and privacy for all.

Ranch Home Permits Privacy for Residents

By DAVID L. BOWEN

Peace at a budget price is assured in this authentic one-story ranch house, which frankly recognizes the need for uncluttered space and privacy for a large family.

Halls have returned unashamedly here, to separate the living from the sleeping area, and to offer bedroom privacy. Walls don't move or disappear. Doors are firmly in place. And through an abundance of glass, rooms look out at the world, not at each other.

This House of the Week, X-56, contains 1770 square footage, evenly divided between living and sleeping sectors. A cathedral-ceilinged living room, dining room and kitchen are to the left of the center hall.

To the right are bedrooms galore, and of ample proportions. Four or more children can be housed comfortably in these three nearly square rooms, each of which is large enough to accommodate two children.

One strategically located off the center hall, can double as daytime office or study. The master bedroom, with its own bath, features a walk-in closet.

DOORS OF GLASS

Glass abounds in the living room, with a giant bay window in the front of the room, and a floor-to-ceiling stretch of glass next to the fireplace. Light pours into the dining room through sliding glass doors, which open on a dining terrace.

And down below in the recreation room, just behind the lower-level garage, there's a repeat version of the sliding glass door to open on an outdoor play place.

The double garage is a superb space- and cost-saver, tucked as it is under the bedroom section of the house. Bonus addition is the space alongside the cars for bicycle racks, and storage of toys, tools and lawn furniture. Adjacent is an open storage area where laundry equipment is installed.

FOR CHILDREN

The thoughtful architect, Alfred H. Ryder, has given due consideration to children's affinity for dirt. There's a lavatory off the recreation room, and the home-bound child can rid himself of mud and dust—and his ports equipment—before going upstairs to the house proper.

Quiet is assured in the bedroom area by some interesting devices. A small vestibule leads into the master bedroom. And a wall of closets separates two of the other bedrooms. Again, the invaluable center hall acts as a noise insulator.

To gain added space for the bathrooms, one of which features a double vanitory, the architect extended their outside wall two feet beyond the house's main wall, and found that this projection gave variety to the house's lines.

Overall dimensions of the house are 55' by 34', so the house can fit comfortably on a lot with a 75' front.

ROCHESTER MEADOWS — This is the new model home on Elizabeth street in Rochester. Containing three bedrooms, large family kitchen and ceramic tile baths, these brick homes are built on lots 60 feet or wider. Other features are garbage disposal, Formica counter tops and paved side drive. White Brothers of Waterford are the developers. Both vet and FHA financing are available.

We Pay Our Bills

U. S. homeowners are good financial risks. Only 2.23 per cent of homeowners failed to meet mortgage payments during the 1958 recession. Many homeowners actually enhanced the value of their homes last year by adding rooms built of fire-resistant gypsum board and fiberboard ceiling tiles. Others made improvements with asphalt shingles and asbestos sidings.

TREASURE TROVE — No casual observer would know that part of this smooth-finished paneled wall of Douglas fir conceals a cozy table for two. It's all a trick of design. Touch a secret latch and the wall panel pulls down. Ideal for dining, cards, or for a small buffet.

Rochester Gets New Subdivision

In Rochester a four and a half million dollar building project is now under way. Sixty acres of land, all within the village limits, are involved. When completed, this area will have 175 homes, 86 apartments and a commercial addition to the downtown shopping district.

Rochester Meadows, the first development, consists of 90 three-bedroom brick homes now under construction. Paved streets, city sidewalks and paved drives are included in the price of the house.

The furnished model on Elizabeth street is open to the public daily. Engineering work is progressing on the remainder of the development.

Upon completion, University drive (Fifth street) will be extended eastward across Paint Creek and will join the subdivision. White Brothers of Waterford are handling the development and sales.

Floor Care Gets Easier With Improved Finishes

Experts in the paint, varnish and lacquer industry never cease in their efforts to discover improved formulae for the industry's products. The latest in floor wax provides a light colored floor polish with the highest gloss, extreme toughness, as well as resistance to water and to slipping. It requires no polishing and is easily applied. The long, tedious back-breaking technique once the bane of housewives need be no longer the dread in a spring housecleaning.

For helpful information on floor care write to the National Paint, Varnish arnd Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Ave., N. W., Washington 5, D. C., for a copy of "Step On It Pridefully." Enclose 10 cents in coin to cover postage and handling.

Luminous Paint

Paint light switch plates in danger areas, such as at top of stairs, with luminous paint, or outline with luminous tape. That might keep someone from taking a header in the middle of the night.

Room Location Can Key Rug Color

The location of a room in which carpet is to be used may often be a clue for color selection.

★ ★ ★

Rooms which get a great deal of natural light and sun—those on the south or west side of a home — could be complemented with cool carpet colors. Soft greens, blues or green-gold shades offset glare and balance the natural lighting of such a room.

Rooms which are just the opposite—receiving less natural light or located on the north—might need the balance of a warm color. Bright, warm shades such as gold, red or melon help to make such a room seem cozier and more livable.

★ ★ ★

The range of carpet colors today is so broad that just the right tone can be picked.

Dag Can't See U. N. in Berlin

Says Sound Thinking Bars Military or Civil Political Authority

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold said today practical considerations virtually bar the setting up of either a U.N. military or civilian political authority in Berlin.

He made the statement in a speech prepared for delivery here in which he stresssed also the advantages as he saw them of holding an East-West summit conference within the framework of the U.N. Security Council.

Hammarskjold spoke at a meeting of the Students Assn. He stopped here en route to Geneva, where he will attend a U.N. conference. He will be in Geneva when the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union open their conference on Berlin and Germany on May 11.

He said there was no reason for ihm to prophesy as to whether a summit conference would be held, but he recalled that when such a meeting was discussed last year, the intention was to have it "within, or in intimate connection with the Security Council."

★ ★ ★

He said that should present plans develop in the same direction, it would mean that the negotiations would take place against the background of the U. N. Charter which stresses the obligation of finding a peaceful solution to international disputes.

Kennedy Doesn't Fear Opposition From Laborites

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy says he doesn't expect strong labor opposition if he becomes a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960.

He made the statement Friday night in a question-and-answer session at the Los Angeles Press Club.

★ ★ ★

The Massachusetts Democrat was asked if he felt labor would vigorously oppose him because of his labor reform bill.

"I don't think labor is going to exercise a veto over any of the possible candidates mentioned," Kennedy said. "Nor would such a veto stick. I don't think any work I did is going to hurt me."

Kennedy stuck to his previous statements that it is too early to say whether he definitely will be a candidate.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy said he would not enter California's presidential primary if he decided to seek the nomination.

"I consider that Gov. Edmund G. Brown will be the favorite son," he added.

Kennedy said he considered Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri strong possibilities for the Democratic nomination.

Four Children in Year

GENEVA, N.Y. (UPI) — When Mrs. Artis Grady gave birth to twins March 3 she became a mother for the fourth time in a year. On March 23, 1958, she had twin daughters.

HE LOVES THE CHILDREN — Charles Stewart Mott, 83-year-old Flint philanthropist, whose Mott Foundation makes possible much of the city's famous community-school program, is caught in one of his favorite pastimes — mingling with the children of Flint.

Flint Carves Niche in Education

(This is the eighth in a series of articles on Michigan's industrial and cultural achievements written by Michigan newsmen as an introduction to Michigan Week 17-23.)

By JOHN R. DAVIS
Education Writer,
The Flint Journal

FLINT — Long famed as the birthplace of General Motors and one of the world's leading automobile manufacturing centers, Flint is now achieving a position of prominence in the educational world.

This city of 200,000 has a new $25,000,000 college and cultural center, an $8,000,000 municipal center, and a multimillion dollar downtown redevelopment program in progress.

★ ★ ★

The cultural development embraces Flint Junior College, with 3,500 students, a branch of the University of Michigan with an enrollment of 400, a public library, art center, planetarium, community theater, swimming pool and field house all located within walking distance of downtown Flint on a beautifully landscaped campus. Other units are planned.

But Flint has something else which is bringing visitors from all parts of the world. It is a bold concept of total education embodied in what is called "Community Schools."

★ ★ ★

It is not a new concept. It dates back to a time when the public school was the center of community life in pioneer America. It calls for public schools to be open to persons of all ages day and night throughout the year for a wide variety of purposes other than basic education.

The belief is that if a school system is to be really effective it must be concerned not only with book learning but the health, recreation and civic responsibilities of all citizens.

From a more practical viewpoint, Flint educators believe that public school facilities built and maintained by the taxpayers belong to the people and should be available to all.

Keeping school doors open evenings, Saturdays and all summer long also eliminates the need for costly duplication of facilities such as youth and community centers.

Financial soundness of the philosophy is best summarized by Charles Stewart Mott, Flint philanthropist whose Mott Foundation helps make community schools possible:

"You wou'dn't build a factory and let it stand idle hours every day and months at a time."

★ ★ ★

The Mott Foundation channels more than $1,000,000 a year through the Flint Board of Education to help the various community education programs and youth-serving agencies, including a summer camp, big-brother plan for fatherless boys, Stepping Stone Clubs to teach girls to grow into good homemakers, and mothers and children's health and dental centers.

Each school is a youth center, with more than 13,000 members enrolled in the city's Teen Clubs. The schools have community men's and women's clubs, too. Family events are popular, including square dancing, roller skating in gymnasiums and arts and crafts.

Specially trained young men, called community-schools directors, take charge of the after-school and evening programs.

Flint has more than 900 adult education courses, with more than 40,000 enrollments each year. Subjects range from cake decorating to Greek philosophy.

What are the effects of the community schools?

For one thing Flint educators know that when adults get into the schools they're more interested in education and better informed about it. And they're quicker to vote the necessary money to operate schools properly.

★ ★ ★

And the teachers have learned that parents' interest in schools is reflected in greater enthusiasm for learning among the children.

Flint tells its vistors they don't need a Mott Foundation to transform conventional school houses into community education centers. It's estimated if Flint lacked Mott funds the loss could be made up with about two cents a day per taxpayer.

Tito Says His Life Under Stalin Perilous

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito says he had a grimmer time in Moscow during Stalin's purges than he had fighting in World War II.

In war, adds Tito, one at least knows where his enemy is.

★ ★ ★

Tito described his Moscow experiences between the two world wars in an interview carried by the Yugoslav Communist party organ "Komunist."

Tito said he spent most of his time in Moscow studying, and rarely left his hotel in the Komintern building.

★ ★ ★

"I only read," said Tito. "I avoided discussions because the NKVD (secret police) tapped all telephone conversations."

"Perhaps, this attitude," said Tito, "kept me from coming under Stalin's knife."

Hoods in Woods Silence Central Park Drama

NEW YORK (AP)—It was not the masses on the grasses that caused Park Commissioner Robert Moe to ban free Shakespeare performances from Manhattan's Central Park, it was the hoods in the woods, he explained.

Moses left a hospital Friday after a 10-day bout with virus pneumonia and told reporters he banned the performances because of the "muggers, degenerates and pickpockets" who might prey on the audience.

Morals Trial Is Ordered for Leelanau Prosecutor

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Leelanau County Prosecutor Glenn Aylsworth has been ordered to stand trial on morals charges stemming from a complaint by a 15-year-old girl.

Aylsworth, a 34-year-old father of four children, pleaded innocent yesterday before Circuit Judge Charles P. Brown to charges of statuatory rape and indecent liberties. His $3,000 bond was continued. The judge set trial for May 25.

Teamsters Renege; Will Cross NBC Picket Lines

NEW YORK (AP)—The Teamsters Union has switched signals and decided not to back strikers at the National Broadcasting Co.

Failure of other theatrical unions to respect the picket lines of NBC engineers and technicians caused the Teamsters reversal, according to a Teamsters spokesman.

U. S. Postpones 3 Important Shots Into Outer Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the time being, the United States has postponed three important space shots—two probes aimed at Venus and an earth satellite to swing as high as 30,000 miles.

★ ★ ★

Engineering difficulties in both the payload and boost vehicle system was the only reason given Friday for the delay by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

★ ★ ★

The probes at cloud-shrouded Venus had been set for June. Now they'll have to wait at least 18 months, because the planet swings away from earth and won't be in a good position again until mid-January, 1961.

One of the Venus probes was intended to go near the planet and on past it. The other was to be an attempt to put an earthling moon in orbit around the sister planet. Venus has no natural moons of its own.

April Tragic Month on State Highways

EAST LANSING (AP)—April was a tragic month for deaths on the state highways, State Police reported.

★ ★ ★

There were 115 persons killed on Michigan highways last month, 26 more than the 89 total for the same month last year and an increase of 29 per cent.

The high toll snapped a string of sharply reduced death totals the four previous months.

There was a marked increase in both multiple deaths and single deaths in run-off-the-road type accidents.

★ ★ ★

Thirteen multiple death accidents took 33 lives. There were 43 persons killed in run-off-the-road accidents, six more than the combined total of 37 for the first three months of the year.

20,000 Jobs Crying for Skilled Workers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Jobs for more than 20,000 skilled and professional workers went begging last month because of local labor shortages, the U.S. employment service said yesterday.

Govenment economists said there always was a shortage of engineers, nurses, teachers and technical writers even during the depths of the recession. Now that unemployment has dropped under 4½ million, these shortages are getting worse.

580,000 Units Scheduled This Month

High Car Production Level to Continue

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry will produce an estimated 580,000 passenger cars this month.

★ ★ ★

This will continue the higher production level that began in March. It reflects industry expectations that new car demand will mount still higher in the mid-spring period.

In the first four months of 1959 the automakers produced an estimated 2,184,000 passenger cars. May and June volume could provide a six-month total of more than 3,300,000 units. In the first half of 1958 the assembly plants turned out 2,342,000 cars.

The figures are substantially higher than industry experts expected at the start of 1959. Whether they indicate another six million-plus year in output for the industry still is a matter of speculation.

SIX MILLION LIKELY

There is little doubt that with imports, retail sales this year will reach six million units. Sales of imported cars should total about 450,000 to 500,000 units.

Outstanding performers for the year to date have been American Motors and Studebaker-Packard. Their sharp upturn in production and sales reflects the growing demand for the smaller, compact cars.

Both companies have just reported the best three-months operation since mergers of faltering individual concerns brought them into existence five years ago.

★ ★ ★

Optimism is general in the auto industry right now. Many top executives are cautiously raising earlier estimates of this year's total sales. Original estimates of 5½ million retail deliveries are heard only rarely.

When these estimates were offered several months ago they generally included foreign car sales. Now some experts are counting sales of U.S.-built cars this year at up to as high as 5¾ million units.

President John F. Gordon of General Motors Corp. this week pictured a steady increase in annual car sales. By 1965, he said, there will be an annual normal market for 7¼ million new passenger cars. That would be more than the industry has sold in any year so far.

OTHERS SIMILAR

It would be about 80,000 units more than were sold in record-smashing 1955.

Other industry leaders have made somewhat similar predictions for the mid-1960s. In most instances the predictions are based upon expectations of substantial population increases and the growth of multiple car families.

Enlivening the industry competitive picture is the sharpest battle in recent years between Ford and Chevrolet. The two major car makers currently are accounting for about half of all the nation's new car sales.

Chevrolet has a modest lead over Ford Division. But Ford sales have been zooming. Most recent offical figures gave Chevrolet a lead of about 12,000.

The fight will become keener in months ahead. Its result still is far from determined.

U. S. Technicians Threatened in Iraq

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American officials said today that U. S. contractors and point-four technicians in Communist-threatened Iraq have been subjected to increasing harassment and threats in recent months.

One official said technical cooperation programs have been forced almost to a stop. Other sources said U. S. engineers and contractors helping to build roads and dams have run into countless troubles—"in effect, sabotage."

So far, no Americans have been mistreated, they said, but some have been threatened.

"It has fairly serious implications as far as continued commercial operations in Iraq are concerned," one official said.

Spokesman said the trouble is at least partially Communist-inspired but apparently is not a nationwide organized effort.

Says Shah of Iran Seeks to Wed Italian Princess

ROME (AP)—The Shah of Iran will leave Tehran for a European visit Sunday. An Iranian spokesman implied the Shah will seek to overcome religious obstacles to a marriage with Princess Maria Gabriella of Savoy.

The spokesman, Chodjaeddine Chafa, said that a meeting between the Shah and the Italian princess "should not be excluded."

★ ★ ★

"The marriage would be looked upon with pleasure in Iran if religious difficulties can be overcome," he added.

Days of All Faiths

Mother's Day Undergoes Change

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

In a civilization such as ours, predominantly and increasingly industrial, it may at first galnce seem strange that the Christian church should observe a day called Rural Life Sunday.

When this custom began in Gaul in the middle of the fifth century, most of the world's population lived by agriculture. The day's purpose was important even to those who were not farmers for society was simple in structure and even merchants and artisans could easily see their dependence on the farm. Prayers for the tiller, the soil and the seed were obviously relevant to the whole cuture.

Today Rural Life Sunday needs a little more insight and a little more explanation.

Within the last century the world has become a world of city-dwellers. Only a small percentage of the American people are left on farms today, and those who are still there have so taken advantage of scientific and mechanical developments that their life is far different from the lives of farmers of past ages.

Prayer as an essential part of farming has receded as man's inventiveness has advanced. About the only thing the farmer cannot control now is the weather, and perhaps the time is not far off when he will be able to regulate that, too.

MODERN APPLICAT:ON

But the Christian churches, on the fifth Sunday after Easter, go on observing Rural Life Sunday. (Some call it Rogation Sunday.) Indeed, the observance is on the increase.

Why should cityfolk who wouldn't know a cornfield from a hayfield—why should they have a Rural Life Sunday? Because, say the churches, there is more to this than prayers for good crops. It is rooted in man's deepest relationship with God.

No matter how far man may remove himself from the primitive necessity for digging in the soil, no matter how urban his life may be, no matter how wealthy he may become by industrial means, it is all of secondary importance. The fact remains that God created man and put him in a garden.

He has come a long way from the garden, but the garden is still basic. He is still dependent on God's earth for his food, the materials of his home and all his possessions. Even his wealth goes back ultimately to the resources he takes out of the earth. Man has really created nothing.

★ ★ ★

Even our complex modern life still rests upon the fruits of the earth. It is because of this, and because man might forget it, that the churches observe Rural Life Sunday each year.

HOW IT STARTED

Oddly enough, when this annual observance began as Rogation Sunday 1,500 years ago, the soil and the crops figured in it in only a minor way. It came out of a calamity in the town of Vienne, in Gaul.

The town had been struck by earthquakes and fires, and these were followed by looting and rioting. To restore order and to bring his people to their senses the Bishop proclaimed a fast and called upon everyone to pray that they might be restored to a right relationship with God.

The fasting and prayer continued for three days, and as the idea took hold in other towns and countries it developed three main emphases, though not necessarily one for each day. Petitions were made for forgiveness, for protection from disasters and for good crops.

"Rogation" comes from the Latin word "rogare" meaning to pray.

FAMILY WEEK

Each year the first week in May is National Family Week, observed in one way or another by the major faiths in America: Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish. The purpose, obvious in the name, is to emphasize the fundamental importance of spiritual values in the home.

★ ★ ★

Literature produced by the National Council of Churches for its member churches is based on the theme "The Biblical Basis of the Family." The family, says the Council, is not merely a sociological development. The Bible makes clear that it is part of God's plan. Parents are divinely appointed teachers of their children. By their actions and by the values they hold before the children, they are God's representatives.

The marks of a Christian family are love and forgiveness. Thus it is that the home becomes the first school of religion, for it is in the home that the child first experiences in human terms a small measure of the infinite love and unending forgiveness of God.

The Council offers a pamphlet, "The Bible in the Home," which contains Bible readings with suggestions for family discussion for each day of National Family Week.

Michigan Wants U. S. Harbor Funds

WASHINGTON (UP)—Michigan officials asked Congress yesterday for 39½ million dollars for work on the Great Lakes connecting channels and a score of harbor projects.

Keith Wilson, director of the Michigan Waterways Commission, and Dr. Wallace S. Wellman, a member, presented the requests to House and Senate appropriations subcommittees.

The connecting channels request totalled 32 million dollars. Wilson said this is the minimum necessary to complete construction by 1962.

President Eisenhower has budgeted only 27 million dollars for the work in the year beginning next July 1.

Even with a 1962 completion date, Wilson said, the Great Lakes area west of Lake Erie faces a three-year lag in deriving full benefits from the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Estimates place total cost of the channel project at $141,000,000. Wilson noted $94,850,000 remains to be appropriated.

Gun Under Rock 22 Years Found Ready to Shoot

PADUCAH, Ky. (UP)— Ralph Taylor hid a rifle under a rock in Colorado 22 years ago. He said he found it recently in operating condition.

Taylor said he was hunting deer out of season in 1937 and concealed the weapon when a state game warden approached.

Returning home from his visit he described the location to a brother-in-law, Earl Stucker of Paonia, Colo., but Stucker never could find the gun.

Taylor succeeded when he visited Stucker again. A cocoon at the end of the barrel had plugged the bore and prevented it from rusting.

Perfect Day for Swim, Says Navy Suit Tester

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (UP)—"A perfect day for a swim—I was warm as toast," quipped Lt. Joseph Hood.

The thermometer showed otherwise—the Atlantic's waters a chilly 39 degrees. But Hood was one of 25 Navy fighter pilots who swam through the surf to be picked up by helicopters in a test of a new anti-exposure suit for pilots.

Solons Propose Cut in State Car Fleet

LANSING (AP)—A proposal for tight legislative controls over car purchases has come into the Senate with Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) as chief sponsor.

★ ★ ★

Only six state officials expressly would be authorized state cars — the Governor, attorney general, state treasurer, auditor general, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction.

★ ★ ★

The bill calls for putting out of business the State Motor Transport Division, which operates a large state motor pool in Lansing. Its property, supplies and equipment would have to be disposed of by June 30, 1960.

Bill Asks Access to Local Records

LANSING (AP) — A second right-to-know bill is up for consideration in the Legislature.

Rep. William Romano (D-Van Dyke) sponsored both of them.

A measure introduced yesterday would assure public access to all public meetings of school boards, college governing boards and local governing bodies. No final action could be taken at any closed meeting.

★ ★ ★

The measure would permit investigations behind closed doors, however.

Romano's first bill was limited to school boards and would permit executive sessions.

State Lawmakers Ask Curbs on Teenagers

LANSING (AP)—If you're under 21, you couldn't go into a bar.

If you're under 18, you couldn't buy explosives or drive a car after dark without special permission.

Those were restrictions proposed by three lawmakers yesterday in bills designed to keep teenagers out of trouble.

Real estate provisions, however, were not so strong.

★ ★ ★

Other new House bills would:

Outlaw sale of hair cutting kits, shears and clippers to nonprofessionals in a move to halt spread of infectious diseases (Currie).

Allow motorists to select numbers for their license plates on payment of a $10 fee (Wozniak).

Allow state employes to collect retirement benefits after 25 years of service. Present law sets a minimum age requirement of 55 (RAAP).

Create a full employment commission to analyze unemployment problems, make suggestions for improving job opportunities and perform related functions (Ryan).

Channel one per cent of total gas tax revenues to the Michigan Waterways Commission, boosting its gas tax income by about a million dollars a year (Mielock).

License private detectives and investigators (Clarkson).

Roberts Wants School Change

Pontiac Legislator Asks Aid Based on $5,000 Per Teacher

LANSING — Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-Pontiac) Friday called for distribution of school aid on the basis of $5,000 for every full-time teacher in the local district.

★ ★ ★

Present distribution is figured on the size of the school populations and the state equalized valuation of property in the district.

Bills to legalize off-track betting, turn over the State Fair Grounds to the City of Detroit and establish a new formula for distribution of school aid also have come into the Legislature.

They were three of more than 150 measures lawmakers dumped into the hands of legislative bill clerks yesterday and Thursday.

Rep. Frank D. Williams (D-Detroit) proposed to transfer the multi-million-dollar State Fair Ground in Detroit to the city for use as a public park and other recreational purposes. The state, however, would continue to make use of it.

Rep. John C. Morris came in with a civil rights bill, the third introduced in the House. Basically, it would follow the lines of a Democratic bill extending the authority of the Fair Employes Practices Commission to cover discrimination in housing, schools and public accommodations.

Accountants Hit AF's Spending

Say New Academy's Cost Doubled, With Congress Uninformed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The General Accounting Office accused the Air Force yesterday of running up the cost of its new academy to almost double the original 139 million dollar estimate — all without telling Congress.

The head of the agency, Comptoller General Joseph Campbell, said the Air Force already has spent or obligated 197 million dollars for the Colorado Springs academy and that the final price tag will be almost 270 million dollars.

"The Air Force has not disclosed these facts to Congress," Campbell said in a report.

Chairman Chet Holifield (D-Calif) of the House military operations subcommittee promptly ordered a staff analysis of the GAO report to determine whether a congressional investigation was needed.

Campbell said his auditors, who act as congressional watchdogs on federal spending, found the Air Force had plans for 72 million dollars worth of academy facilities over and above the 197 million dollars already spent or obligated.

These plans, he said, included a $5,225,000 hotel and $2,300,000 football stadium.

Campbell focused particular criticism on a projected $24,700,000 academy airfield. He said congressional approval was not obtained for the project and it has been "questioned repeatedly" at congressional hearings.

He said about $3,500,000 already had been spent for the 2,600-acre airfield site even though official reports and records indicate it "may have limited capabilities and may create an air traffic problem."

NEW RETAIL OUTLET — The Victor Paint Co., with headquarters in Detroit, has inculded Pontiac in its $500,000 expansion program, which has resulted in nine new stores. This is the new Pontiac store that is celebrating its grand opening this weekend on N. Saginaw street.

Open Victor Paint Store in Pontiac Yesterday

The Victor Paint Co., of Detroit, opened a new retail paint and wallpaper center yesterday at 158 N. Saginaw St.

The new store is the company's 10th retail outlet in Southeastern Michigan and the first to open in Pontiac.

Thirteen months ago, the 29-year-old firm had a single Detroit outlet known principally to professional painters and decorators, with a total of 20 employes.

During the much publicized "recession" of last year the company began an expansion program which has seen the payroll increased more than five-fold, making the company to the largest independent paint and wallpaper retail firm in the Midwest.

The new Pontiac outlet is designed to provide a bright, cheerful atmosphere. The building has been completely remodeled and modernized.

★ ★ ★

Store hours are from 9 to 9 daily and 9 to 6 Sundays. The store is staffed only by sales personnel who are experts in the paint and wallpaper fields, with Chuck McCullough as manager.

Free parking for customers is provided at a lot adjacent to the new store.

Haircuts Cut Crime?

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Judge Walter R. Sohn of Dauphin County Court says that almost every boy in his court in any serious crime in the past year has needed a decent haircut.

Says Daily Paper Taken for Granted

LANSING (UPI) — People take their daily newspapers for granted, Michigan journalistic students were told last night by a veteran newspaperman.

James L. Kilgallen of United Press International said the 7 and 10 cent daily paper is a better buy than the 25 cent news magazine.

Kilgallen, one of America's top reporters, said newspapers are better today than at any time in the last 50 years.

"We are prone to criticize ourselves but I don't see why we should," he said. "Our newspapers are tops. They are cleanly written, suitable to be read in any home. This is more than can be said of many books and some of the magazines that can be found on the news stands."

Bought From Peddler in 1924

Makes Killing on Stocks

DETROIT (AP)—George Alfred Smith, a thrifty gentleman's gentleman, settled his case with the U.S. government Friday and a lot of folks who heard his testimony wished they had bought American Telephone and Telegraph Co. stock in 1924 when salesmen peddled it from door to door.

★ ★ ★

"Nobody ever gave me a tip," said Smith whose employers included the financier J. Pierpont Morgan. "They'd say, though, George, do you have any shares of such and such a stock."

"I would say no and then they'd say, that's too bad—it's a very well-managed company."

Smith, 71, entered a plea of no contest before federal Judge Clifford O'Sullivan and was fined $6,500 for not paying enough income tax for 1952. Four other income tax charges against him were dismissed after he paid $16,469 in back taxes and penalties.

★ ★ ★

Smith, a butler for Wesson Seyburn, a Detroit financier, makes about $4,000 a year in salary.

When a bystander estimated he must have realized $200,000 in the last 10 years on the stock market, Smith replied cooly: "It would be more like $400,000."

Smith, impeccably attired in gray, peered mildly through horn-rim glasses as he told of remembering when AT&T was knocking on doors trying to sell stock. "I have quite a bit of that," he said.

Trump estimated the cost of the project at several million dollars. He said the addition will mean increased employment when the 1961 model run begins next year. Fisher Body currently has 5,300 workers.

Cuba's No. 2 Man Fined in U. S. Court

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cuba's No. 2 leader was fined $1,500 in Federal Court Friday for shipping arms to Fidel Castro's revolutionary forces.

Armando Lora pleaded guilty with eight others to violating the United States Neutrality Act. Lesser fines were imposed against the others. Lora could have forfeited his $3,500 bail without further risk but he flew to Los Angeles to answer the charge because:

★ ★ ★

"I have the greatest respect for the laws of the United States and for its democratic processes. I would not have liked to remain a fugitive of justice in the eyes of the American people."

★ ★ ★

Lora's official title is technical sub-secretary of the administrative premiership. He is second only to Castro in the Cuban cabinet.

School Dance Private to Keep Out 2 Negroes

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Principal Ed Sanders and his wife will act as hosts for Central High School's annual junior-senior dance tonight a by invitation only affair which will exclude the school's only Negro student.

★ ★ ★

Traditionally the dance is held at the school with student funds. Any member of the junior and senior classes may attend if the student has paid his class dues.

★ ★ ★

Sanders said the dance was changed to a private affair Friday after 17-year-old Gus Roberts, the school's only Negro student and a member of the senior class, announced his intention of attending the dance with a date. Gus has been at Central since 1957 when limited desegregation was started in Charlotte schools.

Police Nab Robber of Memphis Bank

MEMPHIS, Mich. (AP)—The telephone rang in police headquarters and Muriel Clark, Memphis' only policeman, went on a wild goose chase.

While he was headed to a make-believe accident yesterday, the Memphis branch of the National Bank of Richmond was robbed of $2,645.

A few minutes later, pursuing state police arrested John P. Cotter, 28 of Detroit, at a roadblock near Yale.

They said Cotter was driving a car stolen earlier yesterday at Port Huron. Arresting officers found money and a sawed off shotgun in the car.

★ ★ ★

Police said Cotter was the one who called Clark before the robbery and reported the fictitious accident.

The gunman covered Martin G. Snyder, 63, bank manager, with a shotgun and said: "Start shoving the money out and hurry it up."

Memphis is in St. Clair County. Cotter, a father of two, told police he was destitute. He said he hadn't had steady work since January 1958 when he was laid off at an auto plant.

City Post Office Retires Employe After 32 Years

A Pontiac Post Office employe for 32 years and 10 months, Reuben B. Ellison announced his retirement this week.

Ellison, of 18 Eddy Ct., was hired as a regular substitute clerk at the post office on July 1, 1926. He has been wholesale stamp clerk for the past 4½ years.

He was presented with a certificate of recognition from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield by Pontiac Postmaster Robert C. Miller at a ceremony in his honor Thursday afternoon.

Ellison was also honored with letters and certificates of merit by fellow employes in the Post Office Council and his employers. He is married and the father of two sons.

Herter to See Ike on Paris Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter flew in today from Western strategy talks in Paris and said he will report to President Eisenhower at Gettysburg this morning.

Herter called his talks with the foreign ministers of Britain, France, and West Germany "very successful" in laying out the Western position for negotiating with the Soviet Union at Geneva, Switzerland, on German problems.

"Both in spirit and in substance," he said, "we preached complete agreement on a highly important Western position. This should assist us greatly in making progress at Geneva, if the Soviet Union demonstrates an honest desire to negotiate."

★ ★ ★

Herter's plane landed at Washington airport. He told newsmen he was going from the airport to the White House where he would board a helicopter for the brief flight to Gettysburg. The President is spending the week end at his farm there.

Eleanor Powell Sues Glenn Ford for Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—"I am sure Glenn will be much happier alone. He isn't happy now."

So says Eleanor Powell, explaining why she sued Glenn Ford for divorce Friday. Her 16-year marriage to the movie boxoffice king had been considered one of Hollywood's happiest.

Paper Criticizes Philip

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Mirror has criticized Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, for staying away from home too much. Yesterday it reported his return from a four-month world tour under this headline: "The Duke (the Prince) Visita Britain."

Iron Curtain Smashers Parents of 11-Pound Boy

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Harold and Olga Connolly, Olympic champions who overcame Iron Curtain red tape to get married, have a baby.

★ ★ ★

The couple's first child — an 11-pound, 3-ounce boy named Mark — was born Friday in Santa Monica Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Connolly, 28, an American hammer thrower, met the former Olga Fikotova, 26, a Czechoslovakian discus thrower, at the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. They overcame cold war objections and married in Prague March 28, 1957.

Connolly, formerly of Boston, is a junior high school teacher here.
