OAKLAND UNIVERSITY

In 1957, the late Alfred G. and Matilda Wilson donated $2 million and their 1,500-acre Meadow Brook estate to Michigan State University to establish a college in Oakland County.

Oakland University was founded in 1957 as a branch campus of MSU, with 570 first-year students. By the mid-1960s, it had evolved into a medium-sized university and in 1970 became an independent, state-assisted university. It now offers more than 70 undergraduate programs and more than 30 graduate programs, and enrolls about 12,000 students.

OU's distinct instructional programs — the college of Arts and Sciences, School of Economics and Management, School of Engineering and Computer Science, School of Health Sciences, School of Human and Education Services and School of Nursing — offer a diverse curricula of general education and career preparation courses. Virtually all of these courses are taught by faculty members, not teaching assistants.

The Honors College, a division of the College of Arts and Sciences, meets the educational needs of highly motivated students. The Division of Continuing Education meets the needs of nontraditional adult learners through evening and extension programs.

Academic support facilities include such notable entities as the Eye Research Institute, the only major eye research center in the United States not affiliated with a medical school; the Meadowbrook Health Enhancement Center, which provides health maintenance/health improvement and cardiac rehabilitation community outreach programs; and the Center for Robotics and Advanced Automation, a unit of the school of Engineering and Computer Science that utilizes high technology manufacturing methods.

And OU's professional arts programs annually attract thousands to the campus. OU has received national recognition and local kudos for its Meadow Brook Theatre, Meadow Brook Art Gallery, Meadow Brook Hall and Meadow Brook Music Festival, the summer home of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

OU is located 25 miles north of Detroit, in the small town of Rochester. OU's modern campus, which houses the university's many academic and public service programs, is located on a beautifully wooded site — much of it still undeveloped.

OU ATHLETIC STAFF

DR. PAUL HARTMAN

Athletic Director

The Oakland University athletic programs have risen to heights of nosebleed proportions under the guidance of Dr. Paul Hartman. This is not a new feat for the veteran athletic administrator. The eight-year chief of Pioneer athletics has taken four different athletic programs to new levels of success in an administrative career that has spanned four decades.

The OU athletic program has flourished under Hartman. Last year three winter teams placed in the top four nationally, including the champion women's swimming unit. Those three, men's swimming, women's basketball, and the women's swimmers, won GLIAC titles, and were joined by the soccer team in post-season play. In 1988-89 Oakland equalled its best finish ever in the President's Cup, the all-sports trophy in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The Pioneers finished third in the Cup standings with just 10 league sports, and had the highest average of points per sport of any GLIAC school. OU won four GLIAC Championships that year, and eight of the 10 league teams finished no lower than third. Men's and women's swimming won league titles and finished in the top three nationally. Women's basketball and women's volleyball also won league crowns, with the hoopsters advancing to the NCAA tournament. Soccer, Oakland's only non-GLIAC sport, was defeated in the national semi-finals.

Hartman has made a number of changes since arriving at OU. The department has brought back a Varsity "O" club for former athletes, brought back baseball as a varsity sport, and made a number of improvements in the Lepley Sports Center, ranging from the refurbishing of the locker rooms and equipment area to renovation of offices and playing facilities. The department has also added the Pioneer Lounge, which is used for conferences and athletic receptions.

Previously Hartman had developed additional summer camp programs, created a new season ticket plan, instituted a Hall of Honor for exceptional Pioneer athletes, and introduced the first athletic team banquet.

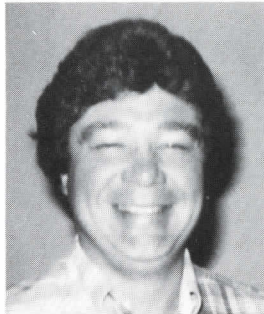

The OU athletic director also made a large impact in his previous posts. At Plymouth State College in New Hampshire, his first post, Hartman started a football program with enthusiastic student support. Fifteen years later, a running back named Joe Dudek put that program on the map with a bid for the Heisman Trophy. In his second post, at Florida International University, Hartman began a women's golf program. One of the first women's scholarship award winners was Pat Bradley, who later became the first $2 million winner on the Ladies Pro Golf Association tour. Hartman did not begin the basketball program at his next stop, the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, but one of his athletes there, Terry Porter, drew national attention as an NBA draftee from a non-scholarship school, and is now an outstanding point guard for the 1990 Western Conference Champion Portland Trailblazers.

A graduate of Ohio State University and a native of Columbus, Ohio, Hartman lives in Rochester with his wife, Jane. He is the third OU director, succeeding Corey Van Fleet in June of 1983. The only other AD was OU's founding father of athletics, Hollie Lepley.

The program has seen improved records, improved attendance, and improved camp numbers since Hartman's arrival in 1983, but the optimistic Pioneer athletic director is still sure the best is yet to come.

MEET THE COACHES

GREG KAMPE

Head Basketball Coach
Assistant to the Athletic Director

When Greg Kampe arrived at Oakland University to take over the men's basketball program six years ago, his goal was a modest one—make the Pioneers a consistent winner and a GLIAC contender. It wasn't a small task by any means, considering OU's less than outstanding history in men's hoop. In the last four seasons, that goal has been achieved. OU has gone 78-34 in the last four years, including its first two 20-win seasons, and has finished third in the GLIAC in two of those campaigns, its highest finish ever. With credibility on the court a reality, Kampe has now set his sights on bigger targets, like a league title and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. Both would be firsts for an OU men's basketball squad.

Kampe has also added credibility to the OU program in the classroom, something he takes great pride in. Last year senior Brian Gregory earned an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship and third-team Academic All-America honors, and was one of two Pioneers on the Academic All-GLIAC squad. Two years ago John Henderson was an All-GLIAC honoree for his performance both on the court and in the classroom. He also became an Academic All-District winner and Academic All-America candidate during Kampe's tenure, as did Robb Skinner, an Academic All-American candidate in 1985-86. Scott Bittinger was GLIAC Player of the Year in 1987-88 and an Academic All-GLIAC choice the same year. In the last four years 40 percent of the nominees for Academic All-GLIAC and seven first team selections were Oakland basketball players.

"We've been able to go out and find very good students who are also very good basketball players," Kampe said. "Scott Bittinger is a perfect example of this. He was an All-American and league Player of the Year, graduated with over a 3.00 and got a good job out of college. This is what coaching is all about."

Kampe came to OU from a program that has a long history of combining athletic and academic excellence. The Pioneer coach spent six years as an assistant coach at the University of Toledo before coming to OU. During Kampe's six years at Toledo, the Rockets captured three Mid-American Conference (MAC) basketball championships and compiled a 117-57 overall record. The school earned two NCAA tournament bids and one to the NIT. Academically, 91 percent of Toledo's basketball players earned bachelor's degrees, 33 percent of those continuing to earn graduate degrees.

Kampe is a 1978 graduate of Bowling Green State University with a bachelor's degree in business and journalism. He started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Toledo before accepting the full-time assistant coach's position in 1979. He earned a Master of Arts degree in physical education while at Toledo.

Kampe personally combined excellence as an athlete and in the classroom in college. He is the only athlete in MAC history to earn first team All-Academic honors in both football and basketball. He earned dean's list honors with a 3.40 grade point average at BGSU, and received the President's Award as an outstanding senior student.

His father, Kurt, was a guard on the University of Michigan's 1947 Rose Bowl championship team which went 10-0. Brother Kurt Jr., was a two-year letterwinner for the Wolverines in 1974 and 1975.

The 34-year-old Kampe lives in Rochester with his wife, Susan, and their three-year-old son, Keith

QUOTING COACH KAMPE

WILL A STYLE CHANGE COME WITH YOUR PERSONNEL CHANGES?

We are going to play up-tempo like we always do. There are degrees of playing that way. The plan is to go back to the way we played the year we led the nation in scoring (1987-88). I love the up-tempo, high-scoring basketball. That has been the hallmark of our program.

YOU HAVE HAD GREAT REBOUNDING TEAMS IN THE PAST DESPITE A GENERAL LACK OF HEIGHT. HOW DO YOU ACCOUNT FOR THIS AND WILL IT CONTINUE?

As a coaching staff we emphasize rebounding. We believe it is one of the most important aspects of the game. Our players believe in it and understand it and are willing to do the things fundamentally to be good rebounders. I suspect we will be a very good rebounding team this year, and I will be very disappointed if we are not.

HOW DO YOU SEE THE GLIAC RACE?

You have to look at Ferris State. Any time a team wins it four times in a row you have to say it's their's until somebody beats them. I think Northern Michigan and Grand Valley have excellent teams, as good as we have seen around this league. Michigan Tech and Saginaw Valley are just behind them, and with a little luck and a key addition, could be at that level also. You have to throw us in with Wayne State, Hillsdale, and Lake Superior State, who aren't sure exactly what they have.

WHAT DID LAST YEAR'S SENIOR CLASS MEAN TO YOU AND THE PROGRAM?

When you look at the type of players and people that were and what they accomplished, you have to be proud that they went to our institution. They did so many positive things to make our program flourish, you have to give them a lot of the credit. It was a very emotional day when that group played their last game and I knew I wouldn't be coaching them again.

WHY DO YOU LIKE COACHING AT OAKLAND?

I am very fortunate to be at a school like Oakland, from the location to the academic standards, to the type of people this community attracts. The administration is dedicated to winning the proper way, and on our level it is most important to do it the proper way. Our athletes use athletics as a vehicle to get a college education.

HOW DID YOU DEVELOP YOUR ILLINOIS RECRUITING CONNECTION?

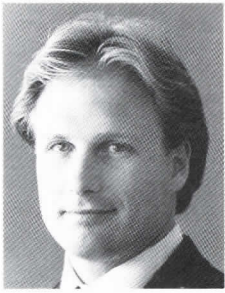

You have to credit Mark Coffman for that. When he came here he told me that we could recruit Chicago and the Illinois area successfully. He thought that if we worked hard at recruiting that area, in a few years it would pay off. We worked hard for the first few years without a lot to show for it, but last year was a bonanza for us and this year we hope to sign another Chicago-land player.

CONSTRUCT YOUR PERFECT PLAYER.

The perfect player that we could get on our level would be 6-7, a great shooter that could make the three-point shot and score with his back to the basket. He would be an intelligent player that was willing to do the things that it takes to win, and he would be able to run and press. If a player could do those things I would be drooling over him.

WHAT MAKES COLLEGE BASKETBALL SUCH A GREAT GAME?

College basketball is still a kids game. The game is played by kids, the majority of your fans are still kids. The loyalty to your school, the defending your school's honor and playing for the merits of the game is what makes college basketball so good. It's being played by students, for students.

MARK COFFMAN

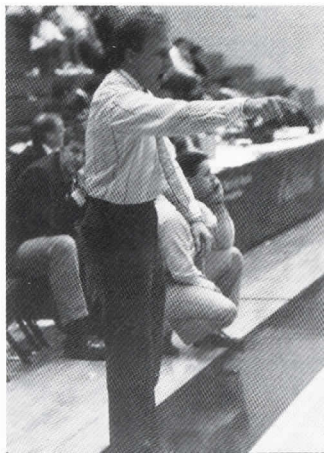

Assistant Coach

Mark Coffman is in his second year as the Pioneers' top assistant coach, his fourth overall at Oakland. Coffman came to the Rochester campus with a strong Division I background.

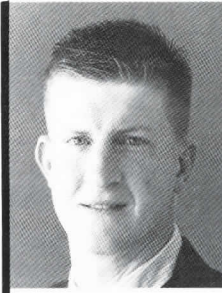

The Mishawaka, Indiana native spent four years prior to coming to Oakland at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces. Prior to his stint at New Mexico State, he was an assistant coach for two seasons at Texas Tech University. The 1980 graduate of Western New Mexico University started his coaching career as a student-assistant for three years at his alma mater. After graduation he spent two years as a high school assistant coach in New Mexico before moving on to Texas Tech.

"I believe we have a program now that ranks among the national contenders in Division II," Coffman said. "We are very close to competing for a national championship. Being a part of this has made it a pleasure to work in coach Kampe's program."

Coffman is a graduate of Mayfield High School in Las Cruces, where he played on the varsity basketball squad. He played for one season at Western New Mexico before becoming a coach there. He earned a master's degree in educational administration from New Mexico State in 1985.

The 32-year-old Coffman lives in Pontiac with his wife, Karen, and their sons, Ryan and Grant.

ERIC STEPHAN

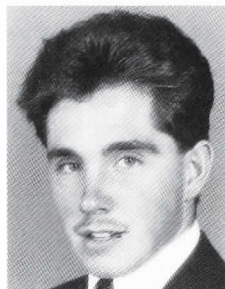

Assistant Coach

Eric Stephan is in his second year as an assistant coach after spending two years as the graduate assistant on coach Kampe's staff. His duties include recruiting, scouting and practice work.

Stephan was a four-year letter-winner at Carthage College in Kenosha, Wisconsin. He started as a senior, averaging five points and seven boards per contest. His high game of 19 points and 15 rebounds came against Concordia-Mequeon. Stephan earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from Carthage, where he was also Chairman of the President's Advisory Committee and President of the Student Activities Board.

Stephan is a camp veteran, having worked three years at the Metro Index Basketball Camp, as well as at camps at Penn State and James Madison Universities. Stephan has also worked both the OU and Isiah Thomas Basketball Camps at Oakland.

A four-year basketball letterman at Berkley High School, the 25-year-old Stephan is single and lives in Pontiac.

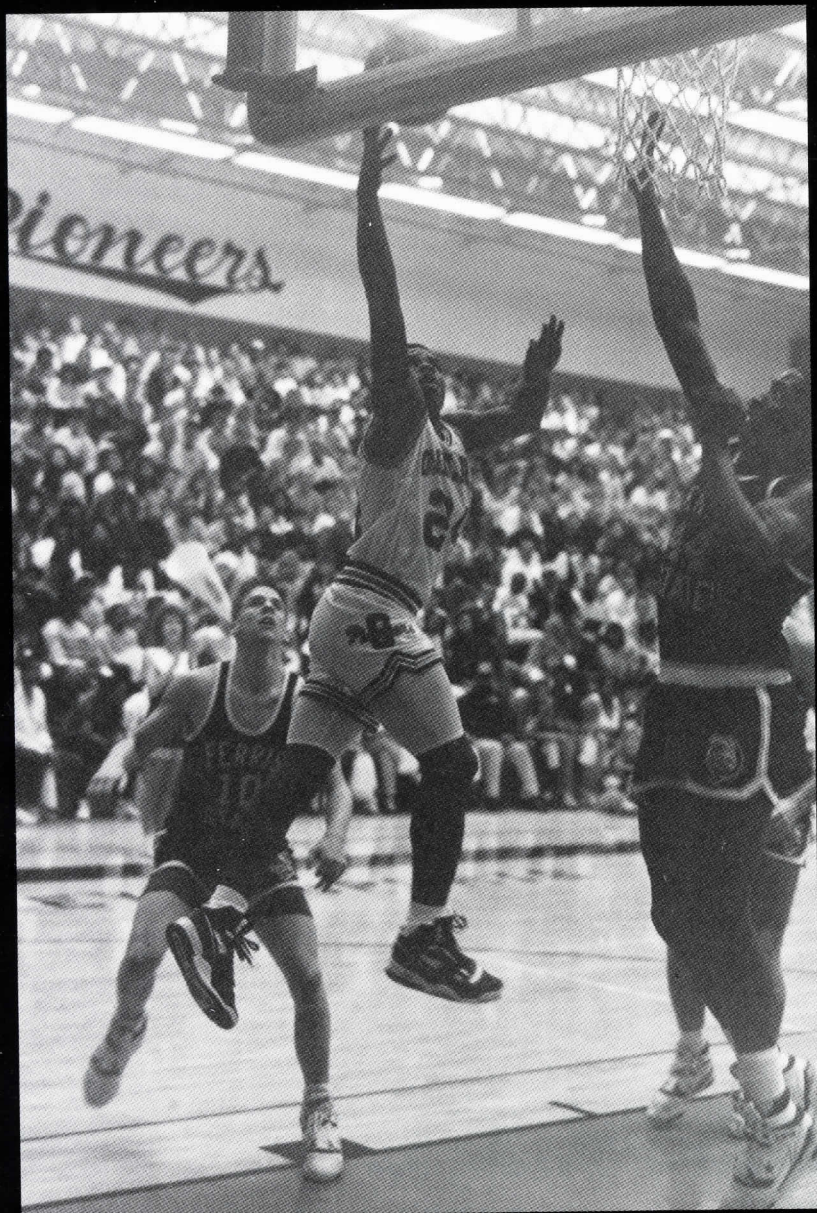

MATT KOSKELA

Student Assistant

Beginning his sixth year associated with the OU men's basketball program is Matt Koskela. A long-time team manager, Koskela will add a wide variety of duties to his job description this year. The 23-year-old native of Lake Orion is a communications major at Oakland. Koskela was basketball team manager while attending Lake Orion High School, and still resides in Lake Orion.

KAMPE'S PIONEERS HOPING FOR A BABY BOOM

When you lose seven seniors, there is a lot of repair work to be done. When you lose almost two thirds of your scoring from the previous year, the questions about where the points will come from begin. When the same percentage of your rebounding is also gone, it causes a lot of worry lines on the face of Oakland University basketball coach Greg Kampe.

"I have a real hard time coming up with any strengths," Kampe said. "When you lose four starters and seven seniors, it's very hard to say what your strengths are."

The Pioneers have six returning players, but only two — juniors Eric Taylor and Lee Fitzpatrick — played more than 100 minutes in an OU uniform last year. The young and inexperienced Oakland squad has two seniors, five juniors, and five freshmen. It also has Kampe on edge as the start of the 1990-91 season approaches.

"This is a pivotal year for us, because the mark of a good program is consistency," Kampe began. "We want to continue to be a very good program, and this is the year we will find out if we can do that. If we can get 19 to 21 wins this year, it would be a feather in our caps and really stabilize our program."

Taylor's performance will be a major part of Oakland's success. the 5-10 guard led the GLIAC in scoring last year in earning first team All-League honors. Taylor averaged 23.3 points overall, 18th in Division II, and led the Pioneers in rebounding at 6.4 boards per game. The explosive guard shot over 50 percent from the floor and 78 percent from the foul line. He also led the team in steals, swiping 65 for the year, and set a school record with nine in one game against Huntington College. Kampe knows that as Taylor goes, so go the Pioneers.

"Eric Taylor is the best player in the league at the guard position," Kampe said. "He will have to perform up to his capabilities, and if he does we know we can get a lot of points from his spot. If he has the All-American type year that he can, it will really help our basketball team."

The other experienced veteran, Fitzpatrick, developed into a solid inside player for OU last year. The 6-7 forward averaged 6.9 points and five boards last year overall, improving those figures to 8.6 and 5.4 in league play. Fitzpatrick also shot 54 percent from the field and led OU in blocked shots. He will anchor Oakland's inside game.

"Lee blossomed as a sophomore, and if he improves as much as he did last year, he can be a top inside player in our conference. Both Taylor and Fitzpatrick must have good years for us to be successful," Kampe added.

OU's other returnees from last year's squad are forward Bryan Paraham, center Joel Jensen, and guard Darrel Cole. Paraham was making noises about being a solid contributor before a knee injury ended his season after just seven games. The junior forward is an excellent rebounder who will aid the Pioneer board work. Jensen, also a junior, played just 93 minutes in 17 games last year. The 6-11 center will be looking for more action this year. Cole, a 6-0 guard and one of two seniors on the squad, made the team as a walk-on last season.

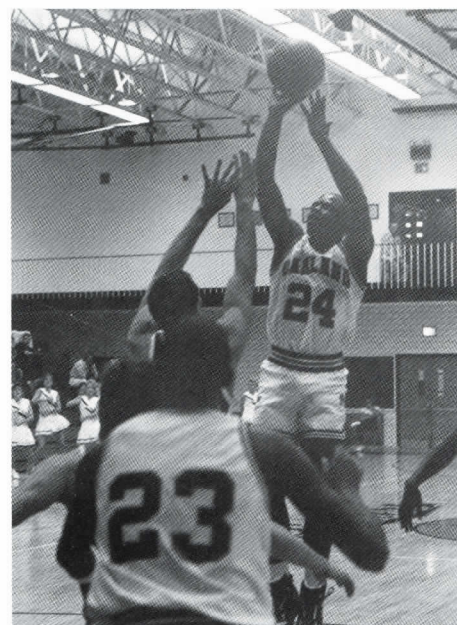

OU's sixth returnee is also its other senior. Guard Tony Howard returns to the team after a year's absence, and the 6-1 native of Pontiac could take a spot in OU's starting backcourt next to Eric Taylor. Howard averaged 15.4 points over 18 games as a junior in 1988-89, shooting 53 percent from the field and 83 percent from the line. He also averaged four assists and three steals per game, and was an excellent three-point shooter.

Add to these six returnees an equal number of outstanding newcomers, led by junior college transfer Anthony Soule. The 6-6 forward was one of the top junior college players in Florida last year, and could very well step into the OU starting line-up. Soule averaged over 24 points a game and was one of the top players in the JUCO Southeast region a season ago. Soule will be joined by a trio of two-time prep All-Staters in guard Ty McGregor and forwards Ken Crum and Tom Eller. McGregor, a 5-11 guard, and Crum, a 6-7 forward, earned their honors in Michigan as a junior and senior. McGregor averaged 30 points and 12 assists as a senior at Mio, while Warren's Crum scored 24.6 points per contest. Eller earned his All-State honors in Illinois, where the 6-6 forward scored 25 points and grabbed 13 boards as a senior at Monticello High School. Rounding out one of Division II's top recruiting years are a pair of Chicago imports, 6-5 forward Phil Johnson of South Shore and 5-9 guard Brian Tucker of DeLaSalle.

"Soule is going to have to play right away," Kampe said. "He's a junior and he'll get the opportunity to help us immediately. We expect a little bit out of every one of five freshmen. They will all be given an opportunity to play. It is conceivable that a freshman could start, and at some time we could have three or four freshmen on the court."

The newcomers will get an eyefull out of OU's schedule, which includes a pair of Division I contests. In back-to-back games the Pioneers will take on Central Michigan, and then travel to Chicago for a first-ever battle with the Big Ten against Northwestern. OU will also play in two in-season tournaments, including its own Holiday Classic, and once again have 16 tough games in the GLIAC. The league has a new wrinkle this year in a season-ending four-team conference tournament which will decide the league's automatic qualifier to the NCAA Tournament.

The new Pioneers look great on paper, but as Kampe has said, "You don't win games on paper." Still Oakland boasts a large supply of new talent and has the return of Tony Howard, plus Lee Fitzpatrick and the incomparable Eric Taylor, arguably the best player in the GLIAC. If the very young squad can play beyond its years, Kampe and OU could set themselves up for a four-year stretch that could eclipse the past four.

Junior guard Eric Taylor led the GLIAC in scoring a year ago

We Need You On Our Team

Looking for a great way to stay involved in athletics and help kids? In your community, opportunities exist for individuals to be a part of the interscholastic sports scene as a game official.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association can provide you with the information to become a registered official, and about training to improve your skills.

The big winners in this game are over 250,000 young men and women who participate in interscholastic athletics across the state. These youngsters need your support and guidance in the games they play on the field and the game of life.

We need you on our team! To obtain additional information about becoming a registered official, contact:

Michigan High School Athletic Association

BORICS WILL GIVE YOU A NEW REASON TO SMILE.

BECAUSE YOU'LL LIKE THE WAY YOU LOOK.

If you've never had your hair cut at BoRics, this is your perfect opportunity. We know you'll be so satisfied with our professional stylists that you'll want to come back again. And again. Just like millions of other satisfied BoRics customers throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Because, at BoRics, you get haircare exactly the way you want it.

Our trained professionals can cut your hair to match your style or create a new one. Either way, we guarantee you will like it.

Our stylists will wet your hair with a special cutting solution, cut your hair into exactly the style you want, and blow it dry.

Clean hair is necessary for accurate hair cutting. You can shampoo your hair on the day of your visit, or, for a small charge, we'll shampoo it for you. Because, at BoRics, you pay only for the services you need.

You can't beat BoRics for convenience, either. No appointments are necessary. Just walk into one of our convenient locations Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., or Saturday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.*

Don't settle for the uninteresting styles of a barbershop or the high prices of a beauty salon. Come to BoRics, and give yourself a look—on us. You're going to like what you see. We're sure. *Mall hours may vary.
