Expert Needed to Run County Jail, Panel Head Says

By JIM LONG

A prison expert or professional administrator, rather than the sheriff, should operate the new jail planned for Oakland County, a committee of the county board of supervisors recommended yesterday.

Dennis M. Aaron, chairman of the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, said the recommendation was neither a move to abolish the office of sheriff nor a reflection on Sheriff Frank Irons.

"The sheriff is doing the best he can with what he has to work with," said Aaron, "but I also believe that in this day and age that no sheriff is competent to run a jail."

"We need a skilled individual who is able to cope with the numerous problems that go along with the operation of a jail," explained Aaron.

REPORT ON CONDITIONS

Aaron's comments came after his committee issued a report containing recommendations about conditions at the present county jail in downtown Pontiac.

The study was initiated seven months ago after published reports of brutality and sexual perversion among inmates.

The report submitted yesterday generally makes recommendations regarding methods of alleviating the overcrowded conditions and associated problems. The recommendations will now go to the full board of supervisors for action.

DOESN'T MEET DEMANDS

"The committee," the report noted, "is cognizant that the traditional role of the sheriff as custodian of prisoners does not meet the demands of society today."

In order to correct this, the report goes on, "it is necessary to retain a penologist or professional jail administrator" who would initiate programs for the rehabilitation and education of the inmates.

The committee report said the design of the new jail offers the county an "excellent opportunity to create new programs for the benefit of the inmates and for society at large."

It was noted during the meeting that the construction and occupancy of the new jail is at least three years away. It would house nearly 500 initially. The present jail has facilities for 259, but the actual number of prisoners often goes to 270 and 275.

Ground was to be broken for the new jail this fall, but plans were scuttled when the county was unable to get any bidders for the bonds that would have financed the $9 million project.

Meantime, the committee feels that if some of its recommendations are carried out the problems stemming from the overcrowding could be resolved to a large extent.

As a temporary means of alleviating crowded conditions, the committee yesterday directed Daniel Murphy,

Aide Says Nixon to Switch, Back Oil Tax Break

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of President Nixon's key political lieutenants has told a governing body in the heart of Texas oil country that the White House will reverse its field and support the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance.

"The recent testimony before the Senate Finance Committee is to be corrected very soon by the secretary of the Treasury. The President continues to stand by his campaign commitments," deputy counsel Harry S. Dent wrote in a Sept. 18-dated letter to the head of the Midland County commission.

The commitment Dent referred to was made by Nixon in a Texas speech last fall when he said, "I oppose reduction of that 27½ per cent allowance."

The testimony that Dent said would be corrected came Sept. 4 when Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy delivered the surprising word that the administration would accept reducing the depletion allowance to 20 per cent as dictated by the House in its tax reform bill.

'ACCEPTABLE'

"Although the administration did not recommend a cut . . . we accept the House approach to increasing the share of the national tax burden borne by the petroleum industry," Kennedy told the Senate committee.

Asked about the Dent letter at a news briefing this morning White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said he had no information. He said he hoped to be able to comment later in the day.

Dent, chief White House political liaison, could not be reached for comment. But his letter, written in response to a resolution from the governing board of the oil-rich Texas county urging Nixon to stand fast for 27½ per cent, said specifically that the President "has asked me to respond in his behalf."

The initial acceptance of the allowance cut bore the unmistakable approval of the President. It was hashed out in many conferences involving the President and much of his staff, including most of the Treasury's leaders.

The 27½ per cent rate — the result of an ancient compromise between the Senate and House — has been under attack with critics saying it is a symbol of tax privileges granted big business by the government.

Computer Aids U.S. in Pollution Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's timetable for fighting water pollution is so complicated that man alone can not keep track of it; and today the Interior Department said it is turning to the computer for help.

The battle against water pollution involves tens of thousands of individual target dates for abatement actions throughout the country, and the department is determined not to let any of them slip through the cracks when nobody is looking.

Water quality standards have been approved by the federal government for the interstate waters of all 50 states, three territories, and the District of Columbia, and each jurisdiction's plan carries timetables for individual municipalities and industries.

Each timetable, in turn, contains a series of separate target dates: for the submission of preliminary plans, submission of final plans, start of construction of antipollution facilities, and completion of construction; and then, sometimes a date has to be changed.

TIMETABLE CHECKUPS

To bring order out of this potential chaos the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration is feeding all these little deadlines into a computer and plans to keep them up-to-date with regular reports from its regional offices and from state officials.

At the punch of a card, the FWPCA should be able to determine at any time just how well — or how poorly — any state, or county, or river basin, or enforcement area is keeping its promises to clean up pollution.

Just now gearing up, the project has already spotted some "slippage" in Montana and Arkansas, the first two states to submit data, said FWPCA Commissioner David D. Dominick.

He said data should be available from all jurisdictions "within the next four weeks."

Pontiac Div. Hit on Air Pollution

By ED BLUNDEN

A city ordinance to battle air pollution, aimed chiefly at the Pontiac Motor Division foundry, was proposed at last night's City Commission meeting.

The proposal was in a report submitted by chairman Robert Parker of the city's air pollution committee. Parker said the committee's investigation at the Montcalm and Ivy plant showed no progress in combating gases and smoke emanating from the plant, despite promises made by General Motors two years ago.

City Affairs, Page C-16

GM officials had said the five gas-powered blast furnaces would be replaced by electric, nonpolluting furnaces in about six years. One electric furnace was installed and is in operation, but none of the existing furnaces have been turned off, Parker said.

The division also is reportedly having difficulty with the new furnace, Parker reported, and replacement date has now been set for 1979. Urging an ordinance to force the company to abate the smoke sooner, Parker suggested patterning a law after one used in Trenton.

COMPANY STATEMENT

Frost Is Possible in Area Tonight

There's a chance of scattered light frost in areas near Pontiac tonight, the low dipping to 38 to 44 degrees.

Mostly sunny and a little warmer, the high hitting 63 to 68 is the forecast for tomorrow. Cloudy and mild with a chance of showers is the outlook for Friday.

Probabilities of precipitation are 20 per cent today, near zero both tonight and tomorrow.

The low prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 53. The mercury had warmed up to 62 by 2 p.m.

Legal Snarl Hits Rehearing on Waterford Class Days

Legal complications have delayed rehearing of the court case in which Waterford Township School District was ordered to restore full-day class sessions.

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer this morning continued the case until 2 p.m. Monday to study two different interpretations of his original verbal court order.

The parents' attorneys, headed by Stanley Kurzman, submitted one interpretation to the judge, but the School Attorney John Rogers wants another interpretation entered as the official written order.

Rogers wants the order to make it clear Beer adopted every conclusion of a similar court order for Livonia schools. But Beer gave Waterford two weeks to restore full days while Livonia was given no time limit.

Since Beer declared unconstitutional a state law saying school districts can't deficit finance, Rogers wants the order to say school officials will be immune from violating the law.

Beer said he will decide Monday whose interpretation of his ruling he will make official. Rogers is then expected to ask Beer for a rehearing of the original case.

In court today, Kurzman tried to convince Beer the school district didn't intend to restore full academic days.

Rogers told the judge it was "impossible" to comply by the Sept. 29 deadline because Waterford doesn't have the money to do it. But he pointed out the district is trying to secure loans and will hold a tax increase election Nov. 25.

Home Front Unsafe, Viet Vet Discovers

After two tours of duty in Vietnam the flash of gunfire and pain were no strangers to 24-year-old Thomas Arthur Jr., but he didn't expect to find them in his own hometown.

Arthur of 41 N. Andrews, Lake Orion, was shot early Sunday, allegedly by a man police believe later killed a Romeo patrolman and fled to Canada.

Saturday, Arthur helped some friends build a garage. He later stopped at the American Legion Hall, 164 S. Broadway. As often happens when ex-servicemen gather, a spirited discussion began about the various military services and their respective merits. A man at the bar was listening to Arthur and a group of friends. Once the man broke into the conversation.

IN SATISFACTORY CONDITION

Jones fled. Arthur was taken to Pontiac General Hospital, where he is now listed in satisfactory condition.

A Marine corporal, Arthur was discharged Aug. 29 after four years with the Marines.

On Halloween night, 1966, Arthur was shot three times in the leg and hip while driving in a convoy of trucks ambushed by the Vietcong. He was in the Da Nang base hospital for three months after the ambush.

'DOESN'T THINK OF HIMSELF'

His mother, Mrs. Thomas Arthur Sr. said, "he's concerned about how worried we are. Doctors say he has quite a bit of pain, but he doesn't think about himself."

She said when he was wounded in Vietnam he asked the authorities not to notify his parents before he could write to them. It was two weeks before they knew of the ambush.

Before the Saturday shooting incident, Arthur was planning to return to his job at Pontiac Motor Division. He had even ordered a new car, the first since his enlistment in 1965.

Senate GOP Elects Scott

WASHINGTON (AP) —Sen. Hugh Scott was elected leader of the Senate's Republican minority today and told President Nixon he hopes to see it become a majority.

Scott defeated Sen. Howard M. Baker Jr. of Tennessee 24 to 19 at a closed-door conference. Individual votes during the secret balloting were not disclosed.

HOWARD BAKER

Baker said he is considering seeking Scott's old job as Senate Republican whip. A contest for that position, with as many as a half-dozen candidates anticipated, was to be settled later today.

Nixon telephoned his congratulations to Scott soon after the vote. The Pennsylvania senator told the President, "There's no bitterness that I can detect at all," as a result of the campaign for leadership.

HOPES FOR MAJORITY

Democrats now control the Senate 57 votes to 43 but Scott told Nixon: "No one could want to be the leader of the majority more than I do, sir."

"The President said that the conversation at both ends was off the record and he confidently expects to read it in the afternoon editions," Scott said.

Baker said Scott had been a noble and fair opponent.

"The Republican party of the Senate and the Republican party of the country is in good hands," the Tennessee senator said.

Among those mentioned for the assistant leader post—Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, Charles H. Percy of Illinois, James B. Pearson of Kansas, Jack Miller of Iowa and Baker.

Scott, a veteran of 26 years in Congress, is 68. He defeated Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska 23 to 20 to win election as GOP whip nine months ago. Dirksen had backed Hruska for the job.

4 Women Slain in Ohio Holdup

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Four women — two employes and two patrons — were shot to death today in a holdup of a savings and loan office in a Cincinnati suburb.

The three robbers described as young and white, fled in a car. One of them was described as wearing a beard.

A description of the men came from a man who was parking his car while his wife entered the savings and loan office.

HEARD SHOTS

He said he heard shots and saw the men run from the office. It was not determined immediately whether his wife was one of those killed.

There also was no immediate word whether the bandits got any money.

Only one of the dead was identified immediately. That was Mrs. Walter DeWald, wife of a Cincinnati policeman and an employe at the savings and loan office. Her husband was on duty in the general area and rushed to the scene when he heard the first reports.

Other details of the shooting were not immediately available.

Milliken to Abolish Local School Tax?

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken may propose abolition of local school taxes and the levying of a statewide property tax in his educational reform program, according to a Republican lawmaker.

This would require a constitutional amendment, as would another reported proposal: abolition of the State Board of Education and appointment by the governor of the superintendent of public instruction.

A five-cent increase which would boost the cigarette tax to 12 cents a package also is suggested as a means of raising more school money in a memorandum being circulated by Rep. Martin Buth, assistant Republican leader in the House.

The memorandum also points out a one per cent increase in the state income tax of 2.6 per cent would add $180 million a year to state income.

The changes, according to Buth's memorandum, likely would require the state to operate for the next three years at current financing levels.

On the question of parochiaid, Buth said "the governor seems inclined to include some assistance, based on a percentage of a certified teacher's salary for . . . secular subjects." The estimated amount of Milliken's plan, Buth said, is $50 million.

House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, leader of the once-defeated parochiaid backers, earlier said the state would have to expect to pay some $250 million more if a parochiaid grant were not included in the program.

Republican acquiescence to Milliken's plan by no means has been assured. Buth ended his own memorandum by noting:

"In a subsequent letter it will outline some of the shortcomings and omissions as I see them."

One tentative proposal to seek a 20-mill state property tax was blasted by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, as politically unfeasible.

"It's not possible to levy that much," said Spencer. "If I saw those recommendations in a bill I'd tear 'em limb for limb," he added.

Buth estimated that the 20-mill tax would yield revenue amounting to $700 million, based on the total $35 billion valuation.

Gallery, Inc. to Show Work of Art Prof

BIRMINGHAM — The Gallery, Inc. will present an exhibition of new paintings and drawings by Clifton McChesney, associate professor of art at Michigan State University, beginning Oct. 3.

The show will open at a preview on Oct. 3 from 6-9 p.m. and will remain on exhibition through Oct. 25.

McChesney executed the works after his return from Japan where he spent a year in independent study and painting that culminated in a one-man show at the Beni Gallery in Kyoto.

McChesney graduated from the Cranbrook Academy of Art and first exhibited locally at the Little Gallery in 1959. His works have been exhibited at the San Francisco Museum of Art, Butler University American Shows in Indianapolis, Ind., the New York Colosseum, Chicago Art Institute, Detroit Institute of Arts and the Kresge Art Center in East Lansing.

Two large painting in the exhibition at the Birmingham Gallery, 1025 Haynes — "Sequence: Ending Bar White" and "Tryptich: Banded Blue" — were shown for the first time by invitation of the American Institute of Architects at the Allied Arts festival in Detroit this month.

The Birmingham Planning Board will consider a proposed addition to the Eton Pharmacy, 221 N. Eton, tonight at 8 at a regular planning board session in the Municipal Building.

Tenure Unit Hits Genesee Judge

DETROIT (UPI) — The Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission today filed a seven-point complaint of judicial misconduct, including being under the influence of liquor in court, against District Judge Ernest J. Somers of Genesee County.

It was the first public action taken by the new commission, formed last year to handle complaints about judges.

In a formal complaint about Judge Somers, the commission said that on "many occasions" he had been "habitually intemperate by appearing in court under the influence of alcohol."

The complaint also charged that he had permitted a magistrate employed by his court to perform judicial duties not allowed by law.

The tenure commission, set up by constitutional amendment last year, has the authority to recommend censure, suspension or removal of a judge for misconduct.

Appeals Court Judge John H. Gillis, commission chairman, said it has already petitioned the supreme court to name a "master" to hear the Somers case. A master is an active or retired judge.

HAS 15 DAYS

The complaint gave Somers 15 days to answer the charges.

Judge Somers was elected last fall and took office Jan. 1 when district courts began operating to replace justices of the peace.

His jurisdiction, the 4th Division of the 47th District, includes the cities of Fenton, Grand Blanc and Swartz Creek, along with Fenton, Argentine, Grand Blanc, Mundy, Gaines and Clayton townships.

Pontiac Motor Sets 10-Day Sale Mark

Buoyed by exceptional announcement day sales, Pontiac Motor Division today said its mid-September sales set an all-time record.

Pontiac General Manager F. James McDonald, a GM vice president, announced that 27,769 new Pontiacs, Tempests and Firebirds were sold in the Sept. 11-20 period, far surpassing the previous record of 16,086 units set in 1965.

"We're extremely pleased with the public acceptance of our 1970 line," McDonald asserted. "Although our dealers tell us that their showroom traffic is down somewhat, those who do come are buyers and not just lookers."

He said on Sept. 18, Pontiac's announcement day, a total of 8,841 new cars were sold, up nearly eight per cent from the 8,213 delivered on announcement day a year ago.

TV Violence Attacked by U.S. Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Violence on television encourages violence in real life, the National Commission on Violence said today. It accused the television industry of "pandering to a public preoccupation with violence that television itself has helped to create."

The commission said the industry's self-imposed standards are inadequate and recommended:

- Abandonment of children's cartoons containing serious, noncomic violence.
- Less time devoted to crime, western, and action-adventure programs containing violent episodes.
- A change in the basic context in which violence occurs in such programs so "resort to violence is depicted as an unusual and undesirable outcome" instead of the norm.
- More industry research into effects of violent TV programs — although meanwhile, "enough is known to make inexcusable any delay in taking action along the lines we have recommended."

The commission also recommended presidential and congressional support and financing for a corporation for public broadcasting "so that it may develop the kind of educational, cultural and dramatic programming not presently provided in sufficient measure by commercial broadcasting."

The National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, was formed by former President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1968 after the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy. It is publishing a series of reports on various aspects of violence in American life.

The 11-page report on TV violence focused primarily on its effects on the young.

"Television is one of our significant national resources," it said, "but our greatest resource is our children. Children begin to absorb the lessons of television before they can read or write.

"Yet . . . we daily permit our children during their formative years to enter a world of police interrogations, of gangsters beating enemies, of spies performing fatal brain surgery and of routine demonstrations of all kinds of killing and maiming."

Teen Strangles in Play Mishap

A 13-year-old Independence Township boy died yesterday evening in an accident while playing on a rope swing in the backyard of his home at 6000 Lakewood.

Todd Michael O'Roark was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Roark. His father is a supervisor at Pontiac Motor Division.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies, the mishap occurred around 6:15 p.m. when the boy went outside to play after dinner.

Officers said he apparently was swinging with his foot in the loop of a rope suspended from the limb of a tree near the back door of his home.

They speculate that his foot slipped out and as he fell his neck got tangled in the rope.

The boy was noticed by a neighbor, Burnell King who called the boy's mother. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was unsuccessful and he was pronounced dead at the scene.

An eighth-grader at Clarkston Junior High School, Todd was described by principal Kelly Burnette as an energetic boy who was a good student. "He had a lot of friends and was well-liked by everyone."

Car in Getaway Went Thataway

Three bandits in Waterford Township must have felt like calling a cop when they discovered their stolen getaway car had been stolen.

Pontiac State Police reconstructed the chain of larceny yesterday when a man turned himself in for car theft.

It seems while the bandits were robbing the Five Spot Bar, 2585 Dixie, of $1,000 early Sunday, a drunk took their car, left running outside.

Finding the car gone as they rushed from the bar, the bandits then were obliged to return to the bar and hold it up again to get car keys from a customer.

"We showed Mr. Parker and his committee through our new electric melting facilities and they seemingly were pleased with what they saw. Furthermore, we outlined our future foundry improvement plans and the committee seemed satisfied that we were doing our utmost to reduce industrial air pollution."

The divisional spokesman further pointed out that Pontiac Motor had already completed construction of one electric arc melt furnace, and the concrete foundation for the building housing the second furnace has been poured and structural steel will go up next month.

"We're moving well ahead with our plans. We told Mr. Parker that we were looking at a final completion date somewhere in the mid-1970s," the spokesman added.

4 MORE FURNACES

The first electric furnace, which went into operation in January, is "operating as expected." There have been no delays in our original plans except for equipment evaluation. Four more electric melting furnaces will be installed replacing the six existing coke-fired cupolas that have been in operation since 1927.

When the entire program is completed it will virtually eliminate all air pollutants from melting operations, the spokesman said.

City Law Director Sherwin Birnkrant advised against the proposed ordinance. He pointed out that the State Legislature has appointed an air pollution authority with power and funds to enforce antipollution measures on a statewide, uniform basis.

Birnkrant said the state authority should be contacted to carry out any necessary enforcement provisions. It would be extremely expensive for the city to hire a staff with the expertise to determine levels of pollution, carry out legal procedures and buy the necessary equipment, he said.

VIEW SUPPORTED

An expert on pollution and former Pontiac resident was in the audience and also supported the use of state regulations rather than local ones.

Fred McDermott, district engineer for the division of occupational health of the State Health Dept., said air pollution problems are very complicated and that the state agency is empowered and has the funds to carry out the best control program.

Commissioner Robert F. Jackson, district 5, insisted on local control. "We need a local ordinance for a local problem. We have no excuse for not attacking our own problem," he said.

Jackson and other commissioners pointed out that many others in the city are guilty of polluting the air besides GM.

Parker's committee was told to draft a proposed ordinance for future consideration by the commission.

Expert Needed to Run Jail—Panel Head

chairman of the county board of auditors, to continue negotiations with the city of Pontiac regarding the leasing of the city jail.

The city jail, located in police headquarters, seldom has been used since it was built because the city found that it was cheaper to house violators in the county jail.

ROOM FOR 25

The city jail can handle approximately 25 prisoners.

Another method being considered by the committee to reduce the jail population is the establishment of a work camp where less serious offenders could be housed.

Undersheriff Leo Hazen told committee members that he would attempt to have a report on the feasibility of such a camp when the committee meets Oct. 21.

INSPECTOR UNAVAILABLE

The report was to have been presented yesterday, but Hazen said that a state jail inspector will have to be consulted and that he has been unavailable.

According to Hazen, Kent County in western Michigan is the only county that operates a work camp for trusties.

Aaron said that he was disappointed with the lack of progress in solving many of the problems at the jail.

"It's very frustrating," he said. "It seems we just sit here spinning our wheels."

POPULATION CUT

In pointing out that it is unlikely that existing problems at the jail will be solved in any "humane fashion unless the jail population is reduced substantially, the committee recommended that the sheriff establish a policy of requiring all communities having jail facilities to house their own ordinance violators before and after conviction.

* * *

- Seek contracts with the state or other authorities having penal or hospital institutions to house inmates with known sexual deviations.

The committee said that it also believes "immediate effort must be made in the areas of humane care of prisoners, rehabilitation and individual dignity."

The concept of rehabilitation is lacking at the county jail, according to the report.

IMMEDIATE PROGRAMS

Comprehensive physical examination of all prisoners entering the jail, a staff of psychiatric social workers be provided for the mental care and evaluation of prisoners; a library of current magazines and books; a program of calisthenics; the showing of movies on a regular and frequent basis, television and education and work-training programs.

On the suggestion of Supervisor Philip Mastin the committee also included a recommendation that an audio system be installed in the old jail to monitor any disturbances in the cells.

Will Real Mao Tse-tung Please Stand Up!

HONG KONG (UPI) — The next time Chinese Communist Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung appears in public, it may not be the real Mao.

No one can ever be sure whether the man who appears to be Mao is, in fact, the 75-year-old leader of a quarter of the world's population, the Kung Sheung Man Po newspaper reported today.

The paper said there are at least four substitutes.

"The chieftain Mao, just as other tyrants in history, has a lot of substitutes exactly alike in appearance as he is," Kung Sheung said. "The one Mao Tse-tung appearing Oct. 1 in all probability could be a false one."

20TH ANNIVERSARY

The mention of Oct. 1 was a reference to the 20th anniversary of the Communist regime on mainland China, the date China watchers are looking to for a public appearance by Mao, who is reported to be seriously ill.

Studies show that bus exhaust gases reaching a person in an automobile or on a curb are diluted from 100 to 1 to 1,000 to 1 under typical exposure conditions.

New Bargaining Team to Be Named

Birmingham Teachers Won't Strike Now

By NED ADAMSON

BIRMINGHAM — Members of the Birmingham Education (BEA) decided not to hold a strike vote last night after debating the matter for four hours.

The teachers did, however, decide to name a new bargaining team in an attempt to work out contract differences with the Board of Education.

The action by the nearly 800-member organization was the reverse of what many school officials and observers had expected.

ALTERNATIVES MULLED

Last night's meeting was called to discuss various courses of action that could be taken following the BEA's rejection of the school board's contract offer last week.

Teachers rejected the contract proposal principally on the grounds that the middle steps of the salary scale were not, according to the BEA, competitive with surrounding school districts.

Under terms of the tentative contract the salary package ranged from a $7,450 minimum to a $13,800 maximum.

In a prepared statement, Dr. John Blackhall Smith, superintendent of the Birmingham School District, said: "While we regret the Birmingham Education Association did not ratify the original tentative agreement, we are pleased to learn the BEA will name a new negotiating team.

'WE STAND READY'

"We stand ready to hear from them regarding the resumption of negotiations," Smith stated.

A school board spokesman said as of this morning no formal communication between the teachers union and the board concerning the reopening of negotiations had occurred.

Classes have been meeting as scheduled throughout the Birmingham district since opening day Sept. 4.

Officials of the BEA could not be contacted to explain how soon they would attempt to revive negotiations with the board.

GROWING CONCERN

Donald Cameron, executive secretary of the BEA, said there has been growing concern among older members of the teaching staff that the scale was simply not weighted properly towards experienced teaching personnel.

In earlier negotiations the board had already worked out substantial increases in medical and life insurance coverage, a 250-day sick-bank for all teachers and improvements in supplemental pay.

Teachers also won the agency-shop contract clause which calls for all teachers to pay dues to the BEA. The school board is empowered to dismiss teachers who don't pay dues under this clause.

Supt. Smith stated previously that the rejected contract proposal would cost the Board of Education $764,000.

What the additional costs would be if the salary scale is revamped, cannot be determined at this time, a board spokesman said.

The board of education had considered itself "limited" in its contract offer, due to a failure of a millage increase proposal last Spring which would have given the District more operating funds.

School Board Action on Fact-Finding Due

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Board of Education will meet in executive session tonight to determine action on a state fact-finder's recommendation concerning a contract settlement with the Clarkston Education Association.

"The board will come up with its answer tonight, and we will meet with the teachers tomorrow and present that answer. What happens from then on will be determined at tomorrow's meeting," said Floyd Vincent, assistant superintendent of schools.

He said "what happens" could include a possible teacher walkout or a resumption of negotiations.

The Clarkston Education Association (CEA) voted to accept the fact-finder's recommendations last Friday and has since been awaiting board action on that recommendation.

TEACHERS 'UNEASY'

Meanwhile teachers particularly at the high school level are beginning to reveal a mood of "uneasy concern" about the attitude of the school board toward the fact-finder's report, according to Thomas Brown, CEA president.

Brown said the board's delay in taking action on the factfinder's report has precipitated a somewhat pessimistic mood among the teaching staff.

The teachers, were to meet this afternoon to discuss alternative courses of action based on the school board's action tonight.

The possibility of a strike vote, Brown said, would depend on the nature of the school board's action on the fact-finding report.

"The teaching staff is simply growing increasingly uncomfortable working without a contract. We want to resume negotiations immediately and put into contract language with the board the recommendation prescribed by the fact-finder," Brown said.

"The fact-finder's recommendations were within the Board of Education's structure of limitation and we feel it is time to acquire a fair and equitable settlement within the fact-finder's recommendation," Brown added.

Negotiations between the CEA and the Clarkston Board have been at an impasse for nearly seven weeks since talks became snarled in early August due to economic differences.

State OKs Borrowing Projects

LANSING (AP) — The State Municipal Finance Commission has approved the issuance of $2.25 million in highway fund bonds by Detroit for street system improvements.

Also approved yesterday were the following school bond issues, all to finance new construction:

Forest Hills, Kent County, $700,000; Tecumseh Public Schools, Lenawee County, $260,000; Marysville Public Schools, St. Clair County, $830,000; Laingsburg Public Schools, Shiawassee and Clinton Counties, $755,000.

Other approvals included:

Novi Community School District, Oakland County, $240,000 in tax anticipation notes, for operating expenses; Genesee County, $755,000 in sewer bonds, for sewer improvements; Greater Lapeer Utilities Authority, $170,000 in water bonds, for water system improvements; Gerrish-Higgins School District, Roscommon and Crawford Counties, $100,000 in tax anticipation notes, for operating expenses; Harrison Township, Macomb County, $28,000 in special assessment bonds, for water line improvements.

Vote on New School for Holly Is Slated

HOLLY — The Holly School Board will go to the voters Nov. 10 for approval of a $2.9 million bond issue that would finance site, construction and furnishings of a 1,200-student capacity junior high school.

If the bond issue passes, the school would be ready for use by the 1971-72 school term.

Bruce Mitchell, assistant superintendent of schools for financial affairs, said the individual cost to the taxpayer for the bond issue program cannot be learned until it is determined by the school board's financial consultants how much millage will be needed to finance the bonds.

* * *

Cost information is expected in the near future, he said.

OPEN SPACES

Building plans devised by architects Reibe and Weiland of Ann Arbor call for a modified open spaces one story unit with 39 classrooms. The building will serve grades 7-9.

The open-space concept will be used in order to provide a more functional operation, according to school officials. Classes and departments will be centered according to subject in specific areas of the school.

81-ACRE PARCEL

The new school would be located on an 81-acre parcel at the Rood-Grange Hall Road intersection. The school board has an option to purchase the property from owner Levi Mitchell of 14507 Fagan.

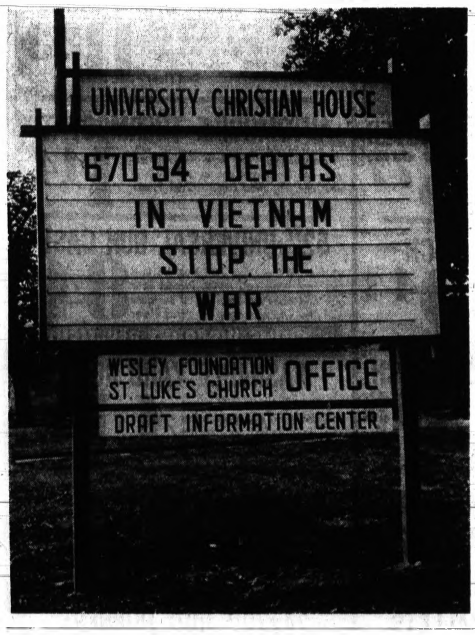
In other business, the board of education approved a budget of $2,154,000 for the 1969-70 term. Last year's budget was $1,909,922.

* * *

The budget was pared of about $54,000 since anticipated school enrollment figures failed to meet expectations, causing a reduction in state aid. Enrollment increase in the Holly district thus far has been about two per cent compared to a forecasted five per cent.



Sign of the Times 'Keeps Watch' on Issues of Day

Commuters between Rochester and Pontiac get a bit of meditation to and fro when they pass these signs off Walton Boulevard across from the Oakland University campus in Pontiac Township.

Students at the University Christian House erected the signboard as a method of reminding people to "keep watch" on some of the principal issues of the day.

Rev. David Church, pastor of the Wesley Foundation at the center, said public reaction has been as expected — "plus and minus." "We have gotten a lot of praise as well as some irate calls," he said.

During the week of Rochester's 100-year centennial celebration, the center's sign read, "Congratulations on 100 years of racism. Is this cause to celebrate?"

Meeting Is Set for Parents of Handicapped

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Special Education Parents Group will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Rochester High School auditorium. All who are interested in special education are invited to attend.

Parents of children who need special education services met during the summer and selected the group's name to identify themselves with their interest in handicapped children in three categories: the educable retarded, perceptually handicapped and adjusted study.

The district has 75 students in special education. There are classes for retarded children at North Hill Elementary, Central Junior High and Rochester High.

Children having problems relating to the loss of hearing or vision, the trainable retarded and orthopedics are transported to classes in surrounding school districts. There are 12 children attending special education classes in other districts.

* * *

Patrolman Denies Beating

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

The president of the Farmington Township Police Officers Association, on trial in the beating of an auto-theft suspect with a blackjack, yesterday denied the beating charge while under oath.

Hedrick Has Day In Court

Patrolman John Hedrick told a six-woman jury that John VonSauers of Plymouth, seated in the rear of a patrol car, lunged over the seat while Hedrick was sitting in the front. He admitted grabbing VonSauers and pushing him back, adding that he didn't use a blackjack because there wasn't enough time.

The suspect apparently had not yet been searched for weapons and was resisting arrest, according to Hedrick.

The Farmington Township patrolman, who has been charged with assault and battery against VonSauers, 25, testified in the second day of the trial before 46th District Court (Southfield) Judge Clarence A. Reid Jr.

VonSauers — guilty of 'Joy-Riding' was captured by city police after a high-speed chase while driving a stolen auto Sept. 9, 1968. He was finally picked up after leaving the car and running into a small pond. He later pleaded guilty to "joy-riding" and is now on two years' probation.

If convicted of assaulting VonSaures, Hedrick could receive up to 90 days in jail for the misdemeanor.

Last week, Farmington City Detective Murray Switzer, one of the first men on the scene of the Sept. incident, testified that he saw Hedrick place his foot on VonSauers neck and yank back the suspect's hair while he was lying handcuffed face down on the ground and not resisting arrest.

* * *

Switzer also claimed that he later saw Hedrick in the police car hitting the suspect on the side of the head with a blackjack.

'NOT TELLING TRUTH'

Hedrick charged yesterday that Detective Switzer "was very definitely not telling the truth." He also denied the detective's testimony that he assisted officers in taking VonSauers into custody. The Farmington Township patrolman insisted that he stayed at the roadside during the arrest.

Final statements by the attorneys are expected this morning and the jury should meet today, possibly to return a verdict.

Some township policemen in uniform have been attending the trial. Informed sources indicated that at least some of these men were being paid for duty on the day shift.

Farmington Township Police Chief Irving Yakes said that only four of the day-shift subpoenaed patrolmen were "on the payroll" during yesterday's trial and that the other uniformed men were observing the trial "on their own time."

Farmington Township Supervisor Curtis Hall said that Hedrick has not been suspended from his duties, pending the outcome of the trial. He further said that the township is still checking into the legality of paying Hedrick's attorney fees.

Dr. Richard Olsen Surveys His Morgue

MEDICAL EXAMINER WHALEY

Morgue Aids Crime Detection

By JEAN SAILE

Oakland County has a new system to detect murder.

Dr. Richard E. Olsen, recently hired county pathologist, regards the county's new centralized morgue as an outstanding tool against crime.

A deranged killer, repeating his pattern time after time as is suspected in Washtenaw County, would have to leave certain clues, Olsen reports.

Under Oakland County's new medical examiner system, there wouldn't have been a chance of escaping detection, county officials contend. A pathologist like Dr. Olsen would have been on the trail in no time, they say.

SOME INADEQUACIES

Only the second county in the state to provide a centralized morgue service, Oakland is admittedly not functioning as well as officials wish. Wayne County has a centralized morgue service.

Now housed in temporary quarters at Pontiac State Hospital, the morgue is small and able to accommodate only four bodies at a time. Hospitals still provide some autopsies and storage.

Howard Whaley, chief medical examiner for Oakland County and director of the morgue program, has hopes for eventual construction of a new county jail with morgue facilities in its basement.

As is, the new facility, in operation only since July, averages one autopsy a day. Besides its usefulness in pointing out criminal acts, an autopsy is helpful in detecting contagious disease.

1 LIFE SAVED

Dr. Olsen believes at least one life has been saved in the latter category. Identification of a meningitis victim allowed quick treatment of a brother, found to be suffering from the disease also.

Whaley, who notes that all Michigan counties will be required to abolish coroners and initiate medical examiner systems this fall, is justifiably proud of the man found to head Oakland's project.

Known statewide for his work in pathology, Dr. Olsen retired from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital last June 30 and became the first pathologist in the county's employ the next day at a salary of $28,500.

Olsen, at 63, is author of several articles dealing with pathology, and has teaching credits both at the University of Michigan and Wayne State University. For a time he was chief of staff at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Of up to 150 deaths reported monthly to the medical examiners' office, investigators find the need for autopsies in about 20 per cent or 25 of the cases.

State law provides that violent deaths and those where the victim has not been recently under a doctor's care must be reported to the medical examiner. The investigators, most of them ex-policemen, sift the circumstances and decide whether the case is worthy of an autopsy.

They and Dr. Olsen are attempting to make it harder for crime to go undetected in Oakland County.

The county medical examiner project, under supervision of the health department, was approved by electors last November.

'Beret' Case Seen Aired

So the Green Beret case is at last coming to trial. The proceedings are likely to be distinctly unpleasant—for the participants, for the military and for the public—but it is just as well.

Hopefully, the court-martial of six of the eight Special Forces men involved in the disappearance and, apparently, death of a Vietnamese double, perhaps triple, agent whose very identity is still unclear will at last nail down a few facts—what happened, to whom, why and on whose orders.

Army Secretary Stanley Resor has promised that the trial will be "open to the public except when it is necessary to prevent disclosure of classified material," a qualification that could take in a lot of territory since this is cloak-and-dagger stuff to start with and our No. 1 spy outfit, the Central Intelligence Agency, seems to be involved at some point to some degree.

Nevertheless, the prospect of even a partially open hearing is a welcome change. Ever since the case cropped up more than a month ago, the public has been treated to, and mystified by, an unofficial trial by news leak, innuendo, charge and countercharge in what is apparently a three-sided spat among the Special Forces, the Army command and the CIA. Four-sided, if it is true that the South Vietnamese regime is also playing its angles.

The trial is set for South Vietnam, but defense spokesmen have a point in suggesting it be moved elsewhere, to the United States. The case already has become a public and political issue and will yield headlines wherever it is held. It might be just as well to thrash it out here at home.

The confused and contradictory half-disclosures of past weeks have built up a considerable public sympathy for the accused Berets as scapegoats in a battle of the brass. That may or may not be true, which the trial may or may not determine. But by this time they deserve a hearing and the public deserves an explanation.

One Icebreaker That Isn't!

Miniplanes Filling Air Gap

Not only "The Milk Train Doesn't Stop Here Anymore," as the title of a TENNESSEE WILLIAMS play informs us. Passenger trains no longer serve a growing list of cities.

These cities may be small or not so small, but in any event they are not large enough to be on the routes of national or regional airlines. And it is rapid, regularly scheduled air service which industry executives are more and more demanding as a prerequisite to locating in a given community.

The result, for many communities, is a form of economic isolation from the rest of the Country.

But just as the jet airliner has all but killed off the long-distance passenger train, the death of the short-haul train at the hands of cars and buses has made way for the emergence of a "third-level" of air transportation—the commuter airline.

At the first level are the national trunk lines. Comprising the second level are the regional trunk lines, which originally grew up to feed passengers from small-city airports to big-city airports. But now these are moving to bigger jet equipment and can no longer get into all the airports they served before.

Thus the advent of regularly scheduled commuter airlines, as distinguished from even smaller air taxis, to fill the gaps left open or never filled by the big fellows.

One indication of the vigor of this new industry is the fact that commuter airlines are operating approximately 1,300 planes around the Country, from Tifton, Ga., to Catalina Island, Calif.

Passengers are often a bit skeptical of the small commuter planes, but they are fully governed by Federal Aviation Administration safety and operational requirements and their pilots must meet the same qualifications as the men who fly the jets.

One unexpected dividend deriving from use of the miniplanes has been employment for girls who couldn't make it with the big airlines. At least two commuter lines are hiring "ministewardesses"—girls who must be under 4-feet-11 so that they can stand up in the low cabins.

Kremlin 'Acting' Aloof on China

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Moscow's odd denial that it knows anything about Mao Tse-tung's health suggests that it may, in fact, know something about what is going on in Red China: perhaps a jockeying for position in advance of a power struggle yet to come in Peking.

RYAN

Soviet officialdom used the device of a cocktail party—strictly for non-Western correspondents—to spread the word that rumors about Mao attributed to Soviet sources were "provocative." By that, it may mean that those who spread such reports are trying to arouse new Peking suspicions of the Kremlin.

If there are now factions maneuvering in Peking in anticipation of Mao's retirement from the scene, Moscow may not want to rock the boat.

The tenor of this propaganda suggests to the Russians that the regime in Peking is in trouble and that thus it must have the nearby threat of catastrophe — such as war with a big neighbor—to keep the nation from falling apart.

Moscow may want to watch and wait quietly to see what happens. Thus, the Kremlin is sensitive when reports attributed to "Soviet sources" give the impression that the Russians want to meddle in China's internal politics.

News Analysis

The Kremlin may be hopeful that a new group will emerge in China with which the Russians can talk business.

HEATING UP?

The Russians must be as aware as anybody that some sort of struggle still is going on in China, and that there are signs it is heating up. Upon the outcome can depend whether Peking's hostility to the Kremlin is increased or moderated.

The Kremlin interprets the belligerence of China as a manifestation of deep political trouble, and it may be right.

Red China will celebrate on Oct. 1 the 20th anniversary of its founding. As usual for such Communist celebrations, a selection of slogans was published for the guidance of the masses on that day.

Of the 29 slogans, four bear down heavily on the possibility of war, including atomic war, and single out the Soviet Union as a potential enemy in that conflict.

'REVISIONISM'

Three slogans directly attack Soviet "revisionism" and "social imperialism," a phrase intended to indicate Moscow designs on Chinese territory. Only three slogans salute Mao and Mao's "thought."

Verbal Orchids

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Thomas of Vero Beach, Fla., formerly of Pontiac; 54th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Nellie Montgomery of 5270 Elizabeth Lake Road; 89th birthday.

Bob Considine Says:

Second Term for Nixon Depends on Viet Conflict

NEW YORK — If President Nixon does not bring home between now and 1972 a majority of the half million men now engaged in a war we no longer expect to win, he will not be given a second term in the White House.

CONSIDINE

That term will go to almost any Democrat — with the exception of Teddy Kennedy, let's say — who promises to make good on what Nixon failed to achieve. American politics are as simple as that. The barometer rises and falls on lost opportunities and purely speculative promises. You can look it up.

So the President, who naturally wants a second term, will find some way of getting out of what has now become, inevitably, his war. Or some way of blunting it.

Getting out of it is much more complex a task than faced such predecessors as Presidents Lincoln, McKinley, Wilson, Truman and Eisenhower.

SETTLED FOR DRAW

The first four of these won their wars. They simply beat the stuffings out of the enemy until the enemy hollered "uncle," as in Sam.

Ike, who was the epitome of the stern "Unconditional surrender" posture while serving as a soldier in World War II, accepted a draw with the North Koreans after becoming President. President Nixon is the heir to that new philosophy, which would have been allen to most presidents before him.

Additionally, he is heir to the philosophy of John F. Kennedy and, more persuasively, that of Lyndon Johnson. Though there was precedent reaching back to the time when FDR sent aid to Ho Chi Minh to fight Japan's occupation forces in Indochina, it was JFK who put the U.S. in South Vietnam in a position of relative importance.

The aid was mostly in the form of equipment and, by the time of his assassination, 17,000 military advisers.

FOLLOWED BY LBJ

LBJ took it from there, especially after the Bay of Tonkin incident — which was in actuality about as historically inoffensive or ludicrous as the shooting of the Archduke Ferdinand at Sarajevo.

He felt and still feels that he had no other course of action. But he turned out to be the prime political casualty of the war. His inability to deal with its mushrooming significance caused what amounted to his abdiction.

The matter of withdrawal, continuing self-imposed limitations on use of our vaunted muscles, relations with the Soviet Union (with whom we surely have some sort of tacit agreement in respect to the war) the ugly riddle of what Red China might do if provoked, the consequences of Ho's death, all come close to being imponderables beyond the scope of any man, computer or think-tank.

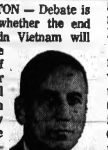
The only thing that is certain in the mind of that most realistic politician who occupies the White House is that he's got to find a way out of this awesome problem or lose by default the job he worked so hard and so often frustratingly to win.

Post-Viet 'Dividend' Already Tied Up

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Debate is growing on whether the end of the war in Vietnam will free large amounts of money for new federal programs in the city slums, for the poor, the unemployed, the handicapped and for air and water pollution, cheaper housing and transportation.



CROMLEY

The answer, of course, is that there will be more funds available for non-Vietnam projects.

The catch, as presidential assistant Daniel P. Moynihan has suggested, is that most of these to-be-available postwar dollars have already in a very real sense been obligated to existing programs without anyone having ever voted it so.

That is to say, that programs already in existence will, in their "natural" growth, absorb most of the money as the Vietnam war lets it go.

It is a curious thing, but many programs have virtually indestructable and unalterable growth rates of their own, sometimes almost independent of what either Congress or the administration might will.

DECISIONS MADE

So, in a sense, the decisions on how this "new" money will be spent were made four, five, six and even 10 years ago.

Take some examples:

In 1960, federal education programs were running at about $2 billion a year. This fiscal year the spending is expected to come close to $10 billion.

In the period from 1964 to fiscal 1970, the manpower-employment programs jumped from $700 million to an estimated $3.5 billion

From fiscal 1966 to 1970 federal health programs tripled from $5.5 billion to $18.3 billion.

ALMOST $30 BILLION

Social Security leaped from $13 billion in 1961 to almost $30 billion today.

In the same period, other "income security" programs (public assistance, unemployment insurance, veterans' compensation and pensions, federal employe retirement pay) grew from $12 billion to $19 billion.

Adding together only the programs mentioned above, spending this year (fiscal 1970) is estimated at $43 billion greater than it was just six years ago in 1964.

That's an increase of $7 billion a year.

At that rate, any Vietnam war savings would be eaten up in four years — or less.

Yet these figures don't take account of a host of other programs, each with its own almost - impossible - to - deflate growth rates.

New Council

Israel Digest

President Zalman Shazar received members of the academic council of the newly set up Scientific Research Institute which has been established at Beit Berl, Israel's Labor College. The new organization, which is headed by Professor Binyamin Mazar, has a 12-man academic council, and is intended as a research center on twentieth-century labor movements. Most of the council members are social scientists and they represent a cross section of political views. According to Professor I. Arieli, the "people participating in labor movements, both Jewish and international, in this century, wrote a great deal — but very little of it is objective."

The purpose is to get the ideas into some historical perspective and also to examine some of the central tenets of the Israel Labor Party from a non-dogmatic and non-party base. Perhaps by placing some of these ideas in the context of the realities of present-day Israel, "we can infuse some new lifeblood into Labor ideology," Professor Arieli stated.

The council, which has a 13-member board of trustees headed by Mr. Reuven Barkat, M. K., and including Deputy Prime Minister Yigal Allon, has started with an initial operating fund of IL250,000 from the Peretz Naftali Foundation.

War Preparation

London Times

As China's nationwide "war preparation" campaign gathers momentum, party cadres are being warned officially that "the third world war" will start in October, writes Richard Hughes.

Although the only enemy cited is Russia, both the food storage program and the "Reserve Factory" scheme, under which factory equipment is being shifted and duplicated, are being enforced in areas far away from the Russian frontier.

Many China specialists in Hong Kong contend that the "war preparation" campaign is basically psychological and intended to unify China's dissident factions.

Meanwhile, a new, unprecedented and widespread propaganda theme in the "war preparation" drive claims that China "will respectfully offer Hong Kong as a present to Chairman Mao"—in 1970.

'Trees Being Destroyed in Repair of Sidewalks'

The sidewalk repair program in the Ottawa Hills area is a disgusting example of the complete lack of coordination and communication between various departments in our City government. The whole atmosphere of a lovely neighborhood is being changed by the destruction of many of the maple trees lining the streets. Neither the City forester's office nor the interested homeowners were properly informed or given an intelligent choice by which this destruction could have been prevented.

Safe sidewalks are a necessity, but so is the maintenance of our City's areas of beauty. When the means exist to preserve both, they should be utilized. As I watch our maples fall, it seems obvious that someone in City Hall has sadly goofed.

'Lapeer County Study Is Public Property'

I understand that the study has been completed on Lapeer County employe job classifications and salary ranges. I understand there are only seven copies and parts of said study are confidential to the supervisors only. For any expenditures of public funds, a roll call vote is necessary by law.

I request, as a citizen and voter of this County, a copy of this study in its entirety made available to me, on the grounds that all documents, studies, etc., purchased with the use of the tax dollar automatically become public property.

As stated, it was a matter of courtesy not to divulge salary ranges, etc. I feel I am the employer of these people and am entitled to know what I am about to pay them.

Suggests Club Could Do Something Christian

For several weeks a sign in front of the University Christian House on Walton Boulevard carried a rather outspoken message for Rochester citizens. It read—"100th year of racism, a cause for celebration?" It is my opinion that if members of University Christian House were honestly concerned about racism they would do something Christian and nonracist; like evacuating their clubhouse and making it available as rent-free housing to a family in need. I am sure that the County welfare board could provide a list of several families that need housing.

I have no objection to an organization's making public statements of its feelings, as long as they are sincere. In this case, however, attempts to be sincere apparently ended with posting a sign.

Question and Answer

Would anyone know where a blind, partially deaf 83-year-old man could get a hearing aid? Social Services won't help because he gets a $91 a month pension. He lives with his son who gets no wages except rent and once in a while some food. He's alone all day and the only pleasure he gets is what he derives from ball games on the radio.

INTERESTED NEIGHBOR

REPLY

We suggest you contact his case worker at Social Services, who would have all the details of his case. There may be more involved than he is telling you. Also, has he seen a physician? The hearing aid should be prescribed by a doctor, because not all persons can use all types of aids.

Question and Answer

I have a son stationed in Germany, and last fall he mailed about 15 record albums home. They were American made and bought at the PX. About a week later I received a notice from the Post Office saying I owed $4.50 duty fee. Why would they be subject to duty?

MRS. C. H.

REPLY

The mail customs office in Detroit says American made products bought in the PX are duty-free, and there apparently was some mistake. However, you should have filed a protest at the time. There's usually a one-year limit for protests to be filed, but if you still have mail entry receipt which you got when you paid the duty, you can follow the directions on the back for filing a protest or request for refund.

Military Given Top Fund Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — The armed services have regained a leading role in shaping the defense budget under a significant shift by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird away from the practices of his Democratic predecessors.

Guidelines laid down by Laird and Deputy Secretary David Packard give back to the service secretaries and the uniformed chiefs much of the budget responsibility they enjoyed before former Defense Chief Robert S. McNamara started gathering powers to himself and his staff more than eight years ago.

This means the young "whiz kids" in the Pentagon's systems analysis office are being downgraded still more, pushing them back in the decision-making process which they strongly influenced in the McNamara years.

The move is in line with Laird's policy of giving the individual services a greater and earlier say in planning.

However, some key elements of McNamara's budget reforms remain and Laird is not forfeiting ultimate authority. He and Packard will make the final Pentagon decisions on the Nixon administration's first defense budget which will be sent to Congress in January.

There are indications it will be relatively austere budget, possibly held to around $70 billion. This would be about $7 billion below the present cut-down version of the final Johnson administration defense budget.

Before McNamara took over in 1961 the individual armed services were allocated an amount of money and were left largely alone as to what they did with the funds.

When McNamara became defense secretary, he threw out that system and instituted a centralized procedure under which his systems analysis experts took the lead in determining over-all requirements, and how each service's forces and arms would fit into the total picture of U.S. military power. This was called a program-package.

IT'S ALL RELATIVE

Thus, the number of Navy's Polaris submarines would be determined in relation to the Air Force's Minutemen missiles, and the missile force would be considered in relation to the bomber force.

In the general-purpose forces, Pentagon planners would fashion packages in which the Army's division, the Air Force's tactical fighters and the Navy's carriers all would be considered together with the aim of achieving a balance to meet national commitments.

Also, instead of operating on a year-to-year basis, McNamara instituted a system of projecting ahead five years to facilitate unified long-range planning.

While restoring some of the powers of the individual services, Laird is not going all the way back to the original system, under which interservice rivalries flourished.

He is retaining McNamara's program package idea, according to present indications and probably the five-year projections. But, instead of the services being asked to comment only after the secretary of defense has made tentative decisions, the services now are being called on early in the process.

OU Adult Course Aimed at Bridging Generation Gap

An Oakland University adult evening course beginning tonight is designed to bridge the so-called generation gap.

The course will be taught by Rev. William Brewster, who will direct reading and discussion on the thinking processes of the young.

Brewster, campus minister at OU, has spent his adult life relating to American youth in colleges and inner-city situations, and in Europe with young soldiers.

"Communicating Across the Generation Gap" is one of this fall's 190 adult evening courses. Further information is available from Oakland University's Division of Continuing Education.

U. S. Cruiser's Guns, B52s Pound N. Viets Near DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. cruiser Boston and American B52 bombers pounded North Vietnamese gun positions and base camps inside and just to the south of the demilitarized zone Tuesday night and today, the U.S. Command announced.

U.S. headquarters also reported 8,437 "indications of enemy presence or activity" inside the buffer zone since the bombing of North Vietnam ended 11 months ago.

The Boston turned her five-inch guns on North Vietnamese mortar positions in the southern half of the DMZ Tuesday night after enemy mortarmen there slammed 40 rounds into South Vietnamese positions just south of the zone.

The U.S. Command said there were no South Vietnamese casualties.

MORTARS SILENCED

The cruiser silenced the enemy mortars, but North Vietnamese losses were not known, U.S. spokesmen said.

Fifteen B52s bombed base camps, bunkers, supply and staging areas six miles northeast of the U.S. Marine outpost called the Rockpile, the command said.

In the past four days, up to 60 of the big bombers have attacked enemy buildup areas just below the DMZ, a sector that is being vacated by the 3rd Marine Division and turned over to the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division.

The set-up in B52 raids indicates that the U.S. Command will use the big bombers in an attempt to fill the gap that the departure of the Marines is expected to leave. The 3rd Division Marines are going to Okinawa and the United States as part of the 35,000-man withdrawal ordered by President Nixon for the next three months.

U.S. officials claim that North Vietnam agreed to keep the return for the bombing halt. Hanoi has denied this, saying the bombing cessation was unconditional.

Of the 8,437 "enemy indications," the U.S. Command said only 207 were "significant incidents of enemy-initiated action."

The other incidents, the Command said, were minor, such as trail activity, moving lights at night, and new bunkers.

U.S. forces, in response to the indications of enemy presence or activity, have attacked positions inside the zone 4,325 times since last Nov. 1. U.S. artillery, fighter-bombers and 7th Fleet warships all have participated in the attacks.

ENEMY AMBUSHED

Elsewhere, U.S. Navy river boats ambushed enemy soldiers attempting to cross the Saigon River 35 miles northwest of Saigon for the third time in the past two nights. Headquarters said 14 Vietcong were killed in the latest ambush, raising the total enemy killed in the three actions to 56. There have been no U.S. casualties.

In the same general area, 10 enemy were killed in a ground probe early today against the wounded.

night bivouac of an allied armored column. Three Americans and some South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded.

The U.S. Command said there were 19 enemy rocket and mortar attacks between 8 a.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. today. Two Americans were killed and 22

COBO ARENA

To Florida College Students

Draft-Escape Advice Offered

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A plan to set up an organized counseling system to help Florida college students escape the draft has been unveiled by a spokesman for the New party, which opposes the Vietnam war.

"We are going to move onto college campuses all over Florida and tell these guys there is a way out," said Bob Kuntz, statewide coordinator for the party.

"We are setting up New party offices throughout the college system in Florida, and we are going to train housewives, teachers, lawyers—anyone sympathetic to ending the war — to become draft counselors."

The New party claims to have branches in 14 states. "We don't feel the draft is any benefit to the whole American concept because it discriminates against the poor and the blacks," Kuntz said.

PEACEFUL PURPOSE

"We aren't like the Students for a Democratic Society, and all those radical groups. Our booths will be set up on campus for a peaceful purpose, and we won't resort to any violence to bring our services to these young guys.

"I don't think the administrators will buck us much, because they sure don't want any type of riots like they had over the ROTC situation last year."

Kuntz said the counselors would concentrate on drilling prospective draftees on how to obtain jobs—in the Peace Corps, for example—which would provide them with a draft-exempt status.

Kuntz, 27, has been 4-F since he injured his back in an automobile accident six years ago.

OCC Displaying Student Ceramics at Orchard Ridge

An assortment of ceramics are on display at Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge campus in Farmington Township all this month.

The more than 50 works are projects done in the beginning ceramics class by summer students.

The center is open to the public from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fridays.

Scientists are predicting that the first laboratory-made star is only a matter of 10 to 15 years away.

Capitol, SST Fund Plans Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The historic but crumbling west wall of the Capitol and the sleek but unbuilt supersonic transport plane have been linked by two senators who say they're trying to save a piece of the past and make the future bearable.

In both cases—the $45 million plan to extend the Capitol's west front 88 feet and the billion-dollar effort to develop a 1,700-mile-an-hour commercial plane—the bond is money and the natural well-being of the citizenry.

Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., took similar stands Monday in opposing extension of the Capitol to provide added space for restaurants, offices and toilets.

They also took aim at the SST, revived Monday by President Nixon who urged spending $662 million over five years to develop it.

'SOUND POLLUTION'

Proxmire said the SST would create sound pollution with a vengence. "Each SST would lay down a carpet of sonic booms 60 to 70 miles wide. Fleets of SSTs criss-crossing the country would create unprecedented pandemonium.

"We would be callously swapping the serenity of virtually the entire population of the country for a fleet of planes that would carry only 1-to-5 per cent of all Americans."

Speaking of the Capitol, Kennedy said: "As a society we are so impatient, so confident of our technological skills, that we all too often pay scant heed to our priceless national heritage . . ."

"If the planned extension is carried out, (workmen will) brick up the last remaining original section of the United States Capitol, forever shrouding this priceless and unique national treasure," Kennedy said.

SPECTER OF EARTHQUAKE

Earlier Capitol architect George Stewart seeking $2 million to proceed with plans for the west wall-raised the specter of an earthquake toppling the Capitol dome. But a spokesman for the National Earthquake Information Center here said occurance of a serious tremor in Washington is "not probable."

Both Kennedy and Proxmire assailed the cost of the proposed extension but zeroed in on an estimate that restoration might range in price from $10 million to $50 million.

Proxmire put it this way: "We've heard some pretty fantastic spreads on contracts for military weapons systems, but never one that is this wide open."

He and Kennedy urged a professional survey of the feasibility of restoring the Capitol rather than extending it.

Later, Proxmire again used the need to combat rampant inflation to argue against the SST.

RICHARD FOOTE

Mott Senior Gets Post in DeMolay

Richard Foote, 17, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eguene Foote 1247 Bielby, Waterford Township, was recently installed as master councilor of the Pontiac chapter of DeMolay.

Other newly installed officers include David Tilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johsia Tilton, 2839 Kenford, Waterford Township, senior councilor; and John Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Little, 180 Lakeside, junior councilor.

'Garden Is No Paradise'

DADE CITY, Fla. (AP) — Charles and Virgie Mae Fox complain that strolling nudes in the Garden of Eden are ruining their Sunday dinners.

"They're objectionable and unsightly," Virgie told the Pasco County Commission Tuesday. "You should do something about them."

But Robert Sumner, county attorney, said the commission was powerless to act against Kenneth Ellis, the Foxes' next-door neighbor who operates the seven-acre camp.

The Foxes live just north of Hudson in the western end of this sparsely settled Florida Gulf Coast county. Last May, Ellis moved next door and established the Garden of Eden camp.

"I've been seated at my dining room table and seen them out the window, walking around nude," said Fox, a 63-year-old retired auto mechanic who moved to Florida from Richmond, Va., 10 years ago. "And lots of other people have seen them, too."

But Ellis, a well-tanned man in his late 40s, insists his 10-foot sheet metal fence keeps his camp well hidden.

"If they saw anything they've got to be peeking through my fence," he said.

Ellis lives at the camp with his wife and 20-year-old son and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Knowlton. He says Knowlton is the minister of The Garden of Eden.

"We're Christians and we believe in body acceptance," said Ellis, who says he has a permit from the Christian Naturalist Society of the Universal Christian Church.

Ellis says his camp-church has about 16 members who gather each Sunday for services. After church, he said, they picnic on the grounds and watch evangelist Oral Roberts on television.

Events Slated

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has proclaimed October as cooperative month to salute farm coperatives and others. He also proclaimed Oct. 5-11 as both Fire Prevention Week and National Pharmacy Week and Oct. 19-25 as Community Health Week in Michigan.

Longtime worker for Pontiac Area United Fund, Mrs. Vincent Bronsing of Independence Township (right) is general chairman of the Community Division this year. Her group of women hopes to raise $16,548. Here, she discusses taxidermy with Mrs. Douglas Black of Oxford, whose hobby it is. All chairmen met recently with Ginny Bronsing to complete their campaign plans. The Press photographer captured each in a favorite activity or with a hobby, as seen below.

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Six years ago, when I was 42 and Max (not his name) was 52, we both married for a second time. I had been a divorcee for 15 years and he had been recently shed by a wife whose "coldness" had finally driven him to outside companionship; her uncontested charge was adultery. He wooed me fervently, saying I was everything he had ever wanted in a wife.

Our six years were blissful in all ways, and I thought myself the luckiest woman alive. We are both professional people. I work from 9 to 5. He from one in the afternoon until nine at night.

A month ago Max was rushed to the hospital for emergency surgery. When I went into his drawers for things to take to the hospital I found diaries he had kept the entire six years of our marriage. They were shockingly explicit.

After I had left for work, he had entertained women, which he rated according to the degree of thrill each gave him. A girl named Genevieve rated two stars. Mary got four stars every time. (I, whose matings with him he always pronounced "exquisite" rated only one star!) Whether the sex was also "plain" or "fancy" was outlined in detail.

I went to visit his ex-wife and learned even more. He is 64 years old, not 58. She said that his demands were insatiable, although she had not denied him any more than I had. "Other women" were the only thing they ever fought about. And he had many.

Abby, when you advise women whose husbands are unfaithful, you imply that the wife is lacking something. I just wanted you to know that there are men like my husband, for whom no one woman is enough. My whole world has crashed around my ears.

HEARTBROKEN IN PHILADELPHIA

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: That there are men like your husband is not news to me. There are also WOMEN for whom no one MAN is enough. These unfortunate people should not enter into marriage with "normal" people, vowing to forsake all others. They should marry each other.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a relative you never hear from unless he's drunk? GEORGIA

DEAR GEORGIA: It could be worse. Some people have relatives they never hear from unless they're BROKE.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Pensioner Enters Oldest Profession

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Two Columbus vice bureau detectives thought they had seen it all until Tuesday.

Detectives David Verne and John Hawk were sent to a home to investigate 30 complaints lodged against an alleged prostitute.

When Verne knocked at the door, a 69-year-old woman told him to come back in half an hour. When he returned, a grocery list was pinned on the door. The note said the cost of the items would be deducted from her fee.

Verne and Hawk did their marketing, returned to the home and when she opened the door, they arrested her on three charges of prostitution.

Hawk said the woman, who he said, looked 20 years younger than she is, told them she thought prostitution was illegal only at night and that she practiced prostitution to supplement her old age pension.

"It's the oddest arrest I've ever gotten," Hawk said.

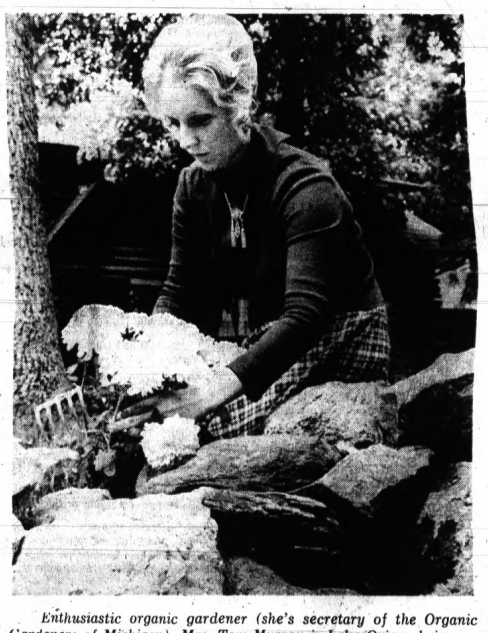
Two archery enthusiasts head the Independence Community Division of PAUF, Mrs. Vernon Sturdy (left) and Mrs. Harry Nichelson. The former held the same job last year. Irma Sturdy is also active in PTA and finds time to paint, sew, read and knit. Beverly Nichelson has the title of business chairman.



Enthusiastic organic gardener (she's secretary of the Organic Gardeners of Michigan), Mrs. Tom Murray is Lake Orion chairman. After her family, Terry's first love is working with plants. She is also a member of the "Pied Pipers," an educational group.

PGH Auxiliary Feverish Again

With more than $130,000 as its contribution to Pontiac General Hospital during the past four years, the Women's Auxiliary is counting on the yearly dance to swell this amount.

The annual High Fever Frolic is set for Nov. 8 in the new Sheraton Pontiac-Bloomfield Motor Inn on Woodward Avenue. The Jack Qualey Band will play for dancing which will begin at 9:30 p.m. Early morning breakfast will conclude the event.

Chairmen of the various committees are Mesdames: W. H. Knisley, Don J. Wilson, Robert Reeves, Donald Stoughton, Clark J. Adams, Thomas W. Follis and Sidney Jones.

Tickets will be available at the Volunteer office of the hospital. The dance is open to the public.

Mrs. Larry Ettinger, chairman for the Waterford area, is right in style with her collection of antique spoons. So far, she has acquired 60 of them. Named outstanding Jaycette of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary in 1968-69, Judy is also an enthusiastic cook.

Laundering Today Is Precise, Exact Chore

Treatment of spots, stains, and heavily soiled areas is one of the most important steps in producing successful laundry results. The trend to easy-care fabrics push-button laundering, and tailor-made laundry aids have created the tendency of the homemaker to overlook spot and stain removal as a part of the laundry procedure.

Pretreatment is still necessary, and frequently when stained garments are tossed untreated into the washer with the rest of the wash load, some stains may be set in forever.

Pretreatment of oily soils on polyester and permanent press items is absolutely essential.

A routine part of preparation should be the treatment of all spots, stains, and heavily soiled areas BEFORE a garment is added to the wash load.

There are many stain removal aids available. Correct usage of them will produce excellent results, but a little "know-how" is important. The following guidelines and chart should prove helpful:

1. Keep stain removal chart or book handy for quick reference.

2. Assemble a stain removal kit and store it with the chart or book in the laundry area. Keep the supplies in a convenient place but out of the reach of children. Include a bowl, measuring cup and spoons, brushes, medicine dropper, and syringe. You will need four types of removers on hand:

Absorbent materials — Absorbent powders such as powdered chalk, talc, or cornstarch. Absorbent cotton and cloths, blotters, and sponges.

Soaps and Detergents — Soap or detergent including liquid and enzyme laundry products.

3. Act promptly — fresh stains are easiest to remove.

4. Identify the stain and fabric. Save hangtags for fiber content information.

5. Use correct treatment — the same one doesn't work for all. Methods may include soaking, sponging, applying a stain remover, or a combination of these steps.

6. Always test an inside seam for fastness to chemical stain removers.

Chlorine bleach should be used in glass, plastic, or enamel containers rather than metal and never mixed with ammonia or products containing ammonia.

7. Use all stain removers according to package directions.

8. Rinse thoroughly when using stain removers. Follow treatment with a complete wash and rinse cycle when using a solvent.

Stain Removal Chart

Type of Stain	Treatment for Washable Fabrics
Adhesive Tape	Scrape gummy matter from stain carefully with a dull knife; avoid damaging fabric. Sponge with trichloroethane. Launder.
Beverages (alcoholic and soft drinks)	Soak in cold water, wash in warm sudsy water, rinse. If stain remains, soak silk, wool, or colored items in 2 tablespoons hydrogen peroxide to 1 gallon water for a half hour and launder. Soak white linen, rayon, and cotton 15 minutes in 1 tablespoon bleach to 1 quart water. Launder.
Blood	Soak in cool water and enzyme laundry product. Launder
Candlewax	Apply ice to harden wax. Remove surface wax with dull knife. Place the stain between clean white blotters or several layers of facial tissues and press with warm iron. To remove remaining stain, sponge with trichloroethane. Rinse thoroughly, launder.
Catsup	Soak in cold water. Pretreat remaining stain with soap or detergent, rinse. Launder.
Chewing Gum	Apply ice to harden gum. Scrape as much as possible without damaging the fabric. Sponge with trichloroethane, rinse and launder.
Cosmetics	Pretreat with soap or detergent. Launder.
Crayons	Pretreat with soap or detergent. Launder.
Cream, Ice Cream, Milk	Soak in warm water with enzyme laundry product. Launder.
Deodorants and Antiperspirants	Rub soap or detergent into stain and wash. If stain remains, bleach according to fabric.
Dyes and Color Running	Soak in cold water. If necessary, rub soap or detergent into any remaining stain, then rinse. If bleach is needed, use chlorine bleach or color remover according to directions.
Fruit and Berries	Soak with enzyme laundry product, launder. If stain remains, use chlorine bleach. Rinse thoroughly and launder.
Grass	Soak using enzyme detergent product. Launder. Bleach if necessary.
Gravy	Soak in cool water with enzyme detergent product. Launder.
Grease and Oils	Scrape off excess. Rub detergent into stain. On some wash and wear or permanent press fabrics, allow detergent to stand on stain for several hours. Launder in hot water. If stain persists, sponge thoroughly with trichloroethane. Rinse thoroughly and launder.
Ink Ballpoint	To remove fresh stains, sponge with amyl acetate if fabric is made of acetate, Arnel, Dynel, Verel; use acetone on other fabrics. Old stains may also require bleaching. Rinse well and launder.
Mimeograph and Printing	For fresh stains, rub with soap or detergent or sponge with turpentine. Rinse in hot water and launder. For stubborn stains, sponge with turpentine; for aluminum paint stains use trichloroethane. While stain is still wet with solvent, work soap or detergent into it, put the article in hot water, and soak it overnight. Launder. If stain remains, repeat treatment.
Lipstick	Loosen stain with trichloroethane. Rub soap or detergent in until stain outline is removed. Rinse well, launder.
Mercurochrome, Merthiolate, and Metaphen	Soak overnight in warm soap or detergent solution that contains 4 tablespoons of ammonia to each quart of water. Rinse well, launder.
Mildew	Launder with soap or detergent and chlorine bleach if color and fabric permit. If stain remains, sponge with hydrogen peroxide. Rinse well and launder.
Mud	Allow stain to dry, brush well, sponge with cold water. Launder.
Mustard	Rub soap or detergent into the dampened stain; rinse. If stain persists, soak in hot soap or detergent solution for several hours, if necessary. If stain remains, use chlorine or sodium perborate bleach or hydrogen peroxide depending on fabric. Rinse well.
Paint, Varnish	For fresh stains, rub soap or detergent or sponge with turpentine. Rinse with hot water and launder. For stubborn stains, sponge with turpentine; for aluminum paint stains use trichloroethane. While the stain is still wet with solvent, work soap or detergent into it, put the article in hot water, and soak overnight. Launder. If stain remains, repeat treatment.
Perspiration	Launder with soap or detergent and hot water. Bleach if necessary.
Perfume or Cologne	Wash immediately in soap or detergent and hot water — don't let stain age. Bleach if necessary.
Rust	Moisten area with lemon juice and salt, dry in sun. Rinse and launder.
Urine	Sponge stain with cool water or soak for at least 30 minutes. If stain remains, work a soap or detergent into it, then rinse. Launder. If color of fabric has changed, sponge stain with ammonia or vinegar and rinse well. Launder.
Yellowing due to chlorine bleach—fabric reaction	Rinse fabric thoroughly. Use a color remover according to directions.

Grime Builds Up

It may surprise you to know that about 16 pounds of dirt and grime collects on the living room carpet every six months. Spot cleaning and light touch-ups with rug shampoo on a frequent basis go a long way towards a year-round clean home.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

If I were going to choose someone to be annoyed with I think it would be the person who says, "I told you so!" However I am tempted to say it myself today — in a very friendly way!

The letter before me says, "Is there anything that can be done about freckles? Can they be removed? How can I avoid them? How can I hide them? Please help. I have always had them but they are so much worse now than ever before. Maybe it is because I have been out in the sun more this summer. That couldn't be the only reason, could it?"

It is almost sure to be the reason! I am receiving many letters now from readers concerning freckles, brown spots on the hands, and spotted complexions. Extended direct exposure to the summer sun can produce all of these. In fact many skin specialists now believe that this may play a greater role in aging the skin than years do.

Now about the freckles! This summer no doubt more popped out and the ones you already had may have darkened. In case you failed to do it this summer, next hot season be sure to take all of the precautions I wrote about this spring and summer and which I will repeat next year. You just have to be more conservative and use more preventive measures than a girl or woman with a different complexion.

As you probably know, the freckles will fade some this fall and winter. The bleaching creams may help dim them some too. There is a process called skin planing. However the result is only temporary and the treatment rather severe. Why not decrease your exposure to direct sunlight, use more protective equipment and apply makeup for a coverup?

* * *

There are many good products which hide skin blemishes. When you buy cosmetics select a shade halfway between the color of your freckles and the natural tone of your skin. The former would be too dark and the latter too light.

Many beauty preparations may be made at home, says Mrs. Lowman, and she gives you formulas and directions in her leaflet, "Reconditioning at Home." If you would like to have this leaflet, send your request with a stamped, self-addresses envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Ω OMEGA Constellation

Self-winding, calendar-dial Constellation chronometer, $185. Other Constellations, $175 to $1000

The rating of "chronometer" is reserved for timepieces of exceptional accuracy which have undergon 360 hours of rigid testing . . . in extremes of heat and cold. The peerless accuracy of every Omega Constellation is certified by an official Swiss Testing Bureau. So exacting are these tests, less than one out of every 50,000 watches qualifies for this coveted rating. In addition to official chronometer tests, Constellation's 24-jewel automatic movement receives 1497 quality-control inspections during manufacture . . . assuring longer life.

Powered by gravity, the Omega Constellation winds itself as you wear it. Without hand-winding, or power-cells which frequently need replacing, it will run for years and years, as long as you wear it. Calendar-dial models tell the exact date as well as the precise time . . . automatically. The Constellation is one of the world's finest watches. Ask for free Omega style brochure.

Discretion Is Key in Backcombing

Fashion trends nothwithstanding, there are still some girls who tease their hair so that the total picture is one of Atlas balancing the world on his shoulders. Smart girls want the world at their feet, not on their heads.

* * *

A minimum of back-combing, to give extra fullness to a hairstyle is attractive — anything more takes away from the shiny, clean, healthy look that makes hair attractive. Here discretion is the key.

Sees Curves on Fashion Front

By JEANNE NELSON

Just because we don't all have starter-bra figures, it doesn't mean all is lost on the fashion front. According to Free Press fashion editor, Marji Kunz, there are other alternatives.

The fashion expert advised her Village Woman's Club audience Tuesday morning to uphold American womanhood in streamlined versions of undergarments.

"These," she says, "give the body a natural appearance without abandoning support altogether. It's the old, tightly constructed angular figure that's out," she declares "and a new, soft and curvaceous look that takes over now."

"This season's heroines are sultry," she explains, "and couture houses throughout the world are following this trend. Stiff little dresses of the past few years have fallen from designer favor to clingy styles that follow the drape of softer fabrics."

She reports that the flirt of the 30s, the 20s flapper and even the Gibson Girl will all be big looks on the '69-'70 fashion scene.

Makeup, claims Mrs. Kunz, can be the tattletale of age. A transparent look that carries off a feeling of naturalness is the one for today, she commented. "Heavy eyeliner is being replaced with a delicate touch or simply none at all," she adds.

On the hosiery front, she quips, "plain, beige nylons just aren't exciting, although they are acceptable. For the new clunkie shoes, the better look is a dark one matching, if you can, footwear. Incidentally, three inch heels are coming back but in the new clunkie trend.

CHAINS 'OUT'

"Just when we're all beginning to realize how versatile and comfortable those chain belts are, and I just hate to part with mine, it's true, they're out. Instead, it's leather and braided links that will take over," she wailed.

She did offer a pleasant surprise however, with the news that those tiny handbags have finally given over to more practical versions geared to accommodate the usual trappings.

Other familiars from the past include long, long ropes of pearls and fair-sized button earrings. And, remember those gaudy Spanish shawls with maybe 10 inches of silky fringe? Well, you guessed it, they're IN. This time around, you, instead of the piano, wear it.

Pants and pants costumes remain leaders as daytime alternatives. There is some difference in these, however, she says, with the wide, wide leg look turning to a stovepipe version. This is a more straight up and down line rather than a fit and flare one.

She predicts that hemlines (at least in our area) will linger for awhile just about where they are, but adds cautiously, "The French designers like the longer look."

To this I must add, a week or so ago, Marji showed slides of the new designer collections at the Fashion Group of Detroit's luncheon, with the bulk of them at mid-calf.

During her recent visit to London, she succumbered to the maxi coat. Her choice is a red vinyl raincoat, about which she says her husband has some serious doubts. "In fact, he thinks I look like an overdone ball park frank in it," she laughed.

Information on hair styles included the news that a skinny head is fashionable. Long hair pulled back, either into a bun or falling free, is smoothed from the face. And, are you ready for this? Crocheted snoods were reportedly seen in one of the high fashion magazines.

Pontiac Press Photo

Marji Kunz follows her own fashion dictates Tuesday in the Village Woman's Club as she wears a smoothed, back-from-the-face hair style and those new puffy sleeves being featured for both daytime and evening wear. Here she chats with Mrs. Roger Crimmins of Orchard Lake.

R. P. Moores Repeat Vows

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Quail of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Moore of Wooddale Court, Bloomfield Township.

Following a honeymoon trip to Canada and the eastern states, the newlyweds will reside in Big Rapids.

Never lay a garden rake down anywhere and leave it for grass or weeds to quickly grow around and hide. Someone may later step on its prongs and receive a bad foot wound or step on a part of it and cause the other end to fly up and hit him in the face.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

So many of the patterns today have uncomfortable necklines, they are too high in the neckline and almost make it impossible to drive a car or do anything else. Can one cut any kind of neckline without making other pattern adjustments?

Mrs. A. L.

Dear Mrs. A. L.:

Rather than cut out a neckline without a pattern, I would suggest that you keep the pattern of your favorite neckline at your finger tips and use it as a guide for cutting the neckline of any garment you are working with. Simply lay this part of the pattern over your other pattern, line up the center front or back with the shoulder seam and then proceed cutting the neckline and the facing from your "tried and true pattern."

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. W. B. Crosby, Fremont, Iowa is this week's winner of the Tailor Trix pressing board for her following suggestion.

"I have found that when I sew with velvet, the zipper foot, that I bought for the new invisible zippers, works much better than my regular presser foot. The velvet doesn't move out of line as easily because the foot slides on each side of the needle." (Any tip that can make sewing on velvet easier is certainly worth a try.)

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I was trying to use the zigzag stitch on my sewing machine for hemming the sides of a scarf. I almost gave up because the edges ended up looking so pulled out of shape and stretched. Is there a trick to this simple operation?

Mrs. L.E.R.

Dear Mrs. L.E.R.:

When you try this little trick, you will be amazed how simple it is to use the zigzag stitch for finishing any kind of cut edge. Carefully turn and press about one-half inch edge of the fabric. Now use the zigzag on the edge of this fold. When you are finished, use a sharp scissors and carefully cut away the excess close to the stitching.

Dear Mrs. Farmer,

I am a beginner with sewing and wonder why when I sew two long pieces of material together they don't come out even at the end. The top piece is always longer. This happens whether I sew from the bottom up to the top or the top down to the bottom.

Mary S.

Dear Mary S.:

If you pin your two pieces of fabric together and pin often enough, they can't possibly come out uneven at the end. If you have underlined your garment, it is necessary to pin more frequently.

The easiest way to judge how many pins you need is to watch your seam as you stitch. If the fabric has a tendency to form a small pleat just before you get to a pin, there is too much space between pins. Pin seams firmly so that the pin is holding both sides of the stitching line, not ending right at the seamline.

You may find the answers to your questions on how to adjust a pattern for a better fit in Mrs. Farmer's booklet, "Your Pattern and You." In sending for this booklet, please enclose 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request and mail to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Vote Will Double Birth Control Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee, after hearing pleas for massive programs to help combat the world population explosion, has voted to double U.S. expenditures for birth control.

This would boost the amount to encourage family planning in developing nations during the current fiscal year to $100 million, double the amount for fiscal 1969.

It was the same committee, in the 1968 foreign aid bill, which first wrote in specific authority to spend $35 million in the family planning field—although aid funds had backed such activities before that.

Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, offered the amendment Tuesday to earmark the $100 million in the Nixon administration's proposed $2.6 billion foreign aid authorization bill. The amendment, which doesn't add funds to the bill, was approved 17-5.

President Nixion earlier in the year sent Congress a special message on population and the administration pledged itself to carry on increased aid for voluntary family planning programs. But the administration bill did not specify the amount of funds.

A series of witnesses which urged the committee to set a specific amount included William H. Draper Jr., national chairman of the Population Crisis Committee.

"The time given the world to solve the population explosion before it is too late is growing shorter and shorter . . ." Draper testified. "Only massive birth control operating effectively throughout the developing world can restore the balance and save what is today a deteriorating situation."

FACES CUTS

The foreign aid bill faces cuts again this year in Congress. More than $1 billion was slashed from President Lyndon B. Johnson's request last year, and the final appropriation was $1.75 billion.

The committee, still working on the bill, rejected attempts to cut the $100 million figure or to put the family planning funds on a matching basis with efforts by recipient nations.

The funds, which could be either loans or grants, could go for such things as demographic studies, research, dissemination of family planning information and provision of medical assistance and supplies.

Reschedule Class

Because the demand for Bishop Sewing I has overcrowded the first class at Pontiac YWCA, a second class will meet on Thursdays from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Paul S. Squires is the instructor for the class which begins this week.

McCarthys Off to Puerto Rico for Honeymoon

The couple was married Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church. Patricia Scully and Donald Turnbull attended the couple.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zdunic of West Walton Boulevard, Mrs. Oliver Friess of Wauseon, Ohio and the late Gerald McCarthy.

The couple will reside in Pontiac following a honeymoon trip to Puerto Rico.

Adhesive Tiles Press Into Place

An inexpensive way to brighten up wall areas is with self-adhering vinyl tiles that simulate elegant ceramics, and and which anyone can press into place with no trouble or mess.

Because they can be washed off repeatedly with soap or detergent, these tiles provide practical protection for surfaces which attract grease and splatters.

Clean Americans

As typically American as apple pie and baseball is cleanliness — vividly attested to by the more than 31 million bathtubs in this country.

Flower Talk

THEIR FIRST USES

Long ago, flowers were not used to decorate homes, but instead they were used in elaborate religious ceremonies and festivals. The very religious people of ancient time loved the beauty that flowers gave to their festival.

They were also used, as they are now, in the rites of life and death and in times of sickness. Some churches give rosebuds to the parents of a newborn child in their church family. Flowers also express devotion of love.

We give our floral arrangements the very best of care in times of happiness and sorrow. Call FE 2-0127 and we will always be there when you need us.

Art Classes for Youths Are Slated

A new season of art classes for young people from seven through 19 years, sponsored by Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries, gets under way Saturday in the Young People's Art Center.

There are six 90-minute class sessions held over 10 weeks. These begin Saturday at 9 and 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., and on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 4 p.m.

During the first semester, various graphic processes will be stressed; in the second, sculpture and collage, followed by painting and drawing.

There will be a concentration on developing skills in a particular medium and media lines will be crossed when new ideas are generated by the class.

Home Reception Follows Nuptials

The couple exchanged vows Saturday in Orchard Lake Community Church. Donna Jay and Phillip Townsend were honor attendants.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Huber and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wietzke of Perry.

Mekong Growing More Secure

By NAT GIBSON

TAN AN, Vietnam (UPI) — The overhead fan in the faded French mansion whirred restlessly as the young police chief peered at the red spots polka-dotting the Long-An province map.

"I think we cause many problems for the Vietcong," he said. "Yes, many problems."

Quickly his fingers stabbed at the red spots speckled like measles throughout this critical Mekong Delta province guarding the southern approaches to Saigon. Each of the red dots represented a three-man national police substation at the village and district levels.

Six months ago there were no red dots on the map. Now there are 29 and within the next 30 days there will be 50.

SECURE AREAS

This development is primarily due to the spread of secure areas within the province. Although individually vulnerable, each of these small stations is protected by interlocking webs of ambushes and guard posts set up by government militariamen and the People Self Defense Force (PSDF), an armed civilian movement.

Behind this military screen, the police work towards weeding out the remnants of the Vietcong and their sympathizers.

"We plan to have policemen in every one of the province's 80 villages by the end of this year," 29-year-old Le Huu Tong said. "Then the Communists have no home they can go to, no place they can relax."

His American adviser, Dick Peterson of Orange, Calif., nodded his agreement.

FORMER POLICEMAN

The husky former California policeman who has worked with the Vietnamese for three years was pleased with the story the map told.

"That is progress," he said. "Things are coming along real well around here."

In November 1968, the government controlled only 30 per cent of the province's 364,000 persons while the Vietcong ruled about 33 per cent.

DRAMATIC CHANGE

The situation has changed dramatically since then.

Using constant military pressure, the government has extended its control to more than 65 per cent of the people while whittling the Communists' influence to about 10 to 15 per cent.

"The combined pressure of everyone plus the village elections are keeping the Communists on the run," Peterson said. "The Vietcong do not appreciate the pacification program. They try to harass us, but they have not made much progress."

Junior Editors Quiz on LAUGHING

QUESTION: Why do we really laugh?

ANSWER: According to students of such things, human emotions sort out into two main groups. One represents feelings of anger, fear, hate. Bodily processes speed up under the spur of such emotions; more blood is pumped into the veins, giving extra energy if needed.

The second much more pleasant group of emotions is concerned with joy, happiness, love. Laughter is connected with this group. When we are very happy, bodily processes are also speeded up, yet usually there is not much physical activity to be accomplished.

Using our facial muscles for smiling is one way of using the extra energy. Waving our arms and jumping around as the happy young people are doing in our picture is another. Who knows what they're laughing at — they're having fun and feeling great.

Of course, funny things make us laugh, too, especially seeing familiar things in new, unexpected situations. The little clown with his umbrella is an example. Who ever heard of an umbrella which showered rain on its owner instead of protecting him?

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Coed Pares Paraphernalia

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — According to the present rate of attrition, by next year our daughter may be going back to her senior year at college with nothing more than a toothbrush and a checkbook.

When she made her first excursion into the land of learning, Gay outdid the Boy Scouts in preparedness. What she took with her then would have been enough to establish clothing, shoe and appliance stores, with a drug and cosmetic business on the side.

To anyone watching her pack a trunk, suitcases, cartons and shopping bags, it was evident that she was headed for four years of isolation at an institute deep in the jungles of Africa. The fact is, she was going less than 300 miles from home to George Washington University, in the heart of the nation's capital.

Not only did she outfit herself with clothing sufficient to carry her through to a doctor's degree, but she armed herself with enough aspirin, allergy pills and cough syrup to enable the drug firms that produced them to declare an extra dividend.

UNAVAILABLE ITEMS?

As for cosmetics, she seemed convinced that eye makeup and foundation were completely unavailable in Washington, D. C., and only her forethought in going equipped with such exotic items as toothpaste, soap and shampoo would allow her to emulate the scouts in the field of cleanliness.

Obviously, a college education is impossible to achieve without the aid of a hair dryer, stereo, typewriter, clock-radio and electric blanket. Keeping in mind that she also might attend a few classes, Gay laid in a supply of pens, ink cartridges, loose-leaf paper, notebooks, pencils, erasers, rubber cement, cellophane tape, paper clips and typewriter ribbons that made her the envy of the college bookstore.

To convey these items to their destination—two bureau drawers and a closet shared with another girl—required that the family car be pressed into service as a truck. What would not fit in it was left behind to be shipped by commercial carrier.

Getting there was only half the fun. The rest came later, in the form of stuffing the assorted impedimenta into a minute elevator in the dorm and into an even more minute room, under the glaring gaze of her roommate.

PARES PARAPHERNALIA

When she came home for Thanksgiving that first year she brought with her some 50 pounds of extraneous equipment and the same process was repeated at Christmas, intersession and spring vacation.

Last year, returning as a sophomore, she pared her paraphernalia down to such an extent that it fit into one small trunk and one suitcase.

This year, preparing to go back to GW as a junior, she postponed any thought about packing until the last minute. "Oh I'll just throw a few things into a couple of suitcases the night before I leave," she said airily. "Who needs a lot of extra junk around at school?"

Court Nominee Pleads Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth says he regrets purchasing stock in a company involved in a case before his court in 1967 and has told a Senate committee: "I'm not going to get in this predicament again."

Haynsworth, chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals and President Nixon's nominee to the Supreme Court, pleaded his case with some apparent success in a second appearance before the Senate Judiciary Committee Tuesday.

"I guess you will be (confirmed)," said Sen. Birch E. Bayh, D-Ind., who has taken the lead in probing conflicts of interest charges against Haynsworth at confirmation hearings.

Bayh appeared to be conceding Haynsworth's confirmation before even hearing today's scheduled testimony from more than 20 witnesses, most opposing the South Carolinian.

'GREATEST TRAGEDY'

Another committee member, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said "It would be one of the greatest tragedies the American people could suffer" if Haynsworth were disqualified because of his purchase of 1,000 shares of Brunswick Corp. stock.

Haynsworth said "it never entered my mind" that he had sat on a case involving Brunswick just before purchasing the stock for $16,000. He said the case had been decided at that time, although the decision was not made public until several months later.

The case involved rival claims by Brunswick and a Charleston, S.C., landlord over equipment of a bowling alley proprietor who owed money to both. A lower court awarded the equipment to Brunswick and the circuit court sustained the ruling.

"You wish you had never heard of the Brunswick stock?" asked Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky.

GRIFFIN REEVALUATING

"I do, indeed," Haynsworth replied.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., told reporters he was reevaluating what he had earlier described as his reluctant support of Haynsworth's nomination.

Griffin said the Brunswick case was "insignificant in and of itself but it sheds some light" on Haynsworth's sense of propriety and his interpretation of judicial ethics.

Joyful Slap Causes Freak Gun Death

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit lawyer told police that when a client gave him a congratulatory clap on the chest Tuesday, his pistol fell from its shoulder holster, killing the client.

"He was euphoric," said attorney Robert Greenstein of business executive Martin B. Hexham, 38, of Livonia. "When he slapped me in the chest happily, he said he would use me anytime he had a problem."

Greenstein said he and Hexham — longtime friends — were returning to the client's car in a downtown Detroit parking lot just after the lawyer had helped clinch an important business deal involving the sale of a company.

* * *

"He was slapping me on the back, telling me how much he liked the way I handled two or three points in the negotiations," Greenstein explained. "He sort of slapped me in the chest and them I heard a loud bang."

SHOT ONCE

Police said Hexham was shot once in the abdomen, by a nine-millimeter automatic Walther pistol. He was dead on arrival at Detroit General Hospital. Hexham was a fleet account executive of the Radio Corporation of America's commercial electronics system division in Detroit.

No charges have been made against Greenstein. The homicide division continued to investigate the death.

"I've had a permit to carry a concealed weapon for about 12 years," Greenstein said. "I'm a trial lawyer and I get involved in some very heated conflicts. I have gotten a great number of threats over the past few years."

Greenstein said his pistol does have a safety, although he said he did not normally keep the safety on since the weapon was a double-action pistol presumably not capable of discharging without pressing the trigger.

City Police Investigate 3 Break-Ins

Three breaking-and-entering incidents reported to city police yesterday resulted in losses estimated at more than $2,700 authorities said today.

According to officers, thieves broke into the home of Robert Armstrong, 26, of 704 N. Perry, sometime between midnight and 9 a.m. yesterday.

In another break-in, Earl C. Smith Motor Freight Co., of 267 E. South Blvd. was looted sometime Monday night or Tuesday morning. After breaking a window, thieves removed merchandise valued at $275.

Also yesterday, bandits broke into and ransacked the home of John Porter, 73, of 168 Green. Taken were personal items and furniture valued at more than $475, officers said.

Storms Drench Parts of U. S.

By United Press International

Locally heavy thunderstorms drenched parts of Florida and Texas late yesterday and much of the rest of the nation also endured wet, cool conditions.

Nearly two inches of rain hit Cocoa, Fla., as heavy storms moved through the Cape Kennedy area. Almost three-quarters of an inch fell at McAllen, Tex.

Lighter precipitation was widespread from the eastern Gulf Coast to the lower Great Lakes and northern New England. Showers also accompanied an invasion of cool air into the far northwestern states.

Clear and cool weather dominated the areas from the Central Rockies to the western Midwest, while warmer weather moved into the Southwest.

October Draft Quota Is Cut

The Michigan Selective Service has issued a sharply reduced October draft call: 870 be inducted into U.S. armed forces.

The reduction is reflected in the quotas of area draft boards, whose calls are about two-thirds lower.

The cut coming in the wake of a Defense Department revision of estimated manpower needs, reduces the Michigan call from a previously scheduled 2,816 men.

State draft headquarters said local boards have been told to mail cancellation notices to men previously scheduled for induction but no longer needed for October. Many of those men likely will be called in November or December, according to the state board.

29 IN CITY

In Pontiac, local board 65 has reduced its call from 27 to 9 while board 67 went from 23 to 8 and board 331 was reduced from 34 to 12.

The quota at Farmington local board 328 was reduced from 67 to 23.

According to another Defense Department decision, the original national quota of 29,000 men for October will be spread over three months: 10,000 in both October and November and 9,000 in December.

Cash, Items Stolen From Home in Area

A total of $3,773 in cash and valuables was reported stolen from a Waterford Township home last night.

Ethyl Chapdelaine, 6303 Dellwood, told township police the burglary loot included a $1,500 diamond ring and $1,319 in furs.

She said she went shopping for about 2½ hours and discovered a back door window broken and the house ransacked when she returned about 7 p.m.

Missing was $600 in cash and 50 Kennedy half-dollar pieces, a small safe, coats, a chest and a sterling silver set.

Pontiac-area commuters will have a chance tomorrow to state their preferences regarding future train schedules for the Grand Trunk Western Railroad.

Railroad personnel will hand out about 1,000 questionnaires to commuters on Detroit-bound trains from Pontiac and the northern suburbs. Commuters can indicate schedule preference and make other comments.

Officials will study the answers, for use in preparing possible timetable changes at the end of October.

Cars Recalled

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Shelby Automotive Co., Inc., has notified owners of 1969 Shelby GT 500 cars to return them to dealers for reworking of the fuel tank venting system. The company said approximately 1,400 cars are involved in the recall, aimed at curing fuel filler cap leakage which could be ignited by the exhaust.

with purchase of this $135.00 Osmun's hanger!

An Osmun's hanger is well worth $135 (even though we ordinarily give them away for nothing).

In case you hadn't noticed, an Osmun's hanger is quite special. It's shaped to keep a suit in shape, and it has a handy metal hook that will fit most clothes closet rods. And, as if that weren't enough, an Osmun's hanger holds Eagle suits at Osmun's. No other hanger can make that statement.

Because no other hanger gets close to Osmun's huge selection of Eagle suits. And what a selection of colors and patterns it is! Come to Osmun's and look at our Eagle suits . . .

Rub shoulders with our $135 hanger.

Exiled Tibet Leader Hopeful

"Mao Tse-tung is now acting according to his impulses. He acts like the ancient emperors. What he says is the law. What he is doing now is just what he opposed in the beginning."

In an interview with the Associated Press at his mountaintop home of exile here in northwest India, the onetime godking of Tibet spoke of China's take-over of his country and his hopes for the future.

The Dalai Lama is not the retiring esthetic one might expect. His large and expressive eyes behind blue-tinted glasses watch every move of his guest. His voice is a rich baritone that can explode in laughter or rise sharply as emotions pour from him while he talks of the country he fled in 1959.

IMPRESSED

He once thought well of Mao. "When I first met him I was impressed that he really had deep feelings for the people, for the poor people.

"But after the cultural revolution my attitude has changed. Now everything in China is in the hands of Mao and his wife. This is very bad. Unless . . ." he paused. "Unless they are being used . . ." He left the poised question unanswered but raised the possibility that Mao's power is steadily being usurped, possibly by his heir, Lin Piao, and the army.

In 1959 the Dalai Lama, then 24, fled from Tibet, where he was revered as a living Buddha, through the icy passes of the Himalayas to safety in India, traveling for days by mule.

Ten years after those harrowing days, he still hopes to return to an independent Tibet. He pins much of his hopes on the youths of Tibet, youths who are now reported to be again fighting with the Chinese military authorities controlling Tibet.

'OUR HOPE'

"These children are our hope. This is why we are struggling. We have the right to struggle. Our struggle has a practical purpose.

"Tibet can even be a Communist state if that's what the majority of the people want. It doesn't matter what they choose as long as it is what the Tibetans themselves want."

Asked what rebel activities were developing in Tibet, the Dalai Lama talked around a specific answer. But he said that organized rebel groups were difficult to sustain. "We have no outside support," he added.

DALAI LAMA

"But our main hope remains with the young Tibetans. They have a strong sense of resistance including the young Tibetan Communists.

'NOT SATISFIED'

"The majority of the Tibetans are not satisfied under the rule of a foreign power. Tibet is a free country.

"Our struggle here is not for the Tibetans who have escaped. It is for those still in Tibet. If those still in there are satisfied with their life and the foreign rule, then it is senseless to struggle for them."

Chinese broadcasts from Lhasa have admitted that some fighting factions in Tibet are "in favor of fighting a civil war and of splitting up the revolutionary ranks."

The broadcasts declared that despite Mao's order for all people to support the army some forces were aiming "the spearhead of the struggle at the People's Liberation Army units stationed in Tibet."

Refugees who recently escaped from Tibet report widespread fighting in provincial cities, but largely between rival Maoist factions.

Although the Dalai Lama declined to discuss it, it is known that his top aides make trips into the remote principality of Mustang in northern Nepal where rebel Tibetan tribesmen have a base area. Strikes into Tibet by Khamba tribesmen, with Indian and American support, have been conducted for years.

* * *

The Dalai Lama made no attempt to speculate when it might be possible for him to return to his fabled country. But he is young, and he is patient.

(Editor's Note — This is the story of one day in the life of two separate worlds, the world of the peace talks in Paris and the war in Vietnam. What follows are the hour-to-hour events that happened in the lives of people inhabiting these two separate worlds, seven hours apart.)

PARIS 9 a.m.

The day is drizzly, chilled by the first touch of early autumn. In the charming suburb of Verriere le Buisson, Ly Van Sau, a member of the Vietcong or Provisional Revolutionary Government as it is now called, abandons his morning yoga exercises, gulps a cup of weak tea in a conference room decorated with pictures of American youths burning their draft cards, and climbs into a four-door black Peugeot with five other delegates. His boss, Dinh Ba Thi, the deputy chief of the delegation, rides alone in the back seat of a larger black Citroen.

An identical convoy rolls out from behind the tall blue fence at the compound of the North Vietnamese delegation in the less charming suburb of Choisy le Roi. In the lead Citroen, flying Hanoi's red flag with a gold star, sits Col. Ha Van Lau, acting chief of the delegation. Although Choisy le Roi votes Communist in most general elections, the people in the streets and at the outdoor cafes neither smile nor wave as the motorcade sweeps by with a wail of sirens.

LODGE EARLY

In the lobby of the Hotel Crillon, at the Place de la Concorde, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, tall and debonair, strides down the main staircase; he never takes the elevator. This Thursday, he is earlier than usual, and his plainclothesman hasn't arrived. Alone, Lodge crosses the Rue Boissy d'Anglas into the garden of the U.S. Embassy, nods at the Marine guard on duty, and almost at a lope disappears into the annex building for a last-minute staff conference.

In Vietnam, it is now 4 p.m.

A soft rain drips through the gnarled rubber trees as Pfc. James A. Reed of Odessa, Mo., pads along a fresh trail, his eyes searching ahead into the deepening gloom. He is point man for a platoon from A Company, 2nd Battalion, 3rd Regiment of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade, which operates northeast of Saigon in the eastern edges of War Zone D and in the rubber plantations of Long Khanh Province. Its mission is to prevent the Vietcong and North Vietnamese from launching coordinated attacks, to develop pacification, and to help upgrade the 18th South Vietnamese Infantry Division.

Reed, 21, is a draftee. He has been in Vietnam three months.

Suddenly, gliding around a bend in the trail ahead of him, is the first North Vietnamese Reed has ever seen, dead or alive. The young American drops to his knee and instinctively brings his 12-gauge shotgun to his shoulder. The Vietnamese swings up his AK47 rifle, but the American is quicker.

REWARD FOR SOLDIER

At 4:15 p.m., a Huey helicopter spins into Cam Tam hamlet to pick up Pfc. John Miller, a 19-year-old infantryman from Tiffin, Ohio, who has spent 188 days in the field and is being rewarded for good soldiering by being named the "old guard of the day."

The honor entitles him to change places with the battalion commander Maj. Bernard Loeffke, of Malibu Beach, Calif. Pfc. Miller gets to sleep in his commander's comfortable bed back in base camp, drink his boss's beer, use his writing table and have breakfast in bed. The bronzed Loeffke will stay in the field.

In the tangled jungles of War Zone D, staccato bursts of fire shred the uneasy quiet. The point platoon for B Company, 4th Battalion, 12th Regiment of the 199th Brigade already has killed two North Vietnamese soldiers with a small group heading south. Pfc. Richard King of Pinellas Park, Fla., has lugged his cumbersome 90mm recoilless cannon to a well-used path and is setting it up when bullets crack around him.

DIG UP STREET

Paris 10 a.m.

With all four delegations tucked safely behind the yellow satin draperies of the ground-floor conference room, the press retires en masse to L'Etoile Vesitienne, a cafe across the street. At outdoor tables under red umbrellas advertising Dubonnet they commence the weekly vigil of waiting for the session to end.

In Vietnam, it is now 5 p.m.

As the rain settles into a steady downpour Lt. Col. Nguyen Cong Vinh, an impassive, thin-faced South Vietnamese officer, souriv contemplates the water rising inside the old brick house that is his forward regimental command post. Vinh, once a sergeant in the French army, has seen war sweep across his land for three quarters of his 43 years. He and his fellow officers, watching the United States disengage its troops from Vietnam, are realizing the full burden of the war might soon fall on them. Vinh has seen his casualties double in the past few months, while American casualties diminished.

BEGINS STATEMENT

Paris 10:35 a.m.

Ambassador Lam selects a microphone and beings to read his prepared statement in Vietnamese.

"In order to find a solution to the Vietnamese problem," he says, "the sine-qua-non condition is that all parties involved must be motivated by the same desire to end the war by way of negotiation instead of violence."

A Vietnamese interpreter translates his remarks into French, and an American interpreter carries them into English. Across the 26-foot round table with its baize cover the Hanoi and Vietcong delegations sit impassively.

Thirty-two delegates rim the table, eight to a delegation, like an enormous poker game. Behind them sit the "second team," lawyers, recorders, clerks. By agreement, only 60 people can be in the conference room at a time, 30 from each side.

In Vietnam, it is 5:30 p.m.

AP Wirephoto

A Vietnamese man in a panama hat and white shirt threads his way through the barbed wire and approaches Maj. Loeffke. The major listens to the man for a few moments and breaks into a wide grin. Loeffke, a former Special Forces officer who speaks French fluently, has recruited his own string of agents to seek out Vietcong sympathizers among the people of Cam Tam who work the Long Que rubber plantation. This agent has informed him of the whereabouts of two Vietcong agents.

* * *

"It's like knocking your head against a brick wall finding something to work on," says Loeffke. The rubber workers communicate with the Vietcong in subtle ways: a stick in the ground wearing a Vietnamese conical hat meaning to stay away; the hat next to the stick meaning it is safe to approach.

Paris 10:45 a.m.

In the Avenue Kleber, a double-decked sight-seeing bus goes by the seven-story whitish-gray building. The tourists are from Holland, and the guide tells them in Dutch that this is where the peace talks on Vietnam are being held.

"Perhaps today, the war will be over," he tells them playfully. They laugh and grind away with their movie cameras.

SADDLES UP FOR WAR

In Vietnam, it is 5:45 p.m.

Sgt. Jason Dale, 21, of Devil Lake, N.D., is saddling up for war, one of two Americans who will set up a night ambush with five Vietnamese popular force soldiers, and Dale is not slow to express his unhappiness. "I got stuck with it," he says.

It will be a long wet night for Dale, and for a platoon from his company led by Lt. Carrol Stewart from Albion, Ill., who will

... Peace Talks in Paris, War in Vietnam

Paris 11 a.m.

"As far as the Republic of Vietnam is concerned," he resumes, "when we agreed to sit at this meeting table, we asserted our will to put an early end to the war by way of negotiations. We accept a solution in which there is no winner or loser, as long as there is a just, long-lasting and guaranteed peace . . ."

GIRL SURRENDERS

In Vietnam, at 6 p.m., a bedraggled Vietnamese girl self-consciously stands outside a hamlet militia post near Xuan Loc, the provincial capital. She is 17 years old. Her name is Nguyen Thi Nhon. She has been with the Vietcong 13 months and she is surrendering.

Thi Nhon says she was conscripted in August 1968 and worked in a labor force. Later she became a nurse. She surrendered, she said, because she heard a taped broadcast by one of her friends who had surrendered two weeks earlier.

No, she said, she had never heard of the peace talks in Paris.

Not far away, a "slapstick" road mine is detonated by a Vietnamese army truck. The 20-pound blast wrecks the truck and wounds two Vietnamese soldiers.

Paris 11:30 a.m.

Lam, after speaking 56 minutes, sits down. There is no comment, no discussion, no applause.

Ambassador Lodge speaks next, for 12 minutes. After two introductory paragraphs, his statement is a repeat of President Nixon's statement Sept. 16 on the withdrawal of 35,000 more American troops.

In Vietnam, it is 6:30 p.m.

Pfc. King lies on the operating table at the 93rd Evacuation Hospital at Long Binh. Dr. Hooshang Kodivar of Huntington, W. Va., probes King's thigh wound and removes the small AK47 bullet. King is wheeled away and another wounded soldier takes his place.

BOMBARD CLEARING

Taking advantage of the last flickering light of day, two sleek A37s from the U.S. Air Force's 3rd Fighter Wing bombard a tiny clearing in War Zone C. The 1st Air Cavalry Division is landing a company of infantry there before dark, and the jets are preparing the way.

Paris—11:43 a.m.

Lodge concludes, and a member of the South Vietnamese delegation proposes a 20-minute recess. The delegates troop out their separate doors to their separate working rooms, beyond the coffee bars, where lunch is waiting.

* * *

"The toilet," says Steve Ledogar, press spokesman for the American delegation, "is the only truly democratic room in the building. It is shared by all delegations."

In Vietnam, at 6:50 p.m., a wet, forbidding night is settling across the land.

In Cam Tam village, the kids who were begging C-ration cigarettes from the American GIs scamper to their thatched homes. The babies stop crying.

MENU COMPLAINTS

Paris 12 noon

The Americans are always meaning to speak to the French Foreign Office about the sameness of the menu at the Hotel Majestic. Both sets of Vietnamese are always meaning to suggest that more Oriental dishes be added, but even in an area of agreement there is no initiative. Today, as always, there is a cold meat platter with ham and chicken, potato salad, french bread, beer, cola and tiny tarts garnished with a single strawberry.

In Vietnam, barely 15 minutes after dark, 10 rounds of mortar fire slap into the jungled bivouac of a 1st Air Cavalry unit 58 miles northwest of Saigon. Enemy troops slide up to the barbed wire. The night roars with claymore mines, tracers, rockets that continue for an hour. The North Vietnamese are driven away as helicopter gunships and artillery shred the jungle. Eight Americans are wounded. Enemy losses: unknown.

Paris 12:23 p.m.

Leading off for his side, Dinh Ba Thi scores President Nixon's troop withdrawal as a "perfidious maneuver," a "noisy clamor" and "arithmetical acrobatic feats which add to the general confusion." The United States prolongs the war, he charges, "to gain time to strengthen the puppet army and patch up the puppet administration . . ."

In Vietnam, it is 7:25 p.m.

A silver C141 Air Force Starlifter speeds along the wet tarmac of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base and heads for San Francisco; its cargo, 10 aluminum caskets containing the bodies of American GIs. Such planes have flown home 15,642 of America's dead sons since the peace talks began May 13, 1968.

PICKS UP BATON

Paris 1:17 p.m.

Col. Han Van Lau, last in the oratorical relay, picks up the baton for Hanoi. "Eight months have elapsed since Mr. Nixon entered the White House, and people in the United States and elsewhere wonder what he has done to bring an end to the U.S. war of aggression in Vietnam . . ."

It is nearing 8:20 p.m. in Vietnam.

The Armed Forces Radio Network, in its evening news, says that the 34th session of the Paris peace talks is under way.

"Just a bunch of people doing something that doesn't mean anything," grunts Maj. Henry M. Warren of Friona, Tex., sitting on a cot in the ramshackle forward headquarters of the Vietnamese 48th Regiment at Cam Tam as he digs into a can of C-ration turkey loaf. "The Vietcong aren't planning any settlement. They go on building their base camps out there. They're not preparing for peace; they're preparing for war."

Lt. Nugyen Van Ngan, 28, who has seen war since he was born, shakes his head. "No," he says, "the Americans will leave us to fight, and we will fight alone. We will have to."

A SAD LOOK

Paris 1:50 p.m.

The sun has come out over the gray mansard roof of the Hotel Majestic, but a cloud crosses the normally stoic features of Col. Lau. He looks sadly up at the ceiling and concludes his remarks with a quote from his late leader Ho Chi Minh: "The Vietnamese people firmly demand the withdrawal of all U.S. and satellite troops . . .

The ritual allows each side an opportunity for rebuttal, or "additional remarks," as the Americans prefer to call it. Lodge leads off with a four-minute plea to the other side "not to seek to belittle" the American troop withdrawal. Lam for once declines further comment. Thi and Lau add five-minute assaults on "Mr. Nixon's numbers games."

The third man in the Hanoi delegation says: "If no one else has anything to say, I propose we meet again next Thursday at 10:30. The 34th plenary session of the Paris meeting is over.

Vietnam 9 p.m.

Capt. James V. McGinnis is writing to his wife Joan in Wilmington, N.C. He tells her he misses her and that he is looking forward to seeing her on leave in November in Hawaii. He doesn't tell her he is sitting in a lonely rat-infested outpost with all but a handful of his men out on ambush patrols. He doesn't tell her that he hasn't shaved in days and that he is sick and tired of C-rations.

GRIM SATISFACTION

A few miles away, a rain-drenched trooper from A Company, 5th Battalion, 12th Regiment of the 199th Brigade, is feeling his way carefully through the jungle when his hand closes on the cold body of a man. One of his buddies finds another. The two dead are North Vietnamese killed in a fire fight that afternoon.

Sealab Project Delayed Again

The death of aquanaut Berry L. Cannon in a 600-foot dive last February cut short Sealab III. Now, the military economy drive is postponing the project, at least for the 1969-70 fiscal year.

"There are just no funds available," said a spokesman for the Naval Undersea Research and Development Center.

The Navy says the project will be revised.

Cannon was stricken in the second of two dives to repair helium leaks in the Sealab habitat off San Clemente Island. The death was attributed to carbon dioxide poisoning.

Episcopal Priest Tells of Drug Use as a Sacrament

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — An Episcopal priest told a Municipal Court judge Tuesday that he listed drugs along with the use of bread and wine, baptism, incense and music as forms of sacraments.

The Rev. Robert Cromey, vicar of St. Alden's church in San Francisco, told Judge Alvin Goldstein that he had smoked marijuana and experienced "euphoria, tranquility and calm, a sense of inwardness."

He appeared as a defense witness in a preliminary hearing for Jeffrey Stallard, 26, who is basing his defense to a charge of possession of marijuana on the claim that he uses it in a religious rite protested by the Constitution.

INTO THE NIGHT — Two members of a hunter-killer team move out from their base camp at dusk to spend a wet, uncomfortable night in the jungle laying in ambush for the enemy. The GIs are members of C Company, 2nd Battalion, 198th Infantry Brigade, based at Xuan Loc, 45 miles northeast of Saigon.

Maryland Job Corps Dispute Growing

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Corps training center, originally sponsored by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, has become the focus of an increasingly bitter federal-state controversy.

The state of Maryland, prime contractor for the year-old job training center, wants to oust the company chosen by Agnew when he was governor to operate the center.

But the federal Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) has blocked the efforts of the new governor, Democrat Marvin Mandel, to replace the Burroughs Corp., despite a barrage of criticism of its work by both federal and state investigators and a record of only 37 graduates from an enrollment of 497.

Criticism of the center has ranged from its high dropout and hooky rate to such operational quirks as keeping the telephone number secret.

BOONDOGGLING REPORTS

There are other reports of boondoggling: the lack of proper tools for training and persistence in training youths in trades for which there is no demand.

The impasse was supposed to come to a head Sept. 30, the end of a 90-day federal extension of the original Burroughs contract. But as the deadline approached, reports circulated at the center and the statehouse that OEO planned to give the company another four-month extension.

OEO's insistence on retaining the Burroughs management appeared to be somewhat at odds with at least two Nixon administration policy decisions — to close Job Corps centers with poor records and to start giving states more responsibility for manpower programs.

An issue not at stake is whether private enterprise can do a better job than a government agency at the center.

OFFSHOOT OF FIRM

While the state is trying to dump Burroughs, a business machine company that has branched into the growing job training field, its own candidate to run the center is the Westinghouse Learning Corp., an offshoot of the electrical manufacturing firm.

In rejecting Westinghouse, OEO said its $2.3-million bid, which would include reopening the former Job Corps conservation center in the Catoctin Mountains, would not do because it stressed practical training rather than an "experimental or research approach."

Mandel subsequently submitted a new bid prepared by Westinghouse and told OEO Director Donald Rusfeld that he would rather have the center closed than continued under the present management, which one of the governor's investigators described as chaotic.

OEO to date, has not only rejected the public demands of the Mandel administration for a management change at Baltimore, but also spurned the recommendations of federal officials.

LAST VESTIGES

United Press International learned during inquiry into the case that on July 2, after Burroughs got its first extension, a Job Corps official wrote the OEO: "We feel that the Burroughs Corp. should not be given another long-term contract to operate the center."

The Baltimore center is one of the last vestiges of the Job Corps left under OEO control. When the Nixon administration decided to close down 59 Job Corps facilities last spring, it turned the remainder of the program over to the Labor Department.

OEO retained the Baltimore center because it was classified as an experiment: To see if youthful dropouts did better in a center that provided housing, food, clothing and medical care as well as job training or in a "commuter" situation in which they lived at home.

The commuter concept has gained support in the Labor Department, which says it will open 30 skill centers in and near big cities to replace the abandoned Job Corps centers.

LOTS OF PROBLEMS

The Baltimore project has been plagued with problems from the beginning.

It started in 1967, when OEO took a three-year lease on the antiquated downtown Mount Royal Hotel for $57,000 a year. It was to be a job center for unwed mothers, but that proposition fell through after $300,000 had been spent.

In May of 1968, the Job Corps said the site was being considered for an experimental men's skill center, and a short time later Agnew's national relations aide, Charles S. Brasler, announced the $2.5-million contract with Burroughs for fiscal year 1969.

Since the start-up, the center has had three directors, who are Burroughs employes, and three project managers, who are OEO men. The center staff has been as high as 165, but more recently has dropped to about 90.

$3.2 MILLION

Burroughs has received a total of $3,215,899 for operating the center. That figure includes a fixed fee, or profit, to Burroughs amounting to $137,127.

The training was to be for jobs in printing, drafting, photography, cooking and other restaurant work, and electrical appliance service and repair.

Close track was to be kept of the graduates to see if commuters did better than live-in trainees.

DROPOUTS

Of the 497 corpsmen who entered the center after its opening, 308 dropped out or were "terminated" by the management. There have been 37 graduates.

Mandel decided to replace Burroughs following his review of the center conducted by Dr. Paul Weinstein, his executive for labor and manpower development and a former economics professor at the University of Maryland.

Weinstein was assisted by Percy Thomas, a Negro counselor for the State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, who previously served as a counselor at the Camp Kilmer Job Corps Center.

Thomas went into the Baltimore center and talked with the corpsmen and the staff. Thomas said he was asked to leave the center by a Burroughs official and did so.

'IN CHAOS'

"When I went in there the whole place was in chaos," Thomas told UPI. "I saw so much that disgusted me that I couldn't sleep some nights."

His criticisms were supported, in many cases, by OEO evaluation reports and minutes of the center's staff meetings that have been seen by UPI.

The center never was filled and from the beginning had an absentee rate that grew to its current rate of about 33 per cent.

NO CONTACT

When a corpsman was AWOL, "there was no evidence that someone attempted to contact the youth and bring him back to the center," an April evaluation of the center by OEO said.

Thomas charged that the staff of the center was not adequately trained nor fully informed and that their attitude was "unprofessional."

The OEO evaluation noted that the management had not established standards for corpsmen entering its work experience program and that counselors were unaware of promotion and incentive awards for corpsmen.

It was also reported by one evaluator that the job survey of the Baltimore area undertaken by Burroughs to determine what kinds of skills should be taught, as required by the contract, was inadequate.

Even where it was accurate there were problems, the report noted.

"Labor market information developed by the center does show a demand for draftsmen and offset printers but none for darkroom technicians and they intend to train the latter," it said.

Thomas also reported that at one point the center was operating with an unlisted telephone.

Principal Hasn't Time for Hunting Missing Watches

SAN ANTONIO, Tex (AP) — The Rhodes Junior High principal, Frank Runnels, says he has spent half his time in the past 10 years searching for lost watches.

But now Runnels has asked parents to make their children leave their watches home.

Every school day in past years, he said, two or three pupils would report lost wristwatches and the job of looking for them was getting out of hand.

"Parents are cooperating beautifully," he says.

Purdue to Plant a Patch of Pot

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — The Treasury Department has authorized Purdue University to plant a patch of marijuana in order to try out its photo-computer technique for studying crops from the air.

Purdue's laboratory for agriculture remote sensing is able to identify many crops from the air through distinctive colors, but researchers say so far they have not found a method of detecting marijuana from other weeds while on high.

BEST OF BEST — Craig Hanson (80) who now leads the Midwest Football League in pass receiving with 26 catches and 8 touchdowns, will be facing one of the best defensive backs in the league, 6-2 Zellie Dow of Lackawanna Saturday night. Dow leads the MFL in pass interceptions with 7 and it was his 90-yard return against the Firebirds earlier this season that ruined the F-Birds. The two top performers will face each other Saturday night at Wisner Stadium in the top game of the MFL.

Lackawanna Here Saturday

Opponents Fire Up F-Birds

The Pontiac Firebirds are happy and concerned today.

Happy over the news that they may have their biggest crowd in history, the Firebirds received a message of "warning" from their next two challengers.

Leon Kuhn, the Lackawanna coach and scout who has watched the Firebirds said, "That's all right, we'll pack them in for you and then give you a whipping."

After losing their first game to Lansing 18-15 last weekend the Lancers, according to Kuhn "have fire in their eyes."

Lansing in the meantime is also excited about its forthcoming game with the Firebirds next week.

LANSING WAITING

Walt Waldron the owner of the Lansing team rplayed a message yesterday saying, "I see where the Firebirds are expecting a big crowd for Lackawanna. It's too bad we don't play them (the Firebirds) first because we're gonna beat them and it would be a shame to spoil their crowd."

Waldron says also, "we expect a full house for our game with Pontiac."

The All-Stars play at Centennial Field which seats slightly over 4,000.

At any rate, the Firebirds went into a spirited practice last night at Dayton Field, eager and angry of what they call "loud-mouthing" from their upcoming foes.

"We beat Dayton good, and then they say we were lucky because Dayton lost some of its top players before the game because of team troubles," said Don Barrick, offensive guard of the Firebirds.

BIG JOE ANGRY

Big Joe Carter, 290 pound defensive end, who did not play because of an ankle injury in Lackawanna when the Firebirds lost 24-6, added, "let them (Lackawanna and Lansing) shoot off their mouths, we'll be as ready as they are."

Middle linebacker Jon Izer, the defensive captain of the team, said he heard the comment from the Lackawanna scout in which it was commented, "We have a couple 270 pound offensive linemen who can move anything Pontiac has."

"Let them try coming up the gut," said Izer, "we'll see how tough those big guys are."

Lackawanna however doesn't rip the gut too often. The Lancers have Butch VanRemmen, one of the top passers in the league with a couple top receivers in John McHale and Gary Hussian.

They also have Charles Harris a power and speed in 200-pound runner from West Virginia as their top ground gainer; Zellie Dow a 6-2 and 210-pound defensive back from Howard University as current leader in the MFL with 7 interceptions and all-purpose player Pat Shine who plays in the defensive secondary, passes from the halfback spot and even moves to QB when needed.

The Firebirds will be without Mike Samuilow, an injured defensive back. Also a question is running back Bobby Brown who has a fractured hand, and Chuck Stein, the mainstay of the secondary who suffered a leg injury two weeks ago.

Kickoff Saturday is 7:30 p.m. Gates will open at 6:15.

Record Crowd Anticipated for F-Bird-Lancer Clash

There has never been a complete sellout at Wisner Stadium for an actual game, other than a near-sellout for a Detroit Lions scrimmage.

The Pontiac Firebirds are hoping Saturday night will produce the first crowd of 8,300-plus when they meet the powerful Lackawanna Lancers in the big battle of the Midwest football League.

Two of the six advance ticket outlets yesterday reported they had sold their allotment of tickets and requested more.

"I had 600 tickets and sold them all," said Paul Parks at the VFW Post 1370.

"Normally we put about 500 advance tickets at each of the six locations," said Firebirds' president Herb Cooley; "and we always figure that advance sales and season ticket holders make up about ¼ of our total sales and gate sales make up the rest.

"If this is the case this time then it would seem that our advance sale would reach 3,500."

Other than the Lions' scrimmages at Wisner was a Pontiac Central-Flint Central game back in the 40's which was reported to be around 7,600; a game between St. Michael and St. Fred about 10 years ago which drew 7,200 and a game between Pontiac Central and Bay City Central which drew 7,000.

With end zone seating and jammed to capacity the stadium would hold 10,000. However end zone bleachers have not been utilized for many years.

Lackawanna officials expect to have a couple hundred fans follow their team to Pontiac and they have not indicated how many tickets of their 300 they have sold.

Mets Go From Ridiculous to Absurd

PACKING — Ousted Boston Red Sox manager Dick Williams assists wife, Norma, as she begins packing at their Peabody home Tuesday. Williams said he was told it was a lack of communication with the players that cost him his job. Third base coach Eddie Popowski has been named interim manager for the rest of the season. Boston is third in the American League East division.

Clinch Tie for Crown; Atlanta Leads in West

By United Press International

If there's one thing the New York Mets learned during all those years of losing, it was how to win gracefully.

After seven years in which they never finished better than ninth, the Mets went from the ridiculous to the absurb this season and on Tuesday night they clinched at least a tie for the Eastern Division championship of the National League by beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2, in 11 innings.

And how did the once-ridiculed Mets react to this preposterous prosperity?

"It looked like the Yankee dressing room after they had ho-hummed their way to another pennant," said an observer in the comparatively sedate Met clubhouse. "Maybe they got so accustomed to watching other teams win they learned how to react to this new experience themselves."

WARNING ISSUED

However, everyone was warned that the scene would't be as serene tonight if the Mets clinch the division title against the Cards or if they have the job done for them by Montreal, which can eliminate the runner-up Cubs with a victory at Chicago this afternoon.

"Bring some extra clothes tomorrow, fellows, because that's when the big party's going to be," one Met player said.

No one is doing any celebrating yet in the Western Division, either, not even the Atlanta Braves, who climbed into first place with a 10-2 rout of the Houston Astros. The San Francisco Giants dropped to second, a half-game out, with a 5-4 loss to the San Diego Padres.

The third-place Cincinnati Reds also made their presence felt again in the tight race, belting the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-3 and 5-2, to climb within 3½ games of the top as the Dodgers dropped their sixth game. Elsewhere, Montreal subdued the Cubs, 7-3, and the Philadelphia Phillies edged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3.

INFIELD HIT

Postponed Tilt May Cost Lolich 20 Triumphs

True, Mickey Lolich did pitch a no hitter for Detroit against the Washington Senators Tuesday night. But a one-inning no-hitter doesn't count in the record books.

That was as far as the game got before the rains came down and the tarp came out at 8:08. It was an hour and 37 minutes before the umpires decided the rain would not relent enough to let the game get under way.

It was rescheduled for 5:30 today as part of a twi-night doubleheader. Casey Cox, 12-8, who was supposed to start for the Senators Tuesday, was to pitch the first game of the twinighter. But Lolich, 19-9, was tabbed to start the nightcap against Jim Hannan, 6-8. Denny McLain, 23-8, was the Tiger probable for the first game.

The rainout just about eliminated Lolich's chances of three shots at winning 20 games. He expected to pitch Saturday against Boston and in the season finale next Wednesday in Baltimore.

ONCE MORE

Now he figures he'll pitch Sunday and that will be all.

"I could pitch next Wednesday with only two days rest," he said. ". . . But last time I said something about that I got in trouble."

After his last game, which he lost to Cleveland Sept. 18, he complained that Manager Mayo Smith would not give him a better shot at 20 victories by pitching him with just two days rest.

Lion Makes Mark in Opening Defeat

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions didn't look exactly sparkling when they lost their season opener to Pittsburgh 19-16 Sunday.

But at least one Lion made his mark. Statistics released Tuesday showed running back Mel Farr as the surprise leader in pass receptions in the National Football League.

Detroit quarterback Bill Munson was in 12th among NFL passers after the first week of action. Munson completed 19 of 34 passes for 160 yards and one touchdown.

GAY BREWER
Two-Time Alcan Golf Winner

Billy Casper Set for Alcan

PORTLAND, Oregon (AP) — Billy Casper, one of the favorites to win the Alcan Golfer of the Year Tournament, said Tuesday he is completely recovered from a hand injury.

"I jarred my hand during the Ryder Cup matches last week," he said. "But I had it treated and the next day it was fine."

The $139,000 Alcan Tournament, which offers the richest first prize in golf — $55,000 — is being played over the 6,841-yard Portland Golf Club course Thursday through Sunday.

And that's one reason Casper is favored to win. He is the winner of three Portland Opens, including two played over the Portland Golf Club course.

FAVORITE SPOT

Those three victories — and salmon fishing — make Portland a favorite spot for Casper, who skipped a practice round Monday to go fishing.

Casper said he needed the rest after the grueling 36-holes-a-day in the Ryder Cup matches, which ended in a draw between the U.S. and the United Kingdom for the first time.

Casper shot a three-under-par 69 Tuesday during the pro - amateur event, but another favorite, Gay Brewer, and Frank Beard both had 67s.

Brewer is a favorite because he won the first two Alcan tournaments, played in Scotland and England. And despite a slow start on the pro tour this year, Brewer says he has been playing better golf the past two months than during any time in his career.

Surgery Okay, Bing May Play in Opener

Dr. Robert Bailey, who operated, said the surgery was done to eliminate an "old fracture which had not healed properly at the lower tip of the kneecap."

* * *

Bailey said it would be up to three weeks before Bing could resume running. He said, however, he felt Bing would be able to play in the Pistons' opening game of the National Basketball Association at Milwaukee Oct. 18.

Controversy Swirls Around Firing of Boston Manager

BOSTON (AP) — The firing of Dick Williams has stirred controversy galore in this town where just two years ago he was being idolized for leading Boston's 100-1 longshots to their Impossible Dream pennant.

Fan reaction reported on newspapers and on radio and television was mostly critical of the Red Sox after the club announced the ouster of the controversial field boss with a year left to go on his $50,000-a-year contracts.

Speculation also was rife that the action represented a coup for dissident players in a throwback to the old "country club" days for which the team was famous before William came on the scene.

General Manager Dick O'Connell told a news conference the firing was "a culmination of a number of things," climaxed by "a falling down of communications between the managerial staff and the players."

Williams acknowledged this as the reason given by the club, but also alluded to a "personality conflict" between himself and owner Yawkey.

NOT TALKING

Meanwhile most of the players weren't talking for publication—but in some cases they didn't really have to.

"I don't have anything to say," commented George Scott, who was at odds with the manager almost the entire 1968 season. "I think it's obvious how I feel. It's gotta be."

Carl Yastrzemski, considered by many to be the other principal in a star-manager feud which cost the manager his job, denied any such involvement.

"We had no personality clash," the slugging outfielder said. "We had a few problems, and we had them right out in the open man to man. There was never any lingering problems."

Yaz had strained relationships at times with some previous Red Sox managers,

DUSTY TRIP — Atlanta Braves' shortstop Gil Garrido stirs the dust as he slides across home plate to score a run in the third inning against the Houston Astros last night in Houston. Garrido romped in from third on a wild pitch dished up by Jim Ray, a right-hander from Holly, who hustled to home plate but was late with the tag after taking a toss from his catcher. Ray started the game but departed with the score 2-2. Atlanta went on to win 10-2.

Indian Lefty Slows Orioles

By the Associated Press

Sam McDowell figured there was an easy solution for stopping about the only regular-season challenge left for the Baltimore Orioles . . . and it worked.

"I said (before the game) that Baltimore could be beaten with fast balls in and out," said McDowell. "I threw mostly fast balls tonight. I felt tired late in the game, but still had the fast ball."

And, Baltimore guessing.

The Orioles solved the veteran left-hander for only three hits Tuesday night as the lowly Cleveland Indians pulled out a 3-1 victory that slowed Baltimore's sizzling drive toward a league record for season victories.

McDowell, who achieved a personal high with his 18th victory against 14 losses, struck out six and didn't walk a batter in holding the Orioles' season triumph total to 106.

AFTER RECORD

In other games, Carl Yastrzemski slammed a pair of homers in helping Boston to an 8-3 victory over the New York Yankees, Minnesota checked Kansas City 6-2, California edged Seattle 5-4 and Oakland took a doubleheader from Chicago, 4-3 and 5-3. Washington's game at Detroit was rained out.

McDowell's only trouble with the Orioles came from Frank Robinson, who smashed a solo homer in the fourth, spoiling Sam's bid for his fifth shutout of the year.

It was the 32nd homer of the season and 450th of his career for Robinson, who increased his RBI total to an even 100.

Brooks Robinson, who had a single, and Merv Rettenmund, who had a pinch-hit double, were the only other Orioles to reach.

WALKED HOME

The Indians picked up all three runs in the third when Tom Phoebus, 14-7, ran into control problems and walked home two runs.

Yastrzemski's blasts and a solo job by Tony Conigliaro provided the Red Sox all the ammunition they needed in making interim Manager Eddie Popowski's debut a success.

Popowski was named earlier in the day to replace the fired Dick Williams.

Yastrzemski, who also had a single and scored three runs himself, led off the third with the 200th homer of his career, and hit a two-run shot, his 39th of the season, in the eighth. Conigliaro hit his 20th leading off the sixth.

Rich Reese knocked in three runs with two singles in helping the Twins past Kansas City. His sixth-inning single snapped a 2-2 tie.

PINCH DOUBLE

A two-run single by pinch hitter Bubba Morton capped a three-run rally in the sixth that gave California its victory over Seattle.

Reggie Jackson and Tito Francona delivered solo homers in the nightcap, while rookie Bobby Brooks slammed a three-run shot in the opener, pacing Oakland's sweep.

Jackson's homer, a 420-foot blast over the centerfield wall in the first inning of the nightcap, was his 47th of the year, but his first since Sept. 6. It tied him with Harmon killebrew for the major league lead.

baseball immortality on a single by Bud Harrelson off Bob Gibson with one out in the 11th inning. This delivered Ron Swoboda, who had beat out a hit to deep short and advanced to second on another single by Jerry Grote.

New York fell behind, 2-1, in the fifth inning when the Cardinals scored two unearned runs, but evened it in the eighth on Tommie Agee's single Wayne Garrett's sacrifice and Art Shamsky's single. Tug McGraw, who came on in the eighth inning, gained credit for his ninth victory against three losses.

Hank Aaron, hitting only .116 in his last 10 games, drove in the tie-breaking run for Atlanta with a sixth-inning single and brought home another with a double in the ninth inning. George Stone 13-9 limited Houston to seven hits as the Braves won for the 12th time in their last 15 games.

The Giants overcame a 4-1 deficit only to lose in the ninth when former teammate Ollie Brown singled home pinch runner Ron Slocum with San Diego's winning run. Two walks, two hit batsmen and a sacrifice fly helped San Francisco to two runs in the seventh inning and the Giants tied it in the eighth on a walk, Willie McCovey's double and an infield out.

BIG DAY

Pete Rose, suddenly in contention for another National League batting title, collected six hits, including a two-run homer, during Cincinnati's sweep over the Dodgers to boost his average to .344, only two points behind the injured Cleon Jones of New York.. Wayne Granger preserved Gerry Arrigo's victory in the nightcap and at the same time set a National League record with his 85th appearance of the season.

Rusty Staub hit a two-run homer and Ron Fairly added a solo blast to back Bill Stoneman's six-hitter in Montreal's victory over Chicago and Richie Allen drove in two of Philadelphia's runs at Pittsburgh with a double and a sacrifice fly.

Middies Heard Wrong Music

By The Associated Press

"Music is the most important thing in my life," says Mike Reid. You'd have a hard time convincing the Navy football team.

Reid, a 6-foot-3, 240-pound defensive tackle for Penn State, played barely half of Saturday's 45-22 trouncing of Navy. What time he did play was spent in the Navy backfield.

The senior music major — he plays the piano and organ — from Altoona, Pa., was in on 12 tackles, seven of them unassisted and kept constant pressure on the passer. The defense held Navy to 45 yards on the ground.

For that performance, he was named The Associated Press' first College Lineman of the Week for 1969. In his first college game — against Maryland in 1966 — he won the same honor.

Reid sat out the 1967 season after injuring a knee on the sixth play of the opening game.

There can't be a better defensive tackle in the entire country than Reid," says Coach Joe Paterno of the second-ranked Nittany Lions. "He'll be an All-American if I don't overcoah him."

Reid made second team All-America last year, but still would rather tickle the ivories than opposing quarterbacks.

"I know I look more like a piano mover than a piano player," he says, "but when I'm disgusted or disappointed I turn to the piano. Quite a few composers expressed deep sadness in music. Beethoven suffered, and it comes out in his music.

"I don't mean to sound melodramatic, but when I got word that I had to undergo a second knee operation, I turned to the piano. It gave me much comfort."

John Reaves of Florida doesn't expect to slip up on future opponents.

"We're nationally ranked and people know of our passing game," said The Associated Press Back of the Week. "It's rewarding, but such honors also alert your foes and they try twice as hard to show you up."

The 6-foot-4, 204-pound Reaves hit 18-for-30 passing for 342 yards when the Gators bombed Houston 59-34 last Saturday.

Great receivers and strong pass blocking created this honor," said Reaves. "It turned me into the Back of the Week instead of an unknon sophomore."

Western Faces Big Test in MAC Gridiron Opener

From Our News Wires

Two Mid-American Conference football teams will go big game hunting Saturday — one inside the league and the other in Gopherland.

Western Michigan faces a major task against pre-season MAC favorite Miami of Ohio at Kalamazoo. The Broncos, 1-1 for the season, are having trouble getting their new triple option offense moving and will be definite underdogs.

It has been three long years since amibitious Ohio University ventured into the Midwest for an encounter with a Big Ten team.

Coach Bill Hess' Bobcats resume their "big game" aspirations Saturday when they battle Minnesota at Minneapolis. Purdue was the opponent in 1966 and Ohio came away licking its wounds from a 42-3 pasting.

The Mid-American Conference champions hope to fare a lot better against the Gophers. Minnesota is big and the Bobcats face a decided depth advantage but Cleve Bryant and company might be up for the occasion.

Ohio opened last weekend with a convincing 35-0 whitewash of Kent State. Bryant's rollout running and passing and the swift slants of Harvey Mitchell make the Bobcats formidable.

Lahser Goalie Nets Shutout

Fired Umpires Going to Court With Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — A multimillion dollar damage suit filed by two American League umpires fired abruptly last September could threaten baseball's reserve system, the time-honored manner in which players are bought, sold and kept under contract.

Al Salerno and Bill Valentine, who claimed they were fired Sept. 18, 1968, for trying to form an umpires' union, asked damages of $2 million each Tuesday in the suit filed in Federal Court. Their suit claimed that baseball's reserve system is illegal under the antitrust law.

The ex-umpires also charged that American League President Joe Cronin made "false and defamatory statements" about the caliber of their work as umpires. They also accused Cronin and baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn of being "dictatorial and exercising illegal, monopolistic practices and controls," partly through the reserve clause in player contracts.

They said players may be "bought, sold, excluded, exchanged, discharged or excluded from employment without notice, consent, voice or hearing."

Foes Can't Catch Up to Clarkston, Lahser

Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills Lahser checked in with shutouts yesterday in high school cross-country competition.

The Wolves of Clarkston, with Fred Seyler setting the pace at 10:33, whipped Brighton, 15-50, while Jeff Shank turned in an 11:05 time to lead Lahser past Troy, 15-47.

OTHER SCORERS

Trailing Seyler for Clarkston were Dan Dankert, Gerald Baker, Bub Mumbower and Rick Svetkoff. Chasing Shank across the finish line were Steve Young, Jay Kershenbaum, Mike Manz and Rick Ryan. Herb Tanzer was sixth for Troy.

SPUR KETTERING

Kevin Reabe and Dave Meyerhofer ran one-two in sparking Kettering to a 24-35 decision over Andover.

Reabe was clocked in 10:21 as Kettering hiked its record to 4-2. Trailing the Kettering pair of Andover were Pete Kopke, Ted Cavin and Dave Gerkhs.

TOP HONORS

Rochester's Jeff Smart grabbed individual honors with a time of 11:20, but he and his teammates suffered a 24-33 setback at the hands of Romeo yesterday.

Byron Scott, Jerry Richie and Ed Showman ran 2-3-4 to spark the victory. Terry King placed fifth for Rochester.

Always strong Oxford, with Jim Goodfellow setting the pace, turned back Avondale, 17-44.

Goodfellow crossed the line in 10:49, a course record, followed by teammates Steve Brill (2), John Mersino (3), Dennis Evans (5) and Mike Honsinger (6). Jeff Bowen was fourth for Avondale.

Wings Lose to Montreal

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia (AP) —Christian Bourdleau scored twice as the Montreal Canadiens skated past the Detroit Red Wings, 4-1, Tuesday night in National Hockey League exhibition play.

The win avenged a 5-3 loss to Detroit Monday night.

Montreal took a 2-0 lead in the first period which stood until the final stanza.

Other Montreal goals were made by Dick Duff and Claude Trozost. Wayne Connelly made Detroit's lone score.

HOWE INJURED

Veteran Red Wing Gordie Howe missed the final two periods with a groin injury and defenseman Bobby Baun sat out the final period with a charley-horse. A team spokesman said the injuries were not believed serious.

* * *

Detroit returned to its Port Huron, Mich., training camp. Its next game is against the Boston Bruins in London, Ont., Friday.

Local Gridder Leads College Point Makers

In two games, Kraatz, a junior halfback at Hillsdale, has pushed across five touchdowns for 30 points and a 12-point lead in the scoring parade. Hillsdale has won both games.

Also among the leaders is soccer-style kicker Chet Marcol, a teammate of Kraatz's, who has one field goal and 13 PATs for 16 points.

Fall-Winter Expo Scheduled

Snowmobile Drag Races in Waterford

The occasion will be the second annual Fall-Winter Sports Expo which will feature snowmobile drag races Saturday and Sunday behind the CAI Building, 3460 Williams Lake Road.

Added attractions will be a lawn tractor pulling contest and 80 sporting goods exhibits. The exposition opens Friday.

There will be five stock class snowmobile drag races and one modified class. Stock dragsters are broken down in classes according to horsepower up to 650. The modified are in the 651-800 horsepower range.

A one-eighth mile course will be used. No wheel kits will be allowed, only skis.

The three smaller horsepower classes will race Saturday beginning at 2 p.m. The larger snowmobiles will take over Sunday at 3 p.m.

TRACTOR PULL

Lawn tractors will vie at 1 p.m. Sunday to see which one can pull the heaviest load.

"This will be like a horse or tractor pulling contest at the fairs," said John Greer of the Waterford Jaycees. "Skid boats will be loaded with weights and the tractor moving the longest distance in its class will win."

There are three classes, again according to horsepower rating. They are 0-6, 7-10 and 11-15. Entry fees are $5 for snowmobiles and $2 for tractors. Trophies will be awarded to the winners.

Among the displays will be the new release key and a Ford-powered 525 horsepower Rupp snowmobile dragster.

Notre Dame 'M' Renew Grid Series

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A historic football rivalry that lapsed in 1943 — Michigan and Notre Dame — will be renewed in a four-game series beginning in 1978, it was announced Tuesday.

The series calls for Michigan to visit Notre Dame Sept. 23, 1978 and again on Sept. 20, 1980. The Irish will travel to Michigan Sept. 15, 1979, and Sept. 19, 1981. In the last football meeting of the two universities, Notre Dame won 35-12. The series ended with Michigan holding a 9-2 winning edge.

Notre Dame and Michigan will resume basketball relations this season for the first time since the 1941-42 campaign. The Wolverines will open Notre Dame's home schedule Dec. 3.

Huskies Lose No. 2 QB

Ailing Rejoin Wolverines

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Pete Sarantos, 6-foot, 215 pound senior from Elkhart, Ind., participated in contact drills Tuesday for the first time this season, as the University of Michigan football team went through a rugged two - hour practice.

Sarantos, who had been bothered by a nerve injury in his right leg, is expected to play sometime later this season, reported head football coach Bo Schembechler.

Sarantos was second string center last year behind Tim Killian, Schembechler said sophomore halfback Billy Taylor, who worked out for a time Monday after a layoff of several weeks due to a shoulder injury, should be ready to play in the Missouri game Oct. 4.

HUSKIES GAIN

Bruce Jarvis, 6-foot-7 first string center who won temporary permission to enroll late, arrived early in the day from Seattle. He missed last week's opener against Michigan State, but hopes to be in shape for Saturday's clash with Michigan at Ann Arbor.

But Steve Hanzlik, the Huskies' No. 2 quarterback, fell hard on his shoulder after tripping over a dummy and had to leave the practice. Whether he'll see action Saturday is questionable.

And Clyde Werner, bid middle linebacker, took a hard rap and retired for the day. He is expected back Wednesday.

Heavy Accent on Air Defense for Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP) —Michigan State stressed pass defense as it went through a medium length workout Tuesday on rainy Spartan Stadium field.

Assistant trainer Clint Thompson reported the Spartans were in "unusually fine shape, with no injuries" following their weekend game with the University of Washington and a squad scrimmage.

MSU devoted most of its time to perfecting what it hopes will be an airtight defense Saturday against sharp-shooting passer Chuck Hixson of Southern Methodist University.

14th Straight Win

HOUSTON (UPI) — Former heavyweight champion Sonny Liston won his 14th consecutive fight Tuesday by knocking out S. D. "Sonny" Moore of Dallas after 2:15 of the third round.

Important Item Lacking

Like the man without a country, Ben Acosta has a golf tournament without a course.

Eager to stage a tournament for low handicap golfers, Acosta, of Pontiac, began laying plans a couple of months back. Trophies were purchased, a course secured and the Ben Acosta Classic played. It didn't draw well, so those teams that played qualified for the next one.

Discussing the event at the time, Acosta allowed as how "it won't be anything like the Michigan Golf Classic, but you have to start somewere."

He said that before the Michigan Classic reached the state, Ben could be glad his tournament didn't turn out the same way, since promoters of that $100,000 event couldn't pay off.

Ben held that qualifying round at Rochester Country Club but couldn't get a date there for the second part of his tournament. He searched, eventually getting an okay for Sept. 28 from Spring Lake Country Club near Clarkston.

But officials called later and informed Ben that they couldn't handle his tournament at which he expected 150 players.

So Ben called the whole thing off. "It's too late to try and get another course," he said. "I couldn't help it. I thought I had the course. I'd like those 150 guys to know it wasn't my fault.

"But I'm not going to quit. I'll try again next year. I learned a lot," he added.

Former Manager Jack Tighe Joins Tiger Scout Staff

DETROIT (AP)—Former Detroit Tiger manager Jack Tighe, who has been manager of Detroit's top farm club at Toledo for the past three years, is joining the Tigers' scouting staff.

Tighe, 56, managed Detroit in the 1957 season and part of 1958. In his first year as head man at Toledo in 1967 the Mud Hens won the International League's Governor's Cup. The next year they won the pennant. This season they finished sixth after being in contention early in the year before losing some key players to the Tigers.

According to Jim Campbell, Tiger general manager, Tighe will observe major league and high minor league teams.

Heating Team in Keg Lead

Classic Loop Shakes Weekly Standings

The Oakland All-Star Classic which had nine teams tied for the top five places last week, went through a major shake-up in its latest outing.

Crown Heating, behind some steady team bowling, vaulted into sole possession of first place Monday night at Savoy Lanes with an 18-6 won-loss point standings.

Last week Crown was running neck in neck with Hartford Roofing for the Classic Lead, each with 14-4 records.

While Crown picked up four points and dropped two against Orchard Lanes Monday, Hartford fell back into fourth place when Oxford Merchants swept all six points.

HIGH SERIES

Ron Cotner of Cooley Lanes, captured individual high series honors with a 267-209-202—678 total. Cotner's first game was also high individual game.

Next Monday night the All-Star Classic will continue at Yorba Linda Lanes in Royal Oak, and the following week at Cooley Lanes in Union Lake.

Highlanders Top Delta Harriers

The Highlanders of Highland Lakes campus of Oakland Community College ran their cross-country record to 3-0 yesterday with a 22-33 decision over Delta of Bay City.

Delta's Bob Sysby claimed first place with a clocking of 21:56, but the next four spots went to Highlanders John Nadolni (22:15), Ron Beegle, Julian Gloomis and Scott Van Norwick. Randy Lyons placed eighth for the Highlanders.

Red Sox Fire Manager for 'Lack of Communication'

but he said Tuesday night that such stories have been blown far out of proportion.

"I go out there to play the game," he said. "As far as any firing or hiring go, that's the front office doing. I'm just one of 25 players."

O'Connell in his news conference conceded that there were cliques on the club, but said he didn't know of any cases of players going to Yawkey behind Williams' back to voice complaints about the manager, as has been rumored.

He said the disappointing showing of the club this season was one factor in the decision to dismiss Williams, and added that the "falling down of communications" was not just a reason thrown at the manager out of the blue when he was fired.

"We talked to Dick about some things during the year—things we thought should be changed," he said.

Williams said at his home in Peabody that he was disappointed but not completely surprised.

"There has been too much in the papers," he said. "I was even making other plans for next year."

The manager said he thought his biggest mistake was becoming "more lenient." He said he did so because he felt the team had matured during the pennant race, but that "I was going back to the 1967 regime next season."

As for the future, Williams said:

"I'd definitely like another managerial job. I think I've been a success in the major leagues with three winning seasons and one pennant. And my minor league record is two governor's cups in two years. I have a full year to go on my contract. We'll see what happens."

Williams, 40, played the last two seasons of a 13-year major league career with the Red Sox, then managed their Toronto team to International League playoff championships in 1965 and 1966.

Moving up to the parent club, he took a team which had finished ninth the year before and led it to the pennant, gaining American League Manager of the Year honors.

In making their announcement Tuesday, the Red Sox said coach Eddie Popowski, a 30-year veteran of the organization, will serve as interim manager for the waning days of this season and will return as a coach next year.

The club said it would name a new manager between the end of the regular season and the World Series, and was considering three or four men.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By John Carter

Of all the sports events ever on TV, in history, did you ever wonder which one attracted the biggest audience? . . . What's your guess? . . . The answer, perhaps surprisingly, is not a football game, but the 4th game of the 1968 baseball World Series . . . The game that got the next highest all-time audience, according to surveys, was the 4th game of the 1963 World Series . . . And the game that got the third-highest audience in TV history was the 1968 Super Bowl football game.

Here's an oddity about the great automobile racing driver, Mario Andretti . . . Did you know that Andretti was actually driving in auto races when he was only 13 years old? . . . He was born and brought up in Italy and managed to start driving in competition there at age 13 . . . He came to America when he was 18.

And, here's an oddity between football and baseball that many fans don't realize . . . In football, the sidelines are out - of - bounds (when a player steps on the sideline, he's considered out-of-bounds) — but in baseball the foul lines are IN-bounds, and a batted ball that hits or stays on the foul line is in fair territory . . . Isn't it odd that football and baseball consider their lines so differently.

I bet you didn't know . . . that asking one of those tires to do the job of one of our husky, deep treaded ones is just too much. Those cheapies may be ok until the dark, snowy night you need them — then oh boy! See one of our Pros.

Different Limits at Shiawassee

Numbers Game Spices Hunts

By DON VOGEL

ST. CHARLES — A big numbers game will operate this fall at the Shiawassee Flats state game area.

It will be under state and federal control and the only monetary losers will be hunters violating house rules.

The action could become a little confusing on the waterfowl management area adjacent to this Saginaw County community. Three sets of bag limit regulations will be used during the 40-day duck season which opens Oct. 10.

(1) Either the experimental point system, (2) state-wide regulations or (3) a two-duck limit will be in force for each "shoot" in the permit portion of the Shiawassee Flats.

Because there are two "shoots" each day, it means hunters participating in both could very well find themselves under different regulations the same day.

NOT IN TIME

"This would seldom happen," said game habitat biologist Bob Benson, "because few hunters quit the morning shoot in time to participate in the draw for afternoon positions."

The point system is being used only at the Shiawassee Flats. Federal officials also insisted that the two-ducks of any kind limit be tried and that regular state limits be interspersed.

Department of Natural Resources field men aren't overjoyed because they feel that only the point system should apply at Shiawassee for all shoots.

"The point system will be used 54 per cent of the time," explained Marv Johnson, game supervisor for the East Lansing district office. "Two-a-day will be tried 29 per cent and state regulations the remainder."

The limit regulations have already been placed in sealed envelopes and no one involved with administering the hunting on the management area knows what they are for the 79 shoots (only afternoon hunting will be permitted opening day).

REMAIN SEALED

"The shoots are designated on the envelopes which won't be opened until after the draw," explained Johnson.

He broke down the point values in the 60-point limit as follows:

- 60 points each — hen mallards and wood ducks, hen or drake red heads, canvasbacks, black ducks and hooded mergansers.
- 20 points each — drake mallards and wood ducks, and hen or drake baldpates and ringnecks. All other ducks, coots and mergansers 10 points apiece.

The two-a-day limit involves any two ducks, coots or mergansers. State regulations allow four ducks a day, but not more than one mallard and black duck, one red head or canvasback, and two woodies. In addition there is a bonus of two bluewing teal the first nine days.

Goose hunting at Shiawassee Flats state game area and the federally managed area along its north boundary will open Oct. 1. Special regulations call for only one Canada goose a day to be taken instead of the two under state rules. A $2 blind fee is charged on the federal area which also includes a refuge.

No duck hunting is permitted on federal lands.

State and federal agencies began acquiring land in 1953 along the Shiawassee River which supplies water for fall flooding of croplands in the management areas. The area has since developed into one of the better duck hunting spots in the state.

"We have few ducks here right now," said Harold Dykema, manager of the state area, last week, "but wait until we start flooding. They'll come pouring in."

NOT EASY

Reaching the assigned hunting areas isn't easy. Most gunners use boats, traveling along the many canals until they reach their proper location. Best shooting is a mile or more from the parking lots.

Certain areas are restricted to hunting parties of two or three. Other locations, mostly less desirable, are for single gunners and are overflow areas.

There is a 1,500-acre flooded timberland which is the primary overflow location. There will be 150 permits available for the timber.

"I doubt if we will ever be completely full," said Benson. "And occasionally some of the less desirable areas near the parking lots become hot spots for the day."

Hunters draw for a place in line at 5 and 11 a.m. each day. They pick a shooting area according to what isn't taken by someone in front of them. All permits are issued at the headquarters in St. Charles.

No hunting is permitted from 11 a.m. to noon each day to allow the change of shifts.

There's one other part of this numbers game that should be pointed out. Each hunter is restricted to 25 shells while in the field.

RECORD CATCH — John Whitkowski of Manistee shows off the biggest chinook salmon taken so far in Michigan waters. It was caught near the breakwall at Manistee and tipped the scales at 34 pounds, 13 ounces. Although the run has started to slow, Department of Natural Resources officials say a 40-pounder may be caught.

SE Michigan Hatchery Eyed

DNR Requests Funds From Bond Issue

A request for funds to finance planning of a large hatchery in Southeastern Michigan is included in a capital outlay program submitted to the legislature.

The Department of Natural Resources is requesting $225,000 to cover cost of planning the hatchery which will be constructed on a site yet to be announced.

The warm-water facility would be programmed to raise six times the number of muskies, walleyes, bass and bluegills now reared in existing hatcheries.

The DNR is requesting a total of $14.3 million from its share of the state recreation bond issue passed last year in a general referendum. The legislature parceled out $45 million to the DNR as its portion of the $100 million issue.

MATCHING FUNDS

Of the initial request, $3.4 million is expected to come from federal matching funds. Over $45 million will be used for land acquisition and the remainder for development work in parks, fisheries, wildlife and forest recreation.

The DNR plans to spend $3,342,610 of this first money in Oakland, Macomb, Livingston, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Monroe counties. Wayne County is schedule for a slice of the fund at a later date.

2nd Vice President

Ralph A. MacMullan, Director of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has been named second vice-president of the International Association of Game, Fish, and Conservation Commissioners (IAGFCC).

Dog Obedience Class

A dog obedience demonstration followd by class signup is scheduled Monday at Bloomfield Hills West Junior High at 8 p.m. The class will be conducted by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club.

Stealheads Stealing Thunder From Coho

Big perch also were a distraction to coho-seekers along the Arenac County shoreline. However, some salmon were caught, but no major action developed.

Hunters were flushing a lot of woodcock in Northern Michigan. Heavy foliage kept the kill on the light side. Plenty of grouse were pushed out in Mecosta County, but most of them were sound flushes.

The small game population in Gladwin County appears to be down. Conservation officers checked 33 hunters Saturday and one woodclock, one grouse and three squirrels was the total bag.

Foliage problems are bothering hunters elsewhere although woodcock hunting is reported good near Traverse City. Salmon fishing at Manistee and Platte Bay remains fair to good.

PIKE FAIR

There has been fair pike fishing on Oakland County lakes. However, few anglers are out. Bald Eagle, Oxbow, Middle Straits and Orion have been the better pike waters. Bass also are showing signs of picking up.

Surface action on panfish also is good during late afternoons and early evening. Trout fishing remains poor on area lakes. Stream fishing in the county will close Sept. 30.

"Hunters" continually shooting into squirrel nests in the Ortonville and Holly recreation areas last weekend made the woods sound like opening of the pheasant season.

Solunar Tables

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Eastern Standard Time

Extra Permits Not Available to Deer Hunters

No antlerless deer permits will be issued later this fall for areas whose quotas were not filled by the application deadline of Sept. 30.

This marks a change from last year when the Department of Natural Resources issued permits after the filing cut-off for Bois Blanc Island and other underscribed areas in the Upper Peninsula.

Nearly 200,000 permits are available for all but one of the 83 antlerless deer districts for the Nov. 15-30 firearm season. The exception is Beaver Island where unlimited permits will be issued in person.

A drawing will be held for oversubscribed areas.

STUFFED TROUT—First catch your trout, then stuff it with a nicely peppered mixture and bake to perfection.

Work Ahead for That Picnic

If you decide to have hero sandwiches at the picnic do some advance work at home. Before hand, slice the hero rolls; spread them with mayonnaise and season with pepper and salt. Wrap each individually in a food wrap size plastic bag. Bread will remain moist and fresh-tasting.

Bag the sliced onion in a sandwich size plastic bag to keep the odor separate from the other picnic foods. Do not slice the tomatoes until you are at the picnic site.

PICNIC HEROES

6 hero rolls, split
Mayonnaise
Salt and pepper, to taste
Cole slaw
1 large onion, sliced
1 package (8 oz.) sliced hard salami
1 package (8 oz.) sliced boiled ham
1 package (8 oz.) sliced pastrami (optional)
1 package (8 oz.) sliced Swiss or American cheese
3 large tomatoes

Split hero buns; spread with mayonnaise and season with salt and pepper. Store in refrigerator in food wrap size plastic bag; secured with tie hand. Place cole slaw in another plastic bag. Place onion slices in sandwich size bag, seal. Place tomatoes in food wrap size plastic bag.

At the picnic site, slice tomatoes. Let each person assemble his own hero using a layer of cole slaw, onion, meat, cheese and tomatoes. Makes 6 heroes. Heat in foil on a grill, if desired.

Sprinkle Sugar on Pear Fritters

Dip halved cored fresh Bartlett pears into prepared batter and fry in hot fat (360 degrees) for 2 minutes or until browned.

To make the batter, mix 1 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 3 well beaten eggs and 1 cup milk.

Fresh Pepper an Aid in Cooking Trout

Even though there are almost a half million words in the American language, there aren't enough to describe the blissful sensation of tasting a broiled steak, steaming corn-on-the-cob or crackly-crisp green salad liberally peppered.

Is it the nip which arouses the appetite, or the lovely aroma, elusively floral, which tickles our taste-smell senses?

STUFFED TROUT

4 brook trout, 8 to 10 inches each
4 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup celery flakes
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon minced capers
Lemon slices for garnish
Watercress for garnish

Clean fish; leave whole. Combine butter with lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon of the black pepper and ¼ teaspoon of the salt; brush inside of each fish with mixture. Save remaining butter to use during baking.

Combine celery flakes, instant onion and parsley flakes with ½ cup water; let stand 8 minutes to soften. Add bread crumbs, egg, capers, remaining ¼ teaspoon of the salt and remaining ¼ teaspoon of the black pepper. Stir until blended.

Bake in preheated hot oven (450 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes or until fish is tender. Garnish with lemon slices and watercress. Yield: 4 servings.

Cereal and Jam Are Muffin Ingredients

If ever there was a muffin certain to bring the family to the breakfast table on the double it is this one for Farina Raspberry Muffins. They have a tender, almost cakelike texture.

FARINA RASPBERRY MUFFINS

1¼ cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup sugar
½ cup farina, uncooked
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup milk
¼ cup melted shortening or cooking oil
1 cup raspberry preserves, about

Sift flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar into mixing bowl. Stir in farina. Combine eggs, milk, and shortening or oil. Add to dry ingredients, stir until dry ingredients are moistened.

* * *

Spoon half the batter into greased medium-size muffin pans, 2½ by 1¼ inches. Drop a teaspoon of the preserves on each muffin. Top with remaining batter, filling about ⅔ full. Spoon about ½ teaspoon more of preserves on batter.

Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) until done and browned, about 15 minutes.

Bananas, Nuts Go Into Treat

There's no end to the variety of quivering flans and smooth creamy puddings that Mexican coffee shops and cafes offer.

The flavors are varied with coffee and fruit juices and sometimes puddings become parfaits and harbor bidden treasures of nuts and sliced bananas resembling a delicious Mocha Leche Parfait.

MOCHA LECHE PARFAIT

1 (5 oz.) package vanilla pudding and pie filling ding and pie filling
2 cups milk
1 cup extra stength coffee, hot or cool
1 medium banana, cut into half slices
¼ cup miniature marshmallows
¼ cup cashew nuts, chopped

Combine pudding mix with milk and coffee and cook stirring until mixture boils and begins to thicken. Let stand about 20 minutes, stirring occassionally to prevent a 'skin' from forming on top.

Meanwhile cut banana and sprinkle with lemon juice. Gently mix with the marshmallows and nuts.

While pudding is still warm spoon alternate layers of it and the fruit and nut mixture into stemmed dessert glasses. (The warm pudding slightly melts the marshmallows and blends the flavors.) Makes six to eight servings.

Alike, but Different: Use All Three

Green onions, shallots and leeks — sometimes called scallions — are similar in appearance, but somewhat different in nature.

Green onions are ordinary onions harvested very young. They have very little or no bulb formation, and their tops are tubular.

Shallots are similar to green onions, but grow in clusters and have practically no swelling at the base.

Leeks are larger than shallots and have slight bulb formation and broad, flat, dark-green tops.

When buying any one of the trio, look for bunches with fresh, crisp, green tops. They should have well-balanced (white) portions extending two or three inches up from the root end.

Soup Matches Fall Mood

CREAM OF CURRY SOUP — Serve an exotic soup in a handsome porcelain soup tureen. This one comes from Cartier in New York, as do the other unusual accessories, including sterling silver measuring spoons. Soft paper towels will keep all these objects shining.

WHOLE MEAL SOUP — Here's the kind of supper that kindles memories . . . soul-satisfying chicken-corn chowder and crusty bread.

By JANET ODELL
Food Editor, The Pontiac Press

Now that autumn has made its official debut, we're in for cool crisp weather any day. And that means soup is in order.

When every kitchen had a wood-burning stove in it, keeping a soup pot going was no trouble. Many of us still make certain special soups from the raw ingredients. But we're more apt to combine some of the good canned soups and come up with a tasty new mixture.

CREAM OF CURRY SOUP

1 oz. butter (¼ stick)
2 tablespoons curry powder
2 tablespoons flour
2 pints chicken stock
1 tablespoon corn starch, dissolved in ¼ cup water
½ pint light cream
½ cup shredded coconut
Salt and pepper to taste

Saute onion in butter until golden; sprinkle curry powder over onion and mix well. Add flour, then chicken stock slowly, stirring constantly, until mixture is thick and smooth. Simmer for 20 minutes.

Strain, return to pan, and add corn starch and water mixture. Stir well, and let simmer for 20 minutes. Chill. Season to taste.

At serving time, stir in cream, mix well and serve, garnished with a sprinkling of coconut. Makes four servings.

When hearty enough, soup can be almost the whole meal. Take, for instance, Chicken-Corn Chowder. It won't take any longer to prepare this interesting dish than it would to make a meat loaf. And it's a different way of serving chicken.

Crusty bread, a salad of orange slices and onion rings and peach cobbler for dessert round out the meal.

CHICKEN-CORN CHOWDER

½ cup water
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped celery leaves
2 teaspoons salt
2 carrots, pared and thinly sliced
2 cans (8 ounces each) or 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato bits
1 can (1 pound, 1 ounce) cream style corn
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning

In large saucepan or Dutch oven combine chicken, water, parsley, celery leaves and 1 teaspoon salt; simmer, covered, 30 minutes. Add carrots, potatoes, sliced celery and remaining salt; simmer 15 to 20 minutes more or until chicken and vegetables are tender.

Stir in tomato sauce with tomato bits, corn and poultry seasoning; simmer, stirring occasionally, until thoroughly heated. If soup seems too thick, add a bit more water. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

NOTE: For easier eating remove chicken from stock after simmering 30 minutes. Remove skin and bones; return meat to stock along with vegetables. Continue cooking as directed.

VICTORY BOWL SUPPER SOUP

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of asparagus soup
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed Scotch broth
1½ soup cans water
¼ cup cooked chopped spinach
Diced red apple

Cook onion in butter until tender. Blend in soups, water, and spinach. Heat; stir now and then. Garnish with apple. Makes 4 to 5 servings. For 8 to 10 servings, double the recipe.

WINNING TEAM TUREEN

2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon shortening
1 can (11 ounces) condensed hot dog bean soup
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1½ soup cans water
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Dash garlic powder
Shredded mild process cheese

Brown beef and cook onion in shortening until tender; pour off fat. Blend in soups, add water, and garlic powder. Heat; stir now and then. Simmer a few minutes to blend flavors. Garnish with cheese. Makes 4 to 5 servings. For 8 to 10 servings, double the recipe.

Put Diced Ham in Zippy Sauce

Leftover ham makes an elegant "stoganoff." Combine 1½ cups diced cooked ham, 1 can (8 ounces) tomatoe sauce with cheese, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard and 1 teaspoon instant minced onion; simmer 10 minutes.

Remove from heat; slowly stir in 1 cup sour cream. Heat gently but do not boil. Serve over hot cooked noodles to 4.

CORN CUSTARD — Are you in a rut when it comes to planning the vegetable portion of a meal? Here's a corn variation that is baked as a custard.

Spicy Butter, Nuts Better Broccoli

Broccoli-Walnut Butter

1½ pounds broccoli
3 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
dash nutmeg
2 tablespoons broken walnut pieces

Wash broccoli. Slit thick stems to flowerets or cut stem in thin diagonal slices. Cook 8-10 minutes in ½ cup boiling, salted water, covered.

Meanwhile, melt butter over low heat, add ginger, nutmeg and nuts until foamy. Drain broccoli. Toss with butter mixture. Makes 4 servings.

Patio Pleasure

A waffle iron plus an electric outlet on your porch will give you a pleasant Sunday brunch. Add drained crushed pineapple to standard waffle batter and serve with crips bacon.

Plentiful Canned Corn Baked in Custard Base

All those wonderful vegetables that come in assorted sizes, shapes, colors and flavors somehow become all too tiresome unless we give them an added boost once in a while. The boost may come in the form of additional spices or herbs, creamy sauces, or even varied cooking techniques. For example, add a creamy custard base to whole kernel corn and bake to prepare Corn Custard.

Corn Custard, which is served in individual portions, is topped with a sauteed tomato for added interest and flavor. Custard cups or more fanciful individual baking casseroles make corn custard an easy service item.

You'll find that this really easy vegetable item will bring vegetables in the favorite food category. And, when you serve vegetables accompanied by quantities of milk, as in this recipe, you are helping your family towards better nutrition.

Each day it is necessary that we eat foods from both the milk and fruits and vegetables food groups. Here's a recipe that will contribute to both of these essential food groups.

CORN CUSTARD

1 can (1 lb.) whole kernel corn, drained
2 cups milk
½ Cup butter, divided
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
Dash pepper
3 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons finely-chopped green pepper
8 tomato slices

Combine corn, milk, ¼ cup of butter, salt, sugar and pepper; heat. Stir corn mixture slowly into eggs beating constantly. Stir in green pepper.

Pour into eight custard cups. Place in shallow baking pan; fill pan ½ full of hot water. Bake in slow oven, 300 degrees, until a clean knife inserted in center of custard comes out clean, 30 to 35 minutes. Saute tomato slices in remaining butter until lightly browned. Place on custards just before serving. Makes 8 servings.

BEANS 'N' BEEF STROGANOFF—In sausepan, cook 1 can (2 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained, with ¼ cup sliced onion and ⅛ teaspoon crushed thyme in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. When onion is tender, add 1 can beans 'n' beef in tomato sauce, 2 tablespoons sour cream and tablespoon chopped parsley. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 2-3 servings.

Pasta, Beans for Lunch Dish

Busy moms frequently prepare hearty Chili-Mac for quick lunches. In skillet lightly brown 1 pound lean ground beef; pour off fat. Stir in 2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce with onions, 2 cups cooked elbow or salad macaroni, 1 can (15½ ounces) chili beans, 1 cup water, 1 to 1½ teaspoons chili powder and salt to taste.

Heat thoroughly, stirring frequently. Garnish with corn-chips, if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Slice Plums Over Pastry for a Torte

MKT BASK with 2 col PLUM 8 SLICE NL

One dessert made with fresh purple prune plums takes on a different taste when the flavorings are changed. Start with the basic fruit and torte recipe.

At other times add orange juice and orange peel, substitute almond flavoring in the base or added toasted nuts or coconut to the topping.

PURPLE PRUNE PLUM TORTE

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter
2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
2 eggs

Topping

¾ cup flour
⅓ cup sugar
½ cup sliced almonds
¼ cup butter

Wash, pit and slice purple prune plums. Set aside.

Sift together flour, sugar and salt. Cut in butter. Add lemon peel, lemon juice and eggs. Stir until pastry is thoroughly mixed. Pat into greased 9-inch square baking pan. Arrange sliced plums over pastry.

Combine topping ingredients and sprinkle over plums. Bake at 375 degrees for 35 minutes.

Easy Shaping

Fill concentrated frozen juice cans (both ends open) with cooky dough and refrigerate. When ready to bake, push the dough out and slice off cookies with a cheese cutter.

Sauteed Bananas

Insert a Ham Slice

If yours is a warm-hearted house, where entertaining comes as naturally as breathing, you undoubtedly enjoy doing some of your volunteer community committee work over the luncheon table.

The most delightful part of luncheon entertaining is the opportunity it gives to know people better, since most luncheons are small and intimate. And, of course, you can set up your table just about anyplace in the house. In winter, in front of the fireplace is a good choice. In summer, try the porch or patio.

A well-planned menu, with basics prepared in advance, eliminates last-minute headaches and let's the hostess enjoy herself completely. Here's an entree from the Potato Chip Institute International designed to make your next luncheon unusual and successful:

HAM WITH BANANAS

Bananas
Baked Ham
Mayonnaise
Potato Chips
Marinated Green Beans
Pimento Strips

Cut peeled banana in half, then split down the center. Lay a thin piece of baked ham between 2 pieces of the banana. Coat lightly with mayonnaise and roll in crushed potato chips. Saute until chips are brown.

Arrange on plate with small bundles of whole green beans marinated and "tied" with pimento strips. Surround with small potato chips.

Kids Will Love Popcorn Cake

The next time you are giving a birthday party for a child, make a popcorn cake for the centerpiece. Use your favorite popcorn ball recipe but press it into a buttered angel cake pan while hot instead of making into balls.

Crackers Good Base for Outdoor Appetizers

What would a barbecue be like without hors d'oeuvres? Just imagine your family and guests watching the piece de resistance cook to a golden, glistening brown; sniffing savory, smokey aromas; mouths watering in anticipation. And no tasty tid-bits to satisfy their craving.

It takes a single layer of briquettes a minimum of 30 minutes to heat through and be ready to cook properly. What agony if they burn down a little slower than usual or the meat takes a little longer to cook.

Yes, hors d'oeuvres are an essential part of a barbecue and, fortunately, this is one time when the lady of the house has extra time to spend on their preparation. Barbecue hors d'oeuvres can be a little more hearty than the indoor type.

* * *

Miniature sandwiches made with snack crackers will pacify even the chef and do-it-yourself cracker size kabobs will give everybody a chance to try their hand at cooking.

TANGY CORN AND CHEESE CANAPES

6 ounces processed Cheddar cheese spread
½ cup corn relish
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
onion crackers

Combine first three ingredients. Chill. Spread on French Onion Crackers, then top each with another cracker. Makes 1 generous cup spread.

SMOKED SALMON CANAPES

1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
⅛ teaspoon smoked hickory salt
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ cup chopped celery
1 (7¾-ounce) can salmon, drained, flaked
onion crackers

Combine first 5 ingredients. Chill. Spread on onion crackers, then top each with another cracker. Makes 1¼ cups spread.

SNACK KABOBS

4 bacon slices, quartered crosswise
1 ripe avocado, cut into chunks
Salad oil
onion crackers

Fold bacon slices in half crosswise. On small skewers or toothpicks thread a piece of bacon, a crab puff and an avocado chunk. Brush with salad oil. Cook over burning coals or broil for 5 to 8 minutes, turning once.

To serve, push from skewers on onion crackers. Makes 16 kabobs.

Bank Official Joins Hospital Authority

Eldred, president of Community National Bank of Pontiac, will replace Harold B. Euler on the authority. Euler was dismissed in June by the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees as administrator.

Since he is no longer involved in the hospital he wished to be removed from the building authority, Euler explained in his resignation.

The authority was setup to carry out the hospital's expansion program.

Commission Angered by Grand Trunk

Anger was stirred up by the notification from the Michigan Public Service Commission that West Boulevard will be closed to vehicular traffic for another year.

The commission ordered that a resolution be prepared protesting the closure. The resolution is to be ready for passage next Tuesday and will be forwarded to the state agency.

The crossing was closed by the city a year ago after a fatal accident. Grand Trunk has announced it wants to keep the street closed because the railroad intends to install a "humping" operation (train assembly) in that vicinity. This would be 15 to 20 tracks wide and mean constant rail movement as cars are shuffled.

Commissioners cited recent incidents of traffic tieups in the city due to trains. The commission was supposed to meet with railroad and Public Service Commission officials to determine some route through the area for road traffic. This may mean bridges or tunnels at either or both West Boulevard or Montcalm or some alternate route. However this meeting has yet to be held.

In other business the commission:

● Extended an agreement for three months with the Pontiac Transit Corp. for a subsidy for operating city buses. The firm is paid the difference between fare revenues and expenses. This is expected to amount to $80,000 this year.

● Ratified the contract with the Fire Fighters Association approved by bargainers May 20.

● Adopted an amendment to the zoning ordinance regarding fences. The amendment spells out legal fence requirements and permits them to be constructed with a building permit and eliminates the necessity for going to the planning commission in each case.

● Held a public hearing on construction of sidewalk on the east side of Joslyn for one block, from Walton to Northfield. Assessment roll is to be presented Sept. 30. Extension of the sidewalk on other blocks is under preparation.

● Approved proceeding on a sanitary sewer on the north side of Walton from Stirling to 250 feet west of Arlene after a public hearing on necessity.

● Set an Oct. 7 public hearing for a proposed 31-car parking lot on the traffic island on Raeburn Court east of Saginaw. The lot is to cost an estimated $4,710 with $3,730 to be assessed at the rate of $85 for 17 residential lots and total of $2,200 to be split among three commercial properties. Existing trees are not to be removed under the proposed plan.

● Referred to the planning commission a request by Harambee Inc. development company to rezone the northeast corner of Gillespie and Howard McNeill from residential to partly commercial and partly high-rise multiple dwelling.

City Affairs

Lakeside Meeting Oct. 6

Residents of Lakeside Homes will get a chance to air their grievances and problems to a group of city agencies on Oct. 6.

A meeting has been called for 7 p.m. at City Hall, East Pike and East Wide Track with the residents and city commissioners, the Housing Commission and Human Relations Commission.

The Lakeside Tenants Council presented a list of problems a month ago. The council, which asked for the meeting, complained of poor police and fire protection, rampant gambling, poor trash pickup, litter, crime and other problems.

The 400-unit Lakeside Homes is a federal housing project on the southwest side adjacent to Crystal Lake. It is occupied solely by low-income black families.

The Tenants Council has initiated programs for cleanup and crime prevention and has asked for more city help.

PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's medicrin, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

District-Only Election Date Will Be Set

The City Commission has announced that next Tuesday the date for a special election will be set to determine if city commissioners should be elected by district only. It will be between the dates of Dec. 12 and Dec. 22.

Two other changes are in the same proposed charter section revision. These would change the minimum age of candidates from 30 to 25 and residency requirement from five years to one.

The petition drive calling for the election was conducted by a group called the Pontiac Concerned Citizens Council (PCCC).

PRESENT SYSTEM

Under the present system, enacted in 1963, each of the city's seven districts sends the two top voter-getters from the March primary to the April election. The entire city then votes for a single candidate in each district.

Sherwin Birnkrant, city legal director, said a redistricting of the city prior to next year's election would not be necessary, as was previously thought. He said a state law (Act 285, 1968) stated communities not conforming to one-man, one-vote provisions of 1966 legislation by July 1968 would not have to do so until after the 1970 census.

3 State Soldiers Killed in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Michigan men were among 10 U.S. servicemen killed in action in Vietnam, the Pentagon announced Tuesday.

The victims included Army Spec. 4 Scotty G. Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Austin of Grand Haven; Army Pfc. Monty J. Eichhorn, son of Mrs. Ardith M. Eichhorn of Croswell and Army Sgt. Anthony Standifer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill of Detroit.

TB Tests Launched at Schools in County

An attempt to protect a whole generation from the once-dreaded tubercular infection got under way this week in Oakland County.

Part of a statewide effort, the locally offered program consists of tests for tubercular exposure administered to all fifth and ninth graders and in some areas, all high school students as well.

The tests are sponsored by the Oakland County Department of Health and the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association.

"All students tested will know if they've been exposed to TB," said Dr. Bernard D. Berman, Oakland County health director.

PARENTAL CONSENT

He stressed a positive reaction means only that the patient has been exposed to the disease, not necessarily that he has it.

Consent cards approving the testing will be sent home to the parents and must be signed in order for the students to be tested.

The 1.3 per cent expected to show positive reactions will be encouraged to have chest X rays taken promptly, and in some cases drug programs can help prevent the development of the disease, Berman said.

Few cases require hospitalization if detected early enough, health officials said.

LAKE ORION, HOLLY

The program, due to run through March, began this week in the Lake Orion and Holly schools.

School districts in which all high school students as well as fifth graders were to be tested are Lake Orion, Farmington, Walled Lake, Troy, Madison, Ferndale, Pontiac, Oak Park, Clawson, Royal Oak and Hazel Park.

About 85 per cent of the 66,896 eligible students are expected to participate.

Tuba Player, 21, Acclaimed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Symphony claims to have the youngest tuba player performing with an orchestra of first rank—a 21-year-old former high school football player who thinks "people don't understand the tuba.

"It can be a very lyrical, expressive instrument," said Floyd Cooley of Oskaloosa, Iowa, who started playing tuba at the age of 12 and became a soloist with the Indiana University Philharmonic.

Judges picked Cooley for the orchestra position here in an audition last May. His San Francisco debut will be Dec. 10 in Tschaikovsky's Symphony No. 6.

Football Honored

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has proclaimed 1969 as college football centennial season in Michigan. Milliken said the year marks the 100th anniversary of the first intercollegiate football game, played between Rutgers and Princeton. Since then, the governor said, football has become an institution in this state. He noted that Michigan and Michigan State have played before sellout crowds ever since 1948.

Every week there are 1,063 air flights in each direction between Europe and North America.

OCCEO to Air Budget Needs

The Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) will consider budget requests for 1970 at its regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at 1 Lafayette.

The OCCEO operates with about $2 million yearly in federal and local matching funds providing a wide range of services to the county's poor.

Fund requests are sent to government agencies involved in the programs. The OCCEO has kept approximately the same funding level for three years.

Starting today, you can see our little rich car, the Hornet, and all our other cars for 1970.

From $1,994* to $3,589*

The little car you are looking at is the American Motors Hornet.

It is an entirely new car idea.

The Hornet is the first car in America designed to prove that the word small doesn't automatically mean cheap.

It offers more unbridled luxury than any other car of its type.

But it doesn't stop there.

It offers you the luxury of spending more ...on power steering, power brakes, individual reclining seats, custom upholstery, a 304 cubic inch V-8 engine, vinyl roof, air-conditioning and more.

Depending on just how rich you want to get.

1 Based on manufacturer's suggested retail price for Hornet 2-Door sedan. Federal taxes included. State and local taxes, if any, destination charges and options excluded. 2 Based on manufacturer's suggested retail price for Hornet SST 4-Door sedan ($3634 in California) including 304 V-8, auto. trans., power brakes and steering, air conditioning, push button radio, vinyl roof, tinted glass, D-70 red-line tires, twin grip differential, handling package, decor, visibility, insulation and light groups, side scuff molding, sports steering wheel, bumper guards, 70 amp battery. Federal taxes included. State and local taxes, if any, destination charges excluded.

THE JAVELIN. Our hot, sporty car. So hot, that this year specially equipped and modified Javelins often outran far more seasoned competition in NASCAR GTraces across the U.S.A.

THE AMX. Our tough, two-seater sports car with a new 360 CID engine that develops 295 horsepower. Or 65 more than last year.

THE AMBASSADOR. The only car line in its class that comes with air-conditioning as standard equipment.

THE REBEL. Our intermediate that lists for less than many compacts made in this country. But it's much bigger than any compact.

Former Czech Leader Losing Last of Powers

He led the "Prague spring" and now must watch while the ideals that it symbolized are, one by one, snuffed out.

He was the top man in the Communist party and now knows that he is being stripped of all power.

But the name "Dubcek" still carries so much emotional freight in Czechoslovakia that the question whether to purge him of not only the substance but the shadow of power has become the nation's central political issue.

TO MEET TOMORROW

The party's central committee is to meet tomorrow to decide what to do about Dubcek.

Well-informed sources say that meeting has been delayed several times by a dispute between hard-liners, who want Dubcek to lose all his political positions—he still belongs to the central committee and its executive board, the presidium, and is chairman of the Parliament—and the moderates who insist he be allowed to keep at least the parliamentary job.

The question is important, because no one knows what the Czechoslovakia people who still revere Dubcek would do if he is finally and totally humiliated.

No shop here sells Dubcek pictures or Dubcek badges any more, as they did one year ago. But anyone strolling through the heart of Prague can see at least 20 pictures of the fallen leader in shop windows. Even the state bank offices on Wenceslas Square still post portraits of him in the lobby.

WEAR BUTTONS

"Faithful we remain."

ALEXANDER DUBCEK

Prague police have erased the huge chalked signs—"Dubcek"—from the walls of houses here. But they can still be seen in the villages and especially, in six-foot high letters, in Dubcek's native Slovak.

A Dubcek appearance in public touches off a mob scene. Thirty thousand persons gathered to see him in July when he unveiled a memorial in the Resienstadt Nazi concentration camp. Fathers held up their children to get a glimpse of the man.

And 40,000 soccer fans chanted "Dubcek . . . Dubcek . . . Dubcek" this month when he went to a game at Prague's Sparta Field.

From the invasion until his demotion from the top party job, Dubcek tried to protect his reforms. Little by little, the pressure increased and he compromised. The press was puzzled. Dissent was stiffled. Trade unions lost their independence.

So Dubcek, as a politician, can fairly be called a failure. Yet he is adored by many of the people he failed. Why?

"Dubcek—that is not a person to us, but a symbol," a student explained. "The symbol of the freedom which we could have had without the Soviet invasion."

A GOOD MAN

While agreeing that he made mistakes, Czechoslovaks talk about him as a nice man, a good man, whose quiet smiles on television and his way of going off with workmen for a beer made them all feel better.

He used to walk the streets at night and talk with people he met there. No Communist leader here had ever done that before. He was a human being first.

He does not appear on the streets any more. When he shows up in public, it is at some official function, and he makes no speeches. So far, he has not referred to his period in power.

PRIVATE LIFE IS SECRET

His private life is secret. At 47, he is probably over the hill politically but is believed to be in good health. He is said to still live in the Phaha, a downtown hotel reserved for high party officials, and also has a villa in the Slovak capital of Bratislava where his family lives.

He maintains other trappings of his slipping power.

Every morning, he is driven in a black Tatra-603 sedan to the parliament building, where he keeps more or less busy at ceremonial functions, receiving delegations and signing the occasional bill which is laid on his desk.

But there are signs that he has reached the end of compromise. According to reports, he has refused to bow to conservative demands that he indulge in self-criticism.

If he is to be purged, he has no intention of making it easy.

Churchman Plays Sleuth in Tennessee

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The Rev. James E. Hunter decided to play detective this week after thieves on two occasions stole a typewriter and six air conditioners from Pleasant Union Presbyterian church.

He bought a junk air conditioner, installed it in a church window and watched all one night and part of the next for the thieves to strike again.

Finally he went to bed—and that's when the thieves showed up and got the air conditioner.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—President Nixon loves to mix and mingle.

When he and First Lady and party had dinner at 21 the other night, the President insisted on a table downstairs in the bar area where he could greet people.

WILSON

"Itz fawnee," Lollo told me. "I'm in 35B at the Waldorf, eez in 35A, I cawm here for dinner and eez here, too!"

The little curved area "under the bell" at the 21 bar was closed off so Secret Services could stand there . . . there were also security men and women in the rest rooms, the cellar and on the roof, probably 15 in all, a couple of them wearing miniature radio receivers that looked like hearing aids.

Composer Jule Styne, Maurice Uchitel and Stan Garfinkel met the President just as 21 President Bob Kriendler was saying goodnight.

"Do me a favor," President Nixon said to Jule Styne, "write me a song for the Astronauts and write another one like 'Just In Time.'"

The President found on leaving the club that a crowd lined both sides of 52nd Street. With the Secret Service men close, he moved among the crowd, shaking hands.

Tony Bennett's huge, enthusiastic opening at the new Empire Room at the Waldorf felt the effects of the President's stop. Frank Banks, manager of the hotel, was wearing a Secret Service identifier which consisted of a miniature Star of David with two red slashes on it. Except he was wearing his reversed.

"Oh no," he said. "I've got two Arab delegations coming and also some Israeli officials, and I'm not taking any chances."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

There's going to be a new ultra-lush hotel at 36-38 Central Park S. soon . . . built by Harry Helmsley and operated by John Mados who already runs the St. Moritz, Carleton House and Wyndham. It'll be 640 rooms, in the class of the Regency and Plaza. No estimated cost can be given now.

REMEMBERING QUOTE: Everyone is a moon, and has a dark side which he never shows anybody." —Mark Twain.

Harry Hershfield says that, at age 84, he's getting lots of speaking engagements: "It's like the government's help for the elderly—they guarantee a steak when your teeth are gone." . . . That's earl, brother.

Movie Maker Terence Young

U.S. Films Best, Says British Director

NEW YORK (AP) — "America has been making the best pictures in the world for the last two years," said Terence Young, one of Britain's top directors.

BOYLE

"Your film industry has had a dramatic renaissance, started by Mike Nichols. I think his "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?' and 'The Graduate' are the two best-directed pictures of the last 20 years.

"They showed the way to a new realism."

These are generous words indeed, but Terry Young can afford to be generous. Starting first as a film critic and then as a scriptwriter, he has directed more than 20 movies, including "Wait Until Dark" and three of the James Bond pictures, "Dr. No," "From Russia With Love," and "Operation Thunderball," which has taken in more than $60 million.

"I believe that makes it one of the top five or six in film history," remarked Young, who has just finished "The Christmas Tree," starring William Holden and 11-year-old Brook Fuller.

Young, a tall, uninhibited Irishman who used to box at Cambridge University and had four tanks shot out from under him as an officer in the Irish Guards armored regiment during World War II, showed up for lunch wearing a turbanlike head bandage.

"I fell down a companionway in a sailing boat while carrying a tray of drinks," he explained. "I had to have eight stitches, but they're mending nicely."

A colorful and controversial figure, as effervescent as soda water but considerably more flavorful, Terry feels a new day has dawned in the film industry, one in which it is no longer so dependent upon stars.

"The director is coming into his own now," he said. "People are shopping for directors almost as much as for stars. The writer's turn is coming, but isn't here yet.

'GOOD TREND'

"I think the trend is good, because the most important things in a picture are, first the subject matter and then the director."

What about the actors? Young waved his hands expressively.

"A special type of picture will always require a star," he said, "but the marvelous thing today is you can make a picture without a big name. It has been shown you don't always have to have a star.

"The exhibitor is more willing to take a chance. And why not? After all, if you can make a picture without Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton, you can save $2½ million."

NOTHING PERSONAL

But Terry has no personal dislike for stars and has helped many of them achieve their glittering stature. Among them are Sean Connery, Paul Scofield, Stanley Baker, Ursula Andress, and Cliff Richard, British pop singer.

"To me life is liking and affection," he said. "They give life its meaning. I go by the theory that most people are capable of being nicer and more generous than they think they are themselves.

"I'll always trust anyone up to three times. The first time they let you down it might be from a mistake in judgment and the second time may prove they are accident prone.

"But if it happens a third time, I say, 'Well, not for me.'"

Romance Growing Cold? Computer May Save It

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — According to its advance publicity, a new magazine coming out next month will feature an advice - to - the - lovelorn column written by a computer.

WEST

If subscribers whose romances are on the blink outline their troubles in "dear computer" letters, the machine will counsel them on how to cope.

Its strong point, I gather, will be straightening out problems for estranged couples who originally got together through one of those computer dating services that have been springing up around the country.

The question that arose in my mind as I was reading about plans for the magazine, called Checkmate, is: How do you go about programming a computer to become an authority on affairs of the heart?

DIFFERENT LISTS

Presumably, one data storage section would contain a list of all the things that could possibly go wrong with a boy-girl relationship. Another section would contain a list of all of the ways that fissioned lovers could be reconciled.

When the computer received a letter, it would relate the problem stated by the writer to one of the problems stored in its memory drum. Then it would match the problem against the list of solutions until it found an answer that fit.

I don't know how the folks at Checkmate managed it, but if I were programming a computer for this type of work I would be certain to include the following input units: Problems:

Boy likes girl but girl likes another boy better. Boy likes girl but girl likes another girl better. Girl likes boy but boy thinks he is a girl.

Boy likes girl but her parents disapprove. Boy likes girl but his parents disapprove. Boy's parents like girl better than he does. Girl likes boy's parents better than she likes boy.

Boy likes girl but is too shy to ask for date. Girl likes boy but boy is already married. Girl likes boy but boy is more interested in football. Boy likes girl but girl becomes pregnant. Girl likes boy but boy dislikes pregnant girls.

Boy has affair with older woman. Boy falls in love with older woman's daughter. Girl likes boy but leaves dance early because carriage changes into pumpkin at midnight. Boy likes girl but she feeds him forbidden fruit.

Solutions:

Boy or girl moves to another state. Girl's father buys shotgun. Girl changes brands of toothpaste. Boy goes to Sweden for operation.

'Tax-Reform Bill Bad for Museum'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The director of the American Association of Museums says the 1969 tax reform bill, passed by the House and pending in the Senate, would be harmful for museums at a time of great growth and public need.

Kyran McGrath, at a news conference, objected to provisions in the bill which would place a tax on donated items; impose a 7.5 per cent tax on investment income to private foundations; and allow publicly supported museums to offer 50 per cent tax deductions to donors whereas privately supported institutions could offer only 20 per cent.

College Spurned

HILLSDALE (AP)—Voters in Hillsdale Count rejected Tuesday night a proposal to join the Jackson County Community College district. Unofficial returns showed the annexation question and the proposal to levy a 1.33 millage increase to cover operating expenses were defeated more than two-to-one.

Noise Shut Out by Elephants

WINDSOR, England (UPI)—The elephants marched by, two by two, each with earmuffs on their ears.

The four elephants from Thailand weren't cold. The noise of jets roaring over the Windsor Safari Park Zoo drove them to distraction.

The zoo is only a few minutes from London's Heathrow Airport. Ronald Smart, director of the zoo, said the first time the elephants heard a jet they stampeded through park fences.

"They are young elephants and panicked with the noise. It took us a whole day to round them up using men and trucks," Smart said.

"We had to do something to shut out the noise while they settled in and we hit on the idea of earmuffs."

Loan for Schools

BRONSON (AP)—The Bronson Community school board took out a $190,000 tax anticipation loan with the Bronson branch of the First National Bank of Quincy Tuesday night. At six per cent, the bonds will run from Sept. 1, 1969 to April 1, 1970. Money will be used for school operations in Bronson.

Trading Is Active

Declines Top Advances in Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks edged into the losing column in active trading this afternoon, as declines overcame advances by 103 issues.

Analysts said that mutual funds were still trying to dress up their portfolios before the close of the third quarter Tuesday and were "kicking out the losers and buying into others."

"There are many crosscurrents of buying one thing and dumping another," another analyst said in explaining the rather active trading.

Profit taking still existed among the glamor issues which have enjoyed such healthy performances last week and Monday.

Among the glamors, Control Data was off ⅛ at 138⅛; IBM 356, off 1¼; Polaroid 134, off 2⅛; and Xerox 101⅛ ffo, ⅝.

In some instances, the mutual funds were doing the profit taking, one broker commented.

Of the 20 most-active issues, 10 declined, 9 advanced, and 1 was unchanged, giving the market a losing complexion after it had opened with a winning face.

Declines led advances on the Amex active list by 12 to 7 with one issue unchanged.

Unions Protest Racial Quotas

Leaders Threaten Federal Boycotts

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Angry union leaders threatened today a boycott of federal construction projects to protest a government plan they said would set racial hiring quotas.

"It's going to raise the roof," said one AFL-CIO building trades leader after the Labor Department announced it would go ahead with the controversial Philadelphia plan.

Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said in Washington Tuesday the plan would be put into effect in Philadelphia and expanded nationwide as soon as possible to insure more high-paying construction jobs for Negroes and other minority groups.

The plan would require contractors on federal projects of $50,000 or more to hire a certain number from minority groups for iron work, plumbing, pipefitting, sheet metal and electricians jobs.

Shultz has said Negro workers in those trades in the Philadelphia area amount to less than two per cent, but the unions claim about 12 per cent.

Leaders of the AFL-CIO Construction and Building Trades Department, who earlier said they would throw open their doors to all qualified minority group journeymen, prepared resolutions denouncing the Philadelphia plan as "infamous" and a "union-busting" tactic.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, scheduled to speak today to the convention of the 17 construction unions, reportedly will join in the opposition to the government plan and warn against black militant attempts to frighten the unions into taking in untrained Negroes.

One resolution proposed that "the Building and Construction Trades Department use all the power and persuasiveness at its means to defeat this plan, to the point and including the withholding of all manpower from any federal project perpetuating this plan."

Top Exec 'Resigns' —or Was He Fired?

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — You see the statements in the newspapers from time to time: The corporation president suddenly announces his resignation "to pursue personal interests." Is it true? Maybe. But it could mean he was fired.

CUNNIFF

Outright firings are always nasty affairs, especially when they involve high executives and are attended by heated emotions, charges and countercharges and even law suits. Firings are considered crude today.

Elaborate plans therefore are made to hide the true facts from the kibitzers—that growing population of stockholders, financial analysts, mutual funds and big stockholders. But the techniques are apparent.

After having spent two decades psychoanalyzing the corporation, Dr. Eugene Jennings, a university professor and professional kibitzer—he gets paid handsome fees for advising corporations—has detailed some techniques for firing the president.

MUSHROOMING TECHNIQUE

None of the techniques refer to any specific individual or firing, but you can bet that in many instances something of the sort was hidden in the background.

The first technique is mushrooming. The chairman gives the president lots of challenging jobs. This technique is especially useful if the executive is hungry, meaning very eager to please. A hungry executive is insecure.

Eventually the jobs accumulate until he is incapable of handling them all. He makes a serious error. No matter that he handled 98 per cent of the jobs well; he failed on 2 per cent, and that's enough to nail him.

Sometimes a curious twist occurs in which the insecure president participates in his own demise. In his effort to please he sometimes usurps authority—even if he can't effectively use that authority.

Having taken on more than he can handle, he begins delegating, and eventually he delegates a job to what Jennings calls the president's "intimate enemy," a man having no love for the president and perhaps even envious of him.

The intimate enemy does just enough to escape scrutiny, but not enough to be effective. He is a presidential saboteur, but he has power. He has support from other executives. And power, which is won, defeats authority, which is assigned.

Realizing that things aren't going well, the president loses his cool and orders the intimate enemy: "Do things as I say or get out." The powerful intimate enemy refuses. The matter goes to the chairman.

"I'm sorry Mr. President, but things haven't worked out as we expected," says the chairman, who prefers the loss of the president to the resignations of a dozen executive friends of the powerful intimate enemy.

DETAILED OUT

Another technique: Detail the president out of the job. Keep him out of the office on assignments so often he doesn't know what's going on. Then ask him for a proposal. He won't be able to come up with it. He catches on. He quits.

A third technique: Expand his team. Turn the president's office into the Office of the President. Assign him three advisers —who report directly to the chairman. Dilute his powers. If he doesn't kick, kick him up to a powerless job.

Jennings hastens to explain that all executive changes are not maneuvers to do a man in. Some vice chairmen have little power despite their big titles. Others have enormous responsibilities.

And some presidents find their offices turned into the Office of the President not in an effort by the chairman to dilute the president's power but simply because the job is too big for one man.

AUTHORITY VS. POWER

Essential to the effectiveness of any maneuver to displace the president is the matter of power versus authority. A president may have been assigned much authority in the company but have no power.

Power, Jennings notes, is something acquired, something earned, something developed by an individual's personality and accomplishments, generally over a prolonged period. Authority, which is given, is no match for it.

'Rookies' to Prosecute Green Beret Defendants

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Army has selected two military lawyers with no civilian courtroom experience to prosecute the first Green Beret murder trial against some of the toughest legal talent in the United States.

The Army today announced the selection of Maj. Richard P. Runke, 33, of Chicago, Ill., and Capt. Thomas C. Warren, 28, of Wenatchee, Wash., as trial counsel and assistant trial counsel.

They will present the Army's case against three Special Forces captains scheduled for general court-martial Oct. 20 on charges of murdering a Vietnamese who reportedly was a double agent.

Runke and Warren are members of the Army's staff judge advocate corps at this headquarters base 15 miles northeast of Saigon, where six Special Forces officers charged in the case are in custody and two other Green Beret men are confined to the base although the charges against them are being held in abeyance.

News in Brief

Pontiac police reported today that the apartment of Violet Strait, 22, of 454 Auburn was burglarized around 4 p.m. yesterday of items valued at $400.

Successful Investing

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — Using the Monthly Investment Plan in 1968, I bought eight shares of Continental Oil at an average price of 70. I fear this company doesn't know I'm a stockholder as I have received no dividends. My letter to the transfer agent remains unanswered. What's my next step? — P.S.

A — Continental Oil split two-for-one on March 24, 1969, and a cash dividend of 37½ cents (quarterly) was paid on the new shares June 13, 1969. You should now hold 16 shares, at an adjusted cost of 35. Send your story to the company secretary, Mr. J. D. Kelley, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City, 10020 and mail a carbon copy to the transfer agent, Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. Your MIP transaction was terminated when the paper work crush was most severe — the probable cause of your "forgotten man" status.

Opening lead—♣ 10

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Marshall Miles of San Bernardino and Eddie Kantar of Los Angeles are one of our best partnerships but even the best sometimes get a trifle too high in their bidding.

East's fancy opening club bid started them off on their run to the stratosphere but they did manage to stop in the never-never land between game and slam and it was up to Eddie to bring the contract in. He proceeded to do so with flawless technique. Nothing sensational but the sort of job expected from players of this caliber.

He played the queen of clubs from dummy. East took his king and led a trump. West's nine forced dummy's ace and it was up to Eddie to make all the rest of the tricks but one.

He cashed the ace and king of spades and finessed dummy's queen of diamonds. So far, so good. He cashed his ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond while East discarded.

Then he ruffed a spade in dummy and made the important play of cashing dummy's ace of clubs. In working a cross-ruff, it is important to get in your side cards before your opponents have a chance to get in position to ruff them.

Now he led dummy's last diamond. East could gain nothing by ruffing and discarded. Now Eddie led his last spade.

If West discarded, Eddie would ruff for his 10th trick, so West ruffed with the jack of trumps. This left Eddie with the king-10 and, since West was on lead, Eddie could show his two cards and claim the last two tricks.

CHRD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♦	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	?

You, South, hold: ♠2 ♥AK1098 ♦4 ♣AKJ854

What do you do now?

A—Bid four no-trump. You are going to five, six or seven depending on how many aces your partner has.

TODAY'S QUESTION

5 Feminists Accuse New York of 'Fraud'

NEW YORK (AP) — Five young women have charged the city with perpetrating the fraud of marriage by making women "sex slaves in the unholy state of matrimony."

The women, members of the Feminists, complained Tuesday to City Clerk Herman Katz that, by issuing marriage licenses, the city supported a system of "conspiracy to exert force on the women of this city to enter the unholy bonds of matrimony which, for women, includes rape, unpaid labor and imprisonment."

One woman slipped a copy of the complaint to Mayor John V. Lindsay, married and the father of four. He did not respond.

U. of M. Science Unit Scene of War Sit-In

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)— Antiwar demonstrators staged a two-hour sit-in at the University of Michigan's Institute of Science and Technology Tuesday afternoon as a followup to the seizure of the Reserve Officers Training Corps building Monday night.

About 75 protesters marched two miles to the institute which houses the university's research for the Defense Department. The sit-in was peaceful and no police action occurred.

Earlier in the afternoon, the group massed in front of the ROTC building but could not agree upon another occupation attempt. A police security detail was still on hand, left after the student takeover of the building the night before.

No plans were announced for further demonstrations.

HELD 3½ HOURS

Some 60 students broke into the ROTC building Monday night and occupied it for more than 3½ hours, during which they hung a Vietcong flag outside a classroom window.

Ann Arbor city police arrived within ten minutes of the takeover, but no move was taken to evict the demonstrators.

University officials said some windows were broke in front of the building, and desks were overturned in some classrooms during the occupation.

FINALLY LEFT

The demonstrators finally left in small groups around 2:45 a.m., melting into the crowd of onlookers and supporters which numbered around 2,000 at one point. No arrests were attempted by the loose cordon of police which had been set up around the building.

Ann Arbor police chief Walter Krasny said police have video tapes of some of the demonstrators as they fled the building. Fleming said some students would be prosecuted if identified.

After abandoning the ROTC building early Tuesday morning, the students held a rally in the center of campus and decided to march on Fleming's campus residence.

About 500 students moved to the university president's front lawn where they pounded on the front door and chanted, "Smash ROTC," and "We want Fleming." He did not appear and the house remained darkened.

Student government president Marty McLaughlin, who was among the protesters at Fleming's residence, criticized the students' behavior, saying it was "something like a religious meeting. We are treating Fleming as the devil incarnate and ourselves as the martyrs."

France Prods Ho's Successor

Pompidou Renews Offer to Aid in Talks

PARIS (UPI) — President George Pompidou has renewed a standing offer to North Vietnam's new ruling troika to help promote a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam war, French political sources said today.

Pompidou offered France's help and possible diplomatic intercession to speed the Paris talks in a message to acting President Ton Duc Thang.

The message was sent after the death of Prsident Ho Chi Minh, the sources said.

Pompidou also got an authoritative assessment of the policies North Vietnam's new leaders will follow from Jean Sainteny, former minister and onetime diplomat to Hanoi, the sources said.

AT HO'S FUNERAL

Sainteny represented France at Ho's funeral and conducted talks with Ho's successors while he was in Hanoi, the sources said.

The French government was instrumental in getting Hanoi into the peace negotiations in Paris.

Even as Pompidou offered French help in efforts toward peace in Vietnam, Hanoi leaders appeared to be hardening their position in the talks, which convene for the 35th time tomorrow.

Observing what North Vietnam considers the 24th anniversary of the start of the Vietnam War, they said there would be no peace until the United States gives up the idea of playing a role in Vietnam.

News in Brief at State Capitol

By The Associated Press

THE GOVERNOR

Said he will make a report to the people Oct. 1 on the recommendations of his Education Reform Commission. He also indicated it will include some form of state aid to nonpublic schools.

Announced the creation of a new Michigan Administrative Law Commission to make sure citizens are fairly treated when dealing with state government agencies.

Reported that Robert McClain, asked to step down as State Housing Authority director, is being offered another job within the department.

STATE SELECTIVE SERVICE

Announced a sharp cut in the October draft call from the previous 2,416 men to only 870 men.

THE SOCIAL SERVICES DEPARTMENT DIRECTOR

Said the State Housing Authority voted last week to "terminate the services" of its director.

THE LEGISLATURE

Was in recess until Oct. 6.

Romney Hails Housing Effort

Breakthrough Cited Before Its Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Housing George Romney Tuesday hailed his much-touted Operation Breakthrough for mass production of low-priced dwellings as a success before it even started.

Surrounded by boxes containing 561 industry proposals for housing construction innovations, Romney termed the response to the project "terrific, in fact overwhelming."

Between 10 and 15 winners will share about $15 million in federal contracts for advance design and possible production and demonstration of housing construction advances.

The former Michigan governor said the project has already succeeded because the disparate housing construction industry has begun to pool its technological developments.

'WORTHWHILE'

"This result from Operation Breakthrough has made the whole effort worthwhile," Romney told a news conference.

"Companies have opened their research developments to one another."

In addition, 161 sites in 100 cities have been proposed for the project's demonstrations. Eight will be chosen.

'MORE NEEDED'

Recent jumps in housing costs "make the breakthrough approach more needed than before," Romney said.

He said construction starts in the distressed housing industry may possibly drop below the one million mark by year's end.

"We are facing an urgent situation," Romney said.

He did not rule out the possible need for wage and price controls to halt inflation but termed them "almost a last resort after we exhaust other remedies."

Kopechnes Try to Bar Autopsy

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Mary Jo Kopechne's parents, fighting to keep her grave undisturbed, asked a judge today to delay any hearing for an autopsy until Massachusetts holds an inquest into her death in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car.

Attorneys for the parents also petitioned Common Pleas Judge Bernard C. Brominski to disfiss the exhumation request by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass., on grounds he failed to give sufficient facts as to why it is necessary.

And this included allegations by Dinis that blood reportedly was found in Mary Jo's nose and mouth and on her clothing after her body was taken from the car July 19.

Brominski fixed Monday at 10 a.m. in his courtroom for arguments on the new motion to dismiss. He had rejected a similar request on Sept. 3 but ordered Dinis to provide further evidence.

Strike to Continue

ALPENA (AP) — More than 100 workers at Alpena's Universal Fluid Dynamics plant voted Tuesday to continue their 40-day strike for higher wages. The members of Local 19-55 of the United Auto Workers rejected a contract offer and voted to return to the picket line Wednesday.

A Look at TV

A Doctor in the House

NEW YORK — It may not be long before some television viewers hunger for the old-fashioned phony violence of Wild West shoot-outs and the faked fights of private eyes. This year, TV violence and tragedy hits closer to home, with sickness, physical handicaps, plane crashes as the base of dramatic conflict.

The TV doctors are making their initial house calls. "Marcus Welby, M.D." dropped by, via ABC, Tuesday night with a story about a pretty young school teacher dying of brain cancer.

* * *

Dr. Welby—Robert Young—is a kindly, wise general practitioner. He has a young, intense assistant—James Brolin—who makes house calls on a motorcycle. They discussed symptoms a bit in the first show but mostly the young doctor was getting himself emotionally involved with the teacher. The touchy question of whether to tell a patient he is dying was handled as if it were not a debatable point—the girl was told as she was coming out of the anesthetic of her operation.

* * *

The first program of another doctors' series, "Medical Center." will be broadcast by CBS tonight. It is the story of a determined doctor trying to persuade an ailing athlete to submit to the surgery he needs.

CHAD IS DEDICATED

The CBS series premiere, seen in a preview, is hospital-oriented and Chad Everett, as the young surgeon, is as dedicated as Ben Casey. The story centers on the university's football star refusing medical attention because it might interfere with his rich future in pro ball.

* * *

Dr. Gannon suspects—more outlining of symptoms—a tumor but only manages to get his man on the operating table in the nick of time.

It will be interesting to see if, in weeks to come, the public finds these dramatic excursions into human misery gripping entertainment. Both shows were well produced and sympathetically acted.

A HANDY DEVICE

Plane crashes promise to be handy dramatic devices. "The New People" started Monday night with one, and a crack-up was the foundation of the plot Tuesday of the first show in ABC's new "Movie of the Week" series. "Seven in Darkness" had a group of blind persons surviving the crash and most of the 90 minutes showed their stumbling, peril-filled trek to safety.

* * *

The program was contrived, often melodramatic and too long. It was probably not a very happy choice for a first show since it was often painful and tedious in spite of the work of an excellent cast including Milton Berle, Barry Nelson and Dina Merrill.

Some 130 million Americans make 500 million visits to doctors in this country every year.

6,000 Greet Paul Newman at Premiere

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Actor Paul Newman was greeted by a crowd of about 6,000 Tuesday night when he arrived for the world premiere of his film "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid."

Actress Barbra Streisand also attended.

The premiere was held as a benefit for the Yale Drama School, which Newman attended.

Pope Paul VI, who will be 72 on Friday, returned yesterday from his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo south of Rome.

Nixon Ready to Appoint FTC Chairman

President Nixon is ready to appoint a new member and chairman of the Federal Trade Commission within the next week or so.

Ronald L. Ziegler, the White House press secretary, provided this word in response to questions by newsmen yesterday.

Commissioner James M. Nicholson, whose term expires tomorrow, has resigned. There have been reports that Caspar W. Weinberger, the California state finance director, would be appointed to the commission and succeed chairman Paul Rand Dixon.

Actor Boone May Run for Governor of Hawaii

BOONE

"I've made no decision yet," he said. "It's still a rumor as far as I'm concerned."

Boone, 52, who lives on the island of Hawaii, is a registered Republican but considers himself an independent.

Democratic Gov. John A. Burns is expected to seek reelection in 1970 and Boone says he has been approached on the possibility of his entering the race on the GOP ticket.

The actor, a veteran of 50 motion pictures and the television series, "Have Gun, Will Travel," said he would make up his mind within two weeks.

"It's a big step personally and economically," he said.

Cleric Says All Bishops Should Elect Pope

The Roman Catholic archbishop of Ravenna, Italy, suggested today the Pope should be elected by all Roman Catholic bishops rather than the College of Cardinals.

The Most Rev. Salvatore Baldassarri made his proposal in an interview in the magazine Il Regno.

The College of Cardinals has elected the Pope since the 11th century.

Homes Lacking in Mental Care

(Editor's Note — Mental nightmares haunt many of the million elderly Americans in nursing homes, yet few receive any hint of psychiatric care. Instead, nursing homes turn to drugs and restraining straps. This is the third of five articles.)

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The priest was saying Mass in the dingy Detroit nursing home when an old man with white stubble on his chin raised his grizzled face and blurted out a childhood prayer:

"Now I lay me down to sleep.
"I pray the Lord my soul to keep.
"If I should die before I wake,
"—Who the hell would care?"

* * *

For many of these patients, it is a lonely, desolate, empty end.

'LIVING DEATH'

"It is a living death," said a Los Angeles clergyman. "They sit and stare and wait—and watch each other die."

A Cleveland researcher, Dr. Margaret Blenkner, added, "Don't kid yourself. Just walk into a nursing home and tell me how many happy, laughing faces you see."

This hidden million are old and alone, confused and forgotten.

Half are past 77. Most are widowed. For many of them, the mind is ebbing, or eroded—and this, not ill health, is the main reason many are in a nursing home.

The grim sight of rows of patients who sit and stare at nothing is not a fault of the nursing homes. It is a fact of health, and a flaw of a nation that has no real plan for taking care of the mental nightmares that haunt the aging.

A study by Dr. Alvin I. Goldfarb, former head of the American Psychiatry Association's committee on aging, has listed 86 per cent of the patients in nursing homes as suffering mental disorders that range from senility to insanity.

Yet a reporter who visited more than a score of nursing homes across the country failed to find any sign of psychiatric care. And, in interviews, several psychiatrists and psychologists agreed that such specialized care is almost nonexistent.

Drugs are used to keep patients subdued. The worst cases are kept in restraining straps. And state officials compound the crisis by dumping the elderly out of mental hospitals into private nursing homes.

The most common problem is senility, better defined in medical terms as "chronic brain syndrome." It comes with hardening of the arteries, starving the brain for blood, or with the sudden blockage of a stroke. It leaves the mind fuzzy, confused, blank. Patients forget how to dress themselves, how to go to the bathroom.

George Lewis says he has been in a nursing home five weeks. Records show it has been five years.

Miss Cook was a young woman in 1920 when committed to a Michigan state hospital because of confusion, delusions and what the doctors listed as "bizarre behavior." Her medical records reported no significant progress. Yet she was released this spring to be sent to a nursing home.

KEPT TIED

Now, Miss Cook, 72, is kept tied with a cloth strap in her chair in a ward, unaware of the world around her, muttering as her hands knit with nothing in them.

Under Michigan's release program, she is considered in "convalescent status."

Moving patients out of the overcrowded state mental hospitals into nursing homes — where the federal government helps pay the bill — is routine across the nation.

Georgia has discharged approximately 2,600 mental patients into nursing homes over the past five years. North Carolina has shifted about 1,700. An Ohio official flatly denied the practice, yet public testimony disclosed the recent transfer of 300 out of a single state hospital.

Dr. Goldfarb criticized such transfers and said most are unjustified. He added, "There is a danger that nursing homes, because they lack medical tradition and psychiatric supervision, will degenerate into snake pits."

DRUGS, STRAPS

As a substitute for psychiatrists, nursing homes turn to drugs and restraining straps.

In the back ward of a rural southern Indiana nursing home, more than a dozen patients sit strapped into chairs. The administrator complains she has no choice—the state hospitals won't take the patients, and there is no place else for them to go.

Doctor's orders are generally required by state regulations for physical restraint. But checks of medical records showed this is loosely enforced.

The trappings of restraint can range from modern, dignified chair devices to a bed sheet for a Minneapolis patient, a strip of cloth in Detroit, an automatic dosage of tranquilizing drugs for everyone in a Los Angeles home.

VIVID MEMORY

In these situations—when the mentally ill are mingled among other patients, with callous government indifference to the problem, when restraint is used as the cornerstone of care—a nursing home can turn into a house of horror.

A woman in a Minneapolis suburb remembers with vivid pain what happened when she took her mother, who had suffered a stroke, to a nursing home and returned the next morning to find her tied, without clothes, in bed in the midst of her own wastes.

"I will never forget that sight," the woman wrote. "It's seared into my memory, seeing her struggling to free herself, crying out for someone to help her.

"She clung to me and cried like a child over and over again, 'Thank God you've come, thank God you've come.'"

Nursing Home Articles Hit

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — The Montana Nursing Home Association says "the public is being misled and great injustice done" by a series of Associated Press articles on the nation's nursing homes.

In a statement issued by Roderick R. Gudgel, its executive secretary, the association added: "Montana's nursing home administrators are among the first to admit that even the Montana nursing home care can and should be further improved."

The association's statement included a 700-word code of ethics which it said all member homes are obligated to observe or face exclusion from the Association.

The five-part AP series, distributed for use in afternoon newspapers this week, made no mention of Montana nursing homes. The association's statement did not directly challenge any of the specific points contained in the articles.

Senator Asks New Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee chairman called today for new hearings into problems in the nation's nursing homes.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, singled out a series of articles this week by The Associated Press on nursing homes.

"The time has come for another hard look at chronic problems in the field," said Moss, who heads the subcommittee on long-term care, part of the Senate Committee on Aging.

Nixon Pullout Decision Takes Middle Ground—British Paper

LONDON (AP) — President Nixon's decision to pull 35,000 more troops out of Vietnam by the middle of December is a "excruciatingly careful calculation" designed to satisfy supporters as well as critics of the war, says the Daily Telegraph.

The newspaper says Nixon managed to delay the decision for several weeks "in a desperate rearguard action" as he strove to learn the minds of his war experts who presented him with widely different ideas on which direction to take. But he dared not delay any longer, "with the universities about to reassemble and the liberals on the verge of apoplexy."

The withdrawal number he settled on is "the least that American public opinion will tolerate without exploding and the most the generals can accept without resigning and the Saigon government without disintegrating," the newspaper adds.

The London Financial Times said further American withdrawal might prompt the North Vietnamese to slow down the fighting, "but there is every sign that North Vietnam's determination to continue the war is as strong now as it ever was and is little likely to be weakened by concessions from the United States."

'FURTHER FAILURE AHEAD'

The Communist newspaper Sheung Pao, published in Hong Kong, said "Nixon's plan to conduct a dis-Americanized Vietnam war will result only in further failure and defeat for the United States.

"It is really fascinating to note that Nixon still wants to use the Saigon government despite this puppet government's instability and internal disarray," said the Chinese-language newspaper.

Progress in treatment of heart and blood vessel diseases since 1950 has saved an estimated 4,000 lives a year.

Expert Needed to Run County Jail, Panel Head Says

By JIM LONG

A prison expert or professional administrator, rather than the sheriff, should operate the new jail planned for Oakland County, a committee of the county board of supervisors recommended yesterday.

Dennis M. Aaron, chairman of the Public Protection and Judiciary Committee, said the recommendation was neither a move to abolish the office of sheriff nore a reflection on Sheriff Frank Irons.

"The sheriff is doing the best he can with what he has to work with," said Aaron, "but I also believe that in this day and age that no sheriff is competent to run a jail."

"We need a skilled individual who is able to cope with the numerous problems that go along with the operation of a jail," explained Aaron.

REPORT ON CONDITIONS

Aaron's comments came after his committee issued a report containing recommendations about conditions at the present county jail in downtown Pontiac.

The study was initiated seven months ago after published reports of brutality and sexual perversion among inmates.

The report submitted yesterday generally makes recommendations regarding methods of alleviating the overcrowded conditions and associated problems. The recommendations will now go to the full board of supervisors for action.

It concluded, however, by outlining some goals involving the jail facility to be built at the county service center on Telegraph Road.

DOESN'T MEET DEMANDS

"The committee," the report noted, "is cognizant that the traditional role of the sheriff as custodian of prisoners does not meet the demands of society today."

In order to correct this, the report goes on, "it is necessary to retain a penologist or professional jail administrator" who would initiate programs for the rehabilitation and education of the inmates.

The committee report said the design of the new jail offers the county an "excellent opportunity to create new programs for the benefit of the inmates and for society at large."

It was noted during the meeting that the construction and occupancy of the new jail is at least three years away. It would house nearly 500 initially. The present jail has facilities for 259, but the actual number of prisoners often goes to 270 and 275.

Ground was to be broken for the new jail this fall, but plans were scuttled when the county was unable to get any bidders for the bonds that would have financed the $9 million project.

Meantime, the committee feels that if some of its recommendations are carried out the problems stemming from the overcrowding could be resolved to a large extent.

As a temporary means of alleviating crowded conditions, the committee yesterday directed Daniel Murphy,

Aide Says Nixon to Switch, Back Oil Tax Break

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of President Nixon's key political lieutenants has told a Republican stalwart in the heart-of-Texas oil country the White House will reverse its field and support the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance.

"The recent testimony before the Senate Finance Committee is to be corrected very soon by the secretary of the Treasury. The President continues to stand by his campaign commitments," deputy counsel Harry S. Dent wrote in a Sept. 4-dated letter to the head of the Midland County commission.

The commitment Dent referred to was made by Nixon in a Texas speech last fall when he said, "I oppose reduction of that 27½ per cent allowance."

The testimony Dent said would be corrected came Sept. 4 when Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy delivered the surprising word that the administration would accept reducing the depletion allowance to 20 per cent as dictated by the House in its tax reform bill.

'ACCEPTABLE'

"Although the administration did not recommend a cut . . . we accept the House approach to increasing the share of the national tax burden borne by the petroleum industry," Kennedy told the Senate committee.

Dent, chief White House political liaison, could not be reached for comment. But his letter, written in response to a resolution from the governing board of the oil-rich Texas county urging Nixon to stand fast for 27½ per cent, said specifically the President "has asked me to respond in his behalf."

The initial acceptance of the allowance cut bore the unmistakable approval of the President. It was hashed out in many conferences involving the President and much of his staff, including most of the Treasury's leaders.

To heighten the mystery caused by the Dent letter, a canvass of Treasury Department sources turned up no one who would admit knowing of the newest policy change indicated by what the presidential assistant wrote.

The 27½ per cent rate — the result of an ancient compromise between the Senate and House — has been under attack with critics saying it is a symbol of tax privileges granted big business by the government.

Computer Aids U.S. in Pollution Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's timetable for fighting water pollution is so complicated that man alone can not keep track of it; and today the Interior Department said it is turning to the computer for help.

The battle against water pollution involves tens of thousands of individual target dates for abatement actions throughout the country, and the department is determined not to let any of them slip through the cracks when nobody is looking.

Water quality standards have been approved by the federal government for the interstate waters of all 50 states, three territories, and the District of Columbia, and each jurisdiction's plan carries timetables for individual municipalities and industries.

Each timetable, in turn, contains a series of separate target dates: for the submission of preliminary plans, submission of final plans, start of construction of antipollution facilities, and completion of construction; and then, sometimes a date has to be changed.

TIMETABLE CHECKUPS

To bring order out of this potential chaos the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration is feeding all these little deadlines into a computer and plans to keep them up-to-date with regular reports from its regional offices and from state officials.

At the punch of a card, the FWPCA should be able to determine at any time just how well — or how poorly — and state, or county, or river basin, or enforcement area is keeping its promises to clean up pollution.

Just now gearing up, the project has already spotted some "slippage" in Montana and Arkansas, the first two states to submit data, said FWPCA Commissioner David D. Dominick.

He said data should be available from all jurisdictions "within the next four weeks."

Pontiac Div. Hit on Air Pollution

By ED BLUNDEN

A city ordinance to battle air pollution, aimed chiefly at the Pontiac Motor Division foundry, was proposed at last night's City Commission meeting.

The proposal was in a report submitted by chairman Robert Parker of the city's air pollution committee. Parker said the committee's investigation at the Montcalm and Ivy plant showed no progress in combatting gases and smoke eminating from the plant, despite promises made by General Motors two years ago.

City Affairs, Page C-16

GM officials had said the five gas-powered blast furnaces would be replaced by electric, nonpolluting furnaces in about six years. One electric furnace was installed and is in operation, but none of the existing furnaces have been turned off, Parker said.

The division also is reportedly having difficulty with the new furnace, Parker reported, and replacement date has now been set for 1979. Urging an ordinance to force the company to abate the smoke sooner, Parker suggested patterning a law after one used in Trenton.

COMPANY STATEMENT

In reply to Parker's allegations, a Pontiac Motor spokesman issued the following statement this morning:

Frost Is Possible in Area Tonight

There's a chance of scattered light frost in areas near Pontiac tonight, the low dipping to 38 to 44 degrees.

Mostly sunny and a little warmer, the high hitting 63 to 68 is the forecast for tomorrow. Cloudy and mild with a chance of showers is the outlook for Friday.

Probabilities of precipitation are 20 per cent today, near zero both tonight and tomorrow.

The low prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 53. The mercury had warmed up to 59 by 12:30 p.m.

GOP Revolt on OEO Bill Has President in a Bind

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is having a hard time getting House Republicans to go along with its plans for continuing the antipoverty program.

If the administration could assure House leaders that just 60 of the 188 Republican members would support it, the legislation would be moved promptly. But no such assurance is forthcoming.

Unless agreement is reached soon, the Democrats will probably bring a beefed-up bill to the floor in hopes of putting the Republicans in the politically embarrassing position of whittling it down in public.

Nixon has asked for a simple two-year extension of the Economic Opportunity Act that launched Lyndon B. Johnson's "War on Poverty" in 1964, and Democrats are supporting him.

UNWILLING TO DROP FIGHT

But, having fought the legislation tooth and nail during the Johnson years, most House Republicans are unwilling to drop the fight now despite the Nixon label on the bill.

In the Senate, the Democrats already have started to fatten up the program.

Last week a sub-committee added $829 million to the $2 billion requested by Nixon, putting the money into the most popular programs run by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The sum may be reduced by the full committee but the bill itself is in no real difficulty in the Senate.

GOP-DIXIECRAT COALITION

The trouble is in the House, where a coalition of Southern Democrats and Republicans has made passage a struggle every year.

Only by granting important concessions and bringing its full weight to bear was the Johnson administration able to keep the program going.

Now, still responsible for the legislation in Congress but without the authority of the White House behind it, the House Democratic leadership has kept the bill bottled up in committee for months waiting for word from the administration that it is safe to proceed.

Donald Rumsfeld, a former GOP congressmen who heads OEO, has met repeatedly with his former colleagues trying to win them over to the administration position. He has made some progress but not enough.

CHIEF HOLDOUT

The chief holdout is Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn. He has tried for years to give the states greater control over OEO programs and is ready to renew the battle. The 60 Republican votes the White House is having difficulty finding are needed to defeat Quie's amendment.

If the votes aren't produced within the next two weeks Chairman Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., plans to convene the education and labor committee and start writing a Democratic bill which will go far beyond the administration's budget, requests for Head Start, legal services, emergency food and medical services and other widely supported programs.

* * *

Home Front Unsafe, Viet Vet Discovers

After two tours of duty in Vietnam the flash of gunfire and pain were no strangers to 24-year-old Thomas Arthur Jr. but he didn't expect to find them in his own hometown.

Arthur of 41 N. Andrews, Lake Orion, was shot early Sunday, allegedly by a man police believe later killed a Romeo patrolman and fled to Canada.

Saturday, Arthur helped some friends build a garage. He later stopped at the American Legion Hall, 164 S. Broadway. As often happens when ex-servicemen gather, a spirited discussion began about the various military services and their respective merits. A man at the bar was listening to Arthur and a group of friends. Once the man broke into the conversation.

* * *

IN SATISFACTORY CONDITION

Jones fled. Arthur was taken to Pontiac General Hospital, where he is now listed in satisfactory condition.

A Marine corporal, Arthur was discharged Aug. 29 after four years with the Marines.

On Halloween night, 1966, Arthur was shot three times in the leg and hip while driving in a convoy of trucks ambushed by the Vietcong. He was in the Da Nang base hospital for three months after the ambush.

* * *

'DOESN'T THINK OF HIMSELF'

His mother, Mrs. Thomas Arthur Sr. said, "he's concerned about how worried we are. Doctors say he has quite a bit of pain, but he doesn't think about himself."

She said when he was wounded in Vietnam he asked the authorities not to notify his parents before he could write to them. It was two weeks before they knew of the ambush.

Before the Saturday shooting incident, Arthur was planning to return to his job at Pontiac Motor Division. He had even ordered a new car, the first since his enlistment in 1965.

Senate GOP Elects Scott

Scott defeated Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., of Tennessee, 24 to 19, at a closed-door conference of Senate Republicans.

The election of the 68-year-old Pennsylvanian to succeed the late Sen. Everett M. Dirksen opened a new leadership vacancy — that of GOP whip.

Scott has held that No. 2 post since January and his promotion as leader touched off a follow-up campaign for whip.

HOWARD BAKER

POSSIBLE CANDIDATES

It was not announced when the Senate Republicans wold meet to elect a successor to Scott.

Among those mentioned for the assistant leader post — Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, Charles H. Percy of Illinois, James B. Pearson of Kansas, Jack Miller of Iowa and Baker.

Scott said on the eve of the vote that his support was "firm and rising" and sufficient for victory.

Baker, a first-term senator, had insisted he was ahead but said neither candidate had the advance commitments to insure victory

POINTS OF CONTENTION

The campaign for the post — waged in conversation and conference, in the cloakrooms and corridors — appeared to involved two key ingredients:

• Scott's rating as among liberal Republicans.

• Baker's position as a freshman with only 3½ years in a Congress built around the seniority system.

Scott, a veteran of 26 years in Congress, is 68. He defeated Hrusha 23 to 20 to win election as GOP whip nine months ago. Dirksen had backed Hruska for the job.

Milliken to Abolish Local School Tax?

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken may propose abolition of local school taxes and the levying of a statewide property tax in his educational reform program, according to a Republican lawmaker.

This would require a constitutional amendment, as would another reported proposal: abolition of the State Board of Education and appointment by the governor of the superintendent of public instruction.

A five-cent increase which would boost the cigarette tax to 12 cents a package also is suggested as a means of raising more school money in a memorandum being circulated by Rep. Martin Buth, assistant Republican leader in the House.

The memorandum also points out a one per cent increase in the state income tax of 2.6 per cent would add $180 million a year to state income.

The changes, according to Buth's memorandum, likely would require the state to operate for the next three years at current financing levels.

On the question of parochiaid, Buth said "the governor seems inclined to include some assistance, based on a percentage of a certified teacher's salary for ... secular subjects." The estimated amount of Milliken's plan, Buth said, is $50 million.

House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, leader of the once-defeated parochiaid backers, earlier said the state would have to expect to pay some $250 million more if a parochiaid grant were not included in the program.

Republican acquiescence to Milliken's plan by no means has been assured. Buth ended his own memorandum by noting:

"In a subsequent letter it will outline some of the shortcomings and omissions as I see them."

One tentative proposal to seek a 20-mill state property tax was blasted by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, as politically unfeasible.

"It's not possible to levy that much," said Spencer. "If I saw those recommendations in a bill I'd tear 'em limb for limb," he added.

Buth estimated that the 20-mill tax would yield revenue amounting to $700 million, based on the total $35 billion valuation.

Gallery, Inc. to Show Work of Art Prof

BIRMINGHAM — The Gallery, Inc. will present an exhibition of new paintings and drawings by Clifton McChesney, associate professor of art at Michigan State University, beginning Oct. 3.

The show will open at a preview on Oct. 3 from 6-9 p.m. and will remain on exhibition through Oct. 25.

McChesney executed the works after his return from Japan where he spent a year in independent study and painting that culminated in a one-man show at the Beni Gallery in Kyoto.

McChesney graduated from the Cranbrook Academy of Art and first exhibited locally at the Little Gallery in 1959. His works have been exhibited at the San Francisco Museum of Art, Butler University American Shows in Indianapolis, Ind., the New York Colosseum, Chicago Art Institute, Detroit Institute of Arts and the Kresge Art Center in East Lansing.

Two large painting in the exhibition at the Birmingham Gallery, 1025 Haynes — "Sequence: Ending Bar White" and "Tryptich: Banded Blue" — were shown for the first time by invitation of the American Institute of Architects at the Allied Arts festival in Detroit this month.

The Birmingham Planning Board will consider a proposed addition to the Eton Pharmacy, 221 N. Eton, tonight at 8 at a regular planning board session in the Municipal Building.

Rent Subsidy Passes Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A far-reaching new rent subsidy plan for public housing tenants faces an uncertain reception in the House after breezing through the Senate with little fanfare or debate.

The proposal to provide $75 million for the rent subsidies was included in the $6.3-billion housing bill passed by voice vote in the Senate yesterday after only two hours of floor consideration.

Under the measure, the government for the first time would pay a portion of the rent of some public housing tenants and might even provide the entire amount for families in the most dismal circumstances.

But there was no such provision in legislation approved by the House Banking Committee last week and House committee sources said little enthusiasm was evident for the idea.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., sponsored the Senate plan that would make it possible for the government to pay that part of the rent of a public housing tenant which exceeds 25 per cent of his income.

The bill contains other provisions aimed at aiding revival of the 30-year-old federal program to encourage public housing.

One of these would make it possible for the government for the first time to pay a part of the operating and maintenance costs of the projects.

In addition, the bill was amended to permit about a 55 per cent increase in public housing construction costs in high cost areas such as New York City.

The basic provisions of the Senate bill would provide new funds for major federal housing programs over the next two years.

Pontiac Motor Sets 10-Day Sale Mark

Buoyed by exceptional announcement day sales, Pontiac Motor Division today said its mid-September sales set an all-time record.

Pontiac General Manager F. James McDonald, a GM vice president, announced that 27,769 new Pontiacs, Tempests and Firebirds were sold in the Sept. 11-20 period, far surpassing the previous record of 16,086 units set in 1965.

"We're extremely pleased with the public acceptance of our 1970 line," McDonald asserted. "Although our dealers tell us that their showroom traffic is down somewhate, those who do come are buyers and not just lookers."

He said on Sept. 18, Pontiac's announcement day, a total of 8,841 new cars were sold, up nearly eight per cent from the 8,213 delivered on announcement day a year ago.

TV Violence Attacked by U.S. Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Violence on television encourages violence in real life, the National Commission on Violence said today. It accused the television industry of "pandering to a public preoccupation with violence that television itself has helped to create."

The commission said the industry's self-imposed standards are inadequate and recommended:

- Abandonment of children's cartoons containing serious, noncomic violence.
- Less time devoted to crime, western, and action-adventure programs containing violent episodes.
- A change in the basic context in which violence occurs in such programs so "resort to violence is depicted as an unusual and undesirable outcome" instead of the norm.
- More industry research into effects of violent TV programs — although meanwhile, "enough is known to make inexcusable any delay in taking action along the lines we have recommended."

The commission also recommended presidential and congressional support and financing for a corporation for public broadcasting "so that it may develop the kind of educational, cultural and dramatic programming not presently provided in sufficient measure by commercial broadcasting."

The National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, was formed by former President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1968 after the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy. It is publishing a series of reports on various aspects of violence in American life.

The 11-page report on TV violence focused primarily on its effects on the young.

"Television is one of our significant national resources," it said, "but our greatest resource is our children. Children begin to absorb the lessons of television before they can read or write.

"Yet ... we daily permit our children during their formative years to enter a world of police interrogations, of gangsters beating enemies, of spies performing fatal brain surgery and of routine demonstrations of all kinds of killing and maiming."

Teen Strangles in Play Mishap

A 13-year-old Independence Township boy died yesterday evening in an accident while playing on a rope swing in the backyard of his home at 6000 Lakewood.

Todd Michael O'Roark was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Roark. His father is a supervisor at Pontiac Motor Division.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies, the mishap occurred around 6:15 p.m. when the boy went outside to play after dinner.

Officers said he apparently was swinging with his foot in the loop of a rope suspended from the limb of a tree near the back door of his home.

They speculate that his foot slipped out and as he fell his neck got tangled in the rope.

The boy was noticed by a neighbor, Burnell King who called the boy's mother. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was unsuccessful and he was pronounced dead at the scene.

An eighth-grader at Clarkston Junior High School, Todd was described by principal Kelly Burnette as an energetic boy who was a good student. "He had a lot of friends and was well-liked by everyone."

Car in Getaway Went Thataway

Three bandits in Waterford Township must have felt like calling a cop when they discovered their stolen getaway car had been stolen.

Pontiac State Police reconstructed the chain of larceny yesterday when a man turned himself in for car theft.

Finding the car gone as they rushed from the bar, the bandits then were obliged to return to the bar and hold it up again to get car keys from a customer.

"We showed Mr. Parker and his committee through our new electric melting facilities and they seemingly were pleased with what they saw. Furthermore, we outlined out future foundry improvement plans and the committee seemed satisfied that we were doing our utmost to reduce industrial air pollution."

The divisional spokesman further pointed out that Pontiac Motor had already completed construction of one electric arc melt furnace, and the concrete foundation for the building housing the second furnace has been poured and structural steel will go up next month.

"We're moving well ahead with our plans. We told Mr. Parker that we were looking at a final completion date somewhere in the mid-1970s," the spokesman added.

4 MORE FURNACES

The first electric furnace, which went into operation in January, is "operating as expected." There have been no delays in our original plans except for equipment evaluation. Four more electric melting furnaces will be installed replacing the six existing coke-fired cupolas that have been in operation since 1927.

When the entire program is completed it will virtually eliminate all air pollutants from melting operations, the spokesman said.

City Law Director Sherwin Birnkrant advised against the proposed ordinance. He pointed out that the State Legislature has appointed an air pollution authority with power and funds to enforce antipollution measures on a statewide, uniform basis.

Birnkrant said the state authority should be contacted to carry out any necessary enforcement provisions. It would be extremely expensive for the city to hire a staff with the expertise to determine levels of pollution, carry out legal procedures and buy the necessary equipment, he said.

VIEW SUPPORTED

An expert on pollution and former Pontiac resident was in the audience and also supported the use of state regulations rather than local ones.

Fred McDermott, district engineer for the division of occupational health of the State Health Dept., said air pollution problems are very complicated and that the state agency is empowered and has the funds to carry out the best control program.

Commissioner Robert F. Jackson, district 5, insisted on local control. "We need a local ordinance for a local problem. We have no excuse for not attacking our own problem," he said.

Jackson and other commissioners pointed out that many others in the city are guilty of polluting the air besides GM.

Parker's committee was told to draft a proposed ordinance for future consideration by the commission.

chairman of the county board of auditors, to continue negotiations with the city of Pontiac regarding the leasing of the city jail.

The city jail, located in police headquarters, seldom has been used since it was built because the city found that it was cheaper to house violators in the county jail.

ROOM FOR 25

The city jail can handle approximately 25 prisoners.

Another method being considered by the committee to reduce the jail population is the establishment of a work camp where less serious offenders could be housed.

Undersheriff Leo Hazen told committee members that he would attempt to have a report on the feasibility of such a camp when the committee meets Oct. 21.

INSPECTOR UNAVAILABLE

The report was to have been presented yesterday, but Hazen said that a state jail inspector will have to be consulted and that he has been unavailable.

According to Hazen, Kent County in western Michigan is the only county that operates a work camp for trusties.

Aaron said that he was disappointed with the lack of progress in solving many of the problems at the jail.

"It's very frustrating," he said. "It seems we just sit here spinning our wheels."

POPULATION CUT

In pointing out that it is unlikely that existing problems at the jail will be solved in any "humane fashion unless the jail population is reduced substantially, the committee recommended that the sheriff establish a policy of requiring all communities having jail facilities to house their own ordinance violators before and after conviction.

- Seek contracts with the state or other authorities having penal or hospital institutions to house inmates with known sexual deviations.

The committee said that it also believes "immediate effort must be made in the areas of humane care of prisoners, rehabilitation and individual dignity."

The concept of rehabilitation is lacking at the county jail, according to the report.

IMMEDIATE PROGRAMS

Comprehensive physical examination of all prisoners entering the jail; a staff of psychiatric social workers be provided for the mental care and evaluation of prisoners; a library of current magazines and books; a program of calisthenics; the showing of movies on a regular and frequent basis, television and education and work-training programs.

On the suggestion of Supervisor Philip Mastin the committee also included a recommendation that an audio system be installed in the old jail to monitor any disturbances in the cells.

New Bargaining Team to Be Named

Birmingham Teachers Vote Not to Strike

By NED ADAMSON

BIRMINGHAM — Members of the Birmingham Education Association (BEA) voted not to strike last night after debating the matter for four hours.

The teachers did, however, decide to name a new bargaining team in an attempt to work out contract differences with the Board of Education.

The action by the nearly 800-member organization was the reverse of what many school officials and observers had expected.

The BEA struck three years ago in a similar contract disagreement.

ALTERNATIVES MULLED

Last night's meeting was called to discuss various courses of action that could be taken following the BEA's rejection of the school board's contract offer last week.

Teachers rejected the contract proposal principally on the grounds that the middle steps of the salary scale were not, according to the BEA, competitive with surrounding school districts.

Under terms of the tentative contract the salary package ranged from a $7,450 minimum to a $13,800 maximum.

In a prepared statement, Dr. John Blackhall Smith, superintendent of the Birmingham School District, said: "While we regret the Birmingham Education Association did not ratify the original tentative agreement, we are pleased to learn the BEA will name a new negotiating team.

'WE STAND READY'

A school board spokesman said as of this morning no formal communication between the teachers union and the board concerning the reopening of negotiations had occurred.

Classes have been meeting as scheduled throughout the Birmingham district since opening day Sept. 4.

Officials of the BEA could not be contacted to explain how soon they would attempt to revive negotiations with the board.

GROWING CONCERN

Donald Cameron, executive secretary of the BEA, said there has been growing concern among older members of the teaching staff that the scale was simply not weighted properly towards experienced teaching personnel.

In earlier negotiations the board had already worked out substantial increases in medical and life insurance coverage, a 250-day sick bank for all teachers and improvements in supplemental pay.

Teachers also won the agency-shop contract clause which calls for all teachers to pay dues to the BEA. The school board is empowered to dismiss teachers who don't pay dues under this clause.

Supt. Smith stated previously that the rejected contract proposal would cost the Board of Education $764,000.

What the additional costs would be if the salary scale is revamped, cannot be determined at this time, a board spokesman said.

The board of education had considered itself "limited" in its contract offer, due to a failure of a millage increase proposal last Spring which would have given the District more operating funds.

School Board Action on Fact-Finding Due

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Board of Education will meet in executive session tonight to determine action on a state fact-finder's recommendation concerning a contract settlement with the Clarkston Education Association.

"The board will come up with its answer tonight, and we will meet with the teachers tomorrow and present that answer. What happens from then on will be determined at tomorrow's meeting," said Floyd Vincent, assistant superintendent of schools.

He said "what happens" could include a possible teacher walkout or a resumption of negotiations.

The Clarkston Education Association (CEA) voted to accept the fact-finder's recommendations last Friday and has since been awaiting board action on that recommendation.

TEACHERS 'UNEASY'

Meanwhile teachers particularly at the high school level are beginning to reveal a mood of "uneasy concern" about the attitude of the school board toward the fact-finder's report, according to Thomas Brown, CEA president.

Brown said the board's delay in taking action on the factfinder's report has precipitated a somewhat pessimistic mood among the teaching staff.

The teachers, were to meet this afternoon to discuss alternative courses of action based on the school board's action tonight.

The possibility of a strike vote, Brown said, would depend on the nature of the school board's action on the fact-finding report.

"The teaching staff is simply growing increasingly uncomfortable working without a contract. We want to resume negotiations immediately and put into contract language with the board the recommendation prescribed by the fact-finder," Brown said.

"The fact-finder's recommendations were within the Board of Education's structure of limitation and we feel it is time to acquire a fair and equitable settlement within the fact-finder's recommendation," Brown added.

Negotiations between the CEA and the Clarkston Board have been at an impasse for nearly seven weeks since talks became snarled in early August due to economic differences.

State OKs Borrowing Projects

LANSING (AP) — The State Municipal Finance Commission has approved the issuance of $2.25 million in highway fund bonds by Detroit for street system improvements.

Also approved yesterday were the following school bond issues, all to finance new construction:

Forest Hills, Kent County, $700,000; Tecumseh Public Schools, Lenawee County, $260,000; Marysville Public Schools, St. Clair County, $830,000; Laingsburg Public Schools, Shiawassee and Clinton Counties, $755,000.

Other approvals included:

Novi Community School District, Oakland County, $240,000 in tax anticipation notes, for operating expenses; Genesee County, $755,000 in sewer bonds, for sewer improvements; Greater Lapeer Utilities Authority, $170,000 in water bonds, for water system improvements; Gerrish-Higgins School District, Roscommon and Crawford Counties, $100,000 in tax anticipation notes, for operating expenses; Harrison Township, Macomb County, $28,000 in special assessment bonds, for water line improvements.

Vote on New School for Holly Is Slated

HOLLY — The Holly School Board will go to the voters Nov. 10 for approval of a $2.9 million bond issue that would finance site, construction and furnishings of a 1,200-student capacity junior high school.

If the bond issue passes, the school would be ready for use by the 1971-72 school term.

Bruce Mitchell, assistant superintendent of schools for financial affairs, said the individual cost to the taxpayer for the bond issue program cannot be learned until it is determined by the school board's financial consultants how much millage will be needed to finance the bonds.

* * *

Cost information is expected in the near future, he said.

OPEN SPACES

Building plans devised by architects Reibe and Welland of Ann Arbor call for a modified open spaces one story unit with 39 classrooms. The building will serve grades 7-9.

The open-space concept will be used in order to provide a more functional operation, accoding to school officials. Classes and departments will be centered according to subject in specific areas of the school.

81-ACRE PARCEL

The new school would be located on an 81-acre parcel at the Rood-Grange Hall Road intersection. The school board has an option to purchase the property from owner Levi Mitchell of 14507 Fagan.

In other business, the board of education approved a budget of $2,154,000 for the 1969-70 term. Last year's budget was $1,909,922.

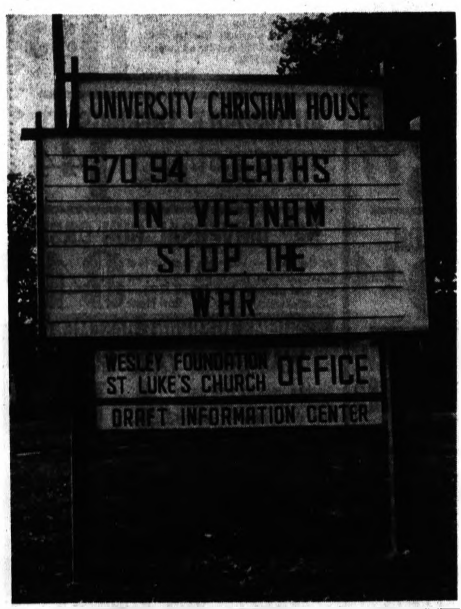
The budget was pared of about $54,000 since anticipated school enrollment figures failed to meet expectations, causing a reduction in state aid. Enrollment increase in the Holly district thus far has been about two per cent compared to a forecasted five per cent.



Sign of the Times 'Keeps Watch' on Issues of Day

Commuters between Rochester and Pontiac get a bit of meditation to and fro when they pass these signs off Walton Boulevard across from the Oakland University campus in Pontiac Township.

Students at the University Christian House erected the signboard as a method of reminding people to "keep watch" on some of the principal issues of the day.

Rev. David Church, pastor of the Wesley Foundation at the center, said public reaction has been as expected — "plus and minus." "We have gotten a lot of praise as well as some irate calls," he said.

During the week of Rochester's 100-year centennial celebration, the center's sign read, "Congratulations on 100 years of racism. Is this cause to celebrate?"

Meeting Is Set for Parents of Handicapped

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Special Education Parents Group will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Rochester High School auditorium. All who are interested in special education are invited to attend.

* * *

Parents of children who need special education services met during the summer and selected the group's name to identify themselves with their interest in handicapped children in three categories: the educable retarded, perceptually handicapped and adjusted study.

* * *

The district has 75 students in special education. There are classes for retarded children at North Hill Elementary, Central Junior High and Rochester High.

Children having problems relating to the loss of hearing or vision, the trainable retarded and orthopedics are transported to classes in surrounding school districts. There are 12 children attending special education classes in other districts.

* * *

Patrolman Denies Beating

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

The president of the Farmington Township Police Officers Association, on trial in the beating of an auto-theft suspect with a blackjack, yesterday denied the beating charge while under oath.

Hedrick Has Day In Court

Patrolman John Hedrick told a six-woman jury that John VonSauers of Plymouth, seated in the rear of a patrol car, lunged over the seat while Hedrick was sitting in the front. He admitted grabbing VonSauers and pushing him back, adding that he didn't use a blackjack because there wasn't enough time.

The suspect apparently had not yet been searched for weapons and was resisting arrest, according to Hedrick.

The Farmington Township patrolman, who has been charged with assault and battery against VonSauers, 25, testified in the second day of the trial before 46th District Court (Southfield) Judge Clarence A. Reid Jr.

VonSauers — guilty of 'Joy-Riding' was captured by city police after a high-speed chase while driving a stolen auto Sept. 9, 1968. He was finally picked up after leaving the car and running into a small pond. He later pleaded guilty to "joy-riding" and is now on two years' probation.

If convicted of assaulting VonSaures, Hedrick could receive up to 90 days in jail for the misdemeanor.

Last week, Farmington City Detective Murray Switzer, one of the first men on the scene of the Sept. incident, testified that he saw Hedrick place his foot on VonSauers neck and yank back the suspect's hair while he was lying handcuffed face down on the ground and not resisting arrest.

* * *

Switzer also claimed that he later saw Hedrick in the police car hitting the suspect on the side of the head with a blackjack.

'NOT TELLING TRUTH'

Hedrick charged yesterday that Detective Switzer "was very definitely not telling the truth." He also denied the detective's testimony that he assisted officers in taking VonSauers into custody. The Farmington Township patrolman insisted that he stayed at the roadside during the arrest.

Final statements by the attorneys are expected this morning and the jury should meet today, possibly to return a verdict.

Some township policemen in uniform have been attending the trial. Informed sources indicated that at least some of these men were being paid for duty on the day shift.

Farmington Township Police Chief Irving Yakes said that only four of the day-shift subpoenaed patrolmen were "on the payroll" during yesterday's trial and that the other uniformed men were observing the trial "on their own time."

Farmington Township Supervisor Curtis Hall said that Hedrick has not been suspended from his duties, pending the outcome of the trial. He further said that the township is still checking into the legality of paying Hedrick's attorney fees.

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Six years ago, when I was 42 and Max (not his name) was 52, we both married for a second time. I had been a divorcee for 15 years and he had been recently shed by a wife whose "coldness" had finally driven him to outside companionship; her uncontested charge was adultery. He wooed me fervently, saying I was everything he had ever wanted in a wife.

Our six years were blissful in all ways, and I thought myself the luckiest woman alive. We are both professional people. I work from 9 to 5. He from one in the afternoon until nine at night.

A month ago Max was rushed to the hospital for emergency surgery. When I went into his drawers for things to take to the hospital I found diaries he had kept the entire six years of our marriage. They were shockingly explicit.

After I had left for work, he had entertained women, which he rated according to the degree of thrill each gave him. A girl named Genevieve rated two stars. Mary got four stars every time. (I, whose matings with him he always pronounced "exquisite" rated only one star!) Whether the sex was also "plain" or "fancy" was outlined in detail.

I went to visit his ex-wife and learned even more. He is 64 years old, not 58. She said that his demands were insatiable, although she had not denied him any more than I had. "Other women" were the only thing they ever fought about. And he had many.

Abby, when you advise women whose husbands are unfaithful, you imply that the wife is lacking something. I just wanted you to know that there are men like my husband, for whom no one woman is enough. My whole world has crashed around my ears.

HEARTBROKEN IN PHILADELPHIA

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: That there are men like your husband is not news to me. There are also WOMEN for whom no one MAN is enough. These unfortunate people should not enter into marriage with "normal" people, vowing to forsake all others. They should marry each other.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a relative you never hear from unless he's drunk?

GEORGIA

DEAR GEORGIA: It could be worse. Some people have relatives they never hear from unless they're BROKE.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Pensioner Enters Oldest Profession

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Two Columbus vice bureau detectives thought they had seen it all until Tuesday.

Detectives David Verne and John Hawk were sent to a home to investigate 30 complaints lodged against an alleged prostitute.

When Verne knocked at the door, a 69-year-old woman told him to come back in half an hour. When he returned, a grocery list was pinned on the door. The note said the cost of the items would be deducted from her fee.

Verne and Hawk did their marketing, returned to the home and when she opened the door, they arrested her on three charges of prostitution.

Hawk said the woman, who he said, looked 20 years younger than she is, told them she thought prostitution was illegal only at night and that she practiced prostitution to supplement her old age pension.

"It's the oddest arrest I've ever gotten," Hawk said.

. . . Peace Talks in Paris, War in Vietnam

60 TR 8-1 — ONE B-14 9:15 a.m.

(Editor's Note — This is the story of one day in the life of two separate worlds, the world of the peace talks in Paris and the war in Vietnam. What follows are the hour-to-hour events that happened in the lives of people inhabiting these two separate worlds, seven hours apart.)

By PETER ARNETT
and
HUGH MULLIGAN
Associated Press Writers

PARIS 9 a.m..

The day is drizzly, chilled by the first touch of early autumn. In the charming suburb of Vernere le Buisbon, Ly Van Sau, a member of the Vietcong or Provisional Revolutionary Government as it is now called, abandons his morning yoga exercises, gulps a cup of weak tea in a conference room decorated with pictures of American youths burning their draft cards, and climbs into a four-door black Peugeot with five other delegates. His boss, Dinh Ba Thi, the deputy chief of the delegation, rides alone in the back seat of a larger black Citroen.

An identical convoy rolls out from behind the tall blue fence at the compound of the North Vietnamese delegation in the less charming suburb of Choisy le Roi. In the lead Citroen, flying Hanoi's red flag with a gold star, sits Col. Ha Van Lau, acting chief of the delegation. Although Choisy le Roi votes Communist in most general elections, the people in the streets and at the outdoor cafes neither smile nor wave as the motorcade sweeps by with a wall of sirens.

LODGE EARLY

In the lobby of the Hotel Crillon, at the Place de la Concorde, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, tall and debonair, strides down the main staircase; he never takes the elevator. This Thursday, he is earlier than usual, and his plainclothesman hasn't arrived. Alone, Lodge crosses the Rue Boissy d'Anglas into the garden of the U.S. Embassy, nods at the Marine guard on duty, and almost at a lope disappears into the annex building for a last-minute staff conference.

In Vietnam, it is now 4 p.m.

A soft rain drips through the gnarled rubber trees as Pfc James A. Reed of Odessa, Mo., pads along a fresh trail, his eyes searching ahead into the deepening gloom. He is point man for a platoon from A Company, 2nd Battalion, 3rd Regiment of the 196th Light Infantry Brigade, which operates north-east of Saigon in the eastern edges of War Zone D and in the rubber plantations of Long Khanh Province. Its mission is to prevent the Vietcong and North Vietnamese from launching coordinated attacks, to develop pacification, and to help upgrade the 18th South Vietnamese Infantry Division.

Reed, 21, is a draftee. He has been in Vietnam three months. Suddenly, gliding around a bend in the trail ahead of him, is the first North Vietnamese Reed has ever seen, dead or alive. The young American drops to his knee and instinctively brings his 12-gauge shotgun to his shoulder. The Vietnamese swings up his AK47 rifle, but the American is quicker.

REWARD FOR SOLDIER

At 4:15 p.m., a Huey helicopter spins into Cam Tam hamlet to pick up Pfc. John Miller, a 19-year-old infantryman from Tiffin, Ohio, who has spent 188 days in the field and is being rewarded for good soldiering by being named the "old guard of the day."

The honor entitles him to change places with the battalion commander Maj. Bernard Loeffke, of Malibu Beach, Calif. Pfc. Miller gets to sleep in his commander's comfortable bed back in base camp, drink his boss's beer, use his writing table and have breakfast in bed. The bronzed Loeffke will stay in the field.

In the tangled jungles of War Zone D, staccato bursts of fire shred the uneasy quiet. The point platoon for B Company, 4th Battalion, 12th Regiment of the 199th Brigade already has killed two North Vietnamese soldiers with a small group heading south. Pfc. Richard King of Pinellas Park, Fla., has lugged his cumbersome 90mm recoilless cannon to a well-used path and is setting it up when bullets crack around him.

King, who is 22, falls to the ground before he can man his gun. An AK47 bullet is in his left thigh. He limps painfully to an opening in the jungle to wait for a helicopter.

DIG UP STREET

Paris 10 a.m.

With all four delegations tucked safely behind the yellow satin draperies of the ground-floor conference room, the press retires en masse to L'Etoile Venitienne, a cafe across the street. At outdoor tables under red umbrellas advertising Dubonnet they commence the weekly vigil of waiting for the session to end.

In Vietnam, it is now 5 p.m.

As the rain settles into a steady downpour Lt. Col. Nguyen Cong Vinh, an impassive, thin-faced South Vietnamese officer, sourly contemplates the water rising inside the old brick house that is his forward regimental command post. Vinh, once a sergeant in the French army, has seen war sweep across his land for three quarters of his 43 years. He and his fellow officers, watching the United States disengage its troops from Vietnam, are realizing the full burden of the war might soon fall on them. Vinh has seen his casualties double in the past few months, while American casualties diminished.

BEGINS STATEMENT

Paris 10:35 a.m.

Ambassador Lam selects a microphone and beings to read his prepared statement in Vietnamese.

"In order to find a solution to the Vietnamese problem," he says, "the sine-qua-non condition is that all parties involved must be motivated by the same desire to end the war by way of negotiation instead of violence . . ."

A Vietnamese interpreter translates his remarks into French, and an American interpreter carries them into English. Across the 26-foot round table with its baize cover the Hanoi and Vietcong delegations sit impassively.

Thirty-two delegates rim the table, eight to a delegation, like an enormous poker game. Behind them sit the "second team," lawyers, recorders, clerks. By agreement, only 60 people can be in the conference room at a time, 30 from each side.

In Vietnam, it is 9:30 p.m.

AP Wirephoto

A Vietnamese man in a panama hat and white shirt threads his way through the barbed wire and approaches Maj. Loeffke. The major listens to the man for a few moments and breaks into a wide grin. Loeffke, a former Special Forces officer who speaks French fluently, has recruited his own string of agents to seek out Vietcong sympathizers among the people of Cam Tam who work the Long Que rubber plantation. This agent has informed him of the whereabouts of two Vietcong agents.

"It's like knocking your head against a brick wall finding something to work on," says Loeffke. The rubber workers communicate with the Vietcong in subtle ways: a stick in the ground wearing a Vietnamese conical hat meaning to stay away; the hat next to the stick meaning it is safe to approach.

Paris 10:45 a.m.

In the Avenue Kleber, a double-decked sight-seeing bus goes by the seven-story whitish-gray building. The tourists are from Holland, and the guide tells them in Dutch that this is where the peace talks on Vietnam are being held.

"Perhaps today, the war will be over," he tells them playfully. They laugh and grind away with their movie cameras.

SADDLES UP FOR WAR

In Vietnam, it is 5:45 p.m.

Sgt. Jason Dale, 21, of Devil Lake, N.D., is saddling up for war, one of two Americans who will set up a night ambush with five Vietnamese popular force soldiers, and Dale is not slow to express his unhappiness. "I got stuck with it," he says.

It will be a long wet night for Dale, and for a platoon from his company led by Lt. Carrol Stewart from Albion, Ill., who will lay an ambush to the east where enemy movement is expected.

Paris 11 a.m.

"As far as the Republic of Vietnam is concerned," he resumes, "when we agreed to sit at this meeting table, we asserted our will to put an early end to the war by way of negotiations. We accept a solution in which there is no winner or loser, as long as there is a just, long-lasting and guaranteed peace . . ."

GIRL SURRENDERS

In Vietnam, at 6 p.m., a bedraggled Vietnamese girl self-consciously stands outside a hamlet militia post near Xuan Loc, the provincial capital. She is 17 years old. Her name is Nguyen Thi Nhon. She has been with the Vietcong 13 months and she is surrendering.

"When we wash her, she will be good looking," comments a U.S. district adviser.

Thi Nhon says she was conscripted in August 1968 and worked in a labor force. Later she became a nurse. She surrendered, she said, because she heard a taped broadcast by one of her friends who had surrendered two weeks earlier.

No, she said, she had never heard of the peace talks in Paris.

Not far away, a "slapstick" road mine is detonated by a Vietnamese army truck. The 20-pound blast wrecks the truck and wounds two Vietnamese soldiers.

Paris 11:30 a.m.

Lam, after speaking 56 minutes, sits down. There is no comment, no discussion, no applause.

* * *

Ambassador Lodge speaks next, for 12 minutes. After two introductory paragraphs, his statement is a repeat of President Nixon's statement Sept. 16 on the withdrawal of 35,000 more American troops.

In Vietnam, it is 6:30 p.m.

BOMBARD CLEARING

Taking advantage of the last flickering light of day, two sleek A37s from the U.S. Air Force's 3rd Fighter Wing bombard a tiny clearing in War Zone C. The 1st Air Cavalry Division is landing a company of infantry there before dark, and the jets are preparing the way.

Paris—11:43 a.m.

Lodge concludes, and a member of the South Vietnamese delegation proposes a 20-minute recess. The delegates troop out their separate doors to their separate working rooms, beyond the coffee bars, where lunch is waiting.

* * *

"The toilet," says Steve Ledogar, press spokesman for the American delegation, "is the only truly democratic room in the building. It is shared by all delegations.

In Vietnam, at 6:50 p.m., a wet, forbidding night is settling across the land.

Maj. Loeffke's ambush patrols are whispering in their final positions, "25, 25, 25, this is 26, over," says the hushed, hoarse radio voice as a platoon leader seeks to establish communication with his squad.

In Cam Tam village, the kids who were begging C-ration cigarettes from the American GIs scamper to their thatched homes. The babies stop crying.

MENU COMPLAINTS

Paris 12 noon

The Americans are always meaning to speak to the French Foreign Office about the sameness of the menu at the Hotel Majestic. Both sets of Vietnamese are always meaning to suggest that more Oriental dishes be added, but even in an area of agreement there is no initiative. Today, as always, there is a cold meat platter with ham and chicken, potato salad, french bread, beer, cola and tiny tarts garnished with a single strawberry.

In Vietnam, barely 15 minutes after dark, 10 rounds of mortar fire slap into the jungled hivouac of a 1st Air Cavalry unit 58 miles northwest of Saigon. Enemy troops slide up to the barbed wire. The night roars with claymore mines, tracers, rockets that continue for an hour. The North Vietnamese are driven away as helicopter gunships and artillery shred the jungle. Eight Americans are wounded. Enemy losses: unknown.

Paris 12:23 p.m.

Leading off for his side, Dinh Ba Thi scores President Nixon's troop withdrawal as a "perfidious maneuver," a "noisy clamor" and "arithmetical acrobatic feats which add to the general confusion." The United States prolongs the war, he charges, "to gain time to strengthen the puppet army and patch up the puppet administration . . ."

In Vietnam, it is 7:25 p.m.

A silver C141 Air Force Starlifter speeds along the wet tarmac of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base and heads for San Francisco; its cargo, 10 aluminum caskets containing the bodies of American GIs. Such planes have flown home 15,642 of America's dead sons since the peace talks began May 13, 1968.

PICKS UP BATON

Paris 1:17 p.m.

Col. Han Van Lau, last in the oratorical relay, picks up the baton for Hanoi. "Eight months have elapsed since Mr. Nixon entered the White House, and people in the United States and elsewhere wonder what he has done to bring an end to the U.S. war of aggression in Vietnam . . ."

It is nearing 8:20 p.m. in Vietnam.

The Armed Forces Radio Network, in its evening news, says that the 34th session of the Paris peace talks is under way.

"Just a bunch of people doing something that doesn't mean anything," grunts Maj. Henry M. Warren of Friona, Tex., sitting on a cot in the ramshackle forward headquarters of the Vietnamese 48th Regiment at Cam Tam as he digs into a can of C-ration turkey loaf. "The Vietcong aren't planning any settlement. They go on building their base camps out there. They're not preparing for peace; they're preparing for war."

Lt. Nugyen Van Ngan, 28, who has seen war since he was born, shakes his head. "No," he says, "the Americans will leave us to fight, and we will fight alone. We will have to."

A SAD LOOK

Paris 1:50 p.m.

The sun has come out over the gray mansard roof of the Hotel Majestic, but a cloud crosses the normally stoic features of Col. Lau. He looks sadly up at the ceiling and concludes his remarks with a quote from his late leader Ho Chi Minh: "The Vietnamese people firmly demand the withdrawal of all U.S. and satellite troops . . .

The ritual allows each side an opportunity for rebuttal, or "additional remarks," as the Americans prefer to call it. Lodge leads off with a four-minute plea to the other side "not to seek to belittle" the American troop withdrawal. Lam for once declines further comment. Thi and Lau add five-minute assaults on "Mr. Nixon's numbers games."

The third man in the Hanoi delegation says: "If no one else has anything to say, I propose we meet again next Thursday at 10:30. The 34th plenary session of the Paris meeting is over.

Vietnam 9 p.m.

Capt. James V. McGinnis is writing to his wife Joan in Wilmington, N.C. He tells her he misses her and that he is looking forward to seeing her on leave in November in Hawaii. He doesn't tell her he is sitting in a lonely rat-infested outpost with all but a handful of his men out on ambush patrols. He doesn't tell her that he hasn't shaved in days and that he is sick and tired of C-rations.

GRIM SATISFACTION

A few miles away, a rain-drenched trooper from A Company, 5th Battalion, 12th Regiment of the 199th Brigade, is feeling his way carefully through the jungle when his hand closes on the cold body of a man. One of his buddies finds another. The two dead are North Vietnamese killed in a fire fight that afternoon.

Sealab Project Delayed Again

The death of aquanaut Berry L. Cannon in a 600-foot dive last February cut short Sealab III. Now, the military economy drive is postponing the project, at least for the 1969-70 fiscal year.

"There are just no funds available," said a spokesman for the Naval Undersea Research and Development Center.

The Navy says the project will be revised.

Cannon was stricken in the second of two dives to repair helium leaks in the Sealab habitat off San Clemente Island. The death was attributed to carbon dioxide poisoning.

Episcopal Priest Tells of Drug Use as a Sacrament

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — An Episcopal priest told a Municipal Court judge Tuesday that he listed drugs along with the use of bread and wine, baptism, incense and music as forms of sacraments.

The Rev. Robert Cromey, vicar of St. Alden's church in San Francisco, told Judge Alvin Goldstein that he had smoked marijuana and experienced "euphoria, tranquility and calm, a sense of inwardness."

* * *

He appeared as a defense witness in a preliminary hearing for Jeffrey Stallard, 28, who is basing his defense to a charge of possession of marijuana on the claim that he uses it in a religious rite protected by the Constitution.

INTO THE NIGHT — Two members of a hunter-killer team move out from their base camp at dusk to spend a wet, uncomfortable night in the jungle laying in ambush for the enemy. The GIs are members of C Company, 2nd Battalion, 199th Infantry Brigade, based at Xuan Loc, 45 miles northeast of Saigon.

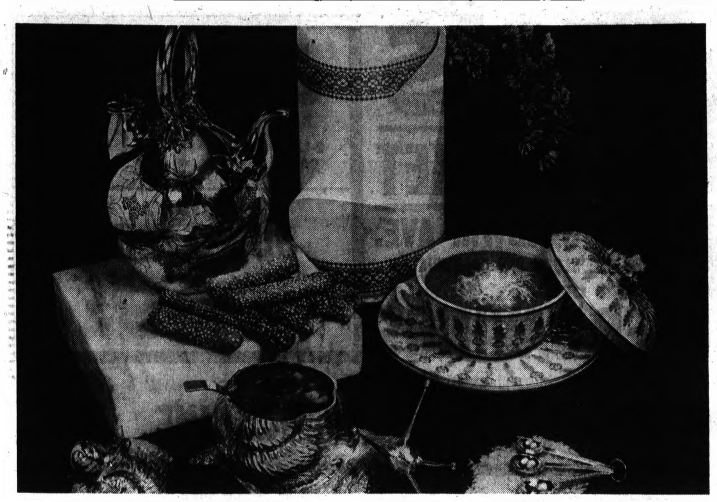
Soup Matches Fall Mood



CREAM OF CURRY SOUP — Serve an exotic soup in a handsome porcelain soup tureen. This one comes from Cartier in New York, as do the other unusual accessories, including sterling silver measuring spoons. Soft paper towels will keep all these objects shining.

By JANET ODELL
Food Editor, The Pontiac Press

Now that autumn has made its official debut, we're in for cool crisp weather any day. And that means soup is in order.

When every kitchen had a wood-burning stove in it, keeping a soup pot going was no trouble. Many of us still make certain special soups from the raw ingredients. But we're more apt to combine some of the good canned soups and come up with a tasty new mixture.

* * *

CREAM OF CURRY SOUP

½ cup finely chopped onion
1 oz. butter (¼ stick)
2 tablespoons curry powder
2 tablespoons flour
2 pints chicken stock
1 tablespoon corn starch, dissolved in ¼ cup water
½ pint light cream
½ cup shredded coconut
Salt and pepper to taste

Saute onion in butter until golden; sprinkle curry powder over onion and mix well. Add flour, then chicken stock slowly, stirring constantly, until mixture is thick and smooth. Simmer for 20 minutes.

* * *

Strain, return to pan, and add corn starch and water mixture. Stir well, and let simmer for 20 minutes. Chill. Season to taste.

At serving time, stir in cream, mix well and serve, garnished with a sprinkling of coconut. Makes four servings.

When hearty enough, soup can be almost the whole meal. Take, for instance, Chicken-Corn Chowder. It won't take any longer to prepare this interesting dish than it would to make a meat loaf. And it's a different way of serving chicken.

Crusty bread, a salad of orange slices and onion rings and peach cobbler for dessert round out the meal.

CHICKEN-CORN CHOWDER

1½ pounds chicken parts (drumsticks, thighs, breasts)
½ cup water
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped celery leaves
2 teaspoons salt
2 carrots, pared and thinly sliced
2 cans (8 ounces each) or 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato bits
1 can (1 pound, 1 ounce) cream style corn
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning

In large saucepan or Dutch oven combine chicken, water, parsley, celery leaves and 1 teaspoon salt; simmer, covered, 30 minutes. Add carrots, potatoes, sliced celery and remaining salt; simmer 15 to 20 minutes more or until chicken and vegetables are tender.

* * *

Stir in tomato sauce with tomato bits, corn and poultry seasoning; simmer, stirring occasionally, until thoroughly heated. If soup seems too thick, add a bit more water. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

* * *

NOTE: For easier eating remove chicken from stock after simmering 30 minutes. Remove skin and bones; return meat to stock along with vegetables. Continue cooking as directed.

* * *

VICTORY BOWL SUPPER SOUP

¼ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of asparagus soup
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed Scotch broth
1½ soup cans water
¾ cup cooked chopped spinach
Diced red apple

Cook onion in butter until tender. Blend in soups, water, and spinach. Heat; stir now and then. Garnish with apple

Makes 4 to 5 servings. For 8 to 10 servings, double the recipe.

WINNING TEAM TUREEN

½ pound ground beef
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon shortening
1 can (11 ounces) condensed hot dog bean soup
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1½ soup cans water
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Dash garlic powder
Shredded mild process cheese

Brown beef and cook onion in shortening until tender; pour off fat. Blend in soups, add water, and garlic powder. Heat; stir now and then. Simmer a few minutes to blend flavors. Garnish with cheese. Makes 4 to 5 servings. For 8 to 10 servings, double the recipe.

WHOLE MEAL SOUP — Here's the kind of supper that kindles memories . . . soul-satisfying chicken-corn chowder and crusty bread.

Put Diced Ham in Zippy Sauce

Leftover ham makes an elegant "stoganoff." Combine 1½ cups diced cooked ham, 1 can (8 ounces) tomatoe sauce with cheese, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard and 1 teaspoon instant minced onion; simmer 10 minutes.

Remove from heat; slowly stir in 1 cup sour cream. Heat gently but do not boil. Serve over hot cooked noodles to 4.

Stock Trading Moderate

Advances in Slim Mart Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Advances took a slim 40-issue lead over declines in moderate trading today, as the stock market opened with two straight days of gains to its credit.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 10:30 a.m. was 836.26, up 1.45.

The 20 most-active Big Board stocks continued mixed, as 8 advanced, 8 declined and 4 were unchanged.

Early block trades included:

General Motors, 6,600 shares, 74c, off ⅛; RCA, 5.500 shares, 41⅛ up ⅛; American Telephone, 12,500 shares, 50⅝ off ⅛; Control Data, 4,000 shares, 137¾, off ½; International Paper, 2,100 shares, 40½, up ½ and Anaconda, 2,400 shares, 27⅞ unchanged.

The market turned in a winning performance Tuesday for the second consecutive day with the spotlight on those issues which involved construction of the nation's first supersonic transport approved earlier in the day by President Nixon. To Boeing, prime SST contractor, as well as General Electric, prime SST engine contractor, the President's go-ahead was a shot in the arm, as their issues chalked up gains. Other scheduled companies to participate in construction also advanced.

Tuesday's volume of 13.03 million was the heaviest trading since Aug. 1, but analysts attributed the crush to rebounds prevalent after holidays, such as Yom Kippur Monday.

Unions Protest Racial Quotas

Leaders Threaten Federal Boycotts

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Angry union leaders threatened today a boycott of federal construction projects to protest a government plan they said would set racial hiring quotas.

"It's going to raise the roof," said one AFL-CIO building trades leader after the Labor Department announced it would go ahead with the controversial Philadelphia plan.

Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said in Washington Tuesday the plan would be put into effect in Philadelphia and expanded nationwide as soon as possible to insure more high-paying construction jobs for Negroes and other minority groups.

The plan would require contractors on federal projects of $50,000 or more to hire a certain number from minority groups for iron work, plumbing, pipefitting, sheet metal and electricians jobs.

Shultz has said Negro workers in those trades in the Philadelphia area amount to less than two per cent, but the unions claim about 12 per cent.

Leaders of the AFL-CIO Construction and Building Trades Department, who earlier said they would throw open their doors to all qualified minority group journeymen, prepared resolutions denouncing the Philadelphia plan as "infamous" and a "union-busting" tactic.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, scheduled to speak today to the convention of the 17 construction unions, reportedly will join in the opposition to the government plan and warn against black militant attempts to frighten the unions into taking in untrained Negroes.

One resolution proposed that "the Building and Construction Trades Department use all the power and persuasiveness at its means to defeat this plan, to the point and including the withholding of all manpower from any federal project perpetuating this plan."

Top Exec 'Resigns' —or Was He Fired?

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — You see the statements in the newspapers from time to time: The corporation president suddenly announces his resignation "to pursue personal interests." Is it true? Maybe. But it could mean he was fired.

CUNNIFF

Outright firings are always nasty affairs, especially when they involve high executives and are attended by heated emotions, charges and countercharges and even law suits. Firings are considered crude today.

Elaborate plans therefore are made to hide the true facts from the kibitzers—that growing population of stockholders, financial analysts, mutual funds and big stockholders. But the techniques are apparent.

After having spent two decades psychoanalyzing the corporation, Dr. Eugene Jennings, a university professor and professional kibitzer—he gets paid handsome fees for advising corporations—has detailed some techniques for firing the president.

MUSHROOMING TECHNIQUE

None of the techniques refer to any specific individual or firing, but you can bet that in many instances something of the sort was hidden in the background.

The first technique is mushrooming. The chairman gives the president lots of challenging jobs. This technique is especially useful if the executive is hungry, meaning very eager to please. A hungry executive is insecure.

Eventually the jobs accumulate until he is incapable of handling them all. He makes a serious error. No matter that he handled 98 per cent of the jobs well; he failed on 2 per cent, and that's enough to nail him.

Sometimes a curious twist occurs in which the insecure president participates in his own demise. In his effort to please he sometimes usurps authority—even if he can't effectively use that authority.

Having taken on more than he can handle, he begins delegating, and eventually he delegates a job to what Jennings calls the president's "intimate enemy," a man having no love for the president and perhaps even envious of him.

The intimate enemy does just enough to escape scrutiny, but not enough to be effective. He is a presidential saboteur, but he has power. He has support from other executives. And power, which is won, defeats authority, which is assigned.

Realizing that things aren't going well, the president loses his cool and orders the intimate enemy: "Do things as I say or get out." The powerful intimate enemy refuses. The matter goes to the chairman.

"I'm sorry Mr. President, but things haven't worked out as we expected," says the chairman, who prefers the loss of the president to the resignations of a dozen executive friends of the powerful intimate enemy.

DETAILED OUT

Another technique: Detail the president out of the job. Keep him out of the office on assignments so often he doesn't know what's going on. Then ask him for a proposal. He won't be able to come up with it. He catches on. He quits.

A third technique: Expand his team. Turn the president's office into the Office of the President. Assign him three advisers—who report directly to the chairman. Dilute his powers. If he doesn't kick, kick him up to a powerless job.

Jennings hastens to explain that all executive changes are not maneuvers to do a man in. Some vice chairmen have little power despite their big titles. Others have enormous responsibilities.

And some presidents find their offices turned into the Office of the President not in an effort by the chairman to dilute the president's power but simply because the job is too big for one man.

AUTHORITY VS. POWER

Essential to the effectiveness of any maneuver to displace the president is the matter of power versus authority. A president may have been assigned much authority in the company but have no power.

Power, Jennings notes, is something acquired, something earned, something developed by an individual's personality and accomplishments, generally over a prolonged period. Authority, which is given, is no match for it.

'Rookies' to Prosecute Green Beret Defendants

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Army has selected two military lawyers with no civilian courtroom experience to prosecute the first Green Beret murder trial against some of the toughest legal talent in the United States.

The Army today announced the selection of Maj. Richard P. Runke, 33, of Chicago, Ill., and Capt. Thomas C. Warren, 28, of Wenatchee, Wash., as trial counsel and assistant trial counsel.

They will present the Army's case against three Special Forces captains scheduled for general court-martial Oct. 20 on charges of murdering a Vietnamese who reportedly was a double agent.

Runke and Warren are members of the Army's staff judge advocate corps at this headquarters base 15 miles northeast of Saigon, where six Special Forces officers charged in the case are in custody and two other Green Beret men are confined to the base although the charges against them are being held in abeyance.

Credit Firm Gets Sales Manager

Steven B. Kay of Detroit has been appointed sales manager of the Pontiac office of Consolidated Credit Protection, 1008 Pontiac State Bank building.

Kay was previously assistant sales manager for the Detroit office of the credit, collection and finance firm. His Pontiac appointment is effective Oct. 1.

News in Brief

Pontiac police reported today that the apartment of Violet Strait, 22, of 454 Auburn was burglarized around 4 p.m. yesterday of items valued at $400.

Successful Investing

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — Using the Monthly Investment Plan in 1968, I bought eight shares of Continental Oil at an average price of 70. I fear this company doesn't know I'm a stockholder as I have received no dividends. My letter to the transfer agent remains unanswered. What's my next step? — P.S.

A — Continental Oil split two-for-one on March 24, 1969, and a cash dividend of 37½ cents (quarterly) was paid on the new shares June 13, 1969. You should now hold 16 shares at an adjusted cost of 35. Send your story to the company secretary, Mr. J. D. Kelley, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City, 10020 and mail a carbon copy to the transfer agent, Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. Your MIP transaction was terminated when the paper work crush was most severe — the probable cause of your "forgotten man" status.
