Man Carries Threat to LBJ

U. S. Officers Make Arrest in California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Secret Service said today a 29-year-old former Sioux City, Iowa, man was arrested last night in nearby Berkeley with a note in his pocket reading "the immediate goal is the assassination of President Johnson."

He was booked by Berkeley police on a vagrancy charge as Robert Beatty Fennell, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fennell of Sioux City. Tom Hansen, chief of the Secret Service, headquarters in San Francisco, said he would file a complaint before U. S. Commissioner Cameron Wolfe in Oakland charging Fennell with threatening the president of the United States.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A man jailed on a charge of threatening the life of President John F. Kennedy says he was only joking. Investigators said they had found nothing to link Russell W. McLarry to the assassination of Kennedy.

McLarry, 21, a part-time college student described by his father as a "nice kid who shoots off his mouth too much some times," was in the county jail today in lieu of $2,500 bond.

He was arrested yesterday and charged with threatening Kennedy's life prior to the assassination Nov. 22. Secret Service agents quoted him as saying he was "proud — no, glad" that Kennedy was dead.

U. S. Atty. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas said: "So far as we know there is no connection between McLarry and the president's death. 'We merely charged him with making a threat against the president, a definite violation of the law, but that's as far as it goes.'"

Voters Face Deadline on Registration

By DICK SAUNDERS

There may be fewer people eligible to vote in Pontiac Jan. 13 than at any time in the last 16 years.

The interesting twist is that Jan. 13 Pontiac will decide if they want to change their method of voting.

Eligible voters will cast ballots that day for or against a proposal to change the procedure of electing city commissioners.

The last official count of voter registrations was made last February, according to City Clerk Olga Barkeley. There were about 36,900 eligible voters then.

DEADLINE MONDAY

The deadline for new registrations for the Jan. 13 special election was last Monday.

Mrs. Barkeley reports about 100 new registered voters. That puts the total at about 37,000.

But that may be short-lived. There may be only 30,000 eligible voters after Dec. 31.

MAILED CARDS

About a month ago, the clerk mailed some 9,500 yellow cards to Pontiac residents whose voter registration is due to expire Jan. 1.

The unusually large number of expirations stems from the new State Constitution which requires Michigan residents to vote or register every two years. It used to be every four years.

"About 2,500 of the cards have been returned," Mrs. Barkeley said yesterday. "There are about 7,000 still out."

"Those who return the cards by Dec. 31 will be eligible to vote Jan. 13," she said.

However, cards returned after Dec. 31 won't do the trick because the clerk can't continue a registration that has already expired. She can only issue a new registration.

Anyone registering after Jan. 1 can't vote in the Jan. 13 election.

Voter registrations in Pontiac have consistently numbered 32,000 or better since a city primary in 1948 when only 24,000 were registered.

On the ballot Jan. 13 will be a proposed charter amendment sponsored by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

7 COMMISSIONERS

The amendment would allow electors to vote for seven city commissioners, one from each district, in the April municipal election every two years.

Dispute Keeps Congress in Session

Bill to Extend County Terms Defeated

LANSING — A move to extend the terms of elected county officers for two years was killed in the Senate today as the legislature aimed at settling its differences and breaking camp for the holidays.

But the dispute over how strong Michigan's new civil rights commission should be flared anew as the Senate unanimously rejected House amendments to the bill spelling out the commission's powers and duties.

The development threw the issue into a conference committee.

The argument over county officers' terms dissolved when the Senate voted 21-9 to junk its own amendments to an elections bill, which originally did not include the "free-ride" provision.

The House twice rejected the proposal to extend county terms until 1968, killing the original bill and striking the Senate amendments. The Senate's action today killed the issue altogether.

LABOR OVER PLAN

House-Senate conference committees were laboring over a districting plan for the new state appeals court and the question of granting two-year extensions for appointed Circuit Court judges.

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, who developed the original appellate court bill and backed the term extension, predicted continued confusion over the appellate court measure and defeat for the other.

Roberts said the Senate may accept the House version of the appeals court bill, which he and others consider unconstitutional, and plan to pass another bill in the 1964 regular session after Gov. Romney asks the State Supreme Court for an opinion.

Roberts expects that the court would declare the single-judge districts approved by the House unconstitutional.

WOULD BE UNCERTAIN

This would leave the matter of the appellate court uncertain until next year.

The House amended the Senate bill, which provided for three 3-judge districts. Roberts favored single-judge districts, but accepted the theory that they would be unconstitutional when a study committee headed drafted the bill.

Roberts said the Senate probably would kill its amendment to a circuit judge bill that would have extended the terms of appointed circuit judges — including three in Oakland County — through 1969 without their having to face election in 1964.

The House originally struck the provision, but the Senate amended it back in. A Senate bill to give appointed as well as elected Circuit judges the right to a ballot designation of incumbency died in the House when it was sent back to committee yesterday.

However, Roberts and others think another bill, which was passed by both houses, may do the same thing even though it originally was the other way — the measure applied only to municipal judges.

Controversy over the civil rights commission centered on two measures — one a basic bill dealing with powers, the other with appropriations.

Fight Over Aid to Cause Delay of One Day

Appropriations Bill Is Stumbling Block, Says McCormack

WASHINGTON (AP)

A dispute over the foreign aid appropriation bill probably will keep Congress from adjourning today, Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said.

McCormack told his news conference "I don't expect adjournment today. I would be surprised if we were able to adjourn."

He figured on at least one more day.

The amount of foreign aid, set by the House at $2.8 billion and the Senate at $3.27 billion, is in dispute, but the big stumbling block is a provision affecting the proposed grain sale to Russia.

WOULD BAR GUARANTEE

This provision, written in by the House but rejected by the Senate on President Johnson's recommendation, would bar the Export-Import Bank from guaranteeing credit on sales to Communist countries.

Conferees representing the two bodies had been at work less than an hour when McCormack made his prediction.

He confirmed that congressional leaders had met with Johnson today but refused to say what had been discussed, except to say "several matters" came up.

Nor would McCormack say whether, if no agreement is reached on foreign aid by tomorrow, Congress will adjourn anyhow and let the aid question go over until January.

'CAN WIND IT UP'

"If we can dispose of foreign aid, we can wind it up," he said.

The foreign aid conferees met at 11:15 a.m. Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., heading the Senate group, said before the session that "we should settle this bill before we adjourn."

He said Congress would be "very ill-advised" to let the measure go over to January because of the uncertainties this would leave in the foreign aid program for the year already half gone.

The issue was sharply drawn last night when the Senate passed the aid bill 60 to 25 after deleting, 52 to 2, a House amendment to prohibit the Export-Import Bank from guaranteeing credit for trade with Communist countries.

The House adopted the amendment by a vote of 218-69.

McNamara Is Optimistic

Defense Chief Views War in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, winding up consultations on South Viet Nam's U.S.-backed war against Communist guerrillas, said today "I am optimistic over progress to be made during the coming year."

McNamara and top American officials based in Viet Nam had an afternoon-long conference with the ruling junta, including the chief of state, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, and Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho.

McNamara, who had been given a somber briefing by U.S. officers on events since the Nov. 1 coup that overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem, said Minh explained in detail the Vietnamese military plans for 1964.

STEP UP ACTIVITY

Coinciding with his visit, the South Vietnamese stepped up their activity against the Red Viet Cong.

An American spokesman said there was no significant contact, "but with major operations in the Mekong River delta and north of Saigon we can expect fireworks in the near future."

The spokesman said an American - piloted reconnaissance plane hit by guerrilla fire Tuesday swooped down on a guerrilla emplacement, killing an estimated 20.

REVISE DEATH FIGURE

The U.S. spokesman said American combat death figures have been revised upward to 89 after an unsuccessful search for the pilot of a fighter-bomber that crashed on a dive-bombing run in early October.

Work on Clinton River Drain Starts by Feb. 1; Costs More

Work will resume on Pontiac's long-delayed Clinton River drain project by Feb. 1, but construction will cost an estimated $90,000 more than originally bid.

The added construction costs were based largely on more months of winter work than previously planned, and increased labor costs.

Contractors, county drain officials, legal and engineering consultants met with Oakland County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry today to lay groundwork for resuming construction and financing the project.

Contract changes are slated for final approval at a meeting of the Clinton River Drain Board set for 10 a.m. Tuesday, contingent on action by the City Commission.

COSTS ABSORB

The $90,000 increase in construction costs is expected to be absorbed by a contingency fund and savings in interest so the opening bids on the proposed $3,327,000 bond issue would be set at the Tuesday board meeting.

He estimated that bonds would be sold before Feb. 1. Dailey said he would be "ready to start work the day the bonds are sold."

Consulting bonding attorneys Charles Moon and Claude Stevens said that part of the added construction cost would be offset by a saving of some $50,000 in interest on bonds.

The interest never came due because bonds were not sold as originally scheduled last July.

FUND REDUCED

The original $163,678 contingency fund would be reduced to about $123,000 to help offset higher construction costs.

Dailey's low bid for the construction contract was $1,695,000.

The original completion date, Nov. 15, 1964, will be moved to June 15, 1965.

Italian Plane Hits Hill During Storm; 3 Killed

ROME (AP) — An Italian Air Force plane crashed in a rainstorm today on the slopes of 2,900-foot Artemis Peak in the Alban Hills, 17 miles southeast of Rome.

All three airmen aboard the plane were killed. The plane, a C45, was on a training flight.

East 'Greets' West Berliners

Loudspeakers Boom Out Red Welcome

BERLIN (AP) — Loudspeakers boomed out a Communist welcome today to West Berliners entering East Berlin for the first time since the Red wall was built 28 months ago.

Every elevated train that arrived from the West in the East Berlin station at Friedrichstrasse was greeted with the words:

"Dear citizens of West Berlin, we welcome you to the capital of the German Democratic Republic."

1,000 CROSS

More than 1,000 had passed through the five crossing points in the wall some three hours after East German border guards lifted the steel, candy-striped barriers an hour ahead of schedule.

More than 20,000 West Berliners were expected to make the trip today.

Officials estimate that as many as 800,000 may visit relatives in the East before midnight Jan. 5, when the Christmas crossings end.

DON'T MISS CHANCE

But the Reds were not missing any chance to drive home their political conception of the division of Germany.

Their description of East Berlin as the capital of the Communist republic conflicts with the Western conception that Berlin is under four-power rule and should never have been divided in the first place.

Guards at the crossing points

Area Weather to Stay Cold

A few flurries with a low of 5 are possible tonight. Mostly fair skies and a high of 18 is seen for tomorrow.

The lowest temperature recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 3. At 2 p.m. the reading was 20.

Congress Stalled on Foreign Aid

Monday and Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck hinted that if House conferees go along with the Senate in knocking it out House Republicans will ask that the bill be returned to conference.

With the House planning to fold up shop tonight, a deadlock could result in putting the bill over until next year.

BACKED BY LBJ

The Senate approved deletion of the commodity sale ban after Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield read a letter from President Johnson urging that course.

Johnson said sale of wheat and other commodities to Communist nations on reasonable terms are "good for our farmers and exporters, good for our shipping and railroad industry, good for our balance of payments, and good for the country."

"It makes no sense to jeopardize these possible gains by this legislative ride," Johnson said.

REJECT SLASHES

In addition to rejecting the House rider, the Senate turned back by wide bipartisan margins four attempts to make deep slashes in its appropriation. Two minor amendments trimming $27 million from the measure were accepted.

An amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to reduce the bill to $3 billion was rejected 55 to 31.

An effort by Morse to slash supporting economic assistance to defense pact allies from $300 million to $30 million was turned down 55 to 28.

On other votes, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., was defeated 53 to 34 on a motion to cut supporting assistance from $300 million to $350 million.

Another Ellender amendment, to reduce economic development funds from $800 million to $600 million, was beaten 54 to 30.

Area Engineer Is Witness

Johnson spent only 15 minutes with the grand jury; Genesee County Circuit Court Judge Donn D. Parker.

He was one of three representatives of engineering firms who were called to testify yesterday, as the probe concluded its 10th session.

The Waterford firm is engineering consultant for a $1-million Genesee County sewage disposal project near Flint.

Britain Favors Confab

on Neutral Cambodia

LONDON (AP)—Britain today announced itself in favor of an international conference to establish and guarantee the neutrality of Cambodia. The idea originally was put forward by Cambodia last month.

Cambodia recently has been a source of concern to Western governments. Its ruler, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has been drifting closer to Communist China and expressing increasing annoyance at the West.

Senate Eyed by Optometrist

Pontiac Man Plans State Candidacy

Pontiac optometrist Dr. Lynn D. Allen Jr. today announced his candidacy for the State Senate in 1969.

Son of the late Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, Dr. Allen has been active in the Republican party since he was 8 years old in 1932, when his father first sought and won the clerk's office.

Currently the GOP director for the 2nd Legislative District (City of Pontiac), the 38-year-old Republican said he would run in the northern half of the county if the legislature adopts the bipartisan plan for Senate reapportionment worked out by the two parties in the county.

This district would take in Pontiac and all other county area north of 20 Mile.

3 SEATS

The county expects to get three Senate seats. It now has only one.

Dr. Allen, who lives at 110 Wendenah, said, however, that he would seek a GOP senate nomination regardless of the final districting.

He said this was based on the assumption that incumbent State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, also a Republican, would not be running for reelection in the same district.

It will be Dr. Allen's first bid for elective office although he has long been active in civic affairs as well as GOP activities. He was named Pontiac's outstanding young man in 1957.

He has been a member of the Pontiac school study commission, a member of the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees since 1958, past president of the First Presbyterian Church Men's Club and past president of West Pontiac Kiwanis. He has been active in the United Fund for 12 years.

It's Just My Type

No Errors With New Ribbon

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON — The U.S. Patent Office issued a patent this week for a "self-correcting typewriter ribbon." It was described as the answer to a secretary's prayer.

A secretary I know put one on her typewriter and it worked fine. The ribbon hasn't made a mistake yet.

Now if only WEST someone will invent a self-correcting secretary, the world will be a better place in which to dictate.

Actually, the "self-correcting" label is a bit of a misnomer. The ribbon was not designed to correct its own mistakes but to make it easier for a secretary to correct hers.

William Wolowitz, a local man who invented it, has high hopes that it will become a commercial success. He conceded, however, that it is not a "panacea." In other words, the ribbon will not solve the problem of a secretary who can't spell "panacea." She will still need a dictionary. Or a smart office boy.

NOT FINAL

The fact that Wolowitz's invention is not the final answer to typing errors was demonstrated in a press release that I received from the Spellright Corp., which markets the ribbon.

Whoever typed the release goofed up the patent number. M-A-D-E 3144447 instead of 3114447.

Had the secretary who typed the release caught the mistake at the time, she could have corrected it with the ribbon, which has an inked strip for typing and a chalked strip for erasing. The procedure is as follows:

Backspace to the first 4 and strike the key again with the ribbon in the chalk position. That would erase it. Then backspace again and hit the figure 1 with the ribbon in the ink position.

That done, the secretary would finish typing the release. Or perhaps take a coffee break.

ERROR KEY

Eventually, Wolowitz predicted, it will not be necessary to operate the ribbon shift lever to correct mistakes. He feels that typewriters of the future should have an "error key" that would change the ribbon position automatically.

He feels that way because he also has invented an error key.

At present, the erasure part of the ribbon is white. There-

OU Students to Join Cali in Exchange

An exchange of students between Oakland University and the University of Valle in Cali, Colombia, on a scholarship basis is being set up, according to OU Chancellor D. B. Varner.

Varner said details of the exchange are still being worked out but thought the plan would be underway by next fall.

The chancellor said two tuition scholarships would be awarded to OU students by the University of Valle. Similar scholarships have been offered Valle pupils.

Varner was a member of a county delegation that visited Cali, Colombia, as part of the Alliance for Progress program earlier this year.

A group of Colombians made a return visit to Oakland County. The visits are part of a program of assistance at the local level of government.

Plan No-Parking Signs to End M59 Hazard

LANSING (UPI) — A traffic hazard on M59 north of Mount Clemens will be eliminated when no-parking signs are installed on the road between M97 and U.S. 25, highway officials said today.

A recent investigation by state police and the district traffic engineer has revealed that motorists parking on the route and the connecting ramps to U.S. 25 and M97 are restricting full use of the highway and are creating a hazard to through traffic," they said.

The ribbon can only make erasures on one copy at a time. A HANDICAP That will prove to be a handicap for government secretaries, who make all of their mistakes in triplicate.

Court No Santa Claus to 2 Held in Jail

CINCINNATI (AP)—The federal appeals court has refused to play Santa Claus to two men facing a Christmas behind bars while awaiting sentencing on convictions of transporting obscene books into Michigan.

Maxey and Sanford E. Aday, officials of West Coast News Inc., Fresno, Calif., to be released on bond was denied Thursday by a three-judge panel in U.S. Court of Appeals Sixth Circuit.

News were convicted at Grand Rapids last Friday following a six-week trial. They were remanded to the Kent County jail there when Federal Judge Noel P. Fox revoked earlier bonds of $10,000 each.

The appeals court panel upheld Fox's bail denial. Fox indicated he revoked the bonds because he was concerned that once the men returned to California it might be difficult to bring them back to Grand Rapids for sentencing.

U.S. Attorney George E. Hill said sentencing probably would be within two weeks.

Runaway Is Killed Fleeing the Police

HAZEL PARK (AP)—A runaway from the Oakland County Children's Center was killed and his companion injured today when their stolen car hit a utility pole as they fled police.

Police say the other boy, Matt Ransome, 16, of 265 E. Maplehurst, Ferndale, was driving the car. He reportedly is being treated for minor injuries at Highland Park General Hospital. Children's Center officials say the two apparently walked away from the home, Ransome on Dec. 14 and Ladd sometime yesterday.

Takes Off After Jet

Driver Drags on Wrong Strip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The giant jet airliner roared down the runway at International Airport. Roaring in its wake, like a giant chasing an elephant, came a small sedan, Leo Ambrose O'Hearn at the controls.

Police said they ran the little auto to earth after a long chase. Asked how he got onto the runway without being seen, police said O'Hearn replied: "I don't know, I'm lost. I guess I took the wrong turn."

Officers said O'Hearn, 38, was on his way home from a Christmas party. He was booked on a charge of being drunk on airport property, a violation of municipal law.

In the period of 1955-59, Americans spent 14 per cent of their disposable income for food — as compared with about 19 per cent now.

Million-Dollar Bonus With 22-Cent Check

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — A supermarket got a check from a paper company, with a reimbursement for coupon redemptions.

It was supposed to read 22 cents. It came through as $1,000,000.22. The market is reimbursing the firm by returning the check.

Launch Postponed 3rd Time

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

Problems with the safety destruct system today forced a third postponement of an attempt to launch the Tiro 8 weather satellite.

The shot was rescheduled for 4:30 a.m. Saturday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the delay was caused by circuitry troubles in the destruct system — the device the range safety officer would trigger to destroy the Delta booster if it went off course during launching.

The shot was postponed twice earlier this week because of difficulties with the rocket's control system.

Yugoslav Arms Budget to Be 10 Pct. Higher

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia

(AP) — The Yugoslav military budget for 1964 will be about 10 per cent higher than this year, Parliament learned Thursday.

The defense committee received the draft of a military budget amounting to $1.6 billion. This represents 7.65 per cent of the national income. The draft is certain of approval.

Polish Law Banning

Private Practice of Law

WARSAW (AP) — Poland's Communist-run Parliament enacted Thursday night a law abolishing the private practice of law and forcing the country's 5,700 attorneys into collectives.

Rail Mediation Board Going at Full Speed

One gets the idea that the railroads in their current labor disputes are up against a heads-I-win-tails-you-lose contest with labor.

Under the Railway Labor Act, a mediation board is a permanent agency. When a management-labor issue arises it is referred to the board. If agreement cannot be reached, the board tries to induce both sides to submit to binding arbitration.

Should this proffer be declined by either party, the President is notified. He appoints an emergency board to explore the controversy and make a report within 30 days. After this, there is another automatic respite—a "cooling off" period—of 30 days before a strike can be called.

In a current deadlock headed for a strike revolving around fixed manpower requirements the railroads contend are superfluous, five railroad brotherhoods had declined arbitration and refused to abide by findings of two government commissions backed by a Supreme Court decision.

Then came the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters seeking reduction of their present 205-hour work month to 173 hours. A presidential emergency board had recommended gradual reduction to a 180-hour month. The porters refused to abide by the board's recommendation, broke off negotiations and called a strike.

A walkout, however, was averted—but only by an eleventh-hour concession by the railroads: agreement to a 174-hour work month.

There was, incidentally, one significant difference between this railroad-labor hassle and the one of greater magnitude antedating it—the porters were not accused of featherbedding.

Fate of Roman Empire a Timely Warning

There are many who find a parallel between the decline of the Roman Empire and the troubles of Western civilization today, as economic integrity and personal morality show wear in all levels of society.

They single out the period from about 200 A.D. on, long before the empire really had crumbled and the barbarian-invasers were at Rome's gates.

It was a time of prosperity for city and empire. Living wore a high gloss. The second of the two great classical civilizations offered a bright facade.

Yet behind it, moral decay already was far advanced. Corruption was a commonplace. Standards of conduct had sunk perilously low. Most of those who governed lacked either the will or the capacity to impose more than superficial order.

The Americas and Western Europe are not Rome. The West's power is immense and still growing. It too has a bright facade—new buildings, new products of industry, new leaps into space and other unknowns by science.

But this also is something of a false front, though to lesser degree than was true in third-century Rome.

We live in an era where, increasingly, crime and corruption not only exist but are widely tolerated. While we comfort ourselves with the "only a minority does it" excuse, the absolute number of transgressors multiplies enormously.

A civilization, in its biggest acts and its smallest, is made and maintained by those who care. Relatively, they are a diminishing number in our life today.

If we do not find more of them, the troublesome "minority" may become a majority one day. Then the power and vigor and spirit of this great civilization would be gravely menaced.

News Conference Studied by LBJ

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—President Johnson says he will decide when and how to hold news conferences according to "what comes naturally."

What has come naturally to him so far is something between the news conferences of Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman and those of Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy.

Roosevelt and Truman met with newsmen—far often than Eisenhower and Kennedy—in their offices, but what they said could seldom be quoted directly.

Eisenhower and Kennedy held their conferences in full view of cameras—in Kennedy's case, before live television cameras—and what they said was the public record.

Johnson, like Roosevelt and Truman, has met twice with newsmen in his office, without benefit of television or radio, but, like Eisenhower and Kennedy, what he has said so far has been directly attributed to him.

When the mood seizes him, Johnson may meet the press before live television cameras. He has foreclosed nothing, promised nothing specific.

WHAT KIND PLANNED? Asked what kind of conference he planned to hold, he said: "Maybe it will be a meeting of this kind today; maybe a televised meeting tomorrow with maybe a coffee service the next day."

While the Eisenhower-Kennedy conferences were televised, Eisenhower's could not be released until after the conference. Kennedy's were live.

The appearance of Eisenhower and Kennedy on television had a great public advantage.

All the people of the nation could watch their president in action and form their own judgments. But the meetings with the press had a couple of disadvantages. In the first place, they were huge affairs.

INCLUDED MINOR QUESTIONS Thus they included newsmen with questions of a minor nature and of interest to only one locality, and perhaps a small one. Sometimes they were the kind that could have been answered by a call to a White House aide.

Some newsmen seem to be ham actors by instinct. Televised conferences gave them a chance to perform, and they did, often with questions that were longer than the answer they got from the president.

In short, a lot of time was taken up that didn't need to be. But both Eisenhower and Kennedy, by staying in the public eye, since they handled themselves well, did themselves no end of political good.

THE TRANSCRIPT of the much smaller Johnson conferences, without the benefit of television, shows the reporters were able to concentrate on questions of national and international interest. The questions were short and pointed.

GREAT LENGTH Because Johnson went to real length Wednesday to answer some of the questions, there was only time to ask him 20. Kennedy used to average between 25 and 30 questions and answers in about the same time.

And Wasn't That His Drive-Wheel?

David Lawrence Says:

Uncle Sam Plays U. N. Fall Guy

WASHINGTON—The American people got only one side of the story of the United Nations this week.

President Johnson lent prestige to the organization when he addressed it with high-sounding words but for expediency reasons naturally spoke no words of criticism.

The whole story, however is a disturbing one—a betrayal of the simple rules of morality by an organization that is financially bankrupt, because many of its members refuse to pay their assessments and depend instead on the United States to continue to bail the U. N. out of its financial difficulties.

Concurrently a plot has been hatched by the Afro-Asian bloc to exercise control over the Security Council, first by increasing the number of its members, and then by making such alterations in the U. N. charter from time to time as could paralyze the one-veto veto of the United States.

The first step came on Dec. 17 the very day President Johnson was there—when the General Assembly adopted a resolution calling for an enlargement of the Security Council. The Afro-Asian bloc had the votes to put this through.

The United States isn't pleased with the action. But, while it keeps on begging the Afro-Asian bloc not to go to extremes, it hesitates to speak out in the open to mobilize public opinion against such attempts to change the whole character of the U. N.

In this instance, the American delegation seems to be relying on the Soviet Union to exercise a veto when the matter comes before the Security Council.

Sooner or later the full story of how Uncle Sam plays the role of a "sucker" in the U. N. will come out in the open when Congress considers appropriations.

Other nations are not paying an equitable share. In 1960, when the U. N. had less than 100 members, a European economic officer at the U. N. figured that 50 of them were contributing only 2.5 percent of the costs of the whole organization.

CONTROL VOTING Yet these same 50 nations made up a majority in the General Assembly—enough to control its voting. The situation since then has not changed perceptibly.

Apart from financial troubles, the real failure of the U. N. is the lack of morality on the part of so many of the Afro-Asian governments. They regard the U. N. as their political tool. They brush aside consistency and long-standing principles of international conduct by indulging in conspiracies such as are common in corrupt political machines.

What goes on behind the scenes in the U. N.—supernaturally called "politics"—is a far cry from the lofty ideals enunciated by President Woodrow Wilson in 1919 when he urged the world to form a high-minded international association dedicated to moral force as the savior of mankind. His concept seems to have been abandoned.

Bob Considine Says:

Let's Put the Christ Back Into Christmas Cards

NEW YORK—If it's all the same to you, I'd like to republish a few stories I've written in past years on the subject of Christmas. They'll continue until that day.

Christmas falls on Dec. 25, as usual. It will happen this year, that is, unless it is declared unconstitutional by the High Court or suffocated between now and then by canned versions of "Adeste Fideles" in the supermarket, the jingle-jangle of bells and cash registers and the forlorn chants of some of the scrawniest Santa Clauses I've seen since the Great Depression.

Let's begin with a theme that not much can be done about this late date in the month, or this late date in the generation. It has to do with Christmas cards.

Got one the other day from a friend of ours who is a former concert singer and film star. It was a picture of her in a low-cut red evening gown, smiling dazingly.

We're sure happy she remembers us, but I hope it isn't rude to say that, well, the card could have included a bit of mistletoe, overhead, or a diamond Santa Claus hat by Cartier. Or she could have been kissing a reindeer. Anything.

STORY TOLD I guess what I'm beefing about so ungraciously is that I miss Christmas in Christmas cards. To be precise, I miss Christ.

The story of the Nativity, which is the only reason for the celebration, has been largely lost in a blizzard of inanity. A Christmas showing a kitten unraveling a ball of yarn and spelling out "Merry Christmas!" is very nice, of course. We shouldn't knock smart kittens.

But what's it got to do with the crowded Inn, the Manger, the Shepherds, Mary, Joseph, the Magi? Doesn't even relate to wicked old Herod. That bum.

There are now on sale what might be called "sick" Christmas cards, showing a lascivious Santa chasing his buxom secretary around the office.

Somewhat, it made more sense when Christmas cards showed a star beaming down on Bethlehem, a Mother with Child, the steamy breath of animals frustrating the cold that penetrated a Stable.

The Christmas card showing the well-dressed, well-fed family—mama, papa and the kids—lined up "in steps" in front of the fireplace is dandy.

We always enjoy checking on how Charlie's and Mandy's kids are sprouting and chuckling over Charlie's spreading waistline.

But, they never say anything about swaddling clothes, hunger, deprivation, man's inhumanity to man, hope, peace.

Foreign Aid

The Chicago Tribune

Congress had barely settled upon a sharply curtailed $3.5-billion foreign aid authorization bill when the ax fell again.

The House appropriations committee, acting on the appropriation bill which must follow the authorization, lopped off another $800 million bringing the total down to $2.7 billion—the lowest figure since 1957 and more than $2 billion below the late President Kennedy's original request. Cuts were made chiefly—and properly so—in economic aid.

The committee action came swiftly on the heels of a subcommittee report recommending $3 billion, and was even more drastic. The measure goes to the floor of the House, where approval is expected. The Senate, judging from precedent, is likely to be more soft-hearted.

Rep. Passman of Louisiana, the Democrat who is chairman of the subcommittee, turned down a plea from President Johnson for the maximum appropriation permitted by the authorization bill, namely $3.5 billion. For years, Mr. Passman has protested the waste and futility of much of our foreign aid, largely in vain. Now that Congress finally seems to be emerging from its hypnotic spell Mr. Passman has no intention of giving in. Summoned to a night conference at the White House, he told the President that he believed $3 billion was more than adequate and that he could not surrender his convictions.

Reader Inquires About Definition of 'Hatred'

We've heard so much about hatred in magazines and newspapers and we wonder what defines its meaning. Webster defines hatred as bitter aversion, active hostility, repugnance, malevolence.

Magazine and newspaper editors may breed hatred, not intentionally but because they print the news as their reporters interpret it. They may endorse a certain civic matter, but they don't hate the individual personally who is opposed.

In locker rooms, at cocktail parties, luncheons and dinner, nasty things are spread around about individuals. This is the dangerous tool and is multiplied many times over. It can do irreparable harm to innocent people.

Linguistic Delinquency

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin

Multiple choice tests which require pupils merely to check an answer they believe to be correct, may be easy as grade, but they are destroying the American school boy's ability to write.

In a new book, Lewis Paul Todd, editor of Social Education, calls this "linguistic delinquency."

Teachers, and he points his finger particularly at social studies teachers, should give more essay assignments, Todd suggests, adding that the only way to learn to write is to write. This imposes a heavier grading burden on the teacher, but is one the teacher will have to assume if the child is to develop essential writing skills. He insists that the responsibility is not that of the English teacher alone, but of the social science teacher as well.

At the same time, he runs up a warning signal against such use of the language as this:

"With the proliferation of allegations promulgating an either/or attitude toward the use of textbooks in elementary school social studies, it is well to ponder both the pros and cons of propensities to vindicate the one contention while repudiating the other. To asseverate a denial of value for either orientation is not the point. To relate the utility and soundness in the use of multifarious resources is the intent."

Translation: A good teacher does not depend solely upon a textbook.

But that is linguistic delinquency of another sort.

Center Teens Facing Lack of Yule Gifts

Unless someone volunteers to prevent it, some youngsters at the Oakland County Children's Center will go without even a bright spot at Christmas.

"We need more gifts for teen-agers," says Mrs. Lillian Wickman, head supervisor for the girls' side of the detention home.

Many gifts have been bought with donations from service clubs, employe organizations, women's clubs and other groups, but there still are not enough, according to Mrs. Wickman.

There is enough for the 34 younger children housed in cottages next to the center as neglect cases, but not for the 135 older children in the center.

Some gifts received, such as dolls or toys sent by school children, are not suitable for teen-agers.

And you get the extra touches we consider to be standard: Gift boxes . . . the famous Osmun's fit . . . and a charge plan specially designed to fit your needs. All this plus the finest name brands in America. Like the DOBBS HATS—shown above. The finest felt shaped into the "Game Bird." Brings out the sporting mood in every man. Rich game-hued colorings: $16.95. Other DOBBS HATS $12.95 to $20. So why settle for just a gift this Christmas? Give him Osmun's.

Five New Stockings at Fischers' House

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—The jump from five to 10 stockings by the tree will mean a Christmas like never before for the Andrew Fischer family.

This time last year, the family was preparing for a quiet Christmas at its modest home outside Aberdeen.

There were a few toys for the five children, a Christmas tree, candy and cookies.

ALL IS CHANGED

About the only things unchanged by the quint's birth are that Andrew Fischer still has his same job and three of the five older children go to school as usual.

This Christmas, the Fischers and their 10 children live in a rented 9-room home in northeast Aberdeen. Three of the quint's are home and the other two are expected home from the hospital by Christmas.

There are almost more gifts than anyone has time to unwrap.

The altering of the Fischer family routine has been tremendous. Mrs. Fischer has full-time help with the children and housework.

GROCERY CLERK

Fischer, an $80-a-week clerk at a grocery warehouse, has had his fortune increased substantially — although not to the extent many might believe, a family spokesman says.

The spokesman said cash and merchandise gifts have totaled less than $10,000, not counting sale of story and picture rights to national publications, which reportedly added another $30,000.

Because of the sale of the story and picture rights, the family a home on a free site. A city official says the site probably will be selected by the end of the year.

The quintuplets have lost none of their appeal in this prairie city of 25,000. Motorists arriving at the city are greeted by new 15-by-30-foot signs saying: "Welcome to Aberdeen, home of the Fischer quint."

The quintuplets have gained weight and strength steadily. James Andrew, the only boy, was well ahead of his four sisters in everything—getting onto formula, getting out of the isolettes at St. Luke's Hospital, and getting out of the hospital.

Mary Magdalene and Mary Margaret went home last Saturday. Mary Catherine and Mary Ann are due to go home soon.

The other Fischer children are Danny, 8, Charlotte, 7, Julie, 6, Evelyn, 4½ and Denise, 3½.

Students Paid for Studying

Experiment in Kansas Uses College Pupils

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI)—More than 100 Kansas State University students will be paid $1.25 an hour next month to study for their final examinations.

The following ad appeared this week in the college newspaper:

"Kara while you learn. Students may study their regular class assignments and prepare for finals in quiet surroundings . . . and earn $1.25 an hour doing it."

It's all part of a basic environmental research program being conducted by the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air Conditioning Engineers (ASHRAE).

Dr. Ralph Nevins, director of Kansas State's new Institute for Environmental Research, said the experiment with 120 students here would duplicate a previous study conducted in a test room at Cleveland.

ROOM GIVEN

The Cleveland test room was given to Kansas State by ASHRAE.

"The results will tell us if the test room is operating properly and whether Kansas subjects respond the same as Cleveland subjects," Nevins said.

The experiment will be held the first two weeks of January. Participating students will not get rich from the experiment.

Each student will be permitted to take part in only one three-hour test period.

Yule Mood Brightens Waterford High Schools

At Pontiac Northern High

Salute to Foreign Student Ends Year

By SUSAN KILLEN

Today was the last day of school for the year for students at Pontiac Northern High School. They will not return again until Jan. 2, 1964.

The year at school was completed at Northern with a special assembly. During this meeting of the students, gifts were presented to the foreign exchange student, Myra Pangalman of the Philippines.

The American Field Service club has helped Myra celebrate her first American Christmas, and they are now making plans for her first birthday in our country.

Christmas cards were on sale by the club to gain funds for the organization to bring more students to the United States.

The cards were designed by foreign students from all over the world.

CLUBS CONTRIBUTED

Gifts to Myra were from various clubs and organizations in the school. Seniors also donated funds to augment her stationery and postage funds, as letters to the Philippines are quite costly.

A special number was presented for the assembly by the choir and a dance group. "Twas the Night Before Christmas," was presented in song and interpreted in modern dance.

The dancers included Sharon Norberg, Mary Ellen Hill, Janis and Jerris Hines, Beverly Benson and Lynda Guenther.

Others included Claudia Cook, Beverly Fox, Nancy Jones, Carol McDermid, Jane Rudley and Lois Rogers. The dance was directed by girls' physical education instructor Madeline McConnell.

FINAL PICTURES

Members of the senior class received their final pictures this week.

Various clubs at PNH have completed their plans to celebrate the Christmas season, and some have begun plans for the new year.

The junior's secretaries club answered a plea from the Volunteer Workers Association at the Pontiac State Hospital this week. The group desired the gift of a doll to give to one of the patients.

The club raised money for this Christmas present through the sale of cupcakes at after-school sales.

FUTURE NURSES

The future nurses club also was busy before the holidays. They have taken old toys, repaired them, and are delivering them to the Children's Home.

This club also plans to learn the techniques of first aid in the coming year. Officers include Delores Whitehead, president; Sharon Chism, vice president; and Cheryl Soole, secretary.

The Catalinas, the girls' synchronized swimming team, is holding a sleigh ride and spaghetti dinner tomorrow night. The girls of the club are all invited to bring an escort.

WTHS Council in Holiday Trim

Sponsors Drive to Aid 15 Needy Families

By MARY BARNINGHAM

Trimming a holiday tree is but one of the student council Christmas projects at Waterford Township High School. This organization is also sponsoring a drive to provide Christmas dinners and gifts to 15 needy families.

Gifts and donations made by students were collected in homerooms and will be delivered shortly before Christmas.

Carols sung by the choir echoed in the corridors today and two Christmas assemblies this morning climaxed the week's holiday activities.

Seven WTHS students who took the Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition examination Nov. 14 ranked among the top 4 per cent of the students competing in the state.

QUALITY TO GO ON

These students, Margaret Becker, a junior, and seniors Harold Western, Richard Appel, Jack Harthun, Warren Guilds, Richard Raber and David Smith qualified to take the second part of the MMPCE examination, which was given Dec. 12.

Names of those qualifying students have been sent to various colleges and universities for scholarship consideration.

Commenting on the test results, Nicholas Menghini, a math instructor at WTHS, said, "I am very proud of these students and feel they are an excellent representative group."

Club Activities Under Way

Central Cheerleaders Serenade Faculty

By DIANE OLSEN

Activities are well under way for the Christmas season at Pontiac Central High School.

Among those serenaded were Mrs. Richard Craig, Helen Lapham, Dorothy Worthman, Arthur Van Ryzin, Ed Graybill, R.L.

Morse, John Allhouse, Doris Haynes, Mildred Loper, Maria Jackson and Elizabeth McDonald.

After caroling, the cheerleaders met at captain Nancy Kack's for refreshments.

EARLIER PARTY

The biology club, supervised by Judy Ungvary, held a Christmas party earlier in the week.

Donna Darrow was in charge of refreshments.

President is Jill Anderson and advisers are Maria Jackson and Mrs. Gordon Barr, English department.

The German club, under Anton Lingel, will journey to Ann Arbor Jan. 8 to dine at a German restaurant.

CAMPUS TOUR

The purpose is to acquaint the students with German customs and atmosphere. A tour by the club of the university campus is also planned at this time.

Other activities at Central include a Christmas party for the chemistry lab assistants at the home of Lester Mack, sponsor of the group.

The HI-Y club, also under Lester Mack, attended an annual breakfast at the YMCA earlier this week.

Midland will meet Pontiac Central tonight in Central's gym. Playing at this game and all the home basketball games will be the pep band, directed by David Belanger.

At St. Michael

Half-Day Week for Yule Work

By MICHAEL OMANS

All this week the student body of St. Michael High School has been attending half-day classes.

The reason for this is that many students seek employment during the holidays to earn extra money for Christmas.

Ruth Ann Woods, a senior, has been named by Sister Mary Harold, home economics instructor, as Co-ed correspondent for the 1963-64 school year.

Ruth has become one of the more than 3,000 Co-ed correspondents throughout the United States and Canada.

She will be junior adviser to the editors of Co-ed, a national magazine for teen-age girls, and will keep them informed of activities at St. Michael's.

SATIRICAL SKIT

The cast included Michael Backus, Scott Gagle, William Turner, Robert Taylor, Mary Finnigan, Richard Lallo, John Cosgrove and Lynn Steinhilper.

Others were Sharon Hoover, David Martin, Roger Cook, Thomas Mullen, Loann Priebe, Susan Sullivan, Larry Barker, Robert Chengalls, Carol Stokes, Sarah Raymond, James Stickle, Evelyn Daugherty and Dianne Omans.

After the skit, the cast joined the student body in singing Christmas carols and the assembly was dismissed, beginning Christmas vacation.

RINGS BLESS

Sunday, after 8:45 Mass at St. Michael, church, members of the senior class will have their newly received class rings blessed.

The ceremony will be conducted by Rev. James Hayes. The senior class will sponsor a "Winter Mist" dance Dec. 28, from 8 to 11 p.m.

Language Institutes Up

The number of institutes conducted under the Language Institute Program (Title VI) of the National Defense Education Act is expected to total about 80 for 1964-65.

Institute dates will be announced later this month. Under this federal government program, elementary and secondary school teachers of modern foreign languages at all levels of audio-lingual proficiency — from minimal to superior — may improve their preparation.

In the summer of 1963, teachers attended 67 institutes in Chinese, French, German, Modern Hebrew, Russian and Spanish at American colleges and universities across the nation.

In addition, 12 institutes were held overseas, 11 of which were for teachers who had already completed one institute in this country.

Kettering Sees Dickens Play

Faculty, Students in 'A Christmas Carol'

By JOY McREYNOLDS

Highlighting the pre-Christmas festivities at Waterford Kettering High School, the presentation of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" brought both laughter and tears from the student body this morning.

Characters being portrayed by both faculty members and students gave a novel aspect to the annual Christmas assembly.

Faculty lead roles went to Duward Chaffee, journalism instructor, as Scrooge; Sue Barber, counselor, as Martha; Robert Kaminski, English instructor, as Mr. Cratchit; and Judi Brooks, also an English instructor, as Mrs. Cratchit.

Students participating included John Peterson as Fred, Tom Ojay as Peter and Judy Hoffmann portraying the Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come.

PLAY SHORTENED

In order to keep to assembly schedule, the play was shortened with explanatory narratives given by the assembly planning committee. Staging was constructed by the play production class with lighting by Junior Richard Sies.

Occupying a silver throne, Old Saint Nicholas will command the festivities at "Candy Cane Christmas," Waterford Kettering's annual yuletide dance will be held tomorrow from 8 to 11 p.m.

The gym will become a gigantic ballroom in sparkling decorations of red, green, silver, blue and gold.

CANDY SALES

Some 300 seniors have recently become ardent candy salesmen as they attempt to persuade underclassmen that the best way to show school spirit and fill their Christmas lists is to purchase trip club candy.

Sale of the candy, at $1 per box, aids in the finance of senior trip expenses.

6 Students Exchanges at WLHS

By SUE GERVAIS

Walled Lake High School has recently acquired six Mexican exchange students. They will be in the United States for two months, the equivalent of their summer vacation.

They are Mario Talavera, staying with the Alfred Spengemanns; Lupita Delgado, residing with the Thomas McEvoy; Gertrude Carrasco, living with the Elmer Conrads; Tomas Sanchez, staying with the Albert Cavalleros; Ricardo Gonzalez, living with the Charles Rogers; and Luis Kincon, residing with the Ralston Calverts.

Under the direction of Sonia Sneiderman of the art department, the art II classes made Christmas decorations for the main lobby.

The outstanding element of the exhibit was a 10-foot Christmas tree of chicken wire and red tissue paper, surrounded by packages.

The ski club will sponsor the dance following the basketball game tonight with Pontiac Northern. In keeping with the season, the theme will be "Dremin' of a White Christmas."

Minnesota will require a fifth year of college preparation for fully certified school teachers starting in 1965. The state board of education, approving this in principle, has asked the staff to draft the regulations.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL — Duward Chaffee, a member of the Waterford Kettering faculty, rehearses for the Christmas assembly with students Judy Hoffman of 4468 Sashabaw and Tom Ojay of 2990 Shawnee. The assembly was presented this morning.

Special Programs

Yule Festivities at Emmanuel

By CAROL ARMBRUSTER

Yuletide festivities have been in abundance this week at Emmanuel Christian High School.

On Monday, a special program was held. The school band played several selections and the glee club sang four numbers.

Giving the devotional part of the program was Ralph Wingate, and Gloria Charno concluded the assembly by singing "O Holy Night."

Christmas music was played in the halls yesterday and today.

DICKENS'S PLAY

This afternoon, the junior class presented a special assembly during fifth hour. They gave Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," a three act play.

Appearing in the play as Scrooge was Mike Hickmott. His nephew was portrayed by Don Spring.

Jeff Miller appeared as Marley's Ghost.

Several members of the Cratchit family were included. Bob Cratchit was portrayed by Darrell Hutto; his wife was Rosalie Satterfield; Tiny Tim was Tim Mayer; and Martha and Peter Cratchit were Doty Cook and Paul Lenker.

OTHER PLAYERS

Appearing as the Spirit of Christmas Present was Dave Savage and Christmas Yet to Come was Len Kent.

John Allen was narrator, and backstage work was carried on by Ron Dillingham.

Milford High FTA Plans College Tea

By BOB GORSLINE

The Milford High School chapter of Future Teachers of America will sponsor a tea Jan. 3 for members of the faculty, college bound seniors and Milford graduates who are presently college freshmen.

It will serve to better acquaint the faculty and seniors with problems faced upon entering college.

The annual event, usually held before the Christmas holidays, was rescheduled at this time to accommodate more vacationing college freshmen.

Dance, St. Nick at Lake Orion Tomorrow Night

By NANCY GREENHILL

The cheerleaders and Pep club at Lake Orion are co-sponsoring a Christmas dance tomorrow night. The decorations will include three Christmas trees, one of which will be white.

Old St. Nick himself will be present for the festive occasion to distribute door prizes and give a special gift to each person.

Last Monday an auto safety speaker was presented. Main speaker was Dr. P. W. Gikas, associate professor at the Department of Pathology, University of Michigan.

The topics of discussion were the rising number of auto accidents and what can be done to reduce them.

FILM SHOWN

A film entitled "Why So Many Auto Accidents and Deaths" was also shown.

Many students are preparing for the ski trip to be taken by the East Orion 4-H Service Club and any other interested students at Orion. It will take place on the weekend of Jan. 11 and 12.

It's Rough When You're Not Cheering. Kettering Cheerleader Janet Shipman Of 6451 Prairie Lawn, Waterford Township Seems To Say

Low Toll States Tell Secrets of Road Safety

NEW YORK (AP) — Rhode Island, Hawaii, Connecticut and Massachusetts boast the best records among states in holding down auto deaths. How do they do it?

While many factors are involved, an Associated Press survey disclosed, one stood out in each of the states: an unceasing effort of officials to improve traffic safety records.

National Safety Council figures show that Rhode Island, the smallest state, had the nation's lowest auto fatality rate last year — 9.9 per 100,000 population.

Then came Hawaii, 12.3 deaths; Connecticut, 12.4; and Massachusetts, 13.6.

U.S. TOLL

The rate for the country was 22 per 100,000.

"We're not accepting any laurels," said Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee. "We've still got a long way to go."

Charles W. Shields Jr., executive secretary of the governor's council on highway safety, said Rhode Island has certain factors working in its favor.

Half of the state is heavily urbanized, with little high-speed traffic. Expressways in urban areas are new, with all the safety advantages of modern engineering.

KEEP PERSPECTIVE

The rural roads have few long, monotonous straight stretches where drivers are likely to lose perspective or fall asleep.

"The state has less through traffic than many others."

The Rhode Island Police executive officer, James A. Iacoi, credits the inauguration of regular speed checks — and the ensuring publicity — with helping combat some of the state's highway problems.

Much of the credit for Hawaii's low traffic toll is given to news media.

SAFETY CONSCIOUS

"The whole objective is to make the public safety conscious," says Lt. Eugene Fletcher, head of the traffic accident investigation bureau of the Honolulu police.

An incentive program to encourage safe driving is used by the state's second largest city, Honolulu, on the island of Hawaii.

BACKGROUND

SPECIAL REPORT

"If there are no traffic fatalities for 75 days, we give the motorists a reward by closing the parking meters for a day," said Deputy Police Chief George Martin.

Hawaii is not faced with three factors that contribute to many traffic deaths on the

KNOW THE ROADS

The chief state highway engineer, John Myatt, said, "The motorists are familiar with the highways and this is a big point."

"The greatest speed limit on the island of Oahu is 45 miles an hour," he said.

"Fatigue isn't a problem here because you could go around the island of Oahu in four or five hours without pushing it," Fletcher added.

Hawaii recorded 85 traffic deaths last year. Seventy-one occurred on Oahu, which has 80 per cent of the state's population.

GOVERNOR UNIT

Coordinating the battle against traffic accidents in Connecticut is the 21-member Connecticut Safety Commission — Citizens appointed by the Governor.

Three E's are in effect: Educating the public, engineering better roads and enforcing motor vehicle and pedestrian laws.

Safety officials depend heavily on newspapers, radio and television to carry their message to the people. Representatives of state agencies speak at schools and civic events. Newsletters on safety are widely distributed.

The safety commission and state police coordinate statewide regional youth traffic safety conferences. The commission sponsors a conference of community and state safety officials.

POST REMINDERS

Safety messages are posted along highways, reminding motorists to fasten their seat belts, drive carefully and prevent accidents.

In Massachusetts, motorists may complain about the congested traffic in the state's cities. But, in the opinion of safety officials, that is one of the reasons why the state has one of the best highway safety records in the nation.

Bruce Campbell, Massachusetts Safety Council director, said statistics show that fewer fatal accidents occur in urban areas.

Gov. Endicott Peabody has created a new governor's safety committee and made an issue of no-fine tickets for driving violations and mandatory seat belts in cars for the model year 1964 and thereafter.

OTHER FACTORS

Campbell said other factors helping to hold down the death rate are stiffer requirements for the mandatory semiannual inspections of all cars; increased forces of metropolitan district police and state police on traffic patrol on the busiest highways, and completion of more modern highways.

Put THAT in Your Pipe and Smoke It

By WICK TEMPLE

Written for Hal Boyle
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—

A pipe smoker is a lot like a porcupine. Sooner or later he's bound to make somebody mad. Pipe smoking presents a new social problem for those who don't already have enough. If one's wife likes the smell of his tobacco, his boss can't stand it, or vice versa.

A pipe tobacco that suits everyone usually tastes like mud. I have been a pipe aficionado for several years and have made an involuntary study of reactions of various people to the habit. Some politely cough. Others cry.

NO BOTHER

"Does this pipe bother you?" the smoker asks innocently.

"Oh, no (gasp), not at all."

Yet pipe smoking has its brighter side. Many women are enchanted by the smell and can't get close enough to the gentleman with the briar.

Smoking a pipe progresses from an experiment to a habit to a hobby to an obsession. But hobby is the best word for it. Every veteran pipe smoker takes pride in his rack. He may not have smoked certain pipes for years, and his wife badgers him to throw them out. But each one holds certain sentimental significance.

The one with the crooked stem and the lion carved on the bowl was bought in the mountains and dropped into a stream the day you caught that five-pound bass.

The yellow-stemmed pipe with the broken bit was given to you by your son on a Christmas long ago.

The pipe smoker is aided in his avocation by thoughtful merchandisers who provide all kinds of chemicals and tools for cleaning and issue dire warnings against the use of knives or other simple objects for operating on pipes.

There are four main kinds of pipes. The briar is cut from roots of briar plants around the Mediterranean. Meerschaum is dug in Asia Minor. The calash, perhaps the most rare and often most prized, is a Sought African gourd.

The only truly American pipe is the corn-cob. Its place in history was assured when Gen. Douglas MacArthur stepped onto a Pacific beach with stem of one clamped between his teeth.

MARIBEL IS WINNING — Maribel Olsen, 2½, of San Luis, Sonora, Mexico, plays with her favorite doll in Children's Hospital in Los Angeles, where she has been a patient for two months. The tot was brought to Los Angeles from Yuma, Ariz., suffering from what doctors believe was a reptile bite or insect sting. Today Maribel undergoes surgery to clean out an infected area—her third time in surgery. Doctors are pleased with the child's progress.

GIs Show Yule to Communists

With Korea Mass

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—American soldiers took Christmas to the true line dividing Korea and showed it to the Communist North Koreans. Soldiers of the 1st Cavalry Division stood within 36 inches of the southern border of the truce line at an outdoor Mass on Thursday.

Farther west, in the neutral village of Panmunjom, the Americans decorated a 20-foot Christmas tree.

North Korean troops in Russian-style uniforms and fur hats watched the Mass being celebrated and the Christmas tree being lighted.

Yanks Hear Defector's Voice

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The voice of a man identifying himself as Spec. 4 Jerry Parrish, who defected to Communist North Korea while on patrol Dec. 6, was heard again today.

In a loudspeaker propaganda broadcast directed at American troops on the line dividing North and South Korea, a man identifying himself as Parrish, 19, Henderson, Ky., was heard in a similar broadcast Wednesday.

Members of the platoon that Parrish left said there was no doubt it was his voice.

FINEST PEOPLE

The speaker described the North Koreans as "the finest people I have ever met."

A man identifying himself as Parrish, 19, Henderson, Ky., was heard in a similar broadcast Wednesday.

Lansing Firm Agrees to Goodyear Merger

LANSING (AP)—Motor Wheel Corp. stockholders approved Thursday an agreement and plan of reorganization between the Lansing firm and Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. Raymond J. Wilcox, Motor Wheel president, said the agreement provides the firm will transfer to a subsidiary of Goodyear substantially all of Motor Wheel's properties and assets in exchange for Goodyear common stock. The exchange will be on the basis of two Goodyear shares for each three shares of Motor Wheel.

Roman Catholics and Protestant Episcopalians were the first to adopt the custom of sending Christmas cards.

Famed Egypt Explorer Dies at the Age of 84

OXFORD, England (AP)—Sir Alan Gardiner, 84, one of the five Egyptologists who opened the tomb of King Tutankhamen 40 years ago, died Thursday. Sir Alan, an authority on ancient Egypt and its language, was research professor in Egyptology at the University of Chicago 1924-1934.

Seeks to Help Exiles

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., proposed yesterday that Cuban refugees in the United States be given permanent residence. The refugees, mostly in Florida, now have the status of temporary visitors.

More Automation Is Inevitable Prospect for Future

(Editor's Note: This is the final article in a five-part series on automation written by UPI reporter Harry Ferguson.)

BY HARRY FERGUSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A person who urges a slow down or halt to automation is engaging in an exercise in futility. The iron laws of competition offer the American manufacturer this choice—automate or go out of business.

The Packard automobile disappeared from the highways of the nation because the company could not meet the competition from rivals who had automated.

A flood of transistor radios from Japan forced six American companies to go in for automation. They were able to cut prices from $39.95 to $14.95, and the imports from Japan dropped 50 per cent in volume.

So the inevitable prospect for the future is more automation, more sophisticated machines and more problems for the economists and sociologists.

COMPUTERS DO WORK

The time is not too distant when a worker will not have to pick up his paycheck. A computer will determine the amount due him on pay day, deduct Social Security, income tax withholding and insurance. Then it will notify another computer in a bank to credit the remaining money to the worker's account.

Computers already are fighting wars against each other in the Pentagon.

One group of them is in charge of officers leading the attacking red army. The other is under the command of the defending blue army. They solve problems of strategy, battlefield tactics and logistics and when it is all over they tell which side won in this theoretical attack on the United States.

Without computers, progress in the development of atomic energy would come to a dead halt. They operate valves and controls inside atomic reactors. A man who tried to do it would be killed instantly.

The determining factor in whether automation will throw as many as 25-million persons out of work in the next 10 years seems to be the speed at which it is introduced.

It is a common saying that there has been more technological advance in the last 50 years than there was in the previous 1,000. Ninety per cent of the drugs and pharmaceuticals in use today were developed in the last 10 years.

What could cause disaster to the working man is a sudden scientific breakthrough of giant proportions in the field of automation, such as the development of computers that could monitor and repair other computers, thereby eliminating all need for human beings.

Most experts think this is unlikely. They lean to the theory that automation at the moment is on a plateau and will remain so for several years. In other words, there will be refinements and improvements in the present machines, but nothing radically new.

NO PLANNED SLOWDOWN

The demand for a deliberate, planned slowdown is almost nonexistent.

This reporter could find only one man who advocated it. He is Vaux Owen, president of the National Federation of Federal Employees, who testified before the Senate subcommittee on employment and manpower.

What he advocated was a "moratorium" on all procurement or rental by the federal government of any additional automation machines except for the purposes of clear defense needs.

This suggestion shocked the committee. They compared the idea with the Luddite movement in England—a group of workers who organized to destroy the machines that were forcing some of them out of their jobs.

No bill providing for federal restraint on the progress of automation has even the smallest chance of passing Congress.

Even if the next 10 years bring no big breakthrough in the development of machines, the problem of unemployment is worrisome enough.

For some time now the rate of unemployment in the United States has clung stubbornly to around 5 per cent of the work force. The prospects seem to be that it soon will get worse because there is an uneven race going on between the number of new jobs and the number of people born.

Between 1947 and 1962 the number of persons holding jobs rose by 10 million. But in the same period the population went up 13 million, and as long as that continues there is going to be an inevitable day of reckoning for the young man looking for work.

SINISTER FIGURES

The figures are even more sinister in terms of what the U. S. Labor Department calls "long term unemployment" (when a man is jobless for 15 weeks or more) and "very long term unemployment" (when a man is out of work for six months or more). In the last five years the former has risen by 100 per cent and the latter by 150 per cent.

The year 1956 was a significant one in the American economy because it was then —for the first time in history—that the number of white-collar workers exceeded that of blue-collar workers. It was the trumpet of doom for the unskilled youth who refuses to finish high school.

Today the highest rate of unemployment of any group, 13 per cent, is to be found in boys and girls between 14 and 19. Unless they go back to school and acquire some skills, their case seems to be hopeless.

In the decade in which we live it is estimated that about 25-million young persons will enter the American labor force. The population explosion has come home to roost and the "war babies" are beginning to seek work.

PROTEST MARCH — Agitation is often raised in Latin American countries when the church participates in social questions. Here, marchers protest clerical involvement in a Puerto Rican election.

Birth Control Program

Failure Begot 2 Lasting Latin Concepts

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two stories dealing with collapse of birth control experiments in Puerto Rico.)

By WARD CANNEL

SAN JUAN, P. R. (NEA) — The failure of the first, massive, privately financed assault on the population explosion leaves in its disappointed demise two ideas so revolutionary that no body can reckon their consequences for Latin America.

But that they have been planted is as sure as the enormous population rise which yearly outdistances every effort to bolster the standard of living in this poverty-ridden country.

One idea has been to take birth control education and materials out of the clinics and directly to the people through a country-wide organization of community leaders working on a voluntary basis with the Family Planning Association.

By reaching down successfully into the villages and shantytowns of Puerto Rico, this innovation has done for the first time what Latin America needs desperately if it is ever to gain political stability—the effective delegation of responsibility and power at the grass roots.

SECOND IDEA

The second revolutionary idea to come out of the hemisphere's first private birth control assault belongs to Joseph Sumner, a St. Louis industrialist and inventor.

Out of the Sumner Foundation's interest in the Puerto Rico Family Planning Association grew the invention in 1958 of Emko, a spermatidal aerosol foam, making possible for the first time the mass distribution of birth control materials to people in traditional, backward areas.

Emko's closest rival for that distinction is the birth control pill—but this is far too costly for free, country-wide distribution and too complicated a prescription for most community leaders to teach easily.

Between the community leader plan and the aerosol foam, the Sumner Foundation, FPA combination was able to reach not only 100,000 Puerto Rican families, but concerned population experts, doctors, philanthropists and journalists throughout Latin America.

CONVINCED LEADERS

"They came here skeptical or critical," Mrs. Zalduendo says, "and went home convinced that we had something to teach. Our ideas are far from dead."

But it is the temper of history that the plan did not convince the Commonwealth government of Puerto Rico whose public health service is empowered by law to undertake the job of family planning instruction.

"Empowered, but not forced to," says Public Health Minister Dr. Guillermo Arbona.

"It is up to the individual doc-

CHURCH STAND

Under pressure from the Catholic Church primarily, official Puerto Rico will neither help nor hinder the family planning effort.

"But without active government participation," says Alfred Severson, director of the Sumner Foundation, "a nationwide family planning program cannot succeed."

A seven-year foundation-sponsored project can illustrate only that the job is possible, that less than 2 per cent of the people object to family planning on religious grounds, and that it is the Latin American woman who is both ready and eager to change the lot of her family, her community and her country.

Without a broad-scale educational approach—effective only in government hands—it is impossible to teach young people that an enormous, poor, ill family is not the route to security.

Many hands make light work. But only if there is work to do.

THE STORE WHERE GRANDPA AND GRANDMA BOUGHT

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

New Plastic Can Restore Voice Power

If you have ever tried to call out in the course of a nightmare and couldn't shout above a whisper, you can understand the nightmare of a permanent loss of voice.

Paralysis of the vocal cord on one side may occur from various causes, but the result is an inability to make yourself heard. Until recently the treatment of this condition has been unsatisfactory.

Efforts have been made to strengthen or tighten the loose cord by injecting a foreign substance into it that will be tolerated by the BRANDSTADT tissues, will not set up an inflammatory reaction and will not disappear from the tissues by absorption.

Over 50 years ago a physician in Germany used paraffin for this purpose. The idea was good, but the foreign substance he used was not.

In the intervening years, injectable emulsions were made of cartilage particles or bone dust mixed with glycerin or otherwise treated to give them the consistency of toothpaste. These worked better than the paraffin.

The metal tantalum, after being pulverized, was also tried but none of these have given such good results as are being obtained by Dr. Robert B. Lewy, a well-known Chicago surgeon. He uses a paste made from a plastic called Teflon, the same substance that is now used to line frying pans and for a variety of other purposes.

This is a tetrafluorethylene polymer which is chemically the most inert plastic yet produced.

Dr. Lewy explained that vocal sound is possible only when there is a tension of tightening in both the right and left vocal cords while the exhaled air is passing between them.

After the mixture is injected into the paralyzed cord the glycerin in the mixture is absorbed, but the Teflon remains and gives solid support to the cord.

Although the cord is still paralyzed, enough of the plastic is injected to make the cord about one and one-half times its normal thickness and this is sufficient to act with the nonparalyzed cord on the opposite side to produce normal voice sounds.

The results have been dramatically shown by making tape recordings of the voice before and after the operation.

This operation requires only 10 or 15 minutes and is done under local anesthesia.

Those who have needed the operation have been enthusiastic about the results.

UAW Locals Plan Parties for Children

The three Pontiac United Auto Workers locals have laid extensive plans to host Christmas parties for members' children and to aid the less fortunate.

Pontiac Motor Division Local 653 expects 1,000 youngsters at a 10 a.m. party Saturday at Pontiac Northern High School.

Fisher Body Local 596 will entertain 800 children in a 1 p.m. Saturday party at Lincoln Junior High.

Refreshments, films, games, Santa Claus and gifts for all is order of the day for both gatherings.

GMC Truck & Coach Division Local 594 will devote its efforts to providing food and necessities for the families of union members struck by illness or other problems.

The other two locals have also announced efforts to assist needy members either directly, or through the Salvation Army clearing house.

'Messiah' to Be Sung at OU on Sunday

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. the Oakland University Chorus and the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra will perform the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah." The concert will take place in the intramural building on the campus.

With an orchestra of 60 and a chorus of 130, this performance will mark the second collaboration between these two organizations, both of which are well known locally.

Dr. Walter Collins, chairman of the department of music at OU and director of the University Chorus, and Felix Resnick, director of the Pontiac Symphony, will share conducting duties.

SOLOISTS

Soloists will be Paula Robinson, soprano, a student at OU; Alice Engram, contralto, a member of the university faculty; Robert Angus, tenor; and Duncan Sells, bass, dean of students at OU.

One special aspect of the performance will be that none of the usual cuts in the score will be made. Instead, Part I, the Christmas portion of Handel's famous oratorium, will be performed in its entirety.

This section includes, among others, the well known choruses, "And Glory to the Lord Shall Be Revealed" and "For Unto Us a Child Is Born," as well as the famous arias, "Comfort Ye My People" (for tenor), "Thou Saith The Lord of Hosts" (for bass), "Rejoice Greatly" (for soprano), and "He Shall Feed His Flock" (for contralto and soprano).

SPONSORSHIP

The concert is given under the joint sponsorship of the Oakland University Community Arts Council and the University's on-campus concert, exhibit and lecture series.

Adult and student tickets are available from salesmen throughout the area and will also be on sale at the door.

Looking like an illustration out of an old fashioned Christmas card, Mrs. Fred Lyon, Royal Oak, totes her bass into rehearsal for Sunday's presentation of the "Messiah" at Oakland University. The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and OU chorus will join forces for the beloved Christmas music.

Susan Briggs Fisher, daughter of the Everell E. Fishers, Lone Pine Road, is the first debutante from the Bloomfield Hills area in about 10 years. She was introduced to society Thursday evening.

Sorority Chapter Celebrates Holiday

Mrs. Carl Leedy opened her Tilden Street home Tuesday evening when Xi Pi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met for a Christmas party.

Gifts were exchanged and a Christmas story read by Margaret Luther. Mrs. Robert Owen assisted the hostess.

When Nap Needed

Friendship Should Wait

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have four children, but the little one takes up more of my time than any of the others.

You see, she was born with an incomplete stomach (it wasn't fully developed) and she has had six operations already and she isn't even three years old.

Well, I have to get up in the night with her many times and I don't get much sleep. I try to catch a little nap in the afternoons because she sleeps for about an hour then.

This friend of mine comes to visit me every afternoon without fail. She is a widow, is lonely and has nowhere else to go.

She keeps me from my nap, but I can't tell her not to come or she will be hurt. What can I do?

NO SLEEP
DEAR NO: You are mistaken. A real friend would appreciate your telling her.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with an 18-year-old daughter. She works with a woman who has a shrimp for a son. He is 22.

This woman influenced my daughter to start going with her son because a girl had just thrown him over and he was supposed to be all broken up.

Well, before I knew it my daughter was wearing a used engagement ring and now they are talking marriage.

When I told her not to be in such a hurry, the boy's mother cinched the deal by getting my daughter to move out of the house and move in with them.

So now I am alone and have nothing to say. My daughter never had a boy friend before this one and won't listen to anyone. What can I do?

ON THE OUTSIDE
DEAR ON: Your daughter

is of age and there is nothing you can do.

Ask her, calmly and without anger, to come home. And then attempt to persuade her to give more thought to this marriage.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's new booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

'Insecure' Wife in the Dark About Budget

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley:
I have a problem I need help with. My husband pays all the major bills. He does the grocery shopping of his own will. And he gives me $23 of his weekly pay—which I don't even know the amount of!
The problem is, I always thought I managed money beautifully when I was single.

He did say before we were married that he would handle the bills, to which I agreed because I felt it would be less for me to worry about.

MARY FEELEY Now am I justified in bickering with him that this $23 is far too little for what he expects me to do with it? We have three children, so that makes five of us.
Their ages are 12, 11, and 3.

I have to clothe all of us, plus birthdays of 13 children in the family, plus gifts for grandmothers, Mothers Day, Christmas and my own occasional beauty shop trip for a permanent and beauty aids, plus an occasional treat for a show with the children, plus any incidental I may choose to spend on thread, patterns, etc.
I do have the okay to take carefare from his so-called charge box, and if I take an extra dollar or so from his wallet he asks me if I took any money and what for. He doesn't bawl me out for it but at the same time he seems disturbed about it.

Would you be so kind as to give me an idea how to manage this money? I tried to get his permission to go to work and he refuses. I have never felt more insecure.

Mrs. S.J.W., Chicago

Dear Mrs. W.:

If ever a woman had reason to feel insecure, you do. And not just because you have only $23 a week to spend!

You know, Mrs. W., if I were charting a course to make sure a marriage would lead for the rocks, I could hardly do better than follow your pattern. Just take an objective look for a moment at the obstacles you and your husband are setting in your own path:

He refuses to tell you what the family income is.

You were happy to dodge the responsibility and trouble of handling the money in the first place.

You "bicker" over your allowance — without knowing whether it could be any larger.
You take money out of his wallet without his knowledge or consent.

NO CONTRIBUTIONS

He refuses to let you contribute any earnings to the family income.

Unless the two of you get together in a heart-to-heart talk, no amount of money will salvage such a relationship.

Why don't you explain to your husband that you'd be able to manage better if you weren't handicapped by resentment? That if he will show you, with figures on paper, how your allowance of $23 a week relates to the family's over-all expenses, you can operate much more intelligently.
Remind him that you were a good money manager before you married and could be again.

Just take a figure for discussion, say he makes $500 a month. In that case, you could expect your basic expenses—food, clothing, and housing—to amount to about 58 per cent of his income—or about $300.
Your allowance is about $100, which includes the major part of the taxes, his own expenses on the job, possibly upkeep of a car though you didn't mention that item.

SHORT END?

So it's possible he actually has no more than $23 to give you. Of course, if his income is, say, $10,000 a year, you're getting the short end of the deal.

It seems futile to set up a specific budget until you take these two steps: stop bickering and filching an occasional back from his wallet, and conduct yourself as an adult; then persuade your husband to treat you as an adult and give you facts.

He may actually be glad to have your sincere cooperation if he's convinced it is sincere.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I read your column regularly and wish you would say something about how to go about writing a will.

Mrs. P.S.N., Seaside, Ore.

Dear Mrs. N.:

Don't you go about writing your will. Let a lawyer do it for you. Few of us laymen know how to say properly and legally what we really mean when it comes to leaving our property to others.

TECHNICALITIES

We may know perfectly well in our own minds what we want done, but there are many technicalities in stating our wishes so that they can be clearly understood and followed by someone else.

The cost of having a lawyer do the job can be far, far less than the mistakes the average person makes in trying to draw up his own will.

Napkins Are Turned Into Ornaments

Make holiday balls, decorated with paint, sequins, or what you will, flowers, diamonds, etc., from paper napkins rather than newspapers, the old "raw material" for papier mache.

Soft, but not too soft, paper napkins are easier to work with and dry to a smoother texture and prettier colors. Plastic starch is used in place of paste.

First you set out a bowl of plastic starch. Then you blow up a balloon four to six inches high for the base. Brace the balloon in a small glass.

Now tear napkins into strips, six inches long, one inch wide. Tear, don't cut napkins. The "hairs" at torn edges have better sticking power.

If you have difficulty tearing straight strips, tear against a ruler edge. Dip napkin strip in bowl of plastic starch and place on balloon. Make criss-cross pattern covering balloon completely until paper is about five layers thick. Let dry. When ball is stiff, you can puncture or deflate balloon and remove. Decorate.

Plastic starch and paper napkin strips make a new kind of papier mache to work into Christmas ornaments. Here the strips are layered on a balloon to make a ball for the tree.

Local Order Initiates Five Members

Initiated into the order of Pythian Sisters and received as members of Mizpah Temple No. 7, Thursday evening, were Mrs. Hugh White, Mrs. Herbert Dailey, Mrs. Tom Kretz, Mrs. Larry Kretz and Mrs. Kenneth McCool. Officers who participated in the initiation were assisted by Mrs. Karl Erickson who took the part of most excellent chief and Mrs. Lewis Ellis, acting as past chief. Members of the degree staff who attended the officers were Mrs. Henry Tipoli, Mrs. Elmer Thomas, Mrs. Adelbert Ayres, Mrs. Clarence Mahaffy, Mrs. Milton Probert, Mrs. Glen Pittenger, Mrs. H. Delos Nicholls and Mrs. H. H. Pattison.

The election of Mrs. George Gleason to the office of most excellent chief and Mrs. Erickson to excellent senior completes the officer list for 1964.

Officers of the current year were hostesses at the refreshment table which featured a Christmas theme.

Keeps Floors Dry

Sack Wet Shoes

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — When expecting a number of guests during rainy or snowy weather, write each guests name on the outside of a large paper bag.

As they arrive, hand each one a "personalized" bag for wet boots or galoshes.

Thus, no muddy tracks on the floors and no mad scramble for their things when they are ready to leave.

A good trick when doing your own wallpapering is to use two rolls of wallpaper, side by side, when cutting lengths. This way you do not lose as much of the pattern since the second length will match the first exactly.—MRS. E. L. R. SIMPLE EXCHANGE.

DEAR POLLY — Many folks, myself included, exchange recipes eagerly.

To make it simpler to assemble or purchase all the items called for in a recipe, I write the ingredients in red ink and directions for making in blue ink.

It is really easy; just keep two ballpoint pens handy and change over. Recipes seem to say, "Try me soon."—MRS. A. M.

Handmade Items for Sale at Medical Care Facility

By JEANMARIE ELKINS
Woodworking, jewelry, vases, wall plaques, ceramics, rugs, paintings, ash trays and aprons. They sound like good gift items for Christmas don't they?

They are all on sale at the Oakland County Medical Care Facility and are of excellent quality.

Under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Evans, some 50 occupational therapy patients are busy making the items. Twice a day, four days a week, for an average of four hours a day, the 50 patients work on the projects of their choice.

EARN SOMETHING

The cost of the materials for each article is deducted from the sale price. The remaining amount is given to the patient.

A bright spot in the day of the patients, the occupational therapy period provides some recreation for those who for the most part are confined to wheelchairs.

GO TO FAIR

Many of the articles which are made by the patients are entered in competition at the Michigan State Fair. A good number win.

A dedicated group of volunteer workers helps to transport the patients to and from the occupational therapy department. It was this same group of dedicated women who helped supervise the Christmas party for OT patients Thursday.

It was not an especially elaborate or big party. But the decorations were outstanding. Of course, there was the decorated tree and the tinsel hung from above.

But there was also a beautifully decorated bulletin board. We were told that Mrs. Bertha Boyd, one of the occupational therapy patients, had done most of the decorating for the party.

A community sing of Christmas carols began the party. Faces which had not yet really smiled, lit up as Santa made a surprise appearance, bearing a gift for each patient.

For these people, each small offering is a favor which will long be remembered. Gifts made by patients are on sale from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. five days a week at the Medical Care Facility on Telegraph Road.

Jay Cooke works a hand loom at the Oakland County Medical Care Facility. Rugs are only one of many articles made by occupational therapy patients.

Can Travel With Boss for Work

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: My new job requires that I go on business trips occasionally with my employer. My mother disapproves of this and thinks my reputation will be in jeopardy.

She wants me to find another job. I like the work I am doing very much, and the pay is much more than I hoped for, and therefore I hate to give it up.

I think she is making a fuss over nothing and can't see how anyone could possibly find anything wrong in this. Won't you please give me your frank opinion?

A: If your presence is necessary to the work of your employer on these business trips and the behavior of both you and he are above reproach, there would be no impropriety in your accompanying him.

Q: When three ladies arrive together and are waiting to be seated at a church wedding, does one of them take the usher's arm and the others follow directly behind, or should each lady wait to be taken to her seat by an usher?

A: If the vestibule is very crowded and the time short, the usher offers his arm to one of the ladies in the group and the others follow. Otherwise, each lady waits to be escorted.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Cranbrook Presents Young People's Opera

Christ Church Cranbrook is undertaking a church opera written basically for young people.

"Noye's Fludde," by Benjamin Britten, will be presented at the church at 7 and 5:30 p.m., Dec. 22. The performances are presented in connection with the conventions of the National Opera Association and the National Association of Teachers of Music.

Singing, being held in Detroit Dec. 27-30.

Based on a 16th century miracle play, this story of Noah and the Ark was composed and first produced in England in 1582. This first performance was later recorded.

Miss Prudence Nesbitt, sister of Rev. T. H. Michael Nesbitt, of the clergy staff, is directing the production. Miss Nesbitt recently arrived here from London where she produced and directed educational TV shows for the BBC. She has seen the opera performed in London.

The choral portions of the opera will be sung by the Junior and Youth Choirs from the church, augmented by students from Brookside School Cranbrook and Kingswood School Cranbrook.

Young people featured in the cast include Jerry Hipps, Robert Turner, Carolyn Thomas, all members of the Youth Choir; and Linda Allen, Adult Choir. Richard Chapman and Trevor Hall, members of the Boys' Choir of St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham, are also included.

VARIED INSTRUMENTS

Playing the orchestral score are five members of the Detroit Symphony; a group of amateur string players gathered by Bertha Seifert, of Kingswood; a large group of recorder players, led by George Duncan of the Michigan Conservatory of Music.

Percussion instruments under the direction of Eugene Hanson of Birmingham School of Music; a quartet of bagpipes; and a handbell group led by Ennis Fruhauf, complete the list.

Don Prieur of the Wayne State University School of Music, will portray the leading role of Noah. Mrs. Noah will be played by Nora Skitch, Detroit contralto. Rev. Nesbitt will be the Voice of God.

Harold Smart, director of art at Brookside, has charge of the settings and costumes. The opera will be conducted by Robert Bates, organist and choirmaster at the church.

Souter, Yarmouth Road (with birds); Cathy Miner and Carol Jickling, both of Birmingham (with lions); and Mary Matthei and Dodie Austin, Birmingham (with snakes).

Why Grow Old? By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Considering the fact that we cannot replace our second set of teeth with real ones it is amazing how many people neglect these pearls. I suppose folks procrastinate partly because of the discomfort and the expense involved but both will be much greater if the teeth are neglected.

You really should face up to it once a year, and then carry through immediately if there is repair to be done. Two visits to your dentist a year are better than one and this is crucial if you do not have good teeth. There is a great difference. Some people neglect their teeth with out great penalty while others take the best care of them to little avail.

If you lose a tooth it should be replaced as soon as possible.

Otherwise your chewing surfaces are thrown off balance. Also lack of teeth can affect the contour of your face, making you appear much older than you are.

Whenever possible brush your teeth immediately after eating. Most decay makes its inroads within the first half-hour after meals or snacks. If you cannot brush your teeth then, rinse your mouth out with water when feasible.

So many young women are losing their teeth today. The health of the gums is extremely important. Diet has a direct effect on them. Bleeding gums are often due to a vitamin C deficiency. The citrus fruits and citrus fruit juices are the best sources. Tomatoes, cabbage and cranberry juice are also rich sources.

For best health your gums need exercise. You can exercise them by massaging them with your finger. Chewing hard foods such as raw vegetables and fruits and hard bread also provides them with exercise.

Knits Reach Below Knees

One of the most elegant looks for a dinner dress this year is the floor-length knit. It combines that wonderful blend of elegance and simplicity we have all admired in daytime knits. Perhaps this can be an excuse for those of us whose knitting projects seem to get out of hand. Professional care is a must with these dressy knits.

Creche at Home Among French

Although the Christmas tree is becoming a more popular home decoration in France, the most traditional item to be seen in most houses is the "creche," or nativity scene. The "creche" includes the manger, along with clay figures of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph, the animals, the shepherds, the Wise Men, as well as the various dignitaries and tradesmen of the typical French town.

Chiefs, Huskies Taking Peek at Jan. 3

City Rivalry Resumes After Tonight's Tilts

PCH Hosts Midland; Northern vs. Vikings in Key I-L Test

Basketball players for Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern can be excused if they are peeking past tonight's games to Jan. 3.

The two schools will renew their cage rivalry that night in the PCH gym.

Central hosts Midland tonight and Northern travels to Walled Lake. Neither team will play again until the third evening of 1964.

PCH is favored to make Midland its third victim in four Saginaw Valley League encounters. The Vikings are winless in four games, including a non-league loss to Mt. Pleasant.

Coach Keith Carey has been shuffling his personnel in an attempt to come up with a winner.

He started the season by using tall players, but has switched to smaller cagers because they have shown more scoring punch. The team's top scorer, George Habkirk is not expected to play.

The only word on his absence is that the 5-10 guard "is on vacation."

Dan Jaster, a 6-2 senior, continues to cause Carey some consternation. Jaster scored 228 points last season and tossed in 18 in the opening loss to Mt. Pleasant.

ONLY EIGHT

In the last three outings he has scored only eight.

Pontiac Northern takes its high scoring machine to Walled Lake to face a team that is expected to be the only serious challenger to the Huskies in the Inter-Lakes race.

Walled Lake coach Bob Bolton has called John Thomas his top defensive player, but the All-County football quarterback can't be expected to guard three or four PNH players at once.

Jerry Reese and Mike Burk- low usually lead the charge on Northern's potent fast break that three foes haven't been able to slow.

Roger Hayward continues to be the top scorer and leading rebounder. Coach Dick Hill will Dick DeWeese, Dave Searcy or Dean Souden for his other two starters.

Underdog Waterford will be eyeing third place when the Skippers entertain Farmington in an I-L contest tonight. The tall Farmington front line may be too much for the Skippers to handle.

Kettering will be seeking added prestige in a home encounter with Royal Oak. Dondero. The Captains are unbeaten, but the Oaks are rated a good chance of marring that record.

New Tiger Hurler Inks '64 Contract

DETROIT (UPI)—Ed Rakow, whom the Detroit Tigers acquired from Kansas City in a trade that included Dave Wickersham and Jerry Lumpe, signed his contract for the 1964 season yesterday.

Rakow was involved in the trade that saw Rocky Colavito and Bob Anderson go to the A's. He was the second Tiger to come to terms for the 1964 season. At Kalina signed his contract Wednesday for an estimated $65,000.

The right-hander had a 9-10 record with the A's last season and had a 3.93 earned run average.

Area Ski Conditions

Skiing conditions at all Pontiac area resorts are listed as very good for the weekend.

Three inches of new snow cover, Alpine Valley, Dryden, Mt. Holly, Grapeland Mt., Mt. Christie, Pine Knob, Summit and Mt. Brighton.

Summit will open for the first time Saturday. All areas open at 9 a.m. and close at 11:00 p.m.

MIKE FEDYNIK

Killebrew Tops AL Swatters in Slugging Race

BOSTON (AP)—Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew won the American League slugging crown last season with a .555 average, ending the two-year reign of Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees.

The final official averages released today revealed that Killebrew, runner-up to Mantle in 1962, collected 286 total bases in 515 times at bat in 1963.

Bob Allison, another hard-hitting Minnesota outfielder, was second last season with a .533 mark followed by Elston Howard of the Yanks, the circuit's most valuable player, .528; Dick Stuart of Boston and Jimmie Hall, Minnesota rookie, tied for fourth at .521.

'M' Cagers Play Strong Duke

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Unstated Michigan will attempt to prove it has the class to make a serious bid for its first national championship in basketball this season when the Wolverines host fourth-ranked Duke tomorrow night.

The Wolverines, with three sophomores among their first six players, haven't been pressed yet while rolling up victories in their first five games.

But Duke, which lost to defending national champion and top-rated Loyola in last year's NCAA semifinals and has most of its stars, with the exception of Art Heyman, returning, has a 6-1 record and could dump the Wolverines from their high perch.

Broncos' Gridiron Squad Lines Up Against Coach

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—Western Michigan University football coach Merle Schlosser was hanged in effigy twice last season and given a vote of confidence at least twice by University President Dr. James W. Miller.

Yesterday things got hotter on the Bronco campus when it was revealed by Dr. Miller that members of the school's football team had called on the administration to relieve Schlosser of his coaching duties.

The university president described petitions seeking the removal of Schlosser as coach as "communications."

One report said the "communications" were unanimous, but it could not be verified as a cloak of silence was dropped over the campus.

A thorough study of the player's request was ordered by Miller who directed Mike Gary, WMU athletic director to probe the situation.

Gary was ordered to evaluate the players' request for a revision of the coaching staff.

With 6-7 junior center Bill Buntin and 6-5 sophomore guard Cazzle Russell each averaging 23 points a game, Michigan has whipped Ball State (90-76), Tulane (73-47), Nebraska (80-55), Butler (60-70) and Wisconsin (104-61).

Duke, paced by 6-4 forward Duke Mullins, will have the height advantage on Michigan and the battle for the rebounds should be a key factor in the game.

Coach Vic Bubas starts a pair of 6-10 giants, Hack Tison and Jay Buckley in the front line with Mullins and has 6-7 Brent Kitching in reserve.

Wings' Goalie Extends String

From Our News Wires

DETROIT—Remember Wally Pipp? He was the Yankee first baseman who had the headache and was replaced for a "day" by some kid named Lou Gehrig. Well, veteran Detroit Red Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk must know how Pipp felt when Gehrig went on to become the "iron horse."

Sawchuk was in the press box last night watching young Roger Crozier turn in his first shutout to keep perfect his National Hockey League record intact as the Red Wings whipped the Boston Bruins, 3-0.

Sawchuk had much more than a headache when he was sidelined by a variety of ailments including a painful back injury.

The victory extended Detroit's unbeaten streak to five games. The Red Wings have won three and tied twice in drawing within eight points of third-place Toronto.

It also marked the fifth time that the Detroit club has skated off the ice with at least a tie with the 21-year-old Crozier in the nets.

56-FOOTER

Pit Martin, who turned 20 last week, broke a scoreless deadlock late in the second period, beating Boston goalie Ed

Johnston on a 50-foot shot from near the Bruins' blue line.

It was Martin's fourth goal in nine games this season and his second in as many nights.

Alex Delvecchio beat Johnston from about 10 feet out in the final minute of the middle period, and Norm Ullman closed out the scoring midway in the final period as the Red Wings played deliberately to save Crozier's shutout.

Ullman's goal came in his second game after missing nine contests because of an ankle injury.

The Bruins had lost just one game in their last six starts before meeting the Red Wings. The loss prevented the Bruins from moving into a tie for fourth.

Crozier's toughest save came in the first period when Murray Oliver broke in all alone and attempted to fake the youngster out of the nets. Crozier stayed with Oliver and neatly kicked away the puck.

Injured Girl of U.S. Team Returns Home

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Young Miss Elizabeth Gould has a black eye. She also has two broken legs, a fractured elbow, a cast from her neck to her ankles and a cheerful smile that stretches from here to here.

"Look for me at Innsbruck," she said, waving cheerfully before her plane left Copenhagen for New York and further medical treatment today. "Tell them I'll bring some goodies back from the States."

TRIAL RUN

Sis Gould, a 25-year-old former school teacher from Rydal, Pa., sustained the multiple injuries in a toboggan crash in central Poland early this week during a trial run at Krynica, where the U.S. Olympic toboggan team is training.

"I hit and I don't remember anything for two days," said the freckle-faced girl who wears her hair in pig tails.

She was rushed 65 miles over icy roads to a small hospital in southern Poland and hospitalized there for four days before transportation could be arranged to Warsaw.

Luckily she arrived in Warsaw the same day that a U.S. Embassy plane arrived with southern Poland Western Europe.

She returned to Copenhagen Thursday, then left via a U.S. Air Force plane for New York.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS
MIAMI: Ed Barry, 131, Pittsburgh, knocked out Bobby Allen, 125, 10th round.
NEW YORK: Alex, 131, and Andy, 131, 10th round.
NEW YORK: Alex, 131, and Andy, 131, 10th round.

'M' Cagers Play Strong Duke

Michigan coach Dave Strack will counter with 6-8 sophomore guard Jim Myers and 6-5 junior Larry Trengeling in the front line with Buntin. Oliver Darden, a 6-7 sophomore, also will see plenty of action.

Defensive ace Bob Cantrell, 6-10 senior, and Russell are the Michigan guards.

EASY VICTORY

Duke turned up for the Michigan game by ripping Virginia, 84-73, last night as Mullins poured in 30 points.

"We know they've got a tough team and they'll be a tough test, I hope we're ready for them," Strack said.

Michigan is in the midst of exams this week since it has switched to the three-semester

Gets Comeback Award

PAUL LOWE

Lowe, who makes great use of his speed and agility, was out of action all last season because of a broken arm that required surgery to mend.

"This year it was the leg that threatened to put him on the shelf again. He said a hairline fracture was discovered in his left leg after the opening game with Buffalo Sept. 8.

"But nobody ever knew about it but me and Sid Gillman," Lowe said. Gillman is the Chargers' coach and general manager.

Lowe said the leg is still tender, and bothers him quite a bit. He wears a hockey guard to protect it.

The 205-pound halfback from Compton, Calif., who turned to pro football after notable performances as a hurdler at Oregon State, is finishing his fourth year with the Chargers. He was outstanding the first two years. Then came the injury that eliminated him in 1962.

Liberty Bowl Troubled

Probable Last Game Saturday

By The Associated Press

The Liberty Bowl's troubles are legion—ranging from weather to finances to threats of racial boycott. But the problems don't extend to football.

North Carolina State and Mississippi State, two of the nation's best college teams, will take care of that end of it. They're scheduled to play in Philadelphia's vast, 102,000-seat Philadelphia Stadium Saturday in the fifth and perhaps last Liberty Bowl.

Bowl promoter Bud Dudley predicts a crowd of only 10,000, which entails a personal financial sinking of about $30,000 for him. The game is scheduled for national television coverage over NBC as the collegians hit, full stride in the post-season activity.

Other Saturday games include the North-South at Miami and Baylor and Louisiana State in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston Tex.

The Gator Bowl, Blue-Gray, East-West Shrine game and Tangerine Bowl are scheduled the following Saturday, Dec. 28; the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. Dec. 31, and the Cotton, Orange, Sugar and Rose Bowls New Year's Day.

FINANCIAL SETBACKS

Dudley, the Liberty promoter, has taken a financial licking on four of the five bowl games and it's doubtful that he'll try again.

In addition to the difficulties he has had trying to sell two Southern teams—even though they're among the best-to Philadelphia, he has had the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in opposition. They've threatened to picket the stadium because of Mississippi State's involvement.

And, too, there's the weather. The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts temperatures in the 20's at game time. Philadelphia Stadium is ringed with snow.

On the field, however, the attraction is the star of the North Carolina State, coached by Earle Edwards, came through with an 8-2 record and runner-up in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Coach Paul Davis' Mississippi State team wasn't supposed to have much of a season but carried a 6-2 record out of a rough schedule. They beat Auburn of the Orange Bowl and LSU of the Bluebonnet, tied Mississippi and lost by a point to Alabama. The last two are in the Sugar Bowl.

Baylor holds a thin edge as a 1 1/2-point choice in the Bluebonnet, primarily because of the passing wizardry of Don Trull. The Bears' top-end unit each has a 7-3 record and have played four common opponents.

HOME NEVER LIKE THIS—Coach Paul Davis (center) of Mississippi State tightens the hood on what Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium yesterday where the temperature was in the low 20s and a sharp wind was blowing. He is with co-captains John Sparks (left) and Jon Windham. North Carolina State and Mississippi State will clash in tomorrow's Liberty Bowl football game.

Maris Agrees to Pay Cut in Signing '64 Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that

Roger Maris, normally a reluctant dragon, is in the New York fold for the 1964 season, Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk says he is eager to sign Mickey Mantle, the other half of the M&M slugging duo.

"I haven't talked to Mickey yet," said Houk Thursday after he disclosed that Maris had agreed to accept a "reasonable" cut from his top $72,000 salary. "But I hope to before I leave for a brief vacation Christmas Day."

"I understand Mantle is down to 187 pounds," Houk added. "I'm glad to hear that. That means he has lost about 15 pounds since the World Series. The lesser weight may help him in his constant battle to avoid leg injuries."

FULLY RECOVERED

Mantle reportedly has fully recovered from a knee operation last October, and has been taking daily exercises to strengthen the leg and keep from adding excess weight.

"They tell me Mickey is determined to have one of his best years in 1964," said Houk. "As you know, he missed more than half the '63 season because of injuries. He is determined to avoid another such season, if at all possible."

Mantle earned $100,000 last year. It is doubtful if he will be asked to take a cut as was Maris. While no salary terms were announced, it is believed Rig accepted a $10,000 cut.

"I told Roger my ideas of what his contract should be," said Houk. "And he went right along. He was very fair about it."

Maris, who hit a record-breaking 61 home runs in 1961, was plagued by injuries throughout the 1963 season. He appeared in only 90 games, batted .269 with 23 home runs and only 33 runs batted in. The 28-year-old slugger led the American League with 142 RBI in '61, when he won the league's Most Valuable Player Award for the second consecutive season.

FIRST CUT

Maris admitted it was the first time he had ever been asked to take a cut since he came to the big leagues in 1957. Next season will be Rogers' fifth with the Yankees. He was 29 last Sept. 10.

"Considering the year I had," said Maris via telephone from his home in Independence, Mo., "I couldn't well ask for a raise or even the same salary. I've got no kick. I just hope I can have a good year in 1964 and make everybody forget about last season."

East-West Grid Squads Drill in Chilly Weather

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Warned by a visit to the crippled youngsters they're helping, the East and West football squads hustled into drills in chilly weather today.

Three cases of mumps in the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children kept the burly football players from going inside the brick building to talk with the youngsters.

Still they did the next best thing by gathering under windows to wave a cheery greeting. "We knew they were wishing us Merry Christmas and you could hear their cheers," said Michigan State's All-American halfback Sherman Lewis. "I guess mostly we were reading lips back and forth. I just wish we could have gone in."

Some of the youngsters wrote notes and held them up to the window. Players wrote replies as the husky collegians and little boys and girls became friends through the glass.

START TRAINING

Players later were honored at a luncheon and then departed for training camps—the East at the University of Santa Clara and the West at Stanford.

Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder, assisting Purdue's Jack Mollenkopf with the East squad, made some of the luncheon introductions of the all-star players and commented:

"It is really a pleasure to introduce these boys. A lot of them we played against and I'm happy to be with them for two reasons: First, I'm happy they're graduating and we won't play against them again. Secondly, I'm happy they're on our side."

He termed Penn State quarterback Pete Liske, signed earlier this week by the New York Jets of the American Football League, as one he's especially glad to see graduate.

PRO OFFENSES

Both clubs will use a pro type offense for the Dec. 28 game but follow collegiate rules except that platoon substitution is allowable.

Liske and Ron DiGravio of Purdue are expected to alternate at quarterback for the East, while Don Trull of Baylor, Pete Beathard of Southern California and Bill Munson of Utah State battle for the West signal calling job.

Trull will be late arriving in camp. The Baylor team has a date to play Louisiana State in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston on Saturday.

Huskies Pin Loss on PCH Matmen

Pontiac Northern's wrestling squad picked up 300 points in the race for the All Sports Trophy Thursday evening with a 21-20 decision over Pontiac Central.

The win was the fourth in succession for the Huskies (40) and the loss left the Chiefs with an 8-3 mark.

In another wrestling bout

Walled Lake's grapplers turned in a shocker by downing a strong Fitzgerald team, 27-14.

Central won six of the 12 individual matches, but the Huskies had two pins among their five decisions to wrap up the victory. One bout ended in a draw.

The Huskies held a 21-17 lead

Walled Lake's Vikings ran their mat record to 2-1 with the surprising win over Fitzgerald. The loss was the first for the Spartans in four decisions.

Two Vikings picked up pins—Roger Nicholas in the 95-pound class and Fred Herring in the 100-pound division.

Kentucky Invitational Opens Tonight

Pre-Tourney Chatter Takes Humorous Slant

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — When the basketball coaches for the University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament got together for dinner, it should have been on stage.

There were three who made what the jokes and one straight man — and each concentrated, man-for-man, on telling conservative falsehoods about their teams.

All's fair in love, war and basketball, but:

Wake Forest's 44-year-old Horace (Bones) McKinney jovially decided he might lend his 6-foot-6, sparsely fleshed frame to his team's effort.

Princeton's W. H. (Butch) Van Breda Kolff announced that basketball is a relative thing. He added that his 6-foot-5 forward, Bill Bradley, was about the best relative anyone could want.

Kentucky's Adolph Rupp joshed the other three coaches, but conceded that he'd like to have Bradley on his team.

Wiscasin's John Erickson, the closest thing to a straight man, made up for his seriousness by pointing out that one of his players is from Al Capone's hometown — "and he carries a gun on both hips."

This humor was Thursday night. Tonight, it goes out the window when Princeton takes on Wake Forest in the first game of Kentucky's Invitational and Wisconsin meets the host Wildcats in the finale.

The winners meet Saturday night after a consolation game between tonight's losers.

McKinney, perhaps the only skinny man with a triple chin, said he "would play, but I've pulled a ligament." But he quickly threw in, "I've got another year of eligibility left, you know?"

Van Breda Kolff conceded that his team was a one-man affair. "Get it to Bradley," he pulled a team's usual thought. "Something usually happens then."

OLD FRIEND

Rupp told how he tried to get Bradley at Kentucky, and spent most of his talk good naturedly poking fun at the other coaches — especially McKinney, an old friend.

Erickson, more serious than the rest, said the team he brought here "isn't the one we expected to bring. We thought we would have the best team in the Big 10."

"But the professors shut us out," he said, referring to the academic ineligibility of several players he had planned for top roles.

N. Michigan Posts Sixth Straight Win

By The Associated Press
Northern Michigan picked up its fifth straight basketball victory Thursday night, defeating Calvin 116-86.

Bob Peacock followed by Dave Cade with 19 points and Bob Armstrong with 17—giving Northern a 58-38 halftime edge. Jim Van Derden was high for Calvin with 22 points.

The victory gives Northern a 7-3 record for the season and makes Calvin 2-4 for the year.

The University of Windsor set a home court scoring record in its 117-94 defeat of Lawrence Institute.

Led by Joe Green with 34 points, Windsor built up a 51-43 halftime margin and went on to win its third consecutive victory and its fifth straight at home this season.

HIGH SCORER

Gerald Wnuk was high for Lawrence with 22 points. The victory gives Windsor a 6-3 record for the season.

In Ypsilanti, Eastern Michigan overcame a 29-27 halftime deficit to post a 72-61 non-conference victory over Adrian.

Adrian's Don Numbers topped all scorers with 25 points. Eastern was led by Gary Clark with 18.

Prep Squad Sets Record in Cage Win

DETROIT (UPI) — They play a game at times in the Detroit City League basketball circuit — it's called running up the score.

The ingredients are rather simple. You take a new school just starting out and match it against a veteran team with a point-hungry coach.

It happened yesterday as Detroit Eastern clobbered Detroit Finney, 138-43.

The game set a new Class A record for a high score and a new Class A record for a combined score.

Finney's a new Detroit school that played a reserve schedule last year and was not under an official coach. Even this season the team doesn't have its own gym yet.

Although Eastern coach Bob Solomon played the whole team and 14 of the 15 players scored, he didn't put the second string into the game until the third period and the third string until the final period. Eastern also used a full court press for three periods.

Eastern led 60-25 at halftime and outscored the losers, 38-6, and 31-12 in the final two periods.

The old Class A record of 117 points was scored by Hamtramck when it bombed Oak Park, 117-40, in the 1959 district tournament.

The combined total record was 179 points scored in 1959 when Flint Central turned back Lansing Eastern, 98-81. Eastern and Finney scored a total of 181.

Duke Winner Without Ace

Blue Devils to Meet Michigan Saturday

By The Associated Press

You lose a 6-foot-10 basketball player and you fold. That's the way it usually works, but not for Duke's fifth-ranked Blue Devils.

The Blue Devils won their third Atlantic Coast Conference victory and moved into a first-place tie with Maryland by beating Virginia 84-73 Thursday night. It was done without the services of junior center-forward Hack Tison, who sat out the game because of a kidney injury.

HURT MONDAY

Duke officials said Tison apparently was injured in a fall during Monday night's Duke-South Carolina game. Tison complained of soreness Tuesday and Wednesday, and a medical examination Wednesday night found evidence of a kidney ailment.

He will accompany the Blue Devils to Ann Arbor, Mich., today but he's a doubtful starter for Saturday's game with the third-ranked Michigan Wolverines.

The victory gave Duke a 3-0 Conference record. The Blue Devils are 6-1 overall, with their only blemish a 97-92 overtime loss to Vanderbilt. Virginia is now 0-3 in the ACC and 1-4 overall.

Jeff Mullins led the Duke attack with 30 points, Virginia's Mac Caldwell had 23.

Celtics Win Without Russell

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — "The Celtics are a darn good team without Bill Russell and a great one with him."

The sentiments are those of Boston's former National Basketball Association star, Bill Sharman.

The Celtics lived up to it on Thursday night by surviving a 49-point fourth quarter by the Knicks and still beating New York 143-140 without Russell, the perennial NBA Most Valuable Player.

The defending league champs also were operating without injured Frank Ramsey.

NINTH STRAIGHT

Russell watched the Celtics win their ninth straight on the neutral Providence court, confined to street clothes by a pulled thigh muscle suffered on the last play of the victory over the Knicks Wednesday night in Boston. Russell will not be able to play in New York Saturday night.

When he will be available after that is uncertain.

How could any club play minus the league's top performer, give up 49 points in the finale and still win?

Sharman, now coach of Los Angeles State College, touring this area, summed it up when he watched his former mates Wednesday: "The bench is positively awesome."

SCORING PARADE

Clyde Lovellette moved into center for Russell and contributed 20 points Thursday night. Sam Jones led the parade with 38. Johnny Havlicek added 32, while Tommy Heinsohn and Tom Sanders had 22 apiece.

Bob Boozer clicked for 25 points for New York, Billy McGill had 24 and Art Heyman 23.

The Knicks set a team record with 49 points in a quarter-to-Boston's 26—but it still wasn't quite enough for Boston, which now stands 23-3 on the season.

"I know it's been said before, but this Celtics team is the greatest defensive unit I've ever seen," Sharman said.

The victory gave Duke a 3-0 Conference record. The Blue Devils are 6-1 overall, with their only blemish a 97-92 overtime loss to Vanderbilt. Virginia is now 0-3 in the ACC and 1-4 overall.

The Christmas list has several bowlers on it can become a problem if you are looking for presents in the pro shop that won't duplicate each other.

Granted there are many different styles and makes of attractive bowling bags, shoes, gloves and even balls. But they can prove as expensive as they are good looking if the list is very long.

Of course, there are novelty gifts such as the crying towels, banks, games and other gimmicks. They are usually inexpensive and normally take care of the "bowler who has everything."

However, if you have run out of ideas or suddenly find yourself with someone who was overlooked, or want a gift to hold in reserve for the unexpected, consider the use of gift certificates from one of the local houses.

Or another good idea is the bowling coupon card entitling the holder to so many lines of bowling at a particular establishment.

If the coupon book or gift certificate is not needed for a present, it can be used by the purchaser. Both these items are available at local establishments.

Those who do receive bowling items for Christmas gifts will have prompt opportunity to make use of them since most establishments are planning to open by Christmas afternoon.

Montcalm Bowling Centre and Sylvan Lanes both expect to open at 10 a.m. Orchard Lanes, and 300 Bowl will open at noon; and Huron Bowl, Alway Lanes, West Side Lanes, Howe's Lanes, Collier Lanes, Auburn Lanes and Northwood Lanes all will be open in the early afternoon.

Howe's Lanes, in observance of the Christmas season, has holiday scenes painted on its

Players Select All-NFL Team

Lions' Joe Schmidt Named on Defense

NEW YORK (NEA)—For his first eight seasons in the National Football League, the main recognition Joe Fortunato got was from his bank teller.

Every Sunday he went out and did a week's work for the Chicago Bears as the left corner linebacker.

On Monday, he cashed his check.

In this, his ninth season in the NFL, split-headed Joe cashes in all those years of persevering, tough-gutted head bumping.

At the age of 31, he has finally been recognized by the most critical audience with his selection to the ninth annual All-Players All-Pro team.

Joe is one of six new men put in the privileged all-pro class by balloting of the players on all 14 teams in the NFL.

Tommy Mason, a 24-year-old kid with his future ahead of him, has played his third straight season for a losing young team at Minnesota, but with the intensity to be picked as the running mate for the great Jimmy Brown.

Two years ago, Roosevelt Taylor was a gawky kid out of Grambling College who'd bothered to draft. The Chicago Bears gave him a trial and he had his rough moments as a rookie. Now he's the finest young safety in the league.

Willie Wood, the other safety, was also a free agent. Nobody wanted an injury-prone college quarterback who stood only 5-10. So Willie wrote letters asking for a chance, and only Green Bay answered him.

Myron Potlits was supposed to be a risk when the Pittsburgh Steelers tapped him, because of bad knees. As a rookie in 1961, he was phenomenal. Last year he didn't play a minute.

He suffered a fractured arm in training. This year he was the hub of a tough defense that carried the Steelers down to the wire.

The fullest showcase of all belongs to Joe Schmidt, the middle linebacker of the Detroit Lions. He has made every team since this unique method of selection was introduced in 1955.

And he did it this year under adverse circumstances. Joe missed four games with a shoulder separation, and the Lions hit a three-game losing slump. He came back, and they put together great defensive performances.

Last 1963 Session for Travel League

The Pontiac Travelling Classic League will visit Primrose Lanes at noon Sunday hoping to conclude its pre-Christmas bowling with more tight bowling such as happened last Sunday.

Runner-up 300 Bowl just edged Howe's Lanes on total pins, Sylvan Lanes nipped West Side Lanes, 19-12, and Montcalm Bowling Centre slipped by Primrose, 16-15.

Alway Lanes remained in first place with a 13-4 win over Huron Bowl; and Cooley Lanes was a 13-4 victor over Fairgrounds Bowling.

Howe's tied "300" on points, 11-11, but lost the match on total pins, 2715-2623. Joe Foster has 215-201-617 for the winners; while Ron Rothbarth hit 212-224-626 for Howe's.

Alway was paced by Bob Davis with 221-212-624 and five points. Wayne Tosh (235) and Jack Ashton (224) combined for eight of Cooley's points.

The best point production individually was Jerry Perna's eight for West Side on 276-630 total. Mike Samardzija Jr. had a 224-213-622 effort for four points in Huron's lanes.

Sylvan had double effort from Keith Moore (618) and Pat Treacy (606); while Montcalm's Pat Timson (245) and Bill Smith (223) produced nine points between them.

BOWLING

The Collier Lanes House League Monday was led by the 256-665 bowling of Jerry High as he helped the Cadillac Market team sweep eight points from Western Auto.

Tom Shara bowled a 230-637 duo and Del Collier had a 245 game. Collier's effort helped Roark Mobil remain in first place.

At Alway Lanes Tuesday, the House "B" League recorded a 190 triplicate for Cliff Ward of the Thornton Nursery team that leads the league by three and a half points.

Stemmer's Catering held the top spot in the Hilltop Rebels League at Hilltop Bowling by four games over Avon Beauty after last week's action.

The recent action at Howe's Lanes saw a 231 by Al Papi and a 230 by Laura Youndan in the Sunday Night Foursome's League.

TIGHT RACES

There are several close league races. The Tri-City circuit has seven teams separated by five points in the first place battle. Only six points separate first and ninth place in the Dixie All Star League; and the Howe's Senior Classic is a real dog fight with five teams divided by one point.

Bill Johns' 225-223-666 bowling led the latter loop last Friday. That same night, Dewey's, lead grew to three points in the House League.

Les Howe had a 229 to top the Men's Doubles League last week; while in the Ladies Doubles Classic, Pauline Welch had a 565.

Soldiers Kill Airman in Barracks Fight

EVREUX, France (AP) — A U. S. Army court-martial convicted three American soldiers today in the death of an airman in a fight between soldiers and airmen at the Evreux Air Force Base.

Pvt. Richard L. Parker Jr. of Eckman, W. Va., and Pfc. Edward Spears of New York, were convicted of unpremeditated murder and assault.

The third soldier, Pfc. Alan L. Gernard, also of New York, was convicted of involuntary manslaughter and attempted assault.

They were to be sentenced later today.

FATALLY INJURED

Airman I.C. Robert Padgett of Woodlawn, Va., was fatally injured Sept. 6 after a group of soldiers invaded an airman's barracks on the base.

The court was made up of five officers and three enlisted men.

Six soldiers were accused of taking part in the soldiers' attack on the Air Force barracks.

In a previous trial, Pfc. Raymond C. Best Jr. of Pittsburgh was convicted of unpremeditated murder and assault and sentenced to 15 years in prison.

Pfc. Robert Burrell of Philadelphia was given 12 years on the same charges.

The trial of Pfc. Franklin D. Waddell of Philadelphia on a charge of unpremeditated murder was postponed indefinitely after his attorney requested a separate trial and another pre-trial investigation.

Bank Bandits Were Filmed

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Officers are looking for two gunmen who robbed a branch bank of more than $46,000 as hidden movie cameras recorded the scene on film and an FBI agent watched.

They escaped in a stolen car Thursday while the agent, Ed Collins, fired three shots at them. Collins was in the bank to cash a check. The men wore stockings over their faces.

State Man Bound Over in Robbery

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — John Batson, 22, of nearby Niles, was bound over to U.S. District Court at Grand Rapids Thursday after police said he admitted the $19,700 robbery Dec. 16 of the Florida Bank of St. Petersburg.

Batson was arraigned here before U.S. Commissioner Elizabeth Forhan, who remanded him to jail in lieu of $50,000 bond. Niles attorney S. Jack Keller was appointed to assist in his defense.

Batson was arrested at Niles Wednesday on FBI tip to Police Chief Arthur Pears, who said a suitcase in Batson's car contained $19,500.

Pears quoted Batson as saying he robbed the Florida bank and slipped through a roadblock by hiding the money in a suitcase under the hood of his car.

Christmas Drab for Imprisoned Yanks

HONG KONG (AP) — The last four Americans known to be in Red China's prisons face a cheerless Christmas.

One of them recently was reported in failing health. He is Roman Catholic Bishop James Walsh, 72, of Cumberland, Md. He and the others are reported short of winter clothing.

Bishop Walsh is in the same prison in Shanghai with Hugh Francis Redmond, 44, of Yonkers, N. Y. Redmond's mother was permitted to visit him last October. She reported he had enough food but needed clothing.

The other two prisoners, John T. Downey, 33, of New Britain, Conn., and Richard Fecteau, 36, of Lynn, Mass., are in Peking, where temperatures are 15-30 degrees lower than in Shanghai.

WORD COMES

Word that Bishop Walsh was ill reached Hong Kong in October via Raymond Scheyven, a member of the Belgian parliament.

Scheyven toured Communist China for 30 days. A Catholic, he requested a visit with the bishop behind bars. He said the request was turned down.

Railroads Seek Okay of Merger Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Norfolk and Western and Nickel Plate railroads asked the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday to approve their merger proposal as soon as possible.

The railroads said that rejection of the merger or delay in ICC approval would block for years any further realignment of eastern railroads.

Sales Show Yule Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Christmas shopping and brisk sales of automobiles produced a substantial rise in retail sales the week under Dec. 14, the Commerce Department said yesterday.

Retail sales were estimated at $6.16 billion for the week, about 8 per cent above the previous week and 7 per cent higher than the comparable week of last year.

The total for the week ended Dec. 7 was $5.72 billion.

Yard Recovers Train Loot Bit-by-Bit

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP) — Three Scotland Yard detectives pulled open a phone booth the other day and out tumbled $10,000 in British bank notes. They sneered at it. They would have shown more respect for a bundle of rags.

The special world of British cops and robbers is in the throes of a wave of inflation.

This hectic state of affairs dates back to Aug. 8, when an ambitious mob decided the time was ripe to "do" the night mail train from Glasgow to London. The mob stopped the train near Cheddington, a village 40 miles northwest of London in Buckinghamshire.

ALL USED NOTES

When they had finished looting the cars, the thieves, whose number was estimated at 15,

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS IN SPECIAL REPORT had $7,200,000 in cash on their hands virtually all of it in used notes, mostly in the 5-pound denomination.

The mob loaded the money into a truck, drove to a hiding place, split the loot and fled.

Little by little the big caper started coming unstuck. Too many people were involved. Too many steel pigeons caught a whisper or two. Scotland Yard got dozens of phone calls with bits of information. The heat went on all over the country. Any big batch of 5-pound notes automatically came under suspicion.

The crooks began losing their nerve. The more timorous among them decided to jettison their shares of the loot and take off.

WEEK LATER

A week after the robbery, detectives ferreted $394,847 out of two cars parked in the south coast resort of Bournemouth. They picked up half a dozen persons and charged them with receiving portions of the robbery money.

A couple of days later another $200,000 was found lying in a valise in the woods off a main highway near Dorking.

On Aug. 21 the Yard turned up $84,000 stuffed behind a panel in an automobile trailer abandoned outside London.

MORE ARRESTED

More suspects were arrested some accused of taking part in the holdup, some of helping to plan it and some of receiving stolen money.

The number in jail awaiting trial rose to 20.

One of the suspected master minds, Roy "The Weasel" James, was caught the night of Dec. 10.

He was nabbed by two nimble detectives while making a brisk departure from a west side neighborhood via the surrounding rooftops.

NEEDED AID

James told his captors very little. Why was he running across the rooftops? He had felt the need of a little fresh air. Why was he carrying a satchel with $33,000 in it? Well, you know how it is, a guy likes to have a little walkaround money if he's only going down to the corner for a cup of tea.

The Pontiac Press

At just about the time James was being caught on the rooftops, the Yard received an anonymous call saying go look in a certain phone booth near the Tower of London.

That's where the three detectives found the $400,000. It was identified as part of the mail robbery money, presumably dumped by another mobster.

The Crown plans to bring James and the 20 others to trial some time in February. They still are beating the bushes for James' sidekick, a big, bespectacled fellow named Bruce Reynolds.

Up to now the police have recovered slightly more than $240,000 of the money taken in the robbery.

Although the newspapers refer to the total haul as $7,200,000 to keep it in round numbers, the exact figure was $7,344,801.60.

To Increase Election Interest

Lower Voting Age Urged

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential commission recommended today that all states consider dropping the minimum age for voters to 18. It called for eliminating poll taxes and literacy tests as qualifications for voting.

President Johnson called the 11-member commission to the White House to present its report which was ordered last March by John F. Kennedy.

The group, the President's Commission on Registration and Voting Participation, was scathing in its denunciation of what it considered roadblocks to voting.

In recommending that the poll tax be eliminated it said: "No American should have to buy his right to vote in any election."

INTEREST WANES

The commission chairman, Census Director Richard M. Scammon, told reporters the recommendation applied both to state and federal elections.

Cited as the major argument for 18-year-old voting was the belief that, by the time young people reach 21, they are "so far removed from the stimulation of the educational process that their interest in public affairs has waned."

The report lamented "the low voter participation of the age group from 21 to 30." It surmised that many young people never acquire the voting habit because they fail to start voting right after graduation from high school.

Georgia and Kentucky are the only states that allow 18-year-olds to vote. The age minimum is 19 in Alaska, 20 in Hawaii and 21 in the other 46 states.

REGISTRATION BARRIERS

Like the poll tax, the report said, literacy tests often have been used as barriers to the registration of Negro voters. But that was not the reason given for recommending the elimination.

Rather, the commission argued that no American should be denied the right to vote because his formal education is limited.

These were some of the commission's other recommendations:

—Make it easy for people to register by locating registration places near their homes, or by conducting a door-to-door registration canvass.

—Limit local residence requirements to not more than 30 days and state requirements to not more than six months.

—Allow new residents of a state to vote for president if they were qualified to vote in their own state.

—Keep registration books open until three or four weeks, at the minimum, before an election.

—Permit absentee registration and voting.

—Keep polling places open until at least 9 p.m.

Gen. Taylor Tries to Heal U.S.-Pakistan Relations

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor began talks with President Mohammed Ayub Khan and his military chiefs today in an effort to mend U.S.-Pakistani relations.

The chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff was cordially received by Ayub Khan when he called on the president before their conference and a luncheon.

They were expected to discuss American military aid to India, friendly Pakistani moves toward Red China, American replacement of aging Pakistani military equipment and U.S. plans to send units of its 7th Fleet into the Indian Ocean for periodic cruises.

Taylor's improved relations with Peking were "not incompatible" with his country's membership in the anti-Communist Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and Central Treaty Organization.

He said Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's visit to Pakistan next February would benefit all nations, including the United States, by helping to reduce Peking's sense of isolation.

Drug Company Still Waiting for Its License

LANSING (AP)—SuperRx still is waiting for its license from the State Board of Pharmacy. The board met Wednesday and read the State Supreme Court's decision that the discount drug firm should be granted a license.

But because there was no pending application, Board Secretary David Moss said, no action was taken.

The high court has overturned the board's earlier rejection of a license application from SuperRx, a subsidiary of Kroger Co.

COURT ORDER

Under a court order issued to prevent the litigation from interfering with its business, the drug firm has been operating while the 18-month court battle progressed.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has asked the Supreme Court to hear the case again because of the far-reaching implications of the case on the powers of state agencies and appeals from their rulings.

San Antonio to Hold Kennedy Observance

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—San Antonio will have a candlelight memorial service Sunday for the late President John F. Kennedy in front of the Alamo.

The service at the shrine of Texas liberty will follow a nationwide telecast of a similar program in Washington, D.C., where President Johnson is to speak.

To Ease Dropout Problem

Urges Curriculum Change

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The high school dropout problem can't be substantially lessened "until we change the school program young people are running away from," Dr. Earl C. Kelley of Wayne State University told a "Committee of 100" which met here Thursday for a continuing study of vocational training needs.

The meeting was the third of monthly sessions for 100 community leaders from Calhoun, Barry, Branch and Eaton Counties. Their unique project will be climaxed next June by a three-day session out of which are expected to come recommendations for significant curriculum changes.

"In trying to persuade students to finish high school we are telling them some pretty shabby things," said Dr. Kelley, who is professor of education at Wayne State.

NO OPEN DOOR

"A high school diploma in itself is not an open sesame," Dr. Kelley said.

Economic survival, he said, has long been one of the prime objectives of the "American Dream" that anyone can be anything. He added, "If we are going to keep that dream alive we must make preparation for it."

The December draft quota is 13,000.

The Pentagon, in announcing the call yesterday, said 21,500 recruits would be needed in February but 8,500 were expected to come from voluntary enlistments.

The December draft quota is 13,000.

Senators Voted Yes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's Democratic Sens. Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart voted with the minority Thursday when the Senate defeated by a 53-34 roll call vote the amendment of Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., to cut $30 million from economic assistance funds for defense pact nations in the foreign aid bill.

Pakistan has been angered by increased U.S. aid to strengthen India's defenses against another invasion by Communist China. The Pakistanis are afraid India will use the arms against Pakistan.

ARRIVED YESTERDAY

Taylor arrived here yesterday after three days of talks in India.

Foreign Minister A. A. Bhutto called yesterday for a "tangible assurance" that India will not attack Pakistan with the Western arms.

The foreign minister also suggested another round of talks with U.S. officials—on a diplomatic rather than military level—to study discord between the two allies.

Undersecretary of State George Ball and other U.S. political officials conferred with Pakistani officials in September and in October.

Kill Oswald as Cover-Up — Walker

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker said yesterday Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of assassinating President Kennedy, was slain "to erase a Marxist-Communist conspiracy."

Walker told newsmen "many things" led him to his opinion about why Oswald died.

But Walker, to support his claim would point out only that Oswald was about three blocks from the home of nightclub operator Jack Ruby minutes after the assassination. Ruby shot Oswald to death two days after Kennedy was killed.

Walker, who was relieved of his division command in Germany because of alleged political indoctrination of troops, said he thought it was Oswald who fired a shot at him through the window of his Dallas home earlier this year.

IMPOSSIBLE TO TELL

An FBI report given to Dallas police concluded it was ballistically impossible to tell if the same rifle was used to fire at Walker and the President.

"What it says is that the bullet could or could not have been fired from the same rifle," Dallas Detective Capt. M. W. Stevenson said last night. "In other words, it's inconclusive."

The bullet fired into Walker's home was badly distorted, having smashed through a window frame and into a wall.

It was reported that Oswald's widow, Marina, told federal officers that her husband boasted to her that he was the sniper who fired on Walker.

STILL OPEN
"(The Walker) case is still open," Dallas Detective Capt. O. A. Jones said.

"Based on all the information that has come out about this," Walker said, "I would say it is conclusive" that Oswald fired the shot.

Walker said no federal investigators had contacted him about the shot fired at him, about Kennedy's assassination or about Oswald or Ruby.

Walker was here to participate in taking a deposition from a newsmen involved in a libel suit the former general had brought against the Associated Press and several newspapers. The libel action grew out of reporting of his activities during the integration riots at the University of Mississippi.

Rev. Dr. King Tells

Negroes: Keep Dignity

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says Negroes "must develop and maintain a sense of dignity and self respect" as they press their campaign against racial segregation.

"Some Negroes are so conditioned to segregation, they go through life adjusting to it," King told 8,000 persons at a rally Thursday night.

United States housewives can choose from about 6,000 different foods when they go to market.

Lynda Bird's Dorm Picketed for Bias

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Singing pickets paraded with signs in front of the University of Texas dormitory where Lynda Bird Johnson lives, protesting racial segregation in campus housing. Twenty students, 12 of them Negroes, paced back and forth across a street in drizzling rain Thursday night. They quit after an hour.

Their purpose was "to bring the dormitory situation back to the public eye," said Bill Spearman of Houston, the group's spokesman.

All university facilities and activities except for dormitories were integrated recently.

PROTEST SONG

Spearman said the demonstration was not intended as a personal reflection on the elder daughter of President Johnson. Lynda Bird, 19, is a sophomore at the university. She will transfer next semester to a school near Washington, D.C.

As the pickets marched, Secret Service men, city and university police stood by. They took no action.

"We don't plan to interfere with them as long as they are orderly and don't break any laws," the chief of the campus police, A. R. Hamilton, said.

Miss Johnson, who is guarded by Secret Service agents any time she leaves the building, could not be seen among the crowds gathered in the doorway of the six-story building. The Secret Service would not say whether Miss Johnson was inside.

The pickets sang "We Shall Overcome" and Christmas carols.

One sign said: "Delay causes President's daughter to be in segregated housing."

Regents of the university have indicated it would have integrated dormitories but for a suit seeking to force this development, now pending in federal court. It has been under study in the court of U.S. District Judge Ben Rice since mid-summer.

U. S. Drops Cambodia Peace Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

CANCELED: The United States is dropping plans to send former Secretary of State Dean Acheson to Cambodia on a conciliation mission.

Conditions laid down by Cambodian Prince Norodom Sihanouk made the trip impossible, State Department officials said Thursday.

The result is a further setback to U.S.-Cambodian relations.

Reports that a Cambodian radio station expressed pleasure at the assassination of President John F. Kennedy speeded the downhill trend last week — despite Cambodia's denial — and helped torpedo the Acheson mission.

One of the conditions laid down by Sihanouk, U.S. officials said, was an apology for what the Cambodians claim was a "barbarous statement" about the alleged broadcast made by a U.S. delegate to the United Nations to Nong Kimmy, Cambodia's ambassador to the United States.

BAKER: Senate investigators are examining subpoenaed bank records in an attempt to determine how much wealth Robert G. Baker amassed while he was secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

The Rules Committee investigators also are examining statements filed by Baker with the Federal Housing Administration and the Small Business Administration, in connection with loan applications.

This was revealed Thursday by Lennox P. McLendon, special counsel to the committee. Baker resigned under fire Oct. 7. The committee is trying to find out if his outside business activities conflicted with his duties in the $19,600-a-year post.

DRAFT: The Army will draft 12,000 men in February, the smallest monthly quota in six months and 4,000 below the January call, the Defense Department said Thursday.

BACK HOME: Secretary of State Dean Rusk has returned from the NATO ministerial conference in Paris saying there is no basic change in U.S. policy on summit meetings and on Communist China.

The United States would encourage a summit conference only if preliminary talks seem to warrant such a meeting, he told newsmen who met him at the airport Thursday night.

On China and its dialogue with the Soviet Union, Rusk said: "There is no change, but of course in the great debate between military and peaceful coexistence we think peaceful existence should be preferred."

HOME AGAIN: "The Hill is my home," said President Johnson Thursday night as he turned up on Capitol Hill to attend a surprise reception and dinner in honor of Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Johnson passed up dinner but he stayed long enough — three-quarters of an hour — to tell his former Democratic colleagues that service in the Senate was the "most pleasant experience of my life."

PRESTIGE: The Budget Bureau is cutting by 75 per cent the number of chauffeured limousines and other luxury autos used by government officials around the world.

The 131 now in use in Washington will be cut to 20, and the 491 elsewhere will be trimmed to 136 when the orders, issued Thursday, are put in effect.

In Budget Bureau terms, heavy and medium sedans are luxury vehicles and if a window separates a passenger from chauffeur the auto is a limousine. The officials who lose these prestige symbols will be given light sedans.

The orders do not apply to Congress, which writes its own

Avon Job Issue Faces Deadline

AVON TOWNSHIP — After five months of hassling over the controversial transfer of Building Inspector Lawrence Porter, the Township Board has set a deadline for a final decision.

On Jan. 22 the board will vote on whether to combine the jobs of building inspector and assessor.

Although Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller recommended the two jobs be formally merged at Wednesday's meeting of the board, members voted to study the issue further.

The vote was 6-1, with Miller dissenting.

Miller said he had been criticized for transferring Porter to custodianship of the township cemetery without the consent of the board.

He argued that now he was following the proper procedure and the board still refused to support him.

Trustee Donald J. Campbell moved to pay Porter $1,000.

for the period when he was assigned to cemetery duties. The motion died for lack of a support.

Campbell contended that the township could become responsible for more than the $1,000 if it did not pay the sum, Miller argued that the board couldn't

Salesman Arrested in Robbery

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—A Detroit salesman was arrested by the FBI yesterday in connection with a $325 robbery at the Manufacturer's National Bank of Detroit branch, 31555 W. 13 Mile.

Calvin Lee Hopkins, 44, had $1 in his pocket when arrested at the rooming house where he lived. He was charged with a armed robbery in Friday's holdup.

Police said the bank robber entered the branch and handed the teller a note announcing the holdup. She gave him the money and he made his getaway in an old station wagon.

Hopkins is married but has no children.

He was arraigned before Judge Wade H. McCree in Federal court in Detroit yesterday. Held on a $10,000 bond, Hopkins awaits examination Jan. 15.

Board to Complete Avon Tract Plans

AVON TOWNSHIP — Plans for Koorwood Hills Subdivision No. 2 will be completed and acted upon by the Township Board by Feb. 13.

After a lengthy discussion on the topic at Wednesday's board meeting, the matter was tabled until the future meeting.

In the interim, developer George Knorr will work with residents of the Peach Tree Lane area to resolve the question of side yard requirements being made a part of deed restrictions.

Area Seminarians Choir Plans Yule Radio Show

ORCHARD LAKE — Polish kolendy and pastorkali will be blended in the 26th consecutive Christmas broadcast of SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary's Schola Cantorum.

Scheduled for 4:35 to 5 p.m. Sunday, the program will originate from the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York.

The choir, composed of 20 seminarians studying for the priesthood, will present both kolendy, profound church carols, and pastorkali, Christmas folk songs.

Since 1938 the chorus has been shortwaved to South and Central America and transcribed for the Voice of America. It has been heard frequently over Radio Free Europe during the past 12 years.

OTHER PROJECTS

Other projects have been a Christmas album recording released by Capitol Records, entitled "Christmas in Poland," and the recent "Polish Marian Songs."

Rev. Fr. Henry A. Warakas, professor of Gregorian chant and Polish hymnology at the Orchard Lake school, directs the choral group.

The accompaniment for the broadcast will be provided by Fred Banas on string bass and Marshall Lackowski on accordion. Rev. Walter Ziembka, dean of the college department, will be the announcer.

The event is financed by Goodfellow newspaper sale profits.

Assessments Delayed in West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Two restaurants — one not yet in existence and the other at least temporarily out of existence — are delaying the proposed Pine Lake sanitary sewer system.

However, for the property owners who will be paying for the project it may be well worth the wait.

As originally planned, the Runda Inn at 3230 Pine Lake would pay about a quarter of the $86,996 costs.

But the century-old restaurant was closed in November when Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer ordered a mortgage against it foreclosed. The establishment had been under receivership for a month.

WITHIN DISTRICT

Also within the special assessment district is the proposed site of another restaurant.

Now pending before the township planning commission is a permit to construct the building east of Orchard Lake Road and south of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks.

Township Supervisor John C. Richard has asked that the Township Board take no action on the assessment roll until the future of the two establishments is more clearly indicated.

Avon Offices to Close

AVON TOWNSHIP — The township offices will be closed from noon next Tuesday until 8:30 a.m. Thursday.

Holly Area School to Open Doors Jan. 4

HOLLY — Residents of the Holly Area School District soon will be able to see the results of a $650,000 building program approved by the electorate in 1962.

The new Patterson Elementary School at 3209 Grange Hall will open its doors to pupils for the first time Jan. 4.

Meanwhile construction has been started on the addition to Holly High School.

SPECIAL ROOMS

The 2,000-square-foot addition will contain music, special education and chemistry rooms as well as two biology rooms and shops for woodworking and metalworking. It also will include a regular classroom.

Four more classrooms will be gained when the old shop and music rooms are remodeled.

Work will also be done in the library and the old teachers lounge, the latter to be converted to offices.

The high school addition is to be completed by July 1 while remodeling of the junior high school should be done by Sept. 1.

SECOND PHASE

The second phase of the junior high project will include remodeling of rest rooms throughout the building and reallocation of space in the two-story section of the building.

The first phase was completed last summer when improvements were made to bring the building up to fire marshal specifications.

The general contract for the work yet to be done was awarded this week to Bundy and Associates of Pontiac for $192,750.

Krueck Plumbing and Heating of Drayton Place and Heating will be the plumbing contractor with a bid of $79,382. The electrical contract went to Electrical Maintenance Service of Orchard Lake for $46,450.

Dinner Slated by Youth Unit

ORCHARD LAKE—The Detroit and Vicinity Students' Club of Orchard Lake Schools will hold a Christmas dinner Dec. 30 in Hamtramck.

Following the dinner, the chorists of Ascension Parish in Warren will sing. The event will be held at 6:30 p.m. at St. Florian Education Center.

Reservations must be made by Monday with Edmund Borycz of 6114 Georgia, Detroit.

Year's Shortest Day Sunday

If you're beginning to wish for longer days, cheer up. Sunday will be the shortest day of the year, reports a Michigan State University statistic.

That will be the day of the solstice—the beginning of winter in the northern hemisphere and of summer in the southern—says Dr. James Stokley, associate professor of journalism, who also teaches astronomy at MSU.

He said the solstice will occur at 9:02 a.m. Pontiac time. That is the moment when the sun will be farthest south, standing directly over a point in the South Atlantic Ocean about 800 miles east of Rio de Janeiro.

Although Sunday will be the year's shortest day, measured from sunrise to sunset, the sun will rise later each day until Jan. 5, he added. Then it will appear above the eastern horizon, in Michigan, about 8:15 a.m., three minutes later than next Sunday's sunrise.

ALREADY LATER

At the other end of the day things are different, he said. Already our sunsets are coming later. The sun set earliest on Dec. 11, at 4:58 p.m. in this area. But on the 22nd it will set at 5:01 and on Jan. 5 at 5:12.

"For us," Dr. Stokley pointed out, "the sun will above the horizon Sunday for only 8 hours 46 minutes. This is five minutes shorter than the length of the day on the eleventh, and eight minutes less than it will be on Jan. 5."

He said that it is because of the kind of time we use that the day of the solstice does not also bring the earliest sunset and the latest sunrise.

"The sun runs on its own kind of time," he said. "At some times of year it is as much as 16 minutes ahead of our clocks, and at others as much as 14 minutes behind them."

TIME EQUATION

"The difference between them is called the equation of time. If you apply this as a correction to the daily times of sunrise and sunset, you will have the sun rising latest and setting earliest on the shortest day of the year."

NEW ROMEO CHURCH—Construction is moving ahead on the new St. Paul's Episcopal Church being erected on a 12-acre site across W. St. Clair from Romeo High School. The new Early American style edifice replaces the old St. Paul's which was destroyed by fire just after Christmas three years ago. The new church, due for completion the middle of February, will have the sanctuary and two offices on the main floor and kitchen, choir room and multipurpose room on the floor below. Value of the property and building is estimated at close to $80,000.

Despite U.S. Support Prospects

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Winter wheat farmers apparently have decided to hold down production of the 1964 crop despite current prospects of government price support of about $1.25 per bushel.

The Agriculture Department's first report — issued yesterday—on condition of the 1964 winter wheat crop showed that farmers seeded 43 million bushels this fall to the breadgrain to be harvested next summer.

This is slightly more than 2 per cent more than the 42 million bushels seeded in the fall of 1962 and 1 per cent above the 1959-62 average of 42.4 million acres.

Such an acreage, the department said, under normal conditions would produce 959 million bushels of wheat.

BIG DIFFERENCE

The seeded acreage is a far cry from the 60-70 million acres department officials predicted farmers would plant if the administration's proposed 1964 wheat program was turned down in a grower referendum.

This large acreage would have meant production of about 1.5 billion bushels of wheat, far more than domestic and foreign demand. The excess would have been surplus to add to an already large stockpile.

The administration's program called for strict production and marketing controls and price support of $1 per bushel. It was defeated overwhelmingly in the May 21 referendum.

Left standing was a program calling for price support of 50 per cent of parity — about $1.25 per bushel. This low support would be paid only to those growers who complied with acreage restrictions.

OVERPLANTING PENALTY

But under farm law, if grow-

Their appointments by the Township Board bring the total commission membership to seven.

Two more appointees probably will be named by the end of the year to meet the maximum membership of nine.

The planning commission will become activated Jan. 1. Its duties will include those previously handled by the zoning board which it replaces. It also will develop a master plan for the township.

John 'Son of Thunder', Saw Stupendous Basis of Gospel

(Editor's Note: The Apostle John lived what he wrote and was a witness to the great ministry of Jesus. Last survivor of the 12 Disciples, John achieved full understanding of the phenomenon of God's love of man that is the great hope of Christmas. Here, in the last of a series of five articles, is his story.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

The withered old patriarch sat in a stone seat in the courtyard of the academy at Ephesus. He was past 90 years of age, the skin shriveled on his bones and his beard a great cascade of white down his chest.

Yet, as he turned toward the students gathered at his feet, his eyes flashed piercingly and his voice cracked with an iron wisdom.

Only John, among the 12 Apostles, still survived. He had come to the winter of his life, yet spring still sparkled in him. His memory swam with keen, roaring images that had sharpened with the years.

"Tell us more, O venerable one, of the manifestation of our Lord."

SAW CLEARLY

Looking backward, the old firebrand pillar of the church could see it all more clearly and comprehensively. The many separate threads formed a pattern, a vivid mosaic, and he could read its meaning and import.

He said: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God; all things were made through Him, and without Him was not anything made that was made."

So commences the most majestic, awesome and penetrating account of the first Christmas. "It delves into the tapestries and fountainhead, of Christ, who is called the expressed 'Word,' or radiating force of the Almighty. The description asserts a strange, seldom-noted quality about Him, that he coexisted with God always, from before the physical universe, and that He was the outstretching divine arm that created and vitalized all nature."

'LIGHT OF MEN'

"In Him was life, and the life was the light of men," John said. But men had strayed from it, even at the outset. "The light shines in the darkness." Yet darkness had become men's condition, despite the innate light.

That, as the aged apostle perceived it, was the backdrop, the shadowy situation before the new day-blazed in human history.

Unlike other presentations of the Gospel, John looked behind its bare incidents to its stupendous, animating basis and its sweeping significance. True, it had unfolded among men, yet it had stemmed from beyond the far ramparts of the world.

John omits any reference to Jesus' birth, early nurture or infancy. These things had become common knowledge. Instead, out of the distillation of time, reflection and gradually clarifying insights into an overwhelming experience, John had reached an understanding of it, and sought to put it in full perspective.

WERE BAFLED

Nether he nor the other apostles had grasped the implications at the time of Christ's physical companionship. He often had bewildered them; they had been baffled, incredulous, frightened and bumblingly foolish.

The hot-blooded young John had once urged Jesus to call down fire on an unfriendly village. Again, John had vied for first place in the coming "kingdom." On each occasion, he had been rebuked. He was dubbed a "son of thunder." Yet he was among Jesus' three most beloved confidants.

Now, nearly 70 years later, presumably in the last decade before 100 A.D., the mellowed nonagenarian had assimilated and slowly brought into sharp, graphic outline just what had happened in those stunning days.

Since then, he had undergone severe tests and had abundant time to meditate, including a lonely period of exile on the barren island of Patmos, to which he had been banished by Roman authorities and where he had produced his mystical book of revelation, or the Apocalypse.

SWAM MILES

When he was being returned from exile, legend says he was shipwrecked, and had to swim for miles on a piece of floating cork to reach shore.

The ecclesia—those called into faith—remained under harsh strictures, suffering frequent violence. They were widely reviled as atheists because they refused to do homage at state altars. The brutal Domitian reigned as Roman emperor, unleashing sporadic persecutions.

A proconsul of the approximate era, Pliny, describes his practice: "I ask them if they are Christians. If they admit it, I repeat the question a second and third time, threatening capital punishment; if they persist, I sentence them to death. For I do not doubt that, whatever kind of crime it may be to which they have confessed, their pertinacity and inflexible obstinacy should certainly be punished."

The recurrent waves of oppression, against both Christians and Jews, had gone on since Christ's coming. Revolutionary Israel had been crushed in blood by Roman legions in 70 A.D., never to be a nation again until 1948.

RELIGION SPREAD

Still, Christianity spread invincibly and a numerous, strong community persisted in Ephesus, capital of Asia Province, with its bustling raucous harbor, its steaming baths, its ornate temple to the mother goddess Diana, a site of wild brawling since no arrest could be made within a bowshot of it.

The church grew in that environment, and apparently even developed a teaching cadre centered around the frail, old Apostle John. Ancient references to the "John" there sometimes are ambiguous, and scholars at one time tended to date his gospel later, by other authorship, but more modern findings support the early tradition.

In his prologue, whether written by himself or dictated to a aman, John sums up the entire case of the divine trust to mankind, and puts it in total context. The rest of the book is a recital of specific evidences to support the opening conclusion.

John uses simple words and short sentences, almost like an ancient Hemingway, yet they are charged with lofty and powerful content. He offers no chronological account, but rather an array of selected, significant episodes, which stood out in his memory. He deals with only 20 days of Jesus' 1,000-day ministry. Yet the scenes abound with minute, close-up detail.

MEANING?

But what was the meaning of it all? Who was Christ? Where did He come from? And why? John starts out with a considered assessment. Always, he says, the light has shined "in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it."

But because of men's loss of contact with it and loss of their elemental bearings, "the true light that lightens every man was coming into the world." Even before that, "He was in the world, and the world was made through Him, yet the world knew him not."

Then came the climax, the fuller light, the most eloquent utterance of God:

"The Word became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth."

YULE PHENOMENON

That was, and is, the phenomenon of Christmas. That is the sublime and amazing reach of God for man. The working extension of Himself, the eternal conveyor of God's thought and energy took on the bones, blood, travail and frailties of man in order to stick with men, and by them, even in their defection.

It was, as John finally understood, love incarnate, love bursting forth in physical creaturehood, in behalf of all humanity. It was not some mystical spiritual action, as the learned Greeks in those days regarded the "Word" of God, but on the contrary: a plainly human, personal earthly event, showing God's interest in the very midst of the material world.

John, out of his long brooding, had achieved a crisp grasp of the whole transaction. He offered no theological speculation about it, but only the inescapable, full-blown reaction of a person to a person. "We have beheld His glory as the only Son from the Father. No one has ever seen God; the only Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he has made Him known."

The divine light, always perfect in itself but long obscure to mankind, had at last flamed on man's level. That all-competent, benignly laboring "Word" had injected Himself personally into the realm of every person, as friend and brother.

IMPORTANT THINGS

John did not try to enumerate every part of the story. If everything Jesus did were "to be written, I suppose that the world itself could not contain the books that would be written," John's account concludes. But he records the important things, the nub of it all. And he knew it was so. "This is the disciple who is bearing witness to these things." He had lived what he wrote.

It is said that as he neared his death, the feeble old "son of thunder" was carried to meetings of worship in Ephesus on a pallet, and he would murmur to all who came near: "Little children, love one another."

That, in short, was the heart of the matter: Love. Mankind wrought in love, needed it, lost it, and received it again. That, meaning of what had happened to him. That was the theme of the most exciting, tremendous story ever told. The loneliness had ended. The light breaks through. It is Christmas.

Russia Moves Troops to Chinese Border

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union has reinforced its troops on the frontier with Communist China, Western sources in Moscow report.

Informed officials in London and Paris say a moderate eastward movement of Soviet troops from Central Russia was detected in October. The army units were understood to be moving toward China's Sinkiang province.

Sinking on China's north-west border with Russia, has been the scene of serious trouble between the two powers over the past two years. In September, Peking charged Soviet agents with "enticing and coercing several tens of thousands of Chinese citizens" into Russia.

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union has the second greatest navy in the world behind the United States but the Russian fleet "has a new look which must have a profound effect on naval thinking," the 1963-64 edition of Jane's Fighting Ships reported today.

"The Soviet naval watchwords seem to be intelligence, infiltration and interception," the leading Western survey of the navies of the world said.

It said the Soviet Union "has rapidly built and is alarmingly increasing an enormous merchant fleet, has accumulated the world's largest, most modern and unusually versatile fishing fleet of trawlers which are known to be widely used for gathering intelligence, and has created a large fleet of survey ships in a massive and worldwide oceanographic research front."

SUBMARINES

The Soviet Union has "the most powerful submarine fleet the world has ever known," Jane's said, reporting more than 400 effective Soviet underwater craft, including 25 nuclear-powered subs and more than 40 armed with guided missiles.

Jane's said the world has a record 96 navies and "some of these are no mere infantile arms but quite considerable fleets, notably those of Germany, Italy, Japan and Indonesia."

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Finance Minister Carlos Carvalho Pinto resigned Thursday night, and President Joao Goulart named a conservative banker to replace him on an interim basis.

Goulart's appointment of Ney Galvao, former president of the Bank of Brazil, obviously was designed to prevent financial panic at Pinto's resignation. Brazil's economy, by Goulart's admission, is near collapse.

Galvao is expected to follow much the same policies as Pinto who was noted for a tight austerity program.

FAREWELL WORDS

Pinto in a farewell statement lashed out at "provincial men demagogic preachers or appeals to subversions," which he said would not solve Brazil's economic crisis.

CLEANED OUT — Jerry Lewis just barely manages to keep some clothing after a gigantic sale in "Who's Minding the Store," color comedy starting Sunday at the Pontiac

The vote was 6-5 with 2 abstentions.

The death sentences must be approved by Parliament and signed by President Cemal Cakal before they can be carried out.

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Seven members of a caravan of Moslem priests and religious helpers were shot and hacked to death by Karen rebels near Toulmein, reports from the scene said today.

Government troops rushed to the area and in a battle with the rebels killed 10 of them. Five soldiers were killed.

The 41-man religious party had been touring villages around Moulmein, 200 miles southeast of Rangoon.

Liz Needs Quickie Mexican Divorce

PUERTO VALLARTA, Mexico (AP) — If Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton want to get married before 1963 ends, they will have to do it in the quickie divorce-marriage mills of Cuernavaca or Juarez, a judge said today.

The raven-haired star and the Welsh actor say they want to marry as soon as possible now that Sybil Burton has divorced her husband of 13 years.

Hare Challenges Civil Service on Branch Offices

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James Hare has challenged the authority of the State Civil Service Commission over his branch fee offices.

Before being hospitalized by a mild heart attack Wednesday, Hare talked informally with Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley. Hare asked his fellow Democrat to check into the legal powers of the commission over the offices.

The commission has ordered that 35 branch offices in Lansing, Detroit, Pontiac, Flint, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Bay City and Kalamazoo be staffed with salaried civil service workers effective July 1.

The commission contends operation of these offices under the fee system — with managers appointed by Hare — is in violation of the state constitution.

The offices collected more than $62 million in license and other fees during the past fiscal year and paid out more than half a million dollars to the branch managers.

Judge Aracadio Estrada of the First Court in this seaside resort said many Cuernavaca and Juarez divorces later are declared illegal.

"To get a legal Mexican divorce," Estrada said, "it takes many weeks of preparation between lawyers—usually a minimum of two."

LAWYERS AT WORK

"At the moment, lawyers for Miss Taylor and Eddie Fisher are still in New York working out the property settlement. I look for the legal work to be finished by the middle of the month with the divorce itself probably towards the end."

The jurist said either Miss Taylor or Fisher could get the divorce. He said she need not live in Puerto Vallarta six months as some legal opinion has held.

Fisher said in Las Vegas, Nev., Thursday night that he believes any legal obstacles have been removed by lawyers for both sides. But he said Miss Taylor would have to get the divorce.

"I don't see any chance of my going to Mexico for a divorce," said the singer, who began a four-week engagement in Las Vegas Monday.

WON'T STAY

The residence requirement for a divorce in Nevada is six weeks, "and there's no chance that I'll stay the extra two weeks," Fisher added.

Neither Miss Taylor nor Burton would comment on the possibility of a quickie divorce in Cuernavaca or Juarez, across the border from El Paso, Tex. Fisher and Miss Taylor have a joint company whereby they split her take from "Cleopatra."

It could run anywhere from $2 million to $5 million.

One local source, close to the situation, told a newsman that Elizabeth offered Eddie a flat payment of $1 million and that he turned it down.

The source added that the talks in New York are centered mostly on this key issue.

MEET PARENTS

Miss Taylor and Burton emerged from their $60,000 cliff-side home Thursday to go to the airport to meet Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor, Elizabeth's parents.

The family reunion attended reports that a wedding was imminent. The Taylors always alighted their daughter's weddings. This will be No. 5.

But Miss Taylor said of the speculation:

"Nothing will happen before Christmas. If a miracle occurred and I were free to marry tomorrow, we still wouldn't before Christmas."

Asked if she would wait until after New Year's, she said, "No, I wouldn't say that."

Hardy Soul Swims Daily in Atlantic

JONES BEACH, N.Y.

(AP) — Charlie Daniels says the human body is capable of withstanding a lot more than most people think.

To prove his point, Daniels, 32, takes a daily swim—summer and winter—in the Atlantic Ocean.

Daniels lives with his wife and one son in Seaford, about six miles from the beach.

He says he has taken 1,115 consecutive dips.

'HASN'T MISSED'

"I haven't missed a single day since I began this latest chain of daily dips over three years ago," Daniels said.

"Nor have I missed a single day of drying off with a 5-mile run up and down the beach in my swimming trunks."

Daniels said that 30 per cent of the fear of swimming during the winter days is "psychological fear of discomfort."

"Once people get over that and get into the water, they find out it is invigorating," he said.

Daniels, a native of Sicily, is a theater lighting director and a booking agent for entertainers.

State Gets U. S. Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Urban Renewal Administration announced the following grants Thursday: $27,656 to the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion to help prepare a plan for the growth of Manistique, and $37,194 for a development project for Port Huron.

United States farmers average about $1.05 an hour income for farm work. The average factory worker averaged about $2.30.

Voices of Walt Disney Are Hard to Find

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — On Sunday night the characters of Disney cartoon classics will be voicing a special Christmas greeting to television viewers.

Few of those watching "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color" will realize what infinite pains went into finding and developing the voices for these characters. The Disney animators can tell you. They are the creative marvels who can create life from ink, paint and celluloid, and they know how important a cartoon voice can be.

Said one of them, Wolfgang Reitherman: "After the story man or artist has made the original concept of a character, the voice comes next. It is of utmost importance, because the animator has to be stimulated by the voice; he has little else to work with."

THOMAS

"We tend to be hypercritical in selecting a voice. We have to be, because the voice must be a perfect embodiment of the character. Sometimes we listen to 50 or 70 voices before we find the one that sounds just right."

Added another top animator, Frank Thomas: "Our selection is more difficult because in the features we use sincere voices. Television cartoons can get by with wild trick voices because they're aimed strictly for comedy."

NOT INSINCERE

"Our characters are caricatured but they are not insincere. It's hard to make actors realize this. They say they've always wanted to be a cartoon voice, and then they start talking like Porky Pig."

They illustrated their difficulties with the new Disney feature, "Sword in the Stone."

"We must have tried 70 different actors for the voice of Merlin," said Reitherman. "A lot of them had a warm, pleasant quality, but none evidenced that note of eccentricity that we were seeking. We wanted Merlin to be eccentric but not hokey."

"At the same time we were testing the owls and one of those we selected was Kim Swenson. After listening to him for a while, we realized he had just the right quality for Merlin. So we said, why waste him on an owl?"

GOT THE ROLE

Swenson got the role and recommended a friend to take his place as the owl.

"We had a problem with the squirrels," Thomas said. "We wanted them to talk the way squirrels would talk—chattering like humans without saying anything. Actors didn't quite understand when we told them, 'Talk like a squirrel.'"

"But when we told that to a young actress named Ginny Tyler, she got the idea immediately and began chattering in beautiful style."

Many of the Disney characters are children, and that presents problems, since the features are made over a period of three or more years. Young Arthur in "Sword in the Stone" was played by Ricky Sorenson, once of the television series "Circus Boy." During the long production schedule his voice changed, causing all kinds of trouble in matching.

"We had the same trouble with Thumper in 'Bambi,'" said Thomas. "The boy started doing the voice at 7, then his family moved away. We needed him again two years later and he didn't sound anything the same. We had to piece his lines together the best we could."

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: The burning paper.

NEEDED: A tightly rolled paper, a crumpled paper, and a match.

DO THIS: Try to light the rolled paper with a match, and it is very difficult. Light the crumpled paper, and it burns readily.

HERE'S WHY: When heat is applied to the rolled paper it does not burn easily for two reasons. First, air cannot get to the inside, sheets, and they cannot burn without oxygen from the air.

Second, when the paper is rolled, much of the heat from the match is conducted into the roll, and the outside layers of paper cannot get hot enough to ignite.

HEATS QUICKLY

The crumpled paper is heated quickly by the match, and since air is all around it, it burns easily.

A second collection of the "Science For You" experiments is in bookstores. It is "Science Circus No. 2." See it there, or order from Bob Brown, care of The Pontiac Press.

Bob Hope to Rest, Then Join Tour

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope, on his doctor's advice, is resting up a little longer from treatment for an eye ailment before leaving on his 12th annual tour to entertain American servicemen overseas.

He was ready to leave Thursday for Turkey, Crete, Greece, Libya, Cyprus and Italy, but last-minute advice from his physician kept him home for a couple of days.

Jerry Colonna, who accompanies Hope on each Christmas tour, said Hope plans to catch up with his troupe Sunday at Ankara, Turkey.

William Tecumseh Sherman, later one of the Union's top generals, was married in Blair House in Washington.

Parents Should Take a Hand

If Allowed to, Teen-Agers Will Just Drift

By LESLIE J. NASON
Dear Dr. Nason: Our high school son stays out of trouble, makes average grades, yet seems to be drifting. What can we, as parents, do to help him start working toward something?

Dear Dr. Nason: Do you have any suggestion for parents of a 7-year-old boy who does not complete his school work or projects? He was in an "Enrichment Program" during first grade and in the "Advanced Group" in second grade.

He has been a reader and a thinker. Recently he has not listened to the teacher's instructions nor followed through. Can we help correct him at home?

My old friend, Walter Malowan, who just celebrated his 81st birthday, plays rubber bridge regularly at New York's Regency Club.

For many years the Malowan overcall has been the subject of good natured banter between us. He just hates to pass if he has anything at all.

A recent letter from him reads, "I think my overcall on the ordinary weak Malowan overcall, but the opponents were vulnerable and I thought we might find some cheap save in clubs against their almost certain game."

Dispute Settled; Liner Will Sail

NEW YORK (AP)—The liner America will go back to sea Feb. 7, nearly five months after crewmen refused to sail with an officer they accused of racial bias.

The dispute led to cancellation of eight trans-Atlantic trips.

Theodore W. Kheel, arbitrator announced a settlement Thursday. It provides that the officer involved, First Asst. Engineer Louis Neurohr, continue in his job.

The United States Lines, which operates the America, the nation's second largest passenger ship, was directed to see that the crewmen, represented by the AFL-CIO National Maritime Union, are treated properly.

Neurohr's supervision was limited to crewmen under his specific authority. He was forbidden to use racial epithets, to prompt crewmen to file grievances against other supervisors or intrude into the personal affairs of crewmen.

The NMU had accused Neurohr of locking Negro and Puerto Rican crewmen out of a washroom and of other acts of discrimination.

Neurohr, a member of the AFL-CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, denied the charges. The America has been tied up since Sept. 15.

Her second child, Karen, was born one year later—same time, same date, same hospital.

Michigan Woman Hit by Bus, Dies

CHARLEVOIX (AP)—Mrs. Wanda Drenth, 20, of Ellsworth, died Thursday of injuries suffered when she and a companion were struck by a Greyhound bus on U. S. 31 at Atwood in Antrim County.

Norma DeYoung, 18, of Charlevoix, is in critical condition.

Both were struck as they walked to their car Wednesday night.

Antrim County Sheriff Carlton Dunsen said the women were dragged 91 feet along the snow-covered road before the bus was able to stop.

Lolobrigida Denies Split

ROME (AP) — Gina Lolobrigida and her husband denied a new report today that they are splitting.

Previous reports said the Italian actress was interested in someone else. The latest report published in some Rome newspapers, said her husband, Dr. Milko Skofic, was dating an Austrian.

"It's all fantasy," the actress said. "I have never seen Milko laugh so hard as he did when he heard this one."

Skofic said: "Because I am the husband of a famous actress, should I not let myself be seen in company with other persons?"

Doctors Say James Hare Satisfactory

LANSING (AP)—Doctors are "extremely satisfied" with the progress of Secy. of State James Hare, resting in a Lansing hospital after suffering a mild heart attack, Asst. Secretary of State Frank Sierawski reported today.

Hare, who suffered a coronary occlusion Wednesday, is exhausted, Sierawski said, and must rest — "like recharging your battery with the motor idling."

DOCTOR'S ORDERS The 53-year-old fifth-term Democrat, one of the most popular vote-getters in state history, cannot return to his office for six weeks, according to his doctor's instructions.

Deputy Secretary of State Gordon Traynor, who normally runs the Department's Detroit office, took over Hare's desk Thursday.

Hare's wife, Ann, said "He will spend three weeks in the hospital and three weeks at home."

Their children, aged 17, 15, and 12, must stop visiting their father, she said, since visits are limited to one person for five minutes every two hours.

Johnson Signs Space Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson yesterday signed a catch-all appropriations bill containing $5.1 billion for the U.S. space agency.

In a statement Johnson voiced concern, however, about a provision banning any joint U.S.-Soviet moon flight without consent of Congress.

He said there was no chance of such a project in the current fiscal year and the restriction was undesirable in principle.

Lieutenant Governor Nixes Another Term

LANSING (AP)—Michigan will have a new lieutenant governor in 1965 if the present holder of the post sticks to his plans.

"I have no intention of running for lieutenant governor in 1964," said Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski Thursday.

mained noncommittal about his future plans.

He said he is surveying a wide range of possibilities, and that his decision may be determined "by certain private interests, aside from the area of politics."

A lawyer, Lesinski admitted a Wayne County Circuit Court post is included in his review of the future.

He also said he is "very seriously looking at the gubernatorial situation," but added he has no "fixed" plan.

"I will work at doing what I can to restore good government for the state... and that includes election of a Democratic governor and returning President Johnson to his post."

He called the lieutenant governorship a "very satisfying" elective post, but added it can be a burden for a family. Lesinski's family includes five children, the oldest 13.

He is completing his 13th year in state office — having been elected to the House of Representatives from the 7th District in Detroit for four terms and his present post twice.

Claim Singer Took Pills by Mistake

DETROIT (UPI) — Singer Dinah Washington died from an apparently accidental overdose of barbiturates, a medical examiner's report confirmed yesterday.

Dr. Edward Zawadzski, Wayne County medical examiner, said it appeared Miss

Washington took the pills by mistake.

Miss Washington, 39, was found dead in her Detroit home Saturday by her husband, Detroit Lion football star Dick (Night Train) Lane.

Rocket Engine Tested in Frisco Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A corporal rocket engine with 17,000 pounds of thrust was tested intermittently for 15 seconds yesterday 30 feet under water in San Francisco Bay.

The test was performed by Aerojet-General under a contract with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

A company spokesman said it was the first such test of a rocket engine that size.

Robert C. Truax, director of advance development, said the firm is aiming at developing rockets that can be successfully launched from the sea instead of from expensive launching pads.

Bill to Extend County Terms Is Defeated

Dispute on Michigan Rights Commission
Renewed in Lansing

LANSING — A move to extend the terms of elected county officers for two years was killed in the Senate today as the legislature aimed at settling its differences and breaking camp for the holidays.

But the dispute over how strong Michigan's new civil rights commission should be flared anew as the Senate unanimously rejected House amendments to the bill spelling out the commission's powers and duties.

The development threw the issue into a conference committee.

The argument over county officers' terms dissolved when the Senate voted 21-0 to junk its own amendments to an elections bill, which originally did not include the "free-ride" provision.

The House twice rejected the proposal to extend county terms until 1966, killing the original bill and striking the Senate amendments. The Senate's action today killed the issue all together.

LABOR OVER PLAN
House-Senate conference committees were laboring over a districting plan for the new state appeals court and the question of granting two-year extensions for appointed Circuit Court judges.

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, who developed the original appellate court bill and backed the term extension, predicted confusion over the appellate court measure and defeat for the other.

JFK Threat 'Joke,' Says Arrested Man

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A man jailed on a charge of threatening the life of President John F. Kennedy says he was only joking. Investigators said they had found nothing to link Russell W. McLarry to the assassination of Kennedy.

McLarry, 21, a part-time college student described by his father as a "nice kid who shoots off his mouth too much sometimes," was in the county jail today in lieu of $2,500 bond.

He was arrested yesterday and charged with threatening Kennedy's life prior to the assassination Nov. 22. Secret Service agents quoted him as saying he was "proud — no glad" that Kennedy was dead.

U. S. Atty. Barford Sanders of Dallas said: "So far as we know there is no connection" between McLarry and the president's death.

"We merely charged him with making a threat against the president, a definite violation of the law, but that's as far as it goes."

Sanders said McLarry apparently had no association with Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of killing Kennedy.

COMPLAINT CHARGES
The complaint naming McLarry charges:

"On Nov. 21, he made certain threats to take the life of and to inflict bodily harm upon John F. Kennedy, then the President of the United States, by stating in substance that he would be working near the Trade Mart in Dallas, Tex., where the President was supposed to speak, and that he would be waiting with a gun to get the President."

McLarry said he recalled making a statement that might have been construed as a threat.

"I don't remember exactly what I said. The statement I made was a joke. If I can be tried for a joke and found guilty — well, that's the extent of it," he said.

Area Engineer Is Witness

Clair L. Johnson, president of Johnson & Anderson, Inc., Waterford Township engineering firm, was called to testify at a Flint one-man grand jury probe yesterday.

Johnson spent only 15 minutes with the grand juror, Genesee County Circuit Judge Donn D. Parker.

He was one of three representatives of engineering firms who were called to testify yesterday, as the probe concluded its 10th session.

The Waterford firm is engineering consultant for a $1-million Genesee County sewage disposal project near Flint.

ALLEGED FRAUD

Pontiac Voters Facing Registration Deadline

By DICK SAUNDERS

There may be fewer people eligible to vote in Pontiac Jan. 13 than at any time in the last 16 years.

The interesting twist is that Jan. 13 Pontiac will decide if they want to change their method of voting.

Eligible voters will cast ballots that day for or against a proposal to change the procedure of electing city commissioners.

The last official count of voter registrations was made last February, according to City Clerk Olga Barkley. There were about 36,000 eligible voters then.

DEADLINE MONDAY

The deadline for new registrations for the Jan. 13 special election was last Monday.

Mrs. Barkley reports about 100 new registered voters. That puts the total at about 37,000.

But that may be short-lived. There may be only 30,000 eligible voters after Dec. 31.

MAILED CARDS

About a month ago, the clerk mailed some 9,500 yellow cards to Pontiac residents whose voter registration is due to expire Jan. 1.

The unusually large number of expirations stems from the new State Constitution which requires Michigan residents to vote or register every two years. It used to be every four years.

"About 2,500 of the cards have been returned," Mrs. Barkley said yesterday. "There are about 7,000 still out."

"Those who return the cards by Dec. 31 will be eligible to vote Jan. 13," she said.

However, cards returned after Dec. 31 won't do the trick because the clerk can't continue a registration that has already expired. She can only issue a new registration.

Anyone registering after Jan. 1 can't vote in the Jan. 13 election.

Voter registrations in Pontiac have consistently numbered 32,000 or better since a city primary in 1948 when only 24,000 were registered.

On the ballot Jan. 13 will be (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Ex-SS Guards Go On Trial

Charged With Crimes
at Auschwitz Prison

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Nazi SS guards facing court today in Germany's biggest war crimes trial testified they had tried to dodge duty in Auschwitz concentration camp but were unsuccessful.

Twenty guards and an ex-SS officer went on trial on charges that they had a part in the death of millions of inmates of the camp, in Nazi-occupied Poland, which became Adolf Hitler's most efficient death factory.

They were accused of murder or complicity in an undetermined number of gasings, shootings, hangings or fatal torture.

Former SS (elite guard) Capt. Rudolf Mulka, 68, highest ranking among the defendants, told the court he did not know that Auschwitz was a concentration camp before he reported to its camp commander, Rudolf Hoess in 1942.

DIARY IS EVIDENCE

Hoess was hanged in Poland in 1947. He kept a diary, which is part of the evidence, in which he described Auschwitz atrocities in detail. Most of the victims were Jews, but many Poles and Russians also perished at Auschwitz.

Mulka said he did not want to become a Nazi party member and that he was kicked out of his Auschwitz post for insulting a Nazi leader.

Two other defendants said they made every effort to avoid their concentration camp assignment but were refused transfers by superiors.

There was no immediate testimony on actual conditions in Auschwitz.

There was scant public interest. Sixty seats were reserved for the public but they were not filled.

McNamara and top American officials based in Viet Nam had an afternoon-long conference with the ruling junta, including the chief of state, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, and Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho.

McNamara, who had been given a somber briefing by U.S. officers on events since the Nov. 1 coup that overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem, said Minh explained in detail the Vietnamese military plans for delta and north of Saigon we can expect fireworks in the near future."

The spokesman said an American pilot reconnaissance plane hit by guerrilla fire Tuesday swooped down on a guerrilla emplacement, killing an estimated 20.

Communist guerrillas kept up their rapid-fire attacks, hitting a reported eight military outposts and strategic hamlets in the past two days.

REVISE DEATH FIGURE

The U.S. spokesman said American combat death figures have been revised upward to 89 after an unsuccessful search for the pilot of a fighter-bomber that crashed on a dive-bombing run in early October.

A U.S. Army enlisted man was found dead in his barracks Thursday with a bullet in his chest after he had taken time off to clean his pistol.

Circumstances of the death are being investigated, but it is presumed accidental.

This brings American non-combat deaths in Viet Nam to 69.

Fourteen Americans are missing in action.

Area Weather Will Continue on Cold Side

A few flurries with a low of 5 are possible tonight. Mostly fair skies and a high of 18 is seen for tomorrow.

East 'Greets' West Berliners

Loudspeakers Boom
Out Red Welcome

BERLIN (AP) — Loudspeakers boomed out a Communist welcome today to West Berliners entering East Berlin for the first time since the Red wall was built 28 months ago.

Every elevated train that arrived from the West in the East Berlin station at Friedrichstrasse was greeted with the words:

"Dear citizens of West Berlin, we welcome you to the capital of the German Democratic Republic."

The welcome was real enough. The Reds were putting out the red carpet.

More than 1,000 had passed through the five crossing points in the wall some three hours after East German border guards lifted the steel, candy-striped barriers an hour ahead of schedule.

More than 20,000 West Berliners were expected to make the trip today.

Officials estimate that as many as 800,000 may visit relatives in the East before midnight Jan. 5, when the Christmas crossings end.

Loudspeakers, so often used to hurl propaganda threats at the West, were proclaiming the Christmas truce.

NOT MISS CHANCE
But the Reds were not missing any chance to drive home their political conception of the division of Germany.

Their description of East Berlin as the capital of the Communist republic conflicts with the Western conception that Berlin is under four-power rule and should never have been divided in the first place.

Guards at the crossing points in the wall said "Come into democratic Berlin," but they said it with a smile.

Senate Awaits Compromise on Foreign Aid

End of Session Near as Conferees Iron Out Differences on 2 Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The Senate met three hours early today only to recess after seven minutes, subject to call of its leaders. On what most senators hoped would be the final day of this lengthy session, the only business accomplished initially was routine confirmation of a list of postmaster nominations.

The Senate also was notified formally that the House had agreed to a conference of representatives of the two branches of Congress to seek a compromise on the foreign aid appropriation, last major business scheduled for action.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) obtained unanimous consent to suspend action "subject to call of the chair" while that effort went on.

Senate and House conferees will try to settle a difference of $70 million and iron out a dispute over grain sales to the Soviet bloc as they seek agreement today on foreign aid appropriations.

The Senate has voted $3,272,500,000 for foreign aid for the fiscal year ending July 1, the House $2,801,700,000.

MIDDLE JOB

It is the conferees' job to find a middle ground acceptable to both branches. The original White House request was for $4.5 billion.

The issue was sharply drawn last night when the Senate passed the aid bill 60 to 25 after deciding 22 to 32, House amendment to prohibit the Export-Import Bank from guaranteeing credit for trade with Communist countries.

The House adopted the amendment by a vote of 218-69 Monday and Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck hinted that if House conferees go along with the Senate in knocking it out House Republicans will ask that the bill be returned to conference.

With the House planning to fold up shop tonight, a deadlock could result in putting the bill over until next year.

BACKED BY LBJ

The Senate approved deletion of the commodity sale ban after Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield read a letter from President Johnson urging that course.

Johnson said sale of wheat and other commodities to Communist nations on reasonable terms are "good for our farmers and exporters, good for our shipping and railroad (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Book on Assassination Tells Who, Why, How

Why is Lee Harvey Oswald believed to have been the only one involved in the assassination of President Kennedy, and what kind of a man was he?

Top writers of The Associated Press who were in Dallas and other key points as the tragedy unfolded clearly state the facts in the soon-to-be-ready book, "The Torch Is Passed."

This special news history is being made available to Pontiac Press readers for $2. It can be ordered now with the following coupon for delivery early next month.

A handsomely illustrated hard-cover book in large, 10-by-13-inch size, it uses color and black-and-white photographs with the concise text. Much of the material has not been published before.

TRACES EVENTS
The narrative traces fully the events, starting with the three shots from a cheap rifle that horrified the world, to the searching examination of American ideals and political thought that followed.

County Bill Is Defeated

others consider unconstitutional, and plan to pass another bill in the 1969 regular session after Gov. Romney asks the State Supreme Court for an opinion.

Roberts expects that the court would declare the single-judge districts approved by the House unconstitutional.

WOULD BE UNCERTAIN

This would leave the matter of the appellate court uncertain until next year.

The House amended the Senate bill, which provided for three 5-judge districts. Roberts favored single-judge districts, but accepted the theory that they would be unconstitutional when a study committee he headed drafted the bill.

Roberts said the Senate probably would kill its amendment to a circuit judge bill that would have extended the terms of appointed circuit judges—including three in Oakland County—through 1966 without their having to face election in 1964.

The House originally struck the provision, but the Senate amended it back in.

A Senate bill to give appointed as well as elected Circuit judges the right to a ballot designation of incumbency died in the House when it was sent back to committee yesterday.

MAY DO SAME

However, Roberts and others think another bill, which was passed by both houses, may do the same thing even though it originally was thought the measure applied only to municipal judges.

Controversy over the civil rights commission centered on two measures—one a basic bill dealing with powers, the other with appropriations.

The Senate's action rejecting House amendments wiped out hopes that differences were not major and that the main dispute would be over appropriations.

Although Democrats still bore 111 feeling about Wednesday's bitter partisan fight in the House, tempers had cooled considerably by Thursday and some 12 other bills passed the House with a minimum of debate.

DEMOS PROTEST

Democrats protested, however, that a Republican-sponsored resolution to extend the session through Dec. 24 was out of order and might make any legislation vulnerable to legal challenges.

The plan was to meet "from day to day" except Sunday, but House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston—the chief target of Democratic ire—said he hoped things could be wrapped up by late today.

industry, good for our balance of payments, and good for the country.

"It makes no sense to jeopardize these possible gains by this legislative rider," Johnson said.

REJECT SLASHES

In addition to rejecting the House rider, the Senate turned back by wide bipartisan margins four attempts to make deep slashes in its appropriation. Two minor amendments trimming $27 million from the measure were accepted.

An amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to reduce the bill to $3 billion was rejected 55 to 31.

An effort by Morse to slash supporting economic assistance to defense pact allies from $380 million to $300 million was turned down 55 to 28.

On other votes, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., was defeated 53 to 34 on a move to cut supporting assistance from $380 million to $350 million.

Another Ellender amendment, to reduce economic development funds from $800 million to $600 million, was beaten 54 to 30.

An hour of farm labor today produces more than five times as much food and other crops as it did in the period of 1919-1921.

DR. LYNN D. ALLEN JR.

Gov. Romney Has Hello for Shoppers

LANSING (AP)—Hundreds of hurrying Christmas shoppers in Detroit are likely to be startled Monday when Gov. George Romney steps up to them on the street and says, "Merry Christmas."

The governor and his wife, Lenore, have decided to carry their holiday greetings to the people of Michigan with a schedule of personal appearances, including a few street corners.

They started today with a visit to Walnut Street Elementary School in Lansing.

Romney later told newsmen he was late to work because the children sang Christmas carols.

DODGE PLANT

Monday, the schedule calls for greeting employees of the Dodge Truck Plant in Hamtramck as they report for work at 6:15 a.m.

An hour later, the Romneys plan to be at Griswold and Ford streets, greeting any passerby.

The Romneys attend a reception for state employees later Monday, and then, about 5 p.m., will wander through Michigan's heaviest pedestrian traffic—Woodward Ave. near Hudson's, the state's biggest store.

The traditional governor's reception for state employees will be held the following Monday, Dec. 30.

Senate Eyed by Optometrist

Pontiac Man Plans State Candidacy

Pontiac optometrist Dr. Lynn D. Allen Jr. today announced his candidacy for the State Senate in 1969.

Sen. of the late Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, Dr. Allen has been active in the Republican party since he was 3 years old in 1932, when his father first sought and won the clerk's office.

Currently the GOP director for the 2nd Legislative District (City of Pontiac), the 38-year-old Republican said he would run in the northern half of the county if the legislature adopts the bipartisan plan for Senate reapportionment worked out by the two parties in the county.

This district would take in Pontiac and all other county areas north of 20 Mile.

3 SEATS

The county expects to get three Senate seats. It now has only one.

Dr. Allen, who lives at 110 Wenden, said, however, that he would seek a GOP senate nomination regardless of the final districting.

He said this was based on the assumption that incumbent State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, also a Republican, would not be running for reelection in the same district.

It will be Dr. Allen's first bid for elective office although he has long been active in civic affairs as well as GOP activities. He was named Pontiac's outstanding young man in 1957.

He has been a member of the Pontiac school study commission, a member of the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees since 1958, past president of the First Presbyterian Church Men's Club and past president of West Pontiac Kiwanis. He has been active in the United Fund for 12 years.

Court MBPAGES Santa Claus to 2 Held in Jail

CINCINNATI (AP)—The federal appeals court has refused to play Santa Claus to two men facing a Christmas behind bars while awaiting sentencing on convictions of transporting obscene books into Michigan.

lega Maxey and Sanford E. Inc., Fresno, Calif., to be released on bond was denied Thursday by a three-judge panel in U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit.

News were convicted at Grand Rapids last Friday following a six-week trial. They were remanded to the Kent County jail there when Federal Judge Noel P. Fox revoked earlier bonds of $10,000 each.

The appeals court panel up-held Fox's bail denial. Fox indicated he revoked the bonds because he was concerned that once the men returned to California it might be difficult to bring them back to Grand Rapids for sentencing.

U.S. Attorney George E. Hill said sentencing probably would be within two weeks.

Maxey, president of West Coast News, and Aday, secretary-treasurer, were each indicted on 19 counts involving eight books: They were convicted on five counts each, which involved only one book, "Sex Life of a Cop."

Runaway Is Killed Fleeing the Police

HAZEL PARK (AP) — A runaway from the Oakland County Children's Center was killed and his companion injured today when their stolen car hit a utility pole as they fled police.

The dead boy was identified as Gary Ladd, 15, of 889 E. Kenneth, Madison Heights.

Police say the other boy, Matt Ransome, 16, of 265 E. Maplehurst, Ferndale, was driving the car. He reportedly is being treated for minor injuries at Highland Park General Hospital. Children's Center officials say the two apparently walked away from the home, Ransome on Dec. 14 and Ladd sometime yesterday.

Sustain Joy and Power of Yule Toy 'Messiah' to Be Sung at OU on Sunday

The Everell E. Fishers of Lone Pine Road presented their daughter Susan Briggs Fisher at a dance Thursday in the Little Club, Grosse Pointe.

Preceding the debut ball, Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Briggs Jr. of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Charles T. Fisher Jr. of Grosse Pointe, honored their niece at a dinner in the Detroit Country Club, Grosse Pointe.

Miss Fisher, a graduate of Eden Hall, Philadelphia, is presently a sophomore at Bar at College of the Sacred Heart in Lake Forest, Ill.

Returns to Pontiac

Barbara Barker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Barker of Martell Drive, has returned from New York City for the holidays. She will entertain friends at a cocktail party at her home Sunday evening.

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. the Oakland University Chorus and the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra will perform the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah." The concert will take place in the intramural building on the campus.

With an orchestra of 60 and a chorus of 130, this performance will mark the second collaboration between these two organizations, both of which are well known locally.

Dr. Walter Collins, chairman of the department of music at OU and director of the University Chorus, and Felix Resnick, director of the Pontiac Symphony, will share conducting duties.

SOLOISTS

Soloists will be Paula Robinson, soprano, a student at OU; Alice Ingram, contralto, a member of the university faculty; Robert Angus, tenor; and Duncan Sella, bass, dean of students at OU.

One special aspect of the performance will be that none of the usual cuts in the score will be made. Instead, Part I, the Christmas portion of Handel's famous oratorium, will be performed in its entirety.

This section includes, among others, the well known choruses, "And Glory to the Lord Shall Be Revealed" and "For Unto Us a Child Is Born," as well as the famous arias, "Comfort Ye My People" (for tenor), "Thus Saith The Lord of Hosts" (for bass), "Rejoice Greatly" (for soprano), and "He Shall Feed His Flock" (for contralto and soprano).

SPONSORSHIP

The concert is given under the joint sponsorship of the Oakland University Community Arts Council and the University's on-campus concert, exhibit and lecture series.

Adult and student tickets are available from salesmen throughout the area and will also be on sale at the door.

Looking like an illustration out of an old fashioned Christmas card, Mrs. Fred Lyon, Royal Oak, totes her bass into rehearsal for Sunday's presentation of the "Messiah" at Oakland University. The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and OU chorus will join forces for the beloved Christmas music.

Susan Briggs Fisher, daughter of the Everell E. Fishers, Lone Pine Road, is the first debutante from the Bloomfield Hills area in about 10 years. She was introduced to society Thursday evening.

When Nap Needed

Friendship Should Wait

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have four children, but the little one takes up more of my time than any of the others.

You see, she was born with an incomplete stomach (it wasn't fully developed) and she has had six operations already and she isn't even three years old.

Well, I have to get up in the night with her many times and I don't get much sleep. I try to catch a little nap in the afternoon because she sleeps for about an hour then.

This friend of mine comes to visit me every afternoon without fail. She is a widow, is lonely and has nowhere else to go.

She keeps me from my nap, but I can't tell her not to come or she will be hurt. What can I do?

DEAR NO: You are mistaken. A real friend would appreciate your telling her.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with an 18-year-old daughter. She works with a woman who has a shrimp for a son. He is 22.

This woman influenced my daughter to start going with her son because a girl had just thrown him over and he was supposed to be all broken up.

Well, before I knew it my daughter was wearing a used engagement ring and now they are talking marriage.

When I told her not to be in such a hurry, the boy's mother cinched the deal by getting my daughter to move out of the house and move in with them.

So now I am alone and have nothing to say. My daughter never had a boyfriend before this one and won't listen to anyone. What can I do?

ON THE OUTSIDE

DEAR ON: Your daughter

is of age and there is nothing you can do.
