

Kennedy's Pick for No. 2 Spot Due Shortly; Sen. Symington Looms as Best Compromise

STANDARD-BEARER — Sen. John F. Kennedy early this morning addresses the Democratic National Convention delegates after they had made him their choice for the presidency. He told them, "We will carry the fight to the people in the fall and we shall win." With him as

Now Skeptics Believe Anything

Kennedy 'Quake' Strikes

By JOE HAAS

LOS ANGELES—It was like one of those earthquakes that now are quite accurately predicted a few days in advance.

It also was akin to such a quake because some skeptics refused to believe it would happen. Now they'll believe most anything. It happened, Los Angeles people say, before the largest crowd that ever saw a candidate nominated for president of the United States.

While it came by what the supporting men call "a narrow squeak," it made political history. Sam Rayburn tried to be the speaker of the day in presenting after 10 minutes, the name of Lyndon Johnson. The

For Finishing Courthouse

AFL-CIO Backs Mill Hike

The Oakland County AFL-CIO Council last night endorsed the county's proposed millage increase to finish the new courthouse.

"All delegates recognize that we are taxed heavily for service rendered, but also realize that if these two propositions fail it will cost the taxpayers much more on a catch-as-catch-can basis than it will to complete the building in a one-shot program," the delegates agreed in a prepared statement.

County taxpayers will vote Aug. 2 on a four-year half-mill tax hike package to bring in an estimated million dollars a year to pay for additional buildings in the County Service Center where a six-story courthouse tower is going up.

The second proposition is a constitutional provision allowing for the millage to be outside of the 15-mill taxing limitation.

Nominee Holds VP Talks With Big State Bosses

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, said today he hopes within a few hours to pick his running mate for the election campaign.

The Democratic presidential nominee gave this word to reporters shortly after noon when he arrived at the Biltmore Hotel where he had a conference scheduled with Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania and Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago. A purpose of their conference obviously was to talk over the No. 2 place of the party ticket.

Pete Cooper Leads Early at Western

DETROIT—Unpredictable winners were giving the nation's finest golfers some unexpected trouble today in the opening round of the Western Open Golf Tournament at Western Golf and Country Club.

Pete Cooper, former Knollwood pro now playing out of Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico, forged into the early first round lead with a two under par 70.

Cooper toured the front side in 36 strokes and came home in 34.

Jack Doff, a 6-foot-1 shotmaker from Monroe, La., and Canadian pro Stan Leonard were not on Cooper's heels with 71.

EX-FREEZ CHAMP

Doff, 27, a former Louisiana state high school champion who has had virtually no success in nearly two years on the pro circuit, birdied three holes on the front nine to make the turn in 33. On the back nine, however, he sandwiched three bogies around a birdie three to slip to 35.

Par over Western's river-infested layout is 36-36-72.

Frank "Red" Wilson, Pontiac Country Club pro, got off to a bad start in one of his rare tournament appearances. Wilson fired 40-40-80.

Pontiac's Gene Bone, head pro at Warwick Hills, was 37 at the turn. Defending champion Mike Soucek had all kinds of woes on the front and turned with a fat 41 on his scorecard.

Art Wall, sharing the favorite's role with Soucek, was a late starter.

Keyes Turned Down for Spot on Ballot

LANSING—The State Supreme Court today turned down Dr. Eugene C. Keyes' bid to win a place on the Aug. 2 primary ballot as a Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor.

The high court, after a poll of its members this morning, held that Keyes' nominating petitions "were insufficient to allow certification."

A formal opinion setting forth its reasoning will follow at a later date, it said.

The action left four candidates in the running for the party's nomination for the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

Keyes, a Dearborn physician-lawyer, dentist who twice was elected lieutenant governor as a Republican in the 1940s, was refused a place on the ballot by the Board of State Canvassers.

HIS SMILING WIFE — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the Massachusetts senator, smiles and talks to newsmen in front of her Hyannisport, Mass., home after her husband was nominated the presidential candidate by the Democratic convention in Los Angeles early this morning.

Jacqueline Kennedy Very Excited, Happy

But none of the excitement of the television voting affected the Kennedys' daughter Caroline, 2½, her mother said.

"She slept all through it and doesn't know yet what happened," she said.

The candidate's wife, a big smile unable to hide signs of fatigue, came out onto the veranda of the Kennedy home shortly after Wyoming's vote nailed down the Democratic presidential nomination for her husband.

Some 75 persons, newsmen and neighbors, were waiting as she walked a short distance across a lawn and stood under a rose arbor.

"I'm very excited about it, of course," she said in response to questions. She added she would not fly out to the convention to join her husband. "As much as I'd like to," she explained her doctor forbade it.

Mrs. Kennedy is expecting a child in late November or early December.

In a red and pink flowered print sun dress, the nominee's wife had barely begun to answer other questions when there came a shout from inside the house. "He's on."

She flew back to listen to the nominee in his brief appearance before the convention. The interview was over.

AFTER KNIFING—Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi is carried to an ambulance in Tokyo after being stabbed six times today. His wounds were "not serious." A 65-year-old rightist was arrested for the assault.

Kishi Stabbed 6 Times in Thigh — Rightist Held

Resigning Premier to Be Hospitalized 10 Days — Election Not Delayed

Doctors said Kishi would be out of the hospital in 10 days, and his ruling Liberal-Democratic party went ahead with plans to accept his resignation and elect Trade Minister Hayato Ikeda Prime Minister Friday.

Kishi was attacked at the Prime Minister's official residence as he drank banal champagne toasts with party leaders in celebration of Ikeda's election earlier today to succeed him as party president.

The party election was a preliminary to the government change which Kishi had promised after the controversial U.S. Japanese security treaty took effect last month.

Bleeding profusely, Kishi was rushed to a nearby hospital. A secretary said he was cracking jokes with visitors within an hour. One of his doctors said neither the artery nor the sciatic nerve had been cut.

GIVES NO REASON

Police arrested the assailant, Daisuke Aramaki, 63, a member of a small, unaffiliated rightist group. He refused to say why he had attacked the Prime Minister or how he had obtained the Liberal-Democratic party badge that he used to enter the official residence.

The attack on Kishi occurred just a month after another rightist stabbed and injured a prominent Socialist, Jotaro Kawakami, near the Parliament Building. The two attacks aroused fears that Japan is in for a revival of the prewar terrorism in which the notorious rightist Black Dragon Society played a leading role.

Although the Liberal-Democrats still planned to make the government change Friday, there was a possibility the Socialist minority in the lower house of the Diet, or parliament, might try some delaying tactic. Fought in their attempt to block the U.S.-Japanese pact, the Socialists and other leftists lately have been railing against Ikeda.

Mercury Will Drop to 50 This Evening

Clear skies and cooler temperatures may be expected with the low dipping to a chilly 50 degrees tonight, the weatherman said.

Friday will be fair and a little warmer, the high climbing again to the mid-70s. Mostly cloudy with scattered showers is the outlook for Saturday.

Fifty-eight was the lowest recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the temperature reading was 72.

Air Saved but One in Two Plane Crashes

Five U. S. Rescue Craft Tow Northwest Rafts to Calmer Waters

MANILA (AP) — Two airliners crashed off the Philippines at opposite ends of the island chain before dawn today, only eight minutes apart. All but one of the 38 persons aboard survived in the baby waters.

One wing was on fire when a Northeast Orient Airlines plane carrying 38 persons ditched off the Palillo Islands about 80 miles northwest of Manila. U. S. military amphibious planes picked up 37 survivors and the body of one woman passenger and brought them to Manila. One survivor was reported seriously injured.

Eight minutes before, a Philippine Airlines DC-4 had ditched in shallow water near Danuoguet, off Negros Island in the southern Philippines. The plane was bound from Manila for Zamboanga City, but had weathered a pre-arranged landing. The pilot ran out of gas. The 27 passengers and 3 crewmen all reached shore safely.

The American airliner was approaching Manila on a flight from New York to Hong Kong after stops in Seattle, Anchorage, Tokyo and Okinawa.

PROPELLER WILD

About an hour before the Northwest airliner crash, the pilot reported his No. 2 propeller had "run away" and he was unable to feather it. Then the engine caught fire, the flames spread to the wing, and the four-engine DC-4 hit the water.

Rescue planes sighted signal flares on the water near the crash scene, put down, and taxied out to the survivors huddled on four rafts.

A rescue pilot said the water was so rough that the rafts had to be towed to a cove so the survivors could be loaded on the five planes.

The Northwest survivors were flown to Manila's International Airport and the U. S. Naval Base at Sangley Point, Manila Bay. They arrived eight hours after the crash. Most were able to walk to ambulances. They were driven to hospitals.

Airline officials withheld the names of the dead woman and the seriously injured survivor.

The passengers were shoeless, in wet clothes, and were still clinging to lifebelts. But most were in good spirits and full of praise for pilot David Rall of Seattle, Wash., and six members of his crew.

Amelia Battalino, 31, of Westfield, Conn., was still soaking wet in her yellow and green dress. She was on a "world tour."

"Everyone was simply marvelous," she reported. "There was absolutely no panic among the passengers, and the crew managed the whole situation so very well."

Pilot Rall said it was his first accident in 13 years of flying. "I can't recall what happened," he said. "All I know is we reacted the way we were trained."

Canada Zephyrs Take Starch Out of U. S. Summer

By The Associated Press
Canada continued to blow a refreshing breeze across the heart of the country today.
Temperatures dropped into the 40s in the Great Lakes area and across Mississippi Valley during early morning hours. Reading averaged 10 degrees lower than the previous day as far south as Texas, and Wednesday was considered unseasonably cool.

Convention Acoustics Improved

Can Almost Hear Self Think

By JOE HAAS

LOS ANGELES — The Sports Arena acoustics, very bad at the opening session Monday, now have been improved and a person can almost hear himself think.

Jack Kennedy is a down-to-the-grass-roots campaigner. He stopped his big cavalcade when entering the city from the airport long enough to use a gas station rest room.

In the press section the newsmen have upholstered arm chairs and plenty of desk room for their typewriters. Some difference from the callosus-forming folding camp stools at previous conventions. Chicago, take notice.

A raucous clanging of protest arose from the Michigan delegation Monday when the speaker announced that our Margaret Price is from "Wisconsin."

The local prelate who gave the first invocation ran it out almost to the length of a principal address. And then, after praying for the nominee for president, completely overlooked the vice president.

The air conditioning at the Sports Arena is absolutely perfect. But so far so is the temperature outside.

Dr. Detroit's Cobo Hall has anything to best this for the conventions which they hope to land. It will have to go some in every respect.

Immediately after his opening inspirational talk, a boom was started for Frank Church of Idaho for the nomination for vice president. In fact, the banners and all other paraphernalia were ready ahead of time.

The display of Hollywood talent at the opening session brought quick reaction from the Republicans, who claim the movie capital is now in their ranks, and that they'll have a more stunning array at Chicago.

A Los Angeles paper Tuesday gave all other candidates except Kennedy two chances — "slim and none."

The speed demons on the Los Angeles freeway remind me of Bob Oliver, who drove the length of Nebraska, 500 miles, in 10 hours.

Just after that, he was a guest at the Keego Harbo Kiwanis luncheon, and was a speaker. He told them about it.

Justice Elmer Dieterle of Keego was present, but I didn't know that he then had a speeding charge pending against Bob, whose reaction to my remarks was, "You surely did spill a carload of beans."

Among the missives received, the shortest comes from my boss. But it surely warrants the innermost cockles of a falling heart. It's a telegram of one word, "Well."

This Great West is now, as shown by an item in a Los Angeles paper in telling about speeches made by famous Democrats, "Train driver Cleveland dined in modern times."

itself, I have no trouble getting lost in it. Without going outside, you can buy anything from a candy bar to an automobile or airplane. It also is close to downtown.

Don't let anybody tell you that the California citrus industry is passing out. The Santa Fe Railroad alone starts a whole trainload of oranges to eastern points every night.

My reservations called for me to leave here Thursday, but they have been extended to Saturday, so I can follow the great show for you to its end.

The opening session was a tire-some one, because of the many routine procedures necessary to lay the groundwork for the rest of the convention.

There's no doubt in any Californian's mind that the state will pass New York in the next decade, and will become the most populous in the life.

anything this country has ever seen.

There is no doubt about the Kennedys making this a family affair. All members of that family are in the multi-million category. They'll spend to the utter dollar to make Jack president.

Hence, the Republicans are at a financial disadvantage if Nixon is their nominee. He cannot muster the means to match funds with which the Kennedy clan is equipped.

Perhaps the Republicans may elect to make the fight with him at the head of their ticket, hoping that the general public will evaluate a disgust for such a flagrant and a bad wrist were both stated reasons for dropping out of the $25,000 event.

Pete Cooper, 33, of Dallas, Texas, was the favorite to win. He was a guest at the Keego Harbo Kiwanis luncheon, and was a speaker. He told them about it.

use of money to win a nomination, and then an election.

But money talks in politics the same as in any other language, and the Republican top brass is getting dubious about Dick. He could stay on his present job for another four or eight years, and still be in the prime of life, as presidential aspirants are judged.

Hence, a movement already is underway to match multimillions with multimillions, and nominee Nelson Rockefeller to head the ticket, giving Nixon back his name. Rockefeller hasn't said he would not relish such a situation.

His experience in quelling what the Democrats considered a sure bet in the state of New York, and his excellent record as its governor prove that he had that magical voice getting touch and proven ability for a big job.

Yes, there's a lot of cogitating and reflecting being done in advance of what happens at the stockyards auditorium week after next.

Bloomfield Hills Woman Dies After Accident

A Bloomfield Hills woman whose back was broken in an accident in Bloomfield Township a week ago died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Henry F. Frakum, 38, of 860 Lone Pine Rd., was injured when a trailer truck driven by James F. Frakum of Monroe, Ind., ran a red light at Maple and Telegraph roads last Thursday, police said.

The truck traveling south hit the Kallits car broadside, knocking it into several other cars, injuring eight persons.

A witness told police Frakum ran a red light. He was released on a $100 bond.

Bloomfield Police Chief Norman Denhke said new charges are being prepared against the driver.

The Day in Birmingham

Former Pupils Will Honor Mrs. Long at Reunion

BIRMINGHAM — A teacher who taught 23 consecutive years at the now defunct Tusculum School in Bloomfield Township will be honored by alumni Sunday at a picnic in Davisburg.

Guest of honor at the reunion will be Mrs. Josephine Long, who taught at the school on Franklin road near Telegraph road from 1937 to 1950.

The school closed in 1950, but Mrs. Long continued teaching in the Bloomfield Hills School District another nine years, retiring June 1959.

A history of the old Tusculum School, founded in 1857, and pictures of former pupils and teachers have been made into a scrapbook and will be presented to Mrs. Long during the picnic.

The former school building is now a Lutheran Church and its pastor the Rev. William Grafe was once a pupil of Mrs. Long.

Frank Longmire, 83, of Pontiac, the school's oldest alumnus, is expected to attend the picnic. Longmire began school at Tusculum in 1881.

Planning to attend the reunion also are ten former teachers, including Township Supervisor Arnold Hulet who was once principal of the school.

The school, originally a log cabin built by families in the area, was replaced by the present building in 1922.

The picnic will be held at the Davisburg Park beginning at 1 p.m. It is the first school reunion since 1920.

For the second year in a row, C. E. Valentine Jr. of 3108 Broadway Blvd., Bloomfield Township, captured top honors at the Classic Car Club of America's Midwest Grand Classic at Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

Valentine's center door entry, a 1937 Mercedes-Benz 500K four-passenger Cabriolet, was awarded 90 points. This was the highest registered by any of the nearly 80 entries and gave him the midwest grand championship.

Valentine, however, lost for the second time in his try for national honors to Jack B. Nethercutt of Los Angeles.

Nethercutt, competing in the Western Grand Classic, held simultaneously at Redondo Beach, Calif., scored 100 points with his 1937 Rolls Royce Phantom III.

But there were some among the Kennedy strategists who urged that first refusal of the vice presidential nomination be given to Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

With Kennedy's guidance, the convention is expected to name the vice presidential nominee tonight.

In a demonstration of power that surprised even his own leaders, Kennedy swept to a smashing first victory as the first Roman Catholic to be nominated for the presidency since Al Smith.

JOHNSON GOT 400
He rolled over Johnson, the South's choice, who collected only 400 votes. He left Adlai E. Stevenson, the darling of the sentimental and excited farmers, far behind with 794 scattered votes.

To win, Kennedy didn't need any of the 41 Gov. Robert B. Meyer of New Jersey left in his corner, nor any of the 414 that were cast for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

The booming tallies of the big states, where the heavy electoral vote will count most in November, put Kennedy across in a conviction that had accepted his nomination as an almost foreclosed matter and had little for delegates to say about.

In the showdown, New York laid 194½ votes on the line for the West senator. Pennsylvania clipped in with 85, Ohio 64, Illinois 61½, Michigan 42½, Massachusetts 41, Indiana 34, and California 33½.

SOUTH REBELS
Scattered voters—many of them from the West where Johnson believed he was strong—lifted Kennedy to his winning total.

But the South wanted none of the 45-year-old gladiator who had showed his elders among his opponents that by winning all the primaries in which he was entered and in tireless campaigning for more than two years he had forged a crushing machine.

Kennedy's Close-Knit Family Battles Tooth and Nail to Win

By FRANCES LEWINE
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Kennedy clan—three generations of it—went to bat with money, sweat and stamina to get Sen. John F. Kennedy the Democratic presidential nomination.

Their team spirit got its start on the playing fields of Harvard. They found it could score for them in politics too.

Alongside Jack were Kennedy's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, ex-ambassador to Britain, to the family's 16 grandchildren.

Youthful Kennedy brothers visited coal mines, leaped from ski jumps and worked around the clock in primaries from New Hampshire to West Virginia.

His wife, mother and sisters presided at political teas and receptions, shook thousands of hands.

In-laws pitched in as well. Among them is movie actor Peter Lawford.

The subtle rules of the game left the ranking Kennedy clansman on the sidelines, though.

Joe Kennedy, 71, whose major ambition is to see his son president, kept out of the campaign front line and made no public speeches.

THOUGHT IT BEST

Jack and his aides reportedly thought it best for the controversial old man to stay on the sidelines, though they say he exerted "terrific" influence over Jack.

Joe Kennedy has his own political score. He served as U.S. ambassador to Britain in the day of Munich and Adolf Hitler.

The elder Kennedy is still tagged with an isolationist label from those early World War II days when he tried to keep America out of the war "unless we are attacked."

He was a good friend of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and staunch admirer of Chamberlain's "peace in our time" dealings with Hitler.

He was called an appeaser, a charge he said was "false and malicious."

Though he later lashed out at Nazi brutality and persecution, Kennedy said in 1938 that dictators and democratic countries, instead of hammering away at each other, should try to establish good relations. "We have to live together in the same world, whether we like it or not," he said.

It was reported that Ambassador Kennedy urged Winston Churchill to make a deal with Hitler after Dunkirk. Kennedy finally resigned as ambassador at the end of 1940.

Eight years ago, when son Jack launched his Senate career, father Joe tried to sever the cords of political inheritance.

Joe Kennedy declared he was "in complete disagreement" with his son on foreign policy. "I couldn't possibly have any sort of argument with anyone about foreign policy than I have had with my son," he added.

But Joe Kennedy was plugging for Jack to win the senatorial nomination and the subsequent election.

He didn't make public speeches or campaign for his son. But even then he wore a deep blue tie with the silver inscription "Kennedy for President," a gift from friends.

The driving ambition of presidential candidate Kennedy doubtless comes from his Irish-Catholic father. Brought up in a moderately well-to-do Boston family, Joe Kennedy set out to be a millionaire by the time he was 35—and succeeded far ahead of schedule.

Today, Joe Kennedy's wealth, derived from banking, liquor, the motion picture industry, shipping and Wall Street interests, has been estimated in the tens of millions.

To each of his nine children—seven are still living—he said he gave a trust fund of "at least a million" each.

TIGHT KNOT CLAN

The Kennedy family, including all those married into it, are a tight-knit group. They are devout Catholics. Cardinals have officiated at their weddings.

When the clan gathers at the family summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., on Cape Cod, athletics is usually the main interest. Touch football has long been a favorite with them.

Joe Kennedy's four sons followed in his footsteps and were graduated from Harvard, where they starred at baseball, football or swimming.

His five daughters were educated in Catholic schools, convents and colleges.

All but the eldest daughter, Rosemary, who teaches in a convent school, are married and have children.

Tragedy struck two of the Kennedy children.

Eldest son, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., was killed as a Navy pilot in World War II. He had been the first of the young Kennedys to embark on a political career.

Kathleen Kennedy, already a war widow, was killed in plane crash in France in 1948 at the age of 28. Her husband, son of a British duke, had been killed in World War II combat.

President of a Boston bank at age 25, Joe Kennedy Sr. said, "It's no crime to be young."

Now his son Jack, at 43, one of the youngest presidential nominees in history, is fighting the stigma of a youthful appearance in seeking a venerable office.

VP TIMBER—Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota has been mentioned among the front runners as Sen. John F. Kennedy's choice for a running mate. Freeman, who is one year younger than Kennedy's 43, placed the Massachusetts senator's name in nomination before the Dem convention Wednesday.

Storm Sewer Complete $3,000 Surplus in Sylvan

The announcement of a finished drainage project, last year's budget figures and plans for a coming year were the three top items on the agenda at Wednesday night's monthly Sylvan Lake City Council meeting.

City Manager David E. Firestone announced the completion of a $1,800 storm sewer in the Pioneer Highlands subdivision. It reads that district for the blacktopping of streets.

Firestone, who has resigned to become Troy city manager, also told councilmen that a preliminary tabulation showed the 1959-60 budget gave the city a surplus of about $3,000.

"This is outstanding when you consider that we made more purchases last year than in normal years and paid a fee of $3,000 to consulting engineers for the blacktop program," Firestone said.

This fee eventually will return to the general fund in special assessments.

$1,365 SURPLUS

Last year's budget (1959-60) showed a surplus of $1,365, after it succeeded in absorbing some $2,000 in bills unpaid by the previous budget.

Councilmen explained this year's rosy financial picture as being brought about by investing and re-investing surplus funds throughout the year and saving hundreds of dollars through centralizing the purchasing procedure.

"The interest on money invested in short-term federal bonds brought the city $1,888.89 and we did a little shopping for the best prices when purchasing needed materials and supplies," the city manager explained.

The Council moved to send a letter to the State Highway Dept. requesting that Orchard Lake Road be widened and resurfaced in connection with the city's blacktop program.

The major highway has been scheduled for such work by state officials this year.

The Council announced a special meeting for Monday night to open and tabulate bids for the $25,000 in bonds needed to begin the paving program.

Firestone announced that construction bids would be opened at the city hall on July 21 and go to the Council for final acceptance July 23 at a special meeting.

The $101,000 blacktopping project is scheduled to start in August.

Cordless Era Already Here for Appliances

NEW YORK (UPI)—There are radios, electric shavers, dictating machines and clocks running today on electricity but without electric cords. And next year will see the introduction of a cordless vacuum cleaner.

Another project in the works is cordless lamps for floor and table.

The secret of cordless electricity is the rechargeable nickel cadmium battery. When its power is used up you simply plug it into a household electrical socket overnight. The next day it is as good as new.

American Telephone and Telegraph Co. uses large nickel cadmium batteries for standby power sources in its power rooms because, unlike conventional batteries, nickel cadmium batteries do not run down when idle.

The nuclear freighter USS Savannah is equipped with the batteries just in case its atomic power should fail.

And for the common man there's an electric razor, the batteries, to take care of the man who wants to get away from civilization on the weekend, or at other times on a boat, in the woods, or anywhere where electricity doesn't reach.

How about cordless batteries for automobiles? Could National Batteries, Inc., Easthampton, Mass., one of the leading producers of nickel cadmium batteries, report it can make you a car about $325. It will last you 50 years — if you drive a car that long.

Child's Shoelaces Will Not Knot With Clip Gadget

EAST LANSING (AP)—An East Lansing man thinks he has solved the knotty problem caused when children's shoes come untied.

Charles S. Ruffing, an educational television specialist at Michigan State University, found necessity the mother of invention.

He and his wife have four small children and the shoelaces just wouldn't stay tied.

Ruffing perfected a small clip-like gadget that snaps over the top of the shoe and holds the laces securely.

A dime store chain and a large drug organization placed sizable orders after a shoe firm ran consumer tests showing the gadget was well received in Detroit.

The King James Version of the Bible, which remains the most popular, was first published in 1611.

Congo People Cannot Handle Independence

Self-rule calls for more education, training, responsibility and discipline than the Congo people can bring to bear for their new found independence.

This nation which came into being just a short time ago is on the verge of breaking up. The new government has failed in a primary test. It was not capable of maintaining law and order after the Belgian authorities retired from its position as a colonial power.

The charge is made that the Belgians in their long regime neglected to train the native people for independent status. This may, or may not be true. A further charge is the Belgians should have deferred giving independence to the Congo.

It is too late to debate these questions, because a more acute question calls for action. What should be done to restore stability to the region and prevent the Communists from taking advantage of a disorderly situation?

The free world has a big stake in the Congo. The prestige of the democratic way of life must be maintained and the troubled region preserved as part of the resources of the western nations.

Leo F. McDonald

The death of LEO F. McDONALD, a Pontiac Municipal Court Clerk who enjoyed the intense admiration of not only those with whom he worked but the thousands who knew his gentle ways, will be a great loss to this City.

He was a man proud of his job and anxious to see it carried out in a competent fashion. Leo's record as a city employee was impeccable, and his fellow workers have only compliments about his ability and kindness.

Mr. McDONALD had a well developed business sense that especially suited him in his capacity as Municipal Court Clerk where he supervised handling of large sums of money.

He lived quietly and simply, yet left a definite mark as an able and loyal city servant. He will be greatly missed by the City and the family he leaves behind.

International Affairs Second to Convention

National political conventions are by nature self-centered to the point of disregarding any and all other happenings around them. Their show is an extravaganza, and it is covered as such by press, radio and TV.

A hasty glance behind the front pages and the world news is in a pretty sorry state. Cuba might be well likened to a crisis. But with the convention going on, awareness of this is beyond recognition.

The delegates and the candidates alike, show little worry or even interest in what may develop from Cuba and Mr. CASTRO. The latest plane incident and Mr. K with his threats seem of little interest.

One can't help but feel that we have far graver problems than much of the fanfare and hoopla. So much that goes on at the conventions, seems artificial that it tends to lack any semblance of dignity.

Maybe the system should not be criticized since it is free Americans in action. Choosing party nominees is important to our way of life.

We only hope that the international affairs of the moment will be given proper attention. For unless we are misreading many signs the world has plenty of controversial matters at hand.

"For Princess MARGARET and her husband to spend $67,000 on their honeymoon is outrageous extravagance!" snorts a columnist. Most of those who have had honeymoons, however, believe they're worth whatever they cost, no matter how much.

NIXON gets all the breaks. HAROLD STASSEN has come out strong for ROCKEFELLER.

The Man About Town

Our Fair of 1856

County Exposition of 104 Years Ago Now Recalled

Garden: A thing of beauty and a joy forever.

Over a century ago Pontiac had one of the leading agricultural fairs in the state. It was held on permanent grounds between North Saginaw and Perry Streets, and north of the present Fairgrounds. Where very commodious buildings had been erected.

A handbook of the 1856 edition of the proceedings of the Michigan Agricultural Society, submitted to me by Ward Eagle of Farmington, tells all about it. The book of almost 800 pages recounts the work of other Michigan fairs.

However the annual exposition of the Oakland County Agricultural Society appears to be among the leaders. Officers in charge of the fair 104 years ago included:

James Bayley as President, and Recording Secretary was J. R. Bowman.

Men and women from all over the county being selected to look after the exhibits. There is every evidence that it was primarily a fair and not a carnival, and the rules prohibited anybody from driving a horse at more than six miles per hour.

The small size of the prizes gives evidence that there was no inflation in those times and that every penny counted. The total of the premium list was only $1,200, but it brought out 1,161 entries, made by 416 exhibitors, and included 250 horses and 142 cattle.

First prizes were: horses, $7; cattle, $6; sheep, $3; swine, $2; poultry, $2; butter, $3; needwork, $2; cheese, $3; bread, $2; biscuits, $2; cookies, $2; pickles, $2; maple syrup, $2; honey, $2; flowers, $2; fruit, $2; vegetables, $2; grain, $3; with a grand prize of $15 for the best cultivated farm. Memberships brought in $474.50 and $397.28 was received for admission tickets, every phase of the fair showing an increase over the previous year.

Assistant Director of the Highway Traffic Safety Center at Michigan State University.

Leslie R. Silvernale, tells me that the primary cause of auto accidents is that we put too much faith in the driver of the other car.

Those two closely neighboring villages, Holly and Fenton, are getting together. According to President.

Harry Lemen of the latter, Fenton is to call the street leading across it in the south "Holly Road" through its entire length. It has been known by three different names.

How Did Kennedy Do It?

Jack's Strategy Near Faultless

By BRUCE BROSART

LOS ANGELES (NEA) — It was February, and Sen. John F. Kennedy's campaign for the Democratic nomination was rolling with surprisingly early speed. A man telephoned a Kennedy manager and said:

"Somebody's making some pretty sharp decisions. Who's doing it?"

The reply: "You ought to know by now. It's John Fitzgerald Kennedy."

Others heard mightily, above all his brother Bobby, his one real political counselor, who in Los Angeles drove the famous Kennedy combine to reap a full delegate harvest. Ted Sorensen, the senator's storehouse of varied talents, and Larry O'Brien, using No. 1 field man and hard-hitting delegate hustler.

At base, however, it has been Kennedy himself the entire way. This is the story of the critical decisions he made in his tough, tireless, four-year fight to overcome the three big strikes challenged against him from the start: His Catholicism, his relative youth and his wealth.

Along the battle trail, he left scars, heard growlings of "ruthless pressure" yet saw professional snide in disbelief at his chances.

But when his rivals reached Los Angeles, they struck a massive wall of Kennedy delegate strength. With a shock they learned he had already grasped the hard-won victory in the field.

Kennedy, seldom sleeping and never stumbling as they had expected, outgeneraled them through out.

It can now be reported that Kennedy alone made the hard choices affecting such battlegrounds as Wisconsin, West Virginia, Ohio, California, Maryland, New York.

When Kennedy on Jan. 2 stood in the marble Senate caucus room and announced his entry into the 1960 race, he was the constant conviction. But the real beginning went back to the sudden fame he acquired in the 1956 convention fight for the vice presidential nomination.

That event and its aftermath made him a presidential candidate.

But his three barriers loomed large. Says an associate:

"Riffing through everything he did was the constant conviction that he'd never give it to him, that he'd have to fight for the nomination every inch of the way."

GETS POPULAR SUPPORT

That explains his fundamental decision. To outlive nearly every state in the Union, to win the popular support that might persuade leaders and delegates to swing behind him.

The decision meant not merely travel but voluminous correspondence. A top manager tells what was done.

Wherever he went — and the

Not that there's anything danger-

hundreds of daily invitations gave us easy access any place we wanted to go — we always got the names of all those at the dimers. They all got letters. We built a "grass roots" file and a political file.

"Today the political file holds 40,000 names broken down into seven categories — governors, congressmen, state chairmen and so on. And we've had 5,000 delegate cards loaded with pertinent information."

In 1959 Kennedy hit 33 states. By convention time this year he'd logged around 125,000 additional miles. The senator himself imposed the pattern on this relentless effort.

Near the end the professionals watched in amazement or anger. A man in Sen. Stuart Symington's camp said:

"There's no doubt about it. Jack Kennedy has done a terrific job, far better than most pros thought he could."

Kennedy's grand claim of seven primary victories supplied immense psychological advantage but they provided only 210 of the needed 761 votes. The great bulk of his winning total came from temporary or nonbinding primary states.

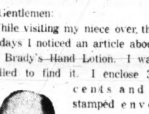

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And on the seventh day God finished his work which he had done, and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had done. — Genesis 2:2.

The Sabbath is God's special present to the working man, and one of its chief objects is to prolong his life, and preserve efficient his working tone. The savings bank of human existence is the weekly Sabbath. — William G. Blaikie

Dr. William Brady Says:

"Gentlemen: While visiting my niece over the holidays I noticed an article about Dr. Brady's Hand Lotion. I was thrilled to find it. I enclose 35 cents and a stamped envelope bearing my address for a copy of Dr. Brady's booklet, 'Save Your Skin, if you have it.' Thank you for taking care of this for me."

Chicago. The hand lotion is one of numerous recipes in the booklet, and the booklet is one of numerous volumes in the Pocket Encyclopedia of Health. I hope, Sir, you have the gumption to make the lotion yourself.

Here is the recipe for the lotion, the homemade lotion for chapping, redness and irritation of the skin by strong soaps or detergents or the smarting and burning of the skin after shaving:

Heat or boil 1 1/2 teaspoonsful of tragalgin shavings (not powder) until a clear mucilage is obtained. Use about a pint of rain water, snow water or distilled water.

After the tragalgin is dissolved add more water if necessary to keep the total up to a pint. Then add three level teaspoonsful of boric acid and a tablespoonful of glycerin. Stir. Label Skin Lotion

Apply a few drops to the hands after washing and before they are quite dry, two or three times a day, if the hands are red and rough or irritated by soaps or alkalis.

Apply a few drops to the face after shaving.

The boric acid comes in granular or powdered form—either is satisfactory. The tragalgin comes in shavings or powder—the powder is more likely to be adulterated.

The formula for making the skin lotion is a recipe, and not a prescription. If you have a grain of gumption, you'll whip up a batch of it at home whenever you need it.

Druggists generally have small packages (2 oz. or 4 oz.) of boric acid and vials (1 oz. or 2 oz.) of glycerin, but there may be some difficulty in finding tragalgin in the form I recommend (shavings).

Not that there's anything danger-

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Entice Youngsters Away From TV

Leland sits glued in front of his TV set. Too much TV is bad for children since it deprives them of adequate exercise. But you can't outbid TV with negative appeals and maternal nagging. Paste this Case Record in your scrapbook and discuss it at PTA meetings.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, CASE F-16. Leland E., aged 11, is typical of many modern youngsters.

"Dr. Crane, Leland just sits glued in front of our TV set. His worried mother protested."

"I tell him it is hard on his eyes, and that he should be outside playing, but that doesn't do much good."

Besides, many of the TV programs aren't adapted to his age and they flaunt liquor advertising in front of children all day long.

"So what can I do? I don't bid for Leland to watch television too much?"

TV & CHILDREN

Yes, a youngster should be out playing in good weather. For that rugged physical exercise will help build up his muscles, including his heart muscle, too.

And it will increase his appetite, thereby causing him to consume milk and other wholesome foods that help him grow taller.

But nagging at Leland will not free him from the TV set. His mother must offer a positive attraction that will beat TV.

Nagging is simply a negative approach to the problem. And children, as well as adults, don't choose negatives! They want positives which offer them fun or thrill or ego inflation or candy, etc.

Voice of the People

Life Underwriter Member Discusses Hospitalization

Mrs. Catherine Welch, asked in Tuesday's Press for a discussion of the Blue Cross-Blue Shield rate increase. As a member of the Pontiac Life Underwriters Association, which has made a study of the situation, I shall try to give her my reasons for the increase.

Blue Cross is correct in saying that hospital costs are rising. A bed in a semi-private room which was $30 per day two years ago is now $34. New laboratory equipment is being used, and is saving lives, but the expense goes onto your bill.

Despite these legitimate reasons for rate increases, Blue Cross-Blue Shield has some drawbacks which have led to financial difficulties. Most of the commercial insurance companies which write hospital and surgical plans have kept their prices down. This is because controls are written into their policies to protect against future trouble. For example, Blue Cross charges the same premium for men and women. Yet, women use hospital insurance more often than men. A commercial company makes a higher premium charge for women.

There are many more such reasons for the need of rate increases by Blue Cross. To elaborate would take a whole page of this paper. The members of the Life Underwriters believe that Blue Cross-Blue Shield would soon be in good shape financially if they would use the same methods and controls which are used by commercial insurance companies.

Another Definition of 'A Liberal'

I read a definition of a liberal which isn't as good as the one in the editorial columns a couple weeks ago. It is, it is good to repeat.

"A liberal is a soft, pusyfooting egg head who wants to encourage a Communist takeover in Cuba, that is responsible for the debacle at Geneva, and who can lose our entire Japan - Korea - Okinawa - Formosa bastion against communism in the Far East."

'No True Democrat' Would Give Support

How can any true Democrat support Kennedy when he is for Adlai Stevenson, Walter Reuther and socialism?

Thinks Mr. Pierce Is Simply Jealous

Mr. Pierce, in my estimation you are jealous of Kennedy. Is it because you are not a millionaire political playboy? Why don't you speak for yourself? I don't think you are that big that you make up 99 per cent of the citizens.

In your first letter you stated that 99 per cent of the people are average. That means 1 per cent are millionaires. Are you sure about your figures?

I agree that the U2 incident didn't have much to do with collapse of the summit. The summit was a cut and dry situation planned ahead of time by Mr. J. C.

It doesn't cause one to go blind nor will it produce a lot of other horrible conditions that some parents state in threatening their youngsters.

TV & LIQUOR

Furthermore, one reason why we see so much liquor advertising is so the fact that beer and other alcoholic beverages are about the only types of merchandise on which the profits are so huge that the manufacturers can afford TV regularly.

TV is so expensive nowadays that a great many legitimate types of merchandise can't afford 15-minute or 30-minute shows, so they stop with what shows, so they stop with what shows, so they stop with what shows.

For example, a bottle of beer costs more than a big loaf of bread. Yet the beer is chiefly sold in 15-minute or 30-minute shows, so they stop with what shows, so they stop with what shows.

The bakers and grocers make only a small profit on bread so they can't sink millions into TV advertising.

But the brewers make such big profits that even when they pay their high taxes, they still can afford expensive TV shows and yet make a good profit.

TV COMPETITION

In order for Leland to be weaned away from his TV set, however, his parents should fix up the basement with a ping pong table and other athletic equipment so he can entertain his friends every afternoon.

As a rule, group play will outbid TV among children. But

Murders Coed in UC Library

Student Then Turns Gun on Himself but Is Expected to Live

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The quiet of the University of California's main library was shattered Wednesday by two shots. One killed a 21-year-old coed, one blinded the girl's slayer in a suicide attempt.

Sonja Lillian Hoff looked up from her book to see a fellow senior from Long Beach, Calif., who had changed his name from Bertran Joseph Hovk to Mohammed Abdullah. Witnesses told police Abdullah, 21, strode directly up to the blonde Berkeley girl, pulled a .38-caliber revolver from his pocket, and fired point-blank at her forehead, killing her.

Abdullah fired a second shot into his own head. He was taken to a hospital in a critical condition, blinded in one eye. Hospital attendants said he was expected to live.

Friends of the dead girl said there had apparently been a one-sided love affair and that Miss Hoff had told Abdullah to leave her alone.

Police found a note in Abdullah's hand which contained the words, "Unrequited love."

A student of Middle Eastern languages and related subjects, Abdullah told friends he had been born an American Negro but had traced his ancestry to Moslem forebears. He became what he called an orthodox member of the faith. His mother lives in Long Beach.

UC officials said Abdullah had dropped out of classes in May at the request of the faculty committee on student conduct. The request was made after the committee learned he had threatened to kill Miss Hoff because she rejected him.

Miss Hoff, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Dietz, work at U.C., was active in school affairs. She was chairman of the Foreign Students Friendship Committee, a member of the International Relations Board, and a member of the Home Economics Club.

Jessel to Eulogize Adler at Funeral

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — George Jessel will give the eulogy at funeral service today for Buddy Adler, production director at 20th-Century-Fox studio.

Adler, 51, died Tuesday of lung cancer.

The service will be held at Temple Israel with Rabbi Max Nussbaum officiating.

Pallbearers will be film colony figures — Gregson Baurter, Alfred Blomengale, Sam Briskin, Bill Goetz, Al Hart, Mervin Lefroy, Lew Schreiber, Spyros Skouras, Ben Thau and Jack Warner.

Honorary pallbearers include Jack Benny, Gary Cooper, Clark Gable, Samuel Goldwyn, Dean Martin, Frank Sinatra and Darryl F. Zanuck.

It's Gone for Good Now

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Roy Smith of East St. Louis, Ill., reported his 1959 model car stolen.

Khrushchev Gets Jump on U.S. With Big Lie

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

It is difficult to escape the uncomfortable conclusion that Nikita Khrushchev has scored some important points in the last week in his all-out propaganda campaign against the United States.

He has pressed forcefully his campaign to oust U.S. influence in Latin America, wherein he is being loudly aided and abetted by Fidel Castro of Cuba.

Then there also has been the incident of the U.S. Air Force RB-47 reconnaissance plane shot down by Russia over the Barents Sea.

The latter is a point for Khrushchev only in that it long has been established that the truth seldom catches up to the big lie.

Khrushchev was first in announcing that the plane had been shot down, and gave validity to his charge that it violated Soviet air space by filing protests with the U.S. British and Norwegian governments.

With a 24-hour head start, it is doubtful that equal effect will be achieved by the White House rejoinder that he lied in his teeth and that actually the U.S. plane was shot down over open seas in an attempt to create an international incident.

The Latin American situation is more complex. Fitting perfectly into the Soviet scheme are the Cuban charges of

MONROE DOCTRINE DEAD

No matter what the final disposition of the case, it is certain that the full facilities of Moscow radio will be used to beam to South America the Cuban side of the case.

With Cuba established as his base, Khrushchev extended his campaign.

The U.S. Monroe Doctrine has "outlived itself, outlived its usefulness and died a natural death," Khrushchev proclaimed this week.

Unfortunately, his words will fall pleasantly on far too many Latin American ears.

Especially his line that it was not lack of industry in underdeveloped Latin America countries that accounted for poverty, but rather that it was due to "American plans plucking the last morsel from the mouths of people and wanting to justify this on the basis of the Monroe Doctrine."

And once again it may be feared that the truth never will overtake the big lie.

This week the United States announced a new program of economic aid for South America.

Too many Latin neighbors will say that the program springs not from good will but rather was forced by Castro and Russia's new attentions. Others will see the clear implication that aid will be forthcoming only to those who avoid both Castro and communism.

Similar reservations attached to the so-called Eisenhower doctrine in the Middle East ended in virtual total failure for the program.

Man Gets Term for Drunkenness, Malicious Action

PRESQUE ISLE, Maine (UPI)—A 27-year-old man began a 60-day jail sentence Wednesday for getting drunk on gasoline and trying to kill flies with an ax.

Joseph Labobe, of Lenox Island, P.E.I., was convicted in municipal court Tuesday and given consecutive 30-day sentences on charges of intoxication and malicious mischief.

Police said he inhaled fumes from a gallon jug containing high test gasoline and went after flies with his ax—causing $35 worth of damage at a woods camp.

Turks Postpone Trial

IZMIR, Turkey (UPI)—The court trying four American sergeants on charges of dealing in black market money met for a brief session Wednesday and was postponed again until Aug. 24.

It was Cervantes in his "Don Quixote" who wrote: "Make hay while the sun shines."

2 'Spot Zoning' Requests Rejected

On recommendation of the planning commission, the City Commission has turned down two requests for commercial zoning which planners labeled "spot zoning."

Involved was the northeast corner of Orchard Lake avenue and Palmer street, where a laundromat was planned, and the northeast corner of Telegraph road and Edna street, site of a proposed real estate office.

Commissioners Milton E. Henry and Robert A. Landry were in favor of the first rezoning and Henry the second, both stating that the areas were bound to become commercial anyway.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston, member of the planning commission, agreed, but argued that the rezoning should be taken a block at a time.

The planning commission also noted that there was no room for a commercial alley at Orchard Lake and Telegraph and improper commercial parking facilities on Telegraph road.

"I have no doubt that all of Orchard Lake, West Huron street and Telegraph road will eventually be commercial," said Rowston. "We should plan ahead now to permit only the highest class of commercial and professional use."

Henry said delay might result in the development of commercial activities on the west (Waterford Township) side of Telegraph, with a subsequent loss of tax revenues for the city.

to negotiate for right-of-way at the northwest corner of Walton boulevard and University avenue, where five lots are to be rezoned commercial.

There were no objections at hearings on plans to add curbs and gutters to Racburn street, Sanford to Baxter, and to widen and resurface Edison street, Randlell to Montclair.

A hearing on the special assessment roll for curbs and gutters on Howard street, Auburn to Osburn, was scheduled for July 19 and Commissioners Robert A. Landry promised residents of the neighborhood that he would call for the completion of the Howard street sidewalk next year.

There were no objections at hearings on rolls for the same work on nearby Clifford and Russell streets, Auburn to Osburn.

Confirmed in two payments was the assessment roll covering the water main installed on Hess street, Grant to Irene, and Irene street, Hess to Warner.

In a routine move, the Commission renewed its annual, one-year contract with the State Board of Alcoholism for operation of the Alcoholism Information Center in City Hall. The city and state split equally the $8,400 annual cost.

John W. Bell, president of the Michigan Trampoline Corp., said that in response to complaints about noise from the company's three Pontiac trampolines coming, closing hours would be moved back an hour—to 11 p.m.—and public admission openings would be turned off at 10 p.m.

The Greenfield Construction Co. was given until Oct. 1 to complete the Columbia avenue trunkline sewer. The company said it needed more time because of construction delays caused by poor weather.

Referred to Willman was a request from Emmanuel Baptist Church for permission to erect a tent during a gospel session, July 24-Aug. 20.

General's Home to Be Rebuilt at Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—The end has come in a long-time controversy over the humble home in which Gen. William Rufus Shafter, commander of the U. S. expedition to Cuba in the Spanish-American War, grew to manhood.

The 125-year-old, one-room log cabin, its timbers moldering in a shed on the grounds of the county infirmary for the past four years, will be reconstructed in a special room at the museum here. Before being dismantled on orders of the County Board of Supervisors in 1956, the venerable piece of Americana suffered much, including the ravages of age and weather, the caprice of man and, finally, a fire that caused minor damage.

Southern Move a Bust

Firm Returns to State

PORT HURON (AP)—An industrial plant that abandoned Michigan for the South two years ago is coming back home.

Within 30 days the Ainsworth Manufacturing Co., once a vital cog in the Port Huron area's economy, expects to be operating at full tilt here again.

Officials of the auto parts firm said that anticipated advantages in the South—at Springfield, Tenn.—failed to pan out, mainly because skilled labor wasn't available.

The announcement of the decision to return to Michigan was made yesterday.

Ainsworth, a 40-year-old firm, moved the bulk of its production operation to Tennessee in 1958 to take advantage of lower labor costs and lower taxes.

The company's production of auto steering columns, windshields and other parts was taken out of Michigan partly also because Springfield gave the firm a free plant site.

A lesser part of the operation was maintained at the company factory at nearby Marysville.

Bernard A. Mitchell, an official of Fulton Industries of Atlanta, Ga., Ainsworth's new owner, explained the decision to return to Michigan.

Mitchell, in Chicago, said that while labor costs were lower in the South the company counts on "greater efficiency" from Michigan workers. He said difficulty was experienced in finding skilled workers in the South. Labor costs were $1 an hour less than in Michigan, he said.

He said Ainsworth had a "tremendous loss" in its first year in the South. The company says it did a 17-million-dollar business at its Springfield and Marysville plants in 1959.

The Condons have two other children and the singer has two other offspring by a previous marriage.

East German Young People Argue for Romance Despite 'Late' Fines

BERLIN (UPI)—East German officials are trying to make Cupid take a back seat to Karl Marx—but they're having a hard time convincing romantic couples that communism is more fun than love.

Take the case of 23 student kindergarten teachers at the Pedagogical Institute at Waldsiedel, who were recently fined $12 each for coming home late from an army dance.

When the school board fined them, their soldier escorts claimed the penalties violated a "friendship pact" between their unit and the girls' class.

Under the pact, the soldiers did odd jobs around the school and the girls joined them for rifle shooting matches and occasional dances.

The fines and admonitions were revoked after the girls, soldiers and school officials all attended a "youth forum"—three hours of heated discussion and self-criticism.

The youth newspaper "Junge Welt" (Young World) said 300 persons, including a defense ministry representative, jammed the forum while many more watched through the windows and followed proceedings on loudspeakers.

In a letter to the newspaper, the soldiers admitted they left the girls home late in an untimely fashion.

"The way to the institute is long—though much too short for the farcicals of young hearts," the soldiers wrote. "A few girls got home several minutes late and one poor heart erred by 30 minutes."

A student, Eberhard Bolt, told the forum "the way to the institute may be long, but everyone knows that you can walk there from the railroad station in 10 minutes."

"Have you ever walked there with a girl?" asked one of the soldiers. "Under certain circumstances a trip of three minutes can take three hours."

The soldiers drew criticism from high Communist officials present, including Deputy National Defense Minister Heinz Kessler.

"Isn't it the duty of individual soldiers to see that the institute rules and the curfew are observed?" asked Kessler. "You surely know what discipline means."

"Junge Welt" said the three hours of the forum "were a true course in socialistic instruction, and the participants have achieved

Civil War Reminders Found During Centennial

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—The road—widening project on East Bank Street here has nothing to do with the Civil War Centennial, but the road builders have plenty of ammunition.

They uncovered 30 shells from six to 13 inches in length, apparently left by Union forces who ringed the city in the Siege of Petersburg. Army officials said the shells probably are still dangerous.

So when the boss was paid $42 the clerk figured he had that much coming to him. So he just took it from the register.

Norway Relies on Fish

NEW YORK (UPI)—While fishing is important to the economic life of many countries, in at least one country the entire economic structure could not have developed without it, and that country is Norway, according to a report of the Twentieth Century Fund.

Be noble, and the nobleness that lies in other men, sleeping but never dead, will rise in majesty to meet their own. — Lowell

Boy, 7, Makes No Fuss About Thumb Beating

LA JOLLA, Calif. (U)—A fire department engine company responded to a call for help from the home of John Newberry, 7, when his hand got caught in the electric mixer in the kitchen. "This is a very brave boy," said Fire Lt. Harold Seelig. "He made no fuss about it at all, even though his thumb did take quite a beating."

Men trained in intellect but not in religion and morals will become a menace to the country. — Theodore Roosevelt

Even if you are too dead to hear the preacher, the church is still a good place for listening to God.

TEXAN FOR TEXAN—House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas nominates fellow Texan Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, as a candidate to be Democratic nominee for the presidency Wednesday. Ranking member of the House with 17 years in office, Rayburn has been speaker longer than anyone else in history, as he made amply clear by his comments in his nominating speech.

Sarah Churchill Fined $200 for Baby Food During Child's 1st Year $7 for Drunkenness

LONDON (AP)—Actress Sarah Churchill was found guilty today on the fifth and sixth charges of public drunkenness brought against her in the last 16 months. Miss Churchill, 45, daughter of former Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, had pleaded innocent.

Assessing fines totaling 50 shillings—$7—Magistrate R. H. Blundell told her: "On the next occasion when you appear before the court—if you appear before me—you will be remanded in custody for a medical report before it is decided what steps to take in your almost nothing to 30,000 annually."

Foreign Trucks Invade

DETROIT (UPI)—U.S. auto makers now are confronted by an invasion of foreign trucks as well as passenger cars. In two years truck imports have jumped from almost nothing to 30,000 annually.

You Want to Go to Timbuktu?

African City's History Full of Fable, Glamor and Gold

WASHINGTON — Mali and its golden city, Timbuktu, were once celebrated throughout the civilized world. Today the name Mali again signifies a political entity dominating the huge western bulge of Africa.

In the past year and a half, the French territories of Senegal and Sudan have declared themselves republics, joined in a Federation called Mali, and won independence as members of the French Community.

The Federation covers an area twice the size of Texas and has some 6,000,000 inhabitants. The National Geographic Society says:

The original Mali was one of several indigenous states that waxed and waned between the 4th and 19th centuries. Mali reached the pinnacle of its wealth and influence in the 14th century. Its princes were opulent and pious, having taken the faith of earlier Moslem invaders. Its kings were well traveled. Mali's foremost monarch, Mansa Musa, undertook one of history's most sensational pilgrimages to Mecca in 1324. He was preceded by 500 slaves bearing golden staffs. Jogging along in the vast caravan were 80 to 100 camels laden with the potentate's spending money—pure gold.

Mansa Musa qualified as one of the big spenders of all time. Generous to a fault, he gave away so much gold in Cairo that the market price dropped and did not recover for more than a decade.

Mansa Musa was literally broke when he returned home from Mecca. But he had made his empire famous. Moreover, he was pleasantly surprised to find that his generals had overrun the neighboring kingdom of Songhai, which extended along the Niger River. With this prize came two important cities—Gao and Timbuktu.

It also developed that the king's journey had inspired foreign interest in his realm's gold, salt, dates, and kola nuts. Trade boomed, and Timbuktu became a wealthy center of culture.

In the 13th century, Songhai rose and broke the back of the Mali Empire. Enticed by gold, the Moroccans invaded. Eventually Moorish rule deteriorated. Natives resumed power, but the strength of the old local confederations had been sapped. In the wake of 18th and 19th-century explorers came French soldiers and administrators. France's possession of present-day Senegal was recognized in 1814, and she completed the conquest of what is now the Soudanese Republic in 1896.

Mali's golden age is long dead.

Leukemia Patient Nuclear Guinea Pig

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Mrs. Currie May Nichols of Johnson City, Tenn., says she is a guinea pig for scientists at this atomic city and very happy with the arrangement. "I've had $10,000 worth of treatments during the past 15 years for a leukemia condition, and all free," she says.

Mrs. Nichols, 73, travels from her home for regular treatments which are now injections of irradiated phosphorus.

She adds she's helping the scientists all she can.

At the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies recently she was wheeled into a conference room where 20 top specialists from across the country were gathered. "I listened to them and learned all about myself," she says.

Julia Ward Howe, who wrote "Battle Hymn of the Republic," was sometimes a minister. She gave her sermons in the Unitarian Church.

Politicians Yank Business Statistics in Whichever Direction They Please

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The politicians can find almost anything they're looking for in today's statistics on the economy.

The figures indicate it's going in both directions—to the dogs or to a high and stable prosperity. The politician can pick the figures that suit his purpose and ignore the ones that don't.

This is true today more than usual. Always there are some parts of the economy on the up-grade and some heading downward. This used to be called rolling recession or rolling prosperity, depending on which trend could muster the most followers.

But today the split is wider than usual and the division between the up-goers and the down-goers more equal.

Employment is rising. The number of jobs has increased.

Farmers have planted fewer acres. The total of farm output is expected to rise.

Auto output is well ahead of last year and so are car retail sales. Dealer stocks of unused new cars are higher than normal and some auto production lines are cut back.

Retail sales are ahead of a year ago. Retail investors in many lines of unneeded goods have been rising.

Manufacturers sales of hard goods have exceeded new orders each month this year. But new orders are holding fairly steady with recent drops about offset by recent rises.

Consumers continue to spend a bit more than last year because the total of their incomes is a bit higher. But merchants are turning to price-cutting to move some consumer durables.

All this obviously is a politician's paradise. When the economy seems to be stuck on dead center with some indicators pointing up and down, you can view with alarm or preach confidence at will.

The businessman has a more difficult task, however. He's trying to decide just which way business is heading. Few things worry him more than being stuck on dead center.

Some of today's split personality in the economy is due to seasonal factors.

Take the jobless picture. Unemployment always rises in June because students pour out of high schools and college classrooms and look for work.

But the seasonal picture this year has some new brush strokes.

But the seasonal picture this year has some new brush strokes.

For one, the big war baby crop the seasonal opening of summer jobs—on the farm, in the recreation and vacation industries. But on the longer-range side, the service trades in general continue to flourish, offsetting somewhat the bad news from many factories.

For the businessman there are two uncertainties beyond the statistics themselves. One is the politician. An election year doesn't breed peace of mind. The other is the overseas turmoil. That's a growing factor in business planning.

Dossin Great Lakes Museum to Open

DETROIT (UPI)—The Dossin Great Lakes Museum, the only building to house a museum on the historical recreational and economic value of the inland seas, will be dedicated on July 24. Exhibit items include a large relief map of the Great Lakes, a model of a collection of Great Lakes ship models and other displays. The building is a gift to the city of Detroit from the Dossin family.

Bay City May Use Midland Water Pipe

BAY CITY (UPI)—Bay City is considering a tie-in with the Saginaw-Midland water network. A break in the 48-inch pipe supplying Saginaw and Midland left the two cities within six hours of going dry before the pipeline was repaired.

Saginaw-Midland water systems was seen as a vital civil defense measure. Commissioner Clarence E. Comtois of Bay City said the measure would be "self defense" for all three cities, and an extra margin of safety under a joint civil defense program.

Drive Nears Goal

To Present Plane Wednesday

Carlos Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United States, will fly here Wednesday to accept an airplane from the Spirit of Pontiac Committee at the Pontiac Country Club on Elizabeth Lake road.

The outdoor ceremony will take place at 10:30 a.m. followed by a demonstration in which the versatile Helio-Courier H135A will take off and land on the golf course.

The committee Wednesday revealed final plans for the presentation and appealed to Pontiac area residents for a needed "boost over the top."

For several months the committee has been busy trying to raise $30,000 for the object of this "people-to-people" project.

"We're just about made it."

said Cyle R. Haskell, chairman. "As of now we're only about $5,000 short of our goal. What we need is a final boost over the top."

In almost the same breath, he announced that the plane, with the Chief Pontiac symbol and "The Spirit of Pontiac" emblazoned on its fuselage, arrived here today.

Mayor Philip E. Rowatoy will make the presentation from the people of Pontiac to the people of the Philippine Republic.

The craft will be christened with a mixture of water taken from Lake Michigan and Manila Bay.

The aircraft will be owned by the government of the island republic and maintained and operated by the Summer Institute of Linguistics, a department of Wycliffe Bible Translators, Inc.

SIL maintains many such planes, designed to reach inaccessible regions of the world, spreading literacy and Christianity among natives in an effort to combat Communist propaganda.

Taking part in the ceremony Wednesday will be SIL representatives, local political figures, committee members, area businessmen and members of the clergy.

Confederate troops invaded the territory of New Mexico in July 1861. The invaders were driven out at the battle of Glorieta Pass near Santa Fe the following March.

A special "Summer Fun Club" is conducted annually for area boys and girls by the Pontiac YMCA. The session's exciting second week finds the youngsters well advanced learning various skills and crafts. Andrea Tynan, left, volunteer leader in the arts and

Y Summer Fun Club Challenges Youngsters

By MARGARET BROWN
Helping youngsters to grow in "body, mind and spirit" is the worthwhile aim of the Pontiac YMCA's Summer Fun Club.

In session now through Aug. 12, the stimulating well-supervised program is attracting boys and girls from all parts of this area.

Growing gracefully in the area of group interaction and learning to anticipate the challenge of new experiences, the Summer Fun Clubbers are acquiring physical, mental and safety skills in such activities as swimming, physical education, handicrafts and woodworking.

And for that necessary added interest, each Wednesday of the six-week period is spent on an amusement trip or educational activity. On the itinerary are scheduled visits to the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village and Bob-Lo Island.

Thursday and Friday afternoons offer another of the youngsters' favorite Fun Club features when movies are shown from 12:30 to 2 p.m.

FROM 9 TO 11

Boys meet at the association's center from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Mondays and Fridays and girls gather at the same time on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

John J. Moga, acting youth director and director of the department of aquatics at the Y, is official overseer of the club's proceedings.

Supervising and instructing in the swimming program is certified National YMCA aquatic instructor John L. LaMotte who comments, "Ever since the introduction of the first swimming bath in 1885 at the Brookland Central YMCA in New York, the YMCA has been a leader in aquatics."

Assisted by Rita Olson, certified aquatic leader-examiner, Mr. LaMotte's training techniques are in accordance with the National YMCA progressive aquatic program. The progressive method of swimming instruction has four groups in which students master five skills and stunts, leading to proficiency in the sport.

"Learning to compete within the rules of fair play" is a basic tenet of the Fun Club's physical education program, directed by James Templeton, physical director of the YMCA. Among objectives of the gymnasium and outdoor sports are: motivating healthful living, promoting emotional stability and adjusting the individual to group experiences, thus avoiding feelings of inferiority.

"If we should fail in any of our objectives, but assure each boy and girl lots of good fun, we will feel we have done a good job," adds Mr. Templeton.

The president of the YMCA Mothers' Club, Mrs. Jean Ellsworth, is instructor in the arts and crafts department in which the children work on drawings, soap art, leatherwork, ceramic tiles, lanyards, basket weaving and sandpaper art.

And in the woodworking program, supervised by Sandra Brooks, safety is the watchword. Here the students learn how to operate jig saws, sanders and jigsaws in making objects of their choice.

Teen-agers from all over the city are volunteering their services as leaders for the Summer Fun Club.

Among helpers in the boys' division are Charles Wallace, Duane Ellsworth, Lenworth Miller, Donald Marsh, Gary Hall, Dan Ellsworth and Richard Saincome.

Others are Nick Siavakas, Dan Kane, Dave Ellsworth, Mike Willis and Charles Mick.

Girls' division leaders are volunteers Barbara McClure, Sue Everett, Susan Hunt, Nancy Newcomb, Lauraine Bova, Sue Bragan, Maureen Morrissey, Alice Peterson and Dietra Kaler.

Rosemary Smith and Andrea Tynan assist with the arts and crafts group.

Junior leaders are James Abrams, Terry Ferkart, Betty Frank, Janice Kent, Jill LaFontaine, Michael McKnight, Margaret Moreau and Toby Swindell.

Plans for a gala summer carnival in connection with the Fun Club's annual open house are now being under way by the children and their leaders. The girls and their parents will attend Aug. 11 and the boys with their families on Aug. 12.

Women's Section

Makes No Scents

NEW YORK (UPI)—If the world smells better in spite of smog and exhaust fumes, credit the improvement to the ingenuity of females.

Women are using colognes not only to scent themselves but to smell up the whole house. Everything from bureau drawers to the washing machine are getting the push-button treatment.

So reports a woman executive who literally is surrounded by colognes and perfumes.

Mrs. Ethel Walsh, a resident of Southport, Conn., is vice president of Aerosol Techniques, Inc., of Bridgeport, Conn.

PACKAGES OTHERS

As far as she can determine, she is the only woman of executive caliber in a multimillion-dollar industry.

Her company doesn't make scents; it just packages the products of a dozen or more other companies, most of them in the cosmetics field, a few in the household or pharmaceutical categories.

"It is fantastic what aerosol packaging has done for cologne sales," said Mrs. Walsh.

"Aerosol has taken cologne out of the gift item class," said Mrs. Walsh, during a business trip to New York. "And we've found they're making some amazing uses of it."

Some women have returned to the Victorian custom of scenting personal stationery.

They use it to scent linen closets or bureau drawers, to spray the inside of a laundry machine after use to prevent any stale or musty odor, to add a dash of scent to rinse water for lingerie, even give odor to artificial flower arrangements.

One woman reported spraying a dash of cologne on undergarments as they hung on a line to dry.

Mrs. Walsh, a divorcee and mother of two teen-agers, has been in the aerosol field since its beginnings immediately after World War II.

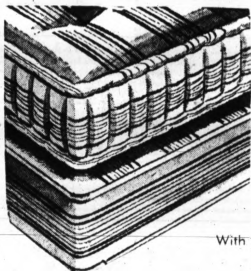

She said that the push-button spray technique was developed during the war for Uncle Sam, who wanted an easy method of applying insecticide.

WITH PIONEER

At the time, she was doing labor relations for one of the aerosol pioneers, Bridgeport Brass.

She later worked in the sales and management field for a couple of other contract packagers, and five years ago when H. R. Shepherd organized Aerosol Techniques, joined the firm as vice president in charge of operations.

"The whole industry is young," she said. "I see the day when almost every consumer product could be aerosol packaged. That is, if it is an advantage to have it that way."

Children Will Read if Appetite Is Whetted

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

I love reading to children who can't read for themselves. So, one recent rainy afternoon I offered my services to several little girls who had come to visit.

None of them had ever heard of Kenneth Grahame's "The Wind in the Willows." I chose it anyway, as we followed shivering, snow-soaked Mole and Water Rat into Mr. Badger's cozy kitchen, one of us listened rose and came to tentativeness beside my chair, the printed on a book's white page. I was reading. Soon another joined her. In no time at all the crush around the book was so great that we perished.

That parents don't understand this may be one of the causes of the problem of reading retardation in children.

Certainly we can't trust the feeble fiction contained in their schools' preprinters and readers to whet the literary appetite of any healthy child.

A little girl named Dot acquired a dog. "Dot likes her dog," say the black lines in your youngster's reader. "The dog likes Dot. He can bark. The dog barks for Dot. Dot likes her dog when he barks. 'Bow-wow!' barks Dot's dog. A dog which can bark is liked by Dot."

Like death and taxes, we can't change these things. The people who prepare elementary reading material for children have their own reasons for feeling that their account of Dot and her barking dog arouse passionate literary interest in the children whom they affect.

But we don't have to share their feeling. We should offset the deadly boredom of their productions by injecting some allure into reading experience at home.

We really cannot expect the young to apply themselves to the work of deciphering black lines on white paper unless they experience the black lines as rewarding and meaningful.

Sorority Honored

South Oakland Alumnae Chapter of Delta Zeta National Sorority received an excellent rating on its publicity program for the year at the national convention of the sorority in Pasadena, Calif.

Second place in the national magazine sales competition was also won by this group.

Publicity chairman for the chapter is Mrs. Herbert Sutzky of Birmingham.

All the care stainless steel needs is washing with soap or detergent suds. After rinsing with hot water, it dries gleaming bright.

Take a Good, Honest Look in Mirror

Your choice of clothes for summertime activities should be dictated by good taste as well as comfort.

Yet every summer woman by the thousands squeeze themselves into inadequate bathing suits, shorts, tight turtleneck pants and strapless sun dresses which reveal vast rolls of billowing flesh.

The worst offenders are mature women but teen-agers aren't far behind them. They appear on beaches and, worse, on the street in such get-ups. They don't seem conscious of the fact that not only are they displaying poor taste, they look ridiculous.

If you are overweight and your figure is poor, pay the penalty. Stay out of shorts of any kind. Stay away from strapless dresses. Be sure that your swim suit is not only your correct size but that it is modestly cut and has a skirt.

Don't be as concerned about what "they" are wearing as you are about the kind of figure you cut in public.

Take a good, long, honest look at yourself in the mirror and decide what you can or cannot wear to be in good taste.

Diet, hair styling, well-designed clothes and exercise have given American women another 15 years of youth. Great-grandmother was considered old when she was 40. Today, things are different. And this is a pleasant thing to see.

A lively concern for one's looks is unquestionable healthy. But when it becomes the sole interest in living or when it produces the kittenish airs of a Brigitte Bardot, then it's time to call a halt.

It's fine to look and be attractive within the scope of your years. But don't try to turn back the clocks to the day when you were 13. You should have grown beyond this by the time you're mature.

Tint your hair, yes, and diet by all means. But leave the shrill giggling, the fussy ruffles and the youthful mannerisms to the youngsters.

Dave Brubeck Plays at Cranbrook Sunday

The 2,000-seat Cranbrook Stadium will throb with jazz rhythms Sunday afternoon when Cranbrook Music Guild presents Dave Brubeck's quartet in its first appearance in the area this season.

The 4:30 p.m. concert is expected to draw a capacity audience. Final concert in the Cranbrook Gardens Summer Festival, it departs from the previous tradition of chamber music.

General chairman of the festival, L. James Schneider, termed both of the previous concerts, "ardent, as well as financial successes."

Last week's appearance of the Severo Ballet played to "standing room only" in the Greek Theater and received enthusiastic critical reviews.

First concert in the series was the Michigan Choral, now on tour in South America.

Plans for next year are to further expand the program, bringing to local audiences "the finest in all forms of art."

Brubeck's group has won more awards than any jazz unit in the world. In addition to popularity as recording artists, the group has been seen widely on television and has made personal appearances in concert halls throughout the world. Tickets for the concert are available at Grinnell stores in Pontiac, Birmingham and Detroit and at Marvlin's bookstores in Northland Center.

Jazz lovers will love Sunday's concert of the Cranbrook Music Guild. The Dave Brubeck Quartet, above, will make its first area appearance of the year. The public concert will be at Cranbrook Stadium.

Birthday Presents Received

Members with birthdays in April, May or June were presented gifts when Loyal Philathea Class of First Baptist Church met Tuesday in the church educational building.

President Mrs. Mabel Wiser introduced Mrs. Mabel Wiser who led a group sing.

Mrs. Earl Bates of Bowie, Ariz., brought a message, after which she and Mrs. William Carls sang several duets.

An indoor picnic was served to the 55 members and guests by Mrs. Joseph Hansen and her committee.

Honeymooning in Pennsylvania

Joseph Sidney Cotner III of Magnolia, Ark., and his bride, the former Catharine Elizabeth Crouch, are honeymooning in Pennsylvania before taking residence in Erie, Pa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wayland Crouch of East Square Lake road, Bloomfield Township. The bridegroom's parents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sidney Cotner II are from Magnolia.

Tee shirts come with sailor collars now. Collar is banded in red, white and blue to carry out theme.

Wear Loads of Jewelry

(AP) — This is the summer when women can wear a peck of costume jewelry — and get away with it.

The simple, understated lines of this year's fashions permit a splash of jewelry, applied with a lavish hand. New pins can be big as doorknobs, new necklaces can be a foot wide.

There's no pretense that these gewgaws are real or valuable — they're frankly phony gems and worn for gaiety and fun.

A trio of big, bold button pins, in flower shapes and colors, can match down the bodice of bolero of a black dress with telling effect. Completing the picture can be matching earrings and a five-strand necklace and bracelet.

Multiple strand bib or cascade necklaces may fill in the low neckline or be worn with a simple high-necked dress. Bright, light pastels are high in favor for the new costume jewelry, making a bold splash of color on a neutral costume.

Most popular colors are bright coral, lemon yellow, ocean blue, sandy beige, sunset pink and, of course, white. Some women combine two or three necklaces to make their own color combinations, such as coral and turquoise or pink and white.

Dirt Gardeners Hold Gathering

Guests were Mrs. Keith B. Willoughby, director of District I of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, Mrs. Nicholas Manzelia, Mrs. Harry White and Mrs. Doris Doerscher.

Why Look Grim and Sad?

Bring Up That Facial Line

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A recent letter says, "If possible would you please print again the facial exercises you gave us last year? They were really wonderful! I had them copied but have lost them and would like very much to have them again."

Many women have written me about the good results they have had with these exercises.

Another letter says, "After using your facial exercises for a number of months, friends are beginning to ask me what I am doing. They wonder if I am using a new cream since they seem to feel that I am looking much younger these days. I can see the difference myself."

TWO GOOD ONES

Here are two good facial exercises:

1. Sit in front of a mirror. Pull the right corner of your mouth up toward your right ear as far as you can. Hold this position while you count to 10 or 15. Slowly, relax.

Now pull the left corner of your mouth up toward your left ear and hold while you count. This exercise should be done slowly.

2. Sit in front of a mirror. Lift all the muscles of the face as though you were sniffing an odor. Hold while you count. Relax and continue.

USE CREAM

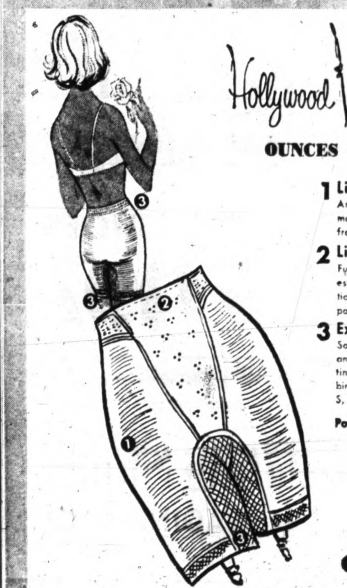

Always apply lubricating cream before doing the exercises so that you will not create wrinkles. These exercises should be begun very slowly, doing only one 10 times daily for the first week and gradually adding the others and increasing the number of times you do each one.

Do not expect improvement right away. It takes several months.

This is a good facial exercise. Pull the corner of your mouth up toward your ear as far as you can. Hold this position while you count to 10 or 15.

Abby Says: Dress for Dinner

Want to Get Crowned?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married almost 40 years. We raised five children who are all married and have families of their own. I have a great problem with my husband. He comes to the dining table with only his shorts on.

I believe in respecting the place where we eat. When a man asks the Lord to bless his food, he should have more than his shorts on.

I don't approve of this and want to know if I'm wrong or if my husband? He keeps saying, "A man's home is his castle."

GERTIE
DEAR GERTIE: A man's "castle" came to the palace dining room with only his shorts on. The "Queen" would have every right to crown him.

DEAR ABBY: I am at a loss. I divorced my husband six years ago after 16 years of a very bad marriage. We decided that rather than bring up our children (we had three) in an atmosphere of fighting and quarreling, it would be better to call it quits.

Two years ago our daughter was married. She was 19 and the boy was 20. They had a baby the first year. Now my daughter comes to me saying she wants to divorce her husband. She says he isn't ready to settle down and their love is dead.

I tried to talk her into trying to make a go of her marriage for the sake of the baby, but she throws it in my teeth that I divorced her father, so how can I tell her to stick to her husband? Can you help me, Abby? She is so young.

STUCK FOR WORDS

DEAR STUCK: Your daughter needs marital counsel from a clergyman, family counselor or some happily-married person who has shown by his own example that marriage problems don't always have to be solved in the divorce courts. A very wise man once said, "Example is not only the best way to teach—it is the only way."

DEAR ABBY: Not long ago you printed the sad story of the baby girl who died from eating ordinary dishwashing detergent. I was surprised to hear how many people had this story on their lips after reading your column. Many mothers, including myself, have silently thanked you.

However, we almost lost our three-year-old boy last week. He drank ordinary nose drops! The label on the bottle did not state what would happen if taken internally. Not realizing how serious it was, we waited until it was almost too late before getting him to a doctor. Please find room for this in your column, Abby; so many people leave nose drops around where children can get at the bottle. Many thanks.

SUNNYVALE

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married four years and have never had a place of our own. We've always lived with his people or mine because he refuses to take the responsibility of working steady, buying groceries and paying rent.

We are separated now because he was always getting married life and single life mixed up. I am 21 and he is 22. If we didn't have three babies, I would divorce him. If he doesn't settle down, I might anyway. Have you any advice for me?

ALL MESSED UP

DEAR MESSED: There is precious little advice (but much sympathy) for a 21-year-old girl who has 3 babies and a 22-year-old husband who isn't ready to settle down. But printing your letter might sober up some of these 17- and 18-year-old live-truck readers who believe all they need is a wedding ring and life will be rosy.

Niblick Club Has Luncheon After Golf

After a morning of golf at Pontiac Country Club Tuesday, 27 Niblick Club members gathered at the Sodon Lake road home of Mrs. W. T. Grant for a patio-luncheon.

An afternoon of bridge followed. Mrs. Clarence Brace was a guest. Next Tuesday, the group will drive to the Harsens Island summer home of Mrs. Normand Duracher for golf.

Members will luncheon later at the Idle Hour Hotel on the island.

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I and four other couples planned to go out to a night club. It was to be a Dutch treat. About a week before we were supposed to go, I mentioned our going out to another friend. She sort of hinted that she would like to go too, whereupon I asked her if she and her husband would like to join us. She accepted.

When I told the others that I had asked Mary and Jim Doe to come along, they seemed to resent this and thought I should have consulted the group before asking them to join us.

As it was a Dutch treat party, I saw nothing wrong in asking this other couple to come along. Will you please give me your opinion?

Answer: Even though it was a Dutch treat party, you should not have taken it upon yourself to invite the additional couple without consulting the others, to be sure they would be congenial.

Dear Mrs. Post: The invitations to my daughter's wedding were sent out several days ago. Reply cards were sent with the invitations. We did not, however, put stamps on the return envelopes.

A sister of mine has criticized this and said that guests will think we are pinching pennies. It is a very Dutch upset over this and would like to know if we should have put stamps on the envelopes.

Answer: You were correct in not putting stamps on the envelopes. It is not very courteous to suggest that guests require payment of four cents in order to tell you whether they will or will not accept your invitation.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to give my fiancée an engagement ring in the very near future. My mother, who is a widow, has offered me her engagement ring to give to her. It is a very beautiful one and much nicer than one I could afford to buy. Would it be proper to give her this ring?

Answer: There's absolutely nothing wrong in it. In fact, it is done frequently.

Dear Mrs. Post: In this morning's mail, mother and I received an invitation to a party which is taking place in four days time.

I happen to know that the invitations to this particular party were sent out two weeks ago. I resent this last-minute invitation and do not want to go. Mother thinks we should. Her attitude is that "it is better to have received a late invitation than none at all and that at least they did think of us." I think this clearly indicates that we were "second choice." Isn't such a last-minute invitation rude to the receiver?

Answer: A late invitation does not necessarily mean that you were second choice. It is very possible that in looking over the list of guests, the hostess found that you and your mother had been unintentionally overlooked and I agree with your mother that you should go.

I might also add as special advice to you, that to go through life looking for possible slights will not bring you happiness or popularity.

Take Good Look Wear Glasses at the World;

(NEA) — Women who need glasses and refuse to wear them are more than just normally short-sighted. To begin with, glasses frames are so pretty that even girls who don't need them yearn to wear them.

But there's more than that to this glasses business. You know, or should know, how precious your eyesight is. In addition, you should know something else that your mirror won't tell you because you probably can't see as you peer into it. And that is this: you're getting lots of little wrinkles from squinting. For people who can't see well, invariably squint in an effort to bring an object into focus.

Furthermore, you advertise to the world, with your kind, peering look that you can't see and won't wear glasses. So take a long look, close-up, at the pretty frames in the next shop you pass. Pick your favorite color, the shape that's right for you and have glasses ground to your prescription. Then have another long, clear look at a sparkling world in springtime.

Shift From Dick to Jack

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert
Youth Research Co.

A large portion of America's politically conscious young people have changed their minds since the first of the year and decided that Sen. Kennedy is the man most likely to be next President.

This is our interpretation of replies from 83 teenagers.

In earlier survey, the vote of a somewhat similar group was first for Vice President Nixon, second for Gov. Rockefeller and third for Kennedy.

One factor in the change, of course, was that we made the recent inquiries after Rockefeller had seemed to rule himself out of the race and before he had said he could be drafted.

Another significant point in the current survey is that teenagers from Democratic families outnumbered those from Republican families 3 to 1. The proportion in the first poll was 2 to 1.

Yet only 43 per cent opined that Kennedy would be chosen president against 23 per cent for Nixon, 3 per cent for Adlai Stevenson and 2 per cent for Sen. Symington. Others didn't know, or mentioned dark horses.

Attacking the problem from one more angle, we asked the youngsters for whom they would vote personally if they could, assuming that Nixon and Kennedy were nominated.

Fifty-four per cent said they would vote for Kennedy. 37 per cent for Nixon and 9 per cent undecided.

TIME FOR CHANGE?

Many who chose Kennedy did so because they felt it was time for a change. "I have had enough of Republicans," said Terry Horton, 17, of Flushing, N.Y. "Kennedy has some fresh ideas."

Others said they were attracted by his capabilities, personality and youth.

Among the teenagers for Kennedy, some like the young millionaire from Massachusetts as a personality.

"Kennedy is a young man with a lot of new ideas," says 16-year-old Cherie Woods of Missouri. "He is intelligent and capable of dealing with situations."

Some are staunch Democrats. "Our family has been Democratic for many years," says Alice M. Galloway, 17, of St. Paul, Minn. "I think that Sen. Kennedy is a brilliant, competent. He has the interest of the people at heart."

Some are attracted by his youth. "Because Kennedy is younger," says Raymond Clemens, 17, of Detroit. "He is able to understand the problems of youth."

And some are simply against Nixon. "Nixon is a staunch reactionary with Nixon's best interests at heart," says 18-year-old Carole Weber of Berkeley, Calif.

Among the teenagers for Nixon, experience is the most often repeated argument. "I think that Nixon is better prepared to take on the responsibilities of president," says Nancy C. Carter, 17, of Knoxville, Tenn.

"He has more experience than any other candidate," says Tom Hopkins, 16, of Waverly, Pa. "He also has party supporters. Winifred Cross, 16, of Knoxville, Tenn., favors the vice president because my family always votes Republican."

RELIGION A FACTOR

And Kennedy's religion is an important factor with many Nixon supporters. "Nixon has had a lot of experience in foreign relations as vice president," says Diane Meall, 16, of St. Louis, Mo., "and Kennedy is a Catholic and is under the rule of the Pope in Rome."

In explaining why they think Kennedy will be elected, his support point to his recent primary election successes.

Among those who choose Nixon, the religious question seems to be the dominating reason.

"Many people, even Democrats, will vote for Nixon because Kennedy is Catholic," says Judith Field, 14, of South Bristol, Ind. "Nixon is the most well known, and has done a remarkable job as vice president," says Kathleen Daniels, 18, of St. Paul, "and I believe that religious prejudice will prevent Kennedy from becoming president."

"People are afraid that religion will mix with politics if Kennedy gets it," says Yvonne Schigel, 17, of St. Paul.

You a Worry Warf? That's to the Good

By RUTH MILLETT

So you're a worry warf? Well, don't let THAT worry you. Chances are you're actually happier than the person who doesn't worry about his problems.

That's the conclusion of a group of researchers who have made a study of the worrying habits of Americans. The results have just been published in a book, "Americans View Their Mental Health."

If you are trying to figure out how a worrier can be happier than a nonworrier, here is the explanation of the researchers.

The worrier is likely to be more optimistic about the future. He worries because he thinks he can change things for the better.

Truly unhappy people don't bother to worry because they are apathetic about the future and don't figure they can change things for the better.

Since most of us are worriers by nature, this is mighty encouraging news and ought to give us one less worry—our worry about so much worrying.

"I know it is foolish of me to worry," we say to ourselves—and then begin to worry about being a worrier.

But now we can worry with a clear conscience. Worrying over Junior's poor grades, a husband's indifference or a daughter's rebellious attitude just means we are hopeful people who aren't so beaten down by life that we shrug our shoulders and say:

Court Again Backs Shell Track

State's Supreme Tribunal Denies Rehearing Motion

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The State Supreme Court stood firm on its decision favoring the proposed big-league auto race track in Shelby Township, it was learned yesterday.

The high court has denied a motion for rehearing a case brought against the planned speedway by the Shelby Township Homeowners Assn., which has been waging a legal battle for a year and a half trying to keep the track from being built in the Van Dyke-23-Mile Rd. area.

In an earlier ruling June 8, the state court refused to stop the township from issuing permits needed for construction of the track.

This action upheld a judgment passed last year in Macomb County Circuit Court.

Dee Edwards, a Detroit attorney acting as counsel for the association, said yesterday the group had not yet met to decide if it would press for further litigation.

The lengthy legal battle started shortly after Curtis Wright Corp. announced plans in 1958 to convert some of its property into a major race track that could handle the type of cars which race at the famed Indianapolis Speedway.

The track is to be on the site of the old Packard proving grounds, now owned by Curtis Wright, in an area bounded by Van Dyke and Mount road and 22 and 23 mile roads. A seating capacity of 40,000 is intended.

A group of residents in that area formed the association and initiated a suit against the township, claiming the township's action in rezoning the Curtis-Wright property to permit racing was illegal.

After the complaint was filed in Shelby County Circuit Court, the township and the homeowners association claimed that location of the track in their neighborhood would raise taxes and cause their homes to depreciate.

They also complained that it would increase noise, litter and traffic in the neighborhood.

However, the Township Board called for a vote from the citizens and it resulted in a 3 to 1 majority in favor of the proposed track.

The ordinance under which the track would operate limits racing to six a year and prohibits night racing, motorcycling, and midweek races.

ALREADY 1/2 MILE OVAL — Curtis-Wright plans to design the track for national and international competition.

There already is a 1/2-mile oval on the 23rd street. Original plans called for construction of permanent bleachers to seat 20,000 spectators, temporary bleachers for 30,000 more, contest stations and a small track outside the larger oval for sports and stock car races.

Following last month's Supreme Court ruling it was announced that further economic study of the proposed speedway would begin when litigation was completed.

The Oakland invitation was sent to Delmeh by William J. Emerson, county superintendent of schools.

The legislative committee was formed in the aftermath of unsuccessful attempts to force consolidation of school districts so that all districts ultimately would offer full kindergarten-through-12th-grade programs.

Delmeh said one of the first steps of the committee would be preparation of a questionnaire on school financing to be sent to school boards.

Material for the poll will be prepared by Reps. Ray Wursel (Port Huron) and George Montgomery (D-Detroit), and Sen. Lloyd Stephens (R-Unionville).

TROY — The Board of Education here has adopted an operating budget of $1,311,064 for 1960-61, an increase of $130,471 over last year.

School Supt. Rex B. Smith said the school's largest item in this year's budget are $860,729 for instruction and $187,751 for operations.

Included in the instruction costs are provisions for five additional teachers and a salary hike for teachers.

The pay increase calls for an additional $20 in annual increments and $100 more for teachers with masters degrees.

Final figures on 1959-60 operating costs showed a reduction in the total deficit of more than $48,000.

Smith said the reduction was possible because of a higher tax collection than expected and a postponement in some capital outlay expenses.

Total expenses exceeded the budget by only 44.4 of one per cent, he said.

EMLAY CITY — State Police today are seeking witnesses to a head-on collision, two miles south of here on M51, which took the life of a 49-year-old Royal Oak man yesterday.

Frank W. Andus of 400 Briarwood, who was driving to work in Marlette, was killed instantly when his car smashed into a state truck as he attempted to pass three other northbound cars.

None of the other auto drivers were at the scene when officers from the Emlay state Police arrived. The truck driver, Orvel Dayton, 42, of 56061 Waldorf, Roselle, was the only witness.

Dayton, who was southbound on the two-lane highway, told police he didn't have time to pull off the road when he saw Andus's car coming.

Andus, an employee of the Marlette Coach Co., was the father of three children from one to 15 years of age.

Eleven persons arrested by vice squad officers in a raid last month charged guilty in Municipal Court yesterday to loitering in an illegal liquor establishment.

They were among 15 picked up by officers June 11 in the raid at 41 Maple St.

Judge Finnegan ordered the 11 to pay fines of $15 or serve two days each in the Oakland County Jail.

Pleading guilty yesterday were: Curtis Max Davis, 31, of 216 Hughes St.; James Davis, 26, of 224 Wessen St.; Sampson J. Cunningham, 31, of 477 Nebraska Ave.; Eddie Womack, 34, of 227 Harrison St.; Ned Womack, 34, of 227 Harrison St.; Louis G. Davis, 31, of 227 Harrison St.

Others were Louis Jordan, 36, of 41 Earline Blvd.; Frank Calbert, 44, of 461 Dittmar Ave.; James Valentin, 36, of 272 Hughes St.; Timothy Jones, 31, of 285 Locust St.

Three others still face loitering charges stemming from the raid. They are: Martin Barney, 38, of 214 Oliver St.; Officer, 24, of 124 Gillespie Ave.; and Clemon Morgan, 40, of Detroit.

William Doyle, 32, of the Maple street address, is awaiting trial on charges of maintaining and operating an illegal liquor place and maintaining and operating a house of prostitution.

Then, by a vote of 8-0 with 3 abstentions, the council approved a resolution calling for withdrawal of the Belgian troops without setting any definite date and authorizing Hammarskjöld to take the necessary steps for dispatch of the U.N. force.

Britain, France and Nationalist China abstained, opposing the direct call for withdrawal of the Belgian troops as an implied censure they said was not warranted.

Voting for the resolution were the United States, Soviet Union, Ceylon, Ecuador, Italy, Poland, and Argentina.

Before the Belgian Delegate Walter Loidan declared his country would withdraw its troops unless the U.N. force is on the spot and able to restore security in the Congo.

Loidan vigorously denied the Congolese government's charge of aggression by Belgium and said Belgian troops had intervened only because the mutinous Congo army could not maintain order and the lives of the thousands of whites in the new republic were threatened.

The count on the big tote board at 7:00 to Kennedy and 405 for Johnson at 10:49. The young man from Boston was now just 11 short of his dream.

Some 25,000 persons in the Los Angeles Sports Arena, an untold millions in the television world beyond turned to watch the Wyoming election in the middle of the jammed, tense oval.

And finally at 10:09 the convention was ready to vote. "Alabama votes 20 for..."

10:39 — Kennedy 670; Johnson 244.

Kennedy has to hurry, or he'll never make it on this ballot, says a man on the press platform.

Survives Crash at Sea

MONTAQUE (AP) — Mrs. Marjorie DeWitt, 77, of Montaque, a retired school teacher, was one of 38 persons aboard a Northwest Airlines plane that ditched at sea yesterday some 120 miles from Manila, its destination. She was one of the 37 survivors.

She was rescued by a U.S. Navy helicopter and taken to a hospital in Manila.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It rolled on and on, one state after another, as the convention moved forward.

It moved forward relentlessly with a kind of inevitability while Johnson supporters hoped for just enough of a roadblock to slow its momentum and Stevenson admirers prayed for a miracle.

But neither roadblock nor miracle came to pass.

And at 10:50 Wednesday night, Pacific Daylight Time, Sen. John F. Kennedy, of Massachusetts, became the Democratic candidate for President of the United States.

The count on the big tote board at 7:00 to Kennedy and 405 for Johnson at 10:49. The young man from Boston was now just 11 short of his dream.

Symington Workers Ready to Push for VP

DETROIT (AP) — Grant Stuart, secretary-treasurer of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, has been appointed chairman of the "Peace-Pursuing District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses" to be held at Briggs Stadium July 28-31.

But all his efforts added up to only 86 votes on the roll call Wednesday night, 38 of them from Missouri. He fell short of the 140 he had predicted for himself on the first ballot.

After all Symington's strategy had been to present himself as the compromise candidate who might win out on a unity theme if the front-runners were blocked and the convention went to several ballots.

Rep. Charles H. Brown, the senator's campaign manager, told reporters Wednesday night no overtures of any kind had come from the Kennedy camp on offering the vice presidential nomination to Symington.

Stuart Symington Jr., who worked hard in his father's campaign, told a reporter: "I think dad would be much better off to stay in the Senate. He can do much more for the state there."

Lady Flier Again Wins Powder Puff Air Race

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Pretty Allen Saunders of El Cajon, Calif., who took up flying four years ago because her husband was interested in it, has won the Powder Puff Derby Transcontinental Air Race for women for the second year in a row.

Mrs. Saunders, 33, and her copilot, John Douglas, of Fall River, Mass., flew the 2,700 miles from Torrance, Calif., to the finish line at New Castle County Airport in 18 hours and 27 minutes. They flew in a Cessna 172 "Cool Lady."

And Symington left completely open the question of whether he would accept such a bid if it came.

He said it was a hypothetical question to which he had not given any real thought.

But some of his supporters made clear that they hoped he would be offered the No. 2 spot and they believed he would agree to run.

HIDES DISAPPOINTMENT — Symington hid the severe disappointment he must have felt at losing out for the convention's grand prize Wednesday night.

Soon after Kennedy's victory, the Missouri senator emerged from his hotel suite and in the same calm manner he has displayed all week, read a congratulatory statement to the victor.

"I will certainly do everything I can to make sure he is the next president of the United States," Symington added. "There must be fresh inspiration in the White House, and Sen. Kennedy will provide it."

Symington had campaigned all over the country since his formal announcement as a presidential contender in March.

GIVE WAY GRACIOUSLY

Other things being equal, if you reach an intersection ahead of a cross-street driver, or if you arrive at the same time, but you are the driver on the right—both of which are hard to prove—you would have the legal right of way. To make such a decision unnecessary and to favor one street over another, a "Yield" sign is erected. You must give the right of way to a vehicle approaching from either your right or left. You may be required to slow to 15 mph. or whatever the sign says.

Force of African Nations Readied for Congo Action

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council early today approved Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's plan to speed a stopgap U.N. military force drawn mostly from African nations to the new republic of the Congo in an effort to keep it from collapsing into anarchy.

Immediately after the council acted, the secretary general assured that first steps to put the force together would be taken "in a couple of hours." Initial elements of the force were expected to be in the central African country before the end of the week.

Approval of U.N. intervention came at an emergency 6 1/2-hour session of the council that did not adjourn until 3:24 a.m.

Hammarskjöld called the meeting after receiving urgent requests from The Congo government for U.N. aid.

For a time it appeared that his plea for quick action would be stymied by a dispute over the future of Belgian troops that intervened in The Congo after the native army had mutinied against Belgian officers and gone on a rampage of violence and pillage.

But the council rejected Soviet demands that it condemn Belgium as an armed aggressor in The Congo, seek immediate withdrawal of the troops, and stipulate that the U.N. military force be restricted to troops from African countries.

Then, by a vote of 8-0 with 3 abstentions, the council approved a resolution calling for withdrawal of the Belgian troops without setting any definite date and authorizing Hammarskjöld to take the necessary steps for dispatch of the U.N. force.

Britain, France and Nationalist China abstained, opposing the direct call for withdrawal of the Belgian troops as an implied censure they said was not warranted.

Voting for the resolution were the United States, Soviet Union, Ceylon, Ecuador, Italy, Poland, and Argentina.

Before the Belgian Delegate Walter Loidan declared his country would withdraw its troops unless the U.N. force is on the spot and able to restore security in the Congo.

Loidan vigorously denied the Congolese government's charge of aggression by Belgium and said Belgian troops had intervened only because the mutinous Congo army could not maintain order and the lives of the thousands of whites in the new republic were threatened.

PPOA Accepts Koren Membership Application

By an unanimous vote, the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. (PPOA) last night accepted Acting Police Chief Joseph Koren's application for membership into the group.

Koren, a member of the Pontiac Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police, had sought to join the PPOA to quash charges of favoritism toward any group in the police department.

"Senator Kennedy is a 'pretty candidate,' Lindner said. But his record lacks clarity, particularly in the fields of foreign aid, civil rights and labor legislation," PPOA.

Smoke-Filled Rooms Stump British Press

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — The Democratic gathering at Los Angeles has stamped the British.

"All my life," said a grocer, "I've heard about Wall Street. Now I read that according to Dun and Bradstreet, Mr. Kennedy's father has so-and-so many millions. Where is Dun and Brad Street? Is it an intersection, or people?"

His wife was confused too.

"I see where Mr. Johnson has 23 1/2 votes from the delegates of some strange-sounding state. Pray tell me how do you count half a delegate?"

The British press is struggling manfully to explain what's going on.

The Evening Standard's cartoonist printed a drawing of the Biltmore Hotel, with black smoke billowing from every window.

"These are the smoke-filled rooms," he reported. "When you see white smoke pouring out, they've found a candidate."

On the other hand, the Daily Telegraph said: "Delegates are to be seen in conference—not in the legendary smoke-filled rooms, but beside the swimming pools which are a feature of every hotel and motel."

As to the convention itself, the Evening News commented: "Within the next few hours, amid brass bands, colorful balloons and paper hats, the party delegates assemble in the Los Angeles sports arena to begin their noisy quadrennial tribal rite."

MSUO Educator Looks Into Broadcast Ethics

What's wrong with broadcasting? Last year Dr. Mary Ann Cusack of Michigan State University-Oakland's faculty set out in search of an answer.

Two headline-making figures were asked their views on the moral state of America's broadcasting industry. In Washington, New York, Chicago — brought defense, indictment and proposed correctives for the industry's conduct.

With the aid of a $2,000 grant from the National Educational Television and Radio Center, MSUO, will air Dr. Cusack's findings this fall in a bare-knuckle series of 13 half-hour radio programs.

Titled "An Ethic for Broadcasting," the series will deal with the problem of values for the industry.

"It's going to be frank," Dr. Cusack said.

BEGAN BEFORE FUS

The first woman ever to earn a doctorate in speech with a radio and television major, Dr. Cusack began her scrutiny of the broadcasting industry long before the Van Doren and payola exposures.

The idea stemmed from her doctoral dissertation — "Editorializing in Broadcasting."

"I soon learned that matters of controversy were simply kept off the air. If they were put on, it might interfere with soap selling," Dr. Cusack said.

Broadcasting lacked a sense of public responsibility, she discovered.

That's when the question of broadcasting ethics began to loom large in her mind.

"A few network executives and advertising account men decide what some 100 million Americans see every night in their homes. But they disclaim responsibility," Dr. Cusack said.

"Further, their actions are policed by seven political appointees on the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) who claim to have no authority."

"And the public says it has no voice."

One of the questions asked in her interviews was: Who must take the responsibility for cleaning up the industry?

"Almost everyone agreed that was the job of the network," Dr. Cusack said. "Nobody wants censorship or government control."

"Better programming instead of shenanigans is what the industry needs. Idea men — not showmen."

She also said that many prominent figures were critical of the FCC for not insisting on more public service programs.

"FCC commissioners seek to avoid responsibility by asserting they can only move on a station — but not a network," she said.

Dr. Cusack added that public apathy also is responsible for poor broadcasting programming.

DR. MARY ANN CUSACK

But isn't the public satisfied with what it gets?

"You can't expect a Chinese cook to go for roast beef when he's had rice all his life," Dr. Cusack said.

"Quality programs offering showmanship and ideas are the need."

Five groups were interviewed — broadcasters, audiences, advertisers and financiers, lawmen, and pressure groups or critics.

TV producer David Suskind told Dr. Cusack the industry has no way to go but up — that is has never had an ethic of any kind.

U. S. Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) called the payola problem a threat to America's greatness.

Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) was among those interviewed also.

News commentator David Brinkley observed "the most disgusting thing" about the Van Doren exposure was the public's approval of his conduct.

Mike Wallace charged that the very men who produce network programs won't let their families listen to them — that they're producing them "for some great unwashed crowd."

Beavers Are Useful, Ingenious Engineers

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—The beaver, whose peat became practically a monetary unit in early Colonial days, is still an important Maine natural resource.

Trappers have received $100,000 to $250,000 annually in recent years for beaver.

Although their number is only about a third of the estimated 100,000 when the white men came, the "ingenious engineers" still have to be dealt with when their dams plug culverts and flood roads.

But the dams, ranging up to 10 feet high and 500 feet long, also provide natural soil and water conservation, favorable habitat for fish, waterfowl and other animals, and water supplies farmers have used for livestock in drought.

The ponds provide refuge and aquatic plant food for moose and deer, which also feed on browse material sprouting from stumps of trees the beavers fell.

Has Long History

Monroe Doctrine Is U. S. Stand Opposing Intrusion

NEW YORK (AP)—The Monroe Doctrine which Nixia Khrushchev now declares is dead, was the United States' first warning to foreign powers to keep their hands off the Western Hemisphere.

Oddly enough, a squabble with Russia helped establish the policy. The Doctrine got its name from President James Monroe, who stated it in a presidential message on Dec. 2, 1823. Although it has received approval by various acts of Congress in ensuing years, it is not a law, it is not defined by treaty and is part of no international agreement.

It is solely a statement of this country's attitude opposing any foreign power's interference in the political affairs of American nations or attempt to acquire territory in the Western Hemisphere. Recent administration statements regarding Russian influences in Cuba have referred to the doctrine.

In his statement of the policy, Khrushchev asserted the United States would consider such foreign moves as "dangerous to our peace and safety."

That Russia was partly responsible for the Doctrine, because the Emperor had issued a decree prohibiting citizens of other nations from navigating or fishing within 100 miles of the Northwest coast of North America. At that time Russia claimed the coast.

The United States not only rejected the decree but the territorial claim as well. The chief reason that the United States didn't want any foreign meddling with American nations was that the old world powers operated under forms of government which the United States and other newly formed Western Hemisphere republics opposed.

SERIOUS ATTACK
There had been so serious attack on the Doctrine since its formulation until Russian Premier Khrushchev's assertion Tuesday that it is dead.

President Eisenhower had in effect restated that Doctrine on Saturday when he said the United States would not permit establishment of any government in the Western Hemisphere dominated by international communism.

The same day, Sen. John F. Kennedy, top contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, declared that Khrushchev's threats to the United States in connection with Cuba constituted "the first real attack on the Monroe Doctrine in the last century."

He added: "We have to make clear to Mr. Khrushchev that we are going to preserve the Monroe Doctrine."

More Gas Needed for Prolonged Trip

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Lt. Lowell W. Roberts and Sgt. Henry Sours of the Virginia National Guard volunteered to bring a surplus Army light reconnaissance helicopter from Tucson, Ariz.

It took six days instead of the estimated three. They had to follow highways on the watch for filling stations because of the small gas tank.

After averaging 20 miles an hour against headwinds at one point they bought two five-gallon cans, filled them with gasoline and tied them to the copter.

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—The expulsion of eight Amish children for refusing to view movies in the classroom was upheld yesterday by George Watson, state superintendent of public instruction.

Would Prove Viking Claim

Norwegian Sure They Were First to Live in North America

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Norwegian explorer is seeking evidence that his Viking ancestors settled on the shores of North America almost 1,000 years ago.

Helge Ingstad will make an aerial reconnaissance of the coasts of Labrador, Nfld. and Nova Scotia to search for traces of long-vanished Norse colonies. He then will study Norse monuments along the ground.

Though historians generally agree that Vikings reached North America shores long before Columbus, there is no indisputable physical proof that Norsemen lived on the continent.

The Vikings, who flourished from the 8th to 11th centuries, were Scandinavian sea rovers and warriors, the National Geographic Society says.

Strong-willed and self-reliant, they lived by a code of action that required deeds of physical strength and courage. Death by sword or the sea was regarded as much more honorable than normal death.

Viking raids spread such terror in Europe that a special prayer—"From the fury of the Norsemen deliver us, good Lord"—was inserted in some Western litany.

These fierce northerners, however, were not unskillful. They had a well developed culture that included literature and art. A seafaring tradition and the harsh climate of their homeland led them to piratical forays.

The long, graceful Viking ships were works of art in themselves. The Norsemen sailed these tiny vessels westward on voyages of discovery and colonization.

The Vikings settled Iceland and pushed on to Greenland, where Eric the Red established the first colony.

Icelandic sagas tell of expeditions from Greenland and Norway that landed on the Atlantic Coast of North America. Once dismissed as fanciful, the sagas now are generally accepted as having a factual base.

The "Saga of Eric the Red" is considered one of the most reliable. It relates how Leif Ericson, blown off his course by bad weather in the year 1000, discovered a strange new land he called Vinland.

He supposedly found self-sown wheat fields and grape vines. Leif's Vinland has been variously identified as Nova Scotia, Rhode Island, and Newfoundland. He collected specimens of plants which he brought back to Greenland.

Here Is the Democratic Platform

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Here's a thumbnail sketch of the major planks of the platform adopted Tuesday night by the Democratic National Convention:

FOREIGN POLICY—Restore the nation's military, political, economic and moral strength so that it might more effectively lead the free world in its search for a stable peace and an expanding world economy.

NATIONAL DEFENSE—Reassert the nation's military capacity in order to provide forces and a diversity of weapons sufficient to deter limited or general aggressions.

WORLD TRADE—Press for reduction of foreign barriers to U.S. products.

NAT'L ECONOMIC GROWTH—

Pledges policies to speed rate of economic growth. These would include an end of what was called the tight money policy of the Republican administration, aid to economically depressed areas, broadening of minimum wage benefits, and planning for industrial automation.

AGRICULTURE—Raise price supports, food stamp program and expanded program of foreign distribution to boost farm prices and income.

HOUSING—Expand federal aid to encourage building of two million homes a year.

MEDICAL CARE—Expand the social security tax system to provide funds for extending medical care to the aged.

EDUCATION—Extend federal aid for school construction and employment of teachers.

NATURAL RESOURCES—Develop and conserve natural resources for this and future generations. The plank says the present administration is permitting them to waste or go to selfish interests.

URBAN PROBLEMS—Establish a federal department to aid cities with problems of slum clearance, urban renewal, water supply, transportation, recreation, health, and other problems.

CIVIL RIGHTS—Fledge full use of powers of the federal government to end racial discrimination in voting, education, housing, employment, transportation, and other fields.

an hour to $1.25 and to extend coverage to several million additional workers.

FISCAL POLICY—Pledges a balanced federal budget except in periods of emergency or recession.

TAXES—Raise taxes if necessary to meet unending demands at home and abroad. But it holds that an expanding economy plus better tax collection policies should provide sufficient funds to meet most government needs.

Republicans Going Back to School

It used to be that if candidates wanted to garner votes before an election they had to tramp, tramp, tramp to the voters.

The Oakland County Council of Republican Women's Clubs next Tuesday plans to switch things around a bit.

The voters will have to march back to school classrooms to find out which of several Republican candidates they favor.

Ready to play the role as teacher in the classrooms of the Bloomfield Hills High School at 7:30 p. m. are Paul D. Bagwell, sole GOP candidate for governor, Alvin M. Bentley and Donald S. Leonard, bidding for the GOP nomination for U. S. senator; Edward Hutchinson and Clarence A. Reid, seeking the lieutenant governor nomination; plus state legislative and county incumbents.

"The plan calls for the use of several rooms where candidates will talk with, rather than at, members of the audience," co-chairman Mrs. Allen H. Simmons said.

When a voter has exhausted his questions of one particular candidate he can move on to another room, explained John A. Gibbs, executive secretary of the Republican Committee of Oakland County. The novel plan, which will match the candidates in the county for a last preliminary pitch, was the idea of Gibbs' wife Sue, a former teacher.

The labor force of the United States grew from about 49.4 million in 1929 to more than 65.8 million in 1952.

Air Passengers Fined for Drinks

Seven Violate Rule on Using Private Supply; Pay $200 Each

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency said Wednesday seven airline passengers who violated a rule banning "private" drinking have paid fines of $200 each.

The incident occurred on a New York to Montreal flight May 29. The agency gave no other details of the airline involved or the names of the passengers.

It said the seven Americans and one Canadian involved were drinking from their own liquor supplies, violating a rule banning use of any liquor sold except that served by the airline.

"The passengers became unruly, destroyed property and disregarded the captain's request to behave properly," the aviation agency said. "They also ignored the request to fasten their seat belts."

The violation could have drawn the $1,000 penalty, but the agency said it assessed "a compromise penalty" of $200 in each case instead.

For Drunkenness, Poor Records Mostly

31 Oakland Drivers Taken Off Roads

The Michigan Secretary of State's Office has suspended or revoked the driver's licenses of 31 Oakland County motorists in the past two weeks, it announced today.

Ordered to furnish proof of financial responsibility due to one or more drunk driving convictions were:

J. P. Brumwell, 823 Bladley Ave., Detroit 7; Eugene R. Ann, 801 E. Michigan; J. A. Widen, 2688 Buckner Rd., Lake Orion; Donald L. Wainright, 877 W. University St., Madison Heights.

Jerry M. Woody, 12929 E. 13th St., Southfield; Those losing their licenses because of unsatisfactory driving records were:

Charles W. Turner, 1087 Mel. Givens St., Detroit; John W. Mair, 126 Ridgeway Dr., Waterford Twp.; Philip W. Reeves, 5726 Nutcracker St., Waterford Twp.; William E. Fair, 2124 Bonaventure Dr., Royal Oak; Harold R. Moore, 114 E. University St., Royal Oak; Edward W. Palchak, 18285 Webster Ave., Dearborn; Donald Stelfox, 3270 Harvard St., Royal Oak; Samuel E. Regel, 141 W. Bennett St., Ferndale.

Persons whose licenses were revoked due to unsatisfactory driving records and for failure to appear for re-examination included Harry E. Manley of 882 Chester St., and Maximilian J. Sepowid of 18321 Riverside Dr., both of Birmingham.

Others were Donald R. Smith, 3264 Fayette St., Rochester, and Dale J. Riddle, 1812 W. 13-Mile Rd., Royal Oak.

Margaret A. Bentley, 183 Hickory St., Troy, lost her license for violating license restrictions, failure to appear for re-examination, and for physical reasons.

Losing their road privileges for driving while their license was suspended were Alexander T. Aikin, 2540 Cambridge St., and Larry S. Kopuschinski, 2989 Thomas St., both of Berkeley.

Also Michael Cooper Jr. of 321 Adams Ct., Ferndale; John R. Haynes, 2110 E. Larchwood St., Troy; and William A. Polly, 1642 E. Madge St., Hazel Park.

'Dog Explosion' Spurs Bigger Ingham Shelter

LANSING (UPI)—"Talk about your population explosion, we've had a dog explosion," said chairman of the Ingham County Board of Supervisors as the group voted on a $10,000 addition to the animal shelter.

"Nearly $43,000 is raised every year by selling dog licenses," Lawrence Heller said. "and I think some of it ought to go to the dogs."

The board voted to proceed with the addition, provided the city of Lansing pays half the cost.

Letter Defeats Purpose

NORMAN, Okla. (U-P)—A letter received at the University of Oklahoma bore a Great Britain postmark and a cancellation message which read, "Help expedite the delivery of mail by addressing no-came back to see City Judge John curately and clearly." The letter W. Ryle. Both were accompanied addressed to a man who had by his brides-to-be and wanted retired in 1941 and died in 1951.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. We enjoy watching our kitten play, but if we don't watch every minute, he becomes destructive. How can we stop this?

A. Remember that beneath a kitten's play lurks preparation for the serious business of catching prey. When the kitten pounces on a rolling object, he is emulating the catching of a running mouse.

Slapping at an object suspended from a string is a rehearsal for his career of catching birds. So even though the mouse is away, your cat will play.

Inexpensive cat toys are scientifically designed and scented with catnip. Your pet immediately recognizes them as his own and will happily exchange them for any household article.

Generally, cats will not destroy their playthings, and it is rare to find a cat who will swallow even a small toy. Thus, a minor investment should end your problem, and help keep the lazy apartment cat fit.

Curiosity Saves $$ for Poor Depositor

CHESHIRE, Conn. (AP)—Motorist after motorist drove over a white envelope in the middle of Main Street.

Two men in one car got curious, however, and stopped to pick up the envelope. Inside was $300.

They turned it over to police. The money was returned to Donald Cozzolino, a service station operator, who placed the envelope on the roof of his car, forgot it, and drove to the bank.

2nd Trip More Enjoyable

NORMAN, Okla. (U-P)—Two men in one car had fun on traffic charges delivery of mail by addressing no-came back to see City Judge John curately and clearly." The letter W. Ryle. Both were accompanied addressed to a man who had by his brides-to-be and wanted retired in 1941 and died in 1951.

BENCH STRENGTH—Gov. Robert B. Meyer of New Jersey, who was nominated as a favorite son candidate at the Dem Convention Wednesday was ready to allow his backers to switch at the end of the first ballot, assuring Sen. John F. Kennedy of at least 31 of the state's 41 votes. As it turned out, the Massachusetts senator piled up sufficient ballots to take the nomination before the first roll call ended, and the New Jersey strength wasn't needed.

Finch, Carol Face Million-Dollar Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff—undergoing a second trial on murder charges—are also codefendants today in a million-dollar suit filed by the doctor's stepdaughter.

Patti Daugherty's suit, filed Wednesday, charges that the West Covina surgeon and his sweetheart murdered Patti's mother, Barbara Jean, and thus deprived the girl of the comfort and care of her mother. The girl, now 12, lived with her mother and Dr. Finch, her stepfather, at the suburban home where socialite Mrs. Finch was slain last July.

The first trial of Finch and his sometime receptionist ended in a jury deadlock. Attorneys are still seeking to agree on a jury for the retrial, which started three weeks ago.

The United Nations became an official organization on Oct. 24, 1945.

General Hospital Gets Unit to Aid Nerve Diagnosis

A new electroencephalograph unit has been installed at Pontiac General Hospital to aid diagnosis of disorders of the central nervous system.

Dr. Joseph Chandler of Birmingham, neurologist and electroencephalographer for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and Pontiac State Hospital, has been retained as an analyst.

The hospital formerly had to send patients elsewhere for electroencephalographic tests.

Hurt Youth Cuts Off His Own Right Foot

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—A 19-year-old Hilo man calmly amputated his own right foot Wednesday after he had slipped and a tractor-operated fertilizer agitator mangled his foot.

Police said Bernard R. Pacheco applied a tourniquet to his leg and dition.

limped about 100 feet for help. Pacheco said when he slipped into the machine, he reached behind him, disengaged the machine then cut off the foot with a bag knife.

"The foot was hanging by the skin," he said. The bone had been severed.

THIS GOOD LIFE

This good life may be identified by a camping trip, a new hit play, or a quiet evening at home. But here in America it is really much more than these or other material things.

More than anything else, the good life is brought about by the freedom to choose your own way. This freedom, which is yours for every decision from a brand of fishing tackle to your choice of a career, makes life rich and exciting.

And what provides the information for your choices in material things? Probably advertising. It tells you what is available... makes even the everyday choices interesting and fun.

Advertising is information. So long as our mental appetites are stimulated by the freedom of choice offered through advertising, we will continue to be an alert, progressive nation.

Faces Two-Year Bribe Sentence

Ritholz Stay Is Denied; He Paid Off Members of Optometry Board

LANSING (P) — A wealthy Chicago lens maker today faced extradition to Michigan to start serving a two-to-four-year prison sentence for bribing state officials.

The attorney general's office received word Wednesday that the U.S. Supreme Court had denied a stay of execution of the sentence, against Benjamin F. Ritholz.

Ritholz was convicted in 1958 of shipping three time bribes to members of the State Optometry Board with a promise of more payments later.

The State Supreme Court upheld the conviction and later turned down a releasing request. "This exhausts his legal possibilities," said Leon S. Cohen, assistant attorney general. "I think he has run out his string."

Jack Warren, Ingham County prosecutor, said he was moving for immediate return of Ritholz, who since has been free on bond.

PLEAD POOR HEALTH

Attorney for the 61-year-old manufacturer have said his health is so poor he cannot undergo a prison sentence.

"We have very competent doctors and medical service in our prison," Warren said. "I don't believe that claim holds."

The state said Ritholz sought to bribe Optometry Board members to get them to drop unprofessional conduct charges against a Lansing optometrist who sinned business to his firm. Board members tipped state police and a hotel room rendezvous was raided after money was passed.

The state said the $100 was promised as a downpayment on $2,000 to each board member.

Puts Out Graham Booklet

Millions Sent Abroad

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — American Protestant churches shipped 23 million dollars worth of food, clothing, medicines, tools and other relief supplies to needy people overseas in 1959, reports Church World Service, relief arm of the National Council of the United Churches.

Father of Captured Flier Sure His Son Is Innocent

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—The father of one of two U.S. Air Force officers captured after the RB47 reconnaissance bomber is sure the craft was on a legitimate mission.

Jean McKone, of Tonganovic, Kan., father of Lt. John R. McKone, the navigator aboard the plane which was shot down July 1, is also positive his son is in custody.

"The Russians have him," the father said. "There's no doubt about it. They wouldn't have released the information if they couldn't back it up. I just hope he is still alive."

McKone added: "If we could just create a furor about this the Russians might be persuaded to spare his life. I just don't know."

The officer's wife, Mrs. Conzie McKone, said in Topeka that no American would believe the Russian charge that her husband was admitted to espionage.

Metropolitan Opera star Dorothy Kirsten is married to medical scientist and neurosurgeon Dr. of the National Council of the University of California, Los Angeles.

Herculean Battle Over Responsibility for Peace Threats Looms Before U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bitter United Nations battle between the Soviet Union and the United States seemed assured today over the issue of which of the two great powers is responsible for threatening world peace.

The issue was sharply drawn Wednesday night when President Eisenhower accepted a Soviet challenge on U.S. aircraft flights and declared his determination to make a case "on the lawless actions and reckless threats of the Soviet government."

The challenge was hurled by the Soviet government when Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko a few hours earlier demanded an emergency session of the U.N. Security Council. In a cable to U.N. headquarters he charged the U.S. Air Force with aggressive activities against the Soviet Union and said they constitute a threat to the peace of the world.

In a statement from his vacation headquarters at Newport, R.I., Eisenhower declared the United States is "ready and willing" to go to the Security Council for a full discussion of what he called the "wanton shooting down" by the Russians of an RB47 plane July 1.

COUNTERCHARGE — The United States declared a note to Moscow Tuesday that the plane was shot down over international waters at least 30 miles from the Soviet coast on the Barents Sea.

The Soviet Union had charged the previous day that the jet reconnaissance bomber had violated Soviet air space. A Soviet note to Washington linked the RB47 flight with the May Day U2 spy flight which went down in the Ural Mountains.

About the time that the President's statement was being released at Newport, the Navy said in Washington that a Soviet travel-er which cruised close to the Atlantic coast last April was an electronic spy ship.

The Navy said the trawler Vega was engaged in bold reconnaissance activities in the midst of tests being conducted by the U.S. nuclear submarine George Washington.

The Vega later cruised down the coast to as close as 12 miles off Cape Henry, Va. The cape is at the approaches to the big U.S. Navy base and fleet anchorage in the Norfolk and Hampton Roads area.

The Navy statement apparently was intended as evidence of how the United States treats reconnaissance in waters off the United States.

HAS US IN MIND

U.S. officials said the Soviet decision to take the RB47 case to the Security Council on the "broad charge of U.S. Air Force aggression undoubtedly was designed to serve to major Soviet purposes."

These aims, as the U.S. government evaluates them, are to make it impossible for the United States ever to resume U2 flights over Soviet territory and to stir up Allied peoples against U.S. bases in their countries.

President Eisenhower told Khrushchev at Paris that U2 flights had been canceled and would not be resumed. But Khrushchev denounced this assurance on the ground that it was good only until the end of Eisenhower's term next January. Thus it is assumed here that Khrushchev is trying to make certain that Eisenhower's successor will not order a resumption.

Minister Wanted to Talk to Right Ones—He Did

"Folks," said the minister, "the subject of my sermon this evening is 'Lies.' How many in this congregation have read the 6th chapter of Matthew?" Nearly every hand was raised. "That's right," said the minister. "You are the folks I want to preach to. There is no 6th chapter of Matthew."

Our country hath a gospel of her own to preach and practice before all the world; the freedom and divinity of man, the glorious claims of human brotherhood, and the soul's frailty to none but God. —James Russell Lowell.

GETS DEFENSE HONOR — Dr. Otto Halpern, 61, Wednesday received a special Defense Department medal for an antiradar invention so vital that it is still classified as top secret 15 years after it was first used. Dr. Halpern, who says he is exclusively an idea man, had to fight 18 years for recognition as the inventor. He finally was awarded $30,000 in settlement of his claim.

Modern Political Technicians Pose Contradiction to Antique Conventions

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analysis
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 1960 political conventions are not only old-fashioned. They're contradictory.

Here in the sixth decade of the 20th Century they retain all the old-fashioned, long-winded, disorderly clatter of the 19th century.

But they are nominating presidential candidates who are thoroughly modern.

Neither Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts who got the Democratic nomination Wednesday night, nor Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who seems assured of the Republican nod, exudes much personal warmth. Neither is a moving speaker.

DULL CAMPAIGN?

And just because both lack the power to excite they may put on a dull campaign.

Neither has the personal charm of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the fire of Harry S. Truman, or the easy geniality of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

But both are superb technicians in politics.

Getting the nomination is for them no accident. They have worked for it for years, not only in person but by surrounding themselves with excellent young staffs, taking care of minute details, and planning ahead.

They are so expert in modern political techniques—from how to handle themselves on TV to lining up support far ahead of time—they have to be careful not to look too slick.

The one thing Kennedy and Nixon have in common is a thorough knowledge of national issues and the problems facing the country, although their stand on issues and solutions for the problems are not the same.

MORE HOMEWORK

Either man as president would do far more homework, flesh-and-blood, than Eisenhower ever did. They've been doing it for years.

Eisenhower depended so much on staff work—on his advisers for information about issues and events—that he cheerfully admitted he does most of his newspaper reading on Sunday.

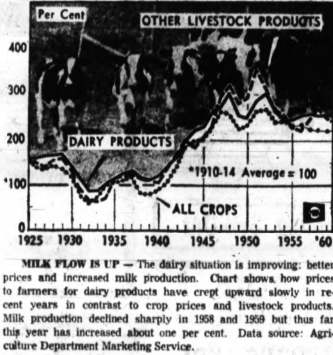

Nothing illustrates better the old-fashioned flavor of the 1960-1964 Wednesday night's nomination conventions than the fact it took Kennedy almost eight hours enthusiastically of the past 15 years.

of nominating speeches and banter-waving Wednesday before voting on a candidate.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Kennedy's closest rival for the Democratic nomination, disclosed at this week's convention he belongs to the old school of politicians.

One example was the arm-waving, stem-winding speeches, the clichés and literary flag waving in his TV appearance with Kennedy, who finished in a few minutes without flourishes.

To this writer, who has seen every political convention since 1904, Wednesday night's nomination conventions than the fact it took Kennedy almost eight hours enthusiastically of the past 15 years.

The answer may be that it is difficult to get emotional about a politician. Why then was Kennedy chosen, aside from the fact that he and his supporters had worked for months lining up delegates?

Perhaps because the convention felt, consciously or not, that the accumulating problems of today could not only for a hard-working, well-informed candidate but one who acts and thinks in modern terms.

Lonely Owner Must Part With 28 Dogs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Miss Florence Smythe is going to be lonely. She'll have only two dogs for company. She had 30 until today.

Neighbors of the 20-year-old woman complained to police about so many dogs in her small house. She was charged with disturbing the peace.

Magistrate Howard Aaron offered to diminish the charge if she would part with 28 of the dogs. Miss Smythe cried and pleaded: "Dogs are not like men. They do not curse. My dogs are good." But the magistrate was adamant. And Miss Smythe parted with all except two of her pets.

Pastor Sees Marriage as 'Intended' by God

RIDGECREST, N.C. (AP)—"Loneliness is a very serious problem," the Rev. Dr. Jack Nothnager, of Winston-Salem, N.C., told a Southern Baptist student meeting here. "The Bible says it is not good for men to live alone. God intended that we should not approach marriage frantically, but understanding 'something of the sweet mystery of life.'"

Shirleys Are Confusing—Surely They Are

MEMPHIS (AP)—All is confusion in the Shirley O. Sisk residence when the telephone caller asks to speak with "Shirley."

And a letter addressed simply to "Shirley Sisk" is just as bewildering.

Goes Beddy-By in Car, Is Rudely Awakened

PUEBLO, Colo. (UPD)—Miss Shirley J. Haynes, 28, will discuss her experience before jumping in her car again — providing she gets it back in the police.

One recent night the woman feeling faint, parked in an alley for a nap. She awoke to find a strange man driving off. Miss Haynes jumped from the car and reported to the police.

EARLY AMERICAN — A Colonial trick for cooler lemonade — use peppermint sticks as stirrer — straws to add flavor and coolness.

Early American Cooks Used Peppermint Flavor

When it came to making tasty beverages, Early American women could pull some fine flavor tricks out of their reticules. Some of them are readily adaptable to our modern tastes and ways of living.

Mrs. Homemaker of 1815 used more spices and herbs than her 20th century descendant. In a day when ice was found more often underfoot than in a glass, peppermint was used to make summer drinks taste cooler and more pungent.

Here's a modern version combining that peppermint coolness with the most American of all beverages — lemonade. It makes a big occasion of the warm-weather cookle-and-lemnade break. The trick is to use peppermint candy sticks as stirrer — and pretty soon, presto — change, they turn into straws! All the small fry have to do is keep sucking on the end of the peppermint stick, and slowly at first, the lemonade starts coming up the middle.

Another trick (with fun-type educational overtones) is to serve it in an "Early American" way in "Americana" glasses by Libbey which feature highlights of our country's history. Andrew Jackson in horseback, Commodore Perry's flagship, and Independence Hall are shown on them in gold-on-black and gold-on-white medallions. And don't forget the Early American cookies, prepared as follows:

Cinnamon Short Crackers

2 cups flour
1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoon cinnamon
Dash salt
1 cup butter or margarine

Combine and sift together dry ingredients. Use a pastry blender, or your hand, to mix in butter or margarine. Lightly knead mixture until it holds together; shape firm-ly into a thick roll about three inches in diameter. Wrap and chill several hours.

Cut chilled dough into thick slices (about 1/4") and place on lightly greased cookie sheet. Flatten slightly using the bottom of a glass dipped in flour, or pressing with the fingers; if either case, try to keep the cookie dough shaped in a round or oval. Use the lines of a fork to prick cookies all over.

Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees, 15 minutes. Serve plain or frosted with a light confectioners' glaze; add a sprinkle of finely minced dried fruit, if desired. Makes about 3 dozen large cookies.

Sweet Chocolate Almond Cakes

1 1/2 cups finely ground blanched almonds
2 cups confectioners' sugar, sifted
1 egg white

Stove top splashed with fat from a frying pan is easily cleaned with a cloth dampened with vinegar.

Red Raspberries March Into Top Place This Week

Food shopping may not be as exciting as a convention, but it can be more interesting if you recognize changes in supplies as they occur, advises the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Just now, black and red raspberries are taking over the space at the berry counter and Michigan strawberries are about finished.

According to the Benton Harbor Fruit Market, black raspberries reached their peak of supply early this week and red raspberries will be in volume from July 12 to July 25. The Market Master at the Pontiac Farmer's Market reports "having the rest of the month but that peak supplies are available this week and next."

As more Michigan grown fruits and vegetables arrive in the market, you can usually find slightly lower prices for they add to local supplies available from other parts of the country. Since shipping distance to market is short for Michigan food, you should also find excellent quality.

This week you may find lower prices on summer squash and green beans in some stores since homegrown supplies are starting. Already, you have found fine quality cabbage and low prices due to Michigan's present supply.

Although Michigan lettuce is adding to total supplies, profits remain about as they have been. California lettuce growers were having difficulty getting their crop harvested due to labor problems last week and the lettuce in that area sold for slightly higher than usual prices.

Now that the fresh fruit season is here, processors are busily canning beans, peaches and other fruits. A number of canned fruits are placed on sale? These fruits are from last year's crop, are being moved to make way for this year's pack.

As you know, canned food keeps for long periods with little change in quality or food value. If your family likes peaches, pears, fruit cocktail or tomatoes, you may wish to check these offers.

Celery sold slightly lower in California last week and Michigan's harvest is starting. This indicates there is plenty of celery at reasonable prices.

For fresh cherry pie or your special preserving... sweet and tart cherries are available. Quality is very good.

Have you heard there is more grain fed beef available this summer than last? This is the main reason why price has averaged slightly lower than a year ago, and explains why food stores sometimes feature it.

Ground beef, rolled rump and standing rib roasts, chuck roast and round steak are specially priced in some stores this week.

Some families may wish to freeze a few chuck roasts or round steaks to be used as pot roasts this fall, grilled, if it grades U.S. Choice. For summer eating the blade chuck quality. Or cut this quality meat for top round can be broiled or into 1 1/2 inch cubes for kabobs.

Squash Boats Can Be Fixed Early in the Morning

It's homegrown vegetable time and don't they taste wonderful! Of course, you have your favorites that you prepare with your pet recipes. However, the next time the thermometer coars and appetites drop, try a different vegetable or a new recipe. For instance, there'll be no faded appetites in your family the evening you surprise them with crunchy green and gold Zucchini Clippers.

Prepare the zucchini squash in the morning but don't add the bits of corn cereal and cheese topping. Then thirty minutes before dinner, sprinkle the cereal-cheese mixture on the squash and heat until brown and crunchy. At the same time, glaze and heat a piece of Canadian-style bacon. One pound serves four people very amply.

When the family comes home hot and weary, ply them with ice cold glasses of iced tea, pretty Zucchini Clippers, potato salad and sliced tomatoes. For dessert you're right! There'll be slices of rosy, sugary cold watermelon.

Zucchini Clippers

2 medium zucchini squash (about 1 1/2 lbs.)
1/2 cup finely chopped onion (1 small)
1/2 teaspoon basil
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups bite-sized toasted corn cereal
1/4 cup (about 1 1/2-oz. package) grated Parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to moderate (350 degrees). Cook zucchini in small amount of boiling salted water for 5 minutes or until slightly tender. Halve lengthwise. Remove pulp. Combine pulp, onion, basil, parsley, salt, pepper and egg. Fill shells. Combine melted butter, cereal and cheese. Sprinkle on zucchini. Bake 30 minutes or until cereal crumbs are a golden brown. Yield: 4 servings.

Brown Chops, Bake in Tomato Sauce

Veal chops baked in Italian-style tomato sauce.

Savory Baked Veal Chops
4 bone veal chops (about 1 1/2-inch thick)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10 1/2-oz.) tomato sauce
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Cut off most of fat from around outside edge of veal chops. Melt Sprinkle with minced parsley. Bake in 12-inch skillet, when very hot. Makes 6 servings.

hot add veal chops and brown rapidly on both sides. Remove to baking dish (8 by 12 by 2 inches) so chops are in one layer.

Four sauce over and around chops. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until tender — about 45 minutes. From time to time during baking process add 2 to 4 tablespoons of boiling water to sauce around chops and stir it in. Amount of water used depends on outside edge of veal chops. Melt Sprinkle with minced parsley.

HEAVENLY FRUIT SALAD — Marinate assorted fresh fruits in Creamy Dressing or sour cream for a Heavenly 24-hour salad that's simply divine. Make it often and use a different variety of fresh summer fruits each time.

Fruit Medley Stands in Dressing Overnight

"What a difference a day makes, just 24 hours," the popular song says. And that's what we say, too, about our Heavenly Fruit Salad. In just 24 hours, a medley of succulent summer-ripe fruits sauced with rich Creamy Dressing harmonizes into a blend of good eating. Most fruits mix delightfully with each other. Sweet seedless grapes, sun-bleached banana, succulent pineapple and juicy Bing cherries make an especially refreshing combination. Not to be overlooked is the tart good taste added by fresh oranges and the satisfying, summery flavors of ripe melon balls and dark purple plums. To the miniature marshmallows included in the blend, we credit the faint touch of candy-sweetness.

As appealing as these fruits are, the truly high note of this salad is the Creamy Dressing... a tangy, sweet-sour mixture boasting eggs, orange juice and delicious dairy sour cream. We really can't sing praises of this salad too highly, for rarely do you find a salad that tastes better the second day than it did the first.

For a quick change, this salad comes with a second dressing... sour cream. Spooned straight from the container and mixed with the fruit, it blends in 24 hours to the same luscious flavor as the Creamy Dressing.

Although there is more work to the cooked Creamy Dressing than to the Quickie Dressing, it's well worth your while to prepare it. The uses are many — as garnish for refresh or canned fruit salad and cup, as topping for fruited gelatin salad or as the sauce over grilled fruit to accompany meats. Creamy Dressing may be stored in the refrigerator in a tightly covered jar for several weeks.

HEAVENLY 24-HOUR SALAD

Creamy Dressing:

3 eggs
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup (about 1 1/2-oz.) orange juice
1/2 cup (about 1 1/2-oz.) lemon juice
1 tablespoon butter
Dash of salt
2 cups dairy sour cream

In a small saucepan, mix eggs with sugar, orange juice and vinegar. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and stir in butter and salt. Cool; then, fold in sour cream. Chill while preparing fruits. Makes 2 1/2 cups.

Salad:

1 cup seedless green grapes
1 cup sliced fresh pineapple
1 cup sliced Bing cherries
1 cup sliced melon balls
1 cup sliced plums
1 cup miniature marshmallows, optional
1/2 large marshmallow, quartered

Combine fruits and marshmallows. Fold in Creamy Dressing; spoon carefully into serving bowl. Chill 24 hours to allow fruit and dressing flavors to blend fully. Garnish with fruits and sprigs of mint, if desired. Serves 8.

Quickie Dressing:

Two cups of dairy sour cream, or more, depending upon desired creaminess, used right from the carton can be used in place of the Creamy Dressing.

NOTE: Extra Creamy Dressing may be covered and stored in refrigerator several weeks.

Restrictions Guard Health

Your home freezer is a sizeable investment and the food inside it didn't get there for free either, but your family's health — who can place a value on that?

This is why health has become the guiding factor in moving a freezer to a new home hundreds of miles away.

Responsible household movers want to help you save money but not at the risk of good health. For this reason, they will not accept frozen foods unless the shipment is to be transported not more than 150 miles or delivery is to be made within 24 hours of the time of loading.

There are other restrictions, even for short hauls. There can be no storage, no special servicing with dry ice or electricity, and the freezer must be operating at normal freezer temperature at the time of loading. Other than that, food can be moved right in the freezer for short distances. Not so on the longer, interstate moves.

The Household Goods Carriers Bureau, which conducted extensive studies on the problem, points out the health hazards of eating food, particularly meat, after it has been during a long trip, then is re-frozen.

Spoilage and bacterial growth often are impossible to detect until after the food has been eaten and serious illness results, the bureau notes.

Despite the fact that they stand to lose considerable shipping weight and additional revenue, reputable moving companies recommend that families planning to move either eat, sell, or give away their frozen food supply as the move approaches or arrange for a locker plant to ship the food to the new home.

Crab Soup Accompanies Salad and Sandwiches

A delicious crab soup served with fresh cucumber sandwiches and a pretty fruit salad will please the lean as well as the plump members of the household. For the soup, combine one can of cream of asparagus soup with one can of cream of mushroom soup. Add 1½ soup cans of skim milk and heat for 15 minutes.

Reduce heat and add one cup of flaked crab meat, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and a tablespoon of sherry. Garnish with finely cut chives or scallion tops.

Ever take meat loaf along, in an insulated bag, for a picnic? You can slice it on the spot and everyone can make their own sandwiches. Lots of pickles with this, please.

FISH SANDWICH PLATE — Warm weather calls for sandwich meals. For a truly different one combine fish portions with tomatoes and lettuce, both topped with a delicious cucumber sauce. Choose the fish you like the best.

Small Business Men Still Sell Lemonade

"Cookies for sale!—Lemonade 5 cents!" What fun it is for little ones to open a lemonade stand of their very own. At one time together flour, baking powder and for another during our lives we've salt, stir into shortening mixture. Blend in oats. Chill dough about 30 minutes.

Heat oven to moderate (375 degrees F.). Roll dough on lightly floured board or canvas to ¼-inch thickness. Cut out cookies with well-floured 2-inch round cookie cutter. Sprinkle each cookie with granulated sugar. Bake on greased cookie sheets in preheated oven 8 to 10 minutes or until delicately browned around edges.

Remove from sheets. Cool. With pink or chocolate confectioners' sugar frosting, write "2c" on each cookie. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

Caramel-Nut Bars
4 cups puffed rice
1 cup pecan
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 pound (about 16) large fresh marshmallows
2 tablespoons water
Measure puffed rice into shallow pan. Heat in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Pour puffed rice and peanuts into a large greased bowl. Melt butter, marshmallows and caramels with water over low heat (may use double boiler). Stir until smooth.

Pour over puffed rice, stirring until puffed rice is evenly coated. With greased hands, pack into a greased 7 x 11-inch pan; cool and cut into bars. Makes 32 bars.

2c Sugar Cookies
½ cup shortening, soft
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2½ teaspoons milk
1½ teaspoons almond extract
1½ cups sifted enriched flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ cup rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned)
Thick confectioners' sugar frosting

Sauce Enhances Fish Sandwich

Delightful informal meals are the order of the day when summertime rolls around — and sandwiches, hot and cold, in many shapes and sizes receive star billing in all kinds of menus, luncheons, picnics, suppers and late-evening snacks.

The fishing industry's latest brain child — fish portions, which come packaged under many names, such as "fillets," "filets," "burgers," "steaks" — are among the easiest foods to prepare when you want a hot nutritious sandwich. Fish in this form is taste-tempting and attractive, especially when served on a toasted buttered roll, with fresh colorful vegetables.

Fish Sandwich Lunchbox Plate
Prepare fish portions according to package directions. Use bottled tartar sauce or make a Cucumber Sauce following directions below. Spread toasted bun halves with sauce before topping them with fried fish. Serve additional sauce on the side. Arrange the fish on a sandwich plate with carrot curls, olives and a slice of tomato topped by a grind of peppercorns.

Cucumber Sauce
1 cup sour cream
½ cucumber, chopped and very well drained
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1½ teaspoon chopped chives or minced onion
Salt and pepper to taste
Combine ingredients. Refrigerate sauce and let stand several hours or overnight before serving so that flavors will be well blended. Makes enough sauce for three or four servings.

Capers Give New Look to Deviled Eggs

A make-ahead salad.
Egg and Capser Salad
4 hard-cooked eggs
2 teaspoons tarragon vinegar
¼ teaspoon prepared mustard
1½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoon white pepper
Mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing
1½ tablespoon drained capers
Salad greens
Extra capers
French dressing
Cut eggs in half lengthwise; remove yolks. Mash yolks with vinegar, mustard, salt, pepper and enough mayonnaise to moisten and give good flavor. Stir in capers. Spoon back into white cavities. Cover and refrigerate until serving time. Arrange on salad greens with extra capers and serve with French dressing. Makes 4 servings — 3 egg halves to a portion.

BACK BACK—Supporters of Sen. John F. Kennedy prepare to invade the convention floor Wednesday, the moment his name entered among those nominated for the role of Democratic standard-bearer in the presidential race. The demonstration for Kennedy, lasting a little more than 20 minutes, was considerably more restrained than those for Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. But Kennedy won the nomination with ease on the first ballot.

Wrong Britisher, Right Answers

Pravda Quizzes About RB47 Plane

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda plect the wrong man when it asked Robert Tarrant for reaction to the shooting down of the U.S. RB47 plane in the Arctic.

Tarrant, chairman of the Whitney Urban District Council, lives only eight miles from the American base at Brize Norton where the plane took off.

The London correspondent of Pravda telephoned him Tuesday night for an interview.

Tarrant, 64, a retired lawyer, said the conversation went like this:

Q. Do you like the idea of the Americans making hostile flights from your district?

A. Its difficult to believe that anyone would make a hostile flight in a defenseless and rather ancient plane.

Q. Do you like the Americans living there?

A. No, not on your life—because of the filthy noise they make. But as long as we are forced into a cold war we are forced to put up with it.

Q. What is the local reaction to the hostile attack.

A. There isn't any. I've been around the town and I have not heard it mentioned.

Q. But the plane was shot down in Russian waters. What do people think of that?

A. According to available information the plane was shot down 14 miles from the Soviet coast. Under international law, 12 miles is the limit for territorial waters so it would seem the plane was attacked over the high seas.

Q. We recently extended our territorial limits.

A. We have no respect for anyone who alters international law for propaganda purposes.

Q. Well, what do you think local reaction will be?

A. We are country folk here and we can see as far into a clump of trees as anybody. And we are not likely to think it clever to put up a booby trap that fails. Why did the Russians wait 10 days before releasing news that the plane was shot down?

There may have been a reason, replied the Pravda man.

"Then why did your people send a ship looking for the missing plane?" asked Tarrant.

The man from Pravda hung up.

Antique Clock Stolen, Returned in Better Shape

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The antique French clock on the mantel at State Assemblyman Frank Luckel's home didn't run. It was just a showpiece.

Then it was stolen and, when police recovered it, it was running. Luckel put it back on the mantel as a real timepiece.

Latest Invention: Instant Beer

A Head on the Water Sprinkler?

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—A thirty world receives with a mixture of trepidation and delight the news that a British brewery has come up with a formula for instant beer.

Leave it to peripatetic Althion to put a head on the 20th Century's scientific development. While scientists most everywhere else in the world were mucking about with rockets and missiles, her majesty's laboratory legions, in true Alec Guinness fashion, were busy trying to extract a presto pint from their test tubes.

After many a long night and many a longer morning after, the breakthrough finally came at Burton-on-Trent, one of England's oldest town factories.

It's all jolly fine for the British to go creating new scientific horizons, but common decency would demand a sense of responsibility about these things. After all, it's not like inventing a clothespin or a nose cone or a razor blade that works under water. This thing is fraught with complications and potential pitfalls for generations yet unborn.

What, for instance, is to become of the venerable custom of going on the water wagon? Armed with a pair of sudden suds, the reform-minded souse certainly would fall off before he ever really got on, thereby dooming a perfectly usable expression to early obsolescence.

And think what will happen to the office lunk. He won't even have to wait for the lunch whistle to wet his whistle. Right under the boss's nose and on company time, he can get a beautiful bun on simply by making periodic trips to the water cooler. If that arouses too much suspicion, he can always lap up the leavings in the saucer beneath the window plants.

Why, if instant beer should really catch on, the possibilities would be inexhaustible.

Five years from now, Old Faithful Geyser and the Hoover Dam would undoubtedly be the nation's busiest saloons.

Alcoholics Anonymous would have to set up emergency chapters at every aqueduct, spillway, lake, fountain, and rain barrel in the land, and perhaps dispatch one of the faithful every time a backsliding member felt like turning on a faucet.

A Boy Scout pulling on a canteen would be as suspect as a

South Furious
at AcclamationS. Carolina Senator
Roars 'No, No' to No
Raids at ConventionLOS ANGELES (UPI)—Southern leaders were furious today because they were swallowed against their will in the roar of the acclamation for Sen. John F. Kennedy."We vote unanimously not to be unanimous," reported South Carolina—but no one heard.It was directed at a fellow Southerner, Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention.They charged that Collins refused to recognize them and thereby gave Kennedy the Democratic presidential nomination by acclamation against the wishes of the southern states.The most bitter protest came from Mississippi which not only wanted no part of the acclamation vote but also wanted to change its ballot from Gov. Ross Barnett to Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B.
Johnson.Barnett and Sen. James O.
Eastland and John C. Stennis pelted Collins off the platform and pleaded with him to announce publicly that Mississippi wanted to switch from a favorite son nomination to Johnson and not to Kennedy.Collins flatly refused.
In a four-way hurdle at the foot of a staircase, Stennis tried to impress Collins with the need of clearing the record."Who's going to campaign for the ticket in Mississippi if it isn't us?" Stennis asked Collins. "Who's going to campaign? We can't campaign on that record in Mississippi!"Only two hours earlier Mississippi, disgusted and repelled by the civil rights platform, was on the verge of walking out of the convention before finally deciding to vote for Barnett.Georgia Gov. Ernest Vandiver said Roy Harris, staunch segregationist from Augusta, Ga., went to the Mississippi caucus at his request and persuaded the Mississippi delegates to stay."No, no, no," Sen. Olin D. Johnson of South Carolina roared into a microphone in a vain attempt to tell Collins that South Carolina did not want to join the stampede for Kennedy.Then he turned to the South Carolina delegation and took a poll.
"We vote unanimously not to be unanimous," he announced. He telephoned the clerk but it was too late.The number of priests in Italy has decreased 70 per cent in 90 years while the population has doubled.Over-Alert Police Dog

Music Engraving a Dying Art

NEW YORK (UPI) — Musician Sebastian Bach, publishing, as up-to-date as the 18th Century composer, latest "pop" tune, is still using would feel right at home in the engraving methods familiar to the engraving department of the world's largest music printing plant, G. Schirmer, Inc., in Long Island City.

Schirmer, which does 65 per cent of the music printing in the United States, still relies on hand-engraving for all the original plates used in its modern photolithography printing process.

But it has only six engravers and an apprentice. Even the die stamps, made to last a lifetime, are getting difficult to replace.

"There are less than 100 men in the United States who can do this work," said Joseph G. Todd, plant manager. "We used to have 25 engravers, but when they retire there is no one to replace them. It's a dying art."

It takes an engraver three and a half hours to complete a page plate, working from a manuscript. He must have some musical knowledge, for there are many technical problems and a good deal of freehand work which are left to the engraver's own judgment. The variety of markings on a musical page makes mechanization of the job difficult.

SWITCH, ALL RIGHT. — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson shakes hands Wednesday with John L. Cowling of Detroit who tells him he's picked up a few votes in a Michigan delegation switch just before the nominations. It must have been a rude shock for Johnson later to hear Kennedy get 42½ of the 51 Michigan delegate votes, three more than anticipated. The Texas hopeful could have done without such switches as this.

Famous Floors Are Shown in Replica

NEW YORK — With hardwood floors in the spotlight as a decorative feature these days, a remarkable collection of miniature floors is attracting many visitors.

On exhibit in the office of its owner, J. P. Blanck, a flooring manufacturer's representative, the collection consists of 500 replicas of the finest historical wood floors laid during the last two centuries.

Fans Will Never Forget Their Heroics in National League's 6-0 Win

Williams, Musial, Mays—All-Time All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—They'll be talking about the second All-Star game for years to come.

Not so much because the Nationals won it for an unprecedented sweep of the two-year-old two-game midsummer set to narrow the Americans' overall margin to 16-13.

Not so much because for only the third time since its inception in 1933 has an All-Star game ended in a shutout, such as yesterday's 6-0 victory, or for the third time have four home runs been hit by one club.

Not so much because for the second time in three days was the victory credited to a Pittsburgh pitcher. Bob Friend won in Kansas City Monday and Vernon Law won it in New York yesterday.

Not so much because in winning, NL manager Walter Alston accomplished, within 10 months, a grand slam in baseball by winning a pennant, a World Series and two All-Star games, or because in losing, AL manager Al Lopez suffered his sixth All-Star loss, two as a player, one as a coach and three as a manager.

The 38,365 paying customers in Yankee Stadium will long remember the second 1960 All-Star game because of the heroics of three really superlative performers—three players who belong on an All-Star list in any generation—Willie Mays, Stan Musial and Ted Williams.

While the magnificent, back "home" in New York where he last played in 1957, duplicated his spectacular Kansas City performance by smashing a single and home run off New York southpaw Whitey Ford and another single off Detroit right-hander Frank Lary. The San Francisco special also stole a base. In center field, Willie was his magnificent self, making four putouts. One was on a 425-foot smash by Mickey Mantle to deep center which he made look easy.

Mays, who also cracked three-hits—a single, double and triple—in the first game, now shows a .438 All-Star average on 14 hits in 32 at bats.

At a nearby cubicle in the winning team's clubhouse was another smiling player—the apesless Musial.

Stan, at 39, and playing in his 19th All-Star game, was referring to the home run he hit as a pinch hitter off Gerry Staley of Chicago in the seventh inning. It was a long smash into the third deck in right field and the joyous fans, both American and National league rooters, gave him an ovation he will long remember.

The blow extended a flock of Musial records—most homers (6), most hits (19), most at bats (37), most total bases (39), and tied for most runs scored (11).

Williams, the 41-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger, didn't disappoint the fans, either. He slashed a hard single to right as a pinch hitter in the bottom half of the seventh. It was one of the eight hits given up by six NL pitchers.

Williams who, like Musial, is playing his last year, now has 14 hits, which includes four home runs, 12 runs batted in and 10 runs scored in 18 All-Star appearances.

The only American Leaguer to have more than one hit was Baltimore's Ron Hansen. The rookie shortstop had two singles on top of a hit in the first game.

The other National League homers were hit by Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews and St. Louis' Ken Boyer.

Mathews, in the midst of a batting slump which caused Alston to drop him from second to sixth in the batting order, hit his off losing pitcher Ford in the second inning following a single by teammate Joe Adcock.

Boyer's blow also was a two-runner. It came in the ninth off Cleveland's Gary Bell after a walk to Norm Larker of Los Angeles.

Law, who retired the last two AL batters in the first game, allowed only one hit in the two innings he worked. Johnny Podres and Stan Williams' of Los Angeles, Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel of St. Louis and Bill Henry of Cincinnati also collaborated in the shutout.

The best showing of any five American League pitchers was made by Early Wynn, Chicago's 40-year-old right-hander. He retired six straight batters in the two innings he worked.

The National used 26 players, a record, and the American 21. The only player who didn't see action in either game was southpaw Dick Stigman of the Cleveland Indians.

Maher Now Lion, Tiger Property

DETROIT (AP)—Bruce Maher, a two-sports star at the University of Detroit, is going to give both baseball and football a try to see where he fits in best in professional sports.

Maher signed a 1961 contract to play with the Detroit Lions of the American Football League.

Earlier this year he was signed by the Detroit Lions for the 1960 National Football League season.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "Can't seem to add distance."

DIAGNOSIS: Let's check the grip.

TREATMENT: The grip with the left hand is a combination palm-and-finger grip. The grip with the right hand is principally in the fingers.

Fortunately, the left-hand grip comes fairly naturally to most golfers. But unfortunately, it is not so natural to get the right-hand grip principally in the fingers where it belongs—and this is an important point from the standpoint of power and distance.

To get the right-hand grip in the fingers, I have found it helpful to use a little gimmick which the drawing illustrates.

After taking the grip with the left hand, I put the right hand on the club as shown. Then I push down with the left thumb, and pull up with the fingers of the right hand, wedging the grip securely in the fingers of the right hand.

This will tend to weld the hands into a unit, and will promote both distance and accuracy.

SMILES APLENTY — Milwaukee Braves' Ed Mathews (left) and Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants beam in National League dugout during 29th All-Star game in Yankee Stadium. Mathews hit a two-run homer in the 2nd and Mays added a solo homer in the 3rd to account for the first three runs in the 6-0 National League victory yesterday.

Souchak, Wall Pros to Watch at Western C. C.

161 Golfers Tee Off in $25,000 Tourney on Detroit Links

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — They're off and returning at Detroit's plush Western Golf and Country Club and if you're wise, you'll keep your eyes on defending champion Mike Souchak and Canadian Open winner Art Wall Jr.

Souchak and Wall were the favorites here today as the $25,000 Western Open Golf Championship began at 7:30 a.m. under sunny skies in one of America's top four prestige tournaments.

Only the National Open, Masters National PGA equal or surpass the Western Golf Association-sponsored event in prestige on the professional circuit.

There were 161 golfers on the firing line in U.S. Open champion Arnold Palmer and steady Dow Finsterwald the only missing big-name pros.

Palmer, who just returned from his one-stroke loss in the British Open at St. Andrews, has elected to stay at home in Pennsylvania and rest up for the PGA tournament next week at Akron, O.

Finsterwald withdrew Tuesday after deciding to return to his Treguena, Fla., home to be with his wife who gave birth to a child Monday.

The winner will put $5,000 into his blizzard when the four-day 72-hole medal play event comes to an end Sunday night over the tricky Western course which has a par of 36-36-72.

Although many of the nation's touring pros were expected to give par a battering, the Rouge River was even-present to furnish trouble for the experts if they strayed off line with their shots.

Souchak and Wall are currently riding hot streaks.

Souchak won the Western Open last year and picked up steam for this event by winning the rich Buick Open two weeks ago at Warwick Hills near Grand Blanc.

Wall, who nearly succeeded in winning the Buick test for the 2nd straight year with a great closing round, is now back to the form which made him the nation's leading touring winner and money winner in 1959.

Wall had been ill from a kidney ailment and an accompanying bad knee, but any doubts as to whether he was healthy again were dispelled by his closing round in the Buick tourney and his runaway seven-stroke victory, the following week in the Canadian Open.

Bob Rosburg, the 1959 PGA king, may be out for a strong, touring showing here and 48-year-old Sam Snead, the ageless wonder of American links, was highly regarded as always.

Lucky Young Angler

Denny Long, 14, who will be a PCH student this fall, enjoyed one of his biggest thrills, Wednesday, when he landed a fine largemouth bass at Harvey Lake.

Denny (141 Cadillac) took a 3 1/2-pound, 13 1/2-inch-long for his biggest fish. He used a spinner with an artificial nightcrawler as bait.

The fish was taken from Townsend lake, north of Pontiac, on a spring, with nightcrawlers as bait. With Roy was Bob Parker of Pontiac.

Americans 'Moan' Defeats

NEW YORK (AP)—National better than us that they should League 3, American League 3. National better than us that they should League 3, American League 3. National better than us that they should League 3, American League 3.

The 1960 All-Star Games are over and the NL won 'em both. Is the National really that much better than the AL?

happy," said Williams, tongue in cheek.

As for his own pinch hit single in Wednesday's game, Williams said "there wasn't much on the pitch by Larry Jackson, and I didn't get much on it, either."

Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers, the NL manager, said, "There was no big secret to our winning either game. We got the hits when we needed them, and they didn't."

"We were cold," said Lopez, whose stars left 21 men on base in the two games. 12 of them were left on base in the first game.

"This is a tough park to hit in with that screen down in the bleachers," said Mays, ripping tape off a sore right wrist.

"The way I've been hitting late—'But that's no excuse," said Y. I just swing for base hits."

Lary Hurlled Scoreless Ball

Kaline 'Hero' of AL Nine

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Kaline, who made the team on a pass as a big hero as the American League could offer in its double-header All-Star game defeat.

The Detroit Tiger outfielder played in both games on a painful leg. He added an infield single yesterday here to the home run he hit in Monday's game at Kansas City.

Kaline was the lone American Leaguer to break the National League's monopoly on home runs. The tiger batted in two of the three runs the American League was able to muster in the 5-2 and 6-0 setbacks.

He was a second-thought selection for the annual classic because of a 248 regular season batting average. Manager Al Lopez wanted Jim Pierson as an alternate outfielder. But when the Cleveland Indians requested that their temperamental outfielder be rested over the mid-season break, Lopez named Kaline instead.

Kaline made a rare appearance in left field in yesterday's game and pulled in three fly balls. Frank Lary, the only other Tiger All-Star, pitched one inning in yesterday's game. Just as in the Kansas City game, Lary didn't yield a run and was touched for one hit.

FLINT — Two former champions were sidelined yesterday in the quarter-final round of match play in the Women's Michigan Amateur Golf Championship at Flint Golf Club.

Sally Sharp of Birmingham, a two-time winner of the State Am-Shook, also by a 3-2 score.

Sharon Miller, 18-year-old Western Michigan University student, was defeated by Mrs. Keith (Sue) LeClair of Ann Arbor.

Cardinal Hurler in Fair Condition After Accident

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Pitcher Bob Dilliba of the St. Louis Cardinals was described in "fair" condition Wednesday from injuries suffered in an automobile accident Tuesday night.

Three other persons were killed in the two-car crash.

Dilliba, 25, of Glen Lyon, Pa., and his wife were driving to Kansas City, Kan., for the wedding of a teammate, Ray Sadock.

Mrs. Dilliba's condition also was described as "fair." Both were hospitalized at the University of Missouri Medical Center here.

Today's winners will face each other Friday in a 36-hole championship final at the 6,071-yard Flint course, which has a women's par of 38-37-75.

Miss Miller, a Marshall girl, advanced yesterday by defeating Mrs. Charles F. Fox of Detroit.

It was Miss Miller who eliminated defending champion Mrs. E. L. Goddard of Birmingham, 4-2 in the opening round.

In the other quarter-final match yesterday, Mrs. Gamble defeated Helen Grinnell of Detroit, 4-3.

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

HONOLULU — Three Michigan players were still in contention today as the 35th annual National Public Links golf tournament swung into the 3rd and 4th rounds of match play at Ala Wai Golf Club.

Michigan standard-bearers were Mike Andonian of Pontiac, Captin of Plymouth and Bob McMasters of Royal Oak. Each golfer eliminated two rivals Wednesday in the 1st round. 2nd rounds of match play continued today.

Michigan's other hope, Wally Smith of Pontiac, was sent to the sidelines yesterday in the 1st round. Smith, the Royal Oak midget petroleum, received a 3-1 licking from Honolulu's Tom Takiguchi in the very opening round.

Andonian, who qualified with a 36-hole score of 150 (the best among state players) after leading the field at the end of the first 18 holes of qualifying with a 72, had to work hard for his two victories.

The Pontiac Central math teacher and part-time insurance salesman, defeated Charles McKay of Honolulu, 2-1 in his opening match, then slipped past qualifying co-champion Richard Hopwood of Phoenix, Ariz., 1 up, in the afternoon.

Andonian battles another co-medalist today in his 3rd match, Hardin (Pink) Stevenson of Long Beach, Calif.

McMasters found the going easy, then difficult. He trounced Eugene Lake of Toledo, O., 5-4, before going all out for a 1-up triumph over Chet LaFavore of Minneapolis, Minn. McMasters meets Dr. Sam Valuck of Denver, Colo., today.

Caplin, playing in the same bracket with McMasters, posted a 2-1 victory over Bob Mure of Greendale, Wis., and followed with a 4-3 decision over Julio Campani of Highwood, Ill. Caplin faces John Carson of Atlanta, Ga., today.

One thing is for sure in this year's National Public Links tourney—there will be a new champion.

Defending champion Bill Wright of Seattle, Wash., who barely managed to qualify Tuesday, was defeated yesterday in his 1st match.

Honolulu's Owen Douglas Jr. eliminated Wright, 3-2.

But de Vicenzo Wins Wierd-Playing African Star of French Open

PARIS (AP) — Roberto de Vicenzo of Mexico City is the new French Open golf champion but the talk of European fairways is a cooped-up Indian from South Africa with the romantic name of Sewunker Sewgolom.

Every professional pales when they see Sewunker strike a ball. He uses the cross-handed grip, hitting right-handed but with his left below his right on the club shaft. He makes no pretense at proper stance and standard swing.

He winds up and lets his right arm and she pretties good, thank you.

He shot rounds of 68-72-74-72 for 267 in the French Open at St. Cloud Golf Club. This was well enough to put him high among the leaders, although the title was won by De Vicenzo with 275 for 72 holes.

The Argentine-born pro from Mexico City put on a powerful closing burst, shooting 65, in the final round for a three-stroke victory over Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah, and Leopoldo Ruiz of Argentina, who tied for second at 278.

Sewgolom amazingly was in contention until the final round. This slender, mustachioed Indian from Durban is 34, father of three children whose ages range from five to 10 years.

He started as a caddy, soon got a job in a chemical factory but continued to play golf. Before long he could beat everybody at the Beachwood Golf Club.

But because of strict segregation, Sewunker has not been permitted to play in South African tournaments with such stars as Gary Player and Bobby Locke.

Last year, however, the owner

Play Braves Tonight Opening 2nd Half of Season

Pirates Start Pennant Drive

By The Associated Press
Harvey Haddix, the little Pittsburgh left-hander who pitched 12 perfect innings and still couldn't beat Milwaukee a year ago, opens the second half of the 1960 season tonight shooting for his fifth victory in a row against the Braves.

Milwaukee, five games behind the front-running Pirates in the National League, counters with its ace lefty, Warren Spahn, a fellow who used to beat the Pirates as regularly as the Braves once beat Haddix.

The game at Pittsburgh is the only one scheduled for the day after the second All-Star Game in New York. The majors' three-day respite started Monday when the National League beat the American 5-3 in the first 1960 All-Star game in Kansas City. Then the Nationals made it a sweep with a 6-0 followup Wednesday.

Tonight's game is a makeup Friday. Cincinnati comes into Pittsburgh. Milwaukee goes to Philadelphia. Chicago is at St. Louis, and Los Angeles, the hottest team in the NL, is at San Francisco.

In the American League, action resumes Friday with New York in front by 2½ games, at Detroit, Washington at second-place Cleveland.

North End Softball Team Wins in Only 3 Innings

The International League had one of the shortest games of the city softball season last night when the North End Rockets needed only three innings to bury the Pontiac Retainers 16-3.

There were 18 hits by the two teams in that short time with Bill Blower and Ted Fultz of the Rockets getting a trio each and Bill Gantner of the looser smashing a home run.

All other action was in the American League where the Elks also had a short one requiring only five frames to hammer the Pontiac police into submission by a 13-1 count. Stadium Inn defeated the Pontiac Merchants 5-2 and Dave's Beelburger whipped last place Smith 4-1.

The Elks got 10 in the last two rounds handing Gary Boe an easy win. Three different players had three satellites led by Earl Lamberton with two doubles.

Stadium's Roy Reynolds was coasting along with a one-hit shut-out when the Merchants put together a single, triple and sacrifice fly for two in the 7th before he got his 12th strikeout to end it all.

The Silo nine made a 1-0 lead straight he was handed by Milwaukee during 1958-59. But 1960 has been a different story.

The Pirates hold a 9-3 edge over the Braves in the season's series. Haddix has four of those victories.

Harvey has defeated Spahn twice, and the Braves' southpaw, who went 3-0 against Pittsburgh last year, didn't stop the Pirates until July 4, with three innings of hitless relief for a 7-4 10-inning victory.

That was the first game of a doubleheader and at that point the Pirates had won only two of their nine previous games. But along came Haddix in the nightcap with a six-inning good for a 7-2 victory that righted the Pirates.

It was Harvey's first complete game against the Braves in 14 tries since Sept. 14, 1956.

Haddix has a 6-4 season record. Spahn is 8-6. But reverse Haddix's 4-0 against the Braves and Spahn's 1-2 against the Pirates and Milwaukee would be the team that's out in front by five games.

Drawing Today for U. S., Canada Singles Matches

QUEBEC (AP) — The draw for the first two singles matches of the North American Davis Cup tie between Canada and the United States will be made today.

Quebec Premier Jean LeSage will make the draw in the presence of American and Canadian team captains, players from both squads and other dignitaries.

The draw will decide playing partners for the opening singles matches of a best-of-five series that starts Friday afternoon.

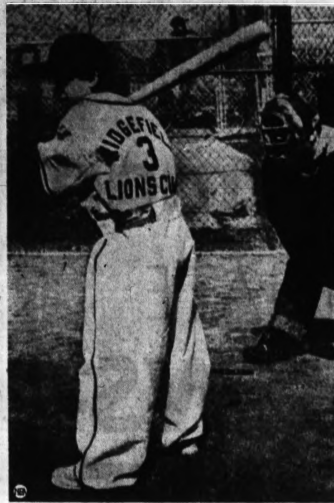

U. S. team captain David Freed indicated yesterday he may go with veterans Bernard (Tui) Barton of Dallas, Tex., and Michigan graduate Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, in the opening singles. Canada is expected to counter with its two aces, Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., and Don Fontana.

Wiffi, Romack Tied for Tippecanoe Lead

LEESBURG, Ind. (UPI) — The Tippecanoe Invitational LPGA here today with Winn Smith of St. Clair, Mich., tied for the lead.

Miss Smith and Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., both posted 70's yesterday in the first round of the two-day $3,000 tournament.

They were followed closely by Marlene Bauer Haggie of Pittsburgh, Merle MacKenzie of Clearwater, Fla., and Beverly Hanson of Palm Beach, Calif., each with 71.

TOO LITTLE FOR HIS BRITCHES — Keeping his eye on the ball, Little League slugger Gary Sapolosky of the Ridgefield, N. J., Lions Club team wears a uniform that looks as if it were designed for Mickey Mantle. Umpire is Ray Platoni.

Detroit in Contention for Ingo-Floyd Fight

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Promoter Bill Fugazy said Wednesday Dallas has a 50-50 chance of being the site of a Floyd Patterson-Ingo Jorgensen rematch, if someone guarantees a million-dollar take.

The New York fight baron was here to talk to Lamar Hunt and Dallas baseball club co-owners J. W. Bateson and Anon Carter Jr. The three Texans have enough money to meet the million-dollar price tag.

Fugazy indicated the site for the proposed third meeting has narrowed to six cities — New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, Dallas and "possibly Detroit."

Women's AAU Swim Meet Begins Today

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The AAU Senior Women's Swimming and Diving Championships open today with defending titlists missing in six events.

Some of them were shipping the meet in order to concentrate on the Olympic trials at Detroit next month.

The 1959 winners who chose not to defend include Carla Coo, Houston, Tex., 100 and 200 meters backstroke; Marion Hargreaves, Miss Huska set the meet record at 20:34.8 in 1959 but has only the third best time among this year's 31 entrants. She has done the distance in 20:12, but Carolyn House of the Los Angeles Athletic Club has posted 20:05.6 and Laurel Watson of the Santa Clara (Calif.) Swim Club has 20:10.

Miss Huska also will defend in the 400-meter individual medley tomorrow. The program will include 100 freestyle, 200 breaststroke, 200 backstroke, and 5-meter diving.

The Saturday schedule includes 100 butterfly, 400 freestyle, 100 breaststroke and 400 freestyle relay. The 200 butterfly, 100 backstroke, 200 freestyle, 400 medley relay and platform diving will be Sunday.

Chris Von Saltz of Santa Clara, America's best bet in Olympic freestyle events, will defend her U. S. titles at 100, 200 and 400 meters.

Other returning champions include Ann Warner of Santa Clara in the 200 breaststroke and Becky Collins of Indianapolis in the 100 and 200 butterfly.

Power said the bet business "was just a joke" before Wednesday's second All-Star Game, in which he played at Yankee Stadium. "It was like maybe I bet somebody I have more hair than him," said Power.

The Indian star, hitless in two at bats in Wednesday's 6-0 loss to the National League after replacing Moose Skowron in the sixth, said he told Frick the same story in a pre-game conference here.

"It appears the boy is in the clear," Frick said, "but I want to talk to that announcer before I comment further."

Already marked competitors for their blazing 66 over the 6,640-yard Wichita Country Club course Tuesday, they were John Garrett, 24, Houston — formerly of Rice University — and Charles Coody, 22, of Stamford, Tex., playing out of Fort Worth.

Garrett, medalist with a 136 for the two-day, 36-hole qualifying play, was 2-over for the 18 holes covered in his 4 and 3 victory over Howard Logan, Wichita, in Wednesday's first round.

Coody, former Texas Christian student who was just one stroke behind Garrett in qualifying play, turned back Dave Ritchie, Wichita, another 136 qualifier. The score for the former Texas state amateur champion, soon to enter service, was 3 and 2.

Miller said only the team's manager, Tony Castano, and its trainer, Louis Navarro, would not make the switch to Jersey City.

"It is my understanding at the present time that the players are all coming to Jersey City," said Miller. He said he had received a report from the players Tuesday night from Miami, Fla.

Paul Miller, business manager of Jersey City's new International League baseball club, said Wednesday night all playing members of the team would join the club in its transfer from Havana.

Miller said only the team's manager, Tony Castano, and its trainer, Louis Navarro, would not make the switch to Jersey City.

"It is my understanding at the present time that the players are all coming to Jersey City," said Miller. He said he had received a report from the players Tuesday night from Miami, Fla.

Hollywood, Calif., 100 breaststroke; Canadian champion Irene McDonald, Los Angeles, 5-meter springboard diving; Paula Jean Pope, Los Angeles diver who won two Olympic Gold Medals in 1956, and the Berkeley, Calif., Y's 400-meter freestyle relay team.

The 100-meter freestyle opens the meet late today, with Sylvia Ruskina of Berkeley defending the title. It is not an Olympic distance.

Miss Huska set the meet record at 20:34.8 in 1959 but has only the third best time among this year's 31 entrants. She has done the distance in 20:12, but Carolyn House of the Los Angeles Athletic Club has posted 20:05.6 and Laurel Watson of the Santa Clara (Calif.) Swim Club has 20:10.

Coody, former Texas Christian student who was just one stroke behind Garrett in qualifying play, turned back Dave Ritchie, Wichita, another 136 qualifier. The score for the former Texas state amateur champion, soon to enter service, was 3 and 2.

Miller said only the team's manager, Tony Castano, and its trainer, Louis Navarro, would not make the switch to Jersey City.

"It is my understanding at the present time that the players are all coming to Jersey City," said Miller. He said he had received a report from the players Tuesday night from Miami, Fla.

Paul Miller, business manager of Jersey City's new International League baseball club, said Wednesday night all playing members of the team would join the club in its transfer from Havana.

There'll Be 10 Tiltz Covering — Six Classes for City Fans

Rivals of the Knights of Columbus in the Class A City Baseball League can't stop them singly as they're going to attempt a combined effort Sunday at Jaycee Park.

That's the day when the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department in conjunction with the Pontiac Baseball Federation sponsors the annual city "Amateur Day" festivities.

The Knights, defending City League champions and current front-runners in the Class A loop, will battle the Class A All-Stars Sunday at 3:30 p.m. on the No. 1 Jaycee baseball diamond to highlight an afternoon of 10 games in six classes.

Leading players from the other three teams in the "A" league will form the All-Star roster for an all-out effort to win a defeat on the high-riding K. of C.

In reserve will be such city diamond stars as Bill Mosher of the Jets, Cole Hunt of the Jets, Dick Grasse of the CIO, Dick Goldworthy of the CIO, Larry Demerick of the Jets, and Alamo Griffiths of the CIO.

Gene Cox will manage the All-Stars and Chief Woodmore will coach. The Knights' star-studded roster includes:

Sunday afternoon's "Amateur Day" program gets under way at 1:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to share in the fun at Jaycee Park.

There'll be a full afternoon of city amateur baseball in all age groups from year-olds through the adult level.

Auto racing at its best will be presented tonight at the Mt. Clemens Speedway with six big races scheduled in the modified-eight division.

The first race on the half-mile track will begin at 8:30 p.m. Time trials will start at 7 p.m. and the four fastest qualifiers will compete in the "fast dash" — four times around the only half-mile track in eastern Michigan.

After three eight-lap heat races, all the qualifying cars will compete in the "Australian Pursuit." Cars that are passed in this 10-lap race are eliminated.

The feature race of the show will be a 20-lap affair. Some of the fastest modified-eights from Michigan, Ohio, and Canada will be entered in the races.

At Age of 39

Musial Very Pleased With All-Star Homer

NEW YORK (AP) — At 39, Stan Musial acknowledged today that he couldn't keep going forever.

"When you hit a home run in an All-Star Game, it makes you feel a lot younger than you are," he said and then added he's not thinking in terms of quitting.

Musial grinned as he thought back to the seventh inning of Wednesday's game when he blasted a homer high up into the right field stands to help the National League defeat the American League, 6-4, in the All-Star baseball classic.

"When I went past Solly Himmis (third base coach) I said to him, 'I kinda liked that.' I guess he was thinking to himself that I ought to get hits like that during the regular season. I hope it is not my last one."

Musial now has played in 19 All-Star Games and holds a flatfile of records. He has hit more home runs than anyone (6), hit for more total bases (39) and has the most at-bats (57). He and Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants share the record for the most runs scored (11).

"Nineteen All-Star Games," Musial mused. "Imagine that. I don't think some of those kids on the team were 19 years old (they all were over 19)."

"But I've still got my enthusiasm and that counts a lot. In fact, I would say that I was the No. 1 cheerleader on the bench. I know most of the players in the league pretty good, and I spent a lot of time telling the younger kids the strength and weakness of the American League players."

Musial was selected by Manager Walt Alton partially out of sentiment, the Dodger pilot admitted. "But," he said, "it's always nice to have a pro like Stan on the club, sentiment or not."

"You know," said Musial, "I really had a feeling I was going to hit a home run. I don't know how things like that come to you, but they do."

"And yet I wasn't trying to hit one. When you've been hitting like I have since the start of the season (he's been hot lately), you are satisfied to get a base hit and let it go all that."

"But I just did meet the ball and timed it perfectly. I knew it was gone right away."

Musial sighed.

"Well, I guess this will cause plenty of talk in my restaurant back in St. Louis. And that's hurt business."

Class A Hurlers Combine For No-Hitter

A close game was the exception rather than the rule in the Pontiac Parks & Recreation summer baseball program Wednesday.

Talbot Lumber had it almost as easy in Class B after a slow start bombarding Elizabeth Lake Merchants, 11-1. Ed Norman pitched a two-hit game while leading his own cause with three singles and a triple. He had 18 strikeouts.

Will Lease Squaw Valley

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A contractor and a wholesaler plan to turn Squaw Valley — multimillion dollar home of the 1960 Winter Olympics — into a resort "the average skier can afford."

Contractor William A. Newsom Jr. and John Polak, both of San Francisco, leased most of the state-built Olympic facilities Wednesday.

They hope to operate an all-year resort with hotel rooms as cheap as $4 a night.

The two have agreed to spend at least $150,000 to improve three athletes' dormitories, the ice rink, press and administration buildings and reception centers.

Newsom estimates they'll spend at least $400,000.

"We see the possibilities of a dual season operation," Newsom explained.

Beginning in 1961, summer visitors will be able to swim in a large pool, use a recreation center with trampolines, play tennis and participate in a wide variety of other warm-weather sports, he said.

The ice rink — where the world's best skaters competed for gold medals last winter — will be open all year around.

Winter sports facilities should be ready this year, Newsom said. The pool will be completed by next summer.

Western Open Tennis Play Delayed by Rain

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A heavy downpour that left two inches of rain on the Woodstock Country Club courts Wednesday forced postponement of action in the Western Open Tennis Tournament.

Tournament officials said they would double up Thursday, and still expected to complete the meet Sunday provided there is no more rain.

Thursday's schedule includes the third round of men's singles, the second round of women's singles and men's doubles and the first round of women's doubles.

Trout Unlimited to Study Fish Mortality

EAST LANSING (UPI)—A research proposal to discover the cause of the 75 per cent annual trout mortality will be among matters considered at the first annual meeting of Trout Unlimited at Traverse City Aug. 6, the organization reports.

NEW B.F. GOODRICH "HT" SILVERTOWN

New tire advance from B.F. Goodrich doubles your tire dollar Gives you the safety features of some tires twice its price.

The brand-new B.F. Goodrich "HT" Silver-town puts more rubber where the wear is — on the outside ribs. That means better traction, greater stability at high speeds, greater protection against bruise blowouts. Better performance all around than some tires costing two times as much.

Outwears two sets of "bargain" tires.

The "HT" delivers more than double the mileage of so-called "bargain" tires. Safer, worry-free mileage... and more enjoyable mileage, too. For the "HT" is made with a new "Quiet Rubber" that takes the hum out of highways, the squeal out of corners and effectively cushions road bumps.

Here's why the "HT" doubles your tire dollar.

Over a rugged nylon body is the "HT's" unique tread — 13% wider, 6% deeper than regular tires. Under normal driving, even when 50% worn, the "HT" gives you greater safety than new "bargain" tires. Your tire dollar works twice as hard — delivers a bonus in mileage, comfort and safety.

Pontiac Yacht in Port Huron-Mackinaw Race

'Victoria 31'
Is Entered as Class 'E' Boat

Dutch Imported Craft
Leaves for Starting
Site Friday

The famous Port Huron to Mackinaw Island boat race will have a Pontiac owned boat, imported from Holland, entered in the class
F, division this weekend.

"Victoria 31," owned jointly by Harold Dudley, James Nye and
D. B. Exmes, will leave the Bayview Yacht Club in Mt. Clemens, Friday morning for Port Huron from where it will depart at 12:30 on Saturday for Mackinaw.

The race will feature 10 boats in various classes this year.
Class E is for slower class boats.
The "Victoria 31" weighs 8,000 pounds with a 34-foot 4 inch mast, a sleep rig, with sleeping quarters for four.

A six-man crew, headed by skipper Tony Elshout of Royal Oak, will handle the craft on the course to Mackinaw. Besides Dudley and Nye who will be members of the crew, Ed Nelson of Pontiac, Jack Miller of Detroit and Robert Idem of Mt. Clemens are the other members.

Sailing at approximately nine knots, the sailing period is expected to be about three days.

Elshout is a Dutch importer who brought the boat here when it was purchased by the syndicate. It is said to be the only boat of its make on the Great Lakes.

Dudley is a member of the Pontiac
Yacht Club, whereas Nye and Nelson race members of the Watkins Lake Yacht Club.

ALL ASHORE THAT'S GOING ASHORE —
Seventeen yachts got off to a slow start from Hamilton, Bermuda, due to mild winds, but no one was in hurry. The finish line awaits the sleek craft 3,500 miles away in Gothenburg, Sweden.

Team Work Important for Safety

Skiers Need Good Boatsman

Nothing is more valuable to the water skier — novice, skilled or competitive — than to have a capable driver at the controls of the tow boat.

Competent boat handlers can enhance the skill of a skier immeasurably, just as errors in judgment by the boat driver can be damaging.

Tom Dorwin, a former national champion, says it is just as important that a tow boat driver be properly instructed as it is to give instruction to the beginning skier.
His theory is that successful water skiing at any level of skill depends upon the boat driver and the skier working together as a well-knit team.

Most important, of course, is that the skier's safety depends in large measure on the boat driver. He should be alert to obey signals from the skier, alert to obstructions in the path of boat and skier and always refrain from horseplay when pulling a skier.

Dorwin lists a basic set of suggestions for anyone handling a boat that pulls water skiers. These instructions assume that a boat driver has attained a reasonable measure of skill in handling a boat alone.

The driver and skier should understand each other's signals before they start. They should make certain they know the local boating regulations before they begin to ski.

When starting, the driver should maneuver the boat so that one can start and continue in the direction until the skier has gained his bearing; after coming out of the water or off a dock.

skier gives the "Hit it!" signal, being careful to play the wind and current so they do not force you off course before you start. When the skier is ready, use enough throttle to pull him out of the water quickly and cleanly.

When underway the driver should avoid abrupt maneuvers of any kind. He should swing wide on turns and especially he should avoid tight turns when the skier is on the inside of the turn. In this case, the skier could lose speed and sink. The driver should not change course without signaling to the skier.

An observer should always be along in the boat to relay signals between skier and driver. The driver should be seated in the boat seat, not on the gunwale.

The boat driver should never drive the boat into shallow water, and should make inquiries about shallow water or possible dangers areas before he starts. If a skier falls in shallow water, he could be hurt.

Respect for the rights of others is one sign of a competent boat driver. He should give other boats wide berth, and be especially careful to stay away from canoes, sailboats, fishermen, swimming areas and skin divers. He should also avoid passing too close to private or public piers and landings. Never should the boat driver follow behind another skier or allow another boat to follow the skier behind him.

If a skier should fall, the driver should always return immediately to pick him up. If he wishes to continue skiing, circle around him at a safe distance, and the tow rope will come back into his hands.
If you wish to take him into the boat, always stop the motor while he is getting into the boat.

A boarding ladder is safer and more convenient than attempting to crawl over the side. Never leave a tow line dragging behind after a skier has finished skiing and pick up floating skis quickly if other boats are operating in the area.

When handling a skier, keep constant speed until the skier lets go. Stay clear of piers, swimmers and shores. Remember, the skier can swing in and land closer to shore than you should drive the boat.

Never tow a skier faster than he wants to go and never keep a skier out after he is exhausted. The skier knows when he is enjoying himself — and enjoyment of the sport is the reason for it. If the driver also remembers

TEAM WORK — When the family goes water skiing, everyone has something to do. Here, Dad drives the boat and pays strict attention to where he's going. Daughter and Mother observe as the little fellow has the time of his life skinning over the water.
Everyone can take his turn, allowing for driver, observer and even someone to take some pictures that will help pass away the idle winter hours while waiting for another season of fun afloat.

Defending Champ
of Trans-Miss
Meet Eliminated

CINCINNATI (AP) — Barbara
Slobo, a port 20-year-old typist from Waukegan, Ill., Wednesday knocked defending champion Mrs.
Ann Casey Johnstone of Milson
City, Iowa, from the 30th annual Trans-Mississippi Golf Tourna-

Miss Slobo, the 1958 Illinois women's champion, was 3 and 2 winner over Mrs. Johnstone, a 1950 Curtis Cup team member, in the second round of the tournament.

Miss Slobo had to share honors for the day, however, with two par-busting youngsters — Sandra Haynie of Austin, Tex., and Judy Eller of Old Hickory, Tenn. — as the field was reduced to 16 players.

Flying Scots to Sail

The Flying Scot Sailing Association will hold its 1960 National Championship Regatta at the Sheraton Shore Yacht Club, Wilmette, Ill., Aug. 26-28. A limit of 30 boats has been tentatively established.

Honor Diver's Flag

The new skin diving flag — a red square with white diagonal — is recognized as a warning that divers are below and craft should steer clear of the flag.

HAVE FUN WITH THE KIDS — There are innumerable things a family can do in a boat.
It's even fun to fly a kite (plastic, of course) out in the middle of a lake where no trees or telephone wires interfere. A family will find more fun with their boat if they use it as a means of enjoying myriad activities and not just to go boat riding.

Boating Can Be
Family Project

As a parent, how many times have you felt that tomorrow is almost here?

Tomorrow is the day when your youngsters no longer delight in family activities. It's the day when they seek friends and activities of their own to your exclusion until they become baby-sitting grandparents.

Parental time spent with the children is all too short. The parent suddenly comes to this realization when the eldest is in his teens, and then searches frantically for new ways of keeping the family together — planning activities in which the entire family group may participate.

When parents cast about for new spheres of family interest they consider an outboard boat and the expanded family outdoor activity such a craft makes possible. Not only lends itself better to boating to the true togetherness of family living. Nothing offers such a diversification of activities as does a boat.

A boat is truly an island of adventure, best appreciated when used as a means to an end rather than the end within itself. Just owning a boat and going for boat rides can become boring. But when you investigate all the possibilities of boating, you'll find there is something for everyone.

Cruising in itself is fun if it is planned — and even the planning is fun. You can investigate unlimited new waterways with your boat on a trailer and ready to go wherever your whim dictates. You can see and appreciate many of the beauties of an area better from a boat than from any other vantage point.

Every bend in the river or bay in the lake holds a new surprise.

Often you can beach the boat, or anchor in shallow water, and continue your exploration ashore. With a boat you can reach areas (even in this country) which can be easily reached no other way. Along the shores of large lakes and oceans you can beach your boat and spend untold hours shell-hunting, making rock collections, or looking for unusual driftwood formations.

One of the most popular, and most rapidly increasing, uses of a boat is by the camping family who adds to their enjoyment by taking the boat with them. It not only broadens their horizons while camping, it serves as a carry-all on the way to the campsite. It provides the diversion of fishing, cruising or water skiing while camping.

Water skiing is taking its place at the forefront of the participant sports. A powered boat, skis and a tow rope and you're all set for the thrills of skinning over the waves. Water skiing is a sport not limited to the young. As many fathers and mothers as youngsters are enjoying the exhilaration of water skiing.

With a boat you can join one of the hundreds of boating clubs around the country and enjoy the incomparable fellowship of other boaters. No group of people is more friendly and interesting than fellow boaters. Social possibilities takes a back seat where boating is concerned. The industrialist and banker rub elbows and swap knowledge with the backwoodsmen in the farmer.

Essentially, a boat provides the kind of recreation in which an entire family can participate. Officials have pointed out that out-boards make captains of kids. The kids can drive the boat (with adult supervision), something they cannot do with any other conveyance.
They feel a part of the activity.
They become an equal, not a nuisance.

When tomorrow comes, it will be all the richer for having shared those brief years with your children. Today is here, tomorrow will soon be eternity.

Machine Cures People, Finds Flaws in Metal

Industrial X-Ray Helps Fight Cancer

By WILLIAM F. TYBEE

LOS ANGELES (UPI) Industrial X-ray equipment has been transformed into a medical blessing for cancer patients through the efforts of a small group of dedicated men. Their efforts in the battle against cancer result from ingenious use of a two-million volt radiography machine which checks steel parts for internal and allied imperfections.

The industrial use of the gigantic machine—spotting of air pockets in steel castings for possible failure of welded joints—has been adapted to the night and on weekends behind a four-foot wall deep inside an obscure building in downtown Los Angeles.

But by day, a steady stream of hospital cancer outpatients converge upon the building which is known as the Southern California Cancer Center.

The Southern California Cancer Center was incorporated as a charitable, scientific, non-profit California corporation in 1957 with the gift of a huge X-ray machine from the Donner Foundation of Philadelphia.

Basic purposes of the center are treatment of persons afflicted with cancer who are unable to pay the full costs of such care, and development of additional research facilities in California.

"We believe we are accomplishing great progress," said John Amos, a Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist at the center.

Through pinpointing the powerful X-ray, we can frequently cut a ring of cancerous tissue from a patient—although we may not get it all."

Staff physicians explain that both the cancer and industrial X-ray work at the center are essentially a process of looking through either a person or a casting which might fall under great stress.

In the cancer section, the Don equipment and other laser machines show by a series of marks on film the exact position of malignant tissue for possible surgery or extended X-ray treatment.

A high degree of skill is necessary not only to determine the location of the cancerous mass but to manipulate the patient into the optimum position for best possible results.

Officials Refuse Blind Worker Pistol Permit

ATLANTA (AP)—An Atlanta factory worker has applied for a permit to carry a pistol, but officials indicated that although he may be a very good shot they are going to refuse him.

The factory where Paul W. Starnes works is the state factory for the blind.

The 54-year-old blind man says he has been shooting pistols, rifles and shotguns for 20 years and claims he is about as good a shot as anybody. But authorities still were skeptical.

But Volunteers Whoop It Up Madly

Convention Delegates Bored by Frenzy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Convention demonstrators, a bit of mid-summer madness that afflicts America's political elite every four years, gladden volunteers but apparently bore delegates.

Politically speaking, they carried as much weight as a campaign button at the 1960 Democratic convention's nominating session Wednesday night.

If placards, noise and fervor meant as much as votes, Adlai E. Stevenson instead of Sen. John F. Kennedy would be the party's standard-bearer today.

Veteran convention goers said nothing since Wendell Wilkie swept the galleries at the GOP convention in 1940 equaled the ovation given Stevenson.

But there was a difference Wednesday night. The galleries whooped it up madly for Adlai, but the delegates sat grimly on their hands.

What was it like on the floor, with demonstrators swarming, yelling and shoving? Come along on a furious foray through Frenzy, U.S.A.

A DOOR OPENS

Assembling outside the Sports Arena six hours before nominations began, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's supporters complained they didn't have enough demonstrator passes. Someone flung a door open, and ushers and plainclothesmen tried to stem a rolling flood of humanity. At least 50 swarmed into the hall before the doors could be closed.

The Johnsonites put on the first demonstration. Billy Clayton, of Spring Lake, Tex., shouted through a useless loudspeaker: "Hold your ranks, please." But the LBJ folk swept on through the hall.

Keith Kahle, of Fort Worth, Tex., held aloft a six-foot foam rubber sombrero for LBJ. Stopped by the crush, he yelled: "Hey, we're not moving!" Roger Turner, University of Texas law student, reassured him: "That's all right. Keep yelling anyway."

Kennedy's sister, Pat, yawned deliberately as Johnsonites swarmed past the Massachusetts delegation. Her brother Ted, 28, stood in the aisle as solemn as a mourner at an Irish wake.

You can't see the clock from the floor because of the forest of signs. And you can't estimate the time. It seems to take forever to move 10 feet.

By the time you catch your breath, the Kennedyites stamped the hall. Huge papier mache heads of the 43-year-old senator bob up and down like corks floating on a sea of signs. Balloons ascent to the ceiling. Some go phiff as anti-Kennedyites jab them or pop them with cigarettes.

Likes Visiting in Rain

NASHVILLE (AP) — Visitation evangelism works better in bad weather, says Dr. Harry Denman, general secretary of the Methodist Board of Evangelism. "Not only are the people more likely to be home, but they will know you are in earnest."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California hefts his 200 pounds out of his seat to hold the state banner aloft. But he's stopped by the swarm and sits down disconsolately.

Seated side by side are New York State Chairman Mike Pendergast, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City, and Tammany Hall leader Carmine G. De-

Sapio. Solidly for Kennedy, they give the word. The New York standard is swept up in the Kennedy tide.

A tired demonstrator sits briefly in an empty Virginia delegate's seat. He jumps up. There was something hard underneath him, a half-empty bottle of bourbon. And so it goes. For Sen. Ste-art Symington and the favorite sons the rallies seem anticlimactic. Everyone's waiting for the Stevenson outburst.

The Stevensonites had more homemade signs, beads, and horn-rimmed glasses than any other camp. A turbaned Indian carried a placard saying "India's friend—Stevenson." India has no votes in the convention.

Kids Follow Example, Says Auto Association

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Many people are bad drivers because their parents were, says E. Ray Cory, president of the Minnesota State Automotive Assn.

"The youngster who has watched his parent for many years flout traffic laws tends to grow up with an understandably irresponsible attitude toward his driving," Cory said.

The first penal institution in Arkansas was constructed at the site of the present State Capitol Building in Little Rock.

Poodle Went to School but Lost Movie Role

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Natalie Wood's toy poodle, Chi Chi, used to bark like any other red-blooded dog. Then Natalie sent her to training school.

It cost Chi Chi a chance to appear in Warner Brothers' "Cash McCall." The part called for a toy poodle that barked and since graduation Chi Chi hasn't uttered a sound.

About 10 per cent of the United States national income is spent for the purchase and operation of automobiles.

Resigning Premier to be Hospitalized 10 Days — Election Not Delayed

Doctors said Kishi would be out of the hospital in 10 days, and his ruling Liberal-Democratic party went ahead with plans to accept his resignation and elect Trade Minister Hayato Ikeda Prime Minister Friday.

Kishi was attacked at the Prime Minister's official residence as he drank banai champagne toasts with party leaders in celebration of Ikeda's election earlier today to succeed him as party president.

The party election was preliminary to the government change which Kishi had promised after the controversial U.S.-Japanese security treaty took effect last month.

Bleeding profusely, Kishi was rushed to a nearby hospital. A secretary said he was cracking jokes with visitors within an hour. One of his doctors said neither the artery nor the sciatic nerve had been cut.

GIVES NO REASON

Police arrested the assailant, Daisuke Aramaki, 65, a member of a small, unaffiliated rightist group. He refused to say why he had attacked the Prime Minister or how he had obtained the Liberal-Democratic party badge that he used to enter the official residence.

The attack on Kishi occurred just a month after another rightist stabbed and injured a prominent Socialist, Jotaro Kawakami, near the Parliament Building. The two attacks aroused fears that Japan is in for a revival of the prewar terrorism in which the notorious rightist Black Dragon Society played a leading role.

Kishi is the fourth Japanese prime minister of the 26th century to be a terrorist victim. The others were Takashi Hara, fatally stabbed in 1921; Yuko Hamaguchi, wounded in 1936; and Tetsuichi Inami, assassinated by rebellious army officers in 1932.

Although the Liberal-Democrats still planned to make the government change Friday, there was a possibility the Socialist minority in the lower house of the Diet, or parliament, might try some delaying tactic. Pelled in their attempt to block the U.S.-Japanese pact, the Socialists and other leftists lately have been railing against Ikeda.

The Socialists cannot prevent Ikeda's election ultimately, however, since the Liberal-Democrats have a 105-seat majority in the lower house.

AFTER KNEEING—Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi is carried to an ambulance in Tokyo after being stabbed six times today. His wounds were "not serious." —A rightist was arrested for the assault.

Jacqueline Kennedy Very Excited, Happy

AFL-CIO Supports Courthouse Mill Hike

The Oakland County AFL-CIO Council last night endorsed the county's proposed millage increase to finish the new courthouse.

"All delegates recognize that we are taxed heavily for services rendered, but also realize that if these two propositions, full it will cost the taxpayers much more on a catch-as-catch-can basis than it will in complete the building in a one-shot program," the delegates agreed in a prepared statement.

County taxpayers will vote Aug. 2 on a four-year half-mill tax hike package to bring in an estimated million dollars a year to pay for additional buildings in the County Service Center where a six-story courthouse tower is going up.

The second proposition is a constitutional provision allowing for the millage to be outside of the 15-mill taxing limitation.

Symington May Receive VP Nod as Compromise

LOS ANGELES (P) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts held the cherished Democratic presidential nomination today.

But his roughshod ride over all opposition on the first ballot Wednesday night left some gaping holes in the "strong and united party in all parts of the United States" which he told a cheering convention he will lead into the November election.

In an attempt to placate angry Southerners threatening to walk out on the ticket, there were reports Kennedy might turn to Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri as his running mate.

Symington, who mustered 56 votes to Kennedy's winning 806, is regarded as acceptable to the South.

Informers said the new nominee's choice had been narrowed to Symington and Sen. Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson of Washington. Jackson was named by brother Robert Kennedy as his own personal favorite.

But there were some among the Kennedy strategists who urged that first refusal of the vice presidential nomination be given to Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

With Kennedy's guidance, the convention is expected to name the vice presidential nominee tonight.

In a demonstration of power that surprised even his own leaders, Kennedy swept to a smashing first-ballot victory as the first Roman Catholic to be nominated for the presidency since Al Smith.

Johnson Pledges to Aid Kennedy

Extent of Cooperation Possible Determinant in November Elections

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas pledged today to help in every way the man who crushed his hopes of capturing the Democratic presidential nomination.

The winner, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, could well look to Johnson for help because of the Texas' powerful position as majority leader in the Democratic-controlled Senate.

Next month the Senate, where Kennedy has a back-row seat, will go back into session to clean up minimum wage, housing, education, medical care for the aged, and other legislation left unfinished when Congress adjourned for the party political conventions.

The extent to which Johnson and Kennedy, the new party leader, cooperate could be vital in determining the kind of record which the Democrats will carry into the November elections.

Johnson, who fought furiously to the last to overtake Kennedy in the race for the presidential nomination, sent his young rival a telegram of congratulations once the battle was over.

LOOKS FORWARD

"I am looking forward with confidence to helping you in every way to carry the whole Democratic ticket to victory from the courthouse to the White House," he wired.

Earlier Johnson had issued a statement saying he accepted the decision of the convention delegates "with all my heart" and urged the party to unite behind Kennedy.

"We have a winner—he has proved it here," Johnson said.

Johnson did not talk with newsmen after Kennedy swept to a first-ballot victory. Aides said he went to bed immediately after watching the roll call or a television set in his hotel suite.

Johnson, who had said in the past that he doubted if a Southerner could ever be nominated for president in his lifetime, polled 409 votes. He had claimed he would have over 500 on the first ballot.

The bulk of his votes came from the Southern states, including 61 from Texas alone. But altogether he received votes from 26 states and the Canal Zone.

Now Skeptics Believe Anything Kennedy 'Quake' Strikes

It was like one of those earthquakes that now are quite accurately predicted a few days in advance.

It also was akin to a quake because some skeptics refused to believe it would happen. Now they'll believe most anything.

It happened. Los Angeles people say, before the largest crowd that ever saw a candidate nominated for president of the United States.

While it came by what the supporting men call "a narrow squeak," it made political history. Sam Rayburn tried to be the speaker of the day in presenting the name of Lyndon Johnson. The and died a quite natural death after 19 minutes. Stevenson was nominated, his followers got off to a noisy start. They also used some balloons. It ran 21 minutes.

Harry Truman was not there to second Symington's nomination.

The nomination of Hubert C. Leavelle of Iowa came as a surprise.

He had no organized demonstration, and quite evidently his friends stuck up by his lightning rod in the hope some stray bolts might be wandering around.

He immediately withdrew in favor of Kennedy.

SPEECH INTERRUPTED

The nominating speech for Gov. George Docking of Kansas was rudely interrupted by the arrival of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt who was given a rousing welcome.

He had but a little demonstration and withdrew in favor of Kennedy.

Fandomism broke loose when Adlai E. Stevenson was nominated. I never witnessed such an ovation. It lasted 30 minutes and was stopped only by most drastic means.

Eleanor Roosevelt got another ovation when she seconded his nomination.

Gov. Robert Meyer drew a 10-minute ovation when nominated as New Jersey's favorite son.

Our Gov. Williams passed up the favorite son deal by declaring our votes for Kennedy.

The November election may be the sequel to the battle of the millions. If so, it will be a presidential campaign to eclipse anything this country has ever seen.

Force of African Nations Readied for Congo Action

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (P) — The U.N. Security Council early today approved Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's plan to speed a stopgap U.N. military force drawn mostly from African nations to the new republic of the Congo in an effort to keep it from collapsing into anarchy.

Immediately after the council acted, the secretary general assured that first steps to put the force together would be taken "in a couple of hours." Initial elements of the force were expected to be in the central African country before the end of the week.

Approval of U.N. intervention came at an emergency 6½-hour session of the council that did not adjourn until 3:24 a.m.

Hammarskjöld called the meeting after receiving urgent requests from the Congo government for U.N. aid.

For a time it appeared that his plea for quick action would be stymied by a dispute over the future of Belgian troops that intervened. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Save but One in Two Plane Crashes

Five U. S. Rescue Craft Tow Northwest Rafts to Calmer Waters

MANILA (AP) — Two airliners ditched off the Philippines at opposite ends of the island chain before dawn today, only eight minutes apart. All but one of the 85 persons aboard survived in the 300 water.

One wing was on fire when a Northwest Orient Airlines plane carrying 54 persons ditched off the Palolo Islands about 85 miles northeast of Manila. U. S. military amphibious planes picked up 37 survivors and the body of one woman passenger and brought them to Manila. One survivor was reported seriously injured.

Eight minutes before, a Philippine Airlines DCI had ditched in shallow water near Dagupan, off Negros Island in the southern Philippines. The plane was bound from Manila for Zamboanga City, but had weather prevented a landing. The pilot ran out of gas. The 27 passengers and 3 crewmen all reached shore safely.

The American airliner was approaching Manila on a flight from New York to Hong Kong after stops in Seattle, Anchorage, Tokyo and Okinawa.

PROPELLER WILD

About an hour before the Northwest airliner crash, the pilot reported his No. 2 propeller had "run away" and he was unable to feather it. Then the engine caught fire, the flames spread to the wing, and the four-engine DCI hit the water.

Rescue planes sighted signal flares on the water near the crash scene, put down, and faxed up the survivors huddled on four rafts.

A rescue pilot said the water was so rough that the rafts had to be towed to a cove so the five survivors could be loaded on the five planes.

The Northwest survivors were flown to Manila's International Airport and the U.S. Naval Base at Sangley Point, on Manila Bay. They arrived eight hours after the crash. Most were able to walk to ambulances. They were driven to hospitals.

Airline officials withheld the names of the dead woman and the seriously injured survivor.

The passengers were shoeless, and some of the flames were still clinging to lifeboats. But they were in good spirits and full of pride for pilot David R. Ewalt, Seattle, Wash., and six members of his crew.

Amelia Battalino, 31, of Wethersfield, Conn., was still shaking "in her yellow and green dress." She was on the world tour.

"Everyone was simply marvelous," she reported. "There was absolutely no panic. The crew handled the whole situation so very well."

Pilot Ball said it was his first accident in 18 years of flying.

"I can't recall what happened," he said. "All I know is we reacted the way we were trained."

Convention Acoustics Improved

Can Almost Hear Self Think

By JOE HAAS

LOS ANGELES — The Sports Arena acoustics, very bad at the opening session Monday, now have been improved and a person can almost hear himself think.

Jack Kennedy is a down-to-earth, grass-roots campaigner. He is passing out. The Santa Fe Railroad alone starts a whole trainload of changes to eastern points every night.

My reservations called for me to leave here Thursday, but they have been extended to Saturday, so I can leave the great show for you to its end.

The opening session was a tire some one, because of the many delegation procedures necessary to lay the groundwork for the rest of the convention.

There's no doubt in any California mind that the state will pass New York in the next decade, and become the most populous in the U. S.

use of money to win a nomination, and then an election.

But money talks in politics the same as in any other language, and the Republican top brass is getting dubious about Dick.

His experience in ousting what the Democrats considered a sure bet in the state of New York, and his excellent record as its governor prove that he has that magical vote getting touch and proven ability for a big job.

Yes, there's a lot of cogitating and reflecting being done in advance of what happens at the stockyards auditorium week after next.

Bloomfield Hills Woman Dies After Accident

A Bloomfield Hills woman whose back was broken in an accident in Bloomfield Township a week ago died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Henry K. Lyons, 39, of 960 Pine Lane Rd., was injured when a trailer truck driven by James F. Frakum of Monroe, Ind., ran a red light at Maple and Telegraph roads last Thursday, police said.

The truck traveling south hit the Lyons' car broadside, knocking it into several other cars, injuring eight persons.

A witness told police Frakum ran a red light. He was released on a $100 bond.

Bloomfield Police Chief Norman Delmke said new charges are being prepared against the driver.

The Day in Birmingham

Former Pupils Will Honor Mrs. Long at Reunion

BIRMINGHAM—A teacher who taught 23 consecutive years at the defunct Tuscarora School in Bloomfield Township will be honored by alumnae Sunday at a picnic in Davisburg.

Guest of honor at the reunion will be Mrs. Josephine Long, who taught at the school on Franklin road near Telegraph road from 1937 to 1960.

The school closed in 1959, but Mrs. Long continued teaching in the Bloomfield Hills School District another nine years, retiring June 1959.

A history of the old Tuscarora School, founded in 1937, and pictures of former pupils and teachers have been made into a scrapbook and will be presented to Mrs. Long during the picnic.

The former school building is now a Lutheran Church and its pastor the Rev. William Grafe was once a pupil of Mrs. Long.

Frank Longmire, 45, of Pontiac, the school's oldest alumna is expected to attend the picnic. Longmire began school at Tuscarora in 1931.

Planning to attend the reunion also are ten former teachers, including Township Supervisor Arno Hildet who was once principal of the school.

The school, originally a log cabin built by families in the area, was replaced by the present building in 1932.

The picnic will be held at the Davisburg Park beginning at 1 p. m.

It is the first school reunion since 1920.

For the second year in a row, C. J. Valentine Jr. of 208 E. River Blvd., Bloomfield Township, captured top honors at the Classic Car Club of America's Midwest Grand Classic at Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

Valentine's senior division victory, a 1937 Mercedes-Benz $40K four-passenger Cabriolet, was in 1935 to R. V. Todd.

Mr. Todd came to the Pontiac area from New York in 1950 and first lived with his family on a farm near Oxford.

The brush firm he founded was purchased by Miller Branch Co. In 1952, Mr. Todd went into a partnership in the Matteson-Moore Shoe Store. The business was sold in 1955 to R. V. Todd.

Mr. Todd helped his son Rex develop a gasoline capsule machine now being used by many pharmaceutical companies in the manufacture of vitamin pills. He served as vice president of Wade Laboratories in Worcester, Mass. from 1945 until the business was sold in 1950.

Mr. Todd, of 272 Oakland Ave., was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are two sons, Maurice M. of Lansing and Rex of Holden, Mass.; and six grandchildren.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the Farmer-Stover Funeral Home with his pastor, Dr. William H. Marbach, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Scattered Rebels

Scattered rebels—many of them from the West where Johnson believed he was strong—lifted Kennedy to his winning total.

But the South wanted none of the 49-year-old gladiator who had shocked his elders among his opponents that by winning all the primaries in which he was entered and in tireless campaigning for more than two years he had forged a crushing machine.

Kennedy didn't get a single convention vote from Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas or Virginia. He harvested only 2 1/2 in Alabama and 6 in North Carolina.

All of this spelled trouble. And it was not in coming.

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, angered by Johnson's defeat, put out a daily statement that he would vote for the ticket headed by Kennedy but would not work for it.

Texas' 24 electoral votes—which went to President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956—represented a prize Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be shooting for if he is the Republican nominee.

Comments of other Texans offered somewhat the sting of Daniel's statement. House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who championed Johnson's cause, was unhappy about the result. But he said he is a good Democrat and will abide by the result.

But other Southerners let their feelings show.

Gov. Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina made an official demand that his state not be regarded as joining the secession for Kennedy's nomination.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I and four other couples planned to go out to a night club. It was to be a Dutch treat. About a week before we were supposed to go, I mentioned our going out to another friend. She sort of hinted that she would like to go too, whereupon I asked her if she and her husband would like to join us. She accepted.

When I told the others that I had asked Mary and Jim Doe to come along, they seemed to react in this and thought I should have consulted the group before asking them to join us.

As it was a Dutch treat party, I saw nothing wrong in asking this other couple to come along. Will you please give me your opinion?

Answer: Even though it was a Dutch treat party, you should not have taken it upon yourself to invite the additional couple without consulting the others, to be sure they would be congenial.

Dear Mrs. Post: The invitations to my daughter's wedding were sent out several days ago. Reply cards were sent with the invitations. We did not, however, put stamps on the return envelopes.

A sister of mine has criticized this and said that guests will think we are pinching pennies. I am very much upset over this and would like to know if we should have put stamps on the envelopes.

Answer: You were correct in not putting stamps on the envelopes. It is not very courteous to suggest that guests require payment of four cents in order to tell you whether they will or will not accept your invitation.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to give my fiancée an engagement ring in the very near future. My mother, who is a widow, has offered me her engagement ring to give to her. It is a very beautiful one and much nicer than one I could afford to buy. Would it be proper to give her this ring? It is there frequently.

Answer: There's absolutely nothing wrong in it. In fact, it is done frequently.

Dear Mrs. Post: In this morning's mail, mother and I received an invitation to a party which is taking place in four days time. I happen to know that the invitations to this particular party were sent out two weeks ago. I resent this last-minute invitation and do not want to go. Mother thinks we should. Her attitude is that "it is better to have received a late invitation than none at all and that at least they did think of us." I think this clearly indicates that we were "second choice." Isn't such a last-minute invitation rude to the receiver?

Answer: A late invitation does not necessarily mean that you were second choice. It is very possible that in looking over the list of guests, the hostess found that you and your mother had been unintentionally overlooked and I agree with your mother that you should go.

I might also add as special advice to you, that to go through life looking for possible slights will not bring you happiness or popularity.

Take Good Look Wear Glasses
at the World;

(NEA) — Women who need glasses and refuse to wear them are more than just normally short-sighted. To begin with, glasses frames are so pretty that even gals who don't need them yearn to wear them.

But there's more than that to this glasses business. You know, or should know, how precious your eyesight is. In addition, you should know something else that your mirror won't tell you because you probably can't see as you peer into it. And that is this: you're getting lots of little wrinkles from squinting. For people who can't see well, invariably squint in an effort to bring an object into focus.

Furthermore, you advertise to the world, with your blind peering look that you can't see and won't wear glasses. So take a long look, close-up, at the pretty frames in the next shop you pass. Pick your favorite color, the shape that's right for you and have glasses ground to your prescription. Then have another long, clear look at a sparkling world in springtime.

Shift From Dick to Jack

Young People Seem to Prefer Kennedy

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert
Youth Research Co.

A large portion of America's politically conscious young people have changed their minds since the first of the year and decided that Sen. Kennedy is the man most likely to be next President.

This is our interpretation of replies from 933 teeners.

In earlier survey, the vote of a somewhat similar group was first for Gov. Rockefeller and second for Kennedy.

One factor in the change of course, was that we made the recent inquiries after Rockefeller had seemed to rule himself out of the race and before he had said he could be drafted.

Speaks on Prayer
to Dorcas Class

Mrs. Gerald Shaffer used the subject Prayer as a devotional topic when Dorcas Class of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church met Tuesday evening at the Delevan street home of Mrs. Howard Hall.

Mrs. Peter Niemi and Mrs. E. J. Schultz served refreshments.

Purse Not in Use?

(NEA) — Handbags that are not in use should be stuffed and wrapped in tissue, and stored in boxes.

Another significant point in the current survey is that teen-agers from Democratic families outnumbered those from Republican families 3 to 1. (The proportion in the first poll was 2 to 1.)

Yet only 43 per cent opined that Kennedy would be chosen president, against 23 per cent for Nixon, 3 per cent for Adlai Stevenson and 2 per cent for Sen. Symington. Others didn't know, or mentioned draft horses.

Attacking the problem from one more angle, we asked the youngsters for whom they would vote personally if they could, assuming that Nixon and Kennedy were nominated. Fifty-four per cent said they would vote for Kennedy, 37 per cent for Nixon and 9 per cent undecided.

You a Worry Wart?
That's to the Good

By RUTH MILLETT

So you're a worry wart? Well, so are we. You don't let THAT worry you. Chances are you're actually happier than the person who doesn't worry about his problems.

That's the conclusion of a group of researchers who have made a study of the worrying habits of Americans. The results have just been published in a book, "Americans View Their Mental Health." If you are trying to figure out how a worrier can be happier than a nonworrier, here is the explanation of the researchers:

The worrier is likely to be more optimistic about the future. He worries because he thinks he can change things for the better.

Truly unhappy people don't bother to worry because they are apathetic about the future and don't figure they can change things for the better.

Since most of us are worriers by nature, this is mighty encouraging news and ought to give us one less worry—our worry about so much worrying.

"I know it is foolish of me to worry," we say to ourselves and then begin to worry about being a worrier.

But now we can worry with a clear conscience. Worrying over Junior's poor grades, a husband's indifference or a daughter's rebellious attitude just means we are hopeful people who aren't so beaten down by life that we shrug our shoulders and say:

Some are staunch Democrats. "Our family has been Democratic for many years," says Alice M. Gansoni, 17, of St. Paul, Minn. "I think that Sen. Kennedy is a careful, brilliant, competent. He has the interest of the people at heart."

Others said they were attracted by his capabilities, personality and youth.

Among the teen-agers for Kennedy, some like the young millionaire from Massachusetts as a personality.

"Kennedy is a young man with a lot of new ideas," says 16-year-old Cherie Woods of Missoula, Mont. "He is intelligent and capable of dealing with situations."

And some are simply against Nixon. "Nixon is a staunch reactionary with Nixon's best interests at heart," says 16-year-old Carol Weber of Berkeley, Calif.

Among the teen-agers for Nixon, experience is the most often repeated argument. "I think that Nixon is better prepared to take on the responsibilities of president," says Nancy C. Carter, 17, of Knoxville, Tenn.

"He also has party supporters. Melinda Cross, 16, of Knoxville, Tenn., favors the vice president "because my family always votes Republican."

And Kennedy's religion is an important factor with many Nixon supporters. "Nixon has had a lot of experience in foreign relations as vice president," says Diane Meali, 16, of St. Louis, Mo., "and Kennedy is a Catholic and is under the rule of the Pope in Rome."

In explaining why they think Kennedy will be elected, his supporters point to his recent primary election successes.

Among those who choose Nixon, the religious question seems to be the dominating reason.

"Many people, even Democrats, will vote for Nixon because Kennedy is Catholic," says Judith Hill, 18, of South Bend, Ind.

"Nixon is the most well known, and has done a remarkable job as vice president," says Kathleen Daniels, 18, of St. Paul, "and I believe that religious prejudice will prevent Kennedy from becoming president."

"People are afraid that religion will mix with politics if Kennedy gets it," says Yvonne Scholger, 17, of St. Paul.

How to master 30 of the most crucial situations of modern traffic 29

By MAXWELL N. HALSEY

GIVE WAY GRACIOUSLY

Other things being equal, if you reach an intersection ahead of a cross-street driver, or if you arrive at the same time, but you are the driver on the right—both of which are hard to prove—you would have the legal right of way. To make such a decision unnecessary and to favor one street over another, a "yield" sign is erected. You must give the right of way to a vehicle approaching from either your right or left. You may be required to slow to 15 mph, or whatever the sign says.

Heads Lake Orion School Board

Young Named President

LAKE ORION—Richard Young, an incumbent who topped all candidates in Monday's Lake Orion School District elections, was chosen by fellow members last night as president of the Board of Education.

Young, who was re-elected to a three-year term with a total of 22 votes, succeeded Mrs. Gladys Van Wagner in the post. She retired after serving 12 years on the Board.

Hugh Brady was named secretary and Keith Middleton was chosen treasurer. Other officers are Robert Sheardy, president pro tem; Mary Parker, secretary pro tem, and James Baskin, treasurer pro tem. All three are new members.

A canvass of the school district election showed only one change in the voting.

The proposal to pay newly elected Board members $60 a year salary received the most "no" votes that were counted previously, making the July 422 majority for the proposition and 224 against it. The number of votes received by all candidates remained the same.

The school tax rate was also set at $28 mills, the same as last year. However, school officials expect to receive a higher dollar total because of increased valuation.

Oak Park Mother Injured in Wreck

OAK PARK—A 25-year-old mother of two in William Beaumont Hospital after being thrown through the rear window of a car as it crashed into a telephone pole on Capital avenue near Wyoming early this morning.

Mrs. Donald Walczak of 2220 Rosewood Ave. is in fair condition with severe scalp lacerations. Her husband, who was driving the car, was treated for head lacerations and released.

Oak Park police said Walczak was traveling at a high rate of speed when the car bounced off the curb, spun around and slammed backward into the pole. He was not ticketed.

The Council set up a centralized purchasing system for the city, reorganized the police department for more efficient protection and operation, and revamped the filing system for more efficient front-office procedure.

This year, Firestone and councilmen put the finishing touches on a big behind-the-scenes reorganizing and updating of all city ordinances.

Finally, as Firestone leaves, the city will begin the first phase of a project of which he was so much a part — a $100,000 blacktopping program which should see all the city's streets paved in three years.

The Council had voted less than two weeks ago to raise Firestone's annual salary to $5,000. The Troy manager's position pays $10,000 yearly to begin.

Firestone, is resigning, said that he valued the "top notch cooperation" of councilmen during his tenure and told councilmen, "I sincerely hope this great little city keeps going up and up."

The Council will begin screening applicants for the position immediately.

Lady Flair Again Wins Powder Puff Air Wins

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Pretty Aileen Saunders of El Cajon, Calif., who took up living four years ago because her husband was interested in it, has won the Powder Puff Derby Transcontinental Air Race for women for the second year in a row.

Mrs. Saunders, 33, and her copilot, June Douglas of Fall River, Mass., flew the 2,786 miles from Torrance, Calif., to the finish line at New Castle County Airport in 18 hours and 27 minutes. They flew in a Cessna 172 "Cool Lady."

Seek Witnesses in Crash Death

IMLAY CITY — State Police today are seeking witnesses to a head-on collision, two miles south of here on M53, which took the life of a 40-year-old Royal Oak man yesterday.

Frank W. Andus of 4605 Briarwood, who was driving to work in Marlette, was killed instantly when his car smashed into a state truck as he attempted to pass three other northbound cars.

None of the other auto drivers were at the scene when officers from the Romeo State Police Post arrived. The truck driver, Orvel Dayton, 41, of 28545 Walcott, Roseville, was the only witness. Dayton, who was southbound on the two-lane highway, told police he didn't have time to pull off the road when he saw Andus's car coming.

Andus, an employee of the Marlette Coach Co., was the father of three children from one to 15 years of age.

Avon Township Rejects Sewer Pay Plan

AVON TOWNSHIP — Officials here last night rejected an Oakland County Department of Public Works proposal that a $25 sewer connection charge be made when a building permit is taken out in Areas 1 and 2 of the MSOU Disposal District.

Opposition to the proposal came from the Township Board since no definite time has been set for the construction of the laterals in the area.

One purpose of the fee, as stated by the DFW, would be to expand the existing treatment plant when it was required.

In a letter to the township, R. J. Alexander, director of the DFW, stated that the fee would relieve taxpayers of the cash burden when the laterals are constructed.

The connection charge cannot be included in a bond issue for the proposed system nor can it be spread as a special assessment against homeowners.

Township Trustees also felt that the county should collect the fee and not the township, as had been proposed, since if the laterals were not built the county could return the money and relieve the township of a large amount of paper work.

In rejecting the proposal, however, the trustees stated that any new proposal from the county would be welcomed.

A $2.30 Tax Drop Wins Holly School Board OK

HOLLY — A $2.30 tax reduction in the Holly Area School District has been realized with the approval of the 1960-61 budget by the Board of Education, said School Supt. Ray Barber yesterday.

The new budget calls for a total tax levy of $21.33 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation compared to the 1959-60 tax of $23.63 per $1,000. Set at $742,000, the approved budget is approximately $8,000 higher than last year.

The reduction in taxes was permitted pursuant to a referendum in February when they approved two millage proposals.

One asked for the continuation of six extra mills for operational expenses, and the other sought an added mill for capital improvements.

The school board at that time committed itself to reduce the bonded indebtedness of the school system from $920 to $1,000 of assessed valuation to $6 for each $1,000.

The full $3.30 savings isn't realized since the additional one mill for improvements has been placed on the tax rolls. The one mill tax lowers the savings to $2.30, for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Taxes, then, for the new budget are $8.33 for operations, the voted extra $6 for operations, the voted one dollar for capital improvements, and the reduced 6 mills for bonded indebtedness.

Increased teacher's salaries, added personnel and renovation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington's supporters stood ready today to launch a drive to win him the vice-presidential nomination if he gives them the word.

And Symington left completely open the question of whether he would accept such a bid if it comes.

He said it was a hypothetical question to which he had not given any real thought.

But some of his supporters made clear that they hoped he would be offered the No. 2 spot and they believed he would agree to run.

HYDES DISAPPOINTMENT — Symington held the severe disappointment he must have felt at losing out for the convention's grand prize, Wednesday night.

Soon after Kennedy's victory, the Missouri senator emerged from his hotel suite and in the same calm manner he has displayed all week, read a congratulatory statement to the victor.

State's Supreme Tribunal Denies Rehearing Motion

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The State Supreme Court stood firm on its decision favoring the proposed big-league auto race track in Shelby Township, it was learned yesterday.

The high court has denied a motion for rehearing a case brought against the planned speedway by the Shelby Township Homeowners Assn., which has been waging a legal battle for a year and a half trying to keep the league auto race track in Shelby Township, it was track from being built in the Van Dyke-23-Mile Rd. area.

In an earlier ruling June 8, the state court refused to stop the township from issuing permits needed for construction of the track.

This action upheld a judgment passed last year in Macomb County Circuit Court.

Dee Edwards, a Detroit attorney acting as counsel for the association, said yesterday the group had not yet met to decide if it would press for further litigation.

The lengthy legal battle started shortly after Curtis-Wright Corp. announced plans in 1958 to convert some of its property into a major race track that would handle the type of cars which race at the famed Indianapolis Speedway.

The track is to be on the site of the old Packard proving grounds, now owned by Curtis-Wright, in an area bounded by Van Dyke and Mound roads and 25- and 28-Mile roads. A seating capacity of 40,000 is intended.

A group of residents in that area formed the association and initiated a suit against the township, charging the validity of the Township Board action in rezoning the Curtis-Wright property to permit racing.

ACTION DELAYED — After the complaint was filed against the township, Curtis-Wright entered the case as a party-defendant.

The oft-delayed court action dragged on for months and finally was dismissed in May of last year by Macomb County Circuit Judge Howard R. Carroll.

The homeowners' association filed a new suit to prevent the township from rezoning the property to permit racing.

They also complained that it would increase noise, litter and traffic in the neighborhood.

However, the Township Board called for a vote from the citizens and it resulted in a 5 to 1 majority in favor of the proposed track.

The ordinance under which the track would operate limits racing to six a year and prohibits night racing, hotrod, motorcycle, and midget car races.

ALREADY 2 1/2 MILE OVAL — Curtis-Wright plans to design the track for national and international competition.

There already is a 2 1/2-mile oval on the 675-acre tract. Original plans called for construction of permanent bleachers to seat 20,000 spectators, temporary bleachers for 20,000 more, comfort stations and a smaller track outside the larger oval for sports and stock car races.

Curtis-Wright officials would reveal no new developments in planned construction of the track today.

But following last month's Supreme Court ruling, it was announced that further economic study of the proposed speedway would begin when litigation was completed.

Troy Education Board Approves '60-'61 Budget

TROY — The Board of Education here has adopted an operating budget of $1,331,064 for 1960-61, an increase of $129,471 over last year.

School Supt. Rex B. Smith said two of the largest items in this year's budget are $380,729 for instruction and $167,751 for operations.

Included in the instruction are provisions for five additional teachers and a salary hike for teachers.

The pay increase calls for an additional $20 in annual increments and $100 more for teachers with masters degrees.

Final figures on 1959-60 operating costs showed a reduction in the total deficit of more than $48,000.

Smith said the reduction was possible because of a higher tax collection than expected and a postponement in some capital outlay expenses.

Total expenditures exceeded the budget by only .34 of one per cent, he said.

Ferndale Police Cleared by Chief

Not Brutal, He Says, After Checking Youth's Slugging Complaint

Investigation of police brutality accusations lodged by Alvin E. Barnes, 20, shows the youth was slugged once while resisting arrest, Ferndale Police Chief Neil J. McGillis announced yesterday.

The police chief conducted his own investigation of allegations voiced by Barnes against four Ferndale police officers following his arrest last Thursday on a loitering charge.

McGillis advised the youth to take his charges to the Civil Service Board if he was unsatisfied with the police action.

"I'm convinced the police officers involved were performing their duty correctly in apprehending Barnes," the chief said after taking statements from two witnesses of the arrest.

"The next move is up to Barnes," he added.

"We will wait for a Civil Service hearing, and if Barnes decides against one, the statements will be turned over to the county prosecutor for further investigation."

Barnes, who lives at 151 Vesper St. in Ferndale, said his stepfather, S. Kinsman of 1836 Yosemite St., Birmingham, filed a complaint with the Civil Service Commission Tuesday.

Barnes was found guilty of loitering when brought to trial in Ferndale Municipal Court Tuesday. He was fined $25.

Animal Study Shows A-Power Sites Are Safe

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (UPI) — Jack rabbits on the desert south of Idaho Falls are making an important atom-safe contribution to science.

Rabbits living within the boundaries of the 572,000-acre National Reactor Testing Station, along with other natural animal and plant life, are proving to the satisfaction of health and safety experts that atomic power plants can be located anywhere without danger to their human neighbors.

Since the Atomic Energy Commission established its vast Idaho operation more than 10 years ago, it has been intensely occupied with observing health effects — and possible health hazards — of the test reactors that dot the desert here.

The AEC is proud of the safety record that it has established at the NRTS. The station's staff, ranging from 2,000 to 5,000 employees, has by now worked some 65 million man hours.

And during that time, according to John R. Horan, director of health and safety, there has been only one injury due to radiation, the unique potential hazard of atomic reactor operation.

Symington Workers Ready to Push for VP

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington's supporters stood ready today to launch a drive to win him the vice-presidential nomination if he gives them the word.

Symington told reporters Wednesday night it was entirely up to the presidential nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy, to designate his running mate.

And Symington left completely open the question of whether he would accept such a bid if it comes.

He said it was a hypothetical question to which he had not given any real thought.

But some of his supporters made clear that they hoped he would be offered the No. 2 spot and they believed he would agree to run.

HYDES DISAPPOINTMENT — Symington held the severe disappointment he must have felt at losing out for the convention's grand prize, Wednesday night.

Soon after Kennedy's victory, the Missouri senator emerged from his hotel suite and in the same calm manner he has displayed all week, read a congratulatory statement to the victor.

"I will certainly do everything I can to make sure he is the next president of the United States," Symington added. "There must be fresh inspiration in the White House, and Sen. Kennedy will provide it."

Symington had campaigned all over the country since his formal announcement as a presidential contender in March.

He arrived here last Saturday and worked from early morning to late at night each day, with a fully staffed and apparently well-financed headquarters backing him up.

But all his efforts added up to only 86 votes on the roll call Wednesday night, 39 of them from Missouri. He fell short of the 140 he had predicted for his "I" on the first ballot.

SEN. STUART SYMINGTON

He had been to, present himself as a compromise candidate who might win out on a unity theme if the front-runners were blocked and the convention went to several ballots.

Rep. Charles H. Brown, the senator's campaign manager, told reporters Wednesday night no overtures of any kind had come from the Kennedy camp on offering the vice-presidential nomination to Symington.

Stuart Symington Jr., who worked hard in his father's campaign, told a reporter: "I think that would be much better off to stay in the Senate. He can do much more for the state there."

portunity an obligation, every possession, a duty. (John D. Rockefeller Jr.)

MSUO Educator Looks Into Broadcast Ethics

What's wrong with broadcasting? Last year Dr. Mary Ann Cusack, of Michigan State University Oakland's faculty set out in search of an answer.
Forty headline-making figures were asked their views on the moral state of America's broadcasting industry.
Interviews — in Washington, New York, Chicago — brought defense, indictment and proposed correctives for the industry's conduct.
With the aid of a $2,000 grant from the National Educational Television and Radio Center, MSUO, will air Dr. Cusack's findings this fall in a bar-nucleus series of 15 half-hour radio programs.

Titled "An Ethic for Broadcasting," the series will deal with the problem of values for the industry.
"It's going to be frank," Dr. Cusack said.

BEGAN BEFORE FUS
The first woman ever to earn a doctorate in speech with a radio and television major, Dr. Cusack began her scrutiny of the broadcasting industry long before the Van Doren and payola exposures. The idea stemmed from her doctoral dissertation — "Editorializing in Broadcasting."

"I soon learned that matters of controversy were simply kept off the air. If they were put on, it might interfere with soap selling," Dr. Cusack said.

Broadcasting lacked a sense of public responsibility, she discovered.
That's when the question of broadcasting ethics began to loom large in her mind.

"A few network executives and advertising account men decide what 100 million Americans see every night in their homes. But they disclaim responsibility," Dr. Cusack said.

"Further, their actions are policed by seven political appointees on the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) who claim to have no authority.
"And the public says it has no voice."

One of the questions asked in her interviews was: Who must take the responsibility for cleaning up the industry?

"Almost everyone agreed that was the job of the networks," Dr. Cusack said. "Nobody wants censorship or government control."

"Better programming instead of shenanigans is what the industry needs. Idea men — not showmen," she also said that many prominent figures were critical of the FCC for not insisting on more public service programs.

"FCC commissioners seek to avoid responsibility by asserting they can only move on a station — but not a network," she said. Dr. Cusack added that public apathy also is responsible for poor broadcasting programming.

But isn't the public satisfied with what it gets?

"You can't expect a Chinese cook to go for roast beef when he's had rice all his life," Dr. Cusack said.

"Quality programs offering showmanship and ideas are the need. Funds to begin her project were provided by MSUO."

Five groups were interviewed — broadcasters, audiences, advertisers and financiers, lawmakers, and pressure groups or critics.

TV producer David Susskind told Dr. Cusack the industry has no way to go but up — that is

has never had an ethic of any kind.

U.S. Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) called the payola problem a threat to America's greatness. Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) was among those interviewed also. News commentator David Brinkley observed "the most disgusting thing" about the Van Doren exposure was the public's approval of his conduct.

Mike Wallace charged that the very men who produce network programs won't let their families listen to them — that they're producing them "for some great unwashed crowd."

EARLY AMERICAN — A Colonial trick for cooler lemonade — use peppermint sticks as stirrer — straws to add flavor and coolness.

Early American Cooks Used Peppermint Flavor

When it came to making tasty beverages, Early American women could pull some fine flavor tricks off of their reticules. Some of them are readily adaptable to our modern tastes and ways of living.

Mrs. Homemaker of 1815 used more spices and herbs than her 20th century descendant. In a day when ice was found more often underfoot than in a glass, peppermint was used to make summer drinks taste cooler and more pungent.

Here's a modern version combining that peppermint coolness with the most American of all beverages — lemonade. It makes a big occasion of the warm-weather cookie-and-lemonade break. The trick is to use peppermint candy sticks as stirrers . . . and pretty soon, presto-change, they turn into straws! All the small-try have to do is keep sucking on the end of the peppermint stick, and slowly at first, the lemonade starts coming up the middle.

Another trick (with fun-type of educational overtones) is to serve it in an Early American way — in "American" glasses by Libbey which feature highlights of our country's history. Andrew Jackson on horseback; Commodore Perry's flagship; and Independence Hall.

Red Raspberries March Into Top Place This Week

Food shopping may not be as exciting as a convention, but it can be more interesting if you recognize changes in supplies as they occur, advises the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Just now, black and red raspberries are about finished.

According to the Benton Harbor Fruit Market, black raspberries reached their peak of supply early this week and red raspberries will be in volume from July 12 to July 25. The Market Master at the Pontiac Farmer's Market reports that the rest of the month but that peak supplies are available this week and next.

As more Michigan grown fruits and vegetables arrive in the market, processors are busy canning and freezing. Have you noticed the lower prices for they add to total number of canned fruits being placed on sale? These fruits are of the country. Since shipping dis-moved to make way for this year's park.

As you know, canned food keeps for long periods with little change in quality or food value. If your family likes peaches, pears, fruit cocktail or tomatoes, you may wish to check these offers.

Celery sold slightly lower in California last week and Michigan's harvest is starting. This indicates there is plenty of celery at reasonable prices.

For fresh cherry pie or your special preserving . . . sweet and tart cherries are available. Quality is very good.

Have you heard there is more grain fed beef available this summer than last? This is the main reason why price has averaged slightly lower than a year ago, and explains why food stores sometimes feature it.

Ground beef, rolled rump and standing rib roasts, chuck roast and round steak are specially priced in some stores this week.

Some families may wish to freeze a few chuck roasts or round steaks to be used as pot roasts this fall, grilled, if it grades U.S. Choice. For summer eating the blade chuck quality. Or cut this quality meat or top round can be broiled or into 1 1/2 inch cubes for kabobs.

Youth, Vets Won for Jack

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A vote, directed the operation for older brother Jack. Bob is vigorous, a former Stevenson campaigner, was a key contact man. Two of the Senator's Washington aides, researcher Ted Sorenson and administrative assistant Ted R. Sorenson, were active at the convention, but the matter of course, would have to be settled through party councils. He also had a personal choice for vice president, but the matter of course, would have to be settled through party councils. Fakir Claimed
Obscure Land

Old Red-Beard Mystic Led Tribesmen in Very Many Uprisings

WASHINGTON—The fabulous Fakir of Ipi, who died recently, claimed he ruled Pakhtistan, a nonexistent state with at least nine names.

Mirza Ali Khan, Fakir of Ipi, lived in a carpeted mountain cave in Pakistan, near the Afghanistan border. A thin man with a scraggy beard and hair dyed bright red, the Fakir usually wore an orange turban, baggy gray trousers, a flowing coat and a boudoir of rifle cartridges.

Known as the "Firebrand," the Fakir led tribesmen in a major uprising in 1958. He continually harassed the British and, later, the Pakistanis.

In recent years, the Fakir's power waned, but he ran off his followers on a hand-picked occasional shell from his antique howitzer into Pakistani outposts.

The Fakir, a Modernist living in harsh mountainous country whose passes and defiles form the gateway to the Indian subcontinent.

Vaguely defined, the area stretches on both sides of the Afghanistan-Pakistan border. It is inhabited by some 10,000 tribesmen known as Pakhtuns, the National Geographic Society says.

The Pakhtuns, whose name is mispronounced Pathan by the Indians, are a Modernist living in harsh mountainous country whose passes and defiles form the gateway to the Indian subcontinent.

For centuries, invaders have swept through the Pakhtuns' homeland. But the fiercely courageous tribesmen, based in inaccessible mountain retreats, have preserved their independence.

When the British ruled India, they made no attempt to subjugate the Pakhtuns, paying them an allowance instead to keep the peace on the Northwest Frontier.

The British did not interfere with disputes between the many tribes or the Pakhtuns' private quarrels over land, water, and money.

Notional Production Up 8 Pct. Over Last Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—The gross national product should hit an annual rate of $255 billion by the third quarter of 1960, a gain of 8 percent over the current level, some economists predict.

Only two areas of the economy, they feel, will fall to share in the general advance—government spending and new home construction.

Eighty out of every 100 families in the United States carry life insurance. The average amount for each family is $11,500.

Blimey, a British MP
Just Can't Up and Quit

LONDON (UPI)—British parliamentary law has many strange twists. One of the strangest is that a member cannot resign.

A member of parliament can only disqualify himself from the House of Commons by holding an "office of profit under the crown." This means a paid official acting for the monarch, such as the manager of royal property, or even a tax collector.

Today when a member applies for an "office of profit," he makes no profit out of it—he just wants to quit parliament.

The explanation goes back to the 17th Century when not everyone considered parliament the ideal place to work. In law was passed stating that a member of the House of Commons, once elected, could not resign his seat.

The only way to sidestep this rule was to petition the House for his leave, but few members succeeded unless they were incurably ill.

Then a statute of 1707 declared that a member accepting an office of profit from the crown had to report vacate his seat, unless the office had been created after 1705.

In the 18th Century several members of parliament held crown stewardships—the management of royal property—and didn't consider this "office of profit" a reason to disqualify them from parliament.

Any member who wants to resign his seat nowadays applies to the chancellor of the exchequer for a stewardship and holds the nominal position until someone else applies for it.

Today there are few members of parliament who want to resign. But this is the only way they can go about it. Unless, of course, a government resigns, which calls for a general election.

Sore-Footed Visitors
Find L.A. a Big City

By EARL WILSON

DEMOCRATIC-WALKATHON, LOS ANGELES—My tired feet gave me a whole new appreciation of the bigness of Los Angeles.

Take that $100-a-plate dinner, so huge it required two ballrooms and a couple of fogers, two toastmasters, (Milton Berle and George Jessel) and two daisies so that Frank Sinatra, Judy Garland, Sammy Davis Jr. and Mort Sahl could eat and entertain in two shifts.

They "think big" in L.A. now, and I say that as an envious New Yorker.

I live at the Beverly Hills—a $5 cab ride to the Hotel Biltmore. So I rented a car to beat the cab here. But I'm afraid to drive the car because of the traffic crawl. However, I keep it, because some day I won't be able to get a cab. It's big here, like I said.

Peter Lawford, Senator Kennedy's brother-in-law, had one Beverly Hilton dais almost to himself during one of the shifts, and the handsome movie and TV star told me he didn't want anybody saying he was going to be Kennedy's Robert Montgomery if Kennedy's nominated.

"I don't think Montgomery did anything for Eisenhower," he explained.

Signs along Sunset Strip proclaim the city's color: "Plastic Surgery," "Hypnotism," "Cafe Espresso," "The Swingers" record shop, "The Rounders Cafe," "A Science of the Mind" headquarters—and then we came at last to Pershing Square, where I heard some genes arguing whether the world is coming to an end, or whether it already has.

Judy Garland found herself quite a belle, sitting beside candidates Kennedy, Symington, Stevenson and Johnson at various times, and even for a while with Eleanor Roosevelt. Sinatra was very pleasant to everybody, even newspapermen.

The gags here were, naturally, anti-Republicans. One was: "Would you buy a used car from Dick Nixon?"

Another: "Eisenhower is first in war, first in peace and first in the locker room."

But a Republican retorted: "You delegates gathered here will have the honor of nominating the next loser."

World News Bores People

Garroway Blasts Apathy

By DAVE GARROWAY

Written for The Associated Press

As host of the television show "Today," which has a checked some renowned as a communications program, I'm probably more aware of news happenings than the average man in the street.

However, even if I were a private citizen in some area of work outside the communications field, I still would be interested, concerned, and hold opinions regarding the state of the world. Just as my job as a communicator to keep up with happenings, it's as much my job as a citizen to stay informed.

I think one of the great problems facing this country today is the complacency of some of our citizens. Too often the response to a serious question concerning current events, "I have my own problems, I can't be interested in what's happening in Geneva or Russia."

That the foregoing sentiment is more widespread than I had believed was brought home to me in a dramatic and shocking manner recently. At the time President Eisenhower's trip to Japan had been canceled because of the Tokyo riots, we took our "Today" cameras into the streets to discover what some of our citizens thought of this blow to American prestige and personal affront to our President. The majority of people interviewed were barely concerned.

Our greatest danger is not that the Russians are doing too much, but that we are doing too little.

'After-Dark Shopping Increasing,' Says Weiss

NEW YORK (UPI)—People are doing an increasing amount of after-dark shopping, according to merchandising consultant Edward B. Weiss.

He says about 70 per cent of all major appliances and close to 50 per cent of all food are sold after 4:30 p.m.

But Volunteers Whoop It Up Madly

Convention Delegates Bored by Frenzy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Convention demonstrations, a bit of mid-summer madness that afflicts America's body politic every four years, suddenly volunteers but apparently bore delegates.

Politically speaking, they carried as much weight as a campaign button at the 1960 Democratic convention's nominating session Wednesday night.

If placards, noise and fervor meant as much as votes, Adlai E. Stevenson instead of Sen. John F. Kennedy would be the party's standard-bearer today.

Veteran convention goers said nothing since Wendell Willkie swept the galleries at the GOP convention in 1940 equaled the ovation given Stevenson.

But there was a difference Wednesday night. The galleries whooped it up madly for Adlai, but the delegates sat grimly on their hands.

A DOOR OPENS

Assembling outside the Sports Arena six hours before nominations began, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's supporters complained they didn't have enough demonstrators. Someone flung a door open, and ushers and plainclothesmen tried to stem a rising flood of humanity. At least 30 swarmed into the hall before the doors could be closed.

The Johnsonites put on the first demonstration. Billy Clayton, of Spring Lake, Tex., shouted through a useless loudspeaker: "Hold your ranks, please." But the LBJ folks swept on through the hall.

Keith Kahle, of Fort Worth, Tex., held aloft a six-foot foam rubber swan for LBJ. Stopped by the crush, he yelled, "Hey, we're not moving!" Roger Turner, University of Texas law student, reassured him: "That's all right. Keep yelling anyway."

Kennedy's sister, Pat, yawned deliberately as Johnsonites swarmed past the Massachusetts delegation. Her brother Ted, 28, stood in the aisle as solemn as a mourner at an Irish wake.

You can't see the clock from the floor because of the forest of signs. And you can't estimate the time. It seems to take forever to move 10 feet.

By the time you catch your breath, the Kennedyites stampede the hall. Huge papier mache heads of the Eisenhower senator bob up and down like corks floating on a sea of signs. Balloons ascent to the ceiling. Some go puff as anti-Kennedyites jab them or pop them with cigarettes.

Likes Visiting in Rain

NASHVILLE (AP) — Visitation evangelism works better in bad weather, says Dr. Harry Deagan, general secretary of the Methodist Board of Evangelism. "Not only are the people more likely to be home, but they will know you are in earnest."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California hefts his 300 pounds out of his seat to hold the state banner aloft. But he's stopped by the swarm and sits down disconsolate.

Seated side by side are New York State Chairman Mike Pendergast, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City, and Tammany Hall leader Carmine G. De

Sapio. Solidly for Kennedy, they give the word. The New York standard is swept up in the Kennedy tide.

A tired demonstrator sits briefly in an empty Virginia delegate's seat. He jumps up. There was something hard underneath him, a half-empty bottle of bourbon.

And so it goes. For Sen. Stuyvesant Symington and the favorite most the rallies seem anticlimactic. Everyone's waiting for the Stevenson outburst.

They weren't disappointed. The Stevensonites had more homemade signs, beads, and horn-rimmed glasses than any other camp. A turbaned Indian carried a placard saying "India's friend—Stevenson." India has no votes in the convention.

Kids Follow Example, Says Auto Association

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Many people are bad drivers because their parents were, says E. Ray Cory, president of the Minnesota State Automotive Assn.

"The youngster who has watched his parent for many years flout traffic laws tends to grow up with an understandably irresponsible attitude toward his driving," Cory said.

The first penal institution in Arkansas was constructed at the site of the present State Capitol Building in Little Rock.

Poodle Went to School but Lost Movie Role

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Natalie Wood's toy poodle, Chi Chi, used to bark like any other red-blooded dog. Then Natalie sent her to training school.

It cost Chi Chi a chance to appear in Warner Brothers' "Cash McCall." The part called for a toy poodle that barked and since graduation Chi Chi hasn't uttered a sound.

About 10 per cent of the United States national income is spent for the purchase and operation of automobiles.
