President Ponders Red Jet-Might

Ike Views Soviet Exhibit, Declares Show 'Remarkable'

Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov said there must be peace through negotiation.

Kozlov ribbon-snipped the 40-day show into an official opening last night. Tomorrow he is expected to broach graver matters—such as the Berlin crisis and a summit meeting—during a White House visit.

Today while the customers start licking the turnstiles at the New York Coliseum at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children, Kozlov scheduled a visit to the Ideal Toy Corp. here, producers of dolls and plastic toys, and a later drive to the shipyards at Camden, N. J.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who shared the speaking podium before 1,500 invited guests with Kozlov last night, toured the six acres of Russian exhibition and called it "very important."

Nixon will open the American National Exhibition in Moscow next month. In his address he said it was not expected that the exchange of exhibitions and the Nixon-Kozlov visit exchange would "resolve the basic differences which exist between our governments." But the Russian and American peoples instinctively like each other, he said, and the exchange should help reduce misunderstandings.

The Vice President said that he was convinced that after Kozlov tours and studies the United States he will return to Russia "convinced that not only is this nation strong materially but that it is united behind the leadership of our President in working for . . . peace, justice, and freedom."

Kozlov, a jovial, graying man of 50 years, grasped President Eisenhower's hand late yesterday when the President entered the Coliseum after a flight here from Washington. He helped escort the President through the exhibition from sputniks to atomic reactors to autos to oil paintings.

Pausing before the model of the big new Soviet atomic-powered icebreaker Lenin—while Ike adjusted his glasses and peered into a cutaway section of its power plant—Kozlov remarked: "That's what we use atomic energy for."

"I've been preaching that for six years," Eisenhower told him.

In a visit of more than an hour, the President drank orange juice, heard some Russian hi-fi music (it sounded like jazz, in French), liked one of the Russian small, 45-horsepower automobiles, termed Soviet oil paintings "striking" and "strong" in character study, and told Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov the whole exhibit was "remarkable — everyone will like it."

Other previewers were impressed with the general brilliance and finish of the "Soviet Exhibition of Science, Technology, and Culture." Nixon, in his address, told Kozlov that "President Eisenhower's bring here indicates the importance of this exhibit."

Kozlov read, at the end of his speech, a message from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, which said in part:

City to Act on State Pollution Citation

City Manager Walter K. Willman today indicated he will recommend quick surrender to the state's demands that Pontiac halt Clinton River pollution by construction of added sewage treatment facilities.

The City Commission will be presented tonight, he said, with a citation from the State Water Resources Commission condemning Pontiac's pollution of the Clinton and setting July 30 for a hearing on a possible state order to build more treatment facilities.

The citation, issued by the Water Commission Thursday, is addressed to Mayor Philip E. Rowston and Pontiac's six other city commissioners. It will be up to the City Commission whether to fight the citation or accede to it.

The state said it has a wealth of facts, accumulated by a year's testing of the Clinton, with which to confront the city at the hearing.

The facts, according to the citation, indicate that Clinton River pollution is "a public nuisance" and a health menace because Pontiac's antiquated treatment plant "fails to provide adequate treatment for removal of solids and substances in the sewage and industrial waste from residences, industry and business."

The state action has been expected for several years, said Willman, after studying a copy of the citation which arrived in the mail from Lansing today.

"The citation backs up the city administration's position during the three elections in which we've unsuccessfully asked voters to approve bond issues to finance more facilities," he said.

"I've appeared before the Water Resources Commission three times, asking for more time while we took the question to the voters.

"The Water Resources Commission apparently has finally decided that there is no chance the people of Pontiac will support our view that pollution cannot be reduced without added facilities."

Willman saw "no reason" why the question should be put to voters again. General obligation bond issues for $3,300,000 in improvements were turned down in 1956, 1958 and again this spring.

The Water Resource Commission indicated it was prepared to give the city until Dec. 1 to have plans approved by the State Health Department, July 1 of next year to have more facilities under contract and Dec. 31, 1961 to have the new facilities completed and in operation.

Willman agreed that the first

Thompson Wins 24-Hour Delay

Has Been Sentenced to 1½ to 10 Years in Prison for Arson

Prison was only 24 hours away today for a second Teamster convicted in connection with the Frank H. Kierdorf torch death.

Jack D. Thompson, 42, won a 24-hour delay today in going to prison after being sentenced yesterday to 1½ to 10 years in prison for arson in the fire that fatally burned Kierdorf.

The stay was granted by Genesee County Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth, who passed sentence.

The heavy-set ex-convict announced his intention to appeal the sentence to the State Supreme Court.

"It's the Teamsters who've been convicted, not me," he said.

Judge Roth ruled that any appeal would have to be made by Thompson from within the walls of Jackson Prison. He refused to set bond while an appeal is pending, and ordered Thompson taken to Genesee County Jail for delivery to the state prison this afternoon.

But late this morning, the jurist relented and gave Thompson one day in which to win Supreme Court intervention to delay execution of the sentence.

Judge Roth conceded that the Supreme Court may overrule his decision on no bond, but said it was not his policy to grant bail in such cases.

Lawyers for Flint Teamster Local 332 said they would appeal both the sentence and the denial of bail.

Thompson received the minimum sentence and could be eligible for parole after serving about a year in prison.

Bud Bassett Turns Over Reins to John Riley After 44-Year Service

Russell Bassett, advertising director of The Pontiac Press and executive vice president of the Pontiac Press Company, today is severing activities with The Press.

His place as advertising director will be taken by John A. Riley, who has been assistant advertising manager and a director of The Pontiac Press Company.

Riley has been with The Press since 1939 and has served as manager of general advertising (National) and assistant advertising manager for many years. James P. Dickerson, who has been promotion manager, will continue as promotion manager and will be manager of general advertising (National).

In retiring from active duty after 44 years of service, Bassett concludes a career which won him recognition as one of the outstanding advertising executives in the United States. Before assuming the duties of advertising director, Bassett served as national advertising manager.

He joined The Press advertising department in 1915 and his entire newspaper career has been with this newspaper.

He has served as advertising director since 1957 upon the retirement of Horace F. Brodie. He is widely known in both state and national advertising circles. He has been a member for many years of the Newspaper Advertising Executives Association.

BORN IN OXFORD

A veteran of World War I, he was born in Oxford, and was graduated from Pontiac High School.

Bassett's work brought him into intimate contact with civic and business affairs and he has given generously of his time in countless activities and projects throughout the years.

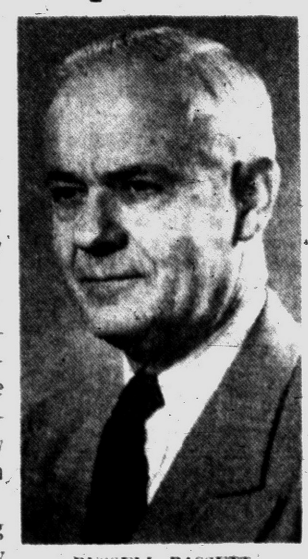

He has served as president of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce and past president of the Pontiac Kiwanis Club. He is one of the original board members of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. He is past president and board member of the Huron River Hunting and Fishing Club.

For many years he served on the board and was a former president of the old Pontiac Gun Club. He has been an active member of the Pontiac City Club since it was formed.

A friend to all Pontiac businessmen, "Bud" Bassett was an unfailing source of energetic leadership, successful civic promotions and sound council and advice.

Bassett will remain in the area where he and Mrs. Bassett plan to divide their time between their Pontiac residence and their north Oakland County farm.

Pilotless Plane Spews Flames on 30 Homes

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—A pilotless U.S. Air Force jet fighter hurtled into the corner of an Okinawan schoolhouse today, then sprayed fiery fragments over a residential area.

The Air Force said 16 persons were killed and 80 injured in the crash at Ishikawa, a city of 30,000 inhabitants 18 miles north of Naha.

All of the victims apparently were Okinawans. Police said that 60 of the less seriously injured were schoolchildren playing near the school.

The blazing wreckage set fire to 30 houses.

Thousands rushed hysterically to the scene after a broadcast that 150 had been killed and 300 hurt. The milling crowds hindered the removal of the injured to hospitals by military ambulances.

It was one of the worst military disasters since World War II on Okinawa, biggest U.S. base in the Far East. There were immediate political repercussions in Tokyo.

The Japanese Socialist party, long critical of American administration of the former Japanese island, said it would bring the matter up in Parliament.

Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of the 5th Air Force, expressed his "deep personal sympathy" for the victims and their families. He planned to fly to Okinawa for a personal investigation.

An explosion occurred aboard the F100 Super Sabre jet soon after it took off from Kadena Air Base, eight miles from Ishikawa. The pilot, Capt. John G. Schmitt Jr. of Chalmers, Ind., parachuted to safety.

Capt. Richard Roussell of Lockport, La., an eyewitness, said the empty plane headed for an uninhabited hill, veered sharply and

Queries Counties on Tax Proposal

Head of Oakland Board Wants New 2 Pct. Levy on Property Transfers

Round two has begun in a fight to give Michigan counties more money outside the overburdened property tax.

This round was signaled to a start when Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, sent letters this weekend to the chairmen of other Michigan county boards of supervisors.

In the letter Hamlin asked what they thought about a 2 per cent tax on the assessed valuation of property in transfer from one owner to another.

Hamlin had Norman R. Barnard, county corporation counsel and legislative agent, feel the pulse of other county officials on this question in Lansing this week, where state officials were trying to solve money problems of their own.

This move follows a proposal to permit counties to retain a portion of any form of state tax adopted to be split among the counties and schools.

State Winds Up Deeply in Debt

End of Fiscal Year Finds Michigan Behind $110 Million

LANSING (AP) — Tax headaches notwithstanding, the embattled legislature decided today on a five-day holiday over the Fourth of July weekend. There was talk of making the respite longer, but some lawmakers thought the idea was bad from a public relations standpoint.

LANSING (AP)—Pockets empty and living from payday to payday, Michigan closes out its 1958-59 fiscal year at midnight with a measly $100,000 in its general fund treasury.

The government of the nation's seventh most populous state—and one of the wealthiest—is winding up its most dismal financial year since the depression of the 1930's. And more hard times lie ahead.

Current cash obligations to public schools, local governments and other sources total 61 million dollars. Debts now in hand, or in the works and chargeable to fiscal 1958-59, add up to around 110 million dollars—the biggest deficit in Michigan's 132-year history.

After 24 weeks of fruitless bargaining, Democrats are wrestling with Republicans in a no-holds-barred match to write a new tax program to pay off debts and meet rising costs of government.

Meanwhile, in the Legislature's 110th day, the state wallowed in unprecedented debt, with new payless paydays apparently closing in fast. Hopes for a quick tax settlement blew sky high.

"The governor's statement set back a tax settlement for at least 10 days and cost the state at least three million dollars," said Rep. Allison Green of Kingson, GOP House floor leader.

Reds Stress Automation

MOSCOW (AP)—Automation and scientific research were stressed today in new orders to Soviet industry to meet production targets set by Premier Nikita Khrushchev in his campaign to catch up with the United States.

Cool, Cool! And Isn't It Just Grand!

The mercury plunged 38 degrees in the Pontiac area last night as clouds blew in with cooling temperatures late yesterday afternoon.

The temperature fell from a high of 92 degrees yesterday to a low of 54 at 7 this morning.

The weatherman said occasional showers and scattered thundershowers may be expected tonight and tomorrow with the low tonight near 58.

Wednesday's high will be slightly higher, a warm 73. Considerable cloudiness and continued cool is the outlook for Thursday.

The thermometer reading at 2 p.m. was 70.

At a Clothed Meeting

Strip Teaser Defends Her Art

Under the watchful eyes of their wives who came as surprise guests, members of the Royal Oak Lions Club were captivated by the speaker at their weekly luncheon meeting.

Libby sweetly joined in the routine of singing "Don't You Hear Those Lions Roar?" and "I've Been Working on the Railroad." She nodded approval when they refused to sing "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

After all, the temperature was near 90 yesterday and the Lions had stripped off their coats.

Libby scored all her points without stripping to music as she does nightly in a nearby Detroit show bar. She said she had been making a psychological and historical study of the strip tease, "because it is important to me in my career to know why this profession exists."

Her audience of dignified business and professional men and matronly housewives looked most impressed when Libby confided that she earned from $750 to $1,250 a week.

Libby agreed she would be contributing more to society if she had become a school teacher after studying English literature and education at the University of Washington in Seattle where she was Adlyn Morris before she took a stage name.

But she argued there was a popular demand for her art.

"Up to date it has never been suggested to me that a man could do my job better than I," she said.

★ ★ ★

"For some strange reason the public cries for the stripper's scalp," said Libby, "but they pay to see a stripper tease. Because of TV competition, the night clubs are turning to exotic dancers to keep their shaky doors open. They pay salaries comparable to a governor's. Even a mediocre performer can get a salary higher than a graduate physicist.

"It doesn't add up to me, either, but it's a fact."

Libby said she believed conflicting attitudes in the United States toward nudity come from our Puritan heritage.

Does Libby feel immodest when she strips?

"I feel modesty is relative," she said. "It is relative as to time and place. A two-year-old girl without clothes on a white bear rug is adorable. The same girl without clothes at 18 is not adorable.

"At what age does the female form become obscene? A bathing suit is proper on a beach, but not in a public library."

And how about the criticism that a strip teaser deliberately provokes man's basic impulse?

"I think many forms of art cater to the basic drives of man," she said.

Libby suggested that "in this society we all compromise one way or another."

"A secretary accepts pinches from her employer," she said for example.

Expressions of disapproval came from some of the women when Libby suggested "A woman gets married to escape punching a time clock."

Mrs. Norman Nakkula, whose husband is a Lion, said she thought Libby was going too far on that.

"Bless you," said Libby. "It will go in my scrap book."

Hails Queen With Huge Signs

Toronto Shouts 'Gracious'

By JOE HAAS

TORONTO, Ont.—Queen Elizabeth, the gracious young woman who symbolically rules almost one-quarter of the world's people, is enjoying an easy two days here.

They were purposely made easy to create a contrast to her Montreal experience, the two cities love each other so much—in reverse. Toronto sent an incognito committee to Montreal to study its mistakes, and this city is profiting by its findings.

With so much rivalry, entertaining their queen has become big business in both cities. The newspapers of both cities feel that it is too big a business, and the Toronto Globe and Mail today sums the matter up in a single editorial sentence: "Let this national tour be the last one of its kind."

The word "gracious" was adopted by Toronto to go one better on Montreal. In the latter city "God Save the Queen" was the slogan displayed in thousands of places, in letters up to 110 feet high and with illumination that was extreme.

JOE

In Toronto, in as many places and in letters fully as high and with an illumination that shows their nearness to the Niagara Falls generating plants, the wording everywhere is "God Save the Gracious Queen."

Although the Queen today is attending the top example of her favorite sport, the Queen's Plate horse race, she does not deny a keen interest in prize fighting. And although she tried to appear neutral, she admits that she was glad that Johansson won, "because he boxes in the classic upright British style."

While never outwardly showing it, the Duke's greatest fear and peeve is in what might happen to the Britannia. He almost sobs when he looks at a 40 foot long spot on its side where the paint was scraped off in going through one of the early locks. He has fears for what may happen in the Welland Canal and at the Soo locks.

Old residents scrape back into history, and find a marked difference in the Queen's tour and that of her great-grandfather in 1860. He then was the Prince of Wales, later King Edward VII. He was a confirmed rounder, and his tour was a continuous liquor party.

My mother often told me the story of how he drank whisky out of a chorus girl's slipper in New York. Mother was born in Ireland in 1840, and in her late teens when he came here.

By actual count I find that the Montreal and Toronto papers in four days have printed a total of 227 pictures of the queen in at least 100 different poses. Their total coverage runs into hundreds of pages.

Begin Search for Missing Boat

Put Out Yesterday on Lake St. Clair From Mt. Clemens

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Sheriff's deputies and Coast Guardsmen today began a search for a 19-foot boat unreported since putting out on Lake St. Clair at 4 p.m. yesterday.

The boat was occupied by John Bethway, 50, of 17396 Vaughan, Detroit, and an unidentified male friend.

Irwin Sternall, 75, a Harrison Township boat livery operator, reported the inboard boat missing early today when it failed to return from the "short spin" on which Bethway reported he and his friend were going. The men took no fishing gear.

Shortly after Sternall reported Bethway's craft missing, a Lakeshore resident notified the Macomb County Sheriff's Department he had seen a light flicking on and off about four miles out south of the mouth of the Clinton River.

Sternall said he had informed Bethway several days ago that an anchor and rope he had for his craft were too small for it.

For another, said the zoo, the Takin smells pretty awful in any weather, but especially when it's hot.

Cool Relief Rolling Over Hot Northeast

By The Associated Press

Relief — fresh, cool air — appeared on the way to sweltering millions in the Northeast today. But the season's hottest and most humid weather clung to Southern areas with not much hope of immediate relief.

It was another night of restless sleep in the East and South after another day of 90-100 degree heat. Record-high readings for the season and date were reported in many Eastern cities Monday.

While the Northeast waited for the cooling breezes, most of the Midwest enjoyed relief from the season's longest heat wave. However, rain dampened the welcome of the cooler weather in many areas.

The general and widespread thunderstorm activity marked the dividing line between cool air to the north and hot and humid air to the south. The wet belt stretched from the southern Great Lakes westward through Iowa and northern Missouri into Kansas and Nebraska with light rain continuing northwestward into the northern Rockies.

Police Officials Attend Parley of State Chiefs

Three area law enforcement officers are among approximately 300 police chiefs from throughout the state attending the annual convention of the Michigan Assn. of Police Chiefs.

They are Pontiac Public Safety Director George D. Eastman, Birmingham Chief Ralph W. Moxley and Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons.

In addition to the municipal chiefs, a number of state police and FBI officers will be on hand for the three-day meeting which will end Wednesday with a boat trip across Lake Michigan and a brief tour of Milwaukee.

Urges County Tax Property Transfers

lators have seen already, serves as an alternate proposal, Barnard said, as counties seek revenue other than that provided within the 15-mill property tax limitation.

The first proposal, backed by Hamlin's Supervisors Inter-County Committee and the Oakland County School Board Members Assn. is "still in the picture," Barnard emphasized. It would enable counties to keep 30 per cent of any state tax the Legislature may approve, with the schools getting two-thirds and the county the balance.

In his letter outlining the transfer of property tax, Hamlin said, "It would have the feature of giving to counties a basic source of revenue aside from property taxation. It would allow county boards of supervisors to exercise greater judgment as to the amount of property tax that they should spread in any year.

And more important to his own Oakland County, which faces a deficit of more than a million dollars because of a tremendous social welfare load, "it would reduce or eliminate many existing county deficits," Hamlin said.

Oakland County Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, who had introduced a similar measure in the Senate, said he wanted to study Hamlin's proposal further before he would put his name on such a bill. He foresaw it getting knocked out, however, in the light of all the state's money problems.

"At the present time it's got to have a lot of salesmanship," Lodge said.

Under it the county of collection would keep all of the tax collected from the transfer of property. Unlike the 30 per cent tax retention suggestion, this would not hinge on any state tax.

Hamlin, also director on the Michigan State Association of Supervisors on whose stationery his letters went out, said the property transfer tax would have provided Oakland County with $1,780,000 additional last year.

Lodge leveled another criticism of the new tax suggestion, which, Hamlin said, would be "uniformly" adopted across the state. The Republican senator said not all of Michigan's 83 counties are in financial straits like Oakland and Wayne counties, and they thus would be getting more money than they actually need.

Rep. James Clarkson (D-Southfield), who has pending before the House a bill whereby the state each year would collect an amount equal to one per cent of the assessed value of land, said Hamlin's proposal "would impede the free alienation of property."

Clarkson's bill would be a tax on state land values each year regardless whether it was sold or not. The state would keep all of it, bringing in $80 million annually, Clarkson estimated.

Seaway Crash Badly Damages Lebanese Ship

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP)—Two foreign freight ships traveling the St. Lawrence Seaway collided today in Lake St. Lawrence. One was damaged badly.

No one was reported injured.

The ships were the 417-foot Taxiarhis from Lebanon and the 446-foot Carl Julius from Hamburg, Germany. The bow of the Taxiarhis suffered serious damage.

A border patrol inspector, Jack Gorman, who witnessed the accident, said the Taxiarhis had just pulled up anchor and was turning into the shipping lane. The Carl Julius was bound upstream and passing another ship, he said. The Taxiarhis and Carl Julius crashed head on.

Other ships were reported able to proceed.

"Every effort is being made to render all possible aid to those injured or otherwise affected by the tragic accident," Gen. Burns said.

Brig. Gen. Dale Smith, commander of the 313th Air Division, took personal charge of rescue operations. An emergency first aid station and a morgue were set up in an undamaged part of the elementary school, whose windows were shattered by the crash.

After receiving first aid 45 of the injured, including many children, were carried by American helicopters to the Ryukyus Army hospital.

At the hospital an attendant said "We are taking blood donations from everyone who walks down the hall."

The plane struck the roof of the school's sixth grade classroom where a class was in progress. The teacher was hospitalized.

Court Issues Dictum

May Work Despite Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Supreme Court dictum on national security employe checks will have far-reaching effects in private industry but none on government payrolls, federal legal authorities said today.

★ ★ ★

The court rejected as unauthorized Monday the system under which some defense plant workers have lost their jobs because the government refused on security grounds to clear them for access to secret information they needed.

Stripped of legal language, these authorities described the situation as boiling down to this:

The Supreme Court said in effect Monday that everyone in this country has a built-in right to make a living in private employment without unreasonable governmental interference.

Thus, when an employe of a private industry holding a defense contract is challenged on security ground by one of the government's defense agencies, the agency must produce the accuser and give the accused—or his attorneys—the opportunity to cross-examine him.

Under outstanding court decisions, the government does not have to disclose the source of adverse information about a challenged worker on the federal payrolls holding a sensitive position—that is, with access to information which could be misused to hurt the country.

As distinguished from the right of the average citizen to get and hold a private industry job, the court has held that no one, however worthy, had any inherent right to work for the federal government. Instead, the courts have repeatedly held that government employment is a kind of privilege, and that the government in extending this privilege can use many safeguards to make certain it is not abused.

★ ★ ★

The Supreme Court has never issued a clear-cut opinion on the federal government's consistent refusal to disclose the identities of confidential informants who provide information against government workers. However, by its orders without formal opinions, it has affirmed holdings of lower courts that this kind of procedure is proper.

Willman to Ask City Act on Sewage Issue

deadline could be stepped up or eliminated, since the Health Department has already approved the city's plans for expansion as adequate to curb pollution.

If the deadline is changed, that could bring the city that much nearer to the date where it would have to have agreed voluntarily on financing or face a Circuit Court order giving city government power to issue general obligation bonds without first going to the people for approval.

As the Water Resources Commission's tentative schedule now stands, the city would have a whole year before financing must be settled and contracts awarded.

Willman said he still favored general obligation bond financing over revenue bond financing.

General obligation bonds carry lower interest rates, he said, and can be paid off through property taxes which in Pontiac fall mostly on business and industry.

Revenue bonds, he said, would have to be paid off through increased water rates, which would hit the homeowner hardest.

But it was his contention that it would be better to wait until the city defaults on the Water Resources Commission time-table and becomes empowered then by a Circuit Court order to issue general obligation bonds.

Has 3 Car Accidents in One Day

Woman Keeps Police Busy

Complaints (numbers 7400, 7401 and 7406 on the Pontiac Police log accidentally looked routine to officers until they found all three involved one driver, a woman.

The first was a minor accident, the second concerned three parking meters leveled by an auto, and the third was for a personal injury accident at Orchard Lake avenue and Saginaw street.

Della M. Tilson, 38, of 4233 Lotus Dr., Waterford Township, was driving west on E. South boulevard when her auto struck the rear of a car driven by George N. Cook, 52, of 4300 Fowler St., Drayton Plains.

Cook was stopped for a traffic light. He told police he was uninjured but that Miss Tilson had suffered a bloody nose and had left the scene in her car, presumably to seek medical attention.

Police said the woman apparently drove to Saginaw street and turned north. Witnesses told police the auto went through several red lights between South boulevard and Auburn avenue and struck three parking meters between Cottage and Judson streets.

At Auburn, police said, the car ran into the curb and then struck an auto stopped for a light at Orchard Lake, driving it three car lengths.

Both she and Jackie DeWayne, 22, of 2879 Alexander St., Rochester, were treated for injuries at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Police quoted Miss Tilson as saying she couldn't stop her car. She explained she had taken some medicine for a nervous condition, and police said it had affected her reflexes.

She was not held.

Alimony Asked by Mrs. Long

Wants Governor's Suit Thrown Out, Hearing Set July 6

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Mrs. Earl Long filed an answer last night to her Louisiana governor husband's suit for separation. She asked $2,500 monthly in alimony.

Mrs. Long asked Family Court Judge Joe Sanders to dismiss Long's suit filed June 25.

Judge Sanders of East Baton Rouge Parish (County) Family Court set a hearing for 10 a.m. July 6 on Mrs. Long's request for preliminary injunction to stop Long from disposing of their community property.

Mrs. Long denied all the allegations in the governor's suit for separation. She listed several counter complaints of her own.

Mrs. Long signed papers committing the 63-year-old governor to two mental hospitals. Long was released from the state hospital at Mandeville last week.

Need Ike's OK for Tax Bill

Must Become Law by Midnight if Wartime Excise Rates Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only President Eisenhower's signature was needed today to extend for another year present wartime rates on corporation income and excise taxes.

The three billion dollars of annual revenue which the bill would preserve are needed if Eisenhower is to keep alive his hopes for a balanced budget in the year ahead.

The measure must become law by midnight or the corporation income tax levy drops from 52 to 47 per cent and the rates on high-income-producing excises also will fall.

The excise taxes apply to autos, auto parts and accessories, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer.

Congress sent the bill to the White House Monday — the sixth straight year it has voted an extension of the Korean wartime rates at the President's request.

All 32 Republicans present supported the measure along with 25 Democrats. But 35 Democrats voted against it in the hope the bill could be returned to conference for another try at retaining additions the Senate had made.

The Senate tacked on four amendments in a marathon session last Thursday, but the conferees Friday stripped off two of these and watered down the other two.

No Traffic Deaths Earns City Citation

The National Safety Council has cited Pontiac as one of three Michigan cities recording perfect no-death scores for traffic safety in May.

The others were Kalamazoo and Wyandotte.

The three cities made their marks in the face of a national trend toward more deaths, as the toll was up for a fifth straight month.

Pontiac and Kalamazoo are listed in the 50,000 to 100,000 population classification, Wyandotte in the 25,000 to 50,000 group. Detroit and Chicago were low for deaths in cities of more than one million population.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Police said they're looking for a thief who stole wallets from Eva Nicely, Carrie Love and Jessie Nabors.

The Day in Birmingham

Temporary Angle Parking OK'd on North Woodward

BIRMINGHAM — The knotty problem of parking on N. Woodward avenue was resolved at least temporarily last night.

The Birmingham City Commission approved an interim switch from parallel to angle parking on the east side of Woodward between Ravine road and Oak street, pending institution of off-street parking in the area.

Recommendations of the mayor's Insurance Advisory Committee for renewal of the workmen's compensation, automobile fleet and comprehensive general liability segments of the city's insurance program were adopted by the commission.

Also adopted was a recommendation for false arrest liability insurance, not previously carried by Birmingham.

The false arrest insurance will safeguard the city to limits of $25,000 for each arrest and $50,000 for each incident, according to the committee's report.

The premium will amount to $1,100 annually and the coverage takes a 15 per cent deductible form.

In other action, the commission approved transfer of $291 from the contingent fund to cover park repairs not included in the Recreation Department budget.

Involved was repair of damaged drinking fountains at Eton and Booth parks and replacement of doors for the recreation activities building at Eton Park.

The Commission also extended a fire protection agreement with the Birmingham Country Club until July 1, 1960 and approved a Chamber of Commerce request for a July 4 fireworks display on the Birmingham High School football field.

Mrs. Ruth Whitehead Waddell

Service for Ruth Whitehead Waddell, 61, of 963 Purdy St. will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will follow in Acacia Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Waddell died Monday at her home after a prolonged illness.

She was a founder-member of the Lathrup Village Community Church, a charter member of the Lathrup Women's Club, a member of the First Methodist Church of Lexington, Ky., and was well-known for her work with the South Oakland Chapter of the American Red Cross Auxiliary during World War II.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Charles J. Cannon, Jr. of 27920 Sunset Dr., Lathrup Village, and Mrs. Alan Mohan of New York City; a son, William R. of Vestal, N.Y.; a sister, a brother and six grandchildren.

May Blazon Forth on Playground

Old Fire Truck Must Go

The Pontiac Fire Dept. has turned its back on a tried and trusted friend.

Fire Engine No. 2 is being retired after answering alarms for 32 years.

The end of the road for the staunch vehicle came last weekend when Fire Chief James White handed a curt memo on the truck to Marvin M. Alward, city finance director.

The fire truck, bright and shiny as the day it was bought, may not become scrap. There is a possibility it will be put on a city playground, there to delight youngsters for years to come.

The truck actually was driven only some 13,000 miles, but for a fire engine that's a long, long way, White said. And No. 2, located at the Central station, was first on the scene at every major fire.

A few weeks ago, however, the sturdy truck started spouting oil on one of its runs. Parts for the American LaFrance would have to be specially ordered because the original company has long ceased to exist.

Confronted with prohibitive costs, the fire department reluctantly decided the veteran vehicle had dashed to its last blaze.

Ike Enjoys Exhibit Put On by Russians

his text in English, said the exposition would show that the Soviet people are so bent on building a peaceful economy that they "can not harbor any evil intentions in regard to other nations."

Outside for an hour during the speaking were 70 pickets, bearing signs such as "Reds Are Murderers," "Produced By Slaves," and "Eastern Europe Will Yet Be Free." They distributed pamphlets headlined "Soviet Russia (the 20th Century Barbarian) No. 1 Enemy" and signed "American Friends of Anti-Bolshevik Bloc of Nations, Inc."

Thompson Sentenced to 1½ to 10 Years

Herman, former aide to Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa, was convicted in Oakland County Circuit Court of possession of a pistol silencer.

Also an ex-convict, Herman faces a 1 to 5 year prison term, but is free under bond while appealing the sentence.

Thompson helped Frank Kierdorf set fire to a dry cleaner's pickup station in suburban Flint last Aug. 3, according to the decision of a Genesee County jury.

Authorities contended, but never conclusively, that the two Teamsters were involved in a price war within the Flint area dry cleaning industry.

A few hours later, he stumbled into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac. He died there four days later.

Judge Roth commented on the mystery that continues to hover around the Kierdorf case.

"Undoubtedly the full story has not been told, due principally to the respondent's (Thompson) attachment to the code of not talking," he said.

Oakland County authorities and Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams once asked for a grand jury to probe the Kierdorf case fully, but it was denied by the Oakland County bench.

An offshoot of that decision was an unsuccessful attempt in the Legislature this year to kill Michigan's one-man grand jury law.

Thompson's sentencing had been delayed to allow him to appear before the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington last week.

The committee is probing to discover whether Hoffa has eliminated convicted felons, such as Thompson, from his union.

Thompson took refuge behind the Fifth Amendment, just as he had done before the same committee in 1957.

Frank Kierdorf had once appeared before the committee and he, too, took the Fifth Amendment. So did Herman Kierdorf when he was called just a few days prior to Frank's death.

Frank Kierdorf also was an ex-convict.

Find Remains of Child's Body in Washer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Two horrified women today discovered the remains of a child's body rotating in a self-service laundry washer.

The condition of the body prevented immediate identification.

Detective E. B. Meals said it had not been determined whether the boy had been placed into the washer or had fallen inside and the door shut on him, starting the machine into action.

He said the machine had been used for a long period and it was possible it started when the door shut. Normally, the machine won't start until money is inserted into a slot.

Meals said the youngster was between the ages of 4 and 6. A young boy in the neighborhood has been reported missing, but officers were not certain he was the victim.

Thomson Ties Record

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP)—Peter Thomson, the defending champion from Australia, equalled the course record of 66 for the tough 6,806-yard Muirfield Course and took the lead in the qualifying round for the British Open Golf Championship with a 36-hold total of 137. Thomson's round of 32-34—66, six under Muirfield's par, tied the record set by Henry Cotton in 1948.

Las Vegas Clientele Blase' Toward Stars

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

LAS VEGAS—Eddie and Liz, the newest citizens of this town, have made no dent upon Las Vegas. They have left her as cold as a croupier's farewell.

I tested. Placed a phony call on the house phones at the "Desert Inn" for Eddie Fisher. Had him paged, loud and twice; "Mister Eddie Fisher, please, to the telephone. Miser Eddie Fisher, please, telephone."

Nobody even looked up, from the wheel or the card and the dice at hand. Las Vegas is a land where every man's a playboy and every woman a playgirl, and who needs the vicarious spice of watching a more famous name at play?

Las Vegas is a place where everything goes, and frequently it's yours. Your silver dollars, your inhibitions, your pallid cheeks, your ennui. It is a city which lives 24 hours daily, the philosophy of a famed professional gambler who said:

"The next best thing to playing and winning is playing and losing. The main thing is the play."

★ ★ ★

There were days when compulsive gentlemen wandered away from the wheels of fortune which fizzled on them here, and pulled the trigger on themselves in the desert that surrounds Vegas like a mottled brown frame. Those days seem to be over, now that the city has reached a wonderfully zany maturity.

ACCENT ON FUN

Now the accent is on fun, rather than desperation. Vegas has done such a good job of publicizing itself as a wonderland for all the family—as a sort of supermarket of casinos—as a hot, dry, healthy resort with a place in the pool for everybody—they have got what they asked for. A clientele of zesty middle-class Americans who like a good time and are realistic about how much of mama's larder money can be frittered away.

There may still be big-time, serious gamblers at the thousands of games of chance which sparkle red and black and flickering from every hotel and street corner apothecary. But they are hard to find among the blithe bettors with $50 and a clear conscience.

Like Hoot Gibson, the white-haired movie legend who spends his afternoons playing keno with modest quarters and an impish smile of unconcern for his losses—so are most of Las Vegas's 10,000,000 tourists.

Whether they are playing roulette in flashy sequin gowns or in cowboy boots or in bathing suits, the people in Las Vegas almost invariably smile as they almost invariably lose the allotment they came to town to invest in a good time.

There still are dreams of making a million, or a modest 100. Gambling is the essence of optimism.

But I think Americans, like this flashy ferris wheel of a city, have grown up. They are realistic. They don't expect, 'not really,' to break the bank or else their hearts.

Otherwise, the same intrepid joy-seekers would not return again and again to Las Vegas and wager more than $20,000,000 a day—with or without the knowledge that the "house percentage" is from 1½ to 5 per cent.

Key Man in Soviet Hierarchy

Keep an Eye on Frol Kozlov

By United Press International

If not THE man to watch, Frol Kozlov, the urbane Soviet official who will open the Russian Trade Exhibit in New York today, is at least considered one of the men to watch in the Soviet hierarchy.

At 50, Kozlov is one of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's key men in the Council of Ministers. He is believed to have major responsibility on internal matters, while the other first deputy, Anastas Mikoyan, concentrates on foreign affairs.

Broad shouldered and slim, Kozlov is relatively tall for a Russian — about 5'10". He has been described as intelligent, shrewd, a gifted conversationalist and an effective speaker with a flair for the handshaking school of politicking.

On one occasion, Kozlov charmed a crowd by asking if they had any particular problems, then discussing these problems individually, paying special attention to children.

Like many of the Kremlin's younger men, Kozlov is the son of a "poor peasant." He was too young to have a hand in the Revolution or Civil War, but joined the Komsomol — the Soviet youth organization — when he turned 15. His first posts were part time secretary of a textile factory youth organization then chief of the economic department of the district Komsomol committee.

He was sent to Leningrad for technical training and was graduated in 1936 from the Kalinin Polytechnic Institute. He became a full-time party worker around 1939 and received a decoration for his war-time work in the production and shipment of arms to the front.

In 1944 he was called to Moscow. He was there for five years—serving for a time under Khrushchev — then went back to Leningrad, where he rose further in the party ranks to become a full member of the all-union party central committee in 1952.

Kozlov is believed originally to have been a protege of Georgi Malenkov, Stalin's successor as premier who was ousted after about two years. However, it is believed that he switched to Khrushchev's side during the scramble for power after Stalin's death in 1953.

Kozlov bet his career on Khrushchev two years ago in the showdown between Khrushchev and the now-disgraced "anti-party group" led by Malenkov. When Khrushchev found himself facing a hostile majority in the party presidium, Kozlov drummed up support for him in the central committee, thus helping to turn the balance.

Kozlov's reward was full membership in the presidium.

With only five trips abroad — only two of which took him outside the Communist world — Kozlov is not as well traveled as some of the presidium members, and he speaks no foreign languages. In conversation, he generally avoids talking about international affairs or Communist ideology.

On occasion, however, he has revealed great curiosity about the United States.

Royal Oak Gets Mall Go-Ahead

Governor Signs Law Making Financing of Project Possible

Royal Oak today had a green light from Lansing to proceed with its $2,610,000 plan for a downtown shopping mall.

Gov. Williams late yesterday signed into law a measure letting the city issue special assessment bonds on its downtown business district to pay off $220,000 in outstanding parking lot bonds.

The city now must proceed with public hearings while, it is expected, a taxpayer's suit tests the legality of the measure in court.

Downtown businessmen must agree to pay the $2,160,000 costs themselves or else the project will fall through. But it was the businessmen who originated the idea.

The plan calls for a shopping mall along downtown Washington avenue, surrounded by a vast system of free parking lots. Businessmen propose to triple the number of existing parking spaces and pay off the cost of existing spaces themselves, so that they no longer will have to be metered.

The plan, unofficially adopted by the City Commission and sponsored by the Royal Oak Chamber of Commerce, is designed to enhance Royal Oak's attraction as a shopping center.

Deaths Elsewhere

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Joseph A. Kerney, 71, vice president of the Trenton Times, died Sunday after a short illness. He directed advertising for the Times newspapers for 30 years. Earlier he had served as a White House correspondent during President Wilson's administration and as Chicago correspondent for the old New York World.

BATTLE CREEK, (AP) — Nathan P. Colwell, 54, director of radio and television for the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, died Monday of a heart attack. He held the OCDM post since 1955 and earlier worked for the Treasury Department and Office of Price Administration in similar jobs. He was born in Chicago.

Chicago Cleaning Up for Visit of Queen Liz

CHICAGO (AP)—Brawny Chicago, giant of industry and agriculture, will burgeon with pomp and glitter next Monday as the city welcomes Queen Elizabeth of England.

High society is shivering with anticipation. Workmen are sweating on overtime to ready streets and displays. Protocol experts argue the rules and chefs mull the menus.

There will be a 21-gun salute, a marching band, motorcade, horsed escort, a 600-man honor guard of Naval Academy midshipmen and fireworks for the royal party's 13-hour visit.

★ ★ ★

"The idea that Americans have no interest in royalty is for the birds," says Col. Jack Reilly, Mayor Richard J. Daley's director of special events who is in charge of preparations.

One of the 1,000 persons invited to dinner with the Queen put it differently. "This is the first time I ever told my wife to go out and buy a new dress."

Queen Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, are coming here in honor of the dedication of the enlarged St. Lawrence Seaway, which has added bigger business to the Chicago port.

Their visit has touched off a booming cleanup.

Last Sunday—a scorcher at 96 degrees—workmen returfed a median strip on Lake Shore Drive near Congress St. in the area where the Queen and her consort will arrive from the royal barge.

Bright, pastel-colored wastebaskets have been placed along downtown streets.

Along the Chicago River, where once was sagging wharves and refuse, flowers and grass grow.

An estimated 1½ million persons are expected to see the royal couple.

The society ladies were in a dither, of course, especially about clothes for Monday evening's dinner. The State Department solved one dilemma when it said the Queen "prefers ladies to wear gloves when they are being presented."

Not all Chicagoans were impressed with the Queen, however. Speaking for what probably is a minority was city Councilman Paddy Bauler, a saloon keeper. He received a coveted dinner ticket, but declares he won't use it.

"What's the Queen mean to me?" he asked. "Nothing. I never get out of my class."

Didn't Happen That Way

CRYSTAL CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Gerold Burke and Graham Heikes lost their canoe, paddles and $500 worth of camping equipment yesterday for failing to follow their historical script. Burke and Heikes were attemptign to re-enact Pere Marquette's 1673 exploration of the Mississippi, from Lake Michigan to New Orleans. They had left their equipment to hike into town for provisions.

Nicaragua is about the same area as Michigan.

1959 Deficit Highest So Far

May Be Slightly Lower Than Early Prediction of $12,900,000,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam today winds up his 1959 fiscal year with the biggest peace time budget deficit on record. The exact amount of red ink won't be known for several weeks.

★ ★ ★

President Eisenhower forecast a deficit of $12,900,000,000 in his January budget message to Congress. Budget Director Maurice H. Stans told a Senate committee last week the figure may be several hundred million dollars lower.

A smaller deficit would mean that tax revenues have exceeded the 68 billion dollars predicted in January. There is little chance that spending will be shaved much, if any, below the budget message figure of $80,900,000,000.

In any event, the deficit will be more than twice as big as any previously recorded in peacetime. The old peacetime high was $4,425,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 10, 1936, when government spending was increased to offset the depression. The alltime high deficit was about 57½ billions in fiscal 1943, in the early days of World War II.

For President Eisenhower, fiscal 1959 brings the fourth deficit in six years.

The 1960 fiscal year, which begins at midnight, will almost surely produce a brighter picture. There might even be a sizable surplus if the new economic boom follows the course now foreseen by government economists.

Eisenhower asked Congress to authorize fiscal 1960 spending of $77,030,000,000. He predicted revenues of $77,100,000,000 and a precarious budget surplus of 70 million dollars, contingent on higher gasoline tax and postal rates which Congress isn't likely to put into effect.

★ ★ ★

The administration now concedes that spending will exceed the January forecast. However, revenues are expected to be higher too.

'Frisco to Turn Thumbs Down on Errant Drivers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police Chief Tom Cahill has asked San Franciscans to turn thumbs down on smart-aleck drivers over the Fourth of July weekend.

Cahill said the Police slogan is "thumbs down means don't clown" and that if enough people give the sign of disapproval to naughty drivers maybe they'll get the idea and behave.

Court Strikes Down Security Program for Civilians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government officials studied today what changes they must make in security screening of defense plant workers to overcome a Supreme Court ruling that the program is not authorized.

★ ★ ★

But they appeared confident that the program, covering three million civilian workers in private plants throughout the country, can be continued in some way to protect the nation's defense secrets.

The ruling does not affect employes of the government itself, or those in private plants who do not need to have access to government secrets.

The court ruling struck hardest at an accused worker's lack of opportunity to clear himself under the present program. The opinion was one of many issued Monday as the Supreme Court ended its nine-month term and recessed until October.

Other major decisions restricted libel suits against policy-making government officials, military officers, and radio and TV stations carrying political broadcasts which, under the law, they cannot censor.

The court also struck down some sections of the New York state law under which censors had banned showing of the film "Lady Chatterly's Lover."

The security screening program required that workers in plants having defense contracts meet government security standards before they could see classified information. Secret information was used in the screening process, and some workers who were not cleared were fired when employers could not fit them in non-sensitive jobs.

The decision was a victory for William L. Greene, who was fired in 1953 from an $18,000 job as a vice president of Engineering and Research Corp., in Riverdale, Md. The firing followed Navy revocation of a clearance for Greene.

Chief Justice Warren explained the court's ruling.

"We decide only that in the absence of explicit authorization from either the President or Congress, the respondents (defense officials) were not empowerd to deprive petitionier (Green) of his job in a proceeding in which he was not afforded the safeguard of confrontation and cross examination," Warren said.

Some officials interpreted this to mean that the program could be continued if accused workers were given full chance to defend themselves.

Warren emphasized the court was not ruling on inherent authority of the President to set up an industrial plant security program, or whether action by Congress was necessary to do so, or what the constitutional limits on executive or legislative authority might be.

Four associate justices joined in Warren's opinion.

Three others, Justices Frankfurter, Harlan and Whittaker, said they went along with the majority only on the ground the program had not been authorized. They intimated nothing on their views about validity of the procedures used in Greene's case.

But Justice Clark in a biting dissent said the decision "puts a cloud" over both the program attacked by Greene and the federal employes loyalty program, which now is limited to government employes holding sensitive jobs.

"Let us hope that the winds may change," Clark said. "If they do not, the present temporary debacle will turn into a rout of our internal security."

In one of several libel rulings, the court held 5-4 that policy-making government officials are immune from libel suits in making statements to the press on matters under their control. The majority opinion said some injustices might result, "but we think that price a necessary one to pay for the greater good."

The Justice Department had contended in the case that democratic government depends on the public's knowledge of governmental policies and the conduct of government officials.

In a related 6-3 opinion, the court said military officers also are immune from suits in forwarding official reports to members of Congress.

★ ★ ★

Another 5-4 ruling held that radio and television stations have immunity from libel suits for statements made by candidates in political speeches. The federal law which requires stations to provide equal time to all candidates for an office also forbids censorship of such speeches by the station.

Discoverer Failed for Lack of Speed

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Why didn't the Discoverer IV rocket fired Thursday from the West Coast go into orbit? Not enough speed, says the Air Force.

To hurl a capsule-bearing satellite into a course around the earth's poles, as planned, the vehicle would have had to reach 18,000 miles an hour.

A Ballistic Missile Division spokesman declined to say whether the first or the second stage was to blame for the insufficient velocity.

The first was an intermediate-range, Douglas-built Thor missile; the second, all of which was designed to enter orbit, was made by Lockheed.

Discoverer IV, carrying a 300-pound capsule that was to have been ejected over the Pacific, was launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base, 170 miles north of this Los Angeles suburb. The instruments in the capsule were secret.

Fiancee Halted Earlier Suicide by 'Superman'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Six weeks before actor George Reeves committed suicide, his fiancee wrestled the death pistol away from him and fired two shots into his bedroom floor, the police have been told.

The police said Monday the report came from a woman friend of Miss Leonore Lemmon, New York cafe society figure who has said she was engaged to marry Reeves, television's Superman. Miss Lemmon is now in New York.

According to the account, Miss Lemmon said she joked about Reeves' trying to commit suicide, they struggled over the gun and she fired twice to show "what it sounds like."

Just before the fatal shot early June 16, Miss Lemmon told others in the actor's house, "He's going to shoot himself."

Queen's Windsor Visit to Highlight Celebration

After officially opening the St. Lawrence Seaway with President EISENHOWER, Queen ELIZABETH continues her six weeks Canadian tour which will take her and PRINCE PHILIP to all sections of our friendly northern neighbor.

★ ★ ★

With the exception of the International Exposition in Chicago on July 6th, this country will not be included in the tour covering some 15,000 miles. Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip will see firsthand a booming economy from Newfoundland to Vancouver and north to the Arctic sea.

★ ★ ★

Coincidental with the tour and emphasizing the close ties between the United States and Canada is the current joint weeklong International Freedom Festival of Detroit and Windsor. July 1 is Dominion Day when Canada became a nation and on the Fourth of July the United States commemorates its independence.

As a further footnote to this amity, gunboats of both nations are cruising the Great Lakes for the St. Lawrence celebration only because diplomats worked out a temporary suspension of the Rush-Bagot Convention of 1817 which provided for perpetual disarmament of the lakes.

Although the Royal tour was undertaken ostensibly to dedicate the Seaway, the Times of London asserts "in the evergrowing complexity of modern society, the truth we all need most to comprehend is that the august symbol and the simple person are one, and behind all the elaboration of government the center and inspiration of it all is a human being like ourselves."

★ ★ ★

It is always a dramatic event when Queen Elizabeth visits some part of the Commonwealth. She not only is a symbol but a person held in deep affection. Enthusiastic crowds line the route and the current tour is no exception. The Queen has an arduous schedule, but as always, she brings grace and beauty to every occasion.

★ ★ ★

The Royal visit to Windsor on Friday should impress on us the fact that to a very large extent the security of the free world rests on American, British and Commonwealth power.

Safe Boating Week Can Mean Less Lives Lost

Using as its 1959 slogan, "Ahoy, Folks! Keep boating a safe family sport," the National Safe Boating Week is now in progress and will continue until July 5.

★ ★ ★

The idea for the week was initiated three years ago by the United States Coast Guard and the Coast Guard Auxiliary. For the last two years National Safe Boating Week has been officially proclaimed by President EISENHOWER.

With the big Fourth of July weekend coming up, let's be overly careful while enjoying "boating." There is no doubt about its being one of America's safest sports. Let's keep it that way.

All boat enthusiasts should maintain continual safety vigilance, plus boating educational programs. It is not always a novice that causes the accident; instead many times it is the know-it-all just cutting up.

Pleasure boat groups are making a special effort during National Boating Week to eliminate the tiny minority of show-off skippers who are sometimes known as "the hot rod boys." They are the ones who irritate and annoy the other boatmen as well as swimmers and fishermen by clownish and irresponsible behavior that imperils the safety of others.

A slogan has come into wide use: "Thumbs Down Means Don't Clown." As a warning and reminder, the slogan should be put to good use on our Oakland County lakes.

Join the crusade by helping to promote and encourage the "Thumbs Down" sign of disapproval of offensive boating.

IT'S a great pity that history didn't acquire a repertoire of greater variety and considerably better quality before it set in repeating itself.

"If It Isn't One Thing It's Another"

David Lawrence Says:

Rising Prices Biggest Fiscal Worry

WASHINGTON—Tomorrow—July 1st—is New Year's Day, so far as government finances are concerned. One fiscal year ends, and another begins. The deficit is more than $12 billion, largely due to the economic recession. It's a record for so-called peacetime. The coming year, however, is expected to see a balanced budget.

LAWRENCE

With armament expenditures taking a bigger and bigger proportion of the national budget, due to the "cold war" in a nuclear age, it is not surprising that a setback on the economic front runs into such big figures.

For the government's chief worry is the continuation of rising prices. It has to pay each year more and more for the same articles of warfare that it bought in previous years at lower prices.

This is why "inflation" is being so widely discussed as a danger to the American economy. President Eisenhower appointed a committee of the Cabinet to analyze the problem. After several months of study, it has just issued its report.

Unfortunately, because of the prominence of some of the Cabinet members in the political arena, the report is being regarded by Democratic opponents as political.

It would have received more attention perhaps if it had been signed only by such non-political figures as Robert Anderson, secretary of the treasury, and Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's council of economic advisers.

REPORT EXTRACT

Here, for instance, is an extract from the Cabinet committee report which reads like the language of Messrs. Anderson and Saulnier:

"Without firm control of the quantity of money and credit, all other measures to check inflation will be futile. Sound monetary policy requires that the federal government avoid making its bonds, other than those of comparatively small denomination designed for family savings, the equivalent of money.

"Government bonds are the equivalent of money if they can always be changed into actual money at virtually face value, not only when they are due and payable but any time before.

"This is the case if the treasury is forced to issue only very short-term bonds or if the Federal Reserve system stands ready to buy at a pegged price all government bonds offered to it an advance of the date when they are due to be paid by the treasury.

"There is only an imperceptible difference between the government's issuing bonds that are equivalent to money, and the government's just cranking up the printing presses and rolling out greenbacks.

"The government will be forced to continue issuing large additional amounts of short-term bonds that are the near-equivalent of money until the Congress allows the treasury sufficient flexibility to achieve a balance in our debt structure by inducing people of their own free will to invest their savings in long-term government bonds. Thus, to avoid inflation it is essential that the present limitation on the interest rate on long-term government bonds be removed, as the administration has already recommended.

"We face a serious risk of price increases which not only would be directly harmful to American families but would seriously endanger the healthy prosperity now developing."

The Cabinet committee doesn't propose any concrete solutions but does point out that "excessive concentration of power in the hands of labor or business results in practices which are contrary to the public interest" and that "such practices reduce efficiency and productivity, and they create inflationary pressures."

★ ★ ★

But what to do about them? The Cabinet committee says it soon will examine and later report on the extent to which such concentrations of power in labor and business "contribute to inflation or impede economic progress."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Soap, Water Take Place of Corrosive Antiseptics

Antiseptics, germicides and disinfectants were as popular in the days of bustles and flypaper.

DR. BRADY

In the amphitheaters and clinics of hospitals it was customary to have at hand—

1. Basins of corrosive sublimate (bi-chloride of mercury) solution for operators and assistants to disinfect their hands.

2. A pint bottle of hydrogen peroxide solution.

3. A bottle of liquefied phenol (carbolic acid).

When the operation was finished the surgeon would pour the hydrogen peroxide into the wound before sewing up. This presumably destroyed any germs that might have gained entrance to the wound.

The carbolic acid was used to sear or cauterize the stump left by removal of the apendix or other structure. Carbolic acid was followed by application of alcohol to neutralize the caustic effect of carbolic.

Even before the close of the century, however, the principle of asepsis was beginning to supersede the principle of antiseptics. Here and there a surgeon took his reputation in his hands, tossed out all germicides and antiseptics and depended entirely on asepsis (exquisite cleanliness) to assure healing by first intention, as wound healing without infection is called.

In many institutions even today, there is a shortage of plain soap and water and an evident surplus of smelly disinfectants. Some of the disinfectants slopped around these institutions are powerful in odor if in no other way. Deodorized and decolorized they wouldn't bring 16 cents a gallon.

Under ideal circumstances wounds, major or minor, heal at a certain rate. Most favorable circumstances for rapid healing of any wound or burn are, perfect cleanliness, protection and rest.

Circumstances which prevent or retard healing of wound or burn are application of "antiseptic substances," salves, oils or domestic or commercial nostrums that purport to "heal" or to "prevent scar"; change of dressings without good reason, unnecessarily disturbing the patient or disturbing the burned or wounded part.

No known medication will make a wound heal faster than the natural rate of healing when the wound is surgically clean, protected against infection, and kept at rest.

Plain soap and water is preferable to any antiseptic or germicide for the first aid care of any wound.

"It's funny how we can be too busy to call on a sick friend — but not to serve as his pall bearer."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Shows Easy Ways to Save Money

Tom is like many other husbands, for he isn't using his head. Next week he could raise his own wages by $4.50, even without asking his boss for a promotion. And many of our young American couples could easily add $10 to $25 per week to their income by efficient budgeting, as outlined below. Get hep, for opportunity is waiting for you to grasp it.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-474: Tom B., aged 27, has been married 6 years.

"Dr. Crane," he began morosely, "I just can't break even on my salary.

"My wife is fairly economical, too, but we keep running deeper in the red ink every payday.

"So I am wondering if America really offers the golden opportunities we have heard politicians glowingly describe.

DR. CRANE

"Perhaps the day of opportunity has passed. What do you think?"

HOW BOOST SALARY

A lot of Americans can boost their pay check next week, even without asking the boss for a raise.

For instance, Tom and his wife are both cigarette smokers. The average outlay nowadays for cigarettes is $115 per person, or $230 per year for Tom and his wife.

That means they could, in effect, give Tom a pay boost of $4.50 per week, starting at once, just by heeding the modern medical advice about the folly of tobacco.

Liquor drinkers also spend an average of at least $180 per year, or $3.50 per week for alcoholic beverages. And this is the light drinker, not the guy who gets soused occasionally.

Many other Americans wager a minimum of $2 per week (often $2 per day) on horse racing bets with bookies. Others squander a similar amount on policy rackets.

TOM'S DILEMMA

However, he could easily cultivate other habits that would give him far more pleasure and not cost him a single penny!

Maybe it is O. K. for you to squander money if you have plenty, but when you are a young married couple, with children to rear, you must learn how to budget your income and cut out medically unwise habits, such as tobacco and liquor.

If you wish to enjoy life, then join a livewire local church. You can have far more fun at family parties, church suppers, picnics and Sunday school class softball contests, than at swanky Country Clubs where the annual membership fee alone may top $300.

★ ★ ★

If husbands like Tom would become active in Boy Scout work and thus cultivate constructive hobbies as Youth Leaders, they'd not only be [illegible] their own kid-would be less likely to become juvenile delinquents.

So pick out good habits by deliberate intent. Then practice them until they become habitual. Soon you will enjoy the good life.

Epictetus realized this psychological axiom when he wrote:

"Choose the best life for habit will make it pleasant."

Many housewives also lose money each week by failure to perform a little mathematics at the stores. Check to see what is the net cost per ounce of peanut butter, bread and other canned goods.

Sometimes the larger can actually is deceptive, for it actually may cost more per ounce of contents than the smaller.

So polish up your arithmetic. And send for my booklet "How to Operate Your Home on a Budget," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'With Such Men at Helm, We'll All Crack Up Soon'

With men like James Hoffa and Earl Long telling us what's what, it won't be long before we will all be mentally ill.

★ ★ ★

We are a race of people that takes life too easy. As long as we have a TV, a can of beer and a table to prop our feet on, what do we care what's going on?

★ ★ ★

But to my way of thinking, we'd better start caring, before we lose our freedom altogether. It can happen.

Right?

'He Doesn't Have Support of Us All'

Governor Williams says "I promised I would put on the best fight possible for my tax bill and I know I have the support of the Democratic party." Sure, Governor, and we all know who you promised, for it has not been a secret for years where you make your promises and get your orders, but neither you nor your boss can guarantee the support of the Democratic party, for the whole Democratic party is not under the thumb of your own personal boss.

Individual Democrat

'Why Not Establish Morning Degree?'

How can you tell if it will be 85 during the day? If The Press and President Sparrow of the No Necktie League on 85 degree days said it was o. k. to start the day without one when the temperature was over 65 early in the morning, then we would be all set when we leave home after breakfast.

Believer

'First Seven Were Great; What Now?'

This Eisenhower administration promised to lower taxes. Well, they did it once in seven years and I'm asking now, will they do it the eighth year? And if they don't they will lose four more votes and those are the four votes in my home, for we are sick of these tax bills. The war is over, the GOP promised voters they were the one party that knew that and they would do something about it. Well, they are just as bad as the Democrats and that's about as low as you can get.

Backs Press Stand on Death Penalty

Some people have attacked The Press on its stand for capital punishment and one even seemed to doubt members of The Press had read the Bible correctly on such issues.

★ ★ ★

God gave Moses the laws and life for life was one of them. It's all through the Bible and when Christ came he said, "I come not to destroy the law but to fulfill."

★ ★ ★

I wonder if we are trying to dodge our responsibility. We need capital punishment in Michigan and should stand behind our lawmakers until we get it. With all the sex crimes and sick men and boys who go "momentarily insane," capital punishment would cure thousands overnight.

★ ★ ★

I don't believe other states that have the death penalty have as many murders and rapes. What are we waiting for—mass murder of our girls and wives? Even babies have been molested. Do we want to make Michigan a crime haven?

Theater Removal Brings Suggestion

I see Pontiac is tearing down another landmark. Seems to me the Orpheum could still have been used as an entertainment medium. Surely the construction of a rear fire escape shouldn't have been a problem, when Pontiac can boast such impressive edifices as City Hall and Pontiac Northern High School.

★ ★ ★

From time to time I've noticed pleas for entertainment from VOP readers. I suggest using the State Theater (before it gets the same treatment) to give plays, etc., to raise money for a community center.

★ ★ ★

If the various organizations, students and teachers got behind this project, there shouldn't be any more letters stressing lack of entertainment.

Urged On by College Professor

Tune Owes Fame to Ozark Balladeer

By EDWIN HOWARD

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (NEA) — The man responsible for the nation's No. 1 song hit, the raucous, rollicking "Battle of New Orleans", is a former high school principal in the town of Snowball deep in Arkansas' Ozark Mountains.

He calls himself Jimmie Driftwood, and "Battle of New Orleans" is one of hundreds of little-known folk songs in his repertoire.

But "Battle of New Orleans" still would be only a date in history but for a tall, soft-spoken Memphis, Tenn. English professor. He is Dr. John Quincy Wolf, and his academic specialty at Southwestern College is the poetry of Wordsworth.

Jimmie Driftwood, whose real name is Jimmie Morris, was discovered by Wolf on one of his ballad hunts seven years ago. A native of Batesville, Ark., Wolf has long been fascinated by the folk songs of his state's White River Valley.

He collects them by driving into the hills, stopping at the general stores and post offices and asking who the community's singers are. Then he seeks them out, asks them to sing some of the old songs for him while he records them on his tape recorder.

"One day in the summer of '52," Dr. Wolf recalls, "I listened to Jimmie sing and play for half a day and he knew more old songs than anybody I ever encountered. He must have been about 35 years old then.

"But I found that he was different from most balladists. He had gone to Arkansas State Teacher's College at Conway and gotten a degree, then come back to the Ozarks to teach history.

"And he not only knew all those old songs, he had an amazing sense of how to sing them.

"So I told him, 'Jimmie, you've really got something. You're an unusual performer. There's no reason you shouldn't be able to do something with your singing. You ought to go to one of the big recording companies and try to get a hearing.'

JIMMIE DRIFTWOOD: Had a hundred different stanzas.

"I would see Jimmie again every summer when I was home in Batesville and get him to sing more songs for me. One time I don't remember just when, but about a year ago, I taped 'The Battle of New Orleans' and thought it was just wonderful.

"Then last summer Jimmie said, 'Well, I finally did what you told me to. I went to RCA Victor and I've made me an album for them.'

NO CREDIT

"Now let me say that I'm not taking any credit for Jimmie's rise. Anyone with his talent and ambition would have done what he's done."

Jimmie himself gives Dr. Wolf much of the credit for the good things that are coming his way.

"He was the first fellow," Jimmie told me, "that ever advised me to get out and get myself a recording contract. If it wasn't for him, I'd probably still be sittin' here at home singing 'Battle of New Orleans' to my wife and boy."

Where did Jimmie get "The Battle of New Orleans?"

"When I was a boy," he says, "the young fellows in my neighborhood would sing snatches of it. One time it would be the British a-comin', next time it'd be the gals or somebody else.

★ ★ ★

"Finally, I started tryin' to remember all the different versions. I must have put together a hundred different stanzas — some of 'em real smutty, like soldiers would sing. Still, I couldn't make a consecutive story out of it. So finally I just did a reconstruction job on it."

★ ★ ★

Jimmie's album didn't sell very well so the song didn't become popular until a young singer, Johnny Horton, asked permission to record it as a single for Columbia Records. That record caught on and now there are a number of versions on the market, including a single by Jimmie.

Jimmie, who quit teaching last year, has been awfully busy this spring, traveling around the country making personal appearances and cutting new records. But he says come July 1 no matter what the offers, "I'll be sowing turnips in my garden."

Chain Supermarkets Gaining in Sales

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government reported today that sales by big food chain stores increased 118 per cent during the past 10 years. This compared with a gain of 72 per cent for all types of retail food stores.

The Federal Trade Commission also said that in 1957 the nation's four largest chains — the A&P, Safeway, Kroger and American Stores — accounted for nearly 20 per cent of all retail food sales. These big four have held the same rank throughout the 10-year period, the FTC said.

The figures were contained in what the FTC described as "an interim report on its study of economic concentration in the food industry."

The study was started last October, the commission said, following "many complaints about the development in recent years of concentration of power, collusive price action and competitive methods in the industry."

The FTC said its final report would contain an analysis of the situation in the industry. In the meantime, FTC Chairman [illegible] W. Kintner said "we believe that to make available certain factual information as we go along will prove helpful to others who are studying the same problems."

A recent survey indicated that two pounds heavier at the age of 14 than was the average today's average American child is 7 and as much as 13 pounds heavier youngster of 20 years ago.

Long's Ailment Now Pegged as Just 'Nervous Breakdown'

COVINGTON, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long today was reported on the road to recovery from what psychiatrists have newly labeled a nervous breakdown rather than mental illness.

Along the road the governor carries plans to chop at least 40 persons from state payrolls. Some of them were somehow involved in his being committed to mental hospitals twice this month.

He already has fired three state officials — two of them medical men who held him in one mental institution — and he is divorcing his wife, who had him committed.

Three psychiatrists Monday night said Long, a voluntary patient in a small town motel, suffered from "a nervous breakdown from overwork."

Their report said the fiery, fast-moving 63-year-old governor recently suffered a small stroke or strokes which, combined with his overactivity, "resulted in a marked rundown state."

Noting that Long had a heart attack nine years ago, the doctors said: "At this time there is nothing that would indicate that the governor cannot make another recovery."

At present, the psychiatrists said, "the governor is rational, with no intellectual impairment." They added: "We agree with the governor that he is better mentally than physically."

The report was by three prominent doctors whom Long had asked for a study of his condition and a prescription for his treatment. They were Drs. Robert Heath and Victor Lief of Tulane University and Charles Watkins of Louisiana State University.

They said the term "paranoid schizophrenia" used in an original finding by Dr. Chester Williams, coroner of East Baton Rouge Parish, committing Long to Southeast Louisiana Hospital at Mandeville June 18 was only tentative.

"The behavioral and emotional symptoms previously noted may have been due to the after effects of the small stroke or strokes," the trio reported, and "in the presence of such physical illness, it is not uncommon to have emotional symptoms."

After the doctors read their findings in the Covington motel room filled with newsmen, Long added: "Some of those terms are so big, I can't understand them."

The governor left his farm home at Winnfield early Monday and took most of the day driving the 225 miles, making some 20 phone calls on the way and announcing he would drop the ax on about 40 officials.

"Forty out of 500. That's not many," he cheerfully noted.

Speaking of his eight days in the Mandeville institution and 16 days in a Galveston, Tex., mental hospital, he said: "Putting a man in the crazy asylum is like killing your husband because you love him."

The governor's wife, Blanche, was instrumental in committing him to both institutions. She quietly slipped out of the state last week.

Waterford OKs Option on Site

First Step in Building Water Storage Tank on Cass Lake Road

Looking to the future, the Waterford Township Board last night authorized Clerk James E. Seeterlin to take a 90-day option on four acres of land for a possible elevated water storage tank on Cass Lake road near Shaddock street.

Located on a high hill in Sunnyslope Acres, the site would be large enough for a complete pumping station and elevated storage tank. Appraisers have set the cash price for the sale of the land at $3,800. A test well will be driven during the option period.

In other business, Mark T. Stuart, representing Drayton Plains merchants, said businessmen would pay $5,350 towards the blacktopping of a parking lot back of stores on Dixie highway.

Three different sections of four bids submitted for the project were considered, and the Board decided to award the contract to the Doherty & Doherty Construction Co. for $10,180, pending the payment by businessmen next week. The Township Board has agreed to pay the balance of the cost. Only half of the proposed parking lot will be blacktopped at this time, however.

After considerable discussion, the Board authorized Seeterlin to have township engineers Johnson & Anderson present two alternate plans for the extension of a water main from Gateway avenue to the Stringham school on Elizabeth Lake road, across from the Pontiac Country Club. Cost of the project was estimated at $6,000.

Whether to install the line just to the school's eastern boundary line, or to extend it on down past the school site, was debated.

Two Township Board members were to have been selected for the Recreation Board, but Supervisor Elmer O. Johnson was taken by surprise when every member on the Board volunteered for the non-paying positions. The two Board members selected will be announced next week.

Four bids on township workmen's compensation and liability insurance policies were opened and referred to the township attorney for his recommendations. A low bid of $17,000 was submitted by George Scantland of the Michigan Mutual Liability Co.

Many Canadians Snub Appearances

Queen's Visit Stirs Controversy

By JOE HAAS

TORONTO, Ont. — Queen Elizabeth's visit to this city has staged a controversy among local officials as regards who's who. The magnitude of a bouquet of roses has split the city hall wide open.

When Princess Margaret was here last July, Mayor Phillips delegated his eight year old granddaughter to give her such a bouquet, and he has picked the same child to do the same for the Queen.

Other city office holders (who also have daughters and granddaughters) assert that the mayor is trying to hog the honors for his family. At least three bouquets are ready, and the Queen may get the opportunity to sniff a lot of roses.

Regardless of the news stories circulated by the press agents of the Royal Family, the Queen's Canadian reception has not been as enthusiastic as they would have us know. The attendance at the various occasions where was scheduled to appear has run but little better than one-tenth of the number that had been provided for.

In some events the crowds were exceeded in number by the officers on hand to keep them in order. It is a field day for brass—and red.

The Montreal Gazette states that the attendance at the dedication ceremonies there was only 20,000, when provision had been made for 200,000.

The same great newspaper in commenting on the talks given by Queen Elizabeth and President Eisenhower at the dedication, says: "The crowd reacted differently to the two addresses. The Queen's was interrupted by light applause, the President's by vigorous and apparently more spontaneous applause a half dozen times."

PROTEST COST

There was strong opposition in the Montreal City Council on the appropriation of $100,000 as a down payment on the cost of entertaining the Queen, when only recently 400 city employes were discharged "as a necessary economy measure."

As a protest to the appropriation to entertain royalty, another ball was arranged for the same night as the Queen's ball. It drew an attendance of 6,000. The Queen's ball was attended by 1,900.

Everywhere she goes the Queen is faced by more evidence of the French domination. More French is spoken than English. In some of the maritime provinces, English is not taught in the public schools. As a retaliatory measure, such districts are threatened with having their national school funds cut off.

The highway direction signs are usually given in both languages, with French on top. As you approach a school, you'll see "ecole" before you see "school."

They're our next door neighbors, but they're more foreign than other areas much further away. Canadians, whether French or English, all have one thing in common — they never fail to remind an outsider, with every element of mind and tongue, that the St. Lawrence Seaway was financed principally by Canada capital, the proportion being 71 per cent to 29 per cent. But it was designed and built largely by brains from south of their border.

RIVAL CITIES

We haven't two large cities in the entire United States between which the rivalry is as keen as it is between Montreal and Toronto. The latter is sure that it will soon overtake the former in population and otherwise.

Toronto is somewhat jealous of Montreal's supremacy in grabbing off so much publicity on the seaport, other lake ports have also been handicapped by the rapids which now have been conquered.

The general sentiment in Canada is that Detroit has been the most dilatory in its preparations for the opening of the seaway of any of the Great Lakes ports.

All others have been ahead of them in settling as to whether public or private capital should supply the local needs to avail themselves of the benefits coming from this great engineering feat.

Ike Signs Bill for Vets' Loans

$100 Million to Go for Housing, Boosted Rates on Mortgages

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed legislation providing for 100 million dollars in direct loans for veterans' housing and boosting interest rates on veterans' mortgages.

The loans will be made by the Veterans Administration to veterans unable to obtain reasonable financing elsewhere. On home loans made through normal channels, the Veterans Administration guarantees repayment.

The new law raises from 4¼ to 5¼ per cent the interest rate on direct and guaranteed loans.

Congress had favored a larger loan fund. The House once approved 300 million dollars and the Senate 150 million, but they scaled down the amount in the face of veto threats.

Says Hoffa's Friend Got $6,000

Claims Nonunion Jobber Sold Teamster Jackets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Witnesses testified yesterday that James R. Hoffa's home Teamsters Union local in Detroit bought leather jackets for its members last year from a non-union jobber.

The Senate Rackets Committee was told the $341,841 deal to purchase 26,495 jackets and give them away to members of Hoffa's local 299 and another Detroit local, 377, was handled through Benjamin Dranow. Dranow is a friend of Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.

The committee produced evidence which it said showed that Dranow received at least $6,000 in commissions on the deal.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, contended that the union could have had the jackets produced for about $52,000 less, if it had called for competitive bids instead of letting Dranow award the contracts.

Kennedy said Dranow has sent word he is in a hospital in Florida, suffering from a heart ailment and to ill to testify now.

Nat Gordon of New York, an official of the purportedly non-union jobbing firm, invoked the fifth amendment on all questions except his name and address.

The committee said he is a brother of Abe Gordon, head of Teamsters local 805 in New York City. Mobster John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardia is alledged to have had a hand in the affairs of that local.

Carmine S. Bellino, committee accountant, testified the orginal scheme by Dranow was to buy 16 million dollars worth of the flashy cream colored leather jackets and distribute them to all members of the big union all over the country, with locals picking up the tab.

However, Belling said, only Hoffa's local and local 377 bought jackets.

He said between 8,000 and 9,000 of the garments were produced without a union label.

Rape Sentencing Delayed by Appeal

BEAUFORD, S. C. (AP) — The mandatory death sentence for a 19-year old white Marine convicted of raping a Negro woman was delayed today because of a motion for a new trial.

The attorney for Pvt. Fred G. Davis made the motion late Monday night after the Marine was convicted by a jury without recommendation of mercy.

Judge J. Henry Johnson did not act on the motion when general sessions court reconvened today. Instead, selection of a jury was begun for another rape trial, that of a Negro accused of attacking a white woman.

Legare Rodgers, clerk of court, said it seemed doubtful that Davis would be sentenced today.

Senate Kills, Then Revives Primary Bill

LANSING (AP)—The Senate today killed, then promptly revived, the House-approved bill for closed primary elections.

Senators voted 17-13 to send it to a committee death. An hour later, they reversed themselves, restoring it to the calendar by a 15-13 margin.

Prospects for the bill's eventual passage were dim. Democrats have strenuously fought the measure.

The bill requires voters to identify their party affiliation before receiving a primary ballot. Republican and Democratic ballots would be printed on separate sheets of paper, returning to the system effective in Michigan prior to 1943.

Another controversial bill involving elections was passed 19-12 and sent to the governor, getting one more than the 18 votes required for approval.

It would expand the jurisdiction of the secretary of state to supervisory control over school elections. The secretary now has jurisdiction over primary, general, judicial and special elections not involving school affairs.

Attorney Delays Prison Term

Petitions State High Court for Rehearing in Assault Conviction

Clifford B. Dye, former Fenton Village attorney, has had his Jackson Prison term postponed again by petitioning the State Supreme Court to rehear his case.

The high court earlier this month upheld Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams' 2 to 10 year term imposed upon Dye for assault in 1956.

Dye, 57, now a practicing Fenton attorney, was convicted March 1 of that year of assault with intent to do great bodily harm in the Aug. 26, 1955 non-fatal shooting of William C. Clark, following disputes between the two over management of a farm leased by Clark from Dye's sister.

Since then Dye has climbed the legal ladder, claiming he was "unjustly" convicted. During this time he has remained free on bond.

His latest legal step of a rehearing prompted Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor to again denounce his "delaying tactics."

"I wouldn't be surprised if the next thing he tries is Federal Court on 'due process,'" Taylor said.

He said he would try to answer Dye's rehearing petition, which he said "is full of the same erroneous charges as before," in order for the Supreme Court to hear the Dye case when Justices sit next July 13.

Strauss Resigns Post Effective Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lewis L. Strauss today formally resigned as secretary of commerce—the cabinet post for which the Senate refused to confirm him.

The resignation is effective at the close of business today. It was announced at the White House which made public an exchange of letters between Strauss and President Eisenhower.

Waterford Set to Add Nine to Safety Force

With the final approval of an annual audit report last night, the Waterford Township Board cleared the way for hiring of five additional policemen and four more full time firemen.

Police Chief Millard J. Pender said it would take from five to six weeks to put his department on a 24-hour basis, and that the new men would not necessarily be hired from the reserve police unit.

With additional policemen, the department will have a lieutenant assigned to investigation, two detectives, three sergeants, six patrolmen and two radio operator-typists. Present patrolmen will be advanced to higher positions.

The force was reduced to four employes two years ago following an attorney general's opinion that prohibited use of traffic ticket funds for police department operation.

Township Supervisor Elmer O. Johnson was authorized by the board to appoint a new fire chief. He will be named at next Monday's regular board meeting. Members will wait for recommendations from the new chief in hiring the three additional paid firemen.

When in complete operation, the fire department will have nine full time firemen working a 63-hour work week instead of the present 72½-hour work week.

In the annual audit report, submitted by certified public accountant Eugene A. Moore of Birmingham, the police budget showed $88,700 for operation in 1959-60, and for the fire department, a $73,400 budget.

Wedding Bells Ring Out Exit Note Here for June

Joyce Marie Fralick became the bride of Ronald Gerald Neumann Saturday afternoon at Gethsemane Lutheran Church in Rochester.

MRS. RONALD GERALD NEUMANN

Joyce Fralick Becomes Bride of Ronald Neumann

United in marriage Saturday afternoon were Joyce Marie Fralick and Ronald Gerald Neumann. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Norman Kuck at Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Rochester, before an altar banked with white gladioli and delphiniums.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fralick of Walton boulevard are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Neumann of Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

Joyce selected a gown of silk organza and hand-clipped Chantilly lace for her wedding. The dress featured a scalloped Sabrina neckline with appliqued lace enhancing the bodice and entire length of the skirt which was designed with a chapel train and two flowing back streamers.

A queen's crown of seed pearls caught her fingertip veil of imported English illusion, and she held a bouquet of lillies of the valley centered by a white orchid.

ATTEND BRIDE

Nancy Lowery was maid of honor, wearing a ballerina-length dress of sea foam silk organza with matching hat and shoes. She carried an arrangement of pink spider chrysanthemums.

Attendants Jean Lenz of Sebewaing and Shirley Flatt of Engadine were dressed in gowns like that of the honor maid. Their flowers were yellow spider chrysanthemums.

★ ★ ★

Gary Taylor of St. Clair Shores served as best man. Ushers were Marvin Rockefeller of Sebewaing, Donald Frank and Robert Neumann of Saginaw and Roland Kuenker of Bay City.

DINNER FOLLOWED

A dinner was served in the church parlors following the ceremony. Later, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

★ ★ ★

The newlyweds will reside in Detroit.

Shower Fetes Bride-to-Be Janet Hudson

Miss Hudson is the daughter of the Frank Hudsons of West Walton boulevard and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Faxon of Dover road. An Aug. 1 wedding is planned.

★ ★ ★

Attendants will be Mrs. Berry, matron of honor with Sarah Faxon, the bridegroom's sister; Mrs. Norbert Capistrant and Patricia French of South Haven, bridesmaids; and Sally Phillips as flower girl.

★ ★ ★

Coffee Klatch Honors Two

Ruth Kimball of Oneida road and Mrs. Harry Striffler entertained a few friends at a coffee klatch Monday morning at Mrs. Striffler's home on East Iroquois road.

The coffee klatch was in honor of Mrs. Vera Burke Doremus of Cherokee road and Mrs. Robert F. Pack of Miami road who have just returned from a two month European trip.

Baptist Candlelight Rites Join Pair in Birmingham

An altar banked with pale pink gladioli and white flowers in First Baptist Church in Birmingham set the scene Saturday evening for the candlelight wedding of Darlene Fay Pollock and Sydney Bruce Fawcett.

The bride, of Birmingham, is the daughter of Mrs. John Houstina of Bloomfield Township. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John Fawcett, of Birmingham.

For her wedding, Darlene chose a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over silk taffeta featuring a softly scalloped Sabrina neckline, iridescent sequins and long pointed sleeves.

Also attending the bride were Mrs. Douglas Dafoe of Rochester and Sandra Stolte of Berkley. The bridesmaids were gowned like the maid of honor.

Shirley and June Fawcett, nieces of the bridegroom, served as junior bridesmaids in frocks identical to the other attendants. They also carried baskets of pink daisies and white carnations. Their outfits were made by the bride.

★ ★ ★

Allan Fawcett of Birmingham served as best man while John R. and William J. Fawcett, both of Birmingham, and Douglas C. Dafoe of Rochester ushered.

MRS. SYDNEY B. FAWCETT

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Rosemary Arthur Weds in Lake Orion Church

Rosemary Gertrude Arthur and Michael Paladino were married Saturday evening at Methodist Church in Lake Orion. The Rev. Albert B. Jones officiated.

The bride's ballerina length dress was of embroidered tulle with a Sabrina neckline and three tiered skirt. A sequined crown held her elbow length veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis, happiness roses and phalaenopsis.

Constance Montonte was maid of honor and bridesmaid was Margaret Arthur, the bride's sister of Lake Orion. They wore matching gowns of white flowered organza over satin and tulle with white accessories and carried bouquets of roses.

Edward Farnsworth was best man and ushers were Thomas Arthur of Lake Orion, the bride's brother; Nick Paladino and Bart Paladino, both the bridegroom's brothers.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Arthur of Lake Orion and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vito Paladino of Waterford.

Mrs. Arthur selected a blue silk sheath dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Paladino wore a gray and pink lace dress with white accessories. Both had rose corsages.

MRS. MICHAEL PALADINO

Patricia Ann Smith Feted at Miscellaneous Shower

Patricia Ann Smith was honored at a miscellaneous shower Sunday afternoon at the Vinewood street home of Mrs. Clarence H. Smith. Mrs. Hugh C. Smith was cohostess.

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

If you were a working girl in Russia, you would pay more for a dress than for a month's rent.

The clothes you'd wear wouldn't pass muster at an American rummage sale, and your cosmetics would be primitive, but expensive.

It seems everybody is curious about Russia, and so the six-week exhibition is likely to be a box-office success, with New Yorkers elbowing out-of-towners for a look at the Sputniks, the house-niks and the clothes-niks proudly displayed by the Red-niks.

A live fashion show is a feature of the exhibition and, judging from samples displayed in advance, neither Paris nor New York need worry for some time about competition from either Russian fashions or Russian models.

There is an attempt at high fashion in some instances, such as a moss-green ribbed wool jersey two-piece dress and matching stole, with gold threads interwoven in the blouse. Other fashions tend to the strictly utilitarian, with heavy, stiff fabrics and bulky construction.

BY THE POUND

Ski fashions on display apparently are untouched by current trends toward streamlined fit and light weight. Ski pants are on the baggy side and fabrics could be sold by the pound.

Feminine personnel at the various exhibits are somewhat defensive about both fashions and home furnishings. They point out that frivolous things may be expensive and hard to get in Russia, but that the emphasis is on serious things such as science, culture and Sputnik (all pronounced in capital letters).

Some of the officials eye American newsmen and women with suspicion, but others talk readily. The most friendly of the Russian women at the exhibition are professional gals, hard-working and serious, who are proud of their achievements and anxious to compare notes with American career women.

They speak often of the "new era" and the "march of culture," but they eye sleek American hairdos, smooth American makeup and smart American clothes with ill-concealed envy.

Maybe they haven't quite got the knack of glamor yet, they seem to be telling themselves, but someday they'll have time to learn.

These four Pontiac public school teachers are in Hawaii to attend a six-week study course at the University of Hawaii. Pictured with hula girl Rose Marie Fernandez are, from left: Betty Ferkowicz, Pontiac Central High School; Patricia Jones, Central Elementary School; and Mr. and Mrs. William F. Tompkins. Mr. Tompkins teaches at Pontiac Central High School and Mrs. Tompkins teaches at Eastern Junior High School.

Tape that is sticky on both sides will hold your paper tablecloth on the picnic table and your paper plate on the cloth. We have had a sample of the tablecloth with pieces of sticky tape in the package. There is no reason why you can't do this with any paper tablecloth and your own tape.

If you or the man of the family do a lot of outdoor cooking, you will want an apron to protect your clothes. Make it out of colorful oilcloth.

You can get two aprons from a yard and a half of 39-inch oilcloth. Cut two pieces 18x24 inches. Then slant one end of each piece for the top of the apron. The only sewing you will need to do is to attach the straps which you cut to fit the individual wearer. Pink the edges of the apron if you have pinking shears. You may paint decoration on it or a monogram.

Have you ever mourned the loss of your best paring knife? Ours has a habit of disappearing. We suspect the boy in the family, of course. Well, if you're looking for a new knife, here's good news.

One of the country's leading cutlery manufacturers has designed a new assortment of seven budget-priced paring knives. You may choose the one that best fits your hand.

One of the new gas ranges has a vertical broiler in it. It looks like a toaster and broils both sides of the meat at once. Vegetables may be put in a casserole underneath so that they are heated and flavored at the same time. Meat broiled this way is said said to shrink less and retain more flavor.

Collectors of fine china will appreciate the special demi-tasse cup and saucer made by the Lenox China Company. It is an exact replica of the first piece of Lenox china designed in 1889. An inscription to this effect appears on the bottom of each saucer. You can start your own or someone else's collection of these little cups with this unusual item.

Elizabeth J. Mendham, Ralph James Speak Vows

The altar of Grace Lutheran Church was banked with baskets of pink and white gladioli, white stock and palms for the wedding this afternoon of Elizabeth Jane Mendham and Ralph Walton James.

The Rev. Richard C. Stuck officiated at the double ring ceremony before 140 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vellling of Cadillac and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. James.

A floor length gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza was worn by the bride. Seed pearls and sequins accented the Peter Pan collar and bodice. The bouffant skirt formed a chapel train with side panels of lace and pleated tulle.

A crown of lace and pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid on a prayer book, a gift of her mother.

Mrs. Joseph Carpenter Jr. was her sister's matron of honor. She was dressed in a ballerina-length gown of white lace over pink with a Sabrina neckline and matching headpiece and she carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Bridesmaids Dolores Mendham, Mrs. Roger Kidwell and Mrs. William Vascassenno were dressed in pink lace dresses like the matron of honor's. Joseph Carpenter Jr. was best man. Ushers were Curtis James, James Young and Roger Kidwell.

A reception was held in the church Fellowship Hall. Before leaving for a Colorado honeymoon the bride changed to a beige sheath dress with matching print jacket and an orchid corsage. She also wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a pink embroidered sheath with matching chiffon cummerbund and pink accessories. The bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Russell Bailey of Flint, wore a pink print suit with white accessories. Both had orchid corsages.

Meet Resistance Fighter Brigitte Friang

By MARY PRIME

Miss Friang has been a resistance fighter in occupied France, a prisoner in German concentration camps, the only woman war correspondent in Indo-China, and a parachutist with 23 jumps to her credit. She also is the author of a book, "Parachutes and Petticoats," a press attache to the French cabinet, and a bride of three months, the wife of a diplomat, Jean de Lipkowski.

A bride at 35—isn't that stupid?" she said happily during an interview in New York. A petite blonde with a shapely figure, mobile face and gamine grin, Miss Friang was one of six women veterans of the French Resistance Movement visiting the United States at the invitation of the Office of Strategic Services.

STOLE WEAPONS

During World War II, Miss Friang first worked for the Resistance by stealing weapons from German officers. Then, at 19, she gave up her medical studies to join a military section, the Office of Air Operations.

She became secretary of a division operating undercover traffic of secret agents, arms, and mail which arrived in clandestine night parachute landings.

By night, Miss Friang deciphered cables. By day she was liaison officer — "the only one who knew the real names of people." She contacted agents, helped organize the parachute landings, and aided escaping agents.

On March 21, 1941, she went to meet a liaison agent in gardens of the Palais de Chaillot in Paris.

"I felt something strange in the air, and then I saw a man standing in the garden. I felt it was the Gestapo. I tried to get out but eight men came out from everywhere and said 'Oh, Brigitte, you are caught.'"

She had decided to die if captured because she was afraid of revealing information under torture. So she made a run for it.

"They shot three times. One bullet hit me. I thought I was dead—it was so enormous, like thunder. Then I heard voices and realized I wasn't dead. It was very disagreeable.

"Then the man who shot me said something very strange and funny — 'I'm sorry, madam, it was such a big bullet but it's the war, you know.' I had to laugh."

Miss Friang was taken to a hospital where, for three weeks, she lived through daily interrogations, kickings and beatings, without medication for her wound.

Later, she was sent to concentration camps in Germany and Czechoslovakia, contracted tuberulosis, and finally escaped. For her heroism, the French government made her an officer of the Legion of Honor.

Seven years later, after post-war work for General Charles de Gaulle, she joined the paratroopers in Indo-China and jumped at Dien-Bien-Phu.

She smiled and shook her head. "Excitement is not only in war. There's excitement in politics, too. Life is dull only if you don't find the right thing to do," she said.

Why, Oh Why Do We Act So Like Women

By RUTH MILLETT

There are some things so puzzling about women that even we women can't explain them satisfactorily—even, to ourselves.

Why, for instance, can't we get together as a group for the sole purpose of enjoying each other's company? Why do we always have to have a noble cause, elect officers, and keep minutes of the last meeting?

Why do we make such a chore out of entertaining?

Why do we take our entertaining so seriously that "getting ready" for a party takes days instead of hours?

Why do we so often keep up a pretense of enjoying the company of couples who bore us to death? Why don't we just say, "The Browns are bores," and mark them off our list, instead of saying, "The Browns are boring—but they had us to dinner so we must have them to dinner"—thereby starting a chain reaction that is likely to go on for years. And all the while the Browns are probably feeling just as bored with us as we are with them.

Why do we feel so unsure of ourselves that we need constant reassurance that we are doing good jobs as homemakers, wives and mothers? If we're giving the job our best, why can't we rest in the conviction that our best has to be good enough?

Why, when another woman hurts our feelings or makes us angry, do we tell everybody but the person involved?

Why are we so much more charitable toward a homely woman than towards a good looking one?

Why do we believe that holding onto a streamlined figure is so much more important than broadening our knowledge and understanding?

Creamy Gelatin Pudding Uses Crumbled Cookies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Mrs. Brosier has worked for a number of years since her four children grew up. She loves to knit and does some sewing. Visits from her 10 grandchildren are always enjoyed; they don't come all at once, incidentally.

PARADISE PUDDING
By Mrs. William Brosier

2 packages orange gelatin
½ pint whipping cream
1 dozen maraschino cherries, quartered
1 dozen large marshmallows, quartered
1 dozen packaged macaroons, crumbled
½ cup chopped nuts

Dissolve gelatin in water as directed on package. Let set to thickness of egg white. Whip cream stiff. Fold whipped cream and other ingredients into gelatin. Chill until set. Serves 12.

Dear Abby:

Lay Down Law to Errant Sister

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My 53-year-old sister who was married and divorced in her late thirties has had one affair after another with married men in town. She lives with us when she isn't traveling (she goes everywhere her alimony check will take her) and has caused us much embarrassment because you know when these men are through with her they all love to talk.

ABBY

I have asked her why she has to pick on married men, and she says all the good men are married. She is a lot of fun, a classy dresser, and a good sport, but her morals are terrible. Can I hope to change a woman of her age, or should I try to overlook it?

SISTER

DEAR SISTER: You are not your sister's keper although she obviously needs one. By allowing her to make her home with you, you are giving your approval to her conduct. If you can't straighten her out —put her out.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I like dogs but when I hear my neighbor say, "Come to Mamma—Mamma loves you" (and then she kisses the dog back!) well, I had it! Isn't it true that poeple can get diseases from kissing dogs? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Vets tell me that dogs are more apt to catch diseases from people than vice versa, so if your neighbor really loves her dog she had better stay healthy.

DEAR ABBY: A certain member of my family is having a big wedding. Everyone but us got their invitations in the mail two weeks ago. This morning I got a telephone call from this relative telling me she "overlooked" us and wants us to come to the wedding. Do you think we should accept an invitation like this? My husband says over his dead body.

DEAR "OVERLOOKED": It is possible that you WERE overlooked. The telephone call extending you a personal invitation showed that you were wanted. Go, if you like, but stepping over your husband's "dead body" might take the pleasure out of it.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I were doing the dishes and all of a sudden she hit me over the head with a big soup plate so hard I saw stars. All I did was start humming a different song from the one she was humming. I told my mother and she said, "Oh, don't bother me!" I feel like running away, Abby. Can a girl 11 years old draw her own money out of the bank without her parents' permission?

RUNNING AWAY

DEAR RUNNING: Eleven-year-olds must have their parents' consent to draw money out of the bank. Every child has felt like running away at one time or another. Don't irritate your sister, save your money, and stay home like a good girl.

With Initials O.B.S. What Other Career?

HOMESTEAD, Pa. — When a tall, auburn-haired woman galloped along muddy streets of this mill town at the turn of the century, residents knew the population was due for an increase.

The rider was Dr. Olive B. Steinmetz, who delivered many babies by the light of a coal oil lamp.

The auburn hair has faded to white in the 60 years Dr. Steinmetz has been practicing. Now past 80, she has limited her practice, but maintains daily office hours. She makes house calls only for friends and in emergencies.

"I'm doing what comes naturally," Dr. Steinmetz said about her career. "My initials are O.B.S. — that stands for obstetrics."

To remove acid or perspiration marks on leather, wipe the leather with a cloth dipped in a mixture of one teaspoon of baking soda to a glass of water. Then scrub gently with a soft brush, enough water to moisten the brush, and a generous lather of mild soap.

Lady Dislikes Basement Party Rooms

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Several of our friends who live in the suburbs have finished basements in which they do all of their entertaining. I can see using this room for an occasional big party but many of them never entertain anywhere else.

"In some of these houses to which I have been invited time after time, I don't know what the living room looks like. To me it is still a cellar no matter how it is fixed up and no place to entertain company.

"Altogether I think this whole idea very inhospitable and suggests that guests are not sufficiently well behaved to sit in the living room. This has been a pet peeve of mine for some time and I would very much like to know what you think about it."

Answer: The people who invite you to parties in their basement or "rumpus" room probably have a living room that is too small for the number of guests they like to have, and you should not feel slighted because they invite you only to their larger parties which are given in the basement.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it ever proper for a married woman to sign her maiden name as—nee Smith—after her married name—Mrs. John Jones, when writing to an acquaintance of her parents who would not know her otherwise?"

Answer: If you sign your name Mary Smith Jones that will tell exactly who you were and who you now are and is in much better taste than "nee Smith." Mrs. John Jones is not a correct signature.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently a discussion arose regarding a point of etiquette which we would like you to settle for us. "A" claims that when a lady and gentleman are going upstairs, the lady precedes the gentleman and when coming down, the gentleman then precedes the lady. "B" claims exactly the opposite. Who is right?"

Answer: A is right. A lady precedes a gentleman up the stairs but he precedes her down a steep or slippery stairway so that he can better protect her should she slip.

Short Hairdo Is 'Icing on Cake,' Says Beautician

HARTFORD, Conn. — "Long hair is just not suited to the American way of living," says Miss Helen Ryan, a member committee of the National Assn. of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists.

Unlike their fathers, the present generation of youngsters will carry a picture of their ideal girl with short hair because their mothers are wearing the new trends.

Miss Ryan, a vehement advocate of short hair, says:

"It should be only a half-inch at the nape of the neck, three or four inches at the crown and one to two inches at the hairline.

★ ★ ★

"The new trends are healthier, too. The days of blunt, heavy, bulky styling are over. Hair and scalp have never been healthier since softness, light and airness have come into vogue."

Miss Ryan describes hairstyling today as "being in the romance era." The object is to make women look as feminine as possible.

Prevent Troubles

Pre-Teen Years Important

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I am writing especially to just under teen age girls. I receive many letters from young ladies between the ages of 11 and 13. This is such a very important time since the usual problems of teen age have not yet developed.

★ ★ ★

Skin care is so essential at this age. At this time the little oil glands in your face are beginning to speed up into greater activity. Unless you give your skin special attention now you may find yourself with a crop of blackheads or pimples a year or so hence. So much unhappiness and trouble can be avoided if you will act now before it is too late.

★ ★ ★

Wash your face with soap and water two or three times a day even if you have no blackheads at the present time. If your face is extremely oily, wash it four times a day. Usually this will keep these little pests away from your complexion.

Please, you 11 to 13-year-olds, keep your hands off your face. Do not squeeze and pick at it. Lots of young women of 15 have pimples which they themselves brought on by picking at their faces at the age you are now.

This is the time when you should use preventative measures in order to avoid some of the usual teen-age handicaps. So watch your posture! Go into young womanhood with a straight spine, not with a hump at the back of your neck. Carry your head like a little princess for a lovely neckline later on.

Pull your tummy in and your hips under when you walk or stand. Go into teen age with a graceful walk. If you are round shouldered, correct it now while you can.

CAN BE DIFFICULT

This stage of your life can be difficult because of clothes. Many of the dresses which fit you are beginning to look too babyish for you, and you cannot seem to get fitted in any other kind. This will soon change. Your waistline will just naturally slim down and your bust will develop curves.

Correct any weight defects you may have. Gain if you need to. If you are fat, lose it before it becomes a handicap when you begin having dates. Do this with the help of your parents and your family physician.

Go in for sports. This will not only add to your popularity but will build a backlog of health which you will need later on. This is an important time indeed. Make good use of it!

If you would like to have my leaflet "Popularity" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 58. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Hunting for New Hobby? Try Hypochondria

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you looking for a new and enjoyable hobby? Why not take up hypochondria?

★ ★ ★

Dr. Osler said another memorable thing: "No man is really happy or safe without a hobby, and it makes precious little difference what the outside interest may be. Anything will do so long as he straddles a hobby and rides it hard."

Hypochondria, the morbid preoccupation with one's own health, is perhaps the most sensible of all hobbies after the age of 40—because it is the most natural. After 40 if you don't worry about yourself nobody will.

There is little point in taking up hypochondria in youth. During that period of life all one generally suffers from is the more uninteresting complaints — such as sprained ankles, broken limbs, busted hearts.

The golden age of suffering comes later.

It is only after 40 that a new world of disease opens to one. It is then that one first becomes aware he is vulnerable to a wilderness of fascinating ailments ranging from abarognosis—loss of ability to estimate weight—to zoster, an active nerve inflammation.

It is then you find out you can get anything, and anything—bug or virus—can get you. And, unlike the fly-by-night disorders of your childhood and youth, these latter-day afflictions often are chronic, such as gout.

You do not have to worry about them disappearing after a simple treatment or two. You can enjoy them for a long time. They will generally last as long as you do.

Now is the best time to take up hypochondria as a hobby because science has classified scores of ailments that previous generations lived through without ever knowing they had. And what is the point of being sick if you can't even brag to the neighbors about what a rare malady you've acquired.

Now is also the best time to become a hypochondriac because there are available hundreds—even thousands—of medicines and wonder drugs that didn't even exist a quarter of a century ago.

Medicine used to come in two colors—white and dark brown. It used to have only two tastes—sour and bitter.

★ ★ ★

Today medicines are the middle-aged man's candy. They come in a thousand shapes, sizes, tastes, and rainbow colors. Every bottle and tablet holds a separate flavor thrill. You can take a two-tone, three-way acting capsul today—and it won't rattle your timbers until tomorrow. You get a delayed joy: you don't have to enjoy it all at once.

★ ★ ★

A fisherman can enjoy his sport only in season. So can the baseball fan. But hypochondria is a real year-round hobby. If the hypochondriac awakes with a sudden dull sense of health, he can always race to the medical dictionary and discover some heartening new symptoms of something fearful.

Hypochondria isn't merely for the rich. It is a hobby that fits any purse. On his days off the hypochondriac can always hang around pharmacies getting free smells of drugs he can't yet afford to buy.

Your true hypochondriac is as avid in search of an unusual malady as a philatelist is in pursuit of a rare stamp. There is the story of one veteran hypochondriac who, on learning his own physician had been stricken with an undiagnosed ailment, phoned the sick medic reproachfully.

"I hear you come down with something I've never had, Doc. You been holding out on me?"

BCG Success in TB Battle

U. N. Group Suggests Wider Use of Vaccine in View of Results

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Eighty-eight million people in 41 nations and territories were vaccinated against tuberculosis between 1951 and the end of 1958, according to a report recently presented to the executive board of the World Health Organization.

Another 234 million were tuberculin tested in these countries during the same period. UNICEF, also a United Nations agency, as well as WHO assisted the various governments in the campaigns.

The protection against tuberculosis afforded by BCG vaccine was reported "at about 80 per cent and therefore "should have an important place in, and form an integral part of the tuberculosis program in most countries," the report stated.

According to existing knowledge and experience, BCG vaccination "could be applied on a mass scale at a cost and with personnel which any country could afford," the report said.

The inconvenience and risks associated with BCG vaccination are not impressive, according to the report.

The report is preliminary to a fuller statement on the BCG vaccination situation to be presented before the WHO executive board's next session.

OK'd by Egyptians

CAIRO (AP)—Egyptian authorities have approved final plans proposed by Soviet experts for the Aswan Dam on the Nile, Egyptian newspapers said today.

Changes proposed by the Soviets will reduce the cost of the first stage of the project nearly 17 million dollars, it was said. Approval of the plans could mean construction might start next winter.

The Soviet Union has agreed to lend 400 million rubles—100 million dollars at the official rate of exchange—for the first stage of the power and irrigation project.

State VFW Picks New Commander

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Fred K. McDaniel, 50, of World War II veteran, was chosen 51st state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the final session of the VFW state convention here Sunday.

Others named to top state offices were Harold L. Barge, Holland, senior vice commander; Zigmund J. Obulski, Detroit, junior vice commander; Eldridge L. Posson, Hubbell, chaplain; Dr. William T. McAlonan, Detroit, surgeon; Christie J. Braun, Lansing, quartermaster, and Arthur Mikesell, Ovid, judge advocate.

The 1960 state convention will be held in Saginaw.

Mrs. Henry Roche, Detroit, was elected state auxiliary president, Mrs. Stanley Sterling, Iron River, senior vice president, and Mrs. Stanley Sterling, Iron River, senior vice president, and Mrs. Charles Gallagher, Detroit, junior vice president.

The United States produced 119,559,323 gallons of whisky during 1957, a decrease of one tenth of one per cent from 1956. Whisky made up 52.6 per cent of all distilled spirits produced in the nation during 1957.

Smugglers Panic, Dump Bodies

2 Stowaways Die on Ship

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Five Chinese stowaways crammed into a secret compartment 54 inches long and 33 inches wide in the liner Taiyuan in Sydney harbor and only three came out alive, police said today.

Police Sgt. Donald Goode asserted in Central Court that crew members involved in smuggling the Chinese panicked when the men died and tossed their bodies overboard. The three survivors are at large in Sydney, he said.

All seven were remanded in bail until July 8. This was the latest development in the Chinese puzzle that shaped up after two shrouded bodies were discovered floating in Sydney Harbor.

Goode said the dead men were two of five stowaways who boarded the ship at Hong Kong. He added that before Australian customs men boarded the ship June 24 the five were placed in a secret locker.

"When the customs search was concluded (about seven hours later) Second Carpenter Yung Chin Woo opened the locker and only three men came out," Goode continued. "With Fust Carpenter Wang Shu Chen he pulled out two bodies."

Goode alleged the three survivors were smuggled ashore and some crew members received 950 Australian pounds ($2,100) for bringing them to Sydney.

Around the World, but Not in 80 Days

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Friends jokingly call it Noah's Ark, but Capt. John J. Cappelen calls it Success II and plans to make a voyage around the world in it after he retires.

The boat is a 30-foot copy of Capt. Joshua Slocum's globe-circling boat, Spray, and was built by Sheverton and Partners on the Isle of Wight.

The Tables Are Turned; Magician Is Out $225

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ernie Heldman, a professional magician, reported the loss of $225 worth of his mystery-making equipment from from his parked car.

The window glass was intact and there were no other signs of forced entry.

"Magic!"

Teamster Monitor Schmidt Resigns

NEW YORK (AP)—An attorney who represented the reform movement in the Teamsters Union has resigned as a court-appointed monitor for the union.

Godfrey P. Schmidt said one reason for his resignation was a court ruling earlier this month which found a conflict of interest in his activities. Schmidt, a New Yorker, has been an attorney for employers as well as a union monitor.

The Federal Appeals Court decision in Washington made it clear that the court was not questioning his conduct.

Flower Bedecked Altar Scene of June Wedding

The double-ring ceremony was performed in the Clarkston Methodist Church by the Rev. William J. Richards.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Powell of 8180 Foster Rd. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Smith of 9366 Graytrax Rd., Grand Blanc.

MRS. RICHARD D. SMITH

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length, princess-style gown in white silk faille, with a Sabrina neckline featuring iridescent sequins and petal applique. It fell into a chapel train and had long sleeves.

Best man was Hershel Smith of Flint, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Robert Stewart of Fenton and James Miner of Clarkston.

Youth Gets Stumped Looking Into Bird Nest

UNION, Mo. (AP) — A 16-year-old boy wanted a closer look at a squirrel nest in an old hollow tree, so he had his younger brother rig up a rope and pulley device to lower him head first into the tree.

The older boy got stuck. The brother wasn't strong enough to pull him out and firemen were called to the rescue.

Miss Michigan to Be Selected

Walled Lake Park to Host Beauty Contest This Weekend

WALLED LAKE — Fireworks, picnics, thrill rides and many other features will accompany the crowning of "Miss Michigan" this weekend at Walled Lake Park.

The Miss Michigan contest, one of stepping stones to a possible Miss Universe title, will be climaxed Sunday night in a formal pageant in the Casino Ballroom.

The girl selected as "Miss Michigan" will travel on an all-expense trip to Long Beach, Calif., to compete with beauties from five continents and every state in the Union for the "Miss Universe" contest during the week of July 16.

Two local girls will vie for honors at the contest sponsored by the Walled Lake Chamber of Commerce. Janice Howland, 19 years old and a 5' 3", 118-lb., 34-23-34 brunette, has already competed in the Pontiac Jaycee Junior Miss Contest earlier this year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Howland, 3105 Crumb Rd., Walled Lake.

Dawn Mathews, 18, of 3206 Adele Terrace, Commerce, also will be at the Walled Lake Park on Sunday for a chance at the winner's trophy, wardrobe and trip. Dawn is a 5' 6", 125-lb., 34-24-37 brunette.

2 New Superintendents to Begin Work Tomorrow

New school superintendents will report on the job for the first time tomorrow in two Oakland County school districts.

Leroy R. Watt will take over the administrative helm of the Avondale School district, and Burl A. Glendenning will head the Brandon system.

Watt succeeds Raymond N. Baker, whose contract was not renewed by the Avondale Board of Edueation in a controversial decision last December.

Watt, who has been acting superintendent of the Akron-Fairgrove School system in the Thumb area, was given a three-year contract.

He is married and has three daughters, who range from two to 10 years of age. He has a bachelor of arts degree from Central Michigan College and a master's degree in education from Wayne State University.

Glendenning succeeds E. J. Hungerford who asked that his contract not be renewed for the 1959-60 school year. He was director of driver training at Pontiac Northern High School this year.

The new Brandon superintendent received his bachelor of arts degree in secondary adminstration from the University of Michigan. He taught for eight years in the Brandon Schools before transferring to the Pontiac system where he has been a teacher for the past three years.

Hungerford is leaving the system after six years. He will represent an encyclopedia firm in the Upper Peninsula.

Walking Gets Carrier of Weapons in Trouble

Searching further, they found a pistol and a long knife in his pockets. He was fined $50 and costs for carrying concealed weapons.

ROBERT S. DEMSKI

Recipient of a recent bachelor of science degree in biology from Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., is Robert S. Demski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Demski of 10070 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Milford. He was graduated "cum laude" and made the dean's list of academic honors. He will enter Georgetown Medical School next fall.

Ambitious Festival Planned for 4th at Upper Straits Lake

By STAN BOK
Pontiac Press Correspondent

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Enterprising residents around the west end of Upper Straits Lake are determined to raise funds for youth projects and plan Bayside Beach Park on the map with their annual 4th of July festival this year.

They have worked hard to insure that this, the second Independence Day festival at Bayside Beach Park, will top even last year's highly successful venture, hoping to draw thousands from the area.

A parade complete with colorful horseback riders, bands, military units, Boy Scouts and the crack drill team of the VFW post at Walled Lake, will launch the event at 12:30 p.m. Saturday. They will march along Green Lake road from the Pontiac Trail intersection, down Welland drive, and climax with a flag-raising ceremony at Bayside Beach Park.

Oakland County Sheriff Frank [illegible] and other notables will take part in the parade. Local church [illegible] will serve as parade chaplains.

The parade will include a U. S. [illegible] contingent from the Nike Battalion Commerce, a local CAP [illegible] patrol group, Boy Scouts of Troop 191, two bands as well as the Walled Lake drill team, and [illegible] horseback riders.

[illegible] activities at the beach will feature a parachute jumper, TV personality Sagebrush Shorty and a pit-roast ox roast.

Races and contests will be held for the children, while adults will be able to enjoy various games of skill, including horseshoe pitching and [illegible] rides. Numerous booths will be erected to complete the carnival atmosphere.

General chairman of the festival is Gordon Lysinger. Jack Farrell is assisting as co-chairman. Bruno Swiatek is in charge of entertainment and the parade. Al Clark of food and booths with Mrs. Phyllis Cremer and Mrs. John Snow serving as his assistants.

Tearful Tisch Vows Spoken at Lake Orion

CHARLESTON — Upon returning from a honeymoon in Canada, [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. Clarence [illegible] will reside in Royal [illegible].

The Saturday morning ceremony was held at St. Joseph Catholic Church, Lake Orion, with the Rev. R. Vincent Myrick officiating.

Carol Shepherd of Newberry was the bride's only attendant. Serving as best man was Leonard Frankwitz of Royal Oak, and ushering were Dan Shanahan of Detroit and Martin Brennan of St. Clair Shores.

Hawaiian Politicians Try Coffee Hours, Also

Republicans and Democrats campaigning for the island chain's first state elections July 28, are turning to small size "coffee hours" for closer direct contact between candidates and voters.

They are also making wider use of television, radio and newspapers to reach the people.

Oxford Boy Scouts Trek to Niagara Falls by Car

OXFORD — Boy Scout Troop 32 of Oxford, under the leadership of its new Scoutmaster, Jack Farrell, and with the help of assistant scoutmasters Sherm Mapley, Bob Trask, Joe Lambertson and Carl Cole, took a trip by car to Niagara Falls the weekend. Nine teen scouts were in the party.

The boys camped near the falls and spent Saturday sightseeing and visiting landmarks in the area.

Investigate Georgia's Tragic Train Wreck

Malaya Capital Notes 100th Year

Center of Federation Only 2 Years; It Spawn on Tin, Rubber

WASHINGTON — Kuala Lumpur, capital of the Federation of Malaya, this year celebrates its 100th anniversary as a city and its second birthday as a national capital.

Built by tin and expanded by rubber, the city got its start about 1859 as a Chinese tin-mining settlement in the jungle. The name came from two rivers at the site: Kuala means "mouth"; Lumpur, "muddy." But the unappealing name quickly shrank to "K.L."

Rich tin deposits touched off a rush. Then rubber trees were introduced from South America. K.L. grew so fast that it was made capital of the State of Selangor in 1874. Twenty-one years later it became capital of the Federated Malay States, familiar as a setting for Somerset Maugham stories. When the Federation of Malaya achieved independence in 1957, it seemed only natural that Kuala Lumpur should be the capital.

K.L. has some 340,000 citizens and is growing rapidly, the National Geographic Society says. The bustle reflects the city's new status as well as brisk activity in the stands of rubber trees and yawning pits of tin mines that surround the urban area.

To live up to the demands of a world capital, K.L. recently began modernizing its international airport to handle jet liners. The centenary year is attracting visitors from many lands.

One of the healthiest and most prosperous cities of Southeast Asia, K.L. has modern hotels, handsome suburbs and imposing government buildings whose sparkling gold, white and blue domes suggest the Arabian Nights. Among mosques and Hindu temples rise modern steel-and-glass structures. New cars and double-decker buses dominate the main avenues. Side streets are jammed with Chinese shops, some merely doorways crowded with goods.

The government buildings cluster around a wide green or padang where rugby, tennis, cricket and hockey are played. Many-colored flags and schoolgirls in white blouses and bright blue sarongs add flashes of brightness. In the large public gardens, purple bougainvillaea and graceful palms surround a pond filled with lotus blossoms.

Islamic influence in the architecture reflects the fact that most Malays are Moslems. K.L.'s citizens, however, are predominantly Chinese, with Malays, Indians and Europeans in the minority.

Once a year, Indians from all over Malaya gather at the Batu Caves outside the city for a feast honoring the Hindu God Subramaniam.

GM Demands End of Ruling

Asks State Legislature to Reverse Jobless Pay Decision by Court

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. has demanded that the Legislature pass legislation immediately to reverse the Michigan supreme court ruling in the Ford Motor Co. compensation case.

Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president for personnel, said such action is "essential to the continued growth and economic development of the state."

The Supreme Court ruled that more than 10,000 Detroit area Ford employes were entitled to compensation for time they were idled by a strike of their fellow UAW members at Ford's Canton, Ohio, forge plant.

In a letter to State Senator Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland), Seaton said that GM was notified last week that it is liable for unemployment compensation to workers idled by the strikes in September and [illegible]

[illegible] charges in the Supreme Court ruling and subsequent MESC action are unfair to employers because idle workers benefits are not paid to workers under the same roof as those who are on strike.

Pontiac Army Reservists From All Walks of Life

By JOE SINGLETON

CAMP McCOY, Wis. — Perhaps many wonder what type of men are attracted by the Army reserve program, such as the one Pontiac's 2nd Battalion is now participating in at this central Wisconsin camp.

The list ranges from a dairy worker to a justice of the peace. It also includes a barber and an electronic technician.

A press operator and a tool and die maker are teamed with a Detroit television and radio student who has just returned from his honeymoon.

Housekeeping Left No Time to Live

LONDON (AP) — Dorothy Olsen-Smith was a model housewife. Often she got up at 6:15 a.m. and polished and dusted until 10 at night.

The pride the 31-year-old woman took in her little suburban home killed her.

In a suicide note to her husband, she wrote: "I feel I am making your life a misery because I have no time for anything else but housework."

She moved an armchair into her spotless kitchen, turned on the gas taps, and sat her two young girls on her lap.

Her husband, Cyril, told a coroner's court he found them when he returned home from work. His wife was dead. So was Vivien, 5. Marion, 2, recovered.

Equal Time Rule May Cut 1960 Political News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless Congress modifies the controversial equal time ruling, a major curtailment of television and radio political coverage in 1960 is inevitable, NBC's top official said today.

Robert W. Sarnoff, board chairman of the National Broadcasting Co. Inc., testified that the rule applying the equal time doctrine to newscasts is a gag that curtails the freedom of journalists to report and edit the news.

Sarnoff appeared at the opening of a three day hearing by a House subcommittee on various bills aimed at exempting TV and radio news programs from the equal time law.

The bills were inspired by a Federal Communications Commission ruling last February that when a radio or TV station covers a political candidate in a newscast it must give equal time to opposing candidates.

Previously, the FCC had interpreted the equal time law to apply only when a station granted a candidate air time for political campaigning.

Anastasia Will Run for ILA Presidency

NEW YORK (AP) — Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia, Brooklyn waterfront boss, has announced his candidacy for president of the International Longshoremen's Association against the incumbent, William V. Bradley.

Anastasia called on Bradley, a former tugboat captain, to withdraw and accept some other job in the union or a pension.

"If Capt. Bradley runs against me and loses, he goes back on the tugboats as a deckhand," Anastasia [illegible] London.

Anastasia predicted he will win at the 60,000-member union's convention at Miami Beach, Fla., next month. New York Sets Drive Against Youth's Smoking

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City's Bureau of Public Health Education plans a new drive to encourage children not to smoke.

House Slashes Space Budget

Ike's Request for New NASA Next Fiscal Year Cut by 10 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has cut more than 10 per cent from the new space agency's budget for the fiscal year beginning Wednesday.

The bill, which provides $462,075,000 for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, goes to the Senate.

Meanwhile, the House considers today a proposal to provide emergency funds for federal agencies that still have not been voted appropriations for the new fiscal year. The present government year ends at midnight tonight.

President Eisenhower had asked $530,300,000 for the NASA. By voice vote, the House decided to give him $68,225,000 less.

The space money was included in a $609,843,843 appropriations bill covering several agencies. The biggest cut in the omnibus bill was $187,285,072 for expanding the defense stockpile of critical materials.

★ ★ ★

The Senate passed and sent to the President a $13,463,500 appropriation bill to pay his salary and run the White House and other executive agencies in the new year. It was $145,000 less than he had asked.

2 Hiking From L. A. to N. Y. on Beaches

Why? To prove it can be done, Don Jenkin and Frank Culy said as they set out last Saturday.

The plan to trudge via Los Angeles, San Diego, the peninsula of Lower California, the west coast of Mexico and Central America, along the Panama Canal, then up the east coast of the North American continent to New York.

They figure it will take them 18 months.

Each carried a machete, hunting knife, two changes of clothes, a compass, maps, knapsacks, blankets, first-aid kits, flashlights, toilet articles and 20 pounds of food. But no money; they plan to live off the land.

Jenkin, 22, originally from Victoria, B.C., and Culy, 21, of Oakland, Calif., recently have worked on construction projects here.

Highland Road Track to Open in 5 Weeks

County Teens to Get Drag Strip Soon

After nearly two years of work and controversy, Oakland County teenagers will soon be driving on a sanctioned drag strip.

According to Sheriff's Deputy Stephen Navarre, who helped plan the project, the $100,000 racing strip will be opened in about five weeks on Highland road, M59, seven miles from Pontiac.

County parents and administrators have been split over the drag strip and nothing was achieved until a private organization recently received a racing license from Pontiac Township.

The organization, headed by Robert D. Amos, 9516 Highland Rd., White Lake Township, and Franklyn McDonald, 3892 Oakhills Dr., Bloomfield Township, purchased land and has worked out a profit-sharing agreement with the Oakland County Timing Assn.

Under this pact, the association, made up of teenagers throughout the county, will receive a share of the profits from admissions until it has accumulated enough money to buy the drag strip outright. The association's treasury will also be bolstered by membership dues.

Navarre said the track has been designed to be the best in the country.

Safety features were stressed in the construction of the one half-mile-long combination concrete and asphalt surface. Lights, a rarity at most drag strips, are being installed to enable night racing.

Before being permitted to race, each entrant's car will have to pass a rigid safety inspection, Navarre said. This check will apply to both hotrods and stock models.

★ ★ ★

"Drag racing not only provides fun and safe competition for teenage drivers, but is also one of the fastest growing sports in the country," Navarre said.

'Soup Strainer' Will Help Pilots to See Clearly

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Scientists have developed a device to filter out radar images of stormclouds and thus allow all-weather interceptor pilots to see their target more clearly. They call it a "soup strainer."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Patrick Conley, manager of the Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s Air Arm Division, announced the invention today.

★ ★ ★

"The pilot will be able to flip a switch that will change the type of signal his radar will transmit," Conley said. "One type of signal will be good for clear weather and give maximum range." The other will greatly increase range in 'soupy' weather.

Mennonites Take to 'Barn Downing'

READING, Pa. (AP) — Barn-raising is in the old Pennsylvania Dutch tradition of helping a neighbor. And now a group of 75 Mennonites have taken to "barn-downing."

★ ★ ★

The Mennonites tore down a two-story barn on the farm of Mrs. Elma Leininger Monday at nearby Mohnton. They worked in 95-degree heat to raze the 45 x 45 foot structure.

★ ★ ★

When they were done, they hauled the dismantled barn to the farm of William I. Lamm, 33, of Wernersville.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Leininger had offered him the barn after his own burned down. The Mennonites will rebuild the barn on Lamm's farm.

Sauce Adds Exotic Slant to Shrimps, Rice

Looking for an easy way to turn dreary-day dining into sunny, tropical feasting? Try perking up the buffet or dinner table—and tired taste buds—with this exotic-but-simple delicacy: Shrimps South Pacific over Waikiki Rice!

To prepare it, you'll have to travel only as far as your pantry shelf, but the fun and flavor will go miles toward making your Friday night suppers, late evening entertaining, or buffet parties a success.

The dish features whole jumbo shrimp in a tempting array on a bed of hot, soya-seasoned rice, and adorned with pineapple, almonds and mushrooms. But there's a tantalizing touch of magic that adds the exotic taste sensation: a sauce made with plenty of catsup!

When combined with butter, celery, chopped onion, flour, ginger, water, and salt, the zesty catsup brings to life all of the subtle goodness of shrimp-rice dishes that you know so well. And, as a time-saver, it can be prepared far in advance and kept in the refrigerator until the moment when you're ready to heat it up and pour over your gourmet delight. An added note for buffet parties: serve the shrimp from one chafing dish, the Waikiki rice from another.

Here's the way to prepare both dishes:

Shrimps South Pacific

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups finely sliced celery
¼ cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
1 4-ounce can button mushrooms, drained
1½ cups catsup
1½ cups water
2 pounds fresh shrimp, cooked, peeled and deveined (about 36 jumbo size)

Melt butter or margarine in fry pan. Add celery and onion and saute until onion is transparent. Stir in flour and spices. Add remaining ingredients, except shrimp, and cook until sauce is smooth and slightly thickened. Add shrimp and heat through. Serve on Waikiki or hot buttered seasoned rice. Yield: 4½ cups or 6 servings.

Waikiki Rice

1½ cups rice (not quick-cook)
3½ cups hot water
3 tablespoons soya sauce
1½ teaspoon salt
3 Tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup slivered almonds
1 cup drained pineapple tidbits

Combine first 4 ingredients in 3-quart saucepan. Cover. Cook over low heat until rice is tender. Melt butter or margarine in fry pan. Add almonds and saute until toasted. Drain rice; fold in almonds, butter and pineapple. Serve hot with Shrimps South Pacific. Yield: 5½ cups rice.

Pineapple Goes With Sweets

Whether you are planning a grand company dinner or an easy-to-get family meal, these tasty Jersey sweet heaps on pineapple deserve consideration. Elegant in appearance, they may be prepared in advance for last minute browning.

In recent years storage methods have been perfected to make New Jerseys sweet potatoes available all year round. You may find raw sweet potatoes in your food stores up until the summer months. In addition to their use in this recipe they may be baked, French-fried, chipped or served in many other ways. Canned sweet potatoes may be used in this recipe.

Sweet Heaps on Pineapple Slices

2 cups cooked, mashed sweet potatoes
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon allspice
1½ tablespoons melted butter, margarine or drippings
6 pineapple slices

Mix seasonings with cooked, mashed Jersey sweet potatoes. Pile with a fork on slices of pineapple, roughing up surface with tines. Brush with melted butter or margarine, or with drippings from meat with which heaps are to be served. Set in flat greased baking dish and bake at 375 degrees for about a half hour, or until lightly browned. Serves 6.

After scrambling eggs, fill the frying pan with salt water. It will be easier to clean.

Strawberry Blintzes Are Heavenly Fare

Sift together 1½ cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons sugar. Combine 1 beaten egg, 1⅔ cups milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Add to flour mixture, stirring until mixture is smooth. Add 3 tablespoons melted shortening and blend well.

Pour batter on ungreased hot griddle to make 5- or 6-inch griddlecakes. To serve, fill griddlecakes with 1 pint sliced or whole sweetened strawberries and roll.

Bake in Orange Shells

Add crushed pineapple (drained) and a little orange juice and rind, along with butter or margarine, to riced cooked sweet potatoes. Spoon the potato mixture into scooped out orange halves and heat in the oven. Nice for a buffet party.

Marinate large cubes of boneless lamb shoulder in wine vinegar and olive oil, adding a bay leaf and a split garlic clove. Broil on skewers.

Ways of Using Mushrooms Vary Throughout World

Every country on the globe has its own favorite ways of preparing mushroom dishes. Small wonder, too, for mushrooms lend richness and fine flavor to even the most elegant or humdrum foods. We in America enjoy the rich heritage of many foreign dishes that we can prepare in native style from the plenitude of vegetables, meats and poultry available in stores everywhere . . . and mushrooms, of course.

There are three distinctly different dishes, exotic in appearance and flavor, but withal, easy to prepare. Each is a filling main dish for family or company, and each uses fresh or canned mushrooms to supplement the other fine foods.

The Creole dish is reminiscent of New Orleans cooking. Mushroom Provencale has the distinct flavor of dishes from the French district by that name. Sukiyaki is a Japanese dish that American people are taking to with great gusto. Try one or all and you and yours will be pleased.

Mushroom Creole on Rice Ring

¼ cup oil
1 large onion, sliced or chopped
1 green pepper, sliced or chopped
1 lb. fresh mushrooms, quartered or 2 to 3 (4 oz.) cans button mushrooms
1 (16 to 19 oz.) can whole tomatoes
1 (6½ oz.) can tomato paste
½ teaspoon marjoram
Salt and ground pepper, to taste
4 to 6 cups hot, cooked rice

Heat oil in heavy saucepan; add onion and pepper; saute without browning, about 3 minutes, turning frequently. Add mushrooms, tomatoes, tomato paste and seasonings. Cover and simmer for 5 to 8 minutes or until the fresh mushrooms are tender.

Press hot rice into oiled ring mold and turn onto serving platter. Cover with mushroom creole. Serves 6.

Mushrooms Provencale

¼ cup olive or cooking oil
¼ cup sherry or wine vinegar
1 clove garlic, minced or pureed
1 small onion, grated
¼ cup minced parsley
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
1½ lbs. fresh mushrooms, sliced or 3 (4 oz.) cans sliced mushrooms, drained
Hot boiled potatoes (canned, if desired)
Minced parsley
¼ cup grated Italian-type cheese

In large bowl, blend oil with garlic, onion, parsley, seasonings and mushrooms; marinate for 3 hours, basting occasionally. Put food mixture in heavy skillet, and cook over high heat for 1 minute; cover and simmer over low heat for 5 to 8 minutes, stirring often. Serve with potatoes, sprinkle with parsley. Serve with grated cheese in separate dish. Serves 6.

★ ★ ★

Beef Sukiyaki

(a saucepan dish, called "Friendship" dish in Japan)

¼ to ⅓ cup oil or butter
1 lb. lean beef, thinly sliced across the grain of meat
2 cups chicken stock or bouillon
1 cup soy sauce
½ lb. fresh spinach
10 to 12 green onions, sliced
6 to 8 stalks celery, sliced
1 lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced or 2 to 3 (4 oz.) cans sliced mushrooms, drained
1 (8½ oz.) can bamboo shoots, sliced
1 (1 lb.) can bean sprouts, drained
3 cups hot cooked rice

Arrange all ingredients except rice on tray before cooking. Heat a small amount of oil in shallow saucepan; spread some meat slices over bottom of pan, turning frequently to brown from all sides. Gather meat in one section of saucepan. Blend chicken stock with soy sauce; pour a few tablespoons over meat. Place a few spinach leaves, onions, celery, mushrooms, bamboo shoots and bean sprouts in pan.

Cook over medium to high heat until tender, about 5 to 8 minutes, tossing occasionally with chop sticks or fork. When sukiyaki is ready, let each person pick out what he wants, heaping the foods on a small plate. Cook remaining foods on tray as above for further helpings. Serve with hot rice in separate dish. Serves 6.

Peach Topping Is Low Caloried

Add new glamour to old favorite fruit desserts by flavor-matching topping and dessert. Whip instant nonfat dry milk crystals, the modern nonfat milk in crystal form, with a chilled fruit juice that complements the dessert's flavor. Try this peach topping served over Fruit Cake Pudding.

Fruit Topped Pudding Cake

1½ cups thawed frozen sliced peaches (1 12-ounce package)
1 package (10¼-ounce) lemon pudding-cake mix
2½ cups peach whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals*

Drain peaches and reserve syrup. Chill ½ cup peach syrup for topping. Prepare package "A" of pudding-cake mix according to package directions. Top with peach slices.

Prepare remaining package of pudding-cake mix and bake according to package directions. Serve topped with peach whipped instant crystals. Serves six.

To whip peach instant nonfat dry milk crystals: Mix ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals with ½ cup well-chilled peach syrup. Whip until soft peaks form (3-4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Continue beating until stiff peaks form (3-4 minutes longer). Makes about 2½ cups.

If food burns an enamelware utensil, shake soda into it, add cold water and let it stand awhile.

George Sticks to Stage While Gracie Stays Home

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — It certainly looked like George Burns up there on the stage.

He grinned knowingly at the audience and punctuated gags with puffs of cigar smoke. Flicking the ash with his little finger, he went into a suave soft-shoe, then sang a few of his inimitable songs—inimitable because no one else will sing them.

Twice nightly he is pleasing audiences at the Hotel Sahara with his show-wise routines, and the audiences are no more pleased than George. "I'm too old to retire," he says, explaining why he continues though Gracie chose to quit.

Between shows he was glowing about his success as a single.

"If I had known what I have learned playing night clubs, I never would have gone off TV," he remarked. His solo effort of last season, the George Burns show, had rough going and wasn't renewed.

"Now I know how to write for myself," he explained. "For the first 13 weeks, I was still writing a TV show for Gracie, but she wasn't on with me.

"It's hard to get out of the habits of 35 years with the same act. And in filmed TV, you can't correct your mistakes in a hurry. You're nine shows ahead before you go on the air and see what you did wrong."

What are the chances of the Burns and Allen team resuming?

"It'll never happen," he said with finality. "Gracie is perfectly happy to stay retired. Our daughter has children now, and Gracie likes to fuss over them. And she takes care of the house and sees her friends and goes shopping. She's never missed acting for a minute."

★ ★ ★

While he's as stage-struck as ever, George isn't going to lose his head. He had an offer from a cigar maker to do another weekly show, but turned it down. He plans to limit his TV appearance to a couple of spectaculars yearly.

"I'd like to spend 8 weeks a year on the specs and 10 weeks in night clubs, trying out the material I'd use on TV," he said.

Jeff Chandler Is Divorced by Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Jeff Chandler's wife got a divorce Monday, testifying: "He had no time for family life either for me or for the children during the past four years."

Mrs. Marjorie Chandler, 40, said she asked her 41-year-old husband about his indifference and he replied:

"If you're so unhappy in the marriage, why don't you get rid of me? I don't care about it any more."

She testified she developed ulcers and had to have psychiatric care. She charged extreme cruelty. They had been married 13 years.

Mrs. Chandler will get $2,166 monthly alimony and property valued at more than $130,000. She also received custody of the children, Jamie, 12, and Dana, 9, and $500 monthly for their support.

Postman Feted as Symbol of 'Men in Gray'

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Doors popped open. People surrounded postman Bill Shaw and ushered him to one of their homes. More than half the families on his route gathered to honor him on his day of retirement after 35 years as a mail carrier.

Host Fred Miller, chairman of the neighborhood committee, said: "Bill personifies all the men in gray who make our postal service the greatest in the world."

Accepting gifts and nearly 600 letters containing an estimated total of more than $500, Shaw, 55, was misty-eyed.

Supervisors estimated he has walked more than 110,000 miles and delivered more than 14 million pieces of mail.

Curiosity Helped to Put Giant Collar on Kitty

BALTIMORE (AP)—It was curiosity all right but it didn't kill the cat. Just left him with his head stuck through a small hole in a wooden garbage can lid.

Neighbors found the trapped tabby Monday and called police. Patrolman Walter Holtz fed the kitten a plate of milk then took him to a lumber mill where workers carefully removed his giant-sized collar with hammer and chisel.

Evergreen trees are not necessarily all green. There are evergreen with silver, white, blue, gray, yellow and plum colored shades.

Fouled-Up 10th Beats Tigers, 10-3

Smith's Wild Throw Lets in KC's Winners

Detroit Loses 2-1 Lead in 9th on Hadley's HR: Lary Goes Tonight

"When we louse things up, we louse them up good," admitted the manager who has seen his teams play more bad baseball games than he cares to remember.

Dykes may have a hard time forgetting the way the Tigers loused up yesterday's game against Kansas City. The Athletics won it 10-3—in 10 innings, yet!

Since it may be some time before another team fouls up a single inning the way the Tigers did this one, here's a recap of what took place:

The score is tied 2-2 going into the top of the 10th. The temperature is 90-plus and Tom Morgan has pitched almost seven innings. Dykes calls on Barney Schultz, the knuckleball specialist who never would have made the Majors on his fielding ability.

The batter is Jerry Lumpe. Everyone in the park knows he's going to bunt. That is, if Schultz pitches something in the vicinity of the plate—which he doesn't. So there are two runners on base. Nobody out.

The new pitcher is R. G. Smith. Another bunt situation. Williams bunts toward third. Smith fields the ball, but too late to make a play anywhere. Smith makes a play anyway, throwing the ball high over the head of first baseman Gus Zernial.

Daley and Lumpe score. Williams races to third. Now it is 4-2. Kent Hadley doubles. Roger Maris, Bob Cerv and Frank House hit singles. Dykes removes Smith, calls in Dave Sisler.

★ ★ ★

By this time, the score is 7-2. Sisler gets one batter on a force play. But Ray Boone doubles home a run. Daley grounds out and another run scores. Lumpe singles to left, driving in the eighth run of the inning.

"What a mess!" he said in the clubhouse. "We couldn't give the game away fast enough—and we had it in our pockets, too."

Detroit had a 2-1 lead entering the ninth inning. But Hadley, the ex-Tiger farmhand, lashed Morgan's first pitch into the upper right field pavilion and it was 2-2.

Ned Garver, a veteran right-hander cast off by the Tigers, finished the game after Daley worked the first 9⅓ innings. Daley, who had scattered 10 hits going into the 10th, broke a blister on his pitching hand. Garver yielded a run-producing single after two batters hit safely against Daley, but the crafty moundsman worked easily out of trouble to preserve Daley's eighth victory.

Schultz took the loss, his second. Jim Bunning was the starter but was literally knocked out of the box in the third inning when the A's scored once. A line drive off the bat of Lumpe hit Bunning on the right wrist and he suffered a bad bruise.

OUT AT HOME — Tiger catcher Red Wilson was out trying to steal home when Kansas City pitcher Bud Daley took a full windup in the 6th inning Monday at Briggs Stadium. The pitch beat Red, who had tripled and watched two mates pop up, and Frank House blocked the plate to make the tag. His run would have likely prevented a big KC 10th which produced a 10-3 win.

Line Drive Fells Jim Bunning

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers' casualty list piled higher today as pitcher Jim Bunning joined outfielder Al Kaline and second baseman Frank Bolling on the sidelines.

Bunning was struck on the wrist of his pitching hand yesterday by a line drive hit by Jerry Lumpe of the Kansas City Athletics. Bunning, a righthander, barely got his hand up in time to keep from being struck flush in the face.

He fell to the mound in pain and was removed from the game. X-rays showed no fracture but Bunning likely will be out five or six days. Trainer Jack Homel estimated Bunning would miss one pitching turn.

But Bunning believes he may be back by Sunday. "I'm pretty lucky," he admitted. "But mom Bunning always said that if I drank a lot of milk it'd make my bones strong—so maybe she was right."

"If that ball had hit him in the face it might have killed him," Manager Jim Dykes said.

The drive struck the top of Bunning's wrist as he was following through. It raised a large lump on his pitching wrist.

Doctors said Kaline might be back in the Detroit lineup by Thursday but again it may be Saturday or Sunday before he is able to return.

Bolling is resting his left ankle and will be out for another week. He has a cracked bone in the ankle.

Ted Lepcio is filling in for Bolling and Johnny Groth for Kaline. Dykes will have to use one of his relief pitchers in a starting role during the heavy weekend schedule.

Will Appear for Squaw Valley Games

Nationalists In, Reds Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Prentiss C. Hale, president of the organizing committee for next year's Winter Olympic Games at Squaw Valley, reiterated Monday that Nationalist China will have the chance to compete while Red China will not.

★ ★ ★

The organizing committee chief issued a statement:

"1. The Olympic Committee of the Republic of China (Nationalist China) has been invited to participate in the Squaw Valley Games by the VIII Olympic Winter Games Organizing Committee; the Republic of China's Olympic Committee has accepted and will have an opportunity to appear.

"2. The Olympic Committee of the Chinese Democratic Republic (Red China) was not recognized by the IOC at the time the organizing committee issued its invitations to participate; it is not recognized by the IOC at present and it will not be permitted to participate in the 1960 Winter Games."

The only reason for keeping Red China out so far reported is the time element. Entries close eight weeks prior to the Games. And the next meeting of the IOC isn't scheduled until Feb. 15, three days before the Winter Games open.

★ ★ ★

Brundage was quoted:

"Recent reports that the nationalist Chinese have been denied admission under the name 'Republic of China,' or a variation thereof, are not true. . .

"Discussions with the Chinese on Formosa have been proceeding amicably and I feel certain that an agreement will be reached.

★ ★ ★

"The IOC has no political axe to grind. The IOC does not meddle in politics nor is it doing so now. Indeed, it is attempting to remain as far away as possible by according both groups of Chinese athletes an opportunity for recognition."

Davenport, Mays Blast 1st Two Pitches in 13th

Homers Snap LA Win String

By The Associated Press

The National League's longest winning streak of the season covered seven games in seven days, lasted 12 innings and was all over on one pitch.

Jim Davenport and Willie Mays jolted reliever Stan Williams' first two pitches for 13th-inning home runs Monday night, but Davenport's was all San Francisco needed in a 6-4 decision that ended Los Angeles' streak and reclaimed second place from the Dodgers. It was Davenport's second homer of the night.

That was the only game scheduled in the NL and left the Giants two percentage points ahead of the Dodgers. Both are 1½ games behind Milwaukee's league-leading Braves, who return to action at Cincinnati tonight.

Davenport now has homered twice in one game three times in the majors—each time at the Los Angeles Coliseum, where he hit five of his 12 rookie homers last season. Last night's pair, for a total of five this year, were his first against the Dodgers in '59.

The Dodgers who three times came from behind scored twice in the first, chasing Jack Sanford in his first appearance since June 11 because of injury, for a 2-1 lead after Davenport's leadoff homer. Willie Kirkland's 13th home run scored two for a 3-2 Giant lead in the third against starter Roger Craig, but Gil Hodges' 14th home run tied it in the Dodgers' third.

Both scored in the ninth after Craig retired 16 in a row, the Giants counted on a single by Orlando Cepeda and Jackie Brandt's triple. But the Dodgers came back on a single by Gilliam and a double by Charlie Neal that chased reliever Stu Miller, and a sacrifice fly by pinch-hitter Carl Furillo off winning reliever Mike McCormick. The young left-hander, now 7-7, blanked the Dodgers on four hits the rest of the way, getting Don Demeter on an inning-ending fly with the bases loaded in the 11th.

Williams (3-3), came on after southpaw Sandy Koufax had struck out five in three perfect innings of relief, then was lifted for pinch-hitter Don Drysdale — who grounded into a doubleplay in the 12th.

Gilliam and Neal had seven of the Dodgers' 11 hits, with Gilliam's 4-for-5 lifting him from seventh to third in the NL bat race at .345.

Both clubs suffered injuries. Cepeda was struck in the face by a Kirkland foul ball as he knelt waiting to bat in the 13th. Furillo hurt his right foot while running out an 11th-inning single.

The Giants and Dodgers wrap up the two-game series tonight. Fourth place Pittsburgh is at Philadelphia. St. Louis meets the fifth place Cubs in Chicago this afternoon.

Owen Hal's Win After Hot Drive Thrills Race Fans

DETROIT (UPI) — Driver Don Hall moved Owen Hal up from fourth to capture first place in a field of six to win the featured $1,200 pace yesterday at Northville Downs.

A crowd of 3,704 roared as Hall, finding an opening along the rail, moved all the way to the front at the three-quarter post and then beat off the belated stretch drive of Honest Jerry, piloted by George Sholty. The time was 2:05 4/5.

Vern Newell, veteran Mason driver-trainer, thrilled the crowd when he threaded his way down the stretch behind Out Come to win at 21-1 odds. The aged gelding paid $44.60 straight.

The combination of True Frisco ($5.20) in the first race and Maid Merrie ($3.80) in the second returned $10.60 in the daily double.

Gomes KOs Kelly; Now Double Champ

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Harold Gomes, 129, of Providence, became a double New England champion Monday night by knocking out Jimmy Kelly, 129¾, in the third round of a scheduled 12-rounder.

Gomes is world's third ranking featherweight.

PROVIDENCE, R.I.—Harold Gomes, 129, Providence, knocked out Jimmy Kelly, 129¾, Lowell, Mass., 3. Tommy Tibbs, 133, Boston, outpointed Tommy Garrow, 135, Claremont, N.H., 10. Jackson Brown, 158, Boston, outpointed Willie Green, 156½, Providence, 10. Satch Jamiel, 168, Warren, R.I., outpointed Jojo Sanchez, 167, Warren, 10.

Yanks Kick Ball Around, Braves Super, in Benefit

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The New York Yankees kicked the ball around in weird fashion and the Milwaukee Braves' reserves looked like super stars. But it wasn't the World Series—only an exhibition.

Youngsters in Wisconsin and the New York area were the only beneficiaries in the Braves 8-3 victory over the Yankees last night before a crowd of 30,554 at County Stadium.

The Braves added plenty of extra dollars and presented a check of $100,000 to the Milwaukee Braves' Foundation established in memory of the late Fred C. Miller to provide college scholarships.

The Yankees earmarked their share of the receipts—close to $30,000—for the New York Sandlot Baseball Fund, set up to provide baseball equipment in various playgrounds.

Pre-game festivities included a home run hitting contest, much to New York's sorrow. Not only did the Braves' Joe Adcock edge teammate Hank Aaron 5-4 in a hitoff, but the Yankees' Mickey Mantle aggravated an injury.

Mantle twisted his right ankle while managing to put only one of five fair balls over the fence. He limped back to the dugout and Jim Pisoni took over his center field spot. But he probably will not miss any American League action. Mantle injured the ankle two weeks ago.

The World Series rivals of the past two seasons put on quite a show, though. The Braves pushed across three runs in both the seventh and eighth innings to win. Reserves such as catcher Stan Lopata, hitless in 16 trips in National League action, had three hits, including a two-run homer.

The Yankees looked like sandlotters on occasions as they committed five errors. But the spotty play was done mostly by reserves who haven't seen much action.

The partisan Milwaukee fans howled in delight especially in the eight after Lopata's homer. After a walk to Johnny O'Brien, Felix Mantilla beat out a hit to third baseman Hector Lopez.

Reserve catcher John Blanchard picked up the ball and fired it into right field. The return throw to the plate was too late to get O'Brien, but Mantilla was trapped in a rundown. With virtually the entire New York infield in on the play, Mantilla got back into second safely.

The play of his second-line players didn't help Manager Casey Stengel's nerves. But the old master is more worried about his pitchers serving up home run balls.

"We're giving up too many homers," Casey said. "They scare me. They're going out too often and too far. I see where your (Warren) Spahn and (Lew) Burdette are giving up homers too. But they're winning."

★ ★ ★

Despite the Yankees' fifth place position four games behind in the American League race, Stengel predicted another pennant.

"I said this spring we'd win it and I still say it," he said. "We'll get going."

And, acting the part of a diplomat, he added:

"I hope you fellas win it, too."

Boys Clubbers Post 3 Victories

One Is Due to Forfeit in Junior Loop Play; Widget Grand Slams

Three Pontiac Boys Club teams won games in the city junior baseball yesterday — one on a forfeit.

The Class E nine walloped Our Lady of Refuge 13-5 combining 10 hits and eight errors. A 13-3 triumph was posted by the "D" boys over St. Mikes with Norb Hoffman fanning 11. The "F" team got the forfeit over St. Miles.

Lake Orion rallied for a tie with 5 in the 7th and won out 6-5 over Auburn Heights on Doug Cole's clutch single in the 9th in the other Class E tilt. Orion also was a "D" victor downing Union Lake 6-2 going ahead to stay after four scoreless innings.

Elsewhere in Class F, Auburn Heights Boys Club trampled the Moose 12-2 featuring a three-hitter by Len Thorpe. Craig Allen gave up just one hit as Don Nicholie dumped Dixie Dairy 13-7. The Falcons whipped the Pontiac Fire Fighters 19-9. A forfeit went to the Little Eagles over Baldwin and the Metro Chiefs got 15 walks to go with five hits in beating the Eastside Dodgers, 17-10.

It was also a busy day for the Widgets. Arnold Drugs tripped Welden Sporting Goods 9-1 and Independence took the Junior Jets 7-3. Bruce Couture got a grand slam homer pacing the Little Senators over Atlas by 14-4. Bob Church struck out 12 in the Aces' (Hall) 5-3 win over East Side. The Webfoot Mets hammered the Web Mets 12-2 backing a one-hitter by Tom Saunders and Furtney Drugs outlasted the Blue Racers 22-13 in four frames. Ron Compau socked a grand slam in defeat. Denny McLain homered for Furtney.

Queen Attends Toronto Races, Knows Horses

TORONTO (AP)—The visit of Queen Elizabeth to Woodbine Race Course today to witness the 100th running of the Queen's Plate recalled her trip to Australia in 1954.

She was scheduled to attend the races, and Australian Jockey Club officials received the following private message:

"For heaven's sake, put someone in the Royal Box who really can talk about the horses. Her Majesty knows the stud book and the pedigrees all the way back to Eclipse."

That would date it to 1764, when Eclipse, one of the greatest sires of all time, was born.

Tom Hamilton to Leave Pitt

Quits After 10 Years to Accept Post With New Coast Loop

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Tom Hamilton is leaving the University of Pittsburgh after serving 10 years as athletic director.

The 53-year old director announced yesterday that he has accepted the position of executive officer of the newly formed Athletic Assn. of Western Universities. He takes over his new post Sept. 1.

Representatives of the conference schools — the universities of Washington, Southern California, California at Los Angeles and California — were high in their praise of the new executive officer.

In announcing his decision to change jobs, Hamilton repeatedly stressed that his personal relations with Pitt Chancellor Edward H. Litchfield had nothing to do with his resignation.

"I've been happy in my job here," Hamilton said, "but I feel I'll be more useful out there. This is an opportunity that I simply could not turn down. It has been a wonderful experience to work for a great university such as Pitt. Now here's a chance to work with four great schools."

Nonne's Takes Lead as Spencer 9 Falls

With a timely assist from Sno-Bol, Nonne's took undisputed possession of 1st place in the Waterford American League softball race last night at Drayton Plains with a 10-5 conquest of Drayton Drug. Sno-Bol tumbled the Spencer Floor team into 2nd place with a 2-1 victory.

Nonne's collected 11 hits, one a tremendous home run by Harry Dearborn that cleared the left center field fence. Dean Parmenter made three hits while Dick Ryan notched two safeties and scored four runs for Nonne's. Tom Bryce had three of Drug's eight hits.

Dale Badder's three-hit pitching gained the verdict over Spencer's Jack Nelson. Sno-Bol's 2-0 lead was seriously threatened by Spencer in the 7th inning, but Badder bore down to strand the tying run on 3rd. Sno-Bol made two sparkling infield defensive plays to help silence the rally.

HOMER TWINS — Jim Davenport, left, and Willie Mays wore big smiles last night after their 13th inning homers broke up a 4-4 tie and gave San Francisco a big 6-4 triumph over the Dodgers. Davenport had hit one earlier. The Giants remained in 2nd two points ahead of LA.

Floyd Admits He Was 'Outfoxed'

* * *

In an interview with Post columnist Milton Gross, Patterson said a punch to the ear apparently aggravated a slight injury he had suffered before.

Physicians say such an injury, unless infectious, could be cleared up within two weeks.

Patterson said he slept most of Saturday, after losing his title to Johansson Friday night, except for a short session at home with the doctor.

"He's a thinking fighter. He outfoxed me. He tricked me before that right and I shouldn't have let myself be tricked. I was fooled by him.

* * *

"It looked to me like he was fighting a defensive fight, only a defensive fight. He was pushing out that left jab only to keep me off, I thought, and he didn't hit me with it at all, at least I don't remember feeling it.

"And it was nothing. He was just sticking it out, kind of flicking it. By the second round neither one of us had done anything. I was expecting the crowd to boo us, and I hate to hear the crowd boo, me or the other fighter. I figured I had to do something. I hit him a couple of good hooks, but nothing much.

"In the third round I was more aggressive. I was waiting for him to do something with that right hand. Three times before when he stuck out the jab I found myself moving straight to his right hand. I was right in line with it. Three times he didn't do anything about throwing the right at all. I kept thinking maybe he doesn't have a right. Maybe that's why he never used it in training.

* * *

"It looked to me that he'd had the chance, but hadn't done anything about it. It looked to me like he'd be willing to go 15 rounds that way and that's how I made my mistake. I was careless. The next time he let the left go I wasn't even watching his right. All I was watching was the left. After the left I moved in just as I'd done before and that's when he caught me. The right followed the left and I was right there."

How about the return bout?

"The next time," said Patterson. "I'm not saying I'm going to beat him, but I'll be different from the other night. I won't be tricked again."

* * *

Did you think it could happen?

"Anything can happen," Floyd said, "but I didn't think it would. I wanted so badly to win this one big. I guess I was too confident, maybe a little overconfident."

MacKay Eyes Wimbledon's Title

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—"The reason I'm playing better tennis now is I'm hitting the ball with my head and with my racket," said Barry MacKay today.

* * *

MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, the only American male left in the Wimbledon championships, met and whipped Neale Fraser, a left-handed Australian yesterday in the quarter-finals.

"I feel a lot better about playing southpaws now that I've taken Fraser," the 6-foot-4 U.S. Air Force private said. "I feel so good about them that I would just as soon play a fellow who hits from the left as from the right."

MacKay won a tremendous match against Wimbledon's second-seeded Fraser—5-7, 10-8, 0-6, 6-3, 6-1.

* * *

"That was the best five-setter I ever played," said the No. 3 man on America's Davis Cup team of last year. "I knew it was going to be long and drawn out so I paced myself. I didn't go chasing after every shot and I think I had more left at the end than Fraser had.

"My service was going pretty good and I hope to take Laver. Then maybe I can meet Alex Olmedo Friday for the title."

If MacKay meets Olmedo—the Peruvian who was conscripted for the American Davis Cup team—then the occasion will be the first in a quarter of a century when two American Davis Cup men played a Wimbledon finale.

"That would be something, wouldn't it"— the Chief and me, laughed MacKay. "But first, I've got to beat Laver and the Chief has to beat Roy Emerson.

* * *

Emerson also is Australian, making Wimbledon's semifinals strictly between Americans and Australians.

MacKay, win or lose at Wimbledon and in the Davis Cup matches, is expected to remain an amateur for sometime yet.

"Kramer never has shown much interest in me," MacKay said, almost giving the impression that MacKay feels a little left out as others talk about $100,000 per season offers or other big figures.

"I've always had to stop playing tennis just before I really got going," Mackay said. "I had to quit several times to go back to school at the University of Michigan. I've had to quit other times to get back to Air Force duty.

* * *

"After I'm out (of service) I want to play in the Davis Cup, at the U.S. Nationals and other American tournaments and then just keep right on going, playing full time and everywhere I can.

"I've never gotten enough of playing tennis but I'm going to try to in the next year."

Knights Post 6-Inning Win

Darkness Halts Action With K. C. Ahead, 10-7; Grill Beats Talbott

Class A hitters had themselves a field day in City League baseball action Monday with the pace-setting Knights of Columbus downing the Jets 10-7, in a darkness-shortened contest at Wisner Field.

In Class B competition at Jaycee Park, Talbott Lumber muffed a chance to move into a first-place tie with Griff's by dropping a 5-2 decision to the league-leading Grillmen.

The KC-Jet battle was halted by darkness after six innings and the Knights exploded for five runs on five hits in the top of the 6th to erase a 7-5 deficit and gain the verdict.

K. of C. clubbed two Jet pitchers for 11 hits including home runs by Ernie Zubalik and Al Barkley, while the losers reached four KC hurlers for 10 safeties. Don Picman received credit for the win while Marshall McGuire was charged with the loss.

Bob Garrett hurled six-hit ball for Griff's and the Grill team clinched its victory over the Lumbermen with two runs in the 4th inning to break a 2-2 tie. John Warner pitched a seven-hitter in defeat. Griff's Denny Martin and Marv Evans each made two hits while DeWayne Sheffer socked two safeties for Talbott.

Run-in With Umps Costly for Redleg

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Thomas, Cincinnati Reds' third baseman, was fined $100 Monday and suspended from playing for three days for a run-in with Umpire Ken Burkhart.

Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, said the suspension will be effective June 29, 30 and July 1.

Thomas was ordered out of Sunday's first game between the Reds and the St. Louis Cards after protesting a strike call in the ninth inning.

In Miami for 4-Day Vacation

Ingo Declares He'll Be Fighting Champion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson said he will carry the world heavyweight boxing championship back to his Swedish homeland starting Friday, after a few days of Florida fishing and golf.

"I definitely won't retire after two more fights. I'm going to be a fighting champion," Ingo proclaimed as he and his brother, Rolf, and their fiances alighted from a New York-Miami plane for a four-day vacation in Broward County.

* * *

"Where are the palms and the cocoaunts?" Ingo asked. His Florida host, Gustav Von Reis, conceded they were absent from the airport apron but guaranteed the Swedish fighter would see plenty on his motor trip to Hillsboro Beach.

Clever's Wild Pitch Gives Boat Livery 2-1 Triumph

A wild pitch handed Langdon's Boat Livery a nine-inning 2-1 victory over the Pontiac Retailers last night to highlight the City Softball League's four-game card at Beaudette and Northside parks.

Mike Clever, Retailer pitcher, uncorked a wild toss in the bottom of the 9th with runners on 2nd and 3rd and one man out to end the extra-inning scrap.

Jerry Langdon led off the 9th with a single and raced to 3rd on a double by Don Gibbs. Red Morgan popped up for the first out, then Clever delivered his bad heave with pitcher John Mayer at bat and Langdon dashed home for the clincher.

It was Langdon, who doubled home Bob Fike with the tying run in the 7th to force the game into extra innings. Jackie Jay singled to score the Retailers' first run in the 1st stanza following a pair of walks.

Clever hurled the distance for the losers and allowed seven hits relief of starter Bruce Welch and the two twirlers gave up five safeties.

Two excellent mound duels also took some of the limelight yesterday. Harlan (Fat) Keith outpitched Gary Boe as Sno-Bol took a 1-0 decision from Elks No. 810 and Roger Reynolds slipped past Ken Spears in Casa Mia's 2-1 triumph over the Pontiac Merchants.

Dick Cooper's sacrifice fly tallied the winning run for Sno-Bol in the top of the 7th. Keith twirled a four-hitter while Boe was touched for only three.

* * *

Casa Mia made seven safe blows off Spears while Reynolds permitted a stingy three. Don Moorhead's single scored the winning run in the bottom of the 7th.

In Monday's other game, Drive-In Cleaners posted a five-inning rout of the Pontiac Police with Jerry Bantin pitching two-hit ball. Drive-In made just seven hits, three by Bantin himself, and the Mayer was the winning pitcher in losers had nine errors.

Van Loozen's 66 'Out of Running' in Pro-Am Event

Despite shooting a course record six-under-par 66, Edgewood Country Club pro Paul Van Loozen was out of the running Monday in a PGA-sponsored Pro-Am golf event at Fox Hills in Plymouth.

Steve Isakov, head pro at Lakelands, and his three amateur partners—George McKain, Rick Armitage and Nick Armitage—combined for a 15-under-par 31-26—57 to win the best ball foursome test.

The Isakov quartet finished two strokes ahead of Washtenaw pro Larry Pentiuk and partners Clark Greenstreet, Frank Telton and Vaugh Smith. Their card read 28-31—59.

Behind Van Loozen's 66 in the individual low pro category came Chick Harbert with 67, followed by Charles Matlack at 68 and four pros with 69s—Reggie Myles Jr., Tommy Watrous, Ken Judd and Ralph Yankee.

Orion Holds Slim Lead in Avondale League

Taking advantage of 14 of the game's 26 walks, Lake Orion RLDS maintained its slim edge in the Avondale Church League by outscoring St. Paul Methodist 12-10 last night.

Pontiac RLDS remained one-half game back by belting Avondale Baptist 17-1 on the big bats of Jim McDonald and Guy Kramer, and two singles for 5 runs and scored twice. Guy had a homer in double to bat in seven and tallied two.

Church of God edged Stone Baptist 16-14, United Presbyterian whipped Elmwood Methodist 15-3 and Nike drubbed Auburn Free Methodist, 10-1. Church of God won on six in the 7th with Emmett Warner homering. Ray Goforth hit one for Stone. Dick Fitzgerald had a home run for United.

EYES BUICK TITLE — Ken Venturi has his eye on the Buick Open title following his rally to win the Chicago Open. Play starts at Warwick Hills in Grand Blanc Thursday with the top names in golf battling.

Only Hogan's Name Missing in Buick Open

$52,000 Golf Tourney Begins Four-Day Run Thursday Morning

By BILL CORNELL

It wouldn't take long to count the number of "big name" players who will miss this week's Buick Open golf tournament.

The 2nd annual Buick classic begins its four-day run Thursday morning over the giant Warwick Hills Country Club links and almost everyone that's glamorous on the professional golf trail is entered.

"Bantam Ben" Hogan, four-time National Open champion and one of golf's all-time greats, is the only elite American player absent from the 72-hole medal play tourney.

The other noteworthy absentees can be summed up with two fingers—Peter Thomson of Australia and Gary Player of South Africa. Both are playing in the British Open this weekend.

★ ★ ★

Joe Black, PGA field man who has been handling the Buick Open entries, declared:

"This is one of the greatest fields ever assembled for a golf tournament anywhere."

There are 151 golfers entered in the $52,000 tourney, currently the nation's richest golf event, and a fat check for $9,000 will go to the winner.

Hoping to grab that nine grand for the 2nd consecutive year is bulky Billy Casper, who nosed out Arnold Palmer and Ted Kroll last June over a soggy Warwick Hills layout.

Although the monstrous 7,200-yard course puts a great stress on power, host pro Gee Bone of Pontiac has emphasized that there will also be a premium on accuracy.

"There are many holes where a straying tee shot can get a golfer into all kinds of trouble, no matter how far he hits it," said Bone. "The long, accurate hitter will have an edge over the long belter who sprays on this golf course," Gene claimed.

★ ★ ★

On the basis of his strong showing in last weekend's Chicago Open, Ken Venturi looks like a formidable foe for Casper. Venturi snapped out of a long slump with his victory Sunday at Gleneagles and he may well be on the road back to the professional stardom that has always been predicted for him.

New Notre Dame coach Joe Kuharich played guard for the Irish under the coaching of Elmer Layden.

Pontiac Sends 3, Birmingham 4 to Golf Meet

7 Boys in State JC Event

Seven teenage golfers, three representing the Pontiac chapter and four carrying the Birmingham banner, earned berths in the Michigan Jaycee golf tournament Monday.

Playoffs were required to settle almost all qualifying positions in local Junior Chamber of Commerce tourneys yesterday at Pontiac Municipal golf course and Birmingham Country Club respectively.

The State Jaycee tourney is scheduled July 20-22 at Lenawee Country Club in Adrian. The four low shooters in the state event will qualify for the 14th annual International Jaycee test Aug. 22-29 at Portsmouth, Va.

Pontiac's three state qualifiers yesterday were medalist Joe Anderson of Pontiac, Larry Beaupre of Rochester and Robert Finley of Pontiac.

Qualifying at Birmingham CC were 16-year-old Chuck Coffin of Birmingham, who won the medal; 15-year-old Fred Ewald of Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham's Gary Mouw and Chuck West, also of Bloomfield Hills.

Beaupre, Finley, Richard Sing and Jim Miller all finished in a deadlock at 80 and sudden-death action was required to decide the remaining three positions.

Miller double-bogied the 1st hole to drop out, Beaupre parred the 2nd hole to clinch his berth and Sing fell by the wayside on the 3rd hole after hitting the sand trap and taking a bogey five as Finley parred.

Sing gained a little bit of individual glory by winning the driving contest with a poke measuring 265 yards. Tom Deaton, Pontiac Central golfer, won the handicap division of the tournament with a net score of 70. His actual total was 41-40—81.

Coffin, an all-A student at Birmingham High School, shot 39, 39—78, six over par, and he had nothing higher than fives on his scorecard. He birdied one hole, the 525-yard par five 8th. Coffin had to beat Ewald in a playoff to win his medal as the latter carded 40-38—78. Coffin parred the 1st hole to win it.

Gary Mouw placed 3rd and a double-bogey seven on the 18th hole prevented him from taking the medal. His score was 39-40—79. Gary earned his 3rd place niche by parring the 1st extra hole to conquer West, who also totaled 79.

The Birmingham chapter's tourney encompassed youths from Farmington, Rochester, Madison Heights and South Lyon as well as Birmingham.

Title Telecast Worth Million

NEW YORK (AP)—The closed circuit telecast of the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight last Friday will gross over a million dollars, a TelePrompTer official said Monday.

Irving B. Kahn, president of TelePrompTer, said that with 95 per cent of the returns in, the gross receipts figure to hit $1,032,000 on the sale of approximately 240,000 seats. The net would be $939,400.

The fight was beamed to 170 theaters and arenas coast to coast.

Without figuring in the foreign movie sale, Kahn estimated Patterson's over-all purse, including the Yankee Stadium gate receipts, would be between $550,000 and $600,000 and Johansson's end between $250,000 and $300,000.

South African 1st Negro in British Open Tourney

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP)—"I first started playing golf with bent wires and hitting golf and tennis balls at the age of 10," said Edward Jonnson-Sedibe, the first South African Negro to play in the British Open Golf Championship.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, here too late to have even one practice shot before yesterday (Monday). But I'll do better today."

The 26-year-old South African came to Britain on money subscribed by European golfers near his club. But he has little chance of qualifying for the British championship.

He shot an 82 yesterday. After today's round, a maximum of 100 low scorers will advance into the championship over Muirfield starting Wednesday.

Frank Jowle and Jimmy Hitchcock, Britain, led the scorers with 67s. Then came Guy Wolstenholme, English Amateur champion, and Neil Coles of England with 68s, followed by Flory Van Donick, Belgium, and Jean Garaialde, France, with 69s.

Willie Goggin, world senior champion from San Jose, Calif., was the top American with a 70 and should easily qualify. Then came amateur Bob Sweeny, Palm Beach, Fla., with a 73, John Garrett, Houston, Tex., with 74, and Bob Watson, of Ardsley-On-Hudson, N.Y., with 75.

The other eight American golfers must turn in good rounds today to earn a place in the championship. The Americans, even Goggin, are 100-1 underdogs in the betting.

Fifteen players shot 70 including four-time winner Bobby Locke from South Africa; defending champion Peter Thomson, Australia; Gary Player, South Africa and Antonio Cerda, Argentina.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: General wildness.

TREATMENT: If the hands lose control of the club at any time during the swing, control of the shot is also lost.

The danger spot here is the top of the backswing. At this point many golfers tend to loosen the grip with the left hand. This is particularly true of players with a very long backswing. This is true because the farther back you swing the harder it becomes to hold on to the club firmly with the left hand.

Ann Arbor Boy Wins District Golf Tourney

Seventeen-year-old Chuck Newton of Ann Arbor, runnerup last week, went into a playoff yesterday to win the weekly Junior District golf tournament at Edgewood Country Club.

Chuck scored a par four on the first extra hole to defeat Stu Block of Tam O'Shanter after the two youths finished their 18-hole rounds with identical cards of 36-38—74, three over par.

Bill Shirley Jr. won the 1st flight with a 75 and Tom Lopucki fired 75 to share 2nd division laurels with Bill Newton. Bill Reuter shot 87 to win the 3rd flight while 15-year-old Cindy Liddell of Washtenaw won the girls' flight for the 2nd straight week with a 46-39—85. Arlene Alton posted 89 to take 2nd place.

Sally Is Shaky in First Start

Sally Sharp, making her first tournament appearance of the season Monday, was definitely not in stride as the Women's District Golf Association 54-hole medal play championship began its three-day stand at Detroit Golf Club.

Winner of the women's triple crown last year, Sally showed the effects of her long inactivity as she double-bogied the last two holes and missed numerous short putts while shooting 42-43—85 to share 4th place with Mrs. Sam Gawne and Mrs. J. G. Israel.

As Sally opened her title defense in shaky fashion following her graduation at Michigan State, Mrs. Keith (Susie) LeClair of Ann Arbor forged into the first round lead over DGC's north course with a scorecard of 37-44—81. Susie has won this event three times (1955-1956-1957). The tourney concludes Wednesday.

Mrs. Keith LeCla	44—81
Miss Helen Gribne	42 40—82
Mrs. John Hun	40 42—82
Mrs. H. G. Mer	42 43—8
Mrs. Donald Wel	40 43—8
Mrs. J. G. Israel	44 41—8
Miss Sally Sharp	42 43—8
Mrs. Sam Gawne	45 40—85
Mrs. C. B. Tuttle	40 48—8
Miss Margaret Watkins	44 43—88
Mrs. John LaBoskey	44 41—8
Mrs. Don MacFarlane	42 45—87
Mrs. Victor Ryden	42 45—8
Mrs. P. L. Thompson	46 41—8
Mrs. Robert Gamble	44 44—88
Mrs. W. L. Mosher	44 44—88

Four Riders Selected for U.S. Pan-Am Team

NEW YORK (AP)—A four-man team to represent the U.S. in the three-day equestrian event at the Pan-American Games was announced Monday.

Bob Considine Says:

Toots Shor's, Port of Refuge, Closes Tonight

NEW YORK—Lower the flag to half mast, and off with the hats, men. Keep those babbling children quiet, and arrest that fellow who's blowing his car horn. Instruct the towers at Idlewild and LaGuardia to reroute all air traffic to Philadelphia, and somebody tell that black cat to stop purring.

Push the button, mayor, the one that turns all light red, and end the roaring traffic's boom. Plant a weeping willow in Times Square, and clap a derby on the trumpets in the 52nd street meatmills. Cut the cords on the ferry boat whistles, and muffle the massive oars of the Queen Mary.

Fan the faint embers of memory and recall that every town and every age had a saloon which served as a port, a haven, for those who sought companionship, comfort, or a quiet corner in which to lick a wound or douse a torch.

There are hieroglyphics in the Egyptian museum in Cairo that bespeak of Stone Age beer halls. In Pompeii, a marble slab that served as a wine bar bears the smooth concave marks dug through countless decades by the resting elbows of relaxing Romans.

In the Piazzi San Marco in Venice a saloon dating from the 1200s is still thriving, as is the saloon in Dante's town house in Rome, Hosteria Del Orso.

In London's Fleet Street pubs like Christopher Wren's Old Ball survive, and the Cheshire cheese hasn't changed since Ben Jonson put down his pewter mug one clammy night and, sticking a scrawny hand from the blanket which protected him against the cold, scratched out a little rhyme which began, "Drink to me only with thine eyes, and I will pledge with mine. Leave but a kiss within the cup, and I'll not ask for wine."

Where will one now go to mourn a Ruth, a Corum, a Rice, a Hellinger, a Sherwood? It was always a nonstop flight from the church, or temple, or Campbell's, to this place of which I sing. The proprietor considered drink a part of the liturgy of a requiem, a kind of incense whose fragrance was calculated to speed the departing spirit to his reward.

And he was his own best mourner. He suffered what his competitors felt was a stroke of madness the night Roosevelt died. He shut the joint, though he needed the money. His place was an oddly fitting frame for immense sorrow in the wake of a wake, and nobody was ever more affected than he.

Bugs Baer undertook the unnerving job of getting him to the funeral parlor to see the mortal remains of his friend Jimmy Walker, and later said of the ordeal, "Getting Toots to Campbell's was like towing a sick whale with no hope of any ambergris."

It was a stage for burlesque, too, one that echoed to the bellows of a Gleason and the razor-edged observations of a Fred Allen. Once, very late, the night watch was startled to see Frank Libuse follow Ella Logan into the Ladies'. We stared incredulously at the closed door, which suddenly reopened. Libuse briefly popped his head out and yelled to the bartender, "Two beers!"

There weren't many fights, for a saloon. Tom O'Reilly pushed Bobo Newsom over a table one night, but it was mostly a case of mistaken identity. O'Reilly thought he (O'Reilly) was somebody else.

Horace Stoneham brought a friend in one night, after a formal dinner somewhere else, and hours later invited him outside—to fight. After a bit the proprietor strolled out to see how they were doing. It was raining cats and dogs. Halfway down the block, Stoneham and his friend were ponderously and harmlessly circling each other, posing like Jem Mace. The proper doorman had his umbrella over them.

If there is a tablet to mark where it stood, or a time capsule, let it recall that on this spot men, with no money spent pity on a millionaire, were able to comprehend his sadness as the hour approached when a bulldozer would stand at a door which had known the scratchings of wolves.

They wept with him over the cruel turn of events which had brought him riches, but no immediate base of operations, joined his sorrow as he was crowned with the ultimate tragedy of success, without a stage on which to take a bow.

Parke, Davis to Build Plant at Holland Site

HOLLAND (UPI)—Construction will start immediately on the new $7 million Parke, Davis and Co. chemical plant here and it will be completed by late next year, Parke, Davis officials said today.

Darin and Armstrong Co. of Detroit has been named general contractor for the new plant which is part of the firm's $50 million five-year capital expansion program.

300 TV Specials Set

NEW YORK (AP) — That isn't all summer thunder you're hearing. Some of it is the television drumbeaters pounding up a storm about next season's big gimmick, the "special."

★ ★ ★

There are more than 300 in the planning stage. This works out to better than one a night after the season is launched in September. The joker, however, is that "special" is a word without specific definition in TV's lexicon.

Once, a few seasons back, it meant a high-budget, star-studded, hour-long one-shot program which took over viewing time regularly occupied by another show.

Now, "special" can mean almost anything. NBC, whose word it originally was, claims to have 200 specials on the fire, including one regularly scheduled every Friday night, another every Sunday night, plus 12 Telephone Hours, 6 Hallmark shows, 8 Star Parades and 6 Bob Hope shows.

Every producer carries lists of talent in his head—A lists, B lists, C lists and D lists, all based on the drawing power of the name. Most A list performers get $20,000 or more per performance. The B list stars rate about half as much.

Seems like there'll be a lot of European backgrounds in TV next season. Victor Borge is filming a show in Denmark; Art Linkletter and Ed Sullivan will make shows in Moscow and other points.

Miss Frances and Ding Dong School will be back on the air—some places—this fall via videotape, having been acquired by 66 stations to date.

If you wondered what happened to John Nelson, who used to marry people on Bride and Groom, he's NBC's director of daytime programs, Pacific division.

Ike Sending Four Urns for Royal Wedding

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — President Eisenhower is sending four engraved Steuben crystal urns as a wedding gift for Prince Albert of Belgium and Princess Paola of Italy, the American embassy announced today.

Each measures 5¾ inches and is engraved with a figure from American history — cowboy, trapper, pioneer and Indian. The Prince and Princess will wed here Thursday.

State Saving and Loan Assets Highest in History

LANSING (AP) — Assets of the savings and loan business in Michigan have climbed over the 500-million-dollar mark for the first time in its 72-year history, Sec. of State James M. Hare reported today.

Assets last month mounted to an all-time high of $503,329,694, an increase of $69,070,065 over the May total in 1958, Hare said.

New capital made available for investment each year from life insurance now totals about five billion dollars, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. This amounts to about $45 per policyholder.

Chapter XXIX

A policeman, who had apparently been standing on the corner all the time, ran up to her, but there was not much he could do since she could not even tell him whether the thief was a man or a woman.

While she was talking to the policeman, giving him her name and address, Alex drove up in the taxi. Kathie was immeasurably glad to see him.

For the first time, she felt she could definitely eliminate Alex from any suspicion in the things that had been happening to her. If the thief had been after the deed, and not an ordinary purse-snatcher, he certainly hadn't been sent by Alex. With the deed already mailed to him, Alex had no need to try to steal it.

When she had finished answering the policeman's question, Kathie climbed into the taxi with Alex. He was very grave when she recounted the incident to him. In fact, he took it more seriously than she did.

"I dont' like it, Kathie," he said. "Someone's having you watched too closely. Apparently you can't make a move that isn't known. It scares me, darling."

Darling. That precious word again. Kathie turned a radiant face to him. "At least they don't know where the deed is," she told him. "They wouldn't have snatched my purse if they did."

"Do you still want to go to the Poinciana?" Alex asked her.

It was then that it hit Kathie—the obvious and naked truth that she had overlooked in her excitement. The Poinciana? That was a laugh!

"Alex!" she gasped. "Every cent I have in the world was in that purse. Every single cent!"

Alex leaned forward and gave the driver an address. "It's the best I can think of at the moment," he told Kathie.

GRINNED AT HER

"To my apartment." He frowned. "I wish I had a home to take you to, Kathie, but Grandfather colsed the big house a few years ago and went to live at a downtown hotel. I share a studio with a college friend of mine.

"There are other relatives, of course, but I can't think of one at the moment I want to entrust you to!" He grinned at her and added reasurringly, "We'll figure something out by tonight."

Kathie's spirits rose a little. She might be alone and without funds in far-off Honolulu, but she was not without friends. They were driving along a pleasant canal lined with attractive modern houses. Before one of a series of triplexes the taxi stopped, and the driver helped Alex carry the luggage up to the third floor.

Kathie looked around her with a feeling of having stepped into a dream. This was Alex' room. A large woven lauhala mat covered the floor, and the easy chairs were made of curved bamboo.

Split bamboo shades were at the large windows, and the draperies were a splash of tropical colors in large design. The length of one wall was almost completely covered by a low bookcase.

The sleeping quarters apparently were the two bunk beds on opposite sides of the room, tailored in clear, vibrant colors matching the tones in the draperies and massed with pillows. Punees, they called them out here.

"It's beautiful," she said. "So easy and comfortable."

"Just right for two bachelors," he said, with his crooked smile. "I'm going to leave you here, Kathie. My roommate won't be home until this evening, and I expect to be back before then."

"Don't let anyone into the apartment, and don't go out. Will you promise me that, Kathie?"

"Yes."

'YOU'RE SO NICE'

For the second time that day, Kathie's eyes filled. "Alex, you're so nice," she said unsteadily. "I'm sorry I was so horrible on the ship. I know you didn't go through my luggage.

The smile he gave her was dazzling. Quickly, impulsively, he kissed her again. Then he hurried away, leaving Kathie with stars in her eyes.

When she became hungry, she went into the kitchenette and opened the refrigerator. There were milk and cheese and eggs.

She ate alone, then washed up the few dishes, pretending happily that it was her own kitchen. Afterward she curled up with the book of poetry she found on a shelf. One ear heard each line she read in Alex' voice, the other other listening for his step on the stairs.

Alex introduced his roommate, but Kathie was still half-asleep and never did hear more than "John." They were carrying groceries, and John went into the kitchenette, promising to "whip up a steak."

Alex sat down on the punee beside Kathie. With apprehension, she saw that his smile did not quite reach his eyes.

"What is it, Alex? What's happened?"

"Your hunch was apparently right about Bea. I have sources in the police department, you know. This is strictly unofficial and not for publication yet, but the police are working on something that they think will show Bea's accident was not entirely accidental."

National Music Camp Opens at Interlochen

INTERLOCHEN (AP) — Michigan's unique outdoor arts center, the National Music Camp, has started its 32nd season at Interlochen.

Founded by Dr. Joseph E. Maddy as a nonprofit educational institution, the program emphasizes music studies but has been expanded over the years to cover a wide range of activities. They include speech arts, drama, radio, television, modern dance, painting, ceramics and crafts.

Interlochen's forest setting will be home this year for an estimated 2,000 students expected over the 8-week session which opened Sunday.

Cheboygan to Replace Elementary Schools

Contractors have been selected by the board of education for construction of two new elementary schools at a cost of $675,000.

When the schools open in September of 1960, all four present public grade schools will be vacated. All are 50 years or more old.

Warns Against Foreign Aid Cut

Adm. Radford Claims Far East Military Help Now Essential

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adm. Arthur W. Radford, special consultant to the defense secretary, warned today against trimming foreign military aid to Formosa, South Korea and other Far Eastern nations friendly to the West.

Radford, a member of the special Draper committee that studied the foreign aid program, said on a TV program he disagreed with the committee's suggestion that $500,000,000 in aid for those countries would be about enough.

He said this amount, which the committee said would be left over in the aid program after commitments to European Allies were met, would be "a very drastic revision of the military aid program that I think is unwise."

Radford, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said he felt the United States was spending enough money on its own defense program. The billions provided for the Defense Department should provide "adequate" forces, he said.

Asked about criticism of retired military officers who take jobs with defense industries, he said he thought there should be a two-year waiting period before such men take positions with firms doing work in the "specialty" they handled while on active duty.

Radford noted that hte Draper committee report called for a long-range foreign aid program to give a sense of continuity to the project.

But he said he was concerned about the reluctance of the American people to undertake any long-range programs. He said, "they dont like to hear the bad news."

NEA Renews Its Demand for Federal Aid to Schools

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The National Education Assn. today renewed its demand for a massive program of federal aid to education. It said failure to finance adequate schooling is "a tragedy for the undereducated, a menace to the society, and an incongruity in the world's richest nation."

A statement issued by the Education Policies Commission of the NEA and the American Assn. of School Administrators said ignorance and poverty go hand-in-hand. This is a national problem, it said, because ignorance and poverty cannot be quarantined.

It said Americans are spending just over 10½ billion dollars annually to operate public schools. Quality education requires more than 18 billion dollars a year, the statement said, adding that the average expenditure per pupil should be raised from $310 a year to a minimum of $540.

The 18 billion dollars recommended, the commission said, does not include reducing the present shortage of school facilities and classrooms, and takes no account of school enrollment, which is increasing by one million pupils per year.

Many states and the local communities do not have the resources to finance adequate education, the commission said.

It said that Mississippi, for instance, in 1955 spent only $132 per pupil. But that figure represented a greater effort on the part of Mississippi than did New York's expenditure of $365 that year, the commission said.

It said the extra money should go toward hiring more teachers and increasing teacher's salaries. Higher salaries in industry, it said, are luring many potential teachers into other fields.

The commission said the federal government is the only tax collecting agency able to raise the money needed for quality education.

The NEA Sunday announced plans for a long-range study of the nation's educational needs and problems.

Dr. Ruth A. Stout, NEA president, said the study would deal with every facet of education. Some $50,000 has been set aside for the first year of the study, which is expected to take three or four years to complete.

Recession Caginess Melts at Midyear

Americans Doing Well Financially

(Editor's Note—At midyear, most of us are better off than we could have hoped. New Year's Day, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, reviews an exciting first half of 1959 in the following story, first of two on the economic outlook.)

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Most Americans fared well in the first half of 1959—despite all the threats to their peace and prosperity at home and abroad.

They have more money than six months ago, are spending more, going into debt more, working longer hours at a record number of jobs.

Total personal incomes have risen steadily and now are at a record high. They are being boosted along by higher wage scales, overtime pay, bigger dividend checks, and higher returns on services rendered.

Job opportunities have increased more than seasonally. And the stubborn total of unemployment began to melt as spring brought more outdoor work. Industrial output has climbed to new peak.

Money supplies have tightened and interest rates are rising. But only recently has the individual begun to feel any pinch. Until now, the chief complainers have been the federal, state and local governments seeking to raise cash and corporations who are charged more when they borrow.

So far Americans have been able to find enough mortgage financing to start an increasing number of homes.

The citizenry is taking on a record amount of instalment debt. It has added to its mortgage obligations and personal loans, but still has managed to save almost as much money as a year ago.

For the first time in several years, motorists have greeted spring with a burst of auto buying, much of it on the cuff.

And attracted by the bull market with its promise of capital gains, more Americans than ever have become shareholders, either as investors for the long run or as traders for the quick profit.

There have been alarums. But most citizens have taken them quietly. These include the Berlin crisis which could have, but didn't, upset everything, the threat of a steel strike still unresolved at midyear; and the hullabaloo about the approach of another round of inflation, which may or may not materialize.

There is talk — disturbing to many—about the weakening of the dollar, or the flight from it, based on a slow but steady loss of gold reserves, which is linked with the drop in our exports.

But one worry at the start of the year has proved real enough at midyear. Taxes. The federal bite has changed little. But states and cities sought, and found, new taxes, or hiked old rates, or raised assessments.

Earlier hopes for some tax relief at midyear are fading. The Treasury runs a deficit as it closes its fiscal year tonight, and with other government authorities looking for all kinds of ways to finance growth and supply services to their citizens.

The biggest thing of all in the first half of 1959 has been the upsurge in public confidence. Recession born caginess melted with the snow drifts. Reassured by the speed of the recovery, Americans are buying goods and mortgageing future incomes at a great rate, and in general living it up.

Tomorrow: The next six months: Bigger and better?

Supreme Court Ruling Disputed

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The supreme Court has opened a door which may get so crowded with intruders that another Supreme Court decision will be needed to clarify what the court did Monday.

It said in a 5-4 ruling that policy making government officials are absolutely immune to libel suits against them for something they said or did in what they considered line of duty.

"It will mortify the powerful and silence debate," Warren said.

Under the majority opinion could a policy making official, angered by newspaper criticism of him, deliberately and dishonestly, under the guise of official concern for his agency, defame the newspaper with immunity?

It's not clear. The opinion doesn't seem very clear to Warren. He said the court, by its reasoning, has set up an uncertain standard which is not a guide at all for these policy making officials to follow.

He suggested the court will have to give new appraisals because he does not think this opinion is clear enough to be final—on almost every charge of defamation by a government official.

Monday's opinion involved two government employes who were suspended and denounced in a press release in 1953 by the director of rent stabilization for the way they handled cash annual leave settlements for some agency employes.

BALANCE PROBLEM

Justice John M. Harlan, writing the majority opinion, said the problem was one of balance: the protection of an individual citizen from oppressive or malicious damage by a government official against the protection of the public interest by shielding government officials from the "harassment and inevitable hazards of vindictive or ill-found damage suits."

Harlan wrote: "In this instance it has been thought in the end better to leave unredressed the wrongs done by dishonest officers than to subject those who try to do their duty to the constant dread of retaliation."

Justice William J. Brennan couldn't accept this reasoning. In his dissenting opinion he said absolute immunity for officials below Cabinet rank goes too far. That kind of immunity makes them libel free even though they defamed someone maliciously and untruthfully.

IMMUNITY LIMITED

The Constitution itself gives members of Congress "absolute immunity against a libel suit for anything they say in Congress. This does not mean they are libel free if they defame someone say on TV or radio.

But the Supreme Court itself has never ruled on just how much immunity members of Congress have for what they say or do outside the Capitol and their congressional office buildings.

About 60 years ago the court gave absolute immunity to libel action to members of the President's Cabinet department heads appointed by him for matters committed by law to their control or supervision.

And the Supreme Court has ruled that judges of courts of superior or general authority are absolutely immune to civil suits for damages because of actions by the judges while acting officially no matter what their motives.

OFF TO SPACE — An Aerojet-General Corporation engineer ushers four plastic helmeted youngsters aboard Kraft Foods' Aerojet training mock-up space ship for a simulated flight. On exhibit from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Wednesday at the Miracle Mile Stopping Center, the ship was created to celebrate the introduction of new Kraft Jet-Puffed marshmallows and to stimulate interest in the future of space exploration. The instrumentation includes electronic gears depicting radar scope pickup and visual travel among the stars and planets. The up and down movements of the 4,000-pound, 30-foot ship are operated by a hydraulic system controlled by generators.

Mock Space Ship Due at Miracle Mile Event

A mock-up space ship "that conceivably could be the forerunner of interplanetary travel" will be exhibited from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

Designed and fabricated for Kraft Foods by Aerojet-General Corporation, which manufacturers actual rockets, the mock-up space ship embarked from Los Angeles in April for a three-month tour of the United States.

The ship provides an exciting simulated flight through space for its four passengers through the use of electronic gear depicting radar scope pickup and visual travel among the stars and planets.

A hydraulic system moves the ship up and down and tilts the ship to either side. It weighs 4,000 pounds and is 30 feet long.

The exhibit is being held in conjunction with Miracle Mile's July 4th "Sale-abration." A colorful display of fireworks will be put on at 9:10 p.m. Wednesday, also.

Waterford Man Named to Phone Pioneer Office

Vergil Myers, 3690 Lincolnshire St., Waterford Township, has been named vice president of the Woodward Council of the Wolverine Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

The Telephone Pioneers of America, with an international membership of close to 200,000, is made up of men and women who have spent 21 or more years in telephone work. Michigan has 5,519 members spread throughout the state in seven area councils.

New Soybeans Lead Decline

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market turned weak today with new crop soybeans leading the decline on the Board of Trade with setbacks running to well over a cent a bushel.

Dealers said there appeared to be a small amount of flour mill buying but that most of the offerings were being taken by commission houses which suggested continued investment buying.

The Department of Agriculture accepted subsidy bids of 7 to 12 cents a bushel on 1¼ million bushels of corn for export. The lower bids were on shipments to be made during October and November, after harvest of the new crop.

Navy Sails Past Detroit, Into History

DETROIT (AP) — American warships today for the first time since the War of 1812 cruised the Detroit River.

The fleet of destroyers, cruisers, submarines, cargo, transport and amphibious landing craft is on its way to the International Trade Fair in Chicago.

The cruiser Macon, largest warship to sail the Great Lakes, was behind schedule in Lake Erie, however. Weather, unfamiliarity with inland waters and the heavy concentration of shipping on the lakes was holding up its progress. The craft was expected to pass Detroit sometime in the afternoon.

The upstream movement of the Macon, a deep-draft ship, will force the Coast Guard to close the Livingstone channel in the lower Detroit River to downbound traffic for several hours. The channel is used normally only for downbound, heavily laden ships. The Macon draws too much water to permit it to use the normally upbound Amherstburg channel, however, and it was routed through the deeper waterway.

Downbound freighters will anchor in the Detroit River until the Macon passes through the Livingstone channel.

Satchmo Enjoys Warmth of Sun, Attends Luncheon

ROME (AP) — Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong ventured out into the blistering noonday sun today, although doctors had advised him to stay in his hotel room.

The king of jazz, recuperating from a serious attack of pneumonia, donned dark brown shorts and a matching shirt to attend a luncheon at the home of Boston-born Countess Alicia Paolozzi.

It was Armstrong's first time outside of the hotel where he had been resting on doctors' orders. The trumpeter said he was tired from an auto trip Monday from Spoleto, where he had been hospitalized.

Set Funeral Service for William Voisine

DETROIT (UPI)—Funeral services were scheduled Wednesday for the late William W. Voisine, 61, former mayor of Ecorse and one-time dominant figure in down-river politics.

Voisine died Saturday at Outer Lake Hospital, in Lincoln Park, from what is believed to be a complication of diabetes, a stroke suffered 18 months ago and a heart ailment.

Funeral services will be held at St. Francis Xavier Church in Ecorse, with burial at Michigan Memorial Cemetery.

Voisine had planned to run again for mayor of Ecorse next fall. The day after he announced his intention, he became ill and was taken to the hospital.

Steel Contract Talks to Be Stepped Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Contract negotiations on the basic steel industry resume Wednesday after a recess since an extraordinary Sunday session.

Four man bargaining teams representing the 12 largest steel companies and the United Steel workers of America have agreed to meet on a "stepped up" basis of morning and afternoon sessions.

The union is seeking a substantial wage increase and other benefits. The industry is demanding a wage freeze. Wages now average $3.10 an hour.

Someone May Bite

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Bargain item at the Goodwill Industries store: like-new chewing tobacco. It was contributed by a man who gave up the chewing habit.

Stocks Advance Toward Record

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrial shares mounted a renewed attack on their record highs as the stock market advanced in moderately active trading early today.

Gains of most key stocks ranged from fractions to about a point. Most gains were narrow.

Sogie losses marred the advance. Kennecott dropped more than a point. Goodyear, International Nickel and Southern Railway were among losers.

The opening was vigorous, with the ticker tape late for a six minute spell and some sizable blocks traded. Then turnover moderated with prices holding about where they were.

Trial Date Set in Market Theft

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Charged with breaking and entering in the nighttime, Frank R. Jennings Jr., 30, of 4180 Navarra Ct., Davisburg, waived examination at his arraignment in Justice Court here yesterday.

He was bound over to Circuit Court with a trial date set for July 6. Unable to pay bond set at $1,000, Jennings is in the Oakland County Jail.

Jennings is accused of breaking into Brenner's Farmington Hills Market on Orchard Lake road at 10-Mile road at 4:05 Sunday.

Business Notes

Rudolph Jaconette has been named manager of the half-million dollar Food Fair Market which opened its doors last week in Clawson.

Until his new assignment, Jaconette was co-manager of the Food Fair Miracle Mile store. He joined the market chain in 1957 as a stock man.

Ellis S. Hoglund has been appointed general manager of the General Motors Overseas Operations Division, GM President John F. Gordon announced today.

Foamy Drink Backfires

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Jimmy Ray Wilson, 12, put his nickel in the dispensing machine and out popped a cup which was filled with a foamy white liquid. He drank it and then was rushed to the hospital where it was learned he had consumed laundry bleach. He recovered. The bleach had been put into the machine by mistake.

HERE'S A CHANCE for you to own a 3 bedroom Brick Ranch style home on 1 acre of land. A massive woodburning fireplace complements the huge living room. Compact kitchen and Ceramic tile bath are other features. The price, $12,500 with only taxes of $1.700 down to handle.

NOTHING DOWN—3 Bedroom starter home located on nice lot in Commerce Road. Edgewood Golf Course area. Full price $8,700.

THIS COULD BE the home you've searched for for so long. Ideally located among other lovely properties near Williams Lake. With privileges. A really beautiful larger type 3 bedroom all on one floor. You will be very proud of the 23 ft. family kitchen, full basement, easily adapted for recreation. A steal at $11,350—if you've disposed of that "too-small" home. It's all means—LOOK—You'll be so happy you did.

YOU'LL NEED about $600 and you don't have to be a Veteran to buy this large 4 bedroom Ranchtype with attached garage. The 17.7 x 14.5 living room has a lovely big picture window and the 17.8 ft. kitchen is a dream with more cupboards, including a lazy Susan) than you'd ever hope for. Beach and boat privileges on Williams Lake and right across the street from the house. Quick possession.

AN IDEAL LOCATION in Elizabeth Lake Estates with 2 beautiful landscaped lots. Plenty of shade, shrubs and fruit trees. There's 2 bedrooms, a full dining room and a 1-car garage. Yes, there's a basement too. It's selling for $11,500 and remember — You have privileges at one of the finest parks in the county.

GOOD THINGS come in pairs. 2 Acres of land, 2 baths, 2 fireplaces and a double garage. Clean, attractive and almost new is this ever-so-charming tri-level. In an area where one could have a great big garden and even a pony if he wanted. Lots of privacy on the 2 acres of grounds. It would be hard to beat this deal at $13,900, but will require a rather substantial down payment.

LAKEFRONT COTTAGE on private lake with pretty fair beach and excellent fishing year 'round. Has modern tiled bath, good kitchen, g r a n d sleeping porch. Some furniture included at $6,500.

Boy's Kidnap-Slayer Ordered to Asylum

PORT WASHINGTON, Wis. (AP)—Harold W. McLaughlin, admitted kidnap-slayer of 6-year-old Ben Wagner, Monday was committed to the Central State Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

Circuit Judge William E. O'Connell ordered McLaughlin's commitment until "He is able to be returned to this court to stand trial."

McLaughlin, 27, adjudged feeble-minded by Judge O'Connell after two psychiatrists testified he did not know right from wrong and was unable to confer with his attorney, faced a first-degree murder charge for Ben's death.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wagner of Milwaukee, was lured into a car the night of April 4 as he walked to a neighborhood store to buy ice cream for his sisters. His body was found the next morning in a roadside ditch 12 miles north of Milwaukee.

Appeal on Anti-Red Act Delayed by High Court

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Supreme Court has ordered a new hearing next fall on an appeal which questions constitutionality of the membership clause of the Smith Anti-Communist Act.

The clause makes it a crime to be a member of a group knowing that it advocates overthrow of the government by force and violence.

The full Supreme Court heard argument on the case on April 29 and held it under consideration until today when it called for reargument.

Adenauer Snubs Nose at Reds

Flies to West Berlin for Election Despite Commies' Threats

BERLIN (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer flew into West Berlin today ignoring Communist threats against the isolated city.

Adenauer came for a meeting of the West German Electoral College. The college, meeting Wednesday, will choose a successor to West German President Theodor Heuss.

Communist East Germany threatened earlier this month to blockade West Berlin if the Electoral College held its meeting in West Berlin, 110 miles inside East German territory. This threat has not been repeated.

Friedrich Ebert, mayor of Communist East Berlin, said the choice of West Berlin for the election was proof that West Germany was trying to sabotage a peaceful solution of the Berlin problem.

4 Negroes Ask Political Asylum in Swedish City

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Four South African Negro musicians on tour in Sweden asked Monday for political asylum. They reported to the police station at Borlange in central Sweden and said they did not want to return to South Africa because of racial discrimination there.

They said they hoped to be granted political asylum in this country.

The four — all members of the "Golden City Dixie" troupe of musicians from Durban — are Yussef Williams, Jeff Cartriers, Brian Isaacs and Harold Jephthah. Cartriers told police he had seen a newspaper with news about last week's racial disturbances in Durban.

"I wept openly," he said. "I know the reports were not exaggerated. I have seen Durban police shoot down Negroes in broad daylight. I cannot go back to that. It will be hard not to see my relatives again, but I know my mother will understand me."

The four defectors have no passports. Cartriers said they had not been paid for five weeks.

Incumbent Bill Gains

LANSING (UP) — Candidates for public office will lay themselves open to misdemeanor charges if they falsely represent themselves as incumbents under a bill that won final legislative approval last night. The Senate cleared the bill by agreeing to House changes.

Tony Marvin Understands Firing by Arthur Godfrey

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Arthur Godfrey and the man he calls "the best announcer in the business," Tony Marvin, have parted company after 13 years.

Marvin was fired, but he said he agreed with the wisdom of Godfrey's move.

"I have absolutely no bitterness toward Arthur," said Marvin after disclosing the contents of a "Dear Tony" letter written to him last Thursday by the 55-year-old radio and TV entertainer, now recuperating from a lung cancer operation near Leesburg, Va.

In the letter, Godfrey advised Marvin that a new "informal format" for Godfrey's new CBS radio series, which starts Sept. 28, leaves no room for an announcer.

Trade sources said that when Godfrey returns after his bout with lung cancer," sponsors will insist that Godfrey do the selling himself, in his own voice.

Marvin, in agreeing with this assessment of Godfrey's role, added, "I love the guy. I thank God he's alive and I thank God I'm young enough to continue my own career. And he's right. The new format doesn't give me a chance to do anything at all."

The announcer, who now does "The Sam Levenson Show" on CBS radio each morning, added, "I'd feel like a bump on a log in the new format. I for one am quite understanding of the situation. What can I say? I've had a lot of fun and I've learned so much from the guy."

Richard Krolik, Godfrey's personal public relations man for the past year, revealed today that he, too, has been dropped by Godfrey. "He wrote me that his plans for the new season do not require the services of a personal public relations man," said Krolik, who kept newsmen appraised of Godfrey's condition before and after the cancer operation. Godfrey's publicity will be handled by a CBS official in the future.

Marvin, a native New Yorker who has been an opera singer, actor and a prominent radio-TV announcer, joined Godfrey in August 1946. He is considered the last of Godfrey's famous broadcasting "Friends" to be discharged.

The roll call of one-time Godfrey regulars includes Julius La Rosa, Marion Marlow, Lu Ann Simms, the Mariners, Frank Parker, the McGuire Sisters and Haleloke. Last August, Janette Davis retired after 12 years with Godfrey. And now, Marvin goes.

Marvin said he hopes to have a "Tony Marvin Show" on the air in the fall. "It will be a light, friendly warm variety-type show," he said.

"My philosophy is: Be good to yourself, and you can only do that by being good to others, make 'em laugh a little bit," said Marvin, apparently unruffled by the fuss.

Rich Texans Revive Big Rage for Yachts

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—In this era of "The Big Rich," when there are more multimillionaires than there used to be millionaires, when "everybody" has a house in town, one in the country and one in the south of France, the yacht is coming back. And do you know who the new yacht owners are? Texans, of course. There was a brief decline in yacht sales, though, this week. Several Texans discovered land on their oil.

Barbara Burns Leaves Prison for New Life

Miss Burns Sunday completed a 90-day jail term imposed after she was convicted on a misdemeanor narcotics charge. She spent the last week of her imprisonment in the prison ward of the County Hospital for treatment of measles.

The lanky woman pleaded during her imprisonment for a chance to become an actress "because you can lick the narcotics habit if you really want something, and acting is all I want."

NBC-TV network show "The Lawless Years" offered Miss Burns small parts. She is expected to start her new career shortly.

Doctors New-to-State Would Get Permits

LANSING (UP) — A bill to permit issuance of temporary annual licenses for private practice of medicine to immigrant residents to Michigan cleared the Legislature last night.

Senate concurrence in House amendments routed the bill to Gov. Williams for signature. Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) said the measure will benefit more than 900 doctors now limited to interne work in hospitals.

Woman Bluffs Bandit

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — "I'm not kidding," said the nervous bandit Monday. "Don't be foolish. You'll get yourself into trouble," said the woman bank teller, whose name was not released. With that, the young man took back his check made out for $1,000 and his note saying "give me the money or someone will get hurt," and left the downtown office of the First Trust and Deposit Co.

New Daytime Half Hour Is 'Slopera' in Sociology

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—For Better or Worse, a daytime daily which curtsied in on CBS-TV yesterday, lives up to part of its title. The last part.

It is a series, say its chroniclers, which will "explore, with documentary reality, case histories of marital problems." Actually however, it is just another half hour daytime slopera masquerading behind a domino of sociology.

The story launched yesterday—it was taken from the files of James Peterson of the University of Southern California, so sit up and pay attention, this is educational, you dolts—had something or other to do with a 19-year-old girl, Jane, who was going to a dance with a new boy friend, Chris, who was majoring in business administration in a college, Santa Monica, and who owned a souped-up sports car, MG, which worried Jane's dad, Carl, who was in a good business, hardware.

Carl, as a matter of fact, was doubly worried because his sister-in-law, Gertrude, had phoned to say that Carl's brother, George, had collapsed at dinner of a heart attack.

If you're still game, we'll continue. While George was dying, Jane was sneaking out from Chris at the dance to run off with a pick-up, Russell, who was a civil engineer and very suave. You knew he was suave because he said things like "my pleasure" when he lit cigarettes.

Well, by the time Jane—or was it Chris? No, it was Jane — got home from the dance, Jane's mother, Bess, had decided that Jane was not prepared for life. "All she thinks about is parties, dresses and dates," wailed Bess, adding that Jane couldn't cook or sew either. (Frankly, I couldn't understand what all the fuss was about because Jane seemed ideally prepared for marriage).

Anyway, the episode wound up with Bess breaking the news to Jane that her Uncle George was dead and Jane cried: "But it's so horrible!"

SHORT SHOTS: The underwater fantasy on the NBC-TV Arthur Murray Party last night was well-conceived and well-executed by the Baird Marionettes. The piece might have been really charming if the pivotal human in the sequence had been a performer with a feeling for line and movement instead of the earthbound Kathryn Murray.

I counted 12 reruns in prime time on the three networks last night and it's only the beginning of summer. Obviously, it's time for everyone to put their eyeballs in mothballs.

Doesn't Recognize Dalai Lama's Rule

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government made clear today it does not support the fugitive Dalai Lama's claim that he is running the real government of Tibet from his self-imposed exile in India.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said the Indian government does "not recognize any separate government of Tibet and there is therefore no question of a Tibetan government under the Dalai Lama functioning in India."

The 23-year-old Buddhist god-king told a news conference at Mussoorie June 20 that "wherever I am, I am accompanied by my government, which the Tibetan people recognize as the government of Tibet."

★ ★ ★

India recognizes the Chinese Communists as the legal government of China and also recognizes China's claim to sovereignty over Tibet.

Court to Consider Chicago Water Issue

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court yesterday permitted the reopening of a 1930 decree which regulated the amount of water taken by Chicago from Lake Michigan.

The action was taken on a request by six states that Chicago be directed in an amendment of the decree to return to Lake Michigan water which is taken for domestic use. The water so used is now discharged into the Illinois waterway and finds its way into the Mississippi River basin.

Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New York in briefs filed with the Supreme Court contended increased amounts of water taken for Chicago domestic use threatened irreparable harm to the six states.

Sausage Makers Win Approval of Additives

LANSING (UP)—A bill asked by sausage makers to permit artificial methods to speed up aging of their product passed the Senate last night and was referred to the Governor.

It fell two votes short of the 18 required on a first roll call but was reconsidered and approved, 22 to 6. Opponents said too many adulterants now are allowed.

4th Youth Gets Jail Sentence

Twins, in Same Theft of Birmingham Safe, Put on Probation

A fourth member of a teenage gang which stole and rifled a safe from a Birmingham home last month is headed for Jackson Prison, while two others were placed on probation yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Sentenced to a term of 1 to 15 years by Judge Adams was Gregory Bosak, 17, of 700 Ruffner St., Birmingham. Bosak pleaded guilty June 5 to a lesser count of breaking and entering.

Placed on probation for three years and assessed $150 court costs each were Carl and Clark Mays, 17-year-old twin brothers of 311 E. Muir St., Hazel Park.

In handing out probation to the Mays boys, both of whom also pleaded guilty to breaking and entering June 5, Judge Adams said both had a record free past while Bosak did not.

Judge Adams had already sent to Jackson Prison three other members of the gang which took the safe from the home of Elwood Kapke of 1263 Brookwood Dr., only to discover it contained $8,000 in non-negotiable stocks and bonds and $8 in cash.

The breakup of the gang of six youths and two juveniles began when Hazel Park police arrested Larry McFarland, 19, of Hazel Park for driving a stolen car. Under questioning he admitted several robberies in the area and named his companions.

Birmingham Detective Lt. Merlin Holmquist said the safe was stolen when the Kapkes were away, pried open in a garage at the rear of Bosak's home, and the contents later buried in a field in Birmingham.

Army Base Put Up for Sale in California

PITTSBURGH, Calif. (AP) — Camp Stoneman, which processed two million men for World War II and the Korean War, ends its career as a military base today.

The General Services Administration is appraising Stoneman's 1,839 acres and will put it up for sale except for eight acres the Army is keeping for a reserve training center.

To Open Nepal Embassy

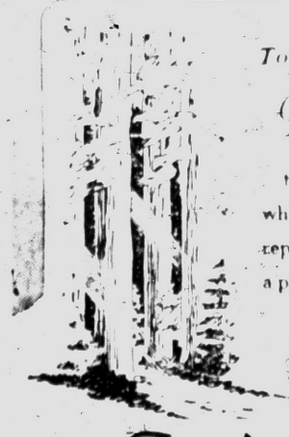

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has decided to open an embassy at Katmandu, capital of Nepal, the State Department announced today. Until now the U.S. Ambassador to India has also served as ambassador to Nepal.

Blooms 95 Straight Years

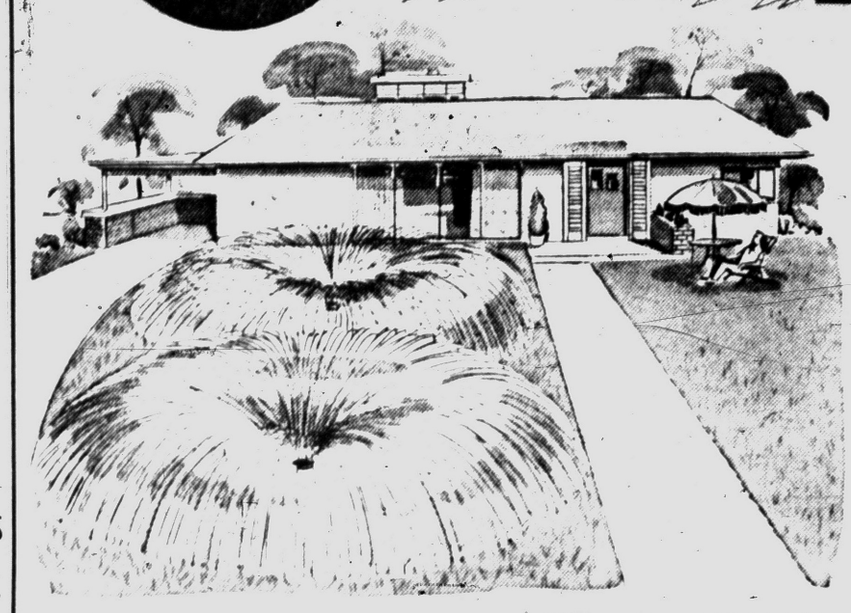

SHEBOYGAN FALLS, Wis. (AP) — A snowball bush in Evergreen Cemetery bloomed again this year for the 95th consecutive year. A pioneer family whose daughter died planted the bush in 1863 and it bloomed first in 1864, according to local historians.

SPEAKING of BEAUTY

IT HAPPENS to everyone! You've gone along day after day feeling fine. Suddenly one morning you look in your mirror and find you're — well, dowdy! Your skin has lost its glow. Lines show up plainly. And your hair! — It falls limp when you comb it. You look old, tired . . . What's the solution?

When this mood strikes, make a beeline for our beauty salon! Our own special brand of magic must have been designed for these days in your life. (In two hours you can feel new again!)

A new hairstyle follows . . . isn't it exciting? A short, restful time under the dryer . . . and you're ready to watch magic in the mirror, as your coiffure is combed into place by one of our male stylists trained in the Virginia Farrell Method. Mr. Paul, well known local hair stylist, has now joined our staff. Donnell Hair Stylists, Miracle Mile Shopping Center, S. Telegraph at Square Lake Rd. Hours: 10 to 9 p. m. daily. FE 8-9639, with or without appointment. Air-conditioned.

VISIT KRAFT'S MOCK-UP SPACE SHIP

On Display Wednesday July 1st 10 A.M. to 9 P.M.

A mock-up space ship that provides an exciting simulated flight through space for its four passengers and one that conceivably could be the forerunner of those used in future interplanetary travel is being exhibited Wednesday, July 1st at Miracle Mile Shopping Center from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. The space ship, designed and fabricated by Kraft Foods by Aerojet-General Corporation, America's largest rocket manufacturer, embarked from Los Angeles in April for a three month's tour of the United States.

The 4,000 pound, 30 foot long ship simulates space flight through the use of electronic gear depicting radar scope pickup and visual travel among the stars and planets and a hydraulic system which moves the ship up and down and tilts it to either side.
