Ike's Outlook for Recovery 'Reasonably Good'

Editor's note: This is the first in an exclusive series of stories covering the World Series by Pee Wee Reece, Brooklyn Dodgers captain. The stories will run each day in the Pontiac Press until the completion of the series.

By PEE WEE REESE

NEW YORK—This is the first writing chore I've done, so I'll go out on a limb right away. I'm picking my team to beat the Yankees in six games—maybe five.

Some of the boys were sort of hoping it would be Cleveland—bigger ball park, bigger check—can't say I blame them but I was rooting for the Yankees.

I prayed that some year I'd hit over three hundred and last year I did. I also prayed we would get another crack at the Yankees before I hung up my spikes. Now we're going to get even for those five lickings.

I think we've got them beat in pitching. They haven't got Allie Reynolds, Vic Raschi, and Ed Lopat any more. They beat us ten to one. Only two of the present Yankee pitchers, Whitey Ford and Tommy Byrne, ever faced us in a series. We beat Whitey in '53 and chased Tommy in '49 even if we didn't win that game. Maybe Casey Stengel will start them in the first two games at the stadium, and maybe they are both a little better now. But Don Newcombe, Johnny Podres, Billy Loes, Clem Labine and Carl Erskine aren't too bad either.

Don't forget we had the best pitching staff in a tough hitters' league—and while you are looking, the record shows we did fairly well in the other departments, too. Man for man, I think we can match anything they've got.

Here in the Forbes Field dressing room this was a good game for us. We're fit and ready and really up for this series with no complexes. Are you listenin' Joe DiMaggio?

Five Americans Among 8 Freed by Red Chinese

British Ships Transport Group From Shanghai to Hong Kong

HONG KONG (INS) — Five Americans, including a sickly Carmelite nun and a young girl who speaks better Chinese than English, reached Hong Kong today from Red China.

The five U. S. citizens arrived on two British boats along with three relatives who were not Americans. The eight were:

Dilmus T. Kanady, 36, of Houston, Tex., a Shanghai businessman who was the last of ten Americans the Reds promised to release two weeks ago.

Eva Stella du Gay (Sister Theresa), 61, of New York City, a nun at the Roman Catholic Carmelite Convent in Shanghai.

Emma Angelina Barry, 13, and her white Russian mother, Mrs. Tamara K. Barry. The girl's father is American and is believed to be living somewhere in the U.S.

Mrs. Marcella Huizer, 39, and her Dutch husband, Peter, 49. Mrs. Huizer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mansternan, live in Walcott, Ind.

The Huizers and Sister Theresa entered Hong Kong aboard the British ship Surat. The Parkers, Barrys and Kanady arrived on the Hunan.

Kanady looked pale and thin and was ordered by a doctor to rest for three days. He appeared to have lost considerable weight but he was able to say that he was "very happy to be here."

Sister Theresa looked very weak and pale. She had been seasick throughout the voyage and was suffering from asthma, bronchitis and arthritis.

She told newsmen that Communists frequently invaded her convent and tried to get the sisters to "confess." She said the nuns were under a great strain and had only poor food.

Little Emma Barry said she was "very excited" to be free. She added:

"By looking at Hong Kong from the porthole I think it is a much better place. It is no fun at all in Shanghai."

Expert Leaves Bedside Satisfied With Progress

President Seen Physically Able to Serve Second Term If Heart Continues to Mend

DENVER (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White said today that barring unforeseen complications, President Eisenhower's prospects for recovery from his heart attack "are reasonably good."

Dr. White was so satisfied with the progress of the President that he left immediately by plane for Boston. He is recognized as one of the country's top heart specialists.

He told a news conference after a final examination of the President that if Eisenhower's progress continues at its present rate he would be "physically able" to serve another term.

The President spent a comfortable night and the doctors said his condition "remains stable."

The latest word on Eisenhower's condition came after his doctors had described his Saturday heart attack as "moderate"—neither mild nor serious.

That medical report was put out by the doctors yesterday afternoon.

Today's terse advisory note was telephoned from Fitzsimons Army Hospital by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty. It said:

"The President had a comfortable night.

"His condition remains stable.

"Dr. White will see him again this morning."

It was signed by Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the White House physician, and by Col. Byron E. Pollock, chief of heart services at Fitzsimons.

Prayerful wishes for speedy recovery of the President, who will be 65 Oct. 14, poured into the temporary White House from all over the world.

At Fitzsimons Army Hospital, where Eisenhower was taken Saturday afternoon, there was no thought of the tremendous political impact of the heart seizure which stunned the nation and people all around the globe.

That concern—and it is huge—was left to Republican party leaders who until the President was stricken had almost unanimously refused to entertain the idea that he might not be available for a second term.

Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston's Massachusetts General Hospital, an eminent heart specialist who flew to Denver, said:

"Even if this is a mild case (and he later called it moderate), the President will have to take things easy for a couple of months. If he gets by the next two weeks, then you can say he probably will be all right."

"Another term for President is quite conceivable," he added before turning to Boston.

The attack seemed to have raised an overriding likelihood that Eisenhower would decide against seeking re-election. He said himself last Aug. 4 the state of his health would be an important factor in his decision.

Although cautiously favorable reports came from the hospital here, Eisenhower aides dealt with the question of whether presidential authority could be delegated to other federal officials in the event of an emergency. There is no question that some authority can be, but the White House asked the Justice Department for a formal legal opinion as to how wide the field may be.

Doctors characterized the heart attack as "moderate" in the afternoon bulletin. It had been first

Isle Storm Toll May Reach 200

Pilot Reports Estimate After Hurricane Janet Lashes Grenada Island

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — A U.S. Coast Guard pilot who landed yesterday at Grenada said today the death toll from Hurricane Janet is believed to be between 125 and 200 on that island. He said there were believed to be about 25 dead on the neighboring island of Carriacou.

Reports from Barbados have listed about 30 dead and 40,000 homeless.

The hurricane struck the British West Indies the night of Sept. 22-23.

Honduras and Nicaragua were warned today of the approach of Hurricane Janet's 110-mile winds.

Extreme northeastern Nicaragua and the northeastern coast of Honduras appeared to be the target for the storm, and interests there were advised to take precautions for dangerous winds and high tides tonight or Tuesday.

Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster at Miami, said Janet apparently would continue her west-northwestward course across the Caribbean Sea but will bear watching.

Fisher, Debbie to Wed Tonight, Friends Report

NEW YORK (INS)—Friends of singer Eddie Fisher and actress Debbie Reynolds today reported the couple will be married tonight at Grossinger's Country Club near Liberty, N. Y.

The ceremony, they said, is scheduled for early evening at the close of Yom Kippur, the solemn holy day of the Jewish faith which ends at sundown.

The Catskill resort has a sentimental interest for Eddie, who rose to stardom after he was discovered there by Eddie Cantor at a 1949 Labor Day show.

Guests planning to attend the wedding were said to include Cantor and heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, a friend of Eddies' who trains at Grossinger's.

Ike's Sickness Spurs Selling

Prices Pushed Down From $1 to $5 a Share in Scores of Stocks

Bond prices also fell, but government bonds were firm and grain prices were higher. Stock prices in London and Toronto skidded.

Stock prices were pushed down $1 to $5 a share in scores of cases and many losses in key stocks went to around $15.

Brokers said the President's illness aroused political and economic uncertainties of such complexity that many stockholders were frightened into selling. Selling abroad was in sympathy with the New York trend.

Buying of government bonds was seen as a case of scared money seeking a haven. In Chicago, brokers said it was the political implication of the President's illness that brought buying in grains.

Selling started slowly in the stock market and hit a top loss of around $10 a share in the first hour. A second hour rally cut these losses substantially, but selling was resumed in the third hour and continued in the fourth hour with enough intensity to send prices off to around $15 a share.

At the start of the second hour of trading, buyers thronged into the market with large orders. Losses speedily were cut one third to one-half in many instances. The rush to buy was too much for the high speed ticker tape to handle, and it fell as much as two minutes behind in reporting transactions on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange. The congestion lasted around 30 minutes.

Nixon, White House Aides in Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon went to the White House today and conferred with top presidential advisers on problems of state arising from President Eisenhower's illness.

* * *

Nixon arrived at the executive mansion for a luncheon session with Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's No. 1 assistant, and Maj. Gen. Wilton Persons, deputy assistant to the President.

Nixon worked at his office at the Capitol through the morning. He announced there would be a meeting of the National Security Council on Thursday and that Atty. Gen. Brownell, who is not a member, would sit in by invitation.

* * *

Assumably, one reason for Brownell's presence will be a discussion of what duties the President could delegate.

Debt-Management Firms Slated for Probe by State

The State Senate's Banking and Corporations Committee will begin hearings about Oct. 15 in Pontiac or Royal Oak on operations of debt-management firms in Michigan.

Such firms have sprung up all over the country in the past few years and their operations border on a "national scandal," said Sen. William S. Broomfield, (R-Royal Oak), the committee's chairman.

Broomfield and his committee members have been gathering information for the past several months "on these firms who offer to keep a person's creditors happy for a few dollars a week," the lawmaker explained.

"On a national scale, there are some 200 companies in the field, many of them with numerous branch offices. Only a few of them run legitimate operations," he stated. "The rest are out to get all they can from already hard-pressed debtors who turn to them in desperation."

Only three states in the nation have laws regulating debt-management firms at all, he explained. The rest, including Michigan, presently have no control whatsoever.

The committee intends to gather data which will allow it to recommend legislation strictly regulating such firms, Broomfield added.

Persons already in dire financial straits most often fall victim, the senator asserted.

"These firms make glowing verbal promises to keep creditors off a debtor's neck by working deals for smaller weekly payments. They say they will keep creditors from getting court orders allowing them to take amounts directly out of a debtor's paycheck.

"They claim to charge only a slight service fee, but many

Air Force Investigates Saturday's C47 Crash

Identities of the victims, who were flying from Steadt Air Force Base near Reno, Nev., to Selfridge Air Force Base at Detroit, have not been released.

The crash occurred while a light snow was falling, but Air Force officials said no radio messages indicating trouble were received.

Local Churches Praying for Ike

Congregations Offer Fervent Petitions for President's Recovery

Churches of all faiths and denominations in Pontiac and surrounding communities offered solemn prayers Sunday for the health and recovery of President Eisenhower, following his heart attack in Denver Saturday.

All differences were forgotten, as ministers, priests and rabbis joined their congregations in asking Divine help for the ailing leader.

A look of personal sorrow could be seen on the faces of many, as heads were bowed in fervent petition. Remarks from Democrats and Republicans alike indicated deep-felt respect for the President, and concern for his well-being.

First Congregational, Central Methodist, Bethany Baptist, All Saints Episcopal, Salvation Army and First Presbyterian were among Protestant churches offering special devotions.

St. Michael Church and other Roman and Greek Catholic churches offered separate pleas, in addition to the regular Sunday prayers for the heads of our government.

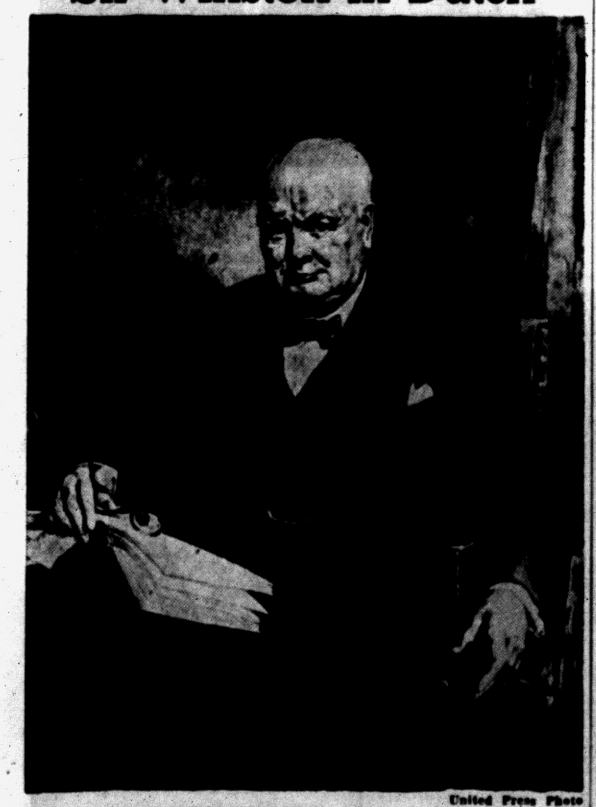

Jewish congregations are offering daily prayers for the President.

Included in the special observances were prayers for the family of Eisenhower and for those who must carry on the responsibilities of government during his illness.

Hitler's Admiral Freed

Key to Survival: Enough Water, When and Where Needed

Thirsty Cities, Factories, Farms Face New Crisis

(EDITOR'S NOTE: — America's water resources are dwindling so rapidly our agricultural and industrial advancement is threatened with disaster—in some cases within a decade. Here, in the first of five articles on the shortage of water, is the story behind an approaching national crisis.)

By ROGER D. GREENE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's thirsty cities, factories and farms today are scooping water from the nation's rain barrel with a giant dipper. There's trouble ahead.

Men have fought and died for water. Civilizations have perished for lack of it, and experts warn disaster could strike again unless U.S. communities awaken to the danger.

President Eisenhower underscored the urgency of the problem last year when he set up a Cabinet committee on water resources and declared:

"If we are to advance agriculturally and industrially we must make the best use of every drop of water which falls on our soil or which can be extracted from the oceans..."

More than 1,000 American cities and towns have water shortage problems. More and more, they are reaching out—sometimes hundreds of miles—for additional water supplies to keep pace with the 20th century's "explosion" of population and the vast expansion of industry since World War II.

Denver, fastest growing city in the mountain west, reports, for example, that without more water its industrial growth will be stopped dead by 1963.

Underground water tables are reported lowering in most of the United States — alarmingly in some regions — with the drop averaging 40 feet from Texas to California in recent years. This summer ground-water tables dropped to all-time record low levels in many states. Even the humid East is feeling the pinch.

Wells in Atlantic City, N.J., used to flow at 20 to 25 feet above sea level. Now the ground-water level has dropped to 85 feet below the sea.

In Salina, Kan., the level has fallen 26 feet in the past three years. It's dropping five feet a year in parts of Arizona. New wells in Mississippi have to be drilled as much as 500 feet deeper than a few years ago to get flowing water.

Over-pumping of wells to supply mushrooming populations and industry has led to the seepage of salt water into fresh water supplies along coastal areas—notably in California, New Jersey, Long Island, N.Y., Louisiana and Florida—and in Los Angeles it has caused the land to sink eight feet in some spots.

But what gives nightmares to Federal and State authorities is the possible long-range effect on human health arising from the flushing of millions of tons of noxious chemicals, oils, acids, grease and other industrial waste into the nation's waterways.

Amid growing countrywide shortages, one out of every seven cities with a 10,000-plus population has to restrict the use of water at times. Hundreds of cities have had to ration or ban lawn sprinkling and car washing in the dry summer months. Some residents "police" each other to guard against violations. New Haven, Conn., has had loudspeaker trucks prowling the city to warn against daytime sprinkling.

Paulsen cited the bleak ruins of cliff dwellings in the American described as a "mild coronary thrombosis," a clotting of blood in a branch of the arteries which supply blood to the heart muscles.

The designation "mild" was used only once—in the Saturday afternoon announcement that the President had been stricken. The switch to "moderate" came after he had been examined by White and another leading heart specialist who flew here from the East.

Eisenhower's illness, first announced as a "digestive upset" by Dr. Snyder, brought his son John, an Army major, from Washington yesterday. The chief executive's wife moved Saturday night from the Denver home of her mother Mrs. John S. Doud to Fitzsimons Hospital, where she took a room across the hall from the President's. She has stayed on there since. John remained at the hospital last night too.

The First Lady visited with her husband twice yesterday. John had one brief chat with his father, who has been in an oxygen tent since he was hospitalized. Physicians said the tent is standard procedure in coronary cases because it enables patients to get complete rest.

Each medical bulletin on Eisenhower's condition was being telephoned to Vice President Nixon in Washington before being made public. And a White House aide gave reports by telephone to each of the President's four brothers.

Until yesterday noon the President's only nourishment had been fruit juices. Then he asked for and got a bowl of oatmeal—and ate it all.

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty, who cut his vacation short and flew to Denver when Eisenhower was stricken, reported that the President has slept a good deal in the hospital.

In response to questions, Hagerty said there was no indication as yet how long Eisenhower would have to remain in the hospital. He also said no consideration was being given to moving the President back to Washington.

The day before he was stricken, Eisenhower played 27 holes of golf after returning from a four-day holiday at a Rocky Mountain fishing camp. He looked the picture of health and was in excellent spirits.

The attack hit the President about 2 a.m. Saturday. He apparently wakened Mrs. Eisenhower, who called Dr. Snyder to the Doud residence.

About 45 minutes later, the White House said, Snyder detected the first symptons of a heart attack. He later called in Fitzsimons Hospital specialists who made a cardiograph tracing showing performance of the heart. That confirmed that the President had suffered a seizure.

Snyder decided to hospitalize the President. The first announcement by the White House gave the impression that Eisenhower walked unaided to his car for the seven mile drive to the hospital.

Hagerty said later, however, that the President was "supported and assisted to the car." He said the doctors decided that was better than "putting him in a litter or stretcher" and having to carry him down an incline.

A heavy demand for facial improvements by means of plastic surgery is reported in London.

Iwo Jima Airbase Ripped by Typhoon

* * *

Lt. Col. Arthur R. Kingham of Cleveland, Ohio, messaged from Iwo that no casualties were reported but the storm tore up all warehouses and inflicted major damage on all buildings.

The storm lashed the World War II island battleground with winds up to 172 miles an hour yesterday.

Communications were out for more than 12 hours. Later, messages called for food, tents and medical supplies. A relief plane was sent by the Air Force.

Kingham said base quarters were damaged but liveable and that the water supply was good.

City Police Take 3rd Place in State Pistol Shooting

* * *

The local team scored 1424 points to place them behind shooters from Kalamazoo (first) and Jackson (second).

* * *

They were awarded a plaque to be displayed at headquarters here and each team member was presented an inscribed cigarette box.

Top marksman was Sgt. Harry Nye who led fellow team members with a 281 score. Next were Officer Robert Verbine, 350; Officer Robert Gaines, 284; and Officer John Justice, 345.

Last year, the local men placed 7th in the shoot which pits city, State Police and Sheriff's Depts. from all over the state against each other for the Governor's Trophy.

Pontiac competed in the Class B category for departments with 51 to 101 men.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. 3-man team placed 20th in competition with 40 class D teams. Team members included Deputies Charles Rahn, Raymond Bills and Ferris Holcomb.

This was the first time that the Sheriff's Dept. has entered a team in the shoot.

Ike's Physicians Receive Praise

Boston Heart Specialist Says That He's Getting Excellent Care

DENVER (INS)—Staff medical officers at Fitzsimons Army Hospital in Denver have been highly recommended for their treatment of President Eisenhower since he suffered a heart attack Saturday.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, eminent heart specialist who flew in to Denver from Boston to assist in treatment of Eisenhower, stated through Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty that "the President has received and is receiving excellent treatment at Fitzsimons."

Other physicians who are on call at all times are Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the President's personal physician; Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, a heart specialist from the Army's Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C.; and the civilian Dr. White.

The three Fitzsimons staff doctors are Col. George W. Powell, director of medicine at Fitzsimons; Lt. Col. John A. Sheedy, chief of general medicine service, and Col. Byron E. Pollock, chief of cardiology service.

State Plans Probe of Debt Companies end up by taking as much as 25 per cent of the total debt for their services while making little or no effort to do what they claim they will."

One firm which has operated in South Oakland and Wayne Counties will be called before the committee, said Broomfield.

It has sent letters to persons being sued by their creditors offering to keep them free of bill collectors by distributing each week whatever the debtors could afford to pay their creditors, he asserted.

"They say they will charge only a small service fee plus a few cents a week for appeasing individual creditors and for bookkeeping," the senator stated.

"However, the debtor signs a contract containing a blank note later filled in by the company to include a $50 service fee.

"The note is then turned over to another firm allied with the debt-management company which sues the debtor for the $50.

"Instead of getting help, the debtor finds himself being sued by one more creditor.

"The firm continually puts off a court hearing on the suit until a time when the debtor does not appear, then gets a default judgment against him while he is absent."

One man ended up by paying $142 to cover a $65 debt, said Broomfield.

Legitimate debt - management firms support controlling legislation which will chase dishonest operators from the field, the senator stated.

No complaints have been lodged against firms in the Pontiac area, said Broomfield. One of them has appeared before the committee to urge proper legislative restrictions, he added.

Rayburn Says He Won't Seek President's Chair

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn today denied published reports he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination in 1956.

Police are holding Richard Bryce, 25, of 1456 Ruffner, for investigation of breaking and entering in the night time, after finding an 800 pound safe in the trunk of his car, and spotting him on the roof of Keller-Koch Inc., 479 S. Woodward Ave.

Patrolmen Douglas Marble and Patrick O'Hara saw a roof top shadow while making a routine check about 3 o'clock this morning and then found the safe in a car parked with its motor idling, behind the building.

They summoned help which brought police assistance from Bloomfield Hills and Township, Troy Township, and Royal Oak. Police said Bryce was on his way back into the building to lock the door he carried the safe through. He had entered through the roof after tearing out a ventilator.

Marion Karnas, Keller-Koch office manager, said the company ledgers and between $400 and $500 in checks were in the safe, and added that about $2,000 in cash and checks had been overlooked.

Further police investigation revealed that Pearl's Gardens, a next door restaurant at 469 S. Woodward, had also been broken into and $5.90 taken from a cash register. Bryce is to be questioned on both issues.

As first vice president of the Southeastern Michigan Assn. of Chiefs of Police, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley is one of nine law officials throughout Michigan invited to meet with Gov. G. Mennen Williams in Lansing today.

Discussion will center around highway safety problems, and particularly on reducing fatal accidents.

Opening its fall activities with a dinner meeting at the Community House at 7 tonight will be the Altrusa Club, with Mrs. Opal Cunningham of Detroit as guest speaker.

* * *

Teachers at Baldwin School will open their classrooms for discussions with parents at 7:30 tonight, with the PTA meeting to follow at 8. President Eliot Reynolds will discuss functions of the PTA.

He will then introduce Paul Carter, assistant superintendent of schools, and Roland W. Reese, Recreation Board member, as guest speakers.

* * *

Vaughan School PTO will honor its teachers with a reception at 8 tonight at the school. The school board and other officials will stand in the receiving line.

Ernest Charles Thompson

Service for Ernest Charles Thompson, 63, of 427 Southlawn, will be at 1 p. m. Wednesday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery. He died Sunday after a long illness.

Mr. Thompson leaves his widow, Zula; three daughters, Mrs. Albert J. Landino of Birmingham; Mrs. Ross L. Reilly of Allen Park; Mrs. Chester Mildrowski of Mt. Clemens; his mother, Mrs. Jennie Thompson of Hazel Park; three sisters, Mrs. Beulah Crocker, Mrs. Mildred Jankowski, Mrs. Ora Priest; three brothers, Roy L., Arthur, Fred, and seven grandchildren.

Marjorie Anne Wertman

Service for Marjorie Anne Wertman, three-and-half month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Wertman, 31650 Westlady, Southfield Township, was held at 1 p. m. today at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Entombment followed in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

The infant, who was born June 13 at William Beaumont Hospital, died there Friday.

Besides her parents, she is survived by one sister, Mary, and two brothers, William and Fred, all at home.

Officers Plead for Marcus Baby; 'Won't Prosecute'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — If the woman who kidnaped baby Robert Marcus a week ago today wants to return him to his crib in Mt. Zion Hospital, police say, there's no trap waiting for her.

* * *

That announcement was the latest development in a week of fruitless searching and frustrating dead-end leads.

Reports continue to flow in from people who say they've seen a woman meeting the description of the buxom blond who presumably took the Marcus baby, then only 3 days old, from the Mt. Zion nursery.

The father, Dr. Sanford Marcus, 34, may take his wife Hanna, 29, home from Mt. Zion today. The young mother was so grief stricken she refused food for several days and had to be fed intravenously. But she rallied Saturday after her other two children, 3 and 2 years old, were taken to her bedside.

Crews Resume Hunt for 3 Missing Pilots

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—Air and surface craft resumed their search today for three Langley-based Air Force jet pilots whose planes disappeared Saturday on routine training missions.

One was believed to have come down somewhere south of Atlantic City. Search for the other two was being centered in the Chesapeake Bay area.

Two deflated life rafts of the type used in the missing F84F Thunderstreaks had been found—one near Plum Tree Island in the Chesapeake and the other in Mobjack Bay, near Deltaville, Va. They provided the only clue.

GM Powerama Closes 26-Day Exhibit in Chicago

CHICAGO — The General Motors Powerama, a spectacular exhibition of Diesel and gas turbine power, closed a 26-day run Sunday night after being seen by well over two million visitors.

The big "World's Fair of Power," which occupied 1,000,000 square feet on Chicago's lake front, drew international attention. It was the first time that developments in the important Diesel and gas turbine engine fields had been dramatized on so large a scale.

Visitors came from throughout the nation and many foreign countries. More than 100,000 Chicago school children saw the admission-free show.

Veteran Chicago police officials described the Powerama crowds as the largest here since "A Century of Progress"—Chicago's World's Fair—in 1933-34.

CURTICE COMMENTS

President Harlow H. Curtice of General Motors said the tremendous reception given the Powerama "reinforces my conviction that the Powerama made a substantial contribution to public understanding of the technological progress being made by industry—in this case, in the comparatively little known but most important areas of Diesel and gas turbine power."

* * *

On Sunday, approximately 4,300 members of the American Bankers Assn. and their guests attended a special morning preview of the Powerama. The bankers were among many business, civic, military, and fraternal groups who were special Powerama guests since the GM show opened to the public on Aug. 1.

On hand to greet the bankers were Curtice; Albert Bradley, executive vice-president; George Russell, treasurer, and other top GM executives.

Among the 253 Powerama exhibits were the GM aerotrain, revolutionary lightweight train designed and built by General Motors at the request of railroad officials; operating oil rigs, a saw mill, cotton gin, and rock crusher; many forms of land, sea, and air transportation and industrial equipment; and a stage show with "dancing tractors" and other attractions.

3 Knock Hole in Jail, Escape

Statewide Police Alert Sounded for Fugitives From Ottawa County

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — A statewide police alert today sought three prisoners who escaped from the Ottawa County Jail Saturday night by knocking a hole through a wall of the 57-year-old structure.

* * *

Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek said nine other prisoners remained in the cellblock. A janitor reported the 12 by 14 inch hole in the cellblock wall yesterday morning.

Vanderbeek identified the escapees as Vernon F. Hikade, 34, of Grand Rapids; Merle Bowen, 39, of Holland and Larry Bouten, 27, of Lansing.

The sheriff placed the breakout at about 9 p.m. Saturday.

He said the men apparently broke through three layers of brick on the outer wall of their first floor cell with iron bars stolen while helping repair the jail's plumbing Saturday afternoon. Other inmates told Vanderbeek the escapees had been working brick loose earlier Saturday.

EX-POLICE OFFICER

Hikade, a former Grand Rapids and Sparta police officer, was awaiting trial on a charge of driving away an auto without permission. Bowen was awaiting trial on a charge of nonsupport. Bouten was awaiting trial on a charge of taking a cruiser from Grand Haven and sinking it near Chicago.

Barney Boersma Dead

Graham Converts Red Party Worker

READING, England (AP)—Charlie Potter, 44-year - old Communist party organizer, went along to hear American evangelist Billy Graham a few months back—just to see what it was all about.

* * *

Now Potter says he has rejected his Marxist beliefs entirely, thrown up his job and started a new life as a Christian evangelist. He credited Graham with his conversion.

* * *

"I shall travel around trying to show people that Christianity is the answer to communism," he said.

"I found that Marxism is a very intriguing philosophy, but it did not give me the satisfaction of heart and mind one expects to find in God."

92-Year-Old Painter Takes His Own Life

A grandson, John Nairn, 29, told police that Wieczorek had been in good physical health but had brooded since the death of his wife in 1951 and, earlier this month, his housekeeper of many years.

Indianapolis Man Named

WASHINGTON (INS) — William C. Kern of Indiana, a former staff member of the Federal Trade Commission, was sworn in today as a member of the five-man group.

The 53-year-old native of Indianapolis became the first FTC employe in the commission's 41-year history to be given a presidential appointment as commissioner. His term is for seven years.

Car 'Littered' With $297

FAIR LAWN, N. J. (AP)—Somebody littered up the automobile of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mondelli while they attended a picnic here yesterday.

Till Kidnap Hearing to Open This Week

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)—The second phase of the state's case against two white men accused of kidnaping and killing a Negro boy begins here this week.

* * *

Dist. Atty. Stanny Sanders said he expects a preliminary hearing on the kidnap charge to be held not later than Friday. The men were cleared of a murder charge last Friday in a trial that drew international attention.

The boy, 14-year-old Emmett Till of Chicago, was snatched from his uncle's home near here early Aug. 28—four days after he allegedly wolf-whistled and made "insulting" remarks to Mrs. Roy Bryant, 21, in the Bryant grocery store at Money.

* * *

Bryant, 24, and his half-brother J. W. Milam, 36, of Glendora, Miss., were arrested the next day. A brutally battered body identified as Till's was found in adjoining Tallahatchie County Aug. 31.

British Military Marshal Named Cyprus Governor

LONDON (AP)—Britain today named her top military official, Field Marshal Sir John Harding, to be governor and commander in chief of the rebellious Mediterranean island colony of Cyprus.

Harding, 59, now is chief of the imperial general staff. Gen. Sir Gerald Templer, former high commissioner and commander in chief in Malaya, is succeeding him.

140,000 of your neighbors use

Electric Clothes Dryers

Why do so many folks choose electric clothes dryers? Simply because electric heat is as clean as the sun's.

There's another reason why electric dryers have the edge. They cost less to buy... operate for only pennies a load. They are convenient, too. Rain or shine, you can dry clothes anytime in an electric dryer.

Cold War Eases in France, Anti-U.S. Slogans Fading

PARIS (INS) — Scattered throughout the French country-side are grim reminders of the cold war—which recently has been showing signs of thawing.

Weather beaten and faded "Americans Go Home" slogans can still be seen scribbled on walls and railroad trestles in France.

A few have been roughly whitewashed but others just remain waiting for time and rain to bleach them.

These now-pallid eyesores were the handiwork of the Communist "Owl Squads," who went about nightly with their paintbrushes and buckets at the height of the bitter cold war.

Today they are mute but eloquent reminders of the complete failure of the Red attempt to whip up French feelings against the United States airbases and military installations.

POLITICAL, NOT EMOTIONAL

Because anti-Americanism in France has not always ben essentially politically-inspired, it never was an emotional issue.

A large majority of Frenchmen welcomed the creation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which offered them a shield against another possible invasion.

Frenchmen still have bitter memories of the brutal Nazi occupation under which thousands were executed and nearly a million persons were deported. Non-Communist Frenchmen did not relish the prospect of an invasion by another totalitarian horde.

The United States used this psychological background to move into France shortly after the creation of NATO.

American forces in France fall under two distinct categories. The first are those stationed in France as NATO elements under the control of SHAPE (Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe).

The latter is designed to guarantee supply channels to American troops in Germany.

In both instances France is the host nation. This status is symbolized by flying both the French Tricolor and the Stars and Stripes at all American bases in France.

Canadian air force units are also stationed in France under NATO.

40 AIRBASES

Some 40 airbases have been built by the French for NATO's use. Some of these are utilized by the French air force.

The French people have taken a realistic, hardheaded attitude towards rearmament, which they regard as a necessary evil as long as the law of the jungle remains as a final recourse in relations among nations.

With regards to the presence of foreign soldiers on their soil the French still regard United States servicemen as executory agents of alien policies.

This point may be illustrated by the following anecdote:

A Frenchman complained to his neighbor about the noise the American jets based nearby were making. The neighbor replied, "What are you grousing about? French jets make much more noise. And I am proud of it."

Russia's Shelterbelts Good Example for U.S.

One thing in Russia that greatly impressed visiting American farm experts was the vast extent and effectiveness of shelterbelt tree planting.

In the opinion of Dr. W. V. LAMBERT, chairman of the American delegation, the Russian shelterbelts far overshadow those planted in our Dust Bowl in the 1930s. At that time widespread use was made of Russian methods.

He believes our farmers could profit now by using knowledge gained by Soviet foresters regarding the proper spacing of trees and best management practices.

Another point emphasized by Dr. LAMBERT is the vast scope of the U.S.S.R. program. On their great plains some 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 trees are planted annually. This activity is at a low ebb in the United States. But its revival would be timely in view of the fact that dust storms again threaten the West.

Trees, of course, are invaluable on the plains. They help keep the soil moist and protect it from wind erosion. Besides making the prairie lands more habitable for men and animals, tree growing is a profitable form of agriculture.

Encouraging the revival of shelterbelt planting is a matter of such importance that it should have nationwide approval and support.

Plastic Foam Houses

Homes someday may be made largely of plastic foam.

That is the prediction of BETTY LOU RASKIN, research associate of the Johns Hopkins University radiation laboratory. In addressing the American Chemical Society at Minneapolis, Miss RASKIN verbally painted an interesting picture of the future.

It revealed housewives upholstering bare furniture frames with spray guns which spread a soft fluffy plastic material. Homes themselves may have walls, floors and roofs of foamed plastic. Because this material is full of little bubbles, it has excellent insulating properties. The result would be lower fuel bills.

★ ★ ★

Most foamed plastics are familiar plastics chemically treated to expand so they contain thousands of either closed or open cells, or both. They can be treated to be as fluffy as cotton or as rigid as wood and woodlike in appearance. Other types can be used to make resilient floor tiles, longer wearing shoe soles and many new acid, fire or fungus resistant materials.

★ ★ ★

Homes of plastic foam aren't yet a reality, but prices of these materials gradually are becoming competitive. That certainly gives promise of the day when chemistry not only will build homes but thereby will help reduce the home building drain on our forest reserves.

Greater Highway Safety a Bipartisan Problem

When the Legislature meets late in October it will have had ample time to consider two highway safety programs.

One is the eight point plan advanced by the Republicans at Mackinac Island and unanimously approved by the GOP State Central Committee. The other is the 14 point program Gov. WILLIAMS will submit to the Legislature.

These two programs are basically similar. This emphasizes the fact that greater highway safety in Michigan is a bipartisan problem. Also emphasized is the importance of keeping safety from becoming a subject of futile political bickering.

Both the Governor and Republican leadership were wise in bringing their programs to public attention this far in advance of the special session. They thus insured that everyone interested in highway safety, as well as the Legislature with which the final decision rests, will have ample time for study of the proposals.

A cause of controversy is the Governor's plan to take driver licensing away from local police and sheriffs and place it in the hands of civil service employes. Certain other proposals have been criticized on the ground that they call for State expenditures for purposes which properly are the obligations of local government units.

★ ★ ★

Certainly deserving of careful consideration are such proposals as more State Police, stricter driver licensing practices and more widespread driver education.

We hope that when the lawmakers meet they will take the best features of both programs as a basis for much needed new highway safety legislation.

passes out some observations and forecasts from his Pontiac Trail lodge. They forebode a hard winter. The cornhusks are thicker, the squirrels more active in their storage work, the caterpillars already are crawling toward the south, the birds are ganging up earlier than usual for their migration, the wild geese are honking louder, and the hog spleen runs much thinner. Also, in his observations of over a half century, Jake has found that a hard winter almost invariably follows an extra hot summer.

David Lawrence Says:

2nd Term for Ike 'Quite Conceivable,' Heart Specialist Reports From Denver

WASHINGTON—The throb of a single heart, its sudden deviation from normal, was enough over the weekend to change the whole face of public affairs from one of calm serenity to anxiety and uncertainty.

For the possible absence of the metaphorical heart of Dwight Eisenhower—the man of kindness and compassion, the man whose depth of understanding and spirit of conciliation has won world renown—brought grave concern to millions of people in this and foreign lands.

* * *

Sometimes it takes the shock of change to bring an awareness of the meaning of the past.

Few thought in 1952 that a man whose whole life had been dedicated to the art of war would become the man of peace to whom nations felt drawn with a yearning that he might accomplish what others had failed to do.

Few thought, moreover, that a man whose career had been deliberately detached from politics could understand popular currents and find himself the most popular figure, politically speaking, of a half century in America.

GOP CAUTIONED

But just as Woodrow Wilson in 1912 told a hero-worshipping nation, which was being asked to give a third term to Theodore Roosevelt, that there is no "indispensable man," so Dwight Eisenhower this year has been telling the political leaders of his party the same thing to correct this mistaken dependence on his own expected candidacy for re-election.

* * *

While the Eisenhower personality was a popular one in the campaign of 1952, it was the negative trend against Trumanism which made the wartime general such a welcome alternative. Some 50,000,000 voters do not know enough about any one candidate to forsake parties and issues vital to them and vote solely on personal popularity. On the contrary, the tide was running so deeply against the Truman Administration on the issues of "Korea, communism and corruption" that almost any prominent Republican could have won in 1952.

Similarly in the absence of any palpable misdeeds in the political sense such as responsibility for a depression or lack of integrity in public office, the economic condition of the country and its relations to the world is the deciding factor in continuing the administration in power. Hence it has been contended by many experienced observers that anyone the Republicans choose can win in November 1956 if "peace and prosperity," as the people know those issues today, are still prevalent at election time.

Conversely, if a depression hits the country next year or a recession such as swung the 1954 congressional elections to the Democrats, not even an Eisenhower would be certain of victory.

PARTY STRONGER

Today the Republican Party is much stronger than it was in 1952 because the myth heard on the stump from the Democrats that the Republicans can bring only depressions has been wiped out by economic facts of the boom era now prevalent.

* * *

So far as world affairs are concerned, it is the secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, who has laid the foundations of American foreign policy though indeed the peaceful aspirations of that policy have been singularly dramatized by President Eisenhower and given warmth by his remarkable faculty for exuding friendliness. This was exemplified by the recent conference in Geneva.

The expectation generally, when the news came last Saturday, was that a "mild heart attack" would surely remove Eisenhower from the political scene. But physical handicaps have not always in the past disqualified men from holding high office. When infantile paralysis attacked Franklin D. Roosevelt it was regarded by many as ending his political career. But his strong will overcame such theories and he served three terms in the White House and a part of the fourth.

Only a few weeks ago Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader of the Senate, suffered a severe heart attack but expects to be back on the job in Congress next January as he has been making an excellent recovery. Dr. Paul White of Boston, famed heart specialist, who was called into consultation at Denver, was quoted as saying that "a second term for Mr. Eisenhower is quite conceivable."

STRESS HARMFUL

A heart attack spells the necessity for judicious use of physical energy thereafter. It means the end of golf for many patients. The President played 27 holes last Friday. But mostly it requires an avoidance of stress and strain and nervous tensions. Eisenhower never was the worrying kind. He was able even during the war to take things in his stride. At the White House he rapidly became accustomed to a staff-type of operation which spared him tension.

* * *

So the sudden change, announced over the weekend by the doctors' bulletins, did not necessarily mean to some observers that the President was disqualified for a second term in the presidency unless he himself or the Fates decide it that way.

Brady's Advice Too Late to Help Rear 7 Children

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

A reader in the deep south writes:

I am gradually being educated in what to expect of this piece of clay that has a padlock on my soul.

* * *

I reared seven children, gave them an education, and one of them is now an M.D. Naturally we are proud of his record, as of our other sons'—we had seven in this past war.

Please send me your pamphlet on . . . You see, the education mentioned is from Dr. William Brady. I have read your column regularly since it first appeared in our paper, and I wish I might have had access to your teachings when I was rearing my youngsters.

(Signed) Mrs.——

You do me great honor, Ma'am. Your letter is one out of ten thousand that I shall keep in my scrap book.

HIGH TITLE

Seven sons in the war! You are more than an institution, Ma'am. You're a Mother.

I regard as kindly flattery your wish that you might have had access to my teachings when the children were little tots.

Now it behooves me to be chary when there's a doctor in the family, but I'm in so deep that I may as well go all the way and hope that the doctor will remember that in all my teachings I am guided by the injunction of Hippocrates—Do Good If You Can But Do No Harm.

In token of my admiration, Ma'am, I am sending you A Lot of Lessons in the Ways of Health—a ($6) pocket encyclopedia in 23 volumettes with my compliments. If you will give me the doctor's name and address I'll be happy to send him one, into which he may dip occasionally for amusement if not for instruction.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Voice of the People

Unit Captain Expresses Gratitude for Welcome

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I should like to express the grateful appreciation of the members of this unit for the fine reception we have had since moving into this community. The friendliness of the people, their many expressions of welcome, both public and private, have made our adjustment to this area a very enjoyable one.

I should like to make special mention of the people in the area of the site of Auburn Heights, who, as our very close neighbors, have accepted our entrance into their neighborhood in a manner unparalleled in the history of the Detroit Defense.

Our mission here is to defend the greater Detroit area against any enemy aggressor who attempts to destroy the industrial arsenal that this area represents. All our efforts shall be focused, day and night, towards being ready for this task, which God willing, shall never come.

To the community, many thanks from the men and officers of D Battery, 516th AAA Missile Battalion. We shall ever strive to attain your highest confidence and uphold the fine traditions of the United States Army.

National Security Council Carries on for Eisenhower

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States government went to work on a business-as-usual policy today despite the loss of President Eisenhower's active leadership for an indefinite period.

The National Security Council now becomes the most important policy-making agency in the government. A strong advisory group, it now affords the mechanism through which Vice President Nixon may act in some degree as a substitute president, and others can share problems which otherwise would be the President's.

* * *

To a lesser degree the Cabinet also provided a continuing body to carry on the administration's policies.

Assurances that the domestic and foreign policies and operations of the Eisenhower administration will go forward without a hitch came quickly yesterday from Nixon and three Cabinet secretaries—Dulles of State, Humphrey of Treasury and Benson of Agriculture.

Eisenhower retains the full powers of the presidency, but many of his responsibilities and much more of the work load that normally would be his can be delegated to others.

* * *

Even while recuperating from the heart attack which struck him Saturday, Eisenhower presumably could sign papers and make those decisions important enough to be brought to his attention.

The Constitution provides that the vice president take over in case of the removal of the President, his death, resignation or "inability to discharge the powers and duties of office."

* * *

Only when a president has died has a vice president ever taken over, however. No president has ever retired while in office, although the possibility was discussed after President Woodrow Wilson suffered a stroke Oct. 2, 1919. He finished out the 17 months of his term and survived for three more years.

Eisenhower's illness has taken him out of action at a critical period in world affairs when the great problem of the Western Alliance is to design and carry through a series of adjustments to Russia's peace and good will offensive. For much of the world Eisenhower is the symbol of peace-seeking Western policies in this respect.

* * *

The statute which created the security council eight years ago gave it six members — the President, the vice president, the secretaries of state and defense, the foreign aid director and the mobilization director. But in practice Eisenhower has broadened it to include other agencies and departments whose representatives are invited to discuss matters directly affecting their work.

* * *

The task of the council under Nixon's leadership will be to produce the high policy decisions required of the government from week to week as problems arise primarily in the field of foreign affairs.

If this agency or one like it did not exist there might be a strong tendency for the business of the government to break down into departmental handling — with one department tending to make decisions independently of the views of others interested.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Mental Outlook Has a Powerful Effect on Day by Day Performance of Athletes

A star baseballer like Ralph Kiner estimates that athletic success is at least 40 per cent psychological. But in some cases it may be far more than that, for a pitcher who is a total flop today may pitch a no-hitter four days later. That's a case of almost 100 per cent psychological change.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Success in baseball is about 40 per cent due to your mental outlook," Ralph stated earlier this season.

And we psychologists not only assent but believe an athlete's efforts are often 50 to 75 per cent based on his mental outlook.

For example, a star pitcher may be batted out of the box today. But four days later he may pitch a no-hit game.

"He has nothing on the ball," his catcher may exclaim.

* * *

But in four days he has everything on the ball and fogs them past the batters so skilfully that not a man gets even one scratch hit.

Obviously, his muscular development and weight and experience have not changed significantly in the four days' interval.

JUDGMENT DIFFERS

It's psychology! It usually isn't greater muscular strength, but it is timing and control, which are matters of judgment.

When he is a flop, his fast ball may blaze across just as swiftly but he can't cut the corners with his curves.

* * *

Or maybe he is worried because his child has a high fever and he is afraid it might have a fatal malady.

PRIDE INJURED

Maybe he is enraged because some sports writer failed to play him up as he felt he deserved. Or maybe the sports writer panned him unduly.

It would probably pay rich dividends if a new concept were introduced into professional athletics.

Let a professional psychologist operate a unique kind of training table to which all the players could bring their gripes and grudges, jealousies and worries.

Then let the players talk out their problems, aided by the skillful advice of the psychologist.

* * *

A few years ago I was greatly interested in reading that the St. Louis Browns were hiring a hypnotist to aid the team, for the idea is a fertile one.

But a few weeks later I read that the arrangement had been discontinued. If I operated an athletic team, professional or amateur, I'd rely on a psychology coach as much as on rigorous batting practice or pitching drill.

POWER OF HYPNOSIS

In England, an interesting experiment in hypnosis, was performed on soldiers. They were first given a muscular test of their handgrip.

Since they were competing, they apparently performed at their best and they averaged 101 lbs. handgrip.

Then they were hypnotized and told they were weak, sickly, anemic, etc. In short, they were given a defeatism attitude. Then they were asked to grip the machine as tightly as possible. They now averaged only 69 lbs.

Before being awakened from their hypnotic trance, they were offered the positive suggestion that they were strong, Herculean, powerful, etc.

Now they were asked to grip the machine as strongly as possible and they averaged 140 lbs. per man, which was more than twice their strength when they were feeling weak and defeated.

* * *

But this 140 lbs. also was almost 40 per cent better than their best records in the waking state!

So, coaches, consider psychology, especially when you have $200,000 invested in a great player who is off form.

Always write to Dr George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Ladejinsky Case Calls Key Men

Civil Service Committee to Hear Stassen, Smith, McLeod and Others

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Civil Service subcommittee investigating the administration's employe security program called key government officials today for questioning about the Wolf Ladejinsky case.

* * *

Milan D. Smith, executive assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture Benson, and J. Glen Cassity, the Agriculture Department's personnel security officer were leadoff witnesses.

STASSEN CALLED

Also called were Harold E. Stassen, former director of the Foreign Operations Administration, and Scott McLeod, the State Department's security chief.

Ladejinsky, a Russian-born government land reform expert, received security clearance from the State Department and was employed as an agricultural attache in Japan. But last December, when his job was transferred to the Agriculture Department, his clearance was lifted and he was dismissed.

* * *

In the uproar that followed, he was cleared and hired by Stassen's Foreign Operations Administration and assigned to land reform work in Communist-threatened Indochina. Benson later ordered Ladejinsky's designation as a security risk stricken from Agriculture Department records.

Israeli Alarmed Over U.S.-Egypt Arms Sale Offer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is trying to counter with its own offer a Russian bid to sell arms to Egypt. Such a sale of American weapons would almost surely bring a hot protest from Israel.

* * *

The American offer was made on the theory that United States security would be weakened if Russia became an arms supplier to Middle Eastern countries.

Egypt was described as very much interested in the American offer but was reportedly seeking American financial aid to buy the military equipment.

Israel regards any attempt to bolster the armed forces of the Arab countries as a threat to its own security. However, Israel's forces are known to be better equipped than almost all the Arab countries combined.

* * *

American officials have learned that Russia in a secret proposal offered Egypt items including tanks, artillery, jet fighters, naval vessels and infantry supplies.

Tons of fruit spoiled at London's Covent Garden when porters refused to handle goods not stored on the ground floors of warehouses.

Convict Sends Get Well Hopes to Paralyzed Cop

CHICAGO (AP) — Policeman Ray McNally, bedridden and partly paralyzed, received a get well message yesterday from a prison inmate he once shot.

"If it wasn't for you, I would not be living today," the letter read. "I pray to God for your quick recovery."

McNally said he shot the man as he attempted to flee from a police car. He said the prisoner, whose name was not given, was later sentenced to Joliet State Penitentiary for armed robbery.

While 350,000 Wait
Gets Unwanted Phone

BECKENHAM, England (AP)—Mrs. Evan Haines said today there are 350,000 people on a waiting list for telephones, but the government is installing a telephone she doesn't want.

* * *

Mrs. Haines told this story:

She saw a man digging a hole outside her apartment house and asked him what he was doing.

"Nothing to worry about, lady," he said, "just laying on your new phone."

"But I don't want a telephone."

"I've got my orders," said the workman, shrugging his shoulders and continuing his digging.

* * *

During the next few days more workmen came. They bored a hole through a garden wall, dug up part of the lawn, laid a cable and strung a wire up the side of the apartment building.

Mrs. Haines appealed to the local council, which owns the low-rent housing block.

"They said there was nothing they could do about it," she reported.

Asked about the telephone that Mrs. Haines does not want, a spokesman for the post office, which maintains Britain's state-owned telephone system, said:

"We know Mrs. Haines doesn't want a telephone, but in the future some other tenant of her flat may have different ideas."

Sgt. Hamlin to Attend 12 Week Repair Course

Sgt. 1. C. Frank Hamlin, 24, left Pontiac Friday for Ft. Meade, Md., where he will begin a 12-week course at the base instrument repair school.

Sgt. Hamlin, a Pontiac Motor Division employe, is a member of the 107th Ordnance Company, one of Pontiac's National Guard units.

Son Sees Family Auto Make Like a Submarine

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Eileen Whelan didn't have to board the submarine Tambor on the Detroit River to show her 11-year-old son an underwater craft.

No sooner did the two start for the submarine yesterday when their parked car began to roll, gained momentum and was launched—right in the river.

Detroit Girl's Death Results From Burns

DETROIT (INS)—A five-year-old girl, who was seriously burned Sept. 8 when flames from a rubbish fire turned her into a human torch, died early today in Detroit's Receiving Hospital.

* * *

Mrs. Kuhn caught up with the child, tore off her blazing clothing and beat out the flames in the girl's hair.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Diggs Tells Negro Rally Mississippi Trial Failed Cause of Justice

DETROIT (AP)—A Negro congressman from Detroit who attended the murder trial of two white men accused of slaying a 14-year-old Chicago Negro in Mississippi says he never saw such "sheer perjury and fantastic twisting of facts."

Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. (D-Mich) told a rally of more than 6,000 people of his race yesterday that the state of Mississippi had failed to meet "this crucial test of justice in the treatment of human beings."

And in its failure, the state has brought "great dishonor to all the people of Mississippi and to the country as a whole," he said.

The rally was called to protest the acquittal in Sumner, Mississippi Friday, of Roy Bryant and J. W. Milam in the slaying of Emmett Louis Till. The white half-brothers were accused of kidnaping Till from his uncle's shack Aug. 28. The state charged they beat the young Negro and dumped his weighted body in the Tallahatchie River after shooting him in the head for having "wolf-whistled" at Bryant's pretty wife.

The two still face kidnaping charges.

Diggs said that Mississippi represents "a shameful and primitive disregard for the essential dignity of all persons."

"The lone antiseptic which helped clean the bad taste of the verdict from my mouth," Diggs said, "was the fairness of Judge Curtis M. Swango."

The turnout for the rally topped the highest expectation of officials of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, who planned the meeting in a church built to seat 2,500.

Some 4,000 jammed the building and the overflow moved to a nearby church. They were later addressed by Diggs.

* * *

Diggs, the first Negro congressman to be elected from Michigan, said he had to "rescue" two Negro witnesses who testified against the white men. He said he "feared for their personal safety."

Stage 'Murder' Is Nearly Fatal to Ida Lupino Kin

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — An actor cousin of actress - producer Ida Lupino nearly suffocated last night in a stage scene in which he is supposed to be murdered, a police ambulance attendant reported.

In the first act of a Scotland melodrama, "Dear Murderer," at the Hollywood Repertory Theater, Richard Lupino is knocked unconscious by the villian. A gag is stuffed in his mouth, a pillow slip put over his head, and his head and shoulders are thrust into a gas oven turned on as the curtain drops.

As the curtain fell, Lupino, 25, failed to rise. The stage manager called the ambulance. Attendant Robert A. Sjoberg said Lupino nearly had suffocated from the gag and pillow case. Smelling salts revived him.

Keep Red Flannel Day!

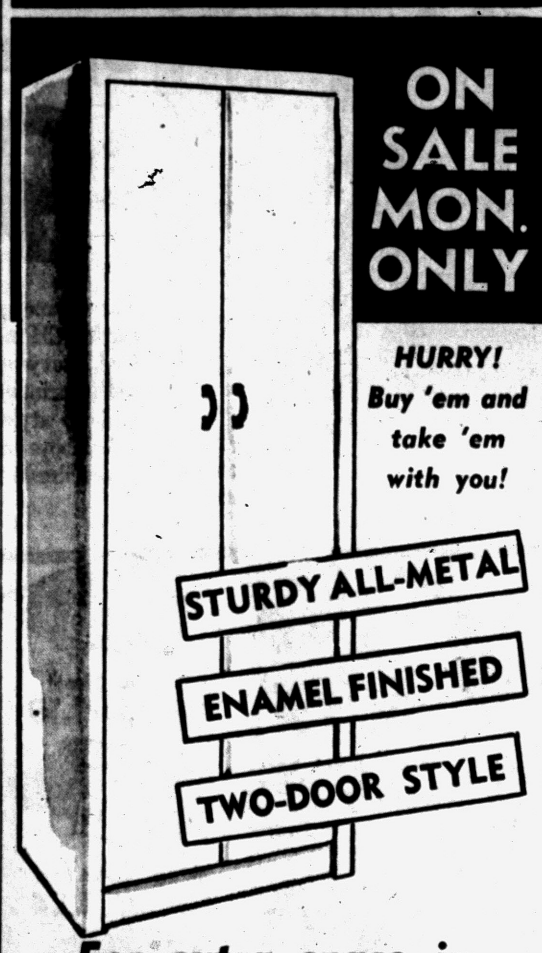

CEDAR SPRINGS (AP)—This tiny western Michigan community, which claims to be the birthplace of red flannel underwear, will celebrate its annual red flannel day Nov. 5. Highlights of festivities will be a parade, a lumberjack supper and the crowning of a red flannel queen during halftime ceremonies at a Cedar Springs high school football game.

Lawmakers Travel Over Much of Globe

By HERMAN R. ALLEN
Associated Press Newsfeature Writer

WASHINGTON — Undaunted by one stay-at-home congressman's dour comment that "They're going all over hell's half acre," a record number of Senate and House members are "junketing" to almost every corner of the globe this year.

While his colleagues were taking off to Aaska, to Central America, to Moscow, to Southeast Asia, this congressman, who didn't want his name to be used, said he was going fishing near home.

Some of the lawmakers are going on private vacation tours, but most are representing congressional committees and travel at government expense.

So many big names — opera singers, businessmen, goverment officials and the like, aside from Congress members — are calling on embassies for VIP treatment that complaints are trickling back to Washington that the diplomats don't have time to get their work done. The Rome, Paris and Moscow embassies seem to be the hardest hit.

Nevertheless, several senators and congressmen, among them Sens. Capehart (R-Ind) and Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me) contend that the nation's legislators ought to travel more. Capehart says he plans to introduce a bill when Congress reconvenes in January establishing it as the duty of every member to travel abroad regularly.

"My gosh," Capehart said as he prepared to leave for a monetary conference at Istanbul, Turkey, "when you think of the global responsibilities that we have to meet almost every day, why, you just can't avoid a conclusion that we ought to go abroad to see for ourselves."

Rep. Passman (D-La), now touring Middle and East Asia as chairman of a House subcommittee handling foreign aid appropriations, believes an investment in such travel pays the government.

The object of his current trip is to see how foreign aid money is being spent. After a similar trip last year his subcommittee put through a half-billion-dollar cut in President Eisenhower's budget request for foreign aid.

Most ambitious travelers this year appear to be members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

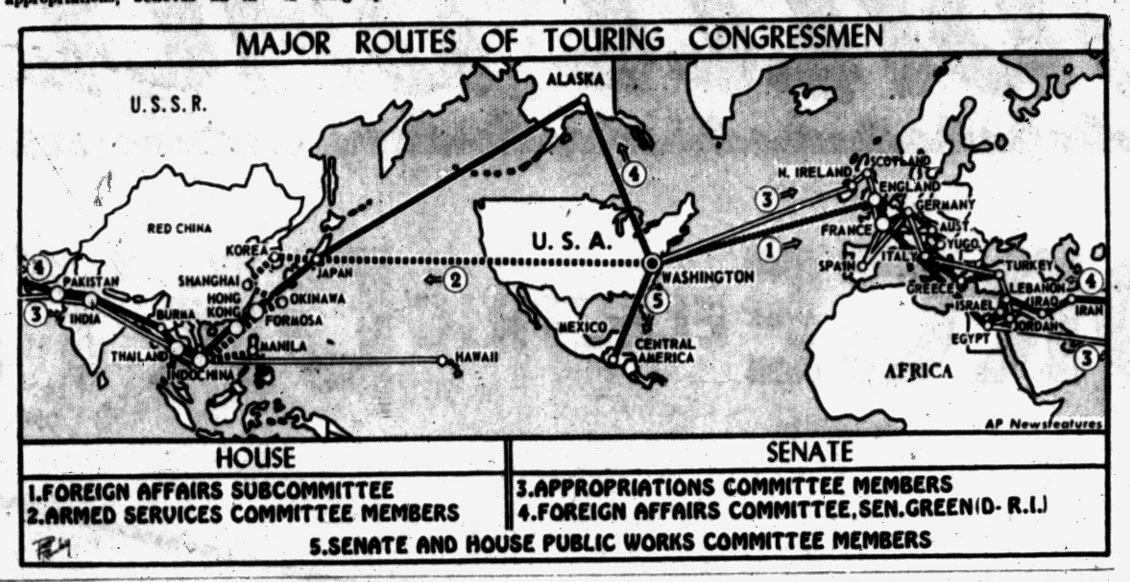

As the accompanying map shows, one House subcommittee is scheduled to go to Europe, touching England, France, Germany, Austria, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and Italy. Other subcommittees are to go to the Middle and Far East and Central and South America, but their itineraries have not been set yet.

Most of the senators traveling on foreign relations matters are going as one-man subcommittees. Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) went to Moscow after attending the Helsinki, Finland, session of the Interparliamentary Union, to which Congress sent a total delegation of 16.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) is touring the Far East, Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) is visiting Indochina and Southeast Asia.

Sen. Green (D-RI), as shown on the map, is circling the globe westward for the foreign affairs group. Enroute his path will cross that of Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass), who is going around the world eastward for the Senate Appropriations Committee after touring Europe and the Middle East with several other committee members.

A two-member appropriations subcommittee visited the Far East in June. Its members were Sens. Clements (D-Ky) and Dirksen (R-Ill).

He Losh His Feef Down Shidewalk Air Shaf Grating

CHICAGO (INS)—The desk sergeant at a Chicago police station listened to this telephoned complaint from R. O. Segraves, 30, of Alton, Ill.:

"Shush hadda accident. Losh my feef inna hole inna shidewalk. Yesh, I said feef."

The police sergenat finally established that Segraves was leaving a subway station in the Loop when his false teeth fell out of his mouth and dropped through an air shaft grating.

He dispatched a Chicago Transit Authority employe to the scene. He unlocked the grating, descended a ladder 15 feet to the bottom and retrieved the denture.

"Thanks," said Segraves, who now can speak nicely about Chicago cops.

Can't Decide? Then This Gadget Is for You

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Nothing is more irritating to a man than a wishy-washy woman who cannot decide whether she wants the vichyssoise or the bluepoints before the filet—or will it be lobster?

* * *

Nothing is more irritating to a woman than a wishy-washy man who cannot decide whether he wants to marry her—or will it be Gladys?

There are only two solutions that I've found to problem personalities of this sort . . .

2) An electronic device called the "Decision Meter."

For centuries, annoyed men and women have indulged in solution No. 1, and found it fairly successful. But there can be no doubt that the swift kick treatment sometimes kicks back. In some cases, it prods a man into making a decision all right—but in favor of Gladys.

* * *

The "Decision Meter" is more scientific, although more complex and costly, and is undoubtedly the coming thing in the treatment and cure of wishy-washiness.

QUICK AND CORRECT

Operated on much the same principle as Univac and other electronic monsters, the meter guarantees to cough up quick, correct decisions to any debatable problems—from "Which dress should I wear to Fanny's party?" to "Shall I quit my job or keep on working for the old blubberhead?"

"What the decision meter does," say the publishers of "Popular Electronics" magazine which describes how to make-it-yourself, "is to help persons analyze their problems sytematically."

All you do is feed the facts into this small, sage box which you have hand-crafted with a variety of electrolytic capacitors, selenium rectifiers and various toggle switches. And without so much as a milliamperical murmur, the meter makes your decision for you.

The designers say it may answer "Yes," "No," "Mary the blonde," "Quit the job," or "Next time order the Oysters Rockefeller."

But regardless of the problem, it will give you a decision.

"And," say the creators, "If you have given it the correct information, you will get the correct decision."

TRIFLE TRICKY

The meter itself is a trifle tricky to describe unless you know your polarity reversals and your potentiometers, but it is "simple and inexpensive to build" according to the electronics people.

* * *

It looks like a modest bedroom radio, with a dial marked "Weight" (to consider the depth of the decision) and another marked "Consequence" (to keep the decision from putting you on a real hook.)

Then there are Minus, Plus, Yes, No, and No-Entry dials and buttons. And when the clever little chassis is digesting the problem with lights flashing and innards clicking, it's attractive as all get-out.

"But most important," say the makers, "is that it is useful as an aid in learing how to make decisions, and in learning how to be systematic as well as accurate."

So make it yourself today.

I'm going to wait till tomorrow, myself, as I have not yet decided whether I really need it.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele said today "the picture looks very favorable" from available reports on the effectiveness of Salk antipolio vaccine.

The head of the U.S. Public Health Service said the reports are still incomplete, fragmentary in some instances, and unanalyzed but they all indicate the vaccine has given protection in areas where polio has prevailed this summer.

"The published reports from health officials of New York State and New York City and from the state health officer of Oregon are very heartening and it is hoped the results in those areas are typical of the entire country," Dr. Scheele said in an interview.

'Mystery Man' Given to Father

Red-Released German Says Russians Insisted He Was American

ITZEHOE, Germany (AP)—"Mystery man" Klaus Friedrich Glaubitz says he is still puzzled why the Russians called him an American intelligence agent and imprisoned him for eight years.

* * *

The 27-year-old German was handed over four weeks ago to U.S. Army authorities in Berlin. The Russians identified him as Charles Hopkins of Jersey City, N.J. His case posed a riddle to American investigators until his father was called to Berlin and confirmed he was his long-missing son.

"I don't know how I got that name," Glaubitz told a reporter. "it all happened when I was an interpreter with British authorities in 1947.

A "Mickey?"

"I visited an inn in nearby Luebeck one day with a man whom I cannot name. Somehow I must have fallen asleep or lost consciousness. When I woke up a Soviet officer stood in front of me.

"The officer said 'You are an American agent by the name of Charles Hopkins. Admit that."

"I did not admit anything for one year. But by then, permanent interrogations had worn me out. I signed papers making me assume the name of Charles Hopkins, a man whom I never saw."

Glaubitz was sentenced to 25 years at hard labor and sent to a prison camp in Russia, where he worked in a mine.

Glaubitz's parents had no idea of their son's whereabouts until one year ago when they received a card, signed "Charles Hopkins," from Russia. Mrs. Glaubitz immediately recognized her son's handwriting and she sent parcels to him via the German Red Cross.

* * *

Federal Government Says It's Going to the Dogs

WASHINGTON (INS)—The federal government admitted today that it was going to the dogs.

The Treasury Department's savings bond division announced it has enrolled Lassie, the TV dog star, to help it promote sales of stamps and bonds among the nation's school children.

First Trade Fair of Atom Industry Opens to Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first trade fair of the atomic industry in this country opens today to a preview for newsmen. Later, governmental officials, ambassadors and members of Congress will attend.

* * *

Arranged by the Atomic Industrial Forum, Inc., the fair will provide a show case for developments in the peaceful application of nuclear energy since the government opened up the atom to private enterprise.

About a third of the 73 elaborate reactor models and other exhibits were shipped directly to the Sheraton Park Hotel here from Geneva, Switzerland, where they were shown at the international atoms-for-peace conference.

* * *

The exhibit will run concurrently with the three-day annual meeting of the forum, opening tomorrow. The forum is a trade organization of firms, institutions and individuals interested in the commercial applications of nuclear technology.

New Dem Presidential Timber Sprouts Suddenly After Eisenhower's Attack

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eight governors and several senators emerged today as potential contenders with Adlai E. Stevenson for a Democratic presidential nomination suddenly made attractive by the possibility that President Eisenhower may not run again.

* * *

There was a growing belief that Eisenhower, hit by a moderate heart attack in Denver Saturday, will not seek nor let himself be pressured into accepting a second term nomination.

That would leave the Republicans without a strongly entrenched candidate for the GOP nomination. Republican talk has been limited largely to the hope that Eisenhower would run again.

Some Republican strategists saw Vice President Nixon having the strongest support from among the state chairmen, governors and others who make up the core of the Republican organization, but they were not sure Nixon could win the nomination even with the blessing of President Eisenhower.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, former California governor and a former presidential aspirant, made it clear yesterday he has not changed his mind about refusing to run again.

His name sprang back into possible speculation along with those of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Sen. Dirksen of Illinois and two Californians who might cause Nixon trouble in his home state—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and Sen. William F. Knowland, minority Senate leader.

* * *

Some Democrats saw the possibility of Eisenhower's withdrawal as strengthening Stevenson's candidacy, though it touched off backstage activity by a covey of potential Democratic favorite son candidates.

Among the Democratic governors, the name of Averell Harriman of New York led all the rest. Harriman already has received some intensive support for the nomination from Carmine DeSapio, New York national committeeman and Tammany Hall leader.

* * *

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan stands out as another possibility. He probably would face even stronger opposition from Southern members of the party than either Stevenson or Harriman because of his participation in efforts to force the so-called "party loyalty" rule on the 1952 Democratic convention.

Some Democratic leaders have been talking of Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut as a possibility, and the name of Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio has figured for years in recurring speculation.

In the ranks of younger members of the party, Governors George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Frank Clement of Tennessee are mentioned. In the minds of most party leaders, however, they are tabbed at this point as vice presidential material.

* * *

Friends of Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota quietly are trying to form a Midwestern bloc that might make him a powerful factor in next year's convention.

Russians Map Arctic Warmup

Consider Damming Up Bering Strait, Heating Oceans With A-Power

LONDON (AP)—The Russians say they are thinking about building a mammoth dam across the Bering Strait and warming the Arctic Ocean with Pacific waters pumped across by atomic power.

* * *

Alexander Markin, a member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, said over the Moscow radio this would transform the frozen northern parts of Asia, North America and Europe into habitable areas with a temperate climate.

Markin didn't mention the floods it might cause along more southerly coasts by melting the polar ice cap.

Markin said Soviet engineers visualize damming it and then using hundreds of giant pumps powered by an atomic power station to pump Pacific water into the polar sea.

"This would produce an artificial warm current approximately equal in volume to that of the Gulf Stream," Markin said.

* * *

"By smashing the famous Siberian anticyclone and eliminating conditions that form great masses of cold arctic air, we would deliver not only Asia and North America but also part of Europe from the frigid breath of the arctic."

The result, he said, would "be something like discovering new continents with a mild European climate and with wonderful natural resources. What is now barren and frozen wilderness would blossom."

$30,000 for Research

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan Regents have appropriated $30,000 for several new large faculty research grants in January. The Regents contributed an additional $15,000 and the Michigan Alumni Fund, a like amount, to purchase research equipment.

Divorcee-to-Be 18 Lbs. Shy as Deadline Nears

CHICAGO (AP)—With the deadline only hours away, 44-year-old Mrs. Lillian Korzen still needed to lose 18 pounds today to save her marriage.

Her husband, who filed suit for divorce last May, promised to take her back if she could slim her 190 pounds down to 127 by Sept. 27. Korzen charged cruelty, but said he was filing the suit because his wife weighed too much.

Judge Cornelius Harrington approved the dieting arrangement and Mrs. Korzen has spent the last five months in fast.

Yesterday her attorney Edwin C. Podwell said she weighed in at 145 and had been prohibited from dieting any more by her physician. "She looks pretty good," Podwell said. "There's no question but that she could take off the weight if she had more time."

He said he would ask for a continuance of tomorrow's scheduled court appearance.

Korzen's attorney said, however: "I'll produce an accurate scale and I will ask her to get on it."

Jap Supports Family by Duping 10 Women

TOKYO (AP)—Juichi Oba, 43, had trouble supporting his wife and two children after he was dishonorably discharged from the Imperial Navy 11 years ago.

Then he joined a lonely hearts club last year.

He proposed to 10 women and milked them of enough money to support his family. He explained his frequent absences by saying he was working as first mate on an ocean liner.

When police arrested Oba Monday he quipped:

U.S. Bullfighter Gored Badly in Valencia Ring

VALENCIA, Spain (INS)—American bullfighter Porter Tuck was slightly improved but still in critical condition today from a goring he suffered in the Valencia bullring.

Tuck, 23, of Hartsdale, Mass., was gored as he was attempting a difficult pass. The bull's horn tore into the right side of his chest and pierced his diaphragm. SPT

A man charged with robbery in Vienna, Austria, told the court he had two blood transfusions and later had learned that the donor blamed it on the fact that he had was a habitual thief.

Chaotic Anti-Peron Battles Bare Violent Class Hatred

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The fight that ousted Argentine President Juan D. Peron is one of the most dramatic struggles in contemporary Latin American history.

* * *

This was no ordinary "palace coup," but an action of such bitterness, power, and class hatred that it cost untold thousands of dead and wounded. The full casualty list may never be made public.

Peron's fate was an ignominious exit from the sprawling capital city where aides once trembled in his presence.

What has been called the "Enigma of Peron" was based on the fact that the two most obvious groups supporting him in his decade of office were the Army and the labor unions. These two groups by tradition have been violent enemies.

WORKERS AROUSED

Peron aroused great enthusiasm among the working people by increased wages, even though he was accused of taking it back in increased social security taxes.

On the military side, he ruled in the name of ultra-nationalism and unity, the classic symbols of the rightists. Yet he was hated by the rich with a violence usually directed toward left-wing dictators.

* * *

Peron was a resourceful, astute politician. Despite the memory of what happened to Mussolini — lynched by a partisan mob and strung up in a Milan public square —he thought he could avoid all the mistakes Mussolini made.

He studied the Mussolini era thoroughly, along with the Italian dictator's experiments with his celebrated fascist youth movements.

Peron's furious attacks on the Roman Catholic Church and his arrogance with army leaders, whom he thought he had browbeaten completely, were credited with part of his downfall. However, it was in the field of youth that the scales began to be weighted against the 59-year-old Peron.

Reports from Argentina say that Peron and the church leaders knew that control of the nation's youth was a vital key in the future of the country.

* * *

The Church countered by forming a Catholic Student Union. Church leaders soon began openly voicing disapproval of the regime and Peron reacted with ferocity.

ATTACKED CHURCH

Peron is believed to have sought to arouse anti-clerical feelings in Argentina with his attacks on the church. He posed in the garb of traditional liberalism in justifying his moves to disestablish the Church.

It didn't work out. In attacking the Church he stripped a barrier that had divided Catholics and anti-clerics in the upper and middle classes.

Anti-clerics no longer could resent state support for the Church since Peron had begun removing it. Opponents ganged up on Peron, aided by the "goon squads" of stret bullies he created.

Hal Boyle Says:

America's Tensions Blamed on Crowding

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you suffering from "civilization sickness?" You probably are if you find yourself getting fatigued without reason, irritated over trifles, and unjustifiably critical of yourself, your friends and members of your own family.

* * *

Every culture develops its own typical ailments. The typical ailment of America today is tension and strain, a condition which some theorists believe is the main cause of our growing crop of ulcers, heart attacks, divorces, and other diseases.

But what causes the tension? It isn't the difficulty in solving man's age-old problems of food, clothing and shelter. It really isn't overwork either, in my opinion, nor the result of too much ambition.

* * *

The average man isn't overly ambitious. And never in history before has he been able to achieve so comfortable an existence with so little labor.

Then what makes him so weary and cross, so upset and impatient, so afflicted with gray nameless ailments that puzzle his doctor because the doctor probably has them, too, and doesn't know what to call them?

* * *

I think that our "civilization sickness" is no more than the penalty of feeling endlessly crowded. We are like a man with a 40-inch waist who insists on wearing a 36-inch belt. No wonder we are unhappy, bilious in temper, and see spots in front of our eyes. They aren't spots—they're people.

Actually, of course, we are more crowded. Our population has leaped from 75 million in 1900 to 165 million in a 55-year period in which millions also have fled the old monotony of farm life for the false glamor of the teeming cities.

* * *

But much of our crowdedness is unnecessary. It results from one thing: everybody wants to do the same thing at the same time. They all want to work what used to be called bankers' hours—9 to 5; they all want to play on the same weekend days.

Whatever a man tries to do he finds himself hemmed in by the growing herd.

* * *

He goes to and from work standing up in a packed bus because everybody wants to work from Monday to Friday. He finds his night clubs and motion picture theaters jammed on Saturday nights, because that's the night everybody wants to kick up his heels.

On Sundays (unless it's raining) he worships in a thronged church or tries to putt on a golf green that looks like a political convention. Driving to the beach through maddened Sunday traffic he feels like a charioteer in "Ben Hur"; the beach itself resembles Dunkirk just before the evacuation began.

* * *

Whatever he does — from awaiting his turn at a luncheon counter to parking his car in a lovers' lane — a man has to wait in line, has to fight for his place. He is elbowed, pushed, and shoved; he elbows, pushes and shoves back. The result: general bickering, confusion, frustration; more acid stomachs, more headaches; and finally more ulcers, heart attacks and apoplexy.

The solution is as simple as it is inexplicable that it already has not been applied: break up the ancient pattern by which men work at the same time, play at the same time.

* * *

This can be done by putting civilization on a 7-day week. Why shouldn't offices and factories be manned 16 hours a day, each 8-hour period utilizing half its present staff? This would reduce rush hour traffic, cut down on the parking problem, and make for a general easier tempo in living.

With more people working on Saturday and Sunday, and more of them taking their days off in the middle of the week, the weekend pressure on pleasure resorts would automatically lessen. It shouldn't be too hard to adjust to: a church can be just as inspiring on Thursday as on Sunday. So can a golf course or a beach.

* * *

All it takes to give Americans a more leisurely, unhurried, uncrowded life — and cut down on the toll of the "civilization sickness" — is to break with a few outmoded traditions.

How soon we will do it I don't know. But I do know one thing: the only sure way a man can keep a good digestion and a serene disposition today is to run away from home and become a hermit.

RETIRING? — After 20 years of movie stardom, Spencer Tracy is reported thinking about retirement. Shown above on the set of "The Mountain," being filmed in Chamonix, France, Tracy says he may make just one more film, "The Old Man of the Sea."

Mexico Native Whisky Bottled for First Time

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Pulque, favorite alcoholic drink of Mexico's lower classes, is being bottled for the first time. This will give it new outlets in better grade bars, in restaurants, even in supermarkets.

Pulque comes from the maguey plant, something like the century plant found in the United States. Tequila and Mezcal are made from the roots. Pulque is the juice from its core. This liquid is fermented and later flavored — pineapple, orange, apply, any flavor desired. It packs a wallop stronger than beer.

U. of M. Alumnae Club Holds Fall Membership Tea

Pontiac Press Photos

The fall membership tea sponsored by the University of Michigan Alumnae Club was held Friday at the home of Mrs. Maxwell L. Shadley on Ottawa drive. Pouring tea for two prospective members, Marie Meyer (left) of East Beverly avenue and Cecille Dumbrigue (center) of South Paddock street was Mrs. Don S. Brownlee, of East Square Lake road.

Getting together to discuss their college days were Mrs. Cecil McCallum of Dwight avenue, Mrs. Jay Wagner of West Iroquois road and Mrs. C. Earl Currah of Oneida road (left to right). They were photographed at the annual fall tea held Friday at the Ottawa drive home of Mrs. Maxwell Shadley.

Mrs. Maxwell Doerr (left) of Ottawa drive and Mrs. Norman Roth of Orchard Lake avenue agree that fall membership teas sponsored by the University of Michigan Club are ideal for bringing out old acquaintances—and a time for remembering, too.

Mrs. Barney Roepcke of Green Lake road, Margaret Steward of Washington street and Mrs. John Ashby of Westacres (left to right) were on hand for the annual fall tea sponsored by the University of Michigan Alumnae Club Friday.

Zonta Club Hears Talk on Reading

Speaker Points Out 3 Reasons for Book Enjoyment

"Reading for Enjoyment" was outlined by Mrs. Helen Williams when she spoke to members of the Zonta Club of Pontiac at a meeting held at Hotel Waldron.

* * *

The wonder of words, the fun of words and the philosophy of words were pointed out as reasons for reading for enjoyment.

Parents must, the speaker stated, enjoy reading a book to their children, if they want the child to learn to enjoy books. Nothing can be gained if a parent reads to the child simply because it is considered the proper thing to do or because he feels it his duty.

The family reading circle is one of the things a child never forgets, Mrs. Williams explained, and she said reading is not taught, it is caught.

Mrs. Williams showed how despicable animals can be turned into loving creatures through the use of words set down for children.

JOURNAL WRITER

Introducing Mrs. Williams, Barbara Amundson explained that the speaker is a member of the Birmingham Zonta Club and has a column in the Michigan Education Association Journal.

Today's Tablecloths Follow Few Rules

These days there are no firm rules as to what constitutes a tablecloth: you can make your own from a variety of cotton fabrics.

Whenever you spot some yardage that looks different, buy a length and spread it on your dining table. Or you can tint cotton cheesecloth to match the pattern of your china.

Whatever the material, it should be laundered after each meal.

Ann Arbor Memories Recalled

50 Women Attend Group's 1st Major Event of Season

Old acquaintances were renewed and memories of days on the Ann Arbor campus were recalled Friday afternoon when University of Michigan women were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. H. Shadley on Ottawa drive.

The affair, the first major event of the season for the Alumnae Club, was the fall membership tea. Approximately 50 members and guests, all former Michigan students, were present. Mrs. Russell Strickland of Bloomfield Hills, national chairman of the Alumnae Council of Ann Arbor, was a special guest.

The tea table was laid with a white organdy appliqued cloth over pink. A cut glass compote of pink rosebuds and carnations interspersed with shaggy white chrysanthemums centered the table. Pouring during the afternoon were Mrs. C. Earl Currah, Mrs. John Ashby and Mrs. Donald S. Brownlee.

Mrs. V. C. Abbott, general chairman of the event, Mrs. W. O. Roeser, president of the Alumnae Club and Mrs. Cecil McCallum assisted Mrs. Shadley in greeting the guests. Others on the committee were Margaret Steward, Katherine Baker, Mrs. Norman Roth, Mrs. Barney Roepcke, Mrs. Cyril Miller and Mrs. John Windiate.

Mrs. Carroll Braid will open her home to the group for a co-operative dinner Oct. 24.

Add Jelly to Cookie After Baking

Mrs. Francis Davis Rolls Dough in Nuts, Dents With Thimble

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You always have room in your recipe file for another interesting cookie recipe, I'm sure, Mrs. Francis Davis of Drayton Woods contributes her recipe for Swedish Cookies. These are as pretty to look at as they are good to eat.

As secretary of the Waterford Township Progress Planning committee, Mrs. Davis does her share of civic work. She also belongs to the General Guild of her church.

There are a number of handicrafts which interest her: Sewing for herself and small daughter, basketry and copper tooling.

SWEDISH COOKIES
By Mrs. Francis Davis

½ cup shortening
½ cup butter
¾ cup sugar
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
1 cup sifted flour
1 egg white, unbeaten
¾ cup chopped nutmeats
Dash vanilla

Cream butter and shortening, add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add egg yolk and mix well. Blend in flour. Form into balls the size of a walnut. Dip in egg white and roll in chopped nuts.

Bake 5 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Remove from oven and make a hole in the top of each cookie with a thimble. Return to oven and bake 15 additional minutes. Fill the thimble hole with jelly.

MacDowell Chorus Schedules Rehearsal

Past and present members of the MacDowell Male Chorus are urged to attend the first rehearsal of the season this evening in the Pontiac High School at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. George Putnam has been retained as director and Mr. Oscar Schmidt is assistant conductor and accompanist. They have arranged a varied program for presentation this season.

Two concerts are planned for Pontiac in the spring, as well as the Chorus' annual participation in the Community Christmas Concert given by the vocal departments of various city high schools.

Mrs. Helen Dovre Entertains Group

Mrs. Helen Dovre opened her home on Pingree street to members and guests of The Mission Belles of St. John's Lutheran Church Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Freemont Thoe gave devotions and plans were made for the annual bazaar to be held at the church Nov. 10.

Mrs. Harry Santala has invited the group to her home on Mount Royal avenue for their October meeting.

She Likes a Boy She's Never Met

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I like this boy a lot, and though he had never met me in person, I've talked to him on the phone. I heard that he broke up with his girl because of a girl he had never met but liked a lot, and I believe I'm that girl.

"I'm away at school now, and won't see him for a year, though I'll have an opportunity to meet lots of other boys.

"I wonder if I should forget about him (he might then go back to this other girl, for I've heard that she still likes him) or do you think it would be okay to write him from school?"

Answer: Were I you, I'd tuck him carefully away in the back of my mind, and wait.

You have yourself convinced that you like a boy you've never talked to in person. And you cherish the directly and only to you. (That rumors you heard as applying could be wishful thinging, you know.)

Unless you've a real clue that he'd like to hear from you, and would remember who you were if you wrote to him, I'd suggest that you wait until your first vacation home to do something about making your dream come ture.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I met him while I was visiting a friend of mine at the hospital, and he was visiting a friend of his. After talking to him for a while, I gave him my phone number.

"He called me several times and we planned to go to the carnival together. He never showed up, and it hurt my feelings very much. When I got home I called him up and he wasn't home.

"Later when I talked to him he said he couldn't find the place. (Straight out the main drag, and he said he couldn't find it.) He said he was sorry, but I feel he isn't.

"How can I make myself get over the impression that he's two-timing me. I love him very much!"

Answer: You met him by the sheerest chance in a very neutral place and immediately expected something big to come of it. So you gave this complete stranger your phone number and made a date with him. You took a chance—on being disappointed, if nothing else. And you were.

Your relationship was too vague to be taken seriously, your knowledge of him too scanty to count on. His excuse for not keeping the date was too flimsy to stand up.

He's probably sorry—sorry that you got the impression he had jumped into your life to stay. The facts are hardly convincing.

Barbara A. Stricklin and Philip S. Christiansen were married Saturday evening. Her parents are the W. Wayne Stricklins of Stout street, and he is the son of the Frank S. Christiansens of Racine, Wis.

MRS. PHILIP S. CHRISTIANSEN

Barbara Alice Stricklin Wed in Candlelight Rite

Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Christiansen were married Saturday evening in a candlelight ceremony performed by Dr. H. H. Savage of First Baptist Church.

She is the former Barbara Alice Stricklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wayne Stricklin of Stout street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Christiansen of Racine, Wis.

The bridal gown of tulle frosted with delicate rose patterned lace over satin featured a pointed basque designed in the Edwardian period style with a petal motif embroidered in flowerlets of pearls at the throat and across the bodice. Long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. The bouffant skirt featured a scalloped hemline which flared to a chapel length train.

Her fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap fashioned with rose pointe lace and pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white cymbidium orchids surrounded by white roses and stephanotis. A white lace handerchief belonging to her mother completed her bridal costume.

SISTER IS ATTENDANT

Mrs. Clarke Schlabach of Elkton, served as her sister's matron of honor wearing a floor-length gown of peacock blue crystallette. Her headband was of small bronze pompons and she carried a crescent bouquet of bronze pompons, small sprays of bronze wheat.

* * *

Aleta Stricklin, also a sister of the bride, wore an aqua gown of crystallette similar to the matron of honor's. Her headband was of yellow pompons and she carried a crescent shaped bouquet of buckskin pompons, and small sprays of yellow wheat.

David Pederson of Racine, Wis., was best man assisted by Robert Hellman, also of Racine; William Keys of Ireland, Clarke Schlabach of Elkton and John Slater and Thomas Ainge. Kyle Wilson sang the bridal recital accompanied by Mrs. David McLario of Detroit.

* * *

The new Mrs. Christiansen is a graduate of West Suburban School Hospital Nurses Training school in Oak Park, Ill. Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill.

The bride chose a two piece brown wool ensemble with rust colored accessories for their honeymoon trip to northern Michigan. On their return the couple will reside on Liberty street.

"Sure proud of my Peggy!"

I'm just as proud as a peacock of my Peggy for the efficient way she manages our home. For instance, many of her friends are still knocking themselves out scrubbing wood floors. But not my Peggy! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. And I'll be hanged if Peggy's floors aren't the talk of our block. I sure have to hand it to my Peggy and her Bruce Cleaning Wax for making easy work of a tough job. And I love 'em both for it!

Hard Work Responsible for 'Luck'

By ANNE HEYWOOD

We often hear women commenting on an absent friend's success and sighing, enviously, "Some people have all the luck."

Yet my experience has been that the "lucky" friend they're talking about has worked hard and earned every bit of her so-called "luck."

* * *

For example, Mrs. Ellie Simmons has a setup most young mothers would envy.

A talented artist, Mrs. Simmons does illustrations of all kinds. Her work appears in big magazines, in leaflets, on book dust jackets, on maps and on china.

She does this without leaving home, without being away from her young children. But when I wrote and asked her story, I could see in a minute that it wasn't "luck."

* * *

Here is the letter I received from her. Her penmanship, incidentally, is so lovely, it is practically a work of art in itself:

ASSIGNMENTS VARY

"I accept anything in the line of artwork that is suggested to me, and have done everything from charts and maps to illustrating children's magazines and illuminating a poem for a golden wedding anniversary.

* * *

"I've also had wonderful luck in selling do-it-yourself projects, with illustrations, to national magazines.

"Since I haven't had any formal training in commercial art, I find trying new projects, and learning to use the new materials and media they involve, is a sort of schooling.

"It is also a way of discovering what I can do best and what I like to specialize in later on.

"The greatest boon to my stay-at-home career was three years at a magazine job before my little boy was born.

MADE CONTACTS

"It was a writing job, but I met many people who were writing books, which needed illustrations and dust jackets, saw art directors and got many ideas for art projects. We live in a small town now, but the contacts I made then have led to others and I can carry on my business by mail.

* * *

"Time to work, of course, is my biggest problem.

"With two small children (a boy, 4, and a 2-year-old girl) time is definitely at a premium. But I find I can fit in from five to seven hours a day at the drawing table—a couple in the morning while the children are at nursery school, and four or more at night while they are asleep."

* * *

No wonder Mrs. Simmons is so successful! Most of the women who envy her "luck" would never in a million years be willing to work as hard as she does!

MR. and MRS. HAROLD J. PERRY

Marian O. Behnke and Harold J. Perry were married Saturday evening at Oakland Park Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton D. Behnke of Joslyn road, and he is the son of Mrs. Vera Perry of Romeo. The couple will reside in Flint.

Marian O. Behnke Wears Imported Silk Bridal Veil

Wearing a white crystallette gown fashioned with an Alencon lace bodice and long sleeves that ended in points over the wrists, Marian O. Behnke became the bride of Harold J. Perry Saturday evening.

Her finger-tip veil of imported silk tulle was secured by a tiny lace cap and she carried a modernistic arrangement of white feathered carnations.

The 8 o'clock ceremony was performed at Oakland Park Methodist Church by the Rev. James C. Deeg, in the presence of 150 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton D. Behnke of Joslyn road, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Vera Perry of Romeo.

MATRON NAMED

Mrs. William E. Bullock was the matron of honor and Ella Jo Robinson was the bride's other attendant. Both wore gowns of hunter green cyrstallette fashioned with an empire waist. They carried bouquets of pompon chrysanthemums and croton leaves.

* * *

John Thorman served as best man and seating the guests were William Perry, nephew of the bridegroom, and J. L. Newton.

Mrs. Behnke chose a green silk shantung print dress with matching accessories and a corsage of chrysanthemums and yellow roses for her daughter's wedding.

Mrs. Perry wore a blue print crepe dress with matching accessories. Her corsage also was of chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

The bride changed to a light blue suit with navy blue accessories when the couple left for a honeymoon in western Michigan. She wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside in Flint.

Getting to Know Them

Now that autumn is here or almost here, let's take a walk in the woods or the park and meet our friends the trees.

Like people, trees are individuals. Just as people have legs, body and head, trees all have roots, trunks and leaves.

Beyond that there are many things that give each person and tree a special character. Some trees like forest pines, are tall and thin with straight trunks; some like boxelders are short and bunchy with twisted trunks. And there are many different kinds of trees that you can recognize from the shape of their leaves, the type of their seeds, and the texture of their bark.

Trees are our oldest and biggest plants. Many years ago, great forests covered most of the globe. They died down, were covered with soil and in time became layers of coal.

Trees today supply us with fruit, with nuts, with bark for many purposes, with the material for paper on which this newspaper is printed, and with lumber to build our houses and furniture.

You can have fun in trees too, climbing them and playing around them and finding shade on hot days.

Here is a picture of a fine old tree that you can use for a play postoffice. Color it with crayons, paste it down on pasteboard, cut out along the heavy boundary lines, and fold the bottom edges along the dotted lines so that it will stand up. Then cut out along the dotted slot and you can poke a message through it. The square letter at the left may be cut out for this purpose.

TOMORROW: How They Grow

Says Dem 'Facts' Confuse Voters

GOP Chief Hits Report Comparing Ike, Truman Fiscal Policies

NEW YORK (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said today a Democratic National Committee "Fact Sheet" comparing Eisenhower and Truman fiscal policies is an "incredible document" put to confuse the voters.

Hall referred to a "Fact Sheet" sent to party workers last week by Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler. The "Fact Sheet" said the public debt under President Eisenhower has risen $8,300,000,000 whereas under former President Truman the debt was reduced $13,100,000,000 between a peak reached Feb. 28, 1946, and June 30, 1953, the end of the last fiscal year started under the Truman administration.

* * *

Using these and other figures, Butler accused Eisenhower of failing to keep his fiscal pledges and urged Democrats to make that major issue in 1956.

But Hall, comparing daily Treasury figures when Truman took office April 12, 1945, with those the day Truman left office Jan. 19, 1953 said the public debt rose more than 33 billion dollars.

Hall contended that when the Republicans took office they were "faced with 80 million dollars of c.o.d.'s—money appropriated and committed for which the Republicans had to produce funds to pay for on delivery." He continued:

Family Strikers Quit; Pullman, CIO to Talk

E. L. McClain, 31-year-old discharged plant guard, said yesterday he had decided to let his dispute with the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co. be settled through regular grievance channels of the CIO United Steelworkers.

His picketing, aided by his 25-year-old wife and two of their small children, interrupted operations of the plant Wednesday and closed it completely Thursday.

McClain claimed that he was unjustly fired after a fight with another employe three weeks ago.

By the year 2000, the average person may live to be 90, Professor F. L. Warren of the University of Natal told a gathering in Maritzburg, South Africa.

The Sequence of Events in the President's Attack

AP Wirephoto

DENVER PRESS CONFERENCE — James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, (seated before microphone) tells newsmen at a press conference last night that a team of eminent physicians attending the President have described Eisenhower's heart attack early Saturday as "moderate" — neither mild nor serious. The conference was held at Lowry Air Force Base near the summer residence of the President.

DENVER (AP)—An attack of indigestion Friday evening began the stunning chain of events which led to President Eisenhower's hospitalization.

After the attack at the home of the President's mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud, here is the sequence of events:

2 a. m. Saturday—The White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, was summoned to the Doud residence.

12 noon—Enlarging on his earlier statement, Dr. Snyder termed the President's condition "not serious," and described the ailment as an attack of "indigestion."

2:35 p. m.—Murray Snyder, assistant presidential press secretary, told the first of several press conferences over the rainy, chilled weekend that Eisenhower suffered a "mild coronary thrombosis." He said the President had been taken to Fitzsimons Army Hospital—only shortly before the press conference, it was later learned.

3:55 p. m.—At another press conference, Snyder said a heart specialist, Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, was being flown here from Walter Reed Army General Hospital in Washington. Accompanying him was James C. Hagerty, the White House press secretary who had been on vacation. Snyder also disclosed the President's heart attack occurred at 2:45 a. m.

6:05 p.m. — The first of several advisory bulletins, this released by Dr. Snyder, said the President "is resting well in the hospital and his condition is good."

7:20 p.m. — Mrs. Eisenhower arrived at the hospital from her mother's home. She remained in a room opposite that of the President overnight.

FIRST ATTACK

8:39 p.m. — Snyder advised newsmen the heart attack was the first the President ever had suffered.

10:23 p.m. — Snyder announced that Dr. Paul Dudley White, prominent Boston heart specialist, was to fly here to attend the President. He said the President had been in an oxygen tent since he was hospitalized.

* * *

12:30 a.m. Sunday — They arrived at Fitzsimons. Col Mattingly and Doctors Snyder and Bryan E. Pollock entered the room. The President awakened and talked briefly with them.

1:30 a.m. — The doctors said Eisenhower had withstood well the attack and "has been resting comfortably."

7:30 a.m. — This advisory bulletin was issued by the physicians: "The President had a very satisfactory night. His blood pressure and pulse continued stable. There were no complications."

* * *

9:50 a.m. — Col. Mattingly told newsmen there was "no change" in the doctors' previous reports. "He's getting on very, very well," he added.

* * *

11:30 a.m. — Hagerty told reporters the President "is not running any fever and has not run a fever" since he was stricken. He also disclosed for the first time the President was "supported and assisted" to his car when left the Doud residence for the hospital Saturday.

MODERATE ATTACK

4:15 p.m. — Dr. White and a panel of physicians described the President's heart attack as "moderate" — somewhere between mild and serious — and said "his present condition is satisfactory." It also was disclosed the President, at his own request, ate a bowl of oatmeal about noon — his first food other than fruit juice since entering the hospital.

6 p.m. — Maj. John Eisenhower, the President's son, arrived aboard the President's plane Columbine III from Ft.Belvoir, Va.

Humphrey Seen Seizing Reins of President's Team

WASHINGTON (AP)—The undetermined, possibly lengthy, convalescence ahead of President Eisenhower may test sharply the team spirit of which the administration is proud.

* * *

The process may make Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey more than ever the team's strong man.

Three great matters in which the President normally speaks the deciding word may be left to "committee government" to decide. These are military, foreign and budget policies.

Since no government policy can be implemented without money behind it, military and foreign policy decisions boil down to budget decisions, where Humphrey speaks loudest.

* * *

President Eisenhower has fallen ill just at the time of year when all the departments and agencies of the government are making up their individual budgets for presentation to the Budget Bureau. Disputes over spending levels that cannot be settled between Budget Director Rowland Hughes and department or agency heads are usually passed on directly to the President, or indirectly to him through the National Security Council. This year the council decisions may carry even more weight than usual.

Final budget decisions usually are made in mid-December by the President.

Secretary Humphrey publicly expressed the conviction late in August that the administration "can and should" wipe out the now projected 1¾-billion-dollar deficit for this fiscal year, thereby balancing the federal budget for the first time since 1951.

* * *

It was reported, and never denied, that Secretary of Defense Wilson held a conference with service aides, chiefly of the Air Force—the big military spender—at Wilson's vacation home, at which it was determined that the military would see if it could pare a billion dollars from its current spending program.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford visited President Eisenhower in Denver subsequent to this report, and issued a statement that military spending levels for this fiscal year would be unchanged. He said also they should not be cut.

The main strain on the NSC policy team's harmony appears to be between Humphrey and the military over the amount of money the services need.

Humphrey and Wilson work amicably together. Humphrey, his friends say, took quick and decisive action with the President to support Wilson when the secretary of defense told a news conference in October, 1954, that he liked "bird dogs better than kennel fed dogs."

* * *

This remark, in a discussion on unemployment, set off a political uproar, including demands for Wilson's removal. Humphrey journeyed secretly to Chicago to help reinstate Wilson as featured speaker at a GOP fund-raising dinner, after Republican Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois had suggested the speech be canceled. Humphrey reportedly helped Wilson prepare what Humphrey has called a "fighting apology."

This solidified an already close working kinship between the two men, both formerly heads of giant industrial enterprises, each an admirer of the other's administrative ability.

* * *

The military spending dispute, therefore, appears to be between Humphrey and the chiefs of the services, not between Humphrey and Wilson.

FISHERMAN RETURNING — President Eisenhower presented this appearance Friday when he returned to Denver from his Colorado fishing camp — less than 24 hours before he was stricken with what his physician termed a heart attack.

Anxious Nation Sees Nixon Calm

Vice President Hopeful of Ike's Recovery; Spends Quiet Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon went to church yesterday, took his family for a short automobile ride and spent the afternoon visiting friends.

* * *

This quiet, typical American way to spend a Sunday occupied most of the day of the man who, should President Eisenhower die, would become the next president of the United States.

For the first hours after he learned of Eisenhowers heart attack Saturday afternoon, however, the 42-year-old Nixon kept his whereabouts a mystery. To avoid the flood of telephone calls to his home that were disrupting his communications with Denver and Cabinet members, he said, he remained overnight at the nearby home of Dep. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers.

"The business of the government will go on as usual without any delay" from Eisenhower's "temporary absence," he said.

U. S. Awaits Ike's Return; Sympathetic Notes Mount

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The illness of President Eisenhower raised a vast chorus of prayers and wishes for a quick recovery from government heads, political and religious leaders and persons in all walks of life around the world.

* * *

Messages poured in from both sides of the Iron Curtain expressing shock at the news that the American President had been stricken with a heart attack and wishing him a speedy return to health. Special prayers were offered in many places of worship.

Cries of "Save him, oh God, save him" sounded from the audience. Many men and women burst into tears.

The Moscow pastor told his congregation: "Our own Comrade Bulganin, chairman of the Council of Ministers, and President Eisenhower have been great coworkers in the cause of peace and now . . . let us pray for the recovery of President Eisenhower so that he may continue his great work in the cause of peace."

* * *

Moscow radio reported the President's illness last night and said Premier Bulganin had cabled Eisenhower: "I was very sorry to hear of your illness. I sincerely wish you a speedy recovery."

A similar message was sent by Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov, the broadcast said.

Britain's Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh sent their "warmest good wishes for your speedy recovery." Prime Minister Eden said he was "most deeply distressed."

* * *

Sir Winston Churchill, vacationing at Nice on the French Riviera, dispatched what was described as a "purely private" recovery message.

French President Rene Coty and Premier Edgar Faure messaged the "unanimous wishes of the French people" for the President's return to health.

* * *

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer sent a message saying the German people and the whole free world were praying for Eisenhower's recovery.

* * *

President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy cabled that the people of Italy "feelingly share the unanimous concern of the American nation" for the President's health.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru, Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and other government leaders sent similar communications.

Korean President Syngman Rhee said he was "deeply shocked." Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay said his people joined him in fervently wishing for his speedy and complete recovery."

* * *

Pope Pius XII was told of the news at Castel Gandolfo, Italy, his summer residence, and cabled "heartfelt wishes for a speedy recovery." He also imparted a special blessing.

Earl Eisenhower Sure of Ike's Recovery

CHICAGO (INS)—Earl D. Eisenhower, brother of the President, said today he does not plan to go to Denver because he had been assured the President's condition is not serious.

* * *

A publisher who lives in the Chicago suburb of La Grange, Earl Eisenhower said:

"I have been in constant touch with the White House staff since the President became ill. I have been assured that his illness is not serious and that he is definitely on the road to recovery.

Sudden Attack Stuns Friends

Golf Pro and Secretary Say Ike Was in 'Best Shape' on Friday

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

* * *

Friends of President Eisenhower who golfed with him last Friday, others who fished for trout with him Thursday and watched him cook dinner at a Rocky Mountain ranch that evening are dumbfounded.

Heart attacks do sneak up on a man, they know that. But when one sneaks up on a man who looked so healthy, whose spirits were so buoyant as Eisenhower's a few hours earlier — well, it stuns his friends.

THAT MAN IS WELL

Take, for example, Ralph (Rip) Arnold, pro at Denver's Cherry Hills Country Club. He and the President played 27 holes of golf there Friday — just as they have many days since Eisenhower came to Colorado Aug. 14 for a work-and-play vacation.

* * *

"I'm no doctor, but that man is well," said Arnold. "He was in wonderful shape when he came to the club (Friday), and he was in wonderful shape when he left.

Cabinet Officials Assume Control of Government

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here are the major developments up to today in connection with President Eisenhowers illness:

CONDITION—Physicians in attendance, including three heart specialists, described the President's condition Sunday night as "satisfactory." They termed the heart attack "moderate"—neither mild nor serious—and said Eisenhower was "resting comfortably" at Fitzsimons Army Hospital, Denver.

FAMILY—Maj. John Eisenhower flew yesterday to his father's bedside from Ft. Belvoir, Va., because "I thought the family could use a little extra moral support." Mrs. Eisenhower, the First Lady, moved into a room across the hospital corridor from that of her husband.

OPERATIONS — Vice President Nixon and three Cabinet secretaries—Dulles of state, Humphrey of treasury and Benson of agriculture—gave assurances that government operations will continue without a hitch. The summer White House at Denver said last night the Justice Department has been asked for a legal opinion on what presidential powers may be delegated.

REACTION — Leaders of many nations sent personal wishes for a speedy recovery and Sunday prayers for Eisenhower were offered in churches around the world including Russia.

AP Wirephoto

SON ARRIVES — Major John Eisenhower (left) accompanied by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, enters Fitzsimons Army Hospital last night, hurrying to the bedside of his father. Maj. Eisenhower said he hoped to return to duty at Ft. Belvoir, Va. today. He flew in from Washington yesterday.

NEW PLANNING NEEDED — The sudden heart attack of President Eisenhower has thrown high Republican party leaders into a turmoil. Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall (shown at left in an earlier conference with Eisenhower and vice president Richard Nixon) said he had no adequate words to describe his feelings. Some leaders are talking of Nixon as a possible candidate, as speculation began. The President had not yet announced that he would run in 1956, but had not said he would decline the nomination, either.

Bob Considine Says:

FBI Reports Drop in Crime--but It's Slight

NEW YORK (INS) — J. Edgar Hoover puts the slide rule on U. S. crime today and tells us there was 0.7 per cent less crime during the first six months of 1955 than a similar period in 1954. First drop in seven years, he points out.

* * *

But the aggregate of offensives makes pretty appalling reading at that: 1,128,350 punished crimes for the six months; jumps in rape, aggravated assault and larceny, in urban areas alone; 73,341 cars stolen, 24,712 robberies, 171,587 burglaries, 5,141 rapes, 1,743 murders

Hoover's report produces interesting statistics on prosecutors' batting averages: For every seven major offenses reported to police, there's one conviction in court. But a murderer stands only a 50-50 chance of escaping conviction. Two out of three rapists go free, three out of every four arrested burglars. The drunken driver gets nailed more often than any other criminal—87.5 per cent convictions.

The report also shows that Stamps, Ark., Freeport, Ill., Mascoutah, Ill., Batesville, Ind., Fairmount, Ind., Graville, Ohio, and West Haverstraw, Whiteboro and Yorkville, all in New York, have one thing in common: A one-man police department.

ADVENTURE DEFINED

Lowell Thomas, speaking at the Overseas Press Club the other day on the broad topic of adventure, defined the word as the dictionaries do. Then he expanded. An adventurer, he said, would be a man whose blood would surge as must those of earlier examples of the breed who saw an advertisement which Sir Ernest Shackleton, Polar explorer, placed in the London newspapers 55 years ago. It read:

MEN WANTED for hazardous journey. Small wages, bitter cold, long months of complete darkness, constant danger, safe return doubtful. Honor and recognition in case of success.

TWO-BIT PAMPHLET

The health of that sometimes hard-to-understand child the city of New York has adopted — the United Nations — is the constant concern of thoughtful men. U. N. comes in for some industrious spankings here and there in the land of its adoption, but the kind words gradually outweigh the harsh.

For some of the kindest yet, we suggest "The United Nations —Ten Years of Achievement," a two-bit pamphlet put out by a non-profit organization named the public affairs committee. Samples:

The charge—U. N. is a nest of Soviet spies who use their country's membership as a ruse for digging up the free world's military and political secrets.

The answer—"The fact of the matter is that all information in the U. N. files is available to the public, and the Kremlin doesn't have to pay its share of U. N. expenses to learn what is in its documents."

CHARGE NO. 2

The Answer—"The total yearly expenditures of the U. N. is less than the New York City Sanitation Department's budget for cleaning the streets."

* * *

The Charge—What's it done, really?

The Answer—"So long as men keep talking, using their tongues instead of weapons to move toward their goals, the hope for peace endures."

On Seventh Anniversary

Keego Business Women Name Outstanding Pair

By JULIE HUTCHINS

National Business and Professional Women's week will be celebrated throughout the nation this week. This is the organization's 28th anniversary and Keego Harbor's seventh one.

At the first fall meeting in Keego, Wilma Webb and Mrs. Douglas S. Baker were chosen to represent the business women of the week. These women were selected because they are outstanding in the business world.

Wilma Webb has lived in Keego most of her life. She is now mayor pro-tem on the city council. She has been a physical education teacher at Eastern Junior High School for the past ten years and is an active member of the Pontiac Education Assn. She is secretary of the B & PW club at this time.

Mrs. Douglas Baker, who lives in Orchard Lake Village, has been very instrumental in banking circles in this area. Mrs. Baker is employed by General Motors Truck Employe Federal Credit Union and supervisor of the Farmington Post of the Ground Observer Corps. She is past president of the Businses and Professional Women's Club here.

"Aim High" is the national theme for this year. This theme was chosen to keep in mind achievements and abilities for betterment of the community as well as the nation. This will be achieved by supporting the laws affecting the nation's welfare and safeguarding the rights and achievements of women.

One of the activities the Keego group sponsors is an annual dinner for the Senior High School girls. At this time they try to better acquaint the girls with the business world.

Parish Women Host Meeting

Quarterly Event Held by Catholic Council in White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—The women of St. Patrick Parish were hostesses for the quarterly meeting of the Northwestern Deanery Group of the Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women.

Seventy-nine women, representing 20 parishes, the League of Catholic Women, Daughters of Isabella, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Auxiliary and the Auxiliary to the Monastery of the Blessed Sacrement were welcomed by Mrs. John R. Brady of St. Patrick.

The Rev. Laval Landry, pastor of Our Lady of LaSalette Parish in Berkley was guest speaker. He described the apparition of the Blessed Virgin at LaSalette in Southeastern France 109 years ago this week and told of his own pilgrimage to the basilica erected on the mountainous site of the apparition.

The committee for the day included Mrs. Lawson Musser, Mrs. John R. Brady, Mrs. Gerald E. DeSornier, Mrs. M. Joseph O'Connell, Mrs. Ross Leahy and Mrs. Frank Hoare.

Start Dance Series

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—The local branch of the Catholic Youth Organization of St. Michael's Church, will participate in the fifth annual series of inter-parish dances for Catholic youth, sponsored by CYO. These dances will be held in the Grande Ball Room, Grand River at Joy Road every Tuesday night, starting this week. Special plans are being made for the Halloween dance Oct. 30.

Pupils Hired for Half Day

Project Directed by William Froberg May Continue Indefinitely

HOLLY — Local merchants are currently cooperating in a program to give high school students in the upper grades some experience in merchandising and other lines of business.

* * *

Under the plan, the students whose scholastic standing warrants their spending a half day in some business place are recommended by their teachers to act as clerks or otherwise.

The project is under the direction of William Forberg, and nearly every business place in the area has expressed a willingness to get behind the plan. Many students already have been placed.

LONG RANGE OUTLOOK

If the plan works out in a satisfactory manner it is intended to continue in future years. In many respects it is said to be more comprehensive than any project of this kind previously installed in any Michigan school.

Charles E. Coggins, Superintendent of Schools, states that a good majority of the students in grades that are eligible already have the required standing, and it is felt that it will be a future incentive for others to attain such.

County Girl Lists 7 Entries at Chicago Show

CHICAGO — Additional Michigan entries are received for the International Dairy Show which is slated for Oct. 8 through 15 in the amphitheater of the Chicago Stock Yards.

Margaret A. Couzens, Birmingham, Oakland has listed seven Guernseys for showing in the open competition. Ralph J. Frahm, Frankenmuth, Saginaw county, will show a Guernsey. Lyle Hunsberger, Ionia, Ionia county, has entered seven head of Guernseys in the competitions. One Guernsey female is being shown by H. M. Fancer, Jackson, Jackson county.

Dairy cattle royalty in 22 states and Canada are being primped by hopeful owners in preparation for the third annual show.

Southfield Parish Announces Lecture Series

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — St. Michael's Parish will sponsor a series of parental sex education programs starting at 8 p.m. Oct. 5 in the parish hall, Ten Mile road.

The program will consist of four weekly lectures, followed by a question and answer period conducted by Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Maino.

Clinton River Scene of Drowning Tragedy

UTICA—An annual church picnic ended tragically yesterday when an 18-month old girl fell from a 10-foot cliff and drowned in six feet of water of the Clinton River in the Utica Park on Van Dyke.

Mary Pauline Khoury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Khoury, 1346 Koplin, Detroit, was missed by her parents only three minutes after she strayed to the river's bank.

Entire World Waits Progress Bulletins

LONDON (INS)—The free world and its citizens today watched the progress of President Eisenhower's fight against a heart attack as closely as Americans.

* * *

Romeo Couple Announce Daughter's Engagement

ROMEO—Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Jacob announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Dean, to James Paul Rienstra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Rienstra of Mecosta.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Elizabeth Krohn Marries in Lake Orion Ceremony

OXFORD — Elizabeth Nancy Krohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell F. Krohn, 9 Jersey Street, is the recent bride of Edward Jay Ruthenberg, son of Mrs. Julia Ruthenberg of 83 Hamilton St. in Pontiac.

* * *

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white lace and crystallette, fashioned with a lace yoke, long sleeves and a floor length skirt. A seed pearl tiara held her fingertip veil secure. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Elizabeth carried white tea roses and baby mums.

Serving as best man was Ralph Dean of Pontiac. Seating the guests were Larry Ruthenberg, Ray Wilson, and Joseph Bourque all of Pontiac, and Thomas Chisholm of Oxford.

A reception followed in the church house. After the reception the newlyweds left on a two week trip to Yellowstone Park. They will reside on Hill St. in Pontiac when they return.

White Lake

The first fall meeting of Dublin School PTA will be held Wednesday night.

President, Mrs. Fred Corliss announced that a pot luck dinner, beginning at 6:30 will precede the regular business meeting.

Heading the program is Dr. Paul Thams of Pontiac.

Mrs. Corliss stated that movies will be provided for the children for their entertainment that evening.

North Branch Youth Killed as Car Hits 10-Point Buck

LAPEER — Richard Rumph, 19, of North Branch was killed Saturday night, north of Lapeer on M-24, when the car he was riding in struck a 10-point buck deer as it crossed the highway, causing the car to go out of control and overturn in the field.

With Richard were Charles Wilcox, 18 of 385 Norway Lake Rd., Lapeer and John Rumph, 18, his younger brother, both in Lapeer County General Hospital.

Wilcox is reported in critical condition with a possible skull fracture and other injuries. John Rumph has head lacerations, a concussion and bruises of the left leg and ankle.

It has not been determined who was driving.

The accident had no witnesses but a motorist driving along M-24 about 10:35 p.m., noticed the overturned car in the field and summoned help.

Funeral services for Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Rumph, 6674 Fish Lake Road, will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Baird Funeral Home, Lapeer. Burial will be made in the Rich Township Cemetery.

Farmington Sets Water Meeting

Judge Arthur Moore to Attend Confab of 'Act for Water' Group

FARMINGTON—A public meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the auditorium of the Farmington Junior High School. The meeting is sponsored by the action for Water Committee, elected thirteen months ago at a similar public meeting.

The meeting has been called to request action from the Farmington Township Board.

Judge Arthur Moore of Probate Court will be present along with representatives of the state and county health department.

Southfield Observes National Week

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—Eugene Swem, supervisor, has proclaimed this week National Business Women's Week in Southfield Township. The local club, which is little more than one year old, was sponsored by the Northwest B&PW Club of Redford. Membership is open to women in all branches of employment or professions on a percentage basis basis allowed in each field.

The local club is a member of the National Federation of B&PW Inc. an international organization. The club has contributed locally to the high school library, the township park and at Christmas the Women at the Lapeer Home received a little cheer from the club.

Officers of the club are: Mrs. J. A. Blacklaw, president; Mrs. J. W. Grimes, first vice-president; Mrs. Bernice Reid, second vice president; Mrs. Edna Millford, recording secretary; Mrs. W. J. Muir, treasurer, and Mrs. R. D. Cameron, corresponding secretary.

Clare Lane is chairman of the local advancement of B&PW week.

Apartment Fire Damage $5,000

Rochester Structure Ablaze for 2 Hours on Sunday

ROCHESTER — Fire, smoke, and water damage to a two-story frame apartment house at 211 Walnut St. mounted to $5,000 here Sunday.

The blaze, which started at 10:03 p.m., was battled for two hours by the local fire department.

Thick black smoke poured from the fire and Fireman Howard Farmer, one of the first on the scene, was overcome by the fumes, but revived almost immediately.

Fire Chief George Ross stated that the cause has not entirely been determined, but that there was a small laundry stove in one of the upper apartments. Fire was confined mostly to the top floor.

Bentley-Frazer Vows Repeated in Lapeer Rite

LAPEER—Sunday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church Chapel, Mrs. Fred Bentley and George W. Frazer, exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony.

* * *

Their attendants were Mrs. Arthur Erickson and Leonard Frazer, daughter and son of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Bentley wore a Dior blue lace and net dress and carried a white Testament topped with a white orchid.

MRS. GUY N. HART

Today celebrating her ninetieth birthday is Mrs. Guy N. Hart of Clarkston. She is a native of Goodrich, but has lived in Clarkston since 1923. She has no near relatives.

North Branch Bureau Elects New Officers

NORTH BRANCH—The following new officers were elected at a meeting of the North Branch Community Farm Bureau, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Young:

Chairman, Jack Simmons; vice chairman, Warren Crawford; minute man, Fred DeTavenier Sr.; recreation leader, Mrs. Carrol Sohn; song leader, Mrs. Fred DeTavenier Sr.; Blue Cross secretary, Mrs. Howard Seelye; Publicity chairman, Mrs. Peter Schlaud; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Elmer Godfrey.

Because of the regular date of the October meeting conflicting with the annual County Farm Bureau meeting, next meeting of the local group will take place Oct. 27, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Godfrey.

Slate Silver Jubilee

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—St. Michael's Church will sponsor their Parish Silver Jubilee celebration Oct. 2. The parish which is 25 years old started in October, 1930. A reception will be held in the hall from 1 'til 5 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Post Office Department Marking Birthday Today

The system dates back to America's first postmaster general, Samuel Osgood. Nominated for the post Sept. 25, 1789, by President Washington, Osgood was confirmed the next day on Sept. 26. He immediately started work, organizing the postal service.

Previous to 1789, the British colonial posts had operated a mail service, Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield says. And in 1775 the Continental Congress established a postal system under Benjamin Franklin.

The Post Office is a pretty husky organization, as compared with its kid days when 75 post offices handled mail and carriers had a total of 1,815 miles of road to travel.

It's grown to handle more mail than all the rest of the world combined. Now, more than 175 million pieces of mail are fed into its 30,000 post offices each working day. There are 100,000 drivers and 85,000 trucks carrying mail.

Rural carriers alone travel 1,527,000 miles six days a week, over 32,076 routes, to serve 30 million people in the rural areas.

Yes, it's a man-size post office, doing a man-sized job—and still growing.

And, as Summerfield says:

"The spirit of public service, so marked among the few hundred employes of the early days, is still with us . . . as we strive to give the American public a constantly improving postal service."

Arab's Torture, Death Spurring French Militia

Police said scores of cattle and other livestock also were tortured and killed.

French and pro-French residents immediately called for a civilian militia. A large number of men, responding to an earlier appeal from the military governor of the area, already had enlisted.

Newcombe vs. Ford in Series Opener, Wednesday

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Newcombe, a huge righthander who won 20 games for Brooklyn, and Whitey Ford, the little 18-game winning lefthander who helped clinch the American League pennant for New York last Friday, will be the opening-game pitchers when the Dodgers and Yankees renew their World Series rivalry in Yankee Stadium Wednesday.

* * *

Odds-makers, who earlier had installed the Yankees a slight favorite, now have changed it to a "pick-em affair," because of Mickey Mantle's pulled muscle, which threatens to sideline the star Yankee center fielder during the series.

Neither manager would go beyond his first-game hurler but it was expected that Manager Casey Stengel of the Yanks would name Tommy Byrne, another lefthander, to pitch the second game, also in the stadium. Then, the experts figured, he would come back with his righthanders, Bob Turley, Don Larsen and perhaps Bob Grim, for the three games at Ebbets Field.

* * *

Like most managers, Walter Alston of Brooklyn is reluctant to start a southpaw in Brooklyn, so it is likely he will call upon Johnny Podres, a lefthander, in the second game at the stadium and save Billy Loes, Carl Erskine and perhaps Newcombe again for Ebbetts Field.

Both clubs were slated to hold a practice session today, the Yankees at Yankee Stadium at 10:30 a.m. (EST) and the Dodgers at Ebbets Field around the same time. Tomorrow the Yankees will work out at Ebbets Field at 12:30 p.m. (EST) with the Dodgers expected at Yankee Stadium.

Alston was characteristically silent with the series just two days off, but Stengel was bubbling with optimism.

* * *

"Brooklyn has a good club, too," he said, "but the Yankees always take the series. We have the pitchers to beat them. All of them are well rested and with the exception of Mantle, everyone is rarin' to go."

The Yankees figure to have a psychological advantage over the Dodgers, whom they've whipped in all five previous World Series meetings. In fact, the Dodgers have lost all seven World Series in which they've participated while the Yankees have won 16 of 20.

Mantle, inactive since Sept. 16 when he pulled a leg muscle beating out a bunt against Boston, finally got back into action yesterday as a pinch hitter in each game of the doubleheader against the Red Sox. Although Trainer Gus Mauch and Stengel think he'll be ready for the series, Mickey isn't too hopeful.

"I haven't really tested the leg yet," he said, "and I won't test it until tomorrow but I think it's far from being healed. It doesn't hurt when I bat but I don't think I can run on it."

Mantle's absence undoubtedly would handicap the Yankees, particularly in the three games at Ebbets Field. The short fences in Brooklyn provide a friendly target for the switch-hitting slugger, who led the club in batting with .306 and the league in home runs with 37.

If Mantle does not play, Stengel plans to start Bob Cerv in center field against left-handed pitching with Elston Howard in left. Against a righthander, Irv Noren will be in center and Cerv in left. Hank Bauer will be in right field against all kinds of pitching.

The rest of the Yankee lineup will be Joe Collins at first, Billy Martin at second, Gil McDougald at third, Yogi Berra behind the bat and either Phil Rizzuto or Jerry Coleman at short.

Kaline the Champ

Tiger Fielder Closes Year With AL Bat Title

DETROIT (AP)—The new American League batting champion is a quiet kid of 20 who says "I was lucky."

"I got two hits in my 1st game and I just kept going," said outfielder Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers after yesterday's 6-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians in the final game of the season.

Kaline batted only once yesterday—hitting into a force out—before leaving the game with a sore wrist. He concluded his 2nd full season in the majors with a .340 average—and a 21-point lead over runnerup Vic Power of Kansas City.

The young, crew-cut rightfielder—who still looks as though he should be in high school—had an even 200 hits in 588 times at bat.

Ty Cobb won it 12 times, Harry Heilmann four and Charley Gehringer and Heinie Manush once apiece.

A crowd of 17,888 turned out to see the windup. They didn't see much of a game. Manager Al Lopez, hopefully looking ahead to next season, benched his regulars and played a group of minor leaguers the Indians had brought up in September.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The highly rated pass defense of the Detroit Lions was put to its 1st serious test yesterday—and failed.

It resulted in a 20-17 opening loss to the Green Bay Packers, who struck for the winning touchdown in the final 20 seconds of play.

The situation was this:

But when quarterback Tobin Rote of the Packers stepped back to pitch the awaited pass, the Lions couldn't stop him. What hurt more was the fact they couldn't stop end Gary Knafelc, either.

Knafelc leaped some three feet off the ground to snare the desperation pass over the outstretched hands of three Detroit defenders on the 3. He crashed into the end zone with the winning touchdown—one which staggered the Lions in their opening bid for a 4th straight Western Division championship.

Fortunately for them, however, the two teams considered to give them the most trouble this season—San Francisco and Chicago Bears—also lost in an afternoon of upsets.

The upset was one of missed opportunities for the Lions. Twice they were inside Green Bay's 5, only to salvage a 12-yard field goal by Doak Walker.

A missed field goal by Walker started Green Bay off on its winning 80-yard touchdown drive. The key play in the march was a squirming 38-yard jaunt by Rote, who raced to the Detroit 38.

Detroit took a 14-6 lead at halftime on a 38-yard pass play from Bobby Layne to Jim Doran and a recovered fumble in the end zone by Gil Mains. Packers' points resulted from two field goals by Fred Coan of 30 and 34 yards.

Maryland's Big, Bad Terrapins Upset Uclans, May Be Headed for Third Unbeaten Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unless they run into unexpected complications, the big, bad Terrapins from the University of Maryland could well glide through to their third unbeaten, untied season in the past five years.

* * *

While it's true that Jim Tatum's split T outfit doesn't play as tough a schedule as some of the other top teams, it's equally true that the Terps can beat the best—namey UCLA.

* * *

Maryland won victory No. 2 Saturday with a 7-0 decision over the defending Pacific Coast Conference champions. It was their toughest opposition on this year's schedule.

This week, Maryland visits Baylor of the Southwest Conference. Then, on successive weeks, they play Wake Forest, North Carolina, Syracuse, South Carolina, Louisiana State, Clemson and George Washington.

Notre Dame, another club that was overlooked in the preseason estimates, apparently has found someone to fill All America Ralph Guglielmi's shoes. He is Paul Hornung, a fine all-around offensive back. He directed the Irish attack in the 17-0 shutout of Southern Methodist.

* * *

Duke appears to be the only team capable of giving Maryland a tussle for the Atlantic Coast Conference championship. The two don't meet, so the title will be decided on what they do against the other teams in the league.

* * *

Oklahoma probably will win the Big Seven title as usual. They had trouble with North Carolina before emerging with a 13-6 victory for No. 20 in a row. But even if they are not as strong as usual, the rest of the Big Seven is weaker.

On the subject of streaks, both Kansas and Tulsa snapped long losing skeins. The Jayhawks held the dubious distinction of bringing a 17-game streak—longest in college football — into the game against Washington State. Kansas won it 13-0. Tulsa, which had lost 15 in a row, whipped Hardin Simmons 41-19.

* * *

Michigan, the Big Ten favorite, whipped Missouri 42-7. Georgia Tech, probably the best in the south, had some bad moments before downing Florida 14-7. Defending Southwest Conference king Arkansas sailed past Oklahoma A&M 21-0.

Shamrock Aerials Trip Rams

St. Michael's Shamrocks displayed a dazzling aerial attack Sunday afternoon at Wisner Stadium to subdue a fighting but outgunned St. Frederick team, 26-13, in the traditional football battle between the two intra-city foes.

The north side school spotted St. Fred's an early 7-0 lead, then came back to record its 6th straight victory over its crosstown rival and extend the Rams' winless string to 18 games.

Yesterday's win in the annual struggle enabled Shamrocks to take the 1st big stride toward claiming their 3rd consecutive Steve Griffin Memorial Trophy. It also handed them an important Suburban Catholic League triumph as the conference campaign got under way for both schools.

Coach Bob Mineweaser's club, considered a running team in the pre-season forecast, surprised by unleashing a deadly passing game for three of its four touchdowns.

St. Fred struck through the air for both of its touchdowns as quarterback Tom Durocher found rangy Dick Doyon a willing target.

Rams attempted 24 aerials compared to only nine tries by the Mikes. The winners, behind the pitching of halfback Dan Dropps, batted 1.000 through the air until the 9th attempt which went awry. The eight completions totaled 172 yards, while St. Fred's nine successes gained only 91.

Ram's 1st touchdown came with the game less than nine minutes old. Center Tom Israel recovered Dropps' fumble, one of five Shamrock bobbles recovered by the Rams, on Mikes 25-yard line. After three ground plays Durocher hit Doyon in the flat and the star end rambled 22 yards to pay-dirt. Doyon also placekicked the extra point.

The Shamrocks took the next kickoff and moved to a 1st down on their own 48. Two running plays failed, then Duane Priebe gathered in Dropps' toss and went 52 yards for the score. Dropps booted the bonus point to even the count.

St. Michael wrapped up the victory in the 2nd quarter. Following Doyon's punt the Shamrocks marched 46 yards to score in seven plays. Dropps climaxed the drive by ramming nine yards for the TD. It was the lone tally made on the ground during the contest.

After a brilliant goal-line stand stopped the Rams on the Mikes one-yard line, guard Dick Powe recovered Ron Elmy's fumble on the Shamrock 15. Larry Morrow picked up two yards to the 13, then Durocher connected with Doyon in the flat for the touchdown.

Shamrocks tallied their last touchdown early in the 4th quarter. Mikes marched 60 yards in six plays a Dropps-Chuck Brown aerial eating up 23 yards on the way. Brown scored the TD, snaring Dropps' pass for a 19-yard jaunt. Dropps threw to Priebe for the extra point.

Dropps was the outstanding back, both offensively and defensively. Priebe, Brown, Larry Maison and captain Jim Fitzgerald also sparkled for Mikes. The versatile Doyon was a standout for the losers as were Durocher, Israel, Tom Sweetman and Jim Duren.

Miss Rose Griffin, sister of the late Steve for whom the memorial award is named, presented the trophy to the St. Michael team on the field immediately after the game. Yesterday's tilt instituted a new Griffin trophy.

Ford Captures Lead in Tourney

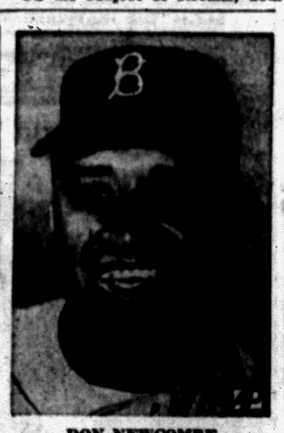

National PGA Winner Gains Two-Stroke Lead in Sponsors Contest

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — Husky Doug Ford, the National PGA titlist from Yonkers, N.Y., carried a two-stroke lead with a nine-under par 207 into the final round of the 72-hole Sponsors Golf Tournament at the Charles River Country Club today.

Ford, 33-year-old son of a former Connecticut golf pro, struggled to a par 36 on the first nine yesterday, but coming in he registered an eagle 3 on the 480-yard 10th hole and added three birdies to finish the round in a fine 68.

DON NEWCOMBE

WHITEY FORD

Ex-Pirate Mentor Haney Looking for Diamond Job

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fred Haney, fired as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, says he hopes to continue in baseball, isn't angry at Pirate General Manager Branch Rickey and has done the best he could to make a winning team out of the hapless Pirates.

* * *

Haney was in a genial mood today as he prepared to leave for the World Series in New York—and perhaps learn if he can hook on with another major league club. Philosophically accepting his dismissal by Rickey yesterday—he found out about it in a letter from the Mahatma—Haney declared:

* * *

"I'm leaving Pittsburgh with a clear conscience. I tried to give 100 per cent to the club and if my best wasn't good enough, that's it, I guess. But I have no hard feelings against anyone. . . . If I was running the club and wanted to make a change, that's what I'd do. Mr. Rickey apparently wanted to make a change and that's it. I want to emphasize I have no hard feelings against him or anyone else."

* * *

As for his future, Haney said he will be on the lookout for a baseball job, take in the World Series, return to Pittsburgh to wind up his affairs, "and then go home to Los Angeles to rest awhile."

Little World Series Even at 2 Games Each

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Minneapolis Millers seemed determined today to ride the funeral procession for little Nicollet Park into the Little World Series championship.

The American Assn. champions downed Rochester of the International League 7-3 yesterday to even the series at two games apiece. The victory followed ceremonies in which the ancient park was burned in effigy.

Firemen Seek Cause of Race Track Fire

CHICAGO (AP)—Firemen and officials at Hawthorne race track searched the debris of a burned-out stable at the track today seeking the cause of a fire that destroyed two of the more than 80 horses quartered there.

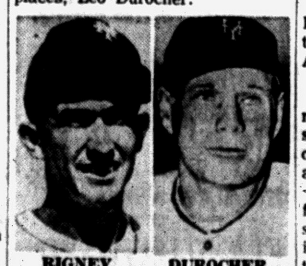

The fire, which started shortly before the start of the afternoon's racing program Saturday, caused damage estimated by track officials of $20,000.

Leo Gives Full Approval to Rigney, After Resigning Giants' Leadership

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Rigney walks into his new job as manager of the New York Giants wearing the stamp of approval of one of the shrewdest minds in baseball, none other than the man he replaces, Leo Durocher.

RIGNEY DUROCHER

The slim Californian, whose physical appearance and gentlemanly and charming manner off the field bely his blazing competitive spirit on it, is a man schooled in the Durocher tradition. He brings with him some of Durocher's mannerisms, an aggressive style and a talent for trigger-quick sizeups in the heat of action.

* * *

"I knew Leo as one of the finest managers in the game," Rigney said yesterday. "Under certain conditions he was almost unbeatable."

"When you see a man operate for six years the way I have, and see how he makes plays and knows it is the right way, you are bound to follow a lot of his methods."

Last year, his first as manager, Rigney led the Millers into third place before guiding his 1955 club to a pennant despite a large number of injuries and recalls to the parent New York club. He thinks he has learned something in the process. So does his boss at Minneapolis, Blondy Ryan.

"I doubt if there is anyone in the game who could have held our club together through all its misfortunes and won the pennant except Bill Rigney," said Ryan.

* * *

Before making his departure fro mthe Polo Grounds after a season-closing doubleheader with Philadelphia, Durocher said the club was getting a "real good man" in Rigney.

"Maybe," Leo grinned, "the fans might have thought that Durocher hassled with the umpires a time or two too many. They'll find out that Rigney will hassle with the umpires on occasions, also."

Williams Going Fishing Again; Future in Air

Ted Says He Doesn't Know What He Will Do About Next Year

"Right now I don't know what I'll do," the 37-year-old Williams said yesterday as he dressed to depart for a fishing trip to New Brunswick. Williams was taken out for a pinch-runner in the third inning of the second game with New York after walking.

* * *

"If I said right now I'll be back, I might be lying, but I still can hit as I proved today," Williams said.

Ted, who came out of retirement May 13 and began playing May 28, finished with a .356 batting average in 98 games and 320 at bats.

Birmingham Leaguers Bow to Pointe Team

Undefeated Grosse Pointe Woods nosed out Birmingham 13-12, in a Jack Lowther Little Football League game Saturday. It was Birmingham's 2nd setback in as many starts.

In other league games, Wish Egan spanked East Detroit 19-6; the Northwest All-Stars crushed Dearborn Township, 45-13; Lincoln Park blanked Royal Oak, 38-0, and Cannon fought to a 12-12 tie.

Ted Maged Resigns

After serving as professional and manager of the Glen Oaks Golf Club for the past five years, Ted Maged has announced his resignation from the club.

Lew Smith Turns Tables on Teammates

Regular Ivory Ranger player Lew Smith turned the tables on his teammates yesterday when he scored three goals and set up the tying one by Mike Wacker to pace the Franklin Hills polo club to a 4-4 tie with the Rangers. Jack Stefani scored all four for the Rangers.

NFL Standings Find Browns, Lions at Bottom

Both Suffer Breakup of Long Win Streaks in Sunday Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Football League standings looked strange today with Cleveland and Detroit, the league's bully boys for three years, on the bottom looking up.

One game doesn't make a season, of course, even in the NFL, where they only play a dozen games a season. But both titans had long winning streaks over their opponents smashed as the Washington Redskins whipped Cleveland 27-17 and Green Bay nipped Detroit 20-17 on a pass from Tobin Rote to Gary Knafelc with 20 seconds to go.

Opening day was a day of surprises all around as Baltimore, sparked by rookie Alan (The Horse) Ameche, spoiled the heralded return to power of the Chicago Bears with a 23-17 victory and Los Angeles forced four big breaks to trim their arch-rivals, the San Francisco 49ers, 23-14.

Philadelphia, undefeated in six pre-season exhibitions, had to come from behind Saturday night to down the New York Giants 27-17.

Until little Eddie LeBaron started cutting capers yesterday, Washington had never beaten the Browns since Cleveland came into the NFL back in 1950.

Eaglets Make New Coach's Debut a Successful Affair

Orchard Lake St. Mary rolled to three touchdowns in the 1st half and coasted to an easy 25-7 victory over St. James of Ferndale in a Suburban Catholic League football game Sunday afternoon at Orchard Lake.

St. Mary's struck through the air for two of its four TD's in the school's 1955 season opener; Rev. John Rakoczy made a successful debut as head grid mentor. It was the 2nd defeat in two games for the Dales.

Eaglets gobbled up 84 yards in only four plays for their 1st tally, the last two tries covering all but three yards, Quarterback Ted Kopacki set up the score with a 55-yard dash to the Ferndale 26 yard line, then passed to end Pete Madelans for the TD.

Halfback Paul Franckowiak circled end on a seven-yard jaunt for St. Mary's 2nd touchdown and added the extra point from placement. Franckowiak was also responsible for the 3rd tally as he intercepted an aerial on the visitor's three and stepped into pay-dirt.

Dales scored their lone touchdown in the 3rd period on a 19 yard drive after blocking an Eaglet punt. The push required five plays with left half Larry Hunnicutt scoring on a four-yard end run. Quarterback Chuck From converted.

Score by quarters:

ST. JAMES	0	0	7	0	—7
ST. MARY	13	6	0	6	—25

Partello Winner at M59 Speedway

Chuck Partello rolled to victory in the 25-lap feature Sunday at the Pontiac Speedway. Partello's winning time was 9:74.34. Benny Howell took 2nd and Ed Lange 3rd in the hardtop feature.

M. Diviney won the semi event, chased across the finish line by R. Stafford and B. Johnson. Partello was victorious in the pursuit race while heat winners were Red Laurain, Chuck Allen, Chuck Powers, Don Irish and J. Brown. Johnny Wallace won the dash.

'M', Spartans Get Off to Fast Start

By H. GUY MOATS

Michigan's two big universities got off to a fast start in the season's opening contests Saturday, with the Wolverine eleven thumping a surprised Missouri club, 42-7 at Ann Arbor and MSU coming from behind to defeat a reputedly strong Indiana club, 20-13, at Bloomington, Ind.

Over in the huge Wolverine stadium it was largely a "Ron Kramer Day," at least that's the way the big audience looked at it.

He accounted for three of the Wolverines' tallies, turned in a scintillating job on defense, converted all his tries for points after touchdowns, and in general, simply stole the show.

That number on Ron's back, No. 87, figured in about every play of the afternoon until Coach Benny Oosterbaan removed his regulars in the third and fourth periods to give the second and third stringers a chance to romp about on the cool turf of the big stadium.

Michigan had a tough time getting under way in the opening period. And it wasn't until after Missouri had smashed over a tally that the Ann Arbor outfit started to really move. The Missouri TD followed a Michigan fumble on the 23.

After that it was all Michigan—and Kramer, until the regulars retired in favor of the anxious reserves. The scoring, 35-7 at that time, didn't stop. Just before the end of the game Mike Rontunno, in for Kramer, intercepted a Missouri pass and dashed from Tigers' 14 to score, down the sidelines. That finished the scoring and the game. Last conversion was kicked by Van Pelt, a young speedster in Michigan's sub-backfield.

Kramer counted three times, hit five conversions for a 23 point total, to take the lead on the early Big 10 scoring race. He caught three scoring passes of 14-22 and 12 yards. He took seven of eight aerials for 109 yards, punted 3 times for 41 yard average and carried the ball on two end-around plays for nine yards.

New Confidence Marks Spartans After 20-13 Win

Sophs Take Over After Hoosiers' Early TD — Wulff Is Spark

EAST LANSING (AP) — There's a new spirit of confidence in the Michigan State football family since the Spartans won their opener from Indiana, 20-13.

But after the way the sophomores sparkled Saturday, there's a feeling that Michigan State can climb at least part way up the comeback trail this year.

They were crying "wulff" down in Indiana after the game. Hoosier coach Bernie Crimmins said it was the 65-yard punt runback for a touchdown by sophomore Jim Wulff "that really broke our backs."

The sophomores had to take over after Indiana struck early, driving 77 yards for the 1st touchdown. Bob Jewett, lanky end from Mason, provided the spark for the matching MSU score. Jewett took one pass from Earl Morrall for 32 yards and caught a 2nd thrown into the end zone for a 6-yard touchdown.

Statistics were convincing with MSU collecting 235 yards rushing to 42 for Indiana and 109 yards passing to 107 for the Hoosiers. Michigan State only had to punt twice.

Coaches were pleased afterwards because the game was won despite the lack of any breaks.

Australians Top American Stars in Net Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Australia's Rex Hartwig and Lew Hoad have again beaten the United States Davis Cup standard bearers, Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia.

* * *

The bristling five-set doubles final, a replay of the challenge-round doubles of the Davis Cup, featured the finals yesterday in the 29th annual Pacific Southwest Tennis Championships.

The scores this time were 3-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3. The Davis Cup was on display on the center court at the Los Angeles Tennis Club.

Earlier in the day, Trabert, U.S. National and Wimbledon champion, added to his laurels by trouncing Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., in straight sets to win the men's singles title.

Neal Rivers, an ambitious, 21-year-old middleweight who is willing to take on anyone in his division, faces Bobby Dawson, a skillful veteran who had to go to Europe to keep busy, in an interesting 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

The 9 p.m. EST bout will be telecast (DuMont-TV).

Whiting Leads Way

Michigan State has been represented on every U. S. Olympic team roster since 1928, the official records show.

Polly Riley Beats Mary Ann for Cup

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A little Texan, who has refused to turn professional because of fear of losing her love for the game, today reigned as a three-time champion of the Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament.

Ex-Egyptian Soldier's $8,000 Ring Stolen

The burglary was reported by neighbors of Fouad Aref, 29, who was advisor in Egypt for C. B. Demille's "The Ten Commandments."

He said missing valuables included an $8,000 ring and cash.

Soy Carrying Grains Higher

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans spurted sharply and carried the rest of the grain market with them in very active dealings on the Board of Trade today. All new contract soybeans jumped the 10 cent limit permitted in a single session.

The buying wave hit the market about 15 minutes after the opening. Prior to that prices had eased in all pits, partly in sympathy with the severe price break in stocks at New York.

On this early slump, however, trading was very slow. It was apparent that there was no rush to liquidate grains. Then the pits were swept by heavy buying orders.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1 to 6⅞ higher, December $2.07¾; corn ¼ to 1⅜ higher, December $1.36¼; oats ½ to 1 cent higher, December 65⅝; rye ½ to 2 cents higher, December $1.12.

Water Supply Holds Key to Our Future

Southwest as suggesting the fate of an earlier civilization that died for lack of water. And he commented:

"Water is also the key of our present civilization."

Paulsen who has been studying water supply problems 42 years, pointed to "danger zones" on a huge wall map of the United States in his office.

"All of Southern California is running out of water as a result of population and industrial growth," he said.

"San Diego faces a crisis within three to five years. Los Angeles and Dallas, Tex., are among others in trouble. Some Texas towns have paid up to $6 a thousand gallons for water. The usual price is 20 to 50 cents a thousand elsewhere.

"Everybody took water for granted until we ran into shortages. How the nation is really becoming water conscious. We've suddenly discovered it is the life blood of our economy."

USE INCREASING

Prodigal in their use of water Americans require an average of 145 gallons a day each for such purposes as drinking, baths and showers, shaving, dish washing, cooking, laundry, and so on.

Back in 1890 we used only 95 gallons per capita, but that was long before the invention of such water-consuming devices as air-conditioning, automatic dishwashers and washing machines. And if you remember, there weren't many indoor toilets in those days. There was a little house out back . . .

Today there are more than 35 million bathrooms in the United States. In 1930, there were only 13 million.

As for industrial usage of water, it has skyrocketed until it now surpasses irrigation as the No. 1 user.

But there's plenty of water, isn't there? The answer is yes—and no.

There's plenty of water if we could catch it and distribute it where needed. In that case, we could make the deserts bloom.

Thus actual usuage is only a drop in the bucket compared to the enormous amount that falls as rain. But untold billions of gallons are lost as they evaporate or run off to the sea. And much of our surface water is so polluted it is no longer fit for use; in the words of the U.S. Health Department, much of it is "sick water."

Some experts say that right now we are approaching the limit of actual supply under present conditions. The North Carolina Water Resources Committee, in a comprehensive summary of the nationwide water situation, said in a recent report:

"Accelerating demands for water by cities are beginning to add up to a significant load on the water resources of the United States. In many parts of the country, the total use of water is reaching physical or economic limits."

Where is the extra water going to come from in the next 20 years?

Moses saved his people from thirst by smiting a rock and bringing forth water. Modern science may have to perform a 20th Century versions of the same miracle.

Sunday Auto Accidents Injure Two Persons

Two Sunday auto accidents sent two persons to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. In one, police said Edwin S. Parkinson's car hood flew open on Telegraph, one half mile south of Long Lake Road. Parkingson, 26, applied his brakes causing the auto to go into a skid and roll over. He was treated for multiple abrasions.

In the other accident, police said Mrs. Harriett Oswald, 73, of Oak Park, made a left turn from Telegraph onto Square Lake Road, in front of a car driven by Mrs. Isabelle Marchewka, 33, of 170 N. Opdyke, Pontiac, who was unable to stop in time.

Mart Reflects Ike's Illness

Prices were beaten down severely in the first hour as selling orders poured into the market. The second hour brought a spirited rally that cut losses by one-third to one-half in many key areas. In the third hour, however, selling was resumed in some divisions and pressed prices to new lows.

All sections of the market were shaken down by the rush to unload stocks, and there was especial pressure on the motors, aircrafts, steels, railroads, coppers, chemicals, and the oils.

The decline extended 1 to 5 points in scores of instances, and some losses pushed on to 15 points or so.

2 Crash Survivors En Route to Honolulu

HONOLULU (INS) — The pilot and co-pilot of a cargo plane forced to ditch in mid-Pacific Friday were enroute to Honolulu today after a harrowing 44-hour ordeal in which three of their companions perished.

* * *

The Coast Guard said the two men—Chief Pilot Anthony Machado of Hollywood, Calif., and Robert C. Hightower, Vallejo, Calif.—were suffering from shark bites and broken bones.

* * *

* * *

* * *

"I told you they could hurt me, but they couldn't kill me."

* * *

None of the victims' bodies was recovered from the crash scene 1,000 miles west of Honolulu.

Three Hospitalized in 3-Car Collision

A 68-year-old Pontiac woman was hospitalized and two other persons were treated for injuries after a 3-car collision Sunday on the Dixie Highway at M87, State Police said.

Treated for cuts and bruises were Conrad C. Stroh, 48, of Detroit, one of the drivers; and Mrs. Catherine Joyce, 71, of 273 S. Shirley St.

The women were riding with Mrs. Rebecca Rivenburgh, 64, of 49 St. Lawrence St., who troopers said had stopped to make a left turn when Stroh's car struck her car in the rear.

WORK BEE AIDS CRIPPLE — Alonza O. Henderson, crippled in 1949 in a car crash, picked a good neighborhood when he bought himself a condemned house last spring and set out to make it livable. The neighborhood Owen-Hawthorne Wever Community Club admired his courage, as did friends and fellow members of Parkdale Church of the Nazarene. They helped Henderson move the house to a new foundation, put up a chimney, added a bathroom, wired the house for electricity and put on a new roof. Above, members of the Community Club install asbestos siding at a work bee Saturday. Local merchants helped with donations of materials and equipment.

Peron Awaiting Safe Conduct OK

New Regime Promises Papers to Ex-Dictator; Exile Route Planned

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina's fallen dictator Juan Domingo Peron was three miles closer to freedom today but awaited a promised safe conduct from the revolutionary government which overthrew him.

The little Paraguayan gunboat on which Peron had been a refugee for nearly a week pulled away from its Buenos Aires dock late yesterday afternoon. It dropped anchor in the vast Plate River Estuary.

The Paraguayan Embassy said the gunboat was awaiting delivery of the safe conduct papers, promised by the new government Saturday, before setting out on the 900-mile voyage up the Parana and Paraguay rivers to Asuncion. More than two-thirds of the four-day trip is through Argentine territory.

Delivery of the papers was expected at any time. There was no indication that Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi's regime had changed its mind about letting Peron go in accordance with the Latin-American tradition of permitting ousted political leaders to find asylum abroad.

One of the major question marks was still the six-million-member General Confederation of Labor (CGT), the foundation of Peron's popular support. Press and radio repeated constantly an announcement that the government would respect all of labor's gains.

Hector Hugo di Pietro, CGT secretary general, said in a broadcast Lonardi had assured him that the government "will not modify the situation of the newspaper La Prensa." The Peron government seized the famous independent daily in 1951 and gave it to the CGT.

But 'Folksy' Trend Keeps Growing

Push-Button Banking Comes of Age

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's prospering bankers—in Chicago today for the meeting of the American Bankers Assn.—are comparing notes on two trends in banking that at first glance seem to be pulling them in opposite directions:

1. The widespread move to make banking folksy, to bring it to the customers and to house it in gold fish bowls.

2. Push-button banking which is calling on electronics, television, mechanical brains and pneumatic tubes—and maybe in time on delivery trucks—to cut contact with the customers to the minimum.

* * *

But both trends actually trace back to the same things: The changing living habits of Americans in an age of speed-up, rapid growth and automation.

Because of the rush to the suburbs and the crowded traffic of central business districts, banks are merging to gain more branches and trained personnel, and are becoming neighborhood institutions. New branches pop up in shopping centers. Drive-in windows and even mailbox-like "windows" at the curb line cater to the hurried motorist and eliminate his search for parking space.

* * *

The Bank of America is installing a 25-ton automatic bookkeeper using the equivaent of 17,000 radio tubes to do the paper work for a whole group of its branches in California—cutting by about 80 per cent the time required to take care of checking accounts.

Television has been used by a number of banks to enable a teller to check signatures and bank balances without turning away from his window.

* * *

At the bankers' convention, there is being introduced a gadget which combines closed circuit television with a thief-proof currency tray, two-way loudspeaker and a robot-like system of bandit alarm, all in one unit, to be used at the teller's window.

Made by the Mosler Safe Co. of Hamilton, Ohio, it's called Monitrol Teller-Vue.

* * *

It gives the teller direct contact through an RCA TV unit with signature control and bookkeeping departments wherever they may be in the bank. A hinged cover over its currency till automatically swings shut and locks when the teller steps away from the window.

Edwin H. Mosler Jr., president, says that an electronic control system sounds alarms at distant points if a thief grabs a wad of bills from the till or at gunpoint commands the teller to hand over the cash. Mosler thinks it unwise to give would-be thieves the secret of what sets off these alarms.

* * *

Mosler foresees the day when closed circuit television will enable a bank to send a truck to factory gates on pay-day and handle all the banking needs of the workers. The armored car woud have cash, but all the records needed for signature checks and bookkeeping would remain at the central bank, available to the truck by TV.

New England banks, he says, are installing "snorkels" at the curb. These banks, using television and tubes under the sidewalk, enable the customer to do his banking from his car. The teller inside the bank can see the customer, talk with him, check his signature, receive checks or money and send cash to the customer without ever coming near him.

Then the giant mechanical brains, the giant computers, the punch cards take over inside. And all the time, the new-style friendly bank president is sitting in his glass cage at the front of the bank beaming on the customers and passersby.

Rain Innundates North and West Texas Territory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North and west sections of Texas, lashed by torrential rains of up to 11 inches, girded today for more rain and showers.

* * *

Yesterday's downpour flooded homes, washed out bridges and blocked highways north of a line from Texarkana to Waco, Abilene, Wink and northward to New Mexico. No casualties were reported.

Albuquerque, N. M., damaged by a flash flood yesterday, checked losses today. No deaths were reported in the city's ninth and worst flood of the year. Some 100 families were evacuated as several sections of the city were inundated. The waters, which poured down on the city from the mountains, receded yesterday.

In Texas, the rain-swollen Rio Grande and its tributaries threatened several cities in the southern portion of the state. The Rio Grande was expected to crest at 22 feet at Eagle Pass and at 19 to 21 feet at Laredo.

* * *

Police Quell Rioting Marquette Prisoners

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — Five federal prisoners, apparently trying to escape, rioted in the Marquette County Jail yesterday.

Marquette County Sheriff Albert Jacobson said the men got out of their individual cells when he and a trusty attempted to feed them. He said the trusty threw a lever which apparently had been tampered with. It threw open all the celldoors at once.

When the sheriff could not herd the men back to their cells, he called State Police. Six heavily armed officers marched the shouting men back.

Keego Women Plan Breakfast for Public

KEEGO HARBOR—The Business and Professional Women's Club will have a breakfast from 6 a.m. 'til noon Wednesday, open to the public. It will be held at the Pine Lake home of Clara Cronk and Margaret Crew, 3747 Orchard Lake Rd.

Tickets may be obtained at the door or from a member of the club.

2 Night Courses Get Big Turnout

Many Other Classes Drawing Students for Adult Education

Highest enrollment ever in adult night business courses and tailoring and dressmaking courses at Pontiac High School was reported today by Ray J. Graff, supervisor of adult education.

* * *

With 103 registered for business classes, the bookkeeping and accounting and the shorthand courses had to be run two nights, from 7 to 10 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays. Tailoring and dressmaking instruction is being offered from 7 to 10 p.m. each night of the week, to take care of the 55 enrolled.

A total of 218 were registered for all courses.

Unless others enroll this week, courses in automotive diagnosis, machine shop and electrical maintenance will be canceled because of insufficient registrations, Graff said. A minimum of 12 persons is needed to keep a class going.

The possibility of including Spanish, French, business English and reading improvement in the night school curriculum is being considered. Some requests for these subjects have been listed, and if enough are interested to form classes of 12, the instruction will be given, it was announced.

Courses are being given from 7 to 10 p.m, Thursdays in comptometer, office machines, typewriting, and modern photography. Registration fee is $8.

Lip reading classes start tonight. The 7-10 p.m. class runs for 10 weeks, at a cost of $5.

Driver education for adults will be from 4 to 6 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Fee is $22 for a total of 24 hours driving instruction.

Free classes in citizenship are held at 7:30 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays, and Americanization classes at 7:30 p.m. Thursdays.

In addition to the three courses which may be canceled, vocational industrial classes are being held from 6 to 10 p.m. Thursdays in shop mathematics, blueprint reading, tool and die design, drafting and sheetmetal layout, at $16 for a 12-week session; and welding at a fee of $20. These classes are open to persons employed in trade vocations.

Motor Products Strike Ends; Workmen Return

DETROIT (INS) — A wildcat strike that idled 3,400 workers at Motor Products Corp. in Detroit last Thursday, ended today when the workers reported on their regularly scheduled shifts.

Defying local and international union officials, strikers walked out over the discharge of nine employes including two minor officials of local 203, UAW-CIO.

Lorenzo Holtzlander, 10, of Grand Rapids, was shot and killed accidentally Sunday when he and a playmate, Lewis Paton, 13, were playing with a shotgun in a farm house in Muskegon County.

Three Slightly Injured in Two Car Collision

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in a 2-car collision Saturday night on Auburn Road, a mile west of Crooks Road, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Treated and released for cuts and bruises by Pontiac General Hospital authorities were: Mrs. Mildred S. Wellsonder, 58, of Lexington; Mrs. Margery K. Mehlberg, 27, of Avon Township; and her son Russell, 5.

They were passengers with Wilford J. Revoldt, 40, of Avon Township, when their car collided with one being driven by Thomas W. Berube, 35, of Waterford Township. Both cars were westbound.

Worst Problem: Make Emptiness

Levitas of 'Studio One' Creates Everything From Submarines to Palaces

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The forgotten men of television is the scenic designer. So meet Willard Levitas, scenic designer for "Westinghouse Studio One" (CBS-TV), who has created everything from palaces to submarines and now faces the crucial test of creating emptiness.

* * *

It all came about because Studio One is presenting tonight an original drama by Reginald Rose entitled "Three Empty Rooms." The title explains Levitas' problem. If it sounds like no problem at all to you, listen to this.

"I've done about 15 palaces," says Levitas, a tall and self-effacing resident of Newark, N. J., "and every time it gets easier because you learn something. But in this show the feeling of emptiness is more important than the architecture. It's my job to help create that feeling."

HIDE THE FACT

"Rose's drama concerns two shy, lonely people who come to their unfurnished apartment after their wedding and finally achieve understanding of each other through a crisis in a nearby apartment.

"The chief problem is to hide the fact this is scenery instead of three actual bare rooms," says Levitas in explaining:

The furnishings you see in a TV drama set do much to cover the fact you're actually looking at a television studio. Remove the furnishings and the viewers' eyes inevitably will stray to bare walls and floors. If the walls look like canvas you'll find it hard to believe in the authenticity of the drama.

* * *

So, in designing his three empty rooms, Levitas is using actual prefabricate walls and real molding. The floors are of real boards covered with real linoleum so that cameras can move smoothly. Ordinarily there's not a ceiling in a TV drama set. But Levitas' three empty rooms have ceilings made of scrim, a translucent theatrical material.

INTERESTING STORY

There's an interesting story behind nearly everything in television. Back in 1937 an undergraduate at the University of Indiana named William Hodapp wrote a play based on F. Scott Fitzgerald's short story, "The Diamond as Big as the Ritz," and sent it to the author in Hollywood. So began an absorbing correspondence between the two.

* * *

Now William Hodapp, TV producer and writer, has revised his play for television. Kraft Television Theatre will present it Wednesday night, Sept. 28, when the program celebrates its 500th TV dramatic production on NBC-TV. The play had one showing in 1938 in Pasadena, Calif. After that, in Hodapp's words, "I lost it in a closet somewhere and forgot about it until recently." One letter from Fitzgerald, which Hodapp showed this department, contained this wry paragraph on the play's single appearance on the boards:

"'The Diamond as Big as the Ritz' had its world premiere at the Pasadena Playhouse — workshop division upstairs. Thousands were in attendance, but they were all downstairs watching 'Three Men on a Horse.' However, our little party of 38 did very nicely."

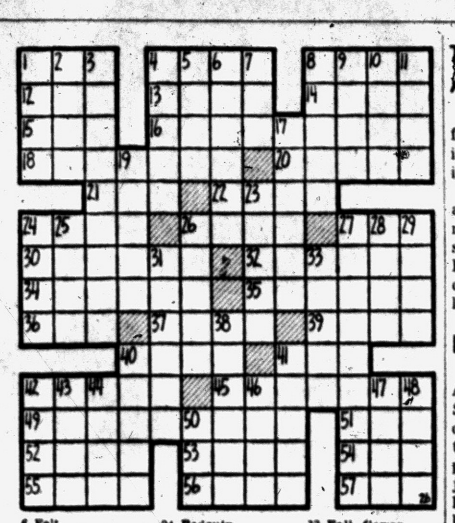

Honduras has boosted both personal and business income taxes, Tegucigalpa reports.

Judy Garland's TV Debut Response Stuns Network

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Judy Garland blew her voice on her television debut but both she and her husband said today: "It was worth it."

* * *

So did CBS-TV, where one spokesman labeled Judy's debut Saturday night as "the greatest personal triumph in the history of the network."

"We've never had anything like this happen before," he commented. "Our switchboards were still jammed 24 hours after the telecast.

"People from all over the country called just to tell us how much they liked Judy. That's all. Just to tell CBS how much they liked her.

LITTLE SLEEP

Judy and her producer husband Sid Luft got little sleep after the show. The doorbell was rung all night by messengers delivering telegrams.

Luft said 1,500 telegrams, mostly from people in small towns that he and Judy never had heard about, were counted by last night.

"People sure are wonderful," said Luft. Judy agreed.

* * *

Living up to show business tradition, she had made the debut despite a severe case of laryngitis. Judy pooh-poohed the throat trouble Friday.

"It's just nerves," she said then. "It will go away."

CBS WORRIED

However, CBS really got worried when about 20 minutes before show time it looked as if her voice might not make it. A doctor, summoned hastily, sprayed her throat and stood by in the wings with the spray. She went through the same spraying routine after each number.

* * *

Luft said her showmanly desire to please the audience caused her to "blow" her voice. Judy, in a voice that sounded like Foghorn Murphy, confirmed the news, but added:

* * *

"We're going to take a rest, maybe in Palm Springs. I'll play a little golf and it'll come back. It always has before."

GOP Plans Farm Forum in Washtenaw County

LANSING (AP)—The Republican State Central Committee said today it will sponsor a public forum on farm problems Oct. 3 at Saline.

True D. Morse, U.S. undersecretary of agriculture, will lead a panel discussion on farm programs and policies. The forum is cosponsored by the Washtenaw County Republican committee.

UM Man Attends Confab

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Associate Professor Howard H. Peckham, director of the University of Michigan Clements Library, attends the annual meeting of the American Assn. for State and Local History this week in Williamsburg, Va. He is president of the group.

Two City Fire Officials Attending 4-Day School

Two Pontiac fire department officials will attend a four-day fire inspectors school at East Lansing beginning tomorrow.

Charles E. Metz, fire marshal, and E. J. Nolen, assistant fire marshal, will attend the session, sponsored by the Michigan State Fire Inspectors Assn. Metz is president of the state group, formed last year.

Norodom Takes Post

PARIS (AP)—The French Press Agency says ex-King Norodom Sihanouk has been named premier of Cambodia for a three-month term. The former King had said previously he would not take the job. The dispatch from Phnom Penh, capital of the Indochinese kingdom, gave no reason for his change of mind.

'55 Crime May Drop, FBI Chief Contends

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says 1955 "may show a long overdue break in the upward crime trend of the past seven years."

Hoover reported a slight drop—of 0.7 per cent—in the number of major crimes committed in the first half of 1955 compared with the corresponding period last year.

Hoover's semiannual "Uniform Crime Reports for the United States" estimated 1,128,350 major crimes reported in the first six months of 1955. This was a drop of 7,790 from the first half of 1954.

Red Skelton Is Outtalked by Ex-Champ Max Baer

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—You should've heard Red Skelton get outtalked—a rare accomplishment—by ex-Heavyweight Champ Max Baer, who had come in from Sacramento for The Fight.

Red was being interviewed when Max clumped down and remarked that his brother Buddy, when a boy but weighing close to 300, came home and said, "Mom, I don't want to be a plumber any more." She asked why.

"About a million," said Bugs . . . "Dollars?" said Max . . . "Enemies!" replied Bugs.

Red didn't go to the fight. "Georgia and I fought at home," he said. After a championship fight here last year, Red told police his pocket had been picked of $3,000.

Police didn't find the money. Red did, however—in a joke-book where he'd left it as a bookmark.

Tallulah Bankhead was costumed for the Martha Raye show by Paul du Pont. "I'm not adamant about clothes," Tallulah told him, "but I know exactly what I don't want."

MARY MURPHY

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Eddie Fisher's pal, comedian Joey Foreman, was grabbed for the Jackie Gleason movie, "Arkansas Traveler," after Elia Kazan and Budd Schulberg saw him at Grossinger's.

Mrs. Hank Greenberg'll only ask for support of the children . . . Pretty Mary Murphy plays a teen-ager with adult curves in Paramount's "The Desperate Hours."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Lee Segall, visiting from Texas, was asked if New York had changed. "Well," he said, "the cabs are smaller and the tabs are bigger."

Marion Marlowe was asked if she belonged to AGVA. "Do you mean," she asked, "the American Guild of Variety Artists or the Arthur Godfrey Veterans Association?" That's earl, brother.
