Nasser Resigning in Wake of 'Grave Setback'

By the Associated Press

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt announced today he was resigning. "We cannot hide the fact that we have suffered a grave setback," he told his people.

In a dramatic radio address, Nasser said he had decided to quit and turn over the presidency to Vice President Zakaria Moheiddin, an army colonel.

As the guns fell silent on the Egyptian front, Israel invaded Syria after charging the Syrians had violated the Middle East cease-fire by shelling Israeli positions.

The heavy fighting was marked by an air raid on the Syrian capital of Damascus, Secretary General U Thant told the U. N. Security Council.

Damascus said one Israeli plane had been shot down.

The Security Council demanded in a resolution passed without dissent that hostilities betwen the two nations "cease forthwith."

Israeli troops struck into Syria to a high plateau overlooking the Sea of Galilee after reporting the Syrians opened fire with artillery and mortars from high ridges.

Syria, which late yesterday announced it had accepted a cease-fire along with Egypt, claimed the Israelis had attacked without provocation and had been thrown back.

Heavy artillery fire shook the front from the Sea of Galilee southward to the Jordan River Valley. Tel Aviv gave little detail of the fighting.

★ ★ ★

After charging that Israeli troops launched attacks on Egyptian positions west of the Suez Canal, Cairo radio some time later announced: "All operations have stopped. The front is quiet now."

CONFLICTING CHARGES

With their forces triumphantly established on the east bank of the Suez Canal, the Israeli army said it had also repulsed an Egyptian attack east of the canal in the Sinai Desert. But Egypt charged the Israelis were attacking its troops along the canal.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS — Harry Reed, managing editor of The Pontiac Press, helps Patricia Polmear and Kim Serota fill out their seminar applications. The teen page writers were granted scholarships to university journalism workshops at last night's second annual Correspondents' Awards Dinner at Oakland University. Patricia of 1175 Bamford, Waterford Township, will attend Michigan State University; Kim of 5277 Maple, Birmingham, the University of Michigan. Both are members of the 40-student team responsible for the newspaper's school pages which appear Tuesday and Friday.

Canvassers Get OK to Act on Time Issue

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court today unanimously agreed that the Board of State Canvassers can now act to certify petitions seeking an election on the controversial Daylight Time issue. Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has said that as soon as the canvassers certify the petitions seeking the November 1968 election Michigan automatically will go on Daylight Time.

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court had time on its hands today — and there could be a fast decision, at least by the court, on the Eastern Standard vs. Daylight Saving Time issue.

If the court throws the matter back in the lap of the Board of State Canvassers, the canvassers will not be here to act upon the matter.

The canvassers met today to certify results of the special election of the 75th House District.

"Then they planned to scatter to the winds," said State elections Director Robert Montgomery. "I had trouble getting three of four up here today to certify the election, and I don't think I will be able to get them together again next week."

Montgomery said one attorney member had an important law case to work on and another member wanted to start a vacation.

HEAR ARGUMENTS

Seven of the eight Supreme Court's arguments on the time dispute affecting every citizen in the state.

Harry F. Kelly was serving as acting chief justice in the absence of Chief Justice John R. Dethmers.

Earlier this year, the Legislature passed and Gov. George Romney signed a bill exempting Michigan from the federal provisions for Eastern Daylight Time, leaving the state on Eastern Standard Time.

A citizens group, led by the Michigan Retailers Association, gathered enough petitions to put the issue on the November 1968 election ballot.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled that the instant the Board of State Canvassers certified the petitions as valid the state would go on Daylight Saving Time.

The canvassers, however, delayed an immediate O.K. of the petitions.

This was although Robert Montgomery, state elections director said a check showed there were enough valid signatures to place the issue on the ballot.

U THANT

U.N. Demands Israel and Syria Cease Hostility

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Syria informed the U.N. Security Council Friday it would comply with a U.N. demand to cease hostilities immediately.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council demanded today that hostilities between Israel and Syria "cease forthwith."

★ ★ ★

The council quickly gave its unanimous approval to the new resolution which was worked out in private negotiations after Syria had requested an urgent meeting to deal with the new outbreak of fighting on the Israeli-Syrian border.

The approved proposal requested Secretary-General U Thant to make the necessary contacts with Syria and Israel to see that the cease-fire agreement was implemented.

He was asked to report back within two hours on the result of his contacts.

★ ★ ★

The resolution was adopted at 1:06 p.m.

FIGHTING CONTINUES

Before the vote the secretary-general told the hurriedly called meeting that heavy fighting was continuing and that Damascus was under aerial bombardment.

Pontiac's Gene Bone appeared to be in danger of missing the cut as he posted a nine-hole score of 39 after yesterday's 77.

40 School Correspondents Honored at Awards Dinner

Forty high school correspondents were honored last night by The Pontiac Press at the second annual Correspondents' Awards dinner at Oakland University.

The two top awards, scholarships to a two-week, all-expense-paid journalism seminar were presented by Harry Reed, managing editor, to Patricia Polmear and Kim Serota.

Patricia is correspondent for Marian High School and Kim, Wylie Groves High School.

Six correspondents were acclaimed for not missing a column or deadline during the entire year.

Earning orchids were Judy Francis of Waterford Kettering High School, Karin Headlee of Rochester High School, Debbie Killen of Pontiac Northern High School, Margit Misangyi of West Bloomfield High School and Cathy Oberg of Oxford High School. Tim Hall of St. Frederick High School, the lone boy to be so honored, was awarded a pen.

YEAR GUARDS

Year guards, awarded to students who have completed their second year as correspondents, were presented to Richard Bosley, Cindy Grissom, Margit Misangyi, Patricia Polmear and Linda Wright.

Receiving one-year gold pins inscribed 'Pontiac Press Correspondent' were Helen Lowery, Diane Lamb, Michael Cooper, Kathie DeRycke, Kim Serota, Benita Rosen, Judy Diehl, Linda Davis, Terry Solan, Connie Mayworm, Cathy Oberg, Debbie Killen, Tim Hall and Lynn Bauer.

Others were Lynda Stewart, Mark Eicher, Connie Phillips, Mary Jergovich, Jo Rosen, Karen Sedan, Garry Miller, John Cruitt, Linda Heath, Paula Mireau, Kathy Kourtjian, Chris Blakeney, Karin Headlee, Edd Chatfield and Darleen Redd.

Still others were Holly Alfs, James Pakledinaz, Judy Francis, Sue Owen, Mary Ellen Quinn and Anne Persson.

Defense Request Peacetime High

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a warning of more to come, the House Appropriations Committee recommended today record peacetime defense financing of $70.3 billion, including $20.3 billion for the war in Vietnam.

This is $1.29 billion less than President Johnson requested for the fiscal year starting July 1 and is in addition to an estimated $43.7 billion in other previously appropriated funds which remain available.

The amount recommended is $65.6 million more than appropriated for the present fiscal year.

Only once before, in the World War II fiscal year 1944, has Congress provided more defense funds. Appropriations that year were $86.4 billion.

The committee in a report written by Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., emphasized that none of the cuts would hamper the war effort and said more funds probably would be needed before year's end.

Community War on Crime Is Urged

Rising crime rates will only be reduced by the development of community interest, some 1,000 school, police and government officials from 12 Southeastern Michigan counties were told yesterday.

That was the recurring theme of 11 speakers at the all-day regional conference on crime and delinquency at Oakland University.

Speaking in the absence of Gov. Romney, Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken said:

"More and better policemen are part of the answer (to control crime and delinquency), but they are not the whole answer.

★ ★ ★

"Crime laboratories, computer systems, court reorganization and a revision of the criminal code are part of the answer, but they are not the whole answer.

'COMBINED EFFORTS'

"The whole answer must come from the combined efforts of the police, the bars, courts, correction agencies, schools, churches, voluntary social agencies and the citizenry. Nothing less than this total effort will be enough . . ."

It is estimated that by 1970 one out of every six youngsters will have a juvenile court record unless community action is taken now.

Judges, Kelley Will Meet Over Pratt Probe Demise

Oakland County's nine circuit judges and State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley will meet next week in an attempt to salvage the grand jury investigation conducted during the last 10 months by Judge Philip Pratt.

The Michigan State Supreme Court yesterday refused to hear an appeal of a lower court ruling that Pratt has been serving illegally as a grand juror.

The high court's 6-2 decision apparently means that there is no chance Pratt can resume his investigation, according to Leon Cohan, deputy attorney general.

The Michigan Appellate Court ruled May 23 that Pratt's appointment as grand juror last August by fellow members of the bench was illegal because he had investigated the same alleged crimes, wrongdoings by public officials, for more than one year.

State law limits a grand juror's term to one year.

Pratt's initial investigation into criminal activities began in June 1965, and centered on Royal Oak Township.

Two months after the year-long probe ended, Pratt again was named to head an investigation requested by Kelley into alleged criminal activities surrounding the Hazel Park Race Track.

Company Pulls Ads off TV

NEW YORK — The Admiral Corp., which makes television sets among other things, will take its advertising off network television as a protest against the level of programming and the "clutter."

Ross D. Siragusa, founder and chairman of the corporation said the advertising taken temporarily from television would go to newspapers.

"We have been so disappointed in the lackluster quality of shows and the preponderance of network commercials and local spots that we are currently reallocating our national advertising funds," he said.

"We are withdrawing temporarily from network television and will invest a proportionately larger amount of our budget advertising this fall in newspapers," he said.

★ ★ ★

Putting the money saved into newspapers, Siragusa said, "will help to build store traffic and also will move more merchandise."

Senate OKs Bill Forcing Redistricting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surprisingly overriding committee recommendations, the Senate has approved a strict congressional redistricting bill that would force reapportionment in 33 states by next year.

The Senate action slashed by two-thirds—from 30 per cent to 10 per cent—the variation in district population allowable within each state under the bill as it passed the House.

The measure now goes to a Senate-House conference committee amid predictions a compromise between the 30 per cent and 10 per cent figures will be reached.

The Senate first voted 44 to 39 Thursday for an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., that inserted the 10 per cent limit. It then passed the bill 57 to 25.

The two votes represented a personal triumph for Kennedy, who had lost 11 to 4 when he offered the same proposal in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Kennedy and other backers had claimed variations of more than 10 per cent would clash with the Supreme Court's historic one man-one vote reapportionment rulings.

The House previously had approved legislation providing for a 30 per cent variation next year and a 10 per cent spread starting in 1972, and the Senate Judiciary Committee had increased the variation for the next four years to 35 per cent.

The Senate bill says districts must be as compact as practicable, while the House measure says they shall be as compact as the states find practicable. Opponents charged the House language opened the way to distorted districts with the possibility federal courts might have no jurisdiction to review them.

Under the 30 per cent provision, eight states would be required to reapportion House districts for the 1968 election.

By cutting this to 10 per cent, the Senate bill would require reapportionment in 23 additional states.

By banning at-large elections in states with more than one representative, it also would force districts to be drawn in New Mexico and Hawaii, which each elect their two members at large.

House Delays Action on Tax

LANSING (AP) — Delaying tax action at least until next week, the House turned Thursday to less controversial items on its calendar.

Today was to have been the deadline for passing bills other than taxing and spending measures, but the Senate reportedly was ready to agree to extend the cutoff date into the middle of next week.

★ ★ ★

Passed by the House Thursday were bills to regulate boating, speed up the State Municipal Finance Commission, permit studded tires in wintertime, and raise from $500 to $1,500 a parent's legal liability for damage caused by his child.

'3 OR 4 VOTES SHORT'

Describing themselves as only three or four votes short of passing their income tax package, House Republican leaders asked some GOP holdouts to spend the weekend talking with constituents who might be hurt by failure to pass fiscal reform.

Still regarded as uncommitted and able to tip the tax scales either way are five Republicans who voted against a state income levy earlier this session. Their support is urgently being sought this time.

★ ★ ★

The five are Reps. Gustave Groat of Battle Creek, Donald Holbrook of Clare, Robert Stites of Manitou Beach, Edson Root of Bangor, and Lionel Stacey of Benton Harbor.

Five Candidates Seeking 2 School Board Seats

BIRMINGHAM — Voters face a choice of five candidates for two seats on the school board in Monday's election here.

Both incumbents are seeking reelection for four-year terms.

The three challengers are: Dr. Oscar K. Search of 4962 Whispering Pines; Mrs. Blanche W. Bell of 1665 Quarton; and George T. Mann of 15940 Villa.

Incumbents are Mrs. Kathleen B. Hilfinger of 15969 Dunblaine and Dr. Charles A. Leach of 900 Wimbledon.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Voters here, along with other electors in the county will decide Monday on a half-mill tax question for a countywide system of vocational education center, but there is no opposition for board positions.

Two school district office-holders are running unopposed for four-year terms. They are Richard H. McGraw of 1438 Sodon Lake and Dr. Charles L. Bowers of 3355 Franklin.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Benson J. Wood of 1940 Cedar Hill has been elected a director of the National Society of Professional Engineers.

He is vice president of Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Stirton, Inc., of Detroit.

Wood recently completed a term as president of the Michigan branch of the group.

Crime Panel Looks to Community Efforts

Four Michigan community action programs were explained and delegates were asked to help set up similar programs in their own communities.

The programs, termed "the finest in the United States" by Judge Eugene A. Moore of Oakland County Probate Court and conference chairman, are:

- Oakland County Protective Services to keep predelinquent and preneglected youngsters out of trouble and out of court.
- Flint Community School Program to develop total community action in conjunction with schools to build moral character and keep youngsters out of trouble.
- Mott Vocational Guidance Program to help adult parolees stay out of trouble and not become repeaters.
- Royal Oak Voluntary Probation Program which unites the entire community to provide volunteer community service to misdemeanor probationers.

Milliken had particular praise for the Mott Foundation and Camp Oakland. He remarked:

"Among the most successful programs I know are those carried on by the Mott Foundation — particularly through its community school concept, its counseling for probationers and its efforts to improve race relations.

"Camp Oakland, born out of the dedication of Judge Arthur E. Moore (of Oakland County Circuit Court) . . . is attracting nationwide attention as a living model of what can be accomplished for youthful wards of the Probate Court to help make sure they become useful citizens."

Another speaker was John S. Bugas, vice president of Ford Motor Co., who delivered an address prepared by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. Hoover lashed out at the Communist party in the United States.

'AWARENESS NEEDED'

William M. Ellmann, president of the State Bar of Michigan, told the delegates that "each of us and all of our agencies must acquire an awareness of the problem."

Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore, founder of Oakland County Protective Services, said that of 18,000 predelinquent and preneglected youngsters who have been served by 26 county protective service committees in the past nine years 85 per cent "never have any further neglect or delinquency problem necessitating juvenile court intervention.

Other messages were given by C. S. Harding Mott, president of the Mott Foundation, and William Gossett, president-elect of the American Bar Association.

The conference was sponsored by Oakland University's Mott Center for Community Affairs and the State Bar of Michigan and its Crime Prevention Center Committee.

Court Upholds Probe Ruling

A month later the investigation was expanded to take in all crimes in the county.

In ruling, the appellate court said that Pratt could not sit on two consecutive grand juries.

Today, Pratt said there are three alternatives which probably will be considered at next week's conference with Kelley.

These include ending the investigation; petitioning of a new investigation by Kelley; or the naming of a successor to Pratt to complete the remaining two months of the inquiry.

It is unclear, however, if the new grand jury would legally have access to the files compiled by Pratt.

Another unsettled question is the legality of the four indictments issued by Pratt to date, and a raid initiated by the grand juror on an alleged gambling establishment in Hazel Park.

Presiding Judge Arthur E. Moore said that the day of the meeting has not been scheduled, but that it will probably be early in the week.

Romney Hurt by Coalition

Senate Blow to Local, Urban Affairs Plan

LANSING (AP) — A Senate Republican - Democrat coalition dealt a major blow to Gov. George Romney's local and urban affairs program Thursday night.

Then Senate voted 15-12 to return to the Municipalities Committee three House bills providing for establishment of voluntary regional associations of local governments.

However, the bills' backers vowed to attempt reconsideration of the action today and return the measures to the floor.

In other capital developments, the House passed bills to aid Mackinac Bridge refinancing and allow studded tires and approved a resolution authorizing $68 million in self-liquidating projects at several colleges.

Described by one senator as "the most important legislation to come before this body outside of fiscal reform," so-called "council of government" bills were aimed primarily at populous southeastern Lower Michigan.

Among other things, they would allow local governments to contract with other local units for such services as water and sewage disposal.

With the deadline for passage of bills originating in the other chamber set for midnight tonight, the opposition, led by 16th District Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, argued the measures had not received enough study.

Seven other Republicans and seven Democrats joined Huber in voting to refer the bills to the committee, of which Huber is chairman.

They were opposed by six Republicans and six Democrats, including majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and minority leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit.

The bills were described by Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, as permitting establishment of a "loose association of independent units of government."

Street Flooding in City Tied to Storm Sewer Ills

The problem of flooded streets, which was common Wednesday after heavy rainfall, wasn't new or unique. And it will spring up again when intensive rain hits the city.

The reason, according to Joseph E. Neipling, director of public works and services, is that "in general, the city has an inadequate storm sewer system."

A number of steps have been taken in the past few years to provide more and better drains; a number more are now being taken and more will be done in the future, he said.

But, Neipling said, to eliminate flooding and overflow for all local streets the city would have to spend "millions."

Pontiac officials have been endeavoring to solve the problem of water and its accumulation for some time, he said. The first and biggest stage is to provide an adequate outlet from the city.

The city's only outlet for storm and rain water is the Clinton River which utilizes its tributary, Pontiac Creek.

"Since 1962 continuing to date the city has or is spending $5 million from downtown to the east boundary so that we do have an adequate outlet," Neipling said.

The river, which used to loop through the downtown area was given a new channel in 1964 so that it now travels below the heart of downtown Pontiac, a necessary step in making the whole downtown area ready for urban renewal development.

When the river was channeled into underground conduits it was also lowered and made more capable of carrying excess storm and rain water.

With Pontiac attempting to correct many of its problems with too little money, Neipling said, it's diffficult to think that the city is ready to spend the amounts necessary to provide really adequate storm drainage for the entire city.

Three major projects which would go toward alleviating problems, he said, are providing a relief sewer for the Pontiac Motor Division area, cost about $1.6 million; improving the Pontiac Creek and providing a storm interceptor for the north side of East Lake Street.

These three projects alone would cost over $6 million, he estimated.

Pentagon Plan Faces Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee moved today to block Pentagon plans to realign National Guard and Army Reserve units.

It wrote into a report accompanying a $70.3-billion defense appropriation bill a directive to the Defense Department that the proposed realignment "be deferred pending such time as a formal legislative expression can be made" in the matter.

While the language was not written into the money bill itself, the committee's report has the effect of law unless the House or the Senate nullifies it through an actual amendment to the bill.

The Pentagon announced last week plans to eliminate 1,300 units in the National Guard and the Reserves, including 15 Guard units now at half-strength.

The committee said it had "considerable misgivings over the prospect of disbanding combat units of the reserve components in a time of crisis" and noted that Congress had not been given an opportunity to consider the proposal.

The bill itself includes language to maintain the strength of the Army Reserves at not less than 260,000 and the Army National Guard at not less than 400,000.

State Gives OU Building Funds Okay

The State Legislature yesterday approved the spending of $5.72 million by Oakland University for a residence hall and student center expansion.

In all, $68 million was authorized for self-liquidating projects at seven universities.

A $3.72 million nine-story dormitory is being constructed at OU and is expected to be ready by January 1968.

A $2-million addition to the Oakland Center is expected to be started next winter and finished by December 1968.

This will be the first of two stages of expansion for the center.

The first stage includes the addition of 40,000 square feet for a recreation area, student offices and conference rooms and a new grill.

WSU May Lose Building Grants

DETROIT (AP)—William R. Keast, president of Wayne State University, said Thursday that the university could lose $11.6 million in federal construction grants unless the state provides its share of the costs.

Keast said receipt of the federal funds depends on legislative approval of a $2 million appropriation in the upcoming budget.

Strippers in Tune With Times

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — There simply aren't many ways left in which we can immortalize our modern-day heroes, statesmen and other public benefactors.

Most cities have run out of space in which to erect statues and monuments. The major mountains, lakes, rivers, harbors, dry salt beds, and funny looking rock formations have already been named for someone.

As long as we keep building dams, ships and highways we can always use them for memorial purpose. But the supply is limited.

There remains, then, only one abundant resource—public figures. Public figures can be named for public figures. The public figures belong, of course, to stripteasers.

★ ★ ★

As all of us dirty old men are aware, strippers frequently adopt stage names based on people and places in the news.

TIMELY NAMES

During the Profumo scandal in England, for instance, an American stripper took the name "Christine Peeler." There are strippers named Bobbi Kennedy, Jackie Paar, Norma Vincent Peel and so on.

Which brings us to the disclosure this week by the Washington Star that one of the Egyptian belly dancers at the Algiers restaurant here is Jewish.

When someone asked, "what's a nice Jewish girl like you doing in a place like this? (or in words to that effect), she replied that she was earning money to donate to the United Jewish Appeal.

★ ★ ★

All that now is needed to bring this situation up to its full potential is for the belly dancer, who calls herself "Kiki," to change her name.

OPTIONS

She could choose to commemorate the Israeli capture of the Egyptian stronghold of the Gulf of Aqaba. In which case she would henceforth be billed as "Sharmel Shake."

The Middle East conflict does, in fact, open up a rich lode of potential pseudonyms for current events-minded dancers. Any buresque queen who can't cash in on the Gaza Strip should retire from the stage.

The fighting at Jericho undoubtedly will bring forth a bump-and-grinder named Jerri Coe, and the first stripper who reads the news from Beirut will become "Bare Ruth" on the spot.

All of which gives us one more reason to hope the cease fire sought by the United Nations will soon take effect.

If the war lasts much longer, "Mandelbaum Kate" and "Suzy Canal" are bound to get into the act.

Art Center Fund

MIDLAND (AP) — Plans for a $1.5-million matching fund building campaign have been announced for a proposed $6.5 million Midland Center for the Arts. Construction is scheduled to get under way this fall.

School Election Issues Vary—Hot to Cold

Issues for Monday's election in Pontiac area school districts range from "life or death struggles" on millage questions to "ho-hum" board elections.

What may be termed the hottest campaign has been waged in Troy where $7 per $1,000 assessed valuation as equalized is being asked. The district claims it must have the money to pay off debts and continue present programs.

If funds aren't forthcoming the district faces curtailed classes and an austerity program, school officials claim.

The Holly school district is also seeking "crucial millage." They are asking for three extra mills, $3 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

★ ★ ★

The district says it needs an extra $100,000 to prevent a deficit and keep up its program.

In addition to the proposed tax hike, a seven-mill levy is up for renewal. Electors will vote on the entire 10 mills as one ballot issue.

In West Bloomfield three board positions are open. Only three persons bothered to file for the election.

Meanwhile, Farmington has one four-year term open with six persons after the job.

Troy

A one-year, 7-mill tax levy will be on the ballot here along with a four-year board position in which the incumbent faces one challenger.

★ ★ ★

The incumbent is Gordon Sparks of 6389 Elmoor, while the challenger is Harold A. Janes of 6204 Herbmoor.

Clarkston

Two incumbents face two challengers for four-year terms.

★ ★ ★

Incumbents are: Ronald A. Weber of 6110 Overlook and Melvin Pohlkotte of 6609 Shelley, while their challengers are Richard Yarbrough of 5220 Maybee and Ingrid M. Smith of 6360 Eastlawn.

Brandon

Four persons seek two 4-year board positions, with both incumbents not seeking reelection, while Nelson W. Tucker is running unopposed for a one-year term. This is a post to which he was appointed last year.

Seeking the four-year terms are James D. Bradford of 2245 M15, Mrs. Rosalie M. Butler of 7130 Oakhill, Donald J. Carter of 1834 Bird and Mrs. Jane M. Vogel of 256 Granger.

Dryden

Two 4-year board positions are uncontested. Running are incumbents Fred Thiemkey Jr., 4050 S. Mill, and Mrs. Marion West, 4043 S. Mill.

Renewal of 3 mills for operating expenses plus an additional 3 mills will be the ballot question.

Budget Up Monday for Wolverine Lake

WOLVERINE LAKE — A $109,510 budget, which apparently insures a chief administrator for the village, will be presented to the Village Council for adoption Monday night.

A hearing on the budget at 7:30 p.m. will be followed by the regular council meeting at 8 p.m.

The proposed budget contains raises for nearly all the employes plus $10,000 for a chief administrator, a position currently being filled by Clifford Cottrell.

Cottrell was named to the position last January but the newly created office was abolished by the council within a week of its creation. He was again appointed to the position in April when four newly elected councilmen took office.

The proposed budget is up $16,705 over last year's budget mainly because of the pay increases for employes, according to Cottrell.

If approved, the millage rate would be dropped from 10 mills to 8.5 mills because of the increase in assessed valuation—from $4,878,222 last year to $7,122,420 this year.

The $10,000 for the administrators salary, in the proposed budget which includes the cost of car operation and maintenance, is derived from monies alloted to the village's various departments.

The building department gives $5,000 toward the $10,000; the road department, $3,000; and the water department and the assessors department $1,000 each.

Cottrell said that the only money which comes from taxes is the $1,000 from the assessors fees.

Raises are included in the proposed budget for the treasurer and the police department.

A $240 raise increasing the salary to $4,440 is proposed for the treasurer. No raise is included for the clerk who at $5,250 is at the top level, according to Cottrell.

Of the $38,103 allotted to the police department, $24,600 is proposed for salaries.

An increase of $400 raising his salary to $6,800 is proposed for the police chief. The salary for the sergeant would be raised from $5,450 to $6,200; for the patrolmen from $5,250 to $5,800; and for the part-time auxiliary police from $1.50 for the first hour to $2, and to $2.25 per hour after one year's service.

OTHER COSTS

The proposed budget also includes $6,500 for the building department; $1,145 for the assessors department; $3,775 for lake level operation.

A separate water department budget is set up for $10,000 and a separate road budget is proposed at $34,020.

SUBURBIA VISITOR — Six-year-old Noreen Keller of 7998 Perry Lake, Independence Township, saw "a big snake" in the back yard. Her mother, Mrs. William Keller, took a look and discovered it was a rattlesnake and killed it with a hoe. The poisonous reptile was about two feet long and had six rattles. It wasn't exactly Texas-size as rattlers go, but, for a Michigan version, large enough to cause harm.

Holly

A 10-mill school operating levy faces voters plus the choice between six candidates for two four-year terms.

The millage question involves a three-mill tax increase and renewal of a previous seven-mill levy, which expires this year.

Incumbents are William Denton of 1361 Thread Valley and Robert S. Brummeler of 1015 N. Saginaw.

Challengers are James Weathers of 14243 N. Holly, William Addis of 406 E. Maple, Conol Lahring of 15275 Dickerson Lake and John C. Fischer of 1321 Thread Valley.

Imlay City

Five candidates will seek election to two 4-year terms. They are Willem Etteman, 7402 Shaw; Robert Lee, 2176 S. Blacks Corners; Donald Twite, 460 N. Almont; J. Ward Schultz, 1 Conley, Attica; and Mrs. Mary Berg, 220 W. Seventh.

Farmington

One four-year term is being sought by six candidates.

They are George F. Adams, 30158 Fernhill, Farmington Township; Sidney Brown, 32280 Old Franklin; Sanford Bloomberg, 29570 Pipers Lane, Farmington Township; Mrs. Mary D. Johnson, 7345 Cold Springs, West Bloomfield Township; Albert R. Lorenger, 30190 Pipers Lane Court, Farmington Township; and Harold H. Tayler Jr., 22743 Brookdale.

Avondale

Two board seats are up, while voters also will decide a 3-mill renewal question.

Incumbent Jack I. Slater Jr., 614 Provincetown, seeks the one 4-year term, while the one 3-year term is sought by incumbent Jessie H. Holmes, 6839 Dublin Fair, Troy, and by announced write-in candidate, Robert Lewis Jr., 716 Southampton, Pontiac Township.

South Lyon

Incumbent Mrs. Rita M. Chenoweth is unopposed for reelection to a four-year term.

Utica Adopts New Budget of $288,691

UTICA — The 18-mill city tax and 1-mill library tax levy has been continued here as councilmen, following a public hearing, adopted a balanced budget of $288,691.

Reflecting an increase of $15,000 over last year, the budget also takes into account a $300,000 hike in the city's valuation. Total valuation is now $10,367,000, according to city officials.

★ ★ ★

Most of the increase in expenses was attributed to pay increases and added fringe benefits for city employes.

The public safety fund is budgeted at $92,649, up $14,704 from last year with the fire department up $5,000 to $24,055.

Oxford

Three candidates have filed for the one 4-year seat. They are Bill Patterson, 43 Park; Mrs. Leonard Lackner, 1700 Coats; Kenneth F. Horton, 105 Seymour Lake.

An increase of 2 mills in operating taxes for three years is sought also.

Walled Lake

Five persons including the two incumbents will seek the two 4-year terms to be filled.

They are incumbents Barbara Scully and Robert Thibideau and Roy W. Fogle, 2355 Keith, West Bloomfield Township; Herman Werther, 7361 Honeysuckle, West Bloomfield Township; and Richard K. Schliskey, 1910 Dawn Ridge, Commerce Township.

Osteopath Unit Picks Officers

LAKE ORION—The Oakland County Osteopathic Association has elected Dr. G. W. Fredericks, 37 W. Flint, president.

A general practitioner with his practice in Lake Orion since 1960, Dr. Fredericks is also chief of staff at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Other officers elected recently by the county association include Dr. Jerry Margolis, 4930 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township, president-elect, and Dr. Eugene Sikorski, 673 N. East Boulevard, Pontiac, secretary-treasurer.

All offices are for a one-year period.

Novi Council Okays Industrial Rezoning

NOVI — In spite of opposition from a number of residents, the Village Council has approved the rezoning of property on 12 Mile near the Chesapeake Railroad tracks from agricultural to medium manufacturing.

The council acted on the recommendation of the planning commission in a 4-1 vote.

Village Manager Harold N. Ackley said the council felt that the rezoning was proper because of the location. He said an industrial subdivision is planned for the area.

Residents objected saying the new zoning would spoil the residential area nearby.

Program Tonight

MILFORD — A "Meet the Candidates" program for the Huron Valley Board of Education will be held at 8:30 tonight at the Milford High School cafeteria.

★ ★ ★

It was incorrectly stated in yesterday's Pontiac Press as Saturday night.

Petitions Tabled in Move to Change School District

The Oakland County Intermediate School District office last night tabled petitions from a group of parents in the Huron Valley School District seeking transfer of their property to the Walled Lake School District.

★ ★ ★

The two boards of education were instructed to get together with the parents to attempt to work out an agreeable solution.

★ ★ ★

Parents in the southeastern corner of the Huron Valley district want to become part of the Walled Lake district because, they say, they are closer to Walled Lake's schools than to the school to which their children are now bused.

★ ★ ★

Both districts have gone on record as opposing the transfer. Huron Valley claims it would lose state-owned land that is financial asset to the district and Walled Lake does not want to be part of a piecemeal transfer.

Antique Village in Orion to Host Weekend Event

ORION TOWNSHIP — More than a thousand visitors are expected to attend an outdoor art show and flea market this weekend at Keatington's Antique Village, Joslyn Road.

Mrs. Dorothy Burton, manager of the village, said picnic lunches will be sold, hay rides will be offered the children and the scenic beauty of Lake Voorheis is available to all.

Bus tours have been scheduled for trips through Keatington, Michigan's largest planned community.

A 28-foot pontoon boat will take regular sight-seeing runs.

Antique Village is being built on the site of the old Scripps Estate.

The value of new construction in the United States has risen 36.1 per cent since 1961 to a total of about $5.5 billion in 1966.

Rochester

Seven persons seek two 4-year terms. The candidates are: Mrs. William Beardmore, 213 Nesbit; Thomas J. Fisher, 870 Ironstone J. R. Hodson, 165 Montmorency; James R. Laidig, 301 Charles; James P. McAlpine, 31 Shagbark; Roy O. Simpson Jr., 2875 Gravelridge; and Dr. John F. Solverson, 6255 Winkler Mill.

Lake Orion

Two 4-year terms are sought by incumbent Robert Sheardy, 740 Lakeview; William Bonning, 440 Indianside; Mary Parker, 105 E. Jackson; Gordon Brown, 310 E. Flint.

Vieing for a one-year term are Lawrence Abbey, 2820 Buckner; Mrs. Walter Stirch, 455 S. Bellevue.

Romeo

Seeking two 4-year terms are incumbent Walter W. Sewell, 59140 Van Dyke, Washington; Arthur Smith, 73463 Lassier; and Gary Corbin, 7277 Lindrath, Washington.

An increase of 3 mills for five years operating expenses will also be sought.

Lapeer

The one 4-year term is sought By William Patterson, 177 W. Nepessing; Dr. Joseph Curley, 624 N. Main, and Robert Haynes, 1832 Gardners.

Utica

Seeking the two 4-year terms are incumbent William Peper, 51044 Baltree; incumbent Donald Hoyt, 4040 Sandy Creek; and Leland Hiller, 5127 Montgomery.

Almont

Seeking two 4-year terms are incumbents Donald D. Bowman, 5691 Sandhill, and Paul Herpolsheimer, 6400 Hall, Dryden. They will face newcomers Jay W. Tuggle, 5596 Bishop; Dr. Merle B. Haney, 400 Juliet; and James C. Wade, 7692 Bordman, all of Almont and all former members of the Citizens Advisory Committee.

Huron Valley

Four vacancies are to be filled here.

Seeking the two 4-year terms are incumbents Lawrence Kinstle and Gerald Anderson. Others are Carl Feigley, 725 Canal, Milford; Carlos Trask III, 1607 Burns, Milford Township; Jules E. Caudron, 3316 Mapleridge, Highland Township; Anthony A. Coppola, 3452 Gadd Court, Highland Township.

The two-year term is being sought by incumbent James Smith; Dr. Norman Krieger, 1201 Garner, Milford Township; Dale B. Duncan, 2780 Campers, Highland Township.

The one-year term is being sought by Arthur Burklund, 635 Atlantic, Milford; Gerald McNally, 1775 Porter, White Lake Township; Mrs. Lilly Threloff, 305 E. Liberty, Milford; Robert Ward, 811 Birdsong, Milford; Mrs. Harriett Wilson, 4990 Driftwood, Commerce Township.

Gerald McNally and Mrs. Lilly Threloff have withdrawn from the race but their names will appear on the ballot.

W. Bloomfield

Two 4-year terms are sought by incumbents Leonard Grossman and Earl A. Kreps.

Incumbent Richard Swart is unopposed for the one 2-year term.

Clarenceville

Two 4-year terms are being sought by incumbents Thomas C. Wilson and Samuel J. Prisk; and Vern Foster, 30341 Bretton, Livonia.

Seeking the one 3-year term are Harold Weiss, 19459 St. Francis, Livonia; Edward P. May, 30170 Maplewood, Livonia; Donald A. Hayden, 30041 Bretton, Livonia; E. Fred Turner, 19645 Angling, Livonia; Robert M. Erickson, 20345 Weyher, Livonia; Douglas McArthur, 21218 St. Francis, Farmington Township.

Also on the ballot will be a 3-mill operating levy increase. The present operating levy is 23.9 mills.

A START ON SUMMER — Three Lake Orion Junior High School students get a preview of the arts and crafts program to be offered this summer. Pictured are (from left) Randy Burt, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Burt, 2657 Judah, Orion Township; Richard Stenquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stenquist, 4775 Indianwood, Independence Township; Kathy Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly, 223 O'Connor, Lake Orion; and their instructor, Miss Margaret Lane, junior high school seventh grade English and reading teacher.

Summer Rec Program Will Be Action-Packed

LAKE ORION — For about 500 students who have signed up with the new summer recreation program here, the coming vacation is going to be crammed with activity.

The Orion Area Youth obtained Thomas Prieur, head football coach at the high school, as director of the program. Margaret Lane, a teacher at Lake Orion Junior High, has been employed to teach arts and crafts.

Prieur will be assisted by four Lake Orion High School seniors, Corky Groesback, David Hauxwell, Shelby Largent and Edward Bretzlaff.

They'll be overseeing sports, hikes, field trips and picnics from July 3 to Aug. 25 for students seven and olders.

Activities are planned to include softball for boys, mush ball for girls, badminton, track and field, horseshoes, archery, basketball, touch football, checkers and jacks.

FAMILY DONATIONS

The program, designed to give youngsters something to do during the long summer days, is financed in part by family contributions from those taking part. Donations have also been received from the township and village.

Previous summer activities have been limited to Little League and a Child Guidance-sponsored swimming program in the village.

Mrs. Jackie Fields, chairman of the recreation program, indicated that the continuation of the program will depend in large measure on this year's participation by the community.

★ ★ ★

She said that since a minor number of students have signed for programs to be offered at the Senior High School site, they will likely be switched over to the Blanche Simms school.

Other program centers are at Carpenter and Proper Schools.

The first librarian of Congress, John Beckley of Virginia, was appointed Jan. 29, 1802.

'Battle of Apostrophe' On in Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "The battle of the apostrophe" has been joined, and it looks as though movie writers and directors will be firing along the lines all summer.

THOMAS

Caught in the crossfire is the Motion Picture Association, which represents the major film producers of Hollywood.

★ ★ ★

Why should the powerful Writers and Directors Guilds suddenly find themselves at odds?

The reason goes deep into the creative psyche, concerning ego and professional pride.

The basic issue concerns a longtime practice in movie billing. Almost from the movies' beginnings, certain creative and-or powerful producers and directors were able to affect possessive billing over film titles. For example, theaters in 1955 advertised:

D. W. Griffith's
"Birth of a Nation"

Of, in 1956 the nation's screens proclaimed:

Cecil B. DeMille's
"The Ten Commandments"

PRACTICE CONTINUED

The practice continues to recent times, with films billed as Otto Preminger's, John Frankenheimer's or William Castle's.

Writers of screen plays have long rankled under this billing. They argue that a movie cannot properly be termed a producer's or a director's unless he has contributed a sizable share of the writing.

★ ★ ★

One writer carried the analogy to the extreme: "Would it have been called Richard Burbage's 'Hamlet' because the actor happened to stage Shakespeare's play?"

Two years ago, the Writers Guild of America tried and failed to achieve a contract clause with the producers prohibiting the possessive over a title, except by those who helped write the screen play.

CLAUSE WON

But last December the writers won such a clause in negotiations with the Association of Motion Picture and Television Producers. The new contract prohibited billing to nonwriters such as:

John Ford's "Stage Coach"

John Ford's film "Stage Coach"

A film by John Ford — "Stage Coach"

A film of John Ford — "Stage Coach"

"Such billing denotes authorship," argues a spokesman for the writers, "and it should go only to someone who participated in the writing. In the cases of Richard Brooks, George Seaton, John Huston and other directors who write or co-write their scripts, the possessive could be used."

ANGRY REACTION

Upon hearing of the contract clause, the Directors Guild of America blew its collective top. The Guild's house organ, "Action!" which editorialized under the title "The Great Giveaway": "Directors have possessed possessory credit since the dawn of cinema. There was and still is D. W. Griffith's 'Birth of a Nation' and D. W. Griffith's 'Intolerance.'

"An established director like Alfred Hitchcock . . . can no longer exploit his well-earned reputation by having his name alongside the title of his future pictures. Neither could Samuel Goldwyn if he should produce again. Or Darryl Zanuck."

★ ★ ★

The directors applied for a temporary injunction against the writers and producers, charging restraint of trade. It was denied May 18 by Judge Ralph H. Nutteer of California's Supreme Court. He ruled that an injunction would endanger the writers' pension-welfare plan. He did not rule on the merits of the directors' case.

The new contract was signed on the afternoon of the decision.

Directors remain militant. Says a spokesman: "Our dispute is not with the writers and we do not mean to denigrate them. We believe the producers did wrong in negotiating away our rights while making an agreement with another guild. . . .

MOVE TOWARD CONFLICT

"Credits have never been the subject of collective bargaining before this time. We believe this may be a move to create conflict between the directors and writers. What the producers may be seeing is a company designation, such as Columbia's 'A Man for All Seasons,' not Fred Zinnemann's."

Despite claims that intercine warfare is to be avoided, the writers and directors have lobbed a few shells at each other. A spokesman for the writers enjoyed pointing out that D. W. Griffith not only directed "Birth of a Nation" but wrote it as well, and thus deserved the possessive.

A week ago, the directors guild held an angry meeting and members voted unanimously to pursue the billing issue "in the courts and by all other means." Vice President Delbert Mann called the matter "an erosion of our rights" and declared it "the most important issue in the 31-year history of our guild."

Guild members expressed their pique by voting to negotiate working contracts with individual producers and bargain no more with the Producers Association.

The Writers Guild counters that at least 15 kinds of billing are still left to directors and producers, such as:

Alfred Hitchcock's production of.

A production by Alfred Hitchcock.

But the directors are not satisfied, and the dispute is likely to grow more intense. All over where to put an apostrophe.

Dentists May Soon Conduct Diabetes Check

By Science Service

SAN FRANCISCO — Dentists may routinely check their patients—not just for cavities or gum disease — for diabetes, if the plan of a San Francisco doctor is followed.

In a test study of 100 persons Dr. Herman Kaplan put a drop of blood from the patient on a cellulose measuring strip. After 60 seconds he washed the blood away and measured the blood glucose count by the color changes on the strip.

Of 100 experimental patients, 10 had positive responses and seven had confirmed diabetes.

Dr. Kaplan reported his test method in the Journal of the American Dental Association. He says diabetic screening should be done regularly as part of research into the relation of diabetes and oral disease.

India Observed as a Country Showing Extreme Contrasts

The second greatest nation in the world today is India.

That is, it's second in population.

India is a land of violent contradictions. We have abject poverty on one hand and yet there's scattered magnificence and opulence. Scrubby Indian villages are strewn throughout the land consisting entirely of hovels and small settlements where a few have congregated for companionship and where the "public library" would consist of a folder some traveler had discarded.

★ ★ ★

Of course, they have the Taj Mahal which is one of the architectural masterpieces of all time. It's simply incredible. You contemplate its majesty and dignity and doubt your own vision.

And New Delhi is a challenging city. But yet there are 1.7 million people there, the vast majority of whom don't know what a good meal is. And they aren't certain where the next one is coming from anyway — good, bad or indifferent.

★ ★ ★

I never cease to wonder what the future holds for this complex and baffling nation.

Where are they going?

When do they start?

When will they arrive?

It's a nation of contrasts in general. The temperature will edge past the century mark, day after day. And yet you aren't as uncomfortable as you'd be right here in Michigan when it notches a meager 90. The humidity there runs around twenty and thirty and just once did we see it as high as sixty. But you don't perspire. Clothes don't cling.

★ ★ ★

In the midst of all this poverty, the Ashoka Hotel is one of the most luxurious edifices around the world and some of the government buildings are simply magnificent. And yet, not too far away, you encounter a beggar with a badly twisted arm and one leg.

★ ★ ★

The exact population is uncertain for there probably never has been a census nor can they take one in the foreseeable future.

Who would do the counting?

Who'd pay the bill?

★ ★ ★

We had a very interesting hour with Ambassador Chester Bowles, one of the top figures in reigning diplomatic circles. He says the average life of the Indian has been raised from 27 years to 52. (It's 70 in the United States). A large part of this must come through the tremendous advances in the infant mortality rate. Not long ago the death rate among babies was something like three out of four or five. Ambassador Bowles says that each year, there are 10 million net additions to the population, so in the next ten years, India will increase 100 million people. They can't feed the 500 million they have now.

What will they do?

What would YOU do?

★ ★ ★

As modern science and death rate problems step further into the picture by the end of a decade, this increase might become 15 million.

This is one of the great world problems. I hate to say it, but people are dying in India from starvation. They died yesterday. And they will die tomorrow. It's hard to believe and there's no immediate cure.

Calcutta is the fourth largest city in the entire world, led only by Tokyo, London and New York. But it's a hodgepodge of extremes with want, suffering and depressing circumstances far out in front.

★ ★ ★

We asked Mr. Bowles about education. Schooling is compulsory from seven to eleven. This would guarantee every Indian child five years of education. But the number that fails to receive even this meager apportionment is alarming. The new constitution hopes to make seven years a legal necessity soon.

I think their Deputy Prime Minister in Agra summed up the whole situation rather accurately when he said to us:

"Our greatest need is to have the world understand us."

★ ★ ★

Statistics are universally boring and your peripatetic reporter rarely pleads guilty to this literary atrocity, but here are a few facts on this fabulous Taj Mahal. It's 243 high which is a hundred feet taller than any building in Pontiac. And yet it looks half this height and the proportions are exquisite. It took 22 years to build and 20,000 laborers constituted the work force. It houses two sets of graves. One is strictly a phony and the other is the real thing.

★ ★ ★

I said to a man in India: "Would you like to go home with me and work at my house?"

He stopped short, whirled and very earnestly demanded: "When can I start?"

I said the same thing to a man in Saigon and received the same answer.

★ ★ ★

These people want to come to the United States. They are envious and dream of fairyland. They want three good meals a day and a home. The U.S. represents a haven and a heaven on earth. It's the ultimate goal of untold millions. It means everything—to them. And it should to us.

★ ★ ★

We don't appreciate what we have. This means you and me. Hundreds of millions of people would give their all and mortgage their futures to get here. But there's no way. They have no travel fare and there's a quota to face and the formidable State Departments of two nations.

★ ★ ★

Movies laid in India always drag in a cobra with the sad-eyed "master" playing a doleful tune as the snake sways back and forth. I don't imagine he could poison you but originally he was one of the most deadly in the world, and there'd always be that uneasy feeling that keeps you from dashing up to pat him on his flattened and menacing crown.

Many of these mendicants keep a morigoose and if you cough up sufficient do-re-mi they stage a battle. The money goes to replace the cobra who invariably loses his life.

★ ★ ★

Taking the best estimates we have, there are around 500 million people in India and 750 million (or more) in Communist China. Considerably more than one third of all the people on this globe live in these backward, struggling, staggering commonwealths.

What's the answer?

What can 198 million U. S. citizens do for peoples that out-number us six or seven to one? We can't feed them. We can't clothe them. We can't house them. We can't educate them.

On top of all the global unrest we see today, we would face almost insurmountable problems in times of peace. And a war-torn world simply adds to the misery and the suffering.

Ripping and tearing the world and its peoples apart with munitions and dynamite make the over-all problems infinitely more complex.

★ ★ ★

I can't believe I'm a pessimist, but the sun is currently and temporarily obscured behind a bank of dark clouds that we must tear apart as we restore peace and goodwill. These other problems cry for the attention they deserve.

Frustrated Puppet

David Lawrence Says:

U.N. Ignored Mideast Warnings

WASHINGTON — Most people are surprised when a war breaks out anywhere because they are not aware that trouble has been brewing for a long time.

LAWRENCE

The record of what has been happening in the Middle East in the last year and a half seems to have been overlooked not only by people generally but by the United Nations, which has the responsibility for bringing out into the open the danger of a coming war.

★ ★ ★

Here is a selection of the incidents as narrated in an official report by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee:

1966

● April 30 — Israeli troops retaliated for six incidents during April by raids which blew up houses and killed 11 people in two Jordanian villages.

★ ★ ★

● May 19 — Israel announced that a limited number of tactical aircraft would be supplied by the United States. Jordan had announced an agreement for the supply of F104's with the U.S. on April 2.

★ ★ ★

● Sept. 11 — Israel complained to the Security Council about recent sabotage incidents along the Syrian-Israeli border. Another complaint was filed against Jordan after a bombing in the Romema quarter of Jerusalem.

● Oct. 10 — Israel asked the secretary general to obtain assurances from Syria that the infiltration would stop. The day before, Israel had filed another complaint to the Syrian-Israeli mixed armistice commission about two explosions and four killings near Lake Tiberias.

INCIDENTS CONTINUE

● Oct. 14 — The Security Council convened to consider the Israeli complaint against Syria. Incidents continued on the Syrian and Jordanian borders.

★ ★ ★

● Oct. 19 — Israel's border areas with Lebanon and Syria were the scenes of continued skirmishes, bombings, minings, and killings. The United Nations truce supervisory organization could find no conclusive evidence in the incidents under investigation and did not report any significant military concentrations.

★ ★ ★

● Oct. 22 — The United Nations said that both Israel and Syria had violated the armistice agreement in the demilitarized zones. The United Nations also reported that no military buildup was evident.

● Nov. 13 — Israeli troops crossed into Jordan early in the morning and destroyed the town of Samu. People were evacuated by the Israelis and their homes were blown up. A Jordanian army column rushing to the rescue was ambushed and incapacitated. The Israelis withdrew four hours later.

TOLL IN RAID

● Nov. 19 — The U.N. announced the toll in the Samu raid: 18 killed, 134 wounded, and 127 buildings destroyed.

● Nov. 22 — Israel denied using U.S. tanks in the Samu raid. The U.S. Military Assistance Act forbids the use of U.S. equipment for aggressive acts. Investigation by American officials seemed to confirm the Israeli contention.

★ ★ ★

● Nov. 25 — The Security Council condemned Israel for the attack on the Jordanian village of Samu. Premier Levi Eshkol pledged that Israeli would continue to resist the Arab infiltrators despite the U.N. vote. The Israeli Broadcasting Service noted that the U.N. had not censured the Arabs once in the past 12 years.

1967

● Jan. 12 — Syrian and Israeli tanks and artillery exchanged fire across the border in the Hulah Valley. Syria claimed to have driven Israeli planes away from the battle scene.

● Jan. 16 — U Thant reported that Israel and Syria were massing troops along their borders and called the situation a threat to the Middle East peace.

★ ★ ★

● Feb. 5 — Israel sent a warning to Syria through diplomatic channels that a large retaliatory raid would be forthcoming if the border incursions from Syria did not stop.

● May 15 — Heavy troop movements were reported in the United Arab Republic. The army was put on alert status and a state of emergency was declared.

INSTRUCTED TO LEAVE

● May 18 — U Thant instructed the commander of the United Nations emergency force to withdraw from the armistice line between Israel and the United Arab Republic. U Thant said his action was in response to a formal request from the United Arab Republic.

★ ★ ★

● June 5 — War broke out along the Egyptian-Israel border in the area of the Gaza Strip. Each side claimed the other had started the hostilities.

★ ★ ★

In view of the foregoing report of what has been happening in the last year and a half and which covers only a few of the incidents, should anybody have been surprised last Monday when war came in the Middle East? Did the United Nations do its job?

'Urge Citizens to Study Proposals for Schools'

The ballots of every school district in Oakland County will have a millage proposal for our County vocational schools. Before giving the green light to such a plan we must first be sure that we are aware of weakening the autonomy of our local schools every time we approve measures which remove absolute local jurisdiction.

★ ★ ★

If the County school board has evidence to support the merits of such institutions, they certainly have failed to bring them to the attention of the general taxpaying public. Will the State pay for the transportation?

★ ★ ★

If we surrender any part of the home rule we must first be convinced that the task is actually beyond our ability to deal with locally.

'Flying Gravel Creates Safety Hazard'

If the State Police were really concerned about safety they could observe the gravel trains on M24 and I-75 which travel at speeds up to 75 or 80 miles per hour, I believe, with 10A stones flying from their uncovered trailers causing chipping of windshields as they pass motorists. Are the State Police so busy making safety checks on motorists and ticketing them for chipped windshields that they cannot find time to observe the cause? They could easily stop this hazard before it started by enforcing the speed laws for trucks and gravel trains.

'Neighbors Complained About Teen Band'

Recently a teen band was practicing in a neighbor's yard. The boys were good and minding their own business. Many of us were out enjoying it but some people had to complain. These same people would be the first to blame the parents if they were robbed by a teen-ager.

★ ★ ★

What rights does a teen-ager have in his own backyard?

If these same people throw a big beer party, can the teen-ager complain to the police? I'm sure the band didn't keep anyone awake as they only practice until 8:30.

Question and Answer

When I put a fence around my farm, are people with land joining mine supposed to pay part or half?

SHORTY

If a person wants a fence on his lot line in the country, can he demand half of the price from the adjoining property owner?

C. P.

REPLY

This varies from place to place. Fencing procedures on property outside cities are governed by State laws. If you will go to the Legal Aid Society, 305 National Building, West Huron Street, Pontiac, they will be glad to look up laws governing your particular property. Property under municipal jurisdiction is governed by laws of that municipality, within the frame of State law. The engineering department of each particular municipality can supply information for those living in cities.

Well Hidden

Tulsa Tribune

Congress will try to do something about hidden taxes. It will try to hide them better.

Crime, Morale

National Observer

One way to lighten the burden on police and courts is to legalize some activities now considered criminal.

This philosophy enunciated by a task force of the President's Crime Commission, can be carried too far, but some of the task force's recommendations make eminent sense.

Police can certainly be employed more usefully than in the quest of adulterers.

The repeated arrest, trial, and conviction of habitual drunks has not rid society of alcoholism.

★ ★ ★

Some gambling, such as that sponsored by charitable organizations, can surely be permitted without damage to society.

Many moral precepts that are perfectly sound nonetheless make mighty poor criminal statutes. Even if they could be enforced consistently (they can't), the morale of the enforcers suffers.

Then there's the public, faced with a rising crime rate and a spreading disrespect for the law.

The populace can hardly be encouraged by the sight of policemen, prosecutors, and judges bogged down in trying to uphold ineffective and archaic criminal statutes. The public's morale, after all, is no small matter either.

Ethics Bills

The Decatur (Ill.) Herald

Important ethics legislation in the Illinois House is dangling by a shoestring.

The sponsor of the bill, Rep. Bernard B. Wolfe, D-Chicago, called the measure for a vote, thinking he had enough votes lined up for passage. When he saw that he was eight "green lights" short of having the necessary 89, he quickly postponed action on the bill.

★ ★ ★

The bill is the result of a two-year study by the Illinois Conflict of Interest Laws Commission, formed by the last state legislature after a number of proposed ethics bills were killed in both the House and Senate.

The bill carries two major provisions: One authorizing the formation of an eight man ethics board and the other requiring that state legislators and employes make public their business and financial interests.

★ ★ ★

Illinois is in serious need of ethics legislation, and the proposal of the Conflict of Interest Laws Commission appears to be workable and acceptable to many of the state's lawmakers.

MALE COMPANIONSHIP — Peter Belas, an aide in the pilot nursery school program at Dubnoff School in Los Angeles County, plays quietly with a little boy who has shown the need for male companionship. There are now 15 classes for disadvantaged children—dropouts from the federal Head Start program—and more are to be added next fall.

Unique California Program

Head Start Dropouts Get Aid

By DICK KLEINER
West Coast Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LOS ANGELES — The little boy was 4 years old but couldn't talk. He made only gutteral unintelligible sounds.

One day, his shoe came off and the teacher noticed that his socks had no soles; they were so rotten that the soles had worn away. She ran out and bought him a new pair of socks.

From that day, he started talking.

The little boy is one of 229 children, from 3 to 5, who are part of a unique program in Los Angeles County.

★ ★ ★

The administrators of the program, the Mental Retardation Services Board of the county, believe this is the first time in the United States that preschool children with potential mental problems are being cared for.

IS CLASSES

The program began last March, with 30 children, in the Kennedy Child Study Center in Santa Monica. Now there are 15 classes in six schools, with more to be added next fall.

The children are all from disadvantaged homes — homes where the annual income is under $4,000 a year.

They were generally thought Head Start dropouts, boys and girls who couldn't make it in the federal program for needy children.

★ ★ ★

Most of them had no speech of any kind when they began the program.

HID IN CORNERS

They were generally though to be retarded — some went into uncontrollable rages, others hid in corners, few could do anything for themselves.

"In the normal course of events," says Mrs. Arlette B. Harwood, the program associate in charge of the work, "they would have entered regular schools at 5 or 6 and almost immediately transferred to special schools and ultimately been institutionalized."

But, in these special nursery schools, they are thriving.

★ ★ ★

The authorities believe that catching such cases at an early age is beneficial. Many of the children prove not to be retarded at all.

PHYSICAL AILMENTS

With some, the assumed retardation is the result of physical ailments that have not been diagnosed.

One little girl was so dull it was believed her IQ was extremely subnormal. A physical examination revealed a heart condition. She was operated on, the abnormality repaired and today she faces a normal future. The dullness was a direct result of the physical ailment.

With others — such as the little boy with no soles in his socks — the retardation is traceable to social problems.

The case histories reveal a frightening study of man's inhumanity to child. Love and kindness have brought many of these children out onto the road to normalcy.

Still others, of course, are legitimately retarded. But, even with these, the earlier they begin work in special classes, the better.

And certainly with the ones who are not retarded at all, early diagnosis is essential.

Mrs. Harwood believes that, were it not for this program, the little girl with the heart condition would have died and the little boy with the rotten socks would have been beyond help in a few years and would have been doomed to a life in institutions.

The board believes so strongly in early supervision of the retarded that it is planning to begin a program soon with what it calls "high-risk mothers" — mothers of infants of 3 or 4 months where there is a potential danger of retardation, where the prenatal care has been bad or where there are retarded siblings.

The money for the nursery school program was found under the provision of a state law setting up a compensatory education program for needy children.

All but $300,000 of the $3 million allocated to Los Angeles County under that bill had been committed. The board applied for that spare $300,000 and got it, and the program was under way.

Home Pollution Is Cited

By Science Service

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. — Home heating plants and back yard incinerators must share heavily in the blame for our present-day air pollution, an industry executive has said here.

Only 10 per cent of the dust-fall in a city like Chicago can be traced to industrial plants, said Edward C. Logelin, vice president of United States Steel Corp., at a meeting of real estate counsellors here.

"The remaining 90 per cent is spread over such sources as traffic, open fires, wind-blown dust from the farms and prairies of the Middle West, rubbish thrown in the streets, improper fuel and faulty combustion of home-heating plants," he said.

"The single incinerator in your back yard or mine may not seem much of a menace to cleaner air," he said.

★ ★ ★

"Multiply them by thousands, however, and toss in smoldering bonfires of garden and other refuse, and you have quite a problem in air pollution; one which, in fact, makes industrial air pollution control simple by comparison."

'Shrinking World to Need Short Day, 1 Time Zone'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top U.S. space official says satellite communications and supersonic transportation soon will shrink the world into acceptance of a single time zone.

Leonard Jaffe, director of space applications programs for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, predicted worldwide acceptance of a single time zone, with a standard-length day lasting 23 hours and 56 minutes.

★ ★ ★

Under a single time zone New York would observe noon during darkness part of the year, he said.

But Jaffe said a day four minutes shorter than present would give everyone an equal number of days in each year with sunlight during working hours. Clock time and sun time no longer would synchronize.

NOON EVERYWHERE

"It would be noon for everyone in the world at the same time, even though the sun is at its zenith in New York while there is total darkness in Tokyo," Jaffe said.

"But that's okay. The reverse will be true at noon half a year later."

★ ★ ★

Jaffe said in a Thursday speech to the Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Association that the problem of multiple time zones is exemplified by a planned June 25 global television program.

The telecast, made possible by use of four communications satellites, will be viewed simultaneously in virtually all the world's time zones.

He said time variations between nations now are an accepted inconvenience, but "as our business and cultural patterns change in this space era, these time differences will become intolerable.

GOING TO BE TIRED OUT — Three seniors at Edgewood High School in West Covina, Calif., who labored Wednesday night to loop 39 old tires over a 40-foot flagpole, are shown yesterday cutting away the tires with hacksaws. This was the punishment handed down by school authorities. To get the tires in position, the ingenious pranksters put a stepladder atop a station wagon and then used a long pole.

Drug Firms Facing Subpoena

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some of the nation's largest drug companies faced the possibility today of being subpoenaed by Senate investigators to explain pricing policies for prescription drugs.

The pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association (PMA) took off its gloves yesterday as the Senate Small Business Monopoly subcommittee ended its second round of hearings on rising drug costs.

The panel has focused on the price difference between generic-name drugs and chemically identical—but more costly—trade-name counterparts.

"Witnesses thus far have presented individual opinions and, in some cases, misstatements of fact which in our opinion severely distort reality," PMA President C. Joseph Stetler said in a letter to Chairman Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.

★ ★ ★

But Nelson said representatives of three drug firms refused when asked to testify before the panel.

CONTINUED REFUSAL

Another subcommittee member, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., suggested compelling the companies to testify if they continue to refuse.

Although it insists the hearings have been distorted, the PMA was not willing to comment when asked by UPI if any of its 140 member firms would willingly appear before the subcommittee.

Nelson said the PMA would be invited to testify but added that he wouldn't fall "for that old game" where an industry association dodges important questions by claiming it can't speak for individual companies, only the industry as a whole.

Nelson may take formal steps next week to insure that companies figuring in the hearings appear to present their viewpoints.

UNDERWENT ATTACK

The drug industry position underwent an attack Wednesday by the National Formulary, one of two official groups which set standards for drug composition.

Director Edward G. Feldmann said there was little scientific evidence that there was any substantial difference in therapeutic effectiveness of trade-name drugs and their generic-name versions.

"This problem has been grossly overstated by those who would benefit by clouding this issue," Feldmann said.

TORPEDOED BY MISTAKE — The USS Liberty was attacked north of the Sinai Peninsula in the Mediterranean Sea yesterday. The Pentagon said that the Israeli government reported the attack was made in error by Israeli forces. Nine Americans were killed, 75 wounded, and 22 are missing.

Ship's Casualty Count Rises

WASHINGTON (AP) — The casualty count from the torpedoed U.S. communications ship Liberty rose today to 9 dead, 22 missing and 75 wounded.

The Navy vessel rendezvoused with two U.S. Destroyers and an aircraft carrier from the 6th Fleet in the mid-Mediterranean.

* * *

Defense officials said Cmdr. William C. McDonagle, captain of the stricken vessel, believed that some of the missing men were trapped in flooded compartments of the forward part of the ship after it was hit by an Israeli torpedo.

Phil G. Goulding, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, told newsmen the Liberty met up with the destroyers Davis and Massey at 12:25 p.m. EDT, about 15 hours after the Navy ship first came under attack from an Israeli torpedo boat.

* * *

AP correspondent Bob Horton cabled from aboard the USS America in the 6th Fleet that each destroyer has one doctor and two hospital corpsmen, but their sick bay facilities were small. There were some indications, he said, the seriously wounded men would be taken aboard larger ships in the fleet.

Israel promptly apologized for the attack, but not before the Navy ordered planes from the 6th Fleet's two attack carriers, the Saratoga and the America, to scramble and head for the scene.

The U. S. has just under 48 per cent of the total number of telephones in the world, putting it far in the lead, with Japan second and Britain in third place.

Glue-Sniffing Ordinance in W. Bloomfield Twp.

West Bloomfield Township now has an ordinance making it illegal to sniff glue and regulating the sale of such glue to minors.

Violation of the ordinance, which becomes effective July 14, will be considered a misdemeanor and will be punished by a fine not to exceed $100 or 90 days in jail or both.

As used in the ordinance, model glue means any glue, adhesive cement, mucilage, dope, plastic solvent or other adhesive with toxic ingredients used in the construction of unassembled model kits.

The ordinance, recently adopted by the Township Board, makes it illegal to "inhale, drink, eat or otherwise introduce into the respiratory or circulatory system, any compound, liquid, chemical, or any substance known as glue, adhesive cement, mucilage, dope, plastic solvent or any other material or substance or combination thereof with the intent of becoming intoxicated, elated, dazed, paralyzed, irrational, or in any manner changing, distorting or disturbing, the eyesight, thinking process, judgment, balance or coordination."

* * *

However, anyone under 21 years of age may purchase the glue for model building if he has the written consent of his parent or guardian.

He may purchase one assembly kit containing not more than one container of model glue not to exceed one fluid ounce as a necessary part of model assembly.

Anyone selling the model glue to a minor must record the name, address, sex and age of the juvenile and the name and address of his parent or guardian and keep it available for inspection by the police department for at least six months.

Quasars Appear Fairly Close to Earth

By SCIENCE SERVICE

CHICAGO — The most bizarre objects known to astronomers, called quasars, may not be the billions of light years away in space many scientists have thought.

Instead, quasars, are relatively close objects, astronomicalyl speaking. This conclusion is based on the remarkable fact that the light from seven quasars, if their red shifts mean speed and distance, shows that all of them are receding from the solar system at exactly the same rate.

This is unlikely. The chances that this agreement is due to coincidence, and that each quasar is as far away as every other one, is "fantastically small," Drs. G. R. Burbidge and E. M. Burbidge of the University of California, San Diego, report here.

The husband-and-wife astronomical team therefore concludes that quasars are not as "cosmological distances," and that something else—peculiar to quasistellar objects—must explain the coincidental red shifts.

Many astronomers have believed that quasers are the most distant objects observed in the universe, as far as 10 billion light years away. One light year is six million miles.

AN UPPER LIMIT

The two Burbidges put an upper limit on their distance of 130 million light years. This means they can be either within the Milky Way galaxy or relatively close to it, but not as far away as the nearest neighboring galaxy.

Distances of stars, quasars and galaxies are measured by the shift in their light toward the red end of the spectrum, which is generally interpreted to mean that the source is receding from the observer.

The red shifts of seven quasars are all 1.95, which means they would be receding from earth at about 80 per cent of the velocity of light if they were at cosmological distances.

★ ★ ★

The fact that all seven of them have exactly the same recession rate is the basis for the Burbidges' conclusion that the red shifts must have another explanation.

The red shifts could be gravitational in origin, the Burbidges suggest in the Astrophysical Journal.

This would mean "that they would be very massive objects which . . . make up a large part of the mass energy in the universe" or perhaps, they suggest, they could be objects ejected from the Milky Way galaxy at relativistic speeds.

Current Books

SILVERHILL. By Phyllis A. Whitney. Doubleday. $4.95.

A matriarch who dominates a strange household, where everyone is concealing deep secrets of the past, is the key figure of Miss Whitney's novel.

Grandmother Julia Gorham, once a great beauty, presides over a huge mansion called Silverhill, which is steeped in tensions, conflicts and suspicions, and keeps a firmly bossy hand on everything.

There are all sorts of spooky adventures in the old mansion — with emotional volcanoes erupting all over.

★ ★ ★

In case you haven't been familiar with the field of fiction known as gothic suspense, this would be a good place to become acquainted with it. Miss Whitney is an expert at it. Women love it.

YOU AND THE NEW MORALITY. By James A. Pike. Harper. $3.95.

This is an examination of ethics by the casebook method.

That is, the author uses more than 70 specific situations (a few overlap) to establish points that he is making.

The author's position is that we have three possible approaches in the field of morals.

One is a code, handed down from above. He discusses the Ten Commandments, other parts of the Bible, the teachings and pronouncements of various Christian Churches (Catholic and non-Catholic) and the so-called natural law of rightness and decency. In each instance, he finds flaws of contradiction and incompletness.

★ ★ ★

"Secondly there is "No Ethics," technically called antinomianism (anti-law, literally), which he dismisses as unbridled selfishness, absurd because one person's selfishness blocks another's.

★ ★ ★

The third he calls existential ethics, or "situation ethics," in which each situation must be judged separately on its own merits.

This clergyman deals with a touch, controversial theme. His approach to moral philosohy may offend many, and is open to challenge from other writers.

But within the field of free expression, his book must be counted as a challenging statement of a new viewpoint.

THE APPALACHIAN TRAIL. By Ann and Myron Sutton. Lippincott. $4.95.

Once the wilderness gets chopped down, excavated and paved, there is no brining it back. And Ann and Myron Sutton's book about the joys of hiking on the 2,000-mile Appalachian Trail is an eloquent plea to preserve that trail and others in this country as wilderness.

The Suttons have organized their book to describe some of the sights and sensations experienced in hiking the trail from Springer Mountain, Ga., to Mt. Katahdin, Maine, occasionally weaving in sections of advice, topography and history.

They make their presentation general, to be of interest both to the inveterate hiker and to the person who talks about going hiking someday.

★ ★ ★

There are references to areas where one can drive a car to the trail and hike for a day and statements about the Maine segment definitely being for the experienced hiker. A list of publications available and supplies needed are in an appendix.

HILL COUNTRY HARVEST. By Hal Borland. Lippincott. $5.95.

★ ★ ★

These are personal essays about living in the country, and Borland is a skilled practitioner of this art, which otherwise seems to have gone into a decline in recent years.

This book literally is a harvest, gathered from 10 years of weekly newspaper columns, written somewhat in the form of a journal.

There are observations, ruminations and reflections on the weather, gardening and memories of earlier days, and a great many anecdotes about people and wild creatures, all seasoned well with humor.

★ ★ ★

This is a fine volume for browsing through, whether you pick it up in summer shade or beside a fireplace in winter.

Congress Draft Plan Detailed

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Scores of proposed changes in the nation's military draft law have been made in recent months. Here, in question and answer form, are details of how the proposed plan would work.)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The proposed new military draft law Congress is whipping into shape makes it easier for college students to win deferment.

And it permits President Johnson to go ahead with his announced plan to put 19-year-olds at the top of the available manpower pool. The present procedure drafts men inverse order of age from 25-year-olds on down, but Vietnam war demands have brought the age of inductees down to 19 or 20 in many draft board districts already.

★ ★ ★

The proposed new law, approved this week by Senate and House conferees, would go into effect for four years starting July 1.

It also provides for a speedup in settling appeals from local draft board decisions, preserves the virtual autonomy of local draft boards and prohibits the President from changing the present selection system without another law. Johnson had proposed a national lottery plan of random selection.

LEGAL RIGHT

College students who now must make a case before their local draft board to obtain a deferment—and then stay in the top half of their class to keep the deferment—hereafter would be deferred as a matter of legal right if they request.

And they wouldn't have to maintain a high scholastic standing. They would have to keep up with their classes and meet the academic and other standards of their school.

★ ★ ★

Here are some of the questions most often asked about the proposed new law and the answers as supplied by congressional draft experts:

Q. Does it make any changes in the present priority categories for induction?

★ ★ ★

A. No. These priorities are determined by local draft boards under presidential regulations. The President has said top priority for induction will be the 19-year-old group, preceded by students whose temporary deferments have expired. Top priority now are the 25-year-olds.

Q. When would the 19-year-old priority go into effect?

★ ★ ★

A. Whenever the President orders it. He could change his mind, but Congress has expressed its favor for taking the younger men first.

Q. Why the emphasis on 19-year-olds?

★ ★ ★

A. Combat commanders generally prefer that most of their new recruits be in the younger age brackets, saying they are more adaptable to training. Problems associated with family dependency are less frequent at such ages.

Q. What are the chances of being drafted at age 19?

★

A. Statistics show that about two of every seven persons now eligible for induction actually are drafted. The Pentagon expects to meet all of its monthly draft requirements from the 19-year-old group and from students whose deferments have ended. An estimated two million males reach age 19 annually.

Q. If a young man isn't drafted at age 19, what are the prospects for being inducted later?

★ ★ ★

A. If he gets past 19 and world conditions don't get worse, his chances of not being inducted are very good. A new crop of 19-year-olds will go into the eligibility pool ahead of him.

Q. Would 19-year-old fathers or husbands be deferred?

A. Not automatically. Their local draft boards could defer them if extreme hardship would result from induction.

Q. What basic change would the new law make?

A. The major change affects students. The proposed new law would require draft boards to grant deferments upon request for undergraduate students pursuing full-time courses and meeting their schools' academic and other requirements. The deferment would be a matter of right. The old law left it to the discretion of draft boards and conditioned the deferment on the registrant remaining in the upper half of his class. Satisfactory scholastic standing, rather than high standing, is the new condition.

Q. How long would the deferment last?

★ ★ ★

A. It would end when the student completed his undergraduate work, left school or reached age 24, whichever comes first. But if he became 24 in the middle of an academic year, he would be allowed to complete the year.

Q. What would happen after a student completes his undergraduate work or becomes 24?

★ ★ ★

A. He immediately returns to the pool of registrants most likely to be inducted and would remain in that status for one year.

Q. Could such a student get another deferment?

★ ★ ★

A. The new law says there shall be no further deferment except for extreme hardship. It would be up to his local draft board to decide whether he merits a hardship deferment. Being a husband or father would not give him an automatic deferment.

Q. Does the proposed new student deferment procedure apply only to future students or does it affect those already in school?

A. It would apply to all.

Q. Would a registrant deferred for undergraduate work be eligible for a graduate deferment?

★ ★ ★

A. Not as a matter of right. Regulations for graduate student deferments will be issued by the President, who has indicated deferments will be limited to qualified medical or dental students or others pursuing schooling in fields of critical need. Even these regulations are not binding on draft boards but they usually are followed. Eligibility for graduate deferments would be based on guidelines recommended by the National Security Council.

Edison announces free installation of electric dryers, ranges and water heaters

Now you can walk into any retail store, buy an electric dryer, range or water heater, and that's it. No more costs. As long as they're installed on Edison lines, up to and including four-family residences, installation is free. A major savings? Certainly is.

And look at the other benefits you get when you own electric appliances.

Clean, cool cooking.

Safe, economical clothes drying.

Abundant hot water.

Incidentally, if you buy an electric water heater now, you'll get one of the lowest rates ever offered. And for one year, Edison guarantees all the hot water you need or you get your money back.

And remember Edison's no-charge repair service. No charge for labor—no charge for electric parts.

It adds up to this. Now you can choose electricity to dry the laundry, cook and heat for less money than you ever could.

We look forward to the day when your home will be all-electric. With free installation, this is an excellent time to get started. Call Edison for particulars. Or get in touch with your nearest appliance dealer.

Edison lowers the cost of all-electric living

Foster Grandparents: an Antipoverty Success Story

WASHINGTON (AP) — The application for federal antipoverty funds read simply: "Purpose of Program-Tender Loving Care."

But therein lies the story of one of the smallest and least publicized, yet most successful programs in the antipoverty campaign — Foster Grandparents.

★ ★ ★

Since August 1965, the Office of Economic Opportunity has brought men and women over 60 together with young boys and girls. It says the combination has produced plenty of "TLC"—the now-familiar slang nickname for "Tender Loving Care."

Sargent Shriver, head of the OEO, believes the program is one of the most successful in the antipoverty agency, although he admits some critics once opposed it.

'BOTHERED'

"Many people said it wouldn't work because, they said, old folks didn't want to be bothered," Shriver reported recently. "But who has more love than a grandmother? It was a natural.

"We just brought together elderly persons without grandchildren and children without grandparents. It has worked wonderfully."

★ ★ ★

Applicants for the program must come from the lowest third of America's income scale —less than $3,000 for a family, $1,800 for an individual.

After screening and medical examinations, they received two weeks of orientation in child problems. Once accepted, they receive $1.25 an hour for a maximum 20-hour week.

DEPENDABILITY

"One of the most striking things about the grandparents is their on-time dependability," said one supervisor.

Grandparents have been used to assist foster mothers in San Francisco, help teachers in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., penetrate language barriers in San Antonio, Tex., and bring Head Start preschooling into the homes of disturbed children in Charleston, S.C.

★ ★ ★

A typical project is run in Connecticut by the Community Council of Greater New Haven, Inc., which has foster grandparents assigned to the pediatrics ward of the Hospital of St. Raphael, the New Haven Regional Center for the Retarded, the Association for Retarded Children, and the children's unit of the New Haven Rehabilitation Center.

In its first quarterly report received earlier this year, the New Haven council said: "At the outset of the program, some foster grandparents seemed somewhat withdrawn and lifeless. There was some concern expressed about whether they would be able to continue effectively in the program.

'COME TO LIFE'

"As time went on, however, most of these people have come to life and have shown enthusiasm in the work. In at least two cases, it is known that the initial passive attitude was due to a feeling of despair and worthlessness. The program has provided the medicine they needed to feel a sense of worth once again."

The report concluded a section on attitudes by citing the case of a foster grandmother, 67, at the Hospital of St. Raphael who was stricken by a coronary.

Although the hospital first said it was doubtful she ever would return to work, the report said the woman, who was not identified, soon was recuperating.

The report added: "She visited the foster grandparents supervisor last week and said she couldn't wait to get back to work. 'The only thing holding me back is the doctor's O.K. As soon as I get it, I'll be back,' she said."

TRAIN, EMPLOY

Officially, the foster grandparents' program "recruits, trains and employs low-income persons over 60 to serve neglected and deprived children who lack personal relationships with adults."

Its main objectives are:

—To create new employment opportunities for the elderly.

★ ★ ★

—To provide new roles and functions for low-income older people, thus enabling them to maintain a sense of dignity and usefulness.

—To provide a major new resource of responsible workers for communities and social agencies.

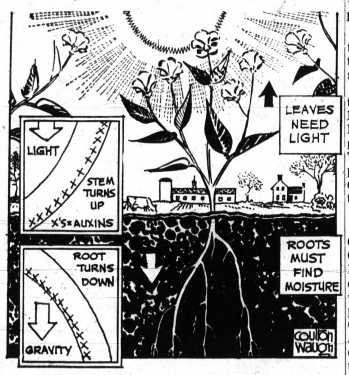
★ ★ ★

—To give emotionally deprived children the tender, loving care, companionship and attention other children enjoy in their daily relationships with adults.

—To stimulate innovations in the field of child care and institutional administration and at the same time develop new patterns of cooperation among agencies, professions and those to be served.

The initial foster grandparents grants totaling $2.7 million financed 22 programs that embraced 1,200 elderly persons and 2,500 children.

Junior Editors Quiz on PLANT ROOTS



QUESTION: How do plants know how to send their stems up and their roots down?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Plants must have light to use as power by which their leaves may make plant food. That's why their stems need to tend upward. Their roots need to dig downward to find the water they also need. The stems go up and the roots down by a process that seems almost miraculous.

Take the stems. Consider that they have cells on each side which make them grow. There are also substances called auxins which control these growth cells.

If the light falls on one side of the stem, the auxins crosses in picture) tend to group on the unlighted side. They make the cells grow faster on this side. With the other side lagging in growth, the result is that the stem turns up, carrying its leaves toward the light.

With the roots, the uxins accumulate on the under side, because of gravity. But here, they work in just the opposite way that they did with the stem. Instead of stimulating the side they are on to grow, they retard it. The other side grows faster; as a result, the whole root turns downward into the moisture-giving earth.

WAY THE BALL BOUNCES — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller sits at the controls of a wrecking crane yesterday for instructions from operator Robert Taylor. Rockefeller was participating in demolition ceremonies to clear land for a 23-story state office building in New York's Harlem. When he pushed the button, the quarter-ton wrecking ball swung off target and hit the wrong building. No one was injured, and there was no visible damage.

Mrs. William Belaney, Chippewa Road (left) and Mrs. Robert A. Dearth, Bloomfield Hills, check the concert schedule of the 1967 Meadow Brook Festival. Members of area ticket committees, they attended Thursday's luncheon at Oakland University.

Trumbull Terrace Is Enlarged to Hold Music Festival Crowds

Trumbull Terrace on Oakland University's Meadow Brook Music Festival grounds was ready Thursday for company. Workmen are enlarging the area at the side and rear, but the front terrace held its usual tables.

★ ★ ★

The only trouble was, the weatherman wouldn't cooperate. Jim Hicks, manager of the Festival, wanted to hold his thank-you party for the 600 women ticket sellers outside.

WAS SHIFTED

Instead, the luncheon was shifted to the Gold Room. After the meal, seven members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Felix Resnick, presented a short program.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ben D. Mills, chairman last year with her husband, presented this year's chairman, Mrs. James O. Wright, with a tiny gold charm.

This replica of the Baldwin Memorial Pavilion has been given to each of the women who worked with their husbands to head the committees.

★ ★ ★

Hicks announced some of the improvements to the Festival grounds. These include new gates, a permanent gatehouse, more picnic tables and the additions to Trumbull Terrace.

Last year, the concerts attracted over 150,000 people, with critics coming from 32 countries.

THIS SEASON

Starting June 29, this year's season will be a 32-concert event over eight weeks.

Tickets for an eight-week season, or for either of two four-week seasons are still available.

The Scholar Shop has moved to its summer home in Trumbull Terrace. It will be open every concert evening and Wednesday afternoons from noon to 4 p.m. starting next Wednesday through Aug. 16.

Additional June hours are Tuesday and Thursday next week, also June 20 and 27 from noon to 4 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Buffet luncheons will be served Wednesdays, beginning next week from noon to 1:30 p.m.

Proceeds from the Scholar Shop provide funds for needy students.

Rochester committee members were on the scene early. They're enthusiastic supporters of Meadow Brook Festival which is practically in their back yard. From the left are Mrs. John A. Boeberitz of Rochester and Mrs. Dale Burke, Ridgewood Road, Oakland Township. Over 4,000 season tickets have been sold by the 600-woman committee.

Mrs. Sixten Ehrling, wife of the conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, was a guest at the ticket committee's luncheon Thursday. She came with the Grosse Pointe contingent who arrived together in a "champagne bus."

What's Right When Mate Attends 'Do'

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to the writer who asked that her name be withheld.

Dear Mrs. Post: My most puzzling etiquette problem involves informal cocktail parties of people with whom my husband works and knows well, including some of his superiors.

My problem is how to address someone later on after meeting them earlier in the evening. I feel very awkward calling them Mr. Smith or Mrs. Smith when everyone else is addressing them by first name. I find myself avoiding the use of a name when speaking to them, and am wondering if this is considered rude?—Mrs. B. A. H.

Dear Mrs. H.: The use of first names, when business acquaintances are involved, is a sticky problem. It really depends on three things:

- If the people speaking to you are uncomfortable using they are your husband's superiors, call them "Mr. and Mrs." until asked to do otherwise.
- Follow your husband's lead. If he calls one of his co-workers by his first name, you'll sound stuffy if you insist on "Mr."
- Your own personality. If your are uncomfortable using first names, you'll sound much friendlier with "Mr. and Mrs." If you're the extrovert type, however, you'll sound unnatural and stiff if you don't respond to first-name calling in kind.

★ ★ ★

From time to time, everyone encounters situations which are outside of his experience. For the right answer on any problem you face concerning Etiquette, write to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Danish Princess to Wed Count

It was an unexpected statement for the people of Denmark when Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag announced Sept. 2 that the Danish Throne heir, Princess Margrethe would wed.

★ ★ ★

She will become the wife of the handsome French diplomat, Count Henri de Laborde de Monpezat in a ceremony Saturday in Holmens Navy Church, Copenhagen.

★ ★ ★

Until the announcement was made in September, few Danes had heard of the young man.

★ ★ ★

The 32 year old diplomat is one of six children of the Count Andre de Monpezat and his Countess. They reside in a modest castle, Le Cayrou, near the village of Albas in France.

★ ★ ★

The first look many Danes had of the young Count was when he stepped from a plane at Copenhagen Airport in September and in a midafternoon shower of rain happily embraced the Princess before a small army of pressmen.

★ ★ ★

From that time he has become a known face in Denmark and is most popular.

★ ★ ★

The Princess Margrethe, now 26, has received a carefully considered and broad education to prepare her for her future role.

HEIR TO THRONE

The eldest daughter of King Frederick IX and Queen Ingrid, the Princess will be the second woman monarch in Danish history. She was named for the Queen who reigned six centuries before her.

Her sisters are Princess Benedikte (recently engaged to Prince Richard zu Sayn-Wittgenstein of Germany) and Queen Anne-Marie of Greece.

Country Club Dance

Birmingham Country Club is having a formal dinner dance Saturday evening. A 7 p.m. champagne reception will honor new members.

★ ★ ★

Herbie Ross and his orchestra will play.

Royal Party Fights Rain

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Guests at the biggest party yet of the royal wedding week danced until dawn today after escaping a wetting that could have been disastrous.

★ ★ ★

The ball was at the French Embassy, given by Ambassador Pierre Sebilleau for crown Princess Margrethe, who on Saturday will wed French Count Henri de Monpezat.

600 GUESTS

More than 600 guests — the ladies in ball gowns, tiaras and other jewelry, the men in white tie and tails—gathered beneath a huge canopy stretched in the forecourt of the embassy.

★ ★ ★

There had been showers during the day and early evening, and the canopy held a lot of rainwater. And then someone discovered a hole in the canopy.

CONCERN

In addition to the expensive dresses and the jewelry, four almost priceless Gobelin tapestries brought here from Paris for the party were suspended from the walls.

★ ★ ★

Action was needed. So the Danish first - aid organization was called in, and while the dancers, unaware of what was happening, made merry, operatives siphoned off the water from atop the canopy.

Princess Margrethe Alexandrine Thorhildur Ingrid, heir to the Danish throne and Count Henri Marie Jean Andre de Laborde de Monpezat will wed Saturday in historic Holmens Church in Bremerholm, Denmark. The couple's engagement was announced Sept. 2, 1966.

Some Advice for Teens

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Several years ago, when I was a teenager, I cut out your column on how teen-agers should act in order to stay out of harm's way with so many strange and sick people running around loose.

ABBY

In case you have forgotten it, I am sending you a copy. I think the teenagers of today need to read and follow these words even more than we did. Please print it again. I benefited greatly and know others will. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
"HELPED" IN LAKE WALES, FLA.

DEAR "HELPED:" With pleasure. Here it is:

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALL TEEN-AGERS:

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, set down the following rules, which deserve to be read thoughtfully—and remembered:

- IF ANY STRANGER—OR EVEN A SLIGHT ACQUAINTANCE — MAKES IMPROPER ADVANCES, TELL YOUR PARENTS IMMEDIATELY

Young people are too often kind-hearted about such things —they dislike the idea of getting an offender into "trouble." Just remember that if you DON'T report him, he'll probably get into worse trouble later on—to say nothing of the harm he may cause.

- IF YOU KNOW OF ANY PORNOGRAPHIC PICTURES OR LITERATURE BEING PASSED AROUND, NOTIFY YOUR PARENTS IMMEDIATELY.
- KNOW YOUR DATE! DON'T GO OUT ON "BLIND DATES" UNLESS ANOTHER COUPLE IS ALONG — AND EVEN THEN BE CAUTIOUS.
- STAY OUT OF LOVERS' LANES.
- DON'T WANDER AWAY FROM THE CROWD AT PICNICS AND OUTINGS. STAY WITHIN CALLING DISTANCE.
- DON'T ASK FOR TROUBLE — DRESS SENSIBLY.
- BE CIVIL TO STRANGERS WHO ASK DIRECTIONS, BUT NEVER GO PART WAY WITH THEM.
- BE VERY CAREFUL ABOUT ACCEPTING WORK FROM A STRANGER.

DON'T GO ABOUT THE HOUSE HALF-DRESSED.

Arlene Gilbert almost collapsed. Then she and Marine Cpl. Richard W. Clarke clinched joyously.

"You're here, you're here," the 20-year-old brunette sobbed.

"I don't believe it."

Clarke, 21, and three times wounded, just chuckled and squeezed harder.

GREAT DAY

It happened at the wig counter of a big department store where Arlene works. Customers and employes stood grinning.

* * *

The happy meeting climaxed a week of frustration in which the couples' parents frantically tried to get Clarke home in time for his June 17 wedding date.

* * *

Clarke had expected his homecoming orders in May but the papers went astray and were only found last weekend.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Fortunately, today, there is help for the woman or man who has been scarred by acne. The technique used is called either dermabrasion or planing. It has been employed in the treatemnt of acne scars and other scars and even wrinkles.

Dermabrasion will not completely remove the scars, but it will make them much less noticeable, much shallower, and seems to be well worthwhile for the woman whose skin is blemished in this way. Depending on the scars, more than one treatment may be necessary for best results. You usually have these about six months apart.

★ ★ ★

Women write to know just how dermabrasion is done. This is what happens. The skin is frozen with a special freezing compound to form a hard surface. Then the dermatologist or plastic surgeon planes a bit off of the top layer of your skin. He uses a special steel wire brush which is attached to a machine similar to that a dentist uses to drill. But don't let this scare you! Of course, there is some discomfort, but it is not severe.

A heavy crust will form within a week or 10 days. I think you might like to remain at home until the crust is gone. There will be some redness for about a month, but you can take care of this with make-up.

★ ★ ★

Don't bundle up your wrinkles and rush to the nearest dermatologist or plastic surgeon for dermabrasion. The result would be very temporary. You see, wrinkles are caused not just by the condition of the skin, but also, by the condition of the underlying tissues, muscles and bones.

If I were going to advise my readers about dermabrasion, I would use the lingo of today and say, "Acne scars—yes! Wrinkles—no!"

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have more information about caring for your skin, send for my free leaflet "Clear the Way for Beauty." For your free copy send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Protect Dress-Up

Boyne City Area's Only Doctor Is Denied License

DETROIT (AP) — The only physician serving some 3,000 persons around the Lake Charlevoix resort community of Boyne City was denied the right to continue his medical practice Thursday.

A 10-member investigating panel of the State Board of Medical Registration in Detroit refused to grant Dr. Wolfgang A. J. Bose a temporary license to practice for one year because of his alleged complicity in a 1965 Oakland County criminal abortion case.

A last-minute petition filed by Boyne City residents failed to influence the board's decision.

Bose's Lansing attorney, James Starr, said there were no immediate plans for a court appeal of the license revocation.

YEARLY PERMITS

The German - born physician was ineligible for permits to continue his practice for more than a year at a time because of a Michigan law requiring U. S. citizenship.

In February, Bose's license was suspended, then temporarily reinstated when he explained he had treated a woman who had come to him after an abortion had been attempted by an unidentified doctor.

★ ★ ★

Bose originally was charged with conspiring to commit criminal abortion, but said he was told he could "get off" by pleading to the lesser charge of attempted abortion.

"I pleaded guilty because I wanted to keep on working," he said.

WITHOUT DOCTOR

Boyne City has been without a doctor since Bose's license was revoked March 31, pending Thursday's hearing.

Starr said Bose plans to leave Boyne City immediately in search of other work in the medical field. "It would be very difficult for Dr. Bose to refuse to treat people who need medical care," the attorney said.

All emergency medical cases now are treated in Petoskey or Charlevoix, each 18 miles from Boyne City.

Many residents have stood behind Bose, calling him "very good, kind - hearted and obliging."

'EXPLAINED THINGS'

"The doctor didn't just give you a package of pills, shots or a prescription and push you out of the office," said Mrs. Goldfir Roof, 70. "He would explain things to you."

"It would be pretty bad if I had to drive 16 or 18 miles away to Petoskey," said 84-year-old Mrs. Etta Roderick, who is suffering from an intestinal ailment. "He would come any time I wanted," she said.

★ ★ ★

Eighty-year-old Mrs. Albert Manglos said Bose used to make house calls about twice a week. "He didn't like for me to come to the office downtown. He thought it was too much." Mrs. Manglos is being treated for a heart condition and high blood pressure.

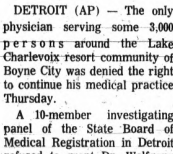
Most of Bose's patients seemed to be taking a wait-and-see stance before Thursday's decision was announced.

AWAIT RETURN

As Merle Jaco, a retired auto worker, said: "I will keep on taking aspirin and wait for Dr. Bose's return."

Griffin Says Yes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., was one of 12 Republicans who voted for an amendment to a congressional redistricting bill that would require compliance with the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rule without further delay. The amendment was passed by a 44-39 roll-call vote Thursday. Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., was in Vietnam and did not vote.



ORDINANCE NO. 944-53
Adopted June 6, 1967
Effective June 16, 1967

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE BUILDING ZONE MAP OF ORDINANCE NO. 944, KNOWN AS "THE BUILDING ZONE ORDINANCE" THE CITY OF PONTIAC ORDAINS:

Section 1:

The Building Zone Map of the Building Zone Ordinance is hereby amended to provide that the land in the description hereinafter set forth be classified as Commercial 1.

Part of lot No. 4, Assessor's Plat No. 99, Town 2 North, Range 10 East, City of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the East line of right-of-way of Woodward Avenue, distant South 35 degrees 00 minutes 17 Seconds East 45.04 feet from the northwest corner monument of said lot No. 4; thence North 57 degrees 28 minutes 40 seconds East, 654.49 feet; thence South 32 degrees 31 minutes 20 seconds East 438.02 feet; thence South 54 degrees 59 minutes 43 seconds West 635.00 feet to a point on the same East line of right-of-way of Woodward Avenue; thence proceeding on the same said line North 35 degrees 00 minutes 17 seconds West 465.96 feet to the point of beginning. Contains 6.69 acres.

Section 2:

The change in the Building Zone Map in the above area to Commercial 1 is made pursuant to the recommendation of the City Plan Commission and said Commission is hereby appointed to make a final report upon this amendment to this Commission previous to the public hearing to be held before this amendment is adopted, pursuant to Section 4 of Act No. 207 of the Public Acts of 1921, as amended.

Section 3:

That not less than fifteen (15) days notice of the time and place of the public hearing on the final passage of this amendment shall be given in a newspaper of general circulation in this city; that such public hearing is hereby fixed at May 31, 1967 and continued June 6, 1967.

Section 4:

This ordinance shall take effect ten (10) days from and after the date of its passage by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac.

Made and passed by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac, this 6th day of June, A.D. 1967.

In Pontiac District

Seven Candidates Vying

Some 35,000 voters will have a chance to go to the polls Monday to elect two members out of seven candidates to the Pontiac School District Board of Education.

Among the seven candidates running for four-year terms are the two incumbents whose terms expire at the end of this month.

★ ★ ★

The candidates are (in alphebetical order):

● Russell L. Brown, 57, a teacher who is the board's vice president. He was elected to the board four years ago when he unseated an incumbent.

Brown, 483 Lynch, is a social studies and mathematics teacher at Bloomfield Hills Junior High School. A father of three children, he began his teaching career 34 years ago. He once was a junior high school principal in St. Clair County.

● Ronald E. Covault, 30, chief of court operations for the office of the prosecuting attorney of Oakland County. He resides at 125 N. Johnson with his wife and three children.

Covault has been assistant prosecuting attorney for two years, coming here from the U.S. Treasury Department in Washington, D.C. A graduate of Michigan State University and University of Detroit School of Law, he is a member of Pontiac's Human Relations Commission.

★ ★ ★

● Robert E. Cunningham, 39, a Pontiac attorney since he graduated from the Detroit College of Law in 1964. He, his wife and a daughter who attends Washington Junior High School live at 501 W. Iroquois.

A life-long resident of Pontiac, Cunningham ran for the Circuit Court bench in Oakland County last year. He is a member of the Oakland County Committee of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund.

★ ★ ★

● G. Winston DeLine, a native of Pontiac who has been employed by Pontiac Motor Division for five years. He lives at 398 W. Columbia.

● Monroe M. Osmun, 64, a Pontiac clothing merchant who has served on the school board for 21 years and is currently its president. He is also on the Oakland County Board of Education.

Osmun, 2094 Lakewind, West Bloomfield Township, is serving as head of the school board for his fifth time. A native of Pontiac, he has been active in many civic, business and fraternal groups, including the Downtown Pontiac Business Association.

● Ronald A. Rogers, 33, supervisor of business enterprises for the State Department of Social Services in Lansing. Four of his six children attend Whitfield Elementary School.

Rogers, 2159 St. Joseph, West Bloomfield Township, is active in the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce and ran for the group's state presidency last year. He is the 1967 state chairman of the Jaycees track and field committee.

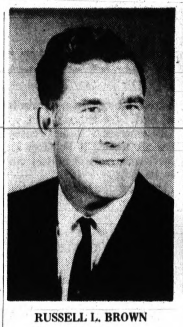
● Victor L. Smothers, 48, a painting contractor who ran in last year's board of education election. He was once a painter employed by the school board for 10 years.

Smothers, a disabled veteran who lives at 203 Wolfe, has been a resident of Pontiac most of his life. He has been a member of Pontiac's Police Trial Board, Police Reserve and Civic Improvement Commission. He and his wife have six children.



RUSSELL L. BROWN

His statement:

"Good public schools are vital to the welfare of people and our community. I have seen the importance of good schools from the view of a father, a citizen, a professional educator for 34 years and as a member and vice president of the Pontiac Board of Education.

"My platform is simply this: To work constantly for better schools for all our people.

★ ★ ★

"Pontiac's schools have been constantly striving for improvements in school facilities, programs and in personnel. Sound planning and continued progress is necessary.

★ ★ ★

"There are trying times ahead for schools, and I believe that experience on boards of education is needed."

RONALD E. COVAULT

His statement:

"With education on the threshold of a new age, I believe that board of education decision-making must be brought fully into the public forum.

★ ★ ★

"Parents must be given a greater opportunity to be heard on all the challenging questions that affect the education of our children.

★ ★ ★

"Your child and mine must have the best teachers and teaching methods, the finest college preparation and vocational skills to insure their success.

★ ★ ★

"As a university and law school graduate, I am convinced that parents deserve a vital and responsible board of education."

ROBERT E. CUNNINGHAM

His statement:

"Our most important natural resource is our children. Our schools take this natural resource and put it through a process called education.

★ ★ ★

"Ideally, the process will convert this natural resource to a skilled, law-abiding productive citizen who will contribute to the productivity and well-being of our society.

★ ★ ★

"Today, crime, corruption, violence and terror stalks our citizens in the streets and in their homes. People must be taught respect for the law and the personal and property rights of other people.

★ ★ ★

"Proper education of all children is the answer. I believe that people are what they are taught to be."

G. WINSTON DELINE

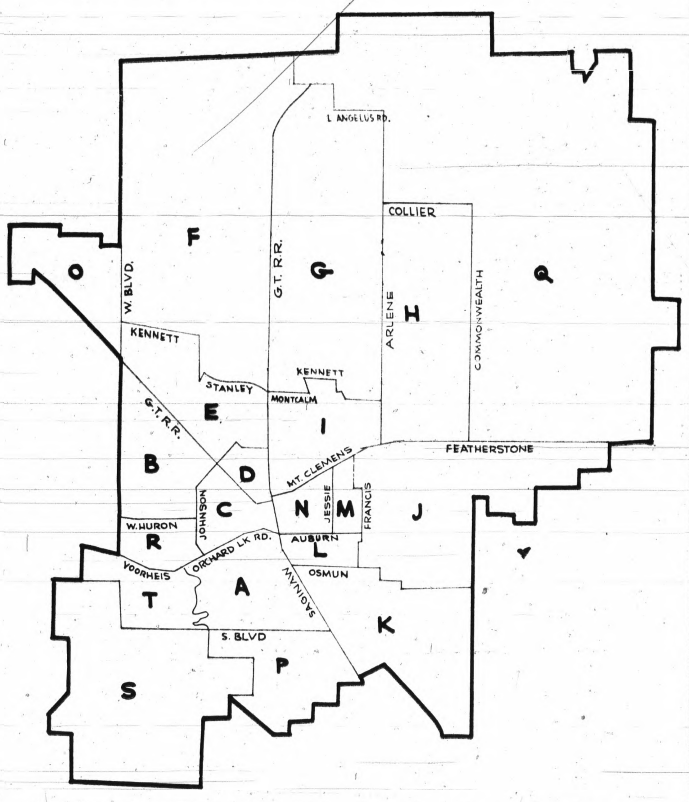
His statement:

"I believe Pontiac owes its children the best education possible. The key to a progressive and dynamic nation is a strong system of free public schools.

"We must maintain a tax rate which considers the property owner's needs and ability to pay, particularly those older citizens on pensions and limited incomes.

"I am for more efficient spending of tax dollars and believe the classroom teachers should come first in salary raises. The classroom teacher molds our children educationally. We need the best teachers money can attract to Pontiac.

"Too many extra frills are unnecessary, and I pledge myself to work for the best basic education possible for our children at the most economical cost to the taxpayers."



PONTIAC POLLING PLACES — The above map shows voting precincts in the Pontiac School District. Polling places will open 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. in Monday's election. Persons standing in line at closing time will be allowed to vote. The following is a list of the polling places for each precinct:

Cheese Yields an Antibiotic

Checks Growth of Harmful Organisms

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — A microorganism in limburger cheese produces an antibiotic that checks the growth of harmful organisms a University of Wisconsin researcher told the symposium on the use of drugs in animal feeds here recently.

Another example of a "good germ" occurs in cheddar cheese, Prof. Gail M. Dack, food research institute, University of Wisconsin, Madison, pointed out. The cheese contains streptococcus bacteria that prevent growth of food-poisoning staphylococci.

There is a possibility that antibiotics added routinely to animal feeds could kill these beneficial bacteria and therefore make disease more difficult to control, the conference was told.

This possibility should be thoroughly studied inasmuch as most antibiotics and drugs used in feeds are not selective in the organisms they kill.

★ ★ ★

"There is no indication at present that medicated feeds have reduced salmonellosis," Dr. Dack said.

HEAT TREATMENT

However, heat treatment of feed can help reduce the incidence of salmonella food poisoning. But heat also destroys other organisms.

Killing low-heat-resistant organisms creates an environment favorable to the growth of Clostridium botulinum, which causes extremely dangerous food poisoning, he said.

Dr. E. H. Kampelmacher, head of the laboratory for Zoonoses, National Institute of Public Health, Utrecht, the Netherlands, stated that "antibiotic addition to feeds, as applied on a large scale in husbandry today, has increased the proportion of resistant bacteria in animals to a certain extent."

Although bacterial strains' resistance to drugs has complicated the problem, there are many restricting factors that make it unlikely that this resistence plays a major role in human and animal health, "even if transmission of resistant strains from animal to man and from man to animal may occur by food intake," Dr. Kampelmacher said.

MONROE M. OSMUN

His statement:

"I have served on the Pontiac Board of Education for 21 years. A constant review and improvement of our curriculum, thereby giving our students the finest learning experience available, is very essential.

"I believe in the neighborhood school concept. This is good and should be continued. We should do everything possible to guarantee equal educational opportunities regardless of race, color or creed.

★ ★ ★

"The Human Resources Center now being planned for the southeast quadrant of our city is a step forward in the right direction.

★ ★ ★

"If elected for another term, I will endeavor to be a part of the team that will continue to improve our school system."

RONALD A. ROGERS

His statement:

"The next few years could well prove to be the most crucial in the history of Pontiac schools and I sincerely feel a fresh, dynamic approach is a necessity.

"Current sound programming must be continued and expanded and the right of all children for the finest, most meaningful education possible must be adhered to.

★ ★ ★

"Educational excellence regardless of school location, and not changing of attendance areas, is the answer to the disadvantaged, underachieving child.

"If I had a goal or motto, it would be 'more effective schools' in all growth areas. Average leadership provides average schools; good schools need good leadership.

VICTOR L. SMOTHERS

His statement:

"I believe in the best education for our children first. I think schools should follow a pay-as-you-go policy rather than bond issues where the taxpayers are overburdened with interest from which they get no benefits.

"The main issue facing the board of education is Pontiac Central High School where disputes and unruly elements cause trouble.

"The estimated cost of $9 million to rehabilitate Central High is outrageous and absurd.

"If an $18-million referendum to construct two senior high schools is put before the voters this fall and is approved, property taxes will go up.

"We must not forget the financial hazards of our senior citizens. How could they possibly meet more taxes?"

Vocational Centers at Stake

Oakland county voters will decide whether to build four area vocational education centers with a half-mill tax levy in Monday's board of education elections.

If the countywide ballot proposal is approved, the intermediate school district of Oakland County could levy a 50-cent tax per $1,000 on equalized property valuations under a state law.

The half-mill tax revenue would be used to build and operate a center in each quadrant of the county to augment vocational and technical education curriculums of every high school in the county.

Proponents of the measure contend that the area centers will be an extension — not duplication — of local high school vocational education programs.

★ ★ ★

Each center would be operated by the school district in which they are located, but operational costs would be paid by county, state and federal funds.

COST: $6.4 MILLION

Officials estimate that it would cost $6.4 million for construction and equipment of the centers and over $900,000 a year to operate them.

Local school district revenue or budgets would not be affected by the centers, but each district would have to transport its students to a nearby center.

"With our rapidly changing technological society, local districts cannot afford programs to keep pace with industry nor can they offer a variety of programs needed," supporters reason.

It is projected that it will cost $375 a year per student to run the centers at which students would spend half their school day but still retain a close identity with their home high school.

TEMPORARY SITES

Dr. David Soule, director of vocational education for Oakland Schools, said courses at temporary locations for public and parochial high school juniors, seniors and adults could be given as early as September 1968 if the measure is passed.

Centers for 2,600 students could be ready by spring 1970, Soule estimated. He said this year's seventh graders would have available a full vocational curriculum.

Although locations of the centers and detailed curriculums would have to be worked out, he said he would expect that about 10 per cent of Oakland County's juniors and seniors would take advantage of the following typical courses:

★ ★ ★

Auto mechanics, commercial foods, data processing, electrical trades, electronics, health services, mechanic occupations, machine shop, office machine repair and welding.

CO-OP PROGRAMS

Courses such as shop and office practice and cooperative education programs will be continued to be offered by the home high schools, the proposal suggests.

Soule had this to say on how the new facilities would differ from existing programs:

"The kinds, variety, sophistication and cost of equipment and facilities that are anticipated for the area center could not be duplicated by individual high school districts."

★ ★ ★

An area concept of providing vocational education programs to all residents in an area is necessary to receive state and federal funds.

Aid to Nursing

WASHINGTON (AP) —The U. S. Public Health Service has approved $1.2 million in grants to help nursing schools at 10 Michigan hospitals defray the cost of training students. The hospitals are in Detroit, Hancock, Muskegon, Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids and Flint.

Field of 11 Competing for 3 Board Seats

A field of 11 candidates will compete for three board of education seats in Monday's annual election in the Waterford Township School District.

Entered in the seven-man race for the two four-year school board seats at stake are Robert L. Buchanan, Lewis S. Long, William D. Motzny, Dean A. Salley, W. Cecil Stricklin, Charles W. Meyka and Donald W. Porter.

Porter, the current school board treasurer, is an incumbent. The other four-year position is held by Mrs. Dorothy W. Barningham, who is not seeking reelection.

Vying for the three-year term are Philip M. Hampton, Leo F. Kampsen, Rudolph C. Lisac and incumbent Michael G. Patterson.

★ ★ ★

Patterson was appointed in January to fill a vacancy created when board of education President Norman L. Cheal resigned.

REELECTED IN '66

Cheal had been reelected to a four-year seat last June. The three-year term at stake represents the remainder of Cheal's term.

Buchanan, 33, of 5180 Joangay is a Waterford Township businessman. He is owner of Oakland Seamless Floor Covering and B and D Building Maintenance.

Treasurer of the Republican Club of Waterford Township and a member of the Torginol Dealers of the Detroit area, Buchanan is married and has four children.

★ ★ ★

Long, 40, of 5657 Brunswick is making his second consecutive bid for a school board seat. He was defeated last year by incumbents Cheal and Eldon C. Rosegart.

OFFICE MANAGER

Office manager and controller at McGregor Manufacturing Corp. in Troy, Long also operates his own accounting and tax service business and is a vice president of Brummett Agency, Inc. A graduate of Bremerton, Wash., High School, he is married and has two children.

Motzny, 36, of 3078 Grace View is an automotive engineer at Pontiac Motor Division. He is a graduate of Taft High School in Chicago and Michigan Technological University in Houghton.

Married and the father of five children, Motzny is a member of the Engineering Society of Detroit and Elks Lodge 810 of Pontiac.

Salley, 39, of 6229 Jameson is making his third bid for a seat on the board of education. He is president of All State Credit Bureau, Inc., in Ferndale.

PONTIAC GRAD

A graduate of Pontiac High School, Salley attended Waldorf College in Forest City, Iowa. Married and the father of six children, he is a member of Community Activities, Inc., board of directors and is chairman of this year's North Oakland County Fair.

Stricklin, 30, of 3325 Angelus is supervisor of suggestions and ECR (error cause removal) at Pontiac Motor Division. He served on this year's citizens' school finance study committee and was chairman of the personnel subcommittee.

A graduate of Kelloggsville High School in Grand Rapids and General Motors Institute in Flint, Stricklin is on the board of directors of the Waterford Township Jaycees and is president of Lake Angelus Golfview Estates Subdivision Association. He is married and has a son.

Meyka, 37, of 3068 Grave View is an automotive engineer at Pontiac Motor Division. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the Waterford Township Board of Education in 1960.

MSU GRADUATE

Married and the father of four children, Meyka is a graduate of Michigan State University. He is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and St. Stephen Lutheran Church.

Porter, 49, of 3736 Mariner has been a member of the board of education since 1963. A graduate of Highland Park High School, he is a sales manager for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and works in Detroit.

Married and the father of four children, Porter has served as president of Lake Oakland Heights Park Association, treasurer of the Waterford Recreation Board and president of the Pontiac Exchange Club.

★ ★ ★

Hampton, 34, of 3191 Alco is employed with Johnson and Anderson, Inc., consulting engineers, where he is vice president, director of public relations and assistant chief engineer. He also is in charge of coordination of all federal programs.

KENTUCKY GRAD

A graduate of Berea, Ky., College, Hampton is a member of the American Forestry Association, American Society of Civil Engineers and is secretary-treasurer of the National Water Well Association. He is married and has three children.

Kampsen, 44, of 4689 Motorway is sales manager at Kampsen Realty and Building Co. He was the Republican candidate for Waterford Township clerk in 1963, winning the primary but losing to Elmer Fangboner in the general election.

A graduate of Pontiac High School, Kampsen is a member of the Waterford Township Board of Canvassers, the Pontiac Board of Realtors and Multiple Listing Service. He is married and has four children.

Lisac, 38, of 2113 Pompey is employed as a maintenance engineer at Montgomery Ward and Co.'s Pontiac Mall store. He is past president of Local 1295, the nonteaching employes' union of Waterford Township Schools. He was employed in the school district for 12 years.

BOYS' CLUB FOUNDER

Married and the father of eight children, Lisac attended Mather High School in Munising. He was one of the original members of the board of directors that started the Boys' Club of Waterford Township.

Patterson, 29, of 6329 Grace K is an accountant and tax consultant with Patterson Bookkeeping Service. In addition to serving on the school board, he is president of the Waterford Township Jaycees.

A graduate of Waterford Township High School, Patterson attended Ohio Wesleyan University and Wayne State University. He also is a member of the Waterford Township Library Advisory Board. Patterson is married and has two daughters.

ROBERT L. BUCHANAN

His statement:

"If elected I will work for adequate wages for our teachers, with raises where possible. I will support a sensible building program without costly waste.

★ ★ ★

"You cannot tax the citizens for all new teaching advancements, but I will advocate a program that benefits the most students, for the longest time, at the least cost.

★ ★ ★

"These goals, without tax increases, must be achieved if Waterford Township is going to have students rather than just pupils."

PHILIP M. HAMPTON

His statement:

"The school board, as the elected representative body of the school community, to function properly, must act to inform that community of the issues before them and act according to what they collectively believe to be the good of the student, the community and society.

"We are involved, like it or not, in social change; therefore, education must be related to the total problems of a community, providing social and moral leadership.

"As a father of three school-age children, a taxpayer and concerned citizen, I feel that I can contribute to the further development of our township school system in its major role as both innovator and preserver of our ideals."

LEO F. KAMPSEN

His statement:

"The Waterford Township school system has come a long way in the last few years. Our schools are second to none. Continued fine efforts are needed to remain in front.

★ ★ ★

"This can be achieved by a good school board that is able to work with school officials. I believe schools should be of good basic design and if additions are needed added at a reasonable cost.

★ ★ ★

"I believe we must also remain competitive in teachers' salaries so we can continue to recruit the finest of teachers. I will do my very best in return for your trust."

RUDOLPH C. LISAC

His statement:

"I have attended many board meetings as a taxpayer and also in a negotiating capacity and I have always felt that the problems of the nonteaching personnel were not thoroughly understood.

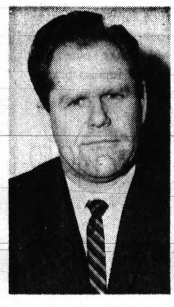
★ ★ ★

"After having been employed for 12 years with Waterford Township Schools, I feel my service to the taxpayers of Waterford Township would be most helpful in the area of the nonteaching profession.

★ ★ ★

"I feel with 12 years experience in the Waterford Township school system, there is more to being a board member than just attending meetings.

"Waterford Township taxpayers deserve to have their tax dollars well spent!"



LEWIS S. LONG

His statement:

"During the 17 years I have lived in Waterford Township, there has been a tremendous growth in our community and in the school system.

"We can all be proud of our school system and its teachers who play such an important part in the development of our future citizens.

★ ★ ★

"This growth presents to you and me, the taxpayers and parents of these future citizens, the challenge to provide the best building, equipment and instructors possible to adequately prepare them for whatever role they choose in life.

"I believe that my training and experience will enable me to meet this challenge, and I would like the privilege of serving on our board of education."

CHARLES W. MEYKA

His statement:

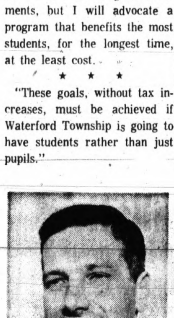
"I feel that the Waterford Township school system is one of the best in the state and would like to help in making it even better.

★ ★ ★

"However, there are some basic areas I feel could be improved. One of these is communications. I think this was evidenced in a recent election where proposals for additional buildings were approved, but funds to build, maintain and staff them were rejected.

★ ★ ★

"I feel that the school board should be composed of lay persons like myself who will more nearly represent the thinking of the people who elect the members to the board."



WILLIAM D. MOTZNY

His statement:

"As an interested citizen, I am concerned about our children's future.

★ ★ ★

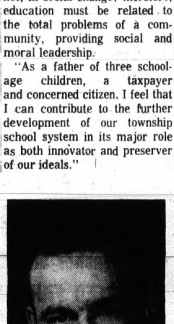
"To become successful, well-adjusted adults, our children need and deserve quality education. We must provide basic educational needs — teachers, classrooms and facilities. We must achieve educational 'know-how,' improving our system to meet the demands of the future.

★ ★ ★

"However, we must be assured that every program has a desirable result which justifies its cost, and this information must get to the voters.

★ ★ ★

"I believe that informed citizens will correctly evaluate a school system — and will be proud to participate in and support programs which are worthwhile to their children and their community."



MICHAEL G. PATTERSON

His statement:

"We must be continually aware of the problems of education, as it is the largest "business" in Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

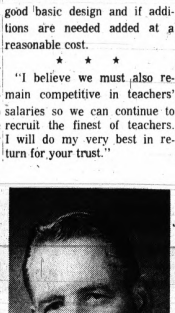
"We must inform the public in respect to our goals and needs. We are fighting apathy of the voters in Waterford Township, and I would suggest a hard-hitting public relations program geared to all the residents, not just those who are already informed.

★ ★ ★

"This must be done in order to keep Waterford Township a leader in education.

★ ★ ★

"I will continue to strive for excellence in staff and administration, curriculum and facilities."



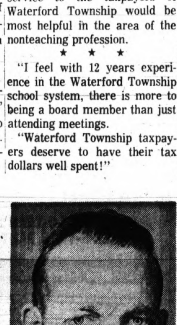
DONALD W. PORTER

His statement:

"If reelected, I will effectively utilize the knowledge and experience I have accumulated as an on-the-job board member over the past four years.

★ ★ ★

"I will conscientiously continue to direct my efforts toward obtaining the maximum value for every educational dollar paid by Waterford Township School District taxpayers."



DEAN A. SALLEY

His statement:

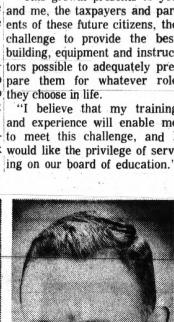
"I believe that the school system should provide: a saleable skill to each student — physical education and hygiene courses starting in the first grade — an expanded adult education program — a basic education and the instilling of pride in America for never before has our flag meant so little to so many — a definite proficiency in the basic three R's before graduating — all school personnel with reasonable wage and fringe benefits and the expectation that at all times they will display only those qualities they wish copied.

★ ★ ★

"It should insist on and expect reasonable discipline and deportment from all students in all schools at all times.

★ ★ ★

"If you share these basic ideas with me, I would appreciate your vote."



W. CECIL STRICKLIN

His statement:

"Waterford Township Schools have met the challenge of a rapidly expanding population and are maintaining a good over-all system.

★ ★ ★

"However, educational demands are constantly increasing. The schools must keep abreast of technological progress. Waterford Township should be aggressive in considering and adopting programs such as the present data processing center and the federally funded elementary exemplary school and individual computer system projects.

"While I am in favor of progress, I know Waterford Township residents already pay high taxes. The school board must be cost conscious. It must review every item to ascertain that the schools are making the best possible use of the tax dollars."

Voting Slated at 8 Schools

Voting will take place at eight precincts in the Waterford Township School District's June 12 election.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Precincts will be located at the following schools:

1—Grayson, 3800 W. Walton.

2—Donelson, 1200 W. Huron.

3—Waterford Center, 1021 Airport.

4—Schoolcraft, 6400 Maceday Drive.

5—Pontiac Lake, 2515 Williams Lake.

6—Monteith, 2303 Crescent Lake.

7—Leggett, 3621 Pontiac Lake.

8—Stringham, 4350 Elizabeth Lake.

U.S.-Red Teamwork in Middle East Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top senators hope U.S.-Soviet cooperation in working for a Middle East cease-fire will lead to a Vietnam settlement.

"There are a lot of skeptics, of course," said one senator, "but there is a feeling. Maybe it's just a hope."

★ ★ ★

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said he certainly hoped that "out of this would come some consideration of Vietnam difficulty."

President Johnson, said Mansfield, "would not look unfavorably" on the United Nations turning its attention to Vietnam after it deals with the Mideast crisis.

TWO-POWER CONCERTS

"It appears to me," said Mansfield in an interview, "that it has been proven the United Nations in the person of the Security Council cannot work effectively unless the two great powers work in concert."

He added, "It looks as if we are veering in the direction of two-power concerts."

★ ★ ★

"We might see a new approach to Vietnam," said Mansfield. "Maybe a de-escalation of the bombing. I would not be too surprised if that happened."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk returns today to face questioning on the Middle East situation by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Rusk hurriedly broke off his testimony Thursday when he received word at the committee hearing of the Israeli attack on the U.S. Navy ship Liberty. The Israelis issued a formal apology.

"I imagine he'll give us a good deal more than he has to date," said Mansfield, a foreign relations committee member.

Another member of the panel, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., a former ambassador to India, also saw the possibility of great U.S.-Soviet strides, possibly in the direction of a Vietnam settlement, "if the Russians continue cooperating."

ISRAELI PRESIDENT AT SHRINE—President Zalman Shazar of Israel leans against the Wailing Wall, remnant of Solomon's second temple, in the old city of Jerusalem yesterday. The wall, in the Jordanian sector, is one of the Jew's holiest shrines. Denied access to it since 1948, they again gained access when Israeli troops yesterday captured all of Jerusalem.

Soviets Strongly Defend U.S. Embassy

MOSCOW (AP) — Chanting and shaking their fists and shoes, an Arab-led mob of 1,000 students screamed denunciations at the U.S. Embassy in the rain today but made no attempt to break through unprecedentedly heavy defense lines of Soviet troops and police.

Four lines of army trucks, street sweepers, unarmed troops and police restricted the students to the side of broad Tchaikovsky Boulevard opposite the embassy.

★ ★ ★

The demonstrators waved signs and chanted denunciations of President Johnson and Prime Minister Harold Wilson for about 10 minutes, then began to leave.

No rocks or ink bottles were thrown as in past demonstrations.

The students included Cubans and North Vietnamese. They were spurred on by handmade signs at Moscow University claiming that U.S. and British planes had bombed Cairo.

Foreign correspondents who had witnessed numerous demonstrations at embassies here in recent years said they had never before seen such protection as that provided today by some 1,000 Red army soldiers and police.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the protective ranks in front of the embassy, an advance line of troops and police was set more than a block away, on the street to the subway station where the demonstrators formed up. The students were allowed through this line so they could march in front of the embassy.

The iron gates of the embassy were closed. Special shutters were put behind windows on the first five floors of the 10-story building to prevnt injury from flying glass.

Girl Soldiers' Role in Israel Blitz Hailed

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Trying to look as chic as war in the desert will allow, Israel's shapely girl soldiers have been right behind the front-line troops in the Middle East war.

"They call them 'chen' for 'charm,'" said Col. Stella Levi, commander of the women's corps. The girls made an invaluable contribution to the blitzkrieg in Sinai and the conquest of the Jordanian bulge west of the Jordan River — as secretaries, field nurses and radio and telephone operators.

★ ★ ★

They also belong to fighting units, but serve only in auxiliary capacities.

The Israeli girls were in the conquered areas of Sharm el Sheikh, Egypt, and Jericho, Jordan, today. Most are 18-to-20-year-olds doing their 20 months compulsory military service, although several thousand women reservists up to age 34 have been on active duty this week.

'SECRET WEAPON'

"Look at that, they're our secret weapon in this war," said one air force sergeant pointing to three girls speeding along the runway at El Arish, Egypt, in an Egyptian Jeep.

★ ★ ★

Col. Levy said in an interview that her officers did nothing to discourage the girls from showing feminine charm. "It raises morale," Col. Levy said. The "Amazons in uniform" image of the Chen Corps is definitely out.

Negro Aide to General Views Role in War

SAIGON (AP) — The phone jingled in the U.S. combat operations center, and a field commander on the other end said with urgency:

"I am on my way down. I have something big. I'll be in to see you. We've got to make a big move."

While the field commander could not go into detail over the telephone, the officer in the operations center knew what was up — a big troop movement.

Long before the field commander arrived in Saigon, Maj. Beauregard Brown III, a key officer on Gen. William C. Westmoreland's staff, had swung into action.

MAJ. BROWN

Brown alerted the operations officer, then quickly surveyed how many troop transport aircraft he had for the major move prompted by a suspected major assemblage of Vietcong cadre and leaders.

By the time the field colonel arrived in Saigon, Brown had aircraft ready to move a brigade of troops, about 3,000 men.

★ ★ ★

Brown is responsible for supervising logistical support for combat operations in South Vietnam. He is a Negro, and he feels the Negro "has played a very important role in Vietnam, particularly when you contrast it with the role he played in Korea."

"We had turncoats and defectors during the Korean conflict based in part on a fundamental lack of understanding and appreciation of why we were in Korea, a degree of ignorance of the nature of communism and the Communist threat," he says.

HE'S MOTIVATED

"This problem does not exist in Vietnam. The Negro soldier understands why he's here. He understands what this war is about and what is riding in the balance, and he's more motivated to work toward achievement of the desired outcome.

"He has found here in Vietnam unlimited opportunity for individual achievement and accomplishment. He can chart progress from day to day, and he can physically observe the fruits of his efforts.

★ ★ ★

"I think the only tragedy is people at home don't fully understand and appreciate how critical this struggle is over here and that it does relate to their own security and well-being.

"It's not a question of getting out or staying in Vietnam. It's not that simple. If we got out tomorrow, we would have to begin the next day to fight elsewhere. We've got to meet the threat headon right here and meet it decisively."

KING MISINFORMED

Among those misinformed at home, Brown asserts, is Dr. Martin Luther King.

"He's irresponsible with respect to this war because he has become frustrated," Brown says. "King has to look to other fields to maintain his stature that he has achieved in the field of human relations. Out of sheer frustration he has turned to Vietnam."

★ ★ ★

He suggests that lack of knowledge "of the complexities of this conflict has driven King to irrational positions."

"I think the outcome of the struggle will determine to a great degree whether there will be peace the rest of the century," Brown says. "I think nuclear war is out of the question. Once we've proved here that 'wars of liberation' are not going to prove successful and that aggression will not be rewarded, most of the underdeveloped people of the world will join with the highly industrialized nations in working for the over-all betterment of mankind.

MADE POINT

"What I'm trying to say is that the Vietcong have made their point. They have alerted Southeast Asia. I think the Vietcong are trying to get the message across that they are intolerant of the conditions under which they live — not enough food, disease, social injustice, poverty, lack of medical care.

"They have alerted the whole world. I think the outcome of this war will bring together not only the East and West, but the whole world. The Vietcong don't truly appreciate the fact they are being decisively defeated."

The 31-year-old career officer from De Quincy, La., has been in the Army 10 years. He went in as a second lieutenant right after he was graduated from Prairie View A&M College in Texas, where he won military honors in the Reserve Officers Training Corps.

★ ★ ★

His father and grandfather also were named Beauregard, after the Confederate general P. G. T. Beauregard.

Parade Slated to Honor Flag

Oakland County Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion units will gather Sunday for the first time in a parade to honor the American flag.

Commemorating Flag Week, proclaimed by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., the veterans' units will begin their parade at 2 p.m. in front of First Baptist Church, Oakland and Saginaw, and continue to the Pontiac City Hall for ceremonies.

Following the invocation by retired Col. Ayres Miller, Mayor Taylor will speak. Rev. Robert Shelton of First Baptist Church will give the benediction.

Bud Jack of Macomb County's VFW will be master of ceremonies.

According to Bill Garcia, chairman of the VFW Oakland County Council, approximately 600 will participate, including bands from various veterans' posts and their auxiliaries.

Johnson Viet Foes Flex Muscles in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — All-out opponents of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, heavily outnumbered in the House, scent the possibility they can wield influence far out of proportion to their numbers.

The possibility first showed promise Wednesday when the House dealt the administration a humiliating defeat, voting 210 to 197 against Johnson's bid to raise the ceiling on the national debt.

A handful of antiwar Democratic liberals joined a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democratic conservatives to defeat the debt ceiling measure.

"You can bet your bottom dollar this will be repeated," Rep. George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif., said in an interview.

'STRANGE ALLIANCES'

Brown, one of eight non-Southern Democrats who voted against the $29-billion hike in federal borrowing authority, added: "On the next opportunity — say a tax increase bill if it is ever sent up — I think you may find a dozen or so so-called liberals voting the same way. The consensus behind the President is cracking up and it will make some strange alliances."

Johnson has proposed a 6 per cent income tax surcharge, but hasn't sent legislation to Congress yet.

★ ★ ★

In a separate interview, Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., agreed that Democrats critical of Vietnam policies would be inclined to vote against a tax increase.

"I think you would find the same lineup," he said.

Both Kastenmeier and Brown said there had been no organized effort to form a bloc of Vietnam critics to vote against the debt limit increase proposal, but that there had been discussions.

Nebraska Girl, 14, Wins National Spelling Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jennifer Reinke, the new national teen-age spelling champion from Deshler, Neb., is a quiet, studious 14-year-old — and according to her mother, quite shy.

"She has been quiet and shy all her life," said Mrs. Richard Reinke Thursday after Jennifer won the 40th National Spelling Bee.

"She began saying words when she was 3 but she was slow in actually talking," said Mrs. Reinke. "Even now, she doesn't say much. But she does like to study and she reads all the time. She doesn't even look at television until she's finished her homework."

Jennie, an eighth grade student at Peace Lutheran School in her home town, which has a population of 900 and is known as the Broom Capital of the Nation, was named champion after 22 rounds in which 72 other contestants from 34 states, the District of Columbia and the Territory of Guam were eliminated.

$1,000 CASH

She won the championship cup, $1,000 in cash and trips to New York City and Expo 67 in Montreal, Canada, when she spelled correctly "milline," a publisher's term to define a unit of space and circulation, and "chihuahua," a small dog.

"I knew I'd won when I was given chihuahua to spell," Jennie said as she wiped back the tears. "I knew I could spell it."

When the pronouncer, Dr. Richard R. Baker, gave her the word to spell, her eyes appeared to light up and she became excited, tipping the audience that she knew it.

By the time she reached "chi," however, her voice began to break. When she finished the final "hua" the tears already had begun to stream.

"I was so afraid I was going to say a wrong letter and miss it," she said.

Unit OKs Eying of Gas Car Ban

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) —The State Senate Transportation Committee has voted to give serious consideration to a proposal to bar all gasoline-consuming cars from California highways by 1975.

It did so after an air pollution expert testified Thursday that a single car uses up more oxygen in a 45-minute drive than all the millions of people in the Los Angeles area can breathe during that time.

GLENWOOD PLAZA CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

Rebuilding of Chicago Hall Snagged

CHICAGO (AP)—Nearly five months after fire ruined McCormick Place, wreckers still are dismantling the remains, and there's an empty ache in Chicago's pride and in its pocketbook.

The brave plans, announced the day after the Jan. 16 blaze, to restore the 10-acre building—and add 204,000 square feet of floor space in the bargain—have hit two snags.

* * *

And while officials wrestle with the problems, super expositions and conventions are being booked elsewhere.

Chicago still does a booming convention business at the reliable old International Ampitheatre, but it has lost the trade of several hundred thousand potential visitors.

$30-MILLION LOSS

The Chicago Convention Bureau estimated these losses cost the city $30 million.

Damage-loss claims totaling $29.6 million were filed with insurers by the Metropolitan Fair and Exposition Authority.

But the claims were called excessive by Donald H. Mershon, spokesman for the insuring companies, and detailed negotiations in the dispute have delayed receipt of restoration funds.

Another delay has developed as engineering tests have shown much more extensive damage than first estimated, especially in the Arie Crown Theater section, which was thought to have escaped major damage.

Service Saturday for U.P. Historian

CALUMET (AP) — Funeral service for Miss Bessie Phillips, widely known Upper Peninsula historian, will be held in Calumet Saturday.

She died in Eagle River Wednesday at the age of 82. Miss Phillips was a native of Central Mine and did extensive research for the state on Fort Wilkins and for the federal government on Isle Royale.

Draft-Card Ruling Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department wants the Supreme Court to overturn a U.S. Circuit Court ruling permitting draft card burning as a form of protest protected by the First Amendment's free speech provision.

The Circuit Court in Boston has ruled unconstitutional an amendment to the Selective Service Act forbidding draft card burning. But it added that draft card burners could be convicted under the Selective Service Act for failing to have their cards in their possession.

* * *

In its plea Thursday to the Supreme Court, the Justice Department contended that if Congress may require a draft registrant to carry his draft card, "it would appear that it may also forbid him to destroy or mutilate his card."

Scene Is Calm as Pro Tourists Open Fire

Goalby Leads Buick After 1st Round 69

By FLETCHER SPEARS

GRAND BLANC — The feeling is widespread here that the Buick Open—a first class tournament—is being played by second-stringers.

Say what you will about Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Gay Brewer, Billy Casper and company, but a tournament without one or more of them is just another tournament.

Their failure to show here, for one reason or another, drained much of the excitement from the $100,000 10th Annual Buick Open before it started.

Even the normally bustling press headquarters was unusually quiet for an opening day yesterday.

Although some observers are referring to the play as second-string, veteran Bob Goalby showed first-team form in fashioning a 37-32-69 for a one stroke lead.

CUT NEAR

Goalby and the other 143 players in the field were slated to move onto the course today for the second 18 holes. The field will be trimmed to the low 70 plus ties for the final rounds tomorrow and Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Trailing Goalby with 70s were Hugh Royer, 30, and 28-year-old Frank Beard who has two tournament wins under his belt this season.

Mike Souchak of Oakland Hills and amateur Jim St. Germain of Northville were among a group of 15 at 73. Pontiac's Gene Bone had a 77 and Stan Brion of Tam O'Shanter carded a 76. Franklin Hills' Ted Kroll was near the bottom with an 84.

Over-all, 16 players shot par or better over the 7,126-yard, par-72 layout that played slightly longer because of the rain-soaked fairways and a stiff breeze.

★ ★ ★

A light rain was falling as Goalby opened his round, but the skies brightened quickly and the temperature rose and Goalby's game warmed as the day progressed.

WON EARLIER

Winner of the San Diego Open earlier this year and eighth on the current money list with $42,446, Goalby bogied No. 9 to make the turn at 37 and then bagged birdies at 10 and 11 along with an eagle-3 at No. 16 for a closing 32.

★ ★ ★

Goalby ran in a 20-footer for a bird at 10 and he chipped in a 40-footer for a bird at 11. On the 598-yard, par-5, 16th hole, he canned a 30-yard wedge shot after a couple of booming wood shots for his eagle.

The 36-year-old Goalby, who is well on his way to his best season ever, has earned $8,-152 in previous Buick starts, his top finish coming in 1962 when he shared sixth after carding a 288.

Beard was a late entry, gaining a sport when another pro dropped out, and he made the best of it by slicing a stroke from par on each side in a wild round that featured six birdies and four bogeys.

Royer missed an opportunity to grab the lead when he took a double-bogey six on the par-4, 461-yard 18th. His approach hit a bunker at the 18th and he blasted over the green. A chip and the two putts gave him the six.

EVEN PAR

Julius Boros, the 1963 champion, was in at 72 along with eight others.

★ ★ ★

Defending champion Phil Rodgers, who has had trouble getting his game in shape, checked in with a 75.

St. Germain, a sophomore at University of Houston, is playing in his first tournament with the pros. He was low among the five amateurs in the field after a round that included two birdies and three bogeys.

Bone, Michigan's PGA and Open champion, couldn't find the range with his putter. He played the back nine first for a 38 and then closed with a 39 on the front side that included three-putt greens at Nos. 3 and 9.

"I'm hitting it well but the putts won't fall," said Bone, former pro at Warwick Hills and now pro at Bay Pointe Golf Club.

He knocked in a half dozen putts for pars but failed to connect on his bids for birdies.

TIME OUT—Johnny Pott, one of the top money winners in the Buick Open, takes time out after nine holes to accommodate a few of the fans who were on hand for the first round of the Buick Open yesterday at Warwick Hills. Pott, who shared the runner-up position last year, carded a 77, well back of leader Bob Goalby (69).

SPORTS

Kaline Nearing Club HR Mark

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Al Kaline says he's never considered himself a home run hitter.

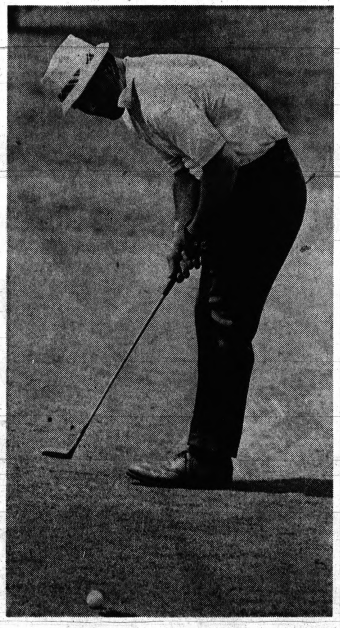
★ ★ ★

But the 32-year-old Detroit Tiger outfielder, off to one of his best starts in a 15-year career, is closing in on Hank Greenberg's all-time club record of 306.

★ ★ ★

Kaline would like to hit his 12th homer of the season in tonight's game with the Angels, to push his career total to 291.

The Tigers' best all-around player in years, Kaline is hitting .349 so far this season to top the American League, 12 percentage points ahead of Baltimore's Frank Robinson.



Pontiac Press Photo

ONE THAT FELL — Pontiac's Gene Bone watches as this eight-foot putt nears the cup on the 12th hole during the first round of the Buick Open at Warwick Hills yesterday. Bone dropped this one after blasting from a sandtrap. It was just one of a very few putts he made during his round of 77.

Girls Compete Saturday

Top Sprinters in Jones Meet

Nationally known sprinters from the Detroit Tracks Club will be among the competitors Saturday in the Hayes Jones Girls' and Women's track meet at Wisner Field.

This fourth annual meet features running and field events for girls in age groups 10-11, 12-13, 14-17 and an open division with a minimum age of 14.

Only AAU members will be considered "official entries," according to the Michigan AAU. No post entries will be accepted.

Karen Dennis of the Detroit Track Club is among the entries. She placed second in this year's AAU indoor meet in the 220 and has received a scholarship at Tennessee A & I, noted for producing top women track competitors.

Another leading entry is Carolyn Coleman who was a member of DTC's national AAU indoor 440 relay championship team last winter.

The field events will get under way at 1 p. m. and the preliminaries in the running events at 1:30. The finals will start at 6 p. m.

★ ★ ★

The meet, which annually honors Jones, Pontiac's Olympic champion hurdler, is expected to attract entries from around the state.

In addition to the regular track and field events, discus and javelin competition is scheduled.

★ ★ ★

This year's meet is dedicated to Ray Lowry, who was Jones' coach at Pontiac Central.

Dean Wilson, PCH track coach, is meet manager. Lt. Clayton Randolph is chairman of the sponsoring Fraternal Order of Police (Pontiac Lodge 132) meet committee. Following is the list of events:

Girls' 10-11

Bills Going to Conference

Fish License Boost Approved

LANSING (UPI) — Major changes made by fishing and hunting bills that passed the Senate yesterday include establishing a uniform opening date for the deer season and increasing the fishing fees.

The Senate amended down by $1 a House-approved bill to require all residents fishing on the Great Lakes and inland waters to pay $3.

★ ★ ★

Senate lawmakers also extended the 50-cent fishing privilege of senior citizens to trout and salmon fishing.

A $2 trout and salmon stamp was approved and will also cover the Great Lakes.

A uniform opening deer hunting date of the third Saturday in November was approved in the deer bill which passed 28-4.

Both measures will go to a conference committee because of amendments made by the Senate in the House approved bills.

The uniform deer opening will change the practice of the past few years of a split deer season in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

INVESTMENT

Sen. Gordon Rockwell, R-Mount Morris, chairman of the Conservation Committee, said a fee for fishing on the Great Lakes was sought because of the heavy investment the state has made in planting chinook and coho salmon in lake waters.

The Senate rejected amendments offered by Sen. Joe Mack D-Ironwood, to restrict the hunting of does in the Upper Peninsula.

House lawmakers also sought to boost the deer hunting license from $5 to $7.50. This proposal was stricken from the Senate bill.

Rockwell said changing the start of the deer season to a uniform opening date was sought by hunters and the Michigan Conservation Department. The season began last year in the Upper Peninsula Nov. 12 and a week later in the Lower Peninsula.

The split season allowed hunters in the Upper Peninsula to also hunt on the opening weekend in the Lower Peninsula and apply what conservation department officials said, was too much pressure in the Lower Peninsula areas.

Yugoslavia Five Upsets U.S. in World Tourney

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Yugoslavia threw the amateur World Basketball Championship up for grabs with a come from behind 73-72 upset victory over the United States Thursday night.

That gave the Yugoslavs, the defending champion, a 4-0 record in the round-robin to 4-1 for Russia and 3-1 for the United States. In all likelihood, the championship will be decided on Sunday, the final night, when Yugoslavia plays Russia and the United States meets Brazil.

★

The Americans meet Poland and Yugoslavia plays Uruguay tonight in their final games before the big windup on Sunday. Argentina plays Brazil and Uruguay takes on Poland in Saturday night's twin bill.

The United States, led by Darrell Carrier and Mike Silliman with 12 points each, seemed well on its way to a seventh straight victory, including qualifying round play, before the Yugoslavs rallied. The Americans led at halftime by 39-33 and increased their margin to 14 points at 49-35 early in the second half.

FOUND RANGE

Paced by Danev's 28 points, the Yugoslavs then found the range and rallied to tie at 69-69 to set the stage for an exciting last minute.

A free throw by Danev broke the tie with 58 seconds left. Korac made it 71-69 with another free throw. Vern Benson's field goal tied it once more. Kendall Rhine fouled Korac with 40 seconds left, and he converted twice to make it 73-71.

★ ★ ★

Benson was awarded two free throws with 25 seconds on the clock. He made the first, but missed the second. Benson got another chance to tie the score with 10 seconds left, but the ball rolled around the rim and didn't go in.

Umpire Meeting Set

A two-hour clinic for boys 14 and older who plan to umpire in the Waterford Township Junior Baseball League will be held at Drayton Park from 10 to 12 a.m. Saturday.

Coach Retires

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — William P. (Dutch) Fehring, Stanford baseball coach, announced his retirement from active coaching Thursday to become director of intramural sports. His retirement will be effective after next week's College World Series in Omaha, Neb.

Hydros to Race at Sylvan, Loon

Power boat enthusiasts will have opportunities the next two Sundays to watch limited inboard hydroplanes chase each other around Sylvan and Loon lakes in the Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

The 51st annual Oakland County Boat Club regatta will begin at noon Sunday on Sylvan Lake.

The annual Loon Lake Regatta of the Marine Prop Riders Association will also start at noon, June 18. Both races are sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association.

The Oakland County Water Safety Patrol also has approved the events.

Seven classes of competition are scheduled in each regatta. They include 48-cubic-inch inboards, 145, 150, 225, 266, 280 and the seven litre engines. The speeds can range from 70 to 160 miles per hour.

The Marine Prop Riders' outing at Loon Lake expects to attract several national champions and world record holders.

Henry Ball of Waterford Township is the 1966 Eastern Divisional champion and usually does well at Loon Lake. Trenton's Ed Morgan is another champ and holds the world record for five-mile competition in the 225 class.

★ ★ ★

Utica's Ray Weber competes successfully in the 150 class.

Indiana Kegler Leads Pro Open

SEATTLE (AP) — Don Johnson of Kokomo, Ind., put together six-game sets of 1,399 and 1,418 to take over the lead Thursday in the Professional Bowlers' Association's $27,500 Seattle Open.

Johnson's 2,817 for 12 games gave him a 113-pin lead over Dick Ritger of Hartford, Wis.

Denver's George McDonald

Rally Helps Pad Lead in Softball

League-leading Town & Country ran its record to 6-0 last night with a 5-4 triumph over Orchard Lanes in an American League softball outing.

In another American game Local 594 (2-3) turned back Bob's Bar (2-4), 6-4. Timberlanes No. 2 (4-1) whipped Huron Bowl (2-3) by 13-1 in a National League contest, and Wagon Wheel Tavern (4-1) knocked MGM-Shalea (4-1) out of first place in the Slow-Pitch League with an 11-7 decision.

Trailing 4-3 going onto the seventh, Town & Country pushed across a single run in the seventh and won it with a run in the eighth frame.

Pete Landino scored the tying run on a wild pitch with two out in the seventh and Bryan Warnick singled home winning pitcher Roger Reynolds with the tie-breaker in the eighth. Jim McDonald checked in with a double and single for the losers (2-3).

★ ★ ★

Chet Woodmore clouted a home run and added a single in pacing the Local 594 attack. The winners wiped out a 4-3 deficit with three runs on four hits in the fifth. Dick Nichols picked up two hit for the losers.

PITCHER HITS

Bob Wainman tossed a five-hitter and helped himself at the plate with three hits in Timberlane's easy win. Jack Graham also picked up three hits for the winners.

Rich Goodwin and George Adams collected three hits apiece in leading Wagon Wheel past defending champion MGM-Shalea. Jim Addis and Chuck Mason clouted homers for the winners.

Pair Wins Trophy

Bob Walls and Jerry Petritz own the President's Cup at Forest Lake Country Club. The two took the golf title by downing Roy Potuin and Ed Ibbotson in the finals, 2 and 1.

LOSES RIB — Ruth Jessen, one of the top players in the Ladies Professional Golf Association, admires a floral arrangement from fellow golf pro Billy Maxwell in her room at Baylor Hospital in Dallas, Tex. Miss Jessen, 30, underwent surgery for removal of a rib which physicians said was responsible for cutting off blood circulation to her left arm leaving her hand numb.

Had Surgery

Pro Golfer Resting

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Ruth Jessen is smiling today but she says "it hurts to laugh" after sacrificing a rib in the hope of prolonging a fine professional golf career.

It appears, she said from a Dallas hospital bed, that the rib was responsible for cutting off the blood circulation to her left arm and leaving her hand numb.

★ ★ ★

Any right-handed duffer knows the importance of the left arm to a successful golf swing.

"This has been going on for two years," she said. "They found this one rib was larger and flatter than the others and was cutting off circulation."

Miss Jessen, 30, a member of the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour since 1956 and its eighth leading money winner with nearly $100,000, has endured more than her share of pain in the last four years.

In May 1965 she had surgery for removal of a tumor and came back to post a scoring average of 75.21 and earn $9,982. Two years before that she had an operation on a back disc and almost three months to the day after surgery she won the Cosmopolitan Women's Open at Rockton, Ill.

Miss Jessen said this time she will not be in a big hurry to return to the tour.

"The last two times I went back too soon and I had relapses," she said.

One-Hitter Marks Waterford Action

Day's Sanitary (9-1) whipped McAnnally Auto Sales (5-5) by a score of 11-0 in the Waterford Men's Softball League last night.

Jerry Thomas pitched a near perfect game for the winners allowing only one hit in the fourth inning.

Bud Thomason and John Studt each picked up two hits for Day's while Walt Pole got the solo hit for McAnnally.

In the other game Clyde's Frame and Wheel (6-4) downed Midget Bar (4-6) in a 7-4 decision. The bar team committed five errors in the first inning costing three runs and was never able to catch up. Ken Young had a double and a single which produced three runs for Clyde's.

SURPRISE AWARD — Andy Hunt, teacher and volunteer coach at Stringham Elementary School in Waterford Township, receives a plaque from principal Mrs. Dawn Davis for his services during the past 11 years as coach at the school. The award, a surprise to Hunt, was made last night at the elementary school banquet for sixth graders. Hunt, who coached football, basketball and softball, all on a volunteer basis, is stepping down as 'coach' this year with the graduation of his youngest child from elementary school. "We're looking for a coach now," said Mrs. Davis.

Chisox Hurler Chews Up Opposition

Horlen Checks Bosox Batters in 5-2 Triumph

Chicago Gains Split in Twinbill; Indians, Angels, N.Y. Win

By the Associated Press

Joel Horlen, off to his finest start, is chewing up opposing hitters almost as fast as he is tissues.

Tissues?

That's right. The Chicago White Sox right-hander, who ran his record to 7-0 with a 5-2 victory over Boston in the first game of Thursday's doubleheader, attributes part of his success to tissue chewing. He says chewing gum bloats him and tobacco makes him sick, so he chews a couple of wadded tissues while pitching.

★ ★ ★

"It relaxes me," he says.

His hurling, aided by his chewing, gave the White Sox a split when they lost the nightcap 7-3, remaining 1½ games behind league-leading Detroit, which took the day off.

★ ★ ★

In other American League action, Cleveland tripped Minnesota 7-5 on Max Alvis' two home runs; California edged Baltimore 6-5 on homers by Rick Reichardt, Jim Fregosi and Jimmy Hall, and the New York Yankees blanked Washington 6-0 in the only night game.

Horlen, who lowered his earned run average to 2.01, chomped down on Red Sox hitters with a six-hitter in his fourth complete game. He didn't even get through one wad of tissues.

FIRST HOMER

The only runs off him came on Carl Yastrzemski's run-scoring double and Joe Foy's homer. But Gerry McNertney's first homer of the season with none on and a two-run blow by Ken Berry offset that brief Boston show of might.

With Horlen giving his jaws and his arm a rest, the Red Sox erupted for five runs in the second inning of the second game that started Gary Bell to a successful debut with Boston.

★ ★ ★

Bell, recently acquired in a trade with Cleveland, scattered nine hits, and Chicago could only touch him in the first inning when Tom McCraw singled in two runs and in the ninth when Ron Hansen homered.

Meanwhile, the Red Sox jumped on Bruce Howard in the second. Russ Gibson and Bell each singled in a run, Foy doubled in two and Yastrzemski singled home another. Yastrzemski also hit his 12th homer in the sixth.

FAST START

Alvis gave the Indians a good start and a rousing finish as he opened the game with a homer and then climaxed a four-run ninth inning with a two-run blast, his ninth.

★ ★ ★

In between, Joe Azcue homered and Chuck Hinton tripled home Alvis, who had singled, for a 3-1 Cleveland lead. But the Twins knocked out Ed Connolly, just recalled from Portland, with four runs in the eighth before the Indians and Alvis came to bat again.

Reichardt's two-run clout in the sixth inning brought the Angels back from a 5-4 deficit after Fregosi and Hall had given them a 4-0 lead with two-run homers.

NHL's Angry Men Make Kelly a King

MONTREAL (AP) — Punch Imlach and Jack Kent Cooke, the last angry men at the National Hockey League meetings, finally have put their heads together—and made Red Kelly a King.

★ ★ ★

Kelly, a 20-year NHL standout, became the coach of the Los Angeles Kings Thursday after the Toronto Maple Leafs traded him to the expansion Club for defenseman Ken Block.

★ ★ ★

The deal, announced as the NHL concluded its four-day conclave, broke a bitter stalemate between Toronto general manager Imlach and Kings owner Cooke over Kelly's status in the expansion draft.

Kelly, promised the Los Angeles coaching job before the draft, expected the Leafs to clear the way for his selection by the Kings. But after Los Angeles picked nine other players, Imlach turned the tables by adding Kelly to Toronto's protected list.

The Kings contended Toronto had violated a prior agreement —supported by the five other expansion teams—that the 39-year-old forward would be left open until the last round, when Cooke would claim him.

Imlach insisted he had made no deal and blasted Cooke.

COUNTER CHARGES

Charges and counter charges shot back and forth, with Cooke and Kelly issuing formal complaints to NHL president Clarence Campbell. There was no settlement in sight when the Board of Governors adjourned their final meeting Thursday.

Then Imlach and Cooke got together late in the afternoon and the feud was over in less than an hour. After the joint announcement of the trade, Cooke named Kelly as his coach and promoted Larry Regan from chief scout to general manager.

★ ★ ★

After Thursday's windup meeting of the league's 12 club owners, Campbell announced a boost in minimum player salaries to $10,000-$2,500 higher than the minimum wage in major league baseball. The league president said the average base pay for a player during the 1966-67 season topped $18,000.

The All-Star Game was set for Toronto on January 16 with the Stanley Cup champion Leafs playing against representatives from all the other clubs.

Eleven Colts in Running

Michigan Derby Set at Hazel Park Track

Elkcam Stable's Royal Malabar and Wheatley Stable's Disciplinarian are the early favorites in the tenth running of the $50,000 added Michigan Derby for three year olds Saturday at The Hazel Park Race Track.

They face the challenge of nine others in the mile and a sixteenth derby field. Chief among their rivals are Jack Grunwald's Son Jack, Mrs. Viola Sommer's Air Rights and Charles F. Parker's Ask the Fare.

If all eleven colts start, the value of the purse will be $58,200. The winner will earn $37,200.

Royal Malabar and Ask the Fare will carry the highweight of 120. Disciplinarian will shoulder 118 pounds and Son Jack will get in at 113.

Royal Malabar ran away with the Michigan Derby trail last Saturday, winning in 1:39 3-5, the fastest mile of the meeting.

Marathon Bowling Tourney Sunday

Howe's Lanes Sunday will have its annual 24-game Marathon Bowling competition beginning at 10 a.m.

★ ★ ★

The endurance test is open to all bowlers, though the field is limited to 72 entries. First prize will be $400 (based on a minimum of 60 entries).

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

GRAND BLANC — Young Jim St. Germain of Northville is a ringer for that "speaks softly and carries a big stick" description.

Jim's only 20 and he's here at Warwick Hills this week mixing it up with the pro golfers for the first time.

And he's doing quite well. He turned in a 37-36-73 yesterday, one over par for the Warwick layout, the best amateur score of the day. And he's only four shots back of the leader, Bob Goalby, (69).

★ ★ ★

St. Germain gained a lot of attention as a prep at Northville, climaxing his high school career by taking the state title.

He's a good student, but it was his ability with the golf sticks that led University of Houston to shell out a scholarship to entice Jim and his clubs to that hotbed of college golf.

At Warwick yesterday, Jim, a slight figure at 5-feet-8 and 145 pounds, bagged pars on the first nine holes. The only problem he faced was a trap shot at the eighth hole and he slapped it two inches from the cup and tapped it in for his par.

★ ★ ★

An eight-foot putt after a couple of wood shots and a chip gave him his first birdie on the 578-yard, No. 1 (he played the back nine first) hole and added amother with a five-foot putt on the 189-yard, par-3 third hole.

TAKES BOGEY

He wound up in the sand on No. 2 and came out with a bogey and he went over par again on the fifth and sixth holes, each time missing five-foot putts.

★ ★ ★

A course like Warwick, which played longer than its 7,126 years with the stiff wind, is tough for a little guy but Germain managed to keep pace with the big hitters.

Although he's little he still gives the ball a hefty ride off the tee.

Several of the players were voicing complaints over the condition of the back nine, which is just getting a little grass on the bare spots following a vast renovating program.

★ ★ ★

The greens on the back side are spotty and you don't have to look too close to see the ball hop and jump when a player strokes a putt.

NO BOTHER

"They were no bother to me," said Germain. "They were spotty but the holes were filled in so they were level."

★ ★ ★

Homero Blancas, who played his way through University of Houston before turning pro and who is not a great putter, commented that he liked the back side greens. "They're no problem for me, but maybe they'll (greens) keep a few putts of the others from going in."

"They're (greens) getting better every day," commented George Archer with a laugh interpreted to mean they'll be a lot better in a couple years.

Stan Brion, assistant to Warren Orlick at Tam O'Shanter in Orchard Lake, carded a 76 and finished the first nine a little upset with the television crewmen who are busy laying wires all over the course.

Brion played the back nine first. As he prepared to hit his second shot on the 18th, he was in the middle of his backswing when the video folks started a commotion nearby.

The result was a pulled shot to the left side of the green. Brion wedged a shot 10 feet from the cup and two-putted for a bogey. "How can you play with that going on?" queried Brion.

JUNIORS PLAY

The junior golf program is gaining momentum in Waterford Township. Youngsters interested in picking up some of the finer points of the game may enroll in the program through their school or by obtaining application forms at the Waterford Township Recreation Office.

Syndicate Pays $3.7 Million for Globetrotters

CHICAGO (AP) — The world famous Harlem Globetrotter pro basketball team, owned by the late Abe Saperstein, was sold for $3,710,000 Thursday to a syndicate headed by Potter Palmer, scion of a wealthy Chicago family.

The Palmer group bid was approved by Circuit Court Judge Robert Dunne, who ruled against two other bids, one for $3,500,000 by Metromedia, Inc., and another for $3 million by the Linn Broadcasting Company.

★ ★ ★

It was reported May 23 that Metromedia, owner of radio and television stations and the Ice Capades ice show, had successfully negotiated for the Globetrotters, subject to approval by the Probate Court.

In ruling in favor of the Potter group, Judge Dunne said: "Abe Saperstein was a shrewd businessman. He saw fit to give the co-executors of his estate discretion to sell his lifetime enterprise. I will not interfere with the exercise of that discretion."

Mantle's Son in Golf Tourney

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mickey Mantle and Hank Foldberg were on hand for the Dallas Junior Golf Tournament Thursday.

Mantle, 14, son of the New York Yankees slugger, was beaten 3 and 2 in the championship flight, and Folberg, 15, son of the former Texas A&M head football coach, won his second flight match 5 and 4.

Braves Win Again

Aaron Isn't Missed

By the Associated Press

So who needs Hank Aaron anyway?

Sure, he's leading the National League with 15 home runs and sure he's driven in 35 runs and scored 40 times. But, it's a fact that the Atlanta Braves have been better off without him.

★ ★ ★

Aaron missed his second straight game Thursday night and the Braves, who had dropped 10 of 13 games before he was sidelined, won their second straight, downing Los Angeles 5-4.

There were only two other games played on the slim National League schedule Thursday. San Francisco ended Cincinnati's one-run rut, beating the Reds 8-5, and St. Louis defeated Houston 6-2.

Aaron is nursing a muscle pull in his side but, surprisingly, his bat hasn't been missed by Atlanta. The Braves pounded out a 13-5 victory over the Dodgers Wednesday and then beat Los Angeles ace Don Drysdale with a late rally Thursday.

Drysdale was working on a two-hitter and leading 4-1 until the seventh when Joe Torre and Rico Carty opened with singles and Clete Boyer doubled for one run. Denis Menke greeted reliever Phil Regan with a two-run single, tying the score.

REGAN LOSES

The Braves pushed across the winning run against Regan in the ninth on a walk to Menke, a sacrifice, an infield out and Felipe Alou's single.

Drysdale drove home two of Los Angeles runs and scored a third.

The Reds' string of 11 straight one-run games ended when the Giants broke a 5-5 tie with three runs in the eighth inning.

Ollie Brown, who had smashed his 10th home run earlier, delivered the tie-breaking single and then a throwing error by Cincinnati catcher John Edwards during a rundown allowed two more Giant runs to score.

Willie McCovey, who had a two-run homer in the sixth, started San Francisco's winning rally with a double and rode home on Brown's hit following an intentional walk to Jim Hart.

Then Edwards' throw in a rundown between third and home hit Hart and bounced into left field, allowing two more runs to score.

Tony Perez had his 13th homer for the Reds, and Tom Haller hit his seventh for the Giants.

Bob Gibson pitched a four-hitter and struck out nine for the Cardinals, who ended a three-game slide against the Astros.

Houston hopped on Gibson for a pair of first inning runs, but the St. Lois ace shut the Astros out after that.

Farmington Golfer in Title Defense

Bill Curtis of Farmington will be trying to hang onto his Michigan Publinx Golf Association Medal Play title when he starts battling a field of 100 tomorrow at Hickory Hollow Golf Club.

It's a 36-hole event, and the field will play 18 holes tomorrow and 18 Sunday over the 6,300, par-72 course.

Tee off time is 11 a.m. for both days. Curtis captured the title last year in play at Bald Mountain.

Home Runs Earn Win in 'A' Tilt

Three-hit pitching by Santo Sanchez and the long-ball hitting of Larry Johnson and Jeff Musgrave carried the R. T. Clippers to a 9-4 victory over Cranbrook last night in city Class A baseball action.

Sanchez fanned 11, and after a rocky first inning during which he yielded three runs, he was the master of the situation.

Catcher Johnson led off the Clipper second with a homer. Sanchez reached base on an error and after a walk to Al Hayward, Musgrave knocked one out of the park to put the Clippers ahead for good.

The winners added two more markers in the fifth and three in the sixth. Johnson sent two of those home in the sixth with a double.

★ ★ ★

Along with his pitching Santo checked in with a pair of doubles and scored twice. Bill Estes picked up a double and Chuck Heavenrich a single off Sanchez in the first and the losers' only other hit was a fifth-inning single by Al Levy.

DISTANCES IN WAR AREA—The map indicates the distances between some of the significant cities involved in the Middle East conflict between the Arab countries and Israel.

LBJ-Kosygin 'Hot Line' Busy Yesterday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin made unprecedented efforts—even using the fabled "hot line"—to try to limit the Middle East crisis and bring the fighting to a quick end.

For the first time a U.S. President and a Soviet premier exchanged messages over the hot line opened between Moscow and Washington four years ago following their confrontation in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis.

* * *

Kosygin sent the first Mideast message to the President early Monday after Israeli and Arab armies clashed, the White House disclosed Thursday.

The Soviet premier, it was learned, suggested the world's two great powers should work together in the interest of peace. It is understood his message affirmed what he said in an earlier note to the President —that the Soviet government did not want war in the Middle East.

WELCOMED INTEREST

Johnson replied to Kosygin the same day, also using the hot line, White House press officer George Christian reported. He did not disclose the content of the President's response but it reportedly welcomed Kosygin's interest in limiting the war and bringing it to a quick conclusion.

* * *

This has been the first major Middle East crisis in which both the United States and the Soviet Union have been involved and both played key roles.

No one here now disputes that the Soviet Union has achieved the status of a Middle East power in years following the Arab-Israeli clash of 1956. Moscow's military assistance and advice now play a vital role in determining events in that explosive crossroads of world commerce.

* * *

Another round of messages was exchanged Thursday after the President learned of an Israeli attack on the U.S. naval research ship Liberty off the Egyptian coast. The ship was damaged severely and planes of the 6th Fleet were ordered to the air at once.

SCRAMBLING PLANES

Knowing that Soviet radar ships watch the U.S. fleet—Johnson messaged Kosygin over the hot line. The President reported the attack on the Liberty an alerted Kosygin to the scrambling of 6th Fleet planes so the premier would know they were going only to the stricken ship and were not bound for the war zone.

Christian said Johnson received a reply but he did not disclose what it was.

* * *

Use of the hot line, officials here agreed, helped keep the war isolated. It forestalled the possibility of fateful misunderstandings between the White House and the Kremlin. And it apparently provided a basis for parallel action by the United States and the Soviet Union in the U.N. Security Council.

Truce Leaves Egypt Sullen

Nasser Will Speak to People Tonight

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptians waited sullenly today for their leader to explain why he agreed to stop fighting Israel after four days of broadcasts and communiques claiming military successes while Egyptian troops were suffering humiliating defeats.

Cairo Radio announced President Gamal Abdel Nasser would broadcast to the nation tonight (12:30 p.m. EDT). Meanwhile his people were gripped by disappointment at the military debacle.

The announcement late Thursday that Nasser's government had agreed to a cease-fire was a severe shock to the Egyptians who for days had chanted "We want war!" and "Death to Israel!" and exulted at Cairo Radio's reports of military success.

The martial music that had reverberated through the streets of downtown Cairo stopped suddenly. The stream of anti-American invective that had come over the radio incessantly during the past few days also faded away, from the radio, at least.

END OF DREAM

Yet many Egyptians refused to believe this was the end of their dream of crushing the state of Israel.

"You will see," one driver said. "Wait until Nasser has spoken."

Meanwhile, diplomats continued to push the evacuation of Americans and Europeans despite Egypt's agreement to a cease-fire.

"There is no formal truce yet," one official said. "We are going ahead in getting our citizens out of the country. It is possible that the real trouble will come only now.

* * *

"I would not go so far as to say that danger for Westerners will increase now," said another diplomat. "But I can definitely assure you that our evacuation plans have not been affected by the latest developments."

Before the cease-fire was accepted, two Italian ships sailed from Alexandria Thursday night with 150 civilians bound for Beirut.

The last of about 1,000 West Germans flew from Cairo to Alexandria to board a Swedish freighter for Crete. A special train was to take 500 Americans to Alexandria Saturday to board the chartered Greek liner Karena.

Israel Expected to Try to Keep Gains From War

LONDON (UPI) — Israel can be expected to hold out firmly for permanent political and territorial gains from its third and most crushing defeat of the Arabs, Mideast experts said today.

This mood emerged clearly in Israeli government circles even before the acceptance of the United Nations-ordered cease-fire.

Premier Levi Eshkol said last night the situation which has emerged from the conflict "has created a new political reality in the Mideast."

Other highly placed sources were echoing the premier's sentiments. They were saying Israel this time will not accept being cheated out of the fruits of victory as it was in 1956, when the American administration was hostile to the Anglo-French-Israeli Suez operation.

* * *

This attitude appeared to point to one major plank in Israel's postvictory strategy. Israel will resist to the utmost all international pressure to withdraw its forces from their present positions until its major objectives are satisfied.

STRONG POSITION

As a result of its dramatic four-day military success against its encircling Arab neighbors, Israel could face the expected intensive diplomatic aftermath from an unparalleled position of strength.

Israel held virtually complete military control over the Sinai Peninsula, including the entrance to the Gulf of Aquaba where it had lifted the Egyptian blockade.

It held the whole of Jerusalem and the former Jordanian territory west of the River Jordan. It was in possession of the Gaza Strip, the wedge of Mediterranean coastal territory which it has long coveted.

Furthermore the conflict had smashed the Egyptian and Jordanian armies, thus ensuring the tranquility of these long borders for some time to come. The Syrian army had escaped almost unscathed on the minor northern front, but could not pose much of a threat on its own.

Tree Blooms Add Beauty

In the spring time, there is nothing more beautiful than the flowering trees in residential areas.

There are so many flowering trees available for the different climates that there is not enough space to name them.

Among the more prominent are the flowering crabapple, cherry, dogwood, magnolia, peach, plum and apple trees. There are both early and late spring flowering trees.

Your local nurseryman will gladly advise you on those best suited for your area and planting conditions.

★ ★ ★

Where to plant your flowering tree is an individual choice. You perhaps, want it near the front of the property where neighbors, as well as your family, can enjoy it.

A home is hardly complete without at least one lovely flowering tree symbolizing that "Spring is Here!"

Bend the prongs of an old table fork and you have a perfect instrument for cultivating the soil in window boxes.

Lawn and Garden News

Blanket of Green Beautifies a Home

Only when a lawn of fine-textured grasses blends plantings with surroundings, does a home become truly beautified.

Fortunately, an esthetic landscape is neither expensive nor difficult to gain, what with excellent seed and convenient lawn products.

Lawn fescues are attractive but rugged even on under-fertilized, dry soils and in shady spots.

Top blends usually combine fescues with bluegrasses to provide an all-purpose turf that is best mowed fairly tall.

Kentucky bluegrasses form an especially sturdy sod that is rich green when fertilized, and wear-resistant. Bentgrasses are luxurious, need monthly feeding, regular mowing and watering.

COLONIAL TYPES

Both colonial forms such as Highland and creepers such as Penncross are available from seed.

Backing these star performers are many beautification aids. Paramount is lawn fertilizer, in many lightweight formulations which cover 5,000 square feet from a single sack that even a child can lift.

High nitrogen analyses such as 30-5-8 and 24-9-5—the percentages of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium respectively — are commonplace.

These powerful plant foods are frequently bolstered with secondary elements and micronutrients such as sulfur, calcium, magnesium and iron.

They apply effortlessly with a good lawn spreader; just set for the rate recommended on the bag and pour into the hopper.

Weed control is made equally easy. Most fertilizer lines include a weed-and-feed product that sets back the weed competition as it stimulates the grass.

Dandelions, plantains, chickweed, and so on succumb readily to 2, 4-D, silvex and dicamba. A half dozen effective chemicals prevent crabgrass, sometimes also combined with fertilizer.

NOT HARD TO ADJUST

Modern lawn mowers adjust cutting height easily, have the capacity to mow quickly. Riding mowers are the rage, luxurious models exhibiting several speeds forward (and reverse) and a control "stick" that lets you slow for thick grass without shifting.

Even watering is becoming automated; an inexpensive plastic system can be laid underground which operates automatically from a time clock.

Watering should be frequent for bentgrass, but Kentucky bluegrasses and fine fescues can await signs of stringency.

★ ★ ★

There are other aids, too:—insecticides harmless to pets and people, fungicides to check disease summer and winter, edging chemicals, soil fumigants, thatch removers, and so on.

But if you do nothing more than select top quality grass, fertilize and mow it considerably, a presentable lawn will be yours to enhance flowers, shrubs and shade trees as nothing else can.

Save Money, Buy the Best

With beautification America's watchword, good lawn products are increasingly vital, says The Lawn Institute. Happily, weed-free seed in scores of combinations is available everywhere.

★ ★ ★

There are numerous Kentucky bluegrass varieties, beautiful and durable; fine fescues for shade and improvident soil; bentgrasses for golf-green luxury; even ryegrasses that are perennial.

Indeed, topnotch lawnseed can be obtained to fit your climate and mode of care.

Seed may bolster thin turfs, or be sowed to a newly-cultivated seedbed. For a new lawn till the soil a few inches deep, as with a rotary tiller. Mix in plenty of fertilizer, to give seedlings a headstart over weeds.

★ ★ ★

Mulch — spread straw, excelsior or "fabrics" your garden store may recommend — to hold moisture and hasten sprouting.

KEEP DAMP

Water frequently at first, tapering off as new grass reaches mowing height.

Nothing serves better than a thriving permanent-grass sod to hold weeds at bay. Fertilize from time to time, or use a combination fertilizer-weed preventive.

Today's sprayers and spreaders make application simple.

Dandelions and other broad-leaf weeds are especially easy to check this time of year. The top lawngrasses are not injured by weed preventers, or by the excellent insect and disease controls also much used to keep the garden tidy and relaxing.

Spice Your Apartment With Plants

Add decorative beauty to your home or apartment and increase your family's enjoyment of everyday living by making generous use of potted plants.

A built-in planter, for instance, will supply a border of beauty at a large picture window, divide a living and dining area, or partition an area for an entrance hall.

By filling such planters with plants left in their clay pots, you can use plants with different watering needs, change or replace plants as you wish, and add a seasonal flowering plant for a colorful accent.

Essentially the same effect may be created without a built-in planter by using a low table or cart that will accommodate an array of green plants.

★ ★ ★

Open-shelved room dividers may easily be converted into indoor gardens by adding a collection of interesting plants that can be changed at will.

POPULAR

Portable plants also are very popular. They range from large exotic plants placed on the floor as dramatic room accessories, to the little enchanting dish gardens planted in soil or water and used to decorate the top of a piece of furniture.

Large potted plants may be placed effectively, for instance, by the side of stairways. The small dish gardens, for example, may be hung from the ceilings of studies or bedrooms.

Local florist shops have a wide variety of potted house plants.

★ ★ ★

They will blend naturally into any home or apartment decorative scheme and add beauty to every room in which they are used.

Annual Poinsettia Grown From Seed

Unlike the Christmas poinsettia that is grown as a house plant, the annual poinsettia may be grown outdoors.

Also called Mexican fire plant, this annual grows readily from seeds. It forms 2-foot-high plants, the upper leaves of which are blotched with bright red.

Annual poinsettia is a member of the euphorbia group so, while the foliage may be cut for use indoors, the stem ends must be burned or dipped in boiling water immediately after cutting to stop the flow of milky juice characteristic of this group.

This juice may cause injury to eyes or mouth so be careful to avoid trouble.

Cankerworms Invading Trees

By JODY HEADLEE
Pontiac Press Garden Editor

Are the leaves on your favorite shade or fruit tree disappearing? Then that soft rustle you hear in your garden is propably the restless chomping of the spring hatch of cankerworms not the summer breezes.

Sometimes called inchworms or loopers because of their mode of locomotion, cankerworms destroy the foliage on many varieties of trees.

Repeated infestations of the pesky gluttons weaken trees so that they become susceptible to other insect pests and diseases.

There are two species of cankerworms in the United States, the fall cankerworm and the spring cankerworm, named to identify the season when the adult moths emerge. The larvae or cankerworm of both species appear at about the same time and may both be present in the same tree.

★ ★ ★

Eggs of the fall cankerworm look like tiny brownish-gray flowerpots. Prolific, the female deposits about 100 eggs in a single layer on the branch bark.

HIDDEN PEARLS

Spring cankerworm eggs resemble dull pearls and are usually dropped in bark crevices in clusters of 50.

If you are a purist and want to know just which kind of cankerworm is invading your living green, turn one over on its back. If you find a pair of small, fleshy, useless legs on the fifth abdominal segment or eighth body segment (count from the head), you've got a fall flyer.

If your count-down reveals no such legs, you are dealing with a spring cankerworm.

★ ★ ★

Now that you're in the know before they eat you out of leaf and garden, set about to control them.

You can use a mist blower with lead arsenate. Mix two pounds of lead arsenate powder with 7¼ pints of water plus a sticker material (to make it cling to the leaves) of ½ pint mineral oil.

If you are using a hydraulic sprayer, mix three pounds of lead arsenate powder in 100 gallons of water plus a sticker.

★ ★ ★

Lyle Abel, Oakland County agricultural agent, also suggests the use of either 50 per cent wettable DDT or 50 per cent wettable Sevin, using two tablespoonsful per gallon of water.

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS

Be sure to follow the manufacturer's instructions as most insecticides are poisonous to people and animals. And when you are through using the insecticides, store in a safe place away from children.

Do not clean spraying equipment or dump excess spray material in any water source for fish and wildlife.

Isolated trees may be banded with sticky material such as Tanglefoot to prevent females from laying eggs.

★ ★ ★

Abel warns that axle grease or materials of this sort should not be used to band trees as it may kill the tree.

Seeds of slow-to-sprout crops may be wrapped in moist paper towels over night and then planted in moist soil for quicker results.

Better Kill Rose Chafers Now
These fawn-colored, slender beetles appear in mid-June and eat highly-colored flowers like roses, peonies, iris, hydrangea. Best way to treat them is to destroy their grubs now by spraying your lawn and shrub beds with Chlordane or Dieldrin. To kill the adult beetles, use a combination of DDT and Malathion emulsion.

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

The case of the people vs. South, accused of willfully and maliciously stealing three tricks, had been skillfully prosecuted by Hamilton Burg, the District Attorney.

JACOBY

Bridge Detective Lieutenant Gragg had described the actual play of the hand in which South, with 18 points in his hand and one point in dummy, had made three overtricks at a one no-trump contract.

Merry Payson, attorney for the Defense, rose to cross-examine. He began: "Lieutenant, I recall from your testimony that West opened the deuce of clubs. East's queen forced South's ace. South returned a club. West took his king and jack and threw South in with the ten.

Meanwhile East had discarded two spades. South led his ace and king of spades. The queen dropped and a third spade was led to dummy's ten. South cashed the jack and discarded the eight of diamonds. Meanwhile, East had thrown the five and jack of hearts and West the deuces of hearts and diamonds. Then South led a heart to his ace and threw West in again with the king of hearts.

West underled his ace of diamonds. South made the last three tricks with the king of diamonds and dummy's ten and eight of hearts. Will you kindly inform the court which car West played on the third spade lead?"

"He played the deuce of hearts," replied the Lieutenant.

Payson turned to the Judge and said, "Your Honor, I respectfully move for a directed verdict of acquittal. In the famous case of People vs. Culbertson it was established that the discard of a deuce under those circumstances clearly tells partner to protect that suit. If East had protected hearts then West could have dropped his king of hearts under South's ace.

East would have gained the lead and played a diamond. When East discarded hearts in spite of his partner's deuce discard he actually gave South two tricks. West gave him the third when he underled his ace of diamonds."

★ ★ ★

"Motion granted," said the Judge. "Defendant is acquitted."

What do you do now?

A—Jump to six clubs. Your partner has obviously been showing controls but he did bid only two no-trump over your two spades. He probably does not hold both black kings.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three hearts over your three clubs your partner has bid four clubs. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

for Saturday
By SYDNEY OMARR

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): A problem may be placed in your lap. It could concern older individual. Be aware of past obligations, promises. Do your best. If you receive necessary aid . . . handle matter with dignity.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Dispel doubts about certain persons by ASKING QUESTIONS. Answers, or lack of them, can provide necessary insight. Information, Satisfy curiosity by cautious questioning.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Ideas can be transformed into profitmaking projects. Your kind of day because there is activity, excitement, change. Focus your energies. Best to include family member.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Cycle continues high. Study GEMINI message. Accent on personality, wit. One in authority may appear heavy-handed. Don't fight City Hall. Be charming, tactful, fair.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You prove major point. Prestige rises. Especially good for appearances on radio, television. Evening favors being with one who boosts personal stock.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Talkative friend, associate could create mind problem. Be patient, express willingness to help those in distress. Money question could be reactivated. Not so good for starting project.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Accent on advancement, gain. Roadblock to progress is removed. Key is initiative. Start moving! Momentum picks up, but emphasize independence of thought, action.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Trust hunch. You seem to automatically know right move. Don't be discouraged if others appear dense. Accent on ideas, strengthening of personal philosophy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Discuss investment possibilities with mate, partner. Clear air of doubt. Pull together with ally. Not wise to act in manner to arouse resentment. Mature understanding wins day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Obtain hint from LIBRA message. One in position to aid cause waits for personal contact. Take initiative. Have facts at hand. Excellent day to present your case. Do so.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Stress on movement, change, ideas, possible travel. Break from routine. Refresh yourself through charming, new contacts. Break out of emotional rut.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Adjustment on domestic front is in order. Evening favors affection, display of true feelings. Break loose from restrictions. If you accent the TRUTH of the matter . . . then you are happy.

★ ★ ★

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are dynamic, have original ideas . . . would make fine inventor. Current cycle indicates intensified social activity.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for CANCER, LEO, VIRGO. Special word to ARIES: Be especially considerate of family member.

Affected by New Fighting

Stock Mart Moves Uncertainly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved uncertainly early yesterday afternoon following news of the resumption of fighting between Israel and Syria. Trading was active.

Softness in blue chips dragged the industrial average to a loss but gainers outnumbered losers by about three-to-two in the over-all stock list.

★ ★ ★

The market spurted at the start as overnight orders were placed. These were inspired by late Thursday's news that Egypt had accepted a cease-fire.

The emotional flourish of buying in the final minutes on the New York Stock Exchange, as well as later on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange, had little important follow-through, however.

REASONS FOR CAUTION

Approach of the weekend and the host of unresolved problems in the Middle East as well as in the American economy provided sufficient reason for caution, analysts said.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.70 at 871.50.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 322.4 with industrials off .6, rails up .8 and utilities off .1.

★ ★ ★

Prices were mostly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Lundy Electronics advanced 4 points. Fischer & Porter and Iroquois Industries gained a point or more. Kaiser Industries was actively traded and up a fraction. Varo Inc. lost more than a point, Syntex nearly a point.

Home Improvement Racket Hits State

LANSING (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley yesterday warned against "more than 500" phony home improvement operators who reportedly have invaded the state to make a series of fast deals.

★ ★ ★

Kelley said he received information operators who have previously been engaged in deceptive practices in other states."

"The specialty of these individuals . . . is to sell the home owner various types of home improvements, such as blacktopping of driveways, painting houses, spraying and repairing roofs, sale of lightning rods and aluminum siding installation," he said.

Kelley warned the salesmen work in "groups or gangs" and recommended five steps which the public should take to guard against being cheated.

★ ★ ★

Prospective customers according to Kelley, should:

- Ask any salesman for a state license to operate as a residential maintenance and alteration contractor.
- Ask for evidence of registration with the county treasurer as a transient merchant.
- Request evidence of any corporation papers.
- Be careful of salesmen who use sales equipment, including trucks, without any advertising.

★ ★ ★

"Finally, when a salesman comes to your door and is in a hurry to repair or replace your roof, heating or cooling equipment, or driveway, or outside surface such as with aluminum siding, do not allow yourself to be panicked into signing or paying anything by reason of scare stories about the dangerous condition of your home," Kelley said.

"The more of a hurry that the salesman is in, the more likely you are to be victimized," Kelley said.

The Soviet Union's automobile production in 1966 totaled 210,000 cars.

Explosion Cuts Off Power in Louisiana

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—A dynamite explosion, the latest in a series of mysterious blasts, has wrecked a utility company transformer and left a large area without power.

A Gulf States Utility Co. spokesman estimated damage at $75,000 in the blast Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

The company switched to a standby transformer and restored power. Carencro, seven miles north of here, had been completely blacked out.

Road-Aid Policy Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Transportation promises a reasonable interpretation of a low providing 10 per cent penalties in federal aid highway construction money for states failing to create and enforce a comprehensive safety program by Dec. 31, 1968.

"In the final analysis, I cannot imagine a state being penalized 10 per cent of its highway funds except in a very extreme situation," Everett Hutchinson, undersecretary of transportation, told a presidential advisory committee yesterday.

The 29-member committee approved 11 of 13 proposed standards for highway safety drawn up by the department.

The committee suggested that two others be revised.

One revision would ease the proposals for a periodic motor vehicle inspection and the other would modify a rule for re-examination of drivers.

By going through the Panama Canal, a ship travels 50 miles between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. It would have to travel 7,873 to go around South America.

New Golf Generation in Open

WORK'S OVER — Ted Kroll (center) of Franklin Hills and Mike Souchak of Oakland Hills head for the clubhouse after carding 146s yesterday in the U.S. Open sectional qualifying round at Tam O'Shanter. The two later wound up in a four-way playoff for two berths in the Open along with Bob McCallister and Al Balding. McCallister birdied the first hole to win one of the spots and Kroll knocked in a 15-footer on the second hole for a bird and the other spot available.

Gamble by Red Wings Pays Off

AP Wirephoto

PUT 'EM UP — Skirmishes between the players marked the second game of last night's Detroit-Kansas City doubleheader. The clash originally involved Dick McAuliffe of the Tigers and pitcher John Odom of the Athletics. But both benches emptied in the sixth inning fracas and side fights broke out, including one between Denny McLain (top left) of the Tigers and Ozzie Chavarria. Hank Aquirre of Detroit later moved in to replace McLain against Chavarria. Detroit won both games, 11-1 and 7-1.

MONTREAL (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings lost five regular players and 15 minor leaguers in the National Hockey League expansion draft, but Coach Sid Abel isn't unhappy.

He was grinning Tuesday when he left the NHL meeting at which tthe six new clubs stocked their teams.

★ ★ ★

Abel gambled on leaving defenseman Howie Young off the list of 12 players protected from the draft.

"With Young's troubles of the past, we hoped teams would overlook him. They did," Abel said. Instead of Young, he had protected Bob McCord who he said was "the most valuable defenseman in the American Hockey League at Pittsburgh and would be grabbed."

Young once was known as the "bad boy" of the league for his penalties on the ice and antics off the ice.

OTHER LOSSES

Chief losses to the Wings were Andy Bathgate, picked by the Pittsburgh Penguins; Bryan Watson, who was drafted by Minnesota and then traded to Montreal; defenseman Leo Boivin and Val Fonetyne, to Pittsburgh, and Ray Cullen, to Minnesota.

★ ★ ★

Well known former Red Wings drafted from Detroit's farm teams were Parker MacDonald, Pete Goegan and Andre Pronovost, all taken by Minnesota; Bob Wall, drafted by Los Angeles, and Ab McDonald, nabbed by Pittsburgh.

Casualty List From Sectional Includes Snead

Young Players Rule at Tam; Gene Bone Also Sidelined

By FLETCHER SPEARS

A new generation is asserting itself in the world of pro golf.

Some names that were among the rulers of golf a generation or more ago were among the also-rans yesterday as the youngsters grabbed most of the 24 U. S. Open berths in a 36-hole sectional qualifying round at Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

Foremost among those failing to make the grade was the old slammer from West Virginia, Sam Snead, 55, who carded a 148, two shots off the qualifying pace.

It was the second straight year Snead has missed qualifying.

Iron play and putting troubles plagued the veteran who posted a 73-75 over the par 35-36—71 Tam course.

"I've never hit worse irons since turning pro," he lamented. Snead also had five three-putt greens and four-putted another.

The next stop for the 24 who made it is Springfield, N. J., where they'll be part of a field of 150 bidding for the U. S. Open crown and a purse of $175,000 June 15-18.

Setting the pace at Tam O'Shanter in a field of 60 pros and eight amateurs was 26-year-old James J. Colbert, Jr., of Overland Park, Kans., who came through with a seven-under-par 135.

★ ★ ★

Colbert, a product of Kansas State University and father of three daughters, is just one of a small army of powerful young swingers who are stealing the thunder from some of the veterans.

SECOND SPOT

Three shots back of Colbert was Randy Petri, 25, of Austin, Tex., who put together rounds of 68-70-138.

★ ★ ★

And sharing the third spot were a pair of California brothers — John and Dick Lotz. John, 26, made his with a 71-69, while Dick, 24, carded 69-71.

Some other big names falling by the wayside were former PGA champion Walter Burkemo of Detroit and Mike Souchak of Oakland Hills.

★ ★ ★

Striking a blow for the pros of another era, however, was Ted Kroll of Franklin Hills.

WINS IN PLAYOFF

Kroll, leading PGA money winner in 1956, posted a 146 along with Souchak, Bob McCallister of California and Al Balding of Ontario.

★ ★ ★

In a playoff for the final two spots, Kroll and McCallister posted the winning shots, with Kroll coming back from what seemed sure defeat on the first hole.

Kroll, who bagged a couple of eagles during the regular play, ran into quick trouble on the first hole of the playoff when he rapped his second shot into a bunker guarding the right front of the par-4, 395-yard hole.

He blasted within six feet and rolled the ball into the cup

IT MISSED — One of golf's all-time greats, Sam Snead of West Virginia, misses a short putt on the 18th green during yesterday's 36-hole U.S. Open sectional qualifying round at Tam O'Shanter Country Club. Sam had a lot of putting problems and finished with a 148, missing the qualifying cutoff by two strokes. The U.S. Open is the only major tournament that Snead has not won.

Battling Tigers in Double Win

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"It was a real ballplayer's brawl—nobody landed a good punch and I was laughing my sides off," said ex-umpire Ed Hurley in describing the Detroit-Kansas City free-for-all Tuesday night.

Hurley, now traveling secretary for the A's, viewed the wild eight - minute battle from the press box. Admittedly, the battle had its comic aspects. But closer inspection in the clubhouse disclosed this one was a bit rougher than most baseball brawls.

★ ★ ★

Jack Aker, Kansas City relief pitcher, had three nasty welts on the side of his face. Hank Aguirre, Detroit pitcher, said the back of his neck was sore where somebody sneaked up and hit me." Chuck Dobson, Kansas City pitcher, was spiked on the thigh. No one else would admit injury.

Aker, Aguirre and Dobson were on the bench when the trouble started on the field in the seventh inning of the second game of a doubleheader won by Detroit's American League leaders, 11-1 and 7-1.

CLOSE PITCH

Kansas City pitcher Blue Moon Odom sailed a pitch over the head of Detroit second baseman Dick McAuliffe, who had stolen home against Odom during a six-run Detroit fourth inning. Odom and McAuliffe exchanged sharp words before and after McAuliffe grounded out. Neither would repeat what was said, but McAuliffe was emphatic on one point.

"It's bush to throw at a guy's head like he did," McAuliffe said. "(Campy) Campaneris steals against us and we don't throw at his head. If Alvin Dark (A's manager) tells his pitchers to do that he ought to get out of baseball. If he can't stand to lose, he ought to get out."

Mayo Smith, Detroit manager, said "Odom was throwing at him, no doubt about it," but he didn't fix the responsibility on Dark.

★ ★ ★

"The umpires were right in not ejecting anyone," Smith said.

While the Tigers were laughing and kidding each other in the clubhouse, the A's were grim and tight-lipped.

"You can't blame anyone," Dark said. "They are fighting for the pennant and my boys are fighting to win ball games. My boys told me Aguirre hit Ossie Chavarria from behind and that set it off."

In the eighth inning, Detroit catcher Bill Freehan was hit in the side by an Odom pitch, but quickly shouted to manager Smith "It was my fault," before

New Look for Buick Tourney

GRAND BLANC — It's the same old course, but it has a new look for the pro tourists who are here for the $100,000 Buick Open.

A few of the pros moved onto the course today for the $5,000 pro-am, a prelude to the main event.

The field of 144 starts gunning for real tomorrow with the first round of the 72-hole tournament. Single rounds are slated for Friday and Saturday and the 18-hole windup Sunday.

At stake is a $20,000 first prize for the winner along with the use of a Buick automobile for five years.

★ ★ ★

And among the field of 144 will be Michigan PGA and Open champion Gene Bone of Pontiac.

MISSES OPEN

Bone, 35, head pro at Bay Pointe Golf Club, had a poor day yesterday as he failed in a bid for a U.S. Open Berth in qualifying at Tam O'Shanter in Orchard Lake, but he's hoping his game will improve at Warwick Hills.

★ ★ ★

Bone was head pro at Warwick a few years back, but the course has undergone extensive changes since he left.

Once just a long, tortuous layout, Warwick now offers a real challenge for the pros in its 7,126 yards of turf. Included in the changes were traps, new greens, and reshaped fairways.

In trying to qualify for the Open, Bone came in with a 154, well off the 146 cutoff.

★ ★ ★

"No alibis," said Bone, who recently underwent treatment for a severe shoulder ailment.

SHOULDER OKAY

"I was feeling real good. The shoulder is okay, but I just played badly. I'm really disappointed."

★ ★ ★

He was slated to join an amateur threesome this morning at Warwick, and tomorrow he'll take the tee along with John Schlee and Lou Graham at 1:20 p.m. The same threesome has a 9:20 a.m. date Friday.

Phil Rodgers of LaJolla, Calif., is defending champion in the Buick tourney, and he be on hand along with former titlists Julius Boros, Mike Souchak and Bill Collins.

Tickets will be available daily at the gate.

EMU '9' Ripped by Tourney Foe

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Eastern Michigan was battered 8-2 by Georgia Southern Tuesday in their first-round encounter of the NAIA baseball tournament.

Georgia Southern got off to a fast start in the first inning, scoring five runs on four walks, a fielder's choice and pitcher Jim Dobson's two-run single.

Cardinals Draft Southfield Star

By JERE CRAIG

Two-time most valuable player in the annual Pontiac Invitational High School Baseball Tournament, Ted Simmons of Southfield Tuesday was the 10th player selected in the major league free agent draft.

The 5-11, 185-pound switch-hitting catcher guided Southfield to three consecutive Pontiac Invitational titles, impressing scouts from every big league team with his receiving, hitting, throwing, running, leadership and attitude.

★ ★ ★

In short, Simmons is regarded as a complete prospect and a big bonus is likely.

Some of the scouts — including a representative of the St. Louis Cardinals who picked Simmons on the first round — have talked in terms of a six-figure bonus.

Simmons himself admits he is anxious to sign a pro pact if the money is right — and $75,000 probably would draw his signature — since were he to attend college next September he would have to wait four years to be eligible for the draft, again.

SURPRISE

"I had no idea that the St. Louis Cardinals would draft me," Simmons stated Tuesday morning. "It didn't make any difference which team drafted me."

★ ★ ★

There's some indications St. Louis may convert him to the outfield since the Cardinals have a top catcher in Tim McCarver.

This is where Simmons' desire, probably his most outstanding attribute, really shows.

"I'd do anything. I'm willing to play any place they tell me . . . as long as I get a shot at a first team berth. I can play the outfield. I'd ride the bench two years as water boy if it would get me to the major leagues quicker," he said enthusiastically.

★ ★ ★

The Cardinals' chief area scout, Bob Kucher (baseball coach at Northville), and region supervisor "Mo" Mozzali will begin contract talks with Simmons shortly.

Cage Rookies Come Back

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Basketball Association opens a two-day meeting in Chicago today on the bright note that three of its star rookies who jumped to the new American Basketball Association have returned.

Lou Hudson went back to the St. Louis Hawks Monday after jumping to the Minnesota Muskies of the ABA. Erwin Mueller returned to the Chicago Bulls Tuesday after purportedly being signed by New York of the ABA for an estimated $22,000.

Mueller agreed to the Bulls terms of a reported $15,000 some $6,000 more than he received in the club's NBA debut last season.

Art Greene's excellent relief hurling brought Pass Excavating its initial Pontiac Class A Baseball League victory Tuesday night, a 9-0 frolic over the Lake Orion Cardinals at Jaycee Park.

Four runs in each of the first two innings gave Pass a fast start. Keith Deaton tripled home a run in the first and scored, then singled home another tally in the second.

★ ★ ★

Starter Art Jackson had control problems and was relieved by Greene in the fourth. The chunky right-hander whiffed 9 of the 12 Cardinals he faced, allowing no hits and only one man managed a fair ball.

The victory deadlocked the two teams at 1-3 in seventh place. Tonight Teamsters 614 bids to take over first place against the winless U.A.W. 653 entry at 7:30.

Errorless Play Marks Games in Waterford

Errorless ball was played last night in the Waterford Mens Softball League as Spencer Floor Covering (9-0) took a 3-1 decision from Buckner Finance (1-8).

Jim McClellan hurled a three-hitter for the winners and was aided in the first inning by teammate Jim Patterson who stroked a two-run homer.

In the other game Day's Sanitary (8-1) stayed only one game out of first place by squeezing past Clarkston Appliance (4-5) in a well played, well pitched game, 1-0.

The Clarkston pitcher, the Rev. Harold Hughes, allowed only two hits, both doubles. However, Days' Paul Atkins and John Studt put them together in the fourth inning to produce the winning run.

Ken Spears and Jerry Thomas pitched for Days' and allowed only a combined total of three hits.

The first Masters championship was picked off by Horton Smith in 1934 with a score of 284.

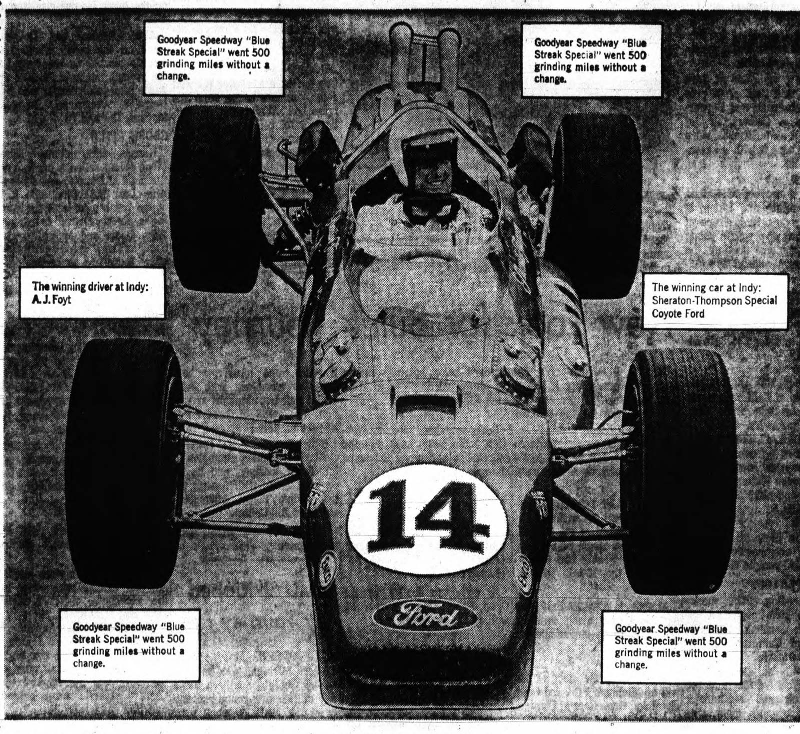
A.J. Foyt wins "Indy" 500 on Goodyear Tires

New speed record... no tire change



A. J. Foyt rolled his Goodyear tires to victory at an average speed of 151.207 miles per hour. A new track record.

Some people consider the Indianapolis 500 the toughest race in the world. For man. For his machine. And for his tires.

It takes a lot of tire to take the "500"... Goodyear's "Blue Streak Speedway Specials."

Goodyear developed this ultra wide-tread racing tire. This years triumph at Indy proves its success as A. J. Foyt sped all the way without a tire change.

"Wide Boots" Look Just Great.

Prices Start at Only $35.95

D70-14 (6.95 x 14) Red or White Stripe Plus $1.92 Fed. Ex. Tax and Old Tire.

For your kind of driving, Goodyear introduces another winner: "Wide Boots." Goodyear's new Wide Tread tires for your car. With a tread almost one-third wider than the tread on most passenger car tires.

Get "Wide Boots." They're built a lot like racing tires. Low. Broad-shouldered.

They start faster. Corner safer. Handle surer. Stop quicker. And they look great.

Snead, Souchak Fail to Qualify

to stay alive after Souchak and Balding had picked up 4s. McCallister ran in a 13-footer for a birdie-3 to nail down one of the spots.

★ ★ ★

On the second hole, a 177-yard par-3, Souchak hit a tree guarding the front but the ball bounced onto the putting surface 30 feet away. Balding's shot stopped 12 feet from the cup while Kroll's finished three feet in the fringe and 15 feet from the hole.

ROLLS IN

After Souchak two-putted for a par-3, Kroll used his putter from the fringe and rolled it into the center of the cup for a deuce and the other berth in the Open. Balding's putt for a birdie-2 missed by a foot.

★ ★ ★

Another notable among the casualties was Pontiac's Gene Bone, slowed by an ailing shoulder, who carded a 152.

Colbert, in his second year on the pro tour and winner of $15,300 in official money, had an easy time on the par-5s as he played the longer holes five-under-par.

The 464-yard, par-5 10th hole was a big boost for Colbert, who'll play in the Buick Open which opens tomorrow at Warwick Hills in Grand Blanc.

In the morning round, Colbert, third in the year's Jacksonville Open, hit the green in two and canned an 18-footer for an eagle-3, and he ran in a three-footer for a birdie the second time around.

Only none players matched or bettered par over the 6,594-yard par 71 layout and one of them was Jim Picard, assistant to Tam O'Shanter head pro Warren Orlick.

Picard, 26, carded a 74 in the morning but came in with a three-under-par 68 in the afternoon for his 142.

It will be the first trip to the U. S. Open for Picard, who is in his eighth year as an aide to Orlick.

Canadian Bobby Breen, the ex-hockey player who led the field in the local qualifying round last month at Pine Lake and Edgewood Country Clubs, was wild off the tee and wound up far back at 156.

45 Gross Leads Women Golfers

In the Women's Tuesday Silver Lake Golf League, Madeline Castleberry had the lowest gross score with a 45. Donna Richardson took the championship flight's net honors with 31.

First flight winner was to Loraine Hotchkiss with a net score of 33. Second and third flight winners were Kay Frick and Doreen Frank, respectively.

Cougars Play

DETROIT (AP)— The Detroit Cougars tonight go after their first United Soccer Association victory when they play the Boston Shamrock Rovers in a return match in Detroit.

The last time the two teams met, May 28 in Boston, they battled to a 1-1 tie. Last Sunday, the Cougars held the Vancouver Royal Canadians to a 1-1 standstill.

State Champ Starting Fast

Woman Golfer Wins WDGA Playoff

State champion Joyce Kazmierski of Grosse Ile is off to a fast start in the Women's District Golf Association weekly activity.

★ ★ ★

Playing at Franklin Hills Country Club yesterday, Miss Kazmierski won the top spot by downing Mrs. Robert Gamble of Lochmoor in a three-hold playoff.

Both came in with 83s over the par-74 layout, and Miss Kazmierski emerged the victor with a three-hole total of 11. Mrs. Gamble had 15 for the three holes.

Kathy Shanahan of Pine Lake, in her second year in the WDGA, posted an 84 to finish third in the event.

Softball Team Lengthens Lead

Unbeaten Town & Country Lounge upped its American League edge while Timberlanes II took over the lead in the National loop to feature last night's city men's softball action.

Henry Hughes of Town & Country and Local 594's Jim Fisk had a sterling pitching duel that Chuck Nichols decided with a run-producing double in the eighth inning for a 2-1 victory, T&C's fifth in a row.

Al Levy and Pete Landino singled ahead of Nichols' two-bagger. Al Smith's two-out single in the seventh for the winners forced the game into overtime.

Timberlanes downed J. A. Fredman, 11-7, as Bob Wainman halted the losers in relief. Timberlanes broke open the game with seven runs in the fourth inning, aided by key doubles by Rich Fitzgerald and Gary Acker.

In another AL contest, Ron's Roost dumped Orchard Lanes, 7-4, to regain second place; while L & S Standard upset Bob's Bar, 7-2, in an exhibition game.

Al Hayward ripped two singles and a double to produce three runs for Ron's. Winner Ralph Long also hit two singles to account for three tallies.

Clutch Basket Wins for U. S.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Jim Barrett's basket in the last minute of play gave the United States a 59-58 victory over Russia in the amateur World Basketball Championships Tuesday night.

It was the sixth straight victory for the U.S. squad, including three games in qualifying play, and made the Americans favorites to win the title in the round-robin final round that ends Sunday.

A bitter dispute held up the game for 20 minutes near the end of the game. Both Hal Fischer, the U.S. coach from San Francisco, and Alexandre Gomelski of Russia, waved their players off the floor during the argument over whether a foul should have been called on a Russian player. Police had been called to keep order.

Barrett was high scorer for the Americans with 13 points. Anatoli Pollvoda led the Soviets with 19 points.

"That was a fine thing Freehan did," Dark said. "If he hadn't hollered what he did, we might have had a fight nobody could stop."

ADD TO MARGIN

The double victory put the Tigers two games up on second-place Chicago.

In the first game, Earl Wilson joined in Detroit's 14-hit barrage with his second home run of the season.

Joe Sparma came on for the nightcap and threw a six-hitter as the Tigers won their fourth in a row.

* * *

The 21-hit attack was highlighted in the nightcap by a six-run fourth inning. Don Wert doubled in two runs and Mickey Stanley singled in two. McAuliffe walked to force in another run and later he stole home.

In the opener, Norm Cash socked his fifth homer in the eighth inning with a man on base. Then Wilson crashed his homer.

In the ninth, Cash also singled in a run.

* * *

Bill Heath and Jim Northrup knocked in three runs each as the Tigers bombed Lew Krausse and Chuck Dobson in the first game.

Detroit winds up the four-game series tonight by putting Mickey Lolich 5-6 on the mound against Paul Lindblad (3-0).

Great News!

GREAT
CAR INSURANCE!

People all over Michigan are talking about MONEY BACK on Exchange car insurance—and leading the way with Triple-A!

Beginning July 1, 1967, a 10% premium refund will be paid to Exchange-insured Auto Club members as their car insurance policies expire.*

This premium refund, which can return $9,000,000 in the next 12 months to more than half-a-million Michigan drivers, will be continued in the future for as long as the Exchange's favorable underwriting conditions will permit.

In addition, a $1,000,000 rate reduction on Uninsured Motorist and many Comprehensive coverages will go into effect on policies issued July 1, 1967 and after.

This projected $10,000,000 saving over a 12-month period is in keeping with the Exchange's traditional policy of providing Auto Club members with the best possible insurance protection and service at the lowest possible cost.

*You, too, can lead the way. Join today!

*Premium refund of 10% (current rate) applies only to voluntary policyholders of Detroit Automobile Inter-Insurance Exchange.

UPHOLDS PREDICTION — It was predicted in The Press before the black bass season opened last week that better than average catches would be made. The 7-pound, 2-ounce largemouth held by Richard C. Phillips of Clarkston helps make the forecast look good. He caught the new leader in The Press Big Fish Derby's Bass Division yesterday morning at Bridge Lake.

Bass Action Good on Oakland Waters

Now is the time to go bass fishing in the Oakland County area.

Near limits are the rule rather than the exception at many sites. Size of the bass being caught is above average, too. And if there's a lull, bluegills are more than ready to provide excellent suriace action.

★ ★ ★

Spinners and underwater plugs are the best bass producers, but action on nightcrawlers and surface plugs is picking up.

Richard C. Phillips, 6421 Church, Clarkston, used a different bait — a large chub — to catch a 7-pound, 2-ounce largemouth about 9 a.m. yesterday at Bridge Lake.

This lunker topped the former leader in The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby's bass division by 4 ounces.

Leading the pike division is an 8-pound walleye caught Saturday at Lakeville by Merton W. Shattuck of Leonard. Only once in the 31 previous years of the Derby has a walleye led and went on to be a winner. That was in 1955.

★ ★ ★

The other pike division winners were northern pike. Muskies also are eligible. All residents of Oakland County are eligible. The fish must be caught in Oakland waters and brought to The Press sports department for weighing between 7 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

BEST LAKES

Pontiac and Oakland are producing excellent catches of bass, many in the four-pound and over class.

Other top bass waters are Williams, Pine, Louise, Orion, Orchard, Cass, White, Duck, Big Fish and Moore.

The larger fish are being taken over weeds and dropoffs, but some are moving onto the spawning beds, particularly at Pontiac and Oakland.

Carol Green, 6319 Harriet, Waterford Township, went bass fishing at Lake Oakland and caught a 15-inch perch that weighed 1½ pounds. The unusual part is that she was casting from a dock with a Jitterbug. Perch seldom hit surface lures, let alone a bass plug.

"Just about every lake is producing big bluegills," according to Conservation Officer Harold Stoll. "Black poppers and spiders seem to be the killers."

★ ★ ★

Crystal, Hart, Huff, Union, Commerce, White, Orchard, Tipsico, Fish, Kent, Stringy, Holly pond, Crochet, Algoe, Oxbow, Duck, Walled, Lotus and Van Norman are the better bluegill waters. Silver, Loon and Graham are close behind.

With bass and bluegills being the No. 1 targets, northerns are sought only by the dedicated pike fishermen. They are doing fair with minnows on Orion and Walled.

Several northern's 5 to 10 pounds have been caught on large chubs at Bald Eagle within the last 10 days. Best times on this lake are 6-8 a.m. and 7-9:30 p.m.

Trout action is at a standstill, although a few good browns are being hauled from Paint Creek.

★ ★ ★

Over at Lake St. Clair, plenty of walleyes are being caught, but most are only around 10 inches. The size limit is 13. A few 3 pounders are being caught on pencil plugs on the St. Clair River at Marysville, but action is very slow.

White bass are near shore in the Selfridge Field area and catfish are running in the Clinton Bypass Canal. So are the carp.

Pontiac Press Photo

KING OF THE TABLE — There are few who will argue that the walleye isn't No. 1 among fish on the table. Merton W. Shattuck of Leonard holds 8 pounds of walleye. Caught Saturday at Lakeville Lake, this fish is the new leader in the Pike Division of The Press Derby. Northern pike, muskies and walleyes are classed in one division.

Camp Guides Now Available

Sylvania Tract Fish Regulations Listed

Copies of the updated Michigan Campground Directory are now available from the Conservation Department to help families pick places for vacationing this summer and fall.

The pocket-size folder lists more than 360 campgrounds with 17,300 individual sites at state parks, state forests, state game areas, national forests, county and township parks in Michigan.

Supplies of the directory are on hand at the department's publications room in Lansing, its Information Office in Detroit, plus regional and district headquarters throughout the state.

The guide, listing campgrounds according to four main areas of the state, tells how to find these sites and what to expect there in the way of outdoor facilities and activities. It also gives a general rundown on camping fees, time limits, and other regulations.

★ ★ ★

Also available is a copy of fishing regulations in the National Forest Service's newly acquired Sylvania Tract in the western Upper Peninsula.

These regulations, including a map of the tract, can be obtained at national parks and from certain Conservation Department District offices.

Women Shy Away From Shooting Game

LANSING (AP) — Statistics show that when it comes to outdoor activity, women truly are the tender sex.

They would rather fish than hunt — perhaps on the theory that fish don't really feel pain while animals messibly bleed before they die.

Those that do hunt prefer deer over any other game.

Fewer women like to shoot small game — the bunnies or squirrels or the birdies.

Archery hunting is fairly popular, perhaps because quite a few women take up the sport in college.

A rugged few like to hunt bear. And women make up only a fractional percentage of the trappers.

A federal survey has estimated that one of every 10 women are active anglers.

The State Conservation Department thinks the estimate is a little high.

FREE LICENSE

Wives automatically get a free fishing license when a husband makes his purchase, so the exact number of female fishers is hard to find.

In a fishing creel census conducted from 1958 through 1962, however, the department found that 18 per cent of those checked were women.

The department has more exact figures on the number of women who enjoy going out in the fall to try for a deer.

An analysis of 1966 gun license sales showed 29,480 of the some 558,000 deer licenses sold were purchases by women — 5.28 per cent.

Deer archery permits were next most popular among women as they took out 4.89 per cent of the 1966 total.

Lady gun-wielders accounted for only 3.49 per cent of the small game licenses sold.

Women took out 2.85 per cent of the bear licenses last year. This figure may be deceiving, however, since deer hunters also can kill a bear under some circumstances.

But the Conservation Department figures that about 120 women last year literally went hunting for bear.

Park Supervisor's Goal: Good Time for All

By DON VOGEL

Al Masini has one big goal in his work—seeing to it that people have a good time.

"That's the biggest part of my job," said the 25-year veteran of the Conservation Department. "We don't operate these state parks and recreation lands in Southeastern Michigan for any other reason."

The task can have its frustrations. A lack of adequate camping facilities, motorcyclists who want to "take over a park" and traffic problems are the main headaches.

As parks supervisor for the Pontiac Lake district, Masini oversees the operation of 36,000 acres of state land. Park managers, their assistants and rangers carry on the work within the recreation areas.

"Southeastern Michigan parks were overlooked for too long when it came to improvements," said Masini who spends more time in the parks than at his desk. "Now we are getting the money from the legislature and we are making good gains.

"I feel that these gains will begin showing up in 1968. But we are only catching up. We are going to need more campsites, beaches, modern sanitary facilities and manpower.

"We have good people in the parks of our district. They have to be top-notch or else they wouldn't be able to cope with the heavy use our lands are getting in this district. We need more like them because the use is going to increase."

Actually, there has been very little trouble in area parks. Teen-age beer busts have pretty much been brought under control. Vandalism still occurs, but mostly at night or during the week when the parks receive light to moderate use.

Broken glass on a beach, hot coals dumped on the ground and an unsuspecting bare-footed youngster stepping on them, a few drunks and an occasional family fight show up.

"I don't care what anyone says, these things are going to show up where thousands of people gather," Masini pointed out. "We do our best to try and nip these problems before they start, but we can't be everywhere at once.

Traffic jams when parks become full are a major problem, particularly at Dodge Park No. 4 on Cass Lake—one of the top five in popularity in the state.

"There is a serious problem there," said Masini. He feels that a new entrance or widening Parkway Drive to four lanes may alleviate the situation.

Motorcyclists trying to take over parks "for their own playgrounds" are becoming an increasing trouble spot. "They are welcome at the parks as long as they follow the rules like 99 per cent of the other people," said Masini who also issued this warning:

"Motorcyclists are going to have to understand that these parks are for all the people of Michigan, not just for them, and it's going to be kept that way."

Study Stations for Great Lakes Opened in State

A pair of promotions tied to the Conservation Department's stepped-up fish studies on the Great Lakes were announced this week by Field Deputy Warren W. Shapton.

★ ★ ★

Myrl Keller was named supervisor of the planned Great Lakes fisheries station at Charlevoix and Asa T. Wright was appointed to a similar new post at Marquette.

The two northern stations will serve as nerve centers for the department's expanding program of fish surveys on the upper Great Lakes.

★ ★ ★

Studies in lakes Michigan and Huron will be primarily directed from the Charlevoix station while those in Lake Superior will be mobilized out of the Marquette installation.

Work Bee Held on Riding Trail

More than 40 members of the Michigan's Trail Riders Association turned out for a work bee at 4-Mile Camp southeast of Grayling on the state's shore-to-shore riding and hiking trail.

They put up rustic toilets, guard rail posts and hitching rails, leveled off a parking lot, poured cement for an outdoor grill, paid for the installation of a well and cleaned up the campsite area and generally "worked like beavers," according to Department forest supervisor Roger Rasmussen.

Another work bee at the Goose Creek Camp west of Frederic was scheduled for this month.

Hunting Accidents Remain Low

Michigan's hunting accident rate remained low in 1966 with 17 sportsmen killed and 210 wounded among 1,225,000 license holders during the deer and small game seasons, final figures of the Conservation Department show.

Last year's shooting mishaps, scaled against hunter numbers, figure out to one accident for every 5,396 licensed sportsmen, the state's fifth safest rate over the last 20 years.

Taken in total, the number of 1966 hunting accidents also compares favorably with the 20-year average, ranking five per cent below that long-term level.

Measured against 1965, when Michigan fielded its largest hunting force on record and witnessed its best accident rate in 25 years, last year's total was up by five non-fatal injuries with shooting deaths standing the same.

In many ways, the 1966 seasons were a playback of the common causes and mistakes which have victimized hunters in recent years.

For one thing, it remained a truism in 1966 that the hunter's own gun or those of his shooting companions are the greatest threats to his safety.

Reflecting this is the fact that about one-third of all accidents during last year's deer and small game seasons were self-inflicted.

One of every two hunters was struck within only 10 yards of the fired weapon. In 86 per cent of all accidents last year, 100 yards or less stood between the gun and its victim.

Responds to Peace Hopes

Market Shows Sizable Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed a sizable gain early today as it responded to hopes for peace in the Middle East.

Gainers outnumbered losers by between five and six to one as stocks rose on a broad front.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average held a gain of about 9 points, trimming its best gains made right after the opening bell.

The ticker tape ran late.

International oils rose in a body despite the halt of oil shipments through the Suez Canal and ports in Syria and Lebanon. Texaco gained about 2 points, Royal Dutch and Jersey Standard about a point each.

IBM gained 5 and Eastman Kodak 3 while two-point gains were scored by many issues, including Boeing, Ogden Corp., Control Data, American Airlines, Polaroid, Xerox, Standard Oil of California, Raytheon and Eastern Air Lines.

Leading steels and motors were mainly fractional gainers.

Up a point or so were such stocks as Texas Gulf Sulphur, Uniroyal, Goodyear, International Telephone, du Pont, International Nickel, General Foods and M-G-M.

Hopes for peace were bolstered by the unanimous call of the United Nations Security Council for a cease-fire in the Middle East. This was underlined by news that Jordan had agreed to negotiate a cease-fire with Israel.

On Tuesday the Associated Press Average of 60 Stocks rose 5.1 to 319.6.

Prices were strong on the American Stock Exchange.

Court Date Set in Bar Break-In

A 41-year-old Pontiac man, charged with breaking and entering the Irish Tavern, 4703 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township, May 23, was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday following his preliminary examination before Township Justice Kenneth Hempstead.

Ernest C. Keaton of 835 Melrose is slated to appear before Circuit Court Judge Robert L. Templin for arraignment at 9 a.m. June 16.

★ ★ ★

The suspect was taken into custody by Waterford Township and Keego Harbor police about a block from the Irish Tavern. Police had been alerted by a citizen who witnessed the alleged break-in.

Loot consisted of $13 worth of whisky and $16 in change. Police are seeking a second suspect.

Strawberries Go for $1,200 a Crate

BENTON HARBOR (UPI) — Auctioneer Jack Glassman received what might have been a record bid for a crate of strawberries when the new Benton Harbor Fruit Market opened its doors yesterday.

A combine of fruit buyers bid $1,200 for the solitary crate of berries. the grower only got $25, though. The rest of the money went to charity.

Senator Visits

HOLLAND (AP) — U.S. Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., was to visit Holland today for a reception sponsored by the Ottawa County GOP finance committee. He was to appear in Muskegon tonight at a GOP fund-raising event in the L.C. Walker Arena. Tower met with Gov. George Romney in Lansing for lunch before flying to Holland.

2 Women Seek Help in Roundup

Oakland County sheriff's deputies were called to a Springfield Township home yesterday to investigate a complaint of a horse running loose on private property.

Upon arriving at the home of Mrs. Ruth Childress, 8601 Bridge Lake, officers found a horse belonging to Mrs. Robert Shagena of 8775 Bridge Lake romping in the back yard.

The women said they had been trying vainly to catch the animal all afternoon, and the officers decided to lend a hand.

The deputies later submitted a report of the incident for department records:

"When we left," it stated, "they were still running after the horse."

State Try to Abolish Commission Rapped

LANSING (UPI) — An attempt to abolish the Michigan Civil Rights Commission through a constitutional amendment came under sharp criticism yesterday by Rep. J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City.

Traxler said the commission, which was established by the new Michigan Constitution, has performed in a "commendable manner."

The attempt to abolish the commission was made yesterday by Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, who introduced the proposal in the House for the amendment.

The proposal needs two-thirds approval by both chambers and then approval by Michigan voters in 1968.

"The Michigan Civil Rights Commission has done an outstanding job to moderate racial tensions which exist in our state and individual communities," Traxler said.

"Their policy has always been conciliation and education and I think in this type of function, they have served in a commendable manner," Traxler said.

O'Brien charged the commission "makes you prove you are innocent" rather than presuming innocence until a person is proved guilty.

Arraignment Set for Man in Shooting of 3

A 21-year-old man accused of injuring three persons with a shotgun blast during an alleged dispute at a party last month will be arraigned June 16 in Oakland County Circuit Court on charges of attempted murder and felonious assault.

Held at Oakland County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond set yesterday by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum is Neil Dennis, address unknown.

He is charged with firing a shot which injured two 19-year-old boys and a 17-year-old girl at a party May 15 in a home at 217 Auburn.

All three were treated for their wounds at Pontiac General Hospital and later released.

Pontiac police said they impounded a 30-30 rifle and a 12-gauge shotgun at the scene.

ALREADY AN OSCAR WINNER — Her teeth protrude and her figure rivals Twiggy's, but Sandy Dennis is completing her third starring movie in a row. Hollywood turned her down several times before she was cast in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" for which she won an Academy Award. Then, in rapid succession, she was cast in top roles in three films, including "Sweet November" now nearing completion.

Once Rejected in Hollywood

Sandy Dennis Is Unlikely Star

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — She's a pretty girl, but her teeth protrude a bit and the smile lines parenthesize her rather ample mouth. Her figure rivals Twiggy's.

An unlikely candidate for stardom. Yet Sandy Dennis at 30 is completing her third starring film in a row. Before that she appeared in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" for which she won—in absentia—she's sorry about that—the Academy Award for best supporting actress of 1966.

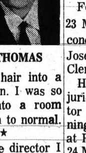
★ ★ ★

She has a reputation as a kook, which she isn't. Oh, maybe she takes in stray cats and opposums at her home in the woods near Weston, Conn. (last count: 20 cats). But her approach to her work is far from eccentric; she is a thorough professional.

Sandy Dennis is the latest of a string of Nebraska-born stars — Robert Taylor, Henry Fonda, Dorothy McGuire, Marlon Brando. She was born in Hastings and reared in Lincoln. The story is that she was inspired to be an actress after seeing Kim Stanley and Joanne Woodward in a teleplay.

BROADWAY SUCCESS

She enjoyed fair success on Broadway, but Hollywood couldn't see her, probably for the reasons mentioned in the lead paragraph above.



THOMAS

"I tried to make it in pictures," she recalls. "I came out here and was told to report for an interview for a Bob Hope picture at MGM. They tried to glamorize me, and the hairdresser teased my hair into a mammoth production. I was so appalled I went into a room and combed it down to normal.

★ ★ ★

"Finally I told the director I didn't think I was right for the picture at all. He was a very nice man, and he said, 'You have lunch in the commissary and then go on home.'

"I felt so sorry after that I decided to be cooperative the next time. I was sent to Warner Brothers to test for 'Ensign Pulver' with a nice fellow, Robert Walker. Josh Logan, the director, took one look at me and said, 'We want you just as you are.'

SCREEN TEST

"But when I reported for the test, he showed up with a foundation garment in one hand and falsies in the other. 'It's not for me, honey," he said; "J. L. wants it this way.'

"So I tried it that way. The garment had ribs that cut into my stomach when I sat down. The falsies were so large that I couldn't see me feet. I played a Wave, and the test was so unbelievably bad that nobody wanted to talk about it."

★ ★ ★

Miss Dennis slunk back to New York and won fine notices with her fey humor in "A Thousand Clowns" with Jason Robards Jr. Then came "Any Wednesday." That was when critic Walter Kerr effused: "Let me tell you about Sandy Dennis. There should be one in every home."

Warner Brothers gave her another test, for "Virginia Woolf." This time the results were more salutary, and she got the role. Inexplicably, the studio gave "Any Wednesday" to Jane Fonda. Miss Dennis has no regrets — "I played the role long enough." She herself has made "Up the Down Staircase," "The Fox" and the current "Sweet November."

ACADEMY AWARDS

Why was she a no-show at the Oscars?

"Because we were shooting in New York and were two or three days behind schedule, because I was in every shot and I don't like to fly. I suppose they would have let me off if I had asked, but I didn't want to ask. Sure, I would have liked to have been there. Awards are fun — especially when you win."

Shelby Man Hurt in Tractor Mishap Is 'Satisfactory'

Ferrel Ciccrarelli of 12800 23 Mile, is listed in satisfactory condition this morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mt. Clemens.

He is recovering from injuries received when his tractor overturned on him last evening as he helped to clear land at Peace Lutheran Church, 6580 24 Mile.

Shelby Township firemen assisted other work crew members to free Ciccrarelli, who was pinned under the rear whell of pinned under the rear wheel of in a ditch.

Garage Burns at Apartment

Flames destroyed the garage and side porch attached to a four-family apartment building on Prynne in Keego Harbor early this morning.

Smoke damage throughout the building and holes in the roof burned by landing debris were included in the damges but no cost estimate had been made today.

The fire reportedly started in the garage in newsprint stored by the Interlake News. There were no injuries.

Scientists have discovered a substance they believe can remove the infectious hepatitis virus from water supplies. The material is resinous and acts as a water filter.

3 Endorsed by WEA Unit

The legislative body of the Waterford Education Association has endorsed school board candidate Donald W. Porter.

Porter, 49, of 3736 Mariner is seeking a four-year term on the board of education in Monday's annual election in the Waterford Township School District.

★ ★ ★

Porter currently serves as school board treasurer.

The WEA's legislative body also has endorsed Michael G. Patterson, 29, of 6329 Grace K and Lewis S. Long, 40, of 5657 Brunswick. Patterson like Porter, is an incumbent.

Thieves Hit Boat in Orion

Items valued at some $80 were stolen from an Orion Township man's boat, it was reported yesterday.

Homer Kelly of 954 Pinetree told Oakland County sheriff's deputies a three-way marine band radio, a fire extinguisher, a gas tank and life preservers were taken.

Investigaters said entry to the boat was made by opening drop curtains near the rear.

Cell-Making Regulator in Genes Eyed

By Science Service

CAMBRIDGE, MASS. — Discovery of a protein that regulates the cell-making processes of genes has brought scientists one step closer to understanding the details of genetic activity in living organisms.

The newly identified regulator protein, known as a repressor, probably represents a new class of molecules, according to Dr. Mark Ptashne of Harvard University, who isolated a repressor in studies with a common bacteria.

For a long time scientists have known genes are biological units that transmit hereditary characteristics by dividing. Skin cells, bone cells, heart cells, etc., come from dividing genes. But a dividing gene also makes an exact replica of itself.

The question was how can replicating genes from a single fertilized egg turn into so many different kinds of cells?

★ ★ ★

For proposing a hypothetical answer to this question, two French scientists won a Nobel Prize in 1961.

NOT ALWAYS ACTIVE

Drs. Francois Jacob and Jacques Monod suggested that all genes are not active at all times, and that different genes act in different cells.

From bacterial studies, they hypothesized that special regulator genes produce molecules that switch off activity in specific target genes.

Up to six months ago, Scientists were conducting numerous experiments to prove or disprove this hypothesis —all without success.

★ ★ ★

Now, however, Dr. Ptashne's research provides conclusive evidence that regulator genes do produce repressors and that repressors act quite simply by turning off single target genes.

ACTS DIRECTLY

The repressor molecule, Dr. Ptashne says, acts directly on the DNA or the deoxyribonucleic acid of its target gene. The repressor attaches itself to specific sites on the DNA, blocking transmission of certain kinds of genetic information to RNA or ribonucleic acid.

Explaining the probable mode of action, Dr. Ptashne says the repressor moleucle recongnizes the site on the DNA that codes information for skin cells, for example, and attaches itself to that site. Then, when RNA comes along to pick up the coded message from the DNA, it finds that repressor molecule in the way.

Omar Sinks Teeth Into Part as He Bites Barbra's Neck

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — Barbra Streisand was rehearsing for the "Funny Girl" movie with Omar Sharif who was biting her neck. He pulled her down on a divan and bit her neck some more.

While he was still biting her neck, she snapped her fingers to choreographer Herb Ross. No more neck-biting just now anyway.

WILSON

Omar Sharif quit biting her neck. Barbra and Herb Ross talked earnestly in low voices about how a girl reacts to having her neck bitten. Then Herb took her in his arms and bit her neck a while. Honest to God.

Thus the launching of a big movie star of tomorrow . . . by a neck. They were rehearsing for recording "You Are Woman," first of Barbra's three major film colossi, in a rather quiet studio at Columbia Pictures.

"El!" Barbra called when the rehearsal finished. Elliot Gould, her gifted, good-looking husband, joined her in her dressing room. She lunched on steak and tomatoes, mentioning one thing in Hollywood has already made her happy . . . the ballet she's undertaking.

"I always wanted to be a classical ballerina," she said. "But my mother thought I was too skinny and my bones would break. The first few times I pointed my toes here, I got a pain in my arch."

Cadillac Requests New Post Office

CADILLAC (AP) — City officials today sought a meeting with government and Post Office Department representatives concerning expansion of a post office in the city.

City Manager Donald Mason said he sent letters to Post Office officials and Sens. Philip Hart and Robert Griffin requesting a meeting to discuss the possibility of abandoning plans to expand the existing post office and build a new one, instead.

Mason said the city would like to convert the existing post office for use by the Cadillac-Wexford Public Library, which he says, has outgrown its present facilities.

2 Days, Week Are Proclaimed

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed July 4 as Bells of Independence Day, June 17 as German Unity Day and the week of June 11-17 as Skin Diving Week in Michigan.

He asked individuals, churches, schools and public and private organizations of all kinds to ring bells for four minutes on July 4 to support a patriotic program by the Hi-Y organization of the state YMCA.

Patrolman Guilty

DETROIT (AP) — Patrolman Herman Stewart, found guilty of leaving the scene of a property damage accident without identifying himself, was ordered suspended without pay for six months Tuesday by a police trial board. The board found Stewart, a 19-year veteran of the department, guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer.

Hare Goes to D. C. for Safety Meeting

LANSING (UPI) — Secretary of State James M. Hare is in Washington for a meeting of the new Highway Safety Advisory Committee formed to help shape state standards under the new federal highway safety laws.

★ ★ ★

Hare said Michigan is "in pretty good shape" in complying with the 13 standards that have been proposed and submitted to the states for ratification and comment.

The 31-member committee will advise Dr. William Holden Jr. administrator of the Highway Safety Agency, on what the final standards would be.

Service Is Today for Bay City Man

BAY CITY (AP) — Services were held in Bay City today for Stewart M. Powrie, 90, a local business and civic leader. A long-time Bay City resident, Powrie had been secretary-treasurer of the C.E. Rosenbury & Sons Furniture Co. and had been associated with the firm for 67 years. He was a member of a number of Michigan civic, business and service organizations.

Powrie died Monday in a Bay City convalescent home.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Boston Mayor John F. Collins has ruled out a third term for himself as the city's chief executive.

He made the surprise announcement that he would not run again yesterday, adding that the rioting in the city's Roxbury section had nothing to do with his decision.

Collins, a Democrat, said he reached his decision several weeks ago. He gave no indication of his plans but said he would not accept a federal appointment.

Flight Seeks Clue to Earhart Puzzle

ANN ARBOR (AP) — An ex-schoolteacher who hopes to solve the mystery of Amelia Earhart's disappearance headed today for California — stopping off point on an around-the-world flight duplicating the missing flier's route.

Mrs. Ann Pellegreno, 30, of Saline, and her three-member crew took off from Willow Run Airport in the midst of a lightning and thunderstorm while a crowd, including relatives, cheered.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Pellegreno, who bears a startling resemblance to Miss Earhart, is piloting a Lockheed Model 10 Electra on the five-week journey of some 28,000 miles. This is the same model craft in which Miss Earhart disappeared over the Pacific 30 years ago.

The flier will have a three-man crew for the global flight from Oakland, Calif., to South America, Africa, India, New Guinea, Howland Island, Honolulu and back to California.

Following the same flight plan as Miss Earhart, Mrs. Pellegreno plans to take off from New Guinea at exactly the time of day July 2 as the missing woman pilot did in 1937.

MIDEAST BY-PASS

A spokesman for Mrs. Pellegreno said that because of the Middle East war, alternate routes are being set up that would bypass the danger area. The original flight plan called for stops in the Sudan and Khartoum, Egypt.

Copilot on the flight will be Air Force Col. William Payne, who became interested in the project when told about it by William Polhemus, an Ann Arbor radio equipment executive.

The two men met in 1961 when they were members of the crew of the Air Force B-58 bomber which set a New York-Paris speed record.

Polhemus will be navigator on the flight, while the mechanic will be Lee Koepke, who purchased the craft in 1961.

Koepke first proposed the project as little more than a joke, but the idea caught fire.

"Our investigations indicate there is reason to believe Miss Earhart did not go down in the Marshall Islands" as concluded by some investigators, Mrs. Pellegreno said.

★ ★ ★

"We are aware of the navigational difficulties faced by Miss Earhart and her navigator and believe we can show that their route of flight could only have been to Howland," she said. "Our hope is to write finis to a chapter of American aviation which has long been a subject of controversy."

16 Texas Salt Miners Out; Were Trapped 9 Hours

GRAND SALINE, Tex. (AP) — Sixteen miners have emerged unharmed after nine hours trapped 700 feet underground with a heavy drill suspended above them.

★ ★ ★

A six-foot-square, 10-foot high drill was being lowered into a Morton Salt Co. mine Tuesday when it tilted and wedged itself across the elevator shaft.

★ ★ ★

During the efforts to right the drill, the cable attached to it snapped.

The miners took cover as the drill crunched through a supporting crossbar and then stopped—dangling 610 feet above the mine floor.

For the next eight hours, the miners left work in the 12-mile maze of tunnels through the great salt domes to cluster in protected areas within yelling distance of mine Supt. Ray Rucker, near the elevator shaft.

Above the trapped miners three repairmen cut holes in the floor of the elevator and lowered it to just above the jammed drill, then labored to secure it to the elevator.

The men below watched as the drill was lowered cautiously down the elevator shaft.

Rucker said the men stayed cheerful.

"They knew the danger involved—that the equipment might fall and tear out the elevator shaft, but after the mechanism was once tied back to the elevator, we all relaxed," he said.

School Board Voting Plan Is Resurrected

LANSING (AP) — A controversial measure to require single - member election districts for Detroit's seven - seat board of education came to life in the House again Tuesday.

The idea, which had died in committee in both houses earlier this session, was tacked onto a minor Senate bill which the House then passed 89-12.

★ ★ ★

Proponents said it would guarantee Negroes and other inner city residents better representation on the board of education and thus better schools and educational opportunities.

The unsalaried board members currently are chosen in citywide elections.

OTHER ACTION

In other action the House sent to the governor for his signature bills which would:

- Increase penalties for illegally killing or possessing game animals and birds.
- Tax and regulate out-of-state insurance firms which do business with Michigan residents by mail.
- Authorize the Conservation Department to lengthen its five-day special quail seasons to 20 days.
- Allow buses and trucks with dangerous cargoes to cross railroad tracks without stopping if the tracks are on freeways or well marked by signals.
- Permit community colleges to issue bonds to finance parking facilities.
- Provide for state — issued identification cards to the legally blind.

HUNTING BILLS

The hunting bill contains mandatory penalties of from $100 to $200 for illegally killing a deer or bear and from $5 to $10 each for smaller game animals and birds.

The omnibus measure also would permit a crippled person to hunt from a standing vehicle and would allow deer hunting with muzzle loading rifles south of the Muskegon - Bay City line.

★ ★ ★

It specifically would forbid fleeing a conservation officer and would tighten the law against shining deer by allowing prosecution of anyone who flashes a light at game and who has a weapon not locked in his trunk or otherwise out of reach from inside the vehicle.

The Detroit school board elections bill died earlier this year in the House Education Committee. The House later added its provision to another bill and sent the measure to the Senate where it failed to get out of committee.

This time, the measure was put on a Senate bill — which goes back to the Senate floor rather than to committee.

Several Negro legislators charged schools in Detroit's predominantly Negro areas are inferior and said one way to change that was to give those areas more representation on the board.

Walled Lake Seniors Start Final Events

By MARK EICHER

Nearly 525 Walled Lake seniors swung into the spirit of June today as the first of the pregraduation events took place.

★ ★ ★

Appearing for the first time in their caps and gowns the seniors were honored at "Swing Out," the annual honors and awards assembly.

In addition to academic awards, recognition was given to scholarship winners, holders of grants-in-aid, the valedictorian and cosalutatorians, and those with outstanding extracurricular records.

Senior class officers, Denis Fitzerald, president; Sandy Stempien, vice president; Lynn Bridges, treasurer; and Vickie Gaylord, secretary, presided for the last time.

★ ★ ★

Following "Swing Out" seniors were dismissed to prepare for tonight's prom at the Detroit Yacht Club.

TO DINE, DANCE

Couples will dine and dance to the accompaniment of Don Barl.

Dinner, roast beef or broiled white fish, will be served from 7 to 8:30 p.m. and dancing will last from 9 to 1.

Walled Lake's baccalaureate will be held Sunday at 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Ellis Hart, minister of the Walled Lake Methodist Church, will be the speaker while the invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. Robert Warren, pastor of the Wixom Baptist Church.

★ ★ ★

The Walled Lake A Capella Choir, directed by Alexander Zerban, will sing various pieces by Bach during the processional and recessional.

Senior choir members will join the rest of the A Capella Choir for the last time as they sing David Foltz's "Prayer of St. Francis Assisi."

Thomas M. Kavanagh, justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, will be the main speaker at Walled Lake's Commencement Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Additional remarks will be made by Vera Krumins, valedictorian; Pat Hill and Richard McArthur, cosalutatorians; and George C. Garver, superintendent of schools.

TO PRESENT CLASS

E. V. Ayers, Walled Lake High School principal, will present the class of '67 while Robert M. Thibideau, president of the Board of Education, and Joseph Malonis and Richard L. Smith, assistant principals, will call the class roll.

★ ★ ★

Music will be provided by the high school orchestra under the direction of Helmut Holland-Moritz.

SWING OUT — Cliff Martilla, junior, and Linda Sabo, senior, take a carefree moment out from the many end-of-school activities at Walled Lake High School to swing. To help them into the spirit, the annual honors and awards assembly, called Swing Out, was held for the 525 seniors this afternoon. Another swinging event, the senior prom, will be tonight.

Waterford High's Seniors Are Holding Prom Tonight

By MARY JERGOVICH

At Waterford Township High School, one of the biggest nights of the year for seniors is probably the night of senior prom.

Tonight this will become a reality at Greenfield's where "Spring Paradise" will be held from 9 to 12.

General chairman of the affair is Jim Smith with Anne Voydanoff in charge of decorations and Babe Navarre in charge of entertainment.

Their cap and gown party was last night.

Baccalaureate will be Sunday at 8 p.m.

Wednesday the last issue of Anchor, the school newspaper, was distributed.

The Girls' Athletic Association will have its first banquet, "Happiness Is Being in GAA," in the school cafeteria tomorrow night.

The 20th annual baccalaureate service will be held Sunday, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Delivering the sermon will be Father Lawrence Kaiser, assistant pastor, Our Lady of the Lakes Church.

Rev. Wallace Lewien, pastor, Crescent Hills Baptist Church, will give the invocation and the benediction. Linda Miller and Stephen Main, members of the graduating class, will also participate in the service.

★ ★ ★

The Senior Brass Chorale will play an instrumental prelude under the direction of David Lindsay. The A Cappella Choir will sing two anthems under the direction of John Moore.

Mrs. John Lusk will serve as organist.

Exams Held at Dominican

By KATHIE DeRYCKE

Exams were held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday at Dominican.

Class officers were elected for the 1967-68 school year.

President of the senior class of '68 is Suzanne Lane, with Mary Maison, vice president; Ruth Daubenspeck, secretary; and Sally Wygowski, treasurer.

The junior class will be headed by Betty Kazen, president; Sharon Yezbick, vice president; Michelle Maison, secretary; and Odee Soraruf, treasurer.

★ ★ ★

Sophomores will be led by Cindy Wygowski, president; Beth Soraruf, vice president; Arlene Stevens, secretary; and Marie Mulligan, treasurer.

BANQUET

The annual Junior-Senior Banquet was held Wednesday night in St. Mary's cafeteria.

The cafeteria was decorated in senior colors, silver, kelly green, and gold.

Members of the graduating class of 1967 are: Kathleen DeRycke, Caroline Fohey, Linda Lee Kaiser, Christine Kazen, Margaret McLaine, Claudia Meyer, Della O'Shea, and Christina Russell.

★ ★ ★

Others are Ursula Smith, Mary Soraruf, Margaret Steinbach, Connie Theunick, Catherine Valentine, Mary Beth Wilkie, and Gail Anne Yezbick.

Junior Gets Honor at Avondale

By HELEN LOWERY

Jim Ionson, an Avondale High junior, has been accepted for precollege training in the rise and decline of Newtonian mechanics and math and physics.

This opportunity is sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Honors were bestowed upon Dennis Darch and Paul Nawrocki when they were named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively.

Seniors took special one-hour tests last week.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Guest speaker for today's commencement exercises is Robert McBride, director of news and community affairs for WJBK-TV2.

McBride has served as White House and State Department correspondent and in news and management capacities in Virginia. He was named Virginia's outstanding news commentator.

He, his wife and their two daughters live in Birmingham.

Next year the pep club hopes to spill more enthusiasm than ever.

To pave this spirited path, they have changed the name to "Pep Raisers."

Officers for the '67-'68 year are Larry Jones, president; Sandy Keller, vice president; Terry Ferguson, secretary; and Mary Holmes, treasurer.

YOUTH PROGRAM

Two Avondale students have been selected to participate in the Youth For Understanding Summer Program.

Both students will leave this month, Kathy for Germany and Don for Finland, to spend the summer with two families in these countries.

★ ★ ★

In a student and community effort to assist these students, a chicken barbecue is being held at the high school Saturday, from 4 to 7 p.m. followed by a Hootenanny at 7:30.

Tickets are available from the student committee or may be purchased at the barbecue.

Pontiac Northern Seniors Finish Details of Prom

By LORNA ANDERSON

The Senior Class of '67 is putting on the final touches for the traditional senior prom, Vaya Con Dios, Saturday night.

The Spanish phrase, title of a once-popular song, means "Go with God."

The decorations committee includes chairman Jamie Manear, Pam Rowe, Janie Campbell, Dave Oswalt, Lois Weyer, Frank Lafferty, Rose Deni, Jerry Collins, Mike Hamm, and Linda Shelton.

Others are Tony DeLaRosa, Brenda Poole, Kathy Lemanski, Sue Pruett, Pat Leonard, Pat Shelley, Jack Brown and Rick Wilcox, all hard at work turning the cafeteria into a Spanish Garden.

The publicity committee is chairman Nancy Sumpter, Mike Hardy, Phyllis Daniels, Frank Yedlin, Marsha Tebeau, Steve Yedlin, Debbie Killen, Barb Wightman and Janet Vandecar.

CHAPERONES

It was the responsibility of Nancy Watkins and Lois Weyer to contact chaperones.

Mauritz Lang and Nancy Pizzala arranged for the refreshments while Nancy Watkins and Bruce Wison lined up entertainment.

The prom will feature the Jerry Ross Band.

Tickets are available for dancing from 8:30 to midnight.

The sophomore class is sponsoring a car wash in the faculty parking lot from 1 to 4 tomorrow afternoon.

Groves Ceremony Thursday

Seniors Look to Graduation

By BENITA ROSEN

Next Thursday means one thing to the Class of '67. On this long-awaited date, seniors will receive their diplomas, symbolizing four years of work. The ceremonies will take place in the Groves High School gym at 8 p.m.

Speaking at the commencement will be Dr. Ray B. Loescher, assistant to the president at Eastern Michigan University.

Introductions will be made by the president of the Birmingham Board of Education, George Coombe Jr.

The Rev. Mr. William Sutterlin of the First Baptist Church will give the invocation and benediction.

★ ★ ★

Dr. John Blackhall Smith, superintendent of schools, will make the diploma presentation.

The Groves band will play the processional and recessional marches.

Senior Steve Myers will play a baritone solo.

Skip Day is a senior event in which skipping becomes legal, and any style of dress from swim suits to cut-offs and sweatshirts is acceptable.

The activity took place last Monday.

Class valedictorian, Dick Marx, and the salutatorian, Sue Wiley, spoke on scholarship.

The talent portion of the show was emceed by Bob Hamilton, Jon Kleist and Spike Burton.

Several variety acts followed and the assembly concluded with Spike Burton and Judy Gladfelter singing the senior song, "The Impossible Dream."

Plans have been announced for the expansion of the school. Several major additions are scheduled for this summer.

★ ★ ★

The construction will include rebuilding the science wing and the offices, expansion of space, and addition of new classrooms.

ROOMS TO BE REDONE

Science rooms will be completely redone so that each student will have his own work area.

A new teachers' lounge will be added away from the office area. The existing lounge will be moved to provide space for new counseling offices.

The library will receive the most extensive changes. While the present library will remain the same, the planned extensions will triple library space.

Large reading rooms, conference areas, new library offices and storage space will make room for more books and research materials.

Eleven new classrooms are expected to be added to the A, or northeast, wing.

Term Exams Next Week at Emmanuel

By MARCIA PERKINS

Emmanuel Christian's semester exams are scheduled in one-hour segments for Monday and Tuesday mornings.

The students will be dismissed after lunch. Wednesday will be taken up with going over the exams and class parties, then the students will be dismissed for the summer.

★ ★ ★

Sunday evening at 7, the baccalaureate service will be held at the Emmanuel Baptist Church, and graduation will be Wednesday at 7:30 at the church.

Top 2 Seniors at St. Mike's

By JEAN LOVISKA

As St. Michael's school year comes to a close, a valedictorian and salutatorian have been selected.

They are Lynn Bauer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bauer, and Dianne Campbell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, respectively.

Although Lynn and Dianne have participated in many extracurricular activities, they have maintained a high academic average.

In the past four years Lynn has been active in the Student Council, Ski Club, C.S.M.C., Youth Forum, Government Seminar and Junior Achievement.

★ ★ ★

She was selected Girl's State representative last year and Pontiac Press correspondent this year.

JOURNALISM AWARD

She has also received an award for journalism from Michigan State University.

She has received a regents-alumni scholarship from the University of Michigan where she plans to major in special education.

Dianne has also had a very full high school career. She has held class offices, including senior treasurer.

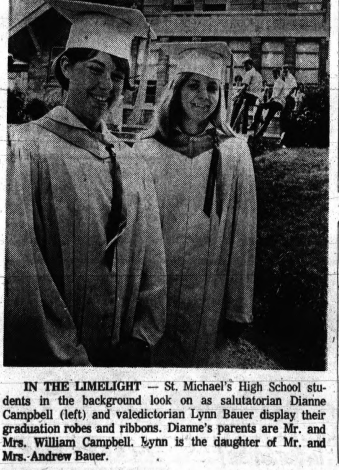
★ ★ ★

Last year Dianne was vice president of the Student Council. She has also been a member of the National Honor Society since her sophomore year.

CAREER IN NURSING

Dianne plans a career in nursing after attending Oakland Community College where she has received a complete scholarship.

The freshman class is presenting the Senior Farewell Dance tonight from 8:30 to 11:30. Seniors are admitted free.



IN THE LIMELIGHT — St. Michael's High School students in the background look on as salutatorian Dianne Campbell (left) and valedictorian Lynn Bauer display their graduation robes and ribbons. Dianne's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell. Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bauer.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Chiti, he plans to attend Michigan State University where he will study math and science.

TOSS 'EM — Covaledictorians Peggy Book and Darryl Holliday of West Bloomfield High School finish cleaning out their lockers and throw out the stacks of books they studied this year. Peg plans to follow a course in science and math at Alma College, Darryl hopes to work in physics at Oakland University.

WBHS Has 2 Valedictorians

By MARGIT MISANGYI

Continuing a tradition of the last two years, Peggy Book and Darryl Holliday are West Bloomfield High School's third straight pair of covaledictorians.

Over seven semesters they have achieved a 4.0 grade average.

Peg plans to follow a course in science and math at Alma College.

Darryl hopes to make physics his career after attending Oakland University.

This year's salutatorian is Chris Schoof. Chris has achieved a grade point average of 3.88.

She plans to major in music and English at Oakland University.

This afternoon West Bloomfield held its annual honors assembly.

Awards were given for grades, attendance and various other achievements.

Scholarships were also awarded to seniors.

In August, West Bloomfield will welcome Stig F. Anderson from Skaelskor Sjaelland, Denmark.

He will spend the school year with Mr. and Mrs. Julian H. Scott of Birmingham.

Stig speaks German, French, Norwegian and English.

Amy Grossman, daughter of the Leonard Grossmans of Orchard Lake will leave June 12 to spend the summer with the Momota family, in Sukuoka on the Island of Khyshu, Japan.

The Momota's have 3 daughters, 16, 14 and 12 years old.

Wants Status Quo in Plymouth

Public Against Moving Rock

NEW YORK (AP)—Move Plymouth Rock? Would you fill the Grand Canyon? Or move the Alamo to Austin?

Certainly not!

That roar from an outraged citizenry resounded today in a completely unscientific sampling of public opinion by the Associated Press.

Nowhere was the feeling stronger than in the rock's home town, Plymouth, Mass.

"I own a beautiful home near there and I'll personally shoot anyone who comes around and tries to move that rock," snapped Mrs. Winifred DiGenova.

The issue was joined after the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce revealed that the historic stepping stones to the New World may now be just a boulder on the doorstep of progress.

It said the National Park Service is preparing a report on establishing a park at the site where tradition says the Pilgrims landed in 1620, and that the report may recommend moving the rock farther from shore to make room for a parking lot.

"I really can't think of anyone who's really in favor of moving the rock seaward," said Miss Dorothy Merrick, director of the Pilgrim Society Museum at Plymouth.

True, Miss Merrick, almost completely true.

'SHOULD MOVE IT'

Sure, a couple of people thought it might be all right. "It is not as though the Pilgrims actually stepped off the ship there," said Mrs. Robert Whitman of Kansas Cit. "For the welfare of the community they should move it."

A handful of others chose to avoid the fray. "Don't get me involved in that," said Judge Harry Kalodner of the U.S. Court of Appeals in Philadelphia. "No comment, no comment."

* * *

And, as usual, there was an alternative proposal.

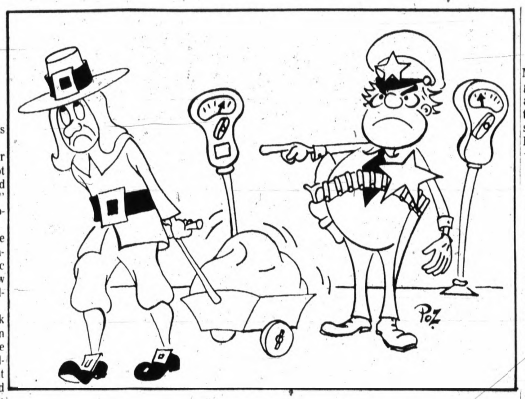
Said William Miller of Denver: "Isn't anything sacred anymore. If they feel that way back there about Plymouth Rock, I'm sure Denver would like to have it for our civic center."

But the overwhelming majority of Americans don't want any tampering with that rock.

"You mean there really is a Plymouth Rock?" asked a Seattle housewife. "If it is real, it shouldn't be moved."

"No!" said Will Wilkins of Dallas. "How can you move history? It's kind of like moving the Alamo to Austin."

A Detroit housewife, Mrs. Martha Mahan, suggested that next "they'll want to fill up the Grand Canyon," and added, a bit beside the point: "If they don't mark the way to the parking lot any better than Massachusetts does to the rock, few people ever will find it."



Aviatrix Is in California

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Michigan housewife Ann Pellegreno landed her 1953 vintage airplane at Oakland International Airport last night behind schedule in following Amelia Earhart's flight 30 years ago.

She planned to take off today for New Orleans.

* * *

A line of storms forced Mrs. Pellegreno, 30, to make unscheduled stops at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Ogden, Utah.

Israel Bond Unit to Fete Pontiac Man

Barney J. Wyman of 111 Oneida will be honored with a testimonial dinner Sunday night at the Congregation B'nai Israel, 143 Oneida.

The dinner, conducted by the Pontiac Committee for State of Israel Bonds, will begin at 6:45 p.m.

Tickets are $4 a person and $7.50 a couple.

Wyman joined B'nai B'rith in 1910 and became a charter member of the Flint Lodge, transferring to the Pontiac Lodge after he moved his family from Flint in 1924.

He is an active member of Temple Beth Jacob and a life member of the Freemasons. He also has served the Elks Club of Pontiac, and the YMCA.

LONG SERVICE

The testimonial committee said that Wyman's life is a record of long, sustained service to his community, religion and family.

Guest star at the program will be Lewis Norman, popular humorist and song stylist.

The State of Israel Bond issue is a central source of investment capital for Israel's economic development.

Proceeds from the sale of Israel Bonds go toward building homes, the growth of industry and agriculture, irrigation, construction and exploitation of natural resources.

Valenti Skirts Question About Sex in Movies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Are movies sexier than ever?

* * *

Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, sidestepped the question at a news conference Thursday:

"I agree that our society is sexier than ever.

* * *

"Movies are a reflection of society. Movies are more honest than ever.

"I don't find movies are any more sensual than the general society."

Teachers' Pay Still Unsettled

Summer Bargaining Necessary in Pontiac

Summer negotiations between Pontiac teachers and the board of education on salaries and fringe benefits will be necessary since the two sides are too far apart, it was announced today.

Joseph Shara, Pontiac Education Association negotiation team chairman, and Tom Everitt, PEA president, jointly announced to the teachers today that negotiations between the teachers and board "have not broken down."

"The PEA's five-year plan with the board of education has built-in guarantees that Pontiac's salaries will be in the top 10 per cent of a group of some 50 schools in the Detroit metropolitan area by the 1969-70 school year," Everitt explained.

He said the achievement and working toward the goal must be based on the trends and settlements of other school districts.

"Other school districts have been slow in settling so that accurate trends have been difficult to come by," he said. "In addition, the State Legislature has not been able to come up with the school aid package."

SETTLED EARLIER

Last year the PEA and board of education settled on a three-year contract before school was out. Salaries were set at a minimum of $5,800 for a bachelor's degree and a maximum of $10,034 for a master's degree.

All salary and fringe benefits are reopened for negotiation each year.

The Pontiac teachers will meet at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Northern High School for an explanation of details.

2 Held on Draft Charges

DETROIT (UPI) — Two former University of Michigan students face possible long jail terms after being charged with interfering with the operations of the Selective Service System.

* * *

James Russo, 20, Dearborn Heights, and Stanley Nadel, 22, Ann Arbor, pleaded innocent at their arraignment yesterday before Federal Judge Ralph E. Freeman. They were released on $5,000 personal bond each.

Russo, indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury on four counts, was arrested and spent the night in jail before appearing in court. Nadel, charged only in one count, surrendered himself voluntarily.

Russo was indicted for taking his file from his local draft board May 8, making false statements and impersonating an FBI agent.

* * *

Nadel was charged with identifying himself as Russo at the time of Russo's preinduction physical.

Conviction could bring Russo a 14-year jail term and Nadel a five-year sentence.

Safecracker-Double Spy Gives Up Villainy

BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — At 51, Eddie Chapman, a self-confessed former safecracker and wartime double agent for Britain and Nazi Germany, says he has given up villainy for good.

Eddie, who combined rascality with personal charm, is 6 feet tall, has long, gray-streaked hair and darting gray-green eyes that seem always to be thinking ahead of his mouth.

★ ★ ★

He always managed to live well in the shadow past, and he's doing nicely now as an antiques dealer and writer. One of the five books he has turned out on his exploits has been made into a film for Warner Bros. called, "Triple Cross."

This is Chapman's capsule summary of his life of derring-do:

As a poor but ambitious country lad of 17 he went to London to make his fortune. At 18 he had two fancy apartments and several fancy mistresses, and was suspected by the police of being the genius behind some 40 successful safe robberies.

Eddie fled to Jersey, one of the Channel islands, and was tossed into the clink after pulling off a local caper there. When the Nazis occupied the island, Eddie told them he'd join the German army if they'd set him free.

★ ★ ★

"Instead, they trained me in espionage and sabotage," Eddie said, "and offered to pay me $85,000 if I'd return to England and blow up an aircraft factory there."

Parachuted into his own country, he immediately contacted high authorities there.

DOUBLE AGENT

"They agreed to scrub my past record as a safecracker if I would go back to the Germans as a double agent," he said. "As a cover, they blew a hole in the roof of the airplane factory, and announced the building had been destroyed. Then I slipped back into occupied France."

The Germans, suspicious at first, finally rewarded him with an Iron Cross, and he ostensibly worked for the rest of the war with them while secretly reported to London by radio, using a code within the German code.

★

"Staying alive is a double agent's biggest problem," said Eddie. "I was in fear all the time. If I had acted like James Bond, I wouldn't have lasted half an hour.

"Spies are usually neurotic. It's an abnormal life. You are living under such tension that you tend to overindulge in liquor and sex, and it is under their influence that you are likely to meet your downfall."

BECAME 'INVESTOR'

After the war Eddie says he did some cigarette smuggling in Tangier, then became an "investor" at English dog tracks.

Eddie gave up investing at the tracks after winning $135,000 in 1946 on a dog which came in first by 48 lengths in the first victory of its career.

★ ★ ★

Officials suspected the dogs had been doped. Eddie, who said he won $1 million that year, was banned from the tracks.

One of his later postwar ventures, an attempt to earn a promised $280,000 fee by rescuing the exiled Sultan of Morocco from Madagascar, came to grief, he said, "because the French Surete got wind of it and sabotaged the yacht I had planned to use."

"Out of villainy I reckon I earned about $1.24 million altogether, but it went fast. The money's good, but it's not a way to get permanently rich."

There are some 11,000 foreign interns and residents in U.S. hospitals.

Viet 'Warrior Priest' Keeps Village Free

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

FATHER NGUYEN HUU DU

CAO XA, Vietnam — Early each morning the parish priest of this village gathers the people for Mass. It is hot in the church and the people perspire and pray in the airless presence of Christ.

Service lasts 30 minutes.

"God be with you."

The priest takes off his clerical robe and studies his flock.

★ ★ ★

"And now," he announces, "we shall have machine gun practice."

WARRIOR PRIEST

It is no jest. Father Nguyen Huu Du, 47, is a warrior priest and the devoted, militant members of his congregation are neo-soldiers.

Blasphemous? Perhaps. But because he is what he is and because they are what they are, this steamy settlement of 4,000 Vietnamese has brazenly withstood Communist intimidation for over 20 years.

The priest, so gossip the people, is a refugee from the north. He fled the Hanoi regime in 1954 and brought with him a fiercely Catholic blindly-patriotic band of ragamuffin followers.

★ ★ ★

They, with the help of heaven and heavy mortars, carved Cao Xa out of scrub country, 10 miles from the Cambodian border and hundreds of miles from effective or enforceable security.

PROUD OF FREEDOM

Thus established, the village has existed. And the priest and his people are proud of their freedom.

Some of them would have it no other way. Teen-age boys, adventurous but too young for national military serviced, are teethed on cartridges here and by the time they reach 15, take a nightly turn with the elders on the guardmounts.

Girls, too. Giggling and chattery, they have been taught to break down a carbine, toss a grenade and zero in with an 81mm mortar.

★ ★ ★

Infants with runny noses play in the dust of a 16-foot statue of Jesus Christ, the base of which is looped for the placement of ancient but usable .30 caliber automatic weapons.

THE ELDERLY

Old women with whimsical wrinkles beat grain into flour outside the perimeter of sandbag bunkers.

Old men with strands of foot-long whiskers watch lazily as youngsters grease and oil a rocket launcher.

The church belfry is a lookout.

Phone cables web the pews.

Barbed wire rings everything.

CONTRASTS

And next to a portrait of Pope Paul is a bandoleer of ammunition.

All of this, of course, is hardly the thing Catholic priests publicly condone. But in this particular instance, the warrior priest believes it is the only alternative to extermination.

"We do not search for fights," he says, "but neither do we run from them. All of us have our own weapons and we know exactly how to use them. And, when provoked, we do use them.

★ ★ ★

"The Viet Cong strategy is to attack the weaknesses of their prey. We here in Cao Xa show them no weakness, either spiritually or militarily. Therefore, we survive."

"Have you ever killed?" the priest is asked.

"No, never."

"Would you ever?"

"Yes."

★ ★ ★

"In what instance?"

"In defense, as a last resort."

"Do you foresee it?"

"With God's blessing, no."

State Marine Killed in Action

DETROIT (AP)—A Michigan Marine was among 33 men killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department has announced Thursday.

★ ★ ★

He was Lance Cpl. Gary W. Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Kline of Lincoln Park, a Detroit suburb.

Home Entered, Woman Raped

A 23-year-old Pontiac mother told city police that a heavyset man broke into her home early yesterday and raped her.

The victim said the man, who she described as 5 feet 10 and white, climbed into her bedroom through a window and forced her to the living room where the rape occurred.

She said he covered her face with a cloth and upon leaving threatened her not to summon police or he would shoot her and her children.

The incident happened in the city's northwest sector.

UNUSUAL RESCUE — Anthony G. Jones, 17, of Crane, Ind., is carried away on a stretcher after he was lowered down the drainpipe of the 150-foot water tower at Otis Air Force Base in Massachusetts. He was brought out through the opening at the base of the drain. Jones, who fell 50 feet in the tank, suffered a broken back and other injuries that precluded his being lifted out.

'Nicest Boy' Accused of Slaying Girl

NEW YORK (AP) — "He was one of the nicest boys she knew — such nice manners — I just don't understand it."

This was playwright Edmund G. Love's wife speaking today of a youth she identified as Richard Henry Geffken of Brooklyn who is accused by London police of slaying Love's 20-year-old daughter, Shannon Gay Love.

★ ★ ★

The girl was found stabbed to death in a London hotel room early Thursday. She had stopped off in London en route to visit her mother in Manila.

Anna Love, the girl's stepmother, said Shannon had been dating the youth for about two months.

GOOD PLACES

"He took her to the ballet. He took her to good places to eat — crepes suzette and all," Mrs. Love said.

Her husband, author of the Broadway hit "Subways Are for Sleeping," left here by plane for London Thursday night.

Pontiac Man Shot in Restaurant Lot

A 25-year-old Pontiac man, who was shot in the leg early today, is reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

The victim, Jerry Manning of 92 Elm, was shot with a small-caliber pistol in the parking lot of the Mary E. Drive-In, 565 S. Saginaw.

No suspects were immediately taken into custody by police.

Rochester Area JCs for Millage

The Rochester Area Jaycees today declared in favor of the half mill sought by Oakland County Schools for area vocational education centers at the election Monday.

In a statement read by Ronald Todd, 2477 Blockton, Avon Township, chairman of the group's study committee, the proposed project is seen as enabling area youth to learn saleable skills.

"This project will give the young people who are unable to go on to college an opportunity to receive specialized occupational training and to find successful employment upon graduation from high school," it reads.

"The Jaycees are very happy to endorse the program which is long overdue, and by which young men and women will establish themselves and find competitive opportunities for employment in our communities."

Noted Former Resident Dies

Was Engineer for Large Auto Firms

Word has been received of the death of former Pontiac resident Olle E. Schjolin, 71, of Gaylord Sunday. Private service was held from the Walker-Bates Funeral Home, Gaylord.

Born and educated in Sweden, he came to the United States in 1921 to work for White Motor Car Co. of Cleveland, Ohio. The following year he joined Yellow Coach and moved to Pontiac to serve as an experimental engineer.

The factory later became GMC Truck & Coach Division.

In 1930 Schjolin moved to the General Motors Research Laboratory in Detroit, assuming the office of new development engineer, a position he held until 1938.

★ ★ ★

In 1939 he joined the A-B Volvo of Sweden as chief engineer.

WARTIME DUTY

In 1942 Schjolin resigned from A-B Volvo to join the War Department.

He was awarded a certificate of commendation from the Ordnance Department of the United States Army in 1946.

In 1947 Schjolin joined Consolidated Vultee Aircraft of San Diego, Calif., for the purpose of designing the basic automobile for "the flying, automobile." He retired in 1948 returning to Michigan to live in Waters.

★ ★ ★

In 1950 Schjolin was appointed chief engineer of Ford Motor Co. in Dagenham, England. He returned to Ford Motor Co., Dearborn, after a serious foot injury.

RETIREMENT

From 1954 to 1958 when he reitred Schjolin functioned as special engineering assistant to the executive engineer and to the director of Ford Motor Co. engineering staff.

Surviving are his wife, Marion; two sons, Lloyd A. of Milford and Robert S. of Los Angeles, Calif.; a brother, Hans of Birmingham; five grandchildren; and two sisters.

Area Session to Feature Top State Dems

A workshop designed to give training to Democratic precinct delegates and party leaders will be held tomorrow at the Oakland County Supervisors' Auditorium, 1200 N. Telegraph, beginning at 9 a.m.

The program will include talks by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, Congressman James O'Hara, Secretary of State James M. Hare and State Chairman Zolton Ferency.

The session is sponsored by the Democratic State Central Committee, Oakland County Democratic Committee and the 18th and 19th Democratic Congressional District Committees.

The program is open to all county Democrats, according to County Chairman George Goosgasian.

Agency to Print in 4 Languages

By Science Service

GENEVA — Doctors attending World Health Assemblies in the future will have to deal with more languages.

The United Nations' professional agency, as other U. N. bodies, officially recognizes English, Russian and Spanish. But in practice, all the tons of working documents at every conference are printed only in English and French.

At the 20th annual assembly in Geneva, after several years of protest, the Russian-speaing protest, the Russian-speaking gates won their case.

The 128-nation organization voted a resolution to "extend the use" of the two languages. It will cost $600,000 and will be accomplished "in progressive steps over a three-year period."

Funeral Rite Set for State Women

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Service for Mrs. William Simpson, 82, will be held in Grand Rapids Saturday. She died Wednesday.

Mrs. Simpson was the widow of the Rev. William Simpson, a Methodist minister who served churches in Grand Rapids, Portland, White Hall, Hart, Battle Creek and Constantine.

Smoke Bomb Prank Hurts Four on Bus

Four children were slightly injured yesterday afternoon when two brothers threw three smoke bombs on a school bus in Avon Township.

Sheriff's deputies said the bus had stopped on Emmons near Auburn to let off some children when the juveniles, aged 11 and 12, threw the smoke bombs into the vehicle.

The injured children received facial and hand burns and were treated at the scene. None required hospitalization.

The smoke bombs also slightly damaged the bus, according to sheriff's deputies.

Driver of the bus, which was transporting pupils home from Brooklands School in the Rochester School District, was Archie Patterson of 225 Helen, Rochester.

Farmers in this country now spend more than $4 million annually for machinery and equipment, according to officials of the Federal Land Bank System.

PARTRIDGE
"IS THE BIRD TO SEE"

A & W SUCCESS STORY
So easy to operate and so provitable! Near theatre, school, center of town on main Hwy. with paved parking and hundreds of walk-up customers. I've watched it — it's truly fantastic. Why don't you look? At $25,000 on terms with an easy lease you can make a big year's salary in the summer, 15 wks. Try it! No. 14-3625—R.

E. JEFFERSON HOT SPOT
Some things have to be seen to be believed. We think that about this 58-seat sandwich and 2 or 3 daily specials cafe. Apt. incl. in lease. Gross over $5,000 per mo. with low overhead. Buy it with only $4,000 dn. at $13,500. You'll score a hit if you're not too late — it's up for grabs. No. 14-4453—R.

AT THE FACTORY MAIN GATE
Thousands of customers must pass by or stop in daily. Acres of parking all 'round. Quick cafeteria sandwich luncheon. You bet it's a bonanza! Owner has "made it" in just 5 yrs. and now retiring. $85,000 with $40,000 dn. and you'll think the price is too low. No. 14-4484—B.

Jayne Seen Ready for Shift in Matrimony and Religion

By EARL WILSON

Jayne Mansfield returned to Hollywood from New York, still considering converting to Judaism as part of her plan to marry Los Angeles' Atty. Sam Brody who's getting her a divorce from Matt Cimber. "I've had some serious talks about it with Rabbi Nussbaum, who converted Elizabeth Taylor and Sammy Davis," said Jayne, who had first mentioned the possibility here the other night having dinner at the Four Seasons.

WILSON

Jayne, incidentally, quite startled, on flying from Europe to discover that she was in first class and Senator Bobby Kennedy was traveling tourist.

Sybil Burton and Jordan Christopher are buying a home in Nyack . . . The talk along Bagel Beach (in front of the Stage Delicatessen) is all about Hollywood-on-the-Hudson and casting agent Bernie Styles' hiring of a couple of thousand "background actors" for all the movies being filmed here. "Having movies made here is great for the delicatessen business," says Bernie. "Because we only have time to eat sandwiches."

Panel on Crime Looks to Efforts of Community

Rising crime rates will only be reduced by the development of community interest, some 1,000 school, police and government officials from 12 Southeastern Michigan counties were told yesterday.

★ ★ ★

That was the recurring theme of 11 speakers at the all-day regional conference on crime and delinquency at Oakland University.

Speaking in the absence of Gov. Romney, Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken said:

"More and better policemen are part of the answer (to control crime and delinquency), but they are not the whole answer.

★ ★ ★

"Crime laboratories, computer systems, court reorganization and a revision of the criminal code are part of the answer, but they are not the whole answer.

'COMBINED EFFORTS'

"The whole answer must come from the combined efforts of the police, the bars, courts, correction agencies, schools, churches, voluntary social agencies and the citizenry. Nothing less than this total effort will be enough . . ."

It is estimated that by 1970 one out of every six youngsters will have a juvenile court record unless community action is taken now.

Goalby Leading Buick Tournament

GRAND BLANK — Veteran Bob Goalby, a hot-and-cold player, headed into the second round of the Buick Open today at Warwick Hills with a one-stroke lead over the field of 144.

★ ★ ★

The 36-year-old Goalby, whose career reached a high point last year when he won nearly $50,000, carved out a three-under-par 69 over the 7,126-yard Warwick layout yesterday as he started his bid for the $20,000 first prize in the $100,000 10th Buick tournament.

Trailing Goalby with 70s were Frank Beard, a two-time winner on the tour this year, and Hugh Royer, former University of Georgia golf team captain.

Defending champion Phil Rodgers was six strokes off the pace at 75. Former titlist Julius Boros carded an opening 72.

★ ★ ★

Several Michigan players were in the running. Oakland Hills' Mike Souchak was in at 73, along with amateur Jim St. Germain of Northville. State Open and PGA champ Gene Bone of Pontiac carded a 77.

Court May Act Fast on State Time Issue

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court had time on its hands today — and there could be a fast decision, at least by the court, on the Eastern Standard vs. Daylight Saving Time issue.

If the court throws the matter back in the lap of the Board of State Canvassers, the canvassers will not be here to act upon the matter.

The canvassers met today to certify results of the special election of the 75th House District.

"Then they planned to scatter to the winds," said State elections Director Robert Montgomery. "I had trouble getting three of four up here today to certify the election, and I don't think I will be able to get them together again next week."

Montgomery said one attorney member had an important law case to work on and another member wanted to start a vacation.

HEAR ARGUMENTS

Seven of the eight Supreme Court's arguments on the time dispute affecting every citizen in the state.

Harry F. Kelly was serving as acting chief justice in the absence of Chief Justice John R. Dethmers.

Earlier this year, the Legislature passed and Gov. George Romney signed a bill exempting Michigan from the federal provisions for Eastern Daylight Time, leaving the state on Eastern Standard Time.

Weekend May Bring Sunshine, Showers

Sunshine and showers is the weekend outlook for Pontiac.

The weatherman predicts partly cloudy and continued warm today and tonight with a low of 63 to 69. Variable cloudiness and warm with a chance of showers or thundershowers and the high in the 80s is tomorrow's forecast.

Mostly fair, warm and humid is Sunday's prediction.

The low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 68. The 1 p.m. recording was 80.

School Vote Preview

The Pontiac Press today offers a special preview of Monday's school board elections.

Statements from Pontiac and Waterford Township candidates and details of the countrywide vocational education the countywide vocational education proposition are on pages B-6 and B-7. A list of candidates and issues in other area school districts is on page A-4.

JUDGE PHILIP PRATT

High Court Kills Pratt Grand Jury

Oakland County's nine circuit judges and State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley will meet next week in an attempt to salvage the grand jury investigation conducted during the last 10 months by Judge Philip Pratt.

The Michigan State Supreme Court yesterday refused to hear an appeal of a lower court ruling that Pratt has been serving illegally as a grand juror.

The high court's 6-2 decision apparently means that there is no chance Pratt can resume his investigation, according to Leon Cohan, deputy attorney general.

Egypt Reports Guns Silent on Suez Front

By The Associated Press

Israel invaded Syria today, charging violation of a cease-fire, but Egypt announced all the guns had fallen silent on the main front along the Suez Canal.

Israeli troops struck into Syria to a high plateau overlooking the Sea of Galilee after reporting the Syrians opened fire with artillery and mortars from high ridges.

Syria, which late yesterday announced it had accepted a cease-fire along with Egypt, claimed the Israelis had attacked without provocation and had been thrown back.

Heavy artillery fire shook the front from the Sea of Galilee southward to the Jordan River Valley. Tel Aviv gave little detail of the fighting.

★ ★ ★

After charging that Israeli troops launched attacks on Egyptian positions west of the Suez Canal, Cairo radio some time later announced: "All operations have stopped. The front is quiet now."

Related Stories, Pages A-9, B-8, C-6

CONFLICTING CHARGES

With their forces triumphantly established on the east bank of the Suez Canal, the Israeli army said it had also repulsed an Egyptian attack east of the canal in the Sinai Desert. But Egypt charged the Israelis were attacking its troops along the canal.

The Egyptian High Command said Israeli forces were launching new attacks on Egyptian troops that had withdrawn to positions west of the canal. Apparently referring to air attacks, the communique said:

"Raids are still going on while our forces are undertaking the sacred duty of defending the motherland."

★ ★ ★

The French shipping firm Messageries Maritimes said one of its freighters halted in the Great Bitter Lake midway through the canal reported "military activity" was still going on near the canal.

DAMASCUS COMMUNIQUE

A communique read over Damascus Radio charged that Israeli forces were shelling Syrian front-line positions and attacking them from the air.

Israel, Syria Appeal to U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Security Council moved up a meeting from midafternoon to morning today amid charges of violation of its cease-fire by Israel and Syria.

The council was summoned for 10 a.m.

Syria appealed to the United Nations for an immediate Security Council meeting to stop "large-scale Israeli aggression."

Israel chared Syria violated the cease-fire it accepted yesterday by opening up with mortars and artillery on Israeli positions in the Sea of Galilee area.

From Cairo came word that the Suez Canal front — the main one in the four day Middle East war — was silent after the Israelis had attacked positions west of the canal.

Egypt accepted the cease-fire yesterday and Syria followed a few hours later.

The United States sought to have the council give guarantees for Israel, while the Soviet Union insisted Israel give up hundreds of square miles of Arab territory it overran.

As the 15-nation council gathered, there were mounting indications that Israel has no intention of being pressed into relinquishing all its military gains, particularly strategic ones.

Firm Is Pulling Ads off TV in Protest

NEW YORK — The Admiral Corp., which makes television sets among other things, will take its advertising off network television as a protest against the level of programming and the "clutter."

Ross D. Siragusa, founder and chairman of the corporation said the advertising taken temporarily from television would go to newspapers.

"We have been so disappointed in the lackluster quality of shows and the preponderance of network commercials and local spots that we are currently reallocating our national advertising funds," he said.

"We are withdrawing temporarily from network television and will invest a proportionately larger amount of our budget advertising this fall in newspapers," he said.

Putting the money saved into newspapers, Siragusa said, "will help to build store traffic and also will move more merchandise."

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS — Harry Reed, managing editor of The Pontiac Press, helps Patricia Palmear and Kim Serota fill out their seminar applications. The teen page writers were granted scholarships to university journalism workshops at last night's second annual Correspondents' Award Dinner at Oakland University. Patricia of 1175 Bamford, Waterford Township, will attend Michigan State University; Kim of 5277 Maple, Birmingham, the University of Michigan. Both are members of the 40-student team responsible for the newspaper's school pages which appear Tuesday and Friday.

40 School Correspondents Honored at Awards Dinner

Forty high school correspondents were honored last night by The Pontiac Press at the second annual Correspondents' Awards dinner at Oakland University.

The two top awards, scholarships to a two-week, all-expense-paid journalism seminar were presented by Harry Reed, managing editor, to Patricia Polmear and Kim Serota.

Patricia is correspondent for Marian High School and Kim, Wylie Groves High School.

Six correspondents were acclaimed for not missing a column or deadline during the entire year.

Senate OKs Bill Forcing Redistricting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surprisingly overriding committee recommendations, the Senate has approved a strict congressional redistricting bill that would force reapportionment in 33 states by next year.

The Senate action slashed by two-thirds—from 30 per cent to 10 per cent—the variation in district population allowable within each state under the bill as it passed the House.

The measure now goes to a Senate-House conference committee amid predictions a compromise between the 30 per cent and 10 per cent figures will be reached.

The Senate first voted 44 to 39 Thursday for an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., that inserted the 10 per cent limit. It then passed the bill 57 to 25.

The two votes represented a personal triumph for Kennedy, who had lost 11 to 4 when he offered the same proposal in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Kennedy and other backers had claimed variations of more than 10 per cent would clash with the Supreme Court's historic one man-one vote reapportionment rulings.

★ ★ ★

The House previously had approved legislation providing for a 30 per cent variation next year and a 10 per cent spread starting in 1972, and the Senate Judiciary Committee had increased the variation for the next four years to 35 per cent.

The Senate bill says districts must be as compact as practicable, while the House measure says they shall be as compact as the states find practicable. Opponents charged the House language opened the way to distorted districts with the possibility federal courts might have no jurisdiction to review them.

Under the 30 per cent provision, eight states would be required to reapportion House districts for the 1968 election.

By cutting this to 10 per cent, the Senate bill would require reapportionment in 23 additional states.

By banning at-large elections in states with more than one representative, it also would force districts to be drawn in New Mexico and Hawaii, which each elect their two members at large.

House Delays Action on Tax

LANSING (AP) — Delaying tax action at least until next week, the House turned Thursday to less controversial items on its calendar.

Today was to have been the deadline for passing bills other than taxing and spending measures, but the Senate reportedly was ready to agree to extend the cutoff date into the middle of next week.

★ ★ ★

Passed by the House Thursday were bills to regulate boating, speed up the State Municipal Finance Commission, permit studded tires in wintertime, and raise from $500 to $1,500 a parent's legal liability for damage caused by his child.

'3 OR 4 VOTES SHORT'

Describing themselves as only three or four votes short of passing their income tax package, House Republican leaders asked some GOP holdouts to spend the weekend talking with constituents who might be hurt by failure to pass fiscal reform.

Still regarded as uncommitted and able to tip the tax scales either way are five Republicans who voted against a state income levy earlier this session. Their support is urgently being sought this time.

★ ★ ★

The five are Reps. Gustave Groat of Battle Creek, Donald Holbrook of Clare, Robert Stites of Manitou Beach, Edson Root of Bangor and Lionel Stacey of Benton Harbor.

Five Candidates Seeking 2 School Board Seats

BIRMINGHAM — Voters face a choice of five candidates for two seats on the school board in Monday's election here.

Both incumbents are seeking reelection for four-year terms.

The three challengers are: Dr. Oscar K. Search of 4962 Whispering Pines; Mrs. Blanche W. Bell of 1665 Quarton; and George T. Mann of 15940 Villa.

Incumbents are Mrs. Kathleen B. Hilfinger of 15969 Dunblaine and Dr. Charles A. Leach of 900 Wimbledon.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Voters here, along with other electors in the county will decide Monday on a half-mill tax question for a countywide system of vocational education center, but there is no opposition for board positions.

Two school district office-holders are running unopposed for four-year terms. They are Richard H. McGraw of 1438 Sodon Lake and Dr. Charles L. Bowers of 3355 Franklin.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Benson J. Wood of 1940 Cedar Hill has been elected a director of the National Society of Professional Engineers.

He is vice president of Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Stirton, Inc., of Detroit.

Wood recently completed a term as president of the Michigan branch of the group.

Dogs Aid Search for Teen's Killer

COCOA, Fla. (UPI) — Bloodhounds have been pressed into a search on Merritt Island south of Cape Kennedy for a man who fatally clubbed a teen-ager and robbed him of $1 while the victim's girlfriend watched in terror.

The 16-year-old girl said a man clubbed her boyfriend, William Frederick Hall, 17, of Cocoa, after the man approached their car on a deserted road.

Crime Panel Looks to Community Efforts

Four Michigan community action programs were explained and delegates were asked to help set up similar programs in their own communities.

The programs, termed "the finest in the United States" by Judge Eugene A. Moore of Oakland County Probate Court and conference chairman, are:

- Oakland County Protective Services to keep predelinquent and preneglected youngsters out of trouble and out of court.
- Flint Community School Program to develop total community action in conjunction with schools to build moral character and keep youngsters out of trouble.
- Mott Vocational Guidance Program to help adult parolees stay out of trouble and not become repeaters.
- Royal Oak Voluntary Probation Program which unites the entire community to provide volunteer community service to misdemeanor probationers.

SPECIAL PRAISE

Milliken had particular praise for the Mott Foundation and Camp Oakland. He remarked:

"Among the most successful programs I know are those carried on by the Mott Foundation — particularly through its community school concept, its counseling for probationers and its efforts to improve race relations.

"Camp Oakland, born out of the dedication of Judge Arthur E. Moore (of Oakland County Circuit Court) . . . is attracting nationwide attention as a living model of what can be accomplished for youthful wards of the Probate Court to help make sure they become useful citizens."

Another speaker was John S. Bugas, vice president of Ford Motor Co., who delivered an address prepared by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. Hoover lashed out at the Communist party in the United States.

'AWARENESS NEEDED'

William M. Ellmann, president of the State Bar of Michigan, told the delegates that "each of us and all of our agencies must acquire an awareness of the problem."

Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore, founder of Oakland County Protective Services, said that of 18,000 predelinquent and preneglected youngsters who have been served by 26 county protective service committees in the past nine years 85 per cent "never have any further neglect or delinquency problem necessitating juvenile court intervention.

Other messages were given by C. S. Harding Mott, president of the Mott Foundation, and William Gossett, president-elect of the American Bar Association.

The conference was sponsored by Oakland University's Mott Center for Community Affairs and the State Bar of Michigan and its Crime Prevention Center Committee.

Court Upholds Probe Ruling

the executive engineer and to ford and Robert S. of Los May 23 that Pratt's appointment as grand juror last August by fellow members of the bench was illegal because he had investigated the same alleged crimes, wrongdoings by public officials, for more than one year.

State law limits a grand juror's term to one year.

Pratt's initial investigation into criminal activities began in June 1965, and centered on Royal Oak Township.

Two months after the yearlong probe ended, Pratt again was named to head an investigation requested by Kelley into alleged criminal activities surrounding the Hazel Park Race Track.

A month later the investigation was expanded to take in all crimes in the county.

In ruling, the appellate court said that Pratt could not sit on two consecutive grand juries.

Romney Hurt by Coalition

Senate Blow to Local, Urban Affairs Plan

LANSING (AP) — A Senate Republican - Democrat coalition dealt a major blow to Gov. George Romney's local and urban affairs program Thursday night.

Then Senate voted 15-12 to return to the Municipalities Committee three House bills providing for establishment of voluntary regional associations of local governments.

However, the bills' backers vowed to attempt reconsideration of the action today and return the measures to the floor.

In other capital developments, the House passed bills to aid Mackinac Bridge refinancing and allow studded tires and approved a resolution authorizing $68 million in self-liquidating projects at several colleges.

Described by one senator as "the most important legislation to come before this body outside of fiscal reform," so-called "council of government" bills were aimed primarily at populous southeastern Lower Michigan.

Among other things, they would allow local governments to contract with other local units for such services as water and sewage disposal.

With the deadline for passage of bills originating in the other chamber set for midnight tonight, the opposition, led by 16th District Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, argued the measures had not received enough study.

Seven other Republicans and seven Democrats joined Huber in voting to refer the bills to the committee, of which Huber is chairman.

They were opposed by six Republicans and six Democrats, including majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and minority leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit.

The bills were described by Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, as permitting establishment of a "loose association of independent units of government."

Street Flooding in City Tied to Storm Sewer Ills

The problem of flooded strets, which was common Wednesday after heavy rainfall, wasn't new or unique. And it will spring up again when intensive rain hits the city.

The reason, according to Joseph E. Neipling, director of public works and services, is that "in general, the city has an inadequate storm sewer system."

A number of steps have been taken in the past few years to provide more and better drains; a number more are now being taken and more will be done in the future, he said.

But, Neipling said, to eliminate flooding and overflow for all local streets the city would have to spend "millions."

★ ★ ★

Pontiac officials have been endeavoring to solve the problem of water and its accumulation for some time, he said. The first and biggest stage is to provide an adequate outlet from the city.

ONE OUTLET

The city's only outlet for stomr and rain water is the Clinton River which utilizes its tributary, Pontiac Creek.

"Since 1962 continuing to date the city has or is spending $5 million from downtown to the east boundrary so that -outlet," Neipling said.

The river, which used to loop through the downtown area was given a new channel in 1964 so that it now travels below the heart of downtown Pontiac, a necessary step in making the whole downtown area ready for urban renewal development.

★ ★ ★

When the river was channeled into underground conduits it was also lowered and made more capable of carrying excess storm and rain water.

With Pontiac attempting to correct many of its problems with too little money, Neipling said, it's difficult to think that the city is ready to spend the amounts necessary to provide really adequate storm drainage for the entire city.

★ ★ ★

Three major projects which would go toward alleviating problems, he said, are providing a relief sewer for the Pontiac Motor Division area, cost about $1.6 million; improving the Pontiac Creek and providing a storm interceptor for the north side of E.awt Lake Street.

These three projects alone would cost over $6 million, he estimated.

Two Men Enter Guilty Pleas

Guilty pleas were entered yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court by two men involved in a controversial case stemming from a burglary of a Huntington Woods home nearly two years ago.

The pair, Harvey (Raffles of Hollywood) Allen of Oak Park and Charles Fields of Detroit, pleaded guilty to larceny in a building, an offense punishable by up to four years in prison.

Judge James S. Thorburn accepted their pleas just before they were to go on trial on a more serious charge of breaking and entering the home of Max Steinway on July 10, 1965.

Had they been convicted of breaking and entering, Allen, 40, and Fields, 41, could have been sentenced to a maximum 15 years in prison.

★ ★ ★

They were released pending their sentence by Thorburn July 27. Bond was continued at $5,000 for Allen and $1,000 for Fields.

Last September Thorburn declared a mistrial during their jury trial when it was brought to his attention by their attorney, Carlton Roeser of Pontiac, that the information defining the charges was improperly prepared.

★ ★ ★

The mistrial set off a fued between Thorburn and Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson who had been publicly criticized that he had delayed getting the case to trail.

Bronson unsuccessfully attempted to have Thorburn disqualified from hearing the case, going all the way to the Michigan Supreme Court with arguments that the judge was prejudiced against his office in this one matter.

State Gives OU Building Funds Okay

The State Legislature yesterday approved the spending of $5.72 million by Oakland University for a residence hall and student center expansion.

In all, $68 million was authorized for self-liquidating projects at seven universities.

A $3.72 million nine-story dormitory is being constructed at OU and is expected to be ready by January 1968.

A $2-million addition to the Oakland Center is expected to be started next winter and finished by December 1968.

This will be the first of two stages of expansion for the center.

The first stage includes the addition of 40,000 square feet for a recreation area, student offices and conference rooms and a new grill.

'Battle of Apostrophe' On in Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "The battle of the apostrophe" has been joined, and it looks as though movie writers and directors will be firing along the lines all summer.

THOMAS

Caught in the crossfire is the Motion Picture Association, which represents the major film producers of Hollywood.

★ ★ ★

Why should the powerful Writers and Directors Guilds suddenly find themselves at odds?

The reason goes deep into the creative psyche, concerning ego and professional pride.

The basic issue concerns a longtime practice in movie billing. Almost from the movies' beginnings, certain creative and-or powerful producers and directors were able to affect possessive billing over film titles. For example, theaters in 1955 advertised:

D. W. Griffith's
"Birth of a Nation"

Of, in 1956 the nation's screens proclaimed:

Cecil B. DeMille's
"The Ten Commandments"

The practice continues to recent times, with films billed as Otto Preminger's, John Frankenheimer's or William Castle's.

Writers of screen plays have long rankled under this billing. They argue that a movie cannot properly be termed a producer's or a director's unless he has contributed a sizable share of the writing.

★ ★ ★

One writer carried the analogy to the extreme: "Would it have been called Richard Burbage's 'Hamlet' because the actor happened to stage Shakespeare's play?"

Two years ago, the Writers Guild of America tried and failed to achieve a contract clause with the producers prohibiting the possessive over a title, except by those who helped write the screen play.

CLAUSE WON

But last December the writers won such a clause in negotiations with the Association of Motion Picture and Television Producers. The new contract prohibited billing to nonwriters such as:

John Ford's "Stage Coach"

John Ford's film "Stage Coach"

A film by John Ford — "Stage Coach"

A film of John Ford — "Stage Coach"

"Such billing denotes authorship," argues a spokesman for the writers, "and it should go only to someone who participated in the writing. In the cases of Richard Brooks, George Seaton, John Huston and other directors who write or co-write their scripts, the possessive could be used."

ANGRY REACTION

Upon hearing of the contract clause, the Directors Guild of America blew its collective top. The Guild's house organ, "Action!" which editorialized under the title "The Great Giveaway": "Directors have possessed possessory credit since the dawn of cinema. There was and still is D. W. Griffith's 'Birth of a Nation' and D. W. Griffith's 'Intolerance.'

"An established director like Alfred Hitchcock . . . can no longer exploit his well-earned reputation by having his name alongside the title of his future pictures. Neither could Samuel Goldwyn if he should produce again. Or Darryl Zanuck."

★ ★ ★

The directors applied for a temporary injunction against the writers and producers, charging restraint of trade. It was denied May 18 by Judge Ralph H. Nutteer of California's Supreme Court. He ruled that an injunction would endanger the writers' pension-welfare plan. He did not rule on the merits of the directors' case.

The new contract was signed on the afternoon of the decision.

Directors remain militant. Says a spokesman: "Our dispute is not with the writers and we do not mean to denigrate them. We believe the producers did wrong in negotiating away our rights while making an agreement with another guild. . .

MOVE TOWARD CONFLICT

"Credits have never been the subject of collective bargaining before this time. We believe this may be a move to create conflict between the directors and writers. What the producers may be seeing is a company designation, such as Columbia's 'A Man for All Seasons,' not Fred Zinnemann's."

Despite claims that intercine warfare is to be avoided, the writers and directors have lobbed a few shells at each other. A spokesman for the writers enjoyed pointing out that D. W. Griffith not only directed "Birth of a Nation" but wrote it as well, and thus deserved the possessive.

A week ago, the directors guild held an angry meeting and members voted unanimously to pursue the billing issue "in the courts and by all other means." Vice President Delbert Mann called the matter "an erosion of our rights" and declared it "the most important issue in the 31-year history of our guild."

Guild members expressed their pique by voting to negotiate working contracts with individual producers and bargain no more with the Producers Association.

The Writers Guild counters that at least 15 kinds of billing are still left to directors and producers, such as:

Alfred Hitchcock's production of.

A production by Alfred Hitchcock.

But the directors are not satisfied, and the dispute is likely to grow more intense. All over where to put an apostrophe.

Dentists May Soon Conduct Diabetes Check

By Science Service

SAN FRANCISCO — Dentists may routinely check their patients—not just for cavities or gum disease — for diabetes, if the plan of a San Francisco doctor is followed.

In a test study of 100 persons Dr. Herman Kaplan put a drop of blood from the patient on a cellulose measuring strip. After 60 seconds he washed the blood away and measured the blood glucose count by the color changes on the strip.

Of 100 experimental patients, 10 had positive responses and seven had confirmed diabetes.

Dr. Kaplan reported his test method in the Journal of the American Dental Association. He says diabetic screening should be done regularly as part of research into the relation of diabetes and oral disease.

LOS ANGELES — The little boy was 4 years old but couldn't talk. He made only gutteral unintelligible sounds.

One day, his shoe came off and the teacher noticed that his socks had no soles; they were so rotten that the soles had worn away. She ran out and bought him a new pair of socks.

From that day, he started talking.

The little boy is one of 229 children, from 3 to 5, who are part of a unique program in Los Angeles County.

★ ★ ★

The administrators of the program, the Mental Retardation Services Board of the county, believe this is the first time in the United States that preschool children with potential mental problems are being cared for.

IS CLASSES

The program began last March, with 30 children, in the Kennedy Child Study Center in Santa Monica. Now there are 15 classes in six schools, with more to be added next fall.

The children are all from disadvantaged homes — homes where the annual income is under $4,000 a year.

They were generally thought Head Start dropouts, boys and girls who couldn't make it in the federal program for needy children.

★ ★ ★

Most of them had no speech of any kind when they began the program.

HID IN CORNERS

They were generally though to be retarded — some went into uncontrollable rages, others hid in corners, few could do anything for themselves.

"In the normal course of events," says Mrs. Arlette B. Harwood, the program associate in charge of the work, "they would have entered regular schools at 5 or 6 and almost immediately transferred to special schools and ultimately been institutionalized."

But, in these special nursery schools, they are thriving.

★ ★ ★

The authorities believe that catching such cases at an early age is beneficial. Many of the children prove not to be retarded at all.

PHYSICAL AILMENTS

With some, the assumed retardation is the result of physical ailments that have not been diagnosed.

One little girl was so dull it was believed her IQ was extremely subnormal. A physical examination revealed a heart condition. She was operated on, the abnormality repaired and today she faces a normal future. The dullness was a direct result of the physical ailment.

With others — such as the little boy with no soles in his socks — the retardation is traceable to social problems.

The case histories reveal a frightening study of man's inhumanity to child. Love and kindness have brought many of these children out onto the road to normalcy.

Still others, of course, are legitimately retarded. But, even with these, the earlier they begin work in special classes, the better.

And certainly with the ones who are not retarded at all, early diagnosis is essential.

Mrs. Harwood believes that, were it not for this program, the little girl with the heart condition would have died and the little boy with the rotten socks would have been beyond help in a few years and would have been doomed to a life in institutions.

The board believes so strongly in early supervision of the retarded that it is planning to begin a program soon with what it calls "high-risk mothers" — mothers of infants of 3 or 4 months where there is a potential danger of retardation, where the prenatal care has been bad or where there are retarded siblings.

The money for the nursery school program was found under the provision of a state law setting up a compensatory education program for needy children.

All but $300,000 of the $3 million allocated to Los Angeles County under that bill had been committed. The board applied for that spare $300,000 and got it, and the program was under way.

Home Pollution Is Cited

By Science Service

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. — Home heating plants and back yard incinerators must share heavily in the blame for our present-day air pollution, an industry executive has said here.

Only 10 per cent of the dust-fall in a city like Chicago can be traced to industrial plants, said Edward C. Logelin, vice president of United States Steel Corp., at a meeting of real estate counsellors here.

"The remaining 90 per cent is spread over such sources as traffic, open fires, wind-blown dust from the farms and prairies of the Middle West, rubbish thrown in the streets, improper fuel and faulty combustion of home-heating plants," he said.

"The single incinerator in your back yard or mine may not seem much of a menace to cleaner air," he said.

★ ★ ★

"Multiply them by thousands, however, and toss in smoldering bonfires of garden and other refuse, and you have quite a problem in air pollution; one which, in fact, makes industrial air pollution control simple by comparison."

Quasars Appear Fairly Close to Earth

By SCIENCE SERVICE

CHICAGO — The most bizarre objects known to astronomers, called quasars, may not be the billions of light years away in space many scientists have thought.

Instead, quasars, are relatively close objects, astronomicalyl speaking. This conclusion is based on the remarkable fact that the light from seven quasars, if their red shifts mean speed and distance, shows that all of them are receding from the solar system at exactly the same rate.

This is unlikely. The chances that this agreement is due to coincidence, and that each quasar is as far away as every other one, is "fantastically small," Drs. G. R. Burbidge and E. M. Burbidge of the University of California, San Diego, report here.

The husband-and-wife astronomical team therefore concludes that quasars are not as "cosmological distances," and that something else—peculiar to quasistellar objects—must explain the coincidental red shifts.

Many astronomers have believed that quasers are the most distant objects observed in the universe, as far as 10 billion light years away. One light year is six million miles.

AN UPPER LIMIT

The two Burbidges put an upper limit on their distance of 130 million light years. This means they can be either within the Milky Way galaxy or relatively close to it, but not as far away as the nearest neighboring galaxy.

Distances of stars, quasars and galaxies are measured by the shift in their light toward the red end of the spectrum, which is generally interpreted to mean that the source is receding from the observer.

The red shifts of seven quasars are all 1.95, which means they would be receding from earth at about 80 per cent of the velocity of light if they were at cosmological distances.

★ ★ ★

The fact that all seven of them have exactly the same recession rate is the basis for the Burbidges' conclusion that the red shifts must have another explanation.

The red shifts could be gravitational in origin, the Burbidges suggest in the Astrophysical Journal.

This would mean "that they would be very massive objects which . . . make up a large part of the mass energy in the universe" or perhaps, they suggest, they could be objects ejected from the Milky Way galaxy at relativistic speeds.

New Library Books

SILVERHILL. By Phyllis A. Whitney. Doubleday. $4.95.

A matriarch who dominates a strange household, where everyone is concealing deep secrets of the past, is the key figure of Miss Whitney's novel.

Grandmother Julia Gorham, once a great beauty, presides over a huge mansion called Silverhill, which is steeped in tensions, conflicts and suspicions, and keeps a firmly bossy hand on everything.

There are all sorts of spooky adventures in the old mansion — with emotional volcanoes erupting all over.

★ ★ ★

In case you haven't been familiar with the field of fiction known as gothic suspense, this would be a good place to become acquainted with it. Miss Whitney is an expert at it. Women love it.

YOU AND THE NEW MORALITY. By James A. Pike. Harper. $3.95.

This is an examination of ethics by the casebook method.

That is, the author uses more than 70 specific situations (a few overlap) to establish points that he is making.

The author's position is that we have three possible approaches in the field of morals.

One is a code, handed down from above. He discusses the Ten Commandments, other parts of the Bible, the teachings and pronouncements of various Christian Churches (Catholic and non-Catholic) and the so-called natural law of rightness and decency. In each instance, he finds flaws of contradiction and incompletness.

★ ★ ★

"Secondly there is "No Ethics," technically called antinomianism (anti-law, literally), which he dismisses as unbridled selfishness, absurd because one person's selfishness blocks another's.

★ ★ ★

The third he calls existential ethics, or "situation ethics," in which each situation must be judged separately on its own merits.

This clergyman deals with a touch, controversial theme. His approach to moral philosohy may offend many, and is open to challenge from other writers.

But within the field of free expression, his book must be counted as a challenging statement of a new viewpoint.

THE APPALACHIAN TRAIL. By Ann and Myron Sutton. Lippincott. $4.95.

★ ★ ★

Once the wilderness gets chopped down, excavated and paved, there is no brining it back. And Ann and Myron Sutton's book about the joys of hiking on the 2,000-mile Appalachian Trail is an eloquent plea to preserve that trail and others in this country as wilderness.

The Suttons have organized their book to describe some of the sights and sensations experienced in hiking the trail from Springer Mountain, Ga., to Mt. Katahdin, Maine, occasionally weaving in sections of advice, topography and history.

They make their presentation general, to be of interest both to the inveterate hiker and to the person who talks about going hiking someday.

★ ★ ★

There are references to areas where one can drive a car to the trail and hike for a day and statements about the Maine segment definitely being for the experienced hiker. A list of publications available and supplies needed are in an appendix.

HILL COUNTRY HARVEST. By Hal Borland. Lippincott. $5.95.

★ ★ ★

These are personal essays about living in the country, and Borland is a skilled practitioner of this art, which otherwise seems to have gone into a decline in recent years.

This book literally is a harvest, gathered from 10 years of weekly newspaper columns, written somewhat in the form of a journal.

There are observations, ruminations and reflections on the weather, gardening and memories of earlier days, and a great many anecdotes about people and wild creatures, all seasoned well with humor.

★ ★ ★

This is a fine volume for browsing through, whether you pick it up in summer shade or beside a fireplace in winter.

Seven Candidates Vying

Some 35,000 voters will have a chance to go to the polls Monday to elect two members out of seven candidates to the Pontiac School District Board of Education.

Among the seven candidates running for four-year terms are the two incumbents whose terms expire at the end of this month.

★ ★ ★

The candidates are (in alphebetical order):

● Russell L. Brown, 57, a teacher who is the board's vice president. He was elected to the board four years ago when he unseated an incumbent.

Brown, 483 Lynch, is a social studies and mathematics teacher at Bloomfield Hills Junior High School. A father of three children, he began his teaching career 34 years ago. He once was a junior high school principal in St. Clair County.

● Ronald E. Covault, 30, chief of court operations for the office of the prosecuting attorney of Oakland County. He resides at 125 N. Johnson with his wife and three children.

Covault has been assistant prosecuting attorney for two years, coming here from the U.S. Treasury Department in Washington, D.C. A graduate of Michigan State University and University of Detroit School of Law, he is a member of Pontiac's Human Relations Commission.

★ ★ ★

● Robert E. Cunningham, 39, a Pontiac attorney since he graduated from the Detroit College of Law in 1964. He, his wife and a daughter who attends Washington Junior High School live at 501 W. Iroquois.

A life-long resident of Pontiac, Cunningham ran for the Circuit Court bench in Oakland County last year. He is a member of the Oakland County Committee of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund.

★ ★ ★

● G. Winston DeLine, a native of Pontiac who has been employed by Pontiac Motor Division for five years. He lives at 398 W. Columbia.

● Monroe M. Osmun, 64, a Pontiac clothing merchant who has served on the school board for 21 years and is currently its president. He is also on the Oakland County Board of Education.

Osmun, 2094 Lakewind, West Bloomfield Township, is serving as head of the school board for his fifth time. A native of Pontiac, he has been active in many civic, business and fraternal groups, including the Downtown Pontiac Business Association.

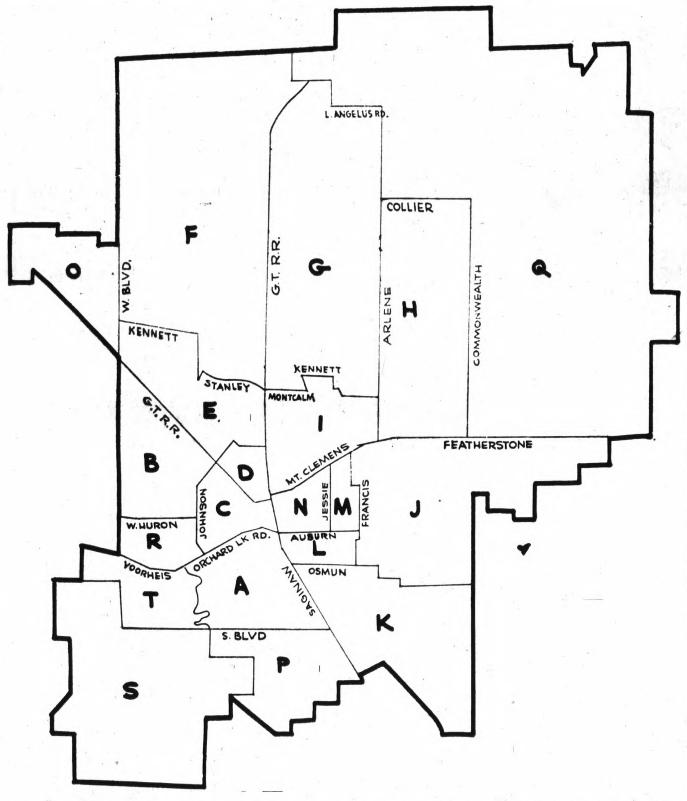
● Ronald A. Rogers, 33, supervisor of business enterprises for the State Department of Social Services in Lansing. Four of his six children attend Whitfield Elementary School.

Rogers, 2159 St. Joseph, West Bloomfield Township, is active in the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce and ran for the group's state presidency last year. He is the 1967 state chairman of the Jaycees track and field committee.

★ ★ ★

● Victor L. Smothers, 48, a painting contractor who ran in last year's board of education election. He was once a painter employed by the school board for 10 years.

Smothers, a disabled veteran who lives at 203 Wolfe, has been a resident of Pontiac most of his life. He has been a member of Pontiac's Police Trial Board, Police Reserve and Civic Improvement Commission. He and his wife have six children.



PONTIAC POLLING PLACES — The above map shows voting precincts in the Pontiac School District. Polling places will open 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. in Monday's election.

Persons standing in line at closing time will be allowed to vote. The following is a list of the polling places for each precinct:

A—Bagley Elementary School
B—Webster Elementary School
C—Central High School
D—Close Street Fire Station
E—Lincoln Junior High School
F—Owen Elementary School
G—LeBaron Elementry School
I—Baldwin Elementary School
K—Wilson Elementary School

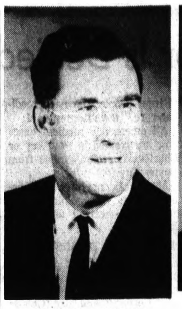
O—Hawthorne Elementary School
P—Jefferson Junior High School
Q—Willis Elementary School
R—Washington Junior High School
S—Whitfield Elemetary School
T—Washington Junior High School



RUSSELL L. BROWN

His statement:

"Good public schools are vital to the welfare of people and our community. I have seen the importance of good schools from the view of a father, a citizen, a professional educator for 34 years and as a member and vice president of the Pontiac Board of Education.

"My platform is simply this: To work constantly for better schools for all our people.

★ ★ ★

"Pontiac's schools have been constantly striving for improvements in school facilities, programs and in personnel. Sound planning and continued progress is necessary.

★ ★ ★

"There are trying times ahead for schools, and I believe that experience on boards of education is needed."

RONALD E. COVAULT

His statement:

"With education on the threshold of a new age, I believe that board of education decision-making must be brought fully into the public forum.

★ ★ ★

"Parents must be given a greater opportunity to be heard on all the challenging questions that affect the education of our children.

★ ★ ★

"Your child and mine must have the best teachers and teaching methods, the finest college preparation and vocational skills to insure their success.

★ ★ ★

"As a university and law school graduate, I am convinced that parents deserve a vital and responsible board of education."

ROBERT E. CUNNINGHAM

His statement:

"Our most important natural resource is our children. Our schools take this natural resource and put it through a process called education.

★ ★ ★

"Ideally, the process will convert this natural resource to a skilled, law-abiding productive citizen who will contribute to the productivity and well-being of our society.

★ ★ ★

"Today, crime, corruption, violence and terror stalks our citizens in the streets and in their homes. People must be taught respect for the law and the personal and property rights of other people.

★ ★ ★

"Proper education of all children is the answer. I believe that people are what they are taught to be."

G. WINSTON DELINE

His statement:

"I believe Pontiac owes its children the best education possible. The key to a progressive and dynamic nation is a strong system of free public schools.

"We must maintain a tax rate which considers the property owner's needs and ability to pay, particularly those older citizens on pensions and limited incomes.

"I am for more efficient spending of tax dollars and believe the classroom teachers should come first in salary raises. The classroom teacher molds our children educationally. We need the best teachers money can attract to Pontiac.

"Too many extra frills are unnecessary, and I pledge myself to work for the best basic education possible for our children at the most economical cost to the taxpayers."

Cheese Yields an Antibiotic

Checks Growth of Harmful Organisms

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — A microorganism in limburger cheese produces an antibiotic that checks the growth of harmful organisms a University of Wisconsin researcher told the symposium on the use of drugs in animal feeds here recently.

Another example of a "good germ" occurs in cheddar cheese, Prof. Gail M. Dack, food research institute, University of Wisconsin, Madison, pointed out. The cheese contains streptococcus bacteria that prevent growth of food-poisoning staphylococci.

There is a possibility that antibiotics added routinely to animal feeds could kill these beneficial bacteria and therefore make disease more difficult to control, the conference was told.

This possibility should be thoroughly studied inasmuch as most antibiotics and drugs used in feeds are not selective in the organisms they kill.

★ ★ ★

"There is no indication at present that medicated feeds have reduced salmonellosis," Dr. Dack said.

HEAT TREATMENT

However, heat treatment of feed can help reduce the incidence of salmonella food poisoning. But heat also destroys other organisms.

Killing low-heat-resistant organisms creates an environment favorable to the growth of Clostridium botulinum, which causes extremely dangerous food poisoning, he said.

Dr. E. H. Kampelmacher, head of the laboratory for Zoonoses, National Institute of Public Health, Utrecht, the Netherlands, stated that "antibiotic addition to feeds, as applied on a large scale in husbandry today, has increased the proportion of resistant bacteria in animals to a certain extent."

Although bacterial strains' resistance to drugs has complicated the problem, there are many restricting factors that make it unlikely that this resistence plays a major role in human and animal health, "even if transmission of resistant strains from animal to man and from man to animal may occur by food intake," Dr. Kampelmacher said.

MONROE M. OSMUN

His statement:

"I have served on the Pontiac Board of Education for 21 years. A constant review and improvement of our curriculum, thereby giving our students the finest learning experience available, is very essential.

"I believe in the neighborhood school concept. This is good and should be continued. We should do everything possible to guarantee equal educational opportunities regardless of race, color or creed.

★ ★ ★

"The Human Resources Center now being planned for the southeast quadrant of our city is a step forward in the right direction.

★ ★ ★

"If elected for another term, I will endeavor to be a part of the team that will continue to improve our school system."

RONALD A. ROGERS

His statement:

"The next few years could well prove to be the most crucial in the history of Pontiac schools and I sincerely feel a fresh, dynamic approach is a necessity.

"Current sound programming must be continued and expanded and the right of all children for the finest, most meaningful education possible must be adhered to.

★ ★ ★

"Educational excellence regardless of school location, and not changing of attendance areas, is the answer to the disadvantaged, underachieving child.

"If I had a goal or motto, it would be 'more effective schools' in all growth areas. Average leadership provides average schools; good schools need good leadership.

VICTOR L. SMOTHERS

His statement:

"I believe in the best education for our children first. I think schools should follow a pay-as-you-go policy rather than bond issues where the taxpayers are overburdened with interest from which they get no benefits.

"The main issue facing the board of education is Pontiac Central High School where disputes and unruly elements cause trouble.

"The estimated cost of $9 million to rehabilitate Central High is outrageous and absurd.

"If an $18-million referendum to construct two senior high schools is put before the voters this fall and is approved, property taxes will go up.

"We must not forget the financial hazards of our senior citizens. How could they possibly meet more taxes?"

Vocational Centers at Stake

Oakland county voters will decide whether to build four area vocational education centers with a half-mill tax levy in Monday's board of education elections.

If the countywide ballot proposal is approved, the intermediate school district of Oakland County could levy a 50-cent tax per $1,000 on equalized property valuations under a state law.

The half-mill tax revenue would be used to build and operate a center in each quadrant of the county to augment vocational and technical education curriculums of every high school in the county.

Proponents of the measure contend that the area centers will be an extension — not duplication — of local high school vocational education programs.

★ ★ ★

Each center would be operated by the school district in which they are located, but operational costs would be paid by county, state and federal funds.

COST: $6.4 MILLION

Officials estimate that it would cost $6.4 million for construction and equipment of the centers and over $900,000 a year to operate them.

Local school district revenue or budgets would not be affected by the centers, but each district would have to transport its students to a nearby center.

"With our rapidly changing technological society, local districts cannot afford programs to keep pace with industry nor can they offer a variety of programs needed," supporters reason.

It is projected that it will cost $375 a year per student to run the centers at which students would spend half their school day but still retain a close identity with their home high school.

TEMPORARY SITES

Dr. David Soule, director of vocational education for Oakland Schools, said courses at temporary locations for public and parochial high school juniors, seniors and adults could be given as early as September 1968 if the measure is passed.

Centers for 2,000 students could be ready by spring 1970, Soule estimated. He said this year's seventh graders would have available a full vocational curriculum.

Although locations of the centers and detailed curriculums would have to be worked out, he said he would expect that about 10 per cent of Oakland County's juniors and seniors would take advantage of the following typical courses:

★ ★ ★

Auto mechanics, commercial foods, data processing, electrical trades, electronics, health services, mechanic occupations, machine shop, office machine repair and welding.

CO-OP PROGRAMS

Courses such as shop and office practice and cooperative education programs will be continued to be offered by the home high schools, the proposal suggests.

Soule had this to say on how the new facilities would differ from existing programs:

"The kinds, variety, sophistication and cost of equipment and facilities that are anticipated for the area center could not be duplicated by individual high school districts."

★ ★ ★

An area concept of providing vocational education programs to all residents in an area is necessary to receive state and federal funds.

Aid to Nursing

WASHINGTON (AP) —The U. S. Public Health Service has approved $1.2 million in grants to help nursing schools at 10 Michigan hospitals defray the cost of training students. The hospitals are in Detroit, Hancock, Muskegon, Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids and Flint.

Tree Blooms Add Beauty

In the spring time, there is nothing more beautiful than the flowering trees in residential areas.

There are so many flowering trees available for the different climates that there is not enough space to name them.

Among the more prominent are the flowering crabapple, cherry, dogwood, magnolia, peach, plum and apple trees. There are both early and late spring flowering trees.

Your local nurseryman will gladly advise you on those best suited for your area and planting conditions.

★ ★ ★

Where to plant your flowering tree is an individual choice. You perhaps, want it near the front of the property where neighbors, as well as your family, can enjoy it.

A home is hardly complete without at least one lovely flowering tree symbolizing that "Spring is Here!"

Bend the prongs of an old table fork and you have a perfect instrument for cultivating the soil in window boxes.

Blanket of Green Beautifies a Home

Only when a lawn of fine-textured grasses blends plantings with surroundings, does a home become truly beautified.

Fortunately, an esthetic landscape is neither expensive nor difficult to gain, what with excellent seed and convenient lawn products.

Lawn fescues are attractive but rugged even on underfertilized, dry soils and in shady spots.

Top blends usually combine fescues with bluegrasses to provide an all-purpose turf that is best mowed fairly tall.

Kentucky bluegrasses form an especially sturdy sod that is rich green when fertilized, and wear-resistant. Bentgrasses are luxurious, need monthly feeding, regular mowing and watering.

COLONIAL TYPES

Both colonial forms such as Highland and creepers such as Penncross are available from seed.

Backing these star performers are many beautification aids. Paramount is lawn fertilizer, in many lightweight formulations which cover 5,000 square feet from a single sack that even a child can lift.

High nitrogen analyses such as 30-5-8 and 24-9-5—the percentages of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium respectively — are commonplace.

These powerful plant foods are frequently bolstered with secondary elements and micronutrients such as sulfur, calcium, magnesium and iron.

They apply effortlessly with a good lawn spreader; just set for the rate recommended on the bag and pour into the hopper.

Weed control is made equally easy. Most fertilizer lines include a weed-and-feed product that sets back the weed competition as it stimulates the grass.

Dandelions, plantains, chickweed, and so on succumb readily to 2, 4-D, silvex and dicamba. A half dozen effective chemicals prevent crabgrass, sometimes also combined with fertilizer.

NOT HARD TO ADJUST

Modern lawn mowers adjust cutting height easily, have the capacity to mow quickly. Riding mowers are the rage, luxurious models exhibiting several speeds forward (and reverse) and a control "stick" that lets you slow for thick grass without shifting.

Even watering is becoming automated; an inexpensive plastic system can be laid underground which operates automaticilly from a time clock.

Watering should be frequent for bentgrass, but Kentucky bluegrasses and fine fescues can await signs of stringency.

★ ★ ★

There are other aids, too:—insecticides harmless to pets and people, fungicides to check disease summer and winter, edging chemicals, soil fumigants, thatch removers, and so on.

But if you do nothing more than select top quality grass, fertilize and mow it considerably, a presentable lawn will be yours to enhance flowers, shrubs and shade trees as nothing else can.

Save Money, Buy the Best

With beautification America's watchword, good lawn products are increasingly vital, says The Lawn Institute. Happily, weed-free seed in scores of combinations is available everywhere.

★ ★ ★

There are numerous Kentucky bluegrass varieties, beautiful and durable; fine fescues for shade and improvident soil; bentgrasses for golf-green luxury; even ryegrasses that are perennial.

Indeed, topnotch lawnseed can be obtained to fit your climate and mode of care.

Seed may bolster thin turfs, or be sowed to a newly-cultivated seedbed. For a new lawn till the soil a few inches deep, as with a rotary tiller. Mix in plenty of fertilizer, to give seedlings a headstart over weeds.

★ ★ ★

Mulch — spread straw, excelsior or "fabrics" your garden store may recommend — to hold moisture and hasten sprouting.

KEEP DAMP

Water frequently at first, tapering off as new grass reaches mowing height.

Nothing serves better than a thriving permanent-grass sod to hold weeds at bay. Fertilize from time to time, or use a combination fertilizer-weed preventive.

Today's sprayers and spreaders make application simple.

Dandelions and other broadleaf weeds are especially easy to check this time of year. The top lawngrasses are not injured by weed preventers, or by the excellent insect and disease controls also much used to keep the garden tidy and relaxing.

Spice Your Apartment With Plants

Add decorative beauty to your home or apartment and increase your family's enjoyment of everyday living by making generous use of potted plants.

A built-in planter, for instance, will supply a border of beauty at a large picture window, divide a living and dining area, or partition an area for an entrance hall.

By filling such planters with plants left in their clay pots, you can use plants with different watering needs, change or replace plants as you wish, and add a seasonal flowering plant for a colorful accent.

Essentially the same effect may be created without a built-in planter by using a low table or cart that will accommodate an array of green plants.

★ ★ ★

Open-shelved room dividers may easily be converted into indoor gardens by adding a collection of interesting plants that can be changed at will.

POPULAR

Portable plants also are very popular. They range from large exotic plants placed on the floor as dramatic room accessories, to the little enchanting dish gardens planted in soil or water and used to decorate the top of a piece of furniture.

Large potted plants may be placed effectively, for instance, by the side of stairways. The small dish gardens, for example, may be hung from the ceilings of studies or bedrooms.

Local florist shops have a wide variety of potted house plants.

★ ★ ★

They will blend naturally into any home or apartment decorative scheme and add beauty to every room in which they are used.

Annual Poinsettia Grown From Seed

Unlike the Christmas poinsettia that is grown as a house plant, the annual poinsettia may be grown outdoors.

Also called Mexican fire plant, this annual grows readily from seeds. It forms 2-foot-high plants, the upper leaves of which are blotched with bright red.

Annual poinsettia is a member of the euphorbia group so, while the foliage may be cut for use indoors, the stem ends must be burned or dipped in boiling water immediately after cutting to stop the flow of milky juice characteristic of this group.

This juice may cause injury to eyes or mouth so be careful to avoid trouble.

Follow-Through on War News

Market Stays Up Early Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued higher early today in a follow - through to late Thursday's news that Egypt had accepted a cease - fire. Trading was heavy.

The ticker tape ran a minute behind transactions but caught abreast in the first half hour.

* * *

Most gains were fractional and many blue chips were unchanged, with the result that only a small gain was made by the industrial average.

Gainers in the over-all list were ahead of losers by a ratio of about 7 to 2.

American Smelting rose more than 2 while Westinghouse Electric, American Airlines, Zenith and Occidental Petroleum rose about a point each.

The international oils were mixed. Leading motors were mostly unchanged.

Losses of a point or so were taken by Lorillard and United Aircraft. Polaroid slipped 1¼.

Xerox was off ¼ at 300 on an opening block of 11,000 shares.

News of Egyptian acceptance of the cease - fire, which triggered a strong, emotional rally in the closing minutes of the New York Stock Exchange and, later, on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange, was dampened considerably by resumption of hostilities between Israel and Syria.

An accumulation of overnight orders was credited with much of the early strength, analysts said, but investors became cautious in view of the approaching weekend and the many uncertainties existing not only in the Middle East but in the American economy.

On Thursday the Associated Press Average of 60 stocks rose .5 to 322.4.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.
