Steel Shortage Blamed for Overpass Delay

OVERPASS WORK DELAYED—A shortage of steel beams has stopped construction work on the Orchard Lake Avenue overpass, now being built as part of the planned relocation of Telegraph Road near the western city limits of Pontiac, Highway Department officials confirmed yesterday. When completed, through traffic on Telegraph Road (foreground) will pass under Orchard Lake Avenue through the overpass (construction in center of picture). The present Telegraph Road will remain as an access route to the mile-long relocation. Traffic on Orchard Lake Avenue, now being routed around the construction site in a loop to the north, is periodically blocked during rush hours.

Harold R. Puffer, State Highway Dept. bridge engineer, has confirmed that the Orchard Lake-Telegraph grade separation will not be completed until June, 1957, because the contractor was "unable to obtain delivery of steel beams."

Engineer Tells Why Underpass Project Lags

It was supposed to be finished Dec. 15, 1956.

"We fully expect the final completion of this project will be early in June of 1957 and do not see how it can possibly be any earlier," Puffer said in a letter to the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber last Friday wired Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler asking why a 34-day steel strike should cause a six-month delay. The Press carried an editorial the same day demanding an answer for the delay.

Temperature, Rain Normal?

Figures Strain Credulity

In Monday's Pontiac Press, W. W. Oak, head of the Weather Bureau in this area, set forth his ideas on current weather conditions.

His findings came as a distinct surprise, not to mention a bit of a shock and a challenge to everyone's credulity.

Rain is normal. Temperature is average.

	1956	Normal
Jan.	25.3	25.3
Feb.	28.0	26.1
March	32.9	35.5
April	45.7	46.6
May	56.8	58.2
June	69.8	68.1
July	71.8	73.1

This shows that through the first seven months the temperature in 1956 averages 4 of a degree warmer than normal. This amount is absolutely imperceptible to anyone, including a thermometer.

The rainfall is also intriguing.

Through July, we are actually 1.57 behind normal. August will probably wipe out this slight deficit, but even so, we will be close to average.

Practically half of this year's rainfall came in two of the seven months: April and May. These two villains produced 8.29 inches. However, normal for these two months is 6.40.

August may show a heavier total than usual. Here are the figures up to August:

	1956	Normal
Jan.	.93	1.80
Feb.	2.20	1.74
March	2.38	2.35
April	3.96	2.94
May	4.33	3.44
June	1.61	2.90
July	1.29	2.91

Traffic Officials Increase Force for Weekend

Local Safety Authorities Hopeful of Matching Perfect '55 Mark

An all-out onslaught on Labor Day weekend traffic fatalities will be launched tomorrow afternoon when every available police officer and vehicle in Oakland County will be pressed into service for a 78-hour patrol of area highways.

The order for increased vigilance was issued by law-enforcement officials in the face of a National Safety Council warning that 480 persons may lose their lives on crowded thoroughfares.

Local safety officials are hopeful of matching last year's record of no county fatalities against a state toll of 25 deaths.

The Pontiac State Police Post will station troopers at various trouble spots in accordance with a statewide plan to have a record number of officers on Michigan highways.

An estimated three million vehicles are expected to flood state streets and highways between Friday and Monday evening.

"Our entire department will be on duty—all leaves have been cancelled from noon Friday to midnight Monday," Sgt. Charles Mulick of the Pontiac Post said yesterday.

Mulick reported all eight department cars would be on the road throughout the heavy traffic hours with 29 troopers being aided by six National Guardsmen.

Meanwhile, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and Pontiac Police are also making plans for constant patrol of city and county highways over the first and only long holiday weekend of the year.

"We're going to have everybody out on the road from Friday afternoon to Monday night. All time off has been cancelled," Sheriff Frank Irons said.

Pontiac police chief Herbert Straley has reportedly assigned several patrol cars and motorcycles for special duty over the weekend, beginning Friday night.

Red Cross Holiday Highway Patrol units will operate from 4 to 10 p.m. on Friday and Monday under the direction of county and city traffic officials.

Red Cross radio cars will be manned by amateur radio operators from the Oakland County Relay League and experienced first aiders.

9 Die in Alaska Airliner Crash

22 Go Down in Flaming Vancouver - to Tokyo Plane; 6 Still Missing

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—A flaming Canadian Pacific Airlines DC6B crashed on bleak, desolate Unimak Island at the tip of the Alaska Peninsula last night, killing at least nine of the 22 persons aboard.

The search and rescue unit at Kodiak Naval Station said there were seven known survivors. Six persons were unaccounted for. Several of the survivors were reported to have suffered serious injuries.

The names of those aboard the craft, bound for Tokyo from Vancouver, B. C., were not available.

Cmdr. W. W. Clark, executive officer at the naval station, said the plane, seven hours out of Vancouver, went down at 9:38 p.m.

The pilot of the craft, Clark said, radioed Cold Bay, Alaska, just before the crash that his ship was on fire. He did not give the cause.

Clark said the airliner crashed near the shore of Unimak Island.

Local Pros Shoot 35's at Motor City

Pete Cooper of Knollwood and Tommy Shannon of Orchard Lake were among the early starters who fired sub-par scores for nine holes at the Motor City tournament this morning.

Cooper and Shannon along with four other pros shot 35's for the front nine with Wally Burkemo chalking up a par 36 on the rain-soaked Western Golf Course.

Wyatts' Neighbors Reveal Wierd Tale of Tied Child

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ JR.

Keego Harbor neighbors of the William Wyatt family, filing through the Oakland County prosecutor's office yesterday, unfolded a strange, grim story.

It was the story of a mother who told them her child was a friend's daughter, being boarded for $25 a week. The story of the little girl, never seen by the neighbors except as a pale face peeping through upstairs blinds that were always drawn.

Woman Jailed in Riesel Case

Wife of Alleged Brains Hinted to Have Heard Talk on Acid Throwing

NEW YORK (AP)—The wife of an alleged coconspirator in the acid attack which blinded labor columnist Victor Riesel has been held in $100,000 bail as a material witness in the case.

Mrs. Leni Miranti was arraigned yesterday before U.S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishop. The high bail was set assertedly for her own protection and because she heard conversations pertaining to the acid throwing.

Thomas B. Gilchrist Jr., chief assistant U. S. attorney, told the court: "We want to protect her from bodily harm. She's a witness."

Mrs. Miranti interrupted the attorney's remarks, saying, "I don't know what I'm a witness to."

The woman's husband, Gondolfo Miranti, 37, was arrested Aug. 17 with Joseph P. Carino, 45, each held in $100,000 bail and charged with conspiracy in the assault last April 5 on Riesel as he emerged from a Broadway restaurant.

Abraham Telvi, described as the acid thrower, was found slain July 28 on a lower East Side Street.

The government charges that the 41-year-old Riesel was attacked to prevent him from testifying before a federal grand jury probing labor racketeering.

Arrested Tuesday and arraigned yesterday in the case were Johnny Dio, 42, labor racketeer and accused mastermind in the plot against Riesel; Charles Tuso, 44; Domenic Bando, 47; Charles Carino, 43—no relation to Joseph Carino—and Dio's brother Thomas, 40.

Paratroops Land at Cyprus Bases to Back British

Committee of 5 Nations Meets Monday in Cairo to Pursue Solution

NICOSIA, Cyprus (INS)—French airborne troops joined British troops on the island of Cyprus today in case the Suez Canal dispute erupts into war.

The Cyprus Times said 1,000 men arrived. No official figure was given.

Thus Britain and France served notice on Egypt they have a clear-cut plan for military action if shipping is interfered with on the canal.

The first French soldiers to arrive at the British crown colony, under an Anglo-French agreement announced yesterday, landed at the Royal Air Force base at Akrotiri.

The French forces were flown to Cyprus with the announced purpose of being closer to Egypt should there be threats to French lives or property in the Middle East.

Reporters were notified weeks ago to obtain accreditation from London so they would be able to accompany a "task force" if talks on Suez break down and military action becomes necessary.

A five-nation committee representing the Western allies and others is scheduled to begin talks with the Egyptians Monday in Cairo on (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Truman to Get in Act Too

Ready, Set, Go—Campaign

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Former President Harry Truman is going to get into the political campaign full blast.

He announced at his Kansas City office yesterday the Democratic National Committee asked him to make two or three speeches a week.

He said the committee is drawing up a list of proposed appearances, probably starting the second week in September. He said he would speak only at the invitation of the committee.

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower will launch his bid for the labor vote Saturday—two days ahead of Adlai Stevenson's Labor Day address in Detroit—with a high-powered speech from the White House.

The brief remarks he had been scheduled to make at ceremonies commemorating a new Labor Day stamp have, it was learned, been expanded into what approaches a major address.

Its main theme will be the task the free enterprise system faces in improving the lot of the working man throughout the world as the best answer to communism.

Another Alligator Found Locally

Local tourist officials have the Lower Long Lake in boats in search of the elusive amphibian, publishers voiced doubts of the existence of the 'gator.

When newsmen began cruising Lower Long Lake in boats in search of the elusive amphibian, publishers voiced doubts of the existence of the 'gator.

One was convinced his reporters were on a boondoggle, soaking up sun and being gently lulled by the slap of little waves—acts not conducive to grinding out copy.

Plans for the formation of an Oakland County Volunteer Alligator Battalion and Black Panther Auxiliary are still rather nebulous.

ANOTHER ONE—Giving further credence to the theory that someone is stocking Oakland County lakes with young alligators is this little monster that the grinning foursome plucked out

TROOPS LEAVE FRANCE

(Paris newspaper reporters said troop movements have been under way for several days, with transports leaving Marseille.)

(France Soir said the liner Pasteur will sail tomorrow and yesterday a large naval force, including the cruiser Georges Leygues, left Toulon for an unannounced destination.)

(Paris - Presse said parachute troops and Foreign Legionnaires boarded three cargo vessels yesterday off Sidi-Ferruch in Algeria, where allied forces embarked in 1943 in the World War II invasion of Sicily.)

(It said two big land units, the Seventh Mechanized Division and the 10th Parachute Division will be put at the disposal of a joint Franco-British headquarters "should military intervention become necessary in Egypt.")

Britain is estimated to have upward of 18,000 troops on Cyprus, whose southern coast is less than 250 air miles from Port Said, northern entrance to the canal. That is the official estimate, but some reporters put the figure closer to 25,000.

Akrotiri, where the first French troops landed, is the newest RAF airfield. It is on the southern coast, on a flat peninsula separated from the mainland by a lagoon.

CAN HANDLE JETS

Its runway is 9,000 feet long and 200 feet wide, and is capable of receiving the heaviest and fastest jet bombers.

Episkopi, general headquarters of the Middle Eastern Command, is a few miles northwest of Akrotiri. It is the central nervous system for troops stationed not only on Cyprus but in Libya, Iraq, Jordan, Aden, British Somaliland and along the Persian Gulf.

Military preparations are much in evidence. Transports have been bringing in more troops, and a new tent city for troops has risen just north of the capital of Nicosia. School buildings have been taken over as military billets.

The Egyptian government advertised in New York today for pilots to guide ships through the canal at wages up to more than $1,400 a month.

Egypt nationalized the canal July 26. It has been run by the Suez Canal Co., a private business organization.

Most canal pilots had been British or French. After Egypt nationalized the canal, many failed to return from home leaves and vacations.

GERMANS WILLING

The Kiel Canal Pilot Service announced today 10 German pilots have accepted Egyptian offers to work on the Suez.

And Egyptian authorities have named two more Britons as members of an alleged spy net in Egypt which Cairo newspapers charged plotted to organize a revolution against President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Altogether, seven Britons, including two embassy secretaries, and a number of Egyptians have been named in the ring.

Prison Break Fails, 2 Killed, 13 Injured

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Kilby Prison officials today considered filing manslaughter charges against two convicts who escaped yesterday in a dump truck carrying 28 other prisoners.

After a wild chase with a guard shooting at the tires from a pursuing truck, the truck load of "maximum security" convicts overturned. Two of the passengers were killed and 13 injured, one seriously.

Guards rounded up the group without trouble and returned them to the State Prison just outside Montgomery.

Waugh in Court to Prosecute Church Member

Chester Waugh, 36, disfellowshipped Jehovah's Witness, goes to court again this afternoon to prosecute a church member whom Waugh claims bodily kicked him out of the Pontiac Kingdom Hall.

Waugh has pressed an assault and battery charge against Austin J. Kizer, 42, of 733 E. Pike St.

Waugh, of 33 Newberry St. claims Kizer and two other men forced Waugh from the front pew of the church Aug. 10 and Kizer kicked him out the front door, causing Waugh to fall and skin his knee.

Kizer, who has been free under $100 bond, will be tried before Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan. Waugh says he will prosecute his case himself.

In May, Waugh lost a suit for a Circuit Court injunction forcing the Drayton Plains congregation to allow him to enter their church and worship there.

Waugh was disfellowshipped from the Drayton church in 1954 and has been waging a private war against the Witnesses ever since. He claims he was barred without a fair trial.

load of melons. Mrs. Wyatt was hospitalized for an operation.

Ziem took statements yesterday from the five older children, neighbors and relatives.

Wyatt and his wife, who was released from Pontiac General Hospital Friday afternoon, gave themselves up to police Monday.

KNOW OF WARRANT

They said they did not know police were looking for them until Sunday, but a neighbor told Ziem yesterday Mrs. Wyatt had phoned her from the hospital Thursday and indicated she knew a warrant had been issued for her husband's arrest.

Both have denied mistreating the children.

The five children—Aaron, 13; Arthur, 11; Darlene and Darwin, 10; and Diane, 9—said yesterday they didn't want to go home. They prefer, they said, to stay in the Children's Home.

They said they have never gone hungry, and Aaron, who says he's a "pretty good cook," described to Ziem some of the meals he prepared for his brothers and sisters when both parents were away.

All except Arthur said they are afraid of their stepfather, who, they said, spanks them with his belt. Darlene said her mother had once beaten her "all over" with a broom.

"SHERRY WAS TIED"

All agreed that Sherry was often tied to her bed with string or rags, sometimes during the day but "mostly at night." They didn't know why she was tied, except "mother didn't want her coming downstairs" to raid the icebox.

None of the children could tell how Sherry's hand was burned, but Diane said she saw her mother hit Sherry across the hips with a hot iron because "she wouldn't play with the other kids."

Sherry herself has told three stories of the burn. When first found by the neighbors, she said she had tipped over a pan of water on the stove. She told investigating Keego Harbor police deputies Darlene and Diane had held her hand over a gas flame.

But when Keego Harbor police chief Calvin Baxter promised her she wouldn't have to go back to her family, Sherry told him it was her mother who held her hand over the stove.

Ziem will talk to Sherry today in her room at Pontiac General Hospital.

Wyatt and his wife, arraigned Tuesday on cruelty charges, demanded examination and were released on $1,000 personal bond by West-Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

The examination is set for Sept. 5.

Gas Station Robbed by Thieves of $107

About $107 was taken from a gas station at 688 W. Huron St. in a break-in Tuesday night. Pontiac police said the money was taken from a sack, hidden in a barrel of sweeping compound in a rear storage room.

The cash drawer was forced open police said, but the station owner said no money was in it.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Hamilton Bartlett

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Hamilton (Sarah) Bartlett, 82, mother of Mrs. Monroe M. Osmun, of 100 Ogema Rd. She died yesterday in Pleasant View Hospital, Corunna, after a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Bartlett had lived most of her life in Owosso where she was a member of the Congregational Church.

Besides Mrs. Osmun, she is survived by three other children, Edward Bartlett of Saginaw, Mrs. Dale Williams of Chicago, Mrs. Betty Harcourt of Fenton; nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Service will be at 2:30 p.m. Friday from the Lyons-Jennings Funeral Home in Owosso.

Mrs. Eric Quickner

Mrs. Eric (Maggie K.) Quickner, 81, died suddenly yesterday afternoon of a heart attack. She was born in Sweden on Sept. 13, 1874, the daughter of Olaf and Carrie Ostlund.

A member of the First Baptist Church, she had been a resident of Pontiac 19 years, coming here from Cambridge, Minn.

Surviving are three children, Ernst Quickner of Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Aurelia Nordlund and Doliver Quickner, both of Pontiac; four grandchildren, four great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Della Moss of Pontiac.

A prayer service will be conducted at 8 o'clock this evening at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home by the Rev. William E. Hakes of the First Baptist Church. The body will then be sent to Cambridge for burial.

Judy Garland Switches 'Palace' Opening Date

NEW YORK (INS)—The opening date of singing star Judy Garland's appearance at New York's famed Palace Theater has been set forward a week to Sept. 26.

Her success at the New Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas compelled the singing star to extend her engagement there, thus making it necessary to change the date for her return to the Palace.

Miss Garland will do eight shows a week at the Palace.

Extending the medical insurance program to felines, by the way, is already being planned.

"Ever since we started the dog insurance," Reabe said, "the cat lovers have been up in arms."

Mentally Retarded Gain Classes; Talk Is Slated

BIRMINGHAM — Education for educable, mentally retarded children begins here Sept. 5, with activities centering around the new program to include a special talk to parents on Sept. 11.

Two rooms are being opened, one at Beverly school and the other at Adams school, under a county program. Rooms are open to children not only in Birmingham School District, but in Oakland County.

The classes add to the handicapped children work provided previously by the board of education in the field of speech correction, on a visiting teacher basis.

Dr. Paul D. Cartier, assistant superintendent, reveals that 110 children in the Birmingham area have physical or mental handicaps, including pre-school ages.

Requests for a special room for orthopedic cases, with therapy facilities and a room for visually handicapped are under consideration by the board of education.

Dr. Paul Thams, in charge of special education of the Oakland County School Board, will talk Sept. 11 at 5:15 at the Birmingham Community House to the Birmingham association for Handicapped Children.

The association will be having its first session of this year and invites interested persons to attend. It was chartered by the state June 13, but was informally organized last March by a group of parents led by the Howard Palmers.

President now is Al Allen; vice president, Mrs. Kit McDonnell; secretary, Mrs. Betty Dunnabeck; and treasurer, Joseph Common.

Precept membership is about 60 parents. Members met with the board of education at a meeting at which Dr. William Emerson, county superintendent of education, designated the two special rooms.

The Birmingham Community Blood Bank will be at First Presbyterian Church on Sept. 18 from 3 to 9 p.m., according to co-chairman Mrs. Raymond Giffels and Mrs. R. L. Bernhard.

More than 50 workers are making contacts to arrange donor appointments.

Members of the First Baptist Church will be among those attending the Sunday rally at the State Fair Grounds at 8 a.m. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, president of the National Council of Churches will talk to the expected 10,000 assemblage.

A 31-year-old man, arrested in a stolen car yesterday, has admitted to stealing three other cars this month, police say, and to breaking into four buildings.

Donald E. Willhite, of 16 Union St., yesterday waived examination on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile and was jailed under $500 bond set by Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Willhite will be arraigned on the charge Tuesday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

He admitted breaking into two office buildings at used car lots, police say, to take keys to steal cars. Willhite also admitted breaking into a fruit market last Thursday night at 63 W. Lawrence St.

Willhite was caught by Patrolman Gerald Navarre, who stopped him for speeding in the stolen car.

Cost of Public Aid Program Has Risen by $67 Million

WASHINGTON (U)—The number of persons receiving public assistance declined during the year ended June 30 but expenditures for assistance programs increased by almost 67 million dollars, the government said today.

The Social Security Administration reported about 5,800,000 persons on various public assistance rolls — a decline of about 69,000 from the previous total.

The report said states, territories and the federal government spent $2,790,000,000 on all types of public assistance during the fiscal year.

This was the statistical picture for the four aid programs assisted by federal funds:

Old-age assistance — a decrease of 24,800 persons to a total of 2,523,700, but an increase in expenditures from $1,385,000,000 to $1,637,000,000.

Dependent children — a decline of 6,960 families brought the number receiving assistance down to 613,700 families and 1,707,600 children. Expenditures increased from 625 to 645 million dollars.

The blind — a slight increase to a total of 105,800. The cost went up from 70 to 73 million dollars.

The permanently and totally disabled — also a slight increase to a total of 258,300. Expenditures jumped from 148 to 166 million dollars.

The number of cases on the general assistance lists — financed by states and localities — dropped by 20,000 to 290,000. The states and

Science Studies 'Solid Physics'

Research Labs Expand to Find New Products, Advance Industry

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Curiosity about what goes on inside a solid hunk of matter is costing some corporations plenty. It's likely to cost them more because expensive research facilities are being expanded.

The reason: What scientists call solid state physics has been rewarding many companies with profitable products they couldn't make 10 years ago. One example is the transistor, the little rod that can replace some radio tubes.

Industrialists freely predict that within the next 10 years the major share of many businesses will come from products not now in production.

National Carbon next month will open a multimillion-dollar laboratory in Parma, Ohio, to concentrate on chemical and solid state physics.

Bell Telephone Laboratories' work in that field brought about the solar battery operated by the rays of the sun.

U.S. Steel opened a research center a few months ago in the Pittsburgh area, where solid state physics is applied particularly to metals. Other steel companies' research scientists work on specific problems in the same field. They learn, for example, about the strength and fatigue of metals, how to improve the one and forestall the other.

Solid state physics studies the ties that bind atoms together in solid matter and the movement of the electrons surrounding the nucleus of the atom. Nuclear physics, on the other hand, studies the core of the atom and from this study comes those loud bangs in the Pacific Ocean and the Siberian wastes.

The study of solids, however, is concerned more with development of materials and processes for the metal, electronic, power, chemical and electro-chemical industries.

By learning how some electrons can move in the solid matter under the influence of electric or magnetic fields or under the influence of light of certain energy or wave lengths, scientists have developed such things as: Non-metallic magnets used in computers of advanced design; non-metallic powders used in modern tape recorders; solid state rectifiers to transform alternating current to direct current.

They are now seeking to perfect: Intermetallics, which they describe as completely new materials with properties not found in materials used by industry today; new catalysts to speed up chemical and physical reactions in industrial processes; new types of TV receiving and transmitting tubes and a host of new electronic marvels.

Sets Week to Encourage Servicemen to Vote
LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today endorsed a campaign by the American Veterans Committee to stimulate soldier voting.

The AVC has set aside next week for an appeal to families and friends of servicemen to write them urging that they cast absentee ballots. Williams proclaimed the period Servicemen's Voting Week.

Chief Lays Down Law —Cash Buys Coffee

GREENVILLE, N. C. (AP) — The cop on the beat must pay for his coffee from now on—and his milk.

Police Chief S. G. Gibbs decreed this after a dairyman reported the freeloading cops had consumed some 60 quarts of his milk. The cops said they thought they drank with the dairyman's consent.

Now, says Gibbs, not even a cup of coffee from any shopkeeper without plunking down the cash.

Tornado Death Toll Dips, But Damage Costs Zoom

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau states fewer lives were lost, but property damage ran considerably higher from tornadoes the first five months of this year than in the same period last year.

The figures, which carry midway through the peak of the tornado season, showed 292 twisters, the same number as in 1955, but 29 more than in 1954.

The bureau said twisters killed

88 persons through May compared with 114 in 1955 and only 23 in 1954. Figures were not

Property damage was set at $33,625,900, almost as much as for the entire 1955 and about 5 million dollars more than all of 1954.

Property damage in 1955 totaled $33,975,700, with $25,844,200 coming in the first five months. Property destruction in 1954 was $28,367,400, with $20,601,700 in the first five months.

Unofficial figures for the first seven months this year show 312 tornadoes, compared with 417 in the like period a year ago and 514 in 1954. Totals are not available on lives lost and property damage.

The peak period for tornadoes comes in May, according to Weather Bureau records. The major damage is concentrated in from March through July each year. After July the number dwindles.

Hillsboro Ends Segregation

Integration Moves Ahead

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—Hillsboro, a southern Ohio town of 5,100, expects to have its integration problems solved when school reopens next Tuesday.

For two years charges Hillsboro was segregating Negro elementary school children have been in the news and the courts.

Tuesday all Negro pupils—about 70 of them—are to be admitted to the one-time all-white Webster School. The former all-Negro Lincoln School will not reopen. A small number of Negro pupils attended the Webster School last year.

Until the new Washington School is completed—expected in about two months—all of the town's elementary pupils will be housed in the Webster School. Then, the Negro pupils will be divided, about half and half, between Webster and Washington Schools.

UPPER GRADES MIXED
Hillsboro long has had both Negroes and whites in its junior and senior high schools.

The school board said it did not have the room in the old Webster and Washington Schools for all pupils, so the small Lincoln School was continued in operation pending completion of new buildings.

Several Negro parents started court action, however, charging segregation. They held their children out of school in protest and gave them private tutoring. They were turned down by U. S. district Judge John D. Druffel of Cincinnati, on the basis of the school board's word there would be integration when there was room in the new buildings.

He was overruled late last spring by the U. S. Court of Appeals. The U. S. Supreme Court declined to review the case.

A court order directed there be complete integration by this fall.

Talk About Luck

UNION, S. C. (AP)—One minute John Brady was driving his new auto near here and the next he was sitting on the highway watching the vehicle crash into a railroad bank. Officers said Brady was thrown through the windshield after losing control of the car. He suffered only slight bruises but was stripped of most of his clothing.

The Navajo Indians number about 70,000 today, compared to 7,000 in 1867.

Ambassador to Australia Dies

Succumbs to Blood Clot, Has Been Ill but Death Was Unexpected

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Douglas M. Moffat died of an embolism—an obstructing blood clot—at St. Vincent's Hospital this afternoon. He was 74.

The American envoy had been ill since last month but his death was unexpected.

A partner in the New York corporation law firm of Cravath, Swaine and Moore since 1913, Moffat was appointed to the diplomatic post by President Eisenhower last Feb. 14. He arrived in Australia in April.

He was a member of the New York Transit Authority from 1933 to 1955 and at the time of his appointment by Eisenhower was chairman of a temporary state commission studying the use of television in education.

During World War I he served as deputy alien property custodian in Manila and in World War II was the principal U.S. representative at the British-American Middle East supply center in Cairo. In Canberra he succeeded Amos Peaslee, who was named deputy to Harold Stassen, President Eisenhower's special adviser on disarmament.

He became suddenly ill on a visit to Queensland last month and underwent an emergency operation at Brisbane, but appeared to make satisfactory progress toward recovery. He went to Sydney for further medical treatment and was on the point of returning to Canberra when the heart ailment developed.

A native of Stanhope, N.J., Moffat is survived by his wife, the former Gertrude Mall, a son and daughter. He was graduated from Yale University in 1903 and from the Harvard Law School in 1907.

Retirement Pay to Leap 80 Times Present Size

CHICAGO (AP)—An 80-fold increase in Social Security benefits paid to retired workers, their families, and survivors is expected to take effect as more workers retire.

The benefit payments, now running some $415,000,000 a month, are expected to increase astronomically as the workers retire. In 1941 the benefits paid amounted

Bread Prices Soar

WASHINGTON—Consumers paid 70 per cent more per loaf for white bread in 1955 than they did in 1946. In the same decade the return to farmers for wheat and other bread ingredients advanced 20 per cent. Charges for processing went up 87 per cent and rail rates climbed 76 per cent during the 10 years, according to an Agriculture Department report.

World's Tallest Dam

ZURICH, Switzerland—A dozen large dams are being built in Switzerland. One, the Grande Dixence project, at an altitude of about 8,000 feet, was started in 1950 and is scheduled for completion in 1958. The project's main dam, nearly 1,000 feet high, will be the world's tallest.

Rooming House Burns

DETROIT (INS)—Twenty persons fled from a Detroit rooming house early today and escaped without injury when a fire started in a third-floor room. The blaze started when a smoldering cigarette ignited a mattress.

Technicalities Shackle Police

Panel at Bar Association Parley Says Legal Outs Make Crime Easier

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Technicalities of the law often shackle police and make it almost impossible for them to discharge their duty, a group of police and public officials said at a panel discussion at the American Bar Assn. meeting here.

About 5,000 attorneys are attending the meeting which ends tomorrow.

Prof. Fred E. Inbau of the Northwestern University School of Law asked that police be given a more ample opportunity to interrogate suspects.

Dallas Police Chief Carl Hanson said that as a rule "the professional criminal makes his bond, gets caught again, makes his bond, and has his case reset and reset again and again before he is ever brought to trial."

Inbau said that courts should not reject evidence which is valid merely to discipline the police because of the method they used to obtain the evidence.

In the laymen law panel dealing with crime, Judge William B. McKesson of Los Angeles, Calif., said "Courts know that stiff sentences do not deter crime."

He said, "you can't continue to build bigger and more prisons. And it's not economically feasible to lock up thousands of citizens if there is any better way for them to become productive citizens."

Williams said that probation is the way to supervise an offender.

America Leaders Chorus 'Happy 80th Birthday Kettering'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Charles F. Kettering, inventor and researcher, yesterday headed into his 81st year to the acclaim of hundreds of his present and former associates.

More than 1,000 persons, including many nationally known figures in the industrial, business and entertainment world gathered here to honor "Boss Kettering" on his 80th birthday.

The engineer-scientist credited with contributing more to development of the automobile industry than any other man, was the honor guest in a day-long program at the National Cash Register Co. Country Club. It was like a picnic scene as Kettering received his well-wishers on the wide lawn.

Among those greeting him were Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense; Roger Kyes of Bloomfield Hills, who heads General Motors Corp.'s Dayton Divisions; U.S. Sen. George H. Bender of Ohio; Col. W. F. Rockwell, chairman of the board of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co., Pittsburg, and entertainers James Melton and Edgar Bergen.

Also present were 16 members of the National Inventor's Council. The Miami, Fla., Surf Club, of which Kettering long has been a member, also sent a delegation.

People prominent in just about every other phase of American life were in the crowd which greeted him. He was honor guest at a club luncheon at noon, following a golf exhibition, and last night he was honor guest at a dinner dance at the Moraine Country Club. The luncheon was served in a tent on the club grounds.

"Kettering is an outstanding American of our times," said Wilson. "He is universally respected as an inventor, engineer, scientist and specialist in the field of human understanding."

Said Kyes: "Kettering is not only outstanding because of his quality of mind, but also because of his vitality. . . . He has the capacity to accomplish many things and to correlate them. When he walks through the woods he sees the trees."

Rockwell said: "Kettering was never satisfied with anything as it is. He is one of the men who might be called a spring that makes things run."

Kettering retired as vice president in charge of research at General Motors in 1947. But he still maintains a deep and active interest in research in many fields.

WORKED AROUND
The man who calls science "merely finding out how nature does things" was born on a farm near Loudonville, Ohio. He was a school teacher, telephone trouble-shooter and installer and a National Cash Register employee in his early years.

In 1909 he founded the Dayton Engineering Laboratories Co., which later became a division of General Motors. His hundreds of contributions to the automobile industry include refinements of the automatic starter, improved ignition systems and development of ethyl gasoline.

One of his major projects is the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research which he established jointly with Alfred P. Sloan in 1945.

U. S. Doesn't Realize Its Prosperity

Most Americans are too busy living to notice the changes that take place around them. Here and there, the U.S. Bureau tells of the things that struck him most strongly on a recent visit to the United States.

By SID WHITE

NEW YORK (INS)—America today seems prosperous to the point of busting.

That is the first impression of a returned native to this land of shiny new automobiles, handsome ranch houses, super highways and still bigger television sets.

Little things, taken for granted by Americans, such as the availability of food, strike one with awe.

And, the noticeable lack of war tension—you might call it complacency—also stands out in sharp relief.

These are impressions of a correspondent based on years of living with war, fear, hunger and Communist danger in the Far East.

Evidence of building, expansion and prosperity was seen everywhere in visits to Honolulu, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit, New York and Washington.

FULL, GADGET-FILLED LIFE

Aspects of American living, which must seem commonplace, stand out as sharp emotional encounters on a visit after a long absence, and they add up to a faster, more gadget-filled, and fuller life for the average American citizen than ever before.

The ordinary super market, for instance, seems an incredible storehouse of edible luxuries: the row upon row of canned goods, the amazing frozen foods and the well-stocked butcher counter bring a gasp of amazement to those accustomed to Asian standards.

To find a stock of readily available, unrationed American cigarettes is a source of delight.

The building boom which has converted empty fields into well-planned communities in the suburbs of most cities is another remarkable trend in American living.

The average persons in cities visited seemed to own a new ranch house, or plan to buy one soon.

The high level of American standards was driven home.

Leaping Hound Dogs!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U)—Little Mickey Arledge, who is 4, is a lad who has to be shown. When he saw a dog the other day he cried to his mother, Mrs. Flora Arledge:

"Look at that big ole hound dog!" "That's not a hound, Mickey," said his mother. "It's a bird dog." Mickey eyed her skeptically. "Lemme see him fly," he said.

forcefully with a visit in Detroit to the new three bedroom home of a close relative.

Just three years out of school, he had purchased the sprawling, brick home on the G. I. bill, with 30 years to pay for it.

Inside his wife proudly displayed a giant refrigerator, a sink with a garbage disposal unit, an electric stove with a built-in exhaust fan and a 24-inch television set.

LIVING WELL

The "gadgets" were either installed by the builder and came with the house, she explained, or were bought on credit.

Most people visited across the country seemed to be living as well, and were just as deeply in debt.

Superhighways seem no less spectacular. The speed lanes of traffic and intricate clover-leaf designs seem to have changed the character of such cities as Los Angeles and Detroit.

Another striking aspect of American living is the growth of television. Everyone, it seems, owns a big, beautiful set and spends a fair portion of his leisure watching it.

The infectious grip of television is most evident to a person not accustomed to its lures. The result is a fascinated viewer who sits before the set for endless hours.

The string of television antenna masts seen across the country, even in trailer camps and in isolated rural areas, is standing testimony to the growth and apparent influence of this medium.

Construction of new, modern buildings across the breadth of the nation is also a notable aspect of America's change and growth.

However it is managed, Americans have an unparalleled standard of living, without realizing it.

Local Officials Told of Wrongs

Group's Annual Study of Traffic Activities Are Made Public at Meeting

A group of local officials yesterday afternoon heard what the National Safety Council thinks is wrong with traffic safety in Pontiac.

The Council's annual inventory of traffic safety activities was made public at a meeting headed by Mayor William W. Donaldson.

The Council had a lot to recommend, from more policemen to more posters in school.

It had praise for most of the city's safety achievements of 1950, but also pointed to the 16 traffic deaths which occurred, nine more than the average during the previous three years.

Two aspects of the city's safety program—public safety education and safety organization—have won certificates of achievement from the Council.

The Council also based its report on traffic injuries, traffic engineering, police traffic supervision, traffic courts and school traffic safety education.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley pointed out that the city's performance, according to the Council's statistics, was bettered last year in all categories except two.

These are traffic engineering—which was not judged here before last year—and deaths and injuries, which rose all over the nation last year.

"The record otherwise shows there is definite progress in safety here," Straley stated.

The report was explained by Cpl. H. L. Potter of the Redford State Police Post. He stressed a point made by the Council:

"If traffic conditions are to be improved in any community, it is essential the citizens understand the program and efforts of their officials, and also that they realize how much their own attitudes and habits contribute to street traffic experience."

Some of the more important recommendations made by the Council:

More funds for traffic engineering; more off-street parking, marked crosswalks, one way streets, and use of special pedestrian indications at corners; more turning restrictions at busy intersections; a progressive system of traffic lights.

Thirteen more officers on the police force with nine of them assigned to the Traffic Bureau; more arrests in hit-and-run accidents; and an attempt to gain more convictions for accident arrests, and especially more arrests for drunk driving.

Placing the violations bureau under the exclusive jurisdiction of Municipal Court by means of a city ordinance change.

More traffic safety instruction and projects for school children; greater participation in safety methods by parochial schools.

The report praised the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee and the results of monthly safety meetings of city officials.

COLONEL HONORED—Col. Richard D. Mudd, commander of the Tactical Hospital, 439th Fighter Bomber Wing, Selfridge Air Base was recently awarded an Armed Forces Reserve medal.

minating 30 years of service which included active duty in two wars. His tour of duty ranks with the outstanding Air Force achievements on record, according to top officials.

Sanity Tests Postponed for Nurse

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (INS)—Defense plans to have psychiatrists determine the sanity of Virginia B. Jaspers, 33-year-old private nurse who has admitted shanking three babies to death, were postponed indefinitely today.

Edward L. Reynolds, her attorney, said he was forced into the delay because Miss Jaspers' parents were unable to raise her $50,000 bail.

Although charged only with the technical offense of "idleness," the high bond was fixed in New Haven City Court Tuesday after the six-foot, 220-pound nurse admitted causing the deaths of three infants since 1948 and injuring three others.

Sobbing uncontrollably, the woman could give no reason for her acts beyond saying she sometimes lost her temper when children under her care "got on my nerves."

"I ought to be put in the electric chair," she said.

Today her lawyer declared: "If the bail can be raised and she could spend a few days at her home with her family, she would calm down enough for the examination."

Completes 30 Years of Service Officer Receives Decoration for Top Record at Selfridge

One of the Armed Forces Reserve's most unusual awards, the "Hour-Glass" Medal, went to one of Selfridge Field's top commanders upon the completion of 30 years of service recently.

Recipient of the medal was Col. Richard D. Mudd, commander of the Tactical Hospital, 439th Fighter Bomber Wing.

The accompanying citation outlined Col. Mudd's achievements between June 8, 1915, and June 7, 1945, when he served as head of the medical unit.

The award was made at a formal parade ceremony in which the Wing assembled to watch Col. John W. Richardson, 10th Air Force chief of staff, pin the award to Col. Mudd's uniform.

The officer's years of service include six in World I and World War II.

"His unusual achievements are among the most outstanding in Air Force records," Col. Richardson said in praising the medal.

winner's administrative and organizational ability.

Col. Mudd recently completed two weeks of active duty at Selfridge.

Among his previous decorations are the Legion of Merit and a letter of commendation from Brig. Felix Vidal for outstanding service since activation of the 439th.

They Say:

WASHINGTON (INS)—Labor Secretary James Mitchell: "I believe the workingmen of the country are going to vote for the Eisenhower administration, which has given them a high level of prosperity, real wages, jobs and other benefits."

GALVESTON, Tex. (INS)—Dr. G. A. W. Currie describing famed woman athlete Babe Didrikson Zaharias' fight against cancer: "She has shown that not only her physique has been one of the greatest of all times, she also is one of the world's indomitable spirits."

and athletic programs, and Maj. LeRoy Fulton, a Rochester school teacher. Maj. Dodson commands a squadron in the 439th Fighter Bomber Wing, which trained during the summer at Selfridge Air Force base with 120 reservists from Pontiac and Oakland County.

Brink's Jury Visits Holdup Scene

BOSTON (INS)—The all-male Brink's jury today was to visit the scene of the biggest cash robbery in history before the prosecution formally opens its case.

On trial for the $1,219,000 armed holdup are Joseph F. McGinnis, 53, whom the prosecution labels the "mastermind," and seven other men from the Greater Boston area.

Co-defendants with McGinnis are Anthony Pina, 48; John Adolph "Jazz" Maffie, 44; Vincent J. Costa, 41; Michael V. Gnan, 47; Henry Baker, 49; Thomas F. Richardson, 48, and James L. Fattery, 44.

Of 13 indictments returned in the case, McGinnis was named in all and is sole defendant in 10. The seven others were named in three.

VISIT COUNTING HOUSE

The jury first was scheduled to visit the Brink's counting house where a Halloween-masked gang staged an armed invasion Jan. 17, 1950, and held up three guards.

Also included on a two-hour

Detroit Hospitalized; Wife Admits Stabbing

DETROIT (INS)—A 40-year-old Detroit man in serious condition at Receiving Hospital today with stab wounds his wife said she inflicted after an argument stemming from her husband's jealousy.

The victim, Edwin Skiba, maintained, however, that he had injured himself when he fell on some glass.

His attractive wife, Joyce, 29, said the argument erupted last night when her husband arrived home from work in an angry state because he had been unable to reach her by telephone during the day.

Mrs. Skiba was held for investigation of felonious assault.

tour were stops at Commonwealth Pier in South Boston; Eggleston Square in Roxbury, near a cafe, owned by McGinnis; the Roxbury house in which Pino lived in 1950, and a Jamaica Plain house occupied by Maffie in 1950.

District Attorney Garrett H. Byrne indicated the first prosecution witnesses will include the three Brink's guards who were bound and gagged during the robbery. They are Thomas Lloyd, James Allen and Herman Pfaff.

Yesterday, after reading of indictments, requests for specifications and prosecution replies, Judge Felix Forte told the jurors:

"Bear in mind you have not as yet heard any evidence. Thursday you will be taken on a view. It is impossible to hear everything at one time. You will hear one thing at a time; one side at a time. Keep your mind open until you have heard all sides of various issues."

He also warned jurors not to discuss the case until it is given to them to consider.

Dredging Bids on Seaway Start

Amherstburg Channel Slated for Deepening to 27.5 Feet

DETROIT (INS)—The first phase of construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway in the Detroit area was launched today with the announcement that bids will be taken on dredging in the Detroit River.

The Detroit District of the Corps of Engineers said bids on dredging work in the Amherstburg Channel will be opened Oct. 2, with work expected to start not later than April, 1957.

The Great Lakes connecting channels project, of which the Amherstburg Channel is a part, authorizes the Army Corps of Engineers to deepen the channels between the upper lakes and make other improvements in connection with modernizing the 1,200-mile Great Lakes navigation system.

The channel is in the lower part of the Detroit River, opposite Amherstburg, Ont. It is about 45 miles downstream from Detroit on the Canadian side of the river.

The project calls for the channel to be deepened from its present average of about 21 feet to 27.5 feet.

Work on the 150-million-dollar connecting channels project was authorized by Congress last March.

The project will extend the full benefits of the seaway to ports west of Lake Erie.

The channels to be deepened in the Great Lakes include the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair River and the St. Mary's river.

All work is scheduled for completion in 1962.

Immigrant Boy Kills Aunt Near Bay City

BAY CITY (INS)—A 16-year-old immigrant boy from Austria shot and killed his great aunt early today and when captured later said that a voice had told him to "kill someone."

Rose Rumelfanger, 56, was shot to death while she slept in her country store, 25 miles from Bay City.

Her husband, Frank, also 56, woke after the shot and grappled with the boy, Nicholas Rumelfanger, who escaped after hitting the man with a chair.

The boy fled in his victim's car and was captured by State Police after he abandoned the auto. He was armed with a balpeen hammer and .32 caliber pistol. He had lost the .22 caliber rifle used in the shooting during the struggle with his great uncle.

Troopers said Nicholas appeared to be mentally disturbed.

IVAN GOES HOME—A crew member of a Soviet jet bomber IL-28 climbs into the plane's rear entranceway as it prepares to take off from Oranienburg, Germany. The return climaxed a farewell parade in the Soviet zone village by a Russian air division, recently withdrawn from "occupation duty." The Russians have announced plans to demobilize 1,200,000 men by May, 1957, including 33,500 troops stationed in Germany.

AWARD FOR INGENUITY—Oliver T. Williams (right), an employee in Pontiac Motor Division's axle plant, receives the final payment of a $2,500 suggestion award from General Manager Simon E. Knudsen (center). Williams was given an initial $1,250 a year ago when he suggested that engine manifold molds be moved along the line by air pushers, thus eliminating considerable manual labor. His first suggestion, it was made while he was employed in the division's foundry. Looking on at the left is his foreman, Adam Steinbach of 188 E. Rundell St.

Expert Pigeon Hunter Employs Sticky Methods

DEERLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — John Mahal is recognized as an authority on the job of eliminating pigeons from roofs.

He is working on a contract to chase the pigeons from the roof of the local Courthouse at the cost of $1,100. The process involves spreading a gummy substance on places used as roosts. He says staying on the sticky stuff, birds die. To get out of their predicament the birds have a tough time getting around. But the gelatin-like stuff spread with grease guns, does not kill the birds.

NEW YORK—Americans in 1955 bought $14,400,000,000 worth of new houses, for which they paid $8,900,000,000 in new mortgage money and $5,600,000,000 in cash. They also so raised $8,700,000,000 on their old houses and put between 2½ billion and three billion dollars of it into cash payments on new houses. They poured virtually all the rest

Rainmaking Explained

The Brahmin legends in Thailand hold that rainfall is caused by godly serpents known as Nagas. These supernatural creatures were born 1000 in number and were in the service of the Almighty Brahma. They live below the earth and work as rain givers. The amount of rainfall each year can be gauged from the number of Nagas assigned to the task. The more of them in service, however, the less rain, since each Nagas tries to shirk his job when in company but when he works alone, he can't evade his duty and works full time, making lots of rain.

Official Explains Private A-Plants

Manpower, Economic Factors Are Reasons
for Federal Giveaway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Both manpower and economic factors have caused the government to leave to private industry the development of full-scale atomic power plants, an official said today.

Louis H. Roddis, deputy director of reactor development for the Atomic Energy Commission, said the government has handled early experimental phases of the work "because it was felt that only the government could bear the initial financial burden of research and experimentation."

But as for full-scale plants, he said in an address prepared for the Ohio conference on peacetime uses of nuclear energy and radiation safety:

"The largest reservoirs of technical manpower qualified to work in the atomic energy field are now and will be employed in private industry."

Many of these technicians have been working under government contracts, he said, but added that "there is a better chance for assignment of the best qualified people" if the employing firms are risking their own capital than if they are working for the government on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis.

Roddis said that economy of construction and operation is a major factor in developing actual power plants and "it is particularly important that we keep before the builders and operators the incentive to do an efficient and inexpensive job."

Congress fought at length this year over a Democratic proposal that the government itself build sample producing power plants of various kinds to help provide its power needs and to spur development of the reactors. Roddis made no reference to defeat of that legislation in his prepared speech.

SHADES OF ORVILLE AND WILBUR — The novel craft, above, is actually a new concept in light aircraft. The English-designed plane, called the M. L. Light Aircraft Mark I, is expected to solve the expensive problem of storing and operating planes. The wing, which is an inflated fabric envelope, can be deflated after flight, rolled up into a bag and packed into the body of the craft. The body is then towed by car and stored in the family garage. The plane can take off within 70 yards, cruises at 58 mph and has a maximum speed of 68 mph.

Scientist Sees Antarctica Fully Inhabited; Some Day

LONDON (INS) — An eminent British explorer-scientist forecast yesterday atomic power might turn Antarctica into the world's "seventh habitable continent."

"If atomic-powered icebreakers can be built," Sir Raymond Priestley asked, "why not atomic-powered settlements on the Antarctic mainland?"

Priestley, 70, discussed the past and future of the continent in the presidential address to the 108th annual meeting of the British Assn., for the Advancement of Science.

He said "harnessing Antarctic gales is another possible source of power."

WAIT AWHILE

But he said permanent settlement in Antarctica must depend on a worthwhile economic objective. The latter, he said, "is not at the moment in sight."

Priestley said he believes for the remainder of this century Antarctica will be the scene of explorations and experiments but no settlement will be tried.

Priestley spoke at length about the strategic importance of the continent in event of atomic war.

The importance of Antarctica as a naval and air base, he said, is

French Names Illegal for All Vietnamese

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Nam government today decreed that citizens of this former French colony will have to find new first names if their present ones are French.

The decree was another effort of the independent republic to wipe out remaining French influence.

Many Vietnamese students who attended French schools during the period of France's rule acquired French first names.

2 Forest Fires Reported

LANSING (AP) — Only two forest fires were reported in Michigan during the past week, causing damage to slightly more than 15 acres, the State Conservation Department reported. The fires boosted the year's damage total to 2,302 acres.

Cypriots Doubt British Evidence

Rebels Claim Forgery
at Papers Accusing
Makarios of Conspiracy

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The EOKA underground cried forgery last night at documents the British say tab Archbishop Makarios as the director of the violence campaign against Britain's rule over Cyprus.

The British replied they are "convinced the documents are genuine."

EOKA leaflets, scattered last night in the port city of Limassol charged "scum who are prepared to accept money" forged and distributed the papers to slander the underground fighting to unite this Mediterranean island with Greece.

British officials announced Monday they had seized the documents and said they included portions of the diary of the EOKA leader "Digenis," whom the British have identified as former Greek army colonel, George Grivas.

Britain charged the documents established that the EOKA chief-ain acted under the personal direction of the exiled archbishop. Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox Boyd said he was absolutely satisfied as to the authenticity of the papers.

The EOKA reply challenged the British account of the seizure of the documents, the type of paper on which they were written and whether they were signed. They quoted Digenis as saying he had "left no diaries in any hiding place."

Hung Jury Frees Man Accused of Drunk Driving

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Donald E. Wren, 21, was freed of a drunk driving charge yesterday because a jury discharged itself without reaching a verdict.

The jury retired to deliberate Wren's case at 5 p.m. last Thursday. Judge Rodney Scott instructed the jury to leave a sealed verdict, if one was reached, because he was going home for the night.

The jury went home later leaving a sealed envelope for the judge. In the morning, Judge Scott found the envelope contained a note saying the jury couldn't agree.

Judge Scott ruled yesterday that the jury had discharged itself and was not qualified to deliberate further. He held that trial of Wren would constitute double jeopardy.

One Bottle Too Many

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. (AP) — Harvey Dean Campbell, 38, testified in Livingston County Magistrate's Court that strong winds and mechanical difficulties caused his automobile to waver along the highway. After all, he said, he'd only drunk one bottle. "Bottle of what?" prosecuting attorney J. P. Morgan asked. "Gin," said Campbell. He paid a fine.

Labor Day Picnic Should Be Gala

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

One last thing before school starts, and the old familiar fall and winter routine sets in; that's one excuse for Labor Day. Let's have a bang-up picnic and really celebrate.

We are thinking of having a different kind of Labor Day picnic at our house. We're going to have a breakfast picnic. We'll make it a family affair. Our children can see that the guests' children are served while the Better Half and yours truly can concentrate on the grown-ups.

A big tray of fruit, a platter of bacon, some homemade coffee cake and gallons of coffee will take care of the food end. The Better Half can preside at the pancake griddle. It should be fun.

Perhaps you will prefer a picnic meal later in the day. Fine; do it at a time that is easiest for you.

Have you tried the new canned tropical fruit punch for a picnic easy as possible. And have fun

Make your food preparation as beverage? Carry it in plastic pouring containers embedded in crushed ice in a carrying container. Take along plenty of paper cups for everyone to have as many drinks as desired.

How about corn on the cob for this picnic? Try roasting it in the ashes. Remove the shucks, wrap the ears in aluminum foil after putting a pat of butter and salt and pepper in each package. Fold the foil in a drug store fold and twist the ends. Bake in ashes or hot coals about 20 minutes.

Here are three spreads to serve with corn. Try them all and let your guests decide the one they like the best.

Sesame Seed Spread

1/2 cup margarine
2 tablespoons sesame seed, toasted
Softened margarine at room temperature. Add toasted sesame seed and mix thoroughly. Serve with hot corn on the cob. Makes 1/2 cup spread.

Butter and Bacon Whip

1/2 pound butter
4 slices bacon
Whip 1/2 pound butter, with fork. Pan fry and crumble 6 slices bacon. Fold into butter. Serve with hot corn on the cob.

Butter And Blue Cheese Whip

1/2 pound butter
1 tablespoon Blue Cheese Spread
Whip together with a fork 1/2 pound butter and 1 tablespoon Blue Cheese spread. Serve with hot corn on the cob.

You're always interested in new sandwich spreads, I'm sure. Both of the following spreads may be made early and chilled until they are needed. Let your guests assemble their own sandwiches, of course.

This first spread calls for chicken livers. You can buy them frozen.

Pickle Chicken Liver Spread

1/2 pound chicken livers
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped sweet fresh cucumber
1/2 cup pickles
1/2 cup prepared mustard
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons pickle liquid
1/2 teaspoon salt

Saute chicken livers in butter or margarine 10 minutes, or until tender. Chop chicken livers. Combine chicken livers and remaining ingredients; mix well and chill. Spread on butter bread or rolls, as desired. Makes 1 1/2 cups spread.

Swiss Cheese Pickle Sandwich Spread

2 cups grated processed Swiss cheese (about 1/2 pound)
1/2 cup chopped sweet pickles
1/2 cup chopped canned pimientos
2 tablespoons sweet pickle liquid
Mayonnaise
Buttered bread slices
Combine cheese, pickles, pimi-

Berry Preserves, Butter Crumbs Top Coffee Cake

Here's a luscious topping for a quick bread.

Strawberry Crumb Coffee Cake

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup strawberry preserves
Crumb Topping
Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, sugar and vanilla. Beat in egg thoroughly.

Lightly beat in flour, alternately with milk, in 4 additions; beat only until smooth after last addition. Turn into greased baking pan (9 by 9 by 1 1/2 inches).

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 20 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Do not remove cake from pan; spread top with strawberry preserves; sprinkle with Crumb Topping. Broil slowly until topping is golden brown—about 10 minutes. Cut in squares in pan and remove with wide spatula. Serve warm.

Crumb Topping
Mix one-third cup flour well with 2 tablespoons sugar; cut in 3 tablespoons butter or margarine until combined.

Keep Your Eye On The Flying Saucer

WATCH THE PONTIAC PRESS for announcement important to every pocketbook in this area!

Here's a good way to prepare liver, onions and bacon. Cook the onions in butter or margarine in a skillet until they are limp and golden; remove from the pan and keep hot. Now cook the bacon in the skillet until crisp; remove and keep hot.

Dip liver slices in seasoned flour and fry in bacon fat; after the liver has been turned and is almost done, put the onions over the slices and finish cooking. Serve topped with the crisp bacon.

Food Storage Trick
Storing leftover food in a small bowl in the refrigerator? Place the bowl in the center of a good-sized piece of waxed paper. Bring up edges of paper so they meet; make a drugstore fold. Fold remaining ends of waxed paper under the bowl. Neat package!

New Cheese Filling
That lunchbox favorite, American cheese, can be made into an elegant salad-type filling. Shred the cheese and add chopped celery and chopped, blanched almonds. Mix with mayonnaise or salad dressing.

Sandwich Favorite
Serve an All American Favorite sandwich this month. Just stack up thin slices of roast beef and an onion slice on an enriched hamburger bun; spread with butter or margarine and catsup.

enters and pickle liquid. Add enough mayonnaise to moisten and mix well. Spread on bread to make sandwiches. Makes about 2 cups spread.

As a change from the usual kabob—you know, a whole meal on a stick—try making a fish-kabob. Keep this recipe handy for Friday meals all during the year. It is just as good cooked indoors as out.

Fishkabobs

Use long skewers, the kind you find in the household department of hardware and department stores. Be sure that the coals are hot and glowing, but not flaming. On each skewer, alternate any combination of the following: Scallop, tomato wedges, shrimp, onion slices, pieces of white-fleshed fish fillets, green pepper pieces. (It's best to plan on two kinds of vegetables, two kinds of fish. The above are merely suggestions.)

Baste with French dressing, and place on rack or hold over hot coals. Turn several times, basting with each turn. Grill about ten minutes.

If you are picnicking in the back yard, here is an idea for a salad that is yummy. Make the gelatin ring early in the day and fill with chicken salad just before serving.

You can take gelatin salads to the park. Wrap the mold in foil and set it on a bed of crushed ice in a bucket or large pan. Take along the makings for the chicken salad and put them together when you are ready to eat.

Chicken Supper Salad

3 cans (5-ounce each) boned chicken or turkey
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/4 cups chopped celery
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup chopped stuffed olives or sweet pickles
Salt and black pepper, if desired

Mix contents of cans of boned chicken with eggs, celery, mayonnaise and olives; season to taste. Chill. Serve in center of ring of gelatin salad on crisp salad greens: 2 packages lemon or lime flavored gelatin
2 cups finely shredded cabbage

LABOR DAY PICNIC—Make corn on the cob the star of your Labor Day Picnic. Serve it with a whipped butter spread flavored with bacon or cheese and watch your guests come back for more. Keep your menu simple, do as much work ahead of time as possible and enlist the help of family and guests at serving time.

Apple Juice Is Fine Thirst Quencher

Do you get hungrier or thirstier at a picnic? Moot question, isn't it?

Prepare gelatin as directed on package; chill until slightly thickened. Fold in remaining ingredients; pour into a 3-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with mint, watercress, lettuce or endive. Makes 8 delicious servings.

For dessert why not bake a cake? It is so easy to carry, everyone likes cake, and today's mixes make cake making a simple affair.

Devil's Mint Cake

Sounds mysterious? Not at all. Start with a Chocolate Devils Food Cake Mix, bake and cool, then top with a fluffy white frosting tinted a pale green and flavored with 1/4 tsp. peppermint extract. Sprinkle with small bits of crushed peppermint, then sit back and listen to your friends rave.

You'll be having more picnics during the fall, we know. But make the one this weekend a super-duper affair.

MAKE OVER PAGES

Apple Juice 'n' Ginger Ale
Combine three cups of chilled apple juice with one and a half cups of cold ginger ale.

Pour over ice cubes into tall glasses, garnish each with a long-stemmed maraschino cherry. Makes four servings. (It's better to make additional quantities as needed than to open the ginger ale in advance.)

Use Canned Soft Drinks in Gelatin, Puddings
As good as canned soft drinks are when served simply in their own frosty containers with a pretty straw slipped into an opening, they lend themselves to other food combinations. A zesty pickup is added to gelatin desserts, sherbets, tapioca puddings and dessert toppings when canned soft drinks are substituted for their liquid and sweetening ingredients.

To Store Pimientos:

When you open a 4-ounce can or jar of pimientos and use only one, you can keep the remainder for a couple of weeks if you add a half teaspoon of vinegar to their liquid and store them, tightly covered, in the refrigerator.

WCTU Unit Has Picnic in Clarkston

Speaker Describes the Organization of YTC Groups

Mrs. Edgar Carvey of Clarkston was hostess to the Emor L. Calkins Unit, WCTU, Tuesday. Mrs. Robert Beach of Ortonville assisted her mother at the annual picnic.

Devotions on the theme, "Prayer," were given by Mrs. Rhoda Ruby, who used Bible references to show the importance and power of prayer. Reports were given by Mrs. B. C. McCoy and Mrs. Sue Long.

Mrs. Frank Hardenburg, president, appointed a committee to nominate officers for the coming year. Mrs. Ruby will be assisted by Mrs. Ada Schreck in compiling the list.

Speaker for the day was Hazel Green, state corresponding secretary for state YTC organizations. She was introduced by Mrs. Sadie Patten. A report on the activities of YTC in the state and on the new chapters being formed in the area was given by Miss Green.

She also told of the recent YTC convocation in Shelby, where state officers held instruction classes for delegates.

An explanation was given of the procedure in forming a YTC chapter, beginning with a minimum of seven members, followed by selection of leaders and instruction in promoting temperance.

She mentioned the Ethel Little YTC group in Pontiac and the Sadie Patten group in Royal Oak as examples.

Mention was also made of organized groups of younger children, called Loyal Temperance Leagues.

Following a money-making project within the group, Mrs. William Holthusen was accepted as a new member. Mrs. Robert McCoy and Mrs. Roy Heuser were guests.

Marriage Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore of South Shirley avenue announce the Aug. 11 marriage of their daughter, Joyce Ann, to Emmett Schmidt. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt of Beaver Island.

The idea of rhinestone raindrops on a raincoat, popular this year, is equally applicable to shower curtains.

least hear about, others who have successfully coped with a similar problem.

That is why I am always on the lookout for stories of older people who are successfully engaged in a bread-and-butter hobby.

To the despairing in their sixties and seventies, who are afraid life is over, there is no such tale as the case history of a couple just like themselves to whom life is anything but over. Need. She was brought up in Mr. and Mrs. M. in New Jersey fit into this tonic category.

They are both 71 and have launched a part-time project which brings in those extra dollars that provide for luxuries. More important than that, it makes them feel young in heart again because they feel they are filling a real need for other people.

LIFE WORTHWHILE
This is the thing that makes life worth living for all of us.

Mr. and Mrs. M. have a mending service.

Mrs. M. is an expert with her the era of thrift when things were mended year after year.

As she explained, "I get a real glow of satisfaction when I've made something look like new again."

PICKUP SERVICE

Mr. M. has a car and likes to drive and meet people so he does the pickup and delivery without which their service could not have flourished.

"It began when I offered my services to a local laundry," Mrs. M. told me. "They needed someone to do special mending for bachelors."

"Then we put a small ad in the paper and got some private customers. Some were business women and some were bachelors but increasingly we are getting business from busy young mothers who need things mended for the children and can't find the time to do it."

MODERATE FEES
"Our fees are very moderate so almost anyone can afford us."

FOUR-HOUR 'SHIFT'
"I work about four hours a day

—sometimes while we sit and listen to the radio in the evening. Then I usually go with Jim when he picks up and delivers."

It's so much more fun to be taking a drive with a real purpose than just the time-killing kind most of our friends go in for."

If you have any friends who are getting more fun out of life because they have an absorbing hobby or business, won't you write and tell me about them so I can share their experience with my readers?

And if you would like to start a business of your own and don't know how to begin, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this paper and I will send you a copy of my pamphlet, "How to Set Up a Home Service."

Furniture Styles for Babies Revamped, Especially Crib

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — Babies and parents too—never had it so good since furniture makers decided to make a play for the nursery trade.

Besides many conveniences tucked right in the design of the new baby furniture, decorator-conscious mothers and dads get a lift from the lines and colors of the latest cribs, chests and chairs.

What is probably the most important piece of baby equipment—the crib—is really getting a going over by the furniture men.

Cribs now come with built-in music boxes, are collapsible so they may be pushed through doorways, are sized to fit the back seat of a car, and come in decorator colors with contemporary legs and hand-painted decorations.

MUSIC BOXES TOO

The music boxes are sometimes installed in the head or foot board trickiest is installed at the base of the drop side and is wound by the motion of raising the side when baby is put to bed.

Collapsible cribs, full six-year size, have special end bars which make the ends and sides fold together when the mattress and spring is removed.

There is a special crib, a little wider than standard, which has telescoping legs and a special half-drop side so when baby is traveling in the back seat of the car it can be tended with ease from the front seat.

The trend toward decorator colors and contemporary styles, is an answer to the same demand which makes a mother dress her children in high styled clothes.

A clever safety device introduced this year at the Southwestern Furniture Market in Dallas is an adjustable baby walker which gives novice step-takers a chance

Beware 'Pasty' Look

Whatever a baby's coloration, he ought not to look pasty. And a dark child can look just as pasty, under his color, as a fair child. This sick-looking color may mean that he doesn't get out enough or get enough sleep and play.

Bread Stays Fresh
 To prevent sandwich bread from drying out, keep slices stacked and in a pan lined with a damp cloth and covered with wax paper; then cover sliced bread with wax paper and a damp cloth. Store this in the refrigerator. Fancy sandwiches can be cut ahead and stored in the same manner.
 Remember a two-pound sandwich loaf of white bread cuts 28 one-half inch slices or 36 three-eighths inch slices.

Few Modern Day Women Marry to Get Meal Ticket
Men Who Think So Are Behind Times; Most Brides Work to Help Husbands
 By RUTH MILLETT
 Any woman, however rushed, ought to allow some time in her busy schedule for kindness. It's smart for a woman to be able to manage a job and a home.

It's splendid of a woman to do a great deal for her family. But she is leading a narrow, self-centered life if she doesn't reserve a little time for doing things for others.

The woman who meant to visit a sick friend but never got around to it, who meant to send over a hot dish to the neighbor who had a death in the family, who meant to invite to her home the newcomer she met and whose loneliness she sensed but never found the time to ease isn't being a whole woman. By tradition, women are the ones who take time for small kindnesses, who remember and do something about the troubles of others, who keep in touch with friends whether they live close by or at a distance.

WOMAN'S OBLIGATION
 If the woman of the family doesn't do these things they are usually left undone, and the woman herself and her whole family feel the difference.

A family's closeness to others, the number and intimacy of its friendships, its feeling of being a part of the community, all rest on the human touch.

Too many women today can find time for a beauty shop appointment every week, but no time to visit the sick.

They find time for self-improvement courses, but no time to improve the lot of others.

They find time for doing everything for their children—much of which their children could and should be doing for themselves—but no time for anyone else's child.

Such close-to-home living makes for selfishness and detachment. It's bad for a woman's personality and growth and bad for her family.

No matter how busy you are, remember to reserve a little time each week for kindness that goes beyond the walls of your own home.

Bead Curtains Back

Beaded curtains are back—as decorations for other curtains. At the recent International Home Furnishings Show in Chicago, one showroom featured a bead curtain of black wood beads knotted on black cord in front of beige silk drapes.

The back-to-school crowd is taking with them felt motifs from the five-and-dime counters. In amusing shapes and good colors, they are being used on skirts and sweaters.

She herself wears one—a little jeweled hand—and sometimes she tucks the charm into her skirt pocket, so that the belt looks like a belt with watch-fob chain attached.

Chanel skips most other trimmings, however, except for her favored gold buttons on simple jersey suits. She explains:

ACCENTS FUNCTIONAL
 "Clothes must not be fussy. Buttons that aren't functional and bows that don't fasten anything

Pictured as they danced together at last night's dinner dance held in Dayton, Ohio honoring Charles F. Keetering on his 80th birthday are Mrs. C. E. Wilson and the honoree, Mr. Keetering. More than 1200 persons were on hand for the affair from the state and nation honoring the scientist and inventor.

Good-Luck News for Fall

PARIS (INS).—A good luck charm on the end of your belt is Gabrielle Chanel's prescription for dress trimming next fall.

The famed Paris designer, who's been a "name" in fashion for nearly 40 years, puts the good luck charms on a long gold chain belt, with the charm attached to the dangling end.

For a 1936 twist, Chanel makes some suits in imitation fur, accented only by buttons that really button or by the good-luck charm belts.

outfitting yourself for school this fall?
To get the answer to this question and related ones our interviewers went to 46 colleges in 43 states and sampled shopping lists for nearly 2,000 coeds. In addition to looking into buying habits of grammar and school students, survey teams visited such campuses as Vassar, Bryn Mawr, Radcliffe, University of California, Connecticut, Chicago, Nebraska, Oregon, Wellesley, Cornell, Duke, Iowa State, Temple, Syracuse, Purdue, Florida State, Alabama, Kansas, Maine, Texas, Carnegie Tech., Indiana, Missouri and many others. We were concerned largely with coed buying habits because girls usually spend about twice as much as boys in outfitting themselves at the college level.

Champion buyers (and gift recipients) in the back-to-school-set are high school graduates heading off to their first term of college.
This group numbering between 250,000 and 260,000 spends an average of $156.22 each in preparation for college—nearly twice as much as their brothers or boyfriends spend.
This represents a total market of around $118,000,000, showing the enormous buying power in the back-to-school group.
High school and grammar school children spend far less—between $30 and $55 in preparing for the fall term.
Due to population increases in this young group, pre-school shopping will affect 41,000,000 people this year—up one third from five years ago.
Our survey shows that 40 per cent of the families of male and female freshmen expect to spend more money in back-to-school buying this than they did last year.
Also, 17 per cent of the parents of high school sophomores, juniors and seniors, and 43 per cent of the parents of high school freshmen planned to spend more than last year.
Let's take a look at the big spenders in the back-to-school movement: the girls beginning college. What will they be buying mostly and where will the money come from?
FATHER FOOTS BILLS
They found that freshmen coeds spend an average $386.33 for wearing apparel, $44.28 to decorate and outfit their rooms, and $25.61 for work and play items like cameras, stationery, radios and fountain pens.
A Midwest coed showed us a typical shopping list. It included every kind of apparel and accessory from lingerie to umbrella and wound up with a wallet—probably on the theory the old one would be worn out at the end of the shopping tour.
Another facet of the whole back-to-school movement, and a rather recent phenomenon, is the amount of influence young people—girls in particular—have on purchases made for them by their parents. Coupled with this is the amount of shopping done independently by young girls.
A survey of girls in the lower high school grades shows that 23 per cent buy their own clothes and personal items, 68 per cent shopped with a parent and only 9 per cent have their shopping done for them.
Among girls in the upper high school grades, the statistics are even more revealing. Here 48 per cent shopped by themselves and 49 per cent were accompanied by a parent. But 90 per cent of those who shopped with a parent said the final choice was with the teenager.
The younger group admitted some influence on the part of a parent, but claimed a strong voice in the final decision.
A more detailed analysis of purchases made by girls beginning college showed that only one out of seven bought an evening gown and only one out of 12 bought evening slippers. This did not mean college social life was in decline. Four out of five purchased dresses, and the same number equipped themselves with dressy high heels.

A college co-ed, Jan Sterling of Kansas City, Mo., checks her list against possibilities for her fall wardrobe. A junior this year at Colorado College in Colorado Springs and not quite 20 years old, she is planning to spend $200 to $250 for her going to school outfit. She works in the summer as salesgirl, at a swimming pool and elsewhere, spends own money on clothes.

Called Rude for Secrecy About Dress

Impolite One Was Friend Who Asked Name of Store
By EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: "Recently I bought an expensive and very different dress. After having worn it and having received many compliments because of it, a friend of mine asked where I had bought it.
"I refused to tell her, saying the reason I bought the dress was because it different and there were only two or three of this particular model. She was quite surprised at my attitude and told friends that she thought I was very rude and selfish.
"Because we do have many friends in common, I felt I was justified in not telling her. Was I wrong in handling the situation as I did?"
Answer: No you were not. The person who was rude was your friend. It is never considered good manners to copy a friend whom you see a great deal—in fact, you try to avoid it.
Dear Mrs. Post: "A friend of mine is to be married in three weeks and I understand the invitations have been sent out, but I did not receive one.
"I can't understand it as she spoken to me often of her forthcoming wedding and from what she said, I took it for granted that I was to be among the invited guests. Will you please tell me if there is anything I can do about this?"
"I would not dream of going to the wedding without an invitation, and yet, on the other hand, if an invitation was sent, and lost, she might think it strange that I did not go to her wedding."
Answer: If it is a large wedding and she a really intimate friend, you would ask her, of course. But if it is a very small wedding and she is only an acquaintance, you should not ask her and you would not go to the wedding.
Why don't teen-agers realize that love is for two people and loses something when it has an audience?
