Families Flee in Zero Weather, bbt No Trace of 4 Thought Trapped

SALINE (AP) — A mother and three small children were believed to have perished today in a fire which destroyed three buildings in the heart of this southeastern community, near Ann Arbor, of 1,533.

Three other families were forced from their homes in zero temperatures.

The buildings contained a bar, hardware store, plumbing shop and five-and-ten store in their first floors. Four apartments were spread across the second floors.

Missing were Mrs. Barbara Gibson and her children: Diane, 3; David, 1½, and Gary, 5 months.

Firemen said the blaze started in a bar owned by George Malinczak, immediately below the Gibsons' apartment. Malinczak estimated his loss at $25,000 to $30,000. No other loss estimates were available immediately.

Saline's call for help brought fire fighters from four neighboring communities, but water froze almost to the nozzle mouth as it spewed into the zero temperatures.

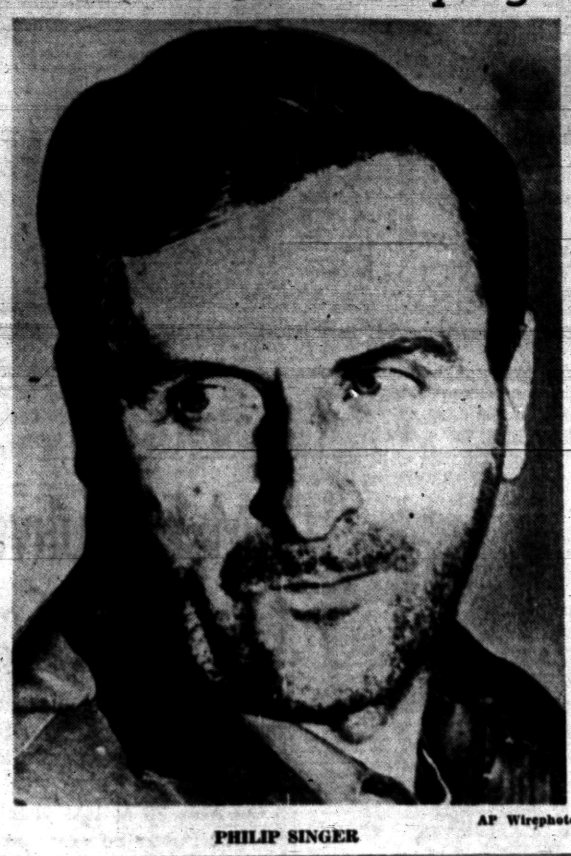

Only the shells of the brick buildings were left. Cause of the blaze wasn't immediately determined.

Mrs. Gertrude Rankin, who occupied one of the four second-story apartments with her son, Edward, 14, said she was awakened by smoke at 2:45 a.m.

Mrs. Rankin, part owner of a nearby restaurant, said she thought she had heard babies crying in

PHILIP SINGER

Police Claim Suspect Knows Secret Details

Detroit Bachelor, 38, Tells of Attacking, Slaying Girl in January, 1953

DETROIT (AP)—The signed statement of a 38-year-old bachelor was studied by police today in what they believe may be the climax of Detroit's most intensive manhunt.

Detective Lt. Glenn Coller said Philip J. Singer signed a formal statement admitting in detail the Jan. 2, 1953, slaying of 18-year-old JoAnn Gillespie.

The discovery of the girl's body, raped and beaten, in an alley near her home, electrified Detroit at the time and has baffled police ever since.

More than 6,000 persons had been questioned in the crime, among them Singer, and then released.

Several persons have admitted to the crime, but none of their stories has held up under investigation. In Singer's case, Chief Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Garber said.

" I won't go out on a limb and say this crime is solved. This needs considerable investigation. I will ask the police department to devote time and effort to substantiate this confession."

But Coller said, "The reason that I would stake my life that this is the real slayer is because he told us three details that only the murderer would or could know."

Coller did not say what the details were.

They put Singer on the polygraph—the lie detector. The head of the Homicide Bureau said:

"It was the most startling polygraph test I've ever seen. When we asked him about the offense for which he was arrested, and he answered, it showed a straight line.

"When we asked if he killed JoAnn, the line jumped all over.

"We showed him the results. We showed him he had lied about the hotel.

"Finally, he said, 'Yes, I did it. I want to tell you all about it'."

Singer, described by Coller as a "meek and mild" man, lives across the street from the alley where the young girl's body was found.

She was on her way home from a movie called "Appointment With Danger," near midnight of Jan. 2, 1953. She had parted with a girl friend who accompanied her. Then suddenly, someone grabbed Frigid arctic air will continue to clamp an icy grasp over Pontiac and the entire northern half of the nation for another two days, the Weather Bureau reports.

The season's coldest weather last night helped shove the thermometer at Pontiac Municipal Airport to four degrees below zero, while in downtown Pontiac the mercury plummeted to 1 above.

The forecast is for a low tonight from four degrees to zero, with chances of accompanying snow. Tomorrow's high is expected to range from 8 to 12 degrees. Wednesday night's low is predicted to reach zero also.

Emergency road service stations continued to report a rash of calls to aid stalled cars.

The entire state was in the sub-zero or zero belt this morning as the icy air extended from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast.

The deep freeze of the nation existed in northern New York and New England where the mercury plunged to readings between 20 to 50 below zero.

Back in Michigan, Bad Axe had the state's low last night with a -15, Sault Ste. Marie reported -14, Oscoda -5, Flint-4, and Grand Marais -7.

The frigid air in the eastern half of the country was expected to bring the coldest weather of the season as far south as Georgia and northern sections of the Gulf Coast states.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 1 above. At 2 p.m., the mercury registered 12 degrees.

Rash Arraigned in Wife Shooting

Rochester Man Pleads Innocent to 1st Degree Murder Charge

A Rochester man, L. J. Rash, 52, faces trial within a month on charges he shot his wife, Nina, 48, to death as she returned home from a weekend of alleged drinking.

Rash, who Rochester police say admitted the crime, yesterday pleaded innocent at arraignment before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams on a charge of first-degree murder.

He was returned to Oakland County Jail to face trial, authorities said, probably during the present circuit court jury session. Rash has been held at the jail since the shotgun shooting early Nov. 26, a Monday morning.

Four witnesses have testified they were with the woman as she returned home to 313 Woodward Ave. about 2:30 a.m. They testified the shooting occurred as she opened the front screen door.

4 TELL OF SHOOTING

Rash opened the inside door, they testified, with the gun in his hand, saying, "I've had enough of this." Then he fired once, striking his wife in the chest, they testified.

The testimony was taken at preliminary examination before Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green Jan. 8. Rash did not testify, nor did he back up his initial story to police that he fired in anger as his wife refused to order her friends away from the door.

A factory worker, Rash turned himself in immediately after the shooting, police said. They quoted him as saying then his wife had a record of "running around" and, "I couldn't stand it any more."

Ike Plans Aid for Farmers

Pueblo Next Stop in Drought Tour

TUCSON, Ariz. (INS) — President Eisenhower took off from Davis Monohan Air Force Base at Tucson today at 7:58 a.m. (MST) and headed for Pueblo, Colo., in his tour of the drought area.

Eisenhower was readying proposals for stepped-up federal aid to suffering farmers and ranchers today even before he reached the end of his drought inspection tour.

The Chief Executive, aides reported, has been deeply impressed by what he has seen thus far and is convinced the government must do more to help drought victims hold on to their land.

He will spell out some of his ideas in general terms late today when he addresses a regional drought conference in Wichita before flying back to Washington.

The President's route today carried him through drought-ravaged Colorado and Kansas, where some farmers haven't harvested a paying crop of wheat since 1952.

Before taking off from Tucson, Eisenhower held a breakfast conference with Arizona farm leaders at Davis Monohan Air Force Base, where he spent the night.

There he heard proposals for additional federal help to hard-hit ranchers in Arizona, where agricultural experts call the drought the worst in 700 years.

Eisenhower talked farmer-to-farmer with drought victims in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico on the first leg of his inspection tour yesterday.

He saw half-starved cattle kept alive on prickly pine cactus, once prosperous Oklahoma wheatlands that haven't produced a crop in four years and powdery New Mexico soil ready to billow into clouds of dust with the first spring winds.

At each stop the President chatted animatedly with farmers and ranchers, recalling his own farm experiences as a youth and on his 496 acres at Gettysburg.

He pledged that the government will do its best to help

His Job: Traffic Offenders

Poor Driving Record Hits Probation Officer

A probation officer for traffic offenders who might have been one of his own cases was ruled out today by two Oakland County officials.

John L. Witherup, county personnel director, and Arthur P. McKenna, chief probation officer, will ask for the resignation of Leo F. Coyle, because of his bad driving record.

Coyle was hired Jan. 2 to handle the probation of traffic offenders from municipal and justice courts in the county.

That same day his license was suspended for 60 days by the Michigan Secretary of State for habitual negligence.

"Due to the nature of his job, we felt this was the only course," Witherup said today. He and McKenna learned yesterday of Coyle's traffic record.

Coyle's name turned up on weekly report of suspension and revocation of drivers' licenses, issued by the Secretary of State.

A check with that department yesterday revealed that following two tickets for driving with one headlight and running a red light, Coyle received two speeding tickets in July.

Nov. 11 he was placed on six months good driving behavior by the Secretary of State's office at a re-examination hearing. His 60-day suspension followed an Oct. 29 speeding ticket in Birmingham.

Coyle's $4,355 a year position was created after an Oakland County Circuit Court ruling that justice court probationary sentences were illegal without a probation officer.

A student at University of Detroit where he expects to take his degree in June, Coyle, 27, lives at 640 Fourth St.

Coyle said today he would fight the suspension in Lansing, if possible.

"I don't intend to resign immediately if there's anyway to get the ruling changed," he said.

He declined to discuss details before "talking the whole thing over" with McKenna and Witherup.

He explained, though, he had received notice of the suspension through the mails several days after getting the job Jan. 2.

'The FBI Story' — Eighth in a Series

Al Capone -- Target of Bureau in 20's

Editor's note: The following article is the eighth in a series of daily highlights on the activities and history of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Taken from Don Whitehead's new book, "The FBI Story," today's account is one of 30 which will appear each day in the pages of The Pontiac Press.

By DON WHITEHEAD

Gangsters shot and bribed their way into places of power in the Roaring Twenties and the FBI was virtually powerless to deal with such hoodlums as Alphonse "Scarface" Capone, overlord of Chicago's underworld.

These were the years in which the gangsters created their own invisible empires through unholy alliances with crooked politicians, crooked lawyers, crooked doctors and crooked police.

The gangsters' revenues from bootleg whisky, beer, alcohol, robberies, prostitution, gambling, narcotics and protection rackets ran to uncounted hundreds of millions of dollars.

Curiously, the FBI was powerless to move against these underworld empires unless and until the gangs violated a federal law, such as the Antitrust Act, which forbids restraint of interstate commerce.

Capone was virtually untouchable for years. But finally the FBI produced the evidence that got him a contempt of court charge when he failed to appear as a witness in a prohibition case in Chicago.

While he was serving six months in jail he was charged with income tax evasion. The one-time bawdyhouse errand boy couldn't beat this rap. He was sent to prison for 10 years.

The reason for the rise of gangsterism in the 1920s is still disputed—but there is no dispute that its beginning coincided with the nation's letdown after the war and with the arrival of national Prohibition.

Millions of Americans didn't want Prohibition, and the bootlegger stepped in to supply the demand for spirits.

With their huge treasuries, the gangsters corrupted city officials, police and federal agents. A $44-a-week Prohibition agent or policeman could earn hundreds of dollars a week merely by looking the other way at the right time.

The truth was that the public, generally, was apathetic about crime, even though homicides in 1926 had reached the staggering rate of 12,000 a year. Gangland massacres were commonplace.

POLICE STYMIED

In the Chicago area alone during 30 months of 1924-26, there were 92 gangland murders and 90 per cent of them were unsolved.

In this wave of lawlessness, Hoover received the shocking report that FBI Special Agent Edward B. Shanahan had been shot and killed by a professional automobile thief named Martin James Durkin. For the first time an FBI agent had been killed in line of duty.

Hoover called in an aide, "We've got to get Durkin," he said. "If one man from the Bureau is killed, and the killer is permitted to get away, our agents will never be safe."

The hunt began. Durkin killed a policeman and wounded another in Chicago. The FBI traced him to California, Arizona, New Mexico and into Texas.

Offers Village Doomed Caribou Inn

Proposal to Move Old Building Given to Board of Zoning in Clarkston

Ernie Felice, owner of the Cari- to give the century old landmark to give the century old landmark to the village, to be moved to a more suitable location.

The offer came as a surprise at last night's Village council meeting, when the matter was referred to the Independence Township Zoning Board of Appeals.

The Caribou Inn has been a controversial problem to Clarkston people for many months, due to the 25-year lease signed by Felice with the Socony-Mobile Oil Co. for a gas station on the present location.

Several residents have made efforts to interest philanthropists in rejuvenating the building, but have met with no success.

Felice invited any persons or organizations to inspect the building, and said, "If the village wants the building for Historical reasons, they may have it — to be moved and anyone may go through the building at anytime for an inspection tour."

All but one abutting property owner of the Inn has signed the necessary petitions allowing the construction of the gas station on the property. According to law, 80 per cent of abutting property owners must sign before a gas station can be constructed on that location, due to zoning restrictions.

Mayor Edward Thompson said that the matter was progressing in the proper manner, and a decision should be reached before long.

Other business of the council included the resignation of Lloyd McGee, who has served on the council for 14 years. Jerome Willford has been appointed to fill the vacancy until the March 11 election.

Stern Penalties for Union Battle

Sentence 4 County Men on Jurisdiction Fight at Grand Blanc in May

Four Oakland County men were among a half-dozen officials of Detroit Riggers Local 575 who were heavily sentenced yesterday for their part in a bloody battle over union jurisdiction at the Grand Blanc Fisher Body plant last May.

Sentenced by Genesee County Circuit Judge Philip Elliott to serve from two to a maximum four years at Southern Michigan State Prison were Thomas P. Donovan, 27, of Hazel Park and Nicholas Cova, 34, of Madison Heights, both charged with felonious assault.

Donovan is steward of the local and Cova is business agent. Paul C. Allen, 41, of Lake Orion, local business agent also charged with felonious assault, was fined $1,000 or six months and placed on five years probation.

Jack Kierdorf, 32, of Lake Orion, charged with conspiracy to molest, was fined $1,000 or six months and placed on probation three years.

They and two other men sentenced today for the same fight had all pleaded guilty to the charges Nov. 8.

In passing the heavy sentences, Judge Elliot declared, "Jurisdictional disputes must be settled by some method other than by force. It is my hope that what I have done today will have some effect in halting intimidation and use of force."

Eleven men were injured in the club and chain-swinging melee which developed over moving of machinery at the plant. There was evidence, the judge said, that Cova and Donovan both were "armed and seriously beat others" in the battle. The evidence was, he said, that Allen had directed part of the fight.

To meet settlements totaling $30,000 to the injured men, Judge Elliott said, Allen and Cova had mortgaged their homes to pay $5,000 each, and Donovan had paid $2,000.

Conspiracy charges were dismissed against six other men.

It was the second robbery at Lasker's variety store in four days.

her in the darkness. She was hauled into a backyard of a home near where she lived, raped and beaten to death.

When her body was found the next day, police laid out a careful house-by-house, person-by-person investigation. Some 600 suspects, some of them known sex-offenders, were hauled in and questioned.

For four years, the Police Department has given a routine set of tests for sex-offenders and it was into these tests that Singer went last night when a woman accused him of indecent exposure.

At 5:15 p. m. yesterday he told his story, Coller said. Then at 8:55 last night he signed the statement.

Singer, whose dark hair is streaked with gray, told police he works as an assistant foreman at Edgar's Sugar House, Inc., and has worked there since 1939, except for duty in the Marine Corps during World War II, and the Korean conflict.

During the first investigation, shortly after the crime, Singer was questioned by police but released. Until his arrest last Saturday, he had no prior criminal record, but had once been convicted of drunk driving.

the Gibson apartment when she came home around midnight.

When she discovered the fire, Mrs. Rankin waked her son and they crawled on their knees to the Gibson apartment and beat on the door, but were unable to get a response or break the door in.

Police said that rumors Mrs. Gibson might have gone to Ypsilanti to visit her husband, David, from whom she was separated, didn't prove true.

Firemen and police were hampered in searching the ruins. Ice glazed the scene and heavy black smoke still poured from the ruins far into the morning.

Luther Dicks, 39, a part-time Saline fireman whose family occupied one of the second-story apartments, said he was sitting in the kitchen when he heard the community's fire alarm go off.

Racing to get his fire-fighting clothes, Dicks said he discovered smoke billowing into his apartment. He awakened his wife, Betty, 35; sons, Larry, 11, and Carl, 4, and his mother, Mrs. Minnie Dicks, 66, and led them out.

The Day in Birmingham

'Whodunnit' Asks Police in Rash of Dented Cars

BIRMINGHAM — Police officers finally have a regular 'whodunnit' on their hands as they try to solve the riddle of the banged-up cars in the Eton, Graefield road vicinity. Owners, reporting about twenty cars had been "banged into and scratched,' set the police off on one of the weirdest hunts in the departments history.

Detective Lt. Merlin Holmquist said that the cars had apparently been hit by the same vehicle or 'instrument'. There is an indentation on each damaged car that indicated it may have been a bolt head or bar on the front of a car, truck or snow-plow.

The mystery played a two-night stand with one owner being caught even after parking his car on a different street the second night. Asked if they thought it might be someone with a grudge police said "If that is the case, the fellow must have an awful mad on, because it covers two streets and about twenty widely scattered cars."

Some of the vehicles were parked alone while in other cases there were two cars parked on opposite sides of the street and both were hit. Police at first believed, judging from tracks in the snow, that the damage had been done deliberately.

Now they regretfully say, "it just might possibly have been a city snow-plow."

Still protesting-residents heard city commissioners vote, four to one, in favor of closing one of the alleys in the blocks bounded by Forest, Hazel, Adams and Elm streets.

Residents said the closing of the alley would work a hardship on the Ray Watkins family of 843 Chestnut St. in that they would not be able to use their garage.

Commissioners, however, went along with the city engineer's suggestion that the easterly fifty feet be closed, leaving that area approximately fourteen feet wide for entrance to and exit from the garage.

The proposed paving of the service alley between Maple Avenue and Willett street will probably get under way as soon as weather permits.

Commissioners reviewed the situation last night and said that insofar as the necessity and special assessment district had already been approved, they saw no reason to further delay the badly needed work.

They did, however, authorize City Manager Harold Schone to proceed with the details of acquiring two small parcels of land within the alley to permit a wider paving area in the future.

Mrs. J. A. Maude Bowers

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Shell of Royal Oak and Mrs. Thomas Jameson of Clawson, a son Richard of Chicago. A sister and two brothers also survive.

ARTIST SHOWS HOW — Two community classes in drawing and painting will be offered for ten weeks beginning Jan. 22 and 24 at the Cranbrook Academy of Arts. Above, the instructor for the course, Fred Mitchell, explains a painting problem to an amateur painter. A group of Mitchell's paintings were shown last year in New York in an exhibition of American painting. Besides drawing and painting instruction, Mitchell will give side talks on art of the past and present.

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles prepared by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service to help you prepare your Income Tax Return.

Further information on income tax problems is available, without cost, to taxpayers at the Internal Revenue Service office, 63½ W. Huron St. Phone FE 2-0206.

DO YOU RECEIVE RENT?

If you are not engaged in selling real estate to customers, but receive rent from property owned or controlled by you, the total amount received is included in gross income. You are entitled to various deductions such as depreciation, taxes, interest, repairs, or maintenance. Insurance is also deductible, but only the portion of the premium that applies to the current year.

If only part of your property is rented, only the expenses pertaining to the rented part are deductible.

For example, if you rent half of your home, and you live in the other half, only half of the depreciation and other expenses can be deducted against the rental income.

Minor repairs are deductible, but the cost of major improvements, such as a new roof or remodeling, are not — they are recovered through depreciation. If you have rental income — you need Schedule G when preparing your 1956 income tax return.

FBI Declares War on Capone, Gunman

police, and police cooperation with the FBI, were in an early stage of development—and this made it easier for Durkin.

LEFT FOR ST. LOUIS

At San Antonio, agents learned that Durkin and his girl friend had boarded the MK&T "Texas Special" for St. Louis.

Special agents in the St. Louis office got in touch with St. Louis detectives and explained the situation. Oddly enough, the government couldn't prosecute Durkin for the murder of Shahahan because killing a federal officer was not then a violation of federal laws.

He could be prosecuted for murder only in the courts of the state in which the crime occurred.

With city detectives cooperating, arrangements were made to have the "Texas Special" stopped at a small town outside St. Louis. Then if Durkin tried to escape, he would have to run across open plowed fields and there would be no danger to bystanders in a gun battle.

When the "Texas Special" came to a halt, the FBI agents and detectives rushed into Durkin's compartment before he could reach for the pistols in his overcoat.

Martin Durkin, killer and thief, was captured a little more than three months after his gun felled Special Agent Shanahan. He admitted the killing. He was 25 years old when he entered prison. He was 53 when he was released in 1954.

CAPTURING AN ARMY

One of the FBI's strangest cases in this era had nothing to do with graft or corruption. It involved the capture of an army, including the general staff, the infantry, armor, artillery, ammunition and air force!

It happened in 1926. A warning reached the FBI that Maj. Gen. Enrique Estrada was recruiting and training on American soil a revolutionary army to be used for an invasion of Mexico.

The general had fled to California in 1924 after an abortive effort to overthrow the Obregon government.

Estrada depended not on the great muntions makers to supply the necessary arms—but on a local hardware company.

The hardware which Gen. Estrada ordered included 400 Springfield rifles and 150,000 rounds of .30 caliber ammunition, two Marlin machine guns, 5,000 rounds of machine-gun ammunition, 300 pounds of dynamite, and pipe fittings and sheet iron suitable for do-it-yourself aerial bombs.

SMALL AIR FORCE

Estrada and his staff had on order an air force of four Ryan monoplanes complete with three aviators; an armored task force of two 2½ ton armored trucks; and a supply train of five used trucks.

The advance echelon of the invasion army rolled out of Los Angeles on Aug. 14, composed of two trucks loaded with arms and ammunition, and an automobile.

Unnoticed in the traffic behind them were three automobiles carrying FBI agents, officers from the Los Angeles police force, and agents of the the Pacific Coast Auto Underwriters.

Next day, Estrada's main army assembled in Los Angeles, numbering some 115. Off went the convoy toward the Mexican border.

The ammunition train reached the rendezvous point on schedule and waited for the arrival of the general staff and the troops. But the enemy, infiltrating and attacking from the rear, overran the entire train without a shot fired. In the busy hours that followed, officers captured the general, his ground forces, his armor and his air force, picking them off piecemeal, as military men say.

And so ended a dream of revolution.

Duty Pays Off in Long Patience

DETROIT (INS)—Four years . . . six hundred suspects in the "Big Black Book" . . . fifteen hundred men questioned . . . fourteen phony confessions. And then—"We've got the right man. We're sure. Real sure."

This was the opinion today of Detective Lt. Glenn Coller and his partner, Detective Lt. William E. Sheedy as they discussed the confession of the murderer of 18-year-old Joann Gillespie.

Coller, 44, has been on the Detroit police force since 1936 and has been a detective since 1945. To him, murder is an old story.

He wrangled a killing confession out of the "Jolly Milk Man" — John P. Lange—in the 1954 slaying of steel company executive John W. Mattson.

Lt. Coller was also a key figure in the conviction of Mrs. Victoria Hermiz and her secret boyfriend, Maurice Hamilton, in the murder of her grocer-husband last year.

And he was assigned to the Gillespie slaying from the very start.

Sheedy, 38, joined the force in 1941; became a detective in 1948; a lieutenant in 1955.

He was assigned to the detective bureau desk in headquarters until July of last year, then, on his own request, went to homicide.

Coller has had 16 department citations; Sheedy, 6.

Both men agreed: "This is the result of police cooperation."

Neither would take any personal credit for breaking the case—one of the most baffling in Detroit history. They gave credit to the department; to the painstaking work of hundreds of police officers, the close link between the many police bureaus.

Their boss, Inspector Thomas Cochill didn't agree entirely. He said: "Solving that case got to be an obsession, first with Coller, then with Sheedy. Their dedication to duty paid off. We're proud of them both."

Sports, Politics, Racing Make Gambling Inevitable

By BOB CONSIDINE

George Washington bet on the horses. What's more, he bet on ballonists and footracers. The Father of his Country was just doing what came naturally to most men of his day. He was a soft touch for any lottery that came along.

Long before Washington, there was plenty of action for the colonial investor. By 1675, despite warnings from the Puritans that hell-fire was the fruit of such endeavor, the lottery had taken its place as a principal fund raiser for schools, churches, market places, roads, new towns, bridges, theaters and even cemeteries.

The spread of outdoor sports, the increase in the size of crowds and interest in athletic contests of all kind, gave gambling a hold on the young republic which it has never relinquished.

The stirrings of commercial life played its own role. The Mississippi riverboat gambler became as much a fixture along the route as paddle wheels. Men bet their slaves like poker chips.

Gambler George Washington would have been able to say "I told you so," had he lived. In a letter written January 15, 1783, perhaps after a bad day with the balloons, the general wrote that gambling is "the child of avarice, the brother of iniquity, and the father of mischief."

Four years later, Thomas Jefferson wrote to his wife Martha, "Gaming corrupts our dispositions, and teaches us a habit of hostility against all mankind." The clarity of his vision may be confirmed by any investigator who rides the race train back to town.

The 24 states which permit racing will realize close to $200,000,000 in racing tax income this year. Signs at big league baseball parks reading, "No Gambling" receive about as much attention as subway signs asking that people refrain from tossing their worn-out chewing gum on the loading platforms.

IMPOSSIBLE TO COMPUTE AMOUNT BET

Nobody can compute how much was bet on the recent election, on the world series and before that on the pennant races: on fights, hockey, and who catches the biggest fish. Horse players bet more than $2,000,000,000 legally last year.

Since nothing appears capable of dousing these fires adherents of a national lottery have said repeatedly that the climate is exactly right for such a means of fur-lining the treasury. Many are under the delusion that a federal lottery would wipe out the drudgery of taxes.

The Treasury Department now takes about $60,000,000,000 a year from individual income tax payers. There would be no chance that a lottery could substitute for that deluge of income. If we individually bet as much as Australians wager on lotteries each week—about $2.25—we might relieve the tax load by about ten per cent.

But would Americans gamble that much? Some will answer yes, but apparently many more will say no.

One might expect Nevada would agitate for a lottery or national sweepstakes patterned after the rich "winter book" operated at Tijuana or the Irish Sweep.

NEVADANS OPPOSED

"I'm opposed to a national lottery," says Marion Hicks, owner of Las Vegas's Thunderbird Hotel and Casino. "It invites undesirable elements. The picture I have of a lottery is based on personal experience in other countries, where lottery tickets are sold by bggars to poor people who have no way of checking or policing the results.

"Gambling as it now exists in Nevada appeals to people who can afford to gamble. What I've seen of lotteries in other countris, it from ppl who just can't affrd looks like their profits come mostly from people who just can't afford to gamble."

Best-known champion of the lottery in recent years was William O'Dwyer while mayor of New York City.

Tom Dewey, then Governor, exploded. "Shocking! Immoral! "It is downright immoral for government even to think of making available a state-wide gambling apparatus with the implied assumption that games of chance are a fair substitute for or supplement to the honorable business of producing the goods and services by which the people live.

"The entire history of legalized gambling in this country and abroad shows that it has brought nothing but poverty, crime and nothing but poverty, crime and corruption, demoralization of moral anad ethical standards, and ultimately a lower living standard and misery for all the people."

Bob Considine Says:

U.S. Stands By Idly as Reds Violate Truce

NEW YORK (INS) — The biggest military news we've run into, during this current visit to the United States, is that Elvis' Pelvis passed the draft board.

Whether Russia will be encouraged to attack on the grounds that we're now a houn' dog power remains to be seen. Government bonds have remained firm. Eisenhower, however, has asked for special powers.

The military news in Tokyo when we came through there recently was more sobering.

The general, who doesn't like his name used, hit the desk a crashing wallop with his right as he spoke about the way the Chinese Reds have violated the armistice terms in Korea.

Suddenly, one had to look away. It is a terrible thing to see a good and strong man helplessly restricted, either by chains or by honored but unrequited pledge.

HELPLESS RAGE

"They've broken section 13-D — which says we can't build up above what we had when the fighting stopped — every day since they signed the agreement," he raged, helplessly, the veins standing out in his fine face.

"I think the fact of a broken contract should release us from the bargain, untie our hands. I can't get to first base with that argument either in Washington or at UN."

On the day of the cease-fire in Korea there wasn't one operating air base left above the 38th parallel. The Red Chinese and North Korean ground forces were hanging on the ropes.

There was hardly a bridge left in the entire northern section of the country. By and large it was supposed to remain that way, under the contract signed at Panmunjom.

Today you can look across the four-kilometer cordon sanitaire which divides East and West ideology in Korea and see the latest Russian tanks and trucks, troops busily digging new fortifications or building new artillery and rocket-launching sites.

The Russian counterparts of our best production jets leave vapor trails over the Communist-held portion of the country. The fields have long since been repaired. Many more have been built.

STICK BY TERMS

Here's how scrupulously we abide by the terms:

The Air Force replacement for the sluggish B-26 used during the Korean War is the Martin-built British-designed B58, a twin-jet capable of trans-sonic speeds. So we have not replaced the worn-out B26's, no longer in production, or put in B58s.

The Honest John rocket is now an integral part of the Army's artillery service. But we didn't have this missile at the moment the Korean War ended. So they stay in Japan.

We are permitted to replace worn-out or cracked up F86 Sabres with new ones. But before we send a replacement jet there we strip it of such electronic improvements as have been perfected since 1953 (end of the war, see?) and thus endanger the lives of the men who must fly these planes.

We inform the Reds, through a preposterous U.N. inspection committee composed of Poles, Czechs, Swiss and Swedes, of every man brought into Korea to replace another, of every article of food, clothing and medical intent. The other side has long abandoned this practice.

When we present photographic evidence that this or that North Korean airfield has resumed operations with improved aircraft, or present the testimony of the streams of North Koreans perpetually filing into South Korea, the Reds on the U.N. inspection team argue for the week or two it takes for that particular field to be demobilized. Then the team moves in and must report that there is no armistice-breaking there.

ONLY 22 DIVISIONS

We maintain two full divisions in Korea, the 7th and 24th. The South Koreans have 20, the Thai, Turks and British Commonwealth people offer token forces to maintain the U.N. character of the defense.

The general has had to come back to Washington a few times to face congressional committees who grow impatient with our investment in Korea.

He gets very impatient himself with a solon who asks, "When are we going to close up that show?" He'd like to know himself. He did, however, give us an estimate on how long the tension would last there.

He said it in one word. He said: "Forever."

THE BERRYS — By Carl Grubert

Tourists Assured of Fuel, Service—and Road Space

French Gas Ration Brings Strike Talk by Owners of Stations, Riviera Hotels

PARIS (INS) — Gas-hungry French motorists were menaced from a new angle today.

Service-station owners threatened to strike to win a raise in retail gasoline prices.

Andre Coudreau, secretary general of the National Garage Owners Association, told International News Service that filling station operators are prepared to "lock up and go on a prolonged strike" if the government does not grant them an increase of four cents per gallon.

Coudreau said station owners have been granted no increase in the state-controlled profit margin of 2.7 cents per gallon even though their sales volume had been cut 30 to 40 per cent because of the rationing program.

He added: "The present muddled and inefficient rationing system, which places all the paper work and responsibility on the harassed station owner, is breeding its own destruction."

Coudreau reported that the station operators already had refused a government offer of one cent per gallon as "thoroughly inadequate."

HOTEL STRIKE LOOMS

Another strike also loomed on the horizon—the blue horizon of the riviera. Hotel owners there are threatening to close up if the government does not increase the gasoline ratio and lift the present driving restrictions.

At present, French drivers may circulate only in the department (district) in which the vehicle is registered and those adjoining it.

Three hundred hotels will be affected by the strike decision. They claim it is impossible to operate "with 30 employes for every two guests." They also want an effective and prompt campaign to inform tourists of other countries that there is adequate gasoline for their cars if they plan to tour France.

According to the French Automobile Club and the American Automobile Association in France, the foreign motorist is actually in a more favored position than he was before the gasoline crisis. He is assured of sufficient fuel to go anywhere he wants in France. He practically has the whole highway system to himself and does not have to wait for repairs or service.

The closing of the Riviera hotels will be almost an economic catastrophe inasmuch as they are among the country's principal dollar earners and dollars are needed to buy petroleum.

Surprisingly enough, the great automobile plants are running as usual and production has not dropped off except in one plant making larger cars. The government intends that no unemployment should result from the present petroleum crisis.

Extend Curtailment of Havana Freedom

HAVANA (AP)—The Batista government toda prolonged the suspension of all constitutional guarantees for 45 days and extended it to the whole island.

A statement by President Fulgencio Batista's Cabinet said the action was taken to "control" what it called Communist-led terrorism and to avert a possible interruption in sugar production, Cuba's chief source of dollar revenue. Congress was recalled to act on the decree.

Constitutional guarantees were suspended last December in four provinces following a rebel outbreak in eastern Cuba. The suspension was to have ended tomorrow.

Under the suspension, persons may be arrested and held indefinitely without court action, premises may be searched without a warrant, freedom of the press and of public meeting is affected and correspondence can be censored.

Protect Meter Readers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Meter readers of the City Department of Water and Power are carrying packages of a dog delicacy that they hope pets will prefer to biting the readers. They'll give dogs a treat whenever it appears expedient.

Security for You

Answer Questionnaire or Get Penalty

Today the Social Security Administration is scheduled to mail some 600,000 questionnaires. They'll go to persons who asked to have their monthly Social Security checks stopped for at least one month last year because they expected their earnings to go over $1,200.

The purpose of the questionnaire is to determine whether these persons:

1. Have additional money coming.

2. Owe the government money.

3. Should start getting payments again, or

4. Expect to make more than $1,200 this year if they're self-employed.

If you get a questionnaire, you'll be expected to fill it out and return it by April 15. If you fail to do so, the Social Security people can penalize you one check this year.

But, before you're penalized, the Social Security people will remind you that the questionnaire is overdue and, perhaps, get in touch with you personally.

If you complete the questionnaire and make false statements on it, you may subject yourself to a fine of a thousand dollars or a year in jail or both.

The questionnaires will not go to persons receiving checks who didn't ask to have their checks stopped last year.

However, around March 1, the Social Security Administration will send you a note asking you if you made over $1,200 last year. You'll also receive a form on which you can request the special questionnaire mailed today. You'll be expected to use the form to request the questionnaire if you made more than $1,200, unless you're 72 or over.

EXCEPTION MADE

The interest in your earnings last year if you were receiving Social Security checks results from earning limits provided in the Social Security law.

In general, the law provides that you're not entitled to a full 12 months of Social Security if you're under 72 and you had earnings of more than $1,200 a year. If you're 72 or over, there is no limit on your earnings for you to be eligible for checks every month.

However, having more than $1,200 a year in earnings doesn't rule you out of all your checks. the rule is that for each $80 or part of $80 you earn above $1,200 you lose one month's check.

Thus, generally, to be denied all 12 checks your total earnings for the year must be at least $2,080.01.

However, there's a broad exception to this rule if you work for someone else:

If you don't earn $80 in a particular month, no matter what your earnings total for the year, you're eligible for a check that month.

For example: Suppose you work at a summer resort during the months of July, August and September and you make $500 per month. Then, during the other nine months, you have no earnings. You're eligible for nine checks.

And, there's a broad exception for self-employed persons:

If you earn more than $1,200 in self-employment, and you render "substantial services" during any month of the year, you may be found ineligible for one or more checks. But, for any month in which you don't render "substantial services," no matter what your earnings total for the year, you're eligible for a check that month.

MSU Board Could Use Man Like Roger Kyes

Friends of Roger M. Kyes are urging the Bloomfield Hills man to become a candidate for Michigan State University's governing board.

KYES

With the ultimate opening of MSU's branch in Oakland County, certainly a resident of this sector is a likely prospect. Mr. Kyes is one of the top flight executives in the nation and has had wide business and administrative experience over an extended period of time, although he is still a comparatively young man.

He is especially well known here in Pontiac for he was the General Manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division until he resigned to become Deputy Secretary of Defense under C. E. Wilson at President Eisenhower's request.

When he returned from Washington, he was advanced to a vice presidency with offices in the General Motors Building in Detroit. Throughout this period Mr. and Mrs. Kyes have made their home in Bloomfield Hills on Cranbrook Road.

Mr. Kyes graduated from Harvard with a splendid collegiate record and his over-all knowledge of business, education and general activities would make him an invaluable member of the East Lansing Board.

According to President John A. Hannah, the new branch of Michigan State University in Oakland County is destined to become a very large and important institution. The East Lansing administrator envisions an ultimate attendance well into five figures and for this reason, a member of the governing board of the parent institution could profitably be a resident of our area.

With all Universities and Colleges due for huge expansions in the next two decades, they must all strengthen their respective boards with capable executives who have already had the invaluable experience of building successful and prosperous institutions.

Roger M. Kyes qualifies on all counts. He has a brilliant mind and is an exceedingly capable executive who is strictly on the side of getting things done.

The Kyes world never stands still.

It moves—but always towards bigger and better horizons.

Lack of Safety Factors Blamed in Ship Disaster

American investigators claim that the Andrea-Doria-Stockholm liner collision last July off Nantucket never would have occurred if any one of three conditions had been met.

These conditions are: (1) If the Andrea Doria had been built according to the high standards of American ship construction as set forth by Congress; (2) If the radar apparatus on both ships had been properly used; (3) If it had been mandatory to follow the east-west sealanes recommended since 1855.

The four investigators, three retired Navy and Coast Guard officers and a Yale professor emeritus of marine engineering, were well qualified for their task. Although fixing no liability for the accident in their report to the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, some blame was attached to both ships.

The Andrea Doria met by "a very narrow margin" the requirements on water-tight subdivision as outlined in the latest international convention adopted at London in 1948. Also the report points out that "a fine, relatively new ship built in accordance with the latest international conventions did sink after damages less than she should have been able to withstand."

National Maritime Union leaders contended at the time of the collision which cost 50 lives, that American liners are far sturdier than foreign vessels. The safety factor in U.S. ships is partly responsible for their higher construction cost.

With regard to the mystery of why officers on watch in both ships were unable to use radar, the investigators recommended a plan for "adequate training of deck officers including a requirement for certification of such officers as radar officers."

This disaster stresses the need for higher international standards for ship construction and operation on the high seas. It should serve as a warning to those nations whose liners are below American standards.

The Manly Art of Self-Destruction

David Lawrence Says:

Will Congress Fail to Back Ike?

WASHINGTON — Will history repeat itself? Will Congress hesitate to give the President of the United States in advance power to act in a possible emergency—and will there be another world war due to an enemy's miscalculation of the intent of a vacillating America?

These questions are asked because of the strange parallel now developing here with what happened just before World War I, World War II and the Korean War, respectively.

On March 4, 1917, the Congress adjourned and the resolution of authority requested by President Wilson to arm American merchant ships failed of passage because of a notorious filibuster. Just 29 days later the President was asking for and Congress was passing a resolution to ratify a "state of war" which had begun when the imperial German government sank American ships without warning. The Berlin government had calculated that America would not intervene.

On May 27, 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt declared an "unlimited national emergency" and on August 12, 1941, the request of the President to extend the term of service under the selective service act was granted by a margin of only one vote in the House of Representatives—203 to 202.

MISINTERPRETED

This was widely interpreted abroad as indicating a division in America's ranks — weakness and vacillation. Less than four months later the President was asking for and Congress was voting a declaration of a state of war with Germany and Japan. The Nazi government had calculated that America would not intervene.

In January 1950, the secretary of state, Dean Acheson, announced that America's defense perimeter did not include Korea but that this would be left to the U.N. to protect. Six months later, the Army, Navy and Air Force of the United States were engaging in a war inside Korea "to repel aggression." No Congressional resolution had been requested in advance and the enemy miscalculated that American military power would not intervene.

The language used by President Wilson in asking for authority to place the armed forces of the United States aboard its merchant ships in 1917 was almost identical with that of President Eisenhower in his message of Jan. 5 this year. Mr. Wilson told a joint session of Congress on Feb. 26, 1917, that, since adjournment was near at hand, it might take "an unusual length of time to assemble and organize the next Congress." He said:

ASKED FOR POWER

"I feel that I ought, in view of that fact, to obtain from you full and immediate assurance of the authority which I may need at any moment to exercise. No doubt I already possess that authority without special warrant of law, by the plain implication of my constitutional duties and powers; but I prefer, in the present circumstances, not to act upon general implication.

"I wish to feel that the authority and the power of the Congress are behind me in whatever it may become necessary for me to do. We are jointly the servants of the people and must act together and in their spirit, so far as we can divine and interpret it."

What happened? A filibuster led by "Liberal Republicans," notably the late Senator George Norris of Nebraska, resulted in the failure of the Senate to get a chance to vote. When Congress adjourned on March 4, Mr. Wilson issued a statement to the country that same day in which he said:

IMPRESSION ABROAD

"Although, as a matter of fact, the nation and the representatives of the nation stand back of the executive with unprecedented unanimity and spirit, the impression made abroad will, of course, be that it is not so and that other governments may act as they please without fear that this government can do anything at all . . .

"A little group of willful men, representing no opinion but their own, have rendered the great government of the United States helpless and contemptible."

After war came, the Senate revised its rule so as to invoke "cloture," whereby two-thirds of the Senators present could cut off debate. That rule was abandoned some years afterward, and it is significant that the Senate is going to debate soon a restoration of that very provision.

Will history repeat itself now? The testimony being recorded this week in the hearings of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Armed Services Committee has a familiar sound.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Healthy Folk Crowd Sick in Misuse of Hospitals

In a piece published recently, I said people who gain admission to a hospital just to be waited upon by the nurses and other attendants should be sent packing, or rather, the doctors who get them into the hospital should be hauled before the board and taught the function of the hospital.

I know what I'm talking about. As an intern and later a member of the hospital staff I saw a good deal of such abuse.

This misuse of hospitals has become a serious economic question for taxpayers who support public hospitals and for donors to private or semi-private hospitals.

It is routine practice now, especially for the businessmen of medicine, the trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers, to send customers to the hospital for "observation" or for a fishing expedition commonly called a "checkup." Of course, the customer pays for his sojourn in the hospital, but that doesn't justify the abuse.

A hospital's proper function is to provide treatment and care for the sick and injured. It is wrong to keep the nurses dancing attendance on these healthy guests and consequently perhaps neglecting their proper patients.

It is wrong, too, to let these selfish pampered people occupy beds and rooms which very likely are badly needed for the sick or injured.

I shot off my mouth also about the idea of going to the hospital "for a good rest." I confess I had in mind many letters I have received from readers who do not go along with my opinion or conviction that home is the best place to have a baby.

Now I am getting more letters about it, and some of them cogent arguments for hospitalization.

ON THE SPOT

The argument that puts me on the spot, however, is that a week or ten days in the hospital is a little bit of heaven for a woman who is on the job 12 or 14 hours a day, 7 days a week, 52 weeks in the year taking care of her home, her husband, and her children.

The children get ten weeks vacation every summer. Her husband gets two weeks vacation with pay each year. She gets maybe a week in the hospital only when she has another baby. If that's a little bit of heaven—!

I still say home is the place for a woman to have her baby.

Further I think a woman who bears more than two children is entitled to two weeks vacation for each additional child, with pay, from the state, on condition that she takes a vacation with her husband and the children.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

LI'L ONES

"Did you ever wait this long for Mom before you were married?"

Case Records of a Psychologist:

True Facts Calm Jealous Husband

The chief error in the Kinsey report is outlined below. And this mistaken notion causes undue worry and domestic feuds. So get the true facts and thus safeguard happy homes. Be grateful you have access to such cases in your local newspaper, for most of you would never get such facts otherwise.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-374: Howard H., aged 43, is the jealous husband mentioned yesterday.

"Dr. Crane, I have lost my masculine vigor," Howard reluctantly confessed to me.

"Our marriage has been quite platonic for the past year. But I realize from Dr. Kinsey's book and other reports that women are very passionate creatures.

"So I know my wife must have been obtaining love from other sources.

"Since she isn't gaining such satisfaction from me, but must have it at frequent intervals, then I realize she has affairs with other men.

"Thus far I haven't found out who they are, but my detectives will get the evidence sooner or later."

KINSEY'S ERROR

The fundamental error in the Kinsey survey consisted in accepting the opinions of women as actual physiological facts.

A woman might readily insist she were very ardent, even beyond the erotic capacity of the average male, but that statement on her part might be only her opinion; not a true fact.

Remember the story of the five Blind Men of Hindustan who met their first elephant? One grasped its tusk and insisted thereafter that elephants were spears.

Another seized the tail and likewise maintained fervently that elephants were ropes, etc.

Well, their opinions were sincere, yet not true facts, due to limited experience.

Women are frigid as measured by the masculine standard, despite lurid stories and even scientific surveys like that of Dr. Kinsey.

But women do have a erotic hunger, which, if unsatisfied, may leave a woman constantly hungry. It was this type of female who reported such an abnormal sexual desire on the Kinsey survey.

EROTIC CALORIES

A woman is satisfied with 2,500 gastric calories while her mate may need 3,500.

But if that wife is limited to but 500 calories per day, she will always have an appetite for food even though her food capacity and true hunger are far less than her husband's.

So it is with erotic calories. Women require far less than men. And if they have children or domestic duties to preoccupy them, they crave little more than an affectionate hug and goodnight kiss from one week to another.

Nymphomaniacs and so-called sex gluttons among the female sex usually are driven onward by some stigma, real or imagined, into an abnormal indulgence.

Their erotic desire is thus chiefly above their eyes. It is a cosmetic urge to bolster their wounded ego rather than a localized erotic pruritis.

Howard thus misjudged his virtuous wife, as do many husbands who become partially impotent.

He believed she was constantly hungry for complete physical affection. Knowing he was platonic, he jumped to the hasty conclusion that she was unfaithful.

When I straightened him out in his thinking and showed his wife how to banish the platonic nature of their marriage, Howard's jealousy vanished.

So send for my booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It can prevent divorce and save you untold misery from the green-eyed monster, Jealousy.

Most divorces start in the bedroom, and are due to ignorance of the true medico-psychological data.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Questions Education Board on Proposed School Plans

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I would like an answer to some questions about the proposed plans for the new high school. While I'm in favor of using "novel" plans for the building and being "modern" if there's a reason for it, I can't understand why such a building has an advantage over a more conservative structure which would house the same facilities and yet cost considerably less and would have considerably lower operating costs.

If Pontiac boys and girls were to get a better education or become better citizens by having such an unnecessarily costly school building, I would have no questions. But, as an example, I'm sure quadrangles of related classrooms will produce no better students than if the same classes were side by side along a hallway. Nor do I think an expensive, one-story building will do any more for boys and girls than a less expensive, two- or three-story school. As for looks, there probably are just as many people who like traditional architecture as those who favor contemporary.

Perhaps I've overlooked some of the reasons the Board of Education chose the proposed plans, but the information given to the Press failed to clarify them. Maybe one of the Board members could explain.

Asks for Tunnel Under Railroad

Will the day ever come when the city digs a tunnel under the rail tracks on West Huron?

My question is brought about by me and fellow "under-the-breath swearers" who seem to to try to cross those tracks at 7:45 a.m. each morning on the way to work. Traffic piles up on both sides of the tracks, everyone is trying to be to work at the hour of eight and the railroad can't please the populace at every rail crossing, so the answer must be with the city.

It's the same story in the evening when traffic is the heaviest homeward bound. How about a reasonable explanation?

'Why Not Lower Power of Cars?'

So much is being said about safety it makes one wonder if our automotive engineers are not designing cars that are dangerous to the public.

Why not lower the horsepower to a safe pace? Also, why such long cars? Do we need such long, highpowered cars? They are beautiful, to be sure, but aren't people paying a lot for unnecessary material to get them across the country?

It seems as though our designing engineers are power and beauty crazed, rather than designing for the safety of the public.

An Observer

'We're Becoming Ike's 'Yes' Men'

We are rapidly becoming a nation of "yes men," afraid to criticize anything Eisenhower does. He has a "mandate" from the people. For what? To follow the line of least resistance: Grand gestures with one hand, placating motions with the other. If this be leadership, it's a far cry from the kind that made this country great.

H-Bomb tests have been modified or stopped. That is unpleasant news. Monitoring of the air has ceased, even though it was a safeguard in determining the amount of radiation in the air. That's unpleasant news, too. We are told we might get a tax cut, then it's impossible because defense spending is up. Firms supplying government with goods amass bigger profits at taxpayer expense. But let's not upset the calmness at the White House and Augusta.

'It's Bad Enough, Continue English'

A letter signed "American" suggests the high schools abolish English. By all means, let's do away with English completely. The average high school graduate is a poor speller today and a poor grammarian. Let's make him worse, handicap him even further and make him more ridiculous.

In the place of English we can substitute folk dancing, or how to listen to victrola records, or perhaps a course in appraising draft beer. Let's get their mixed-up minds further and further away from education and concentrate on nonessentials and tinsel.

I have read with interest all the letters about spanking the bad acting children in school. The group opinion seemed pretty well agreed.

Those that deserve it should be spanked, but the face isn't the appropriate place. The Lord provided a superior location. The case can rest right there and satisfy everyone that wants to be fair.

Costly Fire Hits Tarentum News

9 Departments Battle $300,000 Blaze 4 Hours in Below-Zero Weather

TARENTUM, Pa. (AP)—An early morning fire which lasted for four hours did an estimated $300,000 damage to the plant of the Tarentum Valley Daily News today.

The roof of the two-story brick building was burned out and the composing room and linotypes severely damaged by flames and water. Tons of newsprint were reported destroyed by water. However, an employe of the afternoon paper said the presses were saved.

Firemen of nine companies from Tarentum and surrounding communities fought the blaze in 3-below-zero weather.

The cause of the fire has not been officially determined but it it was reported the flames broke out in the stereotype department — where molten metal is used to make plates for the presses.

Lem Schwartz, managing editor, made the damage estimate. He said the News had received offers from six western Pennsylvania plants to use their facilities temporarily.

Cross Out Senator in Divorce Hearing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former U.S.Sen. Harry P. Cain has been eliminated from a complaint which had named him as one of 10 co-respondents in a divorce trial.

The court ruled yesterday that accusations charging Cain and two California men with misconduct with Mrs. Alice Eleanor Madden, 45, were too remote as to time or not specific enough for consideration in the trial.

Dr. Earl E. Madden, 58, a Redondo Beach, Calif., physician, had charged his wife with cruelty and misconduct with 10 men: seven John Does, Cain, Gordon Keith McCormac, Bakersfield, Calif., businessman and former Kern County political leader; and James Cumpston, retired Twenty-nine Palms, Calif., businessman.

The court's ruling left only the John Doe allegations in Dr. Madden's cross-complaint, plus the cruelty charge.

Mrs. Madden, a Republican leader in her community, has denied the accusations of mis conduct. She charges her husband with cruelty.

Patients Moved to Annex

Seven Pontiac General Hospital patients yesterday discovered moving into their new home wasn't so bad after all.

Hospital officials and some doctors expressed fear that it might take a good selling job to persuade patients to be transferred into the former Oakland County Contagious Hospital.

But when "Operation Transfer" to the Pontiac General Annex began yesterday noon, officials found the patients, mostly those in the recuperation stage, more than willing to make the move.

On Dec. 1, the city leased for 18 months or longer the 32-year-old two-story building at 1075 Telegraph Rd. from the county to help alleviate the crowded conditions caused at the city hospital during construction of the $3.5 million addition.

After having been confined to Pontiac General for 11 weeks after an auto accident, Leo Rissanen, of 2563 Ivanhoe St., West Bloomfield Township, expressed satisfaction with the change. "It's a great deal more quiet here in these freshly painted and larger wards," Rissanen said.

Mrs. Fay Stewart, new assistant director at Pontiac General who is in charge of the annex, said: "Ironically enough, we (the staff) were all very skeptical of coming over here. But now none of us want to go back."

The city put some $25,000 into the building in form of interior decoration, with the emphasis in the patient area. Work began in early December. As patients were wheeled in the back entrance, painters and other workmen still went about their business completing the project.

Contagious patients still remained in the isolated south wing of the first floor. There were some 14, mostly children.

The wards have all been scrubbed and painted from top to bottom. There are new drapes to match the bright and decorative schemes. New shades, mattresses, and curtains around each bed have been added.

The annex is expected to provide 85-much-needed beds for patients. Twenty-five of these will be allocated for contagious patients under terms of the agreement between the city and county.

After becoming settled in one of the two-bedroom wards, Odis M. Blackshear, 51 Cottage St., looked at the cars going by on Telegraph. "So far I like it and am well pleased with these new surroundings," he said.

Several other annex patients were busy admiring their new home with visitors.

All the metal beds and bed stands in the eight wards have been refinished and painted light grey.

There are no surgery facilities at the annex as only patients past the acute nursing stage will be transferred, according to Mrs. Stewart, a veteran of nine years at Pontiac General.

There are X-ray machines available in the basement. Also housed there are storage areas, the kitchen, an employe cafeteria, and the laundry room.

As trays were being prepared for the first meals served, Mrs. Stewart continued making plans for an influx of some 43 other patients by Saturday.

"We're trying to make this as comfortable as possible for all those making the move," she said as the ambulance prepared to unload another patient.

MOVING DAY—Mrs. Raymond T. Breininger, of 111 Judson St., was the first of seven Pontiac General Hospital patients moved yesterday to the hospital's new annex at 1075 N. Telegraph Rd., the former Oakland County Contagious Hospital. Nurse Edith Ball supervised the unloading of the patients at the emergency entrance. Ambulance attendants Michael O'Hara Jr. (left) and Stan Blaylock, both of Birmingham, carry Mrs. Breininger into the annex. The city leased the 85-bed facility to help lessen the crowded conditions at the city hospital caused by the construction of the new addition.

Burglar Caught in Act Gets Term at Jackson

A 1-15 year term in State Prison of Southern Michigan was drawn yesterday by Russell D. Timlock, 35, of 70½ Auburn Ave., who Pontiac police say was captured burglarizing Wrigley's super market at 536 N. Perry St., Dec. 20.

Timlick was sentenced by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams. He had pleaded guilty to a breaking and entering charge Jan. 2.

An alleged partner, Paul McDonald, 30, of 51 Hillside Dr., is free under $3,000 bond and awaiting trial on the same charge. McDonald stood mute at his arraignment before Judge Adams Jan. 7.

City Man on Probation, Assessed $150 Costs

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams yesterday placed Homer Crawford, 392 Howard McNeil St., on probation three years for the breakin Oct. 9 of a business at 719 W. Huron St.

Crawford, who pleaded guilty Dec. 26, was assessed $150 court costs.

Tallulah Broke Hand During Stage Scene

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tallulah Bankhead underwent an operation for a broken hand early today after her appearance last night in the play "Eugenia" here.

Miss Bankhead fractured a small bone in her right hand Saturday night during a scene in the play. Peter Pell, the stage manager, said she waved her hands in the air and struck a wall.

She finished the play but when the hand swelled Sunday it was X-rayed and the break discovered.

Doctors recommended a cast but Miss Bankhead said she has four changes of gloves with her Victorian costumes in the play and would be unable to wear them with a cast. Physicians then suggested the bone could be mended with a metal pin.

Area Man Sentenced for Striking Daughter

A Rochester father, Alvin W. Marks, 33, of 2579 Frankson Rd., who pleaded guilty to striking his 11-year-old daughter in the face as punishment was sentenced yesterday on a charge of child cruelty.

Marks was placed on probation two years and assessed $100 court costs by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

He had pleaded guilty Jan. 2 to striking his daughter, Jacqueline, Dec. 22.

Deer's Very Dear, Says Man Again —It's Flannigan

MILWAUKEE (AP)—James Flannigan asked the city yesterday to pay him $45 for 45 pounds of venison.

The meat represented stakes from the first deer Flannigan had bagged in four years of hunting. He asked for a dollar a pound compensation "even though it cost me several times this."

Flannigan explained that the venison, wrapped in paper and placed on his back porch to freeze must have been whisked away by overzealous garbage collectors.

His claim was referred to the City Council.

Follow Health Rules: No Need for 'Peace of Mind' Pills

Congressmen Older but Healthier Now

WASHINGTON (INS) — The average congressman is older than any of his recent predecessors but he is taking better physical care of himself on the whole than ever before.

And he is surviving the stresses of office and Washington life without resort to tranquilizing "peace of mind" pills.

That's the congressional diagnosis given International News Service by Dr. George W. Calver, the attending physician to Congress.

Since 1928, Dr. Calver, a heart specialist and career Navy medical officer, has had prime responsibility for the health needs of senators and representatives on capitol hill.

He describes his suite of offices in the capitol as "primarily a health service, not meant to supplant the congressman's own family doctor."

But because the family doctor is back home, the state of the Congress' health rests in Dr. Calver's hands to a large degree.

Dr. Calver works closely with the family doctor, getting the medical history of each new congressman from the home town physician and keeping it up to date during the congressman's tenure.

When a new congress convenes, Dr. Calver's office sends a little note around to every lawmaker, new and old, asking that he or she make an appointment for a head-to-toe examination.

The examination includes an electrocardiogram, X-rays, blood chemistry tests and blood pressure readings.

Most attention is paid to the cardiovascular system, since congressmen, in common with executives and others working under heavy pressures in positions of responsibility, must treat their hearts and blood vessels with respect.

On the basis of these checks, Dr. Calver reports the 85th Congress is shaping up as a health-conscious, moderate-living, physically-sound group.

The average representative is older by almost a full year than his composite predecessor in the 82nd and 83rd Congresses. And today's senators average almost 18 months older than the senators of the 82nd and 83rd Congresses.

Dr. Calver explains why the congressman is healthier, although, older this way:

"Our years of health propaganda are beginning to pay off. Men are now more conscious of the need for correct eating, drinking, playing and working habits than ever before."

Johnson was breaking all the cardiologists' "don't" until he suffered a heart attack last year. Now he is weight-conscious, eats and sleeps at regular hours, has cut down his 16-hour work day and in general is a model of moderation health-wise.

Dr. Calver was asked about the controversial peace of mind pills. Do congressmen take them?

He replied: "I do not prescribe and never have prescribed tranquilizers for the simple reason that they destroy individual enterprise and initiative."

Church Stops Use of Dutch Language

MUSKEGON (AP) — A century-old tradition has ended with the discontinued use of the Dutch language from the pulpits of reformed churches in greater Muskegon.

Final services in the language handed down by early Dutch immigrants were conducted Sunday by Rev. Henry Alkema, pastor at the Berean Church.

"It is apparent the younger generation are content with religious services in English and apparently have little interest in the Dutch rites," he said.

The Dutch language services had been a tradition each week since the church was founded as a special service for members of the congregation who still spoke their mother language.

Mississippi Wife May Have Quints —Doctor Silent

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A Mississippi physician has denied he told a housewife that she would give birth to quintuplets.

Mrs. C. Lester Blaylock of Drew, Miss., was quoted by the Memphis Press-Scimitar in a copyrighted story yesterday as saying her doctor predicted she would have quintuplets, possibly this week.

But Dr. J. F. Lucas of Greenwood, Miss., said:

"I regret very much the unauthorized use of my name in sensational newspaper stories with reference to an alleged expected multiple birth.

"As a doctor, I do not feel free to discuss the matter except to say that I have not made any prediction about any multiple birth."

Mrs. Blaylock, 33, reportedly left her home yesterday for Baptist Hospital here, accompanied by her husband, a 46-year-old paper mill employe. She couldn't be reached for comment.

The hospital said it knew nothing of the case and said it would have to make advance and complicated arrangements if quintuplets were expected.

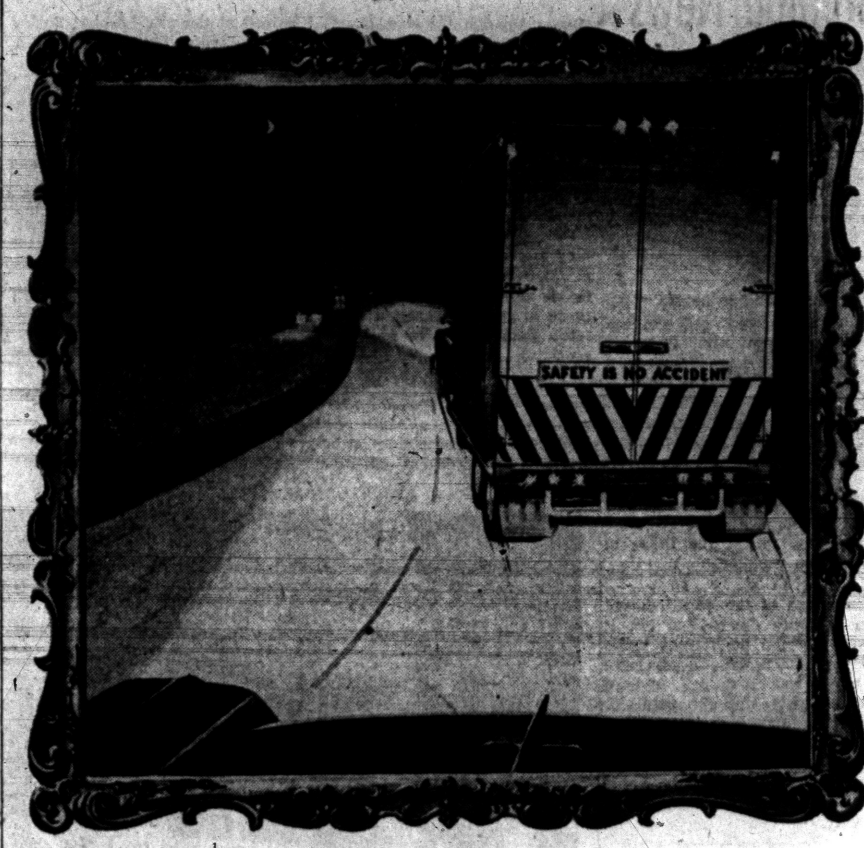

New Motor Stands By

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The city has installed a new, gasoline-driven generator capable of furnishing electric power for all fire alarms and fire communications in Grand Rapids, providing eergency power in case of failure in the fire department's regular system.

Some freight cars on British railways have fifty six wheels carrying loads up to 150 tons.

The average American wastes the equivalent of two cakes of soap per year.

Motor vehicles are exempt from the general property tax rolls in 18 of the states as of this year.

PORTRAIT of a friend...

Sure, it's a truck (a truck-trailer, to be exact) and you're getting ready to pass it as it rolls along through the night.

But it's much more than this.

It's a shipment of supplies for the corner drugstore where you buy; a crate of spare parts for the auto repair garage you patronize; a load of foodstuffs for your favorite grocery; shoes for little Junior, eye-glasses for Mary, paint for that bedroom you're doing over, the TV set you've been waiting for.

Life in Michigan just couldn't go on as it does today without trucks. Agriculture and industry depend on them. So do the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker. So do you!

Show Off Creations for Inaugural Festivities

Cabinet Wives Unveil Dazzling Gowns

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — If the Cabinet ladies' dazzling inaugural gowns should look slightly bedraggled at next Monday's whoopla festivities, you can blame it on the snowfall in Washington.

On the coldest morning of the year, the gallant wives of our top Cabinet officials donned long white gloves and peacock-gay evening dresses to strut their finery for the benefit of avid photographers.

At the risk of sliding on their trains in the fluffy white sheath which bedecked our streets, they made the trek to the Mayflower Hotel to provide an advance peek at the spectacular gowns which will brighten the four inaugural balls Monday night.

First Lady Mamie Eisenhower's second inaugural creation is still a deep secret—from tucks to designer—but except for the wives of Labor Secretary James Mitchell, who refused to pose, and of Welfare Secretary Marion B. Folsom, who is sick abed, we can reveal these shimmering details about the other Cabinet exhibits:

Mrs. John Foster Dulles, as befits the spouse of the world's top-ranking diplomat, should steal the show with her gray silk gown liberally studded with rhinestones, pink beads and embroidered ribbons.

Oldric Royce of New York designed the stunning display which features a one-sleeve stole—removable—and a luxurious skirt which is doomed to sweep plenty of soil from the crowded Statler ball where she and Foster are assigned to spend the inaugural evening. With it, she will wear a single strand of pearls and diamond-cluster earrings.

PINK IS POPULAR

Pink—the color which Mrs. Eisenhower chose four years ago—will dominate the gowns of several other ranking ladies this time. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's good-natured charmer will sport Balenciaga's pink-champagne silk satin in princess style with a pearlbeaded bodice and topaz velvet shoulder drape.

The spouse of another millionaire—Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks—should excite plenty of "oooohs" with her floating pink mousseline de soie ball gown embroidered with deeper rose beading.

"I just love it—I just love pink," she murmured prettily as the petite size-12 Cabinet lady fluffed the tiny train of the gown she ordered three weeks ago from Hattie Carnegie.

Probably the most spectacular, in color and design, will be the short-short-in-front and long-in-back chiffon chosen by Mrs. Fred A. Seaton, wife of the new interior secretary.

Reminisdent of the "My Fair Lady" fashions, the Howard Greer creation sports a turquoise train and a girdle of royal amethyst bands. Two lavender roses top the high bustline, from which the skirt flows without benefit of waistline.

BOUND TO SHINE

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's attractive spouse is bound to shine. Her gleaming white semi-sheath has black velvet bands with black lace appliqued patterns over the skirt, and from beneath her train will peep black slippers with rhinestone heels.

Black and white net lace over orchid taffeta will highlight the gown of Mrs. Herbert Brownell Jr., Texas-born wife of the attorney general. With it she will wear orchid satin slippers and exactly no jewelry "as is my custom."

Dusty lavender lace over pink taffeta will bedeck Mrs. Ezra Taft Benson as she glides onto the dance floor with the towering secretary of agriculture.

The dress simply had to be that color to display with proper glitter the lavender crystal necklace which her Mormon husband personally selected for her in Czechoslovakia.

AP Wirephoto

Mrs. John Foster Dulles, wife of the U. S. secretary of state, poses in the gown she has selected to wear at the Inaugural Ball Jan. 21. Of pale gray silk, the floor-length formal is embroidered with light pink beads and has a matching gray stole lined in pale pink.

The U. S. has treaties with about 300 Indian nations or tribes.

Women Spend Millions on Makeup

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We all know that women use a lot of cosmetics, but let me give you some figures from a recent survey of consumer expenditures through all outlets. These were compiled by Drug Topics and Drug Trade News under the direction of Doctor Paul C. Olsen, market research director.

The market figures in this survey were obtained through the collaboration of thousands of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers. Here are the figures for 1955 in the United States. Women spent:

For makeup bases	$47,510,000
For face powder	$24,860,000
For face lotions and astringents	$19,560,000
For liquid cleansers	$21,640,000
For talcum and body powders	$26,760,000
For powder puffs	$17,390,000
For lipsticks	$64,770,000
For rouge	$ 7,140,000
For mascara, eyebrow pencils and eye shadow	$ 8,340,000
For compacts	$47,930,000
The total is	$285,900,000

This reflects the tremendous interest women have in their appearance. However, the products purchased will be of little help unless we use them with skill. Today I want to bring you some directions from Eddie Senz, New York's great makeup artist.

In 1955, American women spent $285,900,000 on cosmetics.

If you have puffs under the eyes, do not use a heavy makeup base under the eyes When this dries the skin becomes taut and the puff will look like a drum.

If you have lines under the eyes a makeup base will make them more noticeable because it will settle in the lines. If you use a makeup base over the rest of the face blend it delicateiy toward the under-eye area.

When you shape your brows leave some of the very fine hairs outside the brow line. This creates a more natural appearance. While the brows should be well-groomed, if the surrounding skin looks shiny and slick the general impression is one of artificiality.

The brows should be lighter toward the end of the brow. After using your eyebrow pencil with light feathery strokes, blend them by whisking a small hard brush through them.

Bride Fails to Pen Note of Thanks

Donor Telephones to Ask if Costly Gift Was Received

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "After sending a very expensive wedding present to the daughter of a friend of mine and waiting three months for a thank-you note, I called the bride to ask if she had received it.

"My husband thinks I was wrong to telephone and says that by doing so I placed the bride in an embarrassing position. Will you please tell me if I was in error?"

Answer: It is the bride who is at fault for not having thanked you in three months' time, and you were quite right to telephone her to find out whether or not your present was lost.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me how to let some of my wedding guests know that their children are not invited.

It seems even though Mr. and Mrs. is plainly written on both the outside and inside envelopes, the reply cards are received with the children included.

"This happened when my sister was married last year and I would like to avoid the same situation. I was wondering if writing the number two (for Mr. and Mrs.) on the reply card would be rude, or is there any other way you could suggest that would be more tactful.

Answer: The best thing for you to do is to write on the bottom of the invitation, "Very sorry that we are unable to invite any children."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what is meant by 'Russian Table Service'?"

Answer: The so-called "Russian" service is that of every formally appointed house. The term simply means that no serving dishes are ornamental dishes of fruit and sweetmeats.

The meat is carved in the kitchen or pantry; vegetables are passed from and returned to the side table.

New Furnishings Recall Gaslight Era of the 1900s

CHICAGO (INS) — The gaslight era is seeping into 1957 furniture styles.

The woman who lived in the days of the flickering yellow light would scarcely recognize the way modern designers are using things she had in her parlor, however.

Hooked rugs were hung on the walls in a stylish showroom at the International Home Furnishnings Market in Chicago. But the rugs are vividly colored, in abstract designs and mounted as paintings.

Horsehair returned, not as the durable covering for a sofa, but as the decorative treatment for tops in combination desk-tables and for headboards of beds.

Stained glass colors — mauves, greens, purples, golds and magentas—were used by decorators as accent pillows on sleek modern sofas of beige and oyster white.

INSET IN TABLES

Stained glass, the same kind which made parlors cozy in the early 1900s, also was inset into modern-lined occasional tables. One designer even used cathedral glass to trim cabinet doors.

Marble made a surprise comeback in new furniture at the current market after being overshadowed by walnut and fancy woods in 1956. The marble was used to top tables, chests and consoles, but also in a new way.

White Carrara marble, the same kind used for statuary in gaslight days, was designed sandwich fashion into chests—between the legs and the chest unit and repeated for the top.

The woman in the early part of the 20th Century had cane seats on chairs. The modern homemaker can go her many better. Cane is being used for seats, for backs even on metal dinette furniture, for door panels, for headboards and for table aprons.

* * *

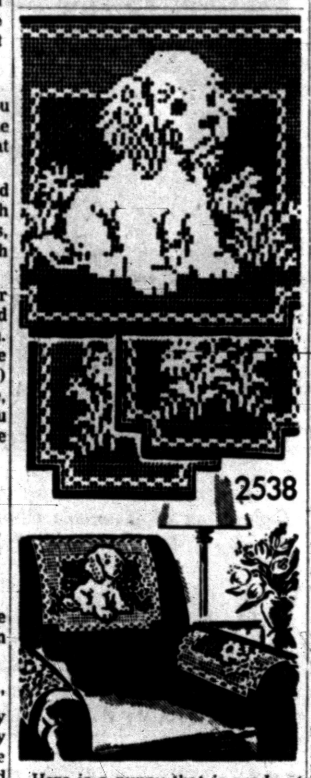

Just as in old-fashioned parlors, decorators of the most modern showrooms set bowls of polished apples in the middle of round tables and hung inverted, modern "umbrella" lamps just a foot or two over them.

FLORAL PATTERNS

Flowered wallpaper, some of it flocked and velvety, was returned to some room arrangements. For contemporary furniture, it was white-on-white. But black and white floral paper was used as the background for more provincial furniture.

* * *

Window curtains were popular, too. Sheer, modern fabrics were used instead of old-fashioned lace, but they were hung by top decorators on brass poles—just as they were in the early 1900s.

We See What We Expect to See

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Marie Rasey says, "We see not what is in front of our yes, but what is behind them."

In other words, we bring our preconceived notions and past experiences to each thing we look at.

I saw this perfectly the other evening, in a job clinic with which I work at my church.

There were two women, both in their 50s, who were looking for jobs. The week before, they had discussed their situations in detail.

Mrs. A. is a business woman, with considerable experience, who lost her job when the company went out of business.

Mrs. B. is a housewife.

I gave each of them an identical list of employment agencies in our city which I know are not prejudiced against people over 40.

I suggested they go and apply at the agencies and report back to us. Ther reports were very revealing.

Mrs. A. opened the discussion with fire in her eyes.

"Why did you waste my time," she glared at me, "and why did you lie to us about those agencies? They have no jobs at all for older workers and practically refused even to take my application. I've never been treated so miserably in my life!"

* * *

She ranted on about emloyment agencies in general and these in particular and scolded me for incompetence in my field.

SUCCESS STORY

Then Mrs. B. spoke up.

"I have a job!" she announced happily. "I got it from one of those agencies. And just today, two others called me about jobs.

"I don't know what Mrs. A. means for they were just as friendly and gracious as they could be!"

We finally got Mrs. A. to admit that she looked upon employment agencies with her own preconceived notions and convictions.

She knew in advance that they were prejudiced—or so she thought—so she approached them with a chip on her shoulder and unspeakable bad manners.

DISCOURAGED HER

Of course, they realized that nobody would hire such an ill-mannered woman and probably just discouraged her politely.

Then, too, she was sure they were projudiced against her for her age ,yet they helped Mrs. B. who was the same age.

Furthermore, Mrs. A. had good experience, while Mrs. B. had none. But Mrs. B. had good manners—which makes all the difference!

She Ducks the Chore of Cleaning

Columnist Decides Feather Plucking Is 'Fowl' Job

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—It's good sportsmanship to lend a city friend your shotgun so he can a-hunting go and it's good sportsmanship for the friend to bring you back a duck. But for me the question arose—How to clean a duck, or versa versa? Choosing the latter, I let my husband do it.

* * *

My cookbook said to melt a sizable amount of paraffin and douse the duck in it. Let it cake and peel it off and feathers and down will come with it, leaving the bird as bare as a new-born babe.

That would have been the easier way, had we kept paraffin in the cupboard.

Resorting to ducking the clean, I merely supplied my spouse with last Sunday's New York Times and sent him to the back porch where he nimbly plucked the fowl, letting feathers fly over the neighboring yards and leaving the down still sticking to the bird. What could be singed off was, the rest we ate.

The cookbook said real gourmets cooked their ducks, the wild ones that is, only 10 minutes to the pound. I cooked ours a good 30 minutes. It was still bloody rare and the way my husband liked it.

For me I'll take a domestic, already cleaned supermarket bird cooked till the meat falls off the bones, anyday. Guess I'm just old-fashioned!

ENTERTAINING OUT

Only the President has a big enough house and adequate staff to do his official entertaining "at home."

Cabinet members and many other government bigwigs give their big dinners and receptions for the visiting VIPs at palatial Anderson House and the handsome Pan American Union loaned to the government for such purposes.

Caterers are called in to prepare the elaborate dinners and buffets served up in both places.

But the menu is always carefully checked, along with the service and decorations, by one of Washington's most competent, but as yet unsung, hostesses, Mrs. Victoria Geanley, who long has served as Uncle Sam's official housekeeper at Blair House where state visitors are put up for the night.

Just Ignore Wet Blankets and Their Belittling Talk

You Don't Have to Please Everybody; Your Satisfaction Is All That Counts

By RUTH MILLET

It took all of her will power to stick to the rigid diet her doctor prescribed. But the day finally came when she stepped on the scales and saw she was a trim, slim 135 pounds instead of the 225 pounds she had started out to whittle down to fit a size 14.

* * *

Pleased with herself and hapy over her triumph of will power versus appetite, she exected all of her friends to pat her on the back.

Instead, some friends are telling her she looks too thin, spoiling her triumph with their critical remarks.

She wants to know why.

The answer is that you can't please everybody.

A BIG MISTAKE

If you are wise you don't even expect to. Whether you are slimming down, buying a new dress, redoing the living room or whatever, somebody is going to think you are making a big mistake.

And somebody is going to take the wind out of your sails by telling you that blue is more becoming to you than the green you chose for your new dress, that the living room looks nice but wouldn't it have been better if you had done such-and-such?

That is because there are quite a few people in the world who don't like to see other people happy with what they have and pleased with the choices they have made or the things they have accomplished.

There's just one way to deal with these wet blankets: Ignore 'em. You don't have to please everybody when you set out to please yourself.

Don't even try—if you ever want to be contented with what you have and satisfied with what you accomplish.

Worst Foes of U.S. in Arab World Don't Bear Arms

Editor's Note: The cradle of civilization can become its grave if misjudgment in the Middle East sets off World War III. Today Americans are trying to gauge their role in the area. The background and its significance will be sketched in four articles by William L. Ryan, just back from his fourth trip to the Middle East.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The worst enemies of the United States in the Middle East are ignorance, fear, corruption and poverty.

It will take more than a declaration against armed aggression to defeat these allies of communism. Even a generation of patience, planning and cooperation might not be enough.

At best, the Eisenhower Doctrine or some substitute will be a modest beginning toward a continuing policy. It indicates the dawning of an American realization that the last chance in the Middle East is at hand.

As it stands, the Eisenhower Doctrine fails to answer basic questions from either Arab or Israeli. It does not commit the United States to much more than was understood already. An armed Communist attack in any event would have created a world war situation. On the economic side, given any improvement in political climate, some American program was to be expected.

The most common criticism of the United States in the Middle East is that it never really has had a policy here. In addition, the United States is frequently criticized for seemingly seeking quick solutions to complex problems. Arab and Israeli alike would welcome a clear statement of American policy for the area, but as yet none has been forthcoming.

The core of the problem is an area known as the Fertile Crescent, made up of Iraq, Syria, Jordan and Palestine. In area it is slightly bigger than the state of Texas, in population less than the state of New York. This area, the home of about 14 million people, is alive with ferment.

How did it get that way? The story is centuries old, a record of oppression, feudalism, backwardness and the broken promises of the West. Centuries ago this area was the center of Arab grandeur. From this cradle sprang the three great religions of Western civilization — Christian, Hebrew and Moslem.

For many generations the people of the Arab East lived without national identity under the oppressive rule of the Ottoman Empire. But secret societies plotted movements for independence and a unified Arab state.

World War I brought hope. Turkey was allied with Germany, wooing the aid of the Arabs. Britain and France made glowing promises of a paradise to come if they would rise against Ottoman rule. With British help, the Arab nationalists revolted.

When the war was over, the British and French conveniently forgot the promises. They cut up the Arab world and carved out spheres of influence. In the Fertile Crescent France took over what is now Lebanon and Syria. Britain took what is now Iraq, Jordan and Israel.

Between the two big wars, Britain and France smothered the idea of unity. Politicians learned how to corrupt political movements, how to buy power in the streets and turn out mobs for political ends. Arab turned to plotting against Arab. Talk of unity was reduced to nonsense.

The Arabs had no popular political parties, no ideology they could call their own, no social program.

World War II brought economic change. The rise of new industries favored development of what the Russians call a "proletariat." Communist fortunes improved in the Arab world. They began a campaign exploiting the themes of feudalism, colonialism, imperialism and peace. And again the West was forgetting its promises.

Power politics brought independence for Syria and Lebanon as separate nations, but British influence remanied strong in other Arab nations.

The Arabs still had mass ignorance, poverty and political chicanery. The masses were apathetic. But the tiny, young educated class seethed.

Then came 1948. Britain gave up her League of Nations mandate in Palestine. Israel proclaimed herself a state. The Arabs fought and lost.

Israel's victory increased Arab bitterness and frustration and directed it at Britain and the United States.

An Arab-Israeli armistice brought no peace. Palestine was partitioned. Close to a million Arabs left their homes in what became Israel and were quartered in miserable refugee hovels in surrounding Arab countries. Hit-and-run attacks and sudden assaults exploded on the Israel-Jordan and Israel-Egypt frontiers.

In 1955 Britain, with the backing of the United States, formed an alliance with Turkey, a northern tier against the possibility of Soviet aggression. Later it was to be joined by Iran and Pakistan. Arabs saw this as British imperialism again, an attempt to keep the Arab states divided. New friction came to the area. It coincided with the rise of Gamal Abdel Nasser in Egypt as the Arab world's new hero.

And something else new was added. Soviet geopoliticians found communism could leap easily over the northern tier. They concluded a deal with Nasser for arms he could not get from the West, arms he insisted he needed as a defense against Israel. Russian influence was intruding itself into the Middle East with a vengeance. And world communism welcomed the climate of bitterness in which it might hope to flourish.

State Abandoning M53 at Romeo in Step 1 of Master Plan

PASSES 82 MARK — Dr. Albert Schweitzer, famed jungle doctor of Lambarene, French Equatorial Africa, and Nobel Peace Prize winner, yesterday observed his 82nd birth anniversary, making routine rounds among sick natives as he has for the past 50 years. Above is the world-famed doctor in characteristic pose by Erica Anderson, photographer for the feature-length film biography of the humanitarian now being released in the U. S.

Pass Governing Resolutions

Village to Assume Control

ROMEO — Village Councilmen here learned last night that M53 (Van Dyke) is scheduled to be abandoned as a state highway within the village limits in "the near future."

Ray Mellen, village president, said today that "the move is the first in a master plan for this area toward the construction of a new trunk line from Detroit." The proposed highway will run east of Washington, form a cloverleaf and bypass Romeo about one mile west of town.

Last night the council passed two resolutions governing resurfacing and future control of M53 within the village limits.

Members first agreed to participate with the state in a $123,000 project of resurfacing of M53 at a cost of about $23,000 to the village.

Secondly they voted to assume control of the highway as part of the village street system when its abandonment becomes effective.

Village councilmen also agreed to rent voting machines for the primary election at a cost of $150 from Bruce Township.

As a result of last Saturday's $50,000 storage building fire near Almont, councilman Donald Payne volunteered to join Fire Chief Walter Werth in contacting fire department officials in Almont to work out a mutual aid plan.

This plan is now in operation with other communities in Macomb County, but Almont, being in Lapeer County, pays for volunteer help from Romeo and vice versa.

Reactivation of a committee on zoning was authorized by Mellen. Trustees David Pettibone, Fred Hebert and Payne will study, particularly, unused land in the middle of blocks surrounded by single or double housing units.

Owners of a car dealership on the corner of west Gates and Prospect streets who are currently converting the property into a motel, were asked for a site plan and more adequate floor plan of the building, due to change in usage.

Launch Drive for Members

Start Romeo Auxiliary Campaign for Hospital in 13 Communities

Romeo — The first campaign for members was launched today by the auxiliary of the Community Hospital Foundation Inc. according to membership drive chairman Mrs. Edmund E. Anderson of Romeo.

The control auxiliary committee has mailed letters to three thousand families living in the thirteen communities to be served by the new medical facility.

Construction of the hospital to be built on M-53 (Van Dyke) between Romeo and Almont is scheduled to start this spring. It will provide a medical center for residents living within a radius of thirteen to fifteen miles of the new hospital.

Nurses in uniform will distribute membership cards at convenient locations, such as banks or supermarkets, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. both Fridays during the campaign beginning this week. In communities where nurses are not available, Mrs. Anderson said, posters will designate the representatives to be contacted in that area.

Members of the auxiliary will be classed as active or inactive and will pay dues of a dollar a year payable in January. Junior memberships will cost 50 cents each.

Included among the communities to be served by the proposed hospital are Romeo, Almont, Washington, Armada, Berville, Allenton, Capac, Imlay City, Dryden, Leonard, Lakeville, Oxford and Lake Orion.

For the evening ceremony performed in Kingdom Hall, Drayton Plains, the bride wore a filmy white ballerina-length gown and a fingertip veil edged in Chantilly lace, secured with a tiara of seed pearls. Her floral arrangement of pale pink carnations and white sweetheart roses was edged with Italian openwork ribbon.

Her sister, Carol Lee Parker, was the maid of honor. Her gown was of pink net and she carried a crescent arrangement of pale pink mums and calla assembled gladoli.

Robert Travis of Garden City served as best man.

The reception was held at the Hof Brou Hall, in Fraser, where the bridal table was centered with a huge white cake and baskets of pink poinsettias and white sparkle bush. Vases of white mums centered the tables for the guests.

Royal Oak Workers Picket at City Hall

ROYAL OAK — Local 270 International Union of State, County and City employes (CIO) held a quiet demonstration in front of City Hall here last night.

As members of the city commission filed in to attend a scheduled commission meeting they were confronted by some 60 men bearing cards demanding a flat 10 cent an hour raise for members of the local DPW.

Mayor Howard Kelly revealed that he was unaware of a problem existing in that department and city manager E. M. Shafter said he was not notified that there was to be a demonstration. However, CIO financial secretary, Norman Bird contends that the union had sent letters and tried to discuss the problem for about two or three months, but to no avail.

He said the union was informed that a raise was "not in the budget." He added, "the demonstration could not have been much of a surprise after all this time."

Veto Rezoning of Avon Sites

Turn Down 3 Proposals; Name Group to Study East Rochester Property

ROCHESTER — Three rezoning proposals presented at the meeting of the Avon-Rochester Planning Commission here have been turned down.

The first request was for zoning from agricultural to commercial of the MacInnis property, on Rochester road between Auburn and Wabash. A field inspection, made by Geer Associates, in company with members of the subdivision committee, suggested "improper location."

On the second, the Leslie A. Hopkins property on Tienken road, recommendations were that the rezoning proposal be turned down until the commission can be furnished written evidence of the availability of public sewer and water.

The third, the Relyea property north of Tienken road, in Avon, was turned down for the same reason.

A special committee including Clarence Burr, F. R. Chapman and Tillson Peabody was named to make a study of the property east of Main, south of Romeo road and north of South street. This property is in the eastern part of Rochester and has been more or less inaccessible to the rest of Rochester because of the New York Central Railroad, the Paint Creek River, and the Clinton River running through it.

Annexation Vote Due at Thornville

Polls Open Until 8 on Jan. 19 to Decide Merge With Dryden Schools

METAMORA—Annexation to the Dryden High School District, will be voted upon this Saturday by the people of the Thornville School District. Polls will be open from noon until 8 p.m. The question has been brought up due to low Thornville enrollment.

In order to acquire State Aid for teachers the enrollment must be 35. This years total is 26. This condition has made it necessary to levy an extra two-mill tax in order to continue operating.

The decision to take the vote recently was made by the school board after an open meeting for the discussion of the question. At this time a small majority favored an election to decide the issue.

State, county and high school officials all are urging annexation, but many disagree, pointing out that the County Board of Education, the County Area Study Committee, and the State Department of Public Instruction have for years wanted to close the Dryden high school. They would merge it or split it up among the Almont, Imlay, Lapeer and Oxford districts.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Hiring a football coach for Pontiac High School isn't the only athletic concern for the local school board.

At least that's what the outline of plans presented by the executive committee to the school board indicates.

According to the plan, the committee has a two-fold purpose in mind regarding the grid setup.

First is the employment of a head football coach and secondly is strengthening of the football program.

The contents of a four-page brochure revealed at the school board meeting recently, is divided into three parts, (1) the procedure of employing a coach (2) the qualifications for the position and (3) the plans for strengthening the overall football program.

LONG LIST OF QUALITIES

There are seven phases listed in the procedure of hiring a coach. There are three basic qualifications with a total of 18 qualities desired and there are three proposals sub-divided into seven suggestions for the purpose of building interest in PHS football through school, community and press relations.

Sounds complicated doesn't it? It is if you have it in your mind that Pontiac High is looking for a genius to coach its football team.

But it's really not too difficult to understand. The board merely has in its hands the desired standard by which all candidates, and football in general, should be evaluated.

We emphasize the word "desired" standard, because the board knows as well as we do that any man who would fill every quality with equal characteristics would really be a genius, and he's a rarity.

The board wants the closest thing possible. It is taking all the time necessary to find him, and we can't say we blame it.

Public opinion in Pontiac has reached the stage when it demands this qualified coach, and the board hopes it will have the man after careful screening.

The screening is expected to be completed by February 15th and after final interviews, the recommendation for the board to consider is due by March 15th.

After this is completed, the success of point three, that is, strengthening the football program, will then rest on the shoulders of the community, through support and interest.

Record Number of Night Tilts

CINCINNATI (INS) — The National League, which again has increased its number of night baseball games, wil set some sort of record by holding an arclight contest on opening day of the 1957 season.

When the season opens April 16, Brooklyn will play at Philadelphia in a night game. St. Louis will be at Cincinnati, Milwaukee at Chicago and New York at Pittsburgh.

The official league schedule, released yesterday, lists 261 night games for the coming season.

The Dodgers will play eight, instead of seven, home games at Jersey City this year.

The all-star game will be played in St. Louis on Tuesday, July 9. It will be a day game.

Crisler Says College Football Is OK

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Football Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. reached the midway point of its annual meeting today with Chairman Fritz Crisler contending "everyone's pretty well satisfied with the game just as it is."

* * *

The greying Crisler, athletic director and former head coach at the University of Michigan, said there were fewer suggestions for rules changes this year than ever before.

The American Football Coaches Assn., represented by retired Columbia Coach Lou Little, dominated the opening session with a four-point program.

The coaches' main point was a request for an expansion of the substitution rule which now permits only starting players to return to the game once a quarter.

Under the plan offered by Little, substitutes as well as starters would be permitted to return at least once during a period.

"While there's a lot of argument on both sides for this move," Crisler said following the closed session of the 25-man group yesterday, "there's a unanimous feeling not to return to the platoon system."

Crisler explained that with large squads, it would be possible to train one team only for offense, one for defense and one both ways and "feed into either team" which would be a return to the two-platoon system.

The coaches also asked that any ball, either leather or rubber, be used at the discretion of the offensive team. The present rule permits the home team to select any leather ball with the offensive team able to use a rubber ball by mutual consent.

The center's handling of the ball and the legality of substitution be clarified or if necessary changed. Little said the rule allows the center to tilt the ball 45 degrees, but in some cases, the ball is being tilted almost 90 degrees, decreasing the neutral zone at the line of scrimmage from the length of the ball to its width.

Crisler said the move presented a problem of enforcement.

The coaches also asked that the responsibility for legality of substitution be lifted from the coach and transferred to another source. Crisler said there were many methods for removing such responsibility, including appointing another official to handle substitutions.

Crisler said the problem of what he called "sideline administration" came up at yesterday's afternoon session, but emphasized that no final action would be taken until tomorrow's final meeting.

FINAL TRIP — Gene Johns, of New York City, was down for the third and final time in the sixth round of scheduled 10-round fight with Garnet (Sugar) Hart, of Philadelphia, at St. Nicholas Arena last night. Hart was the winner on a knockout at 1:14 of the sixth when referee Al Berl halted the fight under New York's three knockdowns in one round rule. It was Hart's 11th straight victory and the 17th KO in 20 pro fights.

Kansans Retain Top Spot in National Cage Status

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina, although winner of three games, lost ground during the past week in its effort to overtake powerful Kansas as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press college basketball poll.

The Kansans, sparked by Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, continued to pace the poll today with a total of 923 points—95 points better than second place undefeated North Carolina.

With points awarded on a basis of 10 for a first place vote, nine for second and on down the line, North Carolina received a total of 828. Last week the Tar Heels trailed Kansas by only 48 points.

Of the 94 first place votes cast through games of Saturday by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters, Kansas collected 49, North Carolina 30 and that's where the big difference lay.

The makeup of the first 10 teams in this week's poll was unchanged although shaken up a bit by the week's developments.

Southern Methodist, which scored over Texas A&M and TCU, moved into third place ahead of Kentucky, which also won two games. Louisville remained in fifth place, but below that things moved around quite gingerly.

UCLA advanced from eighth to sixth, Seattle from ninth to seventh, Illinois from 10th to eighth. The skidders were Vanderbilt, which tumbled from sixth to 10th after losing an overtime game to Mississippi, and Iowa State, which fell from seventh to ninth after bowing to Missouri.

East Favored in NBA Game

BOSTON (AP)—The East will rule as a three-point favorite tonight when it pits its speed against the West's height advantage in the seventh annual National Basketball Assn. all-star game at Boston Garden.

But both East Coach Arnold (Red) Auerbach and West pilot Bobby Wanzer are fretting.

Auerbach, whose Boston Celtics hold the top rung in the Eastern Division, has perennial Celtics' all-star Bob Cousy ready for action, but he fears two Giants on the West squad — 6-8 Bob Pettit of St. Louis and the Minneapolis Lakers' 6-7 Vern Mikkelsen.

Mikkelsen was named to replace teammate Clyde Lovelette, who suffered an ankle injury over the weekend.

Announcement at Hand

Pete Elliott Going to Cal?

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)— The University of California should name its new football coach tonight with Nebraska's Pete Elliott seen on the inside track.

There was nothing official from the university except an announcement that the two groups having the final decision meet this evening to hear the report of Athletic Director Greg Engelhard and Paul Hastings, executive director of the Associated Students organization.

Speculation, however, pointed to the 30-year-old Elliott, a star at the University of Michigan in his collegiate days, as the man most likely to succeed Lynn O. (Pappy) Waldorf, who resigned after a 10-year tenure.

The slit-T formation mentor, who would be the youngest football coach in Cal annals, said from Bloomingtn, Ill., "there is nothing official I can say at the present time. I hope to make a statement soon because I don't like to carry things like this out any longer than possible."

He added that his three-year contract at Nebraska was a verbal one and "I don't believe it could be considered a breach of contract should I desire to move on."

Last year Elliott went to Nebraska from an assistant's job under Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma. His Cornhusker team won four and lost six with a 3-3 record in the Big Seven Conference.

At Michigan, Pete won 12 varsity athletic letters, the only man ever to do so at the Big Ten school. He played quarterback both under Fritz Crisler and Bennie Oosterbaan at Ann Arbor.

He served as end coach for two years at Oregon State and then went to Oklahoma for five years.

Beliveau Holds to Point Lead

Gets Only One Goal in 2 Games but Still Tops Lindsay

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's surge to the top of the National Hockey League heap last week found several Canadiens improving their positions in the circuit's scoring race.

Montreal center Jean Beliveau, playing in two of the Canadiens' three games, scored only one goal but clung to a seven-point lead over Detroit's Ted Lindsay, who moved into the runner-up spot over teammate Gordie Howe.

Beliveau's 23 goals and 34 assists give him 57 points. Lindsay trails with 50, and Howe, whose 25 goals lead the league, has 49. Three assists registered by Montreal's Bert Olmstead moved him into a fourth-place tie with Norm Ullman of Detroit at 37 points.

Montreal allowed only three goals in three games last week. That performance improved goalie Jacques Plante's chances for retaining the Vezina Trophy. Plante's goals-against average, including goals against his nine-game replacement, is 2.02.

Mantle Won't Sign Contract

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mickey Mantle, the triple crown winner of 1956, has returned his 1957 contract to the New York Yankees unsigned.

The 25-year-old slugger, the American League's Most Valuable Player last season, is reportedly seeking $75,000 for next season.

He confirmed here last night, where he attended a banquet, that he had turned down the first offer of the world's champions. But he refused to say how much he is seeking, or how much he and the club are apart.

* * *

Mantle said he planned to go to New York today for several days, and said he probably would talk to Lee MacPhail, assistant general manager of the Yanks.

Success After Eleven Years Futility

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—At last!

Tulane basketball Coach Cliff Wells erased 11 years of futility with the two words and achieved a lifetime ambition last night by 68-60 in one of the season's top upsets.

The scholarly 60-year-old veteran of 29 years of high school coaching in Indiana wove an almost incredible zone defense with an opportunistic offense in handing Adolph Rupp's Wildcats their third loss of the season.

And the Tulane victory was almost without any shortcoming. The five Tulane starters played all but the last 42 seconds, topped the Wildcats in shooting percentage and dominated the backboards despie Kentucky's superiority in height.

"I waited a long time for this one and it feels as good as I thought it would," Wells told admiring supporters in his small, neat office in the Tulane gym that only moments before rocked with cheers as never before.

Wells accorded the expert use of a zone defense "with adjustments" the major share of credit for the victory.

Kentucky led at 6-4 in the first three minutes, but that was as close as he Wildcats were destined to come to victory.

The Greenies frequently ran their margin to as much as 17 points, but Kentucky closed the gap to four points in the last three minutes. But another scoring spur sent Tulane comfortably ahead in the dying seconds.

Rupp, last beaten by a Tulane team in 1938, accepted defeat graciously, but said Kentucky's 28 per cent in field goal shooting was the difference since Tulane hit 39 per cent of its shots.

Spartans Meet Notre Dame 5

EAST LANSING (AP) —Michigan State's tough luck basketball team, beaten by one point its last two times out, meets Notre Dame at South Bend tonight in its last non-conference game before plunging into a steady diet of Big Ten play.

Notre Dame, with a 7-5 record, won its last two games, from Loyola of Chicago and Northwestern. MSU lost its one pointers to Purdue and Michigan. The Spartans have a 4-5 mark.

The Irish are the oldest active rivals on the MSU card, with a record of meetings dating back to 1908. The two teams have met 73 times with Notre Dame winning 51 and MSU 22.

Lesser Lights Lead 'M' to Win Over Wisconsin

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A stout defense and timely sharp shooting by some lesser lights kept Michigan near the top of the Big Ten basketball heap today.

With last night's 71-62 conquest of Wisconsin, the Wolverines were hopeful of moving into a tie for first place. They went to their dressing room confident of moving up in the standings, but word was soon relayed that league leading Ohio State had whipped Minnesota to stay in front.

So Michigan is still knotted in second place (3-1) with Illinois and Purdue as both also won last night.

Badgers could only gun 22 points and nine field goals before halftime.

Michigan, which had a 14 point halftime bulge, never trailed the sputtering Badgers, who have yet to win in the conference.

With leading scorers George Lee and Ron Kramer having off nights, M. C. Burton and second-stringer Jimmy Shearon took up the slack as each collected 16 points.

Giant 'Heavy' No Threat

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP) — Ewart Potgieter, 7-2, 332-pound giant from South Africa, is the biggest fighter in boxing history but until he acquires punch and skill to go with his size, the current heavyweight contenders are in no danger.

The 24-year-old former farmhand from Vyrheid, Nepal, appeared willing but very much inexperienced in dropping a 10-round decision to Jeff Dyer of Springfield last night in his U. S. debut at the Valley Arena.

Pottie moved surprisingly well for such a big man and showed endurance and ability to take a punch. But his offense left much to be desired — showing him to be the novice he is.

Dyer, outweighed by 120½ pounds and giving away 11½ inches in height, crouched low and waded into Potgieter with hard rights and lefts to the body in registering his 14th victory in 16 pro bouts.

Detroit Bows to Bradley 5

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Bradley University held its grip on first place in the Missouri Valley Conference basketball race last night by defeating the University of Detroit 89-76.

It was Bradley's fourth straight conference win and Detroit's fourth conference loss in five starts. Detroit spotted Bradley an early lead then crept ahead briefly before trailing 41-40 at halftime.

Gene Morse lead Bradley with 25 points. Detroit's Bill Ebben collected 12 points.

Lopsided Games at YMCA

Lopsided scores were the rule last night in YMCA Intramural League basketball games at the 'Y' gymnasium.

The league-leading Falcons, sparked by Gordon Montross who tallied 15 points, trounced, the YMCA, 37-19, for their 5th win in as many starts.

Seaman's absorbed its 5th consecutive setback, a 54-36 lacing at the hands of GM Tech. W. C. Stricklin racked up 18 points for Tech while Al Hayward led the losers with 11.

Seminary defeated Gators, 36-23, in the closest contest of the evening. Seminary's Gerland Spangler tallied 13 points, but Bruce Ross of the Gators took scoring honors with 15.

The 2nd round of the season begins next Monday night. Final 1st round standings:

Falcons	5	0	Gators	2	3
YMCA	3	2	GM Tech	2	3
Seminary	3	2	Seaman's	0	5

Flint JC Rolls On

PORT HURON (AP)—Flint Junior College continued its dominance of the Michigan JC Basketball League last night by whipping Port Huron Junior College, 127-93.

Joe Roberson had 36 points and Charles Teasberry had 23 to lead Flint.

Iowa State Hands Kansas First Defeat

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, a basketball menace to all this season except the Iowa State Cyclones, humbly declared "You deserve to win" after his tormentors jolted Kansas 39-37 last night.

Magnificent in its ball control, Iowa State stopped Chamberlain with five field goals, three of them routine — for The Stilt — tip-ins and a 17-point total.

This was just five points more than the Cyclones yielded to Wilt in their Big Seven Conference tournament game at Kansas City last month which Kansas won 58-57 on a last minute field goal.

Last night history was repeated but fate favored Iowa State instead.

Don Medsker, who gave away four inches in height to the 7-foot Chamberlain, climaxed a tremendous defensive effort against The Stilt by shoving in the winning basket as the game ended.

The shot sent Kansas, the No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll this week, to its first defeat in 13 games.

Chamberlain, whose two pressure free throws tied the game with nine seconds to play, also lost his second scoring duel to Iowa State's Gary Thompson, 14 inches shorter than the big Kansan.

Thompson drilled in 18 points.

"He's great," was Wilt's accolade.

The Stilt, despite falling far below his 32 point average, was none the less sensational.

Defensively, Wilt plucked 18 of Kansas' 29 rebounds.

Leading Trotters in Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Hickory Smoke, winter book favorite for the $100,000 Hambletonian Classic, and all the leading 2-year-old trotters of last season are eligible for the world's richest harness race to be held here Aug. 27.

This was made known when the Hambletonian Society announced that 86 horses had been kept eligible by the Jan. 1 payment of $250 each for the famous sulky derby which has been transplanted from Goshen, N. Y., to the Du Quoin State Fair.

Based on 15 starters, the 32nd Hambletonian will have a gross value of about $104,000.

All-America Boom for Mustang Ace

DALLAS (AP) — An All-America boom for Jim Krebs gathers momentum as the tall young man from Missouri leads Southern Methodist spinning toward a third straight Southwest Conference basketball championship.

The southwest hadn't had much to talk about in an All-America way until Krebs reached basketball maturity, solved all the problems thrown his way by the opposition and did what Coach Doc Hayes figured he could do when he finally got a big man on his basketball team.

Southfield Wrestlers Down Bentley, 35-21

Southfield High School's wrestling team, in its 1st year of existence, won its 2nd match in as many starts Monday with a 35-21 decision over Livonia Bentley. The Jays won seven of the 12 bouts, all by pins.

Jerry Dobbertin (120), Larry Selinsky (154), and heavyweight Dave Marsh all scored pins in the 2nd round. Dan Caverly (103) pinned his opponent in the 3rd round. Bentley's five wins included two decisions.

Comeback Win for 'Kids'

Russ Nordman and Roger Reynolds meshed 21 points apiece to pace the Calgon Kids to a 48-44 comeback win over the Pontiac Merchants in last night's best adult City League basketball game at Jefferson Junior High.

The Merchants held a 24-18 halftime lead, but a hefty 20 to 10 edge in the 3rd quarter turned the tide for the Kids. Ron Guyette netted 15 points for the losers.

Levi Pilgrim and ex-PHS star Willie DeWalt each tallied 19 points to lead the Lakeside Royals to a runaway 62-33 decision over the Clarkston Merchants. Roger Voorheis made 10 points for Clarkston.

Last night's top Class D attraction at Lincoln Junior High aw Pietz Market defeat State Spartans, 34-28. Bud Hayward garnered 14 counters for the winners while Gil Hernandez had 13 for the Spartans.

In other 'D' games, Perry Williams collected 16 markers as Bussy's Whirlwinds walloped the Wolverines, 55-18, and the Boys Club routed Booth Homes, 49-17, behind Leon Leon Wek's 12 points.

3 Red Wings Selected on NHL All-Star Team

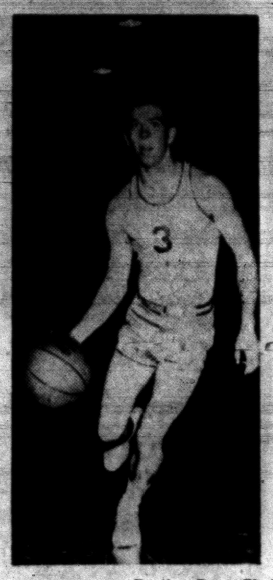

MONTREAL (AP) — Three Detroit Red Wings, two Montreal Canadiens and goalie Terry Sawchuk of the Boston Bruins were selected for the National Hockey League No. 1 all-star team in voting, announced today, for the first half of the season.

Three players were unanimous choices of the hockey writers, broadcasters and telecasters from the six NHL cities. Center Jean Beliveau and defenseman Doug Harvey of Montreal and right-winger Gordie Howe of Detroit received the 90 possible points.

Others voted to the first all-star team were defenseman Red Kelly and left-winger Ted Lindsay of Detroit.

Points were awarded on the basis of five for a first choice, three for a second and one for a third. A second-half poll will be taken at the end of the season. The combined points will deicde the first and second teams.

"BALL OF FIRE" — A fiery competitor for the Avondale High School basketball team is speedy Fred Hyten, who will be a key figure in tonight's Oakland B League battle with Lake Orion at Avondale.

Prep Card Light but Lively

By BILL CORNWELL

The renewal of a sizzling Suburban Catholic League feud and an Oakland B League struggle between Avondale and Lake Orion headline tonight's light high school basketball program in the Oakland County area.

Highland Park St. Benedict, undefeated in five games, comes to town tonight to meet St. Michael at the Pontiac High School gymnasium in a crucial Suburban loop engagement.

It is a particularly critical test for the Mikes. St. Ben will carry a 4-0 league record into the fray while St. Mike stands at 3-1. Another loss would virtually put the northsiders out of title contention.

St. Mike and the Ravens are far from being strangers. They met four times last season and split down the middle. The Shamrocks whipped the Bens twice during the regular schedule and the two schools finished as SCL co-champions.

Then the Bens took their turn. They walloped St. Mike in a playoff at Shrine for the right to enter the Detroit parochial tourney and later eliminated the Shamrocks at PHS in the semi-finals of the regional tournament.

A well-balanced attack, sparkplugged by sharp-shooting Larry Gacki, makes the Ravens a solid choice to win. Backboard control will also be in their favor.

Unbeaten Orchard Lake St. Mary will be favored to turn back visiting St. James, St. Frederick should have no trouble with weak St. Clement on the Ram floor, and Royal Oak St. Mary hosts St. Rita in other Suburban Catholic games.

Avondale, which returned to the winning track last Friday at Roseville, plays host to a hot-and-cold Lake Orion quintet, which blew hot a week ago routing neighboring Oxford.

The Jackets will have to silence Orion's double - barreled scoring punch of Jim Drake and Nick Niera and still keep their eyes peeled toward Ralph MacLachlan, who also gets his share of buckets. Both teams have identical 2-2 league marks.

Troy, often unimpressive but still winning in the loop, faces dangerous Clawson on the Clawson court and Fitzgerald entertains winless Roseville in remaining Oakland B encounters.

Cranbrook, hungry for a victory after six futile attempts, battles Kennedy Collegiate of Windsor at Cranbrook in a return match and the West Bloomfield Lakers tangle with Bloomfield Hills at Keego Harbor in non-league attractions.

Lapeer gets a chance to avenge one of its three losses when Davison invades the Panther den. The Lapeer cagers own a 3-3 record.

Other area games tonight are North Branch at Lakeville, Detroit St. Gregory at Royal Oak Shrine, Dearborn Roosevelt at Oak Park and Brighton at South Lyon.

Rivera in Sox Fold

CHICAGO (AP) — Outfielder Jim Rivera today became the sixth Chicago White Sox player to sign for 1957. He batted .255 last season, driving in 66 runs and hitting 12 homers. The Sox said he signed for the same salary, which was not disclosed, as he drew in 1956.

Mickey Mantle Awarded 'Sultan of Swat' Crown

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mickey Mantle, modern day slugger of the New York Yankees, was awarded a crown last night named after the greatest baseball slugger of all time, the late Babe Ruth.

Mantle was given the "Babe Ruth Sultan of Swat" crown by the annual "Tops in Sports" banquet.

The 25-year-old switchhitter got the diamond and emerald-studded crown for "outstanding batting achievement." He led both major leagues in hitting, .353, home runs, 52, and runs batted in, 130, last season.

Mantle was given a standing ovation by a sellout crowd of more than 1,000, as was Olympic sprint star Bobby Morrow.

Morrow, who picked up three gold medals at the Olympic games in Melbourne in November, was cited as "Sportsman of 1956" by Sports Illustrated magazine.

Other awards went to:

Sal Maglie, pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, "Comeback of the Year;" Frank Lary, Detroit Tigers, "Winningest Pitcher of the American League;" Sherman Lollar, Chicago White Sox, "Top Defensive Catcher;" Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox, "Outstanding Hurler of the American League;" and Catcher Gus Triandos, "Most Valuable Oriole."

Drug Regains League Lead

Drayton Drug slid back into 1st place by half a game and Boyle-Stone Front of Milford coasted to victory in Monday night's Waterford League basketball games at the Isaac Crary Junior High gym.

The Drug quintet regained the league lead with a 53-48 triumph over Johnson & Anderson in a closely-contested battle. Bill York led Drayton with 19 points while Stu Hutchinson and Bill Newcombe each made 15 for J & A.

Stone Front waltzed to a 50-41 win over Louie's Tavern in the opening game. Boyle's Carl Beaubien tallied 15 points for scoring laurels. The loser's John Collins picked up 13.

In tonight's contest at Crary, Philgas tries to tie Drayton Drug for 1st place by beating Matthews-Hargreaves. Game time is 7:15.

Oakland's Two Leading Wrestling Teams Meet

Oakland County's two foremost prep wrestling teams clash headon at Hazel Park tomorrow when the Vikings play host to the strong Berkley contingent in what is expected to be an interesting area battle.

Both have lost their only matches to state powers thus far. Hazel Park has a 2-1 record with the setback administered by Ann Arbor. The Bears are 3-1 with the only loss to Lansing Sexton. Both have won all their other outings handily.

Senators Sign 3 More

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators announced today that three more players have signed contracts for 1957. They are shortstop Jose Valdivielso, infielder Tony and Rookie pitcher Ralph Groves, up from Chattanooga.

Retirement Is Official

Jackie Robinson Takes Up His New Job, Sends Letter to Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — All was quiet today in the household of Jackie Robinson, baseball star turned business executive.

The famed Brooklyn Dodger insured peace by formally retiring from baseball yesterday and reporting for duty as vice president of personnel for a restaurant chain.

Jackie's retirement drew an audience of reporters and photographers to his new business office where he dictated a letter to th New York Giants officially requesting his retirement.

The letter is expected to result in he re-assignment by the Giants of Robinson's contract to Brooklyn, thus nullifying the Dec. 13 deal which sent Jackie to the Giants for a reported $30,000 and southpaw pitcher Dick Littlefield.

Baseball procedure indicates Robinson will be carried on Brooklyn's voluntary retired list for two years, then given his unconditional release.

'Willing to Compromise'

Kaline Wants Settlement

DETROIT (AP) — Al Kaline, admittedly a bit uneasy about the prospect of a slugging match over his 1957 salary with the Detroit Tigers, said today he is "willing to compromise."

But the 22-year-old slugger said he'll expect general manager Spike Briggs to give in a little, too, when they sit down — for the 4th time — to talk contract in about two weeks.

Unhappy at the publicity given his squabble with Briggs and most especially with the general manager's comment that "Kaline think he's as good as Mickey Mantle and wants more money," the young right fielder made the first move since the flurry to patch things up.

"I'm going to be out of town for about ten days," said Kaline. "I have a banquet in Alberta, Canada, and another one in St. Paul. As soon as I get back, I'm going to go down to the stadium and try to get this thing settled."

Kaline hadn't wanted his salary disagreement with Briggs aired in public. Earlier he had confided to friends that there was a difference of opinion, but he said that after a couple of meetings, the difference in the amount he sought and the amount the club offered wasn't much.

Recreation Head Cooking Up Plans for Camp

Despite the fact that Pontiac is gripped by zero temperatures, Leonard T. Buzz, recreational director for the Parks and Recreation Dept., is already making plans for this summer's "Frog Hollow Camp" for kids.

Buzz, along with Victor Lindquist, day camp director, and other staff members, will attend a Michigan Camping Assn. meeting Saturday at Michigan State University.

"We're busy taking applications and having interviews for staff personnel for the 1957 camp," Buzz said.

He said the last camp sessions, for boys from 7 to 13 and girls 9 to 12, was one of the most successful in the department's history.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks

without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new lavative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Waterford Jaycee Award Honor

Charles Pappas Named 'Man of Year'

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
of our
Waterford Township Bureau

Charles Pappas, 35, a teacher and vocational director at Waterford Township High School, is Waterford Township's Man of the Year.

The award was made by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the annual "Bosses' Night" dinner party last night at the Golden Drumstick Restaurant in Drayton Plains.

Police Chief Frank Van Atta, one of the judges, made the presentation.

Although "Charlie" has only been in Waterford Township for three years, he has proven himself to be the most outstanding young man in the community, judges felt.

TAKES TOP HONOR — Waterford Township High School teacher Charles Pappas was named as "Man of the Year" by the Waterford Jaycees at a dinner meeting last night. Shown congratulating Pappas (right) are Jaycee president John Chase, and Police Chief Frank Van Atta, one of the judges.

Pappas is married and lives with his wife and three young sons at 3627 Babybrook Dr. He was nominated by Waterford Township residents, and five judges chose him for his extraordinary initiative, his important contribution to his profession and to the general welfare of the people of the community."

After serving three years in the Coast Guard in the European and South Pacific zones, Pappas came home and obtained his BS degree at Central Michigan.

Pappas was the first Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce president in 1954. He has been chairman of the Industrial Planning committee, chairman of two town hall meetings on annexation and incorporation.

He organized the Co-op Club at Waterford Township High School and was Cub Scout chairman at Jayno Adams School within the last year. Pappas also was a Sunday School teacher for fifth graders at the Temple Beth Jacob Church in Pontiac.

Serving as state president for the Michigan Vocational Education Society, he also was state chairman for the Michigan JayCees on the "Build a Better Community" project.

Pappas is now eligible to be one of Michigan's five Outstanding Men of the Year, an annual project sponsored by the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The top five men chosen by the judges will be honored at the traditional banquet and ceremonies will be held Feb. 9 at Grand Rapids.

Hollywood Headlines

Titus Moody Takes Over as Ma Kettle's New Pa

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ma Kettle has a new Pa.

He's Parker Fennelly, veteran stage, radio and TV actor who has taken over as Marjorie Main's spouse in the latest of the series, "Ma and Pa Kettle at McDonald's Farm."

He replaces crickety Percy Kilbride, who voluntarily retired two Kettles ago. Another of the series was then made with Arthur Hunnicutt in he male lead, but not as Pa.

"I don't know how they happened to choose me," said Fennelly, famed as Titus Moody ("Howdy, Bub") in the late Fred Allen's Alley. "I don't resemble Percy at all."

But Fennelly is noted for his portrayal of rural characters, though they have generally been of a New England variety rather than Western like the Kettles. The studio saw him as Arthur Train's Mr. Tutt in a Robert Montgomery TV show. That spawned the idea that he could be Pa.

"But I told them if they wanted to see something more like Kettle," he remarked, "they should see a film I did a year ago for the Robert Young show, 'Father Knows Best.' I played a farmer in that one, the only film I had ever made in Hollywood."

The film confirmed the studio's judgment and Fennelly was signed. Now he's not so sure he should have. He came to lunch attired in Pa's usual tatters with a rope for a belt ("very high-class wardrobe.") And he told of spending the morning swinging from a wire for a stunt in which he falls into Ma's arms.

"I didn't read the script before I signed," he commented. "They didn't tell me anything about this."

But though he speaks with Down East caution, he appears to be having a good time. He was a small-town Maine boy who couldn't resist the lure of the footlights. He went to drama school in Boston and started on the stage in 1915.

After serving in the Army after the first World War, he returned to acting and admits that he had plenty of lean times. But with the rise of radio he found steady employment to fill out the times between plays.

Daniel Becomes Texas Governor

Shivers Quits Politics After Staying in Office for Seven Years

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Allan Shivers moves out and Price Daniel moves in today as governor of Texas, swearing to defend both the state and federal constitutions which both have have said sometimes conflict.

Daniel takes the oath of office shortly after noon, ending Shivers' seven-year reign, longest in the history of the state.

Shivers, 49, is retiring from politics, for the time at least, to manage his far-flung business enterprises.

Daniel, 47, is an ardent state's righter. He has been in frequent conflict with the federal government on many issues which he considers in violation of state's rights. He went to the U.S. Senate to battle for a return to Texas of its oil-rich offshore lands. He leaves the office with two years to go on his original term.

The question of his successor has been a point of dispute between the two men and has national significance because of the shaky 49-47 Democratic majority in the Senate.

Both Shivers and Daniel bolted the Democratic party in 1952 to support Eisenhower when the "tidelands" was an issue. Daniel returned to the party fold in 1956 but Shivers actively campaigned for the GOP ticket.

Clear More Suspects in Local Ax Murder

Two men, residents of Ortonville and White Lake Township, were virtually clearned of having had any connection with the Aug. 1 ax-slaying of 72-year-old Florence Norton at her Springfield Township farm when they passed lie tests Monday.

"The came through with flying colors," said Oakland County Sheriff Department detective Jack Davis following the tests at the Redford State Police post. A total of 34 persons have now been tested by the lie detector.

Investigators continue to go over every detail of the murder in hopes of someday fitting the pieces together in the now six-month-old mystery. A double-bitted ax, believed to have been the weapon used, is still missing and detectives are seeking information concerning a car seen at the Rattalee Lake road farm a few days before neighbor found the woman's battered body in a shed.

No sooner said than done
...by telephone

A fine party! What's the occasion... fund raising, PTA, a school reunion?

In any event, the hard-working committee that made the party a success deserves a round of applause. And don't forget, the telephone helped, too.

It was the telephone that helped settle hundreds of details—"Alice, will you take charge of the decorations?... Mary, will you arrange for the food?... Jane, will you get the extra tables and chairs?"

Let your telephone run your day-to-day errands, plan good times, keep you in touch with friends and loved ones. There's just no end to its usefulness. Your telephone is always at hand to work for you—quickly, tirelessly, every day of the year.

Simply Amazing For Bleeding Piles
Quick relief after all ointments, suppositories, doctor's prescriptions, etc. have failed. Medical science has developed a totally different, pleasant, miracle home treatment. Usually in a few days, bleeding starts to disappear and usually in a few days more it is completely gone along with soreness, irritation, etc. Piles have started to shrink. Thousands of former sufferers have successfully used RECTORAL and never had any further trouble, even years afterward. A great many had been advised only an operation would help them. A prescription is no longer required for RECTORAL. Most drug stores have it.

Farmer Buys Boy and Boy Would Stay

HONG KONG (AP) — The government recehtly uncovered the first case of "Mui Tsai" — sale of children for slavery — since the British authorities stamped out the ancient Chinese practice many years ago.

A 14-year-old girl and her 10-year-old brother were kidnaped from their home, the Social Welfare Office reports, and sold to an elderly farmer for 200 dollars (35 dollars U. S.). The case had an odd ending.

Welfare officers awarded the boy to the farmer after the youngster said he wanted to remain with the old man.

The girl was returned to her parents.

About four-fifths of Canada's residents are native born citizens.

Redhead Cops Oldster

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A woman here reported her 78-year-old husband missing. "Do you have any idea why he left home?" asked the policeman. "I have a pretty good idea," she replied, "red-headed woman."

Scraped Flour Can, Found Some Dough

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP)—A Ponca City housewife scraped the bottom of the flour canister to get enough for a recipe and found a dollar bill.

The next day, she called the grocer, all excited about the flour company putting dollar bills in the flour sacks, and she ordered some more of the same brand.

That night, she told the family about the discovery and the 12-year-old son, cried, "Oh, Mommy, thats where I hid my money.

Britisher's Luck Finally Runs Out

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — There's a corking good luck piece showering Houston these days, The Better Business Bureau reports.

It seems a Britisher living in Torquay, England, owns what he calls a "Wishing Cork Tree." The cork tree, he writes in his sale testimonials, has a 300-year record for causing good luck.

The testimonials say cork holders have won at everything from craps to the Irish Sweepstakes, well worth the $2 to $5 the Britisher was asking for chunks of the cork tree.

His own luck, however, has taken a turn for the worse. The Post Office Department informed the Bureau he was being charged with mail fraud.

Steels Continue Downward Slant

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels continued lower as the stock market declined in early trading today.

Leading issues took losses of fractions to around a point.

Some aircrafts and other selected issues made small gains.

The steel shares were still affected by reports yesterday of a slackening in demand for certain steel products at a time when it was generally expected demand would be at a high pitch, brokers said.

MORE LOSSES

Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown and Crucible extended their losses of yesterday by a point or more. U.S. Steel and Republic Steel dropped fractions.

The softness in copper stocks on reports of slower European demand also was resumed. Anaconda, Kennecott and Phelps Dodge were easy.

In the motor division, Chrysler continued up fractionally while General Motors and Ford declined. The aircrafts, spurred yesterday by more than a half billion dollars in missile contracts, were mainly steady. Boeing and Douglas were up fractions. United Aircraft backed away a bit.

Rails, rubbers and chemicals were mixed. Leading oils took small losses.

Du Pont advanced more than a point. American Telephone was steady. Royal Dutch and American Cyanamid were losers.

Among opening blocks were General Electric off ¼ at 56⅝ on 1,100 shares, Raytheon off ⅝ at 18¾ on 1,100 and Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton up ¼ at 14¼ on 3,500.

FLOYD KENT

Floyd Kent Opens New Sales Office

Pontiac is on the verge of a great expansion, according to Floyd Kent, who is celebrating the 40th anniversary of his real estate firm this year.

Kent is expanding his firm by opening a new office at 2200 Dixie Highway near Telegraph Rd., "where parking space is more adequate." The present site is at 24 West Lawrence St.

Kent, who beat the paved highway out to Pontiac in 1916, attributes the increasing growth to the developing rapid transit system between Detroit and Pontiac.

Said Kent: "It isn't strange to see people commuting as much as 60 miles from their homes to their jobs in New York City because of the transit system there. The same system exists in Chicago and we are catching up here.

"We have the only rapid transit system in Michigan, between Detroit and Pontiac. Our area has been Detroiters' playground for years. Soon they'll be making it their year-around homes."

Kent announced that Wilson H. Bass, of Auburn Heights, will be the general sales manager at the new office. The general brokerage sales manager is William Miller, of Sylvan Village.

Thompson Awaits Trial; 3 Already Imprisoned in Fox & Hounds Theft

Returned to Michigan to face charges as the alleged fourth member of a gang that held up the Fox & Hounds Inn in Bloomfield Hills on Nov. 30, 1953, Andrew Thompson, 34, yesterday stood mute at his Circuit Court arraignment.

Judge Clark J. Adams entered a plea of innocent and remanded Thompson to Oakland County Jail under $10,000 continued bond.

It is expected Thompson will be tried on an armed robbery charge within a month, with one of his alleged partners as the chief prosecution witness.

The partner is Ted Sullivan, 32, who is serving a 5-20 year prison term in Marquette State Prison. Sullivan confessed the crime, implicating two others.

They are Charles Clark, 33, serving 20-40 years in Jackson Prison, and John Graham, 31, serving 10-20 years. They were convicted on Sullivan's testimony.

Thompson was extradited from Chicago to face the charge he and the three others took $5,600 from the inn safe, after tying up the bookkeeper, Peter Larson, and two waitresses early on a Monday morning. The money was the weekend's receipts.

Bad Axe Store Hit by $100,000 Blaze

BAD AXE (AP)— Fire raced through a downtown furniture store yesterday causing an estimated $100,000 danage.

Firemen from nearby communities aided Bad Axe firefighters in battling the blaze for about two hours. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Ike Discloses Note Exchange With Macmillan

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — President Eisenhower today made public an exchange of messages with Great Britain's new Prime Minister—an exchange pledging continued personal friendship and obviously looking to the bolstering of Anglo-American unity.

The exchange with Harold Macmillan, who last week succeeded Anthony Eden as chief of Britain's government, was put out in Tucson shortly before the President left on a further tour of drought damaged areas of the Southwest.

"I send my warmest congratulations to you on becoming Prime Minister of the United Kingdom," Eisenhower messaged Macmillan, with whom he became well acquainted during World War II.

Neither Eisenhower nor Macmillan, in his reply, made any mention of the possibility of a face-to-face meeting.

Police Find No Car Broke Ice at Teeple

A thorough investigation at Teeple Lake in White Lake Township Monday cleared up any possibility that a car had gone through the ice about one-eighth mile from shore Sunday night, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department said today.

Detectives Don Francis and Jack Davis conducted a long search with two ice fishermen yesterday and found no trace of any vehicle after probing an area 40 feet square with long poles. The water is 13 feet deep at the spot where a large hole had been discovered Sunday.

The investigators reported a close check of the car tracks found by deputies in a preliminary look at the area near the Ford Road launching site disclosed that an auto had apparently been driven on the ice and then backed off again.

Despite Grief Over Ailing Son

Red Skelton Rejoins Cast

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Red Skelton, strengthened by 20,000 letters and telegrams, tonight plays a real-life version "Laugh, Clown, Laugh."

His television program over CBS-TV will be his first live show since learning that his son Richard, 9, is critically ill with leukemia. Doctors have said the boy's life expectancy is five months to a year.

A previously filmed show was substituted last week, when the comedian was too overcome with grief to go on.

Red, visibly overwhelmed by the kindness of fans who had expressed sorrow, said he will personally answer every communication.

"People are wonderful," he said at his first rehearsal yesterday. "I can't thank them enough for all they have done to comfort Richard's mother and me.

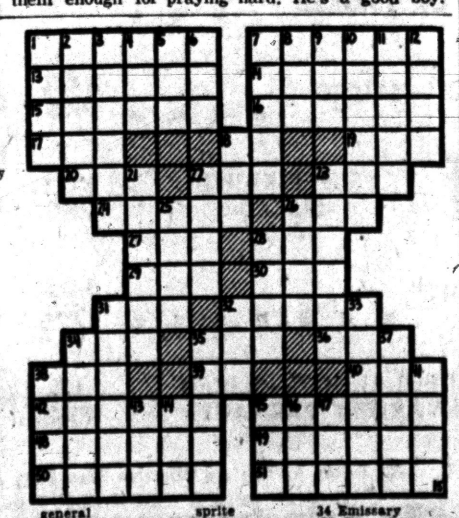

"Faith in God is our only hope. At first we felt useless — just another mother and father asking for help and then came the kindness of friends."

The comedian, near collapse for a week after the disclosure of the blood cell malady, said he and his wife Georgia are past the initial shock.

The boy has returned home from UCLA Medical Center, and knows he is seriously ill with leukemia, Skelton said. When a television news commentator first broke the story, one of the listeners was young Richard.

"Perhaps it is better that he does know," said Red. "Now he will cooperate better with the doctors. We are not giving up hope. All of us, including Richard, are praying hard. He's a good boy."

Admits Three Breakins 'to Provide for Family'

Admitting three area breakins this month because he "needed money for my family," Oakland County Sheriff's deputies say, James Andritsis, 24, father of two children who lives at 293 Osmun St., yesterday pleaded guilty before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams to a charge of breaking and entering.

Placed on Probation for Assault of Girl

A Hazel Park man, Robert Jones, of 1570 Elsa St., pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting a 15-year-old girl with intent to rape, yesterday was placed on three years probation.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams assessed Jones $200 court costs. Jones had pleaded guilty Dec. 27 to the alleged assault. Police said he struck the girl in the face.

Designer Wins Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A fashion designer Virginia Rand, 30, was awarded a divorce from television film executive Raymond Rand, 33, after testifying that her husband became "violent" over her method of toasting the garlic bread at a party. "He made a scene in the presence of our guests and humiliated me by making the garlic toast himself," she told the court.

Opens the Door for New Talents

Old 'Schools' Such as Vaudeville, Burlesque Have Vanished

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—"Where is television going to get its new comedians?" a fellow asked the other day.

* * *

His argument ran that the medium is steadily destroying the old spawning grounds of those who make us laugh. Vaudeville is gone. Burlesque, as it once was, has ceased to exist in most places. Many small night clubs have closed their doors because of the competitive TV screen.

Where, then, do people discover a promising youngster who makes them laugh?

Well, in the first place, television with the aid of its parent, radio, has brought forth quite a few "new" comedians. How about Jonathan Winters, Jack Paar, Herb Shriner, Buddy Hackett, Ernie Kovacs, Sam Levenson, Johnny Carson? And how about Steve Allen?

All these men have played clubs, but — unlike George Gobel, for example — they were not top-flight entertainment names when they entered the TV listings. All are relatively young. Some have not been favored with good luck on television thus far. Some undoubtedly are discouraged.

They shouldn't be. They forget how relatively young they are. They forget that a good comedian —or comedienne — has tremendous longevity.

Look at the years of trial and error experience that lie behind some of the better known television names: Bob Hope, Groucho Marx, Jackie Gleason, Phil Silvers, Lucille Ball, Bob Cummings, Robert Young, Burns and Allen, Jack Benny, Spring Byington, George Gobel.

We tend to forget that these people spent long years learning their art in vaudeville and burlesque, in night clubs and the movies. They are better known does not mean they are innately better comedians than the newcomers.

A comedian, like every artist, has to establish himself. But we can't reopen vaudeville or bring back burlesque or start a chain of small night clubs for fledgling comedians. They must try their wings on television.

No Evidence Found for McDonald Story

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Marie McDonald case has the chief of police asking rhetorical questions.

Chief William H. Parker said yesterday that 10 days' investigation of Miss McDonald's story of being kidnaped from her Encino home has produced "absolutely negative results."

And, he added — rhetorically — "Where do we go from here?"

Like mst such questions, it was unanswered. Ray Pinker, chief of the police crime laboratory, could not help, said Parker.

"No footprints were found near the bedroom window through which Marie said her kidnapers accosted her,' Parker said. Although she told of scratching her abductors, scrapings from under her fingernails showed no trace of skin or blood, he said.

He said that an exhaustive examination of the McDonald home by Pinker disclosed no physical evidence at the scene. The chief added:

"We have checked out every bit of information in the case and have failed to find any evidence whatever which would substantiate or disprove Miss McDonald's story."

1,080 to Get Degrees

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Hollywood-Bound Boon Still Considering Pulpit

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Pat Boone, take the stand!

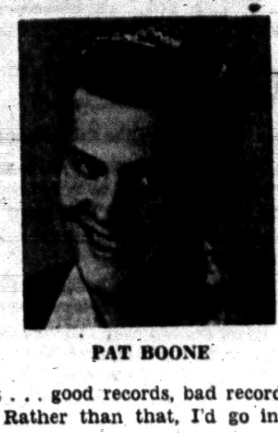

"Have you given up all ideas of preaching?" I asked the singing dreamboat from the south who's about to become a glamour boy in wicked Hollywood.

"Not at all!" The slickly-dressed but non-sideburned Tennessee and Texas crooner who occasionally steps into the pulpit of the Church of Christ admitted he's had many serious thoughts about being a minister.

"I don't think I'd preach full-time . . . but I don't plan on a singing career, either," he told me.

He had a textbook opened before him at his manager Jack Spina's office. A prospective Phi Bete, he's taking a leave from Columbia Jan. 28 to do "Bernadine."

PAT BOONE

"You've got a pretty fair little singing career now!" I said. He's just racked up his fifth gold record (Don't Forbid Me") and is a Godfrey show regular.

"If I can be a big-time singer, I'd enjoy it." He bent over and polished his neat brown loafers.

"But I don't want to fight it . . . good records, bad records, frustrations, disappointments. Rather than that, I'd go into educational television."

"How do you feel about 'mixed dancing' now?"

"I'm glad you asked that, because I'm not carrying on a crusade." He hoped I wouldn't misunderstand.

"My church doesn't think because music's playing it's all right to put your arms around somebody else's wife. While I was in London on tour, I was in the Embassy Club New Year's eve. Ladies in funny hats asked to dance."

Pat's wife Shirley, Red Foley's daughter, is already the mother of three — and they'll accompany him to Hollywood.

"Shirley's tried to show me how to waltz, but she get's to laughing. Still, you hear about people using dancing to combat juvenile delinquency. It's all very confusing." He shook his head.

"The same with preaching. Somebody like Perry Como, since he reaches so many millions, might influence more people than a preacher could. Being that kind of a singer would be wonderful."

It will be equally wonderful watching the career of Pat Boone. It's refreshing to meet somebody who doesn't know all the answers—and says he doesn't.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Danny Dayton, Dagmar's husband, narrowly escaped loss of an eye in a gas heater explosion at Dag's parents' home in Huntington, W. Va. Helping him was the fact his eyeball was toughened by contact lenses . . . Eva Gabor's setting up divorce residence in Nevada.

Judy Holliday saw Joan Collins' mink hat, dashed out and bought one . . . Bernard Baruch is out of the hospital and convalescing at home . . . Lucky Luciano, an ulcer victim, may ask to return here for medical treatment . . . Tom Ewell, opening in New Haven in "Tunnel of Love," got a congratulatory wire from MMonroe.

One of Fernando Lamas' birthday gifts was a book, "Spanish Self-Taught" . . . Marlon Brando's rejecting cowboy scripts —won't do any shoot-em-up films . . . Sal Mineo signed to make rock 'n' roll disks . . . The Hotel Edison's Irwin Kramer sent a bottle of champagne to boxing champ Gene Fullmer's table; Fullmer returned it—he doesn't drink.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

Women may be smart, as people say, but we doubt if one ever made a fool out of a man without a little cooperation.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Children are natural mimics. They act like their parents, despite every effort to teach them good manners."—Quote.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Too often, notes Al Hibbler, the modern housewife leaves nothing unsaid and everything undone.

The most annoying thing about suburban trains that are always late, complains Vaughn Monroe, is that some morning they aren't . . . That's earl, brother.

Ike Recommends Zwicker Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP) —Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, a key figure in the 1954 Army-McCarthy row, has been recommended by President Eisenhower for promotion to major general.

Zwicker's clash with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was one of several incidents that led to the Army-McCarthy fued. As an outgrowth of this dispute, a Senate committee investigated McCarthy's activities, and the Senate voted to "condemn" his conduct on several counts late in 1954.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Actress Gloria DeHaven says she will marry Richard Fincher, Miami auto dealer, here Saturday.

Utica Man on Probation for Bad Check Charge

John S. Mavity, 38, of 40929 Ryan Rd., Utica yesterday was placed on two year's probation for uttering and publishing a $10 check Nov. 12 on a Rochester bank at which he had no account.

Mavity was assessed $50 court costs by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams. He pleaded guilty to the charge Jan. 2.

Received Stolen Goods, Gets 2-Year Probation

A two-year probationary sentence was received yesterday by a Detroit man, who pleaded guilty Dec. 14 to receiving property stolen June 26 from a Southfield Township store.

Jasper Carnegie, of 1945 Seward Ave. was assessed $100 court costs by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Israel Objects to U.N. Report

Official Challenges List of 452 Arab Casualties Caused by Invasion

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel has challenged a U.N. report which estimates at least 452 Arabs were killed in the October-November invasion and occupation of the Gaza Strip.

The report was made to the U.N. General Assembly in New York by Henry R. Labouisse, director of the U.N. Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees. It said 291 of the victims were refugees of the 1948 Palestine War and the others were Arab residents of the strip.

An Israeli spokesman at U.N. headquarters declared the casualty figures were obtained from sources of questionable accuracy.

An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman claimed the dead "were largely personnel of the Palestine units attached to the regular Egyptian army who took an active part in the fighting in the 'national guard' units and as fedayeen (commandos)."

He also declared that many Arabs listed as casualties may have fled the Gaza area and now may be alive in Jordan and elsewhere.

Labouisse said the casualty figures drew on eyewitness accounts from refugees, the UNRWA staff and others.

Postpone Hearing in Fatal Shooting

Circuit Court arraignment of Herbert B. Montgomery, 52, of 475 Arthur St., charged with the fatal shooting of his wife, Elizabeth, yesterday was postponed one week.

Judge Clark J. Adams granted the postponement at the request of Montgomery's attorney, David C. Utley of Pontiac, and freed Montgomery under $500 continued bond.

Montgomery faces a manslaughter charge involving the accidental shooting, police say, of his wife, 37, during a tussle for a .32 caliber pistol in their home last Oct. 29.

Montgomery was returned to Pontiac Nov. 16 from Monroe, La., where he had fled following the shooting, police said, because he was "scared."

Detroiter on Probation in Shoe Theft Case

A Detroit man, Willie Locke, 1500 Taylor Ave., yesterday was placed on two year's probation and assessed $100 costs by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams for his part in the theft Sept. 21 of more than $50 worth of shoes from a Southfield Township store.

Locke had pleaded guilty Dec. 10 to a charge of receiving some of the shoes as stolen property.

TV Tunes Garage Door

BELLAIRE (AP) — Ray Olney's electronically operated garage door apparently has tuned in on the family's TV set. The door normally opens and shuts at the touch of a button in the Olney car but, of late, has been oprating without guidance at odd hours of the day and night. Investigation revealed that a flip of the TV switch in the Olney home also brought action from the garage door.

21-Year-Old Debt Paid

NEW ERA (AP)—Postema Brothers Hardware Store, which lost its credit records in a 1936 fire, has received $6 from an anonymous sender who wrote that it was payment of a 21-year-old debt. Store owner Henry Postema said the note, postmarked at nearby Shelby, asked pardon for the delay.

Violinist Rejects Offer to Perform in Budapest

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Famed violinist Joseph Szigeti says that he is going to ignore an invitation to give concerts in Communist Hungary.

"It's incredible to think that they are giving concerts while they are killing people in the streets," said Szigeti, a native of Hungary but now a naturalized citizen. He left there in 1941.

He said his Italian manager had relayed an invitation to go to Budapest for concerts.

JUNIOR EDITORS

The Eskimos of the Snow House

Yesterday we brought you a snow house, or Eskimo igloo. Here are some people who live in that house.

Set the igloo up against a small cardboard box with the open side toward the door. Then paste the igloo against the box as shown in the small diagram.

At the top is a boy pushing a sled loaded with bundles of skin and a fish bucket. A small Eskimo girl rides on the sled.

Below are two more children. One is stretched out on the floor. By folding under the base, the figure can be set inside the igloo. The other child, on hands and knees, can be shoved into the house easily by folding the bottom tab under. The dog goes in too.

Color the figures and paste them on cardboard. If the tab at the top is folded back like an easel, it will help the sled to stand. Fold back the panel below the boy, and the other panel forward.

Set up the igloo in the background. You can also make an effect of snow by crumbling white tissue paper or using cotton batting. Color the Eskimo children's faces light brown and their cheeks red. The fur around the face and hands is white but the clothes are brown.

(First to contribute this idea was Bonnie Bolhagen of Bethesda, Md. If you send a usable idea care of this paper you may win a $10 prize, too. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).
