

Cool Man Preparing for a Hot Day

PAUL W. SPARROW
President, League for Summertime Relief

Sparrow Lowers the Minimum

You Can Be Comfortable Sooner

Summer heat approaches. Soon Old Sol will be "pouring it on" and mankind will dress accordingly. That is, the women and children will. But masculine sufferers are condemned to tortuous neckties, tight collars and the torments usually reserved for the Biblical sinners in the hereafter.

But wait! A few years ago, The Press started a campaign for open shirts, no neckties and short sleeves for all Pontiac area males any time the mercury touched 90. It was an instant success. The second year there were many less "90 days" and last year the mercury just loved to the leap to the 87-88-89 level and bask there all day. Hence, we had many requests last year to lower the limit in 1958. A few days ago we printed a couple of letters from interested souls who asked what would be official for 1958 in our civic campaign. We have just taken the matter up with President Paul Sparrow of the league designed to promote "Summertime Relief For Men."

Urges Soviet-U.S. Parley (Within 3 Weeks)

Ike Asks N-Control Talks

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower proposed to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today that scientific experts of the U. S. and Russia meet in Geneva "within three weeks" to discuss controls for policing a nuclear test ban. The Chief Executive, in a personal note to Khrushchev, also opened the way for scientific experts of other free world countries such as Britain, France, Canada and Japan to contribute to the study. The President asked that Russia choose a team of its own nuclear technicians for the proposed Geneva meeting "on the basis of special competence so as to assure that we get scientific, not political, conclusions." Eisenhower told Khrushchev: "I also suggest that the experts should be asked to make an initial progress report within 30 days after convening and to aim at a final report within 60 days or as soon thereafter as possible. The letter was delivered at the Kremlin this morning by U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson. It was an acknowledgment of Khrushchev's acceptance on March 9 of one small portion of a series of U. S. proposals for international agreement on nuclear disarmament and inspection systems. Khrushchev accepted only the suggestion that technical studies be held to determine methods for detecting possible violations of an agreement on cessation of nuclear tests.

Mass Killer Starkweather Will Die in Electric Chair

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS) — A Nebraska jury has convicted and sentenced Charles Starkweather, 19-year-old mass killer who correctly predicted his fate — the electric chair. The sullen slayer made his prophecy during his 18-day trial that ended in Lincoln yesterday when a jury of eight women and four men returned a verdict of guilty of first degree murder. T. Clement Gaughan, attorney who battled vainly to prove a plea of insanity at the scowling objection of his ostensibly unconcerned client, said "I presume Charlie got what he wanted."

Rain Due Tonight, Cooler Tomorrow

The weatherman promises scattered showers and a chance of thunderstorms tonight with the mercury dropping to near 50. Sunday will be cooler and partly cloudy with showers ending in the morning. The temperature will reach a high of 62 to 68. Friday's high was 65, the low 39. Monday will continue cool but Tuesday and Wednesday will see a warming trend, with showers. In downtown Pontiac, the lowest reading preceding 8 a.m. was 42 degrees. The thermometer said 69 at 1 p.m.

UAW Preparing to Ease Its Demands on Big Three

Oakland Board Sets Tentative Tax Allocations

Approves County Rate of $5.75 Per $1,000 of Assessed Valuation

Preliminary tax allocations for Oakland County, its townships and school districts, for 1958-59 tax purposes were completed yesterday afternoon by the Tax Allocation Board. The seven-member board approved a county rate of $5.75 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation of property. This is 75 cents more than the 1958 budget.

This tentative county rate will be the figure on which the county expects to raise $10,672,280 by taxation of its tentatively approved $12,762,280 budget for 1959. Township millage requests, based on proposed township budgets, were all shaved down by allocation board members with the exception of seven townships.

Of those townships requests cut, some received substantial trimming while others were only slight. The board, headed by William J. Emerson, had to stick with a 15-mill legal limitation. This means that the county, township and controlling (or highest) school district within the township cannot exceed the limitation. Getting the biggest slice in doing this were the 31 school districts. A rate of $9.25 per a thousand of assessed valuation was set for city school districts not having township territory.

The Pontiac city school district received a rate of $7.85. An additional rate of $1.40 was approved by the board for schools in the City of Pontiac. On top of this, these schools will benefit from a $8.75 appropriation voted by the people in excess of the 15-mill limitation.

Five Inches in Five Months

Lack of Rain Serious for Farmers

Record low rainfall this year is causing concern among Oakland County farmers, and placing a serious handicap on gardens and lawns. Only 5 inches of rain has fallen this year to date as against more than 13 inches in the first five months of last year. Lyle B. Abel, county agricultural agent, reports that some farmers have not been able to put their cattle in pastures because of the drought. Some are running short of hay to feed them and the pastures are still too dry to use for food. He called the situation "a crisis" and the rain in the past few days as only "a drop in the bucket."

Head Algerian Regime

BACK DE GAULLE—French Brig. Gen. Jacques Massu (left) and native Algerian, Cherif Sid Cara, appear before a crowd at Government House in Algiers. They have been named heads of a new regime called the All-Algerian Committee of Public Safety which they vow will rule until Gen. de Gaulle is returned to power in France.

De Gaulle Agencies Bombed in France

PARIS (INS)—The French crisis flared into open violence on the home front for the first time last night with bomb attacks on Gaullist and leftwing headquarters in Toulon.

The pre-midnight blasts shattered the quiet of the manufacturing center less than four hours after Premier Pierre, Pflimlin launched a last ditch battle to persuade the Fourth Republic to save itself. In a nationwide radio-TV speech he called for reforms and warned: "A fraction of the nation cannot impose its will on the rest of the nation."

Pflimlin took to the airwaves after rebellious generals and civilian supporters of Gen. Charles de Gaulle in Algeria urged Frenchmen to defy the Paris government by forming their own "public safety committees." The dissidents demanded that De Gaulle take over as head of a strongman regime.

Gaullist headquarters in Toulon, 370 miles south of Paris, bore the brunt of the bombing attacks.

The first bomb blasted the door of the local branch of the "National Association of Frenchmen of North Africa and Overseas." Within minutes a second explosive device was tossed into the headquarters of the "National French Youth Front," damaging some furniture. Ten minutes later, an explosion splintered the door of the communist "Departmental Council of Peace."

The last of the four bombs, hidden in a garbage can, went off in front of the office of the "National Union of War Servicemen." It damaged the door and shattered nearby windows. There were no casualties in the attacks.

Leaders Warn Strike Right Now 'Insane'

Reuther Hoping Workers Can Remain on Job After Pacts Run Out

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT (P) — The United Auto Workers, warned by their leaders that it would be "insane to strike now," stood ready today to ease their contract demands on the automotive big three.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther yesterday told a joint council representing 45,000 workers at Ford, General Motors and Chrysler that the union has run into a solid wall of opposition in efforts to work out new pacts.

Citing the recession and the backlog of 750,000 unsold new cars, Reuther told the unionists, "The economic climate never has been more unfavorable to the UAW in bargaining sessions."

He repeated the UAW's offer to extend on a day-to-day basis the three-year contracts which run out in the next 10 days — GM on May 23, Ford and Chrysler on June 1.

The day-long UAW conference gravely took note of the fact that if the companies refuse a contract extension, the union may have to work without a contract until the new one is signed. It would be the first time since the UAW has represented the Ford, Chrysler and GM workers that they worked without a contract.

In previous years when contracts ran out without a new settlement, both sides agreed to let the old contract remain in effect until a new one was signed. The companies have not agreed to this idea thus far.

Reuther, in a fighting, 105-minute speech, told the UAW delegates that the union would not be forced into a strike.

His speech was in a session closed to newsmen, but reporters learned some details of his talk. The Detroit Free Press said in a copyrighted story that Reuther told the meeting, "We are not looking for a fight." He added, "It would be insane to accommodate the auto industry by calling a strike now."

The Free Press quoted Reuther as saying that Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Co. told him last week that "a strike would work in the best interests of the auto industry."

Ford was unavailable for comment on the Reuther statement. Reuther and his top aides made it plain to the UAW rank and file that the union would have to soften some of its demands in face of the unflinching resistance of the Big Three.

UAW sources never have made public an estimate of what they figure the wage increases, improved pensions and layoff pay would cost the companies. GM estimated the package at 73 cents an hour, Ford at 70. Auto workers now average $2.40 an hour. The union's original demands also included a bid for a share of profits from those companies financially able to pay. Reliable (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

"Talk about a recession, we had to close the doors four or five times yesterday to keep the crowd from overjamming the store," he said.

Wainger himself carried merchandise from the stock rooms to the floor as every employee was pressed into service to meet the demand.

"And the way it's going today," he added, "the sales volume record may fall again. They are coming from all parts of the country. It seems there is plenty of business if you offer the right values."

Short of Funds, Billy Graham on TV Anyway

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Evangelist Billy Graham's sermon will be telecast nationally again tonight, as scheduled, although funds for the telecast are running behind.

Graham has added 10 stations across Canada to those in the United States to bring his total to 160—the largest network audience ever to listen to an evangelistic telecast.

Graham scheduled another telecast next week on faith, believing he will get the needed support from the thousands of viewers who write him. He averages 35,000 to 40,000 letters a week from his television audience.

Find Tot's Body in Union Lake

Attempts to Revive Boy by Father, Deputies, Rescue Squads, Fail

The body of a 21-month boy was found in Union Lake, Friday afternoon, only 15 minutes after he had been reported missing from his home at 1505 Wilmet St., West Bloomfield Township.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said that all attempts to revive the youngster, Kirk Allen Hanley, failed.

The boy's father, Forrest, was applying artificial respiration when deputies arrived at 7725 Locklin Dr., where the body was discovered floating in shallow water.

Deputies relieved the grief-stricken father and gave way to rescue squads from the Union Lake and West Bloomfield Township Fire Departments.

The boy was officially pronounced dead at 4:15 p.m. by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. D. A. Haddock, of Orchard Lake.

His body was removed to the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home in Walled Lake.

Reflections

LET'S TAKE INVENTORY

Deeds of valor should be recognized, uncommemated, strong loyalty must have usual ability should have commensurate vigorous support; men who have reached the zenith of their careers must be cheered. However, acclaim is not license.

A balloon is inflated and goes aloft; a rip brings it down to an inglorious end. A proud ocean liner rises to the pinnacle of mountain waves, casts aside howling winds, rides serene on the lap of the sea; pride is set adrift when the rudder breaks. Take inventory. Maturity is recognition of weakness, and strength. The person who maintains poise in adversity, and adulation is the one who laughs at troubles and accepts praise as part of the fun of growing up. He looks at life as a bag of surprises; he anticipates them, resolves them, takes them as they come and goes his merry way to enjoy life as he finds it.

Neuroses a la Levant Very Popular Topic

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS—Oscar Levant came puffing and perspiring into the cool living room of his home, and after we'd greeted each other I asked him, "When are you going network?"

WILSON

"Everybody asks me that" — he was already gulping some coffee a maid had brought in—"except the networks."

Levant has made neuroses, instability and mental institutions popular on his local TV show. When he says "Debbie Reynolds never needs to worry about losing her voice," Debbie can shrug it off by pointing out that Oscar was a mental patient for 15 months — which he eloquently and publicly admits.

"With all due respect to Ed Murrow — I'm not as good-looking but I have a 10 times better show," Oscar announced, walking up and down, sipping more coffee as he paraded. "Ed shares his good looks with his audience," he laughed.

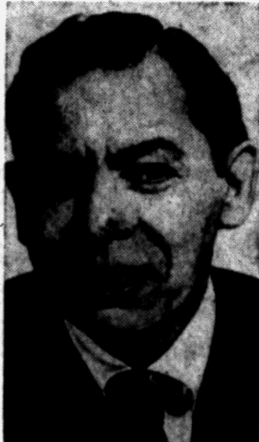

"Do you often see Ed's program?" I asked him.

"ME!" He seemed scandalized. "You think I care what Julie London's house looks like inside? Maybe I've seen his show twice."

Nevertheless, without seeing it, he knew his was much better. Occasionally he paused to say, "Here's something pretty devastating I said."

"Are you over your mental troubles?" I asked.

"I'm still ill, I always have pain in my chest and back." He held his hand over his heart, a gesture familiar to his TV fans. Suffering from what he called "deep apathy," he'd lain in a hospital deprived of pencils, glasses, and razor blades, "in case somebody in the group should be suicidal — which I'm not." With a laugh, he said, "I obviously will commit suicide immediately after tonight's show, following that remark."

LEVANT

"Do you want to know how she stood by me?" he asked suddenly. "Well, she didn't. She sent a lawyer to divorce me. She did it as a trick to get me to go to the sanitarium. The thought of losing her would have made me do anything."

"Did the shock treatments help you?"

"No, but they helped the doctor. He got paid for them!"

In the middle of a piano concert at Lewisohn Stadium in 1953, Levant lost his coordination. "Gershwin lost his, too," he mentioned. "I got so terrified, I ran home. It is associated with guilt. The government is suing me for my monopoly on guilt."

Levant appreciates that his show is controversial and full of his personal problems which people find fascinating. "I'd love to be on Dinah Shore's program but I wouldn't want her on my show," he said. "She's got too much happiness for my show, she would ruin it."

"But I would like to go on her show and just chat. I would conduct myself with deep affection, great admiration and impeccable taste. I could also be a carhop for a commercial." After a second, he gulped more coffee and said, "Being me is not easy."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Some people are just not good at counting calories — and have the figures to prove it. —Quite. ... That's earl, brother.

FBI Nabs Man in Extortion Plot Worth $½ Million

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The FBI early today captured a man it accused of threatening to dynamite a passenger train in a half-million-dollar extortion plot.

FBI Special Agent D. K. Brown said the extortion attempt was directed against the Southern Pacific Co.

Agents arrested Ira Paul Loux, 35, a dye finisher of Compton, Calif., as he crawled through weeds near railroad tracks 19 miles east of Los Angeles. Brown said a package had been thrown from the train upon a signal from a flashing light as demanded in an extortion letter.

The letter, Brown said, was received by J. H. Pruitt Jr., Los Angeles passenger traffic and public relations manager of Southern Pacific.

Brown said the letter writer threatened to dynamite Southern Pacific's streamliner Sunset Limited No. 2 unless $300,000 in $20 bills was paid.

Charge 2 Women Beat Girl to Death

GADSDEN, Ala. (AP) — A young mother and another woman are in jail on charges that they beat a 3-year-old girl to death.

Police Capt. Ned Simmons said Laura Starr Lehman was beaten in anger.

"I have never seen any grown-up beaten up as badly as the child," he said.

The child's mother, Mrs. Laura Jo Lehman, 23, and Mrs. Pauline Argo, 31, are being held in Etowah County jail without bond on first-degree murder charges.

Elderly Woman Dies During Robbery

DETROIT (AP) — A 65-year-old woman died in her apartment yesterday after a gunman bound and gagged her and an elderly companion in a robbery attempt. An autopsy by Dr. Edward S. Zawadzki showed Mrs. Mamie Davis died of a ruptured blood vessel in the heart.

Her companion, Miss Rose Armstrong, 85, told police she was in a bedroom in the apartment the two women shared when she heard a noise in the kitchen.

She went to the kitchen and saw Mrs. Davis on the floor with a gunman standing over her. The gunman forced the two women into the bedroom, tied them and gagged them.

Miss Armstrong said she managed to free herself and ran to a neighbor's apartment to call police. Mrs. Davis was dead when police arrived. The gunman escaped.

May Not Shift Pupils After All

Protests by Parents in West Bloomfield Leave Issue Open

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Pupils in the Daniel Whitfield Elementary School may not be transferred to the Louise May Alcott School in Pontiac after all.

Pontiac School District officials, meeting with representatives of parents in six subdivisions, agreed to keep all the children in the Whitfield School area at that school, if at all possible, according to Mrs. John Radcliffe, spokesman for the parents.

Because of expanding enrollment, the school district was planning to transport some 60 pupils of the Whitfield School to the Alcott School, six miles away. Parents immediately protested, and two meetings were held with Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, and school department heads.

The parents also sought a commitment on construction of a new elementary school on the district's 10-acre site on Square Lake road between Maplewood and Orchard avenues.

Saying that this was a decision for the school board, Whitmer recommended that if the school census shows a need for a new elementary school, parents should recommend to the board that it take action to build one.

Pennsylvania Nuclear Station Success

To Dedicate A-Power Plant Monday

SHIPPINGPORT, PA. (AP)—On a broad bluff overlooking the Ohio River stands the greatest industrial achievement to date in America's drive to tame the atom for peace.

This is the 110-million-dollar Shippingport nuclear power station, the world's first large-scale completely commercial atomic power plant.

In operation to produce commercial electricity since Dec. 18, officials say it has been operating "even better than we had hoped."

Smokeless and virtually noiseless, the big plant at full power generates 60,000 kilowatts of electricity — enough to supply the residential needs of a community of 250,000 population.

When Shippingport began generating electricity, it marked the coming of age of industrial atomic energy in the United States.

Several other U.S. nuclear plants produce commercial power, but the largest of these has a capacity of only 6,500 kw. The only large-scale atomic power facility in the world besides Shippingport is at Calder Hall, England. It supplies commercial electricity, too.

The achievement at Shippingport will be formally acknowledged on Monday at dedication ceremonies.

The adult class consists of Mrs. Mary Thews, John Hamilton and Martin Weibel.

Store Robbery Quickly Solved

City Detectives Grab Suspect Within Hour of $306 Holdup

An unarmed robbery of a market was solved within an hour by alert Pontiac detectives.

Thomas Market, 588 Franklin Rd., was robbed at 1:55 p.m. yesterday by a lone man who asked the owner, Mrs. Evelyn Mina, to get him some meat and then proceeded to search for money while her back was turned.

Mrs. Mina noticed the man trying to quietly open the cash register. As she asked him what he was doing, he told her to open the register.

Mrs. Mina did as she was told and the bandit took a few dollars from the register and then searched behind the counter. He found her purse containing over $300 with which she had planned to make a payment.

As he searched the purse, Mrs. Mina fled the store and the bandit followed behind her and ran off.

Detectives Alan Noble and John Williams shortly after talking to Mrs. Mina went to the home of William Cumbs Jr., 24, of 70 E. Elizabeth St., and arrested him.

Cumbs confessed the crime and returned $306 he admitted taking, according to the officers. He was identified by Mrs. Mina.

Cumbs told the detectives he had been out of work for two years and needed the money for household expenses.

Vacation Camp Solicitation

From eastern points come the usual appeals by mail from various charities asking for funds to send underprivileged and needy children to summer camps in that section of the country. Letters asking for donations to "sponsor" some young person's 2-week stay in camp have been sent by numerous organizations. While many of these groups are in good faith, and subject of no complaints, there are summer camps supported by local organizations for boys and girls in this area. The local camps deserve FIRST consideration.
