Sees New Bid to Get Accord on Bricker Bill

Knowland Predicts Ike to Wait Before Taking Treaty Issue to Voters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) predicted today President Eisenhower will delay any appeal to the people on the hotly fought issue of limiting treaty-making powers, pending last minute efforts to reach a compromise with Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio).

Bricker is author of a proposed constitutional amendment which the President opposes on the ground it would seriously limit the conduct of foreign policy and unduly restrict traditional executive prerogatives in that field.

The Ohioan, after sending all senators a letter challenging the President's interpretation of his proposal, told the Senate yesterday he hopes Eisenhower is not going to make the controversy "a personal fight."

The Senate is scheduled to take up the proposal early next week, but the debate in effect already has begun.

However, Knowland said in an interview efforts to hammer out a compromise both the administration and Bricker would accept—fruitless so far—would continue during the week-end.

Knowland replying on the Senate floor to Bricker, said the President still has "an open mind."

"He has taken no arbitrary stand," Knowland said.

"I hope that is true," said Bricker.

"It is true," Knowland shot back.

The Bricker amendment's avowed purpose is to prevent treaties from depriving U. S. citizens of rights guaranteed by the Constitution and to give Congress more control over the less formal agreements into which a President might enter. Constitutional lawyers disagree widely on its necessity and probable effect.

Perhaps the most controversial clause would write into the Constitution a provision that "A treaty shall become effective as internal law . . . only through (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Pontiac Woman Slain in Home

Suspect Is Arrested in Car in Shooting Early This Morning

A 28-year-old nurses aide, Helen Jackson of 3 Grant St., was shot to death in her home at 6:30 a. m. today, according to Pontiac Police. Police Capt. Clark M. Wheaton said that a suspect, Robert Reed, 27, of Detroit, is being held for the local police department by Royal Oak Police who arrested Reed while he was driving south on Woodward avenue shortly after the shooting.

Detective Allan Noble quoted a witness, Nathaniel Johnson, 31, of 47 Orton St., as saying that a hood fired three or four shots after Miss Jackson refused to leave the house with him.

Johnson said about 12 persons were attending a party at the house, owned by William Black.

"When Helen said she wouldn't go to Bagley street with Reed," Johnson said, "Reed took out the gun and fired."

Several persons attempted to hold Reed until police arrived, but "he got away and jumped in his car and drove away fast."

Pontiac Patrolmen George White and William Bailey relayed the description of the fleeing auto to headquarters which broadcast the message.

Royal Oak patrolmen intercepted Reed near 10 Mile road at 7 a. m. Reed was questioned by Pontiac Police when he is returned later today, according to Wheaton.

Noble said that two .32 caliber bullets were found in the dining room. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Fire Hits Dock at Tank Farm North of Seattle

Million Dollar Damage Is Conservative Estimate of Oil Company Blaze

SEATTLE (AP) — Fire swept the length of Standard Oil Co.'s 1,000-foot dock at the Point Wells tank farm, 13-miles north of here early today. Damage was estimated at more than a million dollars.

The blaze was brought under control at 3 a. m., after threatening a huge area of gas, oil and fuel oil tanks, one of the largest tank farms on the Pacific coast.

There were no injuries or deaths reported.

The fire started late last night after the oil-laden tanker, J. L. Hannah, smashed into the pier while attempting to dock. The ship was undamaged.

Sparks ignited oil flowing from 10 ruptured fuel lines leading from storage tanks to the dock. The fire, in turn, set off a number of explosions from 50-gallon drums of oil piled on the pier. Great columns of flame roared 600 to 700 feet into the sky.

The fire, fanned by a stiff wind, spread northward along the dock, destroying 700 feet of the pier. As the flames neared the north end of the dock there was another explosion and the blaze ripped through the final 300 feet in less than five seconds.

Burning fuel oil covered the water of Puget Sound in the immediate vicinity of the dock, keeping six fire-fighting equipment boats from effective range.

The burning fuel oil lapped to the shore, only 25 yards from the nearest of the storage tanks. A company official said the nearest tank also contained fuel oil.

Asked if the damage would reach a million dollars, F. L. Kilbourn, manager of the Standard Oil facilities, replied:

"Oh, a lot more than that . . ."

At 8 a. m. today the reading was 10, but by 1 p. m. in downtown Pontiac the temperature stood at 28 degrees.

HITS PIER, BUILDINGS—Flames, fed by petroleum pipe lines, spread over pier and buildings at the Standard Oil Co. dock near Seattle on Puget Sound early today after an explosion rocked the big oil storage area about midnight. Oil, burning on water, spread fire through most of the dock area. Dozens of huge oil supply tanks were saved from the flames, which shot about 700 feet into the air at times.

Indians Desert 347 Pro-Reds

POWs Caught Between Tougher U. S. Attitude, Commie Refusal

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Twenty-one Americans and 326 other pro-Red prisoners in Korea's neutral zone were caught today between a new Communist refusal to accept them and a tougher Allied attitude.

Two Communist generals rejected for the second time an Indian proposal that the Reds accept "under protest" the 21 Americans, 1 Briton and 325 South Koreans who renounced their homelands for communism.

Indian guards abandoned the captives last night after the Reds wouldn't take them.

The U. N. Command virtually told the Communist Command to take them back.

"We welcome any statement that you will make us to your plans for removing them as rapidly as possible from their present camp to any area north of the present demilitarized zone," Maj. Gen. J. K. Lacey told the Reds at a session of the Military Armistice Commission.

Growing Allied impatience with the pro-Reds was reflected also in Washington, where U. S. Defense Secretary Wilson said the 21 Americans "must make up their minds quickly" if they want to come home. "Their pay is going to be cut off very shortly," he said.

Pentagon officials said that only the Reds' refusal to take back the 21 had given them a few hours or days of grace before "undesirable" discharges become effective.

Molotov Arrives in Berlin for Start of Big-4 Meeting

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov arrived in Berlin today as his opposite numbers from the Western Big Three conferred on strategy for the four-power conference opening here Monday.

Molotov, traveling in a convoy of seven limousines, roared down Uter Den Linden and into the Russian embassy gates in Communist controlled East Berlin, shortly after noon. A snow flurry greeted the Russians as they sped past an honor guard of East German Red police, standing at both sides of the wide avenue.

As Molotov put in his appearance for the talks on German unity and an Austrian independence treaty, the three Western foreign ministers conferred for several hours in the French sector. It will be the first session of the Big Four foreign ministers since they failed to agree on Austrian independence at a session in New York in October, 1949.

Ypsilanti Press Is Hit by Fire

Blaze Threatens Other Buildings as Traffic Is Detoured in Area

YPSILANTI (INS)—All available firemen and equipment were called out today to fight a blaze that broke out in the Ypsilanti Press. Witnesses said smoke from the newspaper building was visible "all over town."

The first alarm was sounded by newspaper employees at 10:55 a. m. It was not learned immediately, however, how the blaze started.

State Police were summoned to assist city police officers to handle busy downtown Saturday traffic. Michigan Ave. was blocked and Detroit-Chicago traffic detoured. The press is located a block north of Michigan on N. Huron St.

The Press, published by Ypsilanti George C. Handy, was preparing to observe its 50th anniversary. Firemen battled to keep the flames confined to the aged brick and timber structure housing the Press offices. Adjacent structures, including the historic Ypsilanti GAR Hall, were threatened.

Names Divisions in Korean Move

40th, 45th Units to Be Withdrawn; GIs to Go Home if Eligible

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. S. 8th Army commander, today identified the two American divisions to be withdrawn from Korea as the 40th and 45th.

He said the 45th Division, the former Oklahoma National Guard, will return to the United States between Feb. 15 and March 15, and the 40th, former California National Guard, considerably later. The withdrawals were announced recently by President Eisenhower.

Both divisions have been in Korea about three years. Taylor's announcement said the only soldiers to be transferred with the outfits back to the United States are those entitled to rotation home on points. Men not yet eligible will be transferred to other divisions.

It was not stated whether the divisions would be returned to their old home states.

Seoul Has Brief Air Raid Alert

SEOUL (AP)—A flight of unidentified planes from Communist North Korea flew as far south as Seoul today and touched off a half hour air raid alert.

American Sabre jets "scrambled" into the air but failed to make contact with the unidentified aircraft which turned and flew back into North Korea.

The 5th Air Force said the alert was sounded at 5:08 p. m. and lasted until 5:35 p. m. (3:35 a. m. EST).

The unidentified flight of "several planes" was picked up by radar and tracked as it crossed the demarcation line, sped over the Seoul area and turned back north.

Ford Executive Wants Teachers Free to Seek Out Truth (but Not Red Dogma)

By HAZEL A. TRUMBULL

DETROIT—Five hundred Michigan school administrators heard a vice president of the Ford Motor Co. offer a "song of freedom" for the American school teacher Friday night at a mid-winter convention banquet of educators.

William Gossett, vice president and general counsel of the Ford Co., challenged the right of investigation committees to employ what he called "Communist technique in the quest for Communists."

Delivering the key address of the two-day meeting of the Michigan Association of School Administrators, Gossett spoke on "man's right to knowledge and the free use thereof."

"Learning," he declared, "is an inquisitive process and no shackles must be placed upon man's right to knowledge and the right to use that knowledge."

He presented the picture of American free enterprise as the example of man's continual search for better things.

"Look at the results of free inquiry in our market place. Better products have resulted from this search, and this country is the strongest nation it is today because of it."

Gossett said that what this country needs is a clear definition of the relationship between schools and government.

Probe to Decide Further Action on Virginia GI

Other Prisoners Claim E. S. Dickenson's Stand Harmful to Them

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, a Virginia farm boy who charged his mind about staying with the Communists in Korea, faces Army charges that he dealt illegally with his Red captors to get better treatment.

If tried and convicted of one of the charges, he could be sentenced to death.

The Army notified Dickenson of the charges last night, then placed him under arrest at its Walter Reed Hospital here. He has been undergoing a physical examination.

The 23-year-old soldier stands accused of unlawfully holding "intercourse with the enemy" to get "favorable treatment." The formal charges say his activities hurt other prisoners of war held by the Reds.

Officials explained that the filing of these charges—based on accusations by former fellow prisoners—is only a preliminary action. It does not even necessarily mean he will be brought to trial.

An official announcement by the Military District of Washington said no decision will be made on whether to try Dickenson until after an investigation of the charges and evidence has been finished and its results "fully reviewed for legal sufficiency." The Army said this preliminary will be held "at the earliest date possible."

Dickenson, whose home is in the remote mountain town of Cracker's Neck in southwestern Virginia, was one of 23 American soldiers who refused to return to United Nations lines when the Korean truce was signed last summer. He later asked neutral Indian guards to take him back.

The young Virginian told reporters at the time that the Chinese Reds "kept me back" with threats.

A second American—Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor—renounced the Communists on New Year's Day. He is in the Tokyo General Hospital.

The Far East Command said last night that it has no knowledge of any similar action that may be taken against Batchelor. The soldier's mother—Mrs. O. L. Batchelor—said in Kermit, Tex., that she hopes her son will come home "and face whatever he has to face."

Reporters tried to get Dickenson to make some comment on the charges, but Army officers said he would not talk to newsmen.

Down in Cracker's Neck, the news came as a mighty jolt to his folks.

"Oh, my God!" exclaimed Mrs. Van Buren Dickenson, his mother. "He's no more Communist than I am," declared his 78-year-old father.

Fire Destroys Detroit Market

Damage Near Quarter Million Dollars; Men Fight in 12-Degree Cold

DETROIT (INS) — A five-alarm fire destroyed a West Side Detroit supermarket today causing damage estimated at nearly a quarter million dollars.

The fire was thought to have spread from burning trash at the rear of the single-story building and was discovered by a cruising police patrol.

Fire Chief Edward Blohm said the fire, in the heart of Detroit's packing house district, assumed five-alarm proportions because of a stiff 12-mile breeze which fanned the flames and threatened adjacent warehouses.

Twenty-five fire rigs, 125 firemen, a score of police officers and other city workers battled the fire in 12-degree temperatures.

Traffic was re-routed from busy Michigan avenue to enable city transit workers to lay jumper streetcar tracks over a maze of hoses.

Firemen entered the building's burning shell to recover a safe which, according to manager Elvin Pollack, contained $20,000 in cash. Pollack said the safe and money were intact.

'Working Together to Meet Children's Needs' Is Theme

Following an honor dinner given for Webster School teachers by homeroom mothers, fathers, education chairmen and the PTA executive board, final plans for the PTA workshop were formulated by the 175 parents and teachers.

The workshop, beginning Wednesday, will be centered on the theme, "Working Together to Meet the Needs of Our Children." Interpreting the present Webster School program and viewing possibilities for further development and improvement are the aims of the workshop.

A panel discussion after the Wednesday dinner explained the origin, development and interpretation of the workshop. Participants, who are also members of the planning committee for the workshop sessions, were Mrs. Donald Hinkley, education chairman; Ralph Dawe, PTA president; Rabbi Sanford Saperstein, program chairman; Dr. Edith Roach Snyder, school principal; Mrs. William Thomas, a parent, and Mrs. Harry Kilian, teacher.

Members of the panel emphasized the consideration of the child's needs in the home and the community as well as in the school.

They explained that the sessions were an opportunity for growth of both teachers and parents.

Dr. Arnold Meier, assistant director of educational research for Detroit Public Schools and a member of the faculty at Wayne University, instructed discussion leaders in group processes.

He termed the workshop "a significant venture" which would result in "frontier thinking." He also stated that the key factor in such discussions would be intense social and intellectual interrelation. Dr. Meier will be a resource person for the three workshop sessions, giving help in carrying on successful group discussions.

Keynoting the first session of the workshop will be Dr. Marie Rasey, professor of education at Wayne University. She will speak on "Needs of Children" and parents and teachers will return to their homerooms after the speech for discussion on the relationship of what was said to what is happening to boys and girls in their room.

A film, "Passion for Life," will be shown Feb. 24 followed by a similar discussion, and the concluding program will be a panel discussion on the recommendations of parents and teachers, interpreted in terms of an action program.

Participants on the panel will include Dr. Troy Stearns, head of elementary education at Michigan State College; Dr. Robert Fox, principal of the University of Michigan Elementary School; Robert Martin, consultant in elementary education of the State Department of Education, and a teacher and parent.

A chairman will coordinate the discussion in each homeroom with the aid of a homeroom mother, father and teacher.

Serving as the educational chairmen will be Mrs. John Leitch, Mrs. William Isgrigg, Mrs. Andrew Gulacik, William Carroll, Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, Mrs. James Rosenthal, Mrs. Neil Gray, Mrs. Allen Hawke, Mrs. Kenneth Madsen and Robert Isgrigg.

Others are Cloyd Hassinger, Mrs. Edward Auchard, Howard Powers, Thurely Allen, Wilbur Crawford, Mrs. John Whitehouse, Mrs. Hugh Grove, Mrs. John Leacher, Mrs. Julian Galan and Mrs. R. F. Hamilton.

Utility Cart Has 3 Trays

A rolling cart is a real energy-saver to any busy housewife—for taking laundry from hamper to tub to line; for carrying soap, brushes, and other cleaning equipment from one job-site to another; and for carrying baby's bath supplies from nursery to bathroom.

A versatile newcomer along this line is a wheeled aluminum frame with a tier of three trays. It's light and easily manageable for the workaday chores—yet a brisk sudsing sparkles it up for service at a buffet supper. When not in use, it folds neatly for storage.

legislation which would be valid in the absence of a treaty.

Because under the U. S. federal system some whole areas of legislation are reserved to states, opponents argue this clause would in some cases make treaties' effectiveness depend on action by all 48 state legislatures. Eisenhower has said this aspect might make it almost impossible for him to deal with foreign countries if the amendment were adopted.

Bricker told the Senate yesterday that opponents of his proposal had engaged in "direct misrepresentation" of the effect of the amendment.

The Ohio senator said that his resolution "would not require any treaty on any subject to be ratified by any state at any time" and "would not give any state a veto power over the conduct of the nation's foreign affairs."

Bricker said that Eisenhower had given "wide circulation" to erroneous charges that the Bricker amendment would "turn back the clock to the old Articles of Confederation," the loose compact between the states that preceded the Constitution.

Eisenhower had said in a news conference he would not object to a statement that a treaty contravening the Constitution is void, but would not agree to reverting to the general system of the Articles of Confederation.

Dickinson is charged with violating two sections of the uniform code of military justice—one dealing with aid to an enemy and another covering alleged misconduct as a prisoner.

Article 104—aiding the enemy—provides the death penalty or lesser punishment, including imprisonment, may be imposed. Under Article 105, misconduct as a prisoner is punishable by such a penalty as a court-martial may order—but not death.

Dickinson is accused of: "Having without proper authority communicated with, and held intercourse with the enemy directly and indirectly."

"Having, for the purpose of securing favorable treatment by his captors, acted without proper authority in a manner contrary to law, custom and regulation, to the detriment of others persons held by the enemy as prisoners."

Meanwhile, the Air Force reportedly was setting up procedures for dealing with former war prisoners who broke under Communist torture and made false germ warfare and other confessions, or who fell for Red indoctrination.

St. Dunstan Guild Gets Pointers on Production of 'Detective Story'

BIRMINGHAM — St. Dunstan Guild is sure that a busman's holiday taken by Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley will greatly enhance the guild's coming production of "Detective Story."

The cast is priming itself for Feb. 12-13 and 19-20 p. m. performances of Sidney Kingsley's Broadway hit, which is set in the offices of a New York police precinct detective squad.

Moxley and other officers on the Birmingham force spent a recent Sunday at the station, giving the cast helpful information on fingerprinting, photographing, crime detection and other duties of the department.

All that remains is to transfer this same effectiveness onto the stage of the pavilion on Long Pine road. With thanks to Chief Moxley, a large cast and large production staff, the guild says this play promises to be one of the most thrilling productions in its history.

Royal Oak Police said no weapon was found in Reed's possession.

Donald Brown, assistant Oakland County prosecutor, said this afternoon that Reed admitted the shooting, in a formal statement. He said he shot in self-defense claiming the woman had a knife.

An autopsy was held at Pontiac General Hospital.

Oakland County Coroner Dr. Harry L. Riggs said that Miss Jackson was shot three times. One bullet pierced her heart and another her right lung. The third struck her left leg.

Miss Jackson was employed at a nearby hospital until three weeks ago, authorities said. She has not worked since.

Johnson told Noble that Reed commuted from Detroit daily to work in a Pontiac factory.

Electric Organ Sales Booming in U. S. Homes

NEW YORK (INS) — The home organ industry, one of the nation's biggest prior to the Civil War, is booming again on the American scene.

The industry has been expanding rapidly since the end of World War II. Retail sales this year will be about $35,000,000 and will probably top $50,000,000 in 1954.

Burton Minshall, president of the Minshall Organ, Inc., of Brattleboro, Vt., predicts that home organ sales will triple within the next decade.

Minshall attributes the rapid growth of the home organ industry to the electrification of the organ. He explained that as a result of new electronic developments, which eliminate the use of the old fashioned reeds and moving parts, the home organ today is a compact piece of furniture designed to fit into the decor of any home.

Bill Is Drawn to Buy Armory

City Would Use Site as Part of New Park on Mill Street

William A. Ewart, Pontiac city attorney, announced today that he has drafted a bill to authorize sale of Pontiac's National Guard Armory to the city.

The bill is scheduled to be introduced during this session of the Michigan Legislature, Ewart said.

Sale price of the property as stipulated in the bill, would be based on an appraisal set by the State Tax Commission, he added.

Mayor Arthur J. Law last week announced plans for establishment of a city park on a site containing the armory, city hall and police garage.

Law's plans call for relocation of the armory on one of five sites in the Pontiac area.

The project, according to Law, would be a joint operation between Michigan, the United States government and the city, with Pontiac furnishing the land or money for the land.

State Rep. Leam Harrelson (D-Pontiac) has agreed to introduce the bill.

The present city hall will not be vacated until the new city hall is completed in spring or summer of 1955.

Twice as Speedy as Car Skates Beat Machine Age for Zooming Trip to Work

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — It used to take James Carmel 15 minutes to warm up his car and drive from his apartment on Cranbrook road to his job at the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Most of the 15 minutes was spent driving, of course. And most of the driving was around Cranbrook Lake.

Then it got cold. Cranbrook Lake froze.

As exhibit designer for the institute, Carmel knew his birds. He also knew that a crow, in flying a straight line, saves time.

Carmel, 35, remembered his days on the hockey team at high school back in New Rochelle, N. Y. He began searching for his old skates, found them and tried them on. They fit.

Now Carmel dons his skates every morning, skims across Cranbrook Lake, which is right across the road from his home, and winds up about 50 yards from work.

Time consumed — including putting on the skates and climbing the incline from the lake edge to the institute — is a flat seven minutes.

Mechanical age, indeed!

Asks for Action in Ritchie Case

Williams Hopes Dulles' Office Will Go to Work on Extradition

LANSING (INS) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams said today he hoped his request for extradition from Canada of Donald Ritchie, key witness and co-defendant in the 1948 shooting of CIO President Walter Reuther, will receive immediate attention in Washington and Ottawa.

Williams formally asked intervention of President Eisenhower in the Ritchie extradition proceedings yesterday. The request was to be delivered through the office of State Secretary John Foster Dulles.

Ritchie is fighting extradition to the U. S. As a co-defendant, although he has repudiated statements which placed him at the scene of the shooting and which resulted in warrants for four co-conspirators.

All are charged with conspiring to assassinate the union leader April 20, 1948, in a shotgun attack which crippled Reuther's right arm.
