SHE BEAT 50 OTHERS — Mrs. Michigan was crowned Mrs. America Thursday. Mrs. Lila Masson of Redford Township was selected from a field of 50 to climax the contest. Last year's Mrs. America, Rosemary Murphy of Kentland, Ind., puts the crown on the nation's top homemaker.

State Woman Wins Mrs. America Title

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (P)—Cleve B. Masson is a lucky fellow. Not only is his wife the new Mrs. America, but serving her the traditional breakfast in bed is no great problem—she seldom eats much in the morning.

Auburn-haired Lila Masson, a pretty 5-foot-5 mother of three, has her mind on the extensive trips she will make in the next year on behalf of sponsors of Mrs. America, 1962.

"I've never traveled much," said Mrs. Masson, who lives in Redford Township, Mich. "I'm really looking forward to it."

Mrs. Masson, 39, was chosen Mrs. America Thursday in the climax of the rivalry that began Nov. 12 with arrival of home-making queens from all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

Runner-up was Mrs. Arizona, Angelyn Almond of Phoenix. Mrs.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—The U.N. General Assembly today brushed aside Western objections and appealed to all countries to recognize Africa as a nuclear free zone.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mr. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his wife will visit West Berlin in February, an aide said today. The spokesman said they would be the guests of West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—The United States said today the Soviet Union carried out approximately 50 nuclear tests in its recent series which broke a three-year voluntary moratorium — nearly 30 more than previously reported.

Limits' Con-Con Time

LANSING (P)—Michigan's constitutional convention must adjourn by April 1 if the people are to vote on a new constitution at the November 1962 general election, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams ruled today.

Can a couple get along that many years without arguments?

"I don't believe so," Mrs. Masson said. "But my husband has such a sense of humor it's hard to fight with him."

Among the first to congratulate the new Mrs. America were her children, David, 16, Thomas, 12, and Diane, 8. They telephoned from Michigan. Mrs. Masson said the youngsters had heard of her victory but didn't believe it until they heard it from her.

Mrs. Masson said she enjoys housework — "even spring cleaning." And when she cooks, she prefers to start with basic ingredients rather than use prepared mixes.

She plans to go home Wednesday after a trip to New York for a television appearance Monday and an appearance at a home-builders show in Indianapolis.

Gridders Feted Saturday

The sixth annual Pontiac Press All-Oakland County high school football team is coming your way Saturday on the sports pages of The Pontiac Press.

The 1961 all-star squad represents the area's finest 13 players as selected by prep coaches and the Press sports staff. Oakland County's Coach of the Year also will be named, along with other honors. You won't want to miss this gridiron special and final season summary in tomorrow's Press.

Find Remains of Bodies; Amelia Earhart 1 of Them?

GUAM (AP) — Skeletal remains of two bodies, possibly those of famed American aviator Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, who disappeared over the Pacific during an around-the-world flight in 1937, were found recently in a grave on Saipan Island, it was disclosed today.

The remains, including dental plates and bones discovered in September, were in a box being flown today to the University of California at Berkeley for anthropological study.

The box was on a Pan American plane due in Honolulu this afternoon. Willis Snyder, Pan American district manager at Guam, related that those who recovered the remains said they included dental plates.

The plates and bones were being sent to Dr. Theodore D. McCown, professor of anthropology at the University of California, for study.

At Berkeley, Dr. McCown, who was just leaving on a week-end trip, said he had been informed of the discovery, but knew nothing about the bones or dental plates.

If Medford, Mass., Mrs. Albert Morrissey, Amelia's sister, said she had been advised of the Guam finding, but expressed little confidence that it was that of her sister. Mrs. Morrissey said no dental chart on Amelia Earhart exists. She said an existing chart on Noonan might shed some light on the identity of the remains of the two bodies.

Discovery of the skeletal remains may be the first tangible clues as to what happened to Miss Earhart and Noonan after they were last heard from by radio July 2, 1937, as they were flying across the Pacific.

A plane generator, thought to have been on Miss Earhart's plane, was found in Saipan Harbor last year.

Many theories were advanced as to the fliers' fate.

The latest version, from those who recovered the remains, was that the generator on Miss Earhart's twin-engine plane broke down.

A new generator was installed and the plane hoped to Saipan, where she and Noonan were imprisoned by the Japanese.

It was said Miss Earhart died of dysentery and Noonan was shot to death.

Other theories were that both were shot by the Japanese because they might have observed Japanese fortifying the island preparatory to World War II.

This theory, however, was denied by Jesus de Leon Guerrero, ranking police inspector at Saipan when Miss Earhart disappeared in 1937.

Searchers Offer Natives Reward

From Our News Wires

MERAUKE, Dutch New Guinea — Searchers summoned aid from a Dutch navy cruiser with helicopters today and offered a reward of 250 pieces of tobacco to any native who helped find missing Michael Rockefeller.

Commissioner Einarik Jansen of Merauke said there was still a 25-50 chance of finding the 22-year-old Michael alive.

(Other Dutch officials had been more pessimistic. The B.O.I., Netherlands interior state secretary for New Guinea, said Thursday "there no longer is any hope.")

New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who came here to join the search for his son, still clung to the hope he would be found, although it might take weeks.

In the Hague, Holland, however, a Dutch Defense Ministry official said Gov. Rockefeller has declined an offer from the U.S. 7th Fleet to help search for his son.

The official said the governor recently appreciated an offer by Adm. John A. Sides, commander in chief of the U.S. Pacific forces, to send helicopters and other craft to the Southern Dutch New Guinea coast but feels it now is too late to do any good.

The official said the Dutch Navy commander in New Guinea endorsed this.

The Defense Department announced Thursday in Washington that the Navy had made the offer to Dutch officials and that they were considering it. The Netherlands controls the wild New Guinea area where young Rockefeller was last seen. He has been missing since Sunday.

The Department said there was no specific request from either side for the search.

Knows All About Blue and Gray

CIVIL WAR EXPERT — Six-year-old Jimmy Panaretos of 33 Elizabeth Lake Road, could be the world's youngest Civil War authority. He's read just about everything he could get his hands on since this soldier set of the famed blue and gray appeared under the Christmas tree last year.

6-Year-Old City Lad 'Fascinated'

By DICK SAUNDERS

How'd you like to get up in the middle of the night and stumble over the Battle of Gettysburg, or step squarely on the bayonet of a gallant soldier charging up Missionary Ridge?

Happens all the time in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Ted A. Panaretos at 33 Elizabeth Lake Road.

The Panaretos don't find this aggravating, since a Civil War historian is a permanent boarder at their home.

This "expert" is their 6-year-old son Jimmy. He knows more about Civil War history than most adults do.

It all started with a "bargain" last Christmas, according to his father. "Santa Claus brought Jimmy a lot of fancy toys and threw in a 54 set of Civil War soldiers that he got for two bucks."

That set has since been through every battle of the Civil War many times—and reserves are being ordered up for Christmas this year.

Jim became fascinated by the conflict. He was only five and one-half when he started on Civil War books at the Webster Elementary School Library.

He's long since exhausted that supply and all the Civil War books he has at the home.

He has the Life magazine history of the Civil War, a similar copy

French Leader Tough on Plans for Negotiation

Britisher Hopes Guest Will Change Viewpoint, Go Along With West

From Our News Wires

LONDON — President Charles de Gaulle arrived today for a weekend of confidential talks with Prime Minister Macmillan on how the West should handle the Berlin crisis.

Macmillan hopes to convince De Gaulle that the time is ripe now for the Western powers to enter into negotiations with the Soviet Union over the future of West Berlin.

De Gaulle wants no negotiations until the Russians end the crisis they created over Berlin.

President Kennedy used much the same sort of argument in Washington conversations this week with Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany.

Kennedy and Adenauer agreed to the principle of East-West negotiations. It now remains for Macmillan to try to convince De Gaulle in the same way. This may be a more difficult task than Kennedy had.

The American President was understood to have sent a message to Macmillan outlining the substance of the Washington talks.

The French leader's plane landed at Gatwick Airport outside London immediately after an unusually tight security net formed around the 71-year-old De Gaulle.

For the rest of today and all of Saturday De Gaulle and Macmillan will closet themselves in Birch Grove, Macmillan's comfortable country residence in Sussex, for a review of basic international problems.

Santo Domingo Quiet After Day of Rioting

SANTO DOMINGO, D.R. (UPI)—Tanks and troop carriers were withdrawn from downtown Santo Domingo today ending a one-day curfew decreed to halt violence and looting.

Normally reigning in the center of the city where heavily armed troops, Thursday were forced to fire tear gas grenades and shoot on the move.

Opposition leaders were believed meeting with OAS delegates at the American consulate to discuss the local situation. They were scheduled to meet later with government heads to discuss formation of a provisional government.

Army, Navy and Air Force patrols were at every major intersection and at every government building and public utility.

They kept pedestrians and traffic on the move.

Just offshore, closer to the Dominican waterfront than at any time in the past week, U.S. warships steamed in silent surveillance. President John F. Kennedy described them last night as a measure of "healthy preservation" of law and order in the Castro-threatened Caribbean.

He told Dominicans the government's 6 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew was necessary to halt what he termed a virtual "Communist uprising."

Kennedy Meets With Top Aides

Separate Conferences Called on Trade Policy, CD and Defense Budget

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (P)—President Kennedy opened a round of conferences today with top advisers on defense spending, civil defense and trade policy.

The meeting on the defense budget was delayed for more than an hour by poor flying weather which held up the flight of a group of cabinet officials and other aides who came from Washington.

The officials did not reach the home of the President's father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy until 11:15 a.m. Pontiac time.

First problem on the agenda was U.S. trade policy. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges was a late caller for this meeting.

The meeting on the defense budget was held in the State George Hall. Howard Peterson, the President's trade adviser, and Theodore C. Sorenson, the President's special counsel.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was on hand for the important discussion of defense budgeting and civil defense.

Russell L. Gilpatrick, deputy secretary of defense, joined the group coming from Washington for the two-hour session with the President on the defense budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Others with the President, McNamara and Gilpatrick for the defense budget talks were: Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Kennedy's military adviser; Budget Director David Bell, and McGeorge Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs.

Courthouse Wing Starts Rising

ON SCHEDULE — Good weather has aided workmen of the Bundy Construction Co. of Pontiac in building the west administrative wing of the new Oakland County Courthouse. The basement of the new addition has just been completed and the first floor of the three-story structure is now being erected. The first completed section of the administrative wing is pictured here in a view from the Courthouse and the inset shows it in relation to the lower unit. The 50-by-284-foot addition will house offices now in the Oakland County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St.

Why, It's Almost Like Celebrating Christmas in July

Christmas shoppers better do their buying early. The weatherman says temperatures will be warmer for the next few days. The mercury will register 5 to 8 degrees above the normal high of 41 and normal low of 29.

Temperatures will be colder tonight, about 37, and rise to near 46 tomorrow. Precipitation for the period will total less than 2 of an inch with showers likely Monday and Tuesday.

Morning westerly winds at 20 miles per hour will diminish to moderate and southerly at 10 to 15 m.p.h. Saturday.

Thirty-nine was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 42 at 2 p.m.

Echo Returns at 6 Tonight

Moving over the northern horizon tonight the Echo 1 satellite will make another appearance in Pontiac skies. It will be visible from 6:00 to 6:01, moving in a southeasterly direction.

Japan After U.S. Loans

TOKYO (UPI)—The Japan Times said today the government, reversing a previous decision, will seek about $125 million in loans from private U.S. banks to pay for imports of surplus American farm products.

Paper Says Investigators Seeking New Walker Case

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Tribune reported today "a House subcommittee investigating team is touring the world in search of data to bolster the administration's attack on anti-Communist military personnel."

The story, by Tribune Washington writer William Edwards, said three investigators are interviewing employees of the U.S. Information Agency in Europe and Asia.

"TO GIVE INFORMATION"

USIA employees have been ordered by its director, Edward R. Murrow, "to furnish all information they can gather on military men in their areas," the Tribune reported.

"The particular interest of the investigators," the newspaper said, "is in statements of activities by American officers, abroad which put them in the class of 'radical rightists' currently under attack for infusing their troops with hatred for Communists and otherwise engaging in 'extremist' activities."

"SEEK NEW WALKER"

The story said the investigators are seeking to uncover "another Walker case."

Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was transferred from command of troops in Germany in a controversy over his troop indoctrination program. Subsequently he was admonished by the Army on the ground that he had made "inflammatory and derogatory statements about former public officials including ex-President Harry S. Truman, and had tried to influence the votes of military personnel in the 1960 congressional elections."

MRS. WILLIAM H. MADDOCK

Woman Named Assistant Clerk

Mrs. William Maddock to Take County Post Next Friday

Once again the position of chief deputy county clerk for Oakland County will be filled by a woman. This time by Mrs. William H. (Julia) Maddock.

County Clerk Register of Deeds, Daniel T. Murphy Jr., announced the appointment of Mrs. Maddock, of 1413 Glenwood Ave., to the $6,300-a-year position effective Dec. 1.

An employee of Oakland County for 13 years, Mrs. Maddock started her employment in 1948 as secretary to the clerk of the board of supervisors. She fills this $5,500 post today. It primarily concerns recording the minutes at all board of supervisors meetings.

Mrs. Maddock fills the position vacated by David Lang who resigned after two years service to work for a New York manufacturer.

Murphy said Mrs. Maddock will continue in her role with the board of supervisors as well as supervising the activity of 24 clerks in the clerk's office at the Courthouse.

Salvation Army Kettles Await Your '61 Coins

One of the familiar pre-Christmas sight-appearances of the Salvation Army kettles accompanied by tinkling bells—will be evidenced in downtown Pontiac starting today.

The jingling bells serve to remind the shopping crowd that this Christmas, as always, hundreds of families in this area will be looking to them for understanding and assistance.

Donations dropped in the kettles by passers-by go toward making Christmas brighter for the needy.

According to Capt. J. W. Weaver of the Pontiac Citadel, "Each year, with the population increase, the need grows." As in the past, the Salvation Army will provide food, toys and other Yuletide assistance.

Be Boon to Moms: Invite Kids Over

To make yourself the most popular hostess in your neighborhood, give a "let mother-go shopping" party for your children's friends.

Invite them to gather at your house for a holiday party in the week just before Christmas, so their mothers can spend a full afternoon gift shopping without worrying about the small fry.

Plan a simple menu of sandwiches shaped with a Christmas tree cutter, hot chocolate topped with marshmallows and snowflakes, and ice cream decorated with gaudy candies.

For a gala centerpiece, turn a round hothouse into a "drum" by covering it with shiny red paper. Then apply crisp, round, red and green balloons with jolly Santa faces. With thick suds, draw eyes, button nose, merry mouth, and bushy beard sort of dripping off Santa's balloon chin! Set a milk carton house, filled with candies at each place setting.

Lincoln fired three men: McClellan, Burnside and Hooker. Jimmy told us about each.

"LEE PULLED BOO BOO"

On battles he's at his peak. Bull Run was "a fiasco," he informs listeners, despite a little trouble with the word fiasco.

"Lee pulled his big boo boo at Gettysburg," he claims. He'll quote famous generals all over the place. On weekend drives in the country he associates cornfields with Shiloh.

You confront him with the cold hard fact that Ulysses S. Grant (his favorite) ranked last in his class at West Point and you'll get something like this right back:

"Yes, but he was the best horseman in his class. . . and, by the way, his real first name was Hiram."

Ask his father a question about some finer point of the great conflict and he'll say, "Wait, I'll have to ask the kid about that one."

Jimmy is slowly papering his bedroom walls with Civil War maps and murals that he is drawing himself. His art work is good for his age and all the important battle details are there.

ENCOURAGED BY PARENTS

"Some people have criticized us for encouraging his interest in war and fighting, but that's not really what we're teaching him," says Panaretos, who is director of community relations for Pontiac State Hospital.

"He learned a lot about West Point, and more about Lincoln. We try to give him the background and insight to discover why things happened the way they did."

You'd expect this explanation of an educated man, but the child's explanation is more direct and revealing.

We found the insight when we asked Jimmy who the enemy was. "There weren't any enemies. They were all Americans," he replied.

Teacher Body Hits Censorship

National Council Group Calls for Fight on Wave of 'Book-Burning'

One of three national organizations which recommended use in high schools of Pearl Buck's "The Good Earth" and Walter D. Edmond's "Drums Along the Mohawk" yesterday called for an all-out fight against a wave of "book-burning" throughout the nation.

The two books are being protested by 12 Pontiac parents who described them as unfit for reading by youngsters 15 to 18 years old.

The national group, which reported a threatening wave of censorship, is the committee on censorship and controversy of the National Council of Teachers of English, now in its 51st convention in Philadelphia.

One Pontiac mother, Mrs. Earl Olesburg of 17 E. Ann Arbor Ave. Wednesday urged an investigation into national educational and literary groups which are recommending "The Good Earth."

"We should find out who these people are who are recommending books like 'The Good Earth,' because these books may be undermining the morals of our nation," she said.

The two other groups which recommended the two books are the H. W. Wilson firm which publishes The Standard Catalogue for High School Libraries, and the American Library Association's committee for supervision and curriculum development.

The National Council for Teachers of English listed the two books in a publication entitled, "Books for You: A List for Leisure and Study for use by students in Senior High School."

Walter J. Trosz, 24, of 2617 E. 14th St. told the committee's deputies that he had dropped a burning cigarette inside his car as he was driving east and reached down to retrieve it when the car veered out of control.

He suffered scalp cuts and face and back injuries in the crash. He was alone in the car at the time.

The Day in Birmingham Sewer Project May Be Finished in June

BIRMINGHAM—Work on the Birmingham Hills internal sewer system will continue through the winter months with completion of the $13.3-million project expected in June, City Clerk Robert Stadler said today.

"All phases of the job are on schedule and we believe some residents will be able to tie-in to the laterals before summer," he said.

According to Stadler the city has been split into six work sections, with three contractors doing the construction.

One contractor was awarded a contract for three areas, another firm was awarded two and a third the remaining section.

Construction on the major project, Stadler said, is proceeding in all areas of the city. Already completed is the main trunk line which will carry the sewage into the Evergreen Interceptor and then to Detroit for treatment.

Stadler said that construction has halted temporarily on several city streets because of poor soil conditions and water problems.

"Contractors will return to finish the job in these locations."

When the ground hardens this winter.

GENERAL LEVY

They authorized the sale of $15 million in bonds for the project. All but $10,000 of the total bond issue has been sold. This money will be used to construct sewer lines for future developments in the city.

Property owners are being taxed a general levy, rather than being assessed for the improvement. The tax increase this year for the project was about $4.00 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation over last year's rate of $22 per $1,000.

When the time comes to hook into the laterals, homeowners will have to have individual contractors do the work. The city will only construct the lead-in from the lateral to the property line.

Stadler said the installation of the line from the house to the property line would cost homeowners anywhere from $3 to $3.50 a foot.

When this is complete a $14 fee will be charged for the inspection of the hook-up.

Mrs. John H. Berger Service for Mrs. John H. (Lois M.) Berger, 91, of 2151 Manchester St., will be 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Cremation will be at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mrs. Berger died yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, following a long illness. She is survived by a son, Charles K., of Birmingham.

Clay Briefs Brandt on White House Talks

BERLIN (UPI)—Gen. Lucius Clay met with West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt for 65 minutes today and briefed him on President Kennedy's recent talks with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

After the meeting, Clay and Brandt both confirmed to newsmen that this had been the main subject of their talks.

"We mainly discussed the Washington meeting," Brandt said. "We now must see what will happen."

Stadler said that construction has halted temporarily on several city streets because of poor soil conditions and water problems.

Highway Deaths Seven Over Holiday

By The Associated Press
Seven persons were killed on Michigan's streets and highways during the early part of the extended Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

In addition, one miscellaneous accidental death was reported. Five of the traffic victims died on Thanksgiving Day.

The dead included two teenage drivers and three elderly pedestrians who were struck by vehicles.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

During the 92-hour holiday period last year, 31 traffic deaths and two miscellaneous fatalities were reported.

Gary Corbier, 16, Sugar Island, was killed Thursday in a head-on collision on the Upper Peninsula island. The crash occurred in a heavy fog.

Nicholas Lupa, 17, Detroit, died Thursday when his auto went off the road in Livonia.

Maurice Mann, 55, Chicago, was injured fatally Thursday when his car veered off U.S. 27 at the Clinton-Ingalls County line just inside the Lansing city limits. The crash occurred in a heavy fog.

David Paige, 60, Cedar River, was injured fatally by a hand-and-rider Thursday as Paige walked along M34 three miles north of Stephenson.

Gerald Thacker, 20, Ypsilanti, was killed Thursday when his car ran off I-94 in Ypsilanti Township.

Work 70-Hour Weeks, No Extra Pay

Men in Strategic Air Command Are Loyal Plus

By BOB CONSIDINE
WASHINGTON—If the Strategic Air Command and a union, the nation would be in a fix and so would the free world it protects. The force surely would be on strike, protesting a workweek that has caused rebellion in an 18th century Welsh coal field.

SAC ground and air crews, responding to Defense Secretary McNamara's call for a 50 per cent step-up in the number of atomic weapons on alert, are now working a 70-hour week. There is, of course, no overtime pay.

Matter of fact, the regular pay for the backbreaking work week is considerably under that received by men doing similar jobs in private industry over a 40-hour 5-day week.

It's a case of the same number of men handling a sharply expanded job, much as if the car industry was ordered to turn out twice as many vehicles with the same work force.

There is no alternative, apparently, this side of budgetary bankruptcy. Air crews work longer hours today because it costs too much to train additional crews capable of handling the always surprisingly important and now magnified job.

A B47 is operated on a mission by three superbly skilled men. It costs $700,000 to develop such a crew, teach it everything it must know.

Another huge sum goes into supporting it in the manner to which it must accustom itself if it is to remain cocked and ready at all times.

To prepare new crews and support them, to handle the increased work, would exhaust Air Force funds badly needed elsewhere. So the men of SAC make the best of things, impelled by a motive the rest of us often forget—the simple impetus of dedication, and a shopworn but essentially magnificent word but essentially magnificent word but patriotism.

LIFE OUTSIDE CALLS

Not all of them stay at their jobs, of course. The demands of their growing families, the understandable feeling that they have "seen their duty and done it," the native hunger for creature comforts and the lure of private industry all combine to send thousands of service-trained men marching out of uniform at the end of enlistment periods.

"It takes three years to train a jet bomber's radar technician to do a full day's work, unaltered," as Air Force general told us today, chewing on his dead cigar.

"To get him to that point costs us $25,000. Then he works out the last year of his enlistment. In effect, we're paying him $25,000 for that year's work, for that's the year he can do his job. Then he leaves us, and we have the job of training another boy over the next three years.

"The Corliss Plan helped some. It cut down a bit on the difference between military and private industry pay and privileges. But there's still a big gap, still a reluctance to re-enlist."

Five years ago, SAC estimated it was spending $2 billion a year training men to take the places of those who chose the easier life outside of the uniform.

Another source of grief and misgiving for the man who works so long and so hard to keep his bombing plane in proper condition, ready to observe the 15-minute wheels-up dictum, is the burgeoning legend that the next war is going to be largely operated by buttons.

He must say to himself, as he polishes a ball-bearing the size of the ball in a ball-point pen, a bearing that operates the gizmo that fits into the whirigo of the grammas on the bomber's coffee pot. "Jeez, maybe I'm in the wrong end of the racket."

THE MORALE FACTOR

We asked an Air Force man about this morale factor, and he snorted.

"If war came tomorrow, manned bomber forces would constitute almost all the retaliatory punch thrown against an enemy. I've seen the figure that 75 per cent of that punch would be from ballistic missiles. That's a gross overstate-

To Hold Public Hearing on New Freeway Section

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department announced today that a public hearing on the first section of the Port Huron-to-Flint Freeway will be held next Thursday in Port Huron.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the meeting has been called to discuss an eight-mile section of the M 21 Freeway which will be built from US 25 on the east side of Port Huron west to the vicinity of the village of Wadhams.

Freeway Stretch to Tie Peninsula

Almost Nonstop Driving Will Go From Lansing to Mackinac Bridge

LANSING (AP) — There'll be nonstop driving 80 per cent of the distance between Lansing and the Mackinac Bridge by the end of next week.

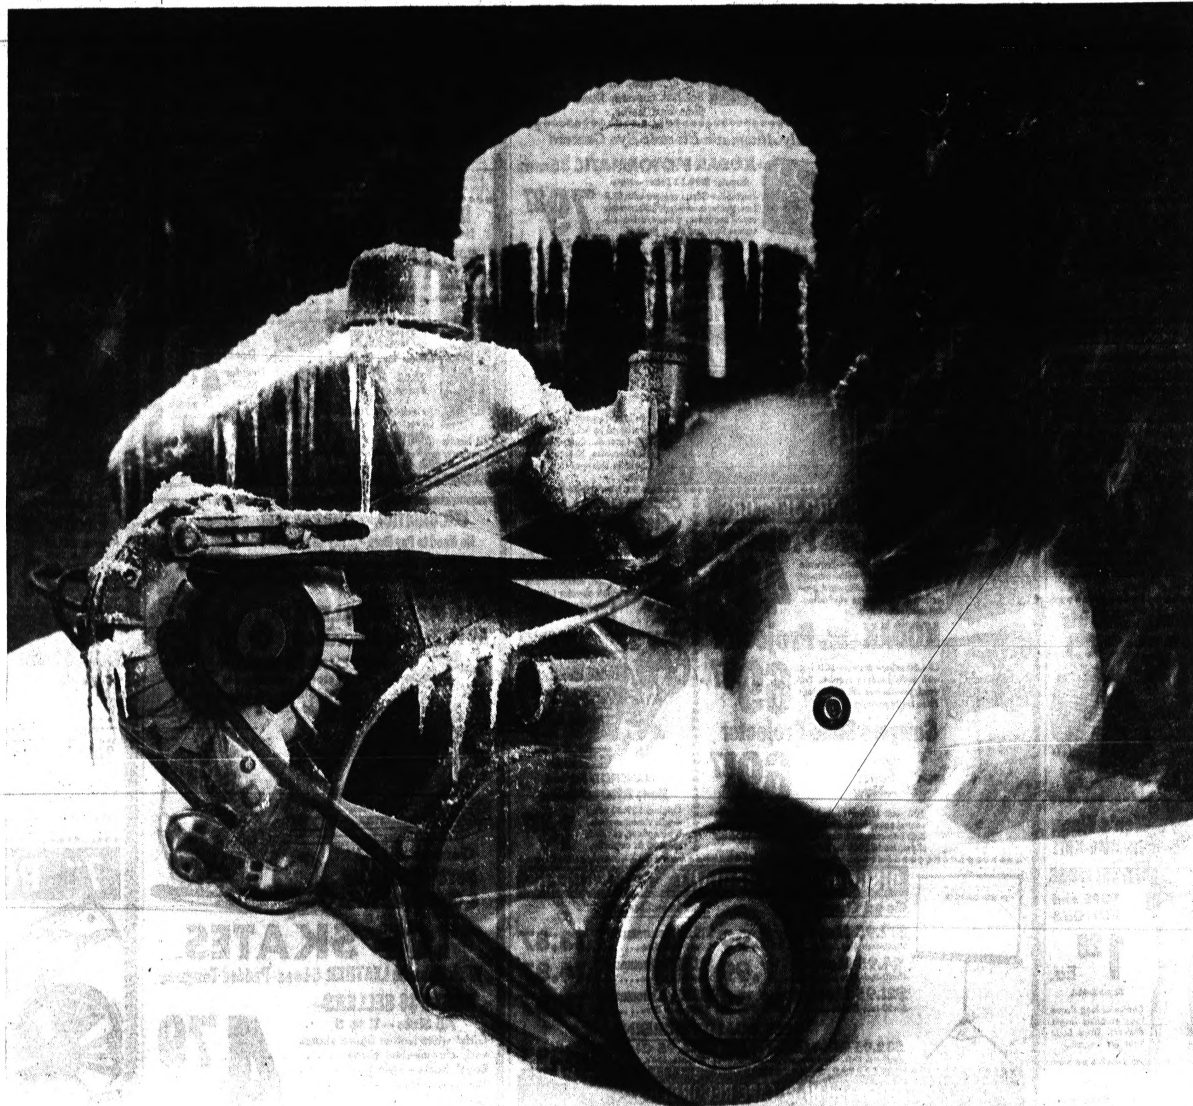

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said nearly 16 miles of I-75 between Grayling and Waters, an Ostego County village, will be opened next Friday.

That means "Motorists will be driving on 180 miles of divided four-lane highway — most of it built to freeway standards — between Lansing and the Mackinac Bridge," Mackie said.

More than 100 miles of freeway has been opened so far this year, reducing travel time between the capital and the Mackinac Bridge by as much as 60 minutes.

The only gap, he said, will be a 41 mile stretch between Clare and Harrison.

A two-lane highway from Waters to Indian River will be in use, he added, until the completion of the freeway next summer. I-75 from Indian River to the Mackinac Bridge has been completed for more than a year, he said.

Reds Checkmate Uncle Sam Whenever Possible

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY—WASHINGTON — Russians as a people have a natural proclivity for playing chess, and some of the Kremlin's recent moves reflect this basic skill.

From Finland to Mexico, and from Laos to West Berlin the tactics are different, but the goal is the same: To checkmate Uncle Sam.

The president of Finland is flying to Novosibirsk for a face-to-face encounter with Red boss Nikita Khrushchev, after being urged to dissolve parliament and move up the parliamentary election date from next July to February.

Americans chaff angrily at the Kremlin squeeze on neutral Finland and not just because the little democracy was the only nation in the world to repay its U.S. war debt.

The Soviet timing of its ugly pressure on Finnish President Urho Kekkonen was deliberately designed to embarrass us as much as the Finns.

Kekkonen was an official guest of the United States at the moment Khrushchev chose to slap him across the face with a Red flag. The Finnish chief executive, after a visit with President Ken-

Trujillo Relatives Are Flown to Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The last relatives of assassinated Dominican Dictator Rafael Trujillo have left their homeland and are in Miami.

The party of about 25 arrived by airliner Thursday night. Trujillo's mother, Julia Molina Trujillo, 96, and Rameo, another of her sons, were in the group.

There were few onlookers and no demonstration at Miami International Airport, in contrast with a crowd that heckled the departing travelers at Santo Domingo. Mrs. Trujillo, who uses a wheelchair, was taken from Miami airport by ambulance, presumably to quarters the family has engaged in suburban Coral Gables.

ny and a tour of the United States, had slipped over to the Hawaiian ranch of Sam Pryor for a day or two of rest last October. KNEW REKKONEN Pryor, vice president of Pan-

Officer Hosts Woman Who Aided War Escape

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Col. Jesse M. Hamby had a very special Thanksgiving dinner guest—a petite Frenchwoman who helped him escape from behind enemy lines during World War II.

The guest, Mme. Henri Tarbes, is in this country visiting some of the Americans she helped to freedom during the war.

Want Some Dignity

SPRINGVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce decided to erase the slogan on the highway welcome signs, "A good place to stop, shop and flop," and started trying to think of something "a little less poetic, but a little more dignified."

American World Airways, first met Kekkonen when he inaugurated a New York-Helsinki passenger flight service last summer.

Among the plane load of guests on the first flight was Duke Kahanamoku, famous Olympic swimmer who won the world championship in Sweden in 1912, and whose record has never been broken.

President Kekkonen also competed in the Olympics in his youth. He and Kahanamoku, who is now sheriff of Honolulu, were therefore swapping swimming stories at the Pryor home on Hana Maui island when the Kremlin blow fell.

The Soviet news agency Tass released the text of a Khrushchev note to Kekkonen invoking article two of the Soviet-Finn Treaty, and demanding consultations on the alleged military threat from West Germany.

Kekkonen did not react as Khrushchev undoubtedly hoped. Instead of canceling his arrangements and meekly flying home, he continued his U.S. tour for the three remaining days. His worries, however, are steadily mounting.

The Kremlin masters delight in diversionary tactics which distract world attention from one trouble spot, while it heats up another. Secret testimony given by Father Joseph F. Thorning before the Senate subcommittee on internal security points up the extent of the Kremlin meddling in the muddled waters of the Caribbean which wash our Southern shores.

Father Thorning, an expert on Latin American politics, was recently awarded the highest national decoration of Guatemala. The ambassador, in investing the Catholic priest, said of him:

"Guatemalan people recall with gratitude the vision and courage of the educator, author and diplomat, who was the first North American intellectual to unflinchingly stand up to the Soviet-dominated regime of Col. Jacobo Arbenz, which was overthrown by Guatemalan freedom fighters in June 1954."

The priest has more recently been trying to rally the Latin support for the resolution by Columbia to impose sanctions against the Castro dictatorship of Cuba within the Organization of American States.

Mexico is one of the chief stumbling blocs to this action, and Father Thorning charges that a former Mexican president is the chief Castro apologist and Kremlin errand boy, who is preventing Mexico from voting with 14 of the other 21 American nations to investigate Cuba. His secret testimony, due to release next week, names names and documents its allegations. It is not a pretty story.

Says Father Thorning: "It is time President Kennedy sent word to the presidents of Brazil, Uruguay, Chile, Mexico and Argentina, demanding that in return for our aid, they give us one vote for decency."

Bogey wheels for tanks are being made of plastic with steel rims.

About 700,000 homes in the U.S. are broken each year by the death of the husband or the wife.

Right Now Is the Time to Make Warnings

Wouldn't it be great if next spring the Pontiac area could go on record as not having had an ice skating fatality during the winter?

With our numerous lakes, that surely would be a commendable record. Can we make it?

Right now is the time for parents, teachers and others to pass out the warnings.

Tell the children they must never go on the ice until its safety is assured by a grownup.

Tell them that "rubber ice" is never safe. Nor is honeycombed ice after a thaw.

Warn them that only the smaller of our lakes ever freeze over to a safe degree.

Tell them that none of our rivers or creeks ever are safe.

Prove to them that running water never freezes to any safe distinction.

Warn them that any lake with a stream flowing through it is dangerous.

Tell them to keep away from the entrance or exit of any stream in any lake.

Warn them about congregating in a crowd on any ice; it's treacherous. Ask them to spend their energy and reap the enjoyment from the city ice rinks.

Tell them that being called a sissy is better than being called a corpse.

Ask them to join the movement to have a winter without an ice skating fatality.

Americans Must Learn More About World

Recently, the Christian Science Monitor ran an editorial entitled "Learning About the World," which we feel is worth reprinting. Their views follow:

"Much recent history can be explained by the unprecedented demand for rapid learning confronting the American people. Projected—sometimes with dragging feet—into a position of world leadership, the Nation has to absorb in decades lessons others had centuries to master. President Kennedy in his Seattle speech has usefully pointed up one of the most difficult—There cannot be an American solution for every world problem."

"Much future history will depend on how well Americans gain the mature understanding of foreign relations for which the President appealed. This entails not merely surmounting the frustrations involved in discovering that some problems are beyond answering with dollars, bombs or bulldozers. It has to do also with grasping the true opportunities for the effective exercise of American freedom, energy, and idealism."

"Mr. Kennedy was teaching a useful lesson in realism when he tackled the assumptions of extremists. Also when he outlined the framework in which Berlin negotiations must take place. Talking is normally better than fighting, but talking will not necessarily bring a firm peace. And, as he pointed out, negotiations involve bargaining in which agreement usually depends on both sides seeing some advantage for themselves."

"As to the limitations on American power, Mr. Kennedy would be a more effective teacher had not so much of his campaign last year involved the assumption that everything askew in the world could be blamed on the Eisenhower administration. Everything would be set straight when the Democrats got the country moving again. Then came Cuba and Laos, to show how wrong most of the 'prestige' talk was. (Of course, the Republicans had similarly distorted the picture in blaming the Democrats for the 'loss' of Eastern Europe and China.)

"If Americans are going to learn what they need to know about the world, leaders in both parties must speak more responsibly—in or out of office."

Late Senator Honored

Americans of every political persuasion can take pleasure in knowing that a ROBERT A. TAFT Institute of Government is being set up in the late Ohio Senator's honor.

His friends and his adversaries alike accepted him as a man who truly loved government, who toiled hard to make its legislative processes work well, who succeeded far more than most in keeping his integrity as he worked.

As seems to happen inevitably in the political arena, Taft often was portrayed in sharp black and white tones. Those who understood him best, however, saw him as a man with as many complex shadings as the problems he so tirelessly assailed.

The new institute will have much value if it can approach the problems of government in the intense spirit of inquiry common to Robert A. Taft.

The Man About Town

Money in Them Pumpkins to the Tune of About $600 an Acre

Nap: What it's nice to take when a man is talking who knows it all.

The pumpkin is not considered to be a money crop. But the East Orin 4-H Club has made it so in a big way. Those young people are surely the champion pumpkin raisers of Oakland County.

For the last three years they've had the use of a three-quarter acre plot for the raising of pumpkins. And they made it look like the golden studded land that it was. Last year they realized a good profit, and this year they set out in true 4-H fashion

"To Make the Best Better," and cleared close to $450 on the project. Nearly all of this money was immediately invested in another project that will yield even better dividends. It has been donated to the fund for purchasing and remodeling the recently acquired youth center building at Lake Orion.

We wonder if any other land in our county had a yield of approximately $600 per acre this year. Those 4-H folks surely knew their stuff.

The use of the plot of ground has been donated by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Abbey, both supremely interested in 4-H work.

Our football contest now has only two surviving entries. They picked the Green Bay Packers to win the Thanksgiving Day game with the Detroit Lions, which the Packers won 17-9. The three survivors who picked the Lions are eliminated. The two remaining contestants each pick Ohio State to win Saturday's game with Michigan.

A ruta baga that weighs five pounds comes from the garden of Arnold Stranberg of Waterford, who wonders if this isn't a 1961 record.

Segregation Working in Reverse

WASHINGTON — People who move to the suburbs from the cities or from one neighborhood to another just to escape "integration" of the schools may find they are violating "the law of the land." For they could be helping to bring about a defeat of the Supreme Court's mandate of 1954 which said that Negro children cannot get as good an education as they are in classrooms with white children.

This may sound far-fetched to some people, but that is what many lawyers said about the Supreme Court opinion rendered seven years ago.

Even some of the lawyers who agreed with the court's conclusion then said it was "the right decision but for the wrong reasons."

The Constitution also provides that it can be amended only by a vote of two-thirds of Congress and by action of the states in ratifying amendments submitted to them by Congress. The constitutional question neighborhood to a school in a white neighborhood.

In a suburb of New York City, Federal District Judge Irving R. Kaufman has ruled against arbitrary rearrangement of school districts designed to avoid integration. New York City school officials have said that "no child should be deprived of the right to attend a mixed school," even if he lives in an all-white or all-Negro neighborhood.

Yet the Constitution doesn't mention education as within the federal government's jurisdiction at all, and says explicitly in the Tenth Amendment that all rights not specifically delegated to the federal government by the Constitution "are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people."

The Constitution also provides that it can be amended only by a vote of two-thirds of Congress and by action of the states in ratifying amendments submitted to them by Congress. The constitutional question

Shots Used These Days More Than Necessary

In preceding columns, I've suggested self-help in the reduction of family medical costs relative to the purchases of vitamins, minerals, pain killers, appetite depressants and tranquilizers.

Now, with a nod to those who might disagree, I'd like to discuss the matter of "shots."

When I started practice, many American doctors criticized the continental custom of giving injections for almost every known ailment.

Scarcely a European traveler returned without a supply of impressively colored, attractively packaged little flasks that contained fluid of unknown composition or doses of substances of little therapeutic value with which a "cure doctor" worked "miraculously."

As in the world of fashion today, it was assumed that any imported product was, by this very fact, superior to anything domestic.

Now when we Americans begin riding a fad, we really ride it to a far-thee-what. And this is what I believe has happened with abuses of the giving of "shots."

Quite likely this is exploited by a minority of my colleagues, but it's a practice that, all too often, is demanded by patients of their doctors.

Efforts of our pharmaceutical industry to perfect preparations that can be taken by mouth have been so successful that "shots" are rarely needed except in the case of quite sick patients, either in their homes or in hospitals.

For example, except for an occasional dose of vitamins B12 and K, there is no need to give vitamin shots to most individuals who are up and about. I'm not talking here about an injection for a local sore spot.

And the same may be said of "glad shots" and of shots of penicillin and most of the other "miraculous" antibiotics many of which often seem to be prescribed as if they were as harmless as cough lozenges.

Now, aside from the matter of reactions from "shots," there's the matter of costs. For you to take or demand a shot of a medicine can cost as well as by mouth, you have to travel to the doctor's office, wait your turn to be cared for, pay a fee for each injection, and travel

When the fragile apple blossoms leave their perfume in the air... You will hear my young heart singing... On the highways everywhere... When the silken crimson roses... Bloom along the climbing vine... All the world that lies around me... I shall claim as being mine... When the gentle lilac bushes... Are a heavenly bouquet... I shall sprinkle them with stardust... At the twilight of the day... When the cherry trees are budding... And the birds begin to nest... Under bows I shall be longing... For a quiet place to rest... But when bluebellida down in Texas... On the placid plain appear... I shall point my pinto pony... To the home that I hold dear.

Voice of the People:

'All Religions Must Help Outlaw Communist Party'

The U.N. is a great hoax. In 15 years of its existence, communism has steadily advanced. It was set up by the enemies of God and long before WWII it was planned to turn it into world government over a world slave state.

We must implement the American Legion's demand of the removal from the state department and other branches of persons not in complete accord with our opposition to communism.

We must outlaw the Communist party.

President Kennedy's order preventing Americans from intercepting Communist propaganda coming into this country should be reversed. Get Tito's plots out of the country and the students studying in our atomic plants. He declares that in a conflict he stands with the Soviet Union. We should cease muzzling patriotic generals. If there was criticism of any leaders, they brought it on themselves by their own acts.

The American Communists are a very important part of the International Bolshevik apparatus. They have access in getting our government to do things against our own best interest. The Reds have long since penetrated our inner defenses.

It is not a question of saving the U.N., but of saving the U.S. All religions should stand together in the face of the Communist threat.

'Animals Deserve Proper Treatment'

It is heart-breaking to see so many dogs and cats that are given only horrid chicken bones for food, and left out to freeze. Why doesn't the humane aid society for animals put a fine on every person who doesn't feed and properly shelter his pet?

Criticism in Reverse

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Republican congressman has criticized President Kennedy for labeling administration critics as "extremists."

Rep. Donald C. Bruce, R-Ind., said Thursday that, as a congressman, Kennedy denounced "criticisms of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations in terms similar to those his own critics now use."

Bruce quoted from a speech made in 1959 by Kennedy at Salem, Mass., that was critical of American leaders for allegedly selling out China to the Communists. The congressman indicated that statement the text of Kennedy's 12-year-old speech, delivered about 10 months before the Nationalist Chinese fled to Formosa. The speech said:

"Our policy in China has reaped the whirlwind. The continued insistence that aid would not be given unless a coalition government with the Communists was formed, was a crippling blow to the National Government..."

Kennedy was further quoted as saying:

"At the Yalta Conference in 1945 a sick (President) Roosevelt, with the advice of General (George C.) Marshall and other chiefs of staff, gave the Kurla Islands as well as the control of various strategic Chinese ports, such as Port Arthur and Dairen, to the Soviet Union."

A thought for the day: Author George Bernard Shaw said: "The test of a man or woman's breeding is how they behave in a quarrel."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Parents Obligated to Teach Children

A high school diploma is worth $40,000 in future earnings and each year of college adds an extra $25,000 on top of that $40,000.

So tutor your child at home by using the booklet "How to Raise Your Child's School Marks."

We parents must never forget our obligation to help the teachers in the schools.

For we should cultivate in our youngsters a "thirst" for reading and an ambition to finish high school, plus at least a year of college.

Even if many of you mothers never attended high school, you can still motivate your children to do so, if you will just do a little home study of your own.

For instance, surround your youngsters with fairly correct English.

Do you make such glaring mistakes as these in your home conversation?

"I see him go home."

"We have went."

"I don't have no."

"She was dark complected."

"She aggravates me."

"Wait on me at the corner."

"She is laying down for a nap."

"None of them are working."

How many of those mistakes in simple English can you detect? Unless you parents help launch your child on good English, he will probably get low grades all through grammar and high school.

Thus, he will dislike school and try to play hooky or drop out with the excuse he should get a job and earn some money.

Brazil's Renewal of Soviet Ties Could Unseat Premier

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil renewed diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union Thursday in a move apparently intended to demonstrate its freedom from U.S. domination—but it could mean trouble for the wobbly young government of Premier Tancredo Neves.

After a 14-year break, Foreign Minister Francisco Santiago Dantas announced the resumption of formal ties with Moscow during a tumultuous session of the Chamber of Deputies in Brasilia. Anti-Communist deputies almost shouted him down.

ANGERS CONGRESSMEN

Angry congressmen, shouting "shame!" contended that the Communists already had a strong enough hold in Brazil without the presence of Soviet diplomats in Rio de Janeiro and the inland capital.

Neves told newsmen that the renewal of relations did not mean that Brazil—which is 95 per cent Roman Catholic—is selling out its democratic Christian ideals.

SAYS NO CONCESSIONS

There has been no concession on the part of the Brazilian government, said Neves.

Relations with the Soviet Union have been a hot potato for Brazilian politicians since President Eurico Gaspar Dutra angrily broke with Moscow in 1947 because of Soviet newspaper attacks on him and Brazilian army generals.

President Juscelino Kubitschek toyed with the idea of restoring relations. He finally sided with the West in the cold war, but he did set up commercial relations with the Soviet Union.

Enigmatic Janio Quadros, who succeeded Kubitschek, and then quit in a huff last August, set in motion the machinery to exchange envoys with Moscow once more.

'INDEPENDENT POLICY'

Quadros outlined a so-called independent foreign policy which kept Brazil officially in the Western camp but not in tow of any Western nation. He talked of recognizing Red China, however, and repeatedly expressed sympathies for the Cuban regime of Fidel Castro.

The apparently leftward swing brought Quadros under strong fire which led to his resignation Aug. 25.

MADE COMPROMISE: Quadros' departure set off weeks of unrest during which military chiefs sought to block Vice President Joao Goulart, a leftist laborite, from assuming the presidency. To appease the rightist military opposition, Congress approved a constitutional amendment which led to his resignation Aug. 25.

ment taking most of the powers from the presidency and giving them to a premier responsible to Parliament.

PREDICTIONS WRONG

Some Brazilian diplomats had indicated that the resumption of relations with the Soviet Union might go by the boards and that the government would mark time until negotiations between the two nations died out.

The foreign minister's announcement of a resumption of full ties came as a mild surprise, at least, and the timing puzzled many observers in view of the Neves government's shaky position because of its failure so far to make progress against the crisis.

The hostile attack in congress could be the forerunner of a motion of no confidence in the government which, if successful, would force it to resign. Neves likely will argue that Brazil must have relations with all nations if its economy is to survive.

Downed by Retriever

Caroline's Dog Recovers

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—Caroline Kennedy's Welsh terrier, Charlie, has recovered nicely from fierce wounds inflicted upon him in a recent dog fight near the summer White House here.

The frisky brown pet, who will be two years old this weekend, was reported to have come out second best in a bout with a bigger dog several weeks ago in the area of the home of Caroline's parents, President and Mrs. Kennedy.

According to local reports, Charlie had to have 15 stitches to close rips torn into his body by his opponent, described by one source as a Labrador retriever.

Charlie's midrift was bandaged for a while, but the dressings have been removed.

He thus is in good condition to take part Saturday in a party here making his second birthday "sometime this weekend." The party is to be a joint one also honoring his little mistress, Caroline, who will be four years old Monday, and her brother, John Jr., who will be one year old Saturday but may not make it to the party because of a slight cold which has kept him in Washington.

Space Race Takes Diapers, Bananas

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Space technology is more than just missiles.

Orders for second-hand diapers and ripe bananas showed up regularly last year in the more than 51,000 orders processed by General Electric Co. Missiles and Space Vehicle Department buyers.

The diapers were considered perfect for cleaning certain delicate precision instruments. The bananas were used to feed a couple of space monkeys.

OK, It Was Late; but It Did Get There, Didn't It?

RIALTO, Calif. (AP)—It might be a good idea for all to mail those Christmas packages much, much earlier this year.

Rosemarie Taft thought her sister in South Bend, Ind., had really avoided the rush when a gaily-wrapped package arrived at the Taft residence this week.

But, instead, Mrs. Taft discovered that the house her sister sent her was last year's present. The package was postmarked Dec. 1, 1960 in South Bend.

APPOINTED—Raymond Farrell has been named to take over the post of immigration and naturalization commissioner. James J. Farrell, native of Pawtucket, R.I., will succeed Gen. Joseph Swing who has resigned. Farrell has been serving as associate commissioner.

Hawaii Dockers Approve 5-Year Labor Contract

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP)—Hawaii dockers have agreed on a five-year contract, the longest longshore pact in the islands' history.

Federal arbitrator Sam Kugel announced the agreement Thursday between stevedore employers and the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Plane Crashes, 5 Die in Alaska

Two AF Men Missing, 3 Parachute to Safety but One Is Hurt

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—An Air Force transport carrying 10 men crashed and burned 17 miles south of Whitehorse Thursday. Five men died, two are missing and three parachuted safely.

The pilot was trying to nurse the crippled plane to Whitehorse, where he had taken off moments before. He reported an emergency, but did not say what it was.

Motors on the Alaska Highway watched the plane circle and then head back toward Whitehorse, in Yukon Territory.

It was reported to have crashed in deep snow at the base of a mountain. Temperatures in the area were down around zero.

A transport carried a helicopter from Elmendorf to Whitehorse to use in the search for the missing men. Five parachutes were seen drifting down.

A para-rescue team also was sent from Elmendorf to help in the search.

The three survivors were hospitalized but two were released after a checkup.

Pontiac Area Deaths

MRS. PAUL P. BRADFORD — Word has been received of the death of former Pontiac resident Mrs. Paul P. (Kate E.) Bradford. Service and burial were held from the Wilson Funeral Home in Midland Tuesday.

Mrs. Bradford was a member of All Saints Episcopal Church before moving to Midland to make her home with daughter, Mrs. Clara Madill of 208 W. Ellsworth St.

Other survivors include two grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Harry G. Stowell of Pontiac and Mrs. Eber Arnold of Gladwin; and two brothers.

Mrs. Bradford died Saturday in Midland after a brief illness.

JOSEPH E. DUPREY

Service for Joseph E. Duprey of 205 Harrison Ave. will be 2 p.m. Saturday at the Purkey-Funeral Home. His body will be taken to Flint Memorial Park Cemetery for burial.

Mr. Duprey, 68, died at his residence Wednesday after an illness of five years.

FLORENCE JENCKS

Service for Florence Jencks, 61, of 94 Mark St. will be 2 p.m. Sunday at the Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home, Clarkston. Burial will follow in the Oxford Cemetery.

Mrs. Jencks was a teacher in Waterford Township for 10 years prior to teaching in other schools of Oakland County.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, she was a member of First Baptist Church and the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. John Prater of Oxford, Mrs. Ella Tegeder of Clarkston and Mrs. Laia Howe of Holly.

Mrs. Jencks died Wednesday at Pontiac General Hospital. She had been ill 11 days.

The family suggests memorials be made to the First Baptist Church, Pontiac.

MRS. JOHN A. RACE

Service for Mrs. John A. (Eva) Race of 1024 E. Genesee Road will be 11 a.m. Saturday at Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, Burial will be in Washington Cemetery in Cantonville.

Mrs. Race, 76, was the wife of the late John A. Race, former building contractor and city commissioner in Pontiac. She was a member of First Baptist Church, the Berean Class and Gleaners Group of her church, and a life member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Alfred Short of Port Huron, Mrs. Murray Osborn of Birmingham, Mrs. Harold Wagg of Pontiac and Mrs. Eldon Powley of Lake Orion; and 14 grandchildren.

Mrs. Race died of a stroke Wednesday in a Detroit Hospital after an illness of several years.

ELMER E. FARRELL

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Service for Elmer E. Farrell, 86, of 400 Bogle Lake Road, will be 1 p.m. Sunday at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home. Burial will be in Lakeside Cemetery, Oshtemo Lake.

A lifetime resident of the township, Mr. Farrell died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital after a three-year illness. He had been a farmer.

His sole survivor is a son, Roy of Clarkston.

HERSCHEL L. KREBS

MILFORD — Service for Herschel L. Krebs, 43, of 542 Hickory St., will be 3 p.m. Sunday at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home. Burial will be in Milford Memorial Cemetery.

A teacher at Huron Valley High School, Mr. Krebs died yesterday in the McPherson Community Health Center, Howell, of a heart attack. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the Milford Presbyterian Church.

Besides his wife Lorraine, he is survived by a son, Gary; two daughters, Connie and Cindy, all at home; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Krebs, of Charlotte.

VERNON H. MILLER

NORTH BRANCH — Service for Vernon H. Miller, 75, of 229 Johnson Mill Road will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Blackburn Funeral Home. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mr. Miller, a retired farmer, died Wednesday at the Lapeer County General Hospital after a short illness.

Surviving are his wife Cecile; a son, Henry of Lapeer; and three daughters, Mrs. Ralph Smith of Lapeer, Mrs. Don Harley and Mrs. Bruce Greenman, both of Inlay City.

American Trains Lack 'Rights' in E. Germany

BERLIN (AP) — A young East German stayaway abroad a U.S. military train was turned over to Soviet authorities because Americans lack extraterritorial rights on such trains, Gen. Lucius D. Clay was quoted as saying today.

Clay, President Kennedy's envoy to Berlin, made the explanation to West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, a West Berlin spokesman said.

The reported explanation meant that the four U.S. military trains which daily cross East German territory between West Berlin and West Germany are not U.S. territory like a U.S. Embassy in a foreign country.

With Shoe Shine, a Fella Puts Best Hoof Forward

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Joseph Adamson, a shoe polish salesman, was surprised to discover that some of his best customers don't even wear shoes.

He reports attending a county fair in Pennsylvania where the prize cattle were given "hoof shines" with his firm's liquid shoe polish before entering the show ring.

About one child in 143 U.S. school children has cross-eye conditions.

STRONGER BARRIER — Three Vopos stand guard at the Brandenburg Gate in front of the huge new concrete barrier running 220 yards along the East-West Berlin border. The new wall was unveiled Thursday when the Reds pulled down the fibre board screen behind which it had been constructed. The sign at the right has lost some of its meaning now, it reads "Attention: You Are Now Leaving West Berlin."

For HIS Christmas?

Mink Pleases Playboys

NEW YORK (UI) — Michael Forrester, a man-about-town who is sometimes known as the Mink King of Seventh Avenue, has got into the Christmas picture for other men-about-town — mink-lined overcoats which retail at a less than modest $1,595.

That is for a single-breasted will outer shell with white pearl buttons and slashed pockets. If the outer shell is cashmere, the price jumps to $2,000. And if it is mink-lined vicuña, the price is $5,500.

These super-luxurious overcoats have just been introduced but have already been sold about 40 takers ranging from a member of the so-called Hollywood "Rat Pack" to Rafael Trujillo Jr., a frequent buyer of furs for himself at Christmas or other times.

$65,000 WORTH — As a matter of fact, young Trujillo, who used to present expensive gawags to Hollywood beauties, ordered $65,000 worth of furs from Forrester just before his dictator-father was assassinated.

He canceled about half the order with the death of his father but kept one of the $1,595 overcoats for himself, Forrester said.

One of Forrester's favorite customers perhaps is Argentine millionaire Jose Herrera, whose family owns a lot of lace mills, among other things. He sent in enough getting started this year but he expects sales to pick up next year.

So far, some of his customers include A & P heir Huntington Hartford; singer Tony Martin; Sammy Kohn, music maver of Hollywood; Jack Elmitrater, proprietor of the Sands in Las Vegas; Curt Swift of the Swift Packing Company, and Bob Strong, who usually is to be found on the list of best dressed men.

The idea of Christmas cards probably was taken from an English schoolboy in the early 19th century of sending "Christmas pieces." These were merely pieces of writing paper embellished with pen flourishes, used by students of the approach of the holidays for carefully written letters exploiting their progress, probably to stimulate Christmas generosity.

But he brooded over the fact that a lot of rich men could afford them too. The result was the overcoat.

In the past, Forrester had out possum trim on men's storm coats and ski parkas, but never did he fool around with something really elegant until he thought of the mink-lined great-coats.

K IN GREATCOAT

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev might have had something to do with it, he admits. Khrushchev has been running around for years in a greatcoat lined with lamb fat to keep out the cold winds out of the Arctic.

Then, of course, there was the memory of the 1920s, when the raccoon coat was the rage.

"Three years ago everybody got excited again about raccoon coats but they found they couldn't sit in a car any more," he said. Forrester said, the coats are just

Announce Hours to Get Benefits

Social Security Office Will Be Open Monday Evenings for Elderly

The Social Security district office, 33 E. Huron St., will be open 4:45 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. every Monday evening for the next three weeks for the convenience of people 65 or over who work during the day.

In announcing the special evening hours, Gilbert G. Gallivan, assistant manager of the Pontiac District office, noted that many older people in the Oakland County area who are still employed do not understand that recent changes in the Social Security law now make it possible for many of them to collect some benefits in addition to their earnings.

Older workers made eligible to collect some social security benefits for the year 1961 may lose some of the payments due them if they do not make application for them before the end of January 1962, Gallivan said.

Unfortunately, Gallivan added, a number of older people continue to think they cannot collect any Social Security benefits at all if their earnings are over $1,200 for the year. This is not true, he emphasized.

In ancient times, mistletoe was regarded as a symbol of hope and peace. When enemies met under the mistletoe, they would drop their arms and embrace. It is thought that the custom of kissing under the mistletoe grew out of this ancient practice.

Soviet Transport Plane Makes Slow Loop Over Station in Arctic

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American ice sealers in the Arctic Ocean saw a Soviet transport plane drifting slowly toward the North Pole, was recently buzzed by a Russian plane, it was learned today.

The two-engine transport made a slow loop around the island and then flew off to the south.

The ice island, with a party of 15 American scientists, Navy men and Eskimos, is located about 200 miles north of Russia's Wrangel Island and about 1,000 miles north of the North Pole.

It is now frozen in for the winter. But if the ice drift follows the wind, the island could be hit by the Soviet transport plane.

Artis II, should reach the island in about a year.

One American scientist who recently left the island said the Russians may have thought there were some spying going on, since Wrangel Island is reported to be the scene of Russian military activity.

The Navy said the buzzing took place Sept. 24, but refused to make any comment on the possible reason for it.

STILL, SOME BUGS

Though some bugs remain to be eliminated from the purifying process, the department expects to begin making engineering designs of the equipment available to the milk industry before year's end. Still, estimates place the cost at $30,000.

Claims Status Enjoyed by Stars Is Undeserved

Social Prominence of Actors Shames Sir Cedric

By PHYLIS RATTLETT
NEW YORK—Sir Cedric Hardwicke began his acting career 56 years ago. Most of those years he enjoyed, because he had pride in his profession. Now he's "up-pilled and ashamed" at the role of actors in modern society.

"My profession has lost a lot by being put in a position of prominence it doesn't deserve," he rapped. "When Marlon Brando gets $1 million for making a movie, you can't help thinking, what does a scientist make in a lifetime? What does a philosopher earn?"

"Actors are not great men, they are only fakers and figures of illusion. It's nice to see a man with an engaging smile, but it doesn't mean that he should get a million dollars. This is idiotic and out of all proportion—it is unhealthy for my profession and unhealthy for the world. It puts an undue value on mediocrity."

Sir Cedric paused, took a moment from a bloody Mary, and went on:

"Of course, there are no real actors any more. There are only sympathetic horses and stars."

"Television has the horses. Television, movies and Broadway all have the stars. Everything is 'starring' someone, and 'co-starring' someone else, and 'co-introducing' a few other people, and 'introducing' a 'future star'."

"Of course," he said, "I'm very flattered to be billed occasionally as a 'star.' But not because it means anything at all. I'm very flattered, at my age, to be engaged for any role—there being so few roles available these days to a man who is too old to play Freud or a bounty hunter or a dope fiend."

Right now Sir Cedric, whose air of irascibility conceals a sense of humor that is pure gold, is engaged in playing an English professor in CBS-TV's "Mrs. G. Goes to College"—"costarring" with "star" Gertrude Berg.

EXPLAINS DEMISE

The series is being filmed in Hollywood ("I don't want to say anything about Hollywood; Fred Allen did it so well when he said they should hang the people on trees and let the oranges go"). But from the West Coast railroad seat, Sir Cedric thinks he can see the cause for the demise of real acting.

"The theater is supposed to be for the enjoyment of acting. That's what it used to be. Now, when you read a review, the last thing they write about is the acting; it's all about the producer, the director, the writer, the sets."

These once behind-the-scenes people have always envied the actors, because acting is what the audience came to see. So now they have their day—the directors and producers—and how do they do it? They pay the actors more, to keep them quiet.

"The old credo of the actor was, look after your performance and your billing and salary will take care of themselves. Now it's the opposite," Sir Cedric gave a distinguished leer. "The first thing we should do to return good actors to the profession is throw all the directors into the sea! Does Artur Hahnstein need a director to tell him how to interpret a sonata? Did Bernhard need a director to tell her how to act?"

Sir Cedric was born in England in 1893, son of a doctor who wanted him to go into the medical profession. At age 6, however, little Cedric became infatuated with a circus clown and wanted to be a comic. At age 12, he began staging elaborate Shakespearean productions in his home town, "proving that juvenile delinquency existed, even in those days."

TWO MISTAKES

Professionally, he made no mistakes. Personally, he made two—the second ending in divorce last week, after 11 years, on grounds of mental cruelty. His wife, in making the charge, told the judge that Sir Cedric had once remarked, "Marriage is for the bourgeoisie."

He cringes now, as he thinks of it. "I'd much rather be accused of hitting her in the face than of giving birth to a dreadful cliché like that. I'm sure I didn't say it. If I did say it, it's the most appalling mental cruelty!"

"But Mary and I are still friendly. I admire her. My two ex-wives are the greatest heroines in history."

It was remarked then, that Sir Cedric seemed a most modest man.

"I have," he smiled graciously, "a great deal to be modest about."

U.S. Is Willing to Sell More Food to Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States says it is willing to arrange to sell more surplus food to Yugoslavia.

Belgrade sources said Thursday that Washington already had agreed to the sale of another 500,000 tons of wheat asked by President Tito. He said the grain was badly needed because of Yugoslav crop failures.

But the State Department said Thursday night the two governments still are discussing terms

Leaves Note for His Wife

Dad Kills Children, Then Himself

GARDEN CITY — Thanks-giving was a tragic day for the Tomkowski family.

Roy Tomkowski, 37, the father, brooded into the early hours of the day following a family argument, wrote a note to his wife, then took three guns to the bedrooms of his two sons and a stepdaughter.

All three children were shot in the head. Two died.

After telephoning a friend of his wife, Tomkowski went to his sons' bedroom and shot himself to death. Tomkowski had told the friend, Miss Mona Layne, 27:

"I have just shot the three children. One of the babies is still crying. I have to go and finish the job. Then I'm going to kill myself."

Two of the children, Deborah Ann Bente, 8, and Darren Tomkowski, 2, died four hours later. Daniel Tomkowski, 3, was in critical condition. Deborah was Mrs. Tomkowski's daughter by a previous marriage.

State, Ontario Set Talk on Bridge Tolls

SARNIA, Ont. —Michigan and Ontario delegations will meet Tuesday to decide whether tolls should be retained on the International Bluewater Bridge between Sarnia, and Port Huron.

Premier John Roberts of Ontario and Gov. Swanson of Michigan will head their delegations.

Both sides reportedly want to continue the tolls, but Michigan has been told it may have to forfeit $5 million in federal funds for road construction if it refuses to comply with a direct toll-free order from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Lung cancer deaths in the U.S. increased from only about 3,900 in 1930 to more than 27,000 in 1953.

Police found Tomkowski's wife, Lilian, 36, at the home of a friend. She said her husband, part owner of a janitorial service, had complained recently of business setbacks and severe headaches.

DIDN'T GO HOME

After leaving her job as a dentist's receptionist Wednesday, Mrs. Tomkowski told police, she didn't go home because her husband "threatened to shoot me if I came home. He also threatened to harm me if I didn't come home."

Her brother, Danny Petroff, took Mrs. Tomkowski to the home of a friend for the night.

During the night, Miss Layne said, Tomkowski called several times wanting to know where his wife was. She said he threatened to kill himself if he hadn't heard from his wife by midnight.

Then, she said, he called back at 3:30 a. m. and told her he had shot the children.

Michigan Women Forgo Turkey in N-Test Protest

DETROIT (AP) — Seven Michigan women passed up turkey for a cup of broth Thursday to emphasize their desire for strong international controls on nuclear testing.

Ruth Rosenwald, a Detroit housewife, enlisted six other Michigan women for the partial fast on Thanksgiving Day. She said it was to call attention to the desirability of transferring control of all atomic weapons to the United Nations.

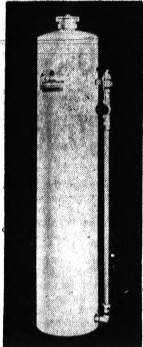

Mrs. Rosenwald fasted 16 days last October as a protest against Soviet atmospheric testing.

She said the women prepared the holiday meals for their families, but passed up turkey themselves.

with a child's crayon was a heart. "I want you to remember this as an arrow through it and a line in your mind as long as you live. (If you love me with all my heart.)" "If your brother would have let me talk to you this would not have happened."

ELECTRIC HEAT

Sometimes home improvements change the heating requirements within a home. When they do, baseboard electric heating units—or one of the other types of electric heating units—can solve the problem simply. They can give you supplemental heat to ease the load on your present heating system, make cold areas warm, eliminate the drafts often found near large window areas.

Electric heating units can be built into any part of a house—or room—without taking away valuable living space. They're safe, simple and compact. Best of all, they put real comfort at your family's fingertips. Simply dial the thermostat and heating begins at once, right where it's wanted. It's so comfortable you'll hardly know it's winter.

These are benefits that mean something. Made possible only by electric heat, they more than make up for the increase in operating costs. Phone or visit your Detroit Edison office for more facts or mail the coupon.

Choose from several types of ELECTRIC HEAT

ELECTRIC HEATING UNITS CAN REPLACE BASEBOARDS.

RADIANT ELECTRIC HEATING CABLE USUALLY GOES IN CEILING.

RADIANT PANELS OR FORCED AIR UNITS GO IN THE WALLS.

HEAT PUMPS CAN BE FOR ONE ROOM OR THE ENTIRE HOME.

Get all these benefits—whether you're buying, building or modernizing

CLEANLINESS . . . The cleanest heating method ever devised, electric heating means walls, draperies, carpets and furniture stay cleaner longer. With electric heat, there's no soot or other products of combustion circulating in the air.

CUSTOM COMFORT . . . Keep one room at 72, another at 65. The temperature can be up in one room, down or completely off in another.

EFFICIENCY . . . Electric heat lets you raise the temperature in one room without firing up the entire heating plant. And with electric heat, all of the heat created is usable heat—none is wasted up a flue.

VERSATILITY . . . Electric heat can replace regular baseboards—can be built into the walls or ceiling. Whether it be one room or the entire home, there is a system to give better heating—electrically.

CARES FOR YOUR . . . Set a dial, then forget it! There are no moving parts at all in radiant systems. Forced air electric heating systems are long-lived, too; they use low-voltage fans. In either type, there's little to wear out, need adjustment or replacement.

SAFETY . . . No combustion process. No worries. Concentrations of superheated air are eliminated. Electric heating systems distribute heat safely, gently.

REDUCED RATE . . . In addition to the money saved on cleaning and decorating, residential customers can now take advantage of a new, lower rate. Just 2¢ per kilowatt-hour when monthly electrical use is over 750 kilowatt-hours. Though other living costs have been rising steadily during the past several years, electricity remains one of your biggest bargains—now more than ever, with this new and lower rate step.

Look for this symbol when you buy. It assures you of safe, dependable installation. For complete information about electric heating, stop in at the Edison office near your home or send in coupon at right for free booklet about electric heating.

Largest Toll of Lives Taken in Traffic; 16 Killed in Fires

By The Associated Press
Traffic fatalities 187
Fires 16
Miscellaneous 187
Total 390

Fatalities on the nation's streets and highways mounted steadily today in the second day of the four-day Thanksgiving weekend. Deaths in traffic totaled 154 since the count of holiday weekend fatalities started at 6 p.m. local time, Wednesday. Fires killed 16 and there were 17 deaths reported in miscellaneous mishaps.

Dying was made hazardous in some areas by rain although most of the country had fair weather.

The head-on crash of a truck and an automobile near Rochester, N.Y., accounted for four traffic fatalities.

Two firemen and a porter died in a fire that swept through a section of the Times Tower building in New York Wednesday night. The 102-hour weekend ends at midnight Sunday.

NO ESTIMATE
The National Safety Council did not make an estimate of traffic fatalities for the period but the council said traffic deaths during a non-holiday, four-day weekend would total 300 at this time of the year.

A survey by The Associated Press made during a 102-hour non-holiday weekend showed 402 traffic deaths, 37 killed in fires and 106 fatalities in miscellaneous mishaps for an over-all total of 605.

His Route: Marquette State Prison

By W. H. TRELOAR
Marquette Mining Journal
Written For The AP
MARQUETTE — It was 3 in the afternoon. The slanting rays of a November sun sliced diagonally through the high windows into the subdued light of the cell block in Marquette State Prison.
At an entrance there was the rasping sound of key in lock. Heavy steel doors swung open and Maurice (Al) Brozofsky stepped through.

A lifer in the prison, Brozofsky was on a familiar mission, a voluntary chore that has made him Michigan's — and possibly the nation's — most unusual newspaperboy.

Since 1943 Marquette Prison inmates who subscribe to the Marquette Mining Journal have had their papers brought to their cells at 3 each week day by Brozofsky as part of his own idea of what a cell block hallway should be.

ASKED FOR LETTERS
During National Newspaper Week in October the Marquette Elks Lodge, in cooperation with the Marquette Mining Journal, saluted Marquette newspaperboys and invited Journal subscribers to write letters of appreciation for their newspaperboys.

From inmates of the Marquette Prison came the most heart-warming letter. It read, in part:

"You doubtless have received many letters complimenting the newspaperboys who deliver the Mining Journal, but none of them will describe a newspaperboy as unusual as ours.

"Our newsboy is 68 years old. He has been delivering the Mining Journal for 18 years with never a day off and with never a cent of recompense.

"Our newspaperboy is Maurice Brozofsky, a life-term inmate for more years than we care to enumerate. Yet he is always cheerful, conscientious and reliable."

Brozofsky has a route that takes him from the rotunda, where he picks up his papers, to the prison store, E and C wings of the cell blocks, yard office, athletic office and fire hall.

PERMANENT PASS
He has a permanent "inside" pass which permits him to go through various gates within the walls. There are no trusty privileges attached to the pass. He operates strictly within the confined quarters of the prison.

Brozofsky has been in prison since 1930, having been sentenced from Benzie County for first degree murder. A big man, six feet, one inch, and weighing around 200 pounds, he is cheerful and cooperative. Prison officials have praised his atti-

Kennedy's Budget for '63 Expected to Be in 'Black'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Work on President Kennedy's budget for 1963 is in its final stages and preliminary estimates are that it will be in the "black" by more than $1 billion.

Record tax income of $92 billion — give or take $300 million — is expected for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. Spending for the period is estimated at about $91 billion.

Compared to record peace time spending of $80 billion this year, the figures for 1963 show a deficit, the figures for 1963 show the balanced budget which Kennedy has promised.

Administration sources also disclosed that military spending as now mapped out is likely to be a little under $48.5 billion, compared to $46.85 billion this year. However, a turn for the worse in the East-West conflict could prompt the President to increase planned military outlays.

Jan. 18 has been tentatively set as the day Kennedy will send the budget to Congress.

It will be the first budget Kennedy has prepared from start to finish. During fiscal 1962, which ends June 30, he based his budget on basic figures worked out in the Eisenhower administration. He has promised that, barring any new international crisis requiring a step-up in national security spending, it will be a balanced budget.

As things look now, with many agency programs undecided, there will be only a token revenue excess.

"We're not talking about any billion-dollar surplus," one official commented.

Still to be reviewed by budget Director David E. Bell are spending plans for defense, foreign aid, civil aviation, housing, the Peace Corps, space and health, education and welfare.

Most aspects of these programs will be ironed out in the next three weeks.

Treasury Raises Series H Bond Purchase Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The limit on the amount of Series H savings bonds which can be purchased in one year by a single buyer has been raised from $10,000 to $20,000 by the Treasury.

The announcement Thursday said there has been a growing demand for the bonds from partnerships, corporations, pension funds and other investors. The treasury said 1961 cash sales through October totaled $703 million, up 14 per cent from the $616 million sold through October, 1960.

The bonds have semiannual interest payments and will yield 3.75 per cent interest if held to maturity.

Card Parties Planned by Day School Mothers

quist and Mrs. Howard Schuneman of Bloomfield Hills. The tollies for the Dec. 5 affair were made by members of the school's art class.

Many homes will be opened Tuesday, Dec. 5, by the Mothers' Club of Bloomfield Country Day School for various benefit card games with brunch, luncheon or dinner. Prizes will be featured at the gatherings. Proceeds from last year's benefit bought chairs for the school.

Mrs. Earle MacPherson is chairman of the "Bonus Bridge," assisted by Mrs. Read Jenkins, Mrs. Robert C. Vandekloos is prizes chairman, and Mrs. Arthur J. Brandt Jr., telephone chairman.

Mrs. Vandekloos has invited Mrs. MacPherson, Mrs. Edward S. Wellock and Mrs. John B. Poole to bring friends to her home for luncheon and cards.

Another luncheon will be at the home of Mrs. Jenkins who has invited Mrs. William I. Denman Jr. and Mrs. Marie A. Davey to be cohostesses at her home. Guests will include Mrs. Douglas Fuller, Mrs. Harry Fitch, Mrs. Robert Curcun, Mrs. Donald C. Cochran, Mrs. Daniel O'Connor, Mrs. Hollis Jenkins and Mrs. Gerald Joynt. Also attending will be Mrs. Howard C. Hamilton, Mrs. George B. Hilton, Mrs. C. W. Whaling, Mrs. M. D. Plankell, Mrs. Loren Dahl, Mrs. W. B. Booth and Mrs. Donald L. Tully.

Mrs. John E. Blomquist of Hamilton Road has invited a group for 11 a.m. brunch. Bridge will be played during the afternoon. Mrs. George C. Booth, Mrs. Paul McKenney, Mrs. George Lyons, Mrs. Gilbert F. Richards, Mrs. Wright Tidwell and Mrs. Theodore O. Antenna will be among the guests.

AT COUNTRY CLUB

At Oakland Hills Country Club Mrs. James H. McPhail will be entertaining for lunch. She has asked her mother Mrs. Garnet Dempsey and daughter-in-law Mrs. Walter S. McPhail to assist her. A large group, five tables, will be present. Among guests will be Mrs. Edgar Guest Jr., Mrs. Lawrence Norton, Mrs. J. L. Newnam, Mrs. Chester A. Cahn and Mrs. Stephen Goodale Jr. Also attending will be Mrs. Richard A. Fischer, Mrs. George R. Fluher, Mr. Morton vonEckstein, Mrs. George Clelland, Mrs. John Murphy, Mrs. Walter Eckbert, Mrs. William Rex and Mrs. Philip R. Flinders.

and Mrs. Walter Schoenrock, will be Mrs. Charles Master of Lahser Road.

Fathers will join some of the groups, many of which will feature dinner parties.

The Donald A. Nicholles, East Iroquois Road, will entertain at dinner and bridge for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Backstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stark, Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Michal, Mr. and Mrs. Dayton O. Slater and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Wild, Bloomfield Glens, will entertain for dinner and bridge. These guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. John McBride and Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Lambert.

Others planning parties and assisting with the benefit are Mrs. J. P. Judd, Mothers' Club president, and Mrs. John M. Booth, Mrs. William F. Ploch Jr., Mrs. George Richman, Mrs. Earle S. LeMessurier, Mrs. Ralph L. Polk Jr., Mrs. Drew C. Hamilton, Mrs. Seamon Knudsen, Mrs. J. Curtis Willson, Mrs. Charles L. Bricker and Mrs. Nathan Shaye.

Tour N.Y. Over the Holidays

Touring New York State over the Thanksgiving Holidays are Richard F. Johnson of Drayton Plains and his bride, the former Elizabeth Alice Kluk of Highland Park.

The newlyweds were honored at a reception and open house Sunday in the home of the bridegroom's parents, the Elmer and Jewella of Drayton Plains. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Kay Hess and the late Anthony Kluk of Detroit. News were spoken Nov. 6 before Rev. J. L. Thompson in the Aldersgate Methodist Church, Toledo, Ohio. Beatrice Burri and Jack Burridge were ushers.

The couple attend Wayne State University evenings and will reside in Detroit.

Making an abstract stylized pattern with equipment that was bought from the proceeds of last year's benefit are Bloomfield Country Day School students (from left) Barbara Jenkins of Kennebec Court, Lorna Richman of Ottawa Drive and Phyllis Denman of Birmingham. The school equipment fund will again benefit from this year's parties.

Big Doings Liven Up MSU Days

By DON BRAUNAGEL

Since the two teams of "doctors" from Minnesota and Purdue cured the epidemic of Rose Root Fever that was sweeping the campus, Michigan State University students have returned to more normal activities.

Two local beauties received some royal honors. Dorothy Dreyer, sophomore from Birmingham, was one of the ten finalists for Homecoming Queen, thereby becoming a member of the queen's court.

Ann Pirochla, senior, of Shimonas Road, was chosen from 41 girls as the National Rose of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity.

Miss Pirochla is also a member of Tower Guard, campus women's honorary, and has a 3.87 (A-) grade average.

Another Pontiac charmer, Bonnie Marlowe of Mohawk Road, a freshman, combined poise and dancing talent to win one of eight spots in the U-Bettes, the campus precision dancing group.

IN 'BORN YESTERDAY'

In the recent University Players' production of the famous Broadway hit "Born Yesterday," Pamela Dee Roberts, freshman, of Rochester, played the manicurist.

Carol Cohen, junior, of Birmingham, was named decorations chairman of the 1962 J-Hop, the biggest dance of the school year.

And, to prove that all the campus news doesn't come from the distaff side, two Birmingham males were named to the All-University Student Government executive cabinet.

Kent Cardell, junior, was picked as head of elections, and Doug Danziger soph, was chosen executive secretary.

Now taking their traditional Thanksgiving vacation, all MSU students realize that two things aren't far away: Christmas and final exams. The first is always welcome; the second isn't.

String Quartet to Perform at Oakland Center

In connection with the Michigan State University Oakland Community Arts Council lecture-concert series the Stanley Quartet will appear at 8:15 p.m. Thursday at the university's Oakland Center.

The chamber music group's members Gilbert Ross and Gustave Rousseels, violinists; Robert Courte, violist; and Jerome Jelenc, cellist; are on the University of Michigan music department faculty. They have had extensive concert experience in the United States and Europe. Selections by Haydn, Beethoven and Ravel have been chosen for the program.

The quartet, organized in 1949, was named in honor of the late Albert A. Stanley, University of Michigan music professor from 1889 to 1922.

Series tickets for performances by Charles Laughton, Jeanne Toulre and the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra at Pontiac Northern High School and ten other on-campus events may be obtained from the office of the Dean of Students, MSUO.

Adult and student tickets for the quartet concert will be available at the door.

Casualty Ask Friend for Tax

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: I work in midtown where many of the large department stores are located. Very often a friend of mine who is married and does not get to the stores too often, asks me to pick up a certain item for her that she has seen advertised in the newspapers.

I am only too glad to do her the favor. She always gives me the money in advance. However, there is a tax on these purchases which she does not include and which I have to pay for out of my own pocket. Up to now I haven't asked her for it as I didn't want to seem mercenary.

But since she asks me to pick up things for her quite often, these amounts, although small, do add up. Would it be proper to ask her for it, and if so, what can I say without seeming cheap?

A: First of all, get the thought of the word "cheap" out of your mind and tell her frankly that you hate to have to ask her for the tax but that while they are trifles each time, they do mount up. Any fair-minded person would not want you to pay them out of your own pocket.

Q: Is it wrong for a man to tell a woman friend that her tip is showing, or is it best to let it go unnoticed? Might this cause her embarrassment?

A: If it is very conspicuous he could in a casual way tell her so that she could fix it. If it is not too noticeable it would be best to say nothing.

How to eat spaghetti and other difficult foods are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Table Rules of Importance." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin, to cover cost of handling, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Q: My mother and I live together. She is a widow. Will you please tell me the proper way to sign Christmas cards to people we both know?

A: To those who call your mother by first name, sign the cards "From Mary (your mother's name first) and Jane." To those who do not call her by her first name, you write "From Mary Smith and Jane."

Details for announcing the engagement are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to cover cost of handling, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Church Unit Sets Christmas Party

Miriam Circle of the St. John Lutheran Church's Augustana Lutheran Church Women plan a Christmas party at the church Dec. 19. A donation for a needy family basket will be taken at the cooperative dinner.

Mrs. Philip Wargelin of Voorhes Road was hostess to the group Tuesday, assisted by Mrs. Samuel McMurray, Mrs. Theodore Fauble led the Bible study.

Mrs. A. James Stirling will entertain her regular bridge group for luncheon at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. For years Mrs. E. M. Gregory Jr., Mrs. John E. Swegles, Mrs. Harold Kerhway, Mrs. George E. Van, Mrs. William E. Fitzgerald, Mrs. James Gagne and Mrs. Tom Swegles have enjoyed "bridge day" together.

Entertaining a foursome, Mrs. R. J. Langston, Mrs. E. S. Phelps, Mrs. James Gilchrist

Holiday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Schultz of Preston Avenue were the Ben Courtneys of Norton Avenue, the Clyde Courtneys of Draper Avenue with her mother, Mrs. George Akred of Royal Oak, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Nicholas with their son Jeff of Preston Avenue.

Burt Beland, Eastern Michigan University senior, is spending the holiday weekend at the home of his parents, the Joseph G. Belands of Ottawa Drive. His sister Barbara is preparing to enter Ferris Institute as a medical technology student early next month.

Mrs. Beverly Stormer had Thanksgiving dinner with her parents, bringing her children Patti Ann, Shannon and Kelly. Barbara Benscoter and Joan Wagley joined them for dinner.

Among out-of-town guests at the Cumming-Fisher wedding Saturday were Shirley Keeter, Isabel Welsensel, Jane Hermesen and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kline, all of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Bennett (Judith Cohassey) of Rochester are parents of a son, Robert Donald, born Nov. 20 in Pontiac General Hospital.

Grandparents are the Frederick J. Cohasseys of Exmoor Road, Waterford Township and the Joseph L. Bennets of Illinois Avenue.

Word has been received of the birth of a son, Paul Johnson III, to Pfc. and Mrs. Paul Johnson Jr. (Barbara Brownell) of Muldraugh, Ky., Oct. 19 in Ireland Army Hospital, Fort Knox, Ky.

The Ralph R. Brownells of East Tennyson Avenue and the senior Paul Johnsons of Madison Avenue are the baby's grandparents.

The Gerald R. Mannings (Jane McGuire) of Houston, Tex., announce the birth of a daughter, Sheila Marie, on Nov. 8.

Grandparents are Mrs. James H. McGuire of Golf Drive and Vice-Adm. John J. Manning of Washington, D.C.

The Harry H. Pattisons of Orchard Lake had as Thanksgiving dinner guests Mrs. Elsworth Stephens, Harry J. Pattison, the Richard J. Pattisons and children Dee Ann and Donald also of Orchard Lake.

Eva Walling of West Iroquois Road had turkey and trimmings with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Swanninger of Lansing.

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Ekelund and daughter Mary Sue of Ottawa Drive were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Skillman and children Christopher, Tony, Amy, Stephen and Timothy of South Lake Angelus Shores for Thanksgiving dinner.

The Skillmans were also hosts to the Bruce H. Smiths and sons, David, Michael and Gregg of Birmingham, and the G. Wellington Smiths of Franklin.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was practically engaged to a college boy of 19. I am 16. Everything was going along great until I found out he had been seeing two other girls. I asked him to explain himself but he didn't seem to want to, so I told him we were through.

I thought sure he'd call me up and apologize, but he hasn't called me yet, and it's been over two months. Should I write him a letter and ask him to call me? I think he really wants me back but has too much pride to call.

DEAR CONFUSED: I doubt if he has too much pride. He's probably having too much fun. Don't write him. Write him off.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I dine with friends, he will frequently say, "Aren't you going to eat your potato?" Or "If you don't want to finish your dessert, I'll take it." He is always finishing up someone's salad or steak, and behaving like a human garbage pail in general. He is an excellent cook with a good family background, so don't tell me he doesn't know better. I don't mind his cleaning up my plate at home, but when we are in public it becomes embarrassing. How can I stop him?

EMBARASSED: Tell this "vacuum cleaner with teeth" that unless he stays out of other people's plates, you'll refuse to eat out with him.

Girl Scout Leaders to Hold Workshop

Girl Scout leaders will attend a Christmas demonstration workshop Monday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Northern Oakland Girl Scout office on Franklin Boulevard.

Ron Zarem of Detroit will instruct the making of chenille trees, wreaths and poodles, feather trees and honeycomb wax candles. Craft kits will be available for these and many other items.

The public is invited to attend the sessions.

DEAR ABBY: Our hearts are breaking with grief. Our beautiful 16-year-old daughter ran away and got married. When they came to tell us we said things in our hurt and anger that we meant at the time, but regret now. They had promised they would wait until she graduated from high school. We had so much faith in them that we kept our home open to this man. We liked him so much. He is over 21. Now we don't even know where our daughter is. She has quit school. They won't even let us apologize. The boy called and told us to stop trying to get in touch with them because they never want to see us again. We just want to know that our daughter is well and happy. Sixteen is so young. What can we do?

HEART-BROKEN PARENTS: DEAR PARENTS: Wait. Your daughter will call you.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

MR. AND MRS. BARNEY J. WYMAN

Observing their golden wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving Day were Mr. and Mrs. Barney J. Wyman of Oneida Road who were feted at a dinner in Temple Beth Jacob. Mr. Wyman is founder of the Wyman Furniture Company. The couple came to Pontiac from Flint in 1923. They are parents of Mrs. Leo (Charlotte) Goldberg, Boston, Mass., formerly of Ann Arbor; George, who is with his father in the family's business; and Morrey, serving with the Air Force at Wichita, Kan. The Wymans have five grandchildren. Relatives from Washington, D.C., Peterborough, Ontario, Canada, Chicago, Detroit, Flint, Toledo and Youngstown, Ohio and California were among the more than 150 guests celebrating the occasion.

Dr. Kontz Aims 'Fears'

November speaker to the Golden Age Group, sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association of Pontiac, is Dr. Emil Kontz, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church.

His topic for the second group meeting at noon Tuesday will be "How to Live With the Fears of the Aged." Mrs. Amelia Ball and Mrs. Mary Todd will give readings. The first group heard him Nov. 21.

Each group numbers more than 60 women between the ages of 65 and 100 years. Mrs. Arthur Sweet is golden age

Conversation Topics Generally Seasonal

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
One of those fashion magazines we women read avidly in a desperate attempt to know whether we are going to have to chop off everything in last year's wardrobe or let out seams (it always seems to be one or the other) has a regular feature called "People Are Talking About..."

For years this feature has held a strange fascination for me, because nobody I talk to ever talks about "People Are Talking About..."

I never even overhear people talking about what they are supposed to be talking about.

The talk I hear is always seasonal. In the fall I know women will be talking about what a relief it is to have the kids back in school, how busy they are with club work, what they are doing in the way of redecorating and clothes.

The men will be talking about football and politics and hunting.

In the winter the women will be talking about Christmas shopping, entertaining, how their children are getting along in school—and clothes.

Men will be talking about bills.

In the spring women will be talking about yards, redecorating, vacation plans—and clothes.

In the spring men will be talking about income taxes.

In the summer women will be talking about where they went on their vacations, how glad they will be to have school start—and clothes.

Men will be talking about fishing or golf or baseball or boating.

No matter what the season both men and women talk about frightening headlines and argue politics.

But none of these items ever gets into "People Are Talking About..." Maybe the editors of fashion magazines don't talk to anybody but each other.

The Question Box

Exercise for Every Need

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Q. "I am wondering if there are exercises a woman can take while she is pregnant and afterward to preserve her bustline. I do not intend to nurse my baby."

A. Perhaps most important of all is the correct fit in a brassiere which is especially designed to support the increased weight of the bust. Exercises which develop the chest muscles reinforce the bustline. You can take these. Some doctors allow some patients to swim during the earlier months. A y-a-y doctor should say what type of exercise you can safely take.

Be sure about the bras you wear. That is the important thing! Lubrication may also help by keeping the skin of the bust pliable. Apply a good body lotion very gently at night.

Q. "I am 13 and have a perfect 34-34-34 figure. I don't want to sound conceited, but my bust is a perfect 34, my waist a perfect 24 and my hips a perfect 34, and I am not overweight. The trouble is I have a 26-inch tire around my middle. I can hold it in when I stand, but when I sit down it pops out. I have to keep my arms folded all the time, and this doesn't help much. Will exercise reduce this tire?"

A. Yes. You can make wonderful improvement with exercise. Stand tall, feet separated, arms overhead. Bend forward, trying to touch the fingertips to your left toe, or as near as possible. Raise the trunk and arms, pulling back to the right. One time, bending and raising trunk.

After a few times bend forward trying to touch fingertips to right toe. Raise trunk and arms and pull back to the left. Don't keep your arms folded. You will look like you have a tummy ache. I will write more about this figure fall tomorrow.

Q. "Please answer me in your column. As you will see, I have a very small bust. I am 13 years old. My measurements are bust 28 inches, waist 25 and hips 33. I am going to the ninth grade and, as you know, with a small measurement, I am teased very much and feel like an undersized runt, which I am. Please give some of your best exercises so that I can acquire a bust like my girl friends at school have."

A. Don't let the teasing bother you because you will have the last laugh. Girls vary in the age at which the bust develops. However, this is a good exercise!

Stand tall. Bend your elbows and place the palms of your hands together. Press the hands together hard, one palm pressing against the other. Hold for a few moments. Relax and continue. The palms should be just a little below shoulder height.

If any of my readers would like to have my new booklet, "Your Bust," which gives you information about care of the bust during pregnancy, brassieres, stretch marks, exercises for increasing the bust measurements, and lots of other information, you will find valuable, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Grandma's Technique Was Best

CHICAGO (UPI) — A home laundry specialist advises going back to some of grandma's techniques for washing duries — including bath towels, baby's socks, underwear and sheets.

Mrs. Jessie Cartwright contends that housewives have forgotten how to wash these items in the course of learning all about washing nylons, dacrons, treated cottons and stuffed toys.

As a result, the everyday clothes and linens come out of the automatic washer gray, yellow, spotted, stained, creased and dingy," she told delegates to the recent National Home Laundry Conference.

Mrs. Cartwright director of home economics for a laundry equipment manufacturer, suggests a return to these time-tested principles for washing duries:

- Sort white clothes from colored.
- Use cleaning fluid to remove grease and other non-water soluble stains and spots.
- Cold-soak stained articles before putting in hot water.
- Rub heavy soil marks and lines with a detergent before washing.
- Wash heavily-soiled greasy work clothes separately for about five minutes in hot water with sufficient detergent.
- Use hot water, at least 140 degrees.
- Scrub and soak baby's socks in bleach before washing.
- Use soft water or, at least, soften the rinse.
- Soak baby clothes and diapers in cool water before washing in hot water, then rinse and rinse in soft or softened water, using no highly alkalized solutions, to avoid diaper rash.

Have You Tried This?

Frozen Juice Cans Good to Bake Brown Bread

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor
Editor's Note: In looking over the recipe, we have on the basis of readers' requests, have an abundance of dessert recipes for main dishes and side dishes. If you need a recipe, we will send it to you if you send us a self-addressed envelope with your name and address on it.

If you don't have a good recipe for a baked brown bread, try this one from Mrs. Herbert Treddler. It's a most flavorful bread that is good all by itself, with butter or with cream cheese.

Mrs. Treddler is active in church work. She loves to garden and has a flair for the artistic.

BAKED BROWN BREAD
By Mrs. Herbert Treddler
1 1/2 cups seedless raisins
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 tablespoon shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
Grated rind of 1 orange
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda

1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons molasses

Add boiling water to raisins and let cool. Mix shortening, sugar and egg. Add to cooled raisins. Add orange rind and sifted dry ingredients.

Four into 3 number 2 tin cans or 4 smaller cans. Little frozen juice cans make attractive loaves. Do not grease any of them. Bake largest loaves 1 hour at 350 degrees; smaller loaves will take less time.

Remove from oven. Cool 10 minutes. Run a knife inside the can around the bread to loosen it. Let bread cool in cans.

You may reduce the oven temperature to 325 after the first 10 minutes of the top of the can. This will prevent the raisins from getting hard or burning.

Bowling's a Real Ball

By SHARON KAY RITCHIE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The first step usually sets the pace for the entire delivery.

The best bowlers concentrate mightily on the first step, called the pushaway. This is so important it often has been called "the point of no return."

California All Events champion Ruby Chong, who stands only five feet, three inches and weighs less than 100 pounds, says the error most bowlers make is in not moving the ball soon enough. They wait until the second or third step before starting to swing, then try to force the ball through by sheer arm power. This ruins timing.

Start on the right foot, if right-handed.

Don't push the ball violently. The pushaway should be a smooth, outward motion that carries the ball in front of you to a distance equal to the first step.

Keep the ball a little to the right to avoid bruising your leg. Find a comfortable spot between the waist and shoulders to hold the ball.

Don't hold it too high. This will cause the right shoulder to drop, throwing you off balance. Synchronize the movement — right foot and arm out at the same time.

The ball moves past the right leg and descends into the backswing on the second step.

NEXT: Second Step.

To Dry Hair Fast

(UPI)—Hair can be dried in 10 minutes with a tank vacuum. To clean the air hose, reverse it for one minute. Then wrap a towel around the head, leaving an end of the towel open so the hose can be put in to blow air through. When hair is partly dry, remove the towel and spot dry wet areas.

Farm Home Setting for Wedding

The remodeled farm home of the William Looneys on Dutton Road was the setting for the Saturday marriage and reception of Leah Jean Joughin of Liberty Street to Jack W. Nicholas, Saturday evening.

Kneeling on satin pillows, the couple pledged candlelight vows to Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer of Grace Lutheran Church at an improvised altar banked with white snapdragons and carnations and red roses.

Preceding the bride down the colonial stairway were maid of honor Susanne Laury and her sister Joanne who was bridesmaid—wearing red velvet dresses, they carried white fur muffs topped with red roses and white carnations.

The bride, daughter of the Earl R. Joughin of Morenci, wore white chiffon velvet styled with molded bodice and softly pleated skirt ending in a short train. Finger-ring veiling was fitted to a small crown. White miniature rosebuds and lilies of the valley rested on her white prayer book.

Forrest Nicholas, the bridegroom's cousin, carried the rings.

Jeffrey R. Nicholas stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Nicholas of Preston Street, Waterford. Douglas Sato ushered.

The bride is a graduate of Highland Park General Hospital School of Nursing and her husband attended Concordia College, Milwaukee, Wis. Returning from a Northern Michigan honeymoon, they will live in Pontiac.

Yellow roses complemented Mrs. Joughin's dress of peacock blue silk shantung. The bride of the bridegroom chose ivory silk brocade with magenta accessories and corsage of magenta roses.

Sharon Moore Is Wed to Thomas G. Wallace

MRS. THOMAS G. WALLACE

Wedding vows of Sharon Ann Moore to Thomas G. Wallace of Detroit were repeated to Rev. Francis J. O'Donnell Saturday morning in St. Michael Church.

After the reception in the American Legion Hall, Auburn Heights, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Chicago.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Nuelia Moore of East Russell Street and the late Samuel J. Moore. The George Wallace of Detroit and bridesmaids Marjorie Wallace, Detroit, and Cecilia Darimont and Mary Jo McBrearty.

Applique of Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls accented the bride's white satin gown at the Sabrina neckline and on the full skirt which fell into a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of silk tulle, was fitted to a jeweled crown. She carried white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Yellow carnations complemented emerald green peau de soie dresses and matching bow hats for maid of honor Beverly Lazarek of Detroit and bridesmaids Marjorie Wallace, Detroit, and Cecilia Darimont and Mary Jo McBrearty.

Flower girls Margaret Emmons of Droy Plains and Deborah King wore green peau de soie.

On the esquire side were Joseph Waugh, best man, and John J. Schaefer, Donald Crawford and Thomas Glachino, all of Detroit.

The new Mrs. Wallace is a graduate of Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital School of Nursing. Her husband who attends Lawrence Institute of Technology is affiliated with Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity. White cymbidium orchids accented Mrs. Moore's imported Indian silk chiffon sheath dress and a blue sheath of peau de soie for the mother of the bridegroom.

For a private hideaway, tucked a latex foam chaise or love seat in your bedroom. Add a good lamp and a small bookcase to provide a spot of peace and quiet away from the mainstream of family living.

'Snippy' Daughter Is Afraid of Mistakes

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Yesterday my 16-year-old daughter brought home two girls who work on a school committee with her. I made cocoa and sandwiches. But when I took the tray upstairs, my daughter said, "Go away, mother, until I let you know we want it." Her tone was so snippy I can't get over it. It is this snippiness toward me that gets me down. Later, I tried to discuss it with her and got called "impossible" for my pains.

ANSWER: At her age didn't your mother call you "snippy" or its equivalent too?

Were you "snippy"? Think back. Maybe you got called "ungrateful" one day in a store for sneering haughtily at a brown winter overcoat your mother wanted you to choose. Can you recall your sense of amazement at this accusation? Try and recall it.

If you do, it will remind you.

that your haughty "snippiness" contained no contempt for your mother at all. It had nothing whatever to do with a wish to embarrass or humiliate her. It had to do with the strain of maintaining your preference for the coat she disapproved of.

You were so scared that you would do the wrong thing and select an impractical coat that your fear came in the sound of "snippiness."

Yesterday your daughter sneezed at your refreshments because she wasn't sure of the proper time to serve them. As you felt obliged to assume a knowledge of coats you didn't possess, she felt obliged to pretend to a social know-how before her friends that she doesn't possess.

Parents see contempt for them in their adolescents' snippiness because disrespect was all their own parents could see in their young, arrogant expressions of uncertainty.

She Deserves Sterling... for Serving!!

ON DELAYED TRAIN—Sgt. Edwin C. Macrossin of San Antonio, Tex., walks from the train with his children at Frankfurt, West Germany, after arrival from Berlin. This train was delayed some 15 hours at Marienborn, East Germany, by Soviet troops when they were denied permission to board the train to seek out an East German youth who stowed away on it. When the stowaway was ordered off the train, Soviets allowed the train to continue its trip. Children are George, 11; Patricia, 8; and Janice, 5.

Gen. Russel Hartle Succumbs in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man who led America's first troops into England in World War II is dead.

Major Gen. Russel P. Hartle, 72, of Hagerstown, Md., died in Walter Reed Medical Center here Thursday. He had been hospitalized earlier this year at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Tex., after surgery for a blood clot.

A veteran of 36 years in the Army, Hartle was given command of the 34th National Guard Division shortly after Pearl Harbor. It was the first Army unit to leave for Europe.

Cooking Kit Forgotten

PESHASTIN, Wash. (UPI) — When loggers cut down a tree recently on the Sybern Tree Farm near here, they found two frying pans, seven rusty tin plates and four tin cups, wired together and attached to a limb. A forester estimated earlier this year at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Tex., after surgery for a blood clot.

There are about 40,000 post offices in the U.S.

PCH Debaters Rank 5th Place

By WADE WILKINSON
Pontiac Central High School's debate team placed fifth in the first Saginaw Valley tournament held last week Thursday at Saginaw High. They lost six debates and won six.

For the last four years the Central debate team has won the Saginaw Valley championship. To retain this standing, a lot of hard work must be done by the team members before the three remaining tournaments.

The first affirmative team for the coming tournament will be made up of Carol Chappell and Bill Graves, and the first negative team will be made up of Andrea Tynan and Steve Wyman.

Mock Elections Hit at Waterford

Senior Class Nominates
Flirts, Wits, Athletes,
Suggests Motto, Colors

By MARY KAY STREZELECKI
Mock elections were held this week in the senior home rooms at Waterford Township High School.

Nominations of senior class students are in the categories of class flirt, most dependable, wit-fiest, most all around, friendliest, most valuable, most courteous, most likely to succeed, most athletic and most talented.

Suggestions have already been made for the Class of '62's motto, colors, flower and song. Results of the two elections will be announced in the near future.

Headlining the news also has been the Girls Athletic Association. "Pops' Night," an annual event, will take place on Wednesday in the Waterford gymnasium. This night is dedicated to the fathers of the GAA members.

Fathers are invited to spend an active evening with their daughters playing basketball and volleyball. If the girls' father is unable to attend for some reason, the girl may bring her uncle, some other close relative or a teacher.

Girls are requested not to bring a boyfriend.

Full Speed's Pace Oxford High Staff Sets for Annual

By ANN PICKFORD
When there's a newspaper deadline to meet and picture schedules to make for the yearbook, Oxford High School's journalism department is going full speed.

The reason school papers made its October debut on yellow paper with blue ink. The November edition is black and white, but its size more than makes up the difference. For one dime a student can buy a lot of newspaper at O. H. S.

The 1962 Wildcat Yearbook is going to be pretty extraordinary this year too.

'Good Morning Glory' Cast at West Bloomfield

By BONNIE DISTEL
"Good Morning Glory," to be presented in the West Bloomfield High School gymnasium, Wednesday, at 8 o'clock, will be given by the Senior class.

The setting is a small-town story about a group of Harvard College men who come to this town to get summer jobs, and when college men meet local girls, things begin to happen.

Cheryl Froyling and Warren (Tex) Hall have been selected to play lead roles in the play. The three act comedy, "Good Morning Glory," by Lawrence G. Worcester will be under the main direction of Mrs. Patricia Shaw.

RACK IN ACT
Both Cheryl and Tex are old hands at acting; they gained successful stage experience last year when they won roles in the Junior Class play, "Bull in a China Shop." Cheryl will be playing Glory, and Tex will play the role of Hal.

Other cast members are Melinda Simpson playing Clara, Gayle Prost as Eva, Diane Leber, Maxy; Nancy Houff, Florabelle; Bonnie Pfister, Tony; and Sue Jenkins, Mrs. N. C. Flewinger. Bill Queen will play Joey, Bill Lemay, Frankie; and Pete Vassier, Howard.

CAST UNDERSTUDIES
Understudies for the women are Juli Ely, and Cheryl Broome. John Smith was selected as the men's understudy.

Back stage help such as make-up, costumes, stage manager, light and sound crew, prompters, and student director are yet to be announced by Mrs. Shaw.

Mrs. Shaw announced that the make-up crew would consist of Bonnie Albertson, Connie Albertson, Mary Ann Stankar, Ann Kirk, Sharon McKim, Faye Langdon and Jeanne Simper. Prompters will be Judy Law, Juli Ely, Cheryl Broome and Candy Hughes.

Mike Bridgers was chosen to be the student director, and Stan Pruse and Alan Akertly will take care of lights and sound.

Among the members of the stage crew is Gino Santia, Stage Manager, John Smith, Bill Vassier, and Roger Van Alstine.

Replaces Annual Christmas Program Fall Concert's Bloomfield First

By CLAIRE PERLMAN
The musical talented students of Bloomfield Hills High School presented the first annual Autumn Thanksgiving Concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

This was the first Autumn concert to be presented at BHHS and replaced the annual Christmas concert. Proceeds will be contributed to a fund to purchase an organ for the theater being built in the new auditorium to the high school.

Main feature of the scenery was a horn of plenty, overflowing with gigantic fruits and vegetables. Unusual and varied lighting effects completed the setting.

OPENS CONCERT
Opening the concert the BHHS played two selections, "Here Comes the Band" and "Lustspiel."

The mixed choir then began the choral presentations with "Happy Wanderer," featuring Buff Russell as soloist.

"The Jills," nine girls consisting of Maureen Saunders, Pamela Marsh, Cheryl Patterson, Marge Noshay, Sue Muir, Sandy Sarnes, and Barbara Lundy, were featured in "Autumn Serenade" and "One Kiss From New Moon" with Barbara Lundy as soloist.

"Dry Bones" was sung by the mixed chorus and enacted by "skeletons" Judy Geyman, Becky Hawkins and Marcie Merrill. Dennis Eynon as soloist along with the Jills presented "Someday." A tribute to Thanksgiving was given by Carol Fullerton in the selection "Bless This House" and the concert ended with the sound of a Netherland folk song, "A Prayer of Thanksgiving."

Members of the senior class are publishing the Blue Book, a telephone directory for the students at BHHS.

Avalanche Staff Edits Northern '62 Yearbook

BY PAM MORRIS
Typewriters and cameras have been clicking this week at Pontiac Northern High School.

Editor-in-Chief for this year is Susan Jones, senior.

Section heads are as follows: Mary Klokka, Organizations; April Krupa, Faculty; Jim Hunt, Sports; and Linda Larson, seniors. These major section heads are all seniors at PNH.

New York City Opera Company's version of the "Mikado" by Gilbert and Sullivan. Sandra Sommerville and Melvin Larimer chartered the trip.

Kettering Hears Holiday Show

Reasoning Class Gives Thanksgiving Note Via Public Address System

By SHERYL LATHIGH
In tribute to the Thanksgiving holiday, the reasoning class of Waterford Kettering High School presented a Thanksgiving program over the public address system, Wednesday during the sixth hour.

During the program, a "Man on the street" interview was conducted with members of the student body, concerning their interpretation of the true meaning of Thanksgiving and their activities on this day.

In a self written skit, Bradley Chase, Kirk Jacober, Jerry Johns, Tom Jones, Tom McKinnon, and Nancy McLaughlin portrayed typical high school students conversing during a lunch hour. The students were questioned as to what their opinions of Thanksgiving were, and for what they were thankful, by a foreign exchange student.

The Waterford Kettering A Capella choir sang the Netherlands folk song "We Gather Together," and an original prayer, written by the reasoning class, was presented during the program.

This was the first all school assembly to take place over the P.A. system.

Wednesday evening from 8 to 11 o'clock, the Sophomore class of Waterford Kettering sponsored the dance "Moonlight Cruise."

Popular records provided the entertainment while school clothes were in order. The dance, for fifty cents each, offered free refreshments to the guests.

General chairman of "Moonlight Cruise" was Fred Lobbi.

'Coward' Scribe Turns Down Chance to Do the Twist

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The piano player hung from a rafter with one arm and leg while he waved the other arm and leg wildly as if he were being stung by a thousand bees.

MOVING FORM
The place was the home of that new dance craze, "the twist," where beatniks and cafe society notables bump hips in a new and moving form of democracy—very moving.

Shirley had come to New York to get a little Big City background atmosphere for her next picture.

But like most visitors from Hollywood—or Peoria—the first place she wanted to see was the twist.

At midnight the club resembled a cross between the Long Branch saloon on pay night and a hospital, psychopathic ward during manic hour.

EVERYTHING WENT
Everything went—from sweat shirt to silk gown.

The band blared "Irresistible You" to a mad jungle beat. The patrons were screaming and jabbering as if 10,000 biting ants were crawling over their bodies and they were trying to shake them off. That is the basic move-

"I glubba glubba glubba glubba before," said Shirley, as an elderly bald-headed department store owner giggled with a bulging-eyed, teen-age girl, whose long straight hair dangled past her woolly sweater.

"What did you say?" I shouted between cupped hands.

"I said I never saw anything like this before!" Shirley shouted back.

DIDN'T STOP
The ear-cracking noise and the beat of the band went on and on. The packed dancers twisted and twirled like sardines full of pep pills, helpless in the grip of a frenzy that would not let them stop.

ANTS GOT TO ME?
After a while I found I was twitching in my seat in time to the music. Some of the ants must have brushed off and fallen on me. Then I noticed Shirley was twitching too. Some of the ants must have fallen on her.

Shirley looked over at me with a question in her eyes. But I am a bashful coward.

"I'd love to!" I shouted to her. "But I've got the gout. No, not I didn't say. 'Let's get out.' I said I've got the gout!"

LIKE NEVER BEFORE
The bandleader, young Joey

Dee, then stepped over to Shirley. She was on her feet in an instant.

The mob magically cleared a space and Shirley and Dee did "the twist" like it's never been done before.

Shirley's blue eyes flashed, her red hair bounced. For 10 minutes she giggled and jiggled and shook and shimmed while the room rocked with the mob's screams of delight. Finally, exhausted, Shirley waved a "no more" sign at the band and came back to our table.

IT'S COLD, DADDY-O
"You have to be 12 years old to do the twist," she said, and gave a wonderful belly laugh, the kind that takes a man's heart away.

What a sense of fun that girl has!

As we left one of the young beatniks smiled at me and said playfully:

"Better wrap your muffler around tight, Daddy-O. It's cold outside."

Officer Loses Suspects in Junk Yard Accident
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—A policeman lost his suspects in this city when he was caught in a junk pile.

Patrolman Robert O. Bishop chased two youths through a junk yard and across a junk pile. As Bishop descended the junk pile, it descended on him.

When he freed himself, the youths were gone.

Kansas Citizen Shows 'Poor Sportsmanship'

GOODLAND, Kan. (AP)—While writing out a traffic ticket in downtown Goodland Wednesday night, policeman Keith Nagel had his car stolen.

Nagel had alighted from his car, leaving the motor running, to write out the summons. While he was so engaged, someone drove off with the police car. It was found abandoned two hours later on a nearby residential street.

Normal human beings blink their eyes at intervals of from two to 10 seconds, and an average blink lasts about 10 seconds, according to medical measurements.

Army, Navy Get Together on Fashions

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the name of economy the Pentagon will unify some of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps uniforms.

For the same reason, some of the garb worn by women in the Navy, Marine and Air Force also will be standardized.

Anything that tends toward a single service coloration generally sits up opposition from the military.

But presumably the services will still be able to maintain individually on the "unified" uniforms by means of badges and other insignia, particularly on caps.

There will be no change in men's winter uniforms or in summer dress uniforms. Thus, Navy officers still will wear their distinctive summer whites.

6 TYPES STANDARD
In all, the Pentagon has ordered six types of military clothing standardized.

It said it expects to save about $400,000 a year this way by reducing inventories and procurement distribution costs.

The effect will not be immediate, because existing stocks will be issued until they are used.

Find Missing Hunter Dead From Exposure

TROUT LAKE (AP)—The body of 42-year-old Leon Kuberski, a technical sergeant from Klachess Air Force Base who had been missing since Nov. 16, was found today by a search party six miles north of this West Chippewa County community.

Police said the body was found only about 1 1/2 miles northwest of where Kuberski had left his car while hunting with his brother and other companions.

Police said it appeared Kuberski's death was caused by exposure.

A new 45-second radioisotope test developed by researchers at the University of California at Los Angeles may be an important aid in diagnosing stroke-producing disorders.

Like Blasts Extremists, So-Called Super Patriots

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower deplores what he calls "superpatriots" and the recent "rise of extremists" in this country.

He also urged armed forces officers to shun partisan politics.

Among other points covered by Eisenhower in the second of a series of filmed television interviews presented Thursday night over the CBS television network.

1. He learned at the first Geneva summit conference that Nikita Khrushchev, and not Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, was the boss of the Soviet delegation.

2. The Soviet Union would never start a nuclear war because of America's destructive power.

3. Sooner or later the Soviet people will get the word that the free world is against aggression.

4. The foregoing will create pressure inside the Soviet Union for disarmament.

5. The erection of a wall between East and West Berlin is a sign of Soviet weakness.

6. The removal of the body of former Premier Stalin from the tomb in Moscow's Red Square shows Premier Khrushchev is uneasy about something.

In connection with Thanksgiving Day Eisenhower said: "We've got a lot of things to be thankful for. First of all, there's not a war. . . . We are prosperous, we're a free people. . . . We are a people that are respected for our strength and not only our military strength, but economic strength throughout the world."

HITS EXTREMISTS
In discussing extremists the former president said:

"I don't think the United States needs super-patriots. We need patriotism, honestly practiced by all of us, and we don't need these people that are more patriotic than you or anybody else."

His definition of extremists included those who would "go back to eliminating the income tax. . . and the rights of people to unionize. . . (and those) advocating some form of dictatorship."

Slate Hearing on Changes in Vehicle Code

A proposed amendment to the city's motor vehicle operation ordinance has been slated for public hearing at the Nov. 28 City Commission meeting.

The amendment merely incorporates several state laws in the local ordinance. It was introduced at last night's commission meeting by City Atty. William A. Ewart. "It would enable city police to channel such cases directly into municipal court, bypassing the county prosecutor's office," Ewart said.

Also, the amendment places a

$5 fee for towing cars off city streets. For the last few years it has been enforced as a resolution passed by the commission.

The laws prohibit falsifying information on drivers' licenses, using licenses belonging to other persons, and makes the lender of a license liable as well as the user.

Scientists Pick 3 Candidates for First U.S. Orbital Shot

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—U.S. scientists have picked three astronauts, including the nation's No. 1 spaceman, as candidates for America's first attempt to rocket a man into orbit around earth.

United Press International learned that the team includes "veteran" spaceman Alan B. Shepard.

and Jr., two-time runner-up John H. Glenn Jr. and comparatively little-known M. Scott Carpenter.

One of the three will do a slivry spacewalk within the next few weeks and climb aboard a modified war rocket, to be whirled three times around earth within 4 1/2 hours.

If all goes as planned, the free world's first manned orbital trip will be "in between" in comparison with the epic space voyages of Russian Cosmonauts Yuri Gagarin and Cherman Titov.

Gagarin went down in the history books as the first spaceman when he soared once around earth April 12 aboard the "Vostok" space ship. Titov's flight, although second, was far more daring—17 orbits to a safe landing in the Soviet Union last August.

An American astronaut isn't expected to get his chance until late January or February. The $400-million Mercury man-in-space program still has one key test to go—a three-orbit "rehearsal" flight by a baby chimpanzee, expected next week.

Sources said the No. 1 candidate for the first manned orbital trip probably would be either Shepard or Glenn, with Carpenter as a "dark-horse" candidate and possible "back-up" astronaut. The field is expected to be narrowed to a "prime" and a "back-up" shortly.

Shepard, Glenn and Carpenter were chosen from a team of seven U.S. astronauts who have been in training since the Mercury program began nearly four years ago. The other four—Virgil I. Grisom, Leroy G. Cooper Jr., Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Donald K. Slayton—will be considered for future orbital flights, officials said.

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union no longer regards Northern Europe as an "area of peace and tranquility," the official Soviet news agency Tass said.

Khrushchev said this was the reason Finland was asked in the Soviet note of Oct. 30 to cooperate in strengthening the two nations' borders, Tass said.

Khrushchev spoke at a luncheon he gave for Finnish President Urho Kekkonen at Nevoisbirsk, the capital of Siberia.

Kekkonen arrived there Thursday night to ask the touring Soviet premier exactly why he sought joint defense measures with Finland.

Tass said Khrushchev emphasized the Soviet Union must take necessary measures, before it is too late, to curb the designs of West German militarists and revenge-seekers who want to alter postwar national frontiers.

By doing this, Khrushchev was quoted, the Soviet Union is working for European peace and security.

"It was precisely this striving for peace that prompted our proposal for the conclusion of a German peace treaty and normalization of the situation in West Berlin on this basis," Tass quoted Khrushchev as saying.

Khrushchev said arms must not be placed in the hands of former Nazis who he said now command the West German army and who are "warming their way into leading posts in NATO," the agency said.

Khrushchev said these Germans' words cannot be trusted and their most solemn promises cannot be believed, Tass reported.

Before the lunch session, Khrushchev and Kekkonen conferred in private.

Adenauer Confined to Home With Cold

BONN (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, 85, was confined to his home with a head cold today and officials said he probably would not return to the office before Monday.

A government official reported privately that Adenauer's personal physician, Dr. Ella Beber-Buch, said she wanted the chancellor to remain home at least until Sunday, when she would make another check of his condition.

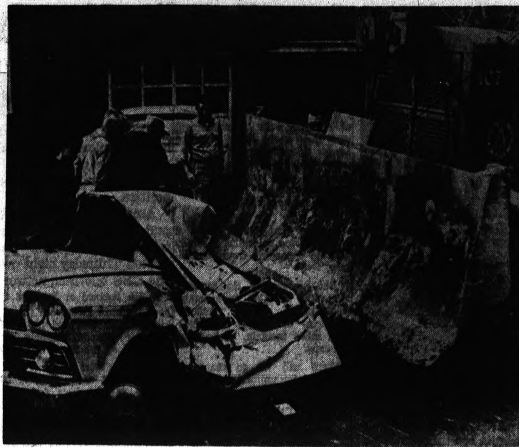

Dr. Beber-Buch was flown to the United States when Adenauer came down with a cold and returned with him Thursday.

The chancellor, looking drawn and tired, spoke briefly with newsmen who met him at nearby Wahn airfield after a four-day visit in Washington and said his trip was "excellent."

Merchants Ask Churches to Aid in War on Crime

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Illinois Retail Merchants Association has appealed to churches to aid in a campaign curbing shoplifting.

In a letter to pastors, churches were asked to inform children that shoplifting is "dirty, sordid thievery" and a "nasty, rotten vile business."

BULLDOZER RUNS AWAY—Spectators look over wreckage of auto after runaway bulldozer, right, had backed over car and stopped at end of a 1,200-foot unmanned trip in Elmore, Del., a suburb of Wilmington. Officials said bulldozer had been parked in a construction company storage yard and was started by four young boys.

In the course of the trip, the bulldozer wrecked two other autos, demolished two small buildings and ripped a corner out of a dwelling. Destruction was halted when owner of this last car, Charles Boyer, leaped on the bulldozer and turned it off.

FAA Tests the Practicality of Using Supersonic Airliners

By ROBERT J. SERLING
WASHINGTON — The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) revealed today that supersonic warplanes, flying as high as 60,000 feet, have been testing the practicality of faster-than-sound airliners over cities.

The FAA, with the cooperation of NASA and the Air Force, has been using B58 bombers and F106 fighters to determine:

—Whether sonic booms from 1,500 mile-per-hour planes can disturb or even injure people and property on the ground.

—Whether the present Air Traffic Control (ATC) system can handle supersonic aircraft.

STILL IN PROGRESS

The agency refused to reveal what cities were involved in the sonic boom phases, which were completed Nov. 11. The ATC tests still are in progress, and no evaluation report on either phase is expected for three to four months.

FAA made no announcement of the sonic boom experiments because it feared advance publicity would result in a wave of complaints and protests. It declined to say whether the secret flights resulted in any public apprehensions.

The sonic boom phenomena can be likened to the wake a boat leaves behind. A plane traveling faster than sound pushes the air so fast that a shock wave develops behind the aircraft. The wave plunges toward the ground just as the wake of a ship eventually reaches the shore. The result is like a huge clap of thunder strong enough, in some instances, to break windows.

Some aviation experts have been warning that the sonic boom menace would prevent supersonic airliners from being used on anything but overwater flights.

They fear that transports traveling at speeds of up to 2,000 m.p.h. would cause so much havoc on the ground as to be useless on a transcontinental flight.

Little Terry Jo Learns the Truth

Told of Family's Death Aboard the Bluebelle; Sleeps After Dinner

MIAMI (UPI)—A saddened Terry Jo Duperrault slept soundly Thursday night, tired by the shocking realization that her family was dead.

A hospital spokesman made a terse announcement late Thursday night saying 11-year-old Terry Jo, only survivor of the Bluebelle sinking, slept soundly after a Thanksgiving Day dinner with her aunt and uncle from De Pere, Wis., a Green Bay suburb.

Blonde Terry Jo was told the worst late Wednesday: That her parents, brother, and sister perished when the 66-foot ketch Bluebelle went down in the Bahamas on the night of Nov. 12.

When she was rescued, the little girl told the Coast Guard she saw her mother and brother lying in blood aboard the yacht the night it went down and skipper Julian Harvey fleeing the scene.

But until Wednesday, she had not been told that the search for her family and for Harvey's wife had been abandoned.

"She's definitely down in the dumps," said Dr. Franklin E. Verdon Thursday.

Terry Jo's relatives hope to take her out of Mercy Hospital and return to Wisconsin next week.

Prisoner Eats Thanksgiving Meal Worth $83

NEW YORK (AP)—Gerard Murray had "lettuce" for his Thanksgiving Day dinner—$3 dollars' worth.

Murray, 21, was hauled into a Brooklyn court Thursday and accused of assaulting a policeman. He was booked on charges of simple assault and malicious mischief.

PRISONER BALKS
As per custom, the prisoner's personal belongings were being taken from him.

Murray balked and cried, "You're not going to get my money."

With that, he began stuffing 10s and one dollar bills into his mouth. When Murray finished chewing the bills, a patrolman gave him a glass of water for a chaser.

In Brazilian Crash

Airlines Man Must Tell His Wife of Daughter's Death

NEW YORK (UPI) — Alberto Smart grimly faced up to the job that all airline men dread to think about — giving word of a fatal crash to the families and friends of the passengers.

As United States manager for Argentine Airlines, Smart knew he must impart the tragic confirmation of death in one phone call after another Thursday after one of his company's New York-bound Comet jetliners crashed near Sao Paulo, Brazil, killing all 52 aboard.

DELIVER IN PERSON

But there was one survivor he put off telling by telephone. It was a message that had to be delivered personally.

The survivor — his wife. The victim — their daughter, dark-haired, 17-year-old Martha Smart.

"How am I going to tell her?" he asked, shaking with sobs.

"It's so hard. My wife and I were up all night getting things ready for Martha. She was so good."

Smart had not disturbed his wife when the airline's night manager at Idlewild Airport phoned him that there had been an accident involving Flight 322 bound to New York from Buenos Aires. He hurried instead to his Rockefeller Plaza Office.

INFORMATION SLOW

Word came in agonizingly slow from Sao Paulo. The first message to reach Idlewild said only: "Accident, on take off. Shall inform you."

Then: "Delay indefinite."

And finally: "Aircraft complete loss. No survivors."

Smart stayed at his telephone answering questions until other airline employees arrived to relieve him.

Martha's mother had not wanted her to take the trip back to Argentina three weeks ago to visit her grandmother. Her father, who had moved the family to New York a year ago, had been philosophic when Martha's planned departure for home Tuesday night had been delayed because exit papers permitting her to leave Argentina were not ready.

"She phoned to say she would miss Tuesday's flight from Buenos Aires," he said. "I said to myself, 'I won't rush her. . . life takes its own course . . . perhaps something would go wrong with the early flight.'"

Then he phoned a doctor to stand by, and went home to his wife and four children to deliver a message all airline men dread giving.

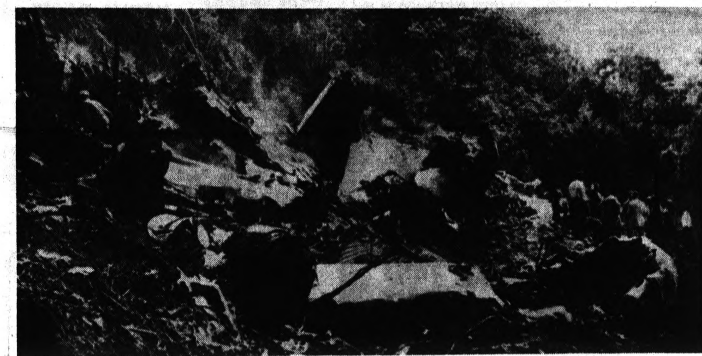

State Penologist Named Associate Warden in Iowa

DES MOINES — Lowell Hewitt, 36, of Brighton, Mich., has been hired as an associate warden at the Iowa Men's Reformatory at Anamosa, state Penal Director Ben Baer announced today.

Hewitt, who has been in charge of a youth camp at Brighton for the last five years, will fill a newly created position at the reformatory, Baer said. His salary will work under Warden Ray Purcell. Hewitt's appointment is effective Dec. 16. He will receive $8,400 a year.

Baer said that Hewitt has been with the Michigan Department of Corrections for 11 years.

Before going to Brighton, Hewitt served as an adult parole officer and worked as a counselor at the Michigan State Penitentiary.

Women's Unit Urges Proposed Dunes Park

DETROIT (AP) — A spokesman for the Women's National Farm and Garden Association in Michigan says the group has joined in advocating the establishment of a national park in the Sleeping Bear Dunes area of Northwestern Lower Michigan.

Mrs. Kathleen Lowrie, the organization's national area chairman for the state, said the shoreline is "the most beautiful between the two oceans" and should be preserved.

She said, however, the bill setting up the park "should be amended to scrupulously protect property owners as prescribed by the Michigan Parks Association."

Do-It-Yourself Kits Cater to All Ages

Toyland this year recreates in purposeful miniature the new horizons of jet-age science and the most exciting trends in modern living.

Science takes the spotlight with an extraordinary array of new kits keyed to a wide range of age interests and planned to spark family participation.

Playroom projects now will encompass the plastic age. Junior engineers can create chess sets by injection molding, a motorboat by foam casting a Mercury capsule by rotational casting.

Electricians will hold a broad range, a new fascination, too, with experiments ranging from simple wiring to complex electric circuitry.

A prime mover in relating modern science to the history of the world is Gen. John B. Medaris, formerly top U.S. missile commander, who has fathered the development of a series of kits which give youngsters a chance to reproduce replicas of such significant inventions of the past as the printing press and incandescent lamp.

BIG LINE OF KITS

The number of how-to kits slanted to interest primary children, junior high and teen-age students in careers has more than doubled.

One line of science kits ranges from seed study for youngsters to jet engine projects for older brothers.

Career training toys set a new high in all age brackets. The

Pontiac Woman Gets 8-20 Years as Slayer

Circuit Judge William J. Beer sentenced Miss Lucille Harris to 8 to 20 years in the Detroit House of Correction for the Sept. 30 fatal stabbing of a man in Pontiac.

A Circuit Court jury this month took 20 minutes to find Miss Harris, 29, of 288 Prospect St., guilty of second-degree murder in the death of Frank Avery, 36, of 153 Raeburn St.

The stabbing took place at a party. Miss Harris later admitted stabbing Avery in the neck after he slashed at her with a knife.

The budding engineer can construct an entire hydro-dynamic oil refining plant with drums and intricate pipe layouts. And planning a city for a suburban development is made easy for the junior architect with a new kit which includes all the components and a felt base for laying out the streets.

Will 3 Reluctant Republicans Charge Into Battle?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — The very best in the political world for discharging a political obligation is to run in enough times to act like a tall man who support to give him a hope, but not necessarily a belief, he could not. The most reluctant ones sometimes act like a tall man who party—even if Nixon and Rockefeller were out of the picture—would pick Goldwater as its presidential candidate. He's on the far right at a time when the country as a whole and the head of the Republican party—former President Eisenhower—are like Nixon and Rockefeller standing in the middle aisle.

They might be more wisdom than reluctance for at least two of them: former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Even if Nixon and Rockefeller won their governorships—but for some reason did not seek or get the presidential nomination in 1964—they would have a critical problem in trying to wait for it until 1968.

Still, all three men are young enough to wait another seven years if they have to.

Boat Club Told to Halt Parking

Judge Rules Ferndale Avenue Lots Being Used Illegally

Members of the Oakland County Boat Club must look somewhere else to park their boat trailers and cars.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer has ordered the club, 2330 Ferndale Ave., Sylvan Lake, to stop using two nearby lots on Ferndale Avenue for parking because they are zoned residential.

"The law will not permit the further development of the lots for this purpose," said Judge Beer in granting a permanent injunction to the city of Sylvan Lake against the club.

Judge Beer ruled in two law suits, later consolidated as one brought by the city and two city residents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Barach, 2370 Pontiac Drive.

The city acted only after the Barachs and other unhappy citizens protested regularly to the City Council that it was not enforcing a city-zoning ordinance.

After the judge's ruling, Kenneth A. Peterson, 308 Olson St., commodore of the 150-member club, said the club "was being deprived of the right to use the property vested in us."

But Dean G. Beier, attorney for the club, said the club failed to show by his several witnesses that the club "lawfully used this land" prior to 1943, the year in which the zoning ordinance was enacted and the property declared for residential use only.

"This is not a lawful nonconforming use," Beier said.

Neighbors reported to police, however, that Miss Nowinski had told her mother was in a home for the aged.

Miss Nowinski told police she had taken care of her mother for more than 10 years until she died of natural causes on Feb. 14, 1946, at the age of 80.

Miss Nowinski's landlord found the body when he investigated her apartment after seeing her run from the house. She was picked up by police yesterday.

Miss Nowinski has consented to be examined at a city hospital, police said. No charge has been placed.

Retired Wood Cutter Passes 112th Birthday

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Until four years ago, Tom Reason of Kaufman, Tex., was a wood cutter.

He had to quit because of a back injury suffered in an auto accident.

Thursday was his 112th birthday and he celebrated with a Thanksgiving feast at the home of a granddaughter, Mrs. Virgil Shaver.

Cardinal Recalls Problems Faced at Inauguration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Remember the smoke that curled from the lectern while Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston delivered the invocation at President Kennedy's inaugural last January?

"That was the devil asking for equal time," a letter-writer suggested to the cardinal later. The Boston archbishop told the story in remarks prefacing his sermon at the annual Pan-American Mass here Thursday.

He said most people who commented on the invocation thought it was too long. It ran more than 30 minutes.

Four clergymen participated in the inaugural, "I thought I was the only one," said the cardinal. "Why they had to have four of us there praying for him, I don't know."

Nixon's been making speeches and statements and writing newspaper articles. Goldwater has been extremely busy denouncing the Kennedy administration, and Rockefeller sticks his opinion into national affairs.

The very best way for Nixon and Rockefeller to stay in the public consciousness is to win their governorship races next year.

DEPENDS ON '62

Their 1964 chances will depend on how they make out in 1962 when Nixon runs for the governorship of California and Rockefeller tries for reelection in his state. Besides, if President Kennedy runs again and looks unbeatable, the 1968 presidential race might look attractive when Kennedy, under the constitution, could not seek a third term.

Nixon and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater have said they don't want the 1964 presidential nomination. Rockefeller just hasn't said. But none of them shows any intention of being overlooked or out of sight—if he can help it—before the 1964 nominating starts.

ALL ARE BUSY
Nixon's been making speeches and statements and writing newspaper articles. Goldwater has been extremely busy denouncing the Kennedy administration, and Rockefeller sticks his opinion into national affairs.

The very best way for Nixon and Rockefeller to stay in the public consciousness is to win their governorship races next year.

Drayton Woman Named 2nd County 4-H Agent

$5,000 Grant by Board Leads to Appointment

A former home economics teacher, 4-H Club worker and volunteer leader has been appointed a second 4-H Club agent for Oakland County.

Mrs. Donald B. Montney of 2238 Georgeland St., Drayton Plains, was named by the State Board of Trustees of Michigan State University. The appointment also has the approval of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' Extension Committee.

According to Lyle B. Abel, director of the County Extension Service, the addition of a second county extension agent has been considered necessary for three years on a basis of increased interest and participation in 4-H Club activities.

There are over 1,500 youngsters now involved in the club's work in Oakland County, he added.

Mrs. Montney's appointment was made possible by a grant of $5,000 from the board of supervisors which will pay a part of her salary.

She will work with leaders in the home-making area and assist Jack Worthington, the present county extension agent, in administration of the county club activities. The new agent will assume her new duties Dec. 1.

At 34, Mrs. Montney has been in 4-H Club work for 14 years, both as member and as a volunteer leader. She has completed 27 projects in the home-making and agricultural fields.

Raised near St. Louis in Midland County, she received a part scholarship from the 4-H Club to attend Michigan State College. After graduating in 1949, she taught home economics at Fairgrove High School in Tuscola County.

For the past two years she has worked as a library aid in the Pontiac Public Library, having to give up her 4-H activities for lack of time.

Married and the mother of four boys, age 4 to 8, and a 7-year-old Korean girl adopted in 1958, Mrs. Montney is going to work full time on her 4-H job.

She promised the children that when one of them reached 10 years of age and could qualify for membership (druce is looking forward to his birthday next month) they could have a club again at home.

The festive marchers will form at Perry and Atwater streets and move north on Perry. They will turn west on Flint Street, then south on Anderson Street.

Swinging west again on Front Street and then north on Broadway, the parade will disband at the corner of Shadbill Street where Santa will stop to visit with the children.

Village officials will lead the parade. Ballots for the "Little Miss Merry Christmas" contest are available at the Sweetheart Shop, 24 N. Broadway and at Noble's Suburban Shoppe, 103 N. Broadway. Votes for the candidates will be counted at 6 p.m. tomorrow at Noble's.

Annual Dance Slated by Armenian Women

SOUTHFIELD — The Women's Guild of St. John Armenian Church will sponsor its 23rd anniversary dinner dance Dec. 2, 2300 Southfield Road.

A buffet dinner will be served from 6:30 to 9 p.m. The Hye Tones and William will provide the music for dancing.

Mrs. Ann Manogian is program chairman. Proceeds from the event will go towards building a new church.

WED 60 YEARS—Rev. and Mrs. Ernest O. Sanders, 3710 John R. Road, Avon Township, will be honored on their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday. They will receive friends at an open house from 2 to 6 p.m. at the home of the couple, 3710 John R. Road, Rochester. The Rev. Mr. Sanders was chaplain of the Henry Ford Trade School and pastor emeritus of the Union Church, Detroit. Besides their daughter the couple has two sons, Rev. Norman Sanders of Oxford and Paul of Rochester; six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

SANTA'S GREETERS—First in line at the Romeo Airport yesterday to tell Santa Claus what he wants for Christmas was Scott Hutton, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Hutton, 1139 Burley St., Utica. Not far behind was another 3-year-old, Susan Siewe, still carrying her umbrella while she confides in Santa that she loves him. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Siewe, 144 W. St. Clair St., Romeo. The two youngsters were among the over 500 who lined up in the hangar (because of the rain) to welcome the bewhiskered old gentleman on his traditional Thanksgiving Day visit to the "heart of the fruit country." His trip to Romeo is sponsored annually by Highland Sales store.

Christmas Mart Planned Dec. 2

Area Branches of Farm and Garden Association to Sponsor Event

Nineteen area branches of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will sponsor a Christmas Market Dec. 2 at the Northville Community Center.

In addition to providing ideas for home decorations, there will be demonstrations showing how to make many of the items on display.

The annual event, held in Birmingham last year, will begin at 11 a.m. and continue to 8 p.m. Demonstrations will be at 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m.

The participating branches have conducted workshops all fall to make the particular items their groups will have for sale and for demonstration.

The branches sponsoring the show are Valley Woods, Foxcroft, Birmingham, Royal Oak, Berkshire, Livonia, Roseville Gardens, Glencoe and Springfield-Holly.

Other sponsoring clubs are Pine Lake, New England Estates, Meadowdale, Bloomfield Farms, Osgood, Westchester, Plymouth, Pontiac, Northville and Franklin.

Eleven young 4-H Clubbers from Oakland County will have entries in the 23rd annual Junior Livestock Show Dec. 5 through 7, in Detroit's state fairgrounds arena.

Larry Lustig, 3700 Joslyn Road, Pontiac, will show a pen of 3 Shropshire sheep and an individual Shropshire, Bud Williamson, 1122 Bichy St., Pontiac, will exhibit two of three Southdown sheep and an individual Southdown.

Showing individual Angus cattle will be Jack, Carolyn and Tom Middleton of 2810 Stoney Creek Road, Oakland Township; Steve and Jim Smith, 28315 Detroit Road, South Lyon; and Carolyn and Roger Bowers, 4105 South Hill Road, Commerce Township.

Carol and Bob McFadden, 6343 West 8 Mile Road, South Lyon, will show individual Herefords.

The show is jointly sponsored by the 4-H Club department of Michigan State University and the Detroit Junior Livestock Society.

Animals will arrive on Dec. 5. They will be shown the next day and auctioned off the final day of the show. The society will present over $2,000 in prizes as well as showmanship trophies and a four-year scholarship to MSU to the competing youngsters.

Judges will name a grand champion market hog, steer and lamb. In a special lamb carcass class, the exhibitors will show their animals judged on foot and then compare notes with the judges when the carcasses are placed at a Detroit packing plant.

The young exhibitors will be hosted by the society at a banquet Wednesday in the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, headquarters for the show.

Christmas trees in the area, C. of C. officials said. The 75-foot tree stands at 4500 Van Dyke and will be decorated by the Chamber of Commerce.

In addition, the group will sponsor home and business decorating contests.

Savings bonds will be given for the best decorated homes and a plaque will be awarded the most festively decorated business place.

Entry blanks may be obtained from any C. of C. member. Santa Claus will return again on Dec. 16 and will be at his trailer until Dec. 23.

Hunter in Fair Condition After Gun Shot Wound

CADILLAC — Bertrum L. Hower, 19, of Cadillac was reported in fair condition at Mercy Hospital after emergency surgery Thursday for a severe gunshot wound suffered while deer hunting nearby.

State police said he and a companion were starting to hunt when a shot rang out and a slug struck Hower in the left arm and passed through it into his back. Police sought the shooter.

Michigan is among the top three states in the production of apples, sweet cherries, grapes, grape juice and fresh grapes.

Thugs Kick Beer Clerk, Then Grab $200 in Cash

JACKSON — Three men held up a beer store here Thursday (Nov. 23) in cash from clerk Gordon Good.

Good was forced to lie on the floor by the men who held him at knife point. They then kicked and beat him severely. He was reported in fair condition today, however.

Highway accidents with farm tractors are on the increase, say Michigan State University agricultural engineers.

Mrs. America has a problem. Cooking That Brought Award Sends Redford Woman on Crash Diet

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. America of 1962 — 35-year-old Lila Mason of Redford Township, Mich. — is an attractive green-eyed redhead, whose talent with a cookbook sometimes plays havoc with her curves.

Mrs. Mason won her title here Thursday, besting contestants from 49 other states and the District of Columbia for the title of America's top homemaker.

Her husband, Cleveland, 40, a department store executive, rewarded her with a kiss after she was crowned.

"He was my greatest supporter," she said. "He kept saying I could win."

Of course, there will be other rewards for this Michigan mother of three. Her prizes include a $5,000 national personal appearance tour, a free wardrobe, European and Florida vacations and $500 cash.

Mrs. Mason's only regret about her contest victory was that she was unable to have Thanksgiving Day dinner at home with her children — Diane, 17; Thomas, 12, and David, 9.

The children learned of their mother's good fortune just as they were sitting down for Thanksgiving dinner with their grandparents. A friend of Mrs. Mason telephoned them the news.

The family broke out with a cheer, and the boys rushed out to tell neighbors, ignoring the turkey and mashed potatoes. Diane grabbed the telephone and called some of their friends.

NOT A FUSKY COOK Admittedly "not a fussy cook," Mrs. Mason said. "Sometimes we have it too often and I have to go on a crash diet."

Normally a carefree 135 pounds, Mrs. Mason pared down to 130 for the contest, then almost neglected to enter the Mrs. Michigan competition. She was a finalist in the 1960 judging when she entered it "as a lark."

Still amazed hours after she was declared the winner, Mrs. Mason admitted: "I'm on cloud nine. It's a dream I don't think I actually got up this morning."

PTA Will Review School Study Report

WALLED LAKE — The facts and figures on school needs that were compiled recently by the Citizens' Committee will be reviewed Monday at a meeting of the Decker Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association.

Supt. Clifford H. Smart will present the findings of the Citizens group following a short business meeting at 8 p.m. and a music program by the sixth grade chorus.

The school will open at 7:30 p.m. to allow parents to visit their children's room and talk with the teachers.

A factory worker can buy 45 per cent off most food with an hour's pay than he could in 1947. The farmer gets 39 cents from each food dollar the housewife spends.

Ridgeway-Hall Vows Told

Pair Wed in Waterford

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Exchanging marriage vows recently at the Assembly of God Church in Waterford Township were Bonnie Lou Hall and Arty L. Ridgeway. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. Orville J. Windell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd G. Hall of 1030 Doane Road. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Slayton Ridgeway of 1427 Porter Road.

For her wedding the bride chose a white ballerina-length gown, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Maid of honor was Kathleen Naugle of Waterford, and the bride's brother Floyd M. Hall served as the best man.

A reception at the White Lake Community Hall followed the ceremony. The newlyweds will reside in Detroit, where the bridegroom is stationed in the Army.

Teacher Body Urges Fight on Censorship

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A committee within the National Council of Teachers of English has urged that the organization stand fast against what it termed a wave of censorship which threatens to remove some classics from the bookshelves of high schools and colleges.

The council's Committee on Censorship and Controversy took the stand Thursday during the group's 51st convention, which some 700 English teachers are attending.

Parade Dec. 2 at Lake Orion

Miss Merry Christmas' From 8- to 10-Year-Olds Will Be Elected

LAKE ORION — Residents will line village streets Dec. 2 to watch an hour-long Christmas parade featuring floats, marching units, "Little Miss Merry Christmas" and Santa.

Entries from community churches, service clubs and schools will form the colorful column.

"Little Miss Merry Christmas" will be elected this week by local residents from among 26 girls age 8 through 10 who are candidates for the crown. The winner will precede Santa on a special float in the parade.

The festive marchers will form at Perry and Atwater streets and move north on Perry. They will turn west on Flint Street, then south on Anderson Street.

Swinging west again on Front Street and then north on Broadway, the parade will disband at the corner of Shadbill Street where Santa will stop to visit with the children.

Child Study Club Plans Gift-Giving Drive for the Ill

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Child Study Club is collecting gift articles for patients in the Pontiac State Hospital. Gifts will be packaged by the group on Dec. 7 and delivered to the hospital.

Suggested gifts include cosmetics and toilet articles, books, games and writing equipment and smoker's items. In addition, knitting materials, candy and toys for children are acceptable.

All containers should be non-breakable.

Members of the group who will accept donations and give information on the drive are Mrs. Paul York, 117 Griggs St.; Mrs. James Madden, 330 Red Oak St.; Mrs. George Madden, 541 Pine St.; and Mrs. Thomas Lusk, 104 W. Tienken St.

Lions' White Uniforms Get Back and Title Hopes Are Faded

Wings Blow Lead, Lose 5-3 at Montreal

Howe Ties Record; Kelly's Hat Trick Paces Toronto Triumph

MONTREAL 24—It will be some time before the Detroit Red Wings forget Claude Provost.

Provost scored his 15th and 16th goals of the season last night, the last with only 33 seconds to go, to give the Montreal Canadiens a 5-3 come-from-behind victory over the visitors.

The triumph broke Montreal's five-game losing streak and kept the Canadiens one point behind the leading New York Rangers in the tight National Hockey League race.

Provost's insurance tally came on an open net after the Wings' litte goalie Terry Sawchuk for a sixth attacker.

Detroit grabbed a 3-1 lead in the first period on goals by Gordie Howe, Marc Boileau and Bruce MacGregor. The three goals came within two minutes and seven seconds. Gilles Tremblay got Montreal's first goal.

TIED COUNT
Ralph Backstrom got one back for Montreal in the second period and Phil Goyette tied it at 2-2 in the third. Then Provost scored his first goal.

Howe was playing his 999th NHL game, tying a record set by Ted Lindsay, his former Red Wings teammate, who finished a 16-year career with the Chicago Blackhawks two years ago.

Howe, also in his 16th season, will break the record when he steps on the ice in a game on Chicago Sunday.

Last night's defeat was Detroit's fourth in five games on the current road trip.

Red Kelly's three-goal performance highlighted Toronto's 5-2 victory over Chicago while New York beat Boston 4-3.

That left the Rangers in first place, just one point up on the Canadiens. Toronto is just one point further back in third.

No games are on tap tonight. New York's player-coach Doug Harvey slipped home a shot that was deflected into the net by Boston defenseman Leo Boivin for the winning margin with only 18 seconds left.

GOOD RALLY
The Rangers were trailing 3-1 in the third period before Clarence Harty tallied on a breakaway. Andy Hebenton tied it 3-3 only 25 seconds later.

Kelly got two of his goals — one on a break play — only seven seconds apart in the second period, wiping out a 1-0 Chicago lead. The first one came on what was supposed to be a pass from behind the Chicago net. It struck goalie Glenn Hall and tricked down his back into the cage.

Seven seconds later Kelly stole the puck near the Chicago blue line and went in alone. Frank Mahovlich added another 35 seconds later.

Crippled Michigan Guns for Buckeyes

ANN ARBOR 24—Michigan, with a long casualty list, goes gunning for second-ranked Ohio State here Saturday in one of the Big Ten's great traditional football battles.

The Buckeyes, with everybody from All-American fullback Bob Ferguson on down in good health, is regarded as a one-touchdown favorite in the 58th meeting of a series famous for weird football and surprise endings.

"Ohio probably hasn't even got a dent in its water bucket," commented a Michigan assistant coach as the Wolverines wound up practice with one regular definitely out and two others doubtful.

Some 80,000 fans and an NCAA regional television audience will watch as the unbeaten-but-once-tied Bucks bid for a share of the Big Ten title and a possible national championship.

It was still uncertain as late today if Michigan would have the full services of star halfback Benjie McEneaney or tackle Jon Schopf, a preseason All-America candidate.

Schopf, 230-pound bulwark of the U. of M. line, has missed the last four games with a shoulder separation and McEneaney, the flashy scalloped-back, came up with a similar injury in last week's 23-14 victory over Iowa.

Ohio coach Woody Hayes needs this victory to complete his second unbeaten season since assuming the reins at Columbus in 1951. The Bucks went without a defeat in 1954.

Michigan, on the other hand, has already assured itself of no worse than a 6-3 mark in the most rigorous schedule in its history, and the improvement over the 4-5 and 5-4 marks in coach Bump Elliott's first two seasons.

PACKERS TAKE HOME HOLIDAY VICTORY, 17-9
Detroit Fails to Take Advantage of Chances Early in Game
By BRUNO L. EARNES
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Even the white uniforms didn't help the Detroit Lions yesterday at Tiger Stadium where the Green Bay Packers slushed through mud for a big 17-9 victory before a record Thanksgiving Day crowd of 55,621.

Maybe it was because as the uniforms got blacker from the mud the Lions got worse, but in any sense, superstitious or realistic, the defeat just about ended any Detroit hopes for the championship.

But Paul Hornung came in for the game to play for the Packers and his presence was certainly felt by the Lions. He didn't take advantage of the many scoring opportunities.

All nine points came by way of Jim Martin's toe who was honored on "his day" with a shower of gifts for his 12 years in the NFL and great record with the Lions. Martin booted field goals of 13, 34 and 16 yards. He missed another from the 28.

Quarterback Jim Nosenewski, who has proven to be the Lions' best quarterback between the 20 yard lines, just couldn't come up with a field goal when within reach of the goal line.

After stopping the Packers in their first drive on an interception by Dick LeBeau in the end zone, the Lions gained only one yard in the first series they had possession.

In the next series however, Nosenewski used Gail Coghill as a target and in six plays from his own 32 he moved the Lions to a first down on the Packers five. Three plays failed to move the ball and Martin booted the 13.

The Lions tried to surprise the Packers and it almost worked when Hopalong Cassidy cut in front of Martin on the kickoff and got off an on-side kick. The ball bounced off a Packers lineman and set up a drive for the Lions as a couple Lions tried to get possession.

The Packers could get nothing and had to punt to the Detroit 13 from where the Lions moved in 59 yards to the Green Bay 38 and fumbled it away. A play later Starr, trying to pass fumbled and Roger Brown fell on it on the Green Bay 30. Again Nosenewski could not move the team and Martin booted his 34-yarder.

Green Bay again got nothing against the hard running Lions and the Lions took over after a punt on their own 48. A picture-play triple handoff clicked, similar to the one which won against the Rams earlier in the year. From Ninowski to Piatrosante to Barr back to Ninowski who passed to Piatrosante. It gained 25 yards to the Packers 27 and the Lions got only to the 28 and Martin's try from the 28 failed this time.

With only 24 minutes left in the half, Green Bay finally got moving. The big plays were 53 yards from Starr to Max McGee to the Detroit 21. And a 17 yarder to the one from where Jim Taylor rammed over for the touchdown. Hornung made it 17-6.

The third quarter again belonged to the Lions. They got to the 12 yard line and when three plays netted only three yards, Martin made it 9-7 with his 16 yarder.

A moment later Nosenewski delivered the big break Green Bay needed. With a third down on his own 30, he could not find a receiver and started to run, but then stopped dead at the line of scrimmage and tried to pass to Coghill at midfield. His pass was short and right into the hands of Herb Adderley. Nosenewski could have easily made the first down with at least 20 yards of running room ahead of him.

It took only seven plays from the Lion 49 and Green Bay scored with Taylor's one yard and Hornung converting for a 14-9 lead. The big play was the pass to Hornung all alone behind Gary Lowe. Lowe hit him from the four yard line. Another interception led to the final three points which Hornung booted from the nine with only 38 seconds left in the game.

COMPLETION ENDS—Gail Coghill (89) of the Lions grabs a pass from quarterback Jim Nosenewski for 16 yards and was hauled down by Green Bay's Hank Gremminger.

Markets, Business and Finance Lines Being Drawn Tight in World Trading Fight

Trading Fairly Active Cross Currents Shake Up Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Tobacco, drugs and selected issues made progress in a mixed stock market today as the market recovered from an early start. Trading was fairly active.

The market was a bit higher in the opening but soon became uneven as cross currents continued to prevail as they did in the pre-Thanksgiving session.

Investment money resumed its trend into the tobacco and drug markets, but not all auto stocks, steel, chemicals, nonferrous metals, and building materials were mixed.

Gains and losses of key stocks ran generally from fractions of a point but four-quarter speculative demand, attracted Great Western Financial continued to be stimulated by its 20 per cent stock dividend and ran up another 4 points or so. Zenith's new split stock gained around 3 and Sweets Co. of American moved 2 1/2.

Says Union Bias Must Be Fought

NEW YORK — At home and abroad the lines are being drawn tighter today in the battle of world trade.

At home, the developing issue of old-fashioned tariff frictions.

In Europe the industrial nations are fighting the tariff battle within their own rival clubs. In Brussels, the European Common Market nations are laying down the terms on which Britain can join. In Geneva, a 40-nation trade talks next week on how to avoid an all-out conflict between various blocs around the world.

U.S. FEARS

The United States' fears are threefold. It could be squeezed out of the increasingly profitable Western European market. Booming European and Japanese industries could compete over more favorably in world markets. A number of industries at home could be further hurt by an increasing inflow of cheaper foreign goods.

The Kennedy administration would like authority to cut U.S. tariffs further in bargaining with American goods. It holds that to get a more equal market for American goods. It holds that to get a more equal market for American goods.

You Can Survive Atomic Attack—Nov. 15

N-War Would Not Mean Finish of Human Race

(Editor's Note: A Nobel prize winner who is America's best known authority on fallout and radiation has written for The Pontiac Press a series of articles on what you can do if nuclear war strikes. The series is not intended to inspire or depress, but to inform. It is the first in a series of articles on the nuclear threat. This is the 15th installment.)

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY. Dramatic fictional accounts picture all people in the world dying from fallout within a nuclear war. This is not true. Scientists agree the increased amounts of long-lasting fallout could harm many innocent people in countries not involved in a war, as well as people who were.

Thousands of young men are rejected by the draft every year for health defects. But only those suffering from tuberculosis and venereal diseases (STDs) are sent to their local health departments.

Lucy's Mother-in-Law Gives Up Her Duties

By EARL WILSON. At Lucille Ball's champagne-and-cake party after the wedding, Gary Morton called to his mother, "Hay, Ma, make me a sandwich!" His mother answered, "You got a wife now—let her make you a sandwich!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

Joe Ferrer visits Rosemary Clooney's home at 7 a.m. but only to have breakfast with the Myrna Cohn subbed for her at Basin St. East... Nancy Sinatra's taking voice lessons again; she and husband Tommy Sands' go to Paris in Jan. Story when he flunked "The Longest Day"...

EARL'S PEARLS: It seems that the only ones to approach a school zone slowly are the pupils. TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Barbara Heller, the skinny comedienne at the Blue Angel, insists she's not really thin: "It's just make-up."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Remember when people worried about how much it took to buy something, instead of how long? One of the hardest things for a father to teach his son is not to spill things—especially his mother. That's earl brother.

JOAN. Nine cords and two male students from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, N.Y., on turkey and trimmings at dormitory dinner tables Thursday but scores of stay-at-home fasters turned their plates over and refused servings. The "sympathy" fasters were joining in the 72-hour Thanksgiving holiday demonstration against atmospheric nuclear tests. They were conducting nightly prayer vigils.

It Was Same Time and Place... and Yet

By FRED DANZIG. NEW YORK (UPI)—The cast? Same as last time. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Walter Cronkite. The setting? Same as last time: the Eisenhower home in Gettysburg, Pa. The format? Again, same as last time: conversation.

There are several reasons for the improvement. The agenda was spiced with current themes. The approach by and large, differed from last month's program by being concerned with specifics rather than broader philosophical questions. As a result, Thursday night's program not only succeeded in conveying again the former president's magnetism, it also managed to do so without making that aspect the dominant theme, or leitmotif, of the interview.

There was more to the show than the personality. But the biggest difference between the two programs was that Thursday night, Cronkite was more of a building. He threw caution to the winds and asked a number of followup questions and the resulting exchanges were illuminating.

Although much of the interview was filmed last spring, Cronkite returned to Gettysburg this month to get some comments on topical matters.

On disarmament: "A little success will breed more success and this will be finally the way disarmament will come about."

On the Berlin wall: "That Soviet wall is not built to keep us out, it is built to keep them in."

Due to Start Test on King in Hospital. BOSTON (UPI)—Doctors at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital today were expected to begin a series of tests on King of Saudi Arabia to determine whether he must undergo surgery.

Saudi, who is suffering from a stomach ulcer, spent a comfortable day Thursday but had to pass up the turkey dinner served to most of his 21 member entourage.

The king was visited by the two wives he brought with him and several of his aides.

French Official Slain by Terrorists in Algiers. ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—Right-wing European terrorists fatally shot a government official last night.

Police said Henri Perrin, a civil administrator in the government's Department of Industry and Commerce, was killed by members of the Secret Army Organization (OAS) while attempting to help plans to give Algeria independence.

Until the Soviets resumed, it was officially estimated by the Atomic Energy Commission that devices (total had a total power or yield of 174 megatons) which released varying amounts of fission products, including small proportions of strontium and cesium.

Tests bombs or devices of this total yield added the few per cent increase over natural radiation.

Nuclear war, if enough weapons were used, could increase this exposure from long-lasting fallout by 20 to 30 times, or perhaps more.

That could mean a doubling, or more, of the radiation from natural exposure.

We can estimate on the basis of our experience with the test fallout and the natural radiation that this could not have damaging effects leading to anything like annihilation upon the people around the world.

Pickets Wind Up N-Test Protest at White House. WASHINGTON (UPI)—A group of Midwestern college students wound up a three-day fast-and-picket demonstration today in front of the White House.

President Kennedy was misreading their appeal against a above-ground nuclear testing.

Nine cords and two male students from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, N.Y., on turkey and trimmings at dormitory dinner tables Thursday but scores of stay-at-home fasters turned their plates over and refused servings.

Adoula Changes Mind About Aiding in Search for Italians' Killers

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — The central Congolese government appeared today to have dropped its plans to assist the United Nations in investigating the Nov. 11 massacre of 13 Italian airmen in Kivu Province.

Reliable sources said that Premier Cyrille Adoula, who at the time of the murders swore punishment on the mutinous Congolese soldiers responsible for the slaughter, had made the new position clear two days ago.

The sources said he told delegates at a secret session of parliament that no Congolese would assist in the U. N. investigation. They said he considers the incident strictly an internal Congolese affair.

Adoula's hand was heavily strengthened in parliament Thursday by a vote of confidence which defeated a Gizengist motion of censure that labeled as "high treason" the premier's criticisms of the Kivu massacre.

Observers said it appeared that those responsible for the murders probably would go unpunished since they were now 120 miles south of Kivu in Katanga Province.

The U. N. command said Thursday that the slayers left Kivu despite an attempt by U. N. forces to seal them off.

Mel Blanc, Bent but Unbowed, Is Back With Benny

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Mel Blanc is back at work with Jack Benny, 10 months after he was critically injured in an auto accident.

Blanc and his many voices were still getting around on crutches and a wheelchair, but he appeared tickled to be back at work.

"I don't know how I got along without him," Benny commented. "You mean he's indispensable," he was asked.

"To me, he is," Jack replied. Blanc's first task will be to portray himself in a Christmas Eve Benny show.

ADDED TO LIST — Franklin E. Alltop has been added to the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," the Justice Department announced. Alltop is charged with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for armed robbery. He is from West Virginia.

Baptist Ministers Oppose McCormack

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A group of Baptist ministers are opposed to the election of Rep. John McCormack, D-Mass., as speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Rev. Homer G. Ritchie of the First Baptist Church here said Thursday: "We do not oppose his election on the ground that he is a Catholic but on the fact that he has never taken a stand against tax aid for private schools."

About 400 ministers are attending the Baptist Bible Fellowship International Conference here. McCormack is expected to succeed Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., who died last week. In the last session of Congress he fought President Kennedy's proposed bill to provide federal funds for public schools because parochial schools weren't included.

Georgia Seeks Reason AF Academy Vetoes 80

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia plans to send a group of educators to the Air Force Academy in Colorado in an effort to reduce the number of Georgia youths who fail to meet entry requirements at the academy.

This year 80 of the state's 114 nominees were disqualified. Dr. Claude Purcell, state school superintendent, said the delegation will be briefed in January on courses high school pupils need in order to qualify.

Report Boost in Sales of Civil Defense Gear

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sales of survival kits, radiation detectors and other civil defense gear are booming. Surviv-all, Inc., reports recent sales and orders for its emergency food-water kits jumped to 11,000 in recent weeks, compared with fewer than 1,000 through midyear. Johnson & Johnson reports a 20 per cent rise in sales of first aid kits in the past month.

College Rolls Up Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Office of Education has reported that fall enrollment in the nation's colleges increased for the 10th consecutive year.

Work 70-Hour Weeks, No Extra Pay

By BOB CONSIDINE
WASHINGTON—If the Strategic Air Command had a union, the nation would be in a fix and so would the free world it protects. The force surely would be on strike, protesting a week-week, 70-hour work-week. In an 18th century Welsh coal field, SAC ground and air crews, responding to Defense Secretary McNamara's call for a 50 per cent step-up in the number of atomic weapons on alert, are now working a 70-hour week. There is, of course, no overtime pay.

Master of fact, the regular pay for the backbreaking work week is considerably under that received by men doing similar jobs in private industry over a 40-hour 4-day week.

It's a case of the same number of men handling a sharply expanded job, much as if the car industry was ordered to turn out twice as many vehicles with the same work force.

There is no alternative, apparently, this side of budgetary bankruptcy. Air crews work longer hours today because it costs too much to train additional crews capable of handling the always supremely important and now magnified job.

A B-47 is operated on a mission by three superbly skilled men. It costs $700,000 to develop such a crew, teach it everything it must know.

Another huge sum goes into supporting it in the manner to which it must accustom itself if it is to remain cocked and ready at all times.

To prepare new crews and support them, to handle the increased funds badly needed elsewhere. So the men of SAC make the best of

LIFE OUTSIDE CALLS
Not all of them stay at their jobs, of course. The demands of their growing families, the understandable feeling that they have "seen their duty and done it," the native hunger for creature comforts and the lure of private industry all combine to send thousands of service-trained men marching out of uniform at the end of enlistment periods.

"It takes three years to train a jet bomber's radar technician to do a full day's work, unaided," an Air Force general told us today, chewing on his dead cigar.

"To get him to that point costs us $25,000. Then he works out the last year of his enlistment. In effect, we're paying him $25,000 for that year's work, for that's the year he can do his job. Then he leaves us, and we have the job of training another boy over the next three years.

"The Cordiller Plan helped some. It cut down a bit on the difference between military and private industry pay and priv-leges. But there's still a big gap, still a reluctance to re-enlist."

Five years ago, SAC estimated it was spending $2 billion a year training men to take the places of those who chose the easier life outside of the uniform.

Another source of grief and misgiving for the man who works so long and so hard to keep his bombing plane in proper condition, ready to observe the 15-minute wheels-up dictum, is the burgeoning legend that the next war is going to be largely operated by buttons.

He must say to himself, as he polishes a ball-bearing the size of the ball in a ball-point pen, a bearing that operates the gizmo that fits into the whizzop of the grammas on the bomber's coffee pot. "Jeez, maybe I'm in the wrong end of the racket."

THE MORALE FACTOR
We asked an Air Force man about this morale factor, and he snorted:

"If war came tomorrow, manned bomber forces would constitute almost all the retaliatory punch thrown against an enemy. I've seen the figure that 25 per cent of that punch would be from ballistic missiles. That's a gross overstate-

To Hold Public Hearing on New Freeway Section

LANSING 48 — The State Highway Department announced today that a public hearing on the first section of the Port Huron-to-Flint Freeway will be held next Thursday in Port Huron.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the meeting has been called to discuss an eight-mile section of the M 21 Freeway which will be built from US 25 on the east side of Port Huron west to the vicinity of the village of Wadhams.

Shinkolobwe mine in Katanga Province is one of the world's largest producers of uranium. Cobalt, zinc, manganese, tin and lesser amounts of other minerals are also mined.

Freeway Stretch to Tie Peninsula

Almost Nonstop Driving Will Go From Lansing to Mackinac Bridge

LANSING (AP) — There'll be nonstop driving 80 per cent of the distance between Lansing and the Mackinac Bridge by the end of next week.

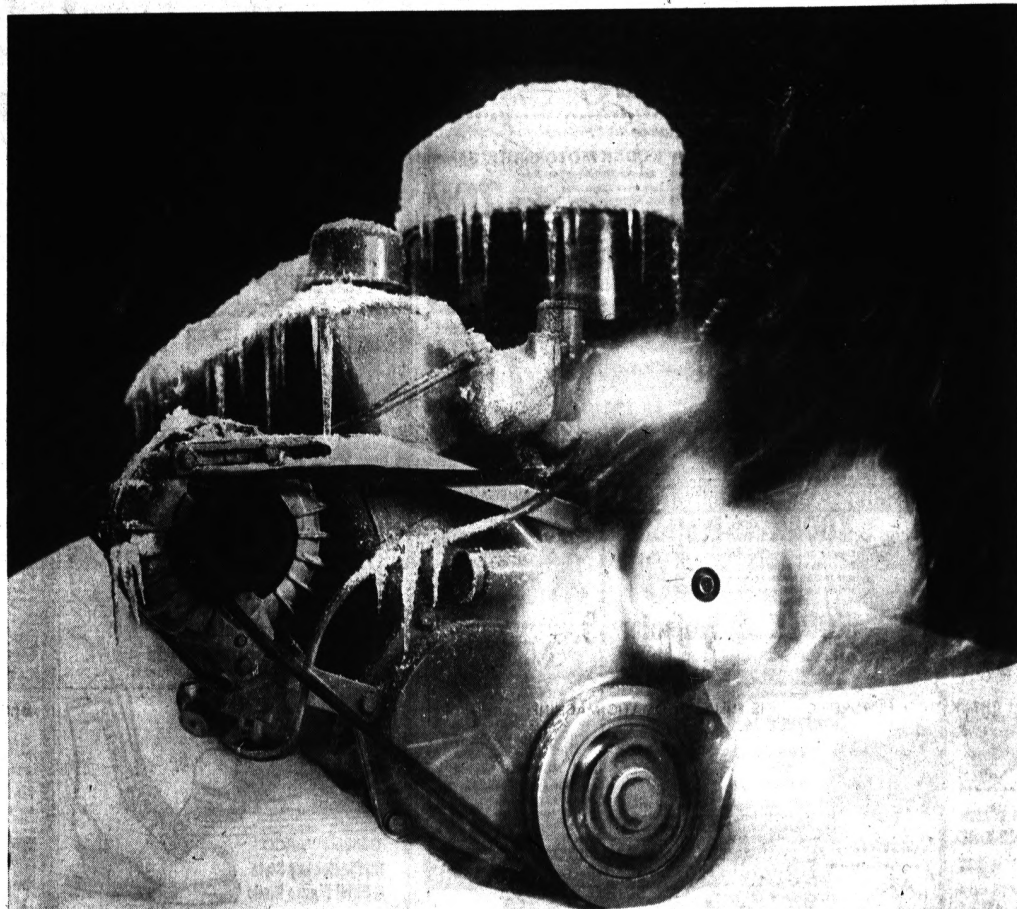

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said nearly 16 miles of I-75 between Grayling and Waters, an Otsego County village, will be opened next Friday.

That means "Motorists will be driving on 180 miles of divided four-lane highway — most of it built to freeway standards — between Lansing and the Mackinac Bridge," Mackie said.

More than 100 miles of freeway has been opened so far this year — reducing travel time between the capital and the Mackinac Bridge by as much as 60 minutes.

The only gap, he said, will be a 41 mile stretch between Clare and Harrison.

A two-lane highway from Waters to Indian River will be in use, he added, until the completion of the freeway next summer. I-75 from Indian River to the Mackinac Bridge has been completed for more than a year, he said.

Leaves Note for His Wife

Dad Kills Children, Then Himself

GARDEN CITY 68 — Thanksgiving was a tragic day for the Tomkowski family.

Roy Tomkowski, 37, the father, brooded into the early hours of the day following a family argument, wrote a note to his wife, then took three guns to the bedrooms of his two sons and a stepdaughter.

All three children were shot in the head. Two died.

After telephoning a friend of his wife, Tomkowski went to his sons' bedroom and shot himself to death.

Tomkowski had told the friend, Miss Mona Layne, 27:

"I have just shot the three children. One of the babies is still crying. I have to go and finish the job. Then I'm going to kill myself."

Two of the children, Deborah Ann Beutel, 8, and Darren Tomkowski, 2, died four hours later. Daniel Tomkowski, 3, was in critical condition. Deborah was Mrs. Tomkowski's daughter by a previous marriage.

Police found Tomkowski's wife, Lillian, 36, at the home of a friend. She said her husband, part owner of a janitorial service, had complained recently of business setbacks and severe headaches.

DIDN'T GO HOME

After leaving her job as a dentist's receptionist Wednesday, Mrs. Tomkowski called police, she didn't go home because her husband "threatened to shoot me if I came home. He also threatened to harm me if I didn't come home."

Her brother, Danny Perotti, took Mrs. Tomkowski to the home of a friend for the night.

During the night, Miss Layne said, Tomkowski called several times wanting to know where his wife was. She said he threatened to kill himself if he hadn't heard from his wife by midnight.

Then, she said, he called back at 3:30 a. m. and told her he had shot the children.

State, Ontario Set Talk on Bridge Tolls

SARNIA, Ont. 68—Michigan and Ontario delegations will meet Tuesday to decide whether tolls should be retained on the International Bluewater Bridge between Sarnia, and Port Huron.

Premier John Robarts of Ontario and Gov. Swanson of Michigan will head their delegations.

Both sides reportedly want to continue the tolls, but Michigan has been told it may have to forfeit $5 million in federal funds for road construction if it refuses to comply with a direct toll-free order from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Lung cancer deaths in the U.S. increased from only about 3,900 in 1930 to more than 27,000 in 1953.

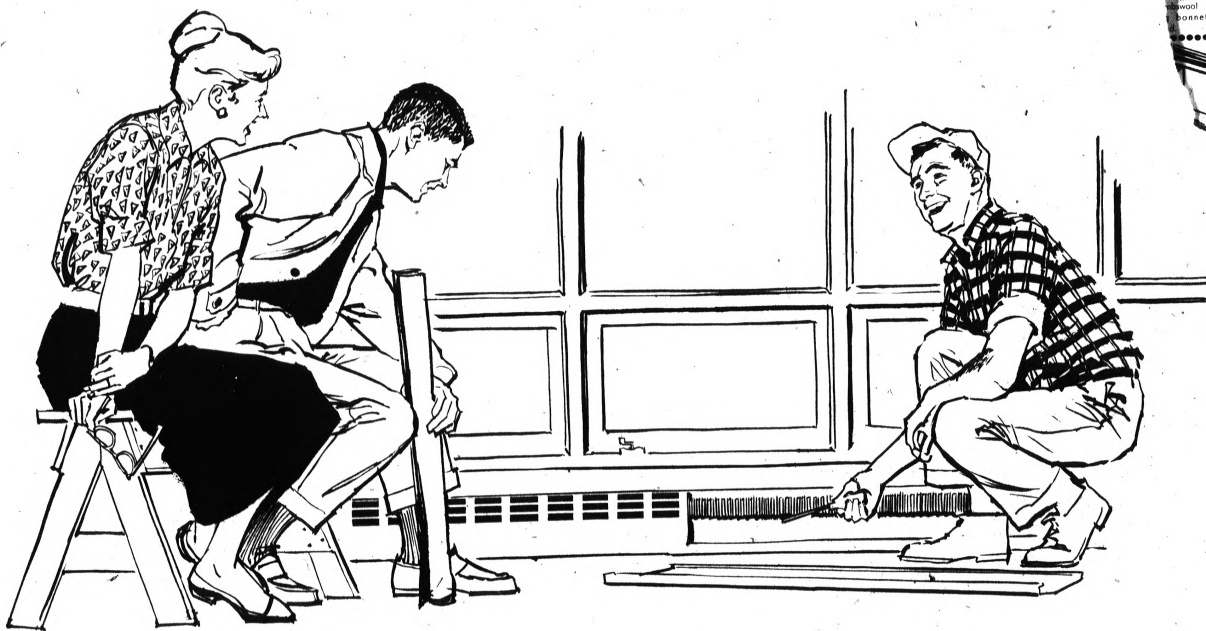

Michigan Women Forgo Turkey in N-Test Protest

DETROIT (AP) — Seven Michigan women passed up turkey for a cup of broth Thursday to emphasize their desire for strong international controls on nuclear testing.

Ruth Rosenwald, a Detroit housewife, enlisted six other Michigan women for the partial fast on Thanksgiving Day. She said it was to call attention to the desirability of transferring control of all atomic weapons to the United Nations.

Mrs. Rosenwald fasted 16 days last October as a protest against Soviet atmospheric testing.

She said the women prepared the holiday meals for their families, but passed up turkey themselves.

ELECTRIC HEAT

Sometimes home improvements change the heating requirements within a home. When they do, baseboard electric heating units—or one of the other types of electric heating units—can solve the problem simply. They can give you supplemental heat to ease the load on your present heating system, make cold areas warm, eliminate the drafts often found near large window areas.

Electric heating units can be built into any part of a house—or room—without taking away valuable living space. They're safe,

Get all these benefits—whether you're buying, building or modernizing

CLEANLINESS . . . The cleanest heating method ever devised, electric heating means walls, draperies, carpets and furniture stay cleaner longer. With electric heat, there's no soot or other products of combustion circulating in the air.

CUSTOM COMFORT . . . Keep one room at 72, another at 65. The temperature can be up in one room, down or completely off in another.

EFFICIENCY . . . Electric heat lets you raise the temperature in one room without firing up the entire heating plant. And with electric heat, all of the heat created is usable heat—none is wasted up a flue.

FLEXIBILITY . . . Electric heat can replace regular baseboards—can be built into the walls or ceiling. Whether it be one room or the entire home, there is a system to give better heating—electrically.

CARES FOR ITSELF . . . Set a dial, then forget it. There are no moving parts at all in radiant systems. Forced air electric heating systems are long-lived, too; they use low-velocity fans. In either type, there's little to wear out, need adjustment or replacement.

simple and compact. Best of all, they put real comfort at your family's fingertips. Simply dial the thermostat and heating begins at once, right where it's wanted. It's so comfortable you'll hardly know it's winter.

These are benefits that mean something. Made possible only by electric heat, they more than make up for the increase in operating costs. Phone or visit your Detroit Edison office for more facts or mail the coupon.

SAFETY . . . No combustion process. No worries. Concentrations of superheated air are eliminated. Electric heating systems distribute heat safely, gently.

REDUCED RATE . . . In addition to the money saved on cleaning and decorating, residential customers can now take advantage of a new, lower rate. Just 2¢ per kilowatt-hour when monthly electrical use is over 750 kilowatt-hours. Though other living costs have been rising steadily during the past several years, electricity remains one of your biggest bargains—now more than ever, with this new and lower rate step.

Look for this symbol when you buy. It assures you of safe, dependable installation. For complete information about electric heating, stop in at the Edison office near your home or send in coupon at right for free booklet about electric heating.

Conversation Topics Generally Seasonal

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
One of those fashion magazines we women read avidly in a desperate attempt to know whether we are going to have to chop off everything in last year's wardrobe or let out hems (it always seems to be one or the other) has a regular feature called "People Are Talking About."

For years this feature has held a strange fascination for me, because nobody I talk to ever talks about "People Are Talking About."

I never even overhear people talking about what they are supposed to be talking about. The talk I hear is always seasonal. In the fall I know women will be talking about what a relief it is to have the kids back in school, how busy they are with club work, what they are doing in the way of redecorating and clothes.

The men will be talking about football and politics and hunting. In the winter the women will be talking about Christmas shopping, entertaining, how their children are getting along in school—and clothes.

Men will be talking about bills. In the spring women will be talking about yards, redecorating, vacation plans—and clothes.

In the spring men will be talking about income taxes. In the summer women will be talking about where they went on their vacations, how glad they will be to have school start—and clothes.

Men will be talking about fishing or golf or baseball or boating.

No matter what the season both men and women talk about frightening headlines and argue politics.

But none of these items ever gets into "People Are Talking About." . . . Maybe the editors of fashion magazines don't talk to anybody but each other.

Ocean Waters Now Wash the Red Decks of the Bluebelle

By BEN FUNK
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — On Sunday, Nov. 12, the graceful ketch Bluebelle sailed on a freshening wind through the Northwest Providence channel of the Bahamas, her bow slicing through six-foot swells on a course for Florida. On board was a happy vacation party, the Arthur Duperrault family of Green Bay, Wis., taking the tropic ocean cruise of which they had long dreamed.

 At 9 p.m., Terry Jo, 11, and her sister, Renee, 7, went to bed in the after cabin below. Mr. and Mrs. Duperrault and their son, Brian, 14, remained on deck in the balmy darkness, visiting with Capt. Julian Harvey and his wife, Mary.

 Then, some time that black, moonless night, a terrifying disaster swept the deck of the Bluebelle. The captain's testimony was interrupted by a telephone call. Something else had floated free from the sinking Bluebelle. On picked up the ketch's lifeboat. It was Harvey and the body of Renee. An intensive air-sea search turned up no other survivors and no trace of the Bluebelle.

TELLS HIS STORY
 In Miami, Harvey told Coast Guard investigators in the mailman snapped in a 20-knot wind and pierced the deck and hull. Then fire broke out amidships, he said, and the others jumped overboard. By the time he had floated the lifeboat, he could find no one but the dead Renee in the tossing sea.

The captain's testimony was interrupted by a telephone call. Something else had floated free from the sinking Bluebelle. On

She had awakened to screams, found the bodies of her mother and Brian lying in pools of blood in the central cabin, and saw more blood on the top deck.
 An angry, wild-eyed Harvey struck her, she said, then took the lifeboat and the Bluebelle's rubber raft and abandoned her on the deck of the sinking ketch. She found the cork raft and floated it just as the Bluebelle went down. There was no question to investigators which story to believe. Harvey's suicide had removed whatever doubts there might have been.

"Possibly, it was money that again and found himself unable started it," theorizes a veteran Miami homicide detective. "Perhaps he pushed his wife overboard for her insurance, was seen in the act, and then went mad."
 Only a short time before, Harvey had taken out a $40,000 policy on Mary. Friends said he always aspired to a country club life that he couldn't afford.

She has never cried.
 "She has successfully repressed the awful things she witnessed, the things she can't now bear to remember," a psychiatrist says.
 "But there will be a reaction, a terrible, unforgeable reaction. Perhaps it will come when she last moment, became rational, returns home, to her real world."

NAVY'S NEW N-CARRIER—The Navy's huge new nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise, in its sea trials off Newport News, Va., is a definite thorn in the Soviet's side, say its captain, Vincent Paul De Poix. The carrier, 1,123 feet long, is 55 feet longer than the Navy's other two nuclear carriers, the Constellation and the Kitty Hawk. She will carry seven aircraft squadrons, one more than the others and will have a total crew and air group of more than 4,500 men.

SLASHES HIS WRISTS
 The little girl was in desperate condition. It would be some time before she could tell her story. He slashed his veins and bled to death on the floor of a Miami motel room.
 Two days later, Terry Jo blurted out the story she had come so far to tell.

HURT MANY TIMES
 Harvey, a tall, muscular, Errol Flynn-type adventurer, had lived a violent life in which it seemed he constantly courted death.
 Two yachts had sunk under him. As a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force, he crashed two fighter planes. In the second, he was cruelly hurt.

The second of his five wives, Joan, and her mother drowned when Harvey drove an automobile off a bridge into a Florida bayou. Again, Harvey escaped, claiming he was thrown free of the diving car.
 As the violent years wore on, Harvey became extremely nervous and a stammer that had always afflicted him became more and more pronounced.

WHY?
 Why did he go berserk on the Bluebelle?

Winter Driving Tips Cut Out Booby-Traps

Most motorists exercise extra caution in winter, yet it takes more than caution to survive the unique booby-traps on snowy streets and highways. There are definite driving techniques a motorist should know and practice during the season of snow, rain and long hours of darkness.
 Here are 10 tips that can help you:

1. Ice becomes more slippery as the temperature rises. You're more apt to skid when the temperature hovers around the freezing point.
2. When streets are slippery, keep a light foot on the gas pedal to avoid spinning your wheels. Increase engine speed slowly when you want to go faster.
3. Treat every curve or turn as though it were a stop. Pump your brakes to slow down so that when you reach a curve you're moving so slowly you can actually give the engine a little more gas and drive through the curve.
4. Roads are most slippery after a light shower or at the start of a heavy rain. The moisture combines with the dirt and oil on the road to form a slick film.
5. In rainy or slushy weather, stay far enough behind the car in front so you won't spray mud or ice into your windshield.
6. Short days and long hours of darkness make traveling on unfamiliar routes difficult. Only reflective direction signs and route markers that glow brightly in your headlights are available to help you.
7. CARRY EQUIPMENT
 Make sure you carry winter driving equipment. Carry a cloth in your glove compartment so you can wipe off road slush thrown on your windshield. Be sure you also have a snow brush and ice scraper to keep your windshield clear.
8. Wipe the soles of your shoes free of snow and mud before using the foot pedals of your car. You'll reduce the possibility of your foot slipping off the brake or accelerator.
9. Rock your car back and forth when stuck in snow or mud. This can best be done by accelerating slightly while shifting alternately into low and reverse.
10. Don't let a clear road fool you in winter. Frost or patches of ice tend to settle in shady spots.

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—U.S. scientists have picked three astronauts, including the nation's No. 1 spaceman, as candidates for America's first attempt to rocket a man into orbit around earth. United Press International learned that the team includes "veteran" spaceman Alan B. Shepard Jr., two-time namesake John H. Glenn Jr. and comparatively little-known M. Scott Carpenter.

heard" flight by a baby chimpanzee, expected next week.
 Sources said the No. 1 candidate for the first manned orbital trip probably would be either Shepard or Glenn, with Carpenter as a "darkhorse" candidate and possible "backup" astronaut. The field is expected to be narrowed to a "prime" and a "backup" shortly.

Shepard, Glenn and Carpenter were chosen from a team of seven U.S. astronauts who have been in training since the Mercury program began nearly four years ago. The other four — Virgil I. Grisom, Leroy G. Cooper Jr., Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Donald K. Slayton — will be considered for future orbital flights, officials said.

One of the three will don a silver spacesuit within the next few weeks and climb aboard a modified war rocket, to be whirled three times around earth within 4½ hours.
 If all goes as planned, the free world's first manned orbital trip will be "in between" in comparison with the epic space voyages of Russian Cosmonauts Yuri Gagarin and Cherman Titov.
 Gagarin went down in the history books as the first spaceman when he soared once around earth April 12 aboard the "Vostok" space ship. Titov's flight, although second, was far more daring — 17 orbits to a safe landing in the Soviet Union last August.

An American astronaut isn't expected to get his chance until late January or February. The six-million Mercury nine-space program still has one key test to go — a three-orbit "re-

Continuing Search for Missing Hunter

TROUT LAKE, (UPI) — The search continued today for an Air Force technical sergeant missing for more than a week now in the wild swampland and woods here. Leon Kulchewski vanished while hunting deer a week ago Thursday. He was stationed at nearby Kincheloe Air Force Base.
 Thursday more than 150 from the air base and the sportsmen's club in Newberry went through the area. A 100-ft. shoulder to shoulder line of hunters searched for the missing hunter. A helicopter also aided in the search.

Boat Club Told to Halt Parking

Judge Rules Ferndale Avenue Lots Being Used Illegally

Members of the Oakland County Boat Club must look somewhere else to park their boat trailers and cars.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer has ordered the club, 2330 Ferndale Ave., nearby Lake, to stop using two nearby lots on Ferndale Avenue for parking because they are zoned residential.

"The law will not permit the further development (of the lots) for this purpose," said Judge Beer in granting a permanent injunction to the city of Sylvan Lake against the club.

Judge Beer ruled in two lawsuits, later consolidated as one brought by the city and two city residents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Baruch, 2370 Pontiac Drive.

The city acted only after the Baruchs and other unhappy citizens protested regularly to the City Council that it was not enforcing a city-zoning ordinance.

COMMODORE PROTESTS
After the judge's ruling, Kenneth A. Peterson, 309 Osborn St., commodore of the 150-member club, said the club "was being deprived of the right to use the property vested in us."

But Dean G. Beier, attorney for the club, argued that the club could continue to use the lots under the law of nonconforming use.

It had been wrapped in cloths that might have been soaked in an oil, they said.

Police said the daughter, Blanche Nowinski, 35, told them she had complied with her mother's request not to be buried in the family cemetery plot because of family disagreements.

Neighbors reported to police, however, that Miss Nowinski had told them her mother was in a home for the aged.

Miss Nowinski told police she had taken care of her mother for more than 10 years until she died of natural causes on Feb. 14, 1946, at the age of 80.

Miss Nowinski's landlord found the body when he investigated her apartment after seeing her run from the house. She was picked up by police yesterday.

Miss Nowinski has consented to be examined at a city hospital, police said. No charge has been placed.

War on Alcoholism to Be Waged Here

Alcoholism Information Week, an educational and informational campaign emphasizing that alcoholism is a treatable disease, will be observed in Pontiac from Sunday to Dec. 3, it is announced by Rev. William LaFontaine, president, Advisory Council to Pontiac Alcoholism Information Center.

The campaign is part of a nationwide observance being sponsored by the National Council on Alcoholism, the national voluntary health agency in the field of alcoholism.

Free literature and films are available at health department, City Hall.

Retired Wood Cutter Passes 112th Birthday
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Until four years ago, Tom Reason of Kaufman, Tex., was a wood cutter.

He had to quit because of a back injury suffered in an auto accident.

Thursday was his 112th birthday and he celebrated with a Thanksgiving feast at the home of a granddaughter, Mrs. Virgil Shaver.

"I feel as though I could still chop a cord of wood," said Reason, who was making his living that way when the Civil War battle of Gettysburg was fought.

Republican Charge Into Battle?

This might be more wisdom than reluctance for at least two of them: former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Cardinal Recalls Problems Faced at Inauguration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Remembrance the smoke that curled from the lectern while Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston delivered the invocation at President Kennedy's inaugural last January?

"That was the devil asking for equal time," a letter-writer suggested to the cardinal later. The Boston archbishop told the story in remarks prefacing his sermon at the annual Pan-American Mass here Thursday.

He said most people who commented on the invocation thought it was too long. It ran more than 10 minutes.

Four clergymen participated in the inaugural, "I thought I was the only one," said the cardinal. "Why they had to have four of us there praying for him, I don't know."

ALL ARE BUSY
Nixon's been making speeches and statements and writing newspaper articles. Goldwater has been extremely busy denouncing the Kennedy administration. And Rockefeller sticks his opinion into national affairs.

The very best way for Nixon and Rockefeller to stay in the public consciousness is to win their governorship races next year.

They could also line up state delegations for themselves in the 1961 convention.

If either loses the governorship, he becomes overnight a political dead duck. Nixon has a tough fight in California. A big unknown for Rockefeller is whether his impending divorce will hurt him.

Goldwater looks the surest of the three to remain a national figure until 1964 and perhaps until beyond 1968, too. His present Senate term does not end until 1964.

SENATE POSSIBILITY
If he sees no chance of a presidential nomination that year he can run for the Senate again. He probably has a good chance to win. If he does, he will be in the national eye for another six years after that.

It's questionable the Republican party—even if Nixon and Rockefeller were out of the picture—would pick Goldwater as its presidential candidate. He's on the far right at a time when the country as a whole and the head of the Republican party—former President Eisenhower—are like Nixon and Rockefeller standing in the middle aisle.

Even if Nixon and Rockefeller won their governorships—but for some reason did not seek or get the presidential nomination in 1964—they would have a critical problem in trying to wait for it until 1968.

In both cases the governorship runs four years. That would put them on the sidelines in 1966 unless they sought and won re-election or found some other way of staying aloft until 1968.

Blaze Damages Hotel
MASSENA-N.Y. (UPI)—A small explosion touched off a fire in the 60-year-old Hotel De Grange here last night. No one was reported injured. Owners estimated the damage could reach up to $75,000.

Still, all three men are young enough to wait—another seven years if they have to.

$5,000 Grant by Board Leads to Appointment

A former home economics teacher, 4-H Club worker and volunteer leader has been appointed a second 4-H Club agent for Oakland County.

Mrs. Donald B. Montney of 2238 Georgeland St., Drayton Plains, was named by the State Board of Trustees of Michigan State University. The appointment also has the approval of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' Extension Committee.

According to Lyle B. Abel, director of the County Cooperative Extension Service, the addition of a second county extension agent has been considered necessary for three years on account of increased interest and participation in 4-H Club activities.

There are over 1,500 youngsters now involved in the club's work in Oakland County, he added.

Mrs. Montney's appointment was made possible by a grant of $5,000 from the board of supervisors which will pay a part of her salary.

She will work with leaders in the home-making area and assist in the work of the present county extension agent, in administration of the county clubs.

The new agent will assume her new duties Dec. 1.

At St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Montney has been in 4-H Club work for 14 years, both as member and as a volunteer leader. She has completed 27 project years in the home-making area at Fairgrove High School in Tuscola County.

For the past two years she has worked as a library aid in the Pontiac Public Library, having to do with her 4-H activities for lack of time.

Married and the mother of four boys, age 4 to 9, and a 7-year-old Korean girl adopted in 1956, Mrs. Montney is going to work full time on her 4-H job.

She promised the children that when one of them reached 10 years of age and could qualify for membership (Bruce is looking forward to his birthday next month) they could have a club again at home.

Child Study Club Plans Gift-Giving Drive for the Ill

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Child Study Club is collecting gift articles for patients in the Pontiac State Hospital. Gifts will be packaged by the group and delivered to the hospital.

Suggested gifts include cosmetics and toilet articles, books, games and writing equipment and snooker's items. In addition, knitting materials, candy and toys for children are acceptable.

All containers should be non-breakable.

Members of the group who will accept donations and give information on the drive are Mrs. Paul Stokoe, 117 Gregg St.; Mrs. James Madden, 330 Red Oak St.; Mrs. George Madden, 541 Pine St.; Mrs. Thomas Lusk, 104 W. Tien St.; and Mrs. L. C. Stokoe, 104 W. Tien St.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Grand Valley State College board of trustees met today at a site planning session to select a site for the school campus layout by 1975 and to select an architect for the first building. Action comes at the board's regular monthly meeting.

WED 60 YEARS—Rev. and Mrs. Ernest O. Sanders, 3710 John R. Road, Avon Township, will be honored on their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday. They will receive friends at an open house from 2 to 6 p.m. at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Richard Couch, 3678 John R. Road, Rochester. The Rev. Mr. Sanders was chairman of the Henry Ford Trade School and pastor emeritus of the Union Church, Detroit. Besides their daughter the couple has two sons, Rev. Norman Sanders of Oxford and Paul of Rochester; six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Christmas Mart Planned Dec. 2

Area Branches of Farm and Garden Association to Sponsor Event

Nineteen area branches of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will sponsor a Christmas Market Dec. 2 at the Northville Community Center.

In addition to providing ideas for home decorations, there will be demonstrations showing how to make many of the items on display.

The annual event, held in Birmingham last year, will begin at 11 a.m. and continue to 8 p.m. Demonstrations will be at 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m.

The participating branches have conducted workshops all fall to make the particular items their groups will have for sale and for demonstration.

The branches sponsoring the show are Valley Woods, Foxcroft, Birmingham, Royal Oak, Berkshire, Livonia, Rosedale Gardens, Glencoe and Spangfield Holly. Other sponsoring clubs are Pine Lake, New England Estates, Meadowlake, Bloomfield Farms, Oakdale, Westchester, Plymouth, Pontiac and an individual Southdown.

The children have collected jam and jellies this month for the Methodist Home for the Aged at Chelsea.

In addition, the youngsters are taking up a collection for the "Hong Kong Rice Program" of CROP. This is a project to provide one adequate meal a day for the children of destitute families in the British colony, most of whom are refugees from communist China.

St. Clair Youth Dies of Accident Injuries

FORT HURON (AP)—Randall McCullough, 16, St. Clair, died here Thursday of injuries suffered last Sunday when his motorcycle was hit by a car on U.S. 25.

The driver of the car said McCullough was driving the motorcycle without any lights.

Thugs Kick Beer Clerk, Then Grab $200 in Cash

JACKSON — Three men held up a beer store here Thursday taking $200 in cash from clerk Gordon Good.

Good was forced to lie on the floor by the men who held him at knife point. They then kicked and beat him severely. He was reported in fair condition today, however.

Highway accidents with farm tractors are on the increase, say Michigan State University agricultural engineers.

Teacher Body Urges Fight on Censorship

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A committee within the National Council of Teachers of English has urged that the organization stand against what it termed a wave of censorship which threatens to remove some classics from the bookshelves of high schools and colleges.

The council's Committee on Censorship and Controversy took the stand Thursday during the group's annual convention, which some 700 English teachers are attending.

School Tax Before Voters

SOUTHFIELD — The Southfield Board of Education will ask voters in a special election Monday to approve a $7.2 million bond issue to new school buildings and additions.

A five-mill tax for operations also will be decided.

Three of the mills would be an extension of current taxes, approved by voters in 1957 and which expires the end of this year.

The bond issue, one of the largest ever requested in South Oakland County, would be used to finance the construction of a new junior high school, two elementary schools and an addition to the Southfield High School.

The unit to the existing high school would house about 600 students.

Also to be built, if the bond issue is authorized, would be 19 new classrooms to existing elementary schools, one kindergarten, two libraries and a multipurpose room.

NEW OFFICES ALSO

New offices for the administrative body of the school system also would be built, probably at the present high school site, Lahser and 10 Mile roads.

The decision by the school board to place the two proposals before voters follows the recommendations made in October by a Citizens Survey Committee on school needs, headed by Dr. Donald Leu of Michigan State University.

The current school levy in the district is $32.75 for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation. The proposed millage increase would hike taxes about $3.20 over the current rate.

The tax hike would be slightly higher in the Lathrup Village portion of the school district where school taxes are $40.30 for each $1,000 of equalized valuation.

The school board is requesting that the millage continuation and increase run for five years.

The last bond issue approved by Southfield voters was 1957 when the school board asked for $1 million. Two years later another $1 million tax levy was approved.

horo Road, South Lyon, and Carleton and Ketter Boverie, 4105 South Hill Road, Commerce Township.

Carol and Bob McFadden, 63343 West 8 Mile Road, South Lyon, will show individual Herefords.

The show is jointly sponsored by the 4-H Club department of Michigan State University and the Detroit Junior Livestock Society.

Animals will arrive on Dec. 5. They will be shown the next day and auctioned off the final day of the show. The society will present over $2,000 in prizes as well as showmanship trophies and a four-year scholarship to MSU to the competing youngsters.

Judges will name a grand champion market hog, steer and lamb. In a special lamb carcass sale, the exhibitors will see their animals judged on foot and then compare notes with the judges when the carcasses are placed at a Detroit packing plant.

The young exhibitors will be hosted by the society at a banquet Wednesday at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, headquarters for the show.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO KICK OFF YULE SEASON WITH PARADE, CONTESTS

UTICA — The Greater Utica Chamber of Commerce will kick off its Christmas Festival 7 p.m. tomorrow with a parade bringing Santa Claus into town for his first stop of the Yuletide season here.

The parade will approach from the north, come down Cass Avenue and leave Santa in his trailer at Utica Park.

Utica will boast the largest Christmas tree in the area, C. C. of C. officials said. The 75-foot tree stands at 4500 Van Dyke and will be decorated by the Chamber of Commerce.

In addition, the group will sponsor home and business decorating contests.

Savings bonds will be given for the best decorated homes and a plaque will be awarded the most festively bedecked business place.

Entry blanks may be obtained from any C. C. member.

Santa will return again on Dec. 16 and will be at his trailer until Dec. 23.

Hunter in Fair Condition After Gun Shot Wound

CADILLAC — Bertrum L. Howler, 13, of Cadillac was reported in fair condition after surgery in fair condition at Mercy Hospital after emergency surgery Thursday for a severe gunshot wound suffered while deer hunting nearby.

State police said he and a companion were starting to hunt when a shot rang out and a slug struck Howler in the left arm and passed through it into his back. Police sought the shooter.

Pair Wed in Waterford

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Exchanging marriage vows recently at the Assembly of God Church in Waterford Township were Bonnie Lou Hall and Larry L. Ridgeway. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. Orville J. Windell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd G. Hall of 1030 Dorene Road. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ridgeway of 1427 Porter Road.

For her wedding the bride chose a white ballerina-length gown, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Maid of honor was Kathleen Stangle of Waterford, and the best man was the bride's brother Floyd M. Hall served as the best man.

A reception at the White Lake Community Hall followed the ceremony.

Mrs. America Has a Problem

COOKING THAT BROUGHT AWARD SENDS REDFORD WOMAN ON CRASH DIET

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. America of 1962—39-year-old Lila Masson of Redford Township, Mich.—is an attractive, green-eyed redhead, whose talent with a cookbook sometimes plays havoc with her curves.

Mrs. Masson won her title here Thursday, besting contestants from 49 other states and the District of Columbia for the title of America's top homemaker.

Her husband, Cleve, 40, a department store executive, rewarded her with a kiss after she was crowned.

"He was my greatest supporter," she said. "He kept saying I could win."

Of course, there will be other feuds for this Michigan mother of three. Her prizes include a $5,000 national personal appearance tour, a free wardrobe, European and Florida vacations and $500 cash.

Mrs. Masson's only regret about her contest victory was that she was unable to have Thanksgiving Day dinner at home with her children—Diane, 17; Thomas, 12; and David, 9.

The children learned of their mother's good fortune just as they were sitting down for Thanksgiving dinner with their grandparents. A friend of Mrs. Masson telephoned them the news.

The family broke out with a cheer, and the boys rushed out to tell neighbors, ignoring the turkey and mashed potatoes. Diane grabbed the telephone and called some good friends.

"We've been taking it for years," Mrs. Masson said. "Sometimes we have it too often and I have to go on a crash diet."

Normally a curvaceous 135 pounds, Mrs. Masson pared down to 130 for the contest, then almost neglected to enter the Mrs. Michigan competition, which was a finalist in the 1959 judging when she entered it "as a lark."

Still astonished hours after she was declared the winner, Mrs. Masson admitted:

"I'm on cloud nine. It's a dream—I don't think I actually got up this morning."

PTA Will Review School Study Report

WALLED LAKE — The facts and figures on school needs that were compiled recently by the Citizens' Committee will be reviewed Monday at a meeting of the Decker Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association.

Supt. Clifford H. Smart will present the findings of the Citizens group following a short business meeting at 8 p.m. and a music program by the sixth grade chorus.

The school will open at 7:30 p.m. to allow parents to visit their children's room and talk with the teachers.
