UAW Works as Usual

FORD STATEMENT — John S. Bugas, vice president in charge of industrial relations at Ford Motor Co., issues his firm's statement after negotiations with the United Auto Workers stopped at midnight last night. Ford's contract with the UAW died at that same time, midnight.

'NOT SEEKING ADVANTAGES' — United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther says the union wants "a sensible and sane, a fair and reasonable solution" in dealing with the Big Three auto makers. Some 465,000 were at work today without contracts at GM, Ford and Chrysler.

500,000 on Job Today Without Union Contract

Pacts Expire for Ford, Chrysler Last Midnight; Truce Uneasy

DETROIT (AP)—In an air of uneasy truce nearly 500,000 auto workers went to their jobs today without protection of a union contract.

There were no reports of incidents halfway through the first shift of no-contract work at the 275 General Motors, Chrysler and Ford plants throughout the country.

For GM and Chrysler it was the first time since 1937 that workers across the nation have turned out cars without a union contract. At Ford plants it was the first time since 1941.

The United Auto Workers Union's contracts with Ford and Chrysler expired last midnight without a new agreement.

Despite the announced intentions of both the companies and the union to continue normal operations without a contract, there was doubt about the future.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the UAW, came out of last-night negotiations with stern orders to UAW members not to strike or provoke any incidents that could give the companies an excuse to shut down plants.

The auto companies have cautioned their supervisors to keep a sharp eye out for slowdowns or sabotage.

First actual no-contract work was done Friday at three GM plants in the Atlanta, Ga., area. While other plants were closed for Memorial Day, the Atlanta plants remained open. Workers there got a holiday April 26 in observance of Confederate Memorial Day. There were no incidents reported.

Warmer Weather? Still None in Sight

The U.S. Weather Bureau has issued a forecast of fair and quite cool for the Pontiac area tonight. The low will be from 42 to 46 degrees.

Tomorrow's outlook is mostly sunny and warmer in the afternoon with a high of 70-74.

In a five-day extended weather forecast the bureau has predicted that temperatures will average two to four degrees below the normal 75 high and normal 55 low.

Warmer temperatures are expected tomorrow and Wednesday with cooler temperatures due Thursday and higher temperature readings again on Friday and Saturday. Showers are expected Wednesday and Saturday.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 48. At 1 p.m. the mercury stood at 63.

What Are They Doing There?

Soviet Ships Off Canada

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials are wondering what, besides fishing, half a dozen Soviet vessels may be doing about 100 miles off Canada's east coast.

The ships have been scouted, and U.S. naval and air officers noted that the number never seems to vary much, whether or not there are fish in the area. The vessels have been seen near an area marked by buoys flying small Soviet flags.

The place where the Soviet ships have been stationed lies in international waters and the general area is visited by fishing craft of a number of nations.

There was speculation the Russians might be engaged in observing movements of American and Canadian ships and aircraft.

The Soviet government complained that an American military plane had flown too close to one of the vessels.

An American official, who asked to remain anonymous, told reporters the charge was baseless.

Oakland Clerk Dies Suddenly

Lynn D. Allen Stricken on Holiday at Au Sable River Saturday

Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen died Saturday night of a heart attack at his summer cottage near Grayling.

Death came to 59-year-old Allen in Grayling Mercy Hospital where he was taken Saturday afternoon after becoming ill while spending the Memorial Day weekend with his wife Florence at their home on the Au Sable River.

With him when he died at 10:15 p.m. were his wife, son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Lynn D. Allen Jr., of Pontiac.

The fatal attack ended one of the longest tenures ever held by an elected Oakland County official. Allen became clerk Jan. 1, 1952 and three months ago announced he would seek his 14th consecutive two-year term in the August primary.

Allen, a Republican, held the record for the longest length of service along with present Treasurer Charles A. Sparks.

Filling the position as clerk until a successor is either appointed or elected, is Chief Deputy Clerk Wilfred S. Cooney Jr., who worked under Allen for 10 years.

Allen's body will lie in state at the Voorhes-Siple Funeral Home, 268 N. Perry St., until Wednesday morning. The funeral will be at 3 o'clock that day at the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. William H. Marbach will conduct the service.

Burial will follow in the Ottawa Park Cemetery at 6180 Dixie Highway.

Pallbearers will be Cooney, Circuit Court Clerk Wilfred S. Cooney Sr., Louis E. Fairbrother, Walter H. Meinberg, and Lyle T. Stephenson, plus James K. Conway, Robert F. Potere, and Wilfred E. Mitchell, clerk in Allen's office.

Honorary pallbearers will be Circuit Judges Frank L. Doty, George B. Hartrick, H. Russell Holland, and Clark J. Adams, and Sparks, Frederick C. Zlom, Frank W. Irons, Daniel T. Mur-

Only a Beekeeper?

AUCKLAND, N. Z. (UPI)—Sir Edmund Hillary, the conqueror of Mount Everest, still is listed in Who's Who as a beekeeper.

"I still regard exploring in the light of a pastime rather than a life's work," he said. "Beekeeping is how I make my living and that is how I should be listed."

De Gaulle Given Complete Power

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly today voted 322 to 232 to grant Gen. Charles de Gaulle sweeping powers to govern by decree for six months.

The measure was sent immediately to the French Senate today and clear the way for the new premier's trip to Algeria to restore government authority over the rebellious territory.

The vote was almost identical with the 329-224 vote by which the Assembly invested De Gaulle hardly 24 hours earlier.

The Assembly voted the tall, grim-faced wartime resistance leader into office by a 329-224 vote last night after he insisted he be given a free hand to run France for the next six months.

The general made his sweeping demands in a cold, calm six-minute speech to the hushed chamber.

He needed the powers, he said, to avert a "breakup and perhaps civil war" in France.

De Gaulle told them he was demanding three major things of the Assembly:

(Related story page 18)

1. Continuation of full powers for Algeria.

2. Full powers to rule France by decree for the next six months.

3. The authority to rewrite the constitution to give the executive more power; to separate executive and legislative powers; and to realign the relationship between France and its empire.

The full powers for Algeria have been given to previous governments.

The full powers bill for Metropolitan France would give De Gaulle and his ministers the right to rule by decrees, which would be called ordinances.

Previous laws could be revoked, modified or replaced.

The constitutional reform proposal leaves De Gaulle free to rewrite the basic law.

The finished product would then be submitted to a national referendum, probably in October, without prior approval by Parliament.

Along with constitutional reform is expected to come electoral reform to change the present cumbersome system of voting only for parties under a proportional representation scheme.

De Gaulle's aides said he wanted to fly to Algeria this week for a first-hand survey of the situation.

The insurgent authorities in North Africa obviously were biding their time until they could talk with him personally.

The Assembly went back into session this morning after 24 of the most hectic hours in its long history. Prospects were that in another 12 to 24 hours of near continuous sessions, the general's demand for a virtual blank check would be approved.

Watching Lake Orion Water-Skiers

Freak Mishap Kills Man

An unusual accident took the life of a Detroit man, Edmund Larkin, 65, as he watched water-skiers on Lake Orion Saturday afternoon.

Larkin, of 15091 Warwick Rd., was standing on the dock of a friend when a section of the starter plate of an outboard motor struck him just above the ear.

He died 10 minutes after being admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, without regaining consciousness.

The boat, driven by James Sharf Jr., 15, of 616 Longpoint Dr., Lake Orion, was towing a water-skier. Both the driver and the boat's occupants were unaware of the accident.

The metal piece had been repaired recently, said police. Two Detroit boys, ages 8 and 10, standing nearby said they heard "a hissing noise in the air" and then saw Larkin fall.

Witnesses estimated the metal flew about 150 to 200 feet before striking Larkin.

FREAK ACCIDENT — Lake Orion Policeman, Fred Favre, looks at the small piece of metal which killed a Detroit man Saturday. Weather and Publicity Keep Accidents Down in Oakland Bad weather and good publicity were listed as the main reasons for light traffic and few accidents on Oakland County roads during the end of the Memorial Day weekend, local law enforcement officials said today.

"Traffic over the past weekend probably wasn't as heavy as it will be on the coming weekend," said Oakland County Under-Sheriff Elmer McQuern.

"The main reason for this was no doubt the large amount of advance publicity warning motorists to leave for their destinations early and not to rush," he explained.

According to sheriff's deputies and State Police, the traffic was heavy going out Thursday night and Memorial Day morning, but the expected homeward rush never materialized.

Trooper Stanley Sitkowski, at the Pontiac State Police Post, said today that "there was no congestion on county roads as was expected on Sunday."

"The rain Saturday evening and Sunday caused many weekend pleasure seekers to leave for home early Sunday, creating a steady flow of traffic but no jams."

Area parks and recreation areas reported capacity crowds on Memorial Day but the rain kept crowds to a minimum on Saturday and Sunday.

Although a rash of minor accidents were reported Thursday evening, mishaps leveled off on Memorial Day.

The county's only traffic death (first on the holiday period in three years) was recorded early Saturday morning.

George E. Pikula, 21, of Detroit, died of injuries received when the car in which he was riding overturned on Northwestern Highway, in Farmington Township, said Redford State Police.

His companion, Thomas Manning, 21, of Detroit, is still on the critical list at William Beaumont Hospital but reported "showing some improvement" today.

The rain also acted to make drivers more cautious, said authorities. Few personal injury accidents were reported during the expected "critical" period Sunday.

Damage was estimated by town and civil defense officials at a million dollars. Officials said a survey indicated two-thirds of the town's 400 homes were damaged and not immediately habitable.

State police ordered the town evacuated after the tank car filled with a petroleum product exploded and flames threatened two other tank cars filled with liquid chemicals. The cause of the blast was not immediately determined.

The tank car was one of 43 cars on an Illinois Central Railroad freight train which was switching in the yards. After the fire was put out, some 500 residents whose homes were not too seriously damaged were permitted to remain in town.

National Guardsmen were ordered into the town, in central Illinois about 30 miles northeast of Springfield, to aid in the cleanup and to prevent looting.

FELT 20 MILES AWAY
Several nearby communities, some 20 miles away, were reported shaken by the blast and residents in Springfield said they heard the explosion.

The explosion tore a crater about 35 feet across and 30 feet deep where the tank car had been. Chunks of steel, some weighing several tons, were hurled a quarter of a mile.

The shock of the wave shattered windows and tore off doors, porches and sidings of homes and other buildings throughout the town.

Hundreds of residents, fearing a second blast, drove to Lincoln 10 miles away. Food and shelter were provided at Central High School and a 200-bed emergency civil defense hospital unit. Other evacuees went to farms outside Mount Pleasant or to other nearby communities.

Tank Car Blast Kills Two, Devastates Town of 1,500

MOUNT PULASKI, Ill. (AP)—The shattering explosion of a railroad tank car spread devastation through this town of 1,500 persons yesterday, leaving some 1,000 temporary homeless.

Two railroad crewmen were killed and one was injured seriously in the violent blast.

More than a score of persons were injured by flying glass and debris. None were reported in serious condition.

Damage was estimated by town and civil defense officials at a million dollars. Officials said a survey indicated two-thirds of the town's 400 homes were damaged and not immediately habitable.

Any Birch Bark Canoe?

MACKINAW CITY (AP)—Anyone who owns a genuine—and seaworthy—birch bark canoe may save the day for planners of the forthcoming dedication ceremonies at the Straits of Mackinac bridge. The canoe is needed for a re-enactment of the 1634 visit of French explorer Jean Nicolet, according to publicity chairman Reuben Ryding.

Lynn D. Allen, 59, Dies on Holidays Up North

phy Jr., and Daniel W. Barry, all top county officers.

Allen was born Dec. 20, 1898 in Birmingham, where he attended his first school—the Old Hill School. He later attended Birmingham High School, where he began playing football. He later starred at Detroit Central High and the University of Detroit.

While only a freshman half-back weighing 187 pounds, Allen scored the only points ever scored by the University of Detroit against the University of Michigan. This was in 1917 when Allen booted a 37-yard drop-kick. But Michigan won 14-3.

He was a candidate for All-American honors that year.

At the time of his death Allen made his home at 4025 South Shore Dr., on Watkins Lake in Waterford Township.

Surviving are his wife, son, a daughter, Mrs. David H. Warrillow, of Pontiac, and four grandchildren.

World War I interrupted his college education in 1917 when he left school to enlist in the Navy. He served with the submarine destroyer fleet. Allen was discharged in 1919.

Before he left the service he married the former Florence J. Kellogg in Pontiac on Aug. 21, 1918.

Allen was a life-long resident of the county he served for so many years. He settled in Pontiac in 1920 following his Navy discharge.

His love for hunting and fishing cost Allen his right hand in a hunting accident in 1921. But this handicap didn't dampen his love for sports.

He played golf in par or near par figures, and once earned an American Legion golf tournament trophy.

Along with this means of relaxation came many more hours as a county Republican leader. He first entered politics when he sought the nomination for clerk in 1932. He won the nomination that year and was elected to his first term.

During his long tenure as clerk he worked diligently to streamline methods of preserving tons of county records. He was instrumental, along with Register of Deeds Murphy, in starting microfilming of these records this year.

Allen also, as a former president and secretary of the County Clerk's Assn., was credited with urging the passage of many new laws in the State Legislature which increased revenues in county clerk offices throughout the state.

His calling the roll of Oakland County supervisors always signaled the start of many Board of Supervisors meetings over which he served as clerk.

As clerk for so many years he was responsible for all county election results, along with his election staff. A major effort in streamlining elections in the county was made possible with Allen encouraging governmental units to adopt modern voting machines in place of the old-fashioned paper ballots.

Today all but five of the county's 296 voting precincts have voting machines.

The word "patriotism" and Old Glory meant a lot to Allen.

At the time of his death he was making plans for the 15th annual Flag Day service to be staged June 11 at the Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 810, of which he was a life member.

He served for many years as chairman of the Americanism Committee of the Lodge.

Allen kept in almost constant contact with thousands of citizens naturalized in Oakland County Circuit Court. The Flag Day celebration was arranged for these many persons as a reunion.

Boys also played a big part in Allen's life. Because he continually endeavored to work with them, mainly through organized athletic programs in and around Pontiac, he was named the "Father of the Year" by the Pontiac Boys' Club in 1943.

Allen served several years as president of the Oakland County Historical and Veterans' Foundation.

He worked also with many veteran organizations in the county and state. He was a member of the Veterans of World War I, the American Legion Cook Nelson Post, and formerly was first vice-president of the Republican War Veterans of Michigan 46 & 8.

Other organizations to which Allen belonged included the Oakland County Sportsman Club, the D Club of the University of Detroit, and the National Rifle & Skeet Club.

He served also as chairman of a State Americanization Committee.

The family has said that memorial contributions may be made to the Michigan Heart Association.

500,000 Workers on Jobs as Usual

runs out June 15; with Studebaker-Packard July 1.

Negotiations slipped into neutral today. The only meeting was at GM where the UAW asked that future talks be held elsewhere other than GM headquarters.

Reuther failed in last-hour attempts to win concessions from Ford and Chrysler before their contracts expired at midnight. He made the same maneuvers that failed at GM Thursday night. But the companies flatly rejected his moves for any kind of temporary extensions of contracts.

After the break-up at Ford, Reuther told newsmen, "We will ultimately get the companies to sit down and bargain with us the way they should. We will get a 1958 contract, whether it takes two weeks, four weeks or eight weeks. Time is on our side."

Reuther hasn't said how much the companies will have to sweeten their offers.

The companies didn't say how they planned to keep Reuther from stalling until model change-over time would give him a more favorable opportunity to strike. Reuther said it would be insane to strike now when the industry has 750,000 unsold 1958 model cars.

But in setting their own terms for keeping plants in operation, the companies cut off collecting dues from UAW members and turning the money over to the union. Now the union will have to collect its own dues.

The companies also dropped the union shop. This means that union membership is no longer a condition for employment.

It gives insurgent groups of skilled workers a chance to step up their drives to carve out separate bargaining units among craftsmen belonging to the UAW.

Ford's chief negotiator, Vice President John S. Bugas, said Reuther did not modify his demands. Bugas was grim faced as he spoke to newsmen.

"In the midst of the recession," he said, "the UAW is shooting for the moon with utter disregard for declining auto sales. Obviously, the aim is to make the company surrender to another round of wage inflation which already affects the whole economy."

GM and the UAW meet today to act on the union request that bargaining talks be switched from the GM building to a neutral site and set a date for resumption of negotiations. Ford and the UAW will meet Wednesday to set a date for resumption of negotiations which will be continued in the Ford building. The Chrysler-UAW talks were recessed indefinitely.

With the open air as its greatest cathedral, the Salvation Army last year conducted 83,703 open air meetings, and millions were reached through this unique ministry.

Father Throws Tot Free of Flames

DETROIT (U)—The sure hands of a neighbor helped 27-year-old Ralph C. Shefferly rescue his baby son from a home fire yesterday.

Shefferly, leaning out a second story window, dropped the baby, Paul, 14 months, to Don M. Schlemmer, 26, his neighbor, as the latter stood on a drain pipe about a few feet off the ground.

A fire had broken out upstairs in the home. Shefferly, a factory employee and part-time dental student, awoke in a smoke-filled room.

He seized Paul from the baby's crib beside his bed and ran to the window shouting for help.

Shefferly's wife, Eleanor, 26, and their two other children, Ricky, 4, and Karen, 3, were downstairs at the time and fled outside.

Then Shefferly leaped from the window to the ground. Paul was unhurt. The father suffered only minor burns.

Girl Suffers Broken Nose When Horse Slips, Falls

BIRMINGHAM — A Bloomfield Township girl, Geraldine Clark, 15-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry G. Clark, 5455 Franklin Rd., suffered a broken nose Saturday afternoon when the horse she was riding slipped and fell in front of a car at Telegraph and Long Lake roads.

The horse, owned by Dr. Hermon Linn, 1527 Kirkway Dr., Bloomfield Township, was fatally injured.

Mrs. Bernice W. Brown, 46, of 4536 Borland Rd., Walled Lake, told township police she saw the animal approaching the intersection fast and swung to try to avoid hitting it. The horse slipped and fell in front of her, and was struck in the head, Mrs. Brown said.

Geraldine, who had been riding with a group of other youngsters, was reported in good condition this morning at William Beaumont Hospital and will go home today.

Approval of the 1958-59 fiscal year budget will head tonight's Birmingham City Commission agenda which includes 10 public hearings.

Three will be on rezoning requests. They involve six lots, on the north side of Haynes street, now zoned for single family dwellings, which are being sought for income bungalow properties.

The Planning Board is recommending approval of reclassification of property at London and Ann streets from multiple family to business use.

A similar request has been asked of the northeast corner of Bowers and Elm street. This change also has the backing of the Planning Board.

The six other hearings concern street surfacing necessity. They include Lakeside drive, Midland street, Lakepark drive, Willow Lane, Pine street and Redding road.

Nation's Weather Varied Today After Big Rains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation had a variety of weather today after a weekend of rains and storms in many sections.

It was cool in much of the Midwest and warm and humid in Southern and Eastern sections. Temperatures were near normal levels in most other areas.

Unseasonable cold air from Canada spread across the upper and mid Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region southward to the Ohio River. The cool air was expected to spread into the Ohio Valley, lower Great Lakes region and New England.

The warm and humid weather of the last several days continued in Texas and south of the Ohio River and east of the Appalachians.

Clashing of cold air with warm moist air from the Gulf of Mexico triggered heavy rains in Tennessee. As the cold air moved southward during the night, strong winds struck sections of Kentucky and western parts of Nashville, Tenn. Nearly 2 inches of rain doused Chattanooga, Tenn.

Safecrackers in Detroit Steal $25,000 in Jewels
DETROIT (U)—Safecrackers robbed a Detroit couple of an estimated $25,000 in jewels during the weekend while the two were absent from home.
The gems, including diamond bracelets and pendants, were taken from a library cabinet safe at the home of hotelman Henry Keywell Saturday night.
Entry to the home was made by opening a side door through a milk chute. The thieves peeled back the front of the safe after failing to smash the combination lock.

Maternity Bras Help Preserve Bustline

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Large families seem to be the style today. When our children were growing up most of our friends had two, as we did, or three at the most. Today our children's friends have from three to five as a rule. This is a nice changeover.

The knowledge that she is pregnant brings a woman a deep and satisfying happiness. However, as her body swells with life it is natural for her to wonder if she ever will regain her once lovely figure. She is especially interested in preserving her bustline. She also is apprehensive concerning this since she has seen so many of her friends lose theirs.

If you are a mother-to-be, NOW is the time to give yourself figure preserving bosom support. The breasts enlarge and become heavier during pregnancy and six weeks is not too soon to give them special attention. Unless your breasts are well supported during this period, the delicate tissues will stretch out of place and will not return to their original form later on.

A maternity brassiere is NOT just a regular bra built in a larger size and of heavier material. Two ounces of care during this nine months will leave you with a beautiful bustline later on. I say two ounces because that is about what a maternity brassiere weighs.

There are many on the market. A particularly efficient type gives a good uplift with underlift construction. This is built to lift the bust upward and inward toward the opposite shoulder which is the medically recommended position for the well-supported bosom.

This important lift without flattening is accomplished by an underlift arrangement with three straps supporting the undercup at both ends so that the bust is cradled from beneath. Such a threeforked lift strap distributes the weight of the breasts so that there is no unnecessary strain on the shoulders.

An elastic stretch-tab where the shoulder strap meets the cup allows for natural expansion without pressure, strain or flattening. A band below the cups provides under support without cutting.

Allowance for expansion is made with little side pleats which can be let out and by a series of hooks and eyes. Straps on a maternity bra should be adjustable and some styles are even lined with flannel for comfort.

Preventative care during pregnancy will pay off afterward a million times over.

It is of the utmost importance to have well-fitted and scientifically designed brassieres to wear during and after pregnancy. You cannot expect your bustline to return to normal without help because the bust becomes heavier as pregnancy progresses and will stretch out of shape without underlift support.

NOT A NURSING BRA

Do not confuse a maternity bra with a nursing bra. The latter is for the months during which you are feeding your baby. A good one gives you scientific support and has convenient let-down flaps.

Begin wearing your maternity bra about the sixth week of pregnancy when the breasts begin to get heavier and larger. The bosom reaches its maximum development in about four months. Take your nursing brassieres to the hospital with you for use after the baby arrives and wear them until your blessed bundle moves on to the bottle.

After weaning the baby again use your maternity brassieres until your breasts have returned to normal. The right support will give you comfort during this period in your life and will preserve your figure. It also will lessen the tendency toward stretch marks. Also the young mother should always lie down when nursing her child. This is a great aid in preserving the bustline. The breasts are not so apt to become stretched and this habit also provides you with short rest periods during the day.

There is no reason to feel that you cannot have a lovely figure just because you have a baby—that is, if you take seriously the information I am bringing you this week.

Tomorrow: Girdles for the pregnant woman.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Care During and After Pregnancy" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 21 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Check New Shade Against Complexion

It's a sad day when a woman buys a new shade of dress or suit only to find it does little for her complexion. Hold fabric close to the face, perhaps draping it over a shoulder, to get an idea of how it will complement or detract from the skin.

Sidetrack Quarrel

It is embarrassing to a hostess to have guests let a discussion turn into an argument. When you see that a difference of opinion between you and another guest is getting out of hand, change the subject.

Old Fashioned Hermits Will Please Children

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Good old-fashioned cookies are always in style. This recipe for Hermits came from Mrs. Irvin Ingalsbe's mother and she used it for her children.

Mrs. Ingalsbe has a pretty blue parakeet whom she has taught to say lots of words. She likes to sew, to knit and to play bridge.

HERMITS

By Mrs. Irvin Ingalsbe
2 cups sugar, white or brown
1 cup shortening

2 eggs
1 cup raisins
1 cup nutmeats
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon soda
4 to 4 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon cloves
2 teaspoons cinnamon
Dash of nutmeg

Cream shortening and sugar. Add beaten eggs. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with milk. Add floured raisins and nuts.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on a greased baking sheet. Bake 15 minutes at 400 degrees. These keep well.

MR. AND MRS. A. F. SASSER JR.

Judith A. Ohngren Wed

St. Michael Catholic Church was the setting for the Thursday meeting of Judith Ann Ohngren and Arthur F. Sasser Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Garchow of Corwin court, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Sasser of South Hospital road.

The bride approached the altar wearing a gown of white lace over satin, in ballerina length, accented by a V-neckline. Her fingertip veil was secured by a cap of sequins and seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy streamers.

As maid of honor, Janice Sears, cousin of the bride, wore a ballerina-length gown of white lace over blue taffeta and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Attending his brother as best man was James A. Sasser.

At a reception held at the home of the bride, Mrs. Garchow wore a beige sheath dress with coral accessories. Mrs. Sasser wore a turquoise dress with maize accessories.

The couple left for a trip to the Smoky Mountains.

If you happen to get mud on your coat, you'll find it is easier to brush off after it dries.

Judith Ann Ohngren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Garchow of Corwin court, and Arthur F. Sasser Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Sasser of South Hospital road, were married Thursday at St. Michael Catholic Church.

Night Light on Plants Changes Life Span

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—An instructor at Rutgers University's School of Agriculture says that night lighting of plants may change their flowering, growth, dormancy habits—and life span. Roy H. DeBoer, an assistant instructor of landscape design, said that if night-lit plants go into winter in a soft and tender condition, chances of severe winter-kill are increased.

De Gaulle Assigns Cabinet Positions

PARIS (AP)—This is the coalition Cabinet lineup voted into office under Gen. Charles de Gaulle:

DE GAULLE — premier and defense minister; PIERRE GUILLAUMAT, non-partisan, deputy defense minister.

He Left Harvard to Act Helen Hayes' Son Glad

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Young James MacArthur, who quit college because he was "vegetating," is getting plenty of action with his dramatic career.

He's not so sure his mother, Helen Hayes, approved. But he quit Harvard, anyway.

"I went back last fall," said Jim, who was entering his sophomore year. "But I just couldn't get engrossed with what I was doing. I was just vegetating."

"I dropped out after two months because I thought it was foolish to continue when I wasn't getting much out of it. I've known too many guys who have done that for four years."

"I haven't given up college entirely. I may go back some day." It doesn't look too likely. For one thing, he got himself engaged to his school sweetheart, Joyce Bulfinch. Jim said it may be "one of those long engagements," but you never can tell.

Then there is the matter of his career, which is doing nicely. He is here to do a Studio One drama with Franchot Tone and Kim Hunter tonight.

He leaves immediately for New York and flies to Europe, where he'll do a bit of touring. In July, he reports to Switzerland to star in Walt Disney's "Third Man on the Mountain." Then in the fall he has a Broadway play he would like to do.

That doesn't sound as if he'll be returning to the ivied halls. "Some of the most educated people have never been to college," Jim reasoned. He added that his mother never went past high school although she holds 11 honorary degrees.

One of the reasons he may have left Harvard was that the university has no undergraduate drama courses.

He told of visiting the famed Actor's Studio in New York, where actors did a scene, then criticized each other. He felt the actors were unable to communicate with each other. On the other hand, he wasn't so sure they were able to understand the learned critique of the studio major domo, Lee Strasberg.

Petoskey Lines Up Second New Industry

PETOSKEY (AP) — Petoskey Development Corp. has lined up a second new industry for this town at the top of Michigan's Lower Peninsula.

The corporation said Saturday it has negotiated an agreement with Oglesby Equipment Co. of Detroit to establish a plant in the former C. M. Harris Mill here.

Oglesby will employ nine workmen at the start in manufacturing movable office partitions known as "thrift walls," the corporation said.

The development corporation is a non-profit organization formed to seek new industry for Petoskey. It recently agreed to finance a plant here for McLaughlin Co. of Farmington. McLaughlin is scheduled to begin production Aug. 1 with 35 employees.

Edward G. Robinson Jr. Hurt Falling 35 Feet

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Edward G. Robinson Jr. fell 35 feet from a balcony while fishing at his Malibu Beach home last night, sheriff's deputies reported.

The 25-year-old son of the movie star was taken to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. Dr. Robert Weir said he had numerous cuts and possible fractures.

At a preliminary stop at Malibu Emergency Hospital, doctors spent nearly 40 minutes removing sand from his eyes. Deputies said Robinson fell to the surf while casting.

Fisher Stays in Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer Eddie Fisher continued under observation in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital today after suffering a mild appendicitis attack Saturday night. Doctors said his condition is good and there are no plans now for an operation.

Says Ike Will Ask De Gaulle to Talks

PARIS (AP) — The newspaper Figaro said today that President Eisenhower plans to invite French Premier Charles de Gaulle to take part in the talks he will have next month with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

The paper's Washington correspondent said its information came from an "excellent source" in the U.S. capital and that the object of the talks would be to coordinate American, British and French policy in view of the possibility of negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Macmillan is coming to the United States late this week to speak at De Pauw University in Greencastle, Ind., and to talk in Washington with Eisenhower next Monday and Tuesday.

Educated Dog Fails to Get Law Diploma

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Although he has a degree from Baylor and the required hours in law school classes at Vanderbilt, Pic the dog marched across the stage at Vanderbilt graduation exercises without getting a diploma.

Pic didn't mind. He just wagged his tail and scratched his ear while his master, Jim Elston of Laredo, Tex., accepted his law degree last night.

Elston has been blind since 1947. Pic is his Seeing Eye dog, a German shepherd.

Elston graduated from Baylor in 1955 and Baylor gave diplomas to both man and dog.

Elston studied by having others read to him. His examination questions were recorded on tape and he wrote the answers on a typewriter.

Group Cites Threat to Economy Calls for End to Coddling of Unions in U. S. Courts

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Assn. of Manufacturers today called upon Congress and the courts to end their "special coddling of labor unions, charging that organized labor's "monopolistic" power is posing a major threat to the economy.

"The unions have attained size, strength and influence so great that the public interest requires that they be held to the standards of responsible adults," the NAM charges in a special booklet, "Loopholes in the Labor Laws."

The association noted the recent McClellan committee hearings into union corruption have brought demands for additional laws to check abuses within the unions.

However, these proposals have not been aimed at protecting the public and the economy from misuse of organized labor power, but only at protecting union members from the mishandling of union funds by the unions' own leaders, the NAM said.

Charging that a "double standard" exists for labor, the NAM pointed out that while the antitrust laws are being enforced against boycotts and agreements to boycott, restrictions on production, restraints on competition such as limiting supply, dividing territories and allocating markets, and the suppression of technological improvements.

Beyond these activities, it added, are the relatively recent nationwide rail, coal, steel and dock strikes which dramatically demonstrate that monopoly power is possessed by some of the international labor organizations.

Such work stoppages have the effect of restraining, impeding and preventing commerce and trade, while the public pays the bill, the NAM asserted.

Concluding that unions have "come of age," the association declared that they "must be held to the same standards of accountability as every other adult citizen, group, organization or association in the country."

lary enforced against labor in recent years.

"At present unions freely engage in activities for which businessmen would be promptly indicted, tried and convicted under the antitrust laws," the booklet pointed out.

It said these activities include boycotts and agreements to boycott, restrictions on production, restraints on competition such as limiting supply, dividing territories and allocating markets, and the suppression of technological improvements.
