Castro Furious at Ike Today

Kennedyites Fail to Get Vital 81 California Votes

Appears Gov. Brown Won't Release Them for First Ballot

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California plans to release his 81-vote delegation and to keep his name from going before the Democratic National Convention as a favorite son candidate, it was reported authoritatively today.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Supporters of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts apparently failed today in an attempt to corral California's vital 81 votes on the first Democratic presidential ballot.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown reportedly still was holding out against what was described as terrific pressure exerted by the Kennedy forces.

They have been trying to persuade Brown to give up his favorite son status in favor of Kennedy on the first round of the convention opening Monday.

One top Kennedy strategist described the governor as leaning toward announcing for Kennedy on one day and reluctant on the next. This strategist concluded, with a measure of resignation, that Brown probably will withhold the state's votes from the Massachusetts senator on the initial ballot.

This could be a major blow to Kennedy's hopes of steamrolling what promises to be a rip-roaring meeting of Democrats who sharpen their knives for the Republican by practicing on their fellow party members.

William A. Munnell, Los Angeles attorney who is chairman of the California State Central Committee, told a reporter he has been in close touch with the governor and: "I think he'll take his first ballot vote."

Asked about published reports that Brown already had passed the word that he would release the California delegation prior to the start of the convention, Munnell said: "No, I haven't heard that."

As an indication that Brown didn't see anything less than harmony within his spreadeagle delegation, Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson announced his support of Adlai E. Stevenson.

It was regarded as significant, however, that Anderson said he was making his announcement because "it is apparent that the California delegation will be released from its favorite son commitment at a very early stage of the convention."

It was no secret that the hopes of those opposing Kennedy for the nomination rested precariously on the belief that Brown and Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania would hold out against a parade of their delegates to Kennedy on what could be the all-important first roll call.

City, Waterford Vote Registration Totals Revealed

There were 37,389 registered voters on the rolls in Pontiac today and 19,308 in Waterford Township.

Since April 15, date of the last city election, there have been 1,377 new registrations, City Clerk Ada R. Evans reported.

In the last presidential election year primary in 1956, the total was 36,720. It soared to over 43,000 for the presidential election.

Waterford Township's registered voter total for the August primary in 1956 was estimated at 14,000 by James Seetler, township clerk. In July 1958 the total was 17,355.

Downed by Demonstrators

POLICEMAN INJURED — An injured Rome policeman is given first aid at the scene of Wednesday's Communist-led riot. Some 30 persons, half police and half rioters, were hospitalized after the fight near the Gate of St. Paul.

Hundreds Injured in Riots; Ike, Council Study Cuba, Civil War Threatens Italy, New Action

ROME (AP)—Italy's rioting leftist leadership today threatened to plunge the nation into civil war. The threat came as police in this ancient capital braced for more Communist vs. Fascist trouble after a wild night of rioting in the street and fistfights in Parliament.

REGGIO EMILIA, Italy (AP)—Machine-gun fire sounded through this city—a Communist stronghold—today as rioters attacked the 200 police. The Italian news agency Ansa said unconfirmed reports listed one dead and 29 injured.

In the worst week of disorders since early postwar days, nearly 500 leftist demonstrators have been injured in fighting from Genoa down to Sicily. More than 200 police have been hurt—135 of them in Rome Wednesday night.

Sen. Ennio Lussu, a pro-Communist Socialist leader, told a tumultuous Senate session that if President Fernando Tambroni's Christian Democratic government does not resign it will turn into "a government of civil war."

But Giuseppe Pignatelli, a Christian Democrat, replying to Communist charges of police brutality, shouted defiantly: "Clubs are not enough. Tanks are needed."

A wave of general strikes called by leftists began to hit every major city in Italy.

Rome was under a general strike from 1 p. m. until midnight, called by the Chamber of Labor, protesting police action against the rioters.

Fidel, Mad With Rage, Says President Acted Insanely, Stupidly

From Our News Wires
HAVANA — The U.S. cut in imports of Cuban sugar sent Fidel Castro into a boiling rage today.

However, the wild-eyed prime minister did not disclose immediately what American property he intends to seize next in retaliation.

A growing number of Americans were reported preparing to pull out of Cuba today in the face of probable seizure of all remaining U.S.-owned property and the possibility of increasing anti-Americanism.

There has been a big exodus of American residents of Cuba in the past year, reducing from 6,000 to about 3,000 the number left here.

But in the face of worsening Cuban-American relations, the exodus is being stopped, with private companies getting their employees and families out of the country—even though the U.S. Embassy is not urging Americans to leave.

"We are making no recommendations up to now," an embassy spokesman said. "It's up to the individual."

Fuming with anger, Castro appealed to other Latin-American nations to rally behind his "fight against American oligarchy."

He told a workers' meeting the cutbacks ordered by President Eisenhower would not halt his left-leaning revolution.

He also charged Eisenhower acted in a "moment of hate, degradation, insanity and stupidity."

Weather Outlook: Fair and Warmer for Friday

It'll be mostly fair and a little warmer tonight and Friday in the Pontiac area, the weatherman says.

Tonight the mercury will dip to a low of 56 degrees. It will climb to a high of 82 Friday. The slow warming trend beginning tomorrow will continue through the week-end, though scattered showers are expected Sunday or Monday.

Variable winds recorded at 10 a. m. today were northwest 6 m.p.h. The lowest temperature predicted 8 a. m. today was 56 degrees by 2 o'clock, this afternoon the thermometer read 78.

Toll: 1 Dead, 3 Saved, 17 Missing

Will Try to Raise Navy Blimp at Sea

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP)—The Navy began salvage work today in an effort to raise a giant blimp that buckled in the air and crashed into the sea off the New Jersey coast.

Seventeen men are missing and feared entombed in the gondola of the wrecked airship. Another crewman was killed and three others rescued in the disaster Wednesday.

A Coast Guard cutter placed an anchor into the wreckage today. Three Navy salvage ships were on the way to the scene 18 miles off Barnegat Inlet.

Capt. F. N. Klein Jr., commander of Fleet Airship Wing No. 1, said the wreckage is in water 35 feet deep and that the currents are shifty.

He told a news conference that part of the blimp's gondola is still believed attached to the 403-foot bag.

Klein said one of the survivors, A.M. 3 Antonio Contreras of Guadalupe, Tex., told his rescuers that the blimp was flying at 300 feet in good weather when he heard a loud noise. Contreras said it was not an explosion.

Contreras reported the ship went into the water at a 45-degree, nose-down angle. He heard no "ditch" alarm.

After escaping through the air cargo door, Contreras said he saw four other people in the water. He was picked up by a fishing boat in the area.

Asked if the three survivor ships of the blimp will be grounded until the Navy's investigation is completed, Klein replied that they won't be flying for a while but may be used in an emergency.

Contreras said Lt. Joseph J. Sanku of Lakewood, N.J., and Omaha, Neb., skipper of the blimp, was in command at the time of the crash.

Helicopters and blimps hovered overhead as ships continued to scour the area for possible survivors.

A Navy board under Klein's command will investigate the crash.

The Navy said it was mystified as to the cause of the disaster. One of the survivors said a helium line may have ruptured causing the sausage-like bag to collapse.

The Doris May III reached the command within three minutes after the 403-foot blimp fell limply into the water.

"It looked like a sagging banana. Then it crumpled and came down in a hurry," said Frank Mikulecky, 19, of Barnes.

Newport All Shined Up for Eisenhowers Today

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
NEWPORT, R.I.—This town of two faces swept the last beer cans from its red carpet today, tidying up for the arrival of its foremost summer visitor, President Eisenhower.

The last remnants of the weekend riots that left the city's streets littered with debris were whisked away by double shifts of the Newport Public Works Department.

The jazz cats who flocked here for the Newport Jazz Festival were gone. The troublemakers who touched off the riots Saturday night outside the festival park had also vanished.

The community was once again a quiet seaside resort, the playground of high society and a presidential vacation spot. The change was amazing.

Eisenhower travels to Newport today for an extended vacation of golf which could be clouded by troubles with Cuba.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived a mid-afternoon flight over Lake Superior land through Austria's mountains to Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

It's about an hour's flight to the Naval Air Station at Quonset Point, R.I., across Narragansett Bay from Newport.

From the air station the Eisenhowers will go either by helicopter or by presidential cabin cruiser, the Barbara Anne, to old Ft. Adams, part of the Newport Naval Base.

The summer White House—occupied by Eisenhower and his wife in 1958—is at Ft. Adams, close by the Newport Country Club golf course.

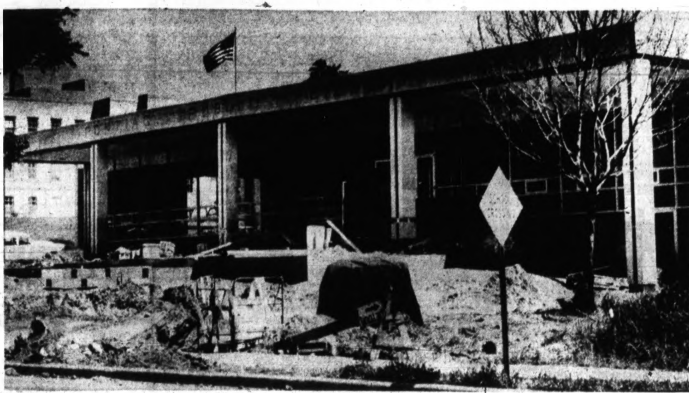

Matthews asked Austria's Foreign Minister Bruno Kreisky what steps the Austrian government "planned to take to make clear its disavowal" from Khrushchev's criticisms.

Khrushchev, who is 66, returned to Vienna Wednesday night after cutting short his whirlwind trip through Austria's mountains to the countryside. Soviet officials have insisted to reporters that negotiations with the Austrian government and preparations for tonight's television show made him shave 24 hours off his schedule.

But the evidence that his family and associates are anxious about his health is obvious and there seems to be cause for worry.

ST. ANDREW'S, Scotland (AP)—Roberto de Vicenzo, towering golf pro from Mexico, took over the lead in the British Open Tournament today by registering a second straight 67 for a 36-hole score of 134.

New City Library Shaping Up

NEARING COMPLETION — Construction of the $500,000 Pontiac Public Library building should be finished in about a month. Bursky Construction Co., the general contractors, said the exterior of the civic center building is virtually finished. Workmen are beginning final touches inside. The library was begun last fall as the key feature of Pontiac's centennial observance next year.

Hospital Fills Biochemist Post

Dr. R. J. Madden Will Head Chemistry Unit of Pontiac General

Appointment of Dr. Robert J. Madden to the new post of biochemist was announced today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Dr. Madden will be in charge of the chemistry section of the hospital's expanded laboratory. As such, he will have the status of a new department head.

The 44-year-old chemist arrived at the hospital earlier this week with two main tasks ahead of him. Donald Carr, assistant administrator, listed them as supervisor over the expanded staff of 14 laboratory technicians and institution of laboratory procedures in coordination with the medical staff.

The laboratory expansion is a result of the five-year building program.

"The new post was created not only because laboratory work is increasing to keep pace with our bigger patient loads," Carr said, "but because the hospital also wants quality performance in the laboratory."

DEGREE IN CHEMISTRY

Dr. Madden is not a medical doctor, but received his doctor of philosophy degree in chemistry from the University of Wisconsin. A native of Indianapolis, he was graduated from the University of Illinois.

Dr. Madden was a biochemist at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York City before coming to Pontiac.

He has been a biochemist at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital and the Veterans Administration Hospital in Philadelphia. He held research fellowships at the University of Wisconsin, Northwestern University, the University of Chicago school of medicine and the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md.

Dr. Madden is married and has one child. The Maddens live at 488 DeSoto Pl. Mrs. Madden, a teacher, plans to teach in Pontiac this fall.

Fidel Castro Wild With Rage at Ike

"The Cuban people's unity in the face of Yankee aggression,"

Castro in a speech to his mass meeting to dramatize his announcement of how he intends to strike back at the United States with his new power to seize any American property in the "national interest."

Castro appeared at a postmidnight closing session of the Metallurgical Workers' Congress only a few hours after Eisenhower had slashed 700,000 tons off Cuba's sugar quota.

In a hoarse voice, Castro declared "Cuba will show the rest of the world that the Cuban people that Cuba can march alone — that it is possible to march ahead without you (the United States)."

He asserted the United States would gain nothing by cutting Cuba's sugar quota to "ingratiate" herself with other countries.

"At the same time you take away Cuba's quota to give to someone else," Castro declared, "you are telling them that you want them enmeshed and that when they want to be free and defend their interests, you will take the quota away from them as you did with Cuba."

In cutting sugar purchases from Cuba the President ordered Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson to look for other markets to make up the deficit. Among countries being mentioned in Washington were Brazil, the Philippines, Mexico and Peru.

SHE MADE IT—A smiling, waving Dr. Barbara Moore is carried on the shoulders of two unidentified men in New York as she reaches her goal Wednesday, 85 days after leaving San Francisco on her transcontinental walk. The celebration was just a little premature because she has to make up five miles that she rode in a New Jersey State Police car yesterday to the Holland Tunnel. The ride enabled her to reach the city before nightfall. She walked off the extra miles in Central Park today.

Walked Over Nation to Prove Theories

NEW YORK (AP)—Why did Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, the British vegetarian, hoof it all the way from San Francisco to New York?

She paced off that distance—this morning in Central Park.

Her transcontinental trek was not exactly easy. There were storms in Colorado, where she had to walk through drifts on a mountain trail. She stepped into a hole in Utah. She was badly sunburned in Missouri and Illinois.

And in Indiana she was hospitalized three days after she was struck by a car.

"I never felt like quitting," she said, "but I had a long time."

She owes her stamina to a meatless diet, she said. On her way she drank grape juice, orange juice and water. She ate powdered cereals, cucumbers, sunflower seeds, sesame seeds, soybeanburgers, nectarines and other uncooked foods.

Dr. Moore left San Francisco April 13, a day after two British paratroopers set out on a search for the men—now—on a home from the Newport, R.I. to Bermuda sailboat race last month.

Ironically the yacht was found safe by a Navy submarine at almost the same moment the huge blimp radioed the international distress call "May Day, May Day."

"I just want sleep—lots of sleep," said Dr. Moore as she checked into a hotel.

In the bloodiest rioting since the 1968 election, 135 police and 150 demonstrators were injured. More than 50, including two left members of Parliament, were hospitalized. The street battle set off firestorms in the Chamber of Deputies.

The rioting produced another turbulent Parliamentary session today in the Senate as Socialists and Communists howled protests against police intervention in the Rome and the Communists in the Italian Parliament.

Charges by Interior Minister Giuseppe Spataro that the Communist party had planned and provoked the disorders brought a rising, angry clamor from the leftist senators.

An autopsy will be performed to determine the cause of Hunt's death. Authorities said there was no evidence of violence.

The victim's sister, Mrs. Edna Plotter, with whom he lives, said her brother had no enemies and believed his death must be accidental.

His body will be sent to Richmond-Bird Funeral Home at Millford for burial.

He also survived by another sister in New York and two brothers in Detroit.

A stark season resulted in the early laying up of the lake boat. Hunt's body was found floating near the vessel.

Recover Body of Lakes Sailor From Milford

The body of a Great Lakes sailor from Milford, missing since last Friday, was found yesterday floating in the harbor at Superior, Wis.

Arthur Hunt, 46, of 618 S. Main St., Milford, was working at laying out the S. S. Pathfinder for the season at Superior, when he was discovered missing. He had been a fireman on the ore carrier for the past four years.

An autopsy will be performed to determine the cause of Hunt's death. Authorities said there was no evidence of violence.

The victim's sister, Mrs. Edna Plotter, with whom he lives, said her brother had no enemies and believed his death must be accidental.

Dems Claim Rocky

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Democrats have a "secret weapon" in New York's Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, says Carmine De Sapio, Tammany Hall leader, six-hour period during the night, and Michael H. Prendergast, New York Democratic chairman. They are delegates to the party convention opening Monday.

Koren Seeking to Join PPOA Acting Police Chief Hopes to Squash Any 'Favoritism' Charges

In a bid for departmental harmony, Acting Police Chief Joseph Koren declared today that he has applied for membership in the Pontiac Police Officers Ass'n. (PPOA).

Koren, a member of the rival Fraternal Order of Police, said he is seeking membership in the PPOA to squash any charges of "favoritism" that might arise from his position.

The PPOA was constantly at odds with Koren's predecessor, former Chief Herbert W. Straley, and several times called for his ouster.

The FOP, a younger group, consists mainly of officers in sympathy with Straley.

"There will be no favoritism shown," Koren pledged. Any directives pertaining to these groups will be impartial ones.

When first appointed, Koren planned to drop his FOP membership in the interests of harmony in the department.

He explained to PPOA officers, however, that such a move would mean the loss of insurance benefits and other privileges.

PPOA officers were "understanding" and promised his application would be considered at the next meeting, Koren said.

The association will hold its next meeting July 13.

Lakes Areas Wait for Warm July Weather

By The Associated Press

Weather that mocked the calendar covered much of the northern quarter of the nation today.

Loos in the 50s, and even in the 40s in some cities, put a zippy touch of April into the July air.

Cleveland's 49 set a new low mark for the date for the fourth day in a row.

Milwaukee's 48 broke a record written into the books in 1894. Chicago, which usually has a half dozen or so days of 90-degree heat by July 7, has yet to see the mercury go higher than the 80s.

"We've decided on a polite suit to determine who is right," Judge Moore said.

The debate is putting a snag into the printing of the primary ballots, according to County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr.

Ralph Moore is one of eight candidates bidding for a new second two-year probate judgeship. Arthur Moore is unopposed for re-election to another regular four-year term.

The mixup all started after the county had printed some sample probate ballots to send out to all candidates to check for correct spelling. Judge Moore's name was missing.

Then, as chairman of the County Election Commission, Judge Moore huddled with Murphy and Charles A. Davis, assistant county corporation counsel, and dug up the constitutional law. Minds were cleared. Judge Moore's name was on a second set of sample ballots, Murphy said.

Ralph Moore protested this time. He brought up his state law. As the sample ballots stand today, Judge Moore's name appears.

Labor Secretary Open to Call for Vice Presidency

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said Wednesday night he would accept the Republican vice presidential nomination if offered.

He added, however, that he is not a candidate for vice president.

"I have said before no one should turn down the nomination. That also applies to me," Mitchell said.

Shot at Stranger Costs Him $100

Pontiac Man Pleads Guilty to Assault and Battery Charge

Because he lost his temper over a stranger in his home, a Pontiac man was $100 poorer today.

Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan ordered Henry Thomas, 35, of 288 Luther St., to pay the $100—a $50 fine and $50 court costs—after Thomas pleaded guilty yesterday to a reduced charge of assault and battery.

Thomas' plea came during his examination on a felonious assault charge.

He was accused of firing a shotgun blast at the car of Wilson Ward, 49 Hillmont Ave., on May 29.

Ward told police he was looking for Thomas' next door neighbor, and that Mrs. Thomas had let him come into the house.

Ward told police Thomas met him as he was leaving the house, angrily followed him to the car, then pulled a knife.

Ward said he scared Thomas off with his son's rubber toy knife lying in the car.

Then, Ward told police, as he started to drive away, Thomas came out with a shotgun, fired a blast which hit his rear window and Continental-style spare tire kill.

Found Innocent of Unlawfully Hiring Minor

A Mount Clemens man accused of illegally employing a minor was found innocent of the charge today by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Walton O. King Jr., 25, had been charged with hiring a 17-year-old boy without working papers for a carnival in Oakland Park last week.

A complaint against King was filed by Mrs. Grace Olsen, inspector for the State Labor Department.

Judge Finnegan, in dismissing the charge, said testimony at King's trial yesterday brought out that the minor "looked like 20."

He hinted the nation, with such a device, could "spy on most of Russia from outside the Iron Curtain."

King Rama IX and Queen Sirikit boarded a plane this morning at La Guardia Airport. They flew to Boston where the 22-year-old monarch was born while his father was a Harvard University medical student.

They also will visit Knoxville, Colorado Springs, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Last night the royal pair attended a Waldorf-Astoria dinner in their honor given by the Far East-American Council of Commerce and Industry, Inc., to round out a busy day of sightseeing.

Red Collar Means Safe Skunk; Otherwise Run

CONCORD, N. H. (UPI)—If you see a skunk walking along the street, pick it up—if it has a red collar around its neck.

That's the kind of advice the Fish and Game Department has given Concord residents. Officials said the skunk—deodorized—was brought to Mrs. Harriet Wilcox. It has been her pet since it was rescued from a hotel swimming pool.

Pemba is an island in the Indian Ocean.

HEADS ROCKY UNIT — Attorney William M. Brinton holds a sample of a half-page advertisement in San Francisco. It was to appear this morning in many metropolitan newspapers. Brinton, who denies use of any Rockefeller money, said he expects his campaign to "generate enough momentum to give Rockefeller a majority of votes by convention time." Brinton told the newsmen that "draft Rockefeller" committees are operating in 21 states.

Satellite Named Courier 1A

Communications Sphere Will Be Shot Up Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department plans soon to launch its first communications satellite, a sphere of about 500 pounds called Courier 1A.

The satellite, more than four feet in diameter, is designed not only for instantaneous relay of radio communications from one station on the ground to another, but also for recording messages and reading them back later on command from the ground.

Courier 1A will be equipped with five tape recorders, and will be capable of storing 6 million bits of information.

It will be within communication range of a ground station for only a few minutes on each orbit, yet during that short time it will be able to move enough traffic to occupy 20 telegraph machines operating at 100 words a minute.

The first of what may develop into a series of space radio relay stations to provide continuous reliable communication facilities, Courier is a part of the Defense Department's project advent.

United Fund Expenses Low in Comparison

Minnesota's attorney general has charged irregularities in the fund handling of the national Sister Kenny Foundation, alleging that 53% of the funds raised were consumed by overhead.

Only forty-seven cents of every dollar raised actually went for hospitalization, treatment, research and training facilities, it is charged. The attorney general says that this went on from 1952 through 1959.

Contrast this with the 8% that our local United Fund uses for all its expenses. The money raised locally is accounted for locally, by scrutiny of area citizens interested in devoting time to the United Fund.

Founders of the United Fund banded together to avoid just this kind of trouble. They wanted to raise money for the necessary causes, in an organized, efficient way. And they do, to the great advantage of our community.

Incidentally, the Michigan chapter of the Sister Kenny Foundation has only taken this with the national. It is a Michigan corporation, receives most of its funds from the United Fund, and all of the money is spent in Michigan.

Accord Finally Attained in Cyprus Discussions

Announcement that British and Cypriot negotiators have reached an agreement on the bases the British will retain on Cyprus ends a long drawn out dispute. At least one small part of the world's troubles is being settled.

Britain had originally demanded two bases with a total area of approximately 123 square miles. Greek Cypriots, led by Archbishop MAKARIOS, offered 36 square miles. A compromise proposal of 100 square miles suggested by Turkish Cypriot Leader DR. FAZIL KUTCHUK, has been accepted. British aid to the island she has ruled for 82 years still is under discussion but the amount is said to be around $30 million.

The Cypriot government is given daily control of all government functions over the bases' inhabitants as well as over 10,000 more who work there, including British. Britain, in the best tradition, also will assist the new administration by providing personnel to help the country in its transitional period.

Argument over the bases was really a side issue. It was feared, however, that any further delay in proclaiming Cyprus a republic might revive the centuries-old feud between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

It is expected that Greek President-elect MAKARIOS and Turkish Vice-president-elect KUTCHUK will take office in early August and assume the responsibilities for this newly independent republic in the eastern Mediterranean.

Project to Clean Up City Given Federal Approval

An encouraging sign for downtown Pontiac is the report that the city's urban renewal project has been given final federal approval.

The next step, second appraisal of land to be acquired, is now under way in this plan designed to clean up the deteriorated homes and businesses in a 145 acre section.

Financing the project, the Urban Renewal Administration will loan the city $5,165,044 to buy houses, buildings and clear the land. This must be repaid when the city sells the land.

The federal government will give, as a grant, $2,420,562 as its share of the project. This is two-thirds of the new project cost, and is not to be repaid.

Why is this necessary if the city buys the land, clears it and resells it? Because the city will not be able to sell the land for as much as it paid for it.

The city pays for the necessary improvements in the land, such as streets, curbs, gutters and sidewalks as its third of the net project cost. This will amount to more than $1 million and includes flood control on the Clinton River.

Included in the project are 433 substandard dwelling units. Eighty-five of the acres are to be rehabilitated, and the rest cleared. This cleared land will be available for new commercial and residential developments.

Boundaries of the plan are the west side of Saginaw street, Osman street on the south, Padlock, Perkins and Parkhurst streets on the east, and Pike street on the north.

The project has been two years in the planning stages, but it is good to see that it is now coming into reality. It will make a better Pontiac.

The Man About Town

Grads Are to Meet

Those Who Gained Health at San. Getting Together

Dimple: One kind of a depression that isn't so bad.

Sunday, July 17, is the day to be circled on the calendar of the alumni of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, for that's the date of the annual Home Coming Day of the former patients there. It is given under the auspices of the Patients' Benefit Association, an organization maintained for that and other wonderful purposes.

The entertainment committee is planning for a good program at the usual hours that afternoon on the beautiful Sanatorium grounds which now are at the season's best. It will be a good time for all former patients to renew acquaintances, and keep in touch with the progress being made in treating the disease there.

The number who have regained their health at the Sanatorium runs into many thousands. Those in charge of the event urge all of them to accept this notice as an invitation to attend. Accommodations will be provided for everyone.

Every year this homecoming has brought together one of the healthiest looking groups that can be imagined. Many come with their children, and a few with their grandchildren, all three generations being pictures of good health. This annual event is one of the greatest possible testimonials to the success of the Sanatorium's efforts. These people have been put back into their normal lives.

Many of them now are numbered among our leading citizens. They give the Sanatorium full credit for rescuing them.

So many reports of large roses are being received that they no longer are news. Thanks, however, for the kind readers who have told us about them.

Corn that was head high by the Fourth of July is reported by Josh Anderson of Keego Harbor, who says he didn't "stretch up" the leaves, either.

Biting the Hand

Good News: Billion Dollar Surplus

WASHINGTON — There's a big piece of good news floating around here, but it doesn't seem to have attracted much attention. After a deficit of $12,500,000 a year ago, the Treasury of the United States has come up with a surplus of nearly one billion dollars for the fiscal year just ended.

It takes a little while for all the LAWRENCE statistics to be gathered and the final figures finalized. An official announcement will come any day now.

When the new fiscal year began on July 1, there were various estimates published in the press that the Treasury, instead of the 700-million-dollar surplus which had previously been predicted, would have around a 600-million or even a 750-million-dollar surplus.

Now it turns out that the final figure for the surplus will be close to one billion than to any of the figures previously mentioned in print.

It's a very important achievement to get a surplus after the big deficit which arose on account of the 1958 recession in business. It's news, of course, of paramount importance to everybody. For it means that tax receipts are higher due to better business conditions.

It means also that inflation has been temporarily checked, or at least that the main cause of inflation—past Treasury deficits—cannot be considered for the immediate future as the basic cause of any inflationary trend.

Decreases in the purchasing power of the dollar due to inflation usually bring demands for increased wages. Everything depends, however, on whether the surplus is just a one-year affair or whether it is to be maintained also in the future.

REVERSE TREND

Unfortunately, there are some disturbing signs on the horizon. Yielding to political and group pressures, the Democratic-controlled Congress has just overridden a presidential veto of a 750-million-dollar expenditure that was not in the planned budget for the new fiscal year which has just begun.

This is the second time a veto by President Eisenhower has been overridden in Congress, both of which involved an extravagance and not an absolute necessity.

The increase, for instance, in the federal payroll expense just authorized by law amounts to about 7 1/2 to 20 per cent for the employees affected, though the cost-of-living index has advanced less than 11 per cent.

Somewhat the country has not been as responsive lately to the

The Country Parson

Because of the characteristic remissions and relapses it is difficult to gauge the effect of any particular remedy for the silvery scale disease. In my own experience the most effective remedy seemed to be thyroid extract. Today I believe the iodine ration is a safe substitute for thyroid feeding.

The cause of psoriasis is unknown. It is certainly not contagious or communicable. Some physicians believe it is inherited, but this is conjecture. Climate is not a factor, although in many cases the trouble is worse in winter than in summer.

Send me, in care of this news-argument for an economical administration as it was a year ago when the big deficit of the previous year was in the public mind. As the budget begins to be balanced, thoughts in Congress seem to turn toward spending not only the surplus but a good deal more.

The average man understands the simple fact that nobody can keep going on a sound basis if he doesn't have money enough to meet his current expenses.

The government's position as a borrower can similarly be affected adversely if deficits are continuous. Indeed, huge sums of foreign gold are on deposit in the United States and can be withdrawn by their owners at any moment if American finances are not kept in good order.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Iodin Cures Psoriasis (Or So It Would Seem)

Reader thanks me for recommending the iodine ration for psoriasis, says he has been on the ration for six years and that in the past two years he has had no sign of psoriasis, his gums have stopped bleeding, and he is no longer bothered with sinus trouble.

About three out of every hundred cases of chronic skin disease are psoriasis. Characteristics are the sharply defined red patches, covered with silvery white scales, especially behind the elbows and over knees and outer surface of legs.

Psoriasis runs a chronic course of years or a lifetime, marked by remissions and relapses from time to time.

If a remission occurs at a particular season, or if it occurs at a time when the individual is using medicine, diet, vitamin, or bath that purports to be curative, he is liable to write a testimonial which far outlasts the remission.

In this instance the reader remained on the iodine ration for three or four years before his psoriasis cleared up, his gums stopped bleeding and his sinus trouble ceased.

I don't know whether the iodine ration had anything to do with these changes, but I know it can do no harm in any case.

The man's faithfulness to the ration is remarkable because so many readers, despite my constant admonitions, regard the iodine ration I recommend as medicine and hence use it, if at all, for a few weeks only—in other words they "try" it, is they think, and drop it when the test proves negative.

"Maybe I'm too finicky, too, for I always was exceptionally neat in my household, and was in my dental office."

"Let me give you some specific cases. After I take a shower, I always hang the wet towel neatly on the towel rack so the edges are even."

"My wash cloth is likewise hung in precise fashion. I methodically put the soap in the soap container and also wipe off the spots of toothpaste from the mirror after brushing my teeth."

"My wife was a beautiful woman from a fine family. But she is the sloppiest female I ever saw inside her own home."

'Expanded Airport Would Ruin Homes'

I would like to hear the advantages of a larger airport, such as Willow Run. Would it overcome the disadvantage of hundreds of people having to take a great loss in property, or worse yet being forced to remain in the midst of noise and falling airplane parts?

The progressive can well afford to be generous with our life savings, but would you be so generous with your own? This is a highly populated area, and it is clear to see that this airport was not planned as was Willow Run.

We would be glad to see progress take place in a suitable area, which to my way of thinking should be a reasonable distance from living areas. Our airport is surrounded by subdivisions. We no one everyone but Waterford is in favor of this advancement. Please put yourselves in our place and check into the matter and see the impracticability of it.

'Police Disgusted With Mess, Too'

Retired M/Sgt. before you start to run down the whole police department you might find out that there are many fine men in the department, who are as disgusted with this mess as you are.

"When she takes a bath, she may leave the soap on the bottom of the tub. And she'll drape her wet towel over the side of the tub. Her wash cloth will be left in the wash basin or dangling over one side. She also spills face powder on her dressing table and leaves it. It doesn't seem to disturb her at all to part an apple and leave the peels on the drain board to stink the enamel over night."

"But she is mentally slovenly, too. For she refused to open the door to our church, though she has a good voice. She was asked to teach a Sunday school class, too, which she declined, though her parents spent nearly $8,000 giving her four years of college."

"And she belongs to no constructive organizations. She lives in a Canada club where a bunch of idle women gossip away their afternoon."

"I was brought up with the idea that to whom much is given much will be expected. In other words, if a person has been given valuable deep space in college for four years, he should return something to society in repayment of that sophisticated training."

"And, playing Canada doesn't justify four years of college! So I have become so nauseated by the sight of my wife that I literally can't kiss her anymore, or even be civil to her. She disgusts my soul!"

I don't know Mr. Straley or Mr. Willman personally, but I do read everything I can on what each one says. I heard the report on the radio and I think Mr. Straley had a very good record before coming here. Perhaps we need a turnover, but when people don't care we'll just have to hope for the best.

Dems Flying Old 48-Star Flag

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Convention lowlights:

Attention Alaska and Hawaii! The big flag flying from the Biltmore Hotel, site of Democratic headquarters, is of the old, 48-star variety.

Workers are still working like ants around the Sports Arena, where the convention proceedings will be held starting Monday. General consensus is they'll never get it off the ground. Want to bet?

Democratic orators will have no need to fumble for words. The podium has three peep-holes which lead to mirrors which reflect TV tubes which carry their texts on a closed-circuit TV channel.

CBS is grinning happily, having sold its TV coverage to a single appliance maker months ago. NBC is breathing a little easier, having peddled 10-12ths of its air time. ABC is smiling bravely, being 75 per cent sponsored. The latter two hope to be sold out by the Monday start.

Banks, Customers Uneasy Despite Record Earnings

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A majority of the nation's biggest banks today are reporting record operating earnings for the first half of 1960.

Yet neither the banks nor the customers who borrow from them are entirely happy.

With all the talk about easier money and credit conditions and lower interest rates on many types of short-term loans, customers keep asking why many banks still say they can't find any more funds to lend and turn some would-be borrowers away, and why interest on bank loans stays as high as ever.

And while the banks enjoy the record profits because the interest rates are higher than a year ago and demand for loans unabated, they fret because they haven't more funds to lend.

Their chief complaint is the increased competition among investment outlets for individual and corporate savings which has cut into bank deposits. And many banks also think the Federal Reserve Board should ease up on the amount of reserves member banks, especially those in New York and Chicago, must maintain.

The earnings reports, however, should please bank stockholders. One by one, the big banks chalk up gains. In this they contrast with a number of industries that show earnings running behind those of the 1959 first half.

The Bank of America, the nation's biggest, reports first-half earnings 11 per cent over the same period last year, although deposits of the West Coast giant are down a fraction.

The First National City Bank of New York reports its net operating income 19.8 per cent over last year. And so it goes across the nation.

Higher interest rates and a generally lent-up condition explain the gain in earnings.

Turkey Cuts Back Forces in Korea

SEOUL (AP)—Turkey is replacing its 5,000-man brigade in Korea with a 300-man company for economy reasons, Turkish Ambassador Hikmet Kayri Anli said Wednesday.

The Turkish cutback will leave these foreign forces in South Korea, two U. S. divisions, the Turkish company, a Thailand company, a handful of British soldiers with the U.N. command honor guard, and Ethiopian, Australian, New Zealand, Canadian and French liaison detachments.

38 Eager to Learn at Rochester School

Gifted Children Like Summer Study

By LEE WINBORN
ROCHESTER — Being a gifted child in the Rochester Community School District means attending summer classes while others play. But not one of the 38 students is complaining.

While other youngsters are enjoying vacations, these specially selected sixth and seventh graders are going to school five mornings a week and doing homework besides.

The local Board of Education is sponsoring the six-week program as an experiment for these unusually talented children whom they believe will profit from this extra school training.

The classes are designed to develop the youngsters' leadership qualities and to stimulate their interest in the affairs of the world today.

Their teachers are William J. Maurer, who will be the Brooklands-Avon Schools principal next fall, and Ally O. Ensign, sixth grade teacher at Harrison-Central School. The classes are held at the junior high school.

The teachers have divided areas of study into two categories, social science and language arts.

Social science, as they are teaching it, includes manipulating certain aspects of sociology, psychology, philosophy, history, economics and politics.

"The latter subject is gaining considerable interest among the students as national convention time approaches."

READ A LOT

They also are applying the language arts in their work. They must read newspapers, books, pamphlets and other material judged to be excellent sources for their study.

The boys and girls are doing quite a bit of writing and even have been assigned a term paper.

They are participating in debates on timely issues, such as whether Israel's capture of Adolph Eichmann should be rewarded. Argentina, in group and panel discussions, and stimulating question and answer periods.

As the classes progress, resource people from local, county, state and federal government are being brought in to address the two groups. Also foreign exchange students, both on the high school and college level, are being asked to speak to the students.

Maurer and Ensign meet regularly with Douglas B. Lund, director of instruction for the local schools, to adjust the program to suit the students.

CLASSES 'GREAT'

And how do the students themselves feel about attending school in the summertime? Their comments range from "great" to "we think it's fun" and "now we don't have to work at home."

Several youngsters have given up a few days of their family vacations so they won't have to miss any time at school.

And the teachers are equally enthusiastic. They both say, "These students are thinkers. They all have contributions to make, and the time we spend with them just isn't long enough."

There is no planned curriculum, and no text books are assigned. The first hour of the day is devoted to discussion of current events found on the front and editorial pages of The Pontiac Press and other daily newspapers. Then the day's work begins.

The teachers and administrators all are pleased with the program to date. They feel well satisfied with the students who were picked to take part in the experiment because of their high academic standing, their contributions to their classes and their interest.

According to Lund, some 90 percent of those contacted are taking advantage of this special training which supplements and complements their regular school studies.

ATTEND SUMMER SESSION — Some 38 gifted sixth and seventh graders in the Rochester Community School District are taking a six-week summer school course designed to develop their leadership qualities and stimulate their interest in world affairs. Here a group discusses the upcoming national conventions with the two instructors, Ally O. Ensign, left, and William J. Maurer, after class.

Being Held at Eastern Michigan

19 Area Students in Music Workshop

Nineteen area students are among the 150 teen-agers participating in the eighth annual High School Music Workshop at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

The three-week session ends tomorrow with a final concert at 7:30 p.m. at Pease Auditorium on the campus.

"The concert, which is open to the public, will feature the combined efforts of the choir, band and orchestra, the three major components of the workshop."

Area students taking part in the workshop and their schools are: Walled Lake High—Judith Garrels, 7648 Sweetbrier Rd., Orchard Lake; Ruth Chettleburgh, 1380 Lard Rd., Walled Lake; Bobbi Bailey, 1172 Delta Rd., Walled Lake.

Oxford High—Judy Redman, 571 Ray Rd., Oxford; Judy Shoemaker, 26 Park St., Oxford, and George Trask, 720 Leonard Rd., Leonard.

South Lyon High—Angela Gardner, 345 N. Lafayette St. and Linda Kitter, 15500 12-Mile Rd., both of South Lyon.

Eppeler Junior High—Peter Murphy, Rick Nitterhouse, 4371 Ryan Rd., Utica; Michael Pressley, 777 Wain Lou Ct., Utica; Gaeleyn Webb and Linda Wiatt, Sterling Junior High—Bonnie Clifford, 8895 Gage Crescent Rd., Utica.

Southfield High—Susan Haynes, 29500 Wildbrook Rd., Southfield.

Bloomfield Hills Junior High—Sara Peterson, 3008 Newland Dr., Orchard Lake.

The students studied musical theory and were required to take part in two of the three major activities. They also had the opportunity to take a class in either voice production or conducting.

The members of the workshop are living in residence halls on the campus. They have been participating in a special recreational program held each afternoon and sponsored by the University's Department of Health and Physical Education.

Set Lie Tests in Fatal Crash

Occupant of Death Car, Two Witnesses Will Submit to Detector

SOUTHFIELD — Lie detector tests were to be given today by police here as the result of an auto accident Monday that claimed the life of a young Southfield father and caused serious injury to two of his three male companions.

So far, police have been unable to ascertain who was driving the death car when it crashed into a tree on Franklin road near 11-Mile road. A passing motorist had removed the victims from the car before police arrived at the scene.

One of the occupants, Michael Beckhurst, 19, of 3028 Westover Rd., who has said he was asleep in the back seat at the time of the accident, has refused to talk about the crash, but has agreed to take the lie detector test.

Two unidentified witnesses also are slated to take the tests. Police said they intend to charge the driver with negligent homicide. They reported that all four of the young men had been drinking prior to the accident.

They were returning from Homestead Recreation Park at Lower Straits Lake, Bloomfield Township, when the driver lost control of the wheel at high speed.

David B. Neilson, 20, of 21446 Avon Lane, died of his injuries in William Beaumont Hospital three hours later.

Darryl Ashley, 20, of 21465 Lee Baker Dr., is still on the hospital's critical list today. James Smith, 20, of 21500 Lahser Rd., is in fair condition at the hospital. Both men have been unable to make any statement to police.

Beckhurst was treated and released from the hospital Monday night. Neilson, who worked as a gardener, was married and the father of a 21-month-old daughter.

Planning for Wedding

ORTONVILLE — An Aug. 27 wedding is being planned by Alice Marie Graves and Donald R. Karwowski. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Graves, 111 James St. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Karwowski of Fenton.

Borrowings against anticipated state aid were approved for two area school districts yesterday by the State Department of Public Instruction at Lansing.

Given the go-ahead were Lake Orion Community Schools, for $150,000, and Almont School District, $50,000. Money raised will go toward meeting normal operating expenses.

MRS. JAMES G. ADAMS

Newlyweds Now Living in the East

UNION LAKE — Area newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Adams are now living in Philadelphia, where he is stationed with the Navy, following a honeymoon trip through the Catskill Mountains to New York City.

The bride is the former Dolores Elaine Burgin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Burgin of 1632 Petrolia St. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Adams of 431 Sandy Creek Dr., Utica.

A ballroom-length gown of white silk organza was chosen by the bride for her wedding in the Four Towns Methodist Church. Lily appliques adorned the scoop neckline of the gown.

Her colonial bouquet was arranged with carnations and roses. Harriette Burgin was maid of honor for her sister, James Wilde of Utica served as best man. Ushers were Skip Osborne and Michael Gravelle, both of Pontiac.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Lake Orion and Almont Get School Loan Okays

Borrowings against anticipated state aid were approved for two area school districts yesterday by the State Department of Public Instruction at Lansing.

Given the go-ahead were Lake Orion Community Schools, for $150,000, and Almont School District, $50,000. Money raised will go toward meeting normal operating expenses.

At the same time a communication from Neztok was received, requesting that he be permitted to withdraw his resignation. This request was denied and his resignation was accepted by the unanimous vote of the Board.

Avondale Upset

Neztok's Resignation Awaits Private Talks

Will John Neztok be band director in the Avondale School System next year? This question is of considerable concern to Board of Education members who have accepted his resignation and to some 250 petitioners who want him reinstated.

Last night the School Board members continued adamant in their stand not to discuss Neztok's resignation publicly until they have met with him in private session first.

Some 30 persons at the Board meeting waited patiently for three hours for the matter to be reached on the agenda. Then it was brought to the Board's attention through a letter from Mrs. William H. Bishop of the Avondale Boarders' Club.

She asked seven questions also said were of the "utmost importance" to the whole community to have answered.

Among them were whether Neztok had been given a letter of resignation to sign and, if he were guilty of any misdeeds, why he wasn't simply fired.

Board members reviewed the situation, stating that on three different occasions they had held executive sessions to meet with Neztok and that he failed to appear at two and refused to take part in the third when he was not allowed to bring in his own witnesses.

Board Vice President Earl Wilson said the Board has no other reason said to term the non-appearances as "evasive."

At the same time a communication from Neztok was received, requesting that he be permitted to withdraw his resignation. This request was denied and his resignation was accepted by the unanimous vote of the Board.

One spectator remarked before the meeting ended that there was a case where teacher tenure would have helped handle the situation. Tenure failed, as when a recent court case showed the vote on the proposal tied 200-20 in the June 12 election.

The chances of a "dry hole" in drilling for oil or gas is much greater now than it was 50 years ago, the U. S. Bureau of Mines points out.

One of the main issues under fire is whether Neztok's resignation was voluntary or whether it was Board-directed.

As Board President Grant Graham explained, it would look better on Neztok's record to say that he resigned rather than that the Board failed to renew his contract.

This remark drew several comments from people in the audience who said if the Board did not want to renew Neztok's contract, they had a right to know why not.

Neztok himself said, "I'm not fighting for my contract. I'm fighting rumors."

He also explained that he had asked Schools Supt. Lefroy R. Watt to speak in his behalf at the meetings which he did not attend.

Board members retorted that they thought if Neztok realized his job was at stake, he should have made a special effort to attend meetings called solely for his sake.

The Board agreed to meet in executive session with Neztok and his chosen representative from the Avondale Education Assn. or the Michigan Education Assn. to arrive at a mutual understanding.

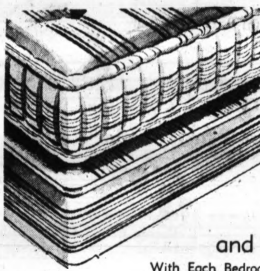

The results of that meeting then would be made public, the school officials said.

They warned, however, that they were "guaranteeing nothing" as to the outcome.

Watt said he would protest an AEA member representing the band director but would not be against his having MEA representation. He added that he also would object to Neztok bringing legal counsel into the session.

One spectator remarked before the meeting ended that there was a case where teacher tenure would have helped handle the situation. Tenure failed, as when a recent court case showed the vote on the proposal tied 200-20 in the June 12 election.

The chances of a "dry hole" in drilling for oil or gas is much greater now than it was 50 years ago, the U. S. Bureau of Mines points out.

LUCILLE DORA SAEGER

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Saeger of 585 Briarville Dr. announce the engagement of their daughter Lucille Dora to Raymond W. Arlt, son of Mrs. Iva Arlt, 2230 Livernois Rd., Avon Township, and the late E. W. Arlt. An Aug. 27 wedding is planned.

The sentences were the first handed down in a series of trials of former high officials, politicians and policemen charged with committing a long list of crimes under the Rhee regime.

The charges include election rigging, corruption, misuse of power and attempted murder.

3 Youths Admit Assault, Battery

Enter Plea During Examination on Count of Felonious Assault

Three youths accused of beating and shooting at a 27-year-old Pontiac man yesterday pleaded guilty to assault and battery charges in Municipal Court.

The pleas came during examination of the trio on felonious assault charges. They are James R. Kelly, 15, his brother Benjamin, 15, both of 1381 Collier Dr., and Robert T. Henderson, 20, of 1561 Collier Dr.

The beating took place the night of May 31 at the home of Ernesto Valdesa, 10 Tremont St., Valdesa told Pontiac Police James Kelley called him from his home that evening. Henderson then hit him with a tire iron, and Benjamin Kelley fired a 20 gauge shotgun at him as he raced into the house, Valdesa said.

The shot barely missed Valdesa, and struck a door. No one was injured.

Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan ordered the Kelley brothers to pay $25 court costs, $25 probation costs and placed them on a year's probation.

Henderson also was put on probation for a year.

Police said the beating stemmed from complaints that Valdesa and his wife, Josephine, had made to the parents of the younger Kelley's girlfriend that their daughter was throwing stones at neighborhood homes.

Say Committeeman Didn't Pifer Drinks

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A bipartisan pair of passengers said today that Louisiana's national committeeman was stone sober and not drunk, as charged, when he arrived in Los Angeles aboard an airliner last Friday night.

One of Camille Gravel's fellow passengers, a Republican, even admitted that he, and not Gravel, was the mysterious martini piferer of Delta-American Flight 921 from Fort Worth.

Richard C. McChrystal, a Los Angeles chemical engineer, absolved Gravel of any complicity in the theft of the box of six premixed martinis in midflight.

The other passenger, Edward Sam Selt of New Orleans — "I think I'm a Democrat," also said that Gravel had nothing to do with taking the martinis while the stewardess was away.

Lar Daly With Paar Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Lar Daly says the government's equal time law has won him 47 minutes on Jack Paar's television show tonight.

Daly, who campaigns dressed in an Uncle Sam suit, said the Federal Communications Commission informed him Wednesday night he was entitled to equal time on the nationally televised show.

The FCC ruled he is a legally qualified Democratic candidate for president, Daly said, and then the National Broadcasting Co. informed him everything is set.

Daly asked for the time after a June 16 appearance by Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

He speaks on an America First program.

Daly won free TV time in Chicago last year during his campaign for nomination for mayor on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

3 Meet Death in UP Crackup

Auto Rams Abutment of Bridge on M67 Near Munising

MUNISING (U) — Three persons were killed last night when a car struck a concrete abutment of the Black Creek Bridge on M67, about 20 miles southwest of this Upper Peninsula community.

State Police identified the victims as Donald M. Lindquist, 32, the driver, of Ann Arbor; Marie H. Weisbecker, 31, a divorcee with three children, of Monroe; and Michael Malnar, 50, of nearby Chatham.

All three occupants were sitting in the front seat of the car. Police said the car apparently was traveling at high speed.

The impact of the crash forced the engine through the front of the car and it was found on Mrs. Weisbecker's body.

The wreckage was found by a motorist who notified State Police.

PASADENA, Calif. (U) — "I'm

HYANNISPORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts plans to leave Cape Cod for Los Angeles and the Democratic National Convention either Friday or Saturday.

The senator, front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination, has been vacationing here since last Saturday, except for a quick trip to New York Monday for his televised reply to former President Harry S. Truman and another flight to New York Wednesday.

Kennedy has been golfing, swimming and sailing on Nantucket Sound, Stephen Smith, his brother-in-law and golfing partner, said the program will be much the same for the rest of the week.

In order to occupy the presidency a person must be a natural-born citizen of the United States. He must be at least 35 years of age and have been a resident within the United States for 14 years. The same qualifications apply to the vice presidency.

Florida Convict Can't Ignore Call of the Cell

OCALA, Fla. (AP)—A convict walked away from a Marion County road gang Feb. 29 where he was doing time for driving while drunk and having no driver's license.

Marion County authorities next heard from Roy Stewart, 35, when he was picked up in Louisiana for a minor infraction. He asked for extradition to Florida but Marion officials declined to start proceedings.

Tuesday, Stewart walked into the county jail. He had hitchhiked back.

Ah, the Life of the Open Sewer

Hunts Muddy Treasure

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Patrolman George Quire couldn't believe his eyes but there was a man coming out of a sewer.

His clothing was wet and covered with muck. His pockets bulged with muddy coins. David E. Robbins, 34, hastily told the startled patrolman:

"I'm just hunting for money. You'd be surprised how much money you can find in the sewers."

Robbins said four years ago he saw workers finding money as they cleaned a sewer and since then he has been treasure hunting beneath the city.

"Sometimes," he said, "you find rare old coins worth good money, and pieces of jewelry."

U.S. Bank Loans Millions to Japan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Export-Import Bank Wednesday loaned Japan 40 million dollars to buy U. S. raw cotton and 12 million dollars for expansion of the Japanese automobile industry.

The one-year credit for approximately 250,000 bales of cotton will finance about one fifth of Japan's estimated 1960-61 purchases of U. S. raw cotton. The remaining one million bales will be financed from private Japanese and U. S. sources.

The 12-million-dollar automobile credit over a 10-year period was extended to Toyota-Motor Co. Ltd. of Toyota City. It will help finance the purchase of U. S. machine tools and other equipment.

Peron Gives Frondizi Wide Berth in Spain

VIGO, Spain (AP)—Juan D. Peron, the former Argentine dictator, left Wednesday for the luxury seacoast resort of La Toja, 45 miles away. He'll remain there while Argentine President Arturo Frondizi visits in Madrid. Apparently the Spanish government asked Peron to absent himself from Madrid during the Frondizi visit that begins today.

President Woodrow Wilson gave to Franklin D. Roosevelt the table on which he wrote the first draft of the League of Nations plan.

Labor Leaders Join to Support Swainson

DETROIT (UPI)—Several leaders of local labor organizations here are banding together to support Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson for the Democratic nomination for governor. It was reported today.

Harry Southwell, president of UAW Local 174, chairman of a recent "Labor for Swainson" meeting, announced that Russell Leach, president of UAW Local 188, would head a tri-county steering committee.

Leach estimated that 75 per cent of the tri-county labor movement in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties would back Swainson. Another labor leader, Paul Silver, said about 80 per cent of the auto workers would support Swainson.

They are Drs. Campbell A. Ward of Mount Clemens and Ira C. Runney of Ann Arbor. Thirty others from Michigan will sit in the house of delegates.

Nab Bonbon Bandit

NEW YORK (AP)—Police say Gerald P. Barkin, 31, nabbed Wednesday had admitted robbing 30 candy stores in the past two months. Police had coined the tag "Bonbon Bandit" to describe the man they were looking for.

Capital of Honduras is Tegucigalpa, with a population of 30,000.

Plank Would Seek Strong Federal Action

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Advocates of a bolder federal approach to civil rights proposed today a plank certain to draw bitter opposition of Southerners on the Democratic convention platform committee.

Rights Proposal Hateful to South

Thirty related organizations—banded together as the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights—joined hands to lay the explosive issue before the party platform drafters.

The plank called for strong action by the federal government to guarantee equality to all Americans in voting, education, employment, housing and other areas.

Two Southern senator members of the committee—Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina and Spessard L. Holland of Florida—declared their intention to battle against broadened federal activity in this field.

The recent outcropping of sit-in strikes at lunch counters was injected into the committee proceedings by the civil rights group and by a Southern Negro lawyer, the Rev. Martin Luther King.

CALLED SHARP REMINDER. The leadership conference declared these strikes—which it said have been engaged in by Negroes and whites alike—have given the nation a sharp reminder that the pace toward equality has been too slow.

The Rev. King demanded that the convention endorse the sit-in strikes as a "great, peaceful movement" to gain "racial equality."

Efforts were being made behind the scenes to head off a battle within the committee—and possibly the convention itself—over the issue that has plagued recent Democratic conventions.

Carl Rice, atterga Kansas Democratic leader and platform committee member, suggested that the party's 1956 civil rights plank be dug out and revised in the light of recent developments. He said it should carry a promise that a new Democratic president would provide more positive leadership in this field than he said has been shown by President Eisenhower.

'66 PLANK ACCEPTABLE

The 1956 plank pledged the party to continuation of efforts to eradicate racial discrimination in all sections of the country, but rejected proposals for use of federal force to bring this about.

Holland said that while Southerners do not like the 1956 plank, they probably would be willing to accept a modernized version of it for the sake of preserving party unity. But the Rice suggestion was rejected by the civil rights group. Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut, platform chairman, said he probably would undertake drafting of a plank designed to placate both sides, insofar as it is possible. He has indicated, however, anything he writes would be more sweeping proposal than the 1956 plank.

The civil rights proponents declared that "only by the fullest exercise of the powers of government" can racial equality be attained.

Speaking of delays in carrying out a Supreme Court mandate to eliminate racial discrimination in public schools, this group said the government cannot assume a posture of shrillity toward compliance with the court's order.

So far in the committee's open hearing on the platform, emphasis has been on domestic issues, such as medical care for the aged, aid to education, domestic employment and economic growth and aid to agriculture.

FOREIGN POLICY NOTED

Nevertheless the foreign policy issue—described by Bowles as the most important one facing voters this year—was brought to the fore Wednesday by Americans for Democratic Action.

Prof. Samuel H. Beer of Harvard University, national chairman of this group, called for a foreign policy that would give this country what he called a "relevant diplomatic initiative" in a drive to stabilize peace. He said a policy limited largely to deterrence of military action by communism was not enough.

Luxury Autos Are Confiscated

Gangsters' Cars Popular With T-Men

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury agents not only lock up moonshiners, narcotic peddlers, counterfeiters and smugglers, they also ride around in the gangsters' cars.

So do high Washington officials, sometimes, including Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson and Internal Revenue Commissioner Dana Latham.

Anderson occasionally rides in a pale green 1959 luxury-class car when his long black, reined limousine is being used by an aide or to accommodate a visitor.

The glossy green car is owned by the Treasury. T-men seized it when it was used to deliver a sack of drugs to an undercover narcotics agent. Fitted on its rear shelf now is a mobile telephone, standard equipment for a cabinet member's vehicle.

Parked outside Latham's office is an expensive, black sedan which once belonged to a York County, Va., moonshiner.

Agents raiding a farmhouse distillery found several hundred pounds of sugar in the car's back seat.

Anderson purchases the staid tradition of deep black cars for cabinet members in the interest of economy.

The green car is one of five owned by the Treasury and used for daily business around town by department officials. All the cars were seized by T-men in raids or arrests and came to the Treasury free.

One Treasury arm, the Internal Revenue Service, pulled in 2,301 cars and 699 trucks last year. Some were returned to owners of finance companies. "A car really stands out like a individual," and IRS official commented.

"Sometimes these moonshiners make a 'steep' sale of the car to someone else who claim ownership and say that he didn't know what the car was being used for by the guys who 'borrowed' it. Then we have to prove it was really a phony sale and the guy we caught really owns it."

IRS seizures run so high that the service buys virtually no cars. Now does the Narcotics Bureau. These two Treasury arms make excess vehicles available to the department itself and its other law enforcement branches.

Under the contraband transportation act of 1939, the Treasury can keep vehicles used in the delivery of illegal goods, such as narcotics, non-tax-paid whiskey or counterfeit money.

But if agents fail to prove their case against the car or if the owner is innocent, the Treasury must return the car. If there is a substantial lien on a vehicle it goes to the lienholder.

Engineer Finds Way to Forecast Tidal Wave

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI) — An engineer at Scripps Institution of Oceanography said he has devised an improved method of forecasting destructive tidal waves in the ocean.

The engineer, William G. Van Dorn, has received support from the Office of Naval Research for his new method.

Van Dorn said he found that eventually mountainous waves caused by underwater earthquakes and eruptions could be recorded when they were under one foot in height and passing Wake, Johnston and Canton Islands in the Pacific.

He said as the waves pass the islands, their length and their height are recorded on special instruments. He said the length of the waves sometimes is several miles.

According to Van Dorn, such waves, when they reach a larger island such as Oahu, Hawaii, which slopes up gently from the sea floor, may increase 20 to 30 times in height.

In the past the waves have resulted in death and extensive property damage.

Van Dorn said the present Pacific warning system tells only the time, place and intensity of seismic activity which causes the waves. He said this means the islands can be alerted only to the risk of high waves and no forecast of wave height can be made.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Q. Our little grandchild lives on a farm and wants a goat for a pet. If it would make a safe playmate, we'd like to give him one for his birthday.

A. Our civilization makes few demands on the goat that once was a main source of meat, milk and clothing. The rich, digestible milk of this animal is still considered a delicacy by many.

It is said that some ulcer patients have found relief in the relaxation of tending goats and the consumption of their milk. The clean, agile little "kid" makes a fine playmate for a child until it is about six months old and discovers the joys of butting.

Females and castrated males can be living pets far beyond this age. Goats are easily kept on grass and hay, unless they are milked, then they need dairy feed.

When maturity is reached, they should be tested for Tuberculosis and Brucellosis (milk fever). If the animal's horns become a problem, they can be removed by a veterinarian.

Elvis Will Trade Rock, Roll for Boots, Saddle

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Elvis Presley is going to drop the rock, pick up a gun and saddle a horse for his next movie.

This was disclosed Wednesday by a close friend who said, "The director told Elvis he will have to do some good riding in the new movie. He also has to work on the fast draw."

Elvis reportedly will play the hero in a dramatic Western based on the story "Flaming Lance." However, all indications were that Elvis hadn't begun practice.

No gamblers were heard from his Greenwood estate and recently he has roared about town astride a motorcycle.

Bad Hepatitis Outbreak Rages Through Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky is suffering its worst attack of infectious hepatitis—commonly called jaundice—in the past 19 years and possibly in the state's history.

The U.S. Public Health Service reported Wednesday 1,148 persons have been stricken in Kentucky this year and 12 have died. Based on population, it is the worst rate in the nation.

Officials said nearly every case has been traced to "sewerage problems or contaminated water."

Deaf, Mute Girl Drowns in Pond Close to Home

EARLTON, N.Y. (AP) — Patricia Conrad, 9, a deaf and mute—wandered only a short distance from her home Wednesday and was drowned in a pond eight feet deep.

Her body was found by State Police Wednesday night in the pond, which was nearly in front of her house. A 100-man search party had scoured woods after she disappeared in the afternoon.

Households of U.S. Are at All-Time High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There were a record 32,610,000 households in the United States as of last March.

About three-fourths of them were husband-wife households. About 11 years in improving the nutritive per cent of the total had one or value of bread.

more relatives of the head living in the household. The rest of the households—about 7,754,000 consisted of persons living alone and groups of unrelated persons. The Census Bureau announced the figures yesterday.

A food expert says little progress has been made in the last 2,000 years in improving the nutritive per cent of the total had one or value of bread.

The Cry of the "GONE" Generation

MIGHTY RICH ACTRESS — Dina Merrill relaxes on the set of a movie in which she's working. One of America's richest women, she is in Hollywood to play Bart Lancaster's wife in "A Matter of Conviction." She says she's an actress because she loves it. Her father is E. F. Hutton and her mother is Mrs. Merrivether Post of the cereal family. Her husband, Stanley Rumbough Jr., is an industrialist.

Congo Prisoners Revolt, Dash Off

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI) — Violence flared again today in the newly independent Republic of Congo when prisoners at the Stanleyville Central Prison revolted, broke through the prison gates and raced through the town.

The Prison break came on the heels of a mutiny by the once-loyal "Force Publique," the Congolese national army, which revolted against Europeans and the six-day-old government.

The mutiny, which spread through the country, was marked by demands for better pay, combined with a system of promotions within the force and the discharging of Europeans holding commands.

Crops Need Dry Spell
ILLINOIS (UPI) — The weekly Michigan crop bulletin of the U. S. state agricultural department reported today that "all crops would benefit tremendously from a period of dry, clear weather."

Illiteracy among persons 14 years of age or older in the United States is reportedly steadily decreasing. According to the University of Illinois Business Review, illiteracy in this age-group now is approximately 2.2 per cent compared to 11.3 per cent in 1900.

S. Africa Sets Hearing in Verwoerd Shooting

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa.—David Pratt, wealthy white planter, will face a preliminary hearing at Pretoria late this month in the assassination attempt against Prime Minister Hendrick F. Verwoerd.

The government gave no exact time for the hearing or the exact charges against the 53-year-old Pratt.

Verwoerd was wounded at a trade agricultural exposition here April 9 when two pistol bullets fired at close range struck him in the face. Pratt was seized at the scene.

Australia's peanut crop was a record 28,000 tons last year.

AF Uncertain About Earhart

Holds Up 'Evidence' of Execution Until Further Evaluation

TOKYO (AP)—The U.S. 5th Air Force today described as "incomplete and inconclusive" information which two Air Force officers contend proves the Japanese executed Amelia Earhart and her navigator on Salipan.

A spokesman said the data, assembled by Capt. Joseph Gervais, 38, of Tyngsboro, Mass., and Robert Dugger, 38, of Vero Beach, Fla., is being withheld from publication for the moment because it is awaiting evaluation.

The Air Force confirmed that the two men had been ordered to stop their investigation. Gervais modified statements attributed to him Tuesday in Los Angeles by Capt. Paul Brand Jr., author of a book propounding the theory that Miss Earhart and Noonan went far off course during their 1937 flight and were killed to keep them from telling the world the Japanese were secretly torturing Salipan.

Bevan Saw Many a Dream Shattered

Laborites Lose Voice of Revolution

By The Associated Press
There are undoubtedly those among the British laboring class who would tell you that, if he could have known his beloved miners were talking strike again, Aneurin Bevan would have managed somehow to stave off death for a while.

For 45 years he never missed one of their fights. To them he was the voice of change, of improvement and of revolution.

He blamed the Conservatives, personally and collectively, for social conditions at the Welsh mine pits where he was born. He was bitter, immoderate and totally unrestrained about it.

He spent considerable effort rejecting communism.

But in prewar 1939 he had been willing to form a coalition with the Communists to get rid of Neville Chamberlain's Conservative government. A great many Britishers and Americans alike accepted his non-Communist protestations, although often wondering just what was the effective difference.

In Britain's postwar dream of get-well quick, labor's brief rise to power gave Bevan one of his great aims, state-aided medical treatment for all. But the ways in which it didn't work contributed most to return of the Conservatives to power, and to the end of the Welshman's dream of the prime ministry.

Bevan never did get above the rank of second man in the labor party. He never achieved full nationalization of all the means of production for which he strove so hard, although he made great strides in that direction.

He never managed to convince the British people that they had become the puppets of the United States, or that they were being made the slaves of the western, anti-Communist rearmament program.

Just two days before he died Wednesday, his tongue having been stilled for six months after a cancer operation, his mingled friends expressed a fear that the conservatives were promoting decentralization of mining management as a step toward decentralization itself. Parliament was warned that such steps would cause a strike.

There are 120,000 fewer miners than three years ago, while average production has gone up about 20 pounds per day per man. The miners are afraid this situation may become worse.

Britain's railwaymen are also mobilizing against the same thing. The face of Britain's labor situation, and of the status of social itself, is changing. A whole block fell out of the mosaic on Wednesday.

The United States is the world's second largest importer of agricultural commodities, running slightly behind the United Kingdom, Department of Agriculture reports.

Surprise Hides Inside Beef

For a special treat, team up those long-time friends, cheese and pimientos, with hamburgers — but with a surprise twist.

Instead of placing the cheese on the meat during the cooking process, where it will drip and possibly burn, wrap squares of cheese in whole pimientos and place inside the raw beef patties.

For a fancier touch, prepare the patties in the same way and add 1/3 cup of California Burgundy, or any other red dinner wine, to the meat mixture before shaping the patties. (Remember, the heat in cooking removes all alcohol from wine, leaving only the flavor, so wine-flavored food may be served to children as well as other members of the family.)

Hamburger Surprise
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 egg
1 cup chopped onion
Salt and pepper
1 1/2 cups of jar whole pimientos
4 squares (4x4) cubes of sharp cheddar cheese

Mix beef, egg, wine, onion, salt and pepper, lightly but thoroughly, shape into 4 fat, round patties and press a hole in center of each. Wrap pimientos around cheese cubes and poke into the holes. Completely cover the pimiento-wrapped cubes with meat, to avoid drippings from the cheese as it melts while cooking. Broil, pan fry, or barbecue to desired doneness.

HAMBURGER SURPRISE — Wrap cheese squares in whole pimientos and enclose in ground beef patties. Sealed-in flavor will delight whole family.

Eat Ground Beef Soon After Buying

Hi there! Have you ever wondered if there is anything you can't do with ground beef. Well, there is one thing: you can't store ground beef very long.

If you want to eat ground beef when it tastes the best, plan to use it within two days after the time you buy it, suggests the Consumer Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

When you buy ground beef, be sure to loosen the wrapper before you put it in the refrigerator. If you buy prepackaged ground beef, an easy way to loosen the wrapper is just to punch a few holes in the top of the package.

Make half a dozen slits in a marachino cherry, then flatten it to petal shape and use for a flower garnish! Dry cherries on paper towels before using so they won't weep.

Delicious Dressing for Green Salad

Interesting salad dressing! Southwest Dressing: 1 packet (half of a 16-oz. envelope) garlic-onion mix, 2 tablespoons cider vinegar, 1 cup salad oil. With a fork beat together the garlic-onion mix, vinegar and salad oil; or shake thoroughly in a small tightly-covered jar. Stir or shake again before using. Makes almost 1/2 cup.

Potatoes Form Snowy Cap for Wieners

Frankfurters, with mashed potatoes, form a hearty, quickly prepared main dish which may be part of a meal served as a patio or porch picnic. Chopped green onion, dairy sour cream and paprika add tempting flavor. Potato Capped Franks: 8 frankfurters

1 cup seasoned mashed potatoes
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup chopped green onion
1 teaspoon salt
Paprika

Cut frankfurters lengthwise, being careful not to cut completely through. Place frankfurters cut side up, in an 8 by 12 inch baking dish. Spread each frankfurter with 1/4 cup mashed potato. Combine sour cream, green onion and salt and spread over mashed potato, using about 1/2 tablespoon on each. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees) for 15 to 15 minutes, or until lightly browned. Sprinkle with paprika. Yield: 4 servings. Potato Capped Franks may also be broiled. Place them 3 inches from the heat until browned, 5 to 7 minutes.

Quick Meat Sauces

Quick sauce for ham: heat a small can of crushed pineapple with a little lemon juice. To make a quick sauce for roast lamb, heat mint jelly with lemon juice, heating with a whisk or fork until smooth.

Cookie Dough Forms Cups

You may not often see an adult cheerfully licking an ice cream cone — dignity after all — but it's a safe bet that no one really outgrows his taste for the luscious combination of cool ice cream in a sweet, crunchy holder. That's why we're predicting a great future for the newest slice 'n bake cookie idea — petal-shaped sundae cups. Youngsters, of course, will love 'em — but they're pretty enough for a tea party and impressive enough for company dinner any night of the summer season. Best of all, there's not a hint of measuring, mixing, or fussing involved in the making. The slice 'n bake cookies from your grocer's dairy case see to that.

A muffin tin and a moment for arranging the cookie slices shape the petal cups. Add a few minutes for baking, a few more for cooling, then fill them with ice cream, finish with a fluff of topping, and prepare to be cheered.

Possible variations depend on your taste in ice cream and cookies, but with four cookies and all the ice cream flavors under the sun to choose from — this could be the summer specialty of the house and you'd never serve it twice the same way.

Cookie Petal Sundae Cups
1 roll Crushed Peanut Slice 'n Bake Cookies
Ice cream
Ice cream topping
Slice cookie dough 1/4 inch thick. (*You may use Bittersweet Nut, Sugar or Toasted Coconut.) Line muffin pans with paper cupcake liners. Use 5 slices to line each cup — place 1 on bottom, stand 4

Tuna Fish Is a Good Summer Standby Food

Canned tuna is a standby item for cold meals popular throughout the summer season. This versatile sea food can be prepared many ways to tempt appetites which may not be as hearty as usual due to the hot weather. Excellent suggestion is a chilled tuna loaf served with vegetable salad. Bake the loaf in the cool of the morning, and refrigerate until supper time. Tuna sandwiches are fine for summer menus. Light but satisfying fare, they rate high on the counts of flavor and eye appeal. Fix an openface sandwich with a tasty spread of canned tuna and avocado which is garnished with pimiento.

Summer Tuna Loaf
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
2 eggs, separated
1/2 cup canned tuna, drained
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon finely chopped parsley
Heat milk to boiling point; add crumbs and mix well. Beat egg yolks. Combine milk mixture, egg yolks, tuna, and remaining ingredients; mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into tuna mixture. Press into greased 8-1/2x4-1/2x2-1/2 inch pan or shape into loaf and place on greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes. Chill thoroughly. Makes 8 servings.

Tuna Avocado Spread
1 cup mashed avocado (about 1 medium-sized) avocado
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 cup canned tuna, drained
Buttered bread
Crushed pimiento
Combine avocado, mayonnaise, lemon juice, horseradish and celery salt; blend. Add tuna; mix well. Spread on bread to make openface sandwiches. Garnish with pimiento. Makes about 2 cups.

SUMMER TUNA LOAF — Tempting fare on a warm evening is a tasty tuna loaf served cold with vegetable salad and tomato and water cress sandwiches. Lemonade is the beverage.

Put Melons on Your Menu Often

By JANET ODELL, Pontiac Press Home Editor

We feel sorry for two friends of ours who are allergic to cantaloupe. Think what they miss! But we don't know anyone who is allergic to watermelon. Some folks don't like it — say they'd rather drink their water.

Nevertheless, melon of one kind or another makes the cook's life more interesting during the summer. This year cantaloupe has been unusually reasonable in price. We can serve halves rather than quarters for breakfast fruit.

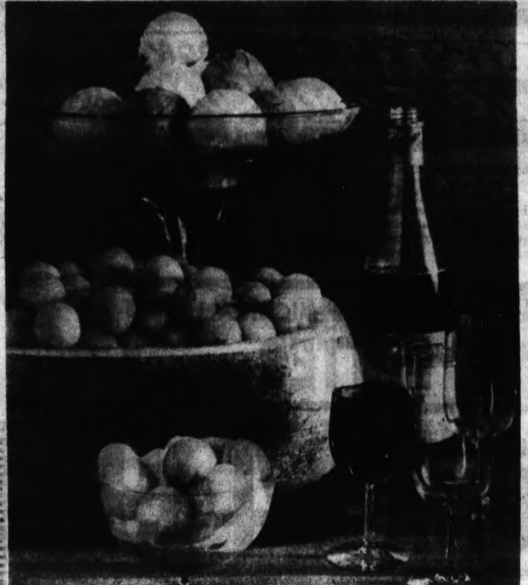

We have to keep reminding the Eleven-Year-Old to cover any eat melon he puts in the refrigerator. We've all found out, to our sorrow, that the fragrance of melon will permeate other foods if it is left uncovered.

Authorities tell us not to chill cantaloupe too long; an hour in the refrigerator is enough. Over-chilling makes it lose some of its bouquet. When you bring melons home from the store, they may need two or three days at room temperature to ripen.

We still see women pressing the end of cantaloupe, trying to find a ripe one. It won't work. By the time a dozen fingers have pressed the end of one melon, it's bound to be soft.

Look to heavy netting on the outside and for a depressed place where the stem came off easily. And we always smell the melon — and shake it. If you want a ripe one to use immediately, you will buy the one that rattles.

Under-ripe cantaloupe can be baked and served with meat. This was a new idea to us and will probably be to you. It's worth a try.

FROSTY MELON MELANGE — Heap a watermelon bowl high with balls of four kinds of ripe melon. Serve with scoops of sherbet and some of the Rose wine in which you have marinated the melon. It's a delicately flavored dessert that's definitely cooling.

Lemon Heightens Flavor of Tuna Avocado Mold

Summertime salads are versatile — serve them as a main dish at lunch time for the ladies, or as a tasty accompaniment to a hearty meal for the family. Here's a recipe for an unusual molded salad that will serve dieters or gourmets with equal delight. You can vary the garnishes according to the occasion.

MOLDED LEMON AVOCADO AND TUNA LOAF

Tuna Layer

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 can tuna, flaked
1 cup celery, diced

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water to soften; place over boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add sugar and one tablespoon lemon juice. Chill to consistency of unbeaten egg white.

Mash avocado; add remaining lemon juice immediately. Add sour cream, mayonnaise, salt and hot pepper sauce. Fold in gelatin mixture.

Turn on top of almost firm first layer. Chill until firm.

Unmold; garnish with avocado slices, pimiento stuffed olives, or dabs of salad dressing, either low calorie or a rich, creamy, thousand island dressing. Yield: 4-6 servings.

Color of Food as Important as the Taste

You may not have tried this enticing salad combination.

Green and Gold Salad

4 drained pineapple slices
2 oranges
1 cup 1% or 2% creole green celery, minced, onion
Fresh dressing
Lettuce or other salad greens

Cut pineapple into small fan-shaped pieces. Peel, slice and dice oranges. Mix fruit with celery. Add onion to taste and enough French dressing to moisten; mix well. Arrange on salad greens.

If desired, the pineapple rings may be left whole and arranged on salad greens; in this case mix the orange, celery and dressing and spoon over rings.

Note: Pineapple slices from a large can or the 4 rings in a 9-ounce can may be used. If instant minced onion is added, allow it to stand in the French dressing an hour or so before adding to salad.

Frosty Melon Melange

1 watermelon
4 large honeydew melons
4 large cantaloupe or Persian melons
100 sugar
1 quart each lemon, orange and raspberry sherbet

Use watermelon cut the long way, taking the more generous half for this party dish. Scoop out the pulp from watermelon with melon ball cutter, leaving the shell firm and intact.

Cut honeydew and cantaloupe with melon ball cutter; combine with watermelon balls; return to shell. Pour Rose wine over all. Chill several hours.

Serve over scoops of sherbet in wide glasses. Makes about 20 servings.

A couple of years ago we made our first batch of watermelon rind pickles. We decided they were certainly worth the effort. It does take time, but next winter you'll be glad you made them.

Watermelon Rind Pickles

1 watermelon rind
1 cup salt (not iodized)
1 cup sugar
1 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 pieces ginger root

Cut rind into 5-6 inch pieces and drop into boiling water. Boil 5 minutes. Drain. Cool. Cut off pink part and green skin. (This may be done

Stuffing Is New in Cabbage Rolls

A new recipe for stuffed cabbage, that perennial favorite of "different" meat dishes, is made with prepared packaged herb-seasoned stuffing. The prepared stuffing, added to basic ingredients called for in any stuffed cabbage dish, lends a piquant flavor to a main course which is both wholesome and nutritious.

Stuffed Cabbage Rolls

1 large cabbage, torn
1 tablespoon butter
1 onion, chopped
1 cup hot water
1 lb. ground beef
1 cup packaged prepared herb-seasoned stuffing
1 1/2 cups tomato soup
1 1/2 cups tomato sauce
1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup ketchup

In boiling water to cover, cook

Ice Cream Test Has Healthy Aim

NEW YORK (UPI) — A moving company has devised a test to help expediting householders detect whether a temporary power failure during their absence has caused food in their freezers to spoil and become dangerous to eat.

The test consists of placing a small carton of ice cream in the top of the freezer with a scoop-full taken out of the center.

If thawing results from a temporary power failure, melted ice cream will run into the scooped-out area where it will show up even if it is re-frozen.

The company uses the test when transporting frozen food in freezers.

When measuring syrup, grease your spoon first so the syrup won't cling.

Cheese Topped Muffins

A delicious sandwich to serve with a cup of chilled soup or salad for a tempting summer lunch. Split and toast English muffins, spread with deviled ham or home-made ham salad and top with wedges of mild nut-like Gouda cheese. Broil just until cheese softens.

Ground-in grime... or simply soiled...

you need CLOROX to get out dirt that suds leave in!

Never doubt it. Suds-proof dirt sneaks into lightly soiled washload, too. Example: the stubborn soil inside shirt collars or blouses. Worse yet, it's a build-up of this same kind of dirt that makes entire washes gray. How can Clorox get out dirt when even the best detergents fail?

Clorox cleans in a way suds can't. Detergent will loosen ordinary dirt. But stubborn, gray-causing dirt is locked in too tightly to be loosened. This dirt demands the special dissolving action of Clorox bleach. Clorox literally melts suds-proof dirt away. Next wash, ground-in grime, or simply soiled, discover it for yourself...

Clorox actually dissolves suds-proof dirt that makes clothes gray!

Mature Woman Must Watch Skin in Summer

(NEA) — Every summer, as many mature women take to the beach as do teen-agers. And thanks to careful diets, improved methods of hair care and well-designed swimsuits, they look better each year.

There's just one area in which they must exercise caution: the matter of dry skin. For the sun, while it's healthful, does a great deal of harm to the skin when you're in the sun and near the water. Buy a beach hat. They're back in fashion and fun to wear. Take along a beach jacket. Take along your favorite sun lotion or cream and make generous use of it. Get out of the sun the first moment that you feel you've had enough.

And that night, at home, add a half cup of baking-soda and a half cup of clothes starch to your bath water.

Foreign Teens Visit 35 Area Families

By MARJORIE EACHER
Women's Editor
The Pontiac Press

You have 36 hours to make friends with a teen-age American Field Service exchange student.

In this brief period you will take him intimately into your family—you will feed him, provide sleeping quarters for him for two nights, and if necessary do his laundry, attend to his minor hurts and extend him warmth and affection.

This happy assignment was the lot of 35 Pontiac families from Tuesday evening until this morning. Through the local American Field Service committee, they became hosts to a host of teen-agers.

Boys and girls, lanky and short, complexions as varied as their accents, they came from 19 countries. Besides their bright yellow AFS identification tags and assorted hand luggage, these 18-to-19-year-olds had in common a contagious enthusiasm and eagerness about the country in which they have lived for almost a year.

Under the AFS International Scholarship Program, they have lived with American families, attending high school in their adopted communities as seniors, absorbing American life and sharing the culture of their countries with their hosts.

The year behind them, this group from North Dakota and Minnesota is moving by bus to Washington D.C. and New York.

Similar bus loads—1,500 students in all — from all parts of the U.S. are en route to this rendezvous, sightseeing and making new friends and memories as they travel.

Pontiac's group is identified as "Bus 12B."

First happy moment was the joyous one on arrival when mail caught up to the kids for the first time since they left Minnesota June 23.

Shoulder high Lena from Greece, jumping with excitement, could scarcely contain her excitement. She was near tears.

Mac from Indonesia, "Elvis" of the group, dismembered guitar in hand with a grin that was infectious.

Stuffed animals hugged by the girls, strange hats worn by the boys — it could have been any group of teen-agers, anywhere.

A whirlwind of activity engulfed the bus depot for excitement. Cries of "Hi!" "Have you found your boy?" "Over here!" were heard.

We found ours. He was a poised 17-year-old from Turkey.

We had him all too briefly. Heavy was our sense of desire to show him our corner of America. In a brief span of time we picnicked, bicycled through our community, laughed on cheeseburgers and TALKED.

Because he was interested in art and architecture and journalism, we toured The Pontiac Press, Cranbrook and Northland Center.

Noted architect Minoru Yamasaki graciously arranged for future-architect Orhan Zeki Unlutmaz to tour his offices, examining working drawings and intricately detailed scale models of his designs.

The Detroit Institute of Art with its Michigan artist exhibit, its famed Rubens and Braugel paintings, were all on our fast tour of the area.

A drive on the Lodge expressway and sish-kabob with Turkish coffee (because he was homesick for its taste) preceded our final hours together.

These were spent in reflective quiet on the moonlit Detroit River, guests of the Bob-Lo management. What better way to see Detroit's dynamic, growing skyline.

We know other people did such exciting things as taking in big league baseball, introducing their guests to water skiing and touring the Pontiac Motor facilities, because we heard again and again as the group left this morning for Akron, Ohio. "It's the best stop we've had!"

Dallas Tots Encouraged to Create

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts is sponsoring a program to inspire children from six to 14 to try their hands at creating.

Special Saturday classes, co-sponsored by Dallas College of Southern Methodist University, expose the youngsters to painting, sculpture, printmaking, and sculpture.

The aim is to make the children go to work with paint brushes, crayons or clay and produce works of their own," said Mary Doyle, the program director.

She said the program also tries to stimulate family participation in art projects, and later will include art appreciation classes for adults.

"Creativity in the young can be stifled by adults who try to impose their own ideas of color and form," Miss Doyle said. "There is no one way to see any object and if you criticize a child's work on grounds it is unrealistic, you confuse him."

One or the Other

(NEA) — To get the best performance from your summer clothes, launder them or have them dry cleaned. But whichever method you choose, stay with it. It's hard on clothes if you switch from one to the other.

Life-Saving Rules

Make Your Swim Safe

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Since we are right in the middle of the swimming season it is a good time to give you some rules for safety. It is the novice who does not realize the hazards of water. The seasoned swimmer is alert to dangerous possibilities. Many people will lose their lives this summer because they did not heed one or more of the following cautions.

1. Never go in swimming alone, no matter how well you swim.

2. Learn how to rescue or assist a person in danger of drowning without endangering yourself. Every swimmer should know this.

3. Do not swim when digestion is at its height.

4. The best time to swim is during the first two hours of the morning and the last two in the afternoon. Low temperatures during the early morning and late evening can cause cramps.

Don't See Him, Says Abby

He's Got Nerve, All Right

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and last year I fell in love with a wonderful person. We seemed to click immediately. He met my parents but I never met him as he was from out of town. He gave me an engagement ring, but every time I mentioned our future plans he would claim up. My father did some checking and found out my "fiance" was married.

When I told him what I knew, he admitted it. He said he tried to tell me several times, but he didn't have the nerve. He said they had no children and he was trying to get a divorce. I told him I never wanted to see him again. He keeps calling me at work and begging me to see him. I am heartbroken over this, Abby, because I still care for him. Should I see him?

REDEYED

DEAR RED-EYED: If there is anything this nerve is not short on—it's NERVE. It takes nerve for a married man to court a girl. It took colossal nerve to give you an "engagement" ring.

And when you told him you were through, he summoned up the nerve to call you and beg you to change your mind. Don't see him. He has obligations (unfulfilled) elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: About twenty years ago I heard a sermon in which the preacher quoted something from the Bible proving that in Biblical times men used to help their wives with the dishes. Do you know where I can find such a passage? My husband says I must have dreamed it.

ROSE

DEAR ROSE: You are possibly referring to II Kings 21:13 "... and I will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipes a dish, wiping it, and turning it upside down."

DEAR ABBY: I am getting the reputation for being the "meanest mother on the block" because I don't allow my 11-year-old son to stay up and watch horror movies on TV. His two playmates can watch those programs. My child is ridiculed because of it, and so am I. How do other mothers handle this problem, Abby?

MEANEST MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You are responsible for raising your own son, not the neighborhood — so don't be influenced by what the "other kids" can do. When youngsters boast that they have "permission"—investigation usually reveals that they simply are not supervised. My hat is off to you, Mother.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tea-bags came into being when a wholesale tea merchant in New York ordered silk bags to hold samples of tea distributed to his customers.

Teen Cites Community Togetherness

By EUGENE GILBERT
This being the season of the summer romance, we hasten to give you a report on what young people think about the well-known trend towards earlier dating.

First off, we can state that there's no argument about the trend itself. The 900 and more teen-agers that we talked to agreed overwhelmingly that their generation does start dating earlier than a generation ago.

In general, they felt that this affected scholarship, but not discipline or student health.

Like their teachers, to whom we put similar inquiries not long ago, the youngsters were inclined to blame modern society in general for encouraging early dating through school and youth club activities and what one boy termed "community togetherness."

Even more than the teachers, they were inclined to point a finger at the easy accessibility of the family car on date nights.

Parental emphasis on dancing lessons, acquiring social graces, establishing status in the community by joining the local teenage social whirl and similar evidences of coaxing by mom and dad were cited as contributing factors to the early dating trend.

They're having parties now for kids in the 8th and 9th grades, with dancing and late hours at our school," said 15-year-old Betty Stinson of Lynchburg, Va.

Ellen Hassler, 17, of Charleston, Ill., blamed the "rise of the junior high school" for giving the youngsters of her generation a feeling of earlier maturity.

Others echoed Ann Bradley, 17, of Mattson, Ill., who noted that "both school and the town promote this premature dating habit by sponsoring so many confectional activities like youth centers and art town dances."

"I date earlier than my brother did because I learned to drive younger than he did," explained Jerry DeBoer of LeMars, Iowa.

SEX EMPHASIS
Some, like 17-year-old Howard Goldstein of New York City, thought "increasing emphasis on sex in movies, books and television" was responsible.

Others, like 17-year-old Michael Pleva of Hartford, Conn., said "kids today have too much money and too easy a time getting a car to go on a date."

The youngsters interviewed were much more emphatic than the teachers in labeling early dating a deterrent to scholarship, but joined them in thinking that dating habits had little effect on school discipline or student health, although even here the teen-agers ranked up higher percentages than their teachers.

JEALOUSY A PROBLEM
For instance, 56 per cent of the youngsters felt early dating had an adverse effect on scholarship, compared with only 45 per cent of the teachers, and 46 per cent of the youngsters felt it had an adverse effect on discipline, compared with only 35 per cent of the teachers.

Boys (63 per cent) were much more worried about the effects of dating on studies than the girls (49 per cent).

Those who admitted to going steady agreed with their teachers that certain problems inevitably will result.

But where the teachers were concerned about such things as pregnancy, early marriage and fist fights in the school yard, the kids were faced with such problems as jealousy, finding the right steady and understanding the wrong steady.

"The big problem is how to get rid of a steady that you don't want to go steady with anymore," answered 17-year-old Stephanie Samsberg of New Orleans.

"Jealousy is a problem," conceded 15-year-old Harry Gilliam of Quincy, Ill. "You can't even look at another girl without your steady getting mad."

Added 17-year-old Yvonne Bragg of Charlottesville, Va., "when you break up with a steady, it's hard to get back in the social whirl. You've kind of lost touch."

Of the entire group interviewed (both those going steady and those playing the field), 45 per cent thought the habit was bad for their set, 17 per cent thought it good and 38 per cent hadn't made up their minds.

Wife Always Ready to Go Out for Dinner

By RUTH MILLETT
"Housewives are the restaurant industry's biggest 'competitor,'" says Harry Akin, president of the National Restaurant Assn.

Akin sees his job as selling the American housewife on the pleasures of dining out. From what I know of housewives, I don't think Akin is going to have much trouble persuading the little woman to get out of the kitchen at least one night a week.

But he may have quite a job in selling her husband on the idea.

From a man's point of view nothing is simpler than eating at home.

He doesn't have to plan the menu, buy the food, cook it, get it on the table, clear the table, wash the dishes and clean the kitchen at meal's end.

All he has to do is sit down and eat when his wife sings out: "dinner's ready." So persuading him that eating out is a nice break from eating in may not be so easy.

The best chance a wife has to sell her husband on the idea that he ought to take her out to dinner at least one night a week is to get him started on the routine in the very first months of marriage.

If he knows from the start that dinner out occasionally is important to his bride—then she's got a chance of keeping him from settling down to the dull routine of dinner at home every night, followed by an evening before the TV set.

So the smart bride will dress up in her best one night a week and get her husband to take her out for dinner—the way he used to before they were married.

Sitting across from each other at a candlelit table in a quiet restaurant, they'll find themselves discussing all sorts of fascinating subjects, building dreams together and planning for the future.

And "dinner out one night a week" shouldn't be discontinued when the children come along. For then, more than ever a husband and wife need to get off by themselves for an occasional peaceful evening.

So Akin's plan of getting the housewife out of the kitchen ought not to meet with any resistance from the housewife.

And if she in turn can just sell the idea to her husband, it ought to go a long way toward building the kind of companionship that keeps a marriage happy.

Permit Child to Make Own Decision but . . .

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

In the stationery store David is involved in a momentous decision. He is preparing to select a birthday card for his pretty young Sunday School teacher.

Soon we realize that he is attracted to the most horrible card on the rack—a lush affair of blue satin hearts, hovering doves and bowknots.

The driftness of its veridical sentiment makes us want to giggle, but clearly strikes David as both beautiful and apt.

He barely glances at the more restrained samples we proffer for his consideration and keeps sliding back down the rack to the site of the hearts, doves and bowknots. Finally, removing it from its slot, he asks:

"Don't you think this is the prettiest, Mom?"

I believe that the answer is: "No. But if you think it is, you must take it and pay no attention to my opinion."

I make the point of our right to open disagreement with David because some child guidance advice has confused it, leaving the impression that we "support" children's decisions by agreeing with the decisions.

This is, of course, untrue. The whole purpose of giving "support" to children's decision is the development of their self-trust.

Weddings Once a Year

CAIRO (UPI)—At the foot of the Great Pyramid of Cheops at Giza lies a village of some two thousand persons who throw all the year's engagements into one big marriage.

The village is called Nazlet El-Semman (Quality road). It lives on the trade of guiding tourists around the Pyramids and the Sphinx.

One night every year the village stages a mass wedding for all engaged couples. This spring, 100 couples were wed.

NO BREAKS

The Moslem marriage sheikh conducted one ceremony after another for six hours without a break.

In earlier years, each bride rode a camel to her matrimonial home. The bridegroom, beaming in "Sunday" robe and silk scarf, walked before the camel, his friends surrounding him with bouquets and burning candles.

This year, cars replaced camels. But the men, surrounded by their friends, kept walking in front of the cars.

The villagers refuse to marry on any day other than the anniversary of the death of Sheikh El-Semman, the founder of the town.

real obligation to help David trust his own opinion of the birthday card with the false obligation to share it.

It is the support of the indecisive child's right to differ from us that he is usually seeking.

Like David, he will sound as though to make his decision he had to have our agreement on his judgments of greeting cards, new clothes, toys, the crayon color to be applied to the tulips in his coloring book.

But what he really is seeking is more sureness for his own judgments.

If, when declaring our disagreement with him, we also support his right to differ from us, his judgment regains its freedom, unhampered by fear of making the wrong one.

His insistence on our agreement is fear of making the wrong judgment. The insistence is removed when the fear is removed.

City children suffer from acute health conditions about half again as often as farm youngsters, according to the Health Insurance Institute.

DiBlasi Will Conduct Six Beach Concerts

Conductor for the six summer Detroit Little Symphony concerts "under the stars" at Metropolitan Beach is Francesco DiBlasi, conductor of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

The first concert will be presented at 8 p.m. Sunday in the plaza area of the beach.

All concerts this year will be given in the evening. Both afternoon and evening concerts were presented in the past. The program was introduced in 1957.

Concert time at the beach will be at 8 p.m. through Sunday, August 14.

Soloists for future summer concerts will include Alice Engram, mezzo soprano; Eugene Snyder, tenor; Maria Roumel, soprano; Nicholas Billardello, baritone; Jerry Exline, pianist; and Zinovi Bistrizky, violinist.

Free, the concerts are cosponsored by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, five county parks and parkway agency; and the recording industries trust funds on recommendation by the Detroit Federation of Musicians.

June Bridge Revenues Down 9.5 Pct. Over '59

ST. IGNACE — Traffic and revenues on the Mackinac Bridge in June were down from the totals of the same month a year ago, the bridge authority said Thursday.

"A 9 1/2 per cent reduction in revenues and a 10.5 per cent decrease in traffic in June 1960, compared with June 1959, was caused by a cold and wet June," said Prentiss M. Brown, authority chairman. "Similar decreases in tourist business seemed to be general throughout the state," he added.

'Many Speculators Going to Be Sad'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Edward A. Merkle, president of Madison Fund, Inc., has given fair warning that there will be many "unhappy speculators" before the year is out.

"How long the speculative fever will last is very difficult to ascertain," he told security analysts, "but my word of caution is that when you start paying 50 times earnings for securities, you must be sure you know everything there is to know about the companies you buy."

Iron Ore Shipments Up for 1st 6 Months in 1960

CLEVELAND (AP)—June iron ore shipments on the Great Lakes were 348,974 tons under a year ago, but for the season to July 1 this year's tonnage exceeds 1959's by 1,468,650 tons, the American Iron Ore Assn. reported Wednesday.

Last month 12,038,328 tons of ore were hauled down lake, and, for 1960 to July 1, the total is 30,200,583 tons.

The 40-hour-week as practiced in most Western countries will probably be adopted officially in Italy.

MacLeay Leaves PCH Grid

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Dr. Jesse MacLeay, who has traveled the sports route from Vermont to Wisconsin to Illinois to Michigan and now to Texas, leaves Pontiac with "mixed emotions" along with words of compliment and advice.

MacLeay's resignation as head football coach at Pontiac Central leaves his program of aiming for "high standards of athletics for the city" in the hands of his successor, who is yet to be named.

"I really have to leave Pontiac," said MacLeay in an interview from his consulting office of the Green Mountain Boys' Camp in Vermont.

"I had dreams of seeing football grow to great heights in Pontiac, and if the administration continues to support the next coach as they have done for me, things will continue to get better in the city," he continued.

Two years ago, after his first season as head coach at PCH, MacLeay publicly rapped the "athletic passiveness" in Pontiac. He blamed the community and the parents for the "poor physical standards and football apathy." He also called on school system, civic leaders and parental groups to strive for better standards for training boys in athletics and especially in football.

"I have resigned, not in dissatisfaction, but because of personal opportunity," MacLeay noted, "because Pontiac has a very fine school system and there have been some marvelous changes in the past couple years to help the city's athletic status."

One of MacLeay's pet projects in his three years here was to aim for better cohesiveness between junior high and high school football and between city and school athletic programs.

"There are many more losses which have to be picked up in this respect, but I think junior high can realize now that a greater stress on basic and uniform system of teaching funda-mentals is most necessary for over-all success in Pontiac," he pointed out.

MacLeay's first premise for football success has been "good blocking and tackling is the most important thing for football."

He did his utmost to adhere to this premise as indicated from the 1958 squad when he started the season with 120 players and finished with 28.

"It was at this time that he voiced his opinion about the poor physical standards and the need for parental encouragement and support to their children from becoming a bunch of 'softies.'"

"I can honestly say that the kids I had last year had the guts and desire to play as they did and I hope this attitude continues," he said.

MacLeay looked forward to a lean season next fall. He said he had planned on utilizing primarily a sophomore unit and build for football success two and three years hence.

"There are some fine sophomores coming up from the junior high schools and if everyone cooperates Pontiac Central should have some great teams in couple years," he said.

Next season Pontiac will see the first game in the football rivalry between Central and Northerns.

The Central coaching job has not yet been determined. A committee made up of Dr. Dana Whitmer, Francis Stealey, Ed Graybill, Philip Proud and Hollie LeMay has been formed to screen the candidates.

Upon resignation, MacLeay made a recommendation of one of his assistants for the job. He did not reveal the name of the coach, but presumably it was Gene Norris, whom MacLeay always considered as a good strategist.

MacLeay was at the top of the salary scale in the Pontiac school system. As a teacher, with a Doctor's degree, plus coaching compensations, his salary was figured to be $8,700.

At Trinity College in Texas where he will be director of physical education his salary is said to be around $10,000.

1st County High School All-Star Grid Game, Aug. 19

SPORTS

Departing PCH Coach Hails All-Star Contest

Departing Pontiac Central football coach Jesse MacLeay left verbal support to the Oakland County All-Star football game which will be played at Wisner Stadium, Aug. 19th.

"Michigan doesn't take a back seat to any state as far as high school football goes," said MacLeay, "it is just unfortunate that the state high school athletic association puts so many restrictions on it."

"Many boys have gained college educations and professional greatness because of football," MacLeay added, "but the MISAA still puts football in lesser perspective to other sports with its restrictions."

Many college coaches attend such All-Star football games in other states with hopes of catching a "sleeper" candidate for the college ranks.

"Pontiac and the county should support such a game enthusiastically, because many of their boys could earn college opportunities and it also will tend to make school players play hard to gain the honor of playing on such a team," he added.

"I wish I could see the game, but I have previous commitments with my new job at that time," MacLeay said.

Two members of MacLeay's Pontiac Central team, Jerry Raab and Charlie Brown, have received invitations to play in the game.

A total of six of the 1959 PCH squad have been given college scholarship bids.

City Jaycees Sponsor Prep Grid Clash at Wisner Stadium

The All-Oakland County High School stars, as picked amply by the county's coaches and printed in The Press, will get a chance to show their talents next month.

For the first time, a North-South Oakland County All-Star football game will be played Friday night Aug. 19th at Wisner Stadium.

The game, sponsored by the Pontiac Jaycees, will match the All-County players from 19 North County high schools against those from 17 high schools in South Oakland County.

Only those players who have graduated the past June are eligible to compete in the game.

Because MISAA forbids using undergraduate players, prep coaches and prep officials, the coaching staffs of the respective squads will be made up of professional or ex-high school coaches.

There are numerous former prep players living in Oakland County, such as Lou Creekmur, Louis Hart, Duane Bibbe, Carl Harvill, Bob Miller and others who now are being contacted for coaching duties.

Invitations to participate in the game are being extended to players by the Pontiac Jaycees by phone and letters.

There are many outstanding high school stars from the county who are headed for colleges. They had seen enough of Jake Mazur for one evening.

Mazur, for many years an outstanding pitcher in these parts, pitched a no-hit, no-run contest during that five-inning stretch and — what's more — he struck out 13 batters, just two short of a clean sweep.

A pop fly to shortstop Al Smith and another pop-up to Mazur himself were the only times Stadium hitters got their bats on the ball. In the meantime, Elks batters were clubbing nine hits off Roger Reynolds for a 6-10 victory.

Other outstanding candidates include Jerry Rush, Pontiac Central; Dennis Alak, West Bloomfield; John Meadows, Dearborn; Bob Chevrolet, and Jim Tedy, Warren.

Walled Lake; Dick Smith, Avondale; Doug Stott, Oxford; Bill Bryce, Waterford; Bob Hocking and George Graves, Pontiac Northern; Stuart King, Dearborn; Fox, Ferndale; Howard Schimma and Bill Jones, Bloomfield Hills; Sam Reeves and George Forest, Birmingham; Terry Odom, Southfield; Bob Fletcher, Hazel Park; Carl Richter, Holly; Dean Callison, Lake Orion; Rick McKinstry, Troy; Tom Davis, Clawson; Pat Campbell, St. Michael; Steve Lyon; Reggie Dixon, Rochester; Paul Mullin, Ferndale St. James; Steve Wolfe, Oak Park; Bob Portier and Rich Cavert, Clarkston; Gene Schuetz, Milford; Harvey Chapman, Farmington; Gary Richardson, Ortonville and Dan Richardson, Ortonville and Dan Richardson, Ortonville.

Similar All-Star games have been very popular in such great football states as Pennsylvania, Ohio and Texas.

The Jaycees hope to make the event an annual affair.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. GARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "Can't ever keep the ball straight!"

DIAGNOSIS: Dipping a shoulder.

TREATMENT: There are two wrong moves you can make with your shoulders to wreck your golf swing. One is to dip the left shoulder as the backswing starts, and the other is to abruptly lower the right shoulder as the downswing begins.

On the backswing, the shoulders should simply turn on the same plane they are on when the swing begins. If you dip your left shoulder during the backswing, there is a little hope of hitting the ball squarely and straight.

Pitchers Blast Homers to Beat Giants, Braves

By The Associated Press
When the other contenders start getting beat on three-run homers by pitchers, it's time to start getting excited about those Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League race.

And the time is now. Gene Conley, a one-time Milwaukee right-hander, tagged a two-out homer with two on that gave Philadelphia an 8-5, 10-inning victory over the second-place Braves Wednesday night. And right-hander Stan Williams socked a three-run shot while blanking third place San Francisco on three hits as the Los Angeles Dodgers clobbered the Giants 10-0.

That sent the Pirates into a 5½-game lead, the largest of the season in the majors. They made it with a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati — breaking up Bob Purkey's two-hit shutout in a five-run eighth capped by Bob Skinner's inside-the-park grand slam home run.

The last place Chicago Cubs, with Ernie Banks hitting his 25th home run and George Altman driving in six runs with two homers, whipped St. Louis 10-1. The loss dropped the Cards to fifth place while the Dodgers, 8½ games back but looking like world champs again, moved into fourth with their eighth victory in 10 games.

Conley (5-4) who also pitched two perfect innings of relief for the victory, hung the Braves' third straight defeat on reliever Don McMahon (2-6) with his second home run in the majors. It came after Joe Morgan, another ex-Brave, opened the 10th with a double and McMahon intentionally walked Cal Neenan with two out to get to Conley.

Tony Gonzalez also homered for the seventh-place Phils, off Bob Buhl in a two-run first inning. The Braves, who pulled off the NL's first triple play in two seasons, got a homer from Joe Adcock, but blew a 5-4 lead behind reliever Ron Piche on B. G. Smith's tying infield hit in the ninth.

Two 1-0 Jr. Games

Lake Orion in 'E' Lead

Lake Orion took over sole possession of first place in the Class E National League yesterday by outscoring the Great Lake Mutual 15-4 in 10 innings. Three of the team's 10 hits came in the deciding round.

In a Class A American tilt, West Side Kiwanis edged Pontiac Police 1-0 in a fine pitching duel. Kerry Rogers hurled a four-hitter to win. Loser Dean Souder allowed only three safeties. Dave Worster got one in the 5th and eventually scored on a passed ball, error and fielder's choice.

Gene Morgan's strong relief pitching paced Dixie Dairy to a 5-3 conquest of Makin in a Class F International affair. Dixie came from behind with three in the 7th. The Hoyt Pioneers put together three straight hits in the 7th in beating the Blackhawks, 6-5.

Pontiac Central whipped Oxford 5-2 featuring a triple, single and two walks by Roy Collins and a single, three-bagger and walk by Larry Brennan.

There were four Widget games. Preston Bros. won 1-0 over the Wizards in the National League when the Bishop tripped home in the final inning. Victor Skinner had a one-hitter. Preston's got just two. Rappy's ran wild blasting Baldwin 3-1 featuring 19 in the 4th and a total of 16 hits in the International.

Pontiac Boys Club and Furtney Drug romped in the American League. PBC bombed the Moose 13-2 making it easy for hurler Jim Longspore. Furtney tallied nine times in the 1st and went on to take Ned's Drillers, 21-8.

The big right-hander didn't walk a man, struck out seven and retired the last 11 in order while facing just 29 men for his first shutout since 1958. Frank Howard also hit a three-run homer, and Norm Sherry parked one with one on for the Dodgers, who had 13 hits. It was the second straight shutout for the Giants — now scoreless through 28 innings.

Purkey (8-1) had won three in a row, shattered his shutout against his ex-mates by forcing in Pittsburgh's tying run with a bases-loaded walk. Then Skinner ripped a liner to left off reliever Bill Henry and scooted home as Wally Post missed a shoestring catch. Tom Cheney (1-1) gave way to a pinch-hitter in the eighth but gained his first major league victory. Gus Bell and Ed Bailey homered for the Reds' runs.

Banks' three-run homer clinched it for the Cubs in the second inning against Bob Gibson (1-2). Altman's three-run homers came off Ed Bairst, who was making his major league debut. Glen Hobbie (8-10) was the winner, blanking the Cards on four hits until Bill White homered with two out in the eighth.

The professionals will be shooting for $16,000 prize money, the largest bundle of cash ever offered in a Ladies Professional Golf Assn. event. First place will be worth $2,532.

Marlene Bauer Hagge, of Del Ray Beach, Fla., scored three birdies for a 70 in Wednesday's pro-amateur prologue.

Ford Wins; Chisox Down Cleveland

Yanks Boost Lead to 2 Games

From Our Wire Services — The pitching of a trio of left-handers and a clutch homer by Roy Sievers featured a full schedule of night action in the American League Wednesday.

Whitey Ford won his third in a row as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 5-2 and regained a two-game lead over Cleveland while dropping the third-place Orioles three games back.

Jack Kralick of Washington and Kansas City ace Bud Daley were the other successful south-pawers. Kralick became the first pitcher to hurl a shutout at Fenway Park since Herb Score did it in 1950 as he blanked Boston, 4-0. Daley beat Detroit, 6-4.

a 1-5 decision over Cleveland snapping a 17th winning streak at 5-1.

The Yankees' beaten on one hit when they last faced Skinny Brown, handed the Orioles right-hander his third defeat in 10 decisions with a two-run eighth. A walk and Mickey Mantle's triple scored the winning run, and Roger Maris, who hit his 27th home run in the third inning, then followed with a single. Cleve Boyer added a solo homer in the ninth — No. 21 for the Yankees in the last 10 games, one shy of the AL record for that span. It also gave the Yanks 100 or more homers for the 16th consecutive year.

Ford 5-5 had a two-hit shutout for six innings and finished with a seven-hitter as the Yankees squared their season record with the Orioles' hits were for extra-base, one a ninth-inning homer by Brooks Robinson.

Sievers' 11th homer followed a leadoff walk by losing reliever Larry Locke 1-1, who also gave up a tying homer by Gene Frazier in the eighth. Gerry Staley 3-3 won it with four innings of two-hit shut-out relief after the Indians chased Early Wynn in a five-run fourth triggered by Woodie Held's two-on homer.

Kralick 4-0 blanked the Red Sox with a four-hitter in his second major league start. He walked two, fanned six. The Nats got their four in the first inning, scoring the first two on bases-loaded walks by Jerry Chase 2-4, who lost his eighth in a row. Jose Valdivia singled home the other two off reliever Tom Sturdivant.

Balding Leads on Torrid 64

TORONTO (AP) — Al Balding, who has had indifferent luck on the pro golf trail the last several years, hopes his luck has finally changed.

The 36-year-old Toronto shotsmith posted a sensational Sunday-par 64 to take the first round lead Wednesday in the Canadian Open golf championship at the suburban St. George's Club. He goes into today's second round with a one-stroke lead over Don January, a lean Texan from Dallas who blew a chance for a tie on the final hole.

He was the first-round open leader in 1959 with a 65, scored to a second-round 75 and finished the 72-hole tournament in a tie for 30th place, good for $130.

Balding also bettered the competitive course record of 65 by veteran E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis, when he won the Canadian Open in 1948.

All Boaters Urged to Observe National Safe Boating Week

Extend Water Courtesies to Avoid Mishaps

Eisenhower Invites All Craft Owners to Follow Safe Practices

Boating is safe, but only the effort of every boatman is going to keep it that way. More pleasure craft than have ever been afloat before will take to the water the week ending July 9.

President Eisenhower has stated: "I invite all the people interested in boating to observe National Safe Boating Week."

"I urge them during this week and throughout the entire year to follow safe boating practices and to extend courtesy on the waterways."

No one knows how many boats there are in America today. The National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers estimates seven million and this number is growing.

Accidents have not increased with the growth of the sport. Boats are becoming safer. As more knowledge of what makes a hull strong and seaworthy is designed into boats, families head out farther afield.

Electronic aids — portable radio, depth sounder, direction finder and radio telephone — can now fit into any craft from a rowboat up. Weather warnings, water depth and direction of land are provided by these gadgets to the pleasure skipper.

If still in trouble he can call for help by radio.

Better craft and more leisure time have successfully transformed boating from a form of roughing it to a family activity. Boats are better. It is important that skipper improve.

When accidents happen, they must now be reported. So on we should have statistics which will show when trouble is likely to occur.

The most dangerous thing a boatman can do is head out by himself in a small boat.

The next step is not clear, but apparently he stands up quickly to land a fish, reaches too far over the side, or perhaps just another vessel the wake from a passing vessel might tip him over.

Only the boat is found, for he may have tried to swim to shore instead of sticking with his craft while waiting to be rescued.

Faster motors can take the boatman farther from shore, and the need for a knowledge of boat handling, rules of the road and basic seamanship is more important than ever.

No boatman believes courtesy and common sense afloat can be ordered by law. At present there is only a minimum of restricted legislation. Boating is still a sport where the family may cruise out away from it all where they please.

National Safe Boating Week will do much to show if boatmen are accepting their responsibility for prudence.

Boat Has No Brakes, So Practice Stopping

Many persons who have not handled one have the misconception that a boat can be maneuvered and stopped as easily as an automobile. But the boat has no brakes. The new boat owner should practice landings and leaving of docks as often as possible.

FOR SKIING SAFETY — A water skiing flag, designed as a further safety measure for water skiers, has been initiated by the Eviradine Boating Foundation and sanctioned by the American Water Ski Association. The flag flies amidships opposite the driver's seat and indicates to other boatmen in the area that the boat from which it is flying is engaged in pulling water skiers and that these boats should exercise care and stand clear. It is expected to be especially useful in warning other boaters when there is a skier in the water, either being retrieved or starting a ski run.

Flag Introduced for Water Skiing

In the interest of providing the sport of water skiing with an additional safety precaution, both for the skier and other boats in the area, a new water skiing signal flag has been originated and designed by the Eviradine Boating Foundation and sanctioned by the American Water Ski Assn.

This new safety flag will be approximately 12 inches by 17 1/2 inches in size and is made up of a red diagonal bar, flanked by a pair of red water skis, on a white field. The diagonal red bar, through the center of the flag will be a plastic stiffener—or stay—so the flag will remain in its unfurled state even when the boat is not moving.

This flag would signify that the boat from which it is flying is engaged in pulling a water skier (or skiers) and other boats in the vicinity should be cognizant of the fact.

There are several safety advantages that can be gained by flying this flag (which is similar in idea to the flag used to identify skin diving).

A most important advantage is that the flag identifies a boat stopped to retrieve a fallen skier or one pulling a skier from the water near the low boat. The flag would serve to make other boats in the area aware that there is a water skier in the immediate area. Other boats can then stay clear to avoid tangling the tow line in the propeller or avoid hitting the skier.

Sometimes water skiers behind a large boat are obscured from the view of oncoming boats. With the water ski flag flying, these boats would have warning that a skier is being towed.

The flag will be flown amidships on a special inexpensive fiberglass staff at least three feet in length, with the staff mounted boats mounting will give it a distinctive identity and prevent confusion of this signal with other designs or pennants.

The flags will soon be available from marine dealers throughout the country and it is being recommended to all affiliated clubs of the American Water Ski Assn.

U. S. Rowers Open Bids for Olympic Positions

SYRACUSE, N.Y. —The rowers, probably the most anonymous and most dedicated athletes in American sports, today began a three-day battle on Onondaga Lake for the right to represent Uncle Sam in the Rome Olympics.

A record field of 76 — two more than in 1956 — was entered in the seven events of the Olympic Trials that got under way in the morning and continued all afternoon.

The winners of today's heats with a few exceptions, qualify for the Friday semifinals. The losers of first heats get another chance to make the semifinals in repechages (second chance for losers) Friday morning. Four crews will comprise the final field in each event Saturday.

There were only four entries in the double sculls so all four automatically gained the finals. There were only eight in the pair with coxswain, and four oars with and without coxswain.

The spotlight was on the glamorous two of the seven events — the eights, in which California and Harvard were favored, and the single sculls in which Navy Lt. Harry Parker was the favorite.

But there were strong fields in the other five events. They are the double sculls, pair oars with and without coxswain, and four oars with and without coxswain.

U. S. Rowers Open Bids for Olympic Positions

er in the eights, especially from Germany, but we will be formidable, again in the small boat races.

Four years ago in Australia, the U.S. won three championships, two seconds and one third.

California, winner of the Syracuse-Ira and Harvard's veteran sweepstakers, were rated just a shade over Cornell's two crews.

Navy's varsity and undefeated places Washington, Pennsylvania, Brown, Syracuse Alumni Rowing Assn., the Detroit Boat Club and Union Boat Club of Boston.

looked will be pointed out by the Auxiliaries.

It also affords the new boat owner the opportunity to find out if he is properly equipped as well as having any questions answered by the Examiner.

Boating can be a pleasure only if the boatman knows he and his guests are prepared to meet any emergency with a feeling of safety.

Everyone is urged to display the decal for Safe Boating Week, July 3 through July 9.

Nearly all marinas and boat ramps will have Auxiliaries to check boats.

Boating Guide Available

The U. S. Coast Guard has just announced the publication of their new and informative Recreational Boating Guide for the use of the millions of boating enthusiasts who take to the water each year.

Prepared to help the vast boating public enjoy many safe and healthful hours of recreation on the water, this fact-filled guide outlines the requirements of Federal boating laws and provides some helpful guidelines for safe and enjoyable operation.

Including information on such subjects as boat numbering, legal minimum equipment requirements; other equipment you should have; responsibilities when operating; aids to navigation; some hints on safety afloat; under sail, paddle, and oars; emergency procedures; and U. S. Coast Guard auxiliary services, it also provides copies of the Federal Boating Act of 1958 while Al. Olson placed second and the "Motorboat Act" of April with Bob Grieshaber and Mimi Harrison on the lines.

Jean Gray finished third with form, a Boating Accident Report and Al. and brother Jerry assisting, and Radio Distress Information, Sheet; and other useful information.

Good Grade of Gasoline Helps Boat Performance

You'll get the best performance from your motor if you use a good grade of regular gasoline, according to Eviradine's engineer, Bill Smale. The lubrication of working parts of your motor is supplied solely by oil which you mix with the gasoline. SAE 30 motor oil is the best lubricant, in a ratio of one-half pint of oil to each gallon of gasoline. Thorough mixing of the oil and gasoline is more important than the exact ratio.

Dry Equipment After Outings

It is always a good idea to place your life preservers, boat cushions and your boat's lines out in the sun for an adequate period whenever you return from a boating outing in which these items may have gotten wet, according to officials of the Eviradine Boating Foundation.

Careless handling of these lines Glen Foster of New York City and of equipment means short life for Dave Smalley of Larchmont, N.Y. They are the leaders at the end of five.

If you stow this equipment while the 12 races in the U. S. semi-soggy or damp you will encounter mild Olympic trials of fun class age midweek and red.

TEN RULES FOR BOATING SAFETY

1. Learn to swim. Be sure all passengers can swim or have life preservers handy.
2. Carry an approved life preserver vest, cushion or jacket for each person. Small children should wear theirs.
3. Have aboard not only all required equipment—lights, horn, life preservers and approved fire extinguisher—but also spare parts and tools, first aid kit, anchor and line, bilge pump, compass and distress flares.
4. Step into the middle of a small boat and sit down immediately, keeping all weight low. Trim boat to keep it balanced on an even keel. Never stand up suddenly.
5. Take aboard gasoline only in the approved manner. Wipe up all spilled gas and smell bilges for gas vapor before starting engine.
6. Never overload the boat.
7. Do not overpower the boat by using too large an engine. Travel through a harbor so that you leave no wake to disturb other boats. You are legally responsible for it.
8. Don't challenge threatening weather. Stay in port.
9. Remain with the boat if it capsizes. Shore may be farther off than it appears.
10. Learn seamanship. Obey piloting rules.

Auto Servicing Gigantic Business

Few People Repair Their Own Cars

By BEN PHILGAG
Automotive Writer

DETROIT—If there's something about your car that needs to be fixed the chances are less than one in 10 that you'll try to fix it personally.

While the "do-it-yourself" craze has spread into almost every phase of modern living during the postwar years, the one field which has seen a directly opposite trend is auto repairing.

A recent survey says less than 1 per cent of all vehicle repairs are done by the individual car owners.

Independent service shops and garages handled some 36 per cent of the repair work; service stations take 26 per cent and the service departments of auto dealers about 23 per cent. The remaining work is done in shops maintained by owners of fleets of cars and trucks.

One obvious reason why professional establishments grab almost all of the business is the growing complexity of cars. Even if you have a reasonable idea of what needs to be fixed you often need special costly tools to handle the job.

This complexity also has led to a growing variety of specialized service businesses which handle only one or two types of auto repairs, such as brakes or exhaust systems.

In Detroit, for example, the telephone directory lists 13 types of specialized repair shops, ranging from body repairing to windshield wipers.

MECHANICS NEEDED
Some industry observers suggest specialty garages have gone a long way toward alleviating the shortage of trained mechanics. But George J. Cutler, director of service of Plymouth-DeSoto-Valiant, says the service industry still needs at least 150,000 more trained men.

On the other hand, a man can be trained in one special job, such as replacing mufflers, much faster—and at much less expense than he can be trained to be an all-round mechanic.

All of the auto companies have extensive training programs for service personnel. In most cases these are devoted to adding skills to mechanics employed by dealers. Various auto service equipment suppliers and oil companies also run such training schools.

Chrysler sponsors a national trouble shooting contest in which teams of top auto mechanics students from public schools compete to see which can first spot and fix problems deliberately placed in cars.

Chrysler hired 160 of the competitors last year and individual dealers also hired some of them. Cutler said many of the winners are earning $10 a week or more after one year's experience.

The Weaver Manufacturing Co. of Springfield, Ill., one of many outfits which supply tools and equipment to the automotive service industry, estimates the American public now spends 10 billion dollars each year on parts, accessories and service for cars and trucks.

Sales of replacement parts alone increased 12 per cent over three billion dollars in 1959, according to the Automotive Service Industry Assn., and another gain of 10 per cent has been predicted for this year.

Weaver officials predict you can look forward to the elimination of at least one service job within the next five years—that of getting your car greased.

The number of fittings on the chassis which need lubrication has been declining and with the additional use of new materials which need no grease, the cars of 1965 may never need a grease job.

Robinson Gets Note From J.K.

Kennedy Recognizes the Rights of the Minorities in Letter

NEW YORK—Jackie Robinson made public today a letter from Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) after a request for "something in writing" on Kennedy's assurance that he recognizes the rights of minorities must be protected.

Robinson, who was the first Negro in Major League baseball published Kennedy's letter in his column in the New York Post. Robinson gave this background:

"In recent months, this corner has severely criticized Sen. Kennedy and documented a number of areas in which there were unanswered questions concerning his civil rights record and position.

JACK TALKS TO PATTERSON
"In particular, I've questioned his celebrated breakfast conference with Governor Negro-born Gov. (John) Patterson of Alabama. Patterson strongly endorsed Kennedy after the breakfast, calling him 'a friend of the South.'

"Kennedy invited me to Washington to discuss these matters with him. During our conference, he stated that the Patterson incident was the 'biggest burden' he has had to carry thus far, and that he felt I and others had been unfair to base our objections to his candidacy on this matter."

Robinson said he asked Kennedy "for something in writing," and that Kennedy wrote him a letter saying in part:

"You have questioned my talk over 16 months ago with the Governor of Alabama and some members of his state cabinet. As I told you, any responsible person in my position must be ready to talk with the governor or leading public officials of every state. . . .

"That does not imply my agreement with them or their agreement with me on particular issues. In my one brief meeting with Gov. Patterson civil rights was not discussed, but I am sure that he knows that we do not have similar views on this matter."

Robinson also quoted Kennedy as saying in the letter that in public utterances he has called for an end to all forms of discrimination and will not make any commitments inconsistent with such essential American principles.

Robinson said that, despite their exchange of views, he still is not supporting Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Marilyn Gives Greeting With Sisterly Affection

NEW YORK—Marilyn Monroe caused gals to stare and gents to ogle when she waggled around idly in white slacks and behind dark glasses the other night—greeting French glamour boy Yves Montand, who was Hollywood—to Europe bound to rejoin wife Simone Signoret.

Twas all right—Arthur Miller approved—and MM's secretary, May Resse, chaperoned. Ordinary babes at the airport drooled scandalously over Montand, who was MM's leading man in "Let's Make Love," which they finished last week in Hollywood.

A "very authentic source"—a cop and a skyp, if you must know—told us Montand and MM chatted about three hours in MM's rented limousine because Montand's plane was delayed. MM rode back around 1 a.m.

What do you suppose MM calls Montand? "Monsieur!" Which is translated Mr., Sir, Master or Gentleman. Why, it sounds so distant, idealistic and brotherly-and-sisterly, if we were those Hollywood gossip writers, we'd give the whole thing up.

Ernie Kovacs has built a turntable in the drive of his Beverly Hills home so that patrons don't have to back their cars out. "Not only that, but I turn their cars around and start them home before they even get out," Ernie claims. One Second Real Life Broadway Drama: "Small town girl comes to NY hoping to find man with Rolls-Royce, Marries boy with motorcycle. Marie Dietrich delighted Israel Bombing around the farms telling the shepherds, 'If you only knew how happy you are! I'd like to stay here forever guarding sheep' . . . by insisting on meeting war hero Gen. Moshe Dayan . . . by demanding that survivors of Bergen-Belsen Concentration Death Camp be given free tickets to their swankiest show . . . and by prowling dress shops—to buy six pairs of jeans.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Carol Lawrence'll grab something like 10Gs doing the Bing Crosby TV spectacular.

Light-sewing guides in Germany now show tourists the Army camp where Elvis was stationed.

EARL'S PEARLS: In Hollywood some hammy actors keep getting married just to have a change of audience.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Andy Griffith claims his wife is a fanatic about germs. She boils everything before using—even ice cubes.

WISH IT SAID THAT: Comic Jack Mason offers this simile: "As useless as a sewing kit in a nudist camp." History is changed by little things. For instance, an actors' strike might have saved Abraham Lincoln's life . . . That's earl, brother.

Ancient Man Lived in Florida

Mastodon Teeth and Stone Spear Points Go Back 10,000 Years

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Florida geologists recently received dramatic new information substantiating that man lived and hunted in Florida as early as 10,000 years ago.

By actual count, the date was not 9,500 plus or minus 270 years ago. The time was set by taking a carbon 14 sampling of a shell bed under which was discovered a rock scraper and a couple of mastodon teeth.

The find definitely establishes man in Florida during the Pleistocene Epoch. State Geologist Robert Vernon called the dating "very significant."

Other animals inhabiting the United States—some of them in Florida—during that period were the mammoth and mastodon, both large elephant-like animals, the cave bear, tapir, camel, native American horse and the dire wolf.

Earlier finds have confirmed early man lived in the southwestern part of the United States during the same period which was set for the Florida find. This southwestern man was called Folsom Man, and indications were he possessed a high hunting and fishing culture.

Stone spear points manufactured by Folsom Man were beautifully worked and had a shallow groove down each side to fit the point on a shaft.

The Florida points and human bones located in the state some 52 years ago had long indicated man lived in Florida when Folsom Man lived in the West, but there was not a shred of anything that could be called proof.

READING RUSSIAN—Among the adult education classes at MSUO is one in the study of the Russian language. Students acquire the ability to speak and understand the everyday language and to read the current Russian press. Dr. Helen Kovach (standing) explains a rule of grammar to Norma Carret of Detroit and Chester Wiecek of Utica.

Pint-Size Soldier Can Drill, Too

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—Sgt. David Wood is barely as tall as the rifle he shoulders, but he's one of the most enthusiastic members of the Florida National Guard.

Although he's only 7, David can execute the manual of arms, drill and bark orders with the other NCOs.

Like most boys, David takes an avid interest in anything his father does. So one Sunday a month, when William Wood goes to drill, David goes along.

Together they don fatigues and combat boots and journey to the Dade County Armory at Miami where Bill Wood is first sergeant of Headquarters Company, Battle Group, 211th Infantry Regiment.

David takes his monthly visits to the Army seriously. He follows dad as he checks the troops and equipment or guides them in training. He takes his meals with the troops.

"That kid's a real soldier," said one guardman. "He even takes orders without question."

The senior Wood proudly agreed, and added: "If only he'd do that at home."

Before the windshield wiper came into common use, motorists were advised to apply a mixture of kerosene oil and glycerine on windshields to keep the glass clear of rain, snow or ice.

There Go All the Savings

Seeks Alexander's Tomb

ALEXANDRIA, United Arab Republic (UPI)—A Greek waiter who calls his son Little Alexander is out to find the tomb of Alexander the Great.

Stelio Comoutos of Alexandria has spent his life savings, $1,000, to dig for the tomb of the Macedonian conqueror who built this city in 3rd Century B.C.

Under Egyptian law, the Ministry of Culture and National Guidance accepted the money and agreed to dig. Some $1,100 will go for the excavations. And Alexander will get the rest, to pay for filling in the diggings if nothing is found.

"If something is found, it will go to the state, but Comoutos will get a reward—and the honor of having discovered the tomb of one of history's most fabulous figures."

The site of the search is Sand Zaghoul Square overlooking the Mediterranean. That is where Comoutos said Alexander's tomb lies.

HAS MANY SCRIPTS—Comoutos based his application for the excavation on a bundle of old manuscripts. One was a Greek dictionary giving an account of Alexander in olden times.

Another was an Arab map of ancient Alexandria by Mahmud El-Falaki, a 19th Century Egyptian geographer.

Excavators will dig four 16-foot-deep shafts into the square, unless they meet with sea water first.

It's End of the Line

BELFAST, Maine (UPI)—After 50 years, the Belfast & Moosehead Lake Railroad has dropped passenger service.

Oldest municipally-owned railroad in America, the B & M, had been operating one passenger train daily between Belfast and Burnham Junction.

Gospelites in Shelter: Officials Find All OK

BENSON, Ariz. (AP) — About 100 members of a small religious sect remained in their underground bomb shelters today awaiting what they say is a prophesied nuclear attack.

Members of the Full Gospel Assembly took refuge in the shelters beneath their homes on the outskirts of this small southern Arizona town Monday night.

After pondering what to do about the situation for more than a day and a half, authorities Wednesday broke into the hiding place of several members of the sect.

Armed with search warrants, they kicked open the rear door of one of the houses and found a trap door in the floor of a closet in the master bedroom.

Grain Prices Down as Trend Continues

CHICAGO (U-P) — Grain futures prices extended in early dealings today their downward trend which halted yesterday a three-day rise.

During the first several minutes some contracts of wheat and rye were off major fractions on the Board of Trade. Other losses were limited to the minor fractional range.

Brokers said there appeared to be a larger volume of hedge selling in wheat, probably stemming from the expanding harvest area of the Mississippi River.

However, Poland was understood to have bought a rather large amount of red wheat overnight and the United Arab Republic was reported to be in the market for flour.

Mart Snaps Out of Its Doldrums

NEW YORK (U-P) — The stock market snapped out of the doldrums and moved higher in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Key Stocks Advanced from Fractions to About a Point as Trading Became More Active

Some of the electronics, steel and recreational stocks which have undergone sharp profit taking netted recovered and won back part of their losses.

Brokers saw the action as a technical rebound, putting little weight on President Eisenhower's reassuring remarks about the economy, or the heightening tension with Cuba.

Moderately higher were steel, rails, oils, utilities, aircrafts, drugs and nonferrous metals.

Electronics were irregular, as were tobacco and building materials.

Texas Instruments recouped about 4 points of yesterday's 15 1/2-point loss, Universal Match and Federal recovered 5 points or more.

United Whelan, yesterday's most active gainer, continued briskly traded and was up another fraction amid talk of a possible merger.

American Broadcasting - Paramount rose more than a point on news it has sold its 27 per cent stock interest in Disneyland to Disney which was up a fraction.

American Motors traded about unchanged despite news that June sales were the highest for any month in history. Chrysler, reporting the best sales since August 1957, gained about a point.

Italian Senate Looks Into Mafia

'No Basis for Charges Against Underground,' Says Spaturo

ROME (AP)—The Italian Senate called on the government to investigate the Mafia, the underworld organization often reputed to be a power in Sicilian life.

Interior Minister Giuseppe Spaturo denied Communist and Socialist charges that the Mafia was so strong it enjoyed political protection in Sicily from local government authorities — most of them members of the Christian Democratic party, which controls the national government.

Spaturo conceded that the police have a tough job fighting the Mafia on the Mediterranean island. But he said there was "no basis to charges of negligence, inefficiency or even collusion against the police."

Communists and Socialists say the Mafia has extended its activities to control of retail food markets, intimidation of labor union leaders and blackmail of politicians.

Off Broadway's "The Three Penny Opera" now ranks second for long-run honors among New York musicals. The leader, of course, is "Oklahoma!"

Work-Study Program Is Proven Valuable

DEARBORN (UPI)—The Director of the University of Michigan's Dearborn Center Program has announced that a pilot program in business administration and engineering, tested over the last ten months, has proven valuable in two important areas.

Director William F. Storton said that the program operated under a minimum budget since last September, has:

—shown that a co-operative (work-study) program which involves alternate semesters on campus and on work assignments can achieve all of the purposes for which it was established, and —Proved the soundness of the university's decision to begin instruction at the third year level, permitting cordial relationships with the junior and community colleges in the state.

Storton stated that Dearborn Center is now prepared to launch the full-scale program during the fall semester which will begin Oct. 3.

Additions this fall to the previous program will be a liberal arts program, necessary courses for elementary or secondary teacher certification and instruction in electrical engineering.

Liberal arts and teacher certification are not on the work-study plan.

Tuberculosis Cases Drop Below 5,000

LANSING (UPI)—The number of new tuberculosis cases reported in Michigan dropped below the 5,000 mark last year for the first time since 1935, the State Health Department announces.

New cases in 1959 numbered 4,745, compared with 4,862 in 1958 and an average of 5,000 to 5,000 reported annually in the years between.

Health officials said the 1935 low probably meant a bad year for detection, rather than any real drop in the disease. There is more hope, spokesmen said, to believe that the 1959 reduction shows ground gained against the disease. Provisional figures also showed 775 deaths were cut from 393 in 1958 to 369 in 1959.

Brazil Corbs Visas for Iron Curtain Residents

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—The newspaper O Globo reported yesterday that the Brazilian government has sharply curtailed visas for iron curtain residents.

The newspaper said the action was taken in the wake of charges that members of a visiting Hungarian trade mission were engaged in spying.

The government's recent refusal to extend the visa of a Czech newspaperman was believed connected with the spy charges, the paper said.

WRECKAGE OF AIRSHIP — Part of the gondola of the Navy blimp "Reliance" is hoisted aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Agaziz. The airship went down in the Atlantic 16 miles off the New Jersey coast. One airman was known dead and 17 others feared lost.

Will Try to Raise Navy Blimp at Sea

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP)—The Navy began salvage work today in an effort to raise a giant blimp that buckled in the air and crashed into the sea off the New Jersey coast.

Seventeen men are missing and feared entombed in the gondola of the wrecked airship. Another crewman was killed and three others rescued in the disaster Wednesday.

A Coast Guard cutter placed an anchor into the wreckage today. Three Navy salvage ships were on the way to the scene 15 miles off Barnegat Inlet.

Capt. F. N. Klein Jr., commander of Fleet Airship Wing No. 1, said the wreckage is in water that buckled in the air and crashed into the sea off the New Jersey coast.

He told a news conference that part of the blimp's gondola is still believed attached to the 403-foot bag.

Klein said one of the survivors, A.E.M. 3 Antonio Contreras of Geromino, Tex., told his rescuers that the blimp was flying at 300 feet in good weather when he heard a loud noise. Contreras said it was not an explosion.

Contreras reported the ship went into the water at a 45-degree, nose-down angle. He heard no "ditch" alarm.

After escaping through the aft cargo door, Contreras said he saw four other people in the water. He believed the blimp was flying at 300 feet in good weather when he heard a loud noise. Contreras said it was not an explosion.

Contreras said Lt. Joseph J. Saniuk of Lakewood, N.J., and Omaha, Neb., skipper of the blimp, was in command at the time of the crash.

Helicopters and blimps hovered overhead as ships continued to scour the area for possible survivors.

A Navy board under Klein's command will investigate the crash.

The Navy said it was mystified as to the cause of the disaster. One of the survivors said a helium line may have ruptured causing the sausage-like bag to collapse.

Newport All Shined Up for Eisenhower's Today

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

NEWPORT, R.I.—This town of two faces swept the last best of its red carpet today, tidying up for the arrival of its foremost summer visitor, President Eisenhower.

The last remnants of the weekend riots that left the city's streets littered with debris were whisked away by double shifts of the Newport Public Works Department.

The jazz cats who flocked here for the Newport Jazz Festival were gone. The troublemakers who touched off the riots Saturday night outside the festival park had also vanished.

The community was once again a quiet seaside resort, the playground of high society and a presidential vacation spot. The change was amazing.

Eisenhower travels to Newport today for an extended vacation of golf which could be clouded by troubles with Cuba.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arranged a mid-afternoon departure by jet liner from Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

It's about an hour's flight to the Naval Air Station at Quonset Point, R.I., across Narragansett Bay from Newport.

From the air station the Eisenhowers will go either by helicopter or by presidential cabin cruiser, the Barbara Anne, to old Ft. Adams, part of the Newport Naval Base.

The summer White House—occupied by Eisenhower and his wife in 1958—is at Ft. Adams, close by the Newport Country Club golf course.

"I wish I was as healthy as he is," said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko when a reporter asked if Khrushchev was ill.

But the evidence that his family and associates are anxious about his health is obvious and there seems to be cause for worry.

Khrushchev, who is 66, returned to Vienna Wednesday night after cutting short his whirlwind trip through Austria's mountainous countryside. Soviet officials insisted to reporters that negotiations with the Austrian government and preparations for tonight's television show made him shave 24 hours off his schedule.

He is overweight and often out of breath. He gesticulates. He drives himself relentlessly.

Outlook for Friday: Fair and Warmer

It'll be mostly fair and a little warmer tonight and Friday in the Pontiac area, the weatherman says.

Tonight the mercury will dip to a low of 56 degrees. It will climb to a high of 82 Friday. The slow warming trend—beginning tomorrow—will continue through the weekend, though scattered showers are expected Sunday or Monday.

Variable winds recorded at 10 a.m. today were northwest 6 m.p.h. The lowest temperature predicted 8 a.m. today was 56 degrees at 5:45. By 1 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer read 76.

It was regarded as significant, however, that Anderson said he was making his announcement because "it is apparent that the California delegation will be released from its favorite son commitment at a very early stage of the convention."

It was no secret that the hopes of those opposing Kennedy for the nomination rested precariously on the belief that Brown and Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania would hold out against a parade of their delegates to Kennedy on what could be the all-important first roll call.

Kennedyites Fail to Get Vital 81 California Votes

Appears Gov. Brown Won't Release Them for First Ballot

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Supporters of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts apparently failed today in an attempt to corral California's vital 81 votes on the first Democratic presidential ballot.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown reportedly still was holding out against what was described as terrific pressure exerted by the Kennedy forces.

They have been trying to persuade Brown to give up his favorite son status in favor of Kennedy on the first round of the convention opening Monday.

One top Kennedy strategist described the governor as leaning toward announcing for Kennedy on one day and reluctant on the next. This strategist concluded, with a measure of resignation, that Brown probably will withhold the state's votes from the Massachusetts senator on the initial ballot.

This could be a major blow to Kennedy's hopes of storming toward the governor as leaning toward announcing for Kennedy on one day and reluctant on the next. This strategist concluded, with a measure of resignation, that Brown probably will withhold the state's votes from the Massachusetts senator on the initial ballot.

William A. Munnell, Los Angeles attorney who is chairman of the California State Central Committee, told a reporter he has been in close touch with the governor and: "I think he'll take his first ballot vote."

Asked about published reports that Brown already had passed the word that he would release the California delegation prior to the start of the convention, Munnell said: "No, I haven't heard that."

As an indication that Brown finds something less than harmony within his spreadeagle delegation, Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson announced his support of Adlai E. Stevenson.

It was regarded as significant, however, that Anderson said he was making his announcement because "it is apparent that the California delegation will be released from its favorite son commitment at a very early stage of the convention."

It was no secret that the hopes of those opposing Kennedy for the nomination rested precariously on the belief that Brown and Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania would hold out against a parade of their delegates to Kennedy on what could be the all-important first roll call.

POLICEMAN INJURED — An injured Rome policeman is given first aid at the scene of Wednesday's Communist-led riot. Some 50 persons, both police and rioters, were hospitalized after the fight near the Gate of St. Paul.

Italy Torn by Riots; Civil War Threatens

ROME (AP)—Italy's rioting leftist leadership today threatened to plunge the nation into civil war. The threat came as police in this ancient capital braced for more Communist vs. Fascist trouble after a wild night of rioting in the street and fistfights in Parliament.

In the worst week of disorders since early postwar days, nearly 500 leftist demonstrators have been injured in fighting from Genoa down to Sicily. More than 200 police have been hurt—135 of them in Rome Wednesday night.

Sen. Ennio Lussu, a pro-Communist Socialist leader, told a tumultuous Senate session that if President Giovanni Gronchi's Christian Democrat government does not resign it will turn into "a government of civil war."

But Giuseppe Pignatelli, a Christian Democrat, replying to Communist charges of police brutality, shouted defiantly: "Gibbs are not enough. Tanks are needed."

A wave of general strikes called by leftists began to hit every major city in Italy.

Rome was under a general strike from 1 p.m. until midnight, called by the Chamber of Labor protesting police action against the rioters.

Half a dozen other major cities were similarly affected. More strikes were called in others by the Red-controlled Italian Federation of Labor. Non-Communist unions labeled the strikes political and refused to join them.

Cries President Acted in Time of Hate, Insanity

Many Americans Start Packing to Leave Island; See More Trouble

HAVANA (AP)—The U.S. cut in imports of Cuban sugar sent Fidel Castro into a boiling rage today.

However, the wild-eyed prime minister did not disclose immediately what American property he intends to seize next in retaliation.

Fuming with anger, Castro appealed to other Latin American nations to rally behind his "fight against American oligarchy."

He told a workers' meeting Tuesday that President Eisenhower would not halt his left-leaning revolution.

He also charged Eisenhower acted in a "moment of hate, degradation, insanity and stupidity."

A giant labor rally has been called for Sunday in the vast plaza before the presidential palace in Havana to demonstrate the "Cuban peoples' unity in the face of Yankee aggression."

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI)—A growing number of Americans were reported preparing to quit Cuba today in the face of probable seizure of all remaining U.S.-owned property and the possibility of increasing anti-Americanism.

Castro is expected to use his mass meeting to dramatize his maintenance of how he intends to strike back at the United States.

He has new power to seize any American property in the "national interest."

Ike, Council Study Cuba, New Action

WASHINGTON — The United States is considering new moves against the Castro government of Cuba to stop the costly Cuban-backed army in Cuba.

The estimated loss to Cuba in U.S. sugar subsidy is around $3 million dollars.

Actually, sugar authorities said, the cut amounts to $56,000 today because the law under which Eisenhower acted also takes from Cuba a 156,000 ton extra quota Cuba would have gotten under the old law.

Eisenhower decreed late Wednesday a reduction of 700,000 tons in the Cuban sugar quota, thereby almost eliminating it for the rest of this year.

The Security Council met for an hour and a half. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said there would be no announcement of what was discussed.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has been ordered to buy sugar from other sources to make up the deficit.

Officials said there are now ample supplies of raw sugar available for purchase, especially in Brazil and in the Philippines, and neither a shortage nor an increase in price here is expected.

Eisenhower said the government of Prime Minister Fidel Castro "has embarked upon a deliberate policy of hostility toward the United States." He declared this made Cuba an unreliable supplier of a major food product, especially with Cuba committing "increasing amounts of its sugar crop to trade with the Communist bloc."

Nina Worried About Nikita

He Is Trying to Do Too Much, Complains Russian Chief's Wife

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States denounced today what it called Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's "slanderous attacks" on this country during his present visit to Austria.

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is tired and his wife says she thinks he's taxing his health.

"He's trying to do too much," Mrs. Khrushchev told a member of the official party that accompanied the Soviet leader on his 1,000-mile bus tour of Austria.

Her face—usually wreathed in worry—was clouded by anxiety. Khrushchev, who is 66, returned to Vienna Wednesday night after cutting short his whirlwind trip through Austria's mountainous countryside. Soviet officials insisted to reporters that negotiations with the Austrian government and preparations for tonight's television show made him shave 24 hours off his schedule.

New City Library Shaping Up

NEARING COMPLETION — Construction of the $500,000 Pontiac Public Library building should be finished in about a month. Bundy Construction Co., the general contractor, said the exterior of the civic center building is virtually finished. Workmen are beginning final touches inside. The library was begun last fall as the key feature of Pontiac's centennial observance next year.

Pardoned 'Wife-Slayer' Happy Now He's Back on Lansing Job

LANSING (AP) — A warm welcome by fellow workers awaited Walter A. Pecho today as he reported back to his old job as an electrician at the large division of the Lansing Oldsmobile plant.

Pecho, 41, served six years in prison as a convicted wife-slayer, then received a full pardon from Gov. Williams, who was in agreement with a State Parole Board conclusion that Pecho should be freed because of doubt of his guilt.

Pecho steadfastly has contended his wife committed suicide in the gunshot death. Fellow unionists, many of whom contributed to an appeal fund, planned a heart-warming welcome.

Pecho spent the afternoon Wednesday paying his physical examination and filling out forms at the plant. Later he purchased a lunch box and some work shirts. He said his daughters would pack the lunch for his first day back at work.

"They'll be happy to have him back," said Robert Walker, UAW-CIO local president. "I think he's a pretty nice guy."

Retirement of Pecho followed settlement of a management-union dispute over his exact job status. It was complicated by a shift in his job status and in jurisdiction from the die sinkers conference to the UAW-CIO.

Walker said management at first also claimed Pecho lost his seniority rights because he was unavailable for work during his six years in prison.

He said a union request that Pecho receive back pay from the original date of his request for reinstatement, on June 13, had been dropped.

"We're just happy to get him back to work," he said.

Pecho will have seniority rights dating back to 1941 and should be assured of a steady employment, union officials said.

"Everything's going to be all right now," Pecho said happily. "I've got my family back together again and we're all settled."

Orders Improvement at Fatal Crash Site

LANSING (UPI)—A traffic accident which killed two persons and injured 19 others prompted emergency orders to improve the intersection of U.S. 131 and the Emmet-Charlevoix County Line south of Petoskey, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said today.

Mackie said the Highway Department's master plan for highway development called for the eventual relocation of U.S. 131 in the Petoskey area but the accident emphasized the need for emergency improvements.

"We've bought some second hand furniture and an old car and now that I've got a job I'm sure we'll get along fine," Pecho said.

Funds for the relocation project are not available, Mackie said.

Wanted: Man to Pass Police Tests

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—This industrial center wants a police chief the worst way—and apparently competitive examination is the worst way.

Four sergeants took a written test last August to determine a successor to Louis Belloni, retiring after 36 years. Everyone flunked.

A new test was given last week to the same four men and an additional three, a former sergeant now in the city's fire department. Again, everyone flunked.

Collett E. Woolman, president and general manager of Delta Air Lines, has recommended that insurance sold in machines at airports be "limited to $5,000 or $10,000" as a means of halting slither bombings.

46th Leaves this Weekend

Guard Readies for Camp

Pontiac's 160-man National Guard unit, Co. E, 2nd Battle Group, 48th Infantry Division, is busy with last minute details in preparation for its two-week summer training encampment which begins this weekend.

The Michigan guard's two-month summer training season will begin Saturday with the movement of the 46th Infantry Division and attached units to Camp Grayling.

This will be the largest encampment of Michigan guard forces this summer, lasting until July 23.

The local guardmen will pack equipment on trailers Friday night at the army for the long haul. They will leave Pontiac at dawn Saturday in buses and troop carrier trucks. There are some 9,000 men in the 46th.

The guardsmen should have camp set up by Saturday evening. Local guardmen will get more night training in the field than in previous years. They will spend four days and nights in bivouac areas during the second week, instead of two nights as they have previously.

Tests will be given during the two-week period to determine the readiness of squads and sections.

The annual division review, Governor's Ball, and memorial services will be held on July 16 and 17. The 9,000 guardmen will march in review before Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, group leaders, and an expected 5,000 or more visitors.

At the same time, Michigan Air National Guard units will be training at Phelps Collins Air National Guard Base at Alpena.

City Draft Board Inducts 4 Men for June Call

Pontiac Draft Board 63 announced today that it inducted four area men into the Army during June and has been ordered by state selective service headquarters to furnish 12 men in August. The board's August quota is exactly half of the county quota calling for 24 inductees.

Those inducted for last month were Carlston C. McKinnon of 303 W. Howard St., James R. Mardis of 555 S. Edith St., Freddie L. Buchanan of 25 Jackson St., and Alfred G. Poesney of Farmington.

In the August call, Board 67 in Pontiac will furnish nine men and Board 66 in Royal Oak, three. The state will deliver 389 registrants for induction and 2,782 prospective draftees will be ordered to take physical examinations.

Rocky Is Asking Story of Parole

New York Governor Tells Board to Explain Mistake on Killer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has asked the State Parole Board to explain its admitted mistake in releasing convicted killer Frederick Wood, who within a month of his parole had killed twice more and confessed to two other decades-old slayings.

Wood, a sharp-faced but on the surface a mild-mannered man of 48, was paroled from Dannemora Prison June 6 over the protests of officials in his home town of Elmira, N.Y. He had been serving a 30-year-to-life sentence for beating John E. Lowman to death in 1912.

"I knew the sort of thing he was capable of," said Elmira Police Chief John E. Golden. "I went to school at the same time he did. I probably knew him better than anybody."

Parole Board Chairman Russell G. Oswald said the decision by the five-man board had been unanimous. Wood's prison record had been "outstanding" and prison reports indicated he was an "adjusted... penitent" prisoner, even though his police record went back to 1925. Oswald said "I guess you would have to say we made a mistake." Oswald said Rockefeller asked for a complete report on Wood's parole.

Gets Ready for Jets

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI)—The government announced plans Wednesday to expand this capital's airport to accommodate jet airliners. A construction contract was awarded to Airways Engineering Corp. of the United States.

The Bank of Hawaii boasts it is the only bank under the American flag that has a mortgage on an active volcano. The volcano is on Kilauea. When it erupts it destroys crops, but it also builds up new land, thus increasing the security for the mortgage.

Ex-Gestapo Chief Held

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—Erich Degener, former Gestapo chief in The Hague, Holland, who was charged with the murder of 10 Russian prisoners of war in 1944, was arrested earlier this week by West German police, it has been disclosed.

Walter Pecho Back at Work

Freed of Wife-Slay Rap
He Gets Full Seniority of Olds Plant

LANSING — Walter Pecho, who served six years in prison as a convicted wife-slayer, then received a full pardon from Gov. Williams, returned back to work at his old job at the Lansing Olds mobile plant this morning.

Pecho, 41, reported on the day after his release from the Lansing State Prison that he had lost his seniority because he was unavailable for work during his prison term.

Walter Walker, force plant unit chairman, said fellow workers, many of whom contributed to an appeal fund for Pecho, would welcome him back.

"They'll be happy to have him back," Walker said. "They think he's a pretty nice guy."

Hanuska said Pecho was reinstated with full seniority dating back to 1941. He said the union filed a grievance when Oldsmobile officials at first refused to reinstate Pecho.

Management spokesmen confirmed that Pecho had been reinstated but declined further comment. Union officials said they were told by management that Pecho had lost his seniority because he was unavailable for work during his prison term.

Walker said a union demand that Pecho receive back pay from the date of his application for reinstatement, on June 13, has been dropped.

DETROIT (AP) — Officials of the United Auto Workers Union were accused in a federal court suit Wednesday of maintaining a virtual dictatorship, using Union funds for political purposes and falsely recording the expenditure of at least 10 million dollars.

The 14-page suit, filed by two rank-and-file members, named as defendants UAW President Walter Reuther, Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey and the International Union.

Reuther aides said they had not seen the suit and would have no comment on it until they had studied it.

Randolph Gray of UAW Local 12 and Harold Billheimer of Local 773, both of Toledo, listed among their charges:

"That the defendants took union workers away from their jobs at election time to use them for campaign purposes . . .

"That top union officials collect flower funds from members under duress and that these funds are used to perpetuate these people in office in political campaigns within the union."

The plaintiffs asked for an audit of the UAW books and for an injunction to restrain the union and its officers from using union funds for political purposes.

The suit also charged that Reuther, Mazey and other union officials owed the federal government between two and three million dollars in back taxes because money received as expenses actually was income.

"A conservative estimate of the amount fraudulently withdrawn from the union treasury would be between 10 and 12 million dollars," the suit contended.

Reuther has so entrenched himself, as dictator of the union, the

Ancient Man Lived in Florida

Mastodon Teeth and Stone Spear Points Go Back 10,000 Years

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Florida geologists recently received dramatic new information substantiating that man lived and hunted in Florida as early as 10,000 years ago.

By actual count, the date was set 9,880 plus or minus 270 years ago. The time was set by taking a carbon 14 sampling of a shell bed under which was discovered a rock scraper and a couple of mastodon teeth.

The find definitely establishes man in Florida during the Pleistocene Epoch. State Geologist Robert Vernon called the dating "very significant."

Other animals inhabiting the United States—some of them in Florida—during that period were the mammoth and mastodon, both large elephantlike animals, the cave bear, tapir, camel, native American horse and the dire wolf.

Earlier finds have confirmed early man lived in the southwestern part of the United States during the same period which was set for the Florida find. This southwestern man was called Folsom Man, and indications were he possessed a high hunting and fishing culture.

Stone spear points manufactured by Folsom Man were beautifully worked, and had a shallow groove down each side to fit the point on a shaft.

The Florida points and human bones located in the state some 45 years ago had long indicated man lived in Florida when Folsom Man lived in the West, but there was not a shred of anything that could be called proof.
