JUDY WILKINS

With the arrival of November comes another Miss Front Page in The Press series of young women selected for special attention on the first day of each month.

Our selection this month is Judy Wilkins, 19, of 4402 Pine Tree Dr., Orchard Lake.

Miss Wilkins is an employe of the Community National Bank, in the monthly payments department.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred W. Wilkins, owners of Wilkins Corners restaurant and service station at Orchard Lake. She has one brother, Frederick.

Judy, who enjoys music, swimming and bowling in her spare time, graduated from Walled Lake High School last June.

Estimated Cost of $100 Million May Be Higher

Unless Bonds Paid Off Early, Span Could Cost $212,000,000

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — The cost of the Mackinac Bridge usually is rounded off at 100 million dollars.

The cost is more or less, depending upon how one looks at it.

The Mackinac Bridge Authority sold $99,800,000 in bonds to finance it. Actual out-of-pocket construction costs were $80,074,250. The difference went to authority expenses, contingencies and interest payments while the bridge was abuilding and until mid-1958.

The ultimate cost, unless the authority's 40-year bonds are paid off ahead of schedule, will be $212,449,837.

The authority carries 60 million dollars insurance on the span.

The first principal payment on $70,800,000 worth of 4 per cent bonds doesn't fall due until 1964. The first is a piddling $260,000, compared with an annual interest charge of $4,242,000 overall — or some $12,000 a day.

The payment schedule calls for the first principal on $20,000,000 worth of 3¼ per cent bonds to begin in 1990. It is $1,025,000 and runs up to six million-plus for the next three years.

DUE TO BE PAID

Only $2,121,000 is due to be paid on interest in 1958 and that will come primarily from bond funds now invested in government securities.

ST. IGNACE APPROACH — An aerial view of the north approach to the Straits of Mackinac Bridge shows the expressway-type system which connects the span to U. S. 2, west of St. Ignace. Ceremonies opened the bridge, linking Michigan's lower and upper peninsulas by land for the first time, about noon today. Cost of the northern approach was $1,357,000. The southern approach at Mackinac City, costing $1,429,000, offers connections with U. S. 23-27 and U. S. 31.

5-Mile Bridge Joins State's Two Peninsulas

Governor Buys First Ticket Across 4-Lane Suspension Structure

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Michigan today threw open the newest and costliest of the world's wonder bridges.

It is the Mackinac Bridge, and it joins Michigan's two peninsulas for the first time since the glacial age.

It cost 100 million dollars and stretches five miles across the Straits of Mackinac, themselves a water bridge joining Lakes Michigan and Huron.

It's 7,400-foot suspension span dwarfs any other and the towers that support it reach up 552 feet — 47 stories — above the straits.

Gov. Williams led an opening caravan across the four-lane span in the formal opening ceremony, taking off from St. Ignace at the northern terminus around 11 a.m. for Mackinaw City at the southern end.

First public use will begin around 2 p.m., following the caravan's return to the St. Ignace side, where Williams bought the first $3.25 toll ticket to symbolize there are no passes to anyone.

Hundreds of cars and trucks, some in line for as long as 48 hours, crossed the bridge following the governor's car.

NO LONG SPEECHES

Otherwise there was little ceremony and no lengthy speeches. Both of these will come next June when the bridge is formally dedicated.

Gov. Williams says the opening of the bridge will mark "the beginning of a new era of economic growth for Michigan—particularly the northern counties of the Lower Peninsula and all of the Upper Peninsula."

"We will be opening a new continental trade route, a new northwest passage," Williams declared in a speech before the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau here.

"This is a great day for Michigan," he said, "we shall be making our state, for the first time, really one community—not only a political unity, but an economic, cultural and spiritual unity as well."

Many a parent and teacher in the St. Ignace area can claim to have had a sneak preview of the bridge.

LET BARRIERS DOWN

They got in under the wire when bridge officials let the barriers down yesterday to give area school children a free sight-seeing trip across the span.

$2.5 Million Rehabilitation Readied by Commissions

The City of Pontiac will begin its urban rehabilitation program with a $2,500,000 spot clearance project of a proposed civic center area south of the City Hall.

Members of the City and Planning Commissions last night informally approved the project, the first of its kind in the city's history, and gave the city's planning consultant the green light to seek federal aid for the work.

The target of this first project is a 155-acre parcel bounded roughly by Osmun on the south, the railroad tracks west of Saginaw on the west, Pike on the north, and Paddock and Parkhurst on the east.

Planning consultant David S. Geer, of Birmingham, told commissioners his staff had mapped the $2,558,019 project after intensive studies.

Under the urban renewal program the federal government will pay two-thirds of the cost, with the city picking up the one-third balance.

In this case, Geer pointed out, the city's entire cost ($852,673) would be credited against capital improvement work needed and planned for the selected area.

AWAITS FORMAL OK

The Planning Commission is expected to formally approve the plan at its Nov. 5 meeting. Then the City Commission will follow suit Nov. 12.

The initial step will be to request that the Urban Renewal Administration in Washington, D.C. set aside a federal grant of $1,705,346. This represents the federal two-thirds participation in the project.

At the same time the city will be asking an advance of $98,000

Can They Read? Yes—and They Like Newspapers

NEW YORK — The Student Marketing Institute reports that the 3,500,000 college students returning to classes this autumn represent America's "foremost group of non-television viewers." Fifty-two per cent of the college crowd, says the S.M.I. report, does not watch TV on weekdays; and another 24 per cent watches television for only one hour or less per day. But 92 per cent of college-age teens interviewed said "Yes" when asked, "Do you read a newspaper?"

Pot-O-Gold Belt Adding 1 Notch: Bulges to $800

Tired old Pot-O-Gold is still looking for a winner. He was hoping someone would come along with winning answers so he could relieve his bulging sides.

But the judges informed him sadly that not only would he be forced to bear his burden, but another $100 has been added. That brings the total to $800.

Our judges have also made a request. It seems quite a few contestants are disqualifying themselves by rule infractions. Would you please be sure to write the NUMBERS in the puzzle blanks, not the words. Pick the word you think best fits and put its number in the corresponding blank.

Another thing you must remember to do is to be sure your puzzle number is correct. If you use an old puzzle form from last week or the week before, change the number of the puzzle at the top of the form. Each week has a different number, and if you are using a No. 73 blank for this week's puzzle, be sure you cross out the old number and use the new one.

Mild Temperatures to Prevail Tomorrow

For the Pontiac area, the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts skies will remain cloudy tonight and tomorrow, with little change in temperature expected.

Tonight's low will be a mild 40-44 degrees and tomorrow's high will be 60-61 for University of Michigan vs Iowa football at Ann Arbor. Showers are predicted for tomorrow night with the low near 45.

The unusually heavy fog last night and this morning extended into Ohio and Southern Ontario, slowing motorists and halting all air and water traffic.

Preceding 8 a.m., the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac was 40. At 2 p.m., the reading was 60.

Ceremony to Mark Post Office Construction

Will Break Ground Nov. 12

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Pontiac's first main post office estimated to cost $850,000, will be held Nov. 12 according to Leslie H. Dean Sr., acting postmaster.

The ceremonies will begin at 3 p.m. at the site of the proposed single story modern building on West Huron between Genesee Ave. and Chippewa Road.

The footings for the 48,338 square-foot building are being laid this week by the A&A Construction Co., 2024 National Bank Building, Detroit. The building is expected to be ready for business by April 1, Dean said.

The owners of the construction company, Abraham Nusholtz and Albert Weine, have purchased the site, and besides constructing the building, will lease the property to the government for 20 years, he added. The post office's annual cost during the original lease term which has renewal options, will be $87,500.

Total area of the property is 617 by 251 feet and will include an employe parking area of 30,575 square feet and a parking lot with a capacity of 50 autos for patrons.

Special features of the building project will include a hydraulic lift at the loading dock to load the mail to the correct height of the truck and a 55 foot built-in conveyor to transport the mail from the dock to the mailing room, Dean said.

Twelve service windows will be opened in the new building, compared to the seven in the present post office.

Since the present main post office is located in the Federal Building on East Huron, the new building will actually be the first main post office in Pontiac, Dean explained.

Window service will continue in the present building but no sorting will be carried on there after this spring. The erection of the new post office will allow more federal agencies to move into the federal building where they belong, he added.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced the expansion of Pontiac's postal facilities in February 1956. This followed a series of Pontiac Press articles detailing the inadequacies of the present building.

Times Have Changed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — The tame, new generation somehow hasn't quite got the idea behind "trick or treat." "I guess you'll have to trick. I'm out of treats," apologized Mrs. Melba Holmes to a 9-year-old goblin. She prepared for the worst. The little spook thereupon stood on his head on the sidewalk.

Bridge to Divert Traffic

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Mackinac Bridge Authority traffic experts estimate that the span connecting the state's two peninsulas will next year divert 60,000 cars from the western upper peninsula and Wisconsin that now reach the lower peninsula via a land route through Chicago.

Urge Prentiss Brown to Run for Senate

The Pontiac Press has learned that influential Democrats, both in Michigan and outside, are urging Prentiss M. Brown to enter the race for U. S. Senator next year, opposing Republican incumbent Charles E. Potter.

Brown, 68, served as U.S. Senator from our state from 1936 to 1942. He was defeated for re-election in 1942 by Homer Ferguson, Republican. He is chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, under whose direction the bridge has been built.

At St. Ignace, Brown said: "There's not a chance. I wouldn't think of it. I've been worried about getting this bridge built. Now I am worrying about paying off the bonds."

Links Domain of Great Chief

Bridge Site Abounds in Indian Lore

By JOE HAAS

MACKINAW CITY — Shades of Chief Pontiac hovered over the Straits of Mackinac today as their travel barrier was removed by the bridge opening.

For this area was in his domain, which extended from Lake Superior to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Appalachian Mountains to the Mississippi River.

And this was an important part of that vast area, ruled by the greatest of Indian chiefs.

It was here that the white trappers were most firmly intrenched when Pontiac rose to the zenith of his power around 1760. The Indians looked upon them as gross intruders and robbers.

It was here that Pontiac vented his greatest wrath in his conspiracy of 1763, when he made that great concerted effort to stop the invasion of the whites.

The strategy behind that conspiracy, which nearly succeeded, was planned with his braves on Apple Island in Orchard Lake, near the present site of the city named in his honor. That was where his war councils were held.

Of the 16 white garrisons in key points over his vast territory, that at Fort Michilimackinac was ordered by him to be completely destroyed. His edict was carried out to the letter, every man in the garrison being killed.

That was within sight of the location of the new bridge, a perpetual reminder of the great chief.

Perhaps here even more than anywhere else is his memory kept green. His love for his race, passed down through many generations, is taught in the local schools, and every pupil is made to understand that he was the only great Indian chief who did not betray his race to the whites.

There's a Pontiac motel here, another called the Chief, besides many other things honoring his memory. His fight for his race is perpetuated.

The white man was Pontiac's idea of a top transgressor. The failure of his conspiracy was an Indian calamity. His history has done more than anything else to prove that the Indian did not get a square deal. Other chiefs were renegades.

Another Pontiac area angle in the opening of the bridge is the fact that after a half century

Wounded Man in Trunk of Car

Two Detectives Find Savagely Beaten, Shot Chicago Salesman

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Two detectives found a wounded Chicago salesman locked in the trunk of his blood-spattered car here last night.

The salesman, Robert H. Martin, 57, had been shot twice and savagely beaten in what police described as a terror ride that began in Camden some 70 miles away and lasted almost eight hours.

Martin, who had been robbed of $100, his shoes and overcoat, said he was forced into the trunk at gunpoint after his assailant threw out 10 pieces of luggage to make room for him.

He was taken to Martland Medical Center in serious condition with a possible skull fracture, bullet wounds in his right leg and neck and a broken jaw.

The dazed salesman was freed when narcotics officers Robert Ginrich and William Suckey Jr. heard him frantically beating against the metal trunk lid of his car as it stood parked here.

Police said Martin's false teeth —knocked from his mouth by one swipe of the assailant's gun— were scattered like kernels of corn across the floor boards of the car.

Ginrich and Suckey quoted Martin as giving the following account:

A Negro about 25 years old approached the salesman's car in a restaurant parking lot on the New Jersey Turnpike near Camden.

He told Martin, "this is a stickup," and, when the salesman hesitated, smashed a revolver against Martin's skull twice.

The gunman then loaded Martin into the car and drove around in it for some hours, during which time he stripped the shoes from Martin's feet and his wallet from his pocket.

Martin, in a semiconscious state, said he could remember being shot twice, although he couldn't say why.

Martin is employed by the Pratt Luggage Co. of Chicago. A parking lot check found on his person showed that he had been to Philadelphia earlier in the day.

City Man Pleads Guilty

Clyde Cromwell, 44, 310 Coats Ave., pleaded guilty to reckless driving in Pontiac Municipal Court yesterday and was fined $100 or 20 days in jail by Judge Cecil B. McCallum. The charge was reduced from drunk driving.

What are the best barometer and wind combinations for fair weather?

If you are an amateur forecaster, these barometer and wind direction readings will allow you to predict good weather:

With a barometer high and rising, or high and steady, or very high and falling only slowly, and wind from the southwest changing to northwest, fair weather (probably for two days) can be forecast.

If the barometer is high and rising rapidly, the fair weather may last only a day and rain may follow.

In the summer, a high barometer, falling slowly, with wind shifting out of the east to the northeast, usually means fair weather and light wind. A low glass, rising rapidly, with wind swinging to the west, means clearing and colder weather.

Cost of New Span Could Double

1964 to $4,835,000 in 1950, when they are scheduled to be paid off. The first million - dollar - plus payment is not due until 1969.

Authority Chairman Prentiss M. Brown doesn't use any 200 million dollar figures, because, he says, "Nobody expects it to take 40 years for us to pay out."

The bonds are callable. Brown said underwriters predicted the bonds would be paid off by 1978. Some other sources have forecast that traffic will increase so tremendously when bridge - crossing replaces ferry-crossings at the Straits of Mackinac that the bonds can be paid off in 19 years or by 1976.

MEET OBLIGATIONS

Brown hopes the bridge will prove itself more than able to meet its obligations, and then that the state will issue so-called full faith and credit bonds and retire the revenue bonds to which only tolls are pledged.

In a normal securities market year, Brown figures the state could obtain an interest rate of something like 2.5 per cent, compared with the authority's average of 4.6. That would cut interest requirements from $4,242,-000 a year to roughly $2,500,000; leave more for bond retirement.

Coverdale & Colpitts, an engineering firm specializing in traffic studies, estimated in 1953 that in 1957 a total of 1,028,000 vehicles would cross the straits and that the income would be $3,166?5 the income would be $3,166,000. Two months are left to meet those figures — and the bridge is there to help now.

For 1958, Coverdale and Colpitts estimated the bridge will carry 1,927,000 vehicles and gross $3,-932,000. From 1960 on, the firm estimated traffic would increase 100,000 vehicles a year, after hitting 2,023,000 in 1959 and 2,123,000 in 1960.

Revenues of $8,231,000 were forecast for 1959, with income passing seven million in 1965, eight million in 1975, and reaching $16,703,000 in 1993.

Before the bridge bonds were sold the state legislature voted to appropriate up to $417,600 a year toward operation, maintenance and repair of the bridge. Larry Rubin, authority executive secretary, estimates these expenses will top that "somewhat," with the difference to come out of toll income.

A price of $90 was being offered per $100 of face value for Mackinac Bridge bonds on Wall Street this week, but a price of $93 was being asked by bolders.

This compares with a price of $83.50 offered and $85.50 asked for Ohio Turnpike bonds. On one series of Pennsylvania Turnpike bonds the offered price was $79.50, the asked $82; on another, $81.50 offered and $83.50 asked.

Ike's First Talk in Oklahoma

His Speech on 'Science and Security' Is to Come on Nov. 13

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will deliver in Oklahoma City Nov. 13 the first of his planned series of speeches intended to bolster the nation's confidence in American scientific defense.

The topic of the Oklahoma speech, a half an hour address at 10:30 p.m. EST, will be "Science and Security."

The White House released today an exchange of telegrams between the President and Gov. Raymond Gary in which Eisenhower accepted an invitation to make the speech in Oklahoma City in connection with the state's semicentennial celebration. The occasion marks the 50th anniversary of the state's admission to the Union.

The theme of the semicentennial, which began in June and continues to Nov. 16, is "Arrows to Atoms."

The address will be carried by all major national radio and television networks.

The address is one of a number Eisenhower promised when he addressed the National Fund for Medical Education in New York City Oct. 21. The objective was listed as an effort to strengthen American confidence in the nation's scientific advances, national defense, economic strength, and foreign policy.

President Eisenhower travels to West Point, N. Y., today for a reunion at the military academy with some of his 1916 classmates. He also will see Army's football team play Colgate tomorrow.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower plan to fly back to Washington after tomorrow's game.

Potter Misses Opening

ing crossings as a safety valve that he hopes will take some of the steam out of a monumental traffic jam building up for today's official opening.

At first only school children in school buses were allowed across. But then in the general bustle and holiday atmosphere, state police were instructed to let the parents across in private cars—if they were carrying children in the autos.

FIRES SNUFFED OUT

With opening of the bridge, fires were snuffed out on the State Highway Department's ferries that had chugged across the straits with automobiles since 1923.

They never were able to keep up with traffic, and before them only driblets went across in auto space aboard railroad car ferries.

Ferry crews threw a farewell party aboard for Williams, legislators and other dignitaries here for the opening.

Bridge construction began in March 1954. Today's opening was on the precise day forecast for it then by its designer, Dr. D. B Steinman of New York.

The bridge employs 53 persons, some of them from the ferries that went out of business.

Buses will get pedestrains across the five-mile span. The trip will cost 50 cents and a bus will leave each side every hour and a half, increasing trips with the coming of the vacation season.

Five men lost their lives in the four-year building of the bridge, which will cut an estimated hour and a half to five hours—100 to 400 miles—off travel between the peninsulas.

The schedule of tolls for crossing the Mackinac Bridge:

AUTOMOBILES—$3.25; with one-axle trailer, $5.75; with two-axle trailer, $8.

TRUCKS—Two axle with four tires, $4.25; two axle with six tires, $7; three axle single unit, $8, truck combination with three axles, $10, with four axles, $11, five axles, $12, more than five axles, $14.

BUSES—$8.

MOTORCYCLES—$1.50.

PEDESTRAIN—Traffic is prohibited. Buses provide transportation at 50 cents per person.

The bridge can handle 6,000 cars per hour, figuring both directions.

The Day in Birmingham

School Board Okays Site for Proposed Junior High

BIRMINGHAM — At a special meeting last night the Board of Education approved the proposed site for a new junior-senior high school for the Birmingham district. No final decision can be made, however, on the purchase until certain legal details are arranged.

Financing for the construction was approved last June in a special bond vote.

The proposed site is half of the 100 acres at the 13 Mile-Evergreen - northwest corner. It exceeds by four acres the recommendation of the citizens' committee which had suggested a site the same size as the Birmingham High School campus at Cranbrook road and Lincoln avenue.

School superintendent, Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, has recommended the site.

Eberle M. Smith Associates were the architects selected for the Westover School. Smith, Tarapata and MacMahon were selected to build the new junior-senior high and handle alterations of Baldwin Elementary School.

Oakland County Cooperation of PEO will meet Monday in the Birmingham Community House at 10:30 a.m. PEO members not affiliated with the local chapter, are invited to attend.

Reservations may be made through Mrs. G. E. MacArthur, 26489 Meadowood Ct. Chapter AD of Royal Oak will host the day's session.

Streets are getting more dangerous, according to the September traffic report just issued by Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley.

The past month saw the city's third fatality of the year, along with a total of 15 persons injured. There were 55 accidents during the month, 10 of them personal injury mishaps. Property damages were placed at $13,306.

Figures of a year ago show 42 accidents, eight injuries, no fatalities and damages amounting to $7,327.

Right of way violations and following too closely accounted for 33 of last month's crashes.

Work crews are already moving into Eton Park, getting the ice skating rink ready for the coming season. Robert Girardin, recreational director, said this week it is hoped that the rink will be in operation by Thanksgiving. Skating instruction "plain and fancy" will again be on the program along with competitive sports.

Mrs. Nellie A. Moore

Service for Mrs. Nellie A. Moore, 93, former Southfield Township and Birmingham resident, will be at 1 p.m. Monday at the Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Southfield Cemetery with Dr. W. Glen Harris officiating. Mrs. Moore died this morning in the Arnold home, Detroit, after a long illness.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Moore, of Birmingham; a brother, Seymour A. Jenks of Grosse Pointe; a sister, Mrs. Joseph Jones of Ceres, Calif.; a granddaughter and one great-granddaughter.

News Flashes

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Police today investigated the absences of two boys, 11 and 13, who failed to return to their homes after a halloween outing. Francis Stimson, 11, and Arthur Clark, 13, schoolmates at Turner School in Grand Rapids, left their home about 6:30 p.m. last night, their parents told police. The boys had planned to attend one of several police-sponsored parties on the city's west side, but had not returned by 10 a.m. today. Neither had any money, the parents reported.

Teamsters Plan to Appeal Ouster

Would Go Over Head of Meany, Bring Issue to AFL-CIO Delegates

WASHINGTON (INS) — Labor sources warned today that the Teamsters Union is "doomed to failure" in carrying its fight to remain in the AFL-CIO directly to the federation's convention.

The strategy of appealing to the delegates to override the suspension order voted by the AFL-CIO Executive Council was decided on yesterday at a long closed-door meeting of the Teamsters 13-man executive board.

In effect, the battle plan amounts to challenging the leadership of AFL-CIO President George Meany at his own convention. Meany engineered the suspension of the Teamsters and is expected to call for their ouster at Atlantic City next month.

AFL-CIO sources said there is little chance the Teamsters plan will work and that few, if any, unions will side with Teamster President-elect James R. Hoffa in a showdown contest with Meany.

Asked whether he thought the Teamsters would be successful in preventing their expulsion at the convention, Teamster President Dave Beck replied: "I certainly would be an optimist if I thought so."

Beck said that, if expelled, the Teamsters would continue their policy of cooperating with AFL-CIO unions. Hoffa has said the union will not "fire the first shot in a civil war."

The federation's executive council has offered to lift the suspension of the Teamsters if they do two things: Remove Hoffa from office because of alleged corruption and racketeering connections; and cooperate with an AFL-CIO committee in a general clean-up.

But the Teamsters answer was to vote unanimously to appeal to the convention, that is, to go over Meany's head and ask the convention not to go through with the ouster.

Meanwhile, the Teamsters will have to fight out in Federal Court in Washington a charge that the union's Miami Beach convention which elected Hoffa early last month was illegal.

Hoffa has been barred from taking over the union presidency until this case is decided.

Boy Mistakes Firecracker for Halloween Candy

Marion Cross, 8, received an unpleasant surprise last night when he bit down on what he thought was a piece of candy.

The "candy" turned out to be a firecracker and it exploded in his mouth. Marion was rushed to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital by the Pontiac Fire Dept. and was treated for first degree burns on the mouth and face and released.

According to the family, which lives at 672 E. Pike St., the boy picked the firecracker off a table where it was laying with other things brought home by his father, George, for Halloween.

Youth Walking to Party Killed When Hit by Car

IRON RIVER (AP) — Michael Kapla, 15, of Iron River, was killed last night when hit by a car while walking along a county road to a community Halloween party at nearby Mineral Hills.

A 17-year-old brother, William, was injured seriously. The accident occurred just outside of Iron River.

The Iron County sheriff's office withheld the name of the driver of the car pending completion of an investigation.

The highest mountain in Canada is Mount Logan in the Yukon, 19,850 feet high.

Newsmen, Civic Heads Honor Bay City Editor

BAY CITY (AP)—Local civic leaders and newsmen from throughout Michigan gathered last night to honor Glenn MacDonald, editor of the Bay City Times.

MacDonald was paid tribute for 23 years of service to his community. MacDonald, a well-known conservationist, received 200 telegrams from business and government figures.

Wesley H. Maurer, chairman of the department of journalism at the University of Michigan, said a Glenn MacDonald Scholarship in journalism has been established.

Penny newspapers made their appearance in the 1830's.

Giving Fraternity Pin Could Put Man in Jail

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—When a University of Wyoming coed lets her best boy friend hang his fraternity pin on her, they had better mean they're really engaged.

County Atty. Lynn Rees discovered a Wyoming law which says only a man's mother, daughter, sister or the girl he's engaged to may wear his fraternity pin.

Rees said so far as he knows the law has never been enforced.

"There's not enough room in our jail," he added.

Motorcyclists Charged With Periling Planes

WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—Two motorcyclists were under arrest today for endangering airplanes.

Thomas J. Kilday and Robert H. Katt, both 18, were arrested after they drove their motorcycle the length of the runway at Hillsgrove Airport while planes were in the landing pattern.

Albert R. Tavani, state aeronautics administrator, brought charges the youths endangered life and property yesterday.

Actor Loses License

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—Actor Allen Jenkins, 57, has lost his driver's license for 30 days after pleading guilty to a drunk driving charge.

Science Training Delay Forecast

Manpower Expert Sees Long Lag Before U.S. Recovery From Sputnik

CHICAGO (AP)—A ranking scientific manpower authority said today it will be months before the government can even begin to retool its scientific training programs to cope with "events of the past three weeks."

The three-week period cited by M. H. Trytten covers approximately the time in which Russia lofted its Sputnik and claimed to have perfected a hydrogen warhead for guided missiles.

Trytten added in a speech prepared for a scientific and engineering education conference:

"We know, too, that in spite of all we can do in the next few years the shortage of high level researchers will remain and our relative supply in comparison to the Iron Curtain countries will become worse over the immediate future measured in years."

Trytten is director of the Office of Scientific Personnel of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, Washington. The twin agencies are nongovernmental but work closely with the government.

"The challenge which has broken upon us," Trytten said, "is so massive . . . that it will be months before the various new programs and the reorientation of old ones can be analyzed for their manpower requirements."

As to the present supply of scientists and engineers, Trytten said figures are "elusive and unsatisfactory." He estimated, however, that there are about 600,000 professionally qualified engineers in the country despite "some recent national enumerations which indicate up to 900,000." He did not identify these enumerations.

Noting that engineering school graduations have begun to rise after a dive in the early '50s and promise to rise further, he said "this is indeed hopeful but much ground needs to be recovered."

College graduations in chemistry and physics, Trytten added, "have emerged on a dead level plateau beginning in 1951 and continuing through 1956," with 1957 figures not yet compiled.

Low-Flying Hawk Snared by Antenna

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A television antenna atop the T.A. Filipi home here picked up more than program signals. It caught a life hawk.

The Filipis awoke to find the bird, with a wing spread of more than four feet, entangled in the antenna crossbars. A Lincoln Humane Society employe finally freed the struggling hawk with a specially constructed pole.

Blind Resident Serves on Ohio Grand Jury

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Jack Benner, 42, blinded by shrapnel on a French battlefield on Independence Day, 1944, was picked to serve on the September term of the Scioto County grand jury.

Although he could have been excused because of his disability, Benner said, "Some people think blind people can't do anything. I wanted to show them we can when we have a chance."

Lone Star Steel Co. Plant Focal Point of Battle

Texas Rangers Vow to Maintain Order During Strike

DAINGERFIELD, Tex. (AP)—Texas Ranger Capt. Jay Banks, backed by armed reinforcements, today vowed to maintain order in this strike-torn east Texas area.

Rangers and State Patrolmen, were spread over a 10-county area surrounding the Lone Star Steel Co. plant, focal point of a bitter, six-week-old wildcat strike.

"This is an explosive situation," Banks said, standing outside his command post in a motel here, "but we plan to take any action necessary to keep order."

Sporadic bombings, brawls and gunfire have rocked the area since the walkout started Sept. 21. The dispute centers on company policies in filling job vacancies.

"We're pretty sure most of the violence stems from the strike," said Banks, soft-talking, 6-feet 3 peace officer with one notch on the huge pistol he carries.

Banks, 45, a riot buster seasoned by Texas' integration outbreaks, emphasized his forces were present only to help local authorities.

Five additional Rangers and 16 more State Patrolmen were dispatched to his command last night after an appeal to Gov. Price Daniel by Carl Estes, publisher of the Longview News-Journal. The reinforcements gave Banks a total of 10 Rangers.

"The bitterness of the strikers stems from the pocketbook," said a Daingerfield merchant, who asked not to be named. "They are sore at the guys who didn't walk out with them and those that later went back to work."

Company spokesman say the plant had a work force of about 3,500 when the strike started. Nearly 700 men refused to join the unsanctioned strike, and about 600 have quit picket lines to return to work. Around 950 new employes have been hired.

"We will rehire all but the strike leaders and agitators as long as jobs are available," said E. B. Germany, Lone Star Steel president.

United Steelworkers spokesmen have claimed 1,500 to 2,300 men still are idle.

One stumbling block to a settlement was a union protest against the company's offer to let strikers go back to work as new employes without seniority.

Union spokesmen refused to disclose to newsmen the identity of strike leaders.

The union has been issuing scrip to striking members for necessities.

A Ranger and four State Patrolmen were dispatched to nearby Avinger, Tex., last night to disperse about 30 men who officers said were setting off fireworks.

Banks said two of the men became unruly and were arrested for disturbing the peace. There was no gunfire.

Streets in other towns of this area were virtually deserted last night. Apprehensive parents kept their children from traditional observances of Halloween.

The night before a mysterious blast shook an area near the steel plant. No damage was found.

Rangers yesterday arrested three men in the beating of two union workers who returned to their jobs after first joining in the strike.

President's Seat Eyed by Garcia

Former Philippine Aide Seeking Office of Late Magsaysay

MANILA (AP)—A politician with a bent for poetry and chess, Carlos P. Garcia is asking Filipinos to endorse his seven months as their president and elect him to a four-year term.

As of today, it looks as if the voters will do it.

The election is Nov. 12.

Eight months ago Garcia hardly rated a second look as a politician. Short, dark and soft-spoken, he was vice president under Ramon Magsaysay. It seemed doubtful that the Nacionalista party, in renominating that popular chief executive, would bother to pick up Garcia's option.

Then Magsaysay died in a plane crash and Garcia became president. He played a strong hand in July's nominating convention and won a first ballot nomination.

He has lost some support but has kept the party machine behind him.

He is in the midst of the most expensive campaign this 11-year-old republic has had. Newspapers and radios are saturated with political propaganda. The 7,300,000 voters are being bombarded with promises from all sides—more roads and irrigation ditches, a sound economy, an end to corruption, more U. S. aid.

Garcia has four opponents. Jose Yulo — Liberal and Manuel P. Manahan—Progressive— seem the ones to reckon with. Little chance is conceded Claro M. Recto and Antonio Quirino.

What We Wish We Didn't Have

Anybody who gets around our county will agree that there is one feature about a few sections of the Pontiac area about which we cannot boast.

It is the condition of some of our public dumps.

A number of them are so bad that they've been closed — which doesn't help matters one little bit.

The stench and the rats still are there.

But the curtailment of their food supply at the source to which they are accustomed drives many of the rats toward the homes in the vicinity.

No animal, wild or domesticated, will fight for existence any harder than a rat. And they're always a magnet for hordes of other rats.

And, with closed public dumps, many people dispose of their garbage by throwing it beside our highways. By making this practice a nuisance, they hope to get the dumps reopened.

It is a regrettable fact that prosperous times mean greater business for the dumps. We are better patrons of the garbage can when we do not use the crusts, bones and leftovers. We help make the dumps a nuisance.

Village, township and city health officials usually are vested with authority to regulate the local dumps. But local politics often dominate the situation, and enforcement of their edicts is difficult.

Appeals to the county and state health departments is the final course. But then [illegible]ers often are dependent upon local officials for enforcement, which puts the matter squarely back into the home political pot which usually boils over—into the dump.

Our county officials in charge of this phase of our manner of living are doing everything legally possible to regulate the nuisances. They say the trouble invariably stems from local regulations—or lack of them.

There are ways and means and treatments to obliterate most of the disagreeable features of a public dump. An expensive incinerator equipment is not necessary. The cost is within the budget of any progressive community. Perhaps that's the solution.

Anyway, let's have better dumps.

Allies May Pool Nuclear Secrets

The joint statement of President EISENHOWER and Prime Minister MACMILLAN of Britain at the conclusion of their conference indicates much stronger leadership for the Western world.

Perhaps the most important agreement concerns the pooling of the resources and talents of both countries in the fields of atomic and nuclear energy and rockets and missiles for "greater service to the free world."

President EISENHOWER also agreed as a first step to ask Congress to amend the MCMAHON Atomic Energy Act "as may be necessary and desirable to permit close and fruitful collaboration of scientists and engineers of Great Britain and the United States and other friendly countries."

Britain has achieved superiority in the field of peacetime uses of atomic energy and is reported to have secrets pertaining to missile propulsion. This information could be of great value to the United States.

Another effort is to be made to achieve a disarmament agreement with Russia. If this can't be done, both nations will try to place U. N. forces at the disposal of the Security Council. If all else fails, atomic weapons presumably would be placed at the disposal of NATO powers.

NATO's Secretary General PAUL HENRI SPAAK has emphasized the need for stronger ties in the North Atlantic community. He reminds us that NATO still is the strongest instrument of defense against Communist aggression. The pooling of U.S. and British resources would be the beginning of a larger plan to include all NATO countries.

The joint statement also reaffirms Western policies on Germany and pledges support for Turkey in case of attack. All agreements will be submitted at the December meeting of NATO for endorsement by our Allies.

Launching of the Soviet satellite not only has strengthened the Western Alliance but has brought a warning to Russia of the power behind that alliance.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Since We Have a Choice — Let's Keep It

David Lawrence Says:

Faith in America Keeps Ike Going

WASHINGTON — Dwight D. Eisenhower upon occasion must look out through the White House windows and wonder whether there's a human being anywhere in the world with his cares and worries.

LAWRENCE

Reporters at this week's press conference asked the President whether the problems of public office sap his strength physically or mentally. Mr. Eisenhower replied:

"If you will go back to a year ago when the Egyptians seized the canal, and if you can point out a day since then that there hasn't been some critical problem placed upon my desk, I can't remember when it was. I will say this: I find it a bit wearing, but I find it endurable, if you have got the faith in America that I have."

This was but another way perhaps of saying that, despite the strain, Mr. Eisenhower must go on bearing the burden which the American people have placed on his shoulders, and that actually he isn't discouraged because he does have "faith in America."

What does this "faith" mean? It could be that he feels the American people do not expect him to accomplish the impossible, or they do not believe, as some critics imply, that he can single-handed control the destiny of mankind, much less control the behavior of the sinister men in the Kremlin whose recklessness and irresponsibility could at any moment plunge the whole world into war.

The tasks of every President are tremendous, but they differ in intensity and acuteness. Thus it may seem paradoxical, but it is doubtless easier to direct a military organization in the midst of a hot war than it is to conduct the government of the United States in the midst of a cold war.

The Soviet regime not only conducts a censorship, but it picks and chooses what representatives of newspapers it will permit to take up residence in Moscow and how much contact they can have with the Russian people. It controls rigidly the export of news.

The American system is far more difficult to operate than the Soviet system, yet few persons, of course, in America would want to see the Communist pattern followed here.

Totalitarian government of course, can order a parliament to do its bidding, can force its workers to concentrate on missile projects while the standard of living goes down for the masses, and can control any kind of political opposition through intimidation of opponents and by manipulation of the local press.

Many handicaps in dealing with public opinion make the job of the President of the United States in conducting foreign relations more difficult than is generally realized.

Also, the partisanship of the politicians is responsible for a propaganda which has for its object the gaining of votes in the election, but which actually tends to hamstring government, undermine public confidence and produce disunity at the very time that unity is essential.

The wonder is that any progress is made at all by the democratic countries in the "cold war." For the same tactics of obstruction and confusion are to be observed in the politics of Britain and France—the selfishness of the ambitious and the narrow-mindedness of the partisan are often artificial barriers to the mobilization of a united public opinion even in time of crisis.

President Eisenhower works hard. When he tries to get some recreation he is criticized and is blamed for lack of interest in his job. Naturally he makes mistakes. Who doesn't? What team goes through a season without errors?

Sometimes the passions aroused by governmental action make the errors unforgivable. Today the President is at a low point in his "popularity," but just as he has "faith in America," there are many millions who still have faith in him and pray that he will grow stronger in leadership and will benefit by his mistakes.

For the secret of good government is team play and collaboration with others. "Hair-trigger" government and impulsive decisions on the basis of what one or two advisers tell the President to do isn't as good as government by collaboration with several advisers such as a cabinet or council.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Vergie's Remedy Gives Heave-Ho to Herpes

Herpes is a $10 word for cold-sores.

When the little group of watery blisters or vesicles breaks out on the lip or on the face, attended with more or less itching and smarting, we doll up the diagnosis with medical Latin: herpes labialis, herpes facialis.

DR. BRADY

When the little blisters break out along the course of a nerve we call it herpes zoster or, in the bargain basement, shingles.

I do not mean to be facetious about it, for I have seen enough suffering from shingles and enough damage to the eyesight by facial herpes.

In one instance, a child, 8 years old, had an outbreak of herpes on her cheek; and the eruption crept (herpes means creeping) toward her eye and finally involved the eye, producing a corneal ulcer which was difficult to heal. When the ulcer finally healed, it left a scar which impaired vision.

VERGIE HAD 'CURE'

But thanks to Vergie, she has found a remedy which seems to arrest the attack at the very beginning. Vergie is a person of fine character and great intelligence, a credit to her race, which is the human race. Her remedy for herpes is simple—and as effective as it is simple.

The remedy is vinegar.

All right, all right, maybe you have, but wait a minute. You haven't heard the half of it yet. Vergie adds something to vinegar—namely, a penny. Put the penny in the vinegar and let it stay there.

Gently apply a drop or two of the solution with finger tip at the first feeling of itching or smarting, and keep applying it at hourly intervals through the day. The pesky herpes gets nowhere when Vergie's specific is used.

Probably a thousand readers will have remedies which they are sure are better than Vergie's. While I am always glad to hear from readers, whether they are asking me or telling me, I hope they will remember that I can't acknowledge or answer all such communications — not without neglecting my bowling.

Urges Residents to Change Treatment of Servicemen

How many people in town have relatives or friends in military service? We need facilities for service people, transient and regular, for amusement, relaxation, eating, sleeping and spiritual help.

There may be such now existing, but I don't know of them. Service people on leave need a place of their own to have that feeling of belonging and being wanted. Civilians can easily give a serviceman a case of nerves when instead, if given the opportunity, the men could get some rest with brothers in arms at a military service center. We have a Y, but it's for our kids; the same's true of Navy school, and the Armory is for civic functions, etc.

When wars come we pat service personnel on the back, but we forget them in peacetime, and for the most part, treat them like so many tramps. Would you want your boys and girls treated that way? We can be among the first to set the policy for a proper attitude. We could run such a center with charity volunteers. (Not goody-goodies, but honest people.)

This will provide so much power the entire world will be shot to the moon and all of us can see what's there and not just a few chosen scientists.

I still believe there's nothing new under the sun, moreso since Sputnik. I am more convinced that some of the so-called meteors and meteorites come from some of our own volcanoes, such as the one that erupted in 1835 and blew a whole mountain in the air. If it's possible for pieces of metal to stay up indefinitely, I'd like to ask Amateur Scientist if some of that mountain could not have stayed up there, too, and account for the large meteor hole in one of our Western states. You might call it our first ICBM.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

With Love, Play Batting Averages

Do you agree with Fleta? What do you think the batting averages would indicate? In love, as well as in baseball, you should play the batting averages. And think of your future unborn babies, for you cast their "proxy" votes when you pick a mate. They are going to be interested in more than your present romantic goose pimples, so look ahead.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-335: Fleta S., aged 22, is a senior college coed.

"Dr. Crane, I am so worried," she began, "for I have fallen in love with a Hindu student.

DR. CRANE

"He wants to marry me and return to India to live. That sounds romantic to me.

"But my parents oppose our marriage. They say our backgrounds are so radically different.

"Dr. Crane, isn't love all that counts? Couldn't we make a success of our marriage?"

CUPID VS. I. Q.

Love is definitely not enough for a permanently happy marriage.

For love is an emotion, like fear or grief, which can wane and disappear unless it is constantly fed the proper fuel.

Teen-agers and young adults often make the sad mistake of thinking their present love intoxication will extend throughout life.

That is not true unless the environment in future years helps re-fuel their present romantic desires.

A college romance may thus seem wonderful while on the campus in a sheltered, luxurious existence.

Out in real life, that love may lack much of its previous fuel.

Love is largely a physical infatuation. But happy marriage also involves common interests and hobbies, common ideals and experiences, plus social security.

An American and a Hindu may have the physical infatuation, but they will usually lack those other stabilizing elements that guarantee a happy homelife.

FACE THE FACTS

When you marry, you must think of far more than your own heart-throbs. For you cast the proxy votes of your future unborn children when you pick your mate.

So look ahead. Be a shrewd shopper on the marriage market. Get quality matrimonial goods.

And don't be unduly hypnotized by frills or erotic personalities and the glamour of distant continents.

Those continents are not glamorous. Instead, they are as backwoodsy as American hillbillies of 100 years ago.

They have few of our common American conveniences. A lot of them don't even have running water. And even a farm outhouse would be a luxury in India.

So get hep to reality. Life is real and life is earnest, so think of your unborn babies when you get married.

You can fall in love several times: But you can't erase the harm to your babies if you launch them in an unfavorable type of home.

There are no very significant mental differences between races, and color is only the wrapping paper of your personality.

But when two alien races marry, their children live in a no-man's land. They are hybrids and unfortunately suffer a lot of ostracism and unchristian attacks.

These things should not be true. But they are: You must live in a world that is practical, even though it isn't as good as the Bible recommends.

So marry your own kind. Play the batting averages. It is theoretically possible that Fleta and her Hindu sweetheart might get along O.K. in a hot Indian hut.

But the odds are probably 100 to 1 against it. In science, as well as in baseball, we learn to play the batting averages. That's wise in romance, too.

So send for my 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). Stop your divorce BEFORE you marry:

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Suspected of Forging $100,000 in Drafts

Arrest Three AF Enlisted Men in Bad Check Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government agents have disclosed the arrest of three Air Force enlisted men in connection with the forging and cashing of at least $100,000 in Air Force checks in 1955-56.

Secret Service chief U. E. Baughman yesterday listed two of the men as S.Sgt. Charles A. Evans, 27, of Dyersburg, Tenn., and T.Sgt. Theodore Barry, 28, of Louisville, Ky. Barry's real name was given as Theodore Goldberg.

The Secret Service office in San Francisco last night announced the arrest of a third man in the case, Airman 2.C. James R. Hoyle 21. Hoyle's address was not given.

Baughman said Evans and Barry were stationed at Parks Air Force Base near Livermore, Calif. when the alleged forgeries occurred. Presumably Hoyle also was stationed at Parks.

Barry was quoted as saying he opened a restaurant in Livermore in August 1956 to make check cashing easier, and he said $10,000 was lost in the operation of the restaurant.

The Secret Service said Evans worked in the finance office at the base handling paychecks, and that he cashed a few checks with forged endorsements.

In a statement to agents, Barry said Evans suggested that he go in on the deal, and that a few months later Evans began making up phony payrolls, with up to 150 names.

Barry said Evans would give him the checks to cash. The Secret Service said Evans confessed.

In San Francisco, the Secret Service said Airman Hoyle admitted he signed the name of a fictitious payee to nearly 100 checks and was paid $2 to 10 per cent in each case.

Authorities said Barry then would cash the checks through the Livermore restaurant.

The Secret Service went into the case after authorities noticed evidence of irregularities at Parks. Barry was arrested at Denver Oct. 2 and is being held under $5,000 bond. Evans was brought back from Japanese duty and arraigned Oct. 21 in Denver. He is under $1,000 bond.

Hoyle's status was not immediately known.

Auditors now are going over 400,000 checks issued at Parks while Barry and Evans were stationed there. Until that audit is completed, the Secret Service says it cannot determine the total amount involved.

In Labor-Management Talks

Mitchell Asks Informality

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell advocates pressure-free, informal talks between labor and management to resolve problems and reduce friction.

Speaking yesterday to some 1,200 members of the New York Building Congress, Mitchell said:

"The problems of production, the problem of cost, the problem of labor jurisdiction, the problem of featherbedding—I think can be solved by reasonable men getting together and talking through the problems and solutions which mutually affect both.

Such informal talks, free of contract bargaining pressures, could apply to all industries and unions, Mitchell said.

17 Area Drivers Have Licenses Suspended

The Michigan Secretary of State's office reports that 17 Oakland County residents have had their licenses suspended recently.

Those ordered to furnish financial responsibility for unsatisfied judgment were:

Gladys C. Alston, 321 Rockwell
Quincy E. Alston, 321 Rockwell
James Hodge, 235 High
Robert Y. Pena, 90 Auburn

The following have had their licenses suspended for habitual negligence:

Hayden E. Bilyeu, Ortonville
Gerald L. Curry, 4761 Maycrest
George O. McGinnis, 1176 Cass Lake
Theodore M. Schaefer, Rochester
Howard H. Truitt, Birmingham
Roscoe W. Rupe of Rochester had his license suspended for being unable to pass tests.

Provided Good Outdoor Weather for Sports

October Had Colors, Sunshine, Snow

By LYDIA ROTHMAN

October has always been noted for its beautiful autumn weather and this October was no exception.

The mild days and frosty nights brought wonderful fall colors to the Pontiac area as well as providing football fans and hunters with ideal outdoor weather.

But with the mild weather we also had some very wintery days and a record making drought.

The first six days of the month were warm and sunny with high temperatures ranging in the 60s. On the seventh, skies became somewhat cloudy but cleared again for the weekend. The highest temperature of th month—74—was recorded on the 8th.

The warm and dry weather continued until the 16th, making almost three weeks without rain, a serious drought.

Farm crops suffered, and there was a great deal of danger of forest or field fires.

On the 16th, heavy rains amounting to 1.42 inches brought relief to the area. The rain continued for four days, and temperatures became somewhat cooler.

On the 19th, football fans had clear and cool weather for the games at Lansing and Ann Arbor. The clear weather continued until the 22nd, when again we had heavy rain which continued until the 24th.

Temperatures fell considerably during this period with the lowest temperature of the month — a chilling 29 being recorded on the 25th. The first snow of the year was seen on the morning of the 26th, with a heavy snow flurry that afternoon.

Winter seemed far away for the remainder of the month. Temperatures wre in the fifties and skies were mostly clear although there were a few light showers.

Statistically, October's weather was: The average high, 59; the average low, 41.2 and approximately 3.27 inches of rain fell during the month of October.

Reports Say Zhukov Out of Presidium

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UP) — Diplomatic reports reaching Belgrade from Moscow today said that Marshal Georgi Zhukov has been expelled from the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee and its ruling Presidium—the party politburo.

The reports said Zhukov, whose dimissal from the post of Soviet defense minister was announced last Saturday, would be given a lesser military post. It was indicated, however, that the World War II hero might not accept the humiliation.

An announcement from the party Presidium telling the Soviet people—and the world—of a new assignment for Zhukov has been expected almost hourly for several days.

The continuing delay in the announcement strengthened the impression that the marshal refused to step down quietly.

Moscow correspondents of Western Communist papers have reported, in dispatches cleared by the Soviet censors, that Zhukov hindered the work of Soviet Communist party political workers in the army. There also have been suggestions that he had ambitions to use his reputation as a military hero to spring to supreme power in the Soviet Union—challenging chev.

Refuses to Dismiss Case Against UAW

DETROIT (UP) — U. S. District Judge Frank A. Picard has denied a defense motion to dismiss charges that the United Auto Workers Union violated the Federal Corrupt Practices Act by televising political broadcasts during the 1954 congressional campaign.

Picard in turning down the petition said that Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, had in testimony "admitted that the union did just about what they are charged with doing."

Picard said Mazey had testified he "hoped" the programs would have an effect on the outcome of the election although that was not the specific purpose of the broadcasts. The judge also said Mazey testified the programs were watched by non-union members.

Picard said it would be up to the jury of 10 women and two men to decide whether the union was guilty as charged.

The union is accused of violating that section of the corrupt practices act which forbids banks, corporations and labor organizations from making political expenditures in connection with federal elections.

Are Your Answers Like These?

The following are the correct answers and explanations for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (2) FURRIER. A worker whose skill lies in matching pelts of animals must have a good color sense. A currier who works with tanned leather may do some dyeing also, but is not so definitely dependent on his color sense as the FURRIER.

B. (4) BURGLAR. It's the night prowler who "sometimes" wakes people who are sound asleep. The bugler would almost always (not just sometimes) wake campers or soldiers; that's what a BUGLER is for.

C. (5) UNSEASONABLE. By definition, a winter coat must be out of season in the summertime. But to wear one in the summer months might not always be unreasonable. Some nights are often cold enough to warrant it.

D. (7) SATCHEL. Such a bag would be adequate for a weekend visit. The sachet or scented bag would be superfluous over a weekend, and would undoubtedly remain in the bureau drawer.

E. (10) RECTOR. Because the clue does not mention reading, which is what a lector does, he must be ruled out. It is the RECTOR who will address the congregation.

F. (11) WELL-BRED. Animals of the best stock are usually the prize winners. No matter how well-fed they are, animals are not apt to be winners unless they come of good stock.

G. (13) WINES. The WINE cellar must be kept from extremes of temperature so that the WINES will not deteriorate. Wires installed in cellars will be properly insulated and will need no special conditions.

H. (15) GRAVEN. A sculptured figure may indeed remain undiscovered for centuries. If figure is taken to mean "personage," then he is already distinguished, and a change in phrasing. "A figure may not be discovered to be CRAVEN for a long time," would be needed to make sense.

I. (17) HOLSTERED. A sheriff wearing his guns ready for use would be effective, hence HOLSTERED is the choice. Bolstered means "sustained or supported with effort." a posse might do this if the sheriff were after a band of outlaws, but "an outlaw" could be handled by a properly armed sheriff alone.

J. (20) DISCOUNT. "Attractive" is the tip-off, for such a DISCOUNT would be big enough to allow people bent on emulating their neighbors to buy something they could not otherwise afford. Social climbers would be interested in any viscount, attractive or not.

K. (21) LOVING. The disposition of the parents is the important thing in making such household a happy one. The fact that the parents are living would make a combined household possible but not necessarily make it a happy arrangement.

L. (23) POSTAGE. When insuring or registering mail, one places a value on it and pays accordingly. Since a hostage is a person held as a pledge for fulfillment of certain agreements, the matter of payment for value cannot be determined in a way that will fit the definite statement of the clue.

M. (26) PASTORATE. A rural clergyman would naturally be sensitive to and moved by the problems of his office, his chosen work. Being moved by a piece of idyllic music, a pastorale, would not depend on one's calling but on one's taste in music.

N. (27) FRAZZLED. The comedian might well look tattered and torn. It would be the wig itself that would look frizzled, for this applies specifically to crimped hair.

O. (30) SETBACKS. "Apt to" is the deciding factor; checks in progress may be small and temporary, or offset by advances in other industries, so are only "apt to" affect employment. Cutbacks, reductions to earlier production rates or discontinuances of contracts, would undoubtedly throw a good many people out of work.

P. (32) BLACKISH. A thirsty man would welcome the sight of water that looked BLACKISH because of his desperate need. Brackish or salty water is ruled out since "the sight of it" would not reveal its flavor.

Q. (33) REST. It's the patient who must REST his eyes. The oculist would not need to tell his patient he was going to test his eyes; that's undoubtedly what the patient came for.

R. (36) AVICULTURE. Bird breeding is more of an "art" since it is not a wide-spread activity and is done usually as a hobby. Apiculture or beekeeping is done primarily for commercial purposes by many people who provide honey for the market; hence it doesn't rate the designation "art."

S. (37) ALLIGATORS. "Unsuspecting" is the clue. Undoubtedly, a person unaware of the presence nearby of a vicious ALLIGATOR can be seriously hurt by an encounter with it. Allegators, those who make positive statements often without proof, can damage reputations whether the people are unsuspecting or not.

T. (40) BACKLASH. The Backwash actually is part of the damage caused by the storm, and doesn't itself leave "great destruction in its wake." It is the BACKLASH or sudden recoil of the typhoon that leaves the destruction.

Man Points Pistol at 'Trick or Treater'

DETROIT (AP)—"Trick or treat," 5-year-old Charles Hyder demanded of John Calamarus, 69, a fruit stand operator.

Then, according to Charles' parents, Calamarus decided he would neither trick or treat. They said he pulled a .38 caliber pistol on young Charlie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyder Sr. said they watched through a window as their son entered the fruit stand on his Halloween rounds. They said Calamarus waved a pistol at the child and called him "bad names."

Calamarus denied threatening Charles with a pistol. He said Charles and a group of other children had demanded more candy than he cared to give them. No charges were placed against the fruit stand operator.

Masked Bandits Rob Manager

Thieves Get $20,000 From Supermarket's Employe on Halloween

LYMAN, S. C. (AP)—A supermarket manager was robbed of about $20,000 last night by two Halloween-masked gunmen who bound and slugged him before fleeing in his car.

Robert Littlejohn said he was just closing the Community Cash supermarket when two white men, both wearing robe-type Halloween costumes, accosted him.

"Hello, fellas, you playing trick or treat?" Littlejohn asked.

"This ain't going to be no treat" the manager said both replied as they drew .38 caliber pistols. He said they ordered him to hand over a bag containing the night's receipts.

Littlejohn said they forced him to open the supermarket and then remove the contents of a safe. The manager, who estimated the total receipts at about $20,000, said the pair bound him and knocked him out before fleeing in his car.

When he regained consciousness Littlejohn said he hailed a passing motorist and reported the incident to police.

He told officers that the car headed north from here.

Right Answers Will Win $800 in Pot-O-Gold

The money in Pot-O-Gold now stands at $800, but that's the trouble. All it does is stand. How about you fans working up a little circulation in the pot by sending us the right answers? That way the pot's emptied into your own pocket and more can be added so things don't get stale. Try the new puzzle below.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his numbers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 74 must bear a Tuesday, Nov. 5 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press Judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

GRASS GROWS UNDER HIS BOAT — James Schuhay, a do-it-yourself addict, puts the finishing touches on the 15-foot outboard motorboat he built on the front lawn of his home in St. Louis, Mo. The 15-year-old "grass admiral" started building the boat in the garage, but moved out to the lawn where there was more room. He's received plenty of offers of help from passersby, most of whom he says, "just get in the way." Jim is just about set to take the boat, which cost him about $180, including a secondhand motor, out on its shakedown cruise.

Motorists' Cheating May Up Insurance

LANSING (AP) — A trend toward cheating by motorists in accident cases threatens to drive up liability protection costs, the Michigan Insurance Information Service said today.

Increasingly, the service said, claims are being filed which ignore the fault of the claimant a which "attempt to convert accident injury into a windfall through grossly exaggerated claims."

"Compensation for accident injury extracted from another motorist without regard for the fault of the injured party is an open invitation to more carlessness, more accidents and more loss," the statement said.

"Regardless of their outcome, these claims have an immediate effect upon the cost of providing automobile insurance and upon the insurnace rates paid by motorists."

Finds Detroiter Guilty in Selling Ice Cream

Sam Wineman, of Detroit, was found guilty in municipal court yesterday on two counts of selling ice cream on Pontiac streets without an attendent to guard the safety of children.

Judge Cecil B. McCallum fined Wineman $35 or seven days in jail on each count. His attorney said that both convictions will be appealed to circuit court and arraignment was set there for Nov. 19.

Burglar Keeps Word

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—An intruder surprised on the ninth floor of the Medical Arts Building here by night watchman Cornelius B. Russell, told Russell he would kill him if police were informed. Russell told police. The next night the intruder returned, lunged at Russell with a knife and was subdued by the watchman's night stick.

Slum Clearance Projects Ditched

U. S. HOUSING ADMINISTRATOR: Albert M. Cole surveys Tyson St. in Baltimore, a slum area refurbished into a choice neighborhood, threatened with extinction by an expressway.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Construction of the multi-million dollar interstate highway network has unearthed a problem in the battle against juvenile delinquency.

Plans for the super road system are colliding head-on with slum redevelopment projects. And they threaten to run into others as work on new highways progresses.

STOP JOB

Conflicts between slum clearance projects and highway routes delay or, in some cases, could even stop the important job of rehabilitating run-down neighborhoods which are breeding grounds for teen-age crime.

U. S. Housing Chief Albert M. Cole and Federal Highway Administrator Bertram Tallamy have been holding a series of meetings to try to devise a plan to prevent road and housing projects from interfering with each other. Housing officials say that both men agree that something must be done about the problem.

Emphasis has been placed on finding a quick solution through trouble spots which are already cropping up.

WRECK PLANS

In Memphis, Tenn., the proposed site for approaches to a new bridge, which the interstate highway will cross threatens to wreck plans for a slum redevelopment program. So far the study to solve the situation has cost more than $14,000. And housing officials say a solution is nowhere in sight.

Hopes for a redevelopment program in Las Vegas are starting to dim. The land in question is bordered on one side by a railroad. If a highway is placed too close to the tracks, the land between will be worthless for construction purposes.

And a completed slum face-lifting program in Baltimore is now threatened with complete destruction by part of the new gigantic Atlantic City to San Francisco highway program.

Heavy financial losses, which result from housing and highway clashes, also call for speed in solving the problem. The Housing and Home Adminstration has helped finance or is now reviewing plans for more than 400 projects. Of this number, 180 are now under struction.

At the same time highway engineers are trying to finish their job as fast and with as little expense as possible.

If the two agencies can come up with a workable system to coordinate their efforts, it is estimated savings could run into the billions of dollars.

Public Bath Houses Call Off Tokyo Strike

TOKYO (AP)—Faced with a share-the-bathtub movement to keep Tokyo residents clean, owners of the city's 2,400 public bath houses have called off a lockout scheduled to begin today.

The owners accepted the government's ruling that they can raise the price of a bath only one yen—¼ cent.

A wash in a public bathhouse now will cost 16 yen—4.3 cents. The owners wanted a two-yen increase.

New Orleans Honors Dead on All Saints Day

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The city paid homage to its dead today with cemeteries transformed into blankets of flowers as the centuries-old observance of All Saints Day was renewed.

The feast day—a high holiday in the Roman Catholic Church—stems from the early days of Christianity to honor the martyrs, but in the past several centuries it has been the day on which all saints, both known and unknown, are venerated.

This city's cemeteries are among its leading showspots because of the practice of burying only above ground in crypts, vaults and raised graves. Today few graves were found without brilliant arrays of chrysanthemums, carnations, rose or other blossoms adorning them.

A Texas oilman bought his son a big Cadillac. But the kid's only nine, so he's only allowed to drive it in the livingr om . . . Alimony is simply proof that a man never stops paying for his mistakes. — Earl Wilson.

Red Hydro Project Creates New Lake

MOSCOW — A new lake called Novosbirsk is being created in Siberia and ships will soon be crossing it.

It's a giant reservoir 138 miles long and 16 miles wide in places, serving the Novosibirak hydro station on the River Ob. The town of Berdsj, its old site now under water, has been rebuilt on the new shore.

The lake will raise the level of rivers flowing into the Ob so that former small streams will be navigable and a new industrial center, Ikist, will become an inland port. Already the way between the sea and the lower reaches of the mighty Ob has been opened, enabling seagoig vessels to carry cargo right to the Trans-Siberian Railway.

Oxygen constitutes about 21 percent of air by volume.

Que Que Called Likely Boom Town

QUE QUE, Rhodesia — The name of Que Que (kway kway) is one to remember, they are saying in Rhodesia. It is a town "keen, venturesome and younger in heart than any I know," a recent visitor declared, a young man's town today, although it has been a mining town for over 50 years.

With completion of the great Kariba dam project, Que Que will have all the electric power it can use. It is becoming the hub of an area embracing the nearby Rhodesian Iron & Steel Co. works and a cluster of lime, chrome and nickel mines.

Ron Freeman, Britisher, who owns the first "self-serve" grocery in that part of Africa, says: "Here there is some incentive for a young man. At home I might have risen to be manager of a grocery store. Here I own my own store in a town that is bound to boom."

Uses King's Dairy in Treasure Hunt

CALCUTTA — Armed with the king's personal diary, his grandson is preparing to hunt for the treasure of the last kind of Oudh, King Wajid Ali Shah, Calcutta reports.

A search was carried out in 1954 but no treasure was found. The clues are in the king's diary, now in the possession of Prince Yousuf Mirza, his grandson. He will soon visit Lucknow to study clues on the spot and to compare them with other details which, it is said, are available through descendants of the king's officers.

Eight cousins of the Prince are seeking from the Indian Government restoration of jagirs (rights to collect public funds in a district), denied them by the British, and also for some millions of dollars in promissory notes confiscated by the British.

Bolivia was once known as Upper Peru.

Man Picks Cucumbers From His Pear Tree

DURANT, Okla. (AP)—No one believed J. T. Bruce when he told friends he was picking cucumbers from his pear tree.

They went to see, and sure enough, he was. A closer inspection showed the cucumber vines had climbed up the tree and fruited.

The population of Macapa, a province in Northern Brazil, has increased more than 1,000 per cent since manganese was discovered there 25 years ago.

Hill, director of the office of high school cooperation at MSU and Henry Dykema, Hill's assistant.

Yearbook Sales Campaign Ends Today

Waterford High Organizes Hi-Fi Club

By SANDY CLEMENCE

A new club has been formed at Waterford Township High School—the Hi-Fi Club. The purpose of the club is to get together those who enjoy the entertainment of high fidelity recordings.

Comedy, jazz, classical, and semi-classical music will be featured. The club meets on Monday afternoon and Richard J. Meier, choral music director, is the sponsor.

Students at WTHS will really be getting their money's worth when they buy this year's Waterlog.

The 1958 yearbook has a full color page, new sections, and also new features and arrangements plus more sports pages. The yearbook sales campaign began Monday and wound up today, climaxing the biggest campaign in the history of the school.

The 1957 Waterlog, which was edited by Beth Rose in 1957, received a rating of first class by the National Scholastic Press Association. This rating is the highest ever attained by a WTHS yearbook.

At the coronation ball last weekend, Chuck Kirken and Jackie Winter were crowned Homecoming king and queen. Their court included Janie Martini, Jerry Nelson, Charlene Gaffney, John Herrington, Beta Petrucci, Milton Mielke, Janet Thomas and Tim Patterson.

The Varsity Cheerleaders — Carole Moore, Jackie Winter, Laura Terry, Charlene Gaffney, Judy Kent, Sue Springer, Janet Kunse, and Fran Spencer have new uniforms. They wore them for the first time at the Homecoming game last week.

Members of the Dramatics club have been canvassing the township to sell tickets for the first play, "The Remarkable Incident at Carson Corners," which will be performed on November 8-9.

At the Future Social Workers club meeting this week the speaker was Charles Mills, social worker with the Detroit Probate Court. Co-sponsors of the club are Edwina Isaacson and Elsie Carter.

Every year a senior girl from WTHS is sponsored for the state DAR girl contest by the General Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The girl must show these outstanding qualities: dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. The 15 girls chosen by the faculty are: Esther Bentley, Judy Boardman, Darlene Dahl, Janet Delbridge, Tish Fitzgerald, Sharon Gaynor, and Barbara Johnson.

Others include: Jean Leach, Brenda Lewis, Janie Martini, Carole Moore, Char Pankner, Judi Russell, Connie Uhl, and Grace Williamson. One will be selected by the faculty in a few weeks. The DAR then sponsors a tea for local winners who will then be eligible to compete in a state contest by writing an essay.

At the last Future Teachers club meeting, officers were elected. They are: Diane Russell, president; Judy Boardman, vice president; Barbara Cole, secretary, and Carol Kratt, treasurer.

Miss Shindorf Named Queen at St. Michael

By MICHAEL BUCHANAN

St. Michael High School senior Constance Shindorf, 631 Cameron Ave., will reign as queen tomorrow night during the annual football homecoming game between St. Michael and St. Mary of Royal Oak at Wisner Stadium.

Assisting Miss Shindorf on her court will be Betty Lauinger, 11th grader, 41 E. Fairmount Ave.; Marie Cronan, 10th grade, 8324 Arlis Rd., Walled Lake and Arlene Elias, 9th grade, of 4476 Welland Rd., Walled Lake. The queen and her court were elected in an all school election this week.

The famous battle for the little Roman (roamin') jug, which is now possessed by St. Marys, will highlight the game.

The fathers of the players and cheerleaders will also be honored during the halftime ceremonies on "Dad's Night."

Last Saturday, a group of Sodalists from St. Michael's school attended the annual convention at U. of D. high school for the Sodality. Sodalists from all over the state attended and Tuesday the Sodality had a general meeting in which some of the students who went to Detroit gave reports of the events there.

Father Vincent Ford also spoke to the group.

Uses Weapon at Hand

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A small, elderly woman brought a prisoner into police headquarters the other day — at needlepoint.

She told Patrolman Howard Smith she had been sitting on her porch sewing when the man, a neighbor, began creating a disturbance and using foul language. So she used the weapon at hand.

St. Fred Future 'Marms Teach Correct Speech

By PAT FOSTER

Included in the various clubs and organizations at St. Frederick High School this year, is the Future Teacher's Club. This noteworthy group consists in part of a few Senior girls who have given up Wednesday evenings after school to teach.

They gain valuable experience by correcting speech defects of children in the elementary grades. These practice teachers include Donna Needle, Pat Sagamang, Mary Ann Koenig, Judy Warrilow, Becky Schutt and Shaaron Talbot.

St. Fred's along with every Catholic Diocese, school, parish, and university, will participate all this week in the observance of the Seventh Annual National Catholic Youth Week.

This week is set aside to display the many talents of today's youth and encourage them to assume responsibility in a modern world.

The week is sponsored by the National Council of Catholic Youth in Washington, D.C. The theme of Catholic Youth Week is "Healthier, Happier, Holier", which covers all aspects included in a well-rounded life, physically, mentally and spiritually.

Six Area Schools Check on College Life

Walled Lake High Hosts College Night

Walled Lake High School hosted the annual college night Wednesday which was designed for students and their parents to meet college representatives and discuss requirements, costs and questions concerning college life.

Students from Southfield, Farmington, Milford, Northville, West Bloomfield and Walled Lake were present to interview the more than 36 representatives of universities, colleges, business schools, and the armed forces.

Walled Lake has been a busy school during the past days. The student council has been in charge of the collection of the money for the United Foundation. Money was collected every morning in homerooms. Most of it will be returned to the school district.

The Juniors are planning their annual J-Hop on November 15. A winter theme has been chosen, but details are being kept secret.

AT AVONDALE

Catherine Gorang was crowned Homecoming queen at halftime of the Lake Orion - Avondale game Friday. Sharon Wiles, last year's queen, assisted R. N. Baker, superintendent, in the crowning.

After the game Queen Catherine and her court, Nelda Hyten, Doris Peel, Irene Taylor, Judy Ward and Judy Schoonover, reigned over the dance held in the gymnasium.

The senior class took first prize in homecoming floats. The junior class and Bible club, came in second and third respectively.

The performance of "Melody Jones," senior play, has been postponed until December 5, because of illness in the cast.

The combined "Little Brown Jug" and "Sadie Hawkins" dance will be held November 8 from 8 until 11 p.m. This is the first year to combine the two dances because of a calendar conflict.

The "Little Brown Jug" affair traditionally follows the Troy-Avondale game. The winning team claims the Jug for the following year. The dance will be sponsored by the senior and junior classes.

At the Future Homemakers of America regional convention held in Milford, Patricia Combs was elected historian, from five candidates.

All other regional officers from Milford are: Norma Brandeberry, president; Phyllis Smith, vice president; Janet Hichkock, secretary, and Masha Marsh, treasurer.

AT MILFORD

This weekend is a very unusual one for the students at Milford High. The 125th anniversary of the founding of Milford will be staged, with the school taking part in various events.

The senior class will sponsor a concession stand on Main Street throughout the three day celebration, along with the student council, which will operate the popcorn stand.

On Saturday there will be a parade featuring fifty floats, many made by various school classes and clubs, and seven bands.

AT WEST BLOOMFIELD

West Bloomfield High School has started a drill team under the sponsorship of George Uhrich, senior government teacher. With everyone's help, they hope to get uniforms for the ten men.

Tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., there will be a car wash in the school parking lot for the benefit of the uniform fund.

The newspaper staff of West Bloomfield has drawn up a constitution. The group will be called the W. B. W., West Bloomfield Writers, and will continue its weekly articles, the Lakers' Log, and its monthly paper called the Lakers' Review.

The first monthly paper will be published the first of the month for all students wishing to pay a dime. Proceeds from the selling of the papers will go towards the future plans for a printing press at West Bloomfield.

AT LAKE ORION

Interest in Lake Orion Community High School this week is centered largely around their undefeated football team, which if it can conquer Troy tonight will be the champions of the B league.

The student council conference in Ann Arbor this week was attended by Carl Baber, president of both Lake Orion and the B League council; Roy Vanette, advisor; John Sura, vice - president and Jerry Exline council representative.

AT ROCHESTER

Seven Rochester High School juniors in an American Literature class will participate in a panel discussion this morning on the WEXL radio program, "Youth Town Meeting of the Air."

The students, all in Eloise Tallant's literature class, will discuss the important interests and influences in the lives of teenagers.

The panelists are: Margaret Swoboda, Donald Peters, William Bensen, Mary Stewart, Howard Hinkle, Sonja Baker and Tom Powell.

Housing Starts Off

CHICAGO — Despite a drop of 16 per cent in the number of private housing starts in the first six months of 1957, the year will end with close to 1,000,000 homes started, according to the United States Savings and Loan League.

Lincoln Plans Washington, D.C. Trip

Washington Jr. High Has Creative Art Class

In harmony with the rest of the junior high curricula, which is exploratory in nature, the art program at Washington Junior High offers a wide variety of activities to permit greater latitude in creative expression.

The art students have applied their lessons in design and perspective in line and color harmony; in paintings in water colors, temperas, chalk, charcoal, colored pencils and crayons; and sculptures in woods, metals, plastics and clay.

They have also done projects in lettering, posters, block printing, pottery, jewelry, enameling, leather working and wood carving under the guidance of John Silvonen, instructor in charge of this department.

The boys' football program this week scheduled two games between the teams of John Burton and Joe Shara. Ralph Allen's team played against Eastern Junior High and Don Kelly's team engaged the boys from Jefferson Junior High.

The Junior Girls' Athletic Association, a club group sponsored by Rosemary Wandell, girls' physical education instructor, will attend the Ice Follies in Detroit Sunday.

AT LINCOLN

Plans have just been announced for the annual trip to Washington, D.C., by the ninth grade class at Lincoln Junior High School, for April 30 to May 4. Arrangements are being made by Ralph Forman, assistant principal, with the help of the ninth grade homeroom teachers.

Reservations for the five-day trip to be made by large buses will be for the George Mason Hotel in Alexandria, Va. This is the highlight of the activity for the 9A's as they conclude their work at Lincoln Junior High.

Parents and teachers are asked to reserve Nov. 11 to observe National Education Week with a visit to Lincoln Junior High. Mrs. George Gray, president of the PTA, is assisting Philip Wargelin, principal, with the details of the open house.

Pat Hogan, president of 7B Home Room 108, and her committee planned the "Sock Hop" for all 11 rooms of 7B's after school today. Dale Hughes was in charge of the music; Dulcena Browning and Mary Young planned the refreshments, and Patsy McBride and Ronnie Maynard assisted John Buchanan, the class sponsor.

Students and teachers recently appointed to serve on student council committees for this semester include: Constitution, Carolyn Mills and Mr. Paul Atkins; hall guards, Roger Richards and Mr. Russell Frid; finance, Karen Chester and Mrs. Christine Gary; books, Margaret White and Mr. Julius Middledorf; refreshments, Sharon Burklaw and Mr. Sturgeon; social, Shirley Parent and Miss Marla Jackson; PTA, Nina Roberts and Mrs. A. L. MacAdams; foster child, Shirley Tinkis and Mr. John Buchanan; advertising, Marilyn Law and Mrs. T. E. Wiersema.

AT EASTERN

At an assembly at Eastern Junior High School students were entertained this week by an unusual type musical program presented by "The Gregorys" with their Do-It-Yourself Orchestra.

Enchanting music was made without touching the instruments. The "orchestra" was made up of a vacuum cleaner, auto pump, saw, rubber gloves and bagpipes.

This week advanced homemaking classes (ninth graders) observed Jean Hardy, a home service adviser from Detroit Edison, give a demonstration on "Food Freezing Facts." Miss Hardy discussed how important a food freezer is to the modern home.

Winners have been announced for the recent Parent-Teacher Student Association membership contest. First prize was won by homeroom 216—teacher, William Sumner, English; second prize, homeroom 212—teacher, Madge Sturdy, mathematics; third prize, homeroom 210—teacher, Alice Stevens, English. The contest, which began Oct. 11 and ended Oct. 25, was based on highest percentage of eligible parents, teachers and students joined the PTSA.

AT MADISON

The Madison Junior High School student council is ready to launch their annual magazine drive. The kick-off assembly was held this afternoon, with a goal of $4,500 announced. Profits of the sale will be used for various educational projects and equipment.

A successful campaign will mean a trampoline for the physical education classes, 100 new books for the library, and a payment on the choir robes.

On Monday and Tuesday the ninth grade speech classes presented a series of five assemblies entitled "Poetry for Listening." Each program consisted of 20 memorized selections recited by individual students.

The shows were under the direction of Mrs. Patricia Clark with Melvyn Staebler assisting on lighting effects. The advanced dramatic students of Pontiac Senior High School were special guests for the event.

The annual PTSA Membership Drive came to a successful conclusion this week when the goal of 500 members was reached. The following are homerooms who received top honors: 1st place—Mr. Dennis Beach's homeroom A-16 and Mr. Thomas Shara's homeroom A-6 were tied. Second place went to Mr. Robert Vackaro's homeroom, A-17, and the third-place winner was Mrs. Hazel Gordon's homeroom, A-12.

Hold Fall Vocal Clinic Monday

PHS A Capella Choir Presents Concert Today

By WILLIAM BANK

Today the Pontiac High A capella Choir gave a concert for Washington Junior High School students.

The concert consisted of six numbers. Two of the numbers, "Every Time I Feel the Spirit" and "Mary Had a Baby," were arranged by William L. Dawson, the guest conductor for this year's Fall Vocal Clinic.

Other songs sung by the choir were "To Thee I Sing" by Schvedoff, "Hard by a Fountain" by Waebrant, and "Yonder, Yonder" a Russian folk song in which Jeanette Ohanesian, Vicki Vandecar, and Diane Beach sang solos.

The last number, "I Am an American" by Carmen Dragon, was taken from an essay written by an Ohio high school student. The narrator for this number was David Kimball.

The students who will be piano accompanists at the fall vocal clinic Monday are Santhy Annas, Terri Fortino, Margaret Kubiak, and Phyllis Peters. Others are Gary Relyea, Pat Watson and Claudia Williams. Sandy Sommerville and Marcia Galbraith will accompany the glee clubs on the organ.

The Future Homemakers of America Club have reelected the 1956-57 officers. They are Barbara Mitchell, president; Santhy Annas, vice-president; Pat Bergman, secretary; Dimitra Govenis, treasurer.

The members of the F.H.A. went to Ona Craft, a small shop in Ferndale that sells preparations for money making projects such as making corsages or ear-rings.

The Future Teachers have a busy meeting schedule this year including speeches by principals and teachers.

TEACH 5TH GRADE

One student, eleventh grader Ron Miller is student teaching in the fifth grade at Crofoot elementary students in remedial reading. He works from 10:30 to 11:40 a.m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. To make money the FTA is selling perfume, gift paper, and ribbons.

The officers of the FTA are Addie Taylor, president; Ron Miller, vice-president; Jackie Presby, secretary; Fannie Johnson, corresponding secretary; and Eva McKey, historian. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Ann Morrow.

Fresh Turmoil Rocks California

Papers Claim Knight Will Back Out of Race for Governorship

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — Renewed reports that Gov. Goodwin Knight would bid for a U. S. Senate seat instead of seeking reelection next year created fresh turmoil in California's hectic political campaign today.

San Francisco and Los Angeles newspapers, quoting both Washington sources and "friends of the governor," said the ailing Republican chief executive sent that word from his out-of-state vacation hideaway.

Such a decision would, in effect, hand the Republican nomination for governor to Sen. William F. Knowland and spare the GOP a bitter intraparty battle in next June's primary.

Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown is unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

There was no direct confirmation from the 60-year old governor. He left for a three-week rest Monday on doctor's orders after saying he still intended to seek re-election. Knight said then he had rejected overtures to run for the Senate.

His press secretary, Tom Bright, phoned the latest reports to Knight's secret retreat and quoted the governor as saying he had no comment. The absence of a firm denial was quickly noted here.

Brown accepting the reports at face value, denounced Knight's asserted shift as "a cynical deal engineered by a grasping reactionary with eyes fixed on the White House."

"The governor was forced to change his mind," Brown continued. "He became the victim of a plot engineered by Knowland that dried up the sources of his campaign funds and enticed away many of his big name supporters. Knight was confronted with polls which showed him losing to Knowland. He was then served with an ultimatum to either get out of the governor's race and campaign for the Senate or face certain political death. Lonely and abandoned, he bowed to his masters."

Why would Knight, as the incumbent, agree to step aside?

Knight, along with other Republicans, has warned that the deep party wounds inflicted by a Knight-Knowland showdown might cost the GOP the state in 1958 and 1960, a presidential year.

Early newspaper polls have shown Knight lagging behind Knowland in the Republican contest, and Knight might like to close out his long political career without a defeat.

'Rugged Coast' Leads Spain's Resort Areas

BARCELONA — Spain's most popular and fastest-growing resort area is the Costa Brava (Rugged Coast), north of Barcelona. Along its 70 miles it has more that 200 hotels. Second in popularity is the Island of Mallorca, which in 1956 played host to 250,000 vacationists.

Other popular resort areas are the Costa Blanca (White Coast), between Valencia and Alicante, and the Costa del Sol (Sun Coast), near Malaga.

Snark Launched From Florida Missile Center

MISSILE TEST CENTER, CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP) — Rocketmen launched a Snark here yesterday in the second firing in as many days.

The Snark, a 74-foot-long pilotless bomber with 42-foot wingspread, travels slower than some jet fighters, but is designed to fly 5,000 miles under guidance and then dive with a nuclear warhead on its target.

Last spring a Snark launched from Cape Canaveral broke out of control and last was seen headed for the jungles of Brazil.

Announcement of yesterday's Snark firing was made by the Defense Department, which said also that on Wednesday night a Jupiter "A" missile was sent aloft and then destroyed because of a malfunction.

Watchers saw the Jupiter climb 30,000 feet straight up and then veer to the southeast. A booster stage fell into the ocean after the missile disappeared from sight.

The Jupiter is a ballistic missile with control gear built into the missile. The Snark is a guided missile designed to be controlled from a distance.

Acquit 3rd Person in Portland Trials

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP) — Thomas E. Maloney, accused of bribe conspiracy in Portland's vice investigation, was acquitted last night by a state circuit court jury.

The verdict, reached after six hours deliberation, was unanimous.

Maloney, a 54-year old Seattle and Spokane race track clerk, was accused of plotting with former Dist. Atty. William Langley and Joseph McLaughlin, a Seattle cardroom operator, to take over and expand gambling operations here and split the payoff.

Bribe conspiracy charges still are pending against Langley and McLaughlin.

The Maloney acquittal was the third in major trials of persons indicted by Multnomah County Portland grand juries which undertook a year-long investigation of charges of vice and corruption here.

Earlier Portland Mayor Terry Schrunk was found innocent when tried on a perjury charge and Oregon Teamster chief Clyde C. Crosby was acquitted on a bribe conspiracy charge.

Colombia Seeks American Aid

Technicians, Investment Needed From United States

BOGOTA, Colombia (NEA) — Help wanted, male: preferably American, for technical aid in agriculture and for partnerships in new business enterprises.

That, in simplified form, is the new attitude in Colombia, where both government and private enterprise have suddenly awakened to the fact that a coffee-bean economy is not enough to make a stake in world trade.

You sense the attitude in the old world elegance of the Palacio Presidential, where the junta government now is run by five presidents instead of one. Behind a facade of palace guards in bright blue uniforms and polished brass helmets, trim, dark-eyed Brig. Gen. Juan B. Cordoba, secretary-general of the junta, is all business as he tells you:

"This is the time of greatest opportunity for outside investors and industry to get a stake in Colombia."

Some American firms already are making strong new bids for a partnership role in Colombian industry.

KAISER INTERESTED

Henry J. Kaiser has indicated he would like to invest 50 million dollars for shipyards on Colombia's Atlantic Coast, concentrating on large tankers, with steel to come from Colombia's own mills at Paz del Rio. But since Paz del Rio steel production has thus far been somewhat disappointing, the shipyard would be contingent on a Kaiser-supervised expansion of that industry.

Kaiser is also interested in building automobiles more or less from scratch in Colombia as he is now doing in Argentina. Four other auto makers — American Motors (Nash, Willys) and one each from England, Germany and Japan—have just gotten their feet in that door with assembly plants completed or under way.

W. R. Grace, a traditionally big stake-holder in Central and South America, plans a factory to make paper from sugar cane waste that would supply all Colombia's needs except newsprint.

In his 10th floor offices overlooking the Banco de la Republica, Genaro Payan, Colombian attorney for foreign interests here, will tell you:

"Colombians are just beginning to understand international trade. They have not been conscious of their closeness to the greatest source of energy and financing in the world. There are hundreds of Colombian enterprises which could be developed or expanded with U.S. business partnership."

This is not to say, of course, that the American businessman has been a stranger here up to now. The U.S. private investment in Colombia was 272 million dollars in 1955, the latest year for which figures are available; more than 38 per cent of that was in oil; another 22 per cent was in manufacturing. But men like Gen. Cordoba and Payan consider this small potatoes, indeed.

As an example of what could be, Payan singles out Sears-Roebuck, which has made its biggest South American investment in Colombia. Most of it is concentrated in the bustling Cauca Valley city of Cali, hub of Colombia's American colony, where a sprawling shopping center dwarfs even the big Sears "buy today, pay manana" installations in oil-rich Venezuela.

As the new government's Gen. Cordoba sees it, the No. 1 "help wanted" opportunity is in agriculture and food processing—in new sources of food, in technical help in utilizing variable climates, new seeds, new fertilizers, modern equipment.

BANANAS 2ND

Bananas, for instance, rank next to coffee in food exports. But they run second only by default. Coffee percolates 83 per cent of Colombia's export trade (of which the U.S. buys 74 per cent); bananas bring in only three per cent of export money.

Gen. Cordoba figures that proper know-how in shifting the banana plantations from the Atlantic Coast, where they are vulnerable to tropical storms and disease, to the southern areas along the Pacific near the border with Ecuador, now the top banana country in South America, would put Colombia in a highly competitive position.

What agriculture can mean after the coffee has been drunk is already evident in the discovery that rice may beat the banana in easing Colombia's world trade deficit.

With the crop increasing at the rate of 10 per cent a year and a 1956 harvest of 360,000 tons, the Ministry of Agriculture figures it will have a surplus for export by next year.

RICE HARVEST IN COLOMBIA — It may beat the banana in easing the country's trade deficit.

Agriculture may be the first phase in Colombia's awakening. The second phase, however, if you listen to attorney Payan, is heavy industry—and it has to be tackled from the outside.

Engineers Preparing New Atomic Dictionary

NEW YORK — The American Standards Association and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers have prepared an atomic dictionary.

The 188-page volume is designed to provide a common language among medical men, engineers, chemists, physicists, biologists, and others working with the atom.

Some forms of witchcraft are still actively practiced in sections of the southern United States.

New Group Plans to Study Old Races

VIENNA — Ethnological studies of races that are dying out and conservation of the old cultural treasures of tribes which now are becoming civilized are aims of the newly formed Austrian Ethnological Exploration Society.

The group represents a response to the appeal made in 1952 at the Fourth International Congress for Anthropology and Ethnology, held in Vienna in 1952 for studies of this nature.

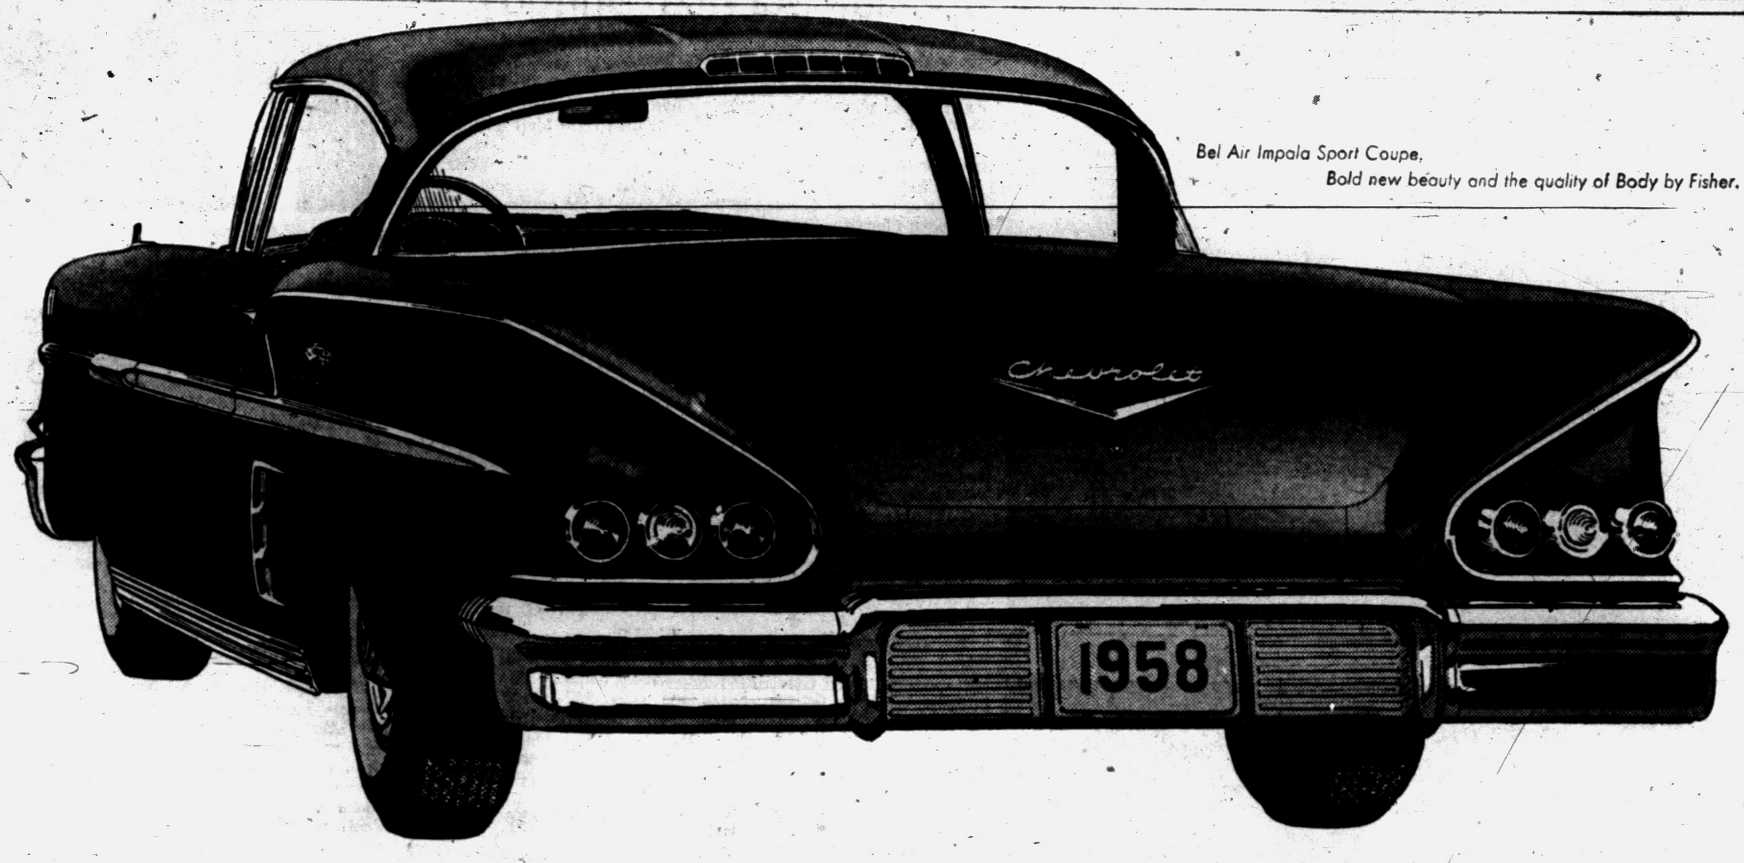

The first research trip will be to the Sudan, by Dr. Andreas Kronenberg. A large expedition to Venezuela also is planned within the next two years to study dying tribes.

The Boyden Observatory at Mazelspoort, South Africa, will become one of the world's few satellite observation points, under present plans.

RETIREMENT SPELLS ACTIVITY—Ever since Paul Hempy, 68, of 865 Mallock Rd., Union Lake, retired from the Ford Motor Co. three years ago, he's been usually busy. First, Hempy grows a garden in which he raises record vegetables. Besides, he has a hobby of making miniature horses and wagons. In accompanying pictures, he displays a foot-long carrot weighing three pounds which he pulled from his garden this week. Next to it are strawberries freshly picked from his everbearing strawberry plants at this late date. The tiny horses and wagons which Hempy makes are fashioned with lathe and plane. Carving is completed with a knife. He sells, gives away and displays some of his work. Presently, a set is displayed in the show window of the Pontiac Retail Store, Pontiac. Hempy and his wife plan on going to Florida next week, where they will spend the winter.

For Huron Valley District Teenagers

Start Youth Bandstand Series

Students, parents and teachers of the Huron Valley School District, having worked some time toward a teenage dance series for the area, have slated the first dance event, to be held on Saturday, Nov. 9, at 8:30 p.m.

Location for the dance series will be the East Highland Improvement Assn. Hall, which is located on M59 and Duck Lake roads.

Youth, parents and teachers who initiated the movement already have held two informal meetings, one on Oct. 17 and one on Oct. 27.

At the most recent meeting, the name "The Milford Bandstand" was selected and the following officers chosen:

Robert Bedford, president; Connie Saunders, first vice president; Sharon Conroy, second vice president Donna Dagenhart, secretary; Mrs. Irene Saunders and Donnie Gunnells, treasurers; Steve Newman and Bud Yeager, sergeants at arms; Arthur McCaffenty, Joanne Carl, Mona Winstanley and Gail Wheeler, publicity.

A disc jockey will be asked to preside at the dances and the Milford Junior Chamber of Commerce has offered to sponsor the group.

Age limits for dance attendance, set and agreed on by everyone, will be from the ninth grade on up.

MR. and MRS. VERN MILLER

Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Friends to Honor Millers

LAKE ORION — Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Vern Miller if 131 N. Axford St. will be an open house for relatives and friends in the Lake Orion Methodist Church House, beginning at 5 p.m., Sunday.

Their children who are preparing the event are: Cass, of Dearborn; Robert, Mrs. William Shoup, and Mrs. Burton Hauxwall of Lake Orion. Their 13 grandchildren include two sets of twins.

The couple who attended Orion Schools together moved to Detroit shortly after their marriage, on Nov. 2, 1907, but returned to Orion in 1922. At that time Miller owned the Lake Orion Creamery which he later sold to the Detroit Creamery. He was employed by them 24 years as a route driver, then as a night plant supervisor until his retirement in 1953. He is now a school safety patrolman.

Not "on the shelf" this couple enjoys the perch runs and vacations in their housetrailer. Miller frames pictures in his home workshop and refinishes furniture, while Mrs. Miller keeps busy being a thoughtful grandmother. She is a member of the Orion Chapter of the OES and they both belong to the Methodist Church here. He is an active officer of the Orion Lodge F&AM.

County Sewage Priority Held Up

3 Big County Projects Placed Too Low on List to Get Federal Funds

The Michigan Water Resources Commission has withheld federal aid priority for three big proposed Oakland County sewage projects.

Although requests for $750,000 in federal aid for the North Evergreen, South Evergreen and Farmington Interceptor Sewers were given routine approval, they were not placed high enough on the priority list to capture any of the limited amount of federal funds available.

On the priority list was Lathrup Village, which asked for $35,850 in federal aid for sewage treatment facilities. Lathrup was told, however, that it must contract for construction immediately or face the prospect of being taken off the priority list.

All told, 15 of 32 Michigan cities applying for aid were given high enough priority to qualify for federal aid totalling $7,456,596, or 30 per cent of the total cost.

Harold K. Schone, acting director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, objected to the by-passing of the three big county projects.

Schone claimed the county missed out only on the technicality that there was no final agreement with Detroit for outlets to the systems.

Schone was told that the commission had to go along with the letter of the law. Otherwise, the commission said, the projects were rated for priority on the basis of the seriousness of the pollution problem and the need for the money.

Blockfloete to Be Played at Rochester Meet

ROCHESTER—Mrs. C. W. Crissman, 605 W. Fifth St., will open her home to the members of the Rochester Tuesday Musicale on Tuesday evening at 8.

The program committee will present Mrs. Hildegarde Peterman, formerly of Kaiserslautern, Germany, who will play a number of selections on the "blockfloete." This instrument is quite different from the instrument we know as the "flute."

It is made of wood and is played like a "clarinet." The range is very limited, and the music was written especially for this instrument in Germany. Mrs. Stowell Collins will be the accompanist.

Mrs. Peterman is also an accomplished violinist, having studied in Germany. She was an exchange student to the United States from 1948 to 1950. While here she majored in modern languages and minored in music at the North Dakota State College.

A little over two years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Peterman came to the United States and in July of this year came to make their home in Rochester. They have a 5-month-old daughter.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. John Koski and Mrs. Zack Boeberitz.

County Calendar

Imlay City

The Saturday Night Square Dance Club will hold its monthly party at New Hudson School gym, at 9 p.m. Saturday. Herman Scheel will be the caller. Public attendance has been invited.

CAROLE MACLACHLAN

The engagement of Carole MacLachlan of Romeo to Alvin Jensen of Utica has been announced by Carole's aunt, Mrs. Betty Falker, with whom she resides. Carole is the daughter of the late Mrs. Florine Salo Jr. of Washington. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Jensen of Utica.

Lapeer Church Men to Hold Rifle Talk

LAPEER—Monroe Street Methodist Church Men's Club will meet on Monday at 7:30 p.m., in the church.

Lyle Williams will present a program entitled "Straight Shooting," featuring handloading of ammunition and various rifles.

The Rev. Raymond Lamb will continue with another intensely interesting era in the history of the Methodist Church.

Dr. Carl Zolliker will have charge of the devotions and music, accompanied by Michael Wilson. Leonard Frazer's committee will serve refreshments following the meeting.

All members have been invited to come and to bring a guest.

Rabbit Breeders Sponsor Show

County Patrons Will Bring Animals to Fair This Weekend

The Oakland County Rabbit Breeders Assn. will sponsor an American Rabbit Breeders Approved rabbit show at the Michigan State Fair Grounds in Detroit this Saturday and Sunday.

Entires have been received in all the popular breeds of rabbits and from all over Michigan and most of the other states in the central region of the country.

Late year there were over 600 animals on exhibit from a dozen states. The show will be open to the public and there will be no admission charge.

A lunch counter featuring "bunny-burgers," among other home made foods, will be at the show both days. Donations for the foods will be taken and the stand will be staffed by junior members of the association.

Resigns Church Post

IMLAY CITY — The Rev. Randolph Crisp has resigned as pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church and accepted a call to the Varnie Bible Church in Varnie, West Virginia.

Angry Words Fly in Royal Oak Township

Board Meeting Stormy

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — The firing of police officer Mackey Williams, 30, and suspension from duty for 30 days of Anniah Ruffin, 35, brought charges and counter charges at last night's stormy township board meeting here.

The officers in question were suspended Oct. 17 by Police Chief Lawrence Johnson because they failed to report an open back door at the Good Neighbor Super Market on Eight Mile road.

The owner, John Yasso, later reported $1,600 missing.

At last night's meeting, board members angrily accused supervisor Elwood Dickens of going over their heads in firing Williams, claiming they had no knowledge of the matter until they read it in the paper.

Trustee Ruben Harris claimed Chief Johnson did not fulfill his duties in making full investigation of the matter, and made a motion to suspend Johnson for 60 days, pending investigation of the whole matter.

Dickens refused to acknowledge the motion and walked out.

Township attorney Lynn V. Hooe Jr. eventually brought the meeting to an end. Board members then went into executive session in an effort to reach some decision.

Uphold Rezoning of Marshall Farm

OXFORD — In a vote of 307 to 264, residents in the unincorporated part of Oxford Township yesterday upheld the recent action of their Township Board in rezoning the Marshall farm on Seymour Lake road. It will be changed from suburban farm to sand and gravel classification.

With his lease, Marshall had submitted plans for rehabilitating the land to a sand lake subdivision. The Mickelson Corp., which has been operating across the road for four years will have up to 10 years to work the Marshall property.

Natalie Rofe Weds

ORION TOWNSHIP — A reception at the home of the bride followed the morning wedding which united Natalie Rose Rofe and Neil Earl Van Wagoner at St. Joseph Catholic Church here.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dane Rofe of 1459 Beach Drive and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Van Wagoner of 232 New York.

The Rev. Fr. George E. Ging performed the service before 75 guests.

The bride chose a rust sheath dress with matching accessories. Her cloche was overlayed with pearls and the dress was trimmed with angora at the neckline. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mildred Hartwick, of Lake Orion, was her only attendant. Her gown was of blue taffeta and her corsage of pink carnations.

Anthony Tardugno, of Lake Orion, acted as best man.

Jury Convicts Lad of Felonious Assault

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Larry Larson, 19, of Rochester, will be sentenced Nov. 8 for deliberately ramming his automobile into a pursuing Utica police car last March.

He was convicted of felonious assault yesterday. A Macomb County Circuit Court jury of four men and eight women deliberated five hours before returning the guilty verdict.

He faces a maximum sentence of four years in prison. He could have been convicted of assault with intent to murder, which carries a higher sentence.

Testimony at the trial showed Larson deliberately rammed the police car, seriously injuring two Utica policemen. The chase took place minutes after Larson and a companion had stolen five auto ties and wheels in Utica.

The Touro Synagogue at Newport, R.I., is the oldest Jewish house of worship in the U.S. It was built in 1763.

Pupils Now in School May Pioneer to Mars

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Human space travel has already partially begun.

Our jet pilots are flying so high that much of the earth's air is beneath them. They are already meeting and conquering some major problems involved in trips to the Moon or Mars.

Human volunteers in special experiments are producing answers as to whether, and how, humans can stand greater and more severe challenges higher in the void of space.

But don't fall for the pitch of some promoter offering you bargain-price reserved tickets to the Moon by 1960 or 1965.

It just won't be that easy.

Indeed, there are some scientists and experts who say space travel is forever out of the question—men couldn't stand it, or be protected well enough.

There's a middle opinion that human journeys into space are a very long way off—perhaps no earlier than the end of this century.

But enthusiasts say the first space Columbus—John or Ivan—has already been born or now is even in school. They see initial space journeys within five to 10 years.

Jet pilots are flying in such thin air that they must carry their own oxygen, use pressurized cabins and special suits, or else their blood would boil at these heights. Their planes are overcoming problems of heat from friction at high speed in the air they meet. The pilots are experiencing sensations of no gravity—weightlessness—at times in their flights.

Space flight means more or most of the same problems, intensified. But with new problems added.

Can human life withstand the radiation men will meet in space from cosmic rays, and from intense ultraviolet light and X-rays from the sun? Our blanket of atmosphere blocks out most of these rays which might quickly kill or damage the unprotected body.

Our air also burns up most of the meteors whizzing in at us from space. How crowded is space with this cosmic dust, or with big meteor chunks traveling faster than any cannon shell, and just as lethal if they barreled through a pressurized space cruiser?

Baby moons—U. S. and Russian—equipped with sensitive instruments, and radios, will report what these hazards are, or what unsuspected dangers may exist.

Under International Geophysical Year agreement, both nations are pledged to tell the world what their baby moons learn.

With that knowledge, scientists and engineers might devise materials and methods to safeguard human astronauts physically.

Monkeys have gone up 80 miles high inside U. S. rockets. Russians report sending dogs 130 miles high. Just in the last few days, a Soviet scientist said a next step could be to put dogs or other animals in baby moons, with instruments recording and reporting what happens to them.

Such animal trials could be arranged humanely to prevent suffering. But the real step would be human volunteers testing the practicality of space travel.

Could people psychologically withstand the peculiar challenges of space? Long trips mean a few persons cooped together in probably cramped quarters for days or months, in perhaps continuous peril, with sudden emergencies calling for quick, decisive, cooperative actions.

Picked men manning atomic submarines operate under similar conditions, and their answer is yes.

Women might be the first choice because, say male psychologists, they can tolerate boredom and monotonous tasks better. Another suggestion is to put space crews into suspended animation on long journeys with special drugs while automatic controls or signals from earth control the flight to Mars.

It seems certain that the first astronauts will be carefully handpicked—maybe one in thousands—on considerations of health, psychology, training and skills.

Pulls Trigger 4 Times but Gun Won't Fire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Foreman John Weisman, 49, is a lucky man four times over.

Police said ex-employe Dolphus Cox walked into the Standard Register Co. here and told Weisman, "This is for getting me fired." Whereupon Cox, 40, took out a revolver and pulled the rigger four times.

The gun didn't go off.

Cox was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 for assault with a deadly weapon.

B-58 BUICK

Born of more Aircraft Principles than any other car yet built

HERE—coming to you from the freshest blueprints in years—is a car built to make your driving as modern as your thinking.

This one's built with more aviation principles throughout than any car before.

There's a greater use of airweight aluminum in its form and structure—in its engine—in its styling—even in its quick-cooling brakes.

There's an air-borne feeling of flight in its performance with Buick's B-12000 engine and with Flight Pitch Dynaflow* that can switch the pitch a million ways.

And everywhere you go—you travel in new comfort with Buick's Miracle Ride plus Air-Poise Suspension.*

So this is a car of truly exciting ideas for 1958—the Air Born B-58 Buick.

And you should see it and drive it at your Buick dealer's soon. Come on in today.

ALL IN ONE YEAR—
ALL IN THIS BIG, BUOYANT BUICK

Flight Pitch Dynaflow* — Lets you switch the pitch a million ways for exact power delivery at every phase of travel — gives smooth, instant response.

B-12000 Engine — Up to 10 to 1 in compression, and with 12,000 pounds of thrust behind every piston's power stroke. Most modern engine possible to build for today's fuels.

Miracle Ride plus Buick Air-Poise Suspension* — You ride on four self-levelizing columns of compressed air — stay on a constant level, regardless of passenger load or road conditions.

Sparkling Fresh Styling — From wide-sweeping Dynastar Grille to steepled tail towers, this is the bold face of fashion for '58.

Air-Cooled Aluminum Brakes — Heavier-lined, extra-powerful brakes with 45 radial fins that fan in cooling air. Smoother, more positive braking and longer lining-life. (Standard on most models.)

Magnificent Changes Through and Through — "Velvet wall" sound silencing, hidden exhausts, center-of-percussion vibration control, ball-joint handling — plus many others!

The Proxy Murder

By ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Copyright 1957

THE STORY SO FAR: Jerry Conway is alarmed by an advertising campaign Gifford Farrell, a discharged employe, is conducting to obtain proxies and oust Conway at a stockholders' meeting. In a mysterious telephone call a woman calling herself Rosalind offers to supply Conway with a list of the proxies Farrell has acquired. Though he suspects a trap, Conway agrees to follow directions. Asking the hotel clerk for a message for Gerald Boswell, he obtains a key to a hotel suite for the meeting, but instead of finding Rosalind there's a young woman scantily attired with a mud pack on her face. She points a gun at Conway, which he takes away from her. Since the gun has been fired recently, Conway suspects a frame-up and calls Perry Mason, attorney. Mason and Paul Drake, detective, go to the hotel room and find a woman murdered. Mason traps Evangeline Farrell into admitting she is Rosalind. She is divorcing Gifford and wants to help Conway, to protect her own investment in the company. Farrell must have given Conway the telephone directions that trapped him. Farrell is having an affair with Rose Calvert, a secretary. Mrs. Farrell obtains carbons of the proxy list from Rose's wastebasket. Mason calls on Rose Calvert's husband, and learns Rose has left him and wants a divorce. Then Mason tells him his wife was involved in a tragedy.

CHAPTER 17

"It wasn't an automobile accident," Perry Mason said. "It was murder."

"Murder!" Calvert gasped.

"Someone killed her."

For several long seconds Calvert sat absolutely motionless. Then his mouth twitched downward at the corners. He hastily took another drag on his cigarette, said, "Are you sure, Mr. Mason?"

"I'm not absolutely sure," Mason said, "but I think the body I saw was that of your wife."

"Can you tell me about it?"

"She was in the Redfern Hotel, lying on a bed. She was wearing a blue sweater, sort of a robin's egg blue, and a skirt to match."

Calvert said, "That sweater was a Christmas present from last Christmas. She likes tight-fitting sweaters. She's proud of her figure. It's a good one."

Mason nodded.

"Have they got the person who . . . who did it?"

"No, I don't think so."

Calvert said, "She was pretty well tied up with this Farrell — She was afraid of Mrs. Farrell."

"Why?"

AFRAID OF HER

"I don't know. I think Mrs. Farrell had threatened her at one time. I know she was afraid of her."

"You had separated for good?" Mason asked.

"I never really gave up. I thought she'd come to her senses and come back. That's why I came down here. At present, I'm running this filling station. I've got a chance to buy a store here. I think there's a good living in it, but I'm a man who goes at things like that pretty cautiously.

"I don't act on impulse. I wanted to look this place over at first hand. The service station I have is right next door to the store. I think maybe I'll buy it—How can I find out for sure about my wife?"

"Someone will probably be in touch with you within a short time if the body is that of your wife," Mason said. "It's hard to make an identification from photographs."

Calvert pinched out the cigarette. "How did you happen to come here?" he asked. "How did you find me?"

Mason said, "There's a letter in the mailbox at her house. It had your address on the upper lefthand corner. I had to see some photographs. I thought perhaps you'd have them."

"You saw . . . saw the body?"

Mason nodded.

Calvert said, "I hadn't heard from her for six weeks I guess. Then she wrote to me and told me she wanted to go to Reno and get a divorce."

"Did she say that she and Farrell were planning on getting married?"

"No, she just said she wanted a divorce. She said that she could establish residence in Reno and get a divorce without any trouble if I'd cooperate."

"What did she mean by 'cooperate?'"

"She wanted me to file an appearance of some sort. It seems if I get an attorney and appear in court to contest the action they can get around a lot of red tape in serving summons and save a lot of delay. She said she was willing to pay for the attorney."

"And what did you tell her?" Mason asked.

"I told her that I'd cooperate if she was sure that was what she wanted," Calvert said, "and then I've been thinking things over and—well, I just about decided to change my mind. When you came down here and got me up out of a sound sleep, I was mad! I made up my mind I wasn't going to fall all over myself fixing it so she could get tied up with this man Farrell. He's a fourflusher, a woman chaser,—and he's just no good!"

"Do you have the letter which your wife wrote?" Mason asked.

"I have it," Calvert said. "Just a minute."

He kicked off the blanket, walked into the bedroom again, came back with an envelope which he handed to Mason.

The lawyer shook the letter out of the envelope, read:

"Dear Norton,

"There's no reason why either of us should go on this way. We're both young, and we may as well have our freedom. We've made a mistake which has cost us a lot of heartaches, but there's no reason for it to ruin our lives.

I'm going to Reno and get a divorce. They tell me that, if you will get a lawyer and make an appearance in Reno, that will save me a lot of time and a lot of money in having the case brought to trial.

"So why not be a sport and give me a break? You don't want a wife who isn't living waith you, and I don't want to be tied up by marriage. That's not fair to me and it isn't doing you any good.

'SORRY I HURT YOU'

"I'm sorry I hurt you so much. I've said this to lots of people and I'll keep on saying it: You are one of the most thoughtful, considerate husbands a girl could ask for. You're sweet and patient and understanding. I'm sorry that I couldn't have been a better wife to you, but after all each person has to live his own life. Now be a sport and let me make a clean break, so we can both begin all over.

"Yours, Rose"

Calvert began twisting his fingers nervously. "I just can't seem to picture her as being dead, Mr. Mason. She's so full of life and vitality — You're sure?"

"No," Mason told him, "I'm not sure. But I think the woman I saw was your wife. She was blonde with blue eyes, and she was wearing this blue sweater which just about matched her eyes. The eyes were only partially open, and — well, you know how it is with a dead person.

"Sometimes it's hard to make a positive identification from photographs, but I think I'm right."

"What was she doing at the Redfern Hotel?"

"I don't know."

"How does Gifford Farrell figure in this?"

"I don't know that. I don't even know that he figures in it."

Calvert said with considerable feeling, "Well, you can bet your bottom dollar he figures in it somewhere. —I guess I could have got along without Rose all right if I'd felt she was being happy with somebody, but this . . . this thing — it just sort of knocks me for a loop."

Mason nodded sympathetically.

Abruptly Calvert got up. "I'm sorry, Mr. Mason. You've got the information you want and I . . . well, I'm just not able to keep on talking. I feel all chocked up. I guess I'm going to take it pretty hard. I tried to pretend that I could get along without her, but I always had a feeling she was coming back, and . . . Just pull the door closed when you leave."

Calvert threw the blanket into crumpled ball on the floor, walked back hurriedly to the bedroom, kicked the door shut.

The house grew silent.

Mason switched out the lights, and felt his way to the door. Behind him, he could hear harsh, convulsive sobs coming from the other side of the bedroom door.

Air Force Uses New Missiles

B47 Bomber Arrives in Florida Carrying 'Rascal' Rocket

PINECASTLE AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—The new rocket powered air to surface guided missile, Rascal, went into operation officially with the Air Force yesterday.

A B47 jet bomber landed here with one of the 32-foot-long, four-foot diameter missiles slung beneath its wings.

The arrival marked formal delivery to the Strategic Air command (SAC) of the new weapon, the first air-to-ground missile assigned to combat wing.

This was the first public showing of the Bell Aircraft Co. GAM-63 Rascal in position, ready for launching. The Air Force said previous displays merely have shown the Rascal at rest on a stand.

The delivery also marked the end of the research and development testing phase for the weapon. B47 crews stationed here already have started training in the handling of the Rascal, although it has not yet been announced which wing and base will be the first to get this equipment.

The Air Force announced earlier this week that the Rascal, capable of carrying an atomic or hydrogen warhead, had scored direct hits in four firing tests within the past five weeks.

The missile was fired long range—the exact distance a secret but it was described as miles—from a B47 over a New Mexico test range at a ground target with a radius of only 1,500 feet.

The Rascal was put into operation in connection with the opening of the week-long annual SAC bombing, navigation and reconnaissance competition.

Hitler's SS Troops Seek Recognition

KARLBURG, Germany — Ten thousand of Hitler's former S.S. troops — the men who carried out some of the worst atrocities of the Nazi regime — met recently in Karlburg, Germany, seeking recognition by the present Government as "true soldiers."

They cheered and stamped as one of their former generals, Kurt Meyer, said: "It is now an historic fact that we were simply soldiers — nothing else. It is ridiculous that anybody should continue to contest it." Every year since the war they have met, but there were twice as many this year.

Their second aim, Meyer said, is to get the right to join the new German Army with their old rank. The size of this rally and the extent of sympathy being shown to the S.S. men by other Germans is amazing to many people. They meet with the blessing of the Ministry of the Interior.

Turkey's location gives it control of an important waterway, the channel which is the outlet of the Black Sea. For many years, European powers have struggled to control Turkey and the Black Sea.

New Guinea is composed of more than 600 islands. Lying near the equator, its climate is hot and wet throughout the year. It is a trust territory administered by Australia.

Bob Considine Says:

North Korean Joined Freedom Fighters

NEW YORK (INS) — An engineer student named Zang Gi Hong, who is on his roundabout way back to Korea, dropped by the office the other day to say hello. He said it in Hungarian.

We answered him in perfect English and then, through a pretty Hungarian girl who served as interpreter, he told a story of dislocation that is hard to top.

STARTED IN KOREA

It started at a little place named On Can Li for above the 38th parallel in Korea in November of 1950. Gen. MacArthur's United Nations forces were moving swiftly toward the Yalu. The North Korean armies were offering only token resistance, though now and then they made a stand. One of these was at On Can Li, the hometown of Zang Gi Hong, a North Korean private.

U.S. planes gave them a hard time, then a South Korean division struck. Zang Gi Hong was wounded in the leg and taken north. In a hospital near the Manchurian border, as the Red Chinese swarmed down and pushed back the MacArthur forces, somebody unraveled enough red tape to discover that Zang Gi Hong was an embryo chemical engineer.

So when he was able to walk, the North Korean Army, which seems to have operated like most armies, sent him into civil enginering work — repairing bridges instead of dabbling with test tubes and formulae. Thus he served until the end of hostilities.

WON SCHOLARSHIP

In 1954 he and about 200 other young North Koreans were peremptorily told they had "won scholarships." They were shipped off to various parts of the communist world for further training.

Zang Gi Hong wound up at Budapest Technical University, living in a dormitory filled with boys from Poland, Bulgaria, Rumania, Albania and other satellites. He overcame the colossal language barrier, for the textbooks and lectures were all in Hungarian, and settled down to life under communism in another part of the world.

He says he found it no different than life under communism in North Korea. He still had to study Marx and Lenin, only now in Hungarian in addition to his engineering work.

Zang Gi Hong had long experienced a deep-seated but difficult to pin-point suspicion of communism. But there was no chance to express it until just a year ago when the fight for freedom in Hungary fanned to a flame among the students. In one wild hour the placid young men from the satellites were armed with guns turned out by the famous arms works at Csepel, and were in the streets.

Zang Gi Hong found himself a leader for the simple reason that he was about the only student in his dormitory who knew anything about the weapons.

He organized street barricades, window snipers, a system of combatting the Russian tanks—when they'd come. It was training he had received from Russian instructors in North Korea.

FORCED TO FLEE

But in time he, as did many others, had to flee or join the 30,000 Hungarians who gave up their lives to the cause.

There are faces that can blend into the facelessness of a crowd, and then there are faces like Zang Gi Hong's Korean countenance. Spiriting him out of Hungary was sheer high adventure.

His Hungarian girl friend, Edith Alker, and another young couple started out together. One of the foursome had relatives in Monson-Magyarovar, a little place near the Austrian border. Fast letters and wire were exchanged, inviting him to visit them "and bring along your Korean friend."

Gifts were bought and gift-wrapped gaudliy, and off they went through thousands of secret police and Russian troops. The letters and the packages gave them a reason to be traveling westward, for Monson-Magyarovar lay in that direction.

At last, after one guide refused to get them across the border because they had no money, two boys took them across. They'd run a few yards, hit the dirt as a searchlight wheeled over them, run a few more yards, hit the dirt, and so on and on for most of eight terrible miles. But at last there was freedom.

It took the International Rescue Committee 11 months to get the Korean to this country. After a "crash" course in English he'll resume his training as a civil engineer and return to Korea. "South Korea, that is," his interpreter said with a sigh of relief.

Iowan Noted as 'Father of Railroad Safety'

DES MOINES — The "father of railroad safety" was Lorenzo Coffin, an Iowan who concluded in 1880 that air brakes and automatic couplers should be standard equipment on all locomotvies and cars.

He badgered congressmen, urged railroad presidents, spoke on street corners, wrote articles—and in 1889 got a rail-safety bill through the Iowa Legislature.

Film to Show How New Guinea Tamed

PORT MORESBY, Australia — To show how Australia's Administration in Papua-New Guinea operates to tame and educate people of the Southern Highlands, a 25 mm. color film has been shot, Port Moresby learns.

It is one of a series being made to illustrate the human and physical problems encountered in this phase of the Administration's work. It shows how contact is made with primitive groups and includes sequences dealing with the work of a European Medical Assistant accompanying a patrol.

Making of the new film was hailed by "old hands" as a good thing to counteract another, "Walk Into Paradise," which they said was poorly done and "left a bad taste."

The world's highest suspension bridge spans the Royal Gorge of the Arkansas River west of Canon City, Colo. It is 1,053 feet above the river; was constructed in 1929 at a cost of $250,000.

Collared Dog Requires Welder to Free Him

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (UP) — Caesar, a large boxer, got his picture in the paper—and a king-sized headache.

Spotting a piece of metal in a vacant lot, the dog stuck his head in the hole in the center. He couldn't get out. There he stayed all night.

A welder finally released Caesar, after wrapping him in a wet sheet of asbestos to keep the dog from being burned by the blow torch.

Adviser Tells of Aiding Beck

Ex-Labor Consultant to Ike Claims He 'Got Belly Full' of Union

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's 1952 campaign labor adviser disclosed today he served as a $5,000-a-year aide to Teamsters boss Dave Beck from 1953 until "I got my belly full" in 1955.

Merlyn Pitzele, labor editor of "Business Week" magazine and former campaign assistant to both Mr. Eisenhower and former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, said he took the job thinking Beck would create a "better and cleaner" Teamsters Union.

Pitzele told the Senate Rackets Committee that he walked out on Beck in 1955 because of a "growing fester of corruption" in the Teamsters outfit.

He testified also that, during most of the three years, management consultant Nathan Shefferman, linked to a series of union-busting campaigns, served as "my line of communication to Dave Beck."

The articulate witness, a former labor economics professor and prodigious author and lecturer, said he became an adviser to Beck in 1953, shortly after the union boss became president of the giant Teamsters Union.

Pitzele explained that Beck hired him to suggest "how the Teamsters should operate . . . how to clean up the New York waterfronts . . . and what should be done to improve union relations with employers."

Pitzele described Beck as a sort of "white hope" of the labor movement at the time.

Canvass Voting on Hospital Bonds

The official canvass of Monday's $950,000 special hospital bond election was conducted by the City Commission last night.

When the final tally check was made it showed 2,150 voting for the bond issue and 3,530 voting against it.

Prior to the canvass City Clerk Ada R. Evans told commissioners her office was still attempting to uncover why 32 votes in precinct 34 did not register on the voting machine.

The general foreman of the Automatic Voting Machine Corp. said this week it was the first time such an incident has occurred with one of the firm's machines.

Mrs. Evans emphasized that there was no way for the machine to have been tampered with or unlocked during the balloting as the key to the mechanism is held by the clerk's office.

Motorist Killed in Bridge Accident

WINDSOR, Ont. (INS) — One motorist was killed and a second critically injured when their cars crashed at the Windsor end of the Ambassador Bridge in dense fog at 4 a.m. today and hurled one of them to the ground level 45 feet below.

Police said the dead man, Wykoca Witriak, 34, of Windsor, was found in the wreckage.

Walter Sadowski, 34, (of 1647 Balfour) Windsor, who was found draped over a fence 125 feet from the crash and on the gound level, is listed in critical condition at Grace Hospital in Windsor.

Windsor police said Witriak apparently was the driver and failed to negotiate a turn about 150 feet from the Canadian customs

Navy Prepared to Combat Reds

Pacific Fleet Fearful Next Communist Move May Rule Out Military

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (UP)—The Navy's confidence in its ability to crush any new aggression in Asia is tempered by the strong hunch that the manner and place of the next Communist move may rule out American military action.

Both the confidence and the caution are found and voiced in this Pacific command headquarters, which is the nerve center of the American watch on the Asian seaboard.

Voicing the demands for prompt decisive action against aggression were Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, and Adm. Felix Stump, commander in chief of Pacific Ocean area land, sea and air forces. They talked with visiting newsmen in Stump's offices on a hillside overlooking Pearl Harbor.

Stump brushed aside suggestions of timidity, saying: "We are not going to stop aggressions by being afraid to risk war."

Burke, fresh from a prolonged tour of the Western Pacific, put it even more bluntly: "If a nation aggresses, she must be punished fast, and on the spot."

But Stump, who commands a vast array of warships, planes and atomic weapons, also sounded the sobering note that "subversion might get out of hand" and "a Communist coup might occur" in Southeast Asia "before we could do anything about it."

Burke narrowed the more immediate danger areas to the smaller nations which lack strong alliances with the United States. In such places, right now, said Burke, "the Russians are probably figuring how much hell they can raise without getting into too much danger."

A sifting of the great volume of reports coming to Pearl Harbor from many sources in many Asian lands leads to the conclusion that Indonesia is one of the prime targets for Communist control and may be ripe for plucking without a shot.

Dogged by internal dissensions and armed revolts, the government of Indonesia has accepted so many favors from native Communists that the payoff hour may not be far off, these reports indicate.

Can today's fiction become tomorrow's fact? We hope not and so will you, once you've read ON THE BEACH. It's the terrifying story of an atomic World War III. The earth's last survivors await doom in Australia as globe-circling clouds of radioactivity circle nearer and nearer. Here is a story that makes an immediate personal problem out of what many have been unable to accept as even a remote possibility. Now, this newspaper brings you the illustrated story strip adaptation of Nevil Shute's best-selling novel . . . ON THE BEACH. It's truly a shocking story. Soon you'll know why people are saying this story must be told . . . that this is a story everyone should read.

Flood Survey Funds Sought

Congressman Pressing Army Engineers for Appropriated $60,000

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Roal Oak) has pressed Army Engineers to make $60,000 available for a flood survey of the Clinton River.

The survey was approved in Washington this spring, but engineers have not budgeted the money yet, Broomfield said.

In a letter to Col. Peter C. Hizer, Detroit District Engineer, Broomfield called the survey "the key to flood control in Oakland and Macomb Counties," and urged that the funds be budgeted.

"Since the survey is already authorized by the House Public Works Committee, all that remains is to make the money available for this project," Broomfield said in the letter.

Broomfield said future drain construction in Oakland County is threatened unless all steps to relieve flooding of the Clinton in Macomb County are taken.

Macomb communities are threatening law suits to block Oakland drains that would use the Clinton as an outlet, Broomfield explained.

The principal project threatened in this way, is the proposed $41,000,000 Twelve Town drain, which already has been tied up two years by a law suit.

"Any further litigation against the Twelve Town project would probably mean that citizens in South Oakland County will continue for years to have flooded basements every time there is a heavy rain," Broomfield said.

Drunk Drives Boat

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A salesman has been convicted of drunken driving — in a motorboat. Municipal Judge Charles Smith placed James Awalt, 31, on one year probation and gave him this advice: When you drink, don't drive your motorboat.

Will Travel to MSU

DETROIT (AP) — More than 300 civic, business, industrial, labor and farm leaders of the Detroit metropolitan area are expected to ride a special train to Michigan State University Nov. 26 as part of National Farm-City Week. They will visit MSU's College of Agriculture.

Births

The County Clerk's office reports the following births of children to Oakland County couples. Only the father's name is used.

RETIREMENT CLOSE AT HAND — Straits ferry "Vacationland" shown as she made one of her last crossings before opening of the Mackinac Bridge. It required 55 minutes for ferries to cross the Straits. Cars can cross in 10 minutes at top allowable speed of 45 miles an hour. State ferries carried 823,169 vehicles across the Straits between Jan. 1 and Oct. 19 this year and grossed $3,076,379.50. For all of 1956 they carried 890,671 vehicles and grossed $3,311,142. Even so, the ferries operated at a loss to the State Highway Department.

Firm Official Discusses Marlette Water Meters

MARLETTE — At the regular council meeting of the village here Earl Smit of the Badger Meter Co., was present to discuss meters necessary to complete the metering of all users of water in Marlette.

It was voted the village purchase 125 meters for immediate shipment, which will be enough to finish metering all present users.

Mother of 3 Killed in Auto Accident

DETROIT (AP)—A mother of three was killed yesterday in an auto accident that police said followed a family argument.

Killed was Mrs. May Brewster, 42, of Detroit.

Mrs. Jean Johnston, 19, Mrs. Brewster's daughter, told police that her mother and stepfather, Lawrence Brewster, 33, had argued.

According to Mrs. Johnston Brewster left the house and got into the family car. Mrs. Brewster grabbed the steering wheel and was dragged alongside when Brewster accidentally hit the accelerator with his foot. She was dead on arrival at Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital.

No charges were placed against Brewster.

Gunman Given Life Sentence

Was on Shooting Spree That Claimed Lives of 2 State Troopers

VERNON, Ind. (AP)—A 26-year-old Texan, one of two gunmen accused in a shooting spree that left state troopers dead in Michigan and Indiana, has been sentenced to life imprisonment on a charge of kidnaping.

Circuit Judge Fred Matthews sentenced Victor W. Whitley over the objections of prosecutor Harry McCalla. McCalla said a first degree murder indictment against Whitley in adjoining Scott County had precedence.

McCalla filed a motion for postponement of sentence pending Whitley's trial in Scott County where trooper William Kellam was slain.

Judge Mattews overruled the postponement motion and Whitley was taken to the Michigan City State Prison.

Whitley and his partner, Ralph Taylor, 36, of Kenova, W. Va., were accused in the shooting Oct. 1 in Michigan in which a Michigan State Trooper was killed. The pair fled to Indiana where Taylor was killed in a gun battle with police. Three police officers were injured in the battle.

Whitley was charged specifically with kidnaping Jennings County Deputy Sheriff Clyde Perkins during the gun fighting in Indiana and holding him for ransom.

Star of Canton Fades

BALTIMORE (AP) — They call it the "Star of Canton," and it's going out for the first time since the early 1940s.

The brilliant jet of falme has burned beside a 225-foot tower of a refinery in the Canton section of the city. Fuel manufacturing processes are being stopped at the plant now, and the "star" will burn no more.

Keego Man Fined $100

Carter J. Granthan, of 2101 Willow Beach, Keego Harbor, was found guilty in Pontiac Municipal Court yesterday of drunk driving. Judge Cecil B. McCallum fined him $100 or 20 days. Granthan said he will appeal the verdict to circuit court.

Traffic Death Toll 128 in September

EAST LANSING (AP) — Final reports show that 128 persons were killed and 5,049 were injured in 14,571 traffic accidents in Michigan in September, state police said today.

The death toll was 41 lower than the 169 persons killed during the same month last year and was the lowest September total since 1946 when 123 persons were killed.

State police reported that 1,090 persons were killed and 43,060 injured in 138,983 accidents during the first nine months of the year.

This was a reduction from the same period last year of 16 per cent in deaths, two per cent in injuries and three per cent in total accidents.

Can't Go to Moscow for Celebration

Tito's Lumbago Timely?

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Yugoslav President Marshal Tito's lumbago, or "oh, my aching back," is so acute that he will not go to Moscow next week.

Belgrade's announcement says he is unable to travel abroad for a few months. This automatically means he will not show up for the "summit" conference of confused Red leaders celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution Nov. 7.

Tito will depend on party aides to fill him in on just what happened in the case of Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov.

The decision to remove Zhukov from the defense ministry apparently was taken while Zhukov was visiting Tito in Yugoslavia and giving him the latest on the "power picture" at home.

All the reasons behind the slap at Zhukov are not known, but his removal is evidence of a conflict in party and military ranks, topped by the specter of a return to Stalinism.

When Zhukov arrived in Belgrade Oct. 8 at the start of an eight-day good-will mission, he spoke with pride of Soviet equipment.

He said the Soviet armed forces were equipped with the "latest first-class arms, including atomic and hydrogen weapons" and that they also had "the most complex radar, jet and rocket techniques."

Zhukov said that the recently disclosed Intercontinental Ballistic Missile came within this framework. The launching of the earth satellite, he said, was "a most important contribution to world science and is a necessary link in the chain of the greatest achievements of the Soviet people."

PEOPLE, NOT PARTY

The key words might be "Soviet people," since he did not credit the Communist Party, and since reports from Moscow have told of Zhukov's resistance to party interference in the military.

Tito's lumbago may be worse, but it is generally assumed that this is a diplomatic illness. The degrading of Zhukov may force him to reappraise his idea about the policies and objectives of Soviet Party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

Khrushchev had represented himself as a stalwart anti-Stalinist after the dictator's death and actively wooed Tito. The latter was the one satellite leader who defied Stalin when the master purger was alive, back in 1948. Now Tito must have second thoughts about Khrushchev.

Another reason why Tito does not want to go to Moscow at this time is the fact that there is a threat of U.S. curtailment of economic and military aid. This threat arose after Tito's crab-wise sign of returning to the Moscow side, including his diplomatic recognition of Communist-ruled East Germany.

Fire Chief Sees Red Because of Sign Error

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — Chief Bob Hardin and his fire laddies busied themselves recently making some rustic signs for the city hall grounds; signs saying "entry," "exit" and such.

The signs are carefully made by cutting letters in wood with an electric router and then emblazoning eh fire chief's embarrassment when he discovered that the sign so carefully made for the front of the fire station had his name spelled "Hadin" instead of Hardin.

High Fever Follies...A Sure Success

By MARGARET BROWN

If the High Fever Follies audience enjoys this year's production just half as much as members of the cast are enjoying participating in it, the annual parade of local talent is certain to be a real "smash," borrowing from Broadway's vernacular.

Written and directed by William W. Merrill of Will-O-Way Playhouse, the musical comedy features a unique mixture of musical selections ranging from the Hawaiian flavored "Moon of Manakoora" to a zesty "hillbilly" version of "Oh, What a Little Moonshine Can Do." Moonshine, you see, is the chief product of the green cheese satellite.

TO OUTER SPACE!

Special numbers begin to pass in full review as soon as the space ship embarks for outer space, manned by a crew of reporters, and a scientist whose lovely daughter - secretary, of course, has stowed away, adding romantic interest to the plot.

A male quartet, a trio, tap and ballet numbers, and a high flying dance performed on a trampoline to illustrate the moon's small gravitational force, will be among the many novelty acts presented to the audience.

Tom Montgomery will be at the organ for both the Nov. 6 and 7 performances.

Highlighting the evening's activities will be the crowning of "Miss Moonglow" by Carl I. Flath, director of Pontiac General Hospital. The sparkling lass, who's being selected by the "penny a vote" method, represents various clubs and organizations throughout Pontiac.

CIRCLE THESE DATES

So here again are the dates to circle on your calendar, Nov. 6 and 7. The place, Pontiac High School. Box office opens at 8:30 p.m.

For an evening of sheer enjoyment plus the added interest of seeing familiar faces cavorting behind the footlights be sure to be on hand for this year's follies, presented by the Pontiac General Hospital Auxiliary.

Sets Up 3rd Camp Fire Leader Unit

Session Scheduled by Local Council to Meet Growth

Junior Camp Fire Girls, the Bluebirds, have had so many new groups organized that a third training session has been scheduled by the local council. Meetings will be every Tuesday morning from 9:15 to 11 a.m. Nov. 5 through Dec. 10.

Through these courses new or prospective leaders will learn how to meet the needs of girls, teaching of indoor and outdoor creative arts, story telling, singing, dancing and dramatics.

The Daisy Blue Birds met for a hayride at the Ivory Polo Grounds Oct. 17. Their new officers are Patricia Short, president; Alma Julian, vice-president; and Rita Tate, secretary.

Gloria Bernegecki, treasurer, and Yvonne Pruett, scribe, complete the officer roster. Their Halloween party was held at the home of their leader, Mrs. Ted Julian on Paddock street.

The Tekawitha Camp Fire Girls' activities have included babysitting for parents going to voting polls, distributing publicity posters for the Pontiac Symphony and sponsoring a cookout at Bald Mountain. Square dancing and sports have been planned as winter activities.

Wever Is Scene of Halloween Party

Wever school children and their parents gathered in the school gym Thursday evening for a Halloween party.

Featured on the program were a costume parade for the family couples, and various age groups, and prizes for the prettiest, most original and funniest costumes and the best story book character.

Refreshments were served by the Wever - Owen - Hawthorne Community Club.

It's Not Fair to Expect Child, 6, to Look Like 8

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

Nancy was six just in time to enter first grade in the fall. But Nancy looked at least eight, that is if you didn't look very closely. She was big, she weighed 75 pounds and was 4 feet tall. She towered above everyone else in her class, boys as well as girls.

If you took a close look at her face you realized she was not, as old as her size suggested. Her face was round with the babyish curves one sees in the young child. She hadn't begun to lose any of her first teeth. But you did have to observe carefully. Most people just assumed that Nancy was at least two years older than she really was.

It's hard enough to grow up in our complicated society, and it takes time to learn how to do, to feel, to act the way we are supposed to. It's not fair to expect a 6-year-old to be like an 8-year-old. She's had two years experience and you just can't skip over two important years.

People constantly made remarks about Nancy:

"What, a big girl like you, and you don't know your letters?"

POOR NANCY

And so on; poor Nancy, the world seemed to expect her to act older than she really was.

The constant repetition of such disparaging remarks cannot help but make a child feel inadequate and not much good.

Fortunately for Nancy the important people in her life understood her. Both her parents were big, tall people who had lived through these experiences themselves. Mrs. King was 5-foot-10 and Mr. King 6-foot-4. They knew all the disadvantages of being too tall. Before Nancy entered first grade they'd had a long talk with both the teacher and the principal. The school accepted Nancy for what she was — a little 6-year-old girl. They treated her as they did all the other 6-year-olds and didn't assume she should know more than the others or be able to act more maturely than they.

THOUGHTLESS ADULTS

So long as Nancy feels comfortable at home and at school she will probably be able to weather the remarks of other children and of casual adults. It's too bad that so many adults make remarks to and about children that can do so much harm. So many people are free with their criticisms even when they do not know the facts they are criticizing. We have to try to give our children the strength and confidence not to be hurt by the remarks of unthinking adults.

It's always hard on a child to be different from others. If she is just big like Nancy there is nothing that anyone can do to make her smaller, but we can in her important contacts minimize her difference and make her feel she is competent and able.

Philoptohos Picks Slate of Officers

An installation of officers was held by Philoptohos Society of St. George Greek Orthodox Church Tuesday evening in Hellenic Hall.

Installed as president was Mrs. Nick Thomas, with Mrs. George Mitchell as vice president. Other officers installed were Mrs. Chris Stevens, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Nichols, recording secretary, and Mrs. Paul Mitchell, corresponding secretary.

Committee chairmen appointed were Mrs. Mitchell, visiting; Mrs. Eftim Gabriel, altar, and Mrs. Nick Papatheodore, publicity.

Appointed to represent the club in the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs were Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Papatheodore.

Queen Mary Section Meets, Elects Officers

Mrs. Harvie Little opened her Wall Street home Thursday for election of officers for Queen Mary Section of Needlework Guild. Mrs. Charles Clarke was named president while Mrs. Andrew McKerrow will serve as vice president and Mrs. John Gemmell as secretary.

Completing the list are: Mrs. Henry Milligan, treasurer; Mrs. George Bickley, historian; Mrs. Alex Joss, knitting chairman and Mrs. Little and Mrs. David Bickerstaff, welfare committee.

Mrs. Milligan was named chairman of a coffee hour to be held at the Nov. 14 Ingathering.

DeMolay Mothers Hold Coffee Hour

DeMolay Mothers' Club held a coffee Tuesday at the Oriole road home of Mrs. Roy Wilton, vice president.

Mrs. Arthur Thomas, president, assisted the hostess. Plans were made for the cooperative dinner to be held Nov. 7 at 6:30 in the Masonic Temple on East Lawrence street.

"One to wash and one to wear" say the three new members of Pontiac Branch of Needlework Guild, Inc. Buying shirts and pajamas for children are Mrs. William D. Abersold (left to right) of Ross drive, Mrs. John H. Gibson of South Ascot street and Mrs. Donald A. Deeter of Exmoor street. They are preparing for the annual Ingathering Nov. 14 at First Presbyterian Church.

WASHINGTON — Like most homemakers, the government's Institute of Home Economics welcomes visitors to its laboratories at the U. S. Agricultural Research Center in nearby Maryland.

The institute's main job is to find facts about such things as nutrition, textiles, housing and household equipment for passing along to teachers, who in turn pass them to prospective homemakers. However, it receives a steadily increasing influx of visitors.

4,000 VISITORS

Mrs. Zelta Rodenwold, consultant on international programs and herself a home economist, estimates that more than 4,000 persons visited the institute during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957.

Some 763 were from 67 different foreign countries from A (Argentina) to Y (Yugoslavia).

The remainder came from all but one (Rhode Island) of the states, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and the District of Columbia.

Homemakers were the largest group, Home economics students, extension workers, teachers, engineers and builders were next.

MANY OCCUPATIONS

Mrs. Rodenwold figures that more than 60 occupations or professions were included in the folks she and her assistants guided through the laboratories.

There were also agricultural ambassadors and architects, bio-chemists, physicians, nurses, dieticians, accountants, members of the armed forces, bus drivers, geneticists, 4-H groups, businessmen, international foreign exchange students, members of the British Parliament, retired folks and soil conservationists.

"We are pleased to have them pay us a visit," says Mrs. Rodenwold, "but we like to have them write or call ahead of time. We don't like to have folks just drop in, any more than any homemaker."

OVERALL PICTURE

Most visitors want to get an overall picture of home economics research and the material and instruments with which the experts work.

Witch Gives Party for 72 Children

Prizes Awarded for Jewelry, Costumes at Pontiac YMCA

"Wacky", the YMCA's witch gave a Halloween party for 72 boys and girls at the YMCA Building Thursday.

Highlighting the evening was costume judging. Winner for the best costume in the girls division was Pamela Clancy, a gypsy. Runnerup Donna Rofe appeared as a Christmas package. In the boys' division Paul Sherrod placed first dressed as a little girl; he also was awarded the prize for the best costume of the evening. Robert Fink placed second, dressed as a bartender.

In the girl's division Lynda Mann and Carol Rose, who portrayed a set of twins, and Marilyn Webber as an old lady were runners-up. Boy runners-up were Bob Tate as an old farmer, Bobby Tricker, a hobo, and Dale Quinn, hunchback.

Arthur Mann, physical director of the "Y" narrated an original spook story "The Hairy Hand." A spook house was provided by the Phalanx Club.

The annual affair was under the direction of John J. Moreau, youth director.

This cuffed neckline sweater is perfect for the fast-approaching holidays. It can be worn with a matching fill-in scarf of chiffon. Sleeves are three-quarter length and the slipover can be worn in or out of skirts of varied silhouettes.

Your Wares Must Appeal to You

By ANNE HEYWOOD

I once met a researcher for a very successful interview type of daytime television show and asked him how he decided who to have on the show.

He was in charge of lining up guests, and invariably had good ones in the days when most such shows were boring hodgepodges.

What was his criterion, what common denominator did his guests have?

INTERESTING TO HIM

"Oh, that's easy," he answered quickly. "If they are interesting to me, I put them on. If they aren't interesting to me, I don't.

"Every time I kid myself that the person who bores me might still be interesting to the public, I find I'm wrong. It's not a very scientific way, maybe, but it works for me!"

The same thing is true in many vocational areas.

If you're opening a dress shop, it is better to stock things that appeal to you. Then you'll attract the kind of customer who has your kind of taste and you'll all get along fine.

WHAT 'THEY' WANT

But if you try to buy what you think "they" might want, you'll soon be selling those things at your own going-out-of-business sale.

So if you're making aprons, cakes or leather belts at home for sale, be sure to make the kind you like. If you like them, they'll sell to people like you, and you'll understand your market and thrive.

But no matter how many people you figure might be willing to buy orange cupcakes, for example, if you hate orange cupcakes, you'll be unsuccessful.

The reason is that part of success — a large part of it — is the fond look you bestow on the merchandise as you discuss it, quote prices on it, and even wrap it up! That feeling rubs off on the customers and they feel they've bought something special.

On the other hand, if you show your wares with a subconscious feeling of "Ugh, this junk," you'll get that idea across and you'll fail.

That's why one of the first steps in starting a home project is to find out what you, personally, like and find interesting.

After that it will be time enough to figure purchasing techniques, how to get customers, how to figure prices, et cetera.

For pointers along these lines, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you "Pointers to Finding Your Basic Interest."

Wood-Steel Fence Used for Homes

Styled for privacy in the western pattern for outdoor living, the newest in fencing combines redwood with steel chain link.

Rustic redwood pickets are woven in the steel links for a lacing that provides protection from strong winds yet doesn't block air circulation.

The steel eleiminates the need for braces and supports of conventional wood fences. Both sides of the new fence present a trim appearance for landscaping.

Laundered Woolens Discourage Moths

When closing up your summer home for the winter, be sure to store all bedding, clothing and other fabrics in a dry place. Inspect the fabrics and spray them for insects. Then, store the items where insects cannot get at them.

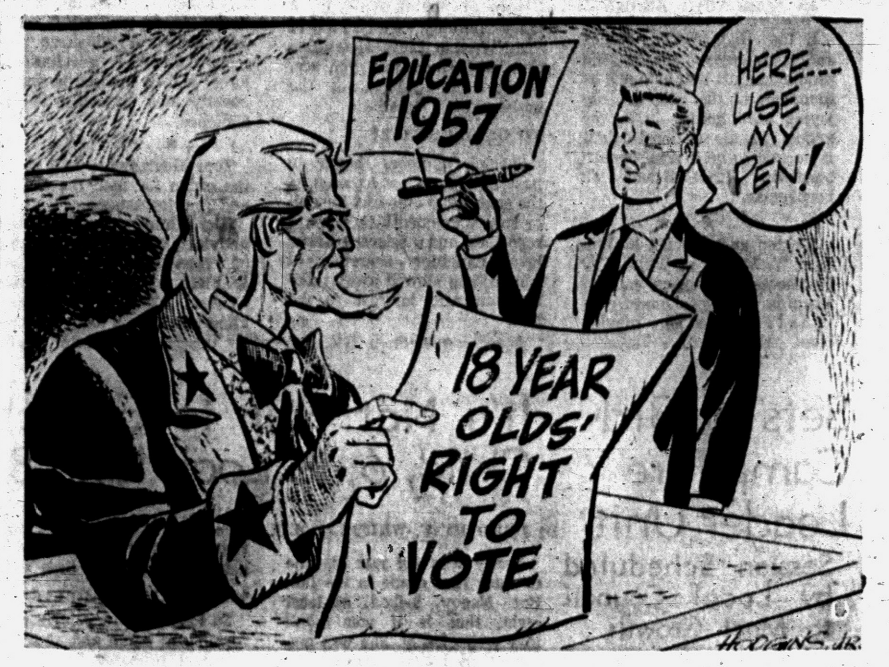

For surer protection against moths and insects, have the woolens laundered before storing them, since moths do not favor clean woolens as much as dirty ones. In addition, the woolens will be ready for immediate use next season.

Find Holes in Fall

When taking down the summer curtains and draperies for Fall house-cleaning, be sure to examine them for holes and tears, especially along the seams and curtain rods. Minor tears are more easily repaired and the "Stitch in time saves nine" adage should be followed before curtains and draperies are sent out to be laundered.

Teens Favor 18-Year-Olds Voting

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Should the voting age be lowered from 21 to 18? This question has been kicking around in civic and political circles for more than a quarter of a century.

"If we're old enough to fight, we're old enough to vote," was a popular teenaged refrain during World War II and again in the Korean War.

Two states, Georgia and Kentucky, have quietly turned the slogan into legislative action by amending their state constitutions to permit 18-year-olds to vote. In effect, both states have expanded their electorates by broadening the age group.

This could be done because, contrary to popular opinion, the federal Constitution sets no age limits on voting. So far, not enough elections have taken place in the two states to determine what influence minor-age voters can have on the outcome of an election.

Teenagers across the country are overwhelmingly—almost unanimously — in favor of having the remaining 46 states join Kentucky and Georgia in passing similar constitutional amendments.

MATURE ENOUGH

More than 98 per cent of the young people we contacted in a nationwide survey feel that at 18 a citizen is mature enough and educated enough to take an active, voting role in government.

Even though the draft continues, teenagers no longer base their main arguments on the "old enough to fight" slogan. Now their refrain seems to be "if we're smart enough to graduate from high school, then we're smart enough to vote."

In fact, if teenagers had their way age barriers to voting would be dropped to 18 but literacy requirements would be tightened to include educational prerequisites, something that no state now requires.

The fact that these young people put a high premium on education as a necessary preliminary step to voting may be unrealistic and would have the effect of disenfranchising a considerable segment of the electorate, but at least it demonstrates their belief that voting is a serious business.

Opponents of lowering the voting age to 18 have long argued that teenagers are too frivolous, too immature, too concerned with less important matters to be allowed a direct voice in government.

OPPOSITE REASONS

Teenagers contacted in our survey thought they should be permitted to vote at 18 for exactly the opposite reasons.

At 18, they argue, a young citizen is closer to his civics books training, has learned a good deal about national and foreign affairs and is more prepared to vote intelligently than someone who has been away from school for a long time.

Almost all of the teenagers taking part in this survey—99 per cent of the boys and 94 per cent of the girls—were insistent that education be added to the literacy requirements now written into the voting laws of most states.

How much education should a citizen have in order to be allowed to vote?

At least a high school diploma, answered 74 per cent of the boys and girls who favored educational requirements.

At least a grammar school education, answered 18 per cent.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

Finally, 8 per cent went so far as to insist that college education be required for voting. In effect, of course, they thereby eliminated themselves from the prospective voting rolls and kicked the voting age back up again to at least 21.

It is interesting to note that in plugging for an 18-year-old voting law, teenagers would willingly give equal opportunity to both boys and girls.

They were unanimous (we didn't count a single adverse vote) in the belief that if the federal Constitution is amended to include the 18 to 21-year-old group it should not be done at the expense of the 19th Amendment, which gave the vote to women.

In other words, both teenaged boys and girls should be extended the voting privilege. They do not regard boys as smarter, more mature or more responsible citizens than girls—at least as far as voting goes.

What sort of voters would teenagers make? Would they be conservative or liberal? Isolationist or internationalist? Democrat or Republican?

TOO FEW ELECTIONS

As we have already noted, neither Georgia nor Kentucky have held sufficient elections since expanding their voting age group to determine the nature and effect of the teenaged vote.

But from previous surveys made by our organization some sort of pattern emerges showing how the teenager thinks and reacts to national issues.

For instance, in previous studies we learned that the average teenager—if there is such a person — is apt to be pro-labor but highly concerned over recent labor scandals.

He is overwhelmingly in favor of the United Nations but doesn't know too much about its functions and operation.

In the last election he would have voted for Eisenhower and probably is still heavily inclined toward the President, since Eisenhower on more than one occasion has gone on record favoring a lowering of the voting age.

AWARE OF PROBLEMS

On other issues, he is worried about the age of atomic warfare, concerned about his future job security, irritated by high taxes, cognizant of the problem known as juvenile delinquency (although he refuses to take the rap for it), divided on the issues of universal military training and foreign aid, and in general opposed to socialized medicine, dope peddlers, and a teenaged curfew.

In short, the teenaged voter sounds hardly less informed or more controversial than any voter at any age.

QUESTIONS ASKED IN THIS SURVEY:

1. Should the voting age be lowered from 21 to 18?
2. Should education be a prerequisite for voting?
3. How much education do you think a person should have in order to be allowed to vote:
   a. be able to read and write
   b. grammar school education
   c. high school diploma
   d. college education.
4. Do you think both boys and girls should be allowed to vote at 18?
   a. boys only?
   b. girls only?

Prevents the Loss of Vitamins

Cook Vegetables in Little Water

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "How are vitamins lost in cooking?"

A. The greatest loss is in the water which some cooks pour off the vegetables. There is also some loss through evaporation, especially in the case of cabbage. We should cook with as little water as possible and then cook dry — or pour no water off. We also lose vitamins when we peel fruit.

Q. "I have your abdominal exercises, but do you know a good exercise to get rid of a spare tire around the middle? I will be watching your column for one."

A. The waist is the easiest spot of all to reduce. This measurement responds to exercise rapidly. Try the two following exercises.

1. Stand tall, feet comfortably separated. Raise the arms sideward, shoulder height. Bend to the left, touching the fingers of the left hand to the floor. Raise the trunk and pull back as your trunk passes across the center of the body and continues to bend right.

Try to touch the fingertips of the right hand to the floor. Raise the trunk and pull back as your trunk crosses the center of the body and you continue on to bend left again. This is a smooth, rolling motion, as you bend from side to side and pull back as the trunk crosses the center line of the body.

2. Again stand tall. This time bend both elbows and place your hands flat on the top of your head, one hand on top of the other. Keep your arms in this position as you bend forward as far as you can. Raise the trunk. Continue. Be SURE to keep the back flat as you bend, and the knees straight.

The waist is the easiest spot of all to reduce.

After a while, with the arms still in this position, bend to the left, raise the trunk and then bend to the right and continue. Take time for the pull when doing these exercises.

Q. "How can fuzz on the face be removed permanently?"

A. I know of no way in which fuzz can be removed permanently, but you can remove it with cosmetic wax. This is temporary.

Q. "How can I make my hair grow faster? I cut it too short and it takes so long for it to grow out."

A. Sorry. You will just have to let nature take its course.

Q. "I have a birthmark on the side of my neck which has caused me much unhappiness. I have tried to no avail to cover it up with cosmetics. If you could tell me of some preparation that will cover it, I would be forever grateful. You cannot know how much it would mean to me."

A. Send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request, and I will send you the information you wish. I do not give trade names in this column.

When, How Does Mom Take Seat?

Bridegroom's Dad Follows Mother Up Church Aisle

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is to be married and I would like to know just when I should be seated in church. Also, is it proper for the mother and father of the bridegroom to walk in together preceded by the usher?"

Answer: You should be seated just ahead of the bride's mother, who is the last one seated. The ideally correct procedure is as follows: The bridegroom's mother goes up the aisle on the arm of the head usher and takes her place in the first pew on the right; the bridegroom's father follows and takes his place beside her.

The same usher returns to the vestibule and immediately escorts the bride's mother, whose appearance should signify the arrival of the bride and her attendants at the church, and no one else can be seated after this.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening I introduced my husband's sister's husband to a friend as 'my brother-in-law.' Later on, my husband called this to my attention and said that I was wrong to have introduced him as such. He maintains that his sister's husband is no relation to me whatsoever.

"He says that his sister is my sister-in-law and her husband is his brother-in-law but that's as far as the relationship goes. We have had a slight disagreement over this and would like you to tell us who is right?"

Answer: Strictly speaking, your husband is right but it has become an accepted "stretching of the truth" to introduce one's husband's brother-in-law as one's own.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When two unmarried couples go to the theater together, is it correct for the two girls to sit next to each other with a man on either side of them, or should the foursome be seated alternately, that is, man, girl, man, girl?"

Answer: They should be seated alternately.

Man, Wife Should Make Plans to Be Partners in Retirement

By BEULAH STOWE

"Almost every man who retires makes the same mistake," says John Burch. "He fails to treat his wife as a full partner in retirement."

Burch served as personnel manager for a retirement-conscious company for 17 years before he reached 65.

He helped set up a retirement counseling program, where the company arranged interviews for employes at age 60, 64 and 65.

The program acquainted them with pension and insurance facts. It also gave them the benefit of all available information on where and how to retire—based largely on the experiences of retired employes.

Male employes were encouraged to bring their wives to the retirement counseling sessions, Burch says. But very few, indeed, were willing to bring their wives.

There was an attitude that the whole thing was embarrassing, that it diminished a man's position. There was a feeling that this was his job, his company, his business contact. His wife did not belong there.

NEEDS HER HELP

"A wife ought to be the backbone of her husband's retirement," Burch believes. "His job, his salary, often his friends, are gone. He needs to prepare for a closer, at-home way of living than he has known before."

Wives not only help a man adjust to retirement, they frequently take matters into their own hands. Wives write to retirement specialists and ask advice for their husbands. They enroll in evening-school classes to learn how to help their husbands retire successfully.

Q—"I am 70 and in good health. I am going to retire at the end of this year and our combined social security will give my wife and me $100 a month. We also have $6,000 in the bank and $20,000 in U.S. bonds. We own our own house, but the taxes and upkeep are pretty high. The house is small and very old, so could not be rented.

"The $100 a month will just about pay our groceries. We will have to use our savings for other expenses, including doctor's bills. Do you think we can make it, or should I get a part-time job?" — Cincinnati, Ohio, reader.

A—If you begin to cash in your bonds to help meet expenses, you might gamble that you would live 20 more years, until age 90, and spend $1,000 a year and be reasonably safe. Even so, you would worry.

Many retired people have found safe investments, through the guidance of a bank or investment counselor, which pay 4 or 5 per cent interest. If you invested your $20,000 at 5 per cent, your dividends would be $1,000 a year—enough to help you pay your bills without using up your principal.

Stay in your house, use the $6,000 bank account for emergencies, and start right now looking for that part-time job. Don't wait until you are retired. You have more to "sell" in yourself as an employed man than you will have as an idle man.

Problem hips belt at the hipbone but do not encircle large hips with wide contrasting belts in the new chemise.

Supple fitted waistline, not "loose and baggy," is where the new relaxed fashions touch the hips in a flattering and unnoticeable way. This is accomplished by seams and partial belts.

School in Colorado Gives Home Tips

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (INS) — Here are some farm and home hints from Colorado State University:

—The greater the turnover of frozen foods in your home freezer, the greater the economy in using this appliance. The freezer should be used more like a "checking account" than for "saving" over a long period.

—Most annual flowers bloom longer and more profusely if old blooms are removed to prevent plants from going to seed.

—"Bite-size" bits of prunes cooked with your breakfast cereal may add welcome variety and make the dish even more nutritious. Soak the prunes overnight in cold water. In the morning they'll be plump and firm, and need only to be cooked until heated through.

½ cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
2 well beaten eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
3½ cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cream of tartar

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and vanilla, then sifted dry ingredients. Mix well. Form into a roll 1½ inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper or foil and chill.

Slice half of the dough and place slices on greased baking sheet. Add one teaspoon date filling and top with another slice of cookie. Press down edges with a fork. Bake 10 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Makes about 5 dozen.

Date Filling

Combine one pound dates, pitted and chopped, with ½ cup brown sugar and ½ cup water. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add ½ cup chopped nuts. Cool.

Gardening Replaces Toe Touching Ritual

CHICAGO (INS) —Even fashion models need to exercise to keep their figures trim and they don't like it any more than most women.

Ask Patricia Hutar, one of Chicago's top models, where she got her figure and she'll tell you "in the garden."

A trim 121-pound brunette, Patricia took to gardening because she has a healthy appetite and "a misplaced pound shows up like a ton."

Gardening is "painless" exercise to her. She explained:

"I tried setting aside a half hour a day to touch my toes and do knee bends, but I just didn't have the patience to keep at it.

"Out in the garden, I do the equivalent of the exercise but never notice it."

Rips Into Soap Suds, Meets Queen

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

If fate make you a washerwoman, plunge into those suds with pride and you may end up hobnobbing with a queen.

Such things can happen, and did, says Homer Croy, the tall, twingling novelists from Missouri, biographer of Will Rogers and Jesse James, whose latest bestseller, "The Lady from Colorado," will be aired on Broadway next season, with Ethel Merman playing the role of Katie Lawder, the Irish washer-woman who captivated a Colorado mining camp and became the fabled Lady Moon first titled lady of the gold-rush country.

"It all goes to prove that truth is much more fantastic than fiction," says Croy, "and also much more fun. Here's Ethel Merman, a modern real-life lady from Colorado, all set to bring Lady Katie Moon back to uproarious life. And she's the gal who can do it."

Croy was intent on research for a biography of Sitting Bull when he stumbled on the story of Lady Moon while poking around Denver a couple of years ago. He found the story of the titled washerwoman so much more dramatic than that of the Indian warrior that he left Sitting Bull cold and began delving into the story of Katie, Lady Moon, whose grave is in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Denver.

"I first wrote it as a factual biography," says Croy, "after piecing together the story from friends, relatives and former servants of the fabulous Katie. When I sent the completed manuscript to my publishers, they said yes, it was very interesting, and they would publish it. But they didn't invite me to lunch. So I knew something was wrong.

"I took the manuscript back and started all over again, using the facts of Lady Moon's life as the basis for a novel. This time when I finished, the publishers called up right away and said, 'Let's have lunch and talk about it.' So I knew it was a success."

Croy started writing when he was a boy back on the Croy farm in Maryville, Mo. He claims to be the first graduate of the famous Journalism School of the University of Missouri, where he paid his way by selling short stories, and where he started his first novel, "West of the Water Tower," a classic of the 1920s.

In the years since he has lived all over the world, and has become famous not only for his books, movies and quips, but also for his unique correspondence. When you get a letter from Croy it is likely to be written on stationery with the letterhead of a Paris Turkish bath and signed "Gunfighter Croy, author of 'The Bobbsy Twins Smoke Their First Marijuanas.'"

"I collect sign-offs," says Croy. "I keep changing them all the time. My latest are 'Croy, Son of Sputnik' and 'Croy, Out of Univac.' I collect letterheads, too. Some of my most successful ones have read: King Ibn Saud of Arabia, The Mount Rushmore Memorial Commission, Beatrice Fairfax, The White River Booster's League and The Girl Scouts of America.

"It confuses my friends, but it is more fun than crossword puzzles. And I get rid of my inhibitions when I sign a letter, 'Croy, the Man Who Wants to Live to 90 and be shot by a jealous husband.'"

Coming or going — this looks as good on our traveler as she will feel in it. Comfortably warm, this coat holds its own in style, trimmed in brown Normink.

Son Really Wants Dad to Win Competition

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

It was Paul's parents' sixth wedding anniversary.

To celebrate, they'd made a hotel reservation for dinner and dancing. Paul's grandma had arrived to babysit. But when his mother came to kiss him goodby, he became obstructive.

His bedclothes had got untucked. His toy shelf was improperly arranged. He thought he was getting a stomach-ache. Finally, when his father came upstairs to protest, he flung his arms around his mother — and burst into jealous, angry tears.

His mother said, "I can't leave him feeling like this! How can I go out and enjoy myself knowing he's so upset?"

In the end his father canceled the hotel reservations.

But 4-year-old Paul's victory didn't make him nearly so happy as you'd imagine.

So long as he'd been fighting his father's claim on his mother, he'd felt fine. But having won first consideration from her, he didn't know what to do with it. Without knowing what bothered him, he began to feel panic at the obligation he'd incurred by getting his own way.

KEPT HIM AWAKE

So instead of going to sleep peacefully with his victory over his father, it kept him awake until 10 o'clock. His mother's efforts to reassure him just scared him more by piling more obligation on him.

Though little sons compete with their fathers for first place in our affection, they do not want to win these competitions.

Allowed to, they sense they've bitten off more than their childish teeth can chew. So in these false situations, we're wise to stand aside when their fathers restore reality by saying:

"Look here, your mommy was my wife before you were born and will be my wife long after you've found one of your own. You go to sleep now and be happy you've got a mother and dad that like being alone together instead of fussing like this."

Allowed to win these father-son competitions, little sons become too attached to us, not because they love us but because we've crushed them with man-size obligation.

Retired Husband Meddles With Wife's Housekeeping

Harried Homemaker Should Help Him Find New, Absorbing Interests

By RUTH MILLETT

A wife whose husband retired six months ago writes:

"As long as he had a job to go to every day, my husband never bothered his head about how I ran the house. I did things the way that suited me, and he always seemed pleased with the results.

"But since his retirement six months ago, he has a suggestion to make about everything I do around the house. He seems to poke around in corners, looking for something extra for me to do. And no matter how I start to do a job, he is sure to suggest a better way.

"I had looked forward to his retirement, but he is driving me crazy. I find myself thinking how peaceful it would be and how many things I could get done—and done my way—if my husband were keeping office hours again."

All I can suggest is that this wife try to get her husband interested in something besides the running of the house.

With encouragement, some retired men find part-time work that isn't too much for their strength. Others take up hobbies, or go in for learning things they have never had time to concentrate on before.

An active man, who has been used to having eight or more hours of his day accounted for, isn't likely to be happy or to let his wife be happy if he suddenly has nothing to do.

However unhappy his interfering with her work makes his wife he is bound to be unhappier than she is. He is the real displaced person. He has no office to go to yet he senses that his wife has grown to think of the home as her special domain.

If the wife will remember that, she will hide her impatience and put her mind to work on helping her husband find some new and absorbing interests.

Mrs. Martin Wager Gets District Office

Mrs. Martin Wager was elected secretary-treasurer Monday when Southeastern District of Michigan Federation of Music Clubs met in Oxford.

Representing Pontiac's Tuesday Musicale at the conference were Mrs. Gordon Woolcock, Mrs. William Furlong, Mrs. Donald Hogue and Mrs. Ralph Norvell.

Ripe Olive Tricks

Here are some suggestions for serving ripe olives:

Chop watercress and ripe olives, mix with a little lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce for a tasty sandwich filling.

Canned salmon, crisp shredded cabbage and sliced ripe olives make a delicious luncheon salad. With this, serve hot rolls and spiced canned cling peaches.

Black-and-white makes a stunning combination, particularly for city wear. Add just a dash of orange, bright red or yellow for fun and fashion interest.

Elaborate Scheme to Block Impending Catastrophe Fails

California Community Sliding Toward the Ocean

PORTUGUESE BEND, Calif. (AP) — Man has tried—and failed—in an elaborate scheme to stop 200 slippery acres of this scenic community from carrying 156 homes seaward.

The homes are on a layer of land, shaped roughly like a slice of bread, which for more than 15 months has been gliding toward the ocean at the rate of nearly an inch a day.

A puzzling movement that investigating geologists say is unique in their experience, it has brought creeping catastrophe to scores of families in the slide area. Nearby residents also have suffered loss from declining property values.

All but half a dozen of the 156 homes have been damaged, 40 so severely they have had to be evacuated.

The movement began, almost unnoticeably, in August of 1956. Los Angeles County agreed to try checking it with caissons—pins of concrete and steel, 20 feet long and 4 feet in diameter.

The idea was to stop it as you could stop a slice of bread from sliding down an inclined plane by sticking pins through it.

The caissons were set at strategic locations, with the bottom 10 feet in stable earth, the top 10 in the moving layer. This layer varies in thickness from 50 to 150 feet.

The last of 15 pins were set Aug. 12. Now the county has admitted that they are a failure.

The movement continues at only a slightly diminished rate. Engineers say the caissons presumably tilted instead of holding.

No one has expressed willingness to put up the more than two million dollars it would take to try another possible remedy — dumping tons of rock at the bottom of the slide to check it.

Portuguese Bend is an unincorporated community on the picturesque Palos Verdes peninsula, 25 miles south of Los Angeles. Its homes occupy a shallow bowl in rolling hills bordering the Pacific.

Experts say the moving layer has gone adrift previously in the geologic past, doubtless at various times. The earth is composed of strata tilted toward the sea.

What actually started the latest movement is as much a question as how to stop it. Property owners who have filed more than 100 million dollars in damage claims against the county contend the county is to blame. Their complaints say the county bulldozed a large amount of earth onto the upper end of the slide zone and the addition of this great weight triggered the slippage.

The county denies this, attributing the motion to natural causes. One theory is that the crashing sea, eating into the lower end of the slide, has nibbled away so much of the land mass that it must slip downhill until it reaches equilibrium again.

At the upper end of the slide are gorges that would be 30 feet wide, if earth wasn't bulldozed into them periodically. The entire area is crisscrossed with cracks, many big enough to swallow a man. Between the cracks the earth sags, humps, crumbles. At water's edge the beach has bulged upward. A rock reef that once was a wader's paradise at low tide now is high and dry.

A road, once straight, now makes a bumpy detour around a hummock that crept across it.

Water pipes snake through the no-man's land, placed on the surface because they broke so frequently underground. Fences wind like eels.

Pickup trucks maintain 24-hour patrol on gas lines. Fire trucks tour the area daily.

It is a scene of ruin; ruin that took place in slow motion.

Learns That Pooches Are as Selfish as Men

CLINTON, Okla. (AP)—L. T. Bruce found out that dogs are as selfish as humans.

When his grandson came to visit, he brought along his beagle puppy. The neighbor's cocker saw the beagle and promptly gathered up his playthings including two rubber balls, two rubber mice and a leather watch band, and laid down on top of them.

Continue Trial of Parke-Davis

Two Officials Indicted in Conspiracy to Fix Retail Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trial of Parke-Davis & Co. and two of its officials continued today. They are accused in an indictment of conspiracy to fix prices in violation of the federal Sherman Antitrust Law.

The individual defendants are G. L. Walker of Detroit, a Parke-Davis vice president, and S. M. Dripps, manager of the company's Baltimore branch office.

The indictment alleges the company, the two officials, and certain wholesalers and retailers in the District of Columbia and in Virginia conspired to deny pharmaceutical supplies to retailers who cut prices below minimums suggested by the company.

Alleged co-conspirators, but not defendants, include Towers-Taylor Drug Co. of Richmond, Va., and Murray Wholesale Drug Co. of Norfolk, Va.

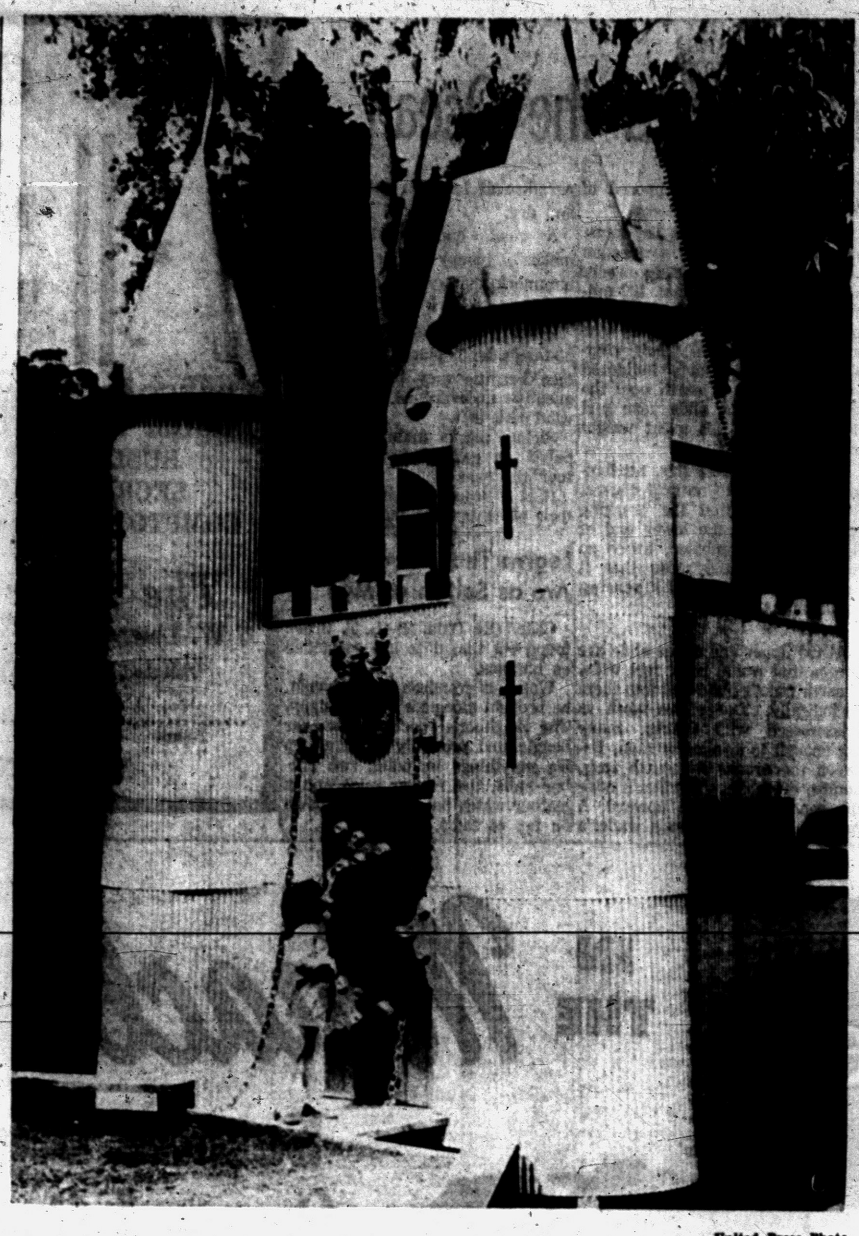

In an opening statement to the federal district court jury hearing the case, Edward R. Kenney, a Justice Department attorney, said the District of Columbia and Virginia do not have "fair trade laws permitting manufacturers to establish selling prices for trade-marked products." Accordingly, he said, any price-fixing is unlawful.

Defense Atty. Gerhard A. Gesell said the company had the right to refuse to sell to anyone. He denied there was any conspiracy to fix prices.

Herbert Heft, owner of a Washington retail drug store, the government's first witness, testified he could not get Parke-Davis supplies after he refused to abide by suggested minimum prices.

For a shilling the Rector of Spennithorne, England, will sharpen your scissors or garden shears. The money goes to the Ripon Cathedral Repair Fund.

'So Many Wonderful People' Cheer Clarkston Cancer Victim

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

"Mickey" Luebke, 34-year old Clarkston mother of ten children, who is dying of cancer, seems to have taken a new lease on life —" Because there are so many wonderful people."

Mrs. Luebke seems happier than she has been in many months, according to her mother, Mrs. Lula Wallace, who has taken charge of the big Luebke family.

After adoption of the three youngest children, 6-months-old Judy; Terry, 2; and Cindy, 3; Susie, 14, assumed the responsibility of caring for the remaining children and her paralyzed mother.

Those at home at 6571 Sashabaw Rd., besides their father, Edward, are: Molly, 10; Johnny, 5; Edward, 12; Elizabeth, 13; and Lester, 15. Georgie, 7, is with relatives.

One of the most important reasons for the terrific change in Mrs. Luebke's attitude is due to one individual "fire-ball" from Pontiac, who has sparked one of the most vigorous fund-raising campaigns ever held in the area.

SAW FOR HERSELF

When Mrs. Lucille Richardson, herself a widower and crippled from an automobile accident, first read of the Luebke's plight in the Pontiac Press, she got right into her car and drove out to the old farmhouse — to see for herself.

There she found poverty, unkept rooms and children staying home from school unnecessarily. Mrs. Luebke lay on the bed in the middle of a sparcely furnished, dirty room. The odor of death was in the air and flies were everywhere.

From that minute on — things happened.

Church organizations in both Pontiac and Clarkston and United Fund agencies pledged their full support in three big Porchlight Parades, just concluded. These netted more than $1,125.

A trust fund for the children was established in the Clarkston State bank and the Pontiac legal firm of Beer, Rowston and Currah donated both legal work and money to the project.

Executive Vice-president of the Clarkston bank Robert Jones said, "I have never seen anything like the way this project has caught on. People from all over the country are calling for verification, then sending in contributions."

ALL DONATIONS RECORDED

Jones stressed the fact that with the bank handling the monies received, every dime that goes into the Mickey Luebke Fund is recorded, and only Rev. Elvin Mudge and Rev. Walter Gibson of Clarkston may release any of the money from the account.

As of today, some $1,200 has been collected through cannister, church and individual contributions, Mrs. Richardson said. She hopes for a possible $8,000 total.

A young friend from Pontiac, who has had nurses' training goes into the Luebke home every day to administer medical aid and care for the stricken woman.

Like Mrs. Richardson, the nurse read of the Luebke's situation, and volunteered her services.

Mickey said, "Who would have ever thought that there were such wonderful people in the world?"

She now lies in a clean bed with new soft blankets. Her house is warm and clean, but best of all, her children are in school again, and may be assured of a secure future.

HASN'T MISSED A DAY

Next Thursday, Lucille Richardson, who has not missed a day visiting Mrs. Luebke, is scheduled to go into the hospital for a serious operation to straighten the hip bone that has been so painful during the last few weeks.

She was due for the operation some time ago, but insisted on "holding off" until the "Mickey Luebke Fund" was firmly established. She will probably be confined to the hospital, and in bed at home for at least ten weeks.

However, Lucille said, "If those children can be assured of some kind of a good future, and we can help cheer up that little woman out there — then it has certainly been worth the effort."

Insects Sprout Ears in the Craziest Places

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) — Katydids have ears on their front elbows.

Among other things you can learn from "Insects—unters and Trappers," a new book by Dr. Ross E. Hutchins of Mississippi State College:

Grasshoppers' ears are on the sides of their stomachs, just behind their back legs. An ant can lift a pebble 52 times its own weight. Some beetles can lift 850 times their own weight.

The only insect that uses a tool is the Ammophila wasp which uses a pebble to trample dirt.

Train Kills Baldwin Lad

South African Town Wants Its Elephants

PHALABORWA, S. Africa — Elephants are a unique feature of Phalaborwa, a phosphate village close to South Africa's Kruger National Park, and residents are angry because four of the beasts have been killed.

"They are our tame elephants that marksmen of the Nature Conservation Department shot," says F. J. Ankiewicz and E. D. Fourie, spokesmen for the town. "Our friends the elephants often come to visit us, and then we turn out in force to see them.

They wander around our golf course at night. They are quite docile." Conservation people explain that farmers complained of the elephants' ravages. They say they must kill elephants which wander from the park, if farmers complain.

Company Sends Borgnine Script Similar to 'Marty'

By DOROTHY MANNERS
(For Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Considering that Ernest Borgnine and Hecht-Hill-Lancaster have been in a contract battle for two years, would you call it a peace offering, or a challenge, that Ernie has been sent a new script by Burt Lancaster's company?

Titled "The Rabbit Trap," it's another type of "Marty" role for Borgnine about a timid office worker who gets into melodramatic adventures on an outing trip with his son.

It was just shortly after he won an Oscar for "Marty" that Ernie instigated action against H-H-L claiming he wasn't getting enough money. It never came to court, however.

So, whether "The Rabbit Trap" will be a showdown or a happy ending is anyone's guess.

When newlyweds Bing Crosby and Kathy Grant complete the presentation at Gonzaga College tomorrow (Bing is turning over the money he made on the Edsel TV show to his alma mater), they leave by chartered plane for Hayden Lake.

There they remain until Nov. 15 when Kathy is due at Columbia to start "Gunman's Walk" with Van Heflin and Tab Hunter.

The other night, Columbia boss Harry Cohn hosted Bing and Kathy at a quiet dinner and then took them to the studio to see Kathy's comedy "Operation Mad Ball." Bing thinks his bride is quite a sparkling comedienne.

About her continuing to work, he said "Why not, if she wants to. When you've been used to an active life, it's hard to change."

Katharine Hepburn, who admired Louis B. Mayer and had the greatest respect for him, flew quietly into town from New York hoping to attend his funeral without being recognized. She is also a close friend of Mr. Mayer's daughter, Irene Selznick, and his wife, Lorena.

The forthright Katie once said of Mr. Mayer, "He is the only man in pictures whose judgment of a story I would accept sight unseen."

She planned to fly East immediately after the service because she left her theatrical plans dangling to come here and pay her respects to the man who did so much for her career.

When Liz Taylor and Mike Todd leave for Honolulu, they're taking along Elizabeth's brother, Howard Taylor, and his wife, for company.

It's definite now that Liz will star in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" at M-G-M. And she told producer Larry Weingarten she will be back in Hollywood to start it by the middle of January.

Meanwhile, while she and Mike are touring the Orient, Mrs. Todd will plug her own "Raintree County" (which will certainly win an Oscar nomination for her) as well as help Mike beat the tom toms for his "Around the World in 80 Days."

Hollywood in shorts: Donald O'Connor's sidekick Sid Miller called his neighborhood movie house which hasn't been too crowded with customers lately about the time the "feature" went on. "What time can you make it?" cracked the belle in the box office.

Nixon May Be Group's Target

Southern Organization to Resettle Negroes Eyes Capital Home

ATLANTA (AP)—A member of a Georgia organization formed to resettle Negroes in exclusive Northern white neighborhoods says Vice President Richard Nixon may be the group's first target.

But the founder of the group, American Resettlement Foundation, Inc., said any such report was entirely without foundation.

State Welfare Director Alan Kemper, a charter member of the foundation, was asked about the Nixon report yesterday, and replied:

"I would say Nixon is a pretty good candidate."

He declined, however, to be more specific.

State Rep. A. A. Fowler Jr. of Douglasville, founder of the organization, told The Associated Press there was nothing to the report.

"It is absolutely without foundation," Fowler declared.

Kemper said a Negro family, preferably a large one, will be moved into a swank Northern white residential area by Christmas and that Fowler had obtained an option on a house in the $75,000 class in what he described as one of the outstanding cities in the United States.

Reports had located the house in the Wesley Heights area of northwest Washington where the Nixons live and had identified the owner as Mrs. Mary H. Renshaw.

A check made by the Washington Post and Times Herald revealed that Mrs. Renshaw was out of town.

The foundation for moving Negroes into white sections of Northern cities was formed by Fowler, Kemper and Roy Harris of Augusta. Harris recently was elected president of the Georgia States Rights Council, a group of segregationists.

The purpose of the organization, according to the charter, is to "assist the underprivileged persons of the United States to obtain adequate housing facilities . . . so that such persons will have an opportunity to try to better their way of life and standard of living."

The foundation was described as a nonprofit operation supported by public contributions.

Tungsten was first isolated in its pure state in 1771 by K. W. Scheele, a Swedish chemist.

Paprika Chicken Gets Her in Stew

LONDON — "The judge was a sweetie," said Greta Unger, 30-year-old Viennese singer who was undone by her craving for paprika chicken, in London. A store sued her and she has had to pay $78 for indulging her weakness for good food.

"Food is my vice," confessed Greta. Chiefly she loves paprika chicken and pressed duck. They remind her of how her mother cooked them in Vienna, but they were beyond her means in England.

Miss Unger earns about $15.50 a week as a temporary clerk and spends the rest of her time looking for a theatrical job. The judge ordered her to pay two pounds ($5.60) a month on her food bill until she could afford more.

Aussie Exports Rise

CANBERRA — During fiscal 1957 Australian exports earned a record £980,000,000 ($2,205,000,000), £208,000,000 more than in the previous year. Imports declined by £102,000,000 during the same period, totaling £717,000,000.

Red China Steals Show at Big Fair

CASABLANCA — Communist China rather stole the show with its exhibit at the 1957 Casablanca's International Fair, most viewers seemed to agree.

The two most impressive exhibits were those of the United States and Red China — the latter showing for the first time. Communist countries' displays were thought to have created an impact out of all proportion to their volume of trade with Morocco. China's attracted great curiosity and engendered much good will.

The fair was the most successful of the 12 held in Casablanca, because manufacturers wanted to show their goodwill and confidence in the newly independent Moroccan state.

Spartans Face Speedy Badgers in Big Battle

Big Ten Title Hopes Hinge on Victory for Michigan State

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's cautious Spartans face the speedy Badgers of Wisconsin Saturday in a continuation of State's battle to hang in behind the leaders in the Big Ten football race.

State, beaten in the conference so far only by Purdue, still has an outside chance for a Rose Bowl bid. Iowa can't go and Michigan State only would be in if the Spartans win the rest of their Big Ten contests. Michigan loses one more and Ohio State is dumped twice.

The Badgers acquired the "baby" nickname this year because coach Milton Bruhn has been starting so many sophomores.

Wisconsin got off to a fast start this fall by beating Marquette and West Virginia and then whipping Purdue 23-14. They lost the last two conference games, however, to Iowa 21-7 and to Ohio State 16-13.

Michigan State breezed through Indiana and California and then hit an early season high with a 35-6 victory over Michigan.

The 20-13 Purdue upset followed and last Saturday State had to struggle to edge Illinois 19-14.

Wisconsin has a 5-3 edge in the series dating back to 1913. State blanked Wisconsin the last two years, by 27-0 and 33-0 scores.

Michigan State's ground game has been slowed the last two Saturdays by a nine-man stunting line defense. With quarterback Jim Ninowski ready to start again, the Spartans are expected to rely more on their passing game.

Walt Kowalczyk, who broke open the Illinois game with a 36 yard touchdown bolt, is still State's No. 1 threat on the ground.

The 38-man traveling squad was due to leave East Lansing by chartered plane at noon today. The Spartans will arrive in Madison, Wis., in time for an afternoon workout in Camp Randall Stadium.

State's morale was given a boost by the return yesterday of Art Johnson, second man at right half. Johnson missed three days of practice because of a cold and tonsillitis.

Harold Dukes, letterman end from Detroit, had to be left behind because of a lame foot. Don Arend, fullback with the second team, also is not making the trip because of a knee injury.

A sellout attendance of 54,000 is expected for the game. Kickoff time will be 1:30 Central Standard time, 2:30 Michigan time.

Feathers Don't Taste Too Good, Claims Hunter

LANSING (AP)—Sympathetic conservation men responded with a flourish when they got this request for the state conservation department's game recipe leaflet from a Bay City hunter:

"Dear sirs:

"I would like to ask you for the game bird recipe book. You see, my wife doesn't know how to cook. We were just married and she told me she could cook, but I found out different. She cooked the bird I shot yesterday with the feathers and insides still in it. Boy, did that taste lousy.

"If you would, please send that book and please hurry. I am going hunting tomorrow. Send the book to my wife."

Chiefs Have Only 5 Wins in Series

PHS-Northern Meet for 27th Time

You can count all the times that Pontiac has defeated Flint Northern in the series of games through the years on one hand. hand.

The Chiefs tangle with the Vikings for the 27th time tonight at Flint with a slim hope of breaking Northern's hold on PHS since 1931.

The defending champions of the Saginaw Valley Conference are heavy favorites to defeat Pontiac, but coach Jesse MacLeay isn't counting out the chances for an upset.

This is the 27th game between the two schools and Northern holds a decided margin with 20 wins five losses and a tie.

The five Pontiac wins came in 1932, 1936, 1941, 1949 and 1955. In each instance there was a different coach at the helm at PHS. When the Chiefs won in 1932, Charles Welden guided the 29-7 victory. In 1936 Pontiac won 8-0 under Kline Hartman and in 1941 the 14-6 win came under Harold Smead.

Hercules Benda was coach when PHS won 25-21 in 1949 and in 1955 the 20-19 victory came under Ed Graybiel.

Even in 1943 when Pontiac won its only SVC football championship, Northern was the lone black mark by taking a 21-7 decision. The Chiefs won with a 5-1 conference mark that year.

"We've come along fine in the past few games," said MacLeay, "and if we play our best we will do okay tonight."

The Chiefs now stand 1-1 in conference play and are currently tied for third place with Saginaw. Bay City Central, next week's home foe for PHS, leads the SVC with a 2-0 mark, while Northern is 1-0.

Arthur Hill is in 5th place with 0-2 and Flint Central is in the cellar 0-1.

Northern, last year's number one team in the state, is 3-1 for the season. The lone loss was suffered at the hands of Muskegon, 13-6, in a game which the Vikings dominated everything but the final score.

Both PHS and Northern will start sophomore quarterbacks. Fred Staley will start his third game for the Chiefs and Vic Urick likewise will get his third starting assignment for the Vikings.

Starting time at Flint tonight is 8:00 p.m.

Hawks Unable to Beat Wolves Since 1924 Win

Lone Blot in Past 15 Games Is 1956 Defeat by Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Unbeaten Iowa invades Michigan Stadium tomorrow with revenge on its mind in seeking its first victory over Michigan in 33 years.

The third-ranked Hawkeyes have won all but one of their last 15 games including a Rose Bowl triumph over Oregon State. The lone blot on their record in the past two seasons was inflicted last year by Michigan.

Tomorrow's 19th game of what has become a bitterly contested series will be nationally televised (NBC) at 1:15 p.m. (EST). Expectations are for a crowd of more than 90,000 in Michigan's gigantic bowl. The game is rated a tossup.

Down through the years, Michigan-Iowa games have established a pattern worthy of a Hollywood script writer.

Iowa has achieved victory only twice in the previous 18 games. Their last verdict came in 1924. The only other time Iowa won was in 1900 and there was a scoreless tie in 1929. In 1902, Michigan humiliated the Hawkeyes, 107 to nothing.

But the last four games have been the most frustrating for Iowa and its coach, Forest Evashevski. Evy, his goal a Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl victory already reached last season, yearns more than ever to defeat his alma mater. He was Tom Harmon's blocking back at Michigan in 1938-39-40.

The 1953-54-55-56 games against Michigan are anguished memories for Evy. In each, his Hawkeyes roared off to early leads.

Thrice Iowa had two touchdown margins and once an 11-point lead. But each time the Wolverines found the flaw in Iowa's defense and unbelievably came back to win in the second half.

So intense is Evashevski's desire for victory tomorrow, his practice sessions this week were conducted behind the seclusion of locked gates.

Iowa's defense will present Michigan with its thorniest task of the season. The Hawkeye forward wall leads the nation's major colleges in rushing defense. Led by All-America tackle Alex Karras, it has allowed opponents a scant 1.8 yard a carry.

Michigan, with its best passing attack in years, is capable of going over the Hawkeye line, however. Quarterbacks Jim Van Pelt and Stan Noskin are two of the top passers in the Big Ten and the Wolverines have piled up a 57.3 per cent completion record.

Lou Little Calls 'em

Here we are in November, after five or six weeks of the most interesting football we have ever seen, and I can report what I think is a remarkable fact.

Moving about in the East, Midwest, South and on the Pacific Coast, I have talked with coaches of all areas, asking for suggestions which might help the Coaches' Rules Committee put together suggestions and recommendations for Fritz Crisler's NCAA Rules Committee on possible changes or innovations in the code.

No coach has indicated to me yet that any change is desired. That's news. Never before have I known the men who teach the game to be so uniformly satisfied.

Within the next two weeks every coach will be asked for his ideas, but it appears now that the present balance of the game as between attack and defense, the latitude provided for tactics on both sides and the ever-present possibility of the crowd-pleasing upset—as long as it doesn't happen to the coach you're talking to at the moment—have created general approval which I have never seen matched before.

Tomorrow, with contests between Notre Dame and Navy, Iowa and Michigan, Texas A&M and Arkansas, Duke and Georgia Tech, Dartmouth and Yale, Michigan State and Wisconsin, Oregon and Stanford, Syracuse and Pitt, we can expect more of the same.

I hope so. Nothing creates greater enthusiasm than the unexpected win. The old stereotyped game, in which you could make safe predictions so much more often than is possible now, belongs to history, and I'm glad it does.

NBA May Expel Massachusetts

Recommendation Made Because of Sanctioning Akins as Champ

BOSTON (AP) — Massachusetts Boxing Commissioner Henry LaMar adopted a "wait and see' attitude today on learning of a recommendation to expel the state from the National Boxing Assn. for sanctioning the Virgil Akins-Tony DeMarco bout for the world's welterweight championship.

"It's all just a lot of talk at this point," LaMar said. "We'll wait and see what develops."

Fred J. Saddy, NBA executive secretary said yesterday in Milwaukee that he will recommend that Massachusetts be expelled from NBA membership.

"We can't permit everybody to go his own way," Saddy said. "If we do we might just as well fold up. The time has come to decide once and for all. At our September convention in Denver, we agreed to recognize the winner of an elimination tournament among the top four contenders as welterweight champion. Massachusetts' action was a direct violation of that agreement."

Collegian Stops Smith

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Collegian Bobby Scanlon of San Francisco stopped former lightweight champion Wallace "Bud" Smith of Cincinnati tonight in 1:48 of the final round of their 10 rounder.

The victory was No. 26 for Scanlon, who has never been defeated although he once drew. He weighed 138, Smith 139.

Tommy Henrich New Tiger Aide

Former Yank Slugger Will Direct Traffic at First Base

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Tigers today announced the hiring of former New York Yankee star Tommy Henrich as a coach.

Henrich, 47, played outfield and first base for the Yankees from 1937 to 1950, and was a Yankee coach in 1951. He was a member of the New York Giants coaching staff this year.

The Tigers said the three coaches the team carried this year — Billy Hitchcock, Willis Hudlin and Don Lund — will be retained in 1958.

Henrich will replace Lund as 1st base coach with the latter being assigned to general coaching duties. Lund will assist Manager Jack Tighe in the dugout.

Also part of Henrich's duties will be working with the batters along with Billy Hitchcock in the club's drive for more scoring punch.

A veteran of four World Series and three All-Star games, Henrich finished his Major League career with a .282 lifetime average and was always considered to be one of the most dangerous hitters in the game.

BREAKS JINX—Frank Robinson, 22-year-old Cincinnati star, has been named Sophomore-of-the-Year in the Associated Press poll. He beat the so-called "sophomore" jinx after being Rookie-of-the-Year in 1956.

BC Loss Bitter for UD

Cincinnati Foe of Titans

CINCINNATI — University of Detroit, still fuming over the 20-16 loss to Boston College last week, headed for Cincinnati today to meet the University of Cincinnati Bearcats in a Saturday afternoon encounter.

The Titans had salt put into their wounds after watching the Boston College game film in which it was noted that BC's winning touchdown came on a forward and not a lateral, and also that halfback Al Korpak crossed the goal line one play before the fatal penalty nullified the winning TD in the last 30 seconds.

"The movies clearly showed that when quarterback Don Allard was hit five yards past the line of scrimmage, he threw to halfback Jim Colclough who was at least four feet ahead of him," said Titan coach Wally Fromhart. Colclough then went 55 yards for the winning touchdown.

Cincinnati, which has lost only to Houston, 7-0, in six games this season, had its scouts at the game and the Bearcat coaches said, "Detroit should have won easily."

The game is significant in as much as Detroit, now out of the Missouri Valley Conference, will count in the won-lost column for Cincinnati now a member of the MVC.

This is due to the fact that the game was already scheduled before the Titans dropped out and the Bearcats do not have a full conference schedule as yet.

The Bearcats handed College of the Pacific its first loss last week by a 7-2 margin.

Lane, Speiser Placed High in NBA Ratings

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Chuck Speiser of Detroit was ranked fourth in the light heavyweight division in the November ratings of the National Boxing Assn.

Kenny Lane was listed as the No. 1 contender for Joe Brown's lightweight title.

Princeton Coach Critically Sick

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Princeton Hospital reported today that football coach Charlie Caldwell's condition continues critical. He is under an oxygen tent.

The 56-year-old Princeton University coach was admitted to the hospital Sunday suffering from a "deep, lingering infection."

Cranes Play in Cleveland

The Cranbrook Cranes, unbeaten at home but winless on the road, travel to Cleveland today where they will meet a strong University School eleven in an Interstate League game Saturday at 2:15 p.m.

Last week's seven-point setback to Nichols makes tomorrow's contest a "must" game if the Cranes are to continue as threats for loop honors. They currently are 1-1 with two games to play.

Halfback Stu Clark, who was ineligible for the opening loss to Birmingham, has spearheaded Cranbrook to two victories in three starts since scoring 53 of the team's 98 points to rank 3rd in Oakland County.

Rugged Tom Noteware and scatback Ossie Jacobson are other TD threats certain to give the University defense a busy workout. Captain and center Lloyd Asbury heads the Cranbrook line.

University holds the favored role based on past records and the home field edge. Ten lettermen are back from the team which blanked the Cranes 20-0 here last fall and finished with a 7-1 mark.

19 Take Part in Annual Pike Memorial Event

For the 12th consecutive year, members of the Billy Pike Memorial group met Wednesday at Highland Manor for the annual affair that honors the memory of a former City Baseball league star who lost his life in World War II. Nineteen took part in the brief program, highlighted by award of the 1957 trophy to Jim Wagner of this year's league. Most of the members are former recipients of the award.

Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Pike, parents of Billy, were honored guests. Others at the dinner and memorial award included chairman and Mrs. Charles Irish, Mr. and Mrs. John Abel, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Baker, Cyril Duffy, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Farms, Jim and Mrs. Berg. Berg was the 1956 award recipient.

Lions Play 'Must' Game Against San Francisco

When the National Football League season started most coaches and observers were in agreement that the Division champion would lose at least three games.

If this is the case then the Detroit Lions have reached the point that another defeat would be as far as they can go if they hope to keep their title hopes alive.

The game Sunday against the league leading San Francisco 49ers is a "must" game. A victory for the Frisco team would give the 49ers a comfortable record of 5-1 in the Western Division.

With several key players of the defensive platoon doubtful starters because of injuries suffered against the Los Angeles Rams last week, the Lions are definite underdogs to the 49ers.

Frisco handed the Chicago Bears their 4th loss of the season by a 21-17 margin last week, while the Rams were whipping the Lions, 35-17.

Big factor for the game Sunday is the injury to captain and linebacker Joe Schmidt, who suffered bruised ribs in playing one of his best games of the year.

Other injured players are Ray Krouse, Bob Long and Harley Sewell. Sewell may not see action at all because of a bad knee and Lou Creekmur may move into his position at guard with rookie Ken Russell starting at the offensive tackle post.

Rumors of dissension on the team is another problem worrying coach George Wilson.

Leon Hart who was the center of recent stories concerning dissension is expected to see more action Sunday at fullback. He has been hampered with torn leg muscles.

In the all time series between Detroit and San Francisco, the 49ers hold the edge with eight wins, six losses and no ties.

Last year the Lions won both games from the 49ers, winning in Detroit 20 -17 and on the coast 17-13.

LEADS SCORERS — Jimmy Taylor, fullback at LSU, is the nation's top major college scorer with 62 points. He is highly considered for All-American honors.

Refund Given Yanks for May Fines

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra confirmed today that he and four other New York Yankees who were fined for a brawl in a New York nightclub last May have received a refund from the club.

Berra said he, Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle, Whitey Ford and Johnny Kucks had been repaid and "everything is fine now." All but Kucks were fined $1,000. The young pitcher escaped with only a $500 nick out of his salary.

Billy Martin, whose birthday flared into the brawl, received his $1,000 refund when traded to the Kansas City Athletics in mid-June.

The club, which never announced the fines, neither confirmed nor denied the refund.

Said Bob Fishel, Yankee publicity director: "We made no announcement of the fines at the time and we are making no announcement now. We feel it is a club matter."

Fishel added, however, that Martin received a refund "because he was leaving the club and wouldn't have a chance to earn it back."

Yogi said "At first I didn't think I'd ever get it back. But I've known for quite a while it was going to happen."

Hank Bauer, arrested as a result of the brawl but cleared when a grand jury failed to return an indictment, said in a telephone conversation from his home in Kansas City that he understood he was getting the money back, but had not yet received it.

Said Berra, who lives in Woodcliff Lakes, N. J.: "He's farther away. The mails take a little longer to get out there than to New Jersey."

Fishel finally put the clincher to it. "Winning the pennant," he said, "had nothing to do with it," while not identifying "it."

"We feel we have a right to be concerned about the off-field activities of our players. Since the incident, they have conducted themselves to our satisfaction," said.

British railway stations have electric heaters for mothers who may wish to warm milk bottles for their babies.

Qualifying Sites for Tournament at Three Alleys

Top 3 in Each Division Get Bigger Guaranteed Prizes

Plans have been completed for the second annual Pontiac Press singles handicap Bowlerama which will be staged February 8-9, 15 and 22nd.

A few changes have been made for the 1958 tournament with more and bigger cash prizes along with many gift prizes and trophy awards.

Three locations have been chosen as qualifying sites. They are Motor Inn Recreation, Montcalm Centre and Howe's Lanes. The finals will again be held at the Huron Bowl.

Last year qualifying rounds were held at Auburn Lanes, Dixie Recreation and Land-O-Lakes. As the tournament grows the sites will be alternated each year.

For the '58 Bowlerama, men's qualifying will take place Saturday and Sunday Feb. 8-9 at Montcalm and Motor Inn. The women will qualify on Saturday Feb. 15th at Howe's Lanes

The top ten per cent or better will then roll in the finals Saturday February 22nd at Huron Bowl.

Last year one of every eight bowlers went into the finals and all those who qualified (there were 60) figured in the prizes.

The guaranteed prizes in each division have been raised with the men's champion taking $450 and the women's champ $250. Other guarantees include $225 and $125 for men's second and third place, and $125 and $75 for women's second and third.

Last year the Bowlerama men's champion received the $400 guarantee plus $25 which resulted from percentage of entries.

One minor change enacted for the 1958 tourney was made in regard to qualifying. Instead of taking the top percentage of bowlers from each qualifying alley, the top per cent will be taken from the overall scores in each the men's and women's divisions.

Prizes and trophies however will go to the leading three qualifiers in each division, and every bowler entering the finals will be assured of a prize, just by qualifying.

The tourney will again be based on 70 per cent on 200 scratch and it is open only to sanctioned ABC and WIBC bowlers in Oakland County.

Last year bowlers from all parts of the county participated. Entry blanks for the Bowlerama will be made available at most establishments in the county within the next two weeks.

Deadline for men's entries is February 2nd and for women February 10th because of the week's difference in qualifying.

Entries can be turned in at local alleys or to the Press sports department. There will be no post entries accepted.

Mikes Face Irish in Roamin' Jug Game

St. Michael's football team will have a triple incentive for winning its 3rd Suburban Catholic League victory of the season Saturday night at Wisner Stadium against Royal Oak St. Mary.

The three reasons are Dad's Night, Homecoming and the Roamin' Jug, all wrapped up in one evening's work. Each event is an annual affair.

Fathers of Shamrock gridders will be honored at halftime and the coronation of the Homecoming queen is also a part of the intermission ceremony. As if the Dads and Homecoming aren't enough, the jug makes additional bait.

The quaint jug, a humble piece of crockery standing about two feet high, is held annually by the winner of the St. Mike-RO St. Mary game. The jug was brought to Pontiac from Rome, Italy, by the late Anthony Miller and instituted as a traveling trophy in 1950.

St. Mike retained the award every year until last season when the Irish scored a 12-0 victory at Royal Oak. Now the Shamrocks want the jug back and they will be heavily favored to get it.

Royal Oak has yet to taste victory in five games, four in league action. The Irish have yielded 124 points while scoring only 18. St. Frederick handed them a 44-0 shellacking here two weeks ago.

The Shamrocks have an overall record of 3-2 and a league mark of 2-2. Although their offense has been sputtering throughout the campaign, a stout defense has kept them in contention at all times.

Paul Smuts, star St. Mary fullback, suffered a broken ankle in practice and his injury practically ruined any hopes the Irish had for a few wins this season. Chris Korth has replaced Smuts, who is out for the year.

St. Mike will be at full strength for tomorrow night's contest. Starting time is 8 o'clock.

St. Fred, trying to recover from last Sunday's loss to Highland Park St. Benedict, runs into another giant obstacle this Sunday at Hazel Park. The Rams meet St. Rita, unbeaten in six games and racing with St. Ben for the SCL title.

Orchard Lake St. Mary plays host to St. Clement of Center Line and St. Ben visits Ferndale St. James in Sunday's other league games.

Dupas Seeks Bout With Contenders

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Promoter Bonny Geigerman opened negotiations today for a match between Ralph Dupas, third-ranked lightweight from New Orleans, and either ranking welterweight Vince Martinez or Kenny Lane, leading contender for the lightweight title.

The 21-year old Dupas, who has won 67 fights and lost only eight, won his court battle yesterday for recognition as a white man. Civil District Judge Rene Viosca ordered the New Orleans health department to issue Dupas a birth certificate listing his parents as white.

Japanese Team Play Impresses Nat Holman

TOKYO (AP)—Nat Holman, famous American basketball coach, says he is learning a new meaning of sportsmanship and team play from the Japanese.

"These people have captured the true spirit of the game more than anybody I have seen," the City College of New York coach added today. "They could teach us lessons."

Holman, one of the original Celtics, who coached national championship teams at CCNY, is in Japan as part of a U.S. specialists program to teach the Japanese the game of basketball. He will remain here through December, helping organize the Japanese team for Asian games next spring.

"The Japanese are great imitators and they take to the game swiftly," Holman said. "They love baseball and most of them have had baseball experience. I have always felt a baseball player can always play basketball."

The American coach here on a year's sabbatical leave from CCNY, said the Japanese suffer from lack of height, essential for success in the United States. But they make up for the deficiency with excellent physical condition, speed and ball handling.

Belgian Netter Cautious About Davis Cup Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—Philippe Washer, the happy-go-lucky ace of Belgium's European Zone Davis Cup champions, has been playing against U.S. players for more than a decade so he has learned to play it cautious.

"I really don't know how we are going to do against them in the Interzone finals," he said today during a stopover here. "I've been playing against them too long to make any rash predictions."

He also was a member of the Belgian team that lost in the Interzone to the Yanks in 1953.

Major Hoople Picks 'Em

Egad! There come Saturdays when the nation's gridirons are streaked with upsets, when the willy nilly over the autumnal landscape.

These are the days when your correspondent, my zillions of gentle readers, shines like a satellite.

I doubt if another forecaster the length and breadth of the land selected Illinois, a two-touchdown underdog, to clobber the glamorous Gophers. None but Hoople — harrumph!

Now we face the prospect in reverse, as it were, Illinois, which made mighty Minnesota look like a high school team, falling at the hands of Purdue, 14 to 7.

There are other upsets brewing. Notre Dame, which lost to Navy, 33 to 7 last year, will maul the Middies, 27 to 13. And on the Pacific coast, the Oregon upstarts will crush Stanford.

Watch for a tie between Auburn and Florida. Auburn, one of the great defensive teams of this generation, needs only one good run or pass to win this contest, but alas and alack!

Imagine Tulane rising phoenix-like from the ashes to maul Mississippi State! Another close one in the Southland — Alabama 14, Georgia 13. That same score being matched in the East by Brown's victory over Princeton.

Go on with the forecast:

OCSC Rifle Squad Wins League Test

OCSC's rifle crew invaded Allen Park's range this week, and returned with both ends of the match. Pontiac team won the actual event, 940-921, walked off with the handicap total with 1035-1016.

OCSC's Cash Bond (190 actual, 203 handicap) and the Parkers' Dan Heslip (190-198) led the shooting. Two OCSC juniors, Margaret Kempel and Jane Martini shot with the seniors, with Margaret capturing second spot in actual with 189.

The scoring: OCSC — Bond (190-203), Kempel (189), Milton LaPorte (188-201), Ken Farnum (187-212), Kjell Danielson (186), George McCutcheons (200hcp) and Dave Marvel (219 hcp); Allen Park-Heslip (190-198), Dave Walters (186-221), Bill Ross, Jr. (184-202), Ross Sr. (182-199) and Ed Bortolussi (179-196).

League Crowns at Stake Today

By BILL CORNWELL

This is the day of decision for six high school football teams in three Oakland County area leagues.

A trio of showdown games, one this afternoon, will either decide the championship or determine the fate of the Inter-Lakes, Oakland B and Tri-County circuits.

The three crucial battles are: Inter-Lakes — Farmington at Southfield, 3:30 p.m.; Oakland B—Troy at Lake Orion, 8 p.m.; Tri-County—Rochester at Romeo, 8 p.m.

Southfield's encounter with Farmington will settle the I-L argument. It is the final league contest for both schools, with Southfield holding a narrow half game edge.

The Jays, slight favorites today, have a 4-0 loop record. Farmington has three wins and one tie and must win to take the title. A tie game would give the crown to the Jays.

Lake Orion can claim the Oakland B championship outright by disposing of rugged Troy. It would be the 1st league title in Orion's history.

A Troy victory, however, would very likely lead to a three-way share of the title among Orion, Troy and Clawson. This is the last loop test for Orion, which owns a 4-0 record.

The Colts and Clawson would be heavily favored to brush aside their remaining foes and if Troy conquers Orion tonight, a 4-1 mark is in prospect for all three schools.

Rochester can virtually clinch the 1st Tri-County championship by out-scoring Romeo. The Falcons stand 1-0 in the four-team circuit and would have only hapless L'Anse Creuse waiting beyond Romeo.

Romeo (1-1) will be playing its final league game and can guarantee itself a share of honors by toppling the Falcons. A Bulldog triumph, in fact, would probably result in a triple share of the title since Lapeer (1-1) also has only L'Anse remaining.

Two critical Eastern Michigan League games are scheduled tonight. Port Huron, tied with Ferndale for 1st place, invades Birmingham to engage the unpredictable Maples. Ferndale clashes with undefeated Hazel Park on the latter's gridiron.

Disappointing Waterford visits Van Dyke and Berkley entertains Walled Lake to round out the Inter-Lakes schedule. Winless Avondale plays host to Clawson, in the other Oakland B contest.

A full slate of Wayne-Oakland games finds conference powers taking on 2nd division teams. Pace-setting Holly visits Clarenceville, Clarkston goes to Northville, Bloomfield Hills meets West Bloomfield at Keego Harbor and Milford welcomes Brighton.

Almont can take one more big step toward its 2nd straight Southern Thumb crown by defeating visiting Capac. Other conference games are New Haven at Dryden and Armada at Brown City.

Ortonville travels to Millington and Oxford invades Imlay City for South Central loop struggles. North Branch entertains Memphis in a non-league game.

Hillsdale Seeks 32nd Against Kazoo

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only two games stand between an undefeated season for Grand Rapids Junior College, the state's only two-year college that bothers with football.

Grand Rapids has a 5-0 record and is certain to carry the perfect mark another week as the school is idle this weekend. Halfback Bob Coeling scored twice last week against Ferris and now has 42 points for the season. His running mate Gordon Kelly has 36.

The state's other undefeated-untied eleven, Hillsdale College, should have no difficulty running its victory string to 32 against Kalamazoo College in a night contest at Hillsdale. This is one of three MIAA games on tap. Hope should win just about as it pleases against hapless Olivet and Alma and Albion are rated about even for their game at Albion.

Eastern Michigan never has been able to bring home an undisputed IIAC football title but the Hurons should move one step nearer that goal Saturday when they go to Dekalb, Ill., to meet a weak Northern Illinois crew. Northern has lost to three league opponents and the Hurons have walloped two of them.

The state's other IIAC representative, Central Michigan, will try to come back from its 40-0 lacing at Louisville and faces Eastern Illinois in a Dad's Day contest at Mount Pleasant.

Western Michigan's Broncos probably can avoid a tailend finish in the Mid-American conference by beating Ohio University on the Bobcats' field Saturday.

The last time Wayne State played Buffalo the New York team promised it would never take on the Tartars again. The roughness of that first game has been temporarily set aside and the two teams will get together Saturday in Buffalo in a non-league affair. Wayne will be watching the outcome of the John Carroll-Western Reserve game in Cleveland. A Carroll triumph would give the Blue Streaks the undisputed title in the President's Conference, while a Reserve victory would mean a three-way tie among the three teams.

Michigan Tech travels to St. Norbert, Wis., Ferris takes on Adrian in a night game at Adrian and the University of Detroit meets Cincinnati in the Queen City.

STRIKES AND SPARES

Many bowlers, particularly the ladies, roll a ball too slowly to do them much good. They can help themselves a lot by increasing their speed in a natural manner.

We show one method today — increasing the length of the push-away motion. This automatically increases the height of the backswing. The higher the backswing, the more speed on the ball. This assumes you don't let the backswing get above shoulder height, however.

If lack of speed is your problem, give this longer push-away motion a try. Push the ball straight out in front of you until your arms are fully extended. Because this extra push-away motion, as well as higher backswing, will take a bit more time, you should either slow down your footwork or increase the size of your steps. But don't let this affect your timing.

Bill Rigney Thinks So

Willie's Best Days Ahead?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Manager Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants sees the best years of Willie Mays "yet to come."

"I think Willie will hit .360 to .380 and win the triple crown one of these seasons," said Rigney as Willie took a first look at Seals Stadium where he'll be playing next season.

Asked if that big season might be 1958, Bill commented:

"There would be nothing wrong with that at all."

Mays made no predictions except to voice a belief that Seals Stadium, where the Giants will play until their new home is built, should give more advantage to him in the hitting department than did New York's Polo Grounds.

"I hit a lot to center field and left center," he declared. "Some that were outs there will be hits here."

National League opponents recall Willie led the league in hitting with .345 in 1954 and led in home runs with 51 in 1955. Last season he hit .333 with 195 hits and became the second man in major league history ever to hit 20 or more doubles, triples and home runs in a single season.

Fences here are more equidistant from home plate than those in the Polo Grounds. It's 350 feet to the right corner along the foul line, 404 to center, and 365 to left. The Polo Grounds had a layout 257 feet to right, then falling off to 458 in center and 296 to left.

Rigney says it probably will be better for all his hitters since they won't have the tendency to pull their hits aiming at the short corners.

Bears Deny Staff Dissension

CHICAGO (AP) — The Sun-Times said today there are reports that "the Chicago Bears coaching staff is riddled with dissension," but owner George Halas promptly termed the story "absolutely ridiculous."

The Sun-Times said observers close to the Bears think the trouble rests with "coaching inadequacies and lack of cooperation." It added that "the rest well may be a shakeup of the coaching staff, perhaps even before season's end."

Halas, in Sonoma, Calif., where the Bears are preparing for Sunday's National Football League game with the Los Angeles Rams, when informed of the story, told a reporter:

"Why, they're absolutely ridiculous in every respect. That is the most ridiculous story I've ever heard. We've got a well organized coaching staff and there's no dissension."

The Bears won the NFL Western Division title last year but have won only one of five league games this year.

The Sun-Times report that the "observers point to Clark Shaughnessy, veteran of many a fan's displeasure, as the cause of the trouble got a quick response from Halas.

"Why don't they name these silly observers. I'll be glad to answer them directly."

A spokesman for the Bears in Los Angeles, commenting on the Sun-Times story, said he "hated to dignify the story by commenting." But he told a reporter: "The Bears have the same coaching staff that won the Western Division title last year. There is nothing the matter with the coaching staff. When any team loses some games, particularly some games they should have won, there are always rumors of dissension among players, or dissension among coaches."

But the Sun-Times said:

"It is charged that Shaughnessy, now in charge of the defense, long has been at odds with Luke Johnsos, who shifted from defense to offense when Shaughnessy moved. It is hinted players have been caught in the crossfire between rival coaching factions.

"Meanwhile, the position of John L. (Paddy) Driscoll, head coach has become increasingly precarious.

"Stories of player dessension," the newspaper continued, "are discounted, but at least one Bear has expressed displeasure publicly over the generous praise heaped on Willie Galimore and at least two others, known to be playing their last year, often have seemed to be merely going through the motions."

Midland Built Its Powerhouse Team

MIDLAND (AP) — Midland high school didn't just "happen" to become the state's top high school football team. The Chemics worked on it.

Coach Bob Stoppert's 1957 team was believed to be still a year away from great things. Stoppert had some veterans and some inexperienced hands when he called the first practice this year. The fans around Midland planned on a good, solid team but few, if any, expected the Chemics to run over every opponent.

Three young men most responsible for the Chemics' six-game success are quarterback Mike Westley, halfback Leeroy Milner and tackle Roger Weaver.

Westley is a quick 180-pounder who has a 50 per cent completion record on his passes and a better than 3-yards-per-carry average on his rushing. Westley has thrown seven touchdown passes and caught a pair of TD passes himself.

Milner has averaged better than 100 yards rushing per game and also is a fine passer. He has thrown four touchdown passes, two of them in last week's all-important 20-14 triumph over Bay City Central for the No. 1 spot in the AP ratings. Running, Milner has averaged 8-yards-plus in more than 75 carries.

Milner is the team's best kicker with an average of 43.3 yards per punt. The crew-cut halfback also is a standout on defense and has intercepted a flock of enemy passes. Opponents have called the Chemics the team with the "dairyhorse backfield"—they are big as cows and fast as horses.

Midland has been noted for producing standout linemen in the past, and the head man in the Chemic forward wall this year is Weaver.

Weaver stands only 5-10 and at 180 pounds is one of the lightest members of the huge Midland line. But he has tremendous speed and captains the defensive unit, switching to defensive end when opponents have the ball.

Hartack Seeks Lead Role 3rd Straight Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Hartack, the energetic jockey who sets at least three records every time he wins a stakes race, today focused his sights on being the first to lead the nation's riders three successive years.

And the 24-year old reinsman from the soft coal fields of western Pennsylvania is well on his way toward achieving his goal after winning the title with 417 winners in 1955 and 347 last year. This year he has returned to the winner's circle 329 times for a spread of 50 over Willie Shoemaker, who holds the record with 485 victories in 1953.

"For the next four weeks I hope to ride as much as possible," Hartack said. "Then I'm taking my first vacation of the year—the month of December in Miami. That's definite."

Archery Program Begins Next Week at PHS Gym

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department and the Pontiac Archers are conducting an indoor archery program for all interested youngsters and adults

This program will be held in the Pontiac High School girls' gymnasium on Monday and Tuesday of each week, starting Nov. 4.

Instructions for beginners and archers wishing to improve their skill are scheduled every Monday.

Boys and girls from 7 through 12 years of age will receive instructions from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Teen-agers and adults hold classes from 7:30 to 9:00. Open practice shooting is slated from 9:00 to 10:30.

There is no charge for the program and all equipment will be provided. High-ranking men and women archers, all Pontiac club members, are instructors.

Every Tuesday night, starting Nov. 5, the Pontiac Archers Club will hold league competition, which is restricted to members only. There is a $5 family membership fee and a special fee for teen-agers to permit club participation.

Archery league competition begins at 7 p.m. The method of conducting team and individual competition will be decided at next Tuesday's 1st meeting.

Registration for the archery league can be made by calling Al Tang, FE 4-7673; the Parks and Recreation Department, FE 3-7173, or by reporting to the PHS girls' gym next Tuesday night.

The Pontiac Archers Club, in cooperation with the Parks and Recreation Department, will stage nine archery golf shoots this season at Municipal Golf Course. Two of these will be turkey shoots on the Sundays preceding Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Archery shoots are scheduled Nov. 24, Dec. 1 and 22, Jan. 12 and 26, Feb. 9 and 23, and March 9 and 23.

Balding Leads by 2 in San Diego Open

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The San Diego Open Golf Tournament goes into its third round today with Canadian Al Balding holding a two-stroke lead with a 13-under-par score of 131 for 36 holes.

His closest rivals were Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Texas, and Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., each with 133.

Balding, playing out of Miami Beach, Fla., used his own woods and putter but a set of borrowed irons in touring the 6,800-yard Mission Valley Country Club course yesterday in an eight-under-par 64. His first round was 67. Par is 36-36—72.

Next in order, all with 135s, were Billy Casper, San Diego; Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y., Don Whitt, Alameda, Calif., and Charles Sifford, Philadelphia.

Birmingham's cross - country team hopes for a high finish in the state meet Saturday, and Maples lean heavily on No. 1 man, Lee J. Tout (above).

Maples Lead Area Harriers

Hot Fight Looms for State Title

By H. GUY MOATS

Distance runners from the Pontiac area may have something very important to say about the division of Michigan High School cross-country honors, on Saturday, at Washtenaw CC near Ypsilanti. Annual state prep Class A-B-C runs begin at 10 a.m. with the "C" runners getting away first.

Hopes for top honors for area teams rests squarely on the sturdy Birmingham squad, led by Lee D. Tout. Pontiac High's Chiefs, headed by fast-improving Larry Beamer, converted state half-mile champion, is another real threat. Other area squads include Royal Oak Kimball, led by Tom Harris, Walled Lake and Hazel Park. Redford Union also qualifies.

The Berkley team did not qualify, but has last year's individual champion, Jerry Young, to combat Dick Darby of Arthur Hill, and Bill Milum, of Flint Central, among other pre-run favorites. Darby hung up a brilliant 9:55 in his recent regional win which the Hills team won by a tight squeak from the 1956 champions, Lansing Eastern.

Young's 10:10.5 at Farmington's regional is the area's best time of the fall, with Tout hitting 10:37 and Beamer running close to that figure. Young has lost but one race in 8 outings this fall — to Tout in triangular meet against Maples and RO Dondero. Young is 17, a junior. Tout, also 17, is a senior.

Among leading squads will be Arthur Hill, Lansing Eastern, Flint Central and Jackson.

Chief's 7-man team includes Beamer, state mile champion, Rog Coats, Ken Smith, Bob Hunt, Walt Chance, John Jefferson and Jon Sampson. PHS was 8th in the 1956 run, and coach Mike Andonian will be delighted if it does as well tomorrow.

Kermit Ambrose's Maple crew will include Tout, Dave Pew, Dick Boyd, Bob Benson, Fraser Cocks and Jim Reilly.

Tom Harris and Mike Harris run for Kimball; Frank Crowe for Hazel Park. Chet Wlodkowski is a St. Mary (OL) qualifier in Class C.

The Michigan harrier run is regarded as the largest prep cross-country meet in the nation, with 50 teams in the three divisions.

Distance, over hill and dale, is two miles.

Five Shutouts in NHL

Great Season for Goalies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Despite the Richard Brothers and the rest of Montreal's power-scoring Canadiens, this begins to look like a great season for National Hockey League goalies — who hage snared five shutouts in the last nine games.

Lorne "Gump" Worsley gained his second shutout of the campaign last night when the New York Rangers knocked off the Boston bruins 3-0. It was the fifth consecutive defeat for the fourth place Bruins, who hadn't been blanked on home ice in 43 games stretching back to March, 1956.

The victory lifted the second place Rangers to within three points of the league leading Canadiens, who escaped a shutout on Maurice Richard's 10th goal of the season in a 3-1 defeat by Toronto.

Red Sullivan, goalless until last night, hammered a pair of goals past Don Simmons, the only goaltender without a shutout in the NHL. Andy Bathgate counted the other Ranger score.

Richard's goal, with an assist from brother Henri, was the 503rd of his career and the only one of 34 Montreal attacks that got past Toronto goalie Ed Chadwick. The tail-end Leafs gained their third victory in nine games on second period goals by Billy Harris, Bob Pulford and Barry Cullen.

Webb Faces Vaughn in Televised Bout

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—While Carmen Basilio waits on Sugar Ray Robinson and the International Boxing Club to decide when he will defend his world middleweight title, the contenders are getting restless.

Spider Webb of Chicago, the No. 6 boy in the Ring ratings, will try to strengthen his claim tonight in a 10-round match with Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles at Madison Square Garden. Webb is the 13 to 5 favorite in the nationally televised bout.

Webb makes his second start in 16 days in his stepped-up campaign to reach the top of the division. He thinks he is ready for anybody, including Basilio, but would like to take on either Joey Giardello or Fullmer, the ex-champ, in the meantime. He already holds a decision over Calhoun, scored in 1956.

Vaughn, a year younger than Webb at 24, is a veteran of 55 fights with a 33-16-5 record, plus one "no decision" contest.

Redleg Gives Tebbetts Credit for Success in Major Leagues

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—The way Cincinnati's Frank Robinson tells it, 90 per cent of his recognition as The Associated Press Sophomore-of-the-year in the National League belongs to his manager, Birdie Tebbetts.

"He kept after me all the way, and that's what a young ballplayer needs, because all of us let down too easily, thinking we've got it made," the 22-year-old Redled said today on learning the results of the annual poll.

Robinson's 1957 performance at first base and in left field earned top billing for him and knocked the props from under the so-called "sophomore jinx." Robinson was the league's 1956 Rookie-of-the-Year.

"It's wonderful. I'll be up in the air about it for a week, and I doubt if I'll be much good to the Marines,' Robinson said here at the Marine recruit training base where he'll spend six months of reserve training to end April 1.

And the Oakland, Calif. wrist-hitter added:

"Most of the credit should go to manager Birdie. He's worked hard with his ballplayers, and particularly me. Ninety per cent of the credit for my success goes to him."

Stump Fence Era Near End

Helped Recall Days When Michigan Was Thriving Lumber Area

GRANT (AP) — The once-popular stump fence, last symbol of Michigan's great pine forests, is fading into history.

Science and the variances of economic conditions both contributed to the demise of the formidable fence style that reaches back to the era of the last century when Michigan was a thriving lumbermen's territory.

The stump fence came into being in the mid-1800s when farmers moved into land cleared by lumber firms and sought to reclaim it for crops.

They tugged and scattered stumps out of the earth—either with back-breaking ax and shovel work, with horses or with a stump pulling machine.

With the stumps out and the land cleared the farmers faced another problem in disposing of the stumps. Many were burned on the spot. Others were chopped up and hauled home for fuel. Some shrewd farmers devised the stump fence.

A stump fence consists of a row of stumps, their craggy limbs overlapping and forming a weird looking but efficient barrier to cattle.

The first crippling blow to the stump fences was dealt in the early years of the 20th century with the development of a fence of woven wire topped with a strand of barbed wire.

Then the downswing of the world economy in the 1930s took its toll. With the advent of the depression many families swarmed into the area of the stump fences around this west Michigan town in search of fuel. Stump fences provided what many of them needed.

Science gave the dying stump fence another blow with the single-strand electric fence that fitted better in the plans of farmers with modern equipment working larger fields.

With each new wire fence another stump fence, a relic from the years when Michigan was a frontier, goes up in smoke.

Group Tries to End Violence in Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—A federal parliamentary delegation sought today to end three days of violence in eastern Bolivia's oil-rich Santa Cruz Province.

Two persons were killed yesterday in the City of Santa Cruz in demonstrations against the federal government's taking all royalties from nationalized oil fields. Rioters attacked police headquarters, fatally stabbing a federal police agent, and a youth was killed in an exchange of gunfire in the main square.

The government Tuesday declared a nationwide state of siege —a modified form of martial law —because of violence in Santa Cruz and sent federal police to the jungle province on the Brazilian border.

A new series of long-playing records featuring reading of famed selections from Austrian literature by leading actors, is being marketed in Vienna.

College Entrance Exam Scores to Be Available

NEW YORK (AP) Students will be able to learn their scores in board tests next year, for the first time since 1916.

Many had worried whether their acceptance or rejection was by a wide or slim margin.

The board voted at a meeting yesterday to make the scores available.

The principal reason for secrecy was that the board felt the student might misinterpret his score if it were made available to him. This is because colleges, in making admission decisions, consider not only the score but also high school records, recommendations and other factors.

Sputnik Affects U.S. Business

More Federal Spending Sure to Aid Industries Involved With Missiles

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Keeping up with the Russians seems likely today both to help and to hurt business.

1. More government spending on missile and other defense programs and easing of government payment plans should help those industries directly and indirectly involved.

2. Chances of balancing the budget with room enough for a tax cut look slimmer because of Sputnik's nudge to spending.

President Eisenhower approves upping the 38 billion dollar defense budget by 400 million dollars. The fiscal pinch will be revealed first when the President offers his budget in January. It will actually be felt when the Treasury starts paying out more money and at the same time could find itself taking in no more or even less revenue.

Sputnik can't be blamed for any revenue drop. If one comes, it will be because business is now taking a breather, as the President says, and because the new crop of corporate earnings aren't waxing as fat as they did for some time.

Any turn down in the economy would show up in next year's tax collections.

If more spending and less revenues, or at least no greater collections, pinches the budget, everyone stands to lose in the dimmer hopes for tax cuts.

When economy was the key word in Washington, businessmen looked to a spurt in consumer spending as the chief hope for any gains next year.

Consumer spending will still be the chief item, but now more defense spending may provide the spur that could end the breather in the economy.

Lowering of the Pentagon's ceiling on pre-payments to missile and other defense contractors may have the more immediate effect.

Stocks Continue Yesterday's Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned lower in fairly active early trading today.

Leading issues took losses running from fractions to about two points. The decline was general.

The market was continuing the downward trend of late yesterday when profit-taking halted a three-day rally. A sharp decline in rail car-loadings which reflected a general falling-off in business, especially manufactured goods, was a depressing factor.

Gulf Oil, off around two, was an outstanding loser. Standard Oil (New Jersey) was off around a point.

Bethlehem Steel dropped a point at 39½ on a big opening block of 10,000 shares following its financial report which showed a drop in third-quarter earnings below the second quarter. U.S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet dropped around a point each.

Losses of a point or more were taken by Chrysler, Boeing, United Aircraft, International Nickel, Dow Chemical, General Electric and Illinois Central.

Opening blocks included Sears Roebuck off ⅛ at 253⅞ on 2,500 shares; Loew's off ⅛ at 11½ on 2,000; and U.S. Steel off ⅞ at 55 on 3,000.

Will Hold Mass Burial for Woodsman's Family

PICKFORD (AP) — A mass funeral service will be held tomorrow for the eight members of a woodsman's family who died in a home fire Wednesday.

Service will be held in the Baptist Church at nearby Hessel for Vernon J. Carrick, 45, his wife, Arelene, and their six children.

The eight died in a blaze that swept the family's two-story frame home in this north Michigan timber country town.

An 11-year-old girl, Rose Ellen, was the only member of the family to escape. Relatives have made arrangements to adopt the orphaned child.

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Michigan members of the American Assn. of Teachers of German and the Michigan Future Teachers Assn., will meet at Western Michigan University Saturday.

Imlay Granted $95,625 to Build Disposal Plant

IMLAY CITY — This city will receive a federal grant of $95,625.22 to assist in completing its sewage disposal plant which was started last July.

Now that the grant has been assured the village will ask for bids for building interceptors.

Total cost will be $318,754.06. The bond issue for building this plant was passed in May 1956 for $200,000.

It is expected building will be completed about August 1958. Progress to date has been completion of the foundation.

City Rehabilitation Gets Unofficial Nod

from the grant as funds for the detailed survey and planning stage of the work.

The city hired Geer Associates last March to revamp its nine-year-old master plan and to launch an overall city rehabilitation study.

ONLY THE BEGINNING

Geer said last night that the initial project is only the beginning. "Under very ideal conditions it will take 15 years to renew the things in Pontiac needing renewing," he said.

He added that the city was "basically in a very sound financial condition to continue urban renewal."

The time table for the number one project would be three months before approval of study funds, 10 to 15 months for approval of total project plans and funds, and three to five years after that for completion of the work.

Geer explained that the area was chosen because of its proposed use for a civic center, potential increase of more off-street parking, deterioration of homes, and the fact that it must be 55 per cent residential to qualify for federal aid.

851 FAMILIES IN AREA

He said there were 451 homes with, 851 families in the area to be cleared. Twenty-nine per cent of the homes are substandard according to a 1950 census, he added.

He emphasized that this would be a "spot clearance project" and not one where crews raze everything on the plot. Plans call for clearing 35 per cent of the area with the remaining 65 per cent to be rehabilitated or conserved.

"This area includes six per cent of all substandard units in Pontiac," the consultant said. It also consists of 66 per cent residential.

Taking into account property acquisition, site improvements and relocation and other costs, the total expenditures reach $4,030,372, Geer outlined. "These are only estimates subject to review," he stated.

Selling the cleared property back to new developers is expected to return $1,472,353. This subtracted from the four million dollar total gives the net project cost of $2,558,019.

Such projects as the proposed straightening of the Clinton River in the area and results of the citywide transportation study by the George Barton firm could be credited in the city's share of the work, City Manager Walter K. Willman said.

GM Terminates Policy of Limiting Dealerships

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors has terminated its policy of limiting new dealerships to replacements only.

The policy was adopted March 2, 1956, and extended through the 1957 model year.

Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, said the corporation does not plan any basic change in its policy of protecting its dealers' equities.

King-Seeley Purchases Queen Products, Inc.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — King-Seeley Corp., of Ann Arbor, has announced the purchase of Queen Products, Inc., of Albert Lea, Minn. Price was not announced.

A. N. Gustine, president of the auto parts firm, said the company borrowed five million dollars to finance the purchase.

JERRY'S BIG TREAT — Seven-year-old Jerry Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Dunn, of 781 Stirling Ave., discovered it paid to stay home Halloween night. Doing so, Jerry earned this new bicycle in the "Mystery Treat Night" contest drawing held each year by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce and Parks and Recreation Dept.

Lucky Jerry Stays Home, Wins Bike

The Fred D. Dunns didn't have any trouble getting their 7-year-old son Jerry up this morning.

At the crack of dawn Jerry was up and at 'em, hurried downstairs, and jumped on his shiny new bike to cruise the neighborhood, showing off his award for staying home on Halloween night.

Jerry, a second grader at Emerson School, was the lucky winner in the grade school class of the "Mystery Treat Night" program conducted annually by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Parks and Recreation Dept.

What made Jerry doubly happy was that this was the first bike he has owned.

Other winners in the grade school division were Beckie Forslund, 5, of 335 Voorheis Rd., winner of a radio, and Patrick Leonard, 8, of 65 N. Edith St., the winner of five silver dollars.

A wrist watch went to 12-year-old Doris Lester, of 429 Central Ave., as the first place winner in the junior high school class. Winning second prize in this class of a pen and pencil set was Sue Remley, 13, of 76 Oliver St. Randy Currey, 14, of 2540 Silverside Dr. won the third prize of five silver dollars.

Senior high school winners were 18-year-old David Ferguson, of 57 E. Yale St., a wrist watch, Lena Simmons, 16, of 250 S. Johnson Ave., pen and pencil set, and Nona Daugherty, 16, of 119 Omar St., five silver dollars.

To qualify for these and other prizes children had to be home to win the prizes.

City, county, and state police officials in the Pontiac area all reported a very calm Halloween night, with only a handful of minor vandalism calls.

Bridge Site Is Rich in Indian History

and contemplation, the plans for building a bridge got down to first definite form when Oakland County's Murray D. Van-Wagoner was State Highway Commissioner, and given a further boost when he was governor. Murray now is a member of the bridge authority.

Distinctly different from most of the other great suspension bridges, the Mackinac Bridge is not hidden by high banks on either side. In its entirety it rises from the water level. Its beautiful contour is apparent from every angle.

However, this fact made necessary suspension anchorages that had to be built, rather than tied into the high shores. They both are man made.

Both anchorages here are several hundred feet from shore. They are mammoth blocks of cement, sunken into the water. Only their tops are visible.

Some idea of their magnitude can be gained from the fact that each is almost the same size and shape of the Pontiac State Bank Building, weighing thousands of tons.

Into these the steel strands supporting the center suspension were imbedded after going over the top of the two towers.

The tooting of the last steam whistles and final sirens on the ferry boats today seemed to mark the end of an era. To me it created a feeling quite reminiscent of the clang of the last trolley car on our Saginaw Street, or the removal of the last hitching post.

David B. Steinman, world's greatest bridge builder, (he's designed 400 of them, built on five continents), is the man who gets the greatest credit for the erection of the Mackinac Bridge. It was his largest and most prideful job.

He said today, "I found the history of Chief Pontiac to be fully as interesting and entertaining as you said it would be. Without doubt, he was the greatest of Indian chiefs. Knowing about him and his rule in this area has added a further inspiration to the bridge construction."

For a hobby, Mr. Steinman writes poetry, and a number of volumes of his verse have appeared in book form, some running into second editions. At my request he composed the following sextet:

"If your great Chief
Pontiac,
Only now could hasten back,
I'd take him in a Pontiac car,
Round his realm, near and far;
Visit the city named for him,
Cross this bridge and say
amen."

Magnesium Plant Purchased by Dow

FREEPORT, Tex. (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. has purchased a government-owned magnesium plant here for $20,700,000. Dow has operated the plant since 1953 under lease.

Dow will pay one-third down for the plant and the balance within six years under terms worked out with the General Services Administration.

The plant was operated during World War II, but was closed in 1945. Dow operated it for the government to stockpile magnesium when it was opened again in 1951 because of the Korean war.

Facilities include eight electrolytic cell buildings, three seawater ponds, four acid plants, two rectifier installations, a sulphur burner plant, an alloy plant, a warehouse, a laundry and filtering, neutralizing and drying installations.

Garbage Fill Site Gets Tentative OK

TROY — The Southeastern Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority yesterday tentatively okayed purchase of a 164-acre land fill site here.

The authority is planning to buy a gravel pit located at Square Lake road, between John R. and Rochester roads, at a cost of $150,000.

Lyle J. Walker, site owner stipulated in the agreement that after the site is filled, the City of Troy must be given a chance to purchase the property. He also asked that a 40-acre tract be turned over to the city as a park site.

Mary Jean Hawley's Betrothal Announced

UTICA—Dr. and Mrs. Russell Hawley of 7871 Chapoton Street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jean, to Russell Clarence Weber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weber, of 20791 Twenty-One Mile Road, Mt. Clemens.

Wedding plans have not been revealed.

Little Rock Police Arrest City's NAACP President

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The president of the Little Rock chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People today surrendered to the police in compliance with a City Council order that all officers of the organization be arrested.

The NAACP official, the Rev. L. C. Crenchaw, was docketed on a charge of violating a new city ordinance which requires the association and certain other organizations to file membership and financial information.

Crenchaw, a Negro Baptist minister, went unaccompanied to the police station after being notified by telephone to appear. He immediately furnished bond of $300 and was released. Hearing was set tentatively for Monday.

The City Council last night voted unanimously to instruct police to arrest all NAACP officers they could find in this integration-troubled city.

Acting Mayor Lee H. Evans and seven alderman agreed on the action after the NAACP failed to obey a new ordinance which requires certain groups to bare their confidential files.

Deadline for submitting the information was yesterday.

Only two local NAACP officers were known to authorities and one of them, Mrs. L. C. Bates, was in New York. She is state president of the organization.

Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann notified the NAACP and three Little Rock segregationist groups Oct. 15 that they would have to make their records public under the new ordinance.

The NAACP this week filed a petition in U.S. District Court here requesting a restraining order to block enforcement of the ordinance and a hearing was set for Nov. 4.

All three of the segregationist groups—the League of Central High Mothers, the Freedom Fund for Little Rock and the Capital Citizens Council—submitted their records to the city yesterday.

Mann said after telling the four organizations to file their reports that he considered all were contributing to racial tension at Little Rock.

The federal-state deadlock over integration of nine Negro students at Central High School shows no sign of loosening.

Meeting Scheduled

IMLAY CITY — The Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular meeting Monday evening, at 6:30 p.m. in the basement of the Baptist Church. Special honor will be paid at this meeting to Carl Kempf and Brice Kempf who recently retired after operating Kempf's Shoe Store for half a century.

SYMBOL OF ROMANCE — Piper Laurie will star Sunday in "Changing Ways of Love," a three-decade survey of romance in America. The show is the first in CBS-TV's new "Seven Lively Arts" project, which, according to executive producer John Houseman, will attract viewers with "surprises."

First Program to Survey Love

'Surprises' Promised for the Viewers of New CBS-TV Show

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Television is about to receive the John Houseman "surprise" treatment.

"With surprise we hope to attract and hold a vast audience," says the executive producer of the big new "Seven Lively Arts" project which unveils over CBS-TV on Sunday.

Houseman, a veteran showman of stage and screen making his first major sortie on TV with the hour series, regards himself as a "man of maverick, screwball production."

"One thing I know," he declares firmly, "our first show will cause an outburst."

The topic of the initial telecast is "Changing Ways of Love," a three-decade survey of romance in America. Humorist S. J. Perelman has written the script and Piper Laurie is to be the feminine lead.

MAGIC INGREDIENT

Houseman feels that the magic ingredient in winning and holding fans in any entertainment medium is providing the unexpected. He stresses that the big word to him in the new enterprise is "lively."

Second Houseman program will concern the phenomenon of American jazz — "a great, huge jam session," he calls it.

After that will come a study of Hollywood's current worldwide film-making craze, an intensive picture portrait of New York City in off-guard moments, an examination of evangelism, and perhaps a program on sports greats.

The executive producer has been pursuing the lively in entertainment since he first began working with Orson Welles in the early Mercury Theater days.

More recently he has been responsible for such films as "Julius Caesar" and "Lust for Life," and is midway through a three-year tenure as boss of the successful Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Conn.

Television Stars Crash Society at Met Opening

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Once a year I mingle with the N.Y. Society Mob and hope my mother doesn't hear about it as she thinks I'm still going straight.

WILSON

Lately the nouveaux riches of TV are crashing. This morning after the Met Opera opening, Comedian George DeWitt panted with the news that he's flying to Rome to try to marry Hollywood actress Linda Christian.

"Why, George," I said, fixing him with my lorgnette, "I didn't know you were making that kind of scratch!"

Music lovers Bob Feller and his wife were there in white tie-and-tails and ermine . . . drinking beer, a nice Ohio, Iowa and all-round middle-western touch.

"Why shoudn't they drink beer if they like it?" said John Perona, the boss man. "You don't have to drink champagne just because you're dressed up. Besides," he shrugged, "it's all right—it's imported beer!"

LINDA CHRISTIAN

I couldn't see much at the Opera as I was blinded by Hope Hampton's necklace of 15 marquis diamonds, two-inch wide diamond bracelet, diamond cluster ring and gold-tinted fox cape over a molten gold gown. She wore no jewels at all on her right arm as she didn't want to seem ostentatious.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Russia's famous Bolshoi Ballet is now expected in N.Y. in the spring, imported by Sol Hurok . . . Arlene Francis devotes her Nov. 6 TV show to giving Jayne Meadows a baby shower and picking the girl baby's name. Jack Benny isn't such a tightwad. He put $25,000 in June Havoc's Broadway show, "One Foot in the Door," and chances he won't get to see it open . . . Miss Rheingold (Margie McNally) goes to court on a suit brought by a manager asking a division of loot.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Is about the cannibal tycoon who got rich peddling instant People. . . . That's earl, brother.

Policeman Catches Man Who Stole His Coat

CHICAGO (AP) — Policeman Charles Mueller stopped a car for a minor traffic violation last night, took note of the flashy garb of one of the occupants and hauled him off to the station.

The charge: Stealing a sports coat from Mueller's parked car a year ago. Mueller said James Davis, 22, admitted stealing the coat. The driver, Billy Roberts, 21, was charged with not having a light near his license plate.

Singer Weds Composer

PACIFIC PALISADES, Calif. (AP) —Vernon Duke, 54, who composed the romantic song "April in Paris" and other hits, is honeymooning with singer Kay McCracken, 23.

They were married here Wednesday night. It was the first marriage for both.

Gloria Grahame Divorces Producer

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Gloria Grahame, 32, whose 2½-year marriage was marked by three separations and three reconciliations, has divorced movie producer Cy Howard, 42.

She won her decree yesterday after testifying in support of a cruelty charge that Howard was "so domineering that it seemed impossible for us to get along together."

Howard agreed to pay $250 a month for support of a daughter, Marianna Paulette, 13 months. He also agreed to pay $300 a month alimony only if his earnings do not drop below $50,000 a year or his wife's do not exceed $10,000 a year.

Bob Hope TV Show of Nov. 7 Canceled

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bob Hope's television show schedulel for Thursday, Nov. 7, has been canceled, NBC announced.

Earlier, Timex Corp. had withdrawn sponsorship of the Hope program because he appeared as a guest on Frank Sinatra's ABC-TV show. The sponsor of the Sinatra show is another watch firm, Bulova.

NBC said another sponsor wanted to step in for Hope's show but there was not enough time to prepare commercials for Nov. 7. A new schedule for the Hope show will be announced.

Transportation Walkout Averted in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An agreement to continue negotiations averted a transit strike in Kansas City today.

Union employes of Kansas City Public Service Co. had scheduled a walkout at midnight.

The agreement to continue negotiations is binding until Nov. 6.

Operators of the company's buses and trackless trolleys now make $1.97 an hour and the company offered them a four-cent increase — two cents immediately and two cents Jan. 1. The union has not disclosed its demands.

Dynamite Blast Kills 5

Hal Boyle Says:

Women Give Up Halfway on Equal Rights

NEW YORK (AP) — Whatever happened to the equal rights movement, which was intended to give women the same rights as men?

Have the ladies gone soft? Very few of the ladies today seem to want to man the barricades in the fight for greater freedom for their sex.

Where are the turbulent feminists of yore? Where are the ladies who grimly paraded the streets in demand for equal rights, grimly stepping out of line only to slap the faces of jeering male bystanders? Where are the embattled Amazons of moral justice who dared jail terms, who boldly picketed the White House?

They won the right to vote, but where did they go on from there in the right to hold public office? A few won judgeships, a scattering of ambassadorial posts, a couple of Cabinet posts, a handful of seats in Congress, some governorships.

They now can outvote men, but what woman ever has been a major contender for the vice presidency or the presidency? Have the girls lost faith in themselves? Has a little small doubt crept into their minds that maybe, after all, women aren't really equal to men in the really top posts?

Women now hold 22 million jobs and make up about a third of the nation's work force. But they haven't yet been able to enforce their demand for a pay scale equal to that of men in the same jobs. They have moved into all the professions but in dismally small numbers and at a dismally slow pace.

The French feel theirs is a man's country and the United States is a hen-pecked land dominated by women. But the truth is that France has a far higher percentage of lady doctors, lady legislators, and lady lawyers than does America.

Here in the United States many industrial organizations which forcibly retire men at 65 forcibly retire their women employes at 60 or even 55, a policy which may or may not reflect corporate gallantry but certainly is a plain curb on woman's quest for equality of career opportunity and lifelong earning power.

"This is now a woman's world," say wily men who know better, and flattered women prefer to believe it rather than fight on.

But the fact is American women will never really win the full equality they once sought until they get the rust out of their minds and muscles and go back, united, into the battle.

Up, ladies! On, on, on!

Junior Editors Quiz on THE OLD WEST

QUESTION: Was Wyatt Earp really a hero?

ANSWER: There are two school of thought on the famous marshal of Dodge City. One, and currently the most popular, regards Wyatt as a fearless, conscientious peace officer who killed only when necessity required it, but was fortunate enough to have the quickest draw and deadliest aim in the West. The other looks upon Earp as a cold blooded killer who took fiendish delight in his work and once pistol whipped and later shot an unarmed man. The truth probably lies far in the middle between both versions. There is no denying that Earp had a long and successful career in bringing order out of chaos in frontier towns like Tombstone, Deadwood, Wichita and Dodge City. The fact that he not only survived but died peacefully in bed in California is a tribute to both his draw and aim, but whether he was the best shot or the most heroic marshal in the West probably never will be answered.

FOR YOU TO DO: Go to your local library and read about Earp's adventurous career. For your scrapbook, cut out, color and paste down this picture.
