U. S. Plane Cracks Up
on Han River Island;
5 Bodies Found

SEOUL (AP) — A burning U.S. transport plane crashed on an islet in the Han River yesterday.

At least 134 of the 159 Americans aboard were saved, but 5 bodies were found and it was feared the death toll might reach 25.

The pilot said an engine of the big C124 Globemaster ran wild, burst into flame and spewed chunks of metal into the two-story fuselage, tearing holes big enough for a man to walk through.

As the tide ebbed at the Han's mouth, today, permitting resumption of the search for bodies at the crash scene, Air Force officials listed 20 persons missing and Army officials listed 17. An Air Force spokesman said:

"It is very doubtful if they will be found alive."

The Air Force listed 134 rescued and the Army 137.

The troop transport—the Air Force's largest—took off from Kimpoo Airfield for Tokyo with 10 crewmen and 149 passengers, most of them servicemen looking forward to rest leaves in Japan.

Apparently none of the victims was from Michigan.

Lying on a stretcher at Tachikawa Air Base in Japan, the injured pilot, Capt. James Cartwright, 37, of Elkton, Ky., related what happened:

LANDED ON BELLY
"We landed on our belly. The first impact was smooth, but the second was a lulu. The next thing I knew I was in the water."

"I crawled on an ice floe and I like to freeze. People were pouring out of the plane and struggling onto a sand bar 50 yards from shore."

Peace Through Pigeons?

TOKYO (AP) — For quarrelling couples a 60-year-old Japanese bird fancier recommends pigeons — because "they are so intimate" and "represent a symbol of love and peace."

For frustrated housewives having trouble with playboy husbands he also recommends pigeons — because "they always come home to roost."

Yonosuka Itakura, director of the Japan Homing Pigeon Assn., has devoted more than 30 years to promoting the birds' care and welfare.

"Keep looking at a pigeon's eyes," he says with a smile, "and you're gradually carried away. The care of pigeons will cure a man who has a quick temper or has tendencies to resort to violence."

Talks to Eastern Troop

Wilson Stays Firm
on Guard Training

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, sticking to his guns on the six months training program for the National Guard, last night carried his argument into the opposing camp.

He was the honor guest at a dinner of the Philadelphia City Troop, one of the oldest Guard units in the nation.

The blunt, white-haired defense chief stirred a storm of comment last month when he remarked that some young men joined the Guard to avoid the draft during the Korean War.

Wilson, in an interview before his talk at the dinner, said he did not come to Philadelphia to apologize for his remarks about the Guard.

He declared he came here at the special invitation of Maj. Gen. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Pennsylvania's adjutant general, who has given his support to the Army-Wilson six months active duty plan. Numerous National Guard leaders favor only an 11-week program.

In his talk at the Philadelphia Guard unit's armory, Wilson departed from his prepared text and said he was "highly apologetic" for his comment on the Guard. That reference drew a burst of applause.

Wilson came to Philadelphia on a two-fold mission. He accepted in mid-afternoon an award given the Defense Department by the Freedom Foundation in a ceremony held at Valley Forge Memorial Park.

Hagerty said Mrs. Eisenhower has undergone a medical checkup about once a year since she has been in the White House.

Dems to Battle

Late Hours Session

GRAND RAPIDS — A battle loomed today as Michigan Democrats prepared to enter their spring nominating convention here. Top party leaders tried until the wee hours this morning to settle on a favorite for state highway commissioner.

At dawn, there was no clear decision. They were hoping to avoid a convention floor fight between five hopefuls, one of them an Oakland county man.

There was a possibility a compromise would be reached before the convention proper began at 11 a.m. At that time delegates were expected to adopt a platform backing Gov. Williams' educational and highway programs.

These were expected to emerge as big issues in the election campaign.

Delegates had also to nominate a slate of 10 candidates—three on the non-partisan ballot—to compete with the Republican ticket in the April 1st election.

HUNDREDS GATHER

As a convention prelude, several hundred delegates gathered in the Hotel Pindall ballroom to watch Williams cut birthday cake with a frosting depiction of the Mackinac bridge. Today is his 46th birthday. Among candidates giving the three minute speeches afterwards were two who went into the convention with Oakland County backing:

They are Irene Murphy, Birmingham business woman, and William H. Harvie, Southfield Township road contractor.

Mrs. Murphy, sister-in-law of the late Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy, seemed to have a clear road for nomination as University of Michigan regent.

Dock Strikers
Back at Work

Huge Backlog of Cargo
on Piers; Tugboat Men
Remain Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Dock men went back to work today on piers in New York and other Northeastern seaboard ports, ending a costly 10-day strike.

Signals summoning longshore gangs sounded at 7:55 a.m. and a few minutes later the docks buzzed with activity once more.

A huge backlog of cargo meant plenty of work ahead.

The scene was repeated elsewhere along the coast from Maine to Virginia following the signing of new contracts between employers and the 45,000 members of the International Longshoremen's Assn., who load and unload ship cargoes in the ports.

The men had been ordered to resume their tasks at 8 a.m. at some points, technicalities delayed the actual return a few hours.

However, some 4,000 striking tugboat workers yesterday rejected a proposed six-year contract to end the port work stoppage, now in its 23rd day.

U. N. Bloc Moves for Sanctions; U. S. Hoping to Avoid This Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration appeared firmly opposed today to any further U. S. concessions to get Israel to withdraw its troops from areas taken from Egypt.

Officials said Secretary of State Dulles, keeping close touch with President Eisenhower, is determined that Israel will have to modify its position. They said the U. S. position will not be altered.

The main contest was shaping up between two contenders: Thede C. Banhagel, superintendent of a Kalamazoo construction company, and John G. Mackie, Genesee County surveyor.

There were rumors circulated but unproven, that Banhagel was favored by the black-topping interests. This Banhagel and his chief supporter, Murray D. Van Wagoner, vigorously denied.

The former governor and one-time state highway commissioner charged in turn that Mackie could not legally serve in the office. He claimed this because Mackie is not a registered engineer.

Mackie, defending his candidacy admitted he is not registered with the state. He said in reply that Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Cavanaugh had considered that lack of registration was not a legal bar to his serving.

Israel's ambassador Abba Eban is flying back from Jerusalem after urgent consultations with Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion.

After a stop at London, Eban is due in Washington Sunday to pick up his talks with Dulles and other U. S. officials.

Eisenhower and Dulles are awaiting Eban's return reportedly with a new message from Ben-Gurion, before deciding on this country's next move on the question of sanctions against Israel.

AGAINST SANCTIONS

The Asian-African bloc yesterday moved formally in the United Nations for sanctions against Israel. The United States wants, if possible, to avoid such action.

Debate is scheduled to start in the U. N. Monday on the Asian-African proposal to condemn Israel and invoke economic and military measures against that country.

Famed Jurist Medina
Would Let Reds Go Free
Rather Than Take Rights

NEW YORK (INS) — Judge Harold R. Medina, who presided at the 1949 trial of the 11 top Communists leaders, would rather see every Red go scot free than water down the protection of the fifth amendment.

Medina, now a member of the federal court of appeals was guest of honor at the Washington's birthday dinner of the Sons of the Revolution last night in New York. He was awarded the organization's gold medal in recognition for outstanding public achievements.

"The privilege against self-incrimination," he declared, "extends to Communists as well as others who may be charged with crimes, and their rights must be upheld no matter how mischievous or dangerous they may be."

"I would rather see every Communist go scot free than in any manner diminish the forces and vigor of a single one of our precious freedoms."

Thugs Pummel Lathrup Man

Victim Pistol-Whipped by Gas Station Bandits, Listed as Serious

Two thugs pistol-whipped a Lathrup Village man at his Detroit gas station last night because he "apparently didn't lay down fast enough."

Rasso Deininger, 45, or 19617 Coral Gables, was in critical condition when admitted to Receiving Hospital after the beating. His condition today is listed as serious.

Deininger said he was sitting at a desk when the two men entered the office of his station at 2450 E. Grand Blvd.

"They were both brandishing pistols," said Deininger. "First they told me to stand up from my desk, and then they told me to lay down on the floor. I guess I didn't move fast enough."

"They both began swinging at my head with their guns. One of the pistols accidentally went off. That's the last thing I remember before passing out."

Deininger was found by Robert Kriger, 57, of 6775 Paige, Van Dyke, who stopped at the station for gas.

Police said Deininger's rear pocket had been ripped off, his wallet was missing and a safe had been rifled. The thugs, however, missed $200 in an inside pocket. It has not been determined how much was taken from Deininger's wallet and the safe.

Wilson Still Wants Training for Guard

phia to be met by the mounted First City Troop escort—on horses borrowed for the occasion from the City Mounted Police unit because the National Guard unit now employs only tanks—and was driven to the National Guard armory in downtown Philadelphia.

The troop members were clad in their historic buff and silver buttoned uniforms, dating back to 1890. The actual combat record of the unit goes to the Revolution.

Wilson, in a pre-address interview refused to say specifically that his visit was an effort to appease the National Guard.

In his speech he said:

"Never for one moment has the valor of the members of the National Guard, or the great traditions of its accomplishments on the battlefield, been questioned. But there is grave doubt as to the adequacy of their training and as to the readiness for future emergencies."

At issue is the Army's order that starting April 1 all National Guard recruits will train with the Regular Army for six months. The Guard has advocated a training program of 15 weeks and some members of Congress have questioned the need of the entire program.

NO PRIOR SERVICE

Wilson recalled that the Army has ordered that effective April 1 all persons joining reserve components including the Guard, who do not have prior military service, must receive six months of active duty training.

He said he has approved that program, and said: "You are aware of the controversy which grew out of this decision in regard to the training of the National Guard and which has quite properly aroused such wide public interest. Actually, the area of difference is a very narrow one."

"The President, the Department of Defense, the National Guard Assn., and the Congress are in agreement that a minimum of six months of sound military training is highly desirable for the members of the Army National Guard, as well as the Army reserve."

To Tackle New Duties

Anderson Resigns Post as Waterford Supervisor

LLOYD ANDERSON

Lloyd Anderson presided over his last Waterford Township board meeting as supervisor last night. He submitted his resignation, effective immediately, which was accepted by the board.

Anderson was elected First District state representative last November and will devote his time to his new duties.

In his letter of resignation, terminating six years of service to the township, Anderson thanked his fellow board members for their cooperation and pledged his support to his successor.

The board delayed until its regular meeting Monday the naming of an acting supervisor to hold office until the April 1 election.

TRAFFIC REPORT

In other action, the board heard a report from Police Chief Frank Van Atta regarding a traffic survey made Feb. 14 by Robert O. Gaud, Oakland County Road Commission traffic engineer, and Sgt. Charles Mulich and Cpl. Hubert Potter, of the Michigan State Police.

Surveys were made at Pontiac Watkins Subdivision and Lorraine Manor Subdivision for speed limits and stop signs. Recommendations called for "no parking at any time" signs to be posted at bridges over the Clinton River; Beachland, Crescent Lake road, and Pontiac Lake road.

A 40 m.p.h. speed limit was recommended for Pontiac Lake road from M59 to Airport road.

The recommendations were made pending final approval from Lansing.

Harvie last night was given a good chance, but only if the fight between the top candidates ended in deadlock. Both Harvie and Banagel served on the State Highway Department under Van Wagoner.

Harvie also was a member of the Wayne County Road Commission for 10 years. Another candidate with Oakland County backing seemed sure of nomination, he is Lynn M. Bartlett of Grosse Pointe Woods, running unopposed for the nomination as superintendent of public instruction that he won two years ago.

COURT CANDIDATES

The candidates for Supreme Court justice also were unopposed. They are incumbent Justices Palbert Smith and John D. Voelker as well as Cavanagh.

From Williams on down there was an emphasis on the non-partisan in which Democrats hoped to gain a substantial majority in the state's top court. There were more than a dozen candidates for other posts to be filled, including: Two members to the State Board of Agriculture; One member to the State Board of Education, and a second member to the regent's board.

The Oakland delegation elected four members to the state central committee; they are: Mrs. Harriett Phillips of Huntington Woods, Mrs. Leona Simmons of Pontiac, Leonard Bennett of South Lyon and Robert Boyer of Pontiac.

30 Hurt, 1 Dies in School Fire

400 Terrified Children Dash to Safety From Carolina Blaze

MOUNT AIRY, N. C. (U. S. — All but one of more than 400 terrified youngsters scrambled out of windows or dashed through doors as a lightning-fast fire raged through their school here yesterday.

The toll stood today at one dead and about 30 injured. The school is a smoking ruin.

Many of the grade-school children teetered fearfully on window ledges of the one-story brick building and had to be helped or pushed out.

Several teachers suffered painful injuries as they herded their charges to safety. At least one was burned critically in the room where a boy's body was found.

A. P. Phillips, principal of the Flat Rock School, said, "We never dreamed anybody could get trapped with so many exits." There were four, two at both front and rear.

The fire started at the rear of the auditorium surrounded by classrooms.

"It's unbelievable how fast the flames and smoke filled the building," Phillips said.

Firemen said the building, erected about 1925, was destroyed in less than an hour after the fire started about 1:15 p.m.

Larry Adams, nine-year-old third grader, was the only one who didn't get out. His teacher, Mrs. Cora Beasley, was among five critically burned. Spectators said they assumed Mrs. Beasley had tried to the last to help Larry escape.

Call 200 Police to Force Control of Rock 'n' Rollers

NEW YORK (INS) — Nearly 200 policemen, many of them mounted on horses, patrolled New York's Times Square before dawn today to prevent a repetition of yesterday's bedlam at the premiere of a rock 'n' roll movie and stage show.

By 4 a.m. there were already almost 200 teenagers lined up outside the Paramount Theater for today's performances.

Yesterday police were taken by surprise when more than 5,000 screaming youngsters showed up for the show, which features Alan Freed, a disc jockey who claims the distinction of having coined the phrase "Rock 'n' Roll."

The Times Square area was pandemonium for hours. Traffic was blocked and the theater's glass-enclosed ticket office was smashed.

Inside, barefoot girls and leather-jacketed boys danced in the aisles. The rhythmic pounding of feet actually caused the building to sway, and firemen came to second balcony as a precautionary measure.

To Fred, the whole thing was "delightful." To veteran police, it was the wildest demonstration of youth hysteria since the early days of Frank Sinatra nearly two decades ago.

County Schools Get $801,601 in Bell Tax

Oakland County school districts received a total of $801,601 from Michigan Bell Telephone Co.'s 1936 tax payment to the state Primary School Fund, the firm revealed today.

Pontiac school system netted $117,277 as its share based on a school census of 21,850. The total Oakland County school census was 149,274, according to Ray H. Storm, company manager here.

Michigan Bell said that its contribution in 1936 to the state school fund of $9,792,322 was the largest in the company's history and larger than any other firm's.

It came to $5.37 for each youngster in the state between the ages of five and 19.

400 Residents to Star in 1st Ice Show Sunday

BIRMINGHAM—About 400 skaters will take part in the first Birmingham Recreation Board-sponsored ice show at the Elton Rink at 7:30 tomorrow night.

Vivian Heard, program director, said so far as she knows, this is the first time such a show has been presented in the United States.

Performers have been chosen from among the rank and file of those participating in rink activities.

"Birmingham," Miss Heard said, "may be followed by other communities in this kind of a program, but it can rightfully be proud of being the first."

A group of 75 beginners in costume will bring several Mother Goose characters to life, as they take to the ice.

Another highlight of the show will be the skaters' square dance, with Don Parry as caller. There will be ballet, waltz and solo numbers.

Bloomfield Township residents are reminded of the Feb. 23 deadline for the payment of 1936 county and school taxes. Unpaid taxes will be returned, "delinquent," to the county treasurer's office in Pontiac, where a penalty will be assessed.

Feb. 23 will also be the final day for purchase of dog licenses at the township hall. The treasurer's office in Pontiac will handle sales after that date.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Estes will talk of their work at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital when they are guests of the Altrusa Club at a 7 p.m. dinner Tuesday at the Community House.

Mrs. Estes will talk on the social program and rehabilitation work at the hospital. Estes' topic will be "Facts about Michigan's Senior Citizens."

The Ruth Shain International Relations Class, meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the Community House, will hear Mrs. Samuel Duncan present a survey on "Our Program in the Near East."

The group also will discuss what President Eisenhower wants as a foreign relief policy. Six members who heard Barbara Ward, associate editor of the London, England, Economist, speak on "The Necessity of Unity and Understanding in a Free World" at Ann Arbor recently, will report on her address.

James' mother, Mrs. Dorothy Brown, 52, of 1334 Brooklyn St., and Jackson were killed instantly. Driver of the truck, Merle Linder, 35, of Palo, was not injured.

SAN FRANCISCO (U. S. — A committee of municipal judges rejected Gov. Goodwin Knight's suggestion that all drunk drivers be jailed. "Taking the offender's driver's license away is a greater deterrent than sending him to jail," said Judge Carl H. Allen.

"Besides, drunk drivers don't cause as many accidents as speedsters."

SEX HORMONES

That's one of the reasons, according to Watt, why studies are being made on hormones.

There's a possibility that the female sex hormones help prevent heart disease because women seem to have less heart difficulty before change of life.

"Here's where your basic research comes in," says Watt. "To the average person hormones might not seem related to heart disease, but more knowledge about them could mean an important help ahead."

Paint Resembles Natural Wood

Tests Prove It Durable; Lasts Just as Long as Ordinary Surface

A new finish for home exteriors which combines high weatherproofing abilities with the beauty of natural wood grain has been developed by the Forest Products Laboratory in Madison, Wis.

The new finish, described in a light-construction industry magazine, is applied in one coat, needs no varnish and will last at least four years, the life of an average paint job.

It can be made in a variety of reds and browns, including cedar and redwood shades, ideal for the popular modern finishes on siding, doors and windows of ponderosa pine, and trim. The finish wears away without cracking, chipping or peeling, leaving an easy surface to refinish.

On smooth, new wood, such as on the exterior surface of doors and windows of ponderosa pine, a single application is recommended. This brings out the rich, full grain of the pine, giving it a soft, long-lasting sheen.

THE FORMULA
The formula for a 14-gallon batch of the finish in dark red-wood is:

Raw linseed oil ..... 3 qts.
Mineral spirits of turpentine 1 qt.
Burnt sienna color-in-oil ... 1 oz.
Raw umber color-in-oil ..... 1 oz.
Pure red iron oxide color-in-oil ..... 2 oz.
Paraffin wax ..... 1/4 lb.
Pentachlorophenol concentrate ..... 1 pt.
Zinc stearate ..... 1/2 oz.

Heat the paraffin and zinc stearate until it mixes uniformly. Pour the mineral spirits into a separate 2-gallon can, then add the mixture to it, stirring vigorously.

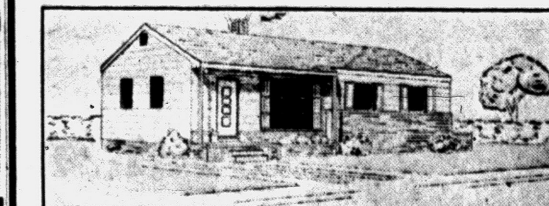

(CAUTION: There should be no open flame in the room when the paraffin mixture is added to the mineral spirits.)

Allow the solution to cool to room temperature, then add the pentachlorophenol concentrate and follow with the linseed oil. Stir in the color-in-oil a little at a time.

Trees Good Investment

Wisdom Saves Forests

Forest conservation means use of the forests and the growing of successive crops of trees on the same land, points out the National Lumber Manufacturers Association. This requires harvesting of mature trees before they fall prey to insects and disease, thinking of young stands to increase their growth and quality, and reforestation by planting or natural means.
