Earnings $40 Million
Higher Than Previous
Record for Period

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors made $40 million more in the first quarter of 1963 than in any other first quarter in its history.

The net of $414.3 million or $1.45 per share, was the second best for any quarter, trailing only the final three months of last year.

Dollar sales came within a whisker of setting an all-time record at $4.14 billion. The high mark is $4.19 billion in the last quarter of 1962.

Worldwide car and truck sales of 1,512,000 were the highest ever.

In a statement accompanying the report released last night, Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President John F. Gordon found things bright all around for their vast corporation.

They commented that not only is the demand strong for GM cars and trucks, but that it is excellent for GM's non-automotive products as well.

Not a word was said about increased costs, nor was there any speculation as to what the increased price of steel, which came after the quarter ended, might do to car prices in the fall.

Donner and Gordon said that first-quarter sales set a record in Canada and overseas while sales for the first six months of the 1963 model year in the United States were the highest for any two consecutive quarters at 2,437,000 cars and trucks.

The first quarter far eclipsed the start of 1962, which at that time set records for income, dollar sales and earnings per share.

The net a year ago was $374 million, or $1.31 a share, on sales of $3.65 billion. Last year's figures included a special $28-million dividend from Ethyl Corp. General Motors sold its half of Ethyl last November.

Rain Likely in Area, Says Weatherman

Better take raincoats and rubbers along if on an outing to-night.

The weatherman said skies will be cloudy with showers likely. The low will be about 40.

Fair and mild with temperatures climbing to a high of 61 is Friday's forecast. Cloudy with gentle showers late in the day is the outlook for Saturday. Morning westerly winds at 10 to 15 miles per hour will become light and variable late tonight and tomorrow.

Thirty-four was the lowest temperature reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The recording at 2 p.m. was 62.

School Bus Bill OK'd by House

Measure Sent Back to Senate for Changes

LANSING (AP) — A bill requiring public school systems which provide bus transportation to pick up parochial and private school pupils passed the House by an 86-24 vote yesterday.

But the controversial measure, which originated in the Senate, goes back to that body for concurrence in changes incorporated in a substitute bill.

If the Senate agrees to the amended version, the proposal then will go to Gov. George Romney for his signature. Romney already has expressed support for the principle of the bill.

Under its provisions, nonpublic school students would be provided with the same bus transportation offered public school pupils. Districts not now furnishing transportation would not be affected.

Supporters of the measure argued that parents of children who are sent to parochial or private schools pay the same taxes that are levied on the parents of public school students—and therefore are entitled to the same governmental services.

Opponents contended, however, that sending children to nonpublic schools forfeits the right of parents to public school transportation because public school education is available to everyone.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Catholic Welfare Conference lists 17 states as permitting parochial students to ride public school buses.

Maryland follows this policy in some counties, and Montana does so if students pay a fare. A law permitting this practice recently was declared unconstitutional in Alaska.

ATTALA, Ala. (AP) — An arrest has been made in the rifle slaying of a white instructor who was making a pilgrimage to Mississippi, the DeKalb County sheriff's office said today. (Earlier story, Page B-5).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Commerce Department official told Congress today that the steel industry appears to be preparing for a possible strike next month because the companies are producing much more steel than is being consumed.

Passes in House

OK Redistricting Plan

By JIM DYGERT

Another congressional reapportionment plan appeared suddenly in the State House of Representatives yesterday, winning approval in a 57-49 party-line vote.

Democrats cried "gerrymandering" and "Hoganizing" as they fought the new plan in vain.

But the plan's division of Oakland County into two districts was exactly the same as one of two plans proposed weeks ago by the Oakland County Democratic Party.

Hastily drawn up yesterday by Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township, the plan would put the areas of Troy, Bloomfield, Southfield and Royal Oak (Oakland County's southeast corner) in a smaller 18th district.

The 18th now takes in the entire county and its population is now estimated to be more than 700,000.

The rest of the county would join Livingston County in the new 19th Congressional District which Michigan received as a result of the 1960 census.

The House-approved plan, substituted for a Senate-passed bill, was expected to end up in a joint Senate-House Conference Committee to resolve the many differences between the two bills.

Hogan, chairman of the House Apportionment Committee, and Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, will lead the committee's efforts.

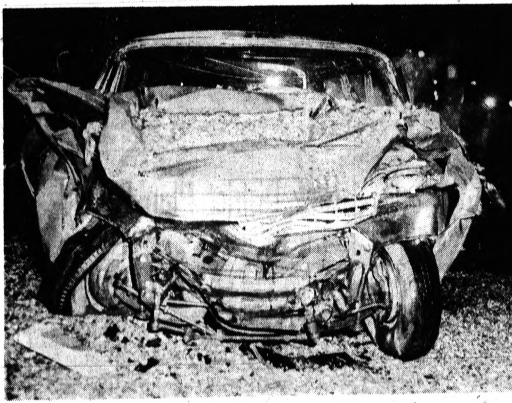

Although normal deadline for Conference Committee reports is tomorrow, the deadline may be extended to the June 7 date set for the legislature's formal adjournment.

The Senate bill, sponsored by Roberts, would also put Farmington Township in the 18th, and put Lapeer and St. Clair counties in the 19th instead of Livingston County.

RESOLVE DISPUTE

Hogan said today that his latest plan resolved the dispute among

Two Persons Were Killed When This Car Hit a Truck

Area Pair Dies in Fiery Collision

A fiery crash in Orion Township took the lives of an area man and woman last night.

The driver of the truck, Billie M. King, 25, of 3876 Greenfield Road, Berkley, told sheriff's deputies he was traveling south on M24 at about 20 miles per hour when the accident happened.

"I noticed a pair of lights in my rear-view mirror and then felt the impact," King told police. He said the impact knocked his truck ahead.

King said he immediately stopped the truck and jumped from the cab to give assistance but the car was already burning.

The accident occurred about 11:30 p.m. on M24 just north of Silver Bell Road.

The driver of the truck, Billie M. King, 25, of 3876 Greenfield Road, Berkley, told sheriff's deputies he was traveling south on M24 at about 20 miles per hour when the accident happened.

"I noticed a pair of lights in my rear-view mirror and then felt the impact," King told police. He said the impact knocked his truck ahead.

King said he immediately stopped the truck and jumped from the cab to give assistance but the car was already burning.

"It burst into flames immediately," said King.

Sheriff's deputy Jack Davis said the car was enveloped in flames when he arrived at the scene.

The Lake Orion Fire Department arrived a few minutes after Davis and extinguished the blaze.

It has not been determined if death was caused by the crash or fire.

King told police that it was unlikely that the rear tail lights of his truck were off when the collision occurred because he had checked them before leaving Oxford shortly before they were working properly.

Police said the light wires were severed in the crash. The truck suffered no fire damage.

Fritsch's body will be at Flumerfelt Funeral Home in Lake Orion. Service arrangements for Mrs. DeKover are being handled by the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home in Milford.

Harriman in Moscow

Seek K's Support on Laos

JFK See Cold War Issues in Balance

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy believes that if Russia fails to honor her commitments on Laos, the chances of settling Berlin and other cold war issues will be drastically reduced.

While being obviously wary of discussing the subject, Kennedy managed at his news conference yesterday to dramatize official concern over the threat by Communist forces to destroy the independence and neutrality of the Laotian kingdom.

His meeting with newsmen came shortly after the Pentagon announced it had ordered 3,000 troops and some jet planes into Thailand next month for maneuvers. Communist-threatened Thailand borders Laos.

In an opening statement, Kennedy announced that W. Averell Harriman, undersecretary of state would travel to Moscow today bearing a presidential message to Soviet Premier Khrushchev on the situation in Laos.

"WILL KNOW MORE"

Kennedy said, "We will know a good deal more about the prospects" once Harriman completes his mission.

Kennedy said the 14-nation Geneva agreement last year guaranteeing Laotian independence and neutrality was "a test of whether it is possible for an accord between countries which have serious differences . . . to be reached and maintained."

The President said "If we fail in Laos, I would think the prospects for accords on other matters which may be geographically closer to us would be substantially lessened."

He appeared to be challenging Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to prove that his professed policy of "peaceful coexistence" had not been abandoned in Southeast Asia under pressure from Red China.

Noting the control exercised by the Soviet Union in Laos as recently as last July, when East-West agreement was reached at Geneva, Kennedy said the next few weeks should show "whether the Soviets maintain the same degree of control now, whether they desire to maintain their influence, and whether their influence will be thrown in the direction of a maintenance of the Geneva settlement."

Russia has refused to join Great Britain — the two countries were co-chairmen of the Geneva conference — in an appeal for all sides to observe the 1962 agreement on Laos unless the statement contains a paragraph blaming the United States for the recent outbreak of fighting.

Britain has rejected this condition.

Envoy Carries JFK's Message to Russ Chief

Expects Red Leader to Help Bring Peace to Asian Country

From Our News Wires
MOSCOW—U. S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman flew into Moscow today to bid for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's support in bringing the peace in Laos.

The U. S. presidential envoy carried a special message from President Kennedy to Khrushchev and also planned talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Harriman said he was "hopeful" that agreement could be reached to end the new flare-up of fighting in the southeast Asian kingdom.

Asked if he expected to see Khrushchev, to deliver the letter and discuss the outbreak of hostilities in Laos, Harriman said:

"I expect to see Chairman Khrushchev, of course."

"I have no reason to believe that Mr. Khrushchev does not intend to carry out the agreement reached on the neutrality of Laos."

The 72-year-old State Department trouble-shooter arrived from London aboard a Soviet TU104 jet airliner on his urgent "save-the-peace" mission.

SEES REPORTERS
Harriman told reporters at Moscow's International Airport that Khrushchev had indicated to President Kennedy in Vienna two years ago that he intended to keep neutralist Laos free.

"This is one subject on which the President and Mr. Khrushchev agreed in Vienna — on the independence and neutrality of Laos," Harriman said.

Harriman, who had told newsmen in London the United States would take "no nonsense" from the Communists in Laos, said Kennedy was "very anxious" to see that the Laos accord reached in Geneva last summer is carried out.

Kennedy Raps Cuba Critics

Asks Detractors if They Favor War

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has challenged critics of his Cuban policy to say whether they advocate going to war to topple Fidel Castro.

That's the question being side-stepped by those who call for a more militant policy against Cuba's Communist regime. Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

And except for going to war, the President declared, "I would seem to me that we have pretty much done all of those things that can be done to demonstrate hostility to the concept of a Soviet satellite in the Caribbean."

Kennedy addressed himself to two recent Republican critics—former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York — as the Cuban question vied with the tense situation in Laos for preeminence at the conference.

"CAN'T DO JOB"

"Unleashing the exiles cannot do the job" of toppling Prime Minister Castro, Kennedy said in rejecting a proposal put forward last Saturday by Nixon.

And Kennedy rejected Keating's contention that Soviet troops arriving in Cuba in recent weeks had about equaled the number withdrawn.

"It is our best information that 4,000 or 5,000 have left since January, and that there has not been an equal number come in. In fact, much, much less, 300 or 400 at the most," the President said.

These figures have "been gathered by our intelligence sources," Kennedy said, inviting Keating to supply the government with the source of his information for purposes of evaluation.

The President said he is certain neither he nor Keating is challenging the other's good faith a point seconded by Keating in a statement after the conference. But, in it, Keating said, "I stand by my figures. I believe that if the President will consult his own intelligence community he will revise his estimates upward."

OTHER SUBJECTS

On other subjects, Kennedy made these points:

Canada — He will meet with Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson on May 10-11 at Kennedy's vacation home in Hyannis Port, Mass., to discuss "the many important questions of common interest" between their countries.

Summit — There are no plans for him to meet with Khrushchev and it did not seem that such a conference "would be useful, unless we were in agreement upon a test case, which we are not now."

Lead Fizzles; Four Convicts Still at Large

JACKSON (UPI) — State police saw another lead on the four escaped convicts turn to dust early today after Ohio authorities had informed them that two of the four convicts who escaped from prison here had been spotted near Alger, Ohio.

State police said the identification of the two men checked out even to a limp and missing teeth described by one of the witnesses.

But as it turned out it was just another false lead.

State police said patrons at a bar near Alger supposedly spotted James J. Hall, 40, Battle Creek, and Richard E. Mauch, 40, Lansing, and identified the pair from police photographs.

An Ohio highway patrol officer said after the leads had proved to be false that, "It looks like we've run into a dead wall. There are no clues, no information, no nothing."

LEAVE NO TRACE

The fugitives broke out of the maximum security block of the Southern Michigan Prison Tuesday morning and have eluded police and deputies ever since.

One report yesterday sent about a hundred sheriff's deputies and state police troopers into the South Haven area on a tip by a couple that three "suspicious men" had been seen running into heavy underbrush.

That tip turned to ashes too.

Judge Admires Short Skirts

LONDON (AP)—"Girls do wear short skirts most of the time," said High Court Judge Sir Richard Elwes, "and pretty, shapely legs are admired in our time, and I think rightly so."

Then he awarded 1,384 pounds—$3,875—in damages Tuesday to Vivian Pettit, 26, whose pretty legs were injured when a motorist hit her scooter. The crash left a bad scar, and one of her legs was noticeably bowed.

"It is the kind of disfigurement that a young woman has to worry about," said the judge. "I think a girl is entitled to feel unhappy about having ugly legs."

Lebonhom currently is serving as chairman of the bi-partisan canvass board, which last week failed to reach agreement on certification of the results of the April 1 election.

Ending Cocktail Parties Requires Major Planning

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals today is the problem of winding up a cocktail party. Wives like to throw a cocktail party because they feel in this way they can pay off all their small social obligations in a single evening.

It sounds so simple the way they put it. "We'll invite everybody from 5 BOYLE until 7:30," they say. "When they see that on the note, they'll know we don't intend to serve dinner."

Such a blithe attitude only reflects the triumph of feminine hope over bitter experience. Everything in nature is supposed to have a beginning, a middle, and an end. But a cocktail party defies nature. Once started, it tends to go on forever.

As a matter of fact, it is said that in Greenwich Village several cocktail parties started in the 1920s are still going on merrily. A cocktail party in your own home starts off deceptively enough. The guests, glass in hand, stand around staring at each other with silent mutual dislike. But two hours later they are as chummy as a bucket full of worms.

Everybody loves everybody. The faint tinkle of conversation has become a steady rain. The clock's hands move on past 7:30 to 8, then to 9, then to 10. Hardly anyone has left. Tactful suggestions about going out for dinner fall on deaf ears. The guests prefer to raid the refrigerator.

But what can you do to break up a cocktail party?

Here are a few time-tested measures:

1. You turn off the lights and shout through a megaphone, "You don't have to go home, folks, but you can't stay here." Unfortunately, this hint won't affect many guests. They'll simply stay on and start smooching in the dark.

2. Announce loud and clear: "After midnight, the house will assess a $5 corkage and cover charge." This doesn't work too well either. Most guests will either write you rubber checks or try to use their credit cards.

3. Paint lipstick dots all over your wife's face and lead her from guest to guest asking, "Do you think she's come down with the measles—or could it be the bubonic plague?" This tactic should thin out the crowd by about a third.

4. Don't wait for the annoyed neighbors to call the police. Phone them yourself. The trouble here is that the police, when they do arrive, are likely to take off their coats and join the party.

5. Call the fire department and offer the captain $25 if he'll turn a hose on the remaining guests and flush them out the front door.

If none of these measures work, you have one final recourse. Pack a bag at the height of the merriment and leave quietly with your wife on a two-week vacation.

When you get back, there may still be half a dozen guests gamely trying to keep the party going. But chances are they'll be in such a weakened condition that you can throw them out bodily. Then you and the wife can cele-

House Member Asks Support of World Fair Bid

LANSING (AP)—A resolution congratulating a group of citizens for attempting to promote a world's fair in Detroit in 1972 has been introduced in the House.

The resolution, by Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, noted that Detroit is within one-day's drive of at least 100 million people in the United States and Canada who might visit such a fair.

Such a fair, the resolution said, would reflect a true picture and image of Detroit and Michigan to millions of visitors from all parts of the world.

H. Russel Holland

Former Judge H. RUSSEL HOLLAND, who died this week, was a successful man in every way. His years of service as an Oakland County jurist will long be remembered.

He had a well-developed sense of fairness and he never allowed any selfish interest to interfere with what he thought was right. RUSSEL HOLLAND was the sort of man who was looked up to because of his high ideals.

It can certainly be said that Judge Holland, with his Southern drawl and quick wit, was an asset to this community. From the day he set foot in Pontiac, his entire life was spent working for the betterment of his fellow-man. Throughout the years and particularly at retirement he had received many formal honors. It was just a few weeks ago that this newspaper eulogized with respect and affection his outstanding qualities.

We are saddened along with his many friends that his retirement was cut so short. The "Judge," as he was still so fondly referred to, spent the afternoon before his death with his real cronies, the Oakland County Bar Association. His passing leaves us poorer, but his record and image should be a permanent inspiration to others.

NFL Commissioner Made Right Decision

There apparently is no doubt that PAUL HORNUNG and ALEX KARAS are guilty as charged. They have admitted betting on games. The penalty seems severe.

If they had engaged in some type of gangster conspiracy, that would be one thing. They didn't. In most cases they were betting on themselves.

We feel that PETE ROZELLE, National Football League (NFL) Commissioner, had no other choice. When the moment of truth was finally reached by ROZELLE, his decision was that everyone involved had to pay—the fringe transgressor along with those really guilty.

Everyone in professional football, including the owners, coaches and players, knew that betting was forbidden. Most of us will agree that there is nothing essentially immoral about gambling, but its combination with major sports inevitably leads to corruption.

Professional football, like all games, has rules. It is governed by rules. There can be no other way. When the rules are broken and the public is aware of it, action is demanded.

ROZELLE and the entire league would be open to criticism if betting were allowed to continue openly. The commissioner ignored the easy way out by just slapping a few wrists.

To insure preventing another Black Sox scandal, the accusers had to be punished. There was no room for compromise. In a bold display, pro football has been handed a tough decision.

Personally, we're getting a little tired of all the crying and supposed mental anguish some of the players are reportedly suffering. The fact that these penalties have "branded them" is so much baloney.

Other fine athletes as well as some Big Ten colleges in our own area have suffered suspensions and penalties for hanky panky in recruiting. They have survived without any apparent stigma.

In the long run we feel that the NFL will be stronger for this sweeping edict. There was no evidence of rigged games, but to insure public confidence, ROZELLE's action was the only course open.

Levinson Well Qualified to Direct Committee

The most powerful committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors once again is under the skillful direction of DAVID LEVINSON of Birmingham.

He has guided the Ways and Means committee for the past four years, and now has been reappointed for another year by Board Chairman Delos Hamlin.

In these important times of county growth, a sound man is needed at the cash box. Levinson has done yeoman service at this difficult post, and we are sure Oakland County will continue to benefit by his acumen.

The Man About Town A Rare Sight

Local Men Are Impressed by Waiters Using Heads

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Reminiscing over a recent trip to Montego Bay, chaperoned by their wives, D. B. Eames of 43 Cherokee, and Glenn H. Griffin of 106 Ogema, had some unusual experiences and saw some unusual sights—both scenic and human.

Number one of the latter category were the head waiters—not the head-waiters (Editor's note: Take it easy now, son)—at the Bay Roc Hotel.

During their two-week stay, a waiter appeared each morning with breakfast for four piled high on a wooden tray atop his head.

Moreover, quoth my friends, other waiters could be seen bicycling to nearby cottages bearing trays in similar fashion, stopping and slipping with never a hand laid on tray or handle bar. . . . A "Look ma, no hands" deal with trays wild. And the MATI never—no, never—the first to wonder whether the jobs of these unusual servers might have gone to their heads!

The Messrs. E. and G. added that in talking to the maître d' about the startling dexterity of his waiters, he was quite offhand. Said the only time he had premonition of calamity was when one attempted to carry a tray by hand.

To keep our baseball contest entrants posted on how they and their picks are batting, there follows the latest rundown on the American League's ten leading hitters:

David Lawrence Says:

Kennedy Not Satisfied on Cuba

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy at his latest news conference came close to confessing that his efforts to get the Soviet troops and "equipment" out of Cuba have thus far failed.

He was candid and forthright in conceding that the exact number does not matter too much. He confirmed that a few thousand troops had been withdrawn, while a few hundred others had withdrawn during the same period. He emphasized that the "equipment" and a substantial number of troops are still there.

It was significant, moreover, that the President indicated that he is in agreement in principle with Sen. Kenneth Keating of New York, one of his Republican critics, who has been arguing that numbers mean less than does the continued presence in Cuba of a Soviet military base.

It could be that Mr. Kennedy was purposely pursuing in part the same argument as some of his critics, because that's one way of letting Premier Khrushchev know that pressure to get his troops and equipment out of Cuba has not lessened and that public opinion in America is very much aroused over the issue.

Sometimes this way of handling the problem can be more effective than formal diplomatic notes of protest. For the facts are becoming clearer every day—the American people are not going to allow the Cuban problem to be brushed aside, and any American president, regardless of party, would be up against the same demand that something be done to preserve the historic principle of the Monroe Doctrine.

The United States is committed not only by her own statements of policy in past decades but by the international agreements with other governments of this hemisphere to see to it that no European power sets up a military base anywhere in this hemisphere. For such action is a threat to the security and safety of other countries in both North and South America.

It was not until the latter part of 1960 that Castro's alliance with the Moscow government was authoritatively established. It was then that the Eisenhower administration began planning an undercover operation to overthrow him.

It was this which finally, under President Kennedy, developed into the Bay of Pigs Invasion in April 1961. The United States decided then to aid the Cuban exiles but not to be a party itself to the military operation.

Looking back on the events of the last two years of the Eisenhower administration, it seems illogical to contend that they have been easier to intervene than and get rid of Castro.

Actually, there is a stronger case today against Castro because he has formed a military alliance with the Soviet Union and Soviet troops and equipment still are based on the island, thus constituting a potential threat against the country and other countries in this hemisphere.

Many Latin Americans are already advocating drastic action by the United States.

The question that is daily growing in importance is how long Soviet Premier Khrushchev will dilly-dally and show his contempt for the American people.

Will he take a few troops out of Cuba every month and send some others in? Will he drag out the process not just for months but for years and pursue indefinitely a capricious disregard of his own promises that the Soviet troops will be withdrawn?

It's Wall-to-Wall Marble at Athens Hilton Hotel

ATHENS — Conrad Hilton had not opened a new hotel for almost a week. So he was understandably impatient as he approached the silken ribbon that gently barred his path.

"Snip," sighed a scissors. The 400-room Athens Hilton was open, 53rd now bearing his name and one of the 12 being opened this year at such assorted water holes along a traveler's way as San Francisco and Hong Kong, Rome and Rotterdam, Tokyo and Tehran.

The Athens Hilton may best be described as a place where the management provides wall-to-wall marble.

It comes in all the glorious shades and glittering white that made Greece the loveliest abode in the ancient world.

In all, 30,000 square meters of marble from all parts of Greece were lavished on this Americanized pleasure dome in the Middle East.

The lobby gulped an entire vein of beige marble found in Salamis Island off which Themistocles defeated Xerxes' fleet 2,443 years ago.

Prof. John Moralis' 118-feet-high and 49-foot-wide semi-barrel vaulted history of old Greece, which covers one outdoor end of the hotel, is delicately chiseled into 5,783 square feet of ivory-colored Yanna marble.

PLEASANT BLEND The place is a pleasant blend of things of incalculable age and gadgetry as alien to this part of the world as ice water taps in the bathrooms (marbled, of course).

The trip here provided us with our first opportunity to eschew a beachhead on a Greek island, of which there are several thousand.

Aboard a big and aptly-named hydrofoil boat, the Express, a hundred or so of us skimmed la Poros and Hydra at what seemed the speed of sound. Actually, the Italian-made skid-ship makes about 40 knots.

Poros opens the smile of its colorful water front main street like a friend you haven't seen for too many years.

The ship channel brings you to within all but reaching distance of the friendly waving people of the sloping, flower-decked little town.

It's a place we keenly missed the moment fresh life surged back into the throttled engines, and we rose on our slapping foils again and roared away.

Foreign Aid Role for Investors?

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Endorsing recommendations of the President's Committee to Strengthen the Security of the Free World, headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, a private research organization here has called for greater emphasis on private enterprise in foreign aid by both giving and receiving nations.

Promoting this proposal is the International Economic Policy Assn., whose president, N. R. Danielian, is former head of the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence River Assn.

Supporting the new organization are such big companies as Alcoa, Chrysler, Ford International, International Telephone and Telegraph, Koppers, Monsanto, Pfizer, Owens-Corning, Owens-Illinois and others.

Their recommendations, to be made to Senate and House committees considering next year's foreign aid program, include:

● Strengthen the Hicken-Loper amendment, which denies U.S. aid to countries expropriating property without compensation.

● Extend U.S. investment guarantee programs to more countries.

● Reorganize U.S. Agency for International Development—AID—to give private investment a greater role.

● Define specifically the areas in which government-to-government financing for public enterprises should be limited so that the private sector can be developed more fully.

● Encourage all forms of investment by private, public and

Vacationing Subscriber Voices Approval of Press

This is an unsolicited testimonial. While on vacation, I had The Press sent to me for two weeks. All it cost was $1.10 and I can't remember when I've gotten such a bargain.

I didn't realize how much I get from The Press until I was without it a few days. I read several other papers during that time, but there was no comparison.

The papers arrived faster than airmail letters mailed the same day, and as much as I enjoyed "getting away," that news from home was certainly welcome.

'Politician Has Selfish Attitude'

Recently I saw one of our prominent politicians on TV. His logic is wrong regarding mental health. No one is being penalized as he stated. Mental illness is a pressing problem that must be solved by both local and state agencies working cooperatively.

He lost an election in a fair fight — now he should give up and recognize his civic responsibilities. He should avoid making irresponsible judgment of public issues to gain personal publicity.

He had his chance to serve the people and they were not satisfied with his performance. I am basically a Democrat, but his past performance disgusts me.

Our first thought should be for those things that will benefit, not just of cheap personal notoriety for him or any other politician.

'D.C. a Paradise for Psychiatrists'

I read with interest the following report given by an editor of a paper in Missouri:

"A few weeks ago it was my unpleasant duty to point out to you that Washington is one of the most crime-ridden, venereal-disease infected cities on the face of the earth. This week we have to remind you that it is also the earthly paradise for psychiatrists.

"The capital, long a haven for lawyers, lobbyists and Harvard alumni is now a paradise for psychiatrists.

"According to the American Psychiatric Association, the District of Columbia has more psychiatrists per 100,000 persons than any of the 50 states. The figure is 27.8, almost twice the New York ratio (15.6) which is the highest for any states, and almost 20 times that of Alabama, the lowest ranking state, with 1.4."

Special Weather Station Tracks Spring Terror—the Tornado

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Out of a witches-brew of clouds, a gigantic elephant trunk dangles from the sky. It spreads destruction wherever it touches ground.

This is a tornado, the deadliest thing in nature.

In their ferocity, tornadoes have driven wooden splinters into an iron fire hydrant; carried an 83-ton railroad coach with 117 passengers 80 feet through the air; split a huge tree, hurled an automobile into the split and closed the opening.

The tornado can occur anywhere in the country at any time of the year. It strikes, however, most often in spring and early summer in the central and southern Great Plains. Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma are the targets for more than one-third of all tornadoes. Add Iowa, Nebraska, Arkansas and Missouri to make a list of seven states having more than half the total number of tornadoes.

One Kansas town, Coffey, had tornadoes on the same day at the same hour in three successive years.

The greatest killer of all swept from Missouri across Illinois and into Indiana on March 18, 1925, taking 689 lives. About 10,000 deaths are attributed to tornadoes over a 50-year period and property losses are incalculable.

ACCURATE PREDICTIONS

Since 1954, the Severe Local Storm Forecast Center in Kansas City has predicted tornadoes and severe thunderstorms for the whole country with remarkable accuracy.

In operation, it's a quiet place. Teletype Machines gather hourly data from 300 reporting stations; charts are prepared listing temperature, barometric pressure, wind and humidity. In a darkened room a radar screen sweeps the sky for 250 miles in all directions. It is one of 30 such that together keep most of the country under surveillance.

This information is placed before the forecaster, who must rapidly weigh it and issue his report. If a severe thunderstorm is indicated, the center gets in touch with the Weather Bureau in the area and public warnings are issued.

"From what we know now, we have to be suspect of most thunderstorms," says Donald G. House, meteorologist in charge of the center. "We still don't know the linkage between the tornado vortex and thunderclouds and we have no reason to settle on one single cause."

"We are actively attempting to get close enough to find out what it is and we have planes flying out of Oklahoma City through severe thunderstorms."

High-flying U2 planes have been used to take readings, and radar soundings are made at 40,000, 18,000, 10,000 and 5,000 feet every six hours.

A tornado causes its destruction in one place in less than 30 seconds. Its path can vary from a few yards to nearly 300 miles. Its rate of travel averages a slow 40 mph, but the counter-clockwise winds at the center are estimated as high as 500 mph.

Senate Approves Limits on Vet Homestead Exemptions

LANSING (AP) — The Senate, headed into the home stretch of its regular 1963 session, cleaned up a calendar of 40 bills yesterday — including a controversial measure imposing tighter restrictions on veterans homestead exemptions.

Some revenue experts estimated the bill would bring in from two to three million dollars annually to the state treasury.

The measure, with Gov. George Romney's backing, passed the Senate 19-13 amid an exchange of arguments over whether it had the support of major veterans organizations in the state.

Under the bill, veterans homestead exemptions would not be allowed for any person owning taxable property worth more than $10,000 under state equalized valuation.

"It also would exclude any one who earns more than $7,500 a year unless compensation is received from the Veterans Administration or the armed forces for service-incurred disabilities.

Further restrictions are placed on widows seeking homestead exemptions.

ALLOWED EXEMPTION

The present law allows an exemption on all real estate up to $2,000 for widows of all veterans honorably discharged, whether or not they were disabled.

The bill would restrict the tax exemption to widows of veterans who served during wartime and were disabled.

"I've found no veterans in favor of this bill," said Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit.

"This is another step to take away some fringe benefits for service performed for our country."

Dzendzel found an ally in Sen. John Smeekens, R-Coldwater, who read into the record a letter opposing the bill from the state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

But Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, said that veteran officials have begun to realize that tax exemptions for veterans under the Homestead Act are expanding to the point where they might be cut back even more if there is further delay in passing restrictive legislation.

Beadle, who said he could not estimate the approximate tax revenue to be gained by the state, declared that some veterans realize that they can afford to pay property taxes as well as non-veterans.

OUTGROWS INTENTION

Sen. Kent Lundgren, R-Menominee, agreed that the program had outgrown its original intention and that exemptions are now being claimed by some whose homes are worth as much as $20,000.

"We should have taken care of this long ago," Lundgren commented.

Democratic Sen. Garland Lane of Flint disagreed and said that the commanders and legislative chairmen of veterans organizations had "sold out" the rank-and-file members of their groups.

Romney said several weeks ago that he was supporting the proposal and that it had the backing of most veterans officials.

Originally, the additional money in tax revenue had been destined to be applied to a program for aid to crippled children.

But the planned $2-million increase in the program was reduced sharply by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Supervisor's Problem

Winds Up in His Lap

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI) — County Supervisor Fred Ireland had a problem yesterday most men would like.

He wrote a polite note to the board saying he thought his new office was fine. "But I don't have any furniture, so my secretary has to sit on my lap." The board got the hint and ordered the furniture.

York, suffering a blood clot in the left lung and a kidney infection, may be able to return home in about a week if his condition continues to improve, a hospital spokesman said.

The medal of honor winner "is more relaxed and comfortable than he has been since he got here," the spokesman said. York, 75, was hospitalized nearly two weeks ago.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Ailing World War I hero Sgt. Alvin York is "progressing very well" at St. Thomas Hospital today.

Poles Get Elvis Records

WARSAW (UPI) — Poland's trade with Cuba has expanded to include — besides sugar, pineapples and cigars — long-playing Elvis Presley records.

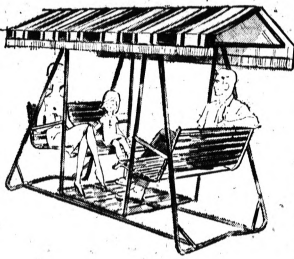

The recordings now on sale in Warsaw carry "made in Cuba" labels and sell for about $4.80 at the tourist rate of exchange.

Wisconsin Okays Vote on Parochial Bus Bill

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — The Wisconsin assembly passed a resolution yesterday calling for a referendum on whether parochial students may ride public school buses. The same proposal was rejected in a statewide vote in 1946.

Khrushchev Rebuffs Western Attempt to Reopen N-Ban Talks

By JOH NM. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev apparently has rebuffed a bid by President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to try to break the nuclear test ban deadlock by a new round of high level negotiations.

Khrushchev's reaction at a HIGHTOWER Kremlin meeting Wednesday also evidently dealt a sharp blow to McMillan's hopes that progress in test ban negotiations could lead to an early East-West summit meeting.

The approach to Khrushchev was made jointly by Macmillan and Kennedy through U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler and the British envoy in Moscow, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan. They held a 90-minute meeting with the Soviet leader and reportedly gave him a joint letter from Kennedy and Macmillan.

The meeting took place several hours before President Kennedy's late afternoon press conference, and it is understood that Kennedy had received a preliminary report from Kohler when he discussed the outlook for test ban negotiations with reporters. He carefully avoided any reference to Khrushchev's reaction, but the tone of what he did say indicated discouragement.

"I am not overly sanguine about the prospects for an accord," he said.

TERSE REPLY

When he was asked later about the prospects for a meeting between himself and Khrushchev, he replied tersely: "No, I haven't heard any, and there is none planned."

A detailed account of the ambassadors' conference with the Soviet leader reached the State Department and the White House much later.

Officials reportedly were concerned with an exchange of high level talks toward the West on the part of the Soviet government and Khrushchev personally. Evidence of the emergence of such a line was found here Monday in Soviet publication of an attack on U.S. policy toward Laos, blaming the United States for the recent outbreak of fighting there.

What Kennedy and Macmillan reportedly proposed to Khrushchev was that an effective way to tackle the deadlock in the current negotiations at Geneva would be to throw the whole problem into a higher level meeting. Both London and Washington officials had speculated that if Khrushchev responded favorably an East-West ministers' conference would be set up to go into the differences which still block agreement.

The best known of these differences is over the number of on-site inspections which would be permitted annually on Soviet territory and reciprocally on U.S. and British territory to make sure that a test ban was not being violated.

Road Safety Problem of State—Romney

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney said yesterday traffic safety is essentially an individual problem, but local and state governments also bear some of the burden of accident prevention.

The chief executive told the Michigan Safety Conference he was hopeful that future implementation of the new constitution "will strengthen the role of government in traffic safety" through the consolidation and reorganization of agencies now dealing with the problem.

Noting an increase of 18 percent in the traffic deaths this year over the 1962 toll at this time, Romney said the state has several goals to accomplish in the field of traffic safety.

He cited these as improved quality of high school driver education; increased information on the causes of accidents; raised standards of driver licensing and examination; increased use of driver clinics for habitual violators; expanded research in traffic safety; and increased use of driver information files.

For Research Depth Tells State Requirements

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan has the three basic requirements needed to give it depth in research capability, James T. Wilson, acting director of the University of Michigan Institute of Science and Technology, said yesterday.

Wilson, speaking at the annual meeting of the American Ordnance Association's combat and tactical vehicle division, added:

"I think there is a clear and rising tide in our favor and we should take full advantage of it. Should we miss it, such a tide is not likely to rise again."

The three requirements, he said, are:

- "Great universities competent in most, if not all, the presently important scientific fields, and ... outstanding in at least a few of them."

- "Participation in the glamorous, sophisticated research related to and supported by our military and space establishments."

- "Industrial research organizations related to healthy manufacturing establishments producing both civilian and governmental consumer goods."

Canada Leader Plans Patch Job on Visit to JFK

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson plans a patch-things-up meeting in about two weeks with President Kennedy.

The get-together will take place somewhere outside Washington or Ottawa after Canada's new government chief gets back from the London conference with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The aim is to smooth over differences in Canadian-American policies which developed under Pearson's predecessor, Conservative John Diefenbaker.

JFK Turns Tour Guide for Labor Leaders Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy, acting as his own White House guide, yesterday took a group of labor leaders on a tour of the executive mansion's private living quarters.

Following a lunch honoring 32 union executives, Kennedy led them through the second floor and provided a commentary for each room.

Erhard Warns of Inflation

BONN, Germany (AP) — Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard told the floor in parliament yesterday for the first time since he was nominated to succeed Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and warned against creeping inflation in West Germany.

Erhard has guided the West German economy for more than 13 years and is generally credited with its present prosperity.

He said spending, especially by the government, is increasing faster than production. He urged that supply and demand be brought into greater harmony.

"Inflation feeds on inflation," he told the house.

Minnesota Takes Action on Sunday Sales Bill

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—The Minnesota legislature completed action yesterday on a bill which prohibits large retail store sales on Sunday.

The bill, which contains a Saturday option, would permit the sale of sporting equipment on Sunday near the place it is to be used.

Dixie Solons Accuse U.S. Marshals of Ole Miss Brutality

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A Mississippi legislative committee has accused U.S. marshals of brutality in connection with desegregation rioting at the University of Mississippi.

The Mississippi legislative port, released Wednesday, said the findings were based on the testimony of 90 sworn witnesses. The report charged mistreatment of persons arrested during rioting last fall after a Negro student, James H. Meredith, arrived on the campus at Oxford.

Neither the witnesses nor the persons allegedly mistreated were identified.

The Justice Department said in Washington that the report was an untruthful document containing facts "distorted or ignored and incidents manufactured."

In Montgomery, Ala., Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy described the legislative report as "inadequate and incomplete."

The Justice Department said none of the alleged brutalities had been reported by newsmen on the scene. Kennedy said the committee should have questioned the reporters and some of the marshals. The report, the first of three installments, said 556 marshals carried out a systematic pattern of brutality toward prisoners, clubbing, manhandling and torturing them.

The committee said between 100 and 150 persons ranging in age from 12 to more than 60 were imprisoned in a garage near the campus. The report added: "All persons, regardless of age or physical condition, were forced to sit on the concrete slab for periods up to 20 hours, with knees drawn up toward their chins, their hands clasped around their knees, their eyes to the front, without turning their heads or speaking to anyone. This was planned and executed as physical torture."

The report said between 100 and 150 prisoners were kept in a basement room 17 by 40 feet in the university's administration building.

The marshals wore gas masks but none were given the captives who suffered severely from the presence of tear gas during a large portion of the time they much as 18 hours," the report said. In its reply, the Justice Department said of 350 marshals caught in the rioting, 100 were injured, 27 of them by gunfire.

The department added that not any when it would release the other two installments of its report.

away as Los Angeles and that some were armed with shotguns, rifles, knives, clubs and black-jacks.

The legislative committee did not say when it would release the other two installments of its report.

Women Voters Claims GOP Leader List Expenses on New-Con

The League of Women Voters (LWV) of Michigan spent $4,250.49 in its campaign for approval of the new state constitution in the April 1 election.

The Oakland County Non-Partisan Committee for the New Constitution (CNC) spent $2,327.71 in its campaign efforts on behalf of the document.

Both figures were given in campaign expense vouchers filed by Monday with the Oakland County clerk, as required by state law.

The LWV statement covering expenses throughout the state, including those of 35 local chapters, was filed here because the treasurer of the state LWV, Laura M. Belz, lives in Pontiac.

The League's efforts climaxed a long battle that began in 1955 to bring Michigan a revised constitution.

Vote tabulations showed the document winning by a narrow 7,823-vote margin, but the result has not yet been certified by the State Board of Canvassers and faces a recount demand by the Democratic party.

The LWV's expense statement said its funds came from individual contributors who accounted for $392.30 and from its regular operating budget supported by member dues and contributions.

'Country Doubts Tax Cut'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said yesterday grassroots reports indicate "the country is not sold on a tax cut that will boost the deficit."

Dirksen said in an interview his own soundings and those of colleagues during Congress' Easter vacation turned up strong opposition to President Kennedy's spending proposals.

He added that GOP members found the voters' attention riveted on the situation in Cuba and on menacing developments in Laos. There is "no enthusiasm at all" for Kennedy's domestic proposals, Dirksen said.

The Oakland County Republican party spent $13,230.83 in the spring campaign while taking in a total of $18,720.64 in contributions, according to its statement.

"Cuba is a live issue and it is not going to die down," he said. "The people also are worried about the situation in Laos which has brought the 7th Fleet into position for action."

The Cuban issue was aired in the Senate Tuesday when Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., accused former Vice President Richard M. Nixon of making a "war mongering speech" to the American Society of Newspaper Editors here last week. Nixon proposed that Kennedy unleash refugees for hit-and-run attacks on the island.

Morse said that the open support for such attacks could only lead to massive U.S. military involvement.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the deputy Republican leader, replied he didn't think there was anything shocking about Nixon's proposals. He said Nixon was reflecting "the uneasiness of the American people with the communist presence in Cuba of a Communist ideology."

Dirksen said he couldn't agree with Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., House Democratic whip, who said after a White House conference of party leaders with Kennedy Tuesday that an upturn in the economy is increasing chances for a tax reduction because of the prospect that the deficit will be smaller than predicted.

NEW TROY BANK — Construction of a $225,000 building to replace the present Troy National Bank at Maple and Livernois roads will begin May 1, it was announced today. Designed by Clifford Wright & Associates of Detroit, the three-level facility will be constructed by Kitchen Building Co. of Detroit.

'Fluoride Blocks Mottling'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Institute of Health (NIH) says it has evidence that fluoride in a community's potable water provides a margin of safety against mottling of children's teeth.

The NIH told a House appropriations subcommittee at a closed-door hearing that it reached its conclusions after a survey in Grand Rapids, Mich., where fluoride has been used for 16 years. The transcript of the hearing was made public today.

In 1961, the NIH researchers said, 822 students in Grand Rapids who had used fluoridated water since birth were examined.

The examinations, the report said, provided definitive evidence that optimum use of fluoride in community water creates a decided margin of safety against mottling — which involves stains or spots on teeth.

President Kennedy's News Conference a Somber Affair

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy has some sunny times, when things are looking up, but at another point said unhesitatingly that the exiles "cannot do the job."

Things were looking rather down in most of his answers to the main questions asked him about foreign affairs. It was only on domestic problems that he showed any optimism.

But three very important events since Kennedy's last meeting with newsmen April 3 didn't come up at Wednesday's session:

The steel industry raised prices, with Kennedy's consent; the atomic submarine Thresher sank with 129 men aboard; and the reported inclusion of three Central Intelligence Agents in this week's swap of Cuban and U.S. prisoners: four Cubans for 27 Americans.

No one at the news conference asked the President anything about the steel price increase and the mystery of the sunken Thresher wasn't mentioned at all.

INDIRECT QUERY

He was asked only indirectly about the prisoner swap, and in this way:

Now that the Americans have been released, what will American policy be toward letting Cuban exiles in this country resume their hit-and-run raids on Cuba?

Kennedy brushed it off. He said

Solons Told Don't Limit Beauty Aids

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators were advised today not to try to standardize women, their perfections or their cosmetics.

"You can as easily standardize the color, the shape or the size of a lady's hat as you can successfully standardize the package in which she will buy her favorite fragrances and make-up," said Neva Bradley.

"Please, gentlemen," she added, "allow us ladies our fanciful whim. It is good for us and it is good for you, too."

Miss Bradley was making an appeal to leave the cosmetic and toilet preparations industry out of an administration-backed bill to tighten federal regulation of the packaging and labeling of foods and household goods.

Her statement was offered to the Senate Antitrust subcommittee on behalf of Cosmetic Career Women, Inc., an organization of women executives in the cosmetic and toilet preparations industry.

"Cosmetics are of glamorous stuff," she said. "To specify a standard container, to stultify the label with unnecessary conformance to utilitarian uniformity would destroy the glamour, precipitate the whim and dissipate the dream."

"As a practical matter," she continued, "you cannot equate cosmetic products by weight, container size, or 'servings.' In one branded product a little dab will do it, in another you would want to lavish it, splash it or spill it on."

Miss Bradley said that cosmetics are personal products and that before they could be effectively standardized, "you would have to standardize women, their patterns of preference and their individual beauty problems."

discussions wouldn't be useful, but at another point said unhesitatingly that the exiles "cannot do the job."

He could have been asked to explain in some detail about the arrangements for the prisoner swap and if anything more than just the exchange lay behind it.

The President was dim on hopes for a nuclear test ban agreement with Russia, indicated no interest in a summit meeting with Premier Khrushchev or in a meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle at this time.

He was vague on hopes for getting rid of Castro or finding peace in Laos.

In a limited way he was optimistic about what Congress will do to his programs; he thinks money spent on space is worthwhile; and he thinks the economy is growing stronger.

Nuclear test ban—he wasn't very "sanguine" about getting Khrushchev to agree to one this spring. He said "we feel time is running out."

"If we fail in Laos," he said, "I would think the prospects for records on matters which may be geographically closer to us would be substantially lessened." Kennedy gave no indication this country intends to do any more than it is doing now to get rid of the Communist dictator. And what he is doing now isn't getting rid of him.

De Gaulle—Kennedy showed no enthusiasm for a meeting with the Frenchman who threw the Allies into confusion by banning Britain from the Common Market and insists on developing his own nuclear weapons.

What Kennedy said in effect was: If the United States and France have anything to discuss, let their foreign ministers discuss

DARLIS JOAN ERWIG

Woman Burglar Claims Crime Can Be Easy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Five out of 10 people leave their doors unlocked. They make it so damned easy."

A 23-year-old woman with green eyes and dark brown hair was delivering a lecture—in jail—on how to succeed in burglary without really trying.

Darlis Joan Erwig has been arrested 45 times but has been convicted only rarely. Half her arrests have been on suspicion of burglary. She admits to two convictions, on one of which she served 30 days, the other 32, for burglary.

STEALING SINCE 17

"How many jobs have I pulled? Well, I can't count for sure. But I've been stealing since I was 17. Maybe 4,000. Maybe 6,000. I can't say for sure. But somewhere in between," she told newsmen.

"I've never forced my way into a place in my life," she said. "I just walk along until I see a nice expensive looking apartment house or motel and then I get inside and begin turning door handles until one opens. You'd be surprised how easy it is. Just like going to the store for bread."

"I only steal when I need money," said Darlis, denying she's a compulsive thief. Police say she has a dope habit to support. Her biggest haul was $1,700.

She said her need for heroin has increased in the past two years.

Safe Organism Causes Deaths

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—A common organism which normally is not considered dangerous has been blamed for the deaths of two patients at New Rochelle Hospital. What caused the organism to become virulent remains a medical mystery.

Two patients died and a third suffered an infection at the hospital. They had one thing in common—each had undergone an operation for a broken thigh bone. Each was operated on by a different surgeon, and two different operating rooms were used.

An investigation was ordered, and the hospital's operating rooms were closed.

Dr. Robert Albrecht, director of the state health department's office of epidemiology, said Wednesday night the investigation showed the deaths were caused by the common, enterococcus organism, which lives in the intestinal tract.

Hospital Supt. Alex E. Norton said the investigation will continue but that the operating rooms will reopen Friday. "All precautions have been taken," he said.

Here's H-E-L-P, Gals

Gambits Good Gabbing

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE P-420: Donna G., aged 18, is a college coed.

"But, Dr. Crane," she began, "I don't know how to carry on an interesting conversation."

"Last week I dated a very attractive boy. But he actually told me I was too tongue-tied. 'So what can I do to become an interesting conversationalist?'"

Psychology has developed several simple recipes by which you girls can make a boy feel wonderful.

And if you can help him over the awkward pauses of the first few minutes on your date, and then get him launched into easy conversation, he usually will feel happy.

Then some of his joy will splash over upon you until you become painted in a much more charming hue.

Clever conversational skill thus keeps 'em coming back for future dates, far more than does a classy chassie!

Your attractive physical beauty may attract a man's attention, but what produces a wedding ring is a girl's ability to hold a boy's interest.

If a boy's first attempt at conversation bogs down and a pause develops, you girls should use this five-word formula. It reads:

"How interesting! Tell me more!"

He will expand happily at your compliment, plus your request for more information, whether it be about football, his hobbies or space ships.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," Donna may inquire, "but suppose he doesn't say anything except 'Hi' when he first arrives."

"How can I get him started on any topic long enough to justify using your five-word recipe?"

If you have a clam-like boy friend, you can get him launched upon easy conversation by using the key letters H-E-L-P of my short-form strategy.

"H" stands for hobbies, so ask him if he ever collected birds' eggs, bottle caps, matches, old coins, stamps, etc.

He will usually get launched upon conversation, after which you can use that five-word strategy:

"How interesting! Tell me more!"

But if he runs out of conversational ammunition after you have tried the letter "H", then shift to "E", which stands for entertainment.

It includes sporting events, movies, dances, etc.

The letter "L" refers to literature and the "P" to politics.

And when you can't think of anything else with which to break a pause, then size up your companion quickly for some virtue or talent.

"That's a cute hat you are wearing," a boy may thus say to a quiet, shy girl such as Donna.

But you girls should never trump this type of conversation lead by simply saying "Thank you."

Don't end your reply with a period but with a question mark.

Say, for example, "Thank you; I'm glad you like it, but I've been admiring that beautiful tie of yours. Where did you get it?"

Romney Gets Dental Plan

LANSING (AP) — A bill now awaiting approval by Gov. George Romney would give dentists the authority to create a non-profit prepaid dental care plan.

The proposal, sponsored by Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, would pave the way for a dental program similar to the Michigan medical service (Blue Shield) program. It has passed in both the House and Senate.

Under its provisions, dentists could set up a nonprofit corporation under the supervision of the state insurance commissioner, who would retain discretion over the reasonableness of rates and the maintenance of adequate reserves.

China Releases Indians

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China announced today it has released 146 more Indian prisoners of war captured during border fighting last winter.

LANSING (AP) — A federal grant of $155,000 to the Michigan Mental Health Department will be used in a two-year study of the reasons parents decide to commit retarded children to state homes and training schools, the department has announced.

Dead Bills Stymie School Vote

Detroiters Eye Revival of Measures

LANSING (AP)—Detroit's hopes for a special election on school millage and bond issues rested today in a joint House-Senate resolution to revive a handful of bills which died at the midnight deadline yesterday.

Enabling legislation to permit a special election on the proposals, which Detroit school officials say is critically needed, was an innocent victim of a drive to kill another education bill.

The real object of the maneuver was the K12 (kindergarten through grade 12) Bill designed to consolidate Michigan school districts in such a manner that all would offer high school education.

Previously defeated twice in the House after surviving the Senate by a single vote, K-12 was revived yesterday and attached as an amendment to a Senate bill calling for minor changes in consolidation procedures.

The bill passed on a 63-33 vote and was headed back to the Senate for concurrence, but foes of the K12 bill, chiefly rural lawmakers, succeeded in a subsequent drive to reconsider the vote by which it passed.

KILLED BY STALL

Then, on a 55-38 vote, the bill was moved to the foot of the calendar where it died at the deadline because of stalling tactics which killed the minimum wage bill.

Only afterward did some house members discover, to their surprise, that the Detroit school election proposal also had been an amendment to the bill.

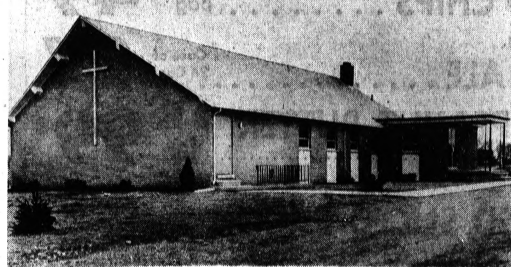

It was attached two weeks ago without controversy after Gov. George Romney urged enabling legislation to help Detroit solve the problem created by the April 1 election defeat of millage and bond issue proposals.

State law now prevents the Detroit school district from asking for another election on the millage and bonding for operations and expansion until the next general election in November 1964.

BONNIE J. BAILEY

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin H. Bailey, 84 Golden Gate St., Orion Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Bonnie J. to Joel L. Clouse. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Clouse, 800 Hinford St., Orion Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

WIDE AWAKE — Ricki Baker in the title role and Linda Dowell as Darn Van Winkle rehearse a lively scene from "Rip Van Winkle." The two students are among those in the cast of the three-act opera which will be presented tomorrow night at Cedar Crest Lutheran Christian Day School, 925 Southeastern Road, Union Lake. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m.

Avon Twp. Board Initiates Sewer Study, Chloride Plan

AVON TOWNSHIP — In a four-hour session last night, the Township Board initiated a sewer study and agreed to a contract for adding chloride to the township's gravel roads this summer.

Acting on a letter from the Avondale School Board, the township trustees resolved to request the Oakland County Department of Public Works to examine sewage problems in a four-square-mile portion of the school district.

The land in question is bounded by ed by Avon Road on the north and South Boulevard on the south. Its western boundary is in line with Devondale Street, and Livernol Road limits it on the east.

The school board's letter to the township urged that "all action necessary to cause a sewage study" of the area be taken.

It was written because of the board's interest in the "health and welfare of citizenry" there. In other action, the Township Board okayed a contract which calls for four coats of chloride to be applied on most of the gravel roads in the township, outside of the village limits.

"We anticipate that the job will cost about $27,000," Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller said today.

The township budget calls for $20,000 to do the job. Some $13,000 of that comes from a half-mill levy voter approved three years ago for a five-year period.

"The remainder will come from the general fund," Miller said.

In some cases, sufficient chloride application will be only three coats, he pointed out.

"The cost of any more than four coats will have to be paid by the property owners or subdivision which receives them," he said.

Last year, three coats cost the township $19,000.

Because of the large amount of money which is paid to the Oakland County Road Commission for the project, consideration last year was given to the idea of having the township buy the trucks and material to do the job itself.

Plans Differ for June 10 School Race

ROCHESTER — The two board of education members whose terms expire this year have announced opposite plans for the June 10 election.

Treasurer Wallace R. Hodges said yesterday he will not seek serving his ninth year on the board.

Secretary Mrs. George Beatty, who is completing her third three-year term, has chosen to file petitions for another term.

The forms, which can be obtained at the board of education office, 1321 Walton Blvd., must be returned by 4 p.m. May 11.

This year each candidate must collect the signatures of between 50 and 60 qualified electors on their petitions.

High School Class Sets 40th Reunion

ROMEO — The 1923 class at Romeo High School will hold its 40th reunion May 5 at the youth center here.

The festivities will start at 2 p.m. with a dinner to be followed by an open house for members of classes of '21, '22, '24 and '25 at about 4 p.m.

Early reservations are urged by class secretary Russell M. High, 236 Fairgrove St.

State Senate Acts

Adds Seat Belt OK

LANSING (UPI) — The State Senate yesterday added its approval to a House bill to require installation of seat belts in all new cars, starting in 1965.

The measure was still before the House today, however, for concurrence in a technical amendment put on by the other chamber.

The bill, backed by Gov. George Romney, appeared doomed yesterday when an initial tally on the bill failed of passage in the Senate by one vote.

However, Sen. Haskell Nichols, R-Jackson, moved that the body reconsider its action because "This is too important a piece of legislation to let fall by the boards."

Nichols, who chairs the Senate Highway Committee, said the governor told a highway safety conference here yesterday he was hopeful the seat belt bill would become law. A similar bill was killed last year by the legislature.

Several senators who first opposed the bill switched back and it passed by a healthy 24-8 margin.

Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, said a study of traffic accidents in Washtenaw County showed that "80 per cent of the lives lost there last year could have been saved if the victims had been wearing belts."

An amendment by Sen. Basil Brown, D-Detroit, to require the belts in all cars was rejected.

The 1965 starting date for the bill was made to give auto manufacturers time to adapt equipment for installing the belts.

Plan Carnival at Area School

ORION TOWNSHIP — Proper Elementary School's annual Spring Carnival will be staged from 4 to 7 p.m. Saturday, under sponsorship of the school PTA.

Highlight of the event will be the coronation of a king and queen to be chosen in a contest between the fifth and sixth grades.

Candidates are Wendy Luehke, Bob Mahan, Linda Bridges, Ronnie Schaller, Connie Lane, Bill Dewey, Steve Griffin and Sue Coburn.

Other features of the fair will be a spook room, duck pond, shooting gallery and country store, according to Cochairmen Mrs. John Ward and Mrs. Vernon Wilkerson.

Games will include darts, a roller derby and ping-pong. Refreshments will be served in the lunchroom.

The school is at 4005 Baldwin Road.

Avondale High PTA to Discuss Dropouts

AVON TOWNSHIP — A panel discussion of "The Dropout Problem," will be featured at today's 8 p.m. meeting of the Avondale High School PTA.

Guests panelists will be Norman Clothier, a junior high school teacher; William Saville, a high school teacher; and Mrs. William U. Porter, treasurer of the Avondale School Board.

Installation of officers will also take place at the meeting, to be held in the high school cafeteria.

ROBERT AUNE

DIANE MALBURG

Romeo Students Awarded High Scholastic Honors

ROMEO — Top scholastic honors have been awarded to Romeo High School seniors Diane Malburg, valedictorian of her class, and salutatorian Robert Aune.

Diane was high with a 3.69 point average, and Robert ran a close second with 3.65.

Diane, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Malburg of 13999 32-Mile Road. She plans to enter the college of education at Central Michigan University this fall.

In addition to her academic achievements, which include membership in the National Honor Society, Diane has served on the school's yearbook staff.

She has also been active in the French Club and the Future Teachers Club, and was a participant in the Cadet Observation Program.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Aune of 57851 Van Dyke Road, Washington, Robert is also a member of the National Honor Society.

Active in sports, Robert, 18, is on the school basketball team and was a member of the ski club last winter. He was chosen president of the Band Council and attended the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

Besides his studies, the youth also took part in the junior and senior class plays and assisted in preparation of the yearbook. He also was a member of the Spanish Club.

Next fall, Robert plans to enroll in the College of Engineering at Michigan State University.

Pontiac Twp. Sets Meeting

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The annual meeting here — adjourned March 30 after two mills were levied for fire department operation — will be continued at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Main items on the agenda are the salaries of township officials and the budget for 1963-64. They could not be discussed at the March 30 meeting because Treasurer Mrs. Goldie B. Mallah said she did not have enough time to complete a financial report.

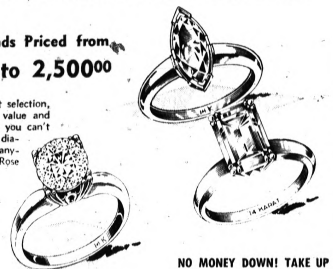

All township residents can attend the session and participate in the voting.

Deposed Korean Leader Dreams of Home

HONOLULU (AP) — Dr. Syngman Rhee, a weakened shadow of the iron-willed "Tiger of Korea," may have given up on his greatest wish—to go home to die. Three years after he was deposed as president of South Korea in bloody student rioting, Rhee lies quietly in a Honolulu hospital, whispering Christian hymns or listening to his Austrian wife read aloud.

"He never mentions going home any more," his nurse, Elaine Johnson, said. "He seems to be resigned." Until six months ago, she said, Rhee would ask, "Which way is north?" and talk of going home. "Now he talks only of what his life has been, not of the future."

months ago. That trip was called off, by objections from the military government that now rules South Korea. It is apparent the Korean government still doesn't want Rhee back.

FOO WEAK

Anyway, Rhee isn't strong enough to try again.

Rhee was 88 last month. He has spent most of his last three years in Hawaii in hospitals. He still spends five or six hours daily out on a patio in a wheelchair. Otherwise he is bedridden. His wife, Francesca, keeps all but close friends away.

"He has good days and days when he's a little confused," Mrs. Johnson said.

Korean friends apparently pay his bills. "I don't think the Rhees have anything left," Mrs. Johnson said.

"None at all," Mrs. Rhee was quoted. "He'd do the same things again. Only he'd do more."

Children with neglected hearing problems repeat grades four times as often as children with normal hearing, according to the Aid Industry Conference.

Prisoner Ransom Ship to Stay in Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Red Cross says the S.S. American Surety, now unloading ransom supplies in Cuba, will not return to this country with refugees until at least next Monday.

Roy Popkin, of Red Cross national headquarters, said he knows of no reason for the delay. The freighter, which took 8,000 tons of drugs, medical supplies and baby food to Havana last week, is scheduled to bring about 1,000 more refugees to the United States.

Conservative Republicans Stall Measure

Wage Bill Supporters Cling to Hope of Session Extension

LANSING (U)—Supporters of a state minimum wage law — Gov. George Romney included — clung grimly today to faint hope that their pet bill might yet become law in the current legislative session.

The bill, perhaps the most explosive to be introduced this year, died for the seventh time last night as conservative Republicans stalled their way to the midnight deadline for passage.

The only chance for revival of the bill lay in a resolution, to be considered by both House and Senate today, to extend the deadline for certain select bills which failed to make the time limit.

"You have repudiated your governor and I hope you have done yourselves proud," Rep. Marie Hager, R-Lansing, chief sponsor of the minimum wage bill, tearfully told her fellow Republicans as the clock neared midnight.

Sympathy and handshakes were extended to her afterward by Democrats who, angry and frustrated, had sought to overcome the delaying strategy by demanding repeatedly that debate stop and the amendments and bill be put to a vote.

Romney had called for a minimum wage bill in his "State of the State" message last January but abandoned hope for it after the House Labor Committee systematically killed five different versions and the Senate one.

ONE ESCAPED
Another bill, calling for a $1 minimum wage, finally escaped the committee, however, during a brief rebellion by Mrs. Hager and other Republicans against the GOP caucus two weeks ago.

It reached the head of the House calendar last night 21 minutes before midnight, and Mrs. Hager, her nerves frayed from days of fretting over the bill and corraling of votes, offered 13 amendments.

They passed by an overwhelming 90-16 vote, but that was as far as it went.

Rep. James Warner, R-Ypsilanti, Riemer Van Til, R-Holland, and Carroll Newton, R-Detroit, invoked their verbal strategy to stave off a showdown on the bill.

Two other bills were approved for consideration and passed ahead of the minimum wage bill, one of them after being read in full at Warner's insistence.

The substance of the three-handed filibuster on minimum wage itself was objection to Democratic efforts to shut off debate. Details of the bill scarcely were discussed.

RAISED WAGES

Mrs. Hager had sought to increase the wage floor to $1.75 and added more exemptions. In its final form, the bill would have raised wages for some 250,000 Michigan persons.

Republican leaders had steered clear of a caucus position on the bill because of concern that rebellion, such as that which rescued the measure from committee, might flare anew and push it through.

Mrs. Hager said she had "about 60 votes" for the bill, including the 52 Democrats. House Minority Leader Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, said he had figured on at least 65 votes.

"The Democrats say we killed the bill by stalling, but look at all their amendments on the congressional apportionment bill," said Warner afterward. "They did some stalling, too."

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, agreed that Democratic speeches and amending attempts on the reapportionment bill, which preceded minimum wage on the calendar, had been a factor in consuming time.

But Mrs. Hager was unwilling to blame Democrats.

"They tried their best," she said. "The responsibility for this is with the Republican men who delayed the vote until it was too late."

Kowalski, who had worked feverishly to keep his Democrats from further postponing action by offering amendments to the other bills, personally charged Speaker Pro Tem Wilfred G. Bassett, R-Jackson, with "deliberately delaying the session, so the bill would die."

HARSH WORDS

The Democratic leader also had harsh words for Green, who had turned their proceedings over to Bassett and was a sideline observer throughout.

"It's the speaker, not Bassett," said Kowalski. "This whole thing was preplanned in some private caucus."

Among the spectators to the minimum wage scuffle was Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle, who said:

"I've never expected anything the same old broken record."

Civil Rights Groups to Finish Mailman's Death Walk

ATTALA, Ala. (AP)—An anti-segregation hike which ended in death for a Maryland postman—was to be completed by members of civil rights groups.

The Baltimore chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee in Atlanta were making plans today to take over the personal pilgrimage which brought death to William L. Moore, 35, of Baltimore.

Moore was shot to death Tuesday night near this northeast Alabama town, about 60 miles north-east of Birmingham. State and county law enforcement agencies have thrown every available man into the search for the killer.

ONLY CLUES

The only known clues to the bizarre murder were tire marks and two empty cartridges found at the scene, and two small-caliber bullets taken from Moore's body.

The killing brought cries of anger, protest and astonishment from President Kennedy, Alabama Gov. George Wallace, senators, congressmen and point-of-view organizations.

The vacationing postman was walking from Chattanooga, Tenn., to Jackson, Miss., to explain his racial views to Gov. Ross Barnett. He carried point-of-view signs.

President Kennedy, at his news conference Wednesday, called the killing an outrageous crime. He expressed personal shock about what he called the assassination of citizens on public roads.

FBI OFFERED

The President offered the services of the FBI to assist local authorities. The Justice Department said, however, that there was no indication that any violation of federal law was involved.

Coroner Noble Youcum said an autopsy showed Moore died of two bullet wounds. One bullet was lodged in the postman's clothing and the other in the brain, he said.

"In my opinion, the bullets

were probably fired from an automatic rifle at relatively close range," the coroner said.

Youcum said a diary belonging to Moore told of several warnings that the man might not make it to Mississippi. It related several epithets hurled at Moore as he walked along the highways and said rocks had been thrown at him on at least one occasion.

LAST NOTATION

The notation for April 23, the last day of his life, said: "Walking again, Traffic cop waved greeting. Invited to chat with a few men who had heard about my walk on TV. They didn't think I'd finish my walk alive."

"Sheriff's car stopped to ask how long I'd been walking. Took a leaflet, wondered if I'd make it to Mississippi."

"A couple of men who had talked to me before drove up and questioned my religious and political beliefs. And one was sure I'd be killed for them. Feet sore all over. Shoes too painful, walking without them. Adopted by hungry, thirsty road foolish dog."

"Only kids adopt dogs."

Moore left the dog with children at a store about a mile from where he died. He had bought a can of corn and a small pie for supper.

BODY FOUND

Phones Ring, but No Crash

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Reports of a plane crash on Madison's far east side resulted in a rash of telephone calls Wednesday at Trux Air Force Base.

One housewife said she could see smoke and was sure a plane had crashed.

A base spokesman said that advance notice will be given the next time the base fire department holds a fire drill and burns a useless plane. The plane used in the drill crashed last October.

Moore had talked with state investigator Ray McDowell, a principal in the search for the killer, only a short time before.

"I wanted to bring him with me. We were afraid something like this might happen," McDowell said.

"But, he said he didn't need any protection. If I could have found some reason to pick him up, I would have done so. But he apparently was breaking no laws."

The Baltimore chapter of CORE, of which Moore was a member, announced plans for a massive civil rights march from Attalla to Jackson June 14 to finish what Moore started.

ORGANIZATIONS INVITED

A chapter spokesman said all civil rights organizations would be invited to join the trek.

Another point-of-view group, the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, said that it would make the march to Mississippi for Moore. A spokesman said the group's executive committee would meet in Norfolk, Va., this weekend to decide how many persons would make the trip and when the march would begin.

A Negro member of the Maryland House of Delegates, Clarence M. Mitchell III, said youth members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People would walk Saturday from Baltimore to Washington in a memorial pilgrimage. Mitchell said he would walk with them.

In Washington, Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., called in the Senate for swift action by Alabama authorities to bring Moore's killer to justice.

REWARD OFFERED

Alabama's governor called the shooting a dastardly act and offered a $1,000 reward in the case.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Tony Reynolds said, "We have nothing concrete. It's a process now of elimination—talking to witnesses and running down leads."

Moore began his journey Monday in Washington, D.C., after leaving a letter describing the purpose of his trip at the White House for President Kennedy.

He took a bus to Chattanooga and began his walk.

JFK Predicts Program Okay

Says Americans Will Support Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says "the American people are still committed to progress" and he predicts most of his legislative program will win congressional approval.

He told a news conference Wednesday that five or six important Capitol Hill votes in the last month indicate "support of a program of expansion" for the nation's economy.

"We passed the other day in the Senate a bill on mass transit. We passed a bill yesterday to provide for research facilities for water. We are going to pass other programs," he told the newsmen.

REJECTS REPORTS

Rejecting reports of grassroots apathy about his program, Kennedy said "the only thing that has ever concerned me" is whether the House Rules Committee will clear his proposals for a House vote.

If it does, he said, "in my opinion this program, to a substantial degree, will pass."

As he was speaking, the House was giving his program a boost by clearing on a 288-122 vote a bill to provide $206.7 million in construction grants and student loans for medical and dental schools. Senate approval appears a foregone conclusion.

Deft Detective Catches Incriminating Evidence

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Bartender Allan Forsythe threw two bags containing marijuana and stimulant pills out the back window yesterday when there was a knock on his front door.

Forsythe was jailed on suspicion of possession of marijuana after detective Sgt. U. E. Schuback, standing behind the window, deftly fished both bags.

Woman Decides Bandit Chasing Is Man's Work

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. William T. Gerald's was approaching the entrance to the Union Commerce Bank branch in suburban Shaker Heights Wednesday when she was jostled by a man running from the bank. In hot pursuit was Mrs. Gerald's husband, manager of the branch.

She began running alongside her husband and asked, "What's going on?"

"I'm chasing a bank robber," he answered. "Get out of here."

Gerald, 36, pursued the man and caught him in a field. He recovered $5,854 that had been taken from the bank a few minutes earlier.

Donovan Took Son to Havana

NEW YORK (AP) — James B. Donovan said yesterday he took his son along on one trip to Cuba in order to convince Fidel Castro of his sincerity in bargaining for release of 27 imprisoned Americans.

"You might call that the ultimate in gamesmanship," the attorney who negotiated the release of the prisoners said in disclosing the visit with his son, John, 18.

Donovan said, "The boy played an important part in these negotiations. Castro was enormously pleased to meet him and was completely taken by my self-confidence in bringing him."

Castro even took the youth skin diving and spear-fishing, Donovan said, and posed with him for snapshots.

Some of Castro's advisors kept telling him that the attorney was dangerous, Donovan added.

"He was impressed when I showed up with the boy," the lawyer said.

The attorney also said he believes food and medicine sent to Cuba as ransom for the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners contributed more to the freeing of the 27 than the release of four Cubans in this country.

Four Men Indicted for Jewel Robberies

NEW YORK (AP) — Four men have been indicted in connection with thefts of more than $500,000 in jewelry from hotel rooms, Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced yesterday. Victims had included prominent theatrical people.

Three of the men are in custody and the fourth is being sought in 13 states.

The jewelry was taken during the past year from hotel rooms of Mrs. Irene Selznick, former wife of movie producer David O. Selznick; actress Dolores Del Rio; actor Joseph Cotton; and

Attorneys Plan Law Day Fete

Ceremony to Include Awards Presentation

The Oakland County Bar Association today invited the public to attend a special ceremony next Wednesday in observance of America's answer to the Soviet Union's May Day.

The ceremony honoring Law Day, U.S.A., is scheduled for 2 p. m. in the courtroom of presiding Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer on the third floor of the county courthouse at the County Service Center.

On the program is a brief talk by Royal Oak attorney James Renfrew, general chairman of the observance for the county Bar Association, and presentation of awards to winners of a Law Day poster contest among high school students.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, the county's senior circuit judge, will present the poster awards. Refreshments will be served on the courthouse's second floor after the ceremony, according to Renfrew.

The observance of Law Day on May 1 was begun by attorneys to counter Russia's May Day celebration of communism and to pay tribute to America's respect for law and its protection of individual freedom and rights.

Hospital Says Hagen Grandson Still Critical

Walter Hagen III, grandson of golfing great Walter Hagen, remains in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital after accidentally being shot in the head.

Hagen, 15, of 6333 North Shore Court, West Bloomfield Township, was wounded Tuesday evening by a friend who believed the gun he was handling was unloaded.

Michael Hough, 14, of 6847 Alden Drive, West Bloomfield Township, in a statement to the prosecutor yesterday, said he thought the automatic gun was empty because the clip had been removed.

The shooting occurred inside the Hagen home when the boys returned from outside where they had each fired one shot into Green Lake.

He was indicted last June following an audit of the local's records by federal Labor Department investigators.

High School Dropout Has Little Chance for Job

By BILL SCHMIDT
This is a typical scene: A young boy swaggers into the local Michigan Employment Security Commission office. His hair is long and formed in a ducktail in the back. His shoes are long and pointed at the toe.

He's frustrated and disillusioned in his studies and thinks he's worth $3.75 an hour out of school.

This is the high school dropout, who represents one out of every three Pontiac youths in the teen-age bracket.

What he finds at the local MESC office is that he works less than a dollar an hour as a car washer, parking lot attendant or stock boy in a supermarket. And even at that his chances aren't too good.

The first thing the dropout hears at the MESC office is "Get back to school!"

If he is determined to quit, the employment counselor at the office advises him to get a haircut, do something about the pointed shoes, and generally improve his appearance.

'STOP-GAP' WORK

Then he tries to find "stop-gap" work for the youth — work for one day or one week.

The boy reports back to the office week after week only to hear the same old story: nobody wants to employ a high school dropout.

Generally after several weeks he decides this is a waste of time. Watching television and doing odd jobs around the house become his main occupations. The story behind a dropout is complex. The largest percentage of them — give adverse school experiences as their reason for leaving school. They tell local MESC employment counselors they don't get along with their teachers; the teachers don't understand them. Many see no purpose in continuing their education. All they see ahead of them is a steady stream of English, mathematics and social studies courses.

LACK GOAL

In many cases, the lack of a goal, or failure to plan for a career are factors causing the student to drop out.

After meeting with little success at the MESC office, the next step is usually to the military recruiting office.

There they receive the same advice: "Get back to school!"

Of the dropouts who persist in their demands to enter the service, only one in 10 actually meets the requirements, Army recruiter Sgt. Harry Monroe noted.

Without a high school diploma, there is little chance that the one will get specialized training in the Army which will help him when he gets out, Monroe added.

The remaining nine are back out on the street.

The 'high school dropout' has three built-in strikes against him as soon as he enters the labor market: his age, his education and his lack of work experience.

The fact is there is no place in the labor market for the unskilled worker. Even the most menial positions require either a high school education or prior work experience.

'SOMETHING LACKING'

According to Kingsley Montgomery, who recently directed a school dropout project at Camp Oakland, "something in the school is lacking."

"The emphasis is on words and ideas whereas these children need to work with their hands — to work at short-term projects," he said.

Dr. William F. Morehouse of the Oakland County Board of Education, explained that only recently have educators recognized the "reservoir of social dynamite" represented by school dropouts.

He cited a recent study by noted educational authority J. W. Gardner which urges schools to adopt a work-study program allowing the student to receive on-the-job training while attending school.

Dr. Morehouse suggested that educators start in the eighth grade to inform the student along with his parents, of the boy's educational potential and the pitfalls of future employment.

The Pontiac Board of Education has not been standing idly by while this problem has been growing.

Remedial reading courses have been instituted. Adult educational courses have been designed for dropouts. The school curriculum has been revised to carry more specialized courses. The counseling staff has been increased. Teaching specialists have been brought in.

There is much more to be done, administrators admit.

'Portray Drunkards'

U.S. Soldiers in Movie?

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressman has asked the Pentagon to take action against U.S. military men who reportedly played roles in an Icelandic movie giving a "drunken, girl-corrupting image" of American servicemen.

Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N. Y., fired off the protest yesterday after seeing a review of the film, entitled "Gogo," in the show business newspaper Variety.

"Almost unbelievable," said Variety, "is the participation in this feature of actual U.S. military personnel stationed at the Keflavik base but pictured as saucers and girl corruptors."

The Variety article said two U.S. officers of the Iceland base played drunkards.

Becker wrote Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that if American servicemen were allowed to take part in such a film

"it is about time we fold up our tents and go home."

He said McNamara should find out if the facts were as presented, and if so, learn the names of officers who participated and who gave them permission.

The congressman asked the defense secretary for an immediate reply outlining what steps he plans to take.

Students Okay Reds as Speakers on Campus

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Students of the University of California at Berkeley voted 2,947 to 847 Wednesday to allow Communists to speak on campus.

The referendum was in the form of a request asking the university regents to remove the ban which forbids Communists to appear at college-sponsored events.

International Bazaar Attracts 1,500 to Elks Temple

Pontiac Press Photos by Phil Webb

Guests at the first International Bazaar at the Elks Temple Wednesday needed shopping bags to carry home their purchases. Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs sponsored the event.

That's not enough tea, Karen! Eight-year-old Karen Flessland, Empire Drive, peers into the jumbo-size teapot that holds approximately 300 cups. Loaned by the British Travel Bureau, the teapot made a return visit to Pontiac, having been here for the Centennial.

Women Plan Fellowship Day

United Church Women of Pontiac will observe the 30th annual May Fellowship Day May 3 in a morning service at Bethel United Church of Christ on Mariva Street. Coffee hour begins at 9:30 a.m. with the worship service starting at 10 a.m. Nursery care will be provided for children.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmes, superintendent of Pontiac schools, will be speaker of the day. Mrs. Carl Leonard of First Congregational Church will be soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Wilbur Courter of Covert Methodist Church.

Theme for the day is "One Family Under God: Genuine and Full Participation." The Pontiac Council is one of 2,300 local and state councils of United Church Women participating in this observance.

Boys Can Give Party at Home

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I am a senior in high school and go around with a group of boys and girls who are also seniors in high school. We have parties every so often, but they are always given by the girls.

The boys never invite us to their houses. I think they should give parties once in a while too and not always leave it up to the girls to entertain.

I discussed this with a friend and she said it was effeminate for boys to give parties, and that it was not their place to do so.

I would like your opinion on this matter.

A: There is nothing effeminate about boys giving parties, and if they have ample space at home to do so, and their parents consent, they should invite the girls to their houses.

Q: I received six very beautiful crystal glasses for a wedding present.

They were sent parcel post and when I opened the package I found one of the glasses broken into several pieces. I would like to know if it would be proper to write the sender and tell her of the broken glass, or should I say nothing about it?

A: If the glasses were sent from the store or if the package was insured, it would be entirely proper to tell her that one was broken so that she can notify the store or put in a claim to the insurance company.

But if it was sent from your friend's house and not insured, it will be best not to say anything about it as she will feel obliged to replace it.

Mrs. Walter Lange (left), Sylvan Lake, stands with the judges at the Estonia booth which won the certificate for "Coordinated Beauty and Interest." Judges are (from left) Mrs. Janet Odell, Pontiac Press Women's Editor; Walter T. Frontczak, executive director, International Institute, Detroit; and Adah Shelly, Washington Street.

Oscar Frisk (left), Hill Circle, and John Carlson, Sylvan Shores Drive, lift their Laplander hats as Mrs. Freda

Flynn, Stanley Street, enters the bazaar. Both men are Swedish and worked in the Scandinavian booth Wednesday.

Hubby Watches Poker Game as Wife Handles Full House

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband works the second shift and has been coming home two and three hours late every night. Sometimes he has had a drink or two.

When I question him about it he says some fellows at work showed him a place where there is a big poker game going on all the time. They serve free beer and sandwiches.

He says he stops in there just to watch, and to relieve the tension of his hard day's work. We have 11 children and number 12 is on the way. How should I handle the situation?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Your joker is wild. Tell him to come right home after work because you need him to help you relieve the tension after your hard day with 11 children. He can see a full house (his) every night.

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old and have a mother who won't buy a detergent because she doesn't like the commercial. Is this sensible?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: It is just as "sensible" as buying a detergent because one likes the commercial. The manufacturer of that detergent your mother isn't buying would like to hear from her.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter goes with a young surgeon. Several times after they had been to a dance she complained about her feet. He urged her to let him perform an operation on them at no charge. Her trouble is that her little toes on both feet overlap.

The surgeon says it is a simple operation to amputate the small toes. It will give her permanent relief with no ill after-effects.

Have you ever heard of such an operation? Should we let her go ahead and have her friend do it? I'd like your opinion.

MRS. K.

DEAR MRS. K.: I advise you to send your daughter to another doctor—one who specializes in foot surgery.

If the specialist agrees that the toes should come off, let him perform the surgery. The young surgeon probably meant well, but letting a "friend" perform surgery gratis could be an expensive way to save money.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEE DEE: A new broom sweeps clean, and what old witch can't use a clean sweep?

ident, (Beta Eta); Mrs. Robert Lyon, LeBaron Avenue, recording secretary, (Xi Beta Theta); and Mrs. M. A. Culbi, Linden Road, sponsor, (Epsilon Rho Chapter).

"Hold it just a minute, please." Mrs. Dimitrie Toth, First Avenue, wandered around the bazaar hall taking pictures of other exhibits. But most of the day she helped in the Romanian booth which took the prize for "Preparatory Adaptation of its Booth" which means in plain English, "hard work ahead of time."

Mrs. Frank Soda, Elizabeth Lake Road, has a hard time putting the cork in that bottle of wine. Both Mrs. Soda and the wine bottle decorated the Italian booth at the International Bazaar. She is a member of the Italian-American club.

Mrs. David Saks, Bloomfield Terrace, was general chairman of the International Bazaar. At the right is Tony Veatch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Veatch, Rotsel Road, who tested the spines on the cactus in the Mexican booth to see if they pricked. They did.

Mrs. U.S. Contestants Style Hairdos Today

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Take 51 pretty homemakers, tell them to try out two new hairdos each, and what have you got?

Probably the most confused panel of judges you've ever seen.

The 51 Mrs. America contestants were scheduled to show unusual hairstyles today in the second day of competition here.

Normal hairstyles were out. The girls have been told to come up with something different, and they probably will.

Personality interviews, also were on tap today, and tomorrow the men finally get into the act.

The contestants' husbands have been here all week without much to do — but tomorrow they compete in a trading stamplicking contest.

PIE OF THEIR EYE

Yesterday, a blue-eyed mother of four baked her way into the judges' hearts with an apple pie that "looked like an apple pie should."

Mrs. Wynette Card, 31, of Brigham City, Utah, won the apple pie baking contest using the same recipe as the other shapely housewives.

And the Montana entry, Mrs. Gloria Hegen, 38, of Kalaka, won the home styling competition with her floor plan for a recreation room based on a pattern of brown and grey checkerboard tiles. Finals of the contest are Saturday night.

Hold Rugs Down

A triangular piece of stiff canvas sewed under the corners of rugs will hold them down and keep the edges from curling up.

Hold Dinner for Shrine of Jerusalem

A cooperative dinner served by officers of Pontiac Shrine No. 22, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, preceded Wednesday's ceremonial in the Roosevelt Masonic Temple.

Delegates to the Supreme Shrine May 6-9 in New Orleans, La., will be Mrs. Harold W. Radcliffe, the Marquis A. Sartell, Mrs. Samuel Smith, Mrs. Frank Payne, Mrs. H. Wayne Reeves, Mrs. George McNally, Mrs. Yvonne Anderson and Mrs. Fred Kline.

The next meeting will be May 15 instead of May 8.

Chapter Sees Life-Saving Demonstration

Mrs. Richard DeShelter opened her Watkins Lake home Tuesday evening to members of Beta Omega Chapter, Lambda Chi Omega Sorority.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

One of our very fashionable models (who makes all of her own clothes) was looking for a wide silk braid to match a silk crepe blouse to wear with a white suit. She searched everywhere but was unable to get the exact color.

She very successfully tinted her silk braid the exact color with very little effort. This paid off in big dividends by giving her ensemble a costume room look.

Always buy a little extra trim for testing purposes and don't be afraid to try things like this. (Incidentally, she also had a turban-type hat made of the crepe blouse fabric and the whole effect was very eye catching.)

"Dear Eunice: I am broad across the shoulders but afraid to get a larger pattern because it will be too big everywhere else. How can I make the back comfortable?" Mrs. S. T.

Dear Mrs. S. T.: The easiest way to enlarge the back of a pattern is to split the pattern itself from the center of the shoulder straight to the waistline. Separate the pattern 1/2 inch to 1 inch (or whatever is needed).

You will have to make a small dart at the shoulder seam or make the existing dart larger if there already is one, in order to keep the shoulder the same width.

If the waistline is too large, you can also enlarge the darts or add another one. In this way you will find the ease in the back, just where you need it.

HANDY POCKETS

I always add a pocket with a slide fastener closing inside my coat (about chest level). This pocket is made where the coat facing joins the lining, which makes this little job very easy. This is a perfect place to put change, your glasses, or any small item you need when you don't want to carry a purse.

Mrs. D. Corbett, St. Louis, Mo., has been sent a Tailor Trix pressing board for this winning suggestion of the week.

Mrs. N. A. of New York, sent a similar suggestion: Sew a short fastener across the top of child's jacket or coat jacket to keep money, and especially glasses that are worn only while studying, from falling out.

Dear Eunice: Your column in our newspaper every week has been like bait in front of a fish. I began making small alterations on ready-made clothes, then gradually began making simple dresses.

Guess I was getting too cocky when I thought I could make a jacket because I pulled a boob. When I finished my buttonholes, I discovered to my horror that I had made them on the wrong side of my material and here were the raw edges of the welts really showing on the right side.

I need help quick, can anything be done with these since they were already cut? Mrs. B. P.

Dear Mrs. B. P.: I am sorry to hear about this mistake. There is a very tedious remedy, but it will take a lot of patience.

Just this week, Mrs. V. G. of St. Louis told me that this very thing happened to her (and she is an experienced seamstress). This is what she suggests.

Carefully remove the buttonhole welts. Close the area that was slashed for the buttonhole with transparent tape. This will keep the threads firm and prevent raveling.

Now, you must restitch the welts in place on the right side of your garment. After they are stitched, and before cutting, you will be able to see through the clear tape to see if the stitching is exactly where it should be.

You may have to make the buttonhole a stitch or two longer to prevent pulling out at the ends. If you are careful, Mrs. G. says, you will have perfect results.

If you want to be sure you don't make the same mistake, you may obtain Eunice Farmer's complete instructions for making buttonholes by sending for her free leaflet on the subject. Enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope with your request addressed to Eunice Farmer, in care of this newspaper.

Easy Exercise

Here's New Three-In-One

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This week I am giving you a few of my favorite exercises. A reader sent the following one to me some years ago.

It proved to be so helpful to my pupils that I am passing it on to you today.

It is especially fine because it can be done so easily when you first awaken and just before going to sleep at night. Also, it is not strenuous but accomplishes several things.

This is how you do it: Lie on your back, across the bed, head and shoulders hanging off the side of the bed. Fold your hands over your abdomen.

Raise your head up to your chest and then lower it. Unfold your arms and stretch, reaching as far back over your head as possible.

Fold your arms. Continue. Gradually, work up to doing this 50 times.

Take plenty of time for the exercises for the chin and neck.

stretch. Wag your head from side to side.

THREE IN ONE
This exercise is really three in one. It stretches the spine, it is corrective to double chins and a dowager's hump and it slims the diaphragm.

It gives your neck a good all around workout. This exercise is also quite relaxing.

You can alternate the head raisings and the stretchings or you can do five head raises and then five stretchings, and so forth.

The woman who sent this exercise to me said that it would take 10 years off of any woman's age if she would do it 10 days straight.

That may be an exaggeration but I think you will find the exercise helpful.

If you would like to have my send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 10 and 18 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Secretary of the Year Is Honored by Chapter

Mrs. Roberta Trayer became secretary of the year of North Oakland County Wednesday evening. She was honored by the Pontiac Chapter of the National Secretaries Association, International, at a dinner meeting at Ted's Restaurant.

In a ceremony commemorating National Secretaries Week, Mrs. Trayer was crowned and presented with a statuette and certificate by Edythe Perry, chairman of National Secretaries Week.

She was chosen from a group of secretaries from North Oakland County whose employers completed evaluation forms mailed by the Pontiac Chapter, of which she is a member.

Mrs. Trayer is employed by the Family Service of Oakland County and attended the Pontiac Business Institute.

The invocation was given by Miss Perry. A proclamation received from governor George Romney was read.

Guest speaker was Jean Palm of the Walled Lake school system and an exchange teacher who taught in England during the 1961-62 school year. She showed slides of her European travels.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Raymond Sluder, Sharon Gaynor, Francis Kajina, Mrs. V. L. Newcombe, Janet Janowski, Genda Roberts and Ellen Porritt. Mrs. Russell Brackett conducted a candlelight initiation of two new members, Carmen Peck and Mrs. Lottie Yarnold.

Publication Blasts Bad Secretaries

A publication which looks to secretaries for readership takes them sharply to task in its current issue.

"The only thing harder to find today than a secretary is a good secretary," said Today's Secretary. The situation promises to continue in the business world for years to come, it added.

Every year, hundreds of thousands of girls "pour into the secretarial market," the publication said. "But their quantity outweighs their quality."

It continued that secretaries are in a seller's market, although an estimated 1,300 private business and secretarial schools train about half a million students each year.

Add to this number the tens of thousands of high school graduates. Yet the supply falls short of the business demand.

"The average commercially trained high school graduate has had two years of shorthand, one of typing, a year of office practice and courses in telephone technique, personality and grooming," said the publication.

"With all this training, the graduating secretary can't spell, can't recognize a complete sentence, can't transcribe letters accurately. She answers the phone with 'Who is it?', doesn't know how to change a typewriter ribbon, and comes to work wearing layers of shake-up and coats of eye-shadow."

"Yet," the publication added, "she can demand a salary of up to $75 a week, plus fringe benefits that have gone so far as to grant days off to girls who work 10 weeks in a row without being absent or late."

"Companies that offer high pay for low competence still may have a hard time filling their secretarial needs unless the office is air-conditioned, the girls have electric typewriters and there are some eligible men around the place."

Confused With Legal Procedures

Teen-Agers Ignorant of America's Rights

ca's teen-agers pay lip service to the principle of the individual's civil rights, but they are pretty fuzzy on what rights our Constitution guarantees the other guy. Many are confused between rights and legal procedures.

Not only are the young people ignorant of the basic rights guaranteed each citizen, but they are sometimes vindictive toward a person only accused of a crime.

For instance, our opinion survey of 903 young people shows nearly three-quarters of the girls and three-fifths of the boys think that if an accused person pleads innocent to a crime he should be forced to testify.

Comments indicate some of the teen-agers mean well, as does Virginia Richardson, 19, of Griffin, Ga., when she says the accused should be required to testify because "he might have some evidence to prove his innocence." But they miss the point stated by Robert Tredegar, 15, of Oklahoma City, that "a man is innocent until proven guilty and is under no obligation to prove his innocence."

Very few realize a person has the right to refuse to speak. The conclusion many jump to is expressed by a New Jersey boy when he says if "I could only assume he was guilty."

One Chicago girl went so far as to say "A sentence or fine should be imposed because of his contempt of court." And a Maine boy decided the accused who will not testify for himself should be "locked up because he probably is guilty."

WOULD GUARD PRIVACY

The issue of one kind of justice for the rich and another kind for the poor is of concern to the teen-agers. Some 73 per cent feel court expenses should be paid by the government if the accused is unable to afford a good defense.

"This is necessary," says James Knox, 18, of Chicago, "in order to insure justice to all economic and social classes."

But Mary Holden, 15, of Jackson, Maine cries "No! The people who pay the taxes are not the criminals and should not have to pay for the crime."

There is no arguing among the teen-agers over the necessity for issuing warrants before police can search a person's property.

More than four-fifths of the young people agree with David Hahn, 18, of Shawnee Mission, Kan. that unlawful invasion of privacy should be prevented.

In common legal disagreements, nearly 55 per cent of the teen-agers feel the decision of a court should be final and should not be subject to review by higher courts.

They say such matters aren't important enough to concern higher courts. It is not clear where they would draw the line and allow judicial review by superior courts.

Regarding freedom of the press, only 83 per cent of the young people think newspapers and radio stations should be allowed to criticize the President.

CENSORSHIP FAVORED TOO

"Freedom of the press is a mark of our democracy," says Joanne Koval, 18, of Chicago, but she adds, "It is all right to criticize him on an official basis but not his private life."

An alarming number, 64 per cent of the girls and 54 per cent of the boys, think newspapers should be subject to censorship on what they can print in addition to restrictions on military information.

Most of their concern is over the publication of slanderous material, such as gossip and scandals.

But they also say they object to misleading facts; information which could be of use to our enemies; one-sided political views; news which could lead to panic and confusion, and facts which could endanger the life of another.

Here, they seem to overlook present laws which make newspapers subject to lawsuits for libel and disregard the judgment exercised by responsible newspapers.

A sizeable minority of 30 per cent feel certain groups, mainly those who advocate overthrow of our government, should be prevented from holding public meetings.

One Georgia girl cited the Ku Klux Klan as a group she would like to see prevented from meeting. And a Maine girl feels the congregation of nudists should be stopped.

About eight per cent think the Black Muslim movement is a threat to America and should not be allowed to meet.

But the majority rally around the view of Alan Manchester, 17, of Morrison, Ill., who says "In this country there is freedom of speech. If anyone starts deciding who should hold meetings and who shouldn't, there will no longer be freedom of speech."

Raw Carrot Relish Is Something Different

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

If the family balks at cooked carrots and you're tired of serving them carrot sticks, ring in a change with carrot relish.

This is a family favorite of Mrs. Roy Simpson who says it keeps indefinitely if you cover and refrigerate it. Her mother used to make it by the dishpan full in the family restaurant.

Mrs. Simpson does some church work. She enjoys

CARROT RELISH

By Mrs. Roy Simpson

4-6 medium raw carrots
 1 whole lemon
 1 cup sugar
 Dash of salt

Scrub carrots and lemon and grind together. Add sugar and salt and mix well. Let stand at room temperature to season, stirring occasionally. This is good with meat and poultry. Store in refrigerator.

Ice Cream Is Always Welcome

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor
Wouldn't you know that on a day we decide to write about ice cream the thermometer doesn't get above 40!

PARTY MIX SAUCE

ORANGE ALASKA

Meat Prices Continue to Be Attractively Low

Broilers, pork and beef continue to be shopper - stoppers in most grocery stores advises the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Generous supplies of these protein foods, and the competition of each for your meat dollars are reasons why they appear as featured items again this week.

According to U.S. Department of Agriculture reports, pork production was 6 per cent above a year ago during the first quarter of 1963. Beef production was up 5 per cent and broiler supplies were up 9 per cent.

Competition from beef is not expected to let up much until late summer. Broiler supplies are expected to continue heavy, although April - June marketings may fall slightly under last year's level.

Did you know that frying chickens are being produced at a lower cost per chicken than ever before? As a result of this and the promotion of this product, consumers are eating more chicken. Civilians in the United States used 25.5 pounds of fryers per person in 1961, an increase of 6.4 pounds since 1957.

Many pork cuts await your selection. If selecting a roast, remember that roasts with a thin fat covering are just as tender and juicy as roasts with thick fat. Research shows that a pork roast with a thin fat covering can be roasted in a shorter time than one with thick fat. You can reduce cooking time with a slice of the knife before roasting.

FRESH PRODUCE

There is a seasonal increase in harvesting activity in many production areas. These signs of spring are seen in new-crop potatoes, fresh asparagus, fresh strawberries, and more sales of processed foods.

April contributes 38 per cent of the annual fresh asparagus crop, but Michigan supplies arrive in abundance in May. April also brings the peak supply of artichokes. Perhaps you have noticed that the carrot supply is abundant . . . and price is low.

Many canned vegetables are still in good supply. March stocks of asparagus, corn, beans, carrots, peas, spinach, tomatoes and tomato products were larger than on March 1, 1962. Frozen corn, lima beans, peas and French fried potatoes are also in larger supply than a year ago.

On January 1, 1963 catsup supplies were up 32 per cent compared to the year before. There was 31 per cent more tomato juice and 11 per cent more chili sauce.

Shippers report that Mexican cantaloupe is enjoying one of the best seasons for quality and volume. Sugar content is thought to be the best ever due to weather conditions in the fields. You will find prices ranging from about 33-13 cents to 49 cents each, depending upon size and condition.

Dressing Is Slightly Sweet

Like a little sugar in your French dressing? Then you'll enjoy this recipe.

Prue's French Dressing

- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 1-3 cup cider vinegar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon sugar

Put all ingredients into a jar with a screwtop cover or into a bowl; shake or beat with a fork until blended. Chill and shake or beat again just before using. Makes about 1 cup.

But who cares really? Ice cream is a year-round treat. Ideas for serving it are just as good now as they will be this summer.

The first recipe makes use of dry toasted nuts and butterscotch pieces. Fill marigold shells with ice cream and serve with warm sauce. Use chocolate or coffee ice cream for a different taste treat.

Second Day Suggestion for Leftover Roast

When roast beef is leftover after the weekend, you might like to try this dish.

Beef A La Stroganoff

- 1 pound leftover roast beef
- 1 can (6 ounces) sliced mushrooms
- 1 beef bouillon cube
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- 1/2 pint cultured sour cream
- Salt and pepper to taste

Remove any fat from beef; cut into strips about 1/4-inch thick and 2 or 3 inches long. Drain mushrooms; dissolve the bouillon cube in 1/4 cup of the hot mushroom liquid.

In a 10-inch skillet over low heat cook drained mushrooms and onion in butter until onion is golden. Add beef, sour cream and bouillon; stir over low heat until sauce is smooth and beef hot through. Add salt and pepper and more mushroom liquid, water or stock if necessary to have sauce a medium-thin consistency. Do not boil.

Sauce will be pale; if you like a darker color, add a little gray coloring. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Put Figs in Salad for Unusual Taste

A refreshing salad that blends well with barbecued meats, as well as many casserole dishes.

- 6 dried figs, quartered
- 2 oranges, peeled and cut into segments
- 1 grapefruit, peeled and cut into segments
- 1 avocado, peeled and sliced
- 1 quart salad greens, broken into bite-size pieces
- 2 tablespoons honey
- 1/4 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise

In large salad bowl, combine figs with oranges, grapefruit, avocado and greens. Blend honey and milk with mayonnaise. Pour over salad and toss ingredients, blending well. Serve immediately. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Some Vitamins Lost

You can often save time by peeling potatoes ahead, but the spuds will lose some of their vitamin C (ascorbic acid) after 24 hours in the refrigerator. So when you serve cooked - ahead potatoes to your family, make extra sure that you also serve some high-C foods such as tomatoes, citrus fruits and green cabbage.

Party Mix Sauce

- 1 (6 oz.) package butterscotch pieces
- 1/4 cup corn syrup
- 3 tablespoons cream
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup dry-toasted party mix nuts

Heat butterscotch and corn syrup in saucepan over hot water. Stir in cream and butter and mix well. Add nuts and mix until all nuts are covered with sauce. Makes about 2 cups sauce.

Our second ice cream sauce is equally delicious served on cake or over vanilla pudding. Making it is merely a matter of minutes. With this recipe as a starter, use your imagination to combine other frozen fruit and fruit juices.

Peach Spice Pineapple Sauce

- 1 cup (12-oz. package) frozen peach slices
- 6 tablespoons (1/4 6-oz. can) frozen concentrated pineapple juice
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

In a small saucepan heat peaches, pineapple juice, cinnamon and salt, breaking apart peach slices. Bring to a boil; simmer about 15 minutes until slightly thickened. Serve warm or cold over ice cream. Sauce may be stored in refrigerator and, if desired, reheated before serving. Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce.

Variation: Substitute frozen concentrated orange juice for pineapple juice.

The Sealtest people have put out a pocket cookbook devoted entirely to dairy recipes. You can get "1001 Dairy Dishes from the Sealtest Kitchens" by sending a quarter to Box 5023, St. Paul 4, Minnesota.

One section of the book is devoted to baked Alaska. This piping hot icy-cold dessert always looks more complicated than it is. Just be sure your ice cream is very hard; that you seal it in; and that the oven is hot.

Orange Alaska

- 2 large chilled oranges, halved
- 2 egg whites
- 3 tsp. sugar
- Few grains salt
- 1 quart ice cream
- 1/4 tsp. vanilla

Scoop out orange pulp, making clean hollow shells. Cut a thin slice from the bottom of each shell to make it stand steady. Place on cookie sheet. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Add sugar and salt gradually; beat in quickly but thoroughly. Add vanilla.

Fill shells with ice cream. Cover ice cream completely with meringue. If desired, sprinkle with a little green sugar (rub a bit of green coloring into a little gran-

Let Kids Decide on Frosting Colors

Youngsters will enjoy frosting doughnuts for a party. Make up a big batch of confectioners' sugar frosting, then divide into three bowls. Flavor one batch with graed orange rind and color with orange food coloring. Flavor another batch with peppermint extract and color a pale green. Flavor the third batch with cocoa and vanilla.

Did you know that pastry can now be had with foam backing to make it non-shift.

Kidney Bean Salad

Quick salad: drain canned red kidney beans; rinse with cold water and drain again. Mix the beans with diced apple, diced celery and French dressing. Serve on crisp salad greens. A little minced scallion will not be amiss in this hearty salad.

Celery Is Important in Chinese Cookery

Celery, available the year around, is a perfect all-purpose vegetable. Crisply iced, its appetizing texture and fresh fragrance give it a place of honor on the relish tray. It is an essential ingredient in dozens of salads, sandwich spreads, soups, stews. It is a flavorful cooked vegetable too, especially when you balance its dainty calorie count, with a rich and well-seasoned sauce.

There are, in fact, so many ways of serving celery that it takes a 1,500,000,000-pound annual crop to satisfy our needs. The major producers are California and Florida, with Florida in its annual peak season at this time of year.

Celery is becoming better and sweeter all the time. Yet 350 years ago it was still a rather bitter primitive plant, grown for medicinal purposes only. The first mention of its use as a food was made in 1623 when people began using it to flavor soups. For the next century it saw limited use as a flavoring ingredient, nothing more.

Then celery varieties improved somewhat and people began eating celery ribs and leaves with oil dressing. By the middle of the 18th Century celery growers discovered that plants growing in late summer and fall had a more delicate flavor.

Celery-growing became an industrial in the United States about 1880 when golden, self-bleaching varieties were the most popular. Today the green or "Pascal" varieties account for 85% of the celery harvest, leaving only 15% to the self-bleaching type.

Celery, Mushroom and Chicken Sauté

1½ pounds chicken breast
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 cups celery, sliced diagonally
¼-inch wide
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ cup water

Remove bones from chicken breasts and cut meat into strips ¼-inch wide and 2-inches long. Sauté in hot oil 2 minutes. Add

Stuff Baked Potatoes

Bake six medium potatoes; cut a lengthwise slice from the top of each and scoop out the pulp; mash with ¼ cup light cream, several tablespoons of butter, a teaspoon of salt and white pepper to taste. Make sure the pulp mixture is smooth, then heap back into potato shells; sprinkle with paprika and heat through in a moderate oven.

celery, mushrooms, soy sauce and salt. Mix well. Cover and cook 5 minutes.

Blend cornstarch and black pepper with water. Stir and cook until juice thickens, 1 to 2 minutes. Serve hot. 6 servings.

Chinese Celery and Beef Steaks

1 pound sirloin or other tender steak (boneless)
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cups sliced celery, cut on the diagonal
¼ cup thinly sliced onion
¼ cup soy sauce
¼ cup red wine
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon salt

Cut meat into very thin slices. Fry until browned in deep fat preheated to 250 degrees. Drain meat well on paper towels.

Melt shortening in a 9 or 10-inch skillet. Add celery and onion and sauté 3 minutes. Add meat along with the remaining ingredients mixed together. Mix thoroughly and cook 1 to 2 minutes. 6 servings.

Celery Steak, Chinese Style

1 pound flank steak
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice or red wine
¼ teaspoon sugar

¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons salad oil
2 cups celery, sliced diagonally

Cut steak into crosswise strips ¼-inch wide. Combine soy sauce, lemon juice or wine, sugar and salt. Pour over meat and marinate 2 hours. Sauté in hot oil 5 minutes, turning to cook on all sides. Save marinade that is left in bowl for later use.

Add celery and sauté 4 minutes or until celery is crisp-tender. Add the reserved marinade and cook 1 minute. Serve hot. 6 servings.

Single Tomato Flavors a Salad

Tomato is added to this salad, but it is prepared a special way.

Emmie's Twosome Salad

1 medium tomato
6 to 8 romaine leaves, torn into bite-size pieces
½ medium green pepper, cut into thin strips
5 to 6 sprigs parsley
3 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
¼ teaspoon dry dill weed or salad herbs
Salt and pepper
Cut a thin slice from each end of tomato; halve crosswise; squeeze gently to remove seeds and juice; cut into thin strips. Mix tomato, romaine and green pepper; pluck leaves from parsley stems and add.

Toss with oil, vinegar, dill weed and salt and pepper. Serve at once. Makes 2 servings.

To Crisp Meringues

Crisp meringues are delicious filled with ice cream. If you are baking the meringues for a party and they soften during an overnight stay in a covered container, reheat them in a very slow oven for 15 minutes or so. Then cool the meringues and they'll be crisp.

Cooked Ham Batters Salad

California-style potato salad is a good way to use up leftover ham. Marinate 4 cooked, diced potatoes in seasoned mayonnaise; then toss with 1 cup cooked ham, cut in strips, and 6 cups torn or shredded western iceberg lettuce. To make seasoned mayonnaise, combine 1 cup mayonnaise, ½ cup milk and ¼ cup lemon juice. Add 1 teaspoon each salt, seasoned salt and sugar with a dash of pepper and ¼ teaspoon dehydrated minced onion or 1 table-spoon finely chopped onion.

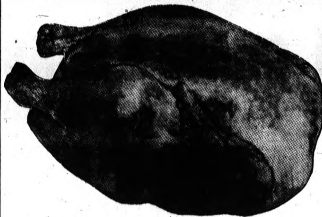

Scramble Salmon and Eggs for Supper

Scramble salmon with eggs for a delicious quick supper or lunch, served with grits or pan-fried potatoes.

Melt 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine in a skillet. Popcorn Sticks Fun at Party

Popcorn kabobs are a new, unique eatable favor for a children's party. Made with two, up-to-date foods—wrapped caramels and popcorn, ready for popping in its own foil pan, the kabobs can be ready in a jiffy. While the corn pops, the caramels melt. Then, just shape the caramel coated corn into balls. Arrange three balls on each stick and gum drop tip the ends.

To personalize the kabobs for each guest, put place cards on toothpicks and stick them into the gum drops. Easy to eat, easy to hold, these popcorn kabobs will find ready favor with the younger set.

Popcorn Kabobs

1 lb. wrapped caramels
1/4 cup water
1 tablespoon pure vanilla
1 package ready-to-pop corn, foil wrapped gum drops

Melt caramels and water over hot water. Stir in vanilla. Meanwhile, pop the corn in its own foil container. Put popped corn into large oblong baking dish or pan. Pour over melted caramels. Shape into small balls. Put three on a stick. Top ends with gum drops. Makes about a dozen kabobs.

POPCORN KABOBS—Fancy edible favors for the grade school crowd are easily made with pop corn, caramels and gumdrops. Miniature popcorn ball are threaded on sticks with gumdrops acting as anchors. Stick a guest's name on each one, if you like.

Americans Love Their Cheese

Americans are eating more cheese than ever before relates the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. On the average, Americans ate about three times as much cheese per person in 1961 as they did in the early 1900's.

Rising incomes partly account for greater use of cheese. As family incomes increase, so do purchases of dairy products. Higher incomes have allowed more travel and an opportunity to become acquainted with a wider variety of cheese.

The development of new cheese products and packages are other reasons for increased use of cheese. Recent studies show that some chain stores stock as many as 140 different cheese items, including different brands and sizes.

Cheese is a concentrated food. Approximately nine pounds of milk is required to make a pound of cheese. One pound of Cheddar cheese supplies more protein than a pound of meat with a medium amount of bone.

The price of cheese is related to the processing method, length of aging, size of piece and type of packaging. Keeping qualities are dependent upon the type of cheese.

Most cheese is at its best in taste and texture when served at room temperature. Cook cheese dishes at low temperature so the cheese will melt slowly and evenly without becoming tough and stringy.

Double Chocolate Cookies are Rich

Light in color, these chocolate drop cookies are studded with small pieces of dark semi-sweet chocolate.

Chocolate Cookies
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon each baking powder, baking soda and salt
1/4 cup butter
3/4 cup sugar
1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 egg
1/2 cup cultured sour cream
1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1/2 cup finely chopped nuts

Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream butter and sugar; mix in melted chocolate; beat in egg thoroughly, then sour cream. Stir in sifted dry ingredients, chocolate pieces and nuts.

Drop level tablespoons a few inches apart, on buttered cookie sheet. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen.

Cheese-Rice Dish Bakes Untended

Baked Rice With Cheese

1-tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 cup long-grain rice
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon minced parsley
2 cups chicken broth
1 cup diced process cheddar cheese

Melt butter in a large skillet; add onion and cook until wilted but not brown. Stir in rice; continue to cook, stirring often, until rice is golden. Add garlic, Worcestershire, parsley and broth. Heat just to boiling. Stir in cheese.

Turn into a buttered 1 1/2-quart casserole. Bake, covered, in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed — 35 to 40 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Serving Tips

Top hamburgers with French-fried onion rings (canned or frozen) and serve with mashed potatoes and creamed spinach for a family supper. Top the spinach with raw carrot curls for color and texture contrast.

Coarsely chopped salted peanuts go into a casserole of creamed silver-skin onions and eaters applaud.

Unmold and serve with slightly sweetened whipped cream and garnish with coarsely chopped salted peanuts, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Army Missile Proves Tough

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Army's Pershing missile proved itself as tough as it is rough in service launching tests now ended here.

A 190-mile flight Wednesday was the fourth successful launch by troops to see how the Pershing would fly after being jolted to the firing pad over rough ground, and well it might be in battle conditions.

Men of the 4th Artillery's Battery A, Fort Sill, Okla., launched the rocket and it functioned without a hitch, a spokesman said.

Ferency Jabs Romney Stand

'Do-Nothing Ineptness' Charged on ADC-U

JACKSON (U) — Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency said George Romney yesterday of "wheel-spinning, do-nothing leadership" in the dispute over Federal Aid to Dependent Children of the unemployed (ADC-U).

In a talk prepared to be delivered at the Jackson Rotary Club, Ferency said Romney has done "a remarkable job of smoke-screening his ineptness."

"The fact stands out clearly through the rubble of broken promises to bring ADC-U to Michigan," Ferency said.

"Words, no matter how loudly shouted, are no substitute for deeds."

"Michigan has no ADC-U legislation—and with the legislative session just about to end, is not going to get any."

Ferency said Romney has revealed that he found a lawyer who will back his stand on ADC-U, but had refused to identify the attorney.

"This," said Ferency, "is nothing more than an exercise in phantom government."

"Secret opinion secretly arrived at by a secret counsel fails to fit the mold of open democracy based on open decisions openly arrived at."

MEMBER OF BAR?

"The legal counsel Mr. Romney so boldly mentioned may, for all we know or will ever know, not even be admitted to the bar of Michigan."

The legislature passed an ADC-U bill, which Romney signed into law, but Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, declared it is unacceptable because it sets up standards for eligibility that are "discriminatory."

Romney countered that the federal law leaves it up to the individual states to decide who shall be eligible for ADC-U assistance and has accorded Celebrezze of defying the will of Congress.

Later, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley issued an opinion saying that the ADC-U bill was unconstitutional and in violation of the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution which guarantees equal protection under the law.

Body of Detroit Found

TRAVERSE CITY (U)—An autopsy was ordered to determine the cause of death of a Detroit whose body was found yesterday along U.S. 31 at Acme five miles north of here.

Guard Your Child Against Strangers

Because child-molesting complaints increase during warm weather, parents were urged by the Michigan State Police today to warn their youngsters against going anywhere with strangers.

The warning should be occasionally repeated to keep children on guard against accepting gifts from persons they do not know, said Sgt. John Amthor, commander of the Pontiac state police post.

A concern of police, Amthor said, is the reluctance of parents to report child molesting incidents for fear of embarrassing publicity.

"This fear is unwarranted because names of minors and their parents are not used by the press, radio or TV, except in situations involving abduction or murder," explained Amthor.

He said that this reluctance conceals the actual total of molestation cases, tends to thwart preventive action by police and may even encourage the offender to strike again.

CAUTION CHILDREN

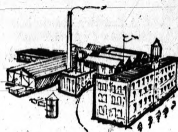

Parents, Amthor said, should caution their children against accepting any offers of money, candy or gifts from strangers or going for walks or rides with them.

Children should have playmates or companions with them when playing outdoors, going to and from school and when running errands, according to Amthor.

If a child is approached, he should write down or memorize a description of the person, such as color of eyes, hair and skin and any unusual features such as mustache, eyeglasses, tattoos, jewelry or any physical defects or scars.

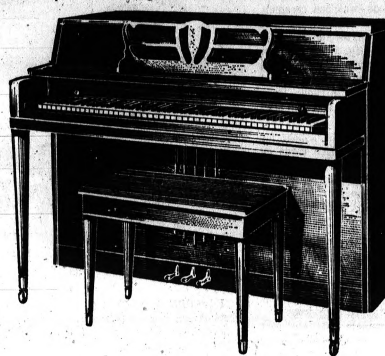

If the stranger has a car, a child should try to remember the license plate number, color and model.

The common bond that united them. A cherished proverb was, "The eminent plant explorer, Dr. Little-known gorges of the upper Cossacks was a love of freedom." The Cossack does not remove Joseph F. Eye Waterford School Needs

Reports on school needs in Waterford Township submitted by the Citizens Advisory Committee will be discussed at tonight's Township board of education meeting.

Included will be a proposed five-year building program calling for six new schools and additions to eight existing buildings. The projected cost is estimated at $6 million. The largest single cost would be for a proposed new junior high school in the northeast corner of the township.

Top priority in the program, according to Leonard Moses, a subcommittee chairman, would be given to construction of the junior high school, two new elementary schools, and additions to Cooley, Leggett, and Monticelli elementary schools and Crary Junior High School. Robert Dieball, chairman of the subcommittee working on a master plan for the school district, reported that, based on projected population growth, better than one new school per year will be needed between now and 1990.

'One of the Great Ironies'

Newburgh Welfare Foe Mitchell Says He's Broke

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Joseph Mitchell was "getting back into the swing of things" at his city manager's job today. He described himself as "broke, in debt but extremely happy the nightmare is over."

The "nightmare" was Mitchell's trial in a $20,000 shakedown case. A jury in New York City acquitted him of any role in the case, and he returned to City Hall

Wednesday to resume his duties. His first move was to sign a voucher for some $5,000 in back pay.

Mitchell, who skyrocketed to national prominence with a controversial welfare crackdown aimed at what he termed relief chiselers in Newburgh, said he spent "a minimum of $30,000" on his defense.

TRULY NEEDY

"I'm among the truly needy,"

he said. "It's one of the great ironies of my life."

Asked about his plans for the future, Mitchell said: "I plan to start getting reorganized again and get the job done. Getting back to my desk after nearly five months away is almost like starting all over again."

"I held a staff meeting soon after I got back, but I'm afraid

I didn't get too much work done. So many Well-wishers were coming into my office it was like a parade. And there were congratulatory calls to take and letters to answer."

"Thursday morning I hope to start back into the swing of things. There are lots of things to be done—routine-sounding to the average man, perhaps, but terribly important to a city like Newburgh."

"There's a rather large and significant urban renewal project that has been dragging. There's a sewage plant and an incinerator plant that have to be put into construction, and here are a few more parking lots to build."

"These are just routine chores that are part of a city manager's job, but, boy, I'll be glad to do them."

Asked about welfare, Mitchell said Newburgh has been holding the line on that for the past two years, "despite extraordinary pressures from do-gooders on the outside" and he would be happy to continue with that record.

Mitchell, 41, had voluntarily suspended himself from his $15,700-a-year post last December. After the jury cleared him Tuesday, he reinstated himself.

The city manager was acquitted in State Supreme Court of engineering a shakedown of twin brothers who wanted a rezoning of Newburgh residential property in order to build a housing project.

A new nylon headed golf club is said to drive 25 yards farther than wooden headed drivers.

Solons Consider Junkets

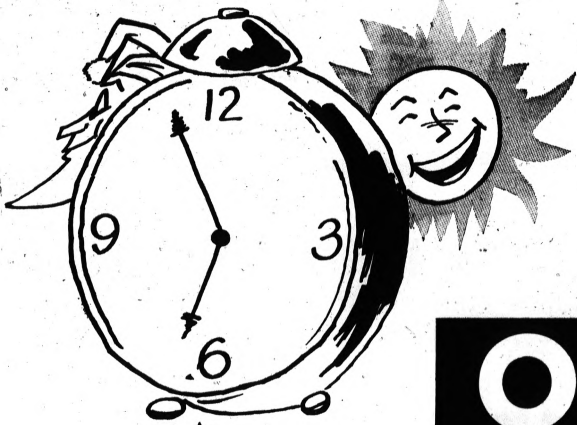

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Administration Committee approved Wednesday a crackdown on junketing by congressmen, including a ban on foreign travel by lame ducks who won't be back for the next session.

It sent to the House floor a bill which would affect travel practices of members of both the House and the Senate.

The bill would put traveling legislators under the same expense limitations that now apply to members of other branches of the government who go abroad on official business. It also would require them to file for public inspection their expense statements, including their use of foreign funds.

Members of Congress who are not candidates for re-election either through retirement or election defeats would be prohibited from arranging junkets after Congress adjourns. In the past, lame ducks frequently have arranged extensive foreign trips at public expense.

Names Being Suggested for Chevy's Proposed New Lines

BY BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — Chevrolet apparently is going to have another new car line next year, and Detroit is full of volunteers suggesting names.

The tremendously successful General Motors division is said to be ready to add a 115-inch wheelbase model as a direct rival in size and price to the Ford Fairlane.

Already in the Chevrolet stable are the rear-engined Corvair, the compact Chevy II, the specialized Corvette and the biggest seller of all cars, the standard Chevrolet.

Steel Magazine suggests the 115-inch model had been planned as an enlarged Chevy II, probably keeping the Chevy II name, with the division dropping the present 110 inch wheelbase line.

But now, the report goes, Chevy II will remain in its present size and the 115-inch wheelbase will be added—a size, incidentally, which both Chevrolet and Ford used for standard cars in 1955.

NEW NAMES

Three names being circulated for the new series are Chevalir, Cheval and Chevrolaire. Chances aren't too good it will be any of these. Most observers refused to believe Chevrolet would stick with Chevy II when this car was nearing final development two years ago, but it did.

The new Chevrolet entry will be similar in size, and will share body and frame, with the small Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs for 1964. These cars, now at 112 inches, will grow to the 115 inch wheelbase and will shift away from unitized construction.

One report says the Pontiac Tempest, which got a new V-8 engine in 1963, will add a six-cylinder engine for 1964. The Tempest presently uses the V-8 and a Four cylinder model, with the four going into a majority of the units.

The only other four in domestic production is used by the Chevy II, but it is in extremely limited demand and may well disappear by next year.

With Chevrolet gaining a line, Mercury apparently will lose one. The word currently is that the intermediate sized Mercury Meteor will be upgraded into a standard sized line, while probably retaining the Meteor series designation.

The Mercury Monterey, presently a full sized car, also is being upgraded as Ford once again tries to get a foothold in the lush medium price range dominated by General Motors.

CARBON COPY

The Meteor has been a carbon copy of the Ford Fairlane, but has failed to catch on in the marketplace. Production currently is running 40 per cent or less of what it was at this time a year ago. The Meteor was a lower priced series of the standard Mercury, prior to its debut in its current size.

While the Meteor has been a copy of the Fairlane, the Mont-crey has been a copy of the Ford Galaxie. It is this trend which Ford will attempt to get away from in 1964.

First of the new cars to be shown will be Chrysler's gas-turbine model, now scheduled for presentation to the press in New York in mid May. Chrysler has promised it will build 50 to 75 of these cars by the end of 1963.

The completely new body was built by Ghia of Italy, but Chrysler says the design belongs to its chief stylist Elwood Engel.

If so it will represent Engel's first full car since joining Chrysler in November, 1961.

The 1964 Imperial also is said to be a full Engel production.

The per capita cost of government in tiny Teterboro, N.J., is listed at $12,444 per resident by the New Jersey Division of Local Government. But the borough has only 22 residents. Actually large industries bear the tax burden, leaving residents with one of the smallest tax bills in the state.

Best Kind of Entertainment

Movie on War Prison High in Adventure

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — What is there about wartime prisons that makes such good movies?

First came "Stalag 17," then "Bridge on the River Kwai." Now the Mirisch Company is presenting another of its quality films, "The Great Escape."

It is a movie of high adventure, and that is the best kind of entertainment the motion picture can offer. When you can be engaged for two to three hours in the life-or-death struggle of human beings, you can't ask for much more from your theater admission.

THOMAS

"The Great Escape" is based on Paul Brickhill's true story of the almost superhuman efforts of 600 British and American Air Force officers to harass their German captors by a mass outbreak.

They struggled for a year, digging three tunnels 30 feet into the earth to escape sound detection, then hundreds of feet laterally to pass the guard barriers.

INGENIOUS FEAT

the utmost of human ingenuity—forging of passes and identification cards, tailoring of clothes for disguise, scrounging wood to shore the tunnels, disposing of the removed earth, etc. All this was accomplished, and the escape was a success, at least in its purpose of bedeviling German effort away from prosecution of the war.

John Sturges was an ideal choice for producer-director of "The Great Escape." He has demonstrated with films like "Bad Day at Black Rock," "Gunfight at OK Corral" and "Magnificent Seven" his skill at manipulating large, predominantly male casts in complex plot patterns.

Sturges keeps the plot rolling and the characters distinct. The script, written by James Clavell and W. R. Burnett, is about 23 burrow and 1-3 chase, an excellent ratio. The intrigue and suspense of the digging provides the major buildup, then the efforts of the escapees to reach freedom provides kinetic excitement as the camera speeds through eye-filling Bavarian landscapes.

The acting, like the escape, is a group effort. Each of the major performers is allowed his moments, but none outshines the others.

Though the performances are low-keyed, they are uniformly effective. The American contingent is headed by two emigres from television, Steve McQueen and James Garner.

The Brits, led by Richard Attenborough, James Donald and Donald Pleasence, perform with utter competence and not a trace of the stiff upper lip.

Freighter Mail Service Will Resume Monday

DETROIT (AP)—The J. W. West Co. will resume its mail deliveries to freighters on the Detroit River Monday.

The firm, which lists its business as "marine reporters," was started in 1874 to handle the paperwork ashore of Great Lakes skippers but was expanded into a marine delivery service.

The land and water area of the Netherlands East Indies is about equal to the land area contained within the continental United States.

Reds Say Poet Foiled

medical sleuths have charged foul play in the dueling death 126 years ago of Russia's foremost poet, Alexander Pushkin, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia reported Wednesday.

Pushkin was mortally wounded by George Heckeron D'Anthes, a French officer in the service of the tsar, whose attentions to the poet's wife provoked the duel.

Izvestia said Leningrad criminal-medical experts had determined that D'Anthes used a bigger pistol than Pushkin and that he wore a bullet-proof shield under his guardsman's uniform.

The report said the experts studied 1,500 original sources, including notes on the duel recorded by eyewitnesses.

SAC Chief Discusses Space Post

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—America's global striking forces may one day be controlled from a huge maneuverable command post in space, the chief of the Strategic Air Command said yesterday.

The possibility of this space-age equivalent to the present underground control centers was posed by Gen. Thomas S. Power at a manned space flight conference here.

"Space potentially offers unique military advantages," Power said, "and we must anticipate that some nation or nations will endeavor to exploit such advantages to help them attain their political objectives."

Power long has pushed for a stronger U.S. military role in space.

SURVIVABILITY

"We may find that, eventually, the only really survivable command and control structure would be one employing a maneuverable command post in space," Power declared.

"Should such a spaceborne command post become necessary, it would have to be large enough to carry all electronic gear required to gather, process and disseminate operational information on a global basis. Also it would have to be capable of defending itself against any interference or attacks from the ground and space."

Power said another important possible role for military space pilots would be to inspect possible hostile satellites which "might be orbital ballistic missiles or, perhaps, employ some radically new and still more potent weapon technique."

He said maneuverable spacecraft could be "manned by crews who could search out suspected weapons carriers, board them and, if required, neutralize them."

Palmer Seeks Texas Crown

Ron Holden and Mary Booth had 40s at Bloomfield Hills took 208 strokes, Catholic Central 216 and Oak Park 238.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who aims at his fourth straight Texas Open title, indicated with a 6-under-par 65 turn-up round Wednesday that he was prepared to bag it.

Palmer and Johnny Pott each shot a 65 in the $2,500 pro-amateur that shoves off the Texas Open program.

Palmer was returning to the golf tour after being out two weeks for a rest. He also worked on his game and the way he was shooting indicated it was paying off.

Palmer and Pott each won $230 for being low pro. Pott also earned $162.50 when his team tied for second.

January in Center of New Golf Feud

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Don January, center of golf's latest controversy, said Wednesday he might not accept an invitation to play in the Colonial National Invitation May 9-12 even if it is extended.

But he left it open. "I do need the money," he said with a grin. A storm broke over the fact that January was not invited to the Colonial tournament at Port Worth obviously because of a disagreement he had with tournament officials while he was chairman of the tournament committee of the PCA.

But it was filed away in favor of the players who had been invited circulated a petition at Houston last week suggesting that the Colonial tournament be boycotted of a direct talk with tournament officials.

The players pointed out that January was qualified for the tournament and if he was not invited it would have to be because of his relations with the Colonial people while head of the committee. That was in the line of duty, the players said, and should not be held against January as regards an invitation to the tournament.

SMITH won all seven of his matches in the double-elimination tournament, and in only one did he finish with a total of less than 652.

His peak came Wednesday afternoon when he crushed Don Carter of St. Louis 974-807 to gain the finals.

Meadows, a 23-year-old salesman, came up with only 10 strikes against Smith and the only time he put any together was when it was too late.

He rolled games of 183, 190, 186 and 187.

Smith, who will be 33 Monday, bowls in a running-tie style. He started shakily with 178, and first seemed to gain confidence when he put together strikes in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh frames of the second game.

From then on he picked up momentum, leading by 28 pins after the second game, and 38 after the third. He had games of 223, 216 and 249, in addition to his 178.

Carter finished third, and Pete Tounias of Calumet City, Ill., was fourth. Jim Stefank of Joliet, Ill., defeated Bill Lillard of Dallas 877-819 for fifth place and Billy Welby of St. Louis downed Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich., 858-814 for seventh.

Smith moved into the finals with 974-807 victory over Carter, while Meadows put the St. Louis bowling king out of the Masters finals with a 848-826 afternoon triumph.

Meadows' second-place effort was worth $3,400.

Winnipeg Wins 1st in Allan Cup Final

The Winnipeg Maroons beat the Windsor Bulldogs 3-1 last night at Windsor Arena for their first victory in the best-of-seven Allan Cup finals.

Windsor now leads in the series three games to one. The fifth game will be played Friday night at Windsor.

Shorty Melanchuk scored in a goal mouth scramble at 19:20 of the second period to break a 1-1 deadlock.

The lone Windsor score came at 16:08 of the first period.

Greased Rug Under Karras

MUSKEGON, Mich. (UPI) — Alex Karras has been called on the carpet again.

The huge Detroit Lion tackle has been ordered to appear in the offices of the state athletic board of control in Detroit at 1 p.m. Wednesday along with Richard Afflis—who is better known as Dick the Bruiser.

Chairman David Gudelsky of Muskegon ordered Karras and Afflis to appear for a full-scale hearing after they warmed up for their ballyhooed Saturday night wrestling match at Olympia by brawling at the celebrated Lindell Bar Monday night.

Karras has already been suspended by the National Football League indefinitely for betting on football games and Gudelsky says he may get a suspension or fine, or both, from wrestling for his latest venture.

But Gudelsky did indicate he's more disturbed over the antics of Afflis than Karras.

BRUISER'S BRAWL

Afflis invaded the bar Monday night, got into a fight with Karras and a few bystanders and before it was over it took eight policemen to handcuff him. Afflis will go on trial Monday on an assault charge.

Gudelsky said the Bruiser had recently been fined $50 for fighting out of the ring, but indicated that any fine would be much stiffer this time.

Correspondent Answers Questions on Viet Nam War

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Malcolm W. Browne for the last year and a half has been chief Associated Press correspondent in South Viet Nam. Now in the United States briefly to answer some of the questions about the Vietnamese war.)

BY MALCOLM W. BROWNE
Associated Press Correspondent

Q. How is the war in South Viet Nam going?

A. For a few months the war has been on a kind of plateau. Fighting and casualties go on, but neither side has gained much. The Communists have not achieved what they hoped to do, but they are still fighting as hard as ever.

Q. How long do you think it will take to win?

A. The most discouraging aspect is that the Viet Cong is evidently recruiting fighters just as fast it loses men in battle. In this pattern the war could go on indefinitely. Saigon and Washington hope the Viet Cong will realize it can't win and will give up. The Viet Cong hopes Washington will get tired of spending and bloodshed, and agree to a negotiated truce of the Laotian type. Neither side shows signs of giving in.

Q. How deeply is America involved?

A. As deeply as possible—short of combat divisions. The decision has been made to hold the line against Communist subversion. Americans in Viet Nam feel that the White House would send in combat units if it became obvious there was no other way to win. As it is, GI advisers are shooting and getting shot. Technically, this is not combat, but to call it anything else is quibbling with words.

NEED AMERICANS

Q. What would happen if America pulled out?

A. Most Saigon government officials, American diplomats and military officers agree the Communists would take over quickly. Without American support, President Ngo Dinh Diem's government could not stand. The strongest opposition to the government is the Viet Cong.

Q. Should America continue support of the Diem government?

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS SPECIAL REPORT

A. It is doubtful that there is much choice. America can influence Vietnamese policies only by persuasion. To use force would bring charges of colonialism that would strengthen the Communist position throughout Southeast Asia. The CIA is kept out of Vietnamese and confined war activity in the countryside, for the most part.

Q. What is life like for the average American soldier?

A. If he's in one of the support units, such as the helicopter crews, he is under fire almost daily. Soldiers usually serve 12-month tours, and most I've known have been anxious to leave.

Q. Vietnamese army units have been charged with lacking aggressiveness and being unwilling to fight. What about that?

A. Most of the Vietnamese soldiers I've known struck me as courageous — but if they are not pushed, they insist on cooking lunch and having a long siesta, even when their units are in hot pursuit of the enemy. The Vietnamese officer corps is organized on the basis of political reliability. Many officers are unwilling to initiate action that could backfire into a reprimand from the palace.

IMPRESSIVE JOB

Q. How effectively are Americans waging guerrilla warfare?

A. In general, American field officers and soldiers are doing an impressive job. Many speak Vietnamese enough to communicate with local commanders. They have learned to live on local food and can keep going in the jungle. There are few privates and fewer draftees—most are seasoned professionals.

Q. How effective are helicopters?

A. Without them it would be hard to continue the war, although helicopters are easy to hit with a machine gun. If the Viet Cong had better weapons or a few armed airplanes, helicopter war would be even more dangerous. But helicopters have made it possible to keep the Vietnamese army on the move.

Q. Will Viet Nam become a second Korea?

A. Most American officials consider this unlikely. Ambassador Frederick Nolting feels that neither North Viet Nam nor Communist China is in a position to risk that kind of war. North Viet Nam's small but growing industry is the major hope for its economic future. This industry would be destroyed in a larger war.

DEMOCRACY AHEAD

Q. How about progress toward democracy in South Viet Nam?

A. The machinery exists but under an emergency clause in the constitution President Diem rules by decree. There is no habeas corpus. Secret police keep tabs on everything. The government contends that democracy must be built from the hamlet level upward, educating peasants and getting them accustomed to the democratic process. Critics say that unless Saigon moves faster toward giving the people a voice in their government, the Viet Cong will remain popular.

Q. How much influence does Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, the first lady, have?

A. She is very powerful. She is the wife of Diem's brother, regarded as the second most powerful man in the country. Mme. Nhu foreign banks. I asked her about these charges once, and she answered that her family had always been wealthy and didn't need more money. She was much more interested in power, she said.

Q. How big a factor is Communist infiltration through Laos?

A. North Vietnamese agents come in through Laos steadily, but intelligence men feel the rate is not numerically great—a few hundred a month. There is no evidence of weapons being infiltrated.

Q. Where does the Viet Cong get its weapons?

A. Most Viet Cong weapons now are new U.S. military weapons, captured in ambushes on government units and attacks on outposts. Often a Viet Cong unit is organized initially with no weapons. The political organizers tell the men and women that they must fight at first with handmade arms — spears, daggers, swords and crude shotguns. To get better weapons, the unit must capture them from the enemy. The system evidently works. Viet Cong arms now include modern recoilless anti-aircraft rockets, machine guns, heavy mortars, good machine guns and very large supplies of submachine guns.

USE U.S. ARMS

Q. To what extent is the war spilling over into the civilian population?

A. Accidental civilian casualties are probably equal to or greater than military casualties. Air force bombing and strafing and artillery take a particularly heavy toll. There is no front line, and the war generally rolls into hamlets without warning. Throughout the Mekong River delta, peasants have improvised air raid shelters, sinking earthenware crocks into pits.

Accidental loss of life is tragically high. Many American officials feel bombing and shelling in the countryside may do more harm than good. A family that lost a mother or a child in a raid is likely to look sympathetically on the Viet Cong, which condemns such things as the work of the "U.S. Diem imperialist warmongers." Terror cuts both ways. The Viet Cong has sometimes shelled swarming rural market places, and often burns down schools, assassinate teachers and local officials, or murders families whose men cooperate with the government.

MEASURES

QUESTION: Where did people get standard measurements of length?

ANSWER: In early times a day's journey was often used as a unit of measurement. The Egyptians introduced the cubit, measured as we show, and divided into seven palms, each with four digits.

Although not exact, this must have been useful since every man carried his own ruler with him. Human feet were first used in England for the foot, and the yard was the distance from the king's nose to the end of his thumb.

The mile was a widely used Roman unit of length, containing 1000 paces, these being two steps long, or five feet, as we measure it.

As science developed, a more exact measurement system was needed, founded on an unchanging standard. So, in 1790, French scientists developed the metric system, which is now generally used for scientific measurements.

Its foundation is the distance from North Pole to the Equator, divided into 10 million parts, each of these being a meter. The decimal system of counting things by tens is used, as in our numbers system. A meter is made up of 10 decimeters; 10 meters make one decameter and so on. One meter is slightly longer than one yard.

FOR YOU TO DO: Startle your adult friends by remarking casually, "let's see, you're about three and a half cubits high..." Most of them will have heard of a cubit, but they won't know how you got so much information about ancient Egypt!

Hits Censorship by Government

Managing News Is Nothing New—Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The weapon that has always conquered government attempts to manage news is the competent reporter, backed all the way by publishers and editors, the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA) was told today.

Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford Courant and newly elected president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, told the publishers that managed news was nothing new in this country and elsewhere.

"What comes as a shock is to find such a concept of news not only applied here, but also endorsed officially as a positive good," he said.

"Indeed, that is all that is new about managed news in this country today — not the all-but-indefinite government resort to news managing, but also the endorsement of it as a patriotic virtue."

Brucker's address on "managed news" was prepared for delivery at the final session of the 77th annual ANPA convention in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Brucker reminded the newspaper executives that it was "thanks to the watchful eye of the ANPA" that a recording was made of the extemporaneous answer to a question last December by Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, as follows:

"... It would seem to me basic, all through history, that a government's right (is) ... if necessary, to lie to save itself when it's going up into nuclear war."

He said Sylvester since has indicated the tape was imperfect, and garbled.

Maintenance Director Resigns School Post

Maurice Van Gordon of 9201 Highland Road, Waterford Township, assistant director of maintenance and operation for the Pontiac school system, announced his resignation yesterday.

Van Gordon submitted his resignation to the Pontiac School Board to accept a position as business manager of the new camp, conference center and retreat (Fairview, Mich.) for the Michigan Synod of the Lutheran Church of America.

Britons Say Mouse Feat Floors 'Em

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Ministry of Agriculture announced today the discovery that mice can crawl straight up the side of 10-foot-high "mouse-proof" walls.

"Our scientists were staggered," said the ministry's pest officer, Dennis Burgess.

One of the country's biggest food stores had appealed to the government for help against mice whose foraging was costing them thousands of pounds.

The company installed steel doors, concrete floors and brick walls around warehouses.

The mice still nibbled relentlessly. The ministry put a family of eight under night-and-day observation.

Three mice scrambled straight up the 10-foot vertical wall. Two others went to a point 6 feet up, rested a bit and wiggled to the top.

The scientists also learned that mice can leap 27 inches.

But the scientists said they found a simple solution.

They recommended sealing all holes and gaps and, to defeat the super climbers, using coats of high gloss paint on all walls.

Physician Wrong to Suggest Alcohol

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY
A young registered nurse told me she used to drink coffee exclusively, but a doctor on the hospital staff suggested that she stop drinking so much coffee and take an occasional highball or cocktail instead. She says she can't see that coffee has done her any harm and she has seen enough of the effects of alcohol to be leery of "social" cocktails and a highball.

A doctor may have good reasons for recommending, administering or prescribing alcohol or other narcotic for a patient past the middle period of life, especially one who has no dependents and no serious responsibilities.

Although total abstinence has seemed the ideal way to me, it may be that I'll cultivate a taste for hot toddies and the like when I get old enough to doddle.

But it is shameful that a doctor should attempt to lead a young person into the "occasional" use of any narcotic — of course alcohol is a narcotic. Especially a young person who has the great responsibilities a nurse must assume, indeed responsibilities of life and death.

Let us hope this young registered nurse remains leery of the insidious "social" cocktail, while she develops sufficient strength of character to go her own way despite the looks, sneers and nasty cracks of narcotic users around her.

STARTED AT PARTY
The most significant chapter in the book, "Prodigal Shepherd" by Father Pfau (J. B. Lippincott Co., New York, $3.95), it seems to me, is the one describing how the young priest was converted from a total abstainer to an alcoholic at a dinner party where the host and socially eligible guests seemed to enjoy their cocktails or highballs so much.

Father Pfau has done so much to help alcoholics, as a member of Alcoholics Anonymous. Although he tells candidly and frankly how he started drinking, I think I'll never understand why he was so easily misled.

When a teen-ager is persuaded by his or her smart aleck or smart aleck companions to try a shot of heroin or a snuff of cocaine or a good ball or happiness pill, one can understand that the youngster succumbs to the temptation because he or she doesn't know any better.

From what readers tell me, I gather that children today generally get little if any instruction about the effects of alcohol, and the great majority of parents, teachers, pastors, uncles, aunts, big brothers and big sisters not only fail to ask the young ones to take the pledge but in many instances even argue against it.

They argue that it is enough to let the young ones decide for themselves whether they will abstain, drink socially, drink steadily or habitually. Alcohol is unique in this respect: it is the only menace to health and happiness they leave entirely to the young person's judgment.

Young ones who have not yet acquired sufficient judgment to vote are presumed to be capable of handling the alcohol problem without the advice or guidance of their elders.

A recent issue of a popular magazine devoted more space to alcoholic liquor and beverage than to any other subject — some 13 full pages in color, plus a page or two in plain black and white.

These indications are downright frightening. It would seem that in a nation of narcotic addicts (total abstinence now constitute a minuscule minority).

I am informed that the Mormons, Christian Scientists and Seventh Day Adventists enjoin and their followers practice total abstinence. To them I say God bless you and may your tribes increase.

Some bishops urge boys and girls to take the pledge at confirmation time. Here and there a pastor preaches and actively promotes the practice of total abstinence.

I don't know whatever became of the Father Mathew Temperance Society which achieved great popularity in the nineteenth century. But to the best of my knowledge, there is no outstanding temperance organization in the country today. The need for some such movement was never so great as it is today.

Signed letters, not more than one page, 100 words long pertaining to personal health and temperance, the classic, signed by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped address is enclosed, will be answered by The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright, 1963)

Fires in East U.S. Cost $3.65 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates insured losses arising from last weekend's wind-driven fires in Staten Island, New Jersey and Virginia will total $3.65 million.

Lewis A. Vincent, general manager of the board, said Wednesday the Staten Island section of New York City was the hardest hit with an insured loss of about $1,835,000.

In the Toms River, N.J., area, fires caused insured damages totaling $765,000; in Camden, N.J., area, $250,000; in the Atlantic City, N.J., area, $700,000; and in northern Virginia, $100,000, Vincent said.

Noncommittal on Future of Sweepstakes

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—The New Hampshire sweepstakes bill today was in the hands of Gov. John W. King, but he refuses to say what he plans to do with it.

The Democratic governor received the bill yesterday and has five days, exclusive of Sunday, to sign the bill, veto it, or let it become law without his signature. That period officially ends at 4:28 p.m. Tuesday.

King yesterday continued to decline comment on what he planned to do with the measure passed last week by both houses of the Republican-controlled legislature.

While a member of the House, King voted for sweepstakes proposals on two occasions.

The governor's office said mail and telegrams have been running 50-50 on the proposal.

The bill would create a sweepstakes based upon two horse races run each year at Rockingham Park.

Proponents estimate that the proceeds, all of which would be earmarked for education, would be about $4 million annually.

The bill sets a limit of $3 on the price of tickets and $200,000 for the prizes.

Tickets would be sold only at state liquor stores and at race tracks in the state.

Navy Creates Research Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Navy has created a special agency to stimulate research on future deep-ocean operations, including rescue of personnel from submarines on the ocean floor.

The new group will not be directly concerned with the Thresher submarine disaster.

But the loss of the Thresher on April 10 with 129 aboard apparently was a key factor in the Navy decision to set up the new agency.

Secretary Fred Korh announced yesterday that the agency will be called the Deep Submergence Systems Review Group and will be headed by Rear Adm. E. C. Stephan, commander of the U.S. Naval Oceanographic Office, and a veteran submariner.

Korh said the Stephan group will review and formalize into one program all of the Navy's continuing efforts to solve the many problems presented by deep ocean operations.

Nominated as Envoy

House Passes Bus Bill, Sends It Back to Senate

LANSING (AP)—A bill requiring public school systems which provide bus transportation to pick up parochial and private school pupils passed the House by an 80-24 vote yesterday.

But the controversial measure, which originated in the Senate goes back to that body for concurrence in changes incorporated in a substitute bill.

If the Senate agrees to the amended version, the proposal then will go to Gov. George Romney for his signature. Romney already has expressed support for the principle of the bill.

Under its provisions, nonpublic school students would be provided with the same bus transportation offered public school pupils. Districts not now furnishing transportation would not be affected.

Supporters of the measure argued that parents of children who are sent to parochial or private schools pay the same taxes that are levied on the parents of public school students—and therefore are entitled to the same governmental services.

Opponents contended, however, that sending children to nonpublic schools forfeits the right of parents to public school bus transportation because public school education is available to everyone.

They also argued that the proposal violates the historic principle of separation of church and state.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Catholic Welfare Conference lists 17 states as permitting parochial students to ride public school buses.

GM Sets Mark for 1st Quarter; Near Best Ever

Earnings $40 Million
Higher Than Previous
Record for Period

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors made $40 million more in the first quarter of 1963 than in any other first quarter in its history. The net of $414.3 million or $1.45 per share, was the second best for any quarter, trailing only the final three months of last year.

Dollar sales came within a whisker of setting an all-time record at $4.14 billion. The high mark is $4.19 billion in the last quarter of 1962.

Worldwide car and truck sales of 1,512,000 were the highest ever.

In a statement accompanying the 1963 release last night, Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President John F. Gordon found things bright all around for their vast corporation.

They commented that not only is the demand strong for GM cars and trucks, but that it is excellent for GM's non-automotive products as well.

Not a word was said about increased costs, nor was there any speculation as to what the increased price of steel, which came after the quarter ended, might do to car prices in the fall.

Donner and Gordon said that first-quarter sales set a record in Canada and overseas while sales for the first six months of the 1963 model year in the United States were the highest for two consecutive quarters at 2,437,000 cars and trucks.

The first quarter far eclipsed the start of 1963, which at that time set records for income, dollar sales and earnings per share.

The net a year ago was $374 million, or $1.31 a share, on sales of $3.6 billion. Last year's figures included a special $28-million dividend from Ethyl Corp. General Motors sold its half of Ethyl last November.

State police said patrons at a bar near Alger supposedly spotted James J. Hall, 40, Battle Creek, and Richard E. Mauch, 40, Lansing, and identified the pair from police photographs.

An Ohio highway patrol officer said after the leads had proved to be false that, "It looks like we've run into a dead wall. There are no clues, no information, no nothing."

In addition to Hall and Mauch, who were serving life terms for murder and attempted murder respectively, authorities are also searching for Robert L. Gipson, 30, Chelsea, serving life for murder, and Elmer J. Crachy, 35, Chicago, sentenced to 20-30 years as a habitual criminal.

Frank V. Bridge, general manager, said dealers sold 29,853 cars in the April 1-20 period, breaking the previous 1-20 divisional record of 26,544 set last year.

The 20,106 sales figure for April 11-20, however, fell 264 units short of the record for mid-April. During the April 11-20 period last year a sales contest produced 20,750 sales—highest mid-month sales figure in the division's history.

In addition, the division reported that the single-day record of 2,768 cars set a week ago today, was broken yesterday when 2,821 Pontiacs and Tempests rolled off the assembly line.

Newest Lead Dies in Hunt for Convicts

JACKSON (UPI)—State police saw another lead on the four escaped convicts turn to dust early today after Ohio authorities had informed them that two of the four convicts who escaped from prison here had been spotted near Alger, Ohio.

State police said the identification of the two men checked out even to a limp and missing teeth described by one of the witnesses.

But as it turned out it was just another false lead.

Crash in Orion Takes 2 Lives

Area Pair Killed in Fiery Collision

A fiery crash in Orion Township took the lives of an area man and woman last night.

The dead were identified by the sheriff's department as Jack A. Frick, 32, of 47 W. Burdick St., Oxford, and Mrs. Robert J. DeSlover, 40, of 741 Luna Court, Lake Orion.

The two were burned beyond recognition after their station wagon slammed into the rear of a fully loaded, double-tandem trailer gravel truck. Tentative identification was made from partially burned papers found in and near the car.

Positive identification was made today through dental records.

The accident occurred about 11:30 p.m. on M24 just north of Silverbell Road.

The driver of the truck, Billie M. King, 25, of 3876 Greenfield Road, Berkley, told sheriff deputies he was traveling south on M24 at about 20 miles per hour when the accident happened.

NOTICED LIGHTS
"I noticed a pair of lights in my rear-view mirror and then felt the impact," King told police. He said the impact knocked his truck ahead.

King said he immediately stopped the truck and jumped from the cab to give assistance but the car was already burning.

"It burst into flames immediately," said King.

Sheriff deputy Jack Davis said the car was enveloped in flames when he arrived at the scene.

"It was impossible to get near because of the heat," he said.

The Lake Orion Fire Department arrived a few minutes after Davis and extinguished the blaze.

JFK Sees Key Issues in Balance

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy believes that if Russia fails to honor her commitments on Laos, the chances of settling Berlin and other cold war issues will be drastically reduced.

While being obviously wary of discussing the subject, Kennedy managed at his news conference yesterday to dramatize official concern over the threat by Communist forces to destroy the independence and neutrality of the Laotian kingdom.

His meeting with newsmen came shortly after the Pentagon announced it had ordered 3,000 troops and some jet planes into Thailand next month for maneuvers. Communist-threatened Thailand borders Laos.

In an opening statement, Kennedy announced that W. Averell Harriman, undersecretary of state would travel to Moscow today bearing a presidential message to Soviet Premier Khrushchev on the situation in Laos.

"WILL KNOW MORE"
Kennedy said, "We will know a good deal more about the prospects" once Harriman completes his mission.

Kennedy said the 14-nation Geneva agreement last year guaranteeing Laos independence and neutrality was "a test of whether it is possible for an accord between countries which have serious differences . . . to be reached and maintained."

The President said "If we fail in Laos, I would think the prospects for accords on other matters which may be geographically closer to us would be substantially lessened."

He appeared to be challenging Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to prove that his professed policy of "peaceful coexistence" had not been abandoned in Southeast Asia under pressure from Red China.

Noting the control exercised by the Soviet Union in Laos two years ago, when an East-West agreement was reached at Geneva Kennedy said the next few weeks should show "whether the Soviets maintain the same degree of control now, whether they desire to maintain their influence, and whether their influence will be in the direction of a maintenance of the Geneva settlement."

CHARGE 'INSULTING'
He said the Communist accusation that the United States is responsible for the flare-up in Laos is "most insulting and utterly incorrect."

The U.S. troubleshooter, who was America's chief negotiator at the Geneva conference on Laos last year, has been conferring with French and British officials on the new crisis.

"I think the Russians are trying to curry favor with Red China and put in the accusation on their insistence," Harriman told newsmen at London Airport.

"Let's get it clear—that government (which accused the United States) was not the U.S.S.R., but Red China."

Harriman emphasized he would appeal to Khrushchev to stand by the letter of the agreement

Want Kremlin Support on Bringing Peace to Asian Nation

From Our News Wires
MOSCOW—U. S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman flew into Moscow today to bid for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's support in keeping the peace in Laos.

The U. S. presidential envoy carried a special message from President Kennedy to Khrushchev and also planned talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Harriman was seeking to enlist the Kremlin's help in restoring peace and stability in Laos.

On his mission were riding Western hopes for peace in the battle-torn Southeast Asian kingdom.

American sources said Harriman's principal task was to remind Khrushchev of his personal pledge to Kennedy to help maintain the independence and neutrality of Laos.

Harriman said the United States wants the Soviet leader "to take action to quiet the situation in Laos and put it back on the rails again."

New District Plan Passed by House

By JIM DYGERT

Another congressional reapportionment plan appeared suddenly in the State House of Representatives yesterday, winning approval in a 57-49 party-line vote.

Democrats cried "gerrymandering" and "hogfanning" as they fought the new plan in vain.

But the plan's division of Oakland County into two districts was exactly the same as one of two plans proposed weeks ago by the Oakland County Democratic Party.

Hastily drawn up yesterday by Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township, the plan would put the areas of Troy, Bloomfield, Southfield and Royal Oak (Oakland County's southeast corner) in a smaller 18th district.

The 18th now takes in the entire county and its population is now estimated to be more than 700,000.

The rest of the county would join Livingston County in the new 18th Congressional District which

U. S., Russia Almost Helpless

Red China Decisive in Laos

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

At the moment, Laotian neutrality clearly is in the self-interest of the Soviet Union.

Equally clearly, the Soviet Union does not have the decisive voice.

That voice rests with Red China.

As for the pressures it can bring to preserve the neutrality of Laos largely are moral unless it wishes to commit U.S. troops. This, it already has demonstrated, it does not wish to do.

It can, as it is going to do and as it did last year, put U. S. troops into neighboring Thailand as a warning against Communist aggression in that direction.

And it can, as it has, send Averell Harriman, one of the architects of Laotian neutrality, to Moscow to remind the Russians that if Communist promises are not kept in Laos, the United States will be more reluctant to conclude other agreements which also depend upon Communist promises.

These include such issues as Berlin and disarmament, both of which are far more important to the Soviet Union than any exchange of real estate in Laos which can only be of benefit to the Red Chinese and not to Moscow.

But since the Russians demonstrably cannot control the Red Chinese, it seems unlikely that the Harriman visit to Moscow can produce little more than additional Soviet bluster seeking to blame the United States for the renewed Southeast Asia tension.

ALMOST FULL CIRCLE

The flame trees are now in bloom in Vientiane, the backwoods administrative capital of Laos. Sandbars are cropping out in the wide Mekong river and in a year's time, events in the little kingdom have almost gone full circle.

A year ago the 14-nation Geneva Conference on Laos was struggling toward an agreement on Laotian neutrality which even then was recognized as an agreement which would be good only as long as the Communists wanted it so.

Militarily the Reds had demonstrated against lackluster Royal Lao troops that they could take over the whole of Laos in a matter of days if they wished.

And the United States was extracting itself as gracefully as it could from what had proved to be a $300 million mistake.

There is one difference, Gen. Kong Le, the former army captain who led a coup d'etat against the right-wing Laotian government in 1960 and later aligned his forces with the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, now is aligned against them.

The Communists had used him so far so they were concerned, he long since had become nothing but a figurehead.

When the Pathet Lao and the Viet Minh allies from North Vietnam sent Royal Lao forces fleeing across the Thailand border last May, neither Kong Le nor his forces were permitted to join the action, so little did the Reds think of him.

A year ago it had been hoped that by now free elections would be close at hand for Laos, and its three standing armies reduced and united in one.

The elections are no nearer, and the three armies of Kong Le, the Pathet Lao and the rightwing forces of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan still stand.

The international Court Commission under Indian diplomat Avar Singh continues powerless to enforce either inspection or decisions.

And Thailand, uneasy a year ago, continues uneasy, with the threat against it if anything enhanced.

The Soviet leader made with President Kennedy nearly two years ago in Vienna.

"About the only thing he and President Kennedy agreed on at Vienna was the Laos situation and that Laos should remain independent," Harriman said.

"As I said, I will appeal to Mr. Khrushchev and my appeal will be based on the agreement made in 1961," he said.

"It looks as if the Russians in their notes were anxious to please Red China. To suggest that the United States has put in forces was completely ridiculous."

NOTES RESPONSIBILITY

Harriman was to stress the responsibility of the Soviet Union as a co-chairman of the 1962 Geneva accord on Laos for making every effort to restore peace and stability to the Southeast Asia kingdom.

Harriman said he thought Khrushchev had placed some faith in the Vienna agreement and had indicated often he wanted to keep Laos an independent state.

The Communist Pathet Lao, in repeated attacks since April 6, has bottled up Gen. Kong Le's outnumbered nationalist army in the Plain des Jarres area.

If Kong Le's forces are overwhelmed, the coalition government probably would collapse and the civil war between the Pathet Lao and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan's right-wing army probably would resume.

Renewed leftist shelling of neutral positions on the Plain des Jarres was reported today.

An International Control Commission (ICC) team made another one-day flight to the battle zone on the plain in the continuing diplomatic effort to find a solution to the crisis.

Court May Get Insurance Riff

Blue Shield, Colburn At Odds Over Rates

LANSING (U) — Michigan Blue Shield and State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn appeared headed today for a court battle over the state's first plan to raise its rates 19.3 per cent June 1.

Chief point at issue is Blue Shield's belief that state laws under which it operates do not give the insurance commissioner any right to set its rates.

Colburn contends he has the right.

Commissioner Colburn, who has exchanged several verbal and written broadsides with Blue Shield officials over the proposed increase, said yesterday, "Our choice now lies solely in gaining relief through the courts."

The commissioner said he had held preliminary conferences with Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley to plan the next step in his effort to halt the proposed rate hike.

Blue Shield announced last week it would boost its rates 19.3 per cent, despite Colburn's veto.

ISSUES ORDER

Colburn, in a letter Tuesday, ordered Blue Shield not to put the 19.3 boost into effect. He asked Blue Shield to notify him before May 1 that it would abide by his order.

Frank Starr, deputy executive director of Blue Shield, replied that Blue Shield had notified all its groups and others of its intent to raise rates.

He said that the health service's contracts include clauses which permit rate increases after due notice to its 3.5 million subscribers.

Starr questioned whether Colburn had any legal right to set rates for Blue Shield.

Starr took issue with the commissioner's statement that his office never received any official word from Blue Shield about its proposed rates.

New District Plan Passed

Romney said he thought it better to have a measure passed with defects than nothing.

The bill is expected to be revised further in the conference committee.

Hogan's new plan has wide variances of district populations from the "ideal" of 411,000 per district. The Upper Peninsula district would have only 305,000.

Republicans say they want to end up with districts no more than 15 per cent from the "ideal."

Hogan came up with the new plan instead of a proposal he had expected to introduce as a vehicle differing so radically from the Senate plan that it was sure to go to a conference committee for further revision.

That plan would have split Oakland County into the 7th, 18th and 19th districts, with parts of Macomb County also in the 7th and 18th. Both Hogan's latest plan and the Senate bill would make Macomb a separate district.

A proposal by Rep. Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac, that would have put part of Detroit with the southeast corner of Oakland up to 14-Mile Road in the 18th was rejected by the House.

First Woman Mayor Receives Award

BIRMINGHAM — Former Mayor Mrs. F. F. Willett last night was named recipient of the first Birmingham Chamber of Commerce award for outstanding citizenship.

An inscribed silver bowl was presented to the city's first woman mayor by City Commissioner William E. Roberts at the chamber's annual dinner meeting.

Roberts noted that the new award will not be made every year, but only when there is a person worthy of the recognition.

New chamber directors whose election was announced last night are Harold D. Anderson of Snyder, Kinney and Bennett;

Henry M. Hogan Jr. of the Birmingham Eccentric and Richard H. Turner of Harold Turner, Inc.

Three three-year terms will begin May 1. They will replace Donald L. Cummings, Henry F. Johnson and Harris O. Macbus, board president.

Jerome P. Cavanaugh, mayor of Detroit, spoke of cooperation between his city and area suburbs during his after-dinner speech.

Comprising the metropolitan complex, they share common problems in today's urban society, Cavanaugh said.

Seventy per cent of the nation's population now lives in this type of environment, he said.

By 1970, the Detroit metropolitan area is expected to have five million people.

The relationship between central city and suburb can not be based on isolationism, Cavanaugh warned, although each will have some problems peculiar to itself.

"Water lines don't stop at city limits," he noted, adding that public health, fluctuations in the economy and juvenile delinquency also do not recognize political boundaries.

With "probably the most significant tool given us," Detroit is now engaged in 18 urban renewal projects involving 4,100 acres of industrial, business and residential property.

Using this program as an example, Cavanaugh said the city being fought in Detroit "will one day strike Birmingham unless we are mobilized."

Approximately 200 persons attended the event at Devon Gables, Bloomfield Hills.

the Soviet leader made with President Kennedy nearly two years ago in Vienna.

"About the only thing he and President Kennedy agreed on at Vienna was the Laos situation and that Laos should remain independent," Harriman said.

"As I said, I will appeal to Mr. Khrushchev and my appeal will be based on the agreement made in 1961," he said.

"It looks as if the Russians in their notes were anxious to please Red China. To suggest that the United States has put in forces was completely ridiculous."

Harriman was to stress the responsibility of the Soviet Union as a co-chairman of the 1962 Geneva accord on Laos for making every effort to restore peace and stability to the Southeast Asia kingdom.

Harriman said he thought Khrushchev had placed some faith in the Vienna agreement and had indicated often he wanted to keep Laos an independent state.

The Communist Pathet Lao, in repeated attacks since April 6, has bottled up Gen. Kong Le's outnumbered nationalist army in the Plain des Jarres area.

If Kong Le's forces are overwhelmed, the coalition government probably would collapse and the civil war between the Pathet Lao and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan's right-wing army probably would resume.

Renewed leftist shelling of neutral positions on the Plain des Jarres was reported today.

An International Control Commission (ICC) team made another one-day flight to the battle zone on the plain in the continuing diplomatic effort to find a solution to the crisis.

She Regains Sight After Sixty Years

MIAMI, Fla. (U) — Since she was 9 weeks old, Bessie Sikes has been virtually blind. Suddenly, at 60, she has regained her sight.

"I think it's just a freak, a wonderful, amazing freak," Miss Sikes said. "I don't know how long it will last. Maybe a few days. Maybe a year. Maybe forever."

For 60 years her only sight was one per cent vision in her right eye. She could tell night from day; nothing more.

A few minutes after 8 o'clock Sunday morning, still wearing her nightgown, she walked into the kitchen, drank a glass of water, and casually rubbed her left eye because it seemed moist.

Suddenly she saw something — the floor. She fell to her knees and ran her hands across the smooth linoleum, streaked green in design. Bessie Sikes had never seen the color before. She didn't know what it was.

Trembling with disbelief, she went to the window, and for the first time in memory she saw a blue sky, tops of two palm trees, a chimney. Nothing was perfectly distinct, but she could see.

"A little glimpse of heaven," she called it. The next morning she was in the office of an ophthalmologist who had known her for 25 years.

"Amazing, amazing," she quoted him. Somehow a cataract became dislocated, the doctor said, and the vision of the eye had not been destroyed. So now she can see through a dislocated lens, which apparently fell into place.

King told police that it was unlikely that the rear tail lights of his truck were off when the collision occurred because he had checked them before leaving Oxford shortly before and they were working properly.

Police said the light wires were severed in the crash. The truck suffered no fire damage.

The President said he is certain neither he nor Keating is challenging the other's good faith — a point seconded by Keating in a statement after the conference.

But, in it, Keating said: "I stand by my figures. I believe that if the President will consult his own intelligence community he will revise his estimates upward."

OTHER SUBJECTS

On other subjects, Kennedy made these points:

Canada — He will meet with Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson on May 10-11 at Kennedy's vacation home in Hyannis Port, Mass., to discuss "the many important questions of common interest" between their countries.

Summit — There are no plans for him to meet with Khrushchev and it did not seem that such a conference "would be useful unless we were in agreement upon a test ban, which we are not now."

since January, and that there has not been an equal number less. In fact, much more, 300 or 400 at the most," the President said.

These figures have "been gathered by our intelligence sources," Kennedy said, inviting Keating to supply the government with the source of his information for purposes of evaluation.

MIAMI (UPI)—Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, who resigned as president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council last week after a bitter fight with the Kennedy administration, said yesterday he was happy, but out of work.

The aging exile leader said he was looking for a part-time job that would still leave him time to continue his fight against Communism and Fidel Castro. "I don't know what I can do to earn a living," he said, "but now I am at peace with myself."

Miro said he had no quarrel with the United States. "On the contrary, my people need this country very much."

Eye Waterford School Needs

Reports on school needs in Waterford Township submitted by the Citizens Advisory Committee will be discussed at tonight's Township board of education meeting.

Included will be a proposed five-year building program calling for six new schools and additions to eight existing buildings. The projected cost is estimated at $6 million. The largest single cost would be for a proposed new junior high school in the northeast corner of the township.

Top priority in the program, according to Leonard Moses, a subcommittee chairman, would be given to construction of the junior high school, two new elementary schools, and additions to Cooley, Leggett and Monteith elementary schools and Cray Junior High School. Robert Dieball, chairman of the subcommittee working on a master plan for the school district, reported that, based on projected population growth, better than one new school per year will be needed between now and 1990.

In addition to the master plan report, the board will discuss future school facilities, school standards, and locations for new buildings.

dinner meeting at Devon Gables in Bloomfield Township.

His topic will be "Myth and Reality in Citizen Participation and Responsibility." He will discuss some of the difficulties citizens may encounter in participating in local and other levels of government.
