Dismiss Charge Against Widow

Flint Woman Freed as Police Continue Probe of Husband's Slaying

FLINT (AP)—A first-degree murder charge against Mrs. Betty Kehl in the slaying of her husband was dismissed in Municipal Court today and she was released from jail.

* * *

Judge John W. Baker dismissed the charge at the request of Prosecuting Attorney Jerome F. O'Rourke, who said the state lacked sufficient evidence to proceed with a trial.

The prosecutor told the court, however, that Flint Police were continuing with their investigation of the fatal shooting of Mrs. Kehl's salesman-husband, Robert, 34, at an isolated dump on the outskirts of Flint Jan. 16.

The dismissal came as Mrs. Kehl was to have an examining trial to determine whether she should be

City-Owned Garage Planned in Saginaw

SAGINAW (AP)—City officials today proceeded with plans for the city's first municipal parking garage, a $900,000, 3-tier structure to be built in the heart of the downtown shopping area. The garage will rise on a site now used as a municipal parking lot. It will handle 606 cars. City officials said a 25-year, one million dollar bond issue will be offered shortly to finance construction and other costs.

Elmo E. Smith Takes Over

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Gov. Paul L. Patterson of Oregon, who was the top choice of Republican party leaders in Oregon to try to unseat Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse next fall, died of a heart attack last night.

Patterson will be succeeded by the new State Senate president, Elmo E. Smith, 46, publisher of the weekly newspaper the Blue Mountain Eagle in the small eastern Oregon town of John Day. Smith also is a Republican.

Patterson, who had announced only four days ago that he would make the race for the Senate, was conferring with political advisers at the exclusive Arlington Club in Portland when he collapsed. He was 55.

Dr. Ernest Boylan, who reached the governor's side within five minutes, said Patterson died within 10 minutes of the attack at 9:50 p.m.

The doctor tentatively blamed a coronary occlusion.

The only other Republican who has entered the Senate race is Elmer Deetz, a dairyman who was elected to the State Legislature two years ago when he led a successful campaign to remove Oregon's Milk Control Act.

NO OPPOSITION

The party primaries will be held in May. Morse has no opposition among Democrats.

Patterson became governor because he was president of the State Senate in 1952, when Douglas McKay resigned to become secretary of the interior in President Eisenhower's Cabinet.

After stepping into the governorship, Patterson was elected to a

Near Accord on Middle East

Ike, Eden Vie on Red China

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden are still split on how to deal with Red China.

However, the two leaders were close to agreement on other vital problems as they went into their third and final day of cold war strategy conferences.

Included among the issues of near-accord were a policy toward the troubled Middle East, plans to develop and strengthen Western European unity and the judgment of what Soviet Russia is trying to do and how she is trying to do it.

The President and the prime minister are getting together with their foreign secretaries and experts this afternoon to put finishing touches on their intensive work and to write a communique or joint declaration.

Yesterday's meeting ended without any final decisions on any one of the many subjects that have been discussed. The groundwork has been laid, however, for agreement on most issues.

This afternoon, Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission will talk with Eisenhower and Sir Anthony about the difficult problem of whether to continue testing hydrogen bombs.

Benson Decries Price Supports for Hog Farms

Says Aid 'Will Hurt You More Than Help' if Pork Surplus Is Created

AUSTIN, Minn. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson told farmers today a government program to buy hogs at supported prices "would hurt you more than it would ever help you."

Benson reiterated on the second day of a swing through the Midwest hog belt that the U. S. government is stepping up its pork-buying program—but that it won't purchase and store vast quantities of meat products to bolster prices.

"There are those who because of ignorance of the problem, mistaken judgment or for well-intentioned political purposes insist that your government go into the livestock buying business," the secretary said in a speech prepared for the Minnesota - Iowa Swine Producers Assn.

"This won't work," he said. "In my judgment such action would hurt you more than it would ever help you."

Benson said he has been told a program to purchase live hogs and cattle at supported prices "would be good politics—particularly in an election year."

"If we were to raise the price of hogs 5 cents a pound as some suggest, it would cost the government almost a billion dollars a year," he said. "That's just for hogs.

'IT WILL COST . . .'

"And, of course, we could hardly deny similar supports to cattle. If we add 5 cents a pound to cattle, it would cost another 1¼ billion dollars.

"Then I'm sure you can imagine the delegations of broiler growers, turkey growers and others who would descend upon us."

* * *

If the money and manpower were available, he said, and the government began a direct program for buying livestock, these things would happen:

1. "Pressure would develop for uniform pricing without proper re-

Soviets Unseat Internal Minister

The Soviet government early today announced the dismissal of S. N. Kruglov, who became internal affairs minister in July 1953, shortly after his former boss Beria was deposed and condemned to death as a traitor.

TERSE ANNOUNCEMENT

The secret police were removed from Kruglov's ministry nearly two years ago but he had continued in command of law enforcement police, known in Russia as the militia.

The terse announcement of the new change, published on the back page of the Communist party paper Pravda, said Kruglov had been "released" from his post and succeeded by Moscow's deputy mayor, N. P. Dudorov.

Dudorov also is listed as chief of the construction department of the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee, a watchdog post checking all government construction, and adviser to the Soviet Council of Ministers (Cabinet) on construction.

Otherwise he is unknown to Western newsmen in Moscow.

Union Local Favors More City Parking

The City Commission last night received a communication from sub-council 8 of General Motors Truck and Coach UAW-CIO Local 594 in which the union members voiced strong support of the commission's stand for increased municipal parking for the city.

The letter said the members favored more municipal parking in Pontiac and that they would "continue to support any further proposals by the commission in the future."

Voters must decide March 5 whether they are in favor of adding 624 parking stalls within the city.

Political Leaders Urge City Adopt Vote Machines

Two prominent local residents, one a former chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee and the other a well-known Republican, today came out in favor of voting machines over paper ballots.

The City Commission must decide by April 9 whether Pontiac is to have voting machines or adjust 25 of the city's 44 precincts that are over the state's 800 registered voter limits.

Lynn D. Allen, Oakland County clerk and Republican leader, said yesterday, "I am 100 per cent for voting machines and hope some day to see every precinct in the county equipped with machines."

"I am in favor of machines for three basic reasons," Allen added. "First, it allows the voter to leave the polling place with the assurance their vote is not going to be questioned or thrown out because of a technicality."

Secondly, he said, any municipality using machines can save enough money to pay for them in 10 years.

"In reporting the election, the city doesn't have to wait until the next day to get the results but can have same by at least one hour and a half after the polls are closed," he emphasized.

OTHERS HAVE DEVICES

Allen noted that practically every community in the county had voting machines but Pontiac, Farmington, four townships and a portion of Royal Oak Township.

"In Pontiac's case, since the new City Hall is complete and if the money is available I would say the advent of voting machines is almost a must because of the size of the city."

LYNN D. ALLEN

Willis M. Brewer, past chairman of the Democratic party in the county, said he favored voting machines because of the accuracy, their speed in tabulating the vote and that they are "more representative as voters do not have to wait in line for any length of time and thus become discouraged."

INCREASE EFFICIENCY

"During my tenure as chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee, the returns from the precincts having machines were called in or brought in personally soon after the polls closed, whereas we would have to wait all night or longer for the returns from the precincts without machines," Brewer declared yesterday.

Allen added that in the 1948 general election the county supplied 11 and a half tons of papers for the election and since the machines were added in many communities between then and 1952, the county has only had to supply 6,080 pounds of paper thus saving a large expense.

City's Acquiring Courthouse Site Under Question

Attorney William Ewart Doubts Legality of Move in Commission Report

City Attorney William A. Ewart last night recommended that the Michigan Supreme Court be asked to rule on the legality of a 1954 annexation of a portion of land from Waterford Township which is slated as a site for the new county courthouse.

He ruled that the city's annexation of an approximate 100-acre section located between West boulevard and Telegraph was not in compliance with Michigan statutes and that it is of "doubtful validity."

The opinion resulted from a request from Pontiac attorney George A. Cram last week who said the city illegally annexed the parcel of land after the Waterford Township Board agreed to detach it.

Cram said two qualified voters were residing in the area at the time which necessitated a public vote which was not taken. The city acted because the original petition showed no qualified voters in this area.

RESIDENTS FOUND

Ewart ruled the annexation could only be accomplished under state law if there were no qualified electors residing in the territory. Investigation showed there were two residing in the county juvenile home, as county employes.

He said a legal argument could develop from the 1963 state constitution which shows the two electors in question did not acquire a voting residence in the area annexed because they were employed by a state agency, the County of Oakland.

Mayor William W. Donaldson moved the matter be referred to the City Commission's informal meeting Thursday night.

City to Convert 3 Routes to One-Way Use Monday

As another step towards solving city traffic problems, three more streets will be converted to one-way operation effective Monday, Feb. 6, traffic engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel announced.

The present one-way conversion of Mill street between Huron and Pike southbound will be extended to Water street, Vanderstempel stated.

Water street will be converted to one way westbound traffic between Mill street and Saginaw to eliminate congestion at Water and Saginaw by vehicles wanting to turn east into Water street.

The section of Water street between Mill and Parke Streets will remain open to two-way operation according to Vanderstempel.

The second one way conversion will make Thorpe Street between Huron and Elizabeth Lake Roads one way northbound, while the third change will convert adjacent Mark Street one way southbound. Both streets will have parking on the east side only.

Vanderstempel instituted the latter changes to promote a smoother flow of traffic on both streets.

Auto Dealers Appeal to Congress

Seek to Stabilize Trade Practices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Auto dealers today organized a mass march on Congress in support of legislation aimed at stabilizing dealer income and curbing questionable trade practices.

* * *

Several thousand delegates to the annual convention of the National Automobile Dealers Assn. (NADA), which ends tonight, set this morning aside for the informal "lobbying" campaign.

They had the word of Senator Monroney (D-Okla.), whose Senate commerce subcommittee now is investigating alleged auto marketing abuses, that Congress will act if dealers' complaints against motor companies are not resolved by voluntary negotiations.

The dealers also were equipped with leaflets explaining five bills officially endorsed by NADA, and a list of the Congress members on the committees handling each measure.

FIVE PROBLEMS

The bills, and the descriptions of them given by NADA are:

1. Phantom freight — To "prohibit manufacturers from making charges for freight for which they had not in fact been required to pay."

Monroney told the dealers yesterday arbitrary freight charges add as much as $141 to the price of a car sold in California and cost the public a total of 280 million dollars each year.

2. Auto Bootlegging — Permitting a manufacturer to cancel the franchises of dealers who "sell new cars to unauthorized dealers for resale, to the consumer."

NADA said such supposedly new cars, "often driven or towed thousands of miles with disconnected speedometers, are not really new."

3. "Territorial security" — Amending the Federal Trade Commission Act to permit the granting of exclusive dealer rights covering specified areas.

Monroney told newsmen his committee probably will delay consideration of this proposal. He said the dealers themselves seem to be "divided about 50-50 on the question."

4. Driver training — Exempting from federal excise taxes the cars which dealers furnish free to driver training classes in schools.

Cars valued at 16 million dollars were furnished to schools last year, NADA argues, and dealers should be relieved of the 10 per cent tax on factory cost.

5. Federal Liens. — Providing that cars may not be seized from innocent purchasers in payment of tax claims against a previous owner who defaulted on his taxes.

Arraignment Set for Keating

Appearance in Court Planned for Thursday in Tax Charges

Former local teamster leader Daniel J. Keating will be arraigned before Federal Judge Frank A. Picard in Detroit tomorrow, on charges of income tax evasion.

Keating, of 2902 Oak Grove, was indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday. He stands accused of reporting an income of $25,887.90 during a four year period of 1949-52, while he allegedly earned $55,578.16.

The indictment alleged the concealed income was from Oakland County contractors, to gain favorable union contracts and alleviate grievances.

U. S. District Attorney Fred W. Kaess said that Keating as an individual had been indicted, but the union or union officers had not been.

"It shouldn't be assumed that such shakedowns are prevalent in all labor - management relationships," he added.

Keating, 53, is not now connected with AFL Teamsters Local 614 in the city. He worked with the local from 1940 to 1953, and was business agent of the local from 1943.

Maximum penalty if convicted would be a $10,000 fine and five years in prison, or both, on all four counts of the indictment returned.

Flint Drops Charge Against Mrs. Kehl

held to Circuit Court for trial on the murder charge.

Mrs. Kehl was composed and showed no reaction at the turn of events. Her attorney said he advised her to visit her father, Edward Kadlets of Aurora, Wis.

"It would be a mistake," the prosecutor said, "to proceed to trial and place this respondent (Mrs. Kehl) in jeopardy when we do not have all the evidence that may be available. Once the respondent is placed in jeopardy if it were determined there is insufficient evidence she could never be tried again though more and stronger evidence were later secured.

"I want to give the Police Department sufficient time to pursue all the facets of evidence in the case to a conclusion before being forced into a trial."

Mrs. Kehl dashed into police headquarters here shortly after the shooting and sobbed out an account of how an unknown assailant had waylaid her and her husband at their garage and forced them to drive to the dump. She said the man led her husband away from the car and she heard a shot.

Under police questioning Mrs. Kehl later named bachelor boy friend, William Thomas, 25, as the gunman. Thomas, a pipefitter, denied the charge and was released after a lie detector test.

Mrs. Kehl has been in custody since the killing.

Michigan Child Arrives in Paris on Way to Shrine

PARIS (AP) — A St. Joseph, Mich. mother arrived in France today with her leukemia - stricken son, full of hope that he can be helped by visits to the shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes.

* * *

In Paris en route to Lourdes, Mrs. Helen Eckman, 33, said she is "very optimistic" that her 7-year-old boy, Randy, will be made better at the famed shrine of invalids in the south of France.

Randy, wearing a green hooded coat and carrying a model airplane, walked from the airliner from London with his mother and drove off to a Paris hotel to await a train to Lourdes. They will arrive there tomorrow.

"We plan to stay until the 13th," Mrs. Eckman said, "and to go to the shrine every day."

Mrs. Eckman a Lutheran, said she knew it was unusual that a Protestant should go to a Catholic shrine. "But I had read an awful lot about it in magazines, and one night while sitting in a show I just decided to go."

Her son has had leukemia since 1954.

Mrs. Eckman said residents of St. Joseph "turned the town upside down" to raise $2,320 to finance the trip.

She was thrilled by the brief glimpse of Paris she had as she drove to her hotel. "We saw the Seine, the Louvre and the Eiffel Tower and hope to see more on our way home," she said.

NOME, Alaska (AP) — Alaska's National Guard commander died in a Nome hospital last night a few hours after his heroic rescue from a barren mountainside on which his plane crashed Friday with four aboard.

The West Pointer's three companions, all National Guard officers on an inspection flight with him, almost miraculously survived the ordeal of the crash and the bitter cold.

GOOD CONDITION

National Guard officers reported all were in good condition today, although one was reported to have suffered severe frost bite. One of the men was rescued from the wreckage with Gen. Noyes. The other two were found as they hiked along the tortuous 25-mile route to Nome in search of aid.

Noyes had suffered head injuries, cuts and "nearly frozen face, arms and legs," the National Guard said.

Fire Hits House; Occupant Arrested

Flames swept through a one-story frame house at 661 S. Winding Dr. last night causing $3,500 damage to the exterior and contents before it was extinguished by Waterford Township firemen.

The fire started in the structure's kitchen, apparently while a container of coffee was being heated on a stove, according to department officials.

The house's occupant, Donald Bivens, was arrested by Waterford Township police and jailed when he reportedly interfered with firemen while they were fighting the blaze. He was charged this morning with obstruction of a fire department in the performance of its duty.

Bivens was alone in the house when the fire occurred. Firemen from Station 3 answered a 10:58 p.m. alarm.

Singer Daniels Facing Charges

"It's All a Blank to Me," Entertainer Says About Harlem Shooting

NEW YORK (INS) — Singer Billy Daniels said today he couldn't even remember being in the Harlem Bottle Club where he allegedly shot a fight trainer who "insulted" him.

"It's all a blank to me," Daniels said. "When you get a bit woozy you don't know anything.

* * *

"I had a night out which I never should have had."

"I know a lot of people — but I don't know him."

Daniels was ordered arraigned today in felony court on felonious assault and illegal weapon possession charges. He was freed in $2,500 bail at 2:15 a.m. after spending nearly 12 hours in custody.

His detention prevented him from appearing at the Copacabana night club where he said he is getting $10,000 a week for an engagement scheduled to end tonight.

OWNED CLUB THERE

Daniels, 40, whose rendition of "That Old Black Magic" skyrocketed him to fame and fortune, said: "I really need 'That Old Black Magic' now. I guess the moral of this story would be — don't go drinking in strange places."

However, Assistant District Attorney Thomas Samson said Daniels once owned a club at the site of the Seventy-One-Ten, where the shooting occurred at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Samson said Daniels was returning from the men's room in the basement social club when there was an exchange between him and Jackson.

"I ought to puneh you in the nose," Jackson reportedly told the singer.

Daniels allegedly pulled out the automatic and fired three times.

One of the bullets struck Jackson and the other slugs lodged in a juke box, the only music provided by the private club.

* * *

Jackson staggered to the street where he appealed to a motorist, Louis Williams, to drive him to Knickerbocker Hospital.

The wounded man refused to discuss the shooting with police, who were summoned by hospital officials.

Two Commissioners File Petitions With City Clerk

Mayor William W. Donaldson yesterday filed a nominating petition with the city clerk for re-election to the City Commission for a second term representing District 3.

Donaldson's petition, filed by himself, was the second to be filed this week. Mayor Pro-Tem John A. Dugan, District 5 commissioner, filed for renomination Monday. Dugan's petition was submitted by representatives of his district.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said the deadline for these petitions is Tuesday, Feb. 14 and if three or more file from one district a district primary must decide which two candidates will be placed on the April 2 ballot.

Donaldson, 50, a native of Pontiac, was elected to his present term as mayor in 1954 after serving two terms as mayor pro-tem from 1944 to 1948.

Just recently elected to his fourth term as president of the Pontiac Foundation, Donaldson received a degree from Colorado University after spending two years at the University of Michigan.

Dugan, 46, has been an employe of Pontiac Motor Division for 26 years and lives at 363 Nelson St.

He is a member of Local 653, UAW-CIO and is presently serving on the executive board of the local.

Dugan is a member of the Oakland Park Methodist Church and is active in the PTA. He is married, with two children.

Claims Beating by 2 Policemen

Pontiac Man Files Suit, Alleges Pair Injured Face and Body

A $15,000 damage suit was filed in Oakland County Circuit Court today alleging that two Pontiac Police officers beat a local man and called him "abusive" names last Sept. 3.

The bill of complaint was filed by Pontiac attorney William John Beer on behalf of Clifford A. Mero, 24, of 34 W. Columbia Ave.

Named as defendants are police officers, Patrick F. Weaver, of 170 Opdyke Rd. and Wayne E. Long, of 451 S. Telegraph Rd.

Mero claims the officers "unlawfully and without cause did detain, arrest and search . . .(him) He was forced into a patrol car about 3 a.m., he alleges, and driven "to a remote area, believed to be within the city of Pontiac," where the alleged abuse took place.

Mero, a Korean War veteran, asks damages on the basis ge received face-and-body injuries and as result of the experience "is permanently afflicted with a psychoneurotic anxiety."

Drunk Driving Bill Faces Final Senate Vote Today

LANSING —A controversial bill to make results of blood, breath and other tests admissible evidence in drunk driving cases was up for a final vote in the Senate today.

Legislative veterans predicted the bill would pass the Senate, as it has in the past, but again be killed in the House Judiciary Committee.

The bill, somewhat weakened by amendments during floor debate, would not force a person accused of drunk driving to undergo any form of chemical test.

But if a driver did consent to such a test, the results would be regarded by courts as leading to certain "presumptions" of guilt or innocence according to the alcoholic content of the blood. Tests could be made of a driver's breath, blood, urine or sativia. Only a physician or registered nurse could administer a blood test.

The bill, patterned after laws in 22 other states, was the latest move in a campaign to stem Michigan's rising traffic death toll.

Its showdown in the Legislature came on the eve of the start of enforcement of the state's new 65-55 mile per hour speed law and as State Police were building up their forces to enforce highway safety.

Under the bill, if a driver's blood was found to contain less than .05 per cent alcohol it would be "presumed" that he was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

If the alcoholic content was .15 per cent or more the driver would be presumed to be intoxicated.

If it was between these figures, no "presumption" could be drawn.

The bill was advanaced yesterday to a final vote after Sen. Don Vander Werp (R-Freemont), its sponsor, asked his colleagues to do something about "these potential murderers on the highways."

Brazilian Chief Begins Schedule

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—President Juscelino Kubitschek got an early start today on his program to give Brazil "50 years of progress in the next five years."

* * *

Still facing a round of functions in connection with his inauguration yesterday, the fast-moving new head of Latin America's largest nation called his first Cabinet meeting for 7 a.m.

Kubitschek has set his sights on a tremendous increase in the nation's supply of electric power and transportation to open the way to greatly expanded utilization of Brazil's vast industrial potential. Following his trip to the United States and Western Europe, he predicted foreign investors would stream into the country after his inauguration.

FACES LABOR PROBLEM

He faces major problems with his own people, particularly Brazilian labor. Already there are shouts for a minimum wage and a general rise in labor's standard of living.

The inauguration, at which U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon and former French President Vincent Auriol led the foreign delegates, went off with only minor disturbance. Police in the street crowd arrested two Communists shouting slogans and holding up "world peace" placards.

Detective Trails Entry Suspects

Cache of Stolen Liquor Discovered by Hazen; Juveniles Confess

An Oakland County Sheriff's detective slogged three miles through fields knee-deep with snow yesterday to arrest three Commerce Township boys a few hours after a Monday night breakin of the Detroit Gun Club was discovered.

Following tracks leading from a club door at 2775 Oakley Park Rd., Det. Leo Hazen discovered 18 quarts of whisky which the juveniles admitted they stole and hid in a pine forest one mile away.

Also hidden there was a large slab of bacon which the trio confessed stealing from the Birmingham Gun Club Saturday, Hazen said.

Two miles further the tracks led to the youths' homes near Wolverine Lake, according to Hazen and his partner, Det. Harry Maur, who also questioned the three.

They said the boys, ages 15 and 16, were released to parents' custody. Petitions charging breaking and entering will be filed in Oakland County Juvenile Court today, they said.

The deadline is Feb. 29.

"Sales to date are actually running slightly ahead of 1955," Hare said, "but this generally represents the increase in the number of vehicles on Michigan's highways."

With only 20 working days remaining in which to buy the plates, Hare warned motorists to visit branch offices as early as possible to avoid long lines during the last-minute rush.

The Port Huron attorney told 150 listeners at the Birmingham Community House there is a "compelling necessity" to have more young people working for the Republican party in Michigan.

Prophet Jones Gunman Caught

Cleveland Man Admits Firing Shot; Says Aides Refused Interview

ERIE, Mich. (AP) — A Cleveland man described by police as a religious fanatic was held here today in the gunfire ruckus two days ago at the 54-room "French Castle" of Detroit's Prophet Jones.

* * *

State police of the Erie Post, near the Ohio border, arrested Robert E. Rhodes, 28, yesterday when they found three loaded guns and three knives in his car.

Troopers said he admitted under questioning that he had fired one shot into a wall at the prophet's palatial home in Detroit Monday. They said he told them he had come to Michigan to hunt rabbits and on the return trip decided to pay a visit to the prophet, a Negro religious cult leader with a wide following, "to talk about the Bible."

Rhodes said he burst into the house and fired the gun when he was three times refused admittance because he had not made an appointment.

JUST MAD

"I was just mad," troopers quoted Rhodes as saying, "I didn't intend to hurt anybody."

He didn't. But the invasion touched off a turmoil in the prophet's household. Six male attendants fled when the gun went off and Prophet Jones, who had been resting on a chaise lounge in a second floor hallway, took refuge in his bedroom.

Detective Melvin Kaufmann said Rhodes apparently was "a religious fanatic."

* * *

Rhodes was scheduled for a hearing in Monroe Municipal Court today on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. Troopers said he probably would be turned over to Detroit authorities for further questioning.

Farm Gas Bill Passes House

Unanimous Vote Given; Federal Tax Exemption Now Up to Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House yesterday voted 387-0 to give farmers a 60-million-dollar annual tax saving by exempting them from paying the federal tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline used on their farms.

* * *

Proposed by President Eisenhower as one of the nine points of his farm relief program, the bill was passed by a roll call vote with both Democrats and Republicans seeking to claim credit.

* * *

The bill now goes to the Senate.

The tax exemption applies to gasoline and special fuels used for "farming purposes," but not for fuel used on the highway.

gard for differences in quality. . . . You would be encouraged to produce overfat hogs that would build barriers against your product. You would lose your market for pork; it would be mighty hard to get it back."

He said the government will do this to help the hog farmer:

"We will use every resource to develop outlets for pork, and we'll purchase to the limit of all available outlets to bolster hog prices."

Benson said huge existing surpluses of basic crops have pushed down farm income "by the staggering sum of more than two billion dollars in 1944."

Funds Climbing for Foundation

Assets Total $29,813.57 for Civic Auditorium, Report Reveals

With record receipts for 1955 of $12,101.92, the net worth of Pontiac Foundation climbed to $29,813.57 last year, the board of directors said today.

Assets of the Foundation comprise $20,186.32 in cash, and $9,627.25 in stocks and bonds, the directors said in a CPA-approved annual statement.

The Foundation was incorporated in 1953 as a non-profit organization which promised to "promote, encourage and aid the work of benevolent, charitable, hospital, scientific, literary or educational organizations of the city of Pontiac and vicinity."

Two contributions, directors say, have been designated for use. The Y.M.C.A is to receive $500, and $1,000 has been earmarked for furnishing the new addition to Pontiac General Hospital.

Cash contributions last year hit a record $8,414.27, with stocks and bonds bringing the total contributions to $11,397.52. Dividends and interest on stocks and bonds added another $704.40.

Expenditures for the year came to $154.77, the directors said, of which $150 was used to pay Certified Public Accountant G. Stanley Warne for his auditing of the report.

Brothers Die in River

The bodies of Robert Ray Carter and William Jay Carter of Hodgenville, weren't discovered until after the vehicle was towed from the river. Officials expressed belief the cars had struck a bridge before plunging.

Norway Repels Red Trawlers

Navy Called Out to Halt Encroaching of Fishing Waters by Soviets

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Norway moved on land and sea today to repel a continuing invasion of its fishing waters by a fleet of Russian trawlers.

* * *

With 13 of the Soviet invaders already bagged since Sunday, the Norwegian navy rushed more torpedo boats and the frigate Tromsoe to the rich herring banks off Alesund, on the western coast. The Russians keep returning every time the naval ships chase them away.

Foreign Minister Halvard Lange hurried home from the Nordic Council meeting in Copenhagen to summon Soviet Ambassador G.P. Arkadiev to his office. Lange instructed his embassy in Moscow to deliver a sharp protest to the Soviet foreign minister.

Captains of the seized Soviet trawlers were taken to police headquarters in Alesund for questioning. All but one refused to talk while they waited for a representative from the Soviet Embassy in Oslo.

Reports from Alesund said between 30 and 80 Russian trawlers were in the fleet.

Woman Returns Clock Stolen 30 Years Ago

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—A woman walked into the Burke Tarr Furniture Store and placed a large banjo wall clock on the counter.

"I wish you'd take this to ease my troubles," she said. "Ever since I swiped it off your wall 30 years ago at the other store, 'I've had nothing but hard luck."

The manager quoted the woman as saying also: "I'm really repenant. I'm going to join a church and in order to do that I have to return this close I stole. Thank you."

Then she walked out.

Memphis Loses Title

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Memphis was once the murder capital of the world but the number of homicides last year dropped to an all-time low of 27. That's 10 less than the 1954 figure and considerably under the 105 in 1932. And there were about 150,000 fewer residents then.

'56 Heart Fund Drive Opens

Ike's Physician Predicts Disease Can Be Beaten Through Research

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower's chief heart consultant says heart diseases in young and middle aged persons can be reduced markedly "if we go about the task vigorously and adequately."

* * *

Dr. Paul Dudley White voiced the prediction at the kickoff banquet of the American Heart Assn.'s 1956 Heart Fund drive last night.

Dr. White also read a message from the President who urged Americans to support the fight against heart diseases which "constitute a foremost national health problem and . . . post a constant threat to the welfare of almost every American family."

The Boston cardiac specialist said that, thus far, inadequate private and public funds have been provided for the research and training needed to combat the diseases.

Dr. White said a majority of heart patients "not only can work but should work" because "idleness breeds unhappiness and is bad for the health."

* * *

In a news conference, Dr. White said, "I personally don't think stress and strain is as important as diet" for patients who recover from heart attacks.

He said it will be up to President Eisenhower to decide whether to run for re-election following a mid-February physical examination and then "knowing in full what the hazards are."

* * *

In reply to a question, Dr. White said that, even if the examination shows the President's heart in good condition, "there will be other factors to be considered."

He did not say what these factors are.

Argentina Boldly Trying to Muffle Horns on Autos

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentine leaders have embarked on one of their boldest ventures since overthrowing Juan Peron. They will try to muffle automobile horns.

* * *

The average Argentine behind the wheel exhibits a devil-may-care independence which makes it a fascinating question whether the government can silence him. There is no traffic light system in Buenos Aires. Authorities tried to install them a couple of years back, but motorists ignored them.

With no traffic light, what do you do speeding into a busy intersection? Just blow the horn, keep going and hope the other fellow stops in time.

Starting April 1, a motorist may beep "only in cases of extreme emergency and when the driver has no other recourse to avoid an accident." Violators will face license suspensions.

* * *

As for the problem at intersections, the government has ordered drivers to observe the widely used rule that the vehicle on your right has the right-of-way.

Commission Pay Hike Charter Amendment to Be Revamped

State Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh has invoked a new statute to rule that a change in wording is needed in the city charter amendment on the March 5 ballot proposing a pay hike for city commissioners.

City Attorney William A. Ewart had to re-submit the proposed amendment to comply with the new state law. It says any proposed charter amendment or question to be decided by the people shall be in a language that would not "create prejudice for or against such amendment or question."

The proposed amendment in case involves increased pay for commissioners based upon recommendations of a Citizens Compensation Committee.

Ewart deleted the section which read "compensation commensurate with the work involved" and resubmitted the amendment.

As it will appear before the voters at the March 5 primary, the charter amendment reads: "Each commissioner except the mayor shall be paid the sum of $25 for every official meeting of the Commission attended by such member. No member of the Commission shall receive more than $1,300 in any year except the mayor who shall be paid $2,000 only per annum in 12 equal monthly installments at the rate of one installment for each calendar month."

B25 Pancakes in Monongahela

Gasless Plane Dodges Pittsburgh Bridge; Two Crewmen Missing

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A twin-engine Air Force plane, barely clearing a high level bridge, pancaked into the icy, swift-running Monongahela River late yesterday. Two of the six men aboard were feared drowned.

* * *

The B25 bomber, equipped as a passenger plane, was forced down when its fuel supply ran out, an Air Force spokesman said.

Skimming over the Homestead Bridge, the faltering plane ditched in the river near another bridge, was carried downstream by swift current, and sank in about 18 feet of water.

A truck driver, police and riversmen teamed up to pull the four exhausted survivors from the 400-foot-wide stream.

* * *

Listed as missing and presumed dead were: S.Sgt. Walter E. Soocey, 32, of Palmer, Alaska, crew chief for the flight, and Capt. J. P. Ingram of Winifrede, W.Va.

The Air Force identified the survivors as Maj. William L. Dotson, 33, the pilot, of New Braunfels, near San Antonio, Tex., commander of the Nellis Air Force Base weather office, Las Vegas, Nev.; Capt. John F. Jamieson, 32, Mechanicsburg, Pa.; M.Sgt. Alfred J. Alleman, 36, Las Vegas, and Airman 2.C Charles L. Smith, 19, Philadelphia.

It's Later Than You Think, Thanks to Our Calendar

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Did you know it's always later than it acually is? Blame it on the earth, the Romans, or the calendar.

Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan astronomer, explains that the calendar which we all take for granted is gaining 26 seconds a year, in spite of contrivances lake "Leap Year."

Incidentally, in case you didn't realize it, 1956 is a leap year, all of which leads Miss Losh to the following recital on how this 26 seconds business came to be.

It seems that early calendar makers were continually confused because the earth's rotation on its axis, which gives us night and day, and the earth's revolution around the sun, which gives us our seasons, just never quite coordinated.

The Romans who thought they were great hands at straightening things out, added an extra day to each year whose number was divisible by four, hence the leap year and February 29.

ROMANS GOOFED

Well this might have worked out except for one fact: It didn't. By 1582, the Roman system had alaowed three too many leap years in four centuries.

Pope Gregory XII took a look at this situation and decided something ought to be done before the whole world started operating backwards. He liked dividing years by four to provide the leap year, but he said century years should only be counted as leap years when divisible by 400.

So 400, 800, 1200 and 1600 were leap years, but not for instance 60 which is also divisible by four, but not by 40. The next century year which will be a leap year will be 2000.

To Review Sentences of Philly Abortionists

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dist. Atty. Victor H. Blanc said he will recommend at a hearing tomorrow reconsideration of prison sentences given the couple who performed an abortion fatal to food chain heiress Doris Silver Ostreicher.

* * *

Blanc said last night after a meeting with Judge Vincent Carroll and counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz that Carroll had agreed to reconsideration of the sentences for the Schwartzes.

Mrs. Schwartz, a 38-year - old beautician, was given an indeterminate sentence, in the State Industrial Home for Women, that her attorney William Gray said could keep her confined for "up to 10 years."

Schwartz, 49, a bartender, got a 3 to 10-year term in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

* * *

Just before the Schwartzes heard their sentence, Carroll had given the third principal in the case, Mrs. Herman Silver, mother of the 22-year-old abortion victim, a suspended sentence. She had arranged the abortion.

City Hall in Davison Badly Damaged by Fire

DAVISON (AP) — Fire broke out in Davison's 60-year-old city hall last night, causing extensive damage before four fire companies brought it under control. No one was injured.

Davison Fire Chief Don Smith said the three-story brick building was unoccupied when the fire started in a kitchen on the third floor, which is rented to the Masonic lodge.

Flames spread rapidly and the third floor collapsed. Other parts of the building were badly damaged by smoke and water. Two Flint fire companies and a third from neighboring Burton Township joined local firemen in battling flames.

Smith estimated the damage between $30,000 and $35,000. The cause was not determined immediately.

Penny Pencils, Tax Cuts Offered for Postal Woes

WASHINGTON (INS)—Congressmen are full of suggestions for improving the nation's postal service.

If carried out, they would:

1. Give every taxpayer a cut of $10 to $11 annually in his taxes.

2. Eliminate scratchy pens and messy ink from post offices by replacing them with penny indelible pencils, provided by vending machines.

3. Make rural carriers deliver the mail in right-hand-drive cars, to facilitate deliveries.

These and other suggestions were submitted by members of a House appropriations subcommittee to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and other postal officials who testified recently on funds for their department.

A GOOD MAN

Along with the recommendations came a word of commendation from Rep. Alfred D. Sieminski (D-NJ), for the "good man, friendly, too" who ran the post office in Shoshoni, Wyo.

The congressman remarked that "you would think he owned that post office by the way he was wiping it down and sweeping it out, and by the way, at his own expense, he furnished . . . a beautiful ballpoint pen with which it was a pleasure to write."

Which brings us to the problem of pens, pen points, and ink. Sieminski said indelible pencils "would eliminate scratch and blur and save the cost of nibs and ink."

He said he had "a pencil factory or two" in his district, but disclaimed any financial interest in it.

He asked: "Why can't you put vending machines in post offices and sell short indelible pencils, short ones like you pick up at the caddy house to keep score in golf." Sieminski said the pencils could sell for a penny.

Our New Speed Law

Motorists will be badly mistaken if they think Michigan's new highway speed law is not to be taken seriously.

The fact is that State Police have decided on a policy of strictest possible enforcement of the new 65-55 mile an hour law. Not only that but State officials are counting on it to bring about a marked improvement in highway safety.

Secretary of State Hare looks for a 15 per cent reduction in fatalities in the first month under the new law which becomes operative at 12:01 a. m. Friday. Gov. Williams hopes for a drop of from 200 to 600 in traffic deaths this year.

No precise time can be set for the change from daytime to nighttime speed limit. Common sense obviously should prevail throughout the year. A good rule to follow would be to drop down to 55 miles an hour as soon as you notice most cars on the road with their headlights on.

Motorists should remember that a provision in the old law requiring them to operate their cars at all time and all places in a safe manner, has been incorporated in the new statute.

The new speed law is a key feature of the State's safety improvement program. It also includes a subsidy for driver education, a central violations file and 200 more State Police for highway patrol service.

Good drivers will obey the new law.

Gov. Clement's Courage

Americans admire courage and Tennessee's Governor FRANK G. CLEMENT possesses it in abundance.

This was evident when he refused to attend a conference on ways of opposing the Supreme Court's school desegregation order. The conference was held at Richmond, Va. Attending it were the Governors of Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia and Mississippi.

★ ★ ★

Chief topic there was the doctrine of "interposition," which had been brought out of obscurity as a means of nullifying the desegregation order. Briefly, it means that the objecting states wouldn't defy the order. Instead, they would interpose their own sovereignty against it until the issue could be settled by an amendment to the Federal Constitution upsetting the order.

Gov. CLEMENTS wants no part of interposition. He showed that when he became the first Governor to veto a segregation bill. He showed it again when he blocked a move to permit local superintendents to assign children to Negro and white schools.

Finally, facing a mob of several hundred segregationists at the State House, he rejected their demand that he lead the fight for segregation. That wasn't easy in Tennessee, especially as some of the extremists carried banners reading "Segregation or War," "Wanted, a Decent Governor," etc.

How unfortunate it is that the Governors meeting at Richmond failed to chart a course of leadership on as high a plane. If they had, many more people in the South migh have been persuaded to turn away from racial extremism.

U.S. Population to Zoom

One of the certainties of the next few years is that the U.S. faces a sudden upsurge in population.

Accompanying that rapid growth naturally will be a host of related problems such as shortages of homes, schools, utilities, roads and many others.

In 1955 our population crossed the 165,000,000 mark and U.S. News & World Report now predicts it will reach 200,000,000 by 1968 and 228,500,000 by 1975. This is much earlier than the prediction of ten years ago when experts expected the census to reach the 200,000,000 mark no earlier than 1995.

All this is due to the sudden postwar increase in the Nation's baby crop. From an annual total of 2,700,000 a year births increased to over 4,000,000. Annual population growth soon jumped from 1,500,000 a year to 2,800,000.

It has taken little imagination to visualize the many problems the country will face in trying to provide for the 63,300,000 more people we will have by 1975. How will the necessary homes, schools and jobs be supplied.

Highways, already inadequate for 60,000,000 cars will have to be built up to handle 100,000,000 by then. School enrollment is due to go up 60 per cent in the next 20 years.

There will be compensations, however, for the headaches these problems will create. With this increased population, economists say the Nation can expect a gross national product of $770,000,000 by 1975, almost twice as much as at present.

Identical Troubles

Cities Compare Notes and Find Problems Are Similar

Joneses: Who now are having difficulty in keeping up with themselves.

A recent get together meeting of the Grand Rapids and Flint Metropolitan Area Study Committees shows that the problems faced by each city are quite identical. These include parking, water and sewer extensions, subdivision expansions, street improvements, traffic regulations and many other phases of conditions in a city with growing pains. And we might add that Pontiac's major troubles are quite generally in the same vein.

I'm very happy to see that they've made my old friend,

Clinic Director Corrects Headline's Impression

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

In a recent issue was a very good article concerning the new Children's Hospital in connection with the University Hospital in Ann Arbor. I feel that you have always given excellent coverage to the many pressing problems of mental health.

I am sure you will understand in this instance my calling attention to the headline of this article which stated "Mentally Retarded Children Aided." I feel you would wish in the public interest to correct the impression created by the headline.

The facility at Ann Arbor will not be for mentally retarded children, but for seriously emotionally disturbed children. Both of these groups are in dire need of facilities. In view of the added pressure in recent months to find more space for the mentally retarded, it would be unfortunate to create the impression that the hospital at Ann Arbor was designed to meet this need.

We are constantly striving to help the public understand the difference between the various disturbances which beset troubled children. The more the public understands, the better will be the children's chances for receiving the kind of help appropriate to their condition.

The newspaper is such an important medium for reaching a large number of people, and we are looking forward to your continued excellent coverage of this subject.

Oakland Child Guidance Clinic.

David Lawrence Says:

Legal Questions of Equal School Rights Appear to Be Growing More Complicated

WASHINGTON—Right here in the national capital, almost on the doorstep of the Supreme Court, some sensational facts have been uncovered which may have a far reaching influence on how segregation or integration works out in the schools of America.

* * *

Tests conducted in schools here show that, since Negro and white children were put in the same classes, the educational level has dropped below the national average. Previous tests in all-white schools showed national averages had been generally attained.

Both white and Negro teachers agree on these facts, but they also agree it doesn't prove Negro children have any less intelligence. There is, for example, the suggestion Negro children had not been given satisfactory education in separate schools and that remedial instruction with "special teachers" hereafter will be necessary.

Another reason for the drop-off is given by Dr. Irene C. Hypps, assistant superintendent of schools. She says:

"Since the heart of the problem is the low economic level of many Negro families, the educational problem won't be solved until the economic problem is solved. I think that will take a great many years."

WHAT ABOUT THE SOUTH?

The problem is being tackled by attempting to put subdivisions in the same classrooms, children of differing achievement levels. Where there is a sincere effort to handle the matter so that bright children aren't held back by reason of the lag of the less-bright pupils, there probably will be no furor of complaint.

But what about states, especially in the South, where there is no wholehearted interest in avoiding racial discrimination and where school authorities may finally conclude separate schools will have to be maintained solely on the basis of achievement or mental ability?

Under such circumstances, will the Supreme Court set up a system of measurement of the sincerity or efficiency of local school authorities? Will the federal government be compelled to create a department to police the states and see that they apply proper educational standards? That could mean complete control of education by the federal government.

If there is an "achievement lag," as the educators call it, and the net effect in some school areas is to put a predominant number of white children in a class with an occasional sprinkling of Negroes, will this not create the same feeling of "inferiority?" Will parents of the Negro children concerned ever be satisfied that separation is really due to educational qualifications and not solely because of race.

Irrespective of the merits of the dispute concerning the social effects of mixed schools, the legal questions appear to be growing more instead of less complicated. For, after what the tests in the Washington schools show, any form of segregation as between those at an advanced educational level and those lagging behind will be open to suspicion. The burden of proof will be upon the school authorities to prove it isn't racial discrimination.

This could introduce timidity among teachers and hesitation to classify pupils according to grades of achievement where the racial question is involved.

Likewise, parents of white children may be petitioning the federal courts some day with the argument that "psychological effects" upon their children are adverse. It looks as if the Supreme Court will be plagued with the segregation issue for years to come.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own; for he is a liar, and the father of it.—John 8:44.

Brady Explains Why Eyes of Youngster Glow in Dark

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Aunt Mary was always so positive about it that I developed an inferority complex as a junior in medical school. I feared I just didn't have something which is essential for diagnostic acumen.

Aunt Mary was attendant in a hospital for the insane—but she could handle any situation in her own quiet way.

What troubled me was her declaration that she could tell when a patient was not long for this world.

Even though the patient seemed physically well enough, if he was soon to go on a long, long journey he would tip Aunt Mary off in unmistakable fashion—by frequently batting his eyes.

The first year of my internship I watched constantly for it, but I never could see that patients on the way out batted their eyes any more than well persons do. So I finally dismissed her interpretation as invalid.

A mother writes:

"We have observed this more than a dozen times. In semi-dark our five-year-old daughter's eyes have glowed like two red coals. Seeing this sends such a chill through me. I'm ashamed to admit it frightens me and I would be relieved if you can explain what it means . . .

BRACE YOURSELF

All right, I'll tell you the truth. You must brace yourself and keep calm.

The red coal glow is the normal color of the retina in the back of the eyeball. The light coming from behind you is reflected by the retina to your eye.

So, you see, in semi-darkness red coal glow of eyes looking toward lamp or fire, is perfectly natural.

The eyes of animals in the dark looking toward a campfire glow in the same way, if the observer is between the fire and the animal.

Don't worry about things you don't understand. Consult your physician, or if you won't or can't submit the matter to your physician ask me about it, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. If I can give you information or advice to relieve your mind I'll be happy to do so.

Signed letters, not more than one page of 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Retirement Policy in U. S. Needs Greater Flexibility

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Twenty-five thousand U. S. companies, which are expending $4 billion annually on pension plans, should periodically take a fresh look at these schemes for humanizing retirement.

* * *

Since the beginning of the century, the average man has had a bonus of nearly 50 per cent added to his expectancy for longevity.

At the outset of this century, life expectancy for a newly born baby was 47 years. By 1920, the expectancy was 52 years; it is now 69 years. As a result, the ratio of the total population over 65 is increasing significantly.

Only recently has there been any scientific approach to the study of the process of aging. In individual cases, there is little correlation between chronological age and retention of vigor.

* * *

While some are overaged at 40, others are vigorous and alert, like Winston Churchill, Bernard M. Baruch, Alfred P. Sloan Jr. and former President Herbert C. Hoover, when they are in their 80s.

RESENT IDLENESS

Industry is not getting its money's worth out of private pension plans, which sometimes breed ill will by enforcing idleness on those who don't want it.

* * *

In addition, the fetish about pensions has made it difficult for men over 40 to change jobs. New employers shy away from assuming the pension load on older men. This is so serious a national problem that Secretary of Labor Mitchell has asked a group of experts to study the situation.

One major company, which pioneered in private pensions, has automatic retirement at age 65. Its technicians are so highly regarded that they are employed in new careers by those in the same industry in Latin America and elsewhere. Bank guards at home are drawn heavily from retired policemen.

Of course, in some occupations, where physical vigor is important, 65 may be much too old, whereas in other cases the worker may be useful longer. Certainly the mayor of Los Angeles had a point when he argued that seniority should not be the guide for selecting engineers for crack, high speed trains.

* * *

In order to avoid an adverse selection of risks as to older workers in general, company policy should not permit an individual to toil beyond the retirement age unless there are safeguards. First, the worker should request the right to continue, and should submit medical and psychological evidence of sufficient vitality.

OTHER GUARDS

Secondly, the individual's superior should be required to certify whether the worker is fit for further service. Thirdly, a top-level management committee should be required to approve every exception to the automatic retirement.

* * *

It would give flexibility in balancing the demand and supply, in available manpower, letting fit persons remain longer during prosperous periods when talent may be in short supply, and retiring men on pensions earlier in depressed periods.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Citizens Must Beware of Bureaucrats Who Would Socialize Us Via Taxation

"Uncle Sam has no uncle," warns Samuel B. Pettengill, one of America's foremost statesmen. "The world is too big an egg for the American eagle to hatch." Note his exposure of how we citizens may be permitted to retain title to our property, while Uncle Sam confiscates its productivity via excessive taxes.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-363: Samuel B. Pettengil, aged about 69, is a former Democratic Congressman from Indiana, and one of the best writers of English prose I have ever known.

* * *

He recently delivered a very challenging speech at Fort Worth, Texas, on the topic "Socialism via Taxation." It was unique.

Since this column gives you a diversified view of all the many psychological problems confronting us in our generation, then it behooves us to dip into political science occasionally.

"Uncle Sam has no uncle." Mr. Pettengill tersely stated, as he warned us average Americans to think of the future integrity of our Republic.

"The world is too big an egg for the American eagle to hatch," he added.

* * *

Then he pointed out the shocking trend toward a new kind of Socialism in America which we haven't anticipated.

"A magician never becomes a great artist," says Mr. Pettengill, "until he is able to divert the eyes of his audience from what is actually going on."

Then he shows how we Americans are lulled into complacency by the new drugs and medical discoveries, as well as our rising national income figures, plus fear of foreign foes.

"Nothing evil could possibly destroy our Republic and its wonderful 'free enterprise' system," we think.

"In 1953," Mr. Pettengill reminds us, "the per cent of taxes to the value of our products, had gone up to 27.6. And by 1980, at this continuing rate, Uncle Sam will take 50 per cent."

UNSUSPECTED SOCIALISM

Mr. Pettengill then warns us that bureaucracy at Washington can foist Socialism upon us without upsetting our established system of private ownership of land or corporations.

We citizens may be permitted to retain the actual title to our farms or gas stations or retail stores or factories.

But Uncle Sam may claim over 50 per cent of our income via taxes before the next generation is fully mature. At present, Unce Sam already is levying a tax of more than 27 per cent on our production, so we are more than one-quarter socialistic even today.

In 1980, therefore, Uncle Sam may be claiming at least 50 per cent of our total productivity, even though he lets us mollify our ego by claiming title to our homes and factories.

He lulls us into a semi- hypnotic trance by promises of more Social Security benefits, or of paying them at low ages.

* * *

Instead of waiting till 65, Uncle Sam is now talking of 62 or even 60 as the time to take us off our jobs and place us in the "kept" category.

EFFICIENCY ENGINEERING

Efficiency engineering is a branch of Applied Psychology, so I have outlined some of these dangers in my college textbook, Psychology Applied.

But we must warn all literate Americans to be on guard. Many leaders in Congress are urging an amendment to our Constitution which will prohibit Uncle Sam from taxing us above the 25 per cent figure.

State governments, which are closer home, usually have a fixed limitation of debt, but not our federal government!

That's why our American independence may be lost via Washington, D. C. instead of by invasion of foreign bombers.

This is a problem of vital concern to the next generation. It is not limited to the Democratic or Republican parties but concerns every citizen.

* * *

Uncle Sam must never be permitted via bureaucrats to kill the American goose that lays our wonderful golden eggs.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Hal Boyle Says:

Polls on the Ideal Boss Don't Quite Agree

NEW YORK (AP)—If hired hands could pick their own boss, what kind of a boss would they pick?

* * *

You'd think that the average employer would rather walk under a falling ladder than risk stirring up the office peasants by asking them a question like that.

Not at all. Business was so good last year that the 16,000 executives who belong to the National Office Management Assn. had enough spare time to brood over just that question — and set out to find the answer.

* * *

They polled 20,000 office workers throughout the United States and Canada on the qualities of an "ideal boss"—and got replies from 6,537, or about one third.

Surprisingly the gripes were few. Not one wrote:

In its own summary of the returns, the executives' association said the ideal boss was pictured as "a man between 40 and 49 with a high degree of managerial skill who is eminently fair to workers and has a good deal of common sense."

* * *

The breakdown revealed further:

1. Laziness isn't held against him.

2. Young women workers want him to have "an understanding nature," and not be grouchy.

3. Older women demand that he have a good appearance, a high degree of intelligence, and a sense of humor.

* * *

4. Young workers don't like a superior attitude.

5. Older workers don't object if he has a temper but insist that he mustn't lie.

6. Most workers don't mind if a boss is impatient so long as he is fair. They think he should "be ready with a pat on the back for good work, and to sort of let people know what is going on in the business."

The results of this poll probably are pretty enlightening to the executives themselves. But I fell to wondering about the 13,463 office workers who didn't return their questionnaires. Why not? Couldn't they afford a three-cent stamp? Were they afraid it might be a subtle management trick to trap them into saying something unwise: It wasn't!

* * *

I decided to make a short poll of my own. So I went out to the street during lunch hour and asked the first five office workers I met their idea of a perfect boss.

* * *

Well, sir, I'm afraid my results are a bit disheartening to the average ambitious executive. Here is the composite portrait of the ideal boss that emerged:

He is a manic-depressive who is near-sighted and has a bad memory, a sore throat and a passion for playing golf.

"I been reading up on psychiatry and I read that a manic-depressive is a guy who throws money around when he's feeling high, and don't like to be around nobody when he's feeling low. What's wrong with a boss like that?"

* * *

"A near-sighted boss can't tell who you are even if he spies you sneaking downstairs for an extra coffee break."

"A boss with a bum memory always forgets today the bopers you pulled yesterday."

* * *

"Bosses should be seen and not heard. I have tender ears. A boss with a sore throat can't bawl you out when hurting himself more than he hurts you."

"A boss that likes to play golf doesn't hang around the office all afternoon. That gives you a chance to sneak home early yourself."

* * *

Bob Considine Says:

Fred and Ez Both Aspire to Become Prez

NEW YORK (INS)—Questions may be asked in Commons, and the Bourse already shows signs of uneasiness. But naught will prevail. Fred C. Proehl and Ezra Pound have tossed their spiked shoes into the 1956 presidential race.

* * *

The Greenback Party, founded in 1875, has put Proehl forward as its man. A folder at hand shows him to be a man of stern visage and uncompromising honesty who might have posed for Grant Wood's "American Gothic."

His running mate in '56 is Edward Kirby Meador, about whom two things seem sure. "The Meadors have long been a part of the woof and warp of the United States," says a legend under his equally stern picture on the campaign leaflet. "A Meador was the grandmother of Benjamin Franklin."

The leaflet was printed, by an astonishing coincidence, by the Meador Publishing Co., 324 Newbury St., Boston, Mass.

* * *

"Under the present setup every bank or lending company that lends one dollar at 6 per cent per year will in 240 years have a million dollars for each dollar loaned," they declare in an early appeal to the U.S. voters of 2146 A.D.

BUY THE WORLD

"One dollar in 640 years would give enough interest annually to buy up the whole world from pole to pole at $1,000 an acre without touching one cent of the principal. Is it any wonder that millions the world over are dying of starvation? End the money racket and you end all wars."

* * *

The boys quote John C. Calhoun, James A. Garfield and Cong. Charles A. Lindbergh (circa 1913) to stress their point that what this country needs is a political party that will "improve the national housekeeping."

The party lambastes Republicans as readily as Democrats for "having been compliant servants of international financial houses, which have brought panics, wars and debt to this nation." In conclusion, the Proehl-Meador ticket, with headquarters in Indianapolis, says with touching simplicity:

"The Greenback Party, founded in 1875, is the only political party conceived and built on the basis of organized kindness. . . ."

* * *

Pound's candidacy is somewhat less lucid. There was no return address on the envelope, nor is there a headquarters listed. The booklet's cover reads:

Ez
For Prez

There is one quote from the candidate:

"For sane curricula in schools and colleges to end the blackout of history and falsification of news." Ezra Pound, Jan. 4, 1956.

BIT OF BIOGRAPHY

A biographical note tells us:

"Ezra Loomis Pound was born in Hailey, Idaho, Oct. 30, 1885. He was the founder of the Imagist school. Ezra Pound is a great poet and scholar. His Cantos are among the truly great poetic works of all time."

* * *

The folder lists his books and his translations. There is no clue as to how his release from St. Elizabeth Hospital for the mentally disturbed will be arranged in case he is elected.

But it should be pointed out that the place is within a 30-cent taxi ride of the White House.

In the same mail, I learn from Meyer Davis, the band baron, that the Republicans are a cinch in '56. It's all in words and music by the maestro himself and it goes Hum-rump-to-tum-harump-tee-tump, zigamaroo, zoom zoom.

* * *

The lyrics are tricky. Lot of hard lines for Republicans to memorize. Like "Roll the drum with fly-ing sticks—heed the call next fall and cast—your vote for victor-y in '56." Rhymes with sticks.

* * *

Also got some "Stick With Ike" paper match folders. One side is gooey and sticks to your pack. And to one's hair, too, the children have discovered.

Seeks to Lower Blue Cross Rate

State Solon Files Bill to Change Insurance Law; 30 Pct. Cut Seen

LANSING (AP)—Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston) filed a bill yesterday which he said could reduce rates of the Michigan Hospital Service (Blue Cross) by up to 30 per cent.

• • •

The measure would amend insurance laws to require non-profit hospitalization insurance firms to use deductible insurance plans similar to those used by automobile insurance companies.

The bill would require subscribers to pay for the first day of hospitalization and 15 per cent of the cost for each day after the seventh.

Green said he thought the measure would eliminate abuse of Blue Cross insurance by encouraging shorter stays in the hospital and discouraging subscribers from making one-day trips to the hospital.

Green said that he is fearful that unless some curbs are put on the rates they will be higher than most people can afford.

"It is my personal feeling that the full coverage policy of Blue Cross has made it easy for all parties—the subscriber, the doctor and the hospital—to take advantage of the plan," he said.

Green said he is not suggesting that anyone has been unethical or dishonest, but that he thinks his plan could reduce rates from 15 to 30 per cent.

Post Office Deficit Hits Nearly $6 Billion

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Post Office Department estimates that from 1900 through 1955 it has operated at a deficit of $5,603,946,428.

• • •

Stans revealed that the deficit for the 1957 fiscal year which begins July 1 is expected to total 470 million dollars. President Eisenhower has asked Congress to approve rate increases that would bring in an estimated 350 million dollars in new postal revenues.

Stans disclosed also that the deficit since World War II has amounted to $4,430,865,967. The war years were about the only ones in which the post office showed a profit. Stans explained that was because the military carried much of the mail.

The postal official said the interest on the deficit amounts to more than 100 million dollars a year and he estimated the postwar deficit would have been sufficient to have built 4,600 school houses costing a million dollars apiece.

Degrees were awarded to 1,079 students.

Pontiac City Affairs

Sanitary Sewer Project Is Given OK by Commission

After a long debate on the subject, the City Commission last night decided to go ahead with the installation of sanitary sewers in the Pleasantdale subdivision in the city's eastside.

The sewers will be constructed in about 15 streets and will serve an area bounded generally north of Mt. Clemens, south of Featherstone, east of West boulevard and west of the Belt Line Railroad.

The public hearing on the installation was a continuation of one held Jan. 10 when Victor C. Adler, representative of one of the property owners affected by the proposed sewer, requested certain changes in the city's engineered plans for the sewers.

City Manager Walter K. Willman told the commission that Adler's changes would result in an added expense of $28,912 for the city.

Commissioner Harry W. Lutz said, "our plan is most feasible and I would like to see it adopted."

Adler's request for more time to check the city's analysis of his proposed changes was defeated as the commission authorized the city assessor to proceed with the special assessment roll for the sewers.

In other action last night, the City Commission accepted three deeds for lots 16, 19, and 21 in assessor's plat 131.

They also accepted resolutions of engineer's estimates on 10 blacktopping projects on city streets totaling $47,168.85 resulting from completed curb and gutter work on the streets. A public hearing on the projects will be held Feb. 7.

Confirmation of a special assessment roll for a storm drain on Blaine street from Montcalm street to the north line of lots 169 and 174 of Drexel Heights subdivision was accepted last night and offered in two payments.

Further business saw the commission accept resolutions of public necessity for two-inch blacktop for the following streets:

Central avenue from Saginaw to Paddock; Anderson avenue from Elm to the Michigan Airline Railroad; Edna avenue from Telegraph to Dawson Mill pond; Elm street from Marshall to 120 feet west of Going; Edward street from Myra to Orchard Lake; Marshall, street from Elm to MALBR; Park place from Hovey to O'Riley; and St. Louis avenue from Baldwin to Hollywood.

Two transfers of ownership of beer and wine and Class C licenses were approved by the commission as well as requests for changes in two other specially designated merchant licenses.

As the result of action taken last night, voters in precinct 22 will now vote in the City Hall instead of their regular Municipal Court polling place.

The commissioners authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids for the construction of water mains and also declared it a public necessity for a main in Elm street from Anderson avenue to Marshall street.

Overriding opposition of Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, the commission ruled it a public necessity for installation of sewers, water mains and curb and gutter projects for a new Wilkenson and Winn subdivision.

"The engineer department is already over-burdened and I think we should draw a line on how much of this service the city can take on," Miles said.

A petition, only partially signed, was accepted for curb, gutter, drainage and blacktopping for Parkdale avenue from Baldwin to Woodland drive. The city engineer was instructed to prepare an estimated cost.

A rezoning request to permit building a glass company on lots 100 and 101 of the Homestead Park subdivision 1 located on the east side of Astor street north of Auburn avenue, was referred to the City Plan Commission for study.

In final action, the city manager recommended extension be granted to May 15 for a contractor installing storm sewers in the Lakeside subdivision.

Feikens Calls Williams Seeker of Headlines

LANSING (AP) — Republican State Chairman John Feikens said today Gov. Williams has his "feet in the clouds and his head in the sand . . . the pose of immoderation."

Feikens said in a news release Williams' attacks on peace and prosperity are "falling on deaf ears."

"The America npeople won't be taken in by irresponsible statements issued in a desperate attempt to capture a headline," Feikens said.

He said the people prefer the "Eisenhower pace" to the "Truman-Acheson 'pace' with its 140,000 casualties in Korea."

"The basis of Democrat prosperity was war — and no prosperity is worth buying with the blood of American youth," Feikens said.

Sudan Will Welcome Private Investors Yet Remain Aloof With Independence

OMDURMAN, Sudan (INS)—The Premier of the Sudan, newest member of the world family of nations, says his country intends to stand on its own feet and wants no economic aid from any other nation.

"We have a number of development projects on hand and the funds to get them going," Sayed Ismail El Azhari said. "Once we begin and the ball starts rolling we hope to be self-sufficient to the extent of not having to ask any country for economic assistance."

The 54-year old premier was interviewed at his home in Omdurman, which lies just across the Nile from Khartoum, the capital where the Sudan's independence was proclaimed on Jan. 1.

El Zzhari said he felt confident in his country's economic furture because of its "vast agricultural possibilities, its great wealth in livestock and natural resources."

WELCOMES INVESTORS

One of the chief reasons why the Sudan wishes to join the United Nations, the premier said, is to benefit from the technical and financial assistance which U. N. agencies give to countries trying to develop their natural resources.

And, although the Sudan is not seeking help from any particular nation, El Azhari said, she will welcome private foreign investments in Sudanese projects.

He said investors would be guaranteed reasonable profits and full return on their investments on the understanding that the industry or project created would eventually become "the property of the nation and Sudanese people."

This policy of semi-aloofness toward other nations will be carried into the political realm, as well, El Azhari said.

OPPOSED TO PACTS

"The Sudan't foreign policy," he went on, "will be based on the principles set forth at the Bandung which are identical to those followed by the Arab League and adopted by the United Nations charter.

"My country is definitely opposed to joining any pact or alliance with any nation or group of nations in this area or elsewhere in the world."

The premier apparently does not regard the Arab League as a "pact or alliance," since the Sudan already has been admitted to the league.

WANTS FREE AFRICA

The Sudan will cooperate fully, El Azhari said, with the other independent states of Africa — particularly Egypt, Ehhiopia and Liberia. He concluded:

"I trust that together with them we shall coordinate our efforts to elevate the other backward countries of Africa and enable them to run their own show as much as possible by gaining their own independence.

"By doing so, the Sudan and the other free nations of Africa will be helping to abolish colonialism and imperialism in Africa so that this, like other continents, may become a combination of free and independent nations."

Ship Building Bill Cleared

House Will Consider Billion-Dollar Plan to Bolster Navy Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee has cleared for House consideration a $1,414,662,000 ship construction and conversion bill. It acted after hearing that Russia has become the world's second greatest naval power.

The House probably will take up the measure late this week.

The legislation provides for what chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee described as "the transition from conventional to nuclear power" for the United States Navy.

It calls for construction of 23 new ships, of which 22 would be combatant types, and for the modernization and conversion of 23 others, some of them into guided-missile vessels. One of the new ships would be an atomic-powered cruiser capable of firing guided missiles. Six others would be atomic submarines.

SECOND TO U.S.

Vinson told the rules committee the "most significant development in Soviet grand strategy since World War II," was its rise to "the position of a major naval power second now only to the United States."

"It is obvious," he said, "that the U.S.S.R. has one purpose in mind, and that is to prevent United States naval forces and shipping from entering the waters surrounding Europe and Asia."

'In the Red' a Good Sign for Red Cross Blood Bank

One account that it pays to keep "in the red" is the blood bank account of every Pontiac area organization that employs workers.

For this account pays off, not in dollars and cents, but in lives saved.

The inter-organization blood bank is a two-way proposition. The employe gives bood to his firm's bank, and so invests in a "blood savings account" upon which he can draw in time of emergency. In time of accident or illness, blood which may be vital to that employe or a member of his family can be procured from the common bank.

The Oakland County Red Cross chapter is urging all organizations that have not started a blood program do so immediately, and those who have the programs to continue it. In addition to personal help to members of the individual blood banks, this program also aids the armed forces in times of emergency.

How can an organization join the regional blood program.

"Just get in touch with the Red Cross chapter at 118 Franklin Blvd. and a recruiter will be assigned," says Mildred Bennett, county Red Cross director.

"The chapter will help choose a live-wire chairman and committee, plan your donor campaign and explain the blood program benefits to your people."

Citizens Group Wants Atomic Secrets Unveiled Within Security Limits

WASHINGTON (INS) — A Congress-appointed citizens panel called on the government yesterday to unveil within security limits the possibilities for hydrogen-type power machines that would run hotter than the sun.

The group, headed by Robert McKinney, Sante Fe, N.M., publisher, declared all secrecy should be lifted from present nuclear devices for peacetime power, and a free market for uranium be established to replace the guaranteed price system.

The panel stressed more information and "maximum interplay of ideas" are needed in man's newest attempt to achieve unlimited energy by harnessing the H-bomb.

One suggestion was that electrical or magnetic forces might hold in suspension gases in which temperatures of "several hundred million degrees" would be generated by hydrogen fusion reaction. The temperature at center of the sun is estimated at 36 million degrees.

The report said no ordinary container could confine such heat, but that electronic or magnetic fields "conceivably" could act to insulate the walls of the reaction vessel.

WANTS DATA RELEASED

The report said that despite enormous temperatures "thermonuclear power units give promise of being extremely safe" because "the amount of fuel normally present within such machines would be extremely small."

The panel called for release of thermonuclear data only "within the limitations which national security considerations impose," thus leaving in doubt how far the group would go in unveiling the government's many-pronged program to harness the H-bomb.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has said that security forbids release of further information, while Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the congressional committee, contends no security is involved.

The panel report was based on a 9-month study under McKinney's direction. Its recommendations were divided into these main categories:

1. Thermonuclear Power. More people should be allowed to contribute ideas. Investors in "nuclear fission power" should get enough information on "the feasibility of nuclear fusion" to enable them to judge the future.

2. Control of Information. The AEC should free all "reactor technology" data, leaving it to the Defense Department to classify "specific military application."

* * *

3. Uranium Mining. The AEC should agree to buy enough uranium for military requirements for a period of years.

4. Atomic Development Abroad. The group urged a definite U.S. program to provide at one million kilowatts of atomic generating capacity abroad by 1960.

* * *

5. Atomic Power in the U.S. The report estimated atom generated electricity will become cheaper than domestic power about 1965.

6. Atomic Propulsion. Recommending a government-industry program for nuclear-powered merchant ships, the report said the advantage of such vessels gives "a degree of urgency to this line of development." Atomic-powered airliners and locomotives were mentioned as possibilities for the future.

* * *

7. Agriculture. The report said atomic energy can increase food output and affords "a dramatic opportunity to lead under-developed, under-nourished nations to higher living standards."

8. Medicine. Knowledge gained from the use of radioactive tracer atoms may enable man to "understand what life itself is" and prove to be of even greater value. A program of nationwide education in atomic medicine, together with steps to provide low-cost equipment and materials to hospitals and other institutions, were recommended.

The panel said "controlled thermonuclear reaction has stimulated widespread enthusiasm because it could conceivably provide an unlimited energy resource," but that "it is too early to make any prediction as to whether electric power can be generated commercially" by this means.

The report continued: "It is virtually certain that no full-scale thermonuclear reactor will be developed in the next year or two; it is however, highly probable that success will be achieved eventually."

The report said an H-bomb device could be used to create "fissionable material" in the same way as present reactors.

"In other words, upon the achievement of the goal of controlled thermonuclear reaction, one may achieve the corollary of an economy rich in fissionable material.

* * *

"The parallel development of a fission power program consuming the fissionable materials produced in thermonuclear systems would thus appear to be required."

Irrigation Canal Coating Studied

Researchers Surveying Use of Bentonite Clay as Lining Material

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (INS) — Researchers at Colorado A & M College are expanding study of a new and promising method for lining irrigation canels.

The method involves the use of bentonite clay as the lining material.

R. D. Dirmeyer, in charge of the research, says bentonite has been used successfully in tests during the past two years to seal ditch channels and prevent water loss. However, more research is needed on the method.

Dirmeyer said the method works well in certain types of soil but more answers are needed before bentonite linings can be recommended in variations of the soil types.

Dirmeyer says often as much as half the water carried by irrigation ditches is lost through seepage before it reaches the field to be irrigated.

Adlai Hits GOP in Western Talk

Raps Administration at Launching of Campaign in California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Sharp barbs against the Eisenhower administration set the keynote of Adlai Stevenson's appeal for support in his California presidential primary campaign.

* * *

"We've had enough of piety and peaceful proclamations by the President to please half the Republicans," the Democratic contender declared last night, "and enough of threats and bomb-brandishments by the secretary of state to please the other half.

* * *

"We've had enough of huckstering and self-advertising of this administration to please its stockholders."

A capacity crowd of 1,200 at a fairgrounds bean dinner interrupted frequently with applause for the kick-off speech of his campaign. The Sacramento area was one of the few in the state carried by the former Illinois governor in his 1952 race against Eisenhower.

* * *

The 1952 Democratic nominee moves to the Oakland area on his eight-day stand far in advance of the June 5 primary. He arrived yesterday from Phoenix, Ariz.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee also seeks California's 68 Democratic delegates.

Kefauver canceled plains to tour southern California at the same time as Stevenson next week. He sent word the debate on the natural gas bill would keep him in Washington Monday and Tuesday. Both are scheduled to address the California Democratic Council in Fresno Saturday.

* * *

Stevenson laughs off any suggestion of a "new" Stevenson. His itinerary is light on formal speeches, heavy on bean dinners, box lunch socials and street corner talks.

* * *

Did this mean a change in his campaign from 1952?

No, Stevenson said yesterday, but "I hope it will be better."

Milne underwent a brain operation in 1952 and had been partially paralyzed ever since. Death came in a hospital near his Sussex County home south of London.

Although he began his writing career in 1903 and wrote a score of plays and novels, Milne was best known for his series of "Pooh" books, "Winnie the Pooh," "The House at Pooh Corner," "Now We Are Six" and "When We Were Very Young."

They related the adventures of a little boy, Christopher Robin and his teddy-bear friend, Winnie the Pooh.

Easter Seals Campaign Set to Begin on March 10

The 1956 Easter Seal campaign to benefit crippled children will be held March 10 to April 10, it was announced today by L. C. Megee, president of the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

This year's colorful messenger for crippled children will reach more than 128,000 residents in Oakland county when mailing begins March 10, Megee said. The appeal will mark 35 years of service.

The 1956 Easter seal is bright blue and red. A white lily, symbol of the Easter Seal Society, and a crippled child make up the stylized modern design, along with the words, "Easter Seals Help Crippled Children."

Funds will be used in Oakland County to furnish physical therapy and pre-school instruction for crippled children, equipment such as wheel chairs, braces and crutches; doctor's examinations, x-rays and dental care for the physically handicapped. Donations also will support a two-week camping program, the free cerebral palsy diagnostic clinic sponsored each year by the society and other services to disabled children and adults.

Over 90 per cent of the Easter Seal funds remain in the state for direct service. The remainder supports a nationwide program of education and direct services and research conducted by the Easter Seal Research Foundation.

AMAZING!

BUT THE TRUTH ABOUT O-JIB-WA

Mrs. Charles Scott, 9 Edgemont, Battle Creek, Michigan, recently wrote us the following about O-JIB-WA BITTERS.

"O-Jib-Wa Bitters has certainly been a Godsend to me, so I welcome the opportunity to tell others about it. I was afflicted with canker sores in my mouth, throat and even my eyes constantly for 16 years. I took all kinds of tests and treatments, costing over $2,000 without finding out what was wrong, or receiving any relief at all. I couldn't go anyplace, or do anything, except stay home and brood about this terrible condition. I began to think I was doomed to this life of misery, and frankly, at times, life seemed hardly worth living. I was very nervous and always hungry, but I would eat, and then could hardly keep it down. I also had large red blotches on my body, which would dry and flake off. I finally got so sick that I was forced to stay in bed for over two weeks. All I could eat was baby food and had to drink liquids through a straw. While in bed, I developed arthritis. One day I picked up the newspaper and saw an advertisement for O-JIB-WA BITTERS, so thought I would try it for my arthritis. To my surprise, in one week, my mouth was all healed, the red blotches were gone, and my arthritis was all better. In 16 years I did not have a minute's relief from those canker sores, and now they were gone. I was truly amazed. This was seven years ago, and I have not had a canker sore since. I recommended O-JIB-WA to a girl in St. Joseph, Michigan, who was afflicted with the same kind of sores in her mouth, and it cleared them up for her in a week also. I always keep O-JIB-WA BITTERS in the house, because once in awhile I get a little lame and this wonderful medicine always takes care of it in about a week. I just can't speak too highly of this medicine, and what I have told you is God's truth."

Renowned Mental Aid Plan Up for State Senate Study

LANSING (AP)—A bill to provide a Michigan version of Kansas' famed Menninger Plan for training experts in mental health is now before the Senate.

* * *

This state's version would be under the direction of the University of Michigan and would be known as the "Mental Health Training and Research Authority."

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek) introduced the bill last night, just four days after Dr. William C. Menninger urged a joint session of the Legislature to "buy brains instead of bricks" to alleviate the mental health problem.

Through a program of scholarships and fellowships, the authority would train psychiatrists and skilled aides for duty in all state institutions.

The trainees would combine academic work with on-the-scene experience in the institutions over a period of perhaps five years.

When they complete their training, they would serve under contract for a term of years.

7 MEMBERS

The authority would be made up of seven members appointed by the University of Michigan Board of Regents for staggering terms. Three of them would be picked from the university faculty, one would be selected from Wayne University and one from Michigan State University.

Coleman's bill also would enlarge the State Mental Health Commission from five to eight members. Two of the additional three members would come from the University of Michigan medical school faculty and one from Wayne's medical school.

A bill embodying the education financing program of Dr. Clair L. Taylor, Republican state superintendent of public instruction, also was introduced in the Senate last night.

* * *

The bill would boost state aid to local schools from the present $166 to $175 for elementary pupils and from $186 to $195 for high school students.

Dr. Taylor and Gov. Williams came up with simultaneous but somewhat different programs for increased school aid last week. Williams proposed $200 for both elementary and secondary school pupils.

More About It

The library becomes of greatest value to you when you know how to find the material you want quickly and can read and digest your find in the least possible time.

Learn how to make notes of things you want to remember and use. Read the reference all through first, then go back and read it over, making notes of the more important points. You will not remember everything you read. Some will be forgotten in an hour. If you remember a fact for a whole day, you are quite apt to make it a permanent possession.

Learn to use a dictionary as you study. It will make things clearer to you as well as adding to the words you know.

Never try to study when you are tired or hungry. Sit in a relaxed position and have a good, well-placed light.

Here are two more bookmarks for you.

City Employment Higher by Six Per Cent in 1955

In August of last year there was a record high number of 714 full time employes on the city payroll while at the end of the year there were 692, six per cent more than December 1954.

Personnel Director William L. Collins explained the increase was necessary due to larger public works and traffic control programs, additional maintenance staff for new City Hall, new branch library and the accelerated home construction in the city requiring help to expand and maintain the water supply and distribtuion system.

Part time city help varied between 100 and 175 in 1955, most of whom were seasonal employes in the Parks and Recreational programs, Collins said.

Labor Woos Dairymen for Industry's Collective Bargaining

Meet in Romeo From 11 Counties

Union Leader Proposes Farmer Mobilization to 600 in Area

By LEE WINBORN
Press Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO—A plan to "mobilize the farmers power" by providing for collective bargaining in the sale of raw milk was presented last night at a meeting of 600 area dairymen in the Romeo High School auditorium.

He spoke as an advisor for the Fair Share Bargaining Assn. of Michigan Dairy Farmers.

Martin explained "the problem of the farmer today is one of the most serious the nation faces." He added that "unless the purchasing power of the farmer is raised to a fair level, we face certainty of depression."

"It's about time the farmers got together—that's why the Fair Share Bargaining Assn. was organized—to give farmers a bargaining position with the dealers," the union organizer said.

He further stated that the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. can "do everything," but it can't bargain."

Harold H. Fritz, president of the Romeo local of the MMPA, said the Fair Share plan was "not necessarily endorsed" by the local group.

His remarks were substantiated by attorney for the Romeo Local, Edward A. Jacob. He cited his personal knowledge of farmer-union dealings since 1941.

"The promises of labor were not fulfilled," Jacob said. He advised the farmers to continue with their present plan to get control of the MMPA and to follow a pending court case for interpretation of bylaws of the association.

After three hours of speeches from the platform and questions from the floor, dairymen from 11 counties still gathered in small groups to discuss whether memberships in the Fair Share Assn. would jeopardize their standing in the MMPA.

Farmers were present from Macomb, Sanilac, Livingston, Lapeer, Tuscola, Huron, Oakland, Ingham, Wayne, Shiawassee and St. Clair Counties.

League Concert to Be Tonight

First of All-Band Series for 7 Areas Scheduled at Milford

MILFORD—The first in a series of three concerts will be presented by an all-league band at the Milford High School Auditorium tonight at 8.

This is the sixth year that the Wayne-Oakland All-League Band has been organized with seven neighboring towns participating, according to Phil Haddrill, director of the Milford group. There have been more than 300 players from the league assembled at one time for a mass band concert, he said.

In tonight's concert, Richard Rodgers' number, "Victory at Sea," will be featured, along with "Belle of the Ball" by LeRoy Anderson. The outstanding overture of the concert will be "Italian in Algiers" by Rossini. There will be 64 student musicians playing in the presentation, with nine conductors from the various schools directing.

Students were selected by actual audition of top performers from each school in the league during the early part of January.

Directors of the league agreed that the band this year far exceeds any group of the past, due to the overall good balance of each section.

Purpose of the All League Band, said Haddrill, is to give extra fine players the opportunity of playing high calibre music in an almost ideal manner. Players were selected from the high school and sixth grades, he said.

Other schools represented at the concert tonight will be Brighton, Clarenceville, Clarkson, Holly, Northville and West Bloomfield Township.

$5 Million Center Proposed at Troy

TROY — In six months a $5,000,000 shopping district with 20 stores may be started in Troy, on the East side of Livernois, south of 15 Mile Road.

The Planning Commission and City Commission must approve requested rezoning of the property from residential to commercial.

In addition to the proposed center, forty acres of land behind it may be developed into a residential area of $18,000 homes.

Psychodrama Slated Feb. 9

Macomb Group Offers Program by Team From Pontiac Hospital

The Macomb County Citizens' Committee for Pontiac State Hospital presents "Psychodrama" on Feb. 9, at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church Community Rm. in Mt. Clemens.

President Lawrence Martell announces that this program will be free to the public and is being offered as a means to enlighten the community in a better understanding of the mentally ill and the therapies being used for their recovery.

Program Chairman, Mrs. C. Harold Wills of Ray Center, says that the Psychodrama demonstration team of the Pontiac State Hospital is well known throughout the state and has been seen in Macomb County several times in past years. The psychodramatists, under the guidance of Marguerite M. Parrish, Director of Social Service at the Pontiac State Hospital, have also appeared on television programs and have been heard on the radio.

Psychodrama is an impromptu acting out of the patients' interpersonal difficulties and the scenes usually develop around the life stories of the participating patients. By giving vent to their hostility and being able to act out painful situations, the patients often gain insight and understanding as a result of their dramatic presentation and the discussions that are carried on after the scenes.

The Macomb County Citizens' Committee for Pontiac State Hospital is dedicated to the education of the community in the areas of good mental health and to developing projects that will aid in the recovery of the mentally ill patients.

Ted Panaretos of Mt. Clemens, hospital consultant to the Citizens' Committee reports that an average of three hundred Macomb County patients are at the Pontiac State Hospital and that organizations such as the Citizens' Committee are effective in bridging the gap of ignorance and prejudice associated with the mentally ill.

Do You Also Remember the Magic Gift as a Kid?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A small boy of about 8 or 9 got on a bus in Durham, N. C., one morning recently and said to the passengers, "Did you all know that today is my birthday?" Ecstatically, he opened a box to display a wrist watch, and there was pure joy on his face.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

"It's from my Daddy," he said. "He tried to surprise me by wrapping it just like a pound of butter and putting it on the table at breakfast. But I almost knew it was the watch I wanted, and when I saw the little box inside . . . isn't it pretty?"

A reader, Mildred Southerland Suitt, of Durham, on the bus, described the incident, saying it was one of the "magic gifts" of childhood . . . the gift that somehow the small boy will remember even when he is old.

And she's right because, something like 35 years ago, I remember mine. I got up pretty early that morning of my 12th birthday. But, no, my Dad seemed to have nothing special for me, nor did he even mention the date.

"Son," he said, "I broke the handle off the spade working in the garden last night. I wonder if you'd go down and fetch me a new spade handle before breakfast?"

And when I got there, they gave me The Gift—a bicycle Dad had ordered well in advance . . . mudguards, coaster brake, rubber tips for the handlebars, a light, and even a bell to warn pedestrians I was coming . . . In bliss I rode it home. No Cadillac or Jaguar could ever mean so much as that bike I got early that morning in the very long ago.

What was yours?

Grace Kelly's new movie, "The Swan" will be released around wedding time . . . . Frank Sinatra's building a home in Beverly Hills . . . Norma Mathews of "Beauty City" was named "Miss Timetable," and will decorate N.Y. subway timetables.

Tony Curtis bought two Messerschmidt cars and a Mercedes-Benz . . . Jerry Lewis is taking lessons in the quick pistol-draw . . . Singer Christine Mathews is breaking in her new cafe act—at the opening of a local market. Sloan Simpson's being taught to ice skate by Gant Gaither . . . Socialite Pamela Curran Wade turned down a role in the musical, "Mr. Wonderful."

Pharmacists Aid Diagnosticians

Drugs Eat Heavily Into Annual Hospital Bills, UM Prof Says

ANN ARBOR (AP)—It's enough to make you reach for the aspirin.

Close to half a billion dollars of the nation's annual hospital bill goes into drugs. This is the word from Tom D. Rowe, dean of the college of pharmacy at the University of Michigan. He adds:

"This large annual bill points up the fact that the pharmacy is one of the most important services of the modern hospital."

In fact, he says, the cost of these drugs is becoming a problem, not only to the public, but to hospitalization plans and to industry. It reflects the fact, he says, that the public and doctors are using hospitals for diagnistic, preventative and therapeutic services.

Since less than one-half of Michigan's 270 hospitals have a full-time pharmacist, Rowe suggests research on pharmacy services be carried through.

"This study should explore such things as: levels of service, operations, drug costs, personnel, equipment, layout and space requirements in hospital pharmacies . . ." he adds.

Research would also point out, Dean Rowe says, whether the patient is getting his dollar's worth on drugs and how he can get more for the same cost. He explains:

"Such research would fill an urgent need for study to improve clinical and administrative use of pharmacy services, and for study to effect practical application of advances in medical sciences."

Bob Burns Ill With Critical Kidney Ailment

★ ★ ★

"The situation doesn't look too good," said Burns' physician Dr. David Hertz. The 64-year-old movie and radio comedian has been in a coma since last Saturday. His health has been failing since he underwent surgery three years ago.

Burns fashioned a length of pipe and a whisky funnel, blew fuzzy bass notes and told jokes about his Uncle Fud, Grandpaw Snazzy and other folks in Van Buren, Ark.

Inactive in show business for the last 10 years, Burns has been engaged in San Fernando real estate purchases and sales. His 200-acre farm in the valley is an agricultural showplace.

Hollywood Headlines:

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Over the transatlantic telephone, Audrey Hepburn told me the news that she will co-star with Fred Astaire in a Paramount musical called "Wedding Day" (originally titled "Funny Face") with George Gershwin's wonderful score.

Audrey was on Cloud A, because she's always admired Fred and she loves to dance. She gets here in four weeks to start rehearsals; the picture starts April 2.

KIRK AND BURT

Lots of telephone calls. Hal Wallis called me from the Pump Room in Chicago. He said that he signed Kirk Douglas to co-star with Burt Lancaster in "Gunfight at the O.K. Corral."

"I think they'll be a great team — Kirk and Burt," said Hal, "and I was mighty glad to be able to get Kirk, who will play the role of Doc Holliday."

In the days when Wyatt Earp and Bat Masterson figured, Doc Holliday was quite a character. I suspect that getting a chance to play this colorful character decided Kirk in favor of "Gunfight."

Very happy Joan Crawford sounded when she told me over the long distance telephone that she and Alfred Steele and the children had the time of their lives at St. Moritz.

"It's so beautiful," said Joan, "that it looks as if God and Walt Disney had gotten together to create it."

She and Steele seem to have settled all their difficulties. I've never heard her sound so relaxed.

She said she had been at a luncheon at "21" with Shirley Booth, Marlene Dietrich, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Redgrave, Richard Widmark and Gypsy Rose Lee.

Said Joan, "Shirley brought along a toy for the Redgraves' child, who turned out to be a beautiful 19-year-old girl—Mrs. Redgrave doesn't look much older."

YOUNG LOOKING

A friend of mine who saw Mae Murray (the girl with the bee stung lips) recently in New York reports that Mae looks exceedingly young and is very active.

Her dancing in the days when she made "The Merry Widow" was in a class by itself and was widely copied by other actresses with terpsichorean ambitions.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Ursula Thiess, so glad to be home from picture making that I doubt she'll ever make another one, at La Rue with Robert Taylor, Nancy and Ronnie Reagan, having a late dinner.

The passing of H. L. Mencken, famed writer and critic, recalls the time he was engaged to Aileen Pringle. When they broke up Mencken said, "Two rebels should not marry."

Talked to Alexis Smith and Craig Stevens who are in Chicago in "Plain and Fancy." They're both very happy and are reconciled for keeps now.

★ ★ ★

From Palm Springs comes word that Jimmy Van Heusen played host to Frank Sinatra, Spencer Tracy, Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Jennifer Jones and David Selznick, and the Buddy Adlers at the Desert Inn's new cocktail lounge.

British director Anthony Asquith is in New York to cast the life story of T. E. Lawrence, to be shot in Arabia. He says there are more English actors on Broadway than in the whole of England.

Producer John Houseman takes leave of absence from MGM to direct the second season of the American Shakespeare Festival Theater in Stratford, Conn., during June and July. He directed "King Lear" on the stage and "Julius Caesar" for the screen.

Mollet Assumes Post as Premier

Pledges Quick Solution of Algerian Problems on Taking Command

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS (AP)—France's first Socialist Premier since 1947 took over the governmental reins today, heading a non-Communist leftist coalition pledged to prompt negotiations to end the costly Algerian conflict.

★ ★ ★

Socialist Party Secretary General Guy Mollet, who once taught high school English, was confirmed as the nation's 22nd postwar Premier by an unusually large majority of the National Assembly early today.

The vote was 420-71 with 83 abstentions.

The chamber's 151 Communists gave their votes to Mollet to pressure him for the "popular front" tieup they seek with the Socialists. To counter this, the Catholic MRP (Popular Republican Movement) and other moderate groups voted with Mollet's Republican Front of Socialists and Radicals, and most rightists abstained. This gave the new Premier a majority of those voting without the Reds.

The Republican Front, which Mollet leads jointly with Radical party leader Pierre Mendes-France actually has only about 180 votes in the 596-member Assembly. Because of this the government is generally conceded a life expectancy of only three or four months.

The Premier's streamlined 13-man Cabinet includes seven Socialists, three Radicals, one nonparty man and two others from splinter groups. Mendes-France is deputy premier without control of any ministry.

In outlining his policy before the vote, Mollet called for a new, freely elected Algerian assembly whose leaders could negotiate a new "unbreakable" relationship with France.

★ ★ ★

The Premier's policy statement also promised to strengthen the six-nation Western European Union and the North Atlantic Alliance as keys to peace and liberty.

Democrats Open Attack on Eisenhower Philosophy Concerning Defense Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) cautioned today of "danger that the Soviets may fire a 1,500-mile ballistic missile before the end of this year."

He said the balance of world military power would shift against the West if the Soviet Union should win the "critical race" for development of such an intermediate-range missile—and after that, an intercontinental missile with a 5,000-mile range and the capability of carrying atomic destruction to the United States.

Jackson's prepared Senate speech was planned as the opening round of a Democratic volley at administration defense policies. Lined up to join in were Democratic Senators Mansfield of Montana, Kennedy of Massachusetts and Symington of Missouri, a former Air Force secretary.

Jackson said America has "consistently underestimated" the Soviets in the military and atomic fields since World War II.

He said there was need for a completely new defense philosophy, which he boiled down into these terms:

"All-out work on critical projects today to avoid all-out war tomorrow:

He proposed that:

1. The ballistic missile project should now proceed with the maximum effort of which this nation is capable, supported by the kind of urgency that heretofore Americans have reserved for war-time conditions," and that:

2. "To implement this objective, the ballistic missile program should be placed under a full-time civilian administrator, reporting directly to the secretary of defense and to the President."

President Eisenhower, in his budget for fiscal 1957 starting July 1, included $1,276,000,000 for missile development. This compares with 917 millions for the current year.

Jackson conceded there had been a stepup, but he told a reporter he believed more money is needed.

Two City Residents Get Prison Terms

Two men, who admitted robbing cigarette machines during gas station breakins Jan. 9 and 11, were sentenced to 1½ to 15 years in Jackson state prison by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Their confessed accomplice, Donald Ritter, 27, of 4 S. Saginaw St., will be sentenced Feb. 6.

Flint Man Receives 60 Day Jail Term

A Flint man, who ran amuck in Waterford Township last Dec. 28, has been sentenced to 60 days in Oakland County Jail by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Abner J. Gupton, 27, also was placed on two-year probation and assessed $150 court costs.

The Cape of Good Hope is the oldest of the provinces which make up the Union of South Africa.

$10,000 for Arm Injury

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A 75-year-old left-handed man has been awarded a $10,000 Superior Court judgment for permanent injuries to his left arm in a traffic accident. Owen O. Oviatt was awarded the money by a jury after testifying he was resting his arm outside a car window June 1, 1953, when a truck backed up and the tailgate pinned his arm against the car. The truck was owned by the Roth and Sons Funeral Home, the defendants. The Oviatt said he is unable to write because of the injury.

Jean Hersholt Better

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Jean Hersholt was recuperating today in St. Vincent's Hospital from a major operation performed yesterday. His doctors said he could go home in about a week and resume "at least some of his work" in three or four weeks.

Youth Charged in Boston Killing

Ex-GI Held in Slaying of Student Nurse After Being Rejected as Suitor

BOSTON (AP)—A love-struck youth today was accused of shooting to death an attractive student nurse who had rejected him as a suitor.

Miss Rose Marie Da Silva, 18, of Brockton was slain in front of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital nurses' home as three companion student nurses looked on in horror.

Shortly after the shooting last night, Charles Atwood Jr., 21, of East Bridgewater, walked into a police station and admitted the slaying. He was booked on "suspicion of murder."

Police Lt. Warren Blair quoted Atwood as saying that he tried for about an hour and a half yesterday to win back the affection of Miss Da Silva.

He said that after the attractive, dark-haired nurse refused him, he waited outside the hospital and as she came down the front stairs, fired several shots at her.

Hospital attaches rushed out and carried Miss Da Silva inside. She was dead with five bullets in her head, neck and chest.

Blair said Atwood told him that he kept company with Miss Da Silva last year but she left him for another youth.

Atwood was given a medical discharge from the Army because of a nervous condition after service in Korea. Until two weeks ago he was employed in a Brockton shoe factory.

'Meter Maids' Ready

DENVER (AP)—Eight housewives, 23 to 43, were appointed "meter maids" for the Denver Police yesterday. They will start patrolling the downtown area, checking for overtime parking violations, about Feb. 16. Uniformed patrolmen normally assigned this task will be freed for other duty.

Chinese Actress Tells of Husband's Tyranny

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Chinese-born Hollywood film actress Marie Tsien has obtained a divorce from Ernest Tsien, Vancouver, B.C., importer, who, she says, held fast to the ancient customs of their native China but took advantage of modern telephones to make her conform.

* * *

"I am now an American citizen," Mrs. Tsien testified, "but my husband wanted me to be like the women in China. He wanted absolute obedience and he had to know where I was every minute away from him. I had to report to him by telephone many times a day."

The Tsiens were wed in Shanghai in 1947. She is 25, he 40.

DEVALLS BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The sign outside Jack Huffman's place reads: "Hundreds of well-shaped knees. Come in and feel around." There's a simple explanation, of course. The knees are cypress tree knees, cut in the White River bottoms. Boiled and peeled, they make unusual ornaments.

A young man walked into Andrew Kamtas' tailor shop, pulled out a gun and said: "Give me your money or I'll kill you."

Police said Kamtas opened the cash register and told the gunman to take what was in it—about $2. The tailor then ran out of the store.

The thief shouted after him: "Come back or I'll kill you."

A total of 7809 dogs were killed or missing in action during World War II.

Union Pacific Ends Era of Steam Locomotives

DENVER (AP)—An era ended in blowing snow and cold at 6:01 p.m. yesterday. The Union Pacific Railroad's No. 86 passenger train to Omaha chuffed slowly out of Denver's Union Station, the last steam-powered passenger unit to make the run.

Hungarian Actress Considers Princes Out of Style

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Grace Kelly may have landed quite a catch when she became engaged to Prince Rainier of Monaco, but Hungarian actress Zsa Zsa Gabor noted today that "princes are out of style."

* * *

"Princes," she said, "and all other kinds of royalty—except, of course, the British royal family—are passe. They belong to the last century."

Zsa Zsa, who once was married to a prince herself, pointed out that European girls are brought up to marry good, solid American businessmen.

"But American girls," she added, "are brought up to catch princes and counts and dukes. In Europe, we care nothing about titles. They aren't worth bothering about."

* * *

According to the Hungarian fireball, who numbers hotel king Conrad Hilton and suave movie actor George Saunders among her ex-hubbys, the most eligible royal male these days is Prince Christian of Hanover.

"He doesn't have any money," she declared, "but he's so handsome he doesn't need it."

SO ASHAMED

As for Zsa Zsa's own prince (her first husband, Turkish diplomat Burhan Belge) he was so "ashamed" of his title that he never mentioned it.

* * *

Zsa Zsa couldn't say what makes American girls so susceptible to royalty.

"I guess they take their fairy tales seriously," she grinned.

"In Europe, we read fairy tales, too. But the story always ends 'And she lived happily ever after with a nice, reliable American man'."

Recently a friend divulged that the actress' mother, Jolie Gabor, didn't include Prince Rainier on the famed Gabor sisters' "eligible man" list because the prince was too short.

But Zsa Zsa denied this. She said:

"Mama never had such a list, but if she had there wouldn't have been any princes on it!"

MORE GENEROUS

The dynamic blonde actress admitted that European men are a little more generous than Americans.

Zsa Zsa, who is co-starring with ex-hubby Sanders in "Death of a Scoundrel," said she still isn't thinking of marrying again—not even to Porfirio Rubirosa, to whom she is supposedly engaged.

* * *

"But when I do," she scoffed, "it won't be a prince. Who wants to marry a prince?"

White Jewelry Cool

Far and away spring and summer's favorite and most flattering color is white. This season pure white jewelry will give you that frosty, cool effect to help you look crisp as a lettuce leaf on the most wilting day.

A preview of the finery to be worn at the Saturday evening dance, "Hearts and Flowers," is given by (left) Mrs. S. V. Sekles of Ottawa drive and (right) Mrs. Aleck Capsalis, also of Ottawa drive. Mrs. Sekles is grand governor of the Daughters of Penelope and Mrs. Capsalis is handling dance publicity. The event is sponsored jointly by Ahepa organization and the Daughters of Penelope to benefit the building of an international home for orphaned Greek boys. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Balmain Unveils '56 Line

PARIS (INS) — Pierre Balmain has presented his spring silhouette for 1956 featuring an uncompressed, untucked bustline and generous shoulders.

* * *

His slim, firm waists are highlighted by throat-caressing cowl necklines, cylindric three-quarter-length sleeves, corselet skirts and boleros.

* * *

ENTIRELY BEADED

One of the latter is entirely beaded in a blue flower pattern on a white background. Another is stiff with mother of pearl sequins and embroidered wild flowers.

* * *

Another of the top Paris names in fashion, Manguin, introduced a "supple line" with intricately worked, elegantly severe suits of linen-weave wool in sand, mud and putty colors, worn with printed draped turbans.

One mannequin, Lillian, looking strikingly like Grace Kelly, modeled some of these, as well as a floating silver gray, full-length, chiffon dress embroidered with crystal beads.

The strapped, low decollete was filled to the neck with sheer gray chiffon.

Effie Anastos is pictured pouring coffee for George Gianakos at a recent planning session for the "Hearts and Flowers" dance sponsored by Ahepa organization and the Daughters of Penelope. Miss Anastos is dance cochairman and Mr. Gianakos is chairman of the refreshment committee. The dance, being held Saturday in St. George Hellenic Hall, will feature music by an out-of-town orchestra. Proceeds will be donated to a fund for the building of an international home for orphaned Greek boys on the Hudson river in New York state.

Padded Hat Sure to Lift Your Spirits

NEW YORK (INS)—If your morale is so low you're thinking of padded cells, go get yourself a padded hat.

* * *

A padded hat is Sally Victor's prescription for an advance whiff of spring and a morale booster. And the way this noted milliner pads her hats, they boost your morale and your chin line, too.

Mrs. Victor has reached into a Persian garden for the neatest pillbox of the season. She takes a pillbox frame, covers it with cotton padding for the fashionable bulky effect, covers the cotton with exotic Persian prints and then outlines the print with colored thread for a padded applique effect.

The soft and curvy line the pillbox gets from the padding has its effect on the face below. Eyebrows seem to go up, chins get thinner and you look—as Mrs. Victor says—"sort of pixiesh."

* *

"You have to have a brim that curves or a soft upward line in hats for spring," she explains, "because hats are bigger and otherwise you'd look squashed."

If you prefer solids to Persian prints, you can get similar padded pillboxes trimmed with black embroidery and pretty pearl buttons—60 or more buttons to the hat.

Mrs. Victor also has made flower hats, turban hats, and . . . for women who'll try anything "wig hats" completely swamping the hair in posies.

Girl Blames Mother for Her Lack of Dates

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Mother wants me to go to dances and have dates with boys—and so do I But why don't I go out? The answer is simple—I'm not asked.

"I partly blame my mother for this. Last year I went to a dance with my girl friend, but we were not supposed to leave until my mother got there to take us home.

"I'm afraid to have friends over because she always embarrasses me by telling terrible stories about me when I was little.

"I know my mother loves me and thinks she's doing things for me for my own good. But how can I make her realize that she's hindering me? And how can I get dates?"

Answer: It's easy enough to blame somebody else when you're not having very good luck at the thing you want most. You claim your mother is hindering you. She's keeping you from being attractive to boys.

* * *

But she's not even around when you have your chances to attract they boys. She doesn't share the life you lead at school with them. She doesn't interfere with the friendships you make during lunch hour, in the corridors between classes, while you're at play rehearsal, or at the drugstore after school.

You're completely on your own most of the day to make the most of your associations with the boys in your class, in your school.

Line up for friends a couple of girls who do have dates. Get them to rig up double-dates for you. Show your friendliness and fun-loving good humor to the boys you see every day. Try to get to know one or two of them really well.

* * *

Then have a party or two at home. When your mother sees the pendulum swinging in your direction, she'll be eager to cooperate; she won't hinder you.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Everybody thinks I'm old enough to start dating except my mother. I guess she's afraid of losing me, or just doesn't trust me.

"I'm 14 and Tim is 16 and we'd like very much to start dating each other. But mother won't even allow him to visit me. How can I persuade her to let me start dating him?"

Answer: You want blanket permission to see Tim as often as possible, to have him come to the house and to go out with him whenever he asks you. And that your mother can't see. She just won't give such generous permission.

But she might consider one specific invitation at a time. Present her with an ivitation from Tim to go to the early movies, complete with reasonable transportation arrangements, and an early curfew. She might not object.

And three weeks later come along with another reasonable invitation from Tim. See what she says to that.

Let her digest the idea of your going out gradually and easily—maybe you'll find yourself doing just that.

Dorothy Archambeau Bradley became the bride of Peter J. Maringer Saturday morning in Our Lady of Refuge Church. She is the daughter of Mrs. Leo J. Archambeau of Rosedale avenue, and he is the son of Mrs. Peter W. Maringer of Detroit. The couple will reside at Watkins Lake.

MR. and MRS. PETER MARINGER

Couple to Reside at Lake After Florida Honeymoon

At a Nuptial Mass Saturday morning in Our Lady of Refuge Church Dorothy Archamebau Bradley, daughter of Mrs. Leo J. Archambeau of Rosedale avenue, became the bride of Peter J. Maringer, son of Mrs. Peter W. Maringer of Detroit.

* * *

As the bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, William Archambeau, she was wearing a ballerina-length gown of sea green taffeta fashioned on princess lines. Her matching hat was trimmed in rhinestones and she carried a white orchid on a prayer book.

Mrs. Frank M. Jagunich was her sister's honor attendant. Her princess-style gown was in a carmel-color silk shantung taffeta, accented by a sea green headpiece.

Mrs. Allan Montieth was the bride's other attendant. Her costume was identical in style and color to the honor attendant's.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Robert Maringer of Columbus, Ohio, served his brother as best man. Seating the guests were Charles Shipp and Grant MacKenzie of Detroit.

* * *

When Mrs. Archambeau received her guests at the 5 o'clock reception in Amvets Hall, she was wearing a brown peau de soie sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Maringer chose a dress of rose beige lace over taffeta with pink accessories. Her corsage also was of pink and white carnations.

MR. and MRS. D. R. OSTRANDER

Married Saturday evening in First Christian Church were Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Ostrander. She is the former Mary Martha Mount, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell L. Mount of Oliver street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ostrander of Parkway drive.

Mary M. Mount Wears Gown of Satin and Velvet

A bridal gown of white satin and velvet was chosen by Mary Martha Mount for her Saturday wedding to Donald R. Ostrander. The couple was married by the Rev. Duncan McColl in the First Christian Church. The ceremony was performed in the presence of 250 guests.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell L. Mount of Oliver street, and Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ostrander of Parkway drive.

The white velvet bodice of the bridal gown accented the skirt of white satin. The gown was designed and made by the bride's mother. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion and carried a white orchid on her Bible.

Sara Hallock, maid of honor, and Mrs. James C. Mount, sister-in-law of the bride, were gowned identically in floor-length dresses of blue crystallette. They wore similar floral headpieces and carried white muffs with rosebuds.

Alfred Ostrander served as his brother's best man. Seating the guests were James C. Mount, brother of the bride; Jack Ostrander of Big Rapids, brother of the bridegroom, and Gerald Breen.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Mount, the Rev. and Mrs. Duncan D. McColl and members of the bridal party were present at the dinner.

How Should Man Greet Ex-Spouse?

It's Best if Couple Can Smile When Meeting

By EMILY POST

A reader writes me as follows: "Will you please tell me what is correct in the following situation: Mr. and Mrs. A. are seated in a restaurant. The former Mrs. A. arrives with a man friend and is seated at a table nearby.

"The divorce was not a particularly friendly one although they do speak occasionally. Should Mr. A. greet his ex-wife when encountering her or should he treat her as a stranger?

I am the second Mrs. A. and am anxious to know what is proper under the circumstances. This is not a very large town and we do run into each other from time to time."

Answer: It is entirely a matter of personal feelings. There are some people who remain friendly in their relationship and there are others who never speak. In my opinion, those who can smile a friendly how-do-you-do when they encounter each other make for a much happier situation.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When he is leaving, should a young woman hand her visitor his coat and hat or should he get them himself?"

Answer: If his hat and coat have been put in an inaccessible place she would get them, but if they are hanging on the hall rack or lying on the hall table the young man would get them himself.

A small overnight case has been designed to hold little girl necessities. Washable inside and out, it's made of plastic in pink, blue or yellow; has a removable three-section tray and comes fitted with toothbrush and comb.

"Quick Mister Agent—Some Fur Insurance!"

"Sorry Mr. Fox, we don't think it would help you now. Besides, we do not insure furs 'on the hoof.' Some day, when you are a cape, we'll be glad to cover you."

Fur insurance covers theft, holdup, fire, damage by water and many other risks and adds to the pleasure of wearing your furs by eliminating the fear of loss.

Let us give you full details for this "peace of mind" protection.

Toastmistresses and their guests gathered at Hotel Waldron Tuesday evening for the annual open house meeting sponsored by the group. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Webb of Farmington (left couple). Milton Freet (standing right) is photographed with Mrs. Freet, who is president of the club. Mrs. Webb is chairman for Council Four, North East Region of International Toastmistresses.

Annual Open House Held by Club

You come out of a meeting of the Pontiac Toastmistress Club feeling well criticized.

* * *

First you're asked to make a speech — on something you've never heard before, and then they tear it all apart. You haven't said anything right—it's so discouraging.

This is actually what happens in a meeting such as the one held Tuesday night at Hotel Waldron. It was the annual open house to which husbands and guests of the members are invited.

But we forgot to tell you about the good things that happen in a meeting such as this. Where compliments were in order, they were given freely.

* * *

Members of the group have joined with one purpose in mind—to learn to speak adequately in public. And they have learned not only to give good speeches, but to accept the responsibility of giving extemporaneous speeches.

CRITIC SUPPLIED

Each person making a speech is supplied with a critic, and then the club appoints a grammarian to point out errors of the speakers and the critics.

* * *

To make sure you don't get away with anything, the chief evaluator comes along—and you'd be surprised at how many errors she can pick up.

You think there won't be any more, but the tailtwister is the one to watch out for. She fines you for everything. Like taking off your shoes during the meeting, or neglecting the vitamins in your tomato juice or failing to talk more to your left-hand neighbor than your right.

* * *

Speeches given last night were in a serious mood. Mrs. Robert Bunce spoke on "Awe of the Expert." Mrs. Clayton Rule's topic was "What the Good Man Does Is Sure to Be Right." Mrs. J. R. Shaffer spoke on "Leap Year 1956," and Mrs. Robert Sutton's speech was entitled "What Song Are You Singing?"

JUDGING TALKS

Critics for the speakers were Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, Gertrude Foley, Mrs. Sidney Olsen and Mrs. Lewis Davidson. Mrs. George Gaches was grammarian and Mrs. Orben Wilkins was timekeeper.

* * *

Toastmistress for the evening was Shirley Dovre, and Mrs. Howard Wheatley was chief evaluator. Tailtwister was Evelyn Cole.

Topicmistress was Mrs. J. E. McLeod and those called on to make extemporaneous speeches of not more than three minutes were Mrs. Wheatley, Mrs. Wendell Green, Mrs. Howard Powers, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Emil Mailahn and a guest, Norman Sutherland.

President Mrs. Milton Freet welcomed the group and introduced guests including Mr. and Mrs. James Webb of Farmington and Dr. and Mrs. Dana P. Whitmer.

* * *

Grandpa Liked 'Em, Try Some!

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

How long is it since you've served Apple Dumplings for a dessert? They're a wonderful cold weather treat, one our grandparents had often. Try Mrs. Fred A. French's recipe and watch your family's reaction.

For a topping Mrs. French suggests a Vanilla Sauce. If you do not care for that, try whipped cream or pass a pitcher of plain cream. Old-fashioned hard sauce or ice cream also make good additions to dumplings.

Mrs. French is a homemaker whose current hobby is her new movie camera. Photography has been an absorbing interest with her for some time.

APPLE DUMPLINGS
By Mrs. Fred A. French

6 apples, peeled and cored
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅔ cup shortening
½ cup milk or buttermilk
4 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

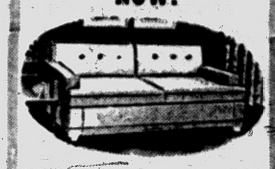

Make dough with flour, baking powder, shortening and milk. Roll out and cut into 6 squares. Place peeled and cored apple in center of each. Mix sugar and cinnamon and fill apple cavities. Draw four corners of dough up over apples and pinch together. Bake 40 minutes in a 375-degree oven. Serve with Vanilla Sauce.

Vanilla Sauce

2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
¼ cup butter
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ cup sugar

Boil until thickened. Pour over dumplings to serve.

What's New for Spring
Fashion isn't going to press us into a mold and turn us out all alike for spring. All she asks is that we be feminine. But the manner in which we are to achieve this is largely our own decision. The new line in spring hairstyles is sufficiently flexible to meet individual requirements. Waves and curls are to be used in a way that is most becoming to each of us. The general trend is still short but even here you may choose the length most flattering to you.
Enjoy a new you this spring.

Mom Doesn't Always Know Best

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Kay was a very bright girl, too smart for her own good, as her mother kept telling her.

* * *

But Kay couldn't help it. She was born with high intelligence and went to a special school for the so-called gifted child.

She was given plenty of work there, so that she was kept very busy. As a result, her social relations throughout school were good.

She worked so hard at the school that she got all that excess energy out of her system and was serene and easy-going by evening.

* * *

The same was true in college. And she was popular with the boys, too.

But then came the trouble, and I'm sorry to say it was largely due to her mother.

MARRIAGE DEMAND

"Mother wanted me to get married as soon as possible after college," Kay said, "and, of course, I was in favor of it, too. But first, I wanted to get a good job and I was offered one.

"My college record was so good that I was offered a job on an executive training squad at a big store and I would have loved it. They thought I had a great future with them and said so frankly.

"But mother wouldn't hear of it. She said women executives scared the men away and so forth and so on. She insisted that I take a secretarial course and be secretary to some man.

"It's more feminine, she kept telling me. Secretaries, she kept repeating, get married, but women executives don't."

* * *

It was a disastrous step. Kay was a high-geared, high-pressured girl, and if her job had given her an outlet for her energy, she would have been happy and serene in her social life.

But she got a really dull, low-geared secretarial job, which didn't begin to use what energy she had. She was frenzied and miserable.

In the evening, all the unused energy came to the surface and scared the men away.

* * *

"It was as if I was running the car with the brakes on," Kay told me ruefully, "and could almost smell the burning rubber!"

MAKING THE JUMP

Kay is now, six years later, making the jump back into a job which requires the ability she has. She's already a different person and her social life is looking up. One of these days, Kay will get married, too.

But in choosing a job, a high-pressured one is the only answer for this kind of girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles May were married in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in All Saints Episcopal Church. The bride is the former Joan Manning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manning of Ogemaw road, and Mr. and Mrs. John May of Detroit are Charles' parents.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES MAY

Joan Manning Becomes Bride in All Saints Rite

All Saints Episcopal Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Joan Manning and Charles May. They exchanged their wedding vows before the Rev. C. George Widdifield in the 8 o'clock ceremony.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manning of Ogemaw road are the parents of the bride, and Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John May of Detroit.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of antique taffeta with long sleeves. Her headdress of taffeta was trimmed in sequins and pearls and secured a double-tier fingertip veil of tulle.

* * *

The bride was attended by Doris Friesen and Patricia Manning. They wore ballerina-length dresses in blue and rose, respectively, with matching headdresses. Both carried bouquets of yellow roses.

Serving as best man was Guy Scanlan of Detroit. John Ruthenburg, also of Detroit, seated the guests.

Antarctic Base Placed on Shelf

LITTLE AMERICA V (AP)—This main base in America's Antarctic Operation Deepfreeze stands on a floor of snow and ice 600 to 800 feet thick.

Below, seismographic studies show today, there is water to a depth of 1,500 feet. And below that is about 350 feet of silt resting on the bed rock of the Antarctic.

This information was supplied Rear Adm. George Dufek, commander of Navy Task Force 43, by the Rev. Daniel Linehan, seismologist of Boston College.

The Little America base is located three miles inland from Kanan Bay, on the Ross Shelf, which covers an area of 160,000 square miles. The shelf has been built up by thousands of years of snowfall and glacier ice sliding down the mountains from the giant plateau covering the Antartic interior.

Experts estimate the coastal area of the Ross Shelf expands outward about four feet a day under the force of its own weight and that of the glaciers pushing down from the mountains. Thus, a year from now, Little America V is likely to be more than a quarter of a mile farther north than it is today.

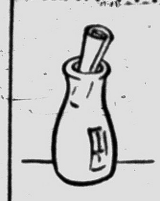

Good news was received, meanwhile, from the trail-blazing party penetrating deep into Byrd Land to locate the site of another base American scientists will use for the International Geophysical Year observations next year.

The seven-man party was reported moving east again after being stopped for 2½ days by a blinding whiteout.

'Rock 'n' Roll' Dance Explodes Into Brawl

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The board directors of Chattanooga's Memorial Auditorium, where a "rock 'n roll" dance exploded into a brawl between Negro dancers and white spectators Monday night, will be asked to adopt a resolution banning the mixing of races at dances there.

Tommy Thompson, auditorium manager, said last night he will recommend the action because "the mixing of races at these dances is a dangerous practice and should be stopped before an unnecessary tragedy occurs."

* * *

The dance, featuring nationally known Negro singer Roy Hamilton, blazed into a furious bottle and chair throwing melee that required every available city and county policeman, both white and Negro, to put down.

At least three whites and three Negroes received minor injuries and nine Negroes were arrested.

Hart Official Retires

HART (AP) — Bernard Passage, Hart city manager for 13 months, resigned Monday effective Feb. 18 to enter private industry in Grand Rapids. Passage was administrative assistant to the city manager of Grand Rapids for five years prior to his Hart position.

Exports on Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau says a preliminary estimate indicates that the United States exported about $15,471,000,000 worth of its goods in 1955, a gain of about 2 per cent over 1954.

Man Comes Home —Finds Wife Slain

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nude body of a teen-age wife, a bent butcher knife in her chest, was found by her young husband when he returned from work yesterday.

* * *

Officers said there was no sign of a struggle in the bedroom where the victim, Mrs. Barbara Jean Jepson, 18, an expectant mother, was discovered.

"I can't figure out who would do such a thing," the husband, Joseph Earl Jepson, 20, said repeatedly. He told investigators his wife had not been feeling well when he left for work as clerk at the California Air National Guard and he had not called home all day.

* * *

Officers confiremd that Jepson had been at the guard office, a 10-minute drive from his home. An all-points description of a young blonde youth was broadcast by police after neighbors reported having seen such a man loitering in an alley behind the Jepson's San Fernando Valley apartment.

Ex-"M" Goalie Stars as U. S. Upsets Canada, 4-1

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—Wee Willie Ikola and Johnny Mayasich, a couple of high school pals from Eveleth, Minn., were the center of attention in the American dressing room after the United States Hockey team had stunned Canada, 4-1, last night.

"Ikola held us together and Mayasich gave us the spark for the victory," enthused American coach Johnny Mariucci. "We're finally starting to come along. Our spirit is paying off."

Ikola moved on to the University of Michigan where he played on two NCAA championship teams. Mayasich went to the University of Minnesota and it was Ikola who stopped Mayasich and his teammates in the NCAA finals in 1953-54.

"What else can I say," panted Mariucci from under a mob of reporters and photographers. "we just beat them. I guess we just outhustled them. But Ikola and Mayasich really turned the trick."

* * *

It was the first time in history an American hockey team had beaten Canada in Olympic competition. The Yanks' best previous efforts were two ties — 2-2 in 1932 and 3-3 four years ago.

Like a caged Panther, goalie Ikola kicked, caught and blocked every Canadian shot except one which sneaked into the lower left hand corner in the second period.

'It was a good shot," the tiny towhead admitted. "But if it had been a bit higher, I would have had it."

Mayasich, who scored three of the four American goals, said he was surprised his first shot went into the net in the first period it was a tricky shift shot.

* * *

"I'd tried it many times before" he said, "but that was the first time it worked. It hit the goalie's chest and flipped right in."

The Canadian team was downcast after the game, and some players broke down and wept. But through it all, they expressed only admiration for the Americans in general and Ikola in particular.

* * *

"I don't know how the puck stayed out of the net," said Capt. Jack McKenzie, who scored the lone Canadian goal. "Ikola played a tremendous game. I thought I had him beaten four times, but each time he came up with the puck. It's uncanny.

* * *

"Our boys gave all they had, but it wasn't enough tonight," he added.

He said the first goal by Mayasich was the turning point of the game, pointing out that from then on the Americans made the Canadians play their type of game.

"But I don't think any team is going through this tournament undefeated," he said, "so don't count us out yet."

From The PRESS BOX — Big 3 Cage Stars Have 1,000 Points

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor Pontiac Press

If day dreaming does anything to console the coach's soul, then here's one you dream-weary basketball coaches can sleep on some night.

How would you like to have three basketball players on one team who would assure you at least 70 points every game?

There are three in Michigan, but unfortunately (or fortunately for the opponents) they play for three different teams.

This trio, Julius McCoy, Bill Ebben and Ron Kramer, who could be called the big three of Michigan college basketball, has already amassed a total of 1,000 points this season.

He has piled up 330 points in 12 games for 27.5 per game average, operating with a deceptive drive and one hand push shot.

Coach Forddy Anderson had doubts about the 6-2 Pennsylvanian fitting into his fast break style after he inherited Pete Newell's slow deliberate offense which was focused on McCoy's sharpshooting.

McCoy Fitted Into Pattern

Forddy's doubt has long disappeared and the young Spartan pilot is convinced his cage star is a player any coach would like to have.

To go along with McCoy's finesse underneath the basket, nothing would drive the opposition dizzy than to have the deadeye soft jump shot of 6-3 Bill Ebben, the hot shot U. of D. junior forward, pouring through another 25 points a game.

"Mr. Outside," Ebben, an all-A engineering student, has bucketed 428 points in 17 games and has forsaken many opportunities to add to the figure by passing off for his teammates to score.

It has been a long time since Michigan schools have been represented in the top ten NCAA scoring figures by two players. For two months McCoy and Ebben have moved up and down as high as 4th in the national statistics.

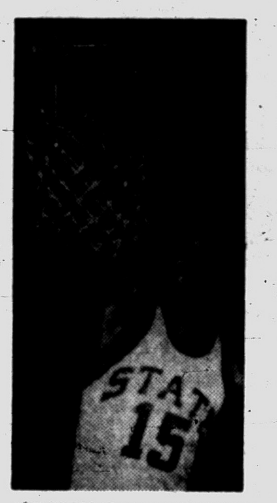

Kramer Leads All UM Statistics

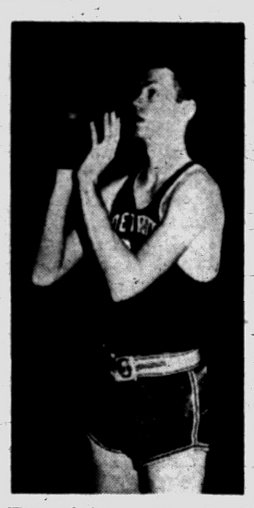

The trio would be complete with "Mr. In-Between" Ron Kramer whose prominence on the gridiron has carried onto the Wolverine basketball court.

Standing 6-3, big Ron has tallied 246 points for an 18.9 average in 13 games thus far. During his days at East Detroit High Ron took scoring honors in the league with a 25-point average, and despite what observers have said about his sticking to football, leaving basketball alone, he now tops every statistical department for UM.

They are the big three of college basketball in Michigan. They may never play together on one team, but that's what dreams are for.

McCoy will have the opportunity to match his abilities against Kramer and Ebben. Tonight he will match baskets at U. of D. with Ebben, and next Monday he and Kramer will meet at Ann Arbor.

BASKETBALL'S BIG THREE — Three of the outstanding players in Michigan college basketball are (left to right) Julius McCoy of Michigan State, Bill Ebben of U of D and Ron Kramer of Michigan. The trio has pumped through 1,000 points thus far this season and their per game averages would total 70 points. McCoy is a senior while Ebben and Kramer are juniors. Both Ebben and McCoy have been among the nation's top scorers since the start of basketball season.

Slalom Star Fails in Bid

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—America's Andrea Mead Lawrence, who failed in bids to retain her Olympic Slalom and giant slalom championships of 1952, lost a chance to recoup in the women's downhill race today when she was timed in a slow 1:55.2. This put her behind the leaders in the last of the women's Alpine events of the seventh Winter Games.

2nd Gold Medal

Finn Skier Upsets Soviet

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—Finland's Siiri Ramtanen came from behind on the last leg of the women's 15-kilometer ski relay race to bring her country an upset victory over Russia today in the Winter Olympics.

Russia was second, Sweden third and Norway fourth.

* * *

The United States did not enter the race, in which three skiers each race 3 miles, 188 yards. The total distance is 9 miles, 564 yards.

Finland was timed in 1 hour, 9 minutes and 1 second.

Russia led at the 10-millimeter check point and it was in the final leg that the small, sturdy Finnish Miss took over. She sped through the Ampezzo Valley in 23 minutes, 19 seconds to give her tiny nation its second gold medal in the games.

* * *

Finland's first victory was scored last Thursday by Veikko Hakulinen in the men's 30-millimeter cross-country race.

Russia has captured four gold medals thus far. Finland's second ties her with Austria and Sweden.

Poland was fifth, Czechoslovakia sixth, Germany seventh, Italy eighth and Yugoslavia ninth. Romania's last skier quit.

* * *

In the final lap, the blonde Miss Ramtanen raced past Russia's Radjja Eroschina and crossed the finish line with a lead of about 100 yards. Miss Eroschina had finished second in the individual 10-kilometer race while Miss Ramtanen was fifth.

Carter's Title Hopes at Stake

CHICAGO (AP) — Jimmy Carter, who has won and lost the lightweight title three times, must prove his worth tonight against classy Cisco Andrade if he hopes to get another shot at the crown.

* * *

The 10-rounder at Chicago Stadium will be the 100th fight for 32-year-old Carter, who has been idle since Oct. 28. It was then that the left-hook specialist from New York failed to regain the 135-pound championship from Wallace (Bud) Smith in Cincinnati.

* * *

Carter, an 8-5 favorite over his Compton, Calif., foe, first won the title from Ike Williams. He lost it to Lauro Salas, regained it again, lost it to Paddy DeMarco, and again recaptured it in a rematch. He lost it for the third time to Smith.

ABC will telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

MSU, Titans Meet Tonight

Full House of 9,000 Seen for McCoy-Ebben Scoring Duel

DETROIT (INS) — The 1955-56 basketball season has been somewhat of a disappointment for coach Bob Calihan and the University of Detroit but a victory tonight over Michigan State would brighten the Titan cage picture considerably.

* * *

The largest crowd of the campaign — an estimated 9,000 fans — will be on hand at the U. of D. memorial building when the opening whistle is sounded at 8:15 tonight.

The Spartans are fresh from a Big Ten victory over Ohio State and its All-American forward Robin Freeman. MSU's Julius McCoy flipped in 40 points in the 94-91 win at East Lansing Saturday.

However, Detroit is not without a marksman of its own. Junior forward Bill Ebben holds a 25-point average for 17 games, of which the Titans have won 10. State's record is 8-4.

On the sidelines will be a couple of old navy buddies, Detroit's Bob Calihan and MSU mentor Forddy Anderson. Both were teammates on the 1941 Great Lakes quintet.

Chiefs Enter 2 Relay Teams in AAU Event

Half-Mile, Mile 4-Man Squads to Run at Ann Arbor

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac High School's state championship trackmen will swing into action Friday night for the 1st time in the 1956 season. Coach Wally Schloerke's mile and mile relay squads take the Michigan AAU championships in the big University of Michigan Yost Field House in the beginning of what promises to be another fine year.

Schloerke has entered Hayes Jones, Charley Robinson, Freeman Watkins and Charley Spahn for the 880-yard event. This is the same quartet that ran together in the 1955 season, with the exception of Jones. Hayes, all-around star, runs in the anchor spot filled last year by Willis Wilson. Little Alex Barge, sensational high jumper, is the team's alternate.

Other teams in the prep section include Lansing Eastern, Sexton, Ypsilanti, Flint Northern and possibly Ann Arbor.

After Friday's 1st test, Chief thinclads are looking forward to a possible trip to the important Mansfield O. relays, April 20. Flint Northern has run in that event a number of times and observers feel Chiefs could do well there.

In Friday's college section full teams from University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Purdue, Notre Dame, Iowa, Loyola of Chicago, Wheaton, Michigan Normal (Ypsi) and Miami of Ohio are listed, Schloerke says.

DIES—George (Buck) Weaver, famous third basemen for Chicago White Sox from 1912 through the "black sox" scandal of 1920, died in Chicago. He was 64. Police found him on a South Side street after he was stricken by a heart attack apparently.

Michigan Teams in Action Again

Cage Squad Engages in Non-Loop Contest on Saturday

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan teams get back in competitive stride this weekend after the "blue book" intermission between semesters.

* * *

Michigan's basketball team picks up its schedule with a non-conference battle Saturday night against Washington University of St. Louis. Then they face three of the top four Big Ten teams, Illinois, Indiana and Purdue.

The Wolverine hockey squad is out of action until it meets Colorado College next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Michigan's wrestlers meet Purdue tomorrow, while the gymnasts, led by rangy Ed Gagnier, a sophomore, take on Northwestern and Navy Pier at Chicago on Saturday.

Boilermakers of Purdue will also test the Wolverines in swimming, leaving only one more home meet before workmen can begin enlarging the pool.

First track meet of the season will pit the Wolverines against the best the state has to offer in the annual Michigan AAU meet tomorrow. Starting time has been pushed up to 1 p.m., because of the growing field of entrants.

George Weaver Collapses on Chicago Street

Former Chisox Star Was Figure in Old Blacksox Scandal

CHICAGO (AP) — George (Buck) Weaver, former Chicago White Sox third baseman who maintained to the end his innocence in the Black Sox baseball scandal, died yesterday at the age of 64.

* * *

Weaver fought a losing cause through the years in attempting to clear his name of charges that he and seven other Sox players conspired to throw the 1919 World Series to Cincinnati for $100,000.

Weaver hit .300 for the Sox in 1917 and .296 in 1919—both pennant years—and .333 in 1920, In the 1919 series, Weaver had 11 hits in 34 at bats for a .324 average and scored four runs. He played errorless ball in the field, making nine putouts and 18 assists.

Weaver and the seven other Sox players were acquitted by a jury in Chicago in August 1921 of charges of conspiring to throw the series.

* * *

Nevertheless, all were barred from baseball by Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis.

The other Sox players involved were Joe Jackson, Oscar (Happy) Felsch, Eddie Cicotte, Claude (Lefty) Williams, Charles (Swede) Risberg, Chick Gandil and Fred McMullen.

Finished in organized ball, Weaver turned semipro until he finally moved out of the baseball picture. In recent years he had been a mutuel clerk at Chicago race tracks.

Swaps Due to Start in San Marcos Test

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—If Santa Anita's racing strip has dried sufficiently by today's second race, Swaps will make his first start since he was injured last summer in a match race against Nashua.

The Kentucky Derby winner stepped three-eights yesterday in :36 3-5 and Trainer Meshach Tenney was impressed with the workout because Swaps was eager to be turned loose.

Propose Bigger Tax on Betting

Maryland's Governor Asks 2 Cent Raise in State's Cut

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A proposal that 12 cents instead of 10 be taken out of every dollar bet at Maryland's three major horse racing tracks, Laurel, Bowie and Pimlico, was made today by Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

* * *

He asked the legislature to approve the increased tax in order to balance his budget. The governor recommended the state and the tracks split evenly the added two per cent. That would give the tracks 7 per cent and the state 5.

* * *

At the same time, he recommended a one per cent increase, from 12 to 13, on the first two million dollars bet at the four harness tracks with the state keeping all of the added one per cent. The state would take 5 per cent and the track 8 of bets over two million.

Two Players Total 91 in Waterford Cage League

Two players on opposing teams pushed through 91 points between them in the Waterford Recreation Basketball League last night.

Jerry McKay hit on 20 field goals and 11 straight free throws as Beattie scored an 83-71 win over Johnson & Anderson. For the losers Joe Umphrey made 17 field goals and six charity tosses in scoring 40 points.

In the other game of the evening Clarkston Merchants stayed in a first place tie with Drayton by whipping Manny's 81-53. Howard Liverance led Clarkston with 23 points.

Diminutive Geese Visit State Areas

During the late season migration flights of wildfowl, state Conservation Department observers noted an unusual visitor. Numbers of the diminutive white-cheeked (Richardson or Hutchins) geese were shot by hunters, who were puzzled as to their identities. Weighing about four pounds they are about half the size of the average Canada honkers, although looking like a small version of the Canadas.

Two Pontiac Boxers Stay in PH Tourney

Larry Lamphere (160 pounds) came back after a knockdown to knock out Joe Walker (PH). He boxes twice Saturday (if he gets to finals). Jim Nickerson (welterweight) drew a bye, and goes to the title round against the defending champion.

Dave Blower (118) lost a good fight to Gene Little (PH) and Bob McDonald (welter) bowed to Gene Little (PH) in an unpopular decision, Pontiac handlers report.

Highland Park St. Benedict's basketball team was a "hot item" when it invaded the Pontiac High School gymnasium last night for a return match with St. Michael.

Art Massucci's Bens were tied with Orchard Lake St. Mary for 1st place in the Suburban Catholic League. They were hoping to avenge an earlier 41-37 loss to St. Mike, which had been their only loop setback.

* * *

The Mikes are now deadlocked with St. Ben and Royal Oak St. Mary for 2nd position, a half game behind front-running Orchard Lake which was idle last night.

* * *

Displaying sharp passing and sound ball handling, the Shamrocks decisively outplayed the Bens and only their inability to capitalize on good scoring opportunities kept them from winning by a greater margin. They also demonstrated good ball control, especially in the game's late stages.

The Ravens were confronted by an almost impenetrable defense which repeatedly forced them to fire from long range and with little accuracy. In only a couple of instances were they able to move under the basket for layups.

* * *

St. Mike jumped into the lead at the start and held the advantage all the way. The Ravens couldn't tally a point until four and a half minutes had elapsed and they trailed at halftime, 20-14. The Mikes steadily widened the gap in the last half.

The Shamrocks showed a well-balanced attack with John Keller netting 14 points to lead the way. Larry Gackl toppped the Ravens with 13 points.

Gets Senate Okay

Kentucky Track Tax Free

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) —Keeneland race course has won its fight, with the solid support of Democratic Gov. A. B. Chandler, to have Kentucky's parimutuel tax taken off wagering at the track near Lexington. The tax there has yielded the state an estimated $300,000 a year.

* * *

The state Senate voted 25-12 last night to exempt nonprofit Keeneland's horse race betting from the tax. It had been exempt before the levy was clamped on by the 1954 legislature during Democratic former Gov. Lawrence Wetherby's administration. That General Assembly also had boosted the tax from 3 per cent to 4 per cent on the first $18 million bet annually at a Kentucky track and 6 per cent on all above $18 million.

The House previously had approved the Keeneland bill, 54-35, and if now goes to Chandler, who took office Dec. 13, for signing into law.

Best Record for 49ers — The 49ers' best National Football league showing up to the 1955 season was 9-3 for a second place rating in the loop's second division.

Rookie Slugging First Baseman

Bouchee May Be Answer to Phillies' Long Search

(This is the 13th of a series of articles dealing with the rookie prospects of Major League baseball teams written by Associated Press baseball expert Joe Reichler. Today he scans the Philadelphia Phillies.)

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Bouchee, a 22-year-old rookie who never played higher than Class A ball, may be the answer to the Philadelphia Phillies' long search for a slugging first baseman.

* * *

The 6-foot, 200-pounder, who batted .313 at Schenectady, N. Y., a Phillies' farm club in the Eastern League, is the best regarded of 18 newcomers who will be given a chance to make the regular squad at the Phillies' training camp in Clearwater, Fla., next spring. Bouchee comes well recommended. A left-handed hitter, he slammed 22 home runs, drove in 107 runs and led the circuit with 40 doubles.

* * *

Eight of the remaining newcomers are pitchers. General Manager Roy Hamey, who recently returned from a 16-day visit to Havana and Puerto Rico, was encouraged by the showing of several of the pitching hopefuls. He was enthused loudest over Jim Owens, the 22-year-old curveballer with Mayaguez in Puerto Rico. Owens won 15 games at Syracuse last season, and led the International League with 161 strikeouts. But his failure to win a place with the Phillies in the spring proved a source of disappointment.

* * *

"He's really doing well," said Hamey. He was leading the league in strikeouts and he seemed to have regained his control. He looked in good shape, too. The trouble with him last spring was that he was overweight."

In Cuba, Hamey saw Seth Morehead. The 21-year-old southpaw who received a reported $50,000 for signing with the Phillies a few years ago, won 8 and lost 13 at Syracuse last year but struck out 115 in 161 innings and looked like a comer.

* * *

"He showed me some good signs," Hamey said. "The people I talked to about him spoke well of him. He's only 21 and I don't know whether he'll be ready this year, but he can't be far away."

Lynn Lovenguth, who stayed up for a while last year, is back again after a 15-8 record and 2.34 earned run average at Syracuse. Hamey likes the fact that he struck out twice as many as he walked and turned in four shutouts. He also completed 12 games in 16 starts.

* * *

Southpaw Floyd Ross was purchased from Chattanooga, where he had a 10-13 record and Marion Pieretti, 34-year-old righthander was obtained from Sacramento where he was 19-15. This is the same fellow who was drafted by Washington back in 1945 and lasted about six seasons in the American League. Pieretti, who walked only 73 in 293 innings on the Coast, is slated for relief work.

* * *

Tom Qualters, who was 8-8 at Reidsville last season after sitting out two years with the Phils because of bonus restrictions, is back. So is Angelo LiPetri, 11-6 at Schenectady, and Gene Snyder, a hard-throwing young lefthander who was 10-11 at Reidsville, 1-6 at Schenectady and 1-2 at Syracuse. The youngster fanned 111 in 80 innings at Schenectady but walked 83. At Reidsville, he struck out 99 but walked 103 in 151 innings.

Baker and Jackson Follow Moore in Heavy Rankings

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Baker and Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, who meet Friday night at Madison Square Garden are ranked No. 2 and No. 3 in the new February boxing ratings in Ring Magazine.

Archie Moore, the light-heavyweight king, also is listed as the No. 1 challenger to heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano. Following Baker and Jackson, in that order, comes Johnny Holman of Chicago who moved up on the strength of his victory over Bob Satterfield. Cuban Nino Valdes was placed fifth.

* * *

Willie Pastrano of New Orleans has been placed among the heavies as No. 6, graduating from the 175-pound class.

Other fights advancing are Milo Savage of Salt Lake City to No. 4 among the middleweights and Ludwig Lightburn of British Honduras to No. 5 among the lightweights.

* * *

A newcomer among the ranks of rated boxers is Paul Jorgensen, University of Houston freshman, who takes the place of Lauro Salas in the featherweight division.

* * *

Braves Wallop Crary for 15th Win in Row

Washington Junior High School's basketball team walloped visiting Isaac Crary yesterday afternoon, 57-28. It was the Braves' 15th consecutive victory and their 2nd verdict over Crary this season.

Harrison Munson scored 20 points and Russ Rentfrow contributed 15 to lead Em Ghianni's cagers. Barry Campbell topped Crary with 10 points.

Washington's 7th and 8th grade teams meet Crary's 7th and 8th grade quintets today on the Brave's court starting at 3:30 p.m.

Lapeer Falls to 1st Defeat

An unheralded Flint Mandeville basketball team upset mighty Lapeer last night at Flint, 49-45. It was the 1st setback of the season for the Panthers after nine wins.

Mandeville's two guards, Frank Fisher and Dave Laferney, accounted for 36 points to spark the surprise outcome. Fisher netted 21 points, 11 of them in the last quarter.

The Panthers blew a six-point lead in the 4th period and four late free throws by the Flint cagers broke a 45-all tie. Tom Wilson and Roger Flanigan were high for Lapeer with 14 and 10 points respectively.

Larry Dorow scored 24 points as Imlay City laced Frankenmuth, 67-54; Jim Ferrier and Jerry Castle each tallied 20 and Jim O'Neill followed with 19 as unbeaten North Branch overwhelmed Kingston for sts 10th in a row, 88-43; and Bob Hutchings made 16 points in Ortonville's losing effort against Flint Dye, 69-38.

NAIA Planning Grid Bowl Tilt

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics plans to get into the football bowl picture soon, and Shreveport may be the site of the first annual post-season game.

* * *

Al Duer, president of the 465-member NAIA, inspected the city's athletic facilities yesterday and said he was "favorably impressed" with the athletic setup and the 33,000-seat stadium on the Louisiana State Fair Grounds.

* * *

Duer emphasized plans for the projected bowl game, presumably matching two of the NAIA's strongest teams for the mythical small-college title, were still in the blueprint stage. But he added he hoped that the event would become an annual fixture.

Southfield, Utica Score Loop Wins

Southfield scored 22 points in the last quarter to trounce Redford Union, 65-45, at Redford Tuesday night. It was the Jays' 7th victory in 11 games.

Southfield reversed its usual pattern of play by taking a 29-22 halftime lead. Union fought back in the 3rd quarter to even the score at 43-all and set the stage for the final uprising. Redford collapsed in the 4th period, making only two foul shots.

Ken Moser was the big gun for the Jays with 20 points and Ray Filar had 17. Don Crenshaw led Union with 14.

Jim Eilersten netted 17 points and Darrel Harper and Dave Richey each made 15 to head Royal Oak's 61-49 conquest of Ferndale on the Acorns' floor. Earl McNeal's 15 points were tops for the Railsplitters.

Utica blasted Eastland in a Bi-County League tilt, 53-33, and Berkley's Bears dumped Hazel Park, 62-50.

Trojans Surprise Leading Grill Five in City Loop

Sparked by Bob Williamson and Mel Karrigan with 19 and 14 points respectively the Trojans put on a stirring last quarter uprising to upset Griff's Grill, 53-52, in Tuesday night's top city league basketball game at Jefferson Junior High.

It was Griff's 2nd National League loss in the adult circuit and cut their loop lead over the runner-up Independents to one game. The Independents gained ground by defeating Phil's Inn, 44-30.

The Trojans scored 17 points in the 4th period to edge the Grill five with Williamson and Karrigan, combining to get 13. Chuck Franklin of Griff's took scoring honors with 20 points.

Merl Taulbee tallied 16 points to pace the Independents' easy triump over Phil's. Gerry Fisher and Al King led the losers with 12 apiece.

In Class D National loop attractions at Eastern the league-leading Meteors swamped Central Christian, 56-18, behind Dick McLaughlin's 19 points, and the Hot Shots bested Pulver Tire, 27-24.

Class D American division action found the Boys' Club decisioning the Spartans, 32-25, and the Lakesiders upending the Lakers, 32-28, for their 1st win of the season.

Tigers Sign Boone at Increased Pay

DETROIT (AP) — Third baseman Ray Boone, who last year tied with Boston's Jackie Jensen for the American League RBI lead, has come to contract terms with the Detroit Tigers.

Although as usual no figures were announced, the Tigers said yesterday Boone was given a "substantial increase" in salary, probably highest on the team roster.

Boone, 32, batted in 116 runs last season while collecting a .284 batting average. He hit 20 home runs.

Jackets Stop Madison, 68-50

OAKLAND "B" LEAGUE

Avondale's basketball team lay like a sleeping giant for two quarters, then exploded with pent-up fury in the 2nd half to stun highly-favored Madison, 68-50, in an Oakland "B" League battle Tuesday night at Avondale.

The setback was a crippling blow to Madison's title hopes. The Eagles now trail loop-leading Fitzgerald by a game and a half after suffering their 2nd loss last night while the pace-setters were smashing Lake Orion, 80-42.

It was the 5th league win in eight games for the Yellow Jackets whose hopes for the runner-up spot soared with the conquest. They trail Madison by just one game.

The Eagles held a 26-18 edge at intermission. After a 14-point opening quarter the Yellow Jackets could manage only four in the 2nd period and seemed headed for a disastrous evening.

* * *

But Avondale was a changed club in the final two stanzas. Dick Bye's cagers poured 27 points through the hoop in the 3rd quarter and added 23 in the 4th to leave the Eagles far behind.

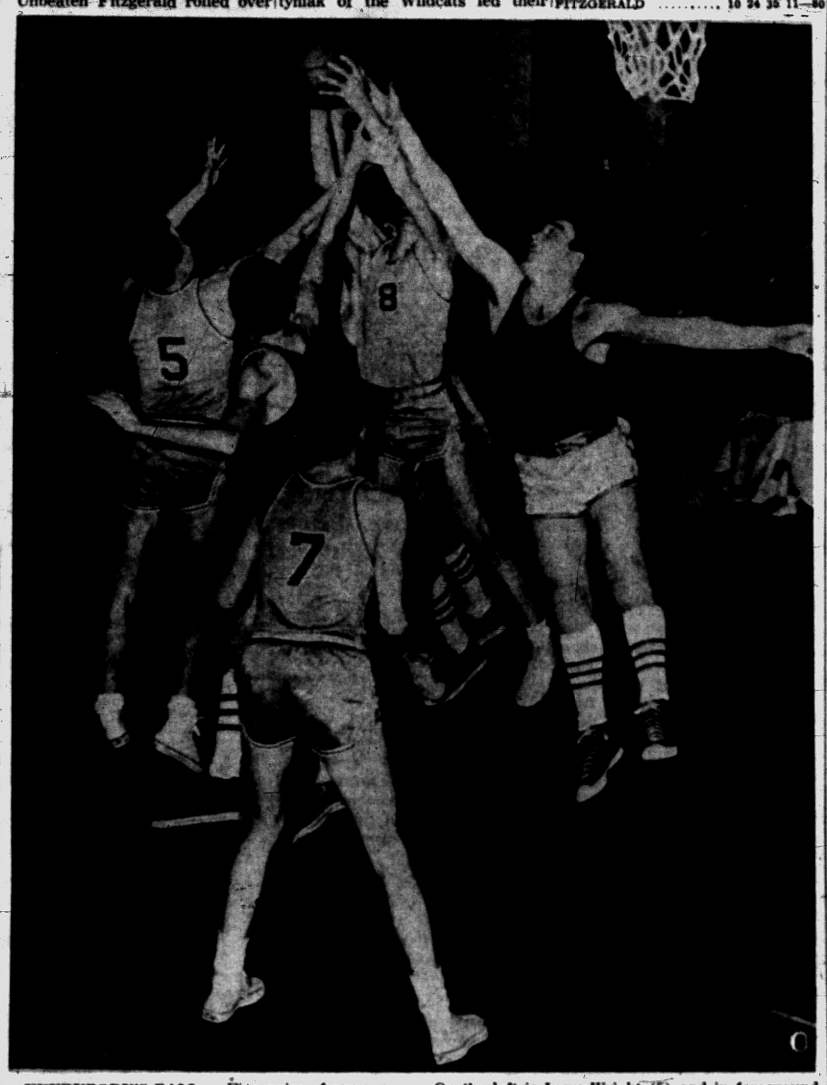

Jerry Paul led the onslaught against bewildered Madison. Paul dumped in 12 field goals and four foul shots for 28 points and teammates Lynn Wright and Larry Herron tallied 15 and 14 respectively. Jim Simer, Eagle scoring ace, was limited to 18 points and Harold Perkins made 11.

Unbeaten Fitzgerald rolled over the winless Dragons for its 7th triumph. Jim Clary meshed 21 points, Norman Pruitt 19, and John Andros 10 to pace the Spartans. Nick Niera was high for Lake Orion with 15 points.

Clawson staged a 2nd-half rally to down Roseville, 53-48, in an Oakland "B" game at Roseville. Clawson's Chuck Mason and Len Martyniak of the Wildcats led their squads with 12 points each. It was the 4th loop win against three reverses for the Trojans.

Davidson and Company Too Much for Rochester

Big Jim Davidson was a one-man gang Tuesday night at Rochester as the Milford High School basketball team spanked Gene Konley's Falcons, 66-55.

Davidson accounted for 33 points, half of his team's total, as the Redskins won their 8th straight decision after a season-opening loss by one point to Waterford.

Bill Dean with 16 points, Jim Van Nocker 12, and Ron LeBarre 10 were high for Rochester. It was the 6th setback in nine starts for the Facons.

Farmington fought off stubborn Clarenceville for a 66-64 win on the loser's floor. The Trojans missed 17 free throws in 25 tries. Don McDonald sparked the winners with 21 points while Darrell Ridling topped the Trojans with 14.

Holly staged a tremendous last quarter uprising but fell short of the mark and bowed to visiting Grand Blanc, 72-68. The losers chalked up 32 points in the final period. Bob Suci paced Grand Blanc with 20 points and George McDaniels hit 13 for Holly.

The sale included the two Dickey farms of 193 and 634 acres, all stock on the farms including 16 broodmares, three foals and the stallions, Bull Brier, Fly Away and King's Stride.

Rams Win SCL Tilt

St. Frederick's basketball team erupted with 22 points in the last quarter to chalk up a 59-42 victory over St. Clement in a Suburban Catholic League game Tuesday night on the St. Fred court.

Gene Wright's cagers found themselves trailing by a 27-26 count at halftime, but they rebounded to grab the lead in the 3rd quarter before burying the hapless visitors in the final stanza.

* * *

Ten points came from the foul line in the 4th period outburst and the Rams connected for 17 charity tosses in 32 tries over the route. Dick Doyon sank nine of them.

Three Rams scored in double figures with Doyon tops on 15 points. Larry Morrow and Wally Quarles each made 10. Nine St. Fred players broke into the scoring column. Dick Daldine led St. Clement with nine markers.

The triumph evened St. Fred's league record at 4-4. It was the 8th loss in a row for the cellar-dwelling Clements.

* * *

Tom Derocher poured in 30 points as the Ram JV's swamped St. Clement in the preliminary contest, 70-47.

Royal Oak St. Mary's Irish stayed in the thick of the SCL race by trimming Hazel Park St. Rita last night at Royal Oak. The score was 49-37.

Jerry Hall scored 18 points and Phil Brzezinski notched 16 to lead the Irish to their 6th league win in eight games. Mike Young's 13 points were high for the lowly Vikings.

'RATS' BY HUNDREDS — Muskrats, literally by the hundreds, provided the huge collection of skins shown above. There are some 512 hides on the stretchers, all taken during the recently closed trapping season. At left is Jim Hanes, summertime golfer of parts, and hunter in the winter. His father, Harry, is at right.

Winter Sideline!

2 Busy Trappers Take 512 Muskrats

With the 45 day state trapping season ending Jan. 15, Jim Hanes and father, Harry, have completed the best year of trapping in their 20 years experience, with a catch of 512 rats and two raccoons. This is the largest catch they have heard of in this area, this year.

Several facts aided in getting such a large catch and they are: ice freezing early and when froze it was clear, enabling one to find "runs" and places of feeding. There was plenty of mild weather for this time of the year causing the muskrats to move more than usual.

First 30 days produced 400 'rats. The season had been extended 15 days because trappers in the lower south portion of the state could not get on the ice in the marshes along the Great Lakes.

Most muskrats were caught in the lakes around Keego Harbor. Some came from the golf courses where they have lakes and streams flowing through them.

Several home owners reported the animals undermining their seawalls. In these cases both trapper and owners benefitted.

"We have experimented with all types of food for bait, and the favorite of all is apples" says Hanes. The muskrat is strictly a vegetarian.

Carcass of the animal is considered excellent for eating. Preparation is the determing factor and many of the largest and finest hotels and restaurants across the country serve these under the name of "Marsh Rabbit."

Price of the skins is between 90 cents and $2.25. Average straight price in a group of this size was around $1.50.

"There is a lot of work connected with this hobby," Hanes says. "Plenty of sleep lost, but lots of fresh air."

20 Wolves on '55 Bounty List

State Pays $176,280 to Hunters Who Took Predators

LANSING—Twenty timber wolves were bountied in Michigan in 1955, all in the Upper Peninsula.

Also, 3,069 coyotes and 24,428 foxes were bountied in 1955. The state paid $176,280 in bounty fees for wolves, coyotes and foxes and and undetermined amount for bobcats in the Upper Peninsula.

Bobcats can be bountied through county sheriffs' offices and the Conservation Department has not yet received a total 1955 figure from these officials.

December also saw 81 coyotes and 1,183 foxes bountied.

The wolves were 10 males and 10 females. Two males, one each from Alger and Delta Counties, were bountied in December to close out the year.

NSSA 4-Gun Award Goes to Mrs. Mandel

From National Skeet Shooting Association secretary, at Dallas, Tex., comes the information that the 1955 NSSA four-gun award for women shooters had been given Mrs. Carola (Leon) Mandel, of Chicago. Mrs. Mandel was one of the top shooters, either men or women, in the two NSSA championships shot at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club here.

The award came on her mark of 3,924x4,000 targets during 1955. Her 12-guage mark was the 1st time that any woman in NSSA history had averaged 99 per cent at 3,000 targets. She compiled a 1,238x1,250, according to Dallas reports.

Pigeons and Corn Borers; About Foxes, Fishing, Too

By JACK PATTERSON

Some time ago we reported that Bennie Dahl, 770 Williams Lake Rd., was making an effort to track down the owner of a racing pigeon which came to rest at the home of John Weber of Francis street. After a considerable amount of correspondence to pigeon organizations in several states, it was learned that the bird came, not from some distant exotic shore, but from nearby Wyandotte, a mere whoop and a holler for pigeons.

Balanced against this rather prosaic climax to the story is the fact that the bird saw fit to change headquarters from Wyandotte to Pontiac, a move we can understand perfectly. We think Mr. Dahl deserves a word of commendation for his perseverence in pursuing this matter to a close.

* * *

If, in driving about the countryside, you should see someone huddled in a windswept cornfield, looking more than anything like an Old World peasant scratching for roots and tubers in a last-ditch stand against starvation, don't feel too sorry for him. Chances are he is either planning a toe-tingling surprise for a fox or collecting cornborers for fish bait, in either of which case he's happy. There's quite a bit of this sort of thing going on these days.

PATTERSON

Foxes are thicker than fleas on a wharf rat in some parts of the county this year, and could take some thinning out without harm. We have never taken sides in the controversy as to whether foxes are indomitable enemies of game birds and should be relentlessly pursued, or whether they are primarily mousers and insect eaters of great benefit to the farmer.

This is over-simplifying the case but is roughly where the line is drawn. Without taking sides we'd like to note that foxes have their place in the scheme of things, as do all predators, and we should hate to see them reduced to the point where they no longer are a familiar scene on our countryside.

Ice fishing took a spotty turn a few days ago and continues that way. But it continues, and that's the important thing. As in other fishing, patience will usually pay off. Some lakes, noted for good fishing and big fish, have proved somewhat disappointing so far this year. Houghton Lake is a good example.

* * *

The big bluegills for which Houghton is famous haven't been coming as fast as they should. Ben Hardesty suggests that perhaps heavy fishing pressure on Houghton's 'gills is beginning to show. That is possible, but Houghton is a big lake and perhaps tomorrow the big ones will come in like sixty.

We have numerous reports of bullheads being taken through the ice recently on local lakes. While not usually thought of as a winter fish, bullheads supposedly like to eat once in a while, too. Come to think of it, we used to take them now and then as a kid while bass fishing through the ice on Pine Lake.

Pike spearing hasn't shattered any records lately, although tip-up users are reporting fair to good success. One easy method to lighten a dark bottom to improve visibility for spearers is to sprinkle oatmeal (uncooked) on the bottom. If the weeds aren't too high it works well.

* * *

Whether the theory that bait fish are attracted and thereby increase the area's interest to pike has any validity, de won't know. But it gives the fisherman something to think about in the long, dark hours in the shanty.

Pheasant Count Best in Years

Thumb Area, Ottawa County Have Biggest Number of Birds

LANSING (AP) — The population of the ring-necked pheasant, Michigan's most popular game bird, is the highest in several years, the state conservation department said today.

Some 530 rural mail carriers counted pheasants for the department's annual survey last December. The department said the mailmen counted more than 21,000 pheasants in 324,000 miles, the highest average in recent years.

The department said there was a higher than usual ratio of hens to male birds, indicating good hunting for the coming year.

Various Acts Readied for Tulip Festival

HOLLAND (AP) — Various acts from barbershop quartets to Dutch Klompen dancing girls are announced for this year's Tulip Time Festival.

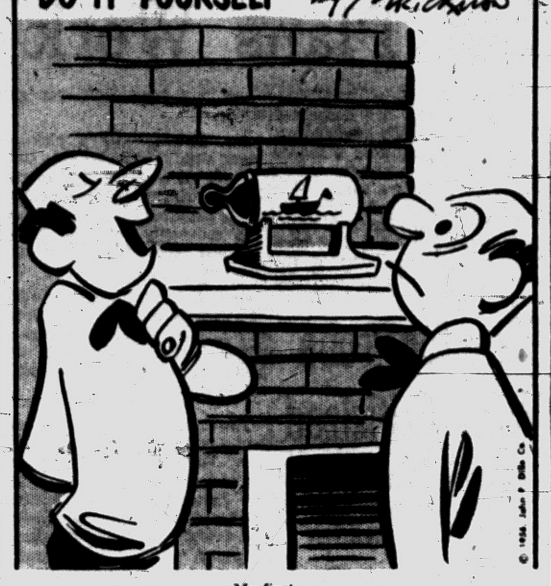

The festival, known throughout the United States as one of the most colorful of its kind, will be held May 16-19.

John J. Riomersma, festival president, said a choral program by church-related college choirs in Michigan and various groups from Michigan State University also will be included in the festivities.

The church choral program will be held May 16 with nine church-related colleges in Michigan taking part.

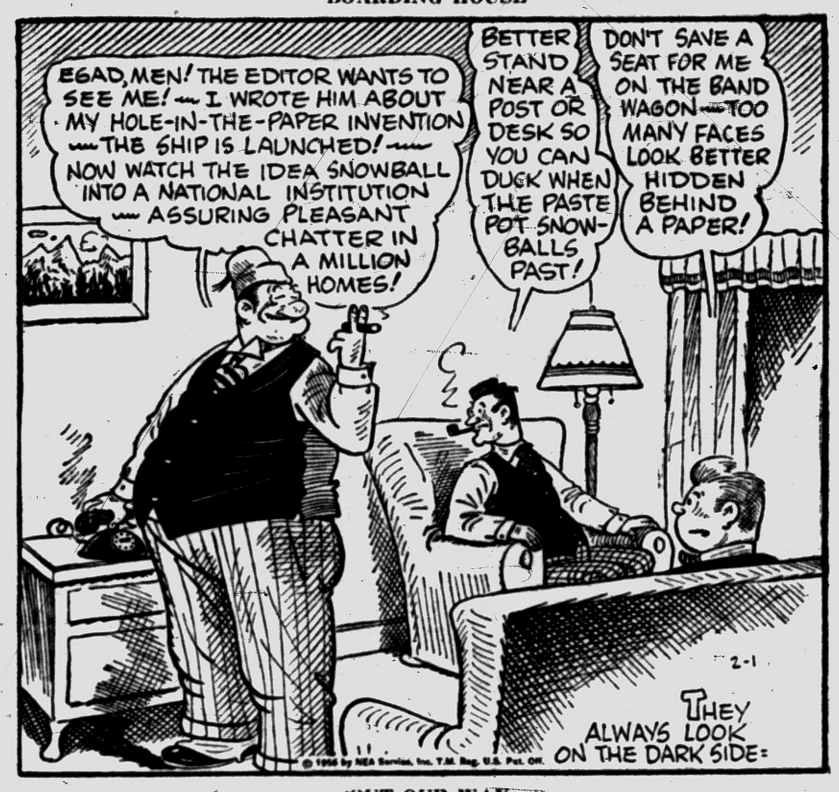

Working-age groups in the United States increased only 3.8 per cent from July 1, 1950 to July 1, 1955 compared with an increase of 19.7 per cent among the children under 14 and people more than 65 years old.

Stocks Continue Cautious Climb

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks edged forward cautiously in the early afternoon today. It was the third consecutive rise for the market, but it wasn't accompanied by very enthusiastic trading.

* * *

Ford Motor was quoted at 64½ bid and 64¾ asked in the over the counter market, a steady range. Ford directors declared an initial dividend of 60 cents a share. Underwriters yesterday comlpeted their distribution of the stock and dissolved the syndicate. The stock dipped briefly and then returned to 64½.

* * *

The stock market since the first of the year has been declining. It hit bottom a week ago Monday, and since that time it has been going up in a hesitant manner. Many brokers believe this air of indecision about the market should continue until the President's intentions about a second term are known.

Sister Saves Brother From Hangman's Death

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Two-year-old Bobby Basselman is nursing nothing more than rope cuts and burns today after almost hanging himself from the basement ceiling while playing Monday.

Bobby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Basselman of nearby Sister Lakes, climbed upon a card table in the basement and playfully wrapped the end of a clothesline around his neck.

Grains Become Highly Irregular

CHICAGO (AP)— Conflicting influences produced a highly irregular grain market on the Board of Trade today. Dealings were active.

* * *

Old crop wheat futures exhibited a firm tone but the new crop months eased. Soybeans dropped for losses exceeding a cent early and then partly recovered. Feed grains were erratic at the start and then firmed under the leadership of corn.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ lower to 1 cent higher, March $2.13¼; corn ⅛ to ¾ higher, March $1.30⅞; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, March 65½; rye unchanged to lower, March $1.25; soybeans unchanged to ¾ lower, March $2.48¾, and lard 7 to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $11.80.

Railroad Ferry Rams Into Dock

Heavy Ice Fog Blamed as Cause of Boat Crash at St. Clair River Pier

PORT HURON (AP) — The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway's 386-foot car ferry, Pere Marquette crashed into an old dock on the American side of the St. Clair River today.

* * *

No one was reported injured and the skipper, Capt. W. A. O'Rourke, said the extent of the damage had not been determined.

The skipper said the crash occurred in zero visibility caused by a heavy ice fog. The car ferry was moving slow under instrument check but contents of the freight cars apparently affected the compass which indicated the ferry was in the middle of the river, the skipper reported.

The ferry rode up on the dock from 15 to 20 feet, splintering timbers and lifting the propeller screws out of the water.

The crash occurred about a mile south of the ferry's normal docking place in Port Huron. The splintered dock formerly was used by the Port Huron Coal and Dock Co.

* * *

The C. I. O. shore captain, John Lozon, inspected the ship and said no effort to free the ship from the dock could be made until the fog lifted.

Car Leaves Road; Two Suffer Injuries

Two young men escaped serious injury when their car was totally wrecked in an accident on Auburn Ave. last night.

Delmer McIntyre, 22, of Rochester, suffered cuts on the face and hand. His passenger, Robert D. Mankowski, 20, of 438 S. Paddock had a slight back injury. Both were released after treatment, authorities in Pontiac General Hospital said.

McIntyre's car went out of control and off the road when he clipped the rear of another car while passing, Sheriff's deputies reported.

The other driver, William N. Vigus, 55, of Rochester, was not injured, they said.

The matter was referred to the city manager and the chief of police for further study.

* * *

UM Plans Work in Japan

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan has announced plans for a possible headquarters in Tokyo to coordinate activities among three university study teams and possibly a fourth.

* * *

Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, president of the university, just back from a month-long tour of the Far East, explained the projected plans to a news conference yesterday.

Dr. Hatcher said a plan to work with Tokyo's Waseda University on a cooperative course in industrial engineering and nuclear management is now before the university and the International Cooperation Administration (ICA).

He said the university also would like to establish somewhere in the Far East an English-language institute for Oriental students who plan to attend the U.S. universities and colleges.

* * *

Two university teams are currently working with the Japanese.

Dr. Thomas Franis Jr., evaluator of the Salk polio vaccine, and Dr. James V. Neel, a geneticist of the Institute of Human Biology and associate professor of internal medicine, are making heredity studies of atom bomb victims in Japan.

NO STATE FUNDS

A field study group of university researchers is making sociological studies south of Tokyo. Dr. Hatcher said a sort of headquarters, located probably in Tokyo, might be needed to coordinate the activities and act as branch office for university personnel.

None of the money needed for these activities, Dr. Hatcher said, would come from state funds. All of it would be provided either by scientific foundation or ty the by scientific foundation or by the federal government.

Dr. Hatcher completed the trip to Manila, Hong Kong, Taipei, and Tokyo. It was made partly as a final inspection of the Univversity mission at the University of the Phillippines where Michigan educators under an ICA contract have been teaching public administration.

The four-year technical cooperation contract ends June 15. The ICA said the project was "immensely successful." Under the program more than 4,000 Filipinos were trained in American methods of public administration.

Sums for Probe Work Criticized

Ellender Says Groups Asking 'Unconscionable' Amount for Inquiries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) said today the Senate Judiciary Committee is asking an "unconscionable" sum—more than a million dollars—to conduct investigations this year.

There was no immediate comment from Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa), who heads that committee.

* * *

Ellender commented in an interview on the heels of a Senate Republican Policy Committee announcement that it will seek to curb investigations by this Democratic-controlled session of Congress.

* * *

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), policy committee chairman, told newsmen spending for House and Senate investigations will exceed $4,865,000 this year and set a record unless somebody steps in.

Absence of One Juror Delays Grand Jury

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP) — The absence of one juror on a Florida vacation delayed the grand jury's deliberations nearly an hour this morning as it convened to consider murder charges against three Hazel Park youths in the slaying of a Wapakoneta tavern keeper Jan. 24.

Court attaches said apparently a clerical error resulted in failure to officially notify Mrs. Oral Schneider of the jury's special session. Louis Herbst of Wapakoneta was selected to replace her.

The court indicated the jury probably will not complete its study of the case against the trio until tomorrow. They are Bernard H. Harris, 19, James D. Thornton, 20, and Pvt. Willie R. Thomas, 20. They have pleaded innocent in the holdup slaying of Charles Stolzanbach, 54, the tavern keeper.

Stork, Airliner Arrive at Willow Run Together

YPSILANTI (AP) — A young mother and her newborn baby were reported resting well at Beyer Memorial Hospital here today after the stork interrupted a non-stop American Airlines flight from New York to Chicago.

Flying over Michigan yesterday, the pilot radioed Willow Run Airport he would make an emergency landing because one of his passengers was about to give birth to a baby.

* * *

The airline declined to identify the mother. They said she was not married.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS)—Kennecott Copper Corp. reports net income for the year ended Dec. 31 of $125,615,418, equal to $11.61 a common share. This compared with $77,906,288, or $7.20 a common share, in the preceding year. Operating revenues increased to $548,265,990 from $423,842,404 in 1954. The sharp rise in earnings reflected higher prices for copper during the year.

NEW YORK (INS—Johns Manville Corp. has announced net income for the year ended Dec. 31 of $23,511,183, equal to $7.37 a common share. This compared with $16,658,586, or $5.24 a common share in the preceding year. Sales increased to $284,741,498 from $253,151,584 in 1954. Total asbestos production from the firm's Canadian mines reached a record 592,000 tons in 1955, the firm disclosed.

NEW YORK (INS)—National Biscuit Co. reported net income for the year ended Dec. 31 of $18,276,751, equal to $2.59 a common share. This compared with $19,911,929, or $2.85 a common share, in the preceding year. Sales increased to $389,628,256 from $376,393,292 in 1955. George H. Coppers, president, blamed the decline in earnings on heavy expenses incurred in launching a new line of cake mixes and in changing the distribution system for the company's cereals and pet foods.

ST. LOUIS (INS)—International Shoe Co. has announced net income for the fiscal year ended Nov. 30 of $10,414,006, equal to $3.10 a common share. This compared with $10,207,110, or $3.01 a common share in the preceding year. Sales increased to $262,413,803 from $246,764,550 the year previous. Byron A. Gray, chairman, noted that price increases put into effect Oct. 1 had little effect on fiscal 1955 earnings, but "should improve our margins" in 1956.

Oil Lies Beneath Surface of High-Level Discussion

NEW YORK (AP)—Oil is the big factor underlying the talks of President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Eden this week over what to do about the Russian threat to the Middle East.

* * *

There is keen rivalry between American and British companies operating in the Middle East.

Western Europe relies more and more on Middle East oil to meet its fast-growing demand for power to run its industries.

And Russia doubtless eyes the area with keen interest—not only as a peacetime prize but also because military experts believe that Middle East oil might prove a prime essential to her in another world war.

Western Europe, which once looked to the Western Hemisphere for most of its oil, now gets about four fifths of its supply from the Middle East. If this should be cut off, either by Communist penetration or by war, Western Europe would be hard put to find a quick alternate source.

American companies profit richly by their peacetime output in the Middle East. But if the source should be cut off by war, the United States could get by easily through speeding up its own production (now held back by state regulations) and by importing more from Venezuela and other Western Hemisphere oil fields.

It's the peacetime development of the Middle East that interests American oilmen most directly. They have rich oil concessions there. And they have been building pipelines to get oil to the Mediterranean, expanding their oil tanker fleets, and putting up refineries in England and on the Continent to feed the fast-growing demand of European industries for power and European motorists for gasoline.

Westinghouse, Union Chiefs Capital Bound

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government prepared to prod top negotiators today to redouble their efforts to end the 109-day Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike.

* * *

Labeling the work stoppage "intolerable," Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, summoned company and union leaders from Pittsburgh to Washington.

* * *

Finnegan said he planned to "review the whole sutiation" at a talk with Robert D. Blasier, Westinghouse vice president, and James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

* * *

The strike, idling about 55,000 workers, is one of the longest major walkouts since the end of World War II.

* * *

Issues have been cloudy. Westinghouse has offered a five-year contract, claiming it equals one agreed to last summer by the IUE and Westinghouse's principal rival General Electric.

Automatic Drive Tops Overdrive in Economy

Gasoline economy in automatic transmission operation of motor cars comparable or better than that obtainable with overdrive transmission has been achieved for the 1956 Packard line of luxury cars, Packard-Clipper division officials announced today.

The company reported that a 1956 Packard, equipped with Ultramatic push-button transmission averaged 22.2 miles a gallon of gasoline while another Packard, equipped with overdrive for test purposes, averaged 21.6 miles per gallon, during a 10,000-mile economy test conducted at the Packard Proving Grounds in Utica.

Eisenhower's Name Is Placed in Minnesota Primary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen Thye (R-Minn) announced he is entering President Eisenhower's name today in the March 20 Minnesota primary "confident that he will be a candidate for re-election."

* * *

This followed by a day the statement by Republican Gov. George N. Craig of Indiana that he is willing to "take the responsibility" for filing Eisenhower's name in the May 8 Indiana primary. There are differing opinions as to whether a candidate's consent is required there.

Craig predicted after a White House visit yesterday that Eisenhower will be a candidate "if his health is sufficient."

* * *

Thye predicted in a statement that Eisenhower will be re-elected by a "landslide vote." He said the President has "breathed new life and has injected hope and faith in a sagging world."

* * *

NO OBJECTION

Eisenhower is due for a new physical examination between Feb. 10 and 15 to check on his recovery from a Sept. 24 heart attack. Thus he may announce before Feb. 25 whether he will seek a second term.

He entered no objection when his name was filed, without formal consent, in the New Hampshire and Illinois primaries. But he has stressed that his lack of assent or dissent does not mean he has made a decision on whether to seek re-election.

* * *

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), who says he is uncertain about what Eisenhower will do, told a reporter the President is a vigorous participant in weekly conferences with GOP congressional leaders.

"The President looks a little thinner than he used to," Bridges said, "but he seems to have the same zip and zest he always had in attacking the problems that confront us."

IN LOVING MEMORY OF RUTH Lear, who passed away Jan. 29. Today recalls sad memories. Of a loved one gone to rest. And those who think of her today Are the ones who loved her best. Mr. Lear & daughter, Mrs. P. M. Thomas.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY beloved husband Earl Blower who passed away January 28, 1953.
Always so true, unselfish and kind
Few in this world his equal you'll find
A beautiful life that came to an end
He died as he lived everyone's friend.
Sadly missed by his wife Margaret and sons Hank, Bill, Tom, Bob and David and daughter Mrs. Dorothy Hampshire.

$64,000 Panel Program Will Make Its Bow March 18

'Big Surprise' Creates Ill Will

Viewers Kept Outside During the Spectacular 'Inside Beverly Hills'

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—The $64,000 panel program will finally get going March 18 when it replaces "Appointment With Adventure" for the same sponsor . . . Gino Pazo will be aboard . . .

You can bet us "The Big Surprise" will get off the hook Saturday by giving young George Wright easy enough queries to hand him the big cash. The resentment against the show because of its blunder last Saturday is amazing . . .

INSIDE OR OUTSIDE?

It visited a flock of movie stars' homes but all we saw were the doors and fronts, occasionally a swimming pool, one of them even filled with dirt (Harpo Marx). . .

It was presumably presented by NBC-TV to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Beverly Hills . . .

It was a heavy sackful of "names," with some entertainment, but miles and miles and miles of transparently snooty exclusivity . . . We'll bet the insides of the same homes are far warmer.

NBC's "Festival of Music" colorcast was a fabulous jukebox of classical music but couldn't compare in impact with Sol Hurok's previous TV kulture klatch, "Sleeping Beauty" with Margot Fonteyn and the Sadler's Wells Ballet, which had a captivating continuity of performance and story . . .

Tina Louise on the basis of her appearance on "Studio One" has won a bigger role in Sunday's "Appointment With Adventure," with John Casavetes and Betsy von Furstenberg.

HOOVER REPEAT

The NBC-TV "Conversation" with Herbert Hoover, finest of that series of talks with "elder wise men," will be repeated Feb. 26, good news indeed . . .

The Buddy Hackett comedy series (filmed) being offered to sponsors is owned 50 per cent by NBC, 25 per cent by producer Max Liebman and 25 per cent by Hackett.

"People Are Funny" was dropped by British TV for not being funny, but it's not being dropped here though it's just as unfunny . . .

Aubrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer will do an NBC spectacular of "Mayerling" in April for a reputed $100,000 . . .

Jane Wyman's making more cash from TV so she put off her next two theatrical films until '57

'OMNIBUS' FILMS

CBS has packaged a flock of films made for "Omnibus," will add Bill Saroyan as narrator and hopes to peddle same. Included will be the five-part film about A. Lincoln's youth. . .

The "Climax" script Red Skelton starred in last year (we gave it an admiring review) was bought by RKO Pictures for a Skelton movie; it's the third "Climax" script bought by RKO . . .

Italian Cobbler Nails Down Aria on $$$$ Quiz

NEW YORK (INS)—A $55-a-week cobbler, with a remarkable knowledge of opera, last night gave a detailed description of an aria with as much difficulty as half-soling a shoe to win $16,000.

* * *

Michael Della Rocca, smiling and confident, had little soul-searching to do when asked if he was ready to try for more money on the CBS-TV "$64,000 Question." Said the cobbler happily to Hal March:

"Let's play the second act."

March then had an orchestral arrangement of an aria played and asked the Baldwin, N. Y. shoemaker:

The name of the aria, the opera, who sings it, to whom it is sung, who is present when it is sung, what year the opera was premiered, name of the opera house, and in what city.

"For $5 extra, I'll give the month and the date it was premiered." He did—Jan. 14, 1900.

Harriman Asks Top Budget OK

$1.5 Billion in New York Called 'Tight'; He Urges $40 Million Tax Cut

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman asked the Legislature today to approve a record-high $1,501,100,000 state budget, which he called "tight," and recommended an immediate 40-million-dollar income tax cut favoring persons in the lower brackets.

In his budget message, he indicated he would support gasoline tax increases and a bond issue to finance a long - range highway building program.

The governor set aside $508,000,000—more than a third of his entire budget—for education. It represents a rise of $67,400,000, or 15.3 per cent, over last year.

It is the fifth consecutive billion-plus budget in this state. Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Harriman's Republican predecessor, submitted the first three.

To help pay for his proposed boost in spending, Harriman will have revenue of $88,400,000 in excess of what he estimated when he tendered his first budget a year ago.

3 MAIN SECTIONS

The governor broke his budget into three main sections: $786,200,000 for local assistance, an increase of $95,600,000; $534,000,000 for state purposes, a boost of $51,000,000 and $174,500,000 for capital construction, a rise of $26,900,000.

These three total $1,494,700,000, to which Harriman added $6,000,000 from the capital construction fund for "first instance advances" (loans) and $400,000 from the general fund surplus for the state's "rainy day" reserve funds.

* * *

The governor, an "inactive" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, devoted a chapter in his message to proposals for helping people with small incomes.

Sign of Conscience

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The Utah Road Commission got a letter, unsigned, from someone in Butler, Pa., which read: "For stolen road sign." With it was a $5 bill. Officials said most road signs, depending on size, are worth from $2.25 to $50.

Oakland County was established by Proclamation of Governor Lewis Cass Jan. 12, 1819, the Oakland County Planning Commission reports from local history. It was originally divided into only two townships with a population of 300.

Two Young Sisters Die in Burning Home

EAST LOS ANGELES (AP) — Trapped in an upstairs bedroom, two young sisters were burned to death yesterday while their baby sitter tried vainly to rescue them with a ladder.

Dead were Gloria Lujan, 4, and her sister Luisa, 5. The fire started when a can of paint thinner ignited in the kitchen.

* * *

Mrs. Bessie Long, 41, who was watching the children while the mother worked, said she carried a 10-month-old brother, Carlos, to safety. She called for the girls to follow her, she told sheriff's deputies. Instead they ran terrified to an upstairs bedroom.

Mrs. Long tried to climb an outside ladder to the bedroom but the flames repulsed her.

Long Time Coming

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fifteen years ago, John Blackburn, now of Alexandria, had his 17-jewel pocket watch stolen in a Columbus burglary. Yesterday, detectives located the watch in a routine check of pawn shops. Blackburn got it back.

Raids Polio Funds

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Raymond C. Rance, 19, of Grand Haven, waived Justice Court examination Monday on a charge of breaking and entering in the $22 burglary of a Midway school in Spring Lake Township. He was remanded to jail when he failed to post $1,000 bond and will appear for Circuit Court arraignment today. Police said the money was taken from school milk and polio funds.
