Iraq Charges Israel With 2nd Air Attack in 5 Days

By The Associated Press

An Iraqi military spokesman claimed that 14 Israeli jet fighters attacked Iraqi forces in Jordan today. He said the Iraqi troops shot down two planes which crashed in flames in the Syrian Golan Heights, now occupied by Israel.

It was the second Iraqi claim in five days of an Israeli air attack on Iraq's forces in Jordan. Last Thursday Iraq claimed that seven Israeli planes attacked its forces and one was shot down. Israel denied the report, and Jordan reported two Israeli air incursions but mentioned no action.

Baghdad Radio said one Iraqi soldier was slightly wounded in the alleged attack today.

Earlier today Israel announced that two of its jets attacked a Jordanian village south of the Sea of Galilee from which the Israelis said Arab guerrillas fired on an Israeli army patrol.

PATROL FIRED ON

The Israelis said their planes were sent over Jordan shortly after an army patrol was fired on near the border settlement of Neve Ur, nine miles south of the Sea of Galilee. For about 15 minutes the jets strafed the desert Jordanian village of Manslya from which the army said the patrol was fired on.

A Jordanian army spokesman in Amman said the jets dropped napalm on the village. He said there were no casualties but there was damage to farms in the area.

No Israeli casualties were reported. It was the first time Israel has reported a jet attack on Jordan since Jan. 16.

The Lebanese-Israeli border also flared briefly when small-arms fire was directed from Lebanon at the Israeli settlement of Zar'it, 12 miles east of the Mediterranean and a few hundred yards from the border, the Israeli army said.

★ ★ ★

An Israeli spokesman said that the Lebanese fire was returned and there were no casualties in the settlement.

About 100 Arab schoolgirls were injured in the Strip Sunday when Israeli police charged with nightsticks to break up a three-hour riot involving 4,000 girls. The girls were protesting the jailing of three Gaza women convicted by an Israeli court of spying and aiding guerrillas.

★ ★ ★

Newsweek magazine reported Nasser has made a six-point proposal for peace with Israel and hinted he might agree to talk directly with the Israelis. Nasser told the magazine the Arab states would agree to a five-point program if Israel would withdraw from the territory it seized from Jordan, Egypt and Syria in the 1967 war.

Nasser's offer followed the lines of the U.N. Security Council's November 1967 resolution on the Middle East. But Israel refuses to give up the Arab territories — its chief bargaining card — until it has formal peace agreements with the Arab nations and until it negotiates what it considers "recognized and secure borders."

★ ★ ★

Nasser also said Egypt would restore diplomatic relations with the United States, which Egypt broke during the 1967 War, if Washington expressed disapproval of the Israeli occupation.

Levin Aide Elected State Dem Chairman

By JIM LONG

Michigan Democrats yesterday elected James McNeely, former Oakland County poverty program executive director, as their leader for the next two years.

★ ★ ★

The 38-year-old McNeely easily won the victory on the first ballot during the party's state convention at Detroit's Cobo Hall when his strongest opponent, William Hettiger, an aide to secretary of state James M. Hare, withdrew from the race while voting was in progress.

McNeely of Lansing takes over the post from the State Sen. Sander M. Levin of Berkley, who did not seek reelection.

A former schoolteacher, McNeely had been deputy chairman under Levin on the state level and his chief aide when Levin headed the Democratic party in Oakland County.

State Vice Chairman Patti Knox also won reelection on the first ballot.

McNeely won all but 35 delegate votes. Those went to Ron Mardiros of Livonia whose forces persistently held on as they had done during an intraparty feud earlier in the 19th Congressional District caucus.

The prematurely gray McNeely expressed optimism that he could bring together the dissident voices of the party and achieve unity in order to capture control of the Legislature and the governorship in the 1970 elections.

He also suggested expanding of the party's executive committee in order to make room for members of the New Democratic Coalition and other former backers of the Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota.

EARLY TASK

One of McNeely's first jobs in this area will be the 19th District, his own former district, where more than just county boundaries divide the district.

The district is made up of Western Oakland County, including Pontiac, and parts of northwest Wayne County, including the areas Livonia, Plymouth and Northville.

Tensions mounted during the early hours of the caucus over the refusal of Wayne-19th delegates, led by Mardiros to accept a compromise plan recommended by a preconvention credential committee. The plan called for the seating of a slate of delegates from Wayne as well as all those precinct delegates from the Wayne-19th who were in attendance at the convention.

CONGRATULATIONS — James McNeely (right) of Lansing is congratulated by State Sen. Sander Levin of Berkley after being elected chairman of the Michigan Democratic party. McNeely, former executive director of the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity, was deputy chairman before Levin stepped down. ASKING IKE'S ADVICE—President Nixon and former President Eisenhower discuss the Mideast situation in Eisenhower's Walter Reed Army Hospital room last night. Nixon said he also would confer with former President Johnson on the matter.

Hubert Skeptical on ABM Value

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says the Johnson administration approved a U.S. missile defense to "quicken the interest of the Soviet Union" in strategic arms negotiations.

"I have always been skeptical in my own mind about the security value of deploying an ABM (antiballistic missile) system," Humphrey says in an introductory to a report on the missile shield controversy.

"I share the reservations stated by Secretary Robert S. McNamara when he announced the ABM deployment in 1967.

"At the same time, I understood the reasons why the President felt the preparations for a limited deployment might quicken the interest of the Soviet Union in meaningful negotiations on the strategic arms race, provided we place top priority on the urgent necessity of reaching an agreement on the ABM issue," Humphrey stated.

In major pronouncements, mainly by McNamara, the Johnson administration insisted the antimissile defense was designed to guard against the threat of a nuclear-armed Red China in the 1970s.

FIRST STEP?

Critics of the system now being built, the $5.5-billion Sentinel defense, have contended, however, that it is merely first step toward a $40 billion anti-Soviet shield.

Cities' Ills, Mideast Keeping Nixon Busy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called his Urban Affairs Council to another meeting in the White House today as he continued formulating plans to deal with the problems of the nation's cities.

In the first meeting Jan. 23, the eight-man team of Cabinet members and presidential advisers disposed of organizational matters, leaving today's session open to consider substantive issues.

★ ★ ★

The emphasis on urban and other domestic matters, underlined by scheduled visits to the Housing and Urban Development and the Agriculture Department, followed a weekend in which the President spent much time on foreign affairs.

★ ★ ★

The Middle East turmoil prompted him to seek out two former presidents for help.

Nixon last night drove to Walter Reed Army Hospital where he conferred with his old boss, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, for 40 minutes.

After the meeting, Nixon announced that an arrangement had been made so he could discuss similar matters with former President Lyndon B. Johnson. He said his first session with his pedecessor would be by telephone.

Nixon's communications with the former chief executives came amid growing indications that the new administration will soon make its first major policy moves in the area.

FRENCH PROPOSAL

Nixon is said to have decided to accept a French proposal for early talks among great power representatives at the United Nations on ways to break the deadlock in Middle East peace efforts.

He hopes particularly for parallel action by the Soviet Union.

A reply to the Paris government, due to go out this week, is expected to make clear that while the United States sees

Chrysler Buys Orion Twp. Site

The Chrysler Realty Corp. has added another large land parcel to the series of development sites it is buying in Oakland County with the purchase of some 2,500 acres in Orion Township.

Most of the new purchase — about 2,000 acres — formed part of the Wildwood Farms estate of the late William E. Scripps, former president of the Detroit News.

★ ★ ★

The land was sold to Chrysler Realty, a subsidiary of the automotive firm, by Howard T. Keating, developer of the planned community of Keatington which includes the rest of the former estate and which borders the Chrysler acquisition.

Price of the purchase was not disclosed.

A spokesman for the realty corporation said the parcel is south of Clarkston Road between Baldwin and Lapeer roads, surrounding Lake Sixteen and Round Lake.

★ ★ ★

The firm has no immediate plans for development of the property, the spokesman said, but purchased the land "to coincide with the growth of the area."

★ ★ ★

"We still have some 2,000 acres ourselves," Keating explained. "We intend to develop on the same format and with the same facilities as originally planned."

Work was begun on Keatington — conceived as a $250-million "new town" — in 1964, with total development scheduled to take 10 to 15 years.

The vast development is to contain a variety of residences including an apartment complex and townhouses and a private country club and golf course for residents.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler is also owner of two other large parcels in Oakland County, one in Troy and one in Bloomfield and West Bloomfield townships.

'Stadium Would Aid City'

William E. Jackson, executive director of Harambee Inc., says he feels a professional sports stadium in Pontiac would greatly aid in redevelopment of the city.

Pontiac is one of several cities bidding for the facility which would house the Detroit Tigers baseball and Lions football teams. The Pontiac site is near M59 and I-75.

Jackson said:

"As director of a Negro nonprofit housing, redevelopment and rehabilitation corporation whose theme is 'Let us work together,' it is obvious to me that anything can be accomplished with a concerted effort behind it.

'IT WOULD HELP'

"The addition of this stadium would aid concerted efforts to revitalize Pontiac.

"Pontiac has the opportunity to become the hub of the greater metropolitan area; this opportunity can be capitalized upon by attracting new industries and businesses which would aid our growth.

★ ★ ★

3-Inch Snowfall a Commuter Woe

Last night's 3-inch snowfall created a headache for commuters as they hurried to work this morning on slippery, slush-covered street and freeways.

A cloud cover will continue to blanket the area through Wednesday, bringing with it occasional snow.

Tonight's low will fall into the 12-to-18-degree range with tomorrow's high expected to reach the mid-20s.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today 50, tonight 40 and tomorrow 30. Low mercury reading prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 24 degrees.

1-Car Accidents Kill 2 in Area

A Milford man on his way home from a wedding was killed yesterday when the car he was driving went out of control and skidded and bounced off two trees for at least 250 feet in Commerce Township.

In another fatal accident, Mrs. Florence E. Douglas, 57, of 1445 Ranch, Rose Township, was killed at 8:40 a.m. Saturday when the car she was driving went out of control in front of 3154 N. Milford, Highland Township, and struck a tree 58 feet off the road.

★ ★ ★

Deputies said his car was traveling at a "terrific" speed on Commerce Road near Bogie Lake Road at 12:58 a.m.

MISHAP DESCRIBED

Deputies described the accident this way:

Leach's car skidded 183 feet on the roadway as it crossed the center line and went off the other side of the road.

The car hit and leveled a tree, then careened into another tree 31 feet away where the car's back end broke off as it was wrapped around the tree and caught fire. The front part of the car with Leach in it was tossed another 31 feet back onto the road.

Half-Dozen Battles Flare Near Saigon

28 S. Viets Die in Ambush

SAIGON (AP) — Vietcong troops firing from ambush along the banks of a canal cut into two South Vietnamese companies in the Mekong Delta, killed 28 of the government soldiers, and wounded another 15, military spokesmen reported today.

Vietcong casualties were not known.

160 REDS KILLED

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 160 Vietcong and North Vietnamese in the fighting that ranged from 60 miles southwest of Saigon to 37 miles northwest of the capital. Eleven Americans and 31 South Vietnamese were reported killed, and 43 Americans and 30 South Vietnamese wounded.

The two South Vietnamese infantry companies that were ambushed made a helicopter landing into an area of criss-crossing streams and canals and began pushing through the area. Suddenly the Vietcong cut into their ranks with machine guns and small arms from foxholes and bunkers hiden along the canal.

Another 150 government troops were flown into the area to reinforce the two companies of about 300 men, but made no contact with the enemy.

A few miles to the north, other South Vietnamese infantrymen clashed with Vietcong troops in midafternoon yesterday and fought them until after dark. Twenty-one enemy soldiers and three South Vietnamese were reported killed.

The worst U.S. casualties were suffered by troops of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade. They suffered six dead and 20 wounded while trying to root out enemy forces hidden in bunkers along a river bank 22 miles northwest of Saigon.

Black Coalition Formed in City

A new coalition of black leaders was formed in Pontiac yesterday with the avowed purpose of making a more concentrated effort at resolving the city's racial problems.

Meeting at Newman AME Church at 233 Bagley, about 35 persons, representing various organizations and factions reportedly gathered at the request of Rep. Charles Diggs, D-Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The two men said the group's activities are still in the planning stage and that no definite course of action has been adopted. The men indicated they would use as a guideline the report issued last week by the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (MCRC).

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Diggs, a Detroit Negro, indicated he felt the new group will fill a leadership role, around which the community can rally.

SNOW PALACE—Mrs. Dougherty of Kasson, Minn., starts to dig out her driveway and front walk . . . again. The Doughertys' snow problems began when they took a short vacation to attend the Nixon inaugural in Washington. A snowplow removed the white mass from around the house Wednesday, but high winds and more snow combined to create a new mountain of snow.

Dem Post Goes to Levin Aide

The slate, which had been approved at the Wayne-19th convention on Jan. 17, was challenged on the grounds that Mardiros, chairman of the convention, failed to accept nominations from the floor. Mardiros was a congressional candidate in the August 1968 primary.

Mardiros finally accepted the preconvention credentials committee plan after being told by Malcolm G. Dade Jr., staff director of party development for the State Central Committee, that all credentials would be withheld unless he went along with the compromise. The compromise plan was later upheld by the full credentials committee.

A dispute over delegates erupted last week in the 18th District of Oakland County when McCarthy supporters challenged the number of delegates they had to the convention, but the problem was resolved before they appeared before the preconvention credentials committee Friday night.

George Googasian, chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee, presided over the 19th District caucus. "I've attended many meetings," said Googasian, "but I've never stood in front of groups where such explosiveness existed."

APPEALED FOR UNITY

He appealed to the delegates for unity, saying that nothing can be done about "past scars, but we can pull together at the convention."

A number of delegates however, were still angry over the fact that Mardiros' forces had gone into Wayne County Circuit Court Friday in an attempt to get an injunction, it would have prevented the preconvention credentiat's committee from taking any action concerning the Wayne-19th slate. The suit was dismissed.

With little accomplished in more than four hours of caucusing Saturday, the meeting was adjourned until 9 a.m. yesterday for the purpose of electing officers to represent the entire 19th District.

Aldo Vagnozzi of Farmington, editor of the Michigan AFL-CIO News, was reelected chairman of the district, but not without a fight from black civil rights activist Ernest Seay of Pontiac who was placed in nomination by the New Democratic Coalition.

'NOT BEING HEARD'

Losing by a 71 to 54 vote, Seay, 86 S. Marshall, said that he ran as a protest that minority groups "aren't being heard in the 19th District. I had hoped to unite the district."

Following past practice to give voice to Wayne-19th portion and coordinate activities, the first vice chairman was selected from that area. He is Ronald Hecker of Livonia. Rebecca Woods of Pontiac was named second vice chairman.

★ ★ ★

Elected to the state central committee from the 19th District were Mardiros, Mrs. Philip Maggio of Livonia, Otis Lawrence of Pontiac and Mrs. Mary Ann Hampton of Waterford Township.

Birmingham News

Lot Rezoning to Be Aired

BIRMINGHAM — A public hearing is scheduled for 8 tonight at the City Commission meeting on a request to rezone a lot in the East Maple Gardens subdivision (Southeast corner of Yorkshire and Eton) from R2 single-family residential to R5 multiple-family residential.

★ ★ ★

The city's Planning Board recommended denial of the rezoning petition on the grounds that rezoning the property would be extending two-family zoning into a single-family area.

The board also contended that rezoning the property would not be in keeping with the traditional one-family character generally found in Birmingham.

Adjacent property owners have argued that erection of a multiple dwelling would create crowding and parking problems in the neighborhood.

The commission tonight will also review a report filed by the Traffic and Safety board calling for a coordinated program on traffic and safety for the city of Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

The Traffic and Safety Board plans to promote an awareness of traffic and safety through public notices and by placing posters on trash cans, public buildings and parade floats.

★ ★ ★

School administration and PTA groups will be contacted to improve communication between these groups and the Traffic and Safety Board.

A list of guest speakers and films concerning traffic and safety will also be established and extended to all local service organizations.

News Annual Being Printed

By the Associated Press

Our unique news annual, "The World In 1968," is now being printed for you.

★ ★ ★

It's the fifth issue of this "History As We Lived It" project and may well be the most significant of all because of the number and importance of the year's major news breaks. From Nixon's comeback to the Apollo flights, it was a time of unprecedented developments.

★ ★ ★

An out-size, handsome book of 296 page, "The World in 1968" will be packed with dramatic news pictures in color and black and white, and will contaain also a 175-word text. Many of the articles were written by outstanding AP reporters who actually covered the original events.

★ ★ ★

In addition, there is an invaluable appendix recording election results, sports results and other basic reference material.

★ ★ ★

Bound copies of the book will be ready for shipment from Poughkeepsie, N.Y., starting Feb. 24, about the same time as last year.

★ ★ ★

If you have not yet ordered as many copies as you want you should send $3.50 now to "World in 1968" in care of The Pontiac Press. With nearly 100 more newspapers participating in the distribution this year than last, the supply of books may run short. One of the previous issues is already out of print.

Hickel in Battle to Stop Oil Leak

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — As westward winds pushed a spreading ocean oil slick away from southern California beaches, Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel arrived saying he'll do "what has to be done."

"I'm not here making any charges," Hickel said last night after a flight from Washington, "only to do for the general welfare what has to be done." He has been under pressure by conservation groups to halt any damage to wildlife, fish and beaches.

★ ★ ★

Hickel was expected to take charge of the six-day-old battle to cap the undersea well and disperse an estimated 126,000 gallons of floating oil.

Irish Won't Yield Spy's Pal to British

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The Dublin High Court refused today to extradite a 34-year-old Irishman, Sean Bourke, to Britain to face charges that he helped master spy George Blake escape from a London prison.

Judge Kevin O'Keefe ruled that Bourke's offense was political and did not come under the terms of Ireland's extradition agrement with Britain.

Bourke returned to Ireland from Moscow last Oct. 22 and told newsmen he had helped Blake break out. Blake was serving a 42-year sentence for spying for the Russians.

HHH Skeptical About ABM

Time and again, Humphrey spoke of the Soviet nuclear threat while making only one passing reference to Red China's "overt hostility."

★ ★ ★

For his part, Humphrey said new emphasis ought to be put on ironing out an arms limitation pact with the Soviets, rather than escalating the strategic race with more and fancier offensive and defensive weapons.

Humphrey said Johnson got conflicting advice on antimissile capabilities and limitations, and President Richard M. Nixon will inherit the same situation.

"He will receive, as we did in the Johnson administration, directly conflicting testimony from his scientific advisers as to the capability of the proposed antimissile defenses; and he will receive conflicting intelligence estimates as to the Russians' capability to penetrate our defenses, or shield themselves against our nuclear missiles."

Sentinel has offensive aspects in addition to its defensive role, Humphrey said.

"The Russians will certainly recognize such an offensive potential, as we did when a rudimentary missile defense system was deployed around Moscow several years ago."

Federal Courts' Backlog Huge

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report sent to the attorney general today showed that the backlog of civil and criminal cases pending in U.S. district courts at the end of the last fiscal year stood at a record 97,245.

The report, prepared by the Administrative Office of the U.S. Court, said the backlog rose 71 per cent from 1955, although the number of cases filed remained "relatively stable."

★ ★ ★

As part of his fight against the rising tide of crime in the country, President Nixon has called for more federal judges and prosecutors in order to dispose of the cases faster.

★ ★ ★

A companion report by the Judicial Conference of the United States also expressed concern about congested court calendars and suggested in addition to more judges:

- A careful and thorough analysis of the inventory of pending cases.
- Notification to defense lawyers of the need to complete trial preparations as promptly as possible.
- Stronger judicial control over requests for continuance.

1968 BACKLOG

The Administrative Office report indicated the backlog at the end of fiscal 1968 consisted of 14,763 criminal cases pending and 82,482 civil suits.

The median time in which a defendant may expect to get a jury trial, according to statistical data in the report, is 5.8 months. This varies from a high of 22.7 months in the Eastern District of New York to 1.4 months in the Western District of Kentucky.

The median time a criminal suspect awaits jury trial in the Nation's capital is 10.1 months. Even those pleading guilty wait a median time of 8.8 months to admit their offense, according to the survey.

Defense lawyers and U.S. attorneys generally consider 4 to 6 weeks as a maximum that a person should await jury trial.

Shaw Trial Lacks Alternate Jurors

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The prosecution and the defense had a fresh list of 150 names today to tap for two alternate jurors for the presidential assassination conspiracy trial of Clay L. Shaw.

Both sides finally agreed on a jury of 12 men Saturday, then failed to agree on the alternates.

Asst. Dist. Atty. James Alcock, the No. 2 man in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's probe of an alleged New Orleans-based conspiracy to assassinate President John F. Kennedy, said he hoped to make his opening remarks on Tuesday.

The prosecution has declined to state if it planned to link the alleged conspiracy and the November 1963 assassination. Judge Charles Halleck of General Sessions Court in Washington gave Garrison until Wednesday to make clear his effort to link the two if Garrison expected him to declare the Kennedy autopsy record relevant to the trial.

Garrison seeking a court order for the record to be released, maintaining it would help back up his claim that Kennedy died in a crossfire, instead of being slain by Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, as the Warren Commission said.

Death Claims Boris Karloff, 81; Portrayed Frankenstein Monster

LONDON (AP) — Boris Karloff, who portrayed Frankenstein's monster in the movies and starred in a host of other horror films, died in a hospital near London yesterday of a respiratory ailment. He was 81.

His widow said Karloff caught a chill in New York on his way home from California in November. He entered the King Edward VII Hospital at Midhurst after his return to London and had been there ever since.

Karloff had been an actor for 58 years and made more than 130 movies. He made his debut with a touring company in British Columbia in 1910 and his last movie last year in Britain.

A gentle, courteous Englishman despite the guise he presented in so many films, Karloff and his wife in recent years lived in an apartment in London's Chelsea district and in a cottage near the British capital. Although long a resident of Hollywood, he never gave up being a British subject and returned to Britain to live in 1959.

He was a polished performer who received critical acclaim for his 1956 Broadway role as a bishop in "The Lark," French playwright Jean Anouilh's saga of Joan of Arc. Karloff called the Broadway role "the high point of my career as an actor."

Karloff's Hollywood career began in 1919, but it languished until 1931 when he landed the role of Frankenstein's monster.

He played the lumbering tall-browed creature in only three films, but they set the standard for hundreds of movie chillers.

His non-Frankenstein roles were in such equally spooky movies as "The Mask of Fu Manchu," "Voodoo Island," "The Body Snatcher," "Isle of The Dead," and "Stranglehold."

Domestic, Mideast Problems Are Keeping Nixon Busy

hope in consultations with the Soviet Union, Britain and France its primary purpose is to move off dead center the U.N. peace-seeking efforts of Swedish Ambassador Gunnar Jarring.

In a related move, Nixon will send a friendly message to Gamal Abdel Nasser in the near future, replying to a note of congratulation he received from the Egyptian President.

His note will indicate that if Nasser wishes, as reported, to propose resuming diplomatic relations with the United States he will find Nixon responsive.

Nixon also has set in motion a plan to visit several Western European capitals in the next two months and confer with allied government chiefs.

A meeting with Soviet leaders is not being considered at this time, although the President hopes to visit Moscow later on.

NONPROLIFERATION TREATY

He plans to send to the Senate this week a recommendation for early approval of the treaty to block the spread of nuclear weapons.

★ ★ ★

The United States signed the pact last year, but Senate approval and final U.S. ratification were delayed after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August.

★ ★ ★

Nixon is also actively interested in starting technical talks with Moscow on limiting the deployment of nuclear missiles.

★ ★ ★

Nixon discussed the Arab-Israeli conflict with his top military and diplomatic advisers in a three-hour meeting of the National Security Council Saturday.

3 Orphaned by Fire to Stay Together

ATTICA (AP) — Three Lapeer County children, orphaned by a fire which killed seven members of their family, will "stay together," if their grandparents have their way.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartwell of St. Clair Shores were summoned by police after the tragedy Saturday which clamied the lives of Raymond W. King Sr., 41; his wife, Alice, 32, and five of their eight children.

The only survivors, Raymond Jr., 16; James, 11, and Candy, 2, were taken to their grandparents' home in St. Clair Shores.

Hartwell, a bonded guard at a Ford Motor Co. plant, said he plans to keep the children "on a temporary basis until arrangements can be worked out. They have six aunts and uncles on our side of the family alone.

"I expect them to stay together, though," he said.

HEATER BLAMED

State fire investigators said an electric heater being used to thaw frozen water pipes apparently started the fire which destroyed the King family trailer near Attica.

Killed with their parents were Allan, 13; Mildred, 10; Charles, 8; Diane, 7; and George, 6.

State Fire Marshal John Saltery said the heater had apparently ignited straw packed under the trailer, and the blaze quickly engulfed the entire mobile home.

Raymond Jr. told police he had been awakened by smoke, picked up his young sister and carried her to safety in the family car parked nearby. He said he then ran to wake a neighbor.

CRAWLED OUT WINDOW

Sheriff's deputies said the trailer was "a complete loss, as were all its contents. The children who escaped had just the clothing on their backs and the little one didn't even have that."

Youth Is Slain at N.Y. Theater

Movie Dealing With Racial Strife on Bill

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A 17-year-old white youth was beaten to death Sunday night in the second balcony of a half-filled downtown theater featuring a film that deals with racial violence.

The theater is in a predominantly Negro neighborhood.

Police did not release the identity of the victim immediately. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the Albany Medical Center Hospital.

The film—"Uptight"—was not running at the time of the attack. The audience was watching a second feature, about skydivers, frogmen and commandos. A later showing of "Uptight" was canceled after the 9 p.m. incident.

A youth who said he was with the dead boy told police the victim was struck on the head with what might have been a pipe during a scuffle.

Police stopped questioning by newsman of the three companions and held them as material witnesses.

Police closed the Palace Theater about 10 p.m.—before the second screening of "Uptight." Customers milled about the lobby and sidewalks following the closing, demanding their money back.

Theater officials offered ticket stubs as a refund or "rain check," but several patrons demanded cash.

Deputy Police Chief Edward McArdle, who directed about 20 police at the scene, declined to comment on whether any suspects had been arrested or on what exactly happened in the balcony.

Defective Corvair Blamed

Mishap Victim Wins $420,000

ESCANABA (AP) — James Selmo, 28, a Grosse Pointe Woods high school math teacher, has been awarded $420,000, primarily because he can no longer walk.

The award, one of the largest in Michigan history, was announced late Saturday by a circuit court jury at Escanaba where the suit against General Motors Corp. was heard. The jury deliberated 16 hours before announcing its decision based on testimony that defective parts on a Chevrolet Corvair caused Selmo's paralyzing injuries.

★ ★ ★

The compact auto broke away from a tow truck in 1966 as Selmo and his wife, Carol, 26, were driving to visit friends in the Upper Peninsula. The Corvair and Selmo's car collided on U.S. 2 just inside Delta County.

Selmo's suit alleged that faulty design of the front bumper tow bracket caused the accident.

Judge Bernard Davison, who presided at the three-week trial, said the award was the largest he had heard of in the state.

WIFE'S AWARD

The jury also awarded $40,000 to Mrs. Selmo for injuries and loss of services.

The attorney for the giant auto maker, John Peacock, said, after the award was announced, "Any question of appeal will be taken up at a later time after due consideration of the verdict is reviewed in conjunction with the testimony.

Selmo asked for $2 million in his original suit and Mrs. Selmo asked for $500,000. Later, in oral pleadings, Selmo's attorney asked for $1,280,000 for Selmo and $120,000 for Mrs. Selmo. The jury ruled no cause for action against the towing company, which was also named in the original suit.

This Swamp Near Holly Will Become Part Of A 112-Acre Lake By Summer Of 1970

Park-Spending Hike Benefits County

Oakland county residents will continue to feel the benefits of increased state spending on southeastern Michigan state recreation parks this summer.

Nearly $600,000 in improvements and additional facilities at Bald Mountain, Highland, Pontiac Lake and Proud Lake recreation areas will be ready in 1969. An added $306,000 project at the Holly Recreation area is scheduled for completion in 1970.

* * *

Improvements include new beach and parking facilities, riding stables and installation of flush toilets and showers at campgrounds.

* * *

Albert G. Massini, district 14 park supervisor, said the nearly $1-million expenditure for southeastern Michigan parks marks the beginning of a new emphasis on state parks and recreation area spending in southeastern Michigan.

POPULATION CONCENTRATION

Massini said nearly all of the State Legislature's 1968 appropriations were for the lower third of the state. "The State Legislature has realized that the population concentration in the southeastern area indicates that considerable attention will have to be placed on upgrading and expanding park facilities in this area."

* * *

He noted that of the total of 17 million visitors to Michigan state parks during 1968, approximately 65 per cent used southern Michigan facilities.

* * *

"Southern Michigan parks are being increasingly invaded by visitors from nearby states, making it necessary for Michigan residents to travel far from their homes to find available facilities. This fact alone makes it imperative that we expand the southeast Michigan parks," Massini pointed out.

* * *

The park supervisor said the 6,800-acre Holly recreation area is earmarked for a good portion of the new spending emphasis.

MORE ACQUISITIONS EYED

"We are currently planning more land acquisitions in the Holly area. And it is hoped the Holly park will become the jewel of the state's park system in southern Michigan within a few years," Massini added.

* * *

The Bald Mountain area represents the biggest changes for park users this summer. A $360,000 appropriation will create 800 feet of new beach and swimming area, a parking lot for 850 cars, a new entrance road off M24, new concession buildings, paved roads and flush toilets.

* * *

Construction began last week on the $306,000 Holly project.

Boating and swimming facilities will be more than doubled at Holly when the existing Wildwood Lake is increased to 112 acres by damming Thread Creek. State officials plan to continue to restrict the lake to nonmotorized watercraft only.

* * *

Other improvements at Holly include parking lots, new boat launching sites, a new entrance road off McGinnis and two new dams which will create the lake impoundment of Thread Creek.

* * *

The Holly, Bald Mountain, Highland, Pontiac Lake and Proud Lake areas are part of District 14 encompassing all southeastern Michigan state parks and recreation areas. The parks comprise 23,000 acres of hunting, trapping, boating, hiking, camping, swimming picnicing, fishing, snowmobiling and horseback riding facilities.

Hearings Set on Sewer Assessments

Bloomfield Twp. Board OKs Subdivision

* * *

The board established Feb. 24 as a hearing date for special assessments on sanitary sewers in the Braes of Bloomfield subdivision. Cost estimates have been set at $3,100 per site for 13 sites.

The board has accepted a petition for sewers in the southern portion of the same subdivision. Cost estimates are $3,000 per site for 16 sites. Hearing dates have to be set.

Plans for a proposed industrial park on a 14-acre plot on Golf Drive running east from Telegraph near the Pontiac city limits were given preliminary approval by the board.

* * *

He said several small companies are interested in locating industrial facilities on the site.

Approval of the area for an industrial park has been held up over two years due to relocation and elimination proceedings for future streets previously proposed for the area. Garrett has also had to do considerable grading of the property.

In other recent business, the board agreed to contribute $33,500 as its 25 per cent share of a $134,000 repaving project for a section of Inkster running from Maple to Beacon Hill.

* * *

* * *

The board accepted the resignation of Robert Sinclair, formerly of 1052 Rock Spring, as a board member. Sinclair has been transferred to Europe. Candidates to fill Sinclair's unexpired term are currently being screened by the board.

Purchase of a new fire truck for $44,388 was also authorized.

Birmingham Balks at Guard for Maple-Inkster Crossing

Students passing the Inkster-Maple intersection on their way to school lost out recently when the Birmingham Board of Education refused to allot money for a temporary crossing guard.

There is no traffic signal at the intersection. The PTA of the new West Maple Junior High School nearby had requested the guard.

In a move to alleviate the problem, both the West Bloomfield and Bloomfield township boards had voted last week to pay the cost of widening Inkster to allow passing lanes at that intersection. The intersection is the border between the two townships.

Each township will pay $33,000, with the county matching those funds, for the .77 of a mile of paving. A light should also be installed by September, according to West Bloomfield supervisor John Doherty.

FEARED BECOMING PERMANENT

The Birmingham Board of Education, however, refused to take action because several trustees apparently feared that the guard would become permanent.

A resolution to spend $600 for a temporary guard died for lack of a second

* * *

The two township boards received word of the decision via copies of a letter to a third person, according to Doherty. In the copies, which were sent to the townships, Smith explained that the board took no action because it claimed to be in the education business, not the traffic safety business.

'ALL KINDS OF MONEY'

Doherty said "That board spends all kinds of money for fancy architecture but they won't spend any for the safety of the children."

He added that the township could not give financial aid for a guard since there are seven school districts in the township and all of them possibly would want the same aid.

Auburn Heights JCs Start Shooting Classes

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Area youngsters have an opportunity to learn safe firearms handling and shooting practices during a 12-week course being conducted by the Auburn Heights Area Jaycees.

Classes for boys and girls aged 7-14 will begin at 7 tonight in the multipurpose room of Auburn Heights Elementary School, 260 S. Squirrel. Head instructor will be James St. Louis of 54 College.

An orientation meeting for prospective students and their parents was held last week. Some 150 persons attended.

There is no charge for the course.

Insurance Brokerage Appoints Troy Man

TROY — Donald D. Martin, 3096 Oakhill, has been appointed assistant vice president of Marsh and McLennan (Michigan) by the board of directors of Marsh and McLennan Inc., international insurance brokers and employe benefits consultants.

Martin, a 1950 graduate of the University of Washington, is a member of the accounts service department of the company's Detroit office.

Stockholders OK 5 Pct. Dividend for Bank of Lapeer

LAPEER — Stockholders of the First National Bank of Lapeer approved a 5 per cent stock dividend at their annual meeting yesterday.

President C. M. Ruhmann reported record earnings for 1968 of $302,051, up 24 per cent from the year before. Earnings per share were $2.83, compared to $2.27 in 1967, after adjustment for stock splits and dividends.

* * *

Total assets also reached a record high of $35.1 million, $2.2 million more than the previous year.

The stockholders also reelected as directors Leon T. Bishop, 6930 Bordman, Almont; George Mathews, 530 N. Almont, Imlay City; Glenn Lake, 5025 North Branch, North Branch; Olaf Moore, 218 Lincoln; Ted Ongena, 2145 S. Lapeer; W. A. Myers, 807 Louis C. Cramton; Ruhmann of 1377 Ru-Lane; Earl Bennington, 279 Myers; and A. D. Williams, 1038 Turrill.

Named directors emeritus were C. A. Laesch, 1359 W. Genesee, an officer of the bank for 41 years, and Harry M. Myers, 1550 Peppermill.

County Morgue Setup Near

By JEAN SAILE

A would-be murderer now ought to give more consideration to the consequences before carrying out his nefarious scheme in Oakland County.

* * *

He stands a greater chance of getting caught this year than he did last year.

The reason?

The county's new medical examiner system, voted into existence last November, has replaced the antiquated coroner system.

IN TWO MORE MONTHS

While it is not yet completely functioning, the system should be in full operation in another two months, according to Howard Whaley, coordinator of the medical examiner division for the Oakland County Health Department.

* * *

Whaley announced the employment of Dr. Richard E. Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and a statewide authority on medical-legal problems, as new chief deputy medical examiner.

* * *

Olsen will receive a salary of $28,500 a year. His employment is due to begin in two months, Whaley said.

By that time, Whaley said, a morgue should be in operation at Pontiac State Hospital employing Dr. Olsen as pathologist and a hystology technician among its staff.

NO LONGER NECESSARY

Autopsies will be performed there as a matter of routine in any questionable case, Whaley said. It will no longer be necessary to obtain consent from the next of kin as was needed under the old coroner's law and Whaley noted that in family homicides this presented a real problem.

Further, a staff of six former investigative police officers will be employed to study the circumstances of death.

Until such a staff is gathered, Whaley said the former 53 deputy coroners of the county are now functioning as deputy medical examiners. These men are all physicians.

Whaley also noted that any cremation of a body must be approved by his office. under the new law.

40 PCT. OF DEATHS

"The whole system," Whaley said, "is designed to prevent murder from going undetected."

He estimated that about 40 per cent of the deaths in the county will involve his office.

These will include all prison deaths, deaths due to abortion and suicides.

A medical examiner, by order of the prosecuting attorney or attorney general, is required to hold an inquest in any suspicious death, he said.

* * *

Whaley said he hoped eventually to institute a review of all death certificates.

18th-District Dems Caucus: 'Indian Wrestling' Scant

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor-Suburban

"Will everybody sit down? We're about to Indian wrestle."

With these words, 18th District Democratic Chairman Allen Zemmol called to order the district caucus Saturday afternoon in one of the cavelike meeting rooms at Cobo Hall.

* * *

As a wrestling match, or even an 18th District caucus, it was dull. This is not the usual nature of the 18th, where liberals of the New Democratic Coalition are seeking a greater influence in the party.

RARE CONTEST

The relatively routine caucus did feature a rare contest for the district's four seats on the State Central Committee. Eight persons vied for the two-year posts.

* * *

The district is allowed two men and two women on the state committee. Five sought the men's posts. Vernon Leopold of Royal Oak won a first ballot seat, but it took three ballots before Thomas Gray, 1165 W. Long Lake, Troy, secured the necessary majority for his election.

Unsuccessful candidates were Harold J. Robinson of Royal Oak and Sheridan Holzman and Daniel Berk, both of Southfield.

Winning the women's seats were Mrs. Sue Brody of Oak Park and Mrs. Jan Elsman, 175 N. Adams, Birmingham. Unsuccessful in her bid for reelection was Mrs. Mary Ann Garlak of Royal Oak.

ONE BIG REASON

One of the main reasons for the quiet caucus was that the 18th had already elected its district officers, normally accomplished at the annual spring confab.

Zemmol of Beverly Hills was elected chairman at the district's convention Jan. 18.

The more-than-four-hour caucus concluded with consideration of six resolutions, which were introduced at the earlier district convention but not passed.

Among the resolutions passed was one opposing Sentinel antiballistic missiles in Oakland County. Another supported a bill in the Legislature legalizing abortions, while still another urged funds for public schools as opposed to nonpublic schools.

AGAINST PAROCHIAD

This latter resolution amounted to a stand against state aid to parochial schools.

The caucus also passed a resolution favoring an upgrading of the status of the American Indian, which ended the day's Indian wrestling.

Joint Senate-House Hearings on Michigan ABM Sites Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joint Senate-House hearings on Army selection of antiballistic missile (ABM) sites in Michigan was requested yesterday by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

Hart, an opponent of the Sentinel ABM system made the request in a letter to Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

"It is my understanding," Hart wrote, "that the Department of Defense will shortly send to you a proposal to acquire land in Michigan for a Sentinel installation.

"There is strong objection in the area. Several groups and institutions have requested to be heard," he said.

JOINT HEARINGS

Hart said the House Armed Services Committee, at the request of Rep. Lucien Nedzi, D-Mich., plans hearings into the matter. Hart suggested that joint hearings might save time.

Under current plans, Hart said, the missiles will be deployed at one of three possible sites in Oakland County.

* * *

Speaking to Michigan Democrats at their convention in Detroit, Hart urged them to "press for sensible military and international policies" during the administration of President Richard M. Nixon.

"We all know that military ventures, once undertaken, come to have a life and momentum of their own," Hart told the Democratic State Convention.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE

The war in Vietnam, Hart said is an example of this phenomenon. "It will come as no secret to you that I believe the developing antiballistic missile system is another example of it."

"It too promises great expense and great folly," he said.

* * *

"But those who do not rally early to fight it must resign themselves to see it grow until it develops its own powerful constituency of workers and lobbyists and industrialists — until it develops its own host of politicians who cannot fault the system without also faulting their own earlier judgment," he declared.

Red Air Activity Up

GRAFENWOEHR, Germany (AP) — Communist air activity near the East German and Czechoslovak borders increased considerably during U.S. maneuvers in southern West Germany, it was learned today.

An informed source said that one day last week there was as much Communist air traffic as there was American traffic because of the maneuver, called Carbide Ice.

Tree-Plant Drive Is Under Way in Farmington

FARMINGTON — City Manager John Dinan has announced that a tree-planting program is being initiated by the city's beautification committee.

Committee members and other volunteers will be going from door to door shortly explaining the tree program and offering trees for sale by the city.

* * *

The shade trees, a bare-root type, will have a diameter of 1½ to 1¾ inches. They'll come with a two-year guarantee and cost $20 per tree, and are to be planted in the right of way of the street.

"Trees must be ordered by March 1." emphasized Dinan.

* * *

Dinan also said a public hearing will be held Feb. 17 at 8 p.m. on the rezoning of the Mather Trucking Co. property, in heart of Floral Park subdivision, from industrial to multiple dwelling.

The city has ordered a motor grader, to be delivered next month, for $17,000. The purchase of the machine, which levels roads and plows snow, is on an installment basis. The old one, bought in 1948 needed too many repairs, too often, Dinan said.

The City Council has approved its portion of pay for the personnel in the new district court. The city will pay $2,375 of the judge's $9,500 annual salary and $1,900 of the court reporter's $7,600 salary.

The city will pay the court officer $1,900 of his $7,600 salary and the court clerk's $6,500 total salary.

The city will pay the deputy court clerk his total $5,200 salary and the part-time clerk $1,000. Total cost to the city is $18,875.

Britisher Switches Armies in Order to Reach Vietnam

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Lt. Col. Peter G. Fleming picked an unorthodox route to Vietnam.

He switched armies.

Until midnight Friday, Fleming was an officer in the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry, a regiment of the British army.

★ ★ ★

He retired—for eight hours. Saturday, he was sworn in as a lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army by Maj. Gen. John M. Wright Jr., commanding general of Ft. Benning, so he can be sent to duty in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Fleming wore an American uniform borrowed from the widow of a friend who died in action in Vietnam. He was then assigned as executive officer of the 197th Light Infantry Brigade at Ft. Benning, until he can be transferred to Vietnam.

Fleming's U.S. commission is temporary. It was arranged after he received some precedent-setting, red-tape-cutting waivers from the British government which took several months.

The waivers remove Fleming from complying with a regulation that commissioned officers wait five years after their retirement from the British Army before they join any other military service.

The 42-year-old officer has served 22 years in the British army—in India, Africa and Southeast Asia. In 1961 he fought guerrillas in Malaysia and Borneo.

But the British wouldn't send him to Vietnam.

Romney Eyes Housing Thrust

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Getting large corporations into the low-cost housing business will be one of the major ways of providing the nation with 26 million more housing units in the next 10 years, says George Romney, secretary of housing and urban development.

The former Michigan governor yesterday said reaching that goal is "no pipe dream.

"It is going to have to be done primarily by private effort and this means it has to be made more profitable," Romney said in a television appearance (Meet the Press — NBC).

Romney appeared with Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, and Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe.

Finch said the nation can expect no "massive cuts" in welfare spending, but said the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) will be allowed to expire and its functions transferred to other agencies.

Nevertheless, promised Romney, "We are going to have a greater antipoverty program in this administration than one just represented by OEO.

"There isn't going to be the elimination in the effort to eliminate poverty," he said. "The effort is going to be more effective and widespread."

Meanwhile, White House urban affairs specialist Daniel P. Moynihan, appearing on Metromedia's television Interview program "Evans-Novak Report," argued yesterday that it will take "cold cash" to solve the problem of America's cities.

CHILDREN'S ALLOWANCES

As a starter, he suggested a federally financed program of children's allowances, such as that in effect across Canada.

Under the Canadian "baby bonus," as it's known, every mother (usually not the father) receives from the government a monthly check of between $6 and $10 for each child, from birth through grade school, regardless of the family's income.

★ ★ ★

Moynihan estimated that such a program in the United States would cost $9 billion a year.

Moynihan stated his philosophy for ending poverty simply. "Cold cash," he said. "It's a surprisingly good cure for a lot of social ills."

He rejected the notion that the race issue was a major factor in curing the ills of the cities.

Michigan Bell Expansion Is Good News for Pontiac

WHALEN

Realizing the extent to which the Pontiac sector is leaping forward, the phone company is taking gigantic steps to keep abreast. President KENNETH J. WHALEN expatiated at some length on their expanding future in his Chamber of Commerce address.

★ ★ ★

A new building, new equipment and added factors everywhere constitute the basis for the current actions. Over $20 million will be invested here to keep pace with the swift developments that we all see on every side. Slightly over $12 million will go into the serviceable new building and the balance will be spent on equipment and modernization.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is keenly aware of the enormous strides forward and the solid developments that are taking place in many widely diversified lines in this sector. The big organization is determined to go along with the impressive advancements witnessed in so many lines.

The telephone business in general is one of the most progressive and forward-looking business activities in the Country.

'Experts' Forecast . . .

We're all intrigued by the "forecasts" and the "prognostications" from soothsayers and the professional seers who take themselves seriously.

Perhaps we should agree.

Yet can it be more than a guess?

★ ★ ★

During the first month of the new year several very serious prognostications appeared which were offered in all sincerity. For your edification, I reproduce a few right here.

★ ★ ★

UFOs will "come into their own" between March 19 and March 27. Many, many will be sighted around the world and the number will be so great our own Government will set up a new commission to study the matter. Personally, I have scoffed at Unidentified Flying Objects.

Pals, be prepared.

★ ★ ★

Next, there will be a moon landing. One crystal ball disciple doesn't say whether it will be Russian or U.S. but it will happen. Gospel truth. But there's a conflict there. Another "expert" says we will circle the moon like the Russians, but the Russians will actually make the first landing.

Take your choice.

1969 will be a year of astounding scientific achievements and many startling inventions. Certainly all of us can trail along with this one.

And here's a rousing note of good cheer: the fashions will change definitely as the year wears along and the hippies will be "out." Yes, sir, they'll sink into welcome oblivion. And, fashions will "be elegant." That sounds as though it were the end of the miniskirt and no one can shed any tears over that.

I hesitate to chart this next one; but one of the talented seers says definitely there will be another important assassination.

If you doubt all of these, don't pin the blame on this great family journal. We're just recounting what others who specialize in this phase of life are saying. Some of these people have an amazing percentage of accuracy and many of them have a long list of believers.

Anyway, Happy February.

And now I will predict. This month will produce much better weather than January.

Pueblo Commander . . .

Certainly the commander of the Pueblo has won more friends nationwide than the grim, solemn-faced board of Admirals that conducts the investigation.

★ ★ ★

He may be guilty of a few technical violations but the poor gentleman had insufficient equipment and insufficient protection. Now he faces a lot of second-guessing that's making no appreciable impression on the people across the Nation.

★ ★ ★

And in Conclusion . . .

★ ★ ★

It just came to light that CARROLL ROSENBLOOM, owner of the Colts, lost 200 G when the Jets walloped his team New Year's Day. . . . . Overheard: "A man who thinks marriage is a 50-50 matter either doesn't understand fractions or he doesn't understand women." . . . . . Mail in Washington is running 9 to 1 against the proposed pay hike for the lawmakers. . . . . NORMAN THOMAS, Socialist candidate for the Presidency half a dozen times, preached all his life that all men should be separated from their money. Well, THOMAS left an estate of $150,000.

SHERI

Scouts advise me that Sheri Seiber deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . . A New York shop is offering a pair of male alligator boots for a mere $450. . . . . Massachusetts Republicans are seriously considering letting Teddy Kennedy run unopposed in 1970, and concentrating on the governorship and legislative seats. . . . . Overheard: "Groucho Marx says his fine physical condition is due to his TV color set. It keeps him very active jumping up and down to adjust it." . . . . . When Barry Goldwater appears on platforms anywhere, he usually gets the loudest and longest greeting.

★ ★ ★

A Big Round of Applause for RAWLEY HALLMAN who has been the sparkplug in local barbershop quartets since Chief PONTIAC's reign. . . . . The City of Pontiac has had more snow this winter than many surrounding areas. . . . . Some 12 students in Columbia University have filed suit in the Supreme Court demanding the dismissal of the University's Board of Trustees, charging they failed to protect students' rights by allowing leftists to disrupt classes last May. The University has 20 days to reply. . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: The C's—CHARLES L. LANGS for his constructive building in this area; the J's—the durn weather.

Just Who Did Kill Cock Robin?

Bob Considine Says:

Valachi Book Nearly Squelched

NEW YORK — Peter Maas' experiences with the Justice Department, leading up to the recent publication of "The Valachi Papers," are almost as lurid as the soul-baring of Valachi himself.

CONSIDINE

Maas, a first-class reporter, gave us a blow-by-blow account of the crazy caper the other night over a drink in Shor's. It all started in 1963, and in a most flimsy manner.

★ ★ ★

Maas, interviewing Robert Morgenthau, the law enforcer, found himself an inadvertent eavesdropper when Morgenthau interrupted the interview to answer an urgent call. From the one-sided conversation he overheard, Maas deduced that somebody big in the criminal world was "talking." Somebody named Joe.

A few days later Maas called on Ed Guthman at Atty Gen. Robert Kennedy's office for more information about the article that had taken him to Morgenthau's office.

WHO'S TALKING?

In passing, he said to Guthman, "Hey, who's the big guy you've got talking?" Guthman assumed Maas knew much more than he did. He gave him a briefing on Joseph Michael Valachi and the secret society that dominates organized crime in the U. S.

★ ★ ★

Miriam Ottenberg of the Washington Star was the first to unveil Valachi, on a tip from the Bureau of Narcotics. But Maas soon followed with a long in-depth piece in the Saturday Evening Post and found himself enmeshed in a situation which cost him three years of sweat and, he estimates, $18,000 in legal fees and other expenses.

His "case" went all the way to the White House, but he found no relief at that level. Only more grief.

★ ★ ★

Maas's interest in the case prompted the Justice Department to give him every opportunity to do a book based on a huge handwritten manuscript Valachi had been feverishly writing since Vito Genovese pronounced a death sentence on him, with a kiss, while both were in the federal pen at Atlanta.

FULL MANUSCRIPT

A pal in the Justice Department gave the writer the full 350,000-word manuscript Valachi had penned and penciled. Jack Rosenthal, a flack for Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach, assured Maas that the publication of the book would greatly benefit the cause of law and order by its exposure of the Cosa Nostra.

Maas then signed a "memo of understanding" with the Justice Department. He gave Justice the right to edit out any passages which might be, in Justice's estimation, "injurious to law enforcement."

★ ★ ★

Rosenthal then made another friendly gesture, Maas relates. He alerted a number of publishers that the bombshell book was being done. That annoyed Messrs. Huntley and Brinkley, who questioned the ethics involved. In time, the ethics also were questioned.

When Valachi heard about that, he growled, "I'm not writing about Italians, I'm writing about gangsters."

DELEGATION ARRIVES

But almost all the gangsters he fearlessly ratted on were Italians: Genovese, Luciano, Adonis, Costello, Maranzano, Moretti, Lucchese, Petrelli, etc.

As word of Maas's script spread, a delegation of congressmen, three from New Jersey, accompanied by several judges — all of Italian background — called on President Johnson and asked that the upcoming book be suppressed because it would be regarded as defamatory to all Italian-Americans.

"In 24 hours this whole thing that was to be 'so beneficial to law enforcement' was now all bad," Maas recalled. "Rosenthal offered to have the Justice Department reimburse me. I said to hell with that.

"Katzenbach called Bobby Kennedy and asked him to call me off. Bobby told me in advance what LBJ would do in the face of the Italians' demands. 'He'll say sure, and get all of them on the hook,' Bobby said. 'And Katzenbach will bow.'"

GOES TO COURT

The attorney general took the matter to court, the first case in which the U.S. government sought to suppress a book that it had encouraged.

The government won, whereupon Valachi tried to commit suicide by hanging himself in his cell. He was convinced the Cosa Nostra had killed his book; that they were now more powerful than the Justice Department!

★ ★ ★

Maas appealed the muzzling, got a reversal, and Putnam had guts enough to publish it. Valachi had been cut in on the book money, but has been told he will be subject to federal income taxes. If he refuses to pay, the feds cannot very well put him in jail. He's already there.

Voice of the People:

'Urge Congressmen to End War in Vietnam'

Shortly after Christmas you published a letter "Serviceman in Vietnam Writes of His Christmas" from my only brother, Pfc. David F. Head. The army promised him when he enlisted that he would receive 39 weeks of special medical training. He received six weeks of medical training in Fort Sam Houston, Texas. The army also promised that he would train under another medic in Vietnam for two months before he was on his own. When he arrived there he was on his own from the beginning.

★ ★ ★

He did his duties well enough that he has been recommended for two medals. He has been in the army less than six months and in Vietnam less than six weeks. On Jan. 25th our family received news that my brother is "missing in action." The news has broken the hearts of our family. My father and six of his ten brothers are veterans and know what war is like. You don't realize how bad things can be until you see a grown man sob his heart out all night, and cry at the mention of my brother's name.

★ ★ ★

I hope that from my letter the government will realize how much heartbreak has been caused and will do everything possible to end this war. Maybe if every housewife and mother would write to our congressmen they could help end this war and bring our boys home.

Resident Is Concerned About Packs of Dogs

What can be done about dogs running in packs? One morning I counted eight dogs engaged in a free-for-all fight in our subdivision. It frightened me to think what could have happened if a child had attempted to interfere.

INDIANWOOD LAKE RESIDENT

Answers Complaints About Uncleared Walks

I am weary of the letters complaining about snow-covered walks. I can only hope these people will be in the same position some day. Did it ever occur to these people that we want clean walks as much as they do, but behind most of those house doors are elderly people, sick people, as in my case, a widow with a bad back? I agree that all offenders should have their names and addresses published in the paper so the concerned ones could come by and do their good deed for the day by shoveling the walks of the unfortunate, or perhaps pay the $5 the neighborhood boys ask for doing the job.

Could you please print in your paper where I can join the women's auxiliary and what the dues are? I'm in Holly area.

MRS. A. J. MILLAR

REPLY

You gave us no address, or telephone number, and directory assistance had no listing under your name, so we couldn't reach you. However, you will have to be more specific. There are dental, medical, Jaycee, hospital, V.F.W., alumni, etc. auxiliaries. If you will tell us what type of auxiliary you are interested in, we'll be glad to do what we can to help. And please include address and phone.

Question and Answer

Sometime ago there was an offer to send a Michigan flag free to servicemen if they sent in their request. I can't find anyone who knows about this. Can you help? My son in Vietnam asked. Your questions and answers are very informative. Keep it up.

BOB'S MOM
MRS. DAVID LONG, FENTON

REPLY

Sec. of State James M. Hare will send a Michigan flag free to any serviceman who sends a request. Requests should be sent to Mr. Hare in the Treasury Building, Lansing, Michigan. And thank you for the encouragement.

Stark Story

Boston Herald Traveler

Virtually everyone knows that alcoholism is a major problem in the United States, but to get a true sense of the immensity of the tragic toll alcoholism takes of our society, it is necessary to turn from instances of suffering and of wasted lives to some national measure of the country's fourth major health problem.

Unvarnished facts and figures, of course, cannot convey the harm and agony the alcoholic brings upon himself and his family, but they can give an index to the scope of the problem, and perhaps stir greater public interest and concern for efforts in Boston and in the Commonwealth to combat the disease of alcoholism and to cushion its cruel effects.

There are an estimated 6.5 million alcoholics in the United States today. Approximately 10 per cent of the nation's drivers are alcoholics. The suicide rate of untreated alcoholics is 58 times that of nonalcoholics. Thirty-three per cent of all arrests in the United States are for public drunkenness.

Thirty to 40 per cent of all delinquent youths come from homes where excessive parental drinking or alcoholism exists. The national economic loss from job absenteeism, care and treatment of alcoholics and support of their families has been estimated at $2 billion annually. One out of four emotionally disturbed Americans is an alcoholic.

★ ★ ★

The citizen concerned about these grim statistics can do several things to fight the menace to health and social well-being that alcoholism poses, whether it is joining a local group on alcoholism, pressing for education of youth about its dangers or supporting bills in the state legislature to provide for new facilities and treatment of alcoholics.

Awareness must come before action.

Family Funds

The New York Times

Among the legacies left for the Nixon Administration by President Johnson was a White House report calling for multiple increases in Federal expenditures for family planning at home and abroad.

The Committee on Population and Family Planning recommended that funds to provide family planning services for all who want them in the United States be increased from the current $30 million a year to $150 million by 1973; that funds for population research be expanded from $30 million to $100 million by 1971, and that foreign aid for family planning be increased as rapidly as it can effectively be used.

In releasing the report, Mr. Johnson said population control is second only to peace among the critical issues facing the world. But the former President's farewell budget does not reflect this sense of urgency, nor does it follow the recommendations of his own committee. It provides only token increases for domestic family planning, is seriously deficient in funds for research and offers no increase in aid for family planning overseas.

The Nixon Administration must do better — for its own sake and the world's. Unless the present explosive rate of population growth is checked, the quality of life in this country and life itself in many foreign lands will be seriously threatened.

Why Not Degree Program in American Negro Studies?

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.
Executive Director
National Urban League

Last month a select faculty committee of Harvard University recommended establishment of a degree - granting program in American Negro studies.

YOUNG

By September then, it is likely that one of the nation's most prestigious universities will offer to all its students a B.A. in black studies, and Negro students will be represented on the committee that recruits professors for the courses.

* * *

This is an event that should prove to have far-reaching influence in American higher education. Other schools have already moved along similar lines, but the trend-setting impact of Harvard should break down resistance to such a program elsewhere.

Black people make up more than 11 per cent of the nation's population, and there is no reason why colleges should not offer courses and degrees in black history, African history and culture, and the literature, sociology, and economics of the black man in America.

SIMILAR PROGRAMS NEEDED

Degrees are granted in Far Eastern studies, Russian studies, even hotel administration. Why not, then, a degree program dealing with this major aspect of American life?

I hope that the Harvard announcement will lead other colleges to start similar programs, and also encourage greater efforts to recruit more black students and to make the university more relevant to their needs. It is vital that college administrators listen more closely to the demands of black students, and respond positively.

* * *

That means a lot of people are going to have to change their preconceptions of what a college ought to be. And they'll also have to react to the meanings inherent in black demands, while perhaps ignoring the abrasive and oftentimes rude manner in which these demands are made.

The suspicions and mistrust of some black students have led them, at times, to bury legitimate demands in language and actions that only get administrators hopping mad. But that shouldn't be an excuse to deny the justice of what is being asked for.

PRIME DEMAND

A prime demand is for recruitment of more Negro students. It is shameful that a large state university with 20,000 students will have only 400 blacks. And it is a galling example of institutional racism when such universities say they can't find "qualified" blacks, or point with pride to the fact that they never had so many blacks before.

The inferior education given by most ghetto public schools and the poverty of most black youngsters are barriers to their getting into college. But means are readily available to identify promising young men and women whose marks may be low but whose potential is high.

Concentrated remedial courses, scholarship grants, and other means can be employed to increase the black college population.

Another often - misunderstood demand has been for social and cultural clubs for black students. This really horrifies some people. "That's separatism," they say. But Catholic students have the Newman Club, Jewish students have the Hillel Club, and other ethnic and religious groups gather together too.

A healthy pluralism shouldn't be mistaken for separatism. What should be avoided however, is an autonomous black university system within the white university system.

It is gratifying to see some of the things black students have been fighting for become a reality. But along with these successes must come the realization of the responsibility to move into the mainstream that black students must assume.

We need black experts in black history and urban affairs, but we also desperately need black mathematicians, physicists, and engineers to assume positions of prestige and power.

Missouri Wife Says "Truly A Blessing To Relieve Piles"

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Springfield, Mo. Mrs. H. Meyers of this city says: "Preparation H has helped me so much. I used to use another product. Then friends told me about Preparation H and it's truly been a blessing."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced.

There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

61 U. of Chicago Protesters Suspended

CHICAGO (AP) —Protesting students at the University of Chicago continued their occupation of the administration building for the fifth day today. They said they will ignore the suspensions of 61 students, which were announced Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

The suspensions have been the only action taken by the university against the students, who have said they will remain inside the building until their demands are met.

★ ★ ★

The university repeated Sunday its earlier statement that force will not be used to evict the demonstrators, who entered the building Thursday in protest against the pending dismissal of a female assistant sociology professor.

However, a Chicago law firm has been approached by the university in preparation for possible court action.

ROAM THE BUILDINGS

Some 200 demonstrators roamed the six floors of the building Sunday between meetings at which they debated the four demands made of the administration.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Charles D. O'Connell, dean of students, said the students were suspended because they refused "to discontinue a disruptive demonstration after having been notified their conduct was disruptive and later having been asked to cease."

RECOMMENDED

The suspensions were recommended by the university disciplinary committee, composed of nine faculty members and four nonvoting student observers.

O'Connell said the students suspended failed to appear before the committee after being handed summonses.

★ ★ ★

The suspensions will continue, O'Connell said, until each case is "resolved by the disciplinary committee on the students' individual applications."

Two students who answered summonses were not disciplined, O'Connell said.

NOT RENEWED

The take-over action by the students stemmed from the failure of the sociology department to recommend the renewal of the contract of Marlene Dixon, assistant sociology professor.

The students have charged that Mrs. Dixon was not rehired because she is a female, has political views undesirable to the university and is allied with the working class.

Their demands include the immediate rehiring of Mrs. Dixon, amnesty for students participating in the demonstration, compensation for university employes kept from their jobs during the demonstration and equal power for students in faculty hiring.

Policeman Suffers Shock

3 Federal Agents Shot in Error

CONCORD, Calif. (AP) — A police officer shot and wounded three U.S. customs agents accidentally and is under a physician's care for shock, says Police Chief James Chambers.

NAVY NURSE CONVICTED

—Lt. (j.g.) Susan Schnall was convicted Friday of conduct unbecoming an officer and failure to obey a lawful general order. In uniform, she had participated in a GI march for peace although members of her unit had been ordered not to appear in uniform.

The federal agents were in plain clothes, said Chambers. He gave this account:

A force of 17 federal customs and narcotics agents, state narcotics officers and Concord police, including McLellan, set up a stake-out Saturday night at the Condord Inn for Lawrence Allen Fassler of Tucson, Ariz., named in a federal warrant charging marijuana possession.

CARS RAM

Shortly after noon Sunday, Fassler sped off in a car with the officers in pursuit. His car apparently rammed or was rammed by one of the cars, and three customs agents alighted with guns drawn.

Not recognizing the three agents and believing they planned to shoot him, McLennan "fired three shots, possibly more."

One of the three agents, George P. Gudbranson, about 29, of Walnut Creek, Calif., was shot in the head and wounded critically.

The others were Leon Jassaud, 29, of Pleasant Hill, in a hospital in fair condition with an arm wound, and David Wilson, 26, of San Francisco, fair with a leg wound.

The shooting was under investigation by county officials, police and the FBI. The only official account was made public by Chambers.

Area Car Crash Hospitalizes 2

A Rochester teen-ager and a passenger in his car are hospitalized in fair condition on after their car went out of control and struck a tree in Oakland Township yesterday morning.

The driver, Norman O. Hastings, 18, of 115 Griggs, told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he couldn't explain how the accident happened.

He and the passenger in his car, Lorne Cheira, 19, of 4991 Gallagher, Oakland Township, are in Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township.

Local Cycle Group Gives Charity $200

A check for $200 has been presented to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults Inc. by the Pontiac Competition Team, a motorcycle sports group.

Ed L. Martin, president of the team, said the check represented his club's share of proceeds from the National Competition race last year at the Detroit Race Course.

Jersey City School Strike Accord Won

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Jersey City Education Association and the board of education reached an agreement Sunday to end a strike by teachers against the city's public schools which began Jan. 23.

Schools were closed today, as teachers voted on the proposed agreement.

* * *

The agreement worked out by mediator Lewis Kaden calls for salaries of $7,000 to $10,750. The teachers now receive between $6,200 and $9,750 and were seeking $8,000 to $12,800.

Some 1,200 teachers struck the public school system, second largest in New Jersey with 35,000 students in 30 elementary and four high schools. They returned to work last Thursday, however, for a two-day "cooling off" period.

Clothes Stolen at Apartment

Clothing valued at $855 was reported stolen yesterday from a Pontiac apartment.

Herman Bishop, 26, of 378 S. Saginaw told Pontiac police that someone entered his apartment through an unlocked street door and then broke in his apartment door.

He told police he was missing six suits, one sport coat, two outer coats, one pair of pants and five sweaters.

Allies Eye Talks Bid for Prisoner Trade

PARIS (UPI) — An Allied proposal for a prisoner exchange in Vietnam dominated consultations between U.S. and Saigon delegates to the Paris peace talks today.

Allied delegation sources said the possibility of beginning an exchange of prisoners of war was to be the main part of the Allied presentation to the third session Thursday, of the deadlocked talks.

The sources said U.S. delegation leader Henry Cabot Lodge and his Saigon opposite number, Ambassador Pham Dang Lam, were determined to press their demand that the talks center first on military descalation before the more complex topic of political bargaining was raised.

The North Vietnamese and their Vietcong allies already have rejected that approach and demanded that military discussions be tied to political negotiations about the future of South Vietnam.

To avoid deepening the deadlock, the Allies will bring up the prisoner issue in the hopes it will be more acceptable than their suggestions the talks begin with the restoration of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), and an agreement on mutual troop withdrawals, the sources said.

This would go along with President Nixon's strategy of making specific and concrete proposals to the other side at each session in the hopes that eventually the Communists will agree to discuss them.

Western diplomats predicted there would be no movement until the political battle between the Saigon government and the Vietcong in the villages of South Vietnam became clearer.

'Joke' Turns Worker Into Human Torch

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Police today said Jorge Adolfo Castielo, 21, was behind a partition in a tire shop when coworkers Carmelo Macoretta, 37, and Francisco Alfred Cano, 20, decided to play a trick on him.

They lit a piece of paper and threw the flaming paper over the partition. Castielo protested.

Police said Cano grabbed a can which he thought contained water and heaved it over the partition. The can contained gasoline.

Castielo became a human torch.

U.S. Generals Stiffen Resistance to Europe Troop Cuts

By HUBERT J. ERB

GRAFENWOEHR, Germany (AP) — U.S. Army leaders are stiffening their resistance to further cuts in the combat troops America has stationed in Europe.

This was made plain here this past week by both Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, the American who is the supreme allied commander Europe, and Gen. James H. Polk, commander of U.S. forces in Europe.

★ ★ ★

The Army desire to keep what it has got, at least, is perhaps the most significant development to come out of the current military exercise, Carbide Ice, that will end Tuesday.

Polk told newsmen that airlifting troops from the United States to use equipment in Europe, as in Carbide Ice, was second best to having the troops here all the time.

REINFORCING ACTION

Lemnitzer declared that although air transport capability has vastly improved, the bringing of forces from the United States to Europe was a reinforcing action, nothing more.

Lemnitzer emphasized that the U.S. troops now here are at a bare minimum to keep up their commitments. U.S. forces in West Germany have 230,000 men.

★ ★ ★

Lemnitzer asked newsmen not to overlook the great number of supply personnel it took to get the equipment ready for the incoming troops to use and what it will take to put that equipment back in storage.

News Analysis

The inference was clear: It would take time and many men to put any airlifted unit into the field in the event of any emergency.

NOT POPULAR

More than tactical considerations are involved in the Army's resistance to losing more men.

The dual-based concept of keeping troops in the United States and flying them to Europe when needed never has been popular with the West Germans, who have been asked to beef up their own forces.

The population has been impressed with the deploying of 17,000 men and 4,500 vehicles for Carbide Ice, in mud and mire near the Czechoslovak border. The last half of the transatlantic airlift, in which C141 Starlifter jets lagded 5,100 men in 33 hours impressed the technically minded Germans immensly.

'DIVISIONAL EXERCISE'

But some press comments have run from critical to caustic, with the writers seeming to feel that it was too little and too late to have much political impact in the wake of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

One West German military writer commented: "The Americans tried to sell us the idea that this was a big political move and impressive militarily. It was neither. Transatlantic airlift was demonstrated better in Big Lift in 1963. And the maneuver was simply a divisional exercise, nothing more."

What many Germans were looking for in the wake of the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia was a demonstration of something new in response to the new tactical threat the Red Army poses to Western Europe generally, and to West Germany in particular.

Lemnitzer declared that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization planning is up to date and no new planning is necessary. But as one German tank officer put it: "Before last August, the Russians were still pretty far away from here. Now they are just across the border from my unit. That makes a hell of a lot of difference to me."

The narrowing of NATO'S warning time gap has been one of the most discussed aspects of the new military situation in Central Europe. It is perhaps the fundamental reason that U.S. commanders want to keep what they have in Europe and would welcome more.

Groundhogs Say Yes

6 More Weeks of Winter?

By The Associated Press

Groundhog watchers at Punxsutawney, Pa., and Sun Prairie, Wis., saw the animals cast their shadow Sunday morning—a traditional harbinger of six more weeks of winter weather.

At Sun Prairie, about 100 persons turned out at 7:12 a.m. to see Jimmy, a 4-year-old groundhog, cast his.

If Groundhog Day is cloudy and shadowless, tradition has it, winter will be much shorter.

Some of Jimmy's and Punxsutawney Phil's fellow groundhogs didn't quite make it back to their underground abodes. They were slated to end up on banquet menus.

Mansfield Hits Try to Block Congress-Pay Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield says maneuvering by congressmen trying to prevent a vote on increasing their own pay "makes us look bad."

"The sooner we face up to it, the better it will be for all concerned," Mansfield said in an interview. He restated his support for the increase from $30,000 a year to $42,500 for members of Congress.

★ ★ ★

The Montana Democrat declined to predict what will happen Tuesday when the Senate takes up a resolution by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to block the pay package.

Under a law passed in 1967, pay increases proposed last month by former President Lyndon B. Johnson will take effect Feb. 14 unless either the House or Senate rejects them.

TIME SHORT

With Congress set to adjourn at the end of this week for 10 days so Republicans can make their traditional round of Lincoln's Birthday dinner speeches, time is running out for opponents of the pay boosts.

★ ★ ★

There is little business scheduled in the House this week, and leaders may have difficulty raising the necessary quorum of 218 members. However, Chairman William M. Colmer, D-Miss., is hoping to push a resolution through his rules committee to force the issue onto the floor. His chances are considered dim.

★ ★ ★

In the Senate, Mansfield and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen agreed to Williams' demand that there be a vote on the pay increase.

But sources immediately revealed a move might be made to challenge the Williams resolution on grounds a bill is needed to stop the pay boost.

BLOCKING MOVE

"It would make us look bad" to use a parliamentary device to block a vote on the Williams resolution, Mansfield said.

★ ★ ★

The possibility remains that the vote will not come directly on Williams' disapproval resolution but on a motion to table, and thus kill, the Delaware Republican's move.

★ ★ ★

Concern Grows for Missing Girl

Parents Fear Child in N.H. Is Abducted

ALLENSTOWN, N.H. (AP) — Police remained clueless today in the mysterious disappearance of 11-year-old Debra Lee Horn from her home last Wednesday. Her parents continued to fear the girl may have been abducted.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Henry Spaloss has used only the word "missing" when describing the case. He said at the conclusion of Sunday's search operations, however, that the FBI is being fully advised of what's going on and is free to decide if it wants to join the investigation.

★ ★ ★

The Boston office of the FBI has said it cannot enter the case unless it is established that there is a kidnaping.

Debra Lee was permitted to stay home from her sixth grade classes Wednesday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Horn, said she slipped on ice and complained of pain. She was gone when her parents returned from work.

NO TRACE SINCE

There has been no trace of the girl since then. The one clue which investigators thought they had—some blood found along Route 28—was tested and found to have no connection with the case, Spaloss said.

State police were checking all known sex offenders in the area, but Spaloss said this was routine and he couldn't predict where it might lead.

★ ★ ★

"It is as much a part of the hunt for information . . . as the questioning of hitchhikers would be," he said.

Col. Joseph Regan, state police director, gave a similar report on the questioning conducted by his men.

SEARCH CONTINUES

Search operations continued all day Sunday in the countryside and in the nearby Suncook River. Two helicopters and two small planes flew around the area, concentrating on the 7,500-acre Bear Brook State Park region. Scores of volunteers and snow vehicles combed the woods, while four skin divers plunged into the icy river.

★ ★ ★

Debbie's parents and her brother Kenneth, 12, were joined by her grandparents in a private prayer service in the family's home near the outskirts of this small town of 2,000.

Horn is a self-employed scale mechanic, and his wife is a secretary.

A Boston friend of the family has anonymously put up $10,000 for the safe return of the child, but the offer has failed to produce any information.

Party Hostess Asks Guests to Bring Own

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently we were invited to a going-away party for my cousin. My aunt said, "Bring your own wieners, buns, and a covered dish; I don't know how much your family eats." I feel it's shame my aunt and uncle can't give a better going-away party than this. — Constance.

★ ★ ★

Dear Constance: I'm with you! The only time each family brings its own food to a party is when it's a joint effort and they have agreed ahead of time to do so. Otherwise, the one who gives the party is expected to provide the refreshments.

If necessary, he can always say, "Your whole family is invited—how many of you will be able to come?"

FAMILY FRIEND

Dear Mrs. Post: As a widow of more than 20 years, I have been going with a man who has been more than a father to my son. Therefore, my son has asked him to wear a tuxedo for my son's wedding and stand in the receiving line. Would this be out of order? — Bewildered.

★ ★ ★

Dear "Bewildered:" Yes. The man could act as best man for your son, but he should not stand in the receiving line. Only the bridal party and those who give the wedding should be there. I assume that you—not the man you are "going with"—are paying the bills.

★ ★ ★

He may, however, act as unofficial host—circulating among the guests, seeing that they have refreshments, etc.

JENNY LAIRD FERNALD

By JANET ODELL
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

When Jenny Laird Fernald encountered her first Michigan snowfall, she went looking for "Wellingtons" to protect her feet. Today, two and a half years later, she sports stylish boots with the rest of the local women and calls them boots.

This is not to say that Mrs. John Fernald has become Americanized 100 per cent. Neither she, nor anyone else would want that. Part of her charm is her Britishness, if there is such a thing.

★ ★ ★

That day, she was being very much Jenny Laird, the actress, however. She did change out of her costume, circa 1912, but she left her high white hairdo intact.

Mrs. Fernald is preparing to open in Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey into Night" on Thursday. As the mother who has become a drug addict, she has a good part, one any actress would enjoy. Actors and actresses, we have discovered, prefer to suffer in their parts.

MESSAGE FOR YOUTH

But she thinks the play may have a special message for today's youth. Because it does concern the problem of drug addiction, it may have something to say to them.

O'Neill did not have to use his imagination to draw this character; he had lived with her and seen what dependence on drugs does to an individual and to all with whom he or she associates.

What is her long-range reaction to being transplanted from her native land to an entirely new environment in early middle age? Would she do it again knowing what she does now?

"Yes, of course. It's been a great adventure," she says enthusiastically.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Fernald has never hestiated to criticize some aspects of America and she has not lost her biting tongue about such frustrations as bureaucracy, American style.

New changes in immigration laws make it more difficult for John Fernald to import teachers for the American Academy of Dramatic Art at Oakland University.

Never having driven a car before coming to OU, Mrs. Fernald had to add driving lessons to her schedule when she arrived in 1966. But she did not have to unlearn lefthand driving habits.

Now she scoots everywhere in her Mustang. Driving itself presents no problems. She just gets lost unless she knows exactly where she is headed and how to get there.

SHOPPING

Almost intimidated at first by our supermarkets, she now takes them in stride, but confesses she misses the personal attention of the individual shopkeeper.

The Fernalds return to England for summer vacations — and to lose weight, says Jenny. London life involves much more walking. Here, she has to exercise.

"Exercise is so boring."

Never did I think to hear an Englishwoman admit that Americans make good tea. She does. She also likes our coffee.

The Fernalds' daughter, Karin, paid her second visit to our area at Christmas, staying with her parents for 10 days. Karen is also an actress. Her mother wishes that Karin's career would bring her to this side of the Atlantic.

After the O'Neill play, Jenny Laird will do a short part in "Amphitryon '38." Both are highly emotional parts and she expects to be exhausted by playing in one and rehearsing for the second at the same time. That will conclude her acting at Meadow Brook for this season.

Sorority Mardi Gras Ball Is Fund Raiser for Handicapped

By JUNE ELERT

Proceeds of the second annual Mardi Gras Ball to be held Saturday at the Rochester Elks' Lodge will be turned over to the North Oakland County New Horizons Sheltered Workshop committee. Sponsoring organization is Alpha Alpha chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority.

The chapter's support of the committee's efforts came about as a result of having had Mrs. Robert McClendon as their guest speaker at an earlier meeting.

Mrs. McClendon works with retarded children in the 3-10 age group at the Calvary Baptist Church day care center operated by the Waterford Organization for Retarded Children.

★ ★ ★

In her presentation, she outlined the efforts of the committee to raise funds for a New Horizons Sheltered Worshop in the North Oakland County area, to provide job training and placement services for retarded teens and young adults.

TWO PROGRAMS

Two such workshops exist in Oakland County, one in Farmington; the other in Madison Heights. A number of persons from this area are being trained in those facilities which have long waiting lists of others needing these services. Statistics show that three per cent or approximately 24,000 citizens of Oakland County suffer from this handicap. Limitations of space, funds and distance prevent the extension of these services to all but a few from this area.

The committee is a composite of the membership of the North Oakland (Pontiac), Waterford and Rochester organizations for Retarded Children, banded together to seek funds for the establishment of the needed workshop.

Cochairing the committee are Robert McClendon of Alhi Street and James Hunt of Olympic Parkway.

Speakers are available to visit clubs and service organizations. Contact John Dumas, speakers' committee chairman, Lanette Street, for further information.

★ ★ ★

General chairman for the Mardi Gras is Mrs. Calvin Warner with Mrs. Ernest Mallery serving as cochairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kraud are in charge of the selection of a king and queen of the ball. Mr. and Mrs. Ted McCullough and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell are patrons for the affair.

DANCE AND EAT

Dancing to "The Starlighters" will be from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. with a buffet supper served at midnight.

The public may contact the hostesses or the cochairmen for tickets or Mrs. Richard Falls of Southward Street, ticket chairman.

Donald Richardson of Kemps Street arrives in Pontiac each afternoon with four trainees from his area who are enrolled in the New Horizons Workshop program in Madison Heights. Another driver takes the youngsters each morning.

All Crackpots Don't Live In Metropolitan Cities

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an ordinary man, single and 47. I was recently in New York on a bus travel tour and was having lunch alone in one of those automat restaurants when a woman of about 30 came and sat at my table and struck up a conversation.

She started off by saying she knew I was a Catholic priest as she had seen me in a pulpit someplace and she never forgets a face. She kept calling me "Father."

★ ★ ★

I tried to tell her that I was not a priest, but she persisted. I told her three times to please quit calling me "Father," and I even showed her my identification, but it didn't help. It got to be so exasperating I finally hurried up my lunch and left. Abby, are there lots of crackpots like this in New York? And what is a person supposed to do in a situation like that?

FROM BUFFALO

DEAR FROM: New York has more crackpots (I call them "psychoceramics") than other cities because there are more people there. And the only way to handle them is to do as you did. Beat a hasty retreat.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I'll get right to the point. I am 23 and am practically engaged to a wonderful guy. We've gone together for nearly a year and I have stuck to my "hands off" policy, which was not easy.

My question: How much should I tell my fiance about my past? To be honest with you, I am not lily-white. (There have been several men.) Should I tell him how many, and who they were?

I hate to lie, but I don't want this thrown back in my face later on. Please help me.

ITHACA

DEAR ITHACA: It's not necessary to provide your fiance with the names and numbers of the previous players. I am not suggesting that you lie. Simply tell him (if he asks) that your "past" is a closed chapter, and he will have to accept you as you ARE — or not at all.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Please say something to people who have all day to do their shopping, but wait to do it when we working folks have to do ours.

★ ★ ★

Have you ever tried to do your marketing right after work to find yourself standing behind a line of homemakers, still in their curlers, looking for something to cook fast before the old man comes home? Or some tired, dirty man, just off the job, getting grub for dinner because his wife got a Charley horse in her tongue from drinking all day with the girl next door.

Try it some time, you will get the urge to kill. Thank you.

FURIOUS IN PRESCOTT, ARIZONA

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOSING OUT" IN BEVERLY HILLS: No intelligent, worthwhile man will abandon the company of a mature, interesting woman simply because a "young doll" comes on the scene. There are too many young dolls sitting at home while fifty-ish women continue to pick off the best bachelors.

Calendar

TODAY

TUESDAY

Birmingham Woman's Club, 12:30 p.m., Birmingham Community House. Mrs. Zaio Schroeder on "Today's World." Dessert-tea general meeting.

Drayton Plains Nature Center Auxiliary, 1:30 p.m., home of Mrs. Raymond L. Allen, Fernbarry Drive. Pollution is the topic.

Birmingham Junior Woman's Club, 8 p.m., Smiley Music Company, Birmingham. Grace Scalia will demonstrate use of hairpieces. Members will serve as models.

Bloomfield Hills Junior Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi, 8 p.m. Consumers Power Co., Royal Oak; "A Cook's Tour of Europe." Hostesses: Mesdames Don Carlson and David Scruggs.

'Long Day's Journey' Opens Meadow Brook Run

"Long Day's Journey into Night" has universal appeal, says Johan Fillinger who is directing the next production for Meadow Brook Theatre. The O'Neill play begins Thursday at 8:15 p.m. and runs for five weeks.

Although the play is about an Irish family living in the United States, it had its 1956 premiere in Stockholm, Sweden. It is popular in Japan. American audiences saw it first in New York in 1957-'58.

O'Neill was greatly influenced by Ibsen and Strindberg, Scandinavian playwrights. With them all, the reasons behind the actions are important, says Fillinger.

Although a Swedish designer has made the set for the new play, it is purposely rather vague in time and place. Fillinger wants the words and actions to be all-important.

Fillinger, who is a merry looking individual with very bright brown eyes and curly white hair, has worked with John Fernald for the past 20 years. He also acted in London's West End with Jenny Laird Fernald.

Last season, the Fernalds and Fillinger cooperated in a new translation of Ibsen's "John Gabriel Borkman," produced for the first time at Oakland University. Fillinger directed.

LONG DAY

The O'Neill drama is a powerful one whose subject is the author's family when he was a young man.

In "Long Day's Journey into Night," the family is called Tyrone. The character of the blustering, tyrannical father, who is a fading matinee idol, will be played by Eric Berry.

Jenny Laird will be seen as the mother who has become a drug addict, and Victor Holchak the older, alcoholic brother.

Depicting O'Neill himself when he was suffering from extreme illness will be Jeremy Rowe. Diane Stapley will be seen as Kathleen, an Irish maid.

The action of the play covers one day in the life of the Tyrone family while they are living at their summer home.

Tickets for the entire five-week run of "Long Day's Journey into Night" may be purchased at the Meadow Brook Theatre box office at Oakland University or all Hudson's stores.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Are you performing in living color? In other words, do you realize what a really important effect color has on your life? It has an impact on your appearance, your moods, your personality, and indirectly even on your health.

I have been aware of these facts, but I had never thought of color in connection with exercise. I read recently that Lewis Cheskin, an expert in motivation and color research, believes that certain colors activate you to exercise while others discourage you.

* * *

This is certainly a valuable bit of information for women, because they have a difficult enough time exercising regularly, surrounded by any color, living or dead. There is no doubt that the motivation theory is sound psychologically.

For many years color has been considered seriously when planning the decor of mental institutions, hospitals, hotels, schools, and homes.

* * *

Very bright colors, especially red, are not used in institutions for the mentally disturbed. They are too stimulating. Studies have indicated that children learn faster when the walls of the schoolroom are bright, like a soft but cheery yellow. Soft blues and greens are relaxing in any situation.

* * *

Cheskin finds that red and red-hued shades promote the urge to activity. Therefore, these are helpful colors to have in an exercise room. He also feels that these, in combination with greens and blues, give one the feeling of exercising in the outdoors.

Not everyone has an exercise room. However, you might take advantage of this theory about color by wearing colorful clothing, maybe a red leotard instead of one which is black or gray. Anyway, wear something peppy. You might also have a red or rose mat to lie on. To add another pleasant psychological touch to the exercise routine, always do your exercises to music. This makes a great difference!

Fossil Hunt to Be Seen

Janet Dawson of Ferndale will be guest speaker at Thursday's meeting of the Detroit North Suburban Alumni Association of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority.

Miss Dawson will show slides and discuss her trip last summer through several European countries on either side of the Iron Curtain, while digging for fossils with a group of paleontologists.

Mrs. Irvin Poston of Birmingham will host the meeting at which the slate of officers for 1969-70 will be presented. Mrs. E. McLay Crosby of Huntington Woods and Eunice Harris of Royal Oak are taking reservations.

Mrs. Hascall Is Meeting Leader

Mrs. Forbes Hascall will act as leader and Mrs. William Pfahlert as sponsor at Wednesday's meeting of the Parliamentary Study Club at 1:30 p.m. in the YWCA.

The demonstration annual meeting will consist of: Report of executive board meeting; Resolutions; Forms; Amending constitution and by-laws.

Miss Davis Wed to Ronald Elliott

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of Beacham Drive announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Patricia, to Ronald Elliott, in Donelson Baptist Church.

Marlene Davis was her sister's only attendant. Sgt. Lloyd Elliott, USMC, brother of the bridegroom, returned from Vietnam in time to serve as best man for the double ring rite.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Elliott of Hedge Street.

Jean Keefer Plans to Wed

The engagement is announced of Jean Ann Keefer to Gordon J. Kasprzyk of Detroit. The bride-elect, a senior at Oakland University, is the daughter of Mrs. Russell E. Keefer of Poplar Street and the late Mr. Keefer.

Her fiance's parents are the Theodore Kasprzyks of Posen.

Col. Jeanette I. Sustad has taken new command of the U.S. Marine Corps Women's Reserve. Col. Sustad, from Minneapolis, Minn., and Tacoma, Wash., becomes the sixth director in the 26 years of the Women Marines.

'Sex Revolution' in America Is Very Real

DENVER (UPI) — The "sex revolution" among America's youth is a very real thing, report a Colorado minister, a psychiatrist and an educator.

And it goes far beyond "the Pill" to a profound social change in thinking and a breakdown in religious and parental control.

These points were made by Dr. Janice Norton, a psychiatrist; the Rev. John Graham, minister of the First Universalist Church in Denver; and Professor Arthur Shirey, chairman of the sociology department at the University of Denver.

Dr. Norton, director of the outpatient clinic at the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver, says the revolution affects particularly teenagers and young adults.

"I really do think there's a sexual revolution in progress," she said. "The kinds of problems that patients are bringing to the clinic for treatment slowly are changing in the younger age groups. They are very much openly troubled about sexual problems.

"The old answer about sex — namely that one should refrain from sexual intercourse for moral reasons or because of fear of pregnancy — no longer hold true," Dr. Norton said.

"It's almost impossible to tell if there is more pre-marital sex," Dr. Norton said. "There's certainly more discussion about it. I don't know if there actually is more pregnancy among unmarried women, either. There are more teen-age girls now and the problem is less apt to be hidden."

But she said birth control pills alone are not responsible for the revolution.

★ ★ ★

"It (the pill) is a part of the revolution as are the efforts to liberalize abortion laws," she said. "I think the revolution is a basic sociological change. It has more to do with the revolution in science and technology and the high educational level and urbanization of society."

The Rev. Graham agrees with Dr. Norton that the "sex revolution" is affecting primarily teen-agers and young adults.

"I think what is occuring is a sexual revolution and not an erotic revolution — at least among the 18 to 25-year-olds," Graham said.

"Whereas the society as a whole is hung up on sex symbols . . . in advertising, I think that the post-adolescent group sees sex as a means of expressing feelings. There seem to be more momentary encounters today rather than long-term or lasting relationships."

GUILT IS LESSENED

Graham said young people today do not have the sense of guilt about sex he feels is characteristic of the nation's history, that youth does not see sex in terms of right and wrong, but in terms of furthering feelings of oneness and friendship.

Shirey said he tells his students the country is going through the second of two sexual revolutions.

"The first one was brought about by the Kinsey Report," he said. "The second is being brought about by the Masters and Johnson book, "Human Sexual Response. Ruch and Brucker's book, 'An Analysis of Human Sexual Response,' is Masters and Johnson have done."

HIPS reduced in Size!

■ NOW — reduce the size of your hips (and your waist and tummy, too) while you rest at home? How? By using your Relax-A-cizor for as little as 30-minutes a day. There's no effort! Doesn't make you tired, either!

■ It's a fact! Many adult women lack good muscle tone because they don't get enough exercise. Relax-A-cizor gives effortless, concentrated exercise to such figure areas as hips, waistline, abdomen and thighs. Regular use causes these areas to reduce in size measurably to the extent these muscles lack tone because of insufficient exercise. And the less the muscle tone the greater the degree of size reduction.

Julius Caruso, well-known New York coiffeur and style consultant, suggests trying a new hairstyle to brighten a dreary day. This model wears short tendrils near the face and a sparkling party bow in the back.

Spring hair styles have a natural look. An easy flow of soft waves marks this hair fashion designed by the official hair fashion committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. Waves follow the natural contour of the head to make the natural curve coiffure.

Pay Attention to Hair

Are you tired of dreary, grey winter days when the wind whistles through leafless trees and life seems absolutely dull?

Julius Caruso, a New York coiffeur, advises using one of those dull, grey days to experiment with the hair style you see in the mirror every morning.

Every woman can wear several different styles, he says.

★ ★ ★

Find out what curls can do for you, Mr. Caruso suggests, then add bows, braids and beads to see what brilliance your coif can have for parties—or even just for quiet evenings at home.

This year curls are becoming more evident, especially around the face. Mr. Caruso suggests short tendrils near the eyes to brighten the eyes and make the face more cheerful.

Headbands and scarves make beautiful hair fashion accessories for spring, notes beauty expert Max Factor, provided they are worn to enhance an attractive coiffure and are not an attempt to conceal a sloppy hairdo.

So that your hair will shine and gleam at all times, enabling you to draw attention to it with pride, start now to treat it with hair conditioner as frequently as is necessary.

Then, when your hair is ready to be fashionably accented with a new-now headband, keep these hints in mind so that the total effect will flatter you as much as possible:

● Choose a headband of narrow or moderate width, rather than a very wide one unless your face is youthful and your features are perfectly proportioned.

● The headband placement most becoming to most women is about an inch or so back of the natural hairline. Unless you want to create the illusion of a shorter, rounder face, don't wear a band or scarf at or below the hairline.

● If you make your clothes, or if the hem of a purchased fashion yields enough fabric, matching headband to dress or skirt creates an attractive ensemble look.

Biafra Mercy Flights Snagged

COTONOU, Dahomey (AP) — A second Red Cross cargo plane carrying 14 tons of food and medicine to Biafra is scheduled to take off tonight and make another attempt to return with a landing code for other mercy flights.

After it returns, two DC6 transports, fully loaded since Thursday with 10 tons each, are scheduled to make the trip to the secessionist Nigerian territory.

* * *

Dr. August Lindt, Nigerian coordinator for the International Committee of the Red Cross, said there was so much paper work connected with landing in Biafra that three flights scheduled to leave Sunday from the new Red Cross base in Cotonou were canceled.

On Saturday night, Lindt made the first Red Cross supply flight to Biafra since they were suspended Jan. 7. His cargo plane carried 14 tons of food and medicine.

OTHER FIGHTS CONTINUE

However, church groups operating independently of the Red Cross have continued their supply flights from the Portuguese island of Sao Tome and from Libreville, capital of Gabon.

Lindt decided on the trip after the plane returned from a third unsuccessful attempt at landing in Biafra since Thursday. He said the Biafrans had turned away the plane because it did not have the proper code word.

* * *

Lindt did not bring back the new codes. He said his plane circled the dark airstrip for 90 minutes while he sought permission four times to land. He denied the Biafrans were hostile to the Red Cross.

"We just did not get the right people together," he said. "But we finally got to the right man."

FLIGHTS SHIFTED

The Red Cross shifted its flights to Cotonou, the capital of Dahomey, next door to Nigeria, from Fernando Poo, an island 100 miles off the coast of Nigeria that is part of Equatorial Guinea. The government of Equatorial Guinea objected to the Red Cross planes carrying motor fuel, which the Red Cross said was necessary for the delivery of the food once it was landed.

Flood Damage Put at $175,000

MONROE (AP) — A Monroe city survey team has estimated the River Raisin caused $175,000 damage when it inundated a 20-block area last weekend.

Repeated dynamiting was required to free an ice jam, which caused the river to back up. The basements of 250 homes were reported flooded by the river.

Warren Cites Rights Failure

NEW YORK (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren says the United States is "reaping the whirlwind" of its failure to extend fully to all citizens the principals of equality in the Declaration of Independence.

"Frankness should compel us to admit that our stop-and-go applications of these equitable principles has built up an explosive condition from which we are now reaping the whirlwind," he said Sunday night at a convocation of Bar-Ilan University, an institution in Israel.

Warren received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the university, the only one outside New York State chartered by the state Board of Regents.

Was Carrying $187,118.62

Monied Wanderer Jailed as Vagrant

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Police charged the man with vagrancy. They asked him to empty his pockets. And Joseph Dunbar Wight pulled $187,118.62 out of his tattered clothing.

"I am one of those uncommon men," Wight said, "a gentleman."

* * *

Officers placed the 74-year-old man's fortune in a bank vault for safekeeping, then placed the man in a jail cell—also for safekeeping.

The charge officially was vagrancy—by sleeping in a bus station Sunday afternoon—but Wight could have gotten out of jail by paying $25 bond.

DISTILLING FAMILY

"No one ever told me I could pay it myself and get out," he said. "The police captain told me he'd like me to spend the night and I could go in the morning."

Wight said he came from Baltimore originally and was a member of a prominent Maryland distilling family. He said his fortune came from the distillery.

* * *

"My trust officers in Baltimore wanted me to let them reinvest my money with the condition I could maintain control but it was growing so much I was unable to keep control," said Wight said. "So on June 1, 1961, I converted all my assets into cash and left."

John H. Wight, executive of a Baltimore savings and loan association, confirmed he had a distant cousin named Joseph Dunbar Wight who probably had inherited a large sum from his family's Sherwood Distilling Co.

* * *

"That man has money and it is properly his," John Wight said. "He's been a wanderer all his life."

Plagued by Unwanted Oil

Townspeople in Black Mood

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — It started when oil began clogging the sewage disposal plant.

When city officials tried five times to sink another water well, all they could hit was oil—sometimes only 18 inches from the surface.

★ ★ ★

And it is plaguing the 1,000 residents of the 12-block area which has been affected.

COMPLAINTS

They complain there are strong odors in their homes. Flames on their stoves burn red. Eyes sting. Some have sick headaches.

The problem isn't new, but the severity of it is.

Leon Nelson, manager of the city of 27,000 said it was known that some "hydrocarbon" was in the soil of this oil-rich area for the past 30 years. He said it has been flowing in the sewer lines for about eight years.

"It is only the past six or seven months that it has been this acute," he said. "There is speculation that the water table has risen and caused it."

SOURCE UNKNOWN

Just where the oil comes from hasn't been determined. But one resident has taken the issue to court, claiming the oil somehow broke free from nearby refineries.

She is Mrs. Gladys Cobb, and she says she deserves $15,000 for damages to her home. Her suit names the Sequoia Refining Corp. and Continental Oil Co., both of which have nearby refineries, and the Cities Service Oil Co., which recently sold its refinery here to Sequoia.

★ ★ ★

The city has started selling the oil—just dropped a pump in wells and piped the seepage less than a mile to Sequoia for $3 a barrel. At a peak of 96 barrels a day that figures between $200 and $300 daily.

Meanwhile, the city has installed a special device to keep the oil separated from the sewerage system and out of the drinking water.

The citizens, who can strike oil by simply digging in the back yard, don't try to sell theirs. It's not worth it, they say.

Intelligence Ships Adding Arms, Destruct Devices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy has taken steps to increase the armament on its intelligence ships and to provide them with devices for quick destruction of secret equipment and scuttling, informed sources said today.

Soon after the intelligence ship Pueblo was seized by the North Koreans a year ago, the Navy began a study to find ways to prevent such incidents, the sources said.

★ ★ ★

While declining to be specific for security reasons, officials said the steps include:

Increasing armament on the ships. The Pueblo was armed only with machine guns.

Rapid destruct and scuttling systems. The Pueblo crew had to use axes and sledge hammers to destroy secret equipment, and it could not be quickly scuttled.

Instructions as to what actions should be taken by ships under harassment have been "amplified."

"Command and control" procedures have been examined and amplified. This has to do with how closely decision makers on shore keep track of a fast-breaking situation at sea.

Other "protection measures" were reviewed and increased. This step apparently includes keeping adequate protection forces within range of intelligence vessels.

The Navy has two ships like the Pueblo—the Banner and Palm Beach. In addition, it is believed to have a dozen or more vessels not identified as intelligence ships which perform intelligence functions.

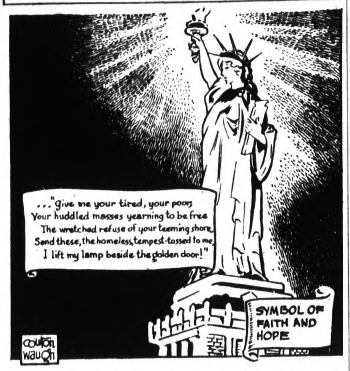
Junior Editors Quiz on STATUE OF LIBERTY



QUESTION: The Statue of Liberty holds a torch in one hand, but what does she have in the other?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: During the Revolution, France was very helpful to the United States.

The two nations have preserved their enthusiasm for the cause of liberty.

On July 4, 1884, the French people presented a huge statue symbolizing liberty to the people of the United States. Frederic Auguste Bartholdi designed this enormous statue and chose its site overlooking New York Harbor.

Measuring 151 feet from her sandals to the top of the torch, the Statue of Liberty is constructed of more than 300 thin sheets of copper, supported by an iron framework.

Two spiral stairways wind up from the base to the crown, where there is an observation platform from which 30 people can enjoy a breathtaking view. The torch contains a total of 19 lamps. In her left hand, Liberty is holding a tablet; this is inscribed with the date of the Declaration of Independence.

On a tablet contained in the pedestal, the poem "The New Colossus," by Emma Lazarus, was inscribed in 1903. The quotation given in our picture is from the five last lines of this poem.

BIAFRA, THEN AND NOW—Dark area shows the territory now held by Biafra, after 19 months of civil war. In May 1967, when the split from Nigeria was declared, the land Biafra occupied was marked by the dotted line on the map.

Biafra Shrinks, Still Holds Out

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — When Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu declared Nigeria's eastern region the independent Republic of Biafra on May 30, 1967, he ruled 29,000 square miles of some of the poorest, most densely populated land in Africa.

After more than 19 months of civil war, Ojukwu and his predominantly Ibo tribesmen followers have been pushed by federal troops into an area one-tenth that size.

* * *

Biafra has lost its seaports in the south and its ports on the Niger river in the east have cut its border with the Cameroon Republic.

Biafra's one link with the world is kept open by relief planes bringing supplies from Cotonou in Dahomey, Libreville in Gabon and the Portuguese island of Sao Tome.

MOSTLY IBOS

The secessionist state's population is estimated at 3.5 to 5 million, mostly Ibos. This compares to 12 million people who lived in the east before the outbreak of war in July 1967.

* * *

Before they were stalled by stepped-up Biafran resistance last October, federal armies occupied all the major eastern cities except Umuahia, which now serves as the Biafran capital. Other centers held by the Biafrans are believed to be Bende, 10 miles northeast of Umuahia, and Orlu, 20 miles north of Owerri.

* * *

The last major town seized by the federals and the target since October of consistent counterattacks is Nnewi, the ancestral town of the Ojukwu family 12 miles south of Onitsha. The Biafrans also are trying to retake an airstrip along the highway between the villages of Uli and Ihiala, about 25 miles south of Onitsha, the Niger River port which the Biafrans lost to the federals last March.

Three federal divisions surround what is left of Biafra. The 1st Division at Enugu, the former Biafran capital, has advanced about 45 miles south and east of the town. The 2nd Division has been bottled up at Onitsha for 10 months. The 3rd Marine Commando Division has swept through the southeast and edged into thickly populated Ibo territory, capturing Port Harcourt, Aba and Owerri. But the 3rd has not moved since October.

Pontiac Area JCs to Meet at Fortino's

The Pontiac area Jaycees will hold a membership drive meeting 7 p.m. Wednesday at Fortino's Steak House, 1250 Wide Track.

* * *

Pat Duggan, past president of the Michigan Jaycees will be the guest speaker. His speech will be followed by a national Jaycee convention film and refreshments.

* * *

The Pontiac Jaycees have taken names from voter registrations and will use personal letters and phone invitations to make the drive successful.

Soviet Writer Has Praise for Formosa

MOSCOW (AP) — Victor Louis, a Russian journalist believed to have highly placed Soviet contacts, praised Nationalist China today and said the fact that he was admitted there for a visit was "a good sign from their side."

Asked whether his unusual visit was a Soviet feeler to improve relations with Taipei, an enemy of Communist China, Louis replied: "Let people interpret whatever way they want."

★ ★ ★

Louis said in an interview he had been denied a visa to visit Communist China, so applied for and received one to visit Nationalist China's Formosa "as a tourist."

★ ★ ★

During his 10-day visit there three months ago, he met with the defense minister, Gen. Chiang Ching-kuo, son of President Chiang Kai-shek.

DISCUSSED POLITICS

The Soviet journalist, who is a Moscow correspondent for the London Evening News, said he met with the defense minister twice and discussed "all sorts of things," including politics.

★ ★ ★

Louis reported he and the defense minister spoke in Russian. The president's son spent several years in the Soviet Union and has a Russian wife. Earlier reports from Tokyo said the younger Chiang insisted on speaking Chinese with an interpreter despite his familiarity with the Russian language.

★ ★ ★

Louis said everyone he met in Nationalist China was "very friendly," adding: "I did not find any hostile attitude toward me or Russia in general."

He described Nationalist China as "a country with problems of its own, with both positive and negative features." Louis said it was "nice, pleasant, not a military camp."

'BEING DESTROYED'

Louis said "all lovers of Chinese art should be obliged" to Nationalist China "for saving art treasures which are being destroyed on mainland China. This is a positive thing."

★ ★ ★

Details of Louis's visit have become known in recent days, and have stirred diplomatic interest in several world capitals.

★ ★ ★

While there has been no official Soviet government or press comment, diplomats in Asia have speculated that the visit was connected in some way with a possible move toward a thaw in relations with Nationalist China to show Russian irritation with Red China.

Opening lead—♥3

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Oswald: "One of the chief differences between expert or near-expert bridge and simple standard American is the opening two no-trump. Experts use it to show a no-trump hand with 21 or 22 points.

With a 23- or 24-point no-trump hand the expert opens with a forcing two clubs and makes a minimum rebid in no-trump. In Standard American the opening two no-trump shows 21 to 22 or maybe 23 to 24 points."

★ ★ ★

Jim: "This ability to split the two no-trump opening makes it possible to use great accuracy in responding. Of course it wouldn't make any difference to the player with today's North hand. With five points he will raise any two no-trump to three and hope for the best."

Oswald: "Unless South exercises great care and plays pretty well he won't make three no-trump. He has the 21 points minimum opposite a rather unappetizing five."

Jim: "Let's see how South should play the hand. He should win the heart lead with his king on general principles and should start after clubs by playing the ace and then the 10 to dummy's queen."

Oswald: "This would give him an extra entry to dummy if clubs break 3-2, but they don't. He can count eight sure tricks. One spade, one diamond, two hearts and four clubs. He can try a simple spade finesse for his ninth but it will be better technique to go after diamonds and to take two finesses there."

★ ★ ★

Jim: "Right. A low diamond to South's 10 will lose to West's queen. West will probably clear the hearts and South will be back in dummy with the queen. He will now lead the jack of diamonds from dummy and let it ride."

Oswald: "When it holds he will take the proven finesse for the jack of clubs and have his nine tricks."

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Tuesday

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Check property, real estate. Get feet on solid ground. Know where you are going and why. Day to ask questions and obtain answers. Rip through red tape, insist on valid information.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Good lunar aspect today coincides with great opportunity for self-expression. You are more flexible, less rigid. Attracts to you one who is stimulating. Romance is in the air!

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Be perceptive. Look behind letters, read between the lines. Key is thoroughness. You could discover apparent minor error. This raises prestige, results in profit. Be on the alert.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Money and romance seem to combine. Law, authority is on your side. Know this; deal from position of strength. Accent on ideas, journeys, visitors.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You complete money transaction. Works in your favor. Avoid starting project. Day to finish. You could receive offer. But be positive of financial details.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Find out the why of events, situations. Be independent. Make inquiries. Investigate. Bring forth creative abilities. Obtain hint from GEMINI message. Purchase apparel.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Follow through on hunch. Be aware of trends, cycles. One with experience is willing to give you benefit of doubt. Be appreciative. Co-operate in charity drive, special project.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Social affair dominates. You may find it difficult to concentrate on details. Be versatile. Display sense of humor. Light touch gains objective. Friend aids.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Accent on prestige, standing in community. Get going on plan which aids career. Push ahead — there is room at the top. Ambition is spotlighted. State needs in frank manner.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Stress on ability to communicate. Clarify desires, ideas. You have ability today to intrigue important individual is willing to advertise your wares. Publish, write and correspond.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Family affairs connected with money dominate. Talk it over with mate, partner. Other people's property commands your attention. All facts have not surfaced. Realize this — act accordingly.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Subject of marriage plays important role. Your way of relating to people may be criticized. Key is to face facts as they exist. Stop fooling yourself. You'll be happier as result.

IF TUESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are inventive — many consider you brilliant. You may be ahead of your time — causes you to have to "pull your punches." Domestic adjustment, change of residence could be in store during February.

DREAMS COME TRUE FOR A PONTIAC PRESS CARRIER SALESMAN

Dorion Lange, 2024 Ridgemont, Union Lake, has been a Pontiac Press Carrier-Salesman for two and one half years. He was named one of the outstanding carriers for 1968 and enjoyed a trip to Lansing, Michigan.

Last May Dorian realized one of his fondest dreams. With a portion of his profits he purchased a five year old Welsh pony. He proceeded to build a bright red shed for winter cover for his steed. A small corral surrounds the shed and gives it a real "Western" effect. Dorian's scholastic record as well as his record as a Pontiac Press Carrier Salesman prove he is certainly one of the very best.

If you are interested in becoming a Pontiac Press Carrier Salesman, and are over 12 years old fill out the coupon at the right. Mail it today! A representative of the Circulation Department will contact you with details.

an 80-mile beach. Farther south dunes. Immediately behind the area are the Pardoo Sands, through which runs the coastal highway to Broome. Many ill-prepared motorists have perished there from thirst.
There is scant activity there now; a few people from the nearby iron ore town of Mount Goldsworthy go there occasionally to fish and swim on weekends. And there has been a party there surveying an air strip.

This is Cape Keraudren, 1,000 miles northwest of Perth, the site chosen by the Sentinel Mining Co., for an iron ore export port to take giant-size ore carriers and for which U.S. President Nixon has given the go ahead for a feasibility study for the world's first useful peacetime nuclear blasting project.

WILL FURNISH EXPLOSIVES

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, announced last week that the United States will furnish the explosives and probably help in financing the $10-million effort to create the port.

A row of five nuclear explosive devices will be touched off 200 feet below the surface of the sea, hopefully by the end of 1970, Seaborg said, but depending on tests and studies of the practicality and feasibility of the operation.

* * *

At the same time, Seaborg added, the project will provide a test for the feasibility of using nuclear power to excavate a sea-level canal across Central America.

Apart from few nature lovers who have expressed concern about possible destruction of wildlife in the area by nuclear blasting, the public of Western Australia seems to welcome the project.

RANCH OWNERS

Most concerned are Karl and Thelma Stein, who own a 750,000-acre ranch called Pardo, only 20 miles from the cape.

The Steins have 18,100 sheep, 500 cattle and 100 horses plus staff quarters and windmills. They live on the property with their son Jeff, 16, and 40 employes, mostly aborigines.

* * *

"This station is our livelihood," said Thelma Stein, "and we want to be assured that nuclear blasting is not going to affect our property.

"The blast area is in the middle of our stock-breeding grounds and we will probably have to shift them."

* * *

Sentinel manager Peter Stork said he intended to assure the Steins that his company did not intend to hurt anybody, financially or otherwise.

The nuclear-blasted port will be the outlet for Sentinel's iron ore deposits at Nimingarra, 40 miles from the cape.

Unbeaten String at 17

Bruising Bruins Halt Red Wings

By the Associated Press

Have the Boston Bruins forgotten how to lose?

Once experts at the fine art of taking it on the chin, the boisterous Bruins have stormed into a six-point lead in the National Hockey League's East Division with an unbeaten string of 17 games that is approaching record proportions.

The Bruins' latest victory was a 4-2 triumph over Detroit Sunday night. In other action, New York pounded Pittsburgh 7-3, St. Louis stung Toronto 5-3, Montreal bopped Chicago 6-4 and Minnesota shaded Philadelphia 3-2.

In Saturday's games, Montreal ripped New York 6-2, St. Louis blanked Detroit 2-0, Chicago and Minnesota battled to a 5-5 tie, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh tied 2-2 and Los Angeles outlasted Oakland 8-5.

NEARING RECORD

The Bruins haven't lost since Christmas night and have dropped only one game in the last 24. Their 17-game unbeaten string is only six short of their own NHL record set in 1941.

Until they finished third last season in the NHL's East Division, the Bruins had a string of six cellar finishes in seven seasons. They've already won 30 games this season and still have 27 to play. Only once in the last 10 years have they won more than 30 in a full season and that was last year when they won 37.

Against Detroit Boston played without All-Star defenseman Bobby Orr for the first time this season. Orr reinjured his left knee late last week but is expected back in the lineup Wednesday at Chicago.

After a scoreless first period, Phil Esposito, John McKenzie and Ed Westfall gave the Bruins a 3-0 edge. Then Detroit struck back with Dean Prentice and Gordie Howe narrowing the gap to 3-2. Howe's goal was his 25th of the season. But Glen Sather put it out of reach for the Bruins in the final two minutes of the game.

ROARED BACK

The Rangers fell behind Pittsburgh 2-0 on goals by Val Fonteyne and Jean Pronovost but New York roared back with three goals in each of the last two periods.

★ ★ ★

Brad Park, a rookie defenseman, assisted on four of New York's goals and Jean Ratelle scored a pair for the Rangers.

Toronto lost its third straight game against an expansion team when St. Louis bunched three third period goals to break a tie and beat the slumping Maple Leafs. Gary Sabourin rapped the tie-breaker past Johnny Bower at 10:39 of the final period and less than two minutes later, Al Arbour scored his first goal of the season.

After Dave Keon drew the Leafs close again, Jean Guy Talbot wrapped it up for St. Louis. The Blues now lead the West Division by a fat 20 points over second place Oakland.

HAT TRICK

Jean Beliveau's 16th career hat trick led Montreal past Chicago in a nationally televised afternoon game. The three goals gave the tall Canadiens' center 23 for the season and 453 for his career. Yvan Cournoyer had a pair for Montreal, running his season's total to 30.

★ ★ ★

Doug Mohns scored twice for the Black Hawks, who were hampered by a freak injury to Bobby Hull in the first period. Hull was cut on the hand when teammate Ken Wharram jumped over the boards and caught him with his skate.

Danny Grant scored his 20th goal of the season and Minnesota's tough defense whipped Philadelphia as the North Stars moved within five points of the fourth place Flyers in the West Division.

COURT INJURY—Player coach Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics is comforted by team physician Dr. Thomas Silva after the big cager fell to the court injuring his knee in the closing minutes of the game Sunday against the New York Knicks in Boston. The knee was strained and Russell is expected to be out a week to 10 days. The Knicks won the game, 96-95.

Sports Car Finishes 1-2

No Laugh When 'Lola' Races

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — They can't laugh any more when Lola sports cars enter an endurance race; not after the way they finished 1-2 in the 24 Hours of Daytona over the weekend.

But the German Porsches, which were favored, and the Ford GT40 team from England that won the sports car manufacturer's world championship last year probably don't have to worry about the Lola-Chevrolet challenging them for the 1969 world title.

Mark Donohue, 30-year-old chief driver and one of the mechanical brains on the winning car, said the team will go to Sebring Fla., for the next event on the 10-race world title series March 22.

"We don't plan to go beyond there and Watkins Glen, N.Y., later in the year," Donohue said. "If we also won Sebring, I don't think we could resist the temptation to go to Lemans."

He didn't sound as though the Roger Penske organization, which owns the winning Lola, planned a serious challenge in the world sports car series even with a head start of nine points.

LOOKING TO INDY

Penske, who wasn't talking much after Sunday's surprise victory, said two days earlier his organization planned to concentrate on a four-wheel-drive Lola with an Offenhauser engine in the Indianapolis 500 race and the Trans-American series where he will race four Camaros.

"We've spent 3,000 hours preparing this car," Penske said of his Lola.

Four Porsches had already fallen and the fifth went into the discard after 18 hours, just after Jackie Ickx of Belgium spun the last surviving Ford GT40 against the concrete retaining wall of Daytona International Speedway. The fire which resulted left Ickx unhurt but eliminated the car.

The Penske Lola inherited first place and held it the rest of the way, beating the second place Lola-Chevy—entered by movie star James Garner—by more than 100 miles although the speed of 98.268 miles an hour was the lowest for the winner of this 24-hour test.

It seemd fate was on the winner's side, even to guiding last minute substitute co-driver Chuck Parsons of Pebble Beach, Calif., safely through. He had never driven at Daytona nor raced at night until he got a rush call to replace Ronnie Bucknum, who broke a finger in a motorcycle spill.

A Pontiac Firebird shared by owner Jon Ward of Saugas, Calif., and Jerry Titus of Encino, Calif., finished third 30 miles back of the second place finisher. Two privately entered Porsche 911s came next.

A Corvette driven by Gerald Thompson and Jim Harrell of Tecumseh placed 45th. Tony Delorenzo of Troy and Dick Lang of Xenia, Ohio, were 62nd in a Corvette after cracking up early in the event.

Two Pitchers of Ruth Era Elected to Baseball Shrine

NEW YORK (AP) — The gates of baseball's Hall of Fame have swung open for the second time in two weeks . . . welcoming two old-time American League pitchers alongside two latter-day National League sluggers.

Waite Hoyt and Stanley Coveleski, contemporary right-handers in the 1920s, were elected to the Cooperstown, N.Y., shrine Sunday by unanimous vote of a 12-man veterans committee headed by former Commissioner Ford C. Frick.

★ ★ ★

Two weeks ago, Stan Musial and Roy Campanella topped the ballot in the Baseball Writers Association of America's regular yearly poll.

"It's the pinnacle of all I've dreamed and hoped for," said the 69-year-old Hoyt, a pitching ace for the New York Yankees in the Ruthian era, when told of his election in Clearwater, Fla., where he's vacationing.

"We're going in with some good company in Musial and Campanella. I'm very happy about that."

SERIES HERO

Coveleski, 78, a Cleveland World Series hero in 1920 and one of the game's premier spitball artists, appeared to take the news in stride when contacted at his South Bend, Ind., home. "I should have been in that quite a long time ago," he said. "I figured I'd get in sooner or later, and just kept hoping each year would be the one."

Hoyt compiled a 237-182 won-lost record in 20 major league seasons, 10 of them with the Yanks beginning in 1921. Coveleski, a four-time 20-game winner with the Indians, was 216-142 in a 13-year major league career that ended in 1928 with the Yankees.

The stocky Pennsylvania native had his finest moments in the 1920 Series against Brooklyn, hurling three complete game victories and yielding only two runs. The spitball was outlawed that year, but Coveleski and 16 other pitchers were permitted to continue throwing the wet ball.

Hoyt, Brooklyn-born, pitched in seven Series—six of them with the Yanks—and had a 6-4 record in the classics. He topped AL hurlers with a 22-7 mark and won his only Series start in 1927.

HALL CHOICE—Waite Hoyt, a pitcher for the New York Yankees in the Babe Ruth era, was named Sunday to baseball's Hall of Fame. He lives in Cincinnati after he retired in 1965 following 24 years of play-by-play announcing for the Redlegs.

Kalamazoo Kegler Moves Into 2nd of State Tourney

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — James Clark of Kalamazoo bowled into second place in handicap singles Sunday in the Michigan Men's Bowling Tournament with a 750 series. He fired games of 233 and 231 in a 633 actual series and was given at 117 handicap.

It was the fifth of 20 weeks for the tournament being held at Westgate Bowl in Grand Rapids.

Retaining the lead in the division was Leo Brewster of Lansing with 763. The actual leader is Al Gardella of Wayne with 731.

Donn's Catering of Flint with 3,291, took third place in handicap team competition. Still riding at the top is Cooper Products of Lansing with 3,322. Actual leader is Tom Gleason Volkswagen of Flint with 2,983.

WRONG AVERAGES

Howard Marquette of Ann Arbor assumed the handicap all-events lead with his 2,050 total when Barry Teets of Sandusky and Floyd Forton of Greenville — who had held the top positions — were disqualified for submitting incorrect averages for handicapping purposes.

Handicap doubles leaders remained a Paul Sims and Don Patnoude of Kalamazoo with 1,406. Actual leaders are Vince Sanders and Clare Johnson of Detroit with 1,312.

Riverside Win for Dick Petty Earns $21,750

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — "I just managed to stay on the track most of the time," said Richard Petty after his blistering 186-lap victory at the Riverside International Raceway.

By so doing, he won the Motor Trend 500 for stock cars, good for $21,750. He averaged 105.51 miles an hour.

"In the past races here I always managed to spend more time off the track than on it and you just can't do that on a road course and have anything but trouble," Petty said after Saturday's victory.

"I just flat lost it once in turn No. 2," he said, "The car was all over the place before I could finally get it straightened out. The other time I had to swerve to miss a slower car."

Only Dan Gurney and Parnelli Jones have previously won the Motor Trend 500. Gurney who was never a real threat in Saturday's run, won it five times.

A.J. Foyt of Houston drove his 1969 Ford 186 laps to second place and $8,400.

Strategy Meeting by Players Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Dissident major league baseball players, threatening strike action in their bid for higher pension benefits, were set to hold a strategy meeting today in a midtown hotel.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association, expected about 100 major leaguers, including the player representatives from each of the 24 clubs to attend the 11 a.m. EST, session.

★ ★ ★

The players recently rejected the club owners' offer of a $1 million increase in contributions to the pension fund by an overwhelming margin. The association is talking strike, and the players have been urged not to sign 1969 contracts until their pension demands are met.

Willie Mays, Bob Gibson and Hank Aaron are among the top stars who have voiced support of the no-sign campaign.

STRATEGY SESSION

With the start of spring training less than a month away and player-owner pension negotiations at a standstill, the New York meeting was called to inform the players of the situation and discuss possible courses of action should the deadlock continue.

The current pension agreement expires March 31. Player contracts are supposed to be mailed by all clubs before Feb. 15 and training camps are due to open for pitchers and catchers Feb. 20, with the rest of the players to report a week later.

At least one owner has threatened to suspend operations for the entire season if the players fail to report for spring training. Miller, in turn, has accused the owners of attempting to wreck the Players Association.

"I would say we are as far apart as ever on the main issues," Miller said last week after three fruitless meetings with the owners' committee.

TV REVENUE

Miller says the owners have sought to delete reference to television revenue in the new pension contract, although it is mentioned in the old one. He claims the owners also demand the right to unilaterally liquidate the plan at the end of the contract and want to exempt former players from participating in any improved benefits.

★ ★ ★

The players turned down the owners' proposed $1-million pension boost by a 461-6 landslide mail vote. Most of them have indicated they will not sign contracts until the issue is resolved. However, some came to terms for 1969 before the dispute boiled to a head last month.

Western Michigan Wins Four Events; Bill Tipton 2nd

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Western Michigan captured first places in four of 20 varsity events Saturday in the annual Western Michigan Relays.

Michigan, Michigan State, Notre Dame and Eastern Michigan each garnered two varsity wins in the meet as three meet records fell.

Records were set by Rod Mack, of Western Michigan who posted a 6.7 in the 60-yard low hurdles for a meet and fieldhouse mark; Mike Hanna of the University of Chicago Track Club, who cleared 16-1½ in the pole vault and Ron Hungarter, competing unattached, who threw the 35-pound weight 57-9½.

Mack's clocking was the best ever in the low hurdles by a Michigan collegian.

Bill Tipton, former Pontiac Central hurdler and now at Eastern Michigan, was clocked also at 6.7 with Mack in the lows but Mack earned the judges decision. Tipton finished third in the 60-yard highs behind Larry Midlam of Michigan and Ivan LeCore also of Pontiac and Central Michigan, now running for the L.A. Striders.

Packers' Claim Lombardi Talk Is Big Surprise

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Any plan Vince Lombardi might have been harboring Sunday about quitting the Green Bay Packers and taking command of the Washington Redskins was labeled by his pro football associates as officially a surprise.

Packers' spokesmen said they hoped to confer today with their general manager, who had remained out of touch as rumors spread that he would ask to be relieved of his contract so he could become coach, general manager and part owner of the Washington club.

Mrs. Lombardi, who stayed at home during the weekend while her husband was in New York, said she knew nothing more of the rumor than what she read in Sunday's newspapers. A report that Lombardi would get 13 per cent of the Redskins stock, she said, "was interesting."

Packer's sources noted Lombardi decided on his own to cease coaching the National Football League club. One source said the general manager probably could regain the coaching post if he wanted too, but noted the club's widespread stock-distribution system would never allow him the glamor of Packer ownership.

NOT SCHEDULED

Tony Canadeo, a member of the Green Bay executive committee, said Sunday that, prior to the rumors, no meeting had been scheduled today to hear Lombardi's plans.

"I'd imagine with all the publicity given the story over the weekend, Vince will want to sit down and talk to us. All we know is what we've read or heard," said Richard Bourguignon, vice president of Green Bay Packers Inc.

★ ★ ★

But Packers' president Dominic Olejniczak said: "You never know what goes on behind closed doors."

Olejniczak, explaining he hadn't seen Lombardi for a week, said the reported move to Washington had never been mentioned by Lombardi, nor had Green Bay ever been contacted by the Redskins.

California Is 'Talent' Hub

NEW YORK (AP) — If you want to be a baseball player, young man, go West.

That would have to be the lesson learned from the baseball draft by any aspiring major leaguers.

For the draft, conducted last Saturday, left little doubt that California has turned into the major producer of young talent for the National and American leagues—supplying 17 of the 24 players selected on the first round of the regular phase.

★ ★ ★

Tal Smith, director of player personnel who tapped shortstop Derrel Thomas from Los Angeles as the No. 1 selection, said afterward:

"Because of the high school and amateur programs out there, the climate and therefore the longer season, California is far and away the most productive area in the country for talent."

That was emphasized throughout the first round as young Californians were selected. By comparison, Florida produced three draftees and Nevada, Alabama, North Carolina and Massachusetts one each.

SWITCH HITTER

Thomas, an 18-year-old switch hitter is the cousin of Sonny Jackson, who was traded by Houston to Atlanta a year ago. Also selected on the first round, by Baltimore, was Rick Dierker, 19-year-old pitcher who is the younger brother of the Astros' Larry Dierker.

In all, 350 players were selected—178 in the regular phase, consisting mostly of high school graduates and junior college players, and 172 in the secondary phase, covering players previously drafted but not signed.

The draft process was started in 1965 and since then the majors have uncovered a considerable number of stars—Johnny Bench and Gary Nolan of Cincinnati, Tom Seaver, Ken Boswell and Nolan Ryan of New York, Ken Holtzman of the Chicago Cubs, Stan Bahnsen of the New York Yankees and Rick Monday, Reggie Jackson and Sal Bando of Oakland.

Falcons Down Flint NW Five, Huskies Romp

Ann Arbor Beaten; Carter's 37 Sparks Roeper to Record

In another impressive performance, Roeper School set a scoring record in downing Lansing Christian, 110-78.

The Huskies of PNH, upset by Livonia Stevenson Friday evening, 66-62, came back in another road trip Saturday and bounced Ann Arbor Pioneer, 75-63.

NIPS FLINT 'S'

Rochester, meanwhile, entertained Flint Northwestern and emerged with a nip-and-tuck 56-55 decision.

★ ★ ★

Rochester, leading the Oakland A League with an 8-1 mark, returns to league play tomorrow night with a home encounter against Romeo. Another key O-A game on the Tuesday slate will find Lake Orion at Clawson.

★ ★ ★

For a few moments, Rochester, now 10-1 over-all, looked like an eeasy winner with a nine-point lead at the start of the fourth stanza, but the visiting Wildcats, who upset Pontiac Northern just two weeks back, battled back and moved in front, 53-52, with less than two minutes remaining.

REGAINS LEAD

★ ★ ★

Sovey made both for a 56-53 lead, but Bob Chipman cut it to 56-55 with a basket at the eight-second mark. Rochester lost the pass in bounds and a shot by the Cats' Mike Roland at the two-second mark missed the basket.

SPARKS FALCONS

Sovey led the Falcons with 18 points, while Craig Campbell contributed 14. Chipman was high for Flint with 13.

★ ★ ★

Ernie Crawford and Joe Bradley provided the spark that carried Pontiac Northern to its eighth win in 11 outings.

EARLY SURGE

Crawford scored 11 of his 20 points in the second stanza to pace the Huskies to a 40-30 lead at intermission, and Bradley took charge after Ann Arbor had narrowed the score to 49-41 late in the third. From there, Bradley canned four buckets and PNH pulled away.

★ ★ ★

Ted Kennedy triggered the third period surge by Ann Arbor. He scored nine points in a row and finished with 13 in the period. For the evening he tallied 20.

Bradley wound up with 17 markers and his running-mate at guard, Eddie Williams, contributed 12.

BIG MARGIN

Bullets Find Good Targets

Baltimore Wins 5th Against Detroit

By the Associated Press

Baltimore — riding atop the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division after finishing in the cellar this season—can thank Detroit in part for its winning ways.

The bullets bounced to an easy 128-106 victory over Detroit Sunday — their fifth win against no defeats in encounters between the teams this season.

★ ★ ★

"They outmuscled us," Piston coach Paul Seymour said, "and we've started to go back playing the old one-on-one stuff."

It was the 38th triumph against 15 losses for the Bullets and matched the club's record for most victories in a season set three years ago. The Bullets still have 29 games left on their schedule.

With 26 games left, any combination of 13 Detroit losses or wins by division contenders will eliminate the Pistons from the playoffs.

OHTER GAMES

In other NBA games Sunday, the New York Knicks defeated Boston, 95-94 as the Celtics lost Player-Coach Bill Russell for at least a week after a knee injury; Philadelphia overcame Chicago 112-104; Atlanta defeated San Diego, 115-103; Phoenix nipped Milwaukee 122-121 and San Francisco outlasted Los Angeles 122-117 in three overtimes.

In the game at Detroit's Cobo Arena, Baltimore pulled ahead 32-28 after one quarter, had a 67-54 halftime advantage and and broke the game open in the third quarter when the Bullets built up a 105-80 lead.

Hot shooting by Mack Marin, Ray Scott and Wes Unseld marked the early uprising for the Bullets. During the first half Marin made seven of 12 from the field, Unseld seven of eight and Scott six out of eight.

OUT OF ACTION

Boston, struggling in defense of their NBA championship, found themselves in serious trouble with the loss of Russell, hospitalized and out of action for at least a week.

Russell, who has led the Celtics to 10 titles with brilliant defensive play in his dozen years as a pro, suffered severely strained ligaments in his right knee in Boston's loss to New York Sunday.

On Saturday, the Knicks clobbered the Celtics 109-82. Los Angeles beat San Francisco 106-101 in overtime, Atlanta belted Detroit 119-99, Cincinnati tripped Seattle 111-96 and San Diego downed Milwaukee 101-95.

Titans Get Scalped by Visiting Warriors

DETROIT (AP) — Banners marked "Squash the Squaws" and "Wup the Warriors" hung in the University of Detroit's Memorial Building, but the more apt banner read: "Eat your heart out."

The sign wasn't intended for Titan fans but after Marquette squeaked by U. of D. 75-74 Saturday it seemed most appropriate.

The loss dropped U-D's record to 13-6 and, at least for the moment, stalled the Titan's hopes of gaining a post - season tournament bid.

"I thought we played hard," said a disappointed Coach Bob Calihan after the game, "we played good defensively."

But, he added, "Our lack of outside shooting was the difference....it has been sporadic all year and when we don't hit from the outside we lose."

★ ★ ★

Titan superstar Spencer Haywood was closely guarded but still pumped in 35 points, including 21 in the second half in which Detroit outscored Marquette 40-33 but couldn't quite recover from a 42-34 halftime deficit.

UNDER PRESSURE

"He was under termendous pressure but he still got 35," Calihan said in praise of Haywood. But the former Olympic ace couldn't do it alone.

"I thought we played well enough to win if we had shot anything from the outside," Calihan said. "Late in the game—when we had our open shots—some of the boys were afraid to take them."

★ ★ ★

U. of D. upset 11th ranked Duquesne 76-66 Thursday and the victory brightened the possibility of the Titans getting a bid to the National Invitational Tournament.

U. of D. hosts Notre Dame next Saturday in a rematch of an earlier game this season, won by the Irish 84-77.

Groves Takes Swim Relays in Ohio Meet

Four Birmingham Groves swimmers in the 23rd annual Bowling Green Relays Saturday swam the fastest 400-yard individual medley relay race ever by a state high school unit as the Falcons captured the meet title in their first try.

Tim Jones, Chuck Mitchell, Steve Tull and Larry Driver posted a 4:00.5 time in capturing the medley relay, one of three events won the champion Falcons.

Groves' 200-yard breaststroke quartet of Steve Chudik, Bill Edwards, Larry Marchetti and Steve Driver won in 2:03.8; and it wrapped up the title by winning the closing 400-yard freestyle relay.

The Driver twins, Doug Tull and Tim Kirkpatrick were timed in 3:54.5 as they beat off the challenge of Akron Firestone who placed third in the freestyle relay and was runner-up over-all.

The Falcons won with 73 points while Akron had 65. Battle Creek placed fifth with 34 points, and Monroe trailed the field in ninth place.

Indoor Net Crown for Clark Graebner

Koch previously had ousted third-seeded Cliff Richey in the opening round, then eliminated the U.S. top player, Arthur Ashe, in Saturday's semifinals.

The upsets continued in the doubles, when the unseeded team of Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., and 18-year-old Bobby McKinley of St. Louis won the championship by outlasting Graebner and Richey, of San Angelo, Tex., seeded second, 8-6, 3-6, 7-5.

CHICAGO (AP) — A heroic comeback by Michigan didn't produce a Wolverine win, but instead set the stage for stardom for Loyola's Wade Fuller Saturday.

Fuller brushed off Michigan, scoring nine points in overtime to climax a career high output of 35 points as he led the Ramblers to a 112-100 nonconference basketball victory.

It appeared Loyola had the game won early in the second half when it had a 58-43 advantage.

But Bob Sullivan and Rudy Tomjanovich rallied Michigan, which knotted the score at 83-83 with 1:50 remaining. Then Loyola's Walter Robertson and Bill Moody each made a three-point play.

ANOTHER RALLY

Again Michigan rallied, with Dennis Stewart scoring five points in the final 30 seconds, including a 20-foot jumper that tied the score at 89-89 at the end of regulation play.

Fuller then led Loyola's overtime onslaught to give the Ramblers their eighth victory against nine defeats.

Sullivan led Michigan with 31 points and Tomjanovich, who had 21 points in the first half, collected 29 for the night. Michigan's overall record is 9-7. Michigan meets Michigan State Saturday.

Deckerville Edges Imlay City Quintet

Deckerville came from behind in the second half Saturday night to hand Imlay City a 67-64 loss in overtime in a Greater Thumb B Conference game.

Imlay was ahead at intermission, 35-32, but Deckerville came on to tie it in regulation at 62. The Eagles then scored five points in overtime while Imlay managed only two.

For New Mexico 5 Smallest Lobo Big Giant Killer

By the Associated Press

Petie Gibson, a 5-foot-8 sophomore, pumped in a 30-foot jump shot at the buzzer last Saturday at Albuquerque, giving the Lobos a 68-66 triumph over arch rival New Mexico State.

It was the pint-sized playmaker's only field goal in the game, but it completed a two-games-in-four-days sweep for New Mexico over the eighth-ranked, previously unbeaten Aggies. The Lobos won 86-66 Wednesday on State's Las Cruces court.

Top-ranked UCLA continued to roll up winning numbers, smashing Stanford 98-61 Saturday night after a 109-74 romp over California Friday night. The Bruins have won 32 in a row, including 16 this season, 36 straight in Pacific 8 Conference play and 80 in succession on their home court.

UCLA and third ranked Santa Clara, idle last weekend, are the only unbeaten major college powers.

No. 2 North Carolina boosted its season mark to 14-1 with a 107-87 conquest of Maryland, but fourth-ranked Davidson fell to Iowa 76-61 at Chicago.

★ ★ ★

No. 5 Kentucky beat Vanderbilt 103-89, No. 6 St. John's, N.Y., topped Temple 65-49, No. 7 Illinois trimmed Wisconsin 86-73 and No. 9 LaSalle clobbered New Orleans Loyola 102-65 in other Saturday action.

★ ★ ★

Gibson, smallest man ever to play for coach Bob King at New Mexico, swept the Lobos to their 13th victory in 19 games with a high-arching shot that dropped cleanly through the cords as the clock ran out.

★ ★ ★

"I've got a bruise on the side of my ribs where Coach King hit me as he jumped up saying, 'It's going in,'" said Lobos assistant coach Norm Ellenberg.

★ ★ ★

"I've got a few bruises, too," said Gibson, a grandson of former semipro baseball great Josh Gibson, who was half-carried, half-dragged from the court by New Mexico fans after the winning shot.

Lew Alcindor scored 27 points for UCLA against Stanford as the Bruins tightened their hold on the Pacific 8 lead. Bill Buntin's 30 points and 12 rebounds paced North Carolina's attack and Glenn Vidnovic hit for 23 to trigger Iowa's upset of Davidson.

WILDCATS SNARL

★ ★ ★

Soph Greg Jackson put in 21 of his 36 points in the second half, leading Illinois past Wisconsin, and LaSalle buried Loyola after running off 17 successive first half points for a 35-17 bulge.

★ ★ ★

Tulsa reeled off its eighth straight victory in the Missouri Valley Conference, whipping Wichita State 94-69 for a 16-2 over-all mark.

★ ★ ★

Kansas handed Colorado its first Big Eight Conference loss, 80-70, and the Buffalos' troubles were compounded Sunday when 7-foot-2 Ron Smith was declared scholastically ineligible involving the three leaders and fourth place Illinois.

After knocking off Davidson, Miller said "We're doing some things now we didn't do before." And then, hinting at a possible upset, Miller added, "We'll have to do everything right to beat Purdue."

Ohio State came close Saturday. The Buckeyes came off a 12-point halftime deficit and took the lead with a half minute left only to have Herm Gilliam tie it up and send the game into overtime after the Buckeyes had missed three shots in the final second.

The rest of it was a nightmare for the Buckeyes as Purdue outscored them 12-2 in overtime to remain the only undefeated team in conference competition.

Illinois bounced back from its Ohio State loss to topple Wisconsin 86-73, Indiana downed Michigan State 79-76 and Minnesota defeated Northwestern 89-80 to give home teams a sweep and a season edge of 18-8.

Aside from the Iowa-Purdue game Tuesday, Indiana will be at Wisconsin but Saturday offers a full schedule with Iowa at Illinois, Minnesota at Indiana, Michigan State at Michigan, Purdue at Northwestern and Ohio State at Wisconsin.

Iowa Hopes to Reverse Boilermaker Home Trend

Ohio State found it out last Saturday as did Illinois earlier in the season and as have 14 preceding teams who have invaded Lafayette only to leave town licking their wounds.

★ ★ ★

Miller and the Hawkeyes hope to reverse the trend and if they do, they can throw the Big Ten basketball lead into a three way tie in which the Hawkeyes would share.

And if the Hawkeyes play as well as they did in Chicago Stadium Saturday night when they humbled fourth-ranked Davidson 76-71, they just might bring about a breakdown in Boilermaker home superiority.

GAME BEHIND

Iowa, which is only one game behind Purdue and half a game behind Ohio State in the Big Ten title chase, invades Purdue Tuesday night in what is another in a string of key games

2 Overtimes for Western

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio —(AP)—It took Western Michigan a full half and two overtimes to recover from a seven-point halftime deficit, but the Broncos finally pulled out an 88-87 Mid-American Conference basketball win over Bowling Green Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

The decisive points didn't come any too soon, either, as Western's Ellis Hull broke away for a layup with just 11 seconds to go in the second overtime and the Broncos escaped with their third conference win against four losses.

Gen Ford led Western Michigan scorers with 26 points and Hull added 19. Bowling Green's Dan McLemore was the games leading scorer, bagging 28 points as his team's conference mark dropped to 2-4.

Lakeland Sextets Divide 2 Outings

The victory gives Lakeland a 2-2 mark in the championship round of the Southeastern Michigan Juvenile Hockey League.

Lakeland's midgets continued to struggle, dropping a 4-3 decision to Warren. Two goals in the final period pulled them from a 4-1 deficit but they were unable to tie it.

Greg Gibson, Bill Hermanson and Dan Romine scored for the losers. Both Lakeland games in Flint next weekend have been postponed due to an administrative conflict at the new arena.

MSU Defense Fails Against Indiana 79-76

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Even though Michigan State played what coach John Bennington called "its worst defense of the year," the Spartans still weren't out of their Big Ten basketball clash with Indiana Saturday night until the final horn sounded.

MSU fell behind by as much as 11 points during the second half after trailing by just one at halftime, but a bucket by Lee Lafayette pulled the Spartans even with a minute to play, and the host Hoosiers had to sweat out their 79-76 victory.

The decisive Indiana scores came when Ken Johnson hit a 10-foot jump shot with 33 second to play and Larry Ginson added a free throw with 14 second left to put the game out of reach.

Bennington was displeased about Johnson's shot and many others the Hoosiers took during the game. "Indiana was so wide open on its shots, it was ridiculous," he said. "As bad as they played, we played worse."

★ ★ ★

Lafayette paced MSU scorers with 28 points as Tom Bogracos added 12 and Jim Gibbons 11. Joe Cooke and Johnson paced Indiana with 24 and 23 points respectively.

EMU, Wayne State Win

Hurons Bounce Back

By The Associated Press

Nationally ranked Eastern Michigan recovered from a Friday night upset this weekend to paste Michigan Tech 76-57 and keep at least a hope for continued ranking. The Hurons were No. 18 in last week's Associated Press poll for small colleges.

Hope fell to Lake Forest 79-73, Michigan Lutheran beat Youngstown 73-59, Lake Superior State beat Grand Valley 101-79, Northern Michigan crushed Minnesota-Duluth 97-76, University of Chicago nudged Albion 73-72 and Wayne State slapped Ferris State 84-63.

Eastern's victory Saturday over the Houghton school mitigated somewhat the 96-82 defeat suffered Friday night at the hands of Northern. The Hurons emerged from weekend action with a 12-6 record. EMU was ranked second among members of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

Tech, which fell to 4-11 on the season, was paced by Bob Bohse with 16 points while Earl Higgins and Ken McIntosh topped the Hurons with 23 and 17 respectively.

SHOW O FSTRENGTH

Northern, apparently encouraged by its show of strength Friday night against Eastern, slashed Minnesota-Duluth 97-76 to run its record to 17-8. Ted Rose scored 28 points to top the winners in the nonconference game. It was the ninth straight loss for Duluth, now 2-12 on the season.

Northern has an 8-9 mark. Senior guard Dave Kovack scored 12 points to move into second place in the all-time Northern Michigan scoring figures with 1,259. The top scorer, Gene Summers, got 1,228 in his college career which ended in 1966.

Pat Ryan, a junior forward, collected 22 points and hauled down 20 rebounds to lead Aquinas to victory over Purdue-Calumet, giving the Grand Rapids College an 8-8 record. Lennie Chase had 27 points for Purdue, which now has a 5-10 mark.

John Door got 33 points and Brad Shouldice 30 as Lake Superior swamped Grand Valley. Lake Superior, 11-8 for the season, had a 46-39 halftime advantage. Grand Valley's records is 7-9.

BIG LEAD

Alma rolled up a 10-1 lead and breezed bl Adrian in a Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association contest. Adrian is 1-3 overall and 0-6 in the MIAA. Alma has a 9-7 overall and 4-2 league mark.

Mike Maiman had 26 points as Lake Forest kept their 48-43 halftime advantage to defeat Hope. Mike Maiman led Lake Forest with 26 points as his team won its fourth game against 10 losses this season. Hope has a 7-7 record.

* * *

Wayne State held Jesse Mangam, who got 51 points in the previous game, to only 15 points to upend Ferris State. Wayne State, led by Fred Martus with 27 points, downed Ferris State. Wayne has an 8-7 mark and Ferris' record is 10-5.

Goshen's 52-40 halftime margin was good enough to withstand a 21 point second half performance by Spring Arbor's Bobby Thompkins. Thompkins got 33 points for the game as Spring Arbor's record stands at 9-10. Goshen has a 13-4 mark.

An arm and back injury forced Baird, of Akron, Ohio to pull out of the Madison Square Garden 10-rounder with Emile Griffith and instead Heilman, of Fargo, N.D., will get the $7,500 purse for taking on the former welterweight and middleweight champion tonight. Griffith will earn $10,000.

The middleweights will go on just before heavyweight contenders Buster Mathis of Grand Rapids, Mich., and George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion from Toronto, clash in a 12-round television bout. The heavyweight fight will be telecast by Sports Network. Starting time is 10 p.m., EST.

Young Skater Wears Gals' Crown

SEATTLE (AP) — The newest champion of all these United States when it comes to fancy footwork on ice is a tiny blonde high school sophomore with tousled hair. Her name is Janet Lynn.

The 15-year-old from Rockford, Ill., put a little something special into each maneuver Saturday night in a brilliant free skating performance to capture the senior ladies' figure skating championship vacated by Olympic gold medalist Peggy Fleming.

* * *

Admitting to a bit of wistfulness at being a watcher instead of a competitor, Miss Fleming —now a professional skater— made the award at the close of the 1969 national championships.

Little Miss Lynn, who was America's youngest entrant in the last winter Olympics, included a triple jump in her program—the first one completed successfully by a girl in national competition.

BIG JUMP

The jump helped her to climb from fourth place at the halfway point Friday to edge out Julie Lynn Holmes, 17, of Paramount, Calif., for the crown.

Another come-from-behind effort brought their fourth consecutive pairs championship to the Kauffman kids, Ron and Cindy, who live in Seattle but skate out of Lake Placid, N.Y.

In other Saturday finals John Baldwin became the meet's only double champion when he teamed with another young Colorado Springs skater, Jannat Thompson, to win the junior pairs event. He had taken the junior men's crown Thursday.

* * *

Jimmy Demogines, 14, Los Angeles, won the novice men's title, and the novice ladies' championship was taken by 12-year-old Dorothy Hamill of Riverside, Conn.

Other championships decided during the four days of skating included a repeat for Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills in men's singles and a successful defense of the gold dance crown by Judy Schwyomever of Indianapolis and James Sladky of Rochester, N.Y.

* * *

Louise Marie Vacca, North Lindenhurst, N.Y., won the junior ladies title, and the silver dance championship went to Candace Johnson and Bruce Bowland of West Orange, N.J.

New Zealand Racer Wins

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Chris Amon of New Zealand took the lead at the start in an Italian Ferrari Sunday and won the 34th Australian Grand Prix, covering the 100 miles in the record average speed of 100.18 miles an hour.

Derek Bell of Britain finished second in a Ferrari, Leo Geoghegan of Australia third in a Lotus Repco V8 and world champion Graham Hill of Britain fourth.

Pontiac 'Y' Tankers Fall at Saginaw

The local tankers produced five victories in the midget class, three in the prep division and two in the junior activity.

Connie Webster won the 80-yard individual medley and 20-yard butterfly, Kathy Irwin took the 20-yard backstroke and 100-freestyle and Roxanne Pfeffer won the 20-yard breaststroke to lead the midget class.

Barbara Norton took the 80-yard individual medley and 200-yard freestyle while Laura Pfeffer prevailed in the 40-yard breaststroke in the prep division. Pam Dell won the 160-yard individual medley and Ann Breen the 100-yard breaststroke for the only firsts in the junior class.

Two State Skiers Score in Jumping Competition

CHICAGO (AP) — Dale D. Ferdette of Ishpeming, Mich., and Dean Gustafson of Iron Mountain, Mich., finished second and third respectively Sunday in the Class B Junior event of the 64th annual Norge Ski jumping meet at Chicago.

The Michigan jumpers were outdistanced by Bill Sullivan of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., who covered 171 and 170 in his two jumps for 180.5 points.

Ferdette leaped 163 and 161 feet for 173.2 points while Gustafson jumped 148 and 151 feet for 171.4 points.

Two Norwegian visitors dominated the Clas A event. Jan Olav Roaldseth, a 22-year-old sporting goods salesman from Molde, Norway, won the title with leaps of 194 and 192 feet while his teammate, Erling Stranden, 20, of Oslo, finished second with jumps of 189 and 188 feet.

Other Michigan winners included Mark Elliott of Detroit who tied for first in the Midget Boys division with Lewis Barczewski of West Allis, Wis., each with 11 points.

Carolyn Kavalauskus of Detroit tied for first with eight points in the Intermediate Girls division. She was tied with Leah Poulus of Northbrook, Ill., an Nancy Thorne of West Allis.

Scores Soar at San Diego

Nicklaus Wins With 284 Total

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tom Weiskopf, a soldier stationed at Ft. Polk, La., may be wondering how Jack Nicklaus won the 1969 $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open Golf Tournament and required 284 strokes to do it.

Weiskopf, you see, won the tournament a year ago, before the U.S. Army borrowed him, and did it in 273 shots.

* * *

And Nicklaus walked away, headed today for the Bob Hope Classic at Palm Springs, with the $30,000 winner's loot in another rather unusual situation. Seldom in these days does a pro golfer overcome a deficit of two strokes, win by one—and do it with a final round one-over par 73. Jack did it.

Generally something like four-under in the last round is required.

As it turned out Nicklaus, the Big Bear from Columbus, Ohio, defeated San Diego's hometown hero, Gene Littler, in a two man duel Sunday.

TWO AHEAD

Littler's artistic 67 over the par 72 Torrey Pines Golf Club Saturday sent him into Sunday's final round two strokes in front of Nicklaus.

But Torrey Pine's tough par-4 holes led to Littler's loss. His five bogeys were all on them.

He finished with 76 and the only birdie he got came on the final green. Nicklaus had finished—with a bogey six on the last hole—and Gene needed an eagle to tie. His birdie broke the possibility of a three-way tie for second.

* * *

Young Dave Stockton and veteran Tommy Aaron had slipped in with 70s and 72-hole scores of 286.

Littler pocketed $17,100 and Stockton and Aaron each won $8,850.

"Scoring," Nicklaus conceded, "was pretty bad this week. I can't believe I could win a tournament with my score after the scores we had here last year. A 284 is not a great score and 73 is not a great score."

It was good enough.

And Weiskopf, a popular winner here in 1968, may be advised that heavy rains earlier in the week, made the course play longer, with tricky greens.

Buzzer Bucket Decides Tilt

Northeast Community Wins Church Open

A basket at the buzzer by center Phil Water enabled Northeast Community to wrap up the 1968-69 Pontiac Church Basketball League championship Saturday night.

Down 81-80 with just four seconds left, Water took an inbounds pass from Bill Foster and banked in a short shot from the right side to give the Northeast squad an 82-81 decision over Trinity Baptist.

Foster's 34 points sparked the attack, while Water and George Schipper added 16 apiece. Daryl Mitchell canned 20 for Trinity.

In the consolation game, Northside Baptist, behind the scoring of Don Fugate (32) and Bil. Yost (19), downed Drayton Heights Free Methodist, 86-83. Les Dieztman pitched in 30 for the losers.

Waterford Rangers Win Hockey Tilt

The Waterford Rangers squared their Southeast Michigan Juvenile Hockey Association record at 2-2-1 Sunday by trimming St. Clair Shores, 4-1, as Larry Helka netted two goals.

Art Lindsay and Denny Lacey also scored for the Rangers who will play an exhibition game tomorrow against Royal Oak at 8 p.m. in the new arena at Flint.

Next Sunday's league game with Detroit at Flint has been cancelled.

Christian Wins Close Game

Williams Hits Shot in Closing Second

Michigan Christian Junior College needed last-second heroics by freshman Ed Williams of Gary, Ind., to pull out its fourth straight league victory Saturday night at Grand Rapids.

* * *

Williams whipped in a 15-foot jump shot with one second to play to give the Warriors (8-7) an 86-85 victory over Grace Bible in overtime to raise their State Christian College league record to 5-2.

* * *

Grace Bible, who lost to MCJC by 20 points in November, sent the game into overtime with a field goal to tie the score, 76-76, in the last second of regulation play.

* * *

Williams, enjoying his best game, led Michigan Christian with 28 points. Teammate Garth Pleasant added 21, and Dan Ludwick had 14 as all five MCJC starters hit in twin figures.

* * *

The Warriors will entertain Midwestern Baptist of Pontiac in their Homecoming game at 3 p.m. Saturday in the Avondale HS gym. Midwestern currently is fourth in the league while MCJC shares second place and has won five of its last seven.

Grand Rapids Nips Orchard, 105-104

Grand Rapids Junior College rallied in the closing minutes and pulled out a 105-104 victory over Orchard Ridge Saturday night when Dan Edwards capped his 40-point night with the winning basket in the final 12 seconds of play.

Edwards' clutch shot gave him 29 points in the last half and enabled Grand Rapids to overcome a late 102-97 lead by the Oakland CC quintet.

Orchard Ridge's balanced attack — Fred Street scored 29, Harold Lowe 25 and Jesse Hunt 21 — saw it lead by 47-42 at the half, and by as much as 10 points in the final half.

* * *

But three turnovers in the closing two minutes doomed the Raiders to their ninth defeat against eight victories. Grand Rapids — who had to forfeit five wins, including an earlier one over Orchard Ridge — is now 13-12.

The Raiders will visit Kellogg CC tomorrow night at Battle Creek.

How to Choose a College—11

Educational Menu Needs Checking

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the 11th article in a series on the dos and don'ts to observe in selecting the right college for you.)

By ELLA MAZEL
NEA Publications

You have narrowed the field of choice, and have written to the director of admissions of each of your possible colleges for its bulletin.

Your first impression as you start reading the catalogs may be that all colleges sound alike.

* * *

More or less lyrically, they do spell out similar lofty aims —to help you become a well-balanced, inquiring individual of strong moral character, considerate of others, useful to your community and country.

Once you get past the general statement of purpose and the history of the college that usually precedes it, dive into the section on student life.

CLEARER PICTURE

Here you may get a clearer picture of some of the differences among the colleges as you note the geographical distribution of the students; the proportion of men and women if it's coed; what percentage of the students actually live on campus; the rules governing dress, behavior, cars and curfews; dining facilities and regulations; religious, guidance, health, psychiatric and placement services; on-campus employment opportunities or formal work-study programs; how and when the library is used; and the details on the various types of extra-curricular organizations and activities.

* * *

If none of this has turned you off, you are ready to get down to what college is really all about — the educational "banquet" available to you.

A selection of "appetizers" gets you off to a good start. These are generally called "distribution requirements" and are designed to force you to taste of a variety of subjects in different areas.

EXAMINE 'MENU'

Just as you might not want to be made to eat caviar when you prefer smoked salmon, you may not want to be locked in with a prescribed sequence of required courses.

In another college you may be given considerable leeway in selecting a specified number of courses within certain groups, with the freedom to choose for yourself between the salmon and the caviar.

Then comes the "main" course." You may elect a major immediately or, in some cases, as late as the junior year. If you have a clear idea on this now, you will want to study the department's course descriptions and requirements.

"For "desert" you have a choice of electives. This is where you can browse freely among a wide variety of offerings, and if you are an academic glutton you will want to have room to stuff yourself.

There is a tremendous variation in what colleges consider a "balanced diet," just as there are mothers who make you eat what they think is good for you and others who let you eat what ever you like.

Depending on the college's calendar (quarter, trimester, or semester), the number of courses you can cary per term (anywhere from three to five), and the number of credits allocated to major and distribution requirements, you may be left with a lot of room, or very little, or electives in your program.

* * *

If the college's curriculum wets your appetite, read the section on admission to make sure you have the necessary entrance qualifications.

Don't worry if you haven't taken every single high school course that's listed.

These are often described as "recommended" rather than "required" and most colleges will make exceptions if they especially want you on the basis of your total record.

Do pay particular attention to the test requirements, though, and be sure to take whichever ones are specified.

Record $6.9 Million for Negro Colleges

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Negro College Fund's 1968 campaign netted the record sum of $6,943,773, George Champion, board chairman of Chase Manhattan Bank and last year's national campaign chairman, announced Sunday.

The amount was an increase of $1,352,000 over 1967, Champion said.

* * *

Weakness in Blue Chips

Stock Market Turns Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed early this afternoon, with weakness in industrial blue chips dampening some indicators.

Gains and losses were about equal. An initial advantage for the plus side was whittled away.

Part of the loss in the Dow industrials was due to the fact that some of its components were selling ex dividend, putting the average down 1.40 at the start.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up a minimal .1 at 359.8 with industrials off 1.0, rails up 1.1 and utilities off.2.

The major auto makers, firm to a big higher at the start, turned irregular, with most changes very narrow. Steels were mixed even though steel ordering last week reached its best level since 1968.

Polaroid opened late due to a jam of sell orders on news the company was planning a rights offering to shareholders. It sank a dozen points then pared the loss by about 2.

U.S. Playing card rose 2 and Diamond International was unchanged. They have proposed to merge.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were irregularly higher in active trading. AMK warrants (when-issued) were far ahead on volume as they dropped a point.

Famed Met Tenor Dies in NY Hospital at 83

NEW YORK (AP) — In 1910, conductor Arturo Toscanini told a young Italian tenor his performance was "impossible."

"Very well," the singer said, "at least I can say that I have been in Rome and that I have worked with Toscanini."

* * *

The conductor reconsidered, the rehearsal continued and a great career began.

The young tenor was Giovanni Martinelli, a star of the Metropolitan Opera for 32 years and a legend in the tradition of Caruso, who died Sunday at the age of 83.

GOT START IN ARMY

Martinelli, who first sang with a choir in his native Italy, entered Roosevelt Hospital last Thursday. Death was attributed to a circulatory ailment.

The singer, known for his mop of white hair and bright blue eyes, got his real start when in the Italian army. An officer overheard him singing and sent him to a family in Milan that sponsored voice lessons.

* * *

Martinelli made his debut in 1910, and the same year was chosen by composer Giacomo Puccini to appear in the Rome production of his "Girl of the Golden West." It was during rehearsals for that production that Martinelli and Toscanini clashed.

Martinelli made his debut with the Metropolitan Opera in New York City in 1913 and became an American citizen in 1945.

SPECIAL PERFORMANCE

He told an interviewer in 1954 he still sang for friends, but "only a few songs, only a few. Then the heart says, 'No, Giovanni, no more.'"

A special performance was staged at the Met in 1963, the 50th anniversary of Martinelli's debut, and performers sang excerpts of the 37 operas in five languages that he did. Martinelli estimated he had sung to 7,000 audiences around the world.

* * *

In recent years he had been a voice coach and was preparing for a lecture tour.

Martinelli is survived by his wife, Adela; two daughters; and eight grandchildren.

A Requiem Mass will be said Tuesday in St. Patrick's Cathedral. Burial will be in Rome.

Black Power Salute at Issue

COVERT (UPI) — Covert High School officials, who closed the school last Friday and today, will present a student conduct code to the school board tonight — including a stand on students giving the black power salute at basketball games.

The school, which has about 350 students — of whom 60 per cent are black, was closed Friday before the Lawrence-Covert game.

* * *

It remained closed today pending outcome of the student code presentation.

No trouble was reported at the game. Supt. Dr. Lewis Wood said some of the students had been giving the black power salute — the clinched fist raised about the head in straight-armed fashion.

* * *

Woods said the school was closed Friday and today for an "in-service training session."

Father Rescues One Daughter, Loses One on Ice

MIDDLEPORT, N.Y. (AP) — A young father ran across thin ice and grabbed his two daughters who had fallen through the ice Sunday, only to lose one of them seconds later when all three fell through the ice.

Douglas Rademaker, 24, of Newfane saved his 3-year-old daughter, Lisa by crawling along the ice and pushing her in front of him after the second plunge through the ice on an abandoned reservoir.

The girls wandered onto the ice while the family was visiting the new home of their grandparents, which abuts the reservoir.

Waterford to Seek Ordinance Changes

First notices on proposed changes in traffic, fire prevention and dog ordinances will be given at tonight's meeting of the Waterford Township board.

The proposals are that township traffic and fire prevention ordinances be aligned with state codes and that the dog ordinance be strenthened and updated.

Also scheduled for the 7:30 meeting at Waterford Township High School, 1415 Crescent Lake, are the Building Department's yearly report, the Water Department's December report and the opening of bids on a tractor-trailer-backhoe.

Self-Serve Gas at New Stations

DETROIT (UPI) — Serve-your-self gasoline filling stations, offering savings of up to 4 or 6 cents a gallon off regular pump prices, are coming in with the computer age.

They're already in existence in a few parts of the country, and are bound to spread during the next 10 years or so.

The magazine "Wheels Afield" reports that one independent dealer on the West Coast has a string of 17 such stations operating with only two persons on the payroll, himself and a bookkeeper. There are no attendants at the stations, no frills are offered. You wash your own windshield and put air in your tires yourself. But you save up to 20 per cent on your gasoline bill.

It's all made possible by the computer.

CREDIT CARD

Each station has one. The customer has a plastic card in which holes are punched corresponding to a credit card number. You slip the card into the computer and if your credit is okay, then it unlocks a pump.

You put the nozzle into your gas tank, press the "on" lever of the nozzle and fill your tank with as much gas as you need. The computer records the number of gallons to be charged against your card, and you receive a bill from the company in the mail.

* * *

Now serve-yourself gasoline stations are not for everybody. Gasoline stations with attendants and light repair mechanics will be around for a long time because they will be needed.

But persons, particularly on long trips who only want a fill-up on gasoline, can get it at lower costs from those automated stations. Thus, the demand for them is bound to increase and American ingenuity is always ready to fill required needs.

COMPUTER COST

The major oil companies so far have exhibited no particular interest in providing automated serve-yourself stations. But some independent dealers have begun to take it over.

One major drawback is that for every station, the cost of the computer is about $15,000. However, the automated gasoline station is generally made very plain without the frills designed to attract customers. The saving on gas is considered the big attraction.

Area Shooting Hospitalizes 2 City Men

Two Pontiac men were shot outside a Waterford Township bowling alley late yesterday following a reported argument over a woman.

In satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital are Antonio Gutierrez, 25, of 14 Summit and Ines Vallejo Jr., 21, of 744 Cartwright.

* * *

Township police said Gutierrez was shot in the abdomen and Vallejo in the foot about 10:40 p.m. in the parking lot of the Huron Bowl, 2525 Elizabeth Lake.

Officers said they are seeking a warrant charging an acquaintance of the victims with attempted murder in the incident.

Witnesses told investigators that Vallejo was shot after an argument over a woman reported to be the gunman's girlfriend.

They said Gutierrez was then shot when he looked in the parking lot for Vallejo.

Pianist Mary Lou Williams' rendition of "Jazz for the Soul"—scheduled yesterday as the first jazz Mass at a Rome church—was canceled by Roman Catholic authorities.

A spokesman for the Vicariate, ecclesiastical authority for the city, said some beat music and folk-song masses had been permitted, but they decided to "rethink" Miss Williams' performance in view of advance publicity.

Atlanta-born Miss Williams, a convert to Catholicism, said, "No, I'm not upset." Instead she played at a Mass and concert held in the chapel of a Latin-American seminary and dedicated to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Actors Leave to Entertain Troops in Far East

Actors Sebastian Cabot and Leif Erickson left Hollywood by plane yesterday to entertain U.S. troops in the Far East.

Cabot headed for troop entertainment in Vietnam and Thailand, while Erickson began a 17-day tour of military hospitals in the Pacific.

Princess, Krupp Heir Married in Austria

Arndt Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, descendant of Germany's Krupp industrial dynasty, and Princess Hetty Auessperg were married in Werfen, Austria, Saturday, a spokesman for the groom said.

Weight Expert Says Shorter Skirt Beneficial

Charles P. Powell, an expert on weight reduction, says shorter skirts have made women more weight conscious and has helped the general public toward better eating habits.

Powell of Boston, an associate director of the Prudential Insurance Co. of America, spoke over the weekend in Pittsburgh, Pa., at a seminar on obesity sponsored by the American Society of Bariatrics.

Saigon to Get 300 Helicopters

Part of Preparing for De-Americanization

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will give South Vietnam about 300 modern helicopters as part of a plan to prepare Saigon's army and air force to stand on their own when the American military role is reduced and ultimately ended.

Sources said equipping the South Vietnamese with about 17 squadrons of helicopters, most of them transports but some armed ships, will start soon and take a couple of years.

* * *

The United States also will train more Vietnamese to fly and maintain the choppers.

The decision to provide the helicopters was made by the Johnson administration, but it is expected to be carried forward by President Nixon.

SUPPLEMENTAL FUNDS

Many details are being kept secret, but the Armed Forces Journal said a total of $98 million for the project is included in the 1969 supplemental budget and the 1970 defense budget.

Currently, there are more than 3,000 American helicopters in Vietnam, many used to carry South Vietnamese soldiers into battle areas inaccessible by ground.

* * *

Some American officers felt that unless the United States moves to furnish the South Vietnamese with sufficient helicopters of their own, the U.S. departure would mean Saigon's troops would be unable to range much beyond the roads.

This, U.S. officers contended, would mean that control of the countryside would fall virtually uncontested to the Vietcong.

The South Vietnamese air force, which operates that country's helicopters, now has four squadrons totaling about 75 older-model H34 machines.

The South Vietnamese will now get the UH1, nicknamed the "Huey," a machine which came into its own in the Vietnam war.

* * *

Officials are not yet certain how many more Vietnamese pilots will be trained. There are some 100 Vietnamese helicopter pilots now flying sources said.

Provision of new helicopters is part of an extensive U.S. effort to modernize Vietnamese arms and equipment so the war can be "de-Americanized." This effort is costing between $300 million and $400 million a year.

M16 RIFLES

Already accomplished is the rearming of the more than 155 infantry battalions of the regular South Vietnamese forces with the Vietcong, is starting to M16 rifles.

The militia, which bears the brunt of much of the fighting with the Viet Cong, is starting to get the M16.

The United States also is furnishing South Vietnamese forces better machine guns, mortars, grenade-launchers, radios and trucks.

Record Budget Eyed for Oakland Schools

A record general fund budget of $1.47 million was approved last week for Oakland Schools Intermediate District.

The 1969-70 budget will be presented to the County Board of Tax Allocation for approval in April. After the allocation board's ruling is made, a final budget will be drawn according to the funds available.

* * *

The expenditure figure does not include special or vocational education, since thdse are funded from separate taxes and are not subject to the claims of other agencies.

The budget was okayed by Oakland Schools Board of Designates, a 28-member body with representatives from each of the local school districts in the intermediate district.

VOTE UNANIMOUS

Twenty-three of the members were present, and the vote was unanimous.

The money for this budget, as well as budgets for the local governments and school districts, will come from county property taxes to be divided by the county allocation board.

* * *

The proposed budget for 1969-70 is about a quarter-million dollars more than last year's. However, with higher property valuation this year, the current tax rate is expected to cover the higher request, according to school officials.

* * *

The budget includes $1.4 million in expenditures and a $73,000 contingency fund for salaries. About $788,000 of the expenditure budget will come from property taxes in the county and $500,000 is expected from state sources, a school official said.

OTHER SPENDING

The intermediate district also expects $8,000 for driver education funds, and will be reimbursed $12,000 for child accounting audits.

Largest increases over last year's budget includes $20,000 for a librarian and clerks for Oakland Schools' new educational media library for teachers.

* * *

Other large increases include those for plant operation and maintenance, since Oakland School officials are expecting to move into a new administration building at the County Service Center on Telegraph late this spring.

La La No Do Da When It Comes to Singing Songs

Music comes naturally to La La, and to her other melodically named sisters: Do Do, Re Re, Mi Mi, Fa Fa, So So, Si Si and Octavia.

* * *

Robert Tai, former Chinese ambassador to the United Nations, named his daughters for the notes of the musical scale and his son, Roy Uranium and Rex Satellite, for important events during the years they were born.

Miss Tai sang a Chinese song and then went into a jazz dance routine in the talent contest Saturday night.

Four Campers Asphyxiated

MILTON, N.H. (AP) — Four Dover High School students who went on a camping trip over the weekend were found asphyxiated Sunday in a camp on Northeast Pond.

State police identified the dead as Wendell H. Miller, 17, Leonard E. Arkerman, 17, Roger A. Goupil, 17, and Allan Sheldon.

* * *

The bodies were found in bed by two residents of the camp area after Miller's parents, who own the camp, called when the four failed to return Sunday afternoon.

* * *

Police said the boys died when the flames in a gas burner went out but the gas stayed on.

Honolulu Suburb 60 Miles Away?

HONOLULU (AP) — Lt. Gov. Thomas P. Gill suggests the island of Molokai, 60 miles southeast of Oahu Island, could become a suburb of Honolulu.

"Its closeness to Honolulu, the rapid development of efficient short range aircraft and the incredible population pressures of Honolulu may yet turn parts of Molokai into a suburb," Gill said Sunday.

A Look at TV

'FBI' Plots Uninspiring

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK—"The FBI," one of ABC's Sunday night stalwarts, has the blessing and cooperation of that agency, and its plots, it says on the screen, are "inspired by FBI cases."

"Inspired" would hardly be the word to describe the usual run of "FBI" scripts. They are usually routine cops-and-criminal pieces with considerable violence tossed in when the action slows and, of course, at the end of each program.

★ ★ ★

Sunday night's episode was fairly typical, although it did have an unusual twist. A Latin American dictator hired the Mafia—in the person of a soft-spoken killer named Richard Schaefer, alias Smith—to snatch an outspoken refugee publisher and return him to the dictatorship.

The rest was routine, good guys against bad guys. Women and children were held hostage, there was a chase and, of course, the last minute flurry of gun shots.

NO TEST

It was followed, on NBC, by an episode of "Bonanza" that was a bit of a departure from its usual format and one that, except for a few scenes, gave the regular stars a bit of a holiday.

'Company of Forgotten Men' concerned a group of shabby Civil War veterans, regrouped by a sergeant who believes that if they raid the U.S. mint in Carson City and seize its gold, they can bully the government into giving them pensions.

The plan worked beautifully since they had in their party an expert safe blower. In fact, if two of the Cartwrights hadn't ridden into town looking for candy, their hired man—he had been taken along on the raid, bound and gagged—they would have gotten away.

ENDS WITH A BANG

Of course, crime can no more pay on "Bonanza" than it can on "The FBI," so the former had to conclude, too, with a shoot-out. However, the show had pace and some style and there were attempts to inject some characterizations among the members of the raiding party.

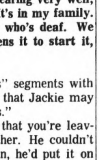
Wilson Hears Art's Laments About On-Off Hearing Aid

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Art Carney was adjusting a hearing aid at his left ear. "This is so I don't have to say 'What-What-What?'" he said. "Like most deaf people, I have a hearing aid but seldom use it. I claim it makes my deafness louder."

Carney was turning it up, then down. "Too loud, TOO LOUD," he frowned. "I decided to wear it today in your honor," he said.

He looked across the living room at his wife Barbara who waved. "I'm over here," she said. Carney grinned. "My wife—forget it—I usually can't hear her," he said. "Of course I don't need any hearing aid with Gleason—not with the way he bellows."



WILSON

The Carneys are about to start a 20-week tour of "Lovers" (Mrs. Carney as an understudy) and the playgoing public will never see anything of the hearing aid just as reporters never have until now.

★ ★ ★

"It's definitely hereditary," Art said, now hearing very well, because the hearing aid was properly tuned. "It's in my family. They're What-What? people. I have a brother who's deaf. We say that when he gets a letter, just as he opens it to start it, he says 'What?'"

★ ★ ★

Art had just finished seven "Honeymooners" segments with Jackie Gleason in Miami Beach. And he hears that Jackie may now do a movie based on "The Honeymooners."

"I'll probably take the hearing aid off now that you're leaving," Art said later. "I bought one for my father. He couldn't get used to it. When he knew I was coming in, he'd put it on and he told me he wore it all the time but I knew he didn't."

★ ★ ★

Art suddenly smiled. "I was just thinking of something funny. Suppose I had my hearing aid turned up loud and Gleason bellowed 'NORTON!' at me. I wonder what would happen to me."

And It Comes at Wrong Time of Year

February Is a Frantic, Fulsome Month

By DICK WEST

He certainly will get no argument from me on that point.

WEST

Indeed, I feel that Edwards is letting February off too lightly. If I were presenting the case against February, I would add several more charges to the indictment.

Among the other infractions of which February might properly be accused are loitering, bad breath and following too closely.

CHIEF TRANSGRESSION

By the time February gets here, most people are fed up with whatever it is that has been going on. They yearn for a change. But February offers no hope in that direction.

Edwards, a distinguished Honolulu engineer and inventor of something called "the perpetual calendar," bases his unfairness complaint on the fact that February has only 28 days.

MORE OR LESS

"Workers paid by the hour earn considerably less in February but may have the same monthly bills to pay," he points out. "Employers paying their people a fixed monthly salary get less work from them in February."

★ ★ ★

Edwards may be going easy on February because he lives in Hawaii. In that state, February probably is a relatively benign month. For most Americans, however, it is a terrible drag.

The way to deal with February is not to add two more days to its span, as Edwards proposes to do in his perpetual calendar.

Although Edwards' concept of an unchanging 12-month calendar with eight 30-day months and four 31-day months may be mathematically appealing, it fails on humanistic grounds.

What we need is an 11-month calendar with the 365 days from New Year's Eve; none in February; 10 days in March divided as follows: seven in January in which to recover in which to prepare for spring; 90 days each in April, May and June; 15 days in July and August for vacation purposes; a 20-day September; a 15-day October; a 10-day November and a 5-day December.

Or at the very least February should be moved to another part of the year. Midway between July and August would be a likely spot.

Iraq Charges Israel With 2nd Air Attack in Five Days

MAKE OVER PAGES

By The Associated Press

An Iraqi military spokesman claimed that 14 Israeli jet fighters attacked Iraqi forces in Jordan today. He said the Iraqi troops shot down two planes which crashed in flames in the Syrian Golan Heights, now occupied by Israel.

It was the second Iraqi claim in five days of an Israeli air attack on Iraq's forces in Jordan. Last Thursday Iraq claimed that seven Israeli planes attacked its forces and one was shot down. Israel denied the report, and Jordan reported two Israeli air incursions but mentioned no action.

Baghdad Radio said one Iraqi soldier was slightly wounded in the alleged attack today.

Earlier today Israel announced that two if its jets attacked a Jordanian village south of the Sea of Galilee from which the Israelis said Arab guerrillas fired on an Israeli army patrol.

PATROL FIRED ON

The Israelis said their planes were sent over Jordan shortly after an army patrol was fired on near the border settlement of Neve Ur, nine miles south of the Sea of Galilee. For about 15 minutes the jets strafed the desert Jordanian village of Mansiya fro which the army said the patrol was fired on.

A Jordanian army spokesman in Amman said the jets dropped napalm on the village. He said there were no casualties but there was damage to farms in the area.

No Israeli casualties were reported. It was the first time Israel has reported a jet attack on Jordan since Jan. 16.

The Lebanese-Israeli border also flared briefly when small-arms fire was directed from Lebanon at the Israeli settlement of Zar'it, 12 miles east of the Mediterranean and a few hundred yards from the border, the Israeli army said.

★ ★ ★

An Israeli spokesman said that the Lebanese fire was returned and there were no casualties in the settlement.

About 100 Arab schoolgirls were injured in the Strip Sunday when Israeli police charged with nightsticks to break up a three-hour riot involving 4,000 girls. The girls were protesting the jailing of three Gaza women convicted by an Israeli court of spying and aiding guerrillas.

Newsweek magazine reported Nasser has made a six-point proposal for peace with Israel and hinted he might agree to talk directly with the Israelis. Nasser told the magazine the Arab states would agree to a five-point program if Israel would withdraw from the territory it seized from Jordan, Egypt and Syria in the 1967 war.

Nasser's interpretation follows lines of the U.N. Security Council's November 1967 resolution on the Middle East. But Israel refuses to give up the Arab territories — its chief bargaining card — until it has formal peace agreements with the Arab nations and until it negotiates what it considers "recognized and secure borders."

Nasser also said Egypt would restore diplomatic relations with the United States, which Egypt broke during the 1967 War, if Washington exprssed disapproval of the Israeli occupation.

Levin Aide Elected State Dem Chairman

By JIM LONG

Michigan Democrats yesterday elected James McNeely, former Oakland County poverty program executive director, as their leader for the next two years.

★ ★ ★

The 38-year-old McNeely easily won the victory on the first ballot during the party's state convention at Detroit's Cobo Hall when his strongest opponent, William Hettiger, an aide to secretary of state James M. Hare, withdrew from the race while voting was in progress.

McNeely of Lansing takes over the post from the State Sen. Sander M. Levin of Berkley, who did not seek reelection.

A former schoolteacher, McNeely had been deputy chairman under Levin on the state level and his chief aide when Levin headed the Democratic party in Oakland County.

Related Story, Page A-4

State Vice Chairman Patti Knox also won reelection on the first ballot.

McNeely won all but 35 delegate votes. Those went to Ron Mardiros of Livonia whose forces persistently held on as they had done during an intraparty feud earlier in the 19th Congressional District caucus.

The prematurely gray McNeely expressed optimism that he could bring together the dissident voices of the party and achieve unity in order to capture control of the Legislature and the governorship in the 1970 elections.

He also suggested expanding of the party's executive committee in order to make room for members of the New Democratic Coalition and other former backers of the Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota.

EARLY TASK

One of McNeely's first jobs in this area will be the 19th District, his own former district, where more than just county boundaries divide the district.

The district is made up of Western Oakland County, including Pontiac, and parts of northwest Wayne County, including the areas Livonia, Plymouth and Northville.

Tensions mounted during the early hours of the caucus over the refusal of State 19th delegates, led by Mardiros to accept a compromise plan recommended by a preconvention credential committee. The plan called for the seating of a slate of delegates from Wayne as well as all those precinct delegates from the Wayne-19th who were in attendance at the convention.

CONGRATULATIONS — James McNeely (right) of Lansing is congratulated by State Sen. Sander Levin of Berkley after being elected chairman of the Michigan Democratic party. McNeely, former executive director of the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity, was deputy chairman before Levin stepped down. ASKING IKE'S ADVICE—President Nixon and former President Eisenhower discuss the Mideast situation in Eisenhower's Walter Reed Army Hospital room last night. Nixon said he also would confer with former President Johnson on the matter.

Hubert Skeptical on ABM Value

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says the Johnson administration approved a U.S. missile defense to "quicken the interest of the Soviet Union" in strategic arms negotiations.

"I have always been skeptical in my own mind about the security value of deploying an ABM (antiballistic missile) system," Humphrey says in an introductory to a report on the missile shield controversy.

Related Story, Page A-4

"I share the reservations stated by Secretary Robert S. McNamara when he announced the ABM deployment in 1967.

"At the same time, I understood the reasons why the President felt the preparations for a limited deployment might quicken the interest of the Soviet Union in meaningful negotiations on the strategic arms race, provided we place top priority on the urgent necessity of reaching an agreement on the ABM issue," Humphrey stated.

In major pronouncements, mainly by McNamara, the Johnson administration insisted the antimissile defense was designed to guard against the threat of a nuclear-armed Red China in the 1970s.

FIRST STEP?

Critics of the system now being built, the $5.5-billion Sentinel defense, have contended, however, that it is merely first step toward a $40 billion anti-Soviet shield.

Cities' Ills, Mideast Keeping Nixon Busy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called his Urban Affairs Council to another meeting in the White House today as he continued formulating plans to deal with the problems of the nation's cities.

In the first meeting Jan. 23, the eightman team of Cabinet members and presidential advisers disposed of organizational matters, leaving today's session open to consider substantive issues.

★ ★ ★

The emphasis on urban and other domestic matters, under lined by scheduled visits to the Housing and Urban Development and the Agriculture Department, followed a weekend in which the President spent much time on foreign affairs.

★ ★ ★

The Middle East turmoil prompted him to seek out two former presidents for help.

Nixon last night drove to Walter Reed Army Hospital where he conferred with his old boss, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, for 40 minutes.

After the meeting, Nixo nannounced that an arrangement had been made so he could discuss similar matters with former President Lyndon B. Johnson. He said his first session with his pedecessor would be by telephone.

Nixon's communications with the former chief executives came amid growing indications that the new administration will soon make its first major policy moves in the area.

FRENCH PROPOSAL

Nixon is said to have decided to accept a French proposal for early talks among great power representatives at the United Nations on ways to break the deadlock in Middle East peace efforts.

He hopes particularly for parallel action by the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

A reply to the Paris government, due to go out this week, is expected to make clear that while the United States sees

Chrysler Buys Orion Twp. Site

The Chrysler Realty Corp. has added another large land parcel to the series of development sites it is buying in Oakland County with the purchase of some 2,500 acres in Orion Township.

★ ★ ★

The land was sold to Chrysler Realty, a subsidiary of the automotive firm, by Howard T. Keating, developed of the planned community of Keatington which includes the rest of the former estate and which borders the Chrysler acquisition.

Price of the purchase was not disclosed.

A spokesman for the realty corporation said the parcel is south of Clarkston Road between Baldwin and Lapeer roads, surrounding Lake Sixteen and Round Lake.

★ ★ ★

The firm has no immediate plans for development of the property, the property, the spokesman said, but purchased the land "to coincide with the growth of the area."

★ ★ ★

"We still have some 2,000 acres ourselves," Keating explained. "We intend to develop on the same format and with the same facilities as originally planned."

Work was begun on Keatington — conceived as a $250 -million "new town" — in 1964, with total development scheduled to take 10 to 15 years.

The vast development is to contain a variety of residences including an apartment complex and townhouses and a private country club and golf course for residents.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler is also owner of two other large parcels in Oakland County, one in Troy and one in Bloomfield and West Bloomfied townships.

'Stadium Would Aid City'

William E. Jackson, executive director of Harambee Inc., says he feels a professional sports stadium in Pontiac would greatly aid in redevelopment of the city.

Pontiac is one of several cities bidding for the facility which would house the Detroit Tigers baseball and Lions football teams. The Pontiac site is near M59 and I-75.

Jackson said:

"As director of a Negro nonprofit housing, redevelopment and rehabilitation corporation whose theme is 'Let us work together,' it is obvious to me that anything can be accomplished with a concerted effort behind it.

'IT WOULD HELP'

"The addition of this stadium would aid concerted efforts to revitalize Pontiac.

"Pontiac has the opportunity to become the hub of the greater metropolitan area; this opportunity can be capitalized upon by attracting new industries and businesses which would aid our growth.

★ ★ ★

3-Inch Snowfall a Commuter Woe

Last night's 3-inch snowfall created a headache for commuters as they hurried to work this morning on slippery, slush-covered street and freeways.

A cloud cover will continue to blanket the area through Wednesday, bringing with it occasional snow.

Tonight's low will fall into the 12-to-18-degree range with tomorrow's high expected to reach the mid-20s.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today 50, tonight 40 and tomorrow 30. Low mercury reading prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 24 degrees.

1-Car Accidents Kill 2 in Area

A Milford man on his way home from a wedding was killed yesterday when the car he was driving went out of control, skidded for at least 250 feet and bounced off two trees in Commerce Township.

In another fatal accident, Mrs. Florence E. Douglas, 57, of 1445 Ranch, Rose Township, was killed at 8:40 a.m. Saturday when the car she was driving went out of control in front of 3154 N. Milford, Highland Township, and struck a tree 58 feet off the road.

★ ★ ★

Deputies said his car was traveling at a "terrific" speed on Commerce Road near Bogie Lake Road at 12:58 a.m.

MISHAP DESCRIBED

Deputies described the accident this way:

Leach's car skidded 183 feet on the roadway as it crossed the center line and went off the other side of the road.

The car hit and leveled a tree, then careened into another tree 31 feet away where the car's back end broke off as it was wrapped around the tree and caught fire. The front part of the car with Leach in it was tossed another 31 feet back onto the road.

Half-Dozen Battles Flare Near Saigon

28 S. Viets Die in Ambush

SAIGON (AP) — Vietcong troops firing from ambush along the banks of a canal cut into two South Vietnamese companies in the Mekong Delta, killed 28 of the government soldiers, and wounded another 15, military spokesmen reported today.

Vietcong casualties were not known.

* * *

$160 REDS KILLED

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 160 Vietcong and North Vietnamese in the fighting that ranged from 60 miles southwest of Saigon to 37 miles northwest of the capital. Eleven Americans and 31 South Vietnamese were reported killed, and 43 Americans and 30 South Vietnamese wounded.

It was one of the heaviest days of action since mid-December.

* * *

The two South Vietnamese infantry companies that were ambushed made a helicopter landing into an area of criss-crossing streams and canals and began pushing through the area. Suddenly the Vietcong cut into their ranks with machine guns and smal larms foxholes and bonkers hidden along the canal.

Another 150 government troops were flown into the area to reinforce the two companies of about 300 men, but made no contact with the enemy.

* * *

A few miles to the north, other South Vietnamese infantrymen clashed with Vietcong troops in midafternoon yesterday and fought them until after dark. Twenty-one enemy soldiers and three South Vietnamese were reported killed.

The worst U.S. casualties were suffered by troops of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade. They suffered six dead and 20 wounded while trying to root out enemy forces hidden in bunkers along a river bank 22 miles northwest of Saigon.

Black Coalition Formed in City

A new coalition of black leaders was formed in Pontiac yesterday with the avowed purpose of making a more concentrated effort at resolving the city's racial problems.

Meeting at Newman AME Church at 233 Bagley, about 35 persons, repreesnting various organizations and factions reportedly gathered at the request of Rep. Charles Diggs, D-Detroit.

* * *

* * *

The two men said the group's activities are still in the planning stage and that no definite course of action has been adopted. The men indicated they would use as a guideline the report issued last week by the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (MCRC).

* * *

* * *

Diggs, a Detroit Negro, indicated he felt the new group will fill a leadership role, around which the community can rally.

SNOW PALACE—Mrs. Dougherty of Kasson, Minn., starts to dig out her driveway and front walk . . . again. The Doughertys' snow problems began when they took a short vacation to attend the Nixon inaugural in Washington. A snowplow removed the white mass from around the house Wednesday, but high winds and more snow combined to create a new mountain of snow.

The slate, which had been approved at the Wayne-19th convention on Jan. 17, was challenged on the grounds that Mardiros, chairman of the convention, failed to accept nominations from the floor. Mardiros was a congressional candidate in the August 1968 primary.

Mardiros finally accepted the preconvention credentials committee plan after being told by Malcolm G. Dade Jr., staff director of party development for the State Central Committee, that all credentials would be withheld unless he went along with the compromise. The compromise plan was later upheld by the full credentials committee.

* * *

A dispute over delegates erupted last week in the 18th District of Oakland County when McCarthy supporters challenged the number of delegates they had to the convention, but the problem was resolved before they appeared before the preconvention credentials committee Friday night.

George Googasian, chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee, presided over the 19th District caucus. "I've attended many meetings," said Googasian, "but I've never stood in front of groups where such explosiveness existed."

APPEALED FOR UNITY

He appealed to the delegates for unity, saying that nothing can be done about "past scars, but we can pull together at the convention."

A number of delegates however, were still angry over the fact that Mardiros' forces had gone into Wayne County Circuit Court Friday in an attempt to get an injunction, it would have prevented the preconvention credential's committee from taking any action concerning the Wayne-19th slate. The suit was dismissed.

* * *

With little accomplished in more than four hours of caucusing Saturday, the meeting was adjourned until 9 a.m. yesterday for the purpose of electing officers to represent the entire 19th District.

Aldo Vagnozzi o fFarmington, editor of the Michigan AFL-CIO News, was reelected chairman of the district, but not without a fight from black civil rights activist Ernest Seay of Pontiac who was placed in nomination by the NewDemocratic Coalition.

'NOT BEING HEARD'

Losing by a 71 to 54 vote, Seay, 86 S. Marshall, said that he ran as a protest that minority groups "aren't being heard in the 19th District. "I had hoped to unite the district."

Following past practice to give voice to Wayne-19th portion and coordinate activities, the first vice chairman was selected from that area. He is Ronald Hecker of Livonia. Rebecca Woods of Pontiac was named second vice chairman.

* * *

Elected to the state central committee from the 19th District were Mardiros, Mrs. Philip Maggio of Livonia, Otis Lawrence of Pontiac and Mrs. Mary Ann Hampton of Waterford Township.

Birmingham News

Lot Rezoning to Be Aired

BIRMINGHAM — A public hearing is scheduled for 8 tonight at the City Commission meeting on a request to rezone a lot in the East Maple Gardens subdivision (Southeast corner of Yorkshire and Eton) from R2 single-family residential to R5 multiple-family residential.

* * *

The city's Planning Board recommended denial of the rezoning petition on the grounds that rezoning the property would be extending two-family zoning into a single-family area.

The board also contended that rezoning the property would not be in keeping with the traditional one-family character generally found in Birmingham.

Adjacent property owners have argued that' erection of a multiple dwelling would create crowding and parking problems in the neighborhood.

The commission tonight will also review a report filed by the Traffic and Safety board calling for a coordinated program on traffic and safety for the city of Birmingham.

The Traffic and Safety Board plans to prmote an awareness of traffic and promote an awareness of traffic and public buildings and parade floats.

* * *

School administration and PTA groups will be contacted to improve communication between these groups and the Traffic and Safety Board.

A list of guest speakers and films concerning traffic and safety will also be established and extended to all local service organizations.

B. W. Bogan of 585 Suffield, a Chrysler Corp. vice president since 1959, retired last Friday after 35 years with the auto company.

Bogan has spoken loud and often for the automobile industry on the need for conservation of clean-air resources.

* * *

His parting words; "The internal combustion automobile engine is here to stay despite all the glamorous ideas that have been advanced to replace it."

"For this reason," Bogan added, "The auto industry is striving successfully to control exhaust emissions to levels that will more than meet federal and state standards."

* * *

He sees a need for national air-quality standards in the U.S. and Canada which would be the starting point of air pollution control. "Then, present technology could solve the problem. All that is required is guidance and the chance to show it can be done," Bogan said.

Bogan is a director of the Society of Automotive Engineers and a member of the Detroit Institute of Technology Board of Trustees and Oakland University Board of Visitors.

News Annual Being Printed

WORLD IN 1968 GOES TO PRESS
By the Associated Press

Our unique news annual, "The World In 1968," is now being printed for you.

* * *

It's the fifth issue of this "History As We Lived It" project and may well be the most significant of all because of the number and importance of the year's major news breaks. From Nixon's comeback to the Apollo flights, it was a time of unprecedented developments.

* * *

An out-size, handsome book of 296 page, "The World in 1968" will be packed with dramatic news pictures in color and black and white, and will contaain also a 175-word text. Many of the articles were written by outstanding AP reporters who actually covered the original events.

* * *

In addition, there is an invaluable appendix recording election results, sports results and other basic reference material.

* * *

Bound copies of the book will be ready for shipment from Poughkeepsie, N.Y., starting Feb. 24, about the same time as last year.

* * *

If you have not yet ordered as many copies as you want you should send $3.50 now to "World in 1968" in care of The Pontiac Press. With nearly 100 more newspapers participating in the distribution this year than last, the supply of books may run short. One of the previous issues is already out of print.

Hickel in Battle to Stop Oil Leak

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — As westward winds pushed a spreading ocean oil slick away from southern California beaches, Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel arrived saying he'll do "what has to be done."

"I'm not here making any charges," Hickel said last night after a flight from Washington, "only to do for the general welfare what has to be done." He has been under pressure by conservation groups to halt any damage to wildlife, fish and beaches.

* * *

Hickel was expected to take charge of the six-day-old battle to cap the undersea well and disperse an estimated 126,000 gallons of floating oil.

Irish Won't Yield Spy's Pal to British

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The Dublin High Court refused today to extradite a 34-year-old Irishman, Sean Bourke, to Britain to face charges that he helped master spy George Blake escape from a London prison.

Judge Kevin O'Keefe ruled that Bourke's offense was political and did not come under the terms of Ireland's extradition agreement with Britain.

Bourke returned to Ireland from Moscow last Oct. 22 and told newsmen he had helped Blake break out. Blake was serving a 42-year sentence for spying for the Russians.

The two met in London's Wormwood Scrubs prison, Bourke was serving seven years for sending a bomb in a parcel to a British policeman. Blake escaped in October 1966, soon after Bourke was released.

HHH Skeptical About ABM

Time and again, Humphrey spoke of the Soviet nuclear threat while making only one passing reference to Red China's "overt hostility."

* * *

For his part, Humphrey said new emphasis ought to be put on ironing out an arms limitation pact with the Soviets, rather than escalating the strategic race with more and fancier offensive and defensive weapons.

Humphrey said Johnson got conflicting advice on antimissile capabilities and limitations, and President Richard M. Nixon will inherit the same situation.

"He will receive, as we did in the Johnson administration, directly conflicting testimony from his scientific advisers as to the capability of the proposed antimissile defenses; and he will receive conflicting intelligence estimates as to the Russians' capability to penetrate our defenses, or shield themselves against our nuclear missiles."

Sentinel has offensive aspects in addition to its defensive role, Humphrey said.

"The Russians will certainly recognize such an offensive potential, as we did when a rudimentary missile defense system was deployed around Moscow several years ago."

Federal Courts' Backlog Huge

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report sent to the attorney general today showed that the backlog of civil and criminal cases pending in U.S. district courts at the end of the last fiscal year stood at a record 97,245.

The report, prepared by the Administrative Office of the U.S. Court, said the backlog rose 71 per cent from 1955, although the number of cases filed remained "relatively stable."

* * *

As part of his fight against the rising tide of crime in the country, President Nixon has called for more federal judges and prosecutors in order to dispose of the cases faster.

* * *

A companion report by the Judicial Conference of the United States also expressed concern about congested court calendars and suggested in addition to more judges:

- A careful and thorough analysis of the inventory of pending cases.
- Notification to defense lawyers of the need to complete trial preparations as promptly as possible.
- Stronger judicial control over requests for continuance.

1968 BACKLOG

The Administrative Office report indicated the backlog at the end of fiscal 1968 consisted of 14,763 criminal cases pending and 82,482 civil suits.

The median time in which a defendant may expect to get a jury trial, according to statistical data in the report, is 5.8 months. This varies from a high of 22.7 months in the Eastern District of New York to 1.4 months in the Western District of Kentucky.

* * *

The median time a criminal suspect awaits jury trial in the Nation's capital is 10.1 months. Even those pleading guilty wait a median time of 8.8 months to admit their offense, according to the survey.

Defense lawyers and U.S. attorneys generally consider 4 to 6 weeks as a maximum that a person should await jury trial.

Shaw Trial Lacks Alternate Jurors

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The prosecution and the defense had a fresh list of 150 names today to tap for two alternate jurors for the presidential assassination conspiracy trial of Clay L. Shaw.

Both sides finally agreed on a jury of 12 men Saturday, then failed to agree on the alternates.

* * *

Asst. Dist. Atty. James Alcock, the No. 2 ban in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's probe of an alleged New Orleans-based conspiracy to assassinate President John F. Kennedy, said he hoped to make his opening remarks on Tuesday.

The prosecution has declined to state if it planned to link the alleged conspiracy and the November 1963 assassination. Judge Charles Halleck of General Sessions Court in Washington gave Garrison until Wednesday to make clear his effort to link the two if Garrison expected him to declare the Kennedy autopsy record relevant to the trial.

Garrison seeking a court order for the record to be released, maintaining it would help back up his claim that Kennedy died in a crossfire, instead of being slain by Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, as the Warren Commission said.

Death Claims Boris Karloff, 81, Creator of Frankenstein Monster

LONDON (AP)—Boris Karloff, the gentle actor who created Frankenstein's monster in the movies and starred in a host of horror films, died yesterday in a hospital near London.

He was 81, had been an actor for 58 years and made more than 130 movies. He made his debut with a touring company in British Columbia in 1910 and his last movie last year in Britain.

* * *

A gentle, courteous Englishman despite the guise he presented in so many films, Karloff and his wife in recent years lived in an apartment in London's Chelsea district and in a cottage near the British capital. Although long a resident of Hollywood, he never gave up being a British subject and returned to Britain to live in 1959.

* * *

Karloff had been in the King Edward VII Hospital at Midhurst, in Sussex, since November. Friends said he was under treatment for arthritis, heart trouble and lung complications.

HIGH POINT

He was a polished performer who received critical acclaim for his 1956 Broadway role as a bishop in "The Lark," French playwright Jean Anouilh's saga of Joan of Arc. Karloff called the Broadway role "the high point of my career as an actor."

Karloff's Hoolywood career began in 1919, but it languished until 1931 when he landed the role of Frankenstein's monster.

He played the lumbering tall-browed creature in only three films, but they set the standard for hundreds of movie chillers.

His non-Frankenstein roles were in such equally spooky movies as "The Mask of Fu Manchu," "Voodoo Island," "The Body Snatcher," "Isle of The Dead," and "Stranglehold."

Domestic, Mideast Problems Are Keeping Nixon Busy

hope in consultations with the Soviet Union, Britain and France its primary purpose is to move off dead center the U.N. peace-seeking efforts of Swedish Ambassador Gunnar Jarring.

In a related move, Nixon will send a friendly message to Gamal Abdel Nasser in the near future, replying to a note of congratulation he received from the Egyptian President.

His note will indicate that if Nasser wishes, as reported, to propose resuming diplomatic relations with the United States he will find Nixon responsive.

* * *

Nixon also has set in motion a plan to visit several Western European capitals in the next two months and confer with allied government chiefs.

A meeting with Soviet leaders is not being considered at this time, although the President hopes to visit Moscow later on.

Party Hostess Asks Guests to Bring Own

Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently we were invited to a going-away party for my cousin. My aunt said, "Bring your own wieners, buns, and a covered dish; I don't know how much your family eats." I feel it's shame my aunt and uncle can't give a better going-away party than this. — Constance.

★ ★ ★

Dear Constance: I'm with you! The only time each family brings its own food to a party is when it's a joint effort and they have agreed ahead of time to do so. Otherwise, the one who gives the party is expected to provide the refreshments.

If necessary, he can always say, "Your whole family is invited—how many of you will be able to come?"

FAMILY FRIEND

Dear Mrs. Post: As a widow of more than 20 years, I have been going with a man who has been more than a father to my son. Therefore, my son has asked him to wear a tuxedo for my son's wedding and stand in the receiving line. Would this be out of order? — Bewildered.

★ ★ ★

Dear "Bewildered:" Yes. The man could act as best man for your son, but he should not stand in the receiving line. Only the bridal party and those who give the wedding should be there. I assume that you—not the man you are "going with"—are paying the bills.

★ ★ ★

He may, however, act as unofficial host—circulating among the guests, seeing that they have refreshments, etc.

JENNY LAIRD FERNALD

By JANET ODELL
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

When Jenny Laird Fernald encountered her first Michigan snowfall, she went looking for "Wellingtons" to protect her feet. Today, two and a half years later, she sports stylish boots with the rest of the local women and calls them boots.

This is not to say that Mrs. John Fernald has become Americanized 100 per cent. Neither she, nor anyone else would want that. Part of her charm is her Britishness, if there is such a thing.

★ ★ ★

That day, she was being very much Jenny Laird, the actress, however. She did change out of her costume, circa 1912, but she left her high white hairdo intact.

Mrs. Fernald is preparing to open in Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey into Night" on Thursday. As the mother who has become a drug addict, she has a good part, one any actress would enjoy. Actors and actresses, we have discovered, prefer to suffer in their parts.

MESSAGE FOR YOUTH

But she thinks the play may have a special message for today's youth. Because it does concern the problem of drug addiction, it may have something to say to them.

O'Neill did not have to use his imagination to draw this character; he had lived with her and seen what dependence on drugs does to an individual and to all with whom he or she associates.

What is her long-range reaction to being transplanted from her native land to an entirely new environment in early middle age? Would she do it again knowing what she does now?

"Yes, of course. It's been a great adventure," she says enthusiastically.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Fernald has never hestiated to criticize some aspects of America and she has not lost her biting tongue about such frustrations as bureaucracy, American style.

New changes in immigration laws make it more difficult for John Fernald to import teachers for the American Academy of Dramatic Art at Oakland University.

Never having driven a car before coming to OU, Mrs. Fernald had to add driving lessons to her schedule when she arrived in 1966. But she did not have to unlearn lefthand driving habits.

Now she scoots everywhere in her Mustang. Driving itself presents no problems. She just gets lost unless she knows exactly where she is headed and how to get there.

SHOPPING

Almost intimidated at first by our supermarkets, she now takes them in stride, but confesses she misses the personal attention of the individual shopkeeper.

The Fernalds return to England for summer vacations — and to lose weight, says Jenny. London life involves much more walking. Here, she has to exercise.

"Exercise is so boring."

Never did I think to hear an Englishwoman admit that Americans make good tea. She does. She also likes our coffee.

The Fernalds' daughter, Karin, paid her second visit to our area at Christmas, staying with her parents for 10 days. Karen is also an actress. Her mother wishes that Karin's career would bring her to this side of the Atlantic.

After the O'Neill play, Jenny Laird will do a short part in "Amphitryon '38." Both are highly emotional parts and she expects to be exhausted by playing in one and rehearsing for the second at the same time. That will conclude her acting at Meadow Brook for this season.

By JUNE ELERT

Proceeds of the second annual Mardi Gras Ball to be held Saturday at the Rochester Elks' Lodge will be turned over to the North Oakland County New Horizons Sheltered Workshop committee. Sponsoring organization is Alpha Alpha chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority.

The chapter's support of the committee's efforts came about as a result of having had Mrs. Robert McClendon as their guest speaker at an earlier meeting.

Mrs. McClendon works with retarded children in the 3-10 age group at the Calvary Baptist Church day care center operated by the Waterford Organization for Retarded Children.

★ ★ ★

In her presentation, she outlined the efforts of the committee to raise funds for a New Horizons Sheltered Worshop in the North Oakland County area, to provide job training and placement services for retarded teens and young adults.

TWO PROGRAMS

Two such workshops exist in Oakland County, one in Farmington; the other in Madison Heights. A number of persons from this area are being trained in those facilities which have long waiting lists of others needing these services. Statistics show that three per cent or approximately 24,000 citizens of Oakland County suffer from this handicap. Limitations of space, funds and distance prevent the extension of these services to all but a few from this area.

The committee is a composite of the membership of the North Oakland (Pontiac), Waterford and Rochester organizations for Retarded Children, banded together to seek funds for the establishment of the needed workshop.

Cochairing the committee are Robert McClendon of Alhi Street and James Hunt of Olympic Parkway.

Speakers are available to visit clubs and service organizations. Contact John Dumas, speakers' committee chairman, Lanette Street, for further information.

★ ★ ★

General chairman for the Mardi Gras is Mrs. Calvin Warner with Mrs. Ernest Mallery serving as cochairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kraud are in charge of the selection of a king and queen of the ball. Mr. and Mrs. Ted McCullough and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell are patrons for the affair.

DANCE AND EAT

Dancing to "The Starlighters" will be from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. with a buffet supper served at midnight.

The public may contact the hostesses or the cochairmen for tickets or Mrs. Richard Falls of Southward Street, ticket chairman.

Donald Richardson of Kemps Street arrives in Pontiac each afternoon with four trainees from his area who are enrolled in the New Horizons Workshop program in Madison Heights. Another driver takes the youngsters each morning.

All Crackpots Don't Live In Metropolitan Cities

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an ordinary man, single and 47. I was recently in New York on a bus travel tour and was having lunch alone in one of those automat restaurants when a woman of about 30 came and sat at my table and struck up a conversation.

She started off by saying she knew I was a Catholic priest as she had seen me in a pulpit someplace and she never forgets a face. She kept calling me "Father."

★ ★ ★

I tried to tell her that I was not a priest, but she persisted. I told her three times to please quit calling me "Father," and I even showed her my identification, but it didn't help. It got to be so exasperating I finally hurried up my lunch and left. Abby, are there lots of crackpots like this in New York? And what is a person supposed to do in a situation like that?

FROM BUFFALO

DEAR FROM: New York has more crackpots (I call them "psychoceramics") than other cities because there are more people there. And the only way to handle them is to do as you did. Beat a hasty retreat.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I'll get right to the point. I am 23 and am practically engaged to a wonderful guy. We've gone together for nearly a year and I have stuck to my "hands off" policy, which was not easy.

My question: How much should I tell my fiance about my past? To be honest with you, I am not lily-white. (There have been several men.) Should I tell him how many, and who they were?

DEAR ITHACA: It's not necessary to provide your fiance with the names and numbers of the previous players. I am not suggesting that you lie. Simply tell him (if he asks) that your "past" is a closed chapter, and he will have to accept you as you ARE — or not at all.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Please say something to people who have all day to do their shopping, but wait to do it when we working folks have to do ours.

★ ★ ★

Have you ever tried to do your marketing right after work to find yourself standing behind a line of homemakers, still in their curlers, looking for something to cook fast before the old man comes home? Or some tired, dirty man, just off the job, getting grub for dinner because his wife got a Charley horse in her tongue from drinking all day with the girl next door.

Try it some time, you will get the urge to kill. Thank you.

'Long Day's Journey' Opens Meadow Brook Run

"Long Day's Journey into Night" has universal appeal, says Johan Fillinger who is directing the next production for Meadow Brook Theatre. The O'Neill play begins Thursday at 8:15 p.m. and runs for five weeks.

Although the play is about an Irish family living in the United States, it had its 1956 premiere in Stockholm, Sweden. It is popular in Japan. American audiences saw it first in New York in 1957-'58.

O'Neill was greatly influenced by Ibsen and Strindberg, Scandinavian playwrights. With them all, the reasons behind the actions are important, says Fillinger.

Although a Swedish designer has made the set for the new play, it is purposely rather vague in time and place. Fillinger wants the words and actions to be all-important.

Fillinger, who is a merry looking individual with very bright brown eyes and curly white hair, has worked with John Fernald for the past 20 years. He also acted in London's West End with Jenny Laird Fernald.

Last season, the Fernalds and Fillinger cooperated in a new translation of Ibsen's "John Gabriel Borkman," produced for the first time at Oakland University. Fillinger directed.

LONG DAY

The O'Neill drama is a powerful one whose subject is the author's family when he was a young man.

In "Long Day's Journey into Night," the family is called Tyrone. The character of the blustering, tyrannical father, who is a fading matinee idol, will be played by Eric Berry.

Jenny Laird will be seen as the mother who has become a drug addict, and Victor Holchak the older, alcoholic brother.

Depicting O'Neill himself when he was suffering from extreme illness will be Jeremy Rowe. Diane Stapley will be seen as Kathleen, an Irish maid.

The action of the play covers one day in the life of the Tyrone family while they are living at their summer home.

Tickets for the entire five-week run of "Long Day's Journey into Night" may be purchased at the Meadow Brook Theatre box office at Oakland University or all Hudson's stores.
