Chief Straley Fired by City Civil Service Panel

Thompson Stunned by Guilty Verdict

FLINT — Jack D. Thompson was convicted yesterday of being the second man in the arson plot which accidentally turned his Teamsters Union pal Frank Kierdorf into a human torch.

The 42-year-old Flint Teamsters business agent was stunned when jury foreman Coley B. Crump said a jury of nine women and three men had found him guilty of arson.

The verdict came eight months to the day after Thompson and Kierdorf set fire to a small dry cleaning pickup station four miles east of downtown Flint. Kierdorf died four days later at Pontiac's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Thompson sank into his chair at the counsel table and bowed his head after hearing the verdict. He refused to talk to newsmen after having talked amicably with them throughout the three-week trial.

Genesee Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth set May 18 for sentencing.

Thompson, who served four years in prison for armed robbery before becoming a business agent, could receive a maximum of 10 years on the arson conviction.

Jurors, mostly housewives and factory workers, deliberated four hours and 23 minutes before handing down their verdict at 4:10 p.m.

Crump said the verdict was arrived at on the 12th ballot after a "pretty hard struggle." He said on the first ballot there was a three-way even split among the 12 jurors — four each for acquittal, conviction and undecided.

The foreman, a member of United Auto Workers Local 599 in Flint, said the fact that Thompson belonged to the scandal-riddled Teamsters Union never was discussed by the jury.

"We decided the case on the evidence and that was all," he said.

LAWYERS JARRED

Just as jarred by the guilty verdict as Thompson were his two crack criminal lawyers, James E. Haggerty Sr. of Detroit, and Joseph R. Joseph of Flint.

They agreed no decision on whether to appeal the conviction to the State Supreme Court will be made until Thompson is sentenced.

Should an appeal be made, it will be the second appeal of two convictions which have grown out of last summer's sensational Kierdorf case which received nationwide attention.

JACK D. THOMPSON

Waiting word from the high court is Herman Kierdorf, uncle of Frank and former aide to Teamsters Union boss James R. Hoffa, who was convicted last November of possessing a pistol silencer.

He was sentenced to 1-to-5 years in prison. An appeal was made immediately.

Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke, who paraded 49 witnesses to the stand to link Thompson to the arson, was elated by the verdict.

"I'm still too shook up after that long period of deliberation to find we have a conviction. But justice is justice."

O'Rourke, who back last August had to let Thompson go because he didn't have enough evidence to prosecute, this time built much of his case around three fingerprints of Thompson's found on Kierdorf's station wagon a day after the fire.

He called three fingerprint experts who said tests showed they were put on the car about the time the Latreille Dry Cleaners went up in flames.

Haggerty countered with his own experts. All agreed the age of prints can't be determined.

Thompson's prints, which he said he probably put on the car's window when he went out to lunch with Kierdorf Aug. 1, were O'Rourke's strongest link in a chain of circumstantial evidence against the accused.

Haggerty never put Thompson on the stand to testify in his own defense. The defense called but four witnesses and wound up its case last Wednesday in a day.

O'Rourke did not have to establish a motive for the bungled arson job to win his case. There was speculation, however, throughout the trial that Thompson and Kierdorf could have been hired by Herbert L. Harrison, owner of Flint's largest dry cleaning business, because Latreille was in competition with him.

Latreille ran a cut-rate business, investigators said.

GMC Gets AF, Army Contracts for $2.8 Million

Rep. Broomfield, City Division Reveal Order for Buses, Trucks

Two government contracts totaling $2,879,252 have been awarded to the General Motors Truck & Coach Division for the production of 341 Air Force buses and 311 dump trucks and a truck wrecker for the Army.

The announcement of the $1,323,812 contract for the 312 vehicles for the Army was announced by Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County). The $1,555,440 contract for the 341 buses for use on Air Force installations was announced by GMC division.

Both contracts were awarded by the Ordnance Tank and Automotive Command in Detroit.

The contract for the Air Force buses calls for the division to produce 311 of the 341 with 29-passenger bodies on the GMC Truck Model S375, a popular commercial school bus chassis, the division said.

The other 30 buses will be 45-passenger type with a forward control unit containing automatic transmission.

The Army contract calls for the local plant to manufacture the cabs and chassis for the 311 single-axle Model 450 dump trucks. The four-cubic-yard dump bodies later will be manufactured and mounted by the Marion Metal Products of Marion, Ohio.

The GMC division, likewise, will turn out the cab and chassis for the five-ton wrecker. The body will be that of the Weldbuilt Body Co., Inc. of Brooklyn, N.Y.

From the Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Byron Nelson, a two-time winner, withdrew from the 23rd Masters Golf Tournament today on doctor's orders.

Nelson, from Roanoke, Tex., has played in every Masters except one and qualified for the final two rounds this year with a 74-74—148. His physician said he believed Nelson had nothing more than a virus infection. But because he had some temperature his doctor recommended he withdraw.

Bright, sunny skies and warm temperatures prevailed for the start of the third round, with defending champion Arnold Palmer leading the field by two strokes at 141.

The time for the first twosome—Don January and Lionel Herbert—was 12:15 p.m. (EST).

Palmer's starting time was 2:21, half an hour behind Stan Leonard, the little Canadian champion who started the day in second place at 143.

Expected Decision

HERBERT W. STRALEY

Unanimous Vote Cites Incompetency, Neglect

By MAX E. SIMON

Herbert W. Straley was officially fired today as Pontiac police chief.

By unanimous vote, the city's three-man Civil Service Commission upheld charges filed against Straley by City Manager Walter K. Willman.

"The ruling of the Civil Service Commission is that Herbert W. Straley be and is hereby suspended and discharged," the Commission decision said.

Commissioners found Straley guilty of inefficiency, incompetency, insubordination, neglect of duty and failure to maintain good behavior in the performance and discharge of his duties as chief of police.

Straley took the news of his official ouster rather calmly at first when informed of it at his home this morning.

"It is nothing more than what I expected," he replied bitterly. He said Eastman had "succeeded with his hatchet job on me."

He again blasted the eight members of the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. who he said were "trying to run the department their way."

"Eastman will find this out to his own sorrow," Straley said. He quickly added, "If he is still here."

Straley criticised the "leading question" tactics of City Attorney William A. Ewart and A. Floyd Blakeslee, Ewart's assistant. He wouldn't comment, however, on whether he had received a fair hearing.

The ouster will, as expected, be appealed to Oakland County Circuit Court and to the State Supreme Court if necessary, Straley confirmed.

"It will be shown there that these city officials were entirely wrong and that I was dedicated to my job from the start," Straley remarked.

Straley was suspended Feb. 9 by Willman.

The Commission's decision was the climax of two years of controversy in the Police Department.

First demands for Straley's ouster came in May of 1957 when the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. petitioned for Straley's removal.

The feud between Straley and the PPOA led the City Commission to hire the Public Administration Service of Chicago, a private consulting firm, to investigate the department.

The PAS report was highly critical of Straley's reign as chief. It called the department inefficient and morale low.

The report recommended the hiring of a full-time public safety director to help correct department deficiencies.

Willman hired George D. Eastman, former Seattle police chief, for this post.

Eastman arrived in Pontiac in October 1958 and stripped Straley of command powers Nov. 12. At that time, he asked Willman to file charges against the chief, but Willman refused.

Here's How Straley Case Developed

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley's dismissal today climaxes a long history of trouble within the Police Department.

The battle between Straley and many of the men who worked for him burst into the open 22 months ago when officers won Civil Service and the right to sound their complaints in public.

The charges and counter-charges which followed led eventually to the hiring of George D. Eastman as public safety director and Eastman's decision to get rid of Straley.

Sept. 18, 1957 — Worried about internal strife within the Police Department city commissioners authorize the $9,000 study by the Public Administration Service of Chicago.

May 7, 1958 — The PAS issues a blistering report, criticizing Straley for low morale and inefficiency.

Aug. 30 — Straley's name is linked to Basil W. Burke, described as the ringleader of a $1 million-a-year bookie ring smashed by State Police. The chief denies anything improper.

Oct. 7 — Appointed by City Manager Walter K. Willman, Eastman takes over as public safety director

Shooting Is a Hoax, Oxford Officer Says

The widespread police search for the mysterious assailant of a wounded Oxford policeman came to an abrupt end late yesterday when it was revealed the whole story was a hoax.

Patrolman Roscoe Zolman, 28, admitted to Oakland County sheriff's detectives and Oxford Police Chief Albert Roberts at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital that he had shot himself accidentally.

"I was ashamed to come back and admit that I had pulled a boner like that," he explained.

Zolman was discharged from the department immediately and "any further action is pending," Chief Roberts said.

Zolman, who lives at 53 Hovey St., said he accidentally shot himself while trying to shoot at a rat running across Lakeville road at the Oxford Village dump.

"He told us he saw the rat in front of his car. He stopped and was going to shoot at it through the open window but the rat ran out of his line of fire," Roberts said.

Zolman revealed he had the revolver in his right hand resting on the steering wheel, and a flash-

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University Hospital, a unit of the University of Michigan Medical Center, will accept no more patients from state institutions, except in emergencies, until the state pays an overdue bill of $515,000. The state's general fund faces a 130 million dollar deficit by June 30, unless something is done.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Three airmen were killed today when a B47 jet bomber from Davis-Monthan Air Force Base crashed in the rugged Santa Rita Mountains near Tucson.

The Air Force identified two of the victims as Maj. Kermit Wagner, 39, of Tucson, and 1st Lt. Thomas A. Wilkie, 31, hometown unavailable. The third airman was not identified immediately.

Plane Makes Willow Run

All Safe in Belly Landing

DETROIT (AP) — A Capital Airlines turbo-prop passenger plane made a safe wheels-up, belly landing at Willow Run Airport yesterday afternoon.

The big four-engine Viscount came down "like a feather" and swished into a cushion of protective foam spread 2,000 feet along the runway.

None of the eight passengers or three crew members was harmed.

For nearly three hours Capt. Earl D. Nygren of Belleville, 41, the pilot, had circled the airport because a landing wheel refused to operate.

On the ground, airport employes spread the foam on the runway to aid in the landing. Fire engines and ambulances drove up and stood by.

PASSENGERS CALM

On board the crippled ship Nygren and stewardess Joan Michta, 27, of Ypsilanti, explained the situation to the passengers.

Miss Michta said afterwards all the passengers were calm and cooperative. Among those was Dr. James Short, 34, a University of Michigan professor.

The Rev. Richard L. Harbour, Episcopal minister of Greenwich, Conn., said:

"I shouted hallelujah, when the plane stopped. And a passenger behind me echoed, 'You said it, Praise God.'"

Hot Local Issues Spur Interest

85,000 County Voters Expected Monday

About one-fourth of Oakland County's voters are expected to go to the polls Monday, including an estimated 8,000 or more registered voters in Pontiac.

Spurred by the first Oakland County judicial contest in six years, about 85,000 of the county's 294,000 registered voters are expected to cast ballots, said Daniel T. Murphy, county clerk register.

There are 36,336 registered voters in Pontiac, fewer than the 37,600 registered at the time of the state's last biennial spring election in 1957. But hot local issues are expected to pull out a larger voter turnout this year. There were 7,596 Pontiac votes cast in 1957's April election, and about 24,700 throughout the county.

On Monday's non-partisan ballot, voters will be choosing five men to serve on the Oakland County Circuit Court bench for six-year terms beginning Jan. 1; one man to serve for a short, six-months term beginning July 1; and one man to fill out a vacancy until Jan. 1.

There are 10 candidates for the six-year terms; two for the six-month term; and only one for the vacancy.

Voters will also be passing on three state propositions, 12 state educational posts, and two State Supreme Court posts.

There will be partisan elections for local offices in 21 townships and in several villages and cities. Many other communities have local issues before the voters, also.

It's an off-year for the City Commission in Pontiac, with the present two-year Commission serving until next spring.

OPEN 7 A.M. to 8 P.M.

Polls open at 7 a.m. and anyone standing in line at the 8 p.m. closing time will be allowed to vote.

Banks will be closed because of the election.

Pontiac voters may find the ballot a little tricky when they enter the automatic voting machine booth.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said the ballot has three colors to make things simpler, and each voter must indicate choices within each color in order to vote fully.

Pontiac proposition No. 1 is to repeal Civil Service for police — a "yes" vote is a vote for repeal.

Pontiac proposition No. 2 is to repeal the city's tavern ordinance, which has taverns opening at 2 p.m. Sundays instead of at noon — a "yes" vote is a vote for repeal.

Pontiac proposition No. 3 is for approval of a $3,300,000 general obligation bond issue to finance new sewage treatment facilities — a "yes" vote is a vote for approval.

All registered voters are eligible to pass on the first and second propositions, but only registered voters who are property owners (and their wives, if they are also registered) can pass on the third proposition.

It will take only a simple majority to pass propositions No. 1 and No. 2, but a three-fifths majority must approve the bond issue proposal if it is to pass.

Here's Peek at Major State Candidates

LANSING (AP)—Here is the list of major party candidates for statewide offices in Monday's election (X denotes incumbent):

University of Michigan Board of Regents (two seats to be filled)—Frederick C. Matthaei (R), Ann Timmons Burgess (R), William K. McInally (D) and Ellis A. Wunsch (D).

State Board of Agriculture, Michigan State University governing body (two seats to be filled)—Arthur K. Rouse (R) (X), Frank Merriman (R), Earl J. Bjornseth (D) and Warren M. Huff (D).

For four-year terms—Dr. Warren B. Cooksey (R), Albert B. Chennault (R), Dr. Michael Ference Jr. (D) and Leonard Woodcock (D).

Republicans and Democrats each nominated two candidates for the two spots on the non-partisan State Supreme Court ballot. Democratic nominees are John D. Voelker and George Edwards, incumbents. Republican choices are William H. Baldwin and Maurice Cole.

Pontiac Worker Suing Police

Charges False Arrest in Numbers Raid, Name Straley, Eastman

Former Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, Public Safety Director George D. Eastman and Detective Richard G. Evans are being sued for $250,000 by a Pontiac factory worker who claims he was falsely arrested in a raid last December on an alleged numbers ring in the city.

Filing a damage suit in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday was Wilson Magby, 32, a Pontiac Motor Division employe formerly from Waterford Township and now of Detroit.

The suit is the first to grow out of raids by city police last Dec. 5 in which 65 persons were arrested, charged with investigation of conspiracy to violate Michigan's gambling laws.

Only 11 of those arrested, however, were convicted, and not on the original charge, but on reduced loitering charges.

Magby, one of those arrested who had charges later dismissed against them, charges "his character has become one of a questionable nature" because of the arrest. He said further the charge against him was "instituted maliciously and without probable cause or foundation."

Also, Magby said he had to spend $395 to post a bond to get out of jail, to hire an attorney, and for medical bills as a result of having to sit outside in subzero weather without his coat when the patrol wagon taking him to jail ran out of gas. He said Evans didn't even allow him to get his topcoat when arrested.

He accrued the medical bills, he said, after coming down with a cold and fever as a result.

The suit against the three and the Police Department states, too, Magby's claims that he lost three days of work and $57.30 in wages after being arrested at the plant by Evans. Evans, the suit says, was acting under Straley's and Eastman's instructions.

Police refused to let him call his wife or an attorney, he claims, while being held overnight at the county jail.

GOP PROTEST MARCH—Shoppers at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center last night were greeted by this group of Young Republicans of Oakland County. Williams' bankrupt mess' of state finances, said Joe Blanco, president of the county's Young Republicans.

Schools Pinch Pennies

By The Associated Press

Michigan's money-pinched public schools are meeting the problem in various ways, an Associated Press survey finds.

These range from an extreme of teacher pay cuts to reductions in extra-curricular programs. In between are cutbacks at the classroom level itself. The half-day school schedule has been one.

On the whole, a moderate approach appears to have been taken by school administrators. But it was also clear that John and Jane don't get quite as much at school as they did before.

A public aloofness toward spending more money for support of schools has been a factor.

Detroit comes to grips with that issue Monday when voters decide whether to continue an extra 4½ mill school tax due to expire in June plus an additional three mills, and whether to approve a 60-million-dollar bond issue for new school construction. Detroit has never gone into debt on its public school system.

Backers of the millage proposal, including Mayor Louis Miriani, say its defeat would mean the layoff of possibly 1,000 teachers and a 10 per cent teachers' paycut.

Royal Oak, Detroit's second largest suburb, announced a 13 per cent cut in its 1959-60 school budget Thursday, a month after voters rejected a $7 per $1,000 tax levy.

The cut, effective next fall, will mean: Cancellation of plans to hire an additional 80 teachers; one semester of half-day sessions for all grade school pupils; elimination of foreign language and instrumental music programs in elementary schools; shortened class periods for junior and senior high schools; increased fees in home economics, shop, art and adult education courses; require all athletic programs to pay for themselves; and cuts in driver training back to the level of funds supplied directly by the state.

Dexter School District of Washtenaw County rescinded a teachers' pay increase after voters for a fourth time since last July turned down a millage increase. Starting pay was to have been $4,000 a year, but the school board decided to retain it at $3,800.

The Manchester District, also in Washtenaw County, curtailed its school bus service and reduced its vocal music studies and physical education program.

Spring Lake undertakes an austerity program next September. This follows voter defeat of a tax increase. Teacher pay and bus transportation will be reduced, and the school term will be cut to 37 weeks, a loss of one.

The school band program will be curtailed. There will be no need for an athletic director. Students are to be charged a $5 fee for books and supplies; the schools paid for all this previously.

Pay of Spring Lake's 26 teachers will be cut from $123 to $470 a year. This will mean starting salaries of $4,000 for teachers with bachelor degrees.

East Jordan is cutting its athletic and school music programs for next year. There will be a curtailment in bus service. The visual aid program will be reduced.

In addition, the board of education intends to charge a fee for use of school buildings by community groups.

The Hart school board is curtailing its music and athletic programs. It also is reducing bus and library services and eliminating some teacher work. In athletics, freshman football and basketball are to be eliminated.

Niles has announced an extensive economy plan to effect a $152,000 saving. It includes elimination of 20 teachers and sharp curricular curtailments. Bus service is to be given up.

Physical education in the 7th and 8th grades will be dropped. The senior high school band trips are to be discontinued. The high school will quit buying band instruments. Vocal and instrumental music teaching is being cut heavily.

The school system also will quit its contributions to certain programs, including school crossing guards, the school nurse program, and a summer recreation project.

Several schools in the Battle area cut back this year and will effect more economies for next school year. At Niles the voters rejected tax increases for the schools.

Throughout this school year all 12 grades of Bellevue Consolidated School of the Battle Creek area have been on half-day sessions. Varsity sport gets no transportation at Bellevue and the school no longer has its hot lunch program.

A full program is anticipated for next year, however, in view of approval of an extra tax for operating costs.

Athens Agricultural Schools, also in the Battle Creek area, plan to stop their driver education and vocational agriculture programs next fall. The elementary vocal music program also will be halted.

School officials say that decreased state financial participation in driver education is responsible for plans to drop this program.

The Lakeview, Pennfield and Harper Creek school districts have warned of curtailments next year unless there is a more favorable formula for state school aid distribution.

Chief Straley Fired by Panel

to have charges filed was rejected by the city manager in December.

Straley asked for a hearing before the Civil Service Commission after charges were filed against him Feb. 9.

The hearing began Feb. 18 and dragged on for 18 sessions through March 25.

In their decision commissioners said:

"The Commission has reviewed and discussed the entire testimony in an endeavor not to give undue emphasis to any particular part of the testimony, regardless of whether it was presented to the Commission for consideration at a recent date or one and a half months ago.

"The Commission is of the opinion that the removing officer (Willman) has satisfied the statutory burden through the production of factual and expert opinion evidence that Herbert W. Straley did not properly discharge his duties as chief of police and that he was and is incapable of so doing.

"It is satisfied that from the evidence, Herbert W. Straley did not possess those qualities of character and ability to enable him to carry out efficiently or competently the duties of his office.

"It finds he was and is incapable of so doing.

"He is incompetent for the performance of certain duties of a chief of police, inefficient in and neglectful of certain duties of a chief of police; and he, by his course of conduct toward many others, including superiors, failed to maintain good behavior and was insubordinate.

"He attached to himself a feeling for lack of confidence, obedience and respect which was essential to one in his high office and position of trust."

Throughout the hearings, Straley's attorney Clarence L. Smith, consistently emphasized that an appeal was forthcoming in Circuit Court if the Civil Service Commission ruled against Straley.

The brief two-page decision was written by the Civil Service Commission attorney for the hearing, James G. Hartrick.

Straley has 90 days to appeal the decision to the Oakland County Circuit Court.

The Circuit Court would review the hearing record but no additional arguments.

If Straley's appeal were turned down by the Circuit Court, Straley's attorneys could petition the State Supreme Court for a review of the Circuit Court decision.

Straley had served as Pontiac's police chief since Nov. 11, 1951.

His troubles with the PPOA broke into the open after Pontiac voters on April 1, 1957, approved the abandonment of the 25-year-old Police Trial Board and placed the 110-man department under Civil Service.

The favorable vote climaxed a campaign by the PPOA to be freed of the authority of the City Commission appointed seven-man Trial Board.

Association members charged Straley exercised undue influence over the Trial Board, and that it lacked rules of procedure and discipline of officers.

In May of the same year, the PPOA vowed to oust Straley, listing numerous grievances against the chief and claiming vice flourished in the city.

Vice squad officers contended their work was hampered by Straley's policies, which, they said, permitted the growth of numbers activities in the city.

APPROVES INVESTIGATION

The City Commission stepped into the controversy in September of 1957, approving the hiring of the outside consulting agency to investigate conditions in the Police Department.

The report, released in May of 1958, blasted the Police Department.

It criticized the department administration for:

"Gross misuse of personnel."

"Basic weakness of command."

"Morale . . . below an acceptable minimum."

Straley was criticized personally.

Stung by the blistering criticism, Straley called the report the work of an inexperienced California patrolman, who had served only four years in a police department.

He said the report's only purpose was to ridicule and belittle him.

Straley was taken to task for criticizing the PAS report shortly after Eastman, former Seattle police chief, arrived here.

"The report will be implemented—that is my job," Eastman said.

The public safety director ordered Straley not to attack the report.

Last Nov. 12, slightly more than a month after taking over the department, Eastman issued a directive strippling Straley of powers.

He placed Straley on "special assignment" in his office but did not spell out what the chief's duties would be.

In removing Straley from command, Eastman said, "There is no feeling of rapport between the chief and the bulk of the personnel. . . . Such a lack of command precludes the possibility of doing a successful job of administration."

Straley, testifying at his removal hearing, blamed his troubles on a small clique in the PPOA, which he characterized as "mutinous and rebellious."

He said he was unable to control them under Civil Service, contending that the state act left him no power to run the department.

CITES NO BACKING

He accused the city manager of failing to back him up in disciplinary cases.

Straley once had sought a parole for Basil Burke, who was described by State Police as the kingpin of the raid.

Straley was employed in the Flint Police Dept. from 1925 to 1942.

He was in the U. S. Marine Corps during World War II, and later served as a U. S. Secret Service agent until April 1947.

Before being hired in Pontiac, Straley also served as director of the Division of Pardons, Paroles and Probation of the State Corrections Department as an administrative assistant of Michigan State Industries.

Spends 5 Years as a Hermit in California Park

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—A Purple Heart veteran of World War II, bearded and in tatters, told Friday night how he had renounced civilization five years ago to live alone in the wilds of Griffith Park.

Dennis Scott Farrell, 32, was questioned by officers who found him while searching for a prowler suspect on north Vermont Avenue at the fringe of the park.

Officers said Farrell had trembled at his first contact with humans in five years. Finally he related that he was an infantryman in the war and was shot through the lungs on Okinawa.

Then he tried to explain his retirement to the life of a hermit.

"At first I just wanted to die because I saw no future in anything. I tried starving to death. The first time I went without food for three days, then again for 11 days.

"But each time I gave up fasting, I couldn't stand it any more."

Farrell said he had lived on the leavings of picnickers and spent the nights in caves or shelters built of lumber scraps.

He was not held. The officers, in fact, offered him money or food and new clothing. He declined it.

"I can get along by myself," he whispered. Then he faded back into the park's protective covering.

Flood Crest Due at Midland

Expect Tonight's Level of Tittabawassee River Highest in 9 years

MIDLAND (UPI) — The Tittabawassee River was expected to crest tonight at 20.5 feet, its highest level in nine years.

The Tittabawassee crest, if reached, will be 2½ feet above flood level and will mean the worst flood in nine years. The river crested at 21.6 feet on March 28, 1950.

The rain-swollen river was spilling into some sections of Midland and caused some homes to be evacuated.

Most of the other rivers in the central portion of the state were already cresting.

The Red Cedar at East Lansing was expected to rise to an eight foot flood stage this afternoon.

The weather bureau at East Lansing forecast crests at or near flood stages last night for the Pine River at Alma, Flint River at Flint and Cass River at Vassar.

The Saginaw River, into which the Tittabawassee, Cass, Flint and Shiawassee rivers empty, was expected to crest at 18 feet tomorrow. The flood stage is 19 feet.

Floods continued to plague areas all through the Midwest today as fresh overflows from streams swollen by spring rains and melting snow forced more families from their homes.

Shooting a Hoax, Officer Admits light in his left hand while opening the car door to get out and try for a clear shot.

"As he leaned to get out of the patrol car he evidently strained somewhat and pulled the trigger," according to Roberts. The gun had a "light pull" which is comparable to a hair trigger.

The bullet went through his hand and into the flashlight. He told investigators the force of the bullet knocked the flashlight from his hand and it fell on his leg causing the bruise previously described as a flesh wound from another bullet fired at him.

Zolman then made up the story to save face. Roberts said police officers from various departments often shoot rats at the dump to sharpen up on their marksmanship.

Moments after the alleged shooting took place at about 3:30 a.m. Thursday, roadblocks were thrown across major roads and highways in a five-county area with Oakland County acting as the center of the police net.

Sheriff's deputies, state police and officers in municipalities throughout southeastern Michigan joined in the search for the man Zolman had said fired three shots at him as he approached the man's car after stopping him for violation.

Sheriff's Detectives Leo Hazen and Harry Maur had worked on the case around the clock searching for clues. Thursday night Hazen hit on an idea.

"We thought that it was quite unusual that he was only hit in the hand at such close range," Hazen said. He and Maur took a .38 caliber slug from the patrolman's flashlight and, upon checking with Chief Roberts, found Zolman owned two .38 caliber revolvers.

A ballistics test was run yesterday at State Police Laboratories in Lansing and the results showed that the bullet was fired from one of Zolman's guns, a snub nosed revolver.

Confronted by this evidence, he readily admitted fabricating the entire story, officers said. Zolman, who is married and the father of three children, said he was sorry about the whole thing.

"I didn't think it would go this far. I thought you'd look for the car for a few days and then forget about it."

The Day in Birmingham

Presbyterians to Expand Church but Five Years Old

BIRMINGHAM—Five years ago officials of the First Presbyterian Church saw the new building on W. Maple avenue ready for occupancy. In dedication speeches, it was said that the new structure was large enough to suit the needs for many years.

Today, with over crowded pews at three morning services each Sunday, the congregation is planning a $750,000 addition which double existing facilities.

Eugene J. Barney and A. S. McCall head the general construction committee. Ernest A. Seaholm, who headed the committee for the new church, also will serve.

According to the Rev. Robert S. Graham, assistant minister, plans are under way to launch a fund-raising campaign soon. Construction on the addition will start within a year.

Bloomfield Art Association is sponsoring a new series of four lectures beginning at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the studios at 361 N. Woodward Ave.

Virginia Harriman, curator at the Detroit Institute of Art, and teacher and author, will speak at weekly sessions.

Discussing European and American art from the 19th century to the present, she will deal with four separate fields.

Tickets for the series, open to the public, may be purchased from Mrs. J. Vinton Birch of 420 Harmon St. or Mrs. George Cutter of 618 Overdale Dr.

Birmingham police and area FBI agents are working on the robbery at the local Secretary of State's branch office.

Delbert Ayles, office manager, said that registration stamps, license blanks, commercial vehicle plates, passenger plates and motorcycle plates were taken.

Three youths, two from Detroit and one from Ferndale, waived examination in municipal court yesterday on charges of stealing a tire and wheel from the Rambler Sales and Service lot on S. Woodward avenue.

Judge John J. Emery set bond at $1,000 each. Gerry Martinko, 19, of Detroit posted bond and was released.

William J. Surie, 17, of Detroit and Guy J. Naroni Jr., 18, of Ferndale, were ordered held in the Oakland County jail after failing to furnish the bonds. Trial date has not been set.

Appeasement Out, Says Ike

But We'll Negotiate for Berlin Settlement to Avoid War

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower cautioned today against any appeasement of the Soviet Union in the Berlin crisis. He said it would be a dishonorable course and "the most dangerous one we could pursue."

Appeasement, said Eisenhower, only would embolden the Reds to step up their world domination drive.

But the President re-emphasized anew that the Western powers want to avoid war over Berlin and negotiate a settlement. In keeping open the possibility of a summit conference with the Russians, Eisenhower said of the United States and its Allies: "They seek to substitute the rule of law for the rule of force, the conference table for the battlefield."

In a major address prepared for the Gettysburg College spring convocation, Eisenhower called the Soviet move to drive the Allies out of West Berlin "a part of the continuing effort of the Communist conspiracy to attain one overriding goal: world domination."

The college, a small liberal arts school located not far from Eisenhower's country estate, awarded the President a plaque for "service to the nation."

In his speech, Eisenhower underscored what he called the need for Americans to understand the U.S. role in "strengthening the free world's nations which, with us, see our concepts of freedom and human dignity threatened by atheistic dictatorship." The speech was carried nationwide on CBS radio.

Eisenhower coupled his appeal for firmness on Berlin with a new plea for the administration's $3,900,000,000 foreign aid program.

He singled out the free part of Viet Nam in Asia as an example of a country in urgent need of such aid to stave off the threat of Communist conquest.

He also spoke of Japan's economic problems as grave and called on Western countries to liberalize trade relations with that country or risk Red domination of "the free world stake in the Pacific."

to bring about improvements in the Police Department.

Nov. 12 — Eastman strips Straley of power, after the manager declines to press charges against the chief and Straley refuses to resign. The new safety director says he can't work effectively with Straley.

Dec. 18 — Eastman fails in a second bid to get charges filed against Straley.

STILL WON'T QUIT

Jan. 26, 1959 — Willman concedes, "Straley must go," authorizes Eastman to prepare final draft of ouster charges. Straley repeats refusal to resign.

Feb. 3 — Move to oust Eastman fails and city commissioners give Willman a vote of confidence, authorize a citizens committee to arbitrate differences between Straley and Eastman.

Feb. 6 — Committee fails to settle differences, Straley still won't resign.

Feb. 9 — Under a 90-day statute of limitations, this is the last day on which Straley can be charged with anything that occurred while he still enjoyed full powers.

Feb. 18 — Straley hearing begins before Civil Service Commission.

Eastman Says He's Pleased Hearing Over

When informed that the formal ouster opinion had been handed down, Eastman's first remark was, "I'm pleased that the long hearing is over.

"Now we can devote our full attention to the re-organization of the department," Eastman said from his office at the Public Safety Building.

He would not comment on Straley's remark about his alleged "hatchet job" done on him.

Eastman expressed the belief that "the problem of rebuilding the department won't be as difficult as reported" with the continued existence of two conflicting police factions — the PPOA and the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP).

He said he foresaw no damage to the morale of officers with allowing the two groups to continue. The FOP was pro-straley while Straley claimed a handful of PPOA members were "gunning to get me."

"I believe the department can be fairly and quickly welded together into an efficient operation," he said.

Fred M. Robinson, 31, of 1422 Chasteen St., Walled Lake, was described in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with an injury to his right eye.

Robinson, off-duty at the time, was at the home of a friend, Harry Weber, 1107 Glengary Rd., Commerce Township. He was testing a .22 caliber rifle in which he had just replaced the firing pin.

When he fired the test shot, the breech "blew open," he told fellow deputies. The empty shell case discharged striking him in the eye.

Seven area youths, charged with aggravated assault, waived examination and were bound over to Circuit Court this morning in Bloomfield Hills Municipal Court.

Ordered to appear in the higher court May 8, each was allowed to continue $100 bonds until Circuit Court arraignment.

The youths are Timothy A. David, 18, of 591 Woodway Ct., Douglas H. Danziger, 17, of 6325 Sheringham Rd., and Robert L. Barnett, 17, of 6014 Snowshoe Circle, all of Bloomfield Township; Robert E. Police say he was attacked when the youths caught up with his truck and threw beer bottles at it. While several of the youths held him down, Puterbaugh was beaten by the rest.

Princess Grace Has Successful Appendectomy

Lehman said the condition of the princess was completely satisfactory.

"There were no complications and no abnormality," he said.

"The princess simply had a moderately inflamed appendix and nothing else. She regained consciousness about half an hour after the end of the operation and was given an injection. She is now resting but will take a short walk in the clinic in the afternoon. From tomorrow, she will walk for 30 minutes twice a day."

Lehman said the princess would be completely recovered after a week in the clinic and a further week's convalescence.

He said earlier all tests had shown the princess was in "perfect condition."

Sees Auto Production Up 82 Pct. This April

DETROIT (UPI)—Au t omobile manufacturers in the United States plan to turn out new cars during April at a rate 82 per cent higher than output during the same month a year ago, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

The statistical agency said U.S. manufacturers turned out new cars during March at a rate 61 per cent greater than the same month a year ago and planned to increase that margin this month.

Ward's said the industry turned out 576,085 cars during March, compared with 357,049 during March, 1958.

It said the industry expects to turn out 577,400 units during April, the third highest total for that month in the industry's history. Volume in April, 1958, was 316,503.

The March total pushed production for the first quarter of 1959 to 1,600,359, 29 per cent higher than last year's 1,238,697.

Present assembly rates indicate the two millionth car of the year will be built around April 22, eight weeks ahead of last year, Ward's

Fallout Over State Rises but No Danger

LANSING (UP) — The radioactive fallout in Michigan the past few months has been eight times normal, the state Health Department reported today.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said, however, that the fallout was not near the level of danger to human beings.

"It would have to go to 20 times normal before we should start worrying," he said.

Heustis said it was believed the unusually heavy radioactive fallout was generated by so-called "dirty" atomic bombs exploded by Russia last year.

Cars Crash; Girl, 18, Dies

Two Critically Hurt as Man, 40, Flees Police at 120 M.P.H.

DETROIT (UP) — An 18-year-old girl was killed and two persons injured critically in the shattering climax to a two-mile police chase through suburban Dearborn streets at speeds up to 120 miles an hour last night.

Two cars hit at an intersection. One careened into a third.

Killed was Nancy Mazgai, whose truck driver father hasn't had an accident in 14 years of driving.

In critical condition and held without charge as a police prisoner is Vincent Schieda, 40, an excavation contractor who, Dearborn Police said, has accumulated 21 traffic tickets since 1949, including six for speeding.

Also in critical condition is Shirley Wheeler, 19, who was en route home with Miss Mazgai from a night's bowling.

Dearborn policemen Harold Hippler and Kenneth Pike said Schieda sped away when they attempted to stop him for running a stop sign shortly after 10 p. m. After the smashup, police could find no identification on him and the officers said 11 traffic tickets he had picked up were for failure to have an operator's license on his person.

Schieda's car careened into a third one after the crash, but no one in the latter was hurt.

So Says Truman

Alcorn Quit in Fear of '60

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Former President Truman said last night that Meade Alcorn quit as chairman of the Republican Party because he was "scared to death" the Republicans would lose in 1960.

"He just wanted to get out of the way," said Truman with a broad smile as he held a planeside press conference at International Airport where he had just arrived from Kansas City.

"You mean he was afraid of a Democratic victory in 1960?" Truman was asked.

"Of course, that's the reason he quit," said the 74-year-old ex-President.

Today's Auction Day at Yankus' Dowagiac Farm

DOWAGIAC, Mich. (AP)—Stanley Yankus' last hours as a Michigan farmer were at hand today. An auction was ready to proceed on the 100 acres that Yankus chose to give up rather than submit to what he called an unconstitutional requirement.

Poultry farmer Yankus, 40, father of three children, decided to sell his farm when he quit his losing fight against wheat allotment restrictions. In six years of defying the law he paid more than $5,000 in fines and penalties.

He insisted he never sold his excess wheat but fed it to his chickens and was therefore not to be penalized.

Yankus, who has farmed 20 years near this southern Michigan community, said, "If my going makes people realize what is happening to individual liberty, then it won't be in vain."

The crop control program sets limits on acreage given to a single crop. Fines are assessed for failure to comply.

Yankus has said he hopes to take his family to Australia for a fresh start. If not, he said he'll try to make his living at some other type of work.

Guilty as Boss of Dope Ring

Convict Genovese and 14 of 15 Codefendants in Narcotics Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—Italian-born Vito Genovese, who reputedly made 30 million dollars in the rackets, has been convicted of heading an international narcotics ring.

A federal court jury Friday night found him guilty of conspiracy to violate the federal narcotics law. Fourteen of his 15 codefendants also were found guilty.

The conviction carries a mandatory sentence of at least five years in prison, with a maximum of 20 years. Genovese is 61.

During the three month trial the government charged the defendants were members of a multi-million-dollar ring that imported herpin from Cuba, Mexico, Puerto Rico and Europe.

Genovese, who has been free on $50,000 bail, had his bail raised to $150,000. He was allowed until Monday to raise the additional bail.

Four other defendants also were continued in bail by U.S. District Court Judge Alexander Bicks. The other 10 were remanded to jail.

These included the only woman defendant, red-haired Jean Capece, 29, and Vincent L. (The Chin) Gigante, 30, both of Manhattan. Gigante was acquitted last May of the attempted murder of racketeer Frank Costello.

The only defendant to win acquittal was Louis Fiano, 48, a convict now serving a 20-year federal prison term for a narcotics conviction.

Sentencing was set for April 17. Genevese faces deportation as a result of the conviction.

Ex-Boxing Champ Caught in Robbery

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. AP) — Johnny Saxton, twice the welterweight champion of the world, was accused of trying to rob a store today. Police captured him at gunpoint on the roof of the building.

It was the second recent burglary arrest for Saxton, 28. He is free on $1,000 bail in New York, accused of the theft of $6 worth of costume jewelry several weeks ago.

Police said Saxton, a Negro, entered Ronnie's 5 & 10 cent store at 5 p.m. Friday and hid until it closed.

Someone phoned headquarters about midnight to report a light inside the store. Police then surrounded the building.

The officers said Saxton broke through the tin roof of the store, climbed out and was captured.

"This will mean 10 years for me in New York," he told officers. He was booked on charges of breaking and entry and attempted larceny.

He will be arraigned Monday before Magistrate Steven A. Damico with a possibility he may go free on bail before then.

Bill Would Increase Car Registration Fee

LANSING (AP)—Rep. Harry Demaso (R-Battle Creek) has prepared a bill to boost the motor vehicle registeration fee $2.

He proposed that an estimated seven million dollars netted by the increase go to the State Police whose basic function, he noted, is regulation of motor vehicles.

This, Demaso added, "would allow other monies to be used for other purposes where funds are needed."

Men Still Outnumber Women as Smokers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Smoking still is a lot more popular habit among men than it is among women, the world over.

A study by a special House Tobacco subcommittee shows that 7 out of 10 U.S. males smoke. Only a little over 3 out of 10 American women do.

The situation is similar, the study says, in Britain, Canada, Sweden and Denmark — except that some Danish women favor cigars and cigarillos to cigarettes.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. John C. Watts (D-Ky), made the study to determine what can be done to boost declining U.S. tobacco sales abroad.

It discovered that people are puffing away at a record rate. But the smoking patterns vary.

The British, for example, are among the world's most loyal smokers. Their consumption continues to rise despite heavy taxes and a cigarette price averaging 30 cents a pack.

West Germans—like Americans—are growing fonder of filter tip cigarettes. The French tobacco monopoly often sells cigarettes with dark leaf from French territories whether French smokers "want them or not."

The Belgians, too, like filter tips. The Swiss particularly enjoy Maryland-type tobacco blends. Swedes prefer U.S. tobacco to other kinds even if it means paying more money.

Why do people smoke, anyway? "A surprising number of reasons are psychological," the study says, "associated with the stress, tensions and social demands of the modern world.

"Most smokers admit that there is more involved in smoking than what is obtained from tobacco itself, but that the tobacco does offer, with its nicotine, a real psysiological feeling of tranquility and a variety of tastes."

These tastes, the study finds, have changed a lot.

"Subtle advertising," the study says, "has increased sales both of cigarettes of low nicotine and of cigarettes using stronger-than-normal leaf—conflicting trends."

'Mind Reader' Flunks Pair of Vital Tests

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—A self-styled "Hindu reader" flunked her two most important mind-reading tests. Now she's out of business.

First, Eve Taylor, 31, Glendale, slipped a fortune-telling advertisement under the wrong door — that of Police Sgt. Don Wingate. Such ads are against the law here.

Then she flunked a courtroom exam.

"What will my ruling be?" Judge Martin Katz asked her.

"My mind is a complete blank," said the seer.

"A fine of $25," said the judge.

Peary at Pole 50 Years Ago

Two Stamps April 6 Will Honor Many U.S. Arctic Pioneers

WASHINGTON — The 50th anniversary of Admiral Robert E. Peary's historic dash to the North Pole will be observed April 6.

On that date, the U. S. government will issue a special postage stamp honoring Peary and other courageous men who have taken the American flag into arctic wastes. The figure of a man on a dog sled and the nuclear submarine Nautilus symbolize conquest of the North Pole both by foot and by sea.

Peary's career may be traced through old issues of the National Geographic Magazine, with which he was long associated. The very first volume of the magazine, in 1889, carried an article by the 33-year-old naval engineer.

The article had nothing whatever to do with the desolate waste of shifting ice and water at the top of the world. It was about the tropics! Peary described a trip "Across Nicaragua with Transit and Machete."

An 1896 issue reports a National Geographic lecture by Mrs. Peary in aid of financial backing for an expedition to bring her husband home at the close of his season's work in northern Greenland, "rather than leave him there to endure the useless delay and hardship of another arctic winter."

At that time many persons believed mortal man could never reach the North Pole, in the heart of the Arctic Ocean. Peary was not pessimistic.

Fiji's Polio Scourge Over After 4 Months

SUVA, Fiji (AP)—The director of medical services says Suva is clear of poliomyelitis after an epidemic that lasted four months.

The Fiji Public Relations Office announced 313 cases were officially reported throughout Fiji during the epidemic. Seventy-five per cent of victims were children under 7 years. Four adults and four children died.

The native Fijian race was affected least. The greatest proportion of cases was among Europeans.

No Such Thing as Permanent Solution

Reusing Anti-Freeze Can Be Costly

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — A motorist invites trouble, say the experts, by trying to reclaim anti-freeze solution from his car's cooling system.

There is no such thing as a permanent anti-freeze solution, these experts say. There are all-winter solutions, but they cannot be reclaimed even by attempting to rebuild their worn-out rust and corrosion inhibitors. It costs too much.

Aside from possible damage to the cooling system you may reduce the fuel mileage and lose much of the advantage expected from use of premium fuel. The experts figure this could amount to as much as $30 for each 10,000 miles driven.

Rust forms in the car radiator when the inhibitors in the anti-freeze solution wear out. The rust clings to radiator walls until it forms flakes. Then it starts circulating through the cooling system. In the engine water jacket it acts as a layer of insulation that seals in the heat of the combustion chambers.

An efficient engine has to be hot but it can become too hot. When that happens it wastes four to five octane points of its fuel mixture. Rust also can cause increased oil consumption, power loss and accelerated engine wear.

Some of the things that can happen to a continually overheated engine are warped, scored piston rings and valve damage. Repairs to an engine thus damaged can run into a lot of money.

A relatively inexpensive way to minimize that risk, cooling system engineers say, is to drain and discard the used anti-freeze in the spring. They add :

"At the same time have your service man give the entire cooling system a thorough flush. If any signs of rust or discoloration appear in the drained-off solution, use a good, self-neutralizing chemical flush.

Then refill the radiator with clean, fresh water. And remember, the softer the water, the less chance there is for future scale formation. Most important, have the service man add a good rust and corrosion inhibitor."

They add that other damage-preventive steps include checking all the components of the cooling system for signs of wear or deterioration. Hose and hose connections should be checked. Fan belt, thermostat and pressure valve and seal of the radiator cap should be inspected.

Obstructions, such as leaves, paper or bugs should be brushed from the radiator grille. Finally, after the radiator has been filled, the engine should be started and a check made for leaks around the cylinder head gasket, the radiator, hose connections and water pump.

Experience has shown that the car cooling system is perhaps the most neglected component of the modern automobile. If it is drained, flushed and replenished with effective rust and corrosion inhibitors regularly rust cannot get into it.

Army Develops Minute Lamp, Radio Device

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has developed an electrical light that is a little larger than a pinhead and a radio transmitter about the size of a pencil eraser.

Perfected by the Army's diamond ordnance fuze laboratories, the minute items are for use in research and the study of temperatures in ballistic weapons research.

The lamp is one-tenth of an inch long and only 35 one-hundredths of an inch in diameter. It was designed for use on control panels in missile research and electric computers. The Army said that it may be used also for medical examinations, such as probes into tiny cavities.

The transmitter has been mounted in the head of a small bullet for research purposes. The device determines the temperature of a shell while in flight and instantaneously transmits information to ground receivers.

BETWEEN THE PIERS:

We know that the Bridge-of-Life rests upon two piers. As hair turns white, flesh sags and lines etch themselves into our face we realize that there are three parts to this bridge—a beginning, a center span and an end. It is the center span we treasure.

M. E. SIPLE

That great arching center span teaches us the value of others. Our life is dependent upon them; without them we would crash. By living with and for them, develop habits that broaden horizons, curtail bursts of passion and eliminate cutting words from our speech we move across this bridge in an orderly manner to the shore of happiness, peace and pride. We wish to pay tribute to those people who helped us up in youth, who were patient during our young manhood, and to those who were thoughtful when time has worked its miracles.

Assure A Better Education For All...

SUPPORT THE DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM ON EDUCATION

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: Every Michigan citizen, regardless of race, religion, economic state or place of residence, is entitled to a complete and adequate education.

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: Federal aid to elementary, secondary, and higher education is both proper and necessary . . and can be achieved without sacrificing local control.

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: Every pupil deserves to be in a class of reasonable size. The teacher-pupil ratio should be reduced until there are no more than 28 pupils per teacher.

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: The State has a responsibility for guaranteeing a basic education to each youth and child, and should share in operation costs as well as in the cost of facilities.

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: The opportunity for attending a community college within reasonable distance must be provided for all persons in Michigan. Eventually, this will require at least the doubling of our present number of community colleges.

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: Post-high school training will be as necessary and normal in the near future as a high school education is today. The State must aid and encourage this development.

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: There should be a minimum teachers' salary schedule, starting at $4,500 per year and progressing to $9,000 within ten years, to be supplemented thereafter with longevity pay.

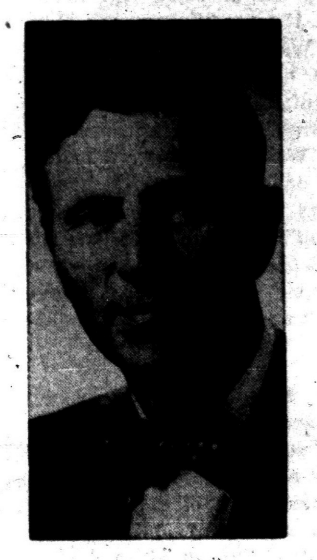

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: The future progress of Michigan is tied to expanding human knowledge in science and other areas of research. We urge increased emphasis on basic research, including the establishment of an Institute of Science and Technology at the University of Michigan.

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: There must be Federal and State scholarships based on ability and need, without regard to race, religion, or place of residence. This program shall apply to any college or university in the State.

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: Special educational programs for the gifted, the handicapped, and the emotionally disturbed must be continued and improved.

DEMOCRATS BELIEVE: Adult education programs, including small business institutes, farm services, labor and management programs and similar extension offerings should be expanded and strengthened.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It Seems to Me . . . .

State Takes 1st Fall as Leader Bad Press Hurts Reputation

For the first time in history, Michigan has a "bad press."

Our current financial plight and our "business and industrial climate" have drawn adverse comment clear across the nation. For a century, Michigan was a great leader in establishing a better life for all.

We've been progressive.

We've been popular.

But temporarily, we lose the flattering kudos of the past. Governor G. Mennen Williams and a state treasury that looks like Mother Hubbard's traditional cupboard have conspired to end "the glory that used to be."

I've been absent on a vacation, plus a meeting of the Directors of the Inter-American Press Association at San Salvador; and on my return I find a host of letters from friends around the nation containing editorials that castigate Governor Williams. They point out the financial plight which results from the "spend, spend and spend" policy that Williams has fathered for the past decade.

The national finger's really on him.

These letters come from as widely separated states as Florida and California, while E. E. JOHNSTON sent a clipping from as close to home as Indiana. STEWART RILEY, Inland Daily Press Association President and long a power in Middle Western newspaper circles, says:

"SOAPY has faithfully followed the socialism of the New Deal but he does not have one great advantage enjoyed by the Federal Government. He cannot print money. If Michigan's tax structure is as bad as he says it is, why hasn't he done something about it? He's been Governor 11 years."

The late Glenn C. Gillespie sent an editorial from Pasadena just before his ill fated trip homeward. It says: "Governor G. Mennen Williams, darling of Michigan's unions, must be held accountable." It declares that the Governor's main influence has been Walter Reuther and so it now appears that the "union leaders are contributing to the erosion of the industrial strength of Michigan by creating an unfavorable climate that won't attract or hold business or industry.

The Nashville Banner swings from the floor as James G. Stahlman, powerful southern leader, points out the low financial and industrial state of affairs which exists here because of the Reuther-Williams alliance. Our own Ed Curran sends a comment from The Tampa Tribune which blasts "Soapy, Walter Reuther and the far left school of Liberal Democrats who have placed Michigan in this deep financial trouble."

ROBERT OLIVER, FRANK MILWARD and others send Arizona newspaper accounts of Michigan's plight; and the nation's vacation land is covered by local residents who send the "bad news."

Roger Ferger, publisher of The Cincinnati Enquirer, said in San Salvador that everyone in Ohio hoped Michigan would make Williams Governor for life. "His unhealthy business and industrial climate has shoved some fine Michigan industries into Ohio," said the nationally known Cincinnati newspaper man. "Keep him on the job."

Human Events, published in Washington, says the three automobile companies have built 29 branches in Ohio where it costs amazingly less per employe to operate than it does in Michigan.

Don't duck the WILLIAMS influence.

Don't discount the jobs he costs us.

One editorial concludes with the thought that the only comfort from Michigan's misfortune lies in the fact that WILLIAMS as a candidate for President is a "Soapy bubble that burst."

Most states are allowed to suffer their personal indignities in private. But Michigan's past reputation for greatness, sound administration and prosperity etches our predicament sharply against the horizon.

And also, WILLIAMS' past position as a pretender for the national throne accentuates the lowly position in which we currently find ourselves.

But better days are ahead.

Already there are vigorous and spontaneous campaigns to combat the situation.

Others are active.

Everyone in the state must become a personal ambassador to regain our lost laurels.

And in Conclusion . . . . .

A host of Latin American publishers tell me that CASTRO will last about a year—mebbe two . . . . . Many of the leading Southern brethren look upon Senator KEFAUVER with the same disfavor that we do but the bad news lies in the fact his probable opponent at the polls will be a cut even lower . . . . . Someone testifying in Washington said "HOFFA is the most powerful influence in the United States, next to the Government." Hmmmmmm. When did the Government crowd him out of the top spot? . . . . . Overheard at Dorado Beach: "An old-timer is a man who remembers when the only parking problem was to get the girl to agree to it."

Brother publishers who are close to the steel situation say Union President McDonald's current interviews suggest a long and devastating steel strike when the contract expires. That could close Pontiac Motor, GMC Truck and Fisher completely . . . . . "Spike" Briggs drops a note from Lake Wales to say he and Laura constitute two of our "best long distance subscribers." And he thinks his brother-in-law, Phil Hart, is going to make a great Senator. Keno . . . . . When the John Grahams, Irving Duffys and ourselves were driving through Utuado, Puerto Rico, we stopped long enough to let "Red" and me watch a legally sanctioned cock fight. It was our first—and last . . . . . Would it surprise C. E. Wilson to hear Senator William Knowland is rumored the next Secretary of Defense?

Michigan's "CHUCK" KOCSIS is one of the few amateur golfers invited to the Masters Tournament in Georgia . . . . . I attended a reception for JOSE MARIA LEMUS, President of El Salvador, and was very favorably impressed with his manner, appearance and bearing. I also applauded the fact he served champagne . . . . . FRANK LYNDALL would be proud to see how Sears Roebuck's declaration of "one price and one price only" has influenced a dozen Latin American countries. Traditionally, they're places of barter and trade, but Sears introduced the North American policy of a fixed price and the idea caught on with the buying public. The local Sears boss personally opened and started their first three stores in South America.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

THE FAITH AMERICANS LIVE BY — 1

They call him "The Hoodlum Priest" because of his interest in helping convicts to find the road back.

For 20 years the Rev. C. Dismas Clark, S. J., has been more at home in prisons across the nation than in any parish rectory. He speaks the language of prisoners, knows their problems, and has had thousands of men released in his care.

"I want anyone to phone me collect when they think of doing anything wrong," said this dedicated Jesuit to me. "I am not a do-gooder and never preach. I think like a doctor who hates cancer but not the patient. I don't like crime but I like the criminal. He's a fellow human being, one of God's people, and I know what a speck of understanding will do in a dark hour."

Father Clark changed his middle name to Dismas, after the Good Thief whose entry into Paradise symbolizes the hope of all convicts and Christ's love for them. In his small bedroom in St. Louis, Mo., hang two pictures of the Good Thief on the cross next to Christ, both painted by convicts.

Now Father Clark is forming "Halfway House," an organization to provide shelter, job possibilities and counseling for convicts of all faiths after their release from prison.

Days of All Faiths

Basis of Mormon Belief Explained

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

More than two million people in the world believe that Jesus was once on this continent, that He came here after His resurrection to give the Gospel to two of the lost tribes of Israel.

These tribes had migrated to America centuries earlier. They received the teachings of the Lord gladly, but about the year 385 A.D. they were completely wiped out by violent neighboring Indians.

The last man among them to die was named Moroni. Moroni's father, Mormon, had compiled a book of sacred writings detailing the beliefs of his people, and one of Moroni's last acts was to hide this manuscript.

And so, the beliefs and teachings of Jesus as received in America lay hidden in the earth while Christianity developed into many forms and many distortions in the rest of the world.

In the early years of the nineteenth century there lived, on a farm in upstate New York, a handsome, serious-minded lad by the name of Joseph Smith. The boy's main concern was religion, and his main concern about religion was that in that time and that part of the country it seemed to speak with so many clamoring, competing, contradictory voices.

Young Joseph had frequently gone with his mother to revival meetings and heard the shouting of the itinerant evangelists. The more he heard the more confused he was, and the more disturbed over the variety of denominations and the diversity of their claims. He thought of little else.

In 1820, when Joseph was 15 years old, he had a vision which set the direction of his life for him. God the Father and God the Son appeared to him. They told him not to join any of the denominations because all of them were distortions of the true Way. They also promised him that Christ's original precepts would be restored and that he would be the instrument of this restoration.

For seven years young Smith waited. For encouragement he had an occasional visit from Moroni, who was now an angel. And finally, in 1827, Moroni led the young man to the place where 14 centuries before, the book of Mormon had been hidden. The angel handed Joseph a box and departed.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Your Hobbies Can Benefit Many

Notice Carl Duning's helpful hobby.. And discuss this case tomorrow in Sunday School. Have all the folks in your class name the hobbies they have heard about and classify them as to which are futile and which produce lasting good. Rate the "Fisherman's Club" mentioned below as tops, for it renders a 3-way social service to mankind.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-496: Carl H. Duning, of Richmond, Ind., has a fascinating hobby, which he recently described before my Bible Class at the Chicago Temple.

He is very fond of the new Sallman Head of Christ. So he obtained permission to reproduce this beautiful picture in pocket size to fit into a man's purse.

DR. CRANE

Mr. Duning's slogan is "Christ in Every Purse."

As a result of his own generosity, he has made these pictures available to thousands of men and women.

And he now travels widely to tell the interesting stories that have arisen from his unique hobby.

HELPFUL HOBBIES

Contrast Mr. Duning's hobby with that of a brilliant Harvard graduate a few years ago who was one of the "boy wonders" of that great school, with the I.Q. of a genius.

This man made it a hobby to collect used streetcar transfers which he picked up in the gutter or along the sidewalks of New York City.

Apparently, the public spotlight had been focussed on him as a child prodigy and his emotional life was warped.

So he led a shy, introvertive adult life and spent his spare time stacking his bachelor quarters to the ceiling with used streetcar transfers.

You teenagers and boys or girls in grade school often develop hobbies which involve collecting various items.

Sometimes you save used bottle caps or pads of safety matches.

Did you ever analyze your behavior to see how much good those hobbies will contribute to your success in later life?

Hobbies can be a great aid to success in life if we select the proper type.

Thus, if you collect stamps or old coins, you can learn a lot of history and geography thereby.

Some women have wonderful collections of buttons, which often teach a great deal of history, too.

But "H-R" or "Human Relations" is now the greatest need in modern life, so try to cultivate hobbies that will prove of LASTING benefit throughout adulthood.

Join the "Compliment Club," therefore, and develop the hobby of paying honest compliments to those you meet, even if they are strangers.

Also cultivate the hobby of smiling and shaking hands with strangers in church.

Make it a hobby to sing in public, perform magic tricks, deliver short talks, or play a musical instrument, for the resulting platform poise will pay rich dividends all through later life.

Organize a "Fisherman's Club" in your Young People's Society or at Sunday School, whereby you visit strangers in the community or non-church folks, so you can invite them to your church.

Such hobbies not only help socialize you, but bring happiness to others, and boost the church, too, so they offer three-way benefits.

Beware of hobbies that interest just you, at this moment, but have little value to anybody else or even yourself in adult years.

You can collect stones or insects, flowers or leaves or pictures of birds. You can make scrapbooks for those in hospitals, or become prize contest addicts.

Imitate Mr. Duning and choose constructive hobbies.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Here's an Idea of What's Becoming of Our Teens'

They worked hard to make money to hire a small band. They made twice what they needed by washing cars and it was made honestly. Adults who've been working unselfishly with their kids deserve a pat on the back, too, because too many, including myself, are too tied up in ourselves to lend a hand.

For those who want to know what is to become of the younger generation, they'll someday become the older generation and will be doing a better job than we have because they're learning that someone has to help.

Hearing Listener Gives Opinion

I've listened to every one of the hearings about Chief Straley. I don't know nor have I ever seen Willman, Straley or Eastman. I can't see why they've brought a perfect stranger in at $12,000 a year to undermine a man who was O.K. for seven years.

If a Chief of Police has no power to manage his men, with a Manager who sides in with wrongdoers, and the Policemen running the department, why have a Police Chief?

The inferiority-complex-cough of Mr. Eastman while testifying was sickening over the air.

'Children Are Just as Bad as Dogs'

I've been reading about packs of dogs, but what of packs of youngsters (and I don't mean teenagers)? They roam through yards, climb fences and tear up public property we all pay taxes on.

I'm not an old maid who hates children. I have three of my own. They're almost grown now, but when they were little, I knew where they were at all times, they didn't roam all over the county and they were taught to respect people, their property and public property.

I enjoyed Mrs. Vietor's article on etiquette based on the Golden Rule. I'm for a 'Let's get back to the Golden Rule' movement. We may not be able to teach dogs that streets, sidewalks and roads were made for public use, but isn't there some way we could teach youngsters?

'Railroad Poles Are Dangerous'

May I tell Mrs. Robert Muir that poles at railroad crossings have been discarded as dangerous? Cars have driven between and been locked there. The flashing lights and bells are better and if you can't see or hear, you'd better let someone else drive. The funny part about most automobile accidents is that usually the automobiles run into the train and hit them in the middle or about the third car.

Having read Mr. Annett's article, I, too, feel the Courthouse is one thing the people look to with respect, and every taxpaying voter in the County should have a voice in its location.

I much prefer its present site to the Civic Center, which is between the railroad and much-traveled Telegraph Road. I've sat on jury at the present site and know Saginaw Street noise can be disturbing, but the Civic Center could be much more so.

Also, the jail is convenient to the present site, and we might lose title to the land if it's used for anything but a Courthouse. The democratic way would be to let all the people settle it at the polls.

Will Warning Be Heeded?

Forecast Severe Tornadoes

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The tornado country, a vast belt stretching across the nation's midlands from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada, has been warned to expect a severe season in the months ahead.

That weather phenomenon, known as "the westerlies" is off its usual course and that, meteorologists say, spells trouble in doses larger and more frequent than usual.

When the trouble hits, the most specific warnings, and the best distributed in history, are promised. But weather men in this official capital of Tornado Alley, sit of the Federal government's Severe Storm Warning Center, doubt they will be fully heeded.

Each year, indifference, negligence and contempt born of supposed familiarity with the killer winds are accessories before the fact in many deaths.

Warnings are issued, distributed and sometimes heard, but often are ignored.

Scientific advances in the study of radar have brought the device to a new degree of efficiency, Hal Foster told newsmen gathered for their annual "briefing on disaster."

Foster, chief of the radar analysis developmental unit of the Severe Storm Warning Center here, reported that 21 weather bureau stations and nine cooperative units now comprise a vast radar network which provides data on a hour-to-hour basis.

And new and improved equipment is on the way, although it will not be available for the current tornado season. The first of the new devices, known as WSR 57, is scheduled for installation at Fla., in May. nMiam Miami, Fla., in May.

Initially it will be used basically as a training unit for meteorologists who will be brought in, in classes of 20 to 30 from weather bureaus scattered in storm areas all over the nation.

Next August, such a machine is promised for the storm center here In the meantime, the bureau will use a wartime Navy hand-me-down only slightly modified for weather use.

WEATHER EXCLUSIVE

The WSR 57, Foster explained, is the first radar set in history designed and built exclusively for weather study.

In the past year, he added, scientific knowledge of tornadoes in terms of radar echoes has improved so much that for the first time specific warnings will be issued, in some instances, on the basis of radar echoes alone. In past years warnings had gone out only when a twister was actually sighted.

"When a hook shows up on the radar screen," Foster said, "out goes a warning. We can't take the responsibility for any other course"

The warning, relayed by leased teletype wire and telephone to police, other officials, radio stations and new agencies, will be heralded by sounding of the Conelrad signal by all radio stations in the affected area. The signal, in turn, will activate alarms in schools, public offices and in some industrial plants.

Tornadoes which strike late at night are the big worry.

Radar has solved, at least in part, the problem of the storm cloud that is not seen until it strikes.

But alarms broadcast by radio cannot be heard by sleeping families, and, although alarm systems activated by Conelrad are on the market, the public doesn't seem to be buying.

Nose Cone of Rocket Found Near Texas Port

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The Coast Guard says one of its cutters recovered what appears to be the nose cone of a rocket from the Gulf of Mexico near Port Isabel, Tex., Thursday night.

The Coast Guard said it sent the cutter to pick up the yellow object after it had been spotted by a plane.

It appeared to have been in the water three or four months.

Claim Bradley Satisfactory

Company Man Testifies Certificates Show This; Defense Disputes

CLEVELAND (AP)—An executive of the Bradley Transportation Co. testified that the freighter Carl D. Bradley was in satisfactory condition prior to sinking during a violent storm.

However, attorneys seeking damages for some of the families of the 33 seamen killed in the disaster claim the Coast Guard had ordered a major repair job "as soon as possible."

The arguments were made yesterday as despositions were taken in federal damage suits totaling almost eight million dollars. The 31-year-old Bradley sank last Nov. 18 near Gull Island in northern Lake Michigan. Only two of her crew survived.

Norman Hoeft, general manager of Bradley Transportation, a division of U.S. Steel Corp., presented certificates from the Coast Guard and Lloyds registry of shipping to bolster his argument that the Bradley was in satisfactory condition for lake operation.

He testified that replacement of the cargo hold had been ordered for the end of the navigation season. However, he added, inspectors were on the Bradley early in November and could have revoked the certificates then had they considered the ship unsafe.

1¼ Million State Voters Expected at Polls Monday

LANSING (AP)— Michigan voters, an estimated 1,250,000 strong, will go to the polls Monday to vote on candidates for 14 statewide offices and a variety of local posts and propositions.

Republican leaders, hoping to end a five-year drought at the ballot box, made cautious forecasts for victory in statewide races at the biennial spring election.

Lawrence B. Lindemer, GOP state chairman, said improved party organization and voter dissatisfaction with Gov. Williams' Democratic administration might bring a 20,000-vote margin to the Republicans.

Equally cautious, Democratic State Chairman Neil Staebler looked for a fall-off in the Democratic vote percentage but still predicted a 30,000-vote margin for Lynn M. Bartlett, party ticket leader.

Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, is trying for a second term in a battle with Republican Hugh H. Holloway, Sault Ste. Marie school superintendent.

The 1,250,000 voter turnout predicted by Robert M. Montgomery, state elections director, would exceed the 1957 spring election count by about 125,000.

Seemingly, neither side is bristling with confidence today as Republicans all but wound up a bid to interrupt a long string of Democratic victories.

As the last volleys belched from campaign guns, Gov. Williams hustled from place to place in Wayne County in a typical 11th hour maneuver to rally Democratic followers in the party's No. 1 stronghold.

A tightly crammed schedule was to have him on the move nearly continuously almost until poll closing Monday night.

Twelve statewide education offices, including 11 part-time, unsalaried posts were to be filled in partisan voting, plus two state Supreme Court seats now occupied by Democrats.

But in many areas, the focus of interest was on circuit judge contests and purely local issues, like the proposed millage increase for school construction in Detroit.

Usually, a heavy vote in Detroit helps Democratic chances, although Staebler said he looked for a six per cent fall-off in the party's 1957 percentage in the area.

Lindemer said he was heartened about the outstate outlook because of a better level of organizational activity and reception of a GOP appeal for a "protest" vote against the Williams' regime.

If the Republicans crack through on Monday, it will represent their first victory in a statewide contest with Democrats since 1955 and their second since the spring election of 1953.

In the fall elections of 1954, 1956 and 1958, and the spring election of 1957 Democrats mopped up in all statewide contests.

However, while the Republican state ticket went down to defeat in 1956, President Eisenhower romped to a big plurality over Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson, then making his second presidential bid.

Two Democrats have high personal stakes in Monday's outcome, Gov. Williams and Justice George Edwards of the state Supreme Court.

Any Democratic faltering is sure to tarnish the luster of the governor's national ambitions, already hurt by the state's financial difficulties.

Rioters in Argentina Rap Americanism

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP) — Anti-American slogans echoed through the streets during rioting against President Arturo Frondizi's government in the heart of the capital Friday night.

About 50 persons were injured and 150 arrests made when police fired shots to break up two demonstrations in defiance of a government ban. The demonstrators fired back. Cars were set afire and store windows broken.

Supporters of exiled dictator Juan D. Peron and Communists were blamed by semiofficial sources for the three-hour melee.

A mass meting in protest against government labor policies was organized by Peronista and Communist-led unions. One of the complaints was that the government had forcibly dismissed elected union leaders and replaced them with Frondizi supporters.

During the fighting police sources said some of the demonstrators shouted: "Argentines yes, Yankes no . . . down with imperialism."

Advice to April 6 Voters:

Take Your Time, Follow Instructions

You need not be confused when you walk into a voting machine April 6.

There before you as you close the curtains will be row after row of names, questions, and different sets of instructions. However, don't back out. Face your duty as an American citizen and vote.

Remember two basic things and you won't have any trouble at all. These are: take your time and follow instructions.

Daniel T. Murphy Jr., Oakland County clerk-register, says the April 6 statewide ballots will appear more complicated and time consuming then usually because there are five parties with candidates for 12 state educational posts.

Also, Murphy points out, there is balloting for five Oakland County Circuit Court judgeships, voted on only every sixth year.

"In other words," he said, "there's more to vote on, that's all."

Because of this, Murphy suggests county voters divide their voting job into four parts, preferably in the order listed here:

1. Vote on three state questions and any local questions that might appear on the ballot. These will appear all in one row at the top of the machine in pink.

2. Vote on the 12 state educational positions. These will be on the left hand side of the ballot in white.

3. Vote the non-partisan part of the ballot appearing in blue in the very center. This will be for two State Supreme Court positions and seven local judge questions.

4. Vote for partisan township officers if you live in one of the county's 22 townships using machines, or for non-partisan city candidates if you live in one of 15 cities holding an election of officers at this time. These will appear in the lower right hand corner of the ballot in white.

Murphy warns all county voters to take enough time to be sure they vote the entire ballot.

"Don't be afraid to ask questions before you enter the machine," he added.

There will be model machines as well as sample ballots available for studying at all of the county's precincts using machines. Sample ballots may be obtained beforehand at local township and city clerk's offices.

They do not operate the pointers in step No. 3 as this is non-partisan selection. Pointers in step No. 3 MUST be moved manually, as must pointers in step No. 1.

In step No. 3 Murphy stresses that voters should be careful to note that there are two lines of candidates for Supreme Court and Circuit Court nominees.

"Some of the candidates whose names will appear on the second row are afraid voters won't look past the first row," Murphy said.

There are separate party levers for steps 2 and 4. City voters will find no party levers for selection of city officers (step 4) as this selection is non-partisan.

"Party levers do nothing more than move down all the pointers in one row in one motion," instructs Murphy.

In other words, it votes a straight ticket. If you don't care to do this, you must pull the pointers down manually.

LEAVE POINTERS DOWN

Whatever you do, leave the pointers down exposing the "X" over your candidate's name. This indicates your choice. Pushing it back up will erase it.

For instance, should you desire to vote a straight Republican ticket with the exception of one GOP candidate, you first would pull the Republican party lever to the right. This pulls down 12 pointers in the GOP row of step No. 2.

Next you manually push back the pointer over the candidate you don't wish to vote for and then turn another pointer down over the candidate of your choice for that same office.

Another common error, he warns, is voters not voting for the number of candidates for the office in question. You won't be able to vote for more because a look-out device on the machine which prevents this.

You won't spoil your ballot, however, by not voting for the number you should.

Voters in Brandon and Groveland Townships, and the cities of South Lyon and Northville (the one precinct in Oakland County), still use paper ballots. The other 290 precincts use the automatic voting machines.

A voting machine will be available in the basement of the courthouse for pre-election demonstrations by Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election clerk, Murphy said.

Make It Easier to Spend

Consumer Credit Plans Hottest Banking Trend

By WARREN BENNETT
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bankers across the country are joining the big parade of organizations making it easier for you to live on credit.

Bankers are coming out from behind their austere marble counters to help individual consumers spend money as never before. They are doing it in two new ways — by offering revolving check-credit loans and charge account plans.

These consumer credit plans are the hottest trend in banking. The first of this year there were possibly a score of banks across the land using them. By the end of this year, authorities agree, there may be 5,000 or more.

The end trend may wind up eventually by making it old fashioned to pay cash for anything larger than a daily newspaper or a stick of gum. Everyone agrees the new bank plans make it far easier for you to spend. Making the money, however, is likely to remain an age-old problem.

Charge Account — The customer is granted a credit card permitting him to buy anything from stores signed up with the plan. Whenever he makes a purchase, the customer signs a sales slip which is, in effect, a note to the bank.

At the end of the month, the customer gets a single bill from the bank covering all purchases. He has the choice of paying a lump sum without incurring any charge or of spreading his payments over a number of months. He is charged interest only on the unpaid balance (1 per cent a month by New York's Chase Manhattan Bank and 1½ per cent by Bank of America.)

Check-Credit — Here the customer applies for a "line of credit" at the bank based on his ability to make monthly repayments. Say he is granted $1,200 with monthly payments of $100. He gets a special book of checks he can use anywhere.

When he borrows, he is charged only for the amount of credit actually in use. The customary charge is 1 per cent a month on the unpaid balance. Some banks also have a service charge on the checks.

Both the charge account and check-credit plans are revolving —that means the credit is rebuilt as repayments are made.

Say the customer with a $1,200 credit spends half the first month. That leaves him with a credit of $600. If he repays all in one lump sum, he escapes a fee and the credit goes back to $1,200. If he repays $100, the credit rises to $700 and he pays interest on an unpaid balance of $500.

Banks are pushing their new credit plans with aggressive advertising aimed at the consumer pocketbook. One display showed a housewife saying, "I used to be embarrassed when I ran short of money. Now I just write a check." Another showed a woman drinking instant coffee and carried the slogan: "Instant money makes sense, too."

Since Chase Manhattan Bank started its charge account system last October, the programs have spread to California, Texas, Florida, Georgia and Hawaii.

Quicker Way Found to Give Rat Cancer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—A lady rat is being recruited to help find new clues to human breast cancer.

The rat can be given in just 60 days a kind of breast cancer similar to the human variety. It can be speeded up or slowed down by hormones.

Doctors have had to learn most of what they know about breast cancer from the bedside, Dr. Charles Huggins of the University of Chicago told this week's American Cancer Society seminar.

Now they have a convenient laboratory animal, the Sprague-Dawley rat.

A quicker method has been developed to give the rat breast cancer in 30 or 60 days, whereas it used to take months to years.

A remarkable 40 per cent of the rat breast cancers can be influenced by hormones—a percentage which is about the same for human breast cancers.

Dr. Huggins said there are some 2,000 hormone compounds that might have an effect on breast cancer but have never been tried.

Considering the untested hormone compounds, we've only taken a little peek through the keyhole and seen a roomful of treasures, Dr. Huggins said.

There's no profit motive, say the Yale students. They just want to help fellow poets become published—and read.

Security for You

Can Draw on Wife's Fees

By RAY HENRY

From a North Carolina reader: "I'm 78 years young. I'm not eligible for Social Security because I didn't work long enough under the system. My wife is 68 and is drawing Social Security because of her work. Can I draw payments through her?"

A husband can draw payments due to his wife's Social Security record if:

1. He's 65 and his wife is collecting payments, and

2. He was receiving at least half of his support from her at the time she became eligible for payments, and

3. He files proof of her support within two years after she became entitled to payments, and (This may be extended for good cause.)

4. He isn't entitled to payments due to his own work which are equal to or more than what he could get from his wife's record, and

5. He's the natural father of the couple's child or children or they've been married for at least three years.

From W.F.S. of Newark, N.J.: "If, as a retired executive 65 years old, I receive $3,000 for a one-week consulting job, what effect will the earnings have on my Social Security? The $3,000 will be my only earnings for the year."

Under the Social Security law, you can receive a check for each month you had earnings (this means earnings from work) of less than $100—regardless of your total earnings for the year. Thus, even though you made a total of $3,000 for one week's work, you're eligible for 11 Social Security checks.

From Mrs. E. W. of Frederick, Md.: "My husband had a serious heart attack last May and applied for Social Security disability payments in November. We haven't heard anything since. How long does it take for the Social Security people to start the payments?"

For disability payments, the time varies a great deal. Normally, it takes about three months after you've submitted evidence of your disability for the payments to start.

Brando Shows Photographers What He Thinks

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marlon Brando made an infrequent public appearance—and an unfriendly gesture at photographers — in a Hollywood theater Friday night.

He turned up with an old girlfriend, Rita Moreno, at a charity performance of the Betty Comden and Adolph Green party, a series of sketches presented at the Huntington-Hartford.

Miss Moreno was reputed to be Brando's prime romantic interest before he married Anna Kashfi, the Indian-born girl who sued him for divorce last month.

Dear Abby . . .

Rare Type of 'Store Dummy' Short on Customer-Appeal

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I was in a big store shopping for an Easter party. I was picking up bunnies and chicks and little things for table decorations. I couldn't hold everything in my hands so I asked the floor manager if he would give me a sack, while I shopped some more. He said, 'No,' and I said, 'Why not?' He said, 'Because you could walk out the door without paying for them.' I said, 'If that was my intention I would have brought my own sack.'

ABBY

"He just turned his back on me. I am still plenty burned up about this and if I had more time I'd have dumped everything on the counter and shopped elsewhere. Don't you think a good store should provide baskets for their shoppers?"

STILL MAD

DEAR STILL: Indeed I do. And the store where you shopped also could have provided a more tactful floor manager.

"DEAR ABBY: A lady wrote to your column and complained that her husband "lost" four hankies in one week. Well, I have her beat. My husband lost two pairs of underwear in three days! He comes home drunk and can't remember anything. When I accuse him of running around he says I'm crazy. How should I handle this?"

HAD IT

DEAR HAD: Go with him and see that he doesn't lose his shirt.

"DEAR ABBY: I went to my doctor for a checkup and he said I should lose 10 pounds and he put me on a diet. My husband does not think I am overweight and said if I lost 10 pounds I would be a bag of bones and he would have to shake the sheets to find me. Should I obey my doctor or my husband?"

AUDREY

DEAR AUDREY: On matters of your health, listen to your doctor. Your husband is still dreaming about the Gibson girl.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were asked to be godparents for a baby who was born to some so-so friends of ours. I don't mean to be snobbish, but we can't imagine why they asked us because we rarely see them and surely they must have closer friends than we are. My husband says to tell them we would rather not be godparents and I say we should go through with it and get it over with. Have you any suggestions? By the way, what are the obligations and duties of godparents, anyway?"

JUST FRIENDS

DEAR JUST: Call their clergyman and find out exactly what the "duties and obligations" of godparents are in their church. If you do not want the responsibility, by all means decline in a few very diplomatic words.

Slim Down Now for Summer

Start now to prepare your figure for the new bathing suits, says a famed beauty authority, and you won't have to hide beneath the shade of a beach coat.

Two-piece bathing suits are brand new again, and only diet combined with exercise will dwarf that midriff so the newly exposed expanse of flesh between the bra and the top of the shorts is smooth, young and firm.

Check with your doctor to determine the amount of exercise you should take and the foods you should eat. Haphazard diets and strenuous exercise may eliminate excess weight, but may add age to your face. By beginning now, you have several long weeks to streamline your figure correctly so that you will be proud to enjoy the sunny days ahead.

Meet Newest Hat Size: '22-B'

A new hat size has been introduced for women with 22-plus heads. The size is labeled "22-B," and is designed for youthful styles found in smaller sizes.

Women complained that they had to go hatless because large hats were "old" looking.

Scarf Matches Hat

Brilliant Colors, Open Look Are Latest in Shoes

NEW YORK—The new look of shoe fashions is readily defined in two ways: brilliant color and open shoe.

This open look is achieved in many ways. It's done through perforations and cutouts, side cutouts, the open back coupled with the closed front, and through high and handsome T-straps.

Color is no longer restricted to late day or evening wear. It can start out in the morning and go right through the day. The new shoe colors for spring are grouped roughly into five classes: the hot pinks, brilliant reds, bright blues, salad to avocado greens and the corals to orange.

But there are also welcome and lovely touches of mauve pink and lilac, deep purple and a whole group of pale beiges.

Smooth and shiny leathers are often combined with textured or brushed leathers to produce interesting contrasts. Sometimes this idea is extended to the blending of two colors as well as two leathers in the same shoe.

The shape of the shoe for spring continues to be sleek with a tapered toe.

Married this afternoon at First Presbyterian Church in Birmingham were Margaret Jayne Davis and Thomas James Pivirotto. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. F. Gordon Davis of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. James J. Pivirotto of Clifton, N. J.

Pontiac Educator Wins Prize

Mrs. Janet Gauthier of Spokane drive is one of the four Pontiac-Detroit area elementary and high school teachers who have been named winners of regional awards in the 1958-59 "Bold Journey" award program.

The awards were presented in Washington at a luncheon. Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) was the keynote speaker.

They will have their choice of these trips: a pack trip in the West, a bus tour of New England, including a 7-day schooner cruise off the Maine coast; two weeks on a Colorado ranch; a two-week tour of historical New England.

Mrs. Gauthier director of 26 elementary school libraries here, was chosen from among 2,500 finalists by a committee of leading educators.

All summer fashion roads will lead you to but one conclusion — this Mr. Mort is a must! Lusciously full sleeves cling just below the elbow. You can choose this dotted swiss in a pink and blue or a gold and red print — both on white backgrounds. Available locally.

Confucius Say: 'Test Truth of Proverb'

Did you do a back flip into the air on March 21? If not, you're going to catch a cold, say those proverbial old wives who also contend that:

"Baldness is a sign of intelligence"—a sort of "grass never grows on a busy street" belief. The IQ may be there, but isn't it smarter to keep your hair? Preventing or postponing baldness takes proper diet (lots of minerals, protein and vitamins), regular shampoos and massages with a pure hair tonic.

UPSIDE DOWN?

2. "A handstand cures an upset stomach"—this is an ancient idea stemming from the belief that your insides somersaulted and made you sick. To right them: turn upside down. Recommended today for acrobats and aerialists whose stomachs won't churn if they try this trick.

3. "Wearing a clove of garlic wards off a cold"—works like magic in keeping nosy neighbors away. But for colds: keep your resistance up with regular hours and proper diet. Once the sniffles start, drink lots of liquids, get plenty of rest and take care so the infection passes without getting worse.

4. "Buttering a burn will heal it"—butter's for bread; on burns it can lead to infection. Treat burns with petroleum jelly and call a doctor at once for severe burns.

ROSE IS A ROSE

5. "Rose leaves, tossed in a salad, insure good health"—an ancient Roman idea. Eat a gardenia daily for a petal smooth skin—"Hollywood" recommendation in the twenties. Well, a rose, is a rose, is a rose. And though it won't cure an ill, it may "doctor up" a romance if wired by the dozen to a lovely miss. For gardenia petal skin: diet, cleanliness and rest are aids.

6. "A potato in your pocket wards off arthritis"—anyway, if it grows you've got a conversation piece.

Want to cure warts? Bury a toad by the light of a full moon. There's no guarantee that the warts will go, but surely you know that the moon inspires madness.

Greet Spring With Dab of Perfume

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

With spring blossoming, or just about to blossom into color and charm all about us, our thoughts just naturally turn to flowers and fragrance. This seems to be the time for them in a special way.

Spring brings with it a feeling of awakening beauty. It is a romantic season and we feel the urge to become our loveliest, to blossom forth ourselves with a new costume or hat and with a new outlook.

Fragrance is an essential part of spring. If you have not used perfume as a habit, why not begin now? Many women plan to purchase perfume but procrastinate because of lack of time or money, or because there are so many different scents that they are bewildered as to their choice.

Your age, the time of year, your type, and the occasion, should all play a part in your selection. For instance, heavy, exotic perfumes are not appropriate for the teenager. Hers should be a light, spicy or flowery type.

The mature women, when wearing tailored clothes, should use much the same kind and save the muskier, heavier fragrances for special occasions or for evening. Also, these latter do not seem to go with hot weather but with the cold, more formal seasons.

Although all of the above suggestions should be taken into consideration, the most important thing is to find one which suits you; one you like and one which seems right for you. The sultry brunette may be much happier with one of the lighter ones.

For the average woman who cannot afford a perfume wardrobe, perhaps the middle of the road is best. Choose one which is not extreme either way.

When you buy perfume do not try too many at one time. This is most confusing. Soon you cannot detect the fragrance of any of them. It is better to take several days, trying only two or three at one time. Also never depend on how the perfume smells when in the bottle. Put a dab on your wrist and let it dry and then sniff it.

You usually pay for what you get and it is wise to buy a scent manufactured by a well-known concern. However, you do not have to pay top prices since there are many good products of medium price.

So, here's to spring and you!

Just Be Nice to Parents on the Trip

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: A man I know is graduating from Officers' Candidate School soon and I have been invited to the exercises. I am making the trip with his parents who are driving down. I would like to know if I am obligated to them in any way, and if so, how? Do I offer to pay for anything en routs or in the hotel?"

Answer: If they asked you to go with them you do not pay for anything. Nothing is expected of you further than making yourself as agreeable as possible and thanking them warmly when the trip is over.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently my boy friend gave me his fraternity pin to wear. One night after returning home from a date I discovered that the pin was gone. I had it pinned on my dress but it became loose in some way.

"I looked all over for it but was unable to find it. I would like to know if I should replace this pin. The approximate cost is about twenty-five dollars. Please let me hear from you as I am quite upset over the whole thing."

Answer: Yes you should replace it if you possibly can.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Does etiquette require a gentleman to step aside in an elevator in order to permit a woman (not with him) to leave first?"

Answer: If there is plenty of space, a gentleman does let a lady go ahead of him. But if he is standing directly in front of the door and the elevator is crowded, he is certainly not expected to become an immovable obstacle blocking the way of those who want to go past, and in this case it is best that he clear the way, by leaving as quickly as possible.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When I am at home alone and the insurance agent or the milkman comes to collect his bill, is it rude to close the door leaving him stand outside while I get the money to pay him, or does courtesy exact that I ask him to step inside?"

Answer: If you know the man by sight and are certain he is who he purports to be, you should let him wait inside, but unless you are certain, do not let him in.

Clothes Shopping Is Fun Again This Year

By RUTH MILLETT

It's a pleasure for a woman to go shopping this spring.

The sacks, the trapeze dresses, the harem skirts and all the other weird looking fashions that stared at us last year are gone. So are the "amusing" hats that never did amuse anyone but their wacky creators.

In the place of all the scarecrow outfits, with bows tacked on in odd places and skirts too short to sit down in comfortably, there are actually clothes designed to make women look pretty.

The lines are soft and graceful, the colors are meant to be flattering, rather than startling. The hats are almost irresistible to any woman who loves pretty hats and whose eyes each spring are drawn to store windows.

You can even take a man shopping with you this spring without fear of hearing any comments like, "How can you be sure it isn't a maternity dress. It looks like one."

Styles this spring not only appeal to women, but they are the kind that make men say, "Now, that's the way a dress ought to look."

So you needn't dread shopping this year. After the pavement pounding we women did last year trying to find a few clothes in which we didn't feel ridiculous, shopping is going to be a breeze.

The designers have been kind to us this year. They've been good enough to remember that we're women and that we love clothes that simply underline that basic fact.

Handkerchiefs Add Fine Touch —if Immaculate

The old-fashioned notion that a lady uses nothing but white linen handkerchiefs is, of course, silly. A good many ladies these days are using pastel cleansing tissues. They have discovered that this is an excellent way to prevent cold germs from spreading.

But there's no doubt that linen handkerchiefs are nice to own and add a certain touch to a costume in the same sense as solid gold jewelry, fine suede gloves or a luxurious pure silk scarf. They do this, however, ONLY if they are immaculate. Nothing brands a woman as slovenly faster than a crumpled, used, grubby handkerchief.

The handkerchief you take from your handbag should be crisp, clean and dainty. If you can't manage this, the pastel cleansing tissues are a wise substitute.

Garden Club Studies Flower Arrangements

Oriental arrangements using dried, tropical and common flowers were done for the Waterford Branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association when they met at the home of Mrs. Eugene Cleland at Waterford.

The club agreed to assist the Michigan Society of Architects in their restoration of the Biddle House at Mackinac Island. The garden clubs of Michigan have been asked to help re-establish the herb garden at the Biddle House, which is the oldest one in the Northwest Territory.

Spadea's american designer pattern

David Goodstein

David Goodstein, the Good King of casual sportswear, comes up again with a winner entry for women who love a throughbred look in clothes. Designed with the lines that all America love best, it is simple enough for a novice to run up in no time at all.

Its detail is typically Goodstein and in good taste: contrast of texture or color is used for the curved neckline yoke and placket opening, bows and sleeve ends. Pocket welts and belt should be in same fabric as dress, but back buckle could be repeated in the trim color.

Choose cotton, line, pique, shantung, rayon or even very sheer wool. From this size chart select the one size best for you.

10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½
20	42	32	43	17¾

Size 12 requires 2⅞ yards of 36 inch material for dress and ½ yard of 36 inch material for contrast.

Did You Know—?

The four suits on the familar pack of playing cards represent the four orders of society of the middle ages: spades, an adoption of the scepter, represented the nobility; hearts, a modification of a chalice, the clergy; diamonds, the merchant class; and clubs, an adaption of a stave or an acorn, represented the peasantry.

To change a plain black dress into a beauty, try one of those crushed satin cummerbunds in ruby, royal or emerald green.

Confident Living

School Headmaster's System Gets Results

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Not long ago a frustrated father came to see me about his fourteen-year-old son.

"They tell me Bill is a problem boy," he said sadly. "I've had him in four schools and he hasn't been able to get along in any of them. He's been kicked out of all four. But I just can't stop believing that he has something in him—yet all these schools say he doesn't meet their standards. Will you help me get him into some school somewhere until he proves himself?" the father asked desperately.

PEALE

"Certainly, I'll help. We'll not give him up. Maybe no one has loved and believed in this boy enough to bring him out," I racked my brain to think of some school I might know whose headmaster looked upon tough problems as stumulating challenges, not as something to "kick out." And finally, I thought of one.

I telephoned and asked the headmaster whether he would consider taking another boy even though the semester had started a month before.

"Sure," he answered, "why not. It's our business to educate boys. We're full to capacity, but capacity can always be stretched when one has a barn. We can always sleep him in the haymow if we have to. Send him along."

"But," I said, "this is a problem boy."

"There's no such thing as a problem boy! There are boys who have problems but there are no problem boys."

"Well," I told him, "I believe that too. But I think you ought to know that this boy has been dropped from four schools."

"So what," was the reply. "This is going to be his fifth school and I think we can handle that boy all right. Send him along."

So we sent him along. And that headmaster took the boy into his school, studied him, believed in him, loved him, found the good in him and skillfully brought out that good. Before the year ended that so-called "problem boy" had become a satisfactory member of the school community.

This incident demonstrates the positive thinking that refuses to accept any problem as impossible.

I am now writing a new book to be entitled "The Amazing Results of Positive Thinking." In it I plan to tell how average people, like ourselves, have ultilized faith and right thinking in overcoming difficulties such as money and job problems, marriage conflicts, child rearing problems, personal problems of fear, resentment, and inferiority . . . and scores of other problems.

Many readers have been kind enough to write, telling of their own personal victories. Some of these stories I have used in this column in the hope of helping others with similar problems.

I like to think of this column as a kind of exchange center of positive thinking techniques which have proved successful.

If you have found a method of thinking or doing that has helped you and others—a formula of positive thought and action that has been tested by you and which has produced good results in victorious living—won't you kindly write it out and send it to me in care of this newspaper?

I will be very grateful to you. Working together in this way perhaps we can help many others along life's way.

Our Plea for Christ

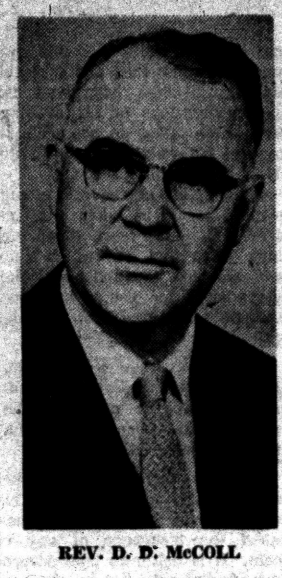

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." John 15: 13-14. Our friend gave his life that we may live eternally. He is Christ, our Savior, if we are saved. He is our Spiritual king. He is head of His church. Our redeemer, for man is lost and his soul needs to be redeemed.

Man was created perfect, given everything needed to make him happy and to sustain him. Man had only two commands from God in the beginning. They were: keep the garden, . . . refrain from the tree in the midst of the garden. It seems our forefathers learned from the wrong teacher that God had misled him and that man should try the forbidden tree. This Eve did and Adam followed, becoming a sinner before God. This act separated mankind from God without any means of saving himself, he was so far from God that it was necessary for God to plan his salvation. The Old Testament Law was added as a school master to bring man back to God in a gradual process. Galations 3. As great as Moses, the Law and the other Prophets of God were, this system was not the final system for man's salvation. It was to be temporary to bring us to Christ as Savior. Heb. 10:1. "The law had a shadow of good things to come." Verse 4 "For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins." So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many: and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation." Heb. 9:28.

After giving his blood he said, "All power is given unto me in heaven and on earth. Matt. 28:18. (Or authority) since he has All Power . . . power to save your soul and mine, so why not submit to this power? He had love enough to dies for us. Why not return this love and friendship in obedience? See John 15:14.

Saved by His blood? His blood was shed on the cross. Not saved by animal blood which was the order of the Old Testament. When was the blood shed? On the cross of Christ and just after this He said, "He that believeth and is baptized, shall be saved." Mark 16:16. Many people think he said, "He that believeth and is saved may be baptized." That is man's doctrine and Christ said it was vain doctrine. Mark 7:7. I prefer Christ's doctrine (or teaching) for salvation for He is the one who will give us our eternal reward at the great judgment. It is before Him we must appear on that final day. Matt. 25:30. Bro. W. W. Hall. Believest Thou This?

At B'nai Israel Synagogue

Children to Take Part in Model Seder

The children of the religious school of Congregation B'nai Israel will participate in a "model Seder" as part of their course in religious education at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the synagogue.

The Jewish Passover, which begins on the evening of April 22 and lasts eight days, will be inaugurated on the first night with a special festive meal known as the Seder.

Shown in the picture are the following articles used in various aspects of a Passover meal, and their symbolism; candles, the light of freedom; wine, the joy of freedom; matzoh, unleavened bread; roasted bone, sacrifice; and bitter herbs, bitterness of slavery.

Other symbolisms are egg, temple sacrificing; salt water, tears shed by the slaves; The Haggadah, story of Passover in a special pamphlet; and the cup of Elijah, the messenger of freedom for all peoples.

Passover commemorates the Jewish Exodus from Egypt under the leadership of Moses.

A festival of freedom, it is observed throughout the world as Jews remember the slavery and deliverance of their people centuries ago.

Track Star Set to Speak at Emmanuel Baptist

DR. GLENN CUNNINGHAM

Former Olymic tract star Dr. Glenn Cunningham will be speaking at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Emmanuel Baptist Church. His topic will be "The Race of Life."

Known to Americans as the greatest miler of our time, his story is almost legendary. Burned on his legs and body in a boyhood fire, he started running to gain back strength and health.

His determination to succeed carried him on to Kansas University where he established some records which are still unbroken. His 4:04.4 indoor mile record stood for more than a decade and at his retirement, he had run the mile under 4:10 more times than all other runners combined.

A graduate of the University of Kansas, Dr. Cunningham earned his M.A. degree from the University of Iowa and Ph.D. from New York University.

In 1953, he was chosen by 600 of the nation's top sports writers to receive the Sullivan Award as outstanding amateur athlete of the year.

The Michigan Temperance Foundation plans to offer Dr. Cunningham's services to every high school in the state during the next three years. He has already spoken to more than 200,000 students in Michigan schools.

Nothing Stops Fireman When That Siren Wails

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—David S. Morris, 46, a voluntary fireman relaxed in the chair of a barber shop having his beard trimmed.

He was listening to a television program. Suddenly a siren wailed on the TV set and he jumped just as the barber was drawing the razor down the side of his throat.

Six stitches were taken.

About nine million American families and more than 35½ million persons are expected to move from one home to another in 1959, according to an official in the moving van industry.

See Big Smelt Season

LANSING (AP)—The Conservation Department reports the beginning of smelt spawning runs may be delayed by ice and snow left by the severe winter. However, the department says prospects for the dipping season are bright with all signs pointing to a tremendous smelt population in the Great Lakes.

During the last period of Spanish rule in New Mexico, up to 1822, four kinds of currency were legal. Merchants made large profits by buying with the cheaper pesos and selling for the more expensive pesos.

Leading Oscar Contenders

Speculation is abundant with the motion picture Academy Awards presentations only two nights away. These are the leading contenders in four of the award categories, with most likely choice on the left and runnerup beside. The limb-climber in this case is NEA Hollywood correspondent Erskine Johnson.

She Thinks TV Westerns Give Actresses No Chance

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Are TV Westerns unfair to actresses? A lovely charmer named Lisa Gaye thinks so.

"I shouldn't really complain," she admitted. "I've played in most of them. I've done two Tombstone Territories, two Bat Mastersons. I've been in Black Saddle, Wyatt Earp, Wells Fargo, and I'm doing a Colt .45 now.

"Sure, it's nice to be working, but what can a girl do in a Western? They're mostly about men and horses. I'd like to have my own series. But Westerns are the thing nowadays. And a girl can't star in a Western."

There's another thing. The Western heroes are so blamed tall.

"I'm 5 feet 5 and can get up to 5 feet 8 with heels," she said. "I had to give Wayde Preston a kiss today. He's 6 feet 4, and you can add a couple of inches for his boots. They had me stand on a board so I could reach him. Even so, I could only get as far as kissing his chin."

Lisa is doing well in TV despite her complaints. She has done 160 films—half of them Westerns—in two and a half years since leaving Universal-International. Last year she was out of a job only three weeks. That's mighty good for a free-lancer.

She can thank the U-I training for much of her success. She went through the studio talent school back in the days when she was chiefly known as Debra Paget's sister. After leaving U-I, she did one movie, "10,000 Bedrooms," then latched onto the TV market. She now earns $20,000 and can afford to turn down roles that don't suit her.

Besides being lovely and talented, she gets steady work by her versatility.

She's a new generation of performer—one who has no great awe of movies. Said she: "Yes, I'd like to do a picture; they're good for prestige. But TV shows are seen by two or three times more people, and they mean more to me right now."

Now This Makes Sense!

By voting YES on Proposal No. 2, you will not be giving added privilege to a few. But you will be voting EQUALITY for all! It seems a bit senseless to approve the selling of beer and wine OUTSIDE THE CITY OF PONTIAC but yet prohibit that sale within our city! Does it make sense to you? Does it make sense to keep our city deprived from this additional revenue . . . does it make sense to actually force people to go out of the city for this purchase? We don't think so and we are sure you will agree.

Vote YES Proposal No. 2

Ordinance No. 874 was adopted by the City Commission 15 years ago and prohibits the sale of beer and wine to the general public before 2 p. m. on Sundays WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS. However, establishments outside the city limits have the privilege of serving either beer or wine starting at 12:00 noon.

We are not asking for a privilege . . . just EQUALITY! And we are asking your support in repealing this unjust ordinance that is really not common sense! It just doesn't seem fair that a privileged few can buy what they want at a private club and deprive the general public. IF YOU AGREE THIS IS NOT FAIR —VOTE YES ON PROPOSAL NO. 2!

The City of Pontiac Needs a New SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT

A "YES" VOTE on City Proposal No. 3 Gets You a Wealth of Health Protection!

The proposed plant WILL provide treatment facilities for 5 Million Gallons per day. This makes a total of 20 million gallons with the present plant. It WILL enable the city to treat all waste being received and have additional capacity to provide sewage services to areas of the city not now being served. It WILL reduce all sludge to a sterile, odorless ash. It WILL eliminate disagreeable and unsightly drying beds. It WILL use newest scientific methods which are odorless, and contained within the walls of the plant facilities.

A $3,300,000 thirty-year general obligation bond issue is proposed to finance the plant. Under general obligation financing, business and industry will pay 78% of the bond issue, and home owners will pay only 22%. General obligation bond financing is cheaper for the home owner than revenue bond financing.

NO INCREASE in sewage treatment charges is being considered at this time.

Will a 'Good Morning' Morning Do the Trick?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Cowboy television star Jimmy Dean thinks the folks in New York City ought to say "Howdy" or "Hello" to perfect strangers just like people do down in Plainview, Texas, and he's going to ask Mayor Wagner to proclaim a "'Good morning' morning."

WILSON

Jimmy's funny that way; he still wears his cowboy boots when he walks through the garment district on the way to his studio —and on the New Haven RR. going home to Greenwich.

"They're easier on my feet," Jimmy told me at lunch. "I got a bump on one foot where a cow stepped on it.

"And my feet are also flat. The Army made sure of that," he said.

"How did you get the bump on your foot?" I asked him.

"A-milkin'," he answered.

Forced by the network to move here from Washington last August, Jimmy noticed right off that "New York moves too fast. People here don't have time enough to do anything.

DEAN

"You go out on the street and say 'Good morning' to somebody you don't know, and they'll say 'Look at him — he's flipped his cork.'

"But I've been doin' it anyway.

Jimmy thinks the philosophy of life he learned in his Lubbock, Tex., area has helped him in the fast life he's found himself in New York and Connecticut.

He also picked up some "learnin'" from the country music singers around Nashville. One of his favorite philosophers is "Grandpa Jones."

Personally, Jimmy contends he's "about as sophisticated as a denim shirt. "Grandpa Jones" took over a show Jimmy had been doing in Washington, and Jimmy will always remember his flattering words.

"You did good, Jimmy, because you're a quick-witted boy," Grandpa Jones said. "But you take me—my wit is slower'n smoke off a shed."

Russians Say U. S. Hides Best Sights

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet tourist chief complains that Soviet visitors to the United States don't get a chance to see the sort of sights the y like such as power plants and scientific establishments.

Moscow radio quoted Vladimir Ankudinov, president of the Soviet Intourist travel agency as saying 7,000 Americans visited the Soviet Union last year—three times as many as in 1954.

Ankudinov said however, that "necessary conditions are still lacking" for a corresponding growth in the number of Soviet tourists to the United States.

He cited these two reasons, said the broadcast:

The long process involved in collecting a visa and "the impossibility for Soviet tourists of getting a program of one's sojourn in the United States in accordance with one's interests."

Miss Alberghetti Again Detours Marriage Plans

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "After careful deliberation," said Anna Maria Alberghetti, "I have decided that marriage at this time would be premature. For that reason I have—on my own—decided against the wedding."

The 22-year-old singer issued that statement Friday, just nine days before she was to have married composer-arranger Bud dy Bregman, 28. She would not elaborate on the statement, and Bregman added nothing.

This is not the first time their romance has hit a snag short of the altar. Miss Alberghetti called off the engagement last November, but later called it back on. Her mother, Vittoria Alberghetti, said at first she opposed the marriage because Bregman had been divorced, but later gave approval. Anna Maria is a Catholic, Bregman Jewish.

Iowa Governor Gets Prestige Car OK

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa House has passed a bill to buy a fancy official car for the governor, but Gov. Herschel Loveless says he would be happy driving a low-priced auto.

State law limits the amount spent on a car for the governor to $2,000. Many Iowans say the state's chief executive should drive a prestige automobile.

Loveless yesterday said he had ordered a new state car. It will be the same as those driven by the highway patrol — either a Ford, Chevrolet or Plymouth, black with standard transmission.

Protocol Takes Jolt From Turkish Officer

The Broadmoor Hotel obligingly billeted the aides in the same room. On their arrival, however, some changes were made.

State Guard Quota Raised

The recently reorganized Pontiac National Guard Unit will be boosted by a 50 per cent increase in new enlistments authorized this week for the state.

Maj. Gen. George C. Moran, adjutant general of the Michigan National Guard, said the increase followed release of funds by the Defense Department for active duty training of new guardsmen.

The local unit, Rifle Co. E, 2nd Battle Group, Combat Arms Regiment, had its authorized capacity raised by some 50 men when the reorganization took place March 14.

Any persons interested in applying for active duty training in this area may contact officials at the Armory, 57 Water St. for further information.

The statewide quota of 401 has been raised to 613 for the next three months.

Union Employes Hard Hit

By A. F. MAHAN JR.

DETROIT (AP)—Unionists who work for unions get hurt in recessions, just as unionists who work for industry do — in the pocketbook.

Take the huge United Auto Workers Union, for example. It has had two of what industry terms economic cutbacks in the last year.

The UAW has laid off 175 staff workers paid by international headquarters and its officers and executive board members were asked voluntarily to take a five per cent salary cut. They had given up 10 per cent for 18 weeks last year, but that was restored.

The staff cutback among $8,000-and-down employes amounts to roughly 20 per cent of the international's work force. Officer salaries are scaled downward from President Walter P. Reuther's $22,000 to $12,500 for executive board members.

The UAW had an average monthly dues-paying membership of 1,026,050 in 1958, down 289,411 from the 1957 average of 1,315,461. Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey reported the UAW operated $2,373,298 in the red in 1958.

The dues-paying drop amounts to $434,116 a month at the international level. The international gets $1.50 of the union's basic minimum dues of $3 a month. However, 40 cents is earmarked for specific uses such as strike benefits.

Using the 1958 dues-paying membership average, the international's income was $1,539,073 a month or $18,468,876 for the year, including earmarked funds.

Staffers laid off by the UAW could collect severance pay, amount depending upon length of service. Employes contribute 5 per cent and the union 11 per cent to a pension-severance fund. If laid off, employes can draw down their own, plus the union's contribution, or leave it for a pension to be claimed at 65.

The UAW doesn't represent just auto workers. Its full title is: International Union, United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America.

And 1958 was a rough year for all but the agricultural implement industry. There were strikes and heavy layoffs in autos and airplanes, and some strikes in farm equipment. These cut two ways into UAW receipts. Strikers pay no dues and siphon strike-support funds. Those laid off pay no dues. A rule is you must work 40 hours a month to be liable for dues.

The UAW strike fund paid out 22 million dollars in 1958 to strikers in 279 plants. A $1 a month assessment was levied on all workers this year to build the fund back from 19 million to 25 million dollars.

But strikes and layoffs didn't cause all the UAW's dues-paying headaches. It developed what appears to be a chronic one in its automobile division several years back.

In the auto industry's biggest year, 1955, when it built more than nine million cars and trucks, total production-worker employment of assembly and supplier plants was figured at 746,400 by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Production has fluctuated since, but there has been a production-worker decline every year: to 648,500 in 1956, to 630,100 in 1957 and down to a perliminary estimate of 476,700 in 1958.

Privately, many union and management experts doubt the automakers ever again will hit 1955's employment peak even if car and truck production more than doubled last year's 5,115,375.

Many factors have been blamed or credited for the steady decline of jobs in auto-making. But one stands out. This is automation.

Among other factors has been a trend within the auto industry to decentralize or, as some put it, follow with more efficient plants the market as it develops with mushrooming population growths. Still another trend is that of automakers to bring into their own more highly automated plants parts-making once farmed to suppliers.

Some cities have suffered doubly from follow-the-market decentralization and the switch to newer, so-called ranch type factories that lend themselves to automation and result in lower per unit employment. Some cities have lost all all auto jobs, not just those chopped off by machines.

Lansing Church-Goer Wants His Coat Back

LANSING (AP)—There's a biblical injunction against being solicitous about one's clothes, but a Lansing church-goer would still like his coat back.

Fossils Indicate Asian Land-Link

Ancient Skeletons Clue Malay, Sumatra, Java Once Were Joined

DJAKARTA (UPI—Newly discovered fossils on the remote island of Flores in East Indonesia offer further proof that a land-bridge linked the Malayan Peninsula, Sumatra, Java and some East Indonesian islands thousands of years ago, according to a Dutch missionary and archaeologist.

Dr. J. Verhoeven, a Catholic missionary here for many years, said the fossiles were skeletons belonging to the "stegodon" family, a primitive and now extinct member of the elephant species.

Verhoeven said these fossils date back much further than any previously found in this area. Earlier excavations had merely turned up some stone implements of the paleolithic and mesolithic periods.

The newer findings were said to be 500,000 years old.

Verhoeven said the stegodon lived primarily in southeast Asia but ranged as far as India, China and the northern reaches of Asia.

He said discovery of the fossils on Flores is proof that the stegodon roamed through Java and Sumatra. This is the farthest south that the remains of the stegodons have ever been found.

In the past, he explained, it was believed that a land-bridge had once linked the Malayan Peninsula with islands as far away as Bali.

background for LIVING

ROCHDALE HOME — The Lawrence Shepards live in this pleasant brick home in Rochdale subdivision, just west of Rochester High School. Mr. Shepard designed and built his own home. The exterior is used brick. Trim is white. In keeping with the Colonial interior, the shutters are a Williamsburg green. At the back the lower level has full length windows. That's Fancy, the English setter, who's guarding the front door.

PINE CUPBOARDS — Cupboards and the wainscoting in the kitchen are pine. The wallpaper is aqua and brown. Behind the stove plastic brick is used to set off the shining copper pans. Next to the round plastic-topped table there is a buffet built into the wall. The door at the right rear leads to the garage.

Your Neighbor's House

Lawrence Shepards Build House Around Antiques

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When Kathryn and Amy Shepard are in high school, they will have only to climb the back fence to be on the school grounds. They live on Rochdale just west of Rochester High School.

Fancy, the English setter pup greeted us outside the front door of the red brick house belonging to the Lawrence Shepards. Trim is white while the shutters are Williamsburg green.

The Shepards like Early American things. When Mr. Shepard designed the house, he kept in mind all the colonial furnishings he and his wife had collected. Before moving into their new home, not quite a year ago, they lived in an apartment in Rochester.

Even the front hall is charming. The floor is green slate. Walls are papered in yellow, a small geometric print. The cafe curtain on the front door matches the living room curtains. There is a sliding door to the kitchen and double louvered doors to the coat closet.

On the opposite wall is a tiny pine chest. This holds several pieces of old copper ware and an old pierced carriage lantern. At one side is the first of numerous bottles displayed throughout the house.

Living room and dining room are at the rear of the house. From these windows the Shepards can see the school. Cafe curtains on brass rings and rods cover the lower part of the windows. These have a soft coral background with flowers and figures in green, beige and cream.

Walls are deep green; the ceiling white. The floors are oak, finished to look old. There are two large gold braided rugs, one in each of the two areas. All woodwork is pine with an antique finish. At one end of the room is a used brick fireplace with a pine frame and mantel. The antique brass tea pot on the mantel is a favorite possession of young Mrs. Shepard's.

Two pieces of furniture are upholstered in the same material as the curtains. All other furnishings are pine. Next to the fireplace is a doughbox used as a table. The coffee table is an old milk bench. Brass scoops are used as ash trays.

HUTCH TABLE

The hutch table in front of the window has storage below and can be converted to a large chair. A pine dry sink holds plants.

Unusual bases make the lamps more interesting. In the dining room a candle mold has been used. Old colorful bottles were Mrs. Shepard's choice for most of the other lamps. Some have antiqued parchment shades; others have homespun shades.

Wooden chairs are low, Windsor in style.

Just inside the doorway from the hall the Shepards have a built-in bookcase with louvered doors below. The television is set in this lower unit. The entire bookcase swings out to allow access to storage space inside the wall.

The kitchen at the front of the house has a spatter linoleum floor; autumnal colors are superimposed on a beige background. All cupboards and the wainscoting are pine. The wallpaper is aqua and brown, with a fruit design. Counter tops are green.

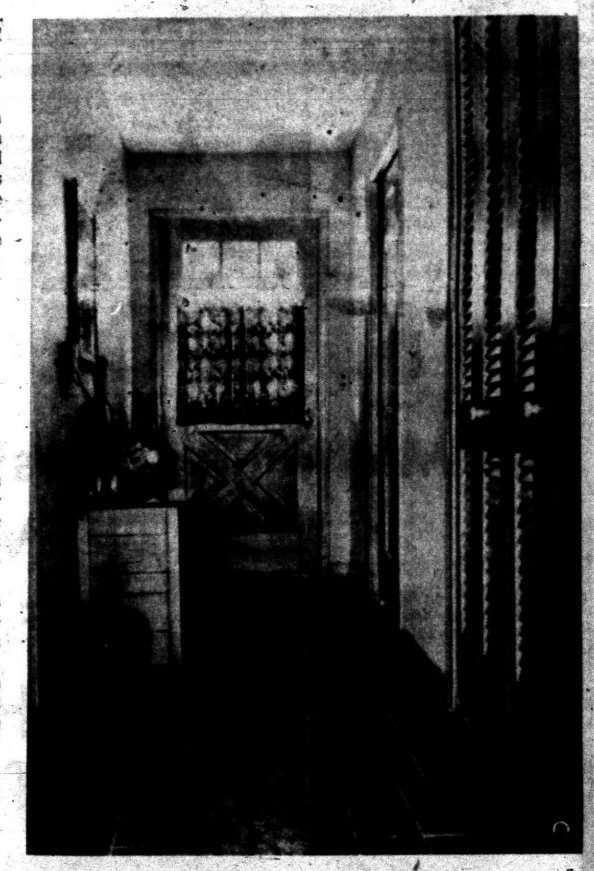

In the dining corner there is a built-in buffet with sliding door storage below. The round table has a plastic top. Kathy has a miniature replica of the Captain's chairs.

Down in the basement there is a second fireplace. As the house is built on a hillside, the windows are full length. This, of course, is the site of the future recreation room. A Dutch door keeps small Amy from falling down the stairs.

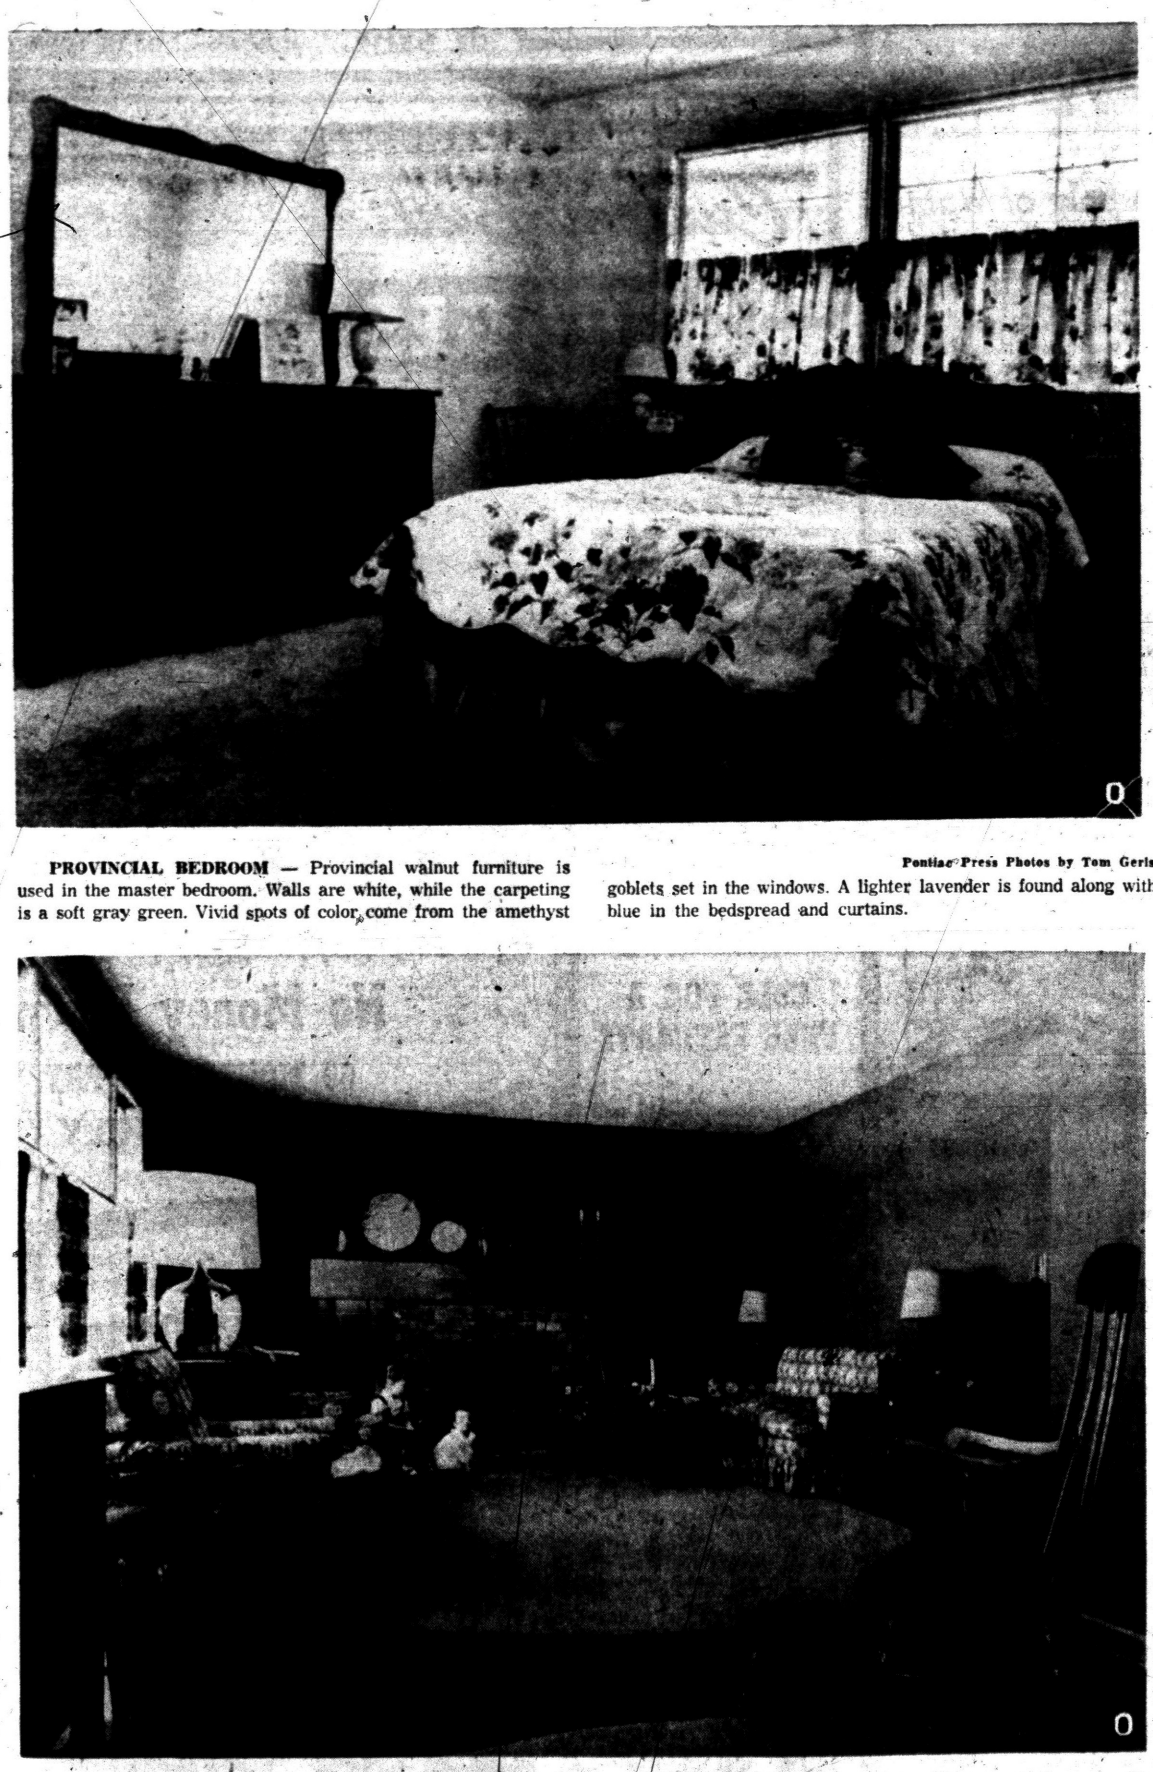

The little girls have their own bathroom, a fact that will mean more to them later on. The vanity is marble topped. Sandalwood tile and fixtures match the sandalwood and gold design in the wallpaper. Curtains are cream with brown fringe.

PROVINCIAL BEDROOM — Provincial walnut furniture is used in the master bedroom. Walls are white, while the carpeting is a soft gray green. Vivid spots of color come from the amethyst goblets set in the windows. A lighter lavender is found along with blue in the bedspread and curtains.

EARLY AMERICANA — Green walls and dark oak floors are a pleasing background for the gold braided rugs in this room. Curtains and upholstery are aqua with green, beige and cream flowers. Tables are all pine, but vary in their original uses. The one at the right with plants in it is a dry sink. Three-year-old Kathryn watches over her eight-months-old sister, Amy.

STORAGE WALL — Behind that built-in bookcase there is a large amount of storage space. The bookcase opens out on hinges. Below, behind the louvered doors, the TV set is mounted. There is a gateleg table against the far wall of the dining room. Just beyond the Boston rocker there's a pine toy chest. The dining room has doors that open out onto the future patio. Notice the table at the right. It is an old hutch table, the top of which can be folded back and down to make a chair.

Are Your Gutters Showing?

Spring time is clean up and paint up time around the house. Be sure to check the finish of the gutters and downspouts. If there are any corroded places or areas where the paint is flaking off, scrape the old finish off and apply a coat of matal primer paint to the effected area. Any loose dirt or paint should be removed from all of the gutters and downspouts by brushing with a wire brush.

A cost of matching or contrasting paint applied to the roof drainage system will do a great deal to spruce up the appearance of the home. Prior to painting the gutters they should be cleaned out and a coat of water resistant paint applied to the inside surface. This treatment will insure added years of life.

Town's Name Explained

MANSFIELD, Ohio (UPI) — Widowville, on a country road east of here, received its name because so many women widowed by the Civil War settled there.

Decorate Boy's Room With Eye to Future

NEW YORK—Boys will be boys—but not for long enough to justify the expense of strictly juvenile furniture for their bedrooms.

Since the furniture you buy for the boys' room has to be of good quality in the first place—or else it won't survive the inevitable "cowboys and Indians" treatment—you can't afford to discard it in a relatively short period of time. The basic furnishings, therefore, should be suitable for adult use—and anything in the room that is "kid stuff" should be of an inexpensive, temporary nature.

One way to keep the budget in line—and at the same time, give your children an exciting place in which to enjoy their childhood—is to "invent" ideas of your own for putting conventional furnishings and accessories to unconventional uses.

Instead of buying a junior-size table and chair set for the combination bedroom and playroom, for example, why not choose a low cocktail table with nest of stools that store underneath. This not only can be used elsewhere later on, but takes up less room than a table and chair set.

Even in floor coverings, it's possible to have a juvenile theme, yet not go to the expense of buying something that will have to be replaced in a few years. This can be done by choosing a vinyl flooring in a solid color, then making your own pattern with a new vinyl plastic decal being marketed by a toy manufacturer.

Called "Stik 'Em-Ups," these colorful, washable decals have adhesive backs that adhere to almost any surface without moistening. You can also use them on walls, lamp shades and doors. There are sets of storybook characters, circus animals, ballet figures and "Wild West" scenes.

Hobby kits, too, can often serve a dual function by providing diversion for the youngster, then becoming a part of his decorating scheme. One manufacturer, Aurora Plastics Corporation, makes several kits designed especially to add decorative beauty to children's rooms. For the current Early American vogue, the Aurora Coppersmith Collection is especially appropriate. The child can create his own three-dimensional copper plaques to hang on the wall—including a Colonial lady or man, American flag, the Liberty Bell and other historic themes.

More Shoes Expected

NEW YORK (UPI)—The leather industry expects record shoe production and sales this year despite a possible increase in prices resulting from higher raw material costs, according to the Tanners' Council of America.

Although a sizable number of homebuyers buy their home for cash and many others pay only 10 per cent or less down, the average home sold today carries a mortgage of $8,000.

PINK AND WHITE

Three-year-old Kathryn has a pink spool bed and matching dresser in her white room. Curtains are pink and white checked. Her hobnail bedspread is white.

Cafe curtains and the bedspread match; the material has a white background with blue and lavender flowers on it. The dust ruffle is white. Amethyst glass goblets in the windows pick up the lavender of the curtains and add a glowing light tof their own.

The attached bath has soft aqua tile and curtains. Several varieties of grasses are printed on the aqua wallpaper. The marbled vanity top has a fleck of green it it.

Supply of Walnut Ample Despite Increase in Use

Although the popularity of American walnut for furniture and cabinets has created a huge demand, for the wood in recent years, supplies still are adequate to meet all anticipated needs, according to industry reports.

Walnut is grown extensively, thanks to a well-organized industry-state sponsored reforestation program which supplements the natural regeneration.

Serving to "stretch" the supply, moreover, are improved utilization practices made possible by technological develpoments. Veneer processes, for example, produce surface yields up to 2000 per cent over that of solid lumber.

A wide variety of grain and figure types is available. There are 24 general categories of these, plus dozens of other variations which designers and architects choose for special effects.

Among the distinctive treatments of walnut is the use of two or more veneer types in the same cabinet.

SOUND AND SENSIBLE: This three-bedroom ranch has a big family kitchen, 32-foot long dining-living room combination, and 1½ baths. It has been price estimated at $20,250 in central Connecticut not including cost of land. Habitable area is 1,540 square feet.

FLOOR PLAN: "In line" arrangement of dining and liivng rooms produces an entertaining area 32 feet long. At dining room end, sliding doors expose den. Kitchen also is oversize.

Living Luxury in a Home Many Can Afford

By DAVID L. BOWEN

And the charm is not restricted to the informal family section of the house. The living and dining rooms, arranged "in line," stretch for 32 long, luxurious feet.

The house has three bedrooms, 1½ baths, a den that adds even more glamor to the entertainmeh section, a covered entrance porch and a terrace in the rear, a laundry on the ground floor and a full basement.

It is X-52 in the House of the Week series of distinguished thomes, designed by Architect Lester Cohen. The architect reports the house would cost about $20,250 in central Connecticut, not including cost of the land nor sewer and water connections.

Because building costs vary by region, the figure will swing widely from city to city. The only certain way to determine the cost of X-52 is to have a contractor in your locality give an estimate on the basis of a 35-cent study plan.

PROVISION FOR INFORMALITY

The kitchen has a length of more than 21 feet, with working counters, range, oven and sink in one half and a bright dinette space—with glass area on three sides—at the other. A snack bar provides a division between the two sections.

The inviting rear terrace can also be reached through another set of glass doors from the den which adjoins the dining room on a level one step lower. Folding doors are specified between these two rooms, so that the den can be added to or subtracted from the formal entertaining area as desired.

OPEN FIREPLACE

The living room, which has full length floor-to-ceiling glass windows at one corner, is reached from the front door through a spacious foyer.

This foyer connects with the central hall which efficiently joins the bedrom section to the other areas of the house.

All of the bedrooms are provided with liberal closet space, and the master bedroom has a private lavatory. A big handy walk-in linen closet is located in the short hallway connecting the main hall to the bath.

In all, there are 10 closets on the main floor, plus attic storage space and a full basement where a recreation room can be easily installed.

EXTERIOR DETAILED

The exterior walls are hand-split shakes, vertical siding and random ashlar stone. Over-all dimensions, including the garage, are 55' 6" by 42' 4". Habitable area is 1,540 square feet. A lot 75 by 100 feet is recommended.

Clean the Tile Just Like Dish

No better way has been found for preserving the durable luster of ceramic tile made in America than cleaning with detergent and warm water.

In other words, you care for ceramic tile the same way you do your chinaware. On glazed tile, avoid the use of harsh abrasives or any other cleaning compound you would hesitate to use on dishes. Glazed tile has a glass-like surface which may be damaged by gritty substances.

This is all you need to know about normal maintenance. However, should you move into a home or apartmen: in which ceramic tile has been neglected and allowed to accumulate dirt, special attention may be necessary. Scour the tile by hand, and do it in a series of treatments rather than attempting to restore it at once.

Rust and strains also may call for special measures. Attack rust marks with a thin paste of oxalic acid. Leave the solution on the spots for about 15 minutes. Rinsing away the acid should remove the last trace of rust.

The best way to treat stains, of course, is to prevent them in the first place. Make a habit of immediately wiping up any spillage that would leave stains. The material used to fill spaces between tiles is vulnerable to stains if spillage is allowed to stand indefinitely.

When the joint material is soiled or stained, scrub it vigorously with a mild scouring powder and a fiber brush. For stubborn spots try applications of hydrogen peroxide or ordinary hair bleach.

Basement Ceiling Improves Look

An improvement that will give any basement a "lift" is covering the ceiling joists. This may be done econmically by using Masonite ¼" Panelwood cut into 16-inch squares or rectangles 16 by 24 inches and applying them over the joists.

Since all edges must be supported, 1 x 2-inch lumber must be installed between the joists and flush with them at the joints between the panels. Before applying the panels, cut a deep bevel on all exposed edges, using a plane or beveling tool.

Estimated Cost of X-52

Architect Lester Cohen reports that X-52 has been cost-estimtaed at $20,250 in central Connecticut — not including land nor the cost of sewer and water connections, which depend on individual site circumstances.

Based on the most recent tabulations of the "Dow Service Real Estate Valuation Calculator," a construction cost guide published by the F. W. Dodge Corp. and used nationally for approximating reproduction costs for buildings, this price could be expected to vary as follows in these cities:

Boston	1% Less
New York	7% More
Montgomery, Ala.	37% Less
Dallas, Tex.	14% Less
Chicago, Ill.	2% More
Detroit, Mich.	No Change
Tulsa, Okla.	10% Less
Toledo, Ohio	5% More
Ft. Wayne, Ind.	3% More
Cheyenne, Wyo.	5% More
San Francisco	5% Less

Further price differences may result from the effect of local climate, building customs and individual family needs on the basic house plan. Some changes may mean more expense, others — as building without a basement — would reduce cost. Substitution of materials of equal quality but cheaper in your area than those called for in the plan may also produce savings.

Myron L. Matthews, editor of the Dow cost calculator, predicts that building costs nationally — now about 2½ times what they were in 1941 —will rise another 5 per cent during 1959.

ONLY CARBO-SEAL CAN GIVE YOUR MASONRY HOME AN INVISIBLE COATING WHICH AFFORDS SUCH OUTSTANDING PROTECTION AGAINST MOISTURE.

Here, at last, is the answer to the age-old problem of moisture in masonry homes. Carbo-Seal, an invisible coating, made with miracle silicone resins provides the ultimate in moisture protection . . . preserves the natural beauty of all types of masonry surfaces . . . brick, stucco, concrete, asbestos shingles, cement paint and artificial stone.

Carbo-Seal penetrates deeply, coating tiny particles of masonry with a water-repellent film, yet does not seal the pores . . . allowing the wall to breathe. Rain simply rolls off the water-repellent surface.

Keep Make, Model No. of Plumbing Fixtures

It's a good idea to know your plumbing fixtures by make and model number. Then keep the list handy for emergencies, the Plumbing — Heating — Cooling Information Bureau suggests. If you do not have the make and model number of your fixtures, ask a plumbing contractor to get it for you the next time you have the occasion to have some work done.

Knowing the make and model number of the plumbing fixtures in your bathrooms, powder room, kitchen, and laundry will prove to be a great convenience and a time-saver for you and the plumbing contractor when you need repairs done in a hurry.

Electrically Heated Homes on Increase

A few short years have brought notable changes in the number of the nation's electrically heated homes.

A survey by a leading business magazine shows that more than a half-million homes — 500,143 — are being heated by electricity at present. This compares to a figure of 372,500 in 1957. By next year, it is expected the number will increase to 888,900 and to 1,786,000 by 1965. All this comes after a standing start at the end of World War II when electric home heating was virtually unknown.

Here in Southeastern Michigan, over 1,000 dwellings, including homes and apartments, have electricity as their primary source of heat

One of the distinguishing marks of a home with built-in electric heat is the absence of a furnace. And, if that home has no fireplace, there's no chimney eiter.

These two items alone account for a good deal of space that can be put to better use as living area, work space or larger utility room. Or, it can mean to the home builder on a very limited budget that a home of somewhat smaller overall dimensions will still give the same amount of usable area inside.

The absence of ducts or popes also means space is saved, especially in the basement overhead. A fact that many home owners appreciate from the decorating and construction point of view when they plan a basement recreation room.

Many types of built-in electric heating units are surface or flush mounted on walls and baseboards and reduce considerably the amount of space normally taken by radiators. Yet, electric heating is as even and draft-free as the finest steam or hot water system — or more so. In addition, it responds practially instantaneously and allows for room by room control with thermostats in each room.

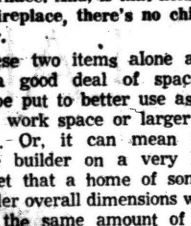

Labels Are to Be Read

Use turpentine to remove oil and grease from the wood surfaces you are about to paint. Knots and sappy places must then be coated with a knot-sealer. Putty nail holes, cracks, open joints and other defects after the prime coat has been dried. Read the label on your paint can and follow the manufacturer's directions to the letter. Your original ideas probably cannot improve upon the manufacturer's plan which has been formulated after long and exhaustive research.

Solar House Sold

Neighbors have forced the sale of a solar heated house in a fashionable Phoenix, Ariz., residential district. Their reason: too many visitors to the house, which was kept open to the public to show off its unique heating system.

CHAISE — This furniture piece was designed for leisure hours out of doors, but it was so comfortable that it was moved into the den when winter came. It can't be beat for reading, relaxing, watching television or just plain dozing. It makes a handy extra bed. The wheels make it easy to move and because it's rugged, hard use and scratches won't hurt it one bit. The back may be raised or lowered depending upon how you choose to use it. Two regular outdoor furniture pads serve as a mattress. The chaise is constructed of standard stock lumber available anywhere. When you make it yourself, the cost is slight. To build it is easy when you use the full size pattern. All that's necessary is to trace the pattern on wood, then saw out the parts and finally put them together. Required materials and easy to read directions and pictures are printed right on the pattern. To obtain the full size double chaise pattern No. 182 send $1 by currency, check or money order to Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, Calif.

Acoustical Tile Repairs Ceiling, Cuts Down Noise

Ceilings, like any other part of the house, are prone to develop signs of old age. Some ceilings crack because of normal settling of the house. Other types, such as composition board, have a tendency to sag.

Usually, these signs appear long before the house needs general remodeling.

Until a few years ago, the thought of repairing a cracked ceiling caused most homeowners to shudder. It was a tedious, messy job, Even upon completion, there was no guarantee that the ceiling wouldn't crack or chip again.

Today, new types of acoustical tile eliminate all the fuss and bother of ceiling repair. They're easily applied right over the unsightly ceiling, and provide an attractive, permanent interior finish.

Acoustical, or noise quieting tiles, are also being installed in many new homes across the country. By 1965, housing authorities predict a 400 per cent increase in the use of these ceilings in new home construction.

What are the advantages of an acoustical ceiling in the home?

SOUND CONDITIONING

First of all, it provides sound-conditioning — an entirely new dimension in comfort. By means of small holes or crevices in the surface, acoustical tiles soak up noise — up to 75 per cent of the noise that strikes the ceiling.

Standard ceiling materials can only reflect sound waves. As these waves bounce around from surface to surface, the room becomes noisy. People tend to talk louder to be heard. Those who want to hear radio or television turn up the volume. The result: A racket!

Acoustical ceilings are designed to trap sound waves before they have a chance to produce noise. In the kitchen, for example, an acoustical ceiling hushes the clatter of pans and dishes, the shrill ring of the telephone, the whir of the food mixer, and the stampeding footsteps of the youngsters. Mother's day becomes a little less hectic.

When a party gets rolling in the living room or family room, voices and music often swell into a tumultuous racket. A sound absorbent ceiling overhead helps to take the edge off this noise—to create a more relaxed atmosphere in which guests can enjoy themselves.

Besides their noise quieting ability, modern acoustical ceilings are available in a wide range of attractive patterns. These include a rich fissured surface detail, a random perforated design, and an unusual lace-like arrangement of tiny perforations. Each tile pattern is especially designed to blend in with any traditional or modern decor.

What about cost? One acoustical tile manufacturer estimates that the retail price of random perforated acoustical material in sufficient quantity to cover a 9'x12' room would run less than $25. If the home handyman installs the material himself, the only additional cost would be the installation materials needed for the job.

Curved Walks How to Construct

If you are planning on putting in a new concrete walk in the front or back yard, consider making a curved walk to increase its beauty.

Curved forms are easy to make if you use strips of ¼-inch tempered hardboard nailed to wood pegs driven into the ground every foot around the perimeter of the curve. Hardboard strips 6 inches wide will form sweeping curves with little difficulty.

35 Courses in 18-Mile Radius of Pontiac

Oakland County Still State's Golf Capital

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Summer or winter, outdoorsmen have a sports paradise in Oakland County.

Snow lovers have 9 ski and winter sports' areas. Sun lovers have 35 golf courses, all within an 18-mile radius of Pontiac.

All the claims of cities like Augusta, Chicago and Philadelphia about being America's golf capitals could get a good argument from Pontiac or any city in Oakland County.

Move in any direction out of Pontiac and within a 10-mile radius a golfer can find any one of 27 courses, 15 of them either public or semi-public.

Another eight miles either way, and eight more outstanding courses will be found, bringing the total 21 public and semi-public clubs and 14 private country clubs.

Where in the state of Michigan or even in the country can golf be found in such area proportions? To put it in figures, we have 576 holes in 2,240,000 yards or more than 127 miles fairways and greens.

What makes these statistics more appealing is the fact that the public has access to 65 per cent of the golf area.

In many places in the Midwest, Florida or California, the majority of courses are restricted to private members, forcing non-members to travel as much as 35 miles to play a round of golf.

Oakland County golf is rich in historical tradition of great tournaments and key shots in golf, and the layouts and course conditions are second to none.

Oakland Hills, with three National Opens in its history, Birmingham and Plum Hollow, hosts to the National PGA; Forest Lake site of the National Women's Open; Franklin Hills site of a National Women's Amateur, plus four Western Open tournaments at Red Run, Indianwood, Plum Hollow and Oakland Hills are among the great national tournament highlights in the memories of county golf fans.

Each year area courses are the sites for several of the top state tournaments and each year Oakland County produces its share of state amateur and pro champions and top golfers nationally.

There's no doubt, Oakland County is Michigan's golf capital, and if anyone wants to argue, it is the richest 18-mile radius of golf in the country.

PINE LAKE GROWS — Pictured above is the architect's drawing of the new addition at Pine Lake Country Club. Work is now under way on the new wing, which is being added to the present clubhouse. The project is expected to be finished by mid-August and the wing will include a second lobby area, men's grill, mixed grill, cocktail lounge and men's and women's locker rooms. The additional facilities will help Pine Lake to stay open on a 10-month basis. Cost of the project is $330,000.

New Wing Under Way to Mark Club's 57th Birthday

Expansion at Pine Lake CC

By BILL CORNWELL

Another momentous chapter is being added to the long and honored history of Pine Lake Country Club.

If plans go according to schedule, the final word of the latest chapter will be written by mid-August to climax the 57th anniversary year of the storied Pine Lake course.

The private 18-hole layout on Pine Lake Road between Orchard Lake an Middle Belt is expanding this season in order to keep pace with the needs and desires of its membership.

A new wing representing the latest in modern architectural design is being tacked on to the present clubhouse at a cost of approximately $330,000.

Without a hitch in the timetable, the project will be completed by August 15. Workmen already have started to build the new wing, which will house a second lobby area, men's grill and mixed grill, cocktail lounge, and men's and women's locker rooms.

Although the project won't be finished until the middle of August, club officials hope to have some of the building ready for use when the club holds its 10th annual Invitational tournament June 11-14.

The clubhouse addition will enable Pine Lake officials to do something they have wanted to do for a long time — namely, stay open for a longer period of the year.

Because of heating problems and other difficulties in the old clubhouse, Pine Lake has been forced to shut down during the winter and members have been using the club on a seven-month basis.

Now Pine Lake will be able to stay open for 10 months or virtually the whole year. The new wing can be comfortably heated and closed off from the old building in the wintertime, thus permitting club activity for an extended period.

Elmer Prieskorn, beginning his 5th season as Pine Lake's head professional, summed up the thinking behind a longer club year this way:

"There are so many other recreational facilities available here besides golf that it was becoming almost impossible to deny members the privilege of using them. By remaining open longer, the club can better serve the membership."

Prieskorn came to Pine Lake in 1955 after serving nine years as an assistant pro at Plum Hollow. He has two capable young assistant pros at Pine Lake in Gerry Prieskorn and Art Berry.

Even though Pine Lake observes its 57th birthday this year, it officially did not become a golfing country club until 1921.

The origin of the club is interesting indeed. Pine Lake was founded as an exclusive automobile club in 1902 after being selected as the objective of weekend automobile runs by Col. John Jacob Astor's Automobile Club of Michigan.

Practically everybody from Detroit who owned a car belonged to the club and in those days it was a great challenge to make the Detroit-Pine Lake round trip in one day. Few succeeded and Pine Lake was the site for overnight stops.

Pine Lake's first clubhouse was built in 19 0 and the charter member list included such illustrious automotive names as Henry Ford, James Couzens, John Dodge, E. LeRoy Pelletier and Horace Rackham.

The first seven holes of golf went into use in 1917 and two more holes were added in 1919. Two years later the club officially was named Pine Lake Country Club.

Since then the course has been increased to 18 holes and its tree-lined fairways provide a thorough, yet fair test of golf. There is a premium on accuracy over the 6,825-yard, par 36-36 — 72 layout.

Boating, swimming and tennis are among the other recreational facilities offered to Pine Lake members and guests. There will be a total of 15 club golf tourneys this year.

Pine Lake's membership on its 57th birthday numbers 300, including 50 new members. Five years ago only five per cent of the membership lived within a five-mile radius of the club, but today the percentage has risen to 30.

Serving on the Pine Lake Board of Directors for 1959 will be president Charles P. Livingston, vice-president J. Lou Conroy, secretary Robert P. Sauer, treasurer Milo J. Cross, Sherman L. LaMeasure, Archie D. McDuffie, Chris L. Sloman, Donald L. Tuohy and Forrest B. Wright.

Oakland County Also Has Top Women Golfers

Oakland County boasts its fair share of skilled women golfers in the amateur ranks and Sally Sharp of Forest Lake and Mrs. Zadah DeBolt of Pontiac are leading examples.

Formerly a Pine Lake member, Sally won the Michigan Amateur title, the Women's District Golf Association 54-hole medal play crown and the WDGA match play championship in 1958 for a clean sweep of honors.

Sally will be graduated from Michigan State University next June. She has been handicapped at two strokes by the WDGA for the coming season, lowest in the district.

Miss Sharp

Mrs. DeBolt

The title of "queen of golf" in Pontiac certainly must go to Mrs. DeBolt, who last year won the women's City Medal Play crown for the 6th time.

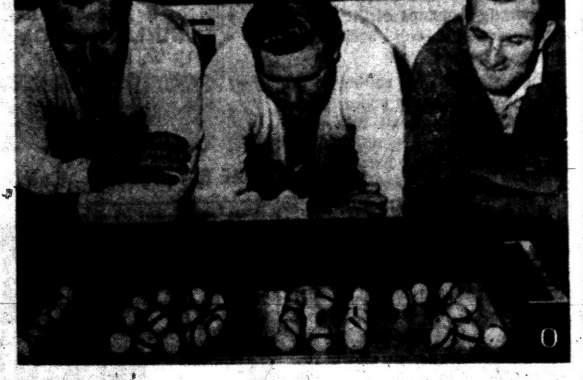

Among the other top women golfers in the county—to name only a few — are Mrs. Sue Gawne of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. L. W. Smead of Orchard Lake, Mrs. Robert Erdelon of Indianwood and Mrs. Phyllis Boyer of Pontiac.

McCoy Begins 33rd Year

30 Seasons for Catto

Gene Bone – Young Pro With Big Assignment

After kicking around the winter circuit a couple of times and serving four years as Warren Orlick's assistant at Tam O'Shanter, the 27-year-old Bone decided to step out on his own and become a head professional.

Gene officially took charge at giant Warwick Hills Country Club just south of Grand Blanc on Wednesday of this week and he will be the host pro for the 2nd Flint Open tournament, which is scheduled July 2-5.

The rich Flint tourney made its debut at Warwick last June and the 72-hole event tentatively will be conducted over the same course for the next six years, including the 1959 tournament.

Measuring more than 7,000 yards, Warwick's 18-hole layout is the 2nd longest spread in the nation.

Bone likes to joke a little bit about Warwick's lengthy acreage and quips "bring your lunch" when he asks someone to be his guest for a golfing tour of the mammoth course.

Gene got his first chance to become a head pro early last fall and he seized the opportunity like any youthful and energetic professional would. He replaces veteran Lorin Shook as boss at Warwick, which has some 170 members at this time.

A former athletic ace at Pontiac Central High School, Bone lives with his wife and children in Drayton Plains where he has bought a home. That's a handy location for driving to Warwick every day.

Top Area Amateurs

Oakland County takes a back seat to none when it comes time for Michigan to boast about its galaxy of stars on the amateur golf circuit.

At the forefront of men's amateur golf as far as Oakland County is concerned are veteran Chuck Kocsis, ageless Tom Draper of Birmingham and Mike Andonian, Paul Bada and Lloyd Syron, all from Pontiac. Syron, ex-Notre Dame player, won the State Amateur title in 1957.

Only a little elaboration is needed on Kocsis. The Royal Oak ace who plays out of Red Run has won the Michigan Amateur title five times in addition to reaching the finals and semifinals of the National Amateur tournament.

A former City Medal Play champion, Andonian's greatest claim to fame is the State Publinx crown which he has won for the last three years. He defeated Bada, 1957 City champ, in the match play final of last year's State Publinx tourney at Pontiac Country Club.

Palmer Scoffs at Masters' Superstition

Defending Pro Champ in Lead With 141 Total

First Round Leader Stan Leonard Slips to Second Place

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Arnold Palmer is a young man who has no fear of black cats, broken mirrors and the superstition that "masters golf champions never repeat."

"Of course, I'm conscious of this tradition — they don't let me forget it," the muscled Ligonier, Pa., professional says. "But I don't let it concern me. I'm just concentrating on winning the tournament."

The defending titleholder and 1958 leading money winner was halfway there today with a 36-hole score of 141, one of two cards under Augusta National's par.

The first day pace-setter, Stan Leonard of Canada, fell back to second place with 143 and the rest of the field looked like a New York subway rush. Fifteen players were bunched at 144 and 145. Par is 72.

LEADERS' CARDS

Par Out		454	343	454—36

Palmer	443	545	344—36—72
Leonard	454	445	444—38—74—143

The qualifying point for the final 36 holes was 149, and there were some distinguished misses. Ken Venturi, pre-tourney favorite, had 151. Three-time winner Jimmy Demaret had 162. Lloyd Mangrum (151) and ex-champion Claude Harmon (151) were other casualties.

Behind Leonard at 144 were seven seasoned professionals, including two prime foreign threats — Dave Thomas, the Big Welshman, and Angel Miguel, the surprising Spaniard who outshot the world's best in the Canada Cup matches at Mexico City last November.

Former National Open champions Cary Middlecoff and Jack Fleck headed the list at 145. Included were Chandler Harper, Bo Wininger, Jay Hebert, Walt Burkemo and two walker cup amateur stars, Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C.; and Bill Hyndman of Arlington, Va.

Australia's Thomson, four time British Open king, shared 146 with ex-PGA winner Chick Harbert and Frank Stranahan. Oldsters say there's never been a traffic jam quite like this.

W. Michigan Pitcher Beaten 2-0 Despite Mound Performance

TALAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Western Michigan southpaw Phil Bareis pitched a no-hitter against Florida State last night only to lose 2-0 on a first inning error.

Bareis, a senior from Chelsea, Mich., retired 19 of the last 21 batters he faced. He walked five and struck out five.

Sanford Goes Distance to Beat Tribe

Giant Hurler Sees Big Year

By United Press International

Obtained from the Philadelphia Phillies during the winter, the 200-pound fireballer became the first San Francisco pitcher to go the distance yesterday when he pitched the Giants to a 6-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

"If Sanford and Sam Jones can pitch up to their potential we can go all the way," manager Bill Rigney has been saying all spring. "We'll go as far as they can take us."

Sanford posted a 19-8 record as a rookie in 1957 but was a big disappointment with a 10-13 record last season. The Phillies sent him to the Giants for San Francisco problem pitcher Ruben Gomez last winter.

Sanford's performance was significant because he had his worst moments in the first two innings. Rocky Colavito homered off him in the first inning and the Indians pushed him around for four runs in the first two frames. Then Sanford settled down and shut out the tribe the rest of the way.

That solid San Francisco socking did the rest as Eddie Bressoud, Orlando Cepeda and Leon Wagner blasted homers to help bring the Giants from behind. The Giants now have hit 42 homers during the exhibition season by far the most of any team on the Grapefruit Circuit.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Kansas City Athletics, 6-1, the St. Louis Cardinals edged out the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, the Milwaukee Braves scored a 13-inning, 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators, the New York Yankees beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 1-0, the Detroit Tigers whipped the Cincinnati Reds, 10-5, and the Philadelphia Phils beat the Baltimore Orioles under the Miami lights, 7-2, in other exhibition games.

The Pirates batted around for four runs in the second inning and got six-hit pitching from Curt Raydon, Don Gross and Bob Smith. Key blows in the big rally were a double by Dick Groat and singles by Hank Foiles, Raydon and Roberto Clemente.

Lindy McDaniel, Howard Nunn and Marv Grissom combined in a seven-hitter that enabled the Cardinals to end a six-game losing streak. The Cardinals got only five hits but scored in the third on Don Blasingame's triple and Bill White's sacrifice fly and gain in the fourth when Curt Flood homered.

Wes Covington's homer broke up the 13-inning contest between the Braves and Senators and marked Washington's seventh straight loss. Center fielder Bill Burton threw out the potential winning run at the plate in the seventh and Johnny Logan had four hits to star for the Braves.

John Babler and Zack Monroe hurled a two-hitter for the Yankees who got the only run of the game when Gil McDougald slammed a homer in the second inning, Gabler worked six innings and gave up only a lead-off single to Jim Gilliam; John Roseboro beat out a slow roller in the ninth for the only hit off Monroe.

Close Fight to Wire Expected at Augusta

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

AUGUSTA NATIONAL GOLF CLUB—One of the hard lessons of golf that I try to teach—and try to remember myself—is that you have to, as the saying goes, stay in there and pitch.

By which I mean that sometimes you can survive a shaky start if you keep working at the game and wait for the break to come your way. It happened that way for me Friday in the second round of the Masters.

Going to the 13th hole I was two over par and my drive was up in the woods. I had, moreover, been playing pretty raggedly. But I managed a birdie four on the hole with a 12 foot putt—then went from one over par to one under par with an eagle three on the 15th. That's the way it ended up—71.

There can be no question that Arnold Palmer will be hard to catch and pass with his two stroke lead over the field. He is without doubt one of the very best and strongest players in golf.

It appears that Dow Finsterwald, of whom I wrote yesterday, threw away his cautious approach to this course and really went to the whip. From a 79 to a 68, which is what he had here Friday, is a tremendous swing.

Finsterwald's 147 total puts him in a very classy bracket. The little group at that figure includes Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Ted Kroll, Art Wall, Gene Littler, and Tommy Bolt. And how would you like to take on that bunch?

My prediction that 282 would be a likely winning score is standing up well at this point. Palmer leads at the halfway point with exactly half that score.

THE MASTER'S GALLERY—Arnold Palmer, the defending Master of Augusta's famous golf tournament, draws a huge gallery as he chips to the 15th green during the second round. Canadiens, Leafs Hope to End Semis Tonight

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs can wrap up the Stanley Cup hockey semifinal series tonight.

The Canadiens, shooting for an unprecedented fourth consecutive Stanley Cup championship meet the Black Hawks in Chicago. The Leafs, the Cinderella team of the playoffs, tackle the Boston Bruins at Toronto.

With both teams leading 3-2 in the best-of-seven semifinals, the Canadiens and Leafs need only one victory to make it an all-Canada final.

Boston, victor in the first two games against Toronto, wasn't giving an inch after losing three in a row to the underdog Leafs who just managed to make the playoffs on the last night of the regular season.

"Maybe the Leafs will find out they're not the only ones who can fight back," said Boston Coach Milt Schmidt.

"We got the bad game out of our system Thursday," chimed in Lynn Patrick, Bruins' general manager. "That was probably the worst game we played all season. We won't play two in a row like that."

The Leafs aren't underestimating the Bruins, but are confident of victory. "The Bruins aren't going to quit," said Toronto Coach Punch Imlach. "We'll have our troubles, but I think we'll win."

As for the Black Hawks, back on home ice where they beat the Canadiens twice, Chicago Coach Rudy Pilous vows "this time there won't be any traffic jams."

This was a reference to Thursday's defeat in Montreal when the Hawks' bus was late in arriving because of traffice jams along the route to the Montreal Forum.

"We never got out the kinks and they killed us in the first 10 minutes," Pilous said.

The Hawks' plan to revert to the roughhouse tactics which enabled them to square the series at 2-2 after losing the first two games in Montreal.

Swim Marks Fall in AAU

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — An awesome walloping of records by Olympic prospects has excited American coaches here for the third and final day of the National AAU Indoor Swimming and Diving Championships.

Three American and five meet records have been broken in eight events with eight more to go tonight.

Except for two meet marks shattered by mighty Murray Rose, the Southern California sophomore from Australia, the other standards have been murdered by Americans.

The American and meet record smashers last night were Norbert Rumple of Southern Illinois, 220-yard breaststroke, 2:36.1, down from 2:38.5; Charley Bittick, Southern California sophomore, 100-yard backstroke, 55.5, down from 55.7, and George Harrison, Stanford sophomore, 400-yard individual medley, 4:35.8; down from 4:41.3.

Rose, who lowered the 1,500-meter freestyle meet record from 18:20.2 to 18:18.4 Thursday night although he was running a 100 temperature, pushed the 220-yard sprint AAU mark down from 2:02.5 to 2:02.2. Healthy again, the Australian will be shooting for his third title, the 440-yard freestyle tonight.

College Cagers Seek Pan-Am. Title

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The undefeated College All-Stars, operating with surprising precision, can win the Pan-American Basketball Trials with a victory over Wichita tonight.

But if the All-Stars falter in the round-robin event AAU champ Wichita has an opportunity.

Bridges Shows He Can 'Slug' Ball

3 Extra Base Hits by Rocky Paces Victory

Kaline Also Gets 3 as Tigers Win 10-5 Over Redlegs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Now perhaps they won't laugh the next time someone suggests a long-ball hitting contest featuring Willie Miranda, Billy Hunter, Albie Pearson and Rocky Bridges.

The sawed-off 170 pounder clobbered Redleg pitching for a home run and two doubles in three official at-bats as the Tigers walloped the National Leaguers 10-5.

A 17-hit attack by the Tigers also included three hits by Al Kaline and two apiece by Gail Harris and starting pitcher Don Lee.

Lee worked the first three innings and yielded one run and three hits—amid reports that the club is trying to deal him off along with catcher Charlie Lau.

The club's options on Lee have expired and the Tigers cannot send him back to the minor leagues without first getting all other clubs to waive on him. Lee, who was 14-7 at Charleston last season, had pitched only four innings in Grapefruit League competition before yesterday's encounter.

Manager Bill Norman platooned practically all the way down the lineup. The only player to go all the way was catcher Red Wilson.

The manager, faced with the problem of trimming his roster from 33 to 28 men by the time camp breaks next week, got three innings apiece out of Lee, Don Mossi and Gerry Davie. Mossi yielded one run over the middle three innings while Davie was victimized by a three-run homer off the bat of outfielder Jerry Lynch in the seventh inning.

The Tigers wrapped up matters early, getting six runs in the first inning off former Northwestern University hurler Jay Hook. The Detroit club got two big assists from Cincinnati fielding in that big inning, shortstop Roy McMillan losing Kaline's pop fly in the sun after Hook had retired the first two batters, then outfielder Gus Bell trying, and failing, on a shoestring catch later in the inning.

City KC Five in Today's State Semifinals at PCH

The Pontiac Knights of Columbus team met strong Ypsilanti in the semifinals of the Michigan Recreation Association Class A basketball tournament at Pontiac Central this afternoon following a hard-earned opening triumph Friday night.

Dave Sebring and Hal Trott combined for 41 points in a 69-64 victory over St. Clair Shores, Ypsi eliminated Lansing 70-57.

Today's other semi matched a pair of high-powered foes in Dearborn and Grand Rapids. Dearborn socked River Rouge 91-55 while Grand Rapids was easily blasting Flint 93-68. The latter games were played at Pontiac Northern.

The afternoon victors were to meet at PCH at 7:30 for the state championship.

It took some good foul shooting to keep Pontiac alive in the meet. The locals converted 19-for-26 to nullify St. Clair's advantage of two field goals.

Pontiac led 37-34 at halftime and 58-48 after three periods. A six-point 4th quarter for John Keller helped the Knights preserve their lead. Andy Mestrovic of the losers swished 29 including 12 in the 1st stanza when St. Clair led 20-16.

Ypsilanti also won on the foul line as Lansing, featuring ex-MSU star Larry Hedden, had the same number of baskets. Dearborn and Grand Rapids poured it on right from the start.

Logart Beaten Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rapid-punching Charlie Scott was in line today for a boost in the welterweight rankings that would match his own soaring confidence as a result of his technical knockout triumph over veteran Isaac Logart.

Scott's triumph over the fifth-ranked Logart at 1:14 of the third round of last night's nationally-televised bout was far more emphatic than his split decision nod over the Cuban on March 16.

Confusion Jams MESC Offices

Director Says Many Misunderstand Federal Jobless Aid Extension

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Employment Security Commission said today many claimants for jobless benefits are jamming its offices because of a misunderstanding of the terms of the federal extension of the temporary unemployment compensation law.

Max M. Horton, MESC director, said, "The federal act does not provide for a new extension of temporary unemployment compensation (TUC) checks."

"On the contrary," he added, "it merely provides an additional period of time in which qualified claimants who are already drawing or are eligible to draw TUC benefits — in short those who have valid TUC claims which have not been exhausted by today — may draw the rest of the benefits allowed in their original extension.

"People who have already exhausted their TUC benefits will receive no more checks. Nobody will receive more than 13 checks under the TUC program including the extension.

"Those who have filed for and received some TUC benefits since last June 30 but have returned to work before exhausting their full entitlement may, if they become unemployed again before July 1, return to our offices and file for the balance of the TUC checks to which they were entitled in the first place."

Payment of any TUC checks at all after today, Horton emphasized, depends upon ratification by the Michigan Legislature of the Federal act.

Red China Fears Escape of Lama May Spark War

NEW DELHI, India, (AP)—Red China showed fears today that the Dalai Lama's escape to India might spark a holy war against communism in the Far East.

Tibetan exiles heralded the refugee 23-year-old god-king as still the political leader of the Himalayan kingdom. Their enthusiasm created a potential embarrassment for Prime Minister Nehru.

Informed sources said India would recognize him only as spiritual leader of the Buddhists and would bar him from forming a government-in-exile.

In Hong Kong, a usually reliable source said Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek would offer the Dalai Lama political asylum in Formosa to carry on the fight against Communist overlords in Tibet. Nationalist officials were reported contacting India to extend the invitation.

The frail Dalai Lama, who slipped out of his palace in Lhasa 18 days ago under the noses of Communist guns, was still making his lonely trek on mule back through wild country and, at last reports, bearing up well.

The destination of the monarch, revered by millions as "the living Buddha," still was not clear. One report said he will be flown to New Delhi and reach the capital in about a week.

Red China carefully refrained from attacking the Dalai Lama personally. All propaganda organs were brought out to charge the Tibetan uprising was instigated by "foreign reactionaries under the cloak of religion."

Chicken Farmers Move to Australia

SYDNEY (AP) — A California lawyer, his wife and four children have come to Australia as migrants and full-time chicken farmers.

They are Edwin Saunders, his wife, and their children Linda 11, Donna 5, Robert 3, and Theresa 11 months.

"I had a general law practice in Los Angeles, but chicken raising has always been my relaxation," Saunders said. "I raised 10,000 chickens in my spare time at Sonora, near San Francisco."

Saunders said the family would live in Brisbane, raise chickens, and manufacture poultry equipment.

College Enrollment of Engineers Drops

URBANA, Ill. (UPI)—Enrollment in American engineering schools is declining for the first time in seven years despite a still-critical shortage of engineering talent.

W. Leighton Collins, secretary of the American Society for Engineering Education, said the 153 accredited engineering colleges in the United States had 2.9 per cent fewer students in the fall of 1958 than in the fall of 1957.

He said the freshman class was 11.6 per cent smaller than in 1957, with enrollment at 59,164, compared to 67,071 a year previous.

Home Owners & Tax Payers
IS TRYING DESPERATELY
to MISLEAD
YOU!

The Pontiac Taxpayers Association stated in an advertisement yesterday, that "City Hall now has millions in cash, accounts receivable and unappropriated surpluses that are being wasted."

THIS IS SIMPLY NOT TRUE!

The FACTS are that the cash is needed to meet current obligations and to keep the city solvent. The city must have funds on hand between January and July to operate until tax payments are made in July. The city has not "gone broke" as some other, less fortunate communities do before July, and have to ask for advance tax payments.

The city does have accounts receivable and an unappropriated surplus. BUT these do not represent cash AVAILABLE. The unappropriated surplus is simply the difference on the city books between assets and liabilities. It could only be obtained IF all taxes and accounts receivable are collected and all liabilities are discharged. As every businessman and home owner knows, this is not realistic.

It's true that Oakland County is considering a sewage treatment system for the Clinton River drainage district. But Pontiac needs the auxiliary treatment plant NOW to protect the health of our citizens, not years from now.

And did you know that if the proposed County sewage disposal system is built on an assessment basis, Pontiac stands to get a huge assessment? This is because Pontiac city has a state equalized value of $335,000,000 (in 1958) while the townships in the drainage area have an estimated equalized value of less than $200,000,000.

Some people have charged that tax rates have gone up in Pontiac. Let's look at the record on the city rate per $1000 of assessed valuation (figures taken from official records of Director of Finance.)

1951—$13.98
1952—$13.80
1953—$13.80
1954—$13.70
1955—$13.70
1956—$13.70
1957—$13.70
1958—$13.27

So the RECORD SHOWS That the TAX RATE for the CITY OF PONTIAC HAS GONE DOWN from $13.98 in 1950 to $13.27 in 1958

Does this show inefficient and wasteful management of your city? During these years services have been INCREASED and fine new buildings such as the City Hall, Adah Shelly Branch Library, Public Safety Building, and West Side Fire Station HAVE BEEN BUILT AND PAID FOR! These are buildings which citizens of Pontiac can be proud of. DO YOU WANT TO GO BACK TO THE ANTIQUE OLD CITY HALL AND THE OLD CROWDED POLICE STATION ON PERRY STREET?

Don't believe the dinosaurs of pessimism, decay and defeat. Vote for a progressive and healthy city. Vote for the new Sewage Treatment Plant on Monday, April 6.

At Half-Way Point on Its 20-Year Treaty

NATO Facing Difficult Problems

By RAY SHAW
AP Feature Writer

Already aged in strife, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has its 10th anniversary this week facing what may be its most difficult period yet.

NATO is beset with problems, both internal and external.

The big headache continues to be the Communist menace—most important today on the question of Berlin. Worrisome difficulties within NATO gnaw at the alliance's solidity.

If history holds true, NATO should survive the present crises as it did the Berlin blockade, the invasion of South Korea, the Suez Canal difficulty, Middle East trouble last summer, and the Cyprus problem.

The alliance has grown rapidly and powerfully since its founding. Today, in a period of massive change from conventional to nuclear war weapons, NATO stretches a protecting shield of 22 divisions from the Baltic to the Alps. (There are an estimated 20 Communist divisions in East Germany and 155 others in the general area.)

DETERRENT TO REDS

If Russia Premier Nikita Khrushchev makes concessions on his "West get out of Berlin" stand, it probably will be because of NATO's strength and determination to keep Western troops in Berlin.

Russia must look beyond Europe's borders in analyzing NATO's strength. The alliance, linked to the Baghdad Pact in the Middle East and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organizations, forms a globe-circling buffer against communism.

Internally, NATO has these problems:

President Charles de Gaulle of France is reported unhappy with his nation's voice in NATO. Recently he announced he would keep under his own control the part of the French Mediterranean Fleet earmarked for NATO use.

De Gaulle's move in itself will have little effect on NATO's strength, but it possibly can be interpreted as a dangerous precedent. De Gaulle also is said to disagree with NATO's idea of a nationally-integrated fighting force and the alliance's hands-off policy toward France's Algerian troubles.

Britain and Scandinavian countries were miffed at being left out of the European common economic market.

Spain's role in NATO is debated: The country is not a member of the alliance, but has four NATO military bases on her soil.

DISAGREE ON GERMANY

The heavy arming of West Germany (nine divisions today, largest single army in West Europe) has drawn criticism from some members. Too, there is disagreement over just how strong NATO should be militarily, and whether missiles with nuclear warheads should be used.

NATO Supreme Commander Gen. Lauris Norstad wants 30 divisions, eight more than at present. He reportedly has recommended intermediate range ballistics missile sites be built in Britain, The Netherlands, France, Italy and Turkey.

These countries have agreed to discuss the idea. Denmark and Norway have refused to accept any missile sites.

What lies ahead?

Time will answer that. NATO is at the half-way point on its 20-year treaty, and could be entering an even more important period than the preceding one.

It is the job of NATO's council of ministers, meeting in Washington this week, to decide how to change and shape the alliance to meet the new and differing techniques of war and global politics.

Attorneys May Switch Emphasis

See Stress on Plea of Self Defense in Teal Murder Trial

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Attorneys for Minne B. (Connie) Nicholas, on trial for killing her handsome married lover, may switch their emphasis next week to her plea of self-defense.

The defense has concentrated on its contention that the wealthy drug executive was shot accidentally.

Most courtroom observers agreed that the vivacious divorcee's lawyers probably will switch next week to the other half of their double-barreled defense—that Mrs. Nicholas shot the 54-year-old Forrest Teel when he beat her in his white Cadillac last July 31.

Dep. prosecutor Francis Thomason said he plans to call only three more witnesses when the three-week-old trial resumes Monday.

Detective Sgt. Phillip Sanders and R. K. Shull, Indianapolis reporter, will relate their conversations with the 44-year-old defendant as she awoke in General Hospital after a suicide attempt.

The arm injuries are regarded as certain to be the center of attnd any paralysis was causd by tention. Teel prosecution will contend any paralysis was caused by pressure from the defendant's own head as she slumped in her parked car for some 20 hours after the shooting.

The defense will argue the paralysis was the direct result of a violent struggle with Teel just befor he died with three bullets in his body.

Mrs. Nicholas still is undergoing daily arm therapy in the hospital. She wears braces on both hands to keep the fingers straight but usually has the braces removed sometime during the day's testimony.

Friday Dr. Tom Barden, General Hospital intern who examined her when she was brought in after swallowing 75 sleping capsules, said he could find no marks on her right arm.

Jumping on the doctor's statement that he could obtain no muscular reaction from Mrs. Nicholas' arms or legs, the defense drew from him the admission that paralysis could have been caused by an unseen arm injury.

However the prosecution quickly had Dr. Barden point out a paralysis also may have been the result of barbiturate poisoning from the sleeping capsules.

Jets to Have Masks for All Passengers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — A traveler on the new jet-propelled stratospheric airliners might ask. "What happens if the cabin pressure drops too low?"

Builders of the sleek new 110-passenger Convair model 880-jetliner, currently being tested, thought of that problem when they designed the craft.

Built-in oxygen masks will be ready to pop out of an overhead compartment for each passenger if the need arises.

Normal cruising altitude of the 615-mile-an-hour craft will be between 30,000 and 40,000.

Accused Prosecutor Stays Off Job

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI) — A special temporary prosecutor has been named pending the outcome of the morals case against Leelanau County Prosecutor Glenn Aylsworth.

Aylsworth asked to be relieved of his duties until the case is settled. He is accused of statutory rape and indecent liberties with a 15-year-old girl.

He said she "made up the story because my wife and I don't approve of her boy friend and wouldn't let her go out with him."

Aylsworth's replacement is Emelia Schaub, former Leelanau prosecutor, who was named by Judge Charles Brown of the 13th Circuit.

Aylsworth was arraigned Thursday and demanded examination, set for next Thursday. He was freed under $2,000 bond.

Candidate Campaigns by Saving Motor Fines

He watches for cars parked at meters that have run out of time and drops in a few pennies. Then he explains in a printed note what he did, also getting in a plug for himself in the message.

It's a Fact!
THE U.S. DOES NOT OWN PANAMA CANAL ZONE

By a treaty signed on November 18, 1903, Panama granted to the United States "all the rights, power and authority within the zone" for the sum of $10,000,000 in gold coin and an annual payment during the life of the treaty of $250,000 in gold coin.
