CAR AND TRUCK COLLIDE — Firemen wash Ambassador Bridge after this crumpled automobile collided with a truck last night while speeding across the international span from Windsor to Detroit. Three passengers in the car were killed and a fourth critically injured. All were from Detroit.

Expecting Ike to Paint Bright Economy Scene

Reporters Questioning President Today About Recession Facts

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower is expected to give an optimistic reassessment of the nation's economic outlook today on the basis of new employment figures.

The Chief Executive, who said the March Jobs Report indicates the long business decline is "slowing up," was to meet with newsmen at 10:30 a.m. EST and questions on the recession were expected to dominate the session.

The government reported yesterday that unemployment increased only 25,000 last month while total employment, mainly because of added outdoor jobs, went up 323,000.

The slight increase in unemployment surprised many experts, including some Administration sources, who had been estimating the March increase up to 300,000 on the basis of other factors.

Administration officials said the report tends to bear out the President's recent statement that March was "the worst" of the recession, and strengthened his position against a quick tax cut and massive public works programs to stimulate business.

Nevertheless, organized labor saw in the slight increase indications of a "continued deepening of the recession"—a position directly contrary to Mr. Eisenhower's interpretation.

AFL-CIO President George Meany pointed out that unemployment did increase—however slightly—in a period when it normally decreases because of seasonal factors. As a result, he said, the rate of the labor force unemployed rose from 6.7 per cent in February to seven per cent last month.

Meany declared "there isn't a single ray of sunshine" in the report and added: "The only way to change the situation is for the government to act now."

Rep. Brent Spence (D-Ky), chairman of the House Banking Committee, agreed with Meany, declaring the March figures "re-moved the last shred of doubt that the nation is gripped by a major economic crisis."

Welfare Costs Cited as Cause for Big Hike

Tentative Plans Call for $2 Million Jump Over Funds for '58

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL, JR.
A tentative $12,762,280 budget for 1959 — inflated greatly by the county's soaring welfare costs—received its final touches today in readiness for submission to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

The record budget represents a $2,030,266 hike over the 1958 budget approved by supervisors last September.

Major reason for next year's higher budget is the great number of welfare cases which are putting a drain on county funds.

Fred W. Smith, chairman of the Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee, singled this out as the big factor resulting in the increase.

"Other major ones are child care and hospitalization costs," the Royal Oak supervisor added.

His committee met this morning to review for the last time the proposed budget. It will go to the board April 15. Supervisors are to study it for a week with tentative approval for tax allocation purposes expected to follow a week later.

Of the 12 million dollar total budget, $10,672,280 is expected to be raised by taxation, according to Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors.

The present budget approved for this year amounted to $10,732,014. Trimmed almost in half in the proposed 1959 plan was a $301,165 request by department heads for additional employees. "We knocked this down to $115,000," Moore said.

This cutback stemmed from an appeal of the Ways and Means Committee that no new personnel be hired unless in the case of emergency.

Committee members issued this when informed that the county might end in the red by the end of this year because of the bulging number of direct relief cases.

An appropriation of two million dollars has been put into the 1959 budget for this purpose. It represents the largest allocation for the many different departments, institutions and funds.

The state put an increased burden on Oakland and other counties when it changed its previous 50-50 agreement for relief payments to 70-30 last July. The counties carry the heaviest share.

A move to have the state revert back to the 50-50 split failed in the House of Representatives last week.

Continue Probe of Plane Crash

Capital Reports Last of Viscount Victims Identified

MIDLAND (U) — The cause of an Easter night plane crash in which 47 persons died remained a mystery today as government experts continued a painstaking probe of the wreckage.

Capital Airlines said the last of the victims were identified today. Meanwhile, investigators continued to probe the wreckage of the big Capital Viscount near the runway of Tri-City Airport.

Four charred engines of the British-built Viscount were dug out yesterday from the muddy confetti into which the craft plunged and burned while coming in for a landing while enroute from Newark, N.J., to Chicago.

The plane came down during a snowstorm just 20 seconds short of a landing. Witnesses said it seemed to pancake into the earth before exploding. Visibility was about three miles and the ceiling 900 feet.

City councilmen at nearby Saginaw renewed a request to the CAA yesterday for a control tower at the field. Tri-City has no facilities for instrument landings.

Caro Judge to Rule on Sullenberger Trial

It will be up to a Circuit Judge from Caro, west of Bay City, to decide Friday whether Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger's suit against Pontiac General Hospital ends then and there or not.

Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn, who normally presides over the 40th judicial circuit of Tuscola and LaPeere Counties, will hear arguments by the hospital on three motions that yesterday caused the trial to be adjourned three days after it had barely got started.

The adjournment was to give Dr. Sullenberger's attorneys time to prepare their arguments for Friday. Attorney Glenn C. Gillespie made the motions for the hospital.

The major motion was for dismissal of the suit, by which the ousted staff surgeon is seeking reinstatement and $200,000 in damages following his temporary suspension last Nov. 15.

If Judge Quinn, assigned to the case Monday, grants this motion, then the case will be dropped and the trial called off.

"It was logical to make this motion before the trial proper got under way," Gillespie said. "It could end the suit and save the city time and money."

The motion could be denied, however, or Judge Quinn could take it under advisement. Either way, the trial would proceed.

SEEK END OF ORDER
The second motion was to lift a court order of last Dec. 2 which prohibits hospital trustees from taking final action to make the suspension permanent.

Trustees could do this at a final hearing or else simply pick up an undated letter of resignation Dr. Sullenberger had to sign in 1956 when he was readmitted to the hospital after two years' absence from the city.

The first method would not affect the present trial much, but the second might lead to new grounds for court action by the 42-year-old chest surgeon, Gillespie said.

The third motion was to strike the question of damages from the suit.

"It was important to get all these questions decided as soon as possible, if we could," Gillespie said. "This is not an attempt at delay but a legal step that must be taken now or we would be remiss in a duty to the hospital and city."

Following the dinner, a reception will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Birmingham Republican Headquarters, 351 N. Woodward Ave.

Upon Sen. Potter's scheduled 4:30 p.m. plane arrival, he will make a hand-shaking tour of the Tel-Huron and Miracle Mile Shopping Centers.

Before his tour of the state concludes Saturday, the Congressional incumbent will have stopped over in 19 Michigan cities in his "meet the people back home" campaign.

Crash on Bridge Claims 3 Lives

Fast Moving Car Hits Truck on Ambassador, Near Detroit End

DETROIT (INS)—Three persons were killed last night and another seriously injured when their speeding car crashed into a truck in the opposite lane on the Ambassador Bridge.

The dead were Clarence Hart, 54; Willie Johnson, 40, and Mrs. Arlene Buchner, 32, all of Detroit.

In Receiving Hospital being treated for internal and head injuries is Lola Henderson, 23, also of Detroit.

She told police they were returning from Windsor when the smash-up occurred on the curve 300 feet from the toll gate on the Detroit side of the bridge.

The truck driver, Thomas Boyce, 31, of Windsor was unhurt. He was absolved of the blame.

Police said the car bounced off the truck's trailer and rammed the railing on the opposite side of the bridge.

Bridge attendants said the crash was the worst in the 25-year history of the structure.

Sees Reuther Running for Vice President

ABERDEEN, Wash. (U)—Rep. Mack (R-Wash.) says he believes Walter Reuther, controversial head of the United Auto Workers Union, will be the Democratic vice presidential candidate in 1960.

In an interview, Mack said yesterday he expected the Democrats to nominate Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas for the presidential race with the 56-year-old Reuther as his running mate.

Mack said he expected Vice President Richard Nixon to be the Republican standard bearer. He did not name the GOP vice presidential nominee, but said it probably would be someone from the East to balance the ticket.

Strike Called Off

DUESSELDORF, Germany (U) — A strike of 200,000 West German steelworkers was tentatively called off today when union leaders accepted a compromise wage hike equivalent to 2.6 cents.

Cloudy, Warmer Tonight; Rain Likely Tomorrow

Mostly cloudy and not quite so cool tonight, says the weatherman. Tonight's low will be near 28 - 32.

Thursday will be mostly cloudy with a chance of some rain, with the high temperature around 52.

For the next five days temperatures will average about 2 - 3 degrees below the normal high of 54 and normal low of 36 degrees.

Day-to-day changes in temperature are expected to be rather minor. Sunday will be the warmest day.

Precipitation will total around two-tenths of an inch, as a little rain is likely Thursday and a few showers possible Friday. Rain is likely again late Sunday or Monday.

The lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 24 degrees. The mercury stood at 46 at 1 p.m.

Mother of Two Wins Mrs. Michigan Title

DETROIT (U)—Newly crowned "Mrs. Michigan" is a tall slim brunette from Greenville whose husband proudly proclaims: "She's terrific."

Judges thought so too in choosing Mrs. Barbara

Dolan, 32-year-old mother of two, last night as the state's top homemaker.

She won over eight other finalists—including a fellow Greenville resident—in the competition that included tests of cooking, table setting, sewing and dishwashing, along with poise, personality and community activities.

Mrs. Dolan won a preliminary award for her table setting, before being named winner. Afterward her husband, Thomas, chief engineer at Gibson Refrigerator Co., said:

"We were all packed to go home. I guess I'd better unpack."

The Michigan winner will go to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in May for the national "Mrs. America" contest. She also wins $1,500 in home appliances and other prizes.

Other preliminary awards went to Mrs. Roberta Lawrence, 38,

Ann Arbor, who was voted "Mrs. Congeniality" by fellow contestants; Mrs. Elizabeth Heitman, 34, of Allen Park, for cooking and Mrs. Nonie Hainline, 35, of Detroit, for good grooming.

Other finalists were Mrs. Janet Blanding, 33, of Greenville; Mrs. Betsy B. Hart, 36, of Rockford; Mrs. Nancy Crane, 26, of Muskegon, and Mrs. Muriel Jane Harper, 27, of Troy.

The contestants had to cook a casserole dish of their own choice and a specified dessert in the finals. Mrs. Dolan whipped up a "chicken divan Parisienne," chicken and asparagus in cheese sauce, and a pineapple tort.

"I love to cook," she said. "I'll try anything."

Her husband said his wife "keeps a perfect house." She also takes part in Red Cross, PTA and Girl Scout work and belongs to a hospital auxiliary and a literary club.

"I didn't even take home economics," she said. She and her husband are both University of Michigan graduates. They have been married 10 years.

Warns of Time When Tiny Nations Will Have ICBM

Bataan Hero Sees Friendship as Best U.S. Defense

SEYMOUR, Ind. (INS) — A warning against a national preparedness program with all its guns pointing in one direction was sounded today on this 16th anniversary of Bataan Day.

Edgar D. Whitcomb, survivor by a unique escape of that bitter hour in American history born of unreadiness, was "hesitant to make comparisons between today and 16 years ago."

But he did propose that the United States "alter its foreign policy to a direction which will cultivate and maintain wholesome and friendly relations with all nations of the world—large and small."

Whitcomb, whose feat was so remarkable it remained classified military information until long after World War II ended, doesn't think of himself as a hero.

Currently, he is a lieutenant colonel in the United States Air Force reserve. His daily concerns center about his family and his work as an attorney in Seymour, a small southern Indiana city of 11,683 population.

But Col. Whitcomb has not forgotten the sickening, disillusioning experience of being a starving, beaten prisoner.

An Air Force navigator who had taken part in a huge mass flight of B-17s from the United States to the Philippines two months before Pearl Harbor, Whitcomb had been one of the some 25,000 American and Filipino troops taken prisoner in the Bataan surrender.

He escaped Corregidor by a night-long swim but eventually was recaptured when Filipinos turned him and two companions over to the Japanese.

He posed as a civilian mining engineer and after imprisonment at Santiago and Santo Tomas, was repatriated by way of Shanghai and New York.

TOP SECRET

Upon his return to the United States he was allowed to inform his family—who had feared he was dead—that he was alive, but the Pentagon placed his story in secret files until two years after the war was over.

When he first returned to military service he was limited to stateside duty for fear of repercussions should the Japanese learn his story, but Whitcomb's feelings about getting back into the Pacific war were so strong he finally was allowed to return to the Philippines.

The tall, dark-haired Hoosier, who has since served as a state senator and assistant U. S. district attorney since his war years, commented:

"The term 'national preparedness' has taken on an entirely different meaning in 1958 than it had in 1941. We cannot now measure military preparedness in terms of the size of our standing Army and reserve potential.

"We seem to be coming into an era which will see each of the smaller countries of the world armed with intercontinental ballistic missiles capable of being delivered to any point on the earth's surface.

"For these reasons and due to the phenomenal strides being made in science, it is becoming increasingly difficult to define intelligently what constitutes adequate national preparedness.

"If any generalizations can be made, present world conditions would seem to dictate that the United States continue to do all things possible to maintain our lead in scientific developments and to alter its foreign policy to a direction that cultivate and maintain wholesome and friendly relations with all nations of the world, large and small."

Whitcomb, remembering the fall of Bataan, said:

"A national preparedness program headed all in one direction could be as disastrous as the attempted defense of Corregidor which had all its big guns pointed toward the China Sea."

House GOP Courts Dems

Plugs for Building Bonds

LANSING (U)—House Republicans today courted Democratic support of a 100-million-dollar bond issue for a five-year state construction program.

House Speaker George M. Van Pelt (R-Zeeland) said GOP members of the lower chamber spurred a Senate-approved bonding plan last night to give almost unanimous backing to a building program of their own.

But to push the measure through, they will have to round up Democratic backing since it needs a two-thirds favorable vote in both the House and Senate. Republicans control two-thirds of the Senate seats but their numerical advantage in the House is only 61-42.

The House plan is a watered-down version of a 250-million-dollar bonding program drawn up by Rep. George M. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor). It calls for bonding for as much as 20 million dollars for construction purposes in each of the next five years, with not more than 60 million to be earmarked for higher education.

Community and junior colleges would collect 7½ million on a matching basis and the rest would be split up for prison and mental hospital construction and other projects.

UP TO THE VOTERS
"This would leave the issue up to the people to decide on, since it would go on the ballot as an amendment to the Constitution," Van Pelt said.

Democratic leaders have not sounded off on the proposal, but presumably it would run into some objections from Gov. Williams.

The governor, stressing the need for immediate construction as an anti-recession measure, has put forth a 114-million-dollar revenue bond-type program which could get rolling soon after passage.

Senate Republicans backed Sen. Robert E. Faulkner's plan to issue some 50 million dollars in bonds for college construction along similar lines. Faulkner, Coloma Republican, proposed to set up a building authority and exchange its bonds for U.S. government bonds now held by the Veterans Trust Fund.

"Republicans in the House, after sampling public opinion at home, are not in favor of this idea, exparently feeling that Veterans Trust Fund should not be tampered with," Van Pelt said.

House and Senate purse-string committees, meanwhile, met far into the night to back up major appropriation bills approved by one chamber or the other last week.

Mental health officials and top brass from the University of Michigan and Michigan State University went before the House Ways and Means Committee in a final try at reinstating budget cuts approved by the Senate.

Wealth Unfolds in Venezuela

South American Nation, Largest Exporter of Oil, Has Other Resources

WASHINGTON (U)—Venezuela, whose provisional government has been recognized by the United States following the overthrow of 10-year-old authoritarian regime, was the birthplace of the South American "Liberator," Simon Bolivar. It has weathered many a revolt in the turbulent years since it won independence from Spain in 1813.

World attention, however, normally centers less on Venezuela's politics than on its immense oil wealth.

This huge nation on the northern coast of South America is the world's largest oil exporter and second only to the United States in the production of crude oil.

Equally important to its economic future is a variety of other natural resources, just now beginning to be appreciated and exploited.

RICH IN IRON
In the wild interior are two fabulously rich iron deposits. Worked under concession to two United States steel companies, these "iron-mountains" sites contain high-grade ore estimated at well over half a billion tons.

Including similar lodes, the national reserve of top-quality iron may total two billion or more tons, not counting ore of lesser content.

The iron boom has opened new roads and railways, improved river ports and sea outlets. It also has sparked interest in other minerals. Important deposits of manganese, bauxite, phosphate rock, sulphur, mica, and asbestos have been found. Old coal mines have been reopened to feed the new steel plant under construction by the Government.

Gold, which lured 16th-century Spaniards to explore and settle Venezuela, is still being harvested—2,171,355 grams in 1956. The old pearl fisheries off Margarita Island continue to yield, while the diamond industry, started in the 1930s, produced more than 141,000 carats in 1955. Atomic-age uranium, thorium and beryllium lie in Venezuela's soil.

Young Duck Hunter Finds Huge Tooth

EUGENE, Ore. (U)—A duck hunting trip has turned up a new archaeological find in Oregon.

It is a mammoth tooth discovered by Edith Taylor, an attractive young student nurse at Sacred Heart Hospital in Eugene. She stubbed her toe while duck hunting along the Willamette river north of Salem and came up with the strange object later identified by Arnold Shotwell, curator of the University of Oregon's museum of natural history.

Snow fell across broad sections of the Rockies, with rain and snow in sections of the central and southern Plains. Snowfall was more general in Colorado and extended eastward into parts of western Nebraska and western Kansas.

Snow measured over 7 inches at Sidney, in extreme southwestern Nebraska, while in central Colorado, Leadville's fall was to a depth of 2 feet.

Gusty winds raked the southern Rockies and southern Plains.

Globe-Circling Traveler Finds DDT a 'Must'

By OLGA CURTIS

What the world traveler needs most these days is DDT.

You do see the strange sights when you go round-the-world, as this reporter has just done.

But you also get bitten by the strangest bugs, as nobody ever warns.

The bugs aren't the worst of it either. The real problem is to find bugs that outside the bugs the other tourists find.

Mention the mosquito bites you bought from Athens to Istanbul and some other tourist immediately says:

"Mosquitoes—just wait till you see the size of the ones in Delhi!"

Capture a man-eating mosquito in Delhi and you are promptly topped by a more experienced tourist who sneers:

"Only mosquitoes? Why they have bugs in Bangkok four inches long!"

When you get to Bangkok the only bugs you can spot are three-inchers. And meanwhile, somebody else is bragging about their sand-flea bites from Hong Kong.

My rating in the wild-life sweepstakes is pretty good because I have a mouse to my credit. The brown, furry beastie appeared under the table in my Calcutta hotel room one night. This intrepid girl reporter leaped for a telephone and screamed for help.

The SOS was answered by two porters armed with one limp distowel. One chased the mouse back and forth between chairs while the other beat at it with the distowel. After 10 minutes, they announced that the mouse "was too tired" and left. After 20 minutes, so did the mouse.

That left only the lizards on the ceiling, which are okay, since lizards eat bugs.

Trouble is, they just aren't eating them fast enough to keep the bugs from eating the tourists.

Ex-Lapeer Resident Killed in Alabama

Mr. Smith was returning to his home in Largo, Fla., after spending Easter with his four daughters, Mrs. E. H. Nash, Mrs. Edward Apostol and Mrs. Marjorie Walker, all of Lansing, and Mrs. Harold McKendrie of Ionia.

Also surviving are four sisters, Miss Lillian Smith and Harrison Arms, both of Lapeer; Mrs. E. V. Nicholson of Largo and Mrs. Alice Oliver of Lansing, and one son, Russell Smith of Lapeer.

Service will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Muir Brothers Funeral Home in Lapeer. Burial will be in Stiles Cemetery.

Travelers Gaily Keep Grim Date

Laugh on Death Flight

SAGINAW (AP)—Many of the passengers aboard the ill-fated Capital Airlines plane which crashed near Midland Easter night were laughing and joking minutes before their deaths, a Cleveland man said today.

Howard M. Thompson, 53, an official of the Eaton Manufacturing Co. at Cleveland, said, "It was Easter night and many were returning from holiday trips. They had no way of knowing they were so near death."

Thompson, en route to the Eaton plant at Vassar, got off the plane at Flint. "I was getting off when many of the new passengers boarding at Flint got on," he said. "They were laughing and joking. I watched the plane take off. Its engines sounded perfect, normal and strong."

PLUNGES INTO FIELD

Twenty minutes later at the Tri-City Airport near Midland, the big Viscount turbo-prop plane plummeted into a muddy field. All 47 persons aboard were killed.

Thompson boarded the plane at Detroit's Willow Run Airport.

"While we were still on the ground at Detroit," he said, "Capt. W. J. Hull (the pilot) told us about the unusual weather conditions across the nation."

"He said he would try to make landings at both Flint and at Tri-City, but he said he would not go into either airport if weather conditions were not right."

Thompson said the plane made a perfect instrument landing at Flint. He said the captain told passengers that weather conditions at the Tri-City Airport were reported better, and that he'd be able to land there.

News of the crash was startling, Thompson said, adding: "You think how lucky you are."

Fresh Troops Go After Rebels

Cuba Sends About 700 to Santiago in Attempt to Crush Castro

HAVANA (U)—The government threw fresh troops into Oriente province yesterday in an attempt to crush the rising resistance of rebels in eastern Cuba.

About 700 soldiers were flown from Havana to Santiago de Cuba, the capital of Oriente, to join army, navy and air forces already believed to total 10,000 men.

There were reports the rebels had beefed up their forces with arrivals from abroad and by picking up supporters during swings through open country near their mountain hideouts. Rebel sources in Havana said their strength has increased to about 5,000 men in Oriente.

The government has acknowledged that Fidel Castro's guerrillas are receiving aid by air. The army claimed that one cargo plane was shot down while flying in supplies for Castro.

The rebels said a plane was burned on the ground, but that they burned it themselves because the plane was unable to take off after landing with reinforcements and arms. Neither side was saying where the plane came from.

Science Pursues Giant Whales

Mighty Mammal Used by Eisenhower's Doctor to Study Heart

WASHINGTON (U)—Scientists are chasing whales these days with all the determination of Captain Ahab after Moby Dick.

A big whale may grow as long as four buses parked end to end. Its quarter of a million or more pounds would balance the weight of the entire population of a town with 1,500 inhabitants. Such a specimen could hold an elephant in its mouth with room to spare.

Yet this mighty mammal has proved one of the most elusive animals that science has pursued.

No man has ever followed a whale in its dive into the ocean abysses. Few whales have ever been brought back alive for study, and those were minnows compared to their mammoth relatives.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, President Eisenhower's heart consultant, has gone on two expeditions to measure the heartbeat of gray whales. Though the whales were less than cooperative, the expeditions provided information that will aid further scientific work. Knowledge of whale heart action may eventually benefit people with heart trouble.

Another scientist, Dr. John Kanwisher of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, has succeeded in taking a whale's temperature—slightly lower than a man's—with a harpoon-thermometer.

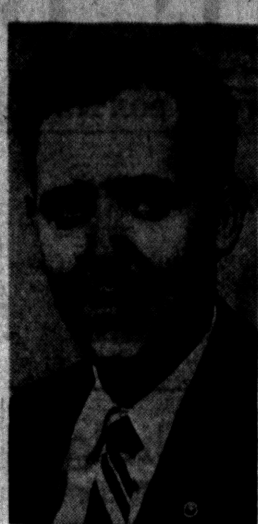

Like man, the whale has almost no hair, and is warm-blooded. Scientists have wondered how it regulates its temperature to withstand extremes in the seas.

The study indicated that the blubber-insulated whale may lose heat from its comparatively uninsulated flippers and tail. More blood apparently flows to the flippers and tail when the whale needs to cool off.

Australian Navy experts are studying whales in the hope of improving equipment used by frogmen.

GM, UAW Meeting on Minor Details

DETROIT (U)—General Motors and the United Auto Workers Union set another bargaining session today as negotiators apparently attempted to agree on secondary phases of a new contract before they tackle main issues.

Absence of top negotiators at a 1½-hour session yesterday indicated the talks centered on what are known as non-economic provisions of the labor contract.

These would include seniority, job classifications and working conditions in the shops.

The talks were resumed yesterday after a 12-day recess. At the start of negotiations March 25, UAW President Walter P. Reuther presented the union's controversial profit sharing proposal.

The present three-year contract expires May 29. The present hourly wage in auto plants is about $2.40.

The Day in Birmingham

City Announces Changes in Its Precincts for Voting

BIRMINGHAM (U)—It wasn't apparent Monday, when less than 10 per cent of the registered voters turned out, but Birmingham has outgrown its voting districts.

City Clerk Irene Hanley has completed the tabulation of voters and districts and reports that 13,266 voters are registered.

A 12th precinct has been created, with registration of 728.

Precinct 1 has been reduced by eliminating the area north of Oak street between the River Rouge and both sides of Lake Park drive. This area has been added to Precinct 2.

In Precinct 3, the area east of Adams road will be deleted. Precinct 7 will have the section west of Eton road taken out, and Precinct 12 will be composed of voters in these two areas.

Precinct 5 also is slated for change, with the south side of Frank street being eliminated, along with the north side of Lincoln avenue from Southfield road to the Rouge. This will include Gordon court. Precinct 4 will take over voters in these areas.

Precinct 9 will be reduced by shifting the west side of Pierce and both sides of Henrietta street south of Lincoln avenue to Precinct 10.

Persons living in the affected areas may determine their correct voting place on the precinct map at the City Hall, the clerk said.

City Manager L. R. Gare has commended the Greenfield Construction Co. of Detroit for its work in installing the Quorton Lake Estates sewer lines.

"The way the work was done is so outstanding I think public mention should be made," Gare said.

"They left the area cleaner than I have ever seen a contractor do before. Drives were replaced to their original condition, or better, and the cleanup part of the job was maintained on a day-to-day basis."

There are too many tag days in Birmingham, Commissioner Carl Ingraham charged.

He suggests that a study be made to see what can be done to curb the street sales and solicitations.

The public, as well as some of the organizations involved, is getting tired of the constant stream of sales which have been held lately, Ingraham said.

"We used to limit it," he commented, "but it has gotten out of bounds. It's the same old problem, not wanting to refuse one and permit another."

"I believe, though, that we'll have to take some sort of action soon. It's getting to be a regular weekend affair."

At the organizational meeting of the Bloomfield Hills City Commission, Commissioner Dominick Vetrano was elected mayor. He succeeds John Bugas.

Lyman Craig was named mayor pro tem.

Mrs. Clarence Wickham Wacker, of 200 Suttfield Ave., Birmingham, is one of 19 candidates for vice president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Wacker, a member of Piety Hill Chapter, D.A.V., is finishing a three-year term as state regent. Seven of the posts will be filled at the D.A.R.'s 67th Congress in Washington, April 14-18.

Leslie Grabendike, a retired Burroughs Corp. official and a pioneer in opening the oil fields of the West in the 1890's, died Monday at the age of 89.

Mr. Grabendike, who had lived in the Detroit and Oakland County area since 1915, was the father of William H. Grabendike of Birmingham, director of Office and Field Operations for the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Equalization Committee.

In addition to his son, he leaves his wife, Nina; another son, Harry of Fremont, Calif.; one brother, Frank of Wichita, Kan.; and a sister, Mrs. Ada Hand of Tennessee.

Service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the William Vasu Funeral Home, 4375 N. Woodward, Royal Oak.

Science Finds New Use of Gamma Rays

LONDON (U)—Scientists have found that gamma rays are "kind" to sheets and blankets.

Hospitals already are using the rays for sterilizing bandages, bedding and bone for grafting and scientists seeking to adapt the technique to washing machines and refrigerators for housewives.

A small piece of atomic waste in a lead safety box will supply the cleansing rays, it is pointed out. Scientists have found that sheets and blankets which are sterilized by irradiation can survive "at least 20 washings compared with the usual two or three treatments in a steam autoclave."

Are anticyclones dangerous? Do they occur often, and where are they most frequent?

Anticyclones are not dangerous. Actually, an anticyclone is highly desirable, and most people enjoy the accompanying weather. They are nothing but the opposites to cyclones, or low pressure systems, and are our high pressure systems.

High pressure system occur all year round in all areas of the United States, but are more common in fall and early winter in most parts of the country. The anticyclone moves eastward at a faster rate of speed than does the cyclone, though the winds inside a cyclone are often of greater velocity.

Anticyclone winds circulate in a clockwise direction in this hemisphere while those in a cyclone rotate counter-clockwise.

But Visit to Be Shortlived

Wintry Weather Returns

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry temperatures returned to Michigan during the night but the U.S. Weather Bureau said they were due to be shortlived.

The chilly readings, sub-freezing in all sections of the state, ranged down to 14 degrees at Pellston in northern lower Michigan.

The weather bureau said the cold snap came into Michigan because of a low pressure area off New England. This low pressure area

Growth of Junior Clubs Discussed

Musicales Conducts State Federation Day

By CHRIS GAENSBAUER
Each year Pontiac Tuesday Musicales designates one meeting as State Federation Day, to which a member of the state board brings information concerning the activities of the state organization.

Tuesday at Grace Lutheran Church Fellowship Hall, Mrs. Donald Hogue, member of the Pontiac club as well as the state board, was the speaker. Mrs. Hogue is state chairman for the junior music clubs.

She was introduced by Mrs. James Furman, who was program chairman for the day. Mrs. Hogue spoke of the contributions for good made by stimulating musical interest in our youth and appraised the work of the counselors of these youth groups.

She stressed the growth in both size and achievement of the junior clubs and told of the conference to be held in connection with the State Federation of Music Clubs convention in Lansing in May, the many local spring festivals and the numerous scholarship opportunities available.

Members and other interested persons were urged to attend the recital to be given by chosen members of the Pontiac junior clubs at 4 p.m. Sunday in Grace Lutheran Church Fellowship Hall.

DISCUSSES CHORUS

Following Mrs. Hogue's talk, George Putnam told the group of his experiences as director of the All-State High School Chorus at Interlochen last summer. Pontiac should be proud that the wonderful choral work of Mr. Putnam has been recognized beyond the local area. That the honor was deserved is obvious because he has been asked to return this year.

The interesting growth of National Music Camp at Interlochen was outlined by Mr. Putnam. Since its beginning in 1928 the camp has grown from 50 to 700 acres, from 115 to 1,200 campers with a present day staff of 430. Instruction is available in every field of music, solo or ensemble, with as many as 13 concerts given each Sunday.

The all-state groups are sponsored by the University of Michigan Extension Bureau and provide two weeks of concentrated work in band, orchestra, chorus or drama. The chorus of 150 which Mr. Putnam directed gave two concerts and, in addition to rehearsals, had opportunities for some elective courses and private lessons.

The musical portion of Tuesday's program was presented by Jean Hymeyer, violinist; Christine Harnberger, pianist; Alice Engman, mezzo-soprano, all of Birmingham, and cellist Flora Wager of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicales.

The work performed was a cantata by Roy Harris based on a poem by Lindsay "Abraham Lincoln Walks at Midnight". Mr. Harris himself was born in a log cabin and shares Lincoln's birth date.

The composition was premiere in Pittsburgh in 1954. It is definitely "contemporary" music and during the introduction and interludes used the voice singing vowel sounds as one of the instruments.

OFTEN DIFFICULT

Because of the dissonant harmonies and unconventional rhythms contemporary music is often extremely difficult, but each of the four performers possesses the fine musicianship required and gave a polished and moving reading of the work. Through their playing they conveyed to the audience a tone picture of the ghost of the gaunt and lonely Lincoln, haunting the living with his yearning for peace.

Mrs. Engman's mezzo voice has warmth, pleasing quality and a wide range. She sang the difficult vocal line with ease and assurance in addition to imparting the dramatic qualities contained in the text.

Mrs. Harnberger demonstrated skill and understanding of the piano, and the string players, Mrs. Hymeyer and Mrs. Wager, played with beautiful tone and fine technique. The composition itself needs more than one hearing to be fully grasped but there was no question that it received an excellent performance.

Mrs. Webster Francis and Mrs. Austin D. Eder arranged a floral centerpiece for the tea table at which Mrs. L. S. Salathiel and Mrs. Cecil Newstead presided.

Mrs. C. G. Ullman was chairman of the social committee assisted by Mrs. G. A. Harkless, Mrs. James Youngblood, Mrs. Neil Gra Enos, Mrs. R. E. Gegoux and Mrs. M. A. Alward. Mrs. Perc Carr and Mrs. Frank Syron received members as they arrived.

Karen Anderson Names Attendants

Attendants have been announced for the June 28 wedding of Karen Jo Anderson and William W. Smith. Serving as attendants will be Mrs. Robert V. Buck and Jill Anderson, sisters of the bride. Also serving the bride will be Mrs. David Richards.

Attending the bridegroom will be Lloyd Freeman of Mesick, William Furstenau of Kalamazoo, Robert V. Buck and J. David Anderson. Flower maid will be Kathy Fasel, and Jerry Fasel of Avoca will be ringbearer.

FETTERED AT SHOWER

Karen, whose marriage vows will be repeated in First Congregational Church, was honored Monday evening with a miscellaneous bridal shower. Hostesses were Mrs. Carl Theorin and Mrs. Ray Allen. Mrs. Allen's Fernbarry road home was the setting for the pre-nuptial party.

Mrs. Lester Krumwiede, the bride-elect's aunt, presided at the tea table. Among the guests were Mrs. Edwin J. Anderson, Mrs. Stella Smith, Mrs. Caroline Hedin, er from Rapid City, S. D.; Mrs. Mae Foote, Mrs. Carl O.

Anderson, Jill Anderson, Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Gordon Woolcock, Mrs. Ina Sisko, Mrs. Almon Austin, Louise Austin, Mrs. Corliss Armstrong and Karen Sampson.

Also on the guest list were Mrs. Richards, Mrs. A. Stanton Levey, Mrs. Harold Boyer, Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson, Mrs. Arthur Dahl, Kathie Armstrong, Connie Davies, Mrs. Rose Davies, Jean Hilton and Mrs. Claud MacGregor.

JUNE GRADUATES

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Anderson of Wenonah drive are parents of the bride-elect, and her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Stella Smith of Port Huron. Karen and William will be graduated from Western Michigan University in June. He is affiliated with Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity.

Go Along With Her Decision

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter has been invited with a young man a number of times to dinner at the beautiful home of his friends, Mr. and Mrs. A, who are very prominent elderly people. The young man has also invited them (and my daughter) to dine in a restaurant several times.

"I think my daughter should now make some attempt to return their many kindnesses. I have suggested inviting them here. She thinks not, and I believe she is reluctant because our house is not furnished in the latest style.

"It is, however, a perfectly nice house and her father and I would be glad to entertain them. But she insists it is not necessary, nor even suitable, for her to try to make any return. Will you discuss this?"

Answer: The fact that you have offered is all that is necessary and I think you would do better to let your daughter use her own judgment as to her obligation. You might remember that very few older people either expect, or actually want, any return from those who are very young.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In my job I am often offered tips by people for doing small favors for them. I do not expect payment for them and it embarrasses me when they offer me money. Some of them even insist that I take it. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully refuse without seeming unappreciative of their kind gesture?"

Answer: You can say with an appreciative smile, "Oh, no, thank you so much. It has been a pleasure to have been of service to you."

"Dear Mrs. Post: When wedding cake is served for dessert at a wedding reception, is it proper for a guest to wrap her piece up in a napkin and take it home if she would like to, or must it be eaten at the reception?"

Answer: It should be eaten at the reception. At many wedding receptions a small white box tied with a white ribbon and containing a piece of wedding cake is given to each departing guest to take home.

Day in Bed Can Do Wonders

Try Vegetating for Real Relaxation

Have you ever done this? Take to your bed for a day. Take some good books along with you, have your meals in bed, be luxurious!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

People have varying ideas about how to relax. What is restful to one man or woman may be exhausting to another.

Some rush out to the golf course to play hard all weekend after a busy week in the office. Others hurry home, grab a bite to eat and rush to the theater. Still more find an evening of dancing into the small hours a great relaxation. While a leisurely dinner at a good restaurant untenses some most efficiently.

Actually, activities are relaxing when they are interesting to us and get us out of our daily routine by giving us a change of pace. However, there is another type of relaxation we all need periodically. This is the kind which requires no energy and no planning and no rush.

It is the simple art of vegetating. You will find it in your hammock in the backyard or front porch, at a nearby beach or riverbank.

I have known several busy housewives because we find them fun — but wives and mothers who lead very once in a while try the old vegetable lives who go to bed for a tating kind day or so every few months. They Tomorrow: "Here's How to Give tell me that this is absolutely the Self a Scalp Massage."

only way they can ever slow the pace at which they live.

MUST GET ALONG

Their families have learned to respect this. When it is mother's day in bed the children and father have to get along without her for that day and cope with all of the small crises which constantly are arising by themselves.

After hearing their glowing account of the rest they got, I tried it once or twice myself. If you lead a very busy life you certainly will not be bored by a day of this sort once in a while.

Take some good books along with you, have your meals in bed, be luxurious! You will find yourself napping off and on and will be wonderfully refreshed by the experience.

It's fun to go on a picnic to the beach or to go on some other jaunt but if you have to get up in the early and fight traffic for miles, it is not especially restful.

Many experiences are relaxing. Tomorrow: "Here's How to Give tell me that this is absolutely the Self a Scalp Massage."

Catholic Women Planning to Hold May Breakfast

Plans for a breakfast to be held May 15 were made by members of the League of Catholic Women when that group met in the league building.

Speaker for the event will be the Rev. John Tracy, director of Catholic activities in Detroit. Mrs. Arthur Crawford is chairman of the affair.

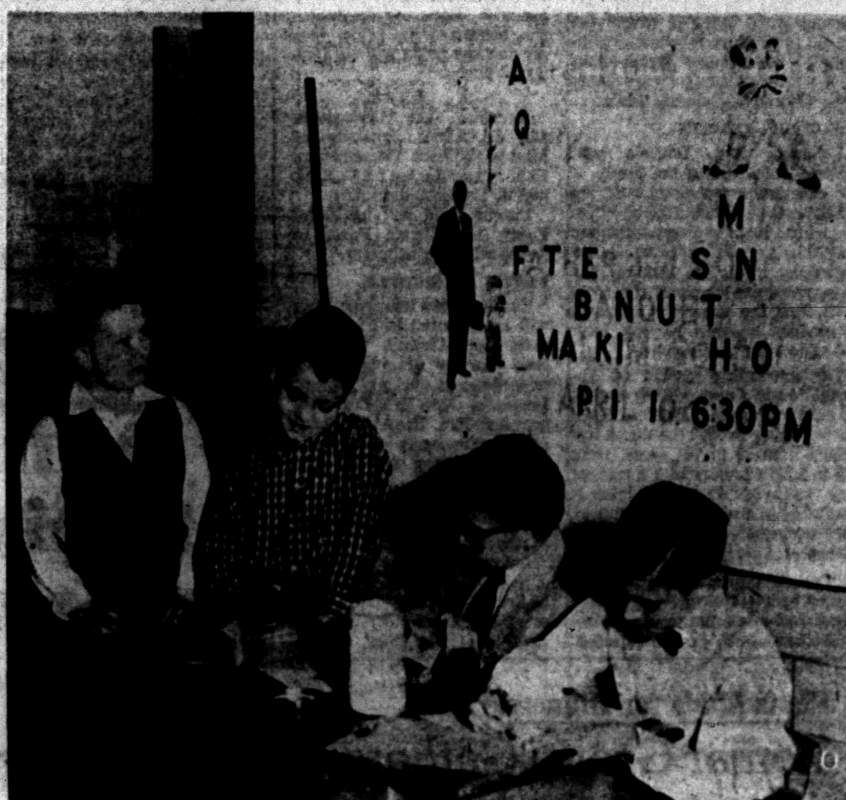

A Bob-Le excursion was set for July 24. Planning the affair is Mrs. Matthew Gill.

Several members of the league attended the open house held at the American Cancer Society Center.

Tea and cookies were served by the Camp Fire Girls of St. Frederick High School and their leader, Mrs. Timothy Daily, preceding the Monday meeting.

Sylvanites Gather

Mrs. Rex Bailey entertained members of New Sylvanites Club for an evening of cards in her Woodland avenue home Friday. The next meeting will be in the Arrow Vale home of Mrs. Richard Wisnerowicz.

Trying to finish their posters, which will be judged Thursday at Malkin School PTA father and son banquet, are (left to right) Gary McConnell of Brooks street, William Dewey of Joslyn road, Robert Pintano of Joslyn road and Dennis Cox of Fourth avenue. The banquet, which is scheduled for 6:30 p.m., will feature several special acts.

Plans for the dinner were made when members met Monday at Roosevelt Temple. Mrs. Harry Vernon is general chairman for the affair. Reservations are being handled by Mrs. Sidney Fellows and

On April 16, Worthy Patron Norton Graham, Wilma Pfahler and the Arene Bible Degree class will be guests at Birmingham. Worthy Matron Mrs. William Pfahler and Associate Patron Eugene Perkio will be guests at Lake Orion on April 18.

Ferndale's chapter will be visited by Kenneth Hamilton April 21. On April 22, Mrs. Harry Lunsford will be at Farmington. Guests at Holly on April 28 will be Mrs. Harry Eaton, Mary Trask, Mrs. Robert Edward, Rosaline Hickman, Doris Nelson and Mrs. Royal Gammage of the Arene Bible Degrees.

Mrs. Pfahler announced the Oakland County Association spring meeting will be held in Birmingham May 2. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Earl Foster and Mrs. Charles Wheeler following the meeting.

Special Announcement

To The Public

In an effort to be more considerate and better serve our families, and in response for some such procedure, starting Monday, April 14th, there will be specified visiting hours in all Pontiac Area Funeral Homes. These hours will be: Afternoons 3 to 5 p. m. Evenings 7 to 9 p. m.

Thousands of families, in the many communities where such a program has been successfully tried, are most appreciative of such a program.

This does not mean the funeral homes will be limited to only these hours for calling. It does mean, however, friends may expect to find the families of the deceased in attendance at these hours to receive friends.

No State Jurisdiction, Tax Protesters Learn

By STAN BOK
Press Correspondent

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Tax protest delegations from Bloomfield and White Lake townships said they were informed by state officials in Lansing yesterday that no state agency has any jurisdiction over the amount of tax levied for township, city, school, county or village taxes.

The group, 20 strong, received this information from Edward W. Kane, secretary to Louis M. Nims of the State Tax Commission, according to Mrs. Ralph A. Jamieson, of 2228 Kingston, English Villa subdivision, White Lake Township.

Members of both delegations said they got the impression from township and county officials that control over the amount of property taxation was at a state level.

Mrs. Jamieson, a spokesman for the White Lake delegation, felt that the trip to Lansing was very worthwhile. "We now know where to go with tax problems," she said.

Information concerning the state's position in regard to levying property taxes is contained in a letter from the State Tax Commission office. Both Mrs. Jamieson and Mrs. Margaret Begovich, a Bloomfield Township delegate, have copies of the letter. Each English Villa subdivision property owner will receive a copy of the letter, Mrs. Jamieson said. Consensus of the delegation members was that they had been given a "false impression" by township and county officials at recent protest meetings held in both townships.

The delegations arrived in Lansing about 9:30 a.m. yesterday and joined forces in the Press Room of the State Capitol. They were in consultation with Kane for about an hour and a half in the morning, they said.

The group appealed to two Oakland County members of the State House of Representatives, Lloyd L. Anderson and Parrell E. Roberts, in the afternoon. Both representatives advised the group to take its tax problems to the township officials, delegates said.

The delegations took petitions to Lansing protesting high property taxes and increased assessments.

Mrs. Jamieson said she now will take the petitions to the White Lake Township offices in person.

Mrs. Begovich said the Bloomfield Township hall by registered with instructions that the petitions stand as an official protest against any further property tax hikes.

The fight for lower property taxes in White Lake Township will continue until the objective is accomplished, Mrs. Jamieson said.

Lake Orion Decides to Close Boat Ramp

LAKE ORION — The Lake Orion Village Council, in answer to requests by residents of Lake street for relief from the summer problems created by use of the public boat ramp there, decided to close the ramp from May 15 to Labor Day. This will permit residents to launch their boats there, most of which are permanently docked on the lake during the summer.

Village Department appointments were made by Village President W. C. Leipprand.

Neil Leonard was reappointed chief of police; Del Rose, fire commissioner and city superintendent; George Schick, fire chief; Dr. C. B. Orion Decides Chloride Issue

Agrees to Pay Half of Cost for Spraying Public Roads

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Orion Township Board, meeting last night, decided to continue to pay half of the cost of using chloride on township public roads.

Application must be made before June 15, accompanied by a check for each 1,000 feet to get chloride, the board said. This is for four spraying applications by the Oakland County Road Commission.

A total of $600 has been paid out in less than a month for five fighting. It was reported. Only one building was involved, however, it was pointed out. All the other calls were for grass fires.

The board said it may take drastic action to stop "this waste."

The township will have to curtail its installation of street lights, the board said. The township already has neared its yearly limit of $3,000 which can be spent for street lights.

Realtor Robert Ladd requested approval of a subdivision layout with 20 per cent of its 91 lots smaller than the required 17,000 square foot area for each lot.

Ladd said the smaller lot is a more desirable selling size. He asked the board to check other ideal subdivisions and the mortgaging picture before making a decision.

Miller-Beardsley Nuptials Read at Seymour Lake

SEYMOUR LAKE — Honey-mooning in Florida and the Smoky Mountains are newlywed Mr. and Mrs. George W. Miller. They were married last Wednesday evening in the home of the bride's brother, Robert Beardsley, 10481 Perry Lake Rd.

The bride, the former Ellen Marie Beardsley, made her home with her brother in the Perry Lake road residence at Seymour Lake. Her parents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Martin Beardsley of Independence Township.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Clarence Miller of 8315 Pine Knob Rd., Independence Township, and the late Mr. Miller.

The Rev. William Richards of Clarkston Methodist Church officiated at the candlelight ceremony. The bride wore a gown of Dupont silk, fashioned on princess lines with long tapered sleeves. Alconon lace embroidered with seed pearls and sequins enhanced the scoop neckline and was repeated at the waist. The skirt of the gown flared into a fan-shaped train.

A headpiece of lace and seed pearls secured her veil of French silk illusion, and the bridal bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Matron of honor was the bridegroom's twin sister, Mrs. Stanley White. Suellyn Beardsley, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

The bride's brother, Robert Beardsley, was best man for the bridegroom, and her two nephews, Fred Beardsley Jr. and George White, served as ushers.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of another brother of the bride, Frederick Beardsley, 6260 Oak Hill Rd. On their return, the newlyweds will make their home at 8266 Pine Knob Rd., Independence Township.

Weather Favorable for Michigan Crops

LANSING — Michigan's long drought, ended last weekend, actually helped farmers, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today in the first of its weekly surveys of crop conditions.

The unusually dry soil conditions in late March and early April allowed farmers in southern Michigan to get a fast start on spring grain planting, it was explained.

By the end of last week, farmers in the southern third of the state had planted about 50 per cent of their probable acreage of oats. Some central counties reported extensive oat plantings completed.

In some areas, soils were too dry to work, but weekend rains were expected to put them back into condition.

Germination of early oats, which might have been hurt by the lack of moisture, now should be satisfactory, the service said. Sugar beets planted before the rains also will benefit.

The winter wheat crop came through the winter in good condition with winter injury less than normal, the agency said. Most of the acreage had good snow cover and in some areas the ground was not frozen.

Organic Farm, Garden Club Meets Tomorrow

ROYAL OAK — The Organic Farm and Garden Club, at a meeting scheduled for 7:45 p.m. Thursday in room 138 of Kimball High School, will have Robert C. Immel of Michigan State University's Kellogg Center as its featured speaker.

"Peace Through Understanding" will be the topic of Immel's talk, illustrated with colored slides of Japanese culture and agricultural methods. Scenes will cover such cities as Tokyo, Yokohama, Nikko, Muriyama in addition to rural areas.

The public is invited, and club members have been asked to bring a friend or neighbor.

Hal Boyle Reports:

Survival Ranks as No. 1 Theme for People

NEW YORK (AP)—Movie producer Jerry Wald, who likes to feel the public pulse, claims he knows what is the third most interesting thing in the world—to most people.

The answer may surprise you. It is sex.

"I polled 8,000 librarians all around the world," he said, "and asked them what was the theme of the books people asked for most often."

"The No. 1 theme turned out to be survival. The second favorite theme was security. Sex was third."

"Pictures that show sex for sex's sake, or violence for violence's sake—they are no good anymore. They have no future," is Wald's conclusion.

The portly producer, who looks

Clean Up Debris of Derailed Train

PORT HURON (AP)—Crews worked today to complete removal of debris strewn on the tracks when 21 cars of a Grand Trunk & Western freight train were derailed 15 miles west of here yesterday.

The cars, the last of 80, piled up for 500 feet after a journal box (wheel housing) apparently burned out. The derailed cars were loaded mainly with grain and cotton. No one was injured.

The train was bound from Battle Creek to Port Huron.

Railroad officials said they expected the main track to be clear today but added it will take several days to clean up all the wreckage.

"Two years ago they asked, 'Who's in it?' Now they ask, 'What's it about?'"

MORE OBSERVATIONS

Here are some more observations by Wald, an ex-newspaper gossip columnist who, at 45, is ranked as one of the smartest film executives:

"The greater danger in the entertainment field is to become a hitchhiker, who tries to copy yesterday's hit."

"I keep a schedule of other producers' films on my desk. When I see a trend developing, I head in the other direction. I like to get off the main highway."

"Television has a monopoly on mediocrity today. It is being wrecked by the guys in the empty gray flannel suits. They are poltroons. We used to have guys like that in the movie business. We lost them. Perhaps they all went into TV."

"But TV has my sympathy. We turn out 500 hours of entertainment a year. They have to turn out 30,000 hours. How can it be good?"

U.A.R. to Let Israel Work on Drain Ditch

JERUSALEM (AP)—The United Arab Republic has agreed to Israel's completing a drainage ditch in the Lake Huleh area over which the Israelis and Arabs duelled with tanks and artillery last week.

The U.N. truce organization said last night both the U.A.R. and Israel had accepted its report holding that Israel may complete the ditch after relocating it to avoid Arab-owned land.

The U.N. made a new survey of the disputed area along the Syrian border after the clashes. Work began again under armed guard and U.N. supervision. The ditch was moved about five yards west.

'Heavies' Seek Title Shot

Machen, Folley in TV Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ambitious heavyweights Eddie Machen and Zora Folley, the No. 1 and No. 2 title contenders, battle tonight at the Cow Palace with their expected big prize still a phantom in the future.

Both hoped when they signed for the 12-round, a nationally televised match starting at 10 p.m., EST, that the winner would get a shot at champion Floyd Patterson.

The National Boxing Assn. says it hopes so too, but the champ's manager, Gus D'Amato, generally throws cold water on the proposition. He says the undefeated Machen forfeited his chance to fight for the title by refusing a previous offer and says "no comment" when asked about Folley.

So they fight for their guarantees of $15,000 or 25 per cent of the gate plus the television money, but without that big extra incentive of meeting Patterson.

In Milwaukee, Fred Saddy, secretary of the NBA who originally suggested a Machen-Folley match to determine a title challenger, said only:

"We are making an all-out effort to get Patterson to meet the winner. We would like to see that fight. However, we understand Patterson is scheduled to meet Roy Harris (of Cut and Shoot, Tex.) next."

Casper Signs Up for Greensboro

2nd Top Money Winner Among Pros Deals Self Into Classy Field

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Top-flight golf pro Billy Casper has dealt himself into the 1958 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament, which gets going tomorrow, with a classy field.

Casper telephoned officials of the $15,000, 72-hole event yesterday he was leaving from Miami, Fla., and would arrive today to get in practice rounds along with Sam Snead, Doug Ford, and Ken Venturi.

Casper, of Apple Valley, Calif., ranks second to Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., as the season's top money winner and just above Venturi. Palmer replaced Casper at the head of the season's list by winning the Masters Tournament last weekend at Augusta, Ga., and pocketing $11,250. Casper finished down the list and took $956.

But Palmer won't be here, owing to other commitments.

Trotters Take Overtime Tilt

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The College All-Stars pressed the Harlem Globetrotters to the limit last night before dropping a 109-107 double overtime decision in an exhibition basketball thriller.

There was no clowning by the Trotters who trailed nearly all the way. The two teams resumed their 18-game road series in Albuquerque, N.M., tonight with the Trotters leading, 8-2.

Paced by Guy Rodgers of Temple, Vern Hatton of Kentucky and Connie Dierking of Cincinnati, the All-Stars raced to a 48-41 halftime edge.

The older, more experienced Trotters kept nibbling away at the lead in the second half and finally tied the score at 86-86 to put the game into overtime.

Boston's Sullivan to Undergo Surgery

BOSTON (INS)—Red Sox catcher Haywood Sullivan today was reported suffering from a ruptured disc that requires surgery and may keep him out of the lineup for some time.

The diagnosis was made by Dr. James M. Poppen, famous surgeon. The operation will be performed at New England Baptist hospital tomorrow.

Sullivan left the team in the South to come to Boston for the examination.

Until he suffered a split finger in Florida and then developed back trouble, Sullivan was considered the probably No. 1 catcher for the Sox over Sam White.

MSU Makes Awards

EAST LANSING (AP)—Letter winners on the Michigan State basketball team that placed second to Indiana in the recent Big Ten race were announced today as follows:

New Knick Coach Likes His Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Andrew "Fuzzy" Levane, new coach of the New York Knickerbockers—although he does not have a written contract—predicted today his National Basketball Assn. team is "on the verge of becoming a great one."

Levane was named yesterday to fill the position vacated last Saturday by Vince Boryla, who retired.

Rest for Davis Cupper

BRISBANE (AP)—Mal Anderson, the U.S. National tennis champion and one of Australia's Davis Cup stars has been ordered by his physician to take a complete rest from tennis for two weeks.

Pancho Stays Ahead in Series With Head

TEANECK, N.J. (AP)—Pancho Gonzales and Lew Hoad resume their 100-match cross-country tour in this suburban town tonight with the world champion ahead, 23-23. The pair played at White Plains, N.Y., last night and Gonzales won a close match over the former Australian Davis Cup star, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

David Niven to Take Trip

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — The star of "Around the World in 80 Days" is finally going to go around the world — in five months.

"I've never had the guts to do it before, although I've always wanted to," the charmingly British David Niven said.

"Of course, what I was afraid of did happen. As soon as I decided to go the scripts started coming. There was one it made me weak in the knees to turn down."

While filming the movie Niven didn't get around very much.

"All I saw was Spain, France and England, where I certainly had been before."

"The only India I saw was built up in a back lot. This time I'm going to see the real thing."

Niven has high hopes his real-life 'round-the-world trip will be less dangerous than the filmed excursion.

He had to be filled to the brim with champagne before he would go up in the balloon, then had a few narrow escapes when it brushed a building and when he "almost got toppled out 60 feet above ground. Charming, that."

But the most harrowing experience took place at a Hollywood back lot.

"Everytime I think of those elephants tramping through the studio jungle I shiver," Niven admitted.

"The tree branches are attached to the trees with huge nails. On one side of you there's an elephant, on the other great nails sticking out. And the branches don't give."

Niven started his career life in another hazardous profession—He was trained at Sandhurst, England's equivalent of West Point, and spent five years in a Highland regiment. He came to the U.S. by way of Canada, and in New York told "booze" to bars.

"Then I went to Hollywood where I became an actor,"

Niven said. "According to central casting I was 'Anglo-Saxon type No. 2,000.' I played Mexicans in Western movies until I was 'discovered' and signed a contract."

"I marched over and bought a new car and proudly drove it up to the studio, where I was politely but firmly informed I was on three months layoff. I drove the car back to the salesman, and it was back to streetcars for me."

Niven has been a star for years—how many years he recently discovered with a shock. He explained:

"They recently played a 22-year-old movie I made on TV and a well-meaning lady gushed up to me and said, 'I saw your son on television last night.' You know, to me that's what I look like—my son."

Jobelss Barred by Legislature

Only Few Who Have Invitations Can Enter State Chambers

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A crowd of 4,000 jobless unionists lobbying for emergency help from the state legislature ran into closed doors yesterday. A union leader called it a lockout.

State Rep. George M. Van Fursen, Republican House speaker, replied that denial of House floor privileges was only normal procedure under the circumstances.

The sergeants-at-arms who closed the heavy wooden doors on the swarming unionists were enforcing normal House rules, he said, and without special direction. The few with a specific invitation from a legislator were admitted.

August Scholle, state AFL-CIO president, looked at it differently. "At no time have there ever been locked doors on the legislature to prevent the people from talking to their elected representatives," he said.

He also criticized the Senate and House for taking a recess most of the day, leaving many legislators nowhere to be found when the union crowds showed up. He laid the blame on Republican majorities in both chambers.

A controversial bill concerning emergency unemployment compensation benefits for persons who have exhausted regular eligibility is pending.

Navy Jet Costs $9.9 Million

Fighter Aircraft Priced Higher Than AF's Most Expensive Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy is buying single-engine jet fighter planes costing $9,900,000 each—more than the most expensive Air Force bomber built, the B52.

The high cost of the F8U super-sonic all-weather fighter was given in recently released testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee.

Rear Adm. R. E. Dixon, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, said the cost is that high partly because only a few are involved in the initial order. It should drop by about two thirds later, he said.

The Air Force estimate its B52 heavy bomber costs eight million dollars; an F106 jet fighter, $2,870,000; an F102 jet fighter, $1,285,000.

Dixon's testimony shows that the Navy program calls for 18 F8Us, with five to be procured with fiscal 1958 funds.

The first F8U is scheduled to make its first flight within the next two months and to be delivered for fleet use by 1960. It is designed to fly at about 1,500 miles per hour.

Junk Collector Takes Crack at City Ordinance

A Pontiac scrap collector, convicted last week of plying his trade without a license, last night took a crack at a 1953 Pontiac ordinance and prompted formation of a special study committee.

The collector, John Warner of 43 W. Wilson, said he hadn't known the old ordinance required scrap collectors to post a $300 bond and pay a $3-a-day fee for a license. Warner pleaded guilty to violating the provisions since September and received a suspended sentence.

But last night he told City Commissioners that the $2-a-day fee was unfair and ate up too much of an independent junk collector's profits.

Commissioners evidently didn't know much about the ordinance, either. Several of them expressed surprise that the fee was so high.

City Attorney William A. Ewart ventured the opinion that the fee system discriminated against independent dealers. Junk yards, he noted, did not have to pay a fee to collect junk under the ordinance, only post a $1,000 bond.

Mayor William W. Donaldson appointed Ewart, Commissioner Roy V. Cooley Jr. and Police Chief Herbert W. Straley to meet as a committee with Warner.

He asked them to come up with a recommendation to ease the fees, if possible.

Sorry, Wrong Number

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Sorry, wrong number" was the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s explanation for a $15.75 telephone bill sent to the city dog pound. Dog Warden A. Rhoden said the dogs couldn't use the phone that much. Ohio Bell rechecked, found the bill, about normal, should have gone to the police department.

WRONG SIDE OF CLOCK — Tears well up in the eyes of actress Esther Williams as she leaves Superior Court in Santa Monica, Calif., with a divorce decree from Ben Gage, who said she insisted on "living on the other side of the clock." She said Gage's late hours made her nervous and kept her from her three children.

Hollywood Headlines

Broadway's 'Blue Denim' Now Bound for Filmland

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — It's just a coincidence but it is oddly timely (with the headline tragedy about Lana Turner's teenage daughter) that Buddy Adler has bought Josh Logan's Broadway drama about misunderstood youth, "Blue Denim." Over $100,000 was paid by 20th for the Lou Herlihy-William Noble play which features Carol Lynley and veteran screen star Chester Morris.

This is an unusual undertaking for Logan who usually does musicals or hit comedies like "Mister Roberts." And while it isn't definite, my money says that Logan will also bring "Blue Denim" to the screen. He did "South Pacific" for Buddy, one of the big current hits.

When I asked which 20th teenager would fall heir to the part of the tragic young heroine they told me it could be any one of their teenagers under contract, Diane Varul, Hope Lange or Lee Remick.

Never was a part so perfect for a star and vice versa than Gregory Peck is for the top-selling novel "Anatomy of Murder," about a small town lawyer who becomes involved in a murder investigation. Ray Stark and Elliot Hymans, who own the screen rights, won't admit Greg is set—but I can tell you it's all but inked.

Stark and Hymans are buying story after story for their Seven Arts Company. They've also acquired the Joseph Henry Jackson Literary Award book, "The Sergeant," by Dennis Murphy. And, of course, there's always "The Story of Fanny Brice" which Ray controls since the late, incomparable Fanny was his mother-in-law.

I asked him if Judy Holliday is set for Fanny. He admitted, "Judy would be good, but we haven't a script yet and we won't go on this until the story is right."

Just bursting with news, actress Gloria Grant, wife of publicist Norman Greer, telephoned me from New York that she is reading for Kermit Bloomgarten for the Laura James role in "Look Homeward, Angel" opposite Tony Perkins.

"Laura's going to have a baby," Gloria told me, "and I am just as excited as I can be over this chance. I came to New York for Buddy Rogers to do 'Hot Rod,' a movie quickie."

Gloria, who is vice president of the WAIFS, Jane Russell's famous charity for the adoption of homeless children, tells me that tomorrow the WAIFS are having a cocktail party for Helen Hayes in New York. Helen has consented to take over the New York branch of the WAIFS.

Although the Army has ordered a blackout on publicity for Elvis Presley, Hal Wallis is trying to get the camp where Elvis is stationed to relax the order so "King Creole" can be shown there.

Did Shelley Bop Franciosa With Perfume Bottle?

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Did Shelley Winters sock her husband Anthony Franciosa with a perfume bottle?

The actress yesterday told police she did and then, a few hours later, she said Franciosa backed into the bottle.

Franciosa, nursing a sore ear, agreed with his wife's version: while letting the dog out Sunday evening he backed into a shelf and the perfume bottle toppled and bopped him on the ear.

Miss Winters originally told officers she threw the bottle at Franciosa when he yelled at her daughter Vittoria, 5.

Vittoria's governess Mrs. Kathryn McCaskill said that from another room she heard a violent argument and then the tinkling of glass.

Esther Gets Divorce From Ben Gage

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The 12-year-marriage of Esther Williams and Ben Gage has ended in divorce.

The actress, 34, obtained her decree yesterday on testimony that Gage, 42, kept late hours and made her nervous.

Under a court-approved settlement, Miss Williams was given custody of their children, Benjamin, 8, Kimball, 7, and Susan, 4, and all community property except Gage's interest in a jointly owned manufacturing firm.
