1968 GMC Pickups Feature Wider Rear Window, New Exterior Styling

Styling of Light-Duty GM Trucks Refined

Refined light-duty truck styling boasting clean exterior lines and attractive interior appointments along with the industry's broadest range of light-line power plants highlight GMC Truck and Coach Division's 1968 trucks.

Martin J. Caserio, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, said the addition of two new V8s gives the division the most complete line of engines in its history.

"Coupled with our 327 V8 and our V6 and in-line 6s," he pointed out, "new V8s with 307- and 396-cubic-inch displacements add an important new dimension to our light line."

"This greatly broadens our model coverage and offers operators a variety of power combinations that will tailor their trucks to virtually any application."

New paint and trim treatments on the light-duty models give the front ends a more massive appearance at no sacrifice in over-all appearance.

REAR WINDOWS
Standard rear windows are nearly twice as large as previous models, providing improved rear visibility.

While the 1968 GMC line has a greater variety of optional equipment, some items that were optional are now standard. These include back-up lights on light-duty cabs and nylon cord tires on all but half-ton models, Handi-Vans and Handi-Buses.

New features include side marker lamps or reflectors, clearance and identification lights on all conventional models 80 inches or wider, and heater and defroster on all but cowl chassis.

Vacuum-brake bus models in the 5500-7500 series use the dual-braking system with self-adjusting brakes.

In the light-truck line, wide-base nylon tires are offered along with a wider selection of engines, transmissions and axles.

Interiors are more colorful and functional in the new model lineup. Two-tone door paint treatment and more attractive dash and seat color combinations are featured along with various other advanced interior appointments.

Examples of the innovations are larger low-profile control knobs, blunt-edge window cranks, dual padded sunshades, recessed ignition switch and position for cigar lighter, yielding shank window control handles and pushbutton seat-belt buckles.

Court Ruling Today on Teacher Strikes

An Oakland County Circuit judge was to rule this afternoon if teachers in the Bloomfield Hills School District must return to classes.

Judge Robert L. Tempin took the case under advisement after hearing arguments yesterday over a temporary injunction requested by the school board.

The teachers refused to work when school began Sept. 5, and are the only ones in Oakland County not back on the job.

Charles Fine, attorney for the school board, asked for the back-to-work order because "The board has fulfilled all its obligations under the public employers act, and despite all its efforts and attempts it has been unable to have the defendants comply with the law."

Detroit attorney Harvey I. Wax, representing the teachers, asked that the court dismiss the case since the teachers are not in violation of the Hutchinson act.

"Their contract expired June 30 and therefore they are not employed and not on strike," said Wax. "Mr. Fine is asking that the court establish a contract."

"A court order would violate their constitutional rights by imposing involuntary servitude," he added.

Fine countered with "If the teachers are not employees, how can they bargain or file a complaint with the National Labor Relations Board that the board is not bargaining in good faith."

"They can't have it both ways," said Fine.

Last-minute discussions between the Bloomfield Hills Education Association (BHEA) and the board of education took place this morning in an attempt to stave off a back-to-work court injunction scheduled for a decision today in Circuit Court.

BHEA President Walt Zahri said that he feels the board and teachers are much closer than they were Monday.

"We have modified our salary demands in hopes of reaching an agreement," he said. "We're asking a basic salary for a bachelor's degree of $6,500 — before we were asking $6,900."

Strike Hurting Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP) — As the strike of steel brawlers grows more violent, the steel furnaces grow cold.

Republic Steel Corp. put out the fire under a blast furnace yesterday, and got ready today to shut down four more blast furnaces and a slab mill.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a two-part series on what Tuesday's tax advisory vote means to Pontiac and area residents.)

By BOB WISLER

Tuesday's tax advisory election hasn't solved any of Pontiac's fiscal ills, yet. Serious problems still loom ahead.

The city government can expect to get over the hurdles that lie ahead if the citizenry accepts an additional tax.

City commissioners have not yet decided that they will definitely impose the income tax which was favored in the advisory election, but expectedly they will do so.

The results of the election show a clear-cut preference for an income tax — 1 per cent for residents, a half per cent for nonresidents working in the city — rather than a hike in the property tax levy for operating funds, now limited by charter to 10 mills.

The big stumbling block, if it comes to enacting the tax would be a petition campaign to hold a referendum vote on the tax.

The commission can, by state law,

Reply Is Asked on Peace Bid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg today asked North Vietnam for a definite and specific statement as to whether a halt of U.S. bombing would lead to meaningful negotiations without advantage to either side.

In a major policy speech before the 122-nation U.N. General Assembly, the chief U.S. delegate reaffirmed that the United States favors peace talks and is willing to negotiate at Geneva or elsewhere.

He appealed to all U.N. members collectively and individually to aid in the search for peace. He also reaffirmed the U.S. belief that the United Nations has responsibilities under its charter to take a hand in the Vietnam problem.

Goldberg noted that Hanoi has indicated a cessation of the bombing "could" lead to negotiations but he said that Hanoi has not made a definite commitment nor has any of its allies "conveyed to us any authoritative message from Hanoi that there would in fact be negotiations if the bombing were stopped."

"We have sought such a message directly from Hanoi without success," he said. "On its part, the United States would be glad to consider and discuss any proposal that would lead promptly to productive discussions that might bring peace to the area."

He then asked: "Does North Vietnam conceive that the cessation of bombing would or should lead to any other results than meaningful negotiations or discussions under circumstances which would not disadvantage either side?"

Faltering Hurricane Leaves $1/2-Billion Damage in Its Wake

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Faltering Hurricane Beulah crawled farther inland today and tentative federal estimates of the monster storm's damage to agriculture and structural property were placed at a staggering $500 million.

Dangerous flooding and the menace of spin-off tornadoes continued to plague a vast area of southern Texas.

The storm's winds, once estimated at 160 miles an hour, dropped below minimum hurricane force—75 m.p.h.—early today.

Beulah's main track measured some 160 miles inland from Brownsville, where she ragged ashore early yesterday. She veered ever more westward.

DETAILED ASSESSMENT
George Hastings, regional director of the Office of Emergency Planning, said he would begin a detailed damage assessment today.

Hurricane-triggered rains of more than a foot brought many streams above flood stage.

Reports of damage from surging floodwaters and tornadoes indicated no letup of havoc and destruction in the wake of the massive storm.

The Red Cross said 84,877 persons slept in 295 shelters last night.

EVACUATIONS
Civil defense and Red Cross workers said they fed 90,332 persons this morning.

Evacuation of low areas at inland points such as Cuero and Victoria began as heavy rains continued.

Observers said many places which sustained wind and tide damage yesterday were suffering even worse today from flooding. The Guadalupe River was 6 feet above flood stage at Victoria.

A morning twister destroyed 15 houses and damaged 35 others in the Fulton Beach area near Rockport, the Aransas County Sheriff's office said.

RICH CATTLE COUNTRY

The eye of the hurricane passed over some of the world's richest cattle country, including the King and Armstrong Ranches between Raymondville and Kingsville, south of Corpus Christi.

Table Armstrong of the Armstrong Ranch said today that hurricane winds lashed the spread for 17 hours yesterday but that damage to buildings and cattle was expected to be light.

Large mesquite trees by the score were toppled, he added.

6 KILLED IN TEXAS

A 13-day-old storm that began in the Atlantic, Beulah claimed 30 lives — six in Texas. Eighteen died in the Caribbean and the rest perished in Mexico's southern regions.

Flooding plagued the southern half of Texas and threatened to be a major problem for days.

The rains showed no signs of abating as Gulf of Mexico tides swept headlong up river beds and collided with floodwaters from Beulah's rains.

In an unprecedented move the State Department, announced through Texas officials at Austin that the United States and Mexico had declared a disaster area along the border Rio Grande.

TO OPEN BORDER

"The U.S. Immigration service is to open the international border and it is to remain open until further notice," a Texas spokesman said.

Tax Vote Doesn't End City Fiscal Ills

enact an income tax ordinance. No further vote is necessary. But, state law also provides that a referendum vote shall be held if enough voters sign petitions for it.

The number of signatures required is low, not less than 10 per cent or more than 20 per cent of the number of registered electors voting in the last general election. This means that a minimum of 1,101 valid signatures is needed.

Petitions must be filed with the city clerk's office no later than the sixth Monday following enactment of an income tax ordinance.

If the commissioners enact an ordinance by Nov. 1, the income tax would take effect Jan. 1 and collections by employees would start then. But if enough signatures are filed this will delay income tax collections until July 1.

PROBLEMS POSED

A referendum vote would be held between Feb. 3 and March 20.

Going six months without additional funds poses just as many problems as going without funds at all, Edward Gallagher, director of finance, said.

Gallagher said the city is operating on such a thin margin that it must be assured of funds starting Jan. 1 or cuts in service and personnel (salaries and fringe benefits make up 80 per cent of the budget) will have to be made and decisions on where these cuts should take place made well before the end of the year.

The present city budget calls for expenses of $8,290,331 this year while income is only $7,788,292. The city is making the difference by using the surplus that has been accumulated, $502,839.

NOTES AUTHORIZED

The city will start off next year with a "paper" surplus of about $176,000. To meet expenses the commission has authorized issuing tax anticipation notes worth $2.72 million but this is not enough to get through a six-month period without substantial decreases in spending, Gallagher said.

Little help will come from the state income tax which begins next month.

The state income tax law dictates that a certain amount collected from Pontiac residents will be returned to the city, but, officials estimate, this will be only $197,335 in 1968.

Because of the state income tax the local citizens may be reluctant to accept an additional city income tax, but provisions in the state law allow deductions in the amount of state income tax paid if a city tax has also been imposed.

(Note: Whether a city income tax would result in increased revenue and expenditures, any additional money would be utilized.)

House Republicans Do About-Face for Antirail Funds Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sub-stantial swing among urban and suburban Republicans caused the House's about-face vote for $40 million for expanded federal rail control aid.

An analysis of the 227-to-173 vote Wednesday showed 42 Republicans who voted in July against an administration $40 million rail control proposal this time supported the amendment to add the extra money to funds authorized for state health programs.

Feed Debate Among Students

By JEAN SAILE

Snacks have become a necessity for some students at Avondale Senior High School who this year are on an extended school day.

Seemingly, there is limit to the length of time a teen-ager's stomach can take higher learning without nourishment.

Students voice varied reactions to the extended sessions:

"It's all right."
"It's awful."
"You can stay up later at night."
"It costs too much."

The Avondale Board of Education last spring chose the extended day scheduling plan in the face of crowded conditions and the need to house students who will eventually be absorbed by the district's second high school, now in the planning stages.

ACADEMIC DAY STRETCHED

"We have cut no class time," said Supt. of Schools John W. Dickey. "We have just stretched the academic day."

Juniors and seniors who attend the morning sessions seem to find the arrange generally acceptable, but to many of the sophomores and freshmen the afternoon schedule leaves something to be desired.

The cost problem was voiced by Denny Hill, 2940 St. Clair, Avon Township, who stays much of the day at school due to a class schedule expanded by athletic participation.

"I eat twice a day here," he said. He'd just emerged from the former cafeteria-turned-snackroom, where students now find an assortment of sandwiches, hamburgers, donuts, cookies and milk.

"Because of the scheduling, we've eliminated the cafeteria," according to Principal Lowell C. Ruggles, "and by so doing we've lost the federally-subsidized lunch program."

"Most students can eat at home after they complete morning classes or before they start afternoon sessions, but I admit that many, due to extra-curricular activities, are here ten to 12 hours a day," Ruggles said.

Kathy McReynolds, 2713 Midvale, Avon Township, a sophomore, said, "I don't like the extended day sessions. It's too much trouble. It's not worth getting up early in the morning, and the afternoons are shot."

Larry Jones, a senior, 606 Provincetown, Pontiac Township, replied, "I think it's all right. You get out of school early and you're able to work and take part in activities."

Bunny Krullik, 1142 Peveril, Bloomfield Township, a freshman likes it. "It gives me time to stay up at night and sleep in the morning."

Duane McLaughlin, 885 Slocum, Pontiac Township, a senior varsity football player, reports it's okay if you're not an athlete. "I spend a lot of time here—10 to 12 hours a day," he said.

Craig Medlen, 41 Cherryland, Pontiac Township, a sophomore concentrating on art, also finds he has a long day. "I'm here from 7 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. I've got six subjects, but they include two art classes."

"I have a job and it means that I can work and get to school too," said Katherine Gaff, 3079 Eastwood, Pontiac Township, a senior. "I like it a lot."

Jim Plummer, a senior who lives at 1537 Ledbury, Bloomfield Township, likes the fact he can work and take part in sports too. He goes out for cross country, track and wrestling.

Nancy Angus, a junior who lives at 3803 Livernois, Avon Township, reports

PLUMMER ANGUS

WILLIFORD WATSON

she really likes it. "I can get out earlier and I can join different clubs. I like it better than before."

John Williford of 2139 Oaknoll, Pontiac Township, a sophomore, feels sorry for the juniors and seniors who have to get up "too early" to get to school, but he likes it.

Debbie Watson, a sophomore who lives at 8315 Dublin Park, Troy, had come to school before her afternoon classes began to meet friends from the upper grades at the snack bar.

"I start school at noon and go to 5:30 p.m.," she said. "I can sleep in the morning and stay up later at night."

Retirement Village Is Proposed for Long Lake in Orion Township

ORION TOWNSHIP — Plans to build a cluster-type retirement village on the former DuPont property on the north shore of Long Lake have been broached to the Township Board and Village Council.

The property, though located in the township and dependent upon it for rezoning, has need of village water service.

Irwins T. Holtzman of the Detroit development firm of Holtzman and Silverman said plans are to begin construction of the 12,000 units some time after the first of the year, providing plans are approved.

He said an early American or English theme is being contemplated for the 400 or 500 units considered on this previously undeveloped portion of Long Lake.

"We feel we have the advantage of being on a beautiful site," he said.

EXTENSION SOUGHT

The firm Monday night will seek permission from the Village Council to extend a village water main north from Elizabeth Street along the railroad track to the property. Holtzman said his firm would pay all the costs involved.

Planned is a townhouse-type apartment complex serving the needs of retirees. About a hundred units a year are contemplated for construction over the next four or five years.

As yet the property in question, some 49 acres, remains with a residential zoning classification.

The Orion Township Planning Commission is to consider a change to multiple status at its next meeting Oct. 4. At that time a public hearing date on the matter will be set, according to Richard Beer, planning commission chairman.

Plans for Walkway Near School OK'd

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — West Bloomfield Junior High School students will have a $4,000 gravel walkway between Nicholas and Tanager in several weeks.

The Township Board approved last night plans for the project.

It authorized construction of the walkway last December after receiving complaints that students were trespassing over private properties.

At the last board meeting Sept. 6, the board tabled the bids for the walkway construction after hearing residents strongly doubt the need for the expenditure.

Since then, Township Supervisor John N. Doherty showed residents the location of the walkway and explained its need, Doherty said.

WATER AGREEMENT

The board also has accepted the agreement providing Detroit water for the Hammond Lake area, upon receiving the deed for the well site from Hammond Lake Realty Corp.

The board authorized Township Engineer Nersis Alai to draw up plans for the Mullen Drain in the southeast part of the township. A recent public hearing on the issue determined the need for the drain.

Mrs. Margaret Evans, whose term on the Township Planning Commission expires Oct. 1, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Edward Emmett DeConick.

Workers at Avon Firm Are Attending Seminar on Volunteer Service

AVON TOWNSHIP — The opportunities for volunteer work were to be brought directly to the marketplace today as employees of National Twist Drill & Tool Co. attend a seminar at work.

Present will be Mrs. Geraldine Clemmons, director of the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau, and Brig. Gen. S.L.A. Marshall, international military analyst and author.

They will detail community participation in human relations for more than 200 administrative and office employees of the company.

Ortonville Now Has a New Postmaster

ORTONVILLE — This city has a new postmaster after 28 years under Frances Leece who retired Sept. 8. She served the Postal Department for 40 years.

Taking over is Carl Wudarski, 150 Grange Hall. He has been a rural carrier in Ortonville for the past 17 years.

AREA NEWS

Farmington Alters Its Application to State for Park Aid

FARMINGTON — A 10-acre neighborhood park next to Long Acre School on Drake Road and south of Grand River is still in the beginning stages.

The City Council, which approved the park creation last year, recently okayed an amendment to its application for funds with the Michigan Department of Land and Water Conservation Fund.

The present application requests $29,000 in federal monies. The amendment was necessary because the state can no longer also provide funds, as was stated in the original application.

The revised application designates that the city and federal government will share costs. City Manager John Dinan said.

The council has formally joined the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments. The city's fee is $360 per year.

The council also slated two public hearings for its next meeting Oct. 2 at 8 p.m. in the City Hall.

One hearing will set up assessments for the city sidewalk program recently completed.

The other hearing will consider the need for paving Alta Loma and Moore drives in Alta Loma Subdivision.

2 Detroiters Killed

MOUNT CLEMENS — Two Detroit residents were killed early this morning in a head-on crash which eventually involved four cars on I-94 in Clinton Township at 2:35 a.m.

Dead are Terry Miles Sr., 43, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Roberta Bradley, 62, a passenger.

In serious condition in St. Joseph's Hospital, Mount Clemens, is Harry St. Clair, 34, of Corpus Christi, Tex.

According to the Macomb County Sheriff's Office, St. Clair is alleged to have driven the wrong way west on the freeway, six-tenths of a mile west of Harper, hitting the Miles vehicle head-on.

In Orchard Lake

COG Action Stalled

ORCHARD LAKE — The City Council here is delaying action on joining the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG) until a mass meeting of citizens on the issue.

Mayor Sylvester Leahy is expected to set the meeting for late October.

The council decided to hold the meeting after hearing strong pro and con opinions from an audience of about 10 persons at a recent council meeting.

"The meeting will be held so the people can be informed about the Council of Governments," said City Supervisor Frederick S. Strong Jr.

The city signed a letter of intent to join COG last February. It had first

Child-Torture Exam Is Monday in Troy

TROY — A Troy man who was charged with child torture involving his severely burned 5-year-old stepson faces examination in Troy Municipal Court.

Facing the felony charge is Howard Daniels, 42, of 1153 E. Maple, a custodian for the Royal Oak school system, who is free on $5,000 bond.

He was charged by police on Aug. 22 with scalding the boy, Douglas McCorkquodale, in hot bath water and then beating him.

The hearing Monday will determine if there is enough evidence to turn the case over to Oakland County Circuit Court.

Police say they have a possible witness in a 15-year-old stepson who says he was subjected to similar treatment three years ago before he was removed to live with an aunt in Detroit.

COMPLAINT BY DOCTOR

Troy Police said the charge followed a complaint by a doctor after the boy was discovered Aug. 17 with burned feet and arms. The stepfather, according to police, is reported to have put the boy in the water because his feet were dirty.

Novi Engineer Plans Road Improvement

NOVI — The village engineer is preparing plans for two miles of road improvement for Nine Mile from Taft east to Meadowbrook Road.

The road is now gravel, reported Village Manager Harold Ackley. The Village Council authorized the engineer's work at a recent council meeting.

In other action, the council gave Ackley permission to advertise for bids for a 20-inch water line from Base Line Road in Northville north to the southern limits of the village. The water line will carry Detroit water, Ackley said.

Chicken Dinner Slated

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — The Thomas Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star will serve a public chicken dinner from noon to 2 p.m. Sunday at the Oakwood OES hall. Mrs. Claude Wood, 5038 Granger, is general chairman.

Almont Shuns Dump License

ALMONT — A request from the LaPeer County Health Department for the village to apply for a state land-fill license has been turned down by the Village Council.

The license is required by the recent passage of State Public Act 87 which sets up specific regulations regarding all public dumps.

Village Manager Eugene King said that the village could not possibly comply with these regulations and as a result the council refused to apply for a license. The state could close the dump if they desire, he added.

"We only open the dump for 1½ days a week with a part-time fee to a firm which picks up trash and takes it to the Metamora site," he added.

King noted that some residents now pay a $2-a-month fee to a firm which picks up trash and takes it to the Metamora site.

LACK FUNDS

Closing of the dump would force more to pay for this, he pointed out.

"As a small village we just don't have the money, manpower or land space to comply with the new rules," said King.

In other recent action the council adopted a resolution calling for a Nov. 14 election of a charter commission to set up another vote to put the village on an incorporated home-rule basis.

Almont Council Puts Police Chief on 24-Hour Spot

ALMONT — Police Chief Edward D'Arcy has been put on the spot by the Village Council.

The council has passed a resolution to be effective Oct. 1 that D'Arcy be on 24-hour call.

In effect, this would force him to leave a job at the Selfridge Air Force Base Disposal Plant which he holds from midnight to 8 a.m. Presently his duties as chief are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"He has had this job at Selfridge for over a year and isn't available for call when he's working," said Village Manager Eugene King. "It appears he'll have to give it up in order to comply with the resolution."

D'Arcy when contacted today said he had not heard from the council on the matter.

He declined to comment on what he would do, except he said that he was available for four days straight every other weekend.

Planetarium Gets Overhaul

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The first public planetarium in Michigan, installed in the Cranbrook Institute of Science in 1958, is in the process of receiving its first major overhaul.

The Robert R. McMath Planetarium will reopen on Saturday after the completion of refurbishing by Building Manager Donald E. Tomkins.

Director Dr. Warren Wittry said that repairing of the venerable Spitz mechanism entails mainly of refitting electrical wiring, making minor adjustments, installing new mercury switches and giving it a thorough cleaning.

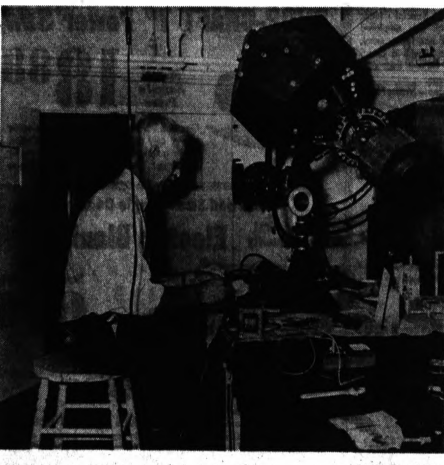

"Ours was the first public planetarium in Michigan, but now there are 26 more," said Dr. Wittry.

The instrument projects 2,000 stars, the major planets, the sun and moon in controlled motion, as seen in either the northern or southern hemisphere. It must be set daily to conform to the sun's actual position.

ADDITIONAL SLIDES

Additional slide projections show meteors, aurora, constellations and the structure of the universe. Public demonstrations for 25 cents are scheduled at 4 p.m. on Wednesdays and at 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

Topics to be shown and discussed are, for September, "Harvest Moon and Autumn Stars" and, for October, "Color in the Sky."

4 States Tick Off Views on Time

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most that Kansans are about equally divided on the issue.

The most controversy appears to be in Indiana, split almost equally between Eastern and Central Time. Gov. Roger D. Branigin and the legislature have petitioned the department to put the entire state in the Central Zone, a proposal which has produced almost 30,000 letters to the department.

CENTRAL TIME FOES

About 62 per cent oppose Central Time for the state, but the department doubts that this necessarily reflects popular opinion.

"People who are against a proposition are more likely to take pen in hand than those who favor it," a spokesman said. "Gary, for instance, has a real interest in being on Central Time, in conformity with Chicago, but we've had only 186 letters from there in support of the petition.

"On the other hand, we've had 10,000 letters from Indianapolis, now on Eastern Time, opposed to any change.

"We just haven't had the response we anticipated when we invited comment from affected interest — businesses, railroads, factories in Indiana and neighboring states which have tight shipping schedules. And once the decision is made, it will be too late to complain."

MISUNDERSTAND

Many of the Hoosier letter-writers obviously do not understand that Congress, not the Transportation Department, imposed the requirement for uniform observance of Daylight Time within each state. A Pleasant Lake couple, for example, wrote, "We are not interested in time change."

Some argued Central Time is desirable so that children need not go to school in morning darkness. Eastern Time proponents favor daylight hours at the end of the day.

"Slaughter on our highways is climbing steadily, especially during the evening rush hour when drivers are tired and short tempered," A Bloomington, Ind., not famous for the carefulness and courtesy as it is.

Time is running short for four of those states, Indiana, Nebraska, Kansas and North Dakota. They have until Oct. 20 to tell the Department of Transportation what exceptions they want to make to the rules.

Kentucky, which is chopped up into Daylight and Standard Time segments, will get a chance to choose when its every-other-year legislature goes into session in 1968.

As for the other four states, the Department of Transportation will close up its records Oct. 20 and start considering petitions from the governors, along with letters for and against proposed changes.

"The people in the states know better than we" in Washington where the time zone lines should go," said a department spokesman. "We're just doing our darndest to help them solve all the problems and still stay within the law."

LAW SETS CLOCKS

Under the 1966 uniform time law, enacted to bring order into the chaotic observance of Daylight Saving Time, clocks must stay an hour ahead from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October, in every state except where the legislature specifically acted to keep the state on Standard Time.

With the aforementioned exceptions, no longer may parts of a state observe "fast" time while other communities remain on standard time to the dismay of travelers.

Only two states, Hawaii and Alaska, voted outright to stay on standard.

But the uniformity requirement produced headaches in states split by time zones, where some communities traditionally observed Daylight and others a Standard Time, year round. This way they kept their clocks on identical time.

Michigan voters will decide in the November 1968 elections whether the state shall observe Daylight Time. Then, it is expected, the question will arise as to whether the Upper Peninsula will observe Eastern Time, like the rest of the state, or remain on Central Time.

TIME BY CONSENT

North Dakota, now almost wholly within the Central Time Zone, wants the boundary changed to conform with usage in the southwestern corner of the state where Mountain Time is observed by popular consent.

Nebraska wants to extend Central Time slightly westward within its borders so that some counties no longer will be bisected.

Kansas is requesting that the Central Zone be moved to its western boundary so as to encompass the western third of the state now on Mountain Time.

On the basis of scant correspondence from the three states, the department presumes these proposals are popular in Nebraska and North Dakota and

New York City's police and hospitals stopped using sirens on emergency ambulances in 1964, because of the increasing numbers of accidents caused by cars trying to scramble out of the way. However, limited use of sirens has been started again for testing purposes.

Bull Is Good Bet in Okinawa Ring

WASHINGTON — Bullfight fans on the Pacific Island of Okinawa bet on the animals. The winner is always a bull.

In an Okinawan "corrida," bull battles bull. The jarring encounters, which may last half an hour, seldom prove fatal.

Okinawa forms the central link in the Ryukyu archipelago, about 140 islands stretching from southern Japan almost to Formosa, the National Geographic Society says. The dominant island, site of the last great World War II battle, stretches 67 miles long and two to 18 miles wide.

The "typhoon of steel" as Okinawans call their wartime ordeal, shattered the island's industry and agriculture. For a time survivors lived in caves, and eked out a living on devastated farmlands.

Income Tax Given Nod by Voters

City Commissioners asked for some advice from the public, and they got it. The public said emphatically Tuesday that it prefers a city income tax rather than a property tax hike to help the City solve serious financial troubles.

The vote was 4,682 for a local income tax coupled with a 3-mill property tax decrease, to 2,608 votes for a 4-mill property tax hike.

Until Tuesday, only the method of raising more municipal funds was in doubt. The need for those funds was clearly evident.

The City needs more police protection; our crime rate is soaring. Our deteriorating streets are in need of repair. We need more recreation programs, more housing inspections, and must keep pace in our fire protection capabilities.

Another $500,000 will be needed for employee salary increases alone. Still another $500,000 must be found to replace a surplus from 1966 which was used to balance the 1967 budget.

There will be no such surplus left at the end of 1967 to help balance next year's budget. Thus, in effect, the City must find that $500,000 somewhere else just to maintain present services. The source, obviously, is taxes.

Without additional tax revenues, city officials may be forced to initiate drastic cutbacks in the fire department, recreation programs and youth and library services. Police protection would also suffer and bus service might be completely eliminated in Pontiac, according to city officials.

There's a job to be done and this week the citizens took a big and important step.

Tuesday's special advisory vote was a fine example of democracy at work. A major decision for the people was made by the people. The lone sour note was the turnout. Only about 25 per cent of the City's 30,000 registered voters cast ballots. This is about normal, but still disappointing. Maybe a larger turnout would have changed the result; maybe not. We'll never know.

In any case, it's a shame that important issues so often must be decided by a minority of the electorate.

On the plus side for city officials is the fact that the public agreed with the recommendations of a commission-appointed tax advisory group, which earlier this year favored a city income tax.

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson

Oakland County loses one of her greatest all-time benefactors in the death of Mrs. MATILDA WILSON.

Her death came unheralded and without warning for a multitude of friends and well wishers, as Mrs. Wilson has lived a strong, assertive life and has always radiated health and well being.

MRS. WILSON

Her gift of $10 million for founding Oakland University is without parallel here and this great philanthropy-founded university today stands easily within the shadows of $50 million.

Within the decade, waving fields of grain have become the homes and classrooms for nearly 4,000 students. This lusty and vigorous institution is destined to become one of the outstanding educational centers in America within the next few decades.

Already its reputation has reached far afield and Mrs. Wilson took an unquestioned and increasing pride in the fruits of her original donation. She attended campus functions to an amazing degree and associated easily with students, faculty and subsequent benefactors alike. She possessed an instinctive ability to "fit in" easily wherever she found herself and no one anywhere can point to an "enemy" of this modest, friendly and democratic soul.

The good Lord endowed her with health and physical vigor far beyond the average and she swung about the campus and her own grounds with purposeful design. Few people have ever followed as faithfully and steadily in God's appointed pathways as Matilda Wilson. She was essentially a Christian woman who lived and exemplified the precepts which she openly avowed and entertained.

In spite of great wealth and a mansion of world renown she lived simply, without personal ostentation and very few people were blessed with as wide a circle of friends and acquaintances.

Few have had a greater opportunity to sit back quietly and "let the rest of the world go by," but such an existence had no appeal as part of her life. The Nation in general, this area in particular, loses a sterling character and laudable personality.

"Surely goodness and mercy followed her All the days of her life and she will Dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

U.N.'s Dilapidated Condition Is Evident

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Just a little over 22 years ago the United Nations was born in San Francisco. For a moment with the anguish of the big war ending, it seemed this might be the beginning of a new world.

Capitalists and Communists cheered and old animosities were almost invisible, for a while.

As the delegates at San Francisco finished their work, the whole new world thing tingled a bit at the thought that here at last man had a chance to change his ways.

The United Nations had 51 members starting out and has 122 now. But it is in debt perhaps as much as $60 million because not all the members will pay what they owe.

And it didn't end war, after all. In some cases it has helped, as in Korea. In some it has been helpless, as in Vietnam. It has been criticized on all sides.

French President Charles de Gaulle called it the "Leaning Tower of Babel." Nikita Khrushchev called it the tool of colonial powers. A critic in the United States described it as a "Communist-dominated rat's nest."

It can help, sometimes, in war fires in small nations. But it can do nothing if the big ones, like the United States and Soviet Union want to perform.

Nothing shows better its dilapidated condition as the world's peace-keeper than what happened to it, and what it did, when the Arabs were ready to make war on Israel last June.

When U.N. troops, stationed a decade on Egyptian land as a buffer between Israel and Egypt, were told to "go" by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser they were withdrawn in a hurry by U.N. Secretary General U Thant.

The brief war followed. When the 22nd session of the U.N. General Assembly opened Tuesday the retiring president, Abdul Raham Panikwa of Afghanistan, didn't waste time on illusions.

He told the delegates the past year "has been marked by increased tensions among nations and by a lamentable deterioration in the world situation."

In many areas and on many levels, he said, "the psychology of force has swept the minds of men and nations."

Perhaps the United Nations' only hope is that if it can last long enough, although that may require centuries, nations eventually may become civilized enough to settle a dispute with tongues instead of tanks.

Willing To Help Out Anywhere!

David Lawrence Says:

ABM Move Tied to Diplomacy

WASHINGTON — Just why did Secretary of Defense McNamara brush aside the concept of an American antiballistic missile system to help protect the United States against a nuclear attack by the Soviet Union, while at the same time he urged that LAWRENCE the same device should be used to build up a defense against possible nuclear attack by Red China?

The defense secretary in his recent speech insisted that the United States has a retaliatory power capable of deterring a Soviet attack and that an antiballistic missile system by itself would not prove "a genuinely impenetrable shield over the United States."

He argued that money itself is not the problem and that, no matter how many billions are spent, it would not make any significant improvement in the security of America.

But McNamara, on the other hand, did not hesitate to recommend that "a light ABM deployment might be advantageous as a countermeasure to Communist China's nuclear development."

He further asserted that there are plenty of land-based Minuteman missiles and missiles which can be launched from submarines that the United States could employ in offsetting an attack by the Soviets.

Many people, therefore, in the national capital are concluding that Secretary McNamara had special reasons for wanting to use the antiballistic missile system started because of diplomatic developments, particularly as they might affect Asia.

Even as McNamara emphasized the value of the antiballistic missile system as a means of checking a Red Chinese attack, he did not fail to indicate that it might be of some value in influencing the Soviet Union to enter into negotiations for the limitation of armaments.

The United States is really engaged at the moment in an attempt to exert pressure incidentally on both Red China and the Soviet Union, in order to bring some sense into the arms-race discussions.

The purpose is to make both countries see that the United States, with plenty of money at its disposal, would not hesitate to build up any defense system necessary if there appeared to be a likelihood of a nuclear attack against this country.

The Soviets themselves may soon take a much more realistic attitude at Geneva toward arms limitation, and eventually the Red Chinese could do likewise.

There are reports, moreover, that the United States may be willing to agree with the Soviet Union to an equal strength in offensive missiles.

Both sides also would retain sufficient antiballistic missile power for defensive purposes. Perhaps this would have its influence some day in bringing about a policy of restraint in Peking.

Bob Considine Says:

New Hampshire Primary Has Politicians Stirring

MANCHESTER, N. H. — The political bullpens are busy, six months before the first and usually most interesting primary.

The White House has denied vigorously the report that LBJ has sent a scout into New Hampshire to (1) improve the President's chances of winning the Democratic primary BIG.

And (2) discredit the group of adoring amateurs who are determined to establish Sen. Robert Kennedy as an alternate choice for the 1968 nomination.

The denial was vigorous enough to make many persons believe the original story was true.

Sen. Kennedy has said repeatedly that he will not sanction any movement to place his name in the primary race, and that he is for LBJ. But his consent is not needed if the state which champions him merely states that it "favors" him but is not "pledged" to him.

There is also the matter of write-ins, over which he has no control.

A CIRCUIT? So much for that. LBJ in all probability will win as comfortably as the St. Louis Cardinals. The real battle is in the other league.

You may call the New Hampshire primary a circus, and certainly it has made clowns out of a lot of ordinarily sane luminaries as they sloshed through the deep snow in search of support.

But only twice in the memory of man has the GOP rejected the findings of this state's primary outcome. The Republicans chose Warren G. Harding in 1920 and Barry Goldwater in 1964. New Hampshire had indicated that it thought both were for the birds.

RONCKY AND NIXON Dick Nixon and George Romney will be in this next primary up to their ears. Romney began his quest by spending his July 4 holiday at Lake Winnepesaukee.

His own state has quite a few nice lakes, too. But it doesn't have Sherman Adams, let's say, or the New England political writers who spent the holiday with him. As for Nixon, he has been in New Hampshire so often he could establish residence.

Under normal circumstances, Nixon would have fairly fair sailing next March. But, as has often happened before, he will have his headaches. He'll be able to handle Romney in all probability, especially if the Michigan governor makes many more speeches clarifying his position.

But beyond Romney lie Gov. Ronald Reagan and, for all his protestations, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. There could be more by the time March roars in.

Racial Unrest Causes Emerge

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Though President Johnson has spoken out strongly against racial outbreaks of violence, new studies indicate that his federal government programs to prevent race riots may be missing the mark.

In fact, this new data suggests that some of the major government programs may actually increase Negro unrest and the chances for future Detroit, Watts and Cambridge-type upheavals — however sincere the men may be who operate these programs and how important the programs may be for humanitarian reasons.

Most major federal race riot-prevention programs are based on three major premises:

• That as Negroes rise in socioeconomic status they will become stable moderating influences on the Negro community, help put the lid on riots and work for steady, gradual, peaceful solutions to the problems of Negroes.

• That integration, that is, close association with white people — in school, at work

A DISGUSTED TEACHER'S WIFE

Teachers today have families to support. I know few teachers who work only nine months a year. Besides supporting a family, today's teachers must continue their education. Teachers' salaries also come from teachers' taxes. When taxes rise for the citizen, teachers are included.

TEACHER'S WIFE

As concerns salary, teachers are not starving but they are not earning wages commensurate with their ability and training. Teachers' salaries have not kept pace with the rising cost of living and have fallen behind wage increases given others, but the requirements expected from the teacher have increased.

VIETNAM: A DRAGON EM-BATTLED by Joseph Butlinger (Praeger $18.50): A hefty two-volume survey of Vietnamese history since the turn of the century, compiled chiefly from existing studies and documents in French and English.

As a result, its 1,346 pages are crammed with details of French rule in the first half of the 20th Century. The narrative gathers speed with the emergence of Ho Chi Minh's Vietminh movement, races breathlessly through the rise and fall of Ngo Dinh Diem in 93 pages of scathing indictment, and ends there.

The work suffers as a reference because it is both history and commentary. The author tends to belabor his point at times. Particularly as he scans contemporary events, he becomes both judge and advocate.

Nonetheless the history is comprehensive, written with some style, and a useful point of departure for the layman or professional preparing to plunge into the murky depths of Vietnamese politics and history.

THE MINUTE MEN by Maj. John R. Galvin (Hawthorn at America's beck and call.

Books, $6.95): Strips the myth from the armed American colonists whose shots opened the Revolutionary War and shows the facts to be far more remarkable than the fiction.

The Minute Men were not farmers and townsmen who on the spur of the moment rose against wicked King George's redcoats at Lexington and Concord. They were members of an armed trained force 130 years less through the rise and fall of.

Galvin, one of the U.S. Army's growing breed of soldier-scholars, traces the history of the Minute Men.

They did not go idle in the years before the Revolution. They fought the French and more Indians and even went across the seas to fight for the England they still called home. They got paid less than the British regulars, their crops suffered but the military training took hold.

Author Galvin argues quietly that the lesson for today is to follow the Minute Men's example of having a well-organized, well equipped, well trained and mentally prepared armed force.

Interstate Is Coming 'In' Across Nation

By EDITH LEDERER
Associated Press Writer
From Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Canada to Tampa, Fla., from Greensboro, N.C. to Barstow, Calif., the word is out: Interstate is coming "in."

In bits and pieces stretched like broken chains from coast to coast and border to border, a checkerboard pattern of interstate highways are already criss-crossing the map.

Harried motorists plagued by narrow roads, numerous detours, stop signs and traffic lights may be in for smooth driving, sooner than they think. The key, however, is money, especially federal money. Interstate costs are met 90 per cent by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads and 10 per cent by the states.

STRINGS ATTACHED
Highway officials across the nation are willing to estimate target dates for completion of interstate highway stretches in their states, but each forecast has a monetary string attached. If federal funds continue to be available, motorists may be able by early 1973 to drive the entire length of Interstate 75, from Sault Ste. Marie to Tampa, on a four-lane highway without a single stop sign, traffic light or intersection at grade.

And this trip could be just the beginning of a longer journey.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Interstate 75 crosses the St. Mary's River on the International Bridge and joins the 5,000-mile-long Trans-Canada Highway, the world's longest paved highway. One of the longest transcontinental routes, Interstate 40, which runs from Barstow to Greensboro, is not expected to be fully completed until 1973.

BOTTLENECKS
While long stretches of these and other interstates are finished and open, bottlenecks remain.

The North Carolina Highway Commission, which is in the process of rescheduling its building program to meet recently revised federal requirements, has not even fixed estimated completion dates for two sections of Interstate 40 near Asheville.

Arkansas has 130.7 miles of States along Interstate 75 also have reported varying degrees of progress. By the end of 1970, if current construction plans are met, drivers should have a continuous road from Canada to Knoxville, Tenn.

Heading south, however, motorists would face construction bottlenecks between Lenoir City and Cleveland in Tennessee and in the Cartersville-Marietta area of Georgia probably until 1973.

Despite the detours now, it looks like the finished interstates of the 1970s may bring frustrated motorists a better chance to see the United States—without getting lost.

Crash Kills Man

TRUANT (AP) — Frank S. Jankowski, 76, of near Greenville was killed Wednesday when his car collided nearly head-on with another on a Kent County road near the Kent-Monticula county line south of here.

NETWORK OF HIGHWAYS—Map shows the pattern of interstate highways either completed, under construction or in the planning stage in the nation. Interstate costs are met 90 per cent by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads and 10 per cent by the states.

Rich America Called Lacking in Vitamins

CHICAGO—Even in this age of relative affluence, the nutritional value of the American daily diet appears to be sliding downhill. That is because we are, on the average, consuming less than one-half the recommended allowance for several fruits and vegetables and less enriched flour products, the experts say.

Our consumption of purchased sweet baked goods that have not been enriched with vitamins, however, appears to be soaring.

These trends were reported today at the 154th national meeting of the American Chemical Society by Corinne LeBovit, of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's research service.

OUR DIETARY intake of calcium, vitamin A, iron and vitamin C—all considered essential to health—is somewhat lower than it was 10 years ago. About one-fourth of the families used food that furnished less than the recommended amount of calcium. One-fifth were below the full allowance for vitamin C and about one-sixth had diets below the recommended levels in vitamins A and iron. Few were short in protein, thiamine or riboflavin.

Returns from the 1965 survey indicate that the nutrients needed the most improvement in 1955—calcium and vitamin C—may now be even lower.

VITAMIN A. Mrs. LeBovit said, "may also be in a somewhat poorer position." A situation for thiamine is about the same and the intake of iron has probably improved.

Senator Speaks to Educators

DETROIT (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee today told educators that nearly $1 billion was appropriated for state school operations this year—an increase of $78 million over last year.

In addition, Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, said he is getting "just a little bit tired of having the Legislature made the daily whipping boy of education."

"I'll bet very few of you realize that we appropriated $806.9 million for school operations this year," said Beadle in a speech prepared for delivery before the State School Boards Association.

Beadle's remarks at the Cobo Hall meeting followed recent outcries by teachers and school officials that the Legislature has failed to provide enough money to meet increasing education needs.

MORE MONEY

Educators also have asked Gov. George Romney to include legislation providing more money for local school districts on the agenda for the special fall legislative session.

"To hear some of our school people, a person would get the distinct impression that we sit at the door of the state treasury with a machine gun in our hand and dare anyone to try to get an extra penny for education," Beadle said.

modifications. Doorsill plates of panel trucks and Suburbans have antikid strips.

POWER POTENTIAL

In addition to V6 and in-line 6 power plants, the light GMC trucks have greater power potential through the addition of the V8s. The 307 V8 achieves 260 maximum horsepower, while the 336 has 310 horsepower. The 327 V8 currently offered has horsepower increased to 240.

The 307 replaces the 283 as the standard power plant in the light-duty V8 trucks. It has the same bore as the discontinued 283, but its stroke is lengthened to 3.25 inches.

Exhaust emission control systems of either air injection reactor or controlled combustion types will be used in half-ton trucks and light dual-purpose vehicles. All gasoline engines will have closed positive crankcase ventilation.

THREE WHEELBASES

New models added to GMC Trucks 1968 line include a new forward-quarter-ton and one-ton forward-control Value Van.

It is offered in three wheelbases to accommodate 10-, 12- and 14-foot bodies. Features include independent front suspension, exterior engine access and V8 engines.

Power plants for the vans include 250- and 283-cubic-inch 6 and 307, and 327-cubic-inch V8s. They are available with two- or three-speed automatics or three- or four-speed manual transmissions.

A new four-speed manual transmission with greater capacity, quieter operation and more versatility is offered in the 1968 GMC line. It is standard in in-line 6 and V8 one-ton models and optional in half- and three-quarter-ton versions.

The three-speed Turbo Hydramatic transmission option is extended to one-ton models. A new four-speed manual transmission with steering column control is now available for Handi-Vans and Handi-Buses.

NEW CLUTCH

A 14-inch dual disc clutch replaces the single disc clutch as-standard equipment on all models having GMC Truck's own V8 diesel engines. The New Process 43GL transmission replaces the SM-420 in all "ES" (in-line 6) models.

Heavy-duty dry-type air cleaners with five times the filtration capacity of the oil bath type become standard in medium- and heavy-type gasoline engine models. The oil bath continues to be offered as an option.

LONDON (AP) — Eight British merchant seamen who quit a British ship which had carried Australian grain to Red China said Wednesday night they saw the grain going "straight into bags stamped North Vietnam."

New stereo tapes for home or auto use will instruct the listener on, in the auto, the driver, in foreign language courses.

NEW HANDI-VAN — The 1968 GMC Handi-Van is offered in two wheelbases and American Aftertaste Lingers

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SANTO DOMINGO (AP)—U.S. military intervention in the Dominican Republic ended 8 years ago. The aftertaste of the enforced American presence has been diluted by time but probably never will disappear.

Also put aside but not forgotten are the varied causes of the April 1965 civilian-military uprising that brought on the intervention, first by U.S. forces and later, under the name of inter-American peace force, by a small corps of Latin-American troops.

The violence that many feared would explode when the foreign troops left never attained the predicted proportions. For many here, the past year has been the most peaceful and promising in almost a decade. Still, real political stability seems years away in this Caribbean republic where democratic rule is getting its first prolonged trial since 1930.

The last of the American troops on Dominican soil, units of the 82nd Airborne Division, left Sept. 20, 1966. At peak strength, in mid-1965, U.S. forces numbered some 24,000 on land and about 8,000 in ships offshore.

by the United States and the Organization of American States, there were widespread fears that evacuation of the American troops would bring on a renewal of fighting between factions involved in the revolt. The result was a series of vendetta-type clashes and acts of terrorism that reached a climax last April.

Things have quieted since then, but there are authentic reports of arbitrary arrests and detentions of the political opposition, chiefly the Dominican Revolutionary party—

PRD — and by army guards in rural areas. The Dominican army is known to regard the PRD and its self-exiled leader, Juan Bosch, as its deadliest enemy. Because of harassment, the PRD is threatening to pull out of important 1968 municipal elections.

The continuance of military pressure on the PRD, despite President Joaquin Balaguer's repeated assurances to party chiefs, is one of many signs that while the armed forces solidly support the president he has a limited control over them.

More Safety Personnel Sought

Extra Funds for FAA Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress yesterday to appropriate an additional $7 million so the Federal Aviation Administration can hire 800 more air traffic controllers and other safety personnel.

Johnson also made public a letter to Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd, directing a broad study of future air safety needs and their likely cost. He said the aviation industry and the flying public should pay for the bulk of improved and expanded safety systems.

"I do not believe the general taxpayer should be asked to shoulder this burden," Johnson wrote.

This presidential suggestion is expected to lead to administration-sponsored legislation, perhaps by early next year, that would impose user charges on airlines and airports, passengers, private aviation, airport concessionaires, air freight patrons and local communities supporting airports.

THIS FISCAL YEAR

Johnson is seeking an additional $7 million for the FAA for the fiscal year that began July 1. Boyd told newsmen this would permit the hiring of about 800 air traffic controllers and about 100 specialists in flight standards.

Boyd said aviation activity has increased by 17 per cent this year—more than double the anticipated rate. As a result, he said, traffic controllers are overburdened and working overtime. However, Boyd said it may take two years before air traffic control trainees will be able to operate on their own.

He pictured the fund request as aimed at replenishing the trainee pipeline, saying it had run dry because the FAA is the only federal agency that has reduced personnel during the past six years.

BIGGER INCREASE

Meanwhile, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., called for an increase of at least $50 million this year in federal funds for aviation safety.

Stennis is chairman of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee scheduled to vote annual funds later today for the new Department of Transportation.

The House voted $666 million for the FAA when it passed the first separate Transportation appropriation bill containing more than $1.5 billion for various agencies and $3.7 billion for the federal highway program.

The House trimmed slightly more than $10 million from air safety funds asked by the Johnson administration for the FAA and Stennis said he would seek an addition of $50 million to the budget or an increase of $60 million.

Modern Film Makers Are Facing TV Dilemma

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Film producers in the new movie era are now facing a Hamlet-like dilemma: TV or not TV?

That is the question. Is it better to risk the slings and arrows of outraged moralists and make films that can never show on the home screen? Or to play it safe and produce movies that would face no insurmountable problems with the vigilant network censors?

One company has met the issue by making a complete turn-about in programming. American-International soared to prosperity with cheaply made, innocuous movies that somehow appealed to the teen-age market. "I Was a Teen-Age Frankenstein," "Bench Blanket Bingo," "How to Stuff a Wild Bikini," "The Raven," etc.

The head of American-International once explained that Frankie Avalon and Annette Funicello never even talked about sex in the company's movies. "We've got a great family audience for our pictures," he said, "and we don't want to jeopardize that."

BORED BY ROMANCES

But a couple of years ago, the A-I researchers discovered that the youngsters were bored by the anticpetic romances of Frankie and Annette. The kids wanted to be turned on.

Since then, A-I has come on strong with films about drag racing and motorcycle gangs. The product has grown more t...

...tense and violent until A-I achieved its first condemnation from the Catholic film reviewing agency, Roger Corman's "The Trip," which depicted the LSD experiences of Peter Fonda, was assailed as pornographic.

Unless moral standards alter radically in the next few years, "The Trip" will not be allowed on network television. But A-I is willing to gamble that the box-office take from such sensational films will offset the loss of sales to television.

Nearly all of the films are made on limited budgets. The economic factors are plain: The average movie can earn at least $800,000 from network runs after it has played in theaters. This makes any family type film an almost surefire investment, provided it doesn't go too far over budget.

LACKS CUSHION

But a movie that can never play television lacks that $800,000 cushion and hence must be made economically.

Thus all major film deals are made with an eye to the television market, and this alarms some film makers. Producer-director Robert Aldrich is planning to film "The Killing of Sister George," based on the stage play that was a hit in London and so-so in New York. It concerns a pair of lesbians.

"Because of the subject matter, most film companies wouldn't touch it," says Aldrich. "They aren't interested in something that obviously could never play television."

"That worries me. I'm afraid that films will become more bland and less venturesome, because the companies are interested in films about drag racing and motorcycle gangs. The product has grown more t...

Give Your Blood to the Red Cross ---This Guy Will Make You Anemic

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a guy who can't seem to make up his mind whether he wants to get married.

ABBY

We have had FOUR blood tests (you can't get married in this state without one) and every time we go to get married he changes his mind and we put it off. I am 22 and he is 21, but I don't think he's ready to settle down yet.

We both work, so money isn't the problem.

NEEDING ADVICE

DEAR NEEDING: Yes. Give your blood to the Red Cross and find another guy. He's not ready.

DEAR ABBY: Not long ago I wrote you a letter, telling about my miserable homelife. I said my mother was a tramp and my father would get drunk and beat me for no reason at all. Then I told you that I turned to my boy friend for the love I needed and he got me pregnant, and I was considering suicide. I gave you my name and address begging you to hurry your answer.

Well, I just received the most wonderful letter from you, Abby. You gave me some good advice, with hope and encouragement for the future. And you sent me the name of a home for unwed mothers nearby where I could go for help. Then you closed with "Good luck, Dear, and God bless you."

Well, Abby, my letter was a bunch of made-up lies. I have a good home life and I don't even have a steady boy friend and I surely am not pregnant. I feel so sorry for what I did. Please forgive me. I promise never to do a thing like that again.

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: I can usually spot a phony letter, but when a girl is "in trouble" I take no chances and answer accordingly. (Some of the wildest situations are "real.") You're forgiven, but if you have the urge to do any more "creative writing," please spare me.

Problems? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Michigan 48056. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1.00 to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Michigan Lucia to Be Chosen by the Detroit-Swedish Council

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

For the third year, Detroit-Swedish Council is sponsoring a Michigan Lucia contest.

Girls of Scandinavian descent, between the ages of 19-23, living in the state of Michigan, are invited to enter.

Six of the entrants will be chosen to appear at the Lucia banquet on Nov. 25 at the Whittier Hotel. They will each give a two-minute talk on "The Meaning of Light to Me."

The winner is crowned Michigan's Lucia while the five runners-up become her court of honor.

Michigan's Lucia together with a chaperon will be flown to Scandinavia by the Scandinavian Airlines to participate in the annual December 13 Lucia Day festivities in Stockholm. There she joins Lucia Queens of other countries and takes part in the huge banquet in Stockholm's Town Hall. The Swedish Lucia is here crowned by a Nobel prize winner.

LONDON (U) — Did Elizabeth Taylor abandon her sense of fashion when she bought that new red, white and blue striped monkey fur dress?

There's doubt, Liz, serious doubt.

Nobody can fault the violet-eyed actress on her lovely looks, but big bold horizontal stripes on a girl her size?

Massive stripes, the sort that wind like a boa constrictor around the female frame, are supposed to be worn only by tall skinny girls.

NOT THIN

Miss Taylor, wife of actor Richard Burton, is 35, 5 feet 4½, and without being rude, she's a long way from thin.

She is reported to have paid the equivalent of $840 for the monkey fur striped dress in Paris.

A dress looking exactly like Liz's went on sale here today and the retailers dressed up a slinky Finnish model named Elja to sport it off.

Fashion expert Jean Rook took a look at a photograph of the dress on La Taylor, then looked at model Elja. Miss Rook sadly shook her typewriter. "This time, Liz, you've fluffed it," she said.

"Our pictures prove that even a girl who can land five consecutive husbands can make an appalling fashion mistake," she needed.

Liz's hemline on the monkey fur dress is up in the mini zone, and as Miss Rook put it:

"Miss Taylor's knees are not all you might expect."

When a Hostess Omits Ashtray at the Table

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are non-smokers and it has always been my opinion that when visiting a home, if there are no ash trays displayed, it is assumed that the occupants prefer no smoking.

I have always thought this to be particularly true at the dinner table. With central air conditioning this becomes quite annoying. When having a cocktail party I expect smoking, but what is the proper procedure when having one or two couples for dinner?

Some people I have ceased inviting because of their incessant smoking — Winifred

Dear Winifred: When a hostess does not put ash trays on the dinner table the guests should respect her obvious wish that they do not smoke at the table.

After dinner, however, if they are habitual smokers and ask permission to smoke, the hostess should acquiesce as it is her first duty to make her guests' evening a pleasant one.

LIEU OF GIFTS

Dear Mrs. Post: Your answer to "Rita" interested me because recently I received an invitation to a golden wedding anniversary. Enclosed was a card which read: "Kindly do not send gifts. If you wish, please make a donation to your favorite charity in honor of Mr. and Mrs. X.Y.Z."

I believe that as to form and effectiveness the above method is preferable to your suggestion that the request, written at the bottom of the invitation, be for a donation to a specific charity. —O.L.S.

Dear Mrs. S.: Since the gift of money to a charity replaces a gift to the anniversary couple, I feel that it is preferable to contribute to their favorite cause rather than your own.

However, I like the idea of an enclosed card rather than a note on the bottom of the invitation. Thanks for your suggestion.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The 1942 graduating class from a well known college recently held its 25th reunion. At that time a number of these women were interviewed concerning attitudes toward their personal lives.

Their responses were positive and optimistic. These provided a marked contrast to the very negative responses made by the same group of women who were interviewed at the time of their 15th reunion.

What factors could have made such a difference in the responses of the same women in their mid-30s and later in their mid-40s? The explanation which they themselves offered was that their children are now nearly grown.

Most women choose to stay at home when they have young children. Many of you are familiar with the amount of time which must be spent during this period in giving constant attention to your family and performing trivial chores.

The pace of housework is generally slowed down by pre-school children and the amount of time spent chauffeuring children of school age should win some of you an honorary chauffeur's license.

JUST CHORES

Perhaps one of the most frustrating aspects of these years is that household chores, shopping, cooking, washing and ironing, plus routine child care, can consume so much time that there is no leisure time left to enjoy the children.

Until machines are invented which can take over these operations for the housewife, mothers will require a great deal of energy, smart planning, and efficiency to make this time pass smoothly and productively.

There are a number of things a woman can do to help make the most of the years when her children are young. First, good standards of nutrition and exercise must be maintained. Too many mothers skip breakfast or forget lunch.

The energy and optimism required to make the most of these years will, to a great extent, depend on good health.

Secondly, an attempt should be made to spend at least a few hours a week with one's children just enjoying some special occasion with them, such as a picnic or a trip to the zoo. The pleasure of free time with one's child can greatly increase the rewards of this period!

Mothers should also make an attempt to spend a few hours a week pursuing their individual interests, whether these be visiting art galleries, developing a hobby, doing volunteer or club work, taking classes in some subject they are interested in, or enjoying some sport or a game of bridge.

If motherhood does not allow you to pursue your interests as you would like to do, just now, remember that you will only have to wait until 45 or more, when you will have leisure on your hands, and many years of good health and vigor left in which to pursue them.

SUTHERLAND-FARRELL

The former Darleen Mary Farrell became the bride of Ignatius Sutherland recently in St. Michael's Catholic Church. A reception at the Knights of Columbus Hall followed the evening ceremony. The bride wore a white organza gown featuring lace appliques with seed pearls. Her shoulder length veil was held with a lace petal headpiece. She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations and rose buds. The bride's sister, Jill Ann was maid of honor and the bridegroom's brother, Edward, was best man. John Sutherland and Thomas Farrell ushered. The newlyweds are honeymooning in the Smokey Mountains. Parents of the couple are the Thomas Farrells of East Rutherford Street and Mrs. John Sutherland of Silver Circle and the late John Sutherland.

gining in October.

Admission of students to the Academy is based entirely on talent, as demonstrated in the auditions, without regard for the prospective students' academic and professional credentials.

The Academy offers an intensive two-year program leading to a Diploma in Dramatic Art under the direction of John Fernald, director of the Meadow Brook Theatre.

The Academy faculty is composed of internationally known actors, directors and teachers, many of them former faculty members of the Royal Academy.

The diploma program is designed for students who intend to enter professional careers in the theatre.

Reports of a recent benefit sale were discussed at Tuesday's meeting of Iota Nu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Proceeds will be used for Thanksgiving and Christmas gifts to needy families.

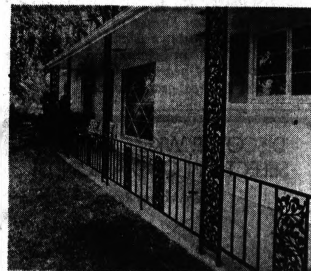

Mrs. James A. Talley of Crescent Lake Road hosted the event where Mrs. Andrea Klivilaan was elected secretary, replacing Mrs. James Sorenson.

Reports on the upcoming convention in Detroit were given along with discussion on a recent donation to the Oakland County Children's Village.

Senior Citizens' Exhibit Needs Helpers

Mrs. Coyle Fisher, Denby Road, Birmingham, is recruiting volunteers for the Senior Citizens Arts and Crafts Exhibit at the Detroit Historical Museum, Oct. 13 through Nov. 8.

She represents the North Oakland Deaneary of the Detroit Council of Catholic Women, one of the sponsoring agencies for the affair, with the Detroit Historical Museum, The Detroit News and the Martin Kundig Guild.

The exhibit is free to enter and free to attend. All "seniors" residing in southeastern Michigan are invited to exhibit in this 15th annual event, which attracts more than 25,000 visitors annually.

Entry blanks and rules are available from Kundig Center, 2936 Ash or the Creative Centers Gift Shop, 2903 Ash at Lawton, both Detroit 48208. Categories include candle-making, basketry, ceramics, metal craft, crocheting, knitting, leather craft, jewelry, millinery, needlework, painting, photography, weaving, taxidermy and woodcraft.

Residents of Lapeer, Lenawee, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne Counties over age 50 are invited to display their works. Chairman for the project is Mrs. Clarence Moore who has helped with the project the past eight years.

Volunteers are needed to help with arrangements, hosting, clerical work, setting up the exhibits and dismantling them at the close of the show.

Special Program for Little Ones

Celia Merrill Turner, artistic director of Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre, is again offering a program especially designed for the three to six year old child.

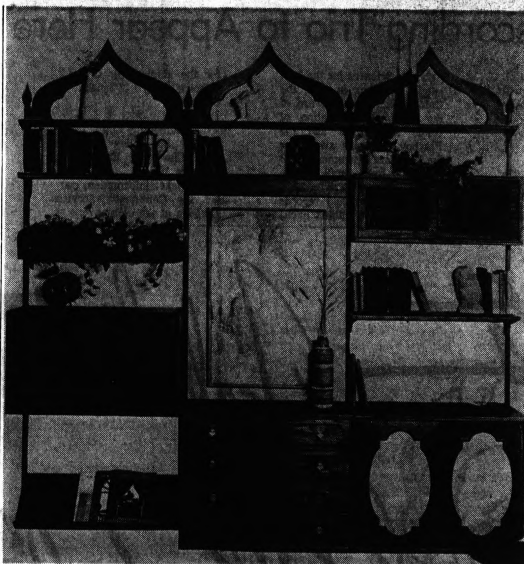

Tentatively scheduled to begin the first week in October, the emphasis in these classes will be on the basic communication arts of story-telling, poetry, drama, art and music.

Parents wishing additional information may call Mrs. Ernest Savoie, Birmingham, or call the theatre.

Save That Yolk

What if Junior did drop an egg letting the white run out? You can still salvage the yolk if you drop it immediately into hot water and cook it slowly.

When cold, rub through sieve, place in a small container and cook tightly, store in the refrigerator. Your egg garnish is ready for the next salad or soup you make.

Wall-hung units take on a more glamorous appearance these days. This one in the Taj Mahal styling consists of chests, storage cabinets, magazine rack, shelves and grille front unit. Available in area.

Art Classes Start Soon

Enrollments are now being taken for the fall semester of classes at the Young People's Art Center, sponsored by Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

Classes which are 90 minutes long and last for 10 weeks get under way Tuesday for young people seven through 19.

Sessions are on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 4 p.m. and on Saturdays beginning at 9:30 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m.

Two other 10-week seminars will be conducted beginning Jan. 9 and March 19.

While each semester will emphasize a different phase of the program the sessions are conceived, according to instructor Susan Low-Beer, as a step-by-step development.

First semester will concentrate on painting and drawing; the second, three-dimensional design and clay, and the third, graphics.

COOLEY-PITTINGER

A reception at the Otisville Community Hall followed the recent wedding of Judith Ann Pettinger, daughter of Mrs. Robert Pettinger of Otisville and the late Mr. Pettinger, and Charles Neil Cooley. The bridegroom is the son of the Charles E. Cooleys of Ortonville. The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over organza with a bateau neckline. A crown of pearls held her veil. White baby chrysanthemums, white Sweetheart roses and ivory formed her bouquet. The bridegroom's sister, Cynthia, was maid of honor and Kathy Swan was her bridesmaid. Ronald Bray was best man with ushers Bruce, Gary and Randy Pittinger. The newlyweds are honeymooning in northern Michigan.

Always Takes Man's Side?

By DR. GEORGE W. CARNE
CASE C-504: Molly G., aged 24, is an irate wife.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "Why do you always side with the husband against his wife?"

"Is it just because you are a man and thus refuse to grant us women equal rights?"

"Surely a DR. CRANE husband should be more considerate of his wife when she is tired from caring for two babies and looking after the house."

"Why should he then demand physical affection when she is sleepy and exhausted?"

SUPFRAGETTE
Molly is wrong in saying I always side with the man, for I often point out their flaws. And I frequently warn you young women to use your heads more than your hearts when you pick a mate.

A lot of you nitwit females marry men that are obviously rotters and no good, even after your parents and brothers and close friends have told you that divorce is almost sure to follow.

And I freely admit that there are thousands of men right here in the U.S.A. who don't deserve good wives.

But you women must quit waving your "Sufragette Banners" and listen to cold facts.

Whether you are tired or not, you know dogsone well that you must feed a man at the dinner table or be chewed out!

For, if you refrain from giving your mate his normal daily input of food calories, he will patronize a rival cook at a restaurant!

Well, the erotic hunger is likewise inexorable, so the fact you are tired does not stop your mate's hunger for erotic calories.

And if you don't feed him in the boudoir, he will likely patronize a rival paramour elsewhere.

"Oh, but he is a morally trained man and a pillar in our church!" you wives protest, thinking that will protect your sexual indolence.

But patriarchal Jacob in the Bible was a good man and a pillar of the church, yet he had four wives!

And being a good churchman doesn't stop a man's craving for meat and pie or cake at the dinner table.

Nor does it quench his erotic hunger, either!

If you women want to remain spinsters, then don't get married!

Or select men twice or thrice your age whose smugness has lowered their erotic ardor to your own limited quota.

But if you wish to enter the marriage market and compete in the hectic American matrimonial race, then realize that you have five million unmarried females who are ready to offer enthusiastic co-operation when your rebuffed mate starts shopping for a paramour.

Polly's Pointers

Results Are Beautiful

DEAR POLLY — I am answering Mrs. C. L. who wanted to know how to clean the aluminum siding on her house. Work from the bottom up to avoid streaks. Soak an area about three feet wide and six feet up with the garden hose turned on very low. Apply warm rich detergent solution with a sponge and then rinse with clear water from the hose. Work quickly and the results will be beautiful. — MRS. J. J. S.

DEAR POLLY — I washed two wool sweaters according to the instructions that came with them. As they were drying, the dye from the contrasting color ran onto the white so I want to know if there is any way to remove this dye off the white wool. — MRS. J.P.

DEAR POLLY — I discovered a use for my two-year-old's car bed, which he no longer needs. I opened it up, taped the legs open and use it for a toy box. It is just the right height and holds much more than an average-sized box. I put a piece of cardboard in the bottom so it does not sag. — KATHY

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell Banya that I use nylon net to remove the lint from nylon sweaters. Make a big ball of the net and brush the sweater to remove lint, as well as the "balls" off of wool sweaters.

Also I use nylon net for washing windows, bathtub, wash bowl and woodwork. Try it. I read the Pointers even if I do not have time to read the news and get lots of help from them. — MRS. L. Z.

DEAR POLLY — I now have the smart knitted shift I wanted but could not afford. I simply removed the elastic waistband inside a knitted dress I already owned. The raw edges of the elastic will be sewed together to wear on the outside of a too-long slip so it can be bloused or pulled up a bit.

Children Really Can Be Understood

By BETTY CANARY

Surrounded as I am by the Munch and Crunch Bunch, it is always a bit of a shocker when I get with people who do not understand children.

In order to reach the happy state of understanding, I feel the first thing an adult must understand is that the child really doesn't want to be understood.

The other half is, I think, knowing that when they are writing a round meaning "You don't UNDERSTAND me!" what they really mean is, "You won't let me do what I want."

It is really the adult I don't understand. Take the people who believe everything a child tells them. Now I don't exactly think children lie all the time but when a little boy down the street tells me he has to feed the tigers he has in the basement, well, I look askance rather than view with alarm.

Cissy's teacher really believed, along with the kids in class, when Cissy said she had had heart surgery. During health class I guess they discussed the marvels of medicine and Mrs. James mentioned the wonders of heart research. Don't ask me why, but Cissy said she had been operated on.

Mrs. James asked Stu about it during lunch hour. He, not wanting to put his sister on the spot, yet wanting to stop short of being what in these parts is known as a Bare Face Liar, said, "We just don't talk about it... trauma and all, you know."

Then a Sunday School teacher asked me if "Honey" was a family name. I said that it wasn't and, not tongue-in-cheek at all, she asked why I had named all five children Honey.

"Tad said so," she reported. "He said Honey was his middle name and that all the other children had the same."

Of course, he is only 6, so I can see why he believes this. I don't call that lying; it's more like confusion.

I plead guilty to the charge of confusing him and to adding "Honey" to his name.

Slough Off That Snobbish In-Law Sneer

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I took a commercial course in high school to help my parents with their dry-cleaning business. But my husband is a college graduate. Though I am sure he loves me, I know that his mother or father thinks that he married beneath him.

Last weekend I overheard her tell him that she had given a set of silver platters to his sister because I wouldn't know how to take care of them. She has great influence over him. I can always tell when she's made some snide crack like this about me.

Answer: Fight her, child, fight her. You can win, too, if you'll stop being hurt long enough to know that she's really criticizing her son by criticizing you. Sure she is. When she tells him you're a social inferior that you can't appreciate silver platters, she's really saying to him,

"You've got very slummy taste in people." It's the problem of your husband that he doesn't know this. He doesn't know that his mother's efforts to make him ashamed of you are her efforts to disgust him with himself — with his feelings for you. But you've got to know this. Because this is the enemy's weakness in this kind of battle.

So we exploit it. We use it. We use it by praising the courage of that love for us in the young husband which his mother is damning as shameful. We actually say to him, "I heard what your mother said about my knowing nothing about silver."

"And I think you're so brave and so good to love me, a girl who's such a social disappointment to your family. So brave, darling, so brave." For that, in fact, is what he is, you see. It's very brave of your young man to have so resisted the snobbish influence of his family to love and marry a girl they regard as his social inferior. My goodness, he's been reared to certainty that exposure to silver tableware is essential to human value!

He's been fed this stuff all his life. Oh, it's taken the staunchest kind of courage to stand up all by himself and think, "Nonsense! Familiarity with silver tableware has nothing to do with human value!" You young people could cut your divorce statistics in half if you'd just wake up to the fact that we parents are sneering at you when we sneer at the people you love. That's our big weakness in our in-law warfare. But you young kids get so full of hurt and resentment that you can't see it and use it to keep your marriages intact.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

What is the best way to make an underbodice that will be attached to my skirt? I am not small through the waistline, and I have found that this type of skirt is so much more comfortable.

Mrs. C. C.

Use a nice quality underlining fabric for the bodice and begin with a basic type dress pattern. Cut the bodice front and back sections allowing an extra seam length at the waist. Cut the seam allowance off the neckline and underarm, thus making it slightly lower than the blouse will be. Finish the edges with bias binding, or if your skirt has any extra weight, use a double layer of fabric for your underbodice.

Instead of making your darts as large as the pattern, make them smaller and ease the balance of fabric to the skirt at the waistline. This will give more ease and comfort.

An underbodice also works beautifully when you have a blouseon bodice. Fit the underbodice at the waistline, it will always remain nicely bloused without having to use a tight belt to hold in place.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I have a knit suit which is too large. Can the seams be taken up and cut off without raveling?

Mrs. N. T.

Dear Mrs. N. T.: Yes, a knit dress may be altered just as you can also use knit fabrics to make a garment completely. Always remember to use a slightly longer machine stitch, and pull the fabric slightly as it feeds through the machine. This will prevent the seams from cracking because it will give you the correct elasticity to match the knit.

Sometimes the knit will ravel, but usually it won't. If it looks like it would ravel, you will have to overcast the seams by machine or by hand.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I always have to shorten a pattern just above the waistline which unfortunately involves darts. I don't seem to know how to handle them, especially the French darts that come up from the side of my garment at an angle. Is there an easy way to accomplish this?

Dear Mrs. P. T.:

When it is necessary to shorten your pattern or lengthen it in the middle of a dart, always remember to re-draw the dart by connecting the end, or widest part, with the pointed end. If it is a straight dart, draw your new lines with a ruler and you won't have any further trouble.

Please send your questions and sewing tips to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48066.

Women in Chicago Hit Miniskirt Ban

CHICAGO (AP) — Female public aid employees—armed with signs saying "worry about miniskirts, not mini-staffs," marched in front of the Cook County Department of Public Aid office Wednesday.

The 15 women, all in their twenties and conservatively dressed, were protesting against the miniskirt ban issued recently by William Robinson, public aid director. They charged that he should be concerned with the shortage of workers, not short dresses.

"Robinson is skirting the issue," said one of the demonstrators' signs.

The federal government's ad- vance came only 12 hours after Benin's declaration of independ- ence and was regarded as a ma- jor victory in its 10-week old civil war with Biafra, the rebel- lous Eastern state, and the Midwest.

Biafrans took the Midwest re- gion in August and installed Maj. Albert O. Okonkwo, a U.S.- trained physician married to an American, as administrator. Okonkwo issued Benin's inde- pendence statement, then dis- appeared from sight Wednesday.

Jew-Hate Built in SNCC--Rabbi

DETROIT (AP) — A national Jewish leader said Wednesday some Black Power leaders have tried to exploit anti-Semitism among Negroes.

Rabbi Arthur J. Lelyveld, president of the American Jew- ish Congress, also charged that the Communist party had in- filtrated the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and "has given support to latent popular anti-Semitism."

The rabbi was severely beaten by segregationists while serving with a civil rights group in Mississippi in 1964.

"I cooperated with SNCC in 1964, but it has changed," he said. "I don't think SNCC is in any way representative of the American Negro community."

NATURAL ALLIES

Rabbi Lelyveld said in an interview that the Jewish struggle for freedom and the Negro struggle for civil rights should make the two groups natural allies, but they have been set against each other by black power leaders such as Stokely Carmichael.

He said, however, that anti-Semitism is not increasing among Negroes generally.

Rabbi Lelyveld was in Detroit for a speaking engagement.

Fast Train Link Delayed; No Cars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 156-mile-an-hour train service to link Washington and New York, originally scheduled to start in late October, will not get under- way until early next year.

The delay was blamed on a lack of railroad cars. At a meet- ing yesterday with Transporta- tion Secretary Alan S. Boyd, the Budd Co., which is building the cars, said it would need more sy examination of the infants to- day to determine how they died.

After they are built, the cars still must be tested for per- formance and reliability.

U.N. Sea Control Feared

WASHINGTON — United States exploration of the sea could be halted a few miles from shore if the United Nations were given control of the floor of the ocean, Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., charges.

"The continental shelf is a national limit only if a nation can exploit no further (out into the depths of the sea)," Rep. Rogers asserted. "We shall be able to exploit further and no giveaway should stand in our way."

He made the charges in a keynote speech to the second International Buoy Technology Symposium meeting here.

The symposium, which attracted 650 marine engineers, is sponsored by the Marine Technology Society.

Rogers' comments were underscored by the subject matter of the meeting — exploration of the world's oceans using buoys of all sizes as remote scientific laboratories to collect and transmit oceanographic data.

STUDY INCOMPLETE

The report, contained in the academy's monthly News Report publication, indicated the study is only partially completed.

A spokesman said only about 100 of some 2,822 individual drugs—in about 3,600 different formulations—have so far been assessed as to efficacy. But that certain trends are indicated by the work so far.

The study is scheduled to be completed in 1968.

Academy officials declined to give any details as to findings for any specific drug.

GENERAL FINDINGS

But the report listed these other general findings:

1. The package inserts for some effective drugs "offer claims for which evidence has not as yet been generated."
2. Certain of the drugs that were originally marketed for one condition during the 1938-1962 period have since been found to be effective against other conditions "but the additional indications have not been included in the package insert."
3. Many of the package inserts are out-of-date, since the drugs concerned were marketed originally as long as 30 years ago.

UPDATING URGED

"The study will therefore recommend updated dosages, precautions and contraindications," the report said.

The report also said that assessing each separate claim that is made for each drug—including as many as 15 claims offered for some drugs—has presented the study's 29 panels and their staffs with the need to make thousands of separate judgments.

The academy said reports that would go to FDA would say whether a given drug was considered "effective," "probably effective," "possibly effective" or "ineffective." Evidence to support such judgments would also be included.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Dirksen Saves LBJ on Rent Subsidy

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON—They're saying around the Capitol that Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen is just about President Johnson's most effective friend in Congress.

Just as he often pulls some of the President's coals out of the Republican fire of criticism on Vietnam war policies, Dirksen stepped in Wednesday to save Johnson's rent supplement program. It is a keystone in administration efforts to rehabilitate big-city slums.

To keep his opposition license alive, Dirksen lines up with House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford today for some partisan blasts at Johnson policies. There is a weekly performance for newsmen designed to spotlight issues for 1968.

But the President understands this kind of political skirmishing perfectly and before nightfall he may have the Republican leader on the phone, inviting him to the White House for a quiet discussion of the nation's problems over a sociable drink.

RENT SUBSIDIES

Dirksen provided the margin by which the Senate nailed into a pending money bill $40 million in contract authority to pay rent subsidies for low-income families.

The Illinois senator got 18 other Republicans to go along with him in support of the program, which passed 59 to 31. This represented a complete party turnaround from last year, when the Republicans voted 26 to 5 against the $12-million rent subsidy program.

No one suggested, however, that Dirksen's persuasive actions were dictated solely by brotherly love for Johnson, a former Senate colleague with whom he has maintained friendly relations for years.

Some important businessmen, including some known to open their purses for Republican party donations, told Dirksen the program offered a practical way of luring private enterprise into the low-cost housing field where it feared to venture without government guarantees.

NO CALL

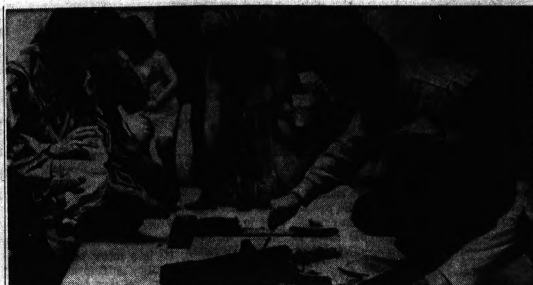

The businessmen apparently didn't call on Dirksen about a $337-million appropriation for the model cities program, another key administration proposal.

The Senate wrote this provision into the bill 62 to 28, with Dirksen joining 14 other Republicans and 13 Democrats against it.

Johnson didn't need Dirksen's support and didn't get it in that case. But when it was touch and go, Dirksen stood solidly behind his friend, the President.

Bids Accepted

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Commission has announced it is accepting sealed bids until Sept. 28 for removal or demolition of houses and other buildings on 28 parcels of land in Lansing. The buildings are located on property purchased by the Highway Department for construction of I-496 and U. S. 127 freeways.

EDIBLE ART — Artists and their guests eat a sign made of cake that called attention to an unusual exhibit at the San Francisco museum of Art yesterday. The event, an exhibition of food sculpture — edible works of art shaped from everyday kitchen items — was just a friendly protest, a contributing artist said. "We see it as a cheerful, friendly way of commenting on the gallery art scene. It seems like art today has become a commodity rather than an expression," according to artist Gordon Cook. The audience thought it was simply "delicious."

Animal-Plant Cell Energy Traced to Germs

By Science Service

Sometime in the long eons of evolution, it seems, germs invade both plant and animal cells and stayed there, changing in form to give both kinds of cells their energy-converting bodies.

The evidence is roundabout, but highly suggestive to a group of Northwestern University researchers.

They experimented with ribosomes, cellular components necessary for protein manufacture.

From experiments in which the size of ribosomes in various cells was precisely determined, the team, headed by Dr. Hans Noll, suggests that during evolution ribosomes apparently increased in size. The most highly developed organisms have the largest ribosomes.

Chloroplasts, energy converting units in plant cells, and mitochondria, the powerhouses of animal cells, contain their own ribosomes, indicating they are their own bosses and not controlled by the central nucleus of the cells they inhabit.

Plane Crash Kills 3 Men

LANSING (AP) — Three men were killed Wednesday when their light plane snagged a wing on a hilltop during an acrobatic roll and spun into a farm field within 50 feet of spectators.

The victims were identified as Robert Oswald, 44, of Vicksburg and two men from Mendon—Charles L. Osgood, 42, and Joseph C. Riley, 47.

The plane, officers said, had come to Lansing from Vicksburg to review farm machinery displayed by a manufacturer near Danville, 20 miles south-east of here.

Lord Snowdon Filming for TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Lord Snowdon is completing work on a documentary he is filming in Europe for American television. Richard S. Salant, president of CBS News, said Wednesday.

The documentary, a film essay on aging will be aired on CBS, probably later this season. Its length has not been determined.

Snowdon, husband of Princess Margaret and a still photographer, was persuaded by CBS News executive producer Don Hewitt to try his hand at motion pictures.

He made a test film at the Royal Ballet School, and Hewitt said, "It was apparent to me he had the same unique eye for cinematography that he has for still photography."

Part of $2.8-Million Treasure Believed Found

LONDON (AP) — Divers have found a sunken blanket of gold and silver coins believed to be part of a $2.8-million treasure that disappeared into the Atlantic's grayness with three ships of Admiral Sir Cloudesley Shovell's Mediterranean fleet in 1707.

Fortune-hunters had been searching for it ever since.

A private expedition, supported by a Royal Navy unit, hauled up 1,500 gold and silver guineas, crowns and pieces of eight Wednesday from about 100 feet of water off the Scilly Islands, some 25 miles from England's extreme southwestern tip.

"This is only a fraction of what is down there," a diver said.

The first coins discovered were English, French and Portuguese, none carrying a date later than 1707.

Diver Geoffrey Upton, 34, told of finding the treasure: "It was a very dark and uninviting hole. The only way to get through it was to take off my breathing set, push it through first and swim after it. It led to a deeper gully and suddenly I saw a carpet of silver coins stretching in front of me."

The hunt centered on the area where Shovell's flagship, The Association, and her sister ships, The Eagle and The Romney, dashed against rocks and sank.

Some naval historians have estimated the fleet carried bullion chests and plate worth a million pounds—$2.8 million—more.

Shovell's fleet was lost on its voyage home from a successful naval engagement with France off the coast of Spain.

The story goes that the fleet became confused about its position and the admiral called a conference of his officers to figure out where they were. A presumptuous cabin boy who suggested that it was an illusion near the rocky Scilly

Isles was hanged from a yard and sank, taking 1,000 men to the bottom. The admiral, who washed ashore, was said to have had his throat cut by an old woman who wanted his diamonds.

At dawn the following day, the fleet set sail again in fog. Within hours it rammed the Scilly reefs, mood rings.

PUBLIC HOUSING TOUR — Michigan Republican Gov. George Romney leads a group down the back stairs of an apartment building on Chicago's West Side today after Romney inspected the apartment building.

An 'Unwelcome' Greeting Given Romney in Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) — The director of a Puerto Rican community organization told Gov. George Romney yesterday he wasn't welcome in the neighborhood because he had ordered the National Guard out during the Detroit riots and because he is a Mormon.

After reading a statement to the Michigan governor, the man tried to walk away. Romney pulled him back three times and said: "You stand here and take it. You make false accusations here and now you're going to hear some answers."

Romney was met outside the Casa Central Outpost by Luis Cuza, 25, the director of the group, who handed him a three-page statement saying, "members of the Latin-American community in Chicago's northwest side refuse to welcome Michigan Gov. Romney."

The group previously had said it would welcome Romney, a possible recipient of the Republican presidential nomination. But Cuza said his decision to refuse to welcome him was made Tuesday night "at an emergency meeting of a strategic committee of neighborhood people."

"This Puerto Rican community was the scene of five days of riots last summer 1966. The rejection was made on the following grounds: Less than two months ago, Gov. Romney ordered the National Guard into Detroit," Cuza said.

LACK OF TRUST
Cuza also said Romney was not being welcomed because of his Mormon faith and a lack of trust in his "sincerity."

Surplus Rifles Asked for Police
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., yesterday proposed a bill which would permit police departments to buy surplus military rifles from the Defense Department.

He said current law permits only the National Rifle Association to buy surplus small arms—and 400 Detroit policemen are reported joining that organization in order to get surplus carbines for $20 for possible riot use.

UNDER GUARD — A member of the 3rd Battalion, 5th Marines, guards a North Vietnamese soldier captured in a recent battle near the battalion command post near Cham Son, South Vietnam. A tag attached to the prisoner's hands gives data about his capture. Cham Son is in the northern part of South Vietnam.

It's Hard to Coordinate Leaves of Vietnam GIs

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON — Many wives of servicemen in Vietnam are puzzled — and upset — because their husbands can't tell them with much certainty when they'll get leave for rest and recuperation.

Those who want to spend the R&R week in Hawaii with their husbands find it a bit difficult to plan, even though the airlines have a special rate for them to the island paradise.

It's not unusual for a man to find out only a couple of weeks ahead of time. Or the date may be postponed.

What it boils down to is that this is one of the hardships of war. The type of operations conducted in Vietnam makes it especially difficult to predict ahead of time when a unit might be in battle or supporting a battle unit and every man needed. So the rest and recuperation programs for all the services have to be flexible.

On occasion a wife has been flown to Hawaii only to learn that her husband, meanwhile, has been killed in combat.

So wives of men in Vietnam must have more patience and courage than most other American wives.

POW Compensation

Sen. Clifford Hansen, R-Wyo., is asking Congress to compensate Americans — military and civilian — taken prisoner in the Vietnam conflict.

A military prisoner would receive about his normal service pay $1.50 for each day held captive plus $1.50 for each day he is subjected to "uncompensated forced labor or inhumane treatment."

Civilians would receive $75 for each month held prisoner if over 15 and $30 if under 15.

Nearly 200 Americans are known to be held prisoner and most of the nearly 500 missing are believed captured.

Under Hansen's proposal, the heirs of any prisoner who dies would receive the compensation.

ROTC Warning

With college opening near, the Army has advised ROTC cadets to beware of joining organizations which might jeopardize their chances of receiving Army commissions when they graduate.

Cadets are required to fill out the Armed Forces Security questionnaire before they receive their 2nd lieutenant's bars on graduation. This is used for security clearance.

Included are questions about whether a cadet is a member of specific organizations listed on the form.

Veterans' Nursing Care

An expansion of nursing home care for veterans has already freed thousands of beds in VA hospitals under a program started in mid-1964.

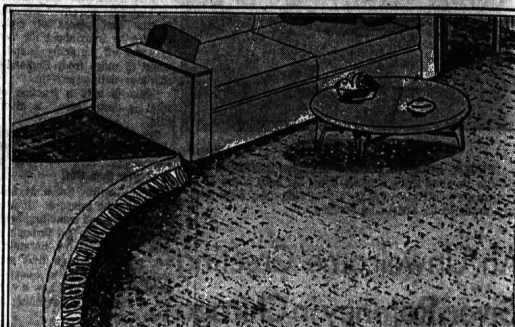

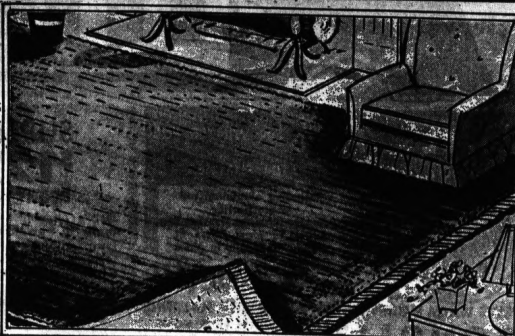

VA Administrator William J. Driver says the VA has signed contracts with 2,270 community nursing homes which provide a potential of 161,000 beds in addition to the 4,000 nursing care beds available at 62 VA hospitals.

CHICKEN CHEESE CHOWDER — Soup has its place in almost any meal of the day. This chowder made with chicken soup and leftover bits of chicken gets a sprinkling of paprika dusted crackers.

Chowder Is Hearty Rich Soup That Warms Body and Spirit

When it comes to chowder, we often think first of clams or fish. However, chowders don't have to be the ocean-going kind. There are many versions of this splendid soup. Its name is said to have come from the French word for a soup cauldron, chaudière.

Chicken Cheese Chowder

36 tiny cheese crackers
1 tablespoon melted butter paprika
2 cans concentrated chicken soup, 10½ ounces each
2 soup cans milk
1 can chicken, 5½ ounces, or about 1 cup diced leftover chicken
¼ cup diced onion
¼ cup diced celery
2 teaspoons butter
¼ teaspoon dried thyme, well rubbed

Brush tops of crackers with 1 tablespoon melted butter. Place on cookie sheet and sprinkle lightly with paprika; set aside.

Blend condensed soup with milk. Add onion and celery in 2 teaspoons butter over moderate to low heat. Do not allow to boil. Sauté onion and celery in 2 teaspoons butter over moderate heat until tender but not brown. Stir in thyme. Add to soup.

Place crackers under broiler for about 1 minute, or until slightly brown. Pour hot soup into tureen or individual bowls. Top with toasted crackers. Yield: 6 servings.

*Fix about three times this many in order to have more on the side. They will not last long.

Gelatin Mold Is Creamy

Fruit flavor gelatins go well with dairy products, like sour cream. Try this smooth and tangy Lime Sour Cream Mold, which is a very refreshing dessert that's especially pretty served with sliced peaches.

Lime Sour Cream Mold
1 package (3-oz.) lime flavor gelatin
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups boiling water
1 cup light cream
½ teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup sour cream
Sliced fresh peaches, sweetened if desired

Muffins Are Delicious and Nutritious

If you have a teen-age breakfast skipper to contend with, present him with this adequate breakfast "on the run."

Whirl 2 cups milk, 2 cups canned apricots with juice, and ¼ pint vanilla ice cream in a blender or mixer, hand it to him with a maple syrup high protein cereal muffin while he's dressing or at the front door just before he dashes out.

Along with a quick bowl of ready-to-eat cereal, he will have a speedy modern version of a basic breakfast pattern of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and spread to meet the nutritional requirements of active teen-agers.

Maple Syrup Cereal Muffins
1½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ pint (1 cup) dairy sour cream
½ cup pancake or maple syrup
2 eggs
3 tablespoons melted shortening
1½ cups ready-to-eat high protein cereal
¼ cup raisins.

Combine flour, soda, and salt in flour sifter; sift into mixing bowl. Combine sour cream, syrup, eggs and shortening; beat well. Add to dry ingredients and stir until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in cereal and raisins.

Spoon into very well-greased muffin pans, 2½ x 1½ inches, filling pans ¾ full. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) until done, 18 to 20 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins.

2 tablespoons finely chopped celery
Mayonnaise
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 teaspoons curry powder
1 tablespoon tomato paste
Salt and pepper
Cook bow-tie noodles according to package directions. Drain and spoon noodles into a greased 1½ quart casserole.
Cut eggs into halves lengthwise. Remove egg yolks and mash. Add chives, celery and enough mayonnaise to bind mixture. Spoon mixture into egg whites. Put deviled eggs on top of noodles.
Melt butter and stir in flour. Gradually stir in milk, curry powder and tomato paste. Cook over low heat stirring constantly until sauce bubbles and thickens. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Pour sauce evenly over casserole.
Bake in a preheated hot oven (400 degrees) for 15 to 20 minutes or until sauce is bubbly.

HUNGARIAN GOULASH — Hungarian man, whether he's a Hammond, Indiana steelworker or a Virginia shipbuilder.

ONE COLOR Cook Beef Slowly for Goulash

From Indiana College Queen Nikki Jean Peck, a student at Indiana University, comes this recipe for Hungarian Goulash. When asked why she selected this particular recipe typical of her hometown area of Hammond, she explained that "this Calumet region is an amalgam of many nationalities and the center for many industries, notably the steel industry. The Hungarian Goulash is one that would satisfy a hard-working steel man."

Steelworker's Hungarian Goulash
2 tablespoons corn oil
1 cup onions, sliced
2 pounds boneless stew beef, cut in 2-inch cubes
1 (6-ounce) can tomato paste
¼ cup green peppers, cut in small squares
¼ cup dry red wine
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 small bay leaf
Pinch marjoram
Pinch thyme
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons paprika
1 tablespoon corn starch
2 tablespoons water

meat is tender, skim off any excess fat.
Mix corn starch with water and stir into gravy in pan. Stir ring constantly, bring to a boil and boil 2 minutes. Serve with buttered noodles. Makes about 6 servings.

Pineapple Slice Fits a Grapefruit Shell

Refreshing fruit desserts are welcome after a heavy meal.

Pineapple Grapefruit
Grapefruit halves
Fresh Pineapple
Sugar
Maraschino cherries
Cut around edge of grapefruit halves; cut sections away from dividing membranes; remove sections to a bowl.
Cut rind away from pineapple and slice into thin rounds; remove cores with canape cutter; cut around slices, if necessary, so they will fit into grapefruit shells. Sprinkle pineapple with sugar if needed.

Place a pineapple slice over sections in each grapefruit shell. Top with maraschino cherries. Serve with dessert spoons and forks.

Cut Lettuce into Chunks for Salad

Restaurateurs across the nation tell us that men are eating more salads than ever. And information from the U.S. Department of Agriculture certainly adds weight to their claim.

According to U.S.D.A. figures, we consumed 17 lbs. of salad greens per person in 1966. Today we average 21½ lbs. of lettuce and escarole per person per year. Though the figures aren't broken down, we think men's appetites have made a difference!

If the man in your house likes hearty dishes but is trying to keep his weight down, he'll enjoy and appreciate this flavorful "Saturday Lunch Salad."

Made with crisp chunks of western iceberg lettuce (only 42 calories or so per head), pineapple tidbits, diced apple and luncheon meat, "Saturday Lunch Salad" with its zesty horseradish dressing will be a satisfying dish he'll welcome after gardening or golfing this weekend.

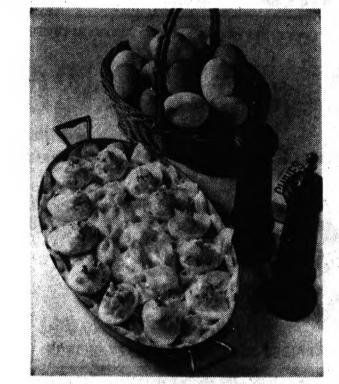

Saturday Lunch Salad
1 head western iceberg lettuce
¼ cup real mayonnaise

1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1½ teaspoons onion salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon prepared mustard
1½ cups diced red skinned apple (1 large)
1 can (12 oz.) luncheon meat, diced (2 cups)
¼ cup pineapple tidbits or

2 slices pineapple, cut up
Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in disposable plastic bag. Slice lettuce crosswise then cut slices into 4 cups bit-size chunks. Blend mayonnaise with horseradish, onion, salt, sugar, lemon juice and mustard. Toss dressing lightly with apple, diced meat, pineapple and cut lettuce. Makes about 6 servings.

Heat corn oil in heavy kettle or Dutch oven. Add onions and saute until golden brown. Add meat and brown very lightly. Add remaining ingredients except corn starch and water.

Cover pan and simmer very slowly 1½ to 3 hours or until meat is fork tender. After CHIVED EGG CASSEROLE — There are times when eggs are indicated for the main course. Combine them with noodles and a tasty sauce. Frozen chives add both interesting flavor and a spot of color.

Dust Cheese Over Peppers

Shiny green bell peppers are a delicious barbecued vegetable when sprinkled with aged cheddar cheese. However, the flavor is better if the quarters of pepper can be blanched in boiling water.

Another secret is to brush the inner side of the foil with oil if wrapping it in a packet. This keeps the melted cheese from sticking to the paper.

A new convenience item, a disposable heavy foil grill pan, is a timer saver for grilling various meats and fresh vegetables outdoors.

Green Peppers-Cheddar Cheese
2 large green peppers
½ cup grated cheddar cheese oil
salt

Cut the green peppers lengthwise in quarters and remove seeds and membrane. Put in boiling water and blanch 5 minutes. Drain. Allow a half pepper per serving.

If using foil, tear off a piece wide and long enough to hold the peppers and make a tight fold. Brush the inner side with oil before putting pepper quarters down. The disposable broiler pans can be used to cook the peppers instead of individual packets. Seal the pan with foil. Proceed by sprinkling the inside of the pepper quarters with salt, then cheese. Put on hot

Make a Pizza From Leftovers

If your family loves pizza don't miss the trick of turning leftovers into their favorite treat. Meat loaf, roast beef, wiener, sausage, tuna, salmon or shrimp may be used this way.

Make biscuit dough and pat it lightly into a large size pizza. Spread with leftover meat or fish. Top with ketchup. Add bits of cheese. Season lightly with thyme and paprika. Place on a buttered cookie sheet and bake in a hot oven until the dough is lightly browned and cooked through and the cheese is melted and bubbly.

AUSIE SWEET OAT BISCUITS—Mixed fresh fruit, cereal with milk and Aussie Oat Biscuits are a new twist for an adequate morning meal. The biscuits which are crunchy are filled with raisins.

Crunchy Oat Biscuits Welcomed in A. M.

Are you in a track-worn groove with your breakfast menus? A basic cereal and milk pattern is doubly appealing when matched with an assortment of fresh fruits and an unusual breakfast biscuit.

The content of breakfast is not a determining factor in the efficiency of breakfast so long as the morning meal is basically adequate from the standpoint of its nutritional content. And this menu fills the bill.

Aussie Sweet Rolled Oat

Biscuits are not like our biscuits nor like our muffins, but they are delicious crunchy eating.

They should be served hot or warm, so better save them for a weekend breakfast when you have more time to bake them and serve at once.

Aussie Sweet Oat Biscuits

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
2 cups rolled oats, uncooked, quick or regular

¾ cup brown sugar, packed
1 cup butter or margarine
¾ cup currants or raisins
¾ cup milk

Marmalade or preserves
Combine flour, salt, and soda in sifter; sift into mixing bowl. Mix in oats and brown sugar. Cut ¾ cup butter or margarine into dry ingredients with pastry blender or knives. Add currants or raisins and milk; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened.

Turn onto lightly floured board and knead lightly 10 to 12 strokes. Pat or roll into a 9 x 12-inch rectangle. Cut into 3-inch squares, then cut each square in half diagonally.

Place on ungreased baking sheet. Brush tops lightly, using remaining 2 tablespoons of melted butter or marmalade. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) until done and lightly browned, about 10 minutes.

Remove from oven and brush tops with remaining butter or marmalade. Serve hot or warm, plain or with favorite marmalade or preserves. Yield: 24 triangles, 6 to 8 servings.

PARSLEY PEARS—This tasty salad, a parsley of shapes and colors, is made with fresh Bartlett pears. Home-grown herbs, if you have them, make this salad especially savory for summer dining.

Dressing for Pears, Sharp and Sweet

Well-tended gardens often take on the minutely-detailed form of a giant parsley shawl, a feast of bright colors and shapes. And so does this attractive and delicious pear salad.

Golden fresh Bartlett pears, onion rings and a honey-mustard dressing with chopped herbs give this pretty parsley a wonderful aroma, while pimientos to shape cut with heavy d'oeuvres cutters, add a bright touch to flavor and appearance.

Serve this refreshing salad with pork, beef or fowl. It will complement any entire beautifully.

Parsley Pears
6 fresh Bartlett pears
¾ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons honey
2 teaspoons honey

2 teaspoons chopped fresh or freeze-dried chives
2 teaspoons each chopped fresh thyme, basil and tarragon or ¼ teaspoon of each herb dried
1 can (4 oz.) pimientos
1 onion, cut into rings
¼ cup chopped parsley
Chill pears. Combine oil, vinegar, mayonnaise, mustard and honey in jar; cover and shake. Add herbs and shake again. Let stand at least one hour.

Meanwhile, drain pimientos to shape cut with heavy d'oeuvres cutters. Pare, halve and core pears and toss gently in bowl with dressing, pimiento shapes, onion rings and parsley. Makes 6 servings.

MINI-FREEZER—The perfect companion to your child's new school lunch kit is the Thermo Jar made by Alladin Industries, Inc., with its unique Freezer Lid. The lid is filled with pure distilled water. Place it in the freezer compartment of your refrigerator and the water freezes solid. Fill the jar with a tempting cold snack or dessert, place the lid on the jar and the contents stay cold for hours, just as in an icebox.

Olives Chilled in Garlic, Oil

You can make your own garlic olives which go so well on the snack or relish tray. Just cover ripe olives with salad oil to which has been added one crushed clove of garlic.

Put in a mason fruit jar, screw the lid on tightly and set in the refrigerator overnight to absorb the flavor. Just before serving remove from oil and drain. Serve with other relishes.

Casseroles Are Boon to Busy Homemaker

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Every organization in the area is having its first fall meeting about now. All the PTA's are reactivating. In other words, Mom is busy!

The supper efficient homemaker plans her menus a week in advance and shops once a week. She is highly organized. The average homemaker probably thinks 12 to 24 hours ahead. She at least knows in the morning what her family will have for dinner that night and makes preparations accordingly.

The scatter-brained unorganized individual isn't going to be interested in an article such as this because she doesn't have time to read the paper.

After that rambling introduction, it might be hard to know what we're going to talk about in the way of food. It's casseroles, those wonderful one-dish meals that spell economy in both money and time.

Most of the preparation for this first casserole is done on top of the stove. You'll appreciate the quick method of making the cream sauce.

SAUSAGE AND SUCCOTASH CASSEROLE

1 package (10 oz.) frozen Fordhook lima beans
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup water
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 teaspoon sugar
Dash of nutmeg
Dash of pepper
1 tall can (13 oz.) evaporated milk
1 can (12 oz.) whole kernel corn, drained
1 package (8 oz.) precooked pork sausages

Cook lima beans in the 1 cup water with the salt until just barely tender. Add butter and stir until butter is melted. Remove from heat.

Sprinkle in flour a little at a time, blending smoothly. Add onion, sugar, nutmeg and pepper. Blend in evaporated milk. Stir in corn and stir over medium heat until sauce is smooth and thickened. Remove from heat.

Cut six sausage links in half and set aside. Cut each of remaining links into slices. Stir slices into bean and corn mixture.

Turn mixture into a buttered 1 1/4 quart casserole. Arrange the remaining sausage pieces on top.

Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) until sausages are lightly browned and mixture is bubbly, about 10 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

Use some of the early fall apples in a chicken dish.

CHICKEN APPLE CASSEROLE

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 stewing chicken (3 1/2 to 4 lbs.), cut up
1 package (8-oz.) frozen chicken livers
1 can (10 1/2-oz.) chicken gravy
2 tablespoons sherry
1 can (6-oz.) broiled mushroom crowns

2 cups peeled diced apples
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
Few grains pepper
1 teaspoon onion powder
1 tablespoon paprika
6-oz. pkg. (4 slices) Muenster cheese
3 cored apple rings

Melt butter in skillet; brown chicken pieces 5 minutes on each side; remove from pan. Brown chicken livers 5 minutes. Remove from pan.

Add chicken gravy to pan juices; heat slowly over low heat, stirring constantly; add cherry. Drain mushrooms; add mushroom broth to gravy. Add mushrooms and apples to chicken and chicken livers; sprinkle salt, pepper, onion powder and paprika over all.

Arrange half the chicken-apple combination in 3-quart casserole. Pour 1/2 the gravy mixture over all. Top with half the cheese, cutting to fit, if necessary.

Repeat using remaining chicken-apple mixture and remaining gravy. Reserve remaining cheese.

Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Remove from oven. Place apple rings on top. Place remaining cheese slices over apples. Sprinkle with paprika. Return to oven for 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

This last casserole isn't exactly cheap, but it sounds so good we have to include it.

STEAK AND MUSHROOM PIE

2 lb. beef chuck, cut into 1-inch cubes
2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet (bottled browning sauce)
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
1 can (6-oz.) or 2 cans (3-oz. size) sliced broiled mushrooms
2 tablespoons flour

1/4 cup dry red wine or beef bouillon
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
2 cups sliced onions
1/4 teaspoon marjoram, crushed
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Pastry for 9-inch single pie shell

Combine beef and kitchen bouquet and toss lightly together to coat evenly.

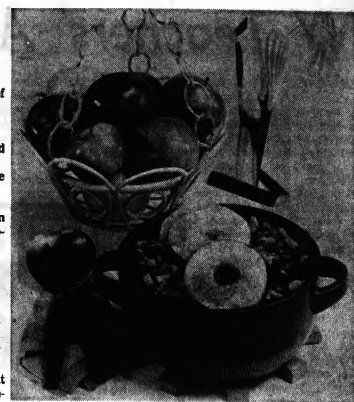

In a large skillet, brown meat in hot oil, turning often. Drain mushrooms and blend mushroom broth with flour; add to meat with wine and Worcestershire. Add sliced onions, mushrooms and marjoram.

Cover and cook over low heat until tender, about 45 to 55 minutes. When meat is tender, add chopped parsley. Adjust seasoning if necessary. Pour into a 1 1/4-quart casserole or baking dish or individual baking dishes.

Cover with crust, seal and flute edges, prick top and bake in a preheated 425 degree oven until crust is nicely browned, about 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Make-ahead suggestions: Cook meat mixture until tender. Cool and chill. Reheat before placing crust on top for baking.

To freeze, make two pies of 4 servings each. Freeze in freezer-to-oven casseroles. Bake frozen in a preheated 425 degree oven until crust is browned and sauce is bubbling, about 40 minutes.

CHICKEN-APPLE CASSEROLE

Soft Topping for Brownies

Marshmallow-soft topping is over bottom of ungreased baking pan (11 by 7 by 1 1/2 inches).

With clean a beater, beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks; gradually beat in brown sugar; continue to beat if necessary until they hold stiff straight peaks; spread over dough; sprinkle with walnuts.

Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until topping is lightly browned and cake tester inserted in center of cookie dough comes out clean — about 25 minutes. Parly cool on wire rack; cut into bars.

To have topping soft, serve the same day cookies are made.

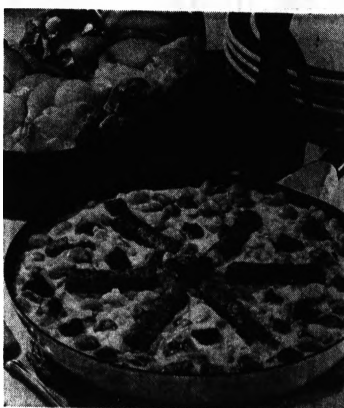

Cool Place Is Best for Storing Coffee

The flavor and aroma of brewed or instant coffee is enriched by refrigerating the coffee grounds, say dietitians at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

The quality of coffee after it is roasted and ground depends on the way it is stored. Coffee is commonly purchased in large packages and stored on the cupboard shelf.

Because it is volatile and can grow stale, a top quality coffee will drop to "fair" or even "poor" quality in less than one week if stored at room temperature.

To preserve the flavor and freshness essential to a gourmet cup of coffee, the U-M food specialists suggest purchasing small packages and storing the grounds, prior to brewing, in a closed, cool, container.

SAUSAGE AND SUCCOTASH CASSEROLE

Unusual Mixture of Flavors Found in Quick Bread Recipe

Feeling in an old-fashioned mood? Hungry for something that isn't "instant" or "frozen ready to heat" or made with milk? Then try this unusual baking-soda rich moist bread full of whole cranberry sauce, raisins and nuts, orange rind and cocoa.

It's very much as your grandmother or great-grandmother might have made it, and equally gratifying.

Cranberry Cocoa Bread
1 can (1-pound) whole berry cranberry sauce
1/4 cup raisins
Grated rind of 1 orange
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup cocoa
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

In a small saucepan combine cranberry sauce, raisins and orange rind. Cook over low heat stirring constantly for 5 minutes. Cool and set aside.

Cream butter until light and fluffy. Gradually cream in sugar. Add egg beaten with milk. Blend well.

Sift flour with baking soda, salt, cocoa, and spices. Fold in chopped walnuts. Add the dry ingredients alternately with the cranberry mixture. Blend well after each addition.

Pour mixture into a well-greased and floured 9x5x3-inch pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for 1 hour and 30 minutes, or until loaf tests done.

After 45 minutes place a piece of foil lightly over the top to prevent overbrowning. Remove from pan and cool thoroughly before serving. Slice thinly.

Serve with 1/8-ounce package cream cheese beaten with 1/4-cup cranberry juice cocktail for a spread.

Movie Maker Shot to Death

Was Filming Poverty
Scenes in Kentucky

WHITESBURG, Ky. (AP) — A prominent Canadian film producer was shot to death Wednesday as he and a four-man production crew filmed scenes of poverty in this mountainous eastern Kentucky area.

Hugh O'Connor died soon after being hit with a 38-caliber slug in his chest. Hobart Ison, 49, of the Jeremiah community was charged with murder. A hearing was set for this afternoon.

The 46-year-old Montreal native was on leave from the Canadian National Film Board to produce a film on "All Walks of Life in the United States" for Francis Thompson, Inc., a New York City firm that specializes in educational documentaries.

Ison owns a cluster of houses at a coal mine camp about five miles north of here on Ky Route 7. It was this cluster of shacks that the crew was filming when O'Connor was shot to death.

UNKNOWN TO THEM
The four members of O'Connor's crew told this story to state and county authorities. They stopped to take pictures of some people beside the road.

After 40 minutes of picture-taking, when they were winding up their session, a car drove up and a man whom they had never seen jumped out yelling, "Get off my property!"

The crew members and O'Connor began gathering their gear when the man fired two shots above them.

As the crew was putting the equipment into their car across the road, the man fired a third shot, this time at the group, which struck O'Connor in the chest, killing him.

'DIDN'T KNOW US'
"We had never seen him before," said Theodore Holcomb, one of the crew members. "He didn't know who we were, I'm sure."

The other crew members, besides Holcomb, were Richard E. Black, Alexander Hamid and Mel Garfinkel, all of New York City.

O'Connor's film "Labyrinth" is a feature of Canada's Expo 67.

Holcomb said he and the other three crew members "are deeply grieved by this tragedy." He said they hadn't decided what their next steps would be or whether they would continue filming for the documentary.

Completion Near for AF Academy?

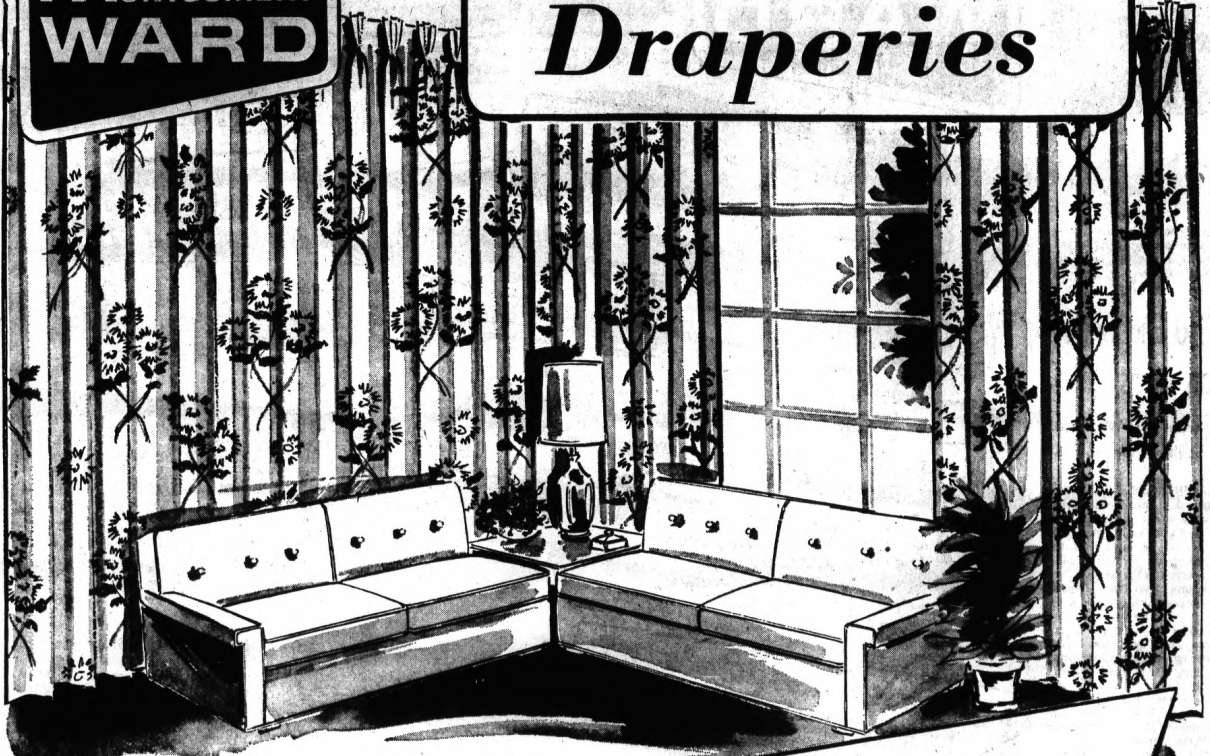

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force believes it can finally complete major plant construction at its Colorado Springs academy with an appropriation of an additional $5,323,000.

Col. J. W. Fenton told the House Appropriations Committee, in testimony made public today, that there may be minor construction items required over the years, but the requested money would complete the academy as presently planned.

To date, the Air Force has spent $155 million on the academy and has $21 million more invested in work in progress or approved. If the current request is the final one, the academy will have cost $181.3 million.

1-Year Probation

DETROIT (AP) — John David Burton, 28, was placed Wednesday on one-year probation after being convicted of clubbing a neighbor's chained dog to death Sept. 11 while crossing the yard as a shortcut.

'No Exchange on Arms Data'

Israel Has Wealth of Soviet-Made Material

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel captured a wealth of Soviet-made weapons during the Middle East war, but American officials scoff at suggestions the United States received any military secrets in the process.

Defense and State Department spokesmen told the Associated Press there has been no exchange of information between Israel and the United States on the captured weapons.

Among war material captured by Israel in the Sinai Desert and other areas were Soviet anti-tank missiles, surface-to-air missiles—SAMs—like those used in North Vietnam, at least one MIG21 jet fighter and assorted other arms worth millions of dollars.

The Pentagon flatly denies reports that a MIG 21 was flown to the United States from Israel for detailed inspection by intelligence experts.

TACTIC UNDERSTANDING?

Defense spokesmen say no weapons were loaned to or otherwise acquired by the United States for examination.

State Department sources say this does not mean there might not be a tacit understanding between lower echelon U.S. and Israeli officials that if arms inspections were sought they could be arranged.

“But frankly we know virtually everything about the MIG 21,” a source reported. “The same goes for the SAM missile, which is really a rather un sophisticated type weapon.”

An equal frankness came from other spokesmen. “Even if we did arrange with Israel to inspect some hot item, we couldn't discuss it,” one says. “That might make it appear we were in collusion with Israel in the Middle East war.”

DECLARED NEUTRALITY

The United States declared neutrality during the fighting.

A recent issue of Aviation Week and Space Technology indicated, however, there might be more to the information lag than U.S. statements reveal.

The magazine quoted one Israeli officer at an air base near Tel Aviv as saying: “We don't get information we would like about the Vietnamese war, which we are, of course, very interested in.” He said Israeli pilots were particularly interested in Soviet-built MIG fighters and SAM missiles, both of which are in the Egyptian inventory.

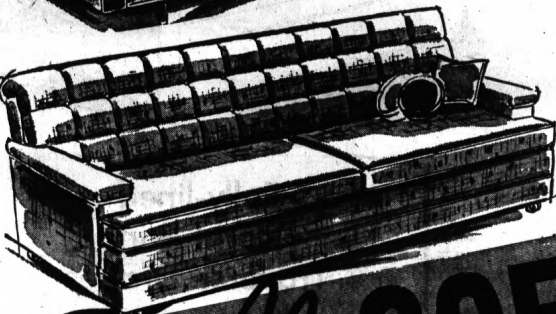

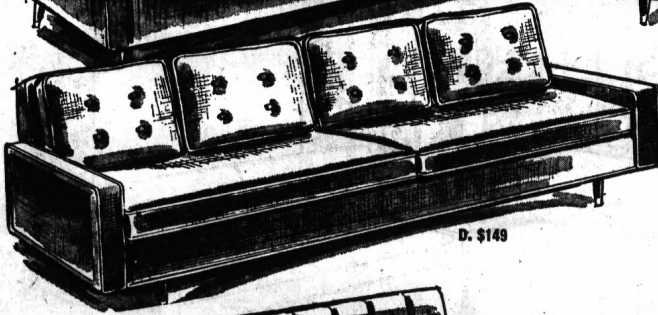

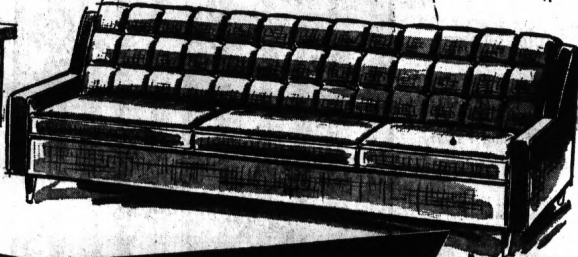

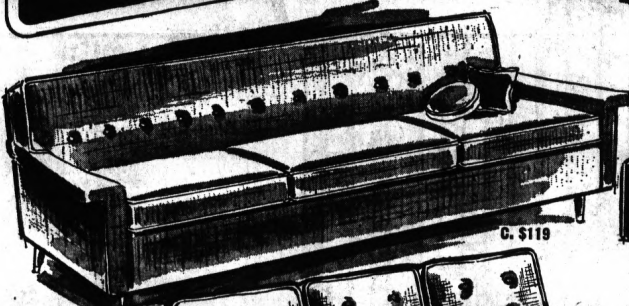

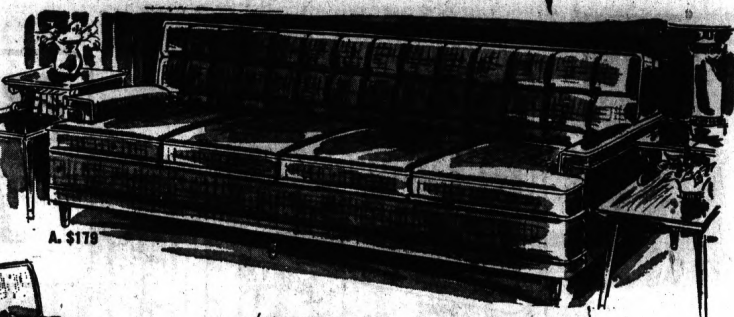

Another Mirage jet squadron commander was quoted as saying he had no knowledge of the U.S. technique of attacking SAM sites, or evading the missiles. “We haven't been able to talk to American pilots. We had to teach ourselves fast,” he said.

Vehicle Check Law Is Urged

GAYLORD (AP) — A 1967 Governor's Regional Traffic Safety Conference was held here Wednesday with some delegates urging a compulsory motor vehicle inspection law.

Traffic safety and law enforcement officials from all over Michigan attended.

Rep. Gustave J. Groat, R-Battle Creek, said he felt more police and more summonses were needed to help cut the traffic accident toll.

Flint Calls Late Bluff to Show Pair of Queens

FLINT (AP) — A threatened appearance in Flint Sunday of lawsuit and a last-minute flurry of telephone calls and telegrams apparently have set up a joint

Richard Deibler, director of the 2nd annual Fall Home Furnishings Show said today that officials of both the Miss America and the Miss Universe pageants reluctantly have agreed to the joint appearance at a city auditorium.

Deibler said Miss America officials Tuesday canceled the scheduled appearance of Debra Dene Barnes, 20, when told that Miss Universe would be at the show.

SUIT THREATENED
Advised by an attorney to sue for breach of contract, Deibler sent a telegram to the Miss America officials. In a telephone call this morning, Deibler said, an official said permission for the Miss America appearance would be granted.

Original plans called for Miss Universe — Sylvia Hitchcock, 21 — to appear Wednesday through Saturday, with Miss Barnes featured Sunday. But an unexpected delay moved the appearance of Miss Hitchcock back one day.

Chrysler Takes 2nd Price Look

By The Associated Press
Virgil Boyd, president of Chrysler Corp., said Tuesday his company "will be competitive" in prices with General Motors and Ford on 1968 models.

Boyd said, however, that Chrysler is making a study of GM's lower suggested list prices and would "wait and see what the other major competitors do" before deciding whether to let Chrysler's original list stand.

Chrysler's original suggested list prices averaged $133 per car more than those for comparable 1967 models. GM announced an average advance of $10 per car Monday.

Ford is expected to announce its price before dealer introduction on Friday.

Both Ford and Chrysler rolled back their original 1967 price lists, after GM announced an average lower increase.

Unit Seeks GOP Intellectuals

LANSING (AP) — Formation Quarterly, put out by the committee, features five articles, including one proposing conversion of state universities into privately endowed institutions free of government controls.

COMMUNICATIONS CHANNEL

The committee will attempt to provide a communications channel between college and university faculty and staff members and the GOP State Central Committee and other Republicans at the state and local levels, State Chairman

Elly Peterson told a news conference.

One target of the group is the large number of faculty members, usually Democratic oriented, who object to Johnson Administration policies on the Vietnam War and urban problems.

The committee also will make the talents of the academic community available to the GOP leadership and hopefully the first group of artists to overcome their reluctance to conduct classes during the year.

make known their political identities and to participate in partisan activity, Mrs. Peterson said.

Artists to Teach

INTERLOCHEN (AP) — Mischa Mischakoff, concertmaster, and Charles Girardin, principal bassoonist, of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra are scheduled to visit Interlochen Arts Academy Friday as the first group of artists to conduct classes during the year.

Girardin: Didn't Know Riot Size

DETROIT (UPI) — In the early moments of Detroit's riot city officials didn't know whether they were facing an isolated incident or a massive attempt by revolutionaries to take over the whole city, Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said yesterday.

"Only the Lord knew if 12th Street was only a diversion or if it was it," Girardin told a State Senate committee on crime.

Farm population has declined four million since 1960.

Hoffa Conspiracy Charge Dismissed

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The conspiracy charge which serving an eight-year sentence marked the turning point in a federal prison in Lewis-Teamsters President James Burg, Pa., on the jury tampering conviction.

Hoffa's long battle with the Justice Department has been dismissed, but it won't affect his current prison term.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge William E. Miller dismissed the 5-year-old charge Wednesday after U.S. Atty. Gilbert Merritt said it would involve a long trial for a misdemeanor, while Hoffa already is serving a long prison term.

It was the conspiracy charge which led to Hoffa's 1964 conviction.

tion of what he termed attempts by Hoffa's associates to influence the jury.

Hoffa was indicted on May 9, 1963, by a special federal grand jury here on charges of conspiring and attempting to influence two of the jurors in his first trial.

The union leader went on trial here in 1962 on charges that he conspired with a Michigan car-hauling firm to violate the Taft-Hartley Act's ban on payments from employers to union officials.

NO VERDICT

The 1962 trial lasted two months and ended with the jury unable to reach a verdict. Miller serving the sentence earlier this year.

The case was moved to Chattanooga where a U.S. District Court jury convicted Hoffa of jury tampering. He was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000. He began serving the sentence earlier this year.

Republican Hits Two Generals

Upset by Criticism of Guard in Detroit Riot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James V. Smith, R-Okla., accused two Army generals Wednesday of making rash statements about the performance of National Guardsmen in helping quell rioting in Detroit this summer.

Smith, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, was critical of comments made by Lt. Gen. John Throckmorton and Maj. Gen. Charles P. Stone in testimony before a congressional committee.

Throckmorton, commander of the 3rd Army at Ft. McPherson, Ga., was head of regular army troops used in Detroit. Stone was his deputy.

Smith complained in a statement that the generals had described guardsmen in Detroit as irresponsible and trigger-happy.

"I am concerned that supposedly well-informed active Army general officers would make rash statements about the performance of Army National Guard units during recent riots in Detroit," he said.

"If Gen. Throckmorton would spend as much time finding out about the true abilities of the National Guard as he does chasing speeders around Army posts, he'd be much better off."

He did not enlarge on the statement.

Smith said the National Guard is "doing a great job in spite of limited equipment and the failure of the Department of Defense to permit time in National Guard training schedules for riot control classes."

Union Sends 7,000 Back to Pan Am Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pan American World Airways was operating normally today following a brief walkout by several thousand workers.

After a strike Wednesday of about 12 hours, the 7,000 Pan Am workers were recalled to work by the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks at the request of the National Mediation Board.

The strike ostensibly involved a wage dispute, but an underlying issue was a representation dispute, still to be settled, between the clerks union and the Teamsters Union.

Pan Am maintained it could not negotiate a new wage contract until the union issue was settled. The airline unilaterally granted a five per cent pay hike after the old contract expired last March, but C. L. Dennis, president of the clerks union, labeled it inadequate.

COURT TO RULE

Dennis said a New York federal court will rule on whether Pan Am must bargain with the clerks before the dispute with the Teamsters is ironed out.

The Teamsters won an election several months ago to represent the airline workers but the results were thrown out by the Mediation Board, which ordered a new election.

The board said it had erred in allowing the Clerks Union to keep its name off the ballot. The clerks used this tactic in hopes the total vote would be under the required 50 per cent of the workers, thus nullifying any Teamster majority.

U. P. Color Show Starts on Schedule

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's annual autumn leaves color show is getting under way right on schedule, the State Tourist Council reports.

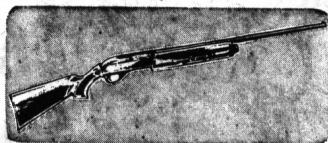

Leaves on low-growing sumac are turning red in the western Upper Peninsula and the larger leaf-shedding trees are beginning to show some color, the council reported.

However, the first good viewing is not expected until the last week of September, with the color change gradually moving southward until early November. The color ordinarily reaches its peak in early October in the Upper Peninsula, mid-October in the northern Lower Peninsula and late October in the southern third of the state.

Considine on Vietnam—4

New Type of War: GI Skill, Patience vs. Sly VC

EDITOR'S NOTE — The changing nature of the ground war in Vietnam is discussed in this fourth of a series of eyewitness reports.

By BOB CONSIDINE
SAIGON — The land war in Vietnam calls for skills and patience of a degree never before demanded of the American fighting man.

He is pitted against an enemy who makes up in cunning and stamina what he lacks in firepower and physical size. The American has had to learn to fight like the Indians fought his ancestors. He has had to throw away just about every manual of warfare printed in the U.S. in the past century.

He has had to forget how great battles of World War I and II and in Korea were planned and prosecuted, and concentrate on a blade of elephant grass being brushed aside by an enemy rifle, or the telltale wisp which, if tripped, will blow him apart.

The American, impetuous by nature, has had to wait for days and weeks at a time for the enemy to show his hand, though the enemy was all around him, and above him in trees, and huddled in tunnels beneath the jungle.

The enemy, particularly the VC in the south, chooses the time and place to come out, shooting. Thus, in that area, we fight what amounts to a defensive war. In the north, where the enemy is a North Vietnamese army man, or boy, we go out looking for him and have broken up three, perhaps four, of what appeared to be buildups to stream across the DMZ (demilitarized zone) in regiment or even division strength.

NO PRIM PATTERN

There is no prim pattern in this land war, as in other wars. For example, there is no allied headquarters, though South Vietnamese, Americans, Koreans, Australians, New Zealanders, Filipinos and Thais are in the field. Each has his sector, or patch, and does his job as best he can.

It is not likely that even the Americans would think of barging into the central coastal area where the 46,000 Koreans are opening roads and locking the stuffings out of their fellow Asians.

The U.S. Army fights one kind of war, the U.S. Marine another. The nature of the enemy, the topography and the separate traditions of the two services decide that.

The army holds off the entrenched enemy when he makes his darting hit-and-run attack, then plods in the direction in which he fled — preceded by artillery, B52 bombers, fire and napalm and everything else that churns down from the sky we own. Many times, maddeningly enough, the enemy disappears — figuratively and literally swallowed by the earth.

ELUSIVE FLYWEIGHT

We are like a Dempsey trying to tag a dancing flyweight. The Marines fight what could almost be called preventive warfare. They insert small patrols in known enemy territory, partly to keep tabs on him, partly to get him to come out shooting and expose himself — whereupon the Marines break radio silence, call for help, and it comes in from all sides in an incredibly short time.

Tactical air support by jets, rocket-firing choppers, artillery, even naval gunfire on occasion.

The Marines take more casualties than their brothers-in-arms. They inflict more, too.

The Saigon government's forces, which heavily outnumber even the large A-military commitment, are the most improved in the field. The Americans started out great. The South Vietnamese started out despairingly bad.

They are better fighting men today for assorted reasons:

• We are providing them with better equipment. One Vietnamese Air Force squadron has turned in its World War II propeller-driven A1 Skyhawks for F5 Northrop-built jets that fly twice the speed of sound.

• Only recently did the South Vietnamese ever maintain an army roster; that is, no one quite knew where any individual South Vietnamese soldier was at any given point. Thus, desertion was relatively easy to get away with.

• A promotion system based on merit instead of favoritism has been put in operation.

• The South Vietnamese soldier, looking around at the new roads, bridges, airfields, buildings etc. which the U.S. is everywhere planting, knows at long last that he has something to fight for, something to inherit when the war is over and the Yanks go home.

• The stability of the military dictatorship that took over the Saigon government in 1965, and honesty of the two top men in the land, President-elect Thieu and Air Marshal Ky, has given the native fighting man a new pride and interest (probably his first) in the government.

The Army (Army of the Republic of Vietnam), as our men call them, have learned to work well with our own forces when called upon.

ULTIMATE COMPLIMENT

"They're a damn sight better than the Koreans were when we first started fighting there," one veteran American commander told me the other day. That's high praise. Our respect for the calibre of the Korean fighting man knows hardly any bounds.

The Allies' increase in strength and determination with every passing day. The enemy's recedes. The villainy of the VC, particularly in the southernmost part of the country, which they largely control has become such that the people — on whom they prey — are in silent revolt.

One result of this is a dizzy decline in the number of VC recruitments, and the extreme youthfulness of those who are now being caught in the brutal roundup of cannon-fodder.

Another cause of the enemy's slow but sure deterioration is the fact that VC units, riddled by desecrations (22,000 for the first eight months of this year) and by illness, food shortages and casualties, are being beefed up by replacements from North Vietnam. There is no great love between north and south in this country, even though, in this case, they are teaming together to throw out the enemy — particularly the Americans — and take over South Vietnam. Poor morale is eroding the VC.

VC DISLIKES

He doesn't like the man who is lying in the hole next to him because the man came from a hamlet. He doesn't like the way he's been lied to, to the effect that the Americans soon will tire of the war and go home. He doesn't like the propagandist who told him that America would never get itself involved in a land war in Asia.

He is awed by the enormity of the American investment, the endless gunfire, screaming jets, clouds of helicopters, tears, ragged personnel carriers, and the thousands of bombs that fall from birds that he cannot see or hear.

We know we are beating him and he knows, too. He didn't, for a long time. He thought we were the French all over again.

Prediction: He may collapse sooner than anyone, including himself, may think. The inducements we offer to him to come over the hill are most tempting: Money for his weapon, a job, housing, no induction in the South Vietnamese army, a patch of land to work, and we'll find and deliver his family to him, too, or help him start raising one.

It won't happen tomorrow, but the "light at the end of the tunnel" has never been as visible as today.

Silk Still Queen of All Textiles

National Geographic Society
WASHINGTON — People who live in "silk stocking" districts actually have been wearing mylons for 25 years. The phrase lingers as a description of wealthy neighborhoods.

Silk is "a dead issue in the hosiery business," one manufacturer has said, but it still ranks as queen of the textile fibers. Fine dresses, suits, draperies, upholstery and many other articles are made of silk.

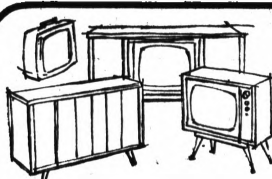

For 4,000 years, silk has meant luxury. It may become even more of a luxury. Recent reports suggest that rising costs could price silk fabrics out of the American market. "Prosperity in Japan, the largest producer, has pushed the price of raw silk to nearly $10 a pound. The amount shipped to the United States in 1967 has dropped dramatically."

Six Are Sentenced in Grand Jury Case

DETROIT (AP) — Fines of $200 court costs and 60 days in jail at the end of a two-year period of probation were levied Wednesday against six men indicted with running gambling games at the Cavalier Club.

The men were indicted by the Wayne County Grand Jury and sentenced by Wayne County Circuit Judge John B. Swainson.

They are Jacob Ashor, John McHue, Solomon Freedman, James Richards, Christopher Bonines and Joseph Loeferlich.

The Hog discarded two diamonds from dummy and one from his hand. With four tricks in West shifted to a spade. The hog won in dummy and led a second spade to his queen. Then he cashed his ace of spades.

West had to discard and the last thing he would do would be to throw a club, with that long club suit in dummy. He chucked his jack of diamonds.

The hog threw away dummy's last diamond and it was East's turn to discard. East also felt that he had to hang on to four clubs and led the ten of diamonds go, whereupon the whole diamond suit was good.

You have already noticed that the diamonds breaking evenly there was no defense against a diamond slam.

The kibitzers asked the Hog about this.

He replied, "Of course the

What do you do now?

A—Bid six no-trump. Your partner made the initial raise. He should have something more than just the ace and king but has shown you. If his extra is a five-card club suit with the jack, you have enough for six no-trump; if it is the queen of hearts, you have enough for seven hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of rebidding one heart, partner rebids one no-trump. What do you do now?

DEATH TRAP — Five small children of migrant fruit workers died when fire struck this cabin while their parents were packing apples nearby. Sheriff believes the children played with matches to start the blaze that broke out yesterday afternoon.

5 Children Killed as Fire Guts Farm Workers' Hut

There are some five million Mexican-Americans living in the southwestern part of the U.S.

WATERVLIET (AP) — Five bins. The children were kept in families of migrant farm workers so they wouldn't be injured by heavy machinery used in the big fruit-growing operation on the Wendel farm. The Barretts had been coming to this southwest Michigan farm for 10 years to pick and pack fruit.

Sgt. Nigel Krickhahn of the Berrien County Sheriff's Department said Martha Barrett, 13, sister of two of the victims, was watching the children in the cabin on the Alton Wendel farm. Three older children played outside, Krickhahn said.

LOCKED DOOR — The girl left the cabin to use outdoor toilet facilities and locked the door. The parents, from Bell, Tenn., had gone out to work in an apple packing shed.

When the girl came back she saw smoke coming from the cabin, screamed, "The cabin is on fire," and ran to a nearby packing shed.

One of the farm operators, Kenneth Wendel, ran to the cabin, kicked the front door open, but was driven back by flames and smoke which gutted the cabin and broke through the roof.

Wendel then smashed a window, but heat forced him back again with minor burns on his face.

FIVE BODIES — When firemen arrived and put out the flames, five bodies were found huddled beneath a cupboard at the back of the cabin. Matches and a lighter fluid can were found on the floor, firemen said.

Krickhahn identified the dead as J. D. Barrett, 4, and C. J. Barrett, 3, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barrett; and Robert Barrett, 4, George Barrett, 3, and John Barrett, 1, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barrett. Ernest Barrett is Cecil's son. The families lived in two ca-

TURNING CORNER — Halfback Jeff Keyser will be trying to turn the corner for plenty of Clarkson yardage against Bloomfield Hills Andover Friday night. The Wolves play the defending Wayne-Oakland champion at Clarkson.

Barons Open Title Defense Against Strong Clarkson 11

The task of trying to knock the Wayne-Oakland football crown from its shaky perch at Bloomfield Hills Andover gets underway Friday.

The Barons, tarnished in their nonleague game with Oak Park travel to Clarkson where the Wolves have definite title aspirations.

Clarkson coaches were high on the potential of junior halfback Jeff Keyser before the season opened and he justified their enthusiasm by racing 54 yards for a touchdown.

In addition, quarterback Rich Johnson led an aerial assault that resulted in 12 of 17 completions, one for a touchdown.

So is West Bloomfield, a 40-20 loser to Waterford in its debut.

The Lakers may be handicapped if top lineman Glen Carpenter is unable to play. He suffered a leg injury against Waterford.

West Bloomfield's secondary showed definite weakness against the Skippers, yielding 200 yards in the air, and the tackling could have been sharper.

Repulsing Raiders Is Goal

Lights On at WKHS

Waterford Kettering will turn the lights on for the first time Friday in the brief history of the grid series with North Farmington and at the same time expect to "turn off" the Raiders.

North Farmington will visit WKHS for the first night contest in the three-game series. Kettering's lights were installed last fall and only used for football in the finale with Waterford Township.

Both previous games in the series were Saturday afternoon contests, and the Raiders have won one and tied one. Last year's 13-13 draw was the only blemish for the Captains' in nine outings.

In fact, Kettering has a string of 11 games without a loss with the tie the only blemish during that time. Coach Jim Larkin will have the Captains primed for revenge.

The Raiders under Ron Holland lost their opener to Pontiac Northern, 10-13, despite displaying a potentially strong air game.

Since Kettering's strength was its ground game and North Farmington's weakness its defense against sweeps, the meeting of the two could produce a wild, high-scoring affair with the outcome likely determined by who has the ball last or the most.

Cranebrook, another team seeking to break the ice, will open its campaign at Birmingham Groves with their first win in the annual series.

As always Groves will enter the game following a defeat by arch rival Seaholm. Thus, the Cranes encounter a team not only with one-game experience but also one hungry to rebound from a beating.

The Falcons had a big scare from Cranebrook last season, gaining a slim 10-13 victory after holding a big lead going into the final period. Groves won, 19-13, in 1965.

Cranebrook has several key returnees from last year's fine 8-2 squad, and with last year's one-pointing frustration in their minds, the visitors might make it a rough evening.

Other nonleague games Friday involving county elevens have Madison Heights Lamphere at Oak Park for an afternoon tilt. Flint St. Michael at Detroit, Royal Oak Dondero at Hazel Park, and Hartland-Oakville Brandon.

Both the Oxford and Orionville combines are hoping to enter the win column after unimpressive openers. The Wildcats were shut out by rugged Clarkson, while Brandon managed only one touchdown and relinquished five at Flint Holy Rummy.

The Dondero-Hazel Park meeting possibly will be the best in the county Friday. Each scored an impressive comeback last week against a formidable opponent.

Thunderbird Classic Opening Today

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Armed with a new putter and an aching back, Mason Rudolph sets out today in defense of his Thunderbird Classic Golf Championship, his only tour triumph in the last three years.

The 33-year-old Tennessee headed for a doctor and a hot tub immediately after completing Wednesday's pro-amateur event. He was several strokes above par and said he picked up his ball on a couple of holes.

"It's a dull ache," Rudolph said, flexing his torso and gripping the base of his spine. "It started during the Philadelphia Golf Classic last weekend. I felt it when I got up in the morning but it never really bothered me while I was playing. But Tuesday in Williamsburg, Va., and it got worse."

America's Cup Finally Evokes Bid by French

NEW YORK (UPI) — The line for America's Cup challengers forms to the right and France is second in line.

After 116 years of ignoring yachting's most coveted competition, France Wednesday became the second nation to accept a challenge to meet a United States defender in the 1970 series off Newport, R. I.

Commodore Percy Chubb said the French syndicate indicated its willingness to stage an elimination series with the Royal Dorset Club of Weymouth, England, for the right to oppose the U.S. defender in the best-of-seven series.

Druggist Fined on Illegal Sale

Convicted of unlawfully retailing and dispensing a drug, a Pontiac druggist has been ordered to pay a $100 fine and $200 court costs by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Louis Fingold, 45, was found guilty last month by Ziem, after a nonjury trial, of selling methamphetamine without a prescription. The fine was imposed Tuesday.

Fingold, a Southfield resident, is the owner of Lou's Drugs and Hardware, 493 S. Sanford.

Fingold had been convicted of the charge and sentenced to 180 days in jail in June 1966, but appealed his case to circuit court.

Girl Injured by Boat Prop 'Satisfactory'

A White Lake Township 8-year-old girl who was thrown from a motorboat and injured in its propeller Sunday is reported still in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Debra Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Freeman, 10075 Cedar Shores, was on Cedar Island Lake in a 14-foot, 60-horsepower motorboat driven by her brother, George, said the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Debra and George were thrown overboard as the boat ran "wild counter-clockwise" while towing a skier, said police.

George disengaged his sister from the ski rope and motor propeller with the help of two other boaters, according to the police report.

Needle Thread, Jailed Physician Save Prisoner

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—No doctor was available and a prisoner was losing blood rapidly from self-inflicted gashes in each arm.

Then someone remembered Dr. Robert Jackson, a physician jailed for contempt of court growing out of divorce proceedings.

Jackson could find no pulse when he reached the inmate, and no surgical instruments were available. But a sewing machine was nearby.

"They brought me a needle and some white sewing machine thread, and I tied off the vessels," the physician said.

The emergency sutures were replaced at a hospital and the inmate now says he wants to live.

Meter Reader's 'Periscope' Eyed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A seven-foot long "periscope" invented by a Grand Rapids Water Department employee to read meters in pits outside basement buildings is drawing attention of delegates at a meeting this week of water supply experts.

The device, with two lenses and a battery operated light, cost Gerald Nelson, 28, about $20 to build and is saving the city an estimated $5,000 a year in time spent pumping ground water from the pits before metermen can read the meters.

Arts Concert on Ferryboat

NEW YORK (AP)—Cellist, Charlotte Moorman, a champion of avant-garde music who was convicted last May of giving an indecent performance, will take part in a Staten Island ferryboat next week for a 24-hour arts festival.

The city's marine and aviation commissioner, Herbert B. Halberg, announced Wednesday that the festival will be given the use of the ferry John F. Kennedy on Sept. 28.

The shapely Miss Moorman, 28, received a suspended sentence May 9 for a performance Feb. 9 in which she allegedly played her cello while nude from the waist up.

The commissioners announced that the normal charge of five cents will be made for spectators to take a one-way crossing of the ferry between the Battery and Staten Island.

Work of some 150 artists from all over the world will be shown or performed, Halberg said.

Ex-Drug Exec Hits High Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The pharmaceutical industry was given a chance today to answer a member of the Squibb family who broke ranks and admitted that many brand-name drugs really could be sold cheaper.

George Squibb, who retired earlier this year as vice president of the highly respected E. R. Squibb Co., set off a controversy within the industry by telling Congress the big difference in price between brand name drugs and their generic counterparts could not be justified.

C. Joseph Stetter, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, faced certain questioning about Squibb's statements during an appearance today before the Senate Finance Committee.

The committee is considering an amendment providing that drugs purchased with federal welfare funds be bought under their generic — or chemical — names rather than by more costly brand names.

Squibb, before retiring from the family firm, wrote the Senate Small Business Monopoly Subcommittee that "It is growing increasingly doubtful if (brand name drugs) are worth the large differences in price that now exist."

Lawyer in City Hit on Ethics

Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry has been accused by a Detroit lawyer of unethical conduct for his involvement in mock trial of a Detroit policeman.

The charge was filed with the State Bar Association by Norman L. Lippitt.

Lippitt is defense counsel for Ronald W. August, suspended from the police department while awaiting trial on a charge of first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of a Negro youth in the Algiers Motel annex during the July riot in Detroit.

Lippitt contends that during the mock trial held Aug. 30, Henry, of 518 Orchard Lake, acted as prosecutor against August and three others who were in the annex when Aubrey Pollard, 19, and two other Negro boys were slain.

STRATEGY MEETING Lippitt's charge came to light when 30 Negro attorneys met with Henry to map his answer to the accusation.

The association has disciplinary powers, including the power to disbar attorneys who violate its canons.

The driver of the car was Leslie A. Patterson, 49, of 6461 Elmwood, Waterford Township.

Death, Destruction, Floods Left by Waning Hurricane

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Waning Hurricane Beulah surged farther inland today, leaving hundreds of square miles of death, destruction and growing floods in her wake.

The monster storm's main track stretched 150 miles into Texas from Brownsville, the coastal point where she first raged ashore yesterday.

Curving on a more westerly course as she advanced, Beulah finally dropped below minimum hurricane force — 75 miles per hour — early today.

Floods boiled up along rivers and creeks faster than harried disaster relief officials could keep track of them.

The little city of Alice, 40 miles west of Corpus Christi was deluged by almost 7 inches of rain as Beulah's eye passed through. Other towns and cities in the vicinity recorded rains in two-digit figures, topped by 13.80 inches at Tuleta, 70 miles northeast of here.

6 KILLED IN TEXAS

A 13-day-old storm that began in the Atlantic, Beulah claimed 30 lives — six in Texas. Eighteen died in the Caribbean and the rest perished in Mexico's southern regions.

Flooding plagued the southern half of Texas and threatened to be a major problem for days.

The rains showed no signs of abating as Gulf of Mexico tides swept heading up river beds and collided with floodwaters from Beulah's rains.

In an unprecedented move the State Department announced through Texas officials at Austin that the United States and Mexico had declared a disaster area along the border Rio Grande.

TO OPEN BORDER

"The U.S. Immigration service is to open the international border and it is to remain open until further notice," a Texas spokesman said.

Brownsville's sister city of Matamoros, Mexico, sustained heavy damage from Beulah, as did Reynosa, Mexico, just across the river from Edinburg, Tex.

The Coast Guard was dispatching three amphibious airplanes from Corpus Christi today to survey damage in the storm's main track.

POWER SHUT OFF

Electrical power was shut off to about one-fourth of the Texas land mass. Brownsville was the hardest hit city in the state. Beulah screamed ashore there with 160 m.p.h. winds and rains too heavy to measure.

Hurricane force winds continued at Alice, a city of 25,000 some 40 miles west of Corpus Christi.

Downtown businesses were flooded as were most homes. The residents had fled inland or to shelters.

Water stood a foot deep in parked cars.

NEW JOBS — Wilma H. Ray, who since the first of this year has been regional director of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission for Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties, briefs Donald J. Court Ruling Today on Teacher Strikes

An Oakland County Circuit judge was to rule this afternoon if teachers in the Bloomfield Hills School District must return to classes.

Judge Robert L. Templin took the case under advisement after hearing arguments yesterday over a temporary injunction requested by the school board.

The teachers refused to work when school began Sept. 5, and are the only ones in Oakland County not back on the job.

Charles Fine, attorney for the school board, asked for the back-to-work order because "The board has fulfilled all its obligations under the public employers act, and despite all its efforts and attempts it has been unable to have the defendants comply with the law."

Detroit attorney Harvey I. Wax, representing the teachers, asked that the court dismiss the case since the teachers are not in violation of the Hutchinson act.

"Their contract expired June 30 and therefore they are not employed and not on strike," said Wax. "Mr. Fine is asking that the court establish a contract."

"A court order would violate their constitutional rights by imposing involuntary servitude," he added.

Fine continued with "If the teachers are not employed, how can they bargain or file a complaint with the National Labor Relations Board that the board is not bargaining in good faith."

"They can't have it both ways," said Fine.

Last-minute discussions between the Bloomfield Hills Education Association (BHEA) and the board of education took place this morning in an attempt to stave off a back-to-work court injunction scheduled for a decision today in Circuit Court.

BHEA President Walt Zahrt said that he feels the board and teachers are much closer than they were Monday.

"We have modified our salary demands in hopes of reaching an agreement," he said. "We're asking a basic salary for a bachelor's degree of $6,500 — before we were asking $6,300."

Birmingham teachers and board members met last night with State La. (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 5)

Moore Offers 2 Suggestions for Crime Fight

Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore yesterday recommended the establishment of a permanent one-man grand jury system and a training school for prosecuting attorneys to help fight crime.

Moore's proposals were made before a State Senate special committee on crime that is meeting in Detroit.

A grand jury with broad powers should operate continuously in Wayne County, Moore told the committee.

He also suggested that larger communities double the size of their police departments.

"Too many young prosecutors take the job after leaving law school," said Moore. "They lack the experience needed to adequately handle criminal cases."

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge George Bowles, who completed a one-year term as grand juror last month, agreed with Moore's grand-jury proposal and suggested a larger investigative staff for grand jurors.

He said one Wayne County Circuit Court judge each year should be named grand juror and be available if called by the state attorney general or county prosecutor.

1968 GMC Pickups Feature Wider Rear Window, New Exterior Styling

Styling of Light-Duty GM Trucks Refined

Refined light-duty truck styling boasting clean exterior lines and attractive interior appointments along with the industry's broadest range of light-line power plants highlight GMC Truck and Coach Division's 1968 trucks.

Martin J. Caserio, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, said the addition of two new V8s gives the division the most complete line of engines in its history.

"Coupled with our 327 V8 and our V6 and in-line 6s," he pointed out, "new V8s with 307- and 336-cubic-inch displacements add an important new dimension to our light line."

"This greatly broadens our model coverage and offers operators a variety of power combinations that will tailor their trucks to virtually any application."

New paint and trim treatments on the light-duty models give the front ends a more massive appearance at no sacrifice in overall appearance.

REAR WINDOWS

Standard rear windows are nearly twice as large as previous models, providing improved rear visibility.

While the 1968 GMC line has a greater variety of optional equipment, some items that were optional are now standard. These include back-up lights on light-duty cabs and nylon cord tires on all but half-ton models, Handi-Vans and Handi-Buses.

New features include side marker lamps or reflectors, clearance and identification lights on all conventional models 90 inches or wider, and heater and defroster on all but cowl chassis.

Vacuum-brake bus models in the 5500-7500 series use the dual-braking system with self-adjusting brakes.

In the light-truck line, wide-base nylon tires are offered along with a wider selection of engines, transmissions and axles.

Interiors are more colorful and functional in the new model lineup. Two-tone door paint treatment and more attractive dash and seat color combinations are featured along with various other advanced interior appointments.

Examples of the innovations are larger low-profile control knobs, blunt-edge window cranks, dual padded sunshades, recessed ignition switch and position for cigar lighter, yielding shank window control handles and pushbutton seat-belt buckles.

Mercury to Dip Into 40s Tonight

Cooler temperatures may be expected tonight, the low falling in the 40s even though the full moon won't officially arrive until 12:38 p.m. Saturday.

The weatherman predicts clearing and much cooler tonight and mostly sunny but cool tomorrow.

Increasing cloudiness and a little warmer with chance of showers by evening is the outlook for Saturday.

Winds southeasterly 10 to 20 miles and gusty, shifting to northeast to north and diminishing tonight.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a two-part series on what Tuesday's tax advisory vote means to Pontiac and area residents.)

By BOB WISLER
Tuesday's tax advisory election hasn't solved any of Pontiac's fiscal ills, yet. Serious problems still loom ahead.

The city government can expect to get over the hurdles that lie ahead if the citizenry accepts an additional tax.

City commissioners have not yet decided that they will definitely impose the income tax which was favored in the advisory election, but expected they will do so.

The results of the election show a clear-cut preference for an income tax — 1 per cent for residents, a half per cent for nonresidents working in the city — rather than a hike in the property tax levy for operating funds, now limited by charter to 10 mills.

The big stumbling block, if it comes, to enacting the tax would be a petition campaign to hold a referendum vote on the tax.

The commission can, by state law, enact an income tax ordinance. No further vote is necessary. But, state law also provides that a referendum vote shall be held if enough voters sign petitions for it.

The number of signatures required is low, not less than 10 per cent or more than 25 per cent of the number of registered electors voting in the last general election. This means that a minimum of 1,101 valid signatures is needed.

Petitions must be filed with the city clerk's office no later than the sixth Monday following enactment of an income tax ordinance.

If the commissioners enact an ordinance by Nov. 1, the income tax would take effect Jan. 1 and collections by employers would start then. But if enough signatures are filed this will delay income tax collections until July 1.

PROBLEMS POSED

A referendum vote would be held between Feb. 3 and March 20.

Going six months without additional funds poses just as many problems as going without funds at all, Edward Gallagher, director of finance, said.

Gallagher said the city is operating on such a thin margin that it must be assured of funds starting Jan. 1 or cuts in service and personnel (salaries and fringe benefits make up 80 per cent of the budget) will have to be made and decisions on where these cuts should take place made well before the end of the year.

The present city budget calls for expenses of $3,290,331 this year while income is only $7,788,292. The city is making the difference by using the surplus that has been accumulated, $502,039.

NOTES AUTHORIZED

The city will start off next year with a "paper" surplus of about $176,000. To meet expenses the commission has authorized issuing tax anticipation notes worth $2.75 million but this is not enough to get through a six-month period without substantial decreases in spending, Gallagher said.

Little help will come from the state income tax which begins next month.

The state income tax law dictates that a certain amount collected from Pontiac residents will be returned to the city.

but, officials estimate, this will be only $197,335 in 1968.

Because of the state income tax the local citizens may be reluctant to accept an additional city income tax, but provisions in the state law allow deductions in the amount of state income tax paid if a city tax has also been imposed.

(Small: What a city income tax would mean in Pontiac residents and nonresidents. More complete answer would be utilized.)

House Republicans Do About-Face for Antiraid Funds Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — A substantial swing among urban and suburban Republicans caused the House's about-face vote of $40 million for expanded federal riot control aid.

An analysis of the 227-to-173 vote Wednesday showed 42 Republicans who voted in July against the administration $40 million riot control proposal this time supported the amendment to add the extra money to funds authorized for state health programs.

Rights Agency Chief Promoted

3-County Post Goes to Macomb Professor

A young woman who made a mark on the Pontiac community in the past nine months yesterday ended her job as regional director of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (CRC) for Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties.

Wilma H. Ray, a native of Asheville, N.C., and a graduate of Wake University in Tennessee, has been named assistant director of the community services division and will work in the CRC office in Detroit.

She is succeeded by Donald J. Bender, 30, who had been an associate professor of political science and chairman of the department of social sciences at Macomb Community College.

Bender is a graduate of Lehigh University, Pa., and has done graduate work in history at Rutgers University and in political science at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Ray will have responsibility of supervision over CRC offices in Detroit, Pontiac, Flint and Saginaw.

CITIES PROGRESS
In turning over her duties she said she feels that the on-normal CRC office in Pontiac has made progress since its opening early this year.

Along these lines, she said, have been educational programs in schools and industry, initiation of a drive to recruit police officers from minority groups, establishment of a liaison with the local police department, and strengthening of community organizations.

Although the office handles CRC activities in three counties, the "main thrust" has been in Pontiac.

Bender, who, with his wife, intends to move to the vicinity from Warren, said he will continue strong emphasis on CRC progress in Pontiac.

His body is at the William R. Hamilton Funeral Home on Cass Avenue in Detroit.

Major Viet Policy Talk Set by Goldberg Today

UNITED Nations, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg made a major policy statement on Vietnam today as the U.N. General Assembly opens a general debate on world problems. Informants described the Goldberg statement as a "redefinition" of the U.S. position, approved by the White House after a new look at the whole picture. They said the speech would contain something "important and significant" but cautioned that Goldberg is "not going to reverse everything."

Despite the expected appeals from other delegations for an unconditional halt in the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, Goldberg was expected to stand on the previously stated position that the bombing will not be ended unless Hanoi gives some sign that it will take steps to de-escalate the war. The Vietnam problem was not formally on the agenda of the 123-nation assembly, but it is customary during the opening general debate to deal with all major problems. No action beyond this is expected on Vietnam during the current session, although there undoubtedly will be private conversations.

W. Bloomfield Youth Drowns
The body of a drowned West Bloomfield Township youth, who was reported missing yesterday, was recovered by Oakland County sheriff's deputies early today in Orchard Lake.

Police said the victim, Edward McMorris, 16, of 1519 Groton, was identified by his father about 9:10 a.m. after divers found his body about 75 feet from shore.

Orchard Lake police said McMorris had gone swimming with five companions yesterday afternoon. They said the other youths decided to swim to an island in the area, but the victim, described as a poor swimmer, stayed behind.

When he wasn't found either in the lake area or at home, police were notified about 10 p.m.

6 Mentally Ill Patients Die in Hospital Fire
LAS VEGAS, N.M. (AP) — Six male patients at the New Mexico State Hospital for the mentally ill died early today when they were overcome by smoke during a fire. Another 152 men and women patients were evacuated to safety.

The hospital director, James W. Wagner, said the dead were overcome by heavy smoke as they slept in their beds on the second floor of the two-story brick structure in this northern New Mexico community.

Wagner said the dead ranged in age from 26 to 79 and all came from the Albuquerque area. He withheld their names pending notification of next of kin.

PRELIMINARY SKIRMISH

School Ruling Is Due Today
The Relations Board Member Leonard Bennett in a meeting thought by both sides to be beneficial.

FIRST TIME
It was the first time since last July that a mediator was on hand.

A spokesman for the Birmingham Board of Education said that things looked a little brighter and much tension has been eased since the start of school, but that the salary differences were still some $400,000 apart.

The board still charges the BEA with harassing their salary demands since Sept. 1.

As of today the bachelor's degree offer by the board is $6,375 to $10,000 and the demand is $8,300 to $10,000.

The board said that the BEA bachelor's degree request on Sept. 1 was $6,150.

Slough Off That Snobbish In-Law Sneer

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I took a commercial course in high school to help my parents with their dry-cleaning business. But my husband is a college graduate. Though I am sure he loves me, I know that his mother thinks that he married beneath him.

Last weekend I overheard her tell him that she had given a set of silver platters to his sister because I wouldn't know how to take care of them. She has great influence over him. I can always tell when she's made some underhanded crack like this about me.

Answer: Fight her, child, fight her.

You can win, too, if you'll stop being hurt long enough to know that she's really criticizing her son by criticizing you. Sure she is. When she tells him you're a social inferior that you can't appreciate silver platters, she's really saying to him,

"You've got very slummy taste in people." It's the problem of your husband that he doesn't know this.

He doesn't know that his mother's efforts to make him ashamed of you are her efforts to disgust him with himself — with his feelings for you. But you've got to know this. Because this is the enemy's weakness in this kind of battle.

So we exploit it. We use it. We use it by praising the courage of that love for us in the young husband which his mother is damning as shameful. We actually say to him, "I heard what your mother said about my knowing nothing about silver."

"And I think you're so brave and so good to love me, a girl who's such a social disappointment to your family. So brave, darling, so brave."

man to have so resisted the snobbish influence of his family to love and marry a girl they regard as his social inferior. My goodness, he's been reared to certainty that exposure to silver tableware is essential to human value!

He's been fed this stuff all his life. Oh, it's taken the staunchest kind of courage to stand up all by himself and think, "Nonsense! Familiarity with silver tableware has

Capital of Biafra Ally Seized

Lagos, Nigeria (AP) — Nigerian federal troops occupied today the capital of the Republic of Benin, a day-old, self-proclaimed nation that rebelled Wednesday to fight the Lagos government alongside breakaway Biafra.

Lagos forces, greeted by crowds waving palm fronds, entered Benin City and seized a main square, a British government report from the scene said. Firing was heard east of the capital area.

The federal government's advance came only 12 hours after Benin's declaration of independence and was regarded as a major victory in its 10-week old civil war with Biafra, the rebellious Eastern state, and the Midwest.

Biafrans took the Midwest region in August and installed Maj. Albert O. Okonkwo, a U.S.-trained physician married to an American, as administrator. Okonkwo issued Benin's independence statement, then disappeared from sight Wednesday.

'UNACCEPTABLE TYPE'
Okonkwo had earlier accused the military government of Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon in Lagos of trying to "impose an unacceptable type of government on our people."

But George Bell, British high commissioner in Benin, reported that crowds cheered the federal contingent as it reached King's Square in the heart of the city. No British or foreign nationals were hurt, he said.

Jew-Hate Built in SNCC—Rabbi

DETROIT (AP) — A national Jewish leader said Wednesday some Black Power leaders have tried to exploit anti-Semitism among Negroes.

Rabbi Arthur J. Lelyveld, president of the American Jewish Congress, also charged that the Communist party had infiltrated the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and "has given support to latent popular anti-Semitism."

The rabbi was severely beaten by segregationists while serving with a civil rights group in Mississippi in 1964. "I cooperated with SNCC in 1964, but it has changed," he said. "I don't think SNCC is in any way representative of the American Negro community."

NATURAL ALLIES
Rabbi Lelyveld said in an interview that the Jewish struggle for freedom and the Negro struggle for civil rights should make the two groups natural allies, but they have been set against each other by black power leaders such as Stokely Carmichael.

He said, however, that anti-Semitism is not increasing among Negroes generally. Rabbi Lelyveld was in Detroit for a speaking engagement.

Fast Train Link Delayed; No Cars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 150-mile-an-hour train service to link Washington and New York, originally scheduled to start in late October, will not get under way until early next year.

The delay was blamed on a lack of railroad cars. At a meeting yesterday with Transportation Secretary Alan S. Boyd, the Budd Co., which is building the cars, said it would need more time to complete them. After they are built, the cars still must be tested for performance and reliability.

Trunk Yields 3 Babies' Bodies

NEW YORK (AP) — An old trunk found in the basement of a Manhattan apartment house has yielded the bodies of three mummified infants, one of whom may have been dead for 47 years.

The bizarre and unusual case came to light when the trunk was opened Wednesday night. Dr. Paul Herman, assistant medical examiner, set an autopsy examination of the infants today to determine how they died. The discovery was made when John Hartnett, superintendent of the building on West 161st Street in the Washington Heights section advised tenants to clear a basement storage area of unwanted items. Hartnett told police he found one trunk with the name Anne Solomon on it. It was opened in the presence of Jacob Solomon, 67, whose wife, Anne, died in 1920 at the age of 48. Inside the children were found laying side by side—swaddled in cloth and with newspapers wrapped on the outside. Dr. Mernan described the bodies as "well-kept."

One of the papers was an edition of the defunct Evening Sun dated Jan. 20, 1920. Another was the defunct Evening World dated March 4, 1922, and the third was the old Evening Journal of Oct. 17, 1923. Solomon told police his wife had been previously married in 1933 but that he had no knowledge of her having given birth to any children. Detectives found a second trunk bearing Mrs. Solomon's name and opened it but found nothing. They then checked some 25 other trunks in the basement of the building but found nothing suspicious.

Flint Calls Late Bluff to Show Pair of Queens

FLINT (AP) — A threatened lawsuit and a last-minute flurry of telephone calls and telegrams apparently have set up a joint

Richard Deibler, director of the 2nd annual Fall Home Furnishings Show said today that officials of both the Miss America and the Miss Universe pageants reluctantly have agreed to the joint appearance at a city auditorium.

Deibler said Miss America officials Tuesday canceled the scheduled appearance of Debra Dene Barnes, 20, when told that Miss Universe would be at the show.

SUIT THREATENED
Advised by an attorney to sue for breach of contract, Deibler sent a telegram to the Miss America officials. In a telephone call this morning, Deibler said, an official said permission for the Miss America appearance would be granted.

Original plans called for Miss Universe — Sylvia Hitchcock, 21 — to appear Wednesday through Saturday, with Miss Barnes featured Sunday. But an unexpected delay moved the appearance of Miss Hitchcock back one day.

Chrysler Takes 2nd Price Look

By The Associated Press
Virgil Boyd, president of Chrysler Corp., said Tuesday his company "will be competitive" in prices with General Motors and Ford on 1968 models.

Boyd added, however, that Chrysler is making a study of GM's lower suggested list prices and would "wait and see what the other major competitor does" before deciding whether to let Chrysler's original list stand.

Chrysler's original suggested list prices averaged $133 per car more than those for comparable 1967 models. GM announced an average advance of $110 per car Monday.

Ford is expected to announce its price before dealer introduction on Friday.

Both Ford and Chrysler rolled back their original 1967 price lists, after GM announced an average lower increase.

Nixon Leading in N.H.

GOP Aspirants Aim for Primary

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—With less than six months to go before New Hampshire's presidential preference primary—the nation's first—its field of Republican hopefuls.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan will start his move with speeches at Dartmouth and the University of New Hampshire on Oct. 30.

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California has passed the word he does not want his name on the ballot in the March 12 primary. So his supporters are concentrating on a write-in campaign along the lines which gave Henry Cabot Lodge a surprise victory in 1964.

Others sure to muster write-in support if they decline to be on the ballot include Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois. Some diehards say they will write in the name of Barry Goldwater, the party's 1964 nominee, despite his crushing defeat by Lyndon B. Johnson.

TOWN MEETING

New Hampshire is a state where the town meeting is cherished as an example of true democracy and where every man's views are heard fully at the grass-roots level.

A candidate's exposure to the electorate counts heavily and Nixon is generally figured to be ahead because of frequent visits to New Hampshire and what one politician terms "identification with the party."

Romney supporters concede their man is trailing but they believe heavy campaigning in the state will close the gap before the voting.

The Michigan governor already has paid one visit to the state and is expected to return in early July where he met party leaders and representatives of the press.

Reagan has yet to appear but supporters hope he will set up a speaking engagement before the end of the year.

Auto Dealers Set Evening Showing

All new car dealers in Pontiac will remain open until 9 p.m. next Monday through Friday, a Pontiac Automobile Dealers Association spokesman said today.

This will enable persons who are unable to visit showrooms during the day to see the 1968 models, he said.

The used car lots at these new dealers also will be open until 9 p.m.

GM Revises, Extends '68 Warranties

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors Corp. yesterday announced revisions and an extension of the warranty on 1968 model passenger cars and light trucks.

Under the terms of the 1968 warranty, the original owner of any GM passenger car receives a manufacturer's warranty against defects in material and workmanship on the entire vehicle, except tires, for 36 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first.

In addition, GM extended the warranty for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the power train, suspension and steering components.

Similar coverage applies to Chevrolet and GMC light trucks, but only the power train is covered in the extended warranty for trucks.

Subsequent owners may take over the unexpired warranties on vehicles by registering through a dealer and nominal payments.

Thieves Hit Area School

Two movie projectors, two record players and an electric typewriter were stolen in a break-in reported yesterday at Lotus Lake School, 6455 Harper, Waterford Township, according to township police.

The intruders also broke into the coinboxes of two vending machines, police said. Entry was gained through a broken window. Since no broken glass was found at the scene, police believe the thieves took the glass pane with them.

American Stock Exch.

The increases that took effect when the rollbacks were over last year averaged $56 at Chrysler, $56 at Ford and $58 at GM. The amounts rolled back, based on the number of 1967's sold so far this year, amounted to $24 million at Chrysler and $62 million at Ford.

News in Brief

Warren Weber of 4355 Island Park, Waterford Township, yesterday reported to township police the theft of a chain saw valued at $225 from his garage.

Former Waterford Township Supervisor Mrs. Dorothy W. Olson reported to township police yesterday that her purse, containing about $80, was stolen during a break-in of her home at 3599 Shores.

Federal Funding Causes Concern

Research's Rich Uncle

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK—A showing of 100 new technical products here this week reveal that 25 of them were developed with the aid of federal grants, a figure that surprises few engineers but does, however, cause them concern.

In many areas of industry, CUNIFF aerospace especially, the overwhelming percentage of research and development funds comes from the federal government. It is the biggest buyer and user of research and development.

Of the $17 billion spent by industry on research and development this year, federal financing is expected to account for close to $8.5 billion. Nearly 90 per cent of all aerospace research and development will be done with federal funds.

The concern, variously expressed but stated almost constantly, is that the nation's brain power might be steered into militaristic rather than peaceful pursuits, or that in accepting grants researchers may accept control as well.

RESEARCH MONOPOLY
Dr. Robert L. Hershey, a vice president of the Du Pont Co., which has had a share of government contracts, commented in a speech during the past year that the federal government is in an almost monopolistic position in sponsoring research and development.

Government programs apparently have more glamor, he said, and since these programs are concentrated in certain narrow areas, some of the very best young scientists also may be concentrating narrowly.

Money has a lot to do with it, as the recent showing of technical products revealed. The average cost of the products shown was $50,000 each. And it took an average of 27 months to perfect them.

INTRIGUING PRODUCTS
Among the products: "The world's most powerful superconductive magnet," which stores enough energy to turn on 20,000 one-hundred watt bulbs at once; a microfilm that contains 3,200 pages on a 4 by 6 inch film; a dummy that simulates the physiological responses of a human being.

A small company, operating without subsidy or contract, is unlikely to risk its funds and time, especially when practical commercial results are not assured by such products. It takes big money to make precise products.

This seems to have been borne out by results of a competition, sponsored by a publishing house. Not only were 26 per cent of the winners aided by government funds, but the biggest winners also were the richest.

GE HAS 9 WINNERS
General Electric had the most winners, with nine. It was followed by Varian Associates 5, Radio Corp. of America and Union Carbide 4, Lockheed Aircraft, Northrup Co., Westinghouse and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration 3 each.

To say that the risk is great and the return sometimes small doesn't rule out the possibility of big winnings from such research. Many profitable commercial products had their origins in federally sponsored research.

Reuther also opposed some limitation approved by the House on aid to dependent children and mothers' relief.

He said that "it is tokenism. The benefits are not meaningful enough to make a dent in the problem." Reuther called for future cost-of-living adjustments so inflation would not erode benefit gains.

Chamber official Henry H. Chase said his group's recommendation was up from its 8 per cent suggestion of last spring because of price increases.

Reuther also opposed some limitation approved by the House on aid to dependent children and mothers' relief.

A. Your knowledge may be limited but you have either excellent judgment or a competent adviser. All your stocks mentioned are of high quality and all can be characterized as growth issues. They differ mainly in their past records and in the rate of expansion that can be reasonably projected into the future. Judged on this basis, my preference would be for Central Illinois P.S. and Sterling Drug, both of which have an excellent record of rising earnings and dividends. Campbell Soup and Blue Chip are conservative blue chip stocks which in my opinion are rather slow stocks where it will be available for your objective. In place of them when you need these issues, I suggest Avon
