

K Brandishes Bomb, Nixes War Policy

From Our News Wires

BERLIN — Soviet Premier Khrushchev told his Communist comrades today the United States has 40,000 atomic or nuclear warheads and Communist policy cannot be based on war.

If all the American bombs were dropped, he said, 700 million to 800 million people would be killed and whole nations wiped out.

Departing from his text Khrushchev then brandished the Soviet Union's giant nuclear bomb, implying it could be used only against the United States.

"Dear comrades, now I tell you a secret," he said. "Our scientists have developed a new 100-megaton bomb. This bomb could not be used in Western Europe because it would hit France and Germany and you too. This bomb could only be used overseas against a potential aggressor."

EASES PRESSURE

Khrushchev eased pressure on the West for a German peace treaty and evacuation of Berlin. At the same time he indirectly denounced the warlike theories of Red China.

In a surprise move after Khrushchev's speech, American correspondents were barred from the hall. A reply by the Communist Chinese delegation followed.

The Chinese rebuttal had not been announced beforehand and was not planned.

In a two-hour, 35-minute address to the sixth East German Communist party congress in East Berlin, the Soviet leader warned there can be no East-West disarmament agreement until the Berlin and German issues are settled.

But he refrained from any new ultimatum or deadline to the West.

ANSWERS CHINESE

In his wide-ranging speech, Khrushchev answered the Chinese Communists who have accused him of being afraid of a "paper tiger"—the United States—when he backed down on Cuba. Khrushchev didn't mention the Red Chinese by name. He maintained the fiction of attacking them through their ideological allies in Albania, but it was clear his arguments were meant for Peking.

He called for a peaceful solution to East-West problems, saying "We do not want a kingdom in heaven — we want a beautiful empire on earth."

"For that reason we act with a sense of responsibility. We do not want war. But if one is forced on us, we shall hit back."

Khrushchev clearly disappointed his East German audience by his treatment of the West Berlin problem and by the fact he obviously has put it on ice for the time being.

He paid lip service to the idea of a German peace treaty but made it clear he would take no steps against the Western position.

He said the position of communist East Germany had been greatly strengthened in the meantime, particularly by construction of the wall between West and East Berlin.

But he said the interest in a German peace treaty has not let up.

Speaking in quiet, sometimes almost professional tones, Khrushchev declared that "as long as a German peace treaty has not been signed it obviously will be difficult to expect serious progress towards concluding a disarmament agreement."

Khrushchev repeated earlier "offers" to conclude a peace treaty with both German states, to turn isolated West Berlin into a free city and to allow foreign troops to remain there for a while, provided they are under United Nations command and not that of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

In his speech Khrushchev also: —Declared he had saved communism in Cuba.

—Assured the East German Communists that West German anti-Communist forces "will be swept away" in time, and Germany will be united as a Communist state.

Pouring scorn in Red China's war-and-peace theories, Khrushchev warned that neither communism nor anyone else can win in a nuclear war because it would bring unimaginable destruction. The fight for peace, he went on, is the chief task of Communism.

In a direct appeal for world communist unity, Khrushchev said the Albanians—and by implication the Red Chinese—"must abandon their path if they want to go with us."

In emotional tones he told the 2,500 applauding delegates from 70 countries: "If the Albanian leaders have the welfare of their people and good relations with the Soviet Union at heart, they must give up their ways and return to the road of unity."

Midwest Cold Wave Heads Into Northeast

The Northeast felt the numbing chill today of an intense cold wave that has gripped wide sections of the midcontinent for nearly a week.

The core of the arctic air mass drifted eastward during the night, bringing record low temperatures to parts of the East.

Some slight moderation of the deep freeze weather developed in the Midwest but readings still were below zero from eastern Montana into New England.

Rochester, N.Y., reported a record low for the date of -6 degrees and Buffalo had a record -9.

Other low readings in the East included: Saranac Lake N.Y., -29; Boonville, N.Y., in the Adirondack foothills, -20; Greenville, Maine, -20; Montpelier, Vt., -19, and Lebanon, N.H., -17.

Even colder weather was forecast for the Northeast.

Below-freezing weather covered the bulk of the nation.

The exceptions were a narrow band along the Gulf Coast, the Rio Grande Valley, southern Georgia, Florida, the coastal areas of Southern California and Washington State.

But the Midwest remained the coldest region in the nation. The mercury plunged to -38 at Black River Falls and -37 at Lone Rock, both in Wisconsin. Black River Falls had a low yesterday of -50.

Sault Ste. Marie took top honors with a reading of 18 below zero. Houghton wasn't far behind at 16 below, and it was 15 below at Escanaba, all in the Upper Peninsula.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said in Pontiac a slight moderation in temperatures is forecast tomorrow through Saturday with the low tonight near 5 above zero and the high near 15 tomorrow. Sunday and Monday will see a drop again.

Desk Sold; Secrets Go; British Probe

LONDON (AP) — The admiralty and air ministry today ordered investigations into how secret documents came to be left in office furniture offered for sale to the public.

Admiralty documents were found in a desk which had been sold at auction and taken to a warehouse.

Roger Moutfield, who found them, said: "They were marked secret and admiralty form and gave details about Russian travelers. Other papers showed drawings of submarines with dimensions, weight and identification features. They were mostly photostats and mostly stamped secret."

Landry Sees Rosy Future for Pontiac as 'New City'

"We are tonight on the threshold of a new adventure—the building of a new City of Pontiac."

With those words, Mayor Robert A. Landry summed up the destiny of this city in his "State of the City" report to Pontiac residents at last night's City Commission meeting.

The mayor's report covered accomplishments of the past year and gave indications of what the future may hold. It was the first report of its kind.

Landry hopes the "mayor's report to the people" will become an annual duty of future Pontiac mayors.

His report indicated the future holds both "promise" and in 1963, at least, "an increase in our tax rate."

His speech preceded a public hearing on Pontiac's proposed $7,045,435 budget for 1963. There were no objections voiced.

Still subject to change and revision, the budget will be prepared now for final adoption before the end of the month, as required by the city charter.

In contemplating the new year, Landry said "1963 looms as a year of great promise—a year that may well set the pattern for higher standards in the planning of our future social, economic and cultural development."

"With the cooperation of industry, labor, business and government, the future for 1963 looks bright indeed."

Repeating his inaugural pledge of last April, Landry asked all

County Office Building Auditorium Saw Its Last Board of Supervisors Meeting Yesterday

Auto Sales Set Record at Pontiac

Pontiac Motor Division continued to break all existing divisional sales records and GMC Truck & Coach Division had its best Jan. 1-10 sales total in seven years, during the first 10-day sales period of 1963.

Sales figures announced today by the local GM divisions followed a trend throughout the auto industry that indicated new car sales are off to a booming start in 1963.

Sales of new Pontiacs and Tempests totaled 14,126 in the Jan. 1-10 sales period — an all-time high for the period, according to Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager.

Calvin J. Werner, general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, said "domestic retail deliveries of trucks and buses from Jan. 1-10 totaled 2,365 units."

This represented a 9.6 per cent increase over the same period last year and the best first 10-day sales period since 1956.

Office Building for Sale Feb. 7

The Oakland County Office Building, containing the supervisors' auditorium, at 1 Lafayette St. will be offered for sale at public auction Feb. 7.

The County Board of Auditors — in charge of the sale — is hoping to get at least $220,000, the appraised value of the five-story brick building.

Chairman of the County Board of Supervisors Delos Hamlin announced yesterday that meetings held before the new auditorium is finished at the County Service Center will be in the courthouse library.

This will enable the county to withdraw completely from the downtown building Feb. 11 when offices there are to be moved into a wing of the new courthouse.

The new auditorium, adjacent to the wing, is scheduled for completion in April.

County officials at one time considered holding interim supervisors meetings in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Oakland, 761 W. Huron St., at the proposal of James Clarkson, firm president.

County Corporation Counsel Norman R. Barnard explained that such a move would raise a legal question. The board is supposed to meet in the county courthouse, he said.

For this reason, the office building had been officially dedicated as the courthouse annex, Barnard noted.

"The public auction will be held at 1:30 p.m. in the supervisors' auditorium on the fourth floor of the building."

John C. Austin, chairman of the board of auditors, said he did not know if there would be any bids. There were none when the county attempted to sell the former courthouse site at Saginaw and Huron streets. That property is still for sale.

"There have been a few inquiries about the office building but no offers to purchase it," said Austin.

The building is on a 7,830-square foot site bordered by Lafayette and Wayne streets and Oakland Avenue. A parking lot in the rear is included in the property for sale.

The county acquired the building by paying off some $50,000 owed in taxes during the depression of the 1930s.

It had been built by Pontiac Freemasons for a lodge.

The old auditorium has echoed with supervisors meetings since 1942.

The question whether the familiar 83 brass spittoons will accompany the supervisors in their move remained undecided.

Congress to Do Battle With JFK's Budget

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A thundering battle of the budget appears to be shaping up in Congress. Its outcome may determine how much of President Kennedy's proposed tax cuts and welfare legislation will get through.

Kennedy will present to Congress tomorrow a budget of around $99 billion. It will be accompanied by a Treasury estimate that the spending involved would add more than $10 billion to the deficit in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

No one in the administration regards it as a happy circumstance that the President will have to report so much projected red ink spending at a time he is asking Congress to slice about $6 billion off of tax receipts in the same year.

The reaction could affect his whole three-year, $13.5-billion tax reduction program. It could spell painful progress for welfare proposals he said Monday in his State of the Union message "we cannot afford to postpone."

Budget balancing has been a highly touted but non-effective activity in Congress in the last few years when defense and space expenditures have been pushing through the roof.

There is clear evidence that the old economy alliance of Republicans and conservative Democrats is being rewelded to oppose Kennedy domestic proposals such as those for establishment of a youth conservation corps, a domestic peace corps and large-scale aid to education.

The President's program for Social Security-financed health care for the elderly falls into a somewhat different category. It would put an added tax take on individuals at a time when Kennedy is asking that their income taxes be lowered.

Castro Backs Red China Line

Calls for Revolutions Through S. America

From Our News Wires

MIAMI — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro fell into step with Red China's hard line today and urged revolutionary overthrow throughout Latin America to "hurl the masses into combat."

"That is the duty of revolutionary leaders . . ." he said. "That is what they did in Algeria and what the (Communist) patriots are doing in South Viet Nam . . . that is what we did too."

The bearded Cuban leader said that as far as he is concerned the Caribbean crisis has not ended.

Although Castro did not name the Soviet Union or Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, he assailed unidentified "critics" in a way that described Moscow and its policy of "peaceful coexistence."

In particular, Castro assailed "false interpretations of history."

"Some Johnny-come-lately theoreticians have said that in Cuba there was a peaceful changeover from capitalism to socialism," he said. "If there had not been an armed fight by our people, we still would have seen Senor (ex-President Fulgencio) 'Made in the U.S.A.' Batista with us."

"The liberating movement is fighting . . . in Latin America and this fight needs all the united forces of the Socialist revolution," he shouted in a televised post-midnight speech which lasted nearly three hours.

The prime minister told his audience — mostly women from many Latin nations — its task is to lead the continent in Cuba-style revolutions.

"In the world in which the American woman lives, the woman necessarily has to be a revolutionary," he declared.

Cuba, he said, faces a difficult situation.

Romney Woos Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan said after a breakfast meeting today with the state's congressional delegation his purpose was to keep informed about federal programs and to seek cooperation on matters dealing with the state.

Romney, the state's first Republican governor in 14 years, said that with the start of a new administration in Michigan his concern was to do all he could to work out the problems in the state.

He was sure, he added, that all the state's members of Congress were concerned about finding solutions to the state's problems.

Seated with Romney at the head of the table in a dining room in the House side of the capitol were Rep. John Bennett, Republican, dean of the delegation, and Sen. Philip A. Hart, a Democrat.

Romney told reporters after the breakfast that his No. 1 concern was to have "good, effective communication and liaison with the entire Michigan delegation."

The governor said he had with him John B. Martin, Michigan GOP national committeeman, who would act as liaison contact between the state administration and Washington.

Romney said he also wanted all the members of the Michigan delegation to know he will seek reapportionment of Michigan's congressional districts by the legislature this year.

He said he wanted the views of the delegation on how that would be best brought about.

The Michigan delegation was increased by one House seat, to 19, as a result of the 1960 census. Michigan failed to redistrict and, as a result, one seat was filled on an at-large basis.

In answer to a question, Romney said he was pleased with the meeting of both Republican and Democratic members from the state, and added nothing was said at the session to indicate that cooperation would not be forthcoming.

"I feel," Romney said, "that, while we have differences, there is general recognition of the need to do that which we can meet current problems."

Star Detroit Lion Tackle Admits Betting on Game

DETROIT (UPI) — Alex Karras, star tackle for the Detroit Lions, has admitted that he bet on a football game in apparent violation of a National Football League regulation.

The Detroit News said Karras made the admission in a taped interview for NBC following Sunday's Pro Bowl game at Los Angeles. It said Karras confirmed by telephone that he did bet on a game.

Karras is in Clinton, Iowa, visiting his father-in-law.

"I haven't done anything dishonest and I'm sick and tired of being picked on," Karras told the News.

"It's normal to make a small bet on yourself. It doesn't have to be with a bookmaker. It can be with a friend."

The standard NFL contract gives the league commissioner the power to "fine and suspend... for life or indefinitely, and/or to cancel the contract of any player... who bets on a game."

city organizations to "join together in rededicating all the actions of this governmental body to the common good and welfare of all our people."

Landry noted that "the big jobs must command our undivided attention throughout 1963." The mayor more specifically predicted that the coming year would see "total clearance of our urban renewal lands in the central business district."

"Before this year passes," he said, "we will witness the actual building of new shopping areas and some of these new areas will be open for business in 1963."

He also predicted that new homes would spring up in the R20 urban renewal area, new park developments will be completed and "much relocation of small industry" will take place within the city limits.

He indicated there are now a number of small industries interested in locating here if and when enough vacant industrial land is available for development.

On the need for more tax revenues, Landry noted "We can no longer insure a low tax rate at the expense of laying off city employees, reverting to a 'balancing wire' type of maintenance on our city equipment, or by effecting further cut-backs on badly needed city services."

"Progress in any community is largely dependent upon whether its government and its people are willing to face the facts, and not supplement facts with fantasy."

He pointed to "the new faith in the city's administration" as a "heartening" factor.

"The feelings of hesitancy and reluctance to accept changes, on the part of some of our people, so much in evidence following last April's election, have all but disappeared."

Adoula Names New Minister for Katanga

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Cyrille Adoula today named Joseph Ileo, 40, a quiet and studious ex-premier, to become resident minister for the Congo central government in Katanga.

It was another step toward unity in the wake of President Moise Tshombe's capitulation.

Ileo's job, Adoula announced, will be to maintain necessary contacts with provincial institutions of the copper-rich region and "facilitate the process of re-integration of the province into the republic."

Diplomatic sources said Adoula had not yet decided whether to visit Elisabethville, the capital, as Tshombe requested Tuesday in announcing that Katanga's 30-month-old secession was ended.

U.N. officials in Katanga warily continued their military buildup up lest there be some last minute breakdown in completing the arrangements among the Congo, the United Nations and Tshombe's war-battered regime.

A U.N. spokesman in New York said Tshombe is expected to return tomorrow to Elisabethville.

FLY FROM KOLWEZI

The spokesman said the United Nations had been advised through diplomatic channels that Tshombe would fly from Kolwezi to Kipushi, at the northern Rhodesian border 15 miles west of Elisabethville, and go the rest of the way by car.

A United Nations representative is ready to meet Tshombe immediately after his arrival, the spokesman said. He added that the first order of business will be to arrange for the peaceful entry of U.N. forces into Kolwezi, last stronghold of the Katanga secessionist.

U.N. officials said George Sherry, No. 2 U.N. man in Elisabethville, probably will meet Tshombe. The chief U.N. representative, Eliud Mathu, is understood to be ill.

The Italian Here for Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Italian Prime Minister Amintore Fanfani received an official welcome to Washington from President Kennedy today in a colorful military ceremony on the White House south lawn.

The Italian head of government, who arrived yesterday for two days of talks with Kennedy and other U.S. officials, was driven from Blair House, the presidential guest residence, to the White House in a limousine flying the flags of both countries. There, Kennedy was waiting with an honor guard to receive him.

"I'm delighted to welcome back an old friend I have known for a good many years," Kennedy said in brief informal remarks.

Fanfani, Kennedy stressed, is the head of government of "a distinguished friend: the republic of Italy."

The present time, Kennedy went on, is highly appropriate for this visit because "the Allies have a good many matters of common concern such as the defense, the economic policy, and other sub-

4 Still Missing in Brazil Crash

Rain-Shrouded Mishap Fatal to 13

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI)—Four passengers still were missing today in the wreckage of a Brazilian airliner that crashed yesterday, killing at least 13 and injuring 32.

City officials said the identities of 10 of the 13 dead had been established. Three others were burned beyond recognition.

Four of the identified bodies were those of residents of homes into which the Cruzeiro do Sul twin-engine transport plunged last night in a driving rain after overshooting the airport.

Credit for the comparatively small death toll went to army medical corpsmen who happened to be undergoing a life-saving exercise near the crash scene.

Richard B. Searight of Wichita, Kan., one of two Americans aboard the plane, said the medical corpsmen did a "terrific job." The other American aboard was Cipriano Angelo of New York.

"If it hadn't been for the soldiers, all of us would have been burned to death," Searight said.

BOTH INJURED

Searight, a technician for the Minneapolis-Honeywell Co., suffered a broken rib and leg and a wrenched shoulder. Angelo, a sales engineer for the same concern, suffered two broken legs and two broken wrists.

The dead include six passengers, four residents of the homes into which the plane crashed and three unidentified persons. Among the dead passengers was a British subject, Paul Halmovuch Henry, 58.

One of the twin-engine Convair's unidentified dead was believed to be the copilot, Pedro Paulo de Moraes.

Officials of the Cruzeiro do Sul Airline, operators of the airliner, said it developed unspecified "motor difficulty" after leaving Rio de Janeiro for Sao Paulo on a shuttle flight.

Reset Exam on Charges Against Henry

The Municipal Court examination of City Commissioner Milton Henry on a charge of felonious assault has been postponed until Jan. 23. It had been scheduled for today.

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum said he called for the postponement so the felonious assault charge against Henry could be heard on the same day as a malicious destruction charge against the commissioner.

Both charges stem from an incident Jan. 7 when Henry attempted to reclaim his repossessed car from a garage without signing a waiver to release the finance company from any responsibility for the car's condition while in storage.

Henry had paid $353 due on it earlier in the day.

City policeman Neil McCormack accused Henry of attacking him with his car after he had arrived on the scene to investigate the trouble.

J. Wendell Green, owner of the garage at 79 E. Huron St. filed a malicious destruction complaint against Henry, claiming the commissioner damaged his property when he disconnected the garage door's electrical mechanism in order to get his car out.

Unveils Inquiry About Walton

DETROIT (AP) — A Republican precinct worker today told a legislative committee of her one-woman investigation into the campaign practices of Democratic Rep-elect Leonard Walton.

Mrs. Barbara Dumouchelle told the committee she obtained a copy of a controversial handbill from Walton at his home on Nov. 5, the day before the election.

The House, voting on party lines, refused a week ago to seat Walton pending an investigation of whether he campaigned as an incumbent representative of Detroit's 12th Legislative District.

Walton is awaiting trial in Recorder's Court on a charge of violating state election laws. The controversial pink handbills bear his picture over the word "re-elect." He sought a first term.

Mrs. Dumouchelle testified Walton told her that 20,000 of the slips had been distributed at parking lots. She said she identified herself to him only as a neighborhood resident, not a Republican worker.

She told the investigating committee that after Walton was called to the prosecutor's office, he telephoned her at home and asked her, "How could you do such a thing?"

She said Walton threatened to call the parish priest and have her dismissed as a teacher at the parochial school where she was then employed.

She said she visited Walton's home "to see if the literature was distributed from his home."

Detroit Police Detective Lt. Edward Boggs testified that he had been told by a printer that Walton had ordered 9,000 handbills.

Bar Association Dinner Will Honor Judge Holland

Some 300 are expected to attend a dinner Friday in honor of Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland, who will retire Feb. 15 after 27 years on the county's circuit bench.

Among those expected to attend are the county's other four circuit judges, attorneys from throughout the county and county officials and employees.

Judge Holland was first elected circuit judge in 1935 and took office Jan. 1, 1936, after serving four years as Pontiac's municipal judge. He announced his retirement last week.

Crash Victim Succumbs

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Elicia Hunter, 70, of Detroit, injured Sunday when a car in which she was a passenger was in collision with a city bus, died yesterday.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A short circuit—caused by the improper use of tweezers in binding up wires—was the "most likely abnormality" that sent a big jet and 95 persons to their doom last March, the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) said today.

The American Airlines plane plunged into Jamaica Bay shortly after takeoff from New York's Idlewild International Airport.

The CAB report said the wires, part of the automatic pilot system, lead to the rudder boost control mechanism—called the rudder servo.

Federal Aviation Agency inspectors, the CAB said, determined the result of improper use of tweezers in the tying of wire bundles and backed up the conclusion by finding similarly damaged units in the manufacturer's production line.

The board said that after the difficulty was discovered, the FAA issued an order for the inspection of all generator motors on "Eclipse-pioneer model TB-20D automatic flight control systems" for damaged wire bundles.

The Bendix Corp., whose

Eclipse-Pioneer Division in Teterboro, N. J., makes the servo control unit, issued a denial that the unit was defective.

SEVERAL POSSIBILITIES

The CAB conceded that an FAA theory made public last June—that a small bolt may have dropped out of the automatic control system—was one of several things that could have happened.

Some CAB inspectors became annoyed last summer after an FAA order for correction of the suspected bolt defect became public, and attempted to minimize the likelihood that the bolt was the cause.

The CAB normally holds its accident investigation details secret until the release of the official report.

However, an advance of today's report, CAB sources gave details of the findings to the Saturday Evening Post.

The magazine said the investigation was prolonged because flight tests set up by the FAA to test the servo theory were not carried out under the same conditions as the fatal flight.

It quoted a CAB official as saying he refused to be a part of the tests because FAA was using a Boeing 720 instead of a 707 like the one which had crashed.

"The controls are fairly similar, but let's be honest; it's just not the same airplane that American flew," the official was quoted.

"You don't taste oranges to see if you're going to like apples."

'Agitator,' Three Others Indicted in Meredith Case

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A man described as a "professional agitator" and three others are under indictment as a federal grand jury delves deeper today into the University of Mississippi desegregation riot.

The jury—in its seventh day—has heard some testimony concerning six others, including former Army Maj. Gen Edwin A. Walker, who were arrested following the Sept. 30 riot which killed two and injured scores.

The four indicted Tuesday are Melvin Bruce, 35, of Decatur, Ga., a crippled truck contractor the jury called a professional agitator; Phillip Lloyd Miles and Kline Lamar May, both of Prichard, Ala.; and Richard Hays Hinton of Lucedale, Miss.

They were charged with interfering with a federal marshal performing duties and willfully attempting to obstruct or impede by threat or force the execution of court orders which directed admission of a Negro, James H. Meredith, to the university.

If convicted of the interference charge, the four could be sentenced to three years in jail and fined $5,000. The maximum penalty for the other offense is one year and a $1,000 fine.

They are scheduled to go on trial in May.

Two no true bills—failure to find sufficient grounds for indictment—were returned by the jury. The bills were not made public, however. Another grand jury could investigate the same cases later.

U.S. Atty. H. M. Ray of Oxford, said, "It is improper to comment at this time since the grand jury is still in session."

Court sources indicated the jury would continue dealing with the rioting for several days.

Suggest Establishing European Peace Corps

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—The Assembly of the Council of Europe recommended Tuesday night that the council set up an all-European peace corps in cooperation with the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

Per Olaf Hanson of Sweden said the corps could coordinate the work of about 60 organizations already sending young volunteers to work in underdeveloped countries.

Freeze Puts Squeeze on Citrus Fruit, Vegetable Prices

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Household fruit and vegetable budgets are taking a beating because of weather on both coasts.

Freezes have boosted orange prices by as much as 100 per cent in some places.

The dockworkers strike along Atlantic and Gulf coasts also has contributed to the price-pushing shortage.

Trade sources say there is little hope for relief from higher fruit prices until new crops come in next fall.

Vegetable prices also have been affected, but because it takes only a few weeks for a new crop to progress from seed to market, the price effects are more temporary.

The Florida freeze in December that destroyed about a third of the state's citrus crop is the heaviest influence in rising prices.

Florida produces much of the nation's citrus crop.

The extent of damage is still being evaluated. It is still not known how many trees were damaged permanently or how much fruit now on trees will turn out to be unsatisfactory.

A Department of Agriculture spokesman estimated that the Florida freeze means the nation's supplies of oranges and grapefruit will be only about 70 per cent as great as a year ago.

Julius Leitzer, a trade spokesman, said that the combination of the Texas, Florida and California freezes with bad weather in Europe is generating a worldwide citrus shortage.

These shortages already have been translated into marketplace jumps.

One national supermarket chain gave these comparisons for Dec. 15 and Jan. 15 in its New York outlets: Oranges were 12 for 49 cents, rose to 7 for 49 cents; frozen orange juice concentrate sold at 6 six-ounce cans for 85 cents, rose to 2 cans for 45.

Where Texas and California sources influenced the market, the spokesman said, the jumps weren't so steep. But new weather damage has boosted prices from those sources too.

Vegetable prices in California currently are showing dramatically the effect of that region's freeze. At Los Angeles wholesale markets Tuesday some representative jumps included lettuce up from $2.50 to $5 a crate, squash up from $4.50 to $7 for 25 pounds, and cabbages up from $2.50 to $4.

New York markets continue to reflect higher prices on Florida produce, though not such large increases as current in California.

The dock strike has reduced imports of grapes, melons and

Citizen Group Picks Leader

DETROIT (AP) — Thomas C. Walsh, Lansing attorney, was named permanent chairman of Citizens for Sound Government at the group's second organizational meeting here last night.

The group announced the opening of an office in Lansing.

Citizens for Sound Government was formed last week in Detroit for the purpose of opposing the proposed new state constitution which will go before the voters in April.

Of the estimated 1.4 million new homes constructed in 1962, about 75 per cent were roofed with asphalt shingles, statisticians at Allied Chemical report.

Junior Editors Quiz on BONES

QUESTION: What are the hardest, longest and funniest bones in the body?

ANSWER: The hardest is the "petrous" bone, which is at the bottom part of the skull. It needs to be strong, because the delicate organ of hearing lies inside. In our drawing we have shown it larger than it would be in the boy's head. The hole is where the nerve to the ear comes out.

The longest bone is the femur, certainly one of the most useful to us. It is inside the upper part, or thigh, of the leg and it takes a tremendous strain as we run and jump. As you see, there is only one bone in the thigh, while there are two (tibia and fibula) in the lower part of the leg.

Dave and his friend Phil are demonstrating one of the funniest parts of the body, the lower ribs where one's ticklish center is located. Our artist has a hard time drawing this picture because the two boys posing for him kept tickling each other and he couldn't keep them still.

At lower left we show the location of the true funny bone, at the back of the elbow. It is where a nerve from the ulna one of the lower arm rests against the lower part of the humerus bone of the upper arm.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can locate your funny bone. by feeling around with your fingertip you can find a place under the elbow where it feels "funny" when you press it. Don't punch it hard or bang it against something. The term "funny bone" may have come from the name of the humerus bone.

Ancient Sea Trade Resumes

MOMBASA, Kenya (AP)—Lifting gently to the Indian Ocean swell, the dhow Iqbal sailed through the gap in the coral reef and pointed her carved and brightly painted bow toward Mombasa Old Port.

BACKGROUND
As she glided to her mooring under the Old Port's centuries-old walls, her giant shiraa (sail) was run down and the crewmen knelt on their prayer mats giving thanks for a safe voyage—18 days from Muscat.

Iqbal was the first of the ocean-going dhows to arrive in Mombasa this season on the northeast trade winds that have been bringing Persian Gulf traders to the east coast of Africa for 3,000 years.

In three or four weeks, more than 100 such dhows from Aden, Muscat, Khabura, Qatar and Bahrain will pass Fort Jesus, built in the 17th century by the Portuguese, and dock at this port.

The dhows bring beautiful carpets from Bukhara, Shiraz, Tabriz and Isfahan, oils in tall earthen jars, dried fish and shark, unrefined flamingo-pink salt, dates, and hand-woven shawls.

FISH OIL FOR SPEED
Before the dhows—many of them as much as 100 years old—leave their sun-baked home ports, their hulls are smeared with fish oil to help them slip swiftly through the water.

There was a time when the dhows came to Mombasa and Zanzibar for slaves brought to the coast of East Africa by Arab slave-traders. Iron rings to which slaves were tethered while waiting to go aboard can still be seen at Mombasa Old Port. A well that was for the slaves is still in use, its edges surrounded by a low wall, worn smooth.

These days, the dhows take back cargoes of poles for house-building, charcoal and coffee. But the coastal tribes still send their young girls into the forests from December to April. The girls of Kenya's Giriama tribe are highly prized in the harems of the gulf Arabs.

March is the most dangerous month for the girls, because the southwest monsoon begins to blow and carries the dhows back to the desert shores of the gulf.
An ocean-going dhow has about 170 tons displacement and has a crew of about 30, including the nahodha (master).
Three years ago, the dhow trade was falling off rapidly, and the number coming in to Mombasa was less than 50.

Ford Contemplates Production in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO — The Ford Motor Co. is contemplating an investment of some $4 million to produce one of its models, the Fairlane, in Brazil.

This, and the effects of inflation on the national economy, were the prime topics of conversation Monday between President Joao Goulart and Henry Ford II.

Ford sought to produce the Fairlane here before, but was turned down by the government agency supervising auto production in Brazil.

Goulart reportedly promised to reopen Ford's petition for reconsideration.

Will's Executor Hesitates to Follow Provisions

Maskell asked that his furniture, jewelry, carpets and car be burned. "We must give it a lot more thought," A spokesman said.

HAVANA (AP)—The Soviet liner Maria Ulianova has left for Cuba carrying Soviet specialists and numerous Cuban tourists, Havana newspapers reported yesterday.

Dropping Dam Project a Mistake for U.S.?

The Aswan Dam is progressing full steam ahead near the Egyptian city of the same name.

Initially envisioned as a U.S. foreign project but abruptly dropped by our State Department, it was assumed by the Soviet Union as its largest venture of the same sort.

Russia has already lent $200 million toward the development and has pledged as much again.

Egypt's President GAMEL ABDEL NASSER sees in the construction of the dam and its side results the impetus which may largely decide the country's place in the 20th Century and his own role in history.

The dam, gigantic in concept and structure, will give the Arab nation vast electric power plus almost a million acres of new farmland. Much of this can be plowed back into the economy without being offset by adding hungry new people to the present population of 27 million — expected to double in 25 years.

Work is now concentrated on a mile-long diversion channel through which the Nile will flow while the actual dam is constructed.

Construction of it, a massive rock-filled structure 436 feet high and 2.6 miles long, will soon get under way.

The schedule calls for completion of the diversion canal this year, a start on the power station by 1965 and completion of the whole project in 1970.

The Aswan Dam appears to be a tangible, sound project offering unlimited economic benefits. When the amount of foreign aid money that the United States has poured down a variety of rat holes is considered, perhaps Uncle Sam missed a bet when he summarily pulled out and left the dam high and dry.

Chicago Certainly Has Convention Know-How

Reports about Chicago's conventions always intrigue us. They're so unlike Detroit's.

Basically, "we're on Detroit's side" as she's a Michigan city and a near neighbor. And yet we find Detroit's convention history fraught with misadventure.

HARRY G. KIPKE, president of Chicago's convention bureau, declares that 1.3-million people will be brought to Chicago this year by those activities. The big showy shows are held at McCormick Place, which is the counterpart of Cobo Hall in the Windy City.

The difference is that in Chicago the unions and the exhibitors get along well and everyone is happy. In Detroit, the unions have charged so much, the visitors leave in an outrage, feeling they've been gouged — and they swear they'll never return. Chicago has no such trouble. Its big hall is booked ahead for 18 months. Exhibitors like to return.

Michigan can use more employment.

Visit From Red Official Doesn't Change Stand

Just in case FIDEL CASTRO or NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV feel that with the recall of Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister VASILY V. KUZNETSOV that they now have a firm "no-invasion" pledge from President KENNEDY, we suggest they re-read what JFK had to say when he accepted the battle flag from the ransomed prisoners.

Speaking at the Orange Bowl in Miami a couple of weeks ago before some 20,000 cheering spectators, President Kennedy said: "I can assure you this brigade flag from the battle of the Bay of Pigs will be returned to this brigade in a free Havana."

He did not elaborate, or make any definite promise, but between the lines it was quite clear that he was sympathetic. The Cuban prisoners had expressed a desire to return to their homeland with enough strength to kick out CASTRO and the Commies.

The President also pointed out that all men who fight for freedom are brothers, and in the long run they can expect and will get assistance from other free nations.

With the formal part of the Cuban discussions apparently over, it is also quite obvious that the situation is far from closed.

If KHRUSHCHEV or his blow-hard puppet think for one minute that they are ensconced in Cuba for good they are suffering from delusions of grandeur.

The Man About Town

Crystal Gazing Trends Cloudy to Others Crystal Clear to MAT

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

The political, economic and social fronts are rife with reports, projections, hopes and guesses. Issued by representative agencies, they deal with what has gone before and/or what lies ahead. No! I just won't make anything out of "lies."

Last fall, this column published the first of its Buying Demand Bulletins. It proved electrifying — some said MAT should be electrocuted — and of such interest and value to retail outlets that sentiment has grown that the time is ripe (some sources say over-ripe) for issuance of another.

Since this column is devoted to public service—a tool of the people... a little dull, did you say?... there follows a list of items for which a survey indicates slackening demand. It is suggested that merchants keep a careful eye on inventories and guard against stockpiling this merchandise:

Anvils, blacksmith
Lanterns, magic Cuspidors, brass
Phonographs, Victor
Eyeshades, green
Spats, side-button
Fobs, watch
Yokes, ox

During the LAST cold spell, Mrs. Pauline Krug of Oxford, phoned that her thermometer registered -10 at 8 a.m. when The Press' indicator showed an even zero.

The lady lives in Brandon Township between Baldwin and Sashabaw Roads, and thinks that spot is the "Little Siberia" of the U.S.... Much as the MAT would like to make a personal survey, he's declared the area off limits for himself until July 4.

DID YOU KNOW?—That the largest TV contract ever signed was that between Kraft Foods and onetime barber Perry Como, totaling $25 million... Taken along with the Christmas pardon served up to Jake the Barber, looks as if the hair cutters are doing all right by themselves.

Retiring after 34 years with Pontiac Motor Division, Service Department Office Manager

William (Bill) F. Dorris of 11 Spokane Villa, was honored last Friday at a dinner at The Elks. Looking after things were Dean Smale of Walled Lake, head arranger, and John S. Mahony of Birmingham, emcee for the affair.

The retiree has no plans—just intends to sit around the house!... Memo to Mrs. D.: Man the domestic life raft — looks like stormy seas ahead.

But regardless and notwithstanding, a column salute to a longtime friend on his fine span of service and all best wishes for many, many pleasure-filled and rewarding years.

'Who Says No News Is Good News?'

David Lawrence Says:

Listen to Other Side of Steel Story

WASHINGTON—Fair play is always extolled as a virtue in a Democratic system, but it is regrettably true that, in public controversies, the American people often get only one side of the story.

If, for instance, public-opinion polls were taken today, a large number of those interviewed would answer that the steel companies in April 1962 were not acting in "good faith" with President Kennedy when steel prices were raised.

Mr. Kennedy, as recently as Dec. 17, repeated his charge of bad faith and said he would do everything he did last April all over again.

But will the millions of people who heard those statements over television and radio ever get the other side? This week Roger Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp., in an interview in Look magazine, tells his side of the story for the first time.

Some general statements have been made before by the steel company official, but there has been no such spirited and explicit rebuttal.

It is believed that the reason for the new pronouncement is the fact that, on Dec. 17, the President—in a radio and television interview over all three national networks, before an estimated 21 million viewers—made again the same charge of lack of good faith which he made last April.

Mr. Blough flatly contradicts the President's charges of bad faith. He says that, while he holds no animosity toward President Kennedy, there are certain "misconceptions" he wants to rectify—among them, the following:

"That I purposely lulled President Kennedy into the false impression that U.S. Steel would not raise prices, and then raised them—which is absolutely contrary to the facts.

"That my personal call on the President to inform him of the price rise last April 10 was a calculated affront. Again, this is completely opposite to the truth.

"That U.S. Steel did not need a price rise—entirely untrue—and that our move had political overtones—equally untrue."

Mr. Blough says that the price increase would not have hurt and, indeed, would have helped the American economy. He adds:

"And I am convinced that pricing by political pressure, rather than pricing by the forces exerted in a free competitive market, weakens the industrial strength upon which America's very survival may depend in time of crisis."

TROUBLED BY REMARK

Mr. Blough recalls that, when the President telephoned the negotiators on both sides on the last day of March, congratulating them on the contract, Mr. Kennedy included this remark: "It is obviously noninflationary and should provide a solid base for continued price stability."

The U.S. Steel chairman says this remark troubled him at the time, since he had repeatedly told the President that "cost increases were basically the cause of this nation's recent inflation and that a price rise was long overdue U.S. Steel."

Mr. Blough declares that Mr. Kennedy nevertheless made "what was probably the strongest attack on a private industry ever made by a president."

Mr. Blough insists that the American consumer would hardly have noticed the price change, as it was only three-tenths of a cent per pound.

All this was an experience unique in American history, and it is important that the public should have "the other side" in view of the heavy publicity advantage enjoyed by a President of the United States.

Hal Boyle Says:

Say What You Mean? Now, Don't Be Silly

NEW YORK —If you're going to be a social success in 1963, you'll have to pep up your double-talk.

Practice makes perfect in double-talk, the art of saying what you don't mean—and meaning what you don't say. You can't trust to on-the-spot inspiration. You have to keep everlastingly at it.

For the beginners (and those who have failed to keep up their oral exercises in this form of non-communication), here are a few everyday examples of double-talk plus their literal translations:

"We thought our daughter would feel more at home in a small community college." (The admissions people at Vassar, Radcliffe, Bryn Mawr, Wellesley and Smith thought so, too.)

"Maude is one woman who does not mind telling her age." (Not that is, since she quit having birthdays 10 years ago.)

"Gee, boss, I'll never be able to understand where you get all your ideas." (You must be stealing them from somebody besides me.)

"Come right in, Joe. Long time no see." (I warned the receptionist to tell this guy I was away on a three-month trip.)

"If they give you any trouble at all, don't hesitate to use my name." (That'll get you in even more trouble.)

"It was a real bargain, dear, and imagine—I got it for only $10." (Ten bucks down, and a year to pay.)

"I think you'll enjoy the corned beef, sir, it's our chef's special for today." (It didn't go very well yesterday or the day before.)

"Frankly, Jim, if you hadn't told me, I wouldn't even have known you had new dentures." (I thought all the members of your family sounded like that when they chewed celery.)

"Your husband is so witty, Frances! Really, he should be on the stage." (Or is scaffold the word I'm groping for?)

"That child of yours is as smart as a tack." (And I'd like to be the first to put a hammer to him!)

"Man, you're really a sight for sore eyes." (Mine hurt every time I look at you.)

"Gee, Mabel, you got a million-dollar body, baby." (Too bad it's wrapped around a 10-cent mind.)

"Manhattan's a great place to visit, but I'd sure hate to live here." (I looked and looked for a job, but couldn't find one.)

"I insist, pal, this one's on me." (Then you get the next one, old buddy, after the rest of the crowd arrives.)

"I'm sorry I can't tonight, George, but I could go out with you Friday." (You do get paid on Fridays, don't you?)

"What kind of a woman do you think would marry you merely for your money?" (My kind!)

"Stick with me, kid, and you'll always travel first class." (After all, there's only one fare on the subway.)

Voice of the People:

'Cuban Issue Authorities Should Be Investigated'

So the Cuban problem for the U.N. is ended, and the recordings go to the dead files! But discussions were "helpful" in letting us know that Russian troops, missiles and warheads remain in Cuba; that the build-up continues. Why didn't Mr. Kennedy mention this to the freedom fighters at that Miami rally, or did he know that they have known this for months?

Let the Commies thank Adlai Stevenson, our "expert" advisers, and our State Department for a job "well done" in protecting our security. Sure, we didn't gain or insure anything by the blockade, other than expense, but we did grease the skids for eventual loss of Guantanamo and the Canal Zone. We might as well include Florida and points north.

Before it is too late our senators and congressmen had better unite to reverse the trend by investigating our State Department and those "expert" advisers.

Press Liberty

International Press Institute Report

Nineteen sixty-two was a grim year for believers in press freedom. Looking across the globe, no editor can feel happy. In Africa any complacency is rank hypocrisy. Most new-nation states decided that freedom of the press is a "luxury" they will not accept. More accurately, the individual rulers, seized with a heady intoxication of power, have found independent thinking an embarrassment.

The press has been bullied into a narrowly subservient government line, or emasculated.

Ghana's government took the final step in taking over the one courageous and independent newspaper. In Nigeria there is keen apprehension. In British East Africa, a number of African politicians have made it clear that they are unlikely to tolerate a free press.

In the isolated apartheid state of South Africa, the noose placed around the neck of the well established English press has been tightened. Courageous editors in the predominantly English-speaking cities have been inspired by the cold courage of Johannesburg's "The Rand Daily Mail" as the police tighten.

In Asia, the Indian press has notably maintained its great traditions, even to the embarrassment of a popular Prime Minister. In the great national ferment which has followed the Chinese invasion there has been clear evidence that the press of India is free. However, from India to the North Pacific fringe the murky picture darkens.

The few Pakistan editors and publishers who have dared to criticize either central or local government have suffered reprisals.

In Burma, the high hopes aroused by the Declaration of Rights, won for the Burma press in December 1961, have been dissipated since the Army coup.

In Thailand and the former French colonies along China's borders, we have long looked in vain for any evidence of an independent press. No one in Asia or Africa has moved further toward totalitarianism than President Sukarno in Indonesia.

The picture is brighter in Europe. DeGaulle's France has given ample proofs that free freedom of the press still runs from the Channel to the Mediterranean.

In the Low Countries, Scandinavia, Italy and Austria, as in Britain, there has been abundant evidence that each new attempt to interfere with the liberty of newspapers has summoned a strong reaction.

Over-all freedom did not lose ground in 1962 in Western Europe, Britain, or Britain's three oldest dominions. However, in Latin America, the various dictatorships continue to ensure that few peoples enjoy the democracies.

In the strongest of all bastions of liberty, the United States, the Cuban crisis produced suggestions of a major breach in the traditional independence of the American Press.

The worldwide fight in the newspapers of the democracies against the "government hand-out" has been brought to the front of the stage by the Washington controversy.

However, no IPI member, having added up the score across the non-Communist world, has much reason for pleasure or complacency about the developments of 1962. In many countries, editors and publishers striving to tell the truth to their communities have been silenced or dispossessed.

Will Teddy Bear Up Under Strain of Family Restrictions?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—Youthful Sen. Teddy Kennedy, through no fault of his own, is having a tough time living up to the ground rules laid down for him by the Kennedy family.

The President has let it be known to news-men that his advice to Teddy is to stay out of the Washington lime-light and "confine himself to Massachusetts chussets matters."

No one can say RUTH MONTGOMERY tried. The 30-year-old "baby" of the clan has scrupulously declined any social or speaking engagements that are not "available to all other freshmen senators."

In preparing for his first press conference as a sworn senator last week his staff invited only four or five reporters representing Massachusetts newspapers, after first cautioning them to tip off no other newsmen about the session.

Had Teddy thrown the conference open to all reporters, they well knew, the glamour of the Kennedy name would have attracted almost as many correspondents as a presidential conference.

This would certainly not be the case for other senators, old or new.

The Senator's youngest son was accorded a much coveted honor when the famed gridiron Club invited him to be its speaker. Teddy refused, knowing that it was his family connections which had prompted the bid.

The Women's National Press Club asked Teddy to share the speaker's platform with newly elected GOP congressman-at-large Robert A. Taft Jr. of Ohio action of another famous political clan at its annual congressional dinner.

Teddy refused, and not until the club agreed to invite every new senator to speak did he finally deliver his "maiden senatorial speech—a two-minute one—there last week.

FUNNY, TOO

Using the same brand of humor as his big brother, Teddy then brought down the house with his opening line: "Well, now that we are all here . . ."

As a matter of fact, every member of the peripatetic Kennedy except his ailing father was actually in Washington that day, because of his swearing-in.

No photographers are permitted when the Senate is in session, and for that reason newly sworn senators traditionally have the vice president repeat the ceremony after the first day's adjournment, to record it for posterity.

The eleven other new senators showed up for the picture-taking with Vice President Johnson immediately after the session, but Teddy ducked out and went to his office.

Only after photographers stormed his doors did he reluctantly agree to return to the chamber and pose for oath-taking portraits.

Teddy is deliberately trying to keep his performance in low key, now that he is here. This is unusually difficult for a gregarious, ambitious Kennedy, and how long he can play the out-of-character role remains to be seen, particularly since the press and the public are dogging his footsteps.

DENIES RUMORS

The Kennedys are acutely sensitive to campaign charges that Teddy was blatantly cashing in on his brother's position to win the nomination and the election. Being a senator is the first salaried job that the young multimillionaire has ever held, and many critics accused him of insensitivity in "trying to start at the top."

Rumors circulated that he would request assignment to the highly coveted foreign relations or armed services committees.

Asked about this at his first press conference, he denied the charge and said in effect: "I have not requested any committee. I will take whatever assignments are given me."

Established Democratic policy gives every new senator at least one major committee membership. Ted Kennedy will be in a tough spot in the Senate cloakrooms. Some of his colleagues, hoping to curry White House friendship, will fawn on him. Others, fearful that he will relay legislative strategy secrets to his brother, will avoid him.

Like other members of the clan, Teddy has a knack for poking good-natured fun at himself. He proved it during his "maiden" speech when he grinned that on stopping by the White House to give the President his ideas on the State of the Union message, he was rewarded by: "Are you still using that greasy kid stuff on your hair?"

It seems likely that Teddy will need this sense of humor rather frequently in the testing days to come.

Many rare birds, found in New Zealand, cannot fly. One species flies only for pleasure.

Bank Robber Has an Off Day

CHAMBLEE, Ga. (AP)—Detective Capt. Ted Wayne said Roy Alton Lane, 38, tried to rob the Peachtree Bank & Trust Co. Tuesday but everything went wrong.

Wayne said the man walked in, waved a pistol and ordered: "Put the money in a sack."

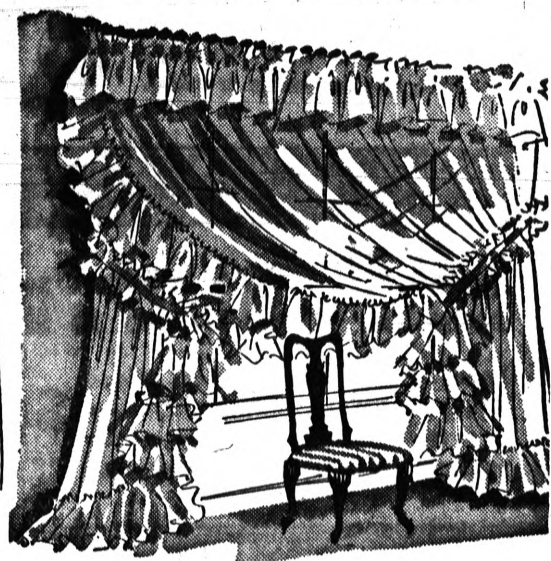

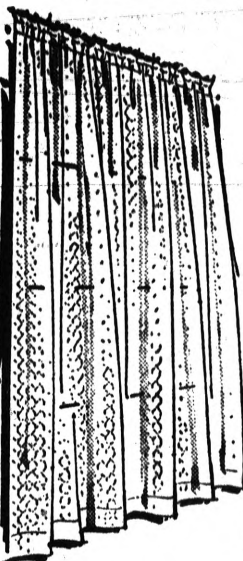

But Lane hadn't brought a sack. A bank employee started looking for one.

Then the gunman suddenly collapsed and bank employees tied him up—with a rope he had brought with him.

Lane, a onetime truck driver was held for investigation of attempted bank robbery.

State of the Union So Good, Congress Didn't Cheer

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The state of the Union, as appraised by President Kennedy, is so good there wasn't much for Congress to cheer about.

Permit me to explain what I mean by that.

Reporters covering a presidential State of the Union address before a joint session of the House and Senate generally fall into two categories.

Some of us are dress noters. We observe and record for posterity the color of the dress that the First Lady is wearing. The rest of us are clapping counters. We keep track of the number of times that the President is applauded.

During the Eisenhower administration, I was a dress noter, but since Kennedy has been in office I have been a clapping counter.

Frankly, I prefer dress noting, particularly when Jackie Kennedy is in the dress, but I felt that I needed experience in clapping counting to become a truly well-rounded journalist.

According to my files, Kennedy's previous S.O.T.U. messages, which were rather grim recitals of the problems besetting the nation, were applauded 35 to 37 times.

But Monday's message, which presented a comparatively cheery outlook, including a prospective tax cut, was applauded only 20 times, and three of them were of the built-in variety.

They came when the President mentioned the names of U.S. servicemen killed in Cuba, South Korea and Viet Nam. Therefore, the speech itself was applauded only 17 times, including traditional before and after ovations.

If I were Kennedy, I would find this paradox disturbing.

Will Discuss Committeemen

House Speaker Plans to Confer With Romney

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker Allison Green will discuss his plans for committee assignments and chairmen with Gov. George Romney before he makes them public next week.

Aides to Romney said Green has agreed to confer with the governor later this week. He was to have a preliminary talk today with Robert Danhof, the governor's legislative aide.

Green said he would be willing to listen to suggestions from Romney on committee appointments or chairmanships, adding that thus far, "they have exerted no pressure at all."

Green is spending the current week of legislative recess going over the committee assignments at his home at Kingston, and expects to have them worked out by Monday.

As speaker, he will select chairmen and members for each of the House's 48 standing committees, which range in size from 15 (conservation) to five members.

The job involves going over applications from each legislator, who submits to the speaker his first, second and third choices for committee assignments.

"It's not possible to give everybody just what he wants, but I am trying to meet their choices in as many cases as I can," said Green.

He indicated yesterday he will maintain, and perhaps even strengthen, Republican party positions on certain key committees to reflect the GOP's 58-52 controlling majority in the House.

Firm Sets Up Division to Market Art Objects

ZEELEND (AP) — Herman Miller, Inc., has established a new division to concentrate on design and marketing of objects, accessories and folk art. The furniture firm announced yesterday that the new unit is an extension of a program started in May 1961 at Miller's textiles and objects shop in New York City.

It seems to imply that if the state of the Union keeps on improving, he may wind up being boored.

But, as my wife keeps pointing out, I am not Kennedy. My wife is good at noticing little things like that.

On certain issues mentioned in the address, the state of the Union appeared to be about three feet wide, that being the approximate breadth of the center aisle, or party dividing line, in the House chamber.

A reference, for instance, to medicare produced gladsome response in the eastern, or Democratic, side, whereas large pockets of silence were observed in the west.

You can draw your own conclusions from that. As a clapping counter, I just report the facts.

I was advised, incidentally, by my dress-noting colleagues that Mrs. Kennedy wore black. They did not indicate whether this had any particular significance.

Detroiters Will Vote on School Aid Funds

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit voters will be asked at the April election to approve $410 million in new funds for school construction and operation of the public school system.

The Detroit Board of Education said yesterday a $30-million bond issue will be put before the voters along with a proposed $320-million, five-year tax levy for public school operation.

Funds from the proposed bond issue would be used to complete construction of schools called for five years ago in a citizens' committee study of Detroit school needs. Gov. George Romney headed that committee.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

2 Main Types of Ulcers Plague Mankind

A very rich but high-strung man was once heard to say: "Up to now I've been working on my first million, now I'm working on my first ulcer."

Let's hope that he took stock of himself and prevented his first ulcer by learning to relax and to handle his emotional problems with equanimity.

Pectic ulcer is really two separate diseases: gastric (stomach) ulcer and duodenal ulcer which occurs just beyond the outlet of the stomach.

Most persons with duodenal ulcer are men, BRANDSTADT says, but both men and women get gastric ulcers in about the same proportion.

The nervous tensions that are now known to play a large part in causing duodenal ulcers have not been associated with gastric ulcers.

Duodenal ulcers rarely become cancerous but gastric ulcers often do.

This has led some surgeons to recommend removing that part of the stomach that harbors an ulcer in every person who has this condition.

LEERY OF OPERATION

But there is a growing belief that this operation should not be performed unless there is definite proof of the presence of a cancer.

The pain of both types of ulcer is the same. It has been called a chemical pain because it is aggravated by contact of the normal stomach acids on the raw ulcer surface and is relieved by either neutralizing the acid or stopping the secretion of acid.

The pain characteristically can be localized with the tip of one finger near the midline of the body and above the navel.

It is not present when the stomach is full of food but comes on about two hours after eating and persists until either more food or an antacid is taken.

This pain is usually aggravated by eating such coarse foods as corn, peas, beans, apple skins and bran because of the hard fibrous coatings.

It is also aggravated by citrus juices or anything that contains vinegar and by smoking.

PAIN LEAVES

Because of the element of nervous tension in persons with duodenal ulcers it is a common observation that when on vacation there would be no pain.

Some persons even found that they had no pain on Sundays and holidays.

This would suggest severe tensions associated with the victim's work.

If the pains were worse on Sundays and holidays the injurious tensions usually centered around an unwholesome home situation.

Ideas about the treatment of peptic ulcers have changed in recent years with advances in knowledge.

Reliance used to be placed almost entirely on frequent feedings of milk and the taking of antacids between feedings.

REPLACE MILK

Many doctors have now replaced milk with gelatin.

In addition to the use of antacids they have turned to aluminum hydroxide preparations which form a gel in the stomach that coats over the ulcer and protects it from acids.

Beside these measures two ways have been discovered to cut down on the production of acid by the stomach.

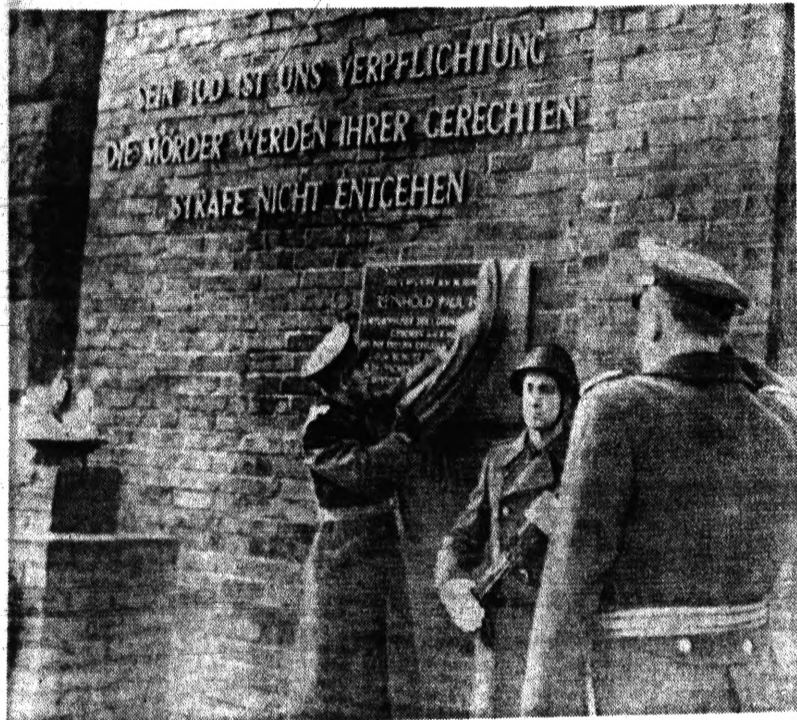

One is the use of drugs that block the nervous stimuli to the acid-producing glands in the lining of the stomach and the other is the application of quick freezing to the stomach lining.

This latter method is still considered experimental.

State Parole Chairman to Attend Convention

LANSING (UPI) — State Parole Board Chairman Leonard R. McConnell will represent Michigan at the first National Parole Institute in North Carolina next month.

The Michigan Crime and Delinquency Council said the institute would bring together representatives from 20 parole agencies throughout the country for a week-long conference, starting Feb. 10.

RED MONUMENT — East Berlin Reds unveil a monument at the wall for an East Berlin border guard killed in a refugee escape incident. It reads: "His death is our commitment. The murderers will not escape their just punishment."

Idle Tax Rate Increased on 1962 Return

R. I. Nixon, district director of the Internal Revenue Service today reminded Michigan employers of the increased unemployment tax rates effective on 1962 returns of Form 940, due this month.

Employers of four or more employees will pay an additional one-half per cent federal unemployment tax as a result of the nationwide increase effective in 1962, and also will have to pay an additional .15 per cent on wages for work done in Michigan.

The .15 per cent increase in Michigan is a result of the reduced credit allowed for state unemployment tax paid to Michigan.

This was brought about by the state's failure to repay advances made by the federal government to the Michigan unemployment account several years ago, Nixon said.

The first life insurance company was established in 1759 and remained the only one until 1770.

India Plans to Form Home Guard Force

NEW DELHI (AP) — India plans to raise a uniformed home guard of one-million men to help maintain internal security and assist in emergencies.

The decision was made because of the Chinese Communist threat, the circular said.

78 Enrolled in New School

ALLEDALE (AP) — Grand Valley State College announced Tuesday that 78 students already have been accepted for its pioneer class which enrolls next September.

Grand Rapids Union High School has furnished 10 students thus far to lead in number accepted from 23 West Michigan high schools for the new, state-supported, four-year liberal arts college.

Plans are being made for off-campus housing of students living beyond commuting range in the school's eight-county service area.

JFK's Legislative Goal

'Backgrounder' Error Miffed Newsmen

BY MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON, — Backstairs at the White House:

Now that voices are louder and emotions a bit more stable, it is possible to take a more detached view of President Kennedy's relations with the press over the New Year's weekend.

At his residence in Palm Beach, Fla., on Dec. 31, the President followed his practice of a year earlier and invited a group of 35 reporters to a nonattributable review of 1962 and preview of 1963.

They were permitted to file lengthy stories over the next few days, giving his views in detail and stopping short on source identification.

Some British reporters not in Florida, but who were permitted to read a transcript of his remarks at the State Department, used several direct quotations.

This quite naturally led to embarrassment, much heated discussion in the office of Press Secretary Pierre Salinger and a somewhat emotional determination within the White House itself, never again to have the President put in such a position.

Salinger, for example, wrote a prominent editor: "I am afraid, however, that the numerous breaches of this particular background—particularly by the organizations which were represented—mean that there will be no more of these."

PROBABLY CONTINUE

With no thought of challenging Salinger's influential position and quite aside from present feelings, it seems a fair bet that Kennedy will continue to use the background system of contact with reporters.

Possibly the New Year's convocation in Palm Beach will be altered or heavily restricted, but the simple truth is that the President frequently feels the need to communicate with the public, here and overseas, without stating his message in precisionary terms which would be involved in direct quotation and outright attribution.

For example, in the Palm Beach background he spoke more freely, in more detail and in what seemed to be greater frankness than was possible earlier in December when he made a chatty appearance for an hour on all television and radio networks.

The President liked the results of his television visit and plans to repeat it. But it may not meet his needs at the end of a year when, for example, he wants to point out rather clearly that certain members of Congress are major roadblocks in the path of legislative progress.

For another reason, however, the background sessions seem likely to continue, albeit a bit more restricted in attendance or otherwise altered.

Present at these meetings are representatives of the press associations, major news magazines, the nation's larger and more influential newspapers, plus the networks.

BLAMES EVERYBODY

Salinger recently has been inclined to blame virtually anyone but the White House for difficulties arising from the Dec. 31 background.

It should be noted, however, that the President and his press secretary invited the 35 persons who participated. The reporters had no voice in the matter.

LABORITE DIES — Morgan Phillips, 60, general secretary of British Labor party for 17 years, died last night in a London hospital. He retired from the post in 1961 after suffering a stroke.

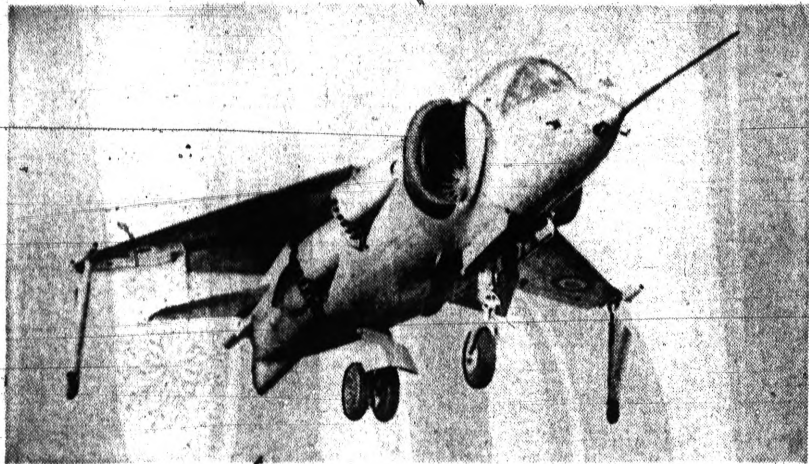

The "breaches" about which the press secretary complained are a bit overclouded.

The White House permitted reporters in Palm Beach to attribute their stories to the "high authority" and "associates of the President."

Then the two British newspapers, one with some degree of encouragement from a member of Kennedy's staff, shifted into direct quotations.

What this adds up to seems to be this:

When Kennedy wants to get his point across to the public, he will use any means available, from a three-network show to a private conversation with one columnist.

No Progress in Philadelphia Transit Strike

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A million riders had to scramble for alternate transportation again today because of a strike against the Philadelphia Transportation Co. (PTC).

No progress was reported yesterday after a 40-minute negotiating session between the PTC and Transport Workers Union (TWU), AFL-CIO, presided over by a three-man mediation panel.

Negotiators saw no hope for an early settlement of the strike by 5,600 TWU members who operate and maintain the City of Brotherly Love's bus, trolley and subway elevated lines.

However, union and company representatives stood by for a possible call from S. Harry Galfand, special labor adviser to Mayor James H. Tate, and a member of the mediation panel.

County GOP Will Hold Nomination Caucuses

Republican preconvention caucuses will be held next week in the county's six legislative districts to nominate state convention delegates for consideration at the party's Jan. 30 county convention.

The GOP county convention is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Pontiac Northern High School's auditorium. The state convention will be Feb. 15-16 at the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids.

County Republicans will send 161 delegates and 161 alternates to the state convention, one for every 800 votes cast in the county for the GOP candidate for secretary of state in the Nov. 6 election.

Precinct delegates from the county's 340 precincts will hold the county convention. Four of the district caucuses will be held next Tuesday—in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 6th districts. The 4th District caucus will be Jan. 23 and the 5th District Monday. All are scheduled for 8 p.m.

The caucuses also will hold hearings on proposed resolutions for consideration at the county convention and select a list of some 77 appointed delegates to the county convention for those precincts having no elected delegates.

Locations of the district caucus meetings are:

First District—Old Mill Tavern, 5838 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township; 2nd District—Super-visitors Room, 1 Lafayette St., Pontiac; 3rd District—Birmingham Community House, 380 S. Bates St., Birmingham.

More Disaster on U.S. Carrier

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Eleven crewmen of the disaster-prone carrier Constellation have been injured in an aircraft landing accident. Two of them lost both legs, another one leg.

In a little more than two years, 56 men have been killed and 20 injured on the 75,000-ton warship.

The latest accident occurred yesterday when a steel arresting cable snapped and whipped across the deck like a scythe as a jet fighter attempted a landing.

"It was like a cracked whip," said a flight surgeon. "It had a guillotine effect. There was no time to get out of the way."

The accident occurred during landing tests as Cmdr. H. S. Matthews, 41, of nearby Coronado, was coming in for a landing in a Phantom II, 110 miles west of San Diego.

The cable, which was supposed to snag the jet to a stop, broke. Matthews gunned his engine, took off and flew to nearby Miramar Naval Air Station.

Dem 'Shakedown' Stirs Inquiry Call

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., says he will seek a congressional investigation of reports that civil service workers are being asked to buy $100 tickets to a Democratic party fund raising affair here Friday night.

Williams, calling the reported solicitation "a shakedown" in a speech on the Senate floor yesterday, pointed to reports in Washington newspapers that government workers are being offered tickets "at $10 down and $10 a month."

The senator said it's against the law to seek political contributions on federal property or from civil service workers.

Doesn't Make It Into Bar

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Down the chimney went Ray Tallman. He got stuck at the bottom. Rescue crews with sledge hammers got him out.

It happened Tuesday at a bar at Sweetwater, west of Miami. Police Chief Jack Knight said Tallman told him the bar was closed when he got there, so he tried the chimney route.

The chimney was 12 inches square on top, but tapered to 8 inches below, and the 140-pound Tallman couldn't make it. Tallman, 40, was charged with breaking and entering.

Dixie Negro Gets More Votes Than 6 White Rivals

DEERFIELD BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Emanuel Knowles, 28, the first Negro ever to run for the Deerfield Beach City Commission, drew more votes than any of the six white candidates in the primary election.

Knowles, a contractor, and the next five-ranking vote-getters in Tuesday's primary will contest for three commission seats in the regular election Jan. 29.

Deerfield Beach is a small East Coast town about 35 miles north of Miami. It had 3,327 registered voters, including 813 Negroes.

To Hear Report on Room Space

Waterford School Unit to View Overcrowding

Waterford Township's Board of Education tomorrow night will hear a study committee report pertaining to proposed classroom space for secondary school students during the 1963-64 school year.

Last September, ninth graders were assigned to the school district's two high schools due to overcrowded conditions in the junior highs. Prior to this, the junior highs accommodated seventh, eighth and ninth graders.

Now, indications are that overcrowding is becoming a problem in the high schools, and with the addition of a large freshman class next September, the situation will become worse.

The report is expected to provide board members with necessary projected enrollment data on which a decision on future housing plans can be based.

Also slated for board attention is a recommendation of the finance committee that the 1962-63 budget set last March be revised.

The revision is called for due to appropriation of more state aid than anticipated.

The board will also consider recommendations from the acting superintendent concerning new teacher contracts and a requested leave of absence.

Avoids Labor Issues to Protect Tax Cut Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is reported to be steering clear of proposing new methods for handling big labor strikes for fear of stirring up a hornets nest which could delay his tax cut proposals.

Officials indicated today that is why the President's State of the Union message Monday touched only lightly on welfare and social plans. He wants to keep Congressional attention focused on his chief 1963 legislative goal, a big tax cut.

Reopening the emotion-charged labor law issue, high administration sources said, could provide a diversion some congressmen could use to avoid coming to grips with the tax program.

Moreover, the current rash of strikes on the East-Gulf Coast waterfront, on newspapers in New York and Cleveland and on the Philadelphia city transit system, has created an atmosphere not considered conducive to labor law revision.

However, Kennedy may be forced to introduce some specific legislation to deal with the 26-day dock strike.

TAFT-HARTLEY REQUIREMENT

Unless there is a sudden and unexpected settlement, the President is required under the Taft-Hartley law to report the situation to Congress with whatever special legislative plans he has to end it.

No President has ever had to do this in the 15-year Taft-Hartley law history. Early in 1960, when the record 116-day steel strike was about to resume, the threat of such special strike-ending legislation was enough to force a contract settlement.

The government's representative in the dock strike negotiations, Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said that the White House probably would step in if today's session proved fruitless. He apparently meant Kennedy is ready to lower the boom in a Congressional message.

Sources familiar with both the docks and New York newspaper strikes consider that ambitions of the union leaders of both strikes are an important feature of the disputes.

Thomas Gleason, vice-president and chief negotiator of the AFL-

CIO International Longshoreman's Association, is an announced candidate to unseat Capt. William Bradley as the dock union's president. This, informants report, has created a union division that has seriously interfered with settlement efforts.

In addition, union sources say the president of the striking AFL-CIO printers local union in New York, Bertram Powers, is eyeing his union's national presidency.

Another reason the administration may be holding off making recommendations on strike legislation is an uncertainty about what to recommend.

The administration for some time has favored use of more public boards to get informed outsider views on how to settle major labor disputes. But for some months there has appeared a growing tendency of labor disputants to ignore settlement terms proposed by such groups.

If Rip Van Winkle woke up and asked us what a parking lot is, we'd say it's a place which the average motorist circles about six times before he decides he'd better park. — Earl Wilson.

Plan Courses in Dropouts

Because of the rate of dropouts among Pontiac high school students during the past 10 years, the department of adult education is now offering a specialized program designed to meet the needs of persons wishing to earn a high school diploma.

Ray Graff, director of vocational and adult education, noted that there have been 2,000 dropouts in the last 10 years.

Approximately one out of every three Pontiac students does not complete high school, he said.

"With peak enrollment coming up," Graff said, "there is a real need for these classes. A person cannot get a job without a high school education."

Classes in this specialized program will meet two evenings a week, 7 to 10 p.m. for 10 weeks. Registration will take place in Room 216, Central High School, at 7 p.m. Jan. 24.

A $20 registration fee is charged per term.

River Hearing Slated Feb. 14

To Hear Any Reasons
Against Improvements

A public necessity hearing on a proposed $2.8 million worth of improvements to the Clinton River in Pontiac has been scheduled for Feb. 14 by the Oakland County Drain Board.

The hearing will get under way at 10 a.m. in the City Commission Chambers to learn any reason why the project shouldn't commence April 1, County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry said today.

The drain commission is supervising the job at the City Commission's request.

The project entails deepening, widening and straightening the river to ease its flow through the downtown district and thus reduce the possibility of flooding.

County engineers have estimated the project will cost approximately $2.85 million, and should be completed within 15 to 18 months.

Barry said his office would begin negotiating for right of way immediately following the public hearing.

The county will sell bonds to finance the construction and the city will retire the bonds over 30 years by levying a special assessment on property owners at large.

Most of the improved Clinton will flow through tunnels.

Construction schedules have been arranged to dovetail with State Highway Department plans to build a perimeter road around the downtown district this spring.

Nik Out to Promote Rift Among Allies While in Berlin?

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
BERLIN—Behind the bluster of the East German Communist Congress may be an attempt by Premier Khrushchev to promote suspicion among the Western allies that he is headed for secret deals with President Kennedy.

While Khrushchev's word war with the Red Chinese holds the spotlight at the world Communist meeting in East Berlin, the broad hints emerging from the Congress may well be calculated to arouse fear in West Germany that some U.S. concessions on the future of Berlin are in the making.

Progress on the Berlin question, East German Red Chief Walter Ulbricht has told the Communists publicly, would pave the way for agreement on other spheres, such as disarmament.

Both President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev have problems with their allies.

There is reason to believe that the Chinese deeply suspect Khrushchev of wanting some sort of two-way agreement with the United States, leaving Peking on the outside looking in.

And it would not be surprising if some leaders in the West entertained similar suspicions that President Kennedy might make a two-way deal with Khrushchev, leaving them out in the cold.

Khrushchev is noted for his penchant for turning a bad situation to his own use.

He is being badgered by the Red Chinese and others among the world's Communist leaders who believe he is tossing away opportunities that could advance the cause of world revolution.

Khrushchev has put forward on other occasions, however cautiously, the idea that the world's two great powers might be able to get together, whack things up between them and keep the world from plunging into nuclear war.

WESTERN AGGRAVATION
Strains in the Western camp have been aggravated by disagreement over the shape of Western defenses. The French now have given a ringing "no" to the idea of a multinational nuclear force with the U.S. finger on the trigger.

The British are worried about their own role in the Western alliance. They remain outside Europe's Common Market, doubtful if they can wriggle in past the barriers erected by stubborn Charles de Gaulle. They are bedeviled at home politically by U.S. insistence in running the nuclear defense show.

Premier Khrushchev's impromptu speech on his arrival in Communist East Berlin was full of bombast.

But he made it clear he had no intention of leading the Communist camp to war for the sake of promoting the world revolution. It has to be done in other ways, he insisted.

Khrushchev's future performance at the congress may contain important clues indicating the direction of his offensive against NATO unity.

Showdown Near in British Market Bid

BY PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
In the words of no less a personage than Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, the moment of truth is approaching for Britain's bid to join the European Common Market.

Unless a change can be brought about in French President Charles de Gaulle's attitude, the chances appear no better than even, and perhaps less than even.

Much depends on protracted negotiations, as can be seen in a flurry of conferences — Macmillan to Rome, Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani to Washington, German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder to London.

Until the issue is settled, perhaps within the next 60 to 90 days, the question of a common European defense policy must be held in abeyance, as must European political unity and negotiations toward a freer world trade as seen under the United States' Trade Expansion Act.

Without a final decision, British businessmen have no way to forecast the future and British foreign and domestic policy must remain at a standstill.

At the center of this is de Gaulle, and to a lesser extent Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

This week de Gaulle rejected both President Kennedy's offer of Polaris missiles for France and the NASSAU agreement on a multi-national nuclear arsenal for NATO.

He also sounded what could be the death knell for British entry into the Common Market. Yet unless he is willing to stand totally alone, de Gaulle might not hold the final answer. De Gaulle's strategy has been aimed at ever closer ties with West Germany, and Adenauer has gone along with this, including de Gaulle's tough terms for British Common Market membership.

But Adenauer is a lame-duck chancellor. Schroeder wants Britain in the European family, as do a reported 80 per cent of the West German people.

Italy, facing isolation in a Europe dominated by a Paris-Bonn axis not only favors Britain in the Common Market but also supports the idea of a multinational nuclear deterrent under NATO.

In this, she is joined by most of the small nations of NATO, including those who also are members of the six-nation Common Market.

These small nations want Britain inside the European Community as a counterbalancing force to the big countries and have refused to go along with the idea of European political unity until Britain's membership has been accepted.

They also are more and more coming to the belief that some concessions should be made to British agriculture, even if it means reopening the hard-won agreements which the six finally reached among themselves just a year ago.

Present terms would require a total shift not only in Britain's relations with the commonwealth and the system of British agricultural supports, but also would mean an immediate jump of about 12 per cent in British food prices — conditions which Britain scarcely can meet.

The next few weeks will be crucial ones both for NATO and the future of European unity.

Doggie Loses Its Voice

SPARKS, Nev. (AP)—Rocky, a 5-year-old boxer is again a canine resident in good standing. The City Council reinstated Rocky's dog license after formal notification that he had undergone a successful ventriculocordectomy.

The council had withdrawn Rocky's license after complaints that he barked too much and too loud.

A veterinarian said it will be six months before he can bark again, and then with only a fraction of his former volume.

Ice Troubles Cutter in Muskegon Harbor

MUSKEGON (AP)—The Coast Guard cutter Raritan was dispatched from its Milwaukee base last night to break up ice which blocked the Muskegon Harbor.

The Raritan arrived here about 8 p.m. and encountered trouble immediately near the wall of the channel where ice was 3 feet thick.

Three hours later, the car ferry U.S. 16, which plies between Milwaukee and Muskegon, and the tanker Detroit arrived and were forced to wait outside the channel while the Raritan worked to cut a path through the ice.

Walled Lake Official Fired, Another Resigns

By DON FERMOYLE

WALLED LAKE — Accused of "featherbedding" by City Manager E. V. Mercer, Building Inspector Ernest Campion learned that he was fired at a stormy meeting of the city council last night.

At the same meeting, Deputy City Clerk-Treasurer Mrs. Joanne Burke turned in her resignation and later broke into tears as she spoke in criticism of the city manager and council.

"This is a city government, gentlemen, and you're miffing it!" Mrs. Burke declared in an emotional speech near the end of the lengthy council session.

Earlier, Mrs. Burke, a city employee for more than a year, said she was leaving to take a "more promising position" with a private concern.

The dispute over Campion's dismissal flared up several times. Throughout most of the meeting, it was not clear whether he had quit, was still employed or had been fired by the city manager.

When asked for an explanation, Mercer said Campion had "walked out" after they had discussed combining Campion's job with the police and fire department. Mercer said Campion also called him a "fool."

"As far as I'm concerned, he quit," said Mercer.

Under Mercer's plan, Campion would serve as dispatcher for the police and fire departments in addition to his duties as building, plumbing, heating and electrical inspector and head of the city's Road Department.

"I sat here day after day with the building inspector having nothing to do but entertain the two ladies here," Mercer added, referring to Mrs. Burke and City Clerk Mrs. Shirley J. Ryden.

"I don't think the city has enough money to support that kind of featherbedding. I was doing it to save his job," Mercer concluded.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Councilman Wendell G. Kellogg Jr., who questioned the city manager's power in transferring an employee from one job to another, said Campion had been hired because the council agreed there was a need for a full-time inspector.

Asked for a ruling by Kellogg, City Atty. Howard Bond said Campion's transfer was a matter of policy and should be decided by the council.

Kellogg also questioned Mercer's authority in approving pay hikes for road employees which were not authorized in the budget.

The councilman asked for and received approval on a resolution which will keep city employees and equipment from being used in jobs on private property unless special permission is given by the council.

Answering Mercer's charges, Campion later said he had taken two days off which were due him. He said he had told this to the city manager before leaving.

Since then, Campion said he has been working. Mrs. Burke confirmed that Campion had been doing inspections and had received building permits and instructions from her.

"Mr. Mercer made it his business to go around town telling everyone I had quit," said Campion.

When Campion demanded to know his status later in the meeting, Mercer told him he could consider himself fired.

Following Mrs. Burke's outburst, Campion charged that Mercer was unqualified for the job before the meeting was gavelled to order by Mayor Louis E. James.

Franklin Hamilton was promoted from lieutenant to fire chief and Donald Vickery of 520-Decker Road was appointed lieutenant following recommendations by the manager.

The changes fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of former Fire Chief Joseph Nephew.

Mercer complained of a lack of cooperation from other city employees since being appointed permanent manager Dec. 18.

The mayor, Councilman Richard J. Watkins and others spoke out in support of the city manager during the meeting and called for more cooperation by other employees.

OK $930,172 Budget

HOLLY — A higher but "balanced" preliminary budget of $930,172 has been approved for operation of the Holly area School District during the 1963-64 fiscal year.

The tentative budget adopted by the Holly Board of Education is $72,004 more than the current 1962-63 total of $858,168. School Supt. Raymond N. Barber said yesterday.

Barber said higher outlay for the next fiscal year primarily will be caused by the scheduled opening of the district's new elementary school next fall.

Besides approving the budget, the board has authorized an increase in the educational staff, appointed a principal for the new school and agreed to school bus transportation for parochial school students for the first time.

Students who attend St. John's Catholic School will be picked up at the Holly village limits and dropped off at the Fenton parochial school at the edge of the Holly school district.

The St. John's students will be picked up in buses that normally are empty as they go out in the morning or return in the afternoon, Barber explained.

INCREASE STAFF

The board-approved increase of eight full-time teachers and one half-time instructor will bring the educational staff to a total of 97.

Barber said Donald Frown-

Al Kaline Will Speak at Dublin Elementary

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Detroit Tiger star Al Kaline, Oakland County chairman for the March of Dimes, will speak at a public meeting tomorrow at Dublin Elementary School.

The meeting, which will start at 10:30 a.m., will be attended by all Dublin school students. Kaline also will present a film on March of Dimes activities in the county.

felter, principal of Davisburg Elementary School for 5½ years, will take on additional duties as principal of the new elementary school under construction just north of Holly.

The superintendent said the new budget based on an anticipated enrollment of 2,655 students next fall, is not expected to exceed income if the current Oakland County tax allocation of 8.75 mills remains the same.

Major expenditures in the preliminary budget are $313,648 for elementary instruction, $305,932 for secondary instruction and $115,235 for plant operation. The instructional costs include teachers' salaries and instructional materials.

Following are the costs for other items included in the budget:

Special education, $25,453; capital outlay, $30,500; administration, $31,366; transportation, $73,328; maintenance, $19,685; fixed charges, $14,025; health service, $600; and attendance, $400.

Beck described the meeting as "relatively smooth" and said only six or seven of the audience voiced protests.

He said that the assessments were decreased for the five residents because they already were getting city water service and were paying a double water rate and tap-in charge.

Approximately $60,000 will be taken from the city's water fund for construction of the water service facilities, Beck said today.

"The next step is to get approval of the special assessment from the Michigan Finance Commission," he added.

"Then we will advertise for bids on the program."

The mayor said construction on the water facilities is expected to begin by April 1 and be completed by June 1.

Estimated cost of the proposed water system will be $3.87 per foot of frontage, according to City Attorney George Roberts.

Water was one of the main points of contention in the special election last June which led to annexation of the 300-acre Shelby Township area.

Contest for GOP Chair Remains an Open Race

Gov. George Romney yesterday gave further indication that the contest for Republican state chairman is open even though he has named former Oakland County GOP Chairman Arthur

G. Elliott Jr. as a qualified candidate.

"We're not going to block the consideration of anyone," Romney said, after discussing the matter with John A. Gibbs of Royal Oak, Elliott's assistant when Elliott was county chairman.

"I indicated that I did not object to his candidacy the governor said concerning Gibbs.

Romney praised Gibbs' work as campaign coordinator in 1962 from his position as executive assistant to the present GOP state chairman, George Van Peursem.

Van Peursem has announced he will not seek re-election. Romney has mentioned Elliott as "one of three qualified candidates."

Gibbs, thought by some to be one of the other two, has not yet said whether he will seek the post. He said he was "giving it serious consideration."

Many Republicans consider Elliott, Romney's campaign manager and closest political associate, to be the frontrunner.

Romney said the post will be filled after careful screening of all possible candidates by a group of some 60 or 70 party leaders, including Van Peursem.

He said they would follow the same procedure used at last August's state convention in the selection of candidates for the state administrative board.

A list of requirements for the job will be drawn up and candidates' qualifications compared to see who best fills the bill, Romney said.

Party leaders who take part in the deliberations will be reporting back to their districts or county caucuses, he added.

Agrees to Seek Jobs for Togo

LOME, Togo (AP) — After agreeing to head a new government, ex-Premier Nicholas Grunitsky took on today the burden of finding jobs for angry former soldiers who seized power Sunday and killed President Sylvanus Olympio.

Unemployment was expected to be Grunitsky's major task. Only 7 per cent of the 1.5 million people in this poverty-stricken West African state hold full-time jobs. Grunitsky, 49, a brother-in-law of the slain Olympio, agreed Tuesday to head a new government. But the nine-member military insurrection committee that overthrew Olympio still held power. It was reported signing up recruits for a new army as its solution to the unemployment problem.

Grunitsky, whose Progress party opposed Olympio's nonalignment policies, announced a policy of African unity and alignment with other former French colonies in Africa. The announcement was expected to increase friction with President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, who is lined up with another group of African states and would like to annex Togo.

He was sentenced by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem. Caulkins pleaded guilty Dec. 26 to breaking and entering the Riker Garage, 59 Wayne St., on Dec. 17 and taking between $12 and $20.

Pontiac City Affairs

Seek Better Rail Crossings

City commissioners last night called for joint action of the city and Grand Trunk Western Railroad to improve the condition of railroad crossings on Pontiac streets.

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon sparked the appeal when he asked City Manager Robert A. Stierer to investigate possibilities of repairing bumpy crossings.

"I haven't found a single crossing in the last week that didn't need some work," Harmon said.

Commissioner William H. Taylor strongly supported his appeal, suggesting a cooperative effort by the city and railroad to get the job done.

"If we have to pass a formal resolution, then we should do so soon," Taylor noted. "It's about time we got some action on this."

Taylor singled out the Johnson Street crossing as one in need of repair. Commissioner Dick M. Kirby complained about the condition of several east side crossings.

ASKS WARNING SIGN

Commissioner Milton R. Henry asked for a warning sign for northbound traffic approaching a crossing on Franklin Road near South Saginaw Street.

Stierer said he would contact railroad officials to see if a joint project could be initiated on the repair of crossings.

Most of the business on last night's agenda revolved around a series of public hearings and planning reports on proposed zoning changes and public improvements.

No objections were voiced at public hearings on proposed ordinances to rezone to Commercial-1 a lot located at 160 Palmer Street and Lots 129-133 inclusive, Gillespie & VanWagoner Addition.

Likewise, no objections were voiced at a public hearing on an ordinance to rezone to Commercial-2 Lots 80-81, Dupont Heights Subdivision.

Final approval of all three ordinances was deferred pending fulfillment of ordinance requirements by the owners.

A special assessment roll was ordered prepared for grading and graveling a Sarasota Avenue extension after no objections were heard at a hearing on plans for the proposed project.

A hearing on a special assessment roll to cover costs of a sanitary sewer in part of Bloomfield Avenue also was completed without objection.

In other business, commissioners accepted a planning commission recommendation to rezone South Park Subdivision from a residential to industrial land use classification.

The 50-acre subdivision is vacant except for a dozen small homes. It is bounded by South Boulevard, East Boulevard, the Michigan Airline Railroad and Bradford Street.

Commissioners ordered a rezoning ordinance prepared for presentation and public hearing at future meetings.

An ordinance also was requested for rezoning a six-acre parcel on Oakland Avenue just south of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad Belt Line.

The change has been recommended by the planning commission.

Nonviolent Integration Leader Supports Interfaith Campaign

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King has given his blessing to an interfaith campaign against racial barriers. But he says each church "should remove the yoke of segregation from its own body."

He also said church members should bring minority families into their communities and help them find homes.

The Atlanta Negro clergyman, a leader of the nonviolent wing of the forces of integration and president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, outlined his views Tuesday.

He held a news conference at the National Conference on Religion and Race, a meeting of 650 members of Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic organizations who are drawing up a program of action.

"SPEED INTEGRATION"
Dr. King said a joint program by the major faith groups would "speed the day when an integrated society is a reality," and would encourage Negroes to follow a nonviolent strategy.

He said after the unprecedented four-day Chicago convention which ends Thursday, every church and synagogue should develop a plan of action.

"If the churches and synagogues take a forthright stand," he said, "there will be integration."

He said they should "go out of their way to integrate their congregations even though their neighborhoods have not been desegregated."

He also proposed that they withdraw investments from companies that practice discrimination in hiring.

Dr. King approved of President Kennedy's recent executive order banning discrimination in federally assisted housing. But, he said, it is not strong enough and should be broadened.

Sargent Shriver Jr., director of the Peace Corps, addressed the conferees Tuesday night and suggested that church members could tithe their time and form volunteer religious units to work to eliminate racial barriers in the United States.

CECIL RHODE'S
"Alaskan Game Trails" and "Alaskan Angling"
Four years ago, 100,000 Pa. sportsmen and their families thrilled to Cecil Rhode's unbeatable pair of films from his native Alaska. Now he is back in the Keystone state with an all-new, all-different Alaskan program designed in high adventure and steeped in personal conquest. For Rhode is another of the famous WALLY TABER ASSOCIATES that search the globe for the unusual and bring it back on colored celluloid. "Alaskan Game Trails" reveals heretofore unknown wildlife in the remote corners of our 49th state. From crags, you are there as Rhode exposes his Alaska. "Alaskan Angling" takes you into the little-known Wood River Lake area where tight lines, tired wrists and giant fish dominate the scene. If you like hi-adventure with rod, rifle and a packboard, this is for you!

LETTUCE SALAD — The traditional, and simple, French dressing of three parts oil to one part wine vinegar, a little salt, pepper, garlic and tarragon, is perfect for western iceberg lettuce.

Prepare Your Lettuce With Tarragon Dressing

"If you can toss a salad without spilling it out of the bowl, you'll have a happy marriage," is an old French proverb. The French serve their salad as a separate course, after the entree and before the cheese, such as Brie, Port du Salut or Bleu.

Their dressing for the lettuce—and they use only lettuce, adding no vegetables or meats—is three parts olive or salad oil to one part wine vinegar; salt and freshly ground pepper. They always rub a wooden bowl with garlic before putting in the dressing and lettuce, and they sometimes add a light sprinkling of fresh tarragon.

Serve crisp western iceberg lettuce the French way; you'll like it.

Lettuce with Tarragon Dressing
1 medium head western iceberg lettuce
1 clove garlic, split
½ cup olive or salad oil
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
1 to 2 teaspoons fresh tarragon, or ½ to 1 teaspoon dried tarragon Core lettuce; wash in cold water and drain well. Place in plastic bag or transparent plastic wrap; refrigerate. Rub wooden salad bowl with garlic. Add oil, vinegar, salt, pepper, and tarragon to bowl. Let stand one hour, or longer, at room temperature. Tear lettuce into bowl; toss to coat with dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Nutrition Is Added to Gelatin Dessert

Here's an angelic strawberry-pink and shimmering dessert to enchant your family. Strawberry Fluff has the most delicate of textures and flavors and the most delectable of colors. And it couldn't be easier to make!

To make 4 to 6 servings: Prepare one 3-ounce package strawberry-flavored gelatin according to package directions; cool. Stir in 1 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals; chill until slightly thickened. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and beat until light in color and double in volume. Turn into serving dishes; chill until firm. Garnish with strawberries.

Light Lemon Sauce Excellent on Beans

Even people who think they don't like vegetables will sing the praises of "Best Beans." Here, in a fine sauce briskly sharpened with lemon juice, the flavorsome green beans taste better than ever.

Best Beans

1 can (1 lb.) blue lake green beans
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup chicken broth
1 egg yolk
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Heat beans in their own liquid; keep warm while preparing sauce.

Melt butter and blend in flour, salt and pepper. Stir in chicken broth and cook and stir until mixture boils and thickens. Beat egg yolk lightly and stir slowly into hot sauce. Cook over very low heat, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened (do not boil). Stir in lemon juice.

Drain beans well and stir in sauce. Serve at once. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

'Battle of Miami' Rages on Among Divided Cuban Exiles

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The "battle of Miami" rages on among splintered Cuban exile groups despite President Kennedy's plea for unity.

About 30,000 Cubans assembled in the Orange Bowl heard the President urge exiles "to submerge those differences which may now disturb you, to the united end that Cuba is free."

Because of the differences mentioned by Kennedy, thousands of others did not hear his plea.

They stayed away. A rival political group was conducting its own ceremony honoring ransomed invasion prisoners.

No signs of healing the rifts are apparent.

The schism separating some of the 200 anti-Castro bodies is profound. Deep-rooted division prevails particularly between former—and present—followers of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista and men who risked their lives to overthrow him only to split later with Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Exiles say once they are in a free Cuba, elections will settle everything. But how could binding elections be held in exile under existing conditions? And how could unification be achieved without them? Answers have not been found.

RANKING GROUP

The Cuban Revolutionary Council, formed with U.S. cooperation to mount the April 17, 1961, Cuba invasion, is tacitly recognized by the U.S. government and some others, as the ranking exile organization.

The council has bitter foes as well as staunch supporters among the 300,000 exiles, more than a third of whom live in Miami.

Rival groups ask such things as why Council President Jose Miro Cardona, as Castro's first prime minister, permitted the Cuban executions that brought grief to thousands of families.

Friends reply that whatever delusions Dr. Miro Cardona had about Castro's revolution, he became such an enemy of it later that he sent even his son on the expedition to invade Castro's island. The son, Pepe, was one of the freed prisoners honored at the Dec. 29 Orange Bowl ceremony.

Another, Enrique Llaca Jr., son of a leader of the exile committee that sponsored negotiations for their freedom, had thoughts of his own. Llaca said about 100 of the invasion brigade companies were

Industry Output Maintains Pace

No Change Recorded in December

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial production and construction activity in December remained unchanged from November, the Federal Reserve Board reported yesterday.

Retail sales held at the record high reached in November, the board said.

Industrial production last month was 120 per cent of the 1957-1959 average, the same as in November. From July to December, the production index held between 119 and 120 per cent.

While the output of consumer goods increased somewhat in December, the board said, production of equipment and output of materials were unchanged.

New construction put in place, which moved upward 2 per cent to a seasonally adjusted rate of $62.5 billion in November, changed little in December.

Residential construction increased a little but public construction declined, although remaining higher than in the summer months.

The board said automobile assemblies remained at the advanced level prevailing since last July, and preliminary production schedules for January indicate little change.

Output of home goods and apparel increased further in December, returning to the May-June high, but output of television sets was unchanged from the reduced October-November level.

Iron and steel production recovered somewhat further in December, although severe weather curtailed operations in some areas during part of the month.

among exiles boycotting the meeting. Llaca charged that Dr. Miro Cardona, who as council president appearance, Llaca said, "was for the good of the personal policy of the invasion brigade was let down and said "explanations are needed on some points."

Llaca, 27, said: "We received various promises, and then in effect we remained abandoned at Giron Beach, the invasion point. We were just left to our fate."

He said neither U.S. nor Cuban leaders had been effective in action against Castro. Llaca said he and two companions had resigned from the brigade.

Llaca said, "We must force some action and we shall do so." He did not outline his plans—allegedly made while in the Cuban prison—but asserted there must be a great force organized outside the United States.

While "Batistianos," or Batista followers and "arrepentidos" or "repented ones," as former Castroites are called, are in the front lines of the battle of Miami, the rift widens.

For example, Cardona and Manuel Ray, one-time associates in Castro's cabinet, and later working side by side as council chiefs launching the invasion to overthrow Castro, now are greatly at odds. Ray, former minister of public works, pulled out his People's Revolutionary Movement (MRP) from the council after the expedition failed. Later he left MRP.

Ray has formed a new organization, the Revolutionary Junta. Thus exile groups multiply.

Even Alpha 66, which calls itself a nonpolitical action group, felt the political scissors. A conservative faction withdrew in protest against a working agreement with the Second National Front of Escambray, an underground body headed by Maj. Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, one of Castro's mainstays in the war against Batista.

The dissident group organized "Comandos L-66."

Invasion brigade leader Manuel Artine said: "War experience has united us. We are trying to make this unity for military action more extensive."

Dr. Miro Cardona urged anti-Castro groups to unite by joining the council coalition of 11 organizations. But along West Flagler Street, it was business as usual in exile party offices.

In general, leaders expressed themselves in favor of unity, as long as the others join their group.

Several formulas, such as general balloting, a convention with all organizations represented, and gradual mergers have been suggested for unification. Unanswered is the question of who in the improbable case that rival would supervise such proceedings/factions agreed to them.

Control Yourself When A Headache Makes You Tense, Irritable

Take This Famous Product That Contains the Pain-Reliever Doctors Recommend the Most. In Minutes—Pain Goes, Also Its Tension, Irritability.

It's a medical fact that pain from a tension headache can make people so irritable and highstrung they lose control of their tempers and take it out on those around them.

That's why tense, nervous headaches call for the strong yet safe medication in Anacin®. Be sure it's Anacin you take because Anacin is like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of ingredients. Anacin contains the pain reliever most recommended by doctors, plus an extra ingredient not found in leading aspirins or buffered aspirins. Anacin not only relieves pain fast, but also its emotional tension and irritability. In minutes you feel "great"—in control of yourself again all without tranquilizers or narcotics of any kind. And Anacin does not leave you depressed—or "let down."

It's this big difference in Anacin that makes the big difference in the way you feel. See if strong yet safe Anacin doesn't work better for you!

Corot Painted 2,000 Pictures

Over 100,000 of Them in the United States

WASHINGTON — A French Surete official has estimated that out of 2,000 pictures painted by Corot in his lifetime, 103,000 are in the United States and 30,000 in France.

This educated guess shows both the public esteem for Corot and the zeal of art forgers. From ancient times, wayward artists have made ends meet by creating brand-new works of the old masters.

Even the young Michelangelo yielded to the temptation to carve an "ancient" cupid and bury it for discovery.

The late Dutchman Hans van Meegeren, most famous forger of modern times, reputedly made some $2.8 million from his six Vermeers and two de Hooches. (Ironically, Vermeer himself died a pauper in 1675 and was all but forgotten for two centuries.)

ASSEMBLY LINES

Some art experts believe that counterfeits greatly outnumber the existing masterpieces. The present major source may be secret "factories" in Europe, and possibly the United States, where clever hacks turn out composites, imitations and outright copies, says the National Geographic Society.

In one bumper year, 1935, five Americans paid a total of one and a half million dollars for five different Mona Lisas.

The Russian-born artist Chagall once accepted a forgery as his own. Though he did not remember doing the painting, it seemed to him incredible that anyone but himself could have executed the bold, sure, characteristic lines.

On July 1, 1862, President Lincoln signed the act that initiated the present Internal Revenue Service.

Goodbye to Any Leather for E. German Civilians

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist regime of East Germany has prohibited the use of leather for civilian goods. The needs of the "People's National Army" have priority, a government decree says.

In the future leather cannot be used for such items as handbags, automobile upholstery, school satchels, camera and binocular cases, riding boots, sports shoes and slippers.

Apparently civilians are still to be allowed outdoor footwear in leather.

Three Bars in Area Fined for Violations

Three bars—two in Pontiac and one in Farmington—have been ordered by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission to pay fines for liquor law violations.

Bud and Lou's Tavern, 417 Auburn Road, was fined $100 for allowing a minor to consume alcohol on the premises, and $100 for allowing dancing on the premises without a permit.

Club 99, 86 Telegraph Road, and the Grandview Bar, 35505 Grand River Ave., Farmington, were fined $150 each for selling alcohol to a minor.

Income Tax Primer

Some Medical Expense Deductions Are Surprising

(Editor's Note—This is the last of eight articles in the Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Income Tax Primer, for readers who want more information than is supplied in the official instructions.)

By RICHARD A. MULLENS and CHARLES W. SCHOENEMAN
Written for NEA

The Treasury recently has permitted a deduction for a wig as a medical expense in certain circumstances.

Application of the rule is narrow, of course, but some court decisions and Internal Revenue Service rulings during the past year have been important to those incurring medical expenses during 1962. (Recall: medical expenses are itemized deductions not available if you claim the standard deduction.)

The Supreme Court decided last year that a heart patient who went south on a doctor's advice could not deduct cost of food and lodging for him and his family while there.

This constituted a reversal of a lower court decision. Meals and lodging are therefore not deductible except where a person has been institutionalized for the principal reason of medical care (and such care is continual).

The entire cost of medical care and meals and lodging for that person while at the institution is deductible.

HOME IMPROVEMENTS

Courts during the past year have held that the cost of additions to a residence made on a doctor's advice, such as a central air conditioning unit for a sufferer from cystic fibrosis and an outdoor elevator for a heart patient, are deductible—but only to the extent that the expenditure did not result in an increase in value of the taxpayer's property.

IRS has recently recognized this rule, even though the improvement in the property would not ordinarily be for medical care (i.e., an elevator).

For persons under 65 with dependent parents (or in-laws) over 65, recent changes in Treasury regulations call attention to the more lenient 1960 law that removed the 3 per cent limitations on medical expenses.

Also, it makes no difference whether the parent fails to qualify as an exemption because of his gross income exceeding $600. The son or daughter (and/or their spouses) can still deduct the total amount of medical expenses.

IRS recognizes that while education is not medical care ordinarily, medical care does include the cost of attending a special school for a mentally or physically handicapped individual.

Thus, the entire tuition, meals and lodging at a special school for the mentally handicapped child are medical care expenses. The criterion: Principal reason for the child's presence must be alleviation of the mental handicap through resources of the institution.

You perhaps know that Social Security payments are not taxed, but perhaps you are not familiar with credit for other retirement income.

NO GREAT CHANGES

There have been no great changes in the law, but the credit has been increased.

(Even though you yourself are neither 65 nor retired, your parents may have the credit available.)

You do NOT have to itemize deductions to take this credit. It was put in the law to give those who have taxable retirement income a tax exemption of approximately the same amount as that received by Social Security benefits.

READER'S NOTE: There has been an increase in the retirement income credit since last year. If you are eligible for this retirement income credit, check for details with your local IRS office.

End of series.

Lost Small Fry Get Found Again

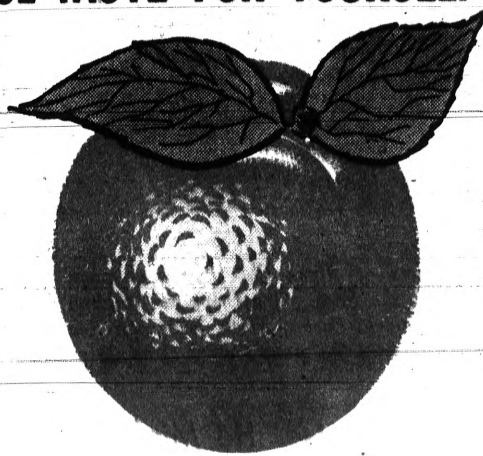

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—At the New York State Exposition this year, small fry visitors were tagged not with a space-age, "Take me to your leader," but with a more practical, "Take me to a state trooper."

The back of the tag held space for the child's name, age, and address. Last year, state police returned 171 lost children to their parents at the exposition.

Alpha Chi Dines, Tours Center Women's Section

Mrs. Robert Long, physical therapist at the center (left) and Raymond Sylvain, a 3-year-old student from Clawson, show some of the work being done as Mrs. James E. Henderson, Oakleigh Street, watches.

Alpha Chi Omega alumnae of the North Woodward area met Tuesday for luncheon at the Society for Crippled Children and Adults Treatment Center on North Telegraph Road.

Arrangements were made by Mrs. James E. Henderson who represents Alpha Chi Omega as a board member for the society.

The local alumnae chapter has given financial support to the Crippled Children's Center for a number of years as its chief project.

Mrs. Gerald Kirkby, director of the center, spoke to members of the sorority about work being done and future aims and needs. Later, the group toured the classrooms to see staff members working with a preschool group of children.

Present to explain their duties were Mrs. Leon Skelly, preschool teacher; Mrs. Frank Reid, speech therapist; Mrs. James Joyce, psychologist; Mrs. Robert Long and Mrs. Conrad Speck, physical therapists; and Mrs. Shannon Vernor, staff assistant.

It's Okay to Go With the Group

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My daughter, 18, and a group of her boy and girl friends would like to go away for a weekend of skiing. They will stay at a well-known winter resort hotel.

A: Would it be proper for the group to go off unchaperoned? I seem to be the only mother who is objecting to this plan and have been told that I am terribly old-fashioned. What do you think about this?

A: In the present day a girl of 18 may perfectly well go on a weekend trip to a reputable ski resort with a group of friends, each member of the group acting as chaperon for the other.

Q: My daughter and her husband were married recently at a private ceremony. Since relatives and friends have not met her husband I would like to give a reception for them.

A: Most likely guests will be arriving at different times since the time for the reception is set from three to five o'clock. Should there be a receiving line, and if so, who stands in it?

A: There should be a receiving line. You, as hostess, stand first at the door of entrance, your daughter stands next and her husband next to her. Your daughter introduces each arriving guest to her husband.

Q: My son is engaged to a girl who lives in a city several hundred miles from here. My son works in this same city and has a small apartment of his own.

A: When he became engaged, he urged me to visit him so that I could meet his prospective in-laws. The day after I arrived, I went to his fiancée's mother. I never saw or heard from her again during my five-day visit.

I think she should have at least invited me to lunch or dinner and feel that she was most unfriendly. Will you please tell me if I am right in feeling that she was very lacking in courtesy?

A: After your making the trip to call on her, she was most ungracious in showing you no courtesy whatsoever, but for the sake of your son's peaceful relations with his future mother-in-law do try to overlook her unfriendliness.

Doesn't Pay to Grumble

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend's coach is ruining my love life. He lined up all the boys on the basketball team and made them take a pledge, "NO SMOKING, NO DRINKING AND NO GIRLS." Abby, does a coach have the right to do this?

I used to see Tom every night, but since he took the pledge, I'm lucky to see him on Saturday night until midnight.

Tom is a good athlete and I am proud of him, but I might just as well not have a boy friend as one who has to go to sleep with the chickens. What does a girl do in a case like that?

BASKETBALL WIDOW
DEAR WIDOW: Tom sounds like a good egg even if he does go to sleep with the chickens. Be a good sport and see him when he's available.

If you grumble, Tom might suggest a substitute who did not make the team.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter has been married for three months to a man who doesn't say one word more to her father or me than he absolutely has to.

If I say, "How are you?" He replies, "Fine." (Not even "Fine, thank you, how are you?") He is not ignorant. He went through college on scholarships and is considered a mathematical genius.

We are always friendly to him. He told my daughter he doesn't care about anyone else — only her.

Do you call that intelligence? We are respectable people. What is the matter with him?

Churchwomen to Hear Series of 3 Lectures

Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook will hear a series of three lectures on "Christianity and Intergroup Relations" on Jan. 22, 29 and Feb. 5 at their luncheon meetings.

The Rev. Joseph Pelham, director of the department of Christian social relations for the diocese, will give the first and final lecture. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and the Episcopal Theological Seminary at Cambridge, Mass.

Assistant minister at Christ Church, Rev. Michael Nesbitt, will give the second lecture. Originally from England, Mr. Nesbitt was an architect in Alexandria, Va., before entering the Virginia Theological Seminary.

Ordained in 1961, he served in Grace and Holy Trinity Churches in Richmond before coming to Christ Church.

The subject for the lectures was chosen by the Christian social relations department of the Diocese for particular study this year. Mrs. Robert T. Hatt and her committee from Christ Church arranged the lecture series.

World Health Writer to Address Town Hall

Gayelord Hauser, world famous authority on health and beauty, and author of several best-sellers, comes to the Huron Theatre at 10:30 a.m.

GAYELORD HAUSER

Wednesday to address Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall.

Active on the American scene for some 35 years, during which time he has lectured, written a daily newspaper column and appeared on his own television and radio programs, Mr. Hauser has probably done more than anyone else to change America's eating habits.

His book "Look Lovely, Live Longer," ranking top best-seller for two consecutive years, established a record achieved by only a handful of books in the past century.

Born in the picturesque Black Forest region of Germany, the 11th of 13 children of a Lutheran schoolmaster, Mr. Hauser won his battle against hip disease by special diets prescribed by a monk in Switzerland.

A celebrity luncheon in Devon Gables will follow his talk.

Make It Easy on Yourself

When you make cafe curtains, don't make the mistake of sewing on those attractive brass rings used for hanging.

This will only make more work — because either the curtains will have to be laundered by hand, or the rings removed before washing by machine. Instead, use those handy spring-clip rings which go off and on readily at curtain-laundering time.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

"I hang a shoe bag inside the closet door of my sewing room to hold my sewing necessities. In separate pockets I put thread, scissors, containers for pins and buttons and also my darning."

"The pockets are wonderful for holding socks and underwear that need to be mended. They are always at my finger tips and I can see at a glance what needs mending and repairing. Everyone in the family knows where to find these items and has a place to return them."

This splendid suggestion comes from Mrs. Helen L. Mills, Fort Worth, Tex., who has been awarded the Tailor Trix pressing board for the best idea of the week.

"Dear Eunice,

"I have mastered the art of putting a slide fastener in skirts, but can't seem to manage at the center back without the fastener itself showing. How can I do this job neatly?" Mrs. R. H. Dear Mrs. R. H.:

I think you will find that most of the fastener applications at the center back of a garment are done the same way they are on skirts. In other words, they will have a lapped seam effect which will completely hide the fastener.

If you get confused about the way the seam should be, pretend it is a side fastener and would simply be moved to the center back without changing direction.

"Dear Eunice,

"I use quite a bit of light colored wool and find that rust spots appear on the pins and consequently leave a mark on the material. What would cause the rust on the pins which I keep closed up in a box?" Mrs. E. K. Dear Mrs. E. K.:

You are probably using the polished steel pins which most of us use. These are very satisfactory in most instances. If there is excessive moisture in the air or if your garment has been put away for any length of time with the pins in the fabric, there is a chance of rust forming on the pins.

If you intend keeping the garment pinned for a long period of time, I would suggest you find brass pins (which are a little more costly) but won't rust.

TWEEZERS

"My biggest helper in my sewing basket is a sharp eyebrow tweezers. It is wonderful for pulling threads, holding material in places that are difficult to get to with your fingers, and tying short threads. It's almost like having a third hand."

Mrs. J. B.

"Dear Eunice,

"I made a two piece suit last winter but have gained weight since then and now the skirt is too tight in front and back. I have some material left but not enough to make a new skirt and would appreciate any suggestions you can give me."

Mrs. J. A. Dear Mrs. J. A.:

I am hoping you have some fabric left that is the same length as your skirt, as well as on the lengthwise grain. You can rip the skirt apart and recut it by using a six-gore skirt. The piece of fabric you have left could be used to cut the center back and center front panel. You would cut the side panels from your original skirt.

You could also raise the skirt at the waistline about 5 inches. This will probably give you enough room at the waist and hips. Make a fold at the lower edge of the skirt by stitching approximately 1 to 2 inches above the original hem.

Another piece of fabric can be added to the lower edge of the skirt and the piecing will not show because of the deep fold. This would give your skirt the new tunic look which is so popular this year. Good luck!

If you would like a booklet answering the 20 most frequently asked questions about sewing, send 25 cents and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Nelson-Johnson Vows Spoken in Rochester

The Ronald Bruce Nelsons boarded a jet flight to New York City soon after their nuptial vows spoken before Dr. J. Douglas Parker Saturday evening in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Rochester.

Daughter of Mrs. Lee Johnson and J. Russell Johnson, both of Rochester, the former Lona Lee Johnson appeared in a street-length sheath dress of blush pink satin with Chantilly lace overskirt. She wore pink pearls and a short veil held by a crystal tiara. Pink gardenias were arranged in a cascade bouquet.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Earl Montross, wearing rose pink satin and matching headpiece, held a cascade of pink roses.

The bridegroom, son of the Arnold M. Nelsons of North Ardmore Street, had Carl Knaack for best man. Theodore Carlson and Gary Thomas seated guests.

Greeting guests in Fellowship Hall, following the double-ring rite, Mrs. Johnson more violet peau de soie and silver accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose peacock blue silk crape and lace. Their flowers were pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Nelson, a Ferris Institute graduate and his bride will live in Pontiac.

Land WAVE After Year at Sea

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Japan or the Philippines or Honolulu.

"I still catch myself going through magazines looking for dresses to clip out and have made on my next stop in Japan. I could have a beautiful silk dress made for about $25 in Japan and I guess it would have cost $125 here."

The attractive brunette arrived here last Friday after being a WAVE first—the first WAVE ever to serve as a line officer aboard a ship.

"I spent a year aboard the transport General Mann in the Pacific, and it's something I would enjoy doing again if I could," Lt. Suneson said.

"But I know I probably won't be able to because of Navy regulations," she added. "In the Navy we can't serve on any job twice. And according to regulations WAVES can only serve on transports or hospital ships, and since I'm not qualified for a hospital ship, I just don't feel I'll get the chance again."

The Navy also said they doubted whether Miss Suneson or any other WAVE officer would get a similar chance. A spokesman in San Francisco said that although Miss Suneson performed very well "there are no further plans to give sea duty to WAVE officers."

The 28-year-old native of Chicago said she had no problems aboard the big transport. "I was the officer in charge of the cabin space and in general made sure the passengers in my area were all right. I had to check their immigration papers and all the other administrative matters," she explained.

The ship had a crew of about 400 and had cabin space for 365 military dependents and a troop carrying capacity of about 2,200.

Now in her ninth year in the Navy, the lieutenant said she had always wanted the sea duty, and "I guess I got it because I made the most noise," she laughed. "I was stationed in San Diego and every time someone was going to Washington I'd have them deliver another letter."

PTA's Now Increasing in Their Size

CHICAGO (UPI) — Membership in the National Congress of Parents and Teachers stands at more than 12 million. More than 3.5 million of the members are male and 760,000 are teachers.

The members belong to more than 47,000 local PTA units. The organization was founded in 1897 in Washington, D. C., as the National Congress of Mothers. But as in increasing numbers the name was changed in 1925.

Back to a desk is Lt. Charlene Suneson who reported to the Navy recruiting office in Columbus, Ohio, last week. An oddity in the Navy, she is the first and only WAVE to serve as a line officer aboard a Navy vessel. She spent a year aboard the transport ship Gen. Mann in the Pacific.

Housewife's Mother Hungers for Credit

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My mother lives part of the year with my brother; part with me. Recently when she returned from my brother's, she insisted that she had given me a pair of brass candlesticks I bought at a church sale last summer.

I told her the truth. Now an aunt tells me she is writing to everyone in the family saying that I am trying to put her out of the home she furnished for me. I have been supporting myself since I was 20, and furnished my home myself. But my mother always does this to me.

ANSWER: You can't change your mother's living arrangements, can you? And you certainly can't change her. So, if you want change in this situation, the only place to make it is in yourself.

You will have to change your view of your mother.

She is not the strong, loving, self-assured creature of your imagination. Instead, she is a pitiful, self-scolding human being so suspicious of her value to others that she must grab all the credit that belongs to you.

Your resentment at her behavior is due to your failure to see this credit hunger in her.

We are only hurt by such greed.

Two PTA Programs Tomorrow

Francis McDowell will be guest speaker at the Hawthorne PTA Thursday at 2:15 p.m. Mr. McDowell, a visiting teacher from the Pontiac school system will speak on "Love, Understanding and Independence."

Prior to the meeting the parents are invited to be observers in their children's classroom.

WILL ROGERS

Will Rogers PTA will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. A "you-asked-for-it" panel will discuss development of a child's interest in reading skills, arithmetic processes and broadening his experiences. A question and answer period will follow.

Babysitters will be provided.

tradition between what we believe she ought to be and what she is injects hate into our relationship.

But if we can see her as she is, our resentful confusion begins to dissolve. We begin to feed the pitiful hunger for credit just as we would give food to a starving person.

Though we must refuse to agree that she gave us the brass candlesticks we gave ourselves, we say, "However, I owe you my beautiful sofa pillows, mother. How kind you were to make them for me."

We learn to supply her with credit for something she HAS done every time we have to remove the credit for what she hasn't done.

But we can't feed her hunger unless we know she's hungry. So long as she remains mommy, the supreme giver of our childhood, such knowledge cannot become clear to us.

Polly's Pointers

Aid to Sock Knitting

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Here is a hint for the sock knitter that will save time on darning. When knitting the heel flap, turning the heel and narrowing the toe of a sock, knit a strand of nylon thread along with the yarn.

It takes no more time but those heels and toes will wear like steel. I use ordinary white nylon thread with colored yarn and it scarcely shows at all.

SOCK KNITTER

DEAR POLLY — One big worry mothers have in keeping house is the black mark. Most children's shoes make a black mark here and there on the floor.

By using an ordinary pencil eraser these can be taken off without hurting the wax job or scrubbing so hard. My neighbor tried it and said she wondered why I kept it to myself for so long.

MRS. T. C. W.

DEAR POLLY — Putting polish on my nails used to be a problem because I could not hold my hand steady.

One day I discovered that by placing a cup upside down on a table and placing my hand on the cup, my problem was solved. No more do I worry about a smeared or uneven look to my polish.

C. F.

DEAR POLLY — Four-hole buttons will stay attached longer if, when sewing them on, you sew through only two holes at a time, breaking the thread and knotting it for each pair of holes. In this way, should the thread give way on one side, the other will still hold the button on until the broken side, too, can be resewn.

Don't Be a Patsy to Teen Gang's Appetite

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

I'm being pushed to the wall by a teen-ager gang. This gang gathers in my kitchen every day or so, and consumes astonishing quantities of food. I want my daughter to have her friends over, of course. But my grocery money all seems to be going into hotdogs, wedgies and pop. I just wonder how other mothers hold the line, financially, and still manage to be hospitable?

Mrs. V. S., Buffalo

Dear Mrs. S:

Apparently they don't have to — their youngsters are at your house. I think you're being something of a patsy. Since you can't lick a gang, take on just one — your daughter. If she's already getting an allowance, tell her that allowance must be used to cover at least half these impromptu socials.

Or specify the one or two afternoons or evenings a week when you will provide refreshments. Teen-agers suffer from chronic starvation, and will gather where food is usually found.

Your daughter can help control the situation better than you can, actually — by casually announcing to her playmates that the cupboard is bare, and that maybe somebody'd better go out and rustle up something. Somebody inevitably will.

I suspect it's time you renovated your budget, anyway. As children grow up, their expenses are bound to climb, too. The day seems to have come when a larger allotment for entertaining is due. That means you'll have to pare down somewhere else. Look in the corners: dry cleaning bills (try a coin-operated center), household supplies and operation, those quarters for your husband's shoe shines, gas for the car, utilities and telephone calls.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I am single, 58 years old, and am wondering if I'll have sufficient money to live on when I retire. During the past 16 years, my wages averaged around $300 a month. I've been banking $10 a week, for retirement, for 8 years and hope to continue till I'm 65. What amount of retirement money can I expect?

Lucille I., Pittsburgh

Dear Miss I:

Your social security benefits at 65 would be $105 a month. Your own plan to supplement your income, if put where you get 4 per cent interest compounded quarterly, will give you $10,200 at age 65. The safest way of using this money for retirement is through an annuity, purchased with the $10,200. Such an annuity can pay you $70 to $75 a month, depending on the company you buy it from.

This, with social security, will provide an adequate retirement income if your needs aren't too great. Here's a suggested living plan you might keep in mind: housing, $70 a month; operating costs, $12; food, $40; clothing, $15; personal, $10; medical, $12; recreation, $16.

(If you have a money problem, write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. She will answer questions of widest interest in her column.)

Here's How to Measure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is entirely possible for you to look from five to ten years younger just eight short weeks from now. I know this to be true because I have seen it happen over and over again.

A loss of excess weight, exercise to redistribute pounds more attractively, the right kind of food and regular skin and hair care can create magic in the personality as well as in the figure.

The woman who has been struggling with a roll over her girdle, with a protruding abdomen, with large thighs or a double chin or with the chronic fatigue which may accompany overweight, not only looks, but feels, 10 years younger when these defects disappear.

She gets a real kick out of her new figure and increased energy and this is reflected in her

DID YOU CHEAT?

How many calories did you REALLY have yesterday? It's only eight short weeks until you reach your goal on the BIP routine if you don't cheat. If you had more than 1200 calories yesterday, don't cut the excess from today's quota. Just extend your program by one day. (That'll teach you!)

attitude toward life and her enjoyment of it.

As those of you know who have been reading my column this week, I am introducing my new Eight-week Beauty Improvement Plan.

Yesterday I told you how to find out what you should weigh. That's the first step.

Today I want to tell you how to measure yourself. If your measurements are out of proportion you should try to remedy that during the next eight weeks.

Don't be thrown off balance by some of the current extreme conceptions of what a good figure is. The old tape measure is the best way to style yourself.

For perfection, your hips and bust should measure the same and your waist should be 10 inches smaller than your hips. However, you can have an inch or so more in the hipline and still have a lovely figure.

When you measure your bust, do so around its fullest part. If you measure when wearing a bra be sure to wear the same one every time you take this measurement.

Measure your waist at your natural waistline. Measure your abdomen and hips straight around at the largest part.

When you measure, be sure that the tape goes straight around you, not up or down in spots.

Also, try to pull the tape to the same tautness, neither slack nor very tight.

It will be a temptation to pull it a bit tighter the second time you measure! Take your measurements only once a week. There is no point in doing so more often.

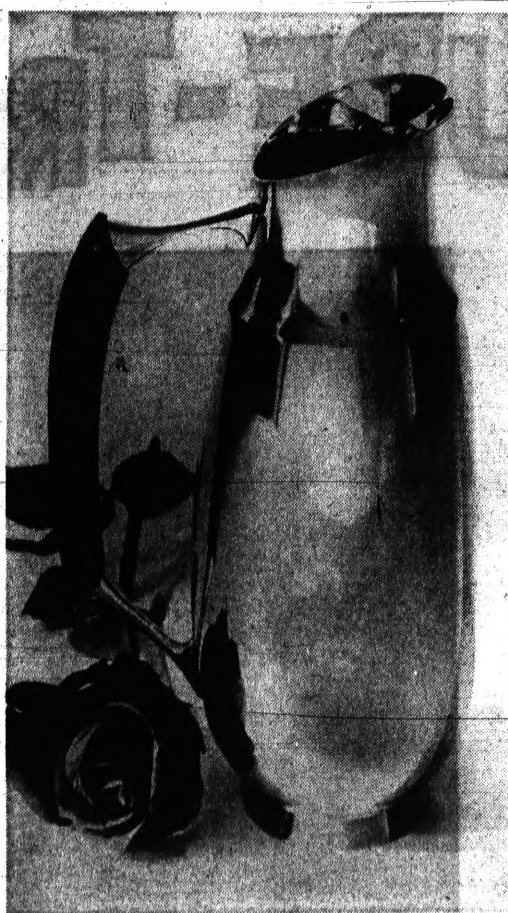

Tomorrow I will tell you about calorie counting.

If you have missed the preceding columns and would like to have my BIP (Beauty Improvement Plan) routine plus my BIP weight chart on which you can follow your weight loss and watch your beauty line rise as your weight line falls, just drop 25 cents and your printed name and address into an envelope. Mail to Josephine Lowman, in care of The Pontiac Press.

TREASURE-TROVE of TOASTS

Toasts to Treasure*

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

"Can we have some fried bread, Mom?" I can remember asking my mother for French toast in that manner when I was a little girl. It was a favorite breakfast dish of mine then; and it is now a favorite of the Fourteen-Year-Old's.

What we call French toast has been called German, Spanish or Nun's toast — or many years ago — "the lost bread." Regardless of its name, the result is the same and a treasure of good eating for any hour.

All you need are bread, eggs, milk and butter or other fat in which to cook the toast. Mix the beaten egg with one-half cup milk, dip in sliced bread and brown slowly in a skillet. For extra softness let the bread stand in the egg-milk mixture a little longer.

If you are interested in saving calories, you can bake French toast. Put the dipped bread on a greased cookie sheet and slide it into a 450-degree oven. Watch it and turn when one side is brown. This method produces a crisper French toast.

By adding fruit juice to the egg instead of milk, you get an entirely new taste in French toast. Traditionalists will stick to the egg-milk version, but adventuresome souls will try other varieties.

Whichever the variation, French toast is a hot-from-the-grill dish. Never, never stack. But do discover — or rediscover the good taste of this long-time favorite.

Gold Toast With Orange Sauce, prettied plunder for a breakfast treat, traces its romantic past to the trade routes of the East. The orange, a cherished fruit of the orient, was carried by seafarers with their chests of spices and silks to India, thence to Spain. From there, daring conquistadores and courageous Franciscan monks, too, brought the oranges to the new world.

California Gold Toast With Orange Sauce

Toast
6 egg yolks
½ cup half and half
½ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
Dash salt
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
8 slices enriched bread

Sauce
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup orange juice
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
Beat egg yolks with half and half in a pie plate; gradually add orange juice and rind, salt and nutmeg. Dip each bread slice into egg mixture, turning it to coat both sides. Grill or pan fry bread on both sides in hot fat until golden color, not browned.

To make sauce: Combine brown sugar, orange juice and rind; simmer for five minutes. Serve with hot California Gold Toast.

Yield: 4 servings — 2 slices toast per serving.

Banana French Toast

World traveler, the banana, put its roots down wherever the great schooners sailed westward from Africa's Ivory coast to tropical Pacific shores.

2 eggs, beaten
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon nutmeg
8 slices enriched bread
¼ cup shortening
3 medium-sized bananas, sliced

Combine beaten eggs, milk and nutmeg in a pie plate. Melt shortening in a skillet. Dip each bread slice into egg mixture, turning it to coat both sides. Grill or pan fry bread on both sides in hot fat. Place a layer of sliced bananas on 4 slices of French toast. Cover bananas with a second slice of French toast. Serve with maple syrup.

Yield: 4 servings — 2 slices toast per serving.

Bacon-Fig French Toast

Cargo of the caravans, the fig trade followed the sun from Araby to Greece, to Spain. Admired by the Mission fathers, they brought it to sunny California.

2 eggs, beaten slightly
¼ cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
6 slices enriched bread
½ pound (12 thin slices) Canadian bacon
1 (1 lb., 15 oz.) can Kadota figs
6 sprigs fresh mint

Combine beaten eggs, milk and salt in a pie plate. Dip each bread slice into egg mixture, turning it to coat both sides. Grill or pan fry bread on both sides in hot fat. Cook bacon as desired. Drain and cut figs in half.

To serve: Arrange French toast on serving platter; place 2 slices cooked bacon on each toast slice, topping bacon with 5 or 6 fig halves, one overlapping the other in a pyramid shape. Garnish figs with a sprig of mint.

Yield: 6 servings.

Apricot-Honey French Toast

Apricots, aristocrats of ancient Persian feasts. They still maintain their status as a food delicacy in America where they have been at home in the Santa Clara Valley.

2 eggs, beaten
¾ cup apricot nectar
2 tablespoons honey
8 slices enriched bread

Combine beaten eggs, apricot nectar and honey in a pie plate. Dip each bread slice into apricot mixture, turning it to coat both sides. Grill or pan fry bread on both sides in hot fat. Serve immediately with honey.

Yield: 4 servings — 2 slices toast per serving.

Vermont Maple Dip French Toast

All the ingredients of a good wholesome breakfast are combined in this breakfast sandwich — the Vermont Maple Dip. Chopped prunes, nutmeats, sour cream and maple syrup are blended in the refreshing filling. Eggs and milk make the "dip," then the sandwich is French-toasted to golden-brown crispness. Serve it plain or topped with more maple syrup.

½ cup chopped prunes
½ cup chopped nutmeats
½ cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons maple syrup
Butter or margarine, softened
12 slices enriched white bread
2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon sugar
Dash of salt

Mix together prunes, nutmeats, sour cream and maple syrup. Spread bread with butter or margarine. Spread prune mixture evenly over 6 slices of bread. Cover with remaining slices. In shallow dish blend together eggs, milk, sugar and salt. Dip sandwiches in mixture to thoroughly coat both sides. Fry in buttered skillet until golden brown on both sides. Serve hot with additional maple syrup, if desired.

Makes 6 sandwiches.

Gingered Pineapple French Toast Roll-Ups

Pineapple, fruit of many a tropical island paradise, has few rivals for exquisite flavor and taste popularity.

1 (No. 2) can crushed pineapple
2 teaspoons finely chopped candied ginger
¼ cup pineapple juice
¼ cup milk
2 eggs, beaten
8 slices enriched bread
¼ cup sifted brown sugar

Drain and save juice from pineapple. Mix ginger with drained pineapple. Combine ¼ cup pineapple juice and milk in a pie plate; add beaten eggs. Dip each bread slice into egg mixture, turning it to coat both sides. Grill or pan fry bread on both sides in hot fat. Spread each slice with about 2 tablespoons ginger pineapple mixture and roll up, jelly-roll fashion. Roll in brown sugar.

Yield: 4 servings — 2 Roll-ups per serving.

Waterford Outlasts Rival Kettering, 48-45

Skippers Pull Away in 2nd Half

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

When a Captain makes a mistake, very often the entire crew has to suffer.

The Kettering Captains stayed on even keel with the crosstown Skippers, but four bad moves in the final minutes of the third quarter were just enough to give Waterford a 48-45 victory.

The rivals battled in close quarters through the first two quarters with Kettering holding the advantage most of the first period by the margin of a basket until Bob Raedler pushed the Skippers into a 10-8 lead.

Earl Hook tied it 10-10 and Chuck Swanson made it 12-10 for WTHS. A corner shot by Rick Panky just as first period buzzer sounded made it 12-12.

HALFTIME CLOSE

Kettering pushed ahead 16-13 in the second quarter and held the small lead until Raedler hit on a 3-point play to make it 20-20 at 1:51 left. Raedler also scored the next three points and Waterford went out with a 23-21 lead at half-time.

In the second half, Kettering never regained the lead, although the Captains stayed within reach at 26-25 with 5:10 to go in the quarter.

At this point, Kettering came down court four straight times and lost the ball on bad passes. Waterford scored three times and pushed ahead 33-26.

The margin went to eight points 38-30 early in the fourth quarter and then the scoring pace grew hectic in the final minutes.

With 37 seconds remaining, Hook hit a field goal to make it 44-39 for WTHS, he then picked up two free throws and it was 44-41 with 34 seconds to go.

TIME OUT

Coach Joe Duby called time out to work out the Captain strategy. When Waterford put the ball in play, Dale Manning stole it and appeared to be on his way for a layup, but he was whistled down for fouling and Paul Moran dropped in both free throws on a 1-1 situation with 24 seconds to play to make it 46-41.

Manning quickly scored to make it 46-43 and again the Captains stopped the clock by forcing a jump ball with 13 seconds left. Waterford got the tip and Moran was fouled again. With ease he hit both free throws and it was 48-43 with 9 seconds left.

Panky hit with three seconds and the final score was posted.

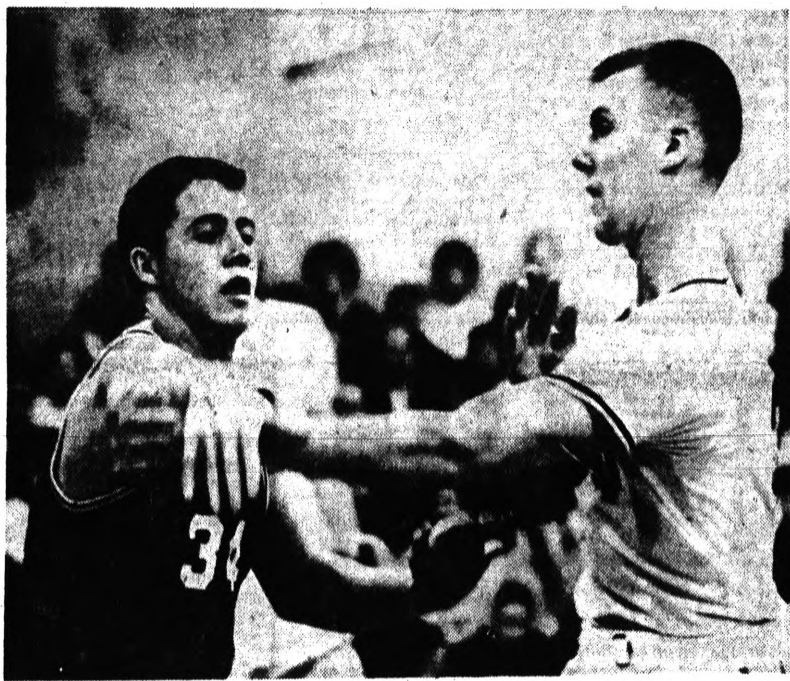

Raedler, one of the deadliest free throw shooters in the area, hit five from the field and 9 for 10 from the line for 19 points.

Waterford now stands 2-4 for the season and Kettering is 3-2. The two teams meet again, February 26th on the Kettering floor.

LIKES CHARITY — Waterford's Bob Raedler isn't one player that should be fouled. The 6-4 Skipper center, one of the leading scorers in the county, has now made 54 of 64 free throws in six games to date. He led WTHS with 19 points last night in defeating Kettering, 48-45.

SEA-FARING BATTLE — A captain of Kettering (34) Mel Patterson and a Skipper of Waterford, Clark Lemaux (30) appear to be engaged in a bit of fisticuffs, but the motions came after a loose ball eluded them both. The two teams met at WTHS and the Skippers won a 48-45 decision.

Rochester Falls to Orion, 68-65

Lake Orion, trailing 33-29 at halftime, began running in the third quarter and never stopped until it had posted 27 points and a 12-point lead which Rochester could never overcome. The Dragons held on for a 68-65 victory last night.

Mike Williams and Tom Lipford combined for 16 of the 27 points in the Dragons' fast-break third period as Lake Orion built a 56-44 lead.

Rochester could only get eight shots from the floor to the winners' 28 in the decisive stanza. Williams topped.

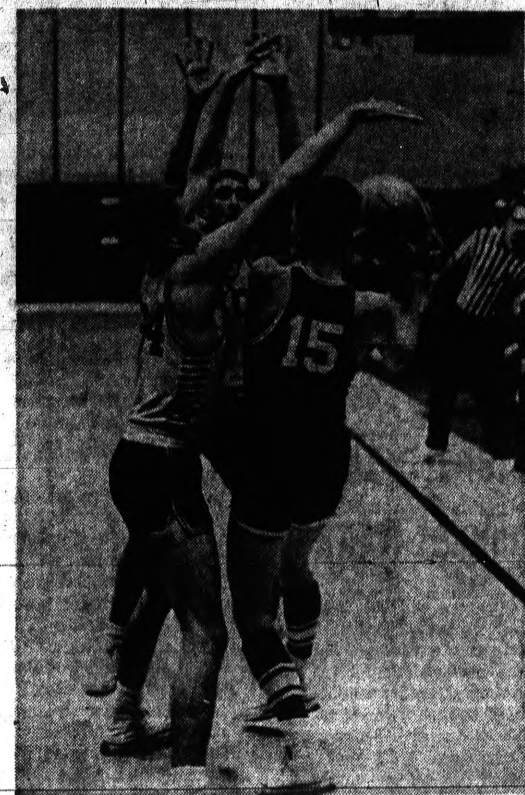

Williams ended up with a game high of 22 points and Lipford had 14 as Lake Orion posted its second win in seven starts. The Falcons profited from Chuck Ledley's 20 points, Mike Wilson's 13 and Ed Wright's 10 but still lost their fifth in six outings.

Lake Orion hit 27 field goals in the contest but committed 25 fouls which enabled the Falcons to keep the score close with a 23-34 foul shooting performance. The Dragons could hit only 14 for 27 from the charity stripe.

The game was a close affair with neither team able to gain more than a five-point advantage in the first half.

After Lake Orion broke on top in the third quarter, Rochester fought back but could never regain the lead.

The home team earned a 60-57 overtime victory with similar tight defensive tactics playing an important part in the exciting contest.

Lions' Wilson, Karras Called for Questioning

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit Lions' coach George Wilson and all-pro tackle Alex Karras have been called to New York for questioning by National Football League commissioner Pete Rozelle concerning Lions' players associating with known gamblers.

Wilson will cut short his vacation in Delray Beach, Fla., to meet with Rozelle at the league's New York offices. Rozelle was to huddle with the coach today and Karras was scheduled for a meeting tomorrow.

Kline to Ask for Release From Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Pitcher Ron Kline intends to ask the Detroit Tigers for his release so he can accept a contract to play in Japan, The Associated Press learned today.

The strapping 30-year-old right-hander was due here today and was expected to meet with General Manager Jim Campbell later this week.

Campbell said Kline had telephoned the Tiger office from his Callery, Pa. home seeking an appointment.

"I've never considered this," Campbell said. "I've never even thought about it, so I don't know what my answer would be if he asks to buy his contract."

PREFERENCE KNOWN

Kline, who previously pitched with the Pittsburgh Pirates, St. Louis Cardinals, and Los Angeles Angels, confided to newsmen last summer he was interested in joining a team in one of the two Japanese leagues.

On the Tigers' post-season tour of Japan last fall, Kline had the best record of any Detroit pitcher.

But he had only a mediocre 3-6 record in the regular 1962 season and never had a winning record in his major league career which started in 1952.

The team Kline hopes to join in Japan is not known. But it was understood he was offered a contract near $50,000.

Central Wrestlers Start SVC Action

Pontiac Central's wrestling squad faces its first Saginaw Valley test tomorrow and a victory is needed if Coach Steve Szabo is to realize his pre-season forecast of "becoming a league darkhorse for second or third."

Pete Beavers, undefeated so far and captain of the PCH team, will lead the Chiefs against the Indians at the Pontiac gym trying for his sixth straight victory in the 133 division.

Meanwhile, Pontiac Northern takes on Southfield on the Blue Jays' mats and Walled Lake is at Waterford.

Rounding out the Inter-Lakes schedule is a Farmington-Berkley affair with the Bears as the host.

IT TAKES MUSCLE — Basketball isn't just a game of grace and shooting ability. It takes muscle sometimes to pull in a rebound and maintain possession. Clarkston's Mike Bray uses a little brawn to command the ball away from three Holly players, Dave Young (left), Jim Ray (21) and Doug Williams at right, in action last night at Clarkston where the Wolves upset Holly, 60-57 in overtime.

Ferndale Rolls in Jammed EML

By DICK POINTON

As Ferndale rolls along undefeated in the Eastern Michigan League, victories by Birmingham Seaholm, Hazel Park and Royal Oak Kimball plus a Port Huron defeat has increased the EML runner-up log-jam to five schools, all with 3-3 marks.

The powerhouse five from Ferndale, ranked sixth in the AP prep cage poll, chalked up EML win No. 6 last night rolling over Mt. Clemens 69-47 with Bruce Rodwan scoring 20.

The Knights from Kimball continued a two-game loop win streak by dropping Port Huron's Big Reds 76-73, setting a new school scoring record in the process.

Roseville failed to cash in on a seven-point lead with three minutes to go in the third quarter and bowed Seaholm 68-62 while Hazel Park was busy handing East Detroit its fourth consecutive loss of the season, 51-43.

OTHER CAGE ACTION

In other cage action Oak Park of the Oakland A edged Thurston 53-51 in a non-league tilt and L'Anse Creuse bombed Chippewa Valley 67-54 led by Mike Deriemackers 17 and Ed Stivers' 14 plus 11 points by Dick Olejar.

At the end of three quarters Birmingham and Roseville were knotted at 53-53 but Ron Jacobson pulled it ahead for the Maples on three consecutive layups entering the final.

Jacobson along with teammate John Slater were high men for the winners garnering 18 and 17.

Jay Shutt, also of Seaholm, hit 14 while Bill Hood and Jerry Cross of Roseville collected 17 and 15.

Port Huron held a 38-34 advantage over Kimball at the half but the Knights caught up with 2:40 left on the final quarter clock and started a stall that set 6-foot-four center Don Elmes up for the winning bucket at 1:40.

Port Huron returned the ball down the floor but muffed two shots and Chuck Ingram 6-foot-6 scoring star for the Reds fouled out bumping Dick Sanderson of the Knights.

HILL LEADS WAY

Hazel Park utilized the talents of Vern Hill who grabbed 18 rebounds and led the scoring with 13 points in the rout of East Detroit.

Bill Daniel, also of HP, was next with 12 while Jack MacGillivray and Bill Klinger accounted for 13 and 12 in that order for the losers.

Oak Park's double scoring threat of Allen Ruby and Dennis Pink led the way for the Redskins to break ahead in non-league games, 4-3.

Mike Rappaport scored 14 for Oak Park while Thurston's Bud Spicer tallied 16.

Wolves Score 60-57 Victory in Overtime

Bray Sinks Rebound to End Regulation Play at 53-53

By JERE CRAIG

After scaring the other two top teams in the Wayne-Oakland League, Clarkston's Wolves finally capitalized on their potential to upset Holly last night, 60-57 in overtime, and throw the race into a three-way tie.

Holly gave the home team scare of its own when it rallied from a 42-29 third-period deficit to go ahead 53-51 with a 1:21 left in the regulation game, but the Wolves came back to tie the score and forced the contest into overtime.

Center Mike Bray dumped in a rebound with 39 seconds remaining in the extra stanza, to push Clarkston in front, 59-57, and he added a foul shot after the time ran out to boost the final count to 60-57.

It was another rebound bucket by Bray with 44 seconds left in regulation time that tied the score, 53-53, where it stood when the first 32 minutes had elapsed before a noisy throng in the Clarkston gymnasium.

THORN

The lanky Clarkston center proved a thorn under the Bronco's saddle blanket all night as he hit nine of the final 16 Clarkston points in the contest. He also blocked several shots by the visiting team and was strong on the backboards.

Holly, ranked ninth in the AP weekly state Class B poll, now is 5-1 in the W-O race and is tied with Bloomfield Hills and seventh ranked West Bloomfield.

Clarkston evened its league record at 3-3. The Wolves had previously lost to West Bloomfield 50-48, to Bloomfield Hills 39-36, and to Millford 42-37. They are in fourth place in the loop.

Poor shooting, plus a tight defense by Clarkston kept Holly from hitting a field goal until early in the second quarter. A seven for seven foul shooting performance in the first quarter and 19 for 25 in the game helped the Broncos' cause considerably.

The homesters spurred to their big third period lead due to a hot shooting hand by Dan Craven who had nine of his 22 points in that stanza. But Jim Ray and Jack Bennett found the range for Holly and brought the visitors roaring back.

The two visitors hit 24 of the 34 second half markers by Holly. Ray had a total of 19 for the game while Bennett was good for 13. In addition to Craven's 22 and Bray's 13 for the Wolves, guard Ken Miskin hit 11 points.

Davey, Speiser Eye Michigan Athletic Post

Chuck Davey and Chuck Speiser, two Oakland County residents whose names are well known to boxing fans, let it be known yesterday that they are interested in the Michigan athletic commissioner's job.

Speiser, 32-year-old former light heavyweight who lives near Pontiac, paid a visit to Gov. George Romney's office yesterday to put in his bid for the appointment.

A resident of Birmingham, Davey said he has given thought to making application. The former welterweight challenger now manages an insurance agency in Southfield.

The two-year term of state athletic commissioner David Gudelski expires Sept. 26, but he can be replaced before then.

Davey and Speiser also said they would be interested in a vacancy on the athletic commission. Both men are graduates of Michigan State.

Five in Experimental Dept.

GMC Has Night Shift of Ex-Champs

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Put a Swede, Norwegian, Dutchman and American - born citizens of Slavic and English origin together at a dinner table and a conversation on sports could involve anything from billiards to skiing.

This is what happens occasionally in the experimental engineering sheet metal department at GMC Truck and Coach around dinner time of the night shift.

Five employees, each holding claim to some sports championship - all work together in the same department.

One look at big Lambertus Van Tuyt, a native of The Netherlands and it would appear that he would be the boxer or weight lifter of the five.

Van Tuyt's claim to glory in competition was in billiards. He started playing billiards at the age of 12 and in 1953 he was declared the champion of the North Holland district, recognized as a coveted title to Hollanders.

During World War II, after being a prisoner of war, he escaped from Berlin and went underground with the resistance corps in Holland.

In 1955 he came to Michigan and directly to Pontiac because he figured the area offered him the best opportunity for his knowledge in sheet metal work.

BOXING HIS SPORT

When he came to this country in 1925, to Jamestown, N.Y., he became interested in boxing primarily as a training camp assistant.

When the boxers needed a sparring partner, they called of Eloy to fill in once in a while. Soon they realized he was too much to handle and the fight promoters were finding sparring partners for him.

After winning the amateur welterweight championship of New York in 1928 he came to this area, won the GMC boxing championship in 1929 and then turned pro.

His pro fights were restricted to state cards which in those days were big drawing events. He had about 35 pro fights, and when the depression struck, fighting on a percentage basis proved fruitless so he quit around Thanksgiving of 1933.

He still takes part in small fight training programs - when available, but now uses his mitts primarily in his job at GMC.

BIG NAME

The name Schemansky is certainly no stranger to weight lifting fans. The most well known is Norbert Schemansky the one time world champion in the heavy-weight class.

GMC's Schemansky is Dennis, a resident of Utica for 16 years, who was the first of the family to start weightlifting in 1936.

Before too long, two other brothers including Norbert became interested in weights and while they were learning, Dennis proceeded to win the Michigan heavyweight championship for three years, plus a national junior championship and later the national senior championship with a total of 840 pounds in three lifts.

He taught lifting at North-eastern YMCA and for the past five years has been a welder in the experimental sheet metal department.

Norbert later surpassed Dennis with world honors, but to the teacher must go some of the credit. He doesn't lift anymore but still maintains his weight and physique at 34" waist, 44" chest, 16" clavicles and 15½" biceps. He loves the outdoors, especially deer hunting and ice fishing.

TOP SKIER

Being from Norway, Edwin Haaseth had natural interests in boats and skis. The Norwegians are known to excel in winter sports and because of their seafaring background, the ocean was their livelihood.

Haaseth came to Pontiac in 1950, after learning the boat building trade in Norway. Competition among whale boats was a big sport in his homeland, and in 1947 he was second in a world rowing contest in Norway.

At the same time he had great interest in skiing and just before coming to America, Haaseth took downhill and jumping titles for his class at Telemark, Norway, famous in ski circles.

During the Finish-Russo war, he was a member of the Finnish military ski forces which fought the Russians even in guerrilla tactics.

In the second World War he got through German lines to help the Norwegian Army and guerrilla forces. The thought of coming to this country was always a dream for him and his brother.

He has brothers and sisters in Norway who have the same dream.

CYCLE CHAMP

Donald Brice, a member of the same department at GMC, was born right here in Pontiac and holds claim to numerous motorcycle championships.

He started in motorcycle competition after three years of football at St. Mike's after learning to ride while in the service.

Having competed in seven "500 Mile" U.S. championships, he won it once and finished third twice. In 1959-60 he won the 400 mile unlimited class championship of Canada, and in the same meet last year he finished fourth.

Still competing in numerous races, Brice has been at GMC for 10 years.

These five members of the experimental sheet metal department could qualify GMC for a local chapter of the United Nations of Sports, if such an organization ever existed.

MUSCLE POWER AT GMC — The experimental sheet metal department of GM Truck and Coach has a United Nations chapter of former sports champions on its night shift. Former U.S. heavyweight weightlifting champion, Dennis Schemansky, flexes his muscles

Expect Announcement Today

Collier Reported 'In' at Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—A new coach was expected to be named today for the Cleveland Browns and most of the prognosticators say Blanton Collier, a member of the team's coaching staff for a number of years, will get the job.

A guessing game as to who will direct the fortunes of the National Football League club has been going on since Paul Brown was fired as coach and general manager. Brown had served in the dual capacities since the Browns were organized in 1946.

Arthur B. Modell, Browns' president, said he hoped to announce the new coaching staff and general manager at a news conference today. He has kept secret his choice of a new field boss, but said Tuesday that he has had several conversations with Collier.

Modell said in removing Brown that the veteran coach would remain with the club as vice president and continue to draw a salary for the remaining six years of his contract. Estimates of Brown's salary and other contractual bonuses last year range from $60,000 to $80,000.

Brown claimed that Modell breached the contract by taking away his coaching responsibilities and said the matter was in the hands of his attorneys.

KENTUCKY COACH

Collier, 56, was a member of the original coaching staff of the Browns, but left the club in 1954 to become head coach at the University of Kentucky. He rejoined the team as backfield coach after he was removed from his college post following the 1961 season.

Collier, a native of Millersburg, Ky., has spent nine of his 34 seasons of football coaching with the Browns. He was a yeoman at Great Lakes Naval Training Station in 1945 when he met Brown, who was athletic director there.

Furman 5 to Try
'Luck' at Va. Tech

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Furman University's basketball team took a one-point lead in a recent game with favored Davidson. A knowing, long-suffering Furman follower yelled, "atta way to go, Furman, pour it on em!"

The battle cry was prompted by an unbelievable series of close games, most of which have resulted in losses for coach Lyles Alley's team.

The Paladins, as a result, are last in the Southern Conference and their overall record is 5-10. Tonight they play Virginia Tech at Blacksburg, Va., where Tech has won 41 in a row.

SEVEN LOST

Nine of Furman's 15 games have been decided by three points or less. Seven were lost, including an overtime setback to Georgia Tech, No. 7 in the nation. Things are evening up. Last season the team won four of seven games in which the final margin was three points or less.

"We all have the jitters," said Alley today. "Those final few seconds have been nightmarish."

The little veteran of 17 years here continued, "we have found many new ways to lose ball games."

"Perhaps the one that hurt the most was the final game of our own Poinsettia Classic tournament when we lost to Vanderhill

69-68. We led by three points with less than 30 seconds to play, but lost on a basket that followed a steal four seconds before time ran out.

TRAGIC MOMENT

Misfortune had dogged the team for weeks. Even before the season started, tragedy struck when John Lemmond, a husky junior from Charlotte, N.C. collapsed during a mid-November workout and died a short time later.

The team's No. 3 scorer Leroy Peacock, missed three games last month because of a knee injury and still can't go at top speed.

The latest blow came Monday night in an 80-77 loss to South Carolina. Randy Blackwell, a top reserve, suffered a fractured right wrist and apparently is out for the season.

Alley points out wryly that Blackwell collided with a Gamecock defender and hurt his wrist and received a bump on the head as he fell—after which he drew a foul for charging.

Vanderhill Scores 39

HOLLAND (UPI)—Hope's uncanny jump-shot artist, slim Jim Vanderhill, broke out of a season-long "slump" last night as he pumped in 39 points to lead the Flying Dutchmen to a 99-89 triumph over arch-rival Calvin.

THE STYLE CORNER OF PONTIAC

Along the Outdoor Trail

Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

DERBY WINNERS — Among the winners in last Saturday's Ice Fishing Derby at Metropolitan Beach along Lake St. Clair were Dave Juliette, 20, and Sandra Harlington, 17, both of Troy. Juliette had the heaviest catch of perch — 16 pounds six ounces. Miss Harlington won the women's division with a perch 10 3/16 inches long. Over 5,000 participated in the Derby.

Once 'Dead' Long Lake Yields Nine-Pound Pike

Long Lake, once thought dead as a fishing lake because of mud and stunted fish, has come up with a surprise this winter. There may be a lot of small bluegills and perch in this lake that gained national attention last summer because of its dredging project, but it still has a few big ones.

William Monetta, who lives on the lake near Union Lake, speared a nine-pound northern pike last week.

"And he wasn't the only big one," said Williams.

"I've been using tipups, too, and twice I've had hooks straightened and once the line broke.

MUCK-FILLED

Before dredging the lake was filled with muck and averaged about 18 inches in depth. When the work is completed and the lake refills, the water will be about 14 feet in its deepest spot. The pike continued to hit well in the area until cold weather chased fishermen off the lakes.

Don Nielsen of Commerce caught an 11 1/2-pounder last week in Sugden Lake. It was 35 inches long.

Pike, perch and calicoes have been hitting on Lakeville Lake. Largest pike reported from the lake was a 28-inch taker by Billy Jarski of Lakeville. He was home from college and caught the lunker on a tipup after only 20 minutes on the ice.

Walleyes are expected to begin hitting on Lakeville next month. Conservation Department netting showed walleyes up to three and a half pounds in the lake. A six-pounder was taken last winter.

W. A. Scott, 208 Lake Angelus Road, used an ice fly to catch a 10 1/4-inch bluegill from Little Silver Lake. The fish weighed three-quarters of a pound.

Deer Feeding Around Corner

Mid-February Start of Food Problems

Local groups planning artificial deer feeding programs are advised by the Conservation Department that it is too early to tell whether emergency conditions will develop this winter qualifying Michigan for the use of surplus federal grain to help whitetails. Game men say it will take until at least mid-February to determine if a serious starvation threat is building up against these animals.

During most winters, signs of starvation normally don't start showing up to any great degree until the latter part of February. From then through spring breakup, deer usually have their hardest time finding enough food and their stamina wears increasingly thin.

Some winters the pinch period for deer does not reach serious proportions.

If and when emergencies develop this winter, the department will again assist local groups in getting surplus grain to feed deer.

Under terms of a law passed by Congress in 1961, the department is authorized to requisition grain for emergency wildlife feedings from the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC).

The U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife must certify that an emergency situation exists in areas where feedings are proposed. Grain is released at CCC elevators in Michigan to groups which have cleared their applications through the Department.

PKC Event Is Sunday

Expect 515 Dogs for Show

A total of 515 dogs will chase the cars out of The Pontiac Retail Store Sunday.

They will be trying to win The Pontiac Press best in show award at the annual Pontiac Kennel Club all-breed dog show and obedience trial.

The dogs will begin parading before the judges at 9 a.m. The winner will be known about 5 p.m.

Not all of the dogs entered will be eligible for The Press trophy. Thirty-eight will compete in obedience. The Press award is for "the best looking" canine.

The entries are up over the 1962 winter show.

Last year there were 498 dogs and 502 entries. There are 522 entries this time. A jump of 17 dogs in the obedience class is the reason for the increase.

"This is the largest obedience entry we have ever had," said Frank Grant, chairman of the obedience class.

UNBENCHED SHOW

This will be an unbench show, meaning that the dogs may be removed from the building as soon as they are eliminated from competition. Most of the dogs will be in the building during the morning.

German Shepherd dogs topped the entry list with 26.

Many of the dogs will compete in The Progressive Show at the State Fairgrounds Saturday.

Following is the judging schedule:

Ring 1 (9 a.m. to 3 p.m.)—pointers, retrievers, spaniels, setters, weimaraners, basset hounds and 15-inch beagles.

Ring 2 (9 a.m. to 3 p.m.)—Dalmatians, dachshunds, pugs, schipperkes, bulldogs, Boston terriers, miniature pinschers, Afghans, Norwegian Elkhounds, chows, Pekingese, papillons, Marese, chihuahuas, Pomeranians, poodles and greyhounds.

Ring 3 (9 a.m. to 3 p.m.)—Terriers, basenjis, malamutes, Doberman pinschers, huskies, boxers, St. Bernards, schnauzers, corgi, collies, borzois, sheepdogs.

The junior showmanship competition will be at 3:30 p.m. Group judging will start at 4:30 p.m. Obedience dogs will be in the ring from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Some of the unusual dogs scheduled to appear are Belgian Turvuren, Bouvier des Flandres, Great Pyrenees and Shih Tsus.

Sports, Boat Show to Run Nine Days

Detroit's first Sports, Boat and Vacation Show in six years opens Saturday in Cobo Hall with more than 100 exhibitors in recreation, outdoor living and resorts presenting their wares to the public. The show runs for nine days—through Sunday, Jan. 27.

Hours for the show are from 12 Noon until 11 p. m. each day.

Participation sports from archery to scuba diving will be represented. Golfers will be able to swing away on an electronic golf range.

Little Leaguers, Babe Ruth players, high school batsmen and fathers will have an opportunity to test their prowess in the automatic batting cages, manned by members of the March of Dimes team — Al Kaline, Vic Wertz and Charley Gehringer — and other professional athletes.

Local and national manufacturers will display the latest models of watercraft from cruisers to canoes. Outboard motors and other boating accessories also will be shown.

CAMPING DISPLAYS

Mobile homes, camping trailers and all outdoor-living innovations are to be set up in the giant exhibition hall, in addition to displays by resorts and travel services telling where to go during vacation time.

Cobo Hall also will become a "Fisherman's Paradise" with displays of fishing tackle and a trout pond where anglers can test their skill and fish for their dinner.

Special stage shows will be presented each day with Warren Covington's 14-piece band providing the music, the Rhythm Kings providing dancing, Paul Lennon handling comedy chores and Jan Wynn, popular vocalist, presenting her interpretations of ballads.

All that's new in fishing, hunting, water-skiing and other activities associated with Michigan's Water Wonderland will be shown in booths lining the exhibit area.

Special exhibits from the United States Navy, U. S. Coast Guard and the Coast Guard Auxiliary also will be shown.

The show will be the first of its kind to be presented at Cobo Hall.

Pheasant Numbers Well Above Level

Michigan's pheasant population is well above the 1961 post-season level, judging from results of an annual survey carried out by some 600 rural mail carriers between late November and early December.

Sightings in the state's primary ringneck range averaged 2.8 birds per 100 miles of driving, with gains reported in all southern areas.

The average count of mall carriers, who logged about 400,000 miles during the survey, was twice as high as a year ago.

Part of the increase is linked with the presence of snow during the survey's final days which made birds easier to see. Few areas had snow on the ground when counts were made following the 1961 season.

Results of the recent survey show a sex ratio of one rooster to 2.5 hens which indicates hunters harvested about 60 per cent of last fall's male birds. This is a drop of five per cent from 1961.

Some Changes May Be Due

Romney Plans Conservation Study

LANSING (UPI)—The two major areas of concern to outdoor interests in Michigan—tourism and conservation—will get different treatment by Gov. George Romney.

Tourism will gain a strong boost in its efforts to promote the industry, but little promise of great financial strides in the immediate future.

Conservation has been given both a warning and a promise of things to come.

The Republican governor said it appeared Michigan was not "receiving the type of state leadership the situation (in conservation) demands."

"I intend to probe deeply into the organization, management and operation of the Department of Conservation," he said. "There is definite need to restore department morale and effectiveness."

Multiple use of private lands for recreational purposes, expansion of state parks, and special assistance to make the best use of the upper peninsula's natural resources will be emphasized in Romney's legislative program.

FUTURE HOPES

The department was told it would get support for its future hopes to gain additional bonding powers under the state park bonding program. Funds from this program are used to acquire new park sites and develop existing recreational facilities.

"I intend to devote full support to a stronger tourist business," the governor said, citing tourism as the No. 2 or No. 3 industry in the state.

He urged the industry to promote Michigan as a four-season state.

The present promotion of the $65 million a year industry is not sufficient, Romney said. "Michigan's tourist business does not accurately reflect our assets and our potential. Our immediate aim must be a billion-dollar-a-year business."

"I have been in states where the sun shines 265 days a year," Romney said. "It is this type of climate which created the sahara and it is very monotonous. Michigan must be promoted not merely as a summer wonderland—which it is—but as a four-season vacation haven—which it is also."

Michigan's Tourist Council, which asks annually for sharp increases in its promotional budget, was given little hope for full support of this plea.

"Although advertising and promotional dollars for tourism are restricted by our limited resource base, we must make the maximum efficient use of what we have," he said.

Romney said his budget, to be presented to the legislature this month, would "propose modest increases" in the area of tourist promotion.

National, State Shooting Events Set at OCSC

The Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will host three state and two national sectional small bore rifle and pistol events this year.

Following is the schedule:

March 9-10 — National small bore indoor sectional matches.

April 13-14 — Michigan indoor championships.

May 18 — Michigan junior outdoor championships.

May 19 — National junior outdoor sectional 4-position matches.

July 6-7 — Michigan small bore outdoor championships.

Dog Demonstrations Scheduled by SMOTC

Two Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club demonstrations are scheduled tonight at the CAI Building on Williams Lake Road in Waterford and Thursday at Whitfield school on Orchard Lake Road in Pontiac.

Registrations for the 10-week dog obedience training classes at the sites will be taken after the 8 o'clock demonstrations. People attending are requested to leave their dogs home.

Closing of Duck Season Possibility in Canada

OTTAWA (AP)—The prospect of prohibiting duck hunting in Canada for one or two years may not be as remote as some hunters think.

The ornithologists making such proposals are no mere alarmists. They are regarded as expert and responsible men who know what they are talking about.

These men say the ducks are in danger. And these are the men on whose recommendations the shooting laws are made from year to year—the men who had the bag limits reduced last fall.

A shooting ban would be an extreme step. But within the last few years it has been seriously considered at least once by the Canadian Wildlife Service, the federal agency within the resources department.

For three years low water levels on the prairie breeding grounds have gravely reduced the duck population. The decline can be traced back further, to 1958, though there was a slight recovery in 1959.

Dr. David Munro, chief ornithologist for the Wildlife Service, said in an interview that if the situation gets worse the outright abolition of hunting will again be "very seriously considered."

TOO EARLY

However, he stressed that it still is too early to predict how next fall's shoot will be controlled. This will depend on several factors.

One of these is the mid-winter duck inventory in the south, results of which will be known this month. Another is the hunter-kill survey carried out in most of the provinces and all of the states in the U.S. That result will appear in the spring.

Still another factor is the amount of snowfall the prairies get this winter. "So far it doesn't look good at all," Dr. Munro said.

Typical of the way in which the situation is regarded is a recent speech in the Montreal Audubon Society by Roy E. Coy, a naturalist from Missouri. He said duck hunting in North America should be prohibited for a couple of years.

RARE CATCH — This rare cow shark, first of its type seen off North America in 75 years, is shown on the deck of a U.S. Fish and Wildlife service exploratory vessel after being netted in the Gulf of Mexico. The shark, 13 feet long and weighing 2,000 pounds, is the first caught in the Gulf. The only other cow shark, classed as a non-maneater, was in 1886 near Currituck Lighthouse, N.C.

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Have you ever thought of brilliant students as being handicapped?

They are! But it is a peculiar type of handicap, one that too many times goes unrecognized.

Take Janice for example.

Janice was a gifted girl. She made A's in all her subjects. She listened in class and skimmed her textbooks. Success came easily.

In high school, however, Janice's nonchalant approach to learning and thinking suddenly failed her. She got her first F in chemistry. It came as a stunning blow.

Fortunately, Janice's teacher recognized her problem.

UNEXPECTED CHALLENGE

She had never before needed to struggle for precise understanding. The teacher showed her how to study and Janice was intelligent enough to change her study pattern.

Janice went on to major in science — but had she had a less-understanding teacher, another scientist might have been lost to America when we need them the most.

Superior students have other problems, too.

Take Jack, for instance, with his IQ of 140. He went through high school with straight A's. But, in his freshman year at engineering school, he got an F in math.

An examination of his papers disclosed his problem.

His handwriting was small and cramped. His answers were brief. He left out at least half the steps in the solution of the problems.

With his unusual mind, he worked out the problems mentally. He wrote only the answers. He had learned to avoid writing in other classes as well.

Jack spent a summer learning to express himself and to organize the solutions to problems on paper. He came back to make an outstanding record.

A third pitfall for the gifted stems from their exceptional ability to memorize.

Sam, for example, was able to picture everything he read, including the solutions to complicated mathematical problems.

When confronted with a problem on a test, he simply called up a mental picture of the answer. He passed tests with ease.

Sam's downfall came in college. Examinations no longer dealt solely with facts. He had to learn to organize ideas and relate them to each other.

He struggled each day to think out each concept in words and get an overall view of ideas and their relationships. He learned to review for exams by thinking over all the materials into a pattern.

Soon he was back to his A grades and headed toward a law degree.

Remember, the gifted student often needs help as much as the retarded.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

In international competition it is proper to use as many artificial conventions as desired. The only provision is that they must be listed in advance of play and made available to your opponents so that they will know the meaning of your conventions.

Bobby Jordan and Arthur Robinson have a very special bid after an opening no-trump. Their no-trump is usually in the 15 to 17 range but occasionally they bid with 18 so they use the immediate four diamond response to ask for point count. The opener rebids four hearts with a minimum (15 or a bad looking 16), four spades with 16 or a sorry 17, four no-trump with 17 or a weak 18; they jump to six no-trump with a good 18.

North holds 19 points opposite his partner's no-trump. He intends to bid at least six, but the Jordan - Robinson bid lets him get to seven when his four diamond response sends South to six no-trump to show a maximum opener. South's 18 plus 19 equals 37 and should be enough for a grand slam.

The grand slam is also a lay down. South has 13 tricks in top cards and does not have to worry about the jack of spades and queen of clubs held against him. It is also likely that most readers also could reach that nice contract, but the Jordan - Robinson method is certainly an easy one.

Q—The bidding has been:
South West North East
1♦ Pass 1♦ Pass
1♥ Pass 3♥ Pass

A—You, South, hold:
♠AQT6 ♣AQ76 ♦2 ♣KJ52
What do you do?
A—Bid three spades. This hand looks slamish, but there is no hurry about getting there.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid three spades and your partner bids four clubs. What do you do now?

For Thursday
The "what man controls his destiny" Astrology points the way. "ARIES" (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Some recent "obstacle courses" are removed. Road is smoother. Start taking initiative. Stress originality, independence, but delay long-term agreements. You begin "getting out from under."
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Jet-age news may affect you personally. Be ready, willing, and ready to go. Versatility is key—and so is sense of humor. Heavy-handed methods will gain nothing.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Desire for greater freedom evident. Excellent time to make plans for future. Attend to details. But don't be so concerned with routine that you miss "big picture." Give attention to family.
CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Emotions fluctuate. Lack of organization may cause problems. Be sure, confident. Do one thing at a time. Don't permit others to extract foolish promises.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Chance now to meet new people, make new friends. Excellent for entertaining at home. Invite guests who bring interesting people. Spread your wings! Work toward aspirations.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Temptation to SPEND is strong. Nothing wrong with acquiring additional goods. But be sure you are aware of what you are buying. Investigate. Ask questions. Go for quality. And remember budget!
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Activity comes lively conversation involved. Keep it on right plane. Avoid common gossip, emotions to REBOUND. Excellent for actions. Accept NEW IDEAS.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Be discreet. Avoid tipping hand. Some friends are better kept secret. Tendency is to reveal facts to WRONG PERSON. You could learn valuable lesson. Recede knowledge when it is presented.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Act on conviction. Refuse to be discouraged. Recent problem can be solved easier than you may imagine. Go with tide. Don't create obstacles by stubborn actions. Accept NEW IDEAS.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Maintain PERSONAL PRIDE. Refuse to take abuse professionally or personally. By respecting yourself, you encourage others to RESPECT YOU. Excellent for activity in neighborhood project.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Read Gemini message. Eliza's yourself ABOVE PETTY ACTIONS. Libra individual helpful. Your potential. TRUST ME. Live up to it! Relax to night. But do so by reading, absorbing knowledge.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Necessary to get details out of way early. Discuss money matters with family members. Keep open mind. Apply original methods. Don't be "bullied" into following mass trends. Exhibit "poetic sense."

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY
You have sense of fairness and are willing to take on added responsibility.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle up for VIRGO, LIBRA, SCORPIO. New space-communication achievements indicated.

Mart Takes Fairly Sharp Dip

NEW YORK (AP)—High-stepping Chrysler was clipped by profit taking and the stock market as a whole took a fairly sharp dip early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

For the first time this year, the list seemed to be going through a genuine correction of its sustained rally, even though many key stocks either lost small fractions or traded unchanged.

While there was nothing dramatic about such a loss, it would be the largest of 1963 if it were maintained to the market close.

Chrysler was down more than 1% at worst, later shading the loss. Chrysler fell victim to profit-taking by traders, brokers said. The stock, at its latest high of 85 1/2, was selling at a peak price since 1956, having risen from a 1962 low of 30 1/2.

Analysts saw no change in the current glowing prospects for Chrysler.

U.S. Bonds Advance Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. government bonds advanced slightly at the opening today while corporate rates were mixed.

Over-the-counter dealers in Treasury securities quoted some long maturities including the new utilities were irregular.

Rails tended to dip in corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Industrials and long maturities including the new utilities were irregular.

Says JFK May Act in Dock Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—An assistant secretary of labor says President Kennedy may act in the 25-day-old dock strike if the issues are not narrowed here today in what is billed as a "final attempt" at settlement.

Assistant Secretary James J. Reynolds says that if union and industry representatives don't show "substantial progress" he will return to Washington and report to Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz who in turn will report to the President.

Reynolds made the statement late yesterday after several separate meetings with negotiators on each side.

NOT SPECIFIC
He did not say what action Kennedy might take in an effort to halt the Atlantic and Gulf coasts strike by 60,000 men, that has crippled shipping in ports from Maine to Texas.

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger declined in Washington to comment on Reynolds' statement.

Unless there is a settlement soon, the President will be required by the Taft-Hartley Act to report the situation to Congress along with any special legislative plans he might have to end the deadlock.

Kennedy ended a four-day dock strike last October by invoking the national emergency clauses of the Taft-Hartley Act. An 80-day cooling-off period was ordered, and the men went back to work. When the 80-day injunction expired without a contract agreement, the dockers resumed the strike Dec. 23.

Fire Damages Car, Company Building

A fire yesterday at the Gold Crest Muffler Service, 973 Orchard Lake Road, caused an estimated $650 damage to an automobile and $150 damage to building and contents.

The fire started when a cutting torch ignited the car's gasoline tank, according to Pontiac firemen. The torch was being used to remove an old muffler from the car.

The car is owned by R. F. Boss, 4009 Airport Road, Waterford Township.

Gets Probation in Purse Case

A 30-year-old Livonia man who changed his mind about returning a lost purse yesterday was placed on a year's probation and ordered to make restitution of $85 by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Norman J. Derrick, 30, entered a guilty plea to simple larceny Jan. 4 after previously pleading innocent to a charge of grand larceny.

He was accused of taking a purse belonging to Mrs. Gladys Hartford of Willis after the purse fell from Mrs. Hartford's car as she drove away from a curb in Walled Lake.

She had placed the purse on top of the car and while opening the car door and then forgot it.

Police said Derrick admitted picking up the purse and following Mrs. Hartford in his car with an intention of returning it but changed his mind after following for a few blocks.

Manager Richard Campbell, 5705 Hummingbird Lane, Independence Township, told police he placed the missing money in the safe Monday night. The safe had been locked before he opened it yesterday, Campbell said.

Didn't Trust Banks
PALERMO, Sicily (U)—Sheep raiser Ignazio Gioia told police yesterday that burglars broke into his home and stole his life savings of $3,000,000 lire ($5,000). Even more sadly, he told them he had just brought the money home from the bank for safekeeping, be-

The comforting—if not warming—word came from Dr. George Agate, director of the department's division of communicable diseases.

Cold weather, he said, tends to slow the growth of germs. It also acts to restrict community gatherings where germs are spread. On the other hand, he said, there is likely to be more spreading of germs in the family unit because of closer contact.

There always is the danger, he added, of frostbite or weakening because of prolonged exposure to the cold to make a person more vulnerable to sickness.

"Nice, clear cold weather is generally healthy," Dr. Agate concluded. "Our friends in the Upper Peninsula always claim they catch more sicknesses when they come to Lower Michigan than they get in the north country where they have a more constant cold. You hardly ever see an unhealthy skier or winter sports enthusiast either."

Stahlin said Belding said in a Circuit Court deposition that all the information for his charges against Richard A. Durant, 14th District GOP chairman, was collected by Charles A. Ferry, 36, of 165 Wimpole Drive.

Appearing at a pretrial hearing in the case, Stahlin thus contradicted last September's testimony by Ferry, his press secretary and confidant.

Ferry, who drafted the charges which Stahlin filed against Durant with the Fair Campaign Practices Commission and issued a press release based on them, had testified that all information came from Stahlin.

SOME FROM BAGWELL
Stahlin said, however, that the eight-page letter he sent to the commission was prepared by Ferry with information, some of which, he said, was given to him by Paul Bagwell, twice unsuccessful GOP candidate for governor.

Stahlin was one of two aspirants for the 1962 Republican nomination for lieutenant governor who were defeated by Clarence A. Reid.

"Ferry got carried away," Stahlin testified at the hearing before Circuit Judge Horace W. Gilmore.

"He let his literary genius get out of hand. I relied on Ferry. He assured me the material had been checked," Stahlin said.

Under questioning by Larry S. Davidow, Durant's attorney, Stahlin said he had the letter read to him on the telephone and signed it, but couldn't remember what specifically was in it.

This prompted Davidow to charge that what "this witness did was part of a conspiracy to destroy Mr. Durant politically, and that this man was a fall guy, if I may use the term, to effectuate that conspiratorial program."

Leach pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny Dec. 26. He was accused of taking the money Aug. 11 from Anderson's Pharmacy, 1192 W. Maple Road, where he was employed at the time.

He was arrested by FBI agents in California last month on a warrant for interstate flight to avoid prosecution. He told police he took the money to pay Las Vegas, Nev. gambling debts.

Attorney Says Action Due if Zone Changed

An attorney representing the owner of a four-acre parcel that would be changed from light manufacturing to a residential classification in the proposed new Waterford Township zoning ordinance, threatened court action last night if the change is effected.

W. E. Jackson, Drayton Plains attorney, objected to the proposed new zoning of the area at the southwest corner of Pontiac Lake and Crescent Lake Roads, owned by Harry Bartram of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Zoning board members at last night's first of two scheduled hearings on the proposed ordinance explained that development of the surrounding area was the basis for their decision to change zoning on Bartram's property.

Some 25 persons attended the hearing including representatives of three utility firms. The second hearing is slated for 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Pierce Junior High School.

SAE National Meeting

Scientists Show Model of Lunar Vehicle

A mobile model of a moon car was unveiled by Chrysler Corp. scientists Philip W. Lett and Lovell Lawrence Jr. at the national meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers in Detroit today.

The moon car — a six-wheeled, two-passenger vehicle — operates on liquid hydrogen and oxygen, and could climb across crevices and travel effortlessly over the moon's powdery surface, Lett and Lawrence say.

The 12-foot-long, 90-inch-wide vehicle would provide ample comfort for two astronauts who, scientists feel, would be forerunners to establish permanent lunar bases.

Lett is chief engineer in defense engineering and Lawrence is director of Chrysler's Defense Space group's advance projects organization.

The car underwent hundreds of tests under conditions which are believed to exist on the moon, before the design and shape were determined.

In designing the wheel, scientists developed a cylindrical wheel with cleats which they felt would provide greater mobility.

The engine would provide three horsepower to the wheels and a maximum speed of 10 miles per hour.

A full-sized moon car would weigh about 3,800 pounds on earth but only about 650 pounds on the moon's surface because of reduced gravitational forces there.

Two-Word TV 'Bloop' May Start Little Feud

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — It's been a long time since a fiery television feud started blazing. The last intramural battle was when Jack Paar walked off his show in a rage at his bosses.

Now a little conflagration has started. On Thursday last a comedian on NBC's "Tonight Show," starring Johnny Carson, mentioned casually that he had been watching "The Merv Griffin Show," a program on the same network. However, when the "Tonight Show" went on the air that night, two words—"Merv Griffin"—had obviously been erased from the sound track.

This is called "blooping," and is normally used to erase offensive, libelous or slanderous language. It is rarely used to eliminate references to programs even on rival networks.

So on Friday, an annoyed and sarcastic Griffin talked about it on his own show. "I was blooped out of a show on the same network I work for," he confided sadly. "Is Merv the new four-letter word? Their mistake might have been to turn on the sound for the rest of the show, you know."

This turned into an embarrassing situation. An NBC spokesman explained that the two-word bloop was the result of "a mistaken, emotional reaction" by Perry Cross, producer of the "Tonight Show."

"He was disturbed about newspaper reports — completely unfounded and untrue — that NBC was unhappy about the 'Tonight Show' and planned to replace Carson with Griffin," he continued. "He's sorry he did. But the important thing is that he did it without the knowledge of NBC or of Carson."

Carson is away on a short vacation from the show.

Although the "Tonight Show" under Carson's leadership has not been generating as much as it did in the old turbulent Paar days, it seems to be holding its own nicely in the ratings. They are just about the same as they were a year ago when Paar was around—some 35 per cent of the audience watching television that late at night.

But anyway, a good blazing feud adds zest to viewing.

High-Ranking Russians to Visit Detroit on Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four high-ranking Russian health officials will visit Detroit within the next month as part of a coast-to-coast tour designed to show them what Americans are doing about air pollution problems.

Dr. Luther L. Terry, surgeon general of the Public Health Service, said the visitors, headed by N. F. Izmerov, deputy health minister, are in this country under an exchange agreement that took a team of Americans to the Soviet Union last September to observe sanitation and public health activities.

'Lucky' Boys Now in Seoul Were 'Chosen' by Caroline

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Bob Hope's spoofing the whole world in his NBC tonight in the Perry Como spot. Part of the film was shot in Seoul, Korea, where Lana Turner asked Bob:

"How come these boys were so 'lucky', Bob, as to be stationed in a place like Seoul?"

"You see they have a great big board there in Washington," Bob said, "and these boys are the ones that Caroline pinned the donkey's tail on."

Bob kids around with Janis Paige, Anita Bryant, and Amedee Chabot (Miss U.S.A.). Bob announces: "Bobby Kennedy swears he's going to get Jimmy Hoffa if it takes every cent we've got."

The Lambs Club is reviving stories of its famous members—a favorite concerns the late Ring Lardner who would sit in one corner for days, not talking, just drinking.

"Once," says Bert Wheeler, "Ring called the club bore, who recited a particularly excruciating poem, and asked him to recite it again, and still a third time. The bore finally said, 'Ring, I didn't know you liked this poem that much.'"

"I don't. I hate the poem," Lardner said. "But I've been on a drunk for three days and I'm doing my penance."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Vacationing Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme passed up the sunny South and headed to northern N.Y. to skate and go tobogganing. . . Arthur Godfrey'll fly several guests in his own plane to Aruba for some sailing—and he'll also tape radio spots. . . Bruce Prochnik, the 14-year-old "Oliver," realizes that he's about had it already—he's outgrowing the part.

EARL'S PEARLS: "A headline announces 'Censorship of literature is wanted,' but we believe it's a censorship of what's NOT literature that is wanted."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A scientist says that in another 100 years there'll be no blondes left in the country. No doubt that's true; it's hard to leave one now.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "We heard of a fellow in Nebraska who found a car where the glove compartment had gloves in it." The hot stove league'll be functioning soon again and we remind them of Yogi Berra's deathless crack about next season or any season, "When people don't want to go to ball games, there ain't nothin' you can do to stop 'em." . . . That's earl, brother. (Copyright, 1963)

Supervisors Seek to Amend State Jury Commission Act

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday agreed to seek an amendment to the Jury Commission Act, which was recently passed by the State Legislature at the board's request.

The amendment, if approved in Lansing, would permit the board to appoint three jury commissioners for two years instead of for six years as now prescribed in the act.

The board's present action was recommended by its ways and means committee because members felt that a commission to select prospective jurors should be enacted here on a trial basis. Six years would be too long for this purpose, they maintained.

The county's jury panels presently are selected by city assessors and township supervisors from municipal tax roles. This method has been challenged on grounds that it limits the selection to property owners.

Rural supervisors have been accused of seeking to perpetuate the present system on the grounds that it affords them patronage among their constituents.

Several supervisors yesterday said they now favor a jury commission to select prospective jurors from voter registrations.

The Oakland County Bar Association has contended that this will assure more representative juries and eliminate repeaters.

Sander Levin, supervisor from Berkley, sought a vote on the jury commission question now, regardless of length of terms. Levin also is chairman of the County Democratic Committee and an attorney.

Levin's motion was denied. But he said afterward the ensuing discussion assured that the question of a jury commission would be voted on by the supervisors later, regardless of whether the legislature agrees to amend the act.

In other action, the board of supervisors deferred any decision on increasing the salaries of County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry and Deputy Commissioner Robert Evans as agents for the Southeast Oakland County Sewage Disposal District, until the 14 municipalities in the district have had an opportunity to consider the proposal and make a recommendation.

The board's drain committee is recommending that Barry's salary as agent be increased from $1,200 annually to $4,000 and that Evans as deputy agent receive an increase from $800 to $3,000 annually.

The agents' salaries are paid for developing the district's sewage facilities, and are additional to their salaries as drain commissioner and deputy drain commissioner.

The commissioner, as an elected official, is paid $15,000 annually. His deputy received $10,000 annually.

Say UPI Executive Improves in Hospital

BAY CITY (UPI)—James J. Klockenkemper, 36, Detroit, UPI regional executive for Michigan, was reported making satisfactory progress at Bay City Mercy Hospital today.

His condition, however, was still listed as critical.

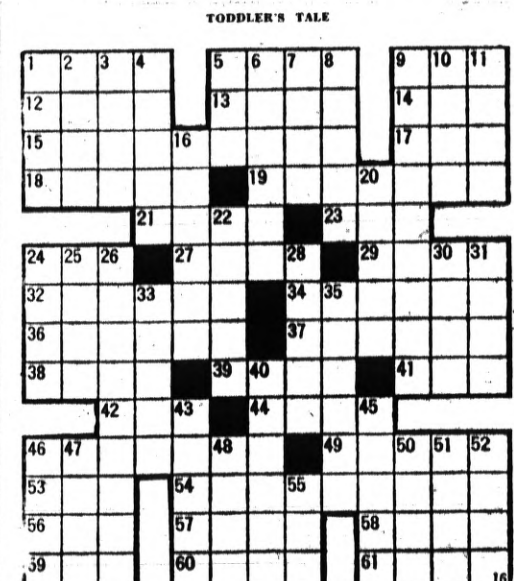

Klockenkemper was injured Saturday in an auto accident near Clare.

Members of the family said that while his condition had not changed appreciably, his "chances are improving."

Four Governors

Keynotes of Inaugural Addresses

By the Associated Press
Here are keynotes of the messages of four governors sworn in yesterday:

William W. Scranton, Republican, of Pennsylvania—"Our commonwealth has the resources, the human strength, the get-up-and-go from which greatness is made."

Donald S. Russell, Democrat, of South Carolina—"Of course, financial needs will not be the only problem for education. There will be other and varied difficulties."

"But we shall meet with courage whatever the future holds for us, and we shall work out our problems peaceably, according to our standards of justice and decency."

Carl E. Sanders, Democrat, of Georgia—"We are faced with both the greatest challenge and the brightest promise of our history... we shall apply as the test of our progress not whether we add to those who have much, but whether we provide larger opportunities for those who have little."

Frank G. Clement, Democrat, of Tennessee—"When state government remains stagnant it becomes stale, inept and inadequate."

Research Growth Possible With Defense Money

DETROIT (AP)—An Army general yesterday said defense spending could lead "to a resurgence and rapid expansion of research and development activities throughout the university-industrial complex of Michigan."

Maj. Gen. Alden K. Sibley made the remark at a luncheon of the Society of Automotive Engineers here.

Sibley, commander of the U.S. Army Mobility Command headquarters here, said Michigan,

"with its 200 industrial laboratories and its rapidly growing university research programs, is the largest such concentration in the Midwest."

State in India to Free 10 Rare White Tigers

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Ten rare white tigers of Rewa State will be released soon in the central Indian jungles of Shahdol because their upkeep in captivity is too expensive, it was reported today.

One of the albinos was purchased for an American zoo last year at what was described as a "fabulous price."

Other Firms to Follow Blue Cross Hike Lead

DETROIT (AP)—Commercial firms offering hospital and medical insurance will raise their rates after any increases by Blue Cross and Blue Shield and some may do so even beforehand, a hospital organization spokesman said today.

Jacques Cousin, executive director of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council, said these companies will increase their rates "or they already have raised them."

Blue Cross, the prepaid hospital plan, and Blue Shield, which provides prepaid medical care, have applied to the state insurance commissioner for an average 27 per cent rate increase.

Commissioner Sherwood Colburn has said he will hold extensive hearings on the applications.

Private companies are not required to get the insurance commissioner's approval to raise rates, Cousin pointed out.

In such instances the commissioner acts only on the actuarial soundness of increases. Blue Cross and Blue Shield come under a state law governing non-profit organizations.

Cousin said a study of commercial insurance plans showed the companies increased their rates from 13 to 190 per cent during 1961 and 1962.

Five of the more than two score companies increased their rates by more than 100 per cent, he said.

He said these increases followed the 16 per cent average rate increase for Blue Cross and Blue Shield in 1961.

Cousin said studies by the governor's commission on prepaid hospital and medical care plans disclosed that when commercial firms provide the same benefits as Blue Cross and Blue Shield the costs are the same.

He added, however, that policies of commercial firms generally are with a "healthier population."

More Daylight, but Still Cold

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Don't let the longer hours of daylight get your hopes for the coming of spring up too high, says Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan astronomer.

By the end of January, daylight time will be nearly 50 minutes longer than it was in December, she said.

But the Earth's daily rate of heating still has not overtaken its rate of cooling, which is what determines the general temperature ranges, she added. That will not happen until early February.

U. S. Aid Nears India

NEW DELHI (UPI)—The U.S. Navy transport Gammon will arrive in the east coast port of Vishakhapatnam Thursday with the second shipload of U.S. military aid, it was reported yesterday.

K Says No to Warlike Policy

From Our News Wires
BERLIN — Soviet Premier Khrushchev told his Communist comrades today the United States has 40,000 atomic or nuclear warheads and Communist policy cannot be based on war.
If all the American bombs were dropped, he said, 700 million to 800 million people would be killed and whole nations wiped out.
Departing from his text Khrushchev then brandished the Soviet Union's giant nuclear bomb, implying it could be used only against the United States.
"Dear comrades, now I tell you a secret," he said. "Our scientists have developed a new 100-megaton bomb. This bomb could not be used in Western Europe because it would hit France and Germany and you too. This bomb could only be used overseas against a potential aggressor."

denounced the warlike theories of Red China.
In a two-hour, 35-minute address to the sixth East German Communist party congress in East Berlin, the Soviet leader warned there can be no East-West disarmament agreement until the Berlin and German issues are settled.
But he refrained from any new ultimatum or deadline to the West.
ANSWERS CHINESE
In his wide-ranging speech, Khrushchev answered the Chinese Communists who have accused him of being afraid of a "paper tiger"—the United States

—when he backed down on Cuba. Khrushchev didn't mention the Red Chinese by name. He maintained the fiction of attacking them through their ideological allies in Albania, but it was clear his arguments were meant for Peking.
He called for a peaceful solution to East-West problems, saying "We do not want a kingdom in heaven — we want a beautiful empire on earth."
"For that reason we act with a sense of responsibility. We do not want war. But if one is forced on us, we shall hit back."
Khrushchev clearly disappointed his East German audience by his treatment of the West

Berlin problem and by the fact he obviously has put it on ice for the time being.
He paid lip service to the idea of a German peace treaty but made it clear he would take no steps against the Western position.
There was little difference today from what he had told East German Communists in the same hall four years ago—except that this time there was no ultimatum and no deadline.
POSITION 'STRONGER'
He said the position of Communist East Germany had been greatly strengthened in the meantime, particularly by construction of the wall between West and East Berlin.

But he said the interest in a German peace treaty has not let up.
Speaking in quiet, sometimes almost professional tones, Khrushchev declared that "as long as a German peace treaty has not been signed it obviously will be difficult to expect serious progress towards concluding a disarmament agreement."
Khrushchev repeated earlier "offers" to conclude a peace treaty with both German states, to turn isolated West Berlin into a free city and to allow foreign troops to remain there for a while, provided they are under United Nations command and not that of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

In his speech Khrushchev also: —Declared he had saved communism in Cuba. —Assured the East German Communists that West German anti-Communist forces "will be swept away" in time, and Germany will be united as a Communist state.
SCOFFS AT CHINA
Pouring scorn in Red China's war-and-peace theories, Khrushchev warned that neither communism nor anyone else can win in a nuclear war because it would bring unimaginable destruction. The fight for peace, he went on, is the chief task of communism.

In a direct appeal for world communist unity, Khrushchev said the Albanians—and by implication the Red Chinese—"must abandon their path if they want to go with us."
In emotional tones he told the 2,500 applauding delegates from 70 countries: "If the Albanian leaders have the welfare of their people and good relations with the Soviet Union at heart, they must give up their ways and return to the road of unity."

No Cold Relief Seen for Stricken Midwest

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Another blast of subzero cold in the nation's midsection today indicated no immediate relief from a prolonged spell of frigid weather. Unseasonable temperatures, except in some Southern sections, chilled most parts of the nation.
The below-zero belt widened. Arctic air spread from the Midwest into the Northeast and temperatures dropped to subzero marks in parts of Ohio, northern New England and sections of New York State.
Low readings in the Northeast included -12 in Caribou, Maine; -10 in Lebanon, N.H., and Watertown, N.Y., and -9 in Massena, N.Y., and Old Town, Maine.
The most intense cold again was in the Midwest. In Wisconsin the mercury plunged to 35 below zero in Lone Rock, near Madison. That compared with Tuesday's low of -44 and the nation's coldest reading, -50, in Black River Falls, Wis. Record readings for the date were reported in many cities.

Skies were generally clear in the extreme cold belt although snow flurries fell in sections of the Great Lakes.
Yesterday, Indian River reported an unofficial 42 below zero, Cadillac 35 below, and Alpena 28 below. Those temperatures were considerably lower than the mercury readings today.

Leaves Tomorrow for Elisabethville Confab
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Cyrille Adoula today named Joseph Ileo, 40, a quiet and studious ex-premier, to become resident minister for the Congo central government in Katanga.
ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (UPI)—Provincial President Moise Tshombe will return to Elisabethville tomorrow to confer with United Nations officials on ending Katanga's secession from the Congo, diplomatic sources said today.
U. N. troops kept alert near Kolwezi, Tshombe's last stronghold, pending proof that the Katangese leader would carry out his agreement on reunification.
The sources said Tshombe would fly here from Kolwezi to arrange for entry of U.N. troops into that mining center as a result of his surrender statement yesterday.
A Katanga government communique, monitored in Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo, said Tshombe would come to Elisabethville to meet a U.N. representative in line with instructions from U.N. Secretary General Thant.
A Katanga broadcast also charged that U.N. troops and planes attacked on a wide front in Katanga yesterday morning. It claimed "several persons were killed and several others wounded."

Fidel Urges Revolution

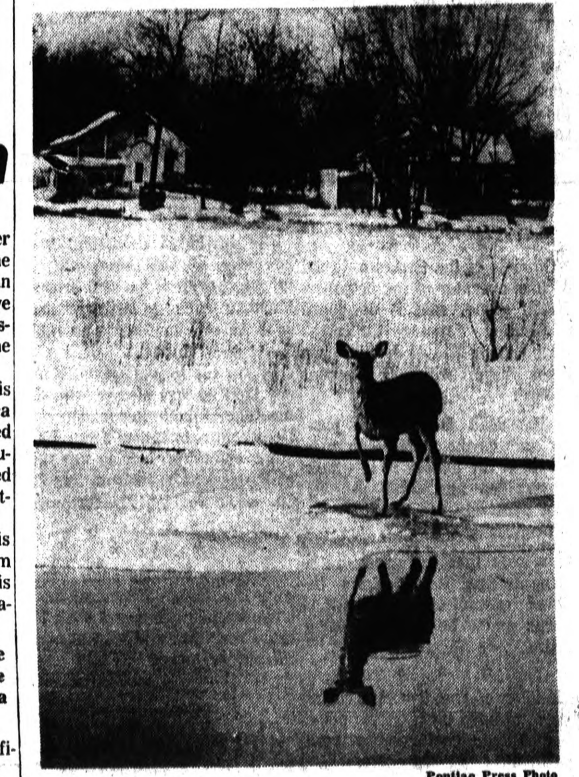

From Our News Wires
MIAMI — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro fell into step with Red China's hard line today and urged revolutionaries throughout Latin America to "hurl the masses into combat."
"That is the duty of revolutionary leaders," he said. "That is what they did in Algeria and what the (Communist) patriots are doing in South Vietnam... that is what we did too."

The bearded Cuban leader said that as far as he is concerned the Caribbean crisis has not ended.
Although Castro did not name the Soviet Union or Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, he assailed unidentified "critics" in a way that described Moscow and its policy of "peaceful coexistence."
In particular, Castro assailed "false interpretations of history." "Some Johnny-come-lately theoreticians have said that in Cuba there was a peaceful changeover from capitalism to socialism," he said. "If there had not been an armed fight by our people, we still would have Senor (ex-President Fulgencio) 'Made in the U.S.A.' Batista with us."

"The liberating movement is fighting... in Latin America and this fight needs all the united forces of the Socialist revolution," he shouted in a televised post-midnight speech which lasted nearly three hours.
The prime minister told his audience — mostly women from many Latin nations — its task is to lead the continent in Cuba-style revolutions.
"In the world in which the American woman lives, the woman necessarily has to be a revolutionary," he declared.
Cuba, he said, faces a difficult situation.
"In the first place, it is the fundamental target of imperialism," he said. "Second, there are divisions within the Socialist camp."
"I mean that for us the crisis of the Caribbean is not resolved. War is averted but the peace is not won. Our problem today is how to create all we require to satisfy our necessities."
"This is not easy to do with the claws of imperialism over us, with the incessant hostility of the most powerful and aggressive imperialistic nation in the world."
But, said Castro to prolonged applause, "This country never will be conquered. And if one day the Yankee imperialists, using all their strength and resources, decide to destroy this country, the most they will be able to do is destroy but not defeat us."

Landry Sees Rosy Future for Pontiac as 'New City'

"We are tonight on the threshold of a new adventure—the building of a new City of Pontiac."
With those words, Mayor Robert A. Landry summed up the destiny of this city in his "State of the City" report to Pontiac residents at last night's City Commission meeting.
The mayor's report covered accomplishments of the past year and gave indications of what the future may hold. It was the first report of its kind.
Landry hopes the "mayor's report to the people" will become an annual duty of future Pontiac mayors.
His report indicated the future holds both "promise" and in 1963, at least, "an increase in our tax rate."
His speech preceded a public hearing on Pontiac's proposed $7,045,435 budget for 1963. There were no objections voiced.
Still subject to change and revision, the budget will be prepared now for final adoption before the end of the month, as required by the city charter.
In contemplating the new year, Landry said "1963" looms as a year of great promise—a year that may well set the pattern for higher standards in the planning of our future social, economic and cultural development.
"With the cooperation of industry, labor, business and government, the future for 1963 looks bright indeed."

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — A thundering battle of the budget appears to be shaping up in Congress. Its outcome may determine how much of President Kennedy's proposed tax cuts and welfare legislation will get through.
Kennedy will present to Congress tomorrow a budget of around $99 billion. It will be accompanied by a Treasury estimate that the spending involved would add more than $10 billion to the deficit in the fiscal year beginning July 1.
No one in the administration regards it as a happy circumstance that the President will have to report so much projected red ink spending at a time he is asking Congress to slice about $6 billion off of tax receipts in the same year.
The reaction could affect his whole three-year, $13.5-billion tax reduction program. It could spell painful progress for welfare proposals he said Monday in his State of the Union message "we cannot afford to postpone."
Budget balancing has been a highly touted but noneffective activity in Congress in the last few years when defense and space expenditures have been pushing through the roof.
There is clear evidence that the old economy alliance of Republicans and conservative Democrats is being rewedded to oppose Kennedy domestic proposals such as those for establishment of a youth conservation corps, a domestic peace corps and large-scale aid to education.
The President's program for Social Security-financed health care for the elderly falls into a somewhat different category. It would put an added tax take on individuals at a time when Kennedy is asking that their income taxes be lowered.

Pontiac Sales Break Records

Auto Maker Sets New Jan. 1-10 Totals
Pontiac Motor Division continued to break all existing divisional sales records and GMC Truck & Coach Division had its best Jan. 1-10 sales total in seven years, during the first 10-day sales period of 1963.
Sales figures announced today by the local GM divisions followed a trend throughout the auto industry that indicated new car sales are off to a booming start in 1963.
Sales of new Pontiacs and Tempests totaled 14,126 in the Jan. 1-10 sales period — an all-time high for the period, according to Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager.
The old record was 13,212 set in 1951.
Calvin J. Werner, general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, said domestic retail deliveries of trucks and buses from Jan. 1-10 totaled 2,365 units.
This represented a 9.6 per cent increase over the same period last year and the best first 10-day sales period since 1956.

County Office Building for Sale Feb. 7

The Oakland County Office Building, containing the supervisors' auditorium, at 1 Lafayette St. will be offered for sale at public auction Feb. 7.
The County Board of Auditors — in charge of the sale — is hoping to get at least $220,000, the appraised value of the five-story brick building.
Chairman of the County Board of Supervisors Delos Hamlin announced yesterday that meetings held before the new auditorium is finished at the County Service Center will be in the courthouse library.
This will enable the county to withdraw completely from the downtown building Feb. 11 when offices there are to be moved into a wing of the new courthouse.
The new auditorium, adjacent to the wing, is scheduled for completion in April.
County officials at one time considered holding interim supervisors meetings in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Oakland, 761 W. Huron St., at the proposal of James Clarkson, firm president.
County Corporation Counsel Norman R. Barnard explained that such a move would raise (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Romney Woos Congressmen

WASHINGTON (U) — Gov. work out the problems in the state.

He was sure, he added, that all the state's members of Congress were concerned about finding solutions to the state's problems.

Seated with Romney at the head of the table in a dining room in the House side of the capitol were Rep. John Bennett, Republican, dean of the delegation, and Sen. Philip A. Hart, a Democrat.

Romney told reporters after the breakfast that his No. 1 concern was to have "good, effective communication and liaison with the entire Michigan delegation."

The governor said he had with him John B. Martin, Michigan GOP national committeeman, who would act as liaison contact between the state administration and Washington.

Romney said he also wanted all the members of the Michigan delegation to know he will seek reappointment of Michigan's congressional districts by the legislature this year.

He said he wanted the views of the delegation on how that would be best brought about.

The Michigan delegation was increased by one House seat, to 19, as a result of the 1960 census. Michigan failed to redistrict and, as a result, one seat was filled on an at-large basis.

In answer to a question, Romney said he was pleased with the meeting of both Republican and Democratic members from the state, and added nothing was said at the session to indicate that cooperation would not be forthcoming.

"I feel," Romney said, "that, while we have differences, there is general recognition of the need to do that which we can to meet current problems."

13 Die as Plane Crashes in Rain

Brazilian Liner Falls on Sao Paulo

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI)—A crippled Brazilian airliner overshoot the airfield here in a rainstorm yesterday and crashed in the city, killing at least 13 persons, injuring about 30 and wrecking 3 houses.

So far as was known, there were no Americans among the victims.

Officials of the Cruzeiro do Sul Airline, operator of the propeller-driven plane, said it developed unspecified "motor difficulty" after leaving Rio de Janeiro on a flight here with 45 persons aboard.

The dead included six passengers on the plane, four residents of the houses in which it crashed and three persons not positively identified.

Although it had been reported previously that the crew of the plane escaped injury, it was believed one of the unidentified bodies might be that of pilot Pedro P. de Moraes.

Neither of the two Americans known to have been on the plane was injured. Their names were not available immediately.

Yesterday's wreck was the latest of a half dozen recent Brazilian air crashes in which nearly 200 persons have been killed.

Troops from an army camp near the scene of the crash helped pull survivors from the flaming wreckage. Army medics administered emergency aid. Taxis rushed seriously injured survivors to hospitals.

The airliner approached the airport in heavy rain. An airport official said it was lined up right for the runway but was flying too high.

Karras Admits Grid Bet, Faces Action by Rozelle

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News said today that the admission by Detroit Lion tackle Alex Karras that he had bet on a game could mean possible disciplinary action by National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

The News said Karras, when asked during a taped television interview Sunday whether he had ever bet on a game, replied, "Yes, I have, but who hasn't?"

The newspaper said the admission places Karras in violation of a paragraph of the standard player's contract of the NFL.

The News said Karras, when asked during a taped television interview Sunday whether he had ever bet on a game, replied, "Yes, I have, but who hasn't?"

The newspaper said the admission places Karras in violation of a paragraph of the standard player's contract of the NFL.

which allows the commissioner to fine and suspend for life or indefinitely, and-or to cancel the contract of any player who bets on a game.

The News said the all-pro tackle, in a telephone call Tuesday night from Clinton, Iowa, the home of his father-in-law, said: "I haven't done anything dishonest and I'm sick and tired of being picked on. It's normal to make a small bet on yourself. It doesn't have to be with a bookmaker. It can be with a friend."

city organizations to "join together in rededicating all the actions of this governmental body to the common good and welfare of all our people."

Landry noted that "the big jobs must command our undivided attention throughout 1963."

The mayor more specifically predicted that the coming year would see "total clearance of our urban renewal lands in the central business district."

"Before this year passes," he said, "we will witness the actual building of new shopping areas and some of these new areas will be open for business in 1963."

He also predicted that new homes would spring up in the R20 urban renewal area, new park developments will be completed and "much relocation of small industry" will take place within the city limits.

He indicated there are now a number of small industries interested in locating here if and when enough vacant industrial land is available for development.

On the need for more tax revenues, Landry noted "We can no longer insure a low tax rate at the expense of laying off city employees, reverting to a 'bailing wire' type of maintenance on our city equipment, or by effecting further cutbacks on badly needed city services."

"Progress in any community is largely dependent upon whether its government and its people are willing to face the facts, and not supplement facts with fantasy."

He pointed to "the new faith in the city's administration" as a "heartening" factor.

"The feelings of hesitancy and reluctance to accept changes, on the part of some of our people, so much in evidence following last April's election, have all but disappeared."

capital. More than 100 central Congolese army officers are in the vicinity.

BROADCAST WARNINGS

The central government representatives have taken over Radio Katanga and are broadcasting daily warnings that the population must cooperate with the Leopoldville regime or face heavy penalties.

High U.N. military sources said the U.N. troops, poised near Kolwezi, would continue their build-up about 45 miles northwest of Jadotville.

The Indian contingents could drive on Kolwezi should Tshombe fail to back his words with actions. Kolwezi, a mining center and air base, is Tshombe's last Katangese stronghold.

While U.N. officials were hopeful that Tshombe would move fast to implement his agreement, they pointed out that several times in the past he made promises only to do an almost immediate about-face.

The Katangese leader announced yesterday in Kolwezi that he was ready to end Katanga's two and a half year secession, give the U.N. force freedom of movement throughout the province, and return to Elisabethville to work out plans for reunification with the rest of the Congo.

Tshombe also asked central government Premier Cyrille Adoula to sign an amnesty for Katangese officials, and to come to Elisabethville from Leopoldville for a meeting "to confirm the national reconciliation."

The U.S. Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals reversed a lower court decision in the case of Harvey B. Gantt, 19, of Charleston, S.C.

The opinion, only a week after arguments were heard, upsets the decision by Judge C. C. Wyche of the U.S. District Court for Western South Carolina.

Wyche ruled last month that Gantt had not proved by the evidence that he was denied admission solely because of his race.

Attorneys for Gantt, who made his bid to enter Clemson as a transfer student from Iowa State University at Ames, had argued it "is no accident" that "South Carolina is now the only Southern state which has not, either by court order or voluntarily, admitted Negro students to its institutions of higher learning attended by white persons."

JFK, Fanfani to Talk

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy and Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani today were expected to discuss French President Charles de Gaulle's obstinacy about British entry into the Common Market.

President Kennedy was to receive Fanfani with full military honors in a ceremony on the south lawn of the White House at 11:15 a.m. EST.

Right after that, the two men were to begin their first working meeting. They will continue their talks over lunch.

In the afternoon, Fanfani will meet with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of the Treasury C. Douglas Dillon.

Tonight, Rusk gives a dinner for Fanfani at Blair House, the presidential guest house across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House. Fanfani arrived yesterday evening, but spent the remainder of the evening alone with Italian officials.

Plan Session on Rep. Walton

House Group Begins Sifting Qualifications

DETROIT (U) — A five-member committee of the State House of Representatives planned to hear further testimony today on the qualifications of Democratic Rep.-elect Leonard S. Walton of northwest Detroit's 12th Legislative District.

The House, voting on party lines, refused a week ago to seat Walton pending a legislative investigation.

Walton is awaiting trial in Recorder's Court on a charge of violating state election laws by circulating campaign literature urging voters to "re-elect" him when he was running for a first term.

Opening an inquiry here yesterday, Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Birmingham, committee chairman, said it was not the purpose of the committee to prejudge any crime but to determine Walton's qualifications for office.

Hogan said a question of integrity was involved. He said the committee will gather evidence and submit its findings to the House Jan. 24.

William P. Harrington, defeated Republican candidate in the 12th District, told the committee of his efforts in obtaining a warrant against Walton.

He testified that he began his own investigation after he found campaign literature on his front porch two days before the Nov. 6 election carrying a picture of Walton over the word "re-elect."

Harrington said he countered this by distributing a statement on election day accusing Walton of a falsehood.

He said he obtained a warrant against Walton from the Wayne County prosecutor's office a month later.

Bar Association Dinner Will Honor Judge Holland

Some 300 are expected to attend a dinner Friday in honor of Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland, who will retire Feb. 15 after 27 years on the county's circuit bench.

Sponsored by the Oakland County Bar Association, the dinner is scheduled for 6 p.m. at Devon Gables, Telegraph Road at W. Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Township.

Among those expected to attend are the county's other four circuit judges, attorneys from throughout the county and county officials and employees.

Judge Holland was first elected circuit judge in 1935 and took office Jan. 1, 1936, after serving four years as Pontiac's municipal judge. He announced his retirement last week.

Appoint Fire Marshal to Retiring Chief's Post

BIRMINGHAM — Veteran Fire Marshal George S. Scott will take charge of the Birmingham Fire Department Feb. 10 following the retirement of Chief Park H. Smith.

Scott, 45, who first joined the department in 1936, has been appointed chief by City Manager L. R. Gare.

A life-long resident of Birmingham, Scott was appointed fire marshal in 1944. He served with the Navy Air Corps during World War II and re-entered service during the Korean conflict.

Smith, 60, also joined the department in 1936. He was appointed captain a year later, became assistant chief in 1951 and was named to his present position in 1955.

Reset Exam on Charges Against Henry

The Municipal Court examination of City Commissioner Milton Henry on a charge of felonious assault has been postponed until Jan. 23. It had been scheduled for today.

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum said he called for the postponement so the felonious assault charge against Henry could be heard on the same day as a malicious destruction charge against the commissioner.

Both charges stem from an incident Jan. 8 when Henry attempted to reclaim his repossessed car from a garage without signing a waiver to release the finance company from any responsibility for the car's condition while in storage.

Henry had paid $353 due on it earlier in the day.

City policeman Neil McCormack accused Henry of attacking him with his car after he had arrived on the scene to investigate the trouble.

J. Wendell Green, owner of the garage at 79 E. Huron St. filed a malicious destruction complaint against Henry, claiming the commissioner damaged his property when he disconnected the garage door's electrical mechanism in order to get his car out.

County to Sell Office Building a legal question. The board is supposed to meet in the county courthouse, he said.

For this reason, the office building had been officially dedicated as the courthouse annex, Barnard noted.

FEW INQUIRIES

The public auction will be held at 1:30 p.m. in the supervisors auditorium on the fourth floor of the building.

John C. Austin, chairman of the board of auditors, said he did not know if there would be any bids. There were none when the county attempted to sell the former courthouse site at Saginaw and Huron streets. That property is still for sale.

"There have been a few inquiries about the office building but no offers to purchase it," said Austin.

The building is on a 7,830-square foot site bordered by Lafayette and Wayne streets and Oakland Avenue. A parking lot in the rear is included in the property for sale.

The county acquired the building by paying off some $50,000 owed in taxes during the depression of the 1930s.

It had been built by Pontiac Freemasons for a lodge.

echoed with supervisors meetings since 1942.

Yesterday the 83 supervisors surrendered their comfortable old leather chairs, amid the ornate surroundings of a past era, for modern metal and plastic facilities now in the office at the new building.

The question whether the familiar 83 brass spittoons will accompany the supervisors in their move remained undecided.

ICE BREAKER — Dr. A. C. Ford holds ice in his hands following a dive into a friend's frozen swimming pool in Chattanooga, Tenn., yesterday. The thermometer read 12 degrees when he took his dip. The doctor didn't say a word when he emerged from the pool — just rushed for a heavy towel.
