Survey of General Hospital Completed

Examiners Laud, Criticize Facets of Organization

Director Urged to Alter Conditions Which Raise Operational Costs

Pontiac General Hospital has been raked over with a fine-tooth comb in the form of a thorough four-month appraisal of its organization, management and operation. The study was requested last November by the board of trustees.

The findings and recommendations in the 139-page survey were made by James A. Hamilton Associates, hospital consultants of Minneapolis.

Good things were said about the operation and personnel. There were adverse criticisms lodged against some while others were praised for their work.

Some positions were suggested as unnecessary; new positions were recommended. Everyone from board members to the laundry manager was evaluated.

Room rates were found to be in line with average rates, yet adjustment in special charges was suggested. Some salary schedules contributing to a high operating cost, were found to conflict with prevailing wages at other hospitals. The average per-day patient cost was set at $31.31; the Michigan average being $21.73.

The study was divided into four major sections: (1) appraisal of policies, organization and operation of top level and executive management; (2) of medical staff; (3) operation of departments; and (4) appraisal of fiscal activities, rates, and methods of control.

The firm summary comment was: "Although there is room for significant improvement, the citizens of Pontiac can take pride today in its community-owned hospital despite extreme overcrowding which has created serious inconveniences and handicaps for patients, employees and the members of the medical staff alike."

Throughout the report, it is suggested the board "concentrate (Continued on Page 9, Col. 1)

Air Crash Probe Nears Finish

CAA Investigation Says Outcome Will Be Public Late in August

The Civil Aeronautics Administration's investigation of the fatal air collision over Pontiac Municipal Airport Saturday evening is nearing completion, according to Thomas S. Murphy, CAA safety agent.

He said a report will be forwarded to Washington "within the next two weeks." No public statement of the findings can be released now or before the second week in August because of CAA regulations, Murphy continued.

Three men lost their lives when, according to witnesses, one plane in a formation of three collided with another plane flying in the landing pattern over the airport.

Witnesses estimated the crash occurred at an altitude of 800 feet. Flyers in the other two planes said their altimeters read 1,000 to 1,200 feet at the time of the accident. Murphy said today he doubted whether the altitude of the planes could be determined.

"It would be strictly hearsay so I question whether we will ever know the altitude of the planes," Murphy said.

Killed in the crash were James G. Pickett, 42, of Drayton Plains, pilot of the local plane, Dale Mathews, 25, of Charlevoix, pilot of the second plane, and his passenger, Jess Trott, 60, of Almont.

Strike in Steel Imminent

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's steel industry began banking its fires today after major companies and the United Steelworkers of America rejected each other's proposals to delay a Saturday midnight strike of 650,000 workers.

Workers at U.S. Steel's Gary, Ind., works, largest in the world, and at Bethlehem's Sparrows Point plant in Maryland, the next largest, began slowing down coke ovens and were scheduled to be out by midnight.

Similar cooling-off operations were reported at dozens of smaller plants.

Talks were expected to resume today. Both sides worked frantically last night to avert a shutdown and in banking blast furnaces late tonight.

And, unless a sudden settlement is reached, open hearth fires will get their last stoking sometime tomorrow.

Similar cooling-off operations were reported at dozens of smaller plants.

Talks were expected to resume today. Both sides worked frantically last night to avert a shutdown and each blamed the other when the efforts ended in stalemate.

Twelve major companies began the exchange of compromise proposals by suggesting in a letter to Union President David J. McDonald that the strike be postponed indefinitely and negotiations continued after the contract expires at midnight Saturday.

The letter suggested that during the negotiations the union give 72 hours advance written notice of a strike any time after the deadline to prevent cooling damage to furnaces.

The companies promised in turn to shorten their demands for a five-year contract to four years and four months "with a proportionate reduction in benefits."

OFFERS RESPITE

Length of the contract has been a major bone of contention. The current contract is for two years, with a one-year wage reopener.

McDonald rejected the companies' proposal as an "11th-hour" offer that "meets none of the union's reasoned objections to their original proposal."

He countered by offering to put off the strike for two weeks — until July 16 — provided any agreement reached in the extended negotiations was retroactive to July 1, the original strike deadline.

The companies studied this for three hours and rejected it because of the retroactive provisions. In rejecting the two-week delay proposed by McDonald, the companies said the union was forcing negotiations toward the strike deadline.

"Tonight we face a crisis in the steel industry—and the union, not the companies—is responsible," they said in the answering letter.

Wilson Refutes 'Resign' Rumors

Says Price of Progress Is Trouble and 'I Must Be Making Progress'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson returned last night from a short vacation in Canada and, professing puzzlement that such a question was asked, said he has no intention of resigning.

Then, obviously referring to the fire aimed at him in recent days by Senate critics, he told newsmen:

"The price of progress is trouble and I must be making a lot of progress."

The last time he used this phrase, when a round of Army-Air Force bickering broke out last month, he said the trouble he then noted was "too much."

Some Senate Democrats called for Wilson's resignation after he used the word "phony" last week in discussing with newsmen senatorial moves to increase the Air Force budget. Saying later that he was misunderstood, Wilson asserted he didn't mean to apply the word to senators.

Senate Action Not Likely on Special Vet Pensions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prospects seemed dim today for Senate action on a House-passed pension bill with a special $90-a-month provision for World War I veterans.

Proposals for bigger payments to service-disabled veterans and to veterans' widows and dependents were stripped from the measure during a turbulent session yesterday in which the House passed it and sent it to the Senate by a 364-51 roll call vote.

And the long-delayed federal school aid bill comes up in the House today with a fight over civil rights holding the spotlight.

Today's session will be limited to debate, with voting to start tomorrow. Leaders hope to complete action Friday—except for the final roll call which will take place Monday.

The legislation was approved 10 months ago by the Education and Labor Committee, but was not cleared for floor action by the Rules Committee until last Wednesday.

The bill would authorize $1,600,000 in federal funds to the states over a four-year period for the construction of badly needed classrooms.

U.S. Golfers in Final

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP)—Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of St. Clair, Mich., and Mary Patton Janssen of Charlottesville, Va., made it an all-American final in the British Women's Amateur golf championship today. Miss Smith defeated Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., 5 and 4, in one 18-hole semi-final match and Miss Janssen eliminated the last British player, Angela Ward, 6 and 5.

Cool, Fair Weather Forecast for Region

The forecast for the Pontiac area tonight is fair and cool with a low of 70 to 74 degrees.

The prediction for tomorrow is cool with a high of 74 to 78 degrees. The mercury is expected to drop to a low of 56 to 60 degrees tomorrow night as the cool weather continues.

The lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. was 53 degrees as recorded in downtown Pontiac. The thermometer registered 66 degrees at 1 p.m.

Technical Center Post Is Assigned to Critchfield

GM Executive Changes Include New Manager at Chevrolet Division

Appointment of Semon E. Knudsen as general manager of Pontiac Motors Division, effective July 1, was announced today by Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors.

Robert M. Critchfield, a GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac since July 1952, will assume direction of the GM process development staff at General Motors Technical Center.

Critchfield joined General Motors in 1921 and was assistant general manager of the Allison Division prior to his appointment as head of the Pontiac Division.

Knudsen has been general manager of the Detroit Diesel Engine Division since March of 1955.

Son of the late William S. Knudsen, former GM president, he began his General Motors career with the Pontiac division in January of 1939 on a special manufacturing assignment.

He served successively as chief inspector, defense plant, superintendent of the car assembly plant and assistant general master mechanic at Pontiac. He later served as director of General Motors central office process development section and as assistant manufacturing manager of aircraft engine operations in the Allison Division.

Other changes in the executive organization of General Motors also were announced today by President Curtice.

Thomas H. Keating, a GM vice president and director and general manager of the Chevrolet Division since 1949, becomes group executive in charge of the passenger car divisions of the corporation.

Edward N. Cole, chief Chevrolet engineer since 1952, will succeed Keating as general manager of Chevrolet.

Mason M. Roberts, general manager of the Frigidaire Division at Dayton, Ohio, has elected to retire after 44 years' service. Herman F. Lehman, general sales manager of Frigidaire will succeed Roberts.

Clyde W. Truxell Jr., works manager of the Detroit Diesel Engine Division, will succeed Knudsen as general manager of the division.

Norman M. Ross, general manager of GM's Brown-Lipe-Chapin Division at Syracuse, N. Y., will retire after 37 years of service. Edward A. Kaegi, general manager of the Detroit Transmission Division at Ypsilanti, will succeed Ross.

O. W. Habel, general works manager of the Saginaw Steering Gear Division, will succeed Kaegi as general manager of the Detroit Transmission Division.

By Train and Bus From Every Direction

Tent City Bustles as 6,000 Scouts Invade Camp

By Train and Bus From Every Direction

Buses crammed with excited, singing girl scouts arrived at short intervals at the national Roundup in the Highland Recreation Area today.

Trains from the West pulled into Detroit's Third Street yards all morning. Exuberant teenagers, some weary from their ride across the country from California and other western states, spilled out of the special trains to board large buses for the last stage of their trip to the campsite.

Trains began pulling into Detroit at 6:45 a.m. They will come in at half hour intervals until 6,000 girls and their leaders have arrived.

The girls, neat in their special green, white and yellow uniforms, hopped off trains carrying duffel bags and packs loaded with personal gear and items to trade at the Roundup "swap tent."

They carried shark teeth from Virginia, twigs from trees on Preska, the Panama Canal Zone and Puerto Rico.

In addition to the duffel bag allowed each girl for her personal equipment, there were boxes and packages of gear for each patrol of eight. Tents, kitchen flies, tables and benches, cooking utensils and tools were carried across the country for this first National Senior camp.

Once in camp, the girls registered, received their dog tags and scattered to their respective areas to set up their tents. Within two hours, part of the gigantic tent city was erected. The rest will go up tomorrow.

All campers changed into the camp uniform of green Bermuda shorts or slacks, yellow and white seersucker blouses or green work shorts and green Bermuda socks. All wore the official Roundup corded tie and patch on their blouse pockets.

U. S. Army contingents worked throughout the day, delivering baggage, transporting personnel and directing traffic. Their jeeps and large trucks were in evidence everywhere.

The waterfront staff, directed by the American Red Cross, was on duty all day. Campers will swim in Teeple Lake at the regular Teeple Lake Beach which is closed to the public until after July 11.

Sightseers will not be admitted to the Roundup site until after 10 a.m. Saturday, June 30. From then on, visitors will be welcome daily. The camp will be closed at sundown each night.

On two nights, July 4 and 5, the public will be invited to remain. Fireworks will be shot off to celebrate Independence Day and a large-scale Girl Scout pageant will be presented on the ninth.

Other public spectacles will be given at 3 p.m. July 4 and 7.

Ike to Go Home Next Saturday

Gains 1 Pound; Plans to Conalesce on Farm at Gettysburg

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's doctors reported today he has started to gain weight for the first time since his operation.

This encouraging news came as the President prepared to leave Walter Reed Army Hospital Saturday morning and continue recuperation at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Eisenhower looked ruddy and happy last night as he made his first "public appearance" since his operation—three quick trips to the window of his hospital room to salute serenading Army musicians.

He waved and smiled broadly from the ivy-rimmed window as the U.S. Army band played a concert on the grounds of Walter Reed Hospital. Mrs. Eisenhower twice was at his side.

Eisenhower's weight now is 163 pounds. It has stood at 162—a loss of 7 pounds—since his June 9 operation.

Eisenhower had no appointments scheduled today beyond a conference with his chief assistant, Sherman Adams, and other staff members. The National Security Council was meeting at the White House with Vice President Nixon presiding.

Senate Not Likely to Act on Pensions

Federal funds to schools which continue to maintain segregation, which the Supreme Court has outlawed. The general consensus is that the amendment's adoption would doom the bill to a Southern filibuster in the Senate.

Both parties appeared a split over this explosive election-year issue, but House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. has predicted a majority of GOP members will vote for it.

In the meantime, the House and Senate conferees are meeting today on the 960 million dollar increase which the upper chamber voted in the Eisenhower air budget over the administration's objections.

Some GOP conferees were pessimistic about their chances of scaling down the boost. The House in May rejected a similar attempt to expand air power. But some of their delegates to the conference believe now it may be wise to boost the air budget.

Called Adequate

The White House took the position just before the Senate action on Tuesday that the 16 and two-thirds billion dollars President Eisenhower asked for the Air Force was adequate to maintain U. S. supremacy in the skies.

But the White House said that if there must be an increase, it would prefer to limit the hike to 500 million dollars, which Republicans advocated.

However, the GOP plan was beaten, 47 to 42, in the Senate. The Senate increase was the result largely of hearings of the Symington subcommittee which has been probing air power. The unit recalls Air Secretary Donald A. Quarles today for further questioning.

Local Suspect Arraigned on Drug Ring Charge

Arraigned yesterday as an alleged member of a drug conspiracy in the southwest area, Leroy H. Eaddy, 24, of 5142 Tillman St., Detroit, was remanded to jail under $5,000 bond set by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Eaddy and 14 others named in the conspiracy to violate state narcotics laws are scheduled for examination July 11.

Republican gubernatorial candidate Donald S. Leonard, Democratic Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart and 20 candidates from both parties for Congress, State Senator and State Representatives are expected to speak briefly tonight in Birmingham.

A political rally sponsored by the Birmingham League of Women Voters is scheduled to start with a torchlight parade at 7:30 tonight. Speeches, starting about 8:30, will be given in Shain Park if the weather permits or in the auditorium of Baldwin School in event of rain.

Truman Heading Home to Reflect on European Trip

SOUTHAMPTON (INS)—A happy Harry Truman headed for home aboard the liner United States today "to contemplate" what he has seen and heard during his six-week tour of Europe.

The former President ducked questions on American politics at a final news conference but restressed his distrust of the Soviet Union's "new look."

Truman said "I never trusted the Russians and I don't trust them yet. They made all kinds of promises to me at Potsdam, then went home and broke them."

Truman was sporting a blue "old school tie" from Oxford, noting that he was entitled to it because of the honorary degree conferred upon him by the renowned university.

He said he was convinced the people of Western Europe are friendly to the U. S. and that he would like to visit them again as soon as possible.

Truman and his wife will celebrate their 37th wedding anniversary today aboard the liner.

Red Movie to Depict Stalin Military Fault

MOSCOW (INS)—Soviet movie fans soon will see the Russian film industry's first crack at the Stalin legend of supreme military genius.

The film, "Immortal Garrison," tells the heroic story of the defenders of the Brest Fortress on the 1941 Soviet-German border in partitioned Poland.

Surrounded by the Germans from the first hours of the June, 1941 invasion, the garrison held out for 28 days. Only one man survived.

For the first time in a Soviet film it is revealed that Stalin failed to alert the army to the German invasion—buildup which preceded the attack.

The movie opens on VE day near Berlin as a Soviet tank outfit pulls up outside a prisoner-of-war camp which has just been taken over from the guards by the prisoners.

Clarifies Decision on Election Rules

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh modified today an April 16 opinion holding that the same person cannot serve as a member of a township board of canvassers and as township inspector of elections.

Answering an inquiry from Secretary of State James M. Hare, Kavanagh said the earlier conclusion was based on the fact that while acting as canvasser in township elections, the officer would be compelled to investigate and correct his own mistakes.

Insofar as it relates to township elections, the attorney general said, this is a correct statement of the law.

However, Kavanagh said in the new opinion, the idea of incompatibility does not necessarily apply, for example, in a county or state election.

Whether or not it does would have to be determined from the facts and functions to be performed by the board of canvassers at each election, he said.

Posse Still Searching for Ohio Triple-Killer

WARREN, O. (INS)—A close-knit posse made up strictly of law enforcement officers continued their hunt today for triple-killer Alfred Wilson who is still believed hiding somewhere in the nearby Phalanx Station-Braceville area.

Wilson is accused in the slaying of his two sisters-in-laws and a teenage girl last Thursday after escaping from an Ohio county jail.

Trumbull County Sheriff T. Herbert Thomas said that the posse would be limited to sheriff's deputies and state patrolmen and that no volunteers should turn out unless someone in authority asks them.

Thomas said he wants the posse to consist of law enforcement officers under a central control to prevent "someone from getting shot by mistake."

Yesterday and last night more than 150 persons took part in the search for the elusive 37-year-old truck driver, who has eluded authorities for almost a week.

Group Reports 180 Polio Cases

Public Health Service Says Salk Vaccine Is Proving Effective

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Public Health Service said today 180 new cases of polio were reported last week, exactly the same as the previous week.

Ordinarily the number of persons stricken rises steadily during the height of the polio season, from June until late August or September.

A spokesman, emphasizing the evidence indicates Salk polio vaccine is "extremely effective" among inoculated persons, said it is still too early to forecast the polio trend for the year among the entire population.

Among the 180 cases reported last week, 94 were paralytic. The total compared with 277 in the corresponding week of 1955 and a 1951-55 median of 419.

The service reported a total of 1,332 cases through the current disease year, which began about April 1, and 2,399 for the calendar year to June 23. Comparable figures for 1955 were 2,310 and 3,373. In 1952, when the sharp jump did not occur until July, there were 1,776 and 3,094.

Among the states, Texas reported the most cases, 37. That was four higher than the preceding week. California dropped one, to 36, while Louisiana declined from 22 to 15 and Florida from 11 to 8. Illinois went up one, to 10.

Houghton Lake Girl Named Cherry Queen

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Nancy Kay Phillips, 19-year-old brown-haired beauty from Houghton Lake, was named national Cherry Queen last night and will reign over the National Cherry Festival here July 12-15.

Nancy Kay, who entered as Miss Houghton Lake, won out over 19 other girls representing communities throughout northern Michigan's big cherry growing region.

Audrey Levandowski, Miss Manistee, placed second and Bonnie Elliott, Miss Petoskey, was third. With the other four top entrants they will appear as the queen's court during the cherry festival.

The others are Marian Danforth, Miss East Jordan; Ellen Mitchell, Miss Leland; Carolyn Mae Bourd, Miss Northport; and Eleanor Jakubek, Miss Traverse City.

Watches and $34 Stolen

Two wristwatches and a purse containing $34 were reported taken in the break-in of a home at 51 Henry Clay Ave. last night, according to Pontiac police.

Police said entry was gained through an unlocked side door.

The Day in Birmingham

Re-Vamp in Zoning Eyed; Would Keep High Level

BIRMINGHAM—Housing standards, now well above the minimum zoning requirements in Birmingham's present ordinance, would be maintained at their high level by a zoning ordinance being drafted now by the city planning board.

The planning board met last night with the planning consultant, David Geer, to discuss the progress on the revision of the zoning ordinance. Work started about two months ago.

Satisfactory progress was reported by Herbert Herzberg, city planner, who has consulted with Geer on several occasions on the ordinance's lengthy wording, enforcement, and other items. Last night such mechanics were discussed.

Primary discussion, however, was on area, height, bulk and placement sections of ordinance. The whole ordinance is a major change, Herzberg says.

The proposed ordinance will conform to what is in the city today, the board plans. Much building done in the city is far in excess of minimum requirements in present ordinance, members contend.

An example is the single family zoned area, where minimum floor area is 700 square feet, but the great majority of homes are way over that size. A builder of homes today on a mass production basis would seldom consider under 1000 square feet, Herzberg says.

Herzberg was authorized to continue his study on height, bulk and placement and come back with a recommendation in about one month.

He and the board will continue meanwhile on the mechanics of the ordinance.

The planning board had met the previous night and agreed to pay for an appraisal of the five-lot land bounded by Oakland, Hunter, Lawdale and Madison for the group of adjoining property owners who have indicated a desire to purchase it as a park site.

They wish to prevent commercial use on the edge of their residential area.

Beginning this Sunday, and until September, the Embury Methodist Church, East 14-Mile at Crofoot, will have only one worship service each Sunday. Sunday School for fourth grade through youth will be at 9 a.m., and worship service for nursery through third grade will be at 10 a.m.

The Church School of First Presbyterian Church held its annual Vacation Church School this week, Monday through today.

Joyce Hooking, 933 Hartland, returned Tuesday from Omaha, Nebraska, where she, along with other members of the Olivet College Ensemble, sang at the June 20 to 25 General Council meeting of the Congregational Christian Churches of the United States.

The Rev. Robert Dewey and Curtis Snider, who represented the local Congregational Church at the conference, are expected back tomorrow.

Total losses from fire last month amounted to $6,590. Eleven runs were made for fires and fire investigations, the fire department reports, with a total of 25 runs.

Pontiac Deaths

John Chunovich

John Chunovich, 69, of 675 Cartwright St. died of carcinoma at 2 a.m. this morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He had been ill a year.

He was born in Carlovac, Austria on March 21, 1887, the son of Joseph and Anna Gracan Chunovich.

He attended school in Austria and came to Pontiac from Detroit 35 years ago.

A member of the Catholic Faith, he had been employed at Fisher Body Division.

Surviving are a sister living in Austria and a brother, Nich Chunovich of Pontiac, three nieces and one nephew.

Service will be at 10 a.m. Saturday from the Huntoon Funeral Home with Father Michael J. O'Reilly of St. Michael's Catholic Church officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Daniel R. Stevenson

Daniel R. Stevenson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stevenson, of 2546 Adams Rd., died June 14 in Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. He was born in the hospital June 13, 1956.

Besides his mother and father, Daniel is survived by a brother, John Walter; two sisters, Kathleen Ann and Marjory Lynn, both at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith of Royal Oak and Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson.

Burial will be in the cemetery at Gaines.

Spilled Nails on Highway Cause Epidemic in Flats

LOS BANOS, Calif. (AP)—A cargo truck spilled several cases of nails on Pacheco Pass last night and caused a flat tire epidemic.

W. J. Hargraves, San Francisco printing equipment salesman, said the California Highway Patrol blocked the pass until the road could be swept clear.

He reported 16 heavy trucks were pulled up at one filling station with flattened tires. "I never saw such a mess of flats," Hargraves said.

Bank's Shareholders to Decide on Merger

The proposed merger of the Oakland County Community National Bank with State Bank of Milford, will be considered August 14 at a meeting of Community National shareholders.

The group will be asked to ratify the merger agreement made by the bank's board of directors. Similar agreement has also been reached by the board of the Milford bank.

A. C. Girard, president of the Pontiac institution, said today that the proposal to merge has been approved by the U. S. Treasury Dept.

The Oakland County State Bank, founded in 1935, is headed by President Paul H. Sinclair.

Complete General Hospital Study

more on its functional role of policy making, planning and review. More attention should be directed to the quality of the professional care program, the report went on to say of the board.

SOME ALARM

It points out that the executive management of Pontiac General Hospital is rated "above average." Alarm was voiced about the increase in the infant mortality rate, certain patient charges, and the relation of Miss Lauretta Paul, hospital director, with other departments and members of the board of trustees.

Major recommended additions to the staff are for an assistant director, controller, personnel and public relations officer, and purchasing agent.

GIVES WARNING

The deletion of several other positions, re-shuffling others, and adding the four would amount to a net annual saving of $71,760, the study illustrated.

It warned against any "political complexion in the composition of the board."

The infant mortality rate last year was 1.9 per cent. The accepted limit is 2.0 per cent. A 1951 figure of 2.8 was "abnormally high" and then an "improvement trend" was reversed in 1955 to reach the 1.9 figure.

The researchers suggested broadening the pre-natal clinic, after the medical staff claimed the high rate was due partially to lack of pre-natal care before delivery.

COMMENT ON DOCTORS

Because a survey showed the age of the doctors too high to make room for a younger medical staff, the study suggested that when a doctor reaches 70, he be changed to the honorary staff with admitting privileges discontinued.

The intern and residency program at Pontiac General Hospital was praised in the analysis. But this program should be expanded to include pediatrics, anesthesiology, radiology, and medical rehabilitation, the report suggested.

Concerning pediatrics, the report noted that 17 per cent of beds at the hospital were used for children. This indicated some children were hospitalized who might be cared for at home.

An investigation of the anesthesiologist's income was urged by the firm. "The present agreement does not operate fairly to hospital and public," the study stated.

A psychiatric clinic was recommended for the hospital.

COMMENT ON DIRECTOR

After an extensive study of the work of Miss Paul, who was appointed director in 1948, the report suggested she be given one year to carry out recommendations for strengthening executive management and internal operations.

It added that her salary should be raised to $12,000 (presently $11,000) with an annual increase to $15,000 within three years.

"She has many necessary attributes of a good executive but her fundamental weakness is that she runs a 'one man show,'" the study revealed.

It pointed out that two members of the Board of Trustees were attempting to "replace" Miss Paul. "The director has pursued a rugged path during her eight years of stewardship," her superior qualities tip the scales in favor of her performance in spite of several major deficiencies which impair her competence.

COSTS TOO HIGH

Financially it was determined per patient day costs were too high compared with community and state levels. This cost is $31.91 while the average state cost is $21.78. The cost at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is $27.41.

"Salary schedules are materially out of line with prevailing wages at other hospitals and consequently inflate the hospital's operating costs."

It was recommended operating costs be lowered by three per cent. The survey also indicated that the hospital was over-staffed by as much as five per cent.

Two major deficiencies exist at the executive management level. They are: absence of the "second in command" or assistant director and the fact the director is "spreading herself too thin trying to supervise directly and coordinate the work of too many department heads."

It was recommended the Board membership be increased to 11 or 15 members with the president of the Woman's Auxiliary being made an ex-officio member. There are presently seven members.

There should be no more than one four-year re-appointment of members thus limiting to eight years the length of consecutive service on the Board. Members are appointed by the City Commission for four years.

ASKS JOINT COMMITTEE

There is need for streamlining paper work at the hospital and better supervision and training of employees. More professional nurses are needed also.

A joint conference committee consisting of Board members and representatives of the medical staff should be established.

Although criticized for a tendency to "interfere with the internal administration," the Board has accomplished a commendable record to date, the report said.

Adjustments in payments are needed to assure the hospital of collection for both county and state patients using Pontiac General Hospital. The report cited the case of 60 per cent of 50 cases in 1955 amounting to $10,000, for which the hospital had not received payments.

COMMENT ON NURSES

Indicative of the reported high cost is the report that food costs per meal averaged nearly 40 cents in 1955, which is higher than average hospital experience. The suggestion was to decrease the cost to 37 cents thus permitting an annual savings of $14,000.

The cleanliness of the hospital seen by the public was rated as "good" but less conspicuous areas rated as "fair."

While the nursing service is overstuffed, there is an increased need for professional nurses at Pontiac General, the report emphasized. Only 2½ per cent of nursing care is professional.

And the average number of nursing hours per patient should be lowered from 4.94 hours to 3.9 when additional beds are made available.

Attempts should be made to reduce labor turnovers to 25 per cent instead of the present 33. Major areas of concern in turnover exist in the administrative, nursing and radiology departments, the study pointed out.

COMMENT ON RECORDS

Terminal interviews should be obtained and calculated to determine why employees depart from the hospital.

Priority should be given to hiring the assistant director and personnel and public relations director, the Board learned from the report.

Other unsatisfactory grades were given to level of staff consultations and medical records. Ten per cent of the medical records were found unacceptable by the analysis.

There is also a laxity on the part of the medical staff to attend staff meetings. One-third of active staff in the last two years has missed more than 25 per cent of the meetings, statistics revealed.

Publishers Injured in Escanaba Wreck

ESCANABA (AP)—Philip T. Rich, 58, publisher of the Midland Daily News, and William A. Butler, 57, publisher of the Holland Evening Sentinel, were injured last night in an auto wreck on U.S.2 about 20 miles east of Escanaba.

The accident occurred when Butler swerved his car to avoid striking a porcupine. The car left the highway and overturned.

Rich suffered a severe head gash and chest injuries and was admitted to St. Francis Hospital here. Attendants said he was in satisfactory condition. Butler was treated for a deep knee gash and released.

The two publishers were traveling with two friends to the God's Lake country 300 miles north of Winnipeg, Man., for a fishing vacation.

The others, Dr. Wilbur B. Towles and Howard Arbury, both of Midland, were following in another car. Dr. Towles administered first aid to the injured men before they were taken to the hospital.

Butler's car was badly damaged.

'Inside' Row Continues

White House Approved Book Discloses Secret Talk on Second Term

WASHINGTON (AP)—Close associates of President Eisenhower, called to a secret White House meeting the night of Jan. 13, got the impression at that time he would seek a second term.

This is contained in Robert J. Donovan's book, "Eisenhower, the Inside Story," to be published Saturday.

The book, which its jacket says was written with White House cooperation but without official censorship, has aroused prepublication controversy in the Senate as to how Donovan obtained his confidential source information.

Donovan says one of the most telling points made by Milton Eisenhower in summarizing arguments for the second term was that if the President was to work effectively for world peace it would have to be from the White House, not from retirement.

The author says that argument was probably the greatest single factor in influencing the President to seek a second term after his Sept. 24, 1955 heart attack. Eisenhower announced his decision to seek another term on Feb. 29.

Other high spot assertions of the book include: The President "was not convinced that the vital interests of the United States would be best served by prolonged nonrecognition of the People's Republic of China.

The President, in private, was "disgusted and infuriated" by the tactics of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) The question as to who supplied Donovan the material for the book is a source of inquiry by the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) says some documents quoted are "more secret" than some the administration has withheld from Congress.

Baby Treated for Cuts After Fall From Auto

A 22-month-old girl fell from her parents' moving auto last night, according to Pontiac police.

Debra Sue Lynn escaped serious injury. She was treated for minor cuts and bruises and released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, authorities said.

The parents, Charles and Nancy Lynn, of 3001 Sherbourne Rd. said the right side door suddenly opened and the tot fell out on Bagley street north of Jackson Street, police said.

Cash Drawer Is Looted in Theft at Car Agency

The cash drawer in an auto sales office at 40 W. Pike St. was rifled of $50 in bills and change, according to Pontiac police.

Police believe the theft occurred sometime Tuesday. The business manager, Daniel C. MacKinnon of Detroit, reported the theft after the cash was counted Wednesday morning, police said.

Want Phone Numbers in Russia? Age Please

By EARL WILSON

MOSCOW—It's been bruited about in America that Russia has no phone books.

I guess that's just some American propaganda. There are phone books. Why, I've even met people here while "Rushin' Through Russia" who claim they've seen some.

But they're not "easily available." New York attorney Morris Ernst asked the Russians why, while touring here, and one said, "Why should anyone have my telephone number? I'll give it to my friends. Why deprive me of this remaining bit of privacy?"

"But 'Information' is helpful—the only problem is, when you want to find out a number, 'Information' asks you the person's age.

"I wonder what age has to do with it?" I asked when the Swift Family Wilson was trying to get a number.

"Everything," our interpreter and Intourist guide said. If I didn't know the man's age, maybe I didn't know him well enough to have his number. Besides, names are similar—would I want the 35-year-old Ivan Ivanovitch or the 72-year-old Ivan Ivanovitch?

I fell quite comfortable here and have no fear of being followed. American tourists tell me they don't think they're atched much any more.

But the Russians thoroughly protect their leaders. The Americans here still talk of how Producer Mike Todd forgot to take his passport along to the May Day parade for identification. It was supposed to be checked at merely six different points.

"I can prove to you I'm Mike Todd," he said. He showed them his name put inside his jacket by his tailor.

"I even got my name on the wrappers of my specially made cigars!" He pointed that out.

He didn't see the parade.

Egyptians—the Biggest Headache for Egypt

CAIRO—Egypt's biggest problem is the rate of more than 1,000 per day, making an annual increase of 400,000 in a population of 23 million.

Despite a high death rate, Egypt's population has doubled in half a century. At the present rate, it will double again in only a quarter of a century.

While the birth rate in the last decade has been constant at 42 per 1,000, the death rate has decreased from 27 to 16 per 1,000. Even the multifillion-dollar Aswan Dam project could not solve Egypt's population problem. It is believed the benefits of the dam, if completed in 15 years, would just about cope with the demands of the increased population.

An increase in agricultural production has failed to keep pace with the rise in population. Hussein el Shafel, minister of social affairs, says:

"Not only do I approve of birth control, but I also believe it has become a social necessity—if we continue to reproduce with maximum biological impetus, we shall have more weaklings, vagrants, beggars."

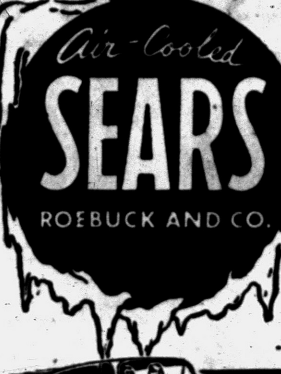

Religious opposition to birth control is strong, however. Numerous verses in the holy books of both Moslems and Christians are quoted.

Children in Egypt have a great value socially. They raise the status of mothers and protect them from divorce—mainly on account of the alimony the father has to pay for each child of a divorced wife. In a country where religious scholars, have written on birth control from the Islamic point of view. These conclude that Islam not only permits birth control but advocates its necessity for the welfare of society.

Along with this religious approach, a program has been set up by the newly formed National Commission for Population Questions, to instruct the fellah (peasant) on birth control techniques. Twelve family clinics have been established in the big cities and villages, financed by women welfare organizations and the government.

The government is adopting a two-fold program in spreading birth control. A number of ulamas, or Moslem

Waterford Takes Stock of Disaster Care Facilities

Area Can House 20,210 Refugees

Group Conducts Survey to Determine Fitness for Future Emergency

Thanks to the efforts of a group of Waterford Township housewives, the first "giant step" in a long mile of civil defense work has been taken.

Mrs. J. Thomas Peterson and a committee of 50 members of the American Agn. of University Women have turned in to Oakland County Civil Defense Director Lewis C. Jarrendt a detailed study of Waterford Township's facilities for feeding and housing refugees during a disaster.

Jarrendt says the survey shows 20,210 people could be sheltered in schools, churches, community buildings, bowling alleys, theaters, skating rinks, hospitals and large halls.

A total of 37,015 meals per day can be served in Waterford Township in public facilities, restaurants and school and church kitchens.

To finish the survey, Mrs. Peterson's committee measured every large hall in the township to calculate sleeping capacities, and interviewed kitchen staffs.

The survey provides another indication of the growth of the township, Jarrendt pointed out. A similar Red Cross survey in 1951 showed that only 1,875 refugees could be sheltered, and 1,625 could be fed.

Jarrendt said similar surveys now are being conducted in all townships in the county, to provide an adequate indication of the county's capacity to absorb refugees from a disaster area.

"For example," he said, "if a tornado should hit Clarkston 1,000 people might be homeless. With the results of this survey, we could assign them to emergency shelters in Waterford Township and be sure they'd be taken care of."

A second major potential use, he said, would come in the event of a nuclear bomb attack on Detroit.

"If we had four hours' warning of such an attack," Jarrendt said, "Civil defense authorities in Detroit would order an evacuation of the city. They are depending heavily on Oakland County to absorb a large part of Detroit's vast population."

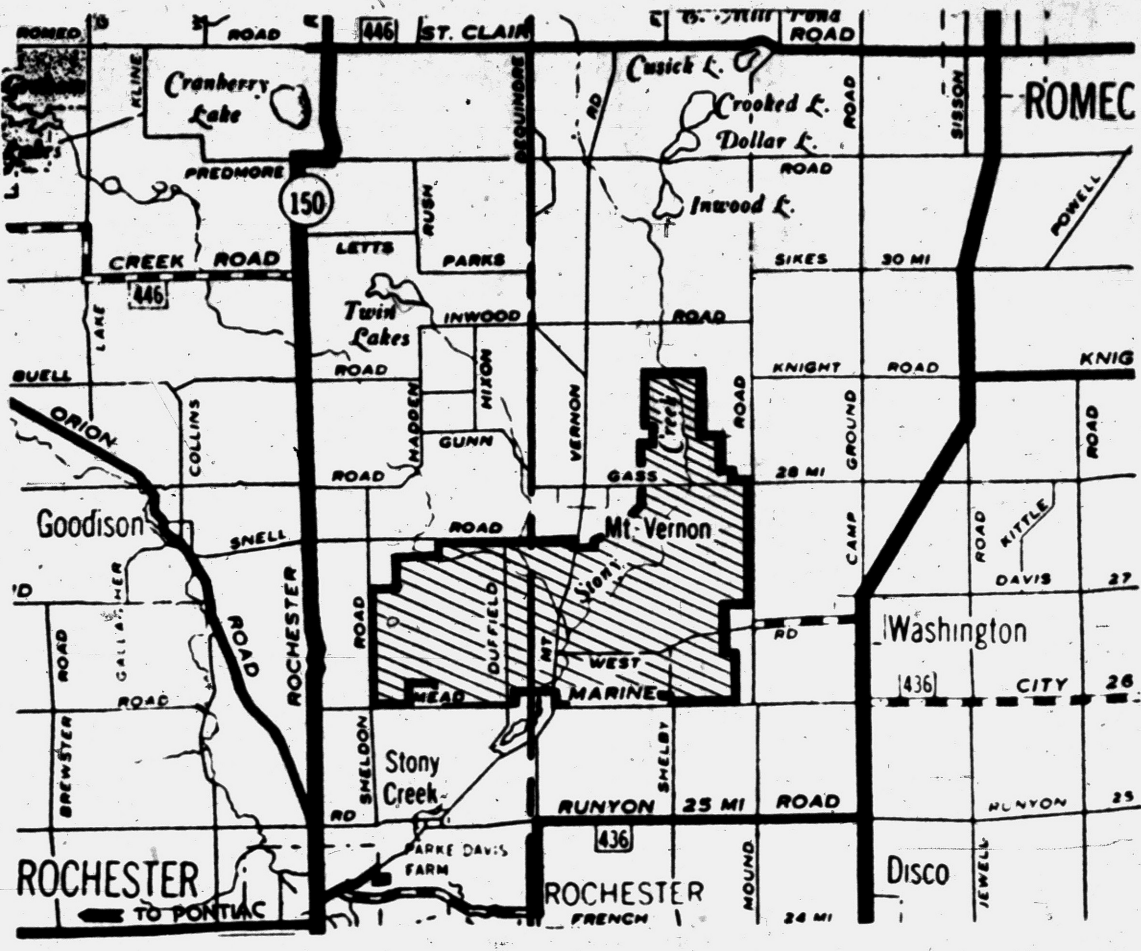

"We must know where we can house and feed over a million people."

This survey established refugee centers. The next step is for Louis Dorman, Jr., civil defense director of Waterford Township, to assign workers to manage the shelters in a time of disaster.

He will begin collecting volunteers to handle specialized problems in the shelters—auxiliary electricians and plumbers. He will organize a system of communications between shelters and a central registry office where records of all refugees can be kept.

Jarrendt said special certificates of appreciation will be presented to Mrs. Peterson, her committee, William J. Bawden, administrative assistant in Waterford Township schools, who assisted them in gathering the information.

Subcommittee chairmen included Mrs. Faye Donelson, Mrs. Catherine Thurston and Mrs. Royal Edline, he added.

MAP SURVEY PROJECT — Lewis C. Jarrendt, Oakland County civil defense director, assigns territory to Mrs. Faye Donelson and Mrs. Royal Edline, subcommittee chairmen in a survey of refugee feeding and housing facilities in Waterford Township. The survey, just completed, provides Jarrendt with comprehensive information to be used in the event of disaster.

SOME-UP-THERE LINES ME! — Getting a helping hand from its mama, a one-and-a-half day old flamingo appears bewildered as it begins its life sentence between the skyscraper-size legs of its mother. Hatched at Miami Beach's Flamingo Village, the tiny bird is probably the first flamingo ever hatched while in close confinement.

Who Should Foot Bill for the Honeymoon?

EAST LANSING — Should the bride pay for the honeymoon if the bridegroom lacks the funds?

Asst. Prof. Margery R. Ross, who teaches courses in "marriage and family counseling," says Michigan State University students appear divided on the question.

In classroom discussion, the girls generally say "no," and men students "yes."

Miss Ross, cited as a typical feminine viewpoint:

"It just isn't right to make her pay for an expense rightly his."

Men students are apt to take the attitude "Once they're married what's hers is his, and what's his is hers." In short, what's the difference who pays?

Prof. Ross said in her opinion the right answer probably varies with circumstances.

May Ask Legislative Action Hare Seeks Right to Deny Licenses to Bad Drivers

LANSING — Secretary of State James M. Hare said today he may ask the Legislature for specific authority to deny new licenses to motorists with "bad" driving records.

Until Tuesday, Hare acted in the belief that he had such power. In 1955, about 25,000 applicants for new licenses were turned down, many of them on the basis of bad driving records.

But then Judge Marvin Salmon ruled in Ingham County Circuit Court that a record of repeated minor traffic violations was insufficient grounds under the law for rejection.

Hare said one of the effects of the ruling will be to throw a huge additional administrative burden on his staff.

Heretofore a motorist who had built up a record of numerous violations could be turned down for a new license simply on the basis of a quick review of his file at the time of application.

In the future, a rejection will have to follow a hearing by one of Hare's examiners. This procedure, considering the volume of cases involved, would require a large increase in personnel and a vastly greater expenditure of time to accomplish the same end result.

Man Drowns in River

NEWAYGO — Arthur Westgate, 22, of rural Newaygo, near Hardy Dam Wednesday, he and a companion, Bruce Kyser, 22, of Clarksville, were thrown from a canoe when it overturned. A fisherman rescued Kyser.

GMC Trucks Handle Camp Chores

Twenty flame red GMC trucks are doing a good deed for 5,000 girl scouts by keeping vital supplies flowing smoothly through their vast "tent city" west of Pontiac.

The trucks were loaned by GMC Truck and Coach Division to the 1956 Senior Girl Scout Roundup at Highland Recreation Area.

"Without the trucks, we'd be lost," said Julian H. Salomon, site and facilities director for the Roundup. "They literally serve as our supply lifeline."

Nine pickups, seven Suburban station wagons, three panel trucks and a stake truck have been furnished for the June 28 — July 11 outing.

They shuttled personnel and cargo around the camp prior to the arrival of the Scouts, and now deliver supplies to the girl campers.

"We are pleased that the Pontiac area was chosen for this huge gathering of girl scouts, and that our division can be of some assistance to them," said Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC.

"The essential nature of truck transportation in the Girl Scout encampment illustrates, on a small scale, the vital role trucks play in the movement of various commodities. The camp, as the nation needs a constant flow of goods and services hauled by truck to maintain its many functions."

Heading the movement of supplies is Miss Gretchen H. Yoffa, Miss Yoffa became acquainted with GMC trucks as an overseas Red Cross clubmobile driver during World War II and the Korean conflict.

"Being connected with GMC trucks seems like old times," Miss Yoffa said. "I'm particularly pleased to have the panel trucks. They will permit us to load paper supplies in the rain without running the risk of water damage."

Miss Yoffa has used her military organizational "know-how" to set up a supply distribution operation that "will keep those trucks busy just about all the time."

"Girls will draw three days' supplies at a time at distribution centers established in each camping section," explained Miss Yoffa.

"The trucks also will be used for various maintenance operations and other 'housekeeping' chores essential to the smooth operation of the camp. At times, they even will haul foodstuffs around the camp."

Salomon said the trucks also will be used for various other purposes besides delivering supplies. The stake truck, for instance has been used to pick up camping equipment and baggage at various Michigan cities.

Widow's Plight Brings Navy Aid

The Navy came to the rescue in helping fulfill a dream of Mrs. Ella Wilcox, 77, of 38 N. Shirley Ave., a widow who is partially blind.

Two members of the Navy Recruiting Service in Pontiac, Petty Officers L. T. Harris and W. J. Borer, are busy this week putting a first coat of paint to Mrs. Wilcox's home.

Both men volunteered to take over the job which was a project originally suggested for Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce's "Clean - Up, Fix - Up, Paint - Up Week."

So, a number of friends of Mrs. Wilcox, who lives on a monthly pension of $70 from the Aid for the Blind, solicited the services of the U. S. Navy.

The Pontiac Paint and Varnish Co. supplied the paint to help Mrs. Wilcox's long dream of having her home painted come true.

HELPING HANDS — Performing beyond the "call of duty" in helping paint the home of Mrs. Ella Wilcox, 38 N. Shirley Ave., are members of the local Navy Recruiting Service, Chief Petty Officers L. T. Harris and W. J. Borer. The men are donating their time for a week to paint the home of Mrs. Wilcox, a widow who is partially blind.

They'll Build Area's First Shelter No More Cyclone Scares for the Pixleys

Mrs. Dorothea Pixley is plain fed up with tornado scares.

So's her Scotty dog, Princess. Together, they have dashed for safety to the basement of their home at 273 Edison St. too many times recently.

There in a dark tool room Mrs. Pixley sat on an uncomfortable chair listening to a portable radio for news that tornado alerts are over.

Princess, which thunder and lightning easily set to trembling, joined in the all-night orations.

So Mrs. Pixley talked it over with her husband George. The result will be tornado-proof shelter.

"Some folks think I'm silly," said Mrs. Pixley, 49, "but it seems to me that tornadoes are here to stay and I'm not going to lose any more sleep over them."

The shelter will be of concrete reinforced with steel. It will be built under the front porch, where the contractors, Bob's Building Service, today started work renovating the porch and siding. Both jobs will be done at the same time.

Murray White, president of the company, thinks its first home tornado shelter in Pontiac.

Costing around $500, it will serve as a bomb-shelter too, he said. A steel door will lead to the Pixleys' basement.

It will be eight by six feet wide, high enough to stand in, and ventilated.

"I'll have a bed in there, and my radio and an electric lantern," Mrs. Pixley said.

Pixley, a 52-year-old foreman at General Motors Truck and Coach, probably will continue to sleep in the bedroom during alerts.

"Tornado scares don't bother him," said Mrs. Pixley. "Even if I never use the shelter during a real tornado, it still will be worth it."

"We can store things there—like the lawn mower."

Robert J. Anderson Jr., 30, was listed in good satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

He was riding with Paul E. Tabor, 27, of Garden City, who was not injured, according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

Tabor lost control of the truck while passing several cars north of Opdyke road, deputies said.

Ex-U. of D. Footballer Sentenced for Theft

BAY CITY — Andrew W. Karpus, 42, former college and professional football player, has been sentenced to 1½ to 4 years in Southern Michigan prison for stealing an electric toaster.

Circuit Judge David R. Louis declined to consider probation, noting that Karpus had a record of previous convictions involving assault and robbery charges.

Karpus, of Bay City, started his football career playing with the University of Detroit. He spent part of a season with the Philadelphia Eagles, had a tryout with the Detroit Lions and played in the old American Football League.

Positive Policy With Soviet Near

Ike May OK Swap Visits

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower is due to approve soon a "positive" policy for exchanges of visits between the United States and Russia.

Officials said the proposed policy statement, now reported agreed on in the administration, would provide for the United States to propose some exchanges with Russia as well as to react to Soviet proposals for visits.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference the problem of East-West exchanges "is coming up within the next few days, perhaps, for final decision through the National Security Council and the President, which will help us firm our position."

United States policy has been knotted in controversy, principally among the State, Defense and Justice Departments, for several months. The Justice Department reportedly has not been enthusiastic about having a large number of Soviet visitors.

However, the State Department and some presidential advisers have argued that the United States could not afford to erect an "Iron Curtain" of its own.

Officials said the new policy would provide for "positive action" by the United States on a basis of reciprocal treatment. The basic idea is that as the Russians open up their country to American visitors the United States is prepared to welcome Soviet visitors.

To the Rescue

OKLAHOMA CITY — Police said a man who almost succeeded in rescuing his brother from the paddy wagon was carrying family loyalty too far. He was thrown in jail too.

Chicago Pioneers in Field

First Civilian Reactor

CHICAGO — The nation's first private nuclear reactor for industrial research went into operation today.

The event gave American industry the first green light to conduct reactor studies without government security restrictions.

The 50,000-watt reactor is at the Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology on Chicago's near South Side. It is the first to be constructed in a highly populated area since the world's first reactor was operated under wartime secrecy at Stagg Field at the University of Chicago.

The reactor, a "solution type," uses as fuel enriched uranium dissolved in about four gallons of water. It was built by Atomics International, a division of North American Aviation, Inc., Canoga Park, Calif. The Atomic Energy Commission supplied the uranium on an "extended loan" basis as required by law.

Dr. Richard F. Humphreys, director of the reactor program, said its most probable frequent use will be the production of radioisotopes which will be used in the study of chemicals and various materials.

Fair Prizes Set Record

DETROIT — Prizes for the 1950 Michigan State Fair now total a record $138,000, some $7,000 over the 1955 premium total, general manager Donald L. Swanson announced. Deadline for entries is Aug. 10. Singer Julius LaRosa will head the Coliseum entertainment at the Fair Aug. 31-Sept. 9.

About 4,000 grade crossings accidents occur annually.

Public Works Bill Passes in Voice Vote

WASHINGTON — Congress passed by voice vote yesterday a compromise bill appropriating $856,727,000 for government public works programs in the fiscal year that begins Sunday. This figure compares with President Eisenhower's request for $818,501,000.

The bill carries $635,012,500 for river and harbor and flood control projects and $144,225,000 for reclamation and irrigation program. Funds for 288 projects were included.

Eisenhower signed two other money bills. One provides $117,804,058 to operate Congress in the coming fiscal year. The other makes available $5,968,000,000 for a number of executive bureaus, boards, commissions and other independent offices.

Sweden has close to 100,000 lakes left by retreating glaciers of the Ice Age.

Atom Radiation Experts Study Bomb Fallout Effects

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (U)—English cows have eaten grass sprinkled with radioactive elements released in atom bomb tests in faraway Nevada.

While stressing that such a radioactive menu—not restricted to cows in Britain alone—is far from being at any danger point at this time, the National Academy of Sciences mentions it to emphasize this point:

The sea, the air and plants and animals hold the answers to some of the still-unresolved radiation safety problems.

"We had better be ready with the answers," the academy adds.

So far, says this group of eminent scientists, only relatively small amounts of radiation have been released. And, on the whole, it says, things have gone well from the safety standpoint—both in controlling release and applying protection measures.

But the academy says time is running out for obtaining new knowledge to assure maximum protection against increased hazards expected in the next two decades as atomic power plants spring up.

It also mentioned the "continuation" of H-bomb tests, but offered no estimates of how long they would go on.

The job of coming up with answers calls for the combined efforts of weathermen, oceanographers, agricultural scientists and experts in the disposal of radioactive wastes, the academy says.

The academy, in its recent report on hazards inherent in radiation of any kind, listed radiation from atomic-bomb tests, nuclear power plants, medical X-rays, and from naturally radioactive materials in the ground and atmosphere. Elsewhere in its report, the academy said there is a need for greater technical improvements to assure against serious—and conceivably even catastrophic—accidental releases of radioactivity from atomic reactors. Present reactor safeguards have had a very fine record, but protective measures could stand improvement, the report said.

Concerning radiation once released—whether from reactors, reactor waste or "garbage," or from bomb tests—the academy said this:

Between the potential sources of man-made radiation and the people of the world there's a vast complex "connecting network" of air, water, and the plant and animal life which form the links in the chain of our food supply. The scientists said:

"English grass has been sprinkled with (radioactive) strontium from Nevada. And English cows have eaten it. Plankton in the North Sea has very likely taken up some of the radioactivity being dumped there from a British atomic reactor. Where did the ocean currents then carry this plankton? What fish fed on it? Who ate the fish?"

In stressing the need for more research on the workings of the radiation-bearing "network," the academy said:

"We must know more about how the winds or the ocean currents move, how plants and animals may concentrate radioactivity and transport it from one place to another."

"There is still time to find out but not very much."

"The amount of man-made radiation that has been put into our surroundings so far is, from almost every point of view, probably negligible."

(million-ton) weapons continues. In the next couple of decades the atomic power industry will mature and the question of what to do with almost unthinkable quantities of radioactive waste products will be upon us.

"We had better be ready with the answers."

Look, No Lake

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Rainy Lake in Presque Isle County does a disappearing act, almost as if somebody had pulled its plug. At intervals the lake in northeastern Michigan nearly disappears through an underground channel, like bath water down a drain. Geologists say the water seeps down into an underground limestone cavern. The lake fills up again when mud and silt accumulate to plug crevices in its bed.

A 200-pound man would weigh only 74 pounds on Mars.

Community Club Readies Celebration

The Northside Community Club will sponsor its annual five-day Independence Day celebration beginning Saturday at Oakland Park in conjunction with the city Parks and Recreation Departments. It was announced today by Robert R. Schumde, club president.

The event will get under way Saturday morning and continue through the holiday, with all funds to be used towards improving city recreation facilities or other needs. Two special days will be held for children to highlight the celebration. On these days, the kids will be able to enjoy the various amusements, and, in concessions, at reduced prices. Several races and various types of contests for the children will be featured July 4 with the carnival coming to a climax that night with a big fireworks display at 10 p.m.

All activities at the park, located at Montcalm and Glenwood Streets, will be under the direction of members of the Community Club and workers from the city departments.

Plumbers Given Raise

JACKSON (AP)—Unionized plumbers in Hillsdale, Jackson and Lenawee counties have accepted a 17 1/2 percent hourly pay raise, ending a three-week work stoppage. They will receive 2 1/2 cents more an hour Jan. 1, 1957, and an additional 15 cents June 1, 1957.

Algerian Moslems, Rebels Not United French in Independence Fight

ALGERIA (AP)—The stevedores must somehow wean most of the Moslems away from France. Every day, over the breadth of Algeria, there is a score of seemingly isolated attacks on individuals. The local papers carry them in almost box-score fashion.

The bustling scene on the docks here spotlights one aspect of the Algerian rebellion. The Moslem population is by no means united against France. Thousands, for one reason or another, are content to work with the French if not actively for them. The rebels, if they are to succeed in their proclaimed intention of setting up an independent Algerian state,

Even the aggregate makes little impression. Stories which start out, "Forty-three persons, most of them Moslems, were slain in a series of attacks in various parts of Algeria today," lose their impact through repetition.

But a study of these apparently isolated assaults shows that in virtually every case the victim is either a long-time French settler with many Moslem friends, or a Moslem with a record of cooperation with the French. Moslem veterans with distinguished war records are special targets.

The rebel strategy at this point seems to be to cut all bridges between the two elements of Algeria's population, the Europeans and the Moslems.

A secondary rebel aim in attacking Moslems friendly to France is to deprive the French army and police of possible informers among the Arab population.

The rebels have made a special target of SAS (Service Administrative Specials) officers. The French have been stationing in Moslem villages to instill confidence among the rural Moslems and to gain their friendship. These men, all experts in the Arabic language and customs, take up a post with a small staff as a symbol of French authority and French cooperation.

Another rebel tactic has been to harass the French settlers. The object of this apparently is to render life so unbearable for the settler, usually a long-time resident, or a second- or third-generation European in Algeria, that he will pack and quit the country. Many French settlers have applied for visas to Canada.

A French tradesman, with a wide clientele among European farmers, puts it this way:

"In the past the French farmer used to stroll, quite unarmed, among his farm workers to see how they were getting along or to give them directions. Now, there are always two supervisors. One carries a gun and watches the Arabs. The other watches the work."

With the arrival of strong contingents of troops from France, this picture is changing. Officials say the Moslems in some areas have regained confidence that the French will protect them if they continue to work French-owned farms.

Fires Plaguing Forests in West

Army of Men Fighting
Rash of 150 Blazes in Arizona, New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Forest Service officials and an army of 2,500 men fought an unprecedented rash of about 150 fires in Arizona and New Mexico today.

Most of the fires were caused by lightning and ranged from less than an acre to 4,800 acres.

"This is undoubtedly the worst time we've had in region history," said M. H. Davis, assistant forester. "Our people are getting very fatigued. Fires are breaking out almost faster than we can keep abreast."

The largest was a 4,800-acre fire on Graham Mountain, south of Safford, Ariz. It broke out two weeks ago and was brought under control a few days ago. Then, late yesterday, wind up to 60 miles an hour fanned it wild again.

NEW OUTBREAK
Another big one broke out late yesterday in north central New Mexico around the scar left by a fire extinguished about six weeks ago. Davis said the new outbreak, on the north end of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains just south of the Colorado line, had swept three sides of the old burn and covered about 2,000 acres.

Davis said 50 more Indian fire-fighting experts from New Mexico had been asked for duty on a new fire in Coronado National Forest north of Douglas, Ariz. He said 100 soldiers from Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., had been sent out on that one and it had spread to an "excess of 2,000 acres."

In that one forest, 30 lightning-caused fires were reported by late yesterday, he said.

3 Poles in Antarctic

BOSTON—Antarctic has three poles: the geographic South Pole, the magnetic South Pole, and the "pole of inaccessibility" at the center of Aurora Australia.

8 Teachers Join Area School Staff

NORTH BRANCH—Eight new elementary and secondary teachers have been engaged to fill the North Branch Area School staff for the 1956-57 school year. The staff is now complete with the exception of three vacancies.

New Elementary teachers are, Mrs. Zella Marsh of Otter Lake, Mrs. Mary Jacobs of Brown City, Mrs. Marion Ritter of Clifford, and Mrs. Lois Ann Innes of Snover.

New instructors on the secondary level will be George Cline of Breckenside, William Mumby of Corunna, Paul Earl Bush of Flint, and William Esau of Saginaw.

Mrs. Ruth Fox will remain elementary principal, as will Albert Stickle at the high school. C. Wesley Clarton has been re-engaged for three years as superintendent.

Soviets May Soon Read Nikita's Tirade on Stalin

MOSCOW (INS)—The Russian man-in-the-street soon may be able to read the historic Khrushchev denunciation of Stalin made last February at the 20th congress of the Soviet Communist party. Some Western diplomats in Moscow believe that the publication in Pravda yesterday of an article from the New York Daily Worker was a prelude to the appearance of the Khrushchev speech in the Communist party organ.

Army Predicts Defense Against Enemy Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army held out high hope today for countering the coming menace of the intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) armed with an H-bomb warhead.

It predicted such an antimissile system will be ready in four or five years.

The Senate subcommittee investigating U.S.-Russian air power released last night previously secret testimony by the Army's specialists in missiles and missile defense development.

Included was the statement of the chief of the air defense branch of the Army's missile division, Lt. Col. Woodrow B. Sigley, that the Army is "confident" it will have a counterweapon ready in time to "meet the described threat" of the ICBM in 1960 or 1961.

Censors deleted portions of the testimony which apparently dealt with details of Army progress toward producing an antimissile system. It was assumed, however, that the Army was describing its Nike II missile.

Unlike the Nike and Nike B missiles, which are designed for operating against manned, jet bombers and other conventional planes, the Nike II is intended to reach and destroy ballistic and guided missiles with supersonic speed at great height and at more than double the lateral range of the anti-aircraft Nikes.

Nike II is being designed to climb at speeds of thousands of miles per hour to a height of as much as 50 miles. The mass destruction hydrogen rocket must be countered and destroyed far away and high above its intended target to make defense practical.

The Army also gave the committee a new timetable for development of an American intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM). Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, chief of research and development, said, "We will put a ballistic missile into business very soon."

And Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, who heads the Army's ballistic missile agency at the Redstone, Ala., arsenal, disclosed plans to fire a test device—for range only—more than 3,000 miles. Medaris said, "We will do that shortly."

Presumably, this is one of the reasons for the recent agreement obtained by the United States to permit extension of the test range extending southeastward from Florida into the Atlantic.

to provide a 5,000-mile range for the 3,000-mile rocket.

His remarks probably will disturb the Air Force, which has been assigned primary responsibility for developing an ICBM of 5,000 miles reach. Medaris' comment could mean the Army was aiming at adding distance to its IRBM to equal the Air Force's 5,000-mile goal before the Air Force could perfect such a rocket. As far as is known, the Air Force up to now has fired no ballistic missile. On the other hand, the Army has test-fired many times its Redstone ballistic missile which has a range up to 200 miles.

The Army is so confident in the IRBM field that it already has prepared a target list for the Eurasian land mass, the testimony disclosed. In the censored transcript, no names were given for potential targets in Russia or Red China.

Pakistan, U.S.S.R. Sign 1st Trade Pact

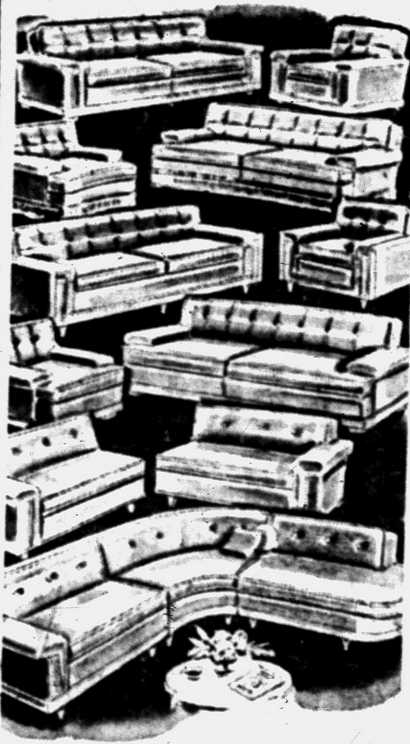

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Western-allied Pakistan and the Soviet Union have signed their first trade agreement. Russian experts came here a month ago to open negotiations as part of the Soviet's new economic drive in southern Asia.

The total amount of the trade anticipated was not announced. Pakistan will sell the Soviets jute, cotton, wool, hides and tea. In return she will get industrial and farm equipment, chemical products, metals, oil, timber

Jubilee Joes Surefire Hit

...bottled soft drinks have added their sparkle to the Fourth of July for the last hundred years. More popular today than ever, they'll add their tangy refreshment to many a holiday menu, and will quench the thirst of many a parader—from the oldest ranks of the Legion to the littlest Brownie and Cub Scout.

In fact, it's probably the youngsters who get the biggest bang out of "The Fourth"—so here's a recipe just for them, called Jubilee Joes.

They're little dolls made of a sweet dough prepared with orange carbonated beverage.

Jubilee Joes

2 tablespoons lukewarm water
1 yeast cake (or 1 package dry yeast)
1 cup orange carbonated beverage
2 tablespoons dry milk powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon mace or nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind or 1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg, beaten
1 cup soft butter or margarine
25 cups sifted all purpose flour

Crumble yeast cake over lukewarm water; or sprinkle dry yeast over warm (not hot) water. Set aside for five minutes.

Pour orange carbonate beverage into mixing bowl. Sprinkle with dry milk; stir with fork until dissolved. Stir in baking soda and sugar. Stir yeast until dissolved, then stir into beverage mixture.

Add remaining ingredients, stirring in half the flour. Beat well, then beat in enough of remaining flour to make a very soft dough.

Turn out onto lightly floured board, knead lightly about 10 minutes, or until smooth but still sticky. Place dough in a warm greased bowl. Brush with melted butter. Cover with a damp cloth and let rise in warm place (80-85 degrees) until doubled.

Punch down and turn dough over in bowl. Let rise until almost doubled. Divide dough in half, leaving half in bowl. Divide the other half into 5 or 6 equal rounds. Cover and let rest 15 minutes.

To shape: Pinch off small piece of dough from round to make head. Place on greased baking sheet. Pinch off larger round for body and place below head, leaving space between. Divide remaining round into two long rolls. Join head and body with one. Join center of other to body to form legs.

When half the dough is shaped, brush forms with melted butter. Cover and let rise until light but not doubled. Repeat procedure with second half of dough. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 15 to 20 minutes.

Decorate with confectioners' orange frosting; add raisins for eyes and buttons, and a sliver of maraschino cherry for mouth. Makes 10-12.

Confectioner's Orange Frosting
3 cups confectioners' sugar
1/2 cup orange carbonated beverage
Blend beverage into sugar until smooth (beat with electric mixer if desired). More beverage may be added if necessary.

Set bowl over pan of hot water while spooning frosting over Jubilee Joes.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. T-Bone Steak

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. It is cut from the short loin. It is identified by the T-shaped bone. The tenderloin muscle in the T-bone is slightly smaller than that found in the Porterhouse steak. These two steaks are quite similar and used more or less interchangeably.

An oil labeled "salad oil" ought salad dressing at refrigerator not to solidify or separate from a temperature.

BUTTER CRUNCH—Make a recipe of Butter Crunch, the new crumb topping, and you'll have the perfect ingredient to dress up any number of dishes. Butter, brown sugar, flour and nuts or coconut—that's all you need for this versatile addition to some of your favorites.

All-Purpose Butter Crunch for Pies, Cobblers, Topping

Introducing Butter Crunch—a fruit pie filling (cherry, blueberry, new crumb topping, perfect for cobbler, tarts, parfaits and pies. Sprinkle with 1 cup Butter Crunch. Serve warm with cream. Six servings.

Ordinarily crumb crusts and toppings are mixed from graham crackers or wafers, rolled fine. With Butter Crunch however, you start from scratch to make your own all-purpose crumbs!

Butter Crunch, newest recipe development of a famous test kitchen, is baked from butter, brown sugar, flour and nuts or coconut—all products you usually have on hand. The ingredients are mixed, spread in an oblong pan for baking, and on removal from the oven the mixture is stirred to form crumbs.

Warm Butter Crunch can be pressed into a pie plate as a crumb crust. Or the crumbs can be cooled and stored in a covered jar for toppings.

The sugary buttery flavor and out-like texture of these crumbs complement a host of desserts. When the crumbs are sprinkled on fruit sauce, prepared pudding mixes, ice cream sundaes—these plain dishes assume the elegance of party sweets. And cobbler and fruit Betty's are easy when Butter Crunch is waiting in the ice box.

Butter Crunch

1 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup chopped pecans, walnuts, or coconut

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Mix all ingredients with hands. Spread in oblong pan 13x9"x2". Bake 15 minutes. Take from oven, stir with spoon. Makes 2 1/2 cups. Cool and store Butter Crunch in covered container in refrigerator for later use.

Ways With Butter Crunch:

1. Apple Crunch Sundae. Over each serving of vanilla ice cream, spoon 2 tbsp hot applesauce and sprinkle with 2 tbsp Butter Crunch. For a party touch, add a few drops red food coloring to applesauce.
2. Easy Fruit Betty. Beat 1 can

Vary Cooked Frosting

Vary that seven-minute frosting. Use your standard recipe, but when you add the vanilla, beat in a cup of marshmallow-snippets. To get the snippets ready, cut regular-size marshmallows—using a kitchen scissors—into small pieces.

Tempting First Course

Marinate cooked shrimp in a well-seasoned French dressing. Impale each shrimp on a toothpick, dip in a wedge of avocado, serve as a first course with tomato juice.

EASY RULES FOR WINNING

1. PRINT clearly in the puzzle the letters you think will form words that best fit the clues. After you have filled in the puzzle, PRINT your name and address clearly on the entry blank. Be sure also to print the first letter of your last name in the box provided. Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight August 6, 1956, and must be received no later than August 20, 1956. Mail all entries to: "The Trickster", Box 91, Cincinnati 1, Ohio.
2. You may submit as many solutions to this puzzle as you desire, using official entry blanks. With each entry send a "bottom" from any size bottle of JOY (if you have one) or a facsimile copied from any source—OR enclose a separate sheet of paper on which you have copied the number from the bottom of any size JOY can, which now may be seen at your store. In this ad are pictures of the New Milder JOY bottle carton and can.
3. Carefully study the clues before writing your answers. The right solution requires the most appropriate and suitable word in the most appropriate and suitable to the clue in each case. The judges have been appointed by Procter & Gamble to consider all entries and select the prize winner. Decisions of the judges are final.
4. Procter & Gamble will pay $32,000 for the right solution to this puzzle. If no correct solution is received, the most nearly correct solution, based on the number of correct words, will be the winner. One prize will be awarded.
5. In the event of ties, a separate "Trickster" puzzle and sentence for completion, "Joy makes dishwashing almost nice because _____ (25 words or less) _____," will be mailed to those who have tied. No JOY bottom or can number will be required with a tie-breaking entry. Entries in the tie-breaking contest will be judged on the basis of the puzzle. In the event of ties, the prize money will be paid to the tying entrant whose sentence for completion is judged most apt, original and sincere.
6. All entries become unqualifiedly the property of Procter & Gamble for any and all purposes. No entries returned. Except for incidental, uncompensated help from family and friends, entries must be wholly the work of the person in whose name the entry is submitted, and will be disqualified for outside professional or compensated help. Mechanically reproduced facsimiles or numbers are ineligible. The winner or tying entrants will be notified by mail about 8 weeks after all entries are received.

ing liquid—gentle to your hands. JOY saves you money, too. Penny for penny it does more dishes than anything else. Just one capful makes nice-smelling suds billow up. You try it. Get JOY today in the nice new can or the gay bottle.

July Fourth Shopping Lists This Week

Picnic plans for the Fourth of July are probably foremost in the minds of food shoppers this week. With more and more people discovering what fun it is to cook out of doors, this is an ideal time to enjoy good eating in an outdoor setting, backyard, favorite park or beach area. Plan picnic menus for family satisfaction and good nutrition, just as any other meals suggests Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent.

MEATS—Many red meat cuts, as well as poultry, are good values at the meat counter. Variety meats and cold cuts fit into the list of meats easy to prepare.

BEEF—This is the season when the cuts of beef that require long cooking are not so popular with food shoppers. Consequently, steaks hold a steady price while the less tender cuts are being offered at real savings.

For barbecue or kabobs try round, flank, or chuck steaks cut in one piece or small cubes. These can be tenderized in 12 to 48 hours in a food acid preparation in the refrigerator. Lemon juice, vinegar, wine or tomato juice are natural food acids that will break down the meat fibers and impart a distinctive flavor.

Ground meat has a special savory flavor when one tablespoon of barbecue sauce is placed on each hamburger as it is individually wrapped in aluminum foil. Ham-

FRUITS—Fresh fruits are always a wise choice for desserts. Watermelon is especially good for picnics. Watermelon is especially good for picnics. Watermelon is especially good for picnics.

The recent rains were a lifesaver for locally grown strawberries. According to the District Horticultural Agent, Karl Bailey, this moisture will greatly help, and might double the crop. By the end of this week, shoppers should be able to see better quality berries.

Hot weather last week before the rains caused strawberries to break down easily and spoil rapidly in shipment. Even though quantity supplies were available, quality was not as good as everyone anticipated.

Fresh peaches at 29 to 39 cents a pound will go a long way when used in shortcake or combined with other fruits in salads or desserts.

VEGETABLES—Fresh green salad vegetables steal the show at produce centers. Farmer's Market reports list leaf lettuce in heavy supply; butter or Boston lettuce, romaine, and the small heads of tender Bibb lettuce in moderate supply. Iceberg or head lettuce, America's favorite salad green, is very reasonable compared to other salad items.

EGGS—Deviled eggs are a must on any picnic menu especially at present prices of around 49 to 55 cents a dozen for the large size Grade A quality. For cool summer meals eggs in salads and sandwiches provide a good source of the daily protein needs. Three eggs yield about the same amount of protein as a 4-ounce portion of lean meat.

Barbecued Beef
2 pounds boneless beef, cut in 4-inch pieces
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup undiluted tomato soup
1/2 cup catsup
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
Dash pepper, celery salt
Brown meat well in 1 tablespoon fat in heavy saucepan. Add 1 1/2 cups water, cover and simmer until tender—1 1/2 to 2 hours. Put meat through coarse grinder.

Fry onions in 2 tablespoons hot shortening until tender and transparent. Combine with meat. Add tomato soup, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper and celery salt.

Add about 2 cups meat broth to make the mixture moist. Heat to bubbling and serve between buns. Makes enough filling for 24 sandwiches.

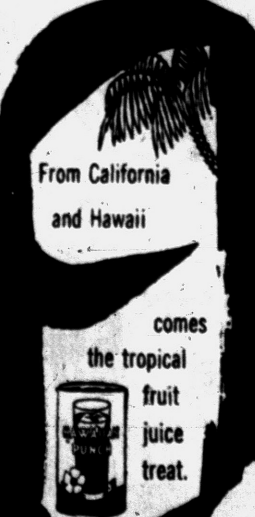

Crispy Pizza Pies Good With Salads

Here's a summertime treat with an Italian accent that's especially good with salads. Easy-to-make "Crispy Pizzas," a delicious combination of sardines, chopped olives and spices on crispy cracker rectangles, will add an extra flourish to your next luncheon or dinner menu. Be sure to serve them lightly browned and hot from the oven. Here's how:

Crispy Pizzas
1 6-oz. can tomato paste
1/2 teaspoon powdered garlic
1/2 teaspoon oregano
2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
1 3/4-oz. can boneless and skinless sardines
30 saltine crackers
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese

In a small bowl combine tomato paste, powdered garlic, oregano and chopped olives. Mash undrained sardines and add. Stir to blend. Arrange crackers on a baking sheet and brush each lightly with olive oil. Top each with 1 teaspoon sardine mixture. Flatten the mixture with the back of the spoon. Sprinkle each with Parmesan cheese and drizzle remaining olive oil over. Broil 5 inches from heat for 1 to 2 minutes or until cheese and crackers are lightly browned. Makes 30 or enough for 5 each for 6 people.

Give that pie-crust mix extra flavor! Add grated orange and lemon rind to it, and use orange juice when you are mixing it instead of the water called for.

From California and Hawaii comes the tropical fruit juice treat.

HAWAIIAN PUNCH.

AT YOUR GROCERS

Pour boiling water over slices of beef liver and let stand for about five minutes; flavor is improved this way.

Some cooks like to add a little finely diced or grated onion to bulk sausage that is shaped into patties and fried.

Want that pastured vanilla pudding to taste special? Fold whipped cream into the pudding when it has cooled to room temperature.

Use high quality eggs, trying and cooking shell; other grades may be for general cooking and baking.

Plan Fourth at Rochester

Council Appropriates Fireworks Fund; Give Lot Size Extension

ROCHESTER — At the Tuesday night meeting of the Village Council, $150 was appropriated for the Rochester Fire Department and their display of fireworks on July 4.

As has been the custom for a number of years, Fire Department will stage the Fireworks Display. It will be on the acreage just east of St. Andrew's Catholic School.

Lyle Buchanan, president stated today that permission had been granted to use the property. The high ground will enable the display to be seen by the many hundreds of villagers.

The council committee, which has been working on a schedule for building code and lot sizes, asked for an extension of time Tuesday. President Clarence Burr gave them until the next regular meeting to submit their final report. On the committee are Norman Day, Elizabeth Maitroff and Frank Rewold.

A public hearing was set for Friday night at 7:30 p.m. for the West Fifth Street and the Campbell subdivision rezoning.

Bids on the new deep well turbine pump for the Water Works were opened but the council voted to hold them until the return of the Village Manager R. A. Slone. At that time they are to be tabulated and evaluated at the next regular meeting.

Grave Damage Termed Grave; Seek Culpit

LAKE ORION—Village officials have offered a $100 reward for information that leads to the arrest and conviction of the individuals responsible for the nearly $2,000 damage to urns and stones at Evergreen Cemetery last week.

The council this week also considered the parking problem on Lake street near the cement ramp from the road into the water where smaller craft can be unloaded without carrying from trailers.

New signs are to be posted, reading, "Boat launching only from North Shore line to lake, Park in the free municipal parking lot downtown."

A petition from owners in the R. P. Stanback Subdivision for sidewalks was presented to the council. The owners offer to give right of way across their property.

Thieves Enter Bar Twice in Two Weeks

CENTER LINE — Last night, for the second time in two weeks, thieves broke into Smith's bar at 2525 Van Dyke. They got away with approximately $1,100 this time.

Proprietor Ernest Smith, 55, of 8891 Warren Blvd. told Commissioner Dennis Frazer of the Center Line police that he closed the bar at 3:15 a.m. and returned at 5 a.m. and found the money missing.

Two weeks ago, $995 and three cases of whisky were taken.

SISTERS MARRY — A recent double wedding in Methodist Church, North Branch, united Eva Jane Smith and Therion Case of Lapeer and Della Dee Smith and Martin McKulin, of North Branch. Parents of the girls are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Smith, also of North Branch.

Rehire 30-Year Teacher; School Named for Her

MARLETTE—The 1956-57 teaching staff of the Marlette Community School will have a new principal and will welcome a former teacher who has been in retirement.

The staff is now complete with the exception of two positions in the junior high school. Wendell Brenner has been elevated to the high school principalship, replacing Richard Kaminski.

Mrs. Roy McDonald will return to teach the second grade. Mrs. McDonald retired from teaching two years ago, after having served thirty years in the Marlette Schools. The new Elementary School, dedicated Sept. 25, 1955, was named the Bea McDonald School in her honor.

Former Oxford teacher, Warren Fred Liken, has been engaged to fill the vacancy created by Brenner. Liken graduated from Central Michigan College.

Earl Decker, of Yale, a graduate of Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, is a former principal and science teacher at Yale.

His wife, Helen Decker, has also accepted a position on the teaching staff. She has been the school librarian at Yale for several years.

Continuing as superintendent is Alfred Amundsen. Charles Joslin will remain elementary principal.

Fair Slates Top Stage Talent

Entertainment Schedule Listed by Swanson Aug. 31-Sept. 9

The Michigan State Fair, famed for its great Coliseum shows, has come up with some of the nation's leading recording and stage stars for this year's program, Aug. 31 through Sept. 9.

The Coliseum entertainment schedule, as announced by Donald L. Swanson, general manager, is as follows:

Aug. 31, Sept. 1, 2 and 3: Jaye P. Morgan, Don Cherry, The Gaylords, The Platters, The Blockbusters, The Krackerjacks, The Four Step Brothers, Bud and Cece Robinson and Roy Tracey M.C.

Sept. 7, 8 and 9: Julius LaRosa, The McGuire Sisters, The Four Lads, The Platters, The Blockbusters, The Krackerjacks, The Four Step Brothers, Bud and Cece Robinson and Roy Tracey M.C. Admission price to the Coliseum will remain as it was last year: $1.50 for adults and fifty cents for children.

Authority Sets July 12 Meeting

Would Welcome Letters From Residents on Site Chosen

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

"Northeast of Pontiac, a whole segment of Oakland County is without adequate public park facilities," said Kenneth Hallenbeck, director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority as he discussed authority plans with the Pontiac Press today.

The 3,500-acre park, which some Rochester-area residents have opposed since the authority revealed its plans recently, is to answer this area need, he explains.

Some of the property which was included in the map shown in a public hearing last week in Rochester, has already been eliminated from authority planning, he explains.

The area is between 26 and 28 Mile roads, and is bounded by Mound and Sheldon roads. It overlaps Macomb and Oakland Counties. Beaches for 50,000 persons, wildlife, sports and picnic areas are expected.

The Lockwood subdivision, partially included in the area last week, will not be encroached upon by the park, Hallenbeck says.

Authority executives surveyed the subdivision, which they had not seen previously because it is not privately owned, on Saturday, and decided it would better be left outside of park borders.

The areas included in the map have been changed somewhat since the meeting, he said, as officials have talked with land owners for the first time.

"Much of the difficulties will be avoided through talk," he said, explaining that he felt that of the 250 people at the meeting about ten or 12 persons formed the objection nucleus. "Over half were in favor of the park," he says.

Stressing that the land chosen is suitable for such an extensive park, Hallenbeck said that the next board meeting will be July 12.

He said the board would welcome letters from residents. He feels that the petition's 100 objecting signatures represents only a smattering of residents in comparison to the probable 20,000 in the county who would welcome such a beach.

Appraisers and negotiators are at work, and options are being taken on the land, he said, preliminary to the July 12 meeting.

He said letters should be addressed to the Board of Commissioners, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit, 26.

"Of the land included in our proposed plan," Hallenbeck says, "at least half is up for sale now. About 1200 acres are on the market at present."

Strong supporter of the Huron-Clinton authority is Clare Cummings, president of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Assn., who is a former chairman of the board of commissioners. He is named as the Oakland County representative to the board by the county board of supervisors.

School Reunion Held

MARLETTE — The thirteenth annual Brown school reunion was held Sunday in the Masonic Hall, in Decker, with about 100 attending and enjoying a co-operative dinner.

PROPOSED PARK — Shaded is the 3,500 acre area to be taken, under tentative plans, by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority for its next public park. Designed to serve the area north and east of Pontiac, it will feature boating, fishing, swimming and picnicking.

Plan New Church; Invest Local Men into Ministry

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A new church is to be started in the Jayne Adams School area.

The United Presbyterian Church, working through the Drayton Plains Congregation, has authorized the beginning of a new church there.

Preliminary surveys will be made during July and August by Richard C. Smith, a member of the staff of the Drayton Plains United Community Presbyterian Church. A Sunday Bible School will probably begin early in the fall in the school.

"Our interest in starting a new church in that area," said W. J. Teeuwissen, Jr., pastor of the Drayton Plains Church, "was prompted by our desire to help meet the religious needs of that rapidly growing community."

Two Drayton Plains young men have been licensed as ministers of the United Presbyterian Church.

The Detroit Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church, at its meeting in Detroit last week, heard Roy Lindahl, Jr. and Harvey Beach preach and meet the other requirements for licensure to the ministry.

Roy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lindahl, of Coesburn drive, and Harvey is the son of Mrs. Ora Beach, of Walton Blvd.

Both have completed their second year at Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary, Pittsburgh, Pa., and both are members of the Drayton Plains church.

OK Birmingham, Milford Projects

The State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday authorized the State Highway Department to issue bonds for a number of projects throughout the state. Included among the projects were a number from the Oakland County area.

Milford will receive $64,000 in revenue bonds for a new municipal parking lot. Special assessment bonds totaling $303,000 will be issued to the city of Royal Oak for street and sidewalk improvement.

Birmingham will use the $305,000 in revenue bonds issued to it for two off-street parking lots in the northeast part of the city.

Boat Docks for Repairs; Passenger Sticks It Out

BLOCK ISLAND, R.I. (U. P.) — It took the motor vessel Sprigg Carroll 13 hours yesterday to go from Providence to Block Island — a normal five-hour run — while carrying only one passenger.

Eleven other passengers disembarked at Newport on the main-land, where the vessel was delayed six hours while its clogged cooling system was flushed.

The hardy passenger who stayed with the vessel was not identified.

NAACP Plans Political Action

Passive Resistance Is Urged as New Weapon to Win Civil Rights

By LEONARD MILLMAN
SAN FRANCISCO (U. P.) — Direct political action and passive resistance were urged on the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, meeting here today, as weapons to win equal civil rights.

"It is within our hands to determine whether there will be a Democratic or Republican 85th Congress," said Clarence Mitchell, top political strategist of the nonpartisan NAACP.

He said Negroes hold the balance of power in 60 congressional contests and 16 senatorial races in November elections. The Negro vote cannot be controlled, he said, but could be tipped either way with "a little direction."

Roy Reuther, one of the three Reuther brothers of the United Auto Workers, went further. He proposed immediate action by a coalition of NAACP, unions and churches "working as a team" to influence House and Senate votes on civil rights in the current Congress.

Both spoke to a Midwestern NAACP "workshop" yesterday as the House Rules Committee in Washington voted 8-3 to send the bipartisan civil rights bill to the House floor. Chairman Smith (D-Va.) said it might be scheduled during the week of July 9 for action in the House. Two days were allowed for debate.

The Mahatma Gandhi tactics of passive resistance were recommended as a new Negro weapon to a mass meeting last night by the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, leader of the six-month-old bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala.

He called it "a new and creative method which might be added to the several methods which we must use to make integration a reality."

Dry Ice Fumes Kill Baltimore Workman

BALTIMORE (U. P.) — A short time after a refrigerated truck left a plant here for Wilmington, Del., employees noticed that a maintenance man was missing.

State police were asked to check the truck. It was intercepted just across the state line in Delaware. Locked in the refrigerated compartment officers found Thomas Hock, 34, dead.

Police said he had made a terrific struggle to get out. He had torn a foot-wide hole through plywood sheathing and insulation of the door, but he had been unable to pierce the metal outer shell.

Dr. S. S. Bjornsen, Delaware state medical examiner, said Hock had died of asphyxiation from the carbon dioxide fumes produced by dry ice.

The Census of Agriculture says 10 per cent of the farms in the United States produce 51 per cent of all farm products.

NEW MEDIUM—Baritone Eddie Fisher, already a radio, television and recording star, is now tackling the movies in "Bundle of Joy", a musical film in which he co-stars with his wife, Debbie Reynolds.

Eddie Fisher Adds Films to Music-Making Career

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U. P.) — Now it's Eddie Fisher, star of records, radio, TV and movies.

Sweet-voiced Edwin from Philadelphia is now making his first movie. It's called "Bundle of Joy", and he's appearing opposite Debbie Reynolds, of all people. Despite such pleasant and familiar surroundings, he's worried about the outcome.

OTHERS FAIL

"Liberace does a picture, and it doesn't turn out so good," he mused. "George Gobel does a picture, and business isn't so hot. What are they going to do to me?"

I volunteered that his was a different case. Neither the Liberace nor the Gobel picture was exactly an artistic triumph. Gobel wasn't funny as his fans expected. As for Liberace's fans, they're not the kind who go to movies anyway.

That's where Eddie holds a trump card. His following includes the youngsters, who have been the backbone of the movie audience for decades.

Eddie seemed heartened by these observations and went on to admit that he was enjoying himself immensely.

NO PROBLEMS

"I'm having a ball," he grinned. "No nerves, no problems. It all comes easy to me. How it will come out on the screen is another matter."

"The thing that impresses me most about making a movie is the time and care that goes into it..."

As with the two other TV stars he mentioned, Eddie is doing a musicalized remake. (Liberace's "Sincerely Yours" was based on George Arliss' "The Man Who Played God"; Gobel's "The Birds and the Bees" on Henry Fonda's "The Lady Eve"; "Bundle of Joy" is derived from the RKO oldie, "Bachelor Mother." Mr. and Mrs. Fisher play the roles once done by David Niven and Ginger Rogers.

TO SHARE PROFITS

Eddie is making his film debut under the best of financial conditions. He'll take a sizable share of

France Begins Campaign to Save Tunisia Air Bases

PARIS (U. P.) — France has launched a diplomatic battle to save her military bases in newly independent Tunisia in the face of stiff opposition from the government of Tunisian Premier Habib Bourguiba.

Bourguiba is expected to negotiate a treaty covering relations between France and her former North African protectorate. He told reporters, "We admit that for the moment Tunisian forces cannot alone assume defense of Tunisia, so French troops can fill this role during the transition period."

"But," he added, "we will never admit that the presence of French forces in our country—and particularly at the big Mediterranean port of Bizerte—can take on a permanent character under pretext of needs of Western strategy or defense of the free world."

This was an obvious reply to French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau's statement to the French Senate this week that

Grain Market Slowly Active

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans managed to stage a slight recovery from recent weakness on the Board of Trade today, moving ahead for relatively small gains in moderately active dealings.

Soybeans were pretty much alone on the upturn and even they were not able to hold their best gains. Other cereals had an easier undertone, wheat and corn particularly being under pressure.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/2 to 1 cent lower, July $2.05 1/2; corn 1/2 to 1 cent lower, July $1.48; oats 1/2 to 1 cent lower, July 66 1/2; soybeans 1/2 to 1 cent higher, July $12.84 1/2; hard 15 to 33 cents a hundred lbs. higher, July $10.30.
