370 Persons Killed in Nation's Holiday Traffic

De Gaulle Given Complete Power

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly today voted 322 to 232 to grant Gen. Charles de Gaulle sweeping powers to govern by decree for six months.

The measure was sent immediately to the French Senate where De Gaulle supporters hope to ram it through today and clear the way for the new premier's trip to Algeria to restore government authority over the rebellious territory.

The vote was almost identical with the 329-224 vote by which the Assembly invested De Gaulle hardly 24 hours earlier.

In the final version of the measure, De Gaulle's supporters accepted amendments restricting the general's power to govern by decree in such fields as civil liberties, labor legislation and social security.

However, the bill incorporated almost everything the general asked to enable him to govern for six months while the Assembly takes a paid vacation.

The general maintained constant contact with the Assembly through Cabinet members reporting to his downtown hotel headquarters.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle's contacts with the Algerian insurgents took on something of a cloak and dagger aspect. Gen. Raoul Salan, French commander in Algeria, announced that he had received a telephone call from De Gaulle saying the general would arrive there Wednesday.

The Assembly voted the tall, grim-faced wartime resistance leader into office by a 329-224 vote last night after he insisted he be given a free hand to run France for the next six months.

The general made his sweeping demands in a cold, calm six-minute speech to the hushed chamber.

He needed the powers, he said, to avert a "breakup and perhaps civil war" in France.

De Gaulle told them he was demanding three major things of the Assembly:

1. Continuation of full powers for Algeria.

2. Full powers to rule France by decree for the next six months.

3. The authority to rewrite the constitution to give the executive more power; to separate executive and legislative powers; and to realign the relationship between France and its empire.

The constitutional reform proposal leaves De Gaulle free to rewrite the basic law.

The finished product would then be submitted to a national referendum, probably in October, without prior approval by Parliament.

31,469 Autos Cross Straits

Bridge Passage Made by 11,000 More Cars Than Ferried in '57

ST. IGNACE (AP) — An estimated 31,469 cars crossed the Straits of Mackinac Bridge between Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas during the five-day Memorial Day weekend.

The Mackinac Bridge Authority said this compared with 20,280 cars that made the trip last year when the only connection was by ferries.

Busiest day of the holiday period was Friday, Memorial Day, when 9,109 cars made the crossing. On Memorial Day last year 5,099 cars made the trip by ferries.

The bridge authority said most of the traffic was moving north the first three days of the holiday period — Wednesday through Friday — and the bulk of the traffic went south Saturday and Sunday.

There were no accidents on the bridge or its approaches. One car ran out of gasoline high over the straits and was rescued by a bridge patrolman.

The Memorial Day count of 9,109 cars was the second highest in the bridge's seven-month history. More than 10,000 cars crossed the bridge on the opening day of hunting season last fall.

Warmer Weather Expected Tomorrow

The U.S. Weather Bureau has issued a forecast of fair and quite cool for the Pontiac area tonight. The low will be from 42 to 46 degrees.

Tomorrow's outlook is mostly sunny and warmer in the afternoon with a high of 70-74.

In a five-day extended weather forecast the bureau has predicted that temperatures will average two to four degrees below the normal 75 high and normal 55 low.

Warmer temperatures are expected tomorrow and Wednesday with cooler temperatures due Thursday and higher temperature readings again on Friday and Saturday. Showers are expected Wednesday and Saturday.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 48. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 63.

LYNN D. ALLEN

Oakland Clerk Dies Suddenly

Lynn D. Allen Stricken on Holiday at Au Sable River Saturday

Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen died Saturday night of a heart attack at his summer cottage near Grayling.

Death came to 59-year-old Allen in Grayling Mercy Hospital where he was taken Saturday afternoon after becoming ill while spending the Memorial Day weekend with his wife Florence at their home on the Au Sable River.

★ ★ ★

With him when he died at 10:15 p.m. were his wife, son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Lynn D. Allen Jr., of Pontiac.

The fatal attack ended one of the longest tenures ever held by an elected Oakland County official. Allen became clerk Jan. 1, 1933 and three months ago announced he would seek his 14th consecutive two-year term in the August primary.

Allen, a Republican, held the record for the longest length of service along with present Treasurer Charles A. Sparks.

★ ★ ★

Filling the position as clerk until a successor is either appointed or elected, is Chief Deputy Clerk Wilfred S. Cooney Jr., who worked under Allen for 10 years.

Allen's body will lie in state at the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home, 268 N. Perry St., until Wednesday morning. The funeral will be at 2 o'clock that day at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. William H. Marbach will conduct the service.

Burial will follow in the Ottawa Park Cemetery at 6180 Dixie Highway.

UAW Works as Usual

500,000 on Job Today Without Union Contract

Pacts Expire for Ford, Chrysler Last Midnight; Truce Uneasy

DETROIT (AP)—In an air of uneasy truce nearly 500,000 auto workers went to their jobs today without protection of a union contract.

There were no reports of incidents halfway through the first shift of no-contract work at the 275 General Motors, Chrysler and Ford plants throughout the country.

For GM and Chrysler it was the first time since 1937 that workers across the nation have turned out cars without a union contract. At Ford plants it was the first time since 1941.

The United Auto Workers Union's contracts with Ford and Chrysler expired last midnight without a new agreement.

Despite the announced intentions of both the companies and the union to continue normal operations without a contract, there was doubt about the future.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the UAW, came out of last-ditch negotiations with stern orders to UAW members not to strike or provoke any incidents that could give the companies an excuse to shut down plants.

The auto companies have cautioned their supervisors to keep a sharp eye out for slowdowns or sabotage.

First actual no-contract work was done Friday at three GM plants in the Atlanta, Ga., area. While other plants were closed for Memorial Day, the Atlanta plants remained open. Workers there got a holiday April 26 in observance of Confederate Memorial Day. There were no incidents reported.

★ ★ ★

UAW contracts with two smaller car makers still are in effect. The contract with American Motors runs out June 15; with Studebaker-Packard July 1.

Negotiations slipped into neutral today. The only meeting was at GM where the UAW asked that FORD STATEMENT — John S. Bugas, vice president in charge of industrial relations at Ford Motor Co., issues his firm's statement after negotiations with the United Auto Workers stopped at midnight last night. Ford's contract with the UAW died at that same time, midnight.

'NOT SEEKING ADVANTAGES' — United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther says the union wants "a sensible and sane, a fair and reasonable solution" in dealings with the Big Three auto makers. Some 465,000 were at work today without contracts at GM, Ford and Chrysler.

Weather and Publicity Keep Accidents Down in Oakland

Bad weather and good publicity were listed as the main reasons for light traffic and few accidents on Oakland County roads during the end of the Memorial Day weekend, local law enforcement officials said today.

"Traffic over the past weekend probably wasn't as heavy as it will be on the coming weekend," said Oakland County Undersheriff Elmer McQuern.

"The main reason for this was no doubt the large amount of advance publicity warning motorists to leave for their destinations early and not to rush," he explained.

According to sheriff's deputies and State Police, the traffic was heavy going out Thursday night and Memorial Day morning, but the expected homeward rush never materialized.

Trooper Stanley Sitkowski, at the Pontiac State Police Post, said today that "there was no congestion on county roads as was expected on Sunday."

"The rain Saturday evening and Sunday caused many weekend pleasure seekers to leave for home early Sunday, creating a steady flow of traffic but no jamups."

Area parks and recreation areas reported capacity crowds on Memorial Day but the rain kept crowds to a minimum on Saturday and Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Although a rash of minor accidents were reported Thursday evening, mishaps leveled off on Memorial Day.

The county's only traffic death (first on the holiday period in three years) was recorded early Saturday morning.

George E. Pikula, 21, of Detroit, died of injuries received when the car in which he was riding overturned on Northwestern Highway, in Farmington Township, said Redford State Police.

His companion, Thomas Manning, 21, of Detroit, is still on the critical list at William Beaumont Hospital but reported "showing some improvement" today.

★ ★ ★

The rain also acted to make drivers more cautious, said authorities. Few personal injury accidents were reported during the expected "critical" period Sunday.

Tank Car Blast Kills Two, Devastates Town of 1,500

MOUNT PULASKI, Ill. (AP)—The shattering explosion of a railroad tank car spread devastation through this town of 1,500 persons yesterday, leaving some 1,000 temporary homeless.

Two railroad crewmen were killed and one was injured seriously in the violent blast.

More than a score of persons were injured by flying glass and debris. None were reported in serious condition.

Damage was estimated by town and civil defense officials at a million dollars. Officials said a survey indicated two-thirds of the town's 400 homes were damaged and not immediately habitable.

State police ordered the town evacuated after the tank car filled with a petroleum product exploded and flames threatened two other tank cars filled with liquid chemicals. The cause of the blast was not immediately determined.

The tank car was one of 43 cars on an Illinois Central Railroad freight train which was switching in the yards. After the fire was put out, some 500 residents whose homes were not too seriously damaged were permitted to remain in town.

★ ★ ★

National Guardsmen were ordered into the town, in central Illinois about 30 miles northeast of Springfield, to aid in the cleanup and to prevent looting.

FELT 20 MILES AWAY

Several nearby communities, some 20 miles away, were reported shaken by the blast and residents in Springfield said they heard the explosion.

The explosion tore a crater about 35 feet across and 30 feet deep where the tank car had been. Chunks of steel, some weighing several tons, were hurled a quarter of a mile.

The shock of the wave shattered windows and tore off doors, porches and sidings of homes and other buildings throughout the town.

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of residents, fearing a second blast, drove to Lincoln 10 miles away. Food and shelter were provided at Central High School and a 200-bed emergency civil defense hospital unit. Other evacuees went to farms outside Mount Pulaski or to other nearby communities.

Double Burglary at Golf Course

$1,500 Stolen From Municipal Links Safe; Church Also Ransacked

The Pontiac Municipal Golf Course, on West South Boulevard, was burglarized twice during the weekend and $1,500 taken from a safe.

The first burglary occurred Friday night when a storage shed was entered by prying a board off a door. A number of flashlight batteries were taken.

Sunday evening, thieves entered the clubhouse by breaking a window and the money was stolen from the safe. The safe was either left unlocked or the thieves knew the combination since it was not forced, police said.

Other weekend breakins included Emmanuel Baptist Church, 645 Telegraph Rd. Offices and cabinets were ransacked but nothing is reported missing.

Thieves also entered Horn and Dixon Supply Co., 1097 Oakland Ave., last night. What is missing has not yet been determined.

Maryland Kids Found Playing With Dynamite

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chuck Mallaney, 11, and his brother David, 10, came across five boys playing with some muddy-yellow sticks near a highway construction project.

Chuck and David grabbed some of the sticks and took them to their dad at their home at nearby Hyattsville, Md.

The sticks were dynamite.

Police said the explosive was taken from a work trailer that was broken into at the construction project. They later found 25 sticks at a recreation area.

Michigan Toll 12 as Wet Weather Limits Travel

Complete U. S. Count Shows 585 Lives Lost on 3-Day Weekend

By The Associated Press

The nation's traffic deaths in the long Memorial Day weekend surpassed the preholiday estimate of 350, with a total of 370.

Late reports of deaths on the highways boosted the total past the record high toll of 369 reported in a three-day Memorial Day weekend in 1955.

Michigan accidents took an average of one life every 4 hours and 20 minutes over the holiday weekend.

The state toll at the end of the 78-hour holiday was 12 dead in highway accidents, 4 drowned and 3 dead in miscellaneous accidents.

The tabulation shows an improvement over last year when 32 persons died in a 102-hour Memorial Day weekend—an average of one death every 3 hours and 12 minutes.

The highest Memorial Day weekend death count in Michigan was 58 in 1941.

Weather helped hold the total to 19. Thundershowers moved into Michigan before the holiday was 24 hours old and probably discouraged some picnickers, fishermen, campers and visitors who had planned to take their cars out on the busy highways.

127 DROWN

In other violent deaths over the nation during the extended holiday weekend, the first of the season, 127 persons drowned and 88 others were killed in miscellaneous type accidents, an over-all total of 585.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated the preholiday toll at 350, had expressed belief last night that a decrease in traffic in many areas because of rain might hold the toll below its prediction. However, it passed the mark and final reports were not tabulated.

The heavy toll was termed by council officials as proof that "impatience, intemperance and indifference bring death on the highways, especially on holidays."

★ ★ ★

In last year's four-day Memorial Day period, 413 persons were killed in highway accidents, which was a record for a four-day Decoration Day holiday.

The over-all total of 660, including 134 drownings and 113 deaths in miscellaneous accidents, also was a record for the Memorial Day four-day period.

700 Assemble in Peace March at White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group opposed to nuclear testing demonstrated quietly in front of the White House yesterday, but President Eisenhower wasn't there to see them.

Some 700 Walkers for Peace came here to march before the executive mansion and later to attend a rally on the grounds of the Washington Monument nearby.

Watched by some 25 special policemen, the demonstraters paraded with signs reading "Stop the tests" and "Peace in the world or a world in pieces."

Eisenhower was at his farm in Gettysburg, Pa.

Some of the marchers had traveled on foot from Wilmington, Del., about 120 miles away. Others had walked from Winchester, Va., about 75 miles from the capital. Others came by bus or other conveyance.

After the rally, the self-styled peace walkers scattered for home, leaving a small group to buttonhole legislators.

Watching Lake Orion Water-Skiers

Freak Mishap Kills Man

An unusual accident took the life of a Detroit man, Edmund Lakin, 65, as he watched water-skiers on Lake Orion Saturday afternoon.

Lakin, of 15091 Warwick Rd., was standing on the dock of a friend when a section of the starter plate of an outboard motor struck him just above the ear.

He died 10 minutes after being admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, without regaining consciousness.

The boat, driven by James Shafor Jr., 15, of 616 Longpoint Dr., Lake Orion, was towing a waterskier. Both the driver and the boat's occupants were unaware of the accident.

The metal piece had been repaired recently, said police. Two Detroit boys, ages 8 and 10, standing nearby said they heard "a hissing noise in the air" and then saw Lakin fall.

Witnesses estimated the metal flew about 150 to 200 feet before striking Lakin.

What Are They Doing There?

Soviet Ships Off Canada

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials are wondering what, besides fishing, half a dozen Soviet vessels may be doing about 100 miles off Canada's east coast.

The ships have been scouted, and U.S. naval and air officers noted that the number never seems to vary much, whether or not there are fish in the area. The vessels have been seen near an area marked by buoys flying small Soviet flags.

The place where the Soviet ships have been stationed lies in international waters and the general area is visited by fishing craft of a number of nations.

★ ★ ★

There was speculation the Russians might be engaged in observing movements of American and Canadian ships and aircraft.

The Soviet government complained that an American military plane had flown too close to one of the vessels.

★ ★ ★

Stephenson, plus James K. Conway, Robert F. Potere, and Wilfred E. Mitchell, clerks in Allen's office.

Honorary pallbearers will be Circuit Judges Frank L. Doty, George B. Hartrick, H. Russel Holland, and Clark J. Adams, and Sparks, Frederick C. Ziem, Frank W. Irons, Daniel T. Murphy Jr., and Daniel W. Barry, all top county officers.

Allen was born Dec. 20, 1898 in Birmingham, where he attended his first school—the Old Hill School. He later attended Birmingham High School, where he began playing football. He later starred at Detroit Central High and the University of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

While only a freshman halfback weighing 187 pounds, Allen scored the only points ever scored by the University of Detroit against the University of Michigan. This was in 1917 when Allen booted a 37-yard drop-kick. But Michigan won 14-3.

He was a candidate for All-American honors that year.

At the time of his death Allen made his home at 4025 South Shore Dr., on Watkins Lake in Waterford Township.

Surviving are his wife, son, a daughter, Mrs. David H. Warrilow, of Pontiac, and four grandchildren.

World War I interrupted his college education in 1917 when he left school to enlist in the Navy. He served with the submarine destroyer fleet. Allen was discharged in 1919.

Before he left the service he married the former Florence J. Kellogg in Pontiac on Aug. 21, 1918.

Allen was a life-long resident of the county he served for so many years. He settled in Pontiac in 1920 following his Navy discharge.

★ ★ ★

His love for hunting and fishing cost Allen his right hand in a hunting accident in 1921. But this handicap didn't damper his love for sports.

He played golf in par or near par figures, and once earned an American Legion golf tournament trophy.

Along with this means of relaxation came many more hours as a county Republican leader. He first entered politics when he sought the nomination for clerk in 1932. He won the nomination that year and was elected to his first term.

During his long tenure as clerk he worked diligently to streamline methods of perserving tons of county records. He was instrumental, along with Register of Deeds Murphy, in starting microfilming of these records this year.

★ ★ ★

Allen also, as a former president and secretary of the County Clerk's Assn., was credited with urging the passage of many new laws in the State Legislature which increased revenues in county clerk offices throughout the state.

His calling the roll of Oakland County supervisors always signaled the start of many Board of Supervisors meetings over which he served as clerk.

As clerk for so many years he was responsible for all county election results, along with his election staff. A major effort in streamlining elections in the county was made possible with Allen encouraging governmental units to adopt modern voting machines in place of the old-fashioned paper ballots.

★ ★ ★

Today all but five of the county's 296 voting precincts have voting machines.

The word "patriotism" and Old Glory meant a lot to Allen.

At the time of his death he was making plans for the 15th annual Flag Day service to be staged June 11 at the Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 810, of which he was a life member.

He served for many years as chairman of the Americanism Committee of the Lodge.

Allen kept in almost constant contact with thousands of citizens naturalized in Oakland County Circuit Court. The Flag Day celebration was arranged for these many persons as a reunion.

★ ★ ★

Boys also played a big part in Allen's life. Because he continually endeavored to work with them, mainly through organized athletic programs in and around Pontiac, he was named the first "Father of the Year" by the Pontiac Boys' Club in 1943.

Allen served several years as president of the Oakland County Historical and Veterans' Foundation.

He worked also with many veteran organizations in the county and state. He was a member of Veterans of World War I, the American Legion Cook Nelson Post, and formerly was first vice-president of the Republican War Veterans of Michigan 40 & 8.

Other organizations to which Allen belonged included the Oakland County Sportsman Club, the D Club of the University of Detroit, and the National Rifle & Skeet Club.

He served also as chairman of a State Americanization Committee.

The family has said that memorial contributions may be made to the Michigan Heart Association.

Father Throws Tot Free of Flames

DETROIT (AP)—The sure hands of a neighbor helped 27-year-old Ralph C. Shefferly rescue his baby son from a home fire yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Shefferly, leaning out a second story window, dropped the baby, Paul, 14 months, to Don M. Schlemmer, 26, his neighbor, as the latter stood on a drain pipe spout a few feet off the ground.

A fire had broken out upstairs in the home. Shefferly, a factory employe and part-time dental student, awoke in a smoke-filled room.

He seized Paul from the baby's crib beside his bed and ran to the window shouting for help.

★ ★ ★

Shefferly's wife, Eleanor, 26, and their two other children, Ricky, 4, and Karen, 3, were downstairs at the time and fled outside.

Then Shefferly leaped from the window to the ground. Paul was unhurt. The father suffered only minor burns.

Nation's Weather Varied Today After Big Rains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation had a variety of weather today after a weekend of rains and storms in many sections.

It was cool in much of the Midwest and warm and humid in Southern and Eastern sections. Temperatures were near normal levels in most other areas.

★ ★ ★

Unseasonable cold air from Canada spread across the upper and mid Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region southward to the Ohio River. The cool air was expected to spread into the Ohio Valley, lower Great Lakes region and New England.

★ ★ ★

The warm and humid weather of the last several days continued in Texas and south of the Ohio River and east of the Appalachians.

Clashing of cold air with warm moist air from the Gulf of Mexico triggered heavy rains in Tennessee. As the cold air moved southward during the night, strong winds struck sections of Kentucky and western parts of Nashville, Tenn. Nearly 2 inches of rain doused Chattanooga, Tenn.

500,000 Workers on Jobs as Usual

future talks be held someplace other than GM headquarters.

Reuther failed in last-hour attempts to win concessions from Ford and Chrysler before their contracts died at midnight. He made the same maneuvers that failed at GM Thursday night. But the companies flatly rejected his moves for any kind of temporary extensions of contracts.

★ ★ ★

After the breakup at Ford, Reuther told newsmen, "We will ultimately get the companies to sit down and bargain with us the way they should. We will get a 1958 contract, whether it takes two weeks, four weeks or eight weeks . . . Time is on our side."

Reuther hasn't said how much the companies will have to sweeten their offers.

The companies didn't say how they planned to keep Reuther from stalling until model changeover time would give him a more favorable opportunity to strike. Reuther said it would be insane to strike now when the industry has 750,000 unsold 1958 model cars.

★ ★ ★

But in setting their own terms for keeping plants in operation, the companies cut off collecting dues from UAW members and turning the money over to the union. Now the union will have to collect its own dues.

The companies also dropped the union shop. This means that union membership is no longer a condition for employment.

It gives insurgent groups of skilled workers a chance to step up their drives to carve out separate bargaining units among craftsmen belonging to the UAW.

Ford's chief negotiator, Vice President John S. Bugas, said Reuther did not modify his demands. Bugas was grim faced as he spoke to newsmen.

"In the midst of the recession," he said, "the UAW is shooting for the moon with utter disregard for declining auto sales. Obviously, the aim is to make the company surrender to another round of wage inflation which already affects the whole economy."

★ ★ ★

GM and the UAW meet today to act on the union request that bargaining talks be switched from the GM building to a neutral site and set a date for resumption of negotiations. Ford and the UAW will meet Wednesday to set a date for resumption of negotiations which will be continued in the Ford building. The Chrysler-UAW talks were recessed indefinitely.

Girl Suffers Broken Nose When Horse Slips, Falls

BIRMINGHAM — A Bloomfield Township girl, Geraldine Clark, 15-year-old daughter o. Dr. and Mrs. Harry G. Clark, 5455 Franklin Rd., suffered a broken nose Saturday afternoon when the horse she was riding slipped and fell in front of a car at Telegraph and Long Lake roads.

The horse, owned by Dr. Hergoman Linn, 1527 Kirkway Dr., Bloomfield Township, was fatally injured.

Mrs. Bernice W. Brown, 46, of 4520 Borland Rd., Walled Lake, told township police she saw the animal approaching the intersection fast and swung to try to avoid hitting it. The horse slipped and fell in front of her auto and was struck in the head, Mrs. Brown said.

Geraldine, who had been riding with a group of other youngsters, was reported in good condition this morning at William Beaumont Hospital and will go home today.

Approval of the 1958-59 fiscal year budget will head tonight's Birmingham City Commission agenda which includes 10 public hearings.

★ ★ ★

Three will be on rezoning requests. They involve six lots on the north side of Haynes street, now zoned for single family dwellings, which are being sought for income bungalow properties.

The Planning Board is recommending approval of reclassification of property at Landon and Ann streets from multiple family to business use.

A similar request has been asked of the northeast corner of Bowers and Elm street. This change also has the backing of the Planning Board.

★ ★ ★

The six other hearings concern street surfacing necessity. They include Lakeside drive, Midland street, Lakepark drive, Willow Lane, Pine street and Redding road.

The annual meeting of the Oakland County Chapter of Planned Parenthood will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hansen on Lone Pine road in Bloomfield Hills.

Naomi Thomas, field consultant of the Planned Parenthood Fedeation of America, will speak on "Present Day World Development."

Mrs. Leon Decheim of 25405 Engleside Dr., Birmingham, will entertain the Riverwoods Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association at a 12:30 p.m. luncheon tomorrow. A plant sale will be held.

The Adams Village Extension Group will meet tomorrow at the home of Mrs. T. M. Scott, 1436 Bower's St., Birmingham. The subject will be outdoor cooking.

Lay leaders of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will discuss the life and work of the church at the final in a series of preparatory meetings for new members. The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the church.

★ ★ ★

New members will be received at both services Sunday morning.

Louis C. Salzinger

Service for Louis C. Salzinger, 85, of 2050 Walnut Lake Rd., Birmingham, will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Mr. Salzinger died Saturday at his home after a long illness. He was a life member of the Walnut Lake Men's Club.

Surviving are a son, Paul C. of Walnut Lake; two brothers, John A. of Southfield and Franklin L. of Wilkesbarre, Pa.; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Safecrackers in Detroit Steal $25,000 in Jewels

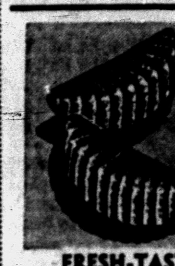

DETROIT (AP) — Safecrackers robbed a Detroit couple of an estimated $25,000 in jewels during the weekend while the two were absent from home.

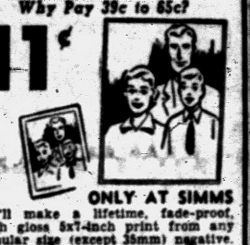

The gems, including diamond bracelets and pendants, were taken from a library cabinet safe at the home of hotelman Henry Keywell Saturday night.

Entry to the home was made by opening a side door through a milk chute. The thieves peeled back the front of the safe after failing to smash the combination lock.

Arab Nations Unsure on Pressuring Nasser

BENGASI, Libya (AP) — Six harassed Arab countries are considering Lebanon's complaint against the United Arab Republic as a possible weapon to force President Nasser to tone down the U. A. R. propaganda campaign throughout the Arab world.

★ ★ ★

But not all of them are sure they want to take on Nasser.

This arose as Lebanon went before the Arab League yesterday to present her charges that the U. A. R. has been stirring up antigovernment riots that have killed nearly 300 persons in the tiny nation.

★ ★ ★

The league plans another closed meeting on the complaint tomorrow.

Cups Anchor Curtains

MIAMISBURG, Ohio — Shower-curtain anchors equipped with suction cups have been deceloped by a Miamisburg concern to keep the curtain firmly against the tub, preventing water from splashing onto the floor.

Storm Submerges Car; Woman Saved

GLENDALE, Mont. (AP)—A car with a woman driver inside was submerged by water yesterday when a cloudburst struck. She was rescued unharmed by another motorist.

★ ★ ★

The woman, Mamie Anna Cravens of Savage, Mont., was clinging to the automobile when an unidentified man waded and swam to her rescue.

★ ★ ★

The wind and rain shoved the car nearly 100 feet off State Highway 16 northeast of Glendive. It was buried temporarily in what normally is a dry creek bed.

Parking Discouraged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ordinary warnings about cars being towed away pale in comparison. Delta Upsilon fraternity at Ohio State University has this sign on its chapter house parking lot: "Cars Parked Illegally In This Lot Will Be Disassembled."

Israeli Police Fire on Arabs; Wound 1

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israeli police today fired on a party of Arabs near the Hadassah hospital compound in the Mt. Scopus demilitarized zone. One Arab was reported wounded.

★ ★ ★

An Israeli army spokesman said the Arab band of about 120 was carrying knives and axes. He gave this account:

The incident developed about dawn after a smaller Arab group from the Jordan sector of the demilitaried one had been turned away by Israeli guards.

★ ★ ★

The group returned with reinforcements. Israeli police fired after the Arabs had ignored calls to halt and were about 20 feet from the Israeli sector. The Arabs then scattered, carrying the wounded man with them.

Rugged Work Schedule Ahead

Congress Begins Paying for Its Loafing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress starts paying the piper this week for its slow pace during the first five months of this session.

If it's to meet the early August adjournment target set by its leaders, it will have to shift into high gear as it returns from a long Memorial Day weekend.

★ ★ ★

Leaders have mapped out a five-day-a-week work schedule which rules out any extended recesses in June and July, except for the Fourth of July weekend.

This week the House faces a program that its own leaders concede may not be met. It calls for action on pay raises for federal employes, legislation to create a space agency, appropriations for the Defense Department, extension of the reciprocal trade program, and continuation of present corporate income and excise tax rates.

Little trouble is likely over the 38-billion-dollar defense money bill and a bill to continue for another year corporate and excise tax rates due to drop July 1.

But it may take several days to dispose of legislation to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for five years beyond June 30. Protectionist forces in the House are expected to fight to cut down the extension period and limit the added tariff-cutting powers the legislation would give the President.

★ ★ ★

The Senate has acted on only one of the major bills on this week's House docket. That is the measure to raise the pay of federal employes.

The Senate probably will spend most of this week debating the $3,712,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill already passed by the House.

Another controversial issue in the Senate's lap is a bill to make Alaska the 49th state. The House passed this bill last week.

Major bills still to be considered by both branches deal with general labor law revision, foreign aid appropriations, federal scholarships, and reorganization of the Defense Department.

All in all, congressional leaders are pessimistic about prospects for adjournment by Aug. 2. Most of them would settle now for going home in mid-August.

Waterford Library Meeting Scheduled

When the Waterford Township Library Committee meets Tuesday, members will hear the results of speeches made at various clubs during the past month, pertaining to the proposed Township Cultural Center.

In an effort to educate township residents as to the advantages, cost, and over-all proposition, members have donated their time to explain the project.

A five-by-ten foot sign will be erected next week on the proposed library site on Pontiac Lake and Highland roads, which was donated to the township by Frank Steere for the project.

In other business of the Library Committee, one more person will be appointed to replace Tom Belton, who resigned last month. Rev. Walter Teeuwissen is chairman of the 12-member committee, studying ways and means of obtaining the proposed center.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Degree Citation Praise for Ike

Doctor of Laws Honor Cites Efforts to Bind Free Nations

EMMITSBURG, Md. (AP) — President Eisenhower was praised today as a modern colossus who has helped bind the world's free nations in strong alliance.

The praise is set forth in a citation accompanying an honorary doctor of laws degree being awarded to the President by Mount St. Mary's College.

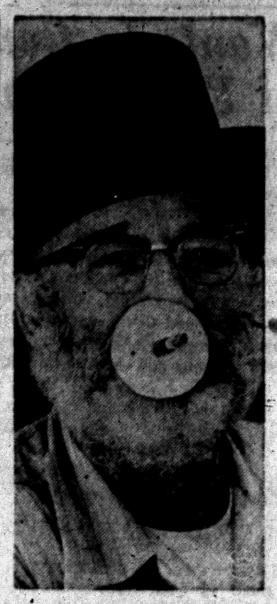

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower and his wife arranged to drive to the mountainside school here from his farm home at nearby Gettysburg, Pa., where he spent the Memorial Day weekend.

The President is coming in the role of neighbor to the school, the second oldest Catholic college in the United States. And he speaks informally at the institution's 150th commencement exercises, immediately after receiving the honorary degree.

★ ★ ★

The accompanying citation says of Eisenhower: "As you once forged the most perfect alliance of nations in the world's history for the salvation and vindication of democracy in the greatest of world wars, so now, at the sacrifice of personal tranquility, with the full measure of your strength, you labor to reap the fruits of that crusade both at home and abroad."

WHISKER SAVER — Beards and cigarettes just don't mix, as John P. Cantrell and his friends found out in painful fashion. The men are growing beards for the West Point, Mass., centennial celebration, and several handsome growths went up in flames. Cantrell decided to take no chances, so) devised this ash guard.

Presley on Leave Lounges Around Home Today

MEMPHIS (AP)—Pvt. Elvis Presley, the drafted million-dollar-a-year rock 'n' roll singer lounged around home today on a brief vacation from reveille and drill.

★ ★ ★

The 23-year-old teenagers' delight is on two-week furlough before returning to Ft. Hood, Tex., for training as a tank crewman with duty in Germany looming in his future.

He joked briefly with fans during an encounter at the gate to his $100,000 suburban mansion yesterday. "My motto will be 'Have tank, will travel,'" he told them. He was wearing sharpshooter medals for rifle and pistol marksmanship.

Presley arrived home Saturday about midnight, driving one of his Cadillacs.

Monteith Will Enroll Kindergarten Pupils

Enrollment in the Monteith kindergarten class has been scheduled for tomorrow, according to Principal Mrs. Pearl Turo.

★ ★ ★

Names of children beginning with A through K, will be enrolled from 9 to 12 a.m., and those whose last names begin with L through Z will be enrolled from 1 to 4 p.m.

Parents have been urged to bring the child's birth certificate and homeroom mothers will act as hostesses for the tea, following the enrollment.

★ ★ ★

Supervisor of Visiting Teachers Freida Huggett and Randy Sax, Speech correctionist, will be present to help parents on any problems and will answer questions in this category.

Where Is Galindez? It's Still a Mystery

NEW YORK (AP)—A report financed by Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo, head of the Dominican Republic, finds no evidence linking the Caribbean dictatorship to the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez.

★ ★ ★

The report, prepared by lawyer Morris Ernst, implied that Galindez, who vanished more than two years ago, might still be alive.

Ernst suggested that the mystery might be related to Galindez's position with the Basque government-in-exile and the more than a million dollars he collected for it.

★ ★ ★

Galindez, a Spanish exile, was a Columbia University lecturer and a bitter critic of Trujillo.

Foes of the Dominican strongman have accused the Trujillo regime of kidnaping and possibly slaying Galindez. The republic's officials have repeatedly denied this charge.

Woman Charms Tailor Out of His Wallet, $60

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—Tailor Meyer Jaconson told police a woman entered his place and asked him to repair her ripped skirt.

When he did, the woman redonned the skirt, threw her arms about him in a gesture of thanks and left.

Sea Bottles Worth $1

NANAIMO, B.C. (AP) — Nearly 24,000 bottles, worth $1 each to the finders, are still floating in the North Pacific. The Fisheries Research Board here dropped 24,000 in different parts of the ocean, each bearing a card worth $1 if posted back, in a test of ocean currents, and so far only 600 have been returned.

Entire World Saddened by Death of Cardinal

The recent death of SAMUEL Cardinal STRITCH saddened the thousands who held him in high esteem in this country and around the world.

★ ★ ★

During the last decade Cardinal STRITCH not only distinguished himself as a spiritual leader of Catholics, but also was a widely respected figure wherever people lived.

The Cardinal was a man of great understanding and knew many people by name. When he was out for a walk which was a daily routine he never passed a child without stopping to ask his name and where he attended school.

★ ★ ★

Cardinal STRITCH capped a brilliant career by being the first American born prelate ever called to Rome as a member of the curia, the group of persons used by the Pope in the direction of the church.

He was the third non-Italian to be assigned to the active leadership of the important congregation for the propagation of the faith.

★ ★ ★

In the passing of Cardinal STRITCH the entire world, both Catholic and non-Catholic, has lost one of its most beloved leaders. The Cardinal leaves no enemies, only many devoted friends.

Supreme Court Ruling Holds Unions Liable

The Supreme Court's decision last week in two cases involving labor unions means that unions can be held financially responsible for their wrong doing just like every other individual or corporation.

In both cases state courts in Alabama and California had ruled against unions for injuries to individuals and rendered damage judgments. The unions contended that the cases did not properly come under the jurisdiction of state courts but of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB).

★ ★ ★

The Alabama case involved denial of employment to an electrician through mass picketing. Of this Justice BURTON, writing for the majority, said "if the employe's common law rights of action . . . are to be cut off, that would in effect grant to unions a substantial immunity from the consequences of mass picketing or coercion such as was employed during the strike in the present case."

★ ★ ★

In the California case the main issue was whether state courts have jurisdiction to handle workers' complaints or whether the NLRB has exclusive authority under the Taft-Hartley Act. The court held that the NLRB did not have such power.

The Supreme Court in the past upheld the constitutionality of the Wagner Act which protected the rights of workers to organize and bargain collectively. How that right has been abused was brought to light by the McClellan Rackets Committee. Far from protecting workers, some unions actually used members as pawns in secret compacts with management in so-called sweetheart contracts.

★ ★ ★

DEAN POUND of Harvard Law School once said that unions have taken to themselves greater powers over individuals than was possessed by medieval kings. What some union leaders have not understood is that with power goes responsibility.

Rank and file union members should be heartened by these decisions which protect their rights as individuals.

New Elections in Italy Effected Little Change

It is disappointing to the West that in the recent Italian elections the Communists and Left Wing Socialists increased their popular vote somewhat.

This does not mean, however, that all of these votes came from strong supporters of the Left. Other issues were involved including a sudden flare-up of anti-clericalism. This was the result of the conviction of the Bishop of Prato by a civil court on March 1 for criminal defamation of character.

★ ★ ★

Although 99 per cent of the 47 million people of Italy are Roman Catholic, there appeared to be some resentment over the alleged influence of the Vatican on the Christian Democrats and hence on the government.

The dominant Christian Democrats also gained but failed by a narrow margin to win a majority in the 596-member Chamber of Deputies. They will be able to form a coalition which will continue to govern democratically. Both Right Wing and Monarchist parties lost strength.

★ ★ ★

Since 1948 the Christian Democrats have had the largest representation in Parliament, but since 1953 they have not had an absolute majority. It is reassuring, however, that they will continue to govern Italy.

The Man About Town

Let's Brag More

Suggestion Forthcoming in '58 County Directory

Tombstone: The only thing that can stand upright and lie on its face at the same time.

The annual directory of the county, city, village and township officials in Oakland County will soon be ready for distribution. Compiled each year by the late County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, the 1958 edition also contains many interesting facts, and requests our residents to reflect upon them.

It stresses my greatest peeve—that too many of its own residents know too little about their county. They seem to lack appreciation of its great importance in many ways. They apparently do not realize what nature and man have done for it.

The directory points out some of these many advantages above other areas and urges our residents to learn more about them. It also says that even our residents who know about these advantages are too modest in extolling them to outsiders. It urges us all to do more bragging because we have the goods.

Word comes to me from Jerry Cordrey of the Michigan Farm Bureau that Oakland County has reached 99% of its goal of 1,109 members.

Always the first to have beautiful Talisman roses is Mrs. Burdette Brownson of Drayton Plains, who has them that measure three inches across.

In commenting on its overcrowded buses, a Miami paper says "The Public Be Jammed" is the attitude of the local transportation company.

I like the sentiments expressed by Mike Carrivean, who is in the submarine service. When razzed by an air force pilot about not seeing the sun he said, "But I haven't seen a rainy day in two years."

A new word, not yet in the dictionary, has been created by our winter sports enthusiasts. It quite describes some of the hills in the Pontiac area: "Skilicious."

David Lawrence Points Out:

Obstacles Confront Any Tax Cut

WASHINGTON — Most members of Congress would like to see a tax cut made. But certain legislative and political obstacles will have to be surmounted before this can happen.

LAWRENCE

The Democrats, for the most part, are willing to go along with the administration's request that no "general tax cut" be tacked on to the bill that has to be passed by June 30. This is the measure that would continue the existing rates on corporation incomes and on the sales of articles on which excise taxes are imposed. But action on this bill doesn't preclude another battle on tax legislation later in the session. Nor is the passage before June 30 of the pending bill without some amendments absolutely sure yet.

The big argument that will be made against all amendments is that since the Senate Finance Committee will not have approved any cuts, the Senate as a whole should not try to write a tax bill on the floor.

It will be insisted that, just as in the case of broad labor legislation recently, a bill that hasn't been studied by the committee in charge should go back to it for hearings and further examination, and hence amendments on the floor should be tabled.

★ ★ ★

But between June 30 and the middle of August when Congress is expected to adjourn, the heat will be on to do something on the tax problem. The Administration has expressed a deep interest in legislation to help small business men.

The pressure for excise taxes will be renewed no matter what tax bill comes up for debate. If the business situation shows little improvement, members of Congress will manifest considerable interest in tax legislation during July.

Just how, it is being asked, was the Administration able to ward off any opposition by the Democratic leaders of the Senate and House to the proposal that there be no change in existing tax rates on excises and corporations, and no tax cut in the other categories? Why did the Democrats go along with the Administration's plan?

The answer is that once the line is broken and a concession is made, for instance, in one article on the list, the demand for similar treatment would come from all other groups.

The congressman from Massachusetts, for instance, may not have as many voters in the automobile category as the congressman from Michigan, but the Massachusetts representative does have them in the plants that manufacture other articles on which a reduction in excise taxes is being urged as a stimulus to employment. So finally it came down to the simple proposition that if the doors were opened to one concession on excise taxes, it would mean that there would have to be concessions granted all along the line.

The point was made, too, in the conferences between the Administration spokesmen and the leaders in Congress that with a $3 billion deficit this fiscal year and a deficit of more than $8 billion anticipated for the next fiscal year, it would be dangerous further to curtail Federal tax receipts.

But what becomes of the doctrine that tax reductions would add to purchasing power and that this would help to restore employment? The Administration's answer is that a bigger deficit in the treasury would bring on an inflation and impair the dollar's purchasing power.

The truth is everybody knows the treasury can't stand any immediate cuts of substantial size in tax revenues, but the truth also is that sooner or later a start has to be made on an equitable revision of the tax structure.

★ ★ ★

There is no reason why it shouldn't be begun in the current session of Congress and the way paved for early action next year, especially if business improvement by that time has begun to be widely felt.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Many Walk Borderline Between Vite, Beriberi

A Wisconsin reader says he plans to retire. He is 68 and retiring means that he will not have to walk two miles per day, so he would like The Last Brady Symphony, a booklet which describes keep-fit exercises for persons who can't afford to walk two miles three times a day. (For booklet send me 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

DR. BRADY

The reader says he can outwalk many under 50 because he has never stopped walking.

Instead of The Last Brady Symphony, which seldom takes in persons past middle age (watch for a piece next week about middle age), I'm sending the Wisconsin man Volumete XVI of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, at no extra charge. It is titled The 7 Keys to Vite.

★ ★ ★

One of the keys is daily exercise, and walking is the best all-round exercise. Walking, I say, not sauntering. This volumette describes and illustrates the 2nd, 4th, 7th, 11th and 14th movements of the Symphony, which are about all the person past middle age is likely to learn to play; plus an additional flourish for advanced students—upside down imaginary bicycle riding.

If, as I hope, you wonder what the other six keys may be, here they are:

1. Save Your Teeth.
2. Temperance
3. Belly Breathing
4. Nudity — sun bathing, air bathing
5. Iodin Ration
6. Daily Exercise
7. Rejuvenation diet and supplementing the regular diet with adequate daily rations of vitamins and minerals.

The rejuvenation diet is a corrective, protective, regeneration, reduction, basic health diet. As given in the booklet it makes a good pattern on which to build a diet to suit your own particular requirements.

★ ★ ★

Whether you care about vite or not, please mull over this statement made by Prof. George R. Cowgill, quoting another recognized nutrition authority, Norman Jolliffe in reference to the nutritional deficiency (malnutrition) of most Americans:

"It seems, therefore, that a 55 per cent fraction of the calories in the American diet of 1840" (that is before refined white flour replaced freshly ground whole wheat flour) "containing a minimum of 600 international units of vitamin B1" (approximately 1.3 milligrams) "has been replaced in the contemporaneous American diet" (since white flour was introduced in Yankeeland) "by a like fraction containing only about 50 international units."

No wonder most Americans, growing children and adults, languish constantly on the borderline between vite and beri-beri!

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Wants to Compare Costs of Food With Other Wives

I'm anxious to learn how my meal costs compare with other housewives' figures.

★ ★ ★

I've just finished feeding my family of eight at a cost of 20 cents each person. That's 60 cents daily for each. I spend quite a bit of our weekly income right in the market because our family is a large one (by today's standards), however, at the rate of 60 cents daily per person, this would figure out to be $16.80 for a family of four for everything. I make every effort to place a good, well-balanced meal in front of hubby and children three times a day, including carry-lunches.

★ ★ ★

I am just wondering how this compares with other families' food costs. My husband is a professional man.

Readers Comment on Traffic Warning

I haven't seen anything as graphic as your Memorial Day page one feature in years. I know I'll drive slower for months.

Harvey J.

I had a friend in the Wednesday list of traffic deaths which you ran to help slow down speedsters on the Memorial Day weekend. The front page article made more impression on me than anything like it that I've ever seen. You did the public a great service.

J. G. H.

That heavy black ribbon around the Memorial Weekend reminder was a powerful deterrent to fast and reckless driving. The Press is always abreast.

Minister

Newspapers are everlastingly campaigning to reduce the number of fatalities and they produce some wonderful articles. I remember one about a little girl on a bicycle several years ago, but I think the photo and list of names you ran Wednesday were the best yet. I delivered a lecture to my whole family that evening after dinner with all the grandchildren present. Keep up your wonderful battle to hold down the death list. I shudder to think what it would be without the newspaper campaigns.

Huron Streeter

The Wednesday attempt to stop the deaths on the highways was well meant, but it was in bad taste.

'Districts Like This Need Fire Station'

In the last few years hundreds of houses and several schools have been built in the northern section of Pontiac beyond Fisher Body and Baldwin Avenue. There's also a hazard of a railroad crossing the only outlet beyond and including Walton Boulevard.

If a fire had started in this district and one of the long trains were across the tracks, it would be impossible for a fire truck to reach the district in time to save a building.

A district such as this is very much in need of a fire station as soon as possible.

'Why Do They Live Longer?'

Discuss Problems of Our Education

I'm all for progressive education, but why blame parents? Put the blame where it belongs. When a child enters school grounds, isn't he supposed to come under his teacher's jurisdiction? Some so-called teachers are interested only in the pay and not the child.

★ ★ ★

Bristling kind of overplayed his hand when he called other people's children little monkeys. I have four and fail to see the connection.

★ ★ ★

Some teachers forget they were children once, and this isn't the type of person I want teaching my children. Certainly this type of person isn't so efficient she can't be eliminated. And if it weren't for our insolent, impudent little monkeys, you wouldn't have a job. So think it over Bristling Teacher.

Mother of Four

I understand the plight of teachers and principals better after overhearing a conversation the other day. Parents of a high school boy were told he should attend summer school because of poor work in one subject.

★ ★ ★

The way those parents acted, you'd think the school was trying to convict him rather than help. According to the parents, it was the school's fault he wasn't learning, and if teachers would spend more time with him, he'd do better, and schools think they can just tell parents anytime they must pay $25 for summer school and where is the money coming from, and they hadn't noticed any bad marks on his card.

★ ★ ★

The parents made no offer to do what they could. I didn't realize some parents are more interested in saving $25 than in their child getting a good education. If they can't afford it, the boy could get a part time job and help. If there are many parents like that who fight schools all the way, it's no wonder we can't accomplish more in the way of education.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

God Won't Do Everything for Us

Notice Hiram's remark. He wasn't trying to be flippant, I am sure. God is our Senior Partner but he figuratively tied his own hands and waits for us to team up with him so we can then become His earthly fingers and hands to unlock the wonderful secrets of the universe.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Y-324: Hiram J., aged 45, is a leathery mountain farmer.

He finally scraped up enough money to buy an eroded little farm that lay atop some rolling hills.

★ ★ ★

Gullies had gashed the fields until some of them could hardly be plowed. Weeds and underbrush had overgrown most of the remaining land.

DR. CRANE

So Hiram set to work with vim and vigor. He cleared the brush and employed it to help fill the gullies.

Then he used contour farming to prevent the rains from further washing the soil away.

At the end of three years, the farm was productive and a pretty thing to see. The county farm agent stopped one day to compliment Hiram.

★ ★ ★

"Hiram," he began, "you and God have certainly done a good job of salvaging that old eroded land, haven't you?"

Hiram surveyed his green fields for a moment; then replied:

"Yeah, but you should have seen what a mess it was in when God was trying to do it all alone."

Hiram probably did not mean to be flippant or irreligious. He simply stated a truth that needs wider acceptance.

God set us human beings on this planet and surrounded us with millions of advantages, plus many scientific laws.

Then he gave us free will so we could do as we pleased. This means that God figuratively tied His own hands and henceforth waits for us to become His earthly partners.

We then can serve as his fingers and hands to convert the laws of this universe to our greater health and happiness.

But God limits Himself to being our Senior Partner and is largely a Silent Partner.

★ ★ ★

He waits for us to catch on to new ideas and He probably delights to see sterling salesmen elevate our standards of living as they sell their fellowmen on superior ways of life.

Dr. Edward Jenner must have delighted God when his observant eyes noted that milkmaids who had suffered from cowpox, never contracted smallpox.

Dr. Jenner thus discovered vaccination, which has saved millions of lives and preserved our faces from ugly pock marks.

Vaccination, theoretically, might have been discovered thousands of years earlier, but it wasn't.

★ ★ ★

God undoubtedly wanted us to catch on to that wonderful means of saving lives, but no human being until Dr. Jenner ever paid enough attention to the laws of health to discover vaccination.

In much the same fashion, Edison gave us moving pictures and Marconi gave us radio and John Deere gave us a steel plow and Gutenberg gave us printing.

Ancient Abraham nurtured ethics and was 2,000 years ahead of other civilized nations, but ethics went into a stalemate prior to the pagan Roman Empire.

So Christ was apparently sent to salvage the skeleton of ethics and make it a living, dynamic force on this earth.

In this connection, praise your children for their curiosity. Encourage their questions, for an inquiring type of mind is a real delight to the Almighty.

That person often probes through the darkness of ignorance and gets an occasional glimpse of eternal verities.

Remember, a question mark (?) is the key that unlocks the universe and makes us closer partners with God, so encourage your child to ask—ask—ask!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Oil Firm's Whirlybird Plunges Into Gulf of Mexico; Find 1 Body

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Air and sea units intensified the search today for five men missing in the crash of a Humble Oil Co. helicopter off the Louisiana coast.

The helicopter went down about 15 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico yesterday with six persons aboard.

None was rescued. The body of one man, Robert E. White of Columbia, Miss., was recovered, Humble officials reported.

The others were Floyd J. DeRoche of Alemands, La.; Benjamin A. Rainer of Thibodaux, La.; Dan Middleton and Ed Charamie Jr., both of Grand Isle, La.; and Owen J. Sandoz of Opelousas, La.

White, DeRoche and Rainer were employes of Humble, owner of the helicopter. Middleton, the pilot, was an employe of Rotor-Aids, Inc., Grand Isle. Cheramie was welder for Bournes Welding Service. Sandoz was employed by A. M. Landry, a contract caterer.

Salvation Army officers visited more than 128,000 inmates in prisons in the United States last year. Nationally, the Salvation Army extended aid to 9,768 released inmates or their families.

Police 'Bee-Leaguered' in New Jersey Station

BLOOMFIELD, N. J. (AP)—Police were bee-leaguered in their own headquarters here yesterday.

A swarm of bees buzzed around the entrance for an hour.

The lawmen deputized Paul Schindler, a professional beekeeper.

He lured the queen into a hive. The swarm then re-formed and took the straight and narrow right after her.

Quiet Day of Boating Climaxed by Terror

GRAFTON, Ill. (AP)—What began as a peaceful day of boating on the Mississippi River turned into a harrowing three hours of captivity in a capsized boat for a mother and two of her sons yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Marcus C. Bauer, 37, Ronald, 15, and Michael, 10, were trapped in the cabin of the 32-foot cruiser, overturned by a gust of wind. They kept above water by clinging to the cabin walls.

They were saved by two men who swam to the boat, cut a hole in the bottom and pulled them to safety.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bauer's husband and another son Mark, 16, were outside the cabin when the storm struck. They swam to shore and summoned help.

At Ecorse VFW Hall

Police Nab Investigators as 2 Beers Brew Mixup

DETROIT (AP) — They were investigators for the State Liquor Control Commission and they just went into the club to see if beer was being sold illegally.

But they wound up spending four hours in jail.

And once they got out of jail they found themselves in hot water with two law enforcement agencies over the two beers that started their troubles.

★ ★ ★

Liquor Control Commissioner Walter M. Noack gave one account of what happened:

The two investigators, James D. Bellaan of Lansing and Lennis G. Byers of Ecorse Township, went into the Ecorse Veterans of Foreign Wars hall shortly after midnight Saturday. Their object was to see whether beer was being sold to non-members in violation of the club's license.

They each bought a bottle of beer, Noack said, and asked to see the club officers. They talked briefly with the post commander, Albert Zukonik, an Ecorse Police sergeant, and the bar manager, Detective Richard Enright of the Ecorse Police Department.

Then they capped the beer for evidence and walked outside where they were arrested for investigation of larceny by Zukonik and Enright, Noack said.

★ ★ ★

The complaint was brought by Robert Wessell, the post senior vice commander, who said it was his beer the investigators were taking with them.

"I turned around to talk to someone at the next table," he said, "and when I looked back these two strangers were standing there putting corks in two of the beers.

"Now I'm not one to look for trouble but when two guys cap your beer and start walking away with it, you begin to wonder."

They were taken to the police station, allowed to call Commission Supervisor James B. Carl, and then jailed.

Four hours later the Wayne County prosecutor's chief trial lawyer, Raymond DeRyck telephoned an order that they be released. He then directed that all involved appear at his office today to try to straighten out the facts.

And the two frosty beers that started it all?

Nobody knows what became of them.

30 million cars need this protection

TCP adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

Save gasoline! Get back 20 to 30 horsepower lost by spark plug "miss." It takes only 2 to 3 tankfuls of Super Shell with TCP.

If your car just isn't making the grade—yet you can't put your finger on the cause—you're probably losing power to spark plug "miss."

It can steal 20 to 30 horsepower from your engine—even if your car is new—after as little as 2000 miles of driving.

Misfiring happens when harmful combustion deposits build up on your spark plugs and short-circuit them. With plugs "missing," you lose power and waste gasoline.

TCP* additive stops spark plug "miss" by neutralizing these harmful engine deposits. It restores lost power and saves gasoline, too.

What's more, Super Shell has higher octane so that engine knock is no longer a problem. TCP adds anti-miss to anti-knock to give all the power any car was designed to deliver.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research.

Use Regular Grade? Get the one with TCP

Now Shell Regular Gasoline gives you the benefits of TCP, plus higher octane than the finest premiums of only a short time ago.

Slowing Flow of Oil

U.S. Restrictions Pinch Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — the 602 million persons who live in this richest land in South America want it to stay that way. Many of them say this depends in part upon what happens in Washington.

★ ★ ★

The nation's financial situation is healthy, because of the golden flow of hundreds of millions of dollars in profits that come out of American and British-Dutch development of oilfields.

★ ★ ★

But Venezuela isn't making as much money as it did a year ago. Officials fear a continuation of U. S. restrictions in imports of oil from this country will cause slow economic strangulation.

This was one of the cardinal causes assigned here for the mobbing of Vice President and Mrs. Nixon upon their arrival here May 13.

★ ★ ★

Americans have invested over three billion dollars in this land. They feel today that on the whole they are liked and respected. But Americans often find themselves treated with coolness or indifference.

Venezuela's businessmen, and its ruling military-civilian junta, would like to see the United States:

Adopt a more liberal economic policy in general toward this and other Latin American countries.

Remove the restrictions on oil imports.

Agree to Venezuelan restriction of some U.S. commodities which are sold here at prices less than they can be produced by Venezuelan farmers.

★ ★ ★

H. W. Haight is president of Creole Petroleum Co., a Standard Oil (New Jersey) subsidiary which is the biggest producer in Venezuela. He says the restrictions may endanger U. S. relations with oil producing nations and "will not solve the problem of the national (U. S.) industry."

Venezuela's profits from oil, and iron ore production by subsidiaries of Bethlehem Steel and the U. S. Steel Corp., now add up to 2¼ million dollars daily. A year ago the income was three millions.

★ ★ ★

The military civilian junta which took over the government last Jan. 23 found big debts but a fiscal surplus of over 766 million dollars in the treasury. The government's foreign exchange reserves of gold and dollars in U. S. banks and on hand here amounted to 1.4 billion dollars. Venezuela owes no foreign debts.

Venezuela's oil companies are scheduled to spend $360,000,000 this year in new explorations and developments.

★ ★ ★

The per capita income in Venezuela is $700 per year, compared with $265 for most of Latin America.

★ ★ ★

Wage scales still fall far short of keeping pace with the costs of living. There is widespread unemployment in the interior.

June Concert Tomorrow at Romeo School

ROMEO — The Romeo High School Vocal Music Department will present its annual "June Tune" concert at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the high school auditorium.

★ ★ ★

The program will feature selections by the eighth grade chorus, girls glee club and the 45-voice mixed chorus.

An added attraction this year will be the appearance of a newly-formed faculty quartet. Its members are Stanley Motschenbacher, Joe Palmer, Merlin Kerr and Donald Giesi.

The entire production is directed by high school vocal music instructor, C. Lynn Brown.

★ ★ ★

The choral groups will join in singing a Swiss walking song and a Negro spiritual for the finale.

Hal Boyle Says:

Remember It's True That You're All Wet

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

★ ★ ★

That when you tell someone he's "all wet', you're more accurate than you think. Roughly two thirds of the total body weight is made up of water.

That you could probably do without food 30 days more easily than you could go 100 hours without sleep. So why do modern people insist on shortening their lives by eating too much and sleeping too little?

★ ★ ★

That the most unnecessary survey we've ever heard of was the one that came up with this shocking conclusion: women talk more than men! What we need now is a survey to find out whether two plus two still equals four.

That Groucho Marx says: "We owe a great deal to our government. The question is, how are we ever going to get the money to pay it?"

★ ★ ★

That if you've ever wondered about "a snail's pace," the answer is: the snail's speed has been scientifically clocked at .000353005 miles an hour. The figure is somewhat lower for a muddy track.

That the population of New York City in 1729 was only 8,000, or about a fourth of the number who now work in Rockefeller Center alone.

★ ★ ★

That hospitable Ireland has the greatest number of hospital beds, percentagewise, of any country: one for every 67 persons.

That the male stiff collar is said to have been indirectly originated by the first Queen Bess of England. A homely dame, she hid her scrawny neck in a high stiffly starched ruff. Her courtiers, including Sir Walter Raleigh, gallantly followed suit, thus starting the fashion of starched collars for men.

That night club star George de Witt observes: "Years ago it used to be the local strong man who tore up telephone books. Today it's more likely to be any man with a teen-age daughter."

That if you're lazy and want to worm your way out of digging in the back yard for your fish bait, the Fisherman Magazine gives this tip: turn to your pantry. Fish will nibble at a hook baited with macaroni, noodles, spaghetti, cheese or even sweet corn.

That mother elephants very rarely give birth to twins. And by and large, you can't really blame them.

That the Cafe St. Denis here, celebrating its 25th anniversary, claimed it had never lost a penny via bad debts. The reason? It never has had charge accounts.

That if a girl tells you "I eat like a bird," don't take her out for dinner until you find out if the bird she has in mind is a baby crow. This little bird can eat its own weight in food in a single day.

Blast in Texas Kills Three Fishermen

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP)—Gas leaking from a pipeline was blamed for an explosion and fire which killed three fishermen and destroyed two cars on a west Texas oil lease yesterday.

Highway patrolmen said someone apparently struck a match or started one of the cars and set off the blast. The cars were parked in a depression.

The explosion killed George Washington Gilbert, 69, George Cecil Rackley, 20, and Gilbert Neal Jennings, 23, all of Big Spring. Edgar Lee Jennings Jr., 26, brother of Gilbert, suffered critical burns.

"I shall care for you all my life ...and all of yours"

In the marriage ceremony, the groom vows to care for his bride as long as they both shall live.

But most husbands today go beyond this pledge. Through life insurance a man can provide for his wife and children longer than he may live.

How much longer? That depends, of course, on the size of the policies in his life insurance program, and on the size of the family, among other things.

Many a husband has a plan that provides an income for his wife as long as she shall live.

Because a life insurance policy is a contract, its wording is cold, legal and formal. But no wife misses the tender message of devotion that lies between the lines.

INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE, 488 Madison Ave., New York 22, N.Y.

When someone's counting on you ... YOU can count on life insurance.

You Have Choice of Names

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My girl friend and I disagree on something that we would like you to settle for us. A former coworker has invited us to come to see her any time we can. I think we should just go without telephoning. My friend thinks we should let her know ahead of time.

"My contention is that if we telephone her, she will feel that she should ask us to come to dinner or anyway make some special preparations. She lives half an hour's ride away—if this makes a difference."

Answer: This last detail does further emphasize my opinion that telephoning would be the better plan especially if you make your appointment for a midafternoon hour Saturday or Sunday. If you want to be sure that she will not feel it necessary to prepare for your staying tell her you are coming out for the drive and will stop in to see her for half an hour and please not prepare anything for you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My first husband died, and two years later I remarried. This second marriage was a very unhappy one and after several years we were divorced.

"Would it be proper for me to go back to my first husband's name? I do not want any part of my second husband's name as it is very distasteful to me."

Answer: It is unusual but not unheard of for a woman to go back to her first husband's name — especially when she has children by this first marriage and wants to have the same name as theirs.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to send a present in return for having been sent a graduation announcement?"

Answer: No, not at all. If you are especially interested in the pupil and want to

Ouija Board Is Spelling F-A-K-E

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am not the kind of person who makes a habit of sticking my nose in my neighbor's business, but I hate to see anybody taken advantage of. This poor elderly lady was sold a bill of goods and is seriously considering investing her life's savings in a very shaky deal. Her "financial adviser" tells her that her dead son is guiding the whole deal by communication with her through the Ouija board.

ABBY

"If you believe that you can communicate with the dead by means of a game bought in a Toy Department, please ignore this letter. Otherwise, please help this poor soul and state your opinion.

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: The Ouija Board is spelling out F-R-A-U-D. Tell your neighbor that the place to get sound financial advice is from her banker. The Ouija Board operator is a faker and should be investigated.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am wondering if you could give me help with my problem. There is no question in my mind about whether or not parents should spank their children. "Spare the rod and spoil the child" is a very wise saying. I would like to know how old you think a child should be before his father quits spanking him? Thank you."

INQUIRING FATHER

DEAR FATHER: That would depend on the BEHAVIOR of the child and the SIZE of the father.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: The night watchman where I work has his eye on me. I like him, too. He took me to the Church Easter Egg hunt and that started everyone talking. I am 58 and nobody knows how old he is, but they all say he's too old for me. Should I ask him his age, or don't you think it makes any difference?"

YOUNG AT HEART

DEAR YOUNG: If he likes you and you like him, don't worry about his age. The state of his health and his personality are much more important.

Maternity Bras Help Preserve Bustline

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Large families seem to be the style today. When our children were growing up most of our friends had two, as we did, or three at the most. Today our children's friends have from three to five as a rule. This is a nice changeover.

The knowledge that she is pregnant brings a woman a deep and satisfying happiness. However, as her body swells with life it is natural for her to wonder if she ever will regain her once lovely figure. She is especially interested in preserving her bustline. She also is apprehensive concerning this since she has seen so many of her friends lose theirs.

If you are a mother-to-be, NOW is the time to give yourself figure preserving bosom support. The breasts enlarge and become heavier during pregnancy and six weeks is not too soon to give them special attention. Unless your breasts are well supported during this period, the delicate tissues will stretch out of place and will not return to their original form later on.

A maternity brassiere is NOT just a regular bra built in a larger size and of heavier material. Two ounces of care during this nine months will leave you with a beautiful bustline later on. I say two ounces because that is about what a maternity brassiere weighs.

There are many on the market. A particularly efficient type gives a good uplift with underlift construction. This is built to lift the bust upward and inward toward the opposite shoulder which is the medically recommended position for the well-supported bosom.

This important lift without flattening is accomplished by an underlift arrangement with three straps supporting the undercup at both ends so that the bust is cradled from beneath. Such a three-forked lift strap distributes the weight of the breasts so that there is no unnecessary strain on the shoulders.

An elastic stretch-tab where the shoulder strap meets the cup allows for natural expansion without pressure, strain or flattening. A band below the cups provides under support without cutting.

Allowance for expansion is made with little side pleats which can be let out and by a series of hooks and eyes. Straps on a maternity bra should be adjustable and some styles are even lined with flannel for comfort.

Preventative care during pregnancy will pay off afterward a million times over!

★ ★ ★

It is of the utmost importance to have well-fitted and scientifically designed brassieres to wear during and after pregnancy. You cannot expect your bustline to return to normal without help because the bust becomes heavier as pregnancy progresses and will stretch out of shape without underlift support.

No matter how small you are, you need a maternity brassiere for present comfort and also to protect your silhouette.

NOT A NURSING BRA

Do not confuse a maternity bra with a nursing bra. The latter is for the months during which you are feeding your baby. A good one gives you scientific support and has convenient let-down flaps.

Begin wearing your maternity bra about the sixth week of pregnancy when the breasts begin to get heavier and larger. The bosom reaches its maximum development in about four months. Take your nursing brassieres to the hospital with you for use after the baby arrives and wear them until your blessed bundle moves on to the bottle.

After weaning the baby again use your maternity brassieres until your breasts have returned to normal. The right support will give you comfort during this period in your life and will preserve your figure. It also will lessen the tendency toward stretch marks.

Also the young mother should always lie down when nursing her child. This is a great aid in preserving the bustline. The breasts are not so apt to become stretched and this habit also provides you with short rest periods during the day.

There is no reason to feel that you cannot have a lovely figure just because you have a baby—that is, if you take seriously the information I am bringing you this week.

Tomorrow: Girdles for the pregnant woman.

By JANET ODELL

Good old-fashioned cookies are always in style. This recipe for Hermits came from Mrs. Irvin Ingalsbe's mother and she used it for her children.

Mrs. Ingalsbe has a pretty blue parakeet whom she has taught to say lots of words. She likes to sew, to knit and to play bridge.

MR. AND MRS. A. F. SASSER JR.

Judith Ann Ohngren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Garchow of Corwin court, and Arthur F. Sasser Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Sasser of South Hospital road, were married Thursday at St. Michael Catholic Church.

Judith A. Ohngren Wed

St. Michael Catholic Church was the setting for the Thursday wedding of Judith Ann Ohngren and Arthur F. Sasser Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Garchow of Corwin court, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Sasser of South Hospital road.

The bride approached the altar wearing a gown of white lace over satin, in ballerina length, accented by a V-neckline. Her fingertip veil was secured by a cap of sequins and seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy streamers.

As maid of honor, Janice Sears, cousin of the bride, wore a ballerina-length gown of white lace over blue taffeta and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Attending his brother as best man was James A. Sasser.

At a reception held at the home of the bride, Mrs. Garchow wore a beige sheath dress with coral accessories. Mrs. Sasser wore a turquoise dress with maize accessories.

The couple left for a trip to the Smoky Mountains.

School Secretaries Plan Annual Picnic

The annual picnic of the Pontiac Educational Secretaries Association will be held at the Jaycee Park on East Walton boulevard at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

In case of rain the picnic will be held in the multipurpose room of Malkim School.

Check New Shade Against Complexion

It's a sad day when a woman buys a new shade of dress or suit only to find it does little for her complexion. Hold fabric close to the face, perhaps draping it over a shoulder, to get an idea of how it will complement or detract from the skin.

Sidetrack Quarrel

It is embarrassing to a hostess to have guests let a discussion turn into an argument. When you see that a difference of opinion between you and another guest is getting out of hand, change the subject.

Transform Ancient Perry Street Into Modern Highway

By PETE LOCHBILER

The remains of Perry street lie like an open wound across northeast Pontiac.

Construction crews for the State Highway Department have devasted much of the old two-lane road and cleared away nearly everything in the path of a wider right-of-way for the new, divided four-lane highway.

Trees, fences, signs, sidewalks, lawns, all have surrendered to the pressing demands of Pontiac's increasing traffic. Even a few building fronts are being torn down — they're in the highway's way.

RESIDENTS UNHAPPY

The changes are to be interpreted as signs of progress, but it's hard at the moment to find a Perry street resident who is not unhappy about the sudden revolution with its accompanying dust, noise and inconvenience.

Businessmen note that cars seldom pull up to their Perry street establishments now. The drop in customers causes many a sigh.

To top it off, property owners along the state trunkline (M24) business route are being required by the city to help pay its one-eighth share of the total $1,350,000 cost. The rate to property owners is $4 per front foot.

STATE TROUBLED

The state has its troubles, too. It is faced with at least one tough law suit fighting condemnation of right-of-way and is pessimistic about completing price negotiations in all of its own legal proceedings before they reach open court in three weeks.

Another discouraging situation confronts motorists who once used Perry as a through street in and out of town. They find now that detours along Mt. Clemens, Featherstone, Opdyke and Walton boulevard can become traffic-clogged, especially at rush hours.

Does this cloudy horizon have a silver lining somewhere? If it does, it should become apparent late this fall when the job is completed and Pontiac has a new traffic artery capable of carrying more than twice the number of cars to and from the expanding northeast area.

It will connect with the new four-lane divided M24 providing safer, easier travel between Pontiac, Oxford, Lake Orion and points north.

More importantly, the new Perry will act as a funnel for Pontiac traffic using the new Oakland County expressway, connecting with the southern end of the first, Pontiac to Flint section in 1960.

When the expressway is completed to Detroit, it will become Pontiac's favorite route for getting places, road planners figure. A widened Perry will come in mighty handy then, they say.

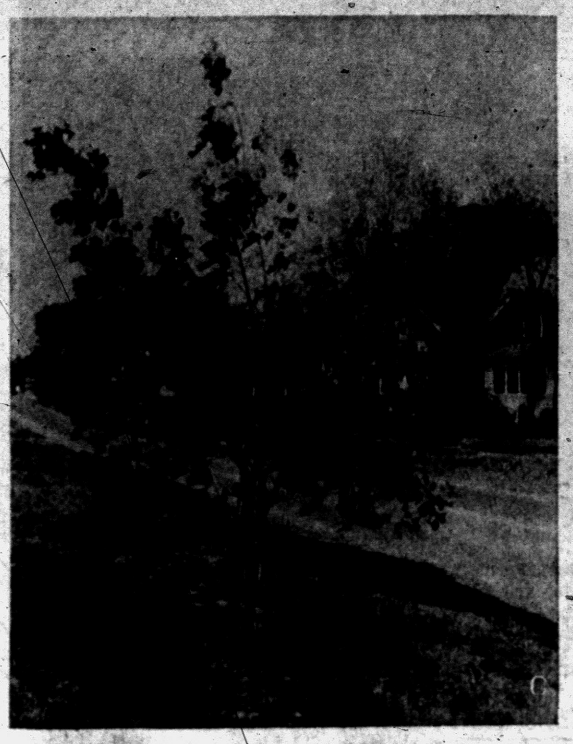

★ ★ ★

As the new Perry is opened to traffic, drivers will find it has double roadways, each measuring 23 to 24 feet in width, with a center median from Mt. Clemens street to the city limits. The median's width will vary, from a few inches wide downtown to seven feet further out. There'll be no center median in the block from Mt. Clemens to Huron street, where the present project ends.

ROAD'S END — Even local traffic along Perry can't pass by this gourge created for Galloway Creek while a new bridge is being built to accommodate the wider road. This photo looking towards Pontiac road (top, center) gives an idea of the changes taking place in the landscape overnight as construction proceeds.

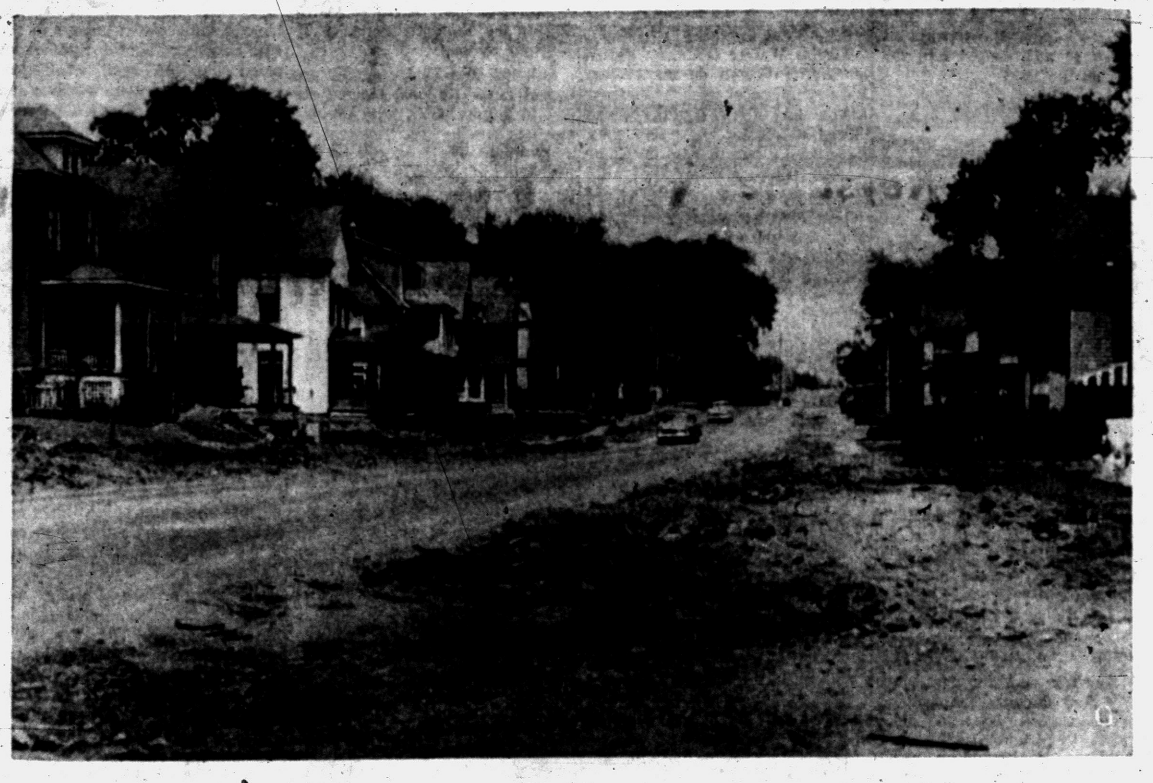

Pontiac Press Photos by Ron Wagman

SPARED — This sapling is the only tree left growing in the new highway's right-of-way. It was spared by construction crews after the owner promised to transplant it to her backyard.

ARE YOU LOST?—Where once was a busy, two-lane road, now lies a deserted trail of freshly-turned sand and chipped cement. Here's what remains of old Perry street looking south from the city limits toward the 4-H fairgrounds.

STRIPPED FOR ACTION — Once a shady neighborhood, Perry street homes north of the business district stand denuded and dusty, awaiting expansion of the road towards their doorsteps. Sidewalks and front lawns have been swept away in advance of paving operations.

Study Relations of U.S., France

Ike, Dulles Call Meet to Word Reply to Reds on Nuclear Test Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles scheduled a major foreign policy conference today to discuss relations with the De Gaulle government in France and map a new reply to the Soviet Union on nuclear test talks.

A White House statement last night called for "intimate and friendly relations" with France under the premiership of Gen. de Gaulle. But officials said privately that everything depends now on how far De Gaulle is willing to go in Allied cooperation.

On the nuclear test issue, the President received a letter from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Saturday agreeing to open talks among scientific experts of the United States, the Soviet Union and other countries later this month.

Khrushchev raised several points, concerning place and membership, which required a top presidential response.

The scientific experts will try to work out mutually agreeable means for detecting any violations once an agreement to halt testing is ratified.

Rubber Check Passers Get $39,322 in County

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Bad check passers were busy in Oakland County last year, bilking merchants of $39,322.

County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem and his Chief Investigator Anthony F. Stiel compiled figures showing reports of 984 "worthless" checks totaling $70,093.67 which were received at the Pontiac and Royal Oak offices.

PAYMENT MADE

After investigating the reports, it was found that $30,770.71 of these checks apparently had been issued "with non intent to defraud" and payment was made to the person who had cashed these checks.

This leaves the $39,322.96 figure which passers got away with or which might still be recovered by continued investigations by the prosecutor's office.

"We can't feel too sorry for those who lost on these deals," said Ziem, "because in most cases they're not exercising another caution before cashing checks."

He said he wasn't too alarmed at the number of bad checks passed as he believed they were in proportion to the increase in population. No comparable figures had been gathered for previous years.

He issued these steps which should be taken before checks are cashed:

(1) You should know the person for whom you are cashing the check.

(2) Examine the check very carefully. Make sure it is not post-dated and that the year is the current one.

(3) Make sure it is a check. It has been known that checks stubs and photostatic copies of checks have been passed.

(4) Demand to see indentification. Write driver's license number of cashee on back of check.

(5) Examine the cashee very carefully. Indentification is mandatory if prosecution is to be carried out.

(6) Beware of the person who purchases a small amount of merchandise with a large check so he or she can get the cash.

(7) Be careful of taking checks drawn on an out-of-town bank.

(8) If it is drawn on a local bank and you have any suspicions call the bank.

"All it takes is a little precaution on the part of the person making payment," declared Ziem. "And they must not forget that the money is coming out of their pocket if the criminal is not apprehended."

Ziem's office sends notices to persons who allegedly have written "worthless" checks. If it turns out to have been a good check, cashed with no attempt to defraud, payment may be made through money order or certified check made out to the complainant. This must be done within five days according to a Michigan law.

Restitution is also made through probationary terms. Last year this returned approximately $13,000.

"These figures don't necessarily reflect the total amount of bad checks passed in the county as many cases are never reported to our office," the prosecutor said.

For Great Lakes Duty

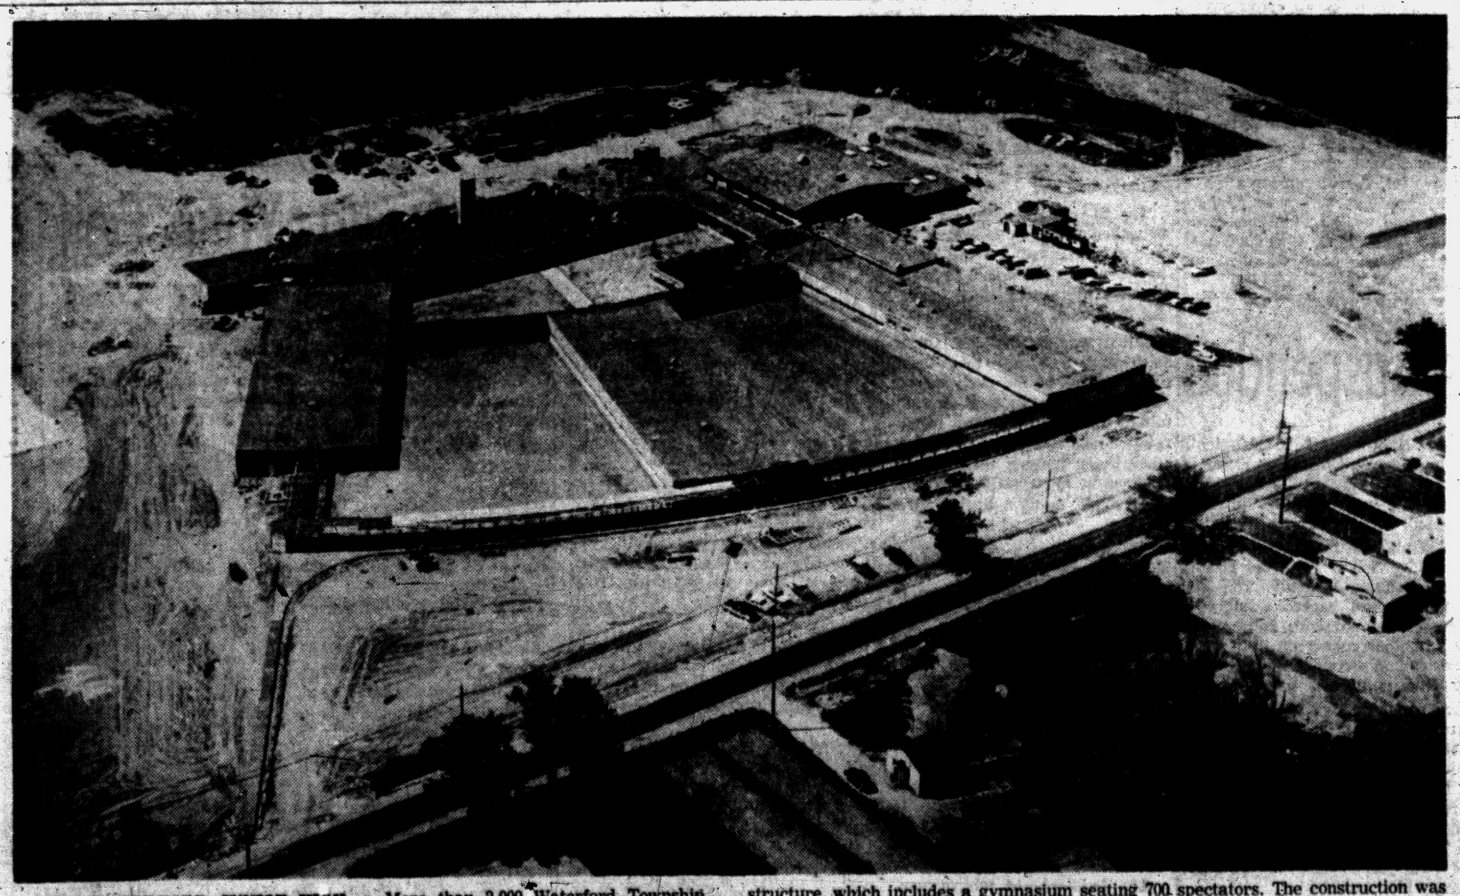

To Launch Biggest Ship

DETROIT (UPI)—The largest ship on the Great Lakes—the Edmund Fitzgerald — will be christened and launched Saturday.

The 729-foot ore carrier is being built in River Rouge at the Great Lakes Engineering Works. The ship is named for the new board chairman of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Milwaukee.

There possibly won't ever be a bigger ship built for use on the Great Lakes.

Northwestern, which owns the boat, will deliver it in August as part of the Columbia Transportation Fleet of Oglebay Norton Co. It has been chartered for 25 years by Columbia.

NEW WATERFORD JUNIOR HIGH — More than 2,000 Waterford Township Junior High school pupils will take up their studies in the new John D. Pierce school this fall. The building is on a 25 acre site at the southwest corner of Hatchery Road and Crescent Lake Road. Construction is ahead of schedule on the 50 room $2,500,000 structure, which includes a gymnasium seating 700 spectators. The construction was financed by a $3,500,000 bond issue approved by township voters in 1956. Local contractors are Schurrer Const. Co., Eames and Brown, and Schultz Electric Service.

Can't Explain Death of Young Mother, 27

CASS CITY, (AP) — A "tragic coincidence" was the way State Police Cpl. Carl Harrison described the death Sunday of Mrs. Shirley Rabideau, 27, mother of three children.

Mrs. Rabideau was found dead in her bed at 7 a.m. of unexplained causes—three hours after her husband, Patrick, 28, was hurt and hospitalized in a car smashup a few blocks from home.

An autopsy at Saginaw General Hospital on Mrs. Rabideau's body was inconclusive. She had been under treatment for a nervous condition.

Relatives had gone to the Rabideau home to tell Mrs. Rabideau of her husband's misfortune. They found her dead.

Rabideau was not believed seriously hurt.

Doug Sanders New Western Open King

Unheralded Pro Closes With 68 at Red Run GC

Florida Golfer Defeats Finsterwald by Single Stroke for Crown

By BILL CORNWELL

After trying for nearly a year to make some kind of a noise in American professional golf circles, unheralded Doug Sanders set off a tremendous explosion Sunday at Red Run Golf Club.

Sanders, 24-year-old pro from Miami Beach, Fla., conquered Red Run's rain-socaked course plus Dow Finsterwald and 51 other golfers to win the 55th Western Open championship.

Trailing the pace-setters by two strokes entering yesterday's final 18-hole round, Sanders fashioned a four-under-par 68 for a 72-hole total of 275 and $5,000 in first place money.

★ ★ ★

His final score was 13 below regulation figures, topping Finsterwald by a single stroke. He beat par on every round, shooting previous scores of 69, 68 and 70.

Finsterwald, Dave Ragan and Mike Souchak were co-leaders going into Sunday's last round with 54-hole totals of 205. Ken Venturi came next with 206 while Sanders, Bert Weaver and Tommy Jacobs were knotted at 207.

Everyone faded in the stretch except Finsterwald and Sanders. Both made the turn in 35 and it looked as though Finsterwald could win by shooting par the rest of the way.

★ ★ ★

Finsterwald, the steady pro from Tequesta, Fla., did exactly that, coming home with a regulation 36 for a one-under-par 71. But Sanders caught fire on the back nine and Dow's steadiness wasn't enough.

Sanders toured the back side in 33 shots, including birdies on numbers 10, 13, 15 and 18 and a bogey five on the 12th hole. He caught Finsterwald at number 14 and passed him for keeps on the 15th.

The turning point actually came at the 14th hole where Finsterwald three-putted from 35 feet, missing a three-foot second for a bogey five, while Sanders was holing out in four.

★ ★ ★

Sanders took the lead for good at the 15th with a birdie three as Finsterwald parred. Dow, playing just behind Sanders, needed an eagle three for a tie on the 521-yard 18th and his birdie effort still left him one stroke short.

Altogether yesterday, Sanders collected six birdies and one-putted eight greens. It was his first tournament victory in this country since turning pro Dec. 7, 1956.

Finsterwald preceded Sunday's score with rounds of 69-68-68 for a total of 276 and runner-up cash of $2,500. It marked the 16th time in the last two years that Finsterwald has finished second best.

★ ★ ★

Big Julius Boros, Bob Rosburg and Souchak tied for 3rd place at 279 and Jacobs, the midway leader, occupied 4th spot alone with 280. Deadlocked at 281 were Venturi, Sam Snead, Frank Stranahan, Arnold Palmer and Ragan.

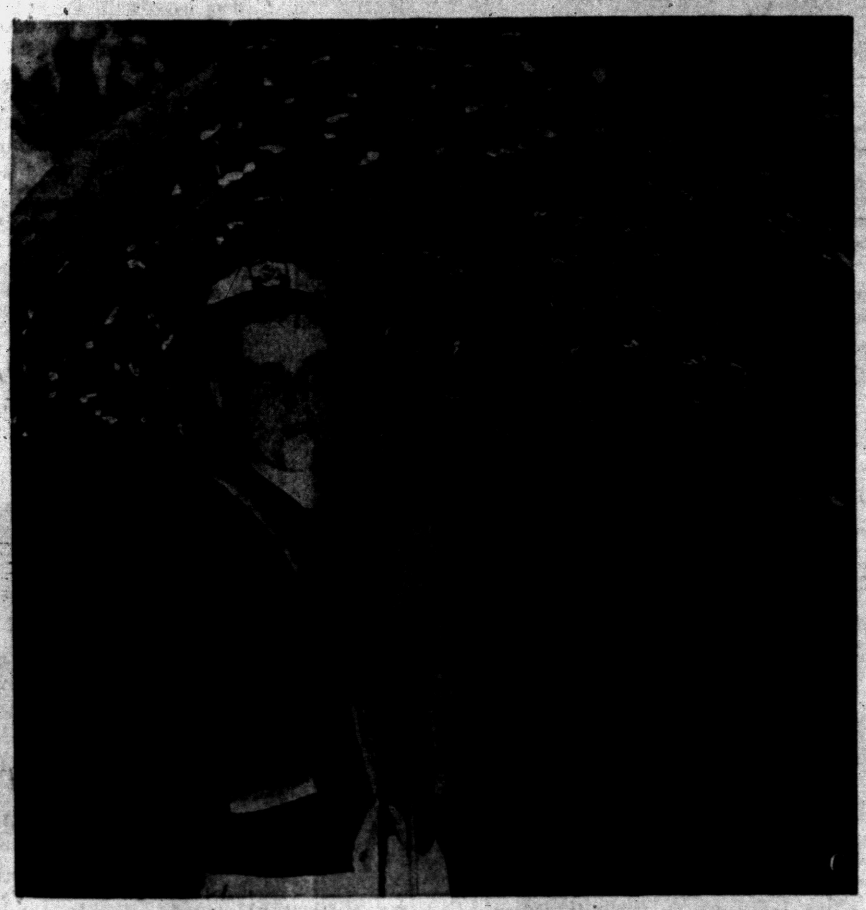

Pontiac's Gene Bone shared the next position of 282 with Gary Player, George Bayer and Weaver. Gene shot a 73 yesterday to go with earlier scores of 70-71-68 and his efforts netted him $481.25.

Boros fired the greatest individual round Sunday, a sizzling 66 featuring six birdies and eight one-putt greens.

★ ★ ★

Defending Western Open champion Doug Ford soared to 77 for a total of 287 and Dr. Cary Middlecoff slipped to 75 for a final score of 285.

SPORTS

JUST PLAIN WET — Gene Bone, Pontiac's contribution to the ranks of touring golf pros, looks mighty damp as he takes refuge under his umbrella during the rainy conclusion of the Western Open tournament at Red Run. Bone, 26-year-old assistant pro at Tam O'Shanter, fired a 73 yesterday over the wet course for a 72-hole total of 282 and $481.25 in prize money. It was Gene's finest performance on the pro circuit.

Turley Gets 8th Win; A's Rip Tribe Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Casey Stengel can pick his starting pitcher for the July 8 All-Star Game at Baltimore without any delay. Bob Turley of his New York Yankees simply is burning up the American League.

★ ★ ★

Turley boosted his season won-lost record to 8-1 Sunday by throwing a five-hitter at the Boston Red Sox for a 10-4 romp. Using his breaking stuff more than his pet fast ball, Turley struck out 10 and took over the league lead with 53.

★ ★ ★

It was Turley's eighth complete game in nine starts. Three of the runs scored by Boston came when Jackie Jensen's wind blown pop fly to short left with the bases loaded fell just inside the foul line.

Andy Carey, who has to share the third base job with Jerry Lumpe because of his erratic hitting, came through with five straight hits. Two homers, a double and two singles helped him add 51 points to his average, which now measures .256.

Kansas City remained 6½ games behind the Yanks by whipping Cleveland 6-2, after scoring five unearned runs on Cal McLish in the first inning. Ray Herbert blanked the Indians with three hits in the first six innings and finished with a six-hitter. All this after Bob Bragan had blasted his Indians as "complacent and indifferent" in a pre-game lecture.

★ ★ ★

Billy Loes wound up with a $100 fine and an indefinite suspension from Baltimore Manager Paul Richards after he blew up and charged an umpire while Washington was beating the Orioles 5-2.

The rhubarb in Baltimore came with men on first and third in the fifth. Camilo Pascual, the winning pitcher, topped by a ball to the mound and Loes threw to the plate. In the rundown Loes tried to chase Aspromonte for the tag but the Senator dove safely across the plate.

★ ★ ★

After Loes slammed the ball to the ground, the man who was on first base originally, Julio Becquer, also scored and Pascual would up on third. A wild throw by Brooks Robinson allowed Pascual to score the third run of the inning. It was Loes' fifth defeat without a victory.

Richards announced his disciplinary action after the game and Umpire Napp said he would file a report with the league for further action.

Stan Williams Beats Cubs, 1-0

Rookie Hurls 2-Hitter for Dodgers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe Walter O'Malley should let Walter Alston do his Chavez Ravine electioneering. Whatever Alston told the Dodgers behind closed doors the other day must have been a pep talk in the Knute Rockne tradition.

★ ★ ★

The Dodgers reacted Saturday, after a double defeat Friday, and bombed the Chicago Cubs. Then came Sunday and a two-hit 1-0 shutout by Stan Williams, a 21-year-old rookie.

Although the Dodgers still are buried in the National League cellar, 10 games back, with the big election coming up Tuesday, at least they are showing signs of life. Williams probably won more "yes" votes for the Chavez deal than all of the threats from Warren Giles' office.

★ ★ ★

Williams had pitched only three innings until Alston gave him the call Sunday. The 6-4 righthander acted like he really belonged. Working in 48-degree weather and a stiff 20-mile northerly wind, Williams allowed only two singles—one by Al Dark in the first and one by loser Dick Drott in the third.

While the Dodgers were trying to win games and influence voters, the San Francisco Giants climbed back into first place by snapping the St. Louis Cards' four game winning streak, 7-2. After dropping three straight, the Giants backed up Johnny Antonelli with an 11-hit attack.

★ ★ ★

Bob Friend, Pittsburgh and the rain combined to drop Milwaukee into second place. Friend held the Braves to five hits while the Pirates built up a 5-1 edge. Rain stopped the game three times and finally forced the umpires to call it off after seven innings. It was Friend's eighth victory.

Cincinnati's Bob Purkey won his sixth, 2-1 over Philadelphia in the first game. The two clubs struggled to an 11-11 tie in the second game finally stopped by the Sunday curfew in the ninth. It goes into the records as a suspended game to be completed at a later date.

★ ★ ★

Ray Jablonski was the leading hitter for the Giants with two hits and three runs batted in for the Giants, who tagged Sam Jones with his sixth defeat. Jones struck out seven in six innings but walked five.

Pittsburgh took care of Milwaukee in the first inning with three off Gene Conley on a walk, singles by Dick Groat and Ted Kluszewski and Frank Thomas' triple.

The second game at Philadelphia was a wild affair after a tame opener. Eleven pitchers were used as the Phils overcame a 10-3 Cincy lead. Cincinnati was batting in the ninth when curfew rang.

RAGING LOES — Billy Loes, temperamental pitcher of the Baltimore Orioles, argues with umpire Larry Napp after Napp ruled that Loes failed to tag a Washington runner at the plate. Loes became enraged. He was fined $100 and suspended indefinitely by manager Paul Richards.

McHale Says It Isn't So

Did Kaline Muff a Bonus?

DETROIT (AP) — Right fielder Al Kaline said today he missed out on a $3,000 bonus from the Detroit Tigers because his batting average was not .300 or better by June 1. Detroit general manager John McHale said this was "absolutely untrue."

The 23-year-old outfielder told newsmen today an incentive arrangement called for the extra payment. He didn't reveal whether the arrangement is verbal or written into his contract.

Kaline was hitting .268 yesterday after a slump that lasted through most of the early season.

At the same time Kaline admitted his arrangement, usually reliable sources reported several other Tiger players including left fielder-first baseman Charlie Maxwell, made similar bonus agreements.

Maxwell's clause reportedly calls for an added $3,000 if he hits 25 home runs or drives in 100 runs.

The office of baseball commissioner Ford Frick frowns on incentive arrangements. Kaline said today "the incentive thing was (general manager John) McHale's idea."

Kaline added: "I had almost forgotten about it (the incentive clause) until June 1 came. Of course, it didn't help to have that kind of contract in the first two weeks of the season when I was hurt."

Kaline had a pulled back muscle but played every game.

Asked if he would have been out of the lineup, except for the bonus arrangement, he refused to reply.

Attempt to Raise Sunken Gale VI at Regatta Site

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C. (AP) — An attempt will be made today to raise the unlimited class motorboat Gale VI, which sank yesterday on the verge of winning the International Cup regatta.

★ ★ ★

The trophy went instead to the Miss U.S. I, which won the final heat of 30 miles after placing second to Gale VI in the first two.

Driver Lee Schoenih was uninjured as the Gale VI overturned and sank in 12 feet of water. Winds 25 miles an hour in gusts made the Pasquotank River choppy. Schoenith and owner Joseph Schoenith are from Detroit.

★ ★ ★

In the third place was Wildroot Charlie, which had a second and two third places. She was driven by Bob Schroeder and is owned by the Buffalo, N.Y., Launch Club. She split her deck on the same lap in which the Gale VI sank.

Loes Goes Into Tantrums, Is Suspended

BALTIMORE (AP) — Billy Loes, who has repeatedly expressed a desire to pitch for the powerful New York Yankees, may have outlived his usefulness with the Baltimore Orioles.

Manager Paul Richards, who had almost pampered the eccentric right-hander for two years, lowered the boom yesterday with an indefinite suspension and a $100 fine after the latest of his temper tantrums.

The disciplinary action came after Loes was ejected from the game for pushing Umpire Larry Napp, and a referee off-season, in a heated argument over a call at the plate.

In the dressing room after the game, Loes pointed to Richards' office and said he was fined and suspended "for making God in there look bad." He said he would appeal the suspension to baseball Commissioner Ford Frick because he was being deprived of making a living.

There was little sympathy for the 28-year-old hurler from his teammates, however. Only one player felt Richards may have been a little harsh in view of the fact that anyone might make an error in judgment and then blow up in the heat of battle.

Most of the veterans felt Richards had gone the limit with Loes and had to take action. One said:

★ ★ ★

"I've been around in this game a long time, and Richard goes as far with his players as anybody. He will even be fair with Loes when this thing is over."

Loes also faces possible disciplinary action by the American League. Umpire Napp said he would file a report to league headquarters which will say Loes pushed him "more than once."

Loes erupted in the fifth inning when Napp called Washington's Ken Aspromonte safe at home in a rundown play as Loes tried to make the tag instead of throwing the ball to catcher Gus Triandos.

The pitcher threw the ball, and his glove and hat to the ground while arguing violently. The ball rolled to the backstop, allowing another run to score and putting still another runner on third base. Washington scored three runs and won the game 5-2.

After yesterday's outburst, Richards said he didn't want to comment on whether Loes would ever pitch for Baltimore again.

Loes suggested that Richards should trade him if he didn't like him and said of the manager:

"He don't care whether you win or lose, just so long as you don't make him look bad."

He also took a swipe at umpires, saying "they think I try to make 'em look bad so they take it out on me."

Tigers Peddle Sleater

BALTIMORE (AP) — Southpaw Lou Sleater, who balked when Detroit tried to send him to Charleston, W.Va., was purchased today by the Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles said the 30-year-hurler will be in uniform for tonight's game with Washington. The sale figure was not announced.

12-Year-Old Boy Takes Skeet Title

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) A 12-year-old Roselle, Ill., boy won the all-gauge title in the Kentucky Open Bluegrass Skeet Championships yesterday by smashing 250 straight clay targets.

Then he slipped away to a swimming pool while his father, whom he eliminated on the way to the title, accepted congratulations.

Bobby Shuley, a sixth-grader who has been shooting at clay birds for three years, wasn't flustered by his title.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

DIAGNOSIS: Careless Aiming Methods.

Treatment: There's a lot more to aiming a golf shot correctly than just squaring away in the general direction of the hole. You must line up the feet, the body, and the shoulders. Many golfers seem to feel they're aiming for the hole just because they're looking at the hole. It ain't necessarily so — not by a long shot.

It only takes a few seconds to line up properly. And these are seconds well spent. Take quick note to see that you're standing right. Then check the hips and shoulders. Both should be pointing about 10 degrees to the left of the intended line of flight.

Here we run into one of the major aiming problems of the average golfer. Many seem to believe that the hips and shoulders should point directly toward the hole. Not so. A good guide is to look along the line of your left shoulder. If it's pointing the prescribed 10 degrees to the left of target, then it's safe to say that you're lined up right.

Movie Stars Assemble to Aid Dodgers' Vote

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The hottest issue here in tomorrow's California primary election is Proposition B. That's B as in baseball.

The issue is:

Shall the Dodgers get 300 weed-grown acres of city-owned land in Chavez Ravine in which to build a baseball stadium?

Proponents say the site, near the confluence of the metropolis' freeways and about a mile from the City Hall, is ideal.

"Giveaway!" cry opponents. In return the city would get Wrigley Field and the 10-acre site on which the former Pacific Coast League park lies.

★ ★ ★

Feelings are high on both sides.

A noisy crowd of several thousand welcomed the Dodgers home from a 2½-week road trip last night as though the National League cellar dwellers were world champions.

Television cameras covered the arrival as part of a four-hour "Dodgerthon" in behalf of Proposition B.

Movie, sports, night club and TV personalities appeared before studio cameras and urged a yes vote. Comedian Joe E. Brown was master of ceremonies. Actor Donald Reagan called opposing arguments dishonest.

The National League could require the Dodgers to move from Los Angeles if Proposition B fails, "but we like it here too much."

★ ★ ★

Dodger executives have no thought of moving. "We have to stay here 30 years to get our money back at least."

He has no idea how much revenue big-league baseball is bringing Los Angeles, but "baseball fans have spent 35 million dollars in Milwaukee since the Braves moved there."

★ ★ ★

Chavez Ravine now provides only $7,500 annual tax revenue from scattered landowners but the Dodgers expect to pay about $350,000 in taxes a year, O'Malley said.

The Cranes set marks in the 220, 880, mile relay, 880 relay, broad jump and mile. Stu Clark accounted for two of them.

Birmingham Takes 3rd; Chiefs Set 4 Records in Losing

This has been a nip and tuck season for Pontiac Central's state championship track team.

The Chief thinclads ended their season Saturday getting nosed out of the University of Detroit relays by a half a point. Detroit Redford High was the winner of the big class A field with 27½ points.

Following Pontiac's 27 points was Birmingham with 23½ points.

It was the third meet this year that PCH was beaten by a margin of a point or less. Flint Northern won the Saginaw Valley title by nipping Pontiac Central by a point, and earlier Northern won the Central Michigan Indoor meet by a 1-5 point margin over PCH.

The Chiefs won the 880 in record time of 1:31, another mark in the 440 yard relay in 43.8 and in the 880 yard shuttle hurdles with Jim Hawkins, Jim Kellar and Bob Manning taking part in all thre events. Joe Hill in the 440 and 880 relay and Charley Barge in the shuttle completed the winning quartets.

★ ★ ★

Another Pontiac mark was in the high jump relay with Barge, Fred Brooks and Arzo Carson combining for a height of 17-11½.

As was expected, Birmingham won the pole vault relay, but individual honors went to Gerald DeHenau of Denby who went 12 feet 5½ inches. State champion Bill Alcorn, who set a state record recently with a 12 foot 11¾ vault, went over in 12-feet-3.

Members of the Maples' winning pole vault team were Alcorn, Jim Sechrist and Bill Stark.

★ ★ ★

Best individual effort in the broad jump was turned in by Pontiac's Jim Kellar at 21 feet 11½ inches, but the winning team was Northeastern. PCH was third and Waterford fourth.

In class B ranks, Milford finished third with 23 points behind champion River Rouge with 44 and Ecorse with 36.

CLASS A RESULTS

Redford 27½, Pontiac 27, Birmingham 23½, Eastern 11½, Northwestern 11, Northeastern 11, Denby 9, Waterford 8, Mumford 6½, Pershing 6, DeLaSalle 5½, Central 5, Edsel Ford 4, Chadsey 3, Thurston 2½, St. Joseph 2 and Grosse Pointe 2.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

It was a thrilling new story for Doug Sanders and the same old one for Dow Finsterwald when the 55th Western Open golf tournament ended Sunday at Red Run.

Sanders, almost a "nobody" in the professional golf world, walked off with first place and folding money amounting to $5,000. In second spot, only a stroke away, was Finsterwald, deftly counting his $2,500.

It was the first championship in the United States for Sanders since he turned pro in December of 1956. For Finsterwald it marked the 16th runner-up finish in the last two years.

Sanders, who reaches his 25th birthday this July, won amateur honors galore. His greatest attainment as a "simon pure" was taking the Canadian Open title in 1956, giving him the distinction of being the only amateur to ever win it.

Ironically, he beat out Finsterwald to win that event. The two golfers wound up in a tie for the lead with 273s and Sanders defeated Dow on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff.

Prior to yesterday, his lone victory as a pro came last year when he won the Colombian Open in South America. He made his American professional debut last July at the Carling Open in Flint and the Western tourney was his 16th U. S. appearance.

In 1957 he was practically out of sight on the official PGA money list, finishing 60th in cash earnings with $3,053.67. This means that he pocketed more dough at Red Run than in all of his previous tournaments combined.

Sanders, who hails from Miami Beach, Fla., has one of the shortest backswings in the business and he minimizes distance to put a premium on accuracy.

He has frequently been plagued by a bad split between his index and middle fingers and usually has them taped. A crippling leg injury last February forced him off the tour for a four-month rest.

Finsterwald, it seems, thrives on finishing second best. Perhaps the most consistent player on the circuit, he was 8th on the PGA money chart entering the Western and he carries an 18-hole stroke average of 71.01.

Dow's quip at the tourney's conclusion was, "How much did I win?"

SHORT PUTTS

Next to Sanders, Pontiac's Gene Bone was probably the happiest player in the Western Open. He bettered par on every round except Sunday's finale and then he only exceeded it by one. It was by far Gene's top tournament performance.

Rain which came down in torrents held up play for nearly 45 minutes yesterday. The final threesome of Finsterwald, Bert Weaver and Dave Ragan didn't leave the first tee until 3:10 p.m.

Honors for the swiftest 18-hole round at Red Run goes hands down to veteran Al Besselink and Bill Ezinicki, former National Hockey League right wing. Besselink and Ezinicki, who started the field yesterday as a twosome, toured the Red Run course in one hour and 46 minutes.

Publinx Champ Bids in Britain

Gene Andrews Begins British Amateur Play With Victory

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Gene Andrews of Pacific Palisades, Calif., one-time U. S. National Public Links champion, opened his third bid for the British Amateur golf championship today by defeating Dr. J. L. Hastings of Scotland 8 and 7 in the first round.

Andrews has reached the fifth round in each of his two previous appearances in the British Amateur.

Today, the Californian got off to a good lead on the 6,996-yard Old Course of St. Andrews as Hastings missed several short putts. Andrews was three up after the first five holes and had an easy time.

In the second round tomorrow, Andrews meets Reg Taylor of South Africa, who beat W. E. McCrea of England one up when McCrea three-putted the 18th green.

Two Americans drew first round byes. They were Brig. Gen. Keith Compton of St. Joseph, Mo., stationed in Morocco, and Tim Holland of Rockville Center, N. Y.

Another American veteran, Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia, won his first round match from Bill Richmond of Scotland, 4 and 2.

McHale's second-round opponent will be Norman Saul of England who had a bye today.

Dancers Heading for U.N. Aboard Horse 'n' Buggy

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — Eight North Carolina folk dancers set out by horse and wagon today on a 700-mile journey to promote world friendship through exchange of folk music and dancing.

Their destination is the United Nations headquarters in New York City, which they hope to reach in five weeks.

On July 11 they will perform for representatives of the U. N. at the World Affairs Center on the U. N. plaza. Then they will make a former appeal to the U. N. for a world exchange of folk music and dancing as a basis for better understanding and friendship among people.

The tour is being sponsored by the American Veterans of World War II, the Amvets.

Hero Must Prove Himself Again

Dark Clouds Now Hover Over De Gaulle's Head

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — At this moment the self-assured Charles de Gaulle's head is high and his stride strong. Nevertheless, he is like a man walking barefooted through a field of broken bottles.

The French air cleared momentarily when he became premier yesterday.

But what may seem to De Gaulle today to be direct and simple solutions for the ills of France may before he's through turn into tortured dilemmas both for him and for his country.

French acceptance of him, on his terms, was a desperate compromise to avoid civil war. He was rammed down the country's throat by a rebellious army. Thus he had to be taken on faith in a hurry: both as to intention and as to judgment.

Although his announced purpose is to preserve the republic — and all he's done has been clothed in legality — he nevertheless has blessed the military chieftains who forced him upon France.

Yet something like this — emergency of a strongman — seemed inevitable. If not De Gaulle, eventually it would have been someone else or the army. French government — or, its parliamentary system — had become a farce and a disgrace.

The all-powerful Assembly, split into factions with each concerned about its own interests, proved incapable of running the country. So De Gaulle's first aim is to reform the government this way:

Through a constitutional change to make it more like the American system by making the executive branch stronger, the Assembly weaker, thus achieving a greater balance of power. This is one announced intention.

Another is to reach a satisfactory settlement in Algeria, where Moslem nationalists have fought the French army for years to obtain independence. But this is what the French who live in Algeria don't want.

★ ★ ★

To get things done De Gaulle, who despises politics and political horse-trading, must deal in one way or another with French politicians. One of his first acts was to put leaders of various political parties in his Cabinet.

He almost certainly will have to make political compromises to get some of what he wants. But he is not noted for compromise. And opposition to his acceptance in the first place, while in a minority, is still intense.

Thus there is ready-made opposition to him starting out. As he goes about reforms at home, it is likely the opposition will increase and not diminish. This will be a good test of his faith in democratic ractices to get things done.

There is the fear — and there has been since the beginning — that once in power he will rely less on democratic processes and more on dictatorship, although he has now indicated he despises the authoritarian role.

But his worst trouble may come from the army and the extreme right if they feel he is making too much compromise with the left or if he offers an Algerian solution contrary to their desires.

Thus he can expect from the army and the right a scrutiny as intense as the one focused on him by the left. But the effect of his solutions won't be limited to France alone.

★ ★ ★

For example: if his answer on Algeria pleases the army but infuriates the Moslem world, the West will be faced with the prospect of seeing all North Africa turn to communism or neutralism.

There is so much puzzlement about the French future under De Gaulle that the West can only guess what's next and hope for the best.

Suspect Foul Play in Death of Woman

BRIGHTON, Colo. (AP) — A woman died yesterday after she was found lying nude in a large lime pit.

Bill Kearns, chief sheriff's investigator, said the woman may have been a victim of foul play. Identification was not complete.

The woman's screams were heard by a motorist, who called police. Firemen in rubber hip boots and gloves waded into the pit to rescue the woman.

Doctors said she apparently died of heart failure brought on by severe shock.

Shoots at Worm Picker to Impress Girl Friend

BLOOMFIELD, N. J. (AP)— Richard Dunning, 50, a professional worm picker, was engaged in his vocation at the Glen Ridge golf course when two shots whizzed past his head.

Police, answering his call, hooked a 16-year-old boy who admitted firing a .22-caliber rifle at Dunning to impress his girl friend.

Commercial Forests Welcoming Hunters

WASHINGTON — A nationwide survey conducted by the American Forest Products Industries and covering 74 per cent of the nation's commercial timberlands found that 42,737,567 acres, or 92.4 per cent of the area surveyed, are open to hunters in season. About 96.3 per cent of the area is open to fishing.

Handling De Gaulle to Test U.S. Diplomacy

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — No survivors of the World War II scene in Washington, D. C., will doubt for a moment that U. S. diplomacy will face its most delicate test now that Gen. Charles De Gaulle is head man of France.

The French have a word for him. Formidable! That was De Gaulle.

Vain, touchy, egotistical, stubborn and proud were other words applied to the great Free Frenchman in the chit chat of the Washington cocktail circuit and in the hush-hush, off-record wartime conferences which the top civilian and military brass were forever having with representatives of the press.

★ ★ ★

We heard a lot about De Gaulle from such men as Gen. George C. Marshall, Adm. Ernest J. King and from President Roosevelt himself.

"Explosive, handle with care," was the tag they put on the Frenchman.

Marshall and King related sadly that security around De Gaulle headquarters in London was loose as a sieve. Hence Roosevelt, and Prime Minister Winston Churchill ruled against telling De Gaulle in advance about the 1942 invasion of North Africa although it was French territory which the allies planned to storm.

CALLED STUFFY

Some just called De Gaulle "stuffy" and let it go at that. There was respect for him, however, and now that the U. S. may have to deal with De Gaulle in matters of life and death for both France and the United States, there is comfort in the fact that he and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower got along well.

"I happen to be one of those that liked him," Eisenhower said of De Gaulle at last week's news conference. The free people of the West can only hope that the Frenchman liked Ike too.

FDR told a hilarious story about trying to get De Gaulle and French Gen. Henri Honore Giraud together at the Casablanca Conference where the President met with Churchill after the Africa invasion.

SHOTGUN WEDDING

Roosevelt said he put it up to Churchill like this:

"Now, we'll call Giraud the bridegroom, and I'll produce him from Algiers next Saturday afternoon. And you (Churchill) get the bride — De Gaulle — from London, and we'll get them down here and we'll have a shotgun wedding.

"Well, Saturday afternoon came, and I had my man there but Winston couldn't produce the bride. And it took — oh — until the following Friday morning before we could get De Gaulle there.

"And then came two days of conversations between them. Churchill and I kept discreetly out of it, except that we got every afternoon a report of no progress, except that they had said: "Apres vous, Gaston,' — 'Apres vous, Alphonse.'

★ ★ ★

"I had to pull off some little dramatics. We went out on the lawn to get photographed — a row of four chairs: Churchill, De Gaulle, and me and Giraud. And there was Sammy Schulman (former White House press photographer) in an army uniform in front of us with a camera. I had worked it out with Sammy beforehand.

"'Oh, Mr. President,' said Sammy, 'can we have a picture of the two generals shaking hands?'

"So I translated Sammy to Giraud and Giraud said, 'Mais, oui,' and he got right up and held out his hand. It took Churchill and myself five minutes to get De Gaulle on his feet and shake hands. However, the main point is that we got them together."

Over Half-Million Hear Billy Graham in Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham's crusade, which began here April 27, has exceeded the half-million mark in attendance.

Counting yesterday's crowd of 12,000 in the 16,500-seat Cow Palace, 505,600 had atended the services.

Graham rested today.

He told his audience yesterday that "God is merciful and God loves you, but someday he will sit in judgment over you."

★ ★ ★

Judgment, he said, is as certain as death, and the Bible speaks of not just one judgment but a series of them.

"You can't buy your way into heaven," he warned. "You enter through your faith in Christ, which is a gift of God."

At the end of his sermon 434 persons went forward in "decisions for Christ," bringing the total to 17,935.

Later Graham spoke at a rally at the Third Baptist Church sponsored by several of the areas' Negro congregations. He told the overflow audience of 1,500 that the root cause of racial friction in the United States is because "we don't find within ourselves the capacity to love."

★ ★ ★

"How many of us ever loved our neighbor as ourselves?" he asked. "Not one of us, including your preacher."

★ ★ ★

One of the prices of being a real Christian, he said, is that "someday you may have to love a neighbor with another color of skin."

He said eternal life depends on being as the Good Samaritan, who helped the stricken Israelite at the side of the road even though he was of a different race and spoke a strange tongue.

Night Light on Plants Changes Life Span

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—An instructor at Rutgers University's School of Agriculture says that night lighting of plants may change their flowering, growth, dormancy habits—and life span.

Roy H. DeBoer, an assistant instructor of landscape design, said that if night-lit plants go into winter in a soft and tender condition, chances of severe winter-kill are increased.

Says Ike Will Ask De Gaulle to Talks

PARIS (AP) — The newspaper Figaro said today that President Eisenhower plans to invite French Premier Charles de Gaulle to take part in the talks he will have next month with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

★ ★ ★

The paper's Washington correspondent said its information came from an "excellent source" in the U.S. capital and that the object of the talks would be to coordinate American, British and French policy in view of the possibility of negotiations with the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

Macmillan is coming to the United States late this week to speak at De Pauw University in Greencastle, Ind., and to talk in Washington with Eisenhower next Monday and Tuesday.

Helen Hayes' Son Glad He Left Harvard to Act

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Young James MacArthur, who quit college because he was "vegetating," is getting plenty of action with his dramatic career.

★ ★ ★

He's not so sure his mother, Helen Hayes, approved. But he quit Harvard, anyway.

"I went back last fall," said Jim, who was entering his sophomore year. "But I just couldn't get engrossed with what I was doing. I was just vegetating.

"I dropped out after two months because I thought it was foolish to continue when I wasn't getting much out of it. I've known too many guys who have done that for four years.

"I haven't given up college entirely. I may go back some day."

It doesn't look too likely. For one thing, he got himself engaged to his school sweetheart, Joyce Bulifant. Jim said it may be "one of those long engagements," but you never can tell.

★ ★ ★

Then there is the matter of his career, which is doing nicely. He is here to do a Studio One drama with Franchot Tone and Kim Hunter tonight.

He leaves immediately for New York and flies to Europe, where he'll do a bit of touring. In July, he reports to Switzerland to star in Walt Disney's "Third Man on the Mountain." Then in the fall he has a Broadway play he would like to do.

★ ★ ★

That doesn't sound as if he'll be returning to the ivied halls.

"Some of the most educated people have never been to college," Jim reasoned. He added that his mother never went past high school although she holds 11 honorary degrees.

One of the reasons he may have left Harvard was that the university has no undergraduate drama courses.

★ ★ ★

He told of visiting the famed Actor's Studio in New York, where actors did a scene, then criticized each other. He felt the actors were unable to communicate with each other. On the other hand, he wasn't so sure they were able to understand the learned critique of the studio major domo, Lee Strasberg.

Khrushchev Sold on Truth of His Marxist Beliefs

(This is the last of a series by a former Moscow correspondent on the personality and policies of Russia's Nikita Khrushchev.)

By CHARLES H. KLENSCH

LONDON (UPI)—Nikita Khrushchev's career shows that positive thinking can be just as powerful over on the other side of the Iron Curtain.

"You have to look away from his wide-open, baby-blue eyes," a former Moscow diplomat admits, "because in another moment he would make you believe he's just as honest and open-hearted as he looks."

★ ★ ★

He displays a doggest, unequivocating and apparently unshakeable belief in Marxism and, in communism's ultimate triumph.

It's as though he had accepted this as an article of faith at an early age and has never questioned its basic truth.

I once heard him say in Moscow that "only a fool is completely certain and thinks he knows everything." But he's never at a loss for words and has a ready answer for any question fired his way.

Unlike the remote Stalin, he goes out of his way to match wits with Westerners.

In 1957 alone he took on a dozen star reporters from America and Britain at a free-swinging private interview in his modestly furnished office at Communist Party headquarters a few blocks from the Kremlin.

Khrushchev also revels in the free-for-all banter that takes place around the head table at the dozens of receptions in the Kremlin and at foreign embassies in Moscow.

EXPLAINS BELIEFS

When he explains his Marxist beliefs to unbelievers—the "slave writers of the capitalist press" and the diplomatic envoys of the "imperialist ruling circles"—he adopts the patient intensity of an evangelist speaking to an agnostic.

"I am sometimes told I insist too often that socialism will . . . gain the upper hand over capitalism. Yes, I am absolutely sincere . . . all of us Soviet people are convinced that in peaceful competition between the two systems the socialist system will be victorious."

Westerners generally are prepared to accept that a man who prospered and came to power under Communism is sold on the system.

★ ★ ★

But when he declares with apparently equal conviction that the Hungarian people supported and applauded Soviet intervention in Hungary, Westerners tend to conclude he's either a liar or a fool, and today there are few who dismiss him as a fool.

When an equally outspoken British Tory MP taxed him with his statements on Hungary in an interview last fall, Khrushchev replied sharply that there were two kinds of "truth"—Communist and capitalism.

This is Khrushchev at his most perplexing—and most dogmatic.

He seems to see it as a simple Marxian equation:

—The Communists know better even than the working man himself what is best for the working class interests in the long run.

—The Soviet Union has the oldest and most experienced Communist Party, therefore it is best qualified to direct other Communists.

—Therefore, anyone who took up arms against the Soviet Union or the Hungarian regime was acting —however "inadvertently"—as a tool for the "imperialists." And in restoring the Hungarian regime, Russia was acting in the "higher" or "real" interests of the Hungarian people.

★ ★ ★

This dogma-ridden side of Khrushchev's character also covers such things as the outcome of an all-out nuclear war:

"It would be the last war capitalism would produce and it would be the end of capitalism. . . . Man would live on, though not by capitalism, which would be irrelevant to his needs."

Even when he's pulling your leg, however, it's often hard to tell how much is Marx and how much malarky. He once illustrated his distaste for capitalism with this anecdote:

"If the whole world would eat castor oil and castor oil would mean greater profits to him, the capitalists wouldn't worry about how it affected the human organism.

"He would feed everybody castor oil. This would give him great profits and he would be satisfied. This is the essence of capitalist production."

At other times it's difficult to decide how much of his talk is boosting, how much boasting and how much conviction.

Just recently Khrushchev declared matter-of-factly that "the time will soon come" when American capitalism will take its hat off to Russian "socialism" as the superior system.

He looked forward to the day Russia would be out-producing the U.S. and American capitalists would come to Moscow apologizing, "what simpletons we have been not to realize this before."

A French correspondent expressed skepticism about "the final victory of communism" at a Norwegian Embassy reception in Moscow one evening.

Khrushchev bounced back that it would happen "despite your wishes or doubts — perhaps your son or grandson will be a Communist!"

Vyacheslav Molotov, then foreign minister, but later exiled for his "conservative" views, interrrupted: "Not his grandson —his son. I am sure he will live to see his son a Communist."

Khrushchev roared with laughter and jabbed the stony-faced old Bolshevik: "Molotov is in a hurry."

Grain Futures Drop Sharply

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures came under heavy selling today in early Board of Trade dealings and prices broke sharply all along the line.

★ ★ ★

Some traders said it was the most bearish market seen in their pits in many weeks and that offerings far exceeded the point of absorption.

In some of the pits dealers said it was extremely difficult, and at times impossible, to keep abreast of the activity. Liquidation was in consequence of rainfall during the weekend.

★ ★ ★

There appeared little or no tendency toward rallies as trade neared the end of the first hour. At that time wheat was 1⅜ to 1¾ cents lower, July $1.84¾; corn 1⅛ to 3 cents lower, July $1.28¾; oats ⅞ to 1¼ lower, July 61¼; rye 1⅞ to 3 cents lower, July $1.22⅛; soybeans 1⅜ to 2⅛ lower, July $2.27½; lard 5 to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.52.

Servicemen's Pay Higher as of Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If you're one of the nation's 2,500,000 active and retired servicemen, chances are you'll get a fatter pay check from Uncle Sam at the end of this month.

A new law grants a $576,438,000 military pay hike in an effort to attract and keep skilled men in uniform. It was passed by Congress May 12, signed by President Eisenhower eight days later and took effect yesterday.

All military personnel with more than two years service will get higher pay except for a handful who have spent years in lower grades without promotion.

The act also awards a 6 per cent hike in pay of retired military personnel.

The law is an outgrowth of the so-called Cordiner report which last year urged a sizable step-up in military pay. It embodies features designed to help keep valuable officers and men in uniform.

House Approves Hike on White Collar Pay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House overwhelmingly approved today a 10 per cent pay boost, retroactive to Jan. 1, for one million government workers.

The measure will cost an estimated 542 million dollars a year.

It means a 10 per cent increase, retroactive to Jan. 1, for employes in the Classified Service, Foreign Service, Veterans Administration Department of Medicine and Surgery and the legislative and judicial branches.

The Senate has approved a 7½ per cent raise for the white collar workers. If the House passes the 10 per cent, as expected, the matter would have to be settled in a joint conference.

Stocks Press to New Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved further into new high ground for 1958 in active early trading today.

Key issues rose from fractions to around a point.

Industrials accounted for most of the gains. Lesser strength was shown by rails and utilities.

★ ★ ★

Steels, aircrafts and chemicals did well. The market was resuming its rise of Thursday when it reached a new peak for the year despite the uncertainties of the long Memorial Day weekend.

The weekend brought news of a more stabilized political condition in France as well as expectations of a sharp rise in the steel industry operating rate, a drop in the number of workers receiving jobless pay and a spring rise in gasoline sales.

Gains of about a point were made by Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, Du Pont and Illinois Central.

★ ★ ★

The opening was active and some sizable blocks changed hands. Goodrich, after opening unchanged, sold at the same price on a huge block of 10,000 shares.

GM Belabors Union Stand; Reuther Refuses to Budge

(In the following dispatch, Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, explains the position of the union in the present contract talks with the "big three" auto companies and tells why the UAW members will continue working without a contract.)

By WALTER P. REUTHER

DETROIT (UPI) — In the 1958 contract negotiations, we are seeking a sensible and sane, a fair and reasonable solution to a number of pressing and compelling problems that cannot be postponed but which must be met now.

★ ★ ★

We are not seeking any advantages over management. But, on the other hand, we are not willing to permit management to use the present recession in order to gain an advantage over the workers and deny them their equity.

In these trying times, the UAW leadership is fully mindful of its responsibilities to UAW members and their families and to the nation as a whole. The UAW had made numerous constructive proposals in an effort to resolve the issues of the 1958 negotiations.

Unfortunately, these repeated efforts on the part of the union have been rejected by the corporations, which have refused to bargain in good faith and have rigidly adhered to a position of offering an extension of the old contract without change on a "take it or leave it" basis.

★ ★ ★

The union is asking for an increase in Supplementary Unemployment Benefits (SUB) and the extension of such benefits to provide unemployed workers the increased purchasing power needed to meet their family needs during this period when thousands are experiencing the hardship of unemployment.

The union seeks protection of its members on pension who have suffered hardship due to the ravages of inflation. These retired workers have earned the right to live out their lives with a measure of economic security and human dignity.

We are also asking that workers who face loss of jobs through the transfer of work from one plant to a plant in another city or as a result of abandonment of old plants, be compensated for moving their families, or be granted reasonable severance pay if there is no job available or for reason of age or other compelling personal reasons they are unable to move to a new location.

★ ★ ★

We also ask the elimination of differences in employe payments for insurance; revision of vacation pay rules so unemployed workers do not lose their earned vacation rights; correction of wage inequities between workers doing the same jobs; and wages which rise as fast as productivity.

★ ★ ★

The delegates to our GM, Ford and Chrysler conferences felt that to accept the corporations' ultimatum would be an abdication of our moral responsibility to our members, that to strike would be unwise and we would be falling into a trap set by management.

(Louis G. Seaton, General Motors vice president in charge of personnel, explains in the following dispatch why GM has insisted on a two-year extension of its contract with the United Auto Workers Union.)

By LOUIS G. SEATON

DETROIT (UPI) — On Dec. 11, 1956—more than 17 months ago—Walter Reuther told the union's Annual Skilled Trades Congress in Chicago that the UAW was going to get the "biggest wage increase in the history of our union" in 1958 contract negotiations with the automotive industry.

Despite economic conditions in the country today, Mr. Reuther, to this hour, has not changed that general position.

That frankly, is why General Motors employes who are represented by the UAW will return to work today following the holiday weekend with the agreement of more than 20 years' standing between General Motors and the UAW terminated.

In the absence of an agreement, we intend to continue to operate our plants in an orderly and efficient manner. Wages, hours of work, working conditions and benefit plans for all our employes will be continued in so far as possible as they were under the expired agreement.

In turn, we expect our employes to work in an orderly manner, carrying out their obligation to provide us with a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

Because the UAW has not seen fit to accept our offer of a two-year extension of the agreement, these employes will not receive an immediate wage increase averaging nine cents per hour, including an increase of two cents per hour in their cost-of-living allowance.

The UAW has rejected our offer which would have provided for an average increase of 16 cents per hour for our employes over the next two years.

Under present economic conditions, the offer for settlement that General Motors made to the UAW in the current negotiations was better than the settlements we signed with the union in 1948, 1950 and 1955 viewed against the economic conditions prevailing in those years. The union hailed each of those settlements as "great steps forward in union-management relations."

At midnight Thursday, when the agreement expired, the UAW was still demanding an exorbitant and highly inflationary 48 cents per hour per employe, it still was demanding 118 changes in our national working agreement, it still was demanding 96 changes in our benefit plans, it still was demanding 9,450 changes in the local agreements in our plants.

The number and size of the UAW's demands after 60 days of negotiations are ridiculous. There are non-economic demands still on the bargaining table which, if accepted, would prevent General Motors from carrying out its responsibility to manage the business.

After 60 days of meeting with UAW representatives, it has become obvious that the constant references Mr. Reuther has made to the "give and take" of the bargaining table mean only one thing to him — "GM gives" and "UAW takes."

Lansing Girl Treated After Auto Collision

Algiers Bitter Over Outcome

De Gaulle's Popularity Takes Nose-Slide as He Picks Cabinet

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—Signs of sharp disappointment with the newly invested government of Gen. Charles de Gaulle increased in this insurgent capital today.

From the streets of Algiers to the back offices of Government House, people were talking and acting almost as if they had been double-crossed.

★ ★ ★

After 20 days of pressure applied mainly through mass street demonstrations of near hysterical proportions throughout the country, the insurgents reached their declared goal: A Paris government headed by De Gaulle.

But, instead of the expected house cleaning in Paris, De Gaulle reached back into the roundly condemned "rule of parties" for the stalwarts of his new Cabinet.

"The same old political hacks," said one disgusted European settler here.

★ ★ ★

A particularly bitter pill was the cabinet post given the outgoing premier, Pierre Pflimlin. His effigy has been dragged through the streets of Algiers on a rope and shouts of "Pflimlin to the gallows" rang nightly.

Knots of people in cafes expressed bewilderment as to why the Gaullist deputy, Jacques Soustelle, was left off the De Gaulle list. The former governor general of Algeria has given political backbone to the insurgent move since he fled Paris to come here in support of the rebellion.

First signs of discontent with De Gaulle's actions came within hours of his investiture last night. Several hundred sullen youths grouped on Forum Square, but dispersed.

The insurgent radio continued to broadcast coded messages which in the past three weeks have been directed supposedly at secret agents in Metropolitan France.

A demonstration at Forum Square was set for tonight.

★ ★ ★

One Algiers resident said grimly: "Maybe we'll have to storm the government headquarters here again."

Detroit Youth, 13, Shot in Stomach at Walled Lake

A Detroit boy, Richard Grzebyk, 13, was reported in satisfactory condition today after being accidentally shot in the stomach with a .22 caliber rifle Sunday at Walled Lake Amusement Park.

Grzebyk, of 5665 Springwells St., had reportedly hitchhiked to the park with his brother, George, 12; Jim Kuznar, 13; Robert Johnson, 15, his brother Jerry, 14, and Terry Slone, 16, all of Detroit.

The boys went to the shooting gallery at about 2:45 p.m. after spending most of the day on rides, they told State Police Detectives from the Redford Post.

Kuznar told detectives he picked up one of the rifles, cocked it and clicked the trigger several times, then pointed it at Richard.

The boy told police he said, "Look, Rich," and the gun went off. Jack Fox of Commerce, who runs the shooting gallery, sent for a doctor and ambulance.

She Lived on Grass, Weeds

Find Girl Lost for Week

RAINY RIVER, Ont. (AP) — Carol Johnson, who lived on grass and weeds during a week of wandering in dense bush near her home was reported in good condition today. She probably will be home from the hospital by midweek.

★ ★ ★

Searchers found the 11-year-old farm girl asleep beside a fallen tree Saturday, five miles from home. "Oh, I'm so glad you found me," she said. "I wasn't a bit afraid." Then she asked for some ice cream.

★ ★ ★

Doctors gave her some, then kept her on soup the rest of the day. Carol tucked away good-sized meals yesterday and told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, that she definitely did not want to eat any more grass.

Asked why she wandered away from the Johnson home 18 miles north of this town on the U.S. border, Carol replied: "I was just going out to find daddy's cattle."

★ ★ ★

She spent several freezing nights in the bush clad in a cotton blouse and jumper. She told her mother she carried her shoes so she wouldn't lose them.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new Colonaid gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) Colonaid moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) Colonaid's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And Colonaid acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

Colonaid relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. And Colonaid won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get Colonaid, today!

Gas Economizer Put on Market

DETROIT (AP)—AC Spark Plug Division of General Motors Corp. has brought out a fuel pressure regulator, designed to save on gasoline and boost car engine performance. The 12-ounce device is mounted between the fuel pump and the carburetor.

The device is called "ACon-o-Mizer."

★ ★ ★

AC is manufacturing the regulator for sale in the replacement market. Price will be $9.90 including necessary fittings. The unit, weighing 12 ounces, is designed for installation at garages, car dealers, service stations and other automotive outlets.

AC engineers said the regulator cuts fuel pressure when it should be cut—at idling or normal cruising speeds—and increases pressure when it is needed for extra bursts of power.

This virtually ends flooding, stalling and the fuel waste that go with those conditions, AC reported.

★ ★ ★

When the driver "steps on the gas" the regulator provides for increased fuel pressure. This increased pressure insures that enough fuel will be delivered to the engine to produce the desired performance.

Bulgarians Happily Greet Khrushchev in Congress

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Bulgarian Communists gave Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a big ovation when they opened their party congress today in Sofia, Budapest radio reported today.

Khrushchev's visit, which had not been announced in advance, caused speculation here. Some Austrian newspapers said he went to Sofia to help the Bulgarian party leader, Todor Zhivkov, compose quarrels within his party.

Food-Wages Ratio Compared to 1952

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Association of Food Chains reported today that the average U.S. factory worker now works almost an hour less than he did in 1952 to buy a bag of food costing $9.17.

It said the gain was achieved despite increases in government's consumer food price index.

In 1952, the association said, the typical worker put in 5 hours and 41 minutes to earn a bag of food costing $9.17. In April of this year, the same bag cost $9.24 — but the worker paid for it with only 4 hours and 44 minutes on the job.

The association took 20 representative items from the April consumer price indev and applied labor department figures for hourly earnings for the same month of the "average production worker." It compared these with the corresponding figures for the "peak period" of August, 1952.

Top Business Leaders Disagree on Recession Cure

Blame Law of Supply-Demand Breakdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of top industrialists and business leaders agreed today that the chief cause of the recession was a breakdown of a major economic principle — the law of supply and demand.

But they disagreed on ways to bring the two back into balance and on the role the government should play in revitalizing the economy.

NEW ENTRANCE — The new front entrance to the Pontiac YMCA building will be formally opened today in time to serve the Summer Fun Club and youngsters enrolled in the annual Rotary-YMCA learn-to-swim program. Built at a cost of $7,500, the entrance was made necessary by the leveling of part of the hill next to the building which has been made into a parking lot. The entire hill will be leveled eventually as an outdoor play area plus larger parking lot.

Some suggested tax cuts. Several advocated stepped-up government expenditures for public works and other projects. Others called for curbs on labor union powers.

A task also was delegated to business itself — to give the consumer more attractive products at lower prices.

★ ★ ★

The views were given in response to a questionnaire sent out Feb. 17 by the Senate Finance Committee, which last year began a study of the country's financial condition.

The replies showed that most of the 14 executives believed the nation had just about reached the bottom of the slump.

Two company presidents — Ralph Cordiner of General Electric and F. W. Ecker of Metropolitan Life Insurance — said the government should play its major function in providing financial help to the unemployed and in encouraging sound monetary policies. While taxes may be high, they doubted the wisdom of cutting them now.

★ ★ ★

However, Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, said an across-the-board tax cut would be the simplest and most effective move for the government to make. He said the psychological impact would go a long way toward restoring confidence in the economy.

Several others advocated tax cutting only as a last resort.

Presidents J. W. Keener of the B. F. Goodrich Co., F. E. Jerome of the Seattle First National Bank and Porter M. Jarvis of Swift and Co. called for a sit-tight policy on the part of the government, at least for the time being.

★ ★ ★

The possibility of increased government spending was cited as a stopgap measure by Curtice; S. C. Beise, San Francisco banker; Eugene Holman, chairman of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey; and Edmund Fitzgerald, president of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

Most of the 14 took the view that deficit financing by the government had not contributed greatly to the inflationary spiral. However, they said surpluses should be accumulated when the economy is expanding so that more money is available for government help in slump periods.

His Illusive TV Set Stolen, Sold Twice

ATLANTA (AP)— Eugene Williams is happy to have his television set in storage at police headquarters.

★ ★ ★

He reported the theft of the 21-inch set from his home Saturday. Detectives located it at a store where it had been sold for $20. They returned it to Williams.

The same thing happened again yesterday. Neighbors told police they saw the same burglar take the set a second time.

★ ★ ★

Detectives found it at another store where it had been sold for $30.

They are holding it as evidence until the persistent burglar is caught.

Across the country, the Salvation Army conducts 225 clubs for boys and girls. Membership totals more than 25,000, and attendance at classes, athletic activities, entertainments and other programs is nearly 2,500,000 annually. Of the total clubs, 26 have accredited membership with the Boys' Clubs of America.

Wald Promises It'll Be Longer and Brighter, Faster and Funnier

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — If you thought this year's Academy awards show was a smash hit, wait until next year!

★ ★ ★

"It'll be longer, brighter, faster and funnier," said Jerry Wald, the dynamo who masterminded what is now referred to as "the best Oscar show yet."

Wald says he has been invited to produce next year's academy spectacle, but has not yet definitely accepted.

"I'm going to talk it over with the powers that be," he declared, "and if I feel I can do some good then I'll take the job."

★ ★ ★

Oddly enough, Jerry, who everyone concurs produced such a great show, was only substituting for Darryl Zanuck.

"They really wanted Zanuck to produce it," Wald said. "But he was shooting a film in Africa, so they asked me."

2 HOURS LONG

Wald advocates that next year's show be two hours long instead of 105 minutes.

"The presentations should be even faster," he said, "there should be even more entertainment and more music better presented."

★ ★ ★

Wald said he has received more than 3,000 letters and wires congratulating him and the motion picture industry on the Oscar show.

"I think it gave the movies a big shot in the arm," he declared.

Admittedly, Wald won his biggest audience because of the advance ballyhoo on the offbeat casting of Kirk Douglas and Burt Lancaster as a song-and-dance team and Rock Hudson and Mae West as a 'romantic duo.

Fans also were eager to see how Clark Gable — a veteran TV holdout — would fare in the intimate living room screen. Since the show he admitted he got a "big kick" out of it and also out of people yelling, "Hey, Clark, you were great on TV."

★ ★ ★

Despite the fact that many New York critics lambasted the Oscar show (possibly because there was no New York segment as in past years) it racked up a Trendex rating of 44.7—the highest since Mary Martin's original production of "Peter Pan" several years ago.

"Next year's show will be even better," Wald declared, "because we'll have a year to work on it instead of six weeks!"

Long-Dead Dinosaurs Creating Lively A$$et$

DINOSAUR MONUMENT, Utah (AP)—This is dinosaur country.

They are making live assets out of the monsters which stomped about in steaming bogs millions of years ago.

Stop almost any place. The evidence is more than a feeling in your bones.

★ ★ ★

The coffee counter man hands you a dinosaur hunting license.

"Special permit," it says, "issued by authority U. S. Reptile Control Commission."

If you think the Chamber of Commerce is behind it, you're right.

"We put out about 60,000 of those licenses a year," says Lawrence Siddoway, secretary-manager of the Chamber in nearby Vernal, Utah. "Best advertising we have."

★ ★ ★

"Try our dinosaur steak," says an ad in the local weekly paper.

"Dinah lives here," proclaims a sign bearing the picture of a baby dinosaur. It's in front of the Utah Fieldhouse of Natural History in Vernal.

Nearby is a towering dinosaur skeleton, 76 feet long and 21 feet high, and there's always a group of tourists or children gaping at it.

★ ★ ★

It's all because there is a dry and barren mountain near the Green River, not far from the Utah-Colorado state line, which is said to contain the best quarry for dinosaur bones in the nation. Twenty-six nearly complete skeletons have been dug up here. Some of them may be seen in such places as the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., American Museum of Natural History in New York, or the Museum of Natural History in Denver.

★ ★ ★

They dedicated a $310,000 visitors' center at the quarry yesterday. It's a huge, warehouse-like building which uses a cliff-full of dinosaur bones for one wall. Here, visitors may see workmen at the tedious task of chipping the fossils free of the rock formation which has held them for eons.

Government to Mediate in Newspaper Strikes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Federal mediators are preparing to intervene in a weekend strike that has halted distribution of this city's two major newspapers, the Inquirer and the Bulletin.

★ ★ ★

Two unions are now on strike with no settlement in sight. They are Teamsters Local 628, which distributes the papers, and the American Newspaper Guild, representing editorial and clerical workers, which struck the Inquirer early yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The Teamsters strike also includes the nearby Camden Courier-Post, the major afternoon newspaper in southern New Jersey.

About 6,000 children of school age are killed each year by accidents occurring in the United States.

Stockholders Protest 'Deal'

Seek Investigation of Curtiss-Wright Control of Studebaker-Packard

WASHINGTON (AP) — A dissident group of Studebaker-Packard stockholders met yesterday in a continuing protest against a two-year-old arrangement with Curtiss-Wright Corp. for management of the auto firm.

Sola. Dann, Detroit attorney, told 20 stockholders attending the meeting he had postcards and letters from about 50 stockholders supporting his plea for a Congressional investigation of the 1956 deal.

Dann, speaking on behalf of the Studebaker-Packard Stockholders Protective Committee, said the 50 supporters represented 128,378 of the corporation's more than six million shares. He said, however, that solicitation of support had been hampered because the committee lacked access to a list of stockholders.

Dann contended that stockholders were never given a chance to vote with full knowledge of the proposed Curtiss-Wright arrangement and that proxies were handled in such a manner that a recount is justified.

A suit seeking to set aside the 1956 proxy count is pending in Federal District Court in Detroit.

Dann said officers and attorneys of Studebaker-Packard declined to answer his series of 26 questions concerning facets of the Curtiss-Wright transaction and the subsequent management and sale of Studebaker-Packard assets.

Selected to Head Christian Scientists

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Leonard T. Carney of Boston today was named president of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ Scientist.

★ ★ ★

His appointment was announced by the Christian Science Board of Directors at the annual meeting of the denomination attended by more than 7,000 Christian Scientists from many parts of the world. He succeeds Miss Mabel Ellen Lucas of Brookline, Mass., and will serve for one year.

★ ★ ★

A member of the Board of Trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society, Carney holds degrees from Grinnell College, Iowa, and the Harvard law school. He is a native of Marshalltown, Iowa, and has been authorized to teach Christian Science since 1934. He has been a Christian Science practitioner since 1919.

Nixon Watches California Vote

Outcome of Primary for Governor May Tell His Political Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon, who isn't running this year, may get from California's Tuesday primary some further indication of his chances for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

National interest in the state contest centers on the vote totals rolled up by Republican Sen. William Knowland and Democratic Atty. Gen. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown.

In typical California style, each is running on both major party tickets for the nomination for governor. Neither expects to win the opposing party nomination, as Knowland did in 1952. But each hopes to run up a respectable total in the opposition camp.

★ ★ ★

Whoever comes out on top in Tuesday's vote totals will be favored by the politicians to win in November when the two are expected to contest for the governorship as their respective party nominees.

Nixon has not campaigned actively in the California race. But he has strongly endorsed Knowland, and his political fortunes appear likely to rise or fall with the outcome.

Anxious Recruit for Red Army Ends Up in Jail

SUVA, Fiji—Two 18-year-old boys from Suva ended up in jail for a month after stowing away on a Russian ship bound for New Zealand.

They are Nikola Umuvutia, a Fijian, and Said Hussein, an Indian, who crept aboard the Russian oceanographic survey ship "Vitiaz." Hussein just wanted a cheap trip to New Zealand but Umuvutia wanted to join the Red Army. Lacking food, the boys had to give up sooner than they expected, but were kindly treated.

Later, "Vitiaz" hove to outside Suva and a police launch took the boys off, late at night, to the accompaniment of popping Russian flash-bulbs. The picture of the Fijian who wanted to be a Russian soldier will make interesting news back home.

Slates Photo Contest of Straits Bridge

ST. IGNACE (AP)—The best architectural photographs of the $100,000,000 Straits of Mackinac Bridge are going to bring $1,000 in prizes from a builder of the bridge.

Dr. Davis B. Steinman, consulting engineer, announced the contest over the weekend with the Mackinac Bridge Authority. Dr. Steinman is donating the prize money.

First prize will be $500 and second prize $250. There will be two prizes of $50 and six of $25. The contest, open to both amateurs and professionals, opens July 1 and ends Nov. 1.

Eye Liberalizing Liquor Laws in Cook Islands

RAROTONGA, Cook Island — All persons of mature age and of sound mind and body should have the right to buy liquor in the Cook Islands, a legislative council committee in Roratonga recommended.

★ ★ ★

This is the latest attempt to correct the so-called "farcical" law that says liquor is obtainable "for medicinal purposes only."

★ ★ ★

The committee held that natives, as well as whites, should be able to dring legally, under a licensing system on every island. Hotels should be allowed to run bars. There should be adequate legal means for dealing with drunkenness, members said, and it should be made legal for parents to offer mildly intoxicating table wines and beers to children or guests under 21 years of age.

★ ★ ★

At present, fines for bush-beer brewing and drinking provide a steady revenue from the natives, Raratonga reports.

Vikki (the Back) Dougan Wants to Forget Past

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Miss Vikki Dougan, the gal with the seatless seat in her dress who reared up and got a lot of publicity last year, is putting that whole incident (you might say) behind her.

★ ★ ★

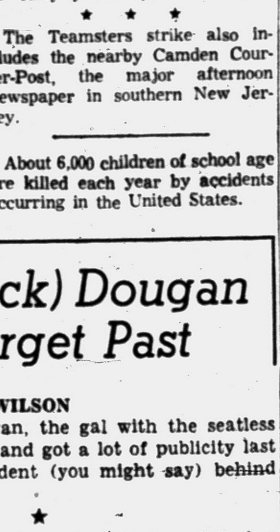

Vikki's plunging forward . . . instead of backward in her career . . . and yet she wants everybody to know that she didn't really do it.

WILSON

"It was a satin dress, very tight," Vikki told me, "and when I got up after several hours of sitting, the bottom wasn't there any more. But that was an accident . . . very boring . . . let's talk about NOW!"

Vikki maintained the incident didn't hurt her—as other people have claimed—pointing out that she's doing a play, and has recently been in "The Great Man" and "Tunnel of Love," the movies.

I asked Vikki about the alleged practice of Hollywood gals calling guys for dates and she said, "No, but suppose you're going with an actor . . . and you say after a premiere, 'I'd like to go to Mocambo' and he says, 'But I can't afford it.' So you say, 'I don't want to embarras you but couldn't we go if I paid the bills?' "

VIKKI

It happened to her, she said, "and strangely enough, if men accept it, they resent it." Vikki said she may be a sexbomb in the papers but she's had three dates in a year. "The men you go with want to get married," she added. "The trouble is, they never say when."

Discover New Eel in South Africa

RHODES, S. A. — A species of fresh-water eel, which up to now has been known to live only in rivers that flow into the Pacific Ocean, has been discovered in South Africa. The find was made by R. A. Jubb, a scientific assistant in the Rhodes University Department of Ichthyology.

★ ★ ★

He says he found the eels in the Buffalo River near East London. An associate of Dr. Jubb, Professor J. L. B. Smith, also of Rhodes University, has described the find as one of the most outstanding discoveries in African fresh water fishes for many years.

Four Detroiters Hurt When Car Is Rammed

Four Detroiters were injured slightly Sunday afternoon when their car was rammed in the rear by another car driven by Kenneth R. Schultz, 36, of 334 Fourth St.

★ ★ ★

Injured were the driver, Hector Gignac, 59; Gladys Gignac, 57; Jeanette Gignac, 58; and Lucy Mahan, 65. All were treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

The accident occurred on Woodward, near Fulton street.

Group Cites Threat to Economy

Calls for End to Coddling of Unions in U. S. Courts

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Assn. of Manufacturers today called upon Congress and the courts to end their "special coddling of labor unions, charging that organized labor's "monopolistic" power is posing a major threat to the economy.

"The unions have attained size, strength and influence so great that the public interest requires that they be held to the standards of responsible adults," the NAM charges in a special booklet, "Loopholes in the Labor Laws."

The association noted the recent McClellan committee hearings into union corruption have brought demands for additional laws to check abuses within the unions.

However, these proposals have not been aimed at protecting the public and the economy from misuse of organized labor power, but only at protecting union members from the mishandling of union funds by the unions' own leaders, the NAM said.

Charging that a "double standard" exists for labor, the NAM pointed out that while the antitrust laws are being enforced against business, they have not been similarly enforced against labor in recent years.

"At present unions freely engage in activities for which businessmen would be promptly indicted, tried and convicted under the antitrust laws," the booklet pointed out.

It said these activities include boycotts and agreements to boycott, restrictions on production, restraints on competition such as limiting supply, dividing territories and allocating markets, and the suppression of technological improvements.

Beyond these activities, it added, are the relatively recent nationwide rail, coal, steel and dock strikes which dramatically demonstrate that monopoly power is possessed by some of the international labor organizations.

Such work stoppages have the effect of restraining, impeding and preventing commerce and trade, while the public pays the bill, the NAM asserted.

Concluding that unions have "come of age," the association declared that they "must be held to the same standards of accountability as every other adult citizen, group, organization or association in the country."
