Waterford Land-Fill Issue Nearing Climax

By HUD WILLSE

What is shaping up as one of the biggest and most controversial issues in Waterford Township annals should reach a climax Monday night.

★ ★ ★

That's when the Township Board conducts a public hearing on the merits and shortcomings of the proposed Maceday Lake Road sanitary land-fill operation and is expected to render a decision on whether to allow it.

The hearing in the Waterford Township High School cafeteria is expected to attract one of the largest gatherings ever to attend a Township Board meeting. The hearing is slated to begin at 7:30 p. m.

It's not an easy decision the Township Board faces. No matter which way the board turns, there will be repercussions.

★ ★ ★

Even if the request for an operating permit is granted, the opposition—comprised largely of property owners living in the general area of the 50-acre site adjacent to Ward's Gravel Pit—are certain to continue their fight.

Their leaders claim they'll take the case to the courts, if necessary.

In the event the permit bid is rejected, prospective users and applicants Donald Freeman and David Ward would stand to lose.

Since the widely used Cooley Lake Road land-fill operation was voluntarily shut down earlier this month, the heavily populated township has been without a disposal site.

In rebellion, some of the dump's erstwhile customers have unloaded their trash in roadside ditches and other inappropriate public places.

RIGID STATUTE

Another land-fill operation would be the solution, providing its owners comply with Act 87, the rigid, new state statute governing solid waste disposal.

Even some of the opposition admit the township needs a disposal area, but not at their expense; not near their homes and lakes.

They contend there are more desolate, more appropriate spots in the township for a land-fill than the property by Ward's Gravel Pit, which is less than one-half mile from Maceday Lake and relatively close to Pontiac, Williams and Lotus lakes.

Fast Start in Lansing; 111 Bills Introduced

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's 74th Legislature was off and running today with 111 bills on its books — several of them answering requests by Gov. George Romney.

Meeting in a one-day bill introduction session yesterday, the House boosted the number of bills before it to 79 and the Senate raised its total to 32 before lawmakers adjourned until Monday.

In a proposed amendment to a Senate adjournment schedule, the House Republican leadership spoke optimistically of a June 22 adjournment although legislators face the problem of reorganizing Michigan's fiscal structure.

The bills introduced represent only a drop in the bucket when compared with the more than 1,000 measures expected to be proposed within the next few weeks.

And, of the total introduced, only about 20 per cent are expected to see the light of day on Michigan's law books — passed by the Legislature and approved by the governor.

TAX REFORM

Included in bills introduced in the House and Senate were measures answering Gov. Romney's call for tax reform, state control of interstate highway routes, military reorganization, implied consent and food regulation.

Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, introduced a package of tax bills calling for a 3½ per cent personal income tax, a 6½ per cent corporate income tax and an 8½ per cent tax on financial institutions.

Possible bipartisanship was indicated by the fact that the income tax bill was cosponsored by Democrat George Montgomery of Detroit, chairman of last year's House Taxation Committee.

LBJ Reports on Economy

Orders Planning to Avoid Postwar Slump

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson directed today that plans be prepared to avoid a recession that might otherwise follow "the welcome day of peace" in Vietnam.

The possibilities of quick tax reduction and spending speed-ups will be studied by a Cabinet-level group, Johnson told Congress, as part of a "major and coordinated effort to review our readiness" for the war's end — a day still not foreseen, he emphasized.

The announcement came in his annual economic report. In it, Johnson forecasts a moderate advance of the economy through 1967, if it can be steered past the hazards of inflation on the one side and recession on the other.

The outlook is for a $47-billion rise of national output, he said, to a record $787 billion — a slower climb than in 1966, but with smaller price rises, easier money and continued almost-full employment.

Johnson renewed urgently his appeal to labor and industry for wage and price restraint, in continued voluntary support of guideline policies, to avoid "a wage-price spiral which is in the interest of neither."

Unless both labor and management absorb part of their rising costs, he said "the result will be just such a spiral — damaging to business, damaging to labor, and disastrous to the nation."

'You Must Sell Americanism,' C. of C. Audience Is Urged

By LOIS MANDIBERG

★ ★ ★

"The fundamentals of the American system . . . free enterprise and individual liberty governed by law . . . are not in an American's bloodstream at birth," McFarland said.

The basic values and the meaning of key words such as "individual" and "opportunity" must be taught or the frame around the system will disintegrate, according to McFarland.

"Progressive conservatism" a forward effort to preserve the frame, must be advocated, he said.

"The business of the Chamber of Commerce as a cross section of the community, is to teach the American system. If you get people thinking right on the fundamental values, all other things will be added thereto.

MUST INVOLVE EVERYONE

"To preserve the American system, everyone must be involved," he explained. "The only choice is to shape the form which your involvement will take."

He added that a person's political party, union, or religion didn't matter.

Commenting on his exstensive travels as a lecturer, McFarland said he had learned that "the nature of a community is defined by the people in it. And each community has its own fair share of good people and its own fair share of opportunity.

★ ★ ★

"The Chamber should point out the local shares of opportunity and make examples of the kind of people who are constructively building the community."

GOOD CHARACTERISTICS

Good characteristics should be personalized, not just listed, so young people will get the point by watching live, working models, McFarland explained.

He heatedly added that such good examples would offset the belief of some persons he'd encountered that "to be intellectual one had to be phys-

Warn Osteopaths

'Medical Needs Still Exist'

Osteopaths cautioned today that "the job isn't finished" despite approval yesterday by the State Board of Education of expansion of Michigan State University's fledgling medical school into a four-year college.

★ ★ ★

"We do not oppose it, we support it," commented William Coleman, vice president of planning and development for the projected Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine at Auburn and Opdyke.

"We're delighted that the board has recognized the health care needs of Michigan to provide some more doctors," added Coleman.

He cautioned, however, that

Related Story, Page A-2

"the job isn't finished even with expansion of existing medical education institutions."

★ ★ ★

Coleman sad the increased production of doctors would just barely meet the need even if the three existing medical schools in the state are expanded and the osteopathic college is realized.

HOPE TO PROCEED

Noting the state board now should go ahead and consider the osteopathic proposal on its own merits, Coleman pointed out that one-third of the people

$30,000 Gift Boosts Fund of Boys Club

The Auburn Heights Boys Club building fund got a hefty boost yesterday with the donation of $30,000 by Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of Meadow Brook Farms.

★ ★ ★

The gift was made in memory of her late husband, Alfred G. Wilson, one of the founders of the club.

The club broke ground last fall for a 13,000-square-foot addition estimated to cost $250,000. It will feature a gymnasium and activities rooms.

The addition is being erected through a $100,000 grant from the United Fund and with community contributions.

Completion date is set for August.

Heavy snow warning was issued for this afternoon and tonight. A light snow is expected to begin early this afternoon and become heavjer tonight.

Four inches of snow are likely by tomorrow morning, the weatherman said.

'Hospital Will Lose on Medicare'

HAROLD B. EULER

By L. GARY THORNE
Asst. City Editor — Suburban

Medicare — the federal government's giant effort to provide health care for the elderly — is producing a giant-sized financial headache for Harold B. Euler.

Nevertheless, Euler indicates he is concerned that Medicare and Medicaid benefits will cost Pontiac General an added $200,000 this year.

He said the loss on providing Medicare benefits is projected at $175,000, while the smaller Medicaid program is to cost $25,000.

CAUSE OF LOSS

Euler said the financial problem results from a different rate of reimbursement from third party payers, such as Blue Cross, and Medicare-Medicaid, the latter being the federal government.

He said the different basis of payment, estimated at about $10 per day per patient, will cause the $200,000 loss.

Euler said the difference results from two methods of computing the hospital's actual cost per patient. Blue Cross — largest of the third party payers — has a formula that pays on the basis of the average daily cost of all patients.

Medicare reimburses by computing the number of services used by elderly patients.

NO AGREEMENT

Euler admits that other hospital officials for the most part are not concerned about the differences in the two formulas, indicating they do not see the problem.

The Pontiac General administrator added, however, that Blue Cross officials appear to recog.ze the problem and the formulas may

Traffic Safety Head Hints He'll Go Slow

DETROIT (AP) — William Haddon Jr., U.S. traffic safety administrator, reportedly has given American and foreign car makers a broad hint that he will go slow on his proposed 23 auto-safety standards.

Dr. Haddon held separate, closed-door sessions Wednesday with the foreign and domestic car makers in Washington just a few days before the scheduled Jan. 31 announcement of binding standards for 1968 model cars.

The federal government disclosed no details of the sessions but various industry sources provided bits of information about Haddon's first head - to-head confrontation with auto companies which had been critical of the content and timing of some of the proposals.

State Department representatives reportedly sat in on the two-hour foreign cars session at which Haddon pledged that he had no intention of trying to drive imports out of the U. S. market.

DISCRIMINATORY

Several foreign companies had made representations through their governments that the proposed standards were discriminatory against their particular cars.

The import session, attended by more than 50 executives of 20 foreign companies, drew from Haddon a major concession of additional time for foreign auto makers to comment on the standards he is scheduled to publish next Tuesday. Conceivably, Haddon could order changes in the standards if any objections to the rules were strong enough. But this was considered unlikely.

Originally, Haddon had said he would give them 10 days for comments, after his official version is published. But he told the session that he had extended that time to 31 days. That makes the deadline March 3.

Under Haddon's ground rules, manufacturers were not allowed to bring up objections to any specific proposal he had made. This caused some discontent on the part of the foreign car makers.

"We had hoped to bring to Dr. Haddon's attention some particular items we felt discriminated against our cars," said the representative of one European company, who declined use of his name or identification of his firm.

"The only trouble with the meeting was that it was not the kind of affair at which you could state the opposition positively so Haddon would know exactly what we were talking about," he said.

Seven Are Charged in Gambling Raids

Seven persons were arrested and charged with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws in synchronized raids at four Pontiac locations yesterday at 4:05 p.m.

Detroit police, aided by city and State Police and Internal Revenue Service agents, executed search warrants at 471 Raeburn, 6 Lee Court, 253 Nebraska and 396 Highland, according to investigators.

Pontiac Police said those arrested and charged with policy numbers activity were Robert Chenault, 60, of 276 Howard McNeill; Abel Cole, 49, of 471 Raeburn; Anna McCain, 35, of 181 W. South Blvd.; Edward McFerrin, 41, of 253 Nebraska; James Calvin, 39, of 294 Raeburn; Jack Simpson, 56, of 6 Lee Court; and Margie Seay, 73, of 396 Highland.

Lt. Robert Bullock of the Detroit Police racket squad said his department had been working on the raid for two months.

"This is definitely a single-type operation," he said, "but all such activity is apparently controlled by a certain few people."

Increase Seen in OEO Funds

James M. McNeely, executive director of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity, said last night that federal funding for the 1967 commission-operated programs is expected to exceed that of last year by $51,000.

Related Stories, Page C-8

During 1966 the War on Poverty commission operated its programs on total federal grants of $839,000.

McNeely told commissioners at last night's meeting that a grant of $674,000 is expected for the year beginning Feb. 1 with a carry-over of $216,000 in federal funds to be applied to the 1967 budget operation.

Though the commission program will continue at about the same level as last year, McNeely said that funding for some proposed new programs probably will not be granted.

He expects confirmation of the 1967 federal funding by the end of this month.

Hoffa to Ask 2nd Hearing on Conviction

DETROIT (UPI) — Teamster President James R. Hoffa today was expected to ask for a second hearing on his jury-fixing conviction by producing affidavits from a policeman and a man who claims to have worked as a wiretapper for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The affidavits will be submitted to the U.S. Supreme Court in Washington, the Detroit Free Press said today.

The policeman, Paul Quaglia of Detroit, already has testified in a federal court suit that he helped tap the telephone of a Hoffa aide.

In the second affidavit, the Free Press said, Bud Nichols, a Tennessee resident, swears that he planted four hidden microphones in Hoffa's Chattanooga hotel suite during the jury-fixing trail in 1964.

He also claimed to have tapped six phone lines into the hotel suite.

Girl Abducted at Knifepoint

Police immediately set up roadblocks in Kent, Ottawa and Muskegon counties and ordered planes into the search.

The missing girl's 13-year-old sister told police a dirty, black convertible carrying three men had been cruising up and down the street where they were waiting for the school bus with other children.

The younger sister said the car stopped in front of them. One of the men, the girl reportedly said, pulled a knife and ordered her older sister into the car.

The younger sister reportedly ran to the house of a neighbor, who notified police.

The car was last seen heading west toward the U.S. 31 expressway. The younger sister could only identify the men as white.

Berman contends properly operated solid waste disposal sites do not feed or shelter rats, do not create conditions conducive to fly breeding and do not create hazards to public health.

Poverty Efforts to Be Studied

A decision to evaluate the relationship between the county's antipoverty effort and the NAACP and Urban League was prompted last night by two communications to the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO).

★ ★ ★

Carl F. Ingraham, OCCEO chairman, told commissioners he would appoint a committee to meet with representatives of the Oakland County NAACP Chapter and the Urban League of Pontiac.

The communication concerning the Urban League was sent to the commission by Frederick Smith, representing the Pontiac Alumni Graduate Chapter, an organization of Negro college graduates.

Ingraham read the letter which took issue with criticism of the Urban League from OCCEO Executive Director James M. McNeely in reply to critism of the OCCEO operation by Clarence Barnes, Urban League executive director.

McNeely's comments that the Urban League's function was vague and that it didn't serve the poor were criticized in the letter.

SUGGESTS TALKS

Thomas Fowler Jr., chairman of the OCCEO education committee and first vice president of the Urban League's board of directors, suggested that the two groups "sit down and discuss their relationship."

★ ★ ★

Then James Dyer, president of the County NAACP Chapter, read a lengthy statement and asked that the OCCEO reevaluate its accomplishments, procedures and policies.

"This will give our organization and others the opportunity to fully work cooperatively with you in a meaningful, decision-making capacity," Dyer said.

MSU Nearer Med School

LANSING (AP) — Approval by the State Board of Education Wednesday of a four-year course in human medicine at Michigan State University puts MSU over its main hurdle in a drive to have a full - fledged medical school.

Michigan State took its first step in that direction last fall when 26 students enrolled in a two - year college of medicine. The thought was that the students would be eligible to transfer to four - year medical schools after two years at State.

Growth of the MSU medical school in courses offered, number of students and facilities now depends on the willingness of the Legislature to appropriate funds for this purpose.

Legislators are thought to be generally favorable to the MSU development.

But MSU can expect a fight for funds from both the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

Michigan, in particular, long has opposed ambitions in this field by the sister university at East Lansing.

Dr. Harlan Hatcher, U. of M. president, said the Legislature first should meet needs of the two existing medical schools before making new commitments.

Hatcher said this argument would be presented to the Legislature when the universities appear before lawmakers with their budget requests.

By American Psychiatrist

Fun Poked at British Diagnosis

NEW YORK (UPI) — The noted American psychiatric scientist, Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, had fun at the expense of two British psychiatrists who last year diagnosed the recurring illness of King George III as "a classical case" of the rare metabolic disease, porphyria.

★ ★ ★

In so doing they attacked Guttmacher's professional astuteness. In 1941 he diagnosed the illness as manic depressive psychosis, in a scholarly book, "America's Last King."

George III, you'll remember, set off the American Revolution. Even in his own day he was considered crazy.

Drs. Ida MacAlpine and Richard Hunter said their porphyria diagnosis "cleared the House of Hanover of a hereditary taint of madness."

KNOWS FULL WELL

But modern medical science knows full well porphyria is such a disease.

And so, said Guttmacher, in doing a service to the House of Hanover, which is ancestral to the current British royal family, the British psychiatrists "stigmatized it with one of the most serious of the hereditary metabolic diseases."

Unjustly, too, added Guttmacher. It can be said no other Hanoverian had porphyria, and if its causative gene was in the royal blood lines it would have manifested itself time and again, especially since George III had 8 brothers and sisters and 15 children.

★ ★ ★

"America's Last King" remains a headline name to Americans although he died in 1820, at the age of 82, after 8 years of isolation as a psychiatric patient.

MOTHER AND SON

When Drs. MacAlpine and Hunter, who are mother and son, published their diagnosis last January, there was much excitement.

This reporter phoned Guttmacher at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, because he was the outstanding authority from having studied the king's illness in the Royal Archives in Windsor Castle and the voluminous records of the British Museum. He reacted with laughter.

It was off the record. He wanted no argument with British colleagues through the press. Guttmacher died last November and it appeared his merriment died with him. But not so.

Dr. Nathan Roth, New York psychiatrist, praised the MacAlpine-Hunter diagnosis for the Journal of the American Psychiatric Association and took critical swipes at Guttmacher's.

SENT PAPER

The editors sent the Roth paper to Guttmacher for comment, and got it. Both are published in the current journal. Guttmacher was amused by a number of the points Drs. MacAlpine and Hunter made, including the monarch's occasional attacks of a mild vocal paralysis which could be considered a symptom of porphyria.

★ ★ ★

These attacks, said Guttmacher, "followed periods of singing, yelling, and prolonged periods of incessant talking, some of which last 19 hours." Such behavior is symptomatic of manic depressive psychosis.

Fears Rise in Abduction

RIVER ROUGE (UPI) — Police said yesterday they feared a barmaid who was apparently kidnaped by bandits may have met with "foul play."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kathleen Riddle, 42, a mother of three, has been missing since Monday night when three bandits entered the tavern where she worked and left with $200 cash.

★ ★ ★

Her car was found outside the building, but no trace of her has been found since. Police said they had tentative identification on two of the bandit trio. They said the two had records of sex offenses.

Junior Editors Quiz on THEATRE

QUESTION: Where does the modern theatre come from?

ANSWER: Although the idea of a theatre was developed in the days of Greece and Rome, our modern theatre had its beginning in the Elizabethan Age, especially in connection with the plays of William Shakespeare, the greatest playwright of history.

In this time, many inns were built with interior courtyards, having two rows of balconies circling the paved court. Companies of actors would come by and set up stages or platforms on which the actors stood. The audience would be charged a small fee for just standing and watching, and a higher price for sitting in the upper balconies. The first plays of Shakespeare were presented in such innyards.

But as interest in the theatre grew, buildings were put up outside of London to show plays under better conditions. Our picture shows the interior of such an early theatre, and you can see how it resembled the innyard, with people standing around a stage and looking down from balconies. In the back was a curtain, which when pulled would reveal a small stage inside; a balcony on top could also be used for special effects.

NY's Opera to Get Touch of 'Magician'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The man who revived Vienna's musical life in the grim days just after World War II is about to bring his magic to New York.

As far as Krips is concerned, he is having none of this "opera in English" business. Although the Met customarily presents the "Flute" in English, it will be sung in German as long as Krips is in the pit. In fact, the Met is billing it as "Zauberflote."

"In English, it would be the flute without the magic," Krips said.

But there are other unusual features about the production. First, it will be Krips's debut at the Met. The opera will be given with two alternate all-star casts. Marc Chagall, whose murals adorn the foyer of the new opera house, has designed the scenery and the costumes, his first for the operatic stage. The entire production is being staged by Guenther Rennert.

PERFORMANCES

The first performance will be given on Feb. 19. One of the others, a Saturday matinee on March 4, will be broadcast.

Health Study Aid

BOSTON (AP) — Scholarships totaling $150,000 have been awarded by the State of Massachusetts to 543 medical, dental and nursing students for the 1966-67 academic year.

Area Schools Plagued by Vandalism

A shocking rise in school vandalism and burglary in the Pontiac area has school and police officials groping for a means of countering it.

The Pontiac and Waterford Township School Districts, because of their size, have suffered most. For 1966, the Districts each estimate damage and loss from vandalism and theft at approximately $50,000, although a portion of the amount is covered by insurance. The smaller Clarkston District was hard hit during the past month when a series of destructive forays cost it $4,500.

Most of the attacks on school property are perpetrated by the 15-to-18 age group, though an 8-year-old trio was involved in a recent Waterford break-in.

Needless to say, school administrators have considered protective measures against the menace. They are frustrated, however, by the realization that effective remedies appear more costly than the affliction.

To what extent the widespread wave of vandalism committed by teen-agers is indicative of incipient careers of major crime is a correlative of utmost concern for society.

Price Seen High for Federal Highway Cutback

In cutting back on domestic spending to help support the war in Vietnam, the $1-billion slash in Federal aid to state highway development is costly not only to Michigan's road-building program but in lives.

The dollar cost to the State is sixty-seven million. The cost in lives, even if the cutback is restored by midyear as announced, could well run to 33.

According to State Highway Director HOWARD HILL, 1½ lives are lost each year for every mile of freeway deferred. The figures may be less on rural routes, more on urban.

There are 44 miles of freeway among the 68 miles of roads on which the highway department has had to defer progress because of the Federal cutback. On the basis of Hill's equation, the six-month lag in completion of the 44 miles of freeway will result in the number of highway fatalities indicated.

Specifically, the director charges that the two-year delay in finalizing the 28-mile I-696 route across the southern part of Oakland County, because of obstruction by several municipalities, has cost at least 50 lives.

★ ★ ★

Although we have long advocated Federal retrenchment in the area of domestic spending, it would seem that the Administration hit on one of the Nation's most essential programs to wield its ax.

When Michigan's death rate due to deferred highway construction is projected nationwide, the only conclusion that can be drawn is that Americans are paying dearly for the Government's highway belt-tightening.

It Might Pay to Heed the Call of the Arctic

Tired of everyday routine? Want to get away from it all—and we mean far away? And, while doing it, put aside a nest egg you could use to start a business or further your education?

If so, the Weather Bureau may want you. It has openings for supervisors, meteorological and electronic technicians, cooks, machinery maintenance mechanics and airstrip construction mechanics for 12-month tours of duty at Arctic weather stations.

The jobs pay from $7,068 to $10,927 a year. In addition, there is a $200-a-month Arctic bonus, plus an extra $100-a-month bonus during the winter.

There are, of course, a few other things to be considered. Life on the edges of the Arctic Ocean is lonely. Applicants must be able to maintain a satisfactory physical and psychological condition under prolonged isolation in small groups.

And it's cold, cold, cold—65 to 80 degrees below zero. The winter nights are long. In fact, there is nothing but night from November to February. There aren't any women.

But there aren't any expenses either. After all, asks the bureau, what can you spend on frozen tundra? It figures a man ought to be able to put away upwards of $10,000 during a single tour of duty.

Fun, Games in Downtown Pontiac

By DICK SAUNDERS

SAUNDERS

I was out Tuesday, transferring the burdens of the world from my nervous system to my legs. I chose downtown Pontiac for my test stroll.

It was a normal walk; like trying to find a "Walk" sign that didn't change to "Don't Walk" before one made it from curb to curb.

I made my initial error at Mill and Pike. There's a sign there that warns pedestrians walking east to use the north side of Pike because one block further east you hit Wide Track and the only crosswalk is on the north side of Pike.

I'd be willing to bet that the majority of drivers drastically change their reading habits when they become pedestrians.

Anyway, I missed the sign which I should have known could only be for pedestrians because it was facing the wrong way on a one-way street.

As I approached the main Pontiac Public Library on East Pike, I sensed there was something wrong.

I was looking ahead to the crossing and not finding it.

When I reached the intersection, my progress was abruptly halted by a heavy chain strung around the southwest corner of Pike and East Wide Track precisely to halt people like me.

There, over on the north side of Pike I saw it through the thick fog—a crosswalk.

The question then was a moral one.

Should I jaywalk across Pike to reach that crosswalk? Or, should I retreat a block, cross at Mill and resume my easterly trek on the north side of Pike?

★ ★ ★

I decided to jaywalk.

Stealthily, I glanced from side to side for any sign of oncoming traffic or uniformed officers of the law.

No one in sight, I started across.

I was just about to congratulate myself on having mastered this ingenious piece of traffic engineering, when I felt the hand on my shoulder.

He was crossing the other way . . . to return a book, I think.

Crime Sure to Be Big '68 Issue

WASHINGTON — With all the billions of dollars to be spent on the "Great Society," it's amazing that virtually nothing is being provided to organize an effective war on crime throughout the country.

LAWRENCE

The rate of crime is growing every year, and in the nation's capital the rise in serious crime is three times the national average. But a bill dealing with the problem in the District of Columbia was recently vetoed by President Johnson because of its "possible" unconstitutionality.

It seems certain now that one of the biggest issues in the 1968 campaign will be crime — the inability of the citizen to walk the streets in safety.

Sen. John L. McClellan, Democrat of Arkansas, in a speech to the Senate yesterday, pointed out not only that the federal government has a responsibility to act, but that the Supreme Court by its decisions has made it easier for the criminal to escape punishment.

★ ★ ★

BIGGEST OBSTACLE

Apart from the inadequacy of public funds for states and cities to multiply the number of their policemen and detectives, the biggest single obstacle today is the attitude of the Supreme Court of the United States, which has made it more difficult to convict persons who have committed a crime.

Numerous technicalities have been interjected, so that criminals have more and more ways to evade the law.

Sen. McClellan said in his speech that federal legislation is urgently needed with respect to the admissibility of evidence obtained through voluntary confessions and other statements made by suspects after their arrest. The Arkansas senator said:

"Congress simply must rectify the mockery of justice and protect society from the dire consequences of a number of recent 5- to-4 Supreme Court decisions that allow self-confessed, vicious criminals to go free."

★ ★ ★

The American people are bewildered and dismayed by decisions of the high court and have been expecting President Johnson, as the leader of his party, to recommend to Congress a comprehensive program to halt the rise in crime.

His apparent indifference to conditions in the District of Columbia has already resulted in much criticism.

It is evident now that, without waiting for the President to act, Congress itself will have to do something about the nationwide problem. Otherwise, in the 1968 campaign, the issue could bring about the defeat of many Democrats seeking reelection.

Airman Flies Thin Line, Wins Medal of Honor

NEW YORK — Maj. Bernie Fisher's Congressional Medal of Honor is old enough by now — nearly a week — to allow him to be philosophical about the highest award for valor this nation can bestow.

CONSIDINE

"One way to look at it," the heroic Air Force man said, "is that there's a very thin line between winning the medal and being court-martialed or eaten out for taking a crazy chance."

The chance Bernie Fisher took occurred last March 10 when he led his flight of prehistoric fighter bombers to the A Shau Special forces (Green Berets) camp, which was being clobbered by 2,000 North Vietnamese.

The camp is situated in a valley rimmed by 1,500-foot hills. The ceiling that day was 800 feet. That meant Fisher and his wingmen had to go in under the soup.

★ ★ ★

"It was like flying inside Yankee Stadium with the people in the bleachers firing at you with machine guns," one survivor said.

SHOTS FROM ABOVE

On one of the first passes the planes made over the enemy position, Maj. Dafford W. Myers of Newport, Wash., was hit.

Fisher "talked" him to a landing on the camp's littered runway, saw the plane burst into flames on contact, and Myers crawl out of it and run for cover within a few yards of an enemy position.

★ ★ ★

No rescue helicopter was available. So Fisher took that chance, flew that thin line between immortality and stupidity. He decided to land and pick up his buddy.

OVERSHOOTS STRIP

The fire from both sides of the strip was furious. But Fisher simply gave his plane the gun and was able to take off again and make another desperate attempt to land.

This time he was successful and rolled at a harrowingly slow pace to the end of the runway.

★ ★ ★

Then he had to turn and taxi back up the runway, still under fire, his tires running over sharp metal fragments and parts of Maj. Myers' exploded plane, which was still burning.

SITTING DUCK

He came to a dead stop — a sitting duck—when he reached that point where he prayed Myers was still hiding and alive.

Miraculously the burned and battered flier burst from cover and climbed the side of the plane diving into its rear seat.

"I didn't wait long to get rolling again," Bernie Fisher said with his shy grin. He left unsaid the chilling fact that he had to taxi all the way down to the other end of the runway and then go through the agony of a slow takeoff, while "still in Yankee Stadium."

Religion Is 'In' Topic on Campus

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It would be a mistake to think that interest in religion is at a low ebb on the college campus.

BIOSSAT

Some 67 per cent of the students had discussed religion within the past week, 63 per cent with a person of a different religion.

In a full third of the discussions, the aim was to share religious experience. Another fourth of the discussions centered in one man explaining his views to others. A tenth of the discussions were aimed at building new friendships. Only 5 per cent were attempts to prove the other man wrong.

Twenty-three per cent of those questioned said their religious discussions had led to a sharing of private feelings. Forty-four per cent said that these religious discussions encouraged further exchanges of ideas.

Seventy per cent of the discussions were at "informal gathering places." Another 26 per cent were held at home. Only 2 per cent of the discussions were at a church or other religious center.

About 86 per cent of the discussions were held with a friend, only 2 per cent with clergymen.

Sixty-one per cent of the students said they were deeply or moderately religious. Only 11 per cent said they were "irreligious."

★ ★ ★

Forty-one per cent of the students said they attended religious services regularly.

All this would indicate that many college students are much more ready for religious discussions and religious experience than attendance at Sunday church services would indicate.

What approaches the churches must take to draw in these young men and women was not a subject of the survey.

But a good many churches are working on it and on ways to reach others the churches have been missing.

They're debating ways to get more religious activity on weekdays as well as on Sundays, more activity outside the church buildings as well as inside.

Religious centers are opening in shopping centers, Bible study groups in apartment houses and dormitories. More churches are putting pastors directly on the campus or in a house or building next door. There's more emphasis by local churches on keeping active contact with their young men and women away at college or in military service.

Some churches are sponsoring "coffeehouses" which feature religious discussions. One group is making a detailed study of the government employe and how better to reach his needs.

With all this, something is bound to happen.

Resident Discusses Need for Light on West Huron

It was almost unbelievable to hear that the State Highway Department has refused to put a stoplight at the intersection at Dwight and Huron, as I had been informed the City was only waiting for a go-ahead on it.

With the long distance between lights on Genesee and Johnson and the heavy flow of fast traffic, it is difficult to get onto or cross Huron between these streets. For pedestrians it is doubly hazardous.

Replies to Criticism of Goodfellow Baskets

In answer to the person who thinks Christmas baskets shouldn't be given to children whose fathers wouldn't work if they starved, those children didn't ask to be put in the hands of a father who won't work and they deserve the same chance to eat as the rest of the innocent children in this world.

BOILING MAD

Who deserves help more than the children whose fathers won't work? The Goodfellows should be commended for the fine job they do. Aren't children of lazy fathers even more unfortunate than the children whose fathers care enough to try, but aren't able to manage without help?

AN OXFORD DONATOR

It is appalling that anyone could be so unkind as to punish a child so unfortunate as to draw a father too lazy to work, or a mother with so little foresight as to pick that kind of father for her children. But should we also fall into that category by depriving the children of our donations? Isn't it possible that some child might become a better citizen because he learned early that someone really cared?

TRIPLE DONATION FOR 1967

I can't understand the person who complained about the Goodfellows' selections for Christmas baskets. Who would need the help more than children whose fathers won't work to keep them from starving? Or do you think we should punish the children because they have good-for-nothing parents?

GOOD FOR THE GOODFELLOWS

I feel sorry for anyone who thinks children should suffer for the wrong of their parents. Goodfellows help children have a good Christmas who wouldn't have one otherwise, regardless of what kind of parents they have. I don't condone a man not working if he is able but I think children who have parents like this suffer enough all through the year and should have Christmas like others.

A READER

I sell Goodfellow papers for West Bloomfield Township. While the Goodfellows help people throughout the year, their primary purpose is to see that children are warm and have a happy Christmas, regardless of the antics of their parents.

In helping Goodfellows investigate families seeking help, it is not unusual to visit a home where the father will not work or overindulges in drinking. It is little interest to him whether the mother and children have Christmas dinner. I sleep much better Christmas Eve knowing the mother and children will be warm and eating the same as you and I for at least one day.

Question and Answer

I've done it again — cracked a "hard-boiled" egg, only to discover it was raw. You know the rest. Is there some way to tell the difference between raw and cooked eggs, other than trial and error?

EGG-ASPERATED

REPLY

There may be other ways, but the one we use is to spin the egg. A hard-boiled egg will spin rapidly and keep spinning; the raw egg won't. To make sure you recognize the different spins, spin a boiled egg and a raw egg together. After that you won't have any trouble recognizing the fast spin even though you have no raw egg for comparison.

FEUD HAS HOLLYWOOD GA-GA — Director Fielding Cook (right) tries to get Dean Martin to see things his way as they discuss how a scene is to be played for Martin's latest film, "Band of Gold." They've been waging a battle of nerves that has been the talk of Hollywood. Martin has objected to Cook's practice of shooting eight and nine takes on every scene. Now they're shooting one and two.

The Talk of Hollywood

Dean Stars in Battle of Nerves

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The assistant director opened the door cautiously and said, "Dean, could you come up and look at the scene through the movieola and then do a run-through?"

THOMAS

Dean Martin viewed the suggestion with scorn in his sleepy eyes. He was seated in the basement of an abandoned department store that was being used as a location for his latest film, "Band of Gold." Director Fielder Cook was asking Martin to look at previous film on a movie viewer so he could match the action in the scene that was to be shot that afternoon.

★ ★ ★

"He asking me to climb those stairs just to look at a movieola?" Martin said indignantly. "Forget it. You tell him when he's ready to shoot the scene I'll be there and I'll know my lines."

The assistant retreated.

This was the latest episode on a battle of nerves that has been the talk of Hollywood. The trade had buzzed with reports Martin and Cook were not seeing eye to eye. In fact, the star had not appeared for work one day and the company had to be dismissed.

"Yeah, I had to lay down the law," Martin admitted with his customary casualness. "This guy with the two last names, he was shooting eight or nine takes of every scene. He had a great big three-million-dollar toy and he was having fun with it.

"Trouble is, he was playing with my money, 'cause the more money that's spent, the less profit I get. But more than that, it ain't my style. How can you tell a joke eight-nine times? It's bound to get stale.

"Finally I told him, 'What the hell you doing with all these takes?' He said he might find something he didn't expect. I told him, 'Well, you find it in the first or second take, because that's all you're going to get'."

IMPASSE SETTLED

Another assistant director appeared and asked if Martin would now come upstairs for filming. No mention was made of viewing the previous scene.

★ ★ ★

"Okay," the actor conceded, and he went to the main floor, which was filled with extras. His rehearsal was letter perfect.

As the final preparations were being made for the shot, director Cook minimized their differences.

AKIN TO REVOLUTION

"If one-tenth of what was printed in the trade papers had really happened," he told a visitor, "it would have been akin to the 1917 revolution.

The set was ready. The camera recorded the scene twice. "Print!" said Cook, indicating he was satisfied.

Scouts Give Views on Teens

NEW YORK (UPI) — Are teen-agers who don't get along in school, square pegs trying to wedge themselves into round holes? Are they sick? Bad? Lazy? All of these things?

★ ★ ★

Are they to blame? Or are their parents or the school or the times?

In any analysis of the problem, according to some of the top Boy Scouts in the country, think in terms of multiple causes. And the solution, too, involves multiples.

The top scouts, among them presidents of student councils and editors of school papers, gave the following explanations of teen-agers who zig when they should zag in school:

● "Many have not as yet found a purpose in life nor are they ready to assume the responsibility required to acquire an education. Many are working too hard to keep up the 'in' group." That from Thomas W. Searle Jr., of Georgetown, S.C.

● "The problem teen-agers usually are the result of poor upbringing by the parents. The home must provide security and love. Another main cause is lack of morals. Most everyone knows that there is a difference between right and wrong but often they don't understand why and even which to choose when a problem arises." So said Peter R. Rein, of San Leandro, Calif.

● "They have not been taught by their parents just how to get along with other people.

Struggle Goes Deep, Has Many Elements

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Mao Tse-tung's "great proletarian cultural revolution," spearheaded by hysterical teenagers, has stormed through China's cities, creating wild and violent confusion. It has reached into the trade unions and the factories. And now it is reaching out to China's 500 million peasants.

Although most China-watchers agree that the danger of a shooting civil war has diminished, China remains in dire peril.

The economy of the cities has suffered severe wrenches from the riotous confusion, and now there is a prospect that the farms are threatened.

China's spring sowing must begin around April. If there is an interruption in that, the country is in trouble. It already has a problem feeding 750 million people and food is rationed. Despite official reports to the contrary from Peking, experts have reason to believe the last harvests were poor. A new crop failure would be a major calamity.

'REVOLUTION GOES ON'

This is more than a power struggle of conflicting personalities, although that is part of it. It is evidently a clash of fundamental conceptions of China's economic, social and political future. Recent announcements of what has been going on in China's cities reveal the depth of this clash.

Defense Minister Lin Piao, the man who seems to have the advantage, at least temporarily, has turned all the terrifying power of his "cultural revolution" apparatus at the power bases of his opponents, who seem to be led by President Liu Shao-chi and the party secretary general, Teng Hsiao-ping.

Much of the opposition's power has rested with the urban laboring class in the party-dominated All China Federation of Trade Unions. Lin now has succeeded in abolishing that organization—as he had eliminated another opposition power base before by abolishing the eight-million-strong Young Communist League.

RED GUARDS

The Young Communist League was replaced by the teen-age Red Guards — the Hung Wei Ping. The trade unions federation now is to be replaced by the "rebel revolutionaries" — Tsao Fan.

★ ★ ★

Lin's forces, claiming the blessing of "Mao Tse - tung's thinking," moved in on the factories with disastrous results. Production was stopped in many. Enemies were accused of fomenting strikes. The wheels of industry are being slowed, even stopped in some cases, by endless rallies and forced mass discussions of Mao's thought. Each side is accusing the other of sabotaging production.

★ ★ ★

Lin's forces joined the battle for the laboring class with a declaration of war on "economism," a Communist sin which suggests trying to buy the loyalty of workers with promises of better wages, welfare and living standards. Lin's forces say this is "bribery of the workers," and that it "corrupts the masses."

POWERFUL FIGURE

Emerging as a curiously powerful figure is Chiang Ching, a former second-rate movie actress who is Mao's third wife.

She has been deputy chief of the "cultural revolution," and is now chief adviser to its special armed forces branch under the command of a political general named Hsu Hsiang-chien.

Feminine vindictiveness has entered this picture, too. Mrs. Mao, while charging up the teen-age Red Guards with inflammatory speeches, has taken off after the wife of the man considered Mao's most potent opponent, President Liu. She has been calling Mrs. Liu all manner of names, among the milder of which is "common prostitute."

Lin Piao's power bases are the people's liberation army — where he evidently now enjoys the majority support of the officer corps — and the government apparatus under the durable Premier Chou En-lai. Lin's paper, Liberation Army Daily, has been the instigator all along of the upheaval, and now calls the army "the pillar of proletarian dictatorship and defender of the great proletarian cultural revolution."

CHANGE SIDES

Powerful figures sometimes change sides, occasionally with disastrous results to themselves. One who seemed to change sides was Tao Chu, the able and ruthless boss of south-central China.

During this upheaval, he rose to fourth place in the Politburo. Now it seems clear he has fallen. His job as chief of the Central Committee's propaganda department has, according to a Peking announcement, been given to Wang Li. Wang, not long ago, was occupying the chairmanship of the Peking party committee, which had belonged to the once powerful Peng Chen, the first prominent victim of the purge.

So the indications are that the cultural revolution has reached a new stage. At least a dozen high-ranking, once powerful Chinese leadership figures are under arrest, and the Red Guards are howling that opponents of Mao's thinking should be "burned to death."

The time of decision may be close—although it will likely be a long time before Red China recovers from the shock of this titanic struggle.

To informed watchers, the critical question is not which personality wins out, but which line wins: Whether China will continue belligerently isolated from her neighbors, and whether she can recover from all the shocks of the past year and a half.

President Lui, party Secretary General Teng Hsiao-ping and Vice Premier Po I-po, who is also chairman of the state economic commission, all appear to be in grave danger. Yet there is always the chance of a compromise in which President Liu and his allies can be shunted off into some honorary positions which will render them harmless from the Lin-Mao standpoint. At the same time, there is a good chance, also, that there will be bloodletting before a decision is reached.

A hint of what is going on comes from foreign correspondents based in China who read each latest wall poster put up by the Red Guards. Other information comes from the many Chinese documents which become available outside the country, and from the reports of Soviet and European Communists based in Peking. The latter report, in a sense, can be suspect, since they are basically anti-Mao, but at the same time Communists have ways of knowing what other Communists are doing.

Soviet reports, for example, detect "mounting opposition" to the Lin-Mao combine among the laboring classes. They have told of bloody clashes in such important industrial cities as Shanghai and Nanking. They reported the forcible seizure of papers in many areas of China by Red Guards elements who attacked "responsible officials" of the Communist party.

6 Townships Get New Sewer Pacts

New agreement proposals for the Clinton Oakland interceptor system, amended because Pontiac withdrew from the project, were hand-delivered this week to the six participating townships.

An added cost of approximately $163,000 must be absorbed by the participants due to the withdrawal of Pontiac, according to Donald W. Ringler, deputy director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

DPW Director R. J. Alexander said that Pontiac officials have decided to "go it alone" on a sewer project.

By constructing the Galloway Creek trunk system rather than participating in the Clinton Oakland project, city officials concede they are foregoing a $200,000 saving, according to Alexander.

★ ★ ★

PARTICIPANTS

Ringler said that officials of all the townships were advised several months ago that the estimated construction cost would rise if Pontiac withdrew from the project.

This is because the six townships must share the cost of the contribution Pontiac would have made for 7,700 feet of sewer line from Mount Clemens and Giddings northerly along Galloway Creek.

Total estimated construction cost of the entire project now is set at $16.9 million instead of $17,420,000 when Pontiac was included.

If bonds are sold over the 30-year period at a 4½ per cent interest rate, the total cost of the project at the estimated $16.9-million construction cost would be $31.1 million.

Total cost of the project at the initial construction cost estimate and same interest rate was computed at $32.1 million.

The six townships will participate in the added cost of $163,000 on the same percentage basis as for the entire project.

Waterford, which will pay 44 per cent of the total cost, will provide $72,500 of the added cost.

Other cost addition shares are West Bloomfield, $10,000; Independence, $17,000; Orion, $7,700; Pontiac, $17,800; and Avon, $38,000.

Press Barred by Legislators

SANTA FE, N. M. (UPI)—The Democrat-controlled state senate, hurling harsh attacks at both the press and the new Republican governor, yesterday ordered newsmen to keep off the senate floor.

It was the first time in New Mexico history that newsmen had not been allowed on the floor of either legislative chamber. The senate's vote was unanimous.

The state house of representatives first considered a similar measure but adopted a rule allowing four reporters and four photographers on the floor of the house during sessions.

Market Owner Ordered to Pay

Pontiac market owner George Felice was ordered yesterday to pay $100 court costs by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams for receiving stolen property valued under $100. He did not receive a fine.

★ ★ ★

Felice, 32, owner of George's Market, 327 Midway, had pleaded guilty to the charge Dec. 28, 1966.

★ ★ ★

Initially, Felice of 981 Boston had been charged with a felony — receiving stolen property worth more than $100 — but was allowed to enter a guilty plea on the misdemeanor because there was some question about the value of the items.

★ ★ ★

Felice was arrested Dec. 16 after two youths told police that they had sold him several cartons of wallets they had stolen from a truck.

33 Radios, TV Sets Stolen From Dealer

Some 33 television sets and radios were stolen from the KD Television dealership, 506 S. Saginaw, it was reported late yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Taken were an estimated nine portable and table model television sets, 12 table model radios and 12 transistor radios, city police were told.

★ ★ ★

Losses Unknown in 2 Troy Burglaries

Burglars hit two neighboring firms in Troy last night and looted coin machines of an undetermined amount of money.

Police said firms hit were Posi-Trag Safety Tire, 2832 Elliott, entered through a window, and G. E. Wood Co., 2787 Elliott, entered through a jimmied door.

★ ★ ★

Offices in both firms were ransacked. Total losses were still being determined today.

Earning Limit Doubled by Proposed Bills

Limits on outside earnings for Social Security beneficiaries an widows would be doubled under bills introduced today by Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

The bills, referred to the House Ways and Means Committee, would increase the amounts which could be earned early without penalty to $3,000 for retired workers and to $3,600 for widows with minor children.

Present limitations of $1,500 a year in outside earnings are "totally unrealistic" and "designed to keep the widow and the retired worker in the poverty category," said Broomfield.

He said the income limit was "particularly harsh on the widow trying to provide for something other than a survival level for her children."

★ ★ ★

Broomfield said income limits under his bill would be figured on an annual basis. "The retired worker or widow would not have her benefits cut because she exceeded income limits for a month or two," he said.

The British Isles have an annual rainfall of more than 40 inches.

Auto Industry Slows Down Car Production

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry faced up again today to the fact that the tempo of new car sales has slowed down.

General Motors and Chrysler reshuffled production schedules to slow down the number of new cars flowing into an already abundantly stocked market.

★ ★ ★

GM, giant of the auto makers, announced indefinite layoffs for 1,900 Chevrolet workers. It previously had given similar notices to 2,800 other GM workers.

PLANTS TO CLOSE

Chrysler said three of its seven assembly plants would be closed for a week in February. A fourth will be idled for two weeks.

American Motors, whose assembly lines resumed operation last Monday after a two-week shutdown, was building 1,100 cars a day in contrast to the 1,600 it averaged before the shutdown.

Ford Motor Co., in line with a policy laid down by its board chairman Henry Ford II, effected its production cutbacks by eliminating some planned overtime and by putting one or two plants on a four-day work week at various intervals.

The juggling process has been under way since Nov. 18 when General Motors announced some staggered shutdowns for December and January.

It was an industry recognition that dealer yards were bulging at the seams with unsold new cars. One source estimated this week that there were 1,355,100 new cars in dealer inventory as of Jan. 15. This was about 55,000 more than a year ago.

In industry sales terms, it meant that the cars in dealer hands or enroute to them represented about a 58-day supply at current selling rates. A year ago, the dealers had a 45-day supply on hand.

Sales in the opening 20 days of the year totaled 361,389 cars, nearly 19 per cent behind the pace of a year ago.

Euler Predicts Loss to City Hospital From Medicare

Euler doubted if any changes could be implemented in time to salvage the projected $200,000 loss for 1967.

★ ★ ★

Hence, the local hospital's budget has been drafted to incorporate the expected loss.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Meanwhile, Medicare has created still other problems, one being that the hospital now has to maintain larger amounts of operating capital.

Euler said, for example, that the hospital admitted 890 Medicare patients during 1966. (The program began July 1.)

The total billings amounted to $609,000, but as of Dec. 30 the hospital had received only $395,000 from the federal government.

"The slower processing procedures with the government program mean there is going to be a lag of a couple hundred thousand dollars," he explained. "Hence, we're going to need more capital to run the hospital."

ADVANCE

Euler pointed out though that the hospital had received an advance from the federal government of about $119,000.

Also not recognized by the federal government in paying for Medicare-Medicaid patients is the hospital's surtax, a 10 per cent charge added to the bills of patients from outside the city.

Third party payers, such as Blue Cross, technically do not recognize the surtax either, but pay it when reimbursing the hospital on a total cost basis.

Euler said the surtax may again come up for discussion between the hospital board and the City Commission.

NON-RESIDENTS

Although he had no dollar estimate, Euler said that about 56 per cent of the patients at Pontiac General are from outside the city.

Fighting Lion Is Banished

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — Because of Cleo's inability to get along with the other lions at the Roswell Zoo, she has been banished to a cage in an out-of-the-way corner of Cahoon Park, across town.

Her only visitor, outside of occasional persons pausing at her cage, is a zoo keeper who feeds the 7-year-old lioness $1-$1.50 worth of horsemeat daily and checks to see that she is well.

"To look at her you'd think she was a perfect lion," said A.B. Gwinn, parks and recreation superintendent. "But she fights with the others." The others are Cleo's two grown daughters.

The city has contacted numerous zoos about taking Cleo but none wants her.

WANT CUBS

"Everybody wants cubs," Gwinn said. "I'd prefer to give her to a zoo but I'll give her to anyone suited if they'll just come and get her."

Police Pay Drive

FLINT (AP)—The Michigan Fraternal Order of Police Wednesday began a campaign aimed at securing public support for better pay and working conditions for police officers. Details of the campaign were not immediately made public, but police Lieutenant Herbert Adams of Flint, president of the group, said policemen's pay in some cities is outrageous and a "total disgrace."

Romney, Rhodes Confer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney flew to Cleveland Wednesday to confer with Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes on "mutual problems" and left with high praise for Rhodes' plan for an Ohio Building Authority.

Both Romney, who has been mentioned prominently as a possible Republican presidential nominee in 1968, and Rhodes, who also has been mentioned as a potential national GOP candidate, denied that politics played a major part in their discussion.

Rhodes, appearing at a news conference with Romney after the two had huddled for about an hour in a hotel suite, conceded that politics was discussed.

Consult Teacher for Boy's Sake

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have tried to solve my problem myself, but it has gone too far for me.

★ ★ ★

I have a 13-year-old son who is an only child, and my husband babies him to death. Anything Ronnie wants, Ronnie gets.

ABBY

Well, Ronnie has been out of school going on the fifth week. He says he doesn't feel well and his father believes him and lets him stay home. I know Ronnie could go to school if he wanted to, because the minute the bus is gone Ronnie feels better. He spends the day watching TV, eating and fooling around.

★ ★ ★

If I try to make him go to school, his father says I am being "mean." I am not mean, Abby, I am only trying to do what's best for the boy. Can you help me?

"MEAN" MOM

DEAR MOM: Let a doctor examine Ronnie and decide whether or not he is well enough to go to school. Then go a step further and find out WHY Ronnie doesn't want to go to school. A conference with his teacher might be the key to the whole problem.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I just married the greatest girl in the world but she's a terrible cook. So far I have been telling her her meals are terrific, but she is not getting any better and I don't know how much longer I can stand it.

★ ★ ★

Shall I tell her her meals are not fit to eat so she will improve them, or should I just hope she will improve with practice while I suffer in silence?

G. E. IN HOUSTON

DEAR G. E.: Tell your bride that you've been trying to be patient about her cooking but her batting average hasn't improved. A few cooking lessons — and a loving pinch (of care) in the kitchen might help.

Man's Food Interest Is Limited to Eating

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Invading the No Man's Land of the Pontiac Press Cooking School in the Central High School auditorium to see what was cooking, I joined a mixed audience of 856—853 women, three men. I was one of the latter.

What interest did I have in cooking except to eat the results of it?

★ ★ ★

Well (business of blushing modestly), I once did a bit of cooking myself. It was in World War I — not the Spanish-American, as friends suggest — when I served as an occasional company cook.

SHAKY COOK

Truth to tell, I was no great shakes as a cook. In fact, I still shake from the recollection of it, as undoubtedly do the survivors.

★ ★ ★

My cooking was so lousy that one company commander threatened to court-martial me. The consensus was that I could better serve the Stars and Stripes by swapping uniforms and cooking for the enemy.

★ ★ ★

Since then, I have rarely lit a burner, and my few ventures into the kitchen during the homemaker's absence have invariably left me frustrated and shattered.

It is my unbelievable clumsiness and inept timing that led me to the cooking school with the hope of help.

For example, I can never contrive so simple a combination as orange juice, toast and coffee that will materialize simultaneously.

★ ★ ★

Holy cow! Would you believe that over a period of 90 minutes the demonstrator at intervals set nine different dishes (she was quite a dish, herself) running and brought 'em all to the finish line in a dead heat?

★ ★ ★

During a recent week when I was alone and attempted to feed myself, things got so thick and gruesome that I finally moved out.

Neighbors reported that after I'd moved out the government moved in, and was considering proclaiming the premises a disaster area.

NOT UNSKILLED

But just to set the record straight, I am not entirely devoid of kitchen skills. I'll match my defrosting against anyone's, and if I do say it myself, I have few equals at stirring.

★ ★ ★

I did get straightened out on one fine point of cooking. It seems there is a heap of difference between a heaping teaspoonful and a level one. Yeah — on the level.

★ ★ ★

For me, this put a new slant on recipes. Man and boy, I'd harbored the idea that women cooked by dabs and pinches—a dab of this, a pinch of that.

But no more.

★ ★ ★

Everything's now all measured out, and a grain or two more or less of an ingredient could really cook your goose.

★ ★ ★

Both are unmarried, and how two such lovely charmers who can also cook have eluded matrimony is as big a mystery to me as some of the dishes they concoct.

Mrs. Stefansky Demonstrates Dried Arrangement

Pontiac Press Photos

By MADELEINE DOEREN

With the provocative title "Spring Peepers' Song," Mrs. Frederick Stefansky presented a program on dried arrangements before the Orchard Lake Flower and Garden Club Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. Edward Finan on Doherty Drive, West Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

The new group is one of 56 clubs in District I of The Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, Inc. There are seven districts in the Federation Mrs. Stefansky who is flower show chairman and flower show schools' chairman of the Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association is also a member of the Judges and Teachers' Association of the Michigan Division.

PLANT MATERIALS

Plant material she favors for dried arrangements are bearded wheat, sunflowers, celosia, dock, grass, cattails, canna leaves, catalpa pods and honey locust pods.

She also uses magnolia leaves, Scotch broom (can be grown in Michigan), trumpetvine, sea oats, fern fronds, sea-grape leaves segmented stems of corn, bamboo, rhubarb, yarrow and artichokes.

"Balance, proportion, rhythm, contrast and dominence are essential to good arrangements," she says. "Plants may be preserved by drying in borax or sand or by hanging upside down from rafters in an attic. Delicate feathery plants may be fluffed over a steaming teakettle.

"Glycerined material keeps indefinitely and may be scissor-trimmed when shabby around the edges. Especially adapted to the glycerine and hot water method of preservation are mahonia, peony and magnolia leaves along with eucalyptus, beech leaves and some of the ground covers like Baltic ivy and roadside materials."

★ ★ ★

The sage green mullein leaves piced in various stages of growth and dried in a dry, dark place make unusual spiral designs. The rosette of the plant may be used for a focal point in an arrangement.

Among charter members of the club are Mesdames Walter M. Burkart, Fred Cornett, Roland T. Gerhart, Frank J. Giordano, William E. McDonald, Don McLeod, Vincent A. McLeod, August Merrschaert and Mrs. Finan.

Still others are Mesdames Oliver E. Risk, Walter Sadoway, Walter J. Schauman, Mrs. Stefansky and Mrs. Walter Rydzon who assisted the hostess with dessert.

★ ★ ★

As the club meetings are in members' homes, the membership will be limited to 35.

Foam Rubber Defies Mildew

Latex foam rubber mattresses are mildew proof. This makes them exceptionally good for boats, summer cottages, camping trailers and other uses where the mattress is apt to be unused for a large part of the year or exposed to damp conditions. Latex foam mattresses are also popular in humid, semi-tropical localities for this reason.

Club to Mark Its 15th Year

New officers of the Style Steppers Square Dance Club will assume duties at the Feb. 4th meeting in the Willis School at 8:30 p.m.

This gathering will mark the group's 15th anniversary.

Taking office are joint teams Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelley, presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cusick, vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Adair, secretaries; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schobert, treasurers.

Lengthen Life

You can lengthen the life of a new broom by cutting 3-inch band from an old inner tube and stretching it over the straws of the new broom at the stitching. It also helps the broom keep its shape.

How Much Money for a College Start?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Parents whose children have entered high school are more apt than not to be asking themselves this question: How much should we expect to have on hand in order to at least start them in college?

MARY FEELEY

When the family is in moderate circumstances, the possibility of getting a scholarship seems all - important. Actually, a scholarship alone is not the only source of financial aid. There can be a combination of scholarship, campus job, and loan. Federal-sponsored loans for education—through the National Defense Student Loan Program of 1958 and the new Guaranteed Loan Program — are handled through the individual colleges.

Colleges often award loans as part of their own financial package, including helping students locate part-time work and setting up financial arrangements with parents.

Some parents are confused about how federal loans are allocated and how to apply for them. They think that all they have to do is to write to some government agency or other and to the colleges of their choice, and get a loan automatically without any further to-do. It's not that simple.

While funds do come from the government, they are handled through the colleges. The amount of federal aid money a college can administer varies, depending on its enrollment and what type of college it is. Also the individual institutions of learning set their own standards, not only for academic performance but for financial need.

So, application for federal loans should be made direct to a college, not through any government agency.

SOME GUIDELINES

Scholarships granted for need assume some part of the overall college expense will be borne by the family or the student or both. Some guidelines have been set up by the College Scholarship Service, a non-profit program of the College Entrance Examination Board, which represents 700 colleges.

These financial guidelines are a yardstick — but not the only one — in determining whether a student should receive a scholarship, loan, part-time job, or other financial aid:

If the family income is $10,000 a year, with one dependent child, it's estimated that the family should think in terms of contributing $1,860 to round out the sum needed for one year of college expenses — not merely tuition alone.

If there are two dependent children, same family income, $1,490. With three dependent children, $1,150; and with four dependent children, $920.

A family with income of $8,000, with one dependent child, should think in terms of $1,290 as their part of one year's college expenses. With two dependent children, $980; with three dependent children, $740; with four, $570.

Income of $14,000 a year suggests $3,200 as the sum parents should expect to pay, with one dependent child; $2,680 with two dependent children; $2,200 with three dependent children; and $1,890 with four dependent children.

The amount of aid that an individual college allots, if an application is approved, is based not only on the family income but also on the type of college, public or private, the amount of the regular tuition, and the amount of aid the college has at its disposal.

Don't be surprised to find that if you have to ask for financial aid, you will have to furnish detailed information about the family's financial situation. This information would be considered confidential, of course, and you'll want to fill out the form as completely as you can. Otherwise an application might be unduly delayed.

Educators today point out that the time to start serious planning for college is when the child first enters high school. Don't feel you can afford to postpone it until his Junior year. While you won't have his academic record to consider, of course, you can be sure that whatever type of higher education he may want is going to cost money.

Often it requires some contribution on the part of the student himself to raise necessary funds —even if some federal aid is available. So it's important to discuss this with your children and encourage them to look upon a portion — if not all— of the money they earn from part-time and summer jobs as money for college.

Babies Arrive at Odd Hours

LONDON (UPI) — Babies seem to like to arrive at the most inconvenient times, three to four o'clock in the morning, and hate arriving before suppertime, around five or six in the afternoon.

This was the conclusion drawn by Andrew Crowther, a medical student, after study of 1,331 births in two years.

★ ★ ★

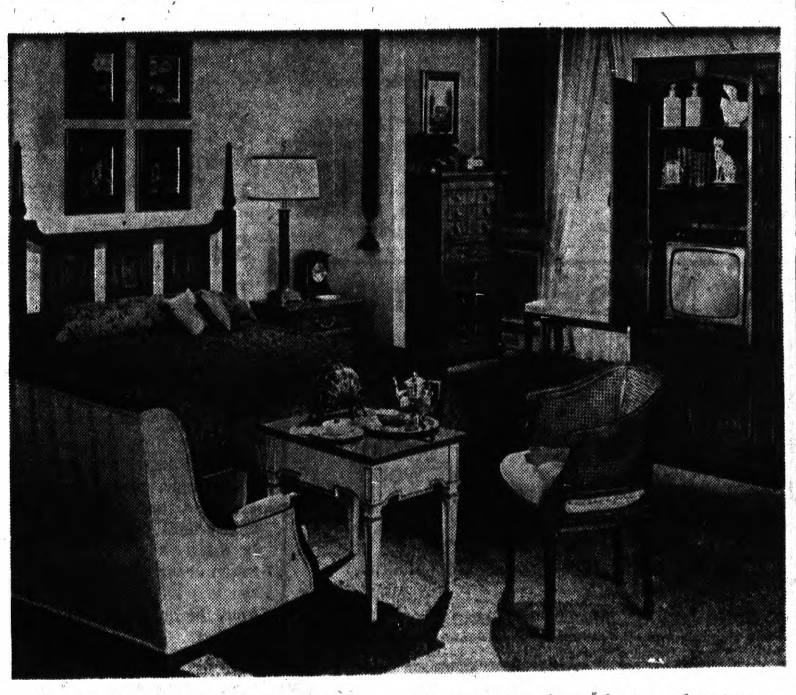

In a report in World Medicine, Crowther said the reason for early morning births might be because of the body's 24-hour clock which continues to regulate bodily functions despite outside conditions; because a woman becomes more relaxed at night, thus bringing on labor, or because darkness in some way influences the onset of labor.

Back Interest in Child's Clothes

When sewing or shopping for the feminine crawler crowd, look for designs with fashion interest in the back. That's the side most often seen "crawling away."

★ ★ ★

What could be sweeter than a frothy ruffle or two. And since crawlers of either sex serve as dust mops going from here to there, be sure to choose washable fabrics for all their clothing.

Changing Role Is Discussed

The "Changing Role of Women in the Family Today" was discussed Tuesday by the Child Study Group III. The topic was introduced by Mrs. Carl W. Bird.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Bego of Bloomfield Hills was hostess assisted by Mrs. Robert T. Flynn and Mrs. LaVerne Riemenschneider.

★ ★ ★

Overpainting Is Your Fault

When spraying aerosol paints, do not hold the can too close to the surface, cautions the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association.

★ ★ ★

This can result in overpainting, as well as dripping and running. Best results are achieved by spraying very thin, wet coats, and allowing drying time between each.

With a special martini and manhattan mixer-server, the mixing nuisance goes the way of the buggy whip.

All the ingredients go into a multiple compartmented container and remain unmixed until you set the dial for the desired proportion ration, ranging from two to one to nine to one. As you pour, the fluids mix and blend together.

Bonded Fabrics Meet Big Need

Fabrics with "double faces" — achieved through bonding — represent just one more breakthrough in engineering apparel and home textiles to meet current standards of fashionability, serviceability, durability, and washability.

Bonding is a method of joning two fabrics back-to-back with an adhesive. It unites them with such permanency that they will not come apart when laundered. Bonded fabrics are also a real boon to home sewers because there is only one piece of cloth to cut, sew, and alter.

When selecting bonded fabrics or garments made from them, be sure to read the labels which identify the fibers, describe the wear qualities, and specify washing and drying instructions. Then file these labels and follow their care directions.

Rule Against Law

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Against explicit Koranic laws, an Egyptian court has ruled that women can take jobs — even if husbands disagree.

According to the Holy Koran, moslem women should stay home and rear children.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett McConnaughey of Davisburg Road, Springfield Township, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. at an open house in the Davisburg Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. The event will be hosted by their children, Mrs. Winford Stephens of Pontiac Trail, Andrew of Goodrich, Ray of Denby Drive, Floyd of Hatchery Road, Charles of Pinckney, Lloyd of Holly and Carl of Buckhorn Lake Road, Rose Township. The couple who were wed on Jan. 29, 1917 in Waterman, Ill. have 22 grandchildren.

Preparations Are Made for Concerto Contest

Winners will perform in the concert to be presented March 21 in Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

A winner and runnerup will be named in each categorie with the winners receiving $50 in addition to the performance opportunity.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

I was one of those lucky young marrieds who got a new sewing machine for Christmas, but it scares me to death. What is the best way to begin to learn, and what type of material is best for me to learn on? Mrs. B. J.

Dear Mrs. B. J.:

Glad you asked this question. I'm sure there are lots of young gals who were lucky enough to get a new sewing machine. First, concentrate on reading the manual in order to learn a little about threading and caring for your machine.

Next, buy some inexpensive cotton and practice marking darts and seams and then stitching them. Learn to pin the seams instead of basting (the fabric won't slip if it's pinned). Pins are placed in a horizontal position on a vertical seam. Usually, the pins are placed about an inch apart with the heads closest to the outer edge.

Usually a skirt is the easiest thing to begin on, either use a bonded wool or a firm cotton and read the instructions carefuly before cutting. Perhaps a friend could help you begin, then search around for an adult sewing class given at the schools or extension services. Better yet, find a good sewing school if there is one available.

The biggest mistake beginners make is to choose a pattern that is too difficult for them and then they get nervous and frustrated and give up. You must walk before you run, so begin at the beginning and remember that perfection comes with practice.

Sewing today is the "in" thing to do. Don't give up until you have mastered this wonderful hobby. I'd welcome any questions you beginners have; please write to me today!

Dear Eunice Farmer:

When I made my buttonholes, I made them through the interfacing, and they looked great until I turned them. Now the front of my suit seems to draw up too night. What can I do to remedy this? Mrs. V. B.

Dear Mrs. V. B.:

I don't recommend making the bound buttonholes through the interfacing. I use a strip of permanent finish organdy as a base for the buttonholes. After they have been cut and turned, you may cut the organdy away from around the buttonhole, press, and then apply your interfacing.

Try it, I know you'll agree that this is the only way to keep the garment from looking pulled.

This is a good time to be experimenting with my method of making gusset type details. Almost every pattern we use has some form of this frustrating detail which I have tried to simplify with my step-by-step illustrated leaflet called "The Secret of Gussets."

Send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press and your copy will be sent to you.

Extra Plate for Child Is Unfair

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Last Sunday, my husband and I and our seven-year-old son had dinner in a restaurant. Our son is a very "picky" eater and I knew he couldn't possibly finish a whole portion of food, so I asked the waiter to bring an extra plate and I put some of my food on it.

Later, my husband told me it was a very "cheap" thing to do and that I had embarrassed him. It seemed senseless to order a dinner for our son and then have him waste it. I would like to know if I was wrong?—Helen Garvey

Dear Mrs. Garvey: Yes, you were wrong, although I sympathize with your dislike of seeing food wasted. You should have ordered your son's favorite meal and asked the waiter to bring him a very small portion.

Your solution would not be fair to the restaurant which has a right to expect each diner to order at least some food.

"KEEPING UP"

Dear Mrs. Post: Am I correct in assuming that wedding gifts should be acknowledged upon receipt? So many brides wait until after marriage so as to use their newly acquired monogram paper. I think this is highly incorrect and shows very poor manners.

Many people send gifts three weeks before the wedding, making it six or seven weeks before they learn if the gifts have been received. Do you agree that this is incorrect? — Mrs. Kay

Dear Mrs. Kay: Yes, I agree. Wedding presents should be acknowledged as they arrive. In fact, it's most impractical not to "keep up," as well as impolite, because the bride who receives many presents will have a terrible time trying to "catch up" later.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please answer whether the following is correct and in good taste?

My husband has on numerous occasions, when speaking with a female acquaintance, called attention to, and complimented her on, a specific piece of her apparel — "That's a very handsome coat you're wearing," "That hat looks very attractive," etc. May I please have your opinion? — Mrs. H. S.

Dear Mrs. H. S.: As long as your husband doesn't make too much of a production of it, a compliment is the nicest thing in the world. Far too few people make the effort to give them, and we all appreciate and benefit from a little flattery now and then.

Who do you tip? When, and how much? You will find the answers to these questions in Elizabeth L. Post's new sixteen page booklet "The Etiquette of Tipping."

To get your copy, send 25 cents in coin to cover booklet and shipping expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Maddox Widens Base

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Lester G. Maddox has long been accustomed to going his own way, and it's led him from a fried chicken restaurant to Georgia's executive mansion).

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Lester G. Maddox, city-bred favorite of Georgia's country voters, has moved to broaden his political base since winning election in the legislature over the man who beat him at the polls.

In soliciting advice, and making key appointments, Maddox has listened to rural legislators and chosen old friends who patronized his Atlanta cafeteria during his futile joust with the federal government to keep it segregated.

He also has turned to former political opponents, and for the No. 1 job on his staff he selected a Yale University sociology graduate.

CONSERVATIVES

The Maddox men have one common denominator: they share the governor's conservative political opinions.

But Maddox has said little about conservatism, and next to nothing about segregation, since taking office Jan. 10.

★ ★ ★

Democrat Maddox ran second by 3,039 votes in the November election to Republican Howard H. CAllaway. Writedin votes for former Gov. Ellis G. Arnall deprived Callaway of a majority, and threw the election into the legislature, controlled by Democrats and dominated by rural members. There — after state and federal court rulings — Maddox won easily.

Like all governors, Maddox has found that advice is plentiful.

ADJUSTMENT

"I've been so accustomed to making my own decisions, it is difficult for me to counsel with folks," he says. "I'm trying to adjust."

A state official, who was not one of Maddox's admirers, said of him recently: "He operates on instinct. He's sort of a Georgia-type Harry Truman and I think he is pretty well calling the shots for himself."

★ ★ ★

Advice, counsel and visitors have consumed most of his early days in office, and it is not easy to separate real advisers from would-be confidants.

Maddox's choices for staff and department heads — which have been reassuring to many of his critics — begin with an inner circle made up mostly of young, personable, articulate men.

For executive secretary — usually the most important spot — Maddox chose Morgan R. Redwine Jr., 43, a World War II fighter pilot who has a B.S. degree in sociology from Yale.

Redwine, who was an executive with a savings and loan firm in Athens, invited Maddox to speak to an Athens club 10 years ago when the governor was making his first of two unsuccessful races for mayor of Atlanta as an uncompromising segregationist.

★ ★ ★

"I've always admired his undaunted determination," says Redwine, whose political background consists mainly of campaigning for Maddox in the 1962 lieutenant governor's race and again last year.

★ ★ ★

Asked if he would describe himself as a conservative, or a moderate or a liberal, Redwine replied:

NO LABEL

"I don't know how to characterize myself. All I can tell you is that if the governor asks me to do something and I feel it is my duty, I'll do it. And if I am incapable of carrying out his philosophy, then I'll go home."

★ ★ ★

Another man on whom Maddox relies is Jack Norman Gunter, 45, former prosecutor from Cornelia, a small town in north Georgia's mountains, who is the governor's legal aide.

★ ★ ★

It was Maddox's fight against the public accommodations law in 1964 that made him a national symbol of resistance to racial integration. In the end, he sold the Pickrick rather than comply with a federal court order to serve Negores.

★ ★ ★

Gunter maintains that Maddox was erroneously painted as an irresponsible racist by newswriters and political enemies, who were surprised when Maddox called for moderation and tolerance at his inauguration.

"The only thing new about him is that he's being reported a little more accurately," Gunter says. "He hasn't changed. He's just Lester Maddox. He makes his own decisions. He's flexible. He's always been flexible."

★ ★ ★

Maddox's chief of staff, a kind of official adviser, is another former Pickrick patron, T. Malone Sharpe, 33, a lawyer from South Georgia.

Sharpe has been a close friend of Peter Zack Geer, who defeated Maddox in 1962 for lieutenant governor but lost to a racial moderate last year.

SWITCHED

Sharpe first was a Callaway supporter, but switched to Maddox and was selected to place Maddox's name in nomination at the State Democratic Convention, a formality since Maddox had already defeated Arnall in the primary.

Maddox's press secretary is Robert Short, 34, who wrote speeches for former Gov. Ernest Vandiver. Short describes himself as a fiscal conservative. How much influence he has is uncertain. However, he helped write the inaugural speech.

Outside the staff, Maddox frequently turns to James H. Gray, Albany newspaper publisher who was a Maddox opponent in the Democratic primary, but now is state Democratic chairman, at Maddox's insistence.

Photographer, 83, Looks Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Imogen Cunningham, one of the outstanding art photographers in the United States, has a quick answer to the question of which is her greatest photograph.

"It's the one I'm going to take tomorrow," says the woman who in April will be 84 years young.

★ ★ ★

After 60 years as a professional taking and developing pictures, this bouncy mother of three and grandmother of nine refuses to look back.

"I'm going to keep going just as long as my eyes can focus," assures the white-haired, pixie-faced artist of the lens.

FAMOUS WORKS

"Then I'm going to buy a ticket around the world on a freighter and get off at every stop," she says. This year the 5 foot 4 bundle of energy, whose camera has portrayed Gertrude Stein, Herbert Hoover, John Masefield and William Somerset Maugham, ventured into calendar art.

★ ★ ★

Bosomy females? No. Panoramic land scenes? No. The 1967 calendar for an airline features delicate close-ups by Imogen Cunningham of spiral-lined calla lilies, the natural pleats in a banana leaf, the orderly patterns made by the prickly stickers of an agave cactus.

"Imogen simply amazes me," says the airline spokesman. "She talks only about today or tomorrow. Never yesterday.

At rare moments when her 115-pounds are relaxed in a chair, her mind is rushing in all directions — such as plans for the one-woman showing she will have at Stanford University in April.

Independence OKs Policy on Water Setup, Land Use

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Two problems concerning the burgeoning population growth of the township have been dealt with by the Township Board.

A resolution has been passed stating that all new land developments shall provide for a central water supply, and restrictions were passed on land use in suburban farm district zoning.

Supervisor Duane Hursfall said, "The time to deal with these problems is now."

He said the population has grown from 11,000 in 1960 to about 18,000 at present.

★ ★ ★

Hursfall said agreements with the county on providing sewers should bring completion of facilities in two or three years.

GROWTH POTENTIAL

"This will further enhance the chance for growth," he said.

The use of the township for recreation is also expanding with three golf clubs and a ski resort in operation and others in the planning stage, he indicated.

The board resolution on water supply systems covers the larger subdivisions being planned. The intent is to make them easily adaptable to a township water system at some future date.

★ ★ ★

The action on suburban farm areas is to prevent use of land for commercial purposes that was zoned to provide for families desiring four or five acres for gardening or horse stables.

NOT ALLOWED

★ ★ ★

Other action taken by the board included reaching a tentative agreement with the county on matching funds for improvement of Eston Road from Clarkston to Algonquin.

★ ★ ★

WAYNE HOLMAN

Trustee Would Rather Quit Than Switch

AVON TOWNSHIP — Rochester's acceptance of cityhood had repercussions at the Township Board meeting last night as Supervisor Cyril Miller announced his intention of taking up residence in the township.

Trustee Wayne Holman submitted his resignation effective Feb. 10 at the same meeting.

Miller has lived at 338 Wesley, Rochester, for 29 years. He said he and his wife would move shortly to the Sidney Weinberger Stratford Knolls apartments on Walton.

As township officials interpret state law, a declaration of intent to move must be made by Feb. 12, the day before incorporation of the city of Rochester takes effect.

★ ★ ★

Holman, a trustee for 10 years and onetime candidate for supervisor, lives at 524 W. Third in Rochester.

NO DECISION

No decision has been made by Trustee Clarence Shaw who lives at 327 Helen, Rochester.

A spokesman said Shaw was contemplating the move to the township. He offered no word on the matter at last night's meeting.

Books Delivered to Troy Library

TROY — The Troy Library, 61 E. Square Lake, is uncrating 3,000 books loaned by the Michigan State University library service this week.

The service is provided for new libraries. Many of the older books on the shelves have been given to the Friends of the Library.

★ ★ ★

Some 1,500 books will be stored in a room at old city hall for the Friends' November book sale.

Avon Accepts Sewer Pacts

AVON TOWNSHIP—New contracts for the construction of the Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor—recognizing Pontiac's withdrawal from the project—were accepted by the Township Board last night.

★ ★ ★

While Avon's share has gone up $38,000 as a result of Pontiac's withdrawal, board members learned they would actually be paying less.

Development at Oakland University has proved to be a bonus for Avon and Pontiac townships.

The two received credit amounting to $100,000 on the bond issue still active in regard to construction of the old MSUO sewage disposal plant which serves the university.

SHARE CUT

Further than that the township's share was cut by 2 cubic feet per second capacity for the new city of Rochester should it wish to link up with the sewer at some future date.

★ ★ ★

Tests Show Third Well Is Unnecessary

WALLED LAKE — Tests taken yesterday for a well site on Pontiac Trail, east of Decker, show water productivity to be so far above expectations that a planned third well to support an expended water system is unnecessary.

★ ★ ★

According to Dr. W. G. Keck, an East Lansing geologist, the tests being made by the Lane Northern Well Drilling Co. show promise of producing 250,000 gallons of water per day per foot.

★ ★ ★

He said the well would be feasible with only 20,000 gallongs.

By not putting in a third well, the city will save about $15,000, according to City Manager Royce Downey.

★ ★ ★

He said construction of the entire expanded system will be under way by June 1.

Board Briefed on New System

4th Grade Curriculum Reviewed in Oxford

OXFORD — The board of education heard a report recently on its fourth grade curriculum, with particular emphasis being put on teaching of English as a science.

★ ★ ★

Teachers were enthusiastic with the new system, used also in the Waterford Schools, according to Schools Supt. Roger Oberg.

Considerable discussion was given Oxford's projected bond issue to alleviate crowding in classrooms.

Oberg said a representative of the State Department of Education would discuss the "middle school concept" for educators this week.

★ ★ ★

A middle school would provide for instruction of sixth, seventh and eighth graders to replace the current junior high system.

★ ★ ★

No report has yet been made by the Citizens' Advisory Committee in regard to future needs, Oberg said, though meetings are being conducted regularly.

Preschool Ballet

CLARKSTON—Clarkston Conservatory, 49 S. Main, will offer ballet classes for preschool children for the first time in the spring term.

★ ★ ★

Oxford Twp. Values May Rise

Area News

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — An attempt is being made by Supervisor Lee Valentine to upgrade the assessed valuations in the township to comply with regulations in the new State Constitution.

That means, according to Valentine, a jump in assessed values of from 25 per cent of cash value to 50 per cent.

It also means, he hopes, a reduction in the equalization factor which would mean that home owners would not have such a big tax hike.

Valentine believes that if he does not increase assessments this year, his equalization factor which last year was 2.35 would jump this year to 2.72 due to jumping assessed valuation.

He explains "A house assessed at $1,000 last year multiplied by the factor of 2.35 automatically gave a county assessed (or equalized) valuation of $2,350 on that house."

In the township increase in assessments, Valentine feels that he could raise that house to a township assessed value of $2,350 and — providing he brought up to 50 per cent all other property in the municipality — he would get an equalization figure of 1, which would in effect keep the same taxable values.

Valentine reports the state has raised the county $72 million in value this year and Oxford Township's share of that raise has been apportioned at $3 million.

"That simply means that the township will have to raise more taxes this year," Valentine said, "— about $150,000 more."

TOO LOW

Valentine reported that county appraisers found some properties such as vacant acreage, farm lands, vacant lots, etc., to be assessed far too low.

He says the law reads, "All properties shall be assessed at 50 per cent of true cash value."

With the increase in assessed land values as consistent as it has been, Valentine believes that keeping up with rising costs will mean a continuous upgrading of assessed values over the years.

★ ★ ★

"Unless we get the fiscal reform anticipated by the State Legislature," he said.

'No Trespassing' Signs to Be Posted in Shelby

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Distributed but not yet posted are new "No Trespassing" signs which township attorney Roy Rogensues feels will make a new antitrespassing ordinance effective.

Made up as a result of the recent passage of an ordinance, the signs are attracting interest from all over Michigan, according to township officials.

★ ★ ★

State law provides that the owner must witness the violator trespassing on his property and then must order the individual off the land before he can sign a formal complaint. The hands of local police are similarly tied under the state law.

SIGN POSTING

With the posting of the signs, Rogensues feels that the owner would not be required to witness the act or sign a complaint.

★ ★ ★

Property owners are responsible for posting the metal signs.

Commerce House Is Damaged by Fire

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A fire of undetermined origin damaged a house at 1420 Ladd early this morning. Estimated cost of the damage is not yet known.

★ ★ ★

Two residents of the house, Dallas Roberts and Junis Creach, were working and were not at home, according to firemen.

★ ★ ★

The fire, which was reported at 12:12 a.m., was extinguished in about two hours. The township fire department was assisted by Walled Lake.

$500,000 in Pep Pills Confiscated

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — State and federal authorities have confiscated illegal pep pills valued at $500,000.

Three and one-quarter million pills — amphetamines, or "bennies" and barbiturates or "goof balls" — were seized Wednesday at the home of a truck-stop owner northeast of Richmond.

A federal agent said the raid topped off an investigation "that has covered the entire East Coast." He said the pep pill seizure was the largest ever in the United States.

John Hill Cooper, 41, of Ladysmith, his wife, Jo Ann, 33, and Donald Lee Starns, 41, of Charlotte, N.C., were charged with possession of dangerous drugs.

THEY MEAN IT! — Shelby Township Patrolmen Jim Stephens and Robert Barber display the new "No Trespass" sign which officials hope will put some teeth in prosecution of violators. Based on a new ordinance, the signs are attracting attention from several other Michigan communities.

Baggage System Test Site Set

News of the Area

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A test site is planned here for development of a prototype baggage handling system that may cure the mounting congestion of baggage at the nation's airports.

Teletrans Corp., headed by W. Kenneth Crowder of 3255 Windcroft, Waterford Township, is the developer of the system.

Headquarters for the corporation, now located in Redford Township, are to be at 23850 Freeway Park Drive in the Farmington Township Freeway Industrial Park.

Teletrans has devised a computer-inspired, high-speed system to deliver any suitcase from any point in a sprawling airport, such as Detroit Metropolitan Airport, in a maximum of three minutes.

★ ★ ★

Employing small, electrically powered cars, the Teletrans system features the fast, accurate and more economical handling of passenger baggage, according to an American Airlines, spokesman.

'OWN 'BRAIN'

The luggage cars cruise at 20 miles per hour along tracks on the floor in a tunnel or suspended overhead. Small electric motors drive the cars.

Each car would have its own "brain" in the form of a punched card inserted with luggage.

The car and luggage — up to 75 pounds of the latter — would be programmed to automatically find its way to the correct plane for boarding or to the baggage recovery area after a flight.

American Airlines announced its intention to invest in the development of the prototype, offering, in turn, the same opportunity to others in the airline industry at a meeting earlier this week in Detroit.

American Airlines, according to a spokesman, had approached Teletrans Corp. for a possible solution to the transportation of baggage. Teletrans had designed a system using a Linear Induction Motor to drive passenger vehicles.

The advantage of the motor is that it greatly reduces the number of moving parts.

The speed achieved in the faster handling of luggage would mean shorter time intervals between connecting flights, according to the American Airlines spokesman.

It is estimated that 99.4 per cent of all passenger baggage could be handled by the Teletrans system.

NASA Seeking to Cut Jet Noise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is conducting a double-barreled research program aimed at cutting down the noise from jets.

NASA chief James E. Webb told the Senate Space Committee yesterday his agency has begun looking for ways to deaden the noise from engines now flying and a parallel effort aimed at possibly developing a new quiet engine.

HERO'S REWARD — Isabella Mauri, a 21-year-old blind secretary, kisses Police Capt. Paul Glaser, 53, after he and two other men rescued her in New York yesterday. The girl fell onto subway tracks during the morning rush hour, and was lifted to safety by the three men just seconds before another train pulled into the BMT station at 33rd Street and Sixth Avenue.

Blind Woman Saved From Subway Track

NEW YORK (AP) — Since last October the daily routine had been the same for Isabella Mauri, a blind, 21-year-old secretary for a Manhattan firm.

She would take the subway from her home in Queens to Sixth Avenue and 33rd Street in Manhattan, then walk the short distance to her office with the aid of a cane. And each morning, there was the usual rush-hour crowd.

★ ★ ★

But Wednesday, it was different.

"Just after I got off the train," Isabella recalled, "I lined myself up to go to the exit. I just follow the way the train goes.

LISTENS

"When I walk, I listen to the sounds of trains coming in so I can see how close I am to the tracks so I know how far in on the platform to go. I listen to the sounds of the air bouncing off the wall so I can tell how close to the wall I am."

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"That way I'm more or less a step ahead of myself," she explained.

"I started walking slowly," she said. "People on both sides of me were running in front of me. I kept getting the cane between people's feet."

BENT CANE

Then, suddenly, somebody bent her cane.

"You know how people are rushing to get to work," she said. "They don't see or hear anything. That threw me off balance. I swerved to one side. All of a sudden I lost my balance.

★ ★ ★

"As soon as I realized that I put my foot into an empty space, I just let myself fall. There was nothing I could do about it. I didn't panic. I felt my head bump, then I heard them jump down."

★ ★ ★

Isabella fell from the platform onto the southbound express tracks. A police captain and two other men quickly grabbed her from the tracks and pulled her back onto the platform.

SECONDS LATER

"Seconds after we had her up, a train came in," said Leonard Jonas, 53, of Woodmere, Long Island, one of the men who helped rescue Isabella.

★ ★ ★

"I was just flabbergasted," Isabella said later. "They were so fast. I was surprised. I didn't know what to expect."

★ ★ ★

Will she ride the subway again?

JUST A SNAP—Television screen magic is a snap with fast film, adjustable cameras and the comfort of home. This picture was taken with a camera on a tripod centered in front of the screen, at an exposure of 1/30th at f/5.6 with Tri-X film.

Camera Angles

TV Shots Can Be Easy

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

The television screen is a magic carpet for amateur photographers, bringing many outstanding world events and famous personalities within range of the cameras in our own homes.

With fast films and adjustable cameras, photo fans can shoot news, sports and entertainment events without worrying about transportation or press accreditation.

Photographing activities from the TV screen is a good home study course in developing a sense of timing, in testing reflexes to see if you can capture a moment of peak action or an expressive instant in portraiture.

FILM PLANE

It should be on a tripod or firmly suppoted on a table at the right height. A cable release is advisable to minimize possible camera movement.

Focal plane cameras are not recommended but all other adjustable cameras with an F-4.5 setting and the ability to focus sharply at a close-up distance are usable for black and white pictures.

Using fast Tri-X or Super Hypan film, the exposure will be 1-25th or 1-30th of a second at between 4-4.5 and f-5.6.

ON EXPOSURE

For color pictures off a color TV set, the exposure is around 1-10th second at f-2.8. Processing should be increased between 30 and 50 per cent to gain contrast.

It should be adjusted for softer or less contrast than normal to show detail in the shadows and it shoudl be set for greater brightness than normal.

★ ★ ★

WATCH FLASH

Under no circumstance should flash be used or it will wipe out any image on the screen.

Room lights should be turned off to avoid reflections on the screen.

★ ★ ★

Try to fill the negative area with the full TV screen. If necessary, use close-up or proxar lenses and measure the distance carefully from lens to film plane.

PICTURE TOP

In the same way, camera fans can have a ringside seat at a title bout, attend basketball, football and baseball games, visit a session of the United Nations or meet a celebrity.

They can match their skill in taking pictures of these events with pictures published in their papers.

If the results are off, nobody need be the wiser; if they're good, you have a conversation piece to show around!

Proposal to End 13-Day Strike Gets UAW Okay

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers union said Wednesday it had agreed on a proposal to end a 13-day strike by 2,000 workers at three plants of Hoover Ball and Bearing Co.

Jack Edwards, UAW international executive board member-at-large, said bargaining committee members and officials of UAW locals in each city had accepted the proposal.

The proposal included a general wage increase of 26 cents an hour in three years, more wage adjustments for skilled trades, a fund to correct wage inequities and increased vacations and pensions.

CHASE DEMONSTRATORS—A national guardsman is silhouetted against tear gas clouds in Managua, Nicaragua, where troops clashed with demonstrators last night killing one man and wounding two. Initial rioting Sunday over the presidential election next month resulted in 32 deaths and the wounding of 79, according to government reports.

Discovery Brings New Hope

Schizophrenia Cure in Sight

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Tulane researchers say they have solid evidence that the psychotic behavior of schizophrenia is due to a substance in the blood which affects the brain.

The significance of the announcement today was that Tulane researchers re-created the substance, which Dr. Robert C. Heath calls taraxein.

Since taraxein can be created in a laboratory, it raises the possibility that a specific treatment for schizophrenia — which incapacitates a quarter million Americans annually — can be developed.

Dr. Heath, professor of psychiatry and neurology at Tulane University's school of medicine, said a cure or control is the next phase of the work.

The theory that schizophrenia is a chemically caused ailment was advanced by Dr. Heath 10 years ago. His theory touched off a scholarly tempest in psychiatric circles, where the accepted theory was that schizophrenia was a strictly psychological disease stemming from childhood disturbances.

Dr. Heath's report on the research which he said confirms his theory was recently published in the Archives of General Psychiatry.

Beach Boy Gem Thieves Free on Bail

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The three convicted Miami beach boy gem thieves awaiting trial on still more gem-robbery charges have been released on bail.

Criminal Court Judge Carling Stedman agreed with the prosecution at a bond hearing Wednesday and increased the bail for Jack (Murph the Surf) Murphy and Roger F. Clark, held in custody for a 1965 burglary of a Miami Beach home.

The judge also increased bond to $5,000 on charges that Murphy and Allan D. Kuhn pistol-whipped actress Eva Gabor and took $50,000 in jewels from her apartment in North Bay Village in January 1964.

★ ★ ★

Murphy, Clark and Kuhn were recently released from New York's Riker's Island Penitentiary where they served 21 months each for stealing the star of India sapphire from New York's Museum of Natural History.

BOND POSTED

Asst. State Atty. Ellen Morphonios obtained bond increases from $1,000 to $2,500 Wednesday against Clark and Murphy for the Miami Beach burglary.

★ ★ ★

Murphy was released after posting a $7,500 bond and Clark went free on $2,500 bail. Kuhn, who did not appear in court, earlier posted a $5,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

One Killed During Arrests of Nicaragua Regime Foes

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Another Nicaraguan was killed and two were wounded Wednesday night as national guardsmen and police cleared crowds from the streets of Managua and arrested more opponents of the Somoza machine.

Among those arrested were Jorge Cardenas, general manager of La Prensa, an opposition newspaper closed by the government. Congress Wednesday night passed a censorship law to curb what it called political agitation by news media prior to next month's presidential election.

Women seeking news of persons missing since the outbreak of violence Sunday and Monday stood in a line a block long during the day outside El Hormiguero (The Ant Hole) prison.

The government said 32 persons were killed and 79 wounded in the fighting Sunday and Monday between troops and opponents of Gen. Anastasio Somoza Jr., presidential candidate of the official party and chief of the National Guard. Fernando Aguero, the Conservative party candidate, said between 300 and 400 were killed. Impartial sources said the number of dead might be more than 60.

TEAR GAS USED

After crowds gathered on street corners Wednesday night, National Guard patrols used tear gas on some persons who refused to heed orders to disperse. Then shots were heard in a side street and an ambulance arrived to remove a dead man.

Civilians said guardsmen fired without reason and that the victims had not been demonstrating. More shots came from troops atop a bank on the city's main business street, Roosevelt Avenue.

Guardsmen moving slowly along the streets were followed by American newsmen, some with heavy cameras and lights. Shouts of "assassin!" and "viva Sandino!" came from the crowds, the latter a reference to a Nicaraguan revolutionary of the 1930s.

★ ★ ★

The censorship law was believed an indication that the government would permit the reopening of the opposition newspaper and three radio stations it had closed. Under the law, a news organ determined to be inciting subversion, violence or disturbance of the peace may be suspended three to 10 days. Weekly newspapers may be suspended up to two months.

COMMUNISTS

Somoza, son of the founder of Latin America's oldest political dynasty more than 30 years ago, said Communists had taken part in Sunday's fighting and that Aguero might not be a Communist but "has good friends among the Communists."

Two hundred Nicaraguans recently returned from training in agitation and terrorism in Cuba, he said, and a group of Communists with machine guns was arrested Saturday.

Casseroles Are Busy Woman's Friend

BEEF 'N' VEG BAKE

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Busy women everywhere rely heavily on casseroles. When Mom is going to be away at PTA or a scout meeting after school, she prepares a casserole earlier and may even slip it in the oven with the timer set.

Working homemakers often fix a casserole the night before or at breakfast time and refrigerate it until they arrive home after work.

If you have a freezer, double your casserole recipes and freeze one.

Pork sausage links are expensive. But when a pound and a half will serve six people, the cost per serving is not high. Try them in Hearty Sausage Casserole.

HEARTY SAUSAGE CASSEROLE

1½ pounds pork sausage links
½ cup chopped onion
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
1 can (1 pound 1 ounce) whole kernel corn, drained
½ cup sliced pitted black olives, optional
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
3 eggs, beaten slightly
1 cup prepared biscuit mix
⅓ cup milk

Combine biscuit mix and milk; stir to make a soft dough. Knead 10 to 12 strokes on lightly floured board. Roll into 6-inch circle; cut into 6 wedges. Place 3 wedges each in diagonally opposite corners.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees until biscuits are done and lightly browned and eggs are cooked, 15 to 18 minutes.

Arrange remaining sausages diagonally across top of casserole. Return to oven to heat sausages, 3 to 5 minutes. Yield: About 6 servings.

BEEF 'N VEG BAKE

1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
½ cup water

HEARTY SAUSAGE CASSEROLE

1¼ teaspoons salt
Dash pepper
2 cups sliced cooked potatoes
2 cups cooked cut green beans
1 pound ground beef
1 egg, slightly beaten
½ cup small bread cubes
2 tablespoons minced onion

Stir soup until smooth; add water, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper. In shallow baking dish (8x8"), alternate layers of potatoes, beans, and soup mixture.

Combine beef, egg, bread, onion, and 1 teaspoon salt; form into 4 patties ½-inch thick. Place on top of casserole.

Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Turn patties; bake 20 minutes more or until done. Makes 4 servings.

LASAGNA WIENER SPECIAL

8 oz. broad lasagna noodles
2 tablespoons salad oil
5 wieners
1 can (1 lb.) stewed tomatoes
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 teaspoon mixed herb seasoning
1 egg
1 cup cottage cheese
¼ cup Parmesan cheese
1 package (6 oz.) Mozzarella cheese

Cut weiners in penny-size slices; brown in rest of oil. Stir in tomatoes, tomato sauce, onion and herbs. Heat to boiling; simmer five minutes, stirring occasionally.

Whipped Milk Fluffs Dessert

Here's an inexpensive-to-make dessert that will please the family and offer some good nutrition.

★ ★ ★

An old-fashioned prune whip, this recipe has been updated to use today's tender, moist prunes and evaporated milk.

★ ★ ★

Ripened on the trees, California prunes are rich in natural fruit sugar. They are full of iron and potassium. Use them frequently for delicious desserts, cakes and pies, salads and as a garnish for meats.

Easy Prune Whip

1½ cups cooked prunes
½ cup prune cooking liquid
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup water
⅔ cup (small can) evaporated milk
⅓ cup sugar

Pit prunes; sieve or blend with prune cooking liquid and lemon juice. Soften gelatine in water and dissolve over low heat. Add sugar to evaporated milk, stir in gelatine.

Chill until mixture mounds when dropped from spoon. Whip with rotary beater until light and fluffy. Fold in prune mixture. Chill. (Makes 6 servings.)

Take It Easy

Go slow when you are adding anchovy paste to the yolk mixture (for stuffed eggs) or to a cream cheese spread because the paste is usually pretty salty. Work in a small amount of the paste and taste before adding more.

New Vegetables Can Be Served With Orange

Glazed carrots are a delicious accompaniment with any kind of fowl and when they are as easy to prepare as opening a package of frozen carrots with brown sugar glaze, you're really in business.

Orange Glazed Carrots is a simple recipe variation of the package direction—frozen concentrate for imitation orange juice is added along with a dash of nutmeg.

Orange Glazed Carrots

1 package (10 oz.) frozen carrots with brown sugar glaze
3 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon frozen concentrate for imitation orange juice
1 tablespoon butter
Dash of nutmeg
Dash of salt
Dash of pepper

Combine ingredients in saucepan. Cover tightly and bring to a full boil over medium-high heat, stirring occasionally. Remove cover; reduce heat to low and continue cooking, stirring frequently for 8 to 10 minutes, or until carrots are throughly glazed. Do not drain. Makes about 3 servings.

Italian Dressing Is Heated First

Tear crisp western iceberg lettuce into bite-size pieces; mound in shallow bowl. Add some strips of dry salami, ripe olive rings and snipped chives or green onion tops to bottled Italian dressing; heat.

Suppertime Soup

In saucepan, brown ½ cup cooked ham cut in strips and cook 1 small clove garlic (minced) and generous dash thyme (crushed) in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Add 1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed vegetable soup and 1 soup can water. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

SUNSHINE PIE — Gay as the daffodils behind it is this Sunshine Pie. Made with lemon pie filling mix, it has a special tang that comes from using a lemon-lime carbonated beverage for the liquid. The pie is extra light and fluffy.

Soft Drink in Filling Makes a Delicate Pie

There's almost a taste of sunshine in this lemon-cheese pie with filling as fluffy as a cloud. Placed in a baked pie shell, this is the easiest pie — and the prettiest — you could whip up! Mint leaves and sliced lemon garnish the swirled top.

Several ingredients work together to make this pie smooth and creamy yet light and delicately flavored.

The basis of the chiffon-like filling is a package of lemon pie filling mix. Blended with it is crystal clear lemon-lime carbonated beverage. This is the flavor secret. The natural oils of lemon and lime enhance the subtle lemon flavor and the lively carbonation makes the filling light and fluffy.

For a velvety texture, cream cheese is blended in — then the mixture is folded into an egg white meringue. There's no baking! Simply chill the pie until set.

SUNSHINE PIE

2¼ cups lemon-lime carbonated beverage
2 eggs, separated
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
¼ cup sugar
1 baked pie shell (9-inch)

Combine pie filling mix and ¼ cup soda pop in saucepan. Blend in 2 egg yolks. Add remaining soda pop. Stirring constantly, cook over medium heat to a full boil.

Pour into baked pie shell. Chill until set. Garnish with lemon slice and mint leaves. Makes one 9-inch pie.

New Officials Introduced

Open House Is Held at WEA Offices

An open house was held yesterday at the Waterford Education Association's offices in the Miller Building, 3513 Elizabeth Lake at Cass Lake Road, to acquaint the public with the WEA new full-time operation and to introduce the WEA's new president, Mrs. Earl Floyd, and executive secretary, Robert G. Crumpton.

WEA members, school officials and community leaders were invited to the function.

Mrs. Floyd, a fourth-fifth grade teacher at Waterford Village School, 4241 Steffens, outpooled Waterford Township High School instructor John Makowski for the WEA presidency in a special election Tuesday.

Her term is for the remainder of the current school year at which time another election will be held.

★ ★ ★

Crumpton was president, but had to relinquish the post when he became executive secretary, a full-time, salaried position.

PRIOR ELECTION

Mrs. Floyd, who last week was elected president of the Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls, was secretary of the association prior to her victory Tuesday and was the only woman to serve on last year's WEA negotiating team.

As president, she will continue to serve on the negotiating team which will begin bargaining next month with the board of education toward a 1967-68 contract for teachers.

No immediate replacement was named for the secretary's job.

Married and the mother of two married daughters, Mrs. Floyd lives at 5955 Andersonville, Waterford Township. Her husband operates his own upholstery business in the township.

FIRST TEACHING JOB

Mrs. Floyd's first teaching job in the Waterford Township School District was at Lambert School, 3576 Cass Elizabeth, from 1944 to 1952.

Then she worked with the State Department of Social Welfare for two years and as a policewomen with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department for a year.

She also was employed eight years with the Oakland County Juvenile Court, serving as supervisor of the adoption department the last four years.

NATIVE OF ILLINOIS

A native of near LaSalle, Ill., Mrs. Floyd has lived in Waterford Township for 30 years.

She was graduated from Hall Township, Ill., High School and received a B.S. degree in elementary education from Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Floyd hopes to complete requirements for a master's degree this summer at Oakland University.

Long to Help Alabama Fight Fund Cutoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee has promised to help all he can in Alabama's fight against a threatened cutoff of federal welfare funds.

"I think you have made a strong case on behalf of Alabama," Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., told former Gov. George C. Wallace Wednesday after Wallace testified before Long's committee.

Wallace said the cutoff order by Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner is illegal and "just the beginning" of an arbitrary grab for power. Gardner has ruled that Alabama will get no federal funds after Feb. 28 for its public assistance and child welfare programs unless it gives assurance in writing that the programs are being administered without racial discrimination.

Wallace appeared before the finance committee as a special assistant to the present governor, his wife Lurleen. And he gave the committee a statement from Mrs. Wallace in which she declared "our cause is a just one. And we intend no deviation from it."

Wallace met a generally friendly reception from Southern senators and some Republicans on the committee. Long said the hearing transcript would be sent to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. He added he would contact the department to see what defense it could make for its action.

Toward the end of the session, Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., complained to Long that "this whole proceeding has been completely one-sided up to now." Hartke and Wallace then tangled in a sharp exchange over who is responsible for the threatened cutoff of funds.

Hartke accused Wallace of trying to shift the blame to Gardner. "There's a very simple solution," he told the former governor. "You could continue these funds for these 200,000 needy people by signing this compliance paper and then taking the issue to the courts. But you have voluntarily decided not to comply and it is you who are denying these funds to these people."

★ ★ ★

Wallace replied: "It's Mr. Gardner who is cutting them off and demanding that we sign a paper which we think is outside the law."

Ferency Raps Romney for Out-of-State Activities

LANSING (UPI)—Zolton Ferency, Democratic state chairman, has rapped Gov. George Romney's national travel plans to explore the possibility of becoming a presidential candidate in 1968.

"Our governor's travels and explorations may be necessary to enhance his own personal political ambitions, but his wanderings and gropings will do nothing to meet the mounting needs of Michigan's people," Ferency said yesterday.

"Romney was elected to govern Michigan. His presence is desperately needed in Republican legislative caucuses. Knocking heads and hammering out an acceptable tax reform program ought to be his first order of business," Ferency said.

He said Republicans, who now control the Legislature, plan to blame the Democrats for instituting an income tax.

★ ★ ★

"One Republican leader after another is bemoaning the fact that Democratic votes in both houses of the Legislature will be needed to pass a Republican tax program," he said.

TAX REFORM

But, he said, "In the long run, any failure to achieve meaningful tax reform this year will have to be charged to Republicans in general and George Romney in particular."

Ferency spoke at a Meridian Township Democratic Club meeting while Romney was in Cleveland discussing the "national political situation" with Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio.

Romney has asked the Legislature to pass a fiscal reform program, which is expected to include an income tax, by April 1.

★ ★ ★

Ferency also attacked the governor's plans to be out of the state several days next month on a Far West speaking tour.

QUESTION

"Should another legislative session slide by without positive and affirmative action in the critical area of tax reform, there will be more than one person asking: "Where were you, George, when the chips were down and the going was hard?" Ferency said.

★ ★ ★

The reference was to Barry Goldwater's request for an explanation about Romney's refusal to support him for president in 1964.

CMU Will Launch Anniversary Events

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI)—A year-long observance of Central Michigan University's 75th anniversary will start with an opening convocation Saturday.

U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., of Traverse City, a 1947 CMU graduate, will speak at the convocation, which is being observed in conjunction with midyear commencement exercises.

His talk will launch a series of events marking the 75 years since the Central Michigan Normal School and Business Institute opened Sept. 13, 1892, with 31 students.

Fund Request for Head Start OK'd Locally

A proposed application for $242,886 in federal funds for a summer Head Start program in 17 county school districts was approved last night by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

The application will be sent to the regional Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) headquarters in Chicago.

Total cost of the education program for preschoolers as proposed by the commission will be $303,155, with $60,269 in nonfederal funds earmarked.

A total of 650 youngsters are expected to participate. The cost per child is computed at $374.

Major costs of the program will be $170,286 for teacher personnel and $49,117 for consultants.

Youth Corps Progress Told

Edward Revis, director of the Neighborhood Youth Corps program, said last night that 13 young people now are employed in the vocational guidance program for young people.

Speaking to the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity, Revis said that nine more youths will be employed Monday.

He said he was hopeful that the quota of 50 youths from poor families will soon be placed in jobs paying $1.25 hourly.

Revis said that the young people already employed are performing well in the varied jobs.

State Union 'Power Play' Is Criticized

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan State Employes Association (MSEA) had harsh words yesterday for both the Department of Mental Health and an employes' union that claims it has won a labor agreement with the department.

Larry Hilldore, MSEA president, challenged the agreement as "not only illegal but unconstitutional" and urged the Michigan Civil Service Commission not to be coerced into authorizing collective bargaining for state workers.

Meanwhile, Director Robert C. Grosvenor of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME), AFL-CIO, hurried to Detroit to take up the union's problems with regional officials.

Chief among the problems is the fact that the department has denied being part of the agreement, a 15-page labor contract that defines personnel issues other than wages and hours.

★ ★ ★

Those issues are controlled under the Michigan Constitution by the commission.

'POWER PLAY'

Hilldore described the union's announcement of the agreement as a "power play by the AFL-CIO to force the Civil Service Commission to change its rules and policy on collective bargaining."

The commission has not authorized department heads to enter into collective agreements although Michigan law was amended in 1965 to permit collective representation without the right to strike by public employes.

Dr. V. A. Stehman, acting director of the department, cited that policy when he said neither he nor any other department official had signed the "agreement" with the AFSCME.

★ ★ ★

In fact, the department did not even have a copy of the document which the union plans to submit to ratification elections at 17 Michigan locals next month.

Bonds Okayed

LANSING (AP)—The Municipal Finance Commission has approved issue of special assessment and general obligation bonds worth $281,000—$61,000 by Lincoln Park and $220,000 by Washtenaw County's Ypsilanti Township.

County NAACP Nominee for OEO Board Approved

Seating of George H. Wilhelmi as the NAACP representative on the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) was approved last night by the commission.

Wilhelmi, 40, of 2664 Penna, West Bloomfield Township, is director of urban renewal for Rochester.

A year ago he resigned as assistant director of Pontiac's urban renewal program to become director of the South Oakland Community Action Center of the OCCEO.

His resignation from the War on Poverty administrative staff four months later was the result of policy disagreement, according to Wilhelmi.

★ ★ ★

Charles M. Tucker Jr., past president of the Oakland County NAACP branch, last November announced that Wilhelmi had been designated as the NAACP representative on the 50-member commission.

RECOMMENDED

The selection was referred to th OCCEO nominating committee which last night offered the seating recommendation to the full commission.

Tucker was the previous NAACP representative on the commission but he resigned last summer due to policy disagreement.

The NAACP was without a representative for six months.

★ ★ ★

Poses With Gun, Leaves Photos, Traced by Police

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

'ROTC Cadets Told to Spy on Leftists'

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Army Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets were told at a secret session at the University of Washington last October to collect information on students and faculty members associated with leftist organizations on campus, a university professor said Wednesday.

Prof. Gordon Griffiths, a former member of the executive board of the campus chapter of the American Association of University Professors, said the session employed "training kits" provided by the 6th Army headquarters.

OFFERED LIST

A 6th Army spokesman in San Francisco said military science instructors at various campuses were offered last October a list of organizations the Army felt prospective officers should be cautioned about but he denied cadets were instructed to spy.

"There is absolutely nothing to it," he said. "Definitely, ROTC cadets are never used for spying."

The spokesman said the list was offered as a warning to students to avoid groups "that might later be added to the attorney general's list" of alleged subversive organizations.

Dynamic Maharani Puts Ruling India Party to Test

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—When Prime Minister Indira Gandhi carried her election campaign to the fabled "Pink City" of Jaipur in the heart of the Rajasthan desert, she ran into an unusually hostile crowd of hecklers who clamored for defeat of the ruling Congress party.

Mrs. Gandhi's party is facing one of its toughest fights in the state of Rajasthan because of an independent-minded woman political leader—Maharani Gayatri Devi of Jaipur.

She is perhaps the most charming and dynamic of the maharanis, who with their maharaja husbands ruled large chunks of India in collaboration with the British before independence 20 years ago.

Her husband, Maharaja Man Singh of Jaipur, India's ambassador to Spain, even thought of running for office himself. But he made a quick trip to Jaipur from Madrid and was advised that would detract from his wife's campaign for a seat in the Rajasthan Assembly and the Indian Parliament.

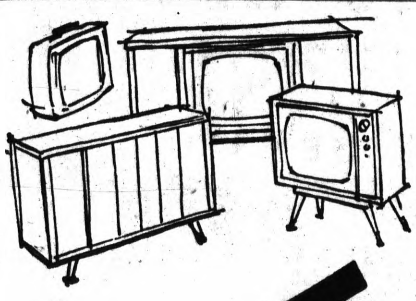

The maharani, who a decade ago was considered one of the world's most beautiful women is carrying the torch for the conservative Swatantra—Freedom—party, which is alligned in some areas with the communal-minded Hindu Jan Sangh party.

"The Congress party is sure to be routed in my state," she says. "My people have had enough of it and do not want any more of it."

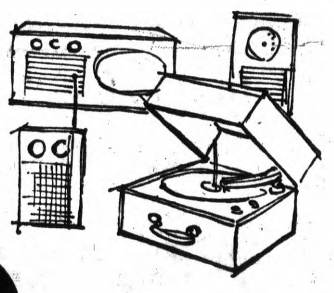

The maharani blames the Congress party for the nation's food shortages, its foreign exchange deficit, and widespread corruption. Her supporters also are trying to take advantage of the current Hindu agitation for a nationwide ban against the slaughter of cows.

Testimony Ends; Baker Case Near Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony has concluded in Bobby Baker's trial and the federal court jury is scheduled to start deliberating the fate of the former Senate aide this weekend.

Baker's trial on charges of larceny, income tax evasion and conspiracy is now in its third week. U. S. Dist. Judge Oliver Gasch said he hopes to dispose of the remaining legal questions today, then hear suggestions from attorneys on what his instructions to the jury should be.

Wednesday the prosecution called Robert S. Kerr Jr., son of the late Oklahoma senator, as a rebuttal witness. The younger Kerr testified he had found nothing to show his father had advanced any large sum for Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats.

Baker testified earlier he delivered to Sen. Kerr nearly $100,000 of "senatorial campaign contributions" made in cash by California savings and loan executives and that Sen. Kerr loaned Baker $50,000, half of which sum came from the "campaign" cash.

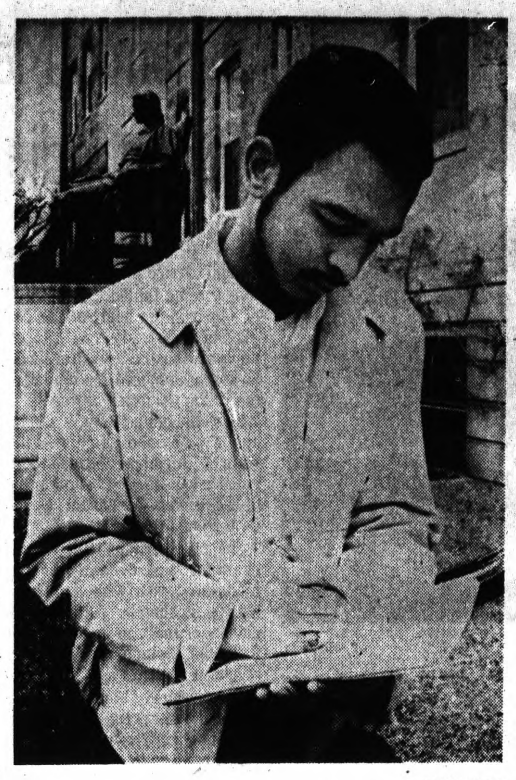

The government charges, on the contrary, that Baker stole $80,000 of the $100,000, devoted it to his own enterprises, and evaded income taxes.

Asked Wednesday if he were aware of any loans, gifts or fees his father paid to Baker other than a $500 loan in 1951, Kerr replied "No sir." Other testimony was that Sen. Kerr kept records of minute transactions, such as $18 advanced to his own sons.

The questioning turned to $42,950 of cash found in Sen. Kerr's safe deposit box after he died of a heart attack Jan. 1, 1963. The young Kerr said there was $3,000 in $1,000 bills; $2,650 in $50 bills; $5,000 in $500 bills; and two batches of $100 bills totaling $32,300.

IVY LEAGUE STYLE — Donald L. Bert, 18, who has spent summers working as a bootblack and busboy at a White Plains, N.Y., country club, goes over some notes before attending classes at Harvard. # Former Bootblack Goes 'Ivy'

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Donald Lee Bert, 18, who has spent summers working as a bootblack and busboy, came to Harvard last fall worried about fitting in with the polished products of Groton, Phillips-Exeter and the other Ivy League prep schools.

"But once I learned to swing a little," he said, "and let my beard grow and my loafers get scuffed and my Levis a bit frayed, I found I looked and acted just like everyone else."

"The thing about Harvard men," he said, "is that they don't want to have anything to do with anyone who is a phony. I just be myself and I get along fine. I don't think anybody cares that I shined shoes."

Bert, a Negro, is the son of a construction worker and a housemaid. He won a four-year, $1,500-a-year National Achievement scholarship on graduating from White Plains, N.Y., high school last year.

'ALMOST WENT CRAZY'

"I could have used the scholarship for any college," Bert said in an interview, "and my parents said they would leave it up to me entirely. So I applied to several schools.

"But when I got accepted at Harvard, my mother almost went crazy. So I could pretty well tell which direction she was leaning. And all my friends urged me to go to Harvard, too."

Bert, one of six children and the first to go to college, began as a caddy at the Ridgeway Country Club in White Plains six years ago and worked his way into a job as locker room bootblack.

When the country club members, all of whom are white, learned that Bert had won a scholarship, they started a fund that will give him more than $2,000 in spending money over the four years.

"I'm the youngest of four boys in my family," he said, "and each of us in turn has been a shoeshine boy in the locker room. Now I guess the job will go to another family."

NEW CHAIRMAN — William H. Tucker, new chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, answers questions by newsmen in Washington yesterday as he held his first press conference since assuming the post. He outlined for reporters some of the problems facing the commsision in 1967.

Shansi Workers Said Resisting Mao Purge

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung's New China News Agency today reported resistance to Mao's purge by 10,000 workers in Shansi Province and called for the immediate arrest of all opponents of the Communist party chairman and his heir apparent, Defense Minister Lin Piao.

Mao's forces had claimed they seized control of Shansi, adjoining Peking, from supporters of President Liu Shao-chi on Jan. 12 with the help of army units. But the official news agency reported today that a few days ago the "despicable swine" who support Liu had thrown 10,000 workers against the Maoists.

★ ★ ★

"Some incidents even developed into struggles by force," the agency said, quoting a communique from pro-Mao "rebels" in Shansi.

REFUSE TO SURRENDER

The report said Liu's forces were refusing to surrender the provincial party committee and had "formed a number of loyalist organizations to create trouble wildly and openly against the (pro-Mao) revolutionary rebels."

To meet what it called "the sinister means of economic warfare" employed by Liu's forces, the Maoists ordered the circulating capital of all organizations, mines and enterprises frozen. They called on all workers, peasants and functionaries to "carry on work as usual."

★ ★ ★

These were the highlights:

Vice Premier Tao Chu, denounced as the power behind recent bloody resistance to Mao in Canton and Nanking, has died of heart disease in a Peking hospital. Raised earlier in the purge to the standing committee of the party politburo, he turned on Mao after a decision to unleash the purge on the big city industries.

ACCUSE MAO'S WIFE

Large crowds in Peking assembled before a poster accusing Mao's wife, Chiang Ching, a leader of the purge, of sheltering reactionaries in two Peking universities and refusing to listen to foes of Mao who have turned over a new leaf. The 27 signers said they were reformed reactionaries.

One of President Liu's daughters, Liu Tao, accused her father of buying a gold belt with party funds for his ex-wife as a "consolation gift" and a gold shoehorn for himself.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi's wife, Railway Minister Lu Cheng-tsao and Agriculture Minister Chiang I-chen were paraded through Peking's streets as anti-Maoists on Tuesday.

Yang Hsiu-fent, president of the supreme court, has been expelled from the Communist party and ousted from his court post. An earlier report had said he attempted suicide.

NO NEW REPORTS

There were no new reports on the situation in Inner Mongolia, where a wall poster reported Wednesday that Vice Premier Ulanfu, longtime czar of the vast autonomous region, had turned army units under his command on the Maoists.

But Peking Radio said pro-Mao troops had successfully quelled stubbornly resisting partisans of Liu in the Manchurian industrial city of Pinkiang (Harbin).

Ulanfu's resistance in his sparsely populated area did not come as a surprise. He had been denounced on several occasions as an enemy of Mao. Wall posters said he was against "the inflow of the Han (Chinese) race into Mongolia" and supported "a Mongolia for Mongolians."

The Tokyo Daily Yomiuri published photographs today of some of Mao's leading enemies — former army chief of staff Lo Jui-ching, ex-Culture Minister Lu Ting-yi, purged Peking Mayor Peng Chen, and Yang Shang-kun, director of the United Front Work Department — being abused and degraded before a rally in the capital early in January. The pictures first appeared in the Red Guard newspaper Combat on Jan. 18, Yomiuri said.

Wearing big name placards around the neck and gripped by soldiers, they were being treated in the manner usually reserved in China for criminals. Lo, said to have committed suicide later, was shown seated, his left leg apparently in a cast. He was reported to have broken it in an earlier attempt to kill himself.

On Supersonic Needs

Boeing Calls Air Confab

SEATTLE, Wash (AP) — Officials of major airports, airlines and aerospace organizations will meet here Jan. 31-Feb. 1 to discuss effects of extra large and supersonic jetliners on airport operations in the 1970s.

★ ★ ★

The host, Boeing Co., also has invited U. S. experts in transportation, immigration, agriculture, customs and finance.

★ ★ ★

Boeing, builder of the 490-passenger 747 and 1,800-mile-an-hour transports, called the conference to discuss airport space and other facilities the big new planes will require.

Cosponsors of the meeting are the International Air Transport Association and the Air Transport Association, in cooperation with Airport Operators' Council International.

TRAFFIC BOOM

The Seattle aerospace firm, largest commercial airplane builder in the world, has predicted air passenger traffic will increase 3½ times in the next ten years. It also says air cargo growth is expected to expand tenfold.

Antidraft Union Formed at MSU

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan State University chapter of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) last night organized an "antidraft union" opposing Selective Service laws.

The youths joined the antidraft group which will meet Sunday to discuss plans that an SDS spokesman said "could include blocking buses carrying persons to preinduction centers and breaking up tests being given to men seeking student deferments."

PLAYS FOR LEADER — Greg Dorow is the top scorer for Farmington's Inter-Lakes leading Falcons. Farmington defends its lofty standing at Pontiac Northern tomorrow night. A victory would just about assure the Falcons of the championship.

Huskies Home for I-L Game With Falcons

Farmington Can Take Long Stride Toward Title by Winning

Only the Huskies can't erase the 53-52 defeat they suffered Dec. 16 even if they manage to overcome Farmington tomorrow night in the PNH gym.

That lone blot on their league record could keep the Huskies from winning the Inter-Lakes League basketball championship outright.

Northern (3-1) must beat the Falcons (4-0) or forget about the title. A victory would give Farmington a two-game cushion and they could afford one slip against Waterford, Walled Lake or Stevenson.

PNH still has league games against the same three opponents and, like Farmington, isn't expected to stumble against them. That's what makes tomorrow night's encounter so important.

Waterford (2-2) will be home for a nonconference game with Mt. Clemens. Stevenson (0-4) invades Walled Lake (1-3).

After some early season juggling, Coach Dick Hall appears to have a set lineup for Northern. Don Hayward, Bob Traylor, Dana Coin, Craig Deaton and Mike Clancy probably will open against Farmington.

The Huskies actually have two No. 6 players. Stan Allison and Jack Brown rate right along with the all junior starting lineup. The addition of Archie Powell to the varsity gives the Huskies added depth.

Farmington has three players who have carried the scoring load in a 7-3 season.

TOP SCORER

Greg Dorow is the leader with a 17.1 average. He has been in double figures every game. After a slow start, 6-4 center Mike Ames has come on strong in the scoring department and has a 10.8 mark. Tom Wirtz is at 10.9.

George Grimala is another key performer who started fast, but has tapered off in point production.

Waterford is riding a two-game winning streak and has a score to settle with Mt. Clemens. The Bathers whipped Waterford 71-60 at Mt. Clemens in an earlier meeting.

Mt. Clemens currently is the Eastern Michigan League leader and is favored to take the championship. A win for Waterford would help the prestige of the I-L.

Although Walled Lake has a 3-8 record, the Vikings have already posted one more win than last season and are favored to chalk up another against winless Stevenson.

The Livonia school was a 61-58 loser to Walled Lake in December and could very well claim its initial Inter-Lakes success against the Vikings.

SHARPSHOOTER — Although he is the No. 6 player, Jack Brown has one of the best shooting eyes on the Pontiac Northern basketball team. The Huskies play Farmington tomorrow night.

Ruffing's Not Ruffled

NEW YORK (AP) — "There's not much I can do about it," said Red Ruffing when they told him the news. "I'm not going to worry."

Ruffing, the former great pitcher for the New York Yankees, narrowly missed being elected to baseball's Hall of Fame Wednesday. He finished in a tie with Joe Medwick, former outfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals, with 212 votes, just seven short of the number needed for election.

Roy Campanella, former catcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, was a close third with 204 votes. For election, a player had to receive 75 per cent of the 292 votes cast by baseball writers.

A run-off between the top 31 vote-getters will be held in February and with a reduced field, Ruffing, Medwick or Campanella would seem to have a good chance of election. Barring a tie, only one player can be elected in the run-off.

The balloting next month will be Ruffing's last chance for election by writers to the Hall, since eligiblity for election ends 20 years after retirement. Ruffing left the majors in 1947 after 22 seasons in which he compiled a career record of 273 victories, 255 losses and a 7-2 World Series mark.

Medwick, 55, had a lifetime average of .324 in a 17-year career and was the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1937.

Bengals Sign Slugger Cash

First Baseman Okays Pact for $43,000

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran first baseman Norm Cash Thursday signed his 1967 contract with the Detroit Tigers, reportedly for $43,000, a hike of about $10,000 over last year.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Only outfielder Al Kaline has a better deal with the Tigers. Kaline is paid a reported $55,000.

GOOD YEAR

Last season Cash had his best year since 1961. He hit 32 homers, best since his 39 of 1962, while batting .279, driving in 92 runs and collecting 168 hits.

★ ★ ★

Also signed Thursday were pitchers Larry Sherry and Fred Gladding and catcher Orlando McFarlane. In addition, the Tigers signed three rookies, pitchers Bill Butler and Pay Dobson and infielder Dave Campbell.

WOLL Quintet Upset by Last-Second Shot

A running hook shot by John Dietlin from 17 feet out with one second remaining carried Marine City Holy Cross to an upset 48-47 victory over Waterford Our Lady of Lakes last night in a Macomb Parochial League contest.

The WOLL loss assured Pontiac St. Michael (10-0) of at least a share of the title with only two games to go. WOLL (8-2) can tie by winning its final two games providing the Mikemen drop their final two outings.

Dietlin's big basket gave him 18 points for the evening and enabled Holy Cross to run its record to 6-4.

WOLL, down 29-21 at halftime, rallied in the third to take a 35-34 lead, and the Lakers held a 47-46 margin with 12 seconds left.

Dietlin took the toss in, drove down the side and turned loose a long hook shot which ripped the net for the deciding basket.

LA Open Golf Starts; Error Mars Pro-Am

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 41st annual Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament, with a purse of $100,000, was ready to get under way today following a classic foul-up in the pro-amateur prelude.

Arnold Palmer was back to defend the title he earned last year and won once before, in 1963. So were U.S. Open champion Bill Casper and the Masters champion, Jack Nicklaus, neither of whom has won this one.

The Big Three — there is no Big Four since Gary Player is not on deck — dominate the scene at the 6,821-yard, par-36-35—71 Rancho golf course.

The pro-am event Wednesday turned into a shambles, and scores of all the professionals were erased. It seems a greenskeeper — kindly he was not identified — moved the position of several cups after play began.

Under PGA rules this meant that some pros, in effect, played one course, and the others, another course.

Mountaineers Defeat Titans in Final Half

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., (AP) — A 26-point second half by Dave Reaser led West Virginia to a 97-84 come-from-behind basketball victory over Detroit Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The 6-foot-6 Reaser, hitting 32 points, sparked the Mountaineers to their ninth victory in 14 games.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, which has lost eight games in a row and has a 5-10 record, opened up leads of as much as 12 points in the first half.

The Titans held a 44-38 lead at the intermission, but relinquished on an 18-foot jump shot by Reaser which made the score 48-46.

★ ★ ★

Playing with only five men all the way, Detroit knotted the score several times until the Mountaineers went ahead to stay with a six-point spurt with five minutes remaining.

Rangers' All Stars Sparkle

By Associated Press

It was Harry Howell Night in New York and the Ranger defenseman was loaded down with loot. Caught up in the spirit of the occasion, the Boston Bruins gave Eddie Giacomin a pile of rubber.

Both Howell and Giacomin, unanimous first team National Hockey League All Star choices, bore up under their burdens admirably.

Howell, playing in his 1,003rd NHL game, assisted on New York's first goal and played a major role in helping Giacomin stand off the Bruins in the final minute as New York won a squeaker, 2-1 Wednesday night.

CEREMONIES

Howell was the subject of pregame ceremonies and showered with what the Rangers called the largest number of gifts ever given in pro hockey by his admirers.

The real surprise for Howell came when old teammates Red Sullivan and Lou Fontinato hopped out of the new car he received.

After two scoreless periods, Goyette put the Rangers in front before Bucyk scored for the Bruins. Then Nevin regained the lead for New York and the Bruins pressured Giacomin, trying for the tying goal.

The slumping Maple Leafs dropped seven points back of New York and only three in front of Montreal. Yvan Cournoyer, Claude Larose and Gilles Tromblay scored Montreal's goals. While Dave Keon had Toronto's only goal.

The Black Hawks and Rangers, battling for the National Hockey League lead most of the season, have split the six first team All Star berths down the middle.

SPLIT BERTHS

Each club grabbed three berths on the first half All Star squad with New York goalie Ed Giacomin and defenseman Harry Howell and Chicago center Stan Mikita unanimous choices in the balloting by sports writers and broadcasters in the six NHL cities.

The other Black Hawks chosen were Bobby Hull at left wing and Pierre Pilote on defense. The third Ranger selection was right winger Rod Gilbert.

Every club in the league had one man chosen on the second team, the first time in seven years that's happened.

Giacomin, Howell and Mikita each polled the maximum 90 points. Hull received 84 points, Gilbert 80 and Pilote 70 in the voting.

U.S. Franchise Holders Given Soccer Teams

NEW YORK (AP)—Two British soccer teams were awarded to North American Soccer League franchise holders yesterday and will be brought to this country to play after the English season closes.

The Stoke City team of Staffordshire, England, was awarded to Cleveland, and the Aberdeen, Scotland, club was awarded to Washington. Other affiliations are to be announced later.

Lakeland Six Scores Upset

Bill Rollo's third-period goal brought the Lakeland Hawks a 2-1 upset win over the Waterford Rangers last night in a junior hockey game at Cranbrook.

Rollo's goal broke a tie forged by earlier scores off the sticks of the Rangers' Steve Parker and Lakeland's Mike McGraw. Larry Schneider was the Hawks' stingy netminder.

The Southeast Michigan Hockey Association contest marked the start of the second halg schedule for the Juvenile Division teams. Waterford defeated Lakeland, 4-2, during the first half of the season.

The Hawks will visit Grosse Pointe 6 p.m. Saturday.

Pirates' Clemente in $100,000 Class

by The Associated Press

Roberto Clemente has joined the select group of $100,000 a year major league baseball players.

The National League's Most Valuable Player in 1966 signed Wednesday to play again for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are expected by many to win the 1967 pennant.

Eddie Mathews, recently traded to Houston by Atlanta, signed a reported $50,000 contract with the Astros in another star signing Wednesday.

Spartan 6 Away

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's hockey team, in sixth place in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association, meets seventh-place Minnesota-Duluth Friday and Saturday at Duluth. MSU has a 4-7-1 league record. The Bulldogs have a 3-8-0 mark.

Rochester Battles for 3rd

Clarkston Eyes Help

Clarkston goes to Bloomfield Hills tomorrow night looking for victory No. 9 and some help in the Wayne-Oakland basketball race.

While the first place Wolves are trying for their second win of the season over Bloomfield Hills, they will be hoping for improved Milford to down runner-up Northville.

* * *

Although hard-pressed in a couple of games, the Mustangs have lost only to Clarkston in league play and hope to reverse the decision at home Feb. 10.

Northville topped Milford earlier in the season at the Redskins' gym and are favored to repeat the triumph, However, Milford has given indications it is ready to get rolling and an upset over the Mustangs wouldn't be too great a surprise.

Holly, its title hopes all but blacked out by Brighton Tuesday, could be in for more trouble at West Bloomfield. Clarenceville plays at Brighton in the other W-O game tomorrow.

Bloomfield Hills plays at Milford and Northville is at Clarenceville Saturday.

Last season it was stop Dan Fife and you stop Clarkston. This no longer is true. Bloomfield Hills will have to watch sharpshooting Randy Nicoson in addition to holding Fife in check.

And Tom Allen has proved he can score 20 points in a game.

Rochester goes to Clawson where the Falcons hope to pull into a third place tie in the Oakland A League by beating their host.

Madison plays at Avondale in a game that will determine which team holds the next to last spot ahead of cellar dwelling Lake Orion.

There appears to be little hope for Orion because second place Cousino invades the Dragons' court.

Tri-County Deadlocks Near End

Two ties will be broken in the Tri-County League basketball race tomorrow night.

Romeo invades Oxford with the winner emerging in possession of second place. The loser of the L'Anse Creuse at Lapeer game will occupy the basement.

In last night's action, Oxford (5-6) dropped a 77-66 decision to Warren Woods.

Oxford (2-2) downed the Bulldogs 81-72 at Romeo (2-2) in the first meeting this season, but the Wildcats could be in for trouble. Romeo has won four of its last five, including the last two on the road.

Lapeer's only league win was an 83-52 pasting of L'Anse (1-3) at Mt. Clemens. The Panthers (1-3) are favored to move into fourth place.

★ ★ ★

Ortonville tries to move up the ladder in the Genesee Suburban C League in a home game against Hartland. The Black Hawks have been improving steadily although their record is only 2-7.

★ ★ ★

One of the victories was over league leading Lake Fenton. They lost at Hartland, 66-53, earlier in the season.

Oxford was down 41-20 at halftime and couldn't recover despite a 46-point second half. Roger Miller led the losers with 16 points. Ralph Perkins tossed in 26 for the winners.

Table Tennis Exhibition Set

Midwestern Baptist Schools will have an exhibition of table tennis at 7 p.m. Saturday as a benefit program for the Dormitory Building Fund drive.

A team of Pontiac all stars will meet some of Detroit's leading players in several matches, plus demonstrations of table tennis technique and skills.

Arranged by Perc Secord—a leading figure in state and Pontiac table tennis competition for years — the program will include Jerry Saunders, Al Magnus, Howard Heckman, Dick Kirby, Ben Baker and Carol Wolverton representing Pontiac.

They all have local, state or national titles to their credit. The Detroit delegation will have Barbara and George Payatelis, Graham Steenhoven, George Buben, Jim Rushford, Sam Veillete and Bob Rutherford.

Taller Penta 5 Blasts Auburn

Auburn Hills Campus of Oakland Community College couldn't offset the superior height of visiting Penta Tech from Ohio and dropped a 104-73 decision.

Penta controlled the backboards at will. Every starter for the Ohioans — who averaged 6-3 — was taller than the Nikes' tallest starter.

Auburn trailed, 48-30, at intermission. Penta's Tom Penix, a 6-2 prep All-Stater from Toledo, led all scorers with 31 points and have fine support from four teammates who reached twin figures.

Cage Druggists Remain Undefeated

Drayton Drug led all the way in remaining unbeaten and atop the Waterford Township American League men's recreation basketball race Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Powell Trucking's second win was a 76-67 conquest of winless Day's Sanitary in a game that was tied 14 times before Powell pulled away from a 59-all deadlock.

In Pontiac National League action, Local 653 outdueled McDonald's Drive-In, 71-67, aided by a big first half. Orchard Lanes forfeited to Lee's Lawn Center in the International loop contest.

Dick Miller hit 30 points and Rod Lyons 21 for Day's but it wasn't enought to prevent Powell's victory behind Jim Nyberg's 26 and Ron Lundy's 22. Jack Lundy added 14.

John Herrington (24 points), John Keller (19) and Bill Gappy (18) paced Spencer's win; while Local 653's success was led by John Fowler (26), Cully Craft (19) and Dale Craft (18).

★ ★ ★

Winter Schedule Heavy

Upper and northern Lower Peninsula ski resorts continue to have active programs as the season enters the midway phase of what has been an excellent winter for the snow-minded.

The Midwest Regional College Ski championships are slated for Sugar Loaf Mountain near Cedar this weekend. Michigan, Michigan State, Notre Dame and Central Michigan are among the numerous schools listed to compete.

The alpine events will be at Pine Mountain, and the nordic competition will be at nearby Miron Ski Bowl. An awards banquet will cap the activity.

All skiers ages 8-13 interested in entering the championships should contact their local jaycee organization or Doug Nord at Iron Mountain, 906-774-1257

CARNIVAL

Mount Pleasant's Chamber of Commerce will hold its first Winter Carnival Feb. 4-12. Snowmobile races will open the festivities.

There also will be a week-long fishing contest, fox hunts, sled dog races, junior speedskating, ice hockey, plus other spontaneous activities.

Crystal Mountain near Thompsonville still has ski week reservations available for Feb. 5-10 and 12-17. The details can be arranged by calling Denny Johnson collect at 616-378-2000.

Speed Skating Slated

PETOSKEY (AP) — The 15th annual Northern Michigan Speed Skating Championships will be held at Petoskey's Winter Sports Park Feb. 4-5. Ed White, meet director, predicted there would be 200 competitors and possibly 1,000 spectators.

Group Bares Plan to Alter Ski Operation

CADILLAC (AP) — Plans are underway to convert the 580-acre ski area at nearby Caberfae into a private corporation.

The resort, located in the Manistee National Forest, will need approval of the U.S. Forest Service to conclude the proposal.

Caberfae, one of the largest ski resorts in the Midwest handling 3,500 skiers a day on peak weekends, now is operated as a nonprofit corporation by the Cadillac Area Chamber of Commerce and the Caberfae Ski Club.

Directors of the combined group say the present corporate structure prevents obtaining the financing needed to expand the resort.

Caberfae has 35 slopes, 22 T-bars and rope tows, but needs new chair lifts, revamping of old ski tows and modern buildings and other equipment to remain competitive with other ski resorts in Michigan.

U.S. Netter Gains Aussie Semifinals

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., easily gained the men's singles semifinals of the Australian Tennis Championships today but American teammate Cliff Richey of Dallas was eliminated in his quarter-final match after a valiant marathon struggle.

Ashe kept U.S. title hopes alive by overwhelming Australia's Own Davidson 6-1, 6-3, 6-2 with a sparkling performance.

The resurgent Richey put up a tremendous fight before losing in five sets to Australian Davis Cup player Tony Roche. The scores were 10-8, 7-5, 4-6, 5-7, 6-1.

Local Ski Outlook Dim; Some U.P. Resorts Open

Only one has any skiing and most have very little snow.

Mount Holly made snow Wednesday night and reopened at noon today.

The other resorts are starting generally with bare ground in their attempts to reopen for skiing.

The refreshment facilities at most of them are still operating. In all cases, a maximum of two days' freezing temperatures are sufficient to make enough snow to resume skiing.

Should today's predicted snowfall materialize, the resorts still will need a day's time to groom and finish readying the slopes.

About the only cheering was at a few resorts in West Upper Michigan where excellent conditions were brought about by a recent snowfall.

Ailing Coach Gains in Pneumonia Bout

YPSILANTI (AP) — George Marshall, 65, track and cross country coach at Eastern Michigan University, remained hospitalized in Ypsilanti today. Marshall entered the hospital last week, suffering from virus pneumonia. Doctors said his condition had improved. Last fall, Marshall's cross country team won the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics championship. He is due to retire this summer.

Ice Races Lure Cass Lake Crew

Cass Lake's Ice Yacht Club will have 10 members "tacking its sails" this weekend at the National DN Class championships near Bath, N.Y., if the predicted cold weather materializes.

The men are leaving today and tomorrow for the lake region of south central New York. Among them is Cass Lake's "Ro" Redner, the defending national champion.

Italians on Hand for Ski Competition

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Cross country skiers from Italy and the United States meet at the Holiday ski area Feb. 1 for what the U.S. Ski Association calls the most important Nordic event ever held in Michigan.

Members of the Italian relay team which placed third in the 1966 Olympic world championships will compete with USSA skiers and the U.S. Army ski team.

Meeting Short and Sweet

School Board Dismissed Early

The Pontiac Board of Education meeting was literally short and sweet last night.

The regular public session was over in 39 minutes.

During their deliberations, board members were served birthday cake to celebrate the second anniversary of the move into the school district administration building at 350 E. Wide Track.

Adding to the festive air was a report on the approval of a project which could bring a possible $136,700 federal grant to the school district.

★ ★ ★

Assistant Schools Supt. William J. Lacy said he was extremely pleased with the success of the proposal because "It's pretty difficult to get Title III projects approved."

FINANCIAL AID

Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 provides financial backing for experimental school programs.

Pontiac's project for the improvement of pupil self concept was designed by B. C. VanKoughnett, school community action director.

Aimed at changing the emphasis from the academic to the psychological factors involved in the motivation of children, the program will be planned during this academic year and summer, VanKoughnett said.

★ ★ ★

It will be initiated at a yet-to-be-chosen school in September, he said.

DETERMINATION

With the project approved last week, VanKoughnett now will negotiate a budget to determine the size of the federal grant.

The Birmingham firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., was picked to study the 52-year-old facility and make recommendations regarding its future use.

★ ★ ★

Commenting on the briefness of last night's meeting, Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer noted that January and the first part of February traditionally is a slump period for boards of education.

ATTENDANCE

There were few items requiring board action. Also, board attendance hit a rare low last night.

Mrs. Lucille D. Marshall is convalescing from an automobile accident injury and Dr. Robert R. Turpin is out of the city.

★ ★ ★

Blaze Strikes Unoccupied Area House

★ ★ ★

Damage to the one-story frame house, which was unoccupied, was estimated at $1,000 to the building and $200 to the contents.

★ ★ ★

Fire fighters answered the call at 10:51 p.m. and remained at the scene for 74 minutes.

Britain's construction industry plans to use the meteric system of measurements by 1973.

JACOBY

One of the interesting features of this year's American team is that while the three pairs all play some version of standard American, they play three widely different versions. Edgar Kaplan and Norman Kay a weak no-trump opening when not vulnerable, which explains how Edgar found himself as declarer at a four spade contract in their all-important semi-final match against Rapee and Lazard.

Lazard made the good opening lead of the three of clubs against this contract and it was up to Edgar to show his mettle by making the hand.

The play is interesting as an example of expert technique. The seven, nine and king of clubs went on the first trick. Edgar drew three rounds of trumps to finish in his own hand, then led the six of clubs. After Lazard played the deuce dummy's eight lost to the East's jack.

Rapee returned a diamond. Kaplan took his ace and king and led a third club to dummy's ace. Then he led dummy's last club. Rapee was allowed to hold the trick with his queen as Edgar discarded his nine of diamonds.

Rapee was down to hearts and had to lead to dummy's king to give Edgar the contract trick.

Two declarers played and made three no-trump from the North seat when the queen of clubs was opened. One other South made four spades when West was kind enough to open a heart for him.

The other four spade declarers failed to discover the throw-in play and went down one.

Edgar's fine play only represented a three IMP gain but the swing was 10 International Match Points since he would have lost seven if he had gone down.

Soil Talks Set

ROSCOMMON (AP)—A public meeting will be held Feb. 13 to consider organizing a soil conservation district for Crawford and Roscommon counties. The State Soil Conservation Commission said formation of a new district would leave only Wayne and Oceana counties without a soil conservation district.

NY Gravediggers OK Contract, Go Back to Work

NEW YORK (UPI) — Some 1,700 gravediggers went back to their jobs today, ending a three-week strike at 39 cemeteries in the New York metropolitan area.

The men, members of Local 365, Gravediggers and Green Attendants Union, voted yesterday to accept a new three-year contract providing for weekly pay increases of $6 in each year. Under the old contract, they received $108.50.

Operators of heavy equipment got a weekly increase of $12 in the first year and $6 in each of the following two years. They had earned $118.50 weekly.

The strike, which began Jan. 2, nearly created a health emergency in the city because of the backlog of bodies. During the strike about 1,800 bodies were stored in vaults, tents and morgues.

Affected in the strike were 39 Roman Catholic, Jewish and nonsectarian cemeteries in the metropolitan area.

Around the world and here at home, our trials of strength, our works of peace, our quest for justice, our search for knoledge and understanding, our efforts to enrich our environment are buttressed by an amazing productive power.

★ ★ ★

An average of 74 million persons were at work in 1966 — two million more than in 1965.

GOODS, SERVICES

The value of our total production of goods and services in 1966 was $740 billion — $58 billion, or 8½ per cent, higher than in 1965. More of the increase than we wanted represented higher prices. Still, the gain was nearly 5½ per cent after correction for price changes.

Corporate profits after taxes advanced more than 8 per cent; per dollar of sale they were roughly unchanged from the high rate of 1965. Net income per farm rose more than 10 per cent.

The single most meaningful measure of economic well-being is real disposable income per person — the after-tax purchasing power in stable dollars, available on the average to every man, woman, and child. It rose 3½ per cent of $89 per person in 1966.

February 1961 launched the strongest and most durable economic expansion in our economic annals, and it still continues.

STILL PROBLEMS

Prosperity is everywhere evident. But prosperity is never without problems, and—in 1966 — some of them were serious.

1. Economic progress still left far too many behind.

Nearly three million workers were without jobs at the end of 1966.

Another half million to one million potential workers were not even counted as unemployed. Many had long ago abandoned any search for a job. Some had never tried.

But even among those worked year-round, some two million breadwinners — particularly the low-skilled with large families—earned incomes insufficient to support a minimum standard of decent subsistence.

UNABLE TO WORK

And six-and-a-half million families were poor because the heads of their households were unable to work: either aged, severely handicapped, or a widowed or deserted mother with young children.

2. Price increases — although less than in many comparable periods — still were greater than we wanted or should long tolerate.

★ ★ ★

Some can be traced to imbalances created by the special pressures of Vietnam procurement and booming private investment.

STEADIER PACE

Some price increases would still have occurred had we moved at a steadier pace.

But these price increases have come slowly enough and have been small enough not to threaten a chain reaction of wages chasing other wages — wages chasing prices — prices chasing wages — and prices chasing other prices.

It is the spiral we must and can avoid. But it will require responsible action on the part of all.

3. Achieving equilibrium in our balance of payments remained a problem, in spite of strong new measures.

TIGHT MONEY

4. Tight money and high interest rates concentrated the burden of restraint on housing.

Interst rates in 1966 were as high as at any time in 40 years.

The brakes applied last year worked. But tight money worked painfully and inequitably. It cut construction by more than $8 billion during 1966. Its impact was equivalent to a heavy across-the-board tax increase, but with most of its effect concentrated on a single industry.

We will move this year toward solutions for these problems and others. But they cannot all be completely solved in 1967.

BURDEN LIFTED

Now that the economy's advance is again more moderate, the burden of tight money is being lifted. Interest rates are still extremely high — but they are moving down from their peaks. We should have our housing industry moving smartly forward by the end of 1967, and ready for one of its best years in 1968.

★ ★ ★

The advance of prices had already begun to slow . . . price stability cannot be restored overnight. But we will be making good progress toward price stability this year.

★ ★ ★

We have recently announced stronger voluntary balance of payments programs for 1967. Our policies to constrain economic expansion to a sustainable pace should permit an improved export surplus.

I am now recommending further steps to strengthen our external payments, yet so long as we remain heavily engaged in Southeast Asia, we will have a balance of payments problem.

MAINTAIN DRIVE

We will continue to attack poverty and deprivation.

In the year ahead, we are determined to maintain a moderate advance; we need no further slowdown; we can tolerate no new spirit of demand. After midyear, the tax increase I have proposed and a more moderate growth of federal spending will increase the freedom of monetary policy to support expansion. I am confident that the opportunity will be used.

★ ★ ★

The specific fiscal program I am recommending includes:

— A surcharge of 6 per cent on the tax liabilities of individuals, exempting persons in the lowest income brackets;

— the same 6 per cent surcharge on the tax liabilities of corporations.

EXTRA REVENUES

The surcharge will provide for $5.1 billion of extra revenues in fiscal year 1968 on a national income accounts basis, substantially offsetting the expansion of $5.8 billion in defense purchases.

We have fashioned a fiscal program for sustainable expansion. With the program, we now see a rise of about $47 billion in our GNP in 1967 — a growth dividend close to 4 per cent in real terms.

As the flow of goods and services to consumers expands, the ability of our elderly citizens to share in these gains will be supported by a rise of more than $6 billion in Social Security and Medicare payments.

In 1967, we will have no bonus dividend from using previously idle resources. But the dividend from growth alone is a big one. We must be sure we get it; and we must use it wisely.

PRICE STABILITY

From the beginning of 1961 until 1965, the United States enjoyed both price stability and a strongly expanding economy. Last year, that record was blemished. Consumer prices rose 2.9 per cent between 1965 and 1966, wholesale prices 3.2 per cent.

Restoring price stability is one of our major tasks. It will not be accomplished all at once, or all in 1967. That could be done — if at all — only at the cost of mass unemployment, idle machines, and intolerable economic waste. But a gradual return to stability can go hand in hand with steady economic advance.

★ ★ ★

Such an improvement will require:

—Prudent fiscal and monetary policies;

—Government efforts to help relieve the key points of pressure on prices;

—The responsible conduct of those in business and labor who have the power to make price and wage decisions.

Once again, I appeal to business and labor — in their own interest and that of the nation — for the utmost restraint and responsibility in wage and price decisions.

The current year is a critical one for our international economic policies and for the economic progress of the world community.

★ ★ ★

The administration is committed to reducing barriers to international trade.

The Kennedy round of trade negotiations is now entering its final and most critical phase. Never before has there been such a splendid opportunity to increase world trade. It must not be lost.

NOT THE END

But the Kennedy round is not the end of the road. We must begin to shape a trade policy for the next decade that is responsive to the needs of both the less developed and the advanced countries.

We should seize every opportunity to build and enlarge bridges of peaceful exchanges with the countries of eastern Europe and the Soviet Union. I again urge the Congress to provide authority to expand our trade relations with eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

The United States will continue to respond constructively to the aspirations of the developing nations.

There should, however, be increasing efforts to make both the receiving and giving of aid a matter for creative international partnership.

SATISFACTION

We can take some satisfaction in the fact that our balance of payments in 1966 may prove to have been in surplus on official reserve settlements. Despite the added costs of the war in Vietnam and the rapid growth of imports, our deficit on a liquidity basis increased only slightly in 1966.

I now recommend:

1. The Congress should extend the interest equalization tax, in strengthened form, to July 31, 1969. This tax has proved extremely useful in limiting the borrowing of developed countries in our capital markets and in reinforcing the federal reserve voluntary program. I am therfore requesting authority to adjust the rates of the interest equalization tax as monetary conditions warrant, so that the effective impact on interest costs can be varied between zero and 2 per cent. This would replace the present flat 1 per cent impact.

★ ★ ★

2. The most satisfactory way to arrest the increasing gap between American travel abroad and foreign travel here is not to limit the former but to stimulate and encourage the latter. I shall appoint a special industry-government task force to make specific recommendations by May 1, 1967, on how the federal government can best stimulate foreign travel to the United States.

3. Continuation and expansion by $4.5 billion of the lending authority of the Export-Import bank in order to support the expansion of exports.

POVERTY DEMISE

The United States is the first large nation in the history of the world healthy enough to end poverty within its borders. There are many fronts in the war on poverty. We are moving forward on them all.

Completely new proposals for guaranteeing minimum incomes are now under discussion. They range from a "negative income tax" to a complete restructing of public assistance to a program of residual public employment for all who lack private jobs. I intend to establish a commission of leading Americans to examine the many proposals and report in two years to me and the American people.

★ ★ ★

Our system of public assistance is now 30 years old and has obvious faults. The standards of need set by many states are unrealistically low; benefits are further restricted by excessively stringent eligibility conditions. In some respects, the system perpetuates dependency.

It is time to raise payments toward more acceptable levels.

OWN DEFINITION

As a first step, I ask the Congress to require that each state's payments at least meet its own definition of need; and that its definition should be kept up to date annually as conditions change.

I shall ask the Congress for funds to support a new and special effort to train and find jobs for the disadvantaged who live in urban ghettos.

Our system of unemployment insurance was created in a world of massive unemployment. The needs of a high employment economy are different. Today, when jobs are available, the jobless who exhaust their benefits typically need training, guidance, or other supportive services.

Therefore, I am asking the Congress to consider legislation to provide such services in conjunction with extended benefits to the long-term unemployed, to extend the protection of the system to additional workers, to establish more uniformly adequate benefits, and to correct abuses.

NOT OBSOLETE

The American city is not obsolete; it is still a great engine for economic and social progress. But cities are in trouble, threatened by congestion, pollution, crime, poverty, racial tension, slums, and blight.

I have just appointed a commission, under the chairmanship of Sen. Paul H. Douglas, to work with the Department of Housing and Urban Development to examine problems of codes, zoning, taxation, and development standards and to recommend ways to increase the supply of low-cost housing. I am convinced that this study can make a major contribution to the solution of urban problems.

Last year, the Congress enacted the pathbreaking model cities legislation. The federal government will help cities to focus all available programs on their needs — eventually to overwhelm the problems that have heretofore overwhelmed the cities. I seek increased appropriations for all of these programs.

Growth in the number and incomes of American families will require us to build about 2 million new houses a year for the next decade, most of them in and around cities. We are now moving into a period of renewel homebuilding. I look for construction to rise briskly during 1967. . .

BRIGHTENING

This year will be a brightening one for the housing industry; it can also be a landmark year in the progress and evolution of our cities...

Our tax system ... is unsurpassed by any other tax system in the world today.

Nevertheless, it can be improved. As they now stand, our tax laws impose undue burdens on some and grant unfair benefits to others...

I therefore plan to submit proposals to the Congress to improve the equity of our tax system and reduce economic distortions...

As one specific reform, I will urge changes to deal with abuses by tax-exempt private foundations...

RENEWALS

I renew four recommendations made in my economic report of 1966 and not acted upon by the 89th Congress:

—A fair system of changes for users of highways, aviation facilities, and inland waterways.

—Truth-in-lending legislation, to provide consumers with a full and clear statement of the true cost of credit.

—Stronger regulation of savings and loan holding companies.

—Provision of federal charters for mutual savings banks, to enlarge and strengthen our system of thrift institutions.

Total holdings in the nation's stockpile of strategic and critical materials now stand at $6.5 billion. Of this amount, $3.4 billion are excess to our defense needs as presently determined. I will ask the Congress for authority to dispose of additional stockpile excesses, bringing to about $2 billion the present value of excess stockpile material available for disposal.

★ ★ ★

Despite all our efforts for an honorable peace in Vietnam, the war continues. I cannot predict when it will end. Thus our plans must assume its long duration.

★ ★ ★

But when the welcome day of peace arrives, we will need quick adjustments in our economic policies. We must be prepared for those adjustments, ready to act rapidly —both to avoid interruption of our prosperity and to take full and immediate advantage of our opportunities.

★ ★ ★

Accordingly, I am instructing the heads of the relevant agencies in the executive branch, under the leadership of the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, to begin at once a major and coordinated effort to review our readiness.

★ ★ ★

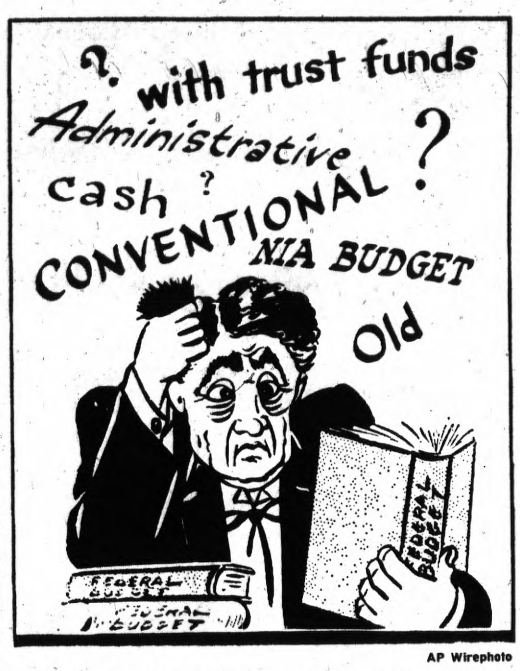

Our task for 1967 is to sustain further sound and rewarding economic progress while we move toward solutions for the problems we met in 1966. It will require a flexible and delicate balance of economic policies.

★ ★ ★

Above all, we must guard against any interruption of our prosperity.

PLENTY OF VERSIONS — High government finance running into the billions is enough to confuse anyone, but now there are three versions of the annual U.S. government accounting of revenue and expenditures. Congress sets its sights on the "old budget" — lacking trust fund figures — but in other reckoning, these extra accounts must be considered.

FARM, FOOD PRICES—This chart, based on U.S. Labor Department statistics and taken from the annual report of the Council of Economic Advisers appended to President Johnson's economic report to the Congress, shows the fluctuation of farm and food prices for the past six years. The average for 1957-59 equals 100.

Labor Tells Johnson: Not Tied to Formula

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Big labor asserted today that "the needs of our people," not President Johnson's pleas for wage restraint, will determine labor's contract demands in 1967.

"We're not bound by a formula or percentage," an AFL-CIO spokesman said in response to Johnson's economic report to Congress. "Our demands will be strictly based on the needs of our people."

Another leading labor spokesman said simply: "Our only formula will be the strength of the union against the company's ability to pay."

The call for moderation was issued today by the President and his Council of Economic Advisers in their annual report on the nation's economic health.

★ ★ ★

Both the council and Johnson warned labor that trying to recover wages lost through last year's inflation would only add to the wage-price spiral and fail in the end.

UNREALISTIC

But the council conceded it would be unrealistic to expect labor not to try to make up for some of last year's 3 per cent over-all rise in the cost of living.

It suggested that if labor insisted on trying to recoup, an acceptable approach might be taking the average annual increase (3.2 per cent) in the rate of national productivity and adding on something "substantially less" than the 3 per cent cost of living increase.

This formula, the AFL-CIO spokesman made clear, was unacceptable.

One labor source also took issue with the council's demand that labor drop its attempts to tie wages with the nation's major cost of living indicator.

He said it was inconsistent for the council to appreciate labor's desire to recover last year's effective wage cuts caused by rising living costs, but not sympathize with its desire to keep up with living costs this year.

The effect of tying wage contracts to cost of living changes is to make the buying power of the laborer's take home pay constant regardless of price fluctuations.

★ ★ ★

It was widely violated and vigorously criticized, even within the administration. Labor was piqued that no similar rigid formula was put on management's price increases or profits.

Buoyed by Interest Cut

Stock Market Begins a Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market began a rally early this afternoon following news that a big New York City bank had cut its basic interest rate. Trading was heavy.

The market was lower in the morning as it continued a "correction" of the strong 1967 rise which did not encounter a clear-cut decline until yesterday.

News that the British Bank rate has been cut to 6½ per cent from 7 per cent prompted a rise in the bond market and re-emphasized the trend toward lower interest rates, a factor which has helped stock prices considerably this year.

Additional stimulation was given stock prices by news that the Chase Manhattan Bank is cutting its prime interest rate on business loans to 5½ per cent from 6 per cent, effective tomorrow. Stocks began to turn around and climb rapidly on this news.

Prices were mixed in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Astrodata sank 3 points. Down about a point were Flying Tiger, Lighting Corp. of America and Williams Brothers. Diversified Metals added about 2 points. Ahead a point or so were Barnes Engineering, Computer Sciences, Digital Equipment and Duval. Gains of about 2 were scored by Allied Controls and Solitron Devices.

Quasars Pose Enigma for Astronomers

By Science Service

NEW YORK — The quasars are crazier than ever. The source of tremendous energy, both in light and radio waves, these objects have puzzled scientists since their discovery in 1963.

★ ★ ★

Scientists meeting here to discuss them find they are learning more, but understanding less about how these strange objects are fueled and how far away they are from the Milky Way system in which the sun and its planets, including Earth, are located. At first quasars were thought to be the universe's most distant objects; now researchers can't agree on whether they are near or far.

Three new observations for which no explanation has yet been suggested were reported here to a Symposium on Relativistic Astrophysics.

One finding is that quasars appear to have a tendency to concentrate near the galactic poles, which are the same thing to the Milky Way system as the North and South Poles are to Earth. But the astrophysicists are not yet sure what this means.

★ ★ ★

Even more mysterious is the discovery of a quasar that shows different distances depending on how its light is measured.

MEASURING DISTANCE

Astronomers have long computed the distances to far-away stars and to the much more distant galaxies by checking on the red shifts in their light. Light from a receding object shows redder than light from an approaching one. They interpret a high red shift as meaning that the object is much more distant than one showing a smaller red shift.

24th of Month Unsafe for Safe

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — The Tunnel and Rock Workers Union may have to send its cash assets to the bank on the 24th of each month.

On May 24, 1966, burglars broke into the union's offices in downtown Vancouver, pried open the safe and escaped with $250. The union bought another safe.

On Sept. 24, 1966, burglars again broke into the office, smashed up the new safe, but didn't manage to get inside it. The union bought another safe.

On Jan. 24, this year, burglars broke in again and this time took the complete new 550-pound safe, and the $2,300 it contained.

The union hasn't decided if it will purchase a new one.

Clotheshorse?

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Police say a burglar made off with 300 men's suits Wednesday from a clothing store. The burglary took place across the street from the police station.

A-Smasher Site Awaiting Boom

Little Illinois Village Getting First Feelers

WESTON, Ill. (AP) — The sign serves as an economic lightning rod, waiting for the bolt of good fortune to strike.

The notice was nailed to a tree at the edge of a field a mile east of Weston, the hamlet chosen by the Atomic Energy Commission as the site for a $375-million atom smasher.

The real estate company reported it had had one telephone call since the AEC announcement Dec. 16. The caller was a woman. She didn't buy.

MANY RUMORS

It's the same with houses.

"Nobody's approached us yet," said Mrs. James Miolli, a home owner in Weston, "but there are many rumors floating around."

The village president, Arthur Theriault, a stocky, buoyant fellow, reported he has seen no scouts for industry. But he has received letters from 20 states. They came from people who would like to work for the AEC or for the village. They didn't know, apparently, that the village has no stores, offices, town hall or go-go joints and may be swept away—literally—by the winds of change.

★ ★ ★

There is a possibility, Theriault said, that the installation may extend to the railroad tracks, just east of town. In that case, he added, the village would have to move to the other side of the tracks. Maybe, he speculated, the community's 100 boxy houses could make the short trip.

That would bring Weston closer to West Chicago, a town of 8,000 which now would be a mile from downtown Weston, if there were a downtown Weston.

★ ★ ★

West Chicago Mayor John M. Downs, a onetime football player, reported trailer court interests have been looking about.

"Owners of periphery land ultimately will get more money than people in the smasher site area," Downs said.

Legendary Ravens Worth Extra Cost

LONDON (AP) — Rising costs have added 42 cents a week to the household budget of the Tower of London.

The extra money is for horsemeat.

The meat is for six captive ravens.

A legend going back centuries holds that the Tower and Britain with it will fall if the ravens depart.

The Tower budget is shared by a number of government departments, but as Britain's prime tourist attraction it pretty well pays for itself. The ravens and the legend behind them are part of that attraction.

One of the guards — known as Beefeaters — Henry Thomas Johns, was fresh out of the army in 1948 when he was appointed master of the ravens. They know his whistle, they know his footsteps as he approaches every morning to turn them loose from the cages and spread around a breakfast on the green lawns.

Lovers of carrion, the ravens gobble up the meat and sometimes bury some of it rather like a squirrel hides nuts. The older and more decomposed the meat gets, the better they like it.

EVIL-LOOKING

These evil-looking birds aren't pets by any means. They'd peck the queen if they got the chance. Their croak sounds like the very doom the ancient Tower once meant for so many unfortunates who lost their heads on the chopping block.

Every three months Johns clips their wings, which if left alone would spread four feet. Unable to fly, the ravens lurch drunkenly about the 18 acres of the Tower of London, croaking and pecking anything they choose — even the mortar in the cracks of some of the oldest walls.

★ ★ ★

Its role as a fortress established the legend of the ravens. The original fortress, known as the White Tower, was surrounded by woods 850 years ago and ravens flocked around it to gobble up the garbage the garrison heaved out.

In the 17th century, enemies of the restoration of Charles II crept up to Tower Hill one night to seize it, the king and power. Startled ravens set up such a croaking that the sentries were fully alerted.

Ky Returns; Junta Meets

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky returned tonight from a goodwill visit to Australia and New Zealand for an emergency meeting of the military junta that fired one of its leading members, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co, in his absence.

Fellow generals met Ky at the airport. Also on hand were U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and other members of the diplomatic corps and scores of Vietnamese dignitaries.

Co was dismissed Tuesday as defense minister and deputy premier while he was abroad, returning via Hong Kong from a goodwill visit to Nationalist China's government on Formosa.

Waterford Land-Fill Controversy Is Nearing Climax

By HUD WILLSE

That's when the Township Board conducts a public hearing on the merits and shortcomings of the proposed Maceday Lake Road sanitary land-fill operation and is expected to render a decision on whether to allow it.

The hearing in the Waterford Township High School cafeteria is expected to attract one of the largest gatherings ever to attend a Township Board meeting. The hearing is slated to begin at 7:30 p. m.

It's not an easy decision the Township Board faces. No matter which way the board members turns, there will be repercussions.

Even if the request for an operating permit is granted, the opposition—comprised largely of property owners living in the general area of the 50-acre site adjacent to Ward's Gravel Pit—are certain to continue their fight.

Their leaders claim they'll take the case to the courts, if necessary.

Since the widely used Cooley Lake Road land-fill operation was voluntarily shut down earlier this month, the heavily populated township has been without a disposal site.

In rebellion, some of the dump's erstwhile customers have unloaded their trash in roadside ditches and other inappropriate public places.

RIGID STATUTE

They contend there are more desolate, more appropriate spots in the township for a land-fill than the property by Ward's Gravel Pit, which is less than one-half mile from Maceday Lake and relatively close to Pontiac, Williams and Lotus lakes.

'You Must Sell Americanism,' C. of C. Audience Is Urged

By LOIS MANDIBERG

"The fundamentals of the American system . . . free enterprise and individual liberty governed by law . . . are not in an American's bloodstream at birth," McFarland said.

The basic values and the meaning of key words such as "individual" and "opportunity" must be taught or the frame around the system will disintegrate, according to McFarland.

"The business of the Chamber of Commerce as a cross section of the community, is to teach the American system. If you get people thinking right on the fundamental values, all other things will be added thereto.

MUST INVOLVE EVERYONE

"To preserve the American system, everyone must be involved," he explained. "The only choice is to shape the form which your involvement will take."

He added that a person's political party, union, or religion didn't matter.

Commenting on his exstensive travels as a lecturer, McFarland said he had learned that "the nature of a community is defined by the people in it. And

Okay for MSU Doesn't End Medical Needs---Osteopaths

Osteopaths cautioned today that "the job isn't finished" despite approval yesterday by the State Board of Education of expansion of Michigan State University's fledgling medical school into a four-year college.

"We do not oppose it, we support it," commented William Coleman, vice president of planning and development for the projected Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine at Auburn and Opdyke.

"We're delighted that the board has recognized the health care needs of Michigan to provide some more doctors," added Coleman.

He cautioned, however, that "the job isn't finished even with expansion of existing medical education institutions."

Coleman sad the increased production of doctors would just barely meet the need even if the three existing medical schools in the state are expanded and the osteopathic college is realized.

Related Story, Page A-2

HOPE TO PROCEED

Noting the state board now should go ahead and consider the osteopathic proposal on its own merits, Coleman pointed out that one-third of the people of Michigan are served by osteopathic physicians.

Meantime, Coleman and other college officials are preparing the documentation requested by the state board. A college spokesman said yesterday more time would be needed to furnish the material.

111 Bills Introduced by State Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's 74th Legislature was off and running today with 111 bills on its books — several of them answering requests by Gov. George Romney.

Meeting in a one-day bill introduction session yesterday, the House boosted the number of bills before it to 79 and the Senate raised its total to 32 before lawmakers adjourned until Monday.

In a proposed amendment to a Senate adjournment schedule, the House Republican leadership spoke optimistically of a June 22 adjournment although legislators face the problem of reorganizing Michigan's fiscal structure.

The bills introduced represent only a drop in the bucket when compared with the more than 1,000 measures expected to be proposed within the next few weeks.

And, of the total introduced, only about 20 per cent are expected to see the light of day on Michigan's law books — passed by the Legislature and approved by the governor.

TAX REFORM

Included in bills introduced in the House and Senate were measures answering Gov. Romney's call for tax reform, state control of interstate highway routes, military reorganization, implied consent and food regulation.

Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, introduced a package of tax bills calling for a 3½ per cent personal income tax, a 6½ per cent corporate income tax and an 8½ per cent tax on financial institutions.

Possible bipartisanship was indicated by the fact that the income tax bill was cosponsored by Democrat George Montgomery of Detroit, chairman of last year's House Taxation Committee.

LBJ Reports on Economy

Orders Planning to Avoid Postwar Slump

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson directed today that plans be prepared to avoid a recession that might otherwise follow "the welcome day of peace" in Vietnam.

The possibilities of quick tax reduction and spending speedups will be studied by a Cabinet-level group, Johnson told Congress, as part of a "major and coordinated efford to review our readiness" for the war's end — a day still not foreseen, he emphasized.

Summary of Text, Page D-7

The announcement came in his annual economic report. In it, Johnson forecasts a moderate advance of the economy through 1967, if it can be steered past the hazards of inflation on the one side and recession on the other.

The outlook is for a $47-billion rise of national output, he said, to a record $787 billion — a slower climb than in 1966, but with smaller price rises, easier money and continued almost-full employment.

Johnson renewed urgently his appeal to labor and industry for wage and price restraint, in continued voluntary support of guideline policies, to avoid "a wage-price spiral which is in the interest of neither."

Unless both labor and management absorb part of their rising costs, he said "the result will be just such a spiral — damaging to business, damaging to labor, and disastrous to the nation."

BOYS CLUB BENEFITS — The Auburn Heights Boys Club building fund became $30,000 richer yesterday as Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of Meadow Brook Farms presented a check in that amount in honor of her late husband to Jesse H. Holmes (left), vice president of the club, and Harold R. Davis, president. The club is engaged in erecting a $250,000 addition due for completion in August.

4 Inches of Snow Forecast

Heavy snow warning was issued for this afternoon and tonight. A light snow is expected to begin early this afternoon and become heavier tonight.

Four inches of snow are likely by tomorrow morning, the weatherman said.

The forecast for tomorrow is a few snow flurries, windy and colder with the high in the low 30s. Temperatures are expected to register 24 to 30 tonight.

Morning east-to-northeasterly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will continue tonight.

Temperatures plummeted 28 degrees from early morning yesterday to 8 a.m. today when the thermometer recorded 29 at 8 a.m. The mercury reading at 1 p.m. was 25.

Auburn Club Given $30,000

The Auburn Heights Boys Club building fund got a hefty boost yesterday with the donation of $30,000 by Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of Meadow Brook Farms.

★ ★ ★

The gift was made in memory of her late husband, Alfred G. Wilson, one of the founders of the club.

The club broke ground last fall on a 13,000-square-foot addition estimated to cost $250,000. It will feature a gymnasium and activities rooms.

The addition is being erected through a $100,000 grant from the United Fund and with community contributions.

HAROLD B. EULER

By L. GARY THORNE
Asst. City Editor — Suburban

Medicare — the federal government's giant effort to provide health care for the elderly — is producing a giant-sized financial headache for Harold B. Euler.

Nevertheless, Euler indicates he is concerned that Medicare and Medicaid benefits will cost Pontiac General an added $200,000 this year.

He said the loss on providing Medicare benefits is projected at $175,000, while the smaller Medicaid program is to cost $25,000.

★ ★ ★

CAUSE OF LOSS

Euler said the financial problem results from a different rate of reimbursement from third party payers, such as Blue Cross, and Medicare-Medicaid, the latter being the federal government.

He said the different basis of payment, estimated at about $10 per day per patient, will cause the $200,000 loss.

Euler said the difference results from two methods of computing the hospital's actual cost per patient. Blue Cross — largest of the third party payers — has a formula that pays on the basis of the average daily cost of all patients.

Medicare reimburses by computing the number of services used by elderly patients.

NO AGREEMENT

Euler admits that other hospital officials for the most part are not concerned about the differences in the two formulas, indicating they do not see the problem.

The Pontiac General administrator added, however, that Blue Cross officials appear to recognize the problem and the formulas may

Traffic Safety Head Hints He'll Go Slow

DETROIT (AP) — William Haddon Jr., U.S. traffic safety administrator, reportedly has given American and foreign car makers a broad hint that he will go slow on his proposed 23 auto-safety standards.

Dr. Haddon held separate, closed-door sessions Wednesday with the foreign and domestic car makers in Washington just a few days before the scheduled Jan. 31 announcement of binding standards for 1968 model cars.

★ ★

The federal government disclosed no details of the sessions but various industry sources provided bits of information about Haddon's first head - to-head confrontation with auto companies which had been critical of the content and timing of some of the proposals.

State Department representatives reportedly sat in on the two-hour foreign cars session at which Haddon pledged that he had no intention of trying to drive imports out of the U. S. market.

DISCRIMINATORY

Several foreign companies had made representations through their governments that the proposed standards were discriminatory against their particular cars.

The import session, attended by more than 50 executives of 20 foreign companies, drew from Haddon a major concession of additional time for foreign auto makers to comment on the standards he is scheduled to publish next Tuesday. Conceivably, Haddon could order changes in the standards if any objections to the rules were strong enough. But this was considered unlikely.

Originally, Haddon had said he would give them 10 days for comments, after his official version is published. But he told the session that he had extended that time to 31 days. That makes the deadline March 3.

Under Haddon's ground rules, manufacturers were not allowed to bring up objections to any specific proposal he had made. This caused some discontent on the part of the foreign car makers.

"We had hoped to bring to Dr. Haddon's attention some particular items we felt discriminated against our cars," said the representative of one European company, who declined use of his name or identification of his firm.

"The only trouble with the meeting was that it was not the kind of affair at which you could state the opposition positively so Haddon would know exactly what we were talking about," he said.

Seven Are Charged in Gambling Raids

Seven persons were arrested and charged with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws in synchronized raids at four Pontiac locations yesterday at 4:05 p.m.

Detroit police, aided by city and State Police and Internal Revenue Service agents, executed search warrants at 471 Raeburn, 6 Lee Court, 253 Nebraska and 396 Highland, according to investigators.

Pontiac Police said those arrested and charged with policy numbers activity were Robert Chenault, 60, of 276 Howard McNeill; Abel Cole, 49, of 471 Raeburn; Anna McCain, 35, of 181 W. South Blvd.; Edward McFerrin, 41, of 253 Nebraska; James Calvin, 39, of 294 Raeburn; Jack Simpson, 56, of 6 Lee Court; and Margie Seay, 73, of 396 Highland.

Lt. Robert Bullock of the Detroit Police racket squad said his department had been working on the raid for two months.

"This is definitely a single-type operation," he said, "but all such activity is apparently controlled by a certain few people."

Increase Seen in OEO Funds

James M. McNeely, executive director of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity, said last night that federal funding for the 1967 commission-operated programs is

During 1966 the War on Poverty commission operated its programs on total federal grants of $839,000.

McNeely told commissioners at last night's meeting that a grant of $674,000 is expected for the year beginning Feb. 1 with a carry-over of $216,000 in federal funds to be applied to the 1967 budget operation.

Though the commission program will continue at about the same level as last year, McNeely said that funding for some proposed new programs probably will not be granted.

He expects confirmation of the 1967 federal funding by the end of this month.

Hoffa to Ask 2nd Hearing on Conviction

DETROIT (UPI) — Teamster President James R. Hoffa today was expected to ask for a second hearing on his jury-fixing conviction by producing affidavits from a policeman and a man who claims to have worked as a wiretapper for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The affidavits will be submitted to the U.S. Supreme Court in Washington, the Detroit Free Press said today.

The policeman, Paul Quaglia of Detroit, already has testified in a federal court suit that he helped tap the telephone of a Hoffa aide.

In the second affidavit, the Free Press said, Bud Nichols, a Tennessee resident, swears that he planted four hidden microphones in Hoffa's Chattanooga hotel suite during the jury-fixing trail in 1964.

He also claimed to have tapped six phone lines into the hotel suite.

'COMPLETELY FOREIGN'

They claim the operation would be completely foreign to the immediate area because of the nearby large Pontiac Lake recreation area and residential properties.

Despite their arguments, the Michigan Department of Public Health has given the green light for an operating permit. County health officials also favor the proposed operation.

Dr. Bernard D. Berman, director of the County Health Department, perhaps summed up the feelings of local and state health officials.

'URGENT NEED'

"Waterford Township has an urgent need for the pit's (Ward's) capacity to accept for disposal the public solid waste materials. That such a pit is available to serve community needs is fortunate and timely.

★ ★ ★

"There may be some inconveniences to a few, but there is tremendous benefit to be realiezd by the public at large in the use of this pit as a duly licenses, inspected and properly operating, solid waste disposal facility."

★ ★ ★

Berman contends properly operated solid waste disposal sites do not feed or shelter rates, do not create conditions conducive to fly breeding and do not create hazards to public health.

each community has its own fair share of good people and its own fair share of opportunity.

"The Chamber should point out the local shares of opportunity and make examples of the kind of people who are constructively building the community."

GOOD CHARACTERISTICS

Good characteristics should be personalized, not just listed, so young people will get the point by watching live, working models, McFarland explained.

He heatedly added that such good examples would offset the belief of some persons he'd encountered that "to be intellectual one had to be physically filthy, financially insolvent, and foul mouthed."

McFarland briefly discussed the fast growth of communities and the urgent need for future planning which should be done by the Chamber with its wide diversity of community leadership.

★ ★ ★

He mentioned the poverty program to highlight his statement that economic opportunity is a keystone to the system.

COMMENTS ON SAFETY

He said "The auto dealers were dedicated but we'll have to do our part also," pointing out that getting the drunken drivers off the road should reduce accidents by some 50 per cent.

McFarland was introduced by Martin J. Caserio, a vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division.

No Israel Alarm at Syrian Radio

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The Israeli Foreign Ministry exhibited no alarm today at a fiery Damascus radio commentary saying Syria would not guarantee Israel's security against guerrilla raids.

The broadcast said liberation of Palestine remained Syria's "unalterable policy."

An Israeli spokesman said the commentary, broadcast Wednesday while the Syrian-Israeli Mixed Armistice Commission was holding its first meeting since 1959, could not be considered official Syrian reaction. But if it were, he said, Premier Levi Eshkol has warned that Israel reserves its right of self-defense.

The Syrian government, giving its version of the meeting, said today that "no agreement was reached on the subjects discussed."

BLOCKED MOVE

An official statement read on Damascus radio said Syrian representatives blocked an Israeli move to widen the scope of the meeting "by bringing up the Palestine question as a whole."

The broadcast made no mention of a communique, read after the five-hour meeting by Moshe Sasson of the Israeli Foreign Ministry, which said the two governments had agreed to refrain from hostile acts against each other.

A report from Damascus said the Syrian statement today and the commentary Wednesday appeared designed chiefly for home consumption.

Tractor Crash Kills Motorist

A Clarkston man died in the emergency ward of Pontiac General Hospital at 9:03 p.m. yesterday from injuries received in a car-tractor collision three hours earlier in Springfield Township.

George C. Moultrup, 50, of 8051 Bridge Lake died of head and chest injuries after the car he was driving collided with a tractor driven by Glenn P. Evans, 56, of 3299 Ann, Flushing, on Dixie Highway at Davisburg Road.

Moultrup was headed south on Dixie and Evans west on Davisburg when the accident occurred, Oakland County sheriff's deputies said. Evans reportedly escaped serious injury.

U.S. Viet Force Up to 400,000

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The number of U. S. military personnel in Vietnam rose to 400,000 last week, increasing 5,000, the U. S. command announced today.

A companion announcement said 123 Americans were killed in the same period, a drop from the 144 announced the previous week. It reported 716 U. S. personnel wounded in action and five missing, compared with 1,044 wounded and six missing or captured the previous week.

★ ★ ★

The number of South Vietnamese casualties rose sharply in the past week. Vietnamese army headquarters reported 340 government soldiers killed compared with 197 the previous week. There were 65 reported missing or captured, as compared with 45 the previous week. The Vietnamese do not disclose figures on their wounded.

ENEMY TOLL

The total of enemy dead last week was put at 1,683. A week earlier it had been listed at 1,461.

Other allied forces had 11 men killed and 12 wounded during the week, the U. S. command said, compared with 32 killed and 64 wounded in the previous reporting period.

MSU Nearer Med School

LANSING (AP) — Approval by the State Board of Education Wednesday of a four-year course in human medicine at Michigan State University puts MSU over its main hurdle in a drive to have a full - fledged medical school.

Michigan State took its first step in that direction last fall when 26 students enrolled in a two - year college of medicine. The thought was that the students would be eligible to transfer to four - year medical schools after two years at State.

Growth of the MSU medical school in courses offered, number of students and facilities now depends on the willingness of the Legislature to appropriate funds for this purpose.

Legislators are thought to be generally favorable to the MSU development.

But MSU can expect a fight for funds from both the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

Michigan, in particular, long has opposed ambitions in this field by the sister university at East Lansing.

Dr. Harlan Hatcher, U. of M. president, said the Legislature first should meet needs of the two existing medical schools before making new commitments.

Hatcher said this argument would be presented to the Legislature when the universities appear before lawmakers with their budget requests.

Junior Editors Quiz on THEATRE

QUESTION: Where does the modern theatre come from?

ANSWER: Although the idea of a theatre was developed in the days of Greece and Rome, our modern theatre had its beginning in the Elizabethan Age, especially in connection with the plays of William Shakespeare, the greatest playwright of history.

In this time, many inns were built with interior courtyards, having two rows of balconies circling the paved court. Companies of actors would come by and set up stages or platforms on which the actors stood. The audience would be charged a small fee for just standing and watching, and a higher price for sitting in the upper balconies. The first plays of Shakespeare were presented in such innyards.

But as interest in the theatre grew, buildings were put up outside of London to show plays under better conditions. Our picture shows the interior of such an early theatre, and you can see how it resembled the innyard, with people standing around a stage and looking down from balconies. In the back was a curtain, which when pulled would reveal a small stage inside; a balcony on top could also be used for special effects.

NY's Opera to Get Touch of 'Magician'

As far as Krips is concerned, he is having none of this "opera in English" business. Although the Met customarily presents the "Flute" in English, it will be sung in German as long as Krips is in the pit. In fact, the Met is billing it as "Zauberflote."

"In English, it would be the flute without the magic," Krips said.

But there are other unusual features about the production. First, it will be Krips's debut at the Met. The opera will be given with two alternate all-star casts. Marc Chagall, whose murals adorn the foyer of the new opera house, has designed the scenery and the costumes, his first for the operatic stage. The entire production is being staged by Guenther Rennert.

PERFORMANCES

The first performance will be given on Feb. 19. One of the others, a Saturday matinee on March 4, will be broadcast.

Area Schools Plagued by Vandalism

A shocking rise in school vandalism and burglary in the Pontiac area has school and police officials groping for a means of countering it.

The Pontiac and Waterford Township School Districts, because of their size, have suffered most. For 1966, the Districts each estimate damage and loss from vandalism and theft at approximately $50,000, although a portion of the amount is covered by insurance. The smaller Clarkston District was hard hit during the past month when a series of destructive forays cost it $4,500.

Most of the attacks on school property are perpetrated by the 15-to-18 age group, though an 8-year-old trio was involved in a recent Waterford break-in.

Needless to say, school administrators have considered protective measures against the menace. They are frustrated, however, by the realization that effective remedies appear more costly than the affliction.

To what extent the widespread wave of vandalism committed by teen-agers is indicative of incipient careers of major crime is a correlative of utmost concern for society.

Price Seen High for Federal Highway Cutback

In cutting back on domestic spending to help support the war in Vietnam, the $1-billion slash in Federal aid to state highway development is costly not only to Michigan's road-building program but in lives.

The dollar cost to the State is sixty-seven million. The cost in lives, even if the cutback is restored by midyear as announced, could well run to 33.

According to State Highway Director HOWARD HILL, 1½ lives are lost each year for every mile of freeway deferred. The figures may be less on rural routes, more on urban.

There are 44 miles of freeway among the 68 miles of roads on which the highway department has had to defer progress because of the Federal cutback. On the basis of Hill's equation, the six-month lag in completion of the 44 miles of freeway will result in the number of highway fatalities indicated.

Specifically, the director charges that the two-year delay in finalizing the 28-mile I-696 route across the southern part of Oakland County, because of obstruction by several municipalities, has cost at least 50 lives.

★ ★ ★

Although we have long advocated Federal retrenchment in the area of domestic spending, it would seem that the Administration hit on one of the Nation's most essential programs to wield its ax.

When Michigan's death rate due to deferred highway construction is projected nationwide, the only conclusion that can be drawn is that Americans are paying dearly for the Government's highway belt-tightening.

It Might Pay to Heed the Call of the Arctic

Tired of everyday routine? Want to get away from it all—and we mean far away? And, while doing it, put aside a nest egg you could use to start a business or further your education?

If so, the Weather Bureau may want you. It has openings for supervisors, meteorological and electronic technicians, cooks, machinery maintenance mechanics and airstrip construction mechanics for 12-month tours of duty at Arctic weather stations.

The jobs pay from $7,068 to $10,927 a year. In addition, there is a $200-a-month Arctic bonus, plus an extra $100-a-month bonus during the winter.

There are, of course, a few other things to be considered. Life on the edges of the Arctic Ocean is lonely. Applicants must be able to maintain a satisfactory physical and psychological condition under prolonged isolation in small groups.

And it's cold, cold, cold—65 to 80 degrees below zero. The winter nights are long. In fact, there is nothing but night from November to February. There aren't any women.

★ ★ ★

But there aren't any expenses either. After all, asks the bureau, what can you spend on frozen tundra? It figures a man ought to be able to put away upwards of $10,000 during a single tour of duty.

Fun, Games in Downtown Pontiac

By DICK SAUNDERS

Ask any doctor. He'll tell you a nice, leisurely walk does wonders for jangled nerves.

SAUNDERS

I was out Tuesday, transferring the burdens of the world from my nervous system to my legs. I chose downtown Pontiac for my test stroll.

It was a normal walk; like trying to find a "Walk" sign that didn't change to "Don't Walk" before one made it from curb to curb.

But things really got hairy when I tried to cross East Wide Track Drive at East Pike.

I made my initial error at Mill and Pike. There's a sign there that warns pedestrians walking east to use the north side of Pike because one block further east you hit Wide Track and the only crosswalk is on the north side of Pike.

I'd be willing to bet that the majority of drivers drastically change their reading habits when they become pedestrians.

Anyway, I missed the sign which I should have known could only be for pedestrians because it was facing the wrong way on a one-way street.

As I approached the main Pontiac Public Library on East Pike, I sensed there was something wrong.

I was looking ahead to the crossing and not finding it.

When I reached the intersection, my progress was abruptly halted by a heavy chain strung around the southwest corner of Pike and East Wide Track precisely to halt people like me.

The question then was a moral one.

Should I jaywalk across Pike to reach that crosswalk? Or, should I retreat a block, cross at Mill and resume my easterly trek on the north side of

★ ★ ★

At that point I was ready to question the therapeutic value placed on leisurely walks.

I decided to jaywalk.

Stealthily, I glanced from side to side for any sign of oncoming traffic or uniformed officers of the law.

No one in sight, I started across.

I was just about to congratulate myself on having mastered this ingenious piece of traffic engineering, when I felt the hand on my shoulder.

He was crossing the other way . . . to return a book, I think.

Crime Sure to Be Big '68 Issue

WASHINGTON — With all the billions of dollars to be spent on the "Great Society," it's amazing that virtually nothing is being provided to organize an effective war on crime throughout the country.

LAWRENCE

The rate of crime is growing every year, and in the nation's capital the rise in serious crime is three times the national average. But a bill dealing with the problem in the District of Columbia was recently vetoed by President Johnson because of its "possible" unconstitutionality.

It seems certain now that one of the biggest issues in the 1968 campaign will be crime — the inability of the citizen to walk the streets in safety.

Sen. John L. McClellan, Democrat of Arkansas, in a speech to the Senate yesterday, pointed out not only that the federal government has a responsibility to act, but that the Supreme Court by its decisions has made it easier for the criminal to escape punishment.

★ ★ ★

BIGGEST OBSTACLE

Apart from the inadequacy of public funds for states and cities to multiply the number of their policemen and detectives, the biggest single obstacle today is the attitude of the Supreme Court of the United States, which has made it more difficult to convict persons who have committed a crime.

Numerous technicalities have been interjected, so that criminals have more and more ways to evade the law.

Sen. McClellan said in his speech that federal legislation is urgently needed with respect to the admissibility of evidence obtained through voluntary confessions and other statements made by suspects after their arrest. The Arkansas senator said:

"Congress simply must rectify the mockery of justice and protect society from the dire consequences of a number of recent 5- to-4 Supreme Court decisions that allow self-confessed, vicious criminals to go free."

★ ★ ★

The American people are bewildered and dismayed by decisions of the high court and have been expecting President Johnson, as the leader of his party, to recommend to Congress a comprehensive program to halt the rise in crime.

His apparent indifference to conditions in the District of Columbia has already resulted in much criticism.

It is evident now that, without waiting for the President to act, Congress itself will have to do something about the nationwide problem. Otherwise, in the 1968 campaign, the issue could bring about the defeat of many Democrats seeking reelection.

Bob Considine Says:

Airman Flies Thin Line, Wins Medal of Honor

NEW YORK — Maj. Bernie Fisher's Congressional Medal of Honor is old enough by now — nearly a week — to allow him to be philosophical about the highest award for valor this nation can bestow.

CONSIDINE

"One way to look at it," the heroic Air Force man said, "is that there's a very thin line between winning the medal and being court-martialed or eaten out for taking a crazy chance."

The chance Bernie Fisher took occurred last March 10 when he led his flight of prehistoric fighter bombers to the A Shau Special forces (Green Berets) camp, which was being clobbered by 2,000 North Vietnamese.

The camp is situated in a valley rimmed by 1,500-foot hills. The ceiling that day was 800 feet. That meant Fisher and his wingmen had to go in under the soup.

★ ★ ★

"It was like flying inside Yankee Stadium with the people in the bleachers firing at you with machine guns," one survivor said.

SHOTS FROM ABOVE

On one of the first passes the planes made over the enemy position, Maj. Dafford W. Myers of Newport, Wash., was hit.

Fisher "talked" him to a landing on the camp's littered runway, saw the plane burst into flames on contact, and Myers crawl out of it and run for cover within a few yards of an enemy position.

★ ★ ★

No rescue helicopter was available. So Fisher took that chance, flew that thin line between immortality and stupidity. He decided to land and pick up his buddy.

OVERSHOOTS STRIP

The fire from both sides of the strip was furious. But Fisher simply gave his plane the gun and was able to take off again and make another desperate attempt to land.

This time he was successful and rolled at a harrowingly slow pace to the end of the runway.

★ ★ ★

Then he had to turn and taxi back up the runway, still under fire, his tires running over sharp metal fragments and parts of Maj. Myers' exploded plane, which was still burning.

SITTING DUCK

He came to a dead stop — a sitting duck—when he reached that point where he prayed Myers was still hiding and alive.

Miraculously the burned and battered flier burst from cover and climbed the side of the plane diving into its rear seat.

"I didn't wait long to get rolling again," Bernie Fisher said with his shy grin. He left unsaid the chilling fact that he had to taxi all the way down to the other end of the runway and then go through the agony of a slow takeoff, while "still in Yankee Stadium."

In Washington:

Religion Is 'In' Topic on Campus

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It would be a mistake to think that interest in religion is at a low ebb on the college campus.

BIOSSAT

Some 67 per cent of the students had discussed religion within the past week, 63 per cent with a person of a different religion.

In a full third of the discussions, the aim was to share religious experience. Another fourth of the discussions centered in one man explaining his views to others. A tenth of the discussions were aimed at building new friendships. Only 5 per cent were attempts to prove the other man wrong.

Twenty-three per cent of those questioned said their religious discussions had led to a sharing of private feelings. Forty-four per cent said that these religious discussions encouraged further exchanges of ideas.

Seventy per cent of the discussions were at "informal gathering places." Another 26 per cent were held at home. Only 2 per cent of the discussions were at a church or other religious center.

About 86 per cent of the discussions were held with a friend, only 2 per cent with clergymen.

Sixty-one per cent of the students said they were deeply or moderately religious. Only 11 per cent said they were "irreligious."

★ ★ ★

Forty-one per cent of the students said they attended religious services regularly.

All this would indicate that many college students are much more ready for religious discussions and religious experience than attendance at Sunday church services would indicate.

What approaches the churches must take to draw in these young men and women was not a subject of the survey.

But a good many churches are working on it and on ways to reach others the churches have been missing.

They're debating ways to get more religious activity on weekdays as well as on Sundays, more activity outside the church buildings as well as inside.

Religious centers are opening in shopping centers, Bible study groups in apartment houses and dormitories. More churches are putting pastors directly on the campus or in a house or building next door. There's more emphasis by local churches on keeping active contact with their young men and women away at college or in military service.

Some churches are sponsoring "coffeehouses" which feature religious discussions. One group is making a detailed study of the government employe and how better to reach his needs.

Resident Discusses Need for Light on West Huron

It was almost unbelievable to hear that the State Highway Department has refused to put a stoplight at the intersection at Dwight and Huron, as I had been informed the City was only waiting for a go-ahead on it.

With the long distance between lights on Genesee and Johnson and the heavy flow of fast traffic, it is difficult to get onto or cross Huron between these streets. For pedestrians it is doubly hazardous.

A woman pedestrian was killed there a few years ago. Let's not wait until there is another fatal accident.

Replies to Criticism of Goodfellow Baskets

In answer to the person who thinks Christmas baskets shouldn't be given to children whose fathers wouldn't work if they starved, those children didn't ask to be put in the hands of a father who won't work and they deserve the same chance to eat as the rest of the innocent children in this world.

BOILING MAD

Who deserves help more than the children whose fathers won't work? The Goodfellows should be commended for the fine job they do. Aren't children of lazy fathers even more unfortunate than the children whose fathers care enough to try, but aren't able to manage without help?

AN OXFORD DONATOR

It is appalling that anyone could be so unkind as to punish a child so unfortunate as to draw a father too lazy to work, or a mother with so little foresight as to pick that kind of father for her children. But should we also fall into that category by depriving the children of our donations? Isn't it possible that some child might become a better citizen because he learned early that someone really cared?

TRIPLE DONATION FOR 1967

I can't understand the person who complained about the Goodfellows' selections for Christmas baskets. Who would need the help more than children whose fathers won't work to keep them from starving? Or do you think we should punish the children because they have good-for-nothing parents?

GOOD FOR THE GOODFELLOWS

I feel sorry for anyone who thinks children should suffer for the wrong of their parents. Goodfellows help children have a good Christmas who wouldn't have one otherwise, regardless of what kind of parents they have. I don't condone a man not working if he is able but I think children who have parents like this suffer enough all through the year and should have Christmas like others.

A READER

I sell Goodfellow papers for West Bloomfield Township. While the Goodfellows help people throughout the year, their primary purpose is to see that children are warm and have a happy Christmas, regardless of the antics of their parents.

In helping Goodfellows investigate families seeking help, it is not unusual to visit a home where the father will not work or overindulges in drinking. It is little interest to him whether the mother and children have Christmas dinner. I sleep much better Christmas Eve knowing the mother and children will be warm and eating the same as you and I for at least one day.

Question and Answer

I've done it again — cracked a "hard-boiled" egg, only to discover it was raw. You know the rest. Is there some way to tell the difference between raw and cooked eggs, other than trial and error?

EGG-ASPERATED

REPLY

There may be other ways, but the one we use is to spin the egg. A hard-boiled egg will spin rapidly and keep spinning; the raw egg won't. To make sure you recognize the different spins, spin a boiled egg and a raw egg together. After that you won't have any trouble recognizing the fast spin even though you have no raw egg for comparison.

What's Going On in Red China—4

Struggle Goes Deep, Has Many Elements

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Mao Tse-tung's "great proletarian cultural revolution," spearheaded by hysterical teenagers, has stormed through China's cities, creating wild and violent confusion. It has reached into the trade unions and the factories. And now it is reaching out to China's 500 million peasants.

Although most China-watchers agree that the danger of a shooting civil war has diminished, China remains in dire peril.

The economy of the cities has suffered severe wrenches from the riotous confusion, and now there is a prospect that the farms are threatened.

China's spring sowing must begin around April. If there is an interruption in that, the country is in trouble. It already has a problem feeding 750 million people and food is rationed. Despite official reports to the contrary from Peking, experts have reason to believe the last harvests were poor. A new crop failure would be a major calamity.

'REVOLUTION GOES ON'

This is more than a power struggle of conflicting personalities, although that is part of it. It is evidently a clash of fundamental conceptions of China's economic, social and political future. Recent announcements of what has been going on in China's cities reveal the depth of this clash.

Defense Minister Lin Piao, the man who seems to have the advantage, at least temporarily, has turned all the terrifying power of his "cultural revolution" apparatus at the power bases of his opponents, who seem to be led by President Liu Shao-chi and the party secretary general, Teng Hsiao-ping.

Much of the opposition's power has rested with the urban laboring class in the party-dominated All China Federation of Trade Unions. Lin now has succeeded in abolishing that organization—as he had eliminated another opposition power base before by abolishing the eight-million-strong Young Communist League.

RED GUARDS

The Young Communist League was replaced by the teen-age Red Guards — the Hung Wei Ping. The trade unions federation now is to be replaced by the "rebel revolutionaries" — Tsao Fan.

★ ★ ★

Lin's forces, claiming the blessing of "Mao Tse - tung's thinking," moved in on the factories with disastrous results. Production was stopped in many. Enemies were accused of fomenting strikes. The wheels of industry are being slowed, even stopped in some cases, by endless rallies and forced mass discussions of Mao's thought. Each side is accusing the other of sabotaging production.

★ ★ ★

Lin's forces joined the battle for the laboring class with a declaration of war on "economism," a Communist sin which suggests trying to buy the loyalty of workers with promises of better wages, welfare and living standards. Lin's forces say this is "bribery of the workers," and that it "corrupts the masses."

POWERFUL FIGURE

She has been deputy chief of the "cultural revolution," and is now chief adviser to its special armed forces branch under the command of a political general named Hsu Hsiang-chien.

Feminine vindictiveness has entered this picture, too. Mrs. Mao, while charging up the teen-age Red Guards with inflammatory speeches, has taken off after the wife of the man considered Mao's most potent opponent, President Liu. She has been calling Mrs. Liu all manner of names, among the milder of which is "common prostitute."

Lin Piao's power bases are the people's liberation army — where he evidently now enjoys the majority support of the officer corps — and the government apparatus under the durable Premier Chou En-lai. Lin's paper, Liberation Army Daily, has been the instigator all along of the upheaval, and now calls the army "the pillar of proletarian dictatorship and defender of the great proletarian cultural revolution."

CHANGE SIDES

Powerful figures sometimes change sides, occasionally with disastrous results to themselves. One who seemed to change sides was Tao Chu, the able and ruthless boss of south-central China.

During this upheaval, he rose to fourth place in the Politburo. Now it seems clear he has fallen. His job as chief of the Central Committee's propaganda department has, according to a Peking announcement, been given to Wang Li. Wang, not long ago, was occupying the chairmanship of the Peking party committee, which had belonged to the once powerful Peng Chen, the first prominent victim of the purge.

So the indications are that the cultural revolution has reached a new stage. At least a dozen high-ranking, once powerful Chinese leadership figures are under arrest, and the Red Guards are howling that opponents of Mao's thinking should be "burned to death."

The time of decision may be close—although it will likely be a long time before Red China recovers from the shock of this titanic struggle.

To informed watchers, the critical question is not which personality wins out, but which line wins: Whether China will continue belligerently isolated from her neighbors, and whether she can recover from all the shocks of the past year and a half.

President Lui, party Secretary General Teng Hsiao-ping and Vice Premier Po I-po, who is also chairman of the state economic commission, all appear to be in grave danger. Yet there is always the chance of a compromise in which President Liu and his allies can be shunted off into some honorary positions which will render them harmless from the Lin-Mao standpoint. At the same time, there is a good chance, also, that there will be bloodletting before a decision is reached.

A hint of what is going on comes from foreign correspondents based in China who read each latest wall poster put up by the Red Guards. Other information comes from the many Chinese documents which become available outside the country, and from the reports of Soviet and European Communists based in Peking. The latter reports, in a sense, can be suspect, since they are basically anti-Mao, but at the same time Communists have ways of knowing what other Communists are doing.

Soviet reports, for example, detect "mounting opposition" to the Lin-Mao combine among the laboring classes. They have told of bloody clashes in such important industrial cities as Shanghai and Nanking. They reported the forcible seizure of papers in many areas of China by Red Guards elements who attacked "responsible officials" of the Communist party.
