Mikoyan Out as Soviet President in Major Shuffle

MOSCOW (AP) — A major shuffle in the Soviet high command today assigned Alexander N. Shelepin to an influential job at the top level of the Communist party and boosted Nikolai V. Podgorny into the presidency.

Podgorny, 62, who has been No. 2 man in the party as one of its secretaries and a member of the ruling party Presidium, replaces Anastas I. Mikoyan, a member of the top Soviet command for 40 years.

Mikoyan said an operation three years ago had made it difficult for him to fulfill the demands of the presidency. This is a largely ceremonial post.

Shelepin, 47, was relieved as deputy premier and head of the committee for party and state control. Communist sources indicated he would take the No. 2 post formerly held by Podgorny.

This job is second to Leonid I. Brezhnev, chief of the secretariat, the most powerful unit in the Soviet Union.

There was no change in the two top posts — Brezhnev as first secretary of the party and Alexei N. Kosygin as premier. They suggested the changes, and they were approved by the Supreme Soviet.

Both Podgorny and Mikoyan remained members of the 12-man party Presidium which makes the policy executed by the party secretariat.

Mikoyan also was elected, following his resignation from the presidency, to a Supreme Soviet role corresponding to one of many parliamentary vice presidents.

★ ★ ★

Mikoyan, who marked his 70th birthday Nov. 25, was the last of the Old Bolsheviks in the upper reaches of the Soviet party and government. He was a revolutionary in the Caucasus as a young man at the time of the great Russian upheavals toward the end of World War I.

Three Money Bill Vetoes Being Debated at Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Legislators, pressured by upwards of 600 veterans, returned to the Capitol today to decide whether to override Gov. George Romney's veto of an expanded veterans tax benefit.

The other vetoes — of a senior citizen rent reimbursement and extra college money bills — appeared nearly certain to be sustained.

The veterans, virtually all sporting their organizational caps, flooded the Capitol 90 minutes before the one-day session even began.

They buttonholed legislators in a well-organized move to win support for the measure which would increase disabled vets and vets' widows property tax exemption from $2,000 to $3,500.

Democrats appeared virtually unanimous in support of the bills. If all were present and voted to override, they would still need one Republican vote in the House and three in the Senate.

The college money bill would provide $1.2 million to smaller state colleges and universities to handle unexpected enrollments.

REIMBURSEMENT

The third measure would give senior citizens a rent reimbursement.

Romney and some Republicans were trying to stir up support for a tax exemption measure which would scale benefits to amount of disability. An Associated Press random sample of veterans' leaders and rank-and-file showed no sentiment for the plan.

The veterans measure was to be considered first in the House. It appeared to have a good chance of succeeding with the stiffer test likely in the Senate.

★ ★ ★

There was no positive indication in the House that the Republican minority would hold firm in support of the veterans veto.

WARNER J. CANTO

Bond Awarded to Safe Driver

An executive of a Pontiac trucking firm has been selected the first winner of a weekly safe driving award — a $25 U.S. Savings bond.

Warner J. Canto, vice president and general manager of Motorcar Transport Co., 1280 Joslyn, was the first of four winners, to be named during December.

Canto of Huntington Woods was noticed by police when he stopped his car on South Woodward to permit two small dogs to get across the street.

Safe driving awards — with $25 bonds as prizes—are being made in a program sponsored by the Pontiac Exchange Club, the traffic safety committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and the Pontiac Police Department.

Patrolmen will cite good drivers along with their regular patrol of bad drivers.

OU Hopes Up on Increased Financial Aid

Hopes were raised today at Oakland University as legislators met to consider overriding Gov. Romney's veto of a $1.2 million increased enrollment fund.

★ ★ ★

"We built our budget in July," said Chancellor D. B. Varner, "on the supposition that we would receive a minimum of $150,000 of supplemental money."

Library acquisitions were cut from a proposed $150,000 to $75,000 to help cover the costs of increased enrollment.

The budget made no provision for an increase in third semester enrollment to cover approximately $40,000 in salaries.

★ ★ ★

Funds to match a federal science grant of $23,500 must be forthcoming or the grant will be forfeited.

★ ★ ★

These plus other deferred expenses have created a budget deficiency of $150,000 at OU, according to Varner.

Message Asks Soviets to Join 12-Nation Plea

U. S. Included Since It Was Participant in Indochina Parley

LONDON (AP) — Britain today proposed a 12-nation appeal to Communist North Viet Nam to quit fighting and negotiate a peace.

The British move was contained in a draft message sent to the Soviet government.

It called upon the Soviets to join in signing and circulating the message among the nine countries which attended the 1954 Indochinese peace parley and the Indian, Canadian and Polish governments, which form the Viet Nam control commission.

Represented in the peace parley were the United States, France, Britain, the Soviet Union, Red China, Cambodia, Laos, the Vietminh regime that fought the French, and South Viet Nam.

The United States never signed the general armistice agreement on Indochina, but made a unilateral declaration defining its position.

CHARGE N. VIETS

In the message, the British government accused the North Vietnamese of stepping up intervention in South Viet Nam.

The British charged, too, that North Viet Nam also has lately been speeding and increasing the flow of military equipment and men southward to aid the Communist-led Viet Cong forces.

A third accusation in the British message said North Vietnamese forces, "on a constantly expanding scale, are violating the neutrality and territorial integrity of Laos."

Britain and the Soviet Union were cochairmen of the 1954 conference in Geneva and the British message was sent to the Russians as a counterproposal to a parallel Moscow move aimed against the United States.

Soviet assent seemed improbable.

The Russians three days ago had formulated a message which they wanted the British to sign and circulate among the Geneva nations.

In it, the Russians called for international condemnation of

Rusk: China Holds Key to Big War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today Peking holds the key to whether there is to be a "confrontation" between Red China and the United States over Viet Nam.

Rusk told a news conference that "we are going to meet our commitments" to defend South Viet Nam.

He added: "If you can tell me what Peking is going to do, I can give you a better answer."

The secretary took sharp issue with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin's assertion Tuesday that the United States, by its actions in Viet Nam, Europe and elsewhere, was "whipping up military psychosis."

Rusk said that Soviet leaders know very well that they are turning the facts around when they charge the United States with "aggression."

'STANDARD PATTERN'

He described this as the "standard pattern" of Soviet propaganda — "built into their concept of world revolution.

Kosygin is not contributing to peace policies in Viet Nam by accusing the United States of aggression there, Rusk said.

He added that Kosygin and others in the Kremlin knew peace could come promptly if the "real aggressors" in Viet Nam were stopped.

The United States wants more help in Viet Nam from its allies in Europe and elsewhere, Rusk said.

'Newspapers Due to Grow'

DETROIT (AP) — Newspaper publisher Otis Chandler predicted yesterday that daily newspaper circulation in the United States will increase by 10 million — to a total of 70 million — within the next 10 years.

★ ★ ★

Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times and vice president of the Times-Mirror Co. of Los Angeles, said the increase would result from a variety of factors, including larger incomes and less poverty in addition to population growth. He also cited rising levels of literacy.

Chandler made his forecast in a talk at the annual Detroit automotive meetings of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Chandler said the "continuing vitality" of the newspaper industry will mean a total advertising volume of $6.6 billion by 1975, or a 60 per cent increase from last year's $4.1 billion.

First Rendezvous Attempt

Gemini 6 Shot Slated Sunday

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The Gemini 6 hunter spaceship was readied today for a Sunday morning launch, and the U.S. drive to achieve the first rendezvous of orbiting craft pushed on 24 hours ahead of schedule.

At 11:10 a. m., Mission Control at Houston made it official that Gemini 6 would be launched at 10 a. m. Sunday and that Borman and Lovell would begin the maneuvers toward a circular orbit about 1 p. m.

Astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford are to chase down the Gemini 7 and attempt to score a space first by flying in formation with the other craft for six hours.

Originally, the launch of the Gemini 6 was scheduled for Monday, but both rocket and spacecraft crews were 24 hours ahead in their work, and space agency officials saw no reason to hold them back.

At 4:41 p.m. EST today, Borman and Lovell were to begin switching Gemini 7 into a circular orbit 185 miles above the earth — the desired position for the rendezvous.

The maneuver was to be carried out in two stages. At 4:42 p.m., jet thrusters were to be fired near the Carnarvon, Australia, tracking station to adjust the perigee, or low point of the orbit.

Post Office Adds Yule Hours

Holiday post office hours will include extra service on Saturdays and Sundays, it was announced today by Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson.

Donaldson said stamps and parcel post service would be available at the main post office at 735 W. Huron from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Dec. 12 and Dec. 19, both Sundays.

Monday through Saturday service at the main office, the federal station at E. Huron and Perry and the branch office at 2980 Auburn, Pontiac Township, will be available from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Donaldson said all patrons in post office lobbies at closing times will be served.

The postmaster said service on money orders and postal savings would be offered only during normal post office hours, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

He also urged all Christmas card senders to include their zip codes in the return address on envelopes.

Donaldson said this would facilitate full conversion to zip code operation by the post office in time for next year's holiday rush.

Skies Will Become Partly Overcast

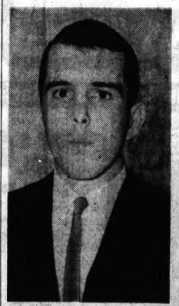
Today's sunny skies will become partly overcast tonight and tomorrow with high temperatures in the 40s.

The weatherman predicts lows of 24 to 30 tonight and a high of 40 to 45 tomorrow. Cloudy and continued mild with a chance of showers is Saturday's outlook.

Morning winds south to southwesterly at 5 to 15 miles per hour will become variable tonight and tomorrow.

Thirty-two was today's low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. By 2 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 47.

Murphy Confident He Can Handle Job



SHANE MURPHY

Shane Murphy, appointed deputy Oakland County treasurer Nov. 29 by Treasurer James E. Seeterlin, expressed confidence today in his ability to handle the job.

The appointment of the 24-year-old son of County Clerk-Register John D. Murphy has stirred a heavy flow of criticism. Democratic leaders generally have supported the action.

The elder Murphy is a Democrat, as is Seeterlin, who was appointed treasurer six weeks ago by a committee of three county officials that included John D. Murphy.

Seeterlin succeeds the late Charles A. Sparks.

Finding himself in the middle of political rumblings resulting from the appointment, the younger Murphy is concentrating his efforts on learning all phases of the $8,000-a-year job.

Murphy's duties as deputy treasurer center mainly on preparing for the back tax sale held each year in May.

Approximately eight months work is required in advance of the annual tax sale, he said.

Duties of the job, which ranks below only those of the treasurer and chief deputy treasurer, also include general supervision of clerical employes.

Murphy said he had learned a great deal about procedures in the short time on the job, concedes that there is much more to learn and concludes that there is no phase of the job he can't handle.

Admittedly, he lacks the experience and specialized education for the job but on the credit side of the ledger is the fact that tests show he is a bright young man.

This is substantiated by the county personnel office, which reports that Murphy did very well both on an IQ test and an examination to determine ability in office procedures.

On questioning, Murphy offered further information on his intellectual ability.

He was one of seven youths to win a scholarship to the University of Detroit High School from nearly 500 tested. He received scholastic honors while attending the school.

His education ended in 1959 on graduating from high school.

Since then he has served three years in the Army's 82nd Airborne Division, leaving military service as a sergeant, and the rest of the interim period in unskilled work.

Prior to the appointment, he was a grinder in the body shop at Fisher Body and before that worked on the assembly line for a Birmingham manufacturing firm.

Murphy said he plans to resume his education early next year in night school, taking accounting or related courses.

MAKE WAY FOR THE PAST — Traffic halts and signal lights and electrical wires are raised on Sashabaw Road as the Drayton Plains one-room schoolhouse is trundled to its new home. Built in 1870, the school will be restored on the grounds of the Moses Wisner estate, 405 Oakland. It was given to the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society by Leonard Coats of Waterford Township. Funds for the transfer came from friends and members of the Society, substantially augmented by a gift from the Lula C. Wilson trust. The search is now on for appropriate furnishings.

British Urge Truce Appeal

American action in what Moscow described as "the bandit war."

This proposed message was rejected by the British, who then sent along their own version. Foreign ministers of the two countries remain cochairmen of the conference machinery.

* * *

The British message emphasized Secretary of State Dean Rusk's public reaffirmation Nov. 26 that the United States is ready, unconditionally to negotiate an end of the war.

* * *

The British message then went on:

* * *

"Unfortunately, as in the case of all such previous American offers, there has been no response from the government of the Democratic Republic of North Viet Nam, whose ministry for foreign affairs issued on Nov. 28 a statement of their intention to fight to the end for glorious victory."

* * *

The British message then suggested the 12-nation appeal to North Viet Nam.

R20 Plan Gets Federal Okay

Congressman Billie S. Farnum, D-19th District, announced yesterday that final approval has been accorded the city's revised R20 plan for urban renewal in the central business district.

The project's federal grant has been boosted $161,137 for a total of $2,277,079, which hikes the grand total of federal funds for R20 to over $6 million.

City officials have awaited final approval of the revised R20 plan since conditional approval was granted last August.

Farnum said federal urban renewal authorities had restored $161,137 that had been cut from the city's original request.

"The city has gotten the full amount it requested," said the congressman.

The original revised plan was submitted in December, 1964.

Primarily, the revised plan adds 4.9 acres to the R20 project. Most of the property is vacant, although two buildings — a now-vacant supermarket and a warehouse—are to be purchased.

The added acreage is generally located in an area south of Water, down to the old bed of the Clinton River.

Planning and Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates said the revised plan, as approved, incorporates added noncash credit for work done on the Clinton River.

The city will receive "credit" toward its share of R20 costs totaling $1.9 million.

The revised plan gives the R20 project a new closeout date of April 7, 1967, changed from March 31, 1966.

Soviets Make Major Changes

with a genius for staying out of trouble, Mikoyan survived Stalin purges and innumerable shake-ups.

He came close to the top of the hierarchy but never seemed to aspire for the top post. Evidently he played a significant part last year in the overthrow of Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Mikoyan's retirement had been rumored for some time.

Podgorny, a powerful Ukrainian, leaves an influential post in the ruling party presidium and secretariat to step into the chairmanship of the Supreme Soviet or presidency.

Podgorny's career has been associated with engineering, largely in agriculture. He worked many years at party duties in the Soviet Ukraine and rose under Khrushchev to eminence in the party leadership.

The unit which Shelepin headed for the past three years, the Committee for Party and State Control, was changed to the Committee of People's Control.

The Supreme Soviet was told that the change in the powerful organization, which supervises the application of party orders by Soviet government units, would increase the role of the common people.

The chairman of the new committee is Pavel Kovanov.

Brezhnev had suggested the committee change at a meeting Monday of the party's Central Committee.

At that time he said the committee had some shortcomings.

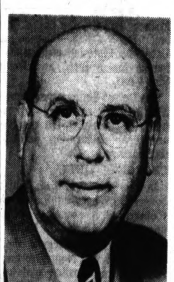
The Supreme Soviet today also approved a national budget for 1966 calling for an increase of 5 per cent in defense spending over this year. The budget was introduced by the government Tuesday.

Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov said then this was being done because "the war menace is growing."

The Supreme Soviet also made changes in the Soviet Council of Ministers, including Kovanov in that body.

The Council of Ministers, which has about 100 members, acts as the administrative arm of the government.

Two others also were made council members. They are Alexander Bulgakov, chairman of the state committee of the council for vocational and technical education; and Alexander Yershevsky, chairman of the agricultural engineering equipment association.



JOHN C. AUSTIN

441 at Dinner Honor Auditor

Friends, Associates Cite County Service

John C. Austin, due to retire from the Oakland County Board of Auditors Dec. 31, was feted last night by 441 persons at a dinner in the Kingsley Inn.

* * *

Highlighting the retirement program was a series of 28 pictures of Austin from childhood to the present, flashed on a large screen with commentary by friends and associates of the retiring auditor.

Attorney Clarence K. Patterson, a lifelong friend of Austin, was master of ceremonies. Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, made the introductions.

Speakers included Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors; Willis Brewer, a former member of the board of auditors; Leo Halfpenny, budget technician for the county; and Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore.

* * *

A retirement citation for meritorious service to the county was presented Austin by Lyle Baker, chairman of the County Retirement Commission.

* * *

The retiring official also received a silver plated shovel from Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry as a symbol of a drain in Southfield named for Austin and a certificate for 10 shares of Community National Bank stock.

FARRELL E. ROBERTS

State Senator May Run for Circuit Court

A seat on the Oakland County Circuit Court bench may be sought next year by State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts of West Bloomfield Township, it was learned today.

Roberts, a Republican representing the 14th District, would not confirm the report when questioned in Lansing, but did say that he might have an announcement in several weeks.

A veteran legislator, Roberts, 42, of 2486 Lafay was first elected to the Senate in 1960 after serving two terms in the House.

He vacated his Senate post and ran unsuccessfully for an Appeals Court judgeship in 1964.

He was returned to the Senate in a special election in April, filling the seat left vacant by the death of Sen. Paul Chandler.

Sees 'Have' Nations Beating Global Hunger

A tragic incongruity of our times is that while the farm policies of the United States for several decades have been to limit production of agricultural products and reduce cropland area, starvation has been creeping over many sections of the globe.

An outstanding authority warns that unless the U. S. completely reverses its food production programs, mass starvation on a scale never before experienced by the human race will grip undeveloped countries by 1975.

The authority is Sen. George McGovern, D-S. D., who before his election to the Senate in 1962 was U. S. Food-for-Peace director. His words carry ominous conviction.

Declaring that half a billion of the world's 3-billion-plus population go hungry every day of their lives, another billion are undernourished and at least three million children annually die of malnutrition, the senator points to large areas of Asia, Latin America, Africa and the Middle East where the specter of starvation can be seen.

McGOVERN dismisses the common belief that U. S. food surpluses are of enormous and unwieldly proportions, declaring that the 800 million bushels of wheat the Nation has in storage would only meet our own needs for eight months in event of a crop failure. He advocates our "deliberately producing surplus commodities for shipment overseas."

Because America's farms can at best satisfy only a fraction of the world's food needs, the senator calls for a rapid acceleration of food production abroad and the formulation of U. S. relief programs commensurate with the vital role we must inevitably play in averting the widespread famine that looms.

The United States, he says, should provide funds for fertilizer, pesticides, irrigation development, hybrid seed and farm-to-market roads which undeveloped nations need in order to carry out "an agricultural revolution like the one we've had during the past century."

Conceding that such subsidization on our part would not be cheap, the expert maintained that we had far better spend in that manner the $2 billion a year that now goes to our farmers for restricting crop production.

★ ★ ★

Humanitarianism aside, if we as a nation are to have a self-sustaining world in which to advance our own well-being, the message of Sen. McGOVERN is worthy of the deepest consideration and support of measures that embody it.

School Dropouts Pay Big Economic Price

A report just issued by the Ohio State Bureau of Unemployment says again what has been said so many times in the past to school-age youngsters:

A high school diploma is becoming the basic minimum requirement for success in later life.

A five-year comprehensive study, first of its kind ever made in Ohio, reveals what Gov. JAMES A. RHODES calls "startling figures."

• Among men 25 years old or older, 38.7 per cent of those without jobs had an educational attainment of eighth grade or less in 1960. In 1965, the figure was 39.8 per cent.

• In 1960, 21.1 per cent of the unemployed men in Ohio had not completed high school. In 1965, unemployment among the same group jumped to 30.6 per cent.

Clearly, says the governor, the need to complete high school is becoming greater with each passing year.

College degrees seem to be the best insurance against joblessness.

• In 1960, approximately 9 per cent of the unemployed in Ohio had completed college. In 1965, this figure dropped down to 1.9 per cent.

• In 1960, 7.7 per cent of the unemployed had some college education. In 1965, this percentage was reduced to 5.5 per cent

These statistics speak their own message. It is, simply stated, that education pays off.

Democracy Hard on Old Leaders

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — What happens to the "grand old man" is one of the differences between a democratic society and a dictatorship of left or right. In a democratic society he generally has a bumpy time.

MARLOW

Last Sunday's blow to French President Charles de Gaulle's pride was just the latest example. His people, failing to give him enough votes to reelect him, forced him into a runoff election later this month.

But in other democracies, great postwar leaders were nudged hard enough to make them realize they had outlived their political usefulness.

The British did it to their beloved Sir Winston Churchill in 1955 when he was 80 and too feeble to do his job. The men closest to him urged him to quit as prime minister, and he did, although he lived 10 years after that.

As chancellor of West Germany for 14 years, Konrad Adenauer had led his country from the ruins of war to bulging prosperity. His own party forced him out in 1963 when he was 87.

★ ★ ★

There's no danger of an oldtimer freezing to his job in this country with its elections every four years and a two-term limit on the presidency.

NO ONE IN SIGHT

In India, one of the most important leaders of the 20th century seemed bound to stay in the saddle indefinitely, although India was a democracy, because no one like him was in sight and he had trained no one.

This was Jawaharlai Nehru, who had been prime minister since India got its independence from Britain in 1947. He died in 1964 at 74.

But the long life and unchallenged tenure of the dictators—or the leaders of a dictatorial regime of left or right—has plenty of examples.

Joseph Stalin one of the monsters of history, died in 1953 at 73 after 23 years as the iron boss of Russia.

UNCHALLENGED LEADERSHIP

Two Communists, Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, now 73, and Red China's Mao-Tze-tung, 72, still hold unchallenged leadership after decades of it. The picture is the same on the far right.

In Spain Francisco Franco, 73, and in Portugal, Antonio Salazar, 76, are undisturbed dictators, Franco since 1937, Salazar since 1932.

★ ★ ★

On Formosa, Chiang Kai-shek retains control of the Nationalist Chinese, a society which can hardly be called democratic. He had been the decisive force on the mainland from the 1920s until 1949 when the Reds drove him to Formosa. There he stayed in charge as before, but on a smaller scale.

'It's Just A Lot Of Hot Air!'

David Lawrence Says:

Kosygin's Views Disappointing

WASHINGTON—Any reporter who goes all the way to Moscow and gets an opportunity to interview the Soviet premier is to be envied by members of his profession.

But what the head of the Communist government said this week to James Reston of the New York Times—as revealed in a transcript subsequently authorized for publication—can only bring dismay and disappointment to the American people.

For Alexei N. Kosygin used the occasion to transmit to an American audience a bitter denunciation of the government of the United States as an aggressor and as an evil force eager to make war throughout the world.

These tirades from government spokesmen have been issued before by the Kremlin, and similar criticisms are broadcast daily by Moscow over the radio and through press statements reaching far and wide.

What Premier Kosygin has just said is not so important in itself, but does he really believe what he says?

★ ★ ★

What, to be sure, motivates the Soviet mind? What are the influences that persuade as high an official as Kosygin to disregard all the facts of life and the truths of the modern world and imagine that he can paint a picture of America as an aggressor?

ACTS OF AGGRESSION

The record, on the contrary, clearly shows countless acts of aggression committed by the Communists to which the United States and its allies have properly risen in defense.

Some allowance has to be made, of course, for what is considered political ideology—the reliance by Soviet officials on propaganda and distortion as a means of influencing public opinion.

The Russian people themselves are not getting the truth, as the Communist government keeps them from learning many things going on inside and outside their country. Where news is suppressed or censored, public opinion can be induced to accept incredible reports.

★ ★ ★

This correspondent has often wondered if it would be possible some day for a reporter to interview the Soviet premier, or anyone in high office in Moscow, on a single subject—morality.

BIG QUESTIONS

What do the Communists really think is moral or unmoral? How do they arrive at their standard for judging what is right and what is wrong? How would they define the word "freedom" for the individual? And do they honestly believe there is no supreme being watching over the destinies of mankind?

A government composed of men who have seized power and have the physical means of maintaining themselves in office can be an absolute monarchy. There is, in fact, little difference between the rule of the czar and the ritualistic discipline inflicted today on the Russian people by the Communist party.

If the words of the Soviet premier are to be taken as a sincere expression of his beliefs, one wonders why the many Russians who have visited the United States have not, on returning to the Soviet Union, told their high officials how mistaken they are when they attribute to the American people and their government evil motives and a desire to upset the peace of the world.

The Communist party may feel it can only retain power and high office for its leaders by persuading the Soviet people to believe than an attack and aggressive war are being threatened by countries which do not accept communism.

Communist doctrines are the subject of bitter controversy everywhere. But there is not the slightest evidence that the American people have ever wanted to engage in a war thousands of miles away solely for the purpose of establishing colonial power or to promote selfish interests, as the Soviet premier charges.

The tragic fact is that morality seems to have been shunted aside by the Communists.

If it has not, then a dialogue on what the Russian leaders really believe is or is not morality in the world of today would indeed be enlightening.

For religions in all ages have taught at least one major truth—that without a better understanding of morality there can hardly be peace between individuals or nations.

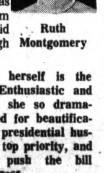
Wives of High Officials Biggest Bargain of All

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — President Johnson says he knows of "no other town with so many remarkable women as Washington." And he and Lady Bird know how to put them to work for the Great Society!



Ruth Montgomery

The biggest bargain that Uncle Sam has going for him are the unpaid wives of high officials.

Lady Bird herself is the pace-setter. Enthusiastic and indefatigable, she so dramatized the need for beautification that her presidential husband gave it top priority, and she helped push the bill through Congress.

The poverty program has to date registered no greater success than its preschool-age Head Start program, which Lady Bird also made her special project.

★ ★ ★

Jane Wirtz, wife of the secretary of labor, assigned herself the task of putting some steam into the Labor Department's languishing effort to develop a crafts industry for the physically handicapped.

Ermalee Udall's husband, as secretary of the interior, has prime responsibility for the welfare of Indians.

Touched by the plight of these native Americans, Mrs. Udall cleaned out the attic of the Interior Department and transformed it into an exhibition hall for Indian crafts.

★ ★ ★

Two of the beautification speakers most frequently tapped as substitutes for the busy first lady are Margaret McNamara and Jane Freeman, wives of the secretaries of defense and agriculture respectively.

OTHER TASKS

Mrs. McNamara further serves on the poverty program's national advisory committee, and Mrs. Freeman often appears on televison in behalf of the Great Society, since she used to have her own TV program while her husband was governor of Minnesota.

The contribution for which Mrs. Freeman may be remembered longest, however, is putting the national arboretum on the tourist map.

Trudye Fowler, who is organization-minded, has frequently been tapped by the Johnsons for political chores.

★ ★ ★

A volunteer worker at Democratic headquarters before her husband became treasury secretary, she was one of the prime movers behind Lady Bird's whistle-stop campaign train last fall.

HARD WORKER

Perhaps no Cabinet wife works harder than Virginia Rusk, who besides attending countless official dinners also substitutes for her husband at the national day celebrations of all 114 embassies here.

Perhaps it's not the government officials but their hard-working wives who are underpaid.

Voice of the People:

Hopes Legislators Vote for Needs of Our Citizens

The recent change in position of five of six elected Republican legislators relative to special appropriations for smaller State colleges and universities and homestead tax relief for disabled veterans and their widows represents a serious blow to the citizens of Oakland County. Four of these five legislators originally voted in favor of both bills and one voted in favor of the small State college bill. That was before Romney's veto. Following a recent "conference" with Romney these five Republican legislators have announced they now feel they must switch their vote.

★ ★ ★

I would hope that State Senator Farrell Roberts and State Representatives Clifford Smart, Raymond Baker, William Hampton and William Hayward can be enjoined by the concerned citizens of their districts to ignore gubernatorial pressures and vote their conscience in December as they did last October on these important needs of our citizens.

'Fault for Delinquency Lies With Parents'

A television commercial for a candy portrays teen-age dancers twisting for this candy. What kind of a mind invents these commercials? Committees are being formed to study juvenile delinquency and disturbed children when the fault lies with the parents who allow their children to watch demoralizing programs and commercials.

Reader Comments on City School Facilities

We worked several years and shopped three years for a home in a community to bring up our children. We belong to P.T.A. and both give time to our schools. Maybe this time and work is why we have a few more facilities than some schools.

If and when the Commnists and pressure groups take away our community school system it will take away the desire and initiative of people to better themselves. If the school board has money to spend to bus children, they should see that every child, black or white, who lives a mile or more from school has a bus and safe conditions to get to school.

Pontiac was a booming city a few years ago. We had Christmas parades instead of empty stores. Somebody goofed, but good.

'Computer Machines Help Extend Interest'

Stores have a new racket called the computer machines. If you buy something like a TV set it may take the computer 56 days to send a bill. That adds 56 days extra interest. Another smooth interest racket is to buy storm doors, etc., and make no payments for three months. Don't be fooled, they have that three months extra interest on the bill. You soon won't be able to pay cash for anything because everyone wants that beautiful interest money.

Hearing to Be Held on Deer Hunting Laws

The time and place for all deer hunters to sound off about the dwindling deer herd in the northern counties of our State will be December 11 at the Pontiac Central High School. Unless we take action the deer herd in Michigan is in serious danger because of the needless slaughter of does and fawns. Let's give Sen. O'Brien the tools he needs to help put an end to this deer law in Michigan.

Mother Quotes Letter From Son in Viet Nam

I have two teen-age sons serving in Viet Nam. I sent an article from The Pontiac Press to one of them showing that the public is backing our boys in Viet Nam. He wrote, "Thanks, mom, for the article from The Pontiac Press. It helped to boost our boys' morale. We read and hear so much about demonstrations against our policy in Viet Nam, it makes you sometimes want to give up. I don't know how the people in the States feel, but I, as well as other boys here would really love to go hunting for the V.C. but we can't do it our way. Too much fear from top officials — it would cause a nuclear war."

TIME-WASTING EXPERIENCE

Book Features Life of Patriot

Historical Work Said More Than Biography

Samuel Adams— The Fateful Years of 1765-1776 by Stewart Beach

By CORENNA ALDRICH

Despite its forbidding title, "Samuel Adams — The Fateful Years 1764-1776" is more than fact-filled biography.

BEACH

Feeling that history has somewhat maligned and tarnished the image of this Boston patriot of the American Revolution, Stewart Beach has set about to right that inequity. In the process, he has produced a book as readable as it is informative.

Adams' unrelenting oppositon to British acts against the colonies resulted in the common historical conception of him as a rabble-rouser who stood on Boston street corners, prodding mobs to insurrection.

★ ★ ★

Calling on what must have been mountainous research and broad knowledge of colonial history, Beach instead presents Adams as a genuinely pious and gentle man who acted on deep conviction and high principle.

In a warm account of this man, he gives life and personality to otherwise cold figures of history and offers little-known sidelights to events of common knowledge.

Perhaps one of the more enlightening aspects of this book is its presentation in the light of Adams' own time, rather than mere historical reflection. By doing this, the author provides unusual insight into the temper of that age.

★ ★ ★

Throughout his book, Beach is convincing in his assertion that Adams was truly "the political conscience of the patriot cause."

CLOSE OF STORY

As his story closes with the funeral of Samuel Adams, most readers will feel some of the affection this writer obviously holds for his subject, a man "unique in history, dedicated to the cause of liberty and democracy with almost no desire for personal prestige or gain, whose efforts, more than any other man's, launched the destiny of a new nation."

Born in Pontiac and the son of a well-known early local family, Beach is currently fiction editor of "This Week."

International Tidal Survey Is Planned

By Science Service

PARIS — The deep sea tides that sweep the oceans twice a day may help scientists learn more about the earth's electrical field and even anticipate earthquakes.

A plan for an international study has just been endorsed by the Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission, under the auspices of UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization).

Created by members of the International Association of Physical Geography, the plan will be presented in 1967 at the general assembly of the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics.

Tides are the alternate rising and falling of the oceans, gulfs, bays, estuaries and other bodies of water. Occurring twice a day over most of the earth, they are caused by the gravitational attraction of the moon and the sun.

Designed to take from five to 10 years, the tidal survey would be made on the basis of a grid whose squares would measure about 620 miles on each side. Scientists hope to make detailed calculations of the tidal ranges and obtain the first reliable estimates of tidal friction.

The energy of the attraction exerted by the sun and moon can be calculated, but scientists do not yet know how it is consumed. Some of this energy goes into the tides; the rest affects the dry land.

Land-Fill Deal Offer Opposed

Waterford Planners Are Against Sale

The Waterford Township Planning Commission has recommended that the Township Board decline an offer to buy a 12-acre land-fill site for $21,000.

* * *

Located at the end of Marlington near the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks, the land was put up for sale by Bateman Realty.

In objecting to the proposed sale, the planners felt:

- That the location is poor and inadequate for land-fill.
- That it is too small and does not permit an economical operation.
- That it is inconsistent with a refuse control study conducted previously by the commission.

* * *

The township presently does not own or operate a dump.

At their Tuesday night meeting, the planners also agreed to proceed with the third year "701" planning program and to apply for a federal grant to help finance it.

TOTAL COST

Planning Director Vern Wiggins stated that the total cost will be $25,000. A $16,900 federal grant will be sought.

Purpose of the program is to promote an understanding and acceptance of the comprehensive plan among township residents, relating how it will affect them.

Wiggins called it a public information type program.

* * *

However, the project will include more detailed work in street and traffic planning and for future industrial sites.

* * *

A consultant for the program will be named.

How Can You Say No To Such Beautiful Beggars

Viet Street Racketeers View GI as Fool

By TOM TIEDE

SAIGON, Viet Nam (NEA) — The American GI is a friend of the working class here. And the occupations are prostitution, thievery, smuggling, begging, fencing, forgery and blackmail.

Business hours are after dark. Offices are avenues and alleyways. And a transaction is usually as one-sided as a lynching.

The private opinion of these mobsters in the street is that the Yank is a fool and a deliciously rich one at that.

He is neither, of course, but truth doesn't count.

* * *

In this tormented country where kids are taught that the Three Rs stand for Riots, Robberies and Rackets, the people easily mistake good intention and generosity for weakness.

IS LAUGHED AT

Thus a soldier who tips the newsboy a few cents is not lauded, but laughed at.

And they are giggling from bar to bistro.

In the pubs, where the women are lovely and lecherous, the con game may be one of three—tick-tack-toe, blackjack poker or match penny.

* * *

The babes with the booze are experts. A guy with a few belts in him is anything but.

YOU LOSE

When you lose you are expected to buy her a drink which, understandably, never is ordered.

When you win you are expected to be a right guy — "you han'some Joe" — and buy her a drink anyway.

Nobody, of course, is naive enough to misunderstand the shakedown.

* * *

"But what the hell," says one crusty corporal, "I get a three-day pass after months in the boondocks and I want to see a broad. If I got to pay for her time, then so be it."

MORE SUBTLE

On the streets, however, the bunco is more subtle than sexy and troopers are gaily buying enough Orient Brooklyn Bridges to span every river in Southeast Asia.

Taxicab drivers claim their meters are broken and one winds up paying 100 piastres for a routine ride that for months had cost only 10.

Shop owners begin bartering at roughly twice the price and snare more suckers than an 8-year-old shoplifter in a candy store.

WATERED PETROL

The lighter fluid cans are watered. Bootblacks shine the toes but not the sides. Every door is opened by an infant with his hand out. "Genuine leather shoes" shrink in the first monsoon.

The rent is high, the electricity low. The drinks are warm and the soup cold.

Current covers are stapled to month - old magazines. Aerosol cans are empty but weighted.

A guy who pays in advance for goods to be delivered to a predetermined spot will wait in vain until the Mekong Delta freezes over.

CLEVER GIMMICK

One particularly clever gimmick is to sell a pigeon a package of cigarettes, follow him up the street, pick them from his pocket, return to the stand and sell them again.

Another is to peddle a necklace, palm it and wrap up air.

Still another, worked effectively by the children, is to kill a guy with kindness. Hang onto him, pat him on the back (and pocket), tug at his trouser leg and strip him of everything but his underwear.

Mezzos Rarer Than Whooping Cranes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — An opera star is a rare bird.

America, for example, has more whooping cranes than it has top-ranking mezzo-sopranos.

BOYLE

The Metropolitan Opera, with billions of the world's voices to choose from, lists only 19 mezzo-sopranos on its golden roster of 110 soloists.

* * *

One of them is Rosalind Elias, who comes from Lowell, Mass., and is a darling of music critics everywhere. She is young, sultry, dark-eyed, lovely — and enthusiastic.

As the only opera star of Lebanese descent in this country, she also is perhaps the only one who can speak Arabic — and sing in five other languages. Rosalind is fond of Middle Eastern cooking and can whip up a dish of stuffed grape leaves as easily as she can belt out the title role of "Carmen."

She likes being a mezzo.

A CLIQUE

"Mezzos get along with each other better than other sopranos," she said. "We're a kind of a clique. Mezzos are more stable and sure of themselves, perhaps because the competitive field is smaller."

Rosalind started singing at 15. After an audition, the Met signed her up as a spear-carrying Valkyrie — she sneezed onstage during her debut — they quickly promoted her to stardom.

* * *

Now she has 35 roles, appears on television, and shuttles by air between the Met and European opera halls. In the last month she has made two trips to sing in Monte Carlo, where she also met Princess Grace and Prince Rainier.

Rosalind says this about her work:

"An opera star is not an ordinary person. She's not just the girl next door.

"It takes an odd type of person — a kind of kookie, a person who needs an awful lot of love and approval because she is always having to prove herself.

* * *

"An opera star has to go before a large audience and win them with just two little vocal cords. But it's not all just singing today. You have to have talent, some kind of looks, and a lot of luck — they are the biggest three."

WANTED TO ACT

"One of my goals is to be a legitimate actress on Broadway — and I will. As a child I wanted to look like Hedy Lamarr and be able to act like Bette Davis," she said.

"I thought it would be easy to go from opera into the theater. It hasn't turned out that way. Most people still don't realize that opera stars today must be good actors, too. They think of them only as voices."

Rosalind lives alone in a splendidly furnished East Side apartment that is an interior decorator's dream.

* * *

"Beauty, I think, brings happiness," she said, and added frankly:

"I surround myself with beauty, and I want nothing less than the best in life. By that I don't mean the most extravagant — simply the best."

TABLE TENNIS

She likes to dance, swim, entertain guests with meals she has prepared herself, believes she can beat any tenor in opera at table tennis.

* * *

"Boy, am I good at that game!" she exclaimed.

Why hasn't such a charming gal married?

"Out of choice," she said.

"I want a man who will like my career — as well as my cooking. I don't want to give up my career now. In the future, yes. Not now. No!"

Air Defense Thinning May Doom Hopes for New Interceptor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pentagon decision to thin out U.S. air defenses may have doomed any Air Force hopes for a brand-new, superfast interceptor jet.

A leading candidate for the role of "improved manned interceptor" has been the 2,000-mile-an-hour YF12A, unveiled to the world by President Johnson with great fanfare in February 1964.

★ ★ ★

Several prototypes have been built, but the YF12A has not been ordered into production.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress early this year it would cost about $4 billion to produce a force of YF12A-type interceptors and operate them for five years.

In view of the budget-boosting pressures of the Viet Nam war and the claimed easing of the Russian bomber threat, any such investment now would appear unlikely.

The once-feared peril that the Russians might mount many hundreds of long-range bombers capable of hitting the United States never did develop.

★ ★ ★

McNamara has said that Russia could with difficulty, "place over this country on two-way missions slightly more than 100 heavy bombers."

With the same difficulty, McNamara said, the Russians might be able to get 150 medium bombers over only the northwestern corner of the United States and Canada.

JET FIGHTERS

McNamara has decided to disband 17 squadrons of jet fighter interceptors — F100, F102 and some F104.

This still will leave 20 Air Force interceptor squadrons in operation to defend the United States, if need be. For the most part, these squadrons are equipped with F106 jets.

★ ★ ★

Many of the F102s due to leave the regular Air Force over the next few years will be given to the Air National Guard to modernize its 21 air defense squadrons now equipped with Korean War vintage planes.

As part of the slimming down of the air defenses, 18 batteries of Nike Hercules antiaircraft missiles will be removed. These 18 batteries currently are protecting bases of the Strategic Air Command.

BEING CLOSED

Some of these bomber bases are being closed as the U.S. force of 680 long-range jet bombers is to be reduced by about two-thirds over the next five fiscal years.

Defense officials said that under present conditions "SAC bases are not considered profitable targets for bomber attacks."

Even after these 18 batteries are dismantled, there will still remain more than 110 Nike Hercules batteries arrayed to protect some two dozen metropolitan areas and industrial complexes.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., said in a statement released Wednesday night at Reno that any cutback in the manned bomber fleet "represents a threat to our military security." Cannon, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, added "We must take action to extend the life of the manned bomber, or bring on newer models.

Officials Hoping to Curb Effect of Base Closings

NEW YORK (AP) — Political and civic leaders in affected communities across the country say they are disturbed by Defense Department plans to close or downgrade 126 U.S. military bases.

The potential loss of military payrolls from the bases will cripple the economy of many communities, they said. The officals sought means to offset the impact, such as by attracting new industry.

★ ★ ★

"It is a terrific blow to this area," said Russell Glasgow, manager of the Clinton, Okla., Chamber of Commerce. The nearby Clinton-Sherman Air Force Base is among those slated to be shut down.

Representatives from nine western Oklahoma towns affected by the closing met Wednesday night and organized a political action committee to attempt to head off the action.

ASSIGNED TASK

They were assigned the task of protesting the closing of the base and, if unsuccessful in that venture, to attempt to locate a federal agency that could use the facility.

★ ★ ★

Sewart Air Force Base in Tennessee is scheduled to be closed in 1970. And the fact that the closing is at least four years away has given some heart to leaders in nearby Smyrna. Gov. Frank G. Clement and other Tennessee political leaders protested the closing of Sewart in a telegram to Washington.

★ ★ ★

At Albany, Ga., Turner Air Force Base will be eliminated and two Nike missile bases will be phased out, but a naval reconnaissance group from Sanford, Fla., is moving in.

Leaders in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., saw the present flow of money from adjacent bases as virtually irreplaceable. The closing of Kincheloe Air Force Base, with its 4,000 military personnel, 275 civilian workers and $2.5 million annual payrolls, would be a catastrophe, said Mayor David E. Foster.

Hungary Exporting Cowboy Blue Jeans

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Hungary has initiated an export line of mass-produced American-style cowboy blue jeans.

The Budapest Eveninger Esti Hirlap said the last consignment of an important order from bebanan had just been routed to Szeged, a south Hungarian town.

"It seems this American cowboy garment is becoming more and more fashionable abroad," Esti Hirlap added.

Board Okays Plan to Provide Services for Parochial Students

A plan for provision of auxiliary services to Pontiac area parochial schools under a new state law was given formal approval of the Pontiac School Board at its regular meeting last night.

The plan — meeting requirements of Public Act 343 — was developed by administration officials in consultation with parochial school principals.

It outlines 12 specific services and programs to be made available, including services from school nurses, vision technicians, fluoride treatment, crossing guards and teacher consultants for physically, mentally or emotionally handicapped students.

A brochure describing the plan's administration will function as an operational guidebook for the program, according to Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer.

* * *

Board members also heard a progress report from Asst. Supt. William J. Lacy on Pontiac participation in the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

AID STUDENTS

Under Title I of the act, the school district has been allocated some $422,000 to support instructional proposals aiding economically disadvantaged students from both public and private schools in the district.

Educators, administrators, lay citizens and representatives of area welfare agencies served on a study committee which drew up proposals designed to qualify for funds under the act.

Lacy said the proposals were presented to officials of the State Department of Education yesterday afternoon in Lansing.

They were reportedly "pleased" with Pontiac's program.

More detailed consideration will be given by state officials to the program some time before Christmas, Lacy said.

In other action, the board granted sabbatical leaves to two instructors for the next school year and passed two resolutions aimed at designation and eventual recognition of collective bargaining agents for employes.

Mrs. Harry Dumont of the visiting teaching staff and William Guthrie, machine shop teacher at Pontiac Central High, were granted sabbatical leaves.

Mrs. Dumont plans to complete work on a master's degree in social work and Guthrie intends to study apprenticeship toolmaker programs in West Germany.

* * *

Several employe representative groups have asked the board for recognition as sole bargaining agents under provisions of Public Act 379.

BARGAINING AGENT

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME) requested recognition as bargaining agent for all nonteaching personnel with the exception of noon aides, crossing guards, office clerks and supervisors.

Asking for recognition separate from the AFSCME are representatives from the Pontiac School Lunch Managers and the Building Trades Council of the AFL-CIO.

The board moved without opposition to petition the State Labor Mediation Board for a ruling on the three requests.

A. Lynn Westhoven, president of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers, read to the board a statement urging reduction of class sizes.

Westhoven said the administration had made "positive strides" in reducing the ratio of students to teachers, but said further reduction was a necessity for better education in Pontiac.

A whale will drown, just like a man, if it is beneath the water's surface too long.

Piety Hill DAR Will Have Christmas Fete

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

The Piety Hill Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of which Mrs. Niel C. Talmage is regent, has scheduled a Christmas program for Tuesday, in the home of Mrs. Roy L. Thurman on Brookwood Road.

★ ★ ★

The meeting will begin at 1:00 p.m. followed by a program arranged by Mrs. Reed Dewey. It will be on the theme of the Lucia celebration in Sweden. Mrs. Gunnar Karlstrom will speak.

★ ★ ★

Edie Rosaen will portray Lucia and her attendants will be Linda Aradan, Linda Curry, Carol Herschberger and Berit Johansson. All girls attend Bloomfield Hills High School.

Mrs. Newell Allen will assist at the piano.

AWARDS

Recipients of the DAR Good Citizens award will be present with their mothers, and some exchange students from foreign lands.

★ ★ ★

Assisting Mrs. Thurman will be Mesdames Francis M. Fisher, William H. DeGraff, West H. Gallogly, Henry A. Manley, Walter A. Kleinert and Fredric Pew.

★ ★ ★

The Rt. Rev. Archie Crowley and Mrs. Crowley returned home some days ago after attending the marriage of their niece, Jean Gaffney, daughter of the Thomas Gaffneys, in St. Paul's Church, Rochester, N.Y., where Bishop Crowley officiated.

BENEFIT LECTURES

Mrs. Edward Proctor, regional chairman of the Michigan region for the Washington Cathedral is reminding those interested in the work of the National Cathedral Association that Louise Langelier, authority on antiques, will again this year give a series of lectures for the benefit of the Cathedral.

★ ★ ★

This series will all be on antique porcelains of the Continent and England, with actual pieces from various European factories.

★ ★ ★

They will begin Jan. 11 and continue for five consecutive Tuesdays from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon in St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Assisting Mrs. Howard Barker of Martell Drive, with reservations, are Mesdames Herman Scarney, Luther Leader and A. M. BeGole. The series is open to all interested persons.

This Shell Game Is on the Level

By JEANNE NELSON

Hazel Miller (Mrs. William) of Elizabeth Lake Road is becoming known as the egg woman — not because she raises chickens, but because she uses egg shells for Christmas ornaments.

"Hazel's a good egg," say the folks who know her.

For the recent bazaar at First Congregational Church she got out her glue, tweezers, egg shells and trimmings and made dozens of Christmas tree ornaments to be sold.

★ ★ ★

Claiming she never ruins a shell, Mrs. Miller told us how she goes about making these decorations.

First, she marks four dots on the shell and then pokes TIMIDLY with a sharp object until shells have a ragged oval opening. Then she removes all the egg content and lets the shell stand for several hours.

After it is thoroughly dry, she takes manicure scissors and cuts around the oval, making a smooth edge.

Now she is ready to decorate.

Scraps of wrapping paper, foil, ribbon and last year's Christmas cards make colorful materials for inside scenes.

This year she hit upon the idea of using photographs in scenes for a personalized effect.

For the outer shell she often uses glitter paint with sequins or gilds it, adding touches of lace and ribbon.

Once the scene is completed and the shell decorated, she covers the open oval with transparent wrap and attaches a ribbon for hanging.

Mrs. Miller tells us that she saves all kinds of paper scraps, cards, beads, buttons, etc. all year long. When Christmas comes around, she is well-stocked.

Now that her husband is retired, the couple, who love to travel, is planning a trip to the Orient in the spring.

This eggshell ornament depicts the three wise men of the East as they arrived in Bethlehem.

Who Needs Two Holes in the Head? Not Abby

DEAR ABBY: You have certainly caused me a lot of trouble. Ever since Debbie, my 15-year-old daughter read in your column that YOU, personally had your ears pierced so you wouldn't lose your earrings, she has been after me to let her have her ears pierced.

ABBY

You should realize, Abby, that a lot of young people read your column and hold you up as an example, and for you to put stuff like that in your column which is contrary to a mother's way of thinking, only stirs up trouble. In the future, please be a little more thoughtful.

DISAPPOINTED IN YOU

★ ★ ★

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Unfair! I never have had my ears pierced, nor do I intend to. Your daughter did not read that in MY column. Besides, if there's anything I DON'T need, it's two more holes in my head.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 but am very mature for my age. I am going with a real cool guy. He is 23, but I told my parents he was only 18 because if they knew how old he was they'd never let me go out with him.

I am not ashamed of this guy, and there isn't anything wrong with him. Don't tell me to talk it over with my parents because they're not the kind you can talk to. What should I do?

MATURE AT 15

★ ★ ★

DEAR "MATURE": There's something wrong with YOU, if you can't see what is wrong with HIM. He is old enough to know WHY the parents of a 15-year-old girl do not want her going with a 23-year-old man.

★ ★ ★

And if he were as "cool" as you think he is, he wouldn't be helping you deceive your parents. I say either tell your parents the truth or quit seeing him.

★ ★

Roseannn Kloss was honor attendant, along with bridesmaids Glenda Puckett, Mrs. Lee Bolda and Sharon Sonnenberg.

★ ★ ★

Dennis C. King was his brother's best man. The usher list included Bobby Morgan and Dennis Lowery of Troy; Fred Foss and Richard Duerden, Pontiac, and Douglas Sheffield, Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom attended Michigan State University.

Shop at OU Stays Open Saturdays

The Scholar Shop at Oakland University will be open for the next two Saturdays. Regular hours of 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. will be observed.

★ ★ ★

The shop, located on the lower level of Oakland Center, offers a large assortment of Christmas items in addition to the normal stock. All proceeds go to the scholarship fund.

Coffee and cookies will be served to all who shop on Dec. 9 and 16.

★ ★ ★

The shop will not be open on Dec. 24, nor during the week between Christmas and New Year's. It will resume operation Jan. 3.

★ ★ ★

Last summer's location on the grounds of the Meadow Brook Music Festival gave many more people the opportunity to visit the shop. Before it reopened in the fall, its original quarters were enlarged.

★ ★ ★

All help is volunteer. Mrs. June Matthews is in charge of the enterprise.

MRS. R. L. KING

Buttery Nut Cookies Are Holiday Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Some of our readers have interesting recipes for Christmas cookies which we want to pass along.

Mrs. James Meadows makes a nut cookie similar to one that is very popular; but hers have a different shape.

The mother of two grown children, Mrs. Meadows is an enthusiastic doll dresser. She clothes her dolls in authentic period costumes.

ALMOND BARS
By Mrs. James Meadows

3½ sticks of butter or margarine
1½ cups sugar
1⅔ cups or one package ground almonds
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups flour

Cream butter or margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Gradually add ground nuts, then rest of ingredients.

Roll out ½-inch thick and cut into 1x2-inch strips. Or use small round or holiday shape cutters.

Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees on ungreased cookie sheet. These do not get very brown.

Cool slightly and roll in confectioners' sugar. When cookies are cold, roll again in the sugar. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Remember, It's Still a Choice You Make

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Signing herself "Disturbed Coed," she writes, "You recently said that boys who father illegitimate babies suffer as well as the girls they make pregnant. Where did you get your information?

Our campus psychiatrist says that he has never heard of an 'unwed' father having a nervous breakdown though he has heard of unwed mothers having them. In addition, studies show that the great increase in illegitimate births may be due to the fact that the American male is not punished for his share in them. . . ."

I got my information from several adoption agencies which not only serve unwed mothers but are also often involved with their male partners.

And now I want to know why you want the American male punished for his share in begetting illegal babies.

Except in cases of forcible rape, the American male can't force an illegal baby on us if we don't want an illegal baby. You and your campus psychiatrist, with his suggestions that girls are the choiceless victims of heartless male brutality, sound awfully Victorian to me.

This isn't 1830, you know. It's 1965.

You girls no longer remain choicelessly at home with mamma and papa until some eligible suitor turns up to take you off their hands. You choose what you want — colleges, clothes, the politicians you want to govern you, the careers you want to pursue. If you don't know that you also have become responsible for sexual choices, it is sad.

But your ducking of this responsibility doesn't make the American male into a heartless brute for refusing to take it for you. It just makes you into a fool — an American female who doesn't want to know that she is one and to behave accordingly.

* * *

In 1830 girls didn't have to know that they were female, possessing a sexuality that is different from male sexuality. Their parents knew the difference for them and saw to it that any male they became involved with married them so that they could bear their babies in protected circumstances.

But now that it's become your obligation to kick parents in the teeth, you've got to see to these protected circumstances yourselves.

So, when an American male tries to force his way into your apartment after a date, it is YOU who have to choose between accepting or rejecting the implications of your unprotected sexual situation.

It's the choice between saying, "All right, just for a minute," and saying, "No, I'm too tired, but thanks for the lovely evening."

Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Vannatter of Highland Road announce the engagement of their daughter Linda Louise to Peter Ronald Merkle, son of the Charles F. Merkles of Pontiac Lake Road. Her fiance is a freshman at Oakland Community College. The pair plans an early spring wedding.

College Unit Plans Sing

Siena Heights College alumnae of Oakland County will gather in the Royal Oak home of Mrs. Donald G. Miehls at 7 p.m., Dec. 16.

From there, as a group, they will visit the Convalescent Center in that city with gifts and conduct a Christmas Carol sing.

* * *

Later, the group will return to Mrs. Miehl's home for a yule party.

Use New Plastic Wrap for Shimmering Angel

If you enjoy making your own holiday decorations here's a charming, easy - to - make Christmas angel. The secret ingredient — new textured plastic wrap.

★ ★ ★

A triangle of brightly colored cardboard covered with wrap and secured on the back with transparent tape forms the body; two smaller triangles, attached at the neck, become the sleeves.

★ ★ ★

To create ruffles, measure off lengths of wrap, fold over, gather where edges meet and tape.

★ ★ ★

The head is a styrofoam ball attached with a popcicle stick. Draw on features with crayon; use sequins for eyes. Hair is made by folding a two-inch strip of wrap and cutting folded edge every one-quarter of an inch to form loops.

★ ★ ★

Cut wings and crown out of gold paper, hands from white paper.

★ ★ ★

Glue on sequins and gold glitter for decoration. Green or artificial flowers add a colorful touch to the crown.

Golfers Meet for Luncheon

The annual Christmas luncheon for members of the Fairway Golf League was held at the home of Mrs. Basil Foisey of Rochester.

Cohostesses included Mrs. Charles Barker, Mrs. Jack Harned, Mrs. Robert Boles and Mrs. Robert Meikle.

A gift exchange was on the agenda.

Women's Role

There are approximately 26 million women in the work force, the U. S. Dept. of Labor Women's Bureau reports. One out of every three workers is a woman and of these almost three out of five are married.

GLAD ANGEL

In the 18th Century a German burgermeister was so proud of his long beard that he had to loop it over his arm as he walked. He tripped over the 8-foot object of pride one day and broke his neck. The beard is still in a museum.

ELIAS BROS. NEEDS A WAITRESS

She has to be big, strong and healthy. Carrying trays loaded with Big Boy's super-sized portions is no job for a wilting magnolia. She has to be fast. Folks who come to Big Boys like their food in a hurry, then take their time enjoying it. Not the other way around.

She has to like kids. We get lots because we're a family restaurant. (Four healthy appetites can eat regularly at Big Boys for less than $5). And she has to have will power. It's pretty tough to resist snitching a crispy french fry or golden-brown fried shrimp occasionally but we'd rather she didn't nibble in front of our guest.

What can we offer?

A permanent job, hourly wages plus tips, paid vacation and hospitalization in clean wholesome surroundings, nice uniforms and a lot of wonderful people to work with. You see, girls like the one's we're looking for right now are the only kind we hire.

Line Forms Here for Candidates

JACKSONVILLE Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Ann Fahrner puts her political predictions on canvas.

In the past 10 years, she has selected nine candidates for Senate, governor or the presidency. Each time she has painted a portrait of the candidate and has presented it to him. Each candidate has won the election.

Annual Fete for League

"Christmas Around the World" will again be celebrated under the joint sponsorship of the New Citizens' League of Pontiac and Janice Antona's citizenship class.

The party will be held Dec. 17 at 8 p.m. in the customary place, the cafeteria of Pontiac Central High School.

The New Citizens' League has presented a donation to the Oakland County Children's Center.

Couple Has Nuptial Rite in Detroit

A recent ceremony in the United Community Church, Detroit, marked the vows of Joyce Evalyn Pronath of Moberly Drive, Commerce Township, and Darro McArthur Schultz.

Their parents are the Donald G. Promaths, Brasher Falls, N.Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Schultz of Walled Lake.

* * *

The bride chose an A-line dress of white wool styled with long tapered sleeves and worn with a white satin rose headpiece and short veil.

She carried white roses for the rite performed by Rev. Lucian Kepple, followed by a reception and luncheon at Saratoga Farms, Novi.

Delores Ann Pronath attended her sister and William Barber was best man.

* * *

The bridegroom's parents honored the newlyweds at a Sunday reception in Crystal Echo Beach Hall.

Heat Pine Cones

Wrap pine cones in aluminum foil and let remain in a slow oven for a short while. Remove and allow to cool before handling and they will look as if they had been varnished. They make fine holiday decorations.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Mr. D is driving his bus to the made-up land of Zabbazara. On the way he picks up a donkey, a crocodile, a little lost boy and a Voodoo man.

CHAPTER FOUR

AP News Features

Mr. D was sorry he had picked up the Voodoo man. It wasn't that he didn't want to go to Santa Land.

What he didn't like was the way the Voodoo man's eyes glittered when he said he had business in Santa Land. What kind of business? Mr. D wanted to know.

"I have a present for Santa Claus," said the Voodoo man. "A very nice surprise."

This made Mr. D feel better. He turned the bus off the main road as the Voodoo man directed and headed for the mountains in the north.

The old bus rocked and swayed on the bumpy roads as they went higher and higher among the mountain peaks.

COULD HARDLY SEE

It grew colder and colder. The snow was coming down so fast and thick Mr. D could hardly see the road.

It didn't matter, because the Voodoo man could see everything — even in the dark — and he knew exactly where to go.

Mr. D did as he was told. He said to himself that, after all, the Voodoo man must be good to think of taking a present to Santa Claus, when everyone else went to Santa to get presents.

* * *

"You have the real Christmas spirit," he said to the Voodoo man.

ALL THE TIME

"Oh, I like to give presents," said the Voodoo man." I give presents all the time."

"I wish you would give me a present," spoke up the donkey. "I wish you would give me some sense."

"And give me beauty," said the crocodile.

'You Will Turn To Stone'

"And me a home!" piped up the little lost boy.

"Oh, no. I'm taking Santa a very pretty present."

"C-can we see it?"

"You can see one side of it." The Voodoo man reached under his cloak and pulled out a mirror.

The glass was covered with paper but the back of it shone with sparkling jewels.

"Oh, it is pretty!" said the crocodile with relief. "Why can't we look in the glass?"

"Because if you look in the glass you will turn to stone."

Mr. D jumped so hard the bus stalled. He leaped from his seat and faced the Voodoo man.

"You're taking THAT to Santa Claus?"

CASTING SPELL

The Voodoo man stood up, too. He wrapped his cloak around him and said, "I'm casting a spell over the whole of Santa Land."

"I — I won't take you," shouted Mr. D. "I won't go any further!"

"You won't need to. We're already there."

The Voodoo man waved his hand. The bus door opened and he stepped out into the dark.

(TOMORROW: The Accident.)

SISSY PRESENTS

"Pshaw!" scoffed the Voodoo man. "Those are sissy presents. My presents are different."

"Tell us!" begged the little boy. "What kind of presents do you give?"

The Voodoo man bent down and opened his black bag. The crocodile and the donkey and the little boy leaned over his back.

Mr. D nearly ran the bus off the road trying to peer around over his shoulder.

EYES NEARLY POPPED

What they saw nearly caused their eyes to pop out of their heads.

The bag was filled with snakes and scorpions and centipedes!

"Shut it up!" cried the little boy. "They're climbing out!"

The Voodoo man grinned and shut the bag.

TO SANTA CLAUS

"Is-is that what you're taking to Santa Claus?" stammered Mr. D.

Refugee Airlift Lags; Cuba Red Tape Blamed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The refugee airlift, expected to fly between 800 and 900 Cubans here weekly, brought only 504 during the first week.

There were 31 empty seats on Wednesday's plane.

* * *

A State Department spokesman attributed this to "administrative problems at the Cuban end."

"Cuba simply isn't producing the passengers in time for the flights," he said.

IMPOSE RESTRICTIONS

Refugees say they are hesitant to leave after being told that one of their family cannot come because he is of military age or falls in another restricted category. Usually those permitted to leave are advised only the day before scheduled departure, the refugees say.

The State Deprtment spokesman said the airlift goal still was nine flights weekly but he said kinks must be ironed out "at the other end."

* * *

Pan American World Airways planes that have made the six flights so far have seats for 93 persons. The airlift, which is only one flight a day, began Dec. 1. The United States hopes eventually to make two flights daily.

* * *

One of the newly arrived refugees, Roberto L. Garcia, 44, said a Cuban army major had been executed and about 100 persons arrested after a plot to assassinate Prime Minister Fidel Castro was uncovered. He said the arrests were made in Pinar del Rio Province.

The giant rhinoceros, baluchitherium, which stalked the earth some 30 million years ago, stood 17 feet high at the shoulder and was 24 feet long.

Tractionless Power Eyed for Vehicle

CHICAGO (AP) — A new source of power that could move wheeled vehicles through muddy swamps or over ice and snow with no dependence on traction was demonstrated publicly for the first time Wednesday.

* * *

Dr. Arthur W. Farrall, professor of agricultural engineering at Michigan State University, operated a scale model of such a vehicle in a demonstration for directors of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

* * *

Farrall, who developed and has assigned a patent on the device to Michigan State, calls his idea an inertial propulsion system.

If developed commercially, he said, the power source could find application in farm vehicles hampered by mud or in military vehicles that bog down in such swampy places as Viet Nam.

IN DEMONSTRATION

In the demonstration, a scale model about one foot long and weighing 6½ pounds dragged a one-half pound lead weight up a slight incline.

* * *

The machine gets its forward propulsion from the force of inertia — the energy released when a weight is moved rapidly from one position to another.

* * *

In the scale model, movable weights secured by coil springs are pushed slowly forward by a cam rotated by a motor, and then allowed to snap back suddenly to their original position. The entire vehicle jerks ahead on its wheels as these weights snap back.

* * *

The principle on which the force works can be easily demonstrated. For example, if a person on roller skates slowly extended a weight to arm's length before him and then suddenly jerked the weight back to his chest, the action would move him forward. A series of such movements would impart continuous forward motion.

2 U.S. Jets Explode; One Pilot Is Killed

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force planes exploded in Thailand Wednesday and one pilot was killed, a U.S. official said today.

The American pilot died when his Skyraider blew up while landing at Nakhon Phanom, about 375 miles northeast of Bangkok near the Laotian border, the official said.

* * *

In the other accident, a U.S. pilot ejected from his Thunderchief jet fighter-bomber when it exploded near Khorat, about 150 miles northeast of Bangkok, the official added.

Officials said both incidents were under investigation. Identities of the pilots were not announced.

Wyoming Will Execute Slayer of Girl Friday

RAWLINS, Wyo. (UPI) — Andrew Pixley, 22, of Dallas, Ore., is scheduled to die in Wyoming's gas chamber tomorrow for the rape-slaying of the 12-year-old daughter of an Illinois Circuit Court judge.

Unless Gov. Clifford P. Hansen commutes the sentence, the former wandering dishwasher will become the first person executed in Wyoming in 20 years.

Chemists Think Small

NEW YORK (AP) — While nearly everyone else is concerned with "thinking big," some chemists are concerned with "thinking small."

* * *

Through development of a new product called B-Nine, they are able to retard the growth of flowering plants. Although this might seem strange, it actually serves professional plant and flower growers to produce larger flowers on clay-potted plants that do not spend all their energy in stem and leaf growth.

U. S. Gives Fighter Jets to Nationalist China

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The United States turned over an undisclosed number of Northrop F5 Freedom fighter jets to the Chinese Nationalist air force today.

The F5 has a top speed of about 1,000 miles an hour and costs about $750,000. A squadron of the needlenosed planes is undergoing a 120-day trial in Viet Nam.

The Unisphere, symbol of the New York World's Fair, is the largest model of the earth ever built.

Reorganizing State Courts

LANSING (AP) — A 24-man commission started working Wednesday toward a total revamping of "everything below the circuit court level."

A joint commission on court reorganization, headed by Rep. William Boos, D - Saginaw, agreed on its own internal organization at a meeting Wednesday.

* * *

The commission was set up under a legislative resolution. The resolution followed a provision of the new State Constitution, which abolishes the justice of the peace system by 1968, and instructs the legislature to set up a system of lower courts of limited jurisdiction.

The resolution instructed the governor, the Michigan Supreme Court, the State Bar of Michigan and the legislature to name six members each to the commission.

Affected by reorganization would be probate, juvenile, municipal, traffic, recorders, common pleas and justice courts.

Since '58! Why?

NEW DELHI (AP) — Transport ministry officials found Bombay port customs officers still haven't cleared seven diesel tractors and 800 crates unloaded from ships in 1958. The government is trying to learn why.

World News Roundup

'Pirate Stations to Stay at Sea'

LONDON (AP) — Pirate radio stations beaming recorded music and commercials from offshore into Britain will not be allowed to set up business on land, the British government said Wednesday night.

Postmaster General Anthony Wedgwood Benn said the broadcasters aboard ships just outside territorial waters are cashing in on a profitable venture but their real aim is to land.

* * *

"They are living in the expectation they will ultimately be licensed," he said. "This is a future which simply does not exist for them."

The floating stations have built up a big audience in Britain for their programs of pop records interspersed with commercials. The state-supported British Broadcasting Corp. has a monopoly on legal broadcasting in Britain and carries no advertising.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government has acknowledged that writers Andrei Sinyavsky and Yuli Daniel are being held for investigation. They reportedly smuggled their works to the West to have them published.

A spokesman for the Soviet Committee for Cultural Relations with foreign countries said Wednesday the two men — both 40 — are under investigation. He added that it could not be said yet whether they would be tried. And he declined to say what they are charged with.

* * *

Confirmation of the detention came after Soviet Nobel Prize winner Mikhail Sholokhov told a news conference in Stockholm Tuesday that Sinyavsky was awaiting trial.

Sinyavsky, a critic, is reported to have published books in the West under the pseudonym Abram Tertz. Daniel, a translator, is said to have used the name Nikolai Arzhak. Books published under those names contain criticism of life in the Soviet Union and have been praised highly in the West for their literary merit.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — A Korean woman was killed Wednesday during bombing practice by a U.S. Air Force jet fighter 30 miles southwest of Seoul, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

* * *

Mrs. Lee Yong-ga, 33, was killed apparently by a nonexplosive bomb dropped on an island where she was working in an oyster bed, the spokesman said. The woman ignored warning flags and was not detected by guards as she entered the restricted target area, he added.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — A government supporter bolted today, and the Australian Senate by a 25-24 vote rejected a government bill to raise the income tax 2½ per cent.

The defector, Sen. Reginald Wright, did not object to the tax increase. His complaint was with another section dealing with taxes on old-age pensions. But a money bill cannot be voted section by section in the Senate.

The government now is trying to find a way to resubmit the bill and get it passed before Parliament recesses on Dec. 12 for the summer.

Expedition Returns From Mexican Jungle

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — An expedition into the Quintana Roo jungles of Mexico's Yucatan peninsula has returned with a live, deadly fer-de-lance snake, hundreds of insects, many butterflies and exotic birds.

Expedition leader Robert O. Lee of Portland says the party camped a day and a half before discovering it was atop the ruins of a Mayan temple.

Harvard Seniors Elect Negroes for First Time

BOSTON (AP) — The senior class at Harvard for the first time in history has elected Negroes to the posts of first and second marshal.

The university says that Barry L. Williams of New Rochelle, N.Y., basketball team captain; and John A. McCluskey, of Middletown, Ohio, football quarterback, were named first and second marshals, respectively, in class elections.

The most popular first name in England is John.

4th Trial in Slaying of Detroit Woman

DETROIT (AP)—For a fourth time within five years George D. Flatter, 26, went on trial Wednesday for murder.

★ ★ ★

Twice in previous trials Flatter was convicted. Another trial ended in a hung jury.

Flatter is accused of the 1960 strangling of Mrs. Elizabeth Moughler near her Detroit home.

More than 300 antisnoring devices have been registered with the U.S. Patent Office.

Wheelchair Robber Not Too Handicapped

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A two-man holdup team robbed a poolroom operator of $17. The operator, Edward Coleman, 45, told police the two — one of them in a wheelchair — entered his poolroom and called him over.

★ ★ ★

The man in the wheelchair then held him while the other man rifled his pockets and stole the money. The bandits then fled, with the wheelchair being pushed.

Rabbinical Council Opposes Interdating

LONG BEACH, N.J. (AP) — The Rabbinical Council of New Jersey has issued a pronouncement against dating between Jews and non-Jews.

"The road that ultimately leads to intermarriage begins with interdating. Jewish parents cannot abandon their responsibility in this matter," the council, representing Orthodox rabbis in the state, said.

Sir Walter Scott was the first great writer of English historical novels.

Casseroles Give You Free Time

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

No matter how busy a homemaker is, she must still plan nourishing meals for her family. Few people like a constant diet of TV dinners.

With a little planning, dinner can be taken care of right after breakfast, leaving the mistress of the home free for the rest of the day.

The solution is casseroles. Most of them can be prepared early in the day and reheated at dinner time. Just be sure to refrigerate them in the interval.

This first dish is a skillet meal which won't take too long at any time. But you can brown the meat ahead of time and have everything else ready for a quick combining after five.

CHEESE—TUNA TETRAZZINI

Oriental Beef and Beans

½ lb. sirloin steak, cut in strips
2 tablespoons pure vegetable oil
1 onion, chopped
1 cup cut green beans, raw or frozen
1 green pepper, cut in 1-inch cubes
1 cup sliced celery
4 teaspoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 (4-oz.) can mushrooms, undrained

Brown meat in oil in skillet. Add onion, green beans, green pepper and celery; cook 3 to 5 minutes. (You want the vegetables to be crisp.)

Combine cornstarch, soy sauce, tomato sauce, salt and pepper; add to skillet and mix thoroughly. Add mushrooms and liquid. Cook and stir until liquid is smooth, shiny and thickened. Makes 4 servings.

Corned beef hash is the star of the second meal. But you do more than open a can and heat the contents.

★ ★ ★

After several additional ingredients make the hash more enticing, the mixture is centered on parboiled cabbage wedges for a short baking period.

Jiggs' Cabbage Dinner

1 medium head cabbage
1 15- or 15½-ounce can corned beef hash
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon celery salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

★ ★ ★

1 8-ounce can tomato sauce with cheese
¼ cup horseradish
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt

Trim outer leaves and core from cabbage. Cut into 6 wedges; fasten ends with toothpicks to hold cabbage together. Cook, uncovered, in 2 quarts boiling salted water about 10 minutes or until tender; drain well.

Combine hash, onion, parsley, egg, celery salt and pepper. Reassemble cabbage on aluminum foil and fill center with hash mixture. Wrap foil around cabbage to hold it together, leaving the top ½ uncovered. Place in a baking dish and bake in a 425 degree oven for 25 minutes.

Combine remaining ingredients and heat to boiling. Serve tomato sauce over stuffed cabbage. Makes 6 servings.

★ ★ ★

That good old standby, canned tuna, always comes to the fore when one talks about casseroles. This recipe has an Italian touch to it.

Cheese-Tuna Tetrazzini

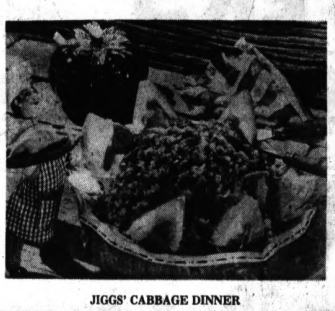
1 package (7 oz.) spaghetti OR noodles
2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup finely chopped parsley
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1½ cups milk
¾ cup shredded Cheddar cheese
1 can (2-oz.) mushroom stems and pieces with liquid
1 can (9¼-oz.) tuna, undrained
2 tablespoons butter, melted
½ cup coarse bread crumbs

Cook spaghetti according to package directions. Meanwhile in a saucepan melt 2 tablespoons butter; add parsley and onion and saute until onion is transparent. Blend in flour, salt and pepper; gradually add milk.

Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; add cheese and stir until melted. Add mushrooms, tuna and spaghetti. Turn into casserole.

★ ★ ★

Mix together 2 tablespoons melted butter and bread crumbs; sprinkle on top of casserole. Bake 15-20 minutes at 425 degrees. Makes 4-5 servings.



JIGGS' CABBAGE DINNER

Use in Many Recipes

Color of Christmas Is in Cranberries

Cranberry dishes make festive gifts for the holidays. Tiny loaves of cranberry nut bread can be baked in oven-proof dishes. Tie with Christmas ribbon onto small bread board.

★ ★ ★

Fill Christmas Cookie Jars with crunchy Cranberry Kitchen Cookies. Or make a cranberry spice syrup to pour over cling peach slices in a choice candy jar.

★ ★ ★

All three cranberry dishes are sure to please busy hostesses this season.

Cranberry Fruit Bread

2 cups all-purpose sifted flour
1 cup sugar
1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, well beaten
¾ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
¼ cup cooking oil
½ cup chopped nuts
2 cups fresh cranberries, coarsely chopped

★ ★ ★

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt. Combine well beaten egg, orange juice, orange rind and cooking oil.

★ ★ ★

Make a well in dry ingredients and add egg mixture all at once. Mix only to dampen. Carefully fold in nuts and cranberries.

Spoon into greased loaf pan (9x5x3"). Spread corners and sides slightly higher than center.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 1 hour or until crust is brown and toothpick inserted comes out clean. Remove from pan. Cool. Store overnight for easy slicing.

Cranberry Kitchen Cookies

½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
⅜ cup brown sugar (packed)
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 egg
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped nuts
2½ cups coarsely chopped cranberries

★ ★ ★

Cream butter and sugars together. Beat in the milk, orange juice and egg. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Combine with creamed mixture and blend well. Stir in chopped nuts and cranberries.

Drop by teaspoons onto cooky sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 10-15 minutes. Makes 12 dozen tea-size cookies.

Note: 1 teaspoon orange extract may be substituted for orange juice. Milk must then be increased to ½ cup.

★ ★ ★

Cranberry Fruit Compote

1—1-lb. 14 oz. can peach halves
1 cup cranberry juice cocktail
1 tablespoon cornstarch
5 tablespoons sugar
Dash salt
2-3" cinnamon sticks
5 whole cloves
¼ teaspoon grated rind of one orange

★ ★ ★

Drain peaches reserving ¼ cup syrup. Combine ¼ cup syrup and cranberry cocktail. Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt in saucepan. Stir in cranberry cocktail mixture and add spices and orange rind.

Cook over medium heat until clear and thickened, stirring constantly. Remove cinnamon sticks and cloves.

Pour hot syrup over peaches in compote dish and chill. Garnish with orange rind before serving. 4 servings.

Lemon Sauce Is Tangy Topping for a Pudding

If this sauce is made ahead, it may be gently reheated.

Lemon Sauce

2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
2 cups boiling water
3 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup butter

In a 1-quart saucepan thoroughly stir together the cornstarch, sugar, salt and lemon rind. Gradually stir in the boiling water, keeping smooth.

Over moderate heat cook and stir constantly until slightly thickened, clear and boiling. Remove from heat. Stir in the lemon juice and butter until butter melts. Serve at once.

Makes 2¼ cups — on the tart and thin side.

Take Calls, Do Various Tasks

Women Linguists Simplify U.N. Life

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Seated behind a long table in the U.N.'s bustling main lounge, three women with keen memories and a command of a dozen languages make life a little simpler for delegates of 117 nations.

From 9:30 a.m. each weekday until the last debate ends, sometimes past midnight, the three take in a ceaseless flow of phone calls from capitals around the world. By microphone they page the delegates wanted, in tongues ranging from Spanish to Swahili.

* * *

U.N. headquarters lacks space to provide separate quarters for each member. The big lounge overlooking New York's East River serves as a combination of office and club for the delegates while they are in the building.

Russian-born Nina Tessier, Maria Glass of Poland and Monique Denes, a native of France, are listed as delegates' aides. Their vague title fits their role of answering service, social secretary, and housemother.

EVERY 7 SECONDS

Calls come in at the rate of one every seven seconds during the midday peak. Relaying them is only part of the job. New delegates often ask where to find a good restaurant. A diplomat who has lost a button usually turns to the aides who keep needle and thread handy.

Recently one veteran envoy walked over to Mrs. Tessier holding out a swollen finger.

"Nina, I have a splinter," he complained.

"Then you should go to the clinic and have it removed," she replied.

"No, Nina, I want you to take it out."

TWEAKS IT OUT

Disinfecting a needle with cologne, Mrs. Tessier tweaked out the splinter, applied a bandage and dispatched the ambassador with a maternal pat.

"Sometimes I feel like a mother hen with a lot of chicks," she says.

* * *

Mrs. Tessier, a svelte brunette who was born a Georgian princess and is now a Canadian citizen, has served as an aide for 17 years. Her daughter, Thamar, is training officer for U.N. girl guides.

"Delegates appreciate these little favors we do, and they often respond," she observes.

LOST BLOOD

A couple of years ago, Mrs. Tessier's daughter was operated on for a slipped disc and lost a good deal of blood.

When Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko heard about it, he sent three bottles of robust Georgian wine to the Tessier home. Enclosed was a note.

* * *

"Nina Nikolovna," it said. "I cannot think of anything that will build up the blood of your daughter as much as the wine of your mother country."

Green-eyed, blonde Manuela Serra was in this section before she was transferred last year. An Italian countess by marriage, she was born in Tangany-ika of Belgian and French parents. The first language she spoke was Swahili.

After 18 years behind the paging table, Countess Serra knew most of the delegates and their characteristics:

"I could tell when an envoy walked into the lounge how he was feeling. Sometimes when I saw one was particularly weary, I would wait until he had time to unwind before passing on a message that wasn't urgent."

* * *

"But most messages were urgent, so they seemed. After all, the lounge is the heart of the house. Action taken in the Security Council or General Assembly often reflects spadework done there."

In times of stress, the communications lines between the lounge and the outside world sometimes get crossed.

SUSPENDED SESSION

When the Korean crisis broke in 1950, the Security Council suspended an emergency session so that delegates could get in touch with their home governments. The envoys of China and India, who had booked calls to Taipei and New Delhi, raced to the booths assigned them when contact was announced.

"They picked up their phones and began rapping out their reports," recalled an aide, "only to find that they were talking to each other."

* * *

During the hectic days of the simultaneous Hungarian and Suez crises in 1956, one summons was broadcast that jolted delegates milling about the lounge.

Countess Serra had received a call from Moscow for Arkady Sobolev, then chief Soviet delegate. Dazed from lack of sleep, she picked up the microphone:

"Ambassador Sobolev of the United States. Ambassador Sobolev of the United States," her weary voice came over the speaker system.

Sobolev arrived on the run.

"Manuela, you're tired, you had better go home," he grimed as he entered the booth.

At the height of the Suez crisis, the aide service interrupted a torrent of urgent diplomatic messages to help a dying Israeli child.

APPEAL FOR SERUM

"A ham operator called me to report an appeal from Tel Aviv for a serum obtainable only in New York," said Mrs. Tessier.

Cutting in on the public address system, Mrs. Tessier asked for a member of the Israeli mission. She kept repeating the call until a delegate was located.

* * *

"We cleared an outside line for him, while he tried to trace the source of the serum," she said. "Less than three hours later, it was bound for Tel Aviv.

"I have always felt proud that even in time of great strife, the United Nations found time to save the life of a child."

Police Solve Mystery

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Mysterious activity after closing hours brought police squads rushing to a downtown Chattanooga department store Wednesday night. The police found an elevator going up and down, up and down. No thieves, they reported, just a faulty switch.

Tuna Souffle Made Better With Nuts

Preparing "Tuna - Almond Souffle" is simplicity itself. Tuna, long a favorite with innumerable families, is here joined by roasted diced almonds, one of the world's most popular nuts. The flavor combination is hard to beat.

Tuna-Almond Souffle

1 can (6½ or 7 oz.) tuna
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
3 eggs, separated
1-3 cup roasted diced almonds

Drain and flake tuna. Melt butter in saucepan; blend in flour and salt. Add milk, stirring until mixture comes to boil and is thickened.

Beat egg yolks lightly; blend a little hot mixture into yolks. Blend yolk mixture into remaining hot mixture. Stir in tuna and almonds. Remove from heat.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold in tuna mixture. Turn into 1½-quart casserole; place casserole in pan of hot water.

Bake in 325-degree (moderately slow) oven 50 to 60 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Edible Snowman for the Children

Delight the youngsters at the yule season with miniature snowmen. Make up a batch of fluffy white cake icing.

Stack three vanilla wafers together with the frosting between. Frost all and top with a marshmallow for the head.

Place an unfrosted vanilla wafer atop the marshmallow to form the brim of his hat, then a miniature marshmallow atop that, for the crown. With bits of blue gum drop candies, stick on the eyes before the frosting sets.

Use red candy for the mouth and black for the buttons up and down the front of the suit.

SEASONED POPCORN — Nothing, but nothing, makes for better nibbling than popcorn. Just ask the crowd to find out! There are many ways to fix it and you probably have a few favorites, but try this zesty mixture next time you pop a bowlful of corn. It's terrific.

Herb-Salt Mixture Seasons Popcorn

In case you haven't done it already, this is really the time of year to plug in the popcorn popper and treat the folks to some tasty snacks. With cold weather comes more indoor activity from cub scout meetings to bowling league parties and after-the-game gatherings.

The seasoning for this popcorn is a blend of many spices and herbs. One recipe makes one-half cup of flavoring, and may wish to make up double batches each time and store a little for the next evening or party.

The blend is a potpourri of most everything from your spice shelf. Before you begin to make it up, however, be certain that the spices are fresh; they do lose flavor after too long a storage period and won't be nearly as tasty.

Pop the corn just before serving or heat it a bit in the oven so that it's nice and warm before the melted butter and seasoned salt blend are added.

Popcorn for Seasoned Snackers

3 quarts unsalted popped corn
½ cup melted butter
3 tablespoons seasoned salt*

Heat popped corn in a 250 degree oven if it has been popped earlier. Pour melted butter over popcorn, tossing to mix. Continue to toss popcorn and sprinkle with seasoned salt.

*Seasoned Salt;
6 tablespoons salt
2 teaspoons paprika
1 teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon celery salt
½ teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon marjoram
½ teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon dill weed

Combine all seasonings and blend in blender, or mix well. Keep in a covered jar. Makes ½ cup.

Sesame Seeds in Butter Sauce

Fish has long been considered a symbolic food. Among the pagans, for example, the universal symbol of fertility was a fish. In fact, many kinds were never eaten because they were considered sacred and holy.

* * *

During pre-Christian eras, fishermen were designated as gods, and people in many Asiatic lands worshiped a fish god named Nun. By the Middle Ages, fish became a symbol of light or intelligence. And, Pisces, the zodiac sign of the double fish, is supposed to possess the qualities of love and wisdom.

* * *

All this symbolism makes seafoods an appropriate menu choice during the Christmas Season.

Here's an especially festive way of preparing halibut steaks, recommended by the Halibut Association of North America. The unusual sesame butter sauce accents the tenderness of the halibut.

Halibut Steaks With Sesame Butter

1 pound halibut steaks, fresh or frozen
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Dash Worcestershire
3 tablespoons toasted sesame seeds

* * *

If halibut is frozen, let thaw for two hours on refrigerator shelf or one hour at room temperature. Arrange steaks on well greased baking sheet, season with salt and pepper, and brush with 2 tablespoons of melted butter or margarine. Bake in 350 degree oven for 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

* * *

Meanwhile, melt remaining butter or margarine over low heat. Cook until lightly browned, about 3 minutes. Add lemon juice and Worcestershire, and blend well. Stir in toasted sesame seeds. Mix well and pour over baked halibut. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Hot Sardines

Perk up commonplace menus with this hot open-face sandwich. Only minutes to prepare, it will make a big hit with the "home - for - lunch" school children (big folks like it, too). Arrange 6 whole, drained Norway sardines on a slice of toast; dribble with melted butter and lemon juice. Pop in the oven for a few minutes and serve piping hot.

Pudding Is Nutty One

Old-fashioned eating goodness abounds in "Almond Molasses Pudding." Sliced natural almonds are not only in the mildly spiced pudding itself but they are also a part of the refreshing apricot nectar sauce ladled over each serving. Almonds in various shapes and forms go a long way toward dressing up the flavor and appearance of countless recipes.

Almond Molasses Pudding

3 cups milk
½ cup corn meal
¼ cup brown sugar, packed
½ teaspoon ground mace
½ teaspoon ground allspice
⅛ teaspoon baking soda
Salt
¼ cup light molasses
½ cup sliced almonds
1 can (12 oz.) apricot nectar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon ginger

Heat 2 cups milk until bubbles begin to form at edge; gradually stir in corn meal. Cook, stirring occasionally, over low heat about 15 minutes or until thickened. Remove from heat.

Mix brown sugar, mace, allspice, baking soda and ½ teaspoon salt; stir into corn meal mixture. Mix in molasses, about half of almonds and remaining milk. Turn into buttered 1-quart casserole; bake in 275-degree (very slow) oven 2 hours.

Meanwhile, gradually blend apricot nectar with cornstarch, ginger and dash salt in saucepan. Cook, stirring, until mixture comes to boil and is thickened. Let pudding cool 10 minutes.

Just before serving, mix remaining almonds into apricot sauce. Spoon pudding into dishes; ladle sauce over. Makes 5 servings.

Cut Bananas Crumbed to Bake, Serve

Tempt morning appetites with a breakfast that's nutritious as well as delicious. Bananas coated with crisp shredded wheat biscuit crumbs and sprinkled with a sugar-nut topping will be a family favorite that will always get them to the table on time.

Banana Crunch

½ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ cup chopped walnuts
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
4 all-yellow bananas
½ cup honey
4 shredded wheat biscuits, finely rolled (about ½ cup crumbs)
Milk or cream

Combine first three ingredients. Cut bananas in half lengthwise and crosswise. Brush generously with honey. Roll in shredded wheat biscuit crumbs, coating heavily. Place in a greased baking dish. Sprinkle with nut mixture.

Bake in a preheated hot oven (425 degrees) for 10 minutes. Serve warm with milk or cream. (If desired, prepare the night before and refrigerate. Bake in the morning.) Makes 4 servings.

Candy Oranges Add Cranberries for Fancy Dish

Cranberry candied oranges make an unusual and delicious relish to go with holiday meat or poultry.

* * *

Place 6 small oranges in a saucepan and cover them with water. Cover pan and bring to boil. Cook about 5 minutes, or until orange peels are pierced easily with toothpick.

* * *

Drain and cut oranges into eighths. Remove seeds and arrange orange pieces in shallow heatproof casserole.

* * *

Top with 2 cups of fresh cranberries and syrup made by heating 1¼ cups of sugar with 1 cup of water, 4 whole cloves and 8 whole allspice.

* * *

Cover and bake 50 to 60 minutes in pre-heated 350-degree oven. Makes about 1 quart.

FILBERT MOUSSE — Make your reputation as a cook with a light and lovely Filbert Mousse. Finely ground filberts are scattered throughout the velvety mousse, and the high-rising sides are garnished with coarsely chopped filberts.

For Chinese-type meatballs, add coarsely chopped drained water chestnuts and season with soy sauce rather than salt. Soy sauce varies in strength so the amount you add as seasoning will depend on the variety you use.

High, Fluffy Mousse Rich With Filberts

West Coast cooks have a well deserved reputation for fine foods well prepared—a flair for the unusual, and an inclination for the spectacular. This high, lovely, light 'n' airy Filbert Mousse is a prime example of Pacific Coast cookery.

* * *

And, it features one of the West Coast's most delicious products — filberts. Finely chopped toasted filberts are scattered through this velvety smooth mousse, while coarsely chopped filberts garnish its high rising sides.

* * *

Filberts or hazelnuts, as they are sometimes known, have been cultivated commercially in Oregon and Washington for only a relatively short time, compared to filbert growing in Turkey.

Early records show that filberts were exported from Black Sea ports before the time of Christ.

Most of the filberts consumed in the United States are either grown in Oregon and Washington, west of the Cascade Mountains or imported from Turkey where they grow along the Black Sea.

The delightfully mild, distinctive flavor and the crisp texture make these jolly round nuts a versatile, interesting part of any menu. Try them roasted with or without salt for out-of-hand eating, or use them in main dishes, casseroles, salads, with vegetables and certainly in desserts.

* * *

Both filbert and hazelnut are correct "usage" for this nut. However, filbert is usually used for the cultivated nut while hazelnut refers to the wild grown nut. But what's in a name—it's a delicious nut no matter what!

Filbert Mousse

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup water
2¼ cups milk
6 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cognac (optional)
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups ground toasted filberts
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

* * *

Soften gelatine in water. In medium heavy saucepan, heat milk; stir in gelatine until dissolved. Beat egg yolks and sugar until light and fluffy. Gradually stir into hot milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and coats a metal spoon; do not allow to boil.

Remove from heat; stir in cognac, vanilla and ground filberts. Stir over ice or chill until mixture begins to set. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold into filbert mixture with whipped cream.

Pour into 5-cup souffle dish which has a 4-inch collar of waxed paper around it. Chill until set. Remove collar. Garnish sides of mousse with toasted chopped filberts, as desired. Makes 8 servings.

If you'll stir peach pie filling into rice pudding just before baking, you'll like the finished dish very well.

Camera Angles

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Must reading for anyone contemplating a career as a newspaper or magazine photographer is the revised edition of "Photojournalism" by Arthur Rothstein. Published by Amphoto, N. Y., the new book surveys the photographic communication field from its beginning to the lastest mass printing of three-dimensional color reproduction and instant Polacolor coverage in newspapers.

Photo-journalists, says Rothstein, are reporteds with a camera recording people and events. They are skilled communicators whose images are transmitted visually via the printed page.

Their subject is the world and its inhabitants without barriers of language or nationality.

Their audience consists of newspaper and magazine readers throughout the globe. Their goal is not merely a photograph but publication of that photograph to reach the largest possible audience.

To be a trained, skilled communicator, Rothstein lists 10 requirements for the photojournalist:

- A broad, general education — formal or self-acquired — providing a knowledge of physics, chemistry, sociology, languages, history and geography.
- A social conscience that implies a liking for people and an understanding of how they live.
- A sense of adventure that generates enthusiasm for the most trivial assignment along with a desire to go anywhere and cover anything.
- A constant interest in books and magazines on general subjects as well as photography.
- An understanding of the mechanics of photography in order to improvise, adjust or repair equipment when necessary.
- The development of an individual style.
- The ability to report with with words as well as pictures.
- An knowledge of art, composition, painting and drawing to stimulate an artistic, creative approach in photography.
- The faculty of remaining objective though at the same time feeling emotion.
- The maintenance of good health, an alert mind and body so as to react instantly in emergencies.

It sounds like a big order of intensified college work but intellectual maturity can also come through self-study, personal contact with people and customs in various environments, step-by-step application of photographic fundamentals, and, above all, a genuine desire to reach the photo-journalistic goal.

The book is illustrated with more than 200 examples of feature and significant news pictures, some of them permanently inscribed in photo-journalism's Hall of Fame.

Others come from author's long association in photography starting in 1930s depression years as one of Roy Stryker's remarkable photographic staff for the Farm Security Administration.

Many examples of practical progressive work with picture ideas, layouts and presentations are culled from the files of Look magazine.

Rothstein's field of operations for more than 25 years as a staffer and photographic technical director.

"Photojournalism" by Arthur Rothstein is an important contribution by a competent, respected, award-winning specialist in the field.

Says Suspect Studied Sadism

Bragged of Murders ---Moors Trial Witness

HYDE, England (AP) — One of the defendants in the moors murder case studied the ideas of the Marquis de Sade on murder and later boasted he had killed three or four people, a witness testified today.

Passages from the works of the French nobleman, who gave his name to the word sadism, were read at a magistrate's hearing on three murder charges against Ian Brady, 27, a clerk. Two of the victims were children, the third a teen-ager. Brady's girlfriend, Myra Hindley, is charged with two of the killings.

★ ★ ★

David Smith, 17, Miss Hindley's brother-in-law and a friend of Brady's, was handed a work of Sade's by Prosecutor William Mars-Jones and told to find a passage that Brady had once read out to him. The passage recounts the story of Louis XV and Charolais, who had killed a man for his own amusement.

"I pardon you," said the king, "but I also pardon him who will kill you."

'SUBLIME SENTENCE'

Sade commented: "All the bases of law against murderers is contained in that sublime sentence. In a word, murder is a horror but a horror often necessary, never criminal, and essential to tolerate in public. Above all, it should never be punished by murder."

When Brady read that passage to Smith, "He wanted to discuss the idea of torturing and things; torture, sadism as a whole, the whole idea," Smith testified.

★ ★ ★

The quoted work of Sade's was not named. Several modern books on similar subjects were also brought in evidence but their titles were written down and shown to the magistrates to avoid publicity.

Smith also said that on another occasion he was talking to Brady while they were drinking wine.

★ ★ ★

He continued: "He (Brady) went on to ask whether I was capable of murder. I just gave him a blank look and he then said 'I have done it.' He said he had done three or four. He was so drunk I didn't pay much attention."

Brady repeated this boast on another occasion, Smith said, adding that he was told: "You do not believe I am capable of it, but it will be done."

Earthquakes Jolt Valley in Japan

MATSUSHIRO, Japan (AP) —There was a sound much like an artillery shell exploding in the distance, then a jolt. A loose board on a fence spun around on a rusty nail and dropped to the ground.

An old peasant couple sat in their straw-thatched farmhouse sorting dried persimmons. The house creaked but they went on sorting.

★ ★ ★

"This one was about 3½," the old farmer said casually.

A minute later the ground shook again.

"That one was only about two," the farmer said.

Everyone in this town of 22,600 people in a fertile valley of apple orchards and rice paddies has become a fairly accurate guesser of earthquake intensities.

Since Aug. 3, the Matsushiro area has been rattled more than 58,160 times by tremors, 4,247 of which have been felt by humans. The people rate their intensities according to the Japanese scale that runs from one to seven. There is no 3½ on the scale — a three rating is regarded as weak, while four is a medium quake.

The epicenter of the quake area is an oval seven miles long by four miles wide. In the center is 600-foot Mt. Minakami.

Dr. Mineo Takehana, director of the local seismological observatory, traced the continued rattling to underground volanic action.

He said molten earth had found a funnel from the depths but struck a hard crust about three miles below the surface.

"It is like a pot boiling and rocking the lid. The bubbles may be considered the jolts," he said.

Youth Sentenced to Jail for Burglary

An 18-year-old Pontiac youth was sentenced yesterday to 2-5 years in the state prison at Jackson for the March 2 burglary of Harvey's Market, 240 Osmun.

Lewis Freeman, 289 Osmun, will serve the sentence concurrently with a 2- to 4-year prison term he received recently for larceny in a building.

★ ★ ★

Freeman had been charged with breaking and entering the market, but was allowed to plead guilty to entering without breaking on Nov. 9. He was sentenced by Judge Philip Pratt.

North America was first peopled by nomads who crossed from Asia.

Incinerator Bids Will Be Opened

Bids for construction of a 900-square foot incinerator building in the Oakland County service center will be opened Tuesday.

Previous bids taken on the estimated $20,000 job ranged from $35,000 to $43,000 and were rejected by the County Board of Auditors.

Some of the brick work has been deleted in a revised plan for the building. Estimated cost still is $20,000.

Complaint Dropped in Robbery Charge

A charge of armed robbery against Harold L. Rush, 28, of 464 Pearsall was dismissed yesterday in Municipal Court at the request of the complainant in the case.

Stewart M. Beltz, 20, agreed to drop the charge against Rush upon return of personal property — a wallet and $150 — allegedly taken from Beltz at knifepoint Nov. 28. Rush was assessed court costs of $15.

Car Industry Picture Is Clouded

DETROIT (AP)—Two unwelcome bits of news clouded the auto industry's otherwise bright picture this week.

One was the Federal Reserve Board's action in raising its discount rate. This raised the question of how the increased interest rate will affect the car buying habits of millions of people who buy on time.

The other was the announcement by American Motors Wednesday that its auto building lines would be halted for 13 work days between Christmas and Jan. 17.

On the monetary front, the first reaction from auto executives was that they expected few buyers would be scared out of the market by the fact they would have to pay more for the money they borrowed.

OFFICIAL COMMENTS

One official, who declined use of his name, put it this way:

"If the interest rate charged to the car buyer was raised from 4½ to 5 per cent, it probably would amount to about $1 a month additional on payments which now average about $80 a month.

"That increase would not be big enough to influence many buyers, particularly when you recall that another 1 per cent cut in the federal auto excise tax is due Jan. 1, 1966. That cut would amount to about $23 on the average purchase and would be more than the buyer put out in extra interest charges."

Other observers said there was intense competition among banks, finance companies, savings and loan associations and credit unions who wanted to serve prospective car buyers.

OWN CREDIT FIRMS

The auto industry also has its own credit subsidiaries. They include General Motors Acceptance Corp.; Chrysler Credit Corp. and Redisco, owned by American Motors.

Credit sales currently account for about 60 per cent of new car purchases. Practically all the money lenders agreed that the competition was so severe that there would no sudden jump in costs to the consumer. They felt business was so good they wanted to do nothing to scare prospective customers away.

On the American Motors production front, the decision to close down AMC's production units at Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., for a few days was attributed to the necessity of realigning field stocks to the current sales pace.

AMC vice president William Luneburg said that when production is resumed Jan. 17, output will be on the basis of about 1,460 cars a day compared with approximately 1,800 in early December. In addition, about 2,400 employes will not be called back to work Jan. 17, reducing AMC's Wisconsin work force to about 19,000 people.

AREN'T HIDING CONCERN

Nobody at American Motors made any effort to conceal their concern over the fact that AMC car sales fell off to an unofficially estimated 296,000 cars in the first 11 months of this year compared with 355,636 in the same period a year ago. The drop came at a time when corporate sales of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford cars were up.

★ ★ ★

The significant part in AMC's statement about the shutdown was its use of the word "realignment" of its product line.

★ ★ ★

AMC president Roy Abernethy had said repeatedly his firm's main problem was its image lag—the fact that too many people still thought of American Motors as the builder of plain Jane compacts.

POLICEMAN UNDER GUARD — Oakland, Calif., patrolman Frank Reed is under police guard in Oakland's Highland Hospital after shooting two men and himself yesterday. Reed was one of two officers accused of accepting bribes to protect a gambling operation. Oakland police said Reed hunted down and killed two men he suspected of informing on him in the alleged payoff.

Students Sue U.S. Agents for $1 Million

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Two San Jose State College students are suing five unidentified Secret Service agents for more than a million dollars saying they were roughed up at a luncheon for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Plaintiffs in the suit filed Wednesday are Phil Whitten, 24, and Dave Hanna, 21, who edit an off-campus paper which opposes U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

* * *

The students said in their Superior Court suit they had passes to the University of Santa Clara luncheon but were barred because they were improperly dressed.

One agent, they contend, "viciously, maliciously and intentionally attacked plaintiff (Whitten) from the rear, grabbing plaintiff and striking plaintiff with his fist."

DOUBLE FEATURE — Mrs. Stanley Prock (left), 20, of Oakland, Calif., smiled fondly at her new offspring in Kaiser hospital, while four blocks away at Providence hospital, Mrs. LeRoy Southard, 44 (right), also of Oakland, beamed proudly with her new baby. Mrs. Prock is Mrs. Southard's daughter, and the infants, both boys, were born only minutes apart. Mrs. Southard's child weighed eight pounds, her new grandson, nine. "Amazing," said Mrs. Southard's husband.

Pleads Guilty in Gun Death

A Royal Oak Township woman pleaded guilty yesterday to manslaughter in a fatal shooting last September.

The plea was entered by Loretta Ballard, 33, as her trial on first-degree murder was to begin before Circuit Judge Philip Pratt.

She will be sentenced Dec. 29 for the slaying of William Turner, 42, also of Royal Oak Township. He was shot in the chest three times.

Police said Miss Ballard shot Turner Sept. 27 during an argument over his borrowing money.

Mackie on Panel Today

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — "The United States is approaching the end of its food surplus" said Congressman John C. Mackie, D-Flint, who will be on a panel of four members of Congress discussing "International Food and Nutrition Legislation" today at the organizational meeting of the Committee on the World Food Crisis.

Few realize that the embarrassin' food surpluses of the last few years no longer trouble Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, who likes to put the emphasis on the abundance of American agriculture as a powerful force for peace.

So does the Michigan Democrat, who is a member of the House Committee on Agriculture.

So Mackie, "our food and other farmer products are helping to relieve the hunger and to promote economic growth in the newly developing countries of the world."

An example cited: Our wheat is producing an additional five-billion loaves of bread a year for India.

'GREATEST ADVANTAGE'

Don Paarling of Purdue University, an authority on Agriculture, said recently, "Agriculture represents the free world's greatest absolute advantage over the Communist world."

Congressman Mackie adds, "American agriculture would not be possible without a free market, and obviously, if the Communists had a free market they would not be Communists."

The population of the world today is over 3.3 billion people and in the year 2000 is expected to reach 6 billion.

In Asia, many people border on starvation today. In Africa, an area of inadequate food supply in 1965 will increase by 2½ times its present population. The situation is the same in Latin America.

The United States is the world's largest exporter of farm products. Some 80-million acres of the 300-million harvested acres produce for export. The land producing for export represents about the same acreage of cropland as that harvested in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Illinois.

State Colleges to Aid MSU Med Program

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's two four-year medical schools have agreed to provide the final two years of medical doctor degree training for graduates of Michigan State University's two-year medical program.

Dr. Leon Fill, chairman of the State Board of Education's medical Education Committee, announced the agreement at the board's meeting Wednesday.

"This means graduates of Michigan State University's program will be encouraged to stay in Michigan to complete their education," Fill said.

Where an MSU graduate will go for his final two years still will be up to the student, however.

MORE MONEY

Fill said the University of Michigan and Wayne State University would need more money and faculty members to take in the additional medical students.

MSU plans to open its College of Human Medicine next fall with about 20 students and would graduate its first class in 1968.

Fill said U-M and Wayne State had agreed to accept 24 MSU graduates at the start. MSU is expected to be graduating 64 medical students a year by 1970.

Kincheloe Career Workers Promised New Opportunities When Big Base Closes

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Career employes facing loss of their jobs with elimination of Kincheloe Air Force Base were promised new job opportunities Wednesday night.

The base command made the promise on behalf of the government at a meeting with civic leaders of the Soo area.

Col. Ward W. Martindale, commander of the 50th Fighter Wing, met with the group for a discussion of the Defense Department's plans for phasing out the big base by Oct. 1, 1970.

* * *

This Upper Peninsula city and its neighbor communities have been concerned over the economic effects of the base's elimination.

253 CIVILIANS

Kincheloe AFB, 18 miles south of here, has 253 civilian employes in addition to its 2,128 military personnel. All civilian workers face loss of jobs in the phasing out.

Martindale said the government would do its best to provide new job opportunities.

* * *

Martindale also gave details on the shift of Air Force personnel from Kincheloe.

The 438th Fighter Interceptor Squadron with its F106 planes will relocate at Wurtsmith AFB at Oscoda by July 1, 1969. The 438th will replace an F101 squadron being inactivated at Wurtsmith.

SUPPORTING UNITS

The 449th Bombardment Wing at Kincheloe and its supporting units will be inactivated by Oct. 1, 1970.

* * *

Kincheloe's B52 aircraft and tankers and Hound Dog missiles are to be relocated at other bases.

* * *

The BOMARC Missile Squadron at the installation at Raco ued at a separate site which is near Kincheloe is to be contin-to be made self-sustaining.

COACH IN CONTROL — Detroit Pistons' coach Dave DeBusschere (22) came down with the ball in this first-period scramble with San Francisco Warriors' Rick Barry last night at Cobo Hall in Detroit. Big Dave picked up 11 points as the Pistons won, 115-113.

Former Lion Object of AFL-NFL Dispute

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The football future of Dick Compton, former star at McMurry College in Abilene, Tex., may be decided in a court battle between teams in the rival American and National football leagues.

Both the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL and the AFL's Houston Oilers contend they have valid contracts with the speedy 6-foot-1 back.

Compton was one of several NFL players signed by the Falcons after final NFL cuts in the 1965 season when he was released by the Detroit Lions. He played for Mobile in a minor league.

However, Bud Adams, multi-millionaire owner of the Oilers, said Wednesday that Houston signed Compton, who runs the 100-yard dash in less than 10 seconds, to a 1965 contract after the Mobile season was completed.

He contends the contract gives the Oilers an option on the 1966 season and takes precedence over the 1966 contract with Atlanta.

He said Compton would be Houston's top split end next season.

But Atlanta's Rankin Smith, building his new entry for the NFL next year, takes a different view. "I am looking into the legalities of this thing," he said.

"All I know is that he is signed to a 1966 contract with the Falcons," Smith said, "and we darn well expect him to show up when we begin practice next summer."

Highland Park Outlasts PNH for 49-33 Win

Polar Bears Behind Only Once; Dry Spell Ruins Huskies' Hopes

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — As the proverbial expression goes, Pontiac Northern's basketball team "couldn't hit the side of the barn" last night.

The Huskies made their debut in spacious Cobo Arena facing perennial cage power Highland Park in a premininary game to the Detroit Piston-San Francisco Warriors' NBA contest.

The shooting percentage speaks for itself. Northern took 67 shots made 13 for an 18 per cent mark and made the trip home on the short side of a 49-33 verdict.

As a team, Highland Park fared slightly better from the floor by connecting on 21 or 65 attempts for 32 per cent, thanks only to the scoring of big George Trapp.

Trapp, a 6-6½ ace of the Polar Bears, made 11 of 22 shots and finished with 23 points.

A brief third quarter flurry put PNH ahead in the game the only time, 29-28. The Huskies developed early foul trouble with starters Don Hayward and Jack Brown carrying four fouls midway in the third period.

LONG SPREE

For one stretch of eight minutes from the third into the fourth quarters, Highland Park scored 19 straight points; and the lone field goal in the final stanza for PNH came with 1:12 left to play when substitute Archie Powell dropped in a one hander.

★ ★ ★

Trapp also pulled down 22 rebounds for Highland Park but Northern had a bright spot in this respect. Larry Frye took down 17 rebounds.

Even the free throw line shooting was anemic. PNH made one of eight in the first half and the Parkers had only one for seven tries.

Friday night the teams of the Inter-Lakes Conference face the members of the Eastern Michigan League, with Port Huron Northern visiting PNH, East Northern visiting PNH, Detroit at Waterford, Roseville at Walled Lake and Port Huron Central at Farmington.

Tigers Opening Camp to Young Players Feb. 15

DETROIT (AP)—The annual Early Camp for top young prospects in the Detroit Tigers' system will open Tuesday, Feb. 15, vice-president and general manager Jim Campbell announced today.

Campbell, recently returned from an inspection of the new facilities at Lakeland, Fla., said pitchers and catchers on the major league roster will report Feb. 24, with the rest of the squad checking in on Wednesday, March 2.

Campbell said work on the 4,100-seat stadium and clubhouse is progressing "in great shape.

★ ★ ★

"The builders are ready to place the roof on the clubhouse, the outfield wall is about 25 per cent complete and the grandstand itself is well along," Campbell said. "It appears we will have one of the finest layouts in Florida."

Bay City Five SVC Surprise

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Bay City Central, once considered a pushover in Saginaw Valley Conference basketball play, invades the Pontiac Central gym tomorrow night prepared to do some pushing of its own for a change.

The Wolves picked up momentum Tuesday by shoving aside Arthur Hill, 78-67, on the Lumberjacks court. It was a non-league game.

★ ★ ★

Reports of that game say the Wolves "outmuscled" the tall Lumberjacks. This could mean trouble for PCH which is long on talent, but lacking in size under the boards.

"Everybody knows that Bay City is well-fortified when it comes to rebounding," said PCH coach Fred Zittel. "But they have something more going for them now.

"In the past they have been rough around the edges. This season Bay City Central has developed a smooth-working team. Good ball handling and those big rebounders spell trouble."

★ ★ ★

Tallest of the Wolves is all-state football end Dennis Wirgowski who stands 6-5 and weighs 225. He is aided by Bob Howes, 6-1, and Oren Lusher, 6-0.

TOP GUN

Senior guard Joe Burks is the big scorer. He hit 22 against Arthur Hill while Wirgowski had the hottest night of his four-year varsity career with 24.

Tom Kennell, who quarterbacked the Wolves' state championship football team, is the other guard.

Tom Mehnert, 6-3, and Randy Ball, 6-2, are husky frontline replacements.

"Our boys still talk about that game at Bay City Central last year when we won in the final minute," said Zittel. "They know Friday's game is going to be a tough one."

Jessie Evans, 6-3, PCH's tallest starter and top scorer, will have task of battling Wirgowski on the boards. Ross Ludwick, a well-built six-footer, will have to help out.

Evans has scored 26 and 18 points in PCH's opening two games, both victories. Ludwick has hit 11 and 15 and Jim McClendon, 13 and 11.

Pistons Hang On for 115-113 Win

By The Associated Press

It takes a home court and the absence of a couple of star scorers on the other team to give the Detroit Pistons a victory—and even then it's close.

The Pistons let go of a 14-point lead late in the final period, and Ray Scott's jump shot with 40 seconds to go gave them their narrow 115-113 victory over the San Francisco Warriors Wednesday night in Cobo Arena.

The Pistons did not have to contend with the Warrior's leading scorers, guards Guy Rodgers and Paul Newman, who are out because of injuries.

★ ★ ★

In other National Basketball Association games, St. Louis defeated New York 104-93, Boston downed Los Angeles 108-106, and Baltimore tripped Philadelphia, 129-127.

Detroit was ahead 65-63 at the half, but widened its margin to 91-84 going into the final quarter.

With six minutes to go, Nate Thurmond made four baskets and two free throws, while Rick Barry dropped in another four plus one free throw to tie the score at 111-111.

★ ★ ★

Scott and Barry then traded baskets before Scott gained the decisive two points.

Thurmond was high man for the game with 36 points. Eddie Miles had 30 for the Pistons.

In the opener of a Boston doubleheader, Bill Bridges and Zelmo Beatty provided rebounding and scoring punch for their victory over the Knicks.

Wichita Stops Wolverine '5'

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Wichita avenged last season's defeat at Michigan's hands by thumping the No. 2 ranked Wolverines 100-94 in a basketball thriller Wednesday night.

Cazzie Russell, the 6-foot-5 All-America who dunked a last-second basket which won last year's cliffhanger for Michigan, was held to 21 points.

The Wheatshockers took no chances with Russell, assigning as many as three men to defense him under the basket. As a result, John Clawson was the scoring leader for the Wolverines with 28.

But Jamie Thompson of Wichita made that up with 28 of his own. He scored every shot that he attempted.

In another game involving Big Ten teams, Iowa smashed Creighton 103-77 to run its record to 4-0.

Minnesota was idle after defeating Drake Tuesday night for a 3-0 mark. Michigan is now 3-1.

Butler is at Michigan State for the only Thursday game for a Big Ten team.

Kentucky defeated Illinois 86-68 and Ohio State nipped Butler 75-74 to round out Wednesday's slate.

DOUBLE FIGURES

Five players were in double figures as Iowa blasted Creighton from the unbeaten ranks. Gerry Jones with 20 points and George Peeples with 18 were the headers.

Kentucky went ahead early in the game to down the Illini, who trailed 39-34 at the half. The closest they came in the last half was 53-49 and 57-54 before the Wildcats, led by Thad Jaracz' 32 points, shot farther head. Don Freeman with 25 an Jim Dawson with 21 led Illinois.

Ohio State rallied to shade Butler. Butler blew a six-point lead in the final six minutes. Bob Dove topped the Buckeyes with 23 points while Bill Hosket added 19.

Michigan controlled the backboards, but only by 33 to 30, and Wichita outshot the visitors from the floor and the free throw line. The Shockers hit 64 per cent of their field goals, and Michigan 57 per cent. At the charity line, Wichita was 77 per cent to 74.

Russell hit eight of 10 field goas and 5 of six free throws. John Criss of Wichita had 19 points.

Cranbrook '5' Falls, 69-65

Romulus used a third-quarter surge last night to open up a tight game and hand Cranbrook its third loss in a row, 69-65.

The two were deadlocked at 29-29 at halftime, but Romulus poured in 23 points in the third while the Cranes were netting 12 to open up a big lead.

Greg Johnson paced the winners with 22 points. Jon Pavloff tossed in 19 for Cranbrook and Hugh Mahler added 13.

Calvin Nips Olivet '5'

OLIVET (AP) — Olivet pulled to within four points but Calvin clung to its lead and went on to win 85-77 in an MIAA basketball game Wednesday night.

2 Teams Tied for Golf Lead

Cupit Brothers Share First in 4-Ball Play

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — The pace was nine under par and it left the big names of golf in the nickel seats in the opening round of the $125,000 PGA National Four Ball Championship.

★ ★ ★

The team of Paul Bondeson and Larry Mowry and a brother act, Jacky and Buster Cupit, posted identical scores of 63 to lead after the first round of the 72-hole tournament Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

One stroke behind with 64 was a team of club professionals, Ross Coon Jr. and Bob Crowley, who fired two rounds of 32.

Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, the big drawing cards of the tournament, scored a first round 67 in their first PGA appearance as a team.

★ ★ ★

The tournament, with 107 teams, is the biggest collection of pros in the 49-year history of the PGA. It's also the first PGA-sponsored team competition since 1953.

★ ★ ★

Players switch courses today for the rounds leading up to the halfway point where all but the 40 low scorers (and ties) will be eliminated. The final round Saturday will be capped by the presentation of a $20,000 check to the winning team.

Canadiens Win, Hawks Tie

Montreal Ace in Scoring Lead

By The Associated Press

Bobby Rousseau, Montreal's spunky right wing, is back on top of the National Hockey League scoring race and he can thank New York's journeyman goaltender Don Simmons for putting him there.

Rousseau scored two goals in the Canadiens' 8-3 romp over Boston Wednesday night and moved back in front of the scoring race when Simmons shut out Chicago's scoring twins, Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull, as the Rangers earned a 2-2 tie with the Black Hawks.

The two goals, Rousseau's 13th and 14th of the season, gave him 30 points. one more than Mikita, who had strung hat tricks in his last two games, and two more than Hull.

Dick Duff also scored two goals for Montreal and Claude Larose and Ralph Backstrom each had a goal and two assists.

Simmons, who had played only seven minutes in the first 20 games, took over for rookie goalie Ed Giacomin in the Ranger nets and did an outstanding job.

The 34-year-old veteran got the nod from New York General Manager Emile Francis, who was running the club for the first time from the bench after replacing Red Sullivan as coach on Monday.

Simmons made 23 saves and stopped Hull and Doug Mohns, Mikita's Scooter linemate, on breakaways. He gave up a first period goal to Red Hay on a two-man break up ice and then was beaten by Hull's younger brother, Dennis, in the second period.

New York rallied to tie it twice. First Bob Nevin beat Glenn Hall less than two minutes after Hay had scored in the opening period and then Donnie Marshall erased the Hawks' 2-1 lead on a power play goal with 12½ minutes to play.

Booth Homes Wins 2nd

City recreation men's basketball last night found the Booth Homes quintet winning its second straight in American League play with a 71-45 conquest of the Auburn Heights Campus team.

★ ★ ★

Also in the top loop, White's Unbeatables romped over the All-Stars, 67-44.

In National League action, Highland Campus ripped the No. 2 Unbeatables, 54-28, and Stanfill's Sinclair outgunned Tasty Bakery, 57-47.

Booth Homes had four players in double figures led by Roy Allen's 18 and Tom Booth's 17, but Bryan Ross of the campus five took game honors with 24.

Booker Hurner dropped in 19 as White's Unbeatables top team won; but 16 points by Highland's Larry Hojna and 15 by Bill Dunn were too much punch for the second Unbeatables five.

A pair of games tonight will close out the informal practice sessions in the Waterford Township recreation basketball league.

★ ★ ★

Lakeland Pharmacy and Ryeson's Market will take the floor at Crary Junior High School at 7 o'clock. Ganci-Cote has the floor at 8.

★ ★ ★

Bill Wood, program director, said that any persons interested in entering teams in the league should be on hand for tonight's practice session. He also said that several adult officials are needed for the basketball program. Persons interested may contact Wood at 674-0056.

Favor Huskies in Mat Meet

Some 400 wrestlers representing 17 area high schools will be gunning for team and individual titles when the Oakland County Invitational tournament opens tomorrow at Oakland University.

The matmen should grapple their way through the preliminaries tomorrow afternoon and evening, and Saturday morning. Finals are slated for Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Pontiac Northern's Huskies, coached by Bill Wilson, captured the title last year, and the squad is one of the favorites in this year's scrap.

PNH opened the season Saturday by taking third place in the Owosso Invitational, and the team entered the tourney minus its top performer, Bruce Tippin.

Tippin, a 154-pounder, was seeded first in that weight division at a seeding meeting last night at Oakland University.

OTHER TEAMS

With PNH in the tournament are Birmingham Groves and Seaholm, Berkley, Detroit Catholic Central, Farmington, North Farmington, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, Hazel Park, L'Anse Creuse, Pontiac Central, Royal Oak Dondero, Royal Oak Kimball, Southfield, Walled Lake, Warren Lincoln and Warren Fitzgerald.

★ ★ ★

Expected to challenge PNH for team honors are Walled Lake, Hazel Park, Royal Oak Kimball and Fitzgerald.

Tippin was one of four Nortern wrestlers gaining first seed in their weight classes last night.

Others were Mike Hester (95), Ron Rayner (145) and Troy Bell (heavyweight).

Pontiac Central's Bill Hollis claimed the first seed in the 165-pound class, and his teammate, Dan Rodriguez, was shoved into the No. 3 spot in the 154-pound division.

Walled Lake's Vikings could win it all if their grapplers in the lower weights come through as expected.

★ ★ ★

Viking coach Rick Schneider has three of the best in the area in Roger Nicolay (112), Fred Hering (120) and John Hellner (138). All were seeded first in their weight class.

Both Rodriguez and Hollis scored impressive verdicts last night as Central's Chiefs opened their dual meet season with a 29-19 win over Waterford Kettering (0-2).

Mays Garners 2nd Straight Slugging Title

CINCINNATI (AP)—Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants extended two National League records in winning the circuit's slugging championship for the second straight year and for the fifth time in his brilliant career, the official 1965 averages confirmed today.

The 34-year-old outfielder collected a league-leading 360 total bases in 558 times at bat for a .645 slugging average. He led in 1964 with .607, 1954 with .667, 1955 with .659 and 1957 with .626.

Among Mays' 177 hits last season were 21 doubles, three triples and a major league high of 52 home runs. It was the 12th straight season in which the Giants' star compiled at least 300 total bases, extending his own league record. He lifted his career slugging average four points to .593, anothe NL mark.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee was second in slugging with a .560 mark. He was followed by Billy Williams, Chicago .552, Frank Robinson of Cincinnati .540, Willie McCovey of San Francisco .539, and Deron Johnson, Cincinnati, .515.

Top Keglers Get Tourney Invitations

The cream of the crop of Pontiac area bowlers, a total of 100, have been extended invitations to bowl in Actual's Invitational portion of the Pontiac Open City Championship Sunday at 1:15 p.m. at 300 Bowl.

The bowlers on the invited list constitute those with averages of 189 or better along with those who rolled 618 actual or better in the city qualifying or those listed among the top qualifiers of each house.

Sunday morning at Huron Bowl, all of the qualifiers of the city tournament will bowl in four squads starting at 9 a.m. and running each one hour and 15 minutes. The last squad of the semifinals will be at 12:45 p.m.

None of the actual bowlers who are in the semifinals will bowl any later then the 11:30 a.m. squad. This is to allow those in the Actual's to shift to 300 Bowl for the 1:15 starting time.

The finals of the handicap portion of the tournament will be bowled in two squads at 3 p.m. and 4:30 p.m., with 40 per cent of the semifinalists comprising the two final squads.

Bowlers receiving Actual's invitations are reminded that this is a special feature of the tournament. There will be no substitutes, no alternates and there is no obligation for any bowler to participate.

The top three places of the Actual's will receive $60, $40 and $20 plus the champion's trophy. The Actual's bowlers should register by 1 p.m. at 300 Bowl, and pay $2 to cover cost of bowling and scoring.

This is the Invitational list:

Fort Wayne Six on Top

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The Fort Wayne Komets pounded Toledo 6-4 Wednesday night to tie Port Huron for the lead in the International Hockey League.

★ ★ ★

All 10 goals were scored by different players. Fort Wayne took a 2-1 lead at the end of the first period. Toledo tied it 2-2, but the Komets went ahead 6-2 before the end of the second period.

Freshman Star Leads Defiance Past Adrian

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Archrivals Defiance and Adrian clashed here in nonconference basketball Wednesday and freshman Dan Terhune's 23 points put the home team over the top, 94-80.

Defiance extended its record 3-0 in handing Adrian its first loss in three times out. Al Werbrish was high for Adrian with 14 points.

Ski Program Mushrooms in Bloomfield

Snow skiing has become the biggest new recreational endeavor at many local high schools, and probably the most extensive program is at Bloomfield Hills.

This winter more than 1,200 students from grades five through 12 will participate in the school system's ski program set up by the Hills' Department of Recreation.

Director Ed Wichert discloses this year's activity has almost one-third more students participating than last year, and more than double the number from two seasons ago.

Four clubs comprise the program. The emblem that each member will wear reflects the level of skiing skill the student has achieved.

The clubs are the senior high school, East Hills and St. Hugo's junior high schools, Bloomfield Hills JHS and the elementary grade students.

Beginners will have red and black emblems, intermediates will wear gold and brown, and the advanced skiers' patch is powder and Navy blue.

All skiing will be done at the Mount Holly Ski Resort. Bus transportation, supervision and ski instructions will be arranged by the recreation office.

* * *

The High schoolers will go each Thursday beginning next week. Hills JHS ninth graders will go each Tuesday afternoon beginning Dec. 21; the Hills' seventh and eighth grades, East Hills and St. Hugo JHS students will start Monday Dec. 20; and the fifth and sixth grade club will begin Saturday morning, Jan. 8.

Orientation meetings are planned for the participants and their parents under the following schedule:

10 a.m. Saturday, High School Little Theatre — All fifth and sixth graders;

3:10 p.m. Tuesday, Bloomfield Hills JHS cafetorium—Seventh and ninth graders;

3:10 p.m., Wednesday, East Hills JHS cafetorium — Seventh and ninth gaders, plus St. Hugo's students.

Krogulecki Leads OLSM to St. Ben

Connie Krogulecki and his Orchard Lake St. Mary teammates take their ambitious basketball hopes to Highland Park St. Benedict tomorrow night for a Northwest Catholic Division game.

The unbeaten Eaglets have three straight impressive wins in their grasp and have definitely stamped themselves as the team to beat in the circuit.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, in the Macomb League, St. Frederick will entertain New Baltimore St. Mary and risk its perfect 3-0 league leading mark before the home fans at Madison Junior High School's court.

Waterford Our Lady of Lakes will be host to Detroit St. Rose; while St. Michael will visit Marine City Holy Cross with the Mikemen putting a 2-0 record on the line.

Other Northwest loop contests have St. Francis De Sales visiting Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows and Royal Oak St. Mary at Ferndale St. James.

Birmingham Brother Rice will welcome Detroit Cathedral and Royal Oak Shrine will travel to Redford St. Mary in other Catholic League action.

★ ★ ★

Emmanuel Christian will invade Warren Mott for an independent parochial tilt.

Full Slate of League Games

There's a full slate of league games around the county tomorrow night, including the opening of championship play in the Tri-County, Northwest Suburban and Southeastern Michigan AA circuits.

In addition, the Wayne-Oakland and Oakland A leagues will renew play with each having four teams atop the standings after last week's openers.

A maximum of three will remain in each after tomorrow since both circuits have a meeting between two of the leaders. Upsets could reduce the leader list further.

West Bloomfield (1-0) will risk its share of the lead at Clarkston (1-0) in the top W-O clash. Milford (1-0) will visit dangerous Bloomfield Hills (0-1); and Northville's should stay on top at Livonia Clarenceville.

★ ★ ★

Brighton will visit Holly in a battle of two 0-1 squads.

PACESETTING

The two O-A pacesetters meeting are Clawson and Fitzgerald at Warren. Avondale's share could be in danger at Lake Orion; and Cousino (1-0) has a date at Troy.

Rochester, the preseason pick of the coaches, must win at Madison or fall two-games off the pace.

The Tri-County League teams opening their race are Romeo and Oxford on the latter's court, and L'Anse Creuse at Lapeer.

In Birmingham, the red-hot Groves quintet will open the Northwest Suburban race against Oak Park with the Falcons (4-0 in outside games) a solid title favorite.

Another expected contender, North Farmington (0-2) will visit Livonia Franklin still looking for win No. 1; while Wayne Glenn and Thurston will tangle in Detroit.

U. S. Netter Advances

In Case Power Fails Again

Motto in Northeast Is 'Be Prepared'

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 30 million persons who were caught off guard in the massive power failure a month ago, will probably fare better in the event of a repeat performance.

Like the famed blizzard of '88, the "night the lights went out" has become the subject of lore and reminiscence. It also is causing an economic boomlet in industries ranging from orange juice to diesel generators.

es, flashlights, bat-

Sales are up — fantastically — in candles, flashlights, batteries, transistor radios, generators, and just about anything people think they might need to survive another session of life with lights or power.

One New York housewife, for instance, gaily tossed out her old-fashioned, hand-operated can openers last Christmas when her husband bought an electric can opener. The day after the blackout, she rushed to a hardware store and purchased an old-style opener.

She had plenty of canned food on hand when the lights went out. But she had to make her way — candle in hand — to a neighbor's apartment to borrow an opener.

TO KEEP POSTED

The transistor radio — up to Nov. 9 — was known chiefly as an appendage of teen-agers. Some seemed to have them permanently growing out one ear.

When kilowatts went every which way, however, mom and dad found the only way to keep posted was to wrench the transistor from junior, tune out the rock 'n roll music and switch on the news.

Major stations, using emergency equipment, were on the air throughout the emergency.

* * *

Candles were for Christmas religious observances and intimate dinners for two. Now, in huge, gleaming apartment houses as in farm houses of old, they're tucked away in drawers, ready in case the power takes another powder.

WITHOUT LIGHT

At the height of the blackout, the tremendous complex of buildings at Bellevue Hospital were without light until police and fire department units rolled up with portable generators and floodlights.

About 500 student nurses scurried through the moonlit night to more than a dozen Roman Catholic churches in the area to round up devotive candles. They brought them back by the thousands.

Department stores almost immediately sold out stocks of multi-colored candles, on hand for the approaching Christmas season.

* * *

Candlemakers are working long hours now to replenish diminished stocks, and to meet the demand for those who would stockpile.

PRODUCTION UP

One New York candlemaker, Anthony Cieszko Jr., president of the Acme Candle Co., said normal sales volume was $500 to $1,000 a day. Now, daily production is up to $2,000 to $3,000, or approximately 75,000 pounds of wax per week.

Said Cieszko: "Demand has been so great that we can not produce fast enough. A lot of new customers are sending their trucks to pick as many candles as possible and we're just giving them a portion of what they would like. We're still behind in delivery."

Another candle company, the Columbia Wax Products Co., has increased the work day from 8 to 10 hours and production is up 25 per cent.

* * *

A major New York sporting goods store has sold about 5,000 batteries and 1,500 lanterns and flashlights since the blackout.

A discount store with branches throughout the East Coast, E. J. Korvette, reported it has had tremendous demand for portable lights, and there had "never been a more concentrated run on these items at any time in our history."

Another item which wound up with zooming sales is the portable generator.

Ralph Harles, New England sales manager of the Kohler Co., said sales are booming — with a big market for everything from a portable $250 generator capable of lighting a small home to large industrial generators at cost of thousands of dollars.

* * *

One of Harles' customers was a nurseryman in Norwood, Mass., who "lost a large number of orchids during the blackout."

BEGAN REVAMPING

And, in Portland, Maine, which wasn't even affected by the blackout, airport officials have begun revamping their auxiliary power system in event of future emergency.

According to Harles, inquiries about generators normally increase following a power failure of even short duration. But sales generally do not rise "because it's like repairing the roof when it's not raining."

But, he said, "the long duration of this one really motivated people to do something."

* * *

The blackout also motivated some people to prepare as though they expect to be powerless for a month.

NOT TAKING CHANCES

Food chains can't break down figures because food buying is normally up before holidays. But a check of the man in the street shows many persons aren't taking any chances of going hungry, or cold.

One Manhattan housewife went out and stocked up on cans of fruit juice, all kinds, from orange to grapefruit. Her family normally doesn't drink much juice, but she felt it would be a good thing to have on hand for the next time. The cans are stored away, practically inaccessible, in the bottom of a closet.

Another housewife surveyed her electric blankets — then headed for a department sore and bought regular blankets for each of her beds. The blankets are tucked away in a closet — "just in case."

Chubby 610 Pounds

Plump Santa on Crash Diet

HAMMONTON, N.J. (UPI)— Yes, Virginia, Santa Claus is on a crash diet.

* * *

Humbug, you say? No, because jolly roundness has its problems.

For years Jesse Chasse, a 610-pound service station attendant, has wanted to fill Santa's shoes. But even the industrious elves at the North Pole couldn't find a red suit big enough.

One has finally been fashioned from 10 yards of red cloth.

* * *

Now Chasse, with the aid of a hypnotist, has begun a crash diet to get himself down to chimney size. The jovial would-be St. Nick has shed 42 pounds since the hypnotist began making diet suggestions after putting him to sleep.

ONE MEAL DAILY

"I'm down to one meal a day, and the weight keeps coming off," Chasse said yesterday. "I love to make kids happy," he added. "I've always wanted to help Santa before, but I could never find a suit to fit me."

A local newspaperman, Ernie Romeo, solved that problem by purchasing 10 yards of red cloth and other trimmings which took Mrs. Ethel McGuire, a seamstress in nearby Cineland, N.J., two days to fashion into a mammoth Santa's outfit.

Snugly decked out in his new garb, Chasse plans to take long walks around town to greet local moppets and pare off more weight.

* * *

Even if he can't slide down chimneys, Chasse still intends to be on the job Christmas Eve.

When all the children are snug in their beds, perhaps dreaming about the littlest angel, the biggest Santa Claus said he'll "just have to climb through windows or walk in through doors."

Quake Shakes Gay Acapulco

Mexico City Feels Tremors; No Injuries

ACAPULCO, Mexico (UPI) — A long, shuddering earthquake shook beach-front hotels in this jet-set resort early today. Hundreds of American tourists tumbled into the streets in alarm, but so far as is known, no one was hurt.

Eyewitnesses said the quake, which was felt just after midnight, appeared to alarm people who had already gone to bed more than it did those who were still awake.

"A lot of people in the restaurants and bars didn't notice anything at all," one observer said. "By that time, they were too drunk."

The quake was felt strongly in Mexico City and westward to the Pacific Coast. Light tremors were felt as far away as Monterrey and Torreon, about 600 miles to the north. There were no reports anywhere of casualties or serious damage.

* * *

The Mexico City seismological observatory reported the quake registered a sharp 6.5 on the Richter scale when it struck at 12:08.26 CST.

CENTERED IN MOUNTAINS

The epicenter was located about 210 miles southwest of Mexico City, the observatory said. This would place it in the sparsely populated, jungle-clad mountains 30 to 40 miles north of here.

Mexico City skyscrapers creaked and groaned as they swayed during the quake. The few people in the tall buildings at that hour either rode it out or made a dash for the street.

In one Mexico City movie theater, fans long accustomed to earthquakes watched the movie with barely a murmur as they rocked in their seats.

* * *

Scattered neighborhoods in Mexico City were blacked out temporarily when the quake felled power poles. Repair crews expected to have everything patched up within a few hours.

Other towns along the Pacific Coast reported being shaken up by the quake.

Rural Electric Firms Rapped: 'Overspent'

JACKSON (AP) — Consumers Power Co. said yesterday seven rural electric cooperatives in Michigan may have spent $5,878,000 more than necessary over the past 15 years.

The estimate of what was termed "unnecessary expenses" was made by Birum Campbell, marketing vice president for Consumers, in a letter sent to executives of the seven distributing cooperatives.

* * *

Campbell said the expenses were incurred because the distributors bought high-cost bulk power from generating and transmission cooperatives instead of buying wholesale at lower rates from a commercial supplier.

Campbell's letter was a followup to an earlier protest to the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington over the agency's approval of loans totaling $12,446,000 for expanding the generating transmission G & T facilities of the Wolverine and Northern Michigan Cooperatives.

BUY FOR LESS

Campbell contended the distributing cooperatives could buy electricity in wholesale quantities from Consumers Power Co. for less than they now are paying to Wolverine and Northern Michigan.

The REA rejected Campbell's argument that there was no economic justification for a taxpayer subsidy of additional facilities woth two per cent government loans.

Says 90 Pct. of Doctors Will Shun Medicare

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A former president of the American Medical Association says about 90 per cent of doctors in America will refuse to take part in Medicare.

Dr. Edward R. Annis of Miami, Fla., predicted a "colossal foul-up between patients and the federal government" under the program. He told newsmen this would come when patients go to the government for reimbursement under the program.

Junior Editors Quiz on LAKES

QUESTION: Why does lake water look blue far out and brown close up?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Lake water, of course, is actually colorless, as anyone knows who has scooped up some in his hand. But Mildred and Stephan are both right about the colors they see in the drawing.

Mildred is looking across the lake. The water she sees is far away. The tiny molecules in an open water surface pull together, creating surface tension, a kind of skin which acts in somewhat the way a mirror does.

Bright rays of light, coming from the side, bounce off this water surface. It is these bright rays, reflected from the blue sky, which Mildred sees.

But Stephan is looking straight down through the water. In his position, he cannot see the bright rays sideways. He would see those rays coming down from the sky overhead, except that the water surface is not a strong enough mirror to bounce back to his eye the rays coming directly down.

He does see a very little bit of sky reflection, but what he mostly sees is the brown, muddy bottom of the lake, which is of course much darker than the sky.

Distant water looks the way we have described it only when calm. When wind blows, ripples and waves destroy the mirror effect and make it look darker.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Take a walk to a lake or pond to study these effects. Even a mud puddle will show them. Such a puddle will look light far away and become browner as you approach it.

Muskegon, Heights Eye Plan to Merge

MUSKEGON (AP) — Guidelines for a proposed consolidation of Muskegon and Muskegon Heights will be submitted to governing bodies of both cities the first week in January for joint consideration.

The consolidation would result in a single city of some 66,000 population.

The new plan includes a proposed council-manager form of government, nonpartisan candidates for public office, tax limitation to hold at about 12 mills, future annexations to give one new councilman for each 7,000 population and assurance of continued employment for all personnel on the two municipal payrolls at the time of consolidation.

Cinch Breaks; 2 Men Crushed by Rolling Logs

MONROE (AP) — Two men were crushed to death Wednesday by two 1,000 - pound oak logs that rolled off a truck at a lumber yard.

Monroe County sheriff's men said a binder cinch on a chain broke as the men were unloading the truck at Karle Lumber Co. north of Maybee. The chain held the 26-foot logs in place.

★ ★ ★

One of the victims was Larry Karle, 27, son of the owner, George Karle. Karle died of internal injuries at the University of Michigan Medical Center at Ann Arbor.

Ervin E. Clark, 43, of Maybee was killed outright. His head was crushed.

Zambia Alters Terms in Bid for British Troops

LONDON (AP) — President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia reportedly has renewed his request for British ground troops to guard the Kariba Dam but has dropped his insistence that they capture its power station in Rhodesia.

Political sources said today Kaunda indicated that he would be satisfied with a British force on the Zambian side if Prime Minister Harold Wilson assures him the troops will move into Rhodesia at the first sign of any threat to the dam.

★ ★ ★

The dam on the Zambesi River supplies power to Zambia's copper belt. It straddles the border between Zambia and rebel Rhodesia and is controlled jointly by both countries. Its power generating station is in Rhodesia.

Wilson has sent Royal Air Force planes and troops to Zambia but refused to provide ground troops on Kaunda's first terms.

CITE PRESSURE

According to some reports, Kaunda told Wilson that without additional British military support, pressure from the more extreme members of his Cabinet will force him to accept troops from African states intent on invading Rhodesia.

The white minority government of Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith declared its independence from Britain Nov. 11 after negotiations broke down over Britain's insistence that Rhodesia's four million Africans be assured control of the government eventually.

★ ★ ★

The Financial Times reported today that the British government is considering a plan to guard both sides of the Kariba Dam with a force of white Commonwealth troops. Government officials declined to confirm the report.

The newspaper said Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies of Australia, the Commonwealth's senior leader, would put the plan to Smith and Kaunda. The idea of a white force is to reassure Smith that Zambia won't call in African troops and provoke a racial clash, the Times said.

BREAKS RELATIONS

All 36 member nations of the Organization of African Unity voted in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, last week to break off relations with Britain unless it crushes the Rhodesian rebellion by Dec. 15.

The Congolese government, which had to hire white soldiers in South Africa to quell the rebellion in the northern Congo, told the OAU Wednesday it is prepared to contribute troops and make its airports and military bases available for any action by the OAU against Rhodesia. In return, Zambia, Tanzania, Uganda, Kenya and Sudan have agreed not to give assistance to the Congolese rebels, a government announcement said.

★ ★ ★

A break in relations with the OAU states could have serious consequences for Britain if the organization's nine Commonwealth members withdrew their sterling holdings from London. But this would not necessarily accompany a break in relations.

Despite the threat, the British government has ruled out any military action against Rhodesia and is still relying on economic sanctions to bring the rebellious colony to terms.

STERLING AREA

These include suspension of Rhodesia from the sterling area, an almost total ban on trade and a ban on payments of British pensions and salaries to Rhodesian nationals.

Smith said in a nationwide address in Salisbury Wednesday that Rhodesia would retaliate with a sharp reduction in British imports, which now amount to about $98 million annually.

SELMA DOCTOR TESTIFIES—Dr. P. C. Debardeleben of Selma, testified yesterday that the state's key witness, Edgar W. Stripling, is mentally incompetent to testify as a witness in the murder trial of three men charged in the fatal beating of Rev. James Reeb of Boston. The judge ruled the witness incompetent.

Reeb Case Suspect to Be Put on Stand

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — One of four men under federal charges in the fatal beating of a Boston clergyman says he hopes he would not have to testify against the other three who are on trial for murder in state court.

R. B. Kelly, 30, reportedly had told police he was near the scene of a street attack that left the Rev. James J. Reeb fatally wounded. Asked Wednesday if he would testify, the stocky television repairman replied:

"I don't know. I hope not."

★ ★ ★

However, Dist. Atty. Blanchard McLeod, the chief prosecutor, said, "We are going to put this man on the stand — if he refuses to testify, then the state will rest."

The prosecutor earlier had lost a key witness who was declared mentally incompetent.

SELF-INCRIMINATION

McLeod said he had been told by Kelly's attorney that the witness would invoke the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination. Kelly — and the three men on trial — have been charged with the federal offense of violating another person's civil rights in connection with the attack.

★ ★ ★

Kelly was not indicted by the state grand jury which brought first-degree murder charges against Elmer L. Cook, 42, manager of a novelty company, and brothers Namon O'Neal Hoggle, 31, an auto mechanic, and William Stanley Hoggle, 37, a salesman.

They are charged with fatally clubbing Reeb, a 38-year-old Unitarian minister, on the night of March 9 following a civil rights march here.

★ ★ ★

Defense attorney Joseph T. Pulcher, successful in blocking testimony by a purported eyewitness, said he was representing Kelly's interest at the trial.

SERVED BEER

The prosecution summoned to the stand Edgar W. Stripling, 48, a small, swarthy man, who said he served beer and swept the floor at the Silver Moon Cafe.

Two companions of Reeb have testified the attack occurred the night of March 9 outside the cafe.

McLeod said Stripling saw "part of the scuffle."

Stripling wore a black T-shirt. His right hand trembled as he sat in the marble-fronted witness box. He frowned at the judge. He had some difficulty speaking and told the judge he suffered from rheumatoid arthritis.

PRODUCED TESTIMONY

After Judge L. S. Moore questioned Stripling, the defense attorney asked that the witness be excused from the courtroom. He was. Then Pilcher produced testimony to show that Stripling was mentally incompetent.

Dr. Caldwell Debardeleben, a Selma physician, said medical records showed Stripling had a history of mental illness—schizophrenia. The doctor said it was his opinion that Stripling might not be able to distinguish between truth and fantasy.

★ ★ ★

After testimony, the judge ruled that Stripling was not competent to testify.

Prosecutor Virgis M. Ashworth, the deputy district attorney, protested when Pilcher questioned a Negro physician, Dr. W. B. Dinkins, about a call for an ambulance after Reeb was attacked.

★ ★ ★

Pilcher asked if the call was not made by Diane Bevel. "And Diane Bevel is the wife of James Bevel, who is one of Martin Luther King's right-hand lieutenants."

Slamming his hand on the table, Ashworth got to his feet.

"Now, your honor," he said, "that has got nothing to do with this case." His objection was sustained.

'Getting Action on Pollution'

Official Says Industry, Communities Yielding

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The man tabbed most likely to head up the government's new anti-pollution forces told the Interstate Conference on Water Pollution meeting in Dayton Wednesday that the recent Lake Erie hearings are beginning to get action.

Murray Stein, chief of the enforcement branch of the Division of Water Supply and Pollution Control, under the U.S. Public Health Service, said private industries and municipalities are giving in to recommendations outlined in a series of conferences held in Cleveland last August.

★ ★ ★

The Lake Erie hearings grew out of concern by conservationists that the Great Lakes are dying, victims of raw sewage dumped into them.

One recommendation was that no municipality should construct any more combination sewers — that is, sewers which are expected to carry both storm runoff and sanitary waste.

'DON'T WORK'

"They don't work," Stein said. "During a storm the volume of water through a combination sewer will overload a treatment plant, and raw sewage gets dumped into a lake or stream."

One of the major results of the Lake Erie hearings was the passing Oct. 2 of an amendment to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act which established a Federal Water Pollution Control Administration.

★ ★ ★

No one has been appointed to direct the administration as yet, but most of the conservationists at the Dayton conference, representing all 50 states, say Stein is the most likely choice.

They expect the appointment by Jan. 1.

City Police Say Arrest of Pair Clears 20 Cases

Pontiac police say the Nov. 23 arrests of two men in the midst of a drugstore holdup have cleared up at least 20 armed robberies and burglaries.

★ ★ ★

Apprehended by three patrolmen and arraigned one day later on a charge of armed robbery were Floyd Newburn, 24, of 256 Rockwell and Homer Gilder, 25, of 114 Wall.

★ ★ ★

Detective William Gracey said arrest of the two and subsequent investigation has resulted in official closing of armed robbery complaints dating back to last June.

Newburn and Gilder demanded examination when arraigned on the charge and are scheduled for examination Dec. 15.

MUSKOVITES PROTEST — People of the Kiev district of Moscow march in a demonstration during yesterday's mass protests in Moscow against U. S. involvement in Viet Nam.

At U.S. Embassy

Soviets Continue Viet Protest

MOSCOW (AP) — Small groups of Russians continued to bring resolutions to the U.S. Embassy today protesting the war in Viet Nm.

An embassy spokesman said more than 100 of the resolutions have been presented by small delegations since Friday. There was no sign of a letup.

* * *

The government in the past few days has been stepping up its propaganda campaign against U.S. action in Viet Nam, blaming the war on "U.S. aggression."

Mass protest meetings were held in Moscow Wednesday. The official news agency Tass and other Soviet communications media have stationed men outside the embassy to interview and photograph the delegations.

NOT ACCEPTED

A consular officer, Dexter Anderson, receives the groups and offers them a statement by President Johnson on Viet Nam. It has not been accepted.

Tass reported that "an embassy officer rudely forbade Soviet journalists to attend the presentation of the petitions." An embassy spokesman said Soviet journalists with camera and tape recorders came in with one group and were told to leave. He said this was done firmly but not rudely.

* * *

Western journalists are not allowed to take photographs in the embassy either.

Tass also said that petition bearers who went to the embassy immediately after the meetings Wednesday "were denied admission." The report did not point out that the embassy is closed every Wednesday afternoon.

Ike Quoted as Ready to Quit in '44 Over Monty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was quoted today as saying in 1944 during the Battle of the Bulge that he was "tired" of feuding with British Field Marshal Bernard L. Montgomery and "if it's best that I should go, then I will accept the decision without complaint.

"I've got enough to do fighting the Germans without having to battle with my own generals."

* * *

The Washington Post quoted the producer of a projected film about the World War II battle, Anthony Lazzarino, as saying dialogue for the scene was written by Maj. Gen. Sir Francis de Guingand, Montgomery's chief of staff.

The quotes appear in a portion of the script dealing with disagreements among Allied commanders over control of ground forces during the December 1944 last-ditch German offensive.

Eisenhower, recovering from a heart attack, was not available for comment.

The voices of most turtles are at most a slight squeak or sigh. However, the wood turtle of the eastern United States makes a whistling call audible 30 to 40 feet away.

Seaway Likely to Stay Open Until Tomorrow

CORNWALL, Ont. (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority says the Great Lakes-Montreal channel is expected to remain open for navigation until Friday.

In a radio message to all ships still in the system, the authority said the system would remain open if weather and ice conditions permit.

CARRIED AWAY ON DECORATION — It takes two days to decorate this 90-foot-tall Christmas tree, which the City of Chicago claims is the largest man-made tree in the world. City employes work from a movable lift platform, known as a "cherry picker," to hang outsized ornaments on the tree. Eighty-seven normal-sized trees were used to build this big one.

President Flooded With Mail on Viet Policy

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, deluged since February with more than 100,000 letters on Viet Nam policy, reads a sampling of 10 to 15 a day and answers some personally.

He sees more unsolicited mail on this subject than any other, and gives it more attention.

Even during his recuperative stay at his ranch home near here, packets of letters have been forwarded to him regularly from the White House.

* * *

In sampling Viet Nam mail, aides said today, Johnson insists on seeing critical as well as laudatory letters. And he has indicated in the past he takes a particular interest in mail from servicemen stationed in Viet Nam and their relatives back home.

PERSONAL REPLY

When a letter especially impresses the President, he drafts a personal reply. However, most Viet Nam mail that receives a formal response is handled back at the White House by staff members. If Johnson got too deeply involved in that job, it would take most of his time.

A professional staff of about 15 Civil Service employes opens, reads and analyzes all presidential mail. This is a growing job. Since 1961, there has been a 400 per cent increase in the volume of mail addressed to a president or his wife, aides said. They reported the increase in the past year alone has been 25 per cent.

* * *

Most mail from servicemen is routed to the office of Paul Popple, a Johnson staff assistant. Popple's office drafts suggested replies for the President's signature and, if a letter appears to be of special interest, it is routed straight to Johnson.

Seeks Added Mental Illness Rehabilitation

Science Service

WASHINGTON — Large numbers of mental patients who should have been returned to society are deteriorating in hospitals, said an authority here.

Roughly 30 per cent to 50 per cent of the chronically ill patients now hospitalized could be rehabilitated, said Dr. Fritz Freyhan, director of clinical studies for the National Institute of Mental Health research center, based at St. Elizabeths Hospital.

There is no doubt that long-term confinement damages mental patients, Dr. Freyhan told Science Service. Harmful effects begin to show after six months or a year in the hospital.

Dr. Freyhan's group inherited 330 chronic patients when it began operations at St. Elizabeths. More than half were put back into the community where they did very well, he said. Those who stayed in the hospital deteriorated.

★ ★ ★

Schizophrenia is the primary issue. People afflicted with this most common mental illness now occupy 25 per cent of the world's hospital beds, though the incidence of schizophrenic runs about one per cent per nation.

Dr. Freyhan listed three reasons for low hospital discharge rates. Society has been too "security minded."

Hospital staffs are inadequate. Two of the nation's large mental hospitals have 15,000 patients each. A single doctor may have 300 to 400.

Red China's Tactics Worrying India

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Last September, at the peak of the Indian-Pakistan fighting, Red China suddenly entered the picture with a charge that the Indians had built military outposts inside Communist-controlled Tibet.

NEWSOM

An ultimatum threatened India with "grave consequences" unless the outposts were dismantled immediately and unless the Indians returned four Tibetans, 800 sheep and 59 yaks allegedly kidnaped from Tibet.

Then just as suddenly, the Chinese announced the Indians had dismantled the structures and the threat of "grave consequences" evaporated.

The impression gained from all this was that the supposed military structures had in fact never existed, and that the Red Chinese simply had erected their own straw man only to knock him down.

★ ★ ★

Presumably the Chinese strategy was to encourage Pakistan to continue its fight with India and to divert India with the threat of military intervention from the North.

CONTINUE HARASSMENT

Heavy snows lie across the Himalaya Mountain border between India and Red China now, but the Chinese have continued their harassing tactics, both puzzling and worrying the Indians.

India has informed the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union that Red Chinese forces have been moving up to the "line of actual control" all along the way from the northeast frontier agency in the East to Ladakh and Sikkim in the West.

Intruding 10-man Chinese patrols have increased in size to 50 or 60.

It seems unlikely that the Chinese would plan a major military action now.

REACTION TO CONFABS

What seems more likely is that the Chinese are reacting to the fact that both Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan have visits to President Johnson scheduled soon.

Moreover, both Shastri and Ayub Khan have accepted an invitation from Soviet Premier Alexi N. Kosygin to meet in Soviet Tashkent in an attempt to settle their difficulties.

That meeting is expected to take place in January.

★ ★ ★

While it is unlikely that the Tashkent meeting can produce any real agreement, especially on the question of Kashmir, it does strengthen the Soviet claim that the Soviets have an important role to play in Asia.

MADE CLEAR

The questions President Johnson will put to the two men already have been made clear.

First the President will want to know what the two countries are doing to improve their relations with each other. Involved in their answers will be the future of American aid.

He also will ask Shastri what India is doing to increase her own food production. Relations of both with Red China also will be explored.

★ ★ ★

Red China, blocked in Viet Nam, disappointed by failure of the Red-led revolt in Indonesia and frustrated in Africa, may be looking for new avenues for muscle flexing. She may also seek to convince Ayub Khan that he can get more help from Red China against India than he ever can from the United States.

Americans formed 88,188 new businesses in the first five months of 1965, more than any similar period in history.

A WILL TO LIVE — Stephanie Smith, 22, displays two of her paintings as she describes her seven-year battle against a rare blood disease at a New York hospital. Miss Smith, who has been hospitalized 26 times and been carried to the brink of death at least 10 times by the disease, says, "I guess I'm too stubborn to die." She learned to paint while in the hospital.

Stubborn Stephanie Determined to Live

NEW YORK (AP) — When Stephanie Smith announced recently that she would be well enough to go home for Christmas, no one at the Hospital of the Rockefeller University doubted her word.

They've learned that what Stephanie wants, she usually gets.

Since 1958, the 22-year-old blonde has had her mind set on one thing — to live. And she's done just that despite a rare blood disease that has carried her to the brink of death at least 10 times.

"I guess I'm just too stubborn to die," she says. "When my case was first diagnosed as fatal, I was just a 15-year-old kid and I was terrified.

SHOCK WORE OFF

"But soon the shock wore off and I said to myself: 'Stephanie, you're not going to die no matter what they say.'

"And here I am."

During those seven years, Miss Smith has been in and out of hospitals 26 times.

"Six times I was given the last rites of the Catholic Church," she recalled. "And at least a dozen other times I was put on the critical list."

DETERMINED TO LIVE

Stephanie said she never once believed she would die, though she found her doctors, relatives and friends thought differently.

"There I would lie with people crying all around me and doctors and nurses tiptoeing around with long faces," she said.

"I hated that. I figured it was my life and if they wanted to cry and have long faces, let them do it on their own time."

Miss Smith currently is recovering from the effects of an emergency operation to correct an infection brought about by her condition.

DESCRIBES AILMENT

She describes her ailment as "a case of being allergic to myself—a case where parts of my blood destroy the wrong things."

Medically, her illness is known as lupus erythematosus, a disease once viewed as progressively fatal. However, a spokesman at the hospital, which has done research in this field, said it is now regarded as chronic, but controllable with medication.

In the hospital, Miss Smith became interested in painting and her work won the attention of Miss Sylvania Golden of the League in Aid of Crippled Children.

Through the organization, she enrolled in the Arts Student League and recently was given a Ford Foundation grant to continue her studies.

CREDITS MOTHER

She credits much of her determination to live to her mother—a registered nurse.

"My mother has gone through a lot," she said. "Two years ago my brother was killed when there was an explosion in our apartment building. He was 18.

"I know it's schmaltzy to say this—but, any courage and determination I have, I owe to my mother and I'm going to be home with her and dad for the Christmas holidays, you can count on that."

Hearings Due on Handicaps

Legislative public hearings will be conducted in Detroit next week on the state's educational services for the mentally, physically and emotionally handicapped children.

Sen. Sander M. Levin, chairman of a three-man subcommittee and vice chairman of the Senate Education Committee, said the hearings will be held Thursday and Friday in the Veteran's Memorial Building from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Berkley Democrat said, "The subcommittee is intent on a thorough reevaluation of the special education programs now available for handicapped children throughout the state and the needs for the future."

The subcommittee was appointed Oct. 1 by Sen. Gerald Dunn, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, in the wake of the Ricky Thorne case.

The mentally retarded Troy boy was abandoned in a Miami airport by his mother after she failed to get help.

Viet Premier's Longevity in Office Unusual

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — In a country where good government has come to mean any government that can survive for more than just a few weeks, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has made something of a mark.

By mid-December he will have held power for six months. Few expected this when he took over the government in mid-June as the front man for the group of "Young Turk" generals who wield the real power in South Viet Nam.

* * *

The civilian government that preceded Ky collapsed under the weight of political rivalry and bickering.

Many thought that Ky, 35, who as Vietnamese air force commander cut a dashing figure in the skies and on the boulevards of Saigon, was a political amateur. He was expected either to soon tire of the rigors of premiership and resign, or get edged out in the backroom byplay of military politics.

NO POLITICS

Ky hasn't tired of politics, mainly because he doesn't play them. He has no mandate from the people. Ky rules by decree and with the approval of the generals in the back room. The generals have made it clear that as long as Ky wants the job of premier he can have it — as long as he doesn't step on their toes.

Ky, in a series of public speeches and decrees, has attempted to force industry and honesty upon his war-weary and politically disillusioned nation.

* * *

Early in his reign he proclaimed austerity measures, broke off diplomatic relations with France and officially declared war on the Viet Cong guerrillas.

But after six months, it is Ky's record time in office, rather than what he has done, that distinguishes his regime.

UNCONCERNED

When he became premier, the American mission in Viet Nam did not seem concerned about whether he was good, bad or indifferent.

In 20 months, between the overthrow and murder of President Ngo Dinh Diem and the appointment of Ky, Viet Nam had gone through three coup d'etats, four attempted coups, and 19 government reshuffles.

* * *

U.S. policy was to get a government of stability, and stability was equated with survival. "We'll take anyone, as long as he stays there," one official was quoted as saying at the time.

STARTED AT BOTTOM

Ky has stayed put. But he started from rock bottom, and the shadow of the war has darkened all his actions.

The political problem for the United States in Viet Nam has not been to get a democratic government. That wish can be realized only far in the future.

* * *

The main problem was to get an effective government. Ky has these actions to his credit so far:

He has gathered around him a group of young ministers and aides who talk enthusiastically about South Viet Nam's future, and who are prepared to listen to American "elder statesman" advice about government, notably from U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

UNITED FRONT

Ky is not a military dictator. He is chief spokesman and executive leader of a nine-man national leadership committee of the top generals. This group has presented a united military front for the first time, stilling religious and student opposition to central authority. Ky does not intend to suffer the fate of the former strongman, Gen. Nguyen Khanh, who was destroyed because civilian opposition penetrated the chinks of the armor of the military group supporting him. Ky has no chinks.

* * *

Ky improved the morale of the armed forces by raising their pay 40 per cent and liberalizing promotions. Whether these measures will counteract the impact of morale from recent Communist attacks remains to be seen.

Ky has attempted to come to grips with the problems of rural pacification by introducing a land reform program, and training cadres to work among villagers. The reform program has hardly gotten off the ground because much of the land he is giving away is in the hands of the Viet Cong. And Ky is finding it as difficult as his predecessors to get people interested enough in working in the villages on pacification projects.

Ky has attempted to improve his image at home and abroad by traveling and by sending his attractive wife, Mai, to charity functions and hospitals. But Ky has found that popularity is elusive. To Vietnamese living outside the cities, Ky is just another name. Vietnamese have become cynical about their leaders and don't seem to take them seriously. Ky has yet to spark much enthusiasm.

He has attempted to tackle some major problems. One of these is corruption, a permanent canker within Vietnamese officialdom.

* * *

His record on this so far is good. Ky has followed up public statements with action. One province chief had connections with top generals but made the mistake of openly antagonizing and intimidating the U.S. aid mission. The U.S. mission withdrew aid from the province to force Ky's hand. After a cliff-hanging few weeks, Ky fired the province chief.

The corruption problem remains a big one. Even Ky himself is accused of it, but not because of any proven acts. The Vietnamese remember the recent slayer of the corruption dragon, Gen. Khanh — whom the new government accused of getting away with millions of dollars of U.S. aid money.

Delay Apartment Permits

AREA NEWS

AVON TOWNSHIP — A revised plan for a proposed apartment development has prompted the township board to delay issuing building permits for the project.

The board agreed last night to hold up the permits until it receives an explanation from College Park Development Co. president Sydney Weinberger as to why he has increased the number of units from 48 to 60.

The township zoning board granted the firm permission at a meeting Nov. 29 to enlarge the development, but the action has been protested by the Avon Township Inter-Association Council.

The council, which represents some 10 subdivisions, objects to the new plan on the basis that the development company signed an agreement two years ago this month that the apartment complex would be limited to 48 units.

* * *

The apartments are to be constructed on the south side of Walton between Old Perch and Adams.

OBJECTIONS RAISED

Strong objections were raised to the project originally but the association withdrew its protest when the agreement was included in deed restrictions.

The association feels the firm is breaking good faith with the addition of 12 more units, said Mrs. Thelma Spencer, township clerk.

The original 48-unit plan calls for six apartments, each containing eight units. The new plan has three apartments of 20 units each.

* * *

Mrs. Spencer said the board directed her to contact Weinberger and arrange for a meeting.

NO DATE SET

She said no date was set but indicated that it may be at the regular board meeting in two weeks.

The agreement signed by the development company and officers of the association on Dec. 28, 1963, was to be effective for five years.

The apartments are to be built on a 5.5-acre site between Weinberger's Stratford Knolls Subdivision and Spring Hill Subdivision.

Goodfellows Plan 4 Sales

Goodfellow newspaper sales will be held in four Oakland County communities this weekend to raise money for needy families and underprivileged children.

Sales will be held tomorrow and Saturday by the Lake Orion Lions Club, the Avondale Metropolitan Club Spirit 83 and the Oxford Lions Club. On Saturday, the Highland Fire Department will sell papers.

In Lake Orion, Lions Club members will divide into two teams and compete for the highest sales. The goal is $1,200.

The sale of The Pontiac Press will start about 1:30 p.m. tomorrow and continue for the rest of the afternoon. The papers will be sold all day Saturday.

* * *

Last year, close to $1,200 was collected which enabled the Lions to distribute 40 food baskets, clothing, toys and fuel oil.

$1,500 GOAL

The Avondale Metropolitan Club has set a goal of $1,500 to provide baskets for the needy and to stage a Christmas party on Dec. 23 for children of the southwest corner of Avon Township.

Sales will start about 3 p.m. both days.

The Oxford Lions Club will sell papers from 2 to 10 p.m. tomorrow and from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

* * *

The Highland Township paper sale will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday and continue until nightfall.

HIGHLAND FIREMEN

Some 20 Highland volunteer firemen will be stationed along M59 at the Duck Lake, Hickory Ridge and Milford Road intersections and at the corner of Livingston and Milford roads in Highland.

They hope to raise $500 to give food baskets, clothing and shoes to 20 or 25 needy families in the township.

Chairman of the sale is George Volkert.

Area Boys' Club Is $1,600 Richer as Result of Fete

AUBURN HEIGHTS — The Boys' Club of Auburn Heights is $1,600 richer today following last night's annual appreciation banquet.

The Auburn Heights Lions Club, the American Legion Post No. 143 and its Auxiliary presented checks to the Club to be used for capital improvements.

The Lions Club gave a check for $1,000, the American Legion Post Auxiliary $100 and the American Legion Post $500.

In return, the three organizations, along with the Auburn Heights Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, received placques in appreciation of their efforts.

* * *

Frank N. Wade, regional director of Boys' Clubs of America, was the featured speaker at the dinner attended by 105 supporters of the Club.

Lawrence Scharer, principal of the Avondale Junior High School was recognized for his long service to the community and the Boys' Club movement.

7 Holly Teachers Quit MEA in Protest

HOLLY — Seven officers of the Michigan Education Association's Holly chapter resigned last night in protest to the state organization's "lack of help" in recent negotiations with the board of education.

The move was made after a meeting with Charles Alexander, MEA field representative. The session was attended by 45 teachers.

"We find that our personal and professional beliefs do not follow those of the state and national associations," the seven officers said in a statement circulated to other teachers today.

They include President Paul Manson, four other members of the Holly Education Association negotiating team, the chairman of the tenure committee and the chairman of the professional problems committee.

Among those resigning from the MEA was Richard Jacobson, temporary membership chairman for a Holly local of the American Federation of Teachers.

Bible College Head to Talk on 23rd Psalm

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A program concerning the 23rd Psalm is scheduled for 7 p.m. Sunday at the Union Lake Baptist Church.

Dr. Charles Shaw of the Detroit Bible College will present "An Orientation of the 23rd Psalm," illustrated with slides taken in the Holy Land.

Shaw also will speak at the 11 a.m. worship hour at the church, 8390 Commerce.

Pupils at School in Commerce Sponsoring 2 Yuletide Projects

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Two special Christmas projects are being sponsored by Clifford H. Smart Junior High School pupils this year.

The school's National Honor Society chapter is planning a party for children at the St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Home for Children in Wood Creek Farms, and the Student Council is spearheading a canned goods drive.

About 50 four- and five-year-old children will be entertained at the Dec. 21 party at the St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Home.

Operated by the Sisters of Charity, the institution houses orphans and children whose parents are unable to care for them.

* *

Each of the 23 honor society members will take two gifts to the party, which also will feature games, ice cream and cake.

This is the fourth year the Student Council has sponsored a canned goods drive.

Each homeroom is to fill a box with groceries, which are turned over to the Goodfellows for distribution.

Money also is collected to buy meat to be included in the food baskets.

The drive will continue through the week of Dec. 20.

Youth Rally Scheduled at Area Church

ROCHESTER — An areawide youth rally featuring innercity and foreign missions will be conducted by the Rochester Church of Christ tomorrow and Saturday.

Maurice Hall, Saigon missionary, Carl Phagan of West Islip, N. Y., Bob Miller of Michigan Christian College and Dean Thoroman of Fenton will head the rally program.

Dan Woodroof, minister of the Rochester church, will be master of ceremonies for the program to be held in the new Church of Christ at 127 E. Avon.

Registration starts at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. The Michigan Christian College Chorus will sing at 7:30 p.m. and Maurice Hall will tell the "Saigon Story" at 8:15 p.m.

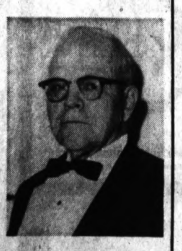
School's Out at Clarkston

CLARKSTON — Clarkston's 1,150 high school students were excused from classes today because of a power failure which left the building without heat, lights and water.

* * *

The breakdown was attributed to a defective underground cable which Detroit Edison workers repaired today.

Classes are expected to resume tomorrow.



WORSHIPFUL MASTER — Ray J. Poole, of 3256 Kern, Lake Orion will be installed as Worshipful Master of Orion Lodge No. 46, F&AM, Saturday.

20 Enrolled in Police Pistol Course

Businessmen Aiming at Armed Bandits

Pontiac Press Photo

SHOOTIN' JUDGE — Justice Alice Gilbert of Bloomfield Township not only lends eye appeal to the gun classes, but is also a top student, according to Capt. Harry Nye. After her first lesson on the police pistol range, the judge placed five straight shots in the center two rings of the target.

Armed robbers — in a reversal of roles — have become the target of Pontiac area businessmen.

Some 20 merchants and professional people are currently enrolled in a police course in the handling of a pistol.

According to Pontiac Police Capt. Harry Nye, conducting the course, the students are doing "exceptionally well."

Included in the lessons are the loading, aiming and firing of live cartridges on the police pistol range.

* * *

The lessons will continue, Nye said, until those in the course attain "proficiency."

FIRST APPROACHES

Nye took over the course at the request of Chief William K. Hanger, who was first approached by businessmen expressing concern over armed robberies.

While the lessons are not aimed at vigilante combat of crime, Hanger and merchants feel capability in the handling of firearms may be a deterrent to attacks on unarmed citizens.

"We're not advocating that anybody resist an armed bandit," Hanger said, "but if a person decides to, we want to train them so they have a chance to come out on top."

* * *

Some of those in the course have been victimized by attacks, but none looks forward to pulling the trigger in an encounter with an armed assailant.

'INADEQUATE SENTENCES'

Most of the merchants feel jail sentences presently handed armed robbers are inadequate.

"These guys figure the most they'll get is nine months," said Bert J. Schmidt, owner of Bert's Market at 1022 Baldwin.

"A guy who comes in and sticks a gun in your stomach and takes your money doesn't belong on the street."

Delaware Nixes Bill to Curb Necking

DOVER, Del. (AP) — A bill designed to curb necking in the front seat of moving autos failed to pass the house Wednesday after one legislator, Rep. Paul E. Shockley, warned that passage would mean "members of this legislature are beginning to show their age."

The bill, which was three votes short of the 24 required for passage, would have prohibited the driver from putting his arm around any passenger while the car was moving.

One of the proponents, Rep. John P. Ferguson, said if a person is necking and driving at the same time, "they're not doing a good job of either."

Japan has a population density of about 681 persons per square mile. The estimated population this year is 97.3 million.

Stolen Art Work Found in Apartment in Rome

ROME (AP) — Italian police have recovered 15 ancient paintings and a 14th century bas-relief stolen in Rome seven months ago.

The paintings and the sculpture were taken at night last May 6 from the studio of an art restorer. They were found Wednesday night in an apartment.

Report Theft of Liquor, Cash

Oakland County sheriff's detectives are investigating the theft of an estimated $260 in liquor yesterday in a break-in at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall in Commerce Township.

Clayton Walter, head bartender for the hall at 321 Union Lake, said 65 fifths of whisky were taken as well as an undetermined amount of petty cash.

* * *

Deputies said entry to the basement bar was gained by smashing a kitchen window.

Walter told deputies a German shepherd watchdog kept chained in the basement had been unleashd and apparently did not bother the thief or thieves.

Airliner Is Damaged in Landing Mishap

YUMA, Ariz. (UPI) — A twin-engine Bonanza airliner was damaged, but none of the 14 passengers and three crew members was injured, when its landing gear collapsed last night while landing at the airport here.

A spokesman for Bonanza at Las Vegas, Nev., reported the F27 Dart's right turboprop and underside were damaged. The plane was bound for Los Angeles from Phoenix via Yuma.

9 in Waterford Seek Junior Miss Crown

Nine senior girls from three high schools will compete in the Waterford Township Jaycees' fourth annual Junior Miss Pageant at 7:30 Saturday night at Waterford Kettering High School.

The winner will receive a $50 bond and a trophy. More important, she will advance to the Michigan finals Jan. 27-28-29 in Pontiac. The runner-up will receive a $25 bond.

Last year's winner, Lynn Tarlton, will crown the new Junior Miss, according to Richard Womack, master of ceremonies.

The judges are Dr. Don O. Tatroe, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools; Mrs. Arthur Salley, wife of the board president of Community Activities, Inc. (CAI) and Mrs. Virginia Stark, a Pontiac State Bank branch manager.

* * *

This year's contestants include Cecelia Parker, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Parker, 2652 W. Walton; Gayanne Mansfield, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mansfield, 5186 Durnham, and Linda Kay Lewis, 18, daughter of Berkley Lewis, 4583 Forest.

Others include Suzanne Marie Hurteau, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Hurteau, 5966 Southward; Donna Lee Gould, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gould, 3342 Indainview; and Kathryn Dunn, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Dunn, 3025 Shawnee Lane.

Also entered are Genie Burns, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shufer Burns, 2056 Highfield; Andrea Kay Condon, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Condon, 2726 Winkleman; and Mikki Belisle, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Belisle, 3555 Percy King.

Misses Mansfield and Lewis attend Waterford Township High School, while Miss Parker is a student at Our Lady of the Lakes. The others are students at Waterford-Kettering.

* * *

The winner of the state competition will receive $3,000 in scholarships. Thirty girls will vie for the title.

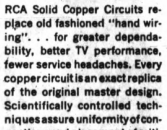
RCA Solid Copper Circuit Dependability



RCA Solid Copper Circuits replace old fashioned "hand wiring"... for greater dependability, better TV performance, fewer service headaches. Every copper circuit is an exact replica of the original master design. Scientifically controlled techniques assure uniformity of connections and placement of critical parts, eliminating the quality variations caused by hand assembly. Servicing individual parts is fast, simple and precise. Machine-perfect circuitry of this kind is also specially designed and produced for use in spacecraft, satellites, missiles and computers for the ultimate in precision, reliability and compact design.

Princess Soraya Joins Royalty Visiting Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The film colony is getting a taste of royalty this season — first, Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon; now, Princess Soraya.

THOMAS

The former wife of the Shah of Iran has been here to visit old friends — it's her sixth visit—and, incidentally, to stimulate her acting career. She made her debut in an Italian-made film, "Three Faces of a Woman," which turned out to be a hard-earned education.

She talked about the film and her acting hopes at the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Reese Milner of Beverly Hills. The princess is a statuesque beauty whose face seems to accent the Persian side of her parentage; her mother is German.

POOR LUCK

Does she really want to act?

"Yes, I am very serious about it," insisted Soraya, one of the most notable figures of the jet set. "I am looking very carefully for another script I could do. I did not have very good luck with the first one, and I don't want to make the same mistake."

In recounting her experiences with "Three Faces of a Woman," she demonstrated that she had learned about the picture business in a hurry.

"Originally we were to do a Henry James book, 'The American'," she related. "But the producers wanted to modernize the story, and they had Italian script writers do five or six versions. Each was worse than the one before."

★ ★ ★

After six months of trying to convert Henry James into 20th century Italian, the producer suggested a film constructed of three sketches. Although she had script approval, she agreed to go ahead with virtually nothing written.

"Somebody would write a few lines every day," she recalled with a heavy sigh. "I had a writer working on the script. Richard Harris also had a man writing for him, but then he would discard his writer's lines and do it his own way.

★ ★ ★

"No lines had been written for me in his version, so I didn't know what to say. The director was an Italian who had no idea what Harris was saying. It was chaotic."

★ ★ ★

Despite the experience, Soraya is anxious to do more acting, and she has hired as agent the man who piloted Elizabeth Taylor's career, Kurt Frings.

Soraya now lives in Munich, where her father retired after his diplomatic service; he was Iranian ambassador to Bonn. She likes the relative quiet of Munich — "so much more restful than a big city like Paris."

She has not returned to Iran since her divorce by the shah after a childless marriage.

Billy Rose OK After Surgery

HOUSTON (UPI) — Producer Billy Rose, 66, was reported in "very satisfactory condition" today, recovering from an arterial operation at Methodist Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Rose entered the hospital Friday and the operation was performed Tuesday, a spokesman said.

The operation, called Leriche, is a cardiovascular process involving the abdominal arteries, the spokesman said.

Surgeons replaced with a dacron graft the artery which connects the aorta — the main "trunk" supplying blood to most of the body — with the arteries of both legs.

★ ★ ★

Surgeons at Methodist Hospital have pioneered this kind of arterial repair operation.

Rose was expected to remain in the hospital for several more days, the spokesman said.

Age of Microelectronics—4

Language Barrier Seen Broken by '84

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the last of four dispatches on present and future applications of the revolutionary new technology of microelectronics.)

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press International

WASHINGTON — Most Japanese can't speak American. Most Americans can't speak Japanese.

Most Japanese live in Japan. Most Americans live in America.

So how in the world could anybody in Rochester, N.Y., say, hope to carry on a reasonably intelligent conversation with anybody living, for example, in Osaka, Japan?

You couldn't do it today. But by 1984 or thereabouts, it is conceivable that you could.

There is this thing called microelectronics, a revolutionary development which in the past four or five years has made it possible to transform giant gadgets into dwarfs and push the magical powers of the infinitesimal electron into hitherto undreamed of dimensions.

It now takes huge and elaborate switchboards, perhaps aided and abetted by long and complicated undersea cables or high flying and intricate satellites, to place a call from one hemisphere to another.

Even if you get your connection, what good is it to you if you find your opposite number can talk only in Swahili, Swashbuckli whereas you are gifted only in Framish?

Well, this is the age of computerized typewriters. This is the age when professional matchmakers tell spouse-hunters what to look for in the opposite number.

TELL ON YOU

This is the age when, if you buy a candy bar in the corner drugstore, remote computers tell on you and revise the inventory at the candy bar factory.

So even if computers aren't as all-fired smart as they're described, it still is possible to do some wonderful things by organizing microelectronic devices into teams.

One computer can automatically search out radio channels and wavelengths that aren't in use. Another knows how to translate languages.

So perhaps Sir Leon Bagrit, British computer expert, isn't talking through his hat.

Sir Leon believes tomorrow's computers will be able to translate languages so quickly that it will be possible for the American in Rochester and the Japanese in Osaka to converse normally without being at all hampered by the difference in tongues.

By 1984, the prophets say, most commercial transactions will be microelectronic.

Nobody will handle coins or write checks. People will not only dine out but will do their marketing and shopping with credit punch cards.

* * *

These amazing things (for heaven's sake, don't mutilate them) will pay your bills, do your banking, pay your taxes, and present your excuses for traffic violations.

WILL BE WATCH-SIZE

But about intercontinental communications: there is this thing on your wrist. It need be no larger than today's watch.

You have your own private number — perhaps your Social Security number as suggested by Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

"You will be able to reach anyone else having a similar instrument anywhere in the world," Seabord said recently.

According to others, the initial power for this implement would be supplied by the wearer's body heat.

MUCH MORE

Don't think this is the end. Microelectronics promises much more. Today's housewife often feels herself the servant of her "labor-saving" machines — she has to wait on them hand and foot.

Tomorrow's kitchen and household robots will be more truly her slaves.

Seabord sees a time when the housewife, possessing an electronically stocked larder as well as an electronically controlled stove, will simply "dial a meal."

Similar robots will vacuum the rugs while the household sleeps.

PLUGS SELF IN

The Johns Hopkins University already has made a little microelectronically controlled machine which can plug itself into a wall socket and move around, successfully avoiding obstacles such as chairs and tables.

For the big jobs requiring vast amounts of power, as in the case of giant atom smashers, big electronics will continue to serve.

But for a great host of other chores, calling for quick and accurate responses to impulses of only a few volts or tiny fractions thereof, microelectronics is the thing.

Its future applications are bound to include many which cannot now be forecast.

As D. B. W. Robinson of Stanford University has said, this is an age "when the future is barely realized before becoming obsolete."

Gorillas Learn to Paint

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Two gorillas recently acquired by the Albuquerque Zoo at a cost of $10,000 have been given painting "lessons" by John Roth, zoo superintendent, and Dr. Frank Hibben, anthropology professor at the University of New Mexico.

The results now are on display at the university's Museum of Anthropology. Hibben and Roth hope the gorillas will produce enough paintings in coming months to have an art sale.

Proceeds would be used to help pay for the animals.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

North scraped the bottom of the barrel to find a positive response to his partner's opening two-spade bid. South's four and five no - trump calls represented an effort to reach seven but when he saw the dummy he was delighted that he stopped at six. He also noted that even six was not a sure thing but he had a mighty good play for it.

JACOBY

To start, if he could get a 3-3 break in clubs everything would be fine. Then if the club play didn't work he could always try a diamond finesse.

By this time you readers have probably noted that the clubs won't break and that the diamond queen is offside but can be picked up if South refuses to try the finesse.

Should South try to drop the diamond queen without having had the benefit of looking into the East-West hands?

The answer is yes. After South wins the heart opening he should play a couple of trumps. Then he should lead a low club and duck the trick to the defenders. A heart would probably come back, whereupon South should ruff and run off all his trumps and discard a diamond from dummy. At this point everyone would be down to five cards and East would have had to let three diamonds go in order to hang on to three clubs.

South would lead one high diamond and the ace of clubs, and lead a club to dummy's king. West would show out.

Now South would lead a second diamond from dummy. East would follow and South would go up with the ace with absolute certainty of dropping the queen because East's one remaining card would be a club and all diamonds but the queen had been accounted for.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Friday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Practical matters dominate. Good for contact with real estate agents, others who can stabilize your future. Emphasis on investments, business opportunities. Move ahead.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): If you are versatile, you profit. A time to experiment with various methods. Goal accomplished if you are active. Shake off lethargy, get out and around. Visit and entertain.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): You add to possessions if you are alert, original. Social affair in evening could prove beneficial. Romantic interests highlighted. Make decision based on facts. Then you advance.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Cycle high. Excellent for seeing people important to your welfare. Seize opportunity, initiative. Stress independence of thought, action. You can meet exciting people.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): If you persist in wasting time . . . you will have to pay the price. Means now is time to finish important tasks. Concentrate on job at hand. Later you can relax—and be happy.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): You can make new friends. Many of your hopes, wishes move closer to reality. Break through maze of doubt, red tape. Be positive in actions — and thinking.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Career activity featured. Deal with those in authority. State purpose, needs. CHANGE FOR BETTER indicated. Don't falter . . . move ahead with confidence.

SCORPIO (Oct. 2 3- Nov. 21): Avoid senseless family dispute. Strive instead for mature understanding. Then progress is made on all fronts. Good lunar aspect accents long-range planning. Read and write.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Take special care where investments are concerned. Permit mate or partner to take initiative. You tend to idealize situation. Practical outlook required.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): You could find yourself the life of the party tonight. When people pay you compliments, don't fall prey to false flattery. The more relaxed your manner . . . the more you benefit.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 19): Fortunate time if you take first things first. Means don't hop from one subject or problem to another. Be specific. Applies especially to basic tasks. Adhere to health resolutions.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): You are able to proceed through aid of new friend. Later romance is accented. Be creative in your endeavors. Means break away from routine. Be original — and daring.

Burma Train Crash Kills 67

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — The Rangoon-Mandalay express crashed head-on into a freight train 165 miles north of Rangoon today, killing 67 persons and injuring more than 100, railway officials announced.

It was Burma's worst rail disaster.

★ ★ ★

Many of the dead were women and children. The bodies of the engineer and mechanic of the express were crushed beyond recognition.

The express was traveling at high speed when it hit the freight at Toungoo Junction. The pasenger train's diesel engine and the first five coaches were telescoped, crushing passengers to death.

Relief and rescue teams were rushed to the scene. Army commanders sealed off the area, while railwaymen worked to clear the tracks.

POLITICAL 'BRAIN' — The Democrats have unveiled a new look in political machines — a humming, light-winking computer programmed to handle a wide assortment of chores connected with politics. Shown with the machine at Democratic Headquarters in Washington is Mrs. Beatrice Louloudis, manager of data processing.

LBJ Wants No Viet Peace, Says Ho

TOKYO (UPI)—President Ho Chi Minh, in an interview broadcast today, said President Johnson "wants neither peace nor peace negotiations."

* * *

The interview was conducted recently in Hanoi by Felix Greene, a British journalist. It was broadcast by the official North Vietnamese news agency, monitored here.

Ho declined to answer directly when asked if Communist China was supplying North Viet Nam with great supplies of military aid.

"China, like the Soviet Union and the other socialist countries, fully agrees with the line of struggle of the government of the Democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam and the South Viet Nam National Front for Liberation (the Viet Cong)," Ho said.

* * *

"They wholeheartedly support the Vietnamese people's fight against the U. S. imperialist aggressors."

'EAGER FOR PEACE'

Ho said the Vietnamese people "eagerly want peace to build up their country but genuine independence must be achieved if there is to be real peace."

* * *

"The question is very clear," Ho said. "U. S. imperialism is the aggressor. It must stop its air attacks on the North, put an end to its aggression in the South, withdraw its troops from South Viet Nam and let the Vietnamese people settle by themselves their own affairs as provided for in the Geneva agreements.

"Peace will then be immediately restored."

Red Cloud, leader of the Oglala Sioux Indian tribe, was deposed as chief in 1881 for encouraging hostilities against the settlers. He eventually retired to South Dakota where he died in 1909.

Aerospace Stocks Strong

Mart Gains in Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced in active trading early this afternoon. Aerospace issues, airlines, electronics and selected issues were strong.

Some of the aerospace defense issues were stimulated by the reported revision in the Defense Department bomber program. A number of electronics strung along as they usually prosper by supplying components.

★ ★ ★

Enough of the blue chips advanced to give averages a fairly good rise but there were plenty of soft spots among these market wheelhorses.

Motors and steels were mixed. Drugs, chemicals, rails and oils worked higher on balance. Tobaccos were lower.

AP AVERAGE

The Associated Press average at noon of 60 stocks rose .8 to 354.0 with industrials up 1.1, rails up .5 and utilities up .6.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.01 at 949.61.

American Motors was weak and fractionally lower on news of upcoming plant closings because of lower sales. Ford, American Smelting, Lorillard, Reynolds Tobacco, General Electric and U.S. Gypsum dropped fractions.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntex gained 4.

★ ★ ★

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading.

GM Trust Suit Goes to Court

U. S. Case Is Based on Halt of Discount Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government trust-busters and General Motors tangle today in a Supreme Court case that could have heavy impact on the structure of the auto industry.

If the Justice Department wins its case, the way will be open for the sale of GM's Chevrolet cars through discount houses—a development that the government claims would heighten competition and benefit the consumer.

The government is basing its thrust at GM on antitrust laws, using the growing economic power of the discount house in an attempt to crack the Chevrolet dealership arrangement.

GM comes into court armed with statistics that it says prove there is "no appreciable difference" in the price of a Chevrolet purchased through a discount house and one bought from a Chevrolet dealer.

DEALERSHIP PLAN

Specifically at issue is the Chevrolet dealership arrangement and the now - halted sale of Chevrolets through discount houses in the Los Angeles area.

In 1957, a number of Chevrolet dealers jumped traces and began selling cars through discount houses and referral services — paying them an amount agreed upon in advance and retaining title to the cars until they were turned over to the buyers.

By 1960, the government estimates, about 2,000 cars or 2 per cent of the Chevrolet sales in the area were sold this way.

Other Chevrolet dealers complained and GM told all dealers of GM cars across the nation that it opposes sales through discount houses. The sales ended—and the government entered the picture.

FILES SUITS

It filed civil and criminal suits against GM and Chevrolet dealers in Los Angeles, charging them with conspiring to suppress such sales.

If GM is allowed to restrict its dealers, the government says, the high degree of concentration at the manufacturers' level is transmitted to the retail level.

GM, on the other hand, argues that it must have a dependable dealer organization and that discount houses are not necessary to create price competition. The 85 Chevrolet dealers in Los Angeles do this themselves, says GM, by competing for customers in a free market.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE That the Planning Commission of the Township of Bloomfield will hold a public hearing at the Township Hall at 4200 Telegraph Road, on Monday, January 3, 1966, at 8:00 p.m., to consider the following amendments to Ordinance No. 67, as amended, being the Zoning Ordinance of the Township of Bloomfield, said proposed amendments reading as follows:

1. That a new section to be known and entitled as Section 1412. RESIDENTIAL ENTRANCEWAY be added to said Ordinance reading as follows:

Section 1412
RESIDENTIAL ENTRANCEWAY

In all "R" Districts, so-called entranceways structures, including but not limited to walls, columns, and gates marking entranceways to single family subdivisions or multiple family housing projects may be permitted and may be located in a required yard, except as provided in Section 1410, "RESIDENTIAL FENCE REGULATIONS," subsection 6 dealing with corner clearance for vision, and provided that such entranceway shall comply with all codes and ordinances of the Township of Bloomfield, and to insure said compliance with all codes and ordinances, the building inspector will first certify to such compliance and issue permit for same. The Board of Appeals may waive the requirements of Section 1410, subsection 6 when an entranceway structure is proposed for location on a lot corner formed by the intersection of a road to lot line and side lot line. When said entranceways include any sign as part of the structure, the Board of Appeals shall review, in accordance with the standards set forth in Section 1704, such entranceway prior to the granting of approval by the building inspector. The Board of Appeals shall require that any numerals, letters or graphics included as part of the structure shall refer only to the subdivision or project upon which located, and shall find that such sign shall represent a minor portion of the structure.

2. That a new section to be known and entitled as Section 1413. ACCESS THROUGH YARDS be added to said Ordinance reading as follows:

Section 1413
ACCESS THROUGH YARDS

For purposes of this Ordinance, access drives may be placed in the required front or side yards so as to provide access to rear yards and/or accessory or attached structures. These drives shall be considered as a structural violation of the front and side yards. Any walk, terrace or other pavement serving a like function, and not in excess of nine (9) inches above the grade upon which placed, shall for the purpose of this Ordinance, be considered a structure and shall be permitted in any required yard.

3. That subparagraph f of paragraph 3 of Section 1407 be amended to read as follows:

1407.3 f. The parking of a trailer coach or coaches, except for the purposes of unloading and loading such, on land not approved for trailer courts or trailer sales is prohibited, except that the building inspector may grant a temporary permit allowing the parking of a trailer coach in a rear yard, for a period not to exceed two weeks, provided such trailer coach shall not be occupied. Storage of a trailer coach or coaches on land not approved for trailer courts or trailer sales is prohibited, and any trailer coach or coaches stored on land not approved for trailer courts or trailer sales shall be stored within a completely enclosed accessory structure or attached garage and shall not be occupied or connected to sanitary facilities. Any trailer coach located on land not approved for trailer courts or trailer sales for a period exceeding 24 hours without a permit having been obtained from the building inspector to park same thereon as provided herein, shall be deemed to be stored thereon.

4. That paragraph 3 of Section 1408 be amended to read as follows:

Section 1408.3. Open Storage. The open storage of any equipment, vehicles, boats, airplanes and all materials including waste, except where expressly permitted by the provisions of this Ordinance is prohibited, and all such storage shall be screened from public view, from a public street and from adjoining properties, by an enclosure consisting of an obscuring wall or screen not less than the height of the equipment, vehicles, boats, airplanes and all materials to be stored. All persons interested will be heard.

S. Viet Searching Mission Turns Into King-Size Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A search-and-destroy mission by South Vietnamese troops in the coastal rice paddies of central Viet Nam exploded into a swirling, king-sized battle with a hard core Viet Cong regiment today.

Heavy casualties on both sides bloodied the lowlands as U.S. artillery and jets joined the savage fight to dislodge the strong Communist force from positions halfway between the two big U.S. Marine beachheads in South Viet Nam.

* * *

All reports indicated the hit-run Viet Cong had turned the fight into a prestige battle for ground they have zealously defended for years.

A U.S. Army spokesman said of the Communists:

"They are in fact fighting for their homes. These are real hard-core."

NEARLY ANNIHILATED

The action developed 15 miles north of the seaside town of Tam Ky, in the same area where the Viet Cong nearly annihilated a crack government ranger battalion Wednesday. Two U.S. advisers were killed and four others are missing, a spokesmen said.

Although the battleground lies halfway between the Marine bases at Chu Lai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, and Da Nang, 50 miles farther north, U.S. ground forces so far were kept out of the fighting.

* * *

The skies cleared, and U.S. aerial might was turned loose again on Viet Cong targets. American airmen dropped 206 tons of bombs, including 3,000-pounders, on the Communist North and flew 397 sorties against suspected Viet Cong hideouts in the South.

A C130 Hercules transport crashed and burned taking off from Chu Lai air field Wednesday night, killing one American and injuring three Vietnamese military passengers. Five crew men and another passenger escaped injury. Spokesmen said the cause of the crash was unknown.

ON THE GROUND

On the ground, small Viet Cong units made a number of probes near Saigon. They fired on five Vietnamese outposts from 10 to 15 miles southwest of the capital, inflicting moderate casualties, and briefly captured Tam Phuoc hamlet 20 miles east of the city. A company of government regulars drove them from the village.

In Saigon, U.S. and Vietnamese authorities weighed a Viet Cong offer of a 12-hour Christmas truce to allow holiday worship in peace.

PROPAGANDA MOVE

Although American officials considered the announcement by the underground Viet Cong radio a propaganda move, they said the truce offer would be studied.

* * *

In Washington, the State Department said the Communists could give the world a real Christmas present by entering talks to end the fighting. But it did not indicate a desire to turn down the Viet Cong offer, particularly if the cease-fire could be extended beyond the promised pause from 7 p.m. Christmas Eve to 7 a.m. Christmas Day.

Can't Ignore Aggression --Gromyko

MOSCOW (UPI) — Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said today the Soviet Union will not allow what he called American aggression in Viet Nam "to go on with impunity."

He did not elaborate but he repeated previous Soviet statements that Russia would aid Communist North Viet Nam.

Gromyko, in a report on work of the current United Nations General Assembly in New York, said the U.S. "aggression" had seriously influenced the atmosphere at the U.N.

In a speech to the Supreme Soviet (parliament), Gromyko said the U.S. actions are "condemned by the overwhelming majority of the countries of Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America."

* * *

To allow the aggression in Viet Nam to go on with impunity would mean giving the aggressors a hand to undo the work "of other peoples striving for independence or the preservation of the independence they have already won," he said.

DECISION REAFFIRMED

Gromyko said the Soviet Union reaffirmed its decision to render help to Communist North Viet Nam, to support Hanoi's program for a settlement which calls for withdrawal of all U.S. forces and an end to the bombing of North Viet Nam.

Gromyko said the United States representatives have been told of the Russian stand at a number of meetings in New York.

Gromyko told the Supreme Soviet the Russians had brought two questions before the U.N. General Assembly — the non-proliferation of nuclear weapons and the impermissibility of interference into the domestic affairs of states.

* * *

As for efforts to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons, Gromyko said, "We can note with satisfaction that the Soviet Union's initiative was fruitful. The overwhelming majority of states supported us."

An early automobile manufacturer of little faith equipped each horseless carriage with a whip socket on the grounds that a horse would be needed sooner or later to pull the vehicle home.

De Gaulle Foe Backs Right Runner-Up

PARIS (UPI) — Jean Lecanuet, 45, the handsome center-of-the-road candidate who ran third in the presidential elections, threw his support today to leftist Francois Mitterrand in Mitterrand's run-off election against President Charles de Gaulle.

He mentioned neither the Communist-supported Mitterrand nor de Gaulle in a statement read to a news conference.

But he advised his followers to vote Dec. 19 for the candidate who came out clearly in favor of European political unity. Mitterrand has taken such a stand; de Gaulle has remained aloof.

Lecanuet also announced formation of a anti-Gaullist middle-of-the-road party dedicated to European unity and appealed to "all men of progress" to join him in it.

* * *

He is reported hopeful of fusing the small parties of the center into a cohesive force to fight Gaullism in the 1967 parliamentary elections.

Mitterrand and de Gaulle today took different paths in their efforts to win over the French electorate.

Mitterrand, 49, planned a nationwide "whistle-stop" tour by helicopter, shaking as many hands as possible in the 10 days before the balloting.

De Gaulle, 75, stayed in Paris, leaving the handshaking out in the provinces to his supporters.

Both candidates will use a large part of the two hours of nationwide television time they are allocated.

* * *

De Gaulle's decision to stand on his record and use only 23 minutes of the similar period before last Sunday's ballot was credited with losing him many votes from Frenchmen who resented his aloof attitude.

London's "Big Ben" got its name from Sir Benjamin Hall, commissioner of works when the clock was built.

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY OF EDWARD F. Getlske, who passed away December, 1962.
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Silent is the voice we loved too far;
Too far away for sight or speech.
But not too far for thought to reach;
Sweet is the memory for him who was here,
Who, gone away, is just as dear.
Sadly missed by wife, daughter, son and grandchildren.

MAN ALIVE . . .
This Year 1965 Has Been a Great Year for Us!

So far, during this 1966 model period, we have sold more Lincoln Continentals, Mercuries, Comets and English Fords than in any similar period in our business history. And, this is what makes our December sale this year so worthwhile. If you are in the market for a fine 1966 model trade-in, we have more than 85 quality cars in the widest variety of makes, sizes and styles we have ever been able to offer . . . and, we'll see to it that you will receive top value and real savings, because . . . we specialize in customer satisfaction.

NBC Head Confirmed as Leaving

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. yesterday indirectly confirmed that its president, Robert E. Kintner, will be leaving the organization.

"His representatives are in negotiation for the settlement of his contract," said one of the network's executive spokesmen. "and I cannot go beyond what I have said."

The New York Times said yesterday morning that Kintner would leave NBC.

Kintner himself was reported to be with members of his family in the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania, at a farmhouse without a telephone.

GENERAL BELIEF

Unofficially, NBC spokesmen indicated general belief that Kintner would be succeeded by Walter D. Scott, now head of its television network.

Although rumors of a pending shake-up have floated through television headquarters and Madison Avenue advertising agencies for several days, it came is a surprise.

Only three month ago, it was announced that Kintner, president since 1958, also would take over the board chairmanship on Jan. 1, 1966, when the present chairman, Robert W. Sarnoff, is scheduled to take over as president of NBC's parent organization, Radio Corp. of America.

An NBC spokesman said that there probably would be an official announcement sometime within 48 hours about the situation but that no appointments would be made until after the next NBC board of directors meeting on Friday, Jan. 7.

They named their party the Liberal Democratic Center.

Release Man Held in Pontiac Shooting

A Pontiac man held for investigation of attempted murder has been released from the Oakland County Jail at the request of Pontiac police.

Detective Sgt. John I. Williams said pending charges against Roy Jones of 503 Franklin Road stemming from a shooting Sunday were dismissed because of "lack of evidence."

Jones had been arrested following the shotgun wounding of Andrew Burkett, 32, of 349 Ferry.

Stork Seen Eying Wife of NY's Mayor Wagner

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The talk's around that Mayor Wagner's Barbara is expecting . . . or expecting to be expecting. They admit nothing yet. "I'm hoping," the Mayor told me. Mrs. Wagner said "I wish it were true!" flashing a "Don't be surprised!" smile.

WILSON

Blabbermouth Harry Hershfield launched the gossip after whispering with the Wagners as they sat beside him on the dais at the 80th birthday dinner given him by the Cardiac Center.

References by the Mayor to his happy marriage to Barbara, and to his devotion to his late wife Susan, are applauded at every function, As he leaves office, a new love affair's blooming between Wagner and New York City.

Brigitte Bardot'll be heroine of a "chic, dress-to-kill" supper at El Morocco Saturday, Dec. 18 after the "Viva Maria!" premiere with 300 "in" people invited, including Mayor-elect Lindsay, Mayor Wagner, and defeated candidates Bearne and Buckley. For you who don't know whether you're in or not, the invitations'll be mailed in a couple of days, so you should know by the weekend whether to kill yourself.

* * *

Comedy writer Chuck Horner's first Broadway show, "Me and Thee," starring Durward Kirby and Barbara Britton, was opening—but his wife Katie, who worked with him for six years toward this opening, wasn't there.

She died in his arms of a heart attack while preparing his breakfast just two days before. Horner, listed on the play program as Charles Horine, married Katie Cleveland. During recent pre-opening weeks, Katie had attended rehearsal, taken notes for her husband, and run errands.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

BRAVO: to the chiller-thriller-killer kidnaper play" "The Playroom", and especially to Karen Black, another Chicago & Northwestern product, whom the first nighters screamed over in her B'way debut.

The Rolling Stones rolled some stones on Dick Clark—and he sent me a wire correcting "an unfortunate misunderstanding" about his "esteem" for the Rolling Stones. He told me they were slipping badly. Their mgr. Allan Klein demanded a "public apology" or he'd cancel their Los Angeles engagement under Clark's sponsorship. Clark's wire said he was "proud" to be associated with the Stones: "outside of the Beatles, nobody is doing that kind of business."

* * *

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Someone described a third-rate basketball team: "They couldn't do worse if Toulouse-Lautrec played center."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Some people speak from experience. Others—from experience—don't speak."—Anon.

EARL'S PEARLS: A kindergarten tot described "Whistler's Mother": "It shows a nice old lady waiting for the repairman to bring back her TV set."

Everybody's getting cynical about Christmas, claims Bob Orben. In fact, the only people today who still believe in Santa are elevator operators, doormen, janitors, and letter carriers. That's earl, brother.

Legislators Debating 3 Money Bill Vetoes

LANSING (AP) — Legislators debated today whether to override Gov. George Romney's vetoes of three cotroversial money bills.

Both parties in each chamber planned morning caucuses as Republican leaders in particular worked to avoid voting defections.

Carloads of veterans thronged to the Capitol and House galleries more than an hour before the one-day session was to even begin, seeking support for a bigger property tax exemption.

The three bills would increase veterans' homestead tax exemptions, provide $1.2 million to smaller state colleges and universities to handle unexpected enrollments and give senior citizens a rent reimbursement.

★ ★ ★

Even if all Democrats are present and vote to override, they must be joined by one Republican in the House and three in the Senate to succeed.

SEES NO CHANGE

Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, the minority leader, has predicted the vetoes will be upheld. House Minority Chief Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, avoided a flat prediction but said he's "doing everything I can."

The veterans measure is given the strongest chance of winning approval.

Veterans organization commanders have led a strong fight for the measure which would increase the tax exemption from $2,000 of state - equalized value to $3,500.

★ ★ ★

Nearly all Republicans voted for the plan before Romney's veto. But now many are coming out in support of the governor's plan to base exemptions on degree of veteran's disability.

The bill on the floor would increase the state's cost by about $4.2 million. Romney's would cost an estimated $3.7 million.

WARNER J. CANTO

Bond Awarded to Safe Driver

Trucking Firm Exec 1st Program Winner

An executive of a Pontiac trucking firm has been selected the first winner of a weekly safe driving award — a $25 U.S. Savings bond.

Warner J. Canto, vice president and general manager of Motorcar Transport Co., 1280 Joslyn, was the first of four winners, to be named during December.

Canto of Huntington Woods was noticed by police when he stopped his car on South Woodward to permit two small dogs to get across the street.

Safe driving awards — with $25 bonds as prizes—are being made in a program sponsored by the Pontiac Exchange Club, the traffic safety committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and the Pontiac Police Department.

Patrolmen will cite good drivers along with their regular patrol of bad drivers.

TO BE REVIEWED

At the end of each week, the safe drivers' names will be reviewed by a four-member committee.

Canto, receiving a check from Joseph L. Gaskins, treasurer of the Pontiac Exchange Club, said the money would be turned over to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

U.S. Okays Pontiac's R20 Plan

Congressman Billie S. Farnum, D-Waterford Township, announced yesterday that final approval has been accorded the city's revised R20 plan for urban renewal in the central business district.

The project's federal grant has been boosted $161,137 for a total of $2,277,079, which hikes the grand total of federal funds for R20 to over $6 million.

City officials have awaited final approval of the revised R20 plan since conditional approval was granted last August.

Farnum said federal urban renewal authorities had restored $161,137 that had been cut from the city's original request.

★ ★ ★

"The city has gotten the full amount it requested," said the congressman.

ORIGINAL PLAN

The original revised plan was submitted in December, 1964.

Primarily, the revised plan adds 4.9 acres to the R20 project. Most of the property is vacant, although two buildings — a now-vacant supermarket and a warehouse—are to be purchased.

The added acreage is generally located in an area south of Water, down to the old bed of the Clinton River.

★ ★ ★

Planning and Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates said the revised plan, as approved, incorporates added noncash credit for work done on the Clinton River.

The city will receive "credit" toward its share of R20 costs totaling $1.9 million.

The revised plan gives the R20 project a new closeout date of April 7, 1967, changed from March 31, 1966.

'Newspapers Due to Grow'

Publisher Sees Big Hike in Circulation

DETROIT (AP) — Newspaper publisher Otis Chandler predicted yesterday that newspaper circulation in the United States will increase by 10 million daily —to a total of 70 million—within the next 10 years.

Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times and vice president of the Times-Mirror Co. of Los Angeles, said the increase would result from a variety of factors, including larger incomes and less poverty in addition to population growth. He also cited rising levels of literacy.

Chandler made his forecast in a talk at the annual Detroit automotive meetings of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Chandler said the "continuing vitality" of the newspaper industry will mean a total advertising volume of $6.6 billion by 1975, or a 60 per cent increase from last year's $4.1 billion.

He also said newspapers were progressing in quality with production improvements and a "truly enlightened expansion in every part of the editorial department."

OU Hopes Up on Increased Enrollment Bill

Hopes were raised today at Oakland University as legislators met to consider overriding Gov. Romney's veto of a $1.2 million increased enrollment fund.

★ ★ ★

"We built our budget in July," said Chancellor D. B. Varner, "on the supposition that we would receive a minimum of $150,000 of supplemental money."

Library acquisitions were cut from a proposed $150,000 to $75,000 to help cover the costs of increased enrollment.

The budget made no provision for an increase in third semester enrollment to cover approximately $40,000 in salaries.

★ ★ ★

Funds to match a federal science grant of $23,500 must be forthcoming or the grant will be forfeited.

★ ★ ★

These plus other deferred expenses have created a budget deficiency of $150,000 at OU, according to Varner.

Mikoyan Quits; Deputy Relieved of Job

MOSCOW (AP) — Anastas I. Mikoyan, a member of the top Soviet command for 40 years, resigned today as president of the Soviet Union.

Leonid I. Brezhnev, Communist party first secretary, then nominated Nikolai V. Podgorny to succeed Mikoyan and the Supreme Soviet agreed unanimously.

Earlier, Alexander N. Shelepin was relieved of his job as deputy premier and head of an important committee.

The government said he would concentrate on Communist party work.

★ ★ ★

The change was made by the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's parliament, on the recommendation of Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

It was not immediately clear what the change meant for Shelepin's future.

Many Western observers considered him a possible future top man in the Soviet Union.

The unit which Shelepin headed for the past three years, the Committee for Party and State Control, was changed to the Committee of People's Control.

The Supreme Soviet was told that the change in the powerful organization, which supervises the application of party orders by Soviet government units, would increase the role of the common people.

NEW CHAIRMAN

The chairman of the new committee is Pavel Kovanov.

Brezhnev had suggested the committee change at a meeting Monday of the party's Central Committee.

At that time he said the committee had some shortcomings.

Shelepin was not heard either at the Central Committee meeting, according to published accounts, or at today's session of the Supreme Soviet.

POSSIBLE DEMOTION

Many non-Communist observers believed Shelepin's silence at a time of implied criticism indicated a possible demotion for the powerful former head of the Soviet secret police.

Other rumors circulated that Shelepin, 47, might take over the No. 2 job in the party secretariat, second only to Brezhnev. This job was held until today by Podgorny.

The Supreme Soviet today also approved a national budget for 1966 calling for an increase of 5 per cent in defense spending over this year. The budget was introduced by the government Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov said then this was being done because "the war menace is growing."

MINISTERIAL CHANGES

The Supreme Soviet also made changes in the Soviet Council of Ministers, including Kovanov in that body.

The Council of Ministers, which has about 100 members, acts as the administrative arm of the government.

Two others also were made council members. They are Al-

Post Office Adds Service for Holiday

Holiday post office hours will include extra service on Saturdays and Sundays, it was announced today by Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson.

Donaldson said stamps and parcel post service would be available at the main post office at 735 W. Huron from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Dec. 12 and Dec. 19, both Sundays.

Monday through Saturday service at the main office, the federal station at E. Huron and Perry and the branch office at 2980 Auburn, Pontiac Township, will be available from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Donaldson said all patrons in post office lobbies at closing times will be served.

The postmaster said service on money orders and postal savings would be offered only during normal post office hours, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

He also urged all Christmas card senders to include their zip codes in the return address on envelopes.

Donaldson said this would facilitate full conversion to zip code operation by the post office in time for next year's holiday rush.

U.S. Included in 12-Nation Truce Proposal

Would Ask Hanoi to Quit Fighting and Negotiate a Treaty

LONDON (AP) — Britain today proposed a 12-nation appeal to Communist North Viet Nam to quit fighting and negotiate a peace.

The British move was contained in a draft message sent to the Soviet government.

It called upon the Soviets to join in signing and circulating the message among the nine countries which attended the 1954 Indochinese peace parley and the Indian, Canadian and Polish governments, which form the Viet Nam control commission.

Represented in the peace parley were the United States, France, Britain, the Soviet Union, Red China, Cambodia, Laos, the Vietminh regime that fought the French, and South Viet Nam.

The United States never signed the general armistice agreement on Indochina, but made a unilateral declaration defining its position.

CHARGE N. VIETS

In the message, the British government accused the North Vietnamese of stepping up intervention in South Viet Nam.

The British charged, too, that North Viet Nam also has lately been speeding and increasing the flow of military equipment and men southward to aid the Communist-led Viet Cong forces.

A third accusation in the British message said North Vietnamese forces, "on a constantly expanding scale, are violating the neutrality and territorial integrity of Laos."

Britain and the Soviet Union were cochairmen of the 1954 conference in Geneva and the British message was sent to the Russians as a counterproposal to a parallel Moscow move aimed against the United States.

Soviet assent seemed improbable.

SOVIET MESSAGE

The Russians three days ago had formulated a message which they wanted the British to sign and circulate among the Geneva nations.

In it, the Russians called for international condemnation of American action in what Moscow described as "the bandit war."

This proposed message was rejected by the British, who then sent along their own version. Foreign ministers of the two countries remain cochairmen of the conference machinery.

The British message emphasized Secretary of State Dean Rusk's public reaffirmation Nov. 26 that the United States is ready unconditionally to negotiate an end of the war.

The British message then went on:

"Unfortunately, as in the case of all such previous American offers, there has been no response from the government of the Democratic Republic of North Viet Nam, whose ministry for foreign affairs issued on Nov. 28 a statement of their intention to fight to the end for glorious victory."

The British message then suggested the 12-nation appeal to North Viet Nam.

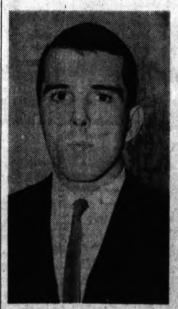
Murphy Confident He Can Handle Job



SHANE MURPHY

Shane Murphy, appointed deputy Oakland County treasurer Nov. 29 by Treasurer James E. Seeterlin, expressed confidence today in his ability to handle the job.

The appointment of the 24-year-old son of County Clerk-Register John D. Murphy has stirred a heavy flow of criticism. Democratic leaders generally have supported the action.

The elder Murphy is a Democrat, as is Seeterlin, who was appointed treasurer six weeks ago by a committee of three county officials that included John D. Murphy.

Seeterlin succeeds the late Charles A. Sparks.

Finding himself in the middle of political rumblings resulting from the appointment, the younger Murphy is concentrating his efforts on learning all phases of the $8,000-a-year job.

Admittedly, he lacks the experience and specialized education for the job but on the credit side of the ledger is the fact that tests show he is a bright young man.

This is substantiated by the county personnel office, which reports that Murphy did very well both on an IQ test and an examination to determine ability in office procedures.

On questioning, Murphy offered further information on his intellectual ability.

He was one of seven youths to win a scholarship to the University of Detroit High School from nearly 500 tested. He received scholastic honors while attending the school.

His education ended in 1959 on graduating from high school.

Since then he has served three years in the Army's 82nd Airborne Division, leaving military service as a sergeant, and the rest of the interim period in unskilled work.

Prior to the appointment, he was a grinder in the body shop at Fisher Body and before that worked on the assembly line for a Birmingham manufacturing firm.

Murphy said he plans to resume his education early next year in night school, taking accounting or related courses.

He said he has no desire to enter politics and run for office.

Strangler Said Under Watch

BOSTON (AP)—Massachusetts law enforcement officials say they have their eyes on the Boston strangler but still lack the evidence needed to convict him of murder.

★ ★ ★

The officials announced 11 months ago that they had safely institutionalized their "prime suspect" in the strangling of 11 Greater Boston women.

★ ★ ★

But they persistently refuse to identify him or indicate where or under what circumstances he is institutionalized.

★ ★ ★

And they will not state flatly that the 11 slayings of women, most of whom were in their late 50s, 60s and 70s, were committed by the same man.

LACK EVIDENCE

Asked again this week about the stranglings, Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke said his and local police investigators do not have sufficient evidence to get an indictment from a grand jury.

★ ★ ★

"We do, however, have sufficient information that leads us to believe that we know who the strangler or stranglers are."

★ ★ ★

"We will move at the appropriate time to make the arrests and to present evidence before a grand jury. That time will be when we get sufficient evidence."

★ ★ ★

Since the announcement that the suspect was in confinement, there have been no more stranglings related to the others.

Gemini 6 Shot Set for Sunday

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The Gemini 6 hunter spaceship was readied today for a Sunday morning launch, and the U.S. drive to achieve the first rendezvous of orbiting craft pushed on 24 hours ahead of schedule.

Astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. hurtled smoothly on through the strange weightless world of space toward their goal of a two-week endurance record.

★ ★ ★

And, at Cape Kennedy, Fla., orders went to the Gemini 6 launch crew to prepare to fire at 10 a.m. Sunday, one day earlier than planned.

Astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford are to chase down the Gemini 7 and attempt to score a space first by flying in formation with the other craft for six hours.

Gemini 7 began its 73rd orbit at 9:34 a.m. EST.

Originally, the launch of the Gemini 6 was scheduled for Monday, but both rocket and spacecraft crews were 24 hours ahead in their work, and space agency officials saw no reason to hold them back.

★ ★ ★

At 4:41 p.m. EST today, Borman and Lovell were to begin switching Gemini 7 into a circular orbit 185 miles above the earth — the desired position for the rendezvous.

The maneuver was to be carried out in two stages. At 4:42 p.m., jet thrusters were to be fired near the Carnarvon, Australia, tracking station to adjust the perigee, or low point of the orbit.

NEAR U.S.

At 5:25 p.m., near the United States, another burn of the jets was to bring the apogee or high point of the orbit to the 185-mile level.

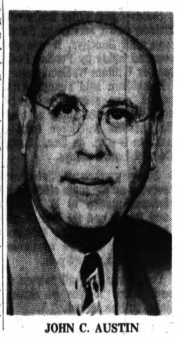
The most ambitious of U.S. space adventures to date also had so far been the most flawless.

An announcement of the Sunday launch of the Gemini 6 had not been made officially but the pad crews got the word this morning to go ahead.

A spokesman said the crews were ready to pick up the precount — the first step in preparation to launch — at 4 p.m. today.

★ ★ ★

Navy Capt. Schirra and Air Force Maj. Stafford were to undergo an extensive, four-hour physical examination during the day, then review their flight plan. The weather man predicted favorable conditions for Sunday.



JOHN C. AUSTIN

441 at Dinner Honor Auditor

Friends, Associates Cite County Service

John C. Austin, due to retire from the Oakland County Board of Auditors Dec. 31, was feted last night by 441 persons at a dinner in the Kingsley Inn.

★ ★ ★

Highlighting the retirement program was a series of 28 pictures of Austin from childhood to the present, flashed on a large screen with commentary by friends and associates of the retiring auditor.

Attorney Charles K. Patterson, a lifelong friend of Austin, was master of ceremonies. Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, made the introductions.

Speakers included Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors; Willis Brewer, a former member of the board of auditors; Leo Halfpenny, budget technician for the county; and Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore.

★ ★ ★

A retirement citation for meritorious service to the county was presented Austin by Lyle Baker, chairman of the County Retirement Commission.

★ ★ ★

The retiring official also received a silver plated shovel from Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry as a symbol of a drain in Southfield named for Austin and a certificate for 10 shares of Community National Bank stock.

FARRELL E. ROBERTS

State Senator May Run for Circuit Court

A seat on the Oakland County Circuit Court bench may be sought next year by State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts of West Bloomfield Township, it was learned today.

Roberts, a Republican representing the 14th District, would not confirm the report when questioned in Lansing, but did say that he might have an announcement in several weeks.

A veteran legislator, Roberts, 42, of 2486 Lafay was first elected to the Senate in 1960 after serving two terms in the House.

He vacated his Senate post and ran unsuccessfully for an Appeals Court judgeship in 1964.

He was returned to the Senate in a special election in April, filling the seat left vacant by the death of Sen. Paul Chandler.

Charles A. Lindeberg, head of the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA), said today he has received a letter from City Manager Joseph A. Warren indicating the latter is willing to meet with the police association.

★ ★ ★

Lindeberg said that the PPOA would reply affirmatively, but would not set a date for the meeting. The PPOA wants time to research wages and other fringe benefits prior to beginning negotiations with the city.

Board Okays Plan to Provide Services for Parochial Students

A plan for provision of auxiliary services to Pontiac area parochial schools under a new state law was given formal approval of the Pontiac School Board at its regular meeting last night.

The plan — meeting requirements of Public Act 343 — was developed by administration officials in consultation with parochial school principals.

It outlines 12 specific services and programs to be made available, including services from school nurses, vision technicians, fluoride treatment, crossing guards and teacher consultants for physically, mentally or emotionally handicapped students.

A brochure describing the plan's administration will function as an operational guidebook for the program, according to Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer.

* * *

Board members also heard a progress report from Asst. Supt. William J. Lacy on Pontiac participation in the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

AID STUDENTS

Under Title I of the act, the school district has been allocated some $422,000 to support instructional proposals aiding economically disadvantaged students from both public and private schools in the district.

Educators, administrators, lay citizens and representatives of area welfare agencies served on a study committee which drew up proposals designed to qualify for funds under the act.

Lacy said the proposals were presented to officials of the State Department of Education yesterday afternoon in Lansing. They were reportedly "pleased" with Pontiac's program.

More detailed consideration will be given by state officials to the program some time before Christmas, Lacy said.

In other action, the board granted sabbatical leaves to two instructors for the next school year and passed two resolutions aimed at designation and eventual recognition of collective bargaining agents for employes.

Mrs. Harry Dumont of the visiting teaching staff and William Guthrie, machine shop teacher at Pontiac Central High, were granted sabbatical leaves.

Mrs. Dumont plans to complete work on a master's degree in social work and Guthrie intends to study apprenticeship toolmaker programs in West Germany.

* * *

Several employe representative groups have asked the board for recognition as sole bargaining agents under provisions of Public Act 379.

BARGAINING AGENT

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME) requested recognition as bargaining agent for all nonteaching personnel with the exception of noon aides, crossing guards, office clerks and supervisors.

Asking for recognition separate from the AFSCME are representatives from the Pontiac School Lunch Managers and the Building Trades Council of the AFL-CIO.

The board moved without opposition to petition the State Labor Mediation Board for a ruling on the three requests.

A. Lynn Westhoven, president of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers, read to the board a statement urging reduction of class sizes.

Westhoven said the administration had made "positive strides" in reducing the ratio of students to teachers, but said further reduction was a necessity for better education in Pontiac.

A whale will drown, just like a man, if it is beneath the water's surface too long.

Buttery Nut Cookies Are Holiday Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Some of our readers have interesting recipes for Christmas cookies which we want to pass along.

Mrs. James Meadows makes a nut cookie similar to one that is very popular; but hers have a different shape.

The mother of two grown children, Mrs. Meadows is an enthusiastic doll dresser. She clothes her dolls in authentic period costumes.

ALMOND BARS
By Mrs. James Meadows

3½ sticks of butter or margarine
1½ cups sugar
1⅔ cups or one package ground almonds
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups flour

Cream butter or margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Gradually add ground nuts, then rest of ingredients.

Roll out ½-inch thick and cut into 1x2-inch strips. Or use small round or holiday shape cutters.

Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees on ungreased cookie sheet. These do not get very brown.

Cool slightly and roll in confectioners' sugar. When cookies are cold, roll again in the sugar. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Zambia Alters Terms in Bid for British Troops

LONDON (AP) — President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia reportedly has renewed his request for British ground troops to guard the Kariba Dam but has dropped his insistence that they capture its power station in Rhodesia.

Political sources said today Kaunda indicated that he would be satisfied with a British force on the Zambian side if Prime Minister Harold Wilson assures him the troops will move into Rhodesia at the first sign of any threat to the dam.

★ ★ ★

The dam on the Zambesi River supplies power to Zambia's copper belt. It straddles the border between Zambia and rebel Rhodesia and is controlled jointly by both countries. Its power generating station is in Rhodesia.

Wilson has sent Royal Air Force planes and troops to Zambia but refused to provide ground troops on Kaunda's first terms.

CITE PRESSURE

According to some reports, Kaunda told Wilson that without additional British military support, pressure from the more extreme members of his Cabinet will force him to accept troops from African states intent on invading Rhodesia.

The white minority government of Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith declared its independence from Britain Nov. 11 after negotiations broke down over Britain's insistence that Rhodesia's four million Africans be assured control of the government eventually.

★ ★ ★

The Financial Times reported today that the British government is considering a plan to guard both sides of the Kariba Dam with a force of white Commonwealth troops. Government officials declined to confirm the report.

The newspaper said Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies of Australia, the Commonwealth's senior leader, would put the plan to Smith and Kaunda. The idea of a white force is to reassure Smith that Zambia won't call in African troops and provoke a racial clash, the Times said.

BREAKS RELATIONS

All 36 member nations of the Organization of African Unity voted in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, last week to break off relations with Britain unless it crushes the Rhodesian rebellion by Dec. 15.

The Congolese government, which had to hire white soldiers in South Africa to quell the rebellion in the northern Congo, told the OAU Wednesday it is prepared to contribute troops and make its airports and military bases available for any action by the OAU against Rhodesia. In return, Zambia, Tanzania, Uganda, Kenya and Sudan have agreed not to give assistance to the Congolese rebels, a government announcement said.

★ ★ ★

A break in relations with the OAU states could have serious consequences for Britain if the organization's nine Commonwealth members withdrew their sterling holdings from London. But this would not necessarily accompany a break in relations.

Despite the threat, the British government has ruled out any military action against Rhodesia and is still relying on economic sanctions to bring the rebellious colony to terms.

STERLING AREA

These include suspension of Rhodesia from the sterling area, an almost total ban on trade and a ban on payments of British pensions and salaries to Rhodesian nationals.

Smith said in a nationwide address in Salisbury Wednesday that Rhodesia would retaliate with a sharp reduction in British imports, which now amount to about $98 million annually.

SELMA DOCTOR TESTIFIES—Dr. P. C. Debardeleben of Selma, testified yesterday that the state's key witness, Edgar W. Stripling, is mentally incompetent to testify as a witness in the murder trial of three men charged in the fatal beating of Rev. James Reeb of Boston. The judge ruled the witness incompetent.

Reeb Case Suspect to Be Put on Stand

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — One of four men under federal charges in the fatal beating of a Boston clergyman says he hopes he would not have to testify against the other three who are on trial for murder in state court.

R. B. Kelly, 30, reportedly had told police he was near the scene of a street attack that left the Rev. James J. Reeb fatally wounded. Asked Wednesday if he would testify, the stocky television repairman replied:

"I don't know. I hope not."

★ ★ ★

However, Dist. Atty. Blanchard McLeod, the chief prosecutor, said, "We are going to put this man on the stand — if he refuses to testify, then the state will rest."

The prosecutor earlier had lost a key witness who was declared mentally incompetent.

SELF-INCRIMINATION

McLeod said he had been told by Kelly's attorney that the witness would invoke the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination. Kelly — and the three men on trial — have been charged with the federal offense of violating another person's civil rights in connection with the attack.

★ ★ ★

Kelly was not indicted by the state grand jury which brought first-degree murder charges against Elmer L. Cook, 42, manager of a novelty company, and brothers Namon O'Neal Hoggle, 31, an auto mechanic, and William Stanley Hoggle, 37, a salesman.

They are charged with fatally clubbing Reeb, a 38-year-old Unitarian minister, on the night of March 9 following a civil rights march here.

★ ★ ★

Defense attorney Joseph T. Pulcher, successful in blocking testimony by a purported eyewitness, said he was representing Kelly's interest at the trial.

SERVED BEER

The prosecution summoned to the stand Edgar W. Stripling, 48, a small, swarthy man, who said he served beer and swept the floor at the Silver Moon Cafe.

Two companions of Reeb have testified the attack occurred the night of March 9 outside the cafe.

McLeod said Stripling saw "part of the scuffle."

Stripling wore a black T-shirt. His right hand trembled as he sat in the marble-fronted witness box. He frowned at the judge. He had some difficulty speaking and told the judge he suffered from rheumatoid arthritis.

PRODUCED TESTIMONY

After Judge L. S. Moore questioned Stripling, the defense attorney asked that the witness be excused from the courtroom. He was. Then Pilcher produced testimony to show that Stripling was mentally incompetent.

Dr. Caldwell Debardeleben, a Selma physician, said medical records showed Stripling had a history of mental illness—schizophrenia. The doctor said it was his opinion that Stripling might not be able to distinguish between truth and fantasy.

★ ★ ★

After testimony, the judge ruled that Stripling was not competent to testify.

Prosecutor Virgis M. Ashworth, the deputy district attorney, protested when Pilcher questioned a Negro physician, Dr. W. B. Dinkins, about a call for an ambulance after Reeb was attacked.

★ ★ ★

Pilcher asked if the call was not made by Diane Bevel. "And Diane Bevel is the wife of James Bevel, who is one of Martin Luther King's right-hand lieutenants."

Slamming his hand on the table, Ashworth got to his feet.

"Now, your honor," he said, "that has got nothing to do with this case." His objection was sustained.

'Getting Action on Pollution'

Official Says Industry, Communities Yielding

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The man tabbed most likely to head up the government's new anti-pollution forces told the Interstate Conference on Water Pollution meeting in Dayton Wednesday that the recent Lake Erie hearings are beginning to get action.

Murray Stein, chief of the enforcement branch of the Division of Water Supply and Pollution Control, under the U.S. Public Health Service, said private industries and municipalities are giving in to recommendations outlined in a series of conferences held in Cleveland last August.

★ ★ ★

The Lake Erie hearings grew out of concern by conservationists that the Great Lakes are dying, victims of raw sewage dumped into them.

One recommendation was that no municipality should construct any more combination sewers — that is, sewers which are expected to carry both storm runoff and sanitary waste.

'DON'T WORK'

"They don't work," Stein said. "During a storm the volume of water through a combination sewer will overload a treatment plant, and raw sewage gets dumped into a lake or stream."

One of the major results of the Lake Erie hearings was the passing Oct. 2 of an amendment to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act which established a Federal Water Pollution Control Administration.

★ ★ ★

No one has been appointed to direct the administration as yet, but most of the conservationists at the Dayton conference, representing all 50 states, say Stein is the most likely choice.

They expect the appointment by Jan. 1.

City Police Say Arrest of Pair Clears 20 Cases

Pontiac police say the Nov. 23 arrests of two men in the midst of a drugstore holdup have cleared up at least 20 armed robberies and burglaries.

★ ★ ★

Apprehended by three patrolmen and arraigned one day later on a charge of armed robbery were Floyd Newburn, 24, of 256 Rockwell and Homer Gilder, 25, of 114 Wall.

★ ★ ★

Detective William Gracey said arrest of the two and subsequent investigation has resulted in official closing of armed robbery complaints dating back to last June.

Newburn and Gilder demanded examination when arraigned on the charge and are scheduled for examination Dec. 15.

20 Enrolled in Police Pistol Course

Businessmen Aiming at Armed Bandits

SHOOTIN' JUDGE — Justice Alice Gilbert of Bloomfield Township not only lends eye appeal to the gun classes, but is also a top student, according to Capt. Harry Nye. After her first lesson on the police pistol range, the judge placed five straight shots in the center two rings of the target.

Armed robbers — in a reversal of roles — have become the target of Pontiac area businessmen.

Some 20 merchants and professional people are currently enrolled in a police course in the handling of a pistol.

According to Pontiac Police Capt. Harry Nye, conducting the course, the students are doing "exceptionally well."

Included in the lessons are the loading, aiming and firing of live cartridges on the police pistol range.

* * *

The lessons will continue, Nye said, until those in the course attain "proficiency."

FIRST APPROACHES

Nye took over the course at the request of Chief William K. Hanger, who was first approached by businessmen expressing concern over armed robberies.

While the lessons are not aimed at vigilante combat of crime, Hanger and merchants feel capability in the handling of firearms may be a deterrent to attacks on unarmed citizens.

"We're not advocating that anybody resist an armed bandit," Hanger said, "but if a person decides to, we want to train them so they have a chance to come out on top."

* * *

Some of those in the course have been victimized by attacks, but look forward to pulling the trigger in an encounter with an armed assailant.

'INADEQUATE SENTENCES'

Most of the merchants feel jail sentences presently handed armed robbers are inadequate.

"These guys figure the most they'll get is nine months," said Bert J. Schmidt, owner of Bert's Market at 1022 Baldwin.

"A guy who comes in and sticks a gun in your stomach and takes your money doesn't belong on the street."

Delaware Nixes Bill to Curb Necking

DOVER, Del. (AP) — A bill designed to curb necking in the front seat of moving autos failed to pass the house Wednesday after one legislator, Rep. Paul E. Shockley, warned that passage would mean "members of this legislature are beginning to show their age."

The bill, which was three votes short of the 24 required for passage, would have prohibited the driver from putting his arm around any passenger while the car was moving.

One of the proponents, Rep. John P. Ferguson, said if a person is necking and driving at the same time, "they're not doing a good job of either."

Japan has a population density of about 681 persons per square mile. The estimated population this year is 97.3 million.

Stolen Art Work Found in Apartment in Rome

ROME (AP) — Italian police have recovered 15 ancient paintings and a 14th century bas-relief stolen in Rome seven months ago.

The paintings and the sculpture were taken at night last May 6 from the studio of an art restorer. They were found Wednesday night in an apartment.

Report Theft of Liquor, Cash

Oakland County sheriff's detectives are investigating the theft of an estimated $260 in liquor yesterday in a break-in at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall in Commerce Township.

Clayton Walter, head bartender for the hall at 321 Union Lake, said 65 fifths of whisky were taken as well as an undetermined amount of petty cash.

* * *

Deputies said entry to the basement bar was gained by smashing a kitchen window.

Walter told deputies a German shepherd watchdog kept chained in the basement had been unleashd and apparently did not bother the thief or thieves.

Airliner Is Damaged in Landing Mishap

YUMA, Ariz. (UPI) — A twin-engine Bonanza airliner was damaged, but none of the 14 passengers and three crew members was injured, when its landing gear collapsed last night while landing at the airport here.

A spokesman for Bonanza at Las Vegas, Nev., reported the F27 Dart's right turboprop and underside were damaged. The plane was bound for Los Angeles from Phoenix via Yuma.

Nine senior girls from three high schools will compete in the Waterford Township Jaycees' fourth annual Junior Miss Pageant at 7:30 Saturday night at Waterford Kettering High School.

The winner will receive a $50 bond and a trophy. More important, she will advance to the Michigan finals Jan. 27-28-29 in Pontiac. The runner-up will receive a $25 bond.

Last year's winner, Lynn Tarlton, will crown the new Junior Miss, according to Richard Womack, master of ceremonies.

The judges are Dr. Don O. Tatroe, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools; Mrs. Arthur Salley, wife of the board president of Community Activities, Inc. (CAI) and Mrs. Virginia Stark, a Pontiac State Bank branch manager.

This year's contestants include Cecelia Parker, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Parker, 2652 W. Walton; Gayanne Mansfield, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mansfield, 5186 Durnham, and Linda Kay Lewis, 18, daughter of Berkley Lewis, 4583 Forest.

Others include Suzanne Marie Hurteau, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Hurteau, 5966 Southward; Donna Lee Gould, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gould, 3342 Indainview; and Kathryn Dunn, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Dunn, 3025 Shawnee Lane.

Also entered are Genie Burns, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shufer Burns, 2056 Highfield; Andrea Kay Condon, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Condon, 2726 Winkleman; and Mikki Belisle, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Belisle, 3555 Percy King.

Misses Mansfield and Lewis attend Waterford Township High School, while Miss Parker is a student at Our Lady of the Lakes. The others are students at Waterford-Kettering.

Market Irregularly Higher

Aerospace Issues Moving Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Aerospace stocks were strong in an irregularly higher stock market early today. Trading was active.

General Dynamics leaped 3 points amid reports it would benefit from a revision in the Defense Department's bomber program. Boeiing, also a possible beneficiary, gained 2, and Martin-Marietta, also mentioned in the Washington reports, advanced more than a point.

Electronics moved higher as a group. Zenith added 1.

American Motors was weak, losing a fraction in active trading following news it plans to close its plants for three weeks because of a 17 per cent decline in sales. Other autos were unchanged to mixed.

GAIN OF TWO

IBM gained 2. Eastman Kodak and Polaroid were up a point or so.

Airlines and drugs were generally higher, but gains small. Rails were mixed. New York Central rose 1. Steels were narrowly mixed.

Commercial Solvents and Curtiss - Wright were delayed in opening.

Opening blocks included:

Sperry Rand, unchanged at 21 on 13,300 shares; American Motors, unchanged at 8 on 12,000; American Photocopy, up ¼ at 11⅞ on 15,000; and Madison Square Garden, up ⅛ at 3½ on 10,000.

Wednesday, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost .9 at 353.2.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.
