

HOCKEY HIDEAWAY — The quiet of the wooded area around Cranbrook School for Boys is broken by the sound of slapping sticks. Amid Bloomfield Hills' rolling countryside Tuesday, these youths spent the waning hours of 1963 on a secluded sheet of ice. Far from the roar of a crowd, the soft, smooth sound of steel flashing across ice and the crack of wood against a hard rubber puck are lost in the soft whine of wind filtering through the pines.

Mall to Host Auto Show

2nd Event Sponsored by Car Trade Group

Spring will make an early appearance at The Pontiac Mall tomorrow for the opening of the second annual auto show sponsored by the Pontiac Automotive Trade Association.

While it's snowy outside, visitors can see a bevy of 40 new cars, from roomy station wagons to sleek convertibles, and special exhibits in the heated indoor Mall concourse.

A special section in today's Pontiac Press is devoted to automobiles and the show.

The unique free exhibition is cosponsored by nine domestic car dealers of the trade association and The Mall Merchants Association.

Hours are 9 to 9 daily, except Sunday, until the show ends Jan. 11.

Credit Extra Police for Low Road Toll

Additional police on Oakland County roads was credited for the below normal accident rate over the New Year's holiday, marred only by one traffic death in Farmington Township, Tuesday night.

Undersheriff Donald Francis said eight extra deputies were assigned to handle the traffic increase that day.

"The decrease is not unusual for New Year's," said Francis. "Motorists in recent years have become aware through publicity they can expect tighter enforcement and could go to jail if convicted of drunken driving."

Gunman Fails in Try to Kill Ghana Chief

ACRRA, Ghana (UPI)—President Kwame Nkrumah escaped unharmed today when a gunman tried to assassinate him as he left his office.

The Ghana high commission in London reported that the attempt was made as Nkrumah walked toward his car from his official Flagstaff House residence.

The high commission said the assailant fired five shots at close range. All missed Nkrumah, but one of his bodyguards was wounded and died later in a hospital.

Police immediately seized and jailed the assassin.

It was the fourth attempt on Nkrumah's life in recent years. The last previous one was on Jan. 8, 1963, when a bomb was thrown into a crowd at the Accra sports stadium minutes after Nkrumah left a rally there.

A statement by the high commissioner's office this afternoon said the latest attempt happened while the president was walking toward his car.

One of the president's security officers was wounded and died later in the military hospital in Accra.

NEAR THING
"It was a near thing, a miraculous escape," Nkrumah told a party of ministers who were accompanying him on the visit at the time.

Pact Threat Spurs Talks on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British mediator Duncan Sandys made repeated calls on President Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus today in the wake of Makarios' announcement yesterday that he intends to call for abrogation of treaties linking Cyprus with Britain, Greece and Turkey.

In Athens, the Greek cabinet met on the continuing crisis in this island nation and asked for an extraordinary and immediate meeting of the Atlantic Alliance's council in Paris.

The feuding parties on Cyprus are Greek-speaking and Turkish-speaking Cypriots and both Greece and Turkey are members of the Atlantic Alliance, as is Britain.

In London, Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home summoned the British cabinet for an extraordinary session tomorrow just after he hears a report from Sandys on his return from Nicosia.

As the diplomatic maneuvering continued, a cease fire continued in Nicosia for the fourth day without renewed fighting.

Delivered in Midst of Talk About Peace; Contents Not Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev sent a personal message to President Johnson today in the midst of increasing talk on both sides of the East-West conflict about an easing of cold war tensions during the new year.

Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin met with Secretary of State Dean Rusk for 15 minutes, then told newsmen:

"I delivered a personal message from the chairman (Khrushchev) to the President."

He declined to discuss the contents, other than to indicate that the nature of the message would be made known shortly.

A report from London said the Soviet government was delivering notes in several western capitals dealing with the need for peaceful settlement of territorial disputes.

21 PAGES LONG
The London report said the peace notes were about 21 pages long. Dobrynin said the message he delivered to Rusk was about 20 pages long.

State Department sources said the Khrushchev message to Johnson apparently was the same document the Soviet leader was sending to other government heads.

The indication seemed to be that the Soviet move was intended as a major initiative.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Sir Alec Douglas-Home, who at the time was British foreign secretary, last fall gave Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko the Western view of how an East-West accommodation could best be fostered.

INVITED TO RESPOND
In their frank discussion, which covered many aspects of the world scene, they invited Gromyko to respond with the Soviet Union's ideas to how such an understanding could best be promoted.

The latest Soviet note looked as though it might be Moscow's answer.

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—A comprehensive housing program was to be discussed today by President Johnson and Robert C. Weaver, housing and home finance administrator.

Depending on weather conditions, Weaver was expected to be here by midday when he will confer with the President on what Johnson has been quoted as calling "a home-for-every-man" program.

The President was also quoted as saying, "I want to clean up the slums."

No other details of the program were available immediately, but Weaver was expected to talk with reporters after he had talked with Johnson.

Johnson plans a hard-driving business schedule at the ranch until he flies back to Washington next Sunday or Monday.

He has a Friday meeting set for Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz and Mrs. Esther Peterson, assistant secretary of labor.

Yesterday, it was revealed that the President is in favor of an unrelenting peace offensive in 1964.

A White House source reported that Johnson is determined to seek new breakthroughs on peace and does not think the United States can or should wait until after the November presidential balloting before pressing ahead in this area.

The source made available to newsmen yesterday a summary of what were described as Johnson's views on a broad range of topics. Some of the material was provided on condition it not be made public until today.

Among key attitudes attributed to Johnson were these:

Johnson expects Congress to pass a civil rights bill this year, as well as an $11-billion tax cut. He also would like to see passage of a program to provide medical insurance for the elderly.

Government officials will be expected to work hard and avoid the cocktail party circuit.

Johnson is pleased with the results of his economy-in-government drive and believes the stage is set for further savings in the budget that will go to Congress in January 1965. He believes fiscal prudence is, in the informant's words, "No longer a rich man's issue."

The President has profound respect for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and, as it was phrased, "he has found the myth of McNamara to be true." Johnson also is greatly impressed by Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

'FURTHER STEPS'
Earlier Wednesday Johnson told Soviet Premier Khrushchev in a message that the time for talking peace has passed and "1964 should be a year in which we take further steps toward that goal."

Area to Be Heated by Warming Trend

After dumping more than 3 inches of snow on Oakland County yesterday, the weatherman decided to ease up on the area.

Mostly cloudy with a warming trend tonight and tomorrow is today's forecast. Temperatures are expected to drop to 28 tonight and rise to a mild 38 tomorrow.

Partly cloudy and mild is the outlook for Saturday.

Twenty was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 37 by 2 p.m.

Stunned by Snow

Warm Skies to Relieve Dixie

By The Associated Press

Warmer weather was expected to provide some relief today from the ice and heavy snow that stunned the Deep South, where severe winters are rare.

Thirteen deaths were directly attributed to the storm, which swept across Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, the Carolinas, Tennessee and Virginia, then moved up the eastern seaboard New Year's Day.

Schools were closed in many sections and some colleges postponed registration for the new term.

Driving conditions remained hazardous in areas where refreezing left patches of ice on highways.

BROKEN POWER LINES

In several north and middle Georgia towns broken power lines left some communities without electricity and communications were disrupted.

About 300 persons were fed at an emergency kitchen set up in a school at Warner Robins in middle Georgia. High winds wrecked a fishing pier at Savannah Beach on the Georgia coast.

Huntsville, Ala., recorded one of the heaviest snowfalls in Dixie—16 inches. Eight inches at Birmingham, Ala., was the heaviest snowfall on records there dating back to 1895.

Snowmen appeared in the French Quarter of New Orleans, site of the Sugar Bowl football game, which had more than three inches of snow—again the most since 1895.

WARMING TREND

A warming trend over Louisiana and Mississippi left deep slush that was expected to turn to ice during the night.

In Tennessee, Nashville's 1-inch snowfall—deepest since 1929—resulted in closing of the city's airport until noon today. Lawrenceburg recorded 16 inches and Columbia had 15.

High winds and ice in South Carolina toppled a 300-foot tower of radio station WESC in Greenville. A 60-foot section atop a 90-foot tower for an educational television station was broken off near Greenville.

Storm's Edge Hits Southeast Part of State

By The Associated Press

The fringe of an East Coast snow storm blanketed southeastern Lower Michigan with three to four inches of snow New Year's Day, temporarily slowing traffic.

The storm struck as far west as Ann Arbor, but the rest of the state remained generally dry and cold.

Many drivers were caught in traffic jams caused when the snow clogged highways, State Police said.

Early today, very light and scattered snow flurries in the southeastern portion were the lingering sign of the storm.

However, freezing mists descended on areas of central and northern Lower Michigan early today.

New Press Teen-to-30's Diet Starts

MEMO FROM THE DESK OF LEE VIATHAN

(EDITOR'S NOTE—To help young adults who are battling overweight, nutrition expert Gaynor Maddox has prepared a six-part series which starts in today's Pontiac Press. Although the series is aimed at young people from the teens through the thirties, readers of all ages can profit from it.)

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Food & Nutrition Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Why do so many young men and women recently out of school begin to put on weight? The lament of one young man is typical. "Look, I eat the same amount I used to eat at college yet I am getting fat. How come?"

Dr. Ruth L. Huenemann, associate professor of public health nutrition at the University of California (Berkeley), explains:

"With any increase in age, people actually require fewer basal calories. Young people therefore begin to need fewer calories immediately after graduation."

"Second, once out of college and in business or the professions, few are as active as they used to be. But they continue to eat just as much — not necessarily more — than they did. The result is extra weight," Dr. Huenemann says.

LESS CALORIES

Less calorie-packed meals and more physical exercise within bounds of feasibility, is the solution to youthful overweight. "People need to make a distinction between being 'busy' and being active."

"All of us are busy, but we tend to be very inactive in our busyness. I think we should deliberately look for opportunities to be physically active even if only for short periods."

Dr. Huenemann cautions that it is not possible to make every one "an outdoor type." You may not have the time or skill for tennis, swimming, golf, etc. But there are many forms of exercise that can be fitted into your way of living.

"Walk the children to school instead of piling everyone into the car for a two- or three-block ride. Look for the stairway instead of the elevator when you are going up one floor."

STAND, NOT SIT

"Make yourself walk downstairs more often. Stand occasionally for a job instead of sitting. Walk the dog a little farther and sometimes give the both of you a workout by running. Place items most frequently used on a shelf or in a closet. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Michigan Road Toll Rises to 18 Over the Holiday

By The Associated Press—Michigan counted its 17th and 18th traffic victims of the New Year's holiday when two Clayton sisters died in the collision of their car and a truck near Blissfield Wednesday night. The toll of 18 was three less than the 21 persons who were killed in Michigan traffic during the comparable, 48-hour period at Christmas time.

The crash on U.S. 223 took the lives of Irene Reihle, 65, whom police said was driving, and her sister, Leane Pickford, 71. Officers said the driver of the semi-tractor trailer was not injured.

The accident was one of three that claimed two or more lives. Three persons died Tuesday night in a head-on crash near Cass City. And two persons were killed in a two-car collision near Plymouth New Year's Day.

ONE OF HIGHEST

Michigan's highway toll ranked as one of the highest in the nation.

Nine persons already have been killed in Michigan traffic accidents in 1964. The death count at this date last year was four.

The state closed 1963 with 1,858 persons killed on the highways, the fourth highest toll since accurate record-keeping was started in 1933.

It was the worst year for traffic fatalities since 2,016 were killed in 1955.

City Lauded for Holiday Road Record

Acting Police Chief William K. Hanger today lauded Pontiac motorists and police in making city streets safe during the holidays.

"I am proud of the fact that Pontiac has not had a traffic fatality since Oct. 18," said Hanger.

While the 1963 traffic death toll in Pontiac was five more than the eight recorded in 1962, Hanger said he believed that a real effort is being made to reduce accidents.

Though traffic figures were not immediately available, Hanger said the accident rate was a "little lighter than normal at this time of year."

NOT SERIOUS

"There have been no serious accidents recently," he added. "To continue with these deathless days, the police department must have the continued support and enthusiasm of the public."

Planners Eye Job Data Unit

To Ask U.S. Aid for OU Retraining Center

The Oakland County Planning Commission has proposed establishment of a "manpower information and analysis center" to improve job training and retraining programs for the unemployed.

The proposal, to be submitted to the federal government for financing, is expected to cost $341,000 for the first two years.

The money would be spent to gather information and staff the center.

UNIVERSITY LOCATION

The center would be installed in an existing building at the university — where an electronic computer is available.

The proposed center eventually would also serve Wayne and Macomb counties.

The center would have current data on the manpower available for training in a changing job market.

Training and retraining programs are assured financial support by the federal government.

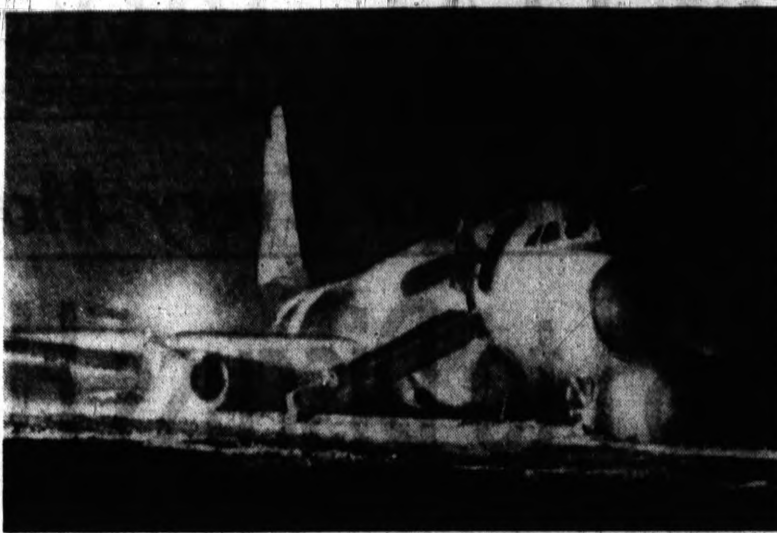

SEVERAL PROGRAMS

In Oakland County, the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESCC) has launched several of these programs on a small scale with hopes of expanding them.

Presently, the commission here and elsewhere in the tri-county Detroit metropolitan area is making only a slight dent in the unemployed labor force of about 150,000 persons.

The proposed center would provide information to help such programs, county planners said.

The proposal is being reviewed by the Detroit Regional Planning Commission before it is submitted to the federal government in Washington under the Area Redevelopment Act.

MORE TROOPERS

The British War Office announced that nearly 1,000 more British paratroopers will be flown to Cyprus within the next 24 hours. This is in addition to 600 troops airlifted to the island last night.

The London announcement said, "we have got to insure the safety" of British families and military installations on Cyprus "if there should be more trouble."

A spokesman said military technicians were on short alert to be flown to Nicosia to take over operation of public utilities if Cyprus' Communist-dominated trade unions create labor difficulties.

Charging Turkey with "aggressive actions" in the communal strife between Greek and Turkish Cypriots, Makarios announced last night he would seek to dissolve agreements under which Britain, Greece and Turkey guarantee Cyprus' sovereignty.

LBJ Eyes Housing

The two Soviet leaders had said in their personal message to Johnson that the old year saw "a significant improvement in the approach to the solutions of urgent international problems and in the development of Soviet-American relations."

And they voiced hope that 1964 "will be marked by further significant success."

SUMMARY OF VIEWS

Later the White House source made available the summary of Johnson's reported views including the following statements on peace and other major topics:

Peace: The President is determined to seek new breakthroughs on peace. He does not think the United States should or can drag its feet for a year until after election before pressing for peace or before pressing for the breakthroughs.

The President is confident that we as a nation are fully alert to Red tactics after 15 years of cold war, and thinks it would be muddleheaded if we fail to take these steps to seek peace because we are afraid of being taken in by Red tactics.

Military Plane Falls in Pacific

HONOLULU (AP) — The Air Force said a C124 military cargo plane went down in the Pacific today about 450 miles west of Honolulu and there were survivors among the eight aboard.

The big cargo plane, flying 2,300 miles from Wake to Hawaii, also carried the body of a Navy man.

The report climaxed a series of confusing ones: that the plane lost communications, then ran out of fuel and was assumed down; later that it was airborne and within 600 miles of Hawaii; then that it was within 70 miles of Midway Island which is 1,200 miles northwest of Hawaii.

Four aircraft were reported in the area and headed to the spot where the plane was reported down. They were being joined by two others sent out from Hickam Air Force Base near Honolulu.

Teamster Gets Another Delay

Local Official Seeks Embezzling Appeal

Floyd B. Harmon, secretary-treasurer of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, won another delay Tuesday in his fight against an embezzlement conviction, but this time it was a brief one.

Harmon and his attorneys were given until Jan. 29 to file papers in connection with his appeal of his conviction in federal court last May on 14 counts of embezzling union funds and making false entries.

The brief extension from the Jan. 3 deadline set earlier was granted by U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Clifford O'Sullivan.

REGULAR SESSIONS

Regular sessions of the appeal court are held in Cincinnati.

Harmon is barred from holding union office for five years after an embezzlement conviction by the Landrum-Griffin Act under which the charges were brought. But this does not take effect immediately if there is an appeal.

Chief Assistant U. S. Attorney William Merrill said in Detroit that Harmon has been granted several time extensions. He accused Harmon of "delaying tactics."

Harmon's attorneys had asked for an extension until May, stating they had lost nine volumes of trial transcript.

Community House Set for 2 Films of Adventure

BIRMINGHAM — A double-header program of adventure in the Ontario wilderness will be presented Wednesday and Thursday at the Community House.

Sponsored by the Birmingham Rotary Club, next week's program will feature Denny Haver.

One of Haver's two films, "Canoe Country," tells the story of a 400-mile fishing excursion which he made with his teenage son and an Ojibwa Indian guide.

In the companion film, "Ontario Safari," Haver will introduce his audience to the innermost recesses of Ontario, which are nevertheless within easy driving distance of this area. Haver has explored the province for 32 years, trapping with the Indians and documenting their handicrafts.

The program will begin at 8 each evening. Tickets are available at Grinnell's, Bates at Maple; the Community House, Bates at Townsend; or any Rotary Club member.

The deadline for students to register for the second semester of driver education classes is Jan. 10.

Students living in the Birmingham Public School District should apply at the offices of the counselors at Groves and Seaborn High Schools. The enrollment form which they will receive must be returned by the deadline.

The students, who must be at least 15 years old, need parental consent to take the course.

Selection of students for the program is based on age, the older students getting preference. Those chosen will be notified during the week of Jan. 13.

The counselors' offices are open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The program will begin Feb. 1 and continue through 20 Saturdays.

Official Quits to Fight Duel in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Defense Minister Leopoldo Suarez resigned today so he can fight a duel with Martin Cairo, ousted as secretary of the air force.

President Arturo Illia forced Cairo to quit Tuesday because he refused to accept economy measures recommended by Suarez and the president himself.

Suarez told reporters he had resigned so he could accept the challenge to a duel made by Cairo on New York's Day.

Seconds for Cairo and Suarez conferred on a possible quick meeting, but the duel may be delayed until a military court investigates charges of insubordination against Cairo.

Military sources said that as a matter of honor, no duel could take place until the military court finishes the investigation, requested by Illia.

However, Col. Manuel Ramirez, a second to Cairo, told reporters: "Under no circumstances is the duel to be called off. We are the injured party."

The scientist recommends daily calisthenics if you can't get exercise otherwise. Make it a daily habit, not just a now-and-then thing.

Sophisticated young moderns know that "good cooking" has a new meaning. "Good cooking today means wise use of herbs, seasonings and wine, etc., rather than quantities of butter, cream, sugar and other concentrated foods."

PLEASANT CUSTOM

"The very pleasant custom among young mothers of meeting with friends for coffee after the children are in school is another threat to desirable weight."

"That coffee always means 'with pastry.' Better stick to just coffee. Young husbands are notoriously allergic to over padded mates," she warns.

"Sociable young adults also seem to forget that alcohol contributes calories at the rate of seven per gram, as compared to four calories per gram for sugar, starch or protein and nine calories per gram for fat."

Dr. Heunemann warns young mothers against becoming the "family garbage pail," eating up everything the children leave. These little bits of leftover food might better go to waste than to mother's waist.

ONLY PART

The doctor concludes, "If you are not yet overweight, decide to choose only part of the things you want, not all. Decide between cocktails and sweets, between butter and gravy, bread and potatoes, mid-morning 'coffee snack' and dessert for dinner.

"Also between relaxing in a comfortable chair after a big dinner and taking a brisk mile walk."

"Whether you become a fat young man or woman only a few years out of college is largely a matter of choice. And the choice is yours."

Neighbors Share Family Hope

Boy Starts Recovery From Brain Damage

By WILLIAM S. STEVENS
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The parents of 3-year-old Johnny Ward are starting 1964 with hope.

The hope springs from Johnny's progress in recovering from the effects of encephalitis, a disease that damages brain cells. Sharing this hope with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ward of suburban Delmar are the Wards' neighbors, who have devoted their time to the rehabilitation project responsible for Johnny's progress.

Because of their efforts, the cheerful little boy's abilities have improved at three times the normal rate in two months, doctors say. His eyes focus now and to his mother's delight—he cries.

Johnny was stricken about two years ago. He did not learn many of a baby's normal reflex motions.

PROGRAM BEGUN

Under the direction of the Philadelphia (Pa.) Rehabilitation Clinic a program called "cross-patterning" was begun by which Johnny is helped to follow patterns of reflexive activity that would have been governed by the damaged brain section.

In two months, Johnny's men-

After the disease had been arrested, his mother said, Johnny showed little sign of pain, he could not pick up articles, his eyes did not focus, he made few sounds and seldom cried.

Now, Mrs. Ward said, he is active and forever trying to climb on things.

SHOULDN'T WALK

Johnny wears a special type of wooden platform skate that is designed to keep him from walking. Doctors think it is more beneficial for him to crawl.

He has to be forced to learn how to creep. His exercises consist primarily of manipulation of his arms, legs and head in a creeping or swimming motion.

Three persons are needed to help in doing the basic exercise. That's where the neighbors came in.

Object of Burglars

Delmar from Lancaster, Pa., last January, have two other children. Mrs. Ward is expecting a baby and Ward's work as a salesman takes him away from home much of the time.

EXPLAINS PROBLEM

Mrs. Ward invited the neighbors for coffee last July and explained the problem.

Four times a day, at 9 a.m., 1, 5, and 9 p.m., at least three neighbors drop in to help with Johnny's exercises.

Mrs. Edward Romanzo, who has four children, the youngest 8, said: "We got excited when he ate this first meal by himself. We just come in when we can."

Mrs. John L. Benedict, mother of three teen-agers, added: "We don't consider it very much to do. When we see him improving, it seems worth it."

Mrs. Ward admitted that she STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Security police are investigating an attempt to burglarize the safe of the lawyer defending Air Force Col. Stig Wennerstrom, charged with espionage for the Soviet Union.

The intruders reportedly entered the lawyer's office during the Christmas holidays and tried without success to open the safe, in which documents on the Wennerstrom case were kept.

Wennerstrom was arrested last summer, and police say he has admitted working for the Russians during World War II. He is being held at Stockholm police headquarters.

Viet Nam Assembly to Form Government

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A 59-member assembly convened in Saigon today to frame a new constitution and establish a form of government for South Viet Nam based on democratic principles.

Cuba Cane Harvest Top Army Priority

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio indicates the forthcoming sugar cane harvest has a higher priority on the Cuban army's time than today's Havana observance of Fidel Castro's fifth anniversary in power.

Rocky Has New Airplane

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has a new airplane that is geared to keep pace with his expanded political activity.

The assembly, called the Council of Notables, will have no legislative authority. But it is supposed to serve as an interim link between the Vietnamese people and the provisional government installed by the military leaders who overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem two months ago.

WIDE RANGE

Made up largely of leading opponents of the Diem regime, the council represents a wide range of political factions.

"I here state once more my unshakeable opposition to dictatorship of whatever kind and whatever origin," Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh told the delegates. Minh, who led the coup, is provisional chief of state.

Presiding at the opening session with Minh were Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho and Tran Dinh Nam, chairman of the new council. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and other members of the diplomatic corps were present.

Minh rejected both communism and neutralism for South Viet Nam, saying, "To tolerate neutralism is to pave the way for communism."

He called for the new constitution to provide a "clearcut separation of powers, an effective protection of individual liberties, and the promotion of a legal and constructive opposition."

But he warned: "We wish to avoid the evil current in nascent democracies, namely the confusion resulting from proliferating political parties."

Colorado has 13,022 miles of trout streams and 2,311 trout lakes.

County GOP Leaders Preparing for State Powwow

By JIM DYGERT

Republican party chiefs in Oakland County are preparing for their party's first big statewide campaign powwow of the new year next week in Lansing.

Led by County GOP Chairman Charles L. Lyle, they will comprise one of the largest delegations at a two-day conference, Jan. 10 and 11, to lay the groundwork for Republican campaigning 1964.

Called the 1964 Voter Identification Program (VIP) Leadership Training Seminar, the two-day meeting is designed to prime party workers for all-out effort in the 1964 national, state and county elections.

Encouraged by having Oakland County's George Romney in the governor's office after 14 years of Democratic party control, Republicans are starting early in their hope of electing more GOP candidates to state office.

FOR PRESIDENT

They want to put the state into the Republican column in the presidential race, too.

"It's a new type of kickoff session," said Lyle.

Romney will join U.S. Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, and Ray Humphreys, director of education and training for the GOP national committee, as guest speakers during the event.

Lyle said the majority of the county GOP's officers, state central committee members, six legislative district directors and 45 city and township directors will attend.

Also on hand will be precinct organization coordinators, education and training directors, publicity directors and leaders of Young Republican and Teen-Age Republican clubs — all the people who organize and direct GOP power.

It will be the first time that grass-roots workers have been asked to help prepare the groundwork for organizational and training phases of a campaign, according to state GOP Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr., who went with Romney from Oakland County to the state level in GOP prominence.

"It long has been thought by top party leaders that various levels of county and district leadership — both elective and appointive — should receive recognition at the state level," Elliott said.

"We hope, through this sharing and learning program during the organizational phase of the 1964 campaign, these leaders also will receive added encouragement, motivation and direction."

Cost-Cutting Report Due for Waterford Twp. Board

Waterford Township Board of Education members will learn tonight whether construction costs on three school projects can be reduced.

Opened three weeks ago, contractors' bids amounted to nearly 15 per cent over the budgeted figure of $990,000 for two new elementary schools and an addition to Cray Junior High School.

The architect for the construction projects was directed to explore the possibility of substituting various equipment and materials to bring the actual cost closer to the amount budgeted.

A report on the cost-trimming study is slated for tonight's meeting.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business bids on the proposed addition to Waterford Township High School will be opened at 8 p.m.

This addition as well as the other school projects are a part of the $6.25 building program in the school district over the next five years.

Also slated for board attention is a review of work completed to date on the Kettering High School running track.

The track is scheduled for completion in the spring.

Sukarno Handed Note From U. S. President

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones called on President Sukarno today and handed him a message from President Johnson.

The American diplomat, who returned here yesterday after consultations in Washington, declined to disclose the contents of the note. He said he would see Sukarno again later this week.

The number of schools in Cambodia has increased from 2,110 in 1950 to 3,820 at present. About 70 per cent of the population is now literate.

City Aide Learns Son Hurt in Asia

An early morning phone call yesterday took the edge off a happy new year for Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck.

That's when he learned his son, John F. Reineck Jr., 25, had been injured in combat in Viet Nam.

Reineck is a retired Army colonel and his son is a U.S. Army captain currently acting as an adviser to the South Viet Nam 5th Army Division.

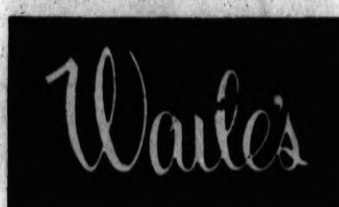

The younger Reineck's head was creased by a Red guerilla's bullet during a border skirmish in which Brig. Gen. Joseph Stilwell Jr. and former West Point football star Lt. William C. Carpenter were also injured.

SHAKY START

"He's going to be okay," said Reineck, "but it's a shaky way to start the new year."

Seven Americans were injured and one killed in the skirmishes Monday. Reineck's son is married and the father of four.

He has been in Viet Nam since Thanksgiving.

Refuse Piled at Curb Greets New Year 1964

Pontiac greeted our New Year with the dreariest assortment of garbage cans, refuse and discarded dregs of all time.

It was a lulu.

We officially hailed the entrance of 1964 with the most unkempt and disorderly civic appearance of any New Years in history. Local citizens faithfully put their refuse at the curb as they've been commanded to do and there it sat right through the Holiday for the home folks and visitors alike to look upon in all its sorry disgrace.

Constantly changing pick-up schedules are more than any normally busy citizen can be expected to follow. In a way it was fortunate that the day was a school holiday. Otherwise the city's j.d.s would have strewn it hither and yon as they've already done repeatedly under the "new system."

Putting garbage at the curb is appreciably worse than just ordinary refuse, for the mess it makes when it's kicked about is something to behold.

Does economy supercede sanitation, a friendly civic appearance and just plain neatness?

Christmas Sentiment Now a 'Big Business'

Conversation can often be expensive, in one way or another. Probably the two words that run into the most money are "I do."

But with no reflection on the spirit of Christmas and kindred sentiments, "Merry Christmas" surely has a firm grip on second place in the most costly word-pair category.

It is estimated by the Greeting Card Association that a record 3.25 billion Christmas cards were mailed this year — up a billion in the last six years. The dollar volume last year was $616 million. Prior to World War II it ran around $80 million. And, in case you're wondering, there were some 50,000 designs to choose from this year.

There is, however, another pair of words known to all but not in as general use as could be, that can be given life without cost of any kind. They are "Thank you."

U.S. Depression-Proof Hint Fiscal Experts

Although they're not saying it aloud, many leading economists and business leaders see the U.S. Economy moving into a spreading prosperity that would virtually lick inflation and depressions.

Their reluctance to air such provocative views is because they run counter to the accepted ebb-and-flow concept of the economic establishment. Business analysts of a generation ago still cringe at the recollection of similar roseate expressions made just prior to the economic debacle of 1929.

However, say these experts, much broader fiscal knowledge among the business fraternity and complementary Federal controls and enlightened administration make this economic utopia far more than a dream.

Big business details several factors that tend to even out the ups and downs of business cycles, of which there have been four since end of World War II.

Through computer control on inventories an old industrial bugaboo has been eliminated: a fast production climb followed by a sharp fall when it turned out that too much was produced. Until recently, it was hardly possible to change a production schedule short of a month, once it had been set. Now daily changes are common.

Moreover, business planners were wont to pull in their horns when first signs of a dark cloud appeared on the horizon, thus accentuating business dips. Under today's procedure, production plans for five to 10 years ahead are made—and stuck to regardless of temporary slackening in demand.

The Government, for its part, has enacted measures conducive to economic stability. It supports a sizable amount of home mortgage indebtedness through the Federal Housing Administration. It has insured primary bank deposits against loss. It has control regulations to curb stock market excesses.

And of no little significance is the attitude of the third element in the depression equation — the public. Interpreting it, the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan reports: "Most of the people feel no depression is in the cards. They feel the Government can control things to prevent one."

U.S. to Stress Latin Self-Help

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is expected to put a strong new emphasis on Latin-American self-help under the new approach to the Alliance for Progress being developed by the Johnson administration.

Assistant Secretary of State Thomas C. Mann, President Johnson's hand-picked Latin-American policy boss, is reported planning to do everything possible to encourage tax and land reforms in the Latin-American countries and the creation of stable political and economic conditions necessary to promote an inflow of private capital.

Mann is to be sworn in to his new job tomorrow. He was most recently ambassador to Mexico and is a career Foreign Service officer.

Along with the position of assistant secretary in charge of Latin American affairs he has also been designated as a special assistant to Johnson, an assignment which gives him increased authority in dealing with problems involving agencies outside the State Department.

NO CHANGES

It is understood that Mann does not foresee any basic changes in U.S. Latin American policy with respect either to the alliance or Cuba.

The basic strategy of trying to isolate Cuba economically and politically from the non-Communist world will be continued.

Economic, social and political reforms have been major goals of the Alliance for Progress aid program since it was launched by the Kennedy administration almost three years ago.

The alliance was set up as a 10-year program with the United States to contribute $10 billion over that period to the development of Latin American countries.

EMPHASIS ON WORK

Under Mann's direction, the alliance program is expected to place less emphasis on the time goal and more emphasis on the work that has to be done from day to day in Latin America to achieve results over the long future.

A special committee of government officials now reviewing the whole U.S. foreign aid program probably will recommend that the alliance be separated from the rest of the aid operation and put completely under Mann's supervision in the State Department.

The committee is due to make its recommendations to the President by Jan. 15. Mann is also planning to start within the next few weeks a country-by-country survey of Alliance for Progress programs — projects, expenditures and expected results — in all the Latin-American countries where the alliance operates.

David Lawrence Says:

Congress Unhappy With LBJ

WASHINGTON—Congress has come and gone—but in an unhappy mood. Resentment is privately expressed by a number of the members.

They do not see any reason why they should have been called back here under presidential pressure after they had gone to their districts for the Christmas recess.

The calling back of Congress is, of course, a two-sided controversy. Actually, LAWRENCE from a legislative standpoint, immediate action on the foreign aid bill was not necessary.

President Johnson, however, was repeatedly told by his advisers it would make an unfortunate impression abroad if he did not come out on top in a showdown with Congress at this time. It was supposed to be vital to his prestige and influence in world affairs.

Weighing, therefore, the inconvenience involved in disrupting the family plans of members of Congress as against the desirability of presenting a favorable image in Europe, the administration chose to pressure Congress to put through the measure before adjourning.

The friction over the amendment to the foreign aid bill which would put certain restrictions on lending to Communist countries is an example of the kind of cleavage that may occur again and again.

Congress likes to manifest its independence. Many members feel, moreover, that in the coming political campaign the sale of wheat to Russia will be an important issue.

MORE CRITICISM

If the administration, under the discretionary powers just voted to it, does go through with its plan to help finance the transaction with government credit, there will be more criticism heard.

Up to now, the foreign aid bill has been the only really controversial question in which President Johnson has become involved.

The issue of fiscal economy has yet to crystallize. All the talk has been in more or less unintelligible language as far as the public is concerned. For there is a difference between the amount authorized to be spent and the actual appropriation of public funds.

The President has wisely talked a good deal about economy and the importance of holding down expenses, but the opinion of competent observers is that the amount of the budget will be around the $100-billion mark just the same.

IN THEORY

Every administration does a lot of budget-cutting in theory. This usually happens when the treasury estimates have been submitted to the President and before they are formally sent to Congress.

Congress itself, however, has to do the actual cutting job. There are signs that economy will be a major issue this year and that Congress will attack the budget on many items.

Congress has been represented as at odds with the Kennedy administration on many issues, and lately the impression has been given that President Johnson, because of his experience in the legislative body, will get along better with Congress than did his predecessor.

But this view is questioned by those who believe Congress is reflecting a discontent prevalent throughout the country, not only over high taxes but over excessive expenditures by the federal government.

Bob Considine Says:

Papal Holy Land Tour Through Trouble Spots

NEW YORK — It would have been impossible for Pope Paul VI to have chosen a more trouble-ridden place to visit than the area wherein the world's three great religions took root.

Whatever the outcome of his pontificate, no historian is likely to speak of Giovanni B. Montini as timid.

At Christmas Midnight Mass in the Sistine Chapel, the CONSIDINE Pontiff deplored "walls that separate people." It was generally interpreted as bearing on the Berlin wall.

But there is another and tougher wall in his immediate future, the wall in Jerusalem, and its barbed wire and gun-bristling extensions up and down the borders that separate Jew from Arab.

The Pope's unprecedented pilgrimage takes him to the Land called Holy. But in truth it is a land where some of the unhottest frictions abound, and have for centuries.

There is, of course, the basic wrangle of Hebrew and Mohammedan. Beyond that, Jerusalem, the City of David which he made one and hoped to keep one, is broken in four sections, Jewish, Jordanian, Latin Christian and Armenian Christian.

Then there are the bewildering and truculent divisions within divisions.

At the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, built by the Crusaders even as they wantonly put to death large portions of the Moslem defenders of the city, the Pope will see his "separated brethren" in piously hard-nosed action.

TRADITIONAL RIGHTS

Priests of the various Christian sects hold services there each day, but never together.

Each sect venerates and prays for two hours. Bells end each segment of adoration, and cue the next group in from the wings.

They don't even nod as they pass—one going toward, one coming away from, the worship of the same Christ.

When and if Paul VI kneels with Patriarch Athenagoras I at the side of the narrow six-foot tomb of Christ it will represent the first such rapport between the Latin and Eastern Orthodox churches since 1054, but by no means the end of the ancient schism.

Coffee Causes Fantastic Foul-Up

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The most fantastic foul-up in the whole, incredible session of Congress that has just concluded came in a little-noticed Senate failure to ratify the International Coffee Agreement.

The White House and State Department were involved, too, in a classic failure of bureaucracy to get its signals straight.

Fifteen months ago, 32 countries with 95 per cent of the production signed a United Nations coffee pact with 22 countries that consume nearly 95 per cent of all coffee produced.

The idea was to stabilize the world coffee market by bringing overproduction down to consumption levels.

A provisional International Coffee Organization — ICO — was set up in London last spring. It was to come into full operating force in 1964 after ratification of the agreement before Dec. 31, 1963, by countries doing 50 per cent of the world coffee trade.

Since the United States is the world's largest coffee consumer, ratification by this country was essential. A Senate hearing was scheduled last February, but had to be postponed when it got snarled up with a Senate filibuster.

On June 1, Secretary of State Dean Rusk sent Congress a request for legislation to carry out U.S. obligations under the cof-

Local Resident Commends Teen-Agers

There is much unfavorable comment on teen-age drivers and clubs. Please let me enter my vote in favor of them.

Still confused, Byrd called up President Johnson and asked him what he wanted. He got back the answer, "Leave this coffee legislation till you get through with the tax bill." So that's the way it will be.

Sen. Thurston Morton, R-Ky., put all this in the Congressional Record to clear Chairman Byrd of charges that he had deliberately delayed action on ratification.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., Foreign Relations Committee chairman, followed this up with, "I do not believe the State Department was at fault. There are some new people in the White House."

What they're going to try to do is let the State Department deposit the ratification with the International Coffee Organization, even though it hasn't been ratified. The State Department will then promise not to do anything — not to take any action under the agreement till it is ratified.

Since Dutton had neglected to put this explanation in his second letter, the next day he sent Byrd a third letter. Here he explained that, "Hearings on this measure are sought only after completion of the tax bill."

This was all right as far as it went. But it didn't specify just when the State Department did want the treaty ratified.

So, at Byrd's insistence,

New Justice Is Sworn In, Returns Favor

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Justice Paul Adams, newest member of the State Supreme Court, marked the first day of his office with a double swearing-in ceremony.

Adams and his former law partner, James Fenlon, administered oaths of judiciary offices to each other Wednesday. The two were celebrating the anniversary of the first day of their partnership which began Jan. 1, 1939.

Fenlon first swore in Adams as a justice of the supreme court. Adams earlier was sworn in formally by Justice Theodore Souris to satisfy statutory requirements. Adams replaces Chief Justice Leland Carr, who retired New Year's Day.

MUNICIPAL JUDGE

Then, Adams administered an oath of office to Fenlon, who began another term as a municipal judge in Sault Ste. Marie. The men had been law partners from 1939 to 1957.

The return of Adams to the Supreme Court was assured when he won election in April last year to fill the vacancy left by Carr.

New Look Is Baggy

Part of the new "student look" for college girls in Italy and France this year are pantaloons and knickerbockers, that even Charlie Chaplin would have found much too baggy, worn with knee-length socks. The checked velvet pantaloons are topped with turtle-necked jersey sweaters.

Pontiac Planners Set Brief Agenda

The Pontiac Planning Commission faces a brief agenda for its January meeting tonight at 8 in the City Commission meeting chamber at City Hall.

Planners are holding their first meeting of 1964 a day late due to the New Year holiday. They normally meet the first Wednesday each month.

Tonight, they will hear a request from the State Highway Department to vacate portions of Milbourne and Mill, north of the perimeter road right-of-way and a request from city engineers to widen Asterwood.

Also under discussion will be possible changes in zoning regulations regarding buffer strips.

Plush Club for Science

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China reported today it has opened a plush club for its scientists that includes an electronic brain capable of playing chess with members.

The New China News Agency said the club is called "The Peking Hall of Science," and that it provides "facilities for meetings and lectures and for scientists to get together to talk and relax."

In addition to the chess machine, the club has billiard and pingpong tables, television sets and pianos, the agency said.

New Year's Transit Strike Averted in New York City

NEW YORK (AP) — It was touch-and-go, but New Yorkers weathered another threatened strike against the city's subways and buses on New Year's Day.

The biennial New Year's Eve question, "Will they run or won't they?" wasn't answered until 9:32 a.m.—4½ hours after the original strike deadline. They ran.

It was the third time since 1957 that Michael J. Quill, president of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union, and Transit Authority negotiators pulled a cliff-hanger.

The settlement also brought an agreement between two political foes, Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The added cost of the new two-year contract, estimated at $38.6 million to $42 million, will be absorbed by the city. Rockefeller will support legislation to authorize the transfer of some city assets to the Transit Authority and speed up reimbursements for electricity, among other things.

The fare will remain at 15 cents, at least for a year, Rockefeller and Wagner said.

Quill dropped his chief demand, a 32-hour, four-day work week, in return for a pay boost for the 35,000 workers.

David L. Cole, chairman of the mayor's Transit Labor Board, said the employees will receive an 11-cent an hour raise in 1964, 8½ cents more on Jan. 1, 1965 and another 8½ cents on July 1, 1965. Fringe benefits to cost 7 cents an hour will be added Jan. 1, 1965, he said.

Average pay under the old contract was $2.83 an hour for a 40-hour, 5-day week.

Passing Driver Comes to Aid of Norway Baby

OSLO, Norway (AP)—A baby born New Year's Day in Oslo developed breathing trouble and an ambulance was called to take it to the city hospital incubator.

On its way to the hospital, the ambulance skidded on the ice and smashed into a wall. The baby's nurse and the ambulance driver suffered cuts.

A passing motorist drove the nurse, baby and driver to the city hospital. Officials said the baby was not hurt and its condition today was good.

Burglars Are Persevering

NEW YORK (AP) — On Dec. 23 burglars smashed the cellar door to Herbert Rein's drug store. He fixed it. They broke in again. He reinforced it.

They chopped a hole in a cinder-block wall. He rebuilt it. They chopped another hole next to the first. He fixed it. They chopped a third hole Wednesday.

Rein, asked to list what was taken, said he'd never been able to finish the inventory of losses, mostly drugs, watches and cosmetics.

"I'm not giving up," he said, "but I'd like to get more police protection."

Killer Uses Ax; Tries to Strangle Another

SMALLWOOD, N.Y. (AP)—The killer, ax in hand, waited in a closet.

He heard his victims return home late from New Year's Eve parties, waited for them to finish coffee and go to bed.

At dawn, he crept into a bedroom and chopped Joseph McAdams to death as he slept.

Next he went upstairs, where McAdams' daughter and a girl friend, Judith Meddough, 19, were sleeping in twin beds. He killed Miss Meddough with his ax and strangled Florence McAdams, 20, into unconsciousness leaving her for dead.

Then he called police.

PANIC CALL

State Police say that's the account they pieced together after an anonymous telephone call and then one from Miss McAdams, who told them in a panic-stricken voice that the killer was standing on the front lawn.

As police sped to the scene, they spotted a man on a road near the McAdams' house. They said he was Frank S. Scaramuzzo, 24, an Army private from nearby Monticello, N.Y. He was arrested and held on a charge of first-degree murder.

State Police Sgt. Leslie Vincent said Miss McAdams had broken her engagement to Scaramuzzo several months ago.

McAdams, 49, a clerk in the State Motor Vehicle Department, was also a part-time musician. He played at a hotel in Hurleyville, N.Y. on New Year's Eve. His ailing wife entered a hospital several days ago.

Junior Editors Quiz on ARCHAEOLOGY

QUESTION: How was the Rosetta Stone discovered and how was its secret solved?

ANSWER: For thousands of years, scholars puzzled over the strange picture writing of the ancient Egyptians, called "hieroglyphic." There was no clue to what these symbols meant.

Then Napoleon invaded Egypt, and in 1799 one of his officers came across something remarkable partly buried in mud near a place called Rosetta.

Across the top was an inscription in Egyptian hieroglyphic. Below this was another in Demotic, a popular ancient Egyptian language. Below this was still another inscription, in Greek.

The officer guessed that these might mean the same, and if so, the stone might be a clue to finding the meaning of hieroglyphic. He had the stone removed and put in the hands of experts.

Jean Francois Champollion, a French scholar, devoted himself to the study of the stone. He translated the Greek part and found places where names were introduced.

Then he found the same places in the hieroglyphic and so was able to learn the meaning of the pictures. He was an expert in modern Egyptian and found certain resemblances which gave him still more information.

But it was not until 1822 that the meaning of all the ancient symbols was completely understood.

Quick Change Artist

'Dip' Dies Penniless

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Louis Finkelstein — "Louie the Dip" to police officers throughout the country — is dead at 38. He died broke.

His body was found in an automobile Wednesday on Cleveland's East Side. Doctors said he died of a heart attack.

For 50 years, Finkelstein pursued his career. He slowed down about 10 years ago when arthritis stiffened his nimble fingers. In 1959, he applied for relief.

Police Inspector Michael J. Blackwell said Finkelstein must have "stolen thousands of dollars in his lifetime, but he died penniless."

120 ARRESTS
Finkelstein was arrested 120 times and served more than 10 years in prisons as the result of 20 sentences.

In 1933, he picked the pocket of the police chief of suburban Parma. Another time he dipped into the pocket of a bail bondsman, and once he stole the wallet of a reporter covering one of his trials.

The U.S. government tried to deport him to his native Odessa, but there was no deportation agreement with the Soviet Union at the time.

He escaped from the Cleveland workhouse once and officers found him at a revival meeting in New York State. Five wallets, including the sexton's, were in his pockets. He spent eight years in Sing Sing at Ossining, N.Y.

DOWNTOWN AND DRAYTON PLAINS

Hole in One Is Elusive

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — Cathy Weitland's tee shot went sailing down the fairway at Paducah Country Club then disappeared.

Unable to find the ball, she went back to the tee and slammed out another one, which she eventually putted into the cup.

It contained two balls instead of one.

The 11-year-old golfer had made a hole-in-one on the first shot without realizing it.

Baby Sitters Take Degrees

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — More than 100 girls in this area are now professional babysitters, after graduating from a two-month course sponsored by the Valley Center Jaycee Jaynes.

Speakers for the classes included fire department officials, physicians, teachers, Kansas Highway patrolmen and mothers' panels.

The program covered emergencies, safety, control and entertainment of children, and a final test was given.

Upon graduation the girls received billfold identification cards and their names and telephone numbers are listed in a directory for distribution in this area.

Patrons Take Flight While Saucers Fly

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Police, answering a call to a restaurant, were told that two women began throwing water on each other, and that their escorts then got into a fist fight.

Dishes sailed through the air, a man at the counter got hit in the head with a plate, and another was whacked with a sugar bowl, the report went on.

During the commotion, the two couples who started the whole thing walked out without paying, employees said.

Thief Gulls Gall Angler

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — A seagull flew off with the keys to an angler's car while he was fishing near Cape Recife lighthouse here.

The fisherman, a city councillor, Sandy McGillivray, left a key-case and some abalone bait on the beach. Then he waded to a rock to fish.

When he returned he found the seagulls had taken not only the bait but his key case as well.

Underground Piping to Eliminate Hose?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The next trend in home lawn care may be underground piping to eliminate the choice of holding a watering hose, dragging out a sprinkler or letting the grass die.

New rigid plastic pipe and fittings expressly designed for lawn sprinkling systems can be installed underground at costs that are within reason for most homeowners, according to Chemtron Corporation affiliate, Tube Turns Plastic Inc.

The Big Room in the Carlsbad Caverns, a national park in New Mexico, is at least 20 times as large as any other known cave room. The room is about three-fourths of a mile long and over 600 feet wide.

Jet-Age Innovations

Health Angles Aid Turkish Bath Trade

NEW YORK (UPI) — More and more harried executives are enjoying being beaten with suction cups, swatted with oak leaves, sprayed with ice-cold water and roasted in 160-degree heat.

They pay money for it.

Purveyor of these physical "joys" is the traditional Turkish bath — on the decline in recent years but showing signs lately of picking up steam with some adroit jet-age innovations.

Many tension-racked businessmen are learning they can shed worries, quiet jangling nerves and get clean as a whistle to boot by enjoying the penetrating ministrations of dry heat, wet heat, pine-scented steam or just plain steam — all mixed with ice-cold showers and dips in a frigid pool.

COSTS LITTLE

This "therapy" costs less than $4 at most baths.

For a little more, the tired executive can go whole hog and take the oak leaves and suction cup treatment or a plain massage.

Years ago, when inside plumbing was rare, thousands flocked to the Turkish baths — more to keep clean than for any therapeutic benefits.

But now the Turkish baths are stressing the health angle — "have your tensions and worries 'relaxed' away" — and the customers are knocking at the door once more.

300 A DAY

"We now get up to 300 patrons a day," said Fred Epstein, treasurer of New York's Luxor Baths, which bills itself as the biggest in the country.

"They're mostly businessmen who get tied up in knots with their executive problems and want to unwind."

"They come in as tense as violin strings. But the baths and treatments make new men of them; they leave as relaxed as facial tissue, their nerves quieted and worries washed away."

The first step is to sample the dry heat room, where the temperature is kept at a minimum 160 degrees.

COVER SEAT

You have to cover the seat with a sheet or towel lest you singe some anatomy. An attendant feeds you ice water and puts ice packs on your head.

Then a dip in the frigid pool. If you can stand that, you're ready for the next step — a visit to the sauna or Finnish room, which actually is the old Russian bath treatment cloaked with a more exciting "alias" to attract more people.

The sauna is wet heat, a lot of it, generated by lukewarm water poured over heated slabs and stones.

You can make it as hot as you like by climbing a grandstand-type bleacher — the top rung being the hottest.

FOR THE BRAVE

The oak leaf treatment awaits the courageous few who reach the summit.

At that elevated stage, where the temperature is reported to be at least 180 degrees, it is said that the only touch bearable to the skin is that of soap-coated oak leaves.

The special soap prevents burning. Attendants "flog" you with the leaves — and the sensation is invigorating.

The next step — Another frigid shower and dip in the pool.

PINE ROOM

Then the pine-scented steam room, which makes you feel like you are lost in a forest of Christmas trees.

Finally, the pounding of an iron-muscled masseur, who knows how to "revitalize" tired nerves.

For the more adventurous, there is the "bankas" treatment, glass suction cups pounded on the skin to stimulate circulation.

The full treatment makes the tired executive feel like a new man and strengthens him for the biggest ordeal ahead — going home to face all those domestic problems.

TRAIN DERAILS — Spectators survey the wreckage after 15 cars of a New York Central freight train plunged off an overpass into downtown Dunkirk, N.Y. Three automobiles were demolished and several buildings damaged.

A 73-year-old man was slightly injured when one of the cars hit his automobile. A total of 36 cars from the 9-car train were derailed.

Anyone Seen My House?

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) — "Where is my house?" wrote Ella Brown of Rochester, N.Y., to Police Chief Roy G. Williams, after her minister notified her that the house was missing.

Chief Williams didn't know, but City Manager Warren E. Knowles reported that it was demolished.

The house, he said, had been condemned Oct. 8, 1962 and two reminding notices had brought no reply.

Authorities in Otsego Probe Street Shooting

OTSEGO (AP) — A street shooting which hospitalized one person was under investigation here today.

Officers said tavern musician Wallace Borden was hospitalized at Kalamazoo after at least four shots were fired at his car from another vehicle in Otsego.

Near 51st Birthday

Beset Hoffa Calm, Confident on Future

DETROIT (UPI)—Burly Jimmy Hoffa, undisputed boss of an estimated 1.5 million Teamsters, approaches his 51st birthday next month beset on two sides by the federal government, but with a calm and confident eye towards the future.

Hoffa, the son of a "coal prospector," has come a long way from his humble Brazil, Ind., beginnings. His father died when he was 4, and when he was 10, his mother took her four young children to Detroit.

Hoffa finished the seventh grade and, like a lot of youngsters who had the misfortune to be around during the Depression, quit school and went to work.

At the tender age of 15, when kids nowadays are worrying about basketball games and junior proms and the latest dance fad, Hoffa was sweating on the loading docks of the Kroger Baking Co.

FIRST TASTE

Hoffa got his first taste of unionism when he was 17. He and a group of men received a charter from the Teamsters, and Hoffa became business agent of the new local which he has been running ever since.

A small man, 5-5, Hoffa has a kind of magic rapport with the truck drivers he bosses. It is easy to see why Hoffa can command the respect of his men. A fighter, his feats on the picket lines in the 1930s are often recalled with warmth among the men he served with.

And too, when Hoffa strides among his men, he more often than not can call them by their names. The man he followed in the job as president of the union, Dave Beck, was often described as "cold and aloof" by his own men.

Hoffa once recalled proudly that he was arrested 18 times in one day for trying to establish the right to picket. One of his favorite sayings is "You're not much of a friend if you drop a man because he's in trouble."

TROUBLE CAUSE

This philosophy has been the cause of some of Hoffa's trouble. Federal investigators have charged that his union has repeatedly been infiltrated by gangster elements. But Hoffa has steadfastly denied this.

He met his wife, Josephine, on a laundry picket line. They were married in 1934. They still live in the home they purchased in 1939.

Hoffa has never lost contact with the rank-and-file which put him where he is today. This factor alone, observers feel, accounts for the almost fanatical devotion he inspires among his men.

His recent brushes with the federal government include a charge of jury tampering in Chattanooga, which was transferred to Nashville, and a Chicago trial on charges of conspiracy to fraudulently obtain $20 million in loans from the union's pension fund.

REVOLT REPORTED

Hoffa is also reportedly plagued by a revolt within his union and from his own executive assistant, Harold Gibbons. But he scoffs at the talk of revolt and admits that he has "differences" with Gibbons but brushed them aside as nothing more than the usual ones which crop up in any union or business.

For the future, Hoffa said he plans to stay around as long as three conditions are in effect:

"As long as I have enough sense to understand the problems, I'm physically able and the members want me."

Just Ducky!
Hunters Fly
Into Flock

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—Two Crossett, Ark., hunters met their quarry sooner than expected yesterday when their light plane collided with a flock of ducks high over the Arkansas River near Stuttgart.

Jack Stell was piloting the plane when suddenly ducks crashed through its windshield into the passenger compartment, broke landing lights, crushed the propeller spinner, damaged the landing edges of the wings and tail and broke open an oil line.

Stell, a veteran pilot, skidded the plane sideways onto an ice-covered cotton field after the engine froze from lack of oil. Its nose wheel sheared off and the craft nosed over, but Stell and his party walked away from the plane.

The passengers were covered with blood and feathers, but on closer examination discovered one hunter had only a broken fingernail and another two minor scratches.

They didn't estimate their "kill."

The first governor of Indiana Territory was William Henry Harrison.

Ask Extradition for Suspect in Congo Killings

ROME (AP)—Italy has asked the French government to extradite former Congolese Col. Alphonse Pakassa in connection with the killing of 13 Italian airmen in the Congo, the Italian Ministry of Justice said today.

Pakassa has been held in Paris since Dec. 9 on a charge of carrying a false passport.

An Italian warrant charges him with homicide in the massacre of 13 Italians assigned to the U.N. Congo force in November, 1961.

Life imprisonment is the maximum punishment for the Italian charge against Pakassa.

Big Business

MIAMI (AP)—Mirror makers here as they're doing a booming business in two-way looking glasses.

A particularly popular use is in executive offices which overlook work areas.

"The employees may know the mirror is two-way," said glass company operator Albert Taylor.

"But they don't know whether the boss is looking or not. It's a psychological thing and usually keeps them busy."

Some libraries also use the mirrors to keep an eye on youngsters inclined to "do a little smooching" among the book stacks.

In less than 10 years the Keep Maryland Beautiful organization has reduced the annual cost of picking up litter from that state's highways from $200,000 to less than $75,000 a decrease of 63 per cent.

Toys Are Getting Too Realistic for Jittery Police

LOUISVILLE (AP)—If the Police Department seems jittery, there's a reason. Too many toys.

Two cruisers sped to St. Leonard Catholic Church recently after the Rev. Joseph Emrich spotted a tommy gun and a rifle lying under a tree. Both were toys.

An hour later in the same neighborhood, another call and another cruiser. The six-inch snake a housewife found on the kitchen table was a rubber imitation.

Teen-age girls in this country account for 27.6 per cent of the nation's total greeting card sales, a recent magazine survey shows.

Lived There 30 Years

Aged Sisters Fight for Shack

LONDON (UPI) — Two elderly sisters in nearby Hemel Hempstead fought today to stay in the unlighted, unheated chicken coop they have called home for 30 years.

"Nobody will take us from here," Miss Marcella Finnigan said defiantly as the winter wind whipped through gaping cracks in the shed's board walls.

"It would kill us to go into a stuffy home."

But local officials, who called conditions in the old hen house horrible, have applied for a removal order under national welfare laws. The sisters — Marcella, 85, and Ella, 78 — are expected to be in an old peoples' home within a week.

"A place like that shed, without the remotest kind of comfort, could not possibly be a home for anybody," local health officer Dr. R. S. Hynd said.

HAPPIEST PEOPLE

But Marcella, a native of Ireland, said she and her sister have been "the happiest people on earth" since the day 30 years ago when they took up squatters' rights on the shack.

Rags and brown paper only partially block holes in the walls. The sisters sleep in a double bed made of boxes nailed together. The mattresses and pillows are old burlap sacks stuffed with leaves.

A candle provides the only lighting. The floor is made of broken red bricks coated with mud. There is no sanitation, no water and no heater. When the wind blows, the chicken coop quakes and rocks.

A small vegetable garden provides part of the sisters' needs. Money for their frugal shopping comes out of a savings account.

REFUSE PENSIONS

The sisters said they lived in the shed out of choice. They have nearly $2,240 in savings and don't even draw their old age pensions.

The light of publicity shone on them today at an embarrassing time. Both sisters were in bed with colds — their first, they LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP) — A liquor store proprietor who gets more than his share of women's trade was asked how he does it.

"It's all very simple," he replied. "Whenever a new woman customer comes in, I demand proof that she is 18 years old."

Oh, my aching back

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink wisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation... with that restless uncomfortable feeling. If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain-relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys, tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes. So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable... with restless, sleepless nights... don't wait... try Doan's Pills... get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. For convenience, ask for the large size. Get Doan's Pills today!

Kissin' Commuters Get Encouragement

CLEVELAND (UPI) — One inducement to commuters to use Cleveland's rapid transit line to the suburb of Shaker Heights is the "kissing loop."

The kissing loop is a station protected from the weather into which wives can drive their husbands, give them goodbye kisses, and then return home with the family cars.

Donovan Gives Cuban Crucifix to NY College

NEW YORK (AP) — After James B. Donovan negotiated the release of 1,112 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners from Cuban jails, the mother of one of them gave him a century-old crucifix.

Yesterday Donovan, a New York City lawyer, gave the crucifix to St. Francis College of Brooklyn.

Donovan said the Cuban woman "told me it had been kept in the family chapel for more than a century."

"When the (Fidel) Castro government took over their home, the family took it with them and hid it in a basement."

Free Shoes on New Year's

DALLAS (AP) — Seven-year-old Brenda Reed wore her first pair of new shoes today.

She got them yesterday at the 19th annual West Dallas New Year's Day Shoe Party for underprivileged youngsters.

Like many of the 2,000 others who were fitted for free footwear, Brenda had worn hand-me-downs before.

Brother Bill Herrod, pastor of the Palacios Street Mission, sponsors the event for children certified to be needy by their school teachers.

Shoes came from manufacturers as far away as Chicago and San Francisco, and from the Variety Club of Dallas Foundation.

Economic Pinch

Castro in Serious Bind; Russia Tired

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In the dark hours before dawn of Jan. 1, 1959, the skies over Havana were clear and warm. UPI manager for Cuba Francis McCarthy returned to his home in suburban Miramar from a New Year's Eve party. He still wore his black tie and dinner NEWSOM jacket when the telephone rang. "Batista is packing," a voice said.

It was the first word that President Fulgencio Batista, his island cut in two by the rebel forces of Fidel Castro, was preparing to flee.

McCarthy, still in dinner jacket and black tie, left for his office, where he was to remain the next 13 days.

As the story flowed out of Havana on that first day, a pillaging mob moved on the Sevilla Hotel, location of the UPI office.

MOB MOVES
As the mob moved forward, McCarthy lined his office staff before the office plate glass windows on the ground floor.

"Scram, ya bums," he told the leaders. And, surprisingly enough, they did, although they wrecked all other of the 21 offices in the Sevilla arcade.

Three and a half months later, a victorious Castro visited the United States.

"We are not Communists," he said in a speech in Washington.

OBSVIOUS HYPOCRISY
The veil of hypocrisy covering the face of the Castro regime long since has been drawn aside.

The year 1963, fifth of the Castro government, did not go entirely as the United States had wished. But it was worse for Castro.

It began on a note of humiliation with the Russian withdrawal of their rockets and bombers, a move on which Nikita Khrushchev did not even bother to consult Castro.

And it closed on a further note of defeat when pro-Castro terrorists failed to prevent free elections in Venezuela, Castro's No. 1 target in his attempt to export his revolution throughout Latin America.

MORE BAD NEWS
Inbetween times, there was more bad news for the Cuban dictator.

Last June, he was forced to admit to the Cuban people that the sugar crop, backbone of the Cuban economy, would be the poorest since his advent to power.

He blamed the bad harvest on drought and "our inexperience, our deficiencies and our errors."

But the worst was yet to come.

HURRICANE DISASTER
With the Cuban trade debt to the Soviet Union already in excess of $100 million, Hurricane Flora hit in early October, destroying up to half of Cuba's sugar and coffee crops, seriously damaging the cotton, cocoa and rice crops.

And as the regime pressed "voluntary" rationing of food, jailed reluctant workers and further regimented the Cuban people, rebels against his regime fought him from the same hills that once sheltered him.

Cuban exiles struck in hit-run raids from the sea.

Castro squirmed under Khrushchev's rocket slight and his knowledge of his total dependence upon the Soviet Union for economic aid.

CLOSER TO CHINA
Politically, he moved closer to the Red Chinese and opened diplomatic relations with Albania, Russia's worst enemy among the satellites.

But as 1964 dawned, Castro still must face unpleasant realities.

His dependence upon the Soviet Union has increased rather than declined.

And there are signs that the Russians are tiring both of him and of their burden.

Robber Puts Cleaned-Out
Teen in Dryer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A frustrated robber stuffed a teenage youth into a coin-operated clothes dryer here Wednesday night.

James Baumgardner Jr., 17, spent more than 30 cramped minutes in the machine before another customer rescued him.

The youth said he was alone in the building, preparing to wash a load of clothes, when a man approached him from behind and demanded money.

Told the teen-ager was broke, the thug made him stoop over in front of an open dryer and shoved him in, shutting the glass door.

A startled housewife, Mary Hamons, freed Baumgardner. He was pale but apparently unhurt. "At least the man didn't drop a quarter in the machine," he said. "I would have fried alive."

Seek End
Controversy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Leaders of the Mummers, civil rights groups and the city seek today to resolve a controversy that threatened to flare into a demonstration before weather forced postponement until Saturday of the traditional New Year's Day parade up Broad Street.

Civil rights groups oppose use of blackface makeup by some marchers.

Despite the postponement, an informal group called the Second Streeters marched briefly Wednesday and many wore blackface. There were no incidents and the Second Streeters said they would march again Saturday.

Sadie T. M. Alexander, chairman of the city's Commission on Human Relations, asked for a series of meetings of officials of both sides to settle the dispute.

BANS BLACKFACE

Magistrate Elias Myers, the parade director, banned use of blackface makeup this year, but rescinded the order after some clubs protested.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Congress of Racial Equality then protested. The city said it would not award prizes to participants who wear blackface.

CORE and the Committee for Freedom Now threatened to physically block the parade unless blackface marchers are banned.

Yard Joins Search for Stolen Carving

LONDON (UPI)—Scotland Yard today joined the search for a $200,000 carving of the Madonna and Christ Child, stolen from an Italian church.

Interpol, the international police agency, sent a request to London asking Yard detectives to assist in recovering the masterpiece. It was reported that the carving might have been sent to England for illegal sale.

The piece is known as the Madonna Del Fiore.

Cigarettes Linked to Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City's commissioner of health, Dr. George James, reports that cigarette smoking was responsible for 70 per cent of the 2,238 lung cancer deaths among men in the city in 1963.

He said yesterday that the percentage figure is an estimate based on findings by the American Cancer Society on death rates from lung cancer in urban areas.

James said one seventh of all cancer deaths in the city were from lung cancer.

His report said there were 2,668 lung cancer deaths in the city last year — 2,238 men and 430 women. The smoking figures were not compiled on the women.

The American tobacco industry, which has financed extensive scientific research on the subject, contends that no connection between smoking and lung cancer has been proven.

No One Collects Free Funeral on New Year's Eve

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — The Burlington Free Press said none of the 17 merrymakers who registered in its novel holiday safety promotion earned a free funeral.

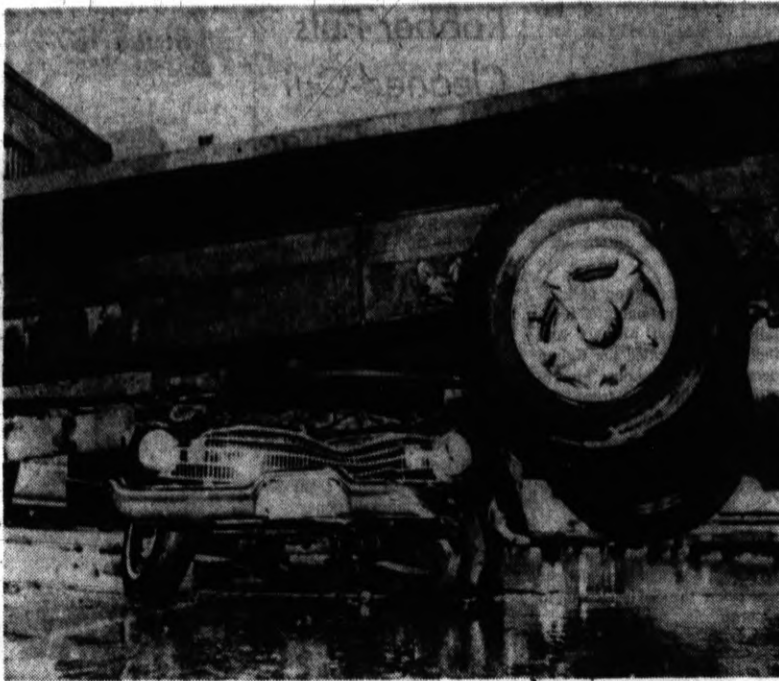

The Free Press had offered a free funeral to anyone who planned to drink and drive on New Year's Eve.

Of the 17 who registered, four persons, not identified by the Free Press, listed Woodville, Australia, addresses. This was the third year of the program for the newspaper, and it has yet to pay off.

Rex Harrison Actor of Year?

Oscar Race Is Into High Gear

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — The entries are in and the race is off—the 36th Oscar derby.

The Academy Awards won't be handed out until April 13, but Dec. 31 marked the end of the qualifying time and the campaigns are beginning to roll.

For best picture, there are two front runners and several dark horses. The contest for best actor is unusually strong, for best actress unusually weak. The races for acting support and direction seem lively affairs.

THOMAS

Best picture—At this point it appears to be an Anglo-American contest between the flamboyant "Tom Jones" and the dramatic "America, America." If bigness counts—and it sometimes does with academy voters—there will be chances for such epics as "Cleopatra," "The Great Escape," "The Cardinal" and "How the West Was Won."

Best actor—There are a number of memorable performances to choose from: Rex Harrison in "Cleopatra," Sidney Poitier in "Lilies of the Field," Paul Newman in "Hud," Albert Finney in "Tom Jones," Stathis Giallelis in "America, America," Steve McQueen in "Love With a Proper Stranger."

There is talk of giving Cary Grant ("Charade") his long deserved recognition—he has had only one nomination, no awards.

Best actress—Trollops, unwed mothers and neurotics lend sameness to the female star race. Among the leaders are Natalie Wood for "Love With a Proper Stranger," Leslie Caron for "The L-Shaped Room," Geraldine Page for "Toys in the Attic," Shirley MacLaine for "Irma La Douce," Susannah York may be cited for "Tom Jones."

CONTROVERSIAL CLEO

Also possible: Elizabeth Taylor's controversial "Cleopatra."

Best supporting actor — As usual, the field is rich with candidates. Past winner Hugh Griffith ("Ben-Hur") is the leader for his rollicking squire in "Tom Jones." Others being mentioned include: Melvyn Douglas "Hud"; Tom Bosley and Herschel Bernardi, "Love With a Proper Stranger"; Walter Brennan, "How the West Was Won"; Eddie Albert and Bobby Darin, "Capt. Newman, M.D."; Lee J. Cobb, "Come Blow Your Horn"; Edgar Buchanan, "Move Over, Darling"; John Huston, "The Cardinal."

Best supporting actress — Another interesting race with such possibilities as Margaret Rutherford and Maggie Smith, "The V.I.P.s"; Lilia Skala, "Lilies of the Field"; Linda Marsh, "America, America"; Janis Paige, "The Caretakers"; Patricia Neal, "Hud"; Thelma Ritter in anything.

Lad's 'Help' Injures Man

NEW YORK (AP)—Just trying to be helpful, a 12-year-old fire buff closed the overhead door of a firehouse as a hook and ladder truck was leaving Wednesday night.

The door landed on the windshield of the rear driver's seat, injuring tillerman Joseph Almon, 36. He was reported in fair condition at a hospital.

Firemen said the boy who tripped the lever closing the door often visits the firehouse. They called the incident an accident.

You Can Dig Your Grave While Shoveling the Snow

"Take it easy!" This is the advice from the Oakland County Medical Society to would-be snow shovelers.

Dr. Michael Kozonis, a medical society spokesman, offered health and safety tips for clearing sidewalks and driveways.

He suggested a gradual, even leisurely approach to snow removal.

Men of middle age and beyond, especially those who are overweight and lead otherwise sedentary lives, should allow time for frequent brief rest periods.

RISE EARLIER

He said this might even mean getting up 15 minutes earlier on the mornings after a fresh snow fall.

Dr. Kozonis warned that the frantic, hurried approach to snow shoveling is not good for health.

The most common result of overexertion from shoveling is a heart attack. The Pontiac doctor said this is especially true if a person is already prone to heart trouble.

"That extra exertion can hasten an attack," he cautioned.

NEVER CERTAIN

However, if your heart is sound, it likely won't be damaged. Nevertheless, unless you have had a recent checkup, you cannot be certain you aren't a candidate for heart trouble, said Dr. Kozonis.

Dr. Kozonis added that the lady of the house could be in better physical condition than her office-worker husband.

An hour or two daily pushing mop and broom keeps her in shape for snow shoveling, he said.

The medical society spokesman pointed out that snow shoveling can be good exercise, if a little common sense is used.

POWER TOOLS

Dr. Kozonis suggests an investment in a machine that blows or scrapes aside the snow with power from a small engine instead of muscle power.

Or the boy down the block will probably be available for a fee.

Study Clips 'Long-Hairs'

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Schoolboys with long hair are usually slovenly in their work, and their study habits are poor, concludes a Pretoria schoolmaster after research on long-haired boys and their behavior.

Results of the headmaster's study were published after parents complained that their sons' hair had been cut by members of the school staff.

The day after the haircutting, the headmaster checked on the scholastic achievement of eight of the boys and found that all had failed some examinations, and that three had failed five out of six subjects.

Commonwealths Are Official in United States

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Only four states, Kentucky, Virginia, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts use the term "commonwealth" on official documents and the like.

The expression dates back to Oliver Cromwell who created the Commonwealth of States or Colonies of Great Britain.

Virginia, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts were commonwealths of Great Britain before the Revolutionary War and incorporated the word into their names when they separated from the mother country.

Kentucky, once a part of Virginia, retained the term "commonwealth" when it became the 15th state in 1792.

Sweeps Floor for Her Sight

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A school principal was surprised to walk into a classroom and find a barefoot teacher carefully sweeping the floor while the pupils sat with feet pulled up on their seats.

The teacher explained she had lost one of her new contact lenses.

She discovered a short time later that it had just slipped to one side of her eye and the class returned to normal.

Laying Down on Job? Nope!

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Sam Bradley, food service supervisor for the Texas Department of Corrections, has won a victory over the 40,000 laying hens of the prison system.

Bradley, who must feed 45,000 inmates and employees daily, said that the hens were producing 700,000 dozen eggs annually — but the problem came because they did not produce eggs on a monthly rate.

In order to eliminate the $15,000 spent for eggs during winter months, he began freezing eggs.

Surplus eggs are sent to the Goree Unit, where women inmates separate whites from the yolks and then place them in aluminum containers for freezing.

In 1962, the prison preserved 1,000 cases of eggs this way.

Sugar and pineapple products account for about nine-tenths of the normal quota of exports from the Hawaiian Islands over the years.

Alabama Gets Hospital for Specializing in Eyes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (P)—The vision of a dedicated few eventually will save the vision of many.

"This hospital will have equipment to make possible the saving of many eyes that previously would have been lost," said Dr. Alston Callahan, president of Eye Foundation Inc.

The 55-bed Eye Foundation Hospital will accept its first patients soon.

It will be the first hospital in this region, one of less than 10 in the country, devoted entirely to treatment of the eye.

NEVER BEFORE USED

"The hospital will place tools never before used in Alabama in the hands of local ophthalmologists for use in repairing eyes damaged by injury or disease," Dr. Callahan said.

Some of the specialized equipment is yet to be purchased. Money for it will come from private donors.

Donors already have contributed $1 million toward the construction itself. Total cost, including equipment, will nudge $1.5 million.

The Eye Foundation will not only provide adequate bed space for eye patients, but will free beds for general patients in hospitals where eye cases were treated in the past.

OPERATING ROOMS

There will be two operating rooms; in emergencies, two operations can be carried out simultaneously in each.

New equipment used in eye treatment here for the first time includes a light coagulator, operation microscope and pleoptic aids.

The light coagulator focuses a thin, powerful light beam on the back of the eye. It is used in cases where the retina has become detached.

It causes tiny burns whose scar tissue reglues the retina to the eye wall.

gives surgeons a highly magnified view of tissue during operations, permitting exact placement of grafts.

Pleoptic equipment is used for training so-called "lazy eyes."

Eye Foundation Hospital was the idea of the late Dr. Roy Kracke, first dean of the University of Alabama Medical College.

Drs. Kracke and Callahan persuaded the late Robert I. Ingalls to make the initial gift 13 years ago. Ingalls' $25,000 purchased the land in the heart of what is now the Birmingham Medical Center.

75 ON STAFF

At least 75 persons will staff the facility. Two resident eye doctors will be on duty at all times. There will be a resident training program.

The two-story, poured concrete structure is designed with a fountain in the covered entrance way. A large mural, lighted at night, will adorn the entrance.

Adjustable louvers, on three sides of the second story, will adjust the light in rooms, and add a distinctive architectural touch.

Walls of patients' rooms will be covered with pastel fabric. Special tinted window glass cuts down the glare.

EAR PATIENTS

"We've been asked to add a wing for ear patients," Dr. Callahan said.

"That might be in the future. Meanwhile, if our facilities are available, the ear surgeons are welcome."

A charity clinic for outpatients is included in the overall plan.

Tom E. Bradford, chairman of the Eye Foundation finance committee, summed up the hospital's purpose:

"We will never have to say again: 'The child's sight could have been saved, if we only had the necessary equipment.'"

TWINS? — Yes, they're twins, alright, but born in different years. Mrs. James Gautier, wife of a Navy ensign, gave birth to the boys at Norfolk, Va., hospital. Bart (left) arrived at 12:02 a.m. yesterday — in 1964. Brother Bret arrived six minutes earlier — at 11:56 p.m. Dec. 31, in 1963.

The Police Got Official's Goat

HAYS, Kan. (P) — Police got his goat and it cost Hays City Commissioner Tom Boone $15 to get it back.

A goat belonging to Boone wandered into town and began chasing children.

Police picked up the animal and Boone was charged with permitting a goat to run at large.

He had to pay a $15 fine before police would return his goat.

Melons, Asparagus Are the Cat's Meow

Two rather unlikely items that some cats will virtually flip their whiskers for are cantaloupe, in season, and fresh or canned asparagus.

Many also like small servings of ordinary dried cereals along with their other food.

FINAL CONFERENCE — Carl Walton (left), who retired Tuesday as Waterford Township's building department supervisor, discusses township business with his successor, Richard Lawson. Lawson will begin his duties as head of the building department today.

New Building Chief in Waterford Twp.

Richard Lawson became supervisor of Waterford Township's building department today, replacing Carl Walton who retired Tuesday.

Lawson, 38, has served as Walton's assistant since joining the building department in December 1958. Prior to this, he worked for his father in the construction business.

A Waterford Township resident since 1941, Lawson is married and has two children. The family lives at 1220 Jay. Lawson supervised inspection of construction proceedings at the Pontiac Mall during development of the shopping center at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads.

JOINED IN 1958

Walton, 70, joined the building department in May 1956 as assistant to the department supervisor. He was named department head two years later.

Walton had been in the construction business for 34 years prior to his employment with the township.

He plans to take up building appraisal work after retirement as a self-employed agent serving clients throughout Oakland County.

Married with seven children, Walton lives at 2841 Edgefield, FILL VACANCY.

Frank L. Martin, 37, of 5779 Graves, will fill the vacancy in the building department created by Walton's retirement and Lawson's promotion.

Martin, selected from 14 candidates for the job, began his duties as a building inspector today.

Clarenceville Bond Vote Set

$750,000 Asked for Schools

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Just like clockwork, the Clarenceville Board of Education has scheduled another bond issue vote.

Property owners here will be asked to approve a $750,000 issue Jan. 7.

They have accepted similar debts every two years since 1952.

Only one issue, the largest, had to be taken to the voters twice. A request for $1.25 million was defeated by 11 votes in the spring of 1962. But that fall the district passed a $1.5-million issue.

COMMUNITY POOL

Part of the money being sought would be used for construction of a community swimming pool at the new Clarenceville High School.

The pool, to account for approximately 47 per cent of the issue, would be the fifth phase of a program initiated by a citizens' committee in 1955.

Another 43 per cent of the money would be marked for an addition to Edgewood Elementary School, 21225 St. Francis.

The addition would include eight classrooms, two kindergarten rooms and library facilities to be built by the school year 1965-66. Some renovation of the existing building also is possible.

EQUIPMENT, FEES

Equipment and bonding fees would account for the remaining 10 per cent of the issue.

The current tax levy of 30.85 mills would not be altered by the new issue, according to Supt. Louis E. Schmidt.

He noted that two bond issues have been retired within the last two years, six to eight years in advance. The rate, he said, would remain the same because of increased property evaluation in the district.

The levy now consists of 18.95 mills for operation and 12 for debt retirement.

DISTRICT NEEDS

"We probably have about 60 per cent of the capacity needed for the district when it becomes entirely built up," Schmidt said. "With the new issue, it would be about 70 per cent."

The high school is already equipped for the addition of a pool, Schmidt said. Locker facilities, heating and plumbing for the pool are complete.

Mother Killed in Auto Crash

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—One-year-old Andrew Antonucci was to leave William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, today after being treated for injuries he sustained in the Tuesday night auto accident which took the life of his mother.

Mrs. Joyce Antonucci, 37, of 21475 Duns Scotus, Southfield, was killed in a 7:30 p.m. accident at the corner of 12 Mile and Lincolnview.

The Antonucci car, driven by her 40-year-old husband Olympo, collided with one driven by Raymond J. Redilla, 16, of 29586 W. 12 Mile.

Farmington Township police said Antonucci's westbound car turned left in front of Redilla's, which was headed east on 12 Mile.

Both drivers were released from the hospital after being treated for minor injuries. No charges were filed.

Warren Grows Fastest

WARREN (AP)—For the fifth straight year, Warren retained its title as Michigan's fastest-growing city, Mayor William A. Shaw said Wednesday.

Rochester 'Y' Sets Winter Program

ROCHESTER—The Rochester YMCA announces its new winter schedule of events which will include skiing; team, member and family swimming; swimming lessons; dancing classes; and yoga.

Regular skiing and ski instruction at Mt. Holly will be held every Monday afternoon beginning next Monday.

Transportation will be furnished by the "Y" bus which will leave the Rochester "Y" at 4:30 p. m. and return at 9:30.

STILL ACCEPTED

Applications are still being accepted for the Ski Club. Skiing and rental fees are to be paid by the Saturday preceding each Monday afternoon lesson.

A special Wednesday all-day program is planned for adults only, and a family ski program is available Saturday mornings for families who have their own equipment.

Family swims and members' recreational swims without instruction are planned for Saturday afternoons at 12:45 at the Pontiac YMCA.

Instructional swimming classes for youth will be held there at 1:30 p. m. Saturdays.

MUST REGISTER

Members must register for the instructional swim classes.

A new series of dancing classes will begin Monday at the Rochester "Y". Instruction by the Dollye Dibley School of Dance, Utica, will be offered in "kinderballet," beginning and advanced ballet and tap dancing.

If sufficient interest is shown, ballroom dancing lessons for 10- to 15-year-olds will be given.

The dancing classes will be conducted Monday afternoons at the local "Y," 423 Helen.

STILL HELD

Both the boys' and girls' swimming teams have started their 1963-64 competitive season, but tryouts for the swim team are still being held at the Oakland University pool every Saturday morning at 8:30.

Any youngster who would like to try out for the teams must pass the swimming test at the Saturday morning practice session.

Hatha Yoga (yoga exercises and posture) classes will be offered at the Rochester "Y," beginning Monday.

The series of 10 weekly classes, taught by authorized instructors of the Self Realization Fellowship, Detroit's Yoga Center, are available to almost everyone between the ages of 6 and 65-plus.

Official Quits Romeo Post

ROMEO—The resignation of Mrs. Iva M. Ingersoll as librarian at the Romeo Public Library has been accepted by the library board, effective yesterday.

Mrs. Ingersoll has been with the local library since 1954. She will go into the hospital for surgery this month and then go to Wyoming to visit her son.

Mrs. John Dodge will serve as acting librarian until a permanent replacement is named.

AMBULANCE TO ADDISON—Glenn F. Doyle, manager of Ford Motor Co.'s proving grounds near Romeo, turns over the keys to an ambulance to Addison Township Supervisor Frank Webber. The vehicle, used at the proving grounds, was given to the township—for use by the volunteer fire department—at a recent luncheon at the testing facility. Other township officials attending included Township Clerk Robert A. McCallum and firemen Milward Strong and Raymond Bundy.

Utica Citizens' School Unit to Push Levy Door-to-Door

UTICA—Next week begins the "hard knocks" portion of the Citizens School Advisory Committee's campaign to sell a millage levy and bond issue here.

Committee members will start knocking on doors of residents throughout the school district, telling people why the schools need $7.5 million in bonds and the funds from a 4-mill levy.

"I feel pretty good about the Jan. 18 vote," commented James Bills today. Bills is chairman of citizens promoting the issues in the 3rd Precinct, which includes Burr, West Utica and Auburnshire schools.

The some 65 workers in his district will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in West Utica Elementary and then begin their door-to-door presentation of the schools' growth problems.

BECOMING AWARE

"It appears people are becoming aware of these problems this time," Bills said.

Workers in other precincts are also scheduled to begin their house-to-house canvass next week, Bills explained.

They'll be telling district residents that should the millage and bond issues be approved in the upcoming vote, the funds will be used for 70 additional elementary classrooms.

Three new 20-room elementary schools will be built, and a 10-room addition will be tacked on to Switzer school.

HIGH SCHOOL NEED

Committee members will also talk of the need for the new high school, with a capacity of 1,800 students, which would be constructed by funds from the bond proposal.

The four mills to be requested would be levied for five years. They will meet budgeted operational requirements for the next two years, according to Schools Supt. Fred V. Atkinson.

"After that we will have to re-evaluate millage requirements in the light of what happens after our present 5-mill levy expires," he says.

Regardless of the outcome of the election, some students will have to go on half-days next year, according to Atkinson.

'UNAVOIDABLE'

The superintendent said this is unavoidable because of the defeat of building proposals presented both in June and in August.

Atkinson stressed the need for voter approval of the two issues. "If we don't do something now, we may never be able to catch up," he said.

New Utica Sewage Plant Is Ready to Go to Work

UTICA—This city's new sewage disposal plant — which more than triples the services presently offered — will begin operations with the push of a button Monday.

After 10 months of construction on the $349,567 addition, it is now ready for use.

Mercier-Dawley Co., Dearborn, built the new facility with the aid of Utica's consulting engineers, Hubbell, Roth & Clark, Inc. of Birmingham.

Utica Mayor Fred H. Beck said today it will be ample to serve the 5,000 residents of this 1½-mile-square city, as well as additional area if needed.

WAS INADEQUATE

Sewage service was inadequate until now, he said. The mayor also pointed out that pollution of Clinton River will be greatly reduced by the new plant.

In November, 1962, a grant of $171,600 was approved by the federal government's Accelerated Public Works Agency, helping the city finance the cost of the structure.

The sale of $150,000 in revenue bonds was also used in part to pay for the new plant.

Located on the site of the old facility, at the foot of Nichols by the Clinton River, the new treatment works will be supervised by William Crites.

FORMER ENGINEER

Crites, 31, was an engineer at Sterling's sewage treatment plant since 1958. He was selected from a total of 12 applicants for the job.

James Hubbell, speaking for Utica's engineering consultants, said today the state's health department had "encouraged" Utica to build the new facility, due to pollution of Clinton River.

In addition to revenue bonds and the federal grant, the cost of the new plant was defrayed by money from Utica's existing water and sewer funds.

Our Tastes Change as Age Descends

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

When I was a boy on Chapel Street in Canandaigua, the people across the street had a cow—a white cow—and we took milk from them. When I could arrange business matters so as to attend the milking, the frau who did the milking would give me a dipperful to drink right there at cowside—absolutely fresh and warm.

All my life I have tried in vain to get a drink of milk like that. From a dipper at cowside, I mean. Milk in a glass is all right, indeed milk is health food par excellence, but especially so in a dipper at cowside.

Once we stopped along the road in the country and I moseyed over to where a man was milking. He regarded me with suspicion.

At first he shook his head when I asked for a dipperful. But finally he carried the milk into the barn and after several minutes came out with a dipperful.

It looked and tasted like skim milk and it was cooled at that. My friends waiting in the car explained that the man probably thought I was an inspector from the health department.

Another time I was a guest at luncheon at a metropolitan dairy where, the host had promised, they'd give me all the cowside milk I wanted. I ate little at luncheon, anticipating the big treat—but the head man finally asked an employee to bring me some milk immediately.

He was a long time bringing it, and I suspect he brought me milk that had been pasteurized. It wasn't even lukewarm.

I'm afraid people generally disapprove of drinking milk at cowside. I have given up the project.

2 INSTITUTIONS

When I began practice in Penn Yan, there were two notable institutions there, namely, a young dentist named Guile who drove a curved-dash, handle-steered runabout around the village frightening the farmers' horses so that they ran away, and a big mill where Birkett's Prize Buckwheat Flour was made.

I remember the farmers wanted to kill Dr. Guile for driving that contraption, and maybe they did. But I can't imagine what ever happened to Birkett's Prize Buckwheat Flour.

Maybe it was left standing somewhere in the back of the grocer's shelves while the flibbertigibbet latter-day cooks bought some doctored-up concoction, containing a dash of buckwheat and ready to pop in the oven.

I no longer even dream of meeting a cook who can make yeast-raised pure buckwheat pancakes.

PANCAKE HOUSE

Roberta, my very efficient secretary, lives not far from what purports to be one of a chain of pancake houses. The manager of the place knows she is my secretary and knows I am a pipe smoker. So every time Roberta visits the place, the manager gives her a handful of matchbooks for me.

"We can't have Dr. Brady running out of matches."

Generally I respond to such wheedling cheerfully enough, but so far I have not visited the pancake house. No doubt the place serves a bewildering variety of pancakes, but I'd rather remain in doubt about it than go there and find that pure yeast-raised buckwheat pancakes are not on the menu.

Of the wonderful things mother used to make, I am now positive about only two, namely lemon meringue pie and, in season, strawberry shortcake. The lemon pie was my special birthday treat. The shortcake was so good that the mere thought of putting whipped cream or other goo on it was revolting.

Now I sometimes wonder whether it isn't just as well that I have not been able to get either milk at cowside or pure yeast-raised buckwheat pancakes lately. What a feller likes when he's a boy may not taste the same when he's an old crock.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady. If a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright, 1964)

Nehru Sees More Socialization in India This Year

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said yesterday that increased socialization may be prescribed in the coming year for India's ailing economy.

In an exclusive interview with this correspondent, the 74-year-old leader said he had no intention of retiring in 1964, although "sometimes it's all I can do to get the work done."

Nehru said he intends to continue India's mixed private enterprise-nationalized economy, but the nationalized areas may be enlarged.

Indian banks, he said, would be taken over by the state "sometime." But the nation's biggest business, farming, will stay in private hands, although state trading will be developed.

BIGGEST PROBLEM

"Our most important problem is agricultural production," Nehru said. "We are up against intermediaries—middlemen. They must be kept in check so prices and other things can be checked."

"There is some state trading now. It will increase. There will be more cooperative organization of distribution."

Nehru said his ruling Congress party is expected to argue its definition of "socialism" when it holds its annual meeting Jan. 8. He said his personal definition left room for private ownership of some large enterprises, small businesses and farms.

"But big industries, and ways of serving them, like banks, they are likely to become public. Small industries, they will stay in the private sector."

PLANS TO CONTINUE

Asked whether he would stay in office through his 75th birthday in November, Nehru said "Definitely. I am continuing now. I suppose someday I'll retire but I've no plans for that now."

Nehru looked visibly older and more tired than he had in his last interview with United Press International, and his voice was weaker.

Nehru said he expects no radical changes in the situation on India's borders with Communist China in the near future—neither toward peace nor war.

A new attack is not expected because of the winter weather and the apparently peaceful line of recent Peking statements, he said.

NOT RULED OUT

He did not rule out an eventual settlement of the dispute. "They've been saying let's get together and discuss it," he said. "They're not saying they won't budge if we do."

He said he will not meet with the Chinese until they have accepted the compromise settlement proposals of the Colombo Conference of Neutral Nations.

"Most of the provisions have been accepted by both parties already," he said. "I'm surprised they've not accepted them."

The proposals call for a neutral zone policed by civilian officials along the border until a final settlement is reached.

Envoy to Argentina Eyed by Johnson

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson plans to nominate Edwin M. Martin, a veteran Foreign Service officer, as ambassador to Argentina.

Martin, 55, a native of Dayton, Ohio, will succeed Robert Mc-

Clintock, who, in turn, "is expected to be appointed to another important post in the near future," a White House announcement said Wednesday.

Martin had been assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs during the Kennedy administration. After Johnson became president he named Thomas C. Mann, then ambassador to Mexico, to succeed

Day Will Honor Negro

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed Jan. 6 as George Washington Carver Day in Michigan to honor the Negro born in slavery who became a noted scientist.

A record of 500,000 or more New Jersey residents will spend time on more than 100,000 pleasure boats during the year.

Smashup Kills Five in Texas

BURTON, Tex. (AP) — A collision two miles west of Burton, in Washington County, killed five persons shortly before midnight New Year's Day.

Highway patrolmen said a car occupied by three Brenham teen-agers attempted to pass in a no-passing zone and collided head-on with an oncoming car.

Dead in one car were Joseph W. Jackson, Jr., 33, and Joseph W. Jackson, 72, both of Lexington, Tex.

SECOND CAR Killed in the second car were Kenneth G. Wassermann, 17, Roger Ranbermann, 17, and David Lange, 16.

All were dead at the scene. The accident occurred on U.S. 290, about 60 miles west of Houston.

Mark End to African Federation

LIMBE, Nyasaland (UPI) — Thousands of Africans cheered, chanted and screamed yesterday as a coffin was burned at a rally to mark the end of the central African federation.

The federation, made up of Northern Rhodesia, Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland, ceased to exist at midnight Dec. 31.

Dr. Hastings Banda, Nyasaland premier, presided at the demonstration.

TRADE ACCORDS

Sir Roy Welensky of Southern Rhodesia was premier of the federation, of which the only remaining vestiges are trade accords between the three countries.

Southern Rhodesia and Northern Rhodesia are controlled by white minority governments and Nyasaland is controlled by Africans.

Cones of the sugar pine tree range from 12 to 18 inches in length.

Military Help Wanted for Indonesia Threat

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—The Malaysian government is reported considering an appeal to Britain, Australia and New Zealand for military personnel to help build up defenses on its Borneo border with Indonesia.

Informed sources said the proposed request was discussed Wednesday night in an emergency cabinet meeting. Mostly technical personnel are wanted, to improve such facilities as communication lines in the jungles of the Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah.

All three Commonwealth allies have pledged to defend Malaysia against Indonesian President Sukarno's campaign to smash the new federation. Britain already has sent several thousand troops to North Borneo.

The cabinet meeting was called to discuss the clash Sunday in Sabah, formerly British North Borneo, in which eight Malaysian soldiers and a civilian were killed and 19 troops and five civilians were injured. The attack 30 miles inside Malaysian territory was blamed on Indonesian army regulars.

PROLONG RULE

Indonesia, which claims the Malaysia federation is a device to prolong British colonial rule in Southeast Asia, has admitted to training anti-Malaysia rebels on Borneo. But it claims its troops are not involved in any active aggression.

"We have to fight back, and we have to fight back with doubled determination," said Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman after the cabinet meeting.

"I cannot say yet what will be our next step," he told reporters.

Denmark's national flag, adopted in A.D. 1812, is the oldest in the world. It consists of a large white cross on a red field.

Ends Moratorium

Rocky to Resume Campaign

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York resumes his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination Friday, ending a moratorium he imposed after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22.

Rockefeller flies to New Hampshire, where he has entered the state's presidential primary March 10. He speaks Friday night to a Young Republicans meeting at Portsmouth, and will visit Concord, the capital, Saturday.

Three other trips to New Hampshire are on Rockefeller's schedule this month. On Jan. 27, he'll fly to California for appearances in Marin County and Los Angeles. California's presidential primary is in June.

ANNOUNCED CANDIDATE Rockefeller is the only announced candidate for the nomination. However, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona says he'll announce Friday whether he will seek it.

Rockefeller and his wife received about 1,450 visitors at the annual open house at the executive mansion Wednesday.

The Rockefellers, who announced Tuesday that Mrs. Rockefeller is expecting a baby in June, stood more than two hours in the receiving line, greeting visitors who had lined up in snow and a mixture of sleet and freezing rain.

Mrs. Rockefeller laughed delightedly when 6-year-old Richard Sher of Albany told her: "Happy New Years and I hope you have a nice baby."

WIFE BEAMS

Mrs. Rockefeller, slim in a gray beige suit, beamed as her husband held 2-year-old Michael Labanowski, who had been carried through the line by his father, Sylvester Labanowski of Troy.

"It feels good to hold a baby," Rockefeller said.

The expected baby will be the fifth child for Mrs. Rockefeller. She has four by her first husband, Dr. James Murphy, whom she divorced last April. The oldest is 12 and the youngest 3. She and the governor were married last May 4.

Rockefeller and his first wife, Mary Todhunter Clark, were divorced in March 1962. They had five children, four of whom survive. All are married.

NO INTENTION

Rockefeller said Wednesday he had no intention of making a nationwide television and radio appearance to discuss his divorce and remarriage.

Replying to a reporter's question, he denied a Washington Post story that he would make such an appearance later this month. The newspaper quoted Rockefeller supporters as saying the governor felt he had "nothing to lose and everything to gain" by taking the matter directly to the people.

Less than two-thirds of the nation's potential voters cast ballots in the last presidential election.

Left Reds, Now Weds

TAIPEI (AP)—Li Kao Yu-tsung, one of two Chinese Communist Air Force pilots who defected to Nationalist China in 1961, was married New Year's Day in Tai-pei. His bride was Liang Shueying, 20.

The average age of classroom teachers in public schools is 41.5 years.

Cranberries Top Cheese Pie

Cranberries couldn't be more of a convenience food! No peeling, no pitting, no putting. When cooking them, they're easily kept in the food freezer, too.

Just freeze them in the same container in which you buy them — they need no processing of any kind. When you need them, rinse quickly in cold water and use without thawing.

By way of a quick briefing, cranberries combine beautifully with such other ingredients as citrus fruits, pears, apples, bananas, pineapple. The gay red color and tart-sweet tang contrasts pleasingly with the green color and buttery texture of avocado.

Cranberries are famous with all meats, especially ham and pork, and with poultry. (Centuries ago Indian women very cleverly mixed cranberries with venison to make sausage — like pemmican which the braves ate on the trail.)

Being a tart berry, they always need sweetening, but be careful not to overdue it. The end result should have that wonderfully refreshing flavor that makes cranberries such a distinctive fruit.

WITH VEGETABLES

Cranberries add appetizing color and flavor to sweet yellow vegetables such as winter squash, sweetpotatoes and carrots. Add a dash of sweet spices — cinnamon, allspice, cloves. Strange as it may seem, mixed pickling spice adds pleasing aroma.

When heating water for cranberry sauce, simmer 2 teaspoons pickling spice in it for about 5 minutes. Strain out spices and add sugar and cranberries to spiced water and cook as usual. Very delicately good.

Cranberries give fruity fragrance and flavor to all kinds of baked goods — cakes, pies, breads. If you've never used cranberries in baking, do try some of these recipes, just to show yourself the possibilities.

Fresh Cranberry Cream Cheese Pie

1/2 cup sugar
4 pkgs. (3 oz. each) cream cheese
3 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
9-inch graham cracker pie shell
Jellied whole fresh cranberries
Whipped cream, optional

Gradually blend sugar with cream cheese. Mix well with a spoon or an electric mixer. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add to cheese mixture. Stir in pure vanilla extract and lemon rind.

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft, stiff peaks. Fold into cheese mixture. Pour into a chilled 9-inch unbaked pie shell or a graham cracker crumb crust.

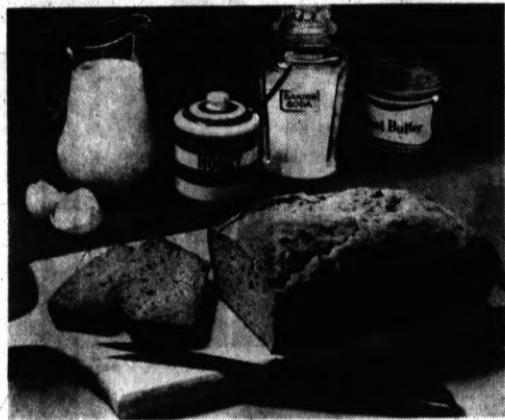

Bake in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees) 40 minutes or until filling is puffed in center. Remove from oven and cool.

Graham Cracker Crust

1 1/4 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup softened butter or margarine

Blend sugar with butter or margarine. Gradually blend in crumbs in turn into a buttered 9-inch pan. (Be sure this pan measures 9 inches in diameter across top.) Press uniformly over the bottom and sides of pie pan. Chill 2 hours. (Do not bake before adding the filling.) Yield: One 9-inch pie crust.

HONEY BUTTER LOAF — Delicate, but satisfying is this honey and peanut butter bread. It's fine served with plain butter toasted, or topped with jam. Remember that all quick breads slice better the second day.

Honey Keeps Quick Bread Moist

A sifting of dry ingredients plus a whirl of Honey, peanut butter, eggs and buttermilk, and a quick mixing of all together will give you a Honey Butter Bread worthy of fame and fortune.

This grand loaf has rich honey butter flavor, crunchy honey crisp crust, and a moist honey texture to keep it fresh as long as you can keep it around.

There is no better way to achieve a reputation as a fine hostess than to serve homemade baked breads with your meals. So make your motto, "Let them enjoy Bread." If it's a Honey Butter Loaf, it will be as good as cake any day.

Honey Butter Loaf
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup peanut butter
1/2 cup honey
1 egg
1 1/4 cups buttermilk

Sift together flour, baking soda, baking powder and salt. Beat peanut butter and honey together, beat in egg and buttermilk. Gradually stir into dry ingredients and mix well.

Turn into a 9x5-inch greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes. Serve with luncheon, use for making sandwiches for lunch boxes, or slice thin and serve with jam at teatime.

Put Cucumber in With Fruit

For an appetizer with a truly different and delightful taste, serve "Fruits Pakistani." It's a chilled melange of canned fruit cocktail, diced cucumber and lime juice dolloped with yogurt and sprinkled with nutmeg. The five fruits in a can of fruits cocktail always insure a wealth of appealing color and flavor in appetizers, fruit salads, meat sauces and desserts.

Fruits Pakistani

1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail
1/2 cup diced cucumber
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup lime or lemon juice
1 teaspoon sugar
Shredded lettuce
1/2 cup plain yogurt
Grated nutmeg

Drain fruit cocktail. In a bowl mix together fruit, cucumber, salt, lime juice and sugar. Chill. To serve, spoon fruit mixture into individual dishes lined with lettuce. Dollop with yogurt and sprinkle with nutmeg. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Never thaw frozen turkey at room temperature, warn U.S. Department of Agriculture home economists. Exposed surfaces, which thaw sooner than the rest of the bird, may develop harmful bacteria. Cook promptly after thawing.

Four Days Still Left for West Berliners to Visit East Zone

BERLIN (AP) — A new rush agreement allowing visits to relatives behind the wall, pushing past 600,000 the number of visitors to the Red sector since the visits began Dec. 19.

HEAD COUNT — Keeper Reg Hazzard fills in record during the annual New Year's Day stock taking at Whipsnade Zoo, in Bedfordshire, England, yesterday. As usual, the penguins dressed formally for the occasion.

The huge flow of West Berliners placed new pressure on Mayor Willy Brandt's West Berlin government to discuss an extension of the visiting arrangement with the Communist East German regime.

The agreement expires at midnight Sunday.

Brandt has said he will try to renew the agreement, which has given West Berliners their first chance to see relatives in East Berlin since the Communists built the wall in August 1961.

But he also is under opposite pressure from Allied and West German officials and West Berlin newspapers who regard any negotiations with the East German regime as recognition and fear such talks can only strengthen the Communist concept of a divided Germany and a neutralized West Berlin.

Brandt describes the past agreement as a purely technical, humanitarian arrangement without the implications of an international agreement between states. He views it as akin to the annual trade agreement between West German and East German governments, under which the two parts of Germany do more than $300-million worth of business.

HAPPY THROG

A gay and happy throng returned from East Berlin early New Year's Day after welcoming 1964 with a frenzy of song and drink.

As stragglers met the extended 5 a.m. deadline for returning on New Year's morn, new visitors lined up for visits during the day. Several thousand persons had passes for both days and were allowed to spend the night in East Berlin.

Some West Berliners collapsed under the combination of hard drinking, late hours and emotional tension of reunions. They had to be carried home by ambulance. However, no major disturbances were reported.

Movie Pioneer Dies

Idols Stolen From Temple

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Two Hindu idols have been stolen from a temple in Kashmir following the theft of a Moslem relic that caused rioting in Srinagar.

Life remained disturbed in Srinagar, the largest city of the Himalayan state that is disputed by India and Pakistan. Police searched for the relic, a brownish hair believed by Moslems to be from the prophet Mohammed.

The three-pound copper idols of the Hindu gods Rama and Krishna disappeared Tuesday night from a private temple at Jammu, winter capital of the Indian part of divided Kashmir.

Jammu's population is predominantly Hindu, while the people of Srinagar, the summer capital, are mostly Moslems.

No disturbances were reported from Jammu so far.

The disappearance of the prophet's hair last week touched off rioting in Srinagar in which at least two persons were killed and some property burned.

School Board to Draw Line on Janitor Pay

NEW YORK (AP)—The board of education, whose school custodians have made as much as $53,000 a year, says it will adopt new schedules at its meeting Wednesday to prevent excessive earnings.

The custodians' union has threatened to strike if it does.

Witnesses at a public hearing last month testified the average "net retained" by custodians, quasi-independent contractors, was $17,000 in the last fiscal year.

A basic annual income of $5,700 to $12,000 for a 40-hour week would be established by the new schedules.

Said Harry J. Mundt, president of the Local 891, International Union of Operating Engineers, which represents 820 of the school system's 850 custodians:

"This is a lousy, inept, vindictive, punitive administration."

CHEERS FAVORITE—Lynda Bird Johnson, 19-year-old daughter of the President, sits with an unidentified midshipman at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Tex., yesterday.

watching the game between Navy and the University of Texas. Lynda, a senior at the college is engaged to a Naval Academy graduate.

Johnson Girls See Texas Trounce Navy

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson's daughters, almost unnoticed in the crowd of 75,500 football fans, saw Texas defeat Navy 28 to 6 in the Cotton Bowl Wednesday.

Lynda Bird, 19, sophomore at the university, sat on the Navy side of the field near the 50-yard line. She and her escort, an unidentified midshipman, remained in their seats at half-time and munched hot dogs. Despite her Navy escort, she stood for Texas during the game.

Lucy Baines, 16, had a seat near midfield on the Texas side, but police said she and her party, which they identified only as Secret Service agents, were moved to a section on the same side of the stadium between the 10-yard line and the north goal. However, newsmen were not able to find her.

Photographers were discouraged from taking pictures of the girls. When cameramen edged near or turned long-range cameras on Lynda Bird Johnson, Secret Service agents scowled, and shook their heads, asking the photographers to move on. One Associated Press photographer succeeded in getting a close-up picture, however, of Miss Johnson and her escort.

STRICTEST MEASURES

Security measures for the visit of the Johnson girls were the strictest since the bowl was built 28 years ago.

A Dallas policeman, who asked not to be identified, said the big stadium had been guarded closely all week on the possibility that President Johnson might attend the game. He said three officers remained in the stadium all week and three police cars patrolled the area.

At least 35 detectives spent New Year's Eve in the Cotton Bowl, and "many, many more" were stationed throughout the stands during the game," he said.

He said the Police Department received word a bomb would be planted in the stadium and "it took 14 hours to determine there wasn't a bomb."

During the first half police asked all persons leaving the gates of the stadium on the side where Lynda Bird sat to sign their names in a register. This was not done on the side where police said Lucy Baines sat.

Three Are Hurt by Collapse of Building in East

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A three-story building collapsed with a roar Wednesday and flying debris injured three persons in a passing automobile.

Police said heavy snow and ice caused the roof of the building to collapse.

Injured were Ira Wellman, 66, of Jamestown, his wife, Helen, 41, and their son, Daniel, 8. Firemen and police used hacksaws and crowbars to pry open the automobile and free them.

Mrs. Wellman was in critical condition in Women's Christian Association Hospital. Father and son were reported in good condition.

S. Africa Bars Concert Tour

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—A tour of South Africa by the American Claremont String Quartet has been canceled because the South African government refused visas for the four musicians.

No reason for the refusal was given. All four musicians are white.

The quartet was to have performed in South Africa's main cities Jan. 22-30 as part of the U.S. State Department's cultural program.

Visits to six other African countries in January and February are going ahead as planned.

RACE POLICY

There was speculation that the visas had been refused because American cultural presentations are given before racially mixed audiences, which is contrary to the South African government's apartheid (race segregation) policy.

Similar programs by Americans have been presented previously to mixed South African audiences, and the visa refusal may indicate a general tightening of apartheid enforcement.

Hunter Kills Himself

JACKSON (AP)—Christopher Spring, 11, of Parma Township was fatally shot while hunting outside Jackson Wednesday. Police said he accidentally discharged a 12-gauge shotgun while crossing a fence and that the charge struck him in the heart. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Spring.

House Fire Kills Man

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—Stephen Williams, 69, died Wednesday in a fire at his two-story home. The body of Williams, who lived alone, was found in a second floor bedroom. Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

Bus-Train Wreck Kills 34 in Cairo

CAIRO (AP)—The death toll from a train-bus collision in Cairo's outskirts. Nine of the injured have died in the hospital. Thirty-five persons were killed last year when the same bus ran into a tree.

Social Security Facts

DETROIT (AP)—Social Security payments totaling $57,800,000 are going to 790,000 Michigan residents each month, reported Benjamin D. Woescher, social security administration district manager.

Negro Discontent Growing

Squalid Conditions Cause Harlem Rent Strikes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Doreatha Kirkwood came to the door of her rundown Harlem walk-out wearing a heavy winter coat and a wool hat. She wasn't on the way out — you need winter wraps to keep warm inside her fifth-floor apartment.

Only a few days a week is there any heat at all for the antique iron radiators, says Mrs. Kirkwood, a matronly middle-aged Negro who has lived in the building for 17 years and watched it deteriorate. She had to send her elderly mother to live with distant relatives in the South because she couldn't stand the cold — indoors.

For this reason, she and a growing number of Harlem's Negro tenement dwellers are resorting to a new economic weapon — the rent strike — to improve their squalid living conditions.

A few doors away, on Harlem's squalid 118th Street, Mrs. Mollie Cummings lives with her five children in five tiny rooms. The apartment leads off a dingy first-floor hall, and the door is so ill-fitting you can see right around it. The place looks like it hasn't seen any paint in decades and there is a gaping, three-foot hole in the ceiling over the kitchen sink where the plaster fell down.

SHRUGS IT OFF
"That happened three months ago," Mrs. Cummings said with a shrug.

On the far wall is a hole where the rats come in sometimes.

The dingy apartment is ill-heated — Mrs. Cummings wore a bulky sweater. She had a cold. A small child was huddled in a bed in the frame room, wrapped in faded blankets.

The incredible conditions under which Mrs. Kirkwood and Mrs. Cummings live is all too typical of thousands of Harlem residents, mostly Negro, who subsist in a murky wilderness of littered streets, tumble-down buildings, cold radiators, unworkable toilets, falling plaster and rats.

Conditions in Harlem have been deplorable for years. Maybe they're a little worse now — here and there. But today's

Rice to Get Quick Aging

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A process providing "instant aging" for rice has been invented by a U.S. Department of Agriculture scientist here.

Compared with six to ten months for natural aging it takes only a few hours.

The process is to seal it up for six hours at 200 degrees temperature.

most noticeable difference from past years, even the past few months, is the restive slum dwellers themselves.

COLLECTIVE ACTION

They are showing, on a small but growing scale, some inclination toward collective action to force landlords and the city to do something about the horrendous conditions in which they live.

In November, occupants of several substandard tenements refused to pay their rent until building deficiencies were corrected by their landlords. Little was done and most of the tenants are still holding back their rent.

Came Dec. 1 and more families joined the strike. Jesse Gray, head of the Community Council on Housing, which is vigorously promoting the strike, said tenants in 58 buildings — about 850 persons — refused to pay their rent when it came due the first of last month. He said he hoped occupants of as many as 200 buildings would ignore the rent payments due this week.

"After pleading year in, year out, we were left no choice but to take matters into our own hands and refuse to pay rent," said Gray.

WON'T PAY

"If you went to the market and bought bad pork chops, you take them back and get a refund. Well, it's the same thing in housing. We just won't pay any more. The Negroes up here (in Harlem) just won't take it any more."

The purpose of the strike, said Gray, is twofold:

- To hit negligent landlords where it hurts — in the wallet.
- To serve notice on government, especially city hall, that the tenants want the full weight of law brought to bear on the so-called slum lords who have been collecting rent on aged buildings for years while not providing minimal maintenance.

"(Mayor Robert F.) Wagner doesn't need to come here and make glorious promises while the rats are getting fatter," Gray said. "The rats are bigger now than at the last (mayoralty) election in '61."

The city has issued numerous summons for violations of its health and building codes. Quite a few fines have been levied and, in some cases, short jail sentences meted out.

But in the main, Gray complains, it is far cheaper for the landlords to pay the fine, even go to jail, than to shell out the thousands of dollars it would take to bring the long-neglected tenements up to par — or even near it. Court delays suspend action on the violations for months while the tenants go without relief.

LOWERS RENTS

The city has ordered rent reductions in scores of cases where violations are not corrected and it has taken some of the worst buildings over under receivership laws. In such cases, the city collects the rent and is responsible for maintaining the building. The dispossessed landlords get some compensation.

Jerome Trichter, assistant city health commissioner, said the usual story the landlords tell is that the tenants caused everything — that the pipes were just fixed but the tenants tore them out. And, they contend the tenants don't pay the rent.

"The landlords also resort to evasion," Trichter said. "They have dummy corporations and put people in who know nothing about the tenants or the buildings. They come to collect the rent surreptitiously from the superintendent at some late hour. Some people don't know who their landlords are."

The rent strike is flourishing around Fifth Avenue. Not the Fifth Avenue most New Yorkers know, with its expensive shops, the Easter parade and high-priced apartments overlooking Central Park. It's at the far end of Fifth Avenue, where it dead-ends in a mud bank surrounded by some of the most incredibly dingy living quarters in America.

NANCY LOU KNORR

August vows are planned by Nancy Lou Knorr, daughter of Mrs. Fred A. Knorr and the late Mr. Knorr of Bloomfield Hills and Ralph L. Polk Jr., son of the Ralph L. Polks, also of Bloomfield Hills. He is an alumnus of Hillsdale College where his fiancée is presently a senior.

Invitation Not Needed in Return

By The Emily Post Institute.

Q: One of the women in my canasta group invited me and my husband to her daughter's wedding. Except for seeing her when the group meets to play cards, we travel in different circles and our husbands are strangers to each other.

My husband did not want to go to the wedding so I sent regrets. I did, however, send a wedding gift.

My daughter is going to be married in a month. I am not inviting the canasta group to the wedding, but I would like to know if I am under obligation to send a return invitation to this one member?

A: If all the members of the canasta group were invited to the first wedding, you along with them solely because you happen to be a member of this group and not because you are personal friends, it is not necessary to send her an invitation to your daughter's wedding since you are not inviting the other members.

Q: I am going to be married soon and was wondering if it would be in good taste for me and my father to ride to the church in our family car, or must I hire a limousine?

A: If you are having a very small, informal wedding, it would be quite all right to ride to the church in the family car. But if you are having a large wedding and it is to be in any way formal, you should hire a limousine.

Q: My daughter is being married at an 11 o'clock nuptial Mass. Immediately following there will be a sit-down breakfast at a small inn for about 125 guests.

I would like to know if it is necessary to engage an orchestra to play during the reception?

A: An orchestra is not a requirement at a wedding reception.

Fur Flurry Caused by Coats of Man Made Animal Fabric

Who's afraid of a big spotted cat? He's really very friendly, or maybe he thinks her Halldon cape coat is a jungle brother. It isn't, really, the coat is of "kilimanjaro," an easy care pile fabric that appears to fool even the expert inside the cage. Retailers for about $100. Available locally.

You may think you're seeing things this winter when coats in Blumenthal's jungle-inspired pile fabrics start stalking the city streets and ski slopes.

This year almost every hand-somely marked wild beast you can name... tigers, zebras, jaguars, leopards, ocelots, cheetahs and otters—just to name a few of the most favored... has a pile fabric counterpart that America's greatest coat designers have fashioned into zillions of smart winter cover-ups.

You'll find short capes and long theater capes... cape coats for the junior set... casual trenchcoats... fisherman styles... double-breasted classics... wrap coats... in fact, jackets and coats in every length and style imaginable.

Happily you don't have to mortgage the car or visit your friendly banker to buy a coat in one of these imaginative pile fabrics, because America's talented textile designers have made it possible for almost everyone to own at least one coat made in a man made "animal kingdom" fabric.

This year something new has been added to the safari of animal fabrics... an exciting new "hide look" group of pile fabrics developed after years of research by the Blumenthal Mills division of Burlington Industries.

"Brazotta" makes news elegantly in this softly feminine coat by Fairmoor. The collar is genuine fox, the Brazotta is "Pearlstone," one of seven colors imitating the sleek fur of the Brazilian river otter. This fabric is created by Collins & Aikman.

Cleaning Price Varies According to Service

Why do some drycleaners charge more than others? The National Institute of Drycleaning says this is a question frequently asked.

The Institute answer: Just about everything these days comes in a variety of sizes, types, and prices, and drycleaning is no exception.

In the low-price range cleaning can be done in coin-operated machines with the customer doing the work herself.

Or you might find a drycleaner who offers the same "clean-only" service in a professional plant, selling it for a comparable price.

Neither service includes spot removal or finishing. Most spots don't come out in drycleaning and must be removed by a professional.

Drycleaning also doesn't remove wrinkles nor sharpen creases—though it also doesn't add wrinkles as washing does. Thus many garments require pressing or finishing after being cleaned.

Some drycleaners offer a quick drycleaning and partial finishing service called "clean and steam."

After cleaning, the garments are steamed, and this takes out wrinkles. Of course, there are wrinkles steaming won't remove, and there are garments whose construction is such that steaming is not recommended.

Some need the hand-shaping they get in more careful hand finishing.

The steaming operation requires operator time, and this causes the price to go up a little over "clean-only."

But prices vary even in the complete conventional drycleaning services different cleaners offer. The complete service means your garments are inspected and classified as to fabric type and shade, pre-spotted if necessary, drycleaned under professional supervision for controlled periods of time, dried under proper conditions for each fabric and garment, spotted after drycleaning if necessary, finished and shaped, packaged on hangers or in boxes with plastic or paper covering.

Sometimes they are picked up and delivered at your door. Believe it or not, this is the minimum amount of work required to give your garments complete professional care.

An 11-Year-Old Boy Argues in Defense of Dallas, Texas

DEAR ABBY: I know there isn't one chance in a million of getting this in the paper, but I am going to write it anyway.

I am eleven years old and I feel terrible. I live in Dallas and I want the whole world to know that not everybody in Texas is like the man who shot our wonderful President.

It isn't fair that Texas should get a bad name because of one crazy mixed-up killer. Both Abraham Lincoln and James Garfield were assassinated in Washington, D. C. and nobody held it against that city.

McKinley was shot in Buffalo and they didn't blame everybody in the State of New York.

Please print this Abby, because it will mean a lot to so many good people.

DAVID IN DALLAS

DEAR DAVID: I'll print your letter, but intelligent people all over the world already know that what you say is true.

The ignorant we can only hope to educate. Those we can't educate we can pray for.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a lady who asks her dates to pay her baby sitter and she tells the dates that her sitter charges 75c an hour, but the sitter charges only 50c an hour, and the lady keeps the extra 25c herself?

THE BABY SITTER
DEAR SITTER: Not much!

DEAR ABBY: I recently attended a large church wedding and I saw something I had never seen before.

When the bride came down the aisle, everybody in the church stood up and faced her!

Now, I have attended many weddings in my lifetime, but I have never seen anything like this.

Self-Defense Course Good for Women

(EDITOR'S NOTE: With no previous experience in self-defense, judo, or karate, Jeanmarie Elkins recently completed a ten week course in self-defense offered at the YMCA. For those who have always secretly wished they knew judo or self-defense she relates her experiences.)

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

If you had said "Slap," in a clear, sharp voice a few weeks ago at the YMCA, a number of women would probably have fallen where they stood, rolling to the floor and hitting it hard with their arms at a 45-degree angle.

If they did not fall, they at least would have started.

This would be the simplest way to discover which women were taking a course in self-defense offered at the Y.

Learning how to fall properly was one of the first things learned, after a conditioning period, that is. That conditioning period seemed to be designed to separate the men from the boys—oops!—I mean the women from the girls.

LASTING RESULTS

For nearly a week following that first Tuesday evening session I walked considerably slower, sat in hot tubs and slept all night on a heating pad.

If you are interested in taking a future course, it would be wise to spend a couple of weeks doing some light exercising. The first night is ENTIRELY exercise.

Not the normal type of exercise given for those who wish to lose weight, it is designed to tone muscle and develop balance and coordination.

After the first painful week, things got considerably easier. Each class began with a few minutes of exercise, but by then I was conditioned to them—somewhat.

The self-defense course for women is not a course in judo. Judo teaches attack. Self-defense teaches self-defense, even though there are some basic judo and karate holds taught.

To prepare for future classes when I would be throwing others and they would be throwing me, I first learned the ways of falling (ukemis).

Next came the ways of breaking a simple hold and then countering with an elbow jab, heel to the shins or arch or palm to the throat.

This would be just enough to stun an attacker momentarily, giving me a chance to run, screaming all the way.

Those who did not attend all classes (perhaps because they had anticipated doing those glamorous throws the first night), should have stuck through the whole course.

Most women are not physically conditioned to throw anyone when they enter the class. And most movements in the class are unnatural. They can't be done without hard concentration.

Finally the BIG night arrived. The class was ready to try its first throws.

Until that night I had pictured myself as the aggressive type. That night shattered my illusions.

My partner approached me from behind and applied the hold. I stood there—and stood there—and STOOD THERE.

I gave the instructor, Don Walker, a pathetic look. He just shook his head. I just couldn't bring myself to throw that poor little girl.

I finally threw her; she threw me; and we proceeded to bang each other up for the remainder of the class.

It is hard to say that one throw is easy and another is hard. Each person will find throws which are easier for him and harder for another.

Self-defense is important to YOU! Women are being attacked often in the city of Pontiac.

The police department estimates it receives at least three or four calls a night on assault and/or sex crimes and other offenses. The majority are committed against women.

A rough total ranges near 1500 a year.

CAN HAPPEN

The attitude that "this only happens to other people" is not only unwise but unsafe.

All women, whether old or young, living alone or with a family, should be able to defend themselves against attack.

The ten-week self-defense course offered at the YMCA includes how to break holds, basic karate kicks, and judo holds and throws. The advanced course for women includes judo.

Lazy Eating, Exercise a Short Cut to Trouble

By JEANNE LESEM
United Press International

NEW YORK — Poor eating habits plus too little exercise add up to trouble for school children, says The Nutrition Foundation.

Both factors lead to overweight, a problem facing an estimated one in five American children, or obesity, which afflicts one in six.

The foundation, a research organization, defines overweight as 10 to 20 per cent excess weight, and obesity, as 20 per cent or more excess weight.

Studies show that pupils who either skip breakfast or eat an inadequate one do less work or poorer work in school, said the foundation. Their efficiency in late morning may drop as much as 25 per cent. A child who then eats a candy bar to make up for the missed meal is caught in a vicious circle that also spoils his appetite for a proper lunch.

The foundation added that an occasional candy bar or other sweet snack is not harmful if the snacks are counted as part of the daily nutritional pattern.

But they should not be substituted for growth and development foods, which fall into these four categories—meat, poultry, fish and eggs; bread and cereal; fruits and vegetables; and milk, cheese and other dairy foods.

Poor schoolwork and classroom difficulties may be only a warning of later problems, said the foundation. Research scientists now theorize that that food patterns established between the ages of one and 12 may be responsible partly for degenerative diseases in middle age and later.

They dispute the theory that a fat baby is a healthy baby. The opposite may be true, since the earlier the habit of overweight begins, the harder it is to correct the eating habits and exercise patterns at fault.

Parental guidance is a must in these developing years, said the experts. Some children can judge how much food their bodies need, but they are not capable of estimating the amounts of sweets required or of selecting a well-balanced diet.

Surveys show that overweight children respond best to a sympathetic approach, since most are keenly aware that their weight puts them at a disadvantage in social events, games and sports.

The foundation suggested that appeals to girls be based on improved appearance and grooming; to boys, on increased skill in games and sports. The latter serve a double purpose—they burn up calories and make the players feel they no longer are isolated because of their overweight.

Some nutrition experts believe that increased physical activity is more important than restricted food intake in many cases of childhood obesity. Today's children tend to ride both to and from school, but their parents or grandparents walked.

Television also encourages overweight, said the foundation, because children tend to eat while watching. One expert said that overweight children tend to watch television three times as long as those of normal weight, and to sit quietly rather than squirm or move about as normal weight children do.

Heritage and environment also enter the problem. Studies indicate that a child's chances of being obese are 40 per cent greater than normal if one parent is obese, 80 per cent, if both parents are.

Job's Daughters Bethel Selects Honored Queen

Barbara Flore was installed as honored queen of Bethel 40 of the International Order of Job's Daughters at ceremonies Monday at the Roosevelt Temple.

Others installed were Nicole Peterson, senior princess; Betty Rodgers, junior princess; Judy Williams, guide; Kathy Graham, marshal; Carolyn Holmes, chaplain; Marilyn Paholak, treasurer; Erica Dean, recorder; Micki Rodgers, librarian; and Anita Little, musician.

Also assuming office were Mary Huemiller, Karen Kirchmeyer, Judy Baldwin, Georgia Burklow, Pam Siple, Jane Norgren, Vicky Taylor, Millie Edwards, and Karen Howard.

Opening the ceremony were Mrs. Eugene Perkio and Kenneth Bain, guardian and associate guardian, respectively.

PAST QUEENS

Helen Boatright, retiring honored queen presided. She was assisted by Gwen Thompson, Mary Wheeler, Joyce Eldred, Nancy Newcomb, Carol Bradshaw, Judy Oles, Sandra Trietsch and Marilyn Vernon.

Also taking part in the program were Robert Wheeler, Arne Doimer, Renee Earl, Rose Marie Tripp, Rosalind Surowitz and Kathleen Harris.

Mrs. Harry Vernon was mistress of ceremonies with Mrs. Lester Oles reading from the Book of Gold.

Art Classes Enrollments Start Now

Enrollments for the second term of childrens art classes, sponsored by Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries, are now being taken.

The classes, for young people ages 7 through 19, are held in the Young People's Art Center, located below the library.

The ten-week session begins Jan. 14 and continues through Mar. 21. Classes are divided by age and are limited in size.

Classes are offered for 90 minutes after school Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with three sessions on Saturday.

Instructor is Glen Michaels, who received his Master of Fine Arts degree from Cranbrook Academy of Art.

Additional information and enrollment forms may be obtained by contacting the Cranbrook Academy of Art.

Church.

Local Couple to Settle in New Orleans Home

White poinsettias graced the altar in St. John's Lutheran Church where Carol Ann Fidler exchanged recent vows with Ralph Leroy Gooch. The couple left for their future home in New Orleans after greeting some 400 guests in Roma Hall, following the candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of the Harry A. Fidlers of Cass-Elizabeth Road and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Orin L. Gooch of Hillcliff Street.

LACE SPRAYS

Asymmetrical sprays of jeweled Alencon lace accented the bride's floor-length gown of white peau de soie, worn with of illusion veil and satin pillbox. She held a spray of white Hawaiian orchids.

Mrs. Kenneth Jacobson, attending her sister-in-law as honor matron, appeared in a gold peau satin sheath with floor-length overskirt. A matching pillbox held her short circular veil.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Harry A. Fidler Jr., Mrs. Carl Hamina and Mrs. Judith Cloutier, wore willow-green peau satin and carried white poinsettias.

On the esquire side, were best man David Crawford, groomsmen Kenneth Jacobson, and ushers Harry A. Fidler Jr. and Larry Dungan.

The new Mrs. Gooch was graduated from Wayne State University and her husband from General Motors Institute.

The William E. Pelletiers of Hatchery Road announce the engagement of their daughter Patricia Ann Marie, to J. W. Beasley, son of the Willie Beasleys of Blytheville, Ark. Fall vows are planned.

Larry Proctor Weds in Huntsville, Alabama

Announcement is made of the marriage of Martha Ray Childress of Huntsville, Ala., to Seaman Appren. Larry Thomas Proctor, Dec. 24, before Judge Ashford Todd in Huntsville.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Childress Jr. of Harvest, Ala. and the James Proctors of State Street.

The bride is making her home in Pontiac while her husband is stationed at Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Training Center.

MRS. L. T. PROCTOR

Girl Engaged to Student

The engagement is announced of Karin G. Mueller, daughter of Mrs. Alfons Weishaar of Lewis Street, and the late Waldemar Mueller, to Philip Grenville Ingraham, son of the Carl F. Ingrahams of Birmingham.

Her fiancé attends Wayne State University Law School. Summer vows are planned.

Bedspreads From Williamsburg

Eighteenth-century homemakers have left us a heritage of decorating ideas which are just as apt and refreshing in our homes of today as they were in Revolutionary times.

Because it is familiar as well as beautiful, Americans have always loved the aura of traditional furnishings.

The furniture, with its graceful lines, the delightfully pretty textiles, the warmth of the colors, and the pleasing accessories used in earlier times afford more individuality in decorating and give welcome relief from carbon copy interiors.

Thanks to the Williamsburg Reproductions Program, faithful replicas of beautiful things of the past are now being made available for your home.

Williamsburg "Queen Anne" bedspread, made originally in linen and silk, is now woven of all cotton. May be had in gold and blue or antique ivory and blue.

"Raleigh Tavern" is an authentic reproduction of a classic overshot weave with a design of alternating rows of ribbed squares and rosettes. Available in seven colors.

Demonstrations Disrupt Campus Life

Public Affairs Interest Upsets Teen Attitudes

Gilbert Youth Research, Inc. days to take an increasingly important part in public affairs. American students seem to have broken old patterns these. There was a time when they left such things to their European and Latin American counterparts, but now their activity in politics and in protests and sitdown demonstrations gives evidence of new attitudes and goals.

However much adults may disagree or agree, it is obvious now that sizable percentages have put aside campus activities as chief interests in favor of matters more real and earnest.

We asked fifteen hundred of them recently whether such trends should be encouraged and got an overwhelming yes vote from both boys and girls.

The percentage was 78. Nearly as many—72 per cent—added that students should be active in politics even before they are old enough to vote.

ILLEGAL DEMONSTRATIONS
When it came to the specific point of whether students are justified in making illegal public demonstrations for their beliefs, however, there was a reversal of sentiment, especially among the boys.

The vote against this proposition stood at 65 per cent among the boys and at 51 per cent among the girls. A large share of them had in mind no doubt the demonstrations on Negro rights that have boiled up in recent months and years.

"There are ways to express feelings without breaking laws," observed David Solomon, 17, of Cleveland.

Jim Mauldin, 16, of Oklahoma City put it this way:

"An illegal demonstration is a misnomer; I prefer to call it a mob."

"It's never right to break the law," added Sara Perkins, of Mt. Pleasant, Tex., "even when we believe something is right."

The suggestion of Bri Reddish, 17, of Pocatello, Id., was that if people think matters are out of line they should run for the legislature and straighten them out.

Countering such views, Jim Jillion of Brainerd, Minn., asserted that people have to have some way of showing what they believe. And Susie Knobs, 16, of Portland, Ore., put it this way:

"Laws and regulations are for the good of the whole people. But if a great number of people are not getting what they believe in, then they are justified in demonstrating."

As for interest in public affairs generally, R. Chartier, 17, of Attleboro expressed the conviction of many when he said: "We might as well because we are going to have to handle this sooner or later anyway."

Prevention Spoon

You can prevent your plastic cups from developing tea and coffee stains if you add a couple of teaspoons of baking soda to the wash water regularly. If minor staining has already occurred, it can often be erased by applying the soda dry with a damp sponge. This will not scratch the finish of the cups.

Improvement Course Set for Opening

Clothes don't make the man, and a pretty face doesn't make the woman, according to Emily Kay Murphy, instructor, of a self-improvement course opening Jan. 13 at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre.

She will conduct sample classes for prospective teenage and adult students Monday at the theatre on West Long Lake Road.

The ten-week course, ending March 16, is offered for beginning teenagers at 4:30 p.m. Mondays. Teenagers who have completed an initial course may enroll for intermediate classes at 5:30 p.m. the same day.

Beginning adult classes meet at 7:30 p.m. and intermediates at 8:30 p.m. Mondays. Sample classes Monday will be held at the same hours as the actual classes.

SPEECH TOO

Will-O-Way director Celia Merrill Turner will give students an introduction to speech and diction problems as part of the course's program to cultivate pleasing vocal manners.

Registration can be made or further information obtained by calling Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre.

Hand in Glove With Soda—Good

Dry soda sprinkled in rubber gloves helps preserve them, keeps them sweet, lets them slide on more easily, whitens hands and since it's recommended by doctors for minor skin irritations it will not harm the cut or scratch on a finger.

United States Is In Lot of Hot Water

NEW YORK (UPI) — People who keep track of such things report a family of four uses 3,000 gallons of hot water per month.

But that's not all. The average home has a hot water heater which holds 35 gallons; a hot tub bath requires about 10 gallons; a hot shower uses about six gallons; and an automatic dishwasher uses about seven gallons.

Cones of the sugar pine range from 12 to 18 inches in length.

Pattern for Glamour

Every woman will feel glamorous in this dress modeled by Pat Woodell. The deep "V" back can be appliqued with pearls or sequins. The dress has a high front neckline, you may trim it by either carrying the back detail around the neck or just at the left front. The hem of the dress is tapered to give a slim appearance, so are the sleeves to give it an all-over graceful look.

The garment was knitted in a stockinette stitch (Knit 1 row — Purl 1 row). This makes it quite easy and fast. Any beginning knitter can make this stunning garment.

Instructions are written in sizes 8 through 16. All sizes are included in one pattern.

Educators Urge 2 Free Years of College

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

FREE SCHOOLING: A commission of leading educators has recommended that two years of college should be available free of cost to all high school graduates.

"Unless opportunity for education beyond the high school can be made available to all, then the American promise of individual dignity and freedom cannot be extended to all," the Educational Policies Commission said in a statement Wednesday.

It emphasized that the two years should be directed primarily at intellectual growth, not vocational or technological training.

SPONSORS

The commission is sponsored by the National Education Association and the American Association of School Administrators, and has a membership of 20 leading educators.

REFUGEES RESCUED: The Coast Guard reports it rescued almost 1,000 Cuban refugees in 1963.

The Coast Guard, also assigned the task of preventing hit-and-run raids on Cuba by exiles, said most of the refugees it picked up were on small islands along the route from Cuba, but that some were plucked from small boats.

Adm. E. J. Roland, Coast Guard commandant, said in his year-end report Wednesday that in addition to the refugee rescues, the service answered 37,330 calls for assistance and saved 1,900 persons in 1963.

FARM POVERTY: Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman says rural America is facing serious problems of low farm income and deep poverty. These problems, Freeman said, affect 15 million persons in the nation's rural areas.

INCOME DROP

The secretary said in a New Year's statement that he is particularly concerned with the prospects of a drop in farm income this year and hoped Congress would enact legislation to bolster the market, price and income for producers of wheat, cotton and dairy products.

"The American farmer is deserving of a better shake in the economy — especially in view of his unparalleled success in providing for the needs of his fellow Americans as well as for millions of other people around the world," said Freeman.

FOREIGN AID: Foreign aid officials believe they still have enough money for an economic aid program nearly the size of last year's despite Congress' $1.5 billion slash in new funds.

The funds available for overseas arms aid are down sharply from 1963. And the over-all money total for the current 12 months is $1.2 billion less than officials wanted.

But what will ease the strain is the large carry-over from money voted in past years.

Officials of the Agency for International Development reported Wednesday that $669,676,000 is available from previously voted funds that were never committed or that have been recovered from unfulfilled projects.

About 500,000,000 collapsible metal tubes for toothpaste are produced each year by 14 U.S. manufacturers.

On the other hand, I did have something going for me. My opponents would think that I had a better hand than I did.

hearts and the jack, king and ace were played. I led the 10 of diamonds. West dropped the seven of spades and I played low from dummy.

Now came the next bit of help. East took his jack and returned the king. West completed his spade signal by dropping the three.

I took dummy's ace of diamonds and returned the seven. East won with the nine and West continued the friendship campaign by discarding a heart.

That gave me nine tricks because I now had four hearts in addition to two diamonds, two clubs and the ace of spades.

New U.S. Security Regulations Cover Scholars of History

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has issued a new standard rule under which classified defense information may be opened to "trustworthy" scholars and others engaged in historical research, it was learned today.

The rule, in effect, requires such private citizens to pass the same kind of a security check as is given to civilian workers for the Defense Department.

This means a search of their background for any possible criminal or subversive record or connection.

Former U. S. Senator Has 80th Birthday

DENVER (AP) — Ed C. Johnson, former U.S. Senator and governor of Colorado, observed his 80th birthday yesterday.

Among messages arriving at Johnson's Denver apartment was a telegram from President Johnson.

"It treats these researchers from the security standpoint as though they were employees of the department," one official explained.

DIFFERENT STANDARDS

Until recently, each of the armed services and defense agencies imposed its own standards on outside researchers seeking access to classified material.

Some standards were stiff; some lenient. Some caused needless embarrassment, officials said.

The new rule applies throughout the Defense Department and is aimed at laying down uniform clearance requirements for researchers.

It was inserted about two weeks ago into a 1957 directive on "safe-guarding official information in the interests of the defense of the United States."

AMENDMENT

The amendment says:

- "1. It is determined that such access is clearly consistent with the interests of national defense, and
- "2. The person to be granted access has been determined to be trustworthy" in accordance with certain criteria.

Officials said the clearance requirements will be minimum. The new regulation calls for steps "to assure that classified defense information is not published or otherwise compromised."

It requires that any historical notes and manuscripts based on research in classified records by persons outside the government shall be submitted for a security censorship review.

Bears' Fullback Marconi Injured in Scuffle

Ex-Chicago Player Killed in New Year's Day Brawl

CHICAGO (UPI) — Police searched today for a disgruntled New York Giants football fan whose needling of a Chicago Bear football player sparked a new year's day brawl that resulted in the accidental death of former Bear Tony Parrilli.

Parrilli, 24, who played college football for Illinois, was shot to death and Bear fullback Joe Marconi was belted on the head with a revolver in the men's room scuffle at a plush suburban bowling alley partly owned by Bear end Mike Ditka.

Capt. Herbert Mertes of the Du Page county sheriff's office said Parrilli and an unidentified man started arguing in the washroom of Ditka's bowling alley in suburban Willowbrook.

"As I understand it," Mertes said, "the man was a fan of the Giants and they were arguing about the Bears-Giants championship game."

The Bears defeated the Giants for the National Football league championship last Sunday, 14-10.

ACCIDENT

The shot that killed Parrilli was fired accidentally by Willowbrook police Chief Robert Winthers, Du Page County authorities said. They said Winthers told them he belted Marconi on the head with a revolver in an attempt to break up the brawl — and the gun discharged, striking Parrilli in the left eye and killing him instantly.

Eight stitches were required to close Marconi's wound, but he was not hospitalized.

State's attorney William J. Bauer said he planned to file no charges against Winthers, and there would be no action in the case until the grand jury convenes the week of Jan. 20.

Deputy coroner James Clark indicated an inquest would have been held this week — but he delayed it after learning some of the Bears players who will be called to testify planned to leave Chicago yesterday for the Pro Bowl game in Los Angeles Jan. 12.

The shooting occurred at the end of a gala new year's eve party at the Willowbrook Bowling Lanes in the Western Chicago suburb.

PART OWNER

Parrilli, Marconi, Ed O'Bradovich, Bears' defensive end and Ditka, president and part owner of the lanes, had gone to the swanky establishment with their wives for a party.

The athletes had been close friends since they played together with the Bears, Mrs. Marconi said. O'Bradovich was best man at Parrilli's wedding.

Mrs. Marconi told police that a man came to her table about 1 a.m. and said there was "a little scramble in the rest room." Marconi said he went to investigate and found three men in the room, including Parrilli.

"I heard a pop and thought I was hit with a pop bottle," Marconi said. "I went down."

Winthers, one of two policemen hired for the night by the bowling alley to direct traffic and keep order, said he was trying to stop the fight when Marconi "came in with flaying arms."

Winthers said he had intended to use his gun as a club if necessary.

Rick Casares, another Bears fullback, arrived shortly after the shooting.

Parrilli, never made it in professional football. A 228-pound linebacker, he was voted the most valuable member of the 1961 Illinois football team and drafted by the San Francisco 49ers.

He was a reserve with the Bears last year and was released by Washington this season, shortly after the Redskins acquired him in a trade.

Illinois 11 Keeps Rose Bowl Record Intact

Fullback Stars in 17-7 Win Over Huskies

Grabowski Nets 125 Yards in 23 Carries; 3rd Victory for Illini

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Rugged Big Ten champion Illinois still owns a perfect Rose Bowl record, riding to success on the shoulders of a brawny fullback for the third time in the granddaddy of all bowl games.

It was Jim Grabowski, a 207-pound sophomore who did it Wednesday, leading Illinois to a 17-7 come-from-behind triumph of Big Six titlist Washington.

To 100,000 fans, sundrenched in 85-degree weather and countless TV fans, perhaps the first quarter injury of Washington quarterback Bill Douglas might have been the determining factor in the puncturing of Huskie Coach Jim Owens' Rose Bowl charm.

MANY ERRORS

It was not a game of spectacular offense and it had a lot of errors.

There were 10 fumbles, five by each team, and three stolen Washington passes. But it also had Grabowski ripping through the stubborn Huskies for 125 yards on 23 carries.

That alone wore down Washington, which led 7-3 at half-time, and won Grabowski the outstanding player of the game award given by the Helms foundation.

Assistant Coach Bill Tate won the same honor for his hero's role in Illinois' 40-7 Rose Bowl rout of Stanford in the 1952 game. Fullback Tate carried 20 times for 150 yards in that one-sided contest.

Douglas severely - wrenched left knee, coming after he guided Washington 41-yards on an opening drive, brought in still rusty quarterback Bill Siler.

Although a regular in the 1962 season, Siler had a tough time of it, with three interceptions, two of which were snagged by defensive star George Donnelly and led to both Illini touchdowns in the second half.

Donnelly's final filch late in the third quarter came on the Illini 14, not only squelching the final Huskie threat but also precipitating an 85-yard Illinois scoring drive.

Coach Pete Elliott, who avenged a sad 1959 Rose Bowl visit when his California Bears were drubbed by Iowa 38-12, made his first post-game gesture a tribute to the injured Douglas.

LIMPING

Still limping on a knee injury he suffered on the first day of Rose Bowl practice, Elliott hobbled to the door of the Washington dressing room where Douglas sat in a wheel chair.

"I can't say how sorry I am this happened to you," Elliott said.

Pete later told reporters "I don't know what difference it might have made if Douglas (Continued C-3, Col. 2)

Sophomore Running Ace Gets Award

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) —Rival coaches shuddered today as they thought of facing two more years of Jim Grabowski after watching the sophomore fullback pulverize the Washington Huskies in leading Illinois to a 17-7 victory in the Rose Bowl.

The 19-year-old Chicago youngster was voted "Player of the Game" and drew the praise of both his own coach and rival coach Jim Owens for gaining 125 yards rushing, more than the entire Washington backfield was able to pile up.

"Grabowski certainly had himself an outstanding day running and deserved the 'play of the game' award," said Illinois coach Pete Elliott.

Injury to Foe Dims Pete Elliott's Joy

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The first thing Coach Pete Elliott of victorious Illinois did after the Rose Bowl game Wednesday was to pleg it to Washington's injured star quarterback Bill Douglas and blurt: "I can't say how sorry I am."

Douglas, injured as he brilliantly directed a brisk Washington opening drive, was in a wheel chair, his dislocated knee heavily bandaged.

Elliott still limps badly from a knee wrenched in Illinois' first Rose Bowl practice. But he hustled to Douglas at the entrance of the Washington dressing room before he entered his own hilarious Illini dressing room.

BIG DIFFERENCE

Although Illinois wore down Washington in the second half, Elliott conceded it was "most unfortunate Douglas was lost so early in the game."

He added: "What difference it might have made had Douglas played the whole game, I don't know. I think (Bill) Siler is a good quarterback, but Douglas was their quarterback most of the season."

Although Washington also lost reserve fullback Mike Kuklenski with a broken left leg in the first quarter and Illinois had star linebacker Ron Hansen shaken up, Elliott said he didn't think it was a particular rough game.

"I think both teams played it clean, but hard," he said. "There were a lot of errors in the first half, probably because of the high spirit and jitters."

Elliott conceded that fullback Jim Grabowski, voted the game's outstanding player, defensive specialist George Donnelly and All-America Dick Butkus were brilliant for Illinois.

But he insisted "it still was a great team effort."

Elliott said the Illini tried starting their first offensive ser-

Alabama Had Defense, Davis

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Defense, Davis and Determination added up to a 12-7 Sugar Bowl football upset and a prayer of thanksgiving for Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant.

Defense was the difference," Bryant said Wednesday after his Crimson Tide held Mississippi to its lowest score since the Rebels were tied 0-0 by Memphis State last September. Defense — and senior Tom Davis' record four field goals.

Bryant halted the revelry in the Alabama dressing room to give a quiet prayer of thanks for the victory which handed Mississippi its first loss in 20 games. He and his players knelt to pray and then sprang up with loud cheers.

The 21-year-old Davis kicked three pointers of 31, 22, 46 and 48 yards to account for all Alabama points. First his 46-yard kick and then his 48-yarder set records for the longest field goals in any major bowl game.

Alabama had piled up a 12-0 lead before butter-finger Mississippi finally got started in the fourth quarter. — The Rebels didn't even make a first down in the first half, fumbling away chance after chance and had not threatened seriously until quarterback Perry Lee Dunn completed a 42-yard pass to wingback Dave Wells at the Alabama 18 in the fourth period.

TD PASS

Five plays later Dunn tossed a five-yard scoring pass to back Larry Smith and Billy Carl Irwin added the extra point.

Eleven minutes and 58 seconds remained, but the scoring was over. There were some thrills remaining, however, for the 80,785 fans who braved the remnants of New Orleans' heaviest snow of the century to get to the Sugar Bowl Stadium.

Mississippi seemed to have momentum up now for another scoring drive and many of the throng thought the game was going the Rebels' way. Dunn pushed his team to the Alabama three, but an incomplete pass left Mississippi with fourth down. Dunn hit off tackle, but Alabama's line refused to give and the Tide took over at the two.

Alabama punted and Mississippi tried again. This time end Joe Pettey bobbled a pass from Dunn and Eddie Versprille recovered for the Tide at the Alabama 10. A pass interception by Billy Piper killed Mississippi's final threat in the last minute.

Alabama had to rely on Davis solely for its scoring. The Tide never got closer than the Mississippi six, although sophomore quarterback Steve Sloan proved he was worthy of Bryant's choice as the starting signal caller.

SUSPENDED

Sloan got the job after first-stringer Joe Namath was suspended for a training violation. He drew praise from Bryant after the game, as did Davis.

Bryant said the entire team played over their heads. Davis' four kicks smashed the (Continued Page C-5, Col. 2)

Nebraska 'Muscles' Muster Bowl Win

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Nebraska's big Cornhuskers, playing before an eager audience of American and National Football League scouts, muscled their way to a 13-7 victory over smaller Auburn in the Orange Bowl Game New Year's Day.

And when the final whistle blew, professional contracts were waved in the faces of numerous players—especially the pro-size Cornhuskers—who had been forbidden until after the game from entering into negotiations in the play-for-pay leagues.

Eleven players from the Big Eight champion team were selected in the pro drafts, two as future choices. Most eagerly sought were 269-pound guard Bob Brown and 245-pound tackle Lloyd Voss, first round picks of the Philadelphia Eagles and the Green Bay Packers.

NEED MUSCLE

Nebraska needed all its muscle to save the win over Auburn against a fierce late surge led by Tigers quarterback Jimmy Sidle.

With two minutes to go, Sidle had the Tigers on the Nebraska 11 in a furious bid for a winning touchdown, but a fourth down pass was batted away and the Cornhuskers escaped with the first victory a Big Eight team ever scored over a Southeastern Conference foe in seven Orange Bowl games.

For a time, it appeared that Nebraska, the national champion rushing team, was going to use its 16-pounds-a-man weight advantage up front to crush the SEC runners-up.

On the second play, with a formation Nebraska designed for use in a short yardage situation, quarterback Dennis Claridge broke the bowl's record for a long run by speeding 68 yards to a touchdown.

"It surprised me as much as it did Auburn," Claridge said. "We only figured to make two or three yards on it."

Twice more in the first half,

Nebraska thrust close to the Auburn goal to set up field goals by DaeTheisen of 31 and 36 yards. Up to then, with the Nebraska ends containing their wide runs, the Tigers hadn't made any kind of a threat.

LONG RETURN

An 80-yard punt return by Frank Solich might have produced another early Nebraska touchdown, but the officials ruled that he had stepped out of bounds at the Husker 42.

But the second half was a vastly different story. Nebraska's awesome running attack began to crumble against the small but courageous Auburn line and Sidle finally found the way to get the Tigers moving.

Sidle hit Buck Wald with a 28-yard pass, then swept 13 yards wide to his left for the first touchdown that put Auburn back into the game with only a six-point deficit.

A 69-yard drive by the Tigers against a fast weakening Nebraska defense, with Sidle clicking on a sharp series of passes over the middle, fell just short with only 1:25 to go.

"The boys wanted this one bad," Nebraska's Coach Bob Devaey said afterward. "We got tired of seeing the Big Eight teams pushed around by the SEC teams like they have been in the past. Auburn was a well-coached team with a lot of courage."

Florida Flash Nears Record

Runs Dash in 9.1 on Soaked Track

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The nine second 100 yard dash still eludes Bob Hayes, although he showed on a rain-sodden track Wednesday that he's hot on the trail.

The husky Florida A&M junior duplicated before 5,000 fans the 9.1 second dash, submitted for a world record, which he ran last year at St. Louis. Considering the fact that rain had pelted University of Miami's cinder path for two days, few had expected Hayes to approach that speed at the Orange Bowl Track and Field Meet.

Dick Hill, Hayes' coach, confidently predicted "any day now he'll make it in nine seconds flat."

Tail wind blew more than 4.46 miles per hour—the limit for record consideration even if Hayes had been clocked in 9.0.

Hayes, who also is a football star, won the 220 yard dash in a startling :20.1. This was faster than Hayes' :20.5 here last year but cannot be offered for record purposes because it was run on a straightaway, instead of on a turn.

John Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State cleared 16-feet ¼ in. winning the pole vault but could not muster an early push sufficient to send him over the 17 foot mark.

Navy Boost

Two Perfect Marks

DALLAS (AP) — At the banquet following the Cotton Bowl game, Wayne Hardin was introduced as "the only Navy coach who ever has beaten Army five straight."

The red-haired Hardin smiled and said: "Don't forget that Navy has only lost two bowl games in history, and I was the coach both times."

Navy's loss to Texas 28-6 Wednesday, made the Academy bowl record now 2-1. The other defeat came in the 1961 Orange Bowl, 21-14 by Missouri.

Navy also appeared in the 1924 Rose Bowl, tying Washington 14-14, the 1955 Sugar, whipping Mississippi 21-0, and the 1958 Cotton, defeating Rice 20-7.

Longhorns Stampede, 28-6

It's Official, Texas Is No. 1 Grid Power

DALLAS (AP) — Smirking and word-eating were the major activities in the vicinity of the Cotton Bowl today.

The satisfied smile was pasted on the face of national champion Texas.

If there was any doubt—and Navy, for one, had some—that the Longhorns were the No. 1 college football team in the land, the Texans removed it swiftly with a 28-6 trouncing of the Middles Wednesday.

The score might well have been worse.

The word-eating was not completely confined to Navy, although there haven't been so many red faces around the field since they laughed at Gen. Billy Mitchell when he said he could sink battleships with airplanes.

There were those who had called the Texas offense: "Left tackle, right tackle—and punt."

And the ones who said that Texas "doesn't beat you, it bores you to death."

Coach Darrell Royal's Texas team came up with a fabulously resourceful offense, guided by a quarterback named Duke Carlisle.

STUNNED FAST

Carlisle, whose real name is Emmett Augustus Carlisle III, took Texas 78 yards in six plays from the opening kickoff. That stunned the No. 2 ranked Middles almost as much as the way it was done.

Carlisle sent his runners into the line twice and then ran for 19 yards. Three plays later he threw to wingback Phil Harris on a play that covered 58 yards for a touchdown.

In the second quarter, Carlisle passed on first down from his own 37, again to Harris, again for a touchdown.

Then the Texas defense detached the football from Navy's Jolly Roger Staubach on the Navy 34, and Carlisle took the Longhorns in again. He scored this one himself on a keeper from nine yards out.

That made it 21-0 at the half and the 75,504 people sitting in 45 degree sunshine might as well have staged their game-end traffic jam early.

Carlisle played a little less than three quarters and established a Cotton Bowl record for total offense, 267 yards. He passed for 213, and was the team's leading rusher with 54.

Then Tommy Wade, the No. 2 quarterback, took over and engineered another score.

There was a touch of insult in this one, since Wade revived a stalled drive with a 21-yard pass to the Navy five to George Sauer, son of a former Navy coach.

Fullback Harold Philipp — that's the way he spells it—took it over from the two.

Up to this stage Navy's Staubach, the All-America and Heisman Trophy winner, had been beating his head against the rushing Texas line like a fly caught in a bottle.

SECOND VISIT

It was Staubach's second visit to the Cotton Bowl this season, and neither he nor Navy is likely to be anxious to see the place again. The Middles, who finished 9-1 for the regular season, lost their only game on the same turf, 32-28, to Southern Methodist.

Roger wound up with some impressive statistics but in the final analysis they were about as useless as those banners reading: "We're No. 1" that some sailors brought to the game.

For the record, Staubach had 31 pass attempts, a personal high, and 21 completions, a Navy and Cotton Bowl record.

He gained 228 yards passing, which surpassed the Cotton Bowl mark set earlier in the game by Carlisle.

But the quarterback also had a minus-47 yards rushing, and that was a personal high, too.

It indicated the number of times the charging Texas line tossed him on his back.

Staubach got the Middles a fourth-quarter touchdown, which he scored on a roll-out run from the two, but he was knocked loose from the football again near the end.

Texas' third team then wound up the game on the Navy one-foot line.

Texas also had the satisfaction of making the much-

Michigan Driver Enters Auto Race

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Troy Ruttman, 1952 winner of the Indianapolis 500, today became the first of the USAC drivers to file entry for the Motor Trend 500 stock car race at Riverside (Calif.) International Raceway Jan. 19.

Ruttman, 33, Dearborn, Mich., will pilot a 1963 Plymouth owned by Lou Baney Chrysler-Plymouth of Downey, Calif.

Ruttman, former Southern California resident who now operates a go-kart franchise in Michigan, was forced out of the stock car race last year at Riverside because of tire trouble.

Karras, Hornung Get Support

Player Group Backing Pair

Will Ask Rozelle to Lift Suspension

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — The National Football League Players Association meets today for the first of two sessions and is expected to recommend immediate reinstatement of suspended players Paul Hornung of Green Bay Packers and Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions.

Pete Retzlaff of the Philadelphia Eagles, president of the association, said the recommendations would be voted on and passed on to league Commissioner Pete Rozelle in New York.

Ratzlaff said Rozelle will be in Florida this week but is not scheduled to appear at the players meeting.

"It's the opinion of the players that Hornung and Karras should be allowed to return to league action as soon as possible. Another year of suspension would almost end their careers," Retzlaff said.

Hornung and Karras were suspended for one year by Rozelle last spring after extensive investigation of gambling incidents tied in the NFL games.

Retzlaff said discussion of the NFL players pension plan also is a prime topic during the two days, as well as hearing a report on current legislation involving tax relief for professional athletes.

Representatives from all 14 NFL teams are at Hollywood for the sessions and concurrent players golf championship.

Chicago's Stan Mikita Richer Due to Scoring

MONTREAL (AP) — Center Stan Mikita of the Chicago Black Hawks became $500 richer Wednesday night by leading the scorers halfway through the National Hockey League season.

Mikita and Jean Beliveau of the Montreal Canadiens wound up the first 35 games of the 70-game NHL schedule tied on points but Mikita took first-place honors because of his better goal-scoring.

Mikita had 21 goals and 27 assists for 48 points, while Beliveau had 16 goals and 32 assists.

Utah Shows Class in Cincinnati Upset

By Associated Press

It's about time for Utah basketball Coach Jack Gardner to start changing his tune.

The likeable coach of the Running Redskins had good reason for such pre-season comments as these:

"We know we have a long way to go."

"I can't be optimistic about this year compared with many others."

"We have to be considered in the role of underdogs."

Sure. It's very understandable. He had only one regular return from last season's team.

Illini Eleven Rips Huskies in Bowl Win

Huskie Coach Owens, who scored upset victories over Wisconsin and Minnesota in the 1960 and 1961 Rose Bowl games, kept writers waiting 35 minutes after the game.

The Huskies kept pretty much away from the Illini middle guarded by All-America line-backing - center Dick Butkus, but Elliott said Washington caused plenty of trouble with its quick short passes and quarterback option plays.

TURNING POINT

Elliott said the turning point for the Illini, if any, came on Jim Plankenhorn's 32-yard field goal on the final play of the first half. This came after Siler fumbled and Illinois recovered on Washington's 15 and shaved Washington's lead to 7-3 at half-time.

It was not a game of spectacular plays, excepting 154-pound Steve Bramwell's 52-yard kickoff return in the fourth period after Grabowski plunged one yard for the second Illini touchdown.

Even after Illinois' 32-yard strike in six plays, capped by Jim Warren's two-yard scoring scamper for a 10-7 Illini lead in the third quarter, Washington still was very much in the game.

But Grabowski personally shut the gate on the Huskies on the Illini's 85-yard fourth quarter drive. He carried 11 times in that 18-play march, finally cracking over on a fourth-down and six-inches to go situation.

was loaded with sophomores and appeared to be hurting for size.

Sure. So now the Utes have an 11-1 record, finished their pre-conference season with a 87-68 upset of fourth-ranked Cincinnati Wednesday night and are gunning for national recognition.

INCREASE LEAD

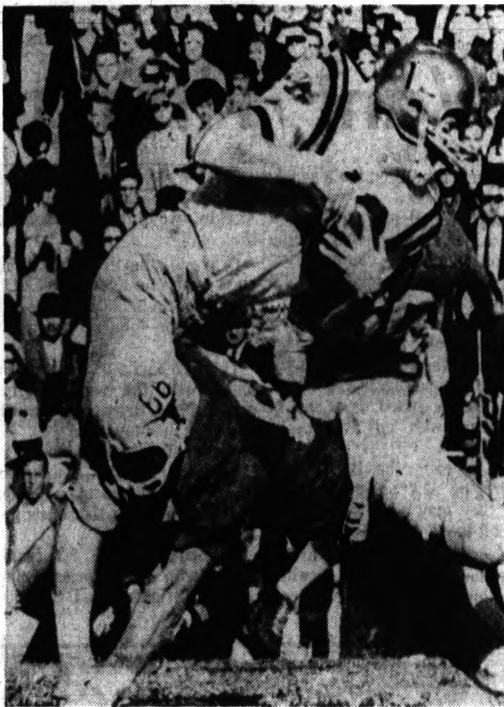

The swift, spirited Utes barged out to a 39-31 halftime lead, increased the margin to 12 points after intermission then fought off a Cincinnati rally that closed to within two points, 66-64, with less than two minutes to go.

The loss was the second in nine starts for Cincinnati, and spoiled the start of a tough Western trip. The Bearcats play tough Oregon State ranked eighth in the nation, a couple of games Friday and Saturday in Portland and Corvallis, Ore.

Only a handful of games were scheduled Wednesday as the colleges took a deep breath from the rigors of the holiday tournaments before jumping into conference play.

In the only other major games Georgia edged Alabama 49-47, Louisville romped over Marquette 85-67, Rhode Island upset Memphis State 68-66 and Toledo routed Kent State 75-57.

Jimmy Pitts, the games leading scorer with 16 points, settled a defensive struggle for Georgia dropping in two free throws with three seconds to go to break a 47-47 tie.

Texas' Appleton Unsigned

One Grid Draft Plum Still on Tree

By The Associated Press

Texas tackle Scott Appleton, skillfully dodging the buck-passers, is on his way to the Hula Bowl in Honolulu, where he likely will find palm trees waving in the breeze and dollar bills waving in his face.

Appleton, an All-America was named the outstanding lineman in the Cotton Bowl after the Longhorns' 28-6 victory over Navy Wednesday, sidestepped the professional football talent scouts after the game. Asked which way he was leaning, Appleton said:

"I haven't decided a thing."

Appleton is the No. 1 catch still remaining in the check-book war between the National and American football leagues. He is the only first round draft choice in either league not committed.

The Pittsburgh Steelers traded flanker Buddy Dial to Dallas for the NFL rights to Appleton. The Houston Oilers hold the AFL rights.

Appleton became the last remaining No. 1 pick up for grabs when the NFL signed the much-pursued Nebraska linemen, All-America guard Bob Brown and tackle Lloyd Voss, after the Cornhuskers' 13-7 Orange Bowl victory over Auburn.

Brown signed with the Philadelphia Eagles and Voss with the Green Bay Packers, giving the NFL signed contracts from 12 of their 14 first-round draft picks. Brown also was the No. 1 pick of Denver in the AFL, and Voss was second round selection of the AFL's New York Jets.

The NHL has lost only one of its first-round selections to the AFL—Southern California quarterback Pete Beathard, who passed up Detroit to sign with the Kansas City Chiefs. The AFL has signed only two of its eight first-round selections—

Beathard and Ohio State fullback Matt Snell, by the Jets. In addition, Oakland's AFL entry claims it has signed No. 1 pick Tony Lorick, Arizona State halfback, Baltimore in the NFL says it also has a signed contract from Lorick.

The first-round picks in the NFL fold besides Brown and Voss are Indiana halfback Marv Woodson, Baltimore; Tennessee tackle Dick Evey, Chicago; Ohio State halfback Paul Warfield, Cleveland; Utah State quarterback Bill Munson, Los Angeles; Minnesota tackle Carl Eller, Minnesota; Oklahoma back Joe Don Looney, New York; Pitt halfback Paul Martha, Pittsburgh; Louisville tackle Ken Kortas, St. Louis; Texas Tech end Dave Parks, San Francisco and Arizona State halfback Charles Taylor, Washington.

Other signings Wednesday: NFL—Minnesota tackle Monte Kiffin and guard John Kirby; Auburn halfback George Rose and end Howard Simpson.

Green Bay — Alabama tackle Steve Wright.

Dallas—Mississippi quarterback Perry Lee Dunn and tackle Whaley Hall, Auburn kicker Woody Woodall.

AFL — Buffalo—Nebraska halfback Willy Rose, Missouri fullback Paul Underhill, San Diego — Mississippi center, Kenny Dill.

Seaholm 5 Eyes EML's Top Spot

The number four looms big in the minds of several county cage teams tomorrow, including Birmingham Seaholm and Waterford Kettering.

Seaholm will be seeking its fourth win in five starts this season and a 3-1 record in the Eastern Michigan League when it visits Hazel Park (4-0).

A victory for the Maples would enable them to regain a share of first place in the league since the pace setting Vikings will also be in their fourth EML start.

Seaholm shared the top spot with Hazel Park until being upset by Mount Clemens. Ferndale and Royal Oak Kimball will also be eying their fourth win when they clash at the latter's gym.

Each has a 2-1 EML record and the winner will tie for the top spot should Seaholm put a blemish on Hazel Park's log.

UNBEATEN CAPTAINS

Waterford Kettering will be going after its fourth straight victory without a loss this season when it entertains Walled Lake's potent Vikings Friday night.

Walled Lake only has one triumph in four starts; but the Vikings have good potential and could begin a spurt at any time. They played a very strong game against unbeaten Pontiac Northern in their outing.

In a similar non-league clash early last season, the Captains thumped their visitors in the first basketball meeting between the two schools.

There is one Oakland A League game slated this week with Madison playing host to unbeaten Troy which will be going after its fourth straight league triumph.

A win would put the Colts a half game in front of Fitzgerald atop the loop.

Another non-league encounter will have winless Berkley at home against once-victorious Birmingham Groves.

Imlay City will take its 3-2 record to Brown City (2-3) for a contest that also will cross league boundaries.

Kentucky Tourney May Be Scrapped

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The nation's richest holiday basketball tournament may be headed for the graveyard, a victim of a squeeze between finances and studies.

The University of Kentucky is considering scrapping its invitational tournament, begun in 1953 when present commitments are fulfilled two years from now.

The four-team tournament has resulted in some of the largest financial payoffs to participating teams, which split the gate receipts after expenses are paid. The highest was in 1959 when each team got $15,420.

Wolves, Hills Want Fitting

Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills will usher in the New Year tomorrow night in a battle on the Wolves' court with the winner getting an early fitting for the Wayne-Oakland League crown.

In a second game on the W-O schedule, Milford journeys to Northville and the Redskins could move into third place in the league race with a win over the Mustangs.

The bout at Clarkston shapes up as one of the top prep games of the season in Oakland County.

Pontiac Northern Looking for First Win on Chiefs' Court

A capacity crowd is expected to watch Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central resume their intra-city basketball rivalry tomorrow night at the Huron Street gymnasium.

All reserved seat tickets were gone last week and the unserved admissions that will go on sale at the door beginning 6:30 p. m. Friday will probably go early.

Home team Pontiac Central has a decided edge in the 11-game series to date, 9-2. But Northern won its two games last season.

One of those victories was a drubbing in the district playoffs that was PCH's worst loss of the year. The Huskies outscored it in every period en route to a 58-42 victory.

HOME MARK

Both PNH triumphs over the Chiefs were on the Northern court. Thus the Huskies will be seeking their first win on Central's court Friday night.

The quest will be no easy one since PCH has played two games on its home court this season and hit 90 points in both contests.

PNH is not concerned greatly over its ability to score with the Chiefs. Northern has averaged 83 points per game in winning four for four. PCH is averaging 77 ppg in taking four of five starts.

But Central has shown a pro-

Quintet in Home Game

Mikemen Eye Rise

St. Michael will have an opportunity to gain some ground in the Northwest Parochial League race tomorrow night when Detroit St. Agatha comes to town.

The Mikemen are 2-3 in the loop race and a victory would move them into a tie with idle Orchard Lake St. Mary for fourth place.

The game is the lone tilt on the Friday night loop slate. Royal Oak St. Mary, the league leader, entertains Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows Saturday evening.

St. Frederick is idle this week end, but the Rams will be keeping an eye on the game at Royal Oak.

The Rams trail ROSM by one game, and if the Irish lose to FOLS Saturday, St. Frederick would gain a half game. A victory over ROSM Tuesday would put the Rams atop the league.

If 6-4 St. Michael center Mike Pope and forwards Mike DeConinck and Rick Lavoie avoid foul trouble (the team's biggest headache), the Mikemen should have little trouble with St. Agatha, 1-4.

OTHERS

Other games on the parochial slate will have Notre Dame at Birmingham Brother Rice, Ferndale St. James at St. Benedict and Royal Oak Shrine at Divine Child.

With Bill Moore and Paul Jagels sparking the attack, Brother Rice has racked up three wins in succession, following an opening game loss to Detroit Catholic Central.

pensity for pilfering the ball from opponents before they can get off a shot. Thus backliners Mike Burklow, Jerry Reese, Dave Tinkis and John Bailey have a big job facing them.

It will be their responsibility to get the basketball into the forecourt to give scoring ace Roger Hayward and the other forwards a chance to work the offensive patterns.

Hayward is hitting at a 21.7 clip. Burklow has lent able assistance with a 16 ppg effort.

Central has a solid scoring threat in Mel DeWalt who is hitting at a 21.6 rate. While no one else is over the 15 ppg mark, all of the top six have been in double figures this season.

GOOD BALANCE

PNH can also boast of six players with point productions in twin figures.

Coach Dick Hall of PNH will probably start Reese and Burklow on the backline, Hayward at center, and Dean Souden is expected to team with Dick DeWeese at forward.

The Chiefs likely will have DeWalt and Gerald Henry at forwards, Jim Johnson at center, and Bill Morgan and Alvin Keel at guards.

Coach Fred Zittel, in his first season of guiding the PCH cagers, has capable reserves to call upon for both front and backcourt duty, as does Hall at Northern.

PNH is tied for the Inter-Lakes League lead while Central is a game off the Saginaw Valley Conference pace.

DETROIT (UPI) — Shooting for berths on the United States Olympic team, 122 figure skaters from 23 states converged on Cobo Arena and the Detroit skating club today for the start of the Midwestern championships.

It is the first time Detroit has hosted the key meet, which lasts through Saturday.

The top three finishers in each division will go to Cleveland for the U. S. championships Jan. 9-12.

Michigan's top hope is 15-year-old Tim Woods of Bloomfield Hills, who is out to defend his men's division title.

Comparative figure competition began at 7 a. m. today at both the Detroit skating club and Cobo Arena. Friday and Saturday events all will be held at Cobo Arena.

Free skating finals start at 8:30 p. m. Friday with the balance slated for Saturday afternoon and evening.

Elect Grid Leaders

Larry Walter and Ralph Landry were recently elected by their teammates as co-captains of the 1964 St. Frederick football team.

Chargers Eye AFL Title With Improved Balance

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The San Diego Chargers feel they now have the offensive balance to win the American Football League title Sunday after two futile tries.

They were beaten by the Houston Oilers in 1960 and 1961. Dallas (now Kansas City) defeated Houston for the crown last year.

San Diego's Coach Sid Gillman wants to establish a solid running game to complement the passing of Tobin Rote.

Running for the Chargers means Paul Lowe and Keith Lincoln. Lowe was stopped cold by Boston in two previous games this year, even though the Chargers took both, 17-13 and 7-6.

But Paul believes he can change that. "I've got it figured out now and I expect to pile up yardage."

Boston's middle linebacker Nick Buoniconti answered: "I think we've got Paul's number. Tell him we're all going to be keying on him."

TOPS IN LEAGUE

San Diego leads the league in rushing and total offense and is third in passing offense. The Patriots pace the league in rushing defense and total defense.

Gillman says "we have to run to win." Boston Coach Mike Holovak replies: "They aren't going to run."

The record bears him out. Not many clubs have been able to run against Boston's blitzing, knifing defense.

If the Chargers can run against the Patriots, then the deadly passing combination of Tobin Rote to flanker Lance Alworth will become more effective.

Comments Holovak: "We respect Rote, of course. But we think we can handle him."

Rote is the league's passing champion. Boston's 33 man squad arrived in San Diego Wednesday from frigid Boston. The Eastern Division champions will work out Thursday and Friday at the San Diego Marine Recruit Depot.

Holovak angered the Chargers recently when he said he thinks Kansas City is still the best team in the league. The Chiefs play in the same Western Division as the Chargers.

The Patriots' hopes ride with quarterback Babe Parilli, halfback Larry Garrison, fullback Ron Burton and end Gino Capelletti, the league's scoring champion. The rugged Boston defense is led by ends Larry Eisenhauer and Bob Dee, tackle Houston Antwine and linebackers Buoniconti, Tom Addison and Jack Rudolph.

Rangers Trim Black Hawks

Montreal, Boston Tie;
Chicago Lead Sliced

No one could blame the Chicago Black Hawks, the National Hockey League leaders, if they would start to think the lowly New York Rangers have their number.

The fifth-place Rangers beat the Black Hawks 5-2 Wednesday night for their second consecutive victory over Chicago. New York built a 4-0 lead before Chicago dented goalie Jacques Plante's cage.

Vic Hadfield and Larry Cahan scored in the first period for the Rangers, and Val Fonteyne and Don Marshall tallied in the second.

The loss, coupled with Montreal's 3-3 tie with Boston, cut Chicago's lead to four points.

Rookie Johnny Ferguson's goal with seven minutes left in the game gave Montreal the tie.

this year, have been the league's biggest surprise.

Coach Hal Henderson is without an individual standout on the Baron quintet. The victory string has been kept intact by a solid team effort.

The top scorer on the Baron unit is Andy Anderson, a 6-0 forward, who owns a 15.0 average for five outings. Greg Riggs, a 5-7 senior guard, is second to Anderson with an average of 10.6.

As a team, the Barons are averaging 57.4 points a game, but they may need a few more to halt the Wolves' attack.

Clarkston has a 73.2 average for five games to go with a stingy defense that has permitted only 45 a game.

The Wolves' attack is built around Dan Craven and Ken Miskin, two of the top scorers in the county.

Craven is fourth in the scoring race with an average of 21.8, while Miskin holds down the 10th spot on the ladder with a 19.2 average.

This scoring combination, along with the rebounding of center Mike Bray, a 6-4 senior, has been unstoppable.

Northville dropped its first two games of the season, but the quintet picked up a scoring punch in winning two of its last three decisions.

Milford owns a 2-3 season mark, with the victories coming against Brighton and Clarenceville.

Alabama Has Tough Defense in Sugar Bowl

Sugar Bowl record of two and his total of 12 points tied the record for individual point production. Sports writers voted him winner of the Sugar Bowl Award as the outstanding individual player, the first specialist ever to win.

Mississippi was favored by 7½ points, but the Rebels fumbled away the ball game. Their six fumbles lost tied the Sugar Bowl record. Alabama also intercepted three Ole Miss passes.

Coach Johnny Vaught was at a loss to explain what happened to his Rebels, proud Southeastern Conference champions. Their only signs of life came in the fourth quarter, and Alabama's defense proved equal to the occasion except for the one touchdown.

Tennis Group Says Mulloy Top Senior

NEW YORK (AP) — Gardner Mulloy, five-time winner of the national senior men's tennis title, is considered first among the men's senior singles and doubles players.

The United States Lawn Tennis Association ranking committee recommended Wednesday that Mulloy be ranked first for 1963. The recommendation must be approved at the USLTA's annual meeting Feb. 15 in Corpus Christi, Tex. Approval usually is automatic.

Mulloy and Billy Talbert were selected as tops in doubles. They hold the U.S. senior indoors doubles crown. Mulloy, who headed the listings last year, also is the senior indoor singles titlist.

Texas, Middles Take Home $200,000 Each

DALLAS (AP) — Texas and Navy each will receive $200,000 for playing in the Cotton Bowl Wednesday.

It is the largest payoff in the 28-year history of the bowl game, due to an increased television contract.

Navy will keep $196,250 of its share, with $3,750 going to the Eastern Collegiate Conference.

Texas will keep $60,000 and $2,000 travel expenses, and then share in the remaining $138,000 with the other seven members of the Southwest Conference.

North, South Set Workouts

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Two workouts were planned for both the North and South teams today in preparation for Saturday's Senior Bowl football clash.

Both Coach George Wilson of the North and South tutor Tom Landry said their squads would be bolstered by the arrival of players who participated in New Year's Day Bowl games.

The Yankees' elected Boston College quarterback Jack Conannon and Holy Cross center Jon Morris as their co-captains.

The election Wednesday followed a 10-minute head-knocking pass protection drill.

Boxing Group Assails Proposed Title Match

HAGERSTOWN, Ind. (AP) — A proposed flyweight championship rematch between Hiroyuki Ebihara of Japan and Pone Kingpetch of Thailand is under fire from the World Boxing Association.

Arch Hindman, executive secretary of the WBA, said Wednesday he had cabled the Japanese and Thailand boxing associations advising that drastic action probably would be taken if the bout should be recognized as a title fight.

Ebihara took the 112-pound crown from Kingpetch on a one-round knockout in Japan Sept. 18.

New Year Brings Snow, Ski Conditions 'Good'

In a strange beginning to the New Year ski season, the weatherman was very choosy where he dropped yesterday's new snowfall.

But in spite of his fickleness, conditions remain fair-to-good at all area resorts. Skiing is expected to improve at night after the warmer temperatures of the day have dropped below freezing.

The freezing temperatures will also permit local resorts to make snow the next few nights and recover most if not all they may lose during the day.

Neither Mount Brighton nor Mt. Holly reported any new snowfall yesterday. But Alpipe Valley, Pine Knob, Mt. Christie, Grampian Mountain, Kandahar Ski Club and Teepie Hill could boast of new accumulations.

Dryden, Summit Ski Club, Holly and Brighton are not expected to be hurt much by the lack of snowfall yesterday on their slopes.

All slopes and facilities generally will be working at the area resorts.

Summit begins skiing at 9:30 a.m. daily, while Teepie Hill and Pontiac Lake Recreation Area are open at 10 a.m. each weekend.

All other resorts begin skiing at 10 a.m. daily.

Among the resorts reporting to The Press this morning were Pine Knob which has 10-12 inches of base, an inch of new snow and two chair lifts and six tow ropes in operation, and Kandahar where skiing is reported good and all facilities operating.

Bypassed Aussie Wins

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Fred Stolle, the Wimbledon finalist who was passed over by Australia's Davis Cup selectors, defeated the man they picked, John Newcombe, 6-4, 10-8, Wednesday, for the Seaside Tennis Championship.

Newcombe, 19, lost to Americans Dennis Ralston and Chuck McKinley in the Davis Cup singles matches last week.

Netminder in Hot Seat on U.S. Hockey Team

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The man who isn't there poses a problem for the U.S. Olympic hockey team.

He's goalie Jack McCartan, who sparked the U.S. to its only Olympic title four years ago with a brilliant performance.

Now McCartan is a professional and America's hopes ride with Tom Yurkevich, a 28-year-old veteran who plays with Rochester, Minn., in the United States Hockey League, and 21-year-old Pat Rupp from Detroit, who plays with the Philadelphia Ramblers of the Eastern League.

"The big question is whether our goalies can possibly be as good as McCartan was," says Coach Eddie Jeremiah of Dartmouth. "He had as fantastic a series as any goalie I've ever seen."

"And in such a short series as the Olympics the goaltending is awfully important. Having a hot goalie is like having a stopper on your pitching staff in baseball."

The Olympians concluded the American phase of their exhibition schedule Wednesday night with a 16-7 record by defeating the St. Nicholas Hockey Club of New York 6-3 and Princeton 6-2. Each game consisted of two 15-minute periods.

The team leaves Friday for an 11-game European tour before the Winter Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria, from Jan. 29-Feb. 9. The Americans face Romania on Jan. 28 in a pre-Olympic qualifying round. The winner plays in the top half of the 16-team field and is eligible for the championship.

Kazoo Editor
Is Dead at 76

JACKSON (AP) — J. K. (Jack) Walsh, editor of The Kalamazoo Gazette from 1912 to 1959, died Wednesday at an Ann Arbor nursing home. He was 76 and had been in failing health for months.

Walsh was a past president of the Michigan Associated Press Editorial Association and was a member of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the National Press Club and the University Press Club.

A native of Melbourne, Australia, Walsh spent his adult life in the United States and became an American citizen in 1913. Through his participation in journalistic organizations, he became a widely known newsman in his adopted land.

He came to the United States in 1905 to enter Eureka, Ill. College, and later the University of Illinois. His first job in journalism was with the Daily Mail of Galesburg, Ill., where he advanced to city editor. Then he moved on to the Peoria (Ill.) Herald Transcript as city editor and editorial writer.

Upon joining The Kalamazoo Gazette in 1912, one of his first moves was to switch it from a morning to evening newspaper. Later on he was a pioneer in the use of Associated Press news pictures transmitted by wire, and Michigan became the first state to be blanketed by a wirephoto network.

Soviet Defector to Start New Life in Canada

LONDON (AP) — Anatoli Dolynitsyn, Soviet intelligence officer who defected to the West, has been quietly shipped from Britain to start a new life in Canada, official sources said today.

Dolynitsyn sought asylum at the British mission in Ottawa in 1962 and for 18 months was questioned by American and British agents. According to British newspapers he gave the tip which unmasked two major spies — admiralty clerk William John Vassall, now serving 18 years, and Harold Philby, former Foreign Office man now living in Moscow.

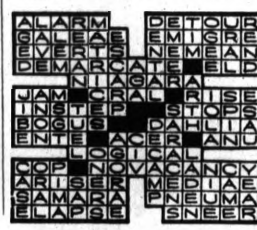

State Woman Dies
in Turnpike Crash

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — A Michigan woman was killed and her two sons injured Wednesday when their car spun out of control on the slippery Pennsylvania Turnpike near the Beaver Valley Interchange. Mrs. Edna Wallenmier, 50, of Detroit was dead on arrival at a Beaver Falls hospital. Her sons, Mike, 18, and Thomas, 22, were hurt, but not seriously.

Dixie Editor Expires

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — James M. Rogers, 53, editor of the Asheville Times, died on Wednesday. He had suffered from leukemia for four years. Rogers, editor of the Times since December 1961, served in several news capacities on the Times and the Asheville Citizen since 1936.

'Singing Nun' to Appear on Ed Sullivan Show

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The "Singing Nun" is coming to New York! At least we hear that Ed Sullivan's booked her for his show Jan. 5. . . . Ed, by the way, tells friends that the TV achievement he takes most pride in is getting national acceptance of Negro stars "way back to '48, when there was resistance. "That I fought for," he says. "Any other success I had was a matter of luck, or accidental."

Judy Garland's managers won't admit it yet, probably, but CBS brass decided against continuing her show, always subject to a last-minute change of heart. . . . Comedienne Pat Carroll of the Danny Thomas show, who lost her father and her home in the flood, reports she and husband Lee Karsian expect their third child in May. . . . Shapely Lenore Rheine, latest Wilson Girl, is Winter Queen at Fairmont Lodge, Lakewood, N.J. . . . Word painter Mike Romanoff, discussing close pal Frank Sinatra, says, "Frank has a genius for insubordination," adding, "I even like his faults."

Singer Jerry Vale, back at the Copa, is on the doorstep of greatness. Comedian Pat Henry, also on the bill, proposed taking up a fund for Michael Wilding, "an eccentric—the only guy who ever married Liz Taylor while she was single." He also spoke of those gals with modern coiffures — "They have swollen hair. I married a girl 5-feet-2, now she's 6-feet-8." But Pat, what about some gals who also have bouffant cheeks?

The new "Celebrity Register" by Cleveland Amory and Earl Blackwell has some hilarious reading; for example, about Robert Mitchum: When arrested for marijuana smoking in '48, a judge asked "What's your occupation?" Mitchum: "Former actor."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The most beautiful new cafe attraction in months is Cyd Charisse, appearing with husband Tony Martin in the Las Vegas Riviera. Sings, dances so divinely, what a figure, what gowns, what nice bows she takes! Bring her to N.Y. . . . The Las Vegas betting is that kidnaper Irwin (of the Frank Sinatra Jr. case) will, if convicted, get about 5 years, because his brother called the law enforcers. . . . There's a sweeter girl cabbie seen around Park Avenue who's so luscious the doormen refer to her as "Ava" as in Gardner.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Comedian Danny Davis, bought his girl the latest hot item—a combination sports car and lighter.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "The only way some folks can keep a New Year's resolution," according to Jimmy Dean, "is to have a copy locked up in a desk drawer."

REMEMBERED QUOTES: "Some people can stay longer in an hour than others in a week."

EARL'S PEARLS: In Hollywood it's like this, the jewelers sell adjustable wedding rings.

Less Drown in '63

Oakland County with its 450 lakes experienced a decrease in drownings for the second consecutive year in 1963.

The 15 drownings in 1963 was three less than the year before and 16 under the 31 dead from water mishaps in 1961.

Lt. Donald Kratt, head of the sheriff's department water safety division, said the 1963 figure was the lowest it has been since he took over the marine enforcement unit in 1958.

"It may be the lowest ever," said Kratt, adding that in past years drownings have averaged 20 annually.

Kratt said that while drownings have been reduced in the past two years, those using the lakes have tripled in the last five years.

"The credit has to go to the water deputies for their enforcement of water safety laws and to the public for their acceptance of the thousands of lectures given to them," Kratt added.

"Our safety program is apparently working, considering that only half of those drowned were county residents."

"Alert residents who saw young children playing in or near the water and called police to investigate also must be thanked for their cooperation."

Electric Blanket a Cover-Up?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When you give your wife an electric blanket for Christmas, you are making a dreadful mistake. But you do not realize this until it is too late.

For one thing, electric blankets are inclined to cause your friends and neighbors, and even your wife, to think of themselves as comedians.

"Does this mean the honeymoon is over?" My wife asked when she opened her present on Christmas morning. That was only the beginning.

Later on, when callers began dropping in, there were a lot of so-called jokes about "instant husbands" and that sort of thing.

The main difficulty comes, however, when you start trying to adjust to the blanket. And you have to adjust to the blanket because the blanket will not adjust to you.

We have been using the blanket for almost a week now, and we still are not completely adjusted.

DUAL CONTROLS

This blanket has "dual controls," the purpose of which is to permit one side of the bed to be warmer than the other. Or, as is frequently the case, one side to be cooler than the other.

If you are sleeping alone, it is an ideal setup. When one side of the bed becomes too warm, or too cool, you can regulate the temperature merely by rolling over to the other side.

But if you are married, the other side of the bed already is occupied. Presumably by your wife. The complicates matters immensely.

It then becomes necessary for you and your wife to trade places. Under the parliamentary situation that governs the use of an electric blanket, this requires a unanimous consent agreement, which is sometimes difficult to obtain.

LIKES CLIMATE

Should your wife deny your request for a transfer, insisting that she likes the climate where she is, you are forced to try to regulate the temperature with the "dual controls." Which is the last resort.

In the few nights that we have used the blanket, we have been unable to figure out which control controls which side of the bed.

If I wake up shivering and try to turn up the heat on my side, my wife will soon leap from the bed, glowing incandescently, and complain that she is being incinerated.

The other night, in desperation, we tried a new arrangement. Rather than put the blanket on the bed longways, we turned it crosswise. As a result, my feet roasted and her shoulders were cold.

So now I sleep with my head at the foot of the bed. It's pretty darned uncomfortable, but it's cheaper than a divorce.

Daily Protein Supply

WASHINGTON (UPI) — About four ounces of American cheese or three-fourths cup of cottage cheese will provide one-third of a day's protein needs,

Odd 'Critter' Aids NY Cleanup Drive

NEW YORK (AP) — There is now a "Litter Critter" at work helping promote the clean-up-the-city campaign here.

The animal-like creature's trunk is a vacuum pipe, its nose a flashing red light, its ears brushes and its voice a tape recording of the cleanup message. It was made of spare parts from the sanitation department.

Some sea lions weigh more than 1,500 pounds.

Shooting Ends Argument

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — A fender bending accident New Year's Eve developed into a fender-denting contest and ended when one angry driver shot the other in the leg.

Police said James G. Beall, 21, of Riverview, Fla., surrendered on aggravated assault charges several hours after the incident, and Carter Bryan of Gulfport, Fla., was hospitalized in good condition.

Beall and Bryan were driving in downtown St. Petersburg when one of them — police are not sure which — changed lanes and bumped the other car.

The accidental collision led to a series of intentional fender bendings that police said finally stopped when the two men pulled to the curb to argue about their crumpled fenders.

Beall reached into his glove compartment, took out a pistol, loaded it and shot Bryan in the leg, police said. He surrendered himself a few hours later.

Auto Show 1st of Type in 1964

The second annual automobile show opening at The Mall tomorrow will be the first such exhibition of this type in this region for 1964.

And while visitors are looking at the shiny array of 40 new domestic model cars, they will be carefully observed by representatives of the major auto firms watching for a new trend.

"This is the largest and possibly the only such auto show in an indoor shopping center," explained John Noreen, president of the Pontiac Automotive Trade Association.

"Our primary purpose in holding the show here is to utilize the Mall concourse as a huge indoor heated showroom. It will be a real convenience for all those who haven't had the opportunity to visit the individual dealers."

9 AREA DEALERS

Nine area new car dealers affiliated with the association are participating, in copponsorship with the Mall Merchants Association, Noreen said.

Besides the variety of sedan, station wagon and convertible models which will be displayed, there will be special-interest exhibits of a cut-away car and vehicle components.

Noreen, who is also general manager of Matthews-Hargreaves, Inc., said his firm and Chevrolet Motor will award three children's-size motorized Corvette models during a drawing.

The show will continue through Jan. 11. The exhibits will be manned 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. daily, except Sunday, by dealers' representatives.

FIRST SHOW

The first show was held at the Mall in October 1962, Noreen recalled, and may have been the first of its kind at an indoor shopping center.

"The manufacturers have shown great interest in this 1964 show because of its unique location and have offered considerable help in making this an event shoppers as well as show visitors will enjoy."

Others are Jerome Motor Sales Co., 280 S. Saginaw; Oakland Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc., 724 Oakland.

ENGINEERING TEST — Rounding a steeply banked curve and heading into a 2.6-mile straightaway, this 1964 Pontiac is undergoing an engineering test at the General Motors Milford Proving Ground under road conditions duplicating a modern expressway. The long, smooth, and level straightaways of this GM facility are used for running acceleration, braking, and fuel-economy tests.

GM Proving Grounds Puts Cars Through Their Paces

Extending over 4,011 acres in the rolling hills of Oakland County, the main General Motors Proving Ground is located near Milford, some 40 miles northwest of downtown Detroit.

The auto industry's first proving ground—established in 1924—it is the largest and finest equipped automotive test ground in the world.

The GM Proving Ground is laced by more than 65 miles of road, constructed on different types of terrain and surfaced with a wide variety of materials.

Its 37 buildings house test garages, a noise and vibration laboratory, chassis dynamometers, a weather station and other testing aids.

BORN OF FRUSTRATIONS

In a way, this engineering enterprise was born of frustrations—the inability of test engineers to garner reliable data from public roads and highways.

Not only were they interrupted by traffic hazards and uncertainties, but also composition and contours of roads changed from year to year, rendering useless any data gathered from previous tests.

Engineers, who can be passionate perfectionists, have to run tests under controlled conditions, insofar as possible. Only then can they cite performance facts as gospel and set up fixed standards.

This, in the main, was the idea motivating GM's engineering bosses when they scouted for good proving terrain within the vicinity of Pontiac, Detroit, Lansing, Flint, and other GM localities.

DUPLICATES ALL TYPES

They wanted a site where a private road system could be surveyed to duplicate virtually any type of surface or grade in the country.

But much more than that, they wanted a proving ground to provide them a set of contrasts by which they could measure car, truck and bus performance—and, in later years, military vehicle performance.

Principal activities now carried on at the main Proving Ground are:

1. Conduct of engineering and durability tests of current production cars and trucks by the Proving Ground staff.

2. Development and test work on future models by individual GM divisions, using Proving Ground facilities.

SPECIAL INSTRUMENTS

3. Service activity of the Proving Ground staff in developing and building special test instrumentation and furnishing other specialized engineering services, such as those of the new noise and vibration laboratory.

Durability tests are probably the best known, but not necessarily the most important, of the Proving Ground's functions. With the advent of a new model year, the Proving Ground staff purchases a fleet of more than 100 cars built by GM and other companies.

These are bought mainly through regular dealer channels, just as any purchaser would arrange to buy them. Each is a regular production automobile.

One of each model is made available to divisional engineers who wish to test it personally. Another is put through engineering tests—acceleration, braking, fuel economy, hill climbing and other performance paces.

FANTASTIC ACCURACY

All tests are conducted not only with cold-blooded impartiality but also, with fantastic accuracy. For instance, an acceleration test from 0 to 60 miles per hour is no stopwatch-and-speedometer exercise.

Rather, an electronic recording instrument charts the entire test automatically on tape with a time-distance oscillograph. Results are recorded in hundredths of a second—distance in feet, and gain in speed in miles per hour.

Ford Keeps Women in Mind

On the Perry Como television show the chorus used to sing, "Letters, letters — we get stacks and stacks of letters."

Well, Ford Motor Company gets stacks and stacks of letters, too, and a great many of them come from women.

As a matter of fact, women are Ford's most articulate correspondents, and through letters, surveys and just plain conversations with women, the company has learned a lot that has been useful in planning its products.

To Ford, of course, it's just good business to listen to what women have to say for they are becoming a very important factor in the automobile market as more and more women learn to drive.

MEN OUTNUMBERED

Currently, women 18 and over in the United States outnumber men by about 3,000,000. By 1965 they will lead by 3,500,000 and by 1980 will have a 5,500,000 edge.

Presently, about 39 per cent of the country's licensed drivers are women. But their number is growing rapidly.

Licensing statistics give an indication of what is happening. Only 18 per cent of all women in their 60s are licensed to drive. But as age decreases, the licensed percentage increases sharply.

Thirty-two per cent of women in their 50s, 47 per cent of those per cent of those in their 20s and 30s have driver licenses.

DISCONTENTED

Younger women are no longer content to let men do the driving. More and more they are getting behind the wheel and providing much of the stimulus for the second and third car in the family.

Almost 25 per cent of women licensed to drive live in households that own more than one car. Only about 21 per cent of licensed men drivers are members of multicar households.

With this rising feminine interest in automobiles, Ford pays close attention to what women say they want in their automobiles.

Women have been a major influence in rising sales of such optional equipment as automatic transmissions, power steering, power brakes and radios. And when they asked for brighter colors and better interior fabrics, they got what they wanted.

Fabrics now available are highly durable, can be cleaned with warm water and a damp cloth, and can be ordered in almost any color or combination of colors.

Ford went so far as to redesign the driver area and controls on one of its cars to accommodate short women.

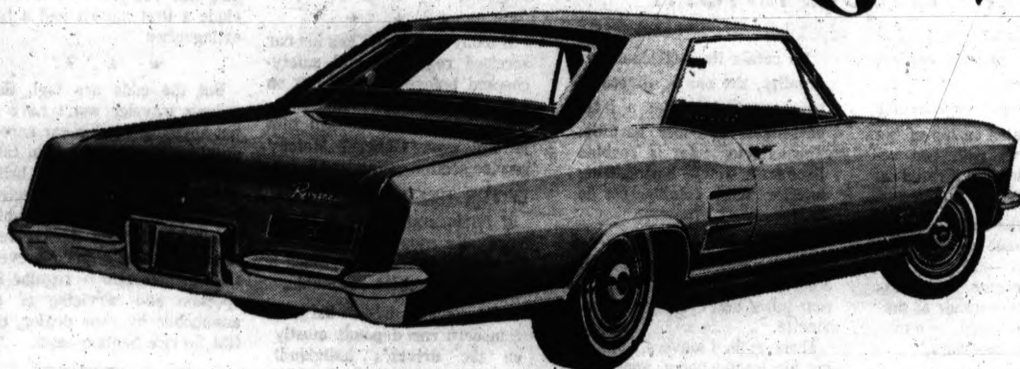

The steering wheel diameter and steering column length on the 1964 Falcon have been reduced to permit better visibility over the wheel.

Seat track travel was increased in length, and the brake, clutch and accelerator pedals were relocated to make it easier for short women to drive.

POWER STYLING — The exterior design of Chrysler Corp.'s limited production turbine car, now undergoing a test drive program, has been keyed to the radical powerplant under the hood.

A bladed-wheel motif has been incorporated in styling of front and rear lights, wheel covers and steering wheel.

Are You Planning a Trip? Double Check These Items

Recommended items to be carried in the car by anyone planning a motor trip:

Extra cans of oil, plenty of rope, a block and tackle, a small electric light, a supply of inner tubes, a coil of copper wire, a bottle of kerosene to remove carbon from the cylinders, a varied supply of bolts, a collapsible canvas pail for radiator water, several spark plugs, a tool kit, a small soldering iron for leaks in the radiator, a pump or air bottles, and a can of grease.

Of course that advice wasn't meant for the modern day motorist. It was given by an early automotive journal to the driver of a half-century ago.

If today's motorist has his car serviced regularly and safety-checked before starting out on trips, his current model automobile is unlikely to fail him in any way, General Motors' service section points out.

LITTLE HELP

If he is stalled by a breakdown, the most complete tool kit won't help him very much if he's not an expert mechanic.

The "carry with" list for a modern car depends mostly on the driver's individual needs and mechanical abilities and the weather and road conditions he expects to encounter.

FEW TIPS

Here are a few basic tips:
• Be sure the car's jack and a lug wrench are in the trunk; flat tires are still the number one cause of highway breakdowns.

• Have a flashlight that works.

• Have a good warning signal, such as a red railroad flare or a flasher device, to display if stalled on the road.

• If expecting to encounter snow and ice, you may want to carry tire chains, some sand, and a shovel.

• If crossing a desert, you may want extra water.

• A few basic tools may be worth carrying if you know your way around underneath the hood.

• A cleaning rag or two will be welcome if you ever do have to do a repair job.

Other items a driver may also find use for sometime include a first aid kit and a fire extinguisher.

But the odds are high that today's traveler won't have to put anything into his car except gasoline, oil and water to take him where he's going and bring him back. Much more effective for assuring a safe and trouble-free trip than the most extensive tool kit is a good preventive maintenance — regular inspection and servicing of an automobile by your dealer, the GM Service Section says.

Swiss Auto Toll Road Is Off to a Bad Start

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — An auto toll road which will link two Swiss cities, Lausanne and Geneva, for the 1964 Exposition, already has a death toll of 10 chalked up months before its official opening.

Bloomfield Twp. Man Aiding in Turbine Car Experiment

A Bloomfield Township man, Charles H. Goebel, 3280 Greentree, is now driving one of the first of Chrysler Corporation's radical turbine-engined cars.

Goebel is taking part in a unique test drive program in which Chrysler furnishes the car for a 90-day period. Goebel will be asked to report to Chrysler engineers his driving experience with it.

He is the only Detroit-area resident so far selected for the program. Goebel is a vice president for Wayne-Oakland Bank.

Livelier performance, lower weight in a more compact size and quieter operation are the major improvements listed by Chrysler Corp. for the turbine engine which powers the 50 limited-production passenger cars.

USES EXPERIENCE

The new gas turbine engine incorporates experience gained from the first turbine, which was essentially a laboratory tool; from the second engine, designed in the 200-horsepower range and tested cross-country in 1956; and with the third generation engine which made a coast-to-coast test run in 1961.

It has 80 per cent less moving parts than conventional automobile engines.

It weighs only 410 pounds, as compared with 600 pounds in a reciprocating engine of the same horsepower.

It develops 130 horsepower — producing car activity equivalent to a 200-horsepower V8 engine equipped with power accessories.

MAJOR BREAKTHROUGH

It features a major breakthrough in turbine engine design — a gas generator acceleration time of one second from idle to maximum output.

It has excellent fuel economy.

It is quiet and vibration-free.

It provides engine braking comparable to conventional engines with automatic transmissions.

It can withstand the high heat generated by this type of power plant because of Chrysler's discovery of new low-cost, low-alloy materials.

In the new turbine engine, Chrysler engineers have replaced the single regenerator which was located on top of the previous engines with two regenerators which are located on either side of the new engine.

The use of the dual regenerators has made possible a more compact — 25 per cent smaller — engine and has changed the appearance of the engine considerably, compared to its predecessors.

Incorporation of the dual regenerators also has added to the efficiency of the engine. The regenerators are heat exchangers that recover heat from the exhaust gases and use it to pre-heat incoming air to the fuel burner.

By using two heat exchangers instead of one, Chrysler engineers have assured an equal distribution of heat to both sides of the engine.

GEAR DRIVE

The control mechanism for the variable nozzles which provide engine braking and increased performance has been improved. Engineers have discarded the ball-and-groove drive formerly used and replaced it with a gear drive that reduces lost motion and friction losses.

Hydraulic and lubrication systems for the new turbine engine have been combined into one system.

One fluid (Type A transmission oil) is used as a lubricating oil for the engine and transmission; and as a hydraulic fluid for power steering, transmission control and nozzle control systems. One pump serves all systems.

Chrysler turbine engineers have modified the company's TorqueFlite transmission for use in the limited production turbine car.

ACCENTS CAR

In styling, a bladed-wheel motif, characterizing the circular shape of the turbine engine and its vital components, accents the car throughout from headlights to back-up lights, from wheel covers to steering wheel. The smooth, flowing lines are highlighted by a "swept back" rear design to give the Chrysler Corporation Turbine Car a distinctive appearance.

To retain its individual personality, the car is offered in only one body style: a four-passenger, two-door hardtop. The exterior color is Turbine Bronze. A single harmonizing interior trim combination is used.

The roof of the car is covered in black vinyl. It is supported by a narrow front pillar and a wide rear pillar and creates a low silhouette.

Three grilled louvers, simulating air intake vents, appear on each front fender just behind the headlights. The turbine motif is evident in the bladed wheel covers and the special design of the tires. The word "Turbine" in bright metal script appears toward the back of both rear fenders.

The front end styling is dominated by two large tubular headlight rims which house 7-inch head lamps.

The headlamp housings, which are structurally reinforced, also serve as the front bumpers of the car. They are detailed to connote turbine impellers.

Variety Spice of Chevrolet

Division Adds Line to Appeal to Buyer

Chevrolet Motor Division is banking on continuing its sales success into 1964 with the widest choice of automobiles offered in its history. The buyer can choose from 45 models in five sizes.

Included will be an all-new car for 1964 — the Chevelle, sized between the regular Chevrolet and Chevy II.

All Chevrolet's five lines of 1964 cars have styling and engineering improvements which — teamed with the increase in models and options — allow the customer to tailor a car to his particular requirements.

"Car buyers today like diversity," Semon E. Knudsen, Chevrolet general manager, declares. "They like to be able to choose cars from a wide selection of sizes, styles and performance characteristics."

LARGER, WIDER

Although over-all dimensions are the same as in 1963, the wider look created by new flowing side lines and a smooth, broader styling of front and rear ends.

Crisp, distinctive exterior moldings and interior appointments distinguish between the Super Sport, Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series.

Seven engines ranging from 140 to 425 horsepower will be offered. Optional for the first time in 1964 on 409 cubic inch engines is a full transistor ignition system.

Chevrolet's new Chevelle automobile line for 1964 will be offered in 11 models in three series — the top-of-the-line Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300.

POPULAR BLEND

In its third year on the market, the Chevy II continues popular blend of small car handling, roominess, economy and good taste in a total of 6 models in two series — the Nova and the 100 series.

The basic styling personality of the Chevy II is continued in 1964.

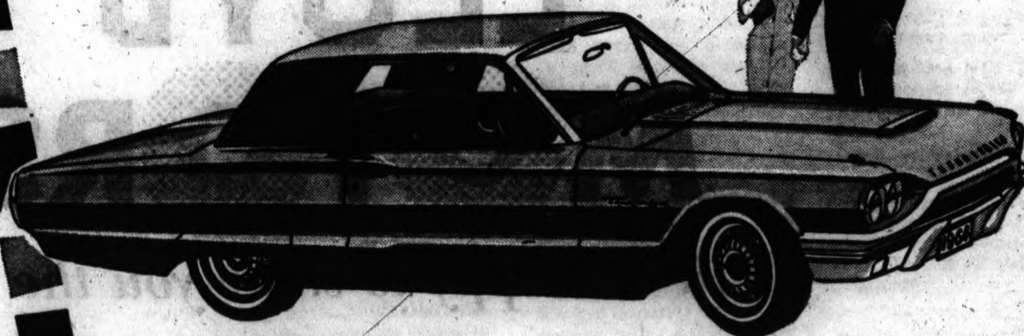

Entering its fifth year, the Corvair will continue its important place in the Chevrolet lineup by appealing to a group of buyers who like something sportier and less conventional in a small car.

MONZA SERIES

A Monza Spyder series comprised of a top-of-the-line convertible and club coupe is added for 1964, bringing the total models to seven in four series — the Monza Spyder, Monza, 700 and 500 series, plus two Greenbrier Sports Wagons.

America's only sports car Corvair, fresh from its most successful year in 1963 continues the famed design of its two Sting Ray models, the convertible and the sport coupe for 1964.

Restyling in Falcon, Ford for '64

Total performance is a completely restyled package, with three distinctive new roof lines and a roomier interior, keynotes the Ford and Ford Falcon for 1964.

All 16 models in the 1964 Ford lineup — including the uniquely styled four-door hardtop models — are designed to combine an exterior look of greater luxury with luxury engineering features.

The new Ford has been redesigned inside as well to reduce the front compartment tunnel size by one-third and to increase headroom and seat height over 1963 by as much as an inch.

Weight of the 1964 Ford compares favorably with cars in the medium-priced field. The added weight results in a more solid, longer-lasting body, greater ruggedness and durability and less road shock and noise.

NEW IN LINEUP

New in the Ford power lineup for 1964 is a Thunderbird Special 352-cubic-inch V8 with 4-barrel carburetion rated at 250 horsepower and offering both good performance and good economy on regular fuel.

Five engine choices, four different transmissions and five rear-axle ratios complete a choice of performance-economy options.

The versatile Cruise-O-Matic Dual Range three-speed transmission will be available for the first time in 1964 with all engines except the Thunderbird High-Performance 427.

The three-speed, manual-shift, all-synchromesh transmission introduced last year is again standard on all 1964 Fords except 500/XL models and those powered by the Thunderbird High-Performance 427 CID V8 engine.

The fully synchronized forward gears permit smooth, effortless shifting—even into low gear when the car is moving—to make all three gears usable at appropriate car speeds as desired.

Added to the three-year or 36,000-mile major lubrication interval pioneered on the Ford last year are new extended-life headlamps. The "24-24" total car warranty—for 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever occurs first—is continued for the 1964 Ford.

The quality and luxury look of the 1964 Ford line is keynoted by a three-dimensional, horizontal bar grille. Widely spaced dual headlamps and a full-depth and full wrap-around bumper give the cars a lower, wider and more massive front end appearance.

A sculptured metal treatment, suggestive of luxury and motion, carries from the rear deck into the rear body panel. The taillights continue the traditional round design but are newly styled for 1964.

1964 DODGE DART GT 2-DOOR HARDTOP

Have we got a lot to show you

Oh boy! Curtain up. It's auto show time again, and the Dependables for '64 are here. The new '64 standard-size Dodge. Compact Dodge Dart. And big new Dodge 880.

The '64 Dodge—more elegant than ever. With a wide selection of interiors. A complete choice of models. Some with bucket seats, some with regular seats and some with a flip-down center arm rest that lets you enjoy the advantages of bucket seats without paying for them. The price on the '64 Dodge? Right with Ford and Chevy.

Take a good look at our compact Dodge Dart, too. It's the fresh new compact in the large economy size. A little bigger outside, a lot roomier inside. A little more power under the hood, a lot more fun on the road. For a fact, few compacts cost less than Dart. Not one gives you as much for the money.

And don't go away. We have another handsome treat for you. The big Dodge 880—built for the man who likes everything in his motoring big... except the price. The big Dodge 880 isn't shown above, but don't miss it at the show.

See them all, The Dependables from Dodge for 1964... the most talked-about, walked-about models at the show, bar none. Then for the best show of all, try 'em on the road. The man to see is your dependable Dodge Dealer. See him soon.

Pontiac's Tempest Is All-New Breed

Pontiac Motor Division's Tempest for 1964 emerges as a new and different breed of car with all-new styling, new engines, new frame, new bodies and new interiors.

In addition to the regular Tempest and LeMans models, a new Custom series is introduced for 1964.

There will be a total of nine different models available in the three Tempest series.

E. M. Estes, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, described the 1964 Tempest as being 8.7 inches longer than previous models and employing many significant design changes that include a more powerful six-cylinder, in-line engine, a perimeter frame and completely restyled bodies. The wheelbase has been increased to 115 inches for an over-all length of 203 inches.

"The design concept of Pontiac's newest family-size Tempest will enhance our position as an industry leader," Estes stated in announcing his company's new cars.

"With their larger bodies of frame-type construction, high-performing six and eight-cylinder engines and numerous other important advances in both engineering and styling, the 1964 Tempest represents a significant development with tremendous sales potential," Estes said.

The Tempest and Tempest Custom series have large, single tail lamps that follow the contours of the quarter panel and bumper ends.

The new wide face bumpers are "full size" and their wrap-around design is for both protection and good looks.

The LeMans series is quickly identified by its own distinctive grille treatment and rear end design.

FLASHY LINEUP — Here is Ford Motor Company's three latest experimental cars. They are (from top) the Mustang, described as a sports car with fixed seats and adjustable steering wheel and foot pedals; the Allegro, which features a cantilevered-arm steering wheel and other driver conveniences, and the Cougar II, designed as a total-performance, but all-weather vehicle.

Experimental Vehicles

Ford to Show New Sport Cars

"Cougar II," lithe, cat-like.
"Allegro," brisk and lively.
"Mustang," small, hardy, half-wild.

These are three experimental cars, destined for the New York World's Fair, to be previewed at auto shows across the country by Ford Motor Co. in the next few months.

Before they join the Ford exhibit of highly styled vehicles in New York in April 1964, these new designs of advanced automotive stylists will be seen by millions.

The Cougar II is the most recent of a series of styling experimental cars from the studios of the Ford Styling Center at Dearborn, Michigan. It is described by Gene Bordinat, vice president and director of styling, as "a simple yet unique design for effective total performance in a distinctive, versatile, all-weather vehicle."

Powered by a 260-cubic-inch, high-performance V8 engine, the car could be engineered to attain speeds in the 170 miles per hour range, according to Mr. Bordinat. "Even with its racing potential, the car would not look out of place at the opera or the shopping center," he said.

Cougar II has a "fastback" roof, concealed "pop-up" headlamps and a businesslike fully instrumented interior. The styling experimental car is 167.8 inches long and has a 90-inch wheelbase. Over-all height is 47.8 inches, over-all width 66.6 inches, tread width 50.5 inches in front and 52 inches in the rear.

An unusual feature across the rear of the passenger compartment is an air pressure relief panel, a self-operating gate that opens when interior air pressure exceeds 15 pounds per square inch.

"This device was incorporated not only because of the extreme speeds such a vehicle could attain," Mr. Bordinat said, "but also because the roof panel could be designed to be detachable. With the roof panel removed, considerable pressure could be built up against the fixed rear window (backlight) at high speeds."

The "Allegro," developed by advanced stylists and engineers as a study in new design features and unique mechanical devices, was described by Mr. Bordinat as "a car of the future that could be built today."

The exterior of the Allegro is distinguished by a long hood with the grille extending forward of the headlights, a compact passenger compartment and a "fastback" roofline. Inside, the Allegro contains refinements of control features originally found on the Mustang experimental sports car, with some new ones added.

It incorporates further advances in adjustable brake and accelerator pedals, fixed seats and retractable seat belts. Most prominent of its pioneering features is an entirely new concept in driver comfort — a unique cantilevered-arm steering wheel with a memory unit.

The Mustang, Ford's spirited experimental sports car, has a power-packed V4 engine that yields exciting performance for driving on the highways or on the race circuits. The diminutive two-seater is less than hip height at the top of the roll bar (32.6 inches) and less than 13 feet long.

Economy Run Competitor Gives Tips on Saving Gas

American Motors staff engineer Les Viland, one of the nation's leading economy drivers, says the average motorist can increase his gasoline mileage 10 per cent or more by mastering a few gas - stretching driving habits and keeping his car properly tuned.

Viland has posted the top miles - per - gallon in virtually every major economy event in which he has competed, including six Mobil Economy Runs and three consecutive Pure Oil Economy Trials.

He said the following driving techniques provide greater fuel economy:

• Drive with a sensitive foot using a light, steady pressure on the accelerator. Pretend there is a fragile object between your foot and the pedal. This will soon become a habit.

• Avoid jack-rabbit starts which over-feed the carburetor and waste fuel by holding automatic transmissions in low gear longer than necessary.

• Accelerate gradually while climbing hills, and pace yourself with traffic so as to avoid slowing down and speeding up excessively.

• Keep within the posted speed limits, especially in turnpike driving. Above 60 miles per hour, gasoline consumption increases at a tremendous rate even on the best-tuned car.

• Drive as far ahead of your car as vision permits to avoid unnecessary stops due to red lights and slow traffic. In heavy traffic, stay in your lane and avoid sudden, abrupt changes in speed.

• Turn off the engine when stopped for an extended period. Even a minute's idling uses more gas than restarting.

• Courteous driving is also economical driving. Competitive driving on the highway is not only unsafe, it is also costly in terms of fuel, tires and brakes.

Viland said observance of these few driving rules and a properly tuned engine operating at peak efficiency will add 25 to 25 miles to every tankful of gasoline.

"For the average motorist, this means about $35 to $50 more in his pocket each year," he said.

Steering Is Up-to-Date as Your Car

Automobile steering wheels have advanced through the years from the time when the rims were composed of eight wooden segments sometimes more than 18½ inches in diameter to today's slim, rubber or plastic turning devices usually about 16½ inches across.

A pioneer in this steering wheel progress was the Inland Manufacturing Division of General Motors and its predecessor, the Wright Airplane Co.

In 1921 the Wright firm made steering wheel rims from a continuous strip of laminated veneer.

Chevrolet and Cadillac were the first users of this type of wheel.

RUBBER INTRODUCED

In 1924, about a year after the company had been renamed Inland Manufacturing and had become a part of GM, rubber steering wheels with metal reinforcement were first put into mass production.

In 1936, following development of newer plastic materials, plastic steering wheels were made and became available as optional equipment on General Motors cars.

Today Inland produces more than 4½-million steering wheels a year in its Dayton, Ohio, plant. About 60 per cent of them are rubber and the remainder plastic.

Safety Marks '64 Rambler

New Features Make Driving Easier, Safer

Numerous safety features to protect car occupants and lessen driver strain and fatigue have been incorporated into the 1964 Rambler line, according to R. H. Isbrandt, vice president — automotive engineering and research, American Motors Corporation.

"Safety design to make the driver more alert and responsive is just as important as those aimed primarily to protect the driver and passengers in case of accident," Isbrandt said. "The combination of both aspects has been considered in our over-all safety design concept."

Rambler's advanced unit-body construction provides greater torsional rigidity, resulting in a stronger, safer car without squeaks and rattles, he said.

"The greater body strength is important for durability and protection under impact, but even such a seemingly small factor like an annoying body noise can irritate the driver, thereby distracting him from concentrating on his driving and traffic around him," Isbrandt said.

DOUBLE MARGIN

The Double-Safety brake system, standard on all Rambler models, gives a double margin of safety in the event of a hydraulic brake failure, he said. This tandem system provides separate brakes both front and rear. Should one system fail, the other will still operate to stop the car.

Another standard Rambler feature, the ceramic-armored muffler, exhaust pipe and tailpipe, is one of the most durable and maintenance free in the industry.

The ceramic coating is fused to the entire exhaust system at a temperature of 1500 degrees Fahrenheit, making it impervious to acids and other corrosive condensates which collect in the exhaust assembly. Its durability and long life help prevent the possibility of carbon monoxide entering the passenger compartment.

A new roof line is introduced with the four door hardtop in Ford Galaxie 500 and 500/XL models for 1964. Sedans, sports hardtops and four-door hardtops now have individual roof styling to give each model a distinctive character.

The vinyl roof, optional on Ford Galaxie 500 and Ford Galaxie 500/XL two-door hardtop models, adds to the already glamorous convertible look of this body style.

Completely restyled for the first time since its introduction four years ago, the Ford Falcon for 1964 combines a new look of action with a more spacious interior, added economy and a dramatically smoother new ride.

Along with its new styling, comfort and convenience, Falcon for 1964 offers even more of its traditional big car value in the handy compact size.

'Used' Cars Prove Profitable

By A. F. MAHAN

LUDINGTON (AP) — Think you got a good price when you sold the old car?

Bet you didn't do as well as 33-year-old Don Miller of Ludington. He got three times as much for a used car as it cost new.

Several people in this Lake Michigan port have done just as well, and some even have turned down four times the new car price for muchly used ones.

The car on which Don Miller almost quadrupled the original selling price not only was used, but it was 33 years old—a 1930 Model A Ford roadster he had painstakingly restored to near-new condition.

GETS $1,650

Originally it sold for $440, plus optional accessories. Miller got $1,650 for it.

This city of 9,421 has more than its share of old car buffs. It has enough, in fact, to organize its own parade of yesteryear cars, dating all the way back to a curved-dash Oldsmobile of 1904.

The man with the Oldsmobile and more old cars than anyone hereabout is fruit farmer Carl Sellner. In all, he has 22, of which he has restored a dozen.

Besides the curved-dash Olds, his collection also includes a 1908 Pierce-Arrow Race About, a 1909 one-cylinder Brush, a 1910 White Steamer, a 1917 Detroit Electric, a 1931 American Austin, a 1932 12-cylinder Packard and a 1937 twelve-cylinder, P-3 Rolls Royce, among others.

NONE FOR SALE

Sellner steadfastly declines to estimate his investment in old cars, and just as obstinately refuses to put a price on any one of them, "because none is for sale."

"Restoring them is a hobby," he says. "I collect them like some people do stamps. The fun is in restoring and driving, not selling."

"It's a labor of love, you might say. Even if I did sell one I probably wouldn't get enough to pay me for the time I've put in on it."

Young Miller, a partner with his parents in operation of a downtown motel, says none of the half dozen he has now are for sale, and that he bid goodbye to the 1930 roadster for $1,650 "only because I needed more room."

ALWAYS WANTED IT

Between acquisition and sale of the Model A Miller acquired a wife and two children.

Even before he did his Army stint, Miller recalls he had "always wanted a Model A roadster, just to fix up for the heck of it." The Veterans Motor Car Club held its convention at his motel in 1955 and at that time he found where the long-wanted Ford was for sale for $100.

That $100 investment turned out to be worth $1,650. But that profit and more has gone into other old vehicles.

Currently Miller is working on something that drove new-car nuts of 1930 even daffier. It is a sporty, straight-eight Packard in his collection. Restoring old cars is his hobby, and he won't part with any of them once they're completed.

MONEY MAKER—Don Miller, 33, of Ludington is shown boarding a 1933 Packard he bought for $1,500 and restored. The touring car, one of several old vehicles Miller has restored, would bring $3,000 if he sold it now.

BEER WELL

Front-fender wells hold tired spare wheels. Immediately behind the front seat is a galvanized beer well. A metal trunk dresses off the rear.

If you've been led to think automatic lubrication is something brand new, you've got another think coming. This 1930 Packard has it. What is more, there is a third headlight (which Miller hasn't put back yet) which fits between the other two and steers with the front wheels.

Miller acquired it for $1,500 through an advertising sheet put out by the Kansas City Classic Car Club. He estimates when he's finished with it, the Packard would fetch about $3,000—which it did when new.

When he'll be finished he doesn't estimate, but he recalls

"it took me six months just to get the paint off" a 1934 Packard four-door which he also is restoring.

OBVIOUSLY PROUD

"You don't measure your time on these things," he says. "Getting 'em back exactly like they were is the thing."

Pride is obvious on his part as people stop to admire his handiwork, done in the family's garage attached to the motel.

"Driving 'em's fun," he says, adding with a grin: "But when you park people won't let you alone. They've got a million questions to ask, and every kid's got to have a ride."

Among Miller restorations is a 1929 Model A touring car, and he says that every week he could sell it for the $1,650 that the roadster brought.

"But what if I did?" he asks. Then he answers his own question thus: "Just go buy another one."

Also in the Miller stable is a 1950 Ki50 Jaguar, which he acquired "in pretty sad shape," a 1956 DeSoto station wagon, "ditto," and a 1930 Packard sedan, "from which I scrounge parts" and which was last licensed in 1940 while being used by a Blissfield garage owner as a tow truck.

Mike McDonald, a Ludington bakery operator, has both a Model T and Model A Ford, and, since McDonald also is a volunteer fireman, he also has a restored fire engine.

26 Models for Plymouth

6 Engines, Product Improvements Told

In Plymouth's line of new cars for 1964 are 26 different models, a choice of six engines and product improvements which aim at superior reliability, long-lasting quality and brisk performance.

All models are covered by Chrysler Corp.'s five-year or 50,000-mile warranty on engine and drive train components.

Sedans, hardtops and convertibles are 1½ inches longer and all sedans and hardtops have increased head room and improved driver vision. They have many new optional features including a four-speed, floor-mounted manual transmission.

The 1964 Plymouth line consists of seven different body styles in four series — the Sport Fury, Fury, Belvedere and Savoy. All models are available with V8 engines. Nine are available with a lively, thirty-six with higher compression for improved efficiency.

Here are some of the highlights on each series:

Sport Fury — This is Plymouth's premium series, consisting of a two-door hardtop and a convertible. The two-door hardtop has a distinctively new styling appeal for 1964, with a new roof line which gives it a convertible motif.

Both models have distinctive exterior trim and exceptional interiors, including front bucket seats, deep pile carpeting and many extras as standard equipment.

NEW FEATURE

A new feature in the Sport Fury is a center console with a gear selector for Plymouth's TorqueFlite transmission.

Fury — This is Plymouth's top full-line series and includes 2- and 4-door hardtops, 4-door sedans, a convertible and 6- and 8-passenger wagons, with deluxe equipment and distinctive exterior trim. Fury cars have stainless steel dual side moldings with contrasting point inserts, special triple-divided taillight lenses and other identifying trim features.

Belvedere — This is a big selling series of well-equipped and tastefully trimmed cars, available with a wide variety of optional features in five body styles — 2- and 4-door hardtops, 2-door sedans and 6- and 8-passenger wagons. Belvedere models have full-length body side moldings and chrome framed medallions on rear roof pillars.

Savoy — This also is a big selling series of family cars, with a special appeal to the economy-minded, available as a 4-door or 2-door sedan, 6-passenger or 8-passenger wagon.

Many Savoy cars are equipped with Plymouth's economy slant six engine, but they also are available with the standard or optional V8 engines, and with manual or automatic transmissions.

Broken Arm Indicated Car Owner

There was a time when a broken right arm was a badge of distinction.

It usually meant the wearer of the cast was the proud—if injured—owner of a horseless carriage.

The badge of distinction disappeared with the advent of the self-starter for automobiles. That began in the year 1910 when the late Charles F. (Boss) Kettering, who became GM research director, devised the electrical apparatus which today is accepted as "another part of the car."

In the early days of motoring there was affixed to the forward engine mounting as "S" shaped piece of iron which could be slotted into an extension of the crankshaft.

ROTARY MOTION

By grasping the end of the "S" handle and performing a rotary motion of hand and arm (accompanied by bending of body, weaving of head and sweating of brow), it was possible, on most occasions, to "generate" enough electricity to cause a spark in the plugs and thereby fire the gasoline in the cylinders and start the engine.

Also in those early days, the "spark was adjusted by hand." This was a term meaning to preset the ignition contacts so that the engine would fire when the rotation of the engine coincided with that of the preset "timer."

This manual setting of the spark often caused the engine to fire before the piston had reached the top of the stroke and thereby reversing the cycle.

With the crank lined to the end of the crankshaft, such backward revolution brought the crank handle back into the arm of the "cranker," dealing the forearm a severe blow. Often both arm bones were shattered.

IN 1911

With the "self-starter," first introduced on a Cadillac in the year 1911, doctor bills for repairing broken arms of car cranks were virtually eliminated.

Engineering improvements on starter motors manufactured by the Delco-Remy Division of General Motors have been made constantly since the first "Boss Ket" models.

Today an 18-pound electric motor on a modern car will develop 1.62 horsepower and is designed to turn over a 348-horsepower engine at 100 revolutions per minute.

Starting motors now usually run as long as a car is in use; today's units have a record of better than 20,000 "starts" on testing blocks. They normally cause the engine to fire in less than five seconds.

Name of Auto Evokes Image

Plays Important Role in Promotion, Sales

What's in a name? If it's a name on a Ford Motor Co. product, many months of market research and review may have gone into it to make certain it is the right one.

Selection of a name for a new auto model, engine or transmission is something akin to the complicated process faced by expectant mothers and fathers in naming new additions to the family.

Why go to so much trouble?

Names are an important merchandising tool," says a Ford executive who has played a major role in the selection of names.

GOOD ASSET

"We realize a name will not make or break a car, but the best possible name is an asset in marketing, advertising and promotion," explains J. R. Bowers, Ford Division car advertising manager.

When does the hunt for a name begin? Usually, it begins shortly after the model or line has been approved, or more than a year before the car rolls off the assembly line, adds Bowers.

What is the source for names such as Falcon, Comet, Fairlane 500, Monterey and Challenger V8 engine?

The normal procedure is to turn first to the agency handling media advertising, says Bowers.

PREPARES LIST

Keeping in mind the importance of certain names to the company and the proposed car's features, the advertising firm prepares a raw list that may contain hundreds of names.

Usually, 10 or 12 of them are recommended, including an even more limited number of "first choices."

In the case of the new Comet Caliente, Ford's Lincoln-Mercury Division was looking for a name suitable for a luxury compact car, a name easy to recall, a name that evoked an image of a peppy and exciting car.

Personal interviews by an independent agency with hundreds of recent new car buyers in major cities led to the choice of the name Caliente.

The survey had indicated that Caliente—the Spanish word for hot—symbolized some of the imagery of the car itself—well designed, exciting, and hot—"hot" in styling and "hot" in performance.

In seeking a designation for new lines, Ford has considered names of birds, animals, spacecraft and planets, and combinations of numbers and letters.

In Europe, many of the cars get their names from places and resorts that usually are thought of in terms of plush surroundings.

HOCKEY HIDEAWAY — The quiet of the wooded area around Cranbrook School for Boys is broken by the sound of clapping sticks. Amid Bloomfield Hills' rolling country side Tuesday, these youths spent the waning hours of 1963 on a secluded sheet of ice. Far from the roar of a crowd, the soft, smooth sound of steel flashing across ice and the crack of wood against a hard rubber puck are lost in the soft whine of wind filtering through the pines.

Mall to Host Auto Show

2nd Event Sponsored by Car Trade Group

Spring will make an early appearance at The Pontiac Mall tomorrow for the opening of the second annual auto show sponsored by the Pontiac Automotive Trade Association.

While it's snowy outside, visitors can see a heavy 44 new cars, from roomy station wagons to sleek convertibles, and special exhibits in the heated indoor mall section.

A special section in today's Pontiac Press is devoted to automobiles and the show.

The unique free exhibition is cosponsored by nine domestic car dealers of the trade association and The Mall Merchants Association.

Hours are 9 to 9 daily, except Sunday, until the show ends Jan. 11.

Area to Be Heated by Warming Trend

After dumping more than 3 inches of snow on Oakland County yesterday, the weatherman decided to ease up on the area.

Mostly cloudy with a warming trend tonight and tomorrow is today's forecast. Temperatures are expected to drop to 28 tonight and rise to a mild 38 tomorrow.

Partly cloudy and mild is the outlook for Saturday.

Twenty was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 32 by 1 p.m.

Greek Vows to End Treaties for Cypress

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, has begun a campaign to end Turkey's special role in Cyprus, granted by the island's 1960 independence treaties.

Charging Turkey with "aggressive actions" in the communal strife between Greek and Turkish Cypriots, Makarios announced last night he would seek to dissolve agreements under which Britain, Greece and Turkey guarantee Cyprus' sovereignty.

Earlier, Makarios said he would "tear up" the agreements. But after Britain challenged his right to act alone, he said he would "secure the termination of these treaties by appropriate means," meaning by negotiation.

The diplomatic exchanges came amid fresh violence. Three monks were killed and three wounded in a raid yesterday on the Greek Orthodox monastery of Galaktoforousa, 25 miles southwest of Nicosia. Survivors said five or six Turkish Cypriots made the raid.

Britain, now acting as peace-maker and policeman for its former colony, feared new reprisals by Turkish Cypriots if Makarios upsets the delicately arranged treaties without consultation with all sides.

Two Officials Delay Duel in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — A duel between Argentine Defense Minister Leopoldo Suarez and former Air Secretary Martin R. Cairo appeared early today to have been postponed for at least 24 hours.

Seconds for the two men met four times last night and early today, apparently without reaching agreement on arrangements for what had been expected to be a meeting with pistols at dawn today.

Attorney Luis Caggiano, a Suarez second, said the talks are "in the first stage."

"The discussions are continuing," said retired Col. Manuel Reimundes, a Cairo second. "We have not suspended them."

GROUND FOR DUEL?

Although no further details were available immediately, it appeared the seconds were trying to determine whether there were sufficient grounds for a duel and whether it was proper for Cairo to challenge Suarez, his nominal superior in the cabinet.

If the duel takes place, Suarez presumably would resign temporarily before appearing on the "field of honor."

Six Senators to Introduce Medicare Plan

Republicans Hope to Crack Stalemate on Health Care for Aged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Republican Senators say they hope to crack the stalemate on health care for the aged legislation by introducing their own plan when Congress reconvenes next week.

They described it as the most comprehensive health care program ever prepared for Congress and said it would make use of both Social Security funds and general government revenues, and private insurance companies.

Health care legislation will likely set off one of the big battles in Congress this election year.

President Johnson is expected to press hard for passage of the bill—or a version of it—which the late President John F. Kennedy was unable to push through Congress.

NATO Asked to Enter Crisis

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The new caretaker government met today on the Cyprus crisis and authoritative sources said it had asked for an extraordinary meeting of the Atlantic Alliance's permanent council in Paris.

Shortly after the Greek Cypriot-Turkish Cypriot rivalry on Cyprus exploded into violence last month, the Greek government asked for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting.

Later it withdrew the request when it appeared the conflict was being resolved.

Now the crisis appears to be heating up again, with new bloodshed and a campaign by President Makarios of Cyprus to end Turkey's special role on the island under the treaty of independence.

BEFORE DAWN

The cabinet met first before dawn and then again about noon.

After the second meeting, the sources said the Greek government had requested the NATO council meeting through the Greek foreign minister, Christian Palamas.

MORNING AFTER — A New Year's storm blanketed Nashville, Tenn., with 10 inches of snow, heaviest fall in the city since 1929, and many drivers abandoned their cars on the roads. This car appeared to be the victim of a bad skid which carried it off the shoulder of the road during the night.

Stunned by Snow

By The Associated Press

Warmer weather was expected to provide some relief today from the ice and heavy snow that stunned the Deep South, where severe winters are rare.

Thirteen deaths were directly attributed to the storm, which swept across Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, the Carolinas, Tennessee and Virginia, then moved up the eastern seaboard New Year's Day.

Schools were closed in many sections and some colleges postponed registration for the new term.

Storm's Fringe Hit Michigan

By The Associated Press

The fringe of an East Coast snow storm blanketed southeastern Lower Michigan with three to four inches of snow New Year's Day, temporarily slowing traffic.

The storm struck as far west as Ann Arbor, but the rest of the state remained generally dry and cold.

Many drivers were caught in traffic jams caused when the snow clogged highways, State Police said.

Early today, very light and scattered snow flurries in the southeastern portion were the lingering sign of the storm.

However, freezing mists descended on areas of central and northern Lower Michigan early today.

Mist and cold put a glaze on roads in the Lansing, Traverse City, Houghton Lake and Rockford areas, police said.

Warm Skies to Relieve Dixie

By The Associated Press

Driving conditions remained hazardous in areas where freezing left patches of ice on highways.

BROKEN POWER LINES

In several north and middle Georgia towns' broken power lines left some communities without electricity and communications were disrupted.

About 300 persons were fed at an emergency kitchen set up in a school at Warner Robins in middle Georgia. High winds wrecked a fishing pier at Savannah Beach on the Georgia coast.

Huntsville, Ala., recorded one of the heaviest snowfalls in Dixie—18 inches. Eight inches at Birmingham, Ala., was the heaviest snowfall on records there dating back to 1895.

SNOWMEN APPEARED

Snowmen appeared in the French Quarter of New Orleans, site of the Sugar Bowl football game, which had more than three inches of snow—again the most since 1895.

WARMING TREND

A warming trend over Louisiana and Mississippi left deep slush that was expected to turn to ice during the night.

In Tennessee, Nashville's 1-inch snowfall—deepest since 1929—resulted in closing of the city's airport until noon today. Lawrenceburg recorded 16 inches and Columbia had 15.

Many parts of Tennessee were just beginning to dig out from a storm last week which covered the state with 4 to 16 inches of snow.

President Vows War on City Slums, '64 Offensive for Peace

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — A comprehensive housing program was to be discussed today by President Johnson and Robert C. Weaver, housing and home finance administrator.

Depending on weather conditions, Weaver was expected to be here by midday when he will confer with the President on what Johnson has been quoted as calling "a home-for-every-man" program.

The President was also quoted as saying, "I want to clean up the slums."

No other details of the program were available immediately, but Weaver was expected to talk with reporters after he had talked with Johnson.

Johnson plans a hard-driving business schedule at the ranch until he flies back to Washington next Sunday or Monday.

He has a Friday meeting set for Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz and Mrs. Esther Peterson, assistant secretary of labor.

Yesterday, it was revealed that the President is in favor of an unrelenting peace offensive in 1964.

A White House source reported that Johnson is determined to seek new breakthroughs on peace and does not think the United States can or should wait until after the November presidential balloting, before pressing ahead in this area.

The source made available to newsmen Wednesday a summary of what were described as Johnson's views on a broad range of topics. Some of the material was provided on condition it not be made public until today.

Among key attitudes attributed to Johnson were these: Johnson expects Congress to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Undersheriff Donald Francis Assigned to Handle Traffic Increase that Day

"The decrease is not unusual for New Year's," said Francis. "Motorists in recent years have become aware through publicity they can expect tighter enforcement and could go to jail if convicted of drunk driving."

"Those who drink seem to be getting enough sense to have someone sober drive them home," Francis said.

MEMO FROM THE DESK OF LEE VIATHAN

Eat the same amount I used to at college - yet I am getting fat.

(EDITOR'S NOTE)—To help young adults who are battling overweight, nutrition expert Gaynor Maddox has prepared a six-part series which starts in today's Pontiac Press. Although the series is aimed at young people from the teens through the thirties, readers of all ages can profit from it.)

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Food & Nutrition Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Why do so many young men and women recently out of school begin to put on weight? The lament of one young man is typical. "Look, I eat the same amount I used to eat at college yet I am getting fat. How come?"

Dr. Ruth L. Huenemann, associate professor of public health nutrition at the University of California (Berkeley), explains:

"With any increase in age, people actually require fewer basal calories. Young people therefore begin to need fewer calories immediately after graduation."

"Second, once out of college and in business or the professions, few are as active as they used to be. But they continue to eat just as much — not necessarily more — than they did. The result is extra weight," Dr. Huenemann says.

LESS CALORIES

Less calorie-packed meals and more physical exercise within bounds of feasibility is the solution to youthful overweight. "People need to make a distinction between being 'busy' and being active."

"All of us are busy, but we tend to be very inactive in our busyness. I think we should deliberately look for opportunities to be physically active even if only for short periods."

Dr. Huenemann cautions that it is not possible to make every one "an outdoor type." You may not have the time or skill for tennis, swimming, golf, etc. But there are many forms in your way of living.

"Walk the children to school instead of piling everyone into the car for a two- or three-block ride. Look for the stairway instead of the elevator when you are going up one floor."

STAND, NOT SIT

"Make yourself walk downstairs more often. Stand occasionally for a job instead of sitting. Walk the dog a little farther and sometimes give the both of you a workout by running. Place items most fre-

Michigan Road Toll Rises to 18 Over the Holiday

By The Associated Press
Michigan counted its 17th and 18th traffic victims of the New Year's holiday when two Clay-ton sisters died in the collision of their car and a truck near Blissfield Wednesday night. The toll of 18 was three less than the 21 persons who were killed in Michigan traffic during the comparable, 48-hour period at Christmas time.

The crash on U.S. 223 took the lives of Irene Reihle, 65, whom police said was driving, and her sister, Leanne Pickford, 71. Officers said the driver of the semi-tractor trailer was not injured.

The accident was one of three that claimed two or more lives. Three persons died Tuesday night in a head-on crash near Cass City. And two persons were killed in a two-car collision near Plymouth New Year's Day.

ONE OF HIGHEST
Michigan's highway toll ranked as one of the highest in the nation.

Nine persons already have been killed in Michigan traffic accidents in 1964. The death count at this date last year was four.

The state closed 1963 with 1,558 persons killed on the highways, the fourth highest toll since accurate record-keeping was started in 1933.

It was the worst year for traffic fatalities since 2,016 were killed in 1955.

City Lauded for Holiday Road Record
Acting Police Chief William K. Hanger today lauded Pontiac motorists and police in making city streets safe during the holidays.

"I am proud of the fact that Pontiac has had no traffic fatalities since Oct. 18," said Hanger.

While the 1963 traffic death toll in Pontiac was five more than the eight recorded in 1962, Hanger said he believed that a real effort is being made to reduce accidents.

Though traffic figures were not immediately available, Hanger said the accident rate was a "little lighter than normal at this time of year."

NOT SERIOUS
"There have been no serious accidents recently," he added. "To continue with these deathless days, the police department must have the continued support and enthusiasm of the public."

Planners Eye Job Data Unit

To Ask U.S. Aid for OU Retraining Center

The Oakland County Planning Commission has proposed establishment of a "manpower information and analysis center" to improve job training and retraining programs for the unemployed.

The proposal, to be submitted to the federal government for financing, is expected to cost $341,000 for the first two years.

The money would be spent gathering information and staff the center.

UNIVERSITY LOCATION

The center would be installed in an existing building at the university — where an electronic computer is available.

The proposed center eventually would also serve Wayne and Macomb counties.

The center would have current data on the manpower available for training in a changing job market.

Training and retraining programs are assured financial support by the federal government.

SEVERAL PROGRAMS

In Oakland County, the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) has launched several of these programs on a small scale with hopes of expanding them.

Presently, the commission here and elsewhere in the tri-county Detroit metropolitan area is making only a slight dent in the unemployed labor force of about 150,000 persons.

The proposed center would provide information to help such programs, county planners said. The proposal is being reviewed by the Detroit Regional Planning Commission before it is submitted to the federal government in Washington under the Area Redevelopment Act.

Greek Vows to End Treaties for Cyprus

foreign ministry spokesman said his government stood by the treaties and promised, "We will take every measure for their literal application."

PROMISED TO ACT
Under the 1960 treaties Britain, Greece and Turkey promised to set together or singly to prevent partition or annexation of the eastern Mediterranean island.

This pledge was designed to block both the campaign of Greek Cypriots, who make up 80 per cent of the population of 557,000, for union with Greece and counter demands by the Turkish Cypriot minority for partition of the island.

Greece and Turkey also were allowed to station garrisons on the island and Britain was permitted to keep two large bases.

Dr. Fazil Kutich, the Turkish Cypriot vice president, called Makarios' first decision to tear up the treaties illegal because he had not concurred in it.

OLD UNION CRY
Turkish Cypriots fear termination of the treaties would revive in full force the old cry of union with Greece.

pass a civil rights bill this year, as well as an $11-billion tax cut. He also would like to see passage of a program to provide medical insurance for the elderly.

Government officials will be expected to work hard and avoid the cocktail party circuit.

Johnson is pleased with the results of his economy-in-government drive and believes the stage is set for further savings in the budget that will go to Congress in January 1965. He believes fiscal prudence is, in the informant's words, "No longer a rich man's issue."

The President has profound respect for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and, as it was phrased, "he has found the myth of McNamara to be true." Johnson also is greatly impressed by Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

'FURTHER STEPS'
Earlier Wednesday Johnson told Soviet Premier Khrushchev in a message that the time for talking peace has passed and "1964 should be a year in which we take further steps toward that goal."

"In this spirit I shall strive for the further improvement of relations between our two countries," Johnson said in a reply to a New Year's message from Khrushchev and Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev.

The two Soviet leaders had said in their personal message to Johnson that the old year saw "a significant improvement in the approach to the solutions of urgent international problems and in the development of Soviet-American relations."

And they voiced hope that 1964 "will be marked by further significant success."

SUMMARY OF VIEWS
Later the White House source made available the summary of Johnson's reported views including the following statements on peace and other major topics:

Peace: The President is determined to seek new breakthroughs on peace. He does not think the United States should or can drag its feet for a year until after election before pressing for peace or before pressing for the breakthroughs.

The President is confident that we as a nation are fully alert to Red tactics after 15 years of cold war, and thinks it would be muddled-headed if we fail to take these steps to seek peace because we are afraid of being taken in by Red tactics.

Teamster Gets Another Delay

Local Official Seeks Embezzling Appeal

Floyd B. Harmon, secretary-treasurer of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, won another delay Tuesday in his fight against an embezzlement conviction, but this time it was a brief one.

Harmon and his attorneys were given until Jan. 20 to file papers in connection with his appeal of his conviction in federal court last May on 14 counts of embezzling union funds and making false entries.

The brief extension from the Jan. 3 deadline set earlier was granted by U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Clifford O'Sullivan.

REGULAR SESSIONS
Regular sessions of the appeal court are held in Cincinnati.

Harmon is barred from holding union office for five years after an embezzlement conviction by the Landrum-Griffin Act under which the charges were brought. But this does not take effect immediately if there is an appeal.

Chief Assistant U. S. Attorney William Merrill said in Detroit that Harmon has been granted several time extensions. He accused Harmon of "delaying tactics."

Harmon's attorneys had asked for an extension until May, stating they had lost nine volumes of trial transcript.

Community House Set for 2 Films of Adventure

BIRMINGHAM — A double-header program of adventure in the Ontario wilderness will be presented Wednesday and Thursday at the Community House.

Sponsored by the Birmingham Rotary Club, next week's program will feature Denny Haver.

One of Haver's two films, "Canoe Country," tells the story of a 400-mile fishing excursion which he made with his teenage son and an Ojibwa Indian guide.

In the companion film, "Ontario Safari," Haver will introduce his audience to the innermost recesses of Ontario, which are nevertheless within easy driving distance of this area.

Haver has explored the province for 32 years, trapping with the Indians and documenting their handicrafts.

The program will begin at 8 each evening. Tickets are available at Grinnell's, Bates at Marple; the Community House, Bates at Townsend; or any Rotary Club member.

The deadline for students to register for the second semester of driver education classes is Jan. 10.

Students living in the Birmingham Public School District should apply at the offices of the counselors at Groves and Seaboard High Schools. The enrollment form which they will receive must be returned by the deadline.

The students, who must be at least 15 years old, need parental consent to take the course.

Selection of students for the program is based on age, the older students getting preference. Those chosen will be notified during the week of Jan. 13.

The counselors' offices are open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The program will begin Feb. 1 and continue through 20 Saturdays.

2 Officials Delay Duel in Argentina

commodore, asked permission to fight Suarez in the latter announcing his resignation from the cabinet.

The former air secretary, despite the president's criticism, sent Reimundos and Rear Adm. Raul Lynch to call out Suarez. The defense minister, a 49-year-old provincial attorney, designated Caggiano and engineer Fermin Garay to represent him. Cairo's letter charged that Suarez failed to consult him in preparing a list of officers for promotion to brigadier, the highest rank in the Argentine air force.

He also accused the defense minister of delaying a hearing of bad-check charges against Cairo despite repeated requests.

The dispute over the promotions apparently stemmed from Cairo's reported desire to reinstate a number of high-ranking air force officers who were retired for participating in the abortive revolts of September 1962 and April 1963.

Dueling is illegal in Argentina, with penalties ranging up to six months in jail, but the law is not rigorously enforced.

Sophisticated young moderns know that "good cooking" has a new meaning. "Good cooking today means wise use of herbs, seasonings and wine, etc., rather than quantities of butter, cream, sugar and other concentrated foods."

PLEASANT CUSTOM
"The very pleasant custom among young mothers of meeting with friends for coffee after the children are in school is another threat to desirable weight."

"That coffee always means 'with pastry.' Better stick to just coffee. Young husbands are notoriously allergic to over padded mates," she warns.

"Sociable young adults also seem to forget that alcohol contributes calories at the rate of seven per gram, as compared to four calories per gram for sugar, starch or protein and nine calories per gram for fat."

Dr. Heunemann warns young mothers against becoming the "family garbage pail," eating up everything the children leave. These little bits of leftover food might better go to waste than to mother's waist.

ONLY PART

The doctor concludes, "If you are not yet overweight, decide to choose only part of the things you want, not all. Decide between cocktails and sweets, between butter and gravy, bread and potatoes; mid-morning 'coffee snack' and dessert for dinner.

"Also between relaxing in a comfortable chair after a big dinner and taking a brisk mile walk.

"Whether you become a fat young man or woman only a few years out of college is largely a matter of choice. And the choice is yours."

FOOD FOR FITNESS

By Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

No matter how old or young, how heavy or slight, you need some food every day from each of four basic food groups — milk, meat, vegetable and bread-cereal.

They are all supermarket foods, familiar and pleasant to eat. Plan your meals around them DAILY, eating them according to your calorie limitations.

But eat some food from each group EVERY DAY. That is the basic nutritional rule for physical fitness.

Use this 1,500-calorie menu pattern as base for easy planning of balanced and calorie-limited menus according to your particular tastes and requirements.

AVERAGE EATERS

For the average woman about 1,500 calories a day is about right, for the average moderately active man, about 2,200 calories is enough.

These sample menus for breakfast, luncheon and dinner demonstrate how the foods from the four basic food groups — Foods for Fitness — can be incorporated in normal supermarket meals.

Add or subtract foods according to your weight requirements, sex and activity range.

ARCHAEOLOGY

—AND THE ANSWER

QUESTION: How was the Rosetta Stone discovered and how was its secret solved?

ANSWER: For thousands of years, scholars puzzled over the strange picture writing of the ancient Egyptians, called "hieroglyphic." There was no clue to what these symbols meant.

Then Napoleon invaded Egypt, and in 1799 one of his officers came across something remarkable partly buried in mud near a place called Rosetta.

Across the top was an inscription in Egyptian hieroglyphic. Below this was another in Demotic, a popular ancient Egyptian language. Below this was still another inscription, in Greek.

The officer guessed that these might mean the same, and if so, the stone might be a clue to finding the meaning of hieroglyphic. He had the stone removed and put in the hands of experts.

Jean Francois Champollion, a French scholar, devoted himself to the study of the stone. He translated the Greek part and found places where names were introduced.

Then he found the same places in the hieroglyphic and so was able to learn the meaning of the pictures. He was an expert in modern Egyptian and found certain resemblances which gave him still more information.

But it was not until 1822 that the meaning of all the ancient symbols was completely understood.

Quick Change Artist

'Dip' Dies Penniless

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Louis Finkelstein — "Louie the Dip" to police officers throughout the country — is dead at 68. He died broke.

His body was found in an automobile Wednesday on Cleveland's East Side. Do-said he died of a heart attack.

For 50 years, Finkelstein pursued his career. He slowed down about 10 years ago when arthritis stiffened his nimble fingers. In 1959, he applied for relief.

Police Inspector Michael J. Blackwell said Finkelstein must have "stolen thousands of dollars in his lifetime, but he died penniless."

Finkelstein was arrested 120 times and served more than 10 years in prisons as the result of 20 sentences.

In 1933, he picked the pocket of the police chief of suburban Parma. Another time he dipped into the pocket of a bail bondsman, and once he stole the wallet of a reporter covering one of his trials.

The U.S. government tried to deport him to his native Odessa, but there was no deportation agreement with the Soviet Union at the time.

He escaped from the Cleveland workhouse once and officers found him at a revival meeting in New York State. Five wallets, including the sexton's, were in his pockets.

He spent eight years in Sing Sing at Ossining, N.Y.

NANCY LOU KNORR

August vows are planned by Nancy Lou Knorr, daughter of Mrs. Fred A. Knorr and the late Mr. Knorr of Bloomfield Hills and Ralph L. Polk Jr., son of the Ralph L. Polks, also of Bloomfield Hills. He is an alumnus of Hillsdale College where his fiancée is presently a senior.

Invitation Not Needed in Return

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: One of the women in my canasta group invited me and my husband to her daughter's wedding. Except for seeing her when the group meets to play cards, we travel in different circles and our husbands are strangers to each other.

My husband did not want to go to the wedding so I sent regrets. I did, however, send a wedding gift.

My daughter is going to be married in a month. I am not inviting the canasta group to the wedding, but I would like to know if I am under obligation to send a return invitation to this one member?

A: If all the members of the canasta group were invited to the first wedding, you along with them solely because you happen to be a member of this group and not because you are personal friends, it is not necessary to send her an invitation to your daughter's wedding since you are not inviting the other members.

Q: I am going to be married soon and was wondering if it would be in good taste for me and my father to ride to the church in our family car, or must I hire a limousine?

A: If you are having a very small, informal wedding, it would be quite all right to ride to the church in the family car. But if you are having a large wedding and it is to be in any way formal, you should hire a limousine.

Q: My daughter is being married at an 11 o'clock nuptial Mass. Immediately following there will be a sit-down breakfast at a small inn for about 125 guests.

I would like to know if it is necessary to engage an orchestra to play during the reception?

A: An orchestra is not a requirement at a wedding reception.

Fur Flurry Caused by Coats of Man Made Animal Fabric

Who's afraid of a big spotted cat? He's really very friendly, ~~or maybe~~ he thinks her Halldon cape coat is a jungle brother. It isn't, really, the coat is of "kilimanjaro," an easy care pile fabric that appears to fool even the expert inside the cage. Retail for about $100. Available locally.

You may think you're seeing things this winter when coats in Blumenthal's jungle-inspired pile fabrics start stalking the city streets and ski slopes.

This year almost every handsomely marked wild beast you can name . . . tigers, zebras, jaguars, leopards, ocelots, cheetahs and otters—just to name a few of the most favored . . . has a pile fabric counterpart that America's greatest coat designers have fashioned into zillions of smart winter cover-ups.

You'll find short capes and long theater capes . . . cape coats for the junior set . . . casual trenchcoats . . . fisherman styles . . . double-breasted classics . . . wrap coats . . . in fact, jackets and coats in every length and style imaginable.

Happily you don't have to mortgage the car or visit your friendly banker to buy a coat in one of these imaginative pile fabrics, because America's talented textile designers have made it possible for almost everyone to own at least one coat made in a man made "animal kingdom" fabric.

This year something new has been added to the safari of animal fabrics . . . an exciting new "hide look" group of pile fabrics developed after years of research by the Blumenthal Mills division of Burlington Industries.

"Brazotta" makes news elegantly in this softly feminine coat by Fairmoor. The collar is genuine fox, the Brazotta is "Pearlstone," one of seven colors imitating the sleek fur of the Brazilian river otter. This fabric is created by Collins & Aikman.

Cleaning Price Varies According to Service

Why do some drycleaners charge more than others? The National Institute of Drycleaning says this is a question frequently asked.

The Institute answer: Just about everything these days comes in a variety of sizes, types, and prices, and drycleaning is no exception.

In the low-price range cleaning can be done in coin-operated machines with the customer doing the work herself.

Or you might find a drycleaner who offers the same "clean-only" service in a professional plant, selling it for a comparable price.

Neither service includes spot removal or finishing. Most spots don't come out in drycleaning and must be removed by a professional.

Drycleaning also doesn't remove wrinkles nor sharpen creases — though it also doesn't add wrinkles as washing does. Thus many garments require pressing or finishing after being cleaned.

Some drycleaners offer a quick drycleaning and partial finishing service called "clean and steam."

After cleaning, the garments are steamed, and this takes out wrinkles. Of course, there are wrinkles steaming won't remove, and there are garments whose construction is such that steaming is not recommended.

Some need the hand-shaping they get in more careful hand finishing.

The steaming operation requires operator time, and this causes the price to go up a little over "clean-only."

But prices vary even in the complete conventional drycleaning services different cleaners offer.

The complete service means your garments are inspected and classified as to fabric type and shade, pre-spotted if necessary, dry-cleaned under professional supervision for controlled periods of time, dried under proper conditions for each fabric and garment, spotted after drycleaning if necessary, finished and shaped, packaged on hangers or in boxes with plastic or paper covering.

Sometimes they are picked up and delivered at your door. Believe it or not, this is the minimum amount of work required to give your garments complete professional care.

An 11-Year-Old Boy Argues in Defense of Dallas, Texas

DEAR ABBY: I know there isn't one chance in a million of getting this in the paper, but I am going to write it anyway.

I am eleven years old and I feel terrible. I live in Dallas and I want the whole world to know that not everybody in Texas is like the man who shot our wonderful President.

ABBY

It isn't fair that Texas should get a bad name because of one crazy mixed-up killer. Both Abraham Lincoln and James Garfield were assassinated in Washington, D. C. and nobody held it against that city. McKinley was shot in Buffalo and they didn't blame everybody in the State of New York.

Please print this Abby, because it will mean a lot to so many good people.

DAVID IN DALLAS

DEAR DAVID: I'll print your letter, but intelligent people all over the world already know that what you say is true.

The ignorant we can only hope to educate. Those we can't educate we can pray for.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a lady who asks her dates to pay her baby sitter and she tells the dates that her sitter charges 75c an hour, but the sitter charges only 50c an hour, and the lady keeps the extra 25c herself?

THE BABY SITTER

DEAR SITTER: Not much!

DEAR ABBY: I recently attended a large church wedding and I saw something I had never seen before.

When the bride came down the aisle, everybody in the church stood up and faced her!

Now, I have attended many weddings in my lifetime, but I have never seen anything like this.

Is this a new style, or did everybody stand up to get a good look at the bride because a few started it?

BAFFLED

DEAR BAFFLED: There are so many variations on wedding ceremonies (and all are "correct") that one does not dare to say that there is only one proper procedure.

I personally have attended only one wedding where all the guests rose and faced the bride when she appeared.

Self-Defense Course Good for Women

(EDITOR'S NOTE: With no previous experience in self-defense, judo, or karate, Jeanmarie Elkins recently completed a ten week course in self-defense offered at the YMCA. For those who have always secretly wished they knew judo or self-defense she relates her experiences.)

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

If you had said "Slap," in a clear, sharp voice a few weeks ago at the YMCA, a number of women would probably have fallen where they stood, rolling to the floor and hitting it hard with their arms at a 45-degree angle.

If they did not fall, they at least would have started.

This would be the simplest way to discover which women were taking a course in self-defense offered at the Y.

Learning how to fall properly was one of the first things learned, after a conditioning period, that is. That conditioning period seemed to be designed to separate the men from the boys — oops! — I mean the women from the girls.

LASTING RESULTS

For nearly a week following that first Tuesday evening session I walked considerably slower, sat in hot tubs and slept all night on a heating pad.

If you are interested in taking a future course, it would be wise to spend a couple of weeks doing some light exercising. The first night is ENTIRELY exercise.

Not the normal type of exercise given for those who wish to lose weight. It is designed to tone muscle and develop balance and coordination.

After the first painful week, things got considerably easier. Each class began with a few minutes of exercise, but by then I was conditioned to them — somewhat.

The self-defense course for women is not a course in judo. Judo teaches attack. Self-defense teaches self-defense, even though there are some basic judo and karate holds taught.

To prepare for future classes when I would be throwing others and they would be throwing me, I first learned the ways of falling (ukemis).

Next came the ways of breaking a simple hold and then countering with an elbow jab, heel to the shins or arch or palm to the throat.

This would be just enough to stun an attacker momentarily, giving me a chance to run, screaming all the way.

Those who did not attend all classes (perhaps because they had anticipated doing those glamorous throws the first night), should have stuck through the whole course.

Most women are not physically conditioned to throw anyone when they enter the class. And most movements in the class are unnatural. They can't be done without hard concentration.

Finally the BIG night arrived. The class was ready to try its first throws.

Until that night I had pictured myself as the aggressive type. That night shattered my illusions.

My partner approached me from behind and applied the hold. I stood there — and stood there — and STOOD THERE.

I gave the instructor, Don Walker, a pathetic look. He just shook his head. I just couldn't bring myself to throw that poor little girl.

I finally threw her; she threw me; and we proceeded to bang each other up for the remainder of the class.

It is hard to say that one throw is easy and another is hard. Each person will find throws which are easier for him and harder for another.

Self-defense is important to YOU! Women are being attacked often in the city of Pontiac.

The police department estimates it receives at least three or four calls a night on assault and/or sex crimes and other offenses. The majority are committed against women.

A rough total ranges near 1500 a year.

CAN HAPPEN

The attitude that "this only happens to other people" is not only unwise but unsafe.

All women, whether old or young, living alone or with a family, should be able to defend themselves against attack.

The ten-week self-defense course offered at the YMCA includes how to break holds, basic karate kicks, and judo holds and throws. The advanced course for women includes judo.

By JEANNE LESEM
United Press International
NEW YORK — Poor eating habits plus too little exercise add up to trouble for school children, says The Nutrition Foundation.

Both factors lead to overweight, a problem facing an estimated one in five American children, or obesity, which afflicts one in six.

The foundation, a research organization, defines overweight as 10 to 20 per cent excess weight, and obesity, as 20 per cent or more excess weight.

Studies show that pupils who either skip breakfast or eat an inadequate one do less work or poorer work in school, said the foundation. Their efficiency in late morning may drop as much as 25 per cent. A child who then eats a candy bar to make up for the missed meal is caught in a vicious circle that also spoils his appetite for a proper lunch.

The foundation added that an occasional candy bar or other sweet snack is not harmful if the snacks are counted as part of the daily nutritional pattern.

But they should not be substituted for growth and development foods, which fall into these four categories — meat, poultry, fish and eggs; bread and cereal; fruits and vegetables; and milk, cheese and other dairy foods.

Poor schoolwork and classroom difficulties may be only a warning of later problems, said the foundation. Research scientists now theorize that that food patterns established between the ages of one and 12 may be responsible partly for degenerative diseases in middle age and later.

They dispute the theory that a fat baby is a healthy baby. The opposite may be true, since the earlier the habit of overweight begins, the harder it is to correct the eating habits and exercise patterns at fault.

Parental guidance is a must in these developing years, said the experts. Some children can judge how much food their bodies need, but they are not capable of estimating the amounts of sweets required or of selecting a well-balanced diet.

Surveys show that overweight children respond best to a sympathetic approach, since most are keenly aware that their weight puts them at a disadvantage in social events, games and sports.

The foundation suggested that appeals to girls be based on improved appearance and grooming; to boys, on increased skill in games and sports. The latter serve a double purpose — they burn up calories and make the players feel they no longer are isolated because of their overweight.

Some nutrition experts believe that increased physical activity is more important than restricted food intake in many cases of childhood obesity. Today's children tend to ride both to and from school, but their parents or grandparents walked.

Television also encourages overweight, said the foundation, because children tend to eat while watching. One expert said that overweight children tend to watch television three times as long as those of normal weight, and to sit quietly rather than squirm or move about as normal weight children do.

Heritage and environment also enter the problem. Studies indicate that a child's chances of being obese are 40 per cent greater than normal if one parent is obese, 80 per cent, if both parents are.
