OMAHA, Neb. (INS) — A young air force pilot who flew a crippled B47 jet bomber 300 miles with a freezing 450 mile-an-hour wind ripping his face and then blind-landed the plane to save the life of a helpless comrade was hailed today for his "impossible" feat.

First Lt. James E. Obenau, 24, of Grayslake, Ill., flying blind from his co-pilot's seat behind the pilot's control position, brought the explosion and fire damaged medium bomber down on instruments to a perfect landing at Dyess Air Force Base near Abilene, Tex., yesterday.

Tortured by a swiftly-moving subzero air stream that hammered through the open cockpit from which the canopy has been jet-tisoned, Obenau had flown the aircraft 50 minutes after an explosion in an engine set a wing afire 30,000 feet over Dalhart, Tex.

He had refused to bail out of the stricken plane and leave Maj. Joseph B. Maxwell, 33, of Portsmouth, Va., an instructor-navigator who had been knocked unconscious when the wildly-pitching bomber lurched him against a bulkhead.

Two other crew members, Maj. James M. Graves, 34, aircraft commander, of Fort Worth, Tex., and First Lt. John P. Cobb Jr., 25, navigator, of Elko, Nev., earlier parachuted from the flaming bomber thinking Obenau and Maxwell would follow. They landed safely.

CONSIDERED IMPOSSIBLE

The Strategic Air Command in Omaha said a landing such as Obenau made had been considered impossible.

SAC explained that planes have been landed by a pilot from the pilot's seat with the canopy off because the pilot remains shielded by a cowl and can see the ground.

But, SAC said, it had been considered impossible for a co-pilot to do it because he is behind a solid bulkhead and cannot see forward unless he leans sideways from the seat, in which case the wind would blind him.

Obenau's grim ordeal began when one engine of the six-jet

$2,500,000 plane exploded into flames and Graves ordered his crew to bail out.

Cobb successfully ejected himself downward from his position in the nose compartment.

At the same time, Graves pulled the handle which blew the canopy free from over himself and Obenau, to open the path for their escape.

EJECTION SEATS FAIL

But neither Graves nor Obenau's ejection seats worked and they decided to go forward and leap through the hatch used by Cobb.

Graves, in the forward position, dived out of the aircraft.

As Obenau moved toward the nose, however, he stumbled over the unconscious body of Maxwell, whose parachute had been sucked through the nose hatch.

Obenau immediately returned to his seat, brought the bomber under control and headed toward Dyess Air Base.

During the harrowing flight, the engine fire extinguished itself.

Obenau, his head and face protected against the biting wind only by a helmet and a microphone, quickly took the plane down to 13,000 feet where the oxygen was sufficient to revive Maxwell and keep his own senses alert.

He was forced to duck his head behind a cockpit bulkhead and fly the aircraft on instruments.

As he neared Dyess AFB, Obenau was given a ground-controlled approach by radar and was "talked down" by Col. Anthony J. Fornas, commander of the 341st bomb wing.

Obenau and Maxwell were reported in "good" condition after treatment for shock, frostbite, wind and dust-burned eyes.

The young pilot is married and has a 10-month-old son.

He has been in the Air Force six years and wants to make the service his career.

Union Leader Alleges Auto Firm 'Alliance'

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co., apparently no longer the immediate strike target, today prepared to resume negotiations on a new labor contract with the United Auto Workers.

Before General Motors Corp. served a showdown notice on the union yesterday, speculation had centered on Ford as the union's likely target in the auto industry in 1958 negotiations. Ford was the target in 1955.

GM First Quarter Sales 11.6 Pct. Below '57 Period

NEW YORK (INS) — General Motors' first quarter sales dropped 11.6 per cent and earnings fell $76,000,000 below those of the corresponding period last year.

A report to shareholders showed net sales of $2,721,000,000, compared with $3,077,000,000 a year ago.

Net income of $185,000,000, or 65 cents per share, compared with $261,000,000, or 93 cents, in the first quarter of 1957. Unit sales of GM cars and trucks around the world totaled 981,963, or 90 per cent of volume last year.

A statement by President Harlow Curtice and Chairman Albert Bradley noted General Motors experienced a "substantial improvement in competitive position" despite its reduced activity.

Commenting on the recession, they said:

"While the severity of the decline... should not be minimized, there is no question about the fundamental strength of the American economy. It is but a matter of time before the upward climb will be resumed."

The average number of wage earners employed by GM in the United States in the first 1958 quarter was 333,649 compared with 387,208 a year ago. Their weekly earnings averaged $97.17 compared to $96.69 a year earlier.

The two GM officials said the auto industry was affected to a greater degree than many other segments of the economy by the recession that began late last year.

Pay Increases for Servicemen OK'd in Senate

Believe Military Raises Could Be in Effect as Early as June

WASHINGTON (AP)

—Unanimous Senate action practically guaranteed an early pay increase for the nation's fighting men today—possibly by June.

The Senate, with little debate, passed a broad military pay incentive bill 87-0 to the House for probable yesterday and returned it to compromise talks.

Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.) generally credited with drafting the bill previously passed by the House, indicated the Senate measure was not acceptable. He said he probably would seek a Senate-House conference committee to work out a compromise.

All indications, however, pointed to an early agreement. At the rate the bill is now moving, this could mean pay increases becoming effective possibly in June.

Both House and Senate versions carry out President Eisenhower's key recommendations for making military careers more attractive financially to skilled officers and enlisted personnel.

Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.), floor manager for the complex measure in the upper house, said the Senate version would add some $76 million dollars the first year to the present armed services payroll of just above 10 billions.

The House bill, because of generally higher proposed increases, would cost an estimated 683 million the first year. The Pentagon had suggested increases of only 512 millions.

Almost every person in a military uniform with two years or more service would get a base pay increase of at least 6 per cent.

Witness States He Spotted Van Horn Because of Hair

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Billy Ray Van Horn probably would have gone unnoticed past the Murdock home in Waterford Township Jan. 24 had it not been for his long, wavy blond hair that "seemed to glisten in the sunshine."

The only witness which apparently saw the 24-year-old unemployed welder that afternoon near the home, a Detroit Edison tree trimmer, said Van Horn's hair caught his attention.

KIND OF PRETTY

"I noticed his hair," said Ambrose P. Kennedy of 1212 Cass Lake Rd., Waterford Township. "I thought it looked kind of pretty. It seemed to glisten in the sunshine."

Kennedy, one of Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem's prime witnesses, testified in Van Horn's first-degree murder trial yesterday.

Safety Check of Vehicles Starts in City Monday

Next Monday, starts a four-day safety check program in Pontiac for motor vehicles.

Under the slogan "Join the Circle of Safety," five check lanes will be established in public streets where cars and trucks can be inspected quickly for the condition of lights, brakes, tires, steering, exhaust systems, windshield wipers and horns.

Sponsoring the safety campaign is a committee headed by Harold Marshall, city personnel director, and including representatives of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, local auto dealers and the police department.

They will work with the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, a group which sponsors the program nationally.

Safety check lanes will be established on Huron, at Saginaw; Auburn at East boulevard; Montcalm at Lincoln Junior High; Johnson, between State and the Grand Trunk Railroad; and Orchard Lake, at Berwick boulevard.

Hours will be 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and 6 to 8:30 p.m. Marring the stations during the day will be students from the Pontiac Central High driver training course and mechanics loaned by the dealers.

During evening hours personnel will be supplied by the service clubs — Rotary, Optimists, Exchange, Lions, Kiwanis and Civitan.

This year new safety emblems in circular form have been adopted and will be given each car that passes the check.

Those that do not pass will be given a warning notice to repair the defect in 72 hours or face the possibility of receiving a violation ticket.

U.N. Official Places Prestige on Firing Line

Makes Plea to Kremlin After Sobolev Rejects Arctic Inspections

From Our News Wires

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

— Dag Hammarskjöld's dramatic appeal to the Kremlin stirred new hope today that Soviet leaders may reconsider their rejection of the Eisenhower Arctic "open skies" plan.

The U.N. secretary general placed his world-wide prestige at stake last night by publicly urging Nikita S. Khrushchev and other Russian leaders to break the disarmament stalemate by accepting the U.S. proposal.

His "most unusual" intervention came in the waning moments of a long Security Council meeting yesterday that was plunged into gloom after Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev flatly turned down the north polar inspection scheme. Stressing that it was his "duty" to attempt to conclude an agreement, the Swedish U.N. chief declared:

"... I wish today to welcome the initiative taken by the United States in presenting a proposal which might break up the stalemate from the angle of a limited system of inspection."

Hammarskjöld pointed out he also had welcomed Russia's announced suspension of nuclear tests.

IMPACT GREAT

He declared the plan to establish a seven-or-nine-nation technical study of methods to control bombers and missiles over the Arctic "might have a major impact if treated in good faith."

day that he spotted Van Horn walking up the driveway of the Murdock home at 127 N. Josephine St. around 2 p.m.

Shortly thereafter Mrs. Hazel Murdock, 39, was slugged, stabbed five times in the abdomen, strangled by a wire coat hanger and sexually attacked in her kitchen.

Ziem asked that the jury of six women and six men return a verdict of guilty of first degree murder against Van Horn.

Van Horn, who police said came to the Pontiac area from Chicago, eyed 11 witnesses as they took the stand Tuesday to piece together the crime.

One witness, 28-year-old Condy Elliott of State Ave., described how he and Van Horn went from bar to bar in Pontiac following the slaying.

Elliott said he met Van Horn at a relative's home directly across from the county jail at about 7 p.m. Friday, Jan. 24.

"He said he was hungry. He had only 13 cents on him. We went to quite a few beer gardens (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Spring Jobs Nip Recession Trend

But Unemployment Dip Is Far Short of Normal for March-April

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spring increase in outdoor work has brought a surge in employment and a slight drop in joblessness — but no letup in demands for government anti-recession action.

Releasing its figures 10 days earlier than usual, the Commerce Department said unemployment dropped 78,000 during April — the first decline since last October but far short of the normal 200,000 to 300,000 decline from March to April.

The report was issued as the House prepared to debate a bill for extension of jobless benefits. Along with the April jobless total of 5,120,000, the department reported an increase of 596,000 in employment to a new total of 62,907,000 persons working.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks said nearly all the gain in employment resulted from the usual spring pickup in agriculture and other outdoor activities.

Paradoxically, although unemployment declined, the report said the percentage of jobless persons increased from 7 per cent in March to 7½ per cent in April on a seasonally adjusted basis, which takes into account a number of statistical factors.

Little Wire Went Wrong

Plans Bigger Vanguard

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Navy scientists forged ahead with plans for a bigger and better Vanguard rocket program today after learning that the latest launching was washed out by wire trouble.

Officials announced in Washington that the 72-foot rocket failed about 200 miles up when a mal-function developed in the electronic system of the second stage.

Officials speculated that an open wire somewhere within the complex structure of the second stage was the culprit.

OFF TO WASHINGTON — More than 125 ninth graders at Lincoln Junior High School boarded buses bound for Washington, D.C., this morning. The trip, an annual Lincoln event, will take the students through Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and tours of the capital's historic buildings. They will return Sunday.

House to Debate Jobless Relief

Leaders Admit Fierce
Battle Will Be Waged
Before Final Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House starts work today on a bill to extend jobless benefits, with a wide-open choice of how to go about it.

One of the hottest legislative battles of the present Congress was in prospect before the final vote is cast sometime late this week.

"We have a real fight on our hands," conceded Rep. Forand (D-RI), a leader of the Democratic forces backing a measure to pay federal jobless grants to the vast majority of the nation's five million unemployed.

Ranged against it were most House Republicans and a substantial number of Democrats who think either that the bill does not go far enough, or that it goes too far.

The issue, however, was expected to narrow down to the program of temporary unemployment relief loans to the states as proposed by President Eisenhower, and the sweeping program of federal grants proposed by the Democrats. Both proposals would be temporary, expiring next year.

The House Rules Committee, in clearing the measure for floor debate, gave the House an opportunity to start voting tomorrow on a variety of alternatives including the administration plan.

Under present law, jobless benefits are financed out of employer payroll taxes which go into a trust fund until needed. Terms and conditions governing payments vary from state to state, as do amounts and the period of coverage.

The Democratic bill covers both presently insured and uninsured workers, providing 16 weeks of jobless pay to be financed entirely out of the U.S. Treasury.

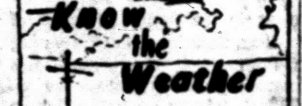

The administration program would limit additional jobless pay to those injured workers who have exhausted their benefits. The added coverage would be 50 per cent of the state compensation period—a maximum of 13 weeks additional in most states.

Instead of outright federal grants, the administration plan calls for a paycheck by the states after four years — through either increased employer taxes, or appropriations out of state treasuries or trust funds.

Why is it said that lightning is caused by updrafts? Is that true? First, it is true that updrafts are the cause of lightning. So that is why this statement is heard. Warm updrafts are the most usual producers of this spring and summer light-noise electrical discharge.

Warm air rises and when it rises fast, and cools quickly, it builds up an electrical charge, which is eventually dissipated with a flash and a bang. The cumulonimbus (thunderhead) cloud is the source of strong updrafts and lightning and thunder.

After the first big drops, and then the heavy rain, and after the low, dark leading edge of this giant cloud passes above you, at that time, the danger of lightning striking you on the ground is greatest.

UAW Bargainer Charges 'Alliance' by Auto Firms

In previous negotiations it has waited for the union to serve termination notice.

WON'T SPECULATE

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock, in charge of the union's GM Department, told newsmen the union "will not be maneuvered into a strike, particularly at a time hand-picked by the company."

Neither the company nor the union would speculate on what happens at midnight May 28.

In the absence of a contract, the union could call a strike or the company could close its plants in a legal lockout. Neither is likely to happen. Operations could continue by mutual agreement on a day-to-day basis.

General Motors appeared to be taking over leadership in the industry in holding the wage line at levels the companies consider noninflationary. It was the first to offer renewal for two years of present contracts which contain built-in wage increases of at least 6 cents per hour annually based on productivity. The contracts also provide quarterly cost-of-living adjustments.

GM also was the first to reject the union's proposal Monday that present contracts be extended for three months. The extension would have sharpened the union's bargaining power by putting off the administration plan.

Under present law, jobless benefits are financed out of employer payroll taxes which go into a trust fund until needed. Terms and conditions governing payments vary from state to state, as do amounts and the period of coverage.

Shoots Girl, 7, Kills Herself

Despondent Mother, 28,
Opens Fire at Home
in Massachusetts

LONGMEADOW, Mass. (INS)—A despondent 28-year-old mother today shot and wounded her seven-year-old daughter, fired twice at her husband and then took her own life with a bullet from a .32 caliber revolver.

Mrs. Irving Richman died instantly. Her daughter, Laurie, shot once in the chest, was taken to Western Memorial Hospital, Springfield, where doctors described her condition as fair. Surgeons operated immediately to remove the bullet which lodged near the youngster's heart.

Following the operation, Laurie's pulse returned to normal and doctors said she probably would recover.

Richman, 30, employed by a chain grocery company, said he had gone to the cellar to investigate a strange noise, leaving his wife and Laurie in a bedroom.

Richman told police his wife had been depressed since the death of her father and had been under the care of a physician.

Sullenberger Suit Order Completed

Attorneys in the suit by Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger against Pontiac General Hospital have agreed upon the form of an order dismissing the case and have sent it to Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn, of Caro.

Attorney Glenn C. Gillespie, who represents the hospital, said the order was mailed to Judge Quinn yesterday and may be signed and filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by Monday. Dr. Sullenberger, who has said he would seek a Michigan Supreme Court appeal of the dismissal, has 30 days after the order is filed in which to do so.

Judge Quinn dismissed the suit April 11. In it, Dr. Sullenberger had sought reinstatement from his Nov. 13 suspension from the hospital's medical staff and $250,000 damages. Judge Quinn ruled the surgeon had filed the suit "prematurely," without first exhausting grievance procedure at the hospital.

Jukebox Plant Roof Bombed in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — The explosion of a dynamite bomb on the roof of a jukebox sales and repair plant was under investigation by police today.

The blast knocked a large hole in the ceiling of Music System Inc. last night. The one-story building was unoccupied.

Police described the hole as "big enough to drive a truck through." An interior office suffered extensive damage from debris.

It was the fourth such bombing in the city this year. The others occurred in dry cleaning shops.

USO QUEEN — Soldiers at the Army's Auburn Heights and Commerce Township Nike bases have chosen Patricia Backes, 18, as their queen. Miss Backes, of 79 Oliver St., is crowned by Specialist S.C. Gary Goodman at a dance sponsored last night by the Greater Pontiac United Service Organization.

Millford Resident Pleads Innocent to Mail Charge

Arraigned in U.S. District Court in Detroit yesterday on charges of obstructing the mail, Walter H. Garling of Millford pleaded innocent.

Garling, 61, of 2167 Dean Dr., was released on personal bond of $5,000. No trial date for the retired Detroit municipal employee has been set.

Garling charged that Garling accused him of delivering his mail to other persons and blocked his mail truck by standing in front of it. Pelliccia said Garling used "loud and abusive" language.

Garling said "all I did was ask the man (Pelliccia) about a letter I asked him to mail for me, and boom, he hit the ceiling."

According to Millford Postmaster Vincent Boyle, Garling has accused postal workers for the last year of destroying his mail.

'Unique' Figure Rocks London Stock Market

LONDON (INS) — Trading on the London Stock Market halted for 20 minutes yesterday while brokers admired a unique figure quoted at 42-19-36 and known as Sabrina.

The blonde with the rolling figure arrived at the exchange as guest of Maj. Max Karo, an 82-year-old broker. The biggest crowds since the days of the market crash jammed Throgmorton St., as Wall St. is known in London.

Brokers, who usually mill frantically around the exchange floor in rapid bidding, froze in their positions and stared up at the public gallery while the actress looked them over and cooed:

"I must think of investing."

The market fluctuated uncertainly following Sabrina's visit, although this was officially attributed to fear of a London bus strike.

tion that Russia had not received the proposal in "good faith."

Hammarskjold, noting that the U.N. Charter places an obligation upon the secretary general to express the aspirations of man, said it was his opinion the plan "could make a dent in the disarmament problem."

Hammarskjold dropped his usual role of the "quiet diplomat" to make his bombshell intervention because, he said, "The stalemate in the field of disarmament has been permitted to last for far too long."

Diplomatic efforts to break the deadlock, he said, "have so far proved of no avail."

The 11-nation Security Council heard favorable reaction from all members except the Soviet Union to the Arctic Soviet Union U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. The session was adjourned until Friday after Hammarskjold spoke.

Lodge described the majority response as "gratifying" but agreed with other free world delegates that Sobolev's attacks on the U.S. plan were "discouraging and depressing."

He said the Russian reaction, which included charges that the U.S. was plotting to spy on the northern USSR, would amount to a "heartbreaking response" if it continued unchanged.

Soviet Delegate Arkady Sobolev listened tight-lipped. The U.S.S.R. was expected to give some indication of her reaction when the Council resumes debate Friday.

News Flash

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—The 101st Airborne Division finally moved in here this morning with an air drop of 771 paratroopers after weather conditions washed out five previous efforts.

"It was a beautiful jump," said Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, the division's commanding officer. "I only wish we had had this kind of weather Saturday, when the jump was originally scheduled."

Plant to Open After 5 Years

Idle Paper Products
Facilities to Be Used in Cheboygan Again

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — The Charmin Paper Products Co. plant, dormant for five years will open May 5 with 55 employees, a company official said.

H. G. Wintgens, executive vice president of the Charmin firm at Green Bay, Wis., announced the plans before Cheboygan civic leaders at a luncheon sponsored by the company.

The plant was established in 1953 and last operated by Paper Products Corp. of America, which went into bankruptcy. One of Cheboygan's major industries, it employed about 200 workers in peak production.

Wintgens said about $1,000,000 has been spent on modernization of the plant which Charmin acquired in 1956.

Operations will resume with one paper-making machine.

A continued expansion program is scheduled to include a second machine within a year with employment expected to total about 100 persons. Expanded operations will allow the plant to make its own pulp when the present supply is depleted, the announcement said.

Pockets Reflect Money Bracket —Psychologist

CHICAGO (INS) — You can tell what a man is worth by watching where he keeps his money.

Not banks or savings institutions, but breast pocket, hip pocket and front trouser pocket is the key to what economic bracket you belong.

So says psychologist Peter E. Siegle who made a study of the situation.

He maintains that the man who carries a few bills in his front pants pocket along with his loose change is "low man" on the ladder.

This type of fellow usually works hard, gets paid by the hour and doesn't carry a wallet because he has no use for one. Furthermore, Siegle reasons, his money matters are not complicated by credit cards and charge accounts.

Then comes the hip pocket type. He uses a billfold, gets a salary rather than an hourly wage and carries a few credit cards and passes along with money. This man, Siegle finds, usually is a white collar job holder and often works in relative informality, without a suit coat.

Now we arrive at the breast pocket man. In this group, Siegle says, you can find executives, high ranking employees and professional men.

Such a gentleman employs a pocket secretary in the inner jacket pocket which he uses as a portable desk ledger, filing cabinet, knick-knack shelf and bulletin board.

But Siegle figures the man on the top rung of the money ladder carries very little actual cash. Instead, he displays credit cards that proclaim his financial soundness.

Cardinal Recovering

ROME (INS) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch may be allowed out of bed Friday today for the first time since his right arm was amputated Monday morning.

Van Horn's wife, Audrey, 24, sat in Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty's courtroom yesterday with three of her husband's sisters.

The Day in Birmingham Business Club at School Told of Retailing Future

BIRMINGHAM — Speaking last night at the "Bosca Dinner," Benjamin Goldstein, president of the Birmingham High School Business Club of the many opportunities in the field of retailing.

"This field offers one of the greatest chances for women to advance to the executive level," he said.

He said retail businesses are constantly searching for young people with ideas and enthusiasm. While industry may be localized, retailing in all its many phases is found everywhere, Goldstein pointed out.

Mayor Carl F. Ingraham congratulated the group on its progress.

Mrs. Lucile Anderson, 41, of Newaygo, is being held in the Oakland County Jail on a charge of larceny by conversion.

Birmingham Police said the woman rented a car in Birmingham and failed to return it.

Brought back from White Cloud Monday, she waived examination in justice court and was bound over to Circuit Court. Mrs. Anderson was unable to furnish $500 bond.

An illustrated talk on modern trends in architecture will be given at the Friday meeting of Birmingham Senior Men's Club at the Community House by Mark T. Jaroszewicz. The discussion topic will be "Are We Pricing Ourselves Out of the Market?"

Bill Submitted by Broomfield

WASHINGTON — Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) today introduced in Congress a $1 billion public works bill he believed would meet with Presidential approval.

Broomfield said the measure for river and harbor improvements had been stripped of more than $300 million in objectionable "pork-barrel" projects.

He said his bill was "clean of Democratic giveaways" and contained 975 million in "useful" Michigan projects, which have gained approval of both the Army Engineers and the Budget Bureau.

"It is only fair that these needed projects be authorized without a lot of useless, purely political projects added on," said Broomfield, who is House Public Works Committee member.

President Eisenhower last week vetoed an earlier rivers and harbors bill on grounds it contained objectionable projects. He asked Congress to prepare a "clean" bill.

Broomfield said his bill meets the President's requirements. It includes authorization for funds for work on the River Rouge.

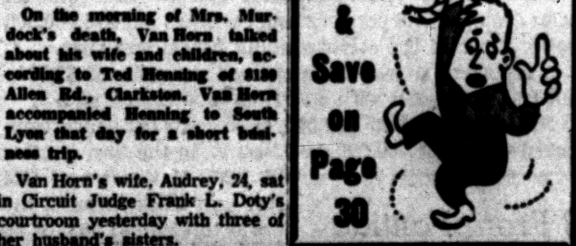

"Funds should be authorized now so that appropriations for construction can be made," said Broomfield.

Outboard Motor Stolen From Commerce Store

A thief broke into McKibbons and Childs Hardware Store, 1576 Union Lake Rd., Commerce Township, last night and escaped with an outboard motor, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

The motor was valued at about $200. The store was entered by prying open a rear door.

2nd Stroke Deaths in Pontiac and Nearby Areas

Most Apt to Follow

By JOHN A. BARBOUR
AP Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (U)—The average person who survives his first cerebral stroke can expect to suffer another within two years.

And time only increases this grim probability, a New York specialist said today.

There is a four-out-of-five chance of a second stroke within four years of the first, Dr. Irving S. Wright told the American College of Physicians.

Strokes—like the kind suffered by President Eisenhower—are the result of a cutoff in the supply of blood to the brain, starving some brain cells from lack of nourishment.

Other strokes—such as the fatal one that struck President Franklin D. Roosevelt—come from bursting of a blood vessel and the drowning of part of the brain in blood.

Doctors now understand that strokes are not isolated accidents causing brain damage, but, instead, a sign of generalized disease, Wright said.

They are also aware now of the symptoms that signal the oncoming of major strokes. Before such symptoms—like little strokes—may have been mistaken for something else or passed unheeded.

Much progress has been made in just the past four years, said Wright. The Cornell University researcher said that many studies were now focused on cerebral strokes.

They are signs of hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure or disturbances of the blood's ability to clot, and as such are important to many medical specialties.

Experts View Dog Commodes in New York

NEW YORK (U)—Officials and sanitation experts were called into session today to discuss plans for dog comfort stations in city streets.

The canine commodes are planned for residential neighborhoods where people keep substantial numbers of the city's 272,000 dogs and where curbing of dogs is difficult because of parked cars.

Sanitation Commissioner Paul R. Screvane called the conference as part of his current "Big Sweep" cleanup campaign.

His craftsmen have prepared several experimental models of dog comfort stations.

Marriage of Director, Faith Domergue Over

HOLLYWOOD (U)—The 16-year marriage of actress Faith Domergue and director Hugo Fregonese is over, her attorney says.

The attorney said 32-year-old Miss Domergue plans to sue for separate maintenance. Fregonese, 30, verified the separation.

Miss Domergue's attorney said the couple had agreed on a property settlement and custody of their children, Dianna, 8, and Jack, 6, who will stay with their mother.

75 years and still . . . Krogering

Through the years, she's known many Kroger employees. Some those who couldn't wait, she still remembers fondly. Because everyone at Kroger was a friend . . . someone who went out of his way to make her feel at home. Times changed and so did Krogering . . . "the fun way to shop." But these 75 eventful years never altered our lady's opinion. In fact, now she enjoys her Krogering more! What she likes best is that she's still among friends . . . her Kroger good neighbors who continue to offer the traditional service she expects. On top of it all, she now gets Top Value Stamp! Last year was Kroger's greatest by far in sales—and 1958 promises to be even greater. For '58 is our Diamond Anniversary Year.

Twins Are Different Despite Looks

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some years ago I was in a millinery shop selecting a new spring hat when two other customers entered.

They were twins — elderly women. Though one was thinner than the other, their resemblance was striking. Their clothes were alike, too, even to the carved face in the cameo pins at the throat of the blouses under their well-cut navy suits.

They sat down on the same bench before a mirror and the stouter one said, "We'd like to see the brown milan sailor in the window."

As she was trying it on, the thinner twin suddenly noticed the gaily flowered tricorne on my table. I nodded to the question in her eyes. She reached for it and hastily removing her own hat, placed it on her gray hair.

I thought, "How much prettier she looks in flowers than in that old blue beret thing she came in with!"

And I was smiling at her reflection in the mirror when her sister said, "Take that silly thing off your head this minute, Eylla! Do you want everyone to think you're a fool?"

The flowered hat was removed. The stouter twin said, "We'll take two of the brown milan sailors, please."

I confess that this experience influenced my response to a letter which says, "We have twin boys of four. Up to now we've dressed them alike. Now their nursery school teacher says it's time to start dressing them differently. I suppose you'd agree. Anyway, we'd like your opinion."

My opinion is that playing a lifetime role of double to another person could be a terrible strain.

Nobody exactly duplicates another person. Even identical twins, scientific studies tell us, show distinct differences in personality from birth.

While before they were born, these two little boys may have existed as halves of the same egg, birth made them into separate people. No twin can chew food for the other one. No twin can digest the food for the other one.

Since their bodies refuse total identification, it seems wise to me to accept the individuality established by this basic physical independence and encourage its development in as many other areas as we can.

Twins' outward resemblance constantly dramatizes their similarity. So perhaps their parents' obligation is to support their difference.

Clubs Should Start on Sloppy Wives

By RUTH MILLETT

The clubwomen of America have done a fine job of beautifying their cities.

Now, if they would just start a spruce-up campaign to beautify the American housewife.

Oh, she's a living doll when she gets dressed up for a party. But she's often a living scarecrow when you encounter her at the supermarket or errand-running for the family.

The get-ups she wears then are vigorously defended by her on the grounds of comfort and lack of time. But the real reason she hits the neighborhood shopping center in tight jeans or too short shorts, hair in pin curls and her feet in floppy flats is lack of pride in her appearance.

In 15 minutes she could brush her hair, slip into a clean dress and put a neat pair of shoes on her feet.

She could—if she thought it mattered how she looks when she is being family chauffeur, errand boy, and shopper.

So why don't the women's clubs get started on the project of beautifying the American housewife at work?

It's a project that is long overdue. For the amount of money that American women spend on clothes, cosmetics, in beauty salons and on reducing centers they ought to look presentable all of the time.

But all too often last night's glamor girl or well-dressed woman is this morning's pin-curl scarecrow.

What's the use of making ours a nation of tidy homes and neat lawns if we women are going to spoil the pretty picture by neglecting to make ourselves neat and tidy and pretty, too?

Maybe the fashion industry could help out by creating a "new look" for housewives-on-the-job.

Dorothy Sebastian Weds Glen Clayton

Dorothy Ruth Sebastian, daughter of the Rudolph A. Sebastians, and Glen Arthur Clayton, son of Ray J. Clayton, were married Saturday in St. Trinity Lutheran Church.

MR. and MRS. GLEN A. CLAYTON

St. Trinity Lutheran Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Dorothy Ruth Sebastian and Glen Arthur Clayton. The Rev. Ralph C. Claus performed the ceremony in the presence of 100 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph A. Sebastian of South Edith street are parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Ray J. Clayton of Going street.

The bride chose a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin featuring short sleeves and a portrait neckline outlined with scalloped lace. The fitted bodice was of lace and the full skirt was finished with panels of lace.

A headpiece of sequins and pearls held her imported tulle veil in place. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white shattered carnations and lilies of the valley surrounding a white orchid on a Bible.

Sister of the bride Carolyn Sebastian was the only attendant. She wore an aqua and white dress with aqua cummerbund and carried an arrangement of pink carnations.

Ray J. Clayton Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Gordon Clayton, brother of the bridegroom and Wesley Sebastian, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

For a reception at the church Mrs. Sebastian chose a blue sheath dress with nylon chiffon jacket and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

For traveling to Niagara Falls, the new Mrs. Clayton wore a navy dress with white collar and navy accessories. The couple will live on South Shirley street.

Corn Advances, Wheat Firms

CHICAGO (U) — Corn futures moved slightly ahead and May wheat was firm in early Board of Trade action today, but soybeans and other grains were steady to weak.

Trade continued at a rather slow pace and largely of the speculative type, dealers said, with offerings largely in small lots and orders light and scattered.

Near the end of the first hour, May wheat was 1 1/2 cents a bushel higher to 1/4 cent lower on the new cargo contracts, May $2.18 1/2; corn 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May $1.25 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May 62 1/2; soy 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, May $1.32 1/2; soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 lower, May 2.25 1/2; lard 5 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.05.

Hodeida Gains Altered Status

Long Isolated Port to Become Capital City of United Arab States

WASHINGTON (U) — Hodeida, a Yemen port that long drowned in the sunlight beside the Red Sea, has been jolted wide awake by recent events in the Arab World.

Several years ago, the Imam, or ruler, of Yemen launched a development program for the city that included the establishment of a deep-water port.

Now comes Hodeida's selection as the permanent headquarters of the federal council for the New United Arab States (Egypt, Syria, and Yemen).

Both increasing trade and international undertakings emphasize Yemen's trend away from isolation.

The current bustle along the Red Sea recalls the days when this southwest corner of Arabia was part of the ancient kingdom of Saba, or Sheba, says the National Geographic Society.

Sheba grew prosperous and powerful as a caravan link in early trade between India and Africa. Its luxury products of gold, spices, and precious stones gained immortality in the Biblical story of gifts borne by the Queen of Sheba to King Solomon.

In today's Yemen, Hodeida is the chief port for the less romantic-sounding ports of coffee, hides, and dates, and imports of oil, textiles, and cotton. Cargo handled there — some 25,000 tons annually — now far exceeds that of the old-time coffee port, Mocha.

Hodeida, however, is handicapped by its location along a sandy, shallow-water coast. Freighters have to anchor a mile or more out, and unload cargoes and passengers into small Arab dhows. Stevedores in turbans and jelmehs often wade ashore with bales and boxes of goods.

Work on the deep-water port that will serve the city is now going on at Ras al Kathi Peninsula about 10 miles farther north. An improved road will connect the two points.

Earnings Up Over '56

DETROIT (U) — C. M. Hall Lamp Co. has announced earnings of $389,931 or $1.86 a share for 1957, three times that of 1956 when they totaled $127,138 or 62 1/2 cents a share. Sales, highest in the auto parts firm's history, were nine million dollars in 1957 compared to $5,400,000 in 1956.
