Wife Says Lake Orion Sex Killer Was Sober

Girl, 13, Killed When Mountain Climbers Fall

Teenagers Plunge Into Rocky Crevasse; Many Injured Seriously

TIMBERLINE LODGE, Ore. (AP)—A group of youthful mountain climbers, roped together for safety, plunged to the bottom of a rocky crevasse yesterday when two of their number lost their footing.

One girl died and the others were injured, some of them gravely, as the teen-agers were whipped one after the other over the brink on the slopes of Mt. Hood.

Doctors worked all night and into today on the mountainside trying to save those gravely hurt.

Some of those hurt lay for hours at the lip of the crevasse as doctors worked over them. Others, who could be moved more readily, were brought by snow tractor to Silcox warming hut 2,000 feet down from Crater Rock about 1,000 feet above this resort lodge.

Lynn Kaufman, about 13, of Larchmont, N.Y., died of suffocation, said Dr. Matthew Mirkovich of Los Angeles. He was vacationing here and was one of the first to reach the scene. She was driven deep into the snow as her companions dropped into a jumbled pile in the bottom of the crevasse.

They had slid a hundred feet or more down an icy chute, then plunged into the crevasse. Some said the final drop was 40 feet. It dashed them onto a rock-strewn floor.

One climber who saw them said all were joined together with about 100 feet of rope and suddenly two of those at the back of the line lost their footing.

Rescue efforts were organized swiftly. The U.S. Air Force sent a plane to drop plasma and other medical supplies and the Royal Canadian Air Force sent a helicopter able to operate at high altitudes to McChord Air Force Base, Wash., to be ready for a call.

Oil Blaze Blackens Sky Over Texas

AP Wirephoto

SMOKE CLOUDS SKY — Smoke from a roaring blaze which took the lives of 19 workers rises over the Shamrock Oil & Gas Corp. refinery near Dumas, Texas yesterday. The fire began with an explosion, and more fires and explosions continued as firemen fought the blaze. The initial fireball blast was visible 65 miles away.

19 Die of Burns in Gas Explosion at Tank Farm

31 Burned by White-Hot Blast at Texas Plant; Fireball Like A-Bomb

DUMAS, Tex. (AP)—A petroleum tank farm explosion and fire that killed 19 men yesterday subsided today to a single fire in one tank and apparently there was no further danger.

Fifteen men burned to death almost instantly as a sheet of fire shot across the ground when the first of four tanks exploded and burned. Four other men died later of burns.

Funerals were held today for at least seven of the victims—in Dumas and nearby Sunray. Services were planned later in half a dozen Texas cities for the other victims.

Thirty-one other persons were burned by the blast that shot an orange fireball thousands of feet high and seared everything in a quarter-mile radius. Seven remained on the serious list today.

Spectators saw friends and relatives stumble moaning and crying, their clothing afire, from the smoke and flames at the Shamrock Oil & Gas Corp. tank farm. Ensuing explosions burned and shattered three other big storage tanks and blackened others nearby.

"The fiery blast snuffed out their lives and they crumpled in their tracks," Editor Bill Lask of the Moore County News said.

Bob Hamilton, a News reporter, said his hair almost caught fire 200 yards from the explosion. A shirtless boy stumbled out with his naked back in flames. He said the dead were caught in a "pool of fire."

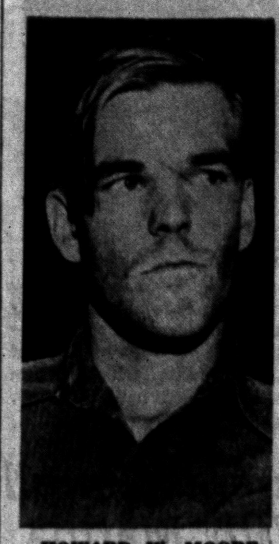

Some of the burning bodies set fire to blankets used to wrap them. Others exploded from internal steam pressure. A railroad bridge burned a quarter mile away.

Bob Bower, Shamrock public relations official, said the men were fighting a small ground fire when the 20,000-barrel tank containing pentane, a butane-like fuel, caught fire. Firemen who were attempting to cool other tanks were caught in the first explosion at 6:53 a.m. Greater loss of life was averted because many of the men had

Confesses

HOWARD W. MOORE

Confessed Rape-Slayer Answers First Degree Murder Charge Today

Moore has said he drank "about 12 beers" before leaving his home, and was too drunk to remember details of the killing.

Irene Moore, 20, her face puffed by weeping and sleepless nights, told Ziem in a statement this morning her husband was friendly with Martha, his neighbor's child, who saw him Friday afternoon and sat on his lap in their Lake Orion home.

Moore is scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon on a charge of first-degree murder in the brutal slaying.

Moore, a 23-year-old furnace repairman, has confessed molesting and killing the girl Friday night.

Mrs. Moore said her husband, who "often got drunk on weekends," drank "two or three" bottles of beer after coming home about 3 p.m. Friday. He left again two hours later, she said, after an argument over a grocery list.

'HE WASN'T DRUNK'

When he returned about 8 p.m., she said, he had been drinking "but he wasn't drunk."

After another bottle of beer and a renewed argument over the grocery list, she said, he left the house and she heard him drive away.

Mrs. Moore, who married her husband June 19, said she last saw Martha about 7:45, when the child came to the Moores' next-door house and asked Mrs. Moore if she could come in.

Mrs. Moore said she told Martha she was too tired, and sent her away. Martha left, saying she was going to visit another neighbor, Mrs. Moore said.

The confessed killer's wife said she did not see her husband drive away from the house, and did not see or hear any children with him.

Service for Martha, one of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Little of 238 Lake St., Lake Orion, will be held tomorow from St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Lake Orion. The Lake Orion Lions Club

Stassen Huddles With Ike at Farm

Refuses to Tell Whether Talk Dealt With Nixon or His Own Future

Stassen, who has proposed the Republicans drop Vice President Richard M. Nixon from their 1956 ticket, said he had asked for the appointment with Eisenhower.

But after the meeting at the chief executive's Gettysburg farm, Stassen flatly refused to discuss any details of the conversation or to say whether he might leave his White House post.

He declined to say whether the President had asked him to withdraw his opposition to Nixon, stating "I would never say anything that would characterize what the President might say or how he might feel about any matter."

WON'T ANSWER

As he boarded the President's small, twin-engined plane for the return flight to Washington, Stassen was asked whether he would remain in the White House job.

He replied he was not going to answer any questions that might indirectly imply what he or the President will do.

"Are you going to quit?" he was asked bluntly.

"I never discuss what I have talked about with the President," Stassen replied.

Asked if he expected the President to make any statement on the Nixon matter at his news conference Wednesday Stassen said he would not intimate what Eisenhower might say or do.

'To Bring Her Back'

Killer Makes a Wish

"If I had any wish in the world, I would wish that I could bring that little girl back."

Confessed killer Howard W. Moore told Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons and State Police Detective John Wooley this, as they questioned him further about the brutal slaying of three-year-old Martha Little.

It was the first real sign of remorse the bridegroom of five weeks had shown since his arrest late Friday at a gas station, when he was held on a drunk and disorderly charge.

"He says he still can't remember everything clearly but that he wished he could," Irons remarked following the interrogation.

The stony-faced Moore had two other visitors during the day. Oakland County Prosecutor Fred Zeim, who had hurriedly returned from a convention on Mackinac Island, and his assistant, George Taylor, talked with the prisoner for 15 minutes in the morning and will do so again today.

Ziem said that Moore told him he refused to let Martha in the car when she asked for a ride, but that she suddenly popped up from the back seat as he drove along.

The prosecutor added that Moore denied planning the crime or raping the child, although an autopsy established that she was sexually attacked before she died.

Turn Off the Fan— It's Gonna Be Cool

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts a fair and cool night for the Pontiac area residents tonight with a low of 51 to 55 degrees.

Partly cloudy and a little warmer is the forecast for tomorrow. The high will be 78 to 82 degrees.

The lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 54 degrees. The thermometer registered 76 degrees at 2 p.m.

Burned Brothers Critical

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Two young Lowell brothers remained in critical condition Monday at Blodgett Memorial Hospital where they were treated for burns suffered when their tent caught fire during an overnight outing in their back yard. The boys, Boyer Miller, 7, and his brother, Donald, 4, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Olen E. Miller, were burned Saturday night.

Pontiac Pilot Uses Highway for a Runway

Two Pontiac men had weekend motorists scattering on a highway outside Holland yesterday when they were forced to land their crippled plane on a car-packed road.

"It was a miracle," exclaimed Ben Mercado, 29, operations clerk at Pontiac Municipal Airport and pilot of the plane. He had to bring his single-engine Stinson down through trees and high-tension wires after its controls were damaged after taking off from the Holland Airport.

Harold J. Luttman, 25, of Waterford Township, was a passenger in the plane. Neither men were injured nor was there any damage to the plane, Mercado said.

Before making their emergency landing, Mercado made a low pass at a farmer's field but high tension wires prevented the landing there, the pilot said.

Support Asked for Suez Board

Even Red Participation Urged in New Plan to Internationalize Canal

LONDON (AP) — American support was asked today for a plan to set up an international board, on which Russia would be represented, to control the Suez Canal and guarantee freedom of passage for the ships of all nations.

British and French sources said the plan, designed to counter Egyptian President Nasser's seizure of the canal, was placed before policy makers of the three Western powers, meeting here in a crisis atmosphere.

In effect it would recognize Egypt's nationalization of the canal, but would superimpose a guarantee of its international use.

A rising clamor in the British press demanded the use of armed force, if needed, to answer Nasser.

Hundreds of onlookers thronged around 10 Downing St. where British Prime Minister Eden met with his Cabinet and military chiefs were meeting.

Russia was a signatory of the nine-power convention of Constantinople in 1888 which guaranteed the canal would be open to ships of all flags in peace and war.

Alarm of Britons and Frenchmen over the fact Egypt's nationalist revolutionary leader has their oil and commercial lifeline to the Middle East and Far East at his mercy was the basis of the proposal.

It was put in shape during morning conferences of legal, political, economic and military advisers of the three-power delegates.

The advisers were reported to have been unable to find any strong legal objection to nationalization of the company itself.

Grace Coming to U.S.

PARIS (INS) — Monaco officials announced today Prince Rainier and Princess Grace will leave for the United States Sept. 20. The prince and his movie star bride will sail aboard the liner United States and probably will remain in the U. S. about two months.

Eye Typhoon's Course

FORT BUCKNER, Okinawa (AP)—Typhoon Wanda, packing 150 m.p.h. winds, was reported 360 miles southeast of the United States' big Far Eastern base of Okinawa tonight. It was still uncertain whether it will hit this central island of the Ryukyus.

Youth's Death Puzzles Wixom

Lad, 9, Killed Saturday at Railroad Crossing; Disregards Warnings

Residents of Wixom are puzzled today what drove nine-year-old Billy Grave to his death Saturday afternoon when he rode his bike in front of a train at a crossing in the center of the Oakland County community.

Witnesses to the accident said cars were stopped for the eastbound freight train with its whistle blowing and that the blinker lights were operating.

Billy, a fourth grade student, was killed instantly when his bicycle was struck by the train at the crossing at Pontiac Trail and Wixom Road, approximately 100 feet from where Billy's family lives.

Funeral service will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Richardson-Bird Chapel at Walled Lake. He will be buried in the Wixom Cemetery.

The dead boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Grave, of 119 Wixom Rd., are under a doctor's care.

Call First McKeon Witnesses

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (INS)—Defense motions that three of the four charges against Marine S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon be dismissed with findings of "not guilty" were rejected today at his court-martial.

McKeon, a former drill instructor, is accused of causing the deaths of six Marine recruits by leading them on a disciplinary march into the swamplands of Ribbon Creek April 8.

Volle said a meticulous survey of the area indicated no holes in the marsh and creek bed where the six recruits drowned.

Several members of the ill-fated platoon had testified earlier that as they marched into the wter they dropped into holes.

By reconstructing barometric pressure on the fatal night of April 8, Volle said he thought the tide would have been lower than usual because of an off-shore breeze. He placed the high tide at around 5 feet, 3 inches. The march took place two hours after high tide.

Volle told the court Ribbon Creek has no real headwaters and is in reality just a part of the tidal marsh. The flow of water into and out of the Ribbon Creek area, he added, is restricted by two sandbars.

When asked about the presence of holes, Volle said "we found no holes and no evidences of holes throughout the area."

Some members of the recruit platoon said they remembered a strong current. Volle said he had entered the area under circumstances as nearly like those of April 8 as possible and found the current to be only 1.05 knots—about 1.2 miles per hour.

Volle said he would characterize this as a slow-moving stream.

Navy Capt. Irving N. Klein, law officer of the court, denied three separate motions made by Chief Defense Counsel Emile Zola Berman, asking that courts two, three and four in the indictment against McKeon be dismissed.

Need of Death Penalty

Once again the people and officials of Michigan are facing a tragically frustrating fact.

Our great Commonwealth has no penalty to fit the foul crime confessed by 23-year-old HOWARD W. MOORE. The harshest punishment which can be meted out to this bridegroom of a month for the rape slaying of his three-year-old Lake Orion neighbor, MARTHA LITTLE, falls far short of justice.

Although he has confessed this revolting crime, all a competent court can do about it is to sentence him to one of our State prisons. There the State will feed and house him for the rest of his life, or until and if he is paroled.

This inability to make the punishment fit the crime isn't just the result of accident or oversight. It exists because not only the Legislature but the people of Michigan have voted that legal execution is too severe for first degree murder.

The result is that every few months the people of the State are outraged by similar sex crimes. Only a few weeks ago a young school teacher in the Upper Peninsula was a victim. Last year the lives of two little girls and a boy were sacrificed on the altar of Michigan's refusal to do anything about ridding itself of convicted sex slayers.

In the name of all that's good and decent how many more Martha Littles will have to be sacrificed before Michigan will protect its women and children by adopting capital punishment?

Pot-O-Gold Reaches $200

Bouncing back after losing $725 to one contestant a week ago, the Press' bountiful Pot-O-Gold took on a pleasing jingle again Friday when its contents climbed to $200.

Find Cornerstone Relics

CORNERSTONE DISCOVERY — Workmen razing the original Pontiac General Hospital building last week discovered a small copper box which had been laid in the cornerstone of the building on July 12, 1908. Examining some of the historical contents of the box are Miss Lauretta Paul, hospital director. Holding the box is John M. Hoffman, job superintendent for Darin-Armstrong Co. of Detroit. The box contained a June 18, 1908 copy of the old Pontiac Press Gazette with a full-page of the 32-graduating class of Pontiac High School. Postcards showing landmarks of the city and the history of the Oakland County Hospital Assn., which began the drive for the city hospital, were discovered in the box.

British Storm Claims 13 Lives

Hurricane Winds, Hail Rip Into North Europe; Damage in Millions

LONDON (AP)—A violent summer storm tore through Britain for 24 hours, causing at least 13 deaths and leaving a dozen or more yachts still missing today in the English Channel.

Six persons were known drowned after their boats capsized. On land, six others were killed by falling trees alone.

The storm caused millions of dollars damage to crops. It brought landslides and floods to some areas.

Heavy holiday traffic between Britain and France was halted completely. Hundreds of persons suffered minor injuries.

Winds of 55 miles per hour continued in the Liverpool area today, hampering shipping and preventing two passenger ships from docking.

Twenty-two yachts which had entered the annual cross channel race from Southsea to Le Havre were scattered. One—her mast gone, sail broken and engines useless—was towed into port by the Boulogne lifeboat.

Airplanes were prevented from landing at various airports in Belgium, France and England. Cross-channel ferries were canceled as well.

NO HOPE LEFT — All hope was gone for Joseph Little Saturday night when he and his wife made a positive identification that the body of a young girl found in an Independence Township hayfield was that of their three-year-old daughter Martha. Little is shown leaving St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with his church pastor, the Rev. George Ging of St. Joseph's Church, Lake Orion.

Distraught Parents Recall Few Years With Martha

It was a grim and heartbroken couple that left St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Saturday night after making positive identification of their three-year-old daughter who had been found slain that afternoon in an Independence Township hayfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Little and their pastor, the Rev. George Ging of St. Joseph's Church in Lake Orion, walked out of the hospital emergency room with heads bowed and fighting back the tears after one glance had told them the dead girl was their Martha.

The hard-working couple, parents of five other children, had held out hope and prayed right up to the end that it might be all a mistake and that their girl would still be alive somewhere.

One look and they realized it was all in vain as had been their continuous vigil kept in their modest Lake Orion home.

Little, a plumber's helper in Lake Orion who had lived at his present address for five years, said he had talked to Moore once when the young bridegroom moved next door a week before and had said hello to him once.

The grieving parents sat recalling the few years they did have with Martha. Joseph told how she had always been a happy and healthy girl. He said she especially enjoyed playing in the sandbox he built for her next to their house and also liked riding her tricycle or riding with him in the car.

He said the sandbox was the last place he saw her alive about 8 p.m. Friday. He had just returned from the store with candy for the children. Mrs. Little was on duty as a nurse at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at the time.

The search began when Martha failed to answer his call a short time later, with friends and neighbors taking part and then, various police officers. The number of searchers reached over 400 by the time she was finally found.

Mrs. Little remarked that her daughter would have been four years old August 5, next Sunday. Her husband told how they had planned a birthday party for Martha.

"We were going to give her some saddle shoes because she had always wanted some. Now she will be buried in them." Joseph Little said staring back at the hospital as Father Ging started the car to prepare to leave.

First Degree Murder Facing Sex Killer

has offered to pay all funeral expenses.

A Mass of the Angels will be said tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. for Martha. In Roman Catholic liturgy, this is a special mass of jubilation, since the Church believes the child is assured a place in Heaven among the angels.

Moore confessed the murder was done with a tire iron, but deputies have been unable to find the weapon near the scene of the crime. A broken beer bottle was found beside Martha's body, and fragments of glass were imbedded in her skull.

Asked where he threw the tire iron, Moore refused yesterday to leave the police car.

"It must be out there somewhere," he said, pointing vaguely to the field. "I just don't remember good when I'm drinking."

A convicted car thief, Moore said he drank "about 12 beers," and blamed the beer and an argument with his recent bride over a grocery list for the "impulse" which led him to attack and kill Martha.

Martha was reported missing Friday night by her father, who notified Lake Orion police. Moore was arrested about two hours later at a gas station, where an attendant reported he was washing brownish stains from his hands.

Under relentless grilling for 11 hours, Moore broke and admitted the slaying minutes before Oakland County Sheriff's deputy Don Kratt discovered Martha's body in a field off Maybee Road in Independence Township.

More than 200 police and volunteers had been searching for the child in the biggest all-out search in Oakland County history.

The boy said Moore had been polishing his car.

The boy, son of Clare L. Berger, of 315 Lake St., Lake Orion, is scheduled to make a statement to Ziem today, as is Moore's 20-year-old wife, Irene.

MARTHA'S HOME — This is the Lake Orion home where Martha Little had lived with her parents and five brothers and sisters. One of her favorite pastimes was playing in a sandbox built next to her house by her father. It was the last place she was seen alive by the father. Sheriff Frank Irons, and a Lake Orion police officer are shown above looking over the sandbox during the early hours of the search for any clues of her disappearance.

'She Always Stayed Near Home'

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ JR.

Standing on the porch of his Lake Orion home Saturday morning, quiet, slow-spoken Joseph Little looked with haunted eyes at the small brown house next door.

"I didn't know him at all," Little said. He spoke as if he were just discovering the fact.

"He just moved in a week ago . . . we nodded, said "hello" a couple times, but I don't know anything about him."

Little's 3-year-old daughter, Martha, had been missing 11 hours. The neighbor, 23-year-old Howard Wayne Moore, was being held in Oakland County Jail under suspicion of having something to do with her disappearance.

HAPPILY AT PLAY

Through the sleepless night, a mounting horror grew in Joseph Little's gray eyes.

He had been taking care of Martha and her five brothers and sisters the evening before. The older children were swimming, the 5-month-old baby was sleeping, and Martha was happily playing in a sandbox beside the house at 8 p.m.

Little had just returned from the store with cheese-coated popcorn as a treat for his children. When he called Martha at 8, she answered him.

When he called at 8:30, she wasn't there.

Neighbors and Lake Orion police began searching the neighborhood immediately. Men in boats started to drag the shoreline of Lake Orion, only 200 yards from Little's house.

"But she never went to the lake alone," Little said. "She always stayed close to home."

About 10 p.m., sheriff's deputies and state troopers joined the search. They suspected Moore might be able to tell them something when his wife, Irene, bride of only a month, told a neighbor he left his home about the same time Martha disappeared.

WASHING OFF BLOOD

He was arrested at a gas station at 10:30. He wasn't wearing the shirt he had on when he left.

As the night passed and the search spread, more bits of evidence against Moore trickled in.

An attendant at the gas station where he was arrested told deputies he had seen Moore washing what looked like blood from his hands. Moore's face and neck were scratched, the attendant said.

Under relentless grilling, Moore insisted he was in a bar all evening. Only a waitress remembered Moore being there. She told police Moore came in about 10:30 with scratches on his face and neck and blood on his hands and shirt.

Under analysis in the state crime detection laboratories at Lansing, Moore's trousers revealed traces of human blood and scraps of flesh.

BIGGEST SEARCH

The biggest search in Oakland County history was organized. More than 200 men combed back roads, woods, swamps and fields. The sheriff's mounted posse forced horses through heavy undergrowth. Boats criss-crossed nearby lakes, dragging for the small body.

At the jail, Moore insisted he was innocent.

"Do you think I could live with myself if I'd done a thing like that?"

But deputies painstakingly searching his car found a child's fingerprints on the dashboard and window sills.

At 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Moore broke down. He confessed the brutal rape-slaying; agreed to lead deputies to the murder scene if they didn't make him look at the body.

As they prepared to leave the jail, the questioners received a radio report that Deputy Don Kratt had found the body sprawled in a freshly-mowed hayfield, 20 feet off a lover's lane near Maybee and Sashabaw roads in Independence Township.

Deputy's Initiative Leads to Discovery of Dead Baby

DEPUTY DONALD KRATT

By CHUCK ABAIR

A routine investigation spurred by a hunch led Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Donald K. Kratt to the bludgeoned body of little Martha Little.

Kratt, on regular weekend patrol was not assigned the search. A glint of chrome caught his eye. It lead him to the body lying in a newly-cut hayfield of the Frank Kent farm, one-half mile off Maybee Road.

Kratt and Gerald Gaedt, another deputy, had been on standby duty during the day while all other officers combed woods and fields and dragged lakes in the Lake Orion area where the child had last been seen.

'I'VE FOUND THE BABY'

Sgt. Herbert Dolby, dispatched the pair to routine patrol Saturday at 1 p.m. to answer calls and help keep traffic moving.

"Don't go any farther than Clarkston," Dolby told Kratt. He didn't.

Forty minutes later he excitedly told the sheriff's office, repeating over and over again the words: "I've found the baby girl."

"Something just told me to go down that road. I just had a feeling I should check it," Kratt explained.

He said the shiny chrome of a car parked on the lonely road had caught his eye when he drove by on Maybee Road.

CONTINUES ON ROAD

"I turned my car around and decided to go back and see what it was. It turned out to be a farmer changing the oil in his car. His wife was sitting inside the car and their three children were playing nearby under a big shade tree."

"I decided to go on down the rest of the way—this was a "lover's lane." I was cruising at 10 miles an hour when I saw the body about 20 feet from the right side of the road lying face down in the open hayfield. I ran out to check if it was the girl and then quickly called in my report with the location," Kratt said.

Kratt, 25, is a Waterford High School graduate who joined the Sheriff's Department in May, 1955. Married, he lives only a mile from the shady lane where he first spotted the body.

Sheriff Frank Irons and veteran officers of the department praised his alertness and initiative which led to the discovery. Irons added that cooperation from the numerous agences participating in the case was exceptional.

Tax Deadline Here Tomorrow

Interest Penalty Begins at 5 P.M.; Treasurers Office Open for Bills

Pontiac taxpayers have until 5 p.m. tomorrow to pay 1956 city and school taxes without penalty, Walter A. Giddings, city treasurer announced.

Taxes may be paid at the Treasurer's Office on the first floor of city hall, 35 S. Parke St.

On Wednesday, Aug. 1, a one per cent collection fee will be added to all unpaid taxes. An additional one per cent will be added the first day of each month through February 1957.

On March 1, 1957, all unpaid taxes will be returned to the Oakland County Treasurer's Office for collection and will be subject to additional fees, Giddings said.

City taxes amount to $3,280,430 while school taxes come to $5,669,231.

Must Cast Absentee Ballots by August 4

Pontiac voters who will be unable to go to the polls Aug. 7, have until Saturday Aug. 4 at 2 p.m. to cast absentee ballots in the primary.

The ballots are available at the City Clerk's office in the City Hall this week Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. The office will be open especially Saturday for last minute absentee voters.

Iran Flood Killed 450

TEHRAN (AP)—Interior Minister Assadullah Alam reported today that 450 persons died in Iran's recent floods and 500 are still missing. Damage was estimated at more than 60 million dollars. More than 200,000 persons lost their homes.

KILLER LIVED HERE — This small, one-story home, located within 30 feet of the home of the murdered Martha Little, was where Howard W. Moore, her confessed killer, had lived for only one week before the girl was discovered missing Friday night. The 23-year-old bridegroom of a week has continued to maintain he does not know how the child got into his car but admits he bludgeoned her to death and left her in a hayfield when she cried because he molested her.

The Day in Birmingham

Lines Form Against Sale of Land for Industry

BIRMINGHAM — Hopes of city officials to get closer to their price for two pieces of property in the Eton Park area and to rezone it for industrial use may face heavy residential opposition tonight.

Five letters included in tonight's agenda object to the rezoning, and register objection to industry so close to the new subdivision homes. Another letter asks that the Berry Door Co., new in the area, discontinue night operation. "On warm evenings, the constant running of the machines becomes most irritating," writes Mrs. F. A. Von Koss.

Worry about children playing in the park with trucks passing, and land values of nearby residences, are mentioned in the letters.

Parcels No. 5 and 6 at Commerce and Lincoln, are being offered for sale, with minimum bids asked of $26,271 and $16,432.

With bids being asked equal or over $30,000 for three lots just south of Webster on Hunter Boulevard, the city's agenda tonight includes a letter from a previous bidder, demanding either rejection or acceptance at once. The bid, of Marie N. Primo, is $29,100.

A financial report on proposed parking lots from James Purkiss, finance director, suggests that councilmen wait until next spring on all lot construction, thus allowing assessments to be paid. Then, Purkiss advises, Lot No. 4 could be paid for.

Earlier advices have said Lot No. 4 might be dropped because of fund shortage.

Also on tonight's agenda are reports on the Twelve Town Drain, selling the sewage plant to the North Evergreen Authority, property acquisition for Parking Lot 3-HH, and condemnations of Park Street and Ferndale Street rights of way.

About 150 honored D. C. Egbert last night at a dinner, while several hundred attended the open house for him in the afternoon.

Mayor James Allen spoke at the dinner, lauding Egbert for his 19 years as city manager and 27 years of city service and presenting him with gifts that included a scroll and a small evergreen plant.

The evergreen symbolized the "Christmas Tree" that will be named in his honor, and will bear a bronze plaque. Replacing the present tree that centers Shain Park, the Norway spruce will be planted when weather conditions are right.

New York Mob Grabs for Rapist

NEW YORK (AP) — A shouting, fist-shaking crowd of 2,000 persons yesterday threatened a young laborer accused of raping a 3-year-old girl and flinging her to her death from a rooftop. Police, with guns drawn, held them off.

Police said Diego Lugo, 24, had confessed. He was charged with homicide and held for arraignment today.

Lugo had been released from psychiatric observation at Bellevue Hospital 12 days ago, police said.

The nude body of little Jeanette Ribot was found early yesterday in a tenement yard on Manhattan's upper West Side.

After his confession, Lugo was taken in handcuffs to the scene. A crowd had gathered there earlier. A roar went up.

The crowd quickly jammed around the car. Many demanded that the prisoner be turned over to them.

As the police car pulled away, hundreds ran after it, shaking fists and shrieking.

Police said Lugo told them he occasionally stayed overnight at the West 90th Street apartment of Mrs. Josephine Mirandi Ribot, 22, mother of the dead child. Mrs. Ribot is separated from her husband and, police said, shares her apartment with Lugo's brother Herminio, 21.

Lugo told police he decided to go to the apartment about 4 a.m. "to make some coffee." He saw the little girl sleeping in her crib. He carried her up to the roof of another building and attacked her, police said. They quoted him as saying he then dropped her into a courtyard six floors below.

Pontiac Deaths

George Clare Leach

George Clare Leach, 50, died Saturday at 5 p.m. at his home in Huntington Park, Calif.

A former resident of Pontiac, Mr. Leach married the former Lenore Pemfret in 1926.

Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Phyllis Rushing of Glenford, Ohio, two sons, George and Harold both at home, and three grandchildren. Also surviving are two brothers, Clark of Oregon, and Lee of Montana.

Funeral service will be held tomorrow.

Mrs. Mary Ann Wain

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Mary Ann Wain, 76, of 927 N. Perry St. Mrs. Wain died yesterday at her home after an illness of nine months.

Coming to Pontiac from Detroit where she was born, March 15, 1880, Mrs. Wain has been a resident here for nine years. She has been a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Mary Ellen Cook of Pontiac, and two brothers, William and Joseph Aspenletter, both of Detroit.

Rosary service will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. from the Brace-Smith Funeral Home where the body may be viewed. Funeral service will be held Wednesday at 9 a.m. from St. Michael's Church, with burial in Roseland Park Cemetery.

19 Die in Explosion at Texas Tank Firm

The other tanks, ranging from 10,000 to 20,000 barrels in capacity, quickly caught fire from the initial blast. They contained crude oil or its by-products.

The injured were taken to the 40-bed Moore County Memorial Hospital in this Texas Panhandle city of 8,000.

Nine of the dead were Shamrock employes and the others volunteer firemen from nearby towns.

Flames from the burning tanks were shooting at midnight as high as they were at noon. But winds that earlier had blown the flames away from the farm of 50 to 75 tanks subsided and fear that the other tanks would ignite subsided. The fire was expected to burn itself out.

A skeleton fire crew stood by but a Shamrock official, S.G. Wait, said there wasn't "a thing any fireman could do to prevent the entire tank farm from going up" if the fire spread.

Dr. James L. Johnson of Amarillo, who was flying his light plane near Dumas when the tank exploded, saw the first fireball. He landed at Dumas and rushed to the hospital.

I was watching the fire, which was about 20 miles away," he said. "It was followed by a big mushroom of smoke—just like the kind n the atomic bomb pictures."

The fireball was also sighted at Amarillo, 40 miles to the south.

Bower estimated the damage at half a million dollars.

Lowell Berry, maintenance foreman, said the plant would be back in operation within eight hours after the fire burned out.

Hamilton said the heat from the blast was unbearable at 200 yards away. He added:

"A whirring sound was heard for about two minutes and then it hit. The resulting inferno looked like tons of TNT going off. Orange flames turned to black.

"As I started to cross the highway an unidentified man ran by me with smoke billowing from his hair. Instinctively, I reached to feel my own hair and it was hot."

Occupant(s) Unidentified

Plane Still at Lake Bottom

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—A yellow and blue beechcraft Bonanza lies on the bottom of Lake Michigan a mile west of here and a diver was to go down in 50 feet of water today to find out who died in its fiery plunge.

The plane fell in flames Sunday morning but choppy water on the windy lake kept Coast Guard officials from learning immediately the identity of its occupant or occupants.

Two men's shoes, different in size, found floating on the lake led to the assumption that at least two men were on the plane. The Bonanza is a four-place aircraft.

"I saw the plane burning and smoking, and about a mile out it nose-dived from a height of maybe 200 feet.

"It headed straight down, spinning like crazy, until it hit the water."

The craft was identified as a Bonanza from a seat found floating with other wreckage in a huge oil slick. Besides the shoes, two maps of the Midwest also were found.

Air Force Gets Own Dictionary

Contains Terms Which Have Special Meaning to Fliers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force, which recently acquired its own academy, now has its own dictionary as well.

It is distributing a new, official "United States Air Force Dictionary," compiled by the Air University at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., and based upon interviews with hundreds of fliers about thousands of different words that have special meaning to airmen.

A preface says that "although the language of Air Force people is indeed English, a certain part of it is in the nature of special usage."

Thus, in thumbing through the dictionary, you find "amiable cluster." Does it mean a gathering of friends? Nope. It is "a cluster of bombs, especially fragmentation or incendiary bombs, held together so as to be aimed and dropped by ordinary bomb methods."

And there's "daisy chain." It means a "string of two parabundles attached to each other in which the parachute of the upper bundle is opened by the aircraft static line, the lower by a static line attached to the upper bundle."

Then there are grim and cryptic lines, like:

"Bombing encyclopedia—A collection of materials of a statistical nature used as a reference for all installations of objectives, economic or military, considered for potential strategic air attack, maintained by the director of intelligence, Headquarters, USAF."

Or interesting little bits of information on weapons, tucked away behind a seemingly harmless pair of words: "circular system—a system for control guided missiles." A note says: "The missile automatically sends out a signal to two radio stations, and times and echoes to keep itself on course."

The dictionary carries words familiar to airmen of the world wars and to today's jet jockies. There is the "conked out" engine (meaning the piston-power plant quit running) or today's "flame-out" of the jet engine. It also says that a "coffee grinder" is a "piston-type aircraft engine."

There are too the gobbldygook words of government and military. Take 'icfatcmutal." That is short form for "individual is cleared for access to classified material up to and including."

If you are running low on fuel, just say "bingo."

And if something is excellent, it is "zorch."

About one fifth of the public high-school systems in the United States are providing programs for driver education.

Stevenson in Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats have completed their 1,372-vote national convention roster, and a tabulation shows Adlai Stevenson currently ahead of all other Democratic presidential contenders in delegate strength.

Civil War Vet Faltering

DULUTH, Minn. (INS) — Albert Woolson, the last surviving veteran of the Civil War's Union Army, was described in "very poor" condition today by physicians at St. Luke's Hospital in Duluth.

Bob Considine Says:

Adlai's Backers Find New Vote Gimmick

NEW YORK (INS)—Adlai Stevenson's supporters, if he makes it at Chicago, will have a new campaign gimmick: Stickers which pluck passages from his speeches of the past. These will be attached to their every day mail, something like the stickers the Hollywood people used to send out—"Buy Christmas seals and stamp out TV."

A friend sends me a sample 25 cent package. It contains 20 stickers but — Mr. Stevenson should be told—only five topics. Certainly he has talked on more points than that. Anyway, here's a preview:

"On freedom — most all of us favor free enterprise for business. Let us also favor free enterprise for the mind. In the last analysis we would fight to the death to protect it."

"On voting—if the voters of this nation ever stop looking at the record and the character of candidates, and look only at their party label, it will be a sorry day for democracy."

"On world peace—Co-existence is not a form of passive acceptance of things as they are. It is waging the contest between freedom and tyranny by peaceful means."

"On industry and labor—The future of democracy, perhaps the future of our world, depends upon the exercise of power by America's private and public bodies alike with that self-restraint which separates power from tyranny and order from chaos. The fullest guarantee against irresponsibility lies in the constant reminder that people, and only people, are important."

"On the atom—Nature is neutral. Man has wrested from nature the power to make the world a desert or to make the deserts bloom. There is no evil in the atom; only in men's souls."

The astonishing aspect of Harold Stassen's revolt against Vice President Nixon is not that there is opposition to Nixon within the party but that Stassen, who is close in there, chose Gov. Herter as the man for second place at San Francisco.

With the exception of some of the people coming off the mercy ships which rescued the passengers and crew (if that's the proper order) of the Andrea Doria, I've never seen relief more deeply etched on a man's face than on the honest mien of Christian Herter that day at the Governors Conference when he told newsmen that he lived only for the day when he could put down the burden of public life. His manner shouted that he would never again run for anything. But anything. It doesn't seem possible that he could have changed his mind; or that as diligent a man as Stassen failed to check with him.

"Herbert Hoover will be celebrating his 82nd birthday in San Francisco on Aug. 10. It is interesting to note that no other President has lived to that great age since the death, at 85, of James Madison in 1836. No other President has been so active in his 80s as is Mr. Hoover. Two other Presidents also lived to a great age, John Adams, who made 90, and Thomas Jefferson, who made 83. These two died on the same day—July 4, 1826, the 50th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence."

A crowded plane I was in was taking off at Houston, Tex., the other day. At the racy point of no return on the runway, the starboard engine conked out, but then it caught hold again. The intrepid pilot threw the props into reverse, gunned the engines, stood up on the brakes—and we stopped a few yards short of the junk at the end of the runway.

The dear hostess reacted in an odd way. While we all wheezed in relief she picked up the P.A. mike and said, "Welcome aboard flight 320. Our flying time to Dallas this morning will be 53 minutes. Breakfast will be served en route. Thank you."

THANK YOU.

Police Hunt Musicians for $70 Radio Theft

A goateed musician and his companion are suspected in the theft of a $70 portable radio Saturday morning from a music store at 18 E. Huron St., Pontiac Police said today.

The manager, J. J. Balser of 1066 Round Lake Rd., said both men claimed to be jazz musicians. They apparently were examining instruments, Balser told police.

Salvation Army Plans Rehabilitation Center

Sale to the Salvation Army of the Whitfield, Walter and Dawson grocery warehouse was one of the most important Pontiac real estate deals of recent months.

The sale stands out first because it transfers ownership of the West Lawrence Street property which long has been a landmark in the City's commercial life. It is important, too, because it will enable the national organization of the Salvation Army to establish here its 120th rehabilitation center.

Besides the purchase price of $180,000, the Army intends to spend about $120,000 in alterations, including addition of a third floor containing modern living quarters for 75 men. When completed, the new center also will house the Army's workshops for renovating and repairing for resale articles of furniture, clothing, etc. and will be amply able to relieve pressure on the Detroit center.

In the words of Brig. Byam G. Youngman, manager of the Detroit center, the new Pontiac project will bring together "waste material and waste manpower. It is a long term therapy plan to rehabilitate men with individual problems."

Leaders of the Salvation Army are to be commended for their plans to extend rehabilitation work to Pontiac. Beyond doubt they have the good wishes of the entire community for success in this praiseworthy venture.

7,800,000 Vets Educated Under GI Bill of Rights

An important milestone has been reached with the expiration of the World War II veterans educational bill of rights.

During the 12 year life of this program no less than 7,800,000 veterans took advantage of the opportunity to continue their schooling or learn new skills. The cost to the country was $14.5 billion. But this sum now is paying the Nation dividends in improved education and skills and larger incomes of its veterans.

At the outset educators were far from unanimous in support of this program, which became operative with President Roosevelt's signature on June 22, 1944. Some feared unfavorable effects on education in general. Others expected a wave of rowdyism and that the veterans wouldn't study.

It was not long, however, before the GIs dispelled these ideas. As a rule they proved themselves good students, seriously interested in acquiring further education and anxious to take their rightful places in civilian life.

Of the veterans who qualified under this bill, 2,200,000 went to college and 3,500,000 attended schools below college level. On-the-job or on-the-farm training was taken by 2,100,000.

But the veteran won't disappear from the campuses and training school with the expiration of this World War II program. Under the Korean GI bill, now in its fourth year, some 750,000 veterans are expected to go to school this fall. There is every reason to believe that this program, also, will prove to be a good investment.

Tragedy in a Pool

Fate struck a cruel blow at Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sparks of Commerce Township when unseen death took their two year old daughter, Norma Jane.

The child drowned in four feet of water in an outdoor swimming pool at the family home, 2425 Oakley Road. What made the accident doubly tragic was that little Norma Jane's brothers and sisters and some of their playmates were romping in the pool at the time and didn't know she had fallen in.

Equally tragic is the fact that Mr. Sparks, a building contractor, built the 18 by 20 foot pool last year so that his children would have "a nice place to swim." Unfortunately, however, because of business pressure, he had been unable to carry out his plan to fence the pool against just such a tragedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Sparks can be assured that the sympathy of the entire community goes out to them. They can be assured, too, that the fate of little Norma Jane will inspire everyone to greater watchfulness over the safety of small children.

"Under the appropriation the House voted, plus the carryover, the Defense Department would have $36,200,000,000 to spend during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1956."—News item. Surely it will need more money than that, which figures a more $4,000,000 an hour — days, nights and Sundays.

Marilyn Monroe would soon pay enough in federal taxes to liquidate the national debt if she were to become an ecdysiast.

The Man About Town

Oakland County's Primary Results of Two Years Ago

Eight: When we ask all the questions.

Eighteen: When we know all the answers.

In the 1954 primary election, Oakland County Republicans voted as follows on governor: Leonard, 19,652; Cleary, 5,549; Brake, 4,461; Keyes, 3,314. Williams, unopposed for the Democratic nomination, polled 22,700. In the November election Leonard carried the county, receiving 76,210 to 75,625 for Williams.

According to a quiet poll conducted by MAT during the past few weeks, Leonard will find the going different in Oakland County on Aug. 7. A total of 67 Republicans, picked at random in 27 voting precincts scattered over the county, shows 44 favoring Cobo, 12 for Leonard and 11 uncommittal.

A phone call Friday from

of Keego Harbor suggested that it should be spelled "Fryday."

Perhaps farmers in the Pontiac area are luckier than they think. A letter over the signature,

"A Stricken Lapeer Farmer,"

says: "I read your item about lodged wheat in Oakland County, but it is far worse up this way. Over a thousand acres are ruined. I lost 40 acres myself."

Personal note: The sister ship of the "Andrea Doria" was berthed near the "Queen of Bermuda" when arrived in New York on the latter last Monday. The stricken liner was due to take the same berth later in the week as its sister departed for Genoa. The fog had enveloped the Atlantic for several days, and the fog horn on the Bermuda liner blew for ten seconds every minute throughout Sunday night.

David Lawrence Says:

Give-Aways Prevented Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON — How can the American people get the whole story of what really happened in the 84th Congress which has just ended? How can they protect themselves in the future against wanton betrayal of the public interest by an extravagant Congress?

For despite all the boasts about the "fine record" and the speed with which many laws were passed, the truth is this was a "give-away" Congress unprecedented in history. There was a supreme indifference to the fact that there are limits to what the taxpayer can afford. No attention was paid to the prospect that the burdens imposed in these times will prove unbearable in a period of economic recession.

Most notorious in this session were the brazen examples of "log-rolling—the deals by which many members of Congress support each other's projects on a plain basis of "you vote for my project and I'll vote for yours."

RECKLESS SPENDING

Congress was so reckless in its spending mood that it actually appropriated $900,000,000 more for airplane production than the executive asked for and now the Air Force is scrambling around trying to find ways to spend the money. This benefits, of course, the senators and representatives who come from states where these military appropriations are spent but it does seem fantastic that $900,000,000 can be appropriated when there isn't even a planned military project in existence on which to spend it.

All this is happening at a time when the American people are paying the highest income taxes in peace-time history. While the treasury surplus was small and was wisely applied to cutting down the public debt, there could have been a sizable tax reduction this year if the Congress had decided to refrain from so much spending. It could have avoided at least $5 billion to $7 billion of extra spending.

Actually non-defense spending has increased by about $5 billions a year since the ending of the Korean War. As soon as armament expenditures are cut down, Congress thinks of many ways to spend what is saved.

TO SATISFY VOTERS

Few members of Congress went home this time without something to which they could point with pride—government money for their constituencies. Some of the projects—like the law to build new roads—required some taxes to be paid by the users to help meet the costs of construction but many of the projects are local or regional and cannot be justified as national. The idea that local communities or adjacent states should join in paying for these improvements seems to a large extent to have been ignored.

The spending for farm groups was obviously political. The farmers now get about $5 billions a year from the U.S. Treasury and the soil bank may add another $1.2 billions.

If it hadn't been for the segregation issue there would have been a $1.6 billion appropriation for school construction. As it was $368,000,000 was voted for schools in areas where military installations have increased school populations. The excuses for invoking federal aid are growing each year.

Then there were the "welfare" appropriations with a start toward medical insurance and more of the "cradle-to-grave" paternalism. The administration fought some of these proposals as unsound and as likely to undermine the whole system of Social Security but was up against a political threat by those who on the stump describe any opposition to extravagant spending as inhumane or hard-hearted. Yet if self-reliance and family savings are discouraged at a time of record-breaking prosperity, when is personal thrift to become logical?

TRADITIONAL SCHEME

Looking at the record of the 84th Congress the wonder is that so little was revealed in the press about the obvious raids on the federal treasury. One reason is that the people who know most about the projects don't like to line up against the sponsors or those who stand to benefit financially from the proposals. The local chambers of commerce either remain silent or plug for the appropriations that benefit their localities directly. Also in Congress whoever votes for a project in his own district or state is reluctant to criticize the other fellow's favorite scheme.

Congress spends loosely when the people are indifferent. And they are indifferent because they are uninformed. This is a domain in which the right to know crusaders could do a great deal of good.

* * *

Taxpayers' revolts seem to be the logical answer, but they cannot be effective without the facts. Maybe some day a public spirited foundation not so much interested in protecting the civil liberties of Communists and their dupes will put up a million dollars a year to analyse federal spending and turn a searchlight on the darkness that surrounds the waste of taxpayers money.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Belly Breathing Advised to Relieve Angina Pectoris

I wouldn't even mention angina pectoris here if I did not believe that what I have to suggest to subjects of this complaint can do no harm. Whether it will do any good is for the angina sufferer to decide for himself. In any case, please remember I'm no great shakes on angina.

The emergency remedy I heartily recommend for any "attack" that bears even a slight resemblance to angina, is so homely that some Y. W.'s will reject it offhand.

The remedy is three to six inflations of the bellows.

Belly breathing, that is, not chest breathing. Trouble is a lot of knuckleheads who have been through high school and college don't know what inflation of the bellows means. They managed to cut physical education, which is just tolerated in high school and college in a make-believe fashion.

Several times I have tried earnestly to teach the lesson here, but too many things can happen to my copy before it appears in print.

There are two types or breathing. First, natural breathing, otherwise called abdominal, belly, bellows, or diaphragmatic breathing. Second, costal or chest breathing.

Natural breathing is more efficient than chest breathing. Besides producing greater aeration (oxygenation) of the blood, it produces better circulation than costal or chest breathing.

Older authorities thought that ordinary quiet breathing in the erect posture was the abdominal type in men, the chest type in women. Some of them thought this difference was due to the wearing of tight clothing by women. Better observers found that Indian and Chinese women who had never worn tight clothing breathed naturally, that is the abdominal type.

An unconscious person, one asleep or under anesthesia breathes with the bellows, the diaphragm, belly, or abdominal type.

A savage, or for that matter an athlete breathes with his bellows. During great exertion every intake of air expands or inflates the bellows, bag, or belly, while the chest or rib cage remains almost rigid.

If all this seems confusing, just remember one thing: When you breathe, inflate your bellows and never mind your chest.

Every sedentary person past 35 should do the belly breathing exercise, six inflations, every night upon retiring. Don't wait until you have a "heart attack." Learn how to use your bellows to improve your circulation. Belly breathing is a booster pump for the circulation — what physiologists call the "aspiratory action of the thorax."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Democracy Dealt Blow by Southern Bigots'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Democracy has been dealt another crushing blow. With the defeat of the Civil Rights Bill in the Senate recently, democracy has again been defeated.

For years now the intelligent enlightened people of this country have been trying to relieve some of the ridicule this country has received for its treatment of Negroes. And for years Southern Senatorial big mouths have made this impossible.

We are being accused by the Communists of being hypocrites who preach democracy and practice bigotry and intolerance.

The dark-skinned peoples of the world are flocking to the Communist banner because they, too, realize that they are "colored" and want no part of the United States' treatment and policy toward colored people.

How long are we, as United States citizens, going to sit idly by and let our country's foreign policy be ruined by a few southern bigots? It is about time we did something.

Reader Questions School Fund Use

I am glad at last to see people are asking questions of these school boards. Too much money is being placed in the hands of inexperienced people. Remember Sandusky, let's wake up.

Our schools are only used at the most 190 days in the year. Is the outlay for gym and athletics worth the cost? Why do supervisors allow acres and acres taken from tax roll causing an added expense to taxpayers for maintenance.

A Tired Taxpayer

Hair-Splitting to Prevail Along '56 Campaign Trail

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGON (AP)—What Democrats and Republicans showed in the 84th Congress, just ended, was their similarity. But to hear them, from now till election day, you might think they were as far apart as an apple and an egg.

Any differences between them are more in degree than in kind. In this period of prosperity and relative peace, there was no public demand for new or radical changes. None was made.

At times differences within the parties seemed greater than those between them. For example: between Northern and Southern Democrats and between the Republican "right" and "liberal" wings.

Voters in the past two elections showed they don't recognize much difference between the parties. In 1952 Republicans, riding President Eisenhower's coattails, were given control of the 83rd Congress by a slim majority. In 1954 the Democrats won control by a slim majority.

The mixed-up nature of the two parties appeared in the 84th Congress, just as it did in the 83rd, but never more than in the 83rd when Eisenhower's own Republicans gave him more trouble than the Democrats.

And the Republicans, for 20 years protesting the New Deal and "Fair Deal" programs, have not attempted to repeal any major one of them since Eisenhower took office. Instead, they worked to expand some of them.

For example: This year Eisenhower wanted Social Security broadened. The Democrats, who originated Social Security, broadened it more than he asked.

The minimum wage law was a product of the New Deal. Eisenhower last year wanted the minimum wage raised from 75 to 90 cents an hour. The Democrats upped it to $1.

Eisenhower offered a civil rights program. The House passed it in the closing days of the 84th Congress and it died in the Senate. He should have fought harder for it and offered it earlier.

But no matter when he offered it, it was almost certainly doomed by the Southern Democrats.

Democrats have tried to build a campaign issue by blaming the Republicans for the "giveaway" of natural resources. But they'll have a tough time convincing anyone the label doesn't apply to them too.

In foreign affairs the Democrats gave Eisenhower a huge measure of support. It was some of his own Republican leaders in the Senate who gave him some of his biggest headaches in the foreign field.

Both parties may claim credit for setting up the gigantic highway building program. The best they can do is split the credit. Eisenhower wanted it; so did the Democrats. They differed on how to pay for it. The Democrats' idea of financing won out.

It was on Eisenhower's plea for federal aid to education that he got one of his stiffest jolts. It was killed in the House with his own Republicans taking a major hand in the slaughter.

Case Records of Psychologist:

Crane Discusses Adopting Child

Fred offers a worthy challenge to all of you millions of readers of this column. Can you surpass his record of five adoptions? Scrapbook this column or mail it to people who have foster children and wish to know how to inform them properly of this wonderful fact.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-325: Fred P. Biederwolf, of Monticello, Indiana, offers a challenge which few, if any, Americans can surpass.

"Dr. Crane, you recently wrote about adopting children," he began, "and told us how to inform a foster child that she was adopted.

"Well, I'd like to tell you about myself and my two married sisters. In our three families there are a total of nine children, of whom five have been adopted.

"Do you think many families can equal this record?"

WORTHY CHALLENGE

This is certainly a worthy challenge, isn't it? Do any of you readers know of a higher record than five adoptions in the branches of one family?

If you married couples without children ever find a youngster for adoption, don't muff your opportunity.

"But maybe the child would inherit criminality?" you might retort.

Criminality is never inherited, so banish that old superstition at once.

"Yes, Dr. Crane, but would a foster child be as devoted to me as my flesh-and-blood offspring?" many young husbands argue.

Yes, it would be as devoted as you will train it, for devotion is not based in physical inheritance, but upon child training.

Repeatedly I have warned you that Cain and Abel, though blood brothers, feuded so violently that Cain killed Abel.

So there is no magic in being of blood kinship. The old saying that "Blood is thicker than water," doesn't ring true, in the psychological sense.

We physicians can't tell from the blood offered for transfusions wheather it was drawn from a vein in the arm of a Chinese, a Negro, an Indian or a Caucasian.

We are all God's children. God Almighty also started the germinal cells which are passed along, like a relay runner's baton, without our altering those chromosomes.

HOW INFORM FORSTER CHILD

"But, Dr. Crane, how can I inform my foster child that she is adopted?" you may ask.

Well, one of the best ways that we psychologists have developed is to remind her that you "adopted" her mother when you married her.

For husband and wife usually are not of any close blood kinship. It is a spiritual bond that unites their hearts.

Thereafter, they feel closer to each other than they do to their blood brothers and sisters with whom they grew up as a youngster.

By the same token, you can adopt a son or daughter because of love and voluntary affection, which are the strongest bonds in human life.

Thereafter, if you teach that child to love and respect you and to subscribe to ethical ideals and be a desirable citizen, you will have a wonderful son or daughter all your life.

On the contrary, even if you procreate flesh-and-blood offspring, if you fail to rear them wisely but let them grow up as juvenile delinquents, they may literally steal you blind and even kill you.

David's son Absalom tried to kill David and this attempt to murder the king was often true of the sons of other monarchs all through history.

So be grateful if you can adopt children. And they should be shown that it is a double honor to be adopted, for that very fact proves they were wanted at the outset.

To raise your batting average as successful parents, send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents" enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit). Use these in church or PTA discussion groups, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Detroiter Held for Road Death

Worker Admits Killing 15-Year-Old Youngster in Hit-and-Run Mishap

DETROIT (UP)—A young construction worker was held today for investigation in the traffic death of 17-year-old James Koenig of suburban Allen Park.

Koenig was killed Friday night while rolling a tire across the Edsel Ford Expressway.

Police said L. A. Thompson, 25, of Brighton, walked into headquarters yesterday and told police he was the driver of the car that struck Koenig.

Thompson said he was driving toward downtown Detroit. He had just looked over his shoulder, preparing to cut over into another lane of traffic.

"When I swung my head back around," Thompson said, "I saw this boy standing about 20 feet in front of me. He threw his hands in the air and I hit him."

Thompson said he drove about 200 yards and then pulled to the side of the road. He and two unidentified hitchhikers with him fled the scene.

Thompson was held for investigation of leaving the scene of a fatal accident.

Russians Agree to Entertainment Exchange Tours

MOSCOW (UP) — American showman Billy Rose says the Soviet Union has agreed in principle to send 500 Russian entertainers to the United States and let 500 American entertainers come here next year.

Rose said a draft agreement was initialed for the Russians by Georgi Orvid, deputy minister of culture.

It envisions exchange tours of four Russian and four American troupes during 1957, after New Year's Eve premiere performances in New York and Moscow, Rose reported.

The diminutive theatrical producer came to Moscow to investigate the possibility of such an exchange in the hope, he said, that a swap of music and laughter "might relieve a certain amount of tension."

There would be appearances in six cities of about the same population in each country, and appearances on the U.S. commercial and Russian state radio and television networks, Rose said. He said the State Department had expressed approval in principle.

Nixon Says Stassen Did Not Hurt GOP

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UP) — Vice President Nixon says Harold Stassen's proposal of Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as a vice presidential candidate did not hurt the Republican party.

Asked to comment on Stassen's efforts to replace Nixon as the GOP vice presidential nominee, the vice president told newsmen: "Any healthy discussion is never harmful."

Nixon said he has received indication of support from a "substantial number" of people since Stassen's move in Herter's behalf last week.

He said also he would be happy to take the decision of the delegates at the party's national convention. Herter has agreed to nominate Nixon at the convention.

Jail Bonds Up for Vote

COLDWATER (AP) — Voters in the August primary will decide the fate of a proposed $400,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new Branch County Jail at Coldwater. The present jail is more than 90 years old and was condemned by the State Corrections Department several years ago.

ADA Hits Nixon as Candidate

GOP Would Be Taking Chance With Nation's Future, Report Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans for Democratic Action said today the Republican party will be taking a "dark and dangerous gamble with the nation's future" if it renominates Vice President Nixon.

A staff report on Nixon's record, addressed to delegates and alternates to the Republican National Convention, based the organization's conclusion on what it called Nixon's "many limitations and weaknesses."

"It is a record that shrinks when measured against the needs and responsibilities of America's position in the world," said the 24-page printed document.

Preparation of the pamphlet was started before Harold E. Stassen opened his July 23 drive to replace Nixon with Gov. Chrstian A. Herter of Massachusetts as President Eisenhower's running mate. But it took note of the Stassen move as "further public expression of deep sense of unease about Nixon" and added:

"This public controversy over Nixon's fitness happened because he has become more controversial, more vulnerable, more expendable than he was in 1952, when the first effort was made to drop him seven weeks after his nomination."

Stassen said he feels certain Herter's name will be placed in nomination for the No. 2 spot on the Gop ticket because "regardless of everything said about me in the past week, the convention is now 'open.'"

Eisenhower has expressed delight at Nixon's plan to seek renomination, but has not foreclosed the possibility of another running made. Stassen, Eisenhower's assistant for disarmament, said during a CBS interview he doesn't think Eisenhower has "reached a final conclusion."

"The President also believes in an open convention. . . He will wait until all the factors are in," Stassen said.

FUN IN THE BACKYARD — 1

The Swing

There is plenty of fun to be had in the back yard when the weather is fine. Many hours can be passed pleasantly on a swing under the trees.

Here is Janey on her swing, being watched by a little squirrel in the tree, and by her two dolls. Color this picture with your crayons, and then paste it down on cardboard.

Study it carefully before you cut it out, and notice how the rope goes across Janey's arms, through her hands and up over the tree. Then cut the figure out, and cut around the heavy outline of the trees and ground, so the center is completely cut away.

Take a long piece of thread, make a big knot in one end and thread it from the front through the seat of the swing up to Janey's hand, through it, at the hole indicated, up to the tree, across the back of the picture to the hole in the tree at right. Then bring it out at the front, down to Janey's hand, through it at the indicated hole and out through the swing seat. Draw the string straight, but not too tight, and knot the end to match the one on the left.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower kept watch today on the potentially explosive Suez Canal crisis. He also prepared to act on legislation left for him by Congress.

Closing out a long weekend at his country home, Eisenhower stayed near the telephone for further consultations with Secretary of State Dulles on Egypt's seizure of the canal.

Aides were expected to fly from Washington with some of the bills enacted before Congress adjourned Friday.

Assistant press secretary Murray Snyder said the President and Dulles discussed the Suez situation at length yesterday by long-distance telephone a few hours after Dulles returned to Washington from Latin America. Any conclusions were undisclosed.

Eisenhower plans to return to the capital tonight or early tomorrow morning.

Still in the convalescent stage after his emergency intestinal operation June 9, he looked thin and a bit pale as he worshiped with Mrs. Eisenhower at the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church. It was his first appearance in church since the operation.

Owner Drains Water!

Lake Becomes Mud Hole

WHITINGHAM, Vt. (AP)—Cottage owners along Lake Sadawga and Houghton N. Sayer were at odds today because the lake no longer exists.

Sawyer drained the water from the 220-acre lake he has owned for 30 years. He said he no longer felt up to paying the tax bills.

A thin trickle of brook water winds through a mud flat where swimmers and boaters held sway a month ago.

Mud prevents recovery of boats now anchored on the lake bottom. And the insects are nothing to write home about.

Sawyer says there is an easy solution: he'll close the gates, refilling the lake, if the cottage owners will help him foot the $150 annual tax bill.

Some of the townspeople don't see it that way. Selectman E. J. Roberts of Jacksonville, who happens to be Sawyer's first cousin, says Sawyer is "just being ornery."

"He figured that if he let the water out, people would rush to him and get on their knees and beg him to sell it," Roberts said. "I figured I had to do something dramatic," said Sawyer. "But you know how those stubborn Yankees are."

Cops, Robbers Game Fatal to 16-Year-Old

LYNN, N.C. (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Carl Lee Blackwell died yesterday after being shot through the heart while trying to wrest a pistol from his 4-year-old nephew, who was using it in a game of "cops and robbers."

Sheriff Lloyd Westbrook said he was told the nephew and other children had been playing with cap pistols, when the youngster went into the house and got a .25 caliber pistol belonging to his grnadfather.

Young Republican Says He'll Back Leonard

DETROIT (AP) — Allan Clink, national Young Republican committeeman from Michigan, announced today formation of a new committee in support of Donald S. Leonard, GOP candidate for the nomination for governor.

"We feel Leonard is qualified by experience and education to be a good governor," Clink said. "He has the physical ability to wage the aggressive campaign necessary to be elected governor and he can be neither bossed nor bought."

Democrats Plan Runoff Election

Nomination for Texas Governor Has Liberal Opposing Conservative

DALLAS (AP)—U. S. Sen. Price Daniel, a conservative and States-Righter, opposes liberal Ralph Yarborough in a runoff Aug. 25 for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas.

Daniel, who said he would resign his Senate seat after he won the nomination, led the ticket with 578,946 votes in the final tabulation yesterday by the Texas Election Bureau, an unofficial vote-counting agency.

Yarborough, a former district judge who lost two previous gubernatorial races to Gov. Allan Shivers, had 428,948 votes in the incomplete returns.

W. Lee O'Daniel, former U. S. senator and Texas governor, polled 324,145.

J. Evetts Haley, Reuben Senterfitt and J. J. Holmes all trailed, but pulled enough votes to help keep anyone from having a majority and therefore throwing the race into the Aug. 25 runoff election.

WW II Students Decline

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Only seven or eight World War II veterans remain at the University of Michigan out of some 11,000 who received their education under the GI Bill of Rights, which expired this week. Some 3,000 Korean veterans attending on the Korean bill are expected in the fall semester.

9 Youths Guilty of Starting Riot

Sentence Set Aug. 9 as Brawlers Released on $100 Bonds

Nine youths who pleaded guilty to brawling in a city fire station Thursday night will be sentenced Aug. 9.

They were freed under $100 bonds at arraignment Saturday before Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan. The nine are charged with molesting and disturbing persons in pursuit of occupation.

Petitions similarly charging three juvenile boys will be filed in juvenile court, according to Det. Sgt. John DePauw.

The 10-minute battle with firemen began when the youths entered the station at Glenwood street and Montcalm avenue seeking revenge on a driver who forced their car off the road, the youths claimed.

The driver had sought to call police from the station, Assistant Fire Chief Max Wells said. An attempt by fireman to secure the license plate number of the youths' car touched off the scrap, ending when the boys fled to avoid the police.

Theson left Detroit Saturday on a non-stop flight carrying new medicine for a tuberculous sufferer in Athens.

His wife Afrodite says her husband had planned the trip to visit his 95 year old mother. A friend asked him to deliver the experimental medicine which was obtained in Canada.

A police escort was to meet him at the Athens airport when he arrived there yesterday and escort him to the hospital.

Theson also took medicines he purchased for residents of his native village Haspaktos which is just outside Athens.

Captain Saves Logs of Doria

Records Put in Hands of Italians; Stockholm Reported Off Course

NEW YORK (AP)—The logs of the liner Andrea Doria, which will be important in investigations, were saved when the ship sank off Nantucket last Thursday, the Italian line announced today.

Earlier reports had indicated the ship's logs were lost when the liner went down.

The logs constitute the hourly record of the ship's course, communications and navigational conditions.

A company spokesman said the logs were salvaged by Capt. Piero Calamai, the ship's master, who was the last man to leave her, after the collision with the Swedish liner Stockholm.

The records were placed in the hands of the Italian consul general here. That office, in turn, disclosed it is dispatching the records to the Italian government in Rome — probably by diplomatic pouch.

Meanwhile, another ship skipper, Capt. James W. La Belle, of the American export liner Independence, said that news reports of where the crash occurred indicated the Stockholm was off course.

The number of persons still unaccounted for in the sinking was reduced further today—from 37 to 36. This is in addition to two listed as known dead and 18 missing and presumed dead.

Many of the 36 still unaccounted for are believed safe, the line said. It had listed 73 in this group Saturday, but has gradually been locating many of them.

Some failed to register with the line in the confusion that surrounded the return of survivors aboard rescue vessels.

One new aspect of the crash was reported yesterday by a Stockholm crewman, who said his ship's powerful engines were reversed before she plowed into the Andrea Doria.

Bernabe Polanco Garcia, 36-year-old Spanish seaman on the Stockholm, also said he was sure the foghorn on the Stockholm was silent before the collision.

Farmington Stymied on School Sites

$2,000,000 for Building — Good Spots Unobtainable

By MARY CELINSKE
Farmington Correspondent

FARMINGTON — With $2,000,000 to spend for new schools in the mushrooming Farmington area, Farmington Board of Education members find themselves stopped for want of desirable school sites upon which to build. Everyone can appreciate the need for new schools but everyone wants them "somewhere else."

"For sometime it has been a problem to negotiate with owners," says O. E. Dunkel, Superintendent of Schools. "For various reasons, they do not wish to sell, they don't want a school nearby, or they value their property too highly. Frequently, desirable school sites are just out of reach of the schools."

So far the board has completed the purchase of two school sites in the Kendallwood area. On a spot at 12 Mile and Power road a new junior high school will be erected, and an elementary school is planned for a six-acre site between 12 Mile and 13 Mile roads, west of Farmington road.

The school board is seeking a site near the center of the City of Farmington. At present there are three schools within th city limits, only one of which—the junior high school—is centrally located.

According to Dunkel, there are now 308 elementary students in that part of the city lying west of Brookdale between Grand River and the cut-off. All of these children must be transported by bus to the 10 Mile Elementary School because of hazardous McGee Hill. Cost of their transportation must be borne solely by the school district because they live within one mile of the school. (Districts are reimbursed by the state for transportation of children living more than one mile from school.)

The school board has attempted to purchase city-owned property along Farmington road, south of Grand River. The City Council is opposed to the sale of the property to the schools on the ground that property owned by the schools is not taxable. Little vacant property remains in the city, and the council, realizing the city's need for a sound tax base, would prefer that the property be sold for some other purpose.

Council members have suggested that the board seek sites nearer the western limits of the city, however at a joint meeting of the board and council held Thursday, Dunkel made it clear that the board feels such an arrangement would defeat its purpose.

"If we move very far west we move away from the need as it now exists," Dunkel stated. "As subdivisions develop to the west, children there will have to be accommodated, and children living in the heart of the city would again be right where they are today."

Council members have agreed that an elementary school should be located in the city, but no definite decision as to its location has been reached.

It is Dunkel's opinion that the best interests of the community could be served if the school board could be in very early on the approval of new plats. He pointed out that it is not the desire of the board to have a voice in such approvals, but to have some advance notice of large real estate development so that the location of future schools can be planned more intelligently. If the school board were notified of such developments, it might be possible to arrange with the developer for options on desirable sites before home building is begun. In this way schools could be built where the need is greatest.

DEVELOPERS VARY

Dunkel said that some developers have been "most cooperative" in setting aside land for schools in their subdivision plans, whereas others prefer to sell every available lot as a home site.

Early last December the school board met with the township board to ask that they be notified when large plats were approved. The matter was tabled for a future meeting which the school board requested "before Christmas." The proposed joint meeting of the boards has not yet been called.

Dunkel stated that he has met with Vilican-Leman, planning consultants for Farmington Township, and that all are in accord that in any master plan drawn for the area, consideration must be given to location of schools and recreation areas located near elementary schools.

It is Dunkel's dream that the time will come when no elementary school child will live more than a mile from an easly accessible school and recreation area. He believes that these could be built adjacent to each other and maintained and operated at minimum cost.

Troy Studies Ditch-Digging

Purchase of Equipment Might Reduce Flooding, Manager Contends

TROY—City Attorney Jack Hutson and City Manager O. G. Holway are studying possible ways that this city may reduce or avoid its assessment for the proposed Twelve Town Drain.

Mayor Frank Costello has indicated that he feels the assessment, of almost $19.45 an acre, is far too high. Other commissioners also are joining the opposition to the drain officials' dividing of financing.

A meeting of commissioners is slated as soon as Hutson and Holway complete their study. Indications are that probably the discussion will not be resumed until next Monday's meeting.

Engineers are continuing to "toy with ideas" on a sewer system that Troy might install itself, according to City Clerk Lawson Lockhardt, but have not been given any go-ahead on detailing. "It all depends on how the Twelve Town disagreement is settled," he says.

"There's been no decision to cut away from the Twelve Town plan," Lockhardt says, "but some of the city officials figure that the city can serve itself better by creating its own system."

"They don't plan on going along with it unless they absolutely have to," he added.

Boy, 15, Stabbed in Blanket Fight

A Detroit teenager was treated for minor stomach cuts at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday after being stabbed by another youth who reportedly got angry during a blanket fight on the beach of a White Lake Township camp.

James A. Oxford, 15, said he was stabbed by William nKight, 15, also of Detroit, while both were guests at the Faith Wing Camp at 9091 Gale Rd., Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said today.

Investigators said the stabbing was done with a hunting knife. Oxford told deputies he and Knight were fooling with the blanket when Knight fell, got mad and lunged at him with the knife in his hand. The injured boy was rushed to the hospittal by Rev. Lewis Richmond of Detroit, camp director.

Later, Williams said he had stabbed the otoher boy "impulsively" but did not know he hurt him. He explained he hurt his side when he fell and got mad.

Orchard Lake Man Fined on Driving Count

Pleading guilty to a drunk driving charge, Otto C. Schaupeter, 69, of Orchard Lake, was fined $100 and paid court costs of $25 Saturday. He was arraigned before Justice Joseph J. Leavy of Sylvan Lake.

Allen C. Aluph Fined

Allen C. Aluph, 21, of Birmingham, paid a total of $85 in fine and costs Satruday after pleading guilty to reckless driving. He was arraigned before Keego Harbor Justice James Southard.

2 Women Riders Cut in City Accident Sunday

Two women received minor cuts when the car they were in rammed the rear of another Sunday morning on Bagley street.

The driver, Robert L. Jackson, 36, of 28 Lake St., was jailed on a chrage of drunk and disorderly conduct, Pontiac Police said. He was to be arraigned in Municipal Court today.

Jackson's car struck one driven by William Payne, 34, of 31 Hibbard Ct., about to turn left on Rapid street, police said.

Mrs. Willie V. Jackson, 31, of 348 Howard McNeil St. and Evelyn J. Scott, 25, of 318 Wessen St. both were released after treatment, authorities at Pontiac General Hospital said.

Driving Minus License Draws 30 Days in Jail

Driving with a revoked license brought a 30-day sentence to the Oakland County Jail for a Waterford Township man Saturday.

Roger White, 17, of 1430 Crescent Lake Rd., was jailed after pleading guilty before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle. Failure to pay fine and costs of $35 brought the lengthy sentence.

Donald Rongey Fined

Pleading guilty to reckless driving, Donald W. Rongey, 21, of 494 Cameron St., was fined $50 and paid $25 court costs Saturday. He was arraigned before Pontiac Township Justice Robert W. Hodge.

Pontiac Woman Held on Forgery Charge

A 21-year-old woman will be arraigned in Circuit Court next Monday, charged with swindling $208.66 from her uncle.

Earline Alexander, 7½ Grant St. confessed Saturday that she forged a check on the bank account of Finus P. Harris Sr., 538 Highland Ave., Pontiac police said.

According to Sgt. John Williams, Miss Alexander admitted she cashed the check last November and loaned the money to a boy friend.

Courage and Knowledge Win Out

Woman 'Brings Back' Drowned Boy

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD—A 36-year-old grandmother was credited with saving the life of a young swimmer who had gone down for the third time, late Friday. The accident happened in the Huron River at the Arch on Main street.

Eleven-year-old Steve Brock, who couldn't siwm, became panic stricken when he realized that he was in deep water, and disappeared from sight.

He was reported to be underwater for about three minutes before Life Guard Larry Eckert, 15, could locate him. When Steve was finally hauled up on the bank, he had begun to turn blue and was totally unconscious.

Mrs. George Schroeder of 1186 Pleasure Ave., who was watching her two children swimming, immediately took charge of the situation. She used the new method of artificial respiration which she had seen in the Pontiac Press some time ago, and by the time the firemen and doctor had arrived, Steve had begun to show some signs of life. Over a hundred children witnessed the accident.

FANNED LIFE SPARK

Doctor Earl Book, whose office is near the beach said, "Mrs. Schroeder is responsible for saving that boy. She fanned what little spark of life there was until we could get a pulmotor on him."

One of the first persons to arrive when help was summoned, was Richard Parker, of Pontiac, who is employed aross the street from the Arch. He was a Marine for seven years and said, "I've seen a lot of men drowned and I thought that kid was gone. Mrs. Schroeder did a wonderful job of bringing him back." Parker was stationed at Pearl Harbor when it was attacked.

A "boy-cried-wolf" note was injected into the situation. Two weeks ago, Eckert told of one of the children yelling that someone was drowning — — just as a joke. Police and firemen were called, at that time and the swimmers were warned that the beach would be closed if it happened again.

The very same boy who had reported the hoax was the one that reported that Steve had gone down. Some time was lost because no one believed the report, according to Eckert.

Steve's father, Sam Brock of 175 W. Maple Rd., said, "Words cannot express our gratitude. It was Larry Eckert's courage and Mrs. Schroeder's knowledge that saved our boy."

Mrs. Schroeder modestly declares "It's what anyone would do in the same situation."

'KNOW HOW' SAVES LIFE — Mrs. George Schroeder shows Steve Brock's mother how she saved the life of the 11-year-old youth. The 36-year-old grandmother said she used a new method of artificial respiration demonstrated in a Pontiac Press article.

Accident Hospitalizes Woman, Injures 4

A Birmingham woman driver was hospitalized and four others hurt in a two-car collision at a Troy Township intersection Saturday night.

Mrs. Edith Holthuf, 34, one of the drivers, was reported in "good" condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today with a fractured rib, face cuts and bruises on the left side, chest and arm.

Treated and released by the hospital were: Mrs. Holthuf's husband, Irvin, 43, bruised left elbow and left leg; her daughter, Carolyn 12, cuts of the right wrist; Donald Cramton, 33, of Royal Oak, cuts of the hands, and Carolyn Welsh, 12, of Birmingham, scalp cuts.

Cramton was driving the other car. He told investigating Troy Township Police the woman pulled in front of him at Livernois and 18 Mle Rd.

Nagging Backache Sleepless Nights

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation ...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys — tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Typing Opens Door to Many Jobs

By ANNE HEYWOOD

In grandmother's time, it was taken for granted that ladies knew how to paint china, enter a room gracefully and engage in conversational French.

It's probably just as well that we're no longer expected to have these accomplishments. Today's young woman has an opportunity to learn far more things and vastly more practical things, too.

She is, as the experts never tire of telling us, expected to be cook, dietitian, interior decorator nurse, child psychologist, etc.

And in the clinches, she's expected to be able to pitch in and make a living in business.

NOT RELEVANT

But that's where the trouble is. Too often, the things she has done at home seem utterly irrelevant to the business world.

"All those years of homemaking were wasted, as far as employers are concerned," women frequently tell me. "The trouble is, I'm a jack-of-all-trades. If I knew a little more about food, decorating or sewing . . ."

Often it's no laughing matter. She has to get a job, if the children are to go to college or if the old parents are to be taken care of or if household bills are to be paid during her husband's illness.

The best and easiest solution I know is to learn how to type.

If you are a good typist, you can add that skill to your decorating, child care experience or food experience and get some kind of decent job.

RARE EXCEPTION

Every woman can learn to type if she really wants to—save the one in a thousand who has absolutely no manual dexterity.

Women always give me a big argument about this.

Typing is a bore, they'll say and picture a dreary job as a straight typist. What they forget is that typing is a magic ingredient which you can add to whatever homemaking skill you have and get a more interesting job.

PRACTICE AT HOME

While the children are growing, you can squeeze in half an hour a day, regularly, and become a good typist.

You can use the skill as you go along—for family correspondence and volunteer work.

Then, when the day comes that you want, or need, a job, you can get one. To be able to type well makes you look up-to-date and broadens the horizons of your job world.

If you would like to learn to type at home send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of this newspaper and I'll tell you how to go about it.

Balmain Collection Lavish

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — A swaggering elegance harking back to 1910 marked the Pierre Balmain collection today as the second week of the new Paris fashion season got under way.

Priceless furs bordered trains on fabulous evening coats. Bird of paradise, aigrette and ostrich plumes shot up from formal hairdos to nod royally in passage.

These clothes, said the designer, "turn in nostalgia toward Boldini beauties, D'Annunzio heroines, parading with greyhounds in Florentine groves."

One mink evening coat was cut to floor-sweeping proportions. Many Balmain necklines were down to the waistline—in the back.

Instead of capes, which are becoming something more than obvious this season, Balmain does jackets and coats which only look like capes in back view. They get their fullness from a deep fold on each side.

Bosoms are emphasized with bra draping and generous decolletage, usually in three big scallops. Sometime these bra tops are in contrasting color or fabric.

Queen Nefertiti hats—blown-up bulbs—are in harmony with Egyptian frieze embroidery in bands of jet, cut steel or gold.

Balmain proclaims a revolution in cut. It's all too tricky to explain, but the result is that the shoulders look thrown forward, and the waist is unbelievably small.

The little black dress is back in its glory this year. Balmain does dozens of them, beautifully draped and generously decollete, shoulder line.

DiMaggio May Wed U.S. Beauty

NEW YORK (AP)—Wedding bells may be ringing soon for former baseball star Joe DiMaggio and Lee Ann Meriwether, Miss America of 1955, it was reported today.

Walter Winchell, writing in the New York Daily Mirror, said the pair didn't deny a report to that effect while he was in their company Saturday night.

Winchell gave this account:

"This reporter accompanied Lee Ann Meriwether, 21, and Joe DiMaggio, 41, on a tour of several Atlantic City night spots Saturday night.

"At the 500 Club, when their starry-eyed presence was noted and greeted with a public announcement that they would soon marry, Lee Ann gave a gasp and Joe looked down at the tablecloth—but they wouldn't say a word in denial."

Miss Meriwether has not been married before. DiMaggio was wed twice, the last time to actress Marilyn Monroe. This broke up after several stormy months and she has since married playwright Arthur Miller.

Class of '46 Reunion Set for Sunday

Jere R. Donaldson, general chairman for the 1946 class reunion of Pontiac High School, announced that plans are completed for the Sunday event.

Activities will begin at 11 a.m. in the Possum Hollow picnic area at Kensington Park near Milford.

Committees working on the reunion are Russell Carlson, place; Mrs. Leonard Cain, Mrs. Jack Poorman and Mrs. T. W. Jackson, contact committee; and Jane McGuire, Mrs. Ronald A. Strine and Patrick R. Pennell, publicity.

'His,' 'Her' Glasses in Mouthwash Set

Interesting idea in "thank you" gifts is a mouth wash set that adds a handsome touch to any bathroom. Two glasses—marked "His" and "Hers" — and a matching bottle come with their own hanging brass rack.

The black-and-gold striped glasses and bottle look so elegant any homemaker would take pleasure in them.

Bosomy figures become unbalanced in wide collars, large hats, tight skirts. Easy-swinging skirt provides a fresh kind of balance.

The most prevalent panel is the flat, floating type, stitched down from waist to hips. This softens the narrow silhouette for the top-heavy build who should keep the top simple, avoiding wide collar accompanied by the larger hat. Medium hat o.k.

'Marathon' Dieters Find New Zest in Living

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

About this time each year I print a few of the letters I have received from Marathon winners. As most of my readers know my Eight-Week Self - Improvement Marathon runs in this column each January.

With my direction, entrants see how much they can improve themselves in eight weeks time. Tens of thousands of women join every year.

I print some of these letters each summer because there is nothing quite so inspiring as success. When you hear of the change in appearance and the resulting happiness these women had it makes it easier to do yourself.

HIGHLIGHT QUESTIONS

Also, letters from Marathon winners highlight questions many women wonder about. These letters also have lots of human interest and demonstrate in a practical way the close correlation between physical appearance and personality and vibrant living. They are hot off of the griddle of human experience!

Listen to this one:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"Looking back I do not know why in the world I did not do it years ago—lose 20 pounds! How I ever allowed those 20 pounds of silly fat do what they did to me I cannot imagine. I guess I just got into a rut.

"You have often written, and I know it is true, that while personal appearance is important it is only a small part of charm and magnetism. But you have also written something like 'Many women are sabotaged in personality and outlook by self-consciousness which comes from an awareness of physical defects.'

"Believe me, I was one of these but I never admitted it to myself until I had made up my mind absolutely to get rid of the extra pounds. Now after losing them I can admit that they were having great repercussions on my happiness.

GAVE UP SWIMMING

"I was affected by them in many subtle ways I can now see. I had given up swimming which I love, and bowling too. I insisted that my husband and I refuse many invitations because I had a headache or a backache or was too tired.

"Maybe I actually had them or was tired! I don't know, but I suspect that it was an unconscious defense against going out when I was self-conscious about the way I looked.

"I never feel tired any more and we have been swimming a lot, have joined a dance group, and are enjoying our friends. We are really living!"

There you are! The change in life which this reader has experienced no doubt comes from lack of self-consciousness but also from better health. The road to beauty is the road to health.

MARATHON HELPED BRING SPARKLE BACK TO MARRIAGE

Many of the great in literature have written of love. Some even have tried to define it. However, love is made up of so many different elements that no one could say why any one woman loves a certain man, or vice versa. The woman herself and the man himself could not say why. To outsiders it may make no sense at all.

A reader writes that since joining the 8-Week Marathon Plan she has lost 20 pounds and has been swimming a lot.

There are certain qualities and characteristics one can recognize as lovable in another but there is so much else—a certain rapport of the spirit, shared laughter, a similar approach to life, and perhaps a chemical formula which defies analysis.

So, to place overemphasis on physical attractiveness would be unwise. Yet being human we are all somewhat affected by the image we have of everyone, even those we love.

Also, it is natural to want to be attractive for the one you love. Whenever a man or woman stops feeling this way and making the effort to be attractive, she or he has lost the romantic attitude. Often this is due to getting in a rut because of fatigue, worry, and strains of all sorts. Humdrum daily routine has taken its toll.

READER WRITES

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I cannot tell you what your 8-Week Marathon has meant in my life. I still have not been able to work out just what happened. All I know is that my husband and I have been married for 15 years and that we are deeply devoted to one another.

"There was never any problem of another man or woman or in-law trouble or drinking or gambling or any of the usual complaints, but somehow our marriage had gone stale.

"I am not a neurotic. I did not expect every day to be a honeymoon but somehow the excitement, the sparkle had gone. Our marriage had become routine.

"I don't know whose fault it was. We both work hard, my husband at his job and I with our home and children. We have our feet on the ground. I think they were too much on the ground!

LOST 20 POUNDS

"What I wanted to tell you is that I had gained 25 pounds and I had become careless about the way I looked. I decided to join Marathon and did lose 20 pounds, plus fatigue and a short temper.

"I began to take an interest again in clothes and grooming. I do not know what this all adds up to. Maybe I just acted more attractively because I knew I looked more attractive.

"Anyway, the change in my husband's attitude toward me is amazing. He was always kind and good but (I hate to say it) I think he was a little bored."

UP TO WOMAN

Well, there is nothing I can think of to add to this letter or to the first few paragraphs except to remind you that somebody's got to keep that spark going and it's usually up to the woman. She is better equipped by temperament and talent for the job. Generally men are romantic if we give them a chance to be—and our appearance does often change our personality.

* * *

If you would like to have the 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon these readers used, send 10 cents and a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Personal Tastes Should Mold Home Decor

FORT COLLINS, Colo., (INS) — Puzzled about the "right" way to decorate? If so, a home furnishings expert recommends a strong dose of Western individualism.

Forget traditions and forget what the neighbors did last week, says Mary Grindstaff of the A & M extension service. Plan your home around the things you like.

Every family, for example, sets a traffic pattern all its own through the living room. Is the furniture placed to fit this pattern? Would that new davenport you've had an eye on interfere with it?

A little study of the family's leisure habits would help in furniture arrangement, Miss Grindstaff points out. Some families would find conversation much easier if the chairs were better grouped.

Other families might discover they didn't have to squint at the TV if the living room were rearranged.

The decorating specialist advises the housewife above all never to forget her own convenience. An electrical outlet hidden behind a desk can mean hours of stopping.

Long extension cords have a mean way of tangling with dust mops and vacuum cleaner extensions.

Sylvia Peres Says Vows in Lutheran Church Rite

The Rev. John C. Streit performed the 6 o'clock ceremony at Grace Lutheran Church Saturday evening, uniting in marriage, Sylvia Peres and Varton A. Karagosian.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Mayer of Arthur street and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Vartauhie Karagosian of North Perry street.

Her shoulder veil was secured to a Chantilly lace pillbox hat. She carried an arrangement of lilies-of-the-valley and white carnations, centered with an orchid on her Bible.

ATTENDANT IN BLUE

A gown of blue chiffon was worn by Mrs. Lester Hubbell of Wyandotte who served as the bride's only attendant. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of pink carnations.

MRS. VARTON A. KARAGOSIAN

At the reception, held immediately following the ceremony at St. George Hall, Mrs. Mayer greeted her guests wearing a gray nylon chiffon dress and an orchid corsage.

By EMILY POST

A girl writes: "Two other girls and myself are planning to give a shower for a friend who is to be married shortly. They want to invite both men and women friends of the bride and bridegroom to the shower.

"Every shower that I have ever been to, was strictly for the girl friends of the bride and the men would drop in later for refreshments. I would like to know if such a shower is in order?"

Answer—I agree with you that it would be in very bad taste to invite men to a shower, especially one to which the guests bring wearing apparel for the bride. Men would drop in later only to take their best girls home.

Dear Mrs. Post: "I have been invited to spend two weeks with some friends who live in a big city. This will be my first trip to this city and we will probably be doing a lot of sightseeing as well as eating out a good deal. I would like to know just what my obligations are in regard to paying my share."

Answer: Everything they suggest and take you to they would pay for as you are their guest. If, however, there are several special things you would like to see and you suggest, then you could pay.

Dear Mrs. Post: "Is it ever permissible for a girl to take the first step and invite a young man to her house for dinner before he has asked her for a date?"

Answer: It would be perfectly proper for her to invite him anytime she is asking other people—but do not invite him alone.

Removes Tea Stains

To remove brown tea stains, first soak your teapot and cups in lots of hot soap or detergent suds. Then gently rub over the stains with a suds-laden sponge and rinse with scalding water.

Starkweather Home Scene of Shower for Maxine Hurt

Mrs. Gerald Starkweather of Overton street was hostess at a miscellaneous shower Saturday honoring bride-elect Maxine Hurt.

Maxine, daughter of Mrs. Myrtle B. Hurt of Auburn avenue, will become the bride of Jack Main Aug. 25. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Main of Pemberton road.

The bride-elect chose this occasion to announce her bridal attendants.

Mrs. John Hogan will serve as her sister's matron of honor. Other attendants will be Marilyn Hamilton of Muskegon; Marilyn Main, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Gerald Starkweather.

Jack has asked Harlow Claggett of Harrison to be best man. Ushers will include Kenneth Dickstein of Ann Arbor, Robert Nichols of Benton Harbor and Curt Murton.

Guests present at the shower were Mrs. Hurt, Mrs. Main, Mrs. John Hogan, Marilyn Main, Nancy Gray, Mrs. Moffat Gray, Marilyn Hamilton, Marcia Smith, Mrs. Edwin Waterbury, Mrs. Paul Pearson, Mrs. C. S. Starkweather and Mrs. Harold James.

Picnics Are Real Fun —but Not for the Skin

Picnics are wonderful for the disposition but bad for the skin. Everything from bites and stings to bumps and poison ivy takes its beauty toll.

If you really did get into a mess of ivy or oak apply a paste made of bicarbonate of soda and good quality witch hazel. It relieves the burning and itching, aids in drying the blisters and retards spreading.

Nail two empty spools to the wall and you'll have a perfect broom holder. Just hang the broom upside-down between the spools.

Let Child Tell You if You're Wrong

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dave's family subscribes to a popular magazine. His best friend's family doesn't. So Dave, who is eight, takes pleasure in giving them copies that his parents have finished reading.

One Sunday afternoon his father couldn't locate the current issue. When Dave said he hadn't seen it, his father said, "I guess the MacIvers have it, eh? Since you've been giving them my magazine, I daren't put one down for fear it disappears."

A little later, Dave's mother found the magazine. So her husband thoughtfully sought his son in the yard where he seemed absorbed in repairing his express wagon.

He said, "Mother found this behind the couch where I was reading it last night. So I was wrong. You didn't give it to the MacIvers."

The boy made no comment. Then his father said gently, "Dave, you should have said, 'Dad, you are wrong.' You let me get away with something that wasn't true. So look up at me—and say what you should have said before. Say to me, 'Dad, you were wrong.'"

Dave had only got to the second word when the tension in his face broke—and he began to cry with the relief of his releaser hurt and anger.

The most economical thing a parent can do is train a child to say "You are wrong" when he believes us to be so.

If all children got this training, they would spare us most of the bad temper, lies, disobedience and general peskiness by which they now say "You are wrong" in aggressive action instead of aggressive words.

As they don't get this training, they don't dare speak the aggressive words. Unless like Dave's father we deliberately undertake to relieve them of their fear, we can live perpetual victims to their indirect, protesting, aggressive action.

A child's fear of the phrase "You are wrong" tells us that we have a problem of egotism—that our authority over him is fragile, based not on truth, but falsehood.

For it is humanly impossible for us to be always right.

Though as parents, we must impose our views on Dave, we never dare claim perfect rightness for them. They are to be respected only because they are the very best we can see at the given time.

Shower for Nancy Gray Held at Pettengill Home

A centerpiece of rubrum lilies, chrysanthemums and sweetheart roses flanked by tapers in white satin glass candelabra completed the pink and white color scheme of the Saturday afternoon tea honoring bride-elect Nancy Gray.

Mrs. Elmer R. Pettengill entertained at the affair, held in her Clarkston home.

Nancy, daughter of Mrs. Moffat A. Gray of Lake Angelus will become the bride of Richard Fox Euler in an early fall wedding. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Euler of Ottawa drive.

Guests invited to the afternoon tea were Mrs. Moffat, Mrs. Euler, Nancy Moffat, Diane Euler, Mrs. John Windiate, Mrs. J. Lee Voorhees, Mrs. James B. Clarke, Mrs. Theodore Pauli, Mrs. Arthur R. Young, Mrs. C. R. Gately, Mrs. Milo J. Cross, Mrs. Vernon Abbott and her sister, Mrs. Rollin Shoemaker of Waterville, Ohio.

Others were Mrs. H. T. Baker, Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, Mrs. Stuart Whitfield, Mrs. Harold E. Howlett, Mrs. Clifford T. Ekelund, Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Howard B. Barker, Mrs. Leslie Gately, Mrs. George Crane, Mrs. Loren Sheffield, Mrs. Chauncey Burke and Mrs. Basil Brown.

Also attending were Mrs. Mac Whitfield, Mrs. Henry Purdy, Mrs. Howard Heidenbrand, Mrs. Frank Sloan, Mrs. Paul Kern, Mrs. Harold Furlong, Mrs. Aaron Riker, Mrs. Clarence Patterson, Mrs. Robert B. Oliver, Mrs. A. V. Martha and Mrs. Leroy Hill.

Mrs. Marvin Redmond, Mrs. John MacDonald, Mrs. Verne Hampton, Mrs. Basil Kimball, Mrs. J. H. Gould, Mrs. H. L. Van Haltern, Mrs. James A. Hubbard, Mrs. Merritt Jones, Mrs. J. L. Bennett, Mrs. C. C. Patterson, and Mrs. H. Wayne Longair also attended.

Completing the guest list were Ann Oliver, Mrs. William Kester, Josephine Prybilski of Dearborn and Carol Tuttle.

Square Dance Group Meets

Members of the Allemanders Square Dancing Club gathered at the Ralph Haan home on Hillcrest drive Saturday.

Thirty five couples square danced indoors and out-of-doors to the lively tunes called by Sam Joan, club caller.

Refreshments were served following the evening of dancing, and plans were discussed for the activities of the coming dance season.

Time Now to Make Pickles

Mrs. Jackson Adds Cauliflower Bits to Spicy Recipe

By JANET ODELL

This is the time of year when you begin to think about making pickles. To start you off, here is Mrs. Fred Jackson's recipe for Cucumber Cauliflower pickles. She says it's one of the best she ever tasted.

Mrs. Jackson gardens a lot and grows the cukes for this recipe. She also bakes fancy cakes as a hobby. She's a member of the Mt. Vernon extension group and of the Gold Star Mothers.

Cucumber Cauliflower Pickles
By Mrs. Fred Jackson

3 cups white vinegar
3 cups granulated sugar
4 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons turmeric
1 teaspoon dry mustard
4 teaspoons mustard seed
4 teaspoon powdered alum
4 quarts peeled, sliced cucumbers
1 small cauliflower, broken into flowerets
2 medium onions, sliced
1 red pepper, diced
1 green pepper, diced

Combine vinegar, sugar, salt, spices and alum. Bring to a boil and add vegetables. Stir well. Bring to boiling pont again, but do not boil. Pack at once in sterilized jars. Let stand 3-4 days before using. You may use tiny whole pickles and whole onions for this recipe.

Hold Parley of Women Speakers

Mrs. Wheatley Is Local Delegate to Boston Convention

At the recent International Toastmistress Convention held at Hotel Statler in Boston, Mass., Gertrude McMahan of Santa Ana, Calif., international president, was principal speaker.

Miss McMahan spoke on "We Have Chosen the Good part." She pointed out that "as members of Toastmistress we not only are fulfilling our duty as wives, mothers and career women, but through our desire for training in self-improvement we are better qualifying ourselves to be of service to our community and country."

Also speaking during the four-day convention were Sumner G. Whittier, lieutenant governor of Massachusetts; John R. Hayes, mayor of Boston; and Alfred T. Pompeo, mayor of Medford, Mass.

A Parade of Flags representing the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Scotland, Japan, Germany and Canada, countries having Toastmistress Clubs, was held prior to the first busines session.

Representatives of 234 clubs attended the convention.

Eight persons participated in the speech contest. They were selected by elimination contests held in the various regions prior to the convention.

Mrs. R. A. Crawley of Vancouver, British Columbia, was the outstanding speaker. Her subject was "Cherry Blossoms, the Rockies and Grand Canyon."

Mrs. Howard Wheatley represented the Pontiac Toastmistress Club and was a delegate by proxy for the Redford Club.

Mrs. Nelson Entertains

Mrs. Frank Nelson entertained at luncheon Friday at her home on Oneida road honoring Mrs. Bernard J. Gillen of Maitland, Fla. formerly of Bloomfield Hills.

Guests attending included Mrs. Theodore F. McManus and Mrs. John Ellwood of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. John Tate and Mrs. B. J. Gillen Jr., of Birmingham.

Also present were Mrs. Robert J. Cooper, Mrs. Russell Duncan, Mrs. Charles Walton, Mrs. Hilton Phipps, Mrs. Harry Mominee and Mrs. Charles Houghton.

Deanna L. Mielke Weds Kenneth A. Ish

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Otto Mielke, Deanna Lee Mielke became the bride of Kenneth A. Ish in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening. Some 350 guests witnessed the eight o'clock service performed by the Rev. John Streit in Grace Lutheran Church.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Donna M. Mielke of Sedum Glen drive, wore a floor-length gown of nylon tulle and hand-clipped Chantilly lace. The boat neckline was trimmed with iridescent sequins and the traditional long sleeves tapered to points at the wrist.

Her veil of silk illusion was held in place by a crown of sequins and seed pearls, and she wore a strand of pearls and pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Jeanette Pierce was maid of honor. Gloria Rose, Mrs. Robert McCallum and Starr Linda Featherstone were the bride's other attendants. Their gowns were fashioned identically of crystalette in blue, green, pink and orchid colors respectively.

FLOWER GIRL IN YELLOW

A floor-length dress of yellow crystalette over taffeta and a matching headpiece was worn by Sally Featherston for her duties as flower girl. She carried a small fan of yellow feathered carnations.

Kenneth, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ish of Dover road, asked his brother, Paul Ish, to serve as best man.

Ushers were Harlan Wilson of Detroit, Milton Mielke Jr., brother of the bride, and Robert McCallum. Ricky Mielke, cousin of the bride served as ring bearer.

Mrs. Ish chose a mauve lace-over-taffeta dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The newlyweds will make their home in East Lansing where the bridegroom is a senior student at Michigan State College.

MRS. KENNETH A. ISH

To reside in East Lansing are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Ish, who were married Saturday at Grace Lutheran Church. The bride is the former Deanna Lee Mielke, daughter of Mrs. Donna Mielke of Sedum Glen drive. Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ish of Dover road.

Ladies' Church Unit Meets

Fourteen members of the Ladies Aid Society of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Fred Johnston on Sarasota avenue for a picnic luncheon.

Mrs. Theodore Allebach led devotions and gave a report on the Youth Conference that she attended recently at Muskingum College in New Concord, Ohio.

Mrs Guy Caswell presided at the business meeting at which time plans were made for a money-making project to be held in August.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Edith Hillman and Mrs. Alex Kasten. Mrs. Hillman invited the members to meet at her home on Short street for the August meeting.

Miss Cunningham to Wed Detroiter

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cunningham of West Lawrence street are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Gavin C. Morrison. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison of Detroit. No date has been set for the wedding.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

XXVII

There was an air of elegance, a feeling of almost oppressive luxury about the huge lobbby of the Roney Plaza Hotel on Miami Beach. At this hour of night and before the winter season had officially opened, the lobby was none-the-less quite well filled with gay couples in evening dress, coming and going from the bank of elevators to the cocktail and dining rooms where late supper was being served and dancing was in progress.

Michael Shayne made his way among the milling guests to the wide expanse of desk where two clerks were still on duty.

One clerk, a tall, lean, middle-aged man with a thin black mustache and a pained expression, turned his tired eyes on Shayne and lifted his upper lip a quarter of an inch in what was supposed to pass for a smile, and inquired, "And what can I do for you, sir?"

"If you'd care to inquire at the house telephone, sir?" The clerk flipped a white hand toward a row of phones at Shayne's right.

The detective started to protest but, realizing he'd get faster results by observing protocol, went to one of the phones and asked the same question.

BARNES IN 1210?

A pleasant female voice repeated the name and said almost immediately, "Twelve-ten. Would you like me to ring them?"

Shayne said, "Please." He let the phone ring six times before replacing it.

He returned to the desk and said, "Barnes in 1210?" Can you tell me anything about him?"

The eyebrow-like mustache lifted superciliously. "I'm sure I don't know. If the telephone doesn't answer—"

Again, Shayne hesitated, and then he turned away with a slight shrug. He stepped back from the desk and lit a cigarette, looking around the lobby carefully.

He spotted a youngish man wearing a double-breasted blue serge suit leaning negligently against one of the pillars and apaprently completely disinterested in everything that was going on about him.

HE'S NOT HERE

Shayne threaded his way to him and asked, "Is Jimmie Curtis still in charge of Security?"

The young man looked at him stonily for a moment, then his face relaxed in a pleased smile. "You're Mike Shayne, aren't you?"

"He's not here any longer. Hasn't been for months. Mr. Gerdon took his place."

"And where," asked Shayne, "can I find Mr. Gerdon?"

"I'll take you to his office." The young man detached himself from the pillor and to Shayne's faint surprise it remained standing. He led him beyond the desk into a corridor, around the corner and down another with closed office doors on both sides.

He stopped near the end at a door marked "Private," knocked and then opened the door. He stepped inside and said smartly, "Mr. Gerdon. This is Mr. Shayne from Miami."

Shayne followed him in to a large room with a very thick carpet on the floor. A totally bald man with sunken cheeks and slightly prodruding eyes set behind a highly polished mahogany desk.

NO TROUBLE?

He said, "Shayne?" and rose slowly as his bulging eyes studied the rangy detective from across the bay. He nodded and said, "All right, Rawson," and held a hand out to Shayne without noticeably cordiality.

* * *

"Heard a lot about you, of course. Is this social or business?"

"Business." Shayne sat in the chair he indicated. "A man named Barnes in 1210."

"No trouble, I hope." Gerdon turned his swivel chair to a card filing cabinet and drew out a lower drawer. He flipped through the cards and withdrew one, placed it on the desk in front of him.

Shayne said, "I'll know better when you give me the dope."

"Mr. and Miss Barnes from New York. Brother and sister. Twelve-ten is a two-bedroom suite," Gerdon explained. He read the New York address on East 63rd Street. "Credit rating A-1. They checked in 16 days ago. Everything regular. Paid the first week's bill with a New York check that cleared." He looked up with a frown.

"What are their first names?"

"Charles and Mary."

"Anything else on the card?"

Shayne said, "Can you get someone in who can describe them both to me?"

Gerdon hesitated, "If you'd tell me what you have in mind—?"

Shayne said, "A man carrying Charles Barnes' wallet was pulled out of the bay tonight. Dead. First time I knew he had a sister." His gaze was withdrawn, his voice speculative.

Gerdon sucked in his lips. He pressed a button on his desk, leaned forward to speak in a low tone into a smal microphone on a stand in front of him on the polished mahogany. Then he leaned back and said, "We'll have the room-maid in. And the night-boy who serves that floor. Dead, eh? An accident?"

Cadillac

No Reason to Wait Any Longer !

There's not much question about what this man and his son have on their minds.

They're thinking about Cadillac—and about how wonderful it would be to have one in their own driveway!

And because dreams of a Cadillac are hard to put aside, we suspect that it won't be too long now before we'll have an opportunity to give them the facts about Cadillac ownership.

And when that happy time arrives, they'll find that we have some wonderful news waiting for them about how practical Cadillac ownership has recently become.

We will explain, for instance, that it is now possible to become the proud owner of a 1956 Cadillac for little more than the cost of far lesser cars.

We will tell them how economical a Cadillac is to operate—and how extraordinarily free it is from the needs of service.

And we will show them how, at resale time, Cadillac returns a greater share of its owner's original investment than any other motor car in the land.

But the best news will be yet to come.

For then we will talk about the generous allowance we can give them on their present car—and how short the waiting period is on the Cadillac of their choice.

They will find, we feel certain, that they have lost their last logical reason for waiting any longer to enjoy a new Cadillac.

Incidentally, have you considered how wonderful a Cadillac would look in your driveway? If you have, then we sincerely urge you to come in soon and get the facts.

Fine Against NAACP to Jump to $100,000

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A fine of $10,000 against the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People will increase to $100,000 at 5 p.m. today unless the organization produces its Alabama records.

The fine was levied against the Negro organization last Wednesday for contempt of court. Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones found the NAACP in contempt for failing to produce its Alabama records.

Membership lists, bank accounts property lists, correspondence and other information had been ordered turned over to the state court in an action that outlawed NAACP activities in Alabama. When the records were not surrendered, Jones set the $10,000 fine.

The judge gave the organization another five days to produce the records or have the fine boosted to $100,000. That five-day period, during which the smaller fine could be reduced or eliminated, ends at 5 p.m.

It Ruins Good Prose:

Douglas Hits Legal Writing

SEATTLE (AP)—You can't build a reading public on words like mandamus, certiorari and supersedeas, opines U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

Otherwise, he told a writer's conference recently, there is a strong possibility he would not now be on the high court bench.

"Legal language," he said in an informal talk, "ruins good writing. I'd like to write short stories and novels. I envy you who can use the language to tell such stories. Writing a short story and a novel is a great achievement.

"I might even consider resigning my job if I could write a short story or a novel."

The justice has written a book about his Cascade Mountain travels—"Of Men and Mountains."

Its writing, he said, was a real task. He tore his first manuscript up on advice of a writer friend. The second manuscript got this reception from a newspaper editor:

"Lawyers always use too many words, too many complicated phrases and sentences and they lean too heavily on adverbs and adjectives. They should use more verbs."

Douglas tossed out that manuscript, too, took his weight off the adverbs and adjectives and the book was published.

"I'd advise anyone who wants to write to stay away from the law," he concluded.

Beef Stew Outscores Girl With Dozen Men

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Two's company, three's a crowd, and twelve is a disappointing dozen, even when all twelve are movie actors and one of them is Henry Fonda.

Fonda and the 11 other members of the all-male cast of the movie "Twelve Angry Men" took this lone girl reporter to lunch, in what the movie press agent promised would be one of those dream dates—12 men and one girl.

The press agent didn't mention that one girl dating one man has only a fair chance of competing for attention with his appetite. With 12 appetites, the beef stew wins hands down.

There we were at a table for 12 in a French restaurant on Manhattan's West Side, Henry Fonda, Lee J. Cobb, Martin Balsam, Ed Begley, Joseph Sweeney, John Fiedler, Jack Klugman, Robert Webber, Ed Binns, E. G. Marshall, Jack Warden, George Voskovec and me.

WHACKY SCRIPT

The script went like this:

Act one: The appetizer:

Girl reporter: (smiling brightly) "Well, I . . . "

Twelve men: (Army roll call fashion) "Vichysoisse. Make that two. Three! Cantaloupe. Me, too. Honey dew for me. How's the beef stew? Anybody else want a drink? Make that four cantaloupes."

All eat.

Act two: The main course

Girl reporter: "I understand this picture is about a jury in a jury room and you 12 have worked together in one room for a month now. How do you feel about each other after a month?"

Klugman: "We hate each other."

Cobb: "We love each other."

Webber: "We're getting claustrophobia."

Balsam: "Actors are normal people."

(Other eight make munching noises)

Girl reporter: "Well, how about . . . "

Sweeney: "I ordered a sandwich and it hasn't come yet . . . "

(Eleven others continue munching)

(Begley and ten others continue eating)

Girl reporter: "How . . . "

Sweeney: "Waiter, where's my sandwich?"

Girl reporter: (peering into distance) "What's Henry Fonda eating?"

Girl reporter: "What?"

Fonda: (mumbles inaudibly)

Cobb: (roaring) "He's eating beef stew!"

Waiter delivers Sweeney's sandwich. All eat.

Act three: The dessert:

Girl reporter (desperately yelling amid rattle of coffee cups) "Mr. Fonda, I understand you are co-producer of this picture and I want to ask you . . . "

Sweeney: "It's about time you brought this sandwich."

Fonda: "We're late. Have to go back."

Webber: (spooning last strawberry out of plate) "Do we have to?"

Fonda: "Yes."

All exit, as Balsam says: "Actors are normal people."

"I pledge my future to the people of OAKLAND COUNTY"

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

When Bill Broomfield says it, he means it! A lifelong resident of Oakland County, Broomfield will take to Congress a record of providing family benefits that speaks for itself. During eight consecutive years as State Representative and State Senator, he has sponsored (and seen passed) bills to improve school facilities, water facilities, workmen's compensation, old age benefits, veteran's benefits and teachers' salary benefits. He is also the author of the famed Broomfield "Icebox Bill" which makes it a law to remove locking devices from abandoned refrigerators. This record of progressive thinking and getting action that helps the families of Oakland County qualifies Bill Broomfield to be your next Congressman. You owe it to your family to send the best man to Congress—and that's State Senator Bill Broomfield!

Primary Day is August 7 the day to nominate for Congress from the 18th District, the man who stands behind our families

Michigan Woman Killed in Ontario Road Crash

NORTH BAY, Ont. (UP)—A Michigan woman and her sister were killed yesterday when their car collided with a truck 18 miles east of here on Highway 17.

The victims were Mrs. Betty Walls, 29, of Bessemer, and her sister, Shirley Dafoe, 19, of Canton, Ohio.

Five other occupants of the car were injured.

A flat, thin shell found in the Pacific and Indian Oceans is so transparent that a person can read a newspaper through it.

Strong Civil Rights Plank Seen for GOP Platform

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Bush (R-Conn) predicted today the Republican National Convention will write a strong civil rights plank into the GOP's campaign platform.

Bush, who heads the Platform Committee, said it was obvious the plank would be based in part on President Eisenhower's proposals which passed the House during the recent session but were buried in the Senate.

The Eisenhower - supported bill would have created a bipartisan civil rights commission, set up a special civil rights division in the Justice Department, and would have made it easier to take civil rights cases to the federal courts.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) agreed with Bush that the Republicans will use vigorous language in endorsing civil rights.

Smith also is a member of the group which will draw up a platform to be presented to the GOP convention which opens in San Francisco three weeks from today.

The Republicans are aiming for as much contrast as possible between their civil rights plank and any compromise statement that might be worked out by the Democrats in hopes of avoiding a party-splitting row.

Scientists Meet to Discuss Roles for Antarctic Trip

PARIS (UP) — Seventy scientists from nations taking part in the antarctic operations of the International Geophysical Year started a five-day conference here today on problems of organizing their research in the area.

The countries represented are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, the United States, Great Britain, Japan, Norway, New Zealand, Spain, the Soviet Union and the Union of South Africa.

Two earlier conferences held last year fixed the location of about 40 stations to be occupied by the different countries.

It was agreed then that the geographic South Pole should be occupied by the United States and the magnetic South pole by France. The Soviet Union was assigned the geomagnetic South Pole.

900 Million Hungry Children in the World

BONN, Germany (UP) — Two-thirds of the world's 900 million children are undernourished, poorly clothed, badly housed and insufficiently protected against disease, the International Union for Child Welfare was told here today.

The union, representing 67 non-governmental organizations in 41 countries, opened a four-day convention of 120 delegates.

The figures on underprivileged children were given in a report which is the basis of the convention's chief work—that of planning for the organization's future international activity.

Find National Feeling in Latvia, Lithuania

LONDON (UP)—The leader of a British-Soviet friendship delegation to the Soviet Union said today that Latvia and Lithuania do not regard themselves as part of Russia.

Lord Chorley said he found considerable national feeling in Riga, capital of Latvia, and in Vilna, capital of Lithuania.

"There was a great feeling in Riga in favor of trying to open up the old ties with England," he added.

Latvia and Lithuania, independent republics from 1918-40, were occupied by the Russians in June, 1940. Puppet regimes installed then applied for admission to the Soviet Union the following month.

Borrow with confidence where grandad did

HFC has provided cash loans since the days of the handle-bar mustache and the surrey-with-the-fringe-on-top. Yes, since 1878 millions of people have depended on HFC for money help.

This dependable service is now streamlined to meet today's demands. Loans are made in one day, on terms you select. But the friendly, helpful spirit is just as it was in Grandad's day. And that is why today more modern Americans borrow from HFC than any other company in its field.

That in one out of twenty American families which paint their own homes the job is done entirely by the wife—and she uses 25 per cent more paint than is really necessary.

That in Sweden, which has the highest percentage of car ownership in Europe, every 11th person has an automobile. But in the United States there is more than one vehicle for every three persons.

That although the Soviet Union is three times the size of the United States it has only a fourth more arable land.

That a poll by the Catholic Digest showed 90 per cent of American Negroes favor integration, 6 per cent want the races kept apart 4 per cent expressed no opinion. The same poll showed 74 per cent of Southern whites and 32 per cent of Northern whites opposed to integration.

That conversation in the American home is getting to be more and more strictly for the birds. One out of five families now owns a parakeet.

Divers Discover Legendary City Under Adriatic

What appear to be its mossy ruins are lying a half mile off the fishing village of Gabicce, just about where Pliny the Elder said they'd be.

Every since Pliny, legends have passed among fishermen that the old city, also known as Crustumium, is out there.

Last month members of the Rimini Underwater Sports Club rowed 900 yards offshore between Cattolica and Gabicce. After several dives they found an area about 600 feet long, at a depth of "several fathoms," in which were scattered pieces of ruins. Aldo Piva said he saw parts of a wall about 150 feet long, an arch nearly buried in sand, and a column 25 inches in diameter surmounted by a stone eagle, symbol of ancient Rome.

Archeologists have reserved judgment. Late next month when diving conditions are better Piva will go down again, equipped with cameras.

NET CHAMPIONS — A pair of former Big Ten tennis champions (above) combined forces Sunday in the annual Orchard Lake CC Invitational doubles to take the important event in a straight set campaign. Left is Dick Potter from the University of Michigan with Waterford's Tom Belton, former Michigan Stater. They stopped Detroiters Jim Bicknell and Fred Drilling, 6-2, 8-6 for the title.

Tigers Split Twinbill, Win 6-0, Lose 4-1

DETROIT (AP) — Their pitchers have struck out 41 Washington batters in the last four games, but the best the Detroit Tigers could do was break even in the four contests.

The Tigers got their 5th doubleheader split of the season yesterday, winning the opener 6-0 behind Billy Hoeft's sparkling six-hitter, and bowing to Dean Stone's four-hit effort in the windup, 4-1.

"We can't blame the pitchers for these losses," said manager Bucky Harris. "We've had more than our share of pitching troubles all year long, but they've come through for us in these past few games. We just haven't been hitting enough."

After Frank Lary struck out eight Washington batters in Friday night's 5-3 victory, Paul Foytack whiffed 15 on Saturday — but dropped the game—6-5 on an unearned run. Hoeft fanned 12 in Sunday's first game and Jim Bunning, the second game starter, and one of the reliefers, Bob Miller, combined for six strikeouts.

Hoeft's dozen strikeouts in the opener give him 100 for the season. Foytack is the club leader with 108 and Lary has 92.

Hoeft didn't allow a Washington runner past second base and scattered the Nats' six hits effectively. In no inning did Washington get more than one hit. At one stretch the Tiger southpaw retired nine men in succession, and in the 4th inning got Jim Lemon, Jose Valdivielso and Karl Olson on strikes.

Washington manager Chuck Dressen used two pinch hitters—Ernie Oravetz and Clint Courtney—and Hoeft fanned both of them.

It was Courtney who, on June 25 at Briggs Stadium, slammed a two-run homer as a pinch hitter to beat Hoeft and the Tigers, 5-3.

But yesterday, the Detroit hitters got busy themselves in the first game. With one away in the first, Jack Phillips, Charlie Maxwell and Al Kaline smashed singles and Ray Boone hit a sacrifice fly. Those two runs were all Hoeft needed as he steamed on to his 12th triumph. He has lost nine.

Harvey Kuenn had a solo homer—his 10th—in the 3rd inning and Red Wilson's two-on homer in almost the same spot in the lower left field deck in the 6th wrapped up the scoring.

The Tigers never staged as much as a mild threat in the nightcap against the slender stone until Bob Kennedy lashed his 4th home run into the seats in left field. It came with two outs and ruined Stone's bid to become the first Washington hurler to turn in a shutout since Sept. 11, 1955.

Cornelius New Open Champion

Florida Mother Scores Play-Off Victory Over Barbara McIntire

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Mrs. Kathy Cornelius, a sedate young brunette with a deadpan golfing manner, was ready to put her newly won Women's National Open cash to work today, helping to pay for the family groceries.

The 23-year-old Lake Worth, Fla., mother, appearing on the full professional tour this year for the first time, overpowered amateur Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio, by seven strokes in an 18-hole title playoff at scenic Northland course yesterday. In doing it, she preserved the unbroken pro dominance of the event.

Mrs. Cornelius wasn't competing for dollars in the playoff, she clinched the $1,500 top prize money Saturday by beating the professional field.

Miss McIntire forced the playoff with a remarkable comeback Saturday that cancelled an 8-stroke difference and finally caught Mrs. Cornelius at 302 on the strength of a 30-foot eagle putt on the 72nd hole.

Marlene Bauer Hagge, one of the advance favorites, was eliminated in a face-to-face battle with Mrs. Cornelius in the final round Saturday. She wound up with an 81 for a 303, a figure matched by Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill.

A KALINE VICTIM — Outfielder Roy Sievers of Washington is out at home plate yesterday when he tried to score after a catch of a fly by Tiger centerfielder Al Kaline. Kaline threw a perfect strike to catcher J. W. Porter to get Sievers. Kaline's throwing arm has accounted for a number of victims under same circumstances this year. The Tigers split the twinbill with the Nationals.

Win Doubles Crown

Belton, Potter OL Titlists

Former stars of the University of Michigan and Michigan State tennis teams set up an impregnable combination Sunday at Orchard Lake Country Club's courts. When the 16-team 3rd annual Orchard Lake Invitational Doubles tourney had concluded Tom Belton of Waterford, former Spartan Big Ten champion and his Wolverine partner, Dick Potter of Hamtramck had collected the important top award. Potter is also a former Western Conference champion.

Belton and Potter went straight through the tourney without the loss of a set. All matches were taken on two sets, although the last two were carried to 8-6 counts. Jim Bicknell and Fred Drilling, Detroit and Dearborn city champs (Bicknell is a former state titlist) were defeated in the final round, 6-2 and 8-6. Drilling was seeded No. 1.

The eventual winners disposed of a Saginaw pair in the quarterfinals, then beat Rex Norris and Fred Hauser of Lansing, a veteran doubles combination 7-5 and 8-6.

Belton, Waterford Township Recreation director, and Potter trailed their opponents in the last set 3-love (40-15) before getting up steam. Then they aced their services and Potter put on the winning touch with a passing shot down the middle. Most of the way to the finals the champs played a progressive game, featuring control of the net.

BC Legion Nine Wins 1st Place

Trips Milford 6-5 in Sunday Tilt; Rochester Swamps Clawson 12-4

Pontiac Boys' Club Junior American Legion baseball club Sunday afternoon moved into 1st place in the District 18 second-half standings. The Cook - Nelson team squeezed into the top spot by half a game, on its satisfying 6-5 win over Milford at the latter's field.

Free hitting again helped the Pontiac crew. Bill Coulacos' boys collected 11 hits, Leon Weeks turned in a neat 6-hitter as winning hurler, and Dave Simmons led the sluggers with 3-for-3 at the plate. He also hit a hot one in the big, game-setting 3rd frame, to score Jim Skinner with the 5th run. The clincher came in the 6th. BC got single runs in the 1st and 2nd, while Milford's tallies came in the 1st, 5th, 7th (two) and 9th.

Rochester was also a Sunday winner, dumping Clawson, there, 12-4, on a barrage of 13 hits. McDaniels gave up only three hits in his victory.

3-Run Error Beats Pontiac Oldtimers

A big three-run error in the 8th inning of Saturdays's International Oldtimers Baseball league game at Toledo, gave the Ohio club a 10-8 win over Pontiac Oldtimers.

Bases were loaded when a throw from the catcher trying to nab a runner at 3rd went out into left field and the bags were emptied. Up to that point it was a good game, Pontiac manager reported today. Micky George for Pontiac hit a three-run homer in the 5th, scoring Warren Brenker and Cecil Whiteman ahead of him.

Katlin Wins at Speedway

Veteran Mickey Katlin of Howell sped to victory in the 100-lap feature race to climax Sunday night's mid-season championship modified hardtop show at Pontiac Speedway. Katlin's winning time was 35:40.72.

More than 2,000 spectators viewed the thrilling feature attraction, which was marked by three mishaps. The race was delayed after 90 laps by a four-car collision involving Rusty Kelly, Chuck Partello, Bud Wells and Dorris Sanders. Chuck Powers rolled his car over and Ray Fraley's vehicle lost a wheel and he rammed the wall.

Partello capture the dash, Sanders took honors in a race called "crack-the-whip" and Kelly posted the top qualifying time. Heat winners were Bill Charleton, Jack Harvey, Jerry Lafner, Dave Coppersmith and Hershberg.

Trophies were awarded to drivers finishing in 1st, 2nd and 3rd positions. An $1,100 purse was the financial reward.

A combination hardtop-old model program will be offered at the M59 track on Wednesday night. Time trials begin at 7 o'clock with the 1st race at 8:30.

Rolladium Fours Win National Roller Title

Eastern Open to Palmer

Palmer and seven of the other first nine finishers in the Eastern Open which ended yesterday, are under 30 years old—illustrating the quantity as well as quality of the younger set.

Palmer won the Eastern Open with 277 strokes for 72 holes, 11 better than par for Mount Pleasant's 6,895-yard course. He played it safe the last round, matching par and winning by two strokes over Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio.

Their one-two finish in the Eastern Open was no fluke while leaving in the wake such veteran campaigners as Doug Ford, Dave Douglas, Jim Turnesa, Marty Furgol, Jack Fleck, Henry Ransom, Bob Toski and Ansel Snow.

Finsterwald's $2,150 second prize restored him as the leading pro money winner over Cary Middlecoff, with a total of $23,821. The $3,800 first prize moved Palmer up to 13th place with $12,709.

Defeats Art Larsen for Title

Seixas Captures Penn Net Tourney

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Vic Seixas, 32-year-old court veteran who threatened to give up serious tennis after the United States was defeated by Australia in Davis Cup competition a year ago, appeared today to be this country's stoutest hope to recapture that cup.

On his form during the Pennsylvania State Lawn Tennis Tournament, which he won brilliantly yesterday over Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., the Philadelphian established himself firmly as the country's No. 1 amateur.

The last rankings had Seixas seeded No. 2, behind Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, and ahead of Larsen. Trabert has since turned professional.

Court observers said Seixas played some of the best tennis of his career in disposing of Larsen, 7-5, 6-1, 6-4, for his seventh title in this event at the suburban Merion Cricket Club.

Alrick H. Mann Jr., chairman of the Davis Cup Committee, named Seixas, Sammy Giammalva Jr. of Houston, Tex., and Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., as the probable members of the team that will try to recover the cup.

These three, plus Barry MacKay, University of Michigan student from Dayton, Ohio, will meet Mexico in the American Zone final next weekend at the West Side Tennis Club in Forest Hills, N.Y.

Fowlers, Griffs Annex 3-2 Victories

Fowler's Fine Foods and Griff's Grill came from behind with late rallies to score identical 3-2 victories and the CIO Local 594 pinned a 5-3 setback on Elks No. 723 in Class A City Baseball League games Sunday afternoon.

A two-run rally in the 7th inning enabled Fowler's to tie the Anderson Jets at 2-2 and force their battle into extra stanzas at Columbia-Joslyn. Then, in the last of the 9th, Max VanKuren was safe on an infield error. He moved to 3rd on Tom Moore's double and tallied the winning run on a single by Jerry Bauer.

Delmo Chapdelaine hurled the distance for Fowler's as the league tail-enders won their 2nd decision of the season. Vernon Raines, who relieved starter Bob Overcashier in the 7th, was tagged with the loss.

Back-to-back singles by Ron Kind and pitcher Zeke Morris, a walk to Bill Graham, and another uprising to nip Oliver Buick, 3-2, at Wisner Field.

Jim Jones took over mound chores for Griff's in the 7th to preserve the triumph for Morris, who was removed for a pinch-runner. Gus Eichhorn pitched the route for the losers.

Dan Keating scattered six hits while the CIO was downing the Elks at Wisner. The Union club wrapped up the verdict with a four-run outburst in the 3rd inning, highlighted by Kim Conroy's two-run double which sent losing pitcher Huey Thomas to the showers.

41st Net Championships

Huge Field at Kalamazoo

Paul Palmer, 14, of Phoenix, Ariz., top-seeded in the boys 15-and-under dogfight, drew a first round bye and will meet David Harrington of Middletown, Ohio, in the second round.

There are 110 entries in the 15-and-under group.

Unearned Runs Beat Jewelers

Two consecutive errors in the 3rd inning of Sunday's Shaw Jewelers-Green Lane Enterprises softball game at Metropolitan Beach cost Pontiac's ace club a chance at the finals of the annual beach tourney. Green Lanes won the game on a two-run count, 2-0. This was the 3rd time the Jewelers had been stymmied in their efforts to reach the beach championship.

A series of bad throws, plus a hit and an infield play sent Green Lanes' Bonus and Skowron around for the winning, and only counters of the game. Shaw's had runners on in the 4th, 6th and 7th, but couldn't get them around. Jewelers got four hits off Paul Gatto while Perc McConner gave up five to Green Lanes.

Birmingham LL Team Advances

Birmingham Americans blasted four home runs to defeat Harper Woods Nationals 6-0 to advance in the State Little League tournament Saturday.

Playing in the North Bracket, the Birmingham team moved closer to a possible trip to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa., by virtue of a three-hit pitching effort by Carl Kalocsay who fanned 13 batters.

Doug Walton hit two of the homers with Tom Ryan and Harley Stewart getting the other two.

White Team Wins, 2-1

Single runs in the 6th and 7th innings gave White Brothers a 2-1 decision over Richard's Tavern in an exhibition softball game Sunday night at Drayton Plains. Doug Brown pitched a four-hitter for the White squad, which posted its 2nd win of the summer.

More Than 200 Ready for Tam

Qualifying Rounds for All-American Tourney Begins Today

CHICAGO (INS) — More than 200 men and women golfers tee off today in qualifying rounds of the Tam O'Shanter Country Club's annual "All American" open golf tournament.

Nearly 175 men amateurs will play for 17 places in the official tourney, which begins Thursday. About 25 women pros will compete for 12 places and about 25 women amateurs for eight places.

Men professionals, with about 60 exemptions, will play 18-hole rounds tomorrow and Wednesday with the low 60 and ties qualifying for the 72-hole tourney.

Transplanted Americans Win for French Golfers

DEAUVILLE, France (INS) — The French team, using a pair of transplanted Americans, defeated the U.S., 5 to 4, yesterday in the finals of the International Seniors' Golf Tournament.

Barton Bridgefort of San Francisco and Allen Clark of Los Angeles, both now living in France, played with the French and won their singles matches to nail down the U.S. defeat.

Bunce Wins Tennis Crown

Dale Bunce won the Pontiac Open Tennis Tournament Saturday afternoon at Oakland Park by defeating Leon Hibbs in the finals, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2.

Bunce swept into the final round with victories over Ralph Florio and Dennis McCartney. He downed Florio, 6-0, 6-0, and disposed of McCartney by the same count.

Hibbs reached the final round with triumphs over Jason Goode and Gary Wright. He posted a 6-2, 6-0 win over Goode while Wright was eliminated by a 6-0, 6-1 score.

In other 1st round matches, Wright ousted Roland Bourke Jr., 6-0, 6-1, and McCartney defeated Ralph Alee via forefeit.

The tourney was sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department. A trophy was awarded to Bunce for his championship efforts.

City Loop 9's Split Twinbill

Visiting Southfield divided a doubleheader with City League foes at Beaudette Park while Walled Lake Market and the Pulver Tire girls disposed of their opposition at North Side in exhibition softball games Sunday night.

Southfield, paced by pitcher Berry's two-run homer, defeated Royal Bar in the opener of the twin bill, 6-3. Pete Mihay was the winning hurler in a relief role as Elks No. 810 downed Southfield, 9-4. Pascoe homered in the 2nd for the losers.

Cal Bidwell twirled a five-hitter to spark Walled Lake's 5-1 conquest of GMC. Pulver Tire made only one hit, but still outscored the GMC girls, 9-6, in a five-inning nightcap.

BC Midget League Plays Title Battle

All Stars and Mighty Mites tangle in a Tuesday afternoon baseball contest at Eastern Playground diamond, for the Boys' Club Midget League title. Game time is 1:30.

All Stars have 20 of the best Federal league players on their roster. Mites are the Boys' Club representative in City Parks & Recreation Department Junior circuit's midget division.

Betty Syron Paces Field

Miss Betty Sue Syron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Syron of Pontiac Country Club, carved out a seven-over-par 82 Saturday afternoon at Municipal Golf Course to win the annual Women's Medal Play golf tournament.

Betty fired steady rounds of 41-41 in the 18-hole tourney to lead runner-up Mrs. Zadah DeBolt by two strokes. It was Mrs. DeBolt's 2nd straight occupancy of 2nd place as the WMGA star shot 43-41—84.

Miss Syron posted two birdies, eight pars and eight bogies on her way to the 1956 title, played under ideal weather conditions.

Phyllis Boyer shot 44-44—88 to finish 3rd and Mrs. Edith Wright, the defending champion, carded 46-43—89, which gave her a 4th place tie with Lucy Everett. Lucy had 47-42. Thirteen golfers competed in the tournament.

Tourney scores:

Betty Sue Syron	41-4— 82

Birmingham Babe Ruth Leaguers Are Eliminated From Tournament

Lincoln Park won the right to represent Michigan in the Babe Ruth Regional tournament at Rock Island, Ill. next weekend by defeating Escanaba 4-3 in the state tourney, completed yesterday at Southfield High school.

The two teams moved into yesterday's finals when Lincoln Park downed Grosse Pointe Woods, 6-5, and Escanaba edged Birmingham 3-2 on Saturday.

Birmingham had a 2-1 lead after the first inning of the game, which was being telecast, but Escanaba pitcher George Peterson pitched scorless ball for the final six frames.

Nine Swim Marks Fall In AAU Championships

Most of them move on to Detroit for the Olympic Trials which open next Monday.

Outstanding performer of the meet in the Municipal Waterworks Pool here was Bill Yorzyk, a Springfield, Mass., college premedical student, who set records in three events, 5:19 in the 400-meter individual medley, 2:43.3 in the 200-meter butterfly and 1:04 in the 100-meter butterfly.

Yorzyk broke the AAU record twice in the 200-meter butterfly—once in a preliminary and again in the finals. He holds the world record in the event.

Dick Hanley, a 20-year-old University of Michigan freshman, cut a full second off the American and AAU record in the 100-meter freestyle, swimming it in 56.3 seconds. His time was also a second better than the Olympic record set by Wally Ris in London in 1948.

George Breen, 20, Buffalo, N.Y., won the 1500-meter freestyle in 18:27.6, far under his world record of 18:05.9 set at Yale in the AAU indoor meet last April. Breen also won the 400-meter freestyle. Yoshi Oyakawa of Hawaii, Olympic backstroke champion, was defeated in the 200-meter backstroke by Frank McKinney, a 17-year-old high school student from Indianapolis. The 150-pound McKinney won in 2:24.5, bettering the AAU mark of 2:26.1 set by Oyakawa last year. Oyakawa won the 100-meter backstroke in 1:05.9.

Tribe, White Sox, Sweep Twinbills

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now comes Cincinnati's chance to close ground in the National League race while Milwaukee and Brooklyn slash away at close range in a four-game cut-throat series.

The Redlegs edged within 2½ games of the pace Sunday by polishing off the fading Pittsburgh Pirates in both games of a doubleheader. Milwaukee continued to find trouble in Philadelphia and Brooklyn had to settle for a split with Chicago, breaking the Dodgers' eight-game winning streak.

After Cincinnati dropped three straight to Brooklyn, there were hints that the Redlegs were cracking. Instead they swept four from the Pirates and moved back into contention.

Brooks Lawrence threw a four-hitter at Pittsburgh for Cincy's opening victory 6-1 and Smoky Burgess came through with a ninth-inning double that broke a tie for a 3-2 edge in the second.

Curt Simmons took charge of the Braves 5-2 with Roy Smalley's two-run triple breaking open a tie game in the eighth inning. It was the fourth straight for Simmons and the Phils' ninth victory in 15 games with Milwaukee, the best record of any club in the league.

Pee Wee Reese ran the Dodgers' winning streak to eight with an eighth-inning homer for Don Newcombe's 100th big league win, 1-0, but the Cubs bounced back with a 4-2 decision for a split as Bob Rush won his 100th game.

Casey Stengel celebrated another birthday party at Kansas City with a 5-3 New York Yankee victory over the last-place A's. Bill Skowron continued to murder the pitching. He hit two homers Sunday, two Saturday night and now has 17 hits, including 7 homers, and has driven in 18 runs in the last 7 games.

Cleveland picked up a half game on the Yanks and now trails by nine after shutting out Baltimore twice 3-0 and 4-0. Herb Score allowed four hits in the first and Hank Aguirre, recently recalled from Indianapolis, gave seven hits in the second.

Larry Doby had himself a day in Chicago's double romp over Boston 11-2 and 6-3. The White Sox center fielder drove in eight runs with a pair of homers and a two-run double. Walt Dropo matched Doby's five RBIs in the opener, backing up Billy Pierce's pitching. Pierce now is the majors' top winner with 16 victories.

Clarkston Wins in Tri-County

A four-run rally in the 8th inning handed the Clarkston Merchants a 5-2 triumph over Linden in a Tri-County League baseball game Sunday at Linden.

Pete Thompson stole home to tie the score at 2-2, then moments later Orville Partlo clouted a home run with two mates aboard to sink the Linden team. Barry Fell hurled a five-hitter for the Merchants, who collected nine safeties off McQueen.

The Tri-County All-Star game between the south and north divisions will be held Friday night at Durand with Clarkston manager Burt Beebe heading the south club. Four Merchant players—catcher Roger Johnson, 3rd baseman Fred Hanzek, outfielder Chuck Graves, and pitcher Joe LePard—will see action for the south division. Game time is 8 p.m.

Waterford Nine Disbands When Interest Lags

Lagging interest for the last several games has caused the withdrawal of the Waterford Junior American Legion baseball club from the district league.

Bill Wood, in charge of the Waterford club, said today that lack of interest among the age-group for the Legion program caused the club to have a hard time getting players. It eventually led to disbandment of the team, he said today.

One Driver Dies

Scots Streak at Le Mans

LE MANS, France (AP)—The winning Scottish team accepted congratulations and jittery officials breathed a sigh of relief today after another chapter in the classic Le Mans Grand Prix of endurance race for sports cars.

Ron Flockhart and Ninian Sanderson drove to victory yesterday in a private 3.5 litre Jaguar in the renewal of the gruelling 24-hour test which a year ago claimed the lives of 90.

Despite a steady rain which slickened the 8.3 - mile asphalt course and led to accidents which caused the death of one driver, the Scots streaked 2,521 miles at an average speed of about 104.3 m.p.h. They won by less than a lap from ace British racers Peter Collins and Stirling Moss, who drove an Aston-Martin.

It was the second straight year a Jaguar had won and the third time for the British-made car since World War II.

Officials, nervous throughout that there might be a repetition of last year's tragedy when a car hurtled into the crowd, were obviously relieved when the race was over. Precautions had been taken this year to provide better spectator safeguards.

* * *

The only serious accident came during the first lap on Saturday, when French driver Louis Hery rammed his Panhard into a tree on a turn. He died of head injuries.

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Wavering putter

DIAGNOSIS: Eliminate wrist break.

TREATMENT: I've been told that I take more time on short putts than most players on the tournament trail, and I admit it. But there's this very sound and logical reason for it: You don't win if you're not dropping those two to five footers.

I learned the value of a little extra precaution first thing after turning pro. I knew I'd be off the tour and back at work in the dental chair if I didn't get those short ones down. So I concentrated on unfailingly getting the same stance and arms and hands position, with the back of the left hand to the hole. No wrist break going back and a forward movement of the left arm to keep the back of the left hand still to the hole in stroking into and through the ball, with the right hand smoothly applying the hit.

As the sketch shows, I respect the tiny tantilizers very much. I've missed my share of them because, I feel, I hurried them. A quick back-stroke that forced the club-head to waver off line, and a quicker jab at the ball with a wrist break or roll that turns the putt to the left of the hole.

A good way to practice is to line up four or five balls in a row, one behind the other, a foot apart, and successively tap them into the cup. Do that over and over, and it'll pay off. You'll groove the swing.

Actress Honeymooning

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UP) —Actress Victoria Shaw, 21, and actor Roger Smith, 23, were honeymooning in northern California today after their wedding Saturday. The Asutralian beauty and Smith, whose family lives in Nogales, Ariz., met in a drama class at Columbia Studio.

Hollywood Headlines

Mr. Average American Portrayed in 'The Tourist'

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Cy Howard called Louella Parsons in Majorca from Cannes to tell her that he's written and will produce in Europe "The Tourist" with Arthur O'Connell playing Mr. Average American who takes his family abroad for the first time.

"The REAL tourists in Europe this year are running the gamut," the boss reports. "With all the overcrowding, high prices, lack of accommodations, they are by turn sad, glad and mad."

But she thinks there are many amusing angles in Cy's idea—particularly with O'Connell, who was so wonderful in "Picnic," playing the put-upon head of the traveling family.

There's also a chance that Howard, who put "My Friend Irma" on TV may serialize "The Tourist" for television.

Old cutie-pie Bob Hope covers both the Democratic and Republican conventions for International News Service as a full - fledged newspaperman.

Bob last penned his thoughts on politics for the same syndicate in 1952 and his pronouncements should be pips. Sort of a male Lady Nora Decker, maybe?

On the movie side, Bob is happily counting the receipts on "That Certain Feeling" and readying the Jimmy Walker story, "Beau James," his next for Paramount. He'd like very much to make another picture with Eve Marie Saint—as who wouldn't?

Elaine Stewart didn't have to wait long after asking for and receiving her release from MGM for her next movie job. She moves to Universal-International for the role of the love - starved socialite in "The Tattered Dress" with Jeff Chandler and Jeanne Crain.

Until this break, Elaine was an unhappy girl about her career. MGM hadn't had anything good for her in two years despite the attention she rated in "The Bad and The Beautiful."

She had agreed to do "Bus Stop" in summer stock at the Gristmill Playhouse in Andover, New Jersey, but this fling on the stage may have to wait now until after the U-I picture starting August 13.

Hollywood in shorts: Jayne Mansfield called from New York (her little girl kept getting on an extension chirping "Who is this, who is this?") very excited about singing and dancing on TV for the first time on the August 12 spectacular, "Atlantic City Holiday." With the stage, film offers and TV, Jayne opined, "I'm really rounding out."

The gracious Mrs. Douglas MacArthur and son Arthur thrilled ringsiders at the Mocambo and actually had Hazel Scott jittery on the piano when the general's wife made one of her rare night club appearances.

When Manny Frank, with Peggy Maley, at the interlude was asked about a possible reconciliation between him and Vivian Blaine, he said, "Oh, there's talk."

Don Barry isn't always making coffee. He coaches the Studio City Cubs Little League baseball team and is plenty proud of his 12-year-old son, Mike, who has pitched nine winning games this year.

Having flown from London just for the wedding Saturday of Peter Douglas to Virginia Lang, in New York, Sharman Douglas and her father, ex-ambassador Lew Douglas, plane back again Monday morning.

C. B. DeMille likes to preview his biggies far, far from Hollywood. The word is out that "The "Ten Commandments" will be viewed by its first audience in Salt Lake City.

Navy Contracts for Advanced Ship Missiles

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Navy today announced the first production contract for Regulus II, a bigger, faster and longer range version of the missile of the same name.

* * *

The Regulus I already is carried by four cruisers, two submarines and four aircraft carriers.

The contract for 12 million dollars was awarded to Chance Vought Aircraft, Inc., Dallas, Tex.

Regulus II, like its predecessor, is an air-breathing missile of the pilotless bomber type. It was developed for launching from ships and from bases ashore.

* * *

The earlier Regulus has a range of about 500 miles and the Navy has said its speed is about that of sound. The Navy also has disclosed that ships now equipped to fire the Regulu I will be able to handle the newer missile.

Says States Should Fix Old Compensation Laws

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Department of Labor official says workmen's compensation laws are old-fashioned and the individual states, not the federal government, should update them.

Arthur Larson, undersecretary of labor, said compensation laws "are the granddaddy of all social legislation, the forerunner to Social Security, disability and unemployment insurance acts."

Political Debate Set

DETROIT—(AP)—The Republican Party's position on the UAW's right to take part in political action will be debated Wednesday under sponsorship of Local 351 of the United Auto Workers union. John Feikens, Republican state chairman, and Rep. George Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) will debate against August Scholle, Michigan CIO Council president, and Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit), UAW staff member.

Corn, Soybeans Become Lower

CHICAGO (AP)—Corn and soybeans turned lower on the Board of Trade today, giving up much of the grains scored in the previous session, on news parts of Iowa had received moisture over the week-end.

Wheat near the end of the first lower but did not have to absorb much selling pressure. Their losses never ran more than fractions. Rye dropped a few cents at one time on fairly heavy profit taking but recovered part of this loss later.

Wheat near th ee nd of the first hour was ¼ to ½ lower, September $2.15⅝; corn 1 to 1½ lower, September $1.47⅜; oats ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, September 73¼; rye ⅛ to 1¾ lower, September $1.38; soybeans 1¾ to 3 cents lower, September $2.43; lard 8 to 18 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $11.42.

Ore Carriers Put Up Steam

Head for Erie Ports as Steel Pact Signers See Final Settlement

PITTSBURGH (INS) — Only guesses are being made about the date production will resume at the nation's steel mills which have been closed since July 1st.

Negotiators for the industry and the United Steelworkers are working hard in New York to reach agreement on each clause of the new three-year, no-strike pact.

The walkout of 650,000 workers ended officially Friday with the signing of a memorandum of agreement. But furnaces will remain banked until individual contracts are ready for signature.

The settlement was based on a 45.6 cents an hour wage package, which includes annual raises, insurance, pensions and other benefits.

Meanwhile, the last of the ore-carrying freighters anchored in Detroit during the strike were expected to leave today for Lake Erie ports.

Mills resume production at top speed before the ink has dried on the 39 separate contracts being concluded with the nation's 12 leading steel companies, their subsidiaries and divisions.

Cigarettes, $6 Stolen

Oil Shares Skid on Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Oil shares continued to skid in early stock market trading today as uncertainty prevailed over the Suez Canal situation.

Otherwise the market declined mildly, except for steels which showed firmness following settlement of the industry's labor dispute. Some steels were up fractions to around a point. Losses in a similar range were shown by other leading stocks.

Oil securities were down more sharply. Royal Dutch dipped about three, Standard Oil (California) about two, Texas Co. and Standard Oil (New Jersey) around a point or so.

City Taxes Due in Sylvan Lake

Treasurer to Tack On Two Per Cent Penalty After Tuesday

Beginning Wednesday, a two per cent penalty plus one-half per cent per month to date of payment is added to delinquent taxes, Ethier said. He added that 46 per cent of taxes have been paid to date.

In other city affairs, Ethier said the city clerk's office will remain open until 8 p.m. Wednesday for persons wishing instructions on the new voting machines to be used in the Aug. 7 primary.

The city purchased two machines which will be used for the first time in the coming primary.

TWO ON DISPLAY

Friday, certificates will be awarded to those who passed the Red Cross tests. Instruction under Mrs. Barbara Dempster will close Friday also, Ethier said.

City Burglar Goofs Three Night Breakins

He fled when victims in three homes were awakened by noise and by the beam of his flashlight, Pontiac Police said.

A fourth victim, John Howard of 146 Elm St., reported that $16 was stolen from his billfold in the bedroom where he was sleeping.

Howard's home was forcibly entered through the rear door, as were homes at 137 Elm and at 446 and 434 S. Saginaw St., police said.

Det. Sgt. John DePauw said that police have a "fairly good" description of the burglar.

Fund Assets at Peak

NEW YORK (INS) — Wellington Fund reported today its total net assets reached a record $559,000,000, equal to $13.75 per share, June 30. Assets totaled $496,612,000 or $13.31 a share, six months earlier. President Walter L. Morgan said the mutual fund has more than 183,000 shareholders.

Hodge Aide Ordered to Tell of Secret Key

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (INS) — An aide to deposed Illinois Auditor Orville E. Hodge was ordered to appear today before the Sangamon County Grand Jury to tell what he knows of a key to a mysterious bank deposit box.

Hodge has been indicted by a federal grand jury in Chicago and by the Sangamon County Grand Jury in Springfield for a false state warrant cashing scheme.

A suit to recover an estimated $641,270 of stolen funds has been filed against Hodge by Attorney General Latham Castle.

French Writers Unfair in Calling Grace Snob

By EARL WILSON

(Columnist Earl Wilson has finished a 23-day tour of Russia and hustled back to the Glamour Beat. Finding most of the beauties currently in Europe, he has plunged into a series of five columns about them, of which this is the first.)

PARIS—Her Serene Highness Grace Kelly wrote me a note here putting the blast on French newspapermen.

One Parisian columnist had just charged that the Monacans think she is a snob and that she's off to a stumbling start as a Princess.

Her note to me didn't specifically refer to that article. It was signed "Grace de Monaco." It bore her crest: two Gs facing each other, standing for "Grace Grimaldi."

"Since we arrived in Paris," the Princess wrote from her pied-a-terre out at 9 Boulevard de Marchal Maounoury off Av. Victor Hugo, "the press haven't given us much peace.

"We have come to really appreciate the fairness of American newspapermen—these boys will never give you a break—no matter how nice you try to be —."

And Her Serene Highness was justified in my opinion because the Paris Press columnist Jean-Francois De Vay had just published a sarcastic piece ("Grace Kelly and the Whispers in Monaco on the Trade of Being a Queen") which was unfair, illegal, hypocritical and anti-American.

Saying that Paris was "flattered" and "honored" at having Grace and Prince Rainier there, De Vay inquired whether Monacans wouldn't resent it because "Her Highness Grace hasn't made too good a start . . . the Monacans think she is a snob."

He complained that Grace's delay until July 4 to appear officially before her subjects—when she visited a hospital—caused some Monacans to mutter:

"Has Grace become a Monegasque or have we become subjects of the U.S.A.?"

Admitting she'd charmed the Monacans with her smiles—Rainier had even nudged her to move along faster—the columnist heckled her for not issuing an official communique about the "approaching happy event."

Didn't she know pregnancy wasn't strictly a private affair when Monaco's taxes were at stake?

"And if her Highness has an intention to visit the great dressmakers of Paris, let us forward a suggestion for light-color dresses and small hats," he said.

"The silent code of court elegance says a queen must never wear a black dress, neither too large a hat."

Oh, well, he said with a shrug of his typewriter," "It takes centuries to learn to be a sovereign . . . but Rainier should have warned his wife!"

Rainier himself has tiffed with Paris Match, the powerful picture magazine, for its coverage of the wedding. One of its editors is Pierre Galante, husband of Olivia de Havilland, who is generally credited with introducing Grace and the Prince. The Prince thought some of the coverage was too frivilous, although not blaming Galante personally.

The Prince and Princess take another yacht cruise shortly, from Monte Carlo to Corsica, accompanied by Mrs. David Niven of Hollywood.

They've seemed very happy here dining at Maxim's or just strolling or visiting friends. Her Grace's note to me was a reply to one I'd dispatched to her expressing the hope I might see her.

"Am very disappointed that the Prince and I will not be able to see you before you leave Paris as we have already made plans for the weekend," she wrote.

Monacans aren't disappointed in Grace, but they are disappointed in business. It's been slow. The anticipated tourist rush never began. Tourists found out Grace wasn't going to be in the casino gambling every night.

The fact is, of course, that by custom the Princess is forbidden to gamble in Monaco.

No Such Thing as Light Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—For the first time in a couple of years "Studio One," on CBS-TV, Monday night, has cracked the top 10 of the Nielsen audience rating lists. It happened chiefly from the efforts of an intense and restless Robert Herridge, who took over the helm of the dramatic series a few weeks ago.

Theoretically the series is currently known as "Studio One Summer Theatre," to differentiate it—rather apologetically—from the none-summer "Studio One." But let's hope they've forgotten about that "Summer Theatre" straw hat business now that the summer series under Herridge has bettered the best that the program could do in any recent season.

The emergence of "Studio One" as a popular program is interesting in light of the fact that one or two critics have inferred the dramas Herridge has been producing are not exactly light fare for hot weather.

But Herridge says:

"There is no such thing as light summer fare on television. As a producer you put on the best 52 shows a year you can, regardless of the seasons. Whether your play is comic, tragic or lyric in theme, the essential thing is that it be strong, rich, compelling theater. Let it be a strong story. Television is a pretty young medium and I'd like not to work with any rules except the basic rules of good theater."

That is just what he's been doing. And it's encouraging to see the public recognizing it.

"Studio One" has been marked by great diversity of themes this season.

Even in the high quality of their production, they undoubtedly have been uneven in their mass appeal. The theme of tonight's drama, "The Ballad of Yermo Red" by Marcel Klaubar and William T. Grady Jr., sounds interesting to me personally.

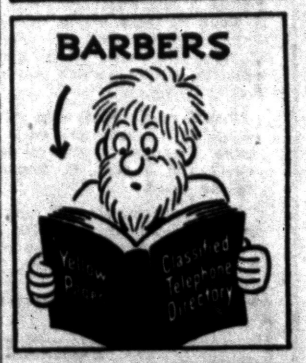

Yermo Red is a sadistic cop employed by a western railroad who delights in beating up hoboes and finally kills one. The hoboes want to avenge the dead man by killing Yermo. But one who hates violence prevails on them to try something else. He composes a song, "The Ballad of Yermo Red," which everybody up and down the railroad line begins singing. You'll have to watch the show to see Yermo Reds' reaction.

* * *

The song, in passing, will later be recorded and you'll undoubtedly be hearing it for many months to come.

Challenge No. 10! Lucky 16 Words Can Snare $125

Another week — another $100; that's the least the Press will pay to the reader who comes up with the correct solution to Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 10, the newest challenge in our fascinating summer word game. Oother than the clues below, the best advice we can give is to read the rules carefully before sending in your entry. Have fun, and good luck!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes, but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 10 must bear a Tuesday, Aug. 7, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end, Labor Day. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

You 'Must' Have a Gun to Hold Up This Grandma

DETROIT (INS) — Odell Peck, 34, of Detroit, is in jail today because a grandmother refused to be fooled.

Peck went into a Detroit restaurant yesterday and demanded the contents of the cash register from the grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Graham, an employe.

He had his hand poked menacingly in his pocket. But Mrs. Graham didn't think he held a gun. So she ran out a back door and called police.

SHOVES HIM AROUND

He obeyed and walked right into the arms of police.

Mrs. Graham admittd her tactics were contrary to the policy of the restaurant management, but explained:

"I'll never give a bandit anything when I know he has no gun."

Churchwoman Explains Way to Happiness

"No one can be permanently happy unless he brings light into other peoples' faces," Mrs. James C. Covert told the Mother-Daughter Banquet in Trinity Baptist Church Saturday evening.

Mrs. Covert of 2209 Scott Lake Rd. is president of the Detroit Presbyterial Society, past president of the United Church Women of Pontiac and a member of the United Church Women's Council.

She gave these points:

Lift the eyes of people higher than their own existence; preach, teach and practice brotherhood of man; convince people the Christian life can't be lived just one day a week; and, create opportunities for others.
