Offer New Ideas in Education

As Big 3 Backs West Berlin

NATO Set to Huddle

PARIS (AP) — Reassured that the Western Big Three will stand fast against Soviet pressure on West Berlin, the North Atlantic Allies turned today to critical disputes within the alliance.

The agreement Sunday on Berlin by the foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States led off a week of formal conferences vital to Western Europe's future.

A communique said the Big Three foreign ministers "reaffirmed the determination of their governments to maintain their position and their rights with respect to Berlin, including the right of free access."

The statement rejected the Soviet proposal to give the East German Communist regime control of Allied traffic with West Berin. In effect, the ministers ruled out suggestions that the West deal with the East Germans as agents of the Russians.

The three ministers — U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd — gave no indication of what counter-proposals they would make in reply to the Soviet note of Nov. 27.

But they said they were agreed on the basic issues to be covered in their replies. They said they would consult with the other NATO allies in the NATO Council meeting beginning Tuesday and then would formulate their notes to the Soviets.

Today's big program of diplomatic meetings included the following:

9:30 a.m. (3:30 EST) — U.S.-Canadian defense talks.

10 a.m. (5 a.m. EST) — Meeting of six European Common Market countries.

11 a.m. (5 a.m.) — Meeting of OEEC Council at Chateau de la Muette.

11 a.m. (5 a.m.) — Meeting of Council of Europe at Palais de Jena.

1 p.m. (7 a.m.) — Lunch given by Lloyd to Council of Europe foreign ministers.

3 p.m. (9 a.m.) — Meeting of West European Union Council.

4 p.m. (10 a.m.) — Resumed meetings of OEEC Council.

4:30 p.m. (10:30 a.m.) — Dulles calls on De Gaulle.

6:45 p.m. (12:45 p.m.) — Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani calls on De Gaulle.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in the Soviet note, said the Soviets were withdrawing from the four-power occupation of Berlin. He proposed that West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, be made a demilitarized free city.

The Russians said regardless of what was worked out for West Berlin, they were giving the East Germans control of all communications within the city in six months.

The Western refusal to deal with the East Germans apparently left no alternative but force to insure access to the city if the Russians go ahead with the transfer of communication controls.

Look for Knife in Gaca Case

Detectives Use Army Mine Detector in Field by Walled Lake Park

Detectives from the Redford State Police Post and Army personnel from Fort Wayne today put a mine detector to use in hopes of discovering a knife which police believe might have been used to kill Barbara Gaca more than three years ago.

A field just south of the Walled Lake Amusement Park was being combed as police moved ahead with their investigation of a possible link with the unsolved murder of the 7-year-old Detroit girl and the arrest of a Berkley man for pistol-whipping a Ferndale woman last week.

Lt. Howard Whaley, of the Redford post, said Walter H. Budry, 25, of 3665 Oakshire Rd., "definitely is a good suspect" in the Gaca slaying.

The Gaca girl's body was discovered wrapped in an Army blanket in a wooded area near Halsted road and Pontiac Trail in West Bloomfield Township in May of 1955.

Budry became a suspect when he suddenly mentioned to detectives that he had tossed away a knife with the gun with which he admitted beating Mrs. Marguerite Baker, 37, a clerk at the Piggy Bank Cleaners, 2829 Coolidge Highway.

Whaley said he became suspicious why Budry would mention the

Strong Winds Pushing Blaze Near Mission

1,000 Men Fight Fire Close to California's San Juan Capistrano

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—An estimated 1,000 men, hampered by turbulent winds, struggled today to check a fast-moving brush fire raging in mountain country eight miles northeast of this historic mission town.

The blaze broke out Sunday and quickly consumed 10,000 acres of tall brush some of it as high as 15 feet.

Hopes of early control of the fire were dashed when it jumped the Ortega highway, a scenic route linking San Juan Capistrano and Lake Elsinore.

Firemen had sought vainly to make a stand at the highway. The area, dotted with resort cabins and a few ranches, is part of the Cleveland National Forest.

Cabins in the community of San Juan Hot Springs were endangered but firefighters were optimistic that most of them would be saved. Inhabitants were evacuated.

U.S. Forest Service men were joined by prison camp crews and county and state units. Sixty pumper trucks and 15 bulldozers were in use.

When flames leaped the highway, Orange County sheriff's officers put out an emergency call for patrol cars to order out ranchers in the area.

Police from virtually every city in Orange County rushed to the area.

Residents in the northeast side of San Juan Capistrano were alerted, in case evacuation of the area was needed. The city's famed mission is in this district.

Given Lengthy Gift

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — The Rev. Dr. Robert G. Lee and his wife made plans today for an 11-week trip to Europe and the holy land—a gift from his Baptist congregation. The present was given to the couple on Lee's 31st anniversary as pastor of the 9,000-member church.

Predict Mao's Successor

TAIPEI (AP)—Chinese Nationalist sources predict that Gen. Chu Teh will take over as head of the Red Chinese government from chairman Mao Tze-tung. The Nationalists also say that a face-saving way has been found to ease Mao out as head of the Communist party.

SMOULDERING RUINS — Remains of Mountainville Hotel at Allentown, Pa. are shown where six persons lost their lives and a score were injured as a result of a gas explosion and fire.

Spectators Die in Blast at Pennsylvania Hotel

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A darkroom technician who wanted to be a newspaper photographer stopped on his way home from work to take pictures of a gas main explosion.

Minutes later, he and five other curious spectators lost their lives in a second blast.

Lester S. Kraft Jr. 29, a camera bug hired last September by the Allentown Call-Chronicle, was driving home late Saturday night after work.

★ ★ ★

As he reached the outskirts of this southeastern Pennsylvania city, he saw a huge jet of flaming gas shoot up through the street paving from a broken main.

He parked and ran with his camera to the front porch of the 120-year-old Mountainville Hotel, a good spot from which to see the spectacular fire. Others also had gathered on the porch, or near it, to watch.

★ ★ ★

Minutes later the second explosion ripped the building apart. Tons of brick and stone buried the six victims. Twenty-three others were injured, two critically.

The second blast was followed by a series of lesser explosions as leaking gas ignited in the streets around the hotel.

The operators of the hotel, actually a tavern with living quarters on the second floor, were Mr. and Mrs. George Andresack. Mrs. Andresack's timely warning to some 50 patrons probably kept the death toll down.

"I went to the cellar door after I smelled gas and when I opened it, the odor was very heavy," she said.

"I yelled to the patrons to put out their cigarettes and get out because I was afraid of an explosion.

Moments after the bar patrons left, the hotel was destroyed.

In addition to Kraft, the dead were William Gruber and Perry Miller, both 16, who had just left a nearby roller skating rink; William MacLean; Walter Leitger, 37, and Maynard Haebner, 39, all of Allentown.

Top Educators in U.S. Help Plan Curriculum

Panel of 5 Sees College as Pioneer to Develop New Concepts

By MAX E. SIMON

American colleges are placing too much emphasis on irrelevant liberal arts courses which are not meaingful to students.

That was one of the major conclusions reached by a panel of five nationally known persons who came to Michigan State University Oakland Saturday to help in planning the liberal arts curriculum for the new institution.

Because MSUO is not bound by tradition and is starting with a clean slate, the panel saw an "unparalleled opportunity" for the school to lead in developing new educational concepts.

Taking part in the liberal arts seminar were Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University; Dr. Sarah G. Blanding, president of Vassar College; Dr. Henry Steele Commager, noted historian at Amherst College; Henry R. Luce, editor-in-chief of Time, Inc., and Dr. Ralph W. Tyler, director of the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Stanford, Calif.

Moderator for the panel was James C. Zeder, vice president of Chrysler Corp. and of the MSUO Foundation.

MASTER USELESS MATERIAL

Many brilliant students become discouraged because they are forced to master useless material, the panelists agreed.

They also found fault with the idea that the teacher is the key cog in the educational system.

The importance of teaching is being exaggerated, the panel felt.

★ ★ ★

Student learning is what really counts, they emphasized, and students should be encouraged to consider the libraries and laboratories as the center of their educational experience.

It was agreed by the panelists that:

1. Liberally educated students

Frigid Weather Ups Accidents

No Sign of Change From Cold Spell Here; Snow Tonight

A light snowfall and continued frigid temperatures kept area police and sheriff's deputies busy this weekend handling a rash of accident reports.

Area highways were slippery Sunday evening and this morning due to a light snow, and the Weather Bureau predicted today that the snow and cold shows no signs of letting up.

Mostly cloudy and continued cold with a few snow flurries is the outlook for the Pontiac area.

It will be cloudy and cold with snow tonight, continuing through tomorrow when the snow will diminish to flurries.

Today's predicted high is 20 with a low tonight of 10 and tomorrow's high about 16. Winds will be westerly at 14-22 m.p.h. today, becoming southwesterly this afternoon and tonight, and northwesterly tomorrow morning.

The five-day outlook is for

1- to 6-Inch Snow Slams Dixie, Eastern States

By United Press International

Fresh snows swept out of the Southland and the Northeast today. Weathermen foresaw no major break in the bitter weather cloaking much of the nation.

The brunt of the eastern storm moved out into the Atlantic Ocean last night, but deposited moderate snowfall amounts along its flanks from northern New Jersey to southern New England.

Earlier, the storm slammed into Dixie, dumping six inches of snow at Richmond, Va. It left one to four inches from northern South Carolina to southeastern New England.

As the cold snap stretched well into its second week, readings plunged to zero or below as far south as Fayetteville, Ark., during the night, and sub-freezing temperatures ranged through Georgia and northern Florida.

The northern New York community of Oswego measured a full winter's snowfall today, six days before the official beginning of that season.

A U.S. Weather Bureau observer said 88 inches of snow had fallen there this month. The snowfall for all of last winter was 88 inches.

Introducing a New Adventure Series: 'The Green Empress'

He Seemed Right for the Job . . . but Why the Calm Air?

By ELIZABETH CADELL

"Do you," asked Sir Claud finally, "feel confident to undertake the work?"

There was anxiety in his voice, but there was anguish in the look he directed toward the large young man seated at the other side of the bare, highly-polished desk.

★ ★ ★

The young man returned the gaze politely, but with unruffled calm, and Sir Claud, running a distracted hand over his sparse gray hairs, leaned back in his chair and tried to discover what was making him hesitate on the brink of decision.

He had done all he could. He had granted the rare privilege of a personal interview, and at the beginning of it had put the candidate through a stiff verbal examination. He had found him alert, well-informed and intelligent.

He also fulfilled the other requirements of the Company; his background was impeccable, his looks pleasant, his voice and bearing good.

SOMETHING MISSING

But in the later stages of the interview when Sir Claud had spoken at some length of the heavy responsibility involved in working for the Company, when he had stressed the necessity of upholding its high standards, he had felt that something was missing in the young man's manner.

Something was missing, but he could not decide, he could not define exactly what it was. There was polite attention. The young man had listened to what was being said to him with a quietness and ease of manner and—

And that was it!

There, Sir Claud told himself, there was the flaw. There was the fault, elusive, intangible, that he had sensed but failed to identify. It was this that had worried him, this ease, this calm, almost this coolness of manner.

★ ★ ★

It could spring only from a conviction that a thorough knowledge of detail was sufficient qualification for the post. This young man, satisfactory in all other respects, obviously considered that efficiency was enough.

Efficiency was not enough. Sir Claud, in a last effort to drive this fact home, leaned forward and spoke earnestly. "You fully understand, Mr. Graham, what you are undertaking?"

"Perfectly, sir," said Angus, and marveled at his own self-control. For forty minutes he had been fighting a strong impulse to rise and inform this tedious old man that there was no need to go on droning out instructions.

GRASPS DETAILS

He had grasped the details and he could do the job on his head. If he couldn't conduct a busload of travelers across country that he knew like the palm of his hand, if he was incapable of acting for a short time as combined courier, steward and nursemaid to a collection of mobile millionaires, he must indeed be as weakwitted as this old man appeared to find him.

Attention, Angus, he warned himself. The old gentleman's off again.

"You do understand" — Sir Claud enunciated each word slowly and clearly — "you do understand that you are not—let me repeat this emphatically—you are not a courier?"

"The duties, sir," Angus could not help pointing out, "are those of a courier."

"Perhaps." The old man shifted forward in his seat and seemed to be trying to project his doubts, his uneasiness across the desk. "But I have been at pains throughout this interview to make you see that we are not to be classed as a mere Travel Agency, and that our young men are emphatically not couriers.

"They accompany our travelers, they are at hand to point out, if required, points of interest on the journey, and they are prepared to help or to advise.

"They act as liaison officers between our clients and . . . Yes, that is the term, they are liaison officers. They are not, definitely not couriers."

With an effort, Angus injected a note of solemnity into his voice. "A liaison officer. I quite see that there is more than a shade of difference, sir," he said.

He saw the instant relief and pleasure in the old man's face and reproached himself for not having put him at his ease earlier. He had known what was lacking in his own manner, but he had been reluctant to repair the omission.

What Sir Claud had expected, had awaited, was respect amounting to awe for the Company, and this Angus had been unwilling to grant.

MOBILE WET-NURSE

It was, in his opinion, no more than a firm that specialized in giving rich travelers rich treatment, and he himself was nothing more, he considered, that a mobile wet-nurse.

But if getting the job meant humoring the Company's head and founder, he was prepared to humor him.

He needed the job, he reminded himself. He needed it badly. It would fill in more than a month, a week going, a week or two there, a week returning. It would pay him well and it would give him a look, perhaps a last look, at the Europe he loved so much.

He wanted the job. If getting it meant putting on this I-hope-I-am-worthy act, he was prepared to put it on.

"I understand perfectly, sir," he said.

Sir Claud smiled.

"I am glad. Our Company is, in many respects, an unusual organization. In the first place, we are Government-sponsored. We do not arrange travel for the ordinary tourist, and we do not take people on sight-seeing tours.

"Our passengers, as you now know, are very often people high in the service of this or other nations.

"You asked, with some point, why, if they are going on should possess the ability to communicate with others at a level of profundity.

2. They should be capable of creative thinking.

3. They should have a broad comprehension of various fields other than those in which they specialize.

4. They should be able to think critically about problems varying in nature.

5. They should be able to think in global terms.

6. They should be fluent in at least one foreign language.

Dr. Blanding said that students are forced to do too much in college. "Let us not try to cover the earth in four years," she said.

COURSES DAZZLING

The concept of students taking a certain number of "courses" to graduate was attacked by Dr. Commager.

"Americans are dazzled by them," he said. "You take a course in marriage and you're supposed to live in perpetual ecstacy. Take one in speech and you're supposed to be a brilliant conversationalist.

"Many subjects offered undergraduates have no places in a university program," Dr. Commager said.

★ ★ ★

"Things like remedial reading and beginning language courses should be taken care of in high school," he declared.

"The study of other cultures and people should be stressed in the liberal arts curriculum," Dr. Tyler said.

"Without understanding other people, we can't find an answer to world problems," he said. "We must think in broad, global terms."

HISTORY VALUABLE

The knowledge of past civilizations still offers many important lessons to today's students, Luce said.

"It is vital that we study the histories of Rome and Greece, which contain the background of the Western liberal tradition. For unless we carry this tradition forward, we must collapse and fall."

Luce, publisher of Time, Life and Fortune magazines, said no one is educated who is not familiar with the thought of the classical world.

★ ★ ★

All panelists felt that many students would gain little from studying traditional subjects such as Greek and Latin, unless there was a specific relationship between the languages and their interests.

What a student takes in college should be determined by the needs of his interests and inquiries, Dr. Eisenhower said.

"It would be wonderful if everyone could study everything," he said. "But college students don't have the time."

FINAL SEMINAR

The seminar was the last of a series between Michigan State University President Dr. John A. Hannah and his administrative staff and experts in various fields.

Previously seminars were held on the engineering, teacher education, and business administration curriculums.

All the seminars were held at Meadow Brook Hall on the former Alfred G. Wilson estate, site of the new university.

ENGINE STALLED — From two hundred feet in the air, this sports plane plunged to the earth at Pontiac Municipal Airport Saturday afternoon when its engine failed shortly after takeoff. The pilot, Donald Conner, 53, of 4150 Pontiac Trail, Orchard Lake, is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with head and neck injuries. The single-engine Cessna 172 careened to the ground next to the east-west runway near Williams Lake road.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department investigated eight injury accidents over the weekend, plus numerous property damage smashups.

Five of the injury accidents occurred since 4 p.m. Sunday.

A three-car smashup at 1803 Haggerty Rd., West Bloomfield Township, at 10:15 p.m. Sunday sent a Milford man, Joseph L. Thibault, 48, of 8512 Cascade St., to the hospital.

Thibault was listed in fair condition with rib and head injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today. His car went out of control striking a tree, deputies said.

The drivers of the other two autos involved were uninjured.

The Rev. Joseph Francis O'Connor, 43, of Grosse Pointe's St. Clair Catholic Church, was in poor condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today with chest, back and rib injuries.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. O'Connor, whose home is in Flint, was driving south on U.S. 10 early this morning when another auto forced him off the road, deputies said.

His car went out of control, struck three trees and overturned

In another early morning accident today Curtis Wright, 22, of Flint, was also sent to the same hospital where he is reported in poor condition with internal, chest and facial injuries.

Wright was riding in an auto driven by Major Terry Jr., 30, also of Flint. Terry, who was going north on U. S. 10, told deputies he lost control of his car on slippery pavement at a curve at Hatchery road in Drayton Plains.

The auto went off the highway and smashed into a utility pole, deputies said. The driver was uninjured.

A hit-and-run accident at 189 Commerce Rd., Commerce Township, Sunday afternoon resulted in injury to a Milford housewife.

Mrs. Clarissa Breitenbeck, 60, of 1275 Van Stone Rd., was reported in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today with neck and head injuries.

She was riding in an auto driven by her husband, Howard, 61, who told deputies he had stopped to make a left turn when an auto struck him from the rear.

Breitenbeck told deputies he got out of his car and walked back to the other auto, and that the other driver began cursing at him. Breitenbeck said he then left to call deputies and when he returned the other car had left the scene.

Two passengers in an auto driven by David R. Luoma, 23, of Detroit, were injured Sunday evening when the Luoma car went out of control on Cooley Lake road at Sarvis street, Waterford Township, and overturned.

The passengers, David E. Barkkarie, 27, of 6878 Brightwood Court, and Judy Barkkarie, 18, of Detroit, were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

A Drayton Plains man, Vernon Lawson, 31, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital where he is reported in fair condition with head and leg injuries.

Deputies said Lawson, of 2720 Deland St., apparently was driving east on M87 about a mile east of Holly Saturday night when he lost control of his car.

Lawson was found unconscious about eight feet from his smashed auto. Tire marks indicated the car skidded 330 feet, crashed into a utility pole, and traveled 45 feet before coming to a stop, deputies said.

State Police at the Pontiac and Redford posts reported a rash of minor accidents. None resulted in serious personal injuries.

knife which he said did not enter into the Baker beating.

In order to make their search easier, a flame-thrower has been used to melt the snow away from the field near the park's parking lot just off 13-Mile road where Budry said he tossed the gun and the knife. Police found his smashed glasses there Friday.

Police doubt Budry's story that a second man, whom he said forced him into beating Mrs. Baker, assaulted him following the beating. Police theorize Budry smashed his glasses and ripped his trousers with the knife to make it look like he had been beaten by this second man.

A check was still being made today by police and owners of the Brown Creamery Co., 538 W. Seven Mile Rd., Royal Oak, to find Budry's work records to see whether he was at work there as a bottler when the Gaca girl was killed. Payrolls and pay checks also are being examined.

★ ★ ★

"We won't discount Budry until we know for sure he is or isn't our man," said Whaley.

Budry, who has no criminal record as an adult, was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Budry is confined to the county jail, unable to post a $20,000 bond.

CANTON, N. C. (UP)—Bill Abbott went hunting over the weekend in the Standing Indian Refuge and bagged two wild boars. He did it with a bow and arrow.

Youth Falls on Ski Pole, Has 5 Hours Surgery

Victim of a freak skiing accident, David Williams, 17, of 1716 N. Wixom Rd., Commerce Township, was in good condition in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital today after undergoing five hours of surgery Saturday night.

While skiing on a hill near his home Saturday afternoon, Williams took a tumble in which the sharp point of his ski pole entered the base of his skull through his mouth, the hospital said.

Pontiac Sailor Hurt in Indiana Accident

A hitchhiking sailor from Pontiac was injured and one from Detroit was killed when the truck in which they were riding overturned in Indiana last night.

Edwain Ostrander Jr., 1257 Durfrain St., and the truck driver, Robert Pengelli, 26, of Allen, Mich., were both hospitalized in La Porte, Ind. Their injuries were not serious.

Raid Disperses 200 Waiting for Obscene Film

Seventeen police officers from three law agencies raided the Keego Harbor VFW Hall Saturday night, dispersing 200 persons at a meeting where an obscene film was about to be shown, and arresting three on charges of loitering.

★ ★ ★

Described by police as the organizers of the meeting, Kenneth C. Hackett, 4114 Meigs St., Drayton Plains; Mario A. Giglio, 441 N. Perry St. and Joseph S. Cizewski, 163 Westway St., pleaded guilty before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Each paid a fine of $25 and $10 costs.

The arraignments took place immediately after the 9 p.m. raid, in which police from Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake, Sylvan Lake and Oakland County sheriff's deputies took part under the direction of James Sisk, Keego Harbor police chief.

Police said the hall was rented for the occasion and an admission price of $4 per person was charged.

'Avoid Rush—Drink Now'

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Discuss Lake Park Sewer Job

BIRMINGHAM — For the first time in several weeks public hearings are scheduled for tonight's City Commission meeting.

The controversial Lake Park Drive storm sewer will be taken from the table and a hearing on necessity will be held. A project discussed early last spring was sidetracked while a study was made for a complete job including the sewer and street paving.

Objections from residents on the paving program brought about tabling of the action.

In the second hearing the opening of Fairway drive will be discussed to give access to privately owned land now cut off from any city street.

★ ★ ★

The only alternative to permit the owner to build will be the construction of a driveway across a city-owned well site. The engineering department has said that the opening of Fairway drive is the more practical solution.

Four persons were injured late Saturday afternoon in a two car crash at Lincoln Ave. and Bates St.

Beverly F. Sayed, 44, of 7172 Trapham Ct., driver of one of the vehicles suffered injuries to her left side. Jean Milroy, 50, 32300 Bingham Rd., received bruises on her right side, and Wilma Hogarth, 46, of 17234 Kirkshire Rd., was bruised about the left arm and chest.

The driver of the second car, Gladston T. Cook, 48, of 21605 Mayfair Lane, received slight head and shoulder injuries. They were all treated at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, and released shortly after.

Police said Cook was ticketed after he ran the stop sign on Bates street and struck the front of the other car.

INGENIOUS — Dad turns awkward corner into bookcase with wainscoting of western pine paneling. But more important to tykes, he uses plastic brick and wood frame to make fireplace insert. At Christmas he removes books and shelf, inserts fireplace unit and tacks up stockings.

No Chimney? No Problem for a Smart 'Santa Claus'

Need a fireplace on which to hang stockings Christmas Eve?

It's simple. Build yourself a bookcase. It doesn't make any difference whether the bookcase is built into the wall or free-standing or what the size is. The key is to make the shelf or shelves removable for converting into a simulated fireplace, according to the Western Pine Association.

Incorporate the bookcase-fireplace idea into a paneling or wainscoting project or add it where the walls are already paneled.

One homeowner who felt the lack of a fireplace every Christmas decided to install wainscoting in a room. He gave a custom look and utility to the job by constructing a bookcase as a part of the wainscoting at an inconvenient abutment in the room.

★ ★ ★

With Christmas approaching he he worked out his fireplace plan.

Construction materials for a fireplace insert include plastic brick facing, a wood box of the appropriate size for the firebox of the fireplace, and some half-inch thick lumber for the frame.

Dimensions depend upon the size of the bookcase. But it's a good idea to figure out first the size of the plastic brick and to construct the frame so that the bricks will not have a chopped up appearance.

In this case, the frame around the firebox was made the width of one full brick and the space above equal to four layers of bricks.

Strips of one by two-inch lumber reinforced the corners where the wood facing joined the box. To fasten plastic brick onto the wood frame, a tacking stapler was used. But glue or nails are suitable.

No matter what color of plastic brick is used, it's a good idea to paint the back of the indented firebox a sooty black.

Savings Bonds Investors Earn $93 Million Interest

WASHINGTON, D.C. — United States Savings Bonds investors in November purchased $324 million of Series E and H bonds, earned interest of $93 million on their E bond holdings, which was automatically re-invested for them, and received $342 million in cash from E and H redemptions.

★ ★ ★

Total E and H bonds outstanding increased by $76 million, reaching an all-time peak on Nov. 30 of $43,514 million.

★ ★ ★

James F. Stiles, Jr., national director of the Savings Bonds Division, said that E and H sales have reached 92 per cent of the 1958 goal of $4.7 billion.

21 Hungarians Have Trouble With U.S. Ways

HOUSTON Tex. (AP) — A social worker reports the 21 Hungarian refugees who came here two years ago have had a rough row to hoe.

About a third lost their jobs during the recession, T. W. Weston, a member of the Houston Hungarian Rehabilitation Board, said. Others went in too deep on installment buying.

★ ★ ★

"They were too easily tempted by offers to pay $25 down on cars, and they failed—or were unable—to read the fine print in what they were signing," Weston said.

Some have asked if they could be sent to Western Europe but none would consider returning to Hungary, he added.

Weston said the language barrier kept some of the refugees out of their professional fields and forced them to turn to labor at $1 to $1.50 an hour.

One bought a hamburger stand for $300 and set up a Hungarian restaurant, but went broke. "No one in the place could speak English," Weston said.

Early Warning Gives Chance to Get Ready

NEW YORK (UPI) — An announcer broke in on a telecast over a New York TV station to wa that "one of the worst blizzards in many years" was on its way.

Viewers were understandably surprised, since it was mid-September and the temperature was near 80 degrees. Turned out to be a test alert that accidentally got on the air.

Boys suffer about three times as many eye injuries as girls, and junior high school students suffer more eye injuries than any others.

Diver Turns Preacher

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—The Rev. Paul J. Harrell of Memorial Baptist Church, the newly elected president of the Arlington Ministerial Association, knows what it means to be down. He learned deep sea diving in the Navy and afterwards went into submarine salvage work. Later he decided to study for the ministry.

'Cap' Kimball Retires From Pontiac Motor

BASIL B. ('CAP') KIMBALL has severed all official connections with Pontiac Motor Division and the organization says "good bye" to one of its oldest and most respected men.

"CAP" almost pre-dates Chief Pontiac himself and rumor says the first Oaklands were personally tested over sandy roads, rocky trails and cobblestone "pavements" by this brave and intrepid pioneer. Of course, "CAP" isn't really old in years — it's just in service.

★ ★ ★

Few men anywhere ever gather as great a group of friends and acquaintances. Our Mr. KIMBALL can slap VIP's on the back in Portland, Maine, and Portland, Oregon; while his acquaintanceship in the South undoubtedly embraces Governor FAUBUS and Texas' fabulous Mr. MURCHESON. The man has "been around" and no fooling.

★ ★ ★

Everyone, everywhere has a kindly word for the retiring former Advertising Manager of Pontiac Motor Division. Following him in his main occupation is the likable Ben Kissam and fortunately for the Division, his successor has personality on his own account. Otherwise, treading in the footsteps of Mr. Kimball would be a catastrophic assignment.

OK, "CAP," drop in and see us on West Huron Street, anytime.

Could This Be Why Chivalry Is Dying

How times have changed! Don't think for a minute that the American woman has not come a long ways in the last 40 years. If you doubt this take a look at a few facts listed below for 1958.

★ ★ ★

Women now have the say-so in spending 80 per cent of all the family income.

They are the beneficiaries of 80 per cent of all trust funds.

They own 70 per cent of all the voting stock in corporations.

They own, wholly or partly, a half-million small businesses.

★ ★ ★

They run four million households or family units.

More than 21 million women work outside the home.

About 12 million women job-holders have a husband to look after when the day's work is done.

★ ★ ★

So, maybe it's still true that woman's work is never done. But the rewards seem to be greater than they used to be.

Alvin Bentley Suggests Program to Aid Retired

Representative ALVIN M. BENTLEY, one of Michigan's younger and most promising Congressmen, has announced a new bill he proposes to introduce at the next session.

★ ★ ★

As the law stands now, people who have retired are allowed to earn a maximum of $100 a month before their social security is cut off. This works a definite hardship on a large number who are figuring close to their vests.

★ ★ ★

"I feel that our elderly citizens are severely discriminated against" says the Owosso man. "Why should their social security end if they earn more than a hundred dollars in a month?" Bentley proposed to raise the limit to $150, but we feel that $200 might be perfectly equitable. Certainly prices have moved upward since the original limit was instituted.

★ ★ ★

If an employe reaches sixty-five and wishes to retire, he starts drawing his social security funds. Many people in this category feel well and strong and wish to augment this income with some additional employment on the side. It seems unfair to penalize these ambitious people by holding them rigidly to outside earnings of a hundred dollars a month. Shouldn't they be permitted to improve their living conditions through ambition and initiative?

Resourcefulness should be better rewarded. We agree with the main theme Representative Bentley is developing, but we think he might well extend it further than he is.

David Lawrence Says:

Red Link to Bombings Supported

WASHINGTON — When the bombing of a Jewish church in Atlanta occurred several weeks ago, this correspondent suggested that the episode had the earmarks of Communist underground operations.

LAWRENCE

The suggestion was met with cynicism by some of those who preferred rather to indict the people of the South or to blame the occurrence in part on those persons who exercise their constitutional right in America to speak or write on the issue of integration in the public schools.

There were others like the mayor of Atlanta, however, who pointed out that the bombing seemed to be part of an interstate conspiracy—it wasn't just the work of hoodlums or crackpots in any one locality. Anything interstate is big enough, of course, to be of foreign origin as well.

★ ★ ★

Now, after considerable investigation, including a visit to the South, Sen.-elect Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) points the finger of suspicion toward the Communists.

Here is a United Press International dispatch of last Saturday from Schenectady, N.Y.:

"Sen.-elect Kenneth B. Keating said here last night that there was a 'strong suspicion' the bombings of schools, homes and places of worship in the South may have been fomented by Communists. . . .

" 'Moscow made certain that the news of Little Rock and the school bombings reached every corner of the globe,' Keating said. 'There is even a strong suspicion among many informed people that the Communists themselves may be fomenting these horrible bombings.' "

At first it appeared that the bombings and threats were directed solely at Jewish places of worship, but there have been numerous incidents involving both Protestant and Catholic churches and their schools.

Phony threats have become numerous, and, while these could be the work of crackpots affected by suggestion, it is far more likely that the Communist underground, which has agents in every state of the Union, would take advantage of the opportunity to achieve headlines. Anything that portrays America as torn constantly by class feeling is grist for the Communist mill.

The Communists, moreover, do aid and abet anti-Semitic organizations on every continent. They help to finance Fascist units in Europe which are active in spreading hate literature.

They have access to student bodies in many universities throughout the world, especially in Mexico and Latin America generally.

They have lately gotten stronger in Canada, where it will be recalled that a few years ago Igor Gouzenko, an attache of the Soviet embassy in Ottawa, exposed a Canadian-American spy ring of the Communists. The distribution of "hate America" literature has recently increased in Canada.

Fascist units, secretly financed, are a favorite instrument of the Communist apparatus because, on the surface, they seem far from sympathetic with communism.

Sen.-elect Keating, in a television interview Sunday, indicated that some Fascist organizations in America may be implicated in and certainly are exploiting the bombings.

Keating is right in urging that these bombings or threats of bombing inside the United States be covered by federal criminal laws. In a sense, they are usually interstate in their character anyway, but, if the federal law specified such crimes, it would enable the FBI to move in more rapidly and to work more closely with local authorities in warding off such happenings.

The problems growing out of the presence of a powerful Communist underground inside America will never be solved till many who are influential in the press and in the pulpit stop pooh-poohing it as non-existent.

Also, if the Fifth Amendment were amended so that, during a "cold war," Americans could be required to tell of their Communist associations, the FBI would be helped immeasurably.

It is not enough for witnesses merely to deny personal complicity.

If they would wholeheartedly assist the authorities, it would be of incalculable aid in running down the interstate conspiracies and their masterminds operating here or in neighboring countries through funds furnished by the Moscow government.

Dr. William Brady Says:

'Alcohologic' Is Weakling, Scared to Face Up to Life

A New Haven reader writes: "I don't think I am an alcoholic because I don't crave the stuff or even like it.

DR. BRADY

"But my nerves seem to be very tense. I hold off for a while but it builds up in two or three weeks so that I let go and just seem to want to get plastered. Then after a good day of it I don't want any more, I don't even want to see it.

"Don't tell me to stop drinking, for that seems to be the only outlet for what builds up inside of me. Let me know what, beside trouble, causes me to act and keep repeating the same act over. (Signed) ————."

Whether this man is an "alcoholic" or not, by his own recognition he is a narcotic addict. He says a periodic drinking bout is the only outlet for what builds up inside" of him.

Alcohol is a narcotic, whether you are satisfied with just a cocktail, beer or highball, or whether you "let yourself go" and get "plastered" in order to forget for a while what a stinker you are.

HE'S 'CHICKEN'

Getting "plastered," is due to consciousness of inferiority, weakness and inadequacy to cope with annoyances and frustrations a normal individual has to face from day to day. In other words the man is a weakling, or, as the morons say, he chickens and resorts to his favorite narcotic, alcohol, to evade his responsibilities and duties to his family, community, business partners, his employers or employes.

With the usual alcoholic, this addict whines about his "tense nerves." What executives and white collar workers in general need to let off steam or release tension after a trying day at the store or plant is a reasonable amount of general exercise, work or play, the equivalent of, say, a brisk three mile walk.

Such physical activity is the physiological way to utilize the energy mobilized by emotion—annoyance, irritation, vexation, anger, anxiety, worry, envy, jealousy or fear. Primitive man utilized the energy mobilized by emotion in fighting or running away.

General exercise, work or play, I repeat, is the civilized way to react to everyday emotional stimulation, to let off steam, to relieve tension. Read all about it in Cannon's "Bodily Changes in Pain, Hunger, Fear and Rage" (Appleton), which should be available at the public library.

Resident's Tired of Squabbling

As a lifelong resident, I feel sad at all the squabbling among our city employes. I am ready and willing to petition door-to-door for a vote to throw out civil service in our police administration. It may not be the best thing, but when we have merit instead of examination papers and law suits to decide promotions, we'll be better off.

Why haven't our commissioners fought this bad publicity with a put-up or shut-up action. I'm proud of Pontiac and want it to stay a good town, but how long will it remain a place for small home owners when we hear all this palaver from partisan politicians?

Wants to Preserve Religious Freedom

Let's hold fast the wonderful laws provided by our forefathers for freedom of religion by continuing to keep church and state separate. Let's keep freedom to buy or sell any day of the week and not enact laws forcing a person to observe any certain day. Some people keep holy Friday, some Saturday and almost every other day is observed by someone. Let's fight for this freedom to worship according to our beliefs.

Pakistan Embassy Explains Position

Martial law in Pakistan appears to have raised some doubts as to its exact meaning. It is of a regenerative nature to rehabilitate and reform the country politically, socially, economically and administratively, so she may continue to develop and grow unhampered on the path of democracy. The fact that its stewardship is civilian, under the head of the state, makes it unique. Throughout, the civil administration has been and is being used to the maximum.

★ ★ ★

The full range of civil liberties enjoyed in all free countries has been in force and all other democratic processes have also been maintained with a cabinet, comprising the best available civilian and military talent working together as a team, with a president who commands confidence of the entire nation.

★ ★ ★

The changeover was completely peaceful. This could only have been possible with wholehearted support of the people. True freedom of man arises from the social system which governs his life and two fundamental points emerge from the events of the past month: Recognition of the untrammeled equality of all citizens and their solidarity as a Pakistani nation. The present government isn't an end of democracy. It is a prelude to establishment of healthy democratic institutions that will benefit Pakistan and the free world.

Every new father soon realizes what to have and to hold means.

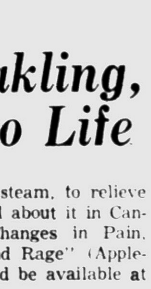

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Adopted Child Is Especially Lucky

Howard is acting very stupidly. He should feel doubly happy over the good news which his dying father revealed to him. And so should all of you other kids who are in the same boat, for you know positively your parents love you. They proved it in advance!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-401: Howard J., aged 22, was adopted as a 10-day-old baby boy.

DR. CRANE

"We never told Howard that he was a foster child," his worried mother recently informed me, "at least until a year ago.

"Then my husband, as he lay dying, decided to give him the story. Well, it didn't work out very well.

"For Howard grew angry at me and has started drinking to excess. He has been cross and irritable.

"During the funeral of my husband, Howard acted indifferent. And now he has deserted me. It's been a month since he left and I haven't had but one card from him.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, it almost kills me to lose both my husband and my son. Why, we looked on him as our real child and never regarded him as being anything but our own boy.

"What did I do wrong in this case?"

FOSTER CHILDREN

Howard is obviously making a sad mistake in this belated irritation at his parents just because they didn't tell him he was adopted.

In fact, foster children are lucky. They know that they have been picked deliberately and intentionally by their parents.

The flesh-and-blood parents often don't want their offspring. In fact, thousands of would-be mothers attempt abortions every year in this country just to avoid bearing their children.

Others are resentful and irritated at being chained down by 9 months of pregnancy, so even if they do bear the child, they are caustic and may show dislike to it.

★ ★ ★

Still others offend their youngsters by tactlessly letting them know they wanted a boy instead of a girl or vice versa.

LUCKY KIDS

But you adopted children are very lucky kids. For your parents wanted YOU so much they spent many weeks or months and even years actually locating you.

Then they also spent additional money legally adopting you. And they desired YOU, not somebody of the opposite sex, for they picked you by voluntary choice.

Remember, nobody forced them to select you! You were purposely chosen offspring, picked because of love and affection.

And mutual love is the true bond that unites all parents and children. For there is no magic to the old adage that "blood is thicker than water."

★ ★ ★

The first blood kin on the face of this earth were Cain and Abel. Yet Cain murdered his blood brother with little evidence of remorse.

And Absalom tried to kill his father, King David, in order to seize the throne.

Thus, it isn't blood kinship that makes people your real parents or you kids their real children, but love and voluntary affection.

KIDS, GET HEP

Unless you are taught to love and respect each other, there is no true kinship between parents and children.

But if you do love and respect each other, then you are truly related regardless of whether you are white or black, Jew or Gentile.

So quit making a foolish fetish out of blood kinship!

"And who is my mother and my brethren?" Jesus asked, when He was told that Mary and his brothers were outside, waiting to speak to Him.

"For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother," he added.

So be doubly glad you are adopted children and don't act juvenile, like Howard in today's case. See tomorrow's follow-up.

Top Mediator Called in Strike

9 New York Papers Blanked by Walkout of Deliverymen

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's top mediator formally joins negotiations today in an effort to deliverymen's strike that has cut off publication of the city's nine major dailies.

★ ★ ★

Joseph F. Finnegan, national director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, meets with representatives of the striking Nwspaper and Mail Deliverers Union and the Publishers Assn. of New York City when contract talks resume.

★ ★ ★

Finnegan met with both sides Sunday in a briefing session.

A publishers' spokesman said the papers would not resume publication until the deliverymen returned to work. The announcement followed an offer from more than 2,000 printers, members of the New York Typographical Union Local 6, to return to work.

Printers at the Daily News plant refused to cross a deliverymen's picket line and the paper was unable to run its Thursday morning editions.

Mechanic on Wing as Plane Takes Off

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — An unpiloted private plane took off at Oakland Airport Sunday with a mechanic dangling from a wing strut.

The mechanic, Tony Herold had been changing the ignition switch. As he turned the propeller, the single-engine Cessna came to life. Herold grabbed a strut in an effort to stop the plane, but it gathered speed, climbed 25 feet, dipped and climbed again.

Herold let go on the second dip. He suffered only cuts and bruises.

The plane bounced into three gasoline trucks, cut off the tail of another aircraft and crashed to a stop against an airliner.

Estimated damage: $70,000.

Keep Age and Interests in Mind

Don't Buy Toys Carelessly

Resist that impulse to buy hastily when choosing toys for children on a Christmas list. Also, tackle selection of playthings at a leisurely pace well ahead of the rush.

This advice to assistant Santas comes from Dr. Alma Williams Davis. She is a professor of elementary education and a member of the Toy Guidance Council advisory committee.

"The basic rule of successful toy buying is to be thoughtful," says Dr. Davis.

"Consider each child as an individual whose Christmas 1958 stage of development has very special play needs. Toys chosen with his age and interests in mind will be an investment in education as well as a source of immediate fun."

Relatives and friends out of personal touch with youngsters on their gift lists should take time for a little elementary sleuthing, she says.

"First check up on ages," Dr. Davis advises. "Be realistic about the years that have passed since that last snapshot showing Junior in rompers in a playpen. Just a letter or a phone call will fill you in on his play interests and capabilities right now.

"Children's mental and physical growth is rapid, showing differences even from month to month.

"Many stores have lists of types of toys which appeal to children at different age levels, manufacturers' labels, tags and containers give helpful information as to the purpose of each toy and its age appeal."

She notes toys are important educational tools.

Children learn to coordinate their muscles, to use their imagination, to develop their senses and to adapt to the world they live in with playthings.

"The thoughtful Santa also considers where the child lives," Dr. Davis points out. "Toughly constructed, road building toys are wonderful for a child with a backyard but not nearly as useful to the child who lives in a fifth-floor city walkup."

And as a diplomatic gesture, provide gifts for each child in a family, even though you may have met only one.

JAKARTA, (AP) — Parliament today unanimously extended Indonesia's nationwide state of emergency for one year. This left major government powers in the hands of the army.

Up From Ranks Fast When 'Brass' Is Away

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Ida Oplas, a policewoman who spends her time checking for overtime parkers, was head of the police department for a while.

The police chief, the mayor, detective chief and captain were out of town attending a convention. Lt. Joe Hoskins, left in charge of the office, had to leave for a few minutes. He told the policewoman to take charge. All was quiet during her 10-minute tenure.

Hal Boyle Says:

Morning Bright Light Not Always Cheerful

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

Total honesty is rare in humankind.

Philosophers may argue at what age or time the average man is truely most honest.

I have thought this problem through, and I think a man is most honest when he fights against the idea of getting out of bed in the morning to face the problems of the day.

I have read often in my lifetime of people who loved what they were doing so much that they could hardly bear to put their cheek against the pillow because tomorrow would be so exciting.

★ ★ ★

There must be people like this. But in a crowded life I have never met them. The lovers of life that I have met loved today and worried it to death—they took life as it was at the moment in their teeth.

Tomorrow was a century for others.

Certainly I admire the heroes of this world who hate the waste of sleeping and fret against the darkness that denies them the bright opportunity of tomorrow. But I am not one of them.

Baubles for Yule tree may include diamond broch, bracelet or ear-clips, such as these from Tiffany set in gold.

★ ★ ★

I am a lifelong and industrious coward myself, a penurious hoarder of now, and would like to stretch the happy leisure of the moment into an unimportant eternity.

In living you have a change of mornings.

Getting up in the morning has always seemed to me the biggest possible mistake a man can make in his lifetime. And he does it day after day, year after year.

So many mornings in a lifetime.

Can you remember sleeping in an upper floor and leaving the heavy quilt-soft warmth of bed to run downstairs in your long-handled underwear and spread your bottom to the red comfort of a stove in the living room?

Or to creep shivering down alone at a cold and lonely hour to light the fire in the stove? Or go into the basement and throw coal into a reluctant furnace and coax its grudging, overnight-dampered loyalty to bright, silent flame again? Remember how strange the house looked, so silent and waiting for the family noise?

Hobby kits like this Russian T-34 tank are fun tranquilizers and decorate a he-man's home as well.

★ ★ ★

These problems of arising in the morning are still only too familiar across the land.

But in the city where the same sun wonders the morning window, and a fellow has the climate of his choice by turning a knob, it seems to me his problem of getting up is no easier.

The today he loved has become yesterday, and the tomorrow he didn't know is now his today, and he has to get up and do something about it. All, as the poet says, is to do again.

★ ★ ★

It is human to hate to let go what you have known, and it is human not to face up to what you have to do.

Good night, day that I have loved. Hello, ugh, morning. Welcome, stranger, and make yourself at home.

Much as I doubt you now, you'll be a friend by nightfall. And then you will go away.

Well-Framed Pictures Pull Room Together

Something wrong in a room? Perhaps the pictures aren't framed properly. A good frame selection can bridge differences in decorating periods in a room and pull it together.

For example, a print of the French impressionist school in a gilt frame is perfectly suited to a provincial decorating plan. A simple frame matted in linen complements the same print in a modern room setting.

New Mideast Crisis Feared

Possible Revolt in Iraq Led by Reds Could Trigger Peril

LONDON (UPI) — Reports today from Baghdad said there was imminent danger of a Communist-led revolt which might place Iraq in the Soviet camp and bring the Middle East to crisis point again.

William C. Rountree, assistant U.S. secretary of state, leaves Cairo today for Baghdad. Cairo reports said Iraqi Communists were organizing major demonstrations against him.

Travelers coming out of Baghdad said the situation there was tense and that an explosion could come at any time between the once outlawed Communists and Arab nationalists.

A traveler who arrived in Ankara, Turkey, said the atmosphere in Iraq is similar to that in mid July when King Faisal was slain and Brig. Gen Abdul Kerim Kassem seized power.

★ ★ ★

Tension has built up inside the country since the government announced last week it has foiled a plot aimed at overthrowing th Kassem government. Since then there has been a major crackdown on pro-Nasser, anti-Communist elements in Iraq.

Pictures of animals on early Roman coins gave us the word, pecuniary — meaning money — from the Latin, pecus, meaning cattle.

Clarence Budington Kelland Says:

GOP Losses in Election All Eisenhower's Fault

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — Clarence Budington Kelland, author and former executive director of the Republican National Committee, blames President Eisenhower for the Republican losses in nationwide elections last month.

★ ★ ★

Kelland, in a letter to Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn, said Eisenhower's pursuit of "a thing called New Republicanism" has betrayed every principle of the GOP.

"The blame for the disgraceful Republican defeat on election day should be placed squarely where it belongs—on the lap of President Dwight Eisenhower," Kelland wrote.

★ ★ ★

He said neither of Eisenhower's two presidential victories was a victory for the Republican Party. He termed each as "a curious phenomenon resulting from an unreasoning hallucination that he possessed qualities of leadership which would lift us out of the slough of socialism and statism into which we had been plunged by Roosevelt and Truman."

★ ★ ★

"As a matter of tragic fact," Kelland said, "Dwight Eisenhower was a facade with no solid structure behind it. Like a stage set on a motion picture lot he presented an attractive and impressive picture; but you opened any door in the scenery and found yourself in a vacant lot.

"The public, for a time, was in the grip of hysterical infatuation for an idealized personage who never existed, save in its hopeful imagination."

★ ★ ★

Kelland characterized Eisenhower as a military man who, after six years in office, still does not know whether he is a Republican or Democrat.

He charged that under the regime of former White House assistant "cold, austere, self-righteous" Sherman Adams, the Republican Party all but ceased to exist. He accused Eisenhower of delegating his theoretical political thinking to "his devious, dangerous, left wing brother Milton and others of that subversive ilk."

★ ★ ★

Kelland said Eisenhower had made incredibly stupid appointments, chief of which was that of Earl Warren as Chief Justice of the United States.

★ ★ ★

"He placed in the highest judicial position in the world a man who did not know the difference between a law book and the Farmers' Almanac," Kelland said.

All that can save the Republican Party now, Kelland said, is the elimination of Eisenhowerism.

Pope John Elevates 23 to Cardinal Posts

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today formally elevated the archbishops of Philadelphia and Boston and 21 other Roman Catholic prelates to the rank of cardinal.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-three of the 51 other princes of the church, meeting in secret consistory at the Vatican, gave their silent assent to the Pope's action, confirimng the choices he had announced Nov. 17.

★ ★ ★

The pontiff, himself crowned supreme ruler of the church only last month, increased the membership of the Sacred College to 74 and gave the world's half-billion members of the church their broadest representation ever in the high senate body.

★ ★ ★

Elevation of the new cardinals broke the limit of 70 set for the college by Pope Sixtus V in 1586.

Family Brings Hobby—Caves—Into Basement

CLOSTER, N. J. (AP)—It's taken a lot of digging but the Russell Gurnees have managed to bring their hobby right into their basement. Ther hobby—exploring caves.

For 18 months the Gurnees have been digging away in the basement to build their own cave. They've furninshed it with casts of rock formations taken during exploring jaunts throughout North America.

London Tower Guards Called Beefeaters

LONDON — No prisoners are locked in the Tower of London now, but the Resident Governor estimates that some 400 soldiers, warders and officials live inside the Tower with their families.

The most colorful men on the staff are the yeomen warders or Beefeaters, those jovial old gentlemen-guides in red-breasted tunics and black band-box hats.

Recruited in 1485, the warders first served Henry VII as his personal bodyguard. They earned their "Beefeater" title in 1669, when the Grand Duke of Tuscany wrote: "They are great eaters of beef . . . They might be called beefeaters . . ."

Men Around Khrushchev Are Practically Faceless

(Who are the men around Khrushchev? What are they like? Which one will eventually step into his shoes? Roy Essoyan, who covered the Kremlin beat for The Associated Press for three years until recently, hazards a guess.)

By ROY ESSOYAN

The men around Nikita Khrushchev, the crown princes of Russia today, are practically faceless.

They are able, hard-working and dedicated, but in the Soviet Union individuality is suspect and today only Khrushchev can afford a personality.

* * *

Khrushchev, however, is not immortal and history has a way of repeating itself in Russia.

Barring a coup, Khrushchev's passing will be followed by another scramble for power. This probably will be settled by another temporary truce, in the form of a so-called "collective leadership," while one of the unknowns now around Khrushchev gathers enough character and strength to shoulder his way to the fore.

This was the pattern after Stalin's death and there is no reason to believe it will be much different after Khrushchev's.

* * *

For it is not Stalin's personality or Khrushchev's personality that have dictated the pattern of Soviet history, but the nature of the Soviet Communist system itself.

The struggle for power after Stalin's death took more than four years to settle. It was still nip and tuck before the June and October Kremlin shakeups last year, when Malenkov, Molotov, Kaganovich and Marshal Zhukov were sent off to the present-day equivalent of Siberia.

Their removal apparently left no one with sufficient stature and following to threaten Khrushchev directly. But one can never tell. So much in Russia is under the surface.

Mikhail Suslov, the dour, ascetic "Stalinist" in the Kremlin, is still a potential threat. He is relatively isolated and would have been dropped by now, but his ideas have powerful support in Communist China's Mao Tse-tung, who may eventually out-Stalin Stalin.

* * *

The only other man of stature left in the Kremlin is Anastase Mikoyan, the Soviets' trade wizard.

He is able, agile and too smart to seem over-ambitious.

Mikoyan is the only Kremlin leader, besides Khrushchev, who shows occasional flashes of personality in public.

At parties and receptions he often tries to front-stage Khrushchev. He turned up for one affair in a white dinner jacket, a daring break with proletarian tradition. And he often heckles Khrushchev at diplomatic functions.

But it's all in fun and, to all appearances, they're buddies.

Wool Jersey for Men

Wool jersey is the newest fashion fabric for men this winter. So when wondering what to put under the tree, keep this in mind. It will appear in sports shirts, sweaters, sports jackets and coats. It is a good gift for travelers, too, because it resists creases and wrinkles.

Auto spark plugs operate in temperatures up to 1,500 degrees.

Colored Dough Keeps Children Busy for Hours

A gift item to keep little hands busy and out of mischief may be a new type of modeling mixture.

It's a dough-like mixture which can be worked and twisted into many odd shapes.

But unlike the dough the baker uses, it will not stain furniture, rugs or clothing if a bit of the compound falls from the fingers of small fry.

And it won't stain hands. The dough also stays soft in its air-tight container when not in use.

Also fascinating to young artists is that it comes in a variety of colors. These can be blended together like paints to produce other colors. Blue and yellow will make green, red and yellow will make orange, and so on.

Domestic Expert Goes All Out for Adaptability

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Dr. James Peterson, University of Southern California domestic expert and author who has been married 23 years, says adaptability is the secret.

As an illustration, he said an engraved wedding ring his wife ordered for him as a surprise was too large for his ring finger. Rather than have it cut down and destroy the sentimental engraving on the inside of the ring, he always has worn it on his second finger.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Bird Resembled Pterodactyl

Ancient Flying Reptile Legend Discredited

LONDON (UPI)—Since the turn of the century when game hunters penetrated the remote areas of Rhodesia there has been a legend among the natives that a bird resembling the prehistoric pterodactyl still lived in the isolated northern marshes.

Reports reaching London from the Kariba District of Rhodes where the Zambesi Valley is being flooded for a hydroelectric project made clear today that there was some reason for the legend—even though it has finally been disproved.

The "pterodactyl" of the natives has been identified with reasonable certainty as the rare whale-headed stork which has just been seen for the first time in the Zambesi Valley some 400 miles south of its usual habitat.

Ornithologists believe it was disturbed by the greatest change in African terrain ever accomplished by man. Its appearance in the open dramatizes how natives could have mistaken it for a flying reptile believed extinct at least 70 million years.

The bird, rarely if ever seen in its native haunts, is more than four feet tall with a large beak. In flight, especially near twilight, it gives an omnious impression of the bat-winged flying pterodactyl which added its own sharp-toothed terror to the age of reptiles.

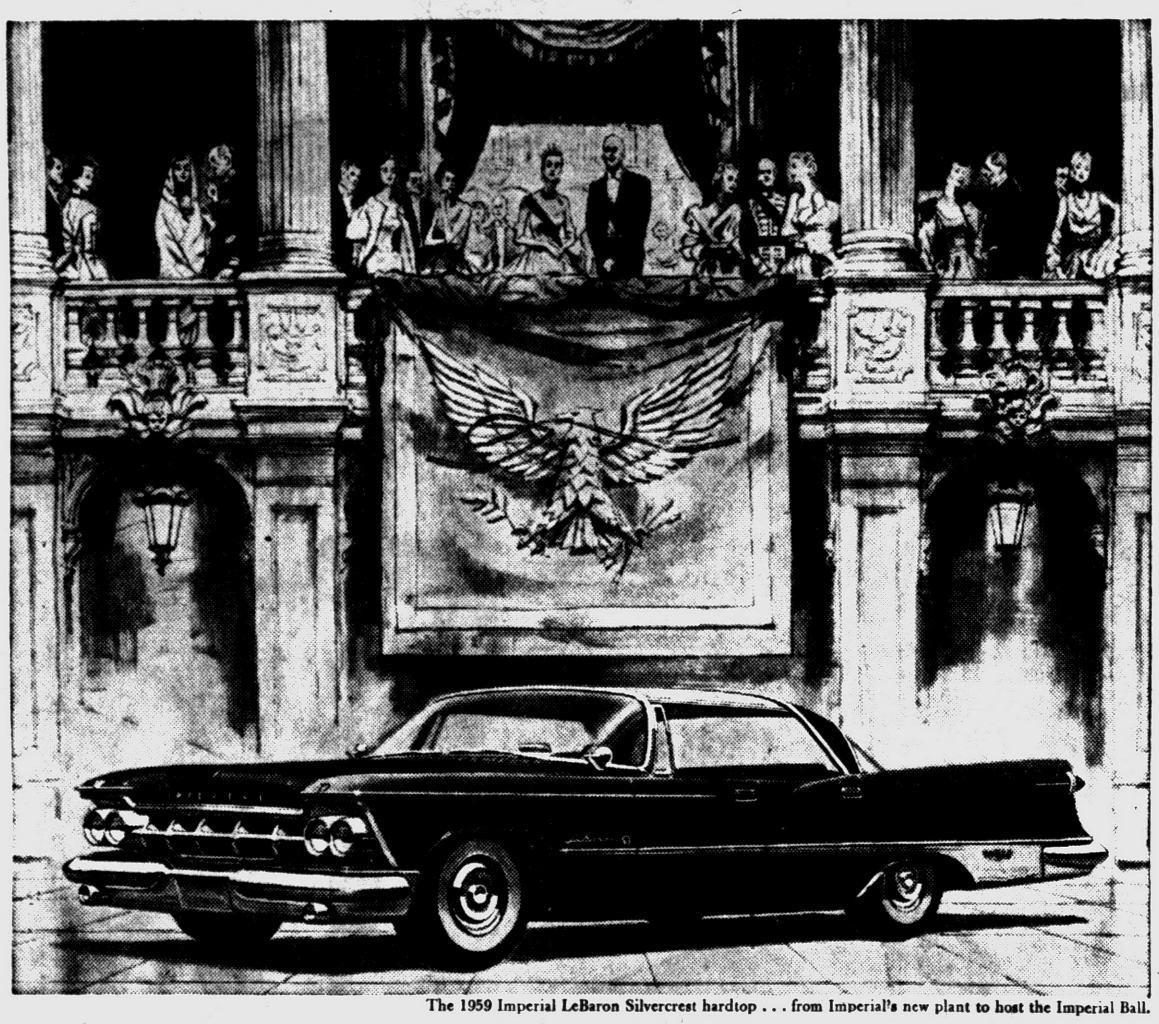

The pterodactyl story, repeated from hunter to hunter for years, gained wider currency in 1923 when natives told author-traveler Frank Melland of a flying apparition they called "kongmato" and which they said lived in the Kiundu swamps in the northwestern corner of Northern Rhodesia.

New England Weather Not Ground for Divorce

BOSTON (AP) — A Boston judge turned a cold ear to the contention of a Texas bride that New England weather was justification for leaving her husband.

Carl G. Irving, who married his wife while in the Air Force at New Braunfels, Tex., said she left him here because "she said she could not stand the weather." Probate Court Judge John V. Mahoney, ruled that New England weather was no grounds for leaving a spouse. He gave Irving a divorce.

Hundreds Hear Massed Choirs in Christmas Vocal Concert

By MARY BUCK

For the hundreds of Pontiac citizens who attended the annual Community Christmas Concert at Pontiac Central High School Sunday afternoon, the holiday season was joyfully celebrated as the combined Northern and Central High School Vocal Departments, Pontiac Women's Chorus, and MacDowell Male Chorus took part in singing traditional and modern Christmas songs.

A background of two stained glass windows, provided by Pontiac Northern art department, framed by golden angels and candles, transformed the gymnasium into an inspiring setting. Judy Hinkley played familiar carols on the organ as a prelude.

900 TAKE PART

The 900 singers entered the gymnasium as a procession of carolers.

George H. Putnam, supervisor of junior and senior high school vocal music, directed the students in the opening number, "While Shepherds Watched," by Jungst. The Song Spinners of Pontiac Northern provided an antiphonal effect as they echoed the massed chorus "backstage" with precision.

★ ★ ★

The combined Girls Glee Clubs, directed by A. Michael Dempsey of Northern and accompanied by Carol Wargelin, performed "Susani" by Gordon and "Fum, Fum, Fum" by Tolmage.

Mr. Dempsey then conducted the combined Boys Glee Clubs in his own arrangement of "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" which featured an unusual staccato style, and "A Babe So Tender" by Manton—a lullaby with full harmony sung with fine enunciation and pitch. Nancy McKown was accompanist.

The Pontiac Women's Chorus under the direction of George Scott sang three selections. "Sleep Holy Babe" by Snow and "Coventry Carol," arranged by Scott, were lullabies done with pianissimos, while "Hodie Christus Natus Est" by Sweelinck demonstrated the chorus' ability to handle scale passages and full voice production. Mrs. Dorothy McKibben was accompanist.

54 IN NORTHERN CHOIR

Melvin Larimer directed the Pontiac Northern Choir of 54 voices in two modern numbers —"The Three Kings" by Willan and "Masters in this Hall" by Shaw-Parker.

The Senior Girls Ensemble sang "Silver Bells" and "To Shepherds Fast Asleep" by Davis was sung without direction. Mrs. Doreen Voltmann of Northern is the director, and accompanist was Santhy Annas.

★ ★ ★

The audience took part in the program when carols were sung under the direction of Leonard Griffin, vocal instructor at Eastern Junior High, accompanied by Mr. Dempsey on the organ.

The MacDowell Male Chorus, conducted by Melvin Larimer, sang "Lo, How a Rose" by Praetorius and "Ave Maria" by Arcadelt. Adam's "O Holy Night" was given a strong, rhythmic interpretation, and the masterful accompaniment was played by Jerry Libby, vocal instructor at Washington Junior High School. The final number, "Beautiful Savior" by Christiansen, featured Kenneth Young in a legato solo with the chorus humming or singing.

PUTNAM CONDUCTOR

Mr. Putnam next conducted the 97-voice Pontiac Central Choir in three numbers with Deanna and Gary Relyea providing accompaniment. "Hodie Christus Natus Est" by Willan and "The Carol of the Drum" were sung a capella. The final section of Ringwald's "Song of Christmas" featured Tom Cate as narrator.

For the concluding group, the combined choruses and former members of the Vocal Department sang the Bach Chorales "Beside Thy Cradle" and "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light," directed by Mr. Larimer. The "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Messiah" by Handel, conducted by Mr. Putnam and accompanied by both organ and piano, climaxed this musical tribute to Christmas.

Woman May Pay Check

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: When my wife and I take a woman friend of ours for a drive in our car, she often invites us to stop on the way home for something to eat. She picks up the check and pays it. My wife thinks that I should pay the check even though our friend suggested that we stop, and thinks that it makes me appear very cheap not to do so.

"I contend that since she invited us to have something to eat, it is not wrong to allow her to pay the check and furthermore that my paying it would only hurt her feelings. What is your opinion on this?"

Answer: A generation ago it would have been unthinkable for a man to allow a woman to pay a restaurant check in his presence. But today so many businesswomen entertaining clients pay the checks as a matter of course that nobody seeing one do this thinks anything about it. If your friend wishes to invite your wife and you to have somethng to eat, as her guests, you are right in letting her have her way.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is proper to have a bridal shower for someone who is being married for the second time? I am anxious to have this information."

Answer: Usually showers are not given for a second bride. However, exceptional situations do alter cases and if her friends have a special reason for giving her a shower, and also if she had none before, it would be quite all right.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please advise the correct seating in a theater when a couple have a young lady guest with them? Heretofore, we have allowed our guest to precede us to her seat, then I followed, then my husband. I have been told that either my husband or our guest should be seated in the center. What is correct in this situation?"

Answer: It is best to seat your guest between you and your husband.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was the maid of honor in a friend's wedding last week. She paid for my dress. I would like to know if this dress is mine to keep or, since she paid for it, do I return it to her? We are about the same size and she could very easily wear it."

Answer: Most correctly you should have paid for the dress yourself, but as the bride paid for it, I think you should ask her if she wants it, or does she wish you to keep it as a present?

Don't Put Foot in It, Man— Accept Mother-in-Law's Socks

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I have a mother-in-law who loves to knit. The trouble is she can't knit very well, but she knits anyway. She made me a pair of socks last Christmas and my wife insisted that I wear them to show my appreciation. I wore them and I also wore some blisters on my heels.

ABBY

"The socks don't fit and they are full of little knots that feel like boulders under your toes. She is knitting me some more socks for Christmas. I hate to see her waste the yarn and think my wife should tell her to stop. The wife says she doesn't want to hurt her feelings. Any suggestions?"

BLISTERED

DEAR BLISTERED: Let your mother-in-law knit the socks. Accept the gift with a smile . . . but don't put your foot in it.

"DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl with a terrible problem. I get these sharp pains in my left side, but I am afraid if I tell my mother she will take me to a doctor and he might operate on me for appendix. I knew a girl about my age who had that happen to her and when she came out of the hospital all the girls at our school said she was in there to have a baby. I don't want that to happen to me, Abby. Please tell me what to do."

ACHING SIDE

DEAR ACHING: TELL YOUR MOTHER AT ONCE! If you have to have your appendix removed, and the girls start that rumor—you can always show them the scar.

DEAR L. A. M.: A gentleman removes his hat when there are lady passengers in the elevator. He would no more remove his hat for the "lady" who operates the elevator than he would stand for a waitress who comes to his table.

Not because he didn't love them, but because he was thoughtless, like so many people are. We have been married 12½ years and I've written a letter to his parents every week because I love them, too.

"We recently lost Mom. She was the last to go, so my job is through. I can truthfully say that my reward for writing through the years was the satisfaction of knowing that I added a little happiness to their lives, and also knowing I was a . . .

Clear Skin Is Reward for Wise Choice of Foods

By RUTH WEST

Are you persecuted by frequent outbursts of pimples, blackheads, skin eruptions?

The medical name for it is acne vulgaris. Nine out of ten adults have had it at some time or other in their lives.

It is important to distinguish between its cause and its symptoms. Its cause: a glandular imbalance, often related to the physical process of growing up. So far there's no known cure for this glandular imbalance—except growing up.

BE WARY

If anyone suggests hormones, be skeptical. Dr. Harold Schwartz, says of hormone therapy for adolescent skin: "It would be like using an elephant gun to kill a fly."

However, the pimples, blackheads, and skin eruptions are not the cause of acne, but the symptoms. And a lot can be done about clearing up the symptoms.

* * *

The most desirable first step is to see a doctor. But even after that, success or failure depends on you.

Clearing your skin depends on two things: what you do or don't put in your mouth; what you do or don't put on your face.

* * *

The third factor: you can get yourself into quite a state between your hunger for things you think you shouldn't eat, such as chocolate, and the fear of what it will do to your face. Often being in a state aggravates your disturbed skin far more than the chocolate would. The "in your mouth" villains are fat and iodine.

As for iodine, you can easily by-pass this, largely by avoiding shell-fish (lobster, crab, shrimps, clams, oysters, etc.). Also, watch out for iodine in bromides and medicines.

AVOID FATS

Once you know that it's not the chocolate but the fat in the chocolate that is the villain, you can have your chocolate and keep your clear skin and your figure too. In drinks, in recipes, use cocoa. Cocoa is virtually defatted chocolate.

The amount of fat in chocolate lifesavers could be put in a needle's eye. Also, you'll find lots of almost fatless chocolate candies in health-food stores and in the dietetic section of big supermarkets or department stores.

Chocolate ice-milk (which could be called ice cream for all the difference there is in the taste and texture) is practically fatless.

* * *

You can eat angel cake and sponge cake (no fat in these cakes), with as thick a frosting of Choc-Low as you like.

You can have whipped-cream topping made of evaporated skim milk to your heart's content.

You see? Once you know who the villain is, all it takes is ingenuity to lick that sadistically long list of forbidden foods itemized for you by scare articles in magazines—and also, sometimes by over-cautious doctors.

You'll even find carbonated drink on some lists. Also "all sweets." However, Dr. Schwartz says he knows of no reason why fatless sweets (boiled frostings, for instance, as against the butter-cream variety) should stir up the oil glands. Or why carbonated drinks should do it either.

USE YOUR HEAD

But be your own detective; if you notice that some food seems to make your skin worse, omit it.

* * *

It's good to know that foods rich in vitamins A and C can do a good deal to "tranquilize" your skin against upsets, as well as fill you up without calories.

* * *

Yes, there are such things as special skin-health foods. Nibble at them while you're studying: crunchy raw carrots, an apple, quarters of a crisp green pepper, celery.

SKIN HEALTH DO'S

1. Do clean your face at least twice a day.
2. Do shampoo often.
3. Do use the kind of flesh-colored cover cream or lotion that is specifically indicated for disturbed skin.
4. Do stock up on the two skin-clearing vitamins, A and C, via green peppers and carrots, for instance.

* * *

5. Do use a good cleansing formula and "cover cream." Try different ones till you find one that's compatible with your skin.
6. Do stay away from superfatted soap or any oily cream.
7. Do refrain from picking or squeezing your skin.
8. Do avoid touching your face with anything that isn't scrupulously clean—including your hands.
9. Do be patient—and stick with the routines. Get lots of sleep, drink plenty of water, and exercise.

In a survey made among men students in John Marshall College, 99 per cent rated an attractive body as more important than a pretty face; 93 per cent rated personality and sincerity over beauty.

Fad Diets Damage Health

One of the most irresistible and potentially dangerous health heresies of our time is the doctrine that you can lose weight effortlessly, and with lasting results, by means of a no-hunger, crash reducing program.

The heresy, according to a national magazine, is promoted by the diet faddists and the no-diet wonder-drug sharks.

Another danger of the fad diets is that, while you lose weight on them, you also gain it right back when you revert to your former eating habits.

SANE WAY

The only sane way to reduce or lose weight is to eat an absolutely balanced diet, getting all the foods you need, BUT COUNT CALORIES. This is a necessity from which there is no escape.

Overweight is the result of an acquired habit of eating more food than the body needs for energy, more than it needs to maintain its weight. If you overfeed your body, the tiny appetite regulator at the base of the brain will become conditioned to expect more than a normal amount of food.

Whatever method you use, a normal weight level achieved through proper eating habits is well worth striving for.

The World Won't Hesitate to Correct Him

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

In a prosperous suburb's high school an English teacher was discussing Shakespeare's play "Macbeth" with her class.

She pointed out the contrast between the gentle, unknowing mood in which Macbeth's victims entered his castle and the audience's suspicion of their doom.

She was about to ask her students for other examples of such dramatic contrast when she noticed a girl talking and giggling in the rear of the room.

She said, "Attention, please. You'll be getting questions on this play in the test." But the talking and giggling went on. So she spoke directly to the girl saying, "Janet, you heard me ask for attention. Now give it to me and stop talking."

At the period's end, the girl walked up to her desk and with a violence that shocked the teacher said, "You wait till my mother sees the principal. She'll have you fired.

"You had no right to bawl me out in front of the other kids. My mother says psychologists say it upsets a child's security. Just wait till I tell her how you upset my security."

Believe it or not, the principal warned the teacher against correcting one student before other ones.

There's only one thing to do if we're going to believe that we upset a child's security by correcting him before other children—tie him up in a cellophane bag and keep him in the refrigerator.

But if he's going to live and mingle with his kind, we're going to have to correct him in their presence sooner or later.

So if psychologists have given you the impression that such correction threatens his security, you better start thinking for yourself.

Otherwise, any correction of your child before others will become an overanxious, self-accusing ordeal for you.

★ ★ ★

None of us wants to wreck Johnny's security. If we think we will by saying "Stop playing ball in the kitchen" before his friends, we'll infuse this necessary correction with an uncertainty that suggests we're committing a crime.

★ ★ ★

Instead of accepting this public rebuke as easily as it should be given, he'll regard us as the brute we think we are. And like the poor little high school girl, have himself quite a time when he enters the big, correcting world.

JUDITH F. KLINE

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kline of Lenox avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Frances, to Norman Eugene Darnell of Mitchell, Ind. He is the son of Mrs. Samuel Sturgeon of Walton boulevard and Russell Darnell of Mitchell, Ind. A May 29 wedding is planned.

Designer Stresses Kerchief

Long a stanch believer in the need for equal attention to the "little things" in fashion, a famous designer has devoted a niche in her design studios in Paris to a costume accessory that has long been neglected.

★ ★ ★

A highly styled collection of men's and women's handkerchiefs designed in the tradition of this world-famous fashion name is available for the first time this season, in distinctive patterns and solids of imported embroideries from Switzerland, linen and cotton hand embroideries from Hong Kong, imports from Ireland, and the finest Pimas from Egypt.

★ ★ ★

Beautiful hand-embroideries and appliques on both linen and cocktail-size lustrous cotton are featured in the women's line. A touch of color is provided by scalloped prints and bright Swiss embroideries on linen and cotton. Hand-embroidered initials on hand rolled cotton cords, colored cotton cords, colored woven borders, and smart new patterns headline the men's collection.

Community Club Makes Plans for Coming Year

Projects and plans for public improvements for the coming year were considered when the board of directors of Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club met Thursday evening at the East Yale avenue home of Mrs. George W. Gray, president.

Resignation of William Simmons, director, was accepted. Lester Hendley and Mrs. Merle Parent were elected to fill vacancies on the board.

A cooperative dinner and meeting will be held at 6 p. m. Jan. 22 at Hawthorne School. Mrs. Earl Oltesvig is general chairman. Assisting her will be Lester Stanley, Mrs. Gordon Allison, Mrs. Norman Bolton and Mrs. Cordie Hereim.

Serene Manner Is a Real Key to Loveliness

Serenity plays an important part in beauty. The girl who is overtalkative, the woman who is shrill and strident both destroy the picture of themselves as attractive human beings.

★ ★ ★

By being insistent and demanding of response from others, they can cancel out all the physical gifts they may have.

★ ★ ★

And equally, a plain woman can create the illusion of beauty through a tranquil poise and grace.

BEAUTY GOAL

By Rowena Wilson

Many of the glamour girls whose loveliness you envy are beauties because of their cleverness in coping with this or that defect. Nature tempers every extravagant gift with some defect or other, so that there is no such thing as a flawless beauty. Few women today sit idle and bemoan a lack of perfection. They grit their teeth, push up their sleeves and go to work.

Your beauty goal can best be assured with regular beauty appointments. Why not take time for it as your appearance depends largely upon it. Make an appointment now at Rowena's Beauty Salon, 4831 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains, OR 3-3451. 14 S. Main, Clarkston, MA 5-1000. 1216 Baldwin, Pontiac. FE 5-3735.

CEIL CHAPMAN

Bit by bit, shape is creeping back into the silhouette, and there is no designer with greater knowledge of shape than Ceil Chapman, who likes women to look like women. This simple, almost classic dress is seamed throughout the bodice to achieve pleasant contours.

The cuffed hip pockets extend slightly around to the back as do the side seams of the skirt, a treatment that has a terrifically slenderizing effect. To make it even more feminine, she adds sparkling, crisp touches of white.

Choose sheer wool, crepe or faille and trim it with linen, pique, organdy or satin. From this size chart select the one size best for you.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½

Size 12 requires 3 yards of 39 inch material for dress and ⅜ yard of 39 inch material for contrast. To order Pattern No. 1195, state size, send $1.00.

For Cecil Chapman label, send 25 cents.

For new 96 page Pattern Book No. 15, send $1. Address SPADEA, Box 535, G.P.O., Dept. P-6, New York 1, N.Y. If paid by check, bank requires 4 cents handling charge.

Give Your Wardrobe a Pick Up

NEW YORK (NEA)—A costume blouse is one way to perk up your wardrobe without spending a fortune. For there are times when the budget will not stretch to cover a new dress, however much it's coveted.

★ ★ ★

In keeping with the new softer look of dresses and suits, blouses offer large collars, lace embroidery, fuller sleeves and beautiful bow trim.

The new blouses are cut from satin, taffeta, crepe, chiffon, jersey and matelasse. Colors are warm and include the vivid blues and greens as well as orange and russet.

★ ★ ★

Since the intent of these costume blouses is to create a new look in company with skirts already in your wardrobe, they are opulent and glittering. The skirt with which they're worn should be simple, straight and devoid of all trim.

Common Interests Enrich Marriage

RUTH MILLETT

A lot of the incompatibility between husbands and wives is nothing more than pure laziness on both their parts.

She is too lazy to learn to do the things he likes to do and he is too lazy to make the effort to share her interests.

For five years Mr. Brown grumbled because Mrs. Brown wouldn't learn to play bridge. And for five years Mrs. Brown tried to persuade Mr. Brown how to dance—without success.

Mrs. Brown claimed she hated bridge and Mr. Brown said he not only didn't know how to dance he didn't intend to learn.

Then the Browns finally made a deal. If Mrs. Brown would take bridge lessons Mr. Brown would take a course of dancing lessons.

It has worked out fine. Mr. B. is proud of the way he can rhumba and Mrs. B. is often the one who says, "If you had led a spade we could have set the hand."

Other married couples who find they have few interests in common could make the same kind of deal the Browns made.

In doing so, they would not only become more compatible—but each would add a little variety to his own life by taking on a new interest or learning a new skill.

When a woman learns to hunt or fish because her husband is a hunter or a fisherman, or when a man learns to enjoy good music because his wife does, each adds to his own pleasure as well as to his partner's.

So don't look down your nose at your husband's or your wife's latest enthusiasm. Give it a try.

It's just laziness that makes you say, "I'm not interested."

Don't Panic!

Here Are Late Shopping Hints

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I have said that it takes the emotional push of Christmas to make us spend money on others and go in the red. It is a wonderful spirit and a lot of fun, but I am glad that it happens only once a year or it really would be disastrous for most of us.

I think that people would love to give things to those they love or like all year long. I always am seeing something I want to give somebody, as no doubt you are, but we just can't swing it. Christmas acts as a great purge for our emotions as well as for our pocketbooks.

DON'T PANIC

The main thing now is not to panic but to keep calm — those of us who have waited this late to do our shopping. A list of those to whom you are going to give a present, the advertisements in your local newspaper and the telephone must now be your first line of defense.

Of course the list comes first. For some of the names on your list you already have an answer. For suggestions for the others study the newspaper ads carefully. These will help you with your holiday shopping as much as going to a super market does when planning meals.

For gift suggestions study the newspaper ads carefully.

The telephone is a great help. You will walk many more miles than necessary unless you take advantages of it now. The use of this aid also will save you many hours. So often you know what you want to give someone and dash to buy it only to find that the store is out of the article or may not have carried it in the first place.

After making your list and looking over the advertisements and telephoning when it seems the thing to do, comes the last step in my routine for survival in last minute shopping. Make a list of the stores to which you are going and then list under each name the gifts you are going to buy in that store. This saves a lot of backtracking.

It is a terrific help, too, if you will make out cards to be enclosed with your gifts and have the presents gift wrapped, then mailed or delivered by the stores.

Top of Layered Cookies Contains Black Walnuts

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

For the next ten days we're going to concentrate on recipes for Christmas goodies. Just remember to keep enough of the proper body-building foods in your family's diet during this festive season too.

★ ★ ★

Today's cook is Edith Hartz of Holly. She shares with us an easy-to-make bar cookie made with black walnuts. A business woman, Miss Hartz belongs to several business clubs as well as the Eastern Star. Her hobby is home decorating.

COCOANUT WALNUT BARS
By Edith Hartz

½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup confectioners sugar
1 cup flour, sifted
1½ cups brown sugar
½ cup cocoanut
1 cup black walnut meats
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
2 eggs

Mix butter or margarine, confectioner's sugar and 1 cup flour thoroughly. Spread on bottom of 8x8 pan. Mix together brown sugar, cocoanut, black walnuts, 2 tablespoons flour, baking powder and eggs. Spread this mixture on top of first mixture and bake at 375 degrees for about 30 minutes, or until brown. Cut into bars for serving.

First Methodist Women Hold Yule Program

Theme of the Christmas meeting of The Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church was "I Would Celebrate My Lord." The meeting was held Thursday at the Church.

Taking part in the program were Mrs. E. L. Buddenbaum, Mrs. Clayton Rule, Mrs. Norman Legge and Mrs. Benjamin Church. Special music was provided by the "Song Spinners," of Pontiac Central High School.

Mrs. LaVerne Cox and Mrs. Legge sang solos. Carol singing was led by Mrs. Lewis Butler and Mrs. Legge, accompanied by Mrs. Paul T. Hart.

Sculptors Use Soap on Hands While Working

Soap is an important "tool" to young sculptors.

★ ★ ★

Soaping the hands makes it easier to work with paper mache, clay and sawdust starch modeling.

★ ★ ★

It smooths, protects and makes for easier performance during such artwork projects—and speeds the clean-up afterwards.

Home economists suggest that you include sticks of parsnips, turnips and rutabagas on your relish tray.

And Rhinestones

Now You Can Buy Hose Having Separated Toes

These days, a woman can't be well-dressed unless she coordinates hose with clothes.

New stockings offer a wide range of color, patterns and styles. There are stockings designed just for daytime wear in suburbia—a cotton and nylon combinatioin in a smart jacquard pattern that defies snags.

★ ★ ★

And there are stockings designed just for that pair of evening sandals with thongs—the nylons feature separate toes.

★ ★ ★

Clock patterns, rhinestone and hand-painted designs, as well as lace, mesh and net are some of the other hosiery innovations.

★ ★ ★

Naturally, legs come into sharp focus with such pretty trappings. That's why it makes sense to take extra care with the grooming of legs and feet. Beauty aids come to the rescue this season . . . designed to glorify legs. One is an electric shaver for women.

★ ★ ★

Other beauty aids include frou-frou garters . . . worn just above the knee and meant to show discreetly when a lady alights from a taxi. You can also buy beauty spots, formerly worn on the face, to adorn the corner of your knee . . . or run in a row along the side of the instep. The spots, in the shape of tiny dots, stars, triangles and moon crescents, have a gummed surface on one side. When moistened, they adhere to the leg.

★ ★ ★

Leg makeup is back in full force, too, to remedy the pale leg look under sheer stockings. A mat surface makeup is stroked on under shiny-surfaced hosiery . . . shiny makeup is worn under mat-type stockings. Remember to have legs perfectly smooth before applying makeup . . . or the makeup may thicken in spots.

Start at Center

When icing a cake, first spread about a tablespoon of frosting in the center of your cake plate to hold the first layer in place while it is being iced. This will help to balance the remaining layers.

Family of Six Homeless After Flames Destroy Residence

MSUO Invites 'Neighbors' to Get Acquainted

Residents living within a two-mile radius of the campus of Michigan State University Oakland have been invited to a public meeting at 7:30 tomorrow evening at Meadow Brook Elementary School, off Crooks road in Avon Township.

★ ★ ★

Primary purpose of the session is to inform those attending of plans being formulated to create an "ideal university community," according to Robert B. Hotaling.

Hotaling is the urban planner for the Institute for Community Development at Michigan State University and will preside at the meeting.

He is currently acting as study director of the Avon Township-Pontiac Township Planning Committee. This newly-formed group is concerned essentially with such problems as zoning, sewage disposal and recreational facilities and wants help and support from residents as plans progress, Hotaling said.

Romeo School Gives Yule Music Concert

ROMEO—The annual Christmas concert by the music department of Romeo Community High School will be presented for the first time in the new high school building at 8 tomorrow evening.

The program will feature a variety of Christmas music by the mixed chorus and high school band.

Among the numbers to be sung by the chorus, under the direction of C. Lynn Brown, are "Say Where Is He Born," by Mendelssohn, and "Ring Out Wild Bells," by Gounod.

The band, led by E. C. Ojala, will play the theme from "The Nutcracker Suite," by Tschaikowsky, traditional yuletide airs, and a fantasy "The Toy Shop," with narration by Raymond Ritter.

The program will close with the band playing the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah." A free will offering will be taken during the concert for use by the music department.

Dryden School Musicians to Present an Operetta

DRYDEN — The Music Department of the Dryden Community Schools will present the operetta, "The Sockings Were Hung," at 8 p.m. Thursday in the high school gymnasium

The program will open with selections by the kindergarten class. First, second and third graders will take part in the operetta which is under the direction of Richard Krebs, school music instructor.

News Coverage Rearranged

In a move designed to bring better news coverage, The Pontiac Press has assigned a full-time reporter to cover communities in the northern and eastern portions of the county.

In the past, news from these sections had been gathered by correspondents working part-time.

★ ★ ★

Staff reporter Lee Winborn will handle news from the following areas:

Auburn Heights, Rochester, Lake Orion, Oxford, Ortonville, Romeo, Utica, Lapeer, Dryden, Leonard, Metamora, Imlay City, Seymour Lake, North Branch and surrounding townships.

Because she will be out in the various communities most of each day, messages for reporter Winborn and news of these areas will be received by The Press county desk, FE 2-8181.

All other county news areas will continue to be served through correspondents as in the past.

Buying Clothes for Youngsters Requires Skill

Millions of dollars will be spent this Christmas season in buying clothes for youngsters.

Some will make excellent gifts and will give the youngsters many months of wear but some will never be worn.

Why is this true?

★ ★ ★

"Despite the fact that clothes are probably the most useful gifts for children, many people don't know how to buy them," according to George J. Rosenberg, president of Wonderalls of Minneapolis, manufacturers of children's clothes.

★ ★ ★

"Most people—particularly those who don't have children — have more trouble buying clothes for small fry than any other gift," Rosenberg explained.

★ ★ ★

He suggests a child's garment should be selected for eye appeal as well as for its practicability.

"And it has to appeal, of course, to both the parents and the child who receives it," he said.

★ ★ ★

"In giving a gift you should try to overlook your own personal tastes or desires and make the selection from the recipient's point of view.

"Know the age and size of the child so the gift will fit immediately or at some early future date.

★ ★ ★

"One of the evils we have found in giving apparel for gifts for children is that the giver has a tendency to select something much too large that has to be put away. By the time the child is ready to wear it, the gift is out of style or is forgotten."

Elaborate clothing gifts for children usually are impractical.

Livestock Farmers Note: Swine Flu Danger Here

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan livestock farmers are reminded that the arrival of cold, wet weather signals the danger season for swine influenza.

★ ★ ★

Hogs should be protected at this time of year against a virus and bacteria which combine to cause swine flu.

Ralph Barner, veterinary pathologist at Michigan State University, says prompt action by a veterinarian usually is important to prevent swine flu from developing into the more serious disease of pneumonia.

Farmers can prevent costly flu outbreaks by providing hogs with dry, well-bedded quarters which are relatively warm and free of drafts.

Poultrymen whose profts are suffering due to cracked or broken eggs may do well to review their gathering practices. Most eggs are broken in the nest, says MSU extension poultryman D. D. Meyer.

To reduce this loss, there should be at least one nest for each five birds plus sufficient nesting material. The material should be at least two inches deep and should be replenished frequently.

The nest front must be at least four inches high if enough nesting material is to be maintained in it.

Eggs should be gathered frequently. Egg baskets filled too full also lead in the causes of broken eggs. Baskets which have lost their rigidity should be discarded.

In gathering eggs, care should be taken not to set the baskets on the floor in front of nests since the birds sometimes fly into the baskets thus causing heavy damage.

Chimney Causes Fire

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Fire Department was called out at 8:10 a.m. today to fight a fire at the Thad W. Perkins home, 402 W. Fourth St. Only slight damage was caused by an overheated chimney, firemen reported.

Gimme Aspirin—Fast!

ATLANTA (UPI) — Why geographers in Georgia talk to themselves: Monroe is the county seat of Walton County, but the county seat of Monroe county is Forsyth. Forsyth's county seat is Cumming. Then there's Jackson, the county seat of Butts county, but the county seat of Jackson county is Jefferson. Jefferson county has Louisville, for a county seat. The county seat of Bibb county is Macon. Macon County has Oglethrope for a county seat, and Oglethorpe county has Lexington for a county seat.

UTICA SCHOOL GOES UP — Looking like knights of old in their hooded jackets, workmen ignore the near-zero temperatures to erect steel framework for the new $1,000,000 Utica Junior High School. Pictured left to right, are Gilbert Calderon and Jerry O'Leary, both of Detroit, preparing to put in the skylights. The new building is located on 19-Mile road, between Clinton River road and Schoenherr Highway in Sterling Township. It will contain 20 academic classrooms, choral, band and double home economics room, metal and wood shops, large library, cafeteria, double gymnasium, and two rooms for arts and crafts.

Fred M. Atkinson, superintendent of schools, said he hopes the new building will be open for classes in December 1959.

Christmas Joys Made Complete by Live Music

Christmas of 50 years ago is coming back, complete with family caroling and music making that made it a truly festive occasion. great-grandmother's melodious piano and the wheezy squeze of the concertina were all but replaced with music from the vacuum-tube radio in the '30's and '40's.

But with more than 8 million school-age youngsters playing musical instruments and 20 million adults joining in, Christmas once again is made warmer by the family musicale.

About half of these youngsters playing music have made the piano their instrument.

Thus the youngster can make the carols a little fuller, a little richer with musical accompaniment.

Beginning band and orchestra students have an opportunity to spread holiday cheer as trombones, cornets and French horns combine for school brass choirs.

The same brass groups break down into quartets and trios for house-to-house instrumental caroling. String quartets can do the same.

For added fun Mother and Dad can dust off their instruments and join youngsters and friends in a rousing holiday tribute. An encouraging note is that the simplicity that makes carols beautiful also makes them easy to master.

Fire Breaks Out 7 Times in County Saturday Night

Seven fires broke out in Oakland County Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

Flames completely destroyed a frame home in Farmington Township at 22791 Albion St.

The township fire department answered the call at 6:47 p.m. and battled the blaze for nearly six hours to save a house next door which was badly scorched.

The home and contents of Thomas O'Hara were completely lost in the flames. The family of six was able to escape unharmed, and are now staying with neighbors in the area.

INVESTIGATE BLAZE

Cause of the blaze is still being investigated by the fire department, which estimates the damage to the O'Hara house alone at about $6,000.

It was one of the houses moved to Farmington Township recently from Detroit to make room for an expressway, Fire Chief Irving Yakes said.

Water had to be hauled from the fire hall, as none was available at the scene, about a half mile away.

★ ★ ★

The O'Hara's have four children, ranging in age from six months to four years.

The Graemar Dance Hall, 27450 11-Mile Rd., was destroyed by a fire which broke out at 7:25 p.m., just before crowds were due for the regular Saturday night dance. The hall was empty at the time.

Six engines were called out to battle the blaze—two from Franklin Village and one each from Farmington Township, Farmington City, West Bloomfield and Novi townships.

BLAME FURNACE

The fire was apparently caused by an overheated coal furnace, according to Farmington Township firemen. Damage was estimated at between $3,000 and $4,000 by Assistant Fire Chief Jack Curry of Farmington Township.

Water again had to be hauled from the Farmington Township fire hall, which is two miles away.

The dance hall, completely ruined, is owned by Ralph Graemer who lives next door.

A third fire in Farmington Township broke out in the attic of a home just purchased by Wallace Keys at 20854 Hugo St.

Keys and his wife were preparing the home for occupancy Saturday when the blaze started in the electric wiring at approximately 6:25 p.m., according to Chief Yakes.

Efficiency of the Box "O" Alliance Plan of Inter-department Assistance was proven Saturday night when fire destroyed a barn and garage at the Thomas A. Smith home, 6083 Blackwell St., in Troy at about 7 p.m. Saturday.

Both Troy fire companies fought the blaze, assisted by tank trucks from Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township.

Fire Chief Mike Ford of Troy said that firemen Donald McFadden and Hebert Barg were treated for cuts caused when either gasoline or paint cans exploded in the garage.

GOAT MISSING

Two automobiles and a number of chickens were lost in the fire. And the family goat is still missing. Several cows were taken from the blazing building.

Ford said the fire may have started from a stove used to heat feed for the animals. He declined to make an estimate of the damage.

Cause of the blaze is being investigated.

While the township and city departments were assisting Troy, the Cranbrook Department answered a call to Villa Franciska, 565 W. Long Lake Rd., a home for retired women.

Fire Chief Dominic Vettraino said a small pump used to force oil from an outside tank to the heater had burned out, filling the basement with smoke. There was no damage.

In Birmingham, firemen answered an alarm, turned in by an unidentified passerby, at the Robert Schrock Interior Decorating Studio, 526 N. Woodward Ave.

Fire was believed to have started from a cigarette dropped in the tacking room. Park Smith, Birmingham fire chief, said damage to the interior of the building is slight.

NO FIGURE YET

No over-all damage figure can be given, he said, until a more thorough examination is made of smoke damage to merchandise.

A Royal Oak fire which might have started in the basement of an old two-story residence at 1126 S. Washington St. caused an estimated damage of $6,000, Fire Chief Clyde Wray said today.

The fire started at around 10 p.m. Saturday. No one was in the house at the time. Firemen were called by an unidentified passerby from a box alarm on a nearby street.

★ ★ ★

The owner, unidentified by the fire department, is reported to be visiting relatives in Cadillac. Firemen are continuing their investigation.

Bike Accident Proves Fatal

Romeo Boy Was Hit by Car Friday on Way Home From Game

ROMEO—The 14-year-old Romeo boy who was knocked off his bicycle Friday night by a car died of his injuries in St. Joseph Hospital, Pontiac, last night.

★ ★ ★

James Eldred, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eldred, 70161 Mellen St., suffered serious head injuries in the mishap. He underwent surgery Saturday and was believed to be improving after the operation, Romeo Police said today.

The youth was riding his bicycle home from a basketball game at the high school when he was hit from behind by the car. The driver was Betty Lou Alward, 18, of 57970 Van Dyke, Washington.

She told Romeo police that she did not see the boy, who was riding on her side of West St. Clair street, until it was too late to avoid hitting him. Officers said that this section of road near the high school is not illuminated, and that James had no lights on his bicycle.

Betty Lou was to make a statement this morning in the Macomb County prosecutor's office, Mount Clemens.

Wife Shoots Cop-Husband Out on Date

CHICAGO (UPI) — A middle-aged housewife, angered over her policeman-husband's lack of attention, surprised him on a date with a divorcee yesterday and shot and killed him with his own service revolver.

Mrs. Helen Mulvey, 49, readily admitted the slaying and said she and her husband, Allan, 51, had been having domestic trouble ever since their reconciliation about six months ago after a brief separation.

The divorcee, Mrs. Jean Runyan, 49, helplessly witnessed the slaying in Mulvey's auto shortly after he had picked her up.

★ ★ ★

Mulvey was the brother of Sgt. Tom Mulvey, who heads the Morals section of the Chicago Police Department.

Police said Mrs. Mulvey, mother of three children, trailed her husband to a ballroom on Chicago's west side where she entered his car by use of a duplicate set of keys and hid behind the front set.

The woman, who nearly collapsed while confessing to Detective Charles Azzeralla, said her husband soon left the ballroom and drove a short distance where he picked up Mrs. Runyan.

★ ★ ★

Mulvey and Mrs. Runyan drove around for about 30 minutes, Mrs. Mulvey said, before she popped up in the rear of the car and confronted the pair.

"I just got tired of all that love talk between them," she told police.

Mothers Work All Summer on Decorations

Yule Wreath Idea Brings Profits

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

The idea of making Christmas wreaths "just a little bit better—just a little bit cheaper," has netted two young mothers in the area a substantial nest egg for their Christmas shopping.

★ ★ ★

Last spring when Mrs. James Snow of Walled Lake first talked to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Zalac of Union Lake about the prospect of creating unusual wreaths for Christmas, neither had any idea regarding the outcome.

First they obtained permission from the conservation department to pick up pine cones that had dropped from trees in the state park back of Mrs. Zalac's home. They gathered more than six bushels and dumped them in a big bin.

All last summer when the two mothers took their children to the beach, they would also carry a little basket laden with red and white enamel cans, along with the pine cones and paint brushes.

While the children played, the mothers painted thousands of cones, dabbing white on red, and red on white cones, in preparation for the wreath-making project.

HARD TO CONVINCE

"On a hot summer day it was hard to convince spectators that we were actually preparing for next Christmas," Mrs. Zalac said.

Then came the hard work—that of obtaining just the right greenery for the wreaths. As the holiday season approached, the two women bundled their four children into the car, and headed north.

At Gaylord, nursery men were cutting down Christmas trees in a large swamp, and with a little persuasion, the women were allowed to "glean" the fields after the trees had been hauled away.

★ ★ ★

They walked through waist-high snow to gather only balsam tips which were brought back and stacked outside in the frigid weather for preservation. (Grandma Snow watched the kiddies while the mothers worked.)

SELL 400 WREATHS

So far the women have made and sold more than 400 wreaths spiked with bright red berries, outdoor plastic ribbon and various sized hand painted cones. More than 150 orders still are waiting to be filled.

It is not unusual for a greenhouse owner to place a last minute order of 100 wreaths for delivery the next day. This means that the women start wiring the balsam to rings immediately.

It takes about 15 minutes to make and trim each wreath, and Mrs. Zalac said that to fill a recent order, the two women stood in one spot for an 8-hour stretch before completing the job.

RETAIL FOR $2

As to the price of the wreaths, Mrs. Zalac said that they sell for about $2 retail. Special double wreaths costing more are made for store windows and are decorated on both sides for display inside as well as outside.

★ ★ ★

Although the women each have worn out four pairs of gloves in handling the prickly branches, and an unknown number of paint brushes, they have established themselves as artistic specialists in a field that has "sure been fun as well as profitable," Mrs. Zalac concluded.

Pontiac Press Photo

NEW VENTURE — Two energetic young mothers who needed extra pin money for Christmas shopping have made more than 400 Christmas wreaths — and had fun doing it. Mrs. Joseph Zalac of Union Lake and Mrs. James Snow of Walled Lake are literally "wreathed in wreaths" as they complete a new order.

Proper Lighting Accents Holiday

Old-Fashioned Fixtures Detract From Beauty of Christmas Decorations

Throwing some light on the holiday scene often takes more than a glittering string of Christmas tree baubles.

Even the most tastefully decorated Christmas tree isn't enough to overcome feelings of gloom and depression created by old-fashioned lighting fixtures. These cast flat light and create large shadowy areas.

"Well-balanced lighting is particularly necessary in the dining room," American Home Lighting Institute points out.

"As the family gathering place for the big Christmas meal, the dining room needs good lighting to create a happy atmosphere for the occasion."

And, unlike a Christmas tree, which is short-lived, a new lighting fixture will retain some of the atmosphere throughout the entire year.

The secret of good dining room lighting is to use the right amount of light for the room size and to create accents either through downlight on the dining table, or through cornices or valances.

When selecting fixture styles, consider dining room furnishings and the type of entertaining you do most throughout the year.

Large formal gatherings, for example, call for the traditional crystal chandelier for needed light and adds its own charm and sparkle to the decor.

Reds Claim West Ignores Berlin Plan

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio charged the foreign ministers of the Western Big Three with ignoring the Soviet proposal to make Berlin a demilitarized free city.

The broadcast was the first brief Soviet comment on the foreign ministers' statement in Paris Sunday that their governments would not be forced out of West Berlin and would not do business with the East German regime.

The Soviet radio said the Western communique "bears witness to their unwillingness to allow any change in the abnormal situation in Berlin.

"In essence, it gives no reply to the Soviet proposals."

This was followed by a fresh promise in Pravda to defend Communist East Germany from aggression.

Bob Considine Says:

Hoffa Directs Battle From Florida Hotel

MIAMI BEACH — Little, rough, tough Jimmy Hoffa sat in the splendid lobby of the Eden Roc Hotel, riffling through telegrams, snapping orders to Teamsters Union aides who hovered nearby, and talking on the record.

"This headline is the bunk," the boss said, slapping at a front page which read, "U. S. Court Threatens to Throw Hoffa Out." His jaw set tightly.

"I'm sending five or six lawyers up to Washington tomorrow to meet Edward Bennet Williams, ask for a stay, take the case to appeal. Hey, Joe, take this wire up to Clancy and tell him to answer it." Joe sprang across the marble floor, seized the wire, and was off in a cloud of marble dust.

"Secretary Mitchell says he doesn't want me to unionize the federal, state and city employes," Jimmy went on. "That's his privilege. So we're going to organize them. What can I bring them that they haven't got now? Experienced leadership, for one thing, financial backing, support in their aspirations.

"They're the worst paid people in the country, considering their talent and the trust put in them. There are about ten million of them, we estimate, but only about a million have proper union representation. We're out to get the other nine million and show the already organized million we can do a better job for them. My truck drivers are making better money today than the heads of some governmental divisions.

* * *

"Why should an electrician working for the richest government in the world, the U. S. government, make less money than the union electrician working down the street for a little private firm? I'll tell you why: because federal and local governments have filled the poor guy with a lot of false promises of future security, patriotism, and all that. We'd give him all that, and something tangible. Hey, Dick, take that call for me. You know what to tell 'em."

We asked the most embattled and perhaps embittered union leader if he ever felt like chucking the whole job and settling down.

"Of course not," he barked, almost angrily. "This is my life's work. Nobody's going to drive me out of it. There's too much left undone. Take the white collar worker. Two or three years ago you couldn't talk union to him. Today he's beginning to see the light.

"We've got the biggest union of them all, one million six hundred thousand members, forty million dollars in the treasury, high pay, free hospitalization, strike benefits, good hours, a better pension plan than social security, we've got to spread that to millions who need it. Hey Pete, tell Chuck I'll be with him in ten minutes."

"How about your son — would you want him to go into union work?" we asked.

"No, I wouldn't," Hoffa said, replacing a strident air with one close to compassion. "No, I'd like to see my boy go into some business or profession where his work wouldn't be subjected to constant harassment by portions of the public who don't believe in what he's doing.

"If I had given as much time and devotion to, say, medicine or the law or what have you, I'd be a pretty successful guy today — and wouldn't be getting headlines like this." He hit the paper.

Eartha Kitt, the Negro singer, was brought up to meet Hoffa by the hotel publicity girl. "We just had lunch and were talking about you," the hotel girl said, "and it was all nice."

"It was not," Eartha said, quietly ablaze. "Why don't you do as much for teachers as you do for your truck drivers?"

* * *

"Trouble with most teachers is that they are simply jobholders," he said. "Nine to three o'clock people who just don't care. A good teacher should make more than a truck driver, I agree, but only a good teacher." He turned his attention to Jimmy Petrillo's musicians union:

"Petrillo himself makes more sense in five minutes than most guys do in five years, but his union is decadent, gutless. It won't picket, for fear of losing a later engagement. Its members are selfish. They hold down the promising youngsters. Gutless is the only word for them."

Hoffa and his aides — he has no bodyguards — spent the day cruising around Miami Beach's glittering beachfront. The union is buying property here as an investment. Why this area? "In five or six years Florida will be one of the major industrial states in the country," Hoffa said. "Hey, Buster, take this note to Joe. . ."

Finds Infant in Woods

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (UPI)—Peter Poulous, Lake County deputy sheriff, stopped his automobile on a lonely road northwest of here to check a tire, heard a baby cry, walked into a nearby woods and found a newborn baby girl wrapped in a cloth. Attendants at the hospital where he took her said the child was about two hours old and in good condition.

Fire Ant Campaign Called Unnecessary

NEW YORK (UPI)—The government is conducting a 25-year $100,000,000 program to eradicate the red ant from the south without first determining whether it is a real pest, the conservation foundation charged today.

* * *

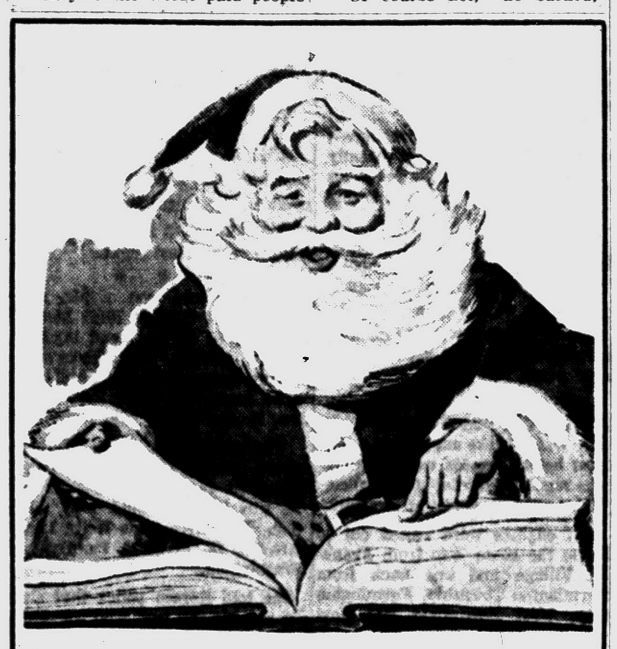

The foundation and the New York Zoological Society joined in sponsoring a 39-page preliminary report on "the program to eradicate the imported fire ant," by Dr. John L. George.

* * *

In his report, George said the government has proceeded with a mass insecticide spraying program to wipe out the fire ant without first determining whether the poison would harm agricultural animals and plants.

* * *

"Although it is commonly stated that the ant is a serious agricultural pest," the report said, "little concrete evidence is available of actual damage to crops and forests. It seems that the fire ant is more of a nuisance than a crop pest.

Roseville and Erin to Vote on Merger

DETROIT (AP) — Macomb County will get another large city if voters in Roseville and Erin Township approve a charter to merge the areas tomorrow.

The city would have a population of 45,000, making it the third largest in the county. The only cities of greater size would be Warren and St. Clair Shores.

City officials also will be elected. The city would keep the name of Roseville. The village would contribute more than two-thirds of the nine square miles of area and most of the population.

Less than 20 of the 100 islands which compose Bermuda are inhabited.

Famous Doctor Dies in Detroit

Dr. Alexander Blain, 73, Renowned for Hospital, Oakland Island Park

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Alexander William Blain, Detroit's renowned surgeon and humanitarian, is dead at the age of 73.

Dr. Blain, whose boyhood love for birds and beasts led him into a career that made him a benefactor to man, died yesterday in the hospital he founded and named for his father.

Death came to him at Alexander Blain Hospital, which Dr. Blain began as a clinic in 1911 and eventually expanded into a hospital. He named it for his father, Alexander Blain, who died in 1934 at the age of 92.

Fame came to Dr. Blain in two fields—medicine and as a naturalist. Biographers say the former was the direct result of his original affection for animals and birds.

As a youth, Blain studied medicine as a means of becoming a naturalist.

A success as a surgeon, he kept the faith in the other, too.

He helped to found the American College of Surgeons and the estate he leaves includes the wildlife refuge of his own which he created near Waterford in Oakland County.

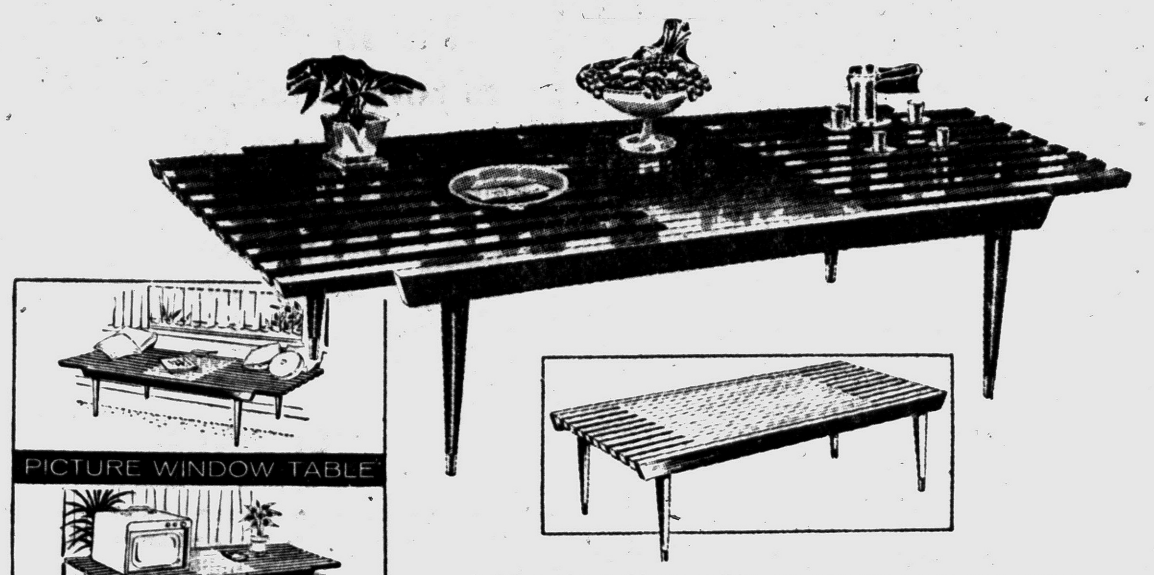

At one time and another the refuge, n Blain Island of Lotus Lake, has been a sanctuary for almost every bird and animal that can live in this climate, including even buffalo.

Michigan's Audubon Society owes its founding 50 years ago to Dr. Blain and others. He was a past president. He was a Mason and member of several clubs.

Survivors include the widow, Ruby; two sons, Dr. Alexander W. Blain III and Dr. Donald Gray Blain, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert E. L. Berry, all of Detroit. There are 10 grandchildren.

The Rev. Frank Fitt, retired, of Ann Arbor, will officiate at funeral services here Tuesday. Members of the Blain Hospital staff will be pallbearers.

FROM OUT OF THE PAST — An artist for one of the large greeting card companies uses figurines, carved by a European craftsman 200 years ago, for models as she creates a Nativity Scene for a religious Christmas greeting.

THE FIRST KNOWN CHRISTMAS CARD — This quaint greeting was designed in 1843 by John Calcott Horsley for Sir Henry Cole, director of the Victoria and Albert Museum in London.

'It's Shocking!'

Stormy Protest Greets First Christmas Card

Foot-sore and weary, a postman slogging through the snow of a white Christmas season to deliver his weighty portion of 2½ billion holiday greeting cards might ask himself: "Man, man, where did it all begin?"

With a penniless German immigrant named Louis Prang, perhaps, who found success in the printing business in 19th Century Boston?

Or was Sir Henry Cole, first director of the Victoria and Albert Museum in London, to blame?

Or was it the ancient Chinese?

Whatever the cause, the result is big business. In the United States 300 greeting card makers turn out five billion cards a year, half of them for the Christmas season. Retail sales total 520 million dollars a year.

This modern custom can be traced to the Chinese, certainly, for they celebrated the advent of the New Year with messages of good will.

★ ★ ★

The earliest known holiday greeting card is a crude woodcut printed about 1450 in the Rhine Valley. A New Year's card, it shows the Christ Child standing in the bow of an ancient galley manned by angels.

★ ★ ★

In 1843, Sir Henry Cole asked J. C. Horsley, a friend and artist at London's Royal Academy, to design a Christmas greeting card for him. That card is the world's first known Christmas card. It was the last Sir Henry ever sent.

The card showed a family toasting Christmas with glasses of wine and Sir Henry sent out a thousand of them. The greeting touched off a storm of protest among temperance crusaders of the day.

Louis Prang, penniless and an exile from Germany following the unsuccessful revolution of 1848, introduced the custom in America. He founded a printing business in the Boston suburb of Roxbury.

★ ★ ★

Prang printed his first Christmas card in 1874, perhaps at the prompting of his English friend, Charles Dickens. In 1875, he tried out the cards on the American public and within five years he was turning out five million cards a year.

Discussion of a tunnel under the English channel to connect England and France has been going on, with some interruptions, since 1867.

Calico Cat, Once Waif, Named All-America

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The second—at least—life of Babette is truly an amazing one.

Babette is a calico cat belonging to Mrs. Josephine Rippey of Albuquerque. She was rescued from possible execution at the Animal Shelter less than two years ago.

Since that time she's won major show honors for color and breeding at Las Vegas, Nev., Denver, and Albuquerque and just recently was named All-America cat by Cat Magazine.

A Vet Fears Dogs Are Going to the People

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—The late sportswriter Joe Palmer once wrote about a new breed of dog, part Labrador and part Cocker, which was to be registered with the American Kennel Club under the name "QuAvez Vous?" or, in English, "What the heck is this?"

Dr. Frank Bloom thinks in "QuAvez Vous?" terms a dozen times a day. He is consultant times a day. He is a consultant, veterinarian, an analyst of canine infirmities, and he thinks dogs are going to the people.

It ain't a good sign.

"People love their dogs, but they just do not understand them," he said today. "People want dogs to live like they do. If a woman is fat, she doesn't want her dog to be svelte. If a man has been told he needs exercise, he makes his dog exercise for him.

"There even are people who, when they drink martinis, give their dogs a frequent nip . . . the idea being if dog is man's best friend, he ought to be a buddy all the way."

The idea is ridiculous. If dog and man are all that close, there ought to be a little give on man's part. Why doesn't he chew a rubber bone occasionally?

Dr. Bloom says the number one rule in dog ownership is this: "Permit a dog to do what he is inclined to do."

A dog is not intelligent, in the sense that he has the ability to reason, according to Bloom. But he is smarter than man, in the sense that he knows instinctively when to rest, when to eat and when to play.

Unlike his master, a dog also knows when he is middle-aged.

At the canine age of six, he is midway through his life and, unless wheedled into it by a human, will stop playing the neighborhood buffoon.

A man of 50 may still feel it necessary to keep up the pretense and answer the call to "tennis, anyone?" But a dog of six has no false pride.

He may still give the postman a good going-over for kicks, but more and more of his day is likely to be spent making like a bearskin at the hearth.

WATCH THOSE DIETS

It is from this age on, according to Dr. Bloom, who is an expert on canine geriatrics, that dog-owners should pay especial attention to their pets' diets.

At least 25 per cent of all dogs are overweight; after middle-age, 80 per cent of all dogs have kidney diseases; and a great number of aging dogs have digestive ailments which can be treated only by the proper combinations of vitmins and minerals.

"A sensitive owner can tell when his dog is depressed, or repressed, or excessively sluggish," the Doc says. "When this is the case, he should take him at once to a veterinarian.

"Vets have special therapeutic diets for virtually all a dog's problems (many of them formulated by Bloom himself).

"There is obesodiet for the overweight; protodiet, or high-protein prescription, for the sluggish; gereodiet for the aging dog, and so on."

These can only be prescribed by a veterinarian.

CAN'T EXTEND LIFE

They cannot extend the life span of the elderly dog, but they will make his senility more comfortable. And that, in reality, is all a dog really cares about.

"Dog is so much luckier than man. He doesn't know he is going to die. He has no concept of the future. He lives only for the present.

"This is why, in 30,000 dogs I have treated, I have never discovered an ulcer," said Dr. Bloom . . . not even among the martini drinkers."

Butler to Speak at Williams' 6th Inaugural

LANSING (AP) — Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, will be the featured speaker at Gov. Williams' Jan. 1 inaugural for a sixth term.

The Democratic State Central Committee said Butler will leave his home in South Bend, Ind., on New Year's Day in time to witness the 11 a.m. ceremony on the capitol steps. He will speak at the inaugural luncheon at the Lansing Civic Center.

Williams and an all-Democratic lineup of state officials will hold receptions in their offices following the luncheon. An inaugural ball will be held that evening at the Civic Center.

Introducing a New Romantic Serial: 'The Green Empress'

He Looked Right for the Job...but His Calm Air Bothered Sir Claud

important missions, they do not go by air. The answer is that the mission may be important, but it is perhaps not urgent, and so they avail themselves of our service, which carries them in the utmost comfort and which also allows them a choice of route.

"It is this that separates us so widely from other firms which undertake to conduct travelers across Europe, and it is because we offer such specialized service that I hesitated before giving you this assignment. Our young men are specialists. In their hands, throughout the journey, rests the reputation of the firm. I am sure that you, with your attainments, will uphold our high standards."

Angus bowed. He had not up to now heard his knowledge of languages referred to as attainments.

Perhaps there was something else that he could do that for the moment had slipped his mind. Navigation? He could dock a battleship—or he had once been able to.

2 YEARS A LONG TIME

Perhaps if he tried today . . . Two years was a long time. Perhaps he'd been foolish to let himself drift out of Naval circles; perhaps if he'd steeled himself to go on seeing his friends, if he'd . . . if, in fact, he told himself grimly, if he'd taken the whole thing in a tougher spirit, perhaps he wouldn't be sitting here now listening to this long-winded old man telling him how to be a courier without calling himself one.

Depression settled on him, and he shook it off. The past was nobody's fault, and the future was in Canada and perhaps he'd grow to like it. If he wasn't to end up as an Admiral, he might end by becoming an oil magnate.

And if he had to leave England, if he had to face up to the fact that he could not see much more of his beloved Spain or France or Italy, perhaps he'd find compensations in Canada.

Perhaps. And in the meantime, believe it or not, old Sir Claud was still talking.

"and you will forgive me when I say that I hesitated only because we have never before used a young man whom we have not trained ourselves. But Mr. Sealing's accident created an emergency, and I am grateful to you for filling his place.

"At the same time, I must point out that without his assurance that you could act successfully in his stead, without his promise to brief you, without your own fluency in the required languages, we could not have brought ourselves to give you the appointment."

So the job was his. Good old Wax, thought Angus gratefully, to think of him and to recommend him . . . and not to put him off beforehand by telling him that the whole show looked like falling backwards under a sense of its own importance.

Sir Claud rose, and Angus rose with him and wondered if any cubits had been added to his stature. He had sat down a plain Scotsman and had risen a liaison officer.

While they awaited the young man into whose care Angus was to be consigned, Sir Claud touched warily upon a new theme.

'MAY BE OPENING'

"Mr. Sealing tells me that you are going to Canada."

"Yes, sir. I've got a job with an oil firm in Edmonton."

"I see. I'm sorry you had to leave the Navy. That was bad luck."

"Yes." Angus had nothing to add to the monosyllable. It was bad luck. Yes.

"If you prove yourself in this assignment . . . of course, if you are committed to the Canadian job . . . but you seem to be our type and there may possibly be an opening . . ."

Sir Claud's voice trailed into silence; he had conveyed what he wished to convey.

"Thank you, sir," said Angus formally.

* * *

Then he was walking across the expanse of beautiful carpet and passing through heavy oak doors in the wake of the young man from Mobility.

There were four departments through which he had to pass for final instructions, but so smooth were the workings of the firm, that he found himself, in less than an hour, standing in the late May sunshine outside the firm's premises in Hanover Square, a sheaf of papers and documents in a folder under his arm.

Twenty-four hours. He had twenty-four hours before joining the coach and leaving the country.

He spent two of them at the Nursing Home with his friend Wax Sealing.

"Thank you for putting in a word for me," he said.

'ONLY MENTIONED NAME'

"I didn't put in a word. I merely put in your name," Wax told him. "You didn't think old Claud would hire you before he'd looked you over personally, did you?"

"Did you tell him I'd been invalided out of the Navy?"

"I've just told you. I told him nothing, except your name and your age, twenty-eight. After that, he set his spies in motion. With the cargoes we carry, he felt he couldn't afford to take any chances. He'll have ferreted out your history from the moment you emerged from your mother's you-know-what. If he'd discovered anything discreditable, he wouldn't have interviewed you."

"He held back a bit at first. It was—"

"—your damned casual manner, I bet. You've got this unhurried, untroubled air and—"

"If you look untroubled, you reassure the customers, surely?"

* * *

"You probably made old Claud feel that you hadn't got the hang of the thing. He may look like a dried twig, but he's built up an amazing organization.

"They made him a Knight and before he's through they'll make him a Baron and he'll deserve it. In my opinion, which admittedly is a biased one, he's a pioneer. What's more, he gives absolute value for money."

"Doesn't any other Travel Company do the same?"

"Not in the same way. Other companies have stated routes, and you take 'em or leave 'em. What Sir Claud does is assemble groups of people who've got to get somewhere in not too great a hurry and see that they get there in superlative comfort.

"If they want to do a bit of sightseeing on the way, there's nothing to prevent them—but the sight-seeing's incidental. When they stop for the night, it isn't at hotels crammed with lesser travelers.

"Claud's bought up places all along the routes, and turned them into hotels for his own passengers. Some of them are in out-of-the-way little beauty spots and—"

SEASONED TRAVELERS

"What do the passengers do at the out-of-the-way little beauty spots?"

"They relax, mostly. Remember that the majority of them are seasoned travelers. They've done the round of churches and museums and monuments.

"Now they're merely driving to their destination as comfortably as they'd do in their own cars—only without the trouble of making the arrangements themselves. Naturally, Claud makes them pay plenty."

"Nobody told me the actual amount. What do they pay?"

Wax told him, and Angus clutched the side of the bed for support.

"B-but for that amount," he brought out, when he could speak, "they could—"

"—do the trip several times with some other company. Quite. But they don't, because they've discovered that we give them something rather special. Your job is to leave them strictly alone unless they ask you for anything.

"You do the rounds, of course, to see they're happy. And you travel on equal terms, that is, you lunch and dine with them and sleep in equal comfort. We're not couriers—remember?"

"But—"

"If I know Claud, he's given you Ferdy Brewer as driver. Ferdy's one of the soundest men they've got and he'll be able to help you if you need him."

"But—"

"What's worrying you?"

"The setup. It all looks too elaborate."

NOTHING TO CHANCE

"It is elaborate. Nothing's left to chance."

"What does Government-sponsored mean?"

"That was thrown in to impress you. There's a certain amount of truth in the claim, we do carry high-ups going on missions. For example, you've got Lord Lorrimer; he's going to take the Chair at that International what-ever-it-is in Lisbon." He paused. "Incidentally, isn't he the father of your Naval buddy?"

"Yes."

'I'd forgotten. Well, you'll have his daughter on board, too. I suppose you know her?"

Angus shook his head.

"No. I met her years ago, when she was about seventeen, but I don't think we've met since. Her brother—"

"—didn't subscribe to that silly scheme of uniting kid sister with best friend? He was dead right. I wish I'd been as firm with my own sister.

"She's a pretty enough girl, but every time she wants to make up a party, she makes a grab for my friends. It gives them a trapped feeling, and it makes things awkward all around."

"Well,"—Angus rose. "Thanks for the job."

"It's a good job," said Wax, "and it's better paid than most. It's interesting, and up to a point it's varied. But somehow . . . I don't see you in it permanently. You were too long in the Navy. You'd get cramps. You need something wider."

'Canada's wide enough, they tell me.'

WASTING LANGUAGES?

'But what about all your languages? The Navy can't be the only show for which you could interpret?'

'I tried jobs in this country. My God, how I tried . . . You know how much I wanted to stay in Europe. But when I went looking for jobs, I discovered that every third man or woman speaks nine languages, or a dozen, or fourteen—not counting the Hindu dialects.

"Linguists come out at three a penny." He smiled down at his friend. 'I daresay I can take a trip to Quebec now and then to brush up my French."

"You wouldn't," Wax asked him, "like to take out any of these lovely nurses on your last night?

"Well both take them out when I get back.

"WELL, so long, give my love to Ferdy. And take care of yourself, and remember our slogan.'

'I've never heard it."

"Neither have I," confessed Wax. 'But if we've got one, it's to the effect that however leisurely the trip, the coach always gets there on time. See to it."

"I will."

Angus went back to his rooms and extracted the papers and documents from the folder. The job, he concluded, wasn't as all-important as it was made out to be, but it was a job and he was glad to have it and he wanted to do it well.

On the following morning, he made his way to the firm's headquarters. Parked outside was a small coach painted a quiet shade of green. On its sides appeared, unobtrusively, the words Green Empress.

INTEREST STIRRED

His eyes on the vehicle, Angus felt for the first time a stir of interest in his assignment. She was the color of the sea and she had a ship's long, graceful lines.

His feeling of being a herdsman lessed and gave way to pleasure at the thought of boarding the Empress and seeing from the wide windows some of the views he knew and liked so well.

Whatever the kind or quality of the passengers, he would find pleasure, in between his spells of duty, in storing pictures of the passing scenes in his mind, to draw upon the hoard in years to come.

A stout, middle-aged man in darkgreen uniform stood beside the coach. His bearing was as formal as Sir Claud would have wished, but when Angus approached, he addressed him with friendly ease.

"You'll be Mr. Graham, sir?"

* * *

'Yes. You're—"

Brewer, sir. Ferdinand Brewer. Ferdy to all you young gentlemen. New to the job, aren't you, sir?"

"As' a matter of fact, I'm only filling in for Mr. Sealing."

'So I heard, sir. Been in the firm myself for close on eight years—ever since it was started, sir.' He stroked his graying mustache. 'I "ve taken these Empresses a'few thousand miles."

"Do you stick to the same route most of the time?"

"No, sir, they shift us 'round. If you want to be put right on any little point while we're on the way, sir, I'll be glad to help you."

TEN MORE MINUTES

"Thank you." He glanced at his watch. 'Ten more minutes. Do the passengers arrive punctually?"

'To the minute, as a rule, sir." He nodded towards the coach. 'Seen the inside, sir?"

'No.'

"Take a look," advised Ferdy. 'Neat jobs, they are. And to drive . . . " He drew a long breath of satisfaction. "'Just purr along, they do." He opened the door and waved a hand as large as a spade. "Take a look, sir.'

Angus stepped up and stood looking round him, and as he took in the details of the coach's interior, he seemed to feel Sir Claud beside him, glowing with pride—a pride that Angus, at that moment, felt to be justified.

* * *

There were ten seats, built on an armchair design. They were set singly, five on each side of the coach; they were upholstered in pale gray leather and embodied the latest ideas of elegance and comfort.

* * *

A lever released each chair— allowing it to swivel in whatever direction the occupant wished to face. The space between the seats was ample, and beside each passenger was a small locker, built into the side of the coach.

* * *

At the rear were three compartments. The lower half of the central one was a cupboard for coats, umbrellas and other impedimenta, above was a neat cocktail cabinet. On the left was a tiny but beautifully-fitted Powder Room, on the right, the Gentlemen's Wash Room.

"Neat, isn't it, sir?" commented Ferdy, from the door.

Angus wanted to say that it was much more than neat, but a glance at his watch told him that the passengers were due. He stepped off the coach and prepared to check them as they came aboard.

RIGHT ON TIME

As Ferdy had predicted, they were punctual. One by one, they gave up their numbered cards and, boarding the coach, made their way to their allotted seats.

Soon, they were settled, their cases were in the luggage compartments, Ferdy was at the wheel, and Angus was seated in the place reserved for him—a glass-enclosed compartment with sliding doors in a central position in front of the passengers.

Beside his own seat was an empty one which could be used by the passengers as an observation seat.

CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

OOOH, LOOK! — Hobby horse wrapping fascinates this young lady. Imaginative wrappings like train, dachshund (center) and doll face are of gift wrap tapes, shelf paper and colorful cut-outs. Hobby horse head contains gift, body has candy.

Special Gift Wraps Sure to Delight Child

Don't be disappointed this Christmas if a youngster is more interested in the outside wrappings than he is with the gifts inside. As most experienced parents have found, this happens all the time. So it's not a waste of time to put a little extra thought into special gift wraps for the younger ones.

With shelf paper and a supply of gift wrap tapes and construction paper, you'll be all set to transform the most ordinary package.

First cover boxes with the shelf paper and secure with transparent tape.

Perhaps you would like to buy a "hobby horse" wrapping. It's designed for a small gift to go in a paper cup. The paper cup is made into a horse's head with red and gold tape. His nose is a red tree ornament fastened with tape. The tube is covered with red shelf paper and taped to the cup. A fluffy magic bow at the other end makes a tail.

Three dimensional effects are especially appealing to children as they provide something to play with. A set of trains, for instance, cut from construction paper, is a good idea to decorate a long box.

Tape the trains to small pieces of sponge and they'll bounce around when touched. A band of gift wrap tape along the bottom creates a "track." Two sasheen ribbon bows tied to a pipe cleaner at the front are "smoke."

A paper bag turned into a doll's face makes a charming design for a little girl's gift. Stuff the bag with candy or tissue paper, then tape onto the gift box.

Animals cut from colored construction paper or from magazines make simple box decorations. Last year's Christmas cards also are wonderful source for these cut-outs.

Sea Plants Aid to Fisherman

Abundance of Food for Scallops, Clams, Crabs Found Along U.S. Coast

WASHINGTON — The comeback of a succulent marine plant means new quarry for sportsmen and fishermen of North American coasts.

Beds of eelgrass once supported vast numbers of waterfowl and sea animals, the National Geographic Society says. In 1921 a catastrophic fungus made a wasteland of the rich, underwater pastures. The ecology of some coastal sections was so upset they have never fully recovered.

But there are signs that eelgrass is overcoming the blight. The Interior Department's Fish and Wildlife Service has found eelgrass abundant in places, still scarce or absent in others. Growths of it in the Chesapeake Bay are up to former levels.

Eelgrass is a favorite habitat of bay scallops.

Cape Cod's Pleasant Bay is another inlet to which eelgrass—and new life—has returned. As fronds of eelgrass began to thrust up from the graveled bottom, clams came back to cavort. Crabs and pipefish reappeared. Wildfowl again found the quiet waters a pleasant spot in which to wade, swim and hunt for food.

Sheriff Rejects Offer of New Police Station

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sheriff L. C. Boies has turned down an offer of help from two prospective lawmen. They wrote him:

"We are starting a police station and we need your permission to put people in our jail."

The two jailers are 13 and 10. Sheriff Boies thanked them for their interest and promised to send a deputy to show how they can be of help but said he's happy with his present jail system.

Juvenile Jurist Called

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The name of Henry Mar Jr. was drawn for jury duty—but he didn't have to serve. When the court bailiff called, he found Henry was on a camping trip. Henry's father also told the bailiff the prospective juror is a Boy Scout, and only 8.

Yule Stocking Made at Home Treasured Gift

Today's Christmas stockings may not look like the ones that were "hung by the chimney with care" but as gaily decorated conversation pieces they're just as popular as ever.

Lisbeth Lee, home sewing consultant says, "with a little imagination any mother can turn out creations that will be cherished from year to year and even handed down from her children to their children."

Here are some suggestions from Miss Lee:

Sew small individual stockings of everything from red velvet with an "ermine" (white bunny fur) cuff to red calico from the remnant counter.

Children like individual stockings best when they are embroidered with their names. You can embroider by tracing a design on a piece of tissue. Pin it to the cut-out stocking and stitch over the design and the pins.

Little stockings make charming gift wraps. A child's inexpensive gift for Dad, such as a handkerchief or a pair of socks, takes on a new air when it is presented in a stocking of candy-striped denim, with a Christmas bell dangling from its toe.

Or a dram of perfume is glamorized by tucking it, with plenty of tissue, into a miniature stocking of white lace lined with red satin.

Here are simple directions. Cut out two stocking shapes. Embroider or applique one of the shapes on the right side of the material. Pin two shapes together, wrong side out, stitch around edges and turn right side out.

Pin the cuff to the inside of the top of the stocking. Stitch. Turn cuff over the top of stocking. Attach any bells, buttons or bows that belong on the cuff or toe of the stocking.

Driving courses are offered in about 5,000 U.S. high schools and provide classroom instruction as well as behind-the-wheel training; in some schools it is required.

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Anton Salch has a patent pending on a new car safety device, a steering wheel that collapses like a telescope.

Lions Win Statistics, Not Game; Browns-Giants in Playoff

Bears Score 2 in 9 Minutes to Win, 21-16

Willie Galimore Races 36 Yards for Winning Touchdown

CHICAGO (AP) — The once champion Detroit Lions beat the Chicago Bears in everything but touchdowns yesterday and wound up their National Football League season with 21-16 defeat.

On frozen Wrigley Field an old 1958 Lion story was retold again as the Bears, capitalizing a break, put over two final-quarter touchdowns in a winning rally.

Up to then the Lions appeared to have the game in the bag, which could have been a fair conclusion to a season of tribulation, including revenge for Chicago's earlier season victory.

But the Bears, permitted to keep possession of the ball on a kicker-roughing penalty, finished an 80-yard drive for one touchdown and cut Willie Galimore loose on a 36-yard ramble for a second and the victory.

★ ★ ★

The two scores came in the last nine minutes, Galimore's with 3:21 to go, after the Lions had been holding a 16-7 edge in giving the Bears a going-over.

Detroit, spectacular champion of last year, wound up in fifth place in the NFL's western division with seven defeats and a tie against four victories.

Coach George Wilson came up with some new stuff for the finale — and this almost did the trick.

★ ★ ★

Tackle Jerry Perry, taking over the role usually given Jim Martin, kicked three field goals and the one Lion touchdown's extra point.

He kicked one in each of the first three periods — 28, 11 and 18 yards. The Lions' touchdown came in the second period on a 43-yard pass play from Tobin Rote to Dave Middleton.

Presumably the field goal job went to Perry because his kicks have a faster rise than Martin's and were an edge better against the high-charging bears.

★ ★ ★

Because of the 8-degree cold, which went down to 2-degrees at the finish, the Lions virtually abandoned the huddle, operating a play-sequence system instead.

All worked well until the last quarter. Chicago's only score was a 19-yard pass play from Ed Brown to Bill McColl in the second period.

The Bears, held to four yards rushing in the first half and five times losers of the ball on fumbles, got organized late in the final period.

★ ★ ★

A roughing-the-kicker penalty against Wayne Walker gave Chicago a first down on its 34. A touchdown drive followed. Brown passed 30 yards to Ralph Anderson for the score.

A little later, after an exchange of the ball, Galimore smashed into the line, broke free, and ran away on his 36-yard winning touchdown sprint.

Missed Short Field Goal

Pat Summerall Never Expected Another Try

NEW YORK (AP) — "I didn't think I'd get another chance," a half-sobbing Pat Summerall of the Giants said Sunday in the midst of bedlam minutes after his 49-yard field goal through a lazy snow beat the Cleveland Browns 13-10.

"When I missed the shorter one, I thought I'd never get another chance. It's wonderful-wonderful- wonderful . . . what can I say?"

Only two minutes before his booming kick doomed the Browns and set up a playoff here next Sunday for the National Football League's Eastern title, Summerall had gone wide to the left on a field goal attempt from the 33.

"I haven't been very consistent this season," said the pink-cheeked seven-year pro veteran obtained by the Giants in a trade from the Chicago Cardinals after last season. "When I blew it, I'd have liked to have gone anywhere but back to that bench.

"You know, though, four or five of the guys — one was Cliff Livingston I think — told me to forget it, that they'd give me the chance. When we did get the ball again and they sent me in, I don't remember thinking much except that I was near midfield and would have to hit it good.

"I did," he said, tears in his eyes as he talked to the growing crowd of newsmen, teammates and well-wishers. "I hit it good. Yes sir I watched it all the way too. I think it would have been good if I had been another 10 yards away."

★ ★ ★

"Leave that tape on, pat boy — geez whatta kick," said defensive halfback Lindon Crow as he slapped Summerall on the shoulder.

Summerall, who laid out of practice most of the week because of an injury to his right knee suffered against Detroit last Sunday, had the knee heavily taped but he said it didn't bother him.

"I rested the leg except for a brief workout Thursday," he said. "It was swollen twice its size Tuesday and Wednesday but once I kicked a few in practice before the game, it felt okay."

Coach Jim Lee Howell said he was undecided whether to have Summerall try such a long kick, even though it was a fourth down situation.

"I knew it was fourth down and all, but Pat's leg hasn't been too good and I came closer to calling for a pass in hopes of getting up closer," the grinning coach said.

KEY BLOCK — A block by Chicago Bear back Johnny Marris (left) sends Detroit Lion tackle Jerry Perry flying and paved the way for Rick Casares (35) to make a long 42 yard gain to set up a touchdown. The Bears scored twice in the final nine minutes to beat the Lions, 21-16 at frozen Wrigley Field.

New York Wins 13-10 on Boot by Summerall

Showdown Game Next Sunday to Be Seen on National TV

NEW YORK (AP)—A field goal through the snow by a fellow who wasn't expected to play . . . the keen eyes of a battleworn Texan . . . and what everybody thought was a boner by football's master coach.

They added up today to a bonus for National Football League fans, next Sunday's playoff between the plucky New York Giants and the mighty Cleveland Browns for the Eastern Conference championship.

Two arch rivals tied for the regular season championship with 9-3 records yesterday as Texan Kyle Rote set up a touchdown with 10 minutes left, and hobbled Pat Summerall booted a 49-yard field goal with two minutes remaining to give New York a 13-10 victory. A tie would have given Cleveland the title.

It was the Giants' second over the Browns this season (they won 21-17 earlier at Cleveland) and they'll be back at it again next Sunday — same teams, same Yankee Stadium, with one difference. The winner of this one will play host to the Western champion Baltimore Colts on Dec. 28 in the pro title game. The conference playoff will be televised (CBS) nationally, with the New York area blacked out.

Los Angeles and the Chicago Bears tied for second in the west with 8-4 marks as the Rams closed out with a 34-20 decision over Green Bay and the Bears defeated the Detroit Lions 21-16. Washington blanked Philadelphia 20-0 in Sunday's other game. Pittsburgh, No. 3 in the East, finished Saturday with 38-21 victory over the Chicago Cards.

Leading 10-3 midway in the third period, the Browns drove to the New York 13 behind the great Jimmy Brown — who gained 48 yards in 26 rushes. With fourth down and five to go, Lou (the Toe) Groza stepped back to the 20 for his fourth field goal try of the game. He had missed twice, hit once — from the 22.

But instead of kicking, Brown had called for a fake. Bobby Freeman took the snap from center, jumped up and took off around left end. He ran full into Giants' linebacker Harland Svare, who threw him for an eight-yard loss.

Instead of a reasonably comfortable 13-3 lead, the Browns remained only a touchdown up. The Giants took it from there.

After an exchange of kicks and a Milt Plum fumble, the Giants' Frank Gifford fired a 39-yard pass to Rote to the Cleveland 6 on a play Rote called when he spotted a weakness in the Browns' pass defense. A running play lost a yard before Gifford passed to Bob Schnelker in the end zone for a touchdown. Summerall's conversion made it 10-10.

Four minutes later, the Giants drove from their 30 to Cleveland's 25. On fourth down, and with 4½ minutes remaining, Summerall missed a field goal from the 33. It looked as though the comeback had been nailed, but two minutes later the Browns' Dick Deschaine, soundly rushed by the Giants' defense, got off a wobbly 22-yard kick that went out of bounds on the Cleveland 43.

Three passes went awry before Summerall sent his booming field goal soaring through the snow and over the uprights. Two minutes and seven seconds showed on the clock.

Detroit Wins Scrap, Loses Contest, 6-1

Ullman, Rocket Brawl to Feature Montreal Victory at Olympia

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT—The Red Wings won the fight, the Canadiens won the game and — Zoom! — away went another chance for Detroit to share 1st place with Montreal in the National Hockey League.

Detroit's Norm Ullman and Montreal's Maurice (The Rocket) Richard stole the show last night at Olympia Stadium with a 2nd period brawl which had an overflow audience of 13,279 in an uproar.

Some vicious high sticking on Ullman from behind by the fiery Rocket brought the Detroit center storming back for retaliation and a wild melee ensued in the middle of the arena with all hands ready to go.

The free-for-all resulted in major high sticking penalties against both the Rocket and Ullman, an additional two-minute cross checking sentence for Richard and five stitches on Ullman's neck and head.

★ ★ ★

Moments later little brother Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard and rookie Charlie Burns of the Wings engaged in a scrap along the boards with Burns landing a clean right hand blow to Henri's left cheek. Each was handed a roughing penalty.

There was some hockey being played in the midst of this battling and Montreal was playing a superior brand of the same as the Canadiens routed the Redshirts, 6-1, to pad their NHL lead to four points over runnerup Detroit.

Montreal's Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion performed his 2nd straight "hat trick" on Olympia ice and the Canadiens scored twice in each period to thoroughly squelch another Red Wing bid for a piece of the top spot.

★ ★ ★

The Wings started the scoring parade in the 11th minute of the 1st period on a neat bit of poke checking by defenseman Marcel Pronovost, but it was all Montreal the rest of the way.

Alvin McDonald supported Geoffrion's three-goal stunt with two goals of his own and Dickie Moore fired the other. In order, the goals were tallied by Geoffrion, Moore, Geoffrion, McDonald, McDonald and Geoffrion.

Pronovost tallied Detroit's only goal by jabbing the puck between the legs of defenseman Albert Langlois and scoring on a breakaway with a hard shot from point blank range which beat the unprotected Jacques Plante in the Montreal net.

★ ★ ★

Both goalies were busy, but Terry Sawchuk of the Wings found Montreal's bombardment a lot harder to handle. Sawchuk was credited with 30 saves while Plante stopped a total of 27.

Bedlam reigned in Olympia during the Ullman-Richard fracas. The ice was showered with debris, including a derby hat, and every player on the rink milled at center ice.

After taking savage guillotine-type swipes at each other with their sticks, Ullman slipped inside the Rocket's swirling blade and wrestled him to the ice as referee Eddie Powers and his crew rushed in to pry them apart and restore order.

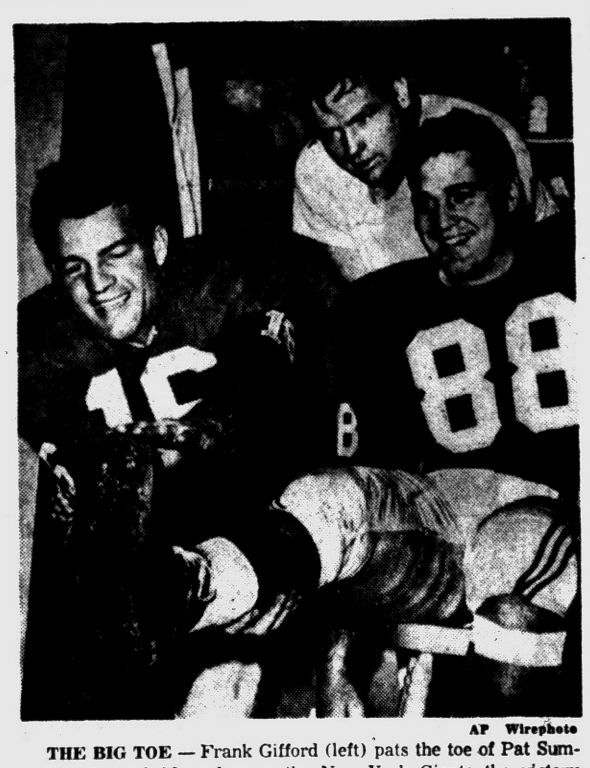

CALLS IT QUITS—Frankie Albert ended the season on a happy note as the San Francisco 49ers defeated the Baltimore Colts, 21-12 yesterday. These were Albert's expressions as he told reporters Saturday he was quitting.

Xavier Whips Titans; Adrian, Chippewas Win Over Weekend

By United Press International

Detroit was no match for Xavier Saturday, as the Musketeers swept past the U-D 80-58 in what had been billed as one of the state's top basketball games of the weekend.

No games were scheduled for Michigan colleges today.

Xavier's co-captains, Joe Viviano and Hank Stein, combined for 45 points—Viviano 25 and Stein 20—in pacing the Musketeers to victory.

In other Michigan basketball games Saturday Wayne State led for most of the first half with Bethany College, but slipped behind to finish with Bethany leading 69-54.

★ ★ ★

Adrian topped Alma 65-55 in an MIAA contest. Detroit Tech overpowered Assumption of Windsor, Ont., 71-62. Central Michigan upset heavily favored Northern Illinois 70-61, and Northern Michigan College lost to St. Cloud State of Minnesota 59-56.

Walled Lake to Have Puck Loop for Kids

Backed by the Walled Lake Junior Chamber of Commerce, a hockey circuit for youngsters is getting ready for action, starting Dec. 27. All games will be played on the new rink to be set up on the east shore of the lake, opposite the business section.

The loop has three unnamed clubs at present, but has 75 uniforms, sufficient for a six-team circuit.

A meeting will be held tonight, at 8 o'clock in the Walled Lake junior high school, when it is expected final organization will be set up. The league is for boys 10-14 years, but the WL Jaycees hope to have a team in Pontiac's recreation junior loop, Al Ivey, in charge of JC plans, said today. Aiding Ivey are Bernard Bowman and Hugh Freeman.

Adults wishing to help should attend tonight's conference.

Maples Victors in Cereal Bowl

A very pleasant victory was tucked away in the Birmingham High swimming archives today, as a result of the Maples' visit to the annual Battle Creek Cereal Bowl relays, on Saturday.

Jay Myers' tankers won the event with 46 points. Back of the winners were Battle Creek, 41; Bay City Handy, 30; (tie) Jackson and Lansing Sexton, 29, and Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., 24. Thirteen schools participated in the test.

Maples had to stage a thrilling finish in the final event to win. Pete Palmer, Jim Elliott, Bob Sintz and Bill Buick came through with a 1:39.6 winning time for the 200-yard freestyle.

Among five records broken, was the 300-yard medley relay 2:55.3 set by Maples' Dave Smith, Jim Walls, Denny Collins and Bill Buick. That was in the prelim. They also broke the former mark in the final with 2:55.4.

Other records were:

For 200-yard backstroke (rated a world mark), Lansing Eastern 1:53.8 (Maples were 1:55.1, old 1:55.0); 200-yard breaststroke 2:09.0; 200-yard butterfly 1:51.3 and 200-yard medley 1:50.9

Red Wing GM Speaks Out

Referee 'Chickened Up,' Says Adams After Fight

A charge by General Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings that referee Eddie Powers "chickened up" followed Sunday night's escapade at Olympia Stadium between Norm Ullman of the Wings and Montreal's Maurice (The Rocket) Richard.

"That guy Powers makes up his own rules as he goes along," Adams yelled after the Canadiens' runaway 6-1 triumph. "He should have given Richard two majors for drawing blood. He just chickened up."

★ ★ ★

Ullman required four stitches on his neck and one on his head as a result of the Rocket's slashing stick which clipped him from behind as he carried the puck toward the Montreal goal.

Powers dealt five-minute high sticking penalties to both Ullman and Richard and the Rocket also was meted out a minor violation of two minutes for cross checking. Gene Achtymichuk served Ullman's penalty while Norm went to the dressing room for repairs.

★ ★ ★

Ullman returned to the ice later in the stanza and the officials were on their guard to prevent a further outbreak.

After being struck, Ullman whirled around and came at Richard full tilt with each player swinging his stick like a sharp-edged scythe. Ullman caught the retreating Rocket at mid-ice and down they went with Richard underneath and Norm pulling the Rocket's jersey over his head.

Powers finally managed to separate the two who continued to make menacing moves at each other while the officials forcibly restrained them. Order was at last restored and the infractions followed.

★ ★ ★

The Canadiens continue to assert their superiority over the Red Wings, especially on Olympia ice.

Detroit has yet to beat the Canadiens this season, the best efforts being 4-4 and 2-2 ties. Oddly enough, both deadlocks have taken place in the Montreal Forum, the last draw coming Saturday night when Gordie Howe scored the 400th goal of his NHL career.

Has .328 Hitting Mark

It's Official — Ted Champ

CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Williams sixth American League batting crown, with a .328 mark, was certified by official league hitting statistics today.

Thumpin' Ted's Boston Red Sox team-mate, Pete Runnels, was second with .322, while nine others batting 477 or more times — the minimum for title consideration—also were .300 or better hitters.

★ ★ ★

Mickey Mantle of the world champion New York Yankees led the Junior Circuit in homers with 42; in total bases with 307; and in runs scored with 127.

Last year's homer champion, Roy Sievers of Washington, this year belted 39 to finish third behind Mantle and one of the hitting surprises of the year, Cleveland's Rocky Colavito.

★ ★ ★

Besides slamming 41 homers, the 25-year-old Tribe outfielder batted .303 and had 113 runs-batted-in, second to the 122 by Boston's Jackie Jensen, the 1958 champion.

Chicago's Nellie Fox again led in total hits, 187, while other departmental leaders included: Two baggers, Harvey Kuenn, Detroit, 39; triples, Vic Power, Cleveland, 10; sacrifice hits, Billy Martin Detroit, 13; sacrifice flies, Frank Bolling, Detroit, and Hec Lopez, Kansas City, 9 each; and stolen bases, Luis Aparicio, Chicago, 29.

Browns Dispute 'Call'

NEW YORK (AP)—"There isn't a man in this room who doesn't think Frank Gifford fumbled that ball," Coach Paul E. Brown said in the Cleveland dressing room after yesterday's 13-10 loss to the New York Giants.

"I thought he made the catch, was hit and fumbled it. Just as simple as that," Brown went on.

"The Giants thought he fumbled it, too. Did you see their defensive team? Some of them started out on the field, thinking that Gifford had fumbled and the ball was ours.

★ ★ ★

"That was the big play, one of the fateful things. They wouldn't have won it otherwise. They would never had the chance to kick that field goal."

The fourth-quarter play Brown meant was a third-down pass starting on the Cleveland 42. Chuck Conerly fired to Gifford who ran into Galen Fiss and dropped the ball, which Walt Michaels of the Browns picked up and started to carry toward the New York goal.

After a moment's hesitation head linesman Charley Berry waved an incomplete pass, and on the next and last down Pat Summerall booted the 49-yard field goal that won the game.

"The officials just stood there," Brown said. "No one wanted to call the play. Finally, Berry made the decision. I told him after the game I thought he missed it."

SLAPPED DOWN — Detroit Piston center Walter Dukes (23) has the ball slapped out of his hands by Larry Costello of the Syracuse Nats in their game yesterday afternoon at the Olympia. Syracuse Snaps Detroit Win Streak

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons' winning streak was snapped at five games in a 101-95 loss to the Syracuse Nationals before the largest home crowd of the season yesterday.

Holding the upper hand from the start, Syracuse fended off a late Piston rally in running its own National Basketball Assn. winning streak to seven games and disappointing an Olympia crowd of 5,102.

Larry Costello and Dolph Schayes scored 23 points each for Syracuse while Dick McGuire tossed in 22 for Detroit. Detroit's George Yardley was held to 10 points.

After lagging badly, Detroit came within a point, 47-46, in the third period but the Nationals took command again and ended the quarter with an 80-63 lead. The game was nationally televised.

★ ★ ★

The Nats currently are red hot, having moved to within two games of co-leaders Boston and New York in the Eastern division race.

This completed a successful weekend for the Nats, who turned back the Philadelphia Warriors 115-100 Saturday night. The loss was Philadelphia's fifth straight and eighth in its last nine starts.

In Sunday's only other game, the New York Knicks moved back into a first place tie with the idle Boston Celtics by shading the Minneapolis Lakers 100-99. The Knicks bowed to the Western division pace-setting St. Louis Hawks 108-94 in Saturday night's only other game.

A three-point play by Richie Guerin with 57 seconds left gave New York its squeaker over the Lakers, who suffered their fourth defeat in a row. The triumph was the Knicks' fourth straight over Minneapolis in their season series.

Guerin topped the New Yorkers with 25 points and Ken Sears contributed 24. The score was tied 50-all at halftime before Minneapolis opened up an eight-point lead, only to have the Knicks rally in the last five minutes.

'Y' Swimmers Win 2 Sections in Bay City Test

Pontiac's YMCA splashers invaded Bay City Saturday afternoon, for a three-way dual swim meet, and returned home with two wins.

John Morean's Red Triangles won the midget division 18-4, with only token opposition, taking all first places in this new division. Bay City swamped Pontiac in the prep division, 52-26. The Pontiac club came back to take the Junior division, with four firsts, four seconds and two third places.

Pontiac's winners were:

Midgets — Jack Brown, Gordon Winfield Ted Hope and the relay team of Brown, Hope, Chuck Porritt, Winfield.
Juniors — Dick Ries (tie); Reis; diving; Phil Cashin; Robert Butler; Jim Velzey and medley relay (Cashin, Velzey, Harrington, Butler), and individual medley, Jim Velzey.

Chiefs, Huskies Take to Water for First Contest

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac Central and Pontiac's newest high school, Northern, write a new page, Tuesday, in the city's prep athletic history.

★ ★ ★

This history-making affair will be the first formal sports competition between the two schools. It is the beginning of a new era in prep athletic rivalry.

First scheduled meeting for the schools is a swimming meet in Central's venerable pool. It is set for 4 o'clock and the Chiefs are the overwhelming favorites, largely because they have experienced performers, while the Huskies have just started building a squad.

Chiefs have won one, dropped one. Huskies have dropped all their starts, but have shown lots of promise.

★ ★ ★

Both squads are directed by new mentors. Eugene Norris is the "Big Chief." Edwin Dauw is "Leading Husky."

Dauw said this morning his squad was eager for the test. It's spirit was high, and the boys worked out Saturday and Sunday at PCH pool, getting all the sharpening possible for what may turn into a close battle.

Both coaches named their swimmers today:

For Northern—Eley and Tuttle, 40-yard freestyle; Rose, 100-yard butterfly; Berrie, Gould, 200-yard freestyle; Johnson, 100-yard backstroke; Ratliff, Phelps, 100-yard breaststroke; Ratliff, diving; Johnson, Rose, 120-yard individual medley; Maxim, Phelps, Eley and Venner, medley relay; Gould, Berrie, Maxim and Wells, freestyle relay; Tuttle, 100-yard freestyle.

For Central — Roberts, Uligan 40-yard freestyle; Powers and Gavette, 100-yard butterfly; Gaensbauer, Roeser, 200-yard freestyle; Gibbs, Blamy, 100-yard backstroke; Norvell, Doerr, 100-yard orthodox breaststroke; Lewis, diving; Roberts, Hoekman, 100-yard freestyle; Horst, Gibbs, 120-yard indiv. medley; medley relay, Blamy, Norvell, Powers and Hoekman; freestyle relay, Horst, Roeser, Gaensbauer and Uligan.

Cranes' Heavenrich Wins Lansing Title

Cranbrook's Charles "Butch" Heavenrich, a scrappy little 95-pounder, was the only Oakland County wrestler to bring home a championship as three area schools were among 19 competing in the 6th annual Lansing high school invitational meet over the weekend.

Heavenrich had to win five straight matches to take top honors. Another Crane, 133-pounder Ted Seyfarth, won in a losers' bracket after bowing to the eventual champion on an official's decision.

Three Hazel Park grapplers reached the championship round but were beaten. Farmington was the other county entry as over 350 boys took part.

Lansing Sexton won four titles and Lansing Eastern three to give the hometown a big edge. Garden City won two, Ann Arbor and Jackson one apiece.

Cincinnati — Crosley field here may be the first to use huge fans for air cooling.

Brito Retires From Redskins; Praised by Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gene Brito, the Washington Redskins' all pro defensive end, retired Sunday with high praise from Vice President Nixon and cheers from his fans of long standing.

Nixon, in pre-game ceremonies at Griffith Stadium, said Brito symbolized the kind of spirit which "win or lose has made the Redskins a great team to watch."

The 33-year-old Brito, retiring to teach school after seven seasons at Washington, in turn gave credit to his wife, June, for her "consideration and love."

Brito never missed a game with the Redskins. This was his 94th straight in regular season play, and fellow Californian Nixon noted the 230-pound end had never cost his team a 15-yard penalty.

Hayes Jones Suffers Hairline Leg Fracture

YPSILANTI — Eastern Michigan College track star Hayes Jones of Pontiac has been lost to the team for at least six weeks due to a broken leg suffered Saturday night in a pick-up basketball game.

The injury will cause the Olympic hopeful to miss several big national events and half the school's indoor season. Doctors say he should recover with no ill effects. His injury is described as a hairline fracture of the bone in the ankle joint. Jones had been looking "very sharp" in workouts, according to Eastern track coach George Marshall.

Babe Ruth drew a total salary of $952,445 in baseball.

Harbert's Hot Finish Good for 2nd Place

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—George Bayer, who seemed destined to go through life without winning a pro golf tournament in the United States, has overcome that jinx.

★ ★ ★

The long-driving Glen Eagles, Ill., giant is $2,000 richer today as a result of his victory in the $15,000 Sanford Open tournament yesterday; a victory achieved with a bunch of par busters breathing down his neck. The 72-hole match was played over the Mayfair Country Club course where par is 71.

★ ★ ★

Runnerup spot was in the possession of the veteran Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., who shot a sizzling 66 with a phenomenal 29 for the last nine holes. Bayer himself shot a 68.

Four Classics Ready to Start

Holiday Tourneys in Swing

By The Associated Press

This coming weekend heralds the start of college basketball's holiday tournaments and the spotlight is on the south with four classics scheduled for Dixie.

★ ★ ★

The state of Kentucky will be the scene of two of the tourneys. The Kentucky Invitational will be played at Lexington while the Blue Grass Festival gets under way at Louisville.

The other two southern tournaments are the Birmingham (Ala.) classic and the Citadel Invitational at Charleston, S. C.

Kentucky, the nation's second-ranking team in last week's Associated Press poll, is the host at Lexington. In first round pairings Friday night the Wildcats meet Ohio State after West Virginia plays Oklahoma State.

Notre Dame takes on North Carolina and Northwestern faces Louisville in the Blue Grass Festival Friday night. At Birmingham it's Alabama vs. Texas A&M and Auburn vs. Wyoming. Florida State plays Miami and Georgia meets the Citadel in the Citadel Invitational.

The finals of all four tournaments will be played Saturday night, with the Friday's losers meeting in the consolation bracket.

This is just the start of things tournament-wise. Next week the tourneys really roll with Holiday festivals sprinkled throughout the land.

★ ★ ★

Kentucky, the NCAA champion of last season and currently unbeaten in five games, is home against Maryland tonight before embarking on the tourney trail. The Wildcats displayed a stylish brand of ball in thumping seventh-ranked St. Louis 76-57 Saturday afternoon in a nationally televised game.

Maryland lost its first two starts to North Carolina State, No. 5, and Northwestern, No. 10. But the Terps rebounded to defeat Virginia last Wednesday. And all unheralded Virginia did Saturday night was stun fourth-ranked West Virginia 75-72, snapping the Mountaineers' winning streak at five.

Cincinnati, the nation's No. 1 team, will be out to keep its record unblemished while All-America Oscar Robertson tries to maintain his 43-point average. The Bearcats play the College of Pacific at home Wednesday and visit St. Louis Saturday.

Cincinnati (3-0) overwhelmed Marshall 106-86 last Saturday as Robertson, last season's major college scoring kingpin with a 35-point average, found the range for 42 points.

Third-ranked Kansas State went west over the weekend with favorable results, although the Wildcats had to scrap to beat California 68-65 Friday and San Francisco 53-52 Saturday for a 4-0 record.

Another surprise, besides West Virginia's reversal was Wisconsin's 56-54 victory over 11th-ranked Notre Dame Saturday. The Badgers had gone 11 games without a victory over a two-season span.

It also was a lost weekend for Kansas, pegged No. 7. The Jayhawks, obviously missing Wilt (the Stilt) Chamberlain, have come down to earth after playing on cloud nine the past two seasons. They lost twice on the west coast, bowing to UCLA 72-61 Friday and dropping a 68-55 verdict to Southern California Saturday.

Mississippi State, No. 8, was the only other member of the top 10 to see action Saturday. Although Bailey Howell managed only 18 points, the Maroons nosed out Murray (Ky.) 63-62 for their fifth consecutive success.

Tigers Play 27 in Camp

DETROIT (UPI) — For the first time in club history, the Detroit Tigers won't play any exhibition games on the way north next spring, general manager John McHale said today in releasing the Tigers' 27-game Florida schedule.

The Tigers flew over half the country last spring in an abbreviated tour after breaking camp at Lakeland, Fla., but rain, snow or cold canceled games at Birmingham and Tulsa and it snowed during a game in Denver.

Next spring the Tigers will leave Lakeland April 8 and fly directly to Detroit for their American league opener April 10 against the Chicago White Sox.

The 27-game Grapefruit League schedule includes four games each with St. Louis and Los Angeles; three each with Cincinnati, Kansas City and Milwaukee and two each with Washington, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, the White Sox and New York.

★ ★ ★

Detroit will open the Florida campaign March 7 against the Senators at Orlando and close April 6 against the Cardinals in Lakeland. Fourteen games are scheduled for Lakeland and 13 on the road.

The Tigers start their Henley Field games March 8 with the Senators and will play three games at Lakeland on Sundays.

Teamsters Boot Hoffa Opponent

Hickey Loses Post as General Organizer of Truckers' Union

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas L. Hickey, long an outspoken foe of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, has been removed as general organizer of the labor union.

His successor is John O'Rourke, president of the New York Joint Council of Teamsters and a strong Hoffa supporter.

The action was taken by the union's Executive Board in Miami Beach, Fla., Saturday.

Hickey told a Senate investigating committee in August 1957 that Hoffa forces were then moving to throttle his union career.

Hickey was one of three candidates who unsuccessfully ran against Hoffa for presidency of the union to succeed Dave Beck in September 1957.

The dispute between Hickey and Hoffa stemmed from the efforts of Hoffa forces to win control of the Joint New York Council, which supervises the activities of all locals in the area.

★ ★ ★

Hickey testified before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee that Hoffa was the originator of the phantom local system of winning union elections with the aid of racketeers.

Hoffa, he said further, was a good friend of Johnny Dio, New York racketeer, and in 1956 had unsuccessfully tried to get Beck to give Dio a union charter to organize taxi drivers.

The aim of the bogus locals—those having officers and charters but no members — was to cast votes in election of officers, Hickey said.

Another witness before the Senate probers was Martin T. Lacey, who was succeeded as president of the council in 1956 by O'Rourke.

Hoffa later accused Lacey and Hickey of being responsible for any wrongful creation of New York locals.

The action in Miami Beach strips Hickey, who was previously also a vice president of the Teamsters, of all of his union offices except that as secretary-treasurer of New York Local 807.

Accident Information Reported in Error

The Pontiac Press erroneously reported Friday that Mrs. Sophie Sharp, 46, of 3340 Windcroft St., Waterford Township, was on the wrong side of the road when her car collided with another on Cooley Lake road Thursday night.

According to Waterford Township police records, the other driver, Robert Sweetman, 33, of 9443 Mandon Rd., Waterford Township, said he was on the wrong side, confused because of fog.

Mrs. Sharp is in good condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a broken leg.

'Can't Wake Up Mama or Daddy' —They're Dead

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — "Grandma, we can't wake up Mama or Daddy," the child's voice piped over the telephone when Mrs. Orie Aadema called her daughter Sunday.

Mrs. Aadema called the sheriff's office.

Officers found Stuart Fause, 45, and his wife Virginia, 40, dead in their home. They had been overcome by fumes from a fire in a bedroom fireplace which had smothered out as they slept.

The officers were met by the couple's daughters, Paula, 5, and Jan, 4. The girls said they had been asleep in another room. They said that they had tried to wake their parents but were unable to do so.

Officers said the girls were not overcome because the fumes were confined to the parents' room and had dissipated by the time the children entered.

Paula and Jan were placed temporarily in their grandmother's care.

Ice-Crusted Firemen Battle Midland Blaze

MIDLAND (AP) — Covered with frozen spray, firemen battled a spectacular elevator fire in Midland today.

★ ★ ★

Flames destroyed the Cohoon grain elevator, its machinery and large quantities of wheat, oats, corn, rye and beans.

John Cohoon, who with his brother Dean owns and operates the elevator, said a preliminary check indicated a loss of between $75,000 and $80,000.

The fire broke out at 4 a. m. in the elevator along the New York Central Railroad tracks northeast of Midland's business district.

★ ★ ★

In temperatures of 12 to 14 above zero, firemen kept the flames from spreading to an adjoining warehouse.

$100,000 Missing, Woman Is Hunted

DETROIT (AP) — Police pushed a search today for 255-pound Mrs. Pauline Milhorn while also keeping custody of her husband John, for fraud investigation.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Milhorn, 32, five feet four inches in height, is wanted in the reported disappearance of $100,000 from a real estate firm where she has been a bookkeeper for five years.

She is charged specifically with embezzling $557 last Monday from the F. & E. Sales Corp. of Detroit. Firm officials said that coincident with her disappearance they learned of a shortage of $100,000 in the company's accounts.

★ ★ ★

The Milhorns' home is in Garden City. Milhorn, a landscaper, said his wife failed to return home Friday, the same day she disappeared from her job. He was arrested under a charge of investigation of fraud.

BERLIN (UPI)—The East German Communist newspaper "Young World" said today "a single shot" fired in defense of Western troops in West Berlin could start a world war.

Oakland GOP to Start Award

Top Precinct Captain Slated to Be Honored Every Two Years

The Republican Committee of Oakland County will initiate a new "Lincoln Award" which will be presented every two years to the outstanding election precinct captain from the county who turns in the best job during biennial fall elections.

Presentation of the award will be made for the first time in Pontiac tomorrow night when the party's executive committee holds a buffet dinner at the Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Civic Room, 761 W. Huron St.

Arthur G. Elliott Jr., county GOP chairman, said the Lincoln Cup will be awarded to the captain, who, in the opinion of the judges, did the best overall job of organizing his or her precinct.

"We want this award to symbolize the importance the precinct captain bears to the growth, strength, and success of the Republican Party," said Elliott.

More than 125 party leaders are expected to attend tomorrow night's dinner.

Picketers Show Disapproval of Sunday Shoppers

DETROIT (AP) — Some stores that have been staying open for business here on Sunday were picketed yesterday.

Pickets carried signs — "Stop. Don't shop. Today is Sunday;" "Keep Sunday holy."

★ ★ ★

One sign said the pickets had the endorsement of the Detroit Council of Churches.

Dr. G. Merrill Lenox, executive director of the Detroit Council of Churches, said the council had nothing to do with organizing the pickets.

★ ★ ★

"However," he said, "if what the pickets mean by their sign is that the Detroit council has urged stores to remain closed on Sunday, this is true."

★ ★ ★

The pickets said their move was spontaneous and not backed by any organization. They said many shoppers also voiced disapproval of Sunday business.

"Then the shoppers would walk right past us into the stores," said one picket.

Appeal Blocks Effort to Extradite Texan

A plea to the Texas Criminal Court of Appeals has blocked authorities here from returning Lowell E. McComb, 28, from Texas to stand trial in Oakland County for the murder of self-styled gangster prince George Kean of Fort Worth in Commerce Township a year ago.

Judge Dave McGee of the Criminal District Court of Tarrant County (Fort Worth) denied McComb's petition for a writ of habeas corpus, after which McComb's attorney filed the appeal.

Jerome K. Barry Jr., assistant Oakland County prosecutor, and Charles A. Leaf, State Police detective from the Pontiac post, had traveled to Fort Worth last week to try to have McComb extradited to Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Barry expressed the belief that the appeal would be denied and McComb would be extradited. "They don't have a legal leg to stand on," he said.

If he is not extradited, Prpsecutor Frederick C. Ziem said Demitrios Tsermengas, of Ecorse, would stand trial alone sometime in January for the December, 1957, killing of Kean.

Tsermengas, being held in the county jail charged with second-degree murder, has admitted he "accidentally" shot Kean in a township cottage as he tried to knock Kean out with a pistol so he could not carry out his threat to kill Tsermengas and two companions following a drinking spree.

★ ★ ★

A third man, once named in the warrant, is being held in Texas on a charge of armed robbery, and is likely to escape extradition here to stand trial with Tsermengas.

Kean stopped off to see his friend in Commerce Township with the three other men while en route to Sault Ste. Marie to stage a robbery.

Downtown Pontiac Smashup Injures 2

A three-car pileup on Saginaw street at Pike street injured two persons Saturday night, according to Pontiac Police.

★ ★ ★

Alice S. Curtis, 58, of 97 Union St., riding in a car driven by her husband Herbert, 60, was listed in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital today.

Virginia D. Callahan, 40, of Flint, was treated and released. She was in an auto driven by her husband James, 41. Police said the Curtis and Callahan autos were stopped for a traffic light when the third car smashed into them from the rear.

★ ★ ★

William H. Rodgers, 50, of 19 Deland Ct., driver of the third car, was arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Board to Get Plan for Midget Track

It was expected that J. E. Buckberrough, 870 Menominee St., will present plans for a midget race track when the Waterford Township Board meets tonight.

The track, which would be on M59 near Elizabeth Lake road, is planned for small car racing in the four to 15 year age bracket, Buckberrough said.

Board members, in other business, are scheduled to make a final decision on the purchase of fire apparatus to replace a 17-year-old fire truck at Station No. 2.

Seven bids were received, ranging from $15,000 to $18,000. The board met with the fire truck committee Friday night to review the bids.

It is expected that a mechanical engineer will be appointed to service on the new heating board.

Mother Gives Up Outdoor Sitdown

NORTON, Va. (AP)—A "defrosted" but still defiant widow enjoyed a reunion with her sailor son today after ending a six-day sitdown protest against the sale of her home by public auction.

Mrs. Ella Williams, 56, said she had heeded a friendly warning her 20-year-old son Lowell had telephoned Saturday from Great Lakes Naval Training Station in Illinois.

"Mom, I'm leaving now to fly home. When I get there I'd better not catch you outside," his son told her.

★ ★ ★

He didn't. Several hours before he arrived, Mrs. Williams had accepted shelter in the home of Roda and Octavia Stidham, spinster sisters and lifelong friends of Mrs. Williams.

But the sisters had to talk, plead and cry before the stubborn widow would leave her snow-swept post outside the family home, which the county had sold to pay off debts.

The tent where Mrs. Williams had remained for six days was covered with four inches of snow. Her possessions were scattered about the yard under the snow.

★ ★ ★

In her last hours outdoors, Mrs. Williams had been reported "weak and pale." A doctor said she could not live through many more bitter cold nights.

But after a hot bath, some dinner and a long sleep, she said she was feeling chipper.

"I don't have a temperature or even a cold," she told her son.

Mrs. Williams admitted the futility of another outdoor siege — "I was only hurting my health"—but she hasn't conceded that the county was right in selling her house.

'I realize that I was going about it the wrong way," she said. "However, I'm just as determined as ever to go back into that house, and legally too."

Just how she would go about dissolving a court-ordered public sale remained to be seen.

Drifting Balloonists Cover 700 Miles

SANTA CRUZ, Tenerife, Canary Island (UPI)—The drifting balloon "The Small World" was believed today to have covered about 700 miles on its flight across the Atlantic.

The Small World left here shortly after midnight on the morning of Dec. 12 with a crew of four and hoped to follow trade winds to the West Indies along the path followed by Christopher Columbus.

The balloonists, three men and a woman, expected to require several weeks to make the trip. They were reporting their position by radio.

Two Are Fined $50 Each for Liquor Purchase

Two persons pleaded guilty today after falling into a trap set by Pontiac's vice squad early Sunday.

Robert A. Putman, 23, of 244 W. Brooklyn Ave., and Patricia Ann Willis, 19, of 620 W. Dallas St., Madison Heights, were fined $50 apiece by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Police said they admitted attempting to purchase liquor illegally from Patrolman William Gracy, who was stationed in plain clothes at the corner of Bagley and Wessen Sts. as part of the police department's new crackdown on vice.

Another man, John Pope, 26, of 393 Lowell St. pleaded not guilty to a charge of soliciting Gracy for an immoral act. Pope was freed by Judge McCallum under $100 bond until trial Thursday.

Mocking Limps Salute Britain's Prince Charles

NEWBURY, England (UPI) — When Prince Charles, who sprained his ankle last Monday, was driven to church in an automobile yesterday he passed a line of his school pals walking the distance.

They answered his entirely unroyal salute by developing mock limps.

Thousands of golf courses throughout the world follow the 13 basic principles of "gowff" laid down by the "22 noblemen and gentlemen" who founded the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland, in 1754.

$914 Stolen From Station

Burglars Break In Window; Open Safe and Vending Machine

Several burglaries were reported to Pontiac Police over the weekend.

A break-in at the Speedway Gas Station, 605 S. Saginaw St., was discovered early Sunday by Officers Robert W. Beltz and William Gracey who noticed the south side window broken out early Sunday morning.

Upon investigation it was found that $914 cash was taken from a safe which was pried open. An undetermined amount of money was missing from a vending machine.

Several packages of cigarettes were all that was reported missing from a restaurant, at 216½ Branch St., also broken into Sunday morning.

★ ★ ★

An undetermined amount of cash was reported stolen Saturday from a vending machine at Gordan's Mobile Station, 233 Branch St.

Police reported the larceny of a wheelbarrow, valued at $30 from a pickup truck parked at 800 S. Woodward Ave., Saturday evening.

★ ★ ★

Virginia R. Wadham, 2800 Porter Rd., Milford, told police Saturday evening that someone had stolen her wallet containing over $40 cash while she was at a local recreation center.

MSU Ex-Teacher Reports on Trouble

LANSING (AP)—A former Michigan State University faculty member has reported from Missouri that dissension and sudden curriculum changes at MSU have influenced resignations of four staff members this year.

Dr. James H. Platt, now on the faculty of Northeast Missouri State Teachers College at Kirksville, Mo. made the report to the American Assn. of University Professors at Washington.

Dr. Platt said in his letter that he had been asked to submit the report because he now is in a position where Michigan State University heads "cannot level retaliation." He did not name the four faculty members in question.

Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president, discounted the letter. He said any such problems had not been brought to university officials' attention and that he doubted there was "any substance" to Dr. Platt's complaints.

Tobogganing at Murphy Park

14 Pontiac Rinks Open

It's ice skating time again in Pontiac.

The city's 14 public skating rinks are ready and waiting today for winter sports fans, announced William Aho, parks superintendent of the Department of Parks and Recreation.

There'll be a 15th skating rink opened soon to the public for the first time, he said. Parks and Recreation crews are putting the final touches on it at Optimist Park.

In addition, Aho said, the city's first public toboggan slide is in operation at Murphy Park. For the safety of children, there's a city employe on duty there from 3:30 p.m. to dark weekdays and from 1:30 p.m. to dark weekends and holidays.

★ ★ ★

By this weekend, the city's four public hockey rinks should be in shape, Aho said. They are located at Crofoot School, Washington Junior High School, Oriole Field (Auburn avenue and Paddock street) and Northside Park (Edison avenue and Montcalm street).

Ice skating was reported good at the following locations:

Crofoot, Emerson, LeBaron, Wever, Wilson, Wisner and Herrington Hills Schools; Eastern and Washington Junior High Schools; Oriole Field, Rotary Park, Southwest Civic Park and on Berwick boulevard in Washington Park subdivision.

Exclusive Satellite Club to See Britain, China Vie for Entrance

(The first year of the Space Age has seemed to be an exclusive contest between the U.S. and Russia. In the following dispatch, a noted British scientist tells why the second year will be different — what Britain plans as its contribution to the conquest of space.)

By L. J. CARTER
Secretary of the British Interplanetary Society

LONDON (UPI) — The age of space is only one year old but already science is proving again that once it achieves a breakthrough its progress is explosive rather than gradual.

Russia and the United States monopolized the first year of the new era but it is quite apparent that before the next anniversary there may be two more members of the satellite club—Britain and China.

★ ★ ★

Scientists would like to see politics kept out of space, but this may not be possible. The orbiting by Russia of the first Sputnik gave it a tremendous prestige victory. Moscow knows that if it supplies China with rockets and the Chinese succeed in putting a "Chinutnik" into orbit this would give the East a further advantage.

★ ★ ★

Hence, although Britain realizes there are no good grounds for duplicating American and Russian work, there is the all-important political aspect. This underlines the view that Britain ought to put up several satellites in the near future to offset a possible Eastern preponderance.

Looking back over the eventful year it is odd how little impact the launching of Sputnik I made on the british people who had no intense feeling of competition with the Russians, as had the Americans.

Britain did not consider it a blow to national pride and was inclined rather to take it for granted since for the preceding 10 years space flight had been a common topic for discussion and many people were wondering why it was all taking so long anyway.

LITTLE INTEREST

There was, however, little official interest in space flight.

Sputnik I came as a surprise, of course, to the scientific community. But it was only a mild surprise. The tendency was to regard satellites as an expensive way of accomplishing very little.

Sputnik II came, however, as a real shock. The weight and wealth of instrumentation showed beyond all doubt what such a satellite could do and brought with it the realization that the 20 - 40 pound satellite was by no means the limit of what was technically feasible.

★ ★ ★

It was obvious to scientists most intimately connected with the International Geophysical Year that new and exciting possibilities were about to be opened up. Official quarters, too, became more interested in space flight though this was equally due to the fact the British aircraft industry faced a cutback in production and was building up pressure to secure another outlet for its research staffs.

PHILIP STEPS IN

Then Prince Philip took the bull completely by the horns and publicly declared: "I personally cannot believe that the British people or the people of the Commonwealth will be content to sit by and watch others explore the universe around us."

This was obviously fighting talk and results were not long in appearing. Soon afterwards, the existence of two British research vehicles, "The Black Knight" and a re-entry vehicle called "Blue Streak," were made known.

A test firing of "Black Knight" recently put it up to about 300 miles and present information shows that it could probably launch a satellite much larger than the American "Explorers" or "Vanguards" though not such a heavyweight as the Russian Sputnik III.

★ ★ ★

There are still many people in the United Kingdom and elsewhere who ask, as the second year of Space begins: "What are we going to get for our money?"

There is no satisfactory answer this early in the game. But all past history shows that science has an uncanny way of paying off and space flight will be no exception. Even if it doesn't pay off immediatey in a material sense it may well do so in a spiritua sense.

★ ★ ★

In this, the great centenary year of the evolutionary theory of Charles Darwin, some of us are wondering if space flight is another means of natural selection. Is it nature's way of ensuring that the vigorous people survive while the others who stay at home gradually fade away?

This is a thought worth considering as we begin the second year of the space age.

Decorate Kitchen to Add Festive Note

A spotless, orderly kitchen adds its charm to holiday entertaining. So sponge clean all cupboards and appliances well in advance of the shopping rush. Clean floors, too, using a long-handled sponge-type mop to save energy and use a rapid drying cleanser that doesn't need rinsing—all of which leaves you with more pep for holiday fun.

★ ★ ★

A few decorations in the kitchen, meanwhile, add continuity and a cheery note while doing the cooking.

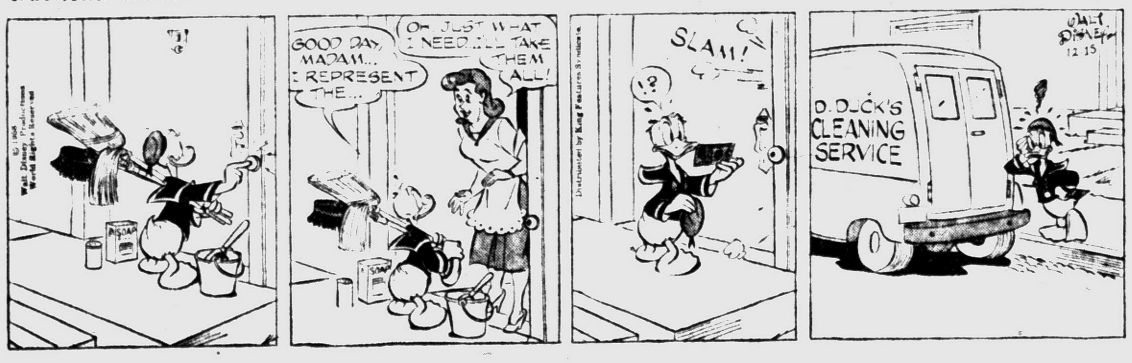

If you have a bulletin board, pin some colorful Christmas cards on it. Or put short pine branches in a bowl on the window sill or a shelf and attach some tinsel, tiny Christmas balls or little bows, so that it looks like a miniature tree.

Farmers Voting Today on Federal Crop Support

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thousands of farmers across the nation vote today on whether they want the government to continue high price support programs for the cotton, extra long staple cotton, rice and flue-cured tobacco crops.

Agriculture Department officials predicted farmers would vote by a wide margin for continuing the programs.

A vote in favor of continuing the programs also is a vote for accepting continued federal controls on how much of each crop may be planted.

Buffalo steaks are served by many restaurants in the Black Hills of South Dakota. But one drive-in offers buffalo chow mein.

A&P Stock Opens at $59 Per Share

NEW YORK (AP) — Great Atlantic & Pacific Co. common stock —all of which now has voting power for the first time in the company's 99 year history—opened on the New York Stock Exchange today at $59 a share.

The opening was delayed more than half an hour as the specialist in the stock matched buying and selling orders.

★ ★ ★

This is the only outstanding stock of the company. Last Friday at the first stockholders meeting in 99 years the shareowners approved a recapitalization plan, splitting the old common shares and exchanging preferred shares for common.

★ ★ ★

The old common shares were traded on the American Stock Exchange. They closed Friday at $536 a share. These shares were split 10-for-1 in the recapitalization. The preferred shares closed on the American Friday at $163 a share. Each old preferred is being exchanged for three of the new common.

★ ★ ★

The dividend rate on the new common has not been set but Ralph Burger, president, told the stockholders it would be approximately 80 cents a share a year.

Train Hits Stalled School Bus

SAGINAW (AP)—At least six children were injured today when a train rammed their stalled school bus on a crossing at nearby Bridgeport.

The injured were rushed to Saginaw hospitals. State Police said none appeared critically hurt.

There were 55 to 60 children aboard the bus.

Thomas White, superintendent of Bridgeport Community Schools, said the injuries apparently were all bruises and minor cuts.

★ ★ ★

He said the driver of the bus, Russell J. Knisley, leaped from his seat and attempted to flag down the oncoming Chesapeake and Ohio freight train.

The train slowed but was unable to come to a complete halt before hitting the bus.

Only the extreme front end of the bus protruded across the tracks. The train hit it and spun the vehicle away from the train.

The crossing is guarded by flashing lights. State Police said Knisley had stopped at the crossing and then attempted to procede only to have the bus stall.

The fenders were smashed on the bus and the motor was caved in slightly.

The children who suffered injuries were hurt from the jolt.

The bus did not overturn.

The fact that Knisley was able to flag the train to a slow speed apparently saved serious injury.

Humphrey Tells West:

Show Strength in Berlin

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) says the Western powers should impress Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev with their determination to remain in Berlin.

If Khrushchev is sufficiently impressed with such determination, the senator said Sunday, he will be more receptive to sensible discussion.

★ ★ ★

In any event, Humphrey added, Khrushchev is unlikely to go to war over Berlin because the Soviet's satellite states are too unreliable.

The Minnesota Democrat said he doubts that force will be necessary if the United States and its allies stand firm on the Berlin question.

★ ★ ★

In Paris the Western Big Three foreign ministers "reaffirmed the determination of their governments to maintain their position and their rights with respect to Berlin, including the right of free access."

★ ★ ★

Last Nov. 27 Khrushchev proposed making Berlin a demilitarized free city. Humphrey recently interviewed the Soviet Premier for eight hours in the Kremlin.

★ ★ ★

"Even if the Russians withdraw, we must stay," Humphrey said.

He also suggested that all corridors to Western troops in Berlin must remain open.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey was interviewed on a television program. He neither confirmed nor denied that he might be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president in 1960.

Fail to End Deadlock Idling Chrysler Plants

DETROIT (AP) — The Chrysler Dodge Main plant strike idling more than 40,000 workers moved into its 14th day today after a vain marathon effort to reach peace over the weekend.

Officials of striking United Auto Workers Local 3 sought to set up an immediate resumption of negotiations.

An effort to get an agreement broke up at 6 a.m. (EST) yesterday. Nightlong talks had given rise to hope that the dispute could be resolved.

A strikers' mass meeting to ratify a possible agreement later in the day heard only a report on the continued stalemate.

The UAW charges a production speedup at the key Dodge plant. Its strike of 7,100 workers has led to parts shortages and resultant widespread layoffs here and in plants across the country.

A dispute over relief time for 400 workers in one department of the factory was the reported basic disagreement.

Calls Meeting Today Over Booth Strike

DETROIT (AP) — A state mediator sought new consultations with both sides today in the 21st day of a printers strike at the nine daily newspapers of Booth Newspapers, Inc.

Archie Simms, the mediator, said he would try to determine whether the publishers and the striking International Typographical Union wished further negotiations.

About 500 printers have been on strike against the papers in eight Michigan cities since Nov. 25 in a contract dispute. None of the papers has published since the strike began.

Over the weekend a new contract offer was placed before ITU members at the papers and votes were taken at seven of the nine. Four rejected the proposal and three approved.

Veteran Auto Leader William Clark Dies

FLINT (AP) — William W. Clark Jr., 78-year-old long-time automotive executive, died yesterday, apparently of a heart attack. He had suffered a stroke several months ago.

★ ★ ★

Clark was production manager for the old Weston-Mott Co., acquired by Buick in 1916. He remained with Buick in various executive capacities until 1932.

In World War II he was production superintendent for AC Sparkplug Division of General Motors Corp.

★ ★ ★

In 1917-19 he was president of Flint Aviation Co., an airplane builder in those days. At the time of his death he was treasurer of Engineered Products Co. of Flint, an automotive parts manufacturer.

Canned Alarm Clocks Free From Corrosion

WINSTED, Conn. (UPI) —The latest item for supermarket shelves is a canned alarm clock. Manufactured by the Gilbert Clock Co. here, it is packed in hermetically sealed tins resembling coffee containers, retails for $2.98 and carries a one-year guarantee.

★ ★ ★

The clocks are designed to reach consumers "factory fresh," since the airtight container prevents corrosion of the movement and drying out of lubricating oils.

Eastern Hopes for Settlement

Must Now Be OK'd by Union Members; AA Sees No Walkout

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A tentative agreement between Eastern Air Lines and its striking mechanics today built up hopes that the world's biggest passenger carrier will be back in service before Christmas.

Eastern and its flight engineers get together today in a meeting that could bolster or shatter this optimism.

★ ★ ★

The airline and the International Assn. of Machinists agreed Sunday night on a contract, but it still must be approved by union members.

Settlement of these disputes will end the last of three strikes against major airlines — Eastern, Trans World and Capitol. Three others—Northeastern, Northwestern and National—avoided strikes.

O. N. Roberts, Miami local chairman, said the engineers' strike would continue until they get a contract. He expressed confidence the machinists would not cross engineer picket lines.

Ron Brown, Flight Engineers vice president, said, "I hope the air line will be back in operation very soon."

In New York City last Friday, a federal judge lifted a temporary strike ban against pilots for American Airlines, but the union said it had no immediate plans for a walkout.

There are 117,000 government units in the United States.

Auto Production Rosy

No Recession Gloom Left Now

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — Production figures reported by the auto industry in the past two weeks have sounded the death knell for any lingering gears that the nation was still in a recession.

★ ★ ★

The figures provide an encouraging contrast with automotive production figures reported at the same time last year, when even the most persistent optimists gave up hopes of avoiding a recession.

It was during December last year that the first auto producers began to cut back on production because new cars were not selling as fast as they had anticipated.

This year, production rates are holding steady anad even being increased slightly. Dealer supplies of unsold automobiles were nearly 200,000 units below the 695,000-unit inventory at the same time last year.

★ ★ ★

A year ago dealers were complaining that the auto companies were shoving more cars at them than they could handle. Today many dealers are asking for more cars. And work schedules have been stepped up by the auto industry to keep pace with the demand.

In the first week of December 1957, General Motors was still turning out cars at a record pace. But Ford and Chrysler had started to cut back and held production for the week to 145,137.

By the end of 1957, however, Ford and Chrysler had boosted their layoffs and General Motors worked only a 3½-day week.

★ ★ ★

In the final week of the year, production dwindled to 81,726—a 41.8 per cent decline from the previous week.

At the beginning of December 1957, there were still a few optimists who were half-heartedly issuing glowing statements but by the end of the month they were drowned out by depressing facts and figures.

The auto industry had started out producing cars at near record levels but dropped off drastically near the turn of the year.

★ ★ ★

This year, the industry, which introduced its 1959 models earlier than usual, started production slowly, waiting to see how sales were going before stepping up output.

But impressive sales forced the industry to gradually step up production until they were once more turning out cars at near record levels in the final month of the year.

In the first week of this month Cadillac set a new record for production in one week, turning out 4,413 luxury cars. In the same week the industry as a whole turned out more cars, 147,361, than in any other week of the year.

Chevrolet and Rambler established new weekly highs during the second week of the month and only a strike which idled a large share of Chrysler's employes prevented the industry from surpassing the previous week.

★ ★ ★

Rambler announced it was expanding production by 33 per cent.

While no one was willing to predict record sales for the industry during the 1959 model year, everyone in the industry was confident it would be a "good" year.

In December 1957 the trend was down. In December 1958 it is up.

Christmas will be merrier for the auto industry this year because it is looking forward to a happy New Year.

Minister Urges Bus Boycott

Negro Pastor Ignores Police Jail Threat in Alabama Sermon

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A Negro minister defied police warnings Sunday and urged Negroes to boycott segregated Birmingham buses.

The Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth told his congregation: "You sin when you yield to the bus company's sin of segregation. I call upon you to use passive resistance to defeat this evil."

★ ★ ★

He was one of 20 Negro ministers who had said they would use their Sunday sermons to denounce Birmingham's bus segregation law. Apparently most of them used some variation of this topic.

No one was arrested although Police Commissioner Eugene Conner warned recently that anyone, "white or black," leading an attempt to boycott Birmingham buses would be jailed.

Shuttlesworth was recently convicted of violating the city's bus seating law and sentenced to 90 days in jail and a $100 fine. He has filed an appeal. Twelve other Negroes also were convicted and received suspended sentences.

The Rev. J. L. Ware was one of the first to announce plans for attacking the law, but he said he did not preach on segregation. He said, "We're not just interested in the buses. The big thing we're interested in is that we do not have to clear our sermons with the officials."

The ministers said their anti-segregation sermons were planned to protest the Nov. 25 arrest of another Negro pastor, the Rev. Calvin W. Woods, on charges of urging a boycott—a violation of state law.

Was Show Romance?

STANDLEY, N. D. (UPI) —Mrs. Mike Hovda was on the verge of calling police to help locate her missing eight-year-old son one night when she decided to look one more place. At her request, the manager of the local movie house unlocked the door and found the boy sound asleep in his seat in the darkened theater.

Mission Accomplished

NEWINGTON, Conn. (UPI) — Mrs. John Nordquist finally achieved a lifetime ambition to visit all 48 states. She got to the last 22 of them during an 11,000-mile journey, alone, at the age of 78.

Budding builder erects fiberboard playtown. Giant blocks and barrels nest or stack to fit his plans.

Includes All Holidays

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (UPI) — Prof. Frederick L. Schuman of Williams College sends one greeting card a year to each of his friends. Every summer, Schuman wishes them a Merry Christmas, "last and next," a Happy New Year, "last and next," and greetings for Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and "any other holiday you are of a mind to celebrate."

Eleanor Roosevelt Says:

Only Red China Could Survive WW III

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says Red China is the only nation of the world's Big Three which could survive World War III.

She described the Big Three as the United States, the Soviet Union and Red China.

The former First Lady said in a talk Sunday night before the Greater Boston Brandeis University Club that Red China may be attempting to provoke World War III through Quemoy and Matsu.

She said she learned from Soviet Premiere Nikita Khrushchev that a two-day Soviet timetable calls for the destruction of Western Europe and Great Britain in a day and the destruction of the United States in a second day.

If Red China could goad nationalist China to invade the mainland, she said, the United States promise to support Chiang Kai-shek would lead the United States into war.

The Soviet Union, she added, is pledged to attack the United States mainland in that event.

Elvis Weapon of Cold War —East Germany

BERLIN (UPI) — East German Communists attacked Pfc. Elvis Presley as a "cold war" weapon yesterday and said Soviet zone youth would not be trapped by the "modern Pied Piper of Hamlin."

★ ★ ★

The official Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland printed a picture of the rock 'n' roll singer and a teenage German girl he has been dating in Frankfurt.

The headline over the picture said "Cold War Weapon."

★ ★ ★

The paper denied reports in the West Berlin press that Presley, now on maneuvers with the U.S. 3rd Armored Division in West Germany, was popular among young people behind the iron curtain.

"The majority of the youth of the German Democratic Republic (East Germany) will not be trapped by the modern Pied Piper of Hamlin, and the few who still 'adore' him will certainly, on second thought, agree"—the paper said in the latest attack on the American singer.

★ ★ ★

Under the picture, a caption read: "Puffed up like a peacock, Presley, hooting like a ship-warning buoy, is an advertisement for NATO in the west zone."

New Sales Technique

SOUTHAMPTON, England (UPI) — When washing machines, television and vacuum cleaners began vanishing from a Southampton store detectives mounted guard for several nights without catching any burglars. Then store officials nabbed one of their own salesmen who had been calmly wheeling the goods out in broad daylight, under the noses of his fellow employes who assumed they were being delivered to customers.

Teamsters Pay for Cleanup

Bender Gets $250 Daily When He Heads Union Investigation Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators said today appointment of ex-Sen. George Bender to head a Teamsters Union cleanup committee has cost the union nearly $25,000 so far.

Of the total, said Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Rackets Committee, $15,750 represents fees paid to Bender since his appointment last Aug. 18 by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

McClellan said information obtained by the committee shows that Bender charged the Teamsters for 63 working days, over a period of about three months, at the rate of $250 a day.

In addition, McClellan said, the union has spent $3,000 for the salary of Bender's personal secretary and lesser amounts for postage, telephone bills and other expenses to bring the total to $24,800.58.

The expenditures were detailed by McClellan in a letter to Martin F. O'Donoghue, chairman of a court-appointed board of monitors for the scandal-tarred Teamsters Union.

★ ★ ★

McClellan told O'Donoghue he was bringing the matter to his attention because of "your interest in possible wasteful duplication of Teamsters Union funds."

Bender, former Republican senator from Ohio, was named by Hoffa after the board of monitors had been charged by a federal judge with responsibility for overseeing the affairs of the union and conducting a housecleaning.

Last week the monitors won a ruling from U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts here reinforcing their cleanup powers in the face of objections from Hoffa.

McClellan, in his letter to O'Donoghue, said Hoffa had announced during the week that "his self - appointed committee had found the Teamsters Union free of corruption."

"I might say to you," McClellan continued, "that at no time did Mr. Bender or any representatives of his committee solicit any of the information that this committee has gathered in months of investigation into the activities of the Teamsters and Mr. Hoffa."

NEW YORK (UPI) — The busiest number of the New York Telephone Co. is MEridian 7-1212 which may be dialed any hour of the day or night to obtain the correct time. This has been going on for 30 years and the telephone company has discovered most calls are made between 4 and 5 p.m., on weekdays. It has decided they come from "clock-watchers" who want to make sure they don't work overtime.

One-half the patients in hospitals in the U. S. suffer mental ailments.

Others Provide Holiday Shows

Crosby Clan Gathering, but O'Brian, Donna Reed Must Work

NEW YORK — Most television stars will spend Christmas eve and Christmas day at the family tree surrounded by the laughter of their children. But for some of their TV associates the Yuletide glow will come from providing entertainment for millions of families except their own.

Among the lucky stars is Bing Crosby, celebrating a significant Christmas this year. It will be the first Yule for "Tex" Crosby, new baby boy of Bing and Kathy Crosby. "Tex" is Bing's fifth son.

And that isn't all for the Crosby clan. For the first time in several years, all four of Bing's grown sons—Gary, twins Phillip and Dennis, and Lindsay—will be on hand at the Crosby home in Holmby Hills, Calif. To top it all, Bing and his grown boys plan to circulate on Christmas eve, singing carols.

Add to the "working stars" Hugh O'Brian, star of "The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp," as well as the star and cast of "The Donna Reed Show."

O'Brian will be on a personal appearance tour through England during the holiday season. Donna will work on her bright new family comedy series right through the holidays, following a few days off for a whirlwind trip to New York in mid-December.

However, Miss Reed and her husband, producer Tony Owen, plan a big Christmas weekend at home with their four children.

The man most up in the air about Christmas is host-narrator Jack Smith of "You Asked for It" who, like Santa Claus himself, has no idea just where he'll be.

"We might be shooting film in Canada or Europe," says Jack somewhat wistfully. "But, after all, like St. Nick, I have to make my rounds, because you asked for it!"

Young song idol Pat Boone, on the air from New York Christmas night, will be able to celebrate Christmas eve with his wife Shirley and their four little girls in their new home in Teaneck, N.J. Pat will invite Christmas eve carolers in for snacks.

Dick Clark will celebrate Christmas the following Sunday with his folks in Philadelphia.

Patti Page, star of "The Oldsmobile Show," will cook dinner for husband Charles O'Curran and friends in the Manhattan apartment.

The Nelson family of "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet," including sons David and Rick, will be at home in Hollywood for the holiday season.

Wig the Thing in Cleo's Time

Style of Man's Hairpiece Told His Profession; Made With Goat Hair

WASHINGTON — Cleopatra was one woman of destiny who favored the ready-made hairdo. In her day (B.C. 69-30) it was an old Egyptian custom. King Djoser wore a royal wig 27 centuries earlier. He is pictured with a striped linen cap and black tresses reaching below his shoulders.

Wigs were common in early Greece and Rome. Some may have come from Persia. According to contemporary records and carvings, Cretans and Carthaginians, too, went in for artificial hair.

Elaborate perukes and periwigs reached peak popularity in Europe during the 17th Century. Earlier, Henry III of France had merely concealed his baldness by simulated hair. Louis XIII and Lous XIV, affected by similar deficiencies, set court styles by adopting extreme wig forms as part of official costume.

From Paris, fashion center then as now, the craze spread to London and the American Colonies. As followers multiplied, so did the variations—monumental or modest, powdered or natural, in human or goat's hair.

Special cuts distinguished professional groups — doctors, judges, clergymen, merchants, soldiers. Demand for sausage curls, flowing waves, puffs and pigtails created a new industry and artisan class.

BIG DADDY PLAYS SANTA — Burl Ives, noted actor and folk singer, is a bemused Santa as Dinah Shore tries to direct his attention to the picture on the wall where Gale Storm quietly filches a gift package from the mantel. Ives and Miss Storm will be guest stars on the NBC-TV 'Dinah Shore Chevy Show' Christmas colorcast on Sunday, Dec. 21.

Ava Steals the Scenes Without Temperament

By EARL WILSON

ROME — The hardy Americans huddle in their overcoats at the sidewalk tables on the Via Veneto at this Christmas season and talk enviously of those going home. Ava Gardner was flying back to N.Y., the Carolinas and Hollywood after stealing her own picture, "The Naked Maja," working long hours uncomplainingly and untemperamentally and being quite a doll about it. Her steady beau Walter Chiari —busy now with TV and a film—says when he finishes he'll join her about March on her next picture job—in Australia.

WILSON

Sam Steinman, the Newark, N.J., newsman who named the busiest street "Veneto Beach," told of an Italian who said to a friend: "Francesco, you are so well dressed! Would you give me the address of your tailor?" Francesco replied: "Yes, on condition you don't give him mine."

AVA

The Americanos are much in evidence. Handsome Lex Barker (of N.Y.C.), prospering in European films, told me he was rushing off to Switzerland ("That's where my girls is")—Mario Lanza (of Philadelphia) is back in the Big Money, having signed for five albums, three films in Germany and is discussing a TV spec to be filmed here—with Maria Callas . . .

The Rome wolves are now called "the Young Lions" . . . I met Author James Jones and B.W. at Jerry's Bar (run by Jerry Chierchio of Louisana) and Jones was explaining to us and to George Seabury, the Pan-Am giant there, why he doesn't dance much. "It's the Italian orchestras," he said. "They can't seem to keep very good time with our dance steps."

EARL'S PEARLS: To meet the challenge of hard times a Frenchman changes his gov't, an Englishman votes new taxes, a Russian switches his propaganda—and an American just trades in his old car on a new model.—Harold Coffin, Quote.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There's a Broadway showgirl who's ashamed to tell how she got her mink. She bought it.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The first cow was brought to this country ten years before the Mayflower. But you never hear cows boast of their ancestors. — Ima Washout. That's earl, brother.

Give Sportsmen New Equipment for Christmas

The old bit about a sportsman being as good as his equipment has a grain of truth. You can start improving your favorite male's prowess this Christmas by buying him some new things.

If you have doubts about what to buy, check a sporting goods store or his fellow sportsmen.

Although the golf enthusiast usually prefers to select his own clubs, he is most receptive to such gifts as a good leather golf bag, a pair of the new lightweight leather golf shoes, golf carts and the numbered leather club head "mitts." And, of course, golf balls.

The ranks of male skiers are growing and if your man is among them, buy him something for the slopes.

★ ★ ★

For instance, a colorful parka, a pair of sleek stretch pants, lined leather gloves that extend well above the wrist to keep the snow out, or a handy leather pouch that fastens on his belt to hold ear keys, cigarettes, etc.

Boots, of course, rate high with the sportsman. Sturdy leather boots with flexible leather soles that protect feet from rough terrain and yet allow freedom of movement for comfort over long stretches of walking or standing are preferred.

Hunting boats, riding boots, ski boots and hiking boots come into this category, and size need not be a problem. Just check his shoes for the size.

TV's 'Kingfish' Dies From TB

Veteran Negro Actor of Amos 'n' Andy Show to Be Buried Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Harry R. (Tim) Moore, 70-year-old Kingfish of the Amos 'n' Andy television series, will be buried next Saturday.

He died Saturday of tuberculosis.

But, as colleague Freeman Gosden put it, "his comedy will carry on."

★ ★ ★

Seventy-nine TV films in which Moore appeared are rerunning in scores of U.S. cities.

Moore joined Gosden and Charles Correll when they converted from radio to TV. Gosden played both Amos and Kingfish in the original radio series.

The veteran Negro actor had been a jockey and professional boxer. His last camera appearance was in 1953. Recently he had been master of ceremonies at a Los Angeles night club.

★ ★ ★

Moore, at the age of 12, left his native Rock Island, Ill., to join a vaudeville troupe. He played in Blackbirds of '28 on Broadway and went through Europe with the show. He returned to the United States in the late 30s and toured with a comedy act accompanying name bands.

★ ★ ★

Last March Moore and his second wife Vivian almost parted in a domestic battle over a roast beef he said Vivian's relatives had eaten. He was jailed for firing a gun — then let off with a suspended $100 fine.

Man Finds Treasure Hidden in Old Chimney

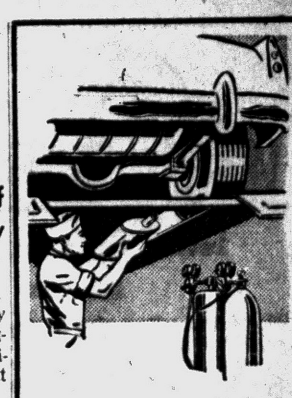

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Charlie T. Hays, a farmer, was tearing down the chimney of his house when he discovered a metal box containing $5,000 in cash.

Hays, who has lived in the house 20 years, said he didn't know who had hid the money, but added:

"It was enough to be appreciated."

JEREMY CHRISTMAS — A Yuletide Story — BY WALT SCOTT

Grocery-Robbing Lads Make Good on Reform

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The King Cobras, who reformed publicly 10 months ago, have made it stick.

They're the juvenile gang members who gave a "restitution dinner" last February after some of them took part in a grocery burglary.

★ ★ ★

The dinner netted $133.08 to more than repay the grocer. A judge gave them another chance.

What's happened since?

"They're making good," said James L. White, executive director of Neighborhood House, Inc., the social service agency that helped them with the public repayment dinner.

"Not one boy has been in trouble with the law since."

★ ★ ★

The King Cobras gang has been dissolved and the youths have gone separate ways.

The answer, says White, was "redirection."

"Everyone has weaknesses—but he has strengths too. What we have done is built on their strengths."

★ ★ ★

Two of the boys organized a dance band. Several others made athletic teams at their schools. Another has been elected to his school's student council.

★ ★ ★

White has lost track of two of the former gang members whose families moved to the East.

One of the former Cobra leaders will be graduated from high school in June and plans to study engineering.

"I know I'm not going to have any more trouble," he said.

"I just wish I could erase my record. It was pretty stupid."

Japanese Miners Strike

TOKYO (AP)—More than 250,000 miners today launched a partial strike at 12 major Japanese coal mines for an indefinite period. The strikers, members of the National Coal Miners Union, demand an average yearend bonus of 2,000 yen (about $61) per worker.

In 1850 there was not a mile of steam railroad anywhere west of the Mississippi river in the U. S.
