Double Emmy Winners

Movie Industry Tops TV in Staging Awards Show

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Father Knows Best, Dinah Shore and Jack Benny, honored at last, were the stars last night in television's annual Emmy Awards.

The show, telecast over NBC-TV, proved one thing—that the movie industry puts on a better TV show than TV itself.

Entertainmentwise, the Emmy show looked like a junior class play compared with the movies' recent Oscar telecast.

Milton Berle, a TV pioneer who hasn't worked in the medium for three years, gave the Emmy show its only lift with fast quips.

Miss Shore won Emmys for the best musical show and for the best continuing performance by a female.

Benny won the Emmy for the best continuing male performance only seconds after he was voted a special Academy trustees' award. As one member of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences explained:

AT LONG LAST!

"We've been very embarrassed that such a great comedian as Jack Benny has never won an Emmy before. So we decided to make sure he got at least one tonight."

Father Knows Best, a situation family comedy almost dropped two years ago, won an Emmy for Robert Young as the best actor in a series and for Jane Wyatt as best actress in the same category.

"The Comedian," a Playhouse 90 production, was named the best single program of the year. Rod Serling, its author, won the best writing Emmy. Mickey Rooney, whose performance in the title role was judged an all-time TV classic by many critics, didn't get a nod as best actor.

That award was won by Britisher Peter Ustinov for his portrayal of Dr. Samuel Johnson on the Omnibus show. That series also won an Emmy as the best public service program.

Seven Lively Arts, a show already off the air, was named the best new program of the year.

Polly Bergen won the Emmy for best actress in the Playhouse 90 production of "The Helen Morgan Story."

Tree Powder Kills Tot

SAGINAW (AP) — Insecticide which 3-year-old James Ugartechea came across in a neighbor's yard caused his death yesterday. The child ate some of the poison which the neighbor had been using on trees. Coroner Harold Cedarburg said the insecticide paralyzes the respiratory and nervous systems, causing death.

Find Real Peace Within Yourself, Says Professor

ANN ARBOR (INS) — A University of Michigan psychologist says persons suffering from the modern "age of anxiety" should look into themselves to find peace of mind.

Assistant Professor Elton B. McNeil declares introspection is at the top of the list of remedies for people who are torn by various anxieties.

"Look into yourself," he advises. "Face reality by seeing yourself as others see you. Read and think in terms of yourself.

"The best weapon against anxiety is understanding, and this is what education tries to give you."

Professor McNeil states persons cannot win a battle with anxiety unless they realize they are actually engaged in one.

"Knowing that there are reasons for your uneasiness is the first step."

The psychologist calls contemporary society the "age of anxiety" because:

"What we have abolished in fear of nature, we have added in fear of man's control over nature."

Twisters Batter Florida Cities, Injuring Fifty

Ft. Pierce, St. Augustine, Winauma Hit; Damage Estimated at $5 Million

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—Martial law was lifted today and this city of 23,000 began the task of cleaning up in the wake of a capricious tornado.

It left 50 persons injured and property damage estimated at five million dollars.

Storm clouds also bred twisters north of here, at St. Augustine, and on the Florida west coast, near Fort Myers and at Wimauma, 25 miles south of Tampa.

The hardest hit was Fort Pierce. The storm struck at 1:15 p.m.

Freak winds straddled parts of the main thoroughfare from west to east, destrayed 37 homes and damaged 200 others.

No deaths were reported.

★ ★ ★

Refrigerators were tossed about like empty matchboxes, roofs lifted off and huge truckloads of tomatoes overturned or pushed into orange groves beside the road.

The town was battered by high winds and rain for nearly 10 minutes. Most of the injured were in the path of the twister. Fallen trees and telephone poles hampered the work of rescuers.

At St. Augustine, the suburb of Ponce de Leon Heights was hit by a tornado which injured 14 persons. A dozen homes were damaged by the wind.

At Wimauma, a farming community, barns were moved from foundations, trees uprooted and fences and signs blown down. No injuries were reported in the third of the four tornadoes.

At Pine Island, a man and a boy were injured and several homes were damaged by the fourth tornado.

★ ★ ★

An elderly couple, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Johnson, said their home at Fort Pierce seemed to disappear all at once.

"We were sitting in the kitchen when the tornado struck," related Mrs. Johnson. "We looked around and there just wasn't any house left."

A B47 jet bomber from MacDill Air Force Base at Tampa blew up and burned while a tornado was scourging Mullet Key on Tampa Bay. No trace was found of the four airmen aboard.

West Ready to Talk to Russia on Summit

LONDON (AP) — The three Western powers told the Soviet Union today their ambassadors were ready to begin broad scope summit talk preparations in Moscow tomorrow.

In carefully worded notes delivered to the Soviet government, the United States, Britain and France expressed their willingness to take the first step on the road to a possible top-level meeting if the preparatory work included basic East-West issues.

Mothers Are Sisters, Sons Arrive Close Together

2 Marshalls Wed to Cuthrells Visit Maternity Ward Together

Two of the Marshall girls of Drayton Plains (Janet and Dorothy,) eventually married Cuthrell boys across the way (James and Alfred, respectively). The marriages were seven years apart.

This week however, they were nip-and-tuck with each other in the maternity ward at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. It turned out this way:

Janet, 22, (now Mrs. James E. Cuthrell of 977 Daffodil St.) became the mother of a seven-pound, nine - ounce boy, James E. Jr., Monday night.

Dorothy, 30, (now Mrs. Alfred Cuthrell of 539 Avon Rd.) followed suit 11 hours later. Her son, Michael Alfred, weighed in at eight pounds, fourteen ounces.

ALL DOING FINE

The sister mothers and baby cousins are all doing fine. And the brother fathers are mighty proud.

The double birth is another coincidence in the joint history of the Cuthrell and Marshall clans.

Originally, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marshall lived at 4160 Quilan Rd. They had four boys and five girls, including Janet and Dorothy.

About half a mile away, at 3490 Walton boulevard, lived Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Cuthrell. They had two girls and six boys, including James and Alfred.

★ ★ ★

Despite being near neighbors, Dorothy and Alfred did not happen to meet until after the families had moved apart. It took a high school dance in Clarkston, which both attended, to bring them together.

They married in 1949 and already have Stephen, 7, and Constance, 5. He is a track coach and driver training instructor at Waterford High School.

As for Janet and James too young to have met as neighbors, they already were in-laws by the time they were growing up.

They married two years ago and have a daughter, Kim, 13 months. James works at National Twist Drill & Tool Co. in Rochester.

4 Youths Guilty of Boy's Slaying

3 Others Acquitted in New York Gang Attack on 15-Year-Old Lad

NEW YORK (AP) — Four members of a youth gang were convicted last night in the slaying of Michael Farmer, 15-year-old polio-crippled son of a city fireman.

All escaped the electric chair. The three other defendants were all acquitted.

An all-male jury returned its verdict 24 hours after receiving the case.

Charles (Big Man) Horton, an 18-year-old Negro, and Louis Alvarez, 17-year-old Puerto Rican, were convicted of murder in the second degree. They face a mandatory term of 20 years to life in prison when they come up for sentencing May 21.

They were the only defendants subject to judgment for first-degree murder, for which the death sentence is mandatory.

Alvarez's father Louis fainted in court when he heard the verdict.

Found guilty of second-degree manslaughter, punishable by up to 15 years in prison, were Leroy (Magician) Birch, a Negro who was the oldest defendant at 19, and Leoncio (Jello) de Leon, 17, a native of the Dominican Republic.

★ ★ ★

Acquitted were the three remaining members of the Egyptian Dragons on trial: John McCarthy, an epileptic and the "baby" of the group at 15; Richard Hills, 17, who had claimed he was drafted

Watch Your Manners, City Pigeons Cautioned

By PETE LOCHBILER

When is a pigeon a lovely, domesticated showpiece and when is it a common courthouse despoiler? The question can no longer be pigeonholed.

City Commissioners, whose battle against the latter variety is legion, found it difficult last night to believe there might be any other kind. But they conceded some people might think so.

★ ★ ★

Reluctantly, they concluded their ordinance governing public nuisances should be amended slightly — but only slightly — for the benefit of pigeon fanciers.

One such friend of pigeons, Edmund Bachmann, of 405 E. Walton Blvd., told them his pets should not be classified in the ordinance, along with horses, cows, pigs, goats, chickens, geese and ducks, as dangerous to health, welfare and safety of the community.

"My pigeons are not like those at the courthouse. Mine are beautiful, rare birds," he said with feeling. "They have gorgeous plumage. They are so tame, they can hardly fly."

Touched by the plea for permission to raise his pets within the city, Commissioners decided on a compromise.

They wouldn't go so far as to strike pigeons from the ordinance. But they did ask that a minor amendment to the ordinance be prepared, giving the City Manager authority to decide when a pigeon is a pet and when it is a pest.

Highway Bill Decision Left Up in the Air

President Indicates No Change of Attitude on Reducing Taxes

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that whenever he is convinced a tax cut would benefit the country, the Administration will consider it.

However, he left up in the air whether he will sign or veto the interstate highway bill.

Eisenhower told his news conference he will act before a midnight deadline on the measure, which would put an additional $1,800,000,000 into the construction program.

The President gave no indication of any change in his thinking that no tax reduction is necessary at this time.

Eisenhower was reminded by a reporter that former President Truman advocates a five-billion-dollar tax cut for low and middle income groups.

NO COMMENT ON VIEWS

A newsman asked then for Eisenhower's views regarding taxes—and what form any reduction should take.

Without mentioning Truman by name, Eisenhower said he would have no comment on the views of any one else.

But he went on to say that when he is convinced a tax cut would benefit the United States, then it will be taken up.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower cautioned against rushing into any huge public works program in an effort to combat the recession. Truman advocates a big increase in spending for such projects.

Saying we must be very, very careful about getting into such programs, Eisenhower added we should try to be reasonable and not get what he called a Sputnik attitude about everything.

The President offered a rebuttal too to Truman's call for reducing costs of carrying the public debt.

MONEY FLOOD RAPPED

Eisenhower said that in order to lower interest costs on the public debt it might be necessary to flood the country with money to sustain a lower interest rate. That in turn, he added, would mean higher prices.

And that is the sort of pro-

The group, accompanied by 16 teachers, will tour the capital and visit Annapolis, Md., and Alexandria and Mt. Vernon, Va. They will return Sunday morning.

Broomfield Lauds Veto of Rivers, Harbors Bill

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's veto of the omnibus rivers and harbors bill was a defeat of pork barrel tactics. said Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) today.

Broomfield — one of the leaders in the fight to eliminate more than $300 million in objectionable projects — said the President's action will mean an end to the "giveaway" tactics employed by Democrats in the public works committees.

★ ★ ★

"These members loaded down the bill with projects which had not been approved by Army engineers or the Budget Bureau" said Broomfield. "They were simply attempts by some congressmen to pick up votes in their home district."

"It is a shame that more than $1 billion in worthwhile projects — including some $73 million in Michigan — have to wait because the bill was packed with pork," said Broomfield.

"President Eisenhower vetoed a similar public works bill in 1956 because it was loaded down with objectionable projects. The pork smells just as strong this year as it did two years ago."

CLAIMS ARE 'NONSENSE'

Broomfield said claims that the omnibus bill was an antirecession measure are "nonsense."

"The bill merely authorized projects. They can't be built until money is appropriated by Congress. It would have taken years for construction to start in most cases.

"A backlog of $5 billion to $7 billion in projects is ready for construction if Congress really wants to act," said Broomfield. "All Congress has to do is appropriate the money."

Tonight's low will be about 42 - 46.

Temperatures for the next five days will average around 12 degrees above the normal high of 57 degrees and the normal low of 38. The daily highs are expected to be in the 70s and the lows in the 40s.

Precipitation will total around one-tenth of an inch or less with possible showers about Saturday and again Monday.

The lowest thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 48 degrees. The mercury rose to 75 at 2 p.m.

Dugan, Hallenbeck Seek to Represent District 5

The District 5 incumbent and the man he replaced on the City Commission will be matched at the polls Monday.

Commissioner John A. Dugan is running for his third consecutive two - year term. Opposing him, Ronald C. Hallenbeck is seeking a second term. He served once from 1952 to 1954.

Mayor pro-tem of the present commission, Dugan, 49, of 363 Nelson St. came from his native Ontario, Canada, to Pontiac in 1928 and has been employed at Pontiac Motor Division ever since. At present he is a set-up man in the production department.

Hallenbeck, 41, of 25 Gingell Ct. has worked at Fisher Body Division since 1936, currently as a cloth trimmer. He was born in Pontiac.

Statements submitted to the Press by the candidates follow:

RONALD C. HALLENBECK

JOHN A. DUGAN

"I am seeking re-election because I wish to help further the constructive program we have initiated in District 5 and the city as a whole.

"It is my goal to see District 5 get its full share of the capital improvement funds.

"My first and basic interests lie in the problems of the citizens of my district. I will work diligently to formulate and carry out any city-wide program that will make our community a better place in which to live.

"I wish to reaffirm my position that it is a Commissioner's obligation to maintain personal contact with individuals who have problems and further reassure you that, if re-elected, I will continue to do this for the next two years.

"I will promise to be honest as I have in the past, giving you facts about any problem. I will not make misleading statements which would confuse or mislead you."

"Five years ago, playfields and other civic projects were planned for District 5 and preliminary work started. These projects have been forgotten or abandoned and, in their stead, parts of the Lake Street DPW yards have been moved to dedicated park properties in our district. This should not be tolerated and won't be, if I am elected.

"I feel that a realistic effort should be made by the Commission to acquaint national authorities with rising unemployment in Pontiac. Pontiac manpower and production potential should not lie idle. Business should be encouraged, by a sincere, planned effort, to locate in our city.

"Favoring a capital improvement program on a pay-as-you-go basis, I strongly oppose excessive assessments which benefit only specific areas and groups.

"The entire city should be reassessed so that everyone pays a just share of taxes.

"A youth program for all the young people of Pontiac should be put into motion again, utilizing public properties and staffs.

"If elected, I would counsel with the people of this district as to their opinions and desires before committing myself and the district."

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

What are the easiest summer clues to observe in deciding the probability of rain during the day?

One of the easy clues used in summer concerns dew. If there is a heavy dew in the morning, chances are that no rain will occur — unless it is an isolated thundershower.

Another easily-observed clue is the height of the small, white cumulus clouds in the early morning. If they are very low, you will probably have thundershowers during the day.

Therefore, if there is heavy dew in the morning, coupled with very few white cloud puffs, and those very high, your chances of a dry day are quite good.

CAA Bypasses Willow Run

Detroit - Wayne Major Selected as Jet Age Airport for Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) has designated Detroit-Wayne Major airport for development into a jet age terminal and denied funds for similar development of Willow Run airport.

★ ★ ★

The CAA said hereafter all federal funds earmarked for development of an intercontinental express airport in the Detroit area would go to Detroit-Wayne Major.

The agency said $538,000 in the 1959 federal budget had been earmarked to extend one Detroit-Wayne Major runway to 9,700 feet to handle jet-powered airliners of the future.

The University of Michigan, which bought Willow Run for $1 from the government after World War II, had asked $604,500 for runway extension there.

But William B. Davis, acting director of the CAA, wrote Floyd G. Wakefield, Willow Run supervisor, that CAA "contemplates that the Wayne County airport would be the principal air commerce airport for the Detroit area" and that his agency intends to avoid expenditures "on unnecessary duplication of facilities."

Under CAA plans, Davis said Willow Run will be listed as "an existing and required intercontinental airport" and added that "programing of federal funds in the Detroit area for fiscal year 1959 and future years will be in accord with the previously stated area planning concept."

Most domestic air lines now use Willow Run, at Ypsilanti, and have expressed a desire to stay there. They operate the field under lease from the University of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

American Airlines, however, has announced it plans to shift to Detroit-Wayne Major, at Romulus, only half a dozen miles from Willow Run. Pan American Airways and British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC) operate overseas runs from Detroit-Wayne Major.

UAW Negotiating on 4 Fronts Today

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union had bargaining talks scheduled today with four auto companies.

★ ★ ★

Negotiators for American Motors Corp. and the UAW opened 1958 contract talks yesterday. They met 90 minutes before recessing until today.

The union presented AMC the same demands, including profit sharing, which have been made on General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Here is the status of negotiations at the big three:

General Motors — Recessed April 14 until today.

Ford Motor Co. — Recessed yesterday until today.

Chrysler Corp. — Recessed yesterday until today.

All the negotiations are proceeding under a news blackout which can be lifted on 24 hours notice by either the company or the union.

Press Freedom of Information Bill Considered

WASHINGTON (INS) — A bill designed to do away with one obstacle to freedom of information was expected to pass the House today with little opposition.

The measure proposed by the government information subcommittee headed by Rep. John D. Moss (D-Calif) would amend the so-called "housekeeping" statute to specify that it may not be used to withhold information from the public.

Moss said the statute, originally designed in 1789 to give federal officials the right to keep files, has been "twisted" to suppress information of a non-security nature. He said it is frequently cited by agency officials as the basis for refusing information.

Mamie's Mother Wins Mother-in-Law Award

NEW YORK (INS)—Mrs John Doud, Mamie Eisenhower's mother, has been named "mother-in-law of the year."

The President's mother-in-law was chosen by the Mother-in-Law Day Committee. The "day" will be celebrated Sunday.

"Mother-in-Law Day" has been proclaimed in 14 states: Alabama, Colorado, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, New Mexico, Maryland, Missouri, Rhode Island, South Dakota and Washington.

Thus ended what was said to be the longest first-degree murder trial in the history of New York City. It began Jan. 10. Estimated cost: $250,000.

The Egyptian Dragons, a racially integrated gang, were engaged in a feud with the Jesters, who were mostly white. Farmer and Roger McShane, now 17, ran into an Egyptian Dragons war party at an upper Manhattan park last July 30. The two boys, both white, were headed for a swim in the park.

★ ★ ★

Apparently the war party took them for Jesters. Prosecution testimony at the trial indicated that neither of the boys belonged to a gang.

McShane was able to escape his attackers, fleeing with minor injuries. Farmer, unable to run, was slugged to the ground with fists, feet, belts and a dog chain.

Then, it was testified, Horton slashed at Farmer with a machete and Alvarez, president of the Egyptian Dragons, plunged a hunting knife into the Farmer youth's back.

Lake Freighters Still Need Escort

PORT HURON (AP) — Lake freighters today still required icebreaker escort through four miles of a 14-mile ice field lying at the lower end of Lake Huron.

But Capt. Evor Kerr, commander of the Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw, reported floes breaking up and going down the St. Clair River today. Some in the past jammed up and blocked river traffic.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Kerr said southwest winds had shifted the ice field about and opened up water in spots, including a five mile stretch above the Blue Water Bridge that links Port Huron and Sarnia, Ont., across the head of the river.

★ ★ ★

Kerr said the main ice field still stretches 14 miles, with slush four to six feet deep and floes 10 to 12 feet thick over the toughest four miles. Outside that area, Kerr said, freighters can make it alone.

Will Consider Tax Cut When Beneficial—Ike

gram he for one never will go for, Eisenhower said.

Today's conference marked the first time in a year Eisenhower has met four weeks in a row with newsmen.

He dealt with these other topics:

VETO — A reporter told Eisenhower his veto yesterday of a 1½-billion-dollar water projects authorization bill is being criticized by some in Congress who felt the program would help fight the recession.

The reporter, Sarah McClendon, who represents several Texas and other papers, said Rep. Wright (D-Tex) had expressed the opinion that Eisenhower ought to leave out some of his golf playing and get out for a first-hand look at conditions in the country.

The congressman feels, Miss McClendon added, that Eisenhower then would see the need for such projects.

SHOWS NO IRRITATION

Eisenhower replied, with no show of irritation, that he doesn't know Cong. Wright but has visited small villages and towns throughout the country—many more than the congressman.

With that Eisenhower recognized another questioner.

In advance of Eisenhower's news conference, Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), chief sponsor of the highway bill, said fur will fly if Eisenhower vetoes the measure. Backers described the bill as the most important recession combatting action Congress has taken so far.

★ ★ ★

But despite recurring rumors predicting a veto, Republican congressional leaders indicated they expected Eisenhower to sign it — though perhaps reluctantly.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said after a White House conference he believed advantages of the measure outweighed objectionable features in the President's mind.

Knowland said the administration's principal objection to the bill centered on a provision fixing the formula for division of state and federal financing during the coming year on primary, secondary and urban federal-aid roads.

The usual formula is 50-50. But under the bill, the federal government would put up $2 to every $1 by the states.

The bill, designed to pump an extra $1,800,000,000 into roadbuilding this year, was sent to Eisenhower April 3 as Congress' last major act before the Easter recess. As finally drafted, the bill won an overwhelming 84-4 passage in the Senate and 300-28 in the House.

Sponsors said over - all it could make possible the programing of approximately 5½ billion dollars in federal - state road money in 1958.

Smith Versus Donaldson in District Three Again

For the third time, District 3 hopeful Earl J. Smith Jr. is challenging Mayor William W. Donaldson for a place on the City Commission.

The two will be matched at the polls Monday, as they were in 1954 and again in 1956. Donaldson won both times.

He and Smith were nominated this year without a primary runoff. They were the only candidates from their district.

Donaldson, 52, of 153 W. Lawrence St., is seeking his fifth term. He was elected in 1944 and 1946 and again in 1954 and 1956. He has been mayor since 1954 and was mayor pro-tem, 1944-1948.

Founder of the Donaldson-Fuller Insurance Agency here, Donaldson attended Pontiac public schools and the University of Michigan. He was graduated from University of Colorado in 1932.

He started the Pontiac Foundation, a civic improvement group, in 1953 and served as its president from then to last year.

EARL J. SMITH JR.

"The people of Pontiac have always been progressive in their thinking and have advanced and prospered in many ways for years due to the constant determination of these citizens.

"The duties of a Commissioner are to seek a solution to all the problems that may arise in his particular district. He must carry out all the necessary improvements in his district and make decisions with integrity, intelligence and honesty for the betterment of that district and the City of Pontiac as a whole.

"I am gravely conscious of the prerequisites of a City Commissioner and I pledge that I will represent my district and my city to the utmost of my ability. I would welcome your support at the polls."

Last year, he was vice president of the Michigan Municipal League and served as vice chairman of the American Municipal Assn.'s civil defense committee.

Married and the father of two daughters, Donaldson is a member of First Presbyterian Church. He is a Mason, an Elk and a Kiwanis Club member.

Smith, 36, of 138 W. Lawrence St. is a partner in the Brace-Smith Funeral Home. Although he's tried twice for the commission he has yet to be elected.

A native of Pontiac, like Donaldson, Smith is a graduate of Wayne State University and a veteran of World War II.

He is a member of the Pontiac Lions Club, the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Active in the Pontiac Knights of Columbus Council 600, he is married and has four children.

WILLIAM W. DONALDSON

"I have been a member of the Pontiac City Commission for a period of eight years during an era when more civic progress has been accomplished than in any similar period in our city's history.

"I heartily subscribe to the present pay - as - you - go program of capital improvements and if re-elected, I will continue to represent District 3 and the City of Pontiac with the same cooperative spirit, without fear or favor."

Population Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau today estimated the nation's population at 173,210,000 on March 1. This figure, which includes service personnel serving overseas, was 199,000 higher than the Feb. 1 estimate.

France Seeking New Premier

Gaillard Gets Gate for Seeking to Pull Troops From Tunisia

PARIS (AP) — France was back in familiar shape today: no government, a deepening crisis in North Africa and no solution in sight for either.

President Rene Coty began another weary round of political talks in search of someone who might rally enough National Assembly votes to succeed Felix Gaillard as premier.

★ ★ ★

Gaillard resigned last night after the Assembly voted 321-255 against his call to accept a U.S.-British plan for settlement of France's dispute with Tunisia. The plan called for French-Tunisian negotiations on withdrawal of French troops from all of Tunisia except the Bizerte naval base.

★ ★ ★

There was no readily apparent successor to the 38-year-old economist. The votes which finally cut him down after five months of cliff-hanging came from the two extremes of French politics, which cannot combine to form the 25th postwar government.

★ ★ ★

Political observers said today the free world faces these probabilities as a result of the French government crisis:

—A nasty United Nations debate on French policy toward Tunisia and Algeria.

—Agonizing decisions on how far it is possible to support the French in the U.N.

—New difficulties for the North Atlantic Pact just at the time it is striving to revamp strategy and weapons systems to safeguard against mounting Soviet military power.

—Delayed progress toward a summit conference because of the uncertainty of French policies.

—An expanded Soviet threat to Africa because of the new opportunity to interfere in Tunisian and Algerian affairs.

★ ★ ★

And these, they said, are possible results:

—A French walkout from the U.N. if the North African debate sours.

—A French threat to bolt NATO if the Allies give France less than desired support in the U.N. debate.

—A wave of anti-American sentiment in France provoked by the political right-wing's attempt to justify a tough North African policy.

Third Cleaning Shop Bombed in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — The third bombing of a Detroit cleaning establishment since January was blamed today on a price war.

A black powder bomb was hurled through a back window of the municipal Cleaners and Dyers at 9125 Hamilton last night. No one was injured and clothing and machinery escaped damage. A small hole was torn in the cement floor.

A dynamite explosion caused $5,000 damage at the Dorsey Cleaners at 8083 Southfield last week and dynamite inflicted $4,000 damage at Souillo's cleaning store at 9727 Linwood on Jan. 21.

★ ★ ★

Police said the owners of each shop agreed the attacks probably were due to their reduction in prices. Officers said the cleaning price war has been in progress for some time in the city.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said the size of the explosives indicated they were only warnings, explaining a heavier bomb would have been used if severe damage had been intended.

The Day in Birmingham

City Manager Studying Plans for May Festival

BIRMINGHAM — Plans for the Bloomfield Art Assn.'s 9-day festival in May, new in the annals of the city, are being studied by Birmingham City Manager L. R. Gare.

They were presented to the City Commission by Robert Thom, noted artist and general chairman of the festival.

The group has requested the use of Shain Park for outdoor exhibits during the festival. In addition to the art display, it has been proposed that the Bloomfield Hills Garden club maintain a "Paris type" flower and bookstall, which also would serve as an information center.

Another proposal Gare must decide on is that of pushcarts, operated by costumed attendants for the sale of small items.

★ ★ ★

Outdoor cafes have been suggested for the Carrie Lee restaurant on North Woodward and Machuses on West Maple avenues. Street decorations proposed would be two-sided signs on lamp posts.

The association also has asked permission to have a costumed "Town Crier" strolling through the downtown area, calling out the day's events and their locations.

Thom, in his letter to the commission, said that while many of the features are extraordinary, they are most important to the creation of a festive atmosphere.

★ ★ ★

The festival, scheduled for May 17-25, would include exhibits at the Community House, Baldwin Public Library, Little Gallery, BAA Gallery, Village Players Playhouse, Greek Theater, Cranbrook and several local stores.

Some sites would be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., with a variety of programs throughout the day as well as permanent exhibits.

Three 15-year-old Hazel Park youths had the job yesterday of removing the paint from the Trowbridge road bridge in Bloomfield Hills which they admitted applying over the weekend.

Municipal Judge Alva J. Richardson ordered the youths to remove the paint and released them on bonds of $25 each.

They are Richard Topolsky of 48 E. Garnet St.; Gerald Ross of 1308 Milton St., and David Hebert of 1117 E. Muir St.

Police Capt. Walter Sluiter said the boys told him someone, whose name they said they did not know, had bought beer for them.

Sluiter is asking Hazel Park Police to investigate.

Drop Manslaughter, Charge Hit-Running

The charge of manslaughter against a motorist who fatally struck a woman the night of April 6 was dropped in municipal court today and a charge of leaving the scene of an injury accident added.

Robert Bibb Jr., 46, of 503½ Franklin Rd., waived examination on the second count and was bound to circuit court where he will be arraigned on April 21.

He is accused of hitting Daisy King, 54, of 611 Nevada St., as she crossed the intersection of Franklin and Nebraska, and then driving home without stopping. She died of her injuries.

Manufacturing Co. to Leave Michigan

HUDSON (AP) — The Hardie Manufacturing Co., a maker of agricultural dusting and spraying equipment, has announced it will move to Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in the second half of 1958.

The 60-year-old firm employes 100 in this town of 2,773. Hudson is 18 miles west of Adrian.

Lloyd Douglas, president and board chairman, said in announcing the move last night that "The business climate there (in Wilkes-Barre) is more favorable," but did not elaborate on that statement.

He added, however:

"Among the factors considered before we decided to move was the unsuitability of the Hardie plant for our revamped operations. We have available in Wilkes-Barre a vacant universal-type building owned by an affiliate which is most suitable for our operation."

Hardie, taken over by its present management in 1957, sold its farm irrigation equipment manufacturing business.

Voters to Decide Rochester Issue

Incorporation Up to People

County Board Rules in Favor of Election on August 5

ROCHESTER — The statement on whether the village of Rochester will become a city finally will be decided by the people Aug. 5, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors ruled yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Stymied for about two years by legal battles, supervisors voted 46-22 to put the question up to the people. Pontiac Supervisor Robert R. Boyer declined to vote.

Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller fought a losing battle against the Boundaries Committee's recommendation for the election.

Miller argued township residents on the fringe of Rochester, some 2,000 in number he said, would be outvoted by those in the village desiring to become a city. He said the township residents oppose the move.

He also objected saying the incorporation would take better than one-third of the township's assessed valuation away for tax purposes.

Supervisors acted following a State Supreme Court ruling last month that incorporation petitions filed by the village two years ago were valid.

Parliamentary procedure almost blocked yesterday's vote. A Pontiac delegation of supervisors "passed" when asked to vote, claiming they didn't know enough about the proposal.

Out came a copy of the rules of order. Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt said they didn't have to cast a vote. Then Springfield Township Supervisor John L. Carey warned supervisors: "Is it just possible we may be in contempt of the Supreme Court?"

★ ★ ★

When William A. Ewart, Pontiac supervisor, changed his vote to "yes" to prevent the county from entering another court battle, there was a sudden change of many votes. A second roll call vote was called for. The first had also passed, 37 to 26.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH L. AUTEN

Elizabeth Klingler Joins K. L. Auten in Marriage

ORTONVILLE — Pink and white gladioli banked the altar of Ortonville Baptist Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Elizabeth M. Klingler and Kenneth Auten. The Rev. Roy Botruff performed the candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Klingler of 1151 Perry Lake Rd., Ortonville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Auten of 525 Brandt Rd., Ortonville.

★ ★ ★

For her spring wedding, the former Miss Klingler chose a floor length gown of tulle over Chantilly lace featuring a bouffant skirt, fitted bodice, scalloped Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves.

Her crown headpiece of seed pearls on lace held a fingertip veil of French silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of lily-of-the-valley and stephanotis with a white orchid, all on a white Bible.

Helen Titsworth of Ortonville acted as honor attendant while Nancy Burmeister of Milford and Jacqueline Pfahlert of Westacres were bridesmaids.

Gowned in a pink nylon dress with an overskirt of pink nylon embroidered with white and trimmed with white lace was flower girl, Pamela Zbiciak.

Brother of the bride, Ted Klingler, was best man while Lewis Williams, Don Titsworth and Ronald Turnball, all of Ortonville, seated the guests.

★ ★ ★

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church parlors.

The couple will live in Ortonville when they return from a trip to Washington, D. C.

South Lyon Voters OK Bond Proposal

SOUTH LYON — A proposal for the issuance of $250,000 in general obligations bonds by the city of South Lyon for construction of a new sewage treatment plant and necessary equipment was approved by property owners in a special election Monday.

★ ★ ★

The vote was 235 yes to 37 no. Eight ballots were invalid. A three-fifths majority was needed.

The new plant will cost an estimated $375,000. To pay for it the city also will issue $125,000 in revenue bonds.

The plant will be designed to serve a population of 5,000, city officials pointed out. Present sewage treatment facilities, built 20 years ago for a population capacity of 1,000 are being called upon to serve about 2,000 persons.

Ferndale Voters Reject Construction Bond Issue

FERNDALE — Voters in Ferndale yesterday rejected a $950,000 bond issue for construction of a new city hall and police station building.

The count was 1,741 opposed to 914 in favor of the proposal. Only 25 per cent of the eligible voters cast ballots, City Manager Lawrence Kress said.

County Dems Endorse Hart's Bid for Senate

The Oakland County Democratic Club has endorsed Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart in his bid for the U.S. Senate and State Sen. John B. Swainson as a candidate for Hart's present post.

Carlos Richardson, club president, said members took action at their monthly meeting held this week.

He also announced that State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie would speak at Royal Oak's Longfellow School April 23 at 8 p.m. and at the Pontiac Rotary Club May 8.

Officials Picked in Walled Lake

Council Elects Mayor and Mayor Pro Tem at Organization Meeting

WALLED LAKE — At the organization meeting of the Walled Lake City Council last night, William G. Nixon was elected mayor and Waldo Proctor was named mayor pro tem.

★ ★ ★

Nixon, who has lived in Walled Lake for six years, is in his second year on the council. He is funeral director for Richardson-Bird Home in Walled Lake.

A former resident of Pontiac, he lives at 340 Pontiac Trail with his wife and three young daughters.

Nixon is active in civic affairs, being a member of the Board of Directors of the Walled Lake Rotary Club, the Walled Lake Methodist Church and the Walled Lake Elementary School PTA. He also is member of the Michigan Funeral Directors Association.

Proctor first was appointed to fill an expired term on the council and a year ago was elected to a two-year term.

He has been a teacher at Walled Lake Senior High School for more than 20 years.

Arraigned at Lapeer in Shooting of Wife

LAPEER — Gerald E. Chapman, 31, of 3712 Peters Rd., Columbiaville, was arraigned yesterday afternoon before Justice Herbert King on a charge of felonious assault with intent to kill in the shooting of his wife, Iris, 30, early Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. Philip Shutran in Columbiaville.

Examination was set for April 25 before Justice King.

Mrs. Chapman is in critical condition at Lapeer County General Hospital. She was shot in the abdoman with a 12-gauge shotgun following a drinking party, according to Lapeer County Sheriff W. J. Porter.

Bond was set at $2,000.

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — The City Council agreed with residents — Kinnikinnik street is too tough to pronounce and spell. Now it's Sheridan Road.

U.S. Contracts Inquiry Urged

Senator Potter Cites Failure of Government to Aid Employment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) is urging a Senate inquiry into what he termed the government's failure to give labor surplus areas preference in awarding defense contracts.

In a speech in the Senate, Potter said yesterday he was shocked to read a defense department report he said showed areas with serious unemployment problems received "next to nothing of the much-needed work" in the last six months of 1957.

The lawmaker, up for re-election this year, said the report indicated less than one million dollars in preferential contracts were awarded in the last half of 1957.

He said Michigan received no preference despite its high unemployment rate. Potter said $6,050,000,000 in defense contracts were awarded in the last six months of 1957.

"It seems apparent that the preference policy in awarding contracts to labor surplus areas has been ineffective," said Potter.

He proposed that backers of the program meet with Defense Secretary McElroy to find out what is wrong.

The Senator said the defense department and general services administration had pledged support of the set-aside program advocated by Potter and other senators from economically depressed areas.

The program would set aside half of all contracts for firms in labor surplus areas, provided the firms could match low bids submitted by firms in other areas.

Royal Oak Airman Dies in Plane Crash

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (AP) — A B47 jet bomber crashed and burned on takeoff last night at Pease Air Force Base killing four men. One of the dead was a Royal Oak man.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

An Air Force public information officer said the bomber had climbed several hundred feet when it dived into swampy ground at the end of the runway. The plane came down just off highway route 101.

The impact was heard in downtown Portsmouth a mile away. Thick black smoke from the fire was visible 15 miles away at Rye Beach.

★ ★ ★

The bodies of the crew were recovered near the debris. Identification experts were flown from Wright-Patterson base at Dayton, Ohio, to examine the bodies.

Hot Dog Canneries Kept Busy in Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — The American institution of eating "hot dogs" has become so firmly implanted in Cuba that factories are having a hard time meeting the demand.

There are five of them boosting production of "Perro Calientes." Two of them in Havana and another pair in Camaguey are each turning out 250,000 boxes annually — 48 cans to the box.

South Carolina After Industry

Stern competition is developing for attracting new industries and keeping the old.

★ ★ ★

The State of South Carolina has just come out with some new tax modifications which it says frankly are aimed at attracting new manufacturing plants. The State has just run some page ads in papers across the country calling attention to the great advantages of establishing plants within its boundaries.

It likes industry.
It likes more jobs.

★ ★ ★

In the meantime, older and more established states like Michigan must look to their laurels. Once, we accepted an unending line of new plants as our "just due." They sprang up steadily with no effort at all on our part.

★ ★ ★

But those days are gone.
Competition is keen.

Michigan must put her house in order. We haven't done much in attracting new prospects but we have succeeded in driving out some that were already here. We must reappraise our position and look the situation over.

★ ★ ★

South Carolina isn't the only commonwealth that is making a vigorous and determined effort to attract industry. It is becoming a national habit.

WHY doesn't some one concoct something for treating lawn grass seed to make it repulsive to birds?

U. S. Now Dependent on Imported Materials

The U. S. has less than seven per cent of the world's population, eight per cent of the total land area but consumes almost half of the free world's volume of materials.

Five years ago the Paley Materials Policy Commission was set up to make a worldwide survey of key raw materials with particular reference to the needs of the United States. The commission's report noted soaring demand, growing shortages, rising costs and the danger of our being cut off from supplies in wartime. Five years later many of the problems remain.

★ ★ ★

Over the half century, writes RICHARD RUTTER of the N. Y. Times, the U. S. has moved from a have to a have-not nation in natural resources. It has become the world's largest importer of copper, lead and zinc. Today there are just two metals — magnesium and mbolybdenum — for which the nation is not at least partly dependent on foreign supplies. Recently, however, we have become self-sufficient in uranium. Of other ores we are from 25 per cent to 100 per cent dependent on foreign sources.

★ ★ ★

Due to changes in forestry practice the U. S. Forestry Service reports that by 1975 loggers will be cutting down about 14 per cent more saw timber than is being grown. This comes as a surprise because we had been told many times that the cutting and growth of timber were nearly in balance. However demands are increasing with population.

The U. S. will be increasingly dependent on importation of raw materials. Conservation of resources is necessary to the continued prosperity and even the security of our country.

Company Studies Leaving Michigan

Another strike bound plant may leave Michigan. The firm considering this move is the Ainsworth Precision Castings Company. If this unfortunate decision comes about, two reasons will be the underlying cause.

★ ★ ★

One: wage and fringe benefits have put the company in a position where it could not compete for the auto parts business.

Two: in Tennessee, where the company is contemplating moving, they have been given tax benefits and free land.

Reasons such as this will cause many companies to take a long and calculating look at the Michigan economic climate.

★ ★ ★

Our factories mean jobs. When they close the door and leave the state we automatically lose that many jobs permanently.

David Lawrence Says:

Menshikov Putting on False Face

WASHINGTON — For several weeks now the American people have been told that the new Soviet ambassador, Mikhail Menshikov, is a nice fellow and that maybe, if he is a typical example, the Communists aren't such bad folks after all.

LAWRENCE

So the new envoy has been wined and dined, visiting delegations of Americans at the embassy here have been charmed by his smile, and he has been invited to sit down with some of the capitalistic elite in the Midwest.

LET MEN STARVE

But what is the true background of Mikhail Menshikov, and why, it might be asked, hasn't public attention been called to it before? For in the official proceedings of the Congress of the United States there is a record of his willingness to let human beings starve in order to further the Communist cause.

★ ★ ★

This is in the report of a subcommittee of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs printed in 1946 after a study in eastern Europe from August to October 1945.

The report tells the sad story of what four members of Congress found out about Menshikov's cruelty to hungry men, women and children in Poland. Here is the full text of an extract from that report to Congress:

"The committee made some effort to investigate the operation of UNRRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration) in Poland but unfortunately was somewhat limited in its efforts due to the fact that UNRRA had not as yet had sufficient opportunity to become organized upon a permanent basis. However, under the temporary arrangements that had been concluded, the committee was deeply disappointed in both its operation and the distribution of its supplies.

WIELDED CONTROL

"The temporary head of the UNRRA delegation was Mikhail Menshikov, a Soviet citizen, who wielded great control and influence over the distribution of UNRRA's yet meager supplies. The distribution was limited to recipients who were active supporters of or collaborationists with the provisional Polish government.

"Upon the committee's return to this country, it lodged a strong protest with the President of the United States and was happy to learn that soon thereafter Menshikov was recalled and his place taken by Brig. Gen. C. M. Drury of Canada.

"Since the committee's return to the United States, it has kept in close and direct contact with UNRRA operations in Poland and has noted great improvement both in the operation and in the distribution of relief supplies."

Three of the four members of the above-mentioned committee are still in Congress — Representative Thomas S. Gordon of Illinois, Democrat, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee; Representative Frances Bolton of Ohio, Republican, and Karl Mundt, Republican, now senator from South Dakota.

When Ambassador Menshikov came to Washington, he was received with open arms by various persons here. He was given time on television and he was publicized widely as exuding the best of feelings toward the American people. Yet behind the mask of smiles is a cruel streak.

Here is a man who abused his trusteeship as the custodian and distributor of food to starving people. He was the agent of an international relief organization, but his first allegiance was to communism—he was willing to see human beings suffer unless they accepted Communist domination, even while he used relief supplies to reward those who were politically on his side.

It is a sorrowful chapter. It is not important alone as a revelation of what one Communist did, but it's an example of the tyranny and inhumanity which lie behind the whole Communist creed and the Communist government.

★ ★ ★

One wonders why the Department of State didn't look up the record before giving its approval to Menshikov as an ambassador to the United States. For every government has a right to decide whether an individual is "persona grata"—acceptable to it—and certainly the records show Menshikov had committed a serious offense against the American as well as the Polish peoples.

With such a record revealed, Menshikov's usefulness in America can be considered at an end.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Do-It-Yourself Formula for Ideal Skin Lubricant

Lanolin is the grease, oil or fatty material on the wool of sheep. It is commonly called wool fat and anhydrous lanolin. In U. S. and British pharmacopoeias, it is called Adeps Lanae. As wool fat, brownish yellow, greasy, sticky and somewhat odorous, it is not suitable for cosmetic use.

DR. BRADY

Hydrous wool fat, hydrous lanolin, Adeps Lanae Hydrosus, is prepared by thoroughly mixing anhydrous lanolin with water, one part of lanolin to two parts of water.

This is nearly white, has only a slight odor, adheres to the skin, and is less liable to be washed off than other oils or fats. Because of its consistency it usually requires some thinning with cottonseed oil, olive oil, sweet almond oil, sesami oil or lard.

From the claims of cosmeticians, credulous customers infer that a dash of lanolin gives the preparation magic virtues. Actually it makes the stuff stay on skin or hair a little longer.

It is absurd to imagine lanolin passes through the skin more readily than any other grease or salve or ointment base—such as plain fresh lard — does. Anyway, nothing can penetrate the unbroken skin, no matter how thin you slice it.

Oil of sesami keeps better than other oils (doesn't become rancid) and does not dry and clog as as do other oils. A fluid ounce of oil of sesami should be rubbed up with 5 grains of powdered benzoin and heated moderately three hours over a water bath, with the addition of three or four drops of absolute alcohol, and filtered. This makes the ideal skin oil.

Apply a drop or two on fingers and lubricate skin or scalp to relieve a normal dryness or irritation and itching after bath or shampoo.

If the druggist huffs and puffs about a prescription for the few drops of alcohol — in his place I'd be just as huffy — you know, the federal men prowl around, discover the druggist has bootlegged a few drops here, a few drops there, and presently they pounce and wring the milk of human kindness out of the poor man.

In the booklet Save Your Skin (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I give various recipes for skin cream, cold cream, skin oil, medicated and non-medicated.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'This Roman Era Coming to Close'

Free enterprise is all right if it keeps within bounds, but those who control prices keep raising them as long as the public can and does take it. Business is entitled to a fair profit but in many instances the markups are far from fair.

Economy has become an old-fashioned word, its meaning forgotten. We've been exploited by advertising, by glib-talking salesmen and we haven't been able to resist it. Refusing to admit our errors will delay recovery.

★ ★ ★

One reason some production costs are so high is that officials aren't satisfied with salaries; they must have bonuses, too. Prices of cars and everything else will be high as long as people are greedy and feel they can't live on a king's standard. Government takes a lot of this, but if more economy existed in government, exorbitant taxes wouldn't be necessary.

★ ★ ★

Everything has a limit and it's been reached. This Roman Era is fast coming to a close. When everyone uses good, old-fashioned common sense, mixed with more simplicity, and doesn't allow money and what it will buy to become god, we may be saved.

'We Must Avoid More Inflation'

We must avoid more inflation. We can do this in one of two possible ways.

★ ★ ★

The government could ask labor leaders to continue present contracts with cost of living provision continued. Then the government would request no increase in price of goods. This is the desirable method, but if it didn't work, use No. 2.

The President could propose a temporary—perhaps a year—price and wage freeze at a previous date, such as April 1, 1958. Congress could pass a law covering this, and at the end of the period economic conditions could be analyzed to determine if it should be continued. Such a freeze isn't desirable but unrestrained inflation can be disastrous.

Case Record of a Psychologist:

Child Must Learn Independence

Andy would have been a successful college student if his parents had followed the 10-point plan outlined below. They worried about his health and various medical shots, when they should have spent even more time making sure he was growing up emotionally. He now is a big 6-footer physically, but a toddler in his emotional development!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE X-381: Andy G., aged 19, is the college boy who is flunking out of school because he can't live away from his parents.

★ ★ ★

If the latter had performed their proper job of building up Andy's emotional stability, they'd have done the following things for him:

DR. CRANE

(1) They'd have given him a baby brother or sister by the time Andy was two years of age.

Such siblings divide the parental attention and thus "condition" the firstborn child to get along on less adult coddling.

An "only" child thus receives 100 per cent of the parental fanfare. As soon as his sibling arrives, he gets about 50 per cent. And if he has another brother or sister, then Andy's share would drop to 33 per cent. With 4 children in the family, each should receive 25 per cent.

(2) Lacking a sibling, then Andy should at least have received a puppy who would help divide the family spotlight and reduce Andy's tendency to monopolize the stage 100 per cent.

(3) Andy should have been entered in Nursery School by the time he was three years old. Then he'd have learned to play with other toddlers and to be away from Mama for at least half a day.

★ ★ ★

(4) Every Sunday Andy should have been in Sunday school, not only for the moral influence thereat but for the social training it offers "only" children.

(5) Andy's parents should have accustomed him to a baby-sitter from the very earliest.

(6) Andy should have been encouraged to develop play pals in his neighborhood.

His mother should have scheduled parties, not just on his birthday, either, so Andy could have started gaining friends before kindergarten age.

(7) Andy should have been encouraged to bring friends home for the night. And then he should have joined a Boy Scout Troop and attended a summer camp.

★ ★ ★

(9) He should have spent a week every summer from Junior High till he was ready for college, at a Church Camp.

(10) Meanwhile, Andy should have developed self - reliance by carrying a newspaper route for at least one year.

This newspaper experience is invaluable, for it teaches a boy salesmanship and merchandising, faithfulness to duty and also credit management.

A.W.O.L. PARENTS

"Bad children usually have bad parents," runs an adage of psychology.

And young fellows who go A.W.O.L. from military camps usually have parents who likewise should be catalogued as A.W.O.L.

Such parents have failed to train their children to the emotional life required of a mature adult.

★ ★ ★

Oh, such mothers and fathers may have seen that their youngsters had all the medical shots to keep their bodies healthy.

They may also have fed them scientific baby menus, supplemented with the many vitamins.

But a healthy adult body may house a stunted soul and a dwarfed emotional being.

We psychologists don't measure a true emotional adult by the typical wooden yardstick. Nor do we weigh him on the avoirdupois scales.

So will you parents PLEASE get hep to the vital responsibility you have of nourishing both the soul and the emotional life of your kids?

Major Issues Under Scrutiny

Over 400 Newsmen Assemble in Capital at Editors Convention

WASHINGTON (INS) — More than 400 newspaper editors assembled in Washington today to look into major global and domestic issues, with heavy emphasis on the nation's defense problems.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors Convention will be highlighted tomorrow by a nationally-televised luncheon address by President Eisenhower, billed as a "hard-hitting" plea fo support of his defense department reorganization plan.

The problem of inter-service rivalry, which Mr. Eisenhower's plan would curb, will be the subject of a special discussion Saturday morning. Editor Robert W. Lucas of the Denver Post will preside at a debate by a panel of speakers on whether rivalry is "good or dangerous for America in the space age."

Assistant Defense Secretary Mansfield D. Sprague will talk on international security arrangements Friday, and director of guided missiles William M. Holaday will speak on missile programs.

Beside the defense department problems, the editors will discuss such matters as restrictions on information, security arrangements and missile programs, education, welfare problems and various shop matters.

Seek Compromise on Education Funds

LANSING (AP) — Senate-House compromisers get around today to work on resolving a $2,720,996 difference between the two chambers on higher education spending.

Their report, due for presentation tomorrow, undoubtedly will strike a balance between the $87,423,891 approved by the Senate for 1958-59 operations and the $90,144,887 okayed by the House.

The House figure would continue financial support at the present level for another year, with the addition of about three and one quarter millions additional for Wayne State University under a commitment made two years ago.

As conference committees on other bills met yesterday, a recommendation was worked out that would retain $772,500 out of one million dollars added to the mental hygiene bill in the House.

Of the adjusted total of $65,166,750 for mental hygiene purposes, $300,000 would be earmarked for the children's facility at Farmington under the compromise recommendation.

When it returns tomorrow, the legislature will have 22 conference reports to consider, 12 of them involving major appropriation bills.

Find 447 TB Suspects by Using Xray in County

Tuberculosis suspects totaled 447 of the 1,106 suspected chest abnormalties found among the 26,239 chest X rays taken last year in Oakland County, according to Theo V. Eddy, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

Selective X-raying of areas with higher TB incidence is increasing the effectiveness of Michigan chest X-ray surveys, he added.

★ ★ ★

More TB suspects were found for every 1,000 X rays taken in surveys in 1957 than previous years, Eddy said. Last year 20 TB suspects were found per 1,000 X rays taken compared to 10 to 16 the previous year.

In increase in suspects indicated the surveys were conducted in higher incidence areas, Eddy claims.

The figures quoted were for mobile units operated by the Michigan Department of Health and for Detroit Health Department units who took films which were then interpreted by the state health department.

★ ★ ★

The units took 399,364 films last year. Suspected chest abnormalities were found in 17,783 cases. TB was the most frequent abnormality while heart conditions ranked second and were followed by lung cancer.

Acheson Fights Summit Parley

Believes Talks Would Be Failure Until Europe Stronger, More United

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson says President Eisenhower should not attend any summit conference with the Soviets.

The onetime aide to former President Harry S. Truman also said a summit conference would fail unless there is a stronger and more united Europe.

Acheson made the remarks in a speech to 500 persons at the Eddie Jacobson Memorial Foundation Dinner last night. Jacobson, once a partner with Hruman in a clothing store, was recognized as an American leader in the founding of Israel. Truman introduced Acheson.

Acheson said some type of negotiations with the Soviets must be held because of pressure from western Europe, but added: "We must at all times be free and determined . . . to reject any and all proposals contrary to our best interests."

"To involve the President in these meetings impairs the detached and final judgment which he must reserve. His action is far too likely to be corrupted by the intense pressure for a success, even though a spurious one. His failure involves not only the whole government but the nation as well."

Eyewitness Report From Havana

Cuba War No Blood Bath but Debilitating Trickle

By WARD CANNEL

HAVANA (NEA) — It looks now as if the Cuban revolution will not be a bath of blood but a long, debilitating trickle.

It cannot be cut off tomorrow or even next month, according to men who know both the rebel and government abilities.

STRIKE FAILS

Despite the failure of the "general strike," which fizzled out like a wet fuse almost as soon as it began, it is a rebellion that can drag on for months, the kind that can sap not only a movement but a nation.

If the rebels had a leader like Batista, they could take over this city and at the same time the country. But the rebel shots come few and far between. The best they have is not nearly good enough to withstand the government planning and precision.

If the rebels hadn't realized this themselves, they do now after April 9, a new date for Cuba's history books and plaza monuments.

But if a monument to the Ninth of April is ever erected, it will have to be a broken gas main in bronze.

This gas main, just off the Prado, was planted with explosives early in the morning and set for noon. It was the signal for the start of an uprising in the only place in Cuba where resistance means anything.

But like much of leisurely Cuba, somebody's watch in the old Havana section was not set right, and so the general action began 15 minutes early.

★ ★ ★

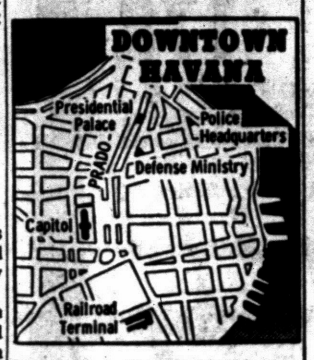

I was standing in the middle of it when armed soldiers and civilian Batista police materialized out of doorways, sports cars and bordellos. Everybody was prepared for the fight against the rebels. Police cars howling the order "Plan 15" tore down the narrow streets.

Most of the watches and clocks in old Havana were sufficiently out of tempo to keep the general strike from beginning immediately and all at once.

In the crowded area around the naval base and the armory, people stood in doorways, looked at me and spat.

"The Americans are fouling up everything. They should go back to their hotels," you could hear.

With the bomb's explosion in the gas main at noon, the Ninth of April began. Now the Prado was full of police and American-made Thompson submachine guns.

CARRY RIFLES

Driving down the Prado ahead of me was a shiny new auto full of men who seemed to be going to work. They slowed down and looked back, then pulled over to the curb and piled out, rifles and machine guns in their hands.

They scattered according to plan, each taking a position in a doorway or at a street corner.

The noon bomb had a slightly different effect on many of the press. They piled down the steps sleepily and found their way to the street barred by men, metal, and the sound of shooting.

★ ★ ★

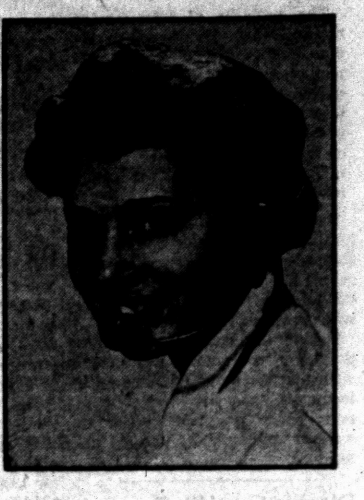

With power cut off by the bomb, the bars and saloons will now have to serve warm beer. With streets so heavily patrolled, none of the night spots will be accessible.

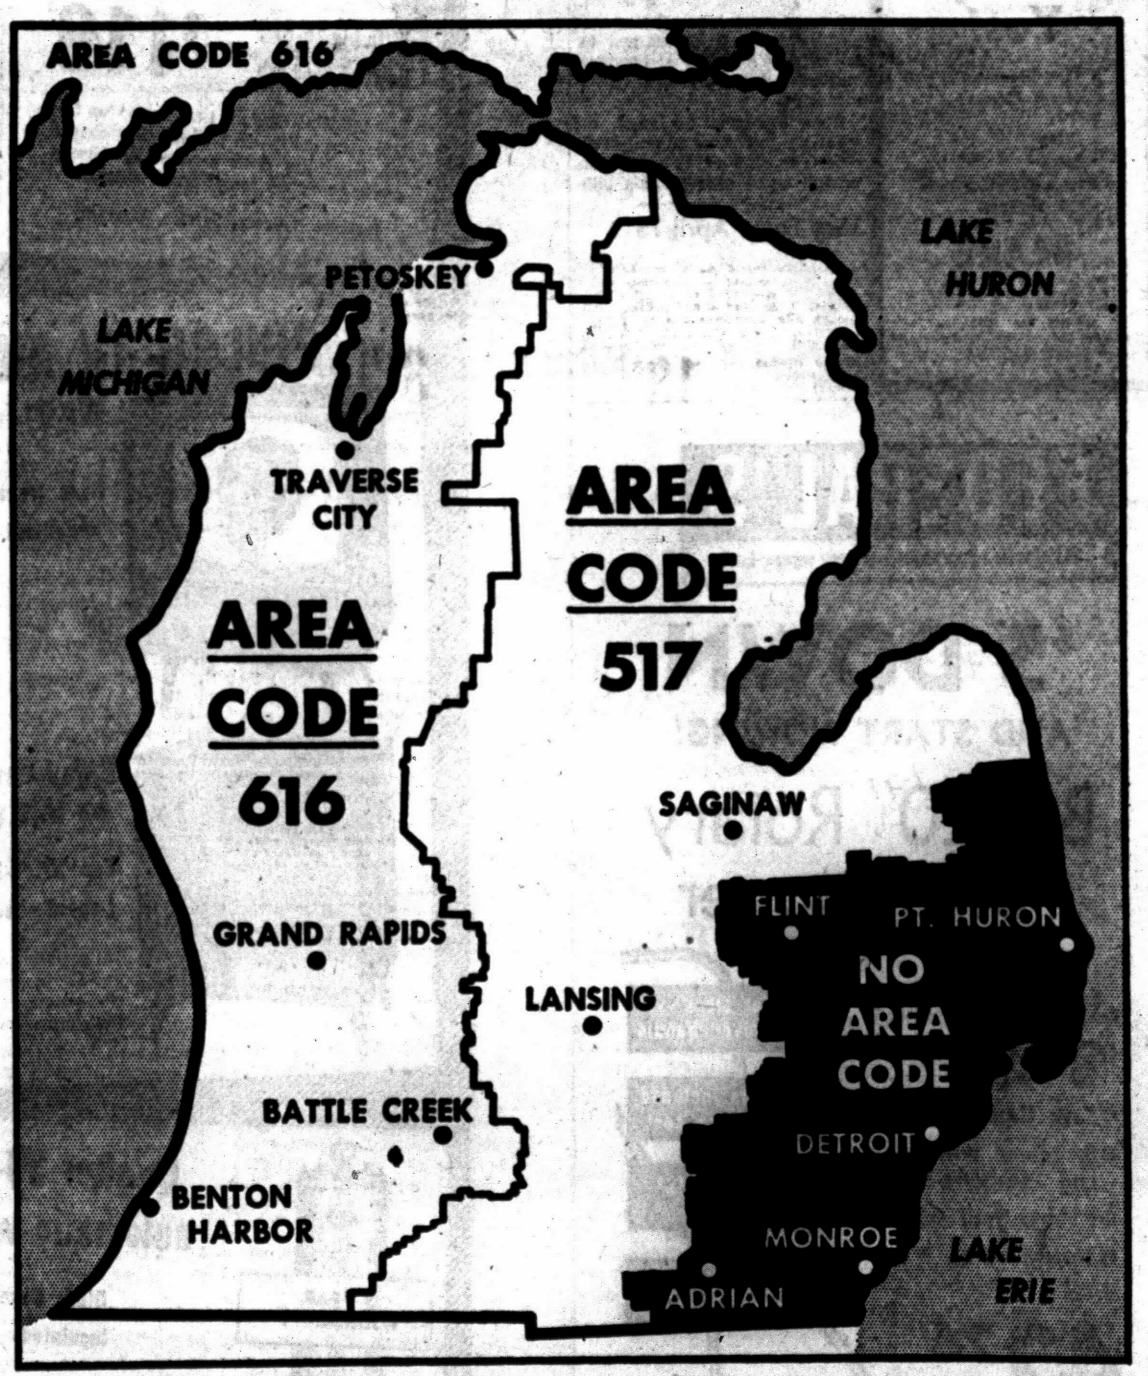

For now, it is the end of the tourist trade in Havana.

It is no picnic for newsmen, either.

AREA CODE

when you dial your own telephone calls to places outside Southeastern Michigan starting Sunday

AREA CODES for Central, Western and Northern Michigan, Washington, D. C., and 23 other states are shown in a new Direct Dialing booklet that was mailed to you this week. It shows WHERE and HOW you'll dial many more of your own out-of-town calls, starting Sunday.

You'll dial 1 1 2, then an AREA CODE, and then the telephone number to call many places outside Southeastern Michigan . . . starting Sunday . . . when your Direct Distance Dialing service is e-x-p-a-n-d-e-d across Michigan and across the nation.

AREA CODES are new. They will route your calls along a marvelous Long Distance "highway" to the particular area of the U. S. you want.

You'll continue to dial your own calls from Pontiac to places in Southeastern Michigan (black area on the map above) just as you've been doing.

Another step in the continuing program to bring you more and better telephone service.

Michigan Made Pure Sugar

LIFTS UP YOUR ENERGY— YET HELPS HOLD DOWN YOUR WEIGHT

Thanks to new clinical research, modern, sensible diets call for cutting down on food without cutting out fast-acting energy-producing foods. That's because the calories which your body uses up are now known to be non-fattening.

When your body needs energy, the calories from sugar supply it fast—faster than any other food. Actually, a level teaspoonful of Michigan Made Pure Sugar contains only 18 calories. Just enough to sustain you through 7½ minutes of normal activity.

Get Big Chief or Pioneer Pure Sugar. Both are Michigan Made brands. Both give you just 18 calories to a level teaspoonful.

Irons' Attorneys File Answer to Charges

An answer has been filed in Oakland County Circuit Court in the $150,000 damage suit brought against Sheriff Frank W. Irons and two deputies by Dr. John E. Brown, of Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys for Irons contended in their answer that the sheriff is not liable under a statute for acts of his deputies. They also say Brown's arrest last June was valid.

Brown, 34, of 1596 Cole St., charges in the suit filed March 3 that he was falsely arrested for drunk and disorderly conduct and slandered by two deputies.

★ ★ ★

Deputies William J. Jackson and Kenneth Hirt have not been served with summonses and therefore have not answered the doctor's charges, according to Assistant Corporation Counsel Charles A. Davis.

Commission Scraps Fees on Collection

Pontiac City Commissioners last night ordered an amendment striking "discriminatory" fees from the city's scrap-collecting ordinance.

★ ★ ★

They voted to eliminate a $2-a-day license imposed on independent scrap collectors.

Scrap collectors working for city scrapyards don't have to pay any daily fee; it was pointed out by William A. Ewart, reporting for a committee that studied the ordinance.

★ ★ ★

As amended, the ordinance would continue to require $200 bonds from independent collectors and $1,000 bonds from scrapyards.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE — Some Americans complain about trouble deciding between the Republicans and Democrats at election time. Pity the poor voter in Italy. He has 50 (fifty) parties to choose from on his ballot in next month's general elections. This panel in Rome, bearing the symbols of all the parties, is designed to enable illiterate voters to identify the candidates. It seems that a literate person would have a tough enough time at this, however.

Life Is Happier for Minnijean

Negro Strives to Be 'Just Another Student' at New York School

By LEONARD RYAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Minnijean Brown, expelled two months ago tomorrow from Little Rock Central High School, has made the grade part way toward becoming "just another student" here.

The 16-year-old Negro has been an 11th grad student at the progressive New Lincoln School since a week after her expulsion.

Minnijean was one of nine Negroes admitted to the high school in Arkansas under integration. Before her expulsion she twice had been suspended for incidents occurring in the school. She said she was the target of segregationists.

★ ★ ★

Upon announcement of her expulsion th eNew Lincoln School, a private institution with mixed classes, offered her a scholarship.

She is described by her teacher and the school director as an adequate student. She has served one month as vice president of her "core curriculum," or home room class. She has attended one school dance.

★ ★ ★

But she is the first to say that a normal student's life is not yet entirely hers. On her first day at New Lincoln, she said: "I'LL BE GLAD WHEN I'm just another student." Today, she says: "I haven't attained that yet."

She told a reporter that the fact he had come to talk with her was chief proof of this. "If I were just another student, you wouldn't be here," she said.

★ ★ ★

Minnijean has met a friendly atmosphere at New Lincoln. To the teacher, she is another student; to fellow students, another classmate. There are about 50 Negroes among the 433 pupils. Minnijean's home classroom of 30 is predominantly white.

The basic subjects Minnijean is being taught are English, French, social studies and biology. She attends art, music and physical education classes as well. Her one word for it all is "wonderful."

Witnesses at the hearing included H. E. Tenraa of Grand Rapids, an official of Michigan Express.

No Big Increase, Say Scientists

How Much Radiation From Fallout?

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter
Second in Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Fallout is making you radioactive.

But just how much? How much radiation do you actually get?

Only 1 to 2 per cent more than you've always been getting from natural sources — such as from cosmic rays, radium in the earth, and radioactive atoms in your body, says the Atomic Energy Commission.

The AEC says the average American gets:

From natural, unavoidable radiation: 100 millirads a year.

From all bomb tests so far: 1 to 2 millirads a year.

A millirad is a unit of measurement of the radiation absorbed by body tissues. It's roughly equivalent to a thousandth of a roentgen.

There are wide swings from this average.

In Denver, people get 147 millirads a year from natural radiation. Higher in altitude, Denver gets more cosmic rays. Also it sits on ground containing more radioactive minerals. Memphis, on the other hand, gets only 83 millirads a year from natural radiation.

Thus a resident of Denver gets almost twice as much natural radiation a year as does one in Memphis. Well, then, do people who live in Denver run almost twice the risk of having deformed babies as those who live in Memphis?

Is this higher natural radiation having that kind of bad effect on future generations, on heredity?

No one can say — no one has made such studies. Scientists would have to study many generations of people—who stayed put in Denver and Memphis—to get exact answers about any risk from this natural radiation.

The point is that bomb fallout is adding only a tiny amount.

There is not any AVERAGE fallout, either. It can and does vary.

Northern states have been getting more fallout atoms than Southern states, says the AEC. A main reason is they have had more rain and snow, which carries the atoms down to earth.

Towns near the Nevada test site can, of course, acquire more fallout atoms than distant towns. The closer you are, the more fallout you can expect, if only from dirt sucked up and made radioactive by the bomb explosion. This heavier dust falls sooner than the lighter atoms, which are shot up higher and are carried farther.

★ ★ ★

A National Academy of Sciences report, now nearly two years old, put it this way:

In 30 years time, natural radioactivity gives a person 4.3 roentgens exposure. In that same time, fallout would add one tenth to one half of a roentgen.

★ ★ ★

There seems little room to argue that fallout is adding only slightly to the unavoidable radiation we have to live with.

The real disagreements come on the question of what this addition is doing to us biologically.

(Tomorrow: the biological effects, and moral questions)

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID, today!

Independent Parking Brake, the only one in the low-price "3" that isn't connected with the foot-brake system.

Biggest Windshield, more glass area. More inside roominess than either of the "other two."

118-inch Wheelbase on even the lowest-priced models. Plus many other features.

TOMORROW'S BEST TRADE will be Plymouth because Plymouth's clean, low, graceful Silver Dart styling will not look "dated" when trade-in time comes. What's more, Plymouth will still be the only 1958 car with the mechanical improvements that make it today's best buy!

Objects to Tilting in Chairs

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of my husband's who comes to our house quite frequently has a habit, when sitting in a straight-back chair, of tilting it back so that all his weight is on the two back legs. This is definitely not good for our chairs and it bothers me whenever he does it, but how can I tell him about this without embarrassing him?"

Answer: There is no reason why you cannot say to him, "Oh, please be careful! The legs of that chair are weak, and if they break you will surely hurt yourself." Then in the future try to have him sit on a chair he cannot tilt.

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance and I had planned to be married next month. It was to be a rather large wedding and reception. However, two weeks ago my fiance's father died and so of course a large wedding is out.

"My fiance's mother does not want us to postpone the wedding, so we are going to be married very quietly with just our two families present. Would it be proper to have the wedding reception several months hence, or must we forego a reception entirely?"

Answer: It will not be a wedding reception, but it can be one welcoming you and your husband back from a long wedding trip. Or perhaps if your husband is from another city it could be a reception for the purpose of introducing him to your friends.

"Dear Mrs. Post: If a man doesn't make any move to help the lady he is escorting with her coat, even though he is standing right there, could she hand him her coat and ask him to hold it for her? Might this implication embarrass him?"

Answer: If he makes no attempt to help her with a heavy coat, it is entirely proper for her to hand it to him and say, "Will you hold this for me, please?"

Dear Abby . . .

Let's Give Termites a Fight!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Sometimes I believe YOU'VE got holes in your OWN head. You told Mrs. J. G. W. that she should nurse her husband through his second childhood while that 60-year-old boob is out chasing a 28-year-old woman, I say she should pack up her suitcase and go away for a little rest until he comes to his senses. When he finds no meals, no clean house, no clean clothes he will realize what a fool he was."

ABBY

ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ONE: I still say the wife should stick with her husband. If termites started to eat at the foundation of your house, would you go away and leave the house to the termites?

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and I have never been in any trouble. I get good grades and like sports, but my mother seems to think I should come right home after school. None of the kids go right home after school. They usually stop at the dairy bar and listen to the juke box and have a soft drink.

"I have been doing this and getting home at 5:30. Please explain to my mother that I'm not a baby anymore and I should have a little freedom."

MAMMA'S BOY

DEAR BOY: There's nothing wrong with "freedom" after school (about an hour's worth) IF your mother knows EXACTLY where you are — and your grades are good.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: We have a friend who is the dearest, sweetest man alive. He is married to a girl who is taking him for everything he owns. He thinks she is about perfect, but he doesn't know about all the taxi cabs that stop in front of his house while he is out of town. How do you go about telling a friend something that everyone knows but him?"

A TRUE FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If you are a true friend you will let him go on thinking she is about "perfect."

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: We are elderly people, and once a week a group of old friends get together to play cards and have a sociable evening. One couple are constantly quarreling and bickering. They got very violent and raised their voices and made everyone of us feel very uncomfortable. Since it was in my home, I spoke up and told them to do their fighting at home in the future.

My wife told me I should not have said this, although it seemed to silence them and the rest of the evening was peaceful. Was she right or was I?"

PEACE-MAKER

DEAR PEACEMAKER: The quarreling couple should have been told—but it might have been more diplomatic to have told them privately.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I don't trust my husband. He gets himself tripped up in lies about his working hours and where he is half the time. Last night he came home very late and when he took his shirt off, he had his T shirt on backwards and that wasn't the way he put it on in the morning.

I am not the type to fight and holler but I feel very bad about all this. You see next week we will be celebrating our first wedding anniversary and I so want to make a go of our marriage as I am expecting. What should I do?

VIOLA

DEAR VIOLA: Why not call on your clergyman and renew your marriage vows on your first anniversary? Your husband needs a refresher course.

Stay in Same Food Classification

Pick Diet Substitutes Carefully

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women who are using my Nine - Day Reducing Diet want to know if they can substitute one food for another. It is best if you can stick to the diet strictly. However, if there is some food you cannot get at your market or you do not like or one which does not agree with you, it is all right to substitute if you do it in a certain way.

* * *

Your menus have been carefully planned with both the calorie count and the requirements of nutrition in mind. For instance, you should not substitute a vegetable for meat, or milk for fruit juice.

You can substitute in the same classification. You can substitute meat for meat and one green vegetable for another and so forth. As a matter of fact you will find a list of substitutions and their calorie count in the Nine - Day Diet Booklet.

WAIT FOUR DAYS

Another thing to remember! I have already had some letters saying "I have dieted for two days and nothing happened." That is why I do not like to have you weigh before the fourth day. The scales may not give you any happy news for a couple of days, but on the fourth day you may find that you have lost from 2 to 4 pounds.

* * *

Breakfast

One poached egg on toast
Black coffee

Luncheon

One medium hamburger cake (cooked without butter and made of lean meat)
Celery sticks
One glass skimmed milk
Two raw carrots

Dinner

Small lean steak
One - half cup cauliflower
One baked potato (No butter. Medium sized potato has only about 90 calories)
One orange
One glass skimmed milk before bedtime.

* * *

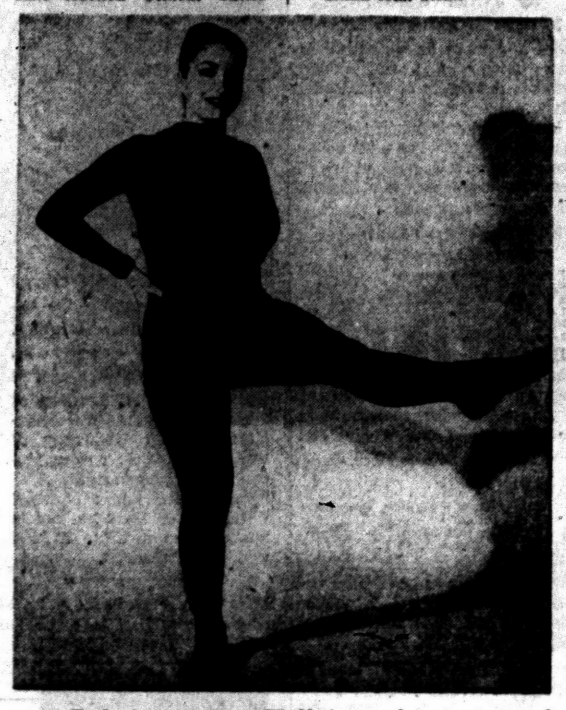

Today's exercise: Stand tall. Walk forward, swinging each leg forward - upward before you place your foot on the floor for your step. Swing. Step. Swing. Step. Swing as far up as you can and keep your back erect. Do not lean back.

NOT TOO LATE

If you would like to lose from 5 to 10 pounds in nine days but failed to clip the menus from the paper, it is not too late to join the gang. Send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for my Nine - Day Diet Booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

* * *

Tomorrow: "Bulging in Wrong Places? Better Get on Nine - Day Diet."

Today's exercise: Walk forward, swinging each leg forward—upward before you place your foot on the floor for your step. Swing. Step. Swing. Step. Swing as far up as you can and keep your back erect.

MARILYN ASHBY

Annoucement is made of the engagement of Marilyn Ashby of Auburn Heights to Edward F. McNamara. She is the daughter of Carlton Ashby and the late Mrs. Ashby. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Virginia McNamara of Sylvan Lake and the late Frank E. McNamara. No date has been named for the wedding.

MR. and MRS. DALE D. SHELDON

Married Saturday were Betty J. Machiela and Dale D. Sheldon. She is the daughter of the Richard Machielas, and his parents are the James B. Sheldons.

Betty Machiela Becomes Bride of Dale D. Sheldon

Baskets of white gladioli banked the altar of Emmanuel Baptist Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Betty Jean Machiela and Dale D. Sheldon. The Rev. Thomas Malone performed the candlelight ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Machiela of Maplewood drive are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Sheldon of Drayton Plains.

The bride's floor-length gown of lace and tulle over bridal satin featured a lace filled Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves of lace. Tiers of lace fell from the waist to the floor in back.

Holding her illusion veil in place was a crown of pearls. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses, carnations and stephanotis.

Matron of honor Mrs. Robert Dean was gowned in a royal blue taffeta dress trimmed with chiffon and she carried a cascade arrangement of pink carnations.

* * *

Bridesmaid Marion Louise Machiela, sister of the bride, wore a medium blue dress like that of the honor attendant's and carried a similar bouquet. The bridegroom's niece, Paula Sheldon, as flower maid, wore a floor length light blue taffeta dress.

Dean Arnold Sheldon served as his brother's best man, and Robert Prenty of Drayton Plains and George Hotchkiss seated the guests.

To receive 250 guests at a reception in the fellowship hall of the church, Mrs. Machiela chose a medium blue brocade dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Sheldon's choice was a navy silk dress with white accessories and a pink rose corsage.

* * *

For traveling to northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Sheldon wore a navy suit with white accessories and a corsage of white roses from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Drayton Plains.

WHAT IS CHARM?

Charm is the illusive "something that can even take the place of beauty in a woman.

You can cultivate charm. Practice does make perfect the habit of a smile in your voice and facial expression. The difference between a smile and a charming smile is that it must come from within.

Practice slowing down to appear poised instead of harassed, speaking softly and clearly instead of rushing through your speel and then repeating.

Although face and figure may not represent your fortune, the charming woman senses that it does offer a form of social security.

A trading post is the answer to what to do with duplicate wedding, shower and birthday gifts. Mrs. Bruce H. Smith (right) of Birmingham got the idea after seeing her friends admire a certain item of which she had two and hearing friends say they had duplicate gifts. So, Tuesday the auction was held at her home, with friends bringing items for exchange. Two of the women who seem happy with their items are Mrs. William Underdown (left) and Mrs. Jere B. Gillette, both of Birmingham.

"What am I bid" Mrs. Charles Houff calls to the group gathering. Getting an early start at the bids are Mrs. William Murphy, Mrs. Edward H. Proctor Jr. and Mrs. Helmut Heuser (left to right) all of Birmingham.

It's a Stupid Woman Who Dominates Talk

By RUTH MILLETT

She was a good-looking woman, the party was in her honor, and all she had to do to make a good impression was relax and let those who had come to meet her feel they were meeting a new friend.

Instead, she started talking in a positive — not "I think" but "I know"—voice and never stopped talking long enough for anyone else to get in more than a sentence.

First she gave herself a personal buildup by a not-too-subtle dragging in of the names of important people, a background of money and so on.

And then she started in to give an "expert's" opinion on one topic after another. The fact that her "expert" opinion was sometimes given to an honest-to-goodness expert on the subject under discussion didn't bother her at all.

She was too busy sounding off to learn anything, too busy talking to listen, too busy trying to impress others to give anyone a chance to impress her.

One by one she lost her "audience" but she still held forth, as long as there was anyone around to make a pretense of listening.

You don't meet many women like her — fortunately. But any woman can learn a lesson from such overpowering know-it-all women.

And that is, that it is a stupid woman indeed who insists on doing all the talking. No woman impresses others favorably unless she gives them a little chance to impress her in turn.

New York Fire Closes Museum

One Man Dies, 31 Hurt When Blaze Erupts in Modern Art Gallery

NEW YORK (INS) — Fire which threatened millions of dollars worth of irreplaceable masterpieces has caused the closing of New York's famed Museum of Modern Art.

Board Chairman Nelson A. Rockefeller said repairs to the building and the flame - swept second floor would be rushed in an effort to reopen the exhibit "within days."

One person was killed and 31 injured in yesterday's noon-hour blaze, but only six paintings of the 11,000 art objects were damaged and only ope of them — a large impressionist painting by Claude Monet, entitled "Water Lilies" — was deemed beyond recovery.

Alfred H. Barr Jr., director of collections, estimated the art loss at "under $300,000." He said all the paintings were insured "100 per cent."

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller, who helped carry paintings out of the burning building, said $4,000,000 worth of art had been saved by the staff, city firemen and the New York City fire patrol.

Two invaluable special loan exhibits — 156 paintings by French impressionist Georges Seurat and 80 works by Cubist pioneer Juan Gris — were unharmed.

More than 200 museum - owned works stored on the second floor of the museum's adjoining annex also escaped undamaged.

The most precious painting in the midtown Manhattan museum at the time of the blaze was Seurat's huge canvas entitled "Sunday Afternoon on the Island of La Grande Jette" — valued at more than $1,000,000. It was on loan from the Art Institute of Chicago.

★ ★ ★

Some 500 staff members and visitors were in the museum when the fire was discovered by a workman on the second floor, where an air - conditioning project was under way.

Thick black smoke quickly billowed up through the building, but there was only momentary panic. Thousands of lunch-hour spectators watched firemen battle the blaze just off Fifth Avenue.

The dead man was identified as Ruby Geller, 55, an electrician and father of three children. He was found face down in a pool of water in the rear of the third floor.

The cause of the three - alarm blaze was not immediately determined but Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh said an investigation was being conducted "from the angle" of the contracting work.

Poisoned Candy Sent to His Wife, Mother-in-Law

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Candy is dandy but arsenic is terrific, decided a 300-pound transient who tried to kill his estranged wife and mother-in-law with poisoned sweets, sheriff's deputies report.

★ ★ ★

James C. Gaither, 41, arrested yesterday, mailed arsenic-loaded candy to his wife, Mary, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary E. Urias, officers said.

"I was mad at the whole bunch of them," officers quoted Gaither as saying. "My wife was going to take the kids for good."

★ ★ ★

His wife, Mrs. Urias, and his wife's two children ate some of the candy. They became violently ill. But officers said they will recover.

Gaither was booked on suspicion.

County Heads Study Budget

Proposed $12.7 Million Seen Facing Questions at Next Meeting

Oakland County supervisors yesterday were handed copies of the county's record $12,762,280 proposed budget for 1959.

Indications were that several questions will be raised next Monday when supervisors meet again to approve the budget for tax allocation purposes only.

★ ★ ★

Huntington Woods Supervisor Harriett Phillips will question why the county shouldn't allocate additional funds for a rapidly-expanding Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic.

She read a letter to supervisors yesterday from clinic officials asking for "as much additional support as possible."

But Fred W. Smith, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which prepared the budget along with county auditors, said he didn't know where these funds would come from.

★ ★ ★

Another question which undoubtedly will arise is whether supervisors and their chairman should get raises for 1959. Smith said appropriation for a $15 per day raise for Chairman Delos Hamlin and $5 per day raises for supervisors were included in the tentative budget.

It represents an increase of $2,030,266 over the 1958 budget. This has resulted from a soaring welfare case load, officials say.

Mrs. Phillips asked that Smith's committee reconsider granting a $20,000 extra appropriation for the clinic which it rejected in an economy move Feb. 13.

★ ★ ★

But Howard K. Kelley, of Royal Oak, who said he too had many letters asking for this additional allocaton, urged the matter be taken up Monday. Supervisors agreed.

It's Pan-American Week

Mayor William W. Donaldson signed a proclamation similar to one signed by President Eisenhower.

VICIOUS LOOT — Waterford Township Police Chief Millard J. Pender (left) checks over a sawed-off shotgun and Supervisor Elmer Johnson examines an "antique," which are among some of the weapons collected due to tips from alert citizens.

Often Prevent Crimes in Waterford

Alert Citizens' Tips Aid Police

Tips from alert teachers, businessmen and individuals in Waterford Township have made it possible for the police department to prevent many serious crimes before they are committed, according to Waterford Chief of Police Millard J. Pender.

★ ★ ★

This was pointed out during an inventory of the township police department's confiscated weapons. Everything from six-inch switchblade knives and sawed-off shotguns, to miniature stiletto-type daggers is there.

Most of these were taken from individuals who did not have a chance to use the weapons because of residents' alertness and police intervention, Pender said.

Also locked in the department's storerooms are home-made brass knuckles, crude black-jacks and guns of every vintage and description.

These old guns, many war souvenirs, are deadly killers, because of the high-powered ammunition now being manufactured for modern guns, according to Pender.

"An unsuspecting person may load one of these obsolete guns and pull the trigger, only to have it explode in his hand or face," he added.

Many of the accumulated guns in the police department are used for test-firing, comparison material, and the remainder are sent to Lansing for confiscation.

★ ★ ★

Willingness of people to cooperate with the authorities, is a major factor in tracking-down suspicious looking characters, according to Pender.

A local storekeeper recently called police when a teenager attempted to buy ammunition out of hunting season. The result was the confiscation of several unregistered guns.

A hari-kari souvenir dagger was recently found in the hands of a high school junior, and although there may not have been any trouble, a cautious teacher had alerted the police—"just in case."

★ ★ ★

The police files are full of such instances, and through the cooperation of cautious citizens, many crimes can be averted, Pender concluded.

Pharmacists Confused by Many New Drugs

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — New drugs are hitting the market in such quantity that even druggists are confused, says an industry spokesman.

Raymond B. McMurray, chairman of the Patents and Trade Mark Committee of the American Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn., told the association 4,829 new products, 3,686 new compounds and 1,143 new dosage forms have appeared in the past decade.

Iron City Official Quits

IRON RIVER (AP) — Julius S. Metros, 44, has resigned as city manager of Iron River under fire of the five city commissioners. They accused him of inefficiency after an audit showed the city was in debt more than $100,000. Metros has been city manager for seven years. Mayor Leonard Schive said Metros will remain on the job 60 days until a successor is hired.

Pulls Safe From River

NEWBERRY (AP) — A conservation officer fished a steel safe from the Tahquamenon River northeast of Newberry. The safe was identified as one stolen from the Hollywood gas station at Harbor Springs in January.

Arbitration Group to Meet in Pontiac

With organization and procedures set, Pontiac's new Unemployment Arbitration Committee is ready to meet Friday to help cushion the recession for unemployed workers. Its aim:

To intercede in an advisory capacity in behalf of persons, unemployed through no fault of their own, who cannot meet debts and payments on time.

The seven-member committee, made up of volunteer citizens appointed by Mayor pro-tem John A. Dugan, stressed that it was not a welfare agency, and has no means of providing financial assistance.

It hopes to help unemployed persons hold on to property and possessions. It plans to hear individual cases of hardship, then seek arrangements with creditors to hold off repossessions and foreclosures.

★ ★ ★

Headed by Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County CIO Council, as chairman, and Ralph A. Becker, a Pontiac attorney, as secretary, the committee includes:

James Spence, secretary-manager of the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn.; Rev. H. C. Shankle, pastor of Southside Church of God; Mrs. Mildred Bennett, Oakland County executive Red Cross director; Merle Voss, secretary of Buckner Finance Co.; and Wayne Gabert, owner of the Wayne Gabert appliance store.

The committee sent a memorandum out to various civic and commercial organizations, stating it was ready for work.

Applications for a committee appearance are available from the City Clerk, it said. These applications must be completely prepared by the applicant and returned to the clerk before Friday of each week.

★ ★ ★

Committee meetings will be in the City Commission chambers at City Hall every Friday at 9 a.m.

The memorandum emphasized that the committee acts under jurisdiction of the City Commission and offers its services for residents of Pontiac only. It said in part:

"Assurance has been received from a number of local merchants that if persons in their debt would call them, an extension of time could be arranged to the mutual benefit of the parties involved.

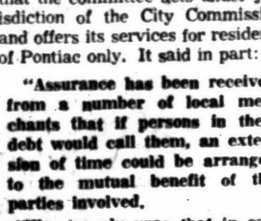

"We strongly urge that in each instance those who are indebted attempt first to work out their financial problems through the cooperation of their creditors.

"It is the hope of the committee that through the voluntary cooperation of debtor and creditor, landlord and tenant, vendor and purchaser, the problems of unemployment in Pontiac may be solved to a degree that would otherwise not be possible."

Sets Goodwill Week

In honor of the non-profit organization that provides jobs for the physically handicapped and disabled, the City Commission last night authorized May 4-10 as Goodwill Industries Week. Mayor William W. Donaldson signed a proclamation to that effect.

QUESTION: Was there a real Rip Van Winkle?

ANSWER: Rip Van Winkle was the hero of a famous story written by Washington Irving. While there was no actual man named Rip, the character was very much like some of the people author Irving had known all his life. Most of the Dutch settlers in the Hudson River Valley of New York where Irving lived were thrifty, hard-working folk. But now and then in every busy village there was a good-natured, lazy fellow who was popular with everyone except perhaps his wife.

Rip was such a person. He loved to slip away from hard work and go hunting with his dog high up in the Catskill Mountains near the Hudson River. On one of these trips, he heard strange voices and odd sounds. Peering over the rocks he saw a group of little men in Dutch costumes. They were playing bowls. Rip finally got up the courage to make himself known. He helped the little men carry some heavy kegs up the steep slope and drank some of the contents. Finally, he fell fast asleep and slept for 20 years. At least that was the way Washington Irving told the story.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: The story of Rip Van Winkle does not end when he awakes. You should read the story, which is one of the great ones in American literature.

As Part of '58 Campaign

Smear Tactics Introduced by GOP, Butler Charges

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The chairman of the Democratic National Committee says Republicans in the U.S. Senate are trying to introduce "smear tactics" into the 1958 election campaign.

★ ★ ★

Paul M. Butler predicted in a speech at Michigan State University last night that "as the economic situation grows worse, as the Republican election prospects grow dimmer, so Republican campaign tactics will become more irresponsible."

★ ★ ★

Butler described as "contemptible" a Senate Republican Policy Committee staff study made public April 7. He accused the GOP leadership of trying "to revive the discredited McCarthy - Nixon smear tactics of the 1954 election campaign."

★ ★ ★

The study, largely an attack on the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), described former President Harry S. Truman as the "chief mouthpiece of the collectivists."

The report also said Truman "inherited an administration the policies of which had been strongly affected by Communists and fellow travelers."

★ ★ ★

Butler said:

"While one Eisenhower cabinet member after another speaks glowingly and glibly about all the 'built-in security' our economy now enjoys as a result of the New Senate Republican Policy Committee calls these new deal policies 'improvised socialism.'

★ ★ ★

"While the administration begs President Truman to come to their aid and help secure passage of such Democratically originated programs as foreign aid and reciprocal trade, Senate Republicans dare to call President Truman 'the chief mouthpiece of collectivism.'"

★ ★ ★

The report cited by Butler had relieved Senate Republicans of any direct responsibility for its contents.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Hal Boyle Quotes:

Advice to College Grads — Find Yourself

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time in the postwar world, Joe College may not find people standing in line to offer him jobs when he says farewell to the campus this June.

★ ★ ★

What does a young graduate need to get ahead in a business recession?

"First of all, he needs to find himself," said Arthur Rubloff of Chicago, board chairman of one of the nation's largest real estate development firms.

"Failure to find themsleves is what defeats most young men. You have to go out and find yourself. Nobody will find you for you.

★ ★ ★

"A man should like his work. He's a sucker to stay for long at it otherwise. But if he doesn't know what he wants to do, then he certainly will end up having to do something he doesn't want."

★ ★ ★

Rubloff at 55 has supervised building projects totaling more than half a billion dollars. He went to work in a laundry at the age of 9, quit school at 12.

He sold newspapers, shined shoes, set pins in a bowling alley, worked as a galley boy and deckhand on Great Lakes freighters. He then went into the real estate field at 17—and earned $7,000 in commissions his first year.

Unlike many self-made men, however, Rubloff is a firm advocate of education.

"It has never been more fundamental to business, or more important to success," he says, "because the world is becoming more specialized."

He also believes college graduates are wrong to feel that the present recession is any great or permanent barrier to advancement.

"Some young people seem to feel that the days of great opportunities are past," he said. "Nothing could be farther from the truth. The opportunities today are greater than they ever have been in the history of mankind.

★ ★ ★

"Even with this so-called recession, there are more $70,000 to $100,000 jobs open than there ever were. The corporations are weeding out their second-best men, and looking for top talent — and they'll pay any price for it."

Naturally, corporations aren't offering jobs like this to a man just out of college. How does he climb to that rank?

"It isn't merely a matter of either genius or hard work alone," said Rubloff. "It's easy to tell somebody to work hard.

"I think a young man does need 90 per cent energy to go with the 10 per cent judgment he has now. And I feel that if he uses his energy sensibly, it will help him mature in judgment.

"But just working hard isn't the main thing. The basic things are to have a real desire to succeed, a pride in accomplishment, and to think in terms of how you can help the other fellow."

Says Nathan's Widow Plans to Become Nun

NEW YORK (AP)—Julie Haydon, actress widow of George J. Nathan, plans to become a nun, the New York Post said today.

"I want to please God," she was quoted, "to make others' lives more pleasant. I hope to do the most possible with my life."

Nathan died last Monday at the age of 77.

Miss Haydon, who is 48, married Nathan in 1955.

Judy Garland Reported Reconciled With Spouse

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Judy Garland and her husband, Sid Luft, have reconciled, New York Post columnist Earl Wilson said.

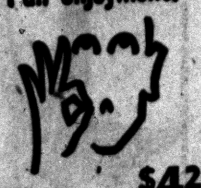

Neither was available for comment.

Miss Garland sued for divorce March 4 in Santa Monica, Calif. She also had sued him for divorce in 1956, but withdrew the action a few days later.

'Buy Way Out of Recession . . . But What?'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

ST. CROIX, Virgin Islands (INS) — Open palm tree parchment to President Dwight D. Eisenhower:

Dear Mr. President: When you said the best way to beat the recession is to "buy," my husband of course snapped to attention at once.

"I think we should help out," he said. (Arthur has been ardently contributing to free-spending economy since his 10-year-old 10-cent allowance days.) "But what, and with what, can we buy?"

We had problems. Our kitchen in New York is too small for a dishwasher, and my pride is too great for a chemise, and as a matter of fact the only thing we really needed — a German Shepherd to give us an excuse to stay home nights — is impractical in the city.

★ ★ ★

So we took this trip, see, figuring to help Pan - American Airways out of the recession in our small way, and we discovered the island of St. Croix . . . U.S. territory, of course, Mr. President. And here, we found the ideal way to spend money. We bought land. Two acres overlooking the Caribbean.

These two acres cost us roughly as much as Isabella gave Christopher Columbus to discover this island but then, even doubloons don't buy anything like they used to, do they?

This expenditure may not give anybody employment except ourselves, but the point is we are now happily in debt, and the way we understand it, that is being patriotic. At any rate all-American.

Now the reason we are writing is not to get an official plaudit from the White House — we know you're awfully busy, and so is Jim — but to invite you to come to the Virgin Islands the next time you get a free weekend, instead of risking the Augusta climate.

This, as you may know, is the only area of the Caribbean, indeed, perhaps of the western world, where there was no bad weather this winter.

The temperature here in the Virgin Islands varies about ten degrees betwixt summer and winter, the average being 78; and when it rains, the natives all run screaming, and the retired Americans say whoopee and give gala parties.

Also, there is a very sporting golf course at a new resort, very quiet and handsome, called "Estate Carlton." It was just built last year by a Yale man, also very quiet and handsome, named Richard Draper Richards. (To close friends, Dick D. Dicks)

He retired here several years ago, at the age of 35 or so, and was very happy except that he missed the sport of presidents. So he built the only course on the island, which we call sporty because the trade winds tend to whisk everything longer than a four-foot putt into the rough.

Even Dr. Middlecoff has not deigned to advise how to recover from a lie in sugar cane, fishboyant and bougainvillea. So you see, we are all doing our bit for the flagging golf ball industry.

Do come down, Mr. President, and tell your friends about St. Croix. It's a delightful place to eat bananas and forget your troubles.

★ ★ ★

In fact, when we told the kindly people here that there was a recession in the states, they presumed we referred to excessively high tides on the nation's beaches, and were properly sympathetic.

Sincerely, a patriot.

Settle Lawsuit on Myrtle Drive

State Supreme Court Upholds Circuit Decree of Private Ownership

A three-year-old lawsuit involving the status of Myrtle drive in Pontiac has been settled by the Michigan Supreme Court.

An opinion by Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh upheld a Circuit Court decision that the drive is privately owned, not publicly.

★ ★ ★

The suit was brought against the city by a resident at the corner of Myrtle and Oakland avenue, Ivan Bain, who contended the city owned it.

Bain, of 320 Oakland, wanted to build a driveway off Myrtle behind his house.

The city argued that Myrtle had never been dedicated as a public street.

★ ★ ★

Justice Kavanagh ruled the city was right and ordered court costs to be paid in its favor.

City Attorney William A. Ewart hoped the high court decision also would settle the issue insofar as other private streets in Pontiac are concerned.

Cancer Division Eyes Bolting Parent Group

DETROIT (AP) — The possibility Southeastern Michigan Division will bolt the parent group in favor of the United Foundation will be discussed at a special meeting of division leaders April 28.

★ ★ ★

The prospect arose after the society ordered all chapters to withdraw from community fund organizations by Jan. 1, 1960, and conduct independent fund raising campaigns.

E. W. Tuescher, executive secretary of the division, said he was satisfied with membership in the United Foundation.

"We have been a part of the United Foundation since 1951, have had complete financial support in this area, and it is my opinion that the concensus of the Detroit chapter is that it's very happy," he said.

★ ★ ★

Earlier, Ray R. Eppert, president of the Detroit United Foundation, criticized the society's decision to break off as the "height of stupidity." He added that the group "seems determined to wage a trade war for the contributors' dollars."

The Truth About Russia's Schools

Soviets Dedicated to Higher Education

(This is the third of four articles in which a top American educator who has recently visited Russia provides a first-hand, frank and authoritative analysis of Russian schools.)

By WILLIAM W. BRICKMAN
Professor of Education
New York University

How well trained is the upper crust of Soviet education? A visit to Moscow State University provided me with some clear ideas on this important subject.

The university has some buildings in downtown Moscow, but its main center of attraction is the skyscraper on Lenin Hills on the outskirts of the city. This structure, built in 1953, houses six faculties or departments of science: Geology, geography, mathematics, physics, chemistry, and biology and soils. About half of the science students live in the dormitories. Apartments are available for the professors.

30,000 ATTEND

The total enrollment of the university is 30,000 students, almost evenly divided between the sexes, and they are taught by a staff of 900. About 80 per cent of the students get funds or stipends of 300 to 500 rubles a month ($75 to $125 at the official exchange rate) to make it possible for them to carry on their studies.

Excellent students may receive from the university as much as 700 rubles ($175) a month. Apart from the Soviet citizens, the university also trains more than 1,500 foreign students who represent 60 nationalities in 31 countries.

The physical appearance of the tremendous science building on Lenin Hills is very impressive. It has large lecture halls, a 2,000-seat assembly hall for academic ceremonies and for concerts, a student theater, five gymnasiums, swimming pools, 1,700 laboratories, many large and small libraries, and other conveniences for professors and students.

Dr. Kuzma I. Ivanov, one of the four pro-rectors (vice presidents) of the university, told me the basic aim of all Soviet universities is to train well-educated, cultured specialists in all fields for the benefit of the Soviet Union. We discussed the process of competition by which the university selects its professors.

Vacancies are announced in the press and professors apply. No one gets a permanent appointment until he completes a five-year trial period. The rector (president) is appointed by the minister of higher education of the U.S.S.R.

In Prof. Ivanov's spacious office was a large portrait of Lenin. The outer room had pictures of Lenin and Stalin.

ASKS FOR CATALOGUE

I asked him for a catalogue of the university. "We don't have any; we don't need any advertising," was his reply. I then inquired if Oxford, Cambridge, Harvard and the Sorbonne of Paris needed advertising.

★ ★ ★

"Of course not," he said.

"Then why do they publish catalogues?"

He shrugged his shoulders. However, he was good enough to send me a beautiful two-volume history of the University of Moscow.

After visiting the university, I was convinced that the Soviet Union was dead serious about higher education. It may cut corners and save money in other directions, but it pours funds lavishly into its universities.

During my stay in Soviet Russia, it was impossible to see all types of professional schools. However, we did manage to spend some time in teachers' colleges.

There, we met several students who had studied five years of a foreign language, such as French, German or English, in the 10-year school and then continued it in this institute. Not one could speak the language. A senior student who acted as school photographer spoke fairly well after 10 years of English, but he often had trouble in following my simplified English.

★ ★ ★

In the vast Lenin auditorium, with quotations by Lenin and Stalin on the walls, an instructor was lecturing to a first-year class on the history of the Communist Party.

He spoke slowly and clearly, and looked directly at his audience. The students, among whom were some Asiatics, wrote down his words with the greatest of care and kept their eyes glued to their notebooks. There was no distraction, not even the foreign visitors.

The visits to the university and the teachers' institutes made it clear to me that the U.S.S.R. is dedicated to the cause of higher and professional education. The authorities are very careful that the students they select should have not only scholastic ability, but also devotion to Communism. The work done in the higher institutions aims to train not merely specialists, but specialists who are ideologically reliable and trustworthy.

Paving of Taylor Street Will Go Ahead

City Commissioners decided last night that 49.99 per cent is close enough to a majority to constitute one.

A petition, signed by that percentage of property owners, was accepted and as a result the proposed paving of Taylor street from Oak Hill to Ellwood was put back on this year's public improvement program.

The project had been dropped two weeks ago when a petition against it was received. It had been signed by 43 per cent of the property owners.

A hearing on intention to repave the street was re-scheduled for next Tuesday night.

Five other public hearings were also scheduled the same night.

The most important will be on the city's intention to repave and widen Opdyke road, with state help, from Square Lake to Walton. Cost estimates, accepted last night, have $21,696 for the job coming from special assessments and $303 from city funds. This will constitute about one-eighth of the total cost. The state will pay the rest.

The other hearings will be on intention to construct new sidewalks. The projects, listed with the cost estimates, are:

West side of Seminole avenue (with the exception of two lots); assessed cost, $770; city cost, $1,116; cost for a 55-foot lot, $110. East side of Blaine street, from High street 500 feet south; assessed cost inside old city limits, $224; assessed cost other than within the subdivision, $254; subdivision bond improvement money, $126; city share, $320; cost for a 40-foot lot, $80. East side of Joslyn avenue extension, Perry to Linda Vista; assessed cost, $513; city cost, $489; cost for a 316-foot lot, $513. East side of N. Jessie street in front of three lots; assessed cost, $240; city cost, $178; cost for a 40-foot lot, $418.

Assessment rolls for three other projects were ordered for next Tuesday. Two are for curbs and gutters on Adelaide, from Oakland to west of Baldwin, and on S. Jessie street, Raeburn to E. Wilson. The third is for a sanitary sewer on the southeast side of Montcalm avenue from Corwin northwest 740 feet towards Summit.

★ ★ ★

Hearings were held last night on intention to construct these three jobs and on assessment rolls prepared for three others, including curbs and gutters on Harriett street, Cadillac to Adelaide; LeGrande avenue, Baldwin to Euclid; and Gladstone place, Cooper to Edison.

Commissioners confirmed in four payments the special assessment roll for a trunk storm drain on Arlene avenue, Columbia to Second.

★ ★ ★

They voted to enclose an open ditch portion of the Seminole avenue relief drain. It lies south of Orchard Lake and Johnson avenues and is about 600 feet long.

Tigers Open Season With 'Confidence'

Lary on Mound Facing Donovan in Second Game

Martin's Lone Hit Was Key in 4-3 Victory for Bunning

CHICAGO (AP) — The Detroit Tigers took the field against the Chicago White Sox today with a new ally — confidence.

"Let's bear down and show 'em we mean business," manager Jack Tighe said yesterday when the Bengals prepared to meet the Sox for the opener of their American League campaign.

They showed 'em with a 4-3 victory that did much to wipe away the gall of a disastrous pre-season exhibition showing in which the Detroiters won only 7 games while losing 19.

"A lot depends on what happens in the first few weeks," Tighe said. "If we can all pull together, we'll cut a figure in the race."

★ ★ ★

Right-hander Frank Lary (11-16) was scheduled to face Chicago hurler Dick Donovan (16-6) today in the second of a three-game series at Comiskey Park. The Tigers make their home debut Friday against Cleveland.

Starter Jim Bunning scattered seven hits and rapped out two doubles of his own in yesterday's duel with Billy Pierce. The two were the only 20-game winners in the American League last season.

For much of the contest, it looked as if new Tiger acquisition Billy Martin was a bust as far as supplying the spark he was expected to furnish this season. The little shortstop struck out three times in a row — and then banged out a single that scored the winning marker.

The Bengals made 14 hits, 9 of them off Pierce.

Detroit clinched it in the seventh when Bunning socked his second two-bagger and scored the Tigers' fourth run on Frank Bolling's sacrifice and Martin's single.

Harvey Kuenn and Ray Boone smashed homers with nobody on base, Boone in the second inning and Kuenn in the sixth. The other Tiger run came in the fifth on Bunning's double and Bolling's single.

★ ★ ★

Kuenn's performance in center field brought cheers from Tighe. The ex-shortstop pulled in seven Chicago liners, making sensational catches of pokes by Luis Aparicio and Sherm Lollar in the fifth.

★ ★ ★

Chicago scored its runs on a two-run homer by Lollar and a single by Billy Goodman in the third.

3,008 Effort Good for 4th

St. Paul Team's Total Produces Only Major Shift for ABC

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The Steven Jay team of St. Paul, Minn., fashioned the only major change at the American Bowling Congress championships yesterday when it cracked out a 3,008 series on the final squad of the day.

★ ★ ★

The St. Paul unit took fourth place in the open team division and might have gone further had it not rolled a pallid 917 game between heftier games of 1,041 and 1,050.

★ ★ ★

Veteran Harvey Olson, 47, a bowling lane refinisher, anchored the Steven Jays with a 648 series.

The Hamm's Beer team of Chicago's Classic League rolled a tepid 2,808. None of its star-studded lineup managed to eke out a 600 series.

The St. Louis Falstaffs continue to reign in the open division with their 3,210 series of April 10.

Garver Also Whitewashes Tribe, 5-0

Larsen Shuts Out Bosox, 3-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This may be a tougher, tighter American League pennant race as predicted by the managers, but at the moment, Casey Stengel, the old pro of the swami set, is still pulling rabbits out of hats with his New York Yankees.

★ ★ ★

The defending champs had some pretty atrocious pitching during the spring exhibitions. But Stengel figured it would improve once the season started.

And most of the spring he had Jerry Lumpe playing third base, only to declare that "Andy Carey still is my man" when announcing his opening day ineup.

So what happened? Don Larsen, he of the weak arm this spring, gave up just four hits, got out of two jams on Carey's dandy fielding at third and shut out the Boston Red Sox 3-0 yesterday before a record Boston opening crowd of 35,223.

Ned Garver shut out Cleveland 5-0 on seven hits while Kansas City gave Herb Score a rough time in his comeback debut with the Indians that drew the AL's biggest crowd of the day, 35,307 at Cleveland. Baltimore, opening the season at home for the first time, ended Washington's stay at top of the league 6-1 before 34,377.

★ ★ ★

The AL openers drew 133,226 for four games.

The Red Sox, now 0-2 after losing the early opener at Washington Monday, again were without Thumper Ted Williams, still recovering from food poisoning.

Score, the 24-year-old southpaw swifty, gave way to a pinch-hitter after three innings in his first championship appearance since that horrible eye injury of last May 7. He left trailing 3-0, striking out five, including leadoff man Mike Baxes in the first, but also walked four and gave four hits. Garver walked three, fanned two while scattering seven singles.

★ ★ ★

Gus Triandos and Brooks Robinson split half of Baltimore's 12 hits off four Washington pitchers. Triandos homered among his three, Robinson tripled. Billy O'Dell won it with 4 1-3 hitless innings in relief of Connie Johnson. Camilo Pascual was the loser.

In the DiMaggio Tradition

Kuenn Shines in Field, Helps Bunning Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — A happier and healthier Harvey Kuenn has turned Detroit's operation Big Switch into a success judging from the Tigers' opening day 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Kuenn, a transplanted shortstop, played center field ala Joe DiMaggio yesterday and, along with shortstop successor Billy Martin, helped Detroit's Jim Bunning get off to a victorious start.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers obtained Martin, a former New York Yankee, from Kansas City in a multiple player deal last winter and announced Martin would play short and Kuenn would take over center field.

The move appeared questionable since Martin had starred as a second baseman and third baseman and Kuenn hadn't acted too happy when he was shuttled between short and third last year. Kuenn finished 1957 with a .277 average, far below par.

★ ★ ★

"But I love it," said the 27-year-old Kuenn after turning in three beautiful fielding efforts and blasting three hits including a game-tying homer against the White Sox.

"I'm real happy with the move," said Kuenn. "I think it'll work out fine. Martin can handle the job at short. I'm about 10 pounds lighter than last year and feel a lot better without losing any strength. Last year I started worrying about my fielding and I worried so much that, I guess, it affected my hitting.

"Then later in the season," he continued, "I began feeling loggy and never could get myself unscrambled. But this is a new season and I feel good to get off to a good start."

Kuenn batted .308 for Detroit in he led the league with 209 hits. He followed with a .306 in 1954 and again led the league with 201 hits. In 1955 he batted .306 and soared to .332 in 1956 before his 1957 tumble.

OUTFIELD DEBUT — Harvey Kuenn made his outfield debut with the Detroit Tigers in somewhat spectacular style when he made a shoestring catch and rolled over on a low short drive against the White Sox yesterday. The Tigers won 4-3 and Kuenn had three hits.

PCH Tramples Indian Thinclads

Roiled somewhat by their skimpy defeat in last Friday's Central Michigan College invitational meet at Mt. Pleasant, Pontiac High's thinclads Tuesday afternoon bounced back with a vengeance. Coach Dean Wilson's squad ran roughshod over what has been rated as a good Flint Central team. Chiefs scalped their neighboring Saginaw Valley Indians, 73-36, doubling the count to start the PCH league campaign.

Big surprise of the meet was the very fast showing of Jim Hawkins in the high sticks. Jim beat speedy teammate Danny Sowell in 15.4. Hawkins was 2nd in the low hurdles, where Sowell was winner, in another fast finish, 20.5. Jim also took the broad jump at 20-6¼ (all PCH jumpers (Sowell and Jim Keller) were over 20 feet). Freddie Brooks (winner) Charley Barge and Walker (all PCH) swept the high jump.

Sprinter Bob Manning flashed a 9.8 hundred and a fine 22.0 for the 220-yards, while Rog Coats came within a half second of cracking 1:59.0 for the half-mile. Larry Beamer hit a brilliant 4:36.2 for the mile, more than 10 seconds under his time at CMC fast week.

Tuesday's shining victory was a sharp workout for this weekend's trip to the nationally rated Mansfield, Ohio Relays. Yesterday's test determined the makeup of the team for the Ohio trip.

The summary:

120-yard high hurdles—1 Hawkins (P); 2 Sowell (P); 3 Johnson (PC). Time 15.4.
100-yard dash—1 Manning (P); 2 Watkins (C); 3 Young (C). Time 9.8.

Rudolph vs. Key in Final

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A once-a-week golfer and a once-a-day golfer battle it out Friday over the Country Club of Florida course to determine the 1958 Western Amateur champion.

Mason Rudolph, born and reared in Clarksville, Tenn., but now a speciaist third class at Fort Chaffee, Ark., is the once a day performer. He is assigned to the golf club there, where, when not holding golf clinic, he finds time to hit a few balls or play a few holes daily.

★ ★ ★

The Sunday golfer is mild, smallish James "Billy" Key, of Columbus, Ga., a 27-year-old bank vice president who doesn't take the claim he is descended from Francis Scott Key too seriously.

Although Rudolph is only 23, both he and Key can be classed as links veterans. Key has been playing since he aws 5, and Rudolph started at 8, and when 13 competed in the Southern Amateur Tournament.

★ ★ ★

Both breezed into the finals yesterday, and the word is used advisedly. The wind, particularly in the afternoon round, reached near-gale force, making it difficult for the players to maintain their stance on the greens and making long shots fly off t wierd angles.

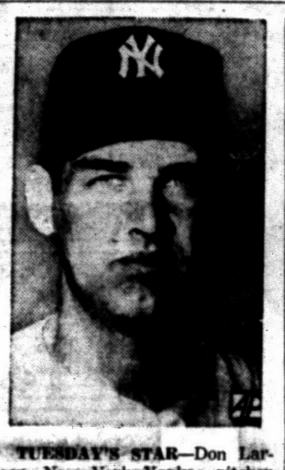

Despite the elements, Rudolph shot par golf in swamping Don Bisplinghoff of Miami, 8 and 7. Key, after a one-under-par 71 for the morning round, had six fives on the out nine in the afternoon and made the turn a 41, but as his opponent, Pete Dye of Indianapolis, carded a big 43 it made no difference and the match ended on the 28th hole.

★ ★ ★

"This will be one match where the medalist jinx won't stand up," Rudolph laughed. He and Key were co-medalists, along with Eddie Hopkins of Abilene, Tex., of the week-long test, each carding 286 for his 72 holes of qualifying play.

W. Bloomfield Wins

West Bloomfield High won its first night track meet, Tuesday 69½-39½, at the expense of Bloomfield Halls. Jack Newton, husky freshman was the star performer with two wins, a 2nd and a leg of the winning relay event. Winners took seven firsts, tied for another, taking the shot, broad jump, pole vault, high hurdles, both dashes and the 880 relay.

TUESDAY'S STAR—Don Larsen, New York Yankee pitcher who was anything but impressive in spring training, pitched a 4-hitter to beat the Boston Red Sox in the Yank opener yesterday. For this he was named by AP and INS as Tuesday's "Star of the Day."

Radovich, NFL Settle Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The National Footall League has avoided a court test concerning player contracts by settling Bill Radovich's $105,000 anti-trust suit.

★ ★ ★

Specific terms of the out-of-court settlement made yesterday were not disclosed but Maxwell Keith, attorney for the former NFL player, said it would bring Radovich about $10,000 a year if properly invested.

Radovich, 42, played with the Detroit Lions of the NFL from 1941 to 1945. In 1946 he went to the Los Angeles Dons in the now defunct All-America Conference.

★ ★ ★

Eventually he sought re-employment with the Lions and the San Francisco Clippers, a member of the Pacific Coast Football League. The PCFL is now out of existence, but then was affiliated with the National League.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complaint: Too Many Topped Shots.

Diagnosis: Cramped Address Position.

Treatment: Straighten up and relax. If you're crouched over the ball in a cramped position at the start of your swing, the natural tendency will be to raise up a bit before you hit the ball. Raising up even a "bit" is enough to cause you to hit the ball on top — causing another of those frustrating little dribble shots.

But if you start in a comfortably erect stance position, there will be no natural tendency to raise up during the swing.

Keep the back straight when you stand to the ball. Flex the knees and bend from the neck only. Stand so that you can reach the ball comfortably, with the left arm a straight extension of the shaft.

Don't ruin a shot before you even start the swing. And that's what you do when you get all hunched over the ball in a muscle-cramping position at the start..

Kubek Status Uncertain

NEW YORK (AP)—Talk about being surprised.

Probably no one was still more surprised today than New York Yankee shortstop Tony Kubek, General Manager George Weiss, Manager Casey Stengel, Mrs. Anthony Kubek Sr., Tony's mother, and Major Gerald Mulrine of the United States Army.

They are still trying to unravel the muddled picture of whether Kubek, 1957 American League Rookie of the Year, will join the Army May 24 for six months of training under the streamlined reserve plan.

Kubek says no. Major Mulrine says Kubek said yes. Weiss and Stengel don't know, and Tony's mother is still wondering.

Whatever the answer, the Yankees are the ones who ultimately must face up to the problem.

★ ★ ★

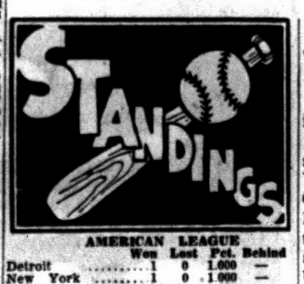

Kubek was to be their regular shortstop, though he missed yesterday's opening game in Boston, which the Yanks won 3-0, because of a pulled muscle. His varsity status enabled Gil McDougald to move back to second base.

It also enabled Weiss to talk trade with Cleveland Indians' General Manager Frank Lane on a possible deal involving the Yank other second baseman, Bobby Richardson, for Indians ace reliever Ray Narleski.

If Kubek's uniform color should be khaki for the remainder of the season then Stengel could not part with Richardson without at least finding a suitable replacement, a move that appears doubtful in the current crop of the American League's available second basemen.

Cranes Take Two of Three Contests

Cranbrook school athletes took on opponents in three sports, yesterday afternoon, on the Cranes' home fields, winning two and losing one.

Cranbrook thinclads almost doubled the combined scores for Hazel Park and Berkley, 82 to 27½ each, in the triangular track meet. Ten first places were taken by the host team, led by Larry DeWitt's three.

A 5-run outburst in the 6th inning, while trailing 4-0 gave the Crane nine a 5-4 win (3rd straight) over Berkley. Neil Mieras got the winning run to break the 4-4 deadlock when Jim Williams scored on a bunt. Mieras followed Williams in on the same play.

Crane's netters dropped a match to Grosse Pte. 4-3, with the 2nd doubles match the deciding factor. Cranes won the 1st and 2nd singles, and 1st doubles tests, but just missed out in the 2nd doubles, a tight match all the way.

M'Kenney Clicks Twice as Boston Scores 3-1 Win

Cup Playoff All Even; 5th Game on Thursday in Montreal Forum

BOSTON (AP) — Hockey experts and fans wondered today if the Boston Bruins are a Cinderella team headed for their first Stanley Cup championship in 17 years.

The Bruins, originally on the wrong end of 5-1 odds, were all even after four games with the powerful Montreal Canadiens as the teams moved to Montreal for the fifth meeting of a best of seven series.

★ ★ ★

"The Bruins are playing terrific hockey and I honestly think they have a good chance," said Detroit Coach Sid Abel, a former National Hockey League star.

Abel, whose Red Wings were knocked off by Montreal in four straight semifinal games, was amazed—as were countless others—last night as Boston completely outplayed the Canadiens for a 3-1 victory.

★ ★ ★

"Montreal ran away from all of us during the regular season, but the way the Bruins are going they can win the Cup," Abel said. "The forwards are driving, the defense is just great and goalie Don Simmons is performing sensationally."

★ ★ ★

"This makes the series a lot more interesting," said Boston Coach Milt Schmidt. "I guess the Canadiens know now they have to do more than put on their uniforms."

★ ★ ★

While the Bruins accepted congratulations and let loose cries of "two more," the Canadiens appeared a beaten team. They changed hurriedly in their quiet dressing room and left for the train.

★ ★ ★

"The series is narrowed down to the best of three," Montreal Coach Toe Blake said. "We're going to have to play better than we did tonight. Those Bruins are really hustling."

★ ★ ★

Both Schmidt and Blake agreed that getting the first goal in a game is a definite factor in playoff game.

Schmidt called the first goal a "deadly weapon" and noted that in the Bruins' 10 playoff games this spring the team which tallied first has won eight times.

★ ★ ★

Don McKenney, a 28-goal scorer in the regular season, gave Boston the jump last night while Montreal's Dollard St. Laurent was in the penalty box in the opening minutes. He was credited with the second goal in the middle period whein Vic Stasiuk's backhander deflected off him just four seconds after St. Laurent returned from another penalty.

St. Fred Golfers Win

St. Frederick golfers opened the season by defeating Clarkston yesterday 179-183, with Joe Keller taking medal honors with a 42. Pat Secoy of St. Fred and Art Hancock of Clarkston each had 43.

Other scores for St. Fred were DeChaine 45 and Fraser 49; for Clarkston, Seyler 46, Jungiess 46 and Eaglen 48.

Good for Grouse, Trouters

Dry April Has Advantages

By JACK PATTERSON

The life of the urban dweller does not hinge on the state of the weather, and he can afford an independent attitude toward it. The dry, sunny April days we're experiencing probably improve his disposition, and they afford him a pleasant topic of conversation. But he could get along without them if he had to.

PATTERSON

Real beneficiaries of the unseasonal dry spell are this year's generation of grouse and pheasants. April can be a critical month in the life cycle of these species.

Icy, egg-chilling, chick killing April rains far too often take a fearsome toll of early hatches. Although the latter half of April and much of May sees the major nesting activity, there is evidence that the birds are willing to get off to an early start. A dry April and a normal May and June will do much to assure a good crop next fall.

★ ★ ★

Although most trout fishermen are urban dwellers they do not think of themselves as such, and are in fact much more closely attuned to the weather than their non-wading neighbors. They like dry April weather because under such conditions trout streams will be clear and "normal" on opening day.

Trout fishermen think like grouse when it comes to heavy April rains. They think like grouse about a lot of things. For all we know, trout fishermen may be one-half grouse anyway.

And from the colorful headgear some of them wear, they may be about one-third pheasant, too. At any rate they inhabit the same territory and get on well with their feathered neighbors.

If the present dry weather continues until a week from Saturday, one great annual injustice will be rectified. Opening day conditions usually favor the worm-fishermen, whose members are often distinguished by lack of veracity among other things, and what's far worse, the ability to catch big fish.

Being as the time is running pretty short, maybe we better knock off the fly tying and sprinkle the back yard tonight with an eye to collecting some barn hackle, just in case it sets in to rain for 10 days straight.

Mouse-Killing Plan Backfires

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The great Oregon-California mouse hunt reportedly now is killing more mice than geese with its poison program. However, California game biologists report that more than 3,000 wild Canadas and snow geese wintering in the two states died during the early stages.

★ ★ ★

Game officials say hopefully that the kill, caused by geese eating toxic grain baits put out by agricultural agents to combat the winter plague of mice in the fields, may be under control.

In the meanwhile, however, some 750 geese were poisoned in the Tulelake basin of California and about 2,250 in Oregon's Klamath basin, although many of these moved on to die in California.

First losses were noted in California early in March. The program was suspended immediately while game and agricultural agents went into a huddle over how to put in stricter controls over the baits. A second wave of losses came after the suspension, and biologists traced them to a similar mouse-predication program on Oregon fields frequented by geese.

SMELTERS — Hundreds of Pontiac area "smelters" are growing restive, while the weather dallies on the cold side. But some upstaters, around Tawas on Lake Huron, have been taking a few. The scene above is typical of what happens when the silvery little fish start to run from creeks into the Great Lakes. A few days of warmer weather, or a good, warm rain would start the runs, conservation men say. Most dipping is done at night.

Provide Easy Entry for Anglers

Many Fishing Sites on Area Lakes

There is no question about the popularity of the Michigan Conservation Department's program for providing fishing sites for use of the public. Without the access spots on myriad lakes in all sections of the state, the angling public would be excluded from these waters.

During the last 16 years, up to the present, the department acquired 672 sites. These include 459 on lakes and 213 on streams. Oakland county has 17 of these sites, ranging from 110 acres to little half or one acre plots.

Total acreage for the state is more than 48,438, and it is stretched along frontages ranging from a few hundred feet to two miles. Oakland county area is 193.1 acres and the total frontage amounts to 1.66 miles.

★ ★ ★

All but one of the area sites were in use last summer. The exception was the 9.5 acres plot on Squaw Lake. And all but two are improved. Probably the most popular are the Pontiac and Orchard Lake sites.

Here are the public fishing sites (with acreages) for Oakland county, according to the conservation department's latest listings:

Orchard Lake (7.9); Union (1.0); Oakland (6.5); Pontiac (3.4); Wolverine (5.0); White (1.5); Orion (3.2); Big Lake (0.5); Cooley and Long (1.0); Shiawassee river (Holly, 110); Crescent (3.6); Loon (4.2); Squaw (9.5); Lakeville (3.5); Grass (28); Maceday (0.67); Cedar Island (3.6).

Little Stories About Outdoors

Oakland county trout fishermen will have at least one new spot at which to test their abilities, come April 26. A planting of 1,000 rainbows, all of legal length or bigger, has been placed in Schoolhouse lake, north of Pontiac, along the Clintonville road.

Conservation officer Warren Kendall says this is the only new trout water in the area, this spring. Schoolhouse lake can be reached from Loon lake fishing site, by access to the Clinton river. "That's a good lake," says Kendall," and should provide some interesting sport."

All trout plantings have been concluded for this season, Kendall says.

★ ★ ★

What about the smelt?

This corner has been bombarded the last few days as to whether or not the smelt are starting their runs. The answer is NO. Not until some warm weather sticks around a few days, or warm rains come, will there be any sizeable migrations into Lake Huron, Lake St. Clair or St. Clair river, says Ben Hellsten of the conservation fisheries office at Imlay City.

★ ★ ★

"They're just beginning to show up now," says Ben, but he says there is still too much ice in the river. Runs may start last of the week, and if they do, the peak could be reached middle of next week. Lack of water in many of the creeks is another factor, Hellsten explained.

★ ★ ★

This looks like a column on fishing, so another little item will not be amiss: Clinton river in Avon and Pontiac townships is getting a lot of attention from spear (lights) and bow-fishermen going after suckers. And, by the way — don't bow-fish, or spear-fish above Dawson pond to the Drayton Hatchery — that's trout water.

★ ★ ★

Among reports of Canadian geese coming in to eat on lake front lawns, is one from Mrs. H. M. Thatcher of Middle Straits lake, who says three big honkers have been getting lunches on their front yard.

Rookies Enjoy Field Day in NL Openers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The rookies had themselves a day as the National League, now a coast-to-coast network, opened the 1958 season.

Three of the newcomers ruined Milwaukee's debut, which began with ceremonies for the hoisting of the world championship pennant before the major top crowd yesterday, 43,339, at County Stadium. It was Ron Blackburn and Curt Raydon, a couple of kid right-handers, who blanked the Braves over the last four frames, and R. C. Stevens, who singled the winning run home in a 14-inning, 4-3 victory.

★ ★ ★

At San Francisco, where just about everything was new, rookies Jim Davenport and Orlando Cepeda showed few jitters at the plate while backing up veteran Ruben Gomez' six-hit, 8-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Chuck Essegian and Ray Semproch were big guns as Philadelphia cracked Cincinnati 5-4. And Dolan Nichols and Ed Mayer, though working but briefly, got in on a four-pitcher shutout as the Chicago Cubs whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 in the lone night game opener in either league.

★ ★ ★

The NL drew 125,882 fans for the four games.

The Pirates, overcoming Ed Mathews' two home runs, managed a 3-3 tie against Warren Spahn, the NL's lone 20-game winner last season, before he gave up the search for his 225th victory at the end of nine innings. Gene Conley was the loser, giving up a two-out double to Dick Groat, a single to Bob Skinner and then the pay-off single to Stevens, a 24-year-old first baseman who was 2-for-2 after replacing hitless Ted Kluszewski.

Blackburn, 23, gave up only one hit in his three frames after coming on as the fourth Buc pitcher in the 11th. Raydon, 25, then protected Blackburn's victory although giving up a hit in the 14th.

Davenport, taking over at third for the Giants, singled twice, scored twice and drove in a run for the Giants, playing before a crowd of 23,448—all Seals Stadium can hold.

★ ★ ★

Jim Brosnan, an in-and-outer with the Cubs but 5-1 lifetime against the Cardinals, was the winner at St. Louis. Nichols, Mayer and Don Elston all got into the act in the seventh to preserve the shutout. Tony Taylor, a rookie at second base for the Cubs, was 1-for-4 and scored twice as Chicago belted Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell for three runs and seven hits in the first three frames.

The crowd of 26,246, a record for a night-game opener at St. Louis, saw Stan Musial tie Mel Ott's total-bases record in the National League with a single in five trips for a total of 5,041.

★ ★ ★

Essegian, a rookie in left field, doubled twice, scored twice and drove in a run for the Phils, who blew a three-run lead before finally wrapping it up before an overflow crowd of 32,849 at Cincinnati. Semproch, coming on after the Redlegs scored four in the sixth against Robin Roberts to gain the lead, pitched one-hit, shutout ball the rest of the way.

A walk and singles by Wally Post, the ex-red, and Ted Kazanski got the winning run home in the eighth off reliever Bill Wight.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

If you belong to a summer golf league which doesn't use the United States Golf Association method of deciding handicaps, you and your buddies just aren't in the swing of things.

As a matter of fact, your league's entire handicap system is false. So says Frank Syron, veteran pro-owner of Pontiac Country Club.

"Many leagues do not use the USGA method," claims Syron who can speak with a considerable degree of authority since numerous leagues play each week during the summer months at his popular 18-hole layout on Elizabeth Lake Road.

"The USGA system is the only official way to determine handicaps," stated Syron. "Nothing else is recognized," he said.

Handicapping, referred to as the "great equalizer" in golf, attempts to match players of differing abilities. The USGA believes that its national set of rules, if faithfully followed, will produce the fairest and most equitable handicap.

How does the USGA method work? Basically, it's very simple. The USGA system uses the 10 best 18-hole rounds of the golfer's last 25 scores in comparison with the course rating.

The handicap differential — the difference between a gross score and the course rating where the score was made—is the key to your individual handicap and a chart serves as the guide. A separate chart is furnished for golfers playing fewer than 25 rounds but no fewer than five.

You can get full details about the USGA system from the pro at your favorite links. Remember—"USGA Handicap" is the only accepted method.

SHORT PUTTS

Glen Harding, who divides his time between the golf course and the insurance office, and his slugging partner, Dick Robertson, are going to take another crack at winning the Pine Lake Invitational tournament June 12-15.

Harding and Robertson were medalists in the qualifiers of last year's tourney, then bowed out in the first round of match play to the father-and-son team of Randall and Tommy Ahern. It is a selective drive-alternate shot event.

A dozen golf balls are awarded each season to the player who fires the lowest round at Springdale Park, a par-34 municipal layout restricted to Birmingham residents.

Last year's winner was Robert Gent with a blazing 29. Gent toured the same layout in 30 strokes during the 1956 season.

3-Months Ban on Dog Training

For the next three months — from April 15 up to July 15 — owners and trainers of hunting dogs will have to keep their prized pointers, setters, beagles or others out of the fields to permit young game animals and nesting birds opportunity to mature. The law was designed to protect wildlife from over-eager four-footed hunters, and during the 3-months period it will be unlawful to train, or "run" the dogs, says the conservation department.

From July 15 through Aug. 14, dogs may be trained between sunrise and sunset on such birds and animals as may be legally hunted with dogs. Starting Aug. 15 and through the opening of the raccoon season, dogs may be trained at any time.

Chief Golfers Edge Arthur Hills Squad

Pontiac Central's opening SVC golf match, yesterday was a 8-7 win over Arthur Hill at the Municipal course. Chiefs play Waterford Thursday at Pontiac CC.

Dick Whitmer lost 3-0, to Bob Hart 77-96; Mike Samardcija won, 88-90 over Mike LaFlair (AH); John Taylor (P) won 3-0 over Jerry Jarecki 87-89; Ron Sugg (P) won 2½-½ over Rog Clark (AH) 93-96; James Dowell (P) lost 3-0 to Wayne Huebner (AH) 95-87.

Hills Golfers Win

Led by Bud Badger's 43, Bloomfield Hills high yesterday won its opening golf match of the season over Clarenceville, 178-217. Match was played over the Idyl Wyld course, Clarenceville's home layout.

Host School Winner of Three-Way Meet

Battling Holly and Brighton high track teams in a three - way meet on Milford's field, host squad yesterday afternoon crushed both opponents with a 93-point total to 23 for Holly and 21 for Brighton. Andre Lavoy, who won four events, tied with Gene Shuett for the school high jump record at 5-8. Milford tok 10 1sts, including two for Bob Kasper and Danish exchange student Peder Jensen's 2nd mile victory. Hayes of Holly won a fast 440 and Moss won the low hurdles, Zauel the half mile, both for Holly.

Skippers Sink Dondero in Track Meet, 70½-38½

Waterford High's track coach Al Cuthrell yesterday celebrated two important events. First, he became the father of his 2nd son, an 8-pound-14-ounce baby born at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The Cuthrells also have one girl. Then yesterday afternoon Skippers swamped RO Dondero, at Royal Oak, 70½-38½, led by Bill Loveland's three firsts.

Skippers took nine first places, sweeping the shot, half mile and broad jump. Waterford entertains Southfield thinclads Thursday.

Clarkston Blanks Foes

Batting around in the first two frames, yesterday, against Fenton, Clarkston high baseball club went on to add two more runs in the 6th, for a 9-0 victory, at Fenton. Wolves got 3 runs in each of the 1st two innings.

Dave Gaddis went five innings as winning pitcher giving one hit, fanning 12.

Of the fans who attended the Kansas City Athletics games during 1957, it is estimated that 57.6 per cent came from out of the city.

Woman Uses Weight to Snag Prowling Youth

DENVER (UP) — "It wasn't so much," Mrs. Lorrene Reposa, 29, told police. "I outweigh him at least 20 pounds."

She had caught a 19-year-old youth prowling in the rear deck of her automobile outside the tavern where she works. When officers called by a patron arrived, Mrs. Reposa had him in a firm grip.

The captive gave his name as Frank Martinez. He was held for investigation.

Rhododendron, lovely star of many flower shows, takes itn name literally from the Greek word for rose tree. However, it is closer to the heather and mountain laurel families than it is to roses.

Army Officer Reprimanded

Also Fined $200 for Maltreating Youngster in Korea

SEOUL, Korea (UP) — An American major who piloted a helicopter carrying a young Korean thief nailed in a box has been reprimanded and fined $200, half a month's pay.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Thomas G. James of Plymouth, Pa., got the maximum penalty under Article 15 of the Military Code which he chose to accept rather than risk trial by a general court-martial. If convicted by the court, he could have gotten up to three years and nine months in prison, loss of all pay and allowances while imprisoned and dismissal from the Army.

James already has been relieved of his post as commander of the aircraft maintenance center where 14-year-old Kim Choon Il was roughed up Feb. 25.

★ ★ ★

The Army announced today that a court-martial had been scheduled April 18 for M.Sgt. Robert E. Weidensaul, Pottstown, Pa., also accused of mistreating the boy. A general court last week found Capt. Marvin E. Kemp, Kilmichael, Miss., guilty of assaulting Kim. It fined him $1,200 and relieved him of command for six months.

★ ★ ★

The Army said the trio caught Kim stealing, knocked him about and nailed him in a three-foot box. James then flew him to another base 25 miles away, where some soldiers heard him whimpering and released him. He is now in a U.S.-supported orphanage.

Hollywood Headlines

Joel McCrea Will Star in Bat Masterson Story

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Hadn't seen Joel McCrea and Frances Dee for ages until I met them at the Spyros Skouras dinner. Joel said that Frances won't leave their three-year-old Peter. She takes care of him herself. He is 19 years younger than Jody, who is 23 and in the Army. David, 21, is finishing school and goes into the Army next year.

Joel asked me what I knew about Bat Masterson who many years ago, at the time of his death, was a sports writer on the Morning Telegraph. He says the life of Masterson is his next picture and he's going to start it possibly in Arizona May 15.

"I'm making it with Harry Mirisch for whom I did 'Wichita' in 1955, which was a financial success for both Mirisch and myself—I have a percentage," Joel told me.

May Britt will remain with us for some time. Buddy Adler has taken up her option and will star her in "Color of the Day," by Romain Gary, the French consul who also wrote "Roots of Heaven." Nunnally Johnson, who is producing "Color of the Day," will give it the real Hollywood flavor that is in Gary's book.

If Marilyn Monroe had been a few years younger she would have jumped up and down for joy when she telephoned me that she had been given the Paris Cinema Award for the best foreign actress of the year for her performance in "The Prince and the Show Girl."

She said that she and her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, are planning to go to Paris to accept the award sometime around the last of May or early in June. Meanwhile she says she's very busy getting her New York apartment in shape.

Bing Crosby told the audience at the jam packed Chi Chi in Palm Springs that he'd never emceed a show in his life before Sunday night's fund-raising drive for the Catholic Church in Palm Desert. But if there were any TV executives on hand, Bing just has to land his own show. He was Perry Como, Steve Allen and Ed Sullivan rolled into one—and then some.

Says Moon Hit, Orbit Possible Within 5 Years

DETROIT (UP) — Hitting the moon with a rocket will be more difficult than putting a missile in orbit around the moon but both are possible within the next five years, says rocket expert Magnus von Braun.

The German-born Von Braun is manager of Chrysler Corp.'s Redstone missile program control division and a brother of Dr. Wernher von Braun, development operations director of the Army Ballistics Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala.

He addressed a meeting of American Institutes of Electrical, Mechanical and Radio Engineers last night.

Lawyer Argues Trial Impossible

Contends No Court Has Jurisdiction Over Hitt Case in Okinawa

WASHINGTON (UP) — A Washington attorney says he will contend that no court has jurisdiction to try Mrs. Madelyn Hitt on a charge of murdering her 6-week-old baby in Okinawa.

The attorney, Hyman Smollar, said yesterday he will argue in U. S. District Court Friday that a murder warrant issued last week is void.

A court hearing on a habeas corpus action brought by Smollar in Mrs. Hitt's behalf was scheduled for today, but was continued. Smollar explained that at the time he brought the action Mrs. Hitt, of Plymouth, Mich., was being held in Okinawa for trial by military court-martial.

Subsequently, U.S. Commissioner James F. Splain issued a warrant charging Mrs. Hitt with murder.

Mrs. Hitt was arrested last month after the body of the child, Brady Dean, was found buried in the backyard of the Hitt home at Naha, Okinawa. Her husband, Terrance Hitt, is a civilian electronics expert on contract to the U.S. Air Force.

Smollar told reporters he will argue that the warrant issued here is void on the ground no crime against the United States is involved. This is so, he said, because Okinawa has a special status and does not come within a law giving Federal courts jurisdiction to try persons for crimes on "lands reserved or acquired" by the United States.

"There is a complete vacuum in the law," Smollar said.

Smollar said Mrs. Hitt could not be tried on Okinawa because, as an American, she is entitled to trial by jury. He said there is no provision for jury trial there.

Admits Cheese Cheating

KALAMAZOO (UP) — Lewis Mull, 73, of Paw Paw, pleaded guilty in Municipal Court to walking out of a supermarket without paying for 32 cents worth of cheese. Police said he was carrying $3,760.65 in cash and savings bonds at the time of his arrest as a shoplifter. Mull was released on six months probation.

The Automobile Club of New York reports that nine out of ten pedestrians killed in traffic accidents were NOT experienced drivers themselves.

Germ Warfare Being Waged on Corn Borers

AMES, Iowa — Researchers at Iowa State University, in cooperation with the United States Agriculture Department, are testing a method of using germ warfare against the corn borer, which causes more than a million dollars' damage a year to the nation's corn crop.

They grew in cornmeal germs that cause beauvaria, a disease to which the corn borer is known to be especially susceptible. Then they sprayed the cornmeal over a 5-acre plot of corn infested with the borers.

Laboratory tests indicate that after the borers eat the contaminated meal they will contract the disease and it will sweep through the borer colony, killing so many that damage to the corn will be negligible.

Stock Market Prices Down

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market was generally lower in moderate early trading today.

The opening was active and irregular. The ticker tape was a minute behind floor transactions for a period of two minutes.

The mild decline followed three sessions of advancing prices. A succession of good-sized blocks was traded in the first few minutes as the latest upward phase of the market seemed to have reached a temporary climax.

The latest string of corporate reports make poor reading, Wall Streeters said, and President Eisenhower's veto of the Rivers and Harbors bill stopped what some observers regard as an anti-recession measure.

Fractional losses were posted for U. S. Steel, Lukens, General Motors, Boeing, International Telephone, Kennecott, Du Pont, Union Carbide, Westinghouse Electric, Southern Pacific and Gulf Oil.

Chance Vought reported a boost in earnings and rose a major fraction. Merck made a similar gain.

The Detroit plants were struck March 24 because of the company's refusal to transfer 112 workers to a shop in Springfield, Tenn.

Federal mediator William W. Rogers said the agreement is subject to ratification by workers at the Detroit and Marysville plants.

Details of the settlement were not disclosed.

Huge World's Fair to Open in Brussels

BRUSSELS (INS) — Workmen swiftly unloaded mountains of packing cases today in a rush for tomorrow's opening of the Brussels World's Fair, biggest international exhibition since pre-war days.

By tomorrow the visitor, in effect, will be able to eat a hot dog in the United States, caviar in Russia, and pick up the main part of his meal in France or Switzerland.

The American, Russian and exhibits of 46 other sovereign nations and 7 world organizations will play to an estimated 35 million persons before the fair closes Oct. 19.

There's not much open talk of rivalry between the American and Soviet pavilions, but the rivalry is inevitable because of the East-West political struggle.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets will exhibit several acres of heavy machinery, a cutaway replica of the half-ton rocket nose that carried the little dog Laika to her historic space death abroad Sputnik II, big models of new Russian jet planes and some automobiles.

The United States will concentrate on cultural offerings—plus pretty models who glide down a ramp to a fashion stage set in the middle of an indoor lake lined by graceful, live willow trees.

★ ★ ★

A soda fountain and a beautiful theater are set in the airy circular American building. The American cultural program calls for two art shows, movies, opera, theater, ballet and performances by individual artists and orchestral groups.

★ ★ ★

High on the list of American contributions to the fair will be the world premiere of Gian-Carlo Menotti's opera, "Maria Golovin," but that opening date will not be until Aug. 20. Menotti will stage the work, Peter Herman Adler will conduct, and Samuel Chotzinoff will be the producer.

"South Pacific" will have its first movie showing in Europe at the fair. Some old movies also call for "High Noon," "Meet Me in St. Louis," "It Happened One Night," etc.

★ ★ ★

On stage will be "Carousel," "Porgy and Bess," "The Glass Menagerie," "Our Town," The American Ballet Theater, and the Agnes De Mille Ballet."

★ ★ ★

Benny Goodman will open May 25 for a week of concerts. Violinist Yehudi Menuhin is scheduled June 1. Other famous musicians are on the calendar.

The Russians will try to swamp the Americans in culture. They will show magnificent art works from their home galleries in Leningrad and Moscow. They also are expected to present performances by the famous Bolshoi Ballet, the Ukrainian National Choir and various philharmonic orchestras.

Operetta Slated Saturday Night

Victor Herbert Story, Score to Be Updated for Modern Tastes

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—After two years of sitting around doing practically nothing at NBC-TV, Fred Coe, one of the ablest creative talents in television, is at work as a producer for CBS-TV.

★ ★ ★

As the original producer of NBC's famous and extinct Television Playhouse, Coe helped to develop some of the medium's finest writers and performers.

He produced "Marty" and headed the TV staff that gave the nation Mary Martin in "Peter Pan." He was executive producer of Mr. Peepers and Producers' Showcase.

For reasons altogether strange, NBC-TV found nothing for him to do this season except to serve as production executive of "Annie, Get Your Gun."

★ ★ ★

Coe, 43, has put the past year to good use, however. He produced his first movie, "The Left-Handed Gun," for Warner Brothers. And he produced his second Broadway show, the hit "Two for the Seesaw," starring Henry Fonda and Anne Bancroft.

FIRST ASSIGNMENT

Back in television once more, Coe's first assignment at CBS-TV will be to produce "The Red Mill" for Show of the Month from Hollywood Saturday. Beginning in the fall he will prduce several Playhouse 90 dramas.

★ ★ ★

Discussing the Victor Herbert operetta, Coe said: "We're trying to assume how 'The Red Mill,' written in 1908, would be done today if it were a new show. Our ear for music has changed just as has our ear for words. Today Herbert's music sounds lush and overly romantic.

"But it's basically excellent music with a distinct flavor. It merely needs an arrangement to make it completely modern.

"We're treating the story in the same way, changing it not because it's a bad story but to make it credible to modern tastes. We aren't doing either a period piece or a farcial comedy.

★ ★ ★

"The way we have chosen is to take the spirit and basic situation of the town that needs its legendary mill as a source of income from tourists — and develop how it's thwarted and how it's saved. We do it in a different way than the original, using the Brussels World's Fair nearby.

"The old story had a stark love story with stock characters. We've added a character — a guy with problems. I suppose you might say we're telling the same story by means of character development rather than situation."

The U. S. pavilion is the largest circular building since ancient Rome built the Colosseum. The plastic roof is supported by steel cables attached to a central hub which gives it the appearance of a huge bicycle wheel 350 feet in diameter. Lattice work is made of golden wire.

Americans Get Ribbing Over Food at Brussels

By EARL WILSON

BRUSSELS — America's famous "quick-lunch, hot dog cuisine" goes on trial at the Brussels Worlds Fair — and Europe's gourmets think that's hilarious.

The Brass Rail's best brains, here from New York to feed 25,000 a day at the American Pavilion, have been kidded by the Socialist paper, the People, for trying to save time in eating.

WILSON

"The proper idea, when eating is to WASTE time," it points out.

★ ★ ★

American cookery is even worse than England's, and "English cooking is like England, surrounded by water," Belgians maintain. "American salads," they say, "are like American women. Beautiful but tasteless."

And the effrontery of America to bring over California wines! Doubtless the bottles will be labeled: "California Burgundy. Beware of French imitations."

But the Brass Rail will plunge intrepidly ahead, serving vodkas and vodkatinis even . . . And Brass Rail Veep David J. Berge told the Russians, "If you run out of vodka, we can lend you some American Smirnoff — it's better anyway."

★ ★ ★

The "expo" often will seem pretty drunk because Belgium has one bar for every 100 people. But liquor isn't to be served without food except in private clubs.

However, there are many, many private clubs — and I found on a fast trip to Brussels that they're as hard to get into as the A&P.

Anyway the Brass Rail has two plush bars, four American bartenders, something very new here (beer in cans) — and even offers a "Moscow Mule" though Belgian papers mixed up the translation and called it "a Dead Mule."

They also confused the Bloody Mary a little, saying it was "vodka with grenadine."

As for the food, in case anybody eats, "the visitor may offer himself an indigestion of classical desserts ranging from apple tart to ice cream adorned with smoking fruit jams" — referring probably to cherries jubilee.

★ ★ ★

Americans'll take the kidding and eat what they hanker for—clam chowder, southern fried chicken, Boston baked beans, hamburgers, franks and rolls — the latter flown over as they're unavailable in Europe.

They'll down much of this at coffee shop or drug store counters over which there'll be a mirrored ceiling in the Pavilion so everybody can literally see what's cooking.

For the anticipated mob scene, Brussels has a new tunnel, new viaduct, new hotel — and Sabena Belgian World Airways has new flights.

One who won't have far to come is Grace Kelly, reportedly due at the Monacan Pavilion. Wags hereabouts say one of its proudest exhibits — next to Grace — will be a roulette wheel.

Anyway, Americans'll never get homesick.

★ ★ ★

"I knew that," said one American guide, Jane Howard Holderness, "when somebody turned on a jukebox and out came 'What Lola Wants Lola Gets' — in French. And the other song we hear constantly is 'Around the World in 80 Days!'" As Miss Holderness so poignantly paints the situation, "It's the wildest!" — That's Earl, Brother.

German Pupils Work Harder, Says Berliner

EAST LANSING (AP) — A West Berlin editor here as a visiting lecturer says German public school students are required to work harder than their counterparts in the United States.

★ ★ ★

Helmut Meyer - Dietrich, chief editor of Berliner Morgenpost, said 10-year-old German pupils study four languages — German, English, Latin and French.

★ ★ ★

He was interviewed last night on a panel television program on WKAR-TV, the Michigan State University station.

Meyer - Dietrich said East and West Germans desire reunification as much as ever but cannot accomplish it by themselves. It is a four - power, problem, he said.

He dismissed leaders of neo-Nazi movements that spring up from time to time as nuisances.

"They are mostly the kind of people that should be in an asylum," he said.

Meyer - Dietrich is on a five-week visit to the United States.

Bobbie's Not Kidding; His Pal Was an Elephant

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — When police asked 11-year-old Bobbie Scott how he spent his three days as a runaway he replied:

Playing with an elephant.

★ ★ ★

Officers checked Bobbie's hiding place in rugged Arroyo Seco and found—an elephant.

★ ★ ★

The 7-foot high baby elephant is owned by a riding stable and rented for movies, parades and other special events.

Charm Attracted Money, Women

Stompanato's Effects Reveal He Collected $80,000 From Friends

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Another long look into the diversified background of slain Johnny Stompanato revealed today that the former boy friend of Lana Turner radiated an irresistible charm that attracted money as well as women.

Detectives sorting through the personal belongings left in storage by the handsome underworld figure who was stabbed to death by Miss Turner's 14-year-old daughter, Cheryl, said yesterday that Stompanato collected $65,000 from a titled Englishman and $8,500 from an attractive red - haired widow.

★ ★ ★

Also uncovered in the hodge - podge of belongings along with bank books, jewelry and a silver-framed picture of the movie queen were nude photographs of as yet unidentified beautiful blonde women.

Records found in three cardboard cartons stored by Stompanato revealed that when he was questioned by internal revenue agents in 1950 he admitted he had "borrowed" $65,000 in 1949 and 1950 from Sir Charles A. Hubbard, heir to a British fortune.

During the same period it was brought out that Stompanato gave $14,000 to his employer, former rackets boss Mickey Cohen.

Mrs. Doris Cornell, the attractive red - haired widow, told newsmen she loaned Stompanato a total of $8,150 between February and May of last year. Mrs. Cornell said the money was for a business venture and that she was never repaid.

Mrs. Cornell, who is employed by a pet shop, said there was never any romance between her and the burly ex-marine and that:

"He was a perfect gentleman with me at all times."

The Los Angeles Examiner reported that Hubbard first brought Stompanato from Chicago to Los Angeles as his traveling companion.

Soon afterwards, Hubbard was arrested on a narcotics charge and convicted of having marijuana cigarets in his apartment.

Hubbard served a 90-day sentence in county jail and following a stormy year on the fringe of Hollywood nightlife he went to Nassau in the Bahama Islands to live.

While the controversy continues to swirl over the life and times of Stompanato, Cheryl awaits final legal action against her, if any, for the act of violence April 4 in her mother's Beverly Hills mansion.

1st Panty Raid of Spring Staged at Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A horde of University of Michigan men students today staged the spring's first panty raid here, but came away with only moderate success.

The post-midnight raid netted about a dozen scanties, including one red, white and blue pair.

Panties were tossed from dormitory windows by several cooperative giggling co-eds. Most of the sleepy girls ignored the pleas of "we want panties."

Police estimated 100 students marched on women's residence halls after tossing firecrackers near their own dormitories a half mile away.

there were 500 raiders. Police said the men were dispersed without trouble.

Court Aids Plaintiffs in Accident Cases

LANSING (AP) — In a far - reaching move, the State Supreme Court has taken steps to strengthen the legal footing of aggrieved persons who sue for damages in auto accident cases.

The high court yesterday reversed four Circuit Court decisions involving cases dealing with contributory negligence in traffic mishaps. In every instance, lower court rulings favoring the defendants were set aside.

Similar decisions handed down earlier gave evidence of the court's new outlook on negligence. Yesterday, it announced adoption of a rule that shifts the burden of proof to defendants on the issue of contributory negligence by the plaintiff.

Heretofore, it has been up to the plaintiff to prove he was free from contributory negligence.

All-Chimpanzee Band Is Musician's Wish

PRETORIA, S. Africa—To have a "three-man" rock 'n' roll band with chimpanzees as musicians is the ambition of J. A. Raath, a musician of Pretoria, South Africa.

He once trained a baboon to play the piano and thinks chimpanzees, even more intelligent, would play excellently. "Apes have rhythm taped," he says.

"If music has a rhythmic beat they love listening. Classical music is a bit above them and they soon get bored with it. But they are hep-cats for jazz."

He would train the chimpanzees to play a piano, a guitar and the drums, in popular dance tunes. Musical apes become temperamental, he admits.

That's why Bertie, the baboon he trained, finally had to be shot.

Olympic Stadium Eyed

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Louis C. Miriani has asked city lawyers for an opinion on whether an ordinance can be drafted to create an authority that would be empowered to sell bonds for a 15 million dollar Olympic stadium at the State Fair Grounds. The stadium would put Detroit in a position to bid for the 1964 Olympic games.

New Jersey was ruled by the Dutch from 1655 to 1664 and again in 1673-74.

Drug Store Owner Dies

DETROIT (AP) — J. Edward Richardson, whose drug store at Woodward and Clairmount was a meeting place for Northern High School students, died at his home in Detroit. During his 50 years in the pharmacy business, he operated stores in Detroit and Port Huron. He was the owner of one of the few stores to remain open round the clock.

America's truck fleet has doubled in the past 15 years.

Golf Distance Checked

NEW YORK—The United States Golf Association's specifications for golf balls limit their long-distance qualities by requiring that none fly faster than 250 feet a second.
