

Go-Ahead Is Given to Hazel Park Probe

Oakland County Circuit Court Judges this morning approved the petition of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley for a grand jury investigation into alleged criminal activities at the Hazel Park Race Track.

Kelley filed his petition for the full-scale probe after meeting late yesterday with the county's six circuit judges.

Presiding Judge Philip Pratt announced the decision to conduct the inquiry after the judges met in his chamber for an hour and a half.

According to Pratt, it will be a "couple days" before the judges name the grand jury who will head the investigation.

There has been speculation that Pratt will be given the job since he just completed a year-long grand jury investigation of Royal Oak Township in south Oakland County.

'LIKELY CHOICE'

"He seems to be the likely choice because he is familiar with the procedures," said one close associate. "It would save time since it takes about three months just to get an investigation off the ground."

There was no hint in today's announcement as to who would be selected for the post.

They may, in fact, consider any judge in the state to act as the one-man grand jury.

Kelley said yesterday, while filing his petition in the County Clerk's office, that his action was the result of 12 days of investigation into reports of widespread corruption.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Thomas Plunkett declined to comment on the petition, but said that his office "has been consulting with the attorney general prior to yesterday's proceedings."

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson, attending a National District Attorneys Convention in Denver, Colo., has been kept informed of all the events leading up to the petition, according to Plunkett.

Kelley charged "certain public officers and/or employees of the state of Michigan or individuals licensed by the Michigan State Racing Commission" have received money "and other valuable considerations" for failure to enforce state laws.

Other charges made in Kelley's petition included allegations that:
• People not connected with persons licensed to race horses had offered the bribes.

DRUG USAGE

• Others connected with or licensed by the Racing Commission had been involved in administering the drug butazolidin or phenylbutazone to horses "for the purpose of manipulating the running capabilities of horses and the outcome of certain races."

• Several persons, including Racing Commission or Agriculture Department employees, had conspired to violate various provisions of the Michigan penal code.

• Unlicensed racers have entered horses in races at Hazel Park under assumed names contrary to law.

County Democrats Sidestep Viet Issue

By JIM LONG

Oakland County Democrats at their convention last night sidestepped taking a stand on the war in Viet Nam.

Delegates from the 18th Congressional District referred the issue to their caucuses at the state convention in Grand Rapids Aug. 19-20.

The 19th District Delegation tabled indefinitely a resolution on the subject.

Delegations from the two districts met separately in the Supervisor's Auditorium at the County Courthouse after the county convention adjourned until Nov. 28 when officers of the executive committee are elected.

The actions of the two delegations headed off long debates that had been expected on the Viet Nam situation, particularly among 18th District delegates who were ready to consider four or five resolutions ranging from support of the Johnson administration to withdrawal.

DEBATE HALTED

Debate among the 19th District delegation was halted generally because many delegates apparently believed that any action they took would be meaningless because the war and the path it should take would be discussed at length at the state convention.

One positive action taken by the 19th District delegation was the adoption of a resolution endorsing and "encouraging state assistance and cooperation in the establishment of an osteopathic college in the Pontiac area."

"We feel that to do less than this is to practice discrimination against one-third of our citizens who seek attention from this recognized profession," the resolution read in part.

Democratic County Chairman George Gogasian opened the convention by saying that the Democratic precinct delegation is the largest ever in the county, 289, "a significant increase over 1964."

"It's apparent that the Democrats in Oakland County are on the move," said Gogasian.

HARD WORK

Congressman Billie S. Farnum of the 19th District, the keynote speaker, told precinct delegates that the only "magic formula" for winning the November election is hard work.

"And this is the job placed on the precinct delegates who go from door to door," he added.

"We have to get these people out on election day and if we don't, we won't win."

"The Republicans are running a well-financed campaign," said Farnum.

"They have made Oakland County a target to knock off and to make it an example."

Father Hayes Is Transferred

Succeeding Coughlin
at Royal Oak Church

The Rev. James L. Hayes, pastor of St. Michael's Catholic Church, will succeed the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin as pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak, it was announced today.

The most Rev. John F. Dearden, archbishop of the Detroit Diocese, called me to his office Monday, discussed the appointment and told me I was chosen for the postorate," said Father Hayes.

"The announcement is official today."

Father Hayes, 53, is one of the central figures in a drive to establish a Catholic Central High School in Pontiac.

Ground was broken for the new school at West Walton and Giddings earlier this summer.

"I am reluctant to leave," he noted. "The people of Pontiac and St. Michael's parish have been wonderful to me. I am not familiar with the Shrine and don't know Father Coughlin well."

He went on to say he believed the ecumenical feeling in Pontiac was very good.

Father Hayes is a director of Pontiac Urban League and serves on the Human Relations Commission.

Police Watch Detroit Area

Violence on East Side

DETROIT (AP)—Riot-trained police kept a close watch today on a racially mixed neighborhood on Detroit's east side where violence flared for the second time in 24 hours last night.

One Negro reported he was shot by white men. Molotov cocktail fires were thrown, and the driver of a passing car was hurt when a brick smashed through a window in the latest outbreak.

More than three dozen white and Negro youths were arrested. Some were charged with arson, while others were booked for offenses ranging from possession of explosives to inciting to riot.

Police commissioner Ray Givens said Detroit's 4,000 policemen would continue on 12-hour shifts until the neighborhood returned to normal. All leaves have been canceled.

IN LANSING

Meanwhile, Lansing's Negro neighborhood, dampened by a cold, steady rain, remained quiet for the second consecutive night yesterday — while Negro teen-agers laid plans to prevent future flareups.

Police sealed off the predominantly Negro southwest side for 3½ hours — keeping out anyone who did not live in the neighborhood.

U.S. Boat Hit by Our Planes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Three U.S. Air Force planes strafed and rocketed an American Coast Guard patrol boat early today in the second case of mistaken identity in an aerial attack in less than two days.

Two Coast Guardmen were killed and five other men were wounded, including a young British correspondent.

The 82-foot steel-hulled cutter Point Welcome was attacked while on patrol before dawn at the mouth of the Cua Viet River, 35 miles north of Hue and only 10 miles from the North Vietnamese border.

A U.S. spokesman said a patrol plane mistook the vessel for a North Vietnamese trawler. He said enemy boats frequently slip men and supplies into the south and that the Point Welcome probably was looking for such vessels when she was attacked.

A flare ship lit up the area for at least 15 minutes while the planes fired rockets and 20mm cannon at the Point Welcome, the spokesman said.

The wounded newsmen was Tim Page, 22, of Orpington, Kent, England, a freelance photographer and correspondent who has been wounded twice before in Viet Nam.

The others were three Coast Guardmen and a Vietnamese sailor. They were all taken to a military hospital near Hue. The cutter continued under its own power to Da Nang.

Bridge Fall Kills Seven; 2 Missing

OTTAWA (AP) — Workers hacked through twisted steel and concrete in an Ottawa park today searching for the bodies of two more construction workers believed killed when a bridge collapsed.

Seven bodies have been recovered. The toll of injured stood at 51.

Of these, 18 were reported in critical condition.

A steady downpour turned the park earth to slippery mud through which the rescue workers slid.

The rain and lack of heavy equipment had forced a 4½-hour interruption of the search.

The New Heron Road Bridge under construction over the Rideau River gave way Wednesday afternoon.

Rescue efforts had gone on through the night.

Showers of cutting-lorch sparks and the glare of floodlights lit up the west bank of the river. Crowds still gathered on the slope of the gorge 10 hours after the accident.

A 160-foot span of the bridge gave way at 9:30 p.m. yesterday dropping hundreds of tons of half-set concrete about 60 feet.

Sixty or more workers were on the span when it went down with a shattering roar. One witness said it sounded like Niagara Falls.

Miraculously, a number escaped with light injuries.

Downpour Puts Damper on 4-H Fair Attendance

Attendance at the Oakland County 4-H Fair went "splash" last night after an opening night crowd estimated at 5,000 set new attendance records.

The rain began to fall soon after the evening program opened and came in a steady downpour most of the evening.

The result was that the indoor exhibits got an unusually close inspection from a surprisingly large crowd which waited for the rain to stop.

Fair officials said trophies and awards scheduled for presentation last night will be presented tonight.

Also highlighting tonight's program, which will begin at 7 o'clock, will be the drill team from the Jackie Rae Dance Studio and the annual 4-H livestock auction.

FOOD DEALERS

Local food dealers and processors are expected to be on hand to bid for grand and reserve champion beef, swine and sheep.

Tomorrow night's program, also beginning at 7, will feature senior dairy showmanship, presentation of additional awards and entertainment.

Judging of dairy animals is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. tomorrow and trail class riders will take the arena at 1 p.m.

The fair, located between Pontiac Road and Walton Boulevard on N. Perry, will continue through Saturday night.

Adequate parking space is available on the fairgrounds.

Language Arts Funds Approved

Pontiac School District administrators said they were notified today by federal officials that local schools will receive $362,432 in federal funds to launch a comprehensive attack to improve its language arts program on five levels.

The target areas are 14 elementary schools, four secondary schools, four parochial schools, cultural enrichment programs, and research and administration.

The funds, granted under Title I section of the Elementary Secondary Education Act of 1965, will add facilities to the program started in the second semester of the 1965-66 school year.

The elementary schools included are Alcott, Bagley, Baldwin, Bethune, Central, Crofoot, Franklin, Frost, McConnell, Longfellow, Mark Twain, Whittier, Wilson and Wisner.

Funds for the schools will provide reduced classes in the first grades.

READING SKILLS

Motor perceptual training programs for developing reading skills will also be organized in the gym classes.

Ten reading teachers, 26 clerical assistants, a nurse, and a speech teacher will also be placed.

A community school, an extended program utilizing school facilities at night and on Saturdays, will also be organized.

Secondary schools benefiting are Eastern and Jefferson junior high schools and Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern high schools.

Funds for the parochial schools will be spent on general language improvement directly relating to oral and communication skills.

Parochial schools benefiting are St. Michael, St. Frederick, Emmanuel Christian and Trinity Lutheran.

Sewer Project Plans Unhurt

Withdrawal of two municipalities from the proposed Clinton-Oakland sewage disposal project originally planned to include eight has not discouraged proponents of the system.

R. J. Alexander, director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, said today that the two municipalities that withdrew were minor areas in the total project, estimated to cost $15.5 million.

A cost of $150,000 had been estimated for Orchard Lake which rejected a contract to participate in the sewer system this week.

Pontiac decided not to participate a month ago. A trunkline costing the city an estimated $137,000 was proposed for the northeast corner of the city by the DPW.

The estimated cost for Orchard Lake was slightly over one per cent of the total project.

tions Committee of the Pontiac Public School District.

Pastor of St. Michael's Church since 1960, Father Hayes came to Pontiac from Sacred Heart Seminary where he was spiritual leader and speech teacher for eight years.

Coming to St. Michael's parish as the new pastor Wednesday is the Rev. Edward Konopka of St. Colman's Catholic Church, Farmington.

Father Konopka established the St. Colman parish six years ago.

ect cost and Pontiac's estimate was less than one per cent.

Alexander, noting that four of the other six municipalities already have approved participation, said that the other two are expected to act on the proposal this month.

They are Avon Township where 26 per cent of the total project cost would come and Independence Township which would provide 10.4 per cent.

Alexander considers both of these municipalities major parts of the project in contrast to the two municipalities that have rejected participation.

Waterford, West Bloomfield, Pontiac and Orion townships already have agreed to participate.

WATERFORD COST Waterford Township would pay about 40 per cent of the cost which is based on connected population (the numbers of users projected in the next 15 to 20 years).

Pontiac Township's share would be 10.9 per cent. West Bloomfield's 6.1 per cent and Orion's 4.7 per cent.

The original plan called for sewer service to a total projected population of 210,700 by 1990.

Alexander estimated an interest cost of $12,127,500 on the 30-year bond issue on the project for a total cost of $28,627,500.

PROJECT INCOME

Income over the 30-year period, mainly from connection charges, is expected to be $33,340,900.

The proposed sewer system would be connected to the Dequindre Interceptor which Detroit will extend from 14 Mile to 23½ Mile.

State Board Sets Date for Representation Vote

BIRMINGHAM — The State Labor Mediation Board has set Sept. 14 as the date for an election to determine the bargaining unit for custodians, cafeteria bus drivers, and maintenance personnel in the school system. The election will be held from 2 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. at Westchester Elementary School.

Those members of the staff who are excluded from voting are: all head custodian, secondary school cafeteria managers, supervisor of plumbing and heating, supervisor of transportation, cafeteria manager, supervisor of buildings and grounds, noon aides, crossing guards, office clerical employees, supervisors, executives and professional employees.

The Birmingham public school system reports a critical need for substitute teachers at the secondary level, particularly in industrial arts, physical education, foreign language, mathematics and all sciences. The personnel department is interested in registering new persons who have not previously served as substitute teachers. Letters have been mailed to all former substitutes.

A bachelor's degree and a teaching certificate are preferred. If no certified substitute is available, the department will accept a minimum provision of 60 semester hours of college credit.

Rate of pay is $21 per day and after 10 consecutive days, the substitute receives the minimum amount of a regular teacher.

If the individual is employed as a permanent substitute, he receives the same salary as his training and experience. Prospective substitutes are urged to contact the personnel department.

Sylvan Lake Councilman Is Removed

A Sylvan Lake councilman has been removed from office for allegedly not meeting the residency requirement of the city charter when he was elected in November 1964.

The removal of John D. McKinlay by a 3-2 vote of the City Council at a special meeting Tuesday climaxed a year and a half dispute over his qualifications.

Voting in favor of removing the 34-year-old real estate salesman from office were Mayor John Hanson and councilmen Fred Crossman and Stanley Filkins.

The council has indicated that they will appoint someone to fill the vacancy at its Sept. 14 meeting.

McKinlay was unavailable for comment, but according to city officials, at last night's regular meeting of the council McKinlay charged that the action of the council was illegal.

In the spring of 1965, the late Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero dismissed two suits arising out of the eligibility question.

The Michigan Court of Appeals last month upheld Dondero's handling of the cases, but at the same time ruled that the council did have the authority to dismiss one of its members.

Ask $1 Million in Phone Suit

A million-dollar lawsuit has been filed in Oakland County Circuit Court against Michigan Bell Telephone Co. by a Southfield couple.

Mr. and Mrs. George Samalis through their attorney William S. Munger, claim Michigan Bell intercepted their telephone calls during August and September 1963, in cooperation with Internal Revenue Service agents.

Federal gambling charges against Mrs. Samalis resulted from information gained through the intercepted phone calls.

She later was acquitted when a federal judge refused to accept evidence gathered in violation of the federal communications code.

The lawsuit has been assigned to Judge Frederick C. Ziem. No hearing date has been set.

In the criminal case against Mrs. Samalis, telephone company representatives reportedly testified that they intercepted the phone calls with a device that recorded the origin or destination of each call made or received, but not the conversations.

The lawsuit asks a million dollars for invasion of privacy and $32,000 in other damages resulting from the criminal charges.

A small section of the big crowd of hysterical girl teen-agers fanned "John no Jesus."

In Chicago Friday, the Beatles open their third tour of American cities. One, Memphis, Tenn., has suggested through its City Council that the two scheduled performances there be canceled.

A number of radio stations have banned the quartet's records after Beatle John Lennon was quoted as saying that he and the other three mop-headed musicians, Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr, are more popular than Jesus.

CHAOTIC AIRPORT Amid the chaotic airport scene, 15-year-old Janet Turner told newsmen, "I don't pray to Jesus. I pray to John."

Harrison backed up Lennon's explosive remarks about Christianity. The Daily Mail quoted Harrison as saying:

"I agree with what John said, but this doesn't mean I'm against religion. He was making a serious point. But his remarks were taken out of context and published three months later in some crummy little American newspaper."

At 3 a.m., 50 girl fans were at the rain-swept airport to scream goodbye. One of them, Lorraine Hartman, 15, said, "If the Yanks hurt the Beatles, it'll be the start of World War III."

Ceremony Held at Jakarta

Indonesia, Malaysia Agree to End 3-Year Undeclared War

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia and Malaysia signed an agreement today to end their three-year undeclared war.

Malaysian Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak, who flew into Jakarta for the ceremony, said the document was identical with one he and Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik signed June 1 in Bangkok.

The pact provides that hostilities between the two Southeast Asian countries will cease at once and diplomatic relations will be reestablished.

It also provides for general elections in the Malaysian Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak to reaffirm their desire to be a part of Malaysia.

STRONGMAN

Malik signed for Indonesia today, with the army strongman Gen. Suharto, at his shoulder.

President Sukarno, who started Indonesia's guerrilla war in the Malay race, the dominant population group in both countries.

Razak said British troops rushed to Malaysia's aid when the war began, would begin pulling out of Sabah and Sarawak this week.

Malaysia declared a holiday

Saturday in honor of the peace treaty.

Malik is scheduled to return to Malaysia with Razak Friday night and remain until Saturday.

Before signing the agreement, Razak called on Sukarno and presented him with a silver tea set from the king of Malaysia. The president shook hands and the two talked privately.

A newsman asked Sukarno how he felt upon seeing Razak.

"They told me I am the greatest person in the world," he replied, adding that they discussed only general matters. Sukarno said he planned to include Malaysia in his Aug. 17 independence day speech.

Emergency Act in Detroit Assures Full School Days

LANSING (AP)—The Detroit School Board has decided to go ahead with full day sessions next fall after receiving assurances of help from Gov. George Romney and other state officials.

The board earlier had ordered half-day sessions for some 48,000 first and seventh graders because of financial troubles.

However, legislative leaders and Romney assured the board that the state would help Detroit out of its school money troubles.

The promises were reinforced Wednesday as the State Board of Education recommended that the Legislature help Detroit by boosting state aid to districts with high nonschool taxes.

MORE MONEY

The Detroit School Board said that to avoid cutbacks, it would need $12.5 million more than the $18.4 million it has budgeted for 1966-67.

The state board said Detroit could cut its expected shortage to about $8 million by using $4.5 million now held in reserve to pay teachers' Social Security payments.

Legislative leaders and Gov. George Romney have agreed that under recent legislation, the state should handle the payments.

The board also said the Detroit board should demand $3.7 million from the Detroit Public School Employees Retirement System—the amount of Social Security paid in 1965-66.

It added: "The state board is aware that these proposals provide no permanent solution to the urgent and difficult problems of financing an educational system . . . these recommendations will, however, provide a short range answer."

AID FOR SCHOOLS

It said Romney should recommend and the Legislature adopt a measure boosting school aid to districts "that have extra-wide a short range answer."

Katzenbach Big Winner in ABA Vote

MONTREAL (AP)—Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach scored a major personal victory Wednesday when the American Bar Association's House of Delegates quashed a proposal to have it condemn the juror selection provision of the 1966 civil rights bill.

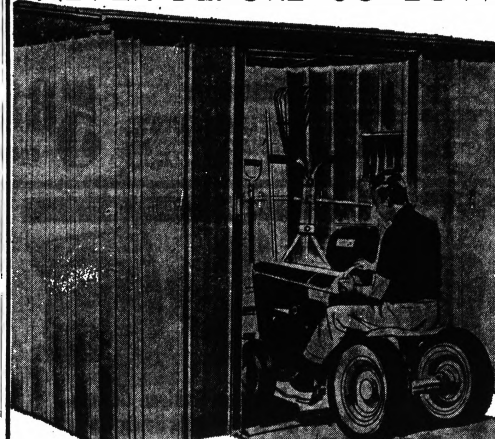

"It would have been lost but for your statement," Dean Erwin N. Griswold of the Harvard Law School told Katzenbach.

The proposal, sponsored by delegates from Maryland, had plenty of support among the 275 members of the House of Delegates, a group not noted for liberal inclinations.

When the final vote was taken only 55 delegates supported the proposal. The number who stood in opposition was so overwhelming no one bothered to count.

Katzenbach flew from Washington to Montreal in the morning, apologized to the lawyers because congressional consideration of the civil rights bill forced him to cancel a speaking appearance before them Tuesday, then made an impassioned plea that they reject the proposal.

With Artificial Pump

Heart Patient Is Responding

HOUSTON (UPI) — Mrs. Esperanza del Valle Vaquez dangled her legs over the side of the hospital bed and drank a glass of water.

Her simple acts were the first chapter in what doctors hope will be medical history.

The 37-year-old Mexico City beautician yesterday became the first recipient of an artificial heart pump to progress enough to sit up in bed and drink liquids.

The first two persons in whom the heart pump was inserted died within a few days.

Neither was able to sit up and the first never regained consciousness.

The heart pump was inserted by a team of heart surgeons led by Dr. Michael DeBakey in a four-hour operation Monday.

Area Miss Scores With Safety Idea

A 13-year-old Troy miss is the proud possessor of a $75 U.S. Savings Bond awarded by the Michigan Press Association in its "Bring 'Em Back Alive" poster contest.

MARCIA FERRAND was runner-up among 145 contestants who submitted posters sponsored by 55 state newspapers. The prize-winning entry was entered by The Pontiac Press.

MARCIA

There is no greater problem facing the Nation than highway safety. Publicizing the goal is one of the most potent measures in promoting it, and the poster contest is to be commended for its dissemination of the safety message.

Particularly significant is that the competition stimulated the active interest of teen-agers. If the seeds of highway safety are to bear fruit, they cannot be sown too early in the minds of the impressionable youth of the land.

The Press congratulates MARCIA on her award-winning handiwork, with gratification over having served as her sponsor.

Charlie Dressen

A colorful, controversial figure departed the baseball scene with the death of CHARLIE DRESSSEN days short of his 68th birthday.

He was appointed manager of the Detroit Tigers in mid-season of 1963, after a long diamond career as player, coach and manager in both major leagues, during which his fortunes rose and fell with the years.

He is credited with having given new life to the Tigers, lifting their league standing from ninth to fifth place during his first year, and with special aptitude for the development of young players.

DRESSSEN was a ballplayers' manager, a firm and demanding leader in uniform, a friend and counselor to his players in personal relations.

Respected and admired alike by the baseball fraternity and the public at large, the passing of CHARLIE DRESSSEN saddens a host of his fellows.

Cities Are in Throes of Variety of Woes

It's no news that the Nation's cities are going through a time of troubles, and the troubles come under a variety of headings—Pollution, Traffic, Crime, Housing, Schools.

Of all of them, the last mentioned seems to constitute the most serious problem for the greatest number of cities. A just-published, three-year survey by the Stanford School of Education of the Nation's 14 largest cities finds the majority of them caught in a situation of double jeopardy:

Their school populations are climbing at the same time as their ability to finance education (and everything else) is declining.

Most significantly, the losses were typically caused by the migration of middle-income, small families to the suburbs. This left the cities with a smaller over-all population but a higher concentration of low-income families, both white and Negro, which characteristically have a larger number of children to send to school.

If the Nation's mayors hadn't read the Stanford report, they acted as if they had at the recent meeting of the U.S. Council of Mayors in Dallas.

One resolution, presented to the city heads by Mayor Henry W. Maier of Milwaukee and approved by them by a sizable margin, called on the Federal government for assistance in forcing the suburbs to share with cities the cost of housing and schools for people who live in the cities.

Just how the government is supposed to do this wasn't spelled out. As of now, the mayor's resolution is just a resolution—a cry for help.

LBJ's Guidelines Are Sore Spot

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON — President Johnson is sorely puzzled.

This is what came through his rather relaxed news conference Tuesday.

He would like to find something better than he has now for trying to keep prices and wages in line although what he has now has had holes kicked in it.

Meanwhile, having nothing better, he's holding on to what he has.

MARLOW

And what he has, and has had for years, is a so-called and now out-of-date guideline: A voluntary rule that wages should not go up more than 3.2 per cent—representing the annual increase in productivity. Under this formula, industry is expected to maintain relatively stable prices.

Trying to hold on to it means he hasn't had new ideas on it since the steel companies last week ignored his pleas and raised prices and the airline mechanicians rejected as not enough the wage agreement he approved. The strikers continued their walk-out, now over a month old.

Johnson proudly told newsmen at his conference how the United States is better off than any other big country in fighting inflation, saying: "We have the best stabilization record of any industrial nation in the world."

BUYING POWER DOWN

But when a reporter reminded him that because of inflation per capita buying power in 1958 prices is actually down from $2.287 to $2.277, Johnson said he didn't know about these figures although he cited a raft of other figures to show how other nations had more inflation.

He admitted his 3.2 per cent guideline had been exceeded in some cases. And he admitted no effort will be made in all cases to keep the annual wage increases to 3.2 per cent.

This can be interpreted as meaning wage and price increases will be all over the lot, that the 3.2 per cent guideline doesn't and won't mean much if anything, and that a new one will have to be found.

"We have nothing better to suggest at the moment," Johnson said.

WOULD SIT STILL

It doesn't need a prophet to foresee that unions and businessmen are not going to sit still to accept the guideline when they see their neighbors being allowed to do better.

Johnson practically admitted a realization of this without saying so when he told the newsmen:

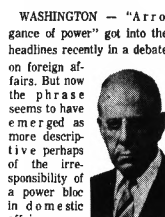

Every effort is being made to "find formulas and procedures that would be fair to the worker and management. We are constantly looking for something better."

Getting Just A Bit Messy!

David Lawrence Says:

Labor's Arrogance Is Showing

WASHINGTON — "Arrogance of power" got into the headlines recently in a debate on foreign affairs. But now the phrase seems to have emerged as more descriptive perhaps of the irresponsibility of a power bloc in domestic affairs.

George LAWRENCE Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, yesterday warned Congress at a news conference: "Do not legislate against the right of free Americans."

This, he promptly added, was not to be interpreted as a threat against the political future of individual members, but he went on to point out nevertheless that Congress would regret any back-to-work law it may pass.

Apparently, moreover, Meany feels that President Johnson is on labor's side.

The AFL-CIO leader said: "I don't know how the Johnson administration could have handled the situation any better. The administration has not been asking for legislation."

RELUCTANT PRESIDENT

Almost everybody on Capitol Hill knows that the President has sought to give the impression of a reluctant chief executive who would prefer not to recommend any law that would compel the machinists to go back to work.

But the chairman of the House Committee on Commerce, Harley O. Staggers of West Virginia, Democrat, has insisted on finding out whether the airline union would really go back to work if no law were passed.

So Chairman Staggers has proposed a settlement through binding arbitration, but says he will continue studying the legislation in committee until arrangements to resume work are finalized.

In the next few days the results of a canvass of sentiment in the machinists union may become available. If the plan is rejected, the House probably will adopt a motion embodying the back-to-work bill that has already passed the Senate.

NO ASSURANCE

Even this gives no assurance that the strike will be settled except for a few weeks, during which time further negotiations will be dragging along.

The airline employees, to be sure, would be back on their job, but uncertainty would be created as to how soon another interruption might come after the "cooling-off" period covered by the new legislation expires.

The machinists union has nothing to lose by letting the situation develop this week to a point where a back-to-work law will inevitably be passed. For the negotiations would, from their standpoint, certainly lead to some improvement of the offer hitherto made by the airlines.

There is one risk for the union, of course, and that is the passage later of another law, even more stringent, which would specify compulsory arbitration as a legal obligation when management and the unions hereafter come to a stalemate in their negotiations, and a strike is threatened.

Reader 'Writes Wrong' Done to 'Old Perfesser'

NEW YORK — The reader's right to write:

"I don't like your occasional lampooning of Casey Stengel," a complaint Daniel Jones. "Why don't you leave the old guy alone?"

"I'd like to see how well you would manage a new baseball team at the age of 78 — or any other man for that matter."

CONSIDINE

"Lesser men would have retired 20 years earlier."

My friend Casey probably thought about that during some of those Mets' losing streaks.

P.S. — No lampooning was intended. Stengel's a great guy, a unique man of his word. And vice versa.

"As you know, we are a national industry association representing more than 1,300 paint manufacturers and their raw material suppliers," writes Richard L. Wilson, public relations director of the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, Inc., Washington, D.C.

"One of our member companies recently forwarded us a copy of your column entitled 'Help! Painters Are Invading.'

"Needless to say, this company was quite disturbed at your rather horrendous portrayal of apartment repainting."

"We concur with this company's opinion and feel that this is hardly an accurate description of the abilities and habits of the professional painter."

'TAKE ISSUE'

"We also take issue with your comment on the after effects of 'saturating paint fumes.' Almost all of today's coatings products are odorless and fume-free."

"As you must know, the modern painting contractor is a highly trained and skilled individual and is certainly not deserving of such unfavorable publicity."

'More Valuable as Teachers Than Soldiers'

The U.S. war effort in Viet Nam is worthy of both high praise and damnation. While attempting to secure the freedom of self-government on the troubled Asian continent, it is unleashing a fury of human waste.

The war effort has added a new dimension of potential waste, at least in Michigan by stripping its schools of young male teachers. One teacher who is responsible for the formation of 30-35 young minds is of far greater benefit to society than one young man who is forced to snuff out lives on a foreign shore.

Only recently have large numbers of American males added their strength, determination, and vigor to the field of education. To stifle this trend now would have far-reaching effects. I urge the people of Michigan to take a stand on this vital question.

'Salary Increase Should Be Voted by People'

Our Michigan legislators recently raised their own salaries from $10,000 to $12,500 per year. This makes their total remuneration $15,000 per year, including their $2,500 expense accounts.

These legislators are, in effect, hired by the people and I feel they should not be permitted to raise their own salaries but that such matters should be determined by a vote of the people.

Bath School Blast Worse Than Chicago or Austin Slayings

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Two violent crimes have claimed 23 lives in the past month. Despite the adjectives used to describe both, neither was as heinous as the crime that claimed 45 lives in the small Michigan community of Bath 39 years ago. Associated Press newsmen Phil Brown went to Bath last week and found numerous people still alive who remember the day that "The World's Worst Demon" struck. Here is his report.)

By PHIL BROWN
BATH, Mich. — When a stunned nation read with horror about the slaying of eight student nurses in Chicago and the sniper-murders of 15 persons in Austin, Tex., many spoke of the "crime of the century" and the "largest mass murder ever."
But long-time residents of this little eastern Lower Michigan farm community know better.
For it was here, in May, 1927, that Andrew P. Kehoe killed 45 persons including himself while dynamiting the Bath Consolidated School as the classrooms were filled with pupils.
"When that fellow in Texas did that, all I could think of was this (the Bath explosion)," said Mrs. Cecil Harris, who lost a brother and two sisters in the blast.

NOT EXPECTED
"He (Kehoe) was a man you'd never think would do such a thing," she added.
"He was calm and quiet," said Mrs. Roscoe Wittchell, formerly Mrs. LaVere Harter, whose nine-year-old son Robert also died when the roof fell in on the two-story school's first floor.
But, Mrs. Wittchell also knew that when "anything irritated him, he did what he could."
For instance, she said, he beat one of his horses to death for not pulling hard enough and he shot a dog belonging to Mrs. Wittchell's mother as it was digging in a ditch on his land.
The Bath School Board irritated Kehoe — there was the matter of high taxes on his home for one thing — and a mortgage on his home irritated him, too.
This, Bath residents believed, led him to kill his wife, destroy his farm down to the last grapevine, blow up the school and, as rescue work began, set off his careful plot of explosives in front of the school.

LACKED MONEY
"He didn't have the money to pay for it," she recalled. "And he was angry because taxes were so high."
But, she said, "there was no real point in his losing the farm. As a talented electrician, trained in electrical engineering at what is now Michigan State University, he could have found a job that paid well, she said."
"He just wasn't a farmer," said Mrs. Wittchell. "He didn't want to do any work. He probably would have done fine with the machines available."
She said Kehoe had always talked about the school board spending too much, and was elected to the board by persons who felt the same way.
CUT CORNERS
But, she said, some of the corners he wanted to cut would have cost the school its accreditation, but intended to get school officials and parents who attended a PTA meeting the night before.

Mrs. Wittchell's parents lived directly across the road from Kehoe, and she now lives in the same house — across from the weed-covered foundation of the attractive, three-story home which Bath residents called one of the finest homes around.
Nobility thought much about seeing Kehoe at work around the school — until after the blast when they found a clock, some wiring and 500 pounds of dynamite which had not exploded.
His farm had been ingeniously rigged, too. Spark plugs in gasoline cars blew up all his farm buildings at once when he threw the switch.
Part of the school building was left standing, and the rest was rebuilt. It now is a junior high school.
The event is called simply "The Bath School Disaster" in a 136-page paperback book on sale at Abbot Nelson's grocery in Bath.

WORST DEMON
"Andrew P. Kehoe, the world's worst demon, was born Feb. 1, 1872, on a farm about four miles north of Tatum, Mich."
Ellsworth observes that Kehoe "spent so much time tinkering that he didn't prosper." He also relates the incidents involving the horse and the dog.
On Kehoe's fence was a wooden sign reading, "Criminals Are Made, Not Born," the author says, but he adds: "He was going to have his own at any cost."
Although Kehoe wasn't unfriendly, Mrs. Wittchell said, he was never friendly either. "He kept to himself . . . You couldn't get close to him."
BLAST VICTIM
Ralph Hobert of Laingsburg, who as a 10-year-old third grader suffered a broken leg in the explosion, also was a neighbor of Kehoe's.
And, he remembered: Kehoe used to dynamite stumps on his property.

"He knew where to set it and how," Hobert added.
Other sections of the book give biographical material as the victims, tell of the "writer's experience," and chronicle the "life of Andrew Kehoe," beginning:
"Andrew P. Kehoe, the world's worst demon, was born Feb. 1, 1872, on a farm about four miles north of Tatum, Mich."

FULL IMPACT
The full effect of the disaster really hit Hobert the next fall. He was among only three survivors of 13 in his class when school resumed with 273 pupils in spare rooms of downtown Bath buildings.
It hit some Bath residents so hard, Nelson said, that "for a long time they wouldn't talk about it. When somebody mentioned it, they'd get up and leave the room."
Some still aren't interested in talking about the explosion.
"Why ever do you want to bring that up?" asked one woman, whose son had been injured.

BOOKS SELLING
But, Nelson said, the books have been selling lately, with buyers including a number of libraries.
There still are unanswered questions, such as when Kehoe decided on his plan, how long it took him to accumulate the explosives and how long to arrange them.
Because of his stump-blasting, his purchase of explosives didn't arouse much attention.
Anyway, said Mrs. Wittchell, "you just don't think of someone planning to do something like that."
Kehoe was buried, the Laingsburg Press said, in an unmarked grave.

Gains in Genetics Seen Countering Humanity's Physical Ills

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Some scientists hope some day to eliminate all disease through control of the genes which direct the heredity and growth of living tissues. The following third of a series of four articles on genetic tinkering tells of new developments and hopes in the antidisease struggle.)

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

"You say you're sick, friend?"
"You say you've got cancer, your kidneys won't function and your heart beats only half the time?"
"Tell me what I'm going to do. I'm going to let you have — for a small fraction of a dollar — a box of these pills absolutely guaranteed to make you into a new man."

That spiel of the oldtime medical quack is laughed at these days, but actually he may have been only 100 years or so ahead of his time.

PHYSICAL ILLS

Before this century ends, some reputable scientists believe, biological drugs may be available to counter virtually all the physical ills known to man. It may take longer, but the more optimistic are certain they are on the right track.

This confidence stems from recent gains in genetics, a comparatively new science that probes the molecular makeup of the living cell.

Geneticists are beginning to crack the great mysteries of how cells pass on information that insures children will resemble parents, and why it is that some cells turn into flesh and others into bone.

They also are learning that the processes of heredity and growth can be altered, either by natural accident or by human plan.

CORRECT, CURE

Accidental changes in the cell frequently result in deformation or disease. The goal of man-made mutations is to correct defects and cure disease.

Eventually this new skill may be used to grow better brains and stronger hearts but first it will be employed in efforts to make the bodies we have function with less trouble.

Subject of this research is the gene, an intricately fashioned molecule in the heart of the cell which has two vital functions: to control the heredity of the species and to direct the growth of the individual.

Every human body cell has an estimated 150,000 genes, enough that any cell, properly activated, can grow into a complete individual. It all depends on which genes are activated and which are repressed.

Just how a cell knows which genes to activate and which to repress is not fully known, but apparently the instructions are chemically encoded in the genes. Geneticists are busy cracking this code and many believe that the ability to turn any gene on or off is not far distant.

Since genes are made up of chemicals, they can be altered by adding or removing chemicals or by changing the arrangement of chemicals in their structure. The instructions they carry can be changed. By learning the genetic code — the language of the genes — scientists hope to control their functions.

One of the Genes' tasks is to direct the manufacture of proteins, the stuff of which living tissue is made. Some cells are directed to make muscle, others to make bone, nerve or hair.

Some cells make proteins for use elsewhere in the body. Among the transported proteins are substances called antibodies. Antibodies react against invading bacteria and viruses and the poisons they produce.

AN IMMUNITY

Once formed, antibodies tend to persist in the body, providing an immunity against the disease caused by the invader.

This immune response, normally beneficial, makes the transplanting of organs and the grafting of new limbs difficult. Antibodies fight virtually all foreign material even though that material — a kidney from another person, for instance — would enable you to survive.

Transplanting now is limited to organs from people of similar genetic types — from close relatives. Antibodies recognize the similarity and do not attack. But what if genes could be directed, simply by taking pills containing certain chemicals, to increase antibody production when you are sick from a virus infection and to reduce antibody production when you need a new kidney or heart?

With full knowledge of how genes work, it could be that you would never need a transplant. If a kidney started to fail, genes in the kidney cells might be directed to repair the damage.

Even the most dreaded disease, cancer, could be whipped around another avenue of research. Many authorities believe that human cancer is a wild uncontrolled growth of cells. If the genes of disrupting the genes' direction of cancer cells could be turned off, cell growth. If such a virus is isolated, the genes of antibody-making cells might be directed to produce a specific antibody against that virus.

With disease whipped, would eternal life be within the realm of possibility?

Few if any reputable scientists are willing to get far out on that limb, but predictions of mine not only what we are, but double or triple lifespans are, what we think and feel, not uncommon.

To many, the prospect is frightening. A number of geneticists are

Will Profs Return in Argentina?

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Let's not mention his name. He's a Belgian by birth, Argentine by adoption, in his 28s and a Jew. He also is a student at the University of Buenos Aires, now shut by the new military government of Argentina.

"The government had to do it," he said, leaning back in the front seat of the taxi he drives to get eating money while he's studying. "It's the way they did it."

He was talking about the government's takeover of his school and the brutality that accompanied the take-over.

"Look," he said in respectful English, "the university spent all its time on politics. It had to be reorganized."

"Don't mistake me. I was not for the government but there were two ways they could have taken over. They could have done it quietly, moving in without clubbing guys. And they could have done it the way they did it — the wrong way."

LOT OF COMMUNISTS

"That's all I'm saying. Sure, there are a lot of Communists, among the professors and among the students. There was more emphasis on politics than on studying, but some of the schools were pretty good."

"They'll open classes, but they have to find people to teach them. It isn't too bad in my college but there's a scarcity of technical people. The two top professors of mathematics, I understand, are in Russia, and two others are in Lima. Will they come back? I don't know. You can't replace them."

The university of Buenos Aires has 80,000 students, all now barred from classes until Aug. 14. They have no idea if their teachers will be back. Nearly 1,000 of a faculty of 2,000 have resigned.

Police, Dogs Hunting Clues in 5th New Jersey Slaying

ASHBURY PARK, N.J. (AP) — State police detectives aided by bloodhounds searched today for clues to the killing of a 45-year-old mother — the fifth woman slain on the Jersey Shore within a year.

The other four victims, all teenagers, were beaten to death in what authorities described as sexually motivated assaults. Despite the similarity of the slayings, state police say none of them are related.

The latest victim, Mrs. Dorothy Louise McKenzie, who had four children, was found shot to death in her car mired in sand behind a diner in nearby Howell Township Wednesday.

All of the slayings, which occurred in the adjoining shore counties of Ocean and Monmouth, remain unsolved.

FRONT SEAT

Mrs. McKenzie's fully clothed body, covered by a blood-stained blanket, was wedged between the front seat and dashboard of her 1967 sedan. It was discovered by an employee of the diner at 4:30 a.m.

She was shot twice in the head with a .32 caliber pistol at close range, an autopsy disclosed.

State police said she had left a note at her home in nearby Toms River telling a daughter that she was going to pick up her husband, Robert, 38. He is a bartender in Point Pleasant, about 10 miles from the diner on heavily traveled Route 9. He told police he expected her at 2 a.m.

Last Sept. 17 the nude body of Mary Ann Klinsky, 18, West Keansburg, was found in a wooded area along the Garden State Parkway. She had been beaten and raped.

Five months later the body of Joanne Fantazier, 17, Perth Amboy, was found in a frozen brook in Colts Neck.

Bomber Version of Disputed TFX in Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bomber version of the controversial TFX all-purpose warplane, designed to replace the early models of the B52 long range bomber, may turn out to have clipped wings.

A congressional source said today preliminary estimates of the range of a fully loaded TFX bomber, now called the B111, is less than two-thirds that of the B52 which has an 11,000-mile range.

By today's standards the B111 would thus fall into the category of a medium bomber.

The TFX is the aircraft selected to be a triservice "air superiority airplane" by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara in November 1962.

In making his TFX selection McNamara overruled the recommendations of a 235-man evaluation board four times. The defense chief said the design he selected would save the taxpayers $1 billion.

3 VERSIONS

There are three versions of the TFX. The Air Force model is known as the F111A; the Navy version as the F111B and the strategic bomber version as the B111.

The F111B is already in deep development troubles. As for the B111, the Air Force

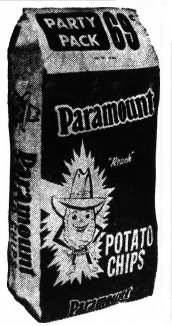

The F111A has a ferry range pound class bombs — which for the Air Force and 4 for the Navy.

There now are 600 B52s, 270 of which fall into the early model category — B52s C-F. These early models are the ones the B111 would replace.

The B111, like the F111A, is designed to carry 48 of the 750-pound class bombs — which usually weigh 813 pounds.

The prime contractor for the TFX, or 111 series of aircraft, is General Dynamics Corp., Fort Worth, Tex.

So far 16 of the projected 23 B111s have been produced — 12 F111As and the F111B.

kickoff point for Michigan's fall election campaign. The former governor said his debate condition is "namely the same kind of meetings with that Zoltan Ferency . . . have Gov. Romney that Sen. Griffin as I have."

convenience to work out the appropriate terms and conditions." Williams suggested "that as soon as Gov. George Romney indicates his willingness to participate in such public meetings so TV, representatives of each of us meet at their mutual convenience to work out the appropriate terms and conditions." At the head table, Romney, Ferency and Williams exchanged pleasantries but few other words. Neil Staebler, former Democratic state chairman who lost the gubernatorial election to Romney in 1962, greeted the governor's wife, Lenore. Staebler and Romney, who debated informally but strongly at the fair in 1962, did not speak with each other this time.

Griffin: Use Computers to Reduce Crime Wave

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., Wednesday criticized the Johnson administration's efforts to reduce crime as "too little and very late," saying the national crime rate has increased 35 per cent since 1960.

Envisioning a computerized war on crime, Griffin proposed legislation to authorize federal assistance for states which set up crime information centers. Purpose of his bill would be to speed exchanges of crime information among the states and with a national crime information center.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, he said, expects to have such a center partly operational next January. "But such a center is a chain which is no stronger than its weakest link," Griffin said.

NEED CENTERS
"State and local centers are needed which will feed information into, and receive information from, the national center." He said his bill is only one of a number he will introduce in the next few weeks to focus on the crime problem.

More than 300,000 visited the department's seven travel information centers in the first seven months of this year. That's an increase of 70,000 over the same period last year with the peak of the tourist season, the middle two weeks in August, yet to come, the department says.

BEATLE RECORD BONFIRE — South Carolina grand dragon Bob Scoggin of the Ku Klux Klan tosses a Beatle record into the flames of a burning cross in Chester, last night. Scoggin was angered by a statement attributed to a Beatle that the singing group was more popular than Jesus.

Ex-President's Son to Leave 'Show Biz'

TAMWORTH, N.H. (AP) — a fixture, they support it, it One of the nation's oldest straw brings some tourist business to has theaters is run here by the son of a former President. But Cleveland, who was on the after three decades at it Francis town's governing Board of Slectmen for 12 years, has decided bringing name stars to his summer theater. He has a signed on for $10 a week to play the guitar and fill the bit part of a Russian officer.

Local residents fill out the cast in minor parts. A typical example is Bronson Shonk, 23, a Philadelphia teacher who was signed on for $10 a week to play the guitar and fill the bit part of a Russian officer. Shonk has come to town to work on a nearby farm and was recruited for the cast by Cleveland, son of the late President and Mrs. Grover Cleveland, started the Barnstormers in 1931, in this 200-year-old woodland village. He has kept the company, he explains, "the old fashioned type of summer stock, a resident summer theater as opposed to the big-star package shows."

Looking back over the years, Cleveland said he took pleasure in seeing some of the Barnstormers alumni go on to theatrical fame.

Shirtsleeves rolled elbow high, Cleveland stood in the rear aisle of his theater a converted barn, and peered across the top of his glasses at the young actors and actresses on stage.

YOUTH NEEDED Later in his nearby office he said, "Business is good but it takes somebody younger to keep up with all of it — I can't keep it with only five hours of sleep a night."

Cleveland said he's "not sure how I got interested in the theater, but I like to believe that it happened because my father was a friend of the old actor Joseph Jefferson, who often played Rip Van Winkle."

"They used to go fishing together," near the family's summer home in Tamworth, he said.

Cleveland's Barnstormers operation is a nonprofit venture, he said, "and $8,000 was raised by public subscription this year."

NATO Still Wondering Where to Go

PARIS (UPI) — French President Charles de Gaulle has dumped some serious housing problems in his allies' laps.

He has given the North Atlantic Treaty Organization until April 1 next year to get its two major headquarters out of France. The United States has been given the same notice to pull out all its troops and bases.

But, less than eight months from de Gaulle's deadline, they still are trying to make up their minds where to go.

The first and perhaps most immediate problem is the future of Supreme Allied Headquarters (SHAPE), which since 1951 has been located 10 miles west of Paris.

Belgium has offered it a new site at Chievres-Casteau in the Mons-Charleroi area, about 40 miles southwest of Brussels and 15 miles from the French frontier.

But the Allied Supreme commander, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer visited the site recently and was reported less than enthusiastic about it.

He found it too isolated and without good communications — something vital for the top Allied command post.

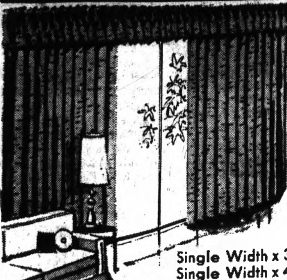

He asked the Belgians to suggest another site. But they have replied politely it must be Chievres-Casteau or nothing.

So there the matter rests for the time being — with the clock ticking away, nothing decided and a complete headquarters, setup and living quarters, schools and commissaries still to be built for 600 officers and 2,500 enlisted men and their families.

Camera-Toting Lunar Orbiter Hopes to Pave Way for Future Manned Excursions

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A camera-toting scout, Lunar Orbiter, sped through space today on its mission to photograph the moon and help locate a level spot where astronauts may camp later in the 1960s.

The mission of the 850-pound spacecraft, launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., at 3:28 p.m. (EDT) Wednesday aboard an Atlas-Agena rocket combination, is to orbit the moon, photograph possible landing sites, measure radiation and detect micrometeorite density.

After lift-off, scientists reported the craft in a trajectory that, without correction, would make it miss the moon by 5,600 miles at the end of its 96-hour, 235,466-mile trip.

But a midcourse maneuver was planned for sometime between 20 and 30 hours after lift-off, and after the craft's sensors had locked onto the sun and a guiding star, Canopus.

MAKES SEARCH

One of orbiter's sensors locked onto the sun 40 minutes into the flight and, at 10:21 p.m., the craft was ordered to roll 30 degrees while another sensor searched for Canopus.

A national space agency spokesman said two hours later that orbiter had failed to find Canopus on its first roll. He added that this caused no immediate concern since several rolls have been required to locate Canopus on other space flights.

After the first midcourse maneuver, and a second if it's needed, Lunar Orbiter is to fire its retrorockets early Sunday, when it is 560 miles from the moon. The firing should slow it enough for it to be captured by the moon's gravity, putting it into lunar orbit.

Orbit around the moon, a goal not achieved by American scientists in seven earlier attempts, would set up orbiter's photo mission, to send back 281 photographs giving details of the lunar surface.

The first pictures are to be taken Aug. 18 of the never-photographed limb, or right edge, of the moon. This is a zone of mystery because the moon always keeps the same side facing the earth.

The bickside, though more remote, is less mysterious. Russia's Zond 3 spacecraft, launched July 20, 1965, and Luna 3, on Oct. 4, 1959, took pictures of this area.

Mosquitoes: People Eaters With a Particular Palate

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you are a sickly old man with a pale complexion, sweaty palms, clammy skin, low vitality and a feish about bathing, congratulations.

You're the type of person least likely to be bitten by a mosquito.

Or so it says in this press release I recently received.

It says that mosquitoes are discriminating in their choice of victims. When confronted with a human smorgasbord, they will concentrate on the tastiest dish.

I had heard that before but I always thought it was an old wives' tale, mainly because it was first told to me by an old wife.

One evening when I was a child, an old wife and I were sitting out on the veranda. She was playing a mandolin and singing "Moonlight Bay."

After a while she said, "Let's go back into the house. These mosquitoes are driving me crazy."

MUSIC LOVERS

"They must be music lovers," I said, whereupon she smote me on the noggin with the mandolin.

Other evidence that mosquitoes have their likes and dislikes was supplied by a study made some time ago by Union Carbide Corp., whose products include an insect repellent.

It showed that mosquitoes go mainly for people who are healthy, young, active and temperamental; have dark complexion, dry palms, and warm skin; wear dark clothing and strong perfume, hair tonic or shaving lotion; and bathe no other than once a day.

On the basis of this study, the company drew up a test that people can take to determine whether or not they are mosquito-prone.

CEST BON

Anyone scoring between 85 and 100 would cause a mosquito to roll his eyes, lick his lips, and exclaim "C'est magnifique." For anyone in the 0-35 range, the reaction would be "yuck."

I took the test and scored a 65, indicating I am in the "yummy" bracket. I am not entirely convinced, however, that this proves anything.

The study may have omitted the factor that is most likely to cause a mosquito to attack.

Despite my relatively high delectability rating, I went for years without being bitten. Then, last month I made a vacation trip to Florida.

I was visiting some people who live on a lake front and one night we had a cookout down by the shore.

At the suggestion of an old wife in the group, we sang a couple of choruses of "Moonlight Bay."

Irish Jaunt for Governor

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Gov. John N. Dempsey and his wife will leave for Ireland next week to attend the ordination of their son into the diocese—the last step before entering the priesthood.

The ceremony will take place in the town of Cahir, Dempsey's birthplace.

Claim Is Laid to Rocket Flight

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON

Question: Who was the first man to make a manned rocket flight? Russian cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin? American astronaut Alan Shepard? Wrong.

Would you believe, Homer A. Boushey?

At least, that's the way one company, Aerojet-General Corp. of Sacramento, Calif., sees it. In fact, according to Aerojet historians, Boushey made his rocket flight in August 1941 — nearly 25 years ahead of either Gagarin or Shepard.

Boushey, at the time, was a captain in the U. S. Army Air Corps. He was at the controls of an Ercoupe single-engine airplane that was fitted with jet-assist takeoff units to determine if military aircraft could use rockets to get into the air faster.

Such units have since become famous as JATO bottles, which have been heavily used by airplanes taking off from short runways with heavy payloads.

NEAR ROUTINE

Rocket flights have become almost routine. But Boushey, now a retired Air Force major general, recalls that the tests he ran 25 years ago in the tiny Ercoupe "got America going in the rocket business."

At that time, the United States was a bit behind things. The nation had chosen to practically ignore the pioneering work of rocket expert Dr. Robert H. Goddard while German experts under the leadership of Herman Oberth and Werner Von Braun were taking major strides toward development of ballistic missiles such as the V-2.

"You must remember," says Boushey, "that in 1941 rockets were something that went with Buck Rogers in the comic strips."

"If the August tests in 1941 (with the JATO-boosted Ercoupe) had failed, I hate to think of the time and the technology that would have been lost to America. We hadn't even heard of the German V-2 at that time."

FOUR UNITS

Boushey climbed aboard the Ercoupe for the first time on Aug. 6, 1941, and ignited four JATO units while the plane was aloft. Six days later, he triggered the units on the ground and made history's first rocket-assisted takeoff.

For good measure, he took off twice with rocket power alone on Aug. 23 of that year.

STILL SMILING — Jay Tyrell, 17, of Old Greenwich, Conn., smiles from within framework of body cast he has worn since last March, but from which he hopes to part this week at Milwaukee Children's Hospital where surgeons have developed an operation and traction system to correct severe spinal curvatures. A new brace will let the youth return to school.

WOMEN'S SECTION

She Isn't 'Sick' for Expecting Her Husband to Be Gentleman

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband says that I am "sick" and in need of a doctor because I commented on the following:

Before I am out of the car, my husband is already in the house. When we go anywhere, my husband is already in the car "waiting" for me before I am out of the house.

When we go to a restaurant, before I am off my chair, my husband is out of the room.

Recently, at the funeral of a relative, all the other husbands and wives were standing together in "couples," while my husband stood 20 feet away from me.

D. IN PHILLY
DEAR D.: If it is "sick" to expect common courtesy, then you are indeed "sick."

DEAR ABBY: Our son enlisted in the Marine Corps. We didn't hear from him for several months, so I wrote to him. He wrote back saying he would be leaving soon so I shouldn't write to him.

I got worried and wrote anyway. I didn't hear from him so I wrote again. This time my letter was returned to me marked UNDELIVERED.

Naturally I wanted to know why, so I called the recruiting office and they told me that my son had been discharged four weeks ago.

NO NAME
Aren't the Marine Corps people supposed to see to it that those kids get home once they're discharged. I would like to know where that crazy kid is.

DEAR NO: A discharged Marine is given 6 cents a mile on which to get home, but is not provided with an "escort" to see that he gets there. If a Marine doesn't go directly home, it's neither the business nor the responsibility of the Marine Corps.

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter signed "75 and Dumpty," whose husband was an impulsive kisser, I could not shake the urge to write.

My husband was an impulsive kisser, too, which was just one of the many ways he had of saying, "I love you." Four years ago my husband died in Korea.

I wonder if "75 and Dumpty" has any idea how much impulsive kisses can be missed, and how lonely reading, cooking, counting stitches, and watching TV can be when that other chair is empty. Sign me "44 AND LONELY."

DEAR "44": Although the years with your man were too few, I'll bet that you two had more happiness together than many couples who have celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ASPIRING YOUNG WRITER": Not that I qualify for giving advice on how to become a successful writer, but the best writers have the biggest wastebaskets.

The October meeting will be held at Oakland University. Mrs. Frank Holecheck and Mrs. James Cadieux will take charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Jessie Snyder assisted the Brewers, along with Mr. and Mrs. Don Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Selden and the club officers.

Camp Oakland Is Early

Friends of Camp Oakland are again being offered an early selection of Christmas cards.

Donations for the cards help continue the program for boys and girls at the Drahn Road facilities near Oxford.

Three area artists have contributed their designs: Susan Dean, Dorothy Siddall and Joseph DeFrancesco. The cards are colorful and printed on heavy stock.

The committee, with Mrs. G. L. Walker as chairman, suggests that 30 cents a card be a minimum donation for the religious scene and the children's cards; 20 cents is suggested for the Santa card.

Names will be imprinted on all orders of 50 or more of one design.

Contributions are tax deductible. Orders may be sent to PO Box 9, 930 East Drahn Road, Oxford, Mich. 48051.

In a departure from the usual program, the OU ceremony will feature performances by the Meadow Brook Orchestra in place of a commencement speaker.

The summer orchestra, directed by Albert Tipton, will play a processionary march by Henry Cowell, Water Music by George Frederic Handel, and Georges Bizet's "L'Arlesienne Suite No. 2," and a recessionary march by Cowell.

Chancellor Durward B. Varner will award 81 undergraduate degrees and four master's degrees, the first graduate degrees to be awarded by the University.

Theory Lacks Common Touch

Practical Facts Needed

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE 2-44: Becky J., aged 3, is at the curious age.

"Mommy," she began, "where did I come from?"

But her mother was caught off guard.

Besides, there were guests in their home at that moment.

So Mommy parried that startling question by saying:

"Run along, Becky, for Mommy is too busy to talk to you."

Actually, however, Mommy didn't know just what to say!

Yet Mommy had graduated from college and taken a minor in psychology.

Millions of other parents find themselves in the same boat, for far too much of our college education has been impractical.

It tries to show us how to solve problems which we never meet in later life.

And then it ignores the simple everyday questions that may pop up in our routine work or play or social groups.

"Dr. Crane," a student recently grumbled, "I've been taught how to be a good Roman Emperor (which went out of style 1,600 years ago) but haven't been told how to carry on an interesting conversation while on a date!"

That inefficient type of curriculum explains why many college graduates laughing-ly exclaim that they remember only a few fragments of their former knowledge.

If their college training had contained more material of daily use, then they would have remembered far more than a few fragments!

The average teacher, if he were outstanding, could condense in a one-hour lecture all the salient points of an entire semester course!

But far too many faculty members are guilty of woody thinking.

They are also so busy they fritter away valuable time on non-essentials instead of stressing the practical rubrics of the course.

And it is woody professors who are graduating woody students who can't think logically but who are deluded by fallacious politicians.

So this column was started to bring psychology down to everyday cases.

WHERE MOMMY?

"When did I come from, Mommy," asks the usual alert 3-year-old. And the answer is short and simple, so every mother should have it memorized:

"You came out of Mommy's tummy!"

Anatomically speaking, you should say uterus or womb, but to the toddler, the word "tummy" covers everything in the abdomen and pelvis.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," Becky's mother protested, "but suppose she should then ask me how she got out or how she got into my tummy!"

Who do you think is upset by that possibility — Becky or Mommy?

Why, it is Mommy, of course, for a child's simple queries are not salacious but purely scientific searching for facts.

Actually, the normal child will require several years more mental growth before he even thinks of the second question in the sequence. Not till about kindergarten or first grade does he then inquire:

"How did I get out?"

And it may take a few more years for the third query to arise, namely:

"How did I get into your tummy, Mother?"

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems From 3 to 20 years," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Memorize the precise answers so you no longer evade or avoid your child's set questions!

Check Mr. Anthony's Breath Before He Begins to Roll Your Hair in Beer Cans

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Once upon a time empty beer cans were for discard, bones were for dogs, first aid tape was for the medicine cabinet, and freckles were something a girl tried to bleach or cover with makeup.

But today, as the casual look moves into the beauty world, beer cans go the the head, as do other cans of assorted sizes, to set the straight, long hair for which the young in heart strive.
DEM BONES
Dem bones become a fair

setting aid plus decoration, a fad developed among teens on the West Coast.

The bones, painted with stripes, dots or flowers in wild colors, are used mainly to secure damp hair after a day at the beach.

As for freckles, if a girl wasn't born with a crop she now can pencil of paste them on.

That's what smart young things in Paris are doing.

Charles of the Ritz found pencilling on freckles a healthy trend — "this is an era in experimentation in beauty."

And Amelia Bassin at Faberge said the next step would be putting freckles on to match a costume — mauve freckles with a mauve dress, for instance.

As for using tin cans, the ends cut out, they're the latest method for straightening locks.

A favorite home-made roller is the frozen orange or other juice can.

At least one fashionable salon also is using juice and other cans — the DeJoy shop on New York's elegant 87th street.

A doctor recently said the mouth is the dirtiest part of the body. This is why it is essential to use strong oral antiseptics to combat germs.

Summer Skin Care

It is easy to have a smooth lovely complexion, despite the skin-coursening effect of summer. The pores open much wider in the heat so it's essential that they have free movement to open and close without being clogged. Protect from cosmetic pigments, dust and powder by smoothing on your oil of Olay. This will also protect the complexion from harsh sun rays and will give the skin a cool, milky bloom even on the hottest days. Your druggist can supply you with oil of Olay for your personal needs.

Writer Expects Nonexisting Maturity

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I'm disgusted by your support of the double standard of sex morality. I'm sick of hearing about how these young stallions are free to sow wild oats while the girls they make pregnant have to bear their babies in loneliness and scorn.

Boys should be responsible for the children they bring into the world instead of being allowed to preen themselves as runny-nosed lover-boys able to get away with anything . . .

ANSWER: What boys SHOULD be—and what many of them ARE are not the same thing. For reasons which you and I can do nothing about, many of them will continue to sow wild oats in any field that makes itself accessible. That is our present reality.

It's not going to help girls one bit to be so angry at it. To call the boy who fathers an illegal baby a "runny-nosed stallion" isn't going to relieve the girl of her pregnancy. It isn't going to alter that fact that she gives birth to her baby in loneliness and hurt. Your rage at the boy isn't going to reverse any part of her painful experience for her.

The young braves didn't come to become a wife and mother but to know that this was what she wanted. And so was trained not to venture into areas of the camp reserved for girls who wanted sex.

So the young Sioux braves were not confused. They knew exactly where they stood with the maidens who kept to the paths maintained for girls who wanted wifehood.

So they didn't live in mutually chronic suspicion. Knowing what they could expect of each other, they could love each other.

Aging Process Will Be Studied

DURHAM, N. C. (UPI) — The National Institute of Child Health and Human Development has approved a five-year, $1 million grant to Duke Medical Center for a research-training program on behavioral processes and their effects on aging from the cradle to the grave.

"The grant is one of the largest ever given by the institute and reflects the concept that aging begins at birth, or even before, and must be studied in this light," a spokesman for the university said.

Picnic for MOMS

MOMS of America, Unit No. 21 met for an annual picnic Wednesday in the Joy Road home of Mrs. William Craven. An installation of officers is slated for Sept. 14 at the Pontiac Township Hall on Opdyke Road.

TOPS Unit to Meet

Weight Watching Jills, TOPS, Inc., will meet today at 7 p.m. in the Pontiac Unity Center.

Smart girls will turn their talents for knitting into this nifty "poor boy" sweater for almost any campus activity. Its lean, vertical ribbed silhouette in a "Wintuk" yarn of 100 per cent Orlon counterpoints the snug fit with a roll-over turtleneck collar. Visor cap is also knitted. Leaflet KDJ 66-1. Instructions for both styles available by writing to the National Hand Knitting Yarn Association, 15 East 28th Street, New York, N.Y., Room 1806DK, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

To Remove New Creases

One disadvantage of durable press garments has been the impossibility of alterations because factory-set creases just wouldn't come out.

However, a special chemical spray has recently been developed to remove such creases so that new ones can be placed where desired. That altered hem, seam, or cuff will then be just as durable to wear and studs as the original.

Dress Tips

Tack a small, plastic box or tray on the inside of your closet door — as the handiest place to stash your personal effects (wallet, jewelry, watch etc.) when you hang up your clothes.

Reminder: If a shirt collar is only slightly wrinkled, you can "iron" it for a few seconds over a hot electric light bulb.

This gay little shell has all the looks that the young delight in. Crocheted of Orlon Suppelle, it is easy to make and to care for. Appliqued posies are the same yarn. Leaflet KDJ 66-3.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. Harned of Gravel Ridge Road, Avon Township. His parents are the James Makins of White Hall.

Cultured pearls and earrings, gifts of the groom, complemented her floor length gown of white Chantilly lace with three tier train and bubble veil.

She carried a bouquet of white rose buds and Stephanotis.

Donna Ann Harned was maid of honor for her sister in the ceremony performed by Rev. Donald Kreuger.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Edward Anderson and Kristian Wright. Deborah and Cynthia Anderson were junior bridesmaids with Lynne Anderson as flowergirl.

Carroll McCarty was best man. Edward Anderson, Gerald Harned and William Wendel acted as ushers. Robert McCarty was ring bearer.

The newlyweds greeted guests in the Ulster American Legion Hall before leaving for a Northern Michigan wedding trip.

Last Is First in Shoe Design

NEW YORK (UPI) — The last of your shoe comes first in forming its style, says E. E. Joiner, styling director and general manager of Meers Division of United Shoe Machinery Co.

He explained that the shape of the last is the keystone of all other elements in shoe design. The newest shoe lasts follow the natural contours of the foot, with graceful backlines, lowered and arch-hugging silhouettes, smaller heel seats, and flared rounded toe shapes.

The Robert L. Dalbys of Lehigh Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Paula Elaine, to William Raymond Bigler. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Bigler of San Jose, Calif. She has attended Western Michigan University and she was a student at San Jose State College, Calif.

The William Cellners of John R Road, Avon Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Jane, to Patrick James McNamara, son of the James C. McNamara of Green Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township. She attends the Harper Hospital School of Nursing in Detroit.

Keep Children From Smoking

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Room mothers and PTA representatives for classrooms will participate in a program to keep seventh through eighth grade children from smoking next fall, the Public Health Service reports.

The new program, adopted as a major effort of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be supported in its first year by $87,000 from the Public Health Service.

Emphasis will be on teaching youngsters the health benefits of not smoking and the hazards of cigarette smoking.

Test After Texas Massacre

Slayer's Blood Free of Drugs

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Charles J. Whitman's blood contained no narcotics, alcohol, barbiturates, drugs or stimulants when police guns ended his deadly rifle fire, a laboratory report says.

The Texas Department of Public Safety released Wednesday its analysis of blood taken from the University of Texas sniper's body after a murder rampage that took 16 lives Aug. 1.

Justice of the Peace Jerry Dellana said the lab report on Whitman's blood completed his inquest into the 25-year-old architectural engineering student's death. He said his finding was "homicide" — ruled justifiable by the Travis County grand jury.

Dellana said six brown and clear capsules, 14 plain white tablets and 11 white tablets stamped "E" also were submitted for analysis.

"The six capsules were found to contain amphetamine (a 'pep' drug also found in dieter pills)," the report said. "The body of his wife, Dianne, was plain unmarked white tablets and the tablets stamped 'E' contained an aspirin preparation. She had been shot to death.

No narcotics or dangerous drugs were contained in the tablets.

"No alcohol, barbiturates or amphetamines were detected in the specimen of blood,"

Dellana said the analyst said it would have taken a great deal of amphetamine for traces to show in a small blood sample. He speculated that Whitman took the amphetamine to the tower to keep him awake for a long siege.

The justice of the peace said the lab report would go to the grand jury, which already has received the original autopsy report by Dr. Coleman de Charnar, Austin State Hospital pathologist.

Accused Man in Wife-Killing Gives Self Up

DETROIT (AP) — Valentine Kovach Jr., 24, sought for five days in the slaying of his wife, gave himself up Wednesday.

Kovach surrendered to John A. Mowatt, an assistant prosecutor for Wayne County.

Police in suburban Lincoln Park hold a first-degree murder warrant for Kovach. The body of his wife, Dianne, was found by neighbors Saturday in the couple's Lincoln Park home. She had been shot to death.

WIRED FOR SOUND — Fifteen-year-old Chris Fabing of Cincinnati has arrived at a new way to make a phone call — seated in a grocery cart. While on another assignment, in a shopping center, Cincinnati photographer Gerry Weller said: "I couldn't believe my eyes. I just had to shoot it."

Two Key Figures Head British Cabinet Reshuffle

LONDON (AP) — Michael Stewart, Britain's foreign secretary for the last two years to-day tackled the job of leading his country back into financial solvency as new head of the Economics Ministry.

Stewart, key figure in a Cabinet reshuffle announced Wednesday night by Prime Minister Harold Wilson, was named to replace Deputy Prime Minister George Brown as czar over a wide-ranging program of economic retrenchment.

Brown, a reluctant director of the austerity program into which the Labor government was forced, became foreign secretary.

Friends and foes of the embattled government gave the reshuffle a cool reception.

'NOT IMPRESSED'

The pro-Labor Sun, in a front-page editorial entitled "Musical Chairs," commented: "It is difficult to feel impressed by Mr. Wilson's cabinet changes."

The liberal Guardian said the reshuffle was "lacking in sense of value."

STEWART

BROWN

graph said: "Like almost everything else he has done in the past month, Mr. Wilson's new cabinet appointments bear all the hallmarks of haste and panic."

Just before the changes were announced, the House of Commons gave final approval to a major item in Wilson's austerity package — a six-month freeze on wages and prices and severe restraints for six months after that.

The 56-vote margin by which the bill passed, nearly 40 short of the Labor party's paper majority in the House, underlined the opposition of the government party's left wing to the freeze.

SIX SWITCHED

Wilson shuffled six members of his Cabinet altogether. No one was fired and all kept their salaries of $23,800 a year plus a parliamentary allowance of $3,500.

Brown's appointment as foreign secretary raised hopes in some quarters that Britain would take firm steps to join the European Common Market.

Push-Button Cruiser Fires by Mistake

DEVONPORT, England (AP) — Britain's first push-button cruiser, the Tiger, fired a shell into a dockyard Wednesday by mistake. No one was hurt.

The six-inch dummy shell struck a wall 30 feet away, knocking down telephone wires and scattering debris over a wide area.

Thousands of workers on their way home had passed through the dockyard gates and out of range minutes before the shell landed.

An investigation was begun.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government welcomes foreign visitors, "but we shall not tolerate guests with skeleton keys and false-bottomed suitcases."

In an article Wednesday, the paper charged Baptist ministers attempted to smuggle in Bibles; a Chicago businessman tried to smuggle rare Soviet books out; Lebanese tourists tried to smuggle in gold plate, and Syrian tourists tried to smuggle rubles out.

Other foreigners tried to sell dirty postcards, cigarettes and lighters to Soviet youths, the paper charged. A West German businessman was accused of arranging orgies in his hotel and later writing reports for West German intelligence.

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Army trucks carried workers to their jobs today as a bus strike crippled public transport in Dublin for the fourth day.

Bus maintenance men are striking for a $1.74 a week pay raise. They now average $32.05, 1952.

Playwright's Kin Dies in Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Writer Marta Molnar, 57, daughter of playwright Ferenc Molnar, died Tuesday after a long illness. Marta married a poet, Gyorgy Sarkoz, who was killed by Nazi troops in Hungary. Ferenc Molnar plays swept European and American stages two decades before World War II. Molnar emigrated to the United States before the war and died there in 1952.

The DRC Story

HOW TO FEEL LIKE A MILLIONAIRE FOR $5 A YEAR

The late Bob Ripley of "Believe It Or Not" fame would have had trouble topping this one.

There is a Simple, Easy, One-Step way you can feel like a Millionaire and join an illustrious group of top-flight sportsmen.

When you visit the Detroit Race Course, you undoubtedly are aware of the gay, bright, colorful silks of the jockey's blouse and cap.

There's a fascinating story about the distinctive colors, which are a symbol for each owner. And, Believe It Or Not, YOU can select your own racing colors and feel like a Millionaire for just $5 a year. You don't even have to own a horse.

I am not kidding you. Racing is a Sport filled with Fun, Excitement and Surprises. The more you learn about it, the more Thrilling it becomes. We will be racing daily, except Sunday, through November 5. There is no better time than now to join the swing to Fun at the DRC.

Now, about the colors. Colors must be registered with The Jockey Club, which is the governing body of the Sport in the United States. The annual fee is $5. Life colors are issued for $25 to owners who have registered their silks annually for three consecutive seasons.

How do owners go about picking their colors and designs?

There are THIRTY THOUSAND distinct combinations formed from 36 basic elements in The Jockey Club files.

The designs usually are chosen from the following recommended markings: balls, blocks, braces, quarters, diamonds, dots, hoops, panels, sashes, stars and stripes. The Jockey Club specifies the size each marking must be. For example, a ball is eight inches in diameter, while a dot is 2 1/2 inches in diameter; a block is four inches square; a star, three inches in diameter and must have five points.

M. H. Van Berg, the Nebraskan who topped the nation's owners in total victories and purses won last season, annually is one of the most popular DRC campaigners. His familiar colors are Gold, Purple 'V', Purple sleeves, Gold and Purple cap. Detroit's T. D. Buhl's silks are White, Royal Blue diamonds, Royal Blue sleeves and White cap. The Crimson King farm of Peter Salmen, Sr. carries Red, White 'CK', White sleeves and Red cap. T. A. Grissom's colors are White, Red 'C', Red collar, cuffs and cap.

The oldest active silks of any stable in the United States are those of Howell Jackson of Virginia. They are plain maroon and fawn were registered in 1823.

Sometimes racing silks carry an extra note. The insignia of the stable of Mrs. Angelina Prima is a trumpet. She is the mother of Band Leader Louie Prima.

Even if you never register your own silks, racing can be a lot of Fun for you. I invite you to visit the DRC. We don't promise to make you a Millionaire, but you can feel like one anyway.

TIGER TRIBUTE — Fans and members of the Detroit Tigers stood in silent tribute yesterday in Washington, D.C. Stadium in memory of Manager Charlie Dressen, who died yesterday at Detroit's Ford Hospital after suffering a cardiac arrest. Dressen suffered his second heart attack May 18 and was hospitalized a few days ago for a kidney condition. Acting manager Frank Skaff is fourth from the left.

Don Lock Delivers
With Two Aboard to Sink Detroiters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit pitcher Denny McLain, emotionally spent, sat in front of his locker with his head buried in his hands.

Catcher Orlando McFarlane, showing signs of physical wear and tear, quietly gulped down a sandwich a few lockers away.

Third baseman Don Wert made no effort to undress rapidly, preferring to silently strip slowly between swigs of a soft drink.

The clubhouse of a second place team that loses a game usually isn't a happy place. The Tigers' locker room, however, was abnormally quiet Wednesday night.

The Tigers not only dropped the 12-inning contest to the Washington Senators 6-3, when Don Lock clouted a three-run homer, but earlier in the day lost their manager, Charlie Dressen.

Dressen died in Detroit's Henry Ford Hospital of a cardiac arrest.

James A. Campbell, vice president and general manager, said during the game: "Charlie will be missed by all, but we believe the ones who will really feel the loss are some of our younger fellows. He was close to them and gave them a lot of help."

"And you've got to remember some older players like (John) Podres and (Larry) Sherry," he said. "They knew him from the Dodgers and they had chances to go to other teams, yet they wanted to come to the Tigers because of Charlie."

McLain, one of the young pitchers developed by Dressen, and McFarlane, who was scouted and chosen personally by him, preferred not to talk about Dressen.

McLain, the starting pitcher in the game who went eight innings and left with the score tied 2-2 in the 8th inning, ignored a newsmen's questions.

McFarlane, visibly emotional, said: "Please, I would rather not talk about him."

But Wert, who scored a run in the seventh and then hit his 6th homer of the year in the 11th to put the Tigers ahead 3-2, did not hesitate to talk.

"He's the man that gave me a chance to play," he said. "I didn't have a chance before he came. I owe him a great deal."

DETROIT AP Wirephoto

McLain hit a 2-2-4 sacrifice fly in the 8th inning, but the Tigers' offense was stymied by the Senators' pitching.

Don Lock, who pitched for the Senators, struck out three batters in the 12th inning to seal the victory.

The Senators' victory was their first since May 18, when they won 4-3 over the Tigers.

The Tigers' loss was their 11th in 12 games.

The Senators' win was their 11th in 12 games.

Charlie Dies at 67

Baseball Mourns Dressen

DETROIT (AP) — Baseball today mourned the death of Detroit Tigers Manager Charlie Dressen, an always fiery competitor who was regarded as one of the most dedicated men in the game.

Dressen, who would have been 68 next month, died Wednesday of a cardiac arrest, just four days after he had been admitted to the hospital for the third time in 17 months.

Dressen suffered a heart attack in spring training in 1965 and was sidelined by the same ailment last May 16. His last confinement was for a kidney infection.

"I lost a great friend and associate," said Tigers Vice President and General Manager James A. Campbell, who hired Dressen in June of 1964 to replace Bob Seefing.

"The contributions that Charlie Dressen made to the Detroit Tigers will be of great benefit to us in years to come, especially among our young players and the attitude of the whole organization," Campbell added.

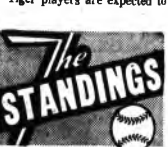

"Few remain in baseball who can match his deep knowledge and sincere enthusiasm for the game," said Tigers owner John E. Fetzer.

SERVICE TODAY

A requiem high mass was to be sung at St. Aloysius Church in Detroit this morning after which Dressen's body was to be taken to Los Angeles.

Dressen's widow, Ruth, was expected to make final funeral arrangements later. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery in Glendale, Calif.

Campbell refused to replace Dressen when he suffered his second heart attack, saying he preferred to wait until a medical report in mid-August before making a decision on Dressen's future.

Dressen was scheduled to meet with his heart specialist Monday.

The peppery Dressen, who managed the Brooklyn Dodgers when they won National League pennants in 1952 and 1953, had moulded the Tigers into his finest team since the Dodgers.

News of Dressen's passing stunned the club's acting manager, Frank Skaff, and the Tiger players.

"It is a terrible, tragic thing," said Skaff. "We're extremely grieved and heartbroken."

"This is a real shock to me," said veteran outfielder Al Kaline. "He was the best manager I ever played under far as knowing the game of baseball was concerned. I saw him the other day and I thought he was coming along fine."

Fred Haney, general manager of the Milwaukee Braves when Dressen managed that club in 1960 and 1961, commented:

"Baseball has lost a great friend, probably one of the most dedicated men we ever had in the game. He probably gave his life to the game because he realized his condition, and yet chose to stay with his club longer than he should have."

Haney currently is general manager of the California Angels.

Seeks Hazel Park Track Probe

Kelley Asks Grand Jury Inquiry

By the Associated Press
Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley asked Wednesday for a one-man grand jury to probe charges of race horse doping, bribery and conspiracy at Hazel Park Race Track.

He was expected to request another one-man grand jury today to investigate Detroit Race Course.

The action came after Gov. George Romney revealed state police have been investigating the two race tracks for two weeks.

Then he said he would decide within 48 hours whether to ask Wayne County circuit judges to appoint a grand juror.

Such a grand juror would follow close on the heels of Edward S. Piggins, the grand juror who has been investigating other alleged criminal activities in Wayne County. Piggins' term soon will expire.

Kelley charges Wednesday that public officers, state employees and persons licensed by the Michigan Racing Commission have conspired to violate state racing laws at Hazel Park.

CHARGE OF DRUGS
Kelley also charged that Butazolidin, a drug to ease pain and reduce inflammation in horses, was used illegally to manipulate the running capabilities of horses and the outcome of certain races.

Public officers and employees of the Michigan Racing Commission and Department of Agriculture, Kelley charged, "have been guilty of willful neglect of duty, malfeasance, misfeasance and nonfeasance in their respective offices."

He said in the petition that results were falsified in chemical tests to detect drugging of horses.

S P O R T S

Jolly Cholly Dressen, the chili-making manager of the Detroit Tigers who died yesterday, loved baseball above everything, but running a close second in his appreciation of world niceties was the concert.

During the trip to Tigers' training camp last February, we simply enjoyed Charlie's luxurious fish dish luncheon of "crab-fingers" he specially prepared for sportswriters; we avoided his annual chili-pot affair because this writer does not have a yen for chili of any kind and his piano playing was hardly for the love of good music.

But no matter what activity Dressen had planned, whether food, music or baseball, there was never a dull moment nor did anyone ever feel he was a stranger with this happy-go-lucky guy around.

There was no doubt about his knowledge of baseball, or his appreciation for good food, but very few really knew how much he enjoyed music, especially the concert.

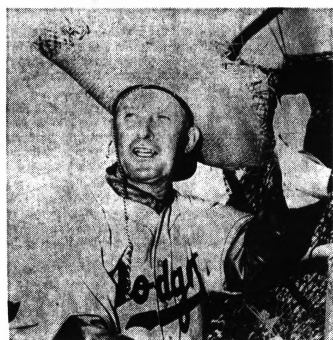

One person who really knew is Eugene Istomin who has been the featured piano soloist in past weeks at the Meadow Brook Music Festival at Oakland University.

Istomin, a die-hard baseball fan from Brooklyn, and Dressen were very close friends, having struck up their music-baseball association when Jolly Cholly was manager of the Dodgers in their Ebbetts Field home.

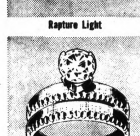

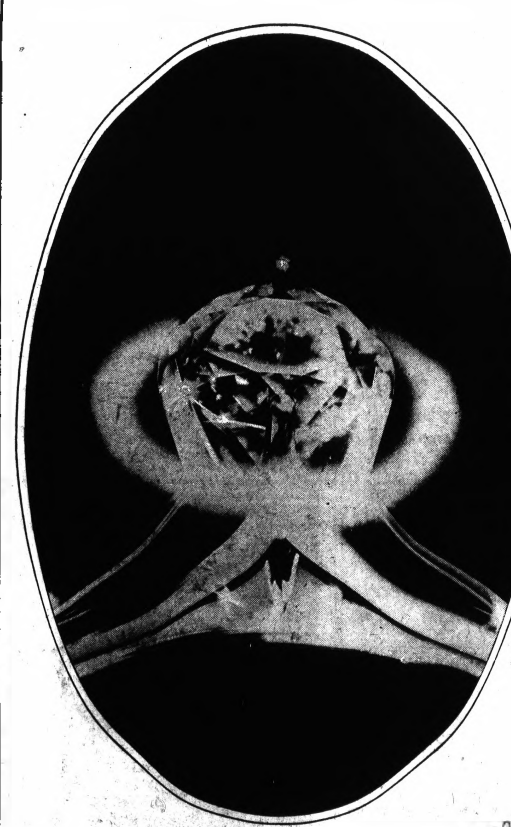

Gene, or "fingers" as Dressen once called him while the pianist was visiting the Tigers' training camp the past spring, always exchanged their professional talents to entertain one another or the others who gathered around the Tigers' Lakeland headquarters.

Dressen was often lost in a cloud when Istomin went over the keyboard with the Polonaise or some other masterful solo, and likewise Istomin was in the thick of the conversation when Dressen discussed baseball.

"My mother wanted me to (Continued On Page C-4, Col 5)

Defensive Ace Suspended by MFL Head

Pontiac's Arrows and Flint's Blue Devils have squared off although their football contest is still two days away.

The two, members of the Midwest Football League, met in an exhibition game Saturday night at Rochester High School, but a pre-game feud flared up between the two yesterday over a defensive tackle.

The player in question is Jim Richendollar, 26, a 275-pounder and former Little All-American at Hilldale College, who is claimed by both teams.

Commissioner John Abel stepped into the picture yesterday and handed Richendollar an indefinite suspension.

"He'll stay under suspension until we get this thing cleared up," said Abel, former football and baseball star at Western Michigan who now resides in Pontiac.

Provisions of the pact, signed in 1965, call for Richendollar to remain the property of Flint through the 1966 season.

However, Richendollar showed up at Wells' training camp in July to try for a job with the Arrows, unaware of the provision.

Len Christman, president of the Blue Devils, learned late Monday that Richendollar was working out with the Arrows.

He discussed the matter with Abel late Tuesday, informing the commissioner that his squad wouldn't take the field Saturday night unless the dispute was settled.

Abel's notice of suspension followed.

It's that contract that has put

Pontiac Tourny Teams Break Even in Openers

Pontiac teams broke even yesterday in two junior baseball games in state district tournament action at Jaycee Park.

In the first game, Roseville ousted Pontiac's entry in the Class F division, Lakeland, 17-1, while the local Fraternal Order of Police turned back Roseville in the Class E contest, 6-2.

The F.O.P. squad now moves to the regionals against a Saginaw squad in a game set for Monday at 10:30 a.m. The Roseville side will also take on a Saginaw team Monday morning.

In the Class E scrap, F.O.P. broke open a 1-1 game with four runs in the fourth inning without the benefit of a base hit. Three walks, a hit batsman, a stolen base and a ground out produced the runs.

Terry Villereal, Clyde Duncan and Rolly Gracia collected two hits apiece to lead the F.O.P. attack.

THREE HITS

Lakeland managed only three hits in taking a drubbing at the hands of Roseville's Tigers. Dennis Brown picked up two of Lakeland's safeties.

In a Widget B playoff yesterday, Lakeland's Wolverines knocked off Anderson Sales and Service, 7-5, and the two will meet again tomorrow for the championship.

Richendollar wasn't available for comment at his home Wednesday, but his wife said he wasn't aware that the contract with Flint ran through the 1966 season.

His wife also said he wasn't interested in playing for Flint this year, so unless Pontiac can buy the contract from Flint, Richendollar may watch his football from the stands.

"That would suit me fine," said Mrs. Richendollar. "He plays so hard, I'm always afraid he'll get hurt."

BENEFIT GAME

The game Saturday, sponsored by the Rochester Rotary Club, is for the benefit of the Crittenton Hospital Fund.

Next week, Saturday, August 20, the Arrows move into Winder Stadium to meet the big Dayton Colts, runner-up in the MFL last year, half game behind the Arrows.

Season tickets for six games are still available at $10 and they may be purchased at Griffin's Grill, Oguni's, Bob-Ken's, Dixie-Williams, Sonco, Frayer's Furnishings, and VFW No. 1370.

Student season tickets are also available at $2.50. At the gate they are $1.00 on individual game nights.

Netters Rest After Upsets in N.Y. Play

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Upset-makers Alan Stone of Australia and Graham Stillwell of England are getting a well-earned rest in the 77th Mendon Club Grass Court Tennis Tournament today and basking in the memory of Wednesday's victories.

The pair of 20-year-olds who eliminated high-ranking Owen Davidson of Australia and Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., to reach the quarter-finals, will wait until Friday for their next assignments.

Top-seeded Tony Roche of Australia is facing sixth-seeded Bob Lutz of Los Angeles and seventh-seeded Ray Moore of South Africa, is testing fourth-seeded Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., in Thursday's quarters.

Stone is a University of Melbourne student paying his own way around the circuit. He's not a member of the official Australian touring team.

He defeated Davidson, seeded second, 6-0, 12-0 with a good brand of tennis though Davidson was playing erratically.

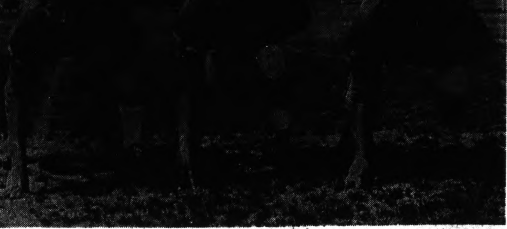

Stillwell, a junior member of the British Davis Cup squad, knocked out the third-seeded Scott, who won the Nassau Bowl tournament last week, 6-2, 3-4, 23-21.

Miss Hamlin is a 17-year-old high school senior who played her first 50 holes in this tournament four-under-par.

Wednesday she scored a 5-and-4 victory over Mrs. I.C. Robertson of Dungartonshire, second round of match play in the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship. Henry beat Don Alexander of Montreal, 2 up, in Wednesday's first round.

SCRATCH ONE — One of the huge linemen who was expected to start for the Pontiac Arrows against the Flint Blue Devils in the exhibition game Saturday night in Rochester will be "scratched" indefinitely. Jim Richendollar (right) 275 pound tackle was suspended by league commissioner John Abel for not reporting to Flint which claimed still had his contract through 1966. The other big linemen are Len Centala (255) on the left and 265-pound Bob Mallendick.

French Lass Occupying Slalom Favorite's Role

PORTILLO, Chile (AP) — Claude Killy and won the men's giant slalom.

Perillat, a veteran competitor, was timed in 1:41.99 over the treacherous 50-gate course and had a combined 3:19.42 for the two runs. Another Frenchman, Georges Mauduit, finished second with a combined 3:19.42.

It was the third time in four championship races that the French finished 1-2. And in the only race they lost—the women's downhill—they finished 2-3.

Killy, who led Tuesday's run, was timed in 1:44.20 and finished fifth in the standings with a combined 3:21.42.

Walt Falk, the young American who suffered a severe brain concussion in a spill during the downhill Sunday, was reported much improved.

RATE HIGHLY

Other skiers rated highly included Jean Saubert of McCall, Idaho, racing in what she says will be her last world competition. Chuck Perries, the American coach, said Miss Saubert was skiing well and predicted she would win a medal in the slalom.

Erika Schinegger, who won the downhill last Monday, and Heidi Zimmermann, appearing in her first world championships, were Austria's top hopes.

France gained its third gold medal Wednesday when former world champion Guy Perillat overtook countryman Jean

Youngster Faces Tourney Veteran in Women's Golf

SEWICKLEY, Pa. (AP) — Anne Quast Wells has been this way before, so she knew what was in the mind of Miss Shelley Hamlin when they tied off this morning in the featured second round match of the 86th U.S.G.A. Women's Golf Championships.

"I can remember what it was like when I was 17," said Mrs. Wells of Seattle, Wash., a three-time champion. "I had nothing to lose and everything to gain. I wasn't afraid of a thing."

Miss Hamlin is a 17-year-old high school senior who played her first 50 holes in this tournament four-under-par.

Wednesday she scored a 5-and-4 victory over Mrs. I.C. Robertson of Dungartonshire, second round of match play in the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship. Henry beat Don Alexander of Montreal, 2 up, in Wednesday's first round.

GOLD MEDAL — Austria's only gold medal winner in the World Alpine Ski Championships at Portillo, Chile, will try for a repeat performance in the giant slalom competition. She won the downhill event yesterday.

Waterford BC Tourney Winner

Waterford Boys Club's 14-under baseball team warmed up for the township's junior baseball playoffs by winning a tournament in Royal Oak earlier this week.

Waterford, unbeaten in regular season junior baseball play, crushed Pontiac Boys Club, 27-3, and then won the tourney championship by bombing Royal Oak BC, 21-2.

Pete Taylor hurled a one-hitter against Pontiac and Tom Ashboough fired a two-hitter in the title game. Highland and Warren Boys Club teams also participated.

Short Tosses Two-Hitter

Phillies' Ace Southpaw Loses Fear

By the Associated Press
Chris Short admits he's not afraid any more, but he was scared stiff when he made a mistake against Lou Brock.

Short, Philadelphia's stylish left-hander, lost his perfect game on Brock's seventh inning single and finished with a three-hitter Thursday night as the Phillies downed St. Louis 5-1.

The first 19 batters he faced went down quietly and Short, who had pitched a pair of two-hitters earlier this season, was breezing when Brock came up with one out in the seventh.

"When the pitch to Brock got up toward the plate, I knew it was the wrong one," Short said. "It was a high slider, right in the wheelhouse."

Brock jumped on it for a single to center, quickly swiped second for his 47th steal of the season, and rode home on Curt Flood's hit, spilling not only the perfect game and no-hitter but shutout as well.

the season. He struck out six and walked none. And he didn't even use a green wienie.

That whammy weapon belongs to the Pittsburgh Pirates, who opened up a 1½ game lead in the National League race with a 7-4 victory over the New York Mets.

Third place Los Angeles shipped 2½ games off the pace by dropping its third straight to Atlanta, 3-1.

Short said he has conquered his fear of right-handed batters and that has made him a better pitcher this season.

Jim Faglioneri and Willie Stargell helped the Pirates with a pair of two-run homers against the Mets as Vern Law won his eighth game.

KINGSTON, Pa. — Felix Serafin, Pennsylvania Open golf champion three times in the 1930s, died Tuesday night in a hospital here.

whammy but he's getting results from his hunches just the same. The new manager of the Braves elevated Felipe Alou to the leadoff spot and for the second straight night, Alou opened the first inning with a home run.

"I told him he was back in the leadoff position because he's done so well there all year," Hitchcock said. "Then I told him, 'After all, after you hit, the score may be 1-0.'"

It happened that way in each of Hitchcock's first two games and helped the Braves complete a three-game sweep of the Dodgers.

Alou also scored the tie-breaking run in the fifth after Jim Gilliam let his grounder get by for a two-base error. Alou moved to third on an infield out and scored on Hank Aaron's sacrifice fly.

Collision Halts U.S. Yacht in Cup Race

SKOVSHOVED, Denmark (AP) — A week ago George (Buddy) Friedrichs, 26-year-old stockbroker in New Orleans, surprised the yachting world by becoming the first American to win the European dragon class sailing championship in his Williwaw on Copenhagen Bay.

It was a different story at the finish of the World Championship for the Dragon Gold Cup Wednesday. Aage Birch of Denmark, who had been second to Friedrichs in the European competition, won this time in his Chok. Friedrichs and Williwaw never started the final race and finished 11th in the over-all standings with 76.4 points.

BADLY DAMAGED

The Williwaw was badly damaged in a collision with another dragon. Friedrichs charged that the other boat hit him, but there was no protest because it occurred before the start. Officials of the Royal Danish Yachting Club said that technically Friedrichs did not start and therefore was not entitled to protest.

Aphrodite, sailed by Bub Mos-bacher of Houston, Tex., likewise encountered trouble. She lost her horn and could not keep her main sails up. Mosbacher kept on doggedly, however, and although she finished last in the race, the Aphrodite finished fifth over-all with 36.58 points.

Two other U.S. dragons, Dixie Doodle II and Mary Lee, both of New Orleans, finished 48th and 49th, respectively, of a total of 103 boats. Dixie Doodle finished with 261 points and Mary Lee with 281.

Americans also encountered trouble during stormy weather in the 5.5 meters class won by Paul Elvstrom of Denmark in his Web III. Vamp XII of Georgia suffered a broken mast and dropped out along with Composition of New York and Cadenza of Philadelphia.

Chance, skippered by Britton Chaffee, Jr., of New York, made the best U.S. showing in the 5.5. She finished 10th in the race and seventh over-all. Pride of the U.S. was ninth over-all and Cadanza 10th.

The Farrant brothers of Britain won the 5.5 championship in their Mia IV.

Teen Sets 2 Marks, Shares Third

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — Peter Reynolds of Australia was gunning for a fourth gold medal — and possibly a fourth world record — today as the swimmers and runners again took over in the British Empire and Commonwealth Games.

Reynolds, an 18-year-old law clerk, already has established two world marks, 2:12 flat in the 220-yard backstroke and 4:50.8 in the 440 individual medley, and also swam on Australia's world record breaking 880-yard freestyle relay team.

He is scheduled to swim on Australia's 440-yard medley relay team today.

The other highlight of the day's program is the marathon, scheduled just after dawn in order to beat the blazing heat of this island in the sun.

England won the gold medals in men's epee team and ladies foil team.

Air Force 'G' Wins

Haarlem, The Netherlands (AP) — Home runs by Dick Cummings, Rock Gibson, Bill Baker and Ron Davis led the Augsburg Bayerns, the team of the U.S. Air Force in Europe, to a 8-6 victory over the Netherlands Wednesday in the International Baseball Tournament.

Lion Rookie Tries Karras' Spot

Twins' Handy Man Stars in 2-0 Victory

By the Associated Press

Cesar Tovar, the handy man in Minnesota's infield and outfield, has picked up his first save as a relief pitcher.

The versatile Venezuelan rescued Jim (Mudcat) Grant twice Wednesday night with perfect strikes from left field as the Twins blanked California 2-0 and snapped a three-game losing string.

Rich Rollins and Harmon Killebrew honored for Minnesota and Tovar, making his first start in the outfield since May 31, protected the margin—and Grant's second straight shutout—by cutting down California runners at the plate in the first and seventh innings.

In the first, Jose Cardenal singled, stole second and raced for home on Jim Fregoso's single.

LAST THREAT

In the seventh, with runners on first and third and one out, Tovar grabbed Tom Satirano's short fly ball and fired another strike to Batley, doubling off Bob Rodgers and smuffing out the Angels' last threat.

Tovar started his second season with the Twins in center field but was benched after playing 20 games. In July he filled in at shortstop for the injured Zola Versalles and hit at a .300 clip. When Versalles returned to the lineup, Tovar moved over to second base and stayed there until Wednesday night.

"Tovar plays the game hard," says roommate Tony Oliva, "and he can play anywhere. He plays every day, he'll hit .300."

In other games Wednesday, league-leading Baltimore pounded New York 9-4, Chicago whipped Kansas City 8-2, Boston blanked Cleveland 2-0 and Washington tripped Detroit 6-1 in 12 innings.

Curt Blefary, back in the Baltimore lineup after sitting out 11 games with a shoulder injury, wallowed two homers and Boog Powell hit a three-run shot as the Orioles pounded the Yankees.

Dick Hall relieved starter Ed Diekman in the third inning, pitched the rest of the way for his fifth victory in a decision and sent the Orioles ahead to stay in the fourth with a two-run single.

The White Sox won their sixth in a row behind left-hander Gary Peters, who shut out Kansas City until the ninth. Peters, 23, helped himself with a double and single while Pete Ward drilled a three-run double in the fifth.

Don Lock's three-run homer in the 12th lifted the Senators past Detroit and dropped the second-place Tigers 11 games out of first place. Washington's Paul Casanova and Detroit's Don Wert each homered in the 11th after the Senators had tied it 2-2 on Ken McMullen's run-scoring single in the eighth.

Boston's Lee Stange scattered nine hits and stranded five base runners in shutting out the Indians. George Scott hit his 22nd homer and Tony Conigliaro singled across a run for the Red Sox.

Defensive Role for Ex-Wolverine

PEEKSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — New York Jets No. 1 draft choice Bill Yearby will play defensive end and linebacker in the team's first exhibition game Saturday against the Houston Oilers in Birmingham, Ala. The University of Michigan rookie was originally drafted as a tight end prospect, but Jets' Coach Weeb Ewbank said Yearby is too far behind the offense and this would be the best way for him to make the lineup.

Scrambles Scheduled

There will be a motorcycle scrambles and sky diving exhibition at Mt. Holly Sunday beginning at 1 p.m.

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — It to third place on the all-time earnings list — behind Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper — with Nicklaus says he was a better player when he first hit the golf ball four years ago than he is now.

"I hit the ball better then but I'm older now and a more experienced and better player," Nicklaus said. "I tried a new driver, which I won't use Thursday," adding that he could easily have reached the 60-yard mark in 18th green in two shots with a half-cent drive.

Nicklaus birdied five holes, bogeyed three and had two three-putts greens. He spent his time between shots pacing off the course, as he always does.

"I lost the blasted net. I made here four years ago," he said. "It's a pain in the neck to make a new set but well worth it."

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — John Richard of Ann Arbor, Mich., will defend his Western Golf Association's Junior title with the opening of match play today in the 49th annual event. Two 18-hole rounds will be played today.

Other Rookies Set to See Action Tonight Against Cardinals

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions were expected to replace their injured defensive pulwark, Alex Karras, with a 22-year-old rookie against the St. Louis Cardinals in a National Football League exhibition game tonight.

Jim Edgerly, a 235-pound free agent picked up from New Mexico State, was coach Harry Gilmer's choice to replace Karras, the team captain, whose badly bruised knee made him a doubtful starter. Karras suffered the injury last Saturday when the Lions tied Minnesota 6-6.

The Detroit squad will be studied with rookies against a powerful Cardinal team whose chief assets are the passing of quarterback Charley Johnson and the running of Bill Triplett and Willis Crenshaw.

Quarterback Karl Sweetan, 24, of Wake Forest, will play his first National Football League game. "We're anxious to see what Sweetan can do," Gilmer said.

St. Louis is considered a top contender for the Eastern Division title in the NFL this year, largely because Cleveland Browns fullback Jim Brown has returned.

The Cardinals, who whipped the new Atlanta Falcons 20-10 in their initial contest, will meet the Lions for the first time in an exhibition game since 1961. The Cards last played in the Motor City in 1959.

McLENNA TO PLAY

Gilmer said rookie running back Bruce McLenna, a Little All-America from Hillsdale (Mich.), will "get a lot of action." McLenna is expected to be used in combination with starting quarterback Milt Plum and Amos Marsh, the team's leading ground game last season.

Newcomer John McGuire, acquired Monday from Baltimore for a future draft choice, was expected to be pressed into the tight end spot held by Ron Kramer. Kramer broke a bone in the back of his hand during scrimmage two weeks ago.

The Cardinals announced that veteran fullback Joe Childress has been placed on waivers. If no other National Football League club claims the 10-year veteran within 48 hours, he will be free to deal for himself.

Lady Pros Tuning for Carling Outing

ELLIOTT CITY, Md. (AP) — A pro-am event, serving as a tune-up for Friday's first round of the $12,500 Lady Carling Open, will be held today on the Turf Valley Country Club course.

This will be the fifth stop for the touring women golfers at turf valley, but a practice round will be especially welcomed this year.

The 1966 event will be played over the original back nine of the course, plus nine new holes opened this season. So an extra trip over the 6,995-yard, par 70 layout will provide answers that won't have to be sought when the play-for-pay begins Friday.

The purse for the 54-hole tourney has been increased by $2,500 this year, with the winner getting $1,750. First prize last year, won by Carol Mann, was worth $1,500.

Avon Twp. Industrial Zoning Is Reaffirmed Despite Protest

AVON TOWNSHIP—The township board last night voted not to rescind their rezoning of 24 acres of land in north Avon for industrial use.

The vote was taken after a hearing was held to give residents an opportunity to voice objections to the entering of Dura Corp. into a predominantly residential area.

Arthur Underwood, who owns 34 acres near the proposed Dura ette, said the board's action at that time was illegal, since the matter had not first been referred to the Oakland County Coordinating, Zoning and Planning Committee after the township zoning board had approved the request.

ENDORSED ZONING

The township zoning board had endorsed the rezoning at its July 6 meeting despite the objections of about 50 area homeowners.

Underwood said he had demanded the hearing last night because residents were not notified that the matter would be considered at the July 13 board meeting and therefore did not show up to protest.

For the past two years the property has been zoned for administrative and professional use.

Objections of most of the residents centered around their fear that Dura's entering the area would only be a first step toward creation of a vast industrial complex in the area north of Tenken Road.

STOP THE CAMEL

One homeowner protested that "the camel must be stopped before he gets his nose in the tent and pushes the Arab out."

Several protesting residents said that they would take their case to court before they would allow industry in the area.

They also claimed that the plant would be a source of heavy traffic, dust, and noise.

Township Trustee William McCullough denied that any of the charges were true. In addition, he pointed out that the township needs industry if it is to avoid a financial crisis in the near future.

Installation of water and sewage systems will weigh heavily

NEAR THE CLOSE

Near the close of the hearing Donald Bergess, who would manage the plant for Dura, attempted to show the objectors that the plant would not be a conventional factory and would be an asset to the area's appearance.

The proposed five-building complex would include a two-chimney story, administration building, a research and development building, and a small manufacturing building.

He estimated that 500 men would be employed at the site which would be the headquarters for Dura's worldwide activities.

He described the proposed complex as a "campus-type operation." It would be similar in function and appearance to the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, he said.

Dura Corp. manufactures electronic and electronic-mechanical equipment and business machines.

Consisting of 10 lots, the new subdivision is located at Hubbard and Allen roads.

The board also has approved a street lighting project for three Woodhill Lake subdivisions following a recent public hearing.

Annual service charge will be $4.24 per lot, according to township officials.

A public hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 6 on a proposed street lighting project for Stevens Farms Subdivision in the southeastern section of the township.

The car and a truck driven by Ignacio Gil, 21, of Brownsville, Tex., collided at 2:15 a.m. when Robinette lost control of his car on a curve, according to sheriff's deputies.

Gil and another passenger in the car were not injured.

Tours to Benefit 134-Year-Old House

TROY—In an effort to raise funds to move and preserve the 134-year-old Caswell house in west Troy, the Troy Historical Society tomorrow will conduct tours through four Civil War era city homes.

Mrs. Donald Lance, secretary of the society, said the tours are designed also to arouse community interest in the Caswell project and to get citizens to take notice of the rapidly changing face of Troy.

It has been estimated that it would cost about $18,000 to move the house, located at 3150 N. Adams, and about $17,000 to renovate it in pre-1900 style.

The City Commission has provided land near the site of the present city hall at 17 Mile and Livernois. It must be moved from its present location by Sept. 1, according to Mrs. Lance.

The home was last occupied by William S. Caswell, grand-

William Caswell died last November, leaving the entire estate to his matron, John Angell, who sold it.

It was bought by an anonymous organization and donated to the city.

The four homes to be shown were all built in the two decades previous to the outbreak of the Civil War.

The residence of Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Caswell, 461 N. Coolidge at Westliffe (17 Mile), was constructed around 1840 by Stephen Chatfield from bricks made on the property. Many rooms have brick partitions.

ANOTHER HOME
A second home on the tour is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradley and is located at 6867 Boulevard, just south of South River.

Although it has been remodeled somewhat since it was built around 1840, it still features an original bake-oven in the fireplace. A stave churn and spinning wheel also remain.

Located at 2770 E. Wattle's (between John R and Dequindre) is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brel. The house was constructed about 1840 with bricks made in Troy from a clay streak found along Dequindre.

Visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lance, 3179 Rochester, one block north of 16 Mile, will be shown some of Lance's collection of early American clocks as they tour through the 1849 home.

OPEN 2-5
All four homes will be open from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. The Lance home will also be open from 7-9 p.m. in the evening.

The historical society is asking for a single donation in exchange for the four-home tour.

Troy Board Ratifies Pact

TROY—The board of education has ratified a master agreement reached two weeks ago with the Troy Education Association, representing the school system teachers.

The contract calls for salaries for teachers with bachelor's degrees to start at $5,650 and scale up to $9,210 after 10 years. Salaries for teachers with master's degrees will start at $6,150 and range to $10,038 after 10 years.

The TEA is expected to ratify the agreement at a meeting soon after Labor Day.

Preliminary Plans Approved for Junior High in Clarkston

CLARKSTON—The Clarkston Board of Education has approved preliminary plans for a new junior high school, authorized by voters June 13 as part of a $2.5-million bonding proposal.

Geared to accommodate 1,000 students with capacity for 200 more, the school is slated to be located in the Mayberry-Pine Knob Road area.

School officials are hopeful the school will be completed by September 1968. There would be 39 teaching stations in the new facility.

Feb. 1 has been set as the target date for Dick Prince and Associates of Kalamazoo to submit final architectural plans to the board.

In other business Monday night, the board approved a salary schedule for the seven principals and three assistant principals in the school district.

SALARY INCREASES
Salary increases ranged from 12 to 20 per cent, noted school officials.

Elementary principals will begin at $9,710 and advance to a maximum of $14,630 after five years.

The range for junior high school principals was set at $10,607 to $12,945 after five years.

Senior high principals will receive a minimum annual salary of $12,100 and work their way to a maximum of $17,430 after five years.

Uruguayans Feel Coup Is Impossible

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — There is talk of a coup in Uruguay, but most people in this democratic welfare state say it can't happen here.

They point out that while other Latin American countries upset governments frequently, Uruguay has not had a coup in 24 years. And that one was an off-hand, bloodless affair staged by President Alfredo Baldomir with the "military" backing of the fire department. It gave Baldomir two more easygoing years in power beyond this four-year term.

Chief Executive Alberto Heber spurred the latest coup talk last Saturday by denying that he is planning one.

Some political quarters said Heber has been appointing trusted military commanders to key spots. Even so, most of these informants dismissed the possibility of a coup. They said Heber mainly wants leverage to force other political leaders to change the system of government in Uruguay.

COUNCIL CHAIRMAN

Heber is the chairman of the nine-man council that ruled Uruguay in the place of a president. A conservative, Heber, 48, wants to revert to the single president system. He is urging a constitutional amendment to make the change legally. But chances of the change going through are uncertain.

Up to the early 1950s, Uruguayans considered their country "the Switzerland of the Americas" because of its political and economic stability. They

Old Glacier Shows Signs of Retreating

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The most ancient ice sheet on the Arctic islands, which took shape at least 100,000 years ago, is now in retreat, Soviet glaciologists believe.

A Russian scientific expedition spent two and a half months in the Severnaya Zemlya archipelago, where repeated explorations of the October Revolution island, biggest in the archipelago, "have confirmed the assumption about the retreat of the glaciers and the considerable contraction of their dimensions."

Previous observations at Franz Josef Land, the Ushakov Islands (Kara Sea) and Victoria (Barents Sea) have confirmed the general retreat of the ice sheet.

The expedition also found flotsam of ancient tree trunks dumped into the ocean by Siberian rivers, as well as various specimens of moss which had once been growing in the territory of what is now the Arctic.

Buried under ice later, they have been released from "captivity" now as the result of the retreat of the glaciers.

Slayer of Two Got His Wish

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — James Donald French got what he demanded: death in the electric chair.

The two-time killer, cool and collected to the end, was executed for murder last night at the Oklahoma State Prison.

He faced death with the same cockiness he faced life. The condemned slayer, 30, who repeatedly rebuffed efforts to spare his life, walked calmly into the execution chamber flanked by four guards.

'BEEN SAID'

Asked by Warden Ray Page if he had any last words, French replied, "Everything's already been said."

He shook hands with Page and B. E. Mann, captain of prison guards, and sat down in the chair. Four guards quickly strapped him in.

Seconds later, 2,200 volts surged through French's body. The current threw him against the fixed leather bindings. The generator hummed for about a minute.

A Roman Catholic priest and the prison's Protestant chaplain stood nearby and whispered prayers.

TERMED DEAD

At 10:22 p.m., Dr. James D. Moore, prison physician pronounced French dead.

French, in trouble since he was 16, was sentenced to die for the Oct. 27, 1961, strangling of his penitentiary cellmate, Eddie Shelton. French was serving life at the time for the 1958 murder of Frank R. Boone.

Boone had picked up French, a hitchhiker in the Texas Panhandle. French killed him, dumped his body near Stroud, Okla., and stole his car and money.

In the five years since he was condemned, French waged a constant battle against halting his scheduled execution.

Blaze Kills 3 Near Monroe

MONROE (AP) — Three children died and three were saved by their parents Wednesday night as fire destroyed the family's home 10 miles north of Monroe.

Fire killed Allan Swarc, 9; his sister Shirley, 7, and brother Jeffrey, 4.

They died in an upstairs bedroom where all six children had been sleeping.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Swarc awoke and rushed upstairs, rescuing Shirley's twin sister, Sharon; and the other two children, Kenneth, 11, and Shelley, 2, before flames and smoke drove them back.

JUST MOVED

The family had moved into the house five days ago from Detroit.

Volunteer firemen from nearby Newport said a defective oil heater in the downstairs dining room may have caused the blaze.

ATTEMPT FAILED

An attempt failed by Monroe County Sheriff's Deputy Robert Patterson to crawl across the roof and reach the children through bedroom window.

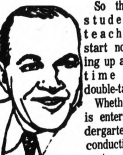

Bodies of two youngsters were found in a downstairs hallway after part of the second floor craved in. The body of the third was found in an upstairs bedroom closet.

Indispensable Learning Tool

Double-Talk Is School 'Must'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — School bells will peal next month for about a quarter of the American population.

BOYLE

So the wise student or teacher will start now honing up ahead of time on his double-talk.

Whether one is entering kindergarten or conducting a post-graduate seminar, he will find nothing more useful than double-talk.

It can be seen from this definition that double-talk is as indigenous to the academic world as earthworms are to the soil.

Campus gobbledegook has the same general purpose as the gobbledegook used in business or politics. It may employ different words, but it has the same basic goals: to gloss over profound ignorance with an air of profound wisdom, and to cover up what you're really thinking.

For the beginner, here are a few examples of campus double-talk followed by actual meanings.

Perhaps you'll have to pay special attention to Jimmy, Miss Cortex. He comes from a culturally deprived area. Don't turn your back on the little monster. He probably carries a switchblade knife.

Remember, class, what you are to be, you are now becoming. And from the looks of you, I'd suspect most of you will become flunkies.

"I assure you it isn't easy to become a high school principal." In my case, I had to marry the daughter of the president of the school board to get the job.

"Of course, I'd be glad for you to wear my fraternity pin, Elvira, but I must have lost it." I pawned it last semester to raise some dough to date a bet-ter-looking girl.

"We've decided to name the new dormitory after your wife, Mr. Bigchips." After all, you old lightweight, it was she who brow-beat you into putting up the money for it.

"Our school system has no prejudice against hiring married women teachers, Mrs. Forn. The fact you have children of your own should make you to even more valuable." And maybe you'll work for less than an unmarried teacher, won't you?

"Members of the faculty will be pleased to know we have installed a computer to assist in grading student exams." Most of you loaters never really read their papers anyway.

"We have decided to postpone adding a course in the new mathematics to our curriculum until it has undergone further educational trial." The present head of our mathematics department hasn't been able to figure it out.

Teen Arraigned in Burglary

An Allen Park youth, apprehended along with two juveniles after a service station burglary in Farmington Township, was arraigned yesterday before Township Justice Byron D. Walter.

Jerry Gretha, 17, demanded examination on a charge of breaking and entering and was held at the Oakland County Jail in $2,500 bond. Walter set the hearing for Aug. 19.

Gretha and two 16-year-old companions were arrested about 4 a.m. yesterday after a description had been put out of their car in connection with a break-in at a Shell Oil Co. station at Middle Belt and Northwestern.

Farmington Township police turned the two 16-year-olds over to juvenile authorities.

OCC Workers Will Take a Strike Vote

Maintenance workers at Oakland Community College will take a strike vote Saturday, according to Charles Anderson, a member of the employee's three-man bargaining team.

The strike vote meeting was called because negotiations with the college administration the past six weeks have failed to resolve several problems, Anderson said.

He added that seniority rights and the college's refusal to deduct dues payable to the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, were the chief negotiation problems.

Anderson said that no negotiations have been made yet on wages for the maintenance and custodial workers who are long to the union.

The strike vote is scheduled for 9 a.m. at 214 E. Lawrence.

Mao in Peking

TOKYO (AP) — Peking radio said today Mao Tse-tung made a personal appearance in the Red Chinese capital Wednesday night, and indicated that he was the principal author of the current nationwide purge. Mao, 72, had been absent from Peking since last fall, amid much speculation about his health and present position as leader of the Chinese Communist party.

Another broadcast quoted the theoretical journal, Red Flag, as saying that Mao himself wrote a document, issued Monday, analyzing current trends of the purge, characterizing it as a "new and expanded stage of the Socialist revolution."

The party, evidently anxious to have the authority of Mao's name and stature behind its actions, has announced a new special apparatus to supervise the crackdown on what are called "anti-party elements." This, said Red Flag, "will push the proletarian cultural revolution to a new height."

But the journal admitted the purge has met resistance.

Halt Anti-Tito Publication With Arrests

ZADAR, Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslav authorities kept a close watch today for the next move of Mihajlo Mihajlov's followers after the arrest of one of them and cancellation of a meeting called to found an anti-Tito magazine.

Police jailed Marijan Batinic, 34, one of Mihajlov's collaborators, on the same charges on which Mihajlov, 31, was jailed Monday — spreading false rumors.

A short time before Batinic's arrest was announced, Mihajlov's backers bowed to Communist pressures and canceled a meeting set for today to found the magazine. They insisted they would go forward with plans to publish "The Free Voice," which they described as an "independent, democratic and Socialist" magazine. But they said the first issues may have to be mimeographed. They said they had financial problems and also expected trouble finding a print shop that would produce the magazine.

Publish Poems by Pasternak

MOSCOW (AP) — A collection of poems by Boris Pasternak has been published in the Soviet Union, the paper Literary Gazette announced today.

The Soviet paper said the book included "a number of lyrical masterpieces" concerning his widow, Zinaida, who died June 27.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, added that the book included "Pasternak's finest verses."

For a long time, works by Pasternak were not published here following pressure put on him by Soviet authorities to reject the 1958 Nobel Prize for his novel "Dr. Zhivago," critical of Soviet life.

He died in 1960. Some of his poems were published here last year, as part of his rehabilitation.

Illness Keeps Speck From Isolation Cell

CHICAGO (UPI) — Richard Speck, the 26-year-old accused slayer of eight nurses who are to walk about a half a Chicago's South Side, will remain in his iron bed in the Cook County jail infirmary for at least two or three more days.

Warden Jack Johnson said a lingering heart ailment has delayed Speck's transfer to an isolation cell within the jail complex.

"He's not in a serious condition or anything like that," Johnson said yesterday.

"All other physical reports are good, but there is a slight problem with the EKG electrocardiogram."

Johnson said doctors ordered almost constant bed rest for Speck, who has been recovering from an inflammation of the sac surrounding the heart. Johnson said the increased physical activity involved in Speck's transfer — he would have to walk about a half a Chicago's South Side, will re-block — might aggravate the heart condition.

A letter from Victoria, British Columbia, reads in part: "There is a hand that has caused a lot of discussion in our duplicate group. The bidding was opened with one spade at all tables. West always overcalled with clubs and after North and East passed South rebid to two hearts."

"Half of the North players promptly jumped to four hearts, the other half bid only three. After three hearts was bid there was another 5-6-5 division. Half the South players continued to game, the other half passed. We would like your opinion on the correct bidding of this hand."

Our friend from Canada has really put us on the spot. Sometimes there is just no clear-cut bid. It is obvious that North must raise his partner's two heart bid and it would be mighty nice if he could bid three and a half hearts, thus giving his partner a chance to go back to three or on to four. Actually, if fractional bids were allowed we would favor three-quarter hearts with the North hand. For this reason we recommend the jump to four in preference to the mere raise to three.

When North merely raises to three, South also has a tough problem. Again it would be nice to be able to make a fractional bid in hearts. But those wonderful bids aren't allowed so we dodge the issue by suggesting that South go to four unless he knows that his partner is a deciding overbidder. With hearts breaking 2-2 there is no way to go down at four hearts but there is a correct way to play the hand. Assume that West cashes three clubs and shifts to a trump. South should win, cash the ace of spades and ace of diamonds and claim the rest of the tricks by means of a cross-ruff.

Encouraging News Scarce

Stock Market Still Slumping

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market early this afternoon was down for the fourth straight session despite a flurry by color television and other electronics issues. Trading was moderate.

Airlines continued to decline as Congress moved toward legislation aimed at ending the long airline strike.

There was little in the way of encouraging news to spur a recovery of the dowry.

Rubbers, auto stocks, railroads, nonferrous metals and oil also were on the downside.

Drugs, building materials and aerospace stocks were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 50 stocks at noon was off 1.9, at 302.2 with industrials off 1.9, rail off .4 and utilities off .1. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 2.51 at 308.02.

ANALYSTS VIEW

A number of analysts believe that the list was in the process of testing the year's low of 323.7 in the Dow industrials reached Aug. 2. Should prices be supported at or above that level, they believe, a rally is probable.

Prices were generally higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. National Video and Radio Industries advanced more than 2 each. Up nearly 2 were Soltron Devices and Andros Radio. Gains of a point or so were made by Campbell Machine, Gruen Industries, Walter Kidde, and others.

The committee set another five-week strike of the five-struck airlines which normally carry about 60 per cent of the passenger traffic.

No House vote is expected before next week.

The measure, already passed by the Senate, provides for the strikers to return to work for 30 days after which, if the dispute still is unsettled, the President could extend the period by as much as 150 days more.

These provisions surprised the House committee's discussions and several efforts at amendment today.

The only amendment adopted is one that would extend the provisions of the bill to any other airline that might find itself in a similarly deadlocked strike situation within the 180 days.

The committee set another executive session but defeated a motion that would have bound it to take a final vote before the day is over.

Union and management chiefs blamed each other for the latest collapse of negotiations in the five-week strike of $5,000 million of passenger airlines.

But the legislative mills continued creating slowly on the year's hottest homegrown political potato confronting election-minded congressmen.

"Do not pass legislation that you will regret the rest of your lives," warned AFL-CIO President George Meany in behalf of 17 million union members.

Originally accused of assault with intent to murder, a Pontiac man pleaded guilty in Municipal Court yesterday to a reduced count of assault and battery.

L. C. Chatman, 24, of 40 Idaho was accused of shooting 26-year-old Johnny Jackson in the back and neck with a 12-gauge shotgun June 29.

Jackson was hospitalized for injuries suffered in the shooting, but was later released.

Judge Cecil B. McCullum sent sentencing of Chatman for Aug. 15 and released him on bond of $200.

Cox pointed out that the program as now envisaged would cover interstate buses built since 1963.

"The reason for selection of the 1963 date," he said, "is that buses built prior to 1963 could not accommodate belts and anchorages meeting existing standards without bus rebuilding work."

Cox indicated no one in the ICC planned to push the panic button to get belts installed in a hurry or at prohibitive cost.

"I would expect that there might be an ICC order requiring that buses built after a certain date, say Jan. 1, 1967, should be equipped with the seat belt installation for each passenger," he explained.

"In addition, it is likely that such installations would be made gradually on buses built in or after 1965...the idea being that the installation could be made without disrupting service," he said.

Cox said ICC's plans would apply only to interstate runs. Cox said bus companies have worked closely with ICC on the new installation problem and he predicted further cooperation would be forthcoming as the bus safety campaign is expanded.

FILE VIEWS
Cox said in an interview that all interested parties, ranging from traffic safety groups to bus line managers had been invited to file their views with the ICC by Aug. 3. He said that deadline had been extended to Oct. 3 at the request of several groups.

COX POINTED OUT THAT THE program as now envisaged would cover interstate buses built since 1963.

Tentative OK to Airline Bill

Efforts Collapse to Bring Arbitration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee gave preliminary approval to the essentials of a back-to-work bill affecting striking airlines.

The measure, already passed by the Senate, provides for the strikers to return to work for 30 days after which, if the dispute still is unsettled, the President could extend the period by as much as 150 days more.

HIGHLAND APPLIANCE CO.

This is the New Method To Buy

It happens every August... The appliance business goes mad. Low-down blues, feeling? Who needs winter entertainment appliances in August? Not much summer left to enjoy the comfort of air conditioning. Maybe the old refrigerator will hold out. Why worry about it now. Even if you can get a new air conditioner for a mere $69 or a new top name-brand refrigerator for $89 at Highland just because it's August! What other month of the year can you get a brand-name COLOR TV for just $279 or a stereo hi-fi console for just $69... a Detroit Jewel gas range for $69... or a Westinghouse dishwasher for $99? There's a method to our madness. We've deliberately reduced everything to save you more dollars this August than ever before. That way you may decide to buy that refrigerator or TV RIGHT NOW! Maybe you'll even buy two appliances and save twice as much. Everything is marked down, including new 1967 models. Everything is top-quality and top-name brand. Floor models are priced accordingly. If price is your only reason for not buying at Highland during August — better get a new reason.

Serve a Lobster Casserole for Discriminating Guests

Put lobster in a casserole, it will without doubt be good, and suitable for the most discriminating guests.

In the casserole here, developed by the National Fisheries Institute, the lobster is enhanced by the addition of fresh mushrooms, a touch of Bermuda onion and the usual combination of butter and brandy. The flavors are mellowed by the addition of heavy cream and extended by the use of rice.

Lobster, at one time reserved for the rich, is now being enjoyed by all walks of life. Whether you combine it with luxury ingredients as here, or with strictly budget foods, it is always tops in good flavor, and good eating.

Branded Lobster Casserole

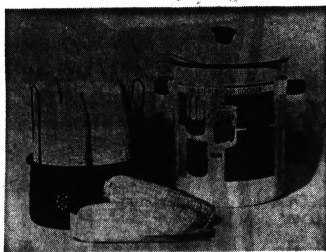

- 1/2 cup (1/4 lb.) butter or margarine
 - 1/2 pound large mushrooms (8), sliced thin
 - 1/2 cup grated Bermuda onion
 - 4 tomatoes, peeled and cut in wedges
 - 2 cups diced cooked lobster meat
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - Dash pepper
 - 1/4 teaspoon bitters
 - 2 cups heavy cream
 - 2 tablespoons minced parsley
 - 1/4 cup brandy
 - 4 cups cooked rice
- Melt butter. Add mushrooms and cook over moderate heat until browned, about five minutes. Add onion and tomatoes and stir over moderate heat five minutes more until sauce forms. Add lobster, salt, pepper, and bitters.

Stir and cook one minute. Stir in cream. When it bubbles, add parsley and brandy. Remove from heat.

Line a 2-quart casserole with rice. Turn in lobster mixture. Bake at 350 degrees (moderate oven) twenty minutes or until bubbly. Makes 8 servings.

Fresh Vegetables Are Unequaled in Flavor

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Fresh vegetables have no equal. Frozen ones are excellent and much better than tired week-old ones in any time but summer.

Take advantage of the season and serve your family a wide variety of fresh vegetables perfectly cooked.

One way of cooking is with a pressure cooker. Cooking time is short; the kitchen doesn't get heated up; the color of the vegetables stays brighter; and few minerals and vitamins are lost.

If you wish to depart from the simplest serving method of butter, salt and perhaps a squirt of lemon, here are some suggestions. Each makes four servings.

Green Beans: Wash 1 1/2 pounds beans and snap off ends. Snap in 1-inch pieces if large; leave whole if tiny. Place 1/2 cup water and 1/4 cup Italian-style salad dressing with rack in pressure cooker. Add beans. Cook 34 minutes.

Carrots: Wash and scrape 1 pound carrots. If tiny, leave whole; cut larger carrots into 1-inch chunks. Put 1/2 cup water and 1/4 cup beef broth in cooker with rack. Add carrots and sprinkle lightly with pepper, salt and minced parsley. Cream together 2 tablespoons butter and 2 tablespoons brown sugar and dot over carrots. Cook 45 minutes.

Corn-on-the-Cob: Remove husks and silk from four ears of corn. (If ears are large, snap in halves.) Place on rack in cooker with 1 1/2 cups water. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, 1/4 teaspoon chopped fresh dill and a few drops of Worcestershire sauce. Cook 34 minutes.

When cooked to the crisp-tender stage, broccoli is delicious. See how you like it with a sour cream orange sauce.

FIESTA BROCCOLI

- 2 bunches (approximately 4 pounds) broccoli
 - 1 cup sour cream
 - 2 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- Wash broccoli under cold running water. Cut off large leaves and lower part of stalk. If stalks are more than 1/2 inch in diameter, make 2 or 4 lengthwise slits almost to flowerets. Cook, covered, for 15 minutes in boiling salted water. 10 to 15 minutes, until crisp-tender.

Meanwhile, combine sour cream, undiluted orange concentrate, salt and nutmeg in small saucepan. Stir over low heat just until hot; do not boil. Drain cooked broccoli; serve with orange sauce. Yield: 8 servings; 1 cup sauce.

Zucchini squash takes on an interesting flavor when you steam it, then marinate it for 12 hours. Serve with cooked macaroni and tomato slices.

MARINATED ZUCCHINI AND MACARONI

- 2 pounds small zucchini, unpeeled
- Boiling water
- 1/4 cup water
- 1/4 cup onion flakes
- 1/4 cup celery flakes
- 1/4 cup salad oil

- 1 tablespoon marjoram leaves, crumbled
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
 - 1/4 teaspoon instant garlic powder
 - 1/4 cup cider vinegar
 - 1/4 cup lemon juice
 - 2 cups cooked elbow macaroni
 - 2 medium tomatoes, sliced
- Quarter zucchini lengthwise; cut into 3-inch lengths. Place in colander; set into boiling water in large kettle (water should cover 1/2-inch of bottom of colander). Cover and steam zucchini about 8 minutes, or until crisp-tender.

Remove colander; drain zucchini. Cool zucchini in single layer on baking sheet or tray. Refrigerate.

Mix water, onion and celery flakes; let stand 8 minutes for vegetables to soften. Heat 1 tablespoon of the oil in small skillet. Add softened vegetables and saute about 3 minutes. Cool.

Add marjoram, salt, black pepper and garlic powder. Mix in vinegar and lemon juice. Place macaroni and zucchini in 2-quart casserole arranging a few pieces of zucchini over top. Pour over 1/4 cup of marinade, reserving remainder for tomato slices. Cover; refrigerate 12 hours basting occasionally. One hour before serving, place tomato slices in reserved marinade; refrigerate.

Arrange around edge of casserole. Serve with hot or cold meats or fish. Yield: 6 servings.

Butter Carries Subtle Flavors Through a Dish

When it comes to carrying many dishes begin by gently melting butter through and sauteing bits of onion or other ingredients in a dish, butter has seasoning vegetables in butter. That's why so many herbs are added to melted butter. Butter then carries the flavors of these ingredients, plus its own delicious goodness, to the uttermost reaches of a dish.

Butter then carries the flavors of these ingredients, plus its own delicious goodness, to the uttermost reaches of a dish.

Fruit Salad Dressing Tangy, Yet Sweet

Send summer-timed appetites to a cool oasis via a refreshing, in-season fresh fruit salad. It's so easy to prepare, that even the hostess herself can go along for the ride — no cooking of any sort, just arranging the summer's crop of fruit into a versatile rainbow for your table.

To turn the fruit salad into a "sided symphony," serve it with Golden Sunset Dressing, a tangy, airy, mustardy-good topping. It lends just the right body to the fruit. In addition to making the fruit look even prettier.

For tasty bitefuls which are not too hearty for a hot day, and are satisfying accompaniments for this light meal — serve Sesame-Cheese Roll Sandwiches and Ham-Nut sandwich miniatures.

Golden Glow Dressing
1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese
1 tablespoon prepared yellow mustard
¼ cup honey
3 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate, undiluted
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup heavy cream

Have cream cheese at room temperature; combine with mustard; add honey, blending until smooth. Add the orange concentrate, lemon juice, and salt. Mix thoroughly. Whip cream till it holds soft peaks.

Lightly fold cheese-mustard mixture into whipped cream. Chill several hours. Serve over fresh or canned fruit salads. Makes 1½ cups.

Ham-Nut Sandwiches
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared yellow mustard
1 teaspoon pickle relish
1 cup ground or finely diced cooked ham
¼ cup walnut meats, chopped
8 slices whole wheat bread
Butter or margarine
Mix together lightly all ingreredients except bread and butter. If desired, remove crusts of bread; spread with butter and ham filling; put together to make 4 sandwiches. Cut each sandwich to make 4 smaller squares or diamonds. Makes 16 small sandwiches.

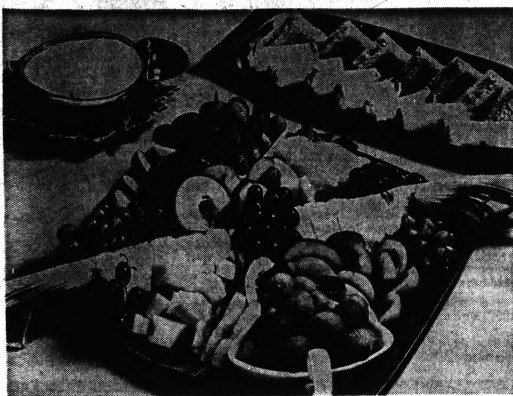

Sesame-Cheese Roll Sandwiches
12 slices white bread, crusts removed

6 ounce jar process cheese spread
3 tablespoons sesame seed, toasted
¼ cup butter, melted

Use a rolling pin to flatten slices of bread. Spread each slice with cheese; sprinkle with sesame seed. Roll each slice, jelly roll fashion, and fasten with wooden pick. Cover with waxed paper or plastic wrap; chill several hours.

Place rolls, seam side down, on cookie sheet; brush with melted butter. Bake in 450 degree oven about 10 minutes, or until lightly browned. 12 sandwiches.

SUMMER COMBINATION — Rainbow fresh salad is a cool answer for heat-jaded appetites. No cooking for the "cook," either — in-season fruit just needs slicing and arranging. Serve with little sandwiches.

Cake Texture Delicate, Light

This easy-to-see sponge cake is just right on a warm day.

Sweetish Sponge Cake
1½ cups unsifted regular flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup boiling water
¼ cup butter
3 large eggs
1 cup sugar
Grated rind of 1 large lemon
Grease a 2-quart fluted tube pan with 1 tablespoon butter; sprinkle with 1 tablespoon fine dry bread crumbs, shaking pan to distribute evenly.

On a piece of wax paper, stir together the flour and baking powder. Pour the boiling water into a small mixing bowl; add the butter; stir until melted; cool.

In a medium mixing bowl, beat eggs until foamy; gradually beat in the sugar; continue to beat, if necessary, until ivory color. Add flour mixture, water mixture and lemon rind; beat gently just until blended.

Turn into prepared pan. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 1 hour or until cake begins to pull away from sides of pan and tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Loosen edges with a spatula; turn out on wire rack; cool.

Small fry like to sprinkle sweet cocoa mix (ordinarily used for beverages) over vanilla ice cream.

HAM 'N' EGG POINTS—Refrigerator biscuits are baked to a golden brown, then topped with deviled ham and scrambled eggs for an interesting breakfast or brunch dish.

Ham Topped Rolls for Scrambled Eggs

Why not consider having a summer Sunday brunch? The first point in favor of this type of party is that you can use your patio or backyard... no house-cleaning is necessary! Secondly, the party fare can be simple and yet quite dramatic.

Make up pitchers of frosty cold juices to start with. The fresh fruits of the season lend themselves to a colorful bowl or platter arrangement designed for help-yourself type service.

The main course might be these wonderfully rich triangles of refrigerated dinner rolls, spread flat and topped with deviled ham and scrambled eggs. These, too, can be served buffet style and are satisfying, yet not too filling for a warm summer day's menu.

The rolls are quick crescent dinner rolls, the refrigerated kind that you'll find in the dairy case. Each roll is spread out flat and baked off according to directions.

Once they are crisp and browned, top the triangle-shaped rolls with canned deviled ham and hot scrambled eggs. They're delicious and easy enough for a youngster to fix for you.

Deviled Ham 'n' Egg Crescent Points
1 can refrigerated quick crescent dinner rolls
1 large can (4½ to 5¼ ounces) deviled ham spread

8 eggs
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Unroll dough; separate into 8 triangles. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes, or until golden brown. Combine remaining ingredients to make scrambled eggs.

Spread deviled ham spread on hot triangles. Top with hot scrambled eggs. Garnish with additional ham spread or parsley. Serve hot. Makes 8 servings.

Rind Good, Too

Add the grated rind of the lemon as well as the lemon juice to melted butter to be used for basting grilled or spit-roasted chicken. This combination does wonders for flavor!

Raspberry Center in Cookies

Triple-layered treats—Raspberry Dreams give eating pleasure to young and old. These cookie-bars are a delicious way to enjoy summer snacking.

Prepare Raspberry Dreams—cut into generous pieces and store in a loosely covered container to keep moist and insure good eating. Each recipe yields 32 bars—but you may need two recipes to satisfy the real cookie fans in your family.

Cookies, cupcakes and other quick home baked creations are excellent desserts and snacks for summertime. Made ahead they can be stored and served when needed and they're an easy way to be sure your family gets needed cereal products each day.

One of the four basic food groups, whole grains and cereal products provide the values of enrichment—three B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, plus the mineral, iron. These nutrients are essential in meeting daily requirements and maintaining good health.

Now observing its 25th anniversary, enrichment is responsible for virtual elimination of severe vitamin deficiencies once so prevalent in this country.

Raspberry Dreams
1½ cups sifted enriched flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter or margarine, softened
1½ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup enriched flour
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1½ cups flaked coconut (¾ oz. can)

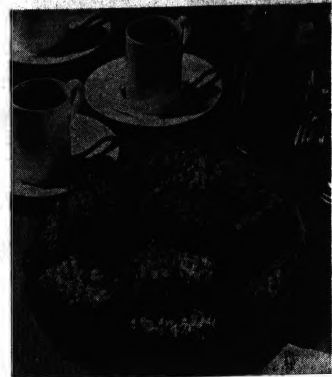

1 cup chopped nuts
1 package (10 oz.) frozen red raspberries, thawed and drained

Sift together 1½ cups flour, baking powder and salt. Cream together butter or margarine and ½ cup brown sugar until light and fluffy. Stir in lemon juice. Cut in flour mixture until mixture resembles crumbe.

Press firmly in bottom of ungreased 7½-inch baking pan. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven 15 to 20 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Meanwhile, blend together eggs, 1 cup brown sugar, ¼ cup flour and vanilla. Stir in coconut and nuts; reserve. Cool cookie layer in pan on wire rack 5 minutes.

Break up raspberries and minutes longer, or until golden brown. Cool in pan on wire rack 5 minutes, then cut into 1½-inch bars. Cool 30 minutes longer before removing from pan.

Formosa's Growing Pains Are Symbolized by Motor Bikes, Electric Fans

Man 4 Miles Away Can Be Tracked

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The motor bike and the electric fan are the new state symbols in Taipei. Neon lights and the steel skeletons of rising buildings are the new sights in Nationalist China's capital.

Formosa is changing rapidly this summer, 17 years after the Chinese Nationalists came here to set up their last stronghold against the Communists who occupy the mainland.

Among the signs of change there still are reminders of the past: pedicabs, workers in coolie hats, bazaar-like grocery and clothing stores, girls in form-fitting slit-skirt dresses.

But the pace of change is the dominant note. Formosa is booming, and the usual summer heat wave has given many an uncomfortable resident an excuse to buy something he's always wanted and couldn't afford before — an electric fan.

On the dusty streets, where two-wheelers and orchid-colored taxis constitute the main traffic, Formosa's newly affluent society is escalating from the bicycle age to the motorcycle. During the first six months of this year the number of motorcycles in Formosa jumped from 50,000 to 130,000.

A family of five on a motorcycle is not an unusual sight. Accidents are increasing at an alarming rate, to about five motorcycle accidents a day so far this year — twice the rate of 1965.

The municipality's concern with traffic accidents has added a new sound at busy intersections. Young women, with pretty voices, are stationed at crossroads with loud-speakers to plead for cautious driving.

Police have had other worries these summer months, among them juvenile delinquency. Taipei's new parks and the botanical garden once were havens for strollers seeking quiet and young lovers seeking privacy. But in recent years hoodlums have turned the parks into nightmarish, preying on couples for what police call "womanizing taxes."

Officers say a July crackdown that cleared out more than 300 hoodlums made the parks safe once again. Now police say they are cleaning up another favorite Taipei leisure across, the banks of the Keelung River.

Juvenile delinquency is generally viewed as one of the growing pains of Taipei, which has doubled in size, to a city of 1,150,000, in the past 15 years.

Another growing pain has been smog, but this summer the sky over mountains-surrounded Taipei has been a bit bluer, thanks to the initiation of anti-smog measures.

It all makes for healthier conditions, and Chinese officials are particularly health conscious.

This month they started a "nutrition breakfast" campaign for government employees, military personnel and students. They can get a glass of fresh milk and a sweet roll, served at their desks, for 2.5 Taiwan dollars — six cents U.S. In September, the government plans to extend a free school lunch program from 240,000 to 260,000 students. It says statistics show the children getting the free lunch — milk and a meat sandwich — are growing taller than those who don't.

American servicemen coming from Viet Nam on rest and recreation leave, are finding Taipei a fun spot that is both cheap and gay.

What the Chinese call "girls' restaurants" abound in Taipei. They feature Chinese food, shiny shoes and pretty business. Taipei has been caught up in the Turkish bath craze and has scores of them that advertise messages by "Japanese-style experienced nurses."

Taipei also has its permanent American colony. American servicemen and their families are stationed here.
