United Press Photo

DRIP, DRIP, DRIP — Among suggestions on how to outlast the heat wave comes one from Jack Rye, Decatur, Ill., newspaperman, who contends the easiest solution is just to melt away quietly. Above, he demonstrates. Of course he did not actually melt; the picture was made with mirrors. But if it gets any hotter some of us are going to do the same — without help of mirrors.

21-Man Vessel Reports Sinking, Rescue by Sub

Search Uncovers Only Unmarked Life Jacket; Story May Be Hoax

NEW YORK (AP) — A fantastic saga of the sea—and possibly one of the greatest hoaxes—was touched off in the predawn hours today with a strange radio report that survivors from a flame-swept fishing boat had been picked up by a foreign submarine.

Many hours later it was just as big a mystery as when the story began to unfold at 2:25 a.m.

A sweeping air and sea search produced only one feeble possibility of a clue to whether anything at all actually had happened.

This was an unmarked life jacket, found by a Coast Guard cutter about five miles from the scene of the purported boat distress. It was estimated to have been in the water less than 24 hours.

The affair got off to a frantic start when a tugboat out of New York picked up a radio message from what was said to be the 40-foot fishing boat, Blue Star.

This message said that the Blue Star, with 21 persons aboard, had hit an unidentified object, had caught fire and was sinking some 30 miles east of Barnegat, N.J., or about 55 miles southeast of the entrance to New York harbor.

The tug was about 50 miles from the spot.

During the next hour the tugboat, the Nancy Moran, had various reports from the purported vessel in distress, then at times reception became poor and communications failed.

Among other things, the tugboat was told that fire continued to sweep the craft, that there was an explosion in the engine room, that the boat had a hole in the stern and that it was sinking. Life rafts were said to have been destroyed by the flames.

At one time, said Capt. Mitchell C. Sullivan of the tugboat, his

ON OLD NORTH CHURCH — A new 50-foot steeple was hoisted to the top of historic old North Church in Boston yesterday, less than a year after it was wrecked by a hurricane. The windows from which warning lanterns flashed their signals to Paul Revere to announce coming of the British in 1775 were saved, and with other ancient woodwork, are being built back into the restored steeple. The new spire is an exact reproduction of the original.

See No Relief From Dog Days; Forecast—Hot

Restrictions on Water Not Necessary So Far, Officials Say

Pontiac today remained in the grip of the roasting heat wave which sent temperatures into the high-80s or mid-90s for the seventh straight day. And forecasters say tomorrow will bring no relief.

City officials say there will be no water restrictions imposed despite the heat. A new air conditioning ordinance limiting water usage for cooling is credited with keeping consumption within supply limitations.

"If we get through tomorrow noon—and I think we will—we will be O.K. through Tuesday, anyway," said Joseph B. Gable, water superintendent.

Gable explained consumption falls off over the weekend, beginning usually about noon Fridays. The wells supplying the city's water become replenished when use declines.

Meanwhile, weather forecasters say today's partly cloudy skies and high temperatures will continue through tomorrow, with mercury readings in the 90s predicted for both days. There is a chance of a few afternoon or evening thunderstorms Friday.

Current Heat Wave Has Detroit Gasping

The current heat wave which moved into its seventh day has the Detroit Water Department hanging on the ropes.

Laurence G. Lenhardt, general manager of the department, said the city would be in real trouble if today's water consumption in the Motor City equalled yesterday's.

By 2 p.m. yesterday, 323,000,000 gallons had been pumped, compared to 291,000,000 at the same time Tuesday. Total pumpage Tuesday was 666,300,000 gallons, and Wednesday's topped 695,000,000 gallons.

This was too close to the capacity of the pumps, Lenhardt said.

Globemasters Soaring Over Pacific in World's Most Massive Airlift

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—A double-decker transport plane carrying 90 paratroops roared off for Japan at 12:10 a.m. today to start history's most massive long-range airlift.

Other huge C-124 Globemasters of the 18th Air Force followed at two-hour intervals, with one carrying 23 newsmen and 67 paratroopers departing at 8 a.m.

Altogether 43 planes will take off from here in two days on the 18,000-mile mission of swapping two airborne combat teams between the United States and Japan.

The planes are taking almost 4,000 officers and men of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team to Ashiya, Japan.

Within 60 hours of their arrival in Japan, the C-124s will take off again to return the 3,100 troopers of the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team to Ft. Bragg, N. C.

The movement will total 31½ million passenger-miles, a new record.

BIGGEST EVER

Maj. Gen. Chester E. McCarthy of Portland, Ore., commander of the 18th Air Force, said the exchange is the largest and longest troop movement by air ever undertaken.

McCarthy commanded the Korean airlift for 2½ years, and had charge of the movement of 4,000 men from Japan to Korea in 17 hours to quell prisoner-of-war riots in 1952.

"But we are treating it as routine—an exercise demonstrating our capabilities of airlifting anything or anybody, anytime, anywhere," McCarthy told newsmen.

The airlift is coordinated with the shipboard movement of 433 families—about 1,300 women and children dependents of soldiers of the 508th.

The dependents will be greeted by their husbands and fathers upon arriving about 10 days hence.

McCarthy said the airlift is part of the new Army operation known as "gyroscope," involving the replacement of entire overseas units every three years.

Stevenson Rips School Program

Teachers Told Ike Has Failed to Keep Word on Prompt Assistance

CHICAGO (INS)—Adlai Stevenson has blasted President Eisenhower's public school program as too little and too late.

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, speaking last night in Chicago before the National Education Association convention, declared:

"Just after he assumed office, President Eisenhower said: 'Our school system demands some prompt, effective help.'

"Yet today, two and a half years later, when this need has become acutely critical, nothing has been done."

$7 BILLION PROGRAM

Stevenson recalled that the President had told Congress the nation needs seven billion dollars worth of new schools, but that he had proposed grants of only 66 million dollars a year for three years.

Stevenson called for the immediate support of proposals for 400 million dollars of federal funds each year for the next four years for school construction, to be matched by state funds.

Guards Comb Prison Cells for Arms as Uprising Ends

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Eight unarmed guards marched into cell block 6 today to begin a wing by wing search of the State Penitentiary for weapons prisoners may have hidden during the two-day revolt.

The guards were under orders to "secure" each cell block, move the prisoners into the yard, and report back to the prison administration building.

Prison officials said the plan was to herd the prison's more than 1,700 inmates into the yard, lock off each of the seven wings and search each cell and each prisoner individually.

Thirty-eight state patrolmen, each carrying a 30-30 rifle backed up by armed guards, lined walls of the institution surrounding the yard as the search got under way.

The first guards entered the cellblock more than two hours after the 5 a.m. deadline set by prison officials and revolt leaders to regain control of the institution.

Many guards at first had balked at entering the building without an armed task force preceding them to protect against violence.

The eight guards were unarmed, however. Prison authorities said this was to demonstrate to the inmates every effort was being made to avert trouble.

Guards began their holdout late last night after a check showed only a couple of dozen weapons, possibly a third of those believed to be in the hands of the convicts, had been turned in.

The guards then announced they had no stomach for the task of conducting an unarmed cell-to-cell search for weapons while the tough prisoners remained in the cell blocks.

Australian Ties for British Lead

Furgol's 76 Puts Him Out of Contention; Bulla Low American

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Australia's Peter Thomson, the defending champion, rocketed into a three-way tie for the 36-hole lead in the British Open golf championship today as virtually all the American entries faded from contention.

Thomson, who has played on the American pro circuit for the past two seasons, shot a round of 34-34—68 over the testing St. Andrews Old Course today for a two-day total of 139. He had a 71 yesterday.

Thomson holed a 20-foot putt on the home green for his 68, one stroke off the course record which Englishman Johnny Fallon equalled today. Fallon was a stroke behind the leaders with 140.

D. F. Smalldon of Wales posted 70-69—139 and Eric Brown of Scotland 69-70—139 to share the lead with Thomson.

Ed Furgol of Clayton, Mo., the 1954 U. S. open champion stumbled on the long 14th hole and shot himself out of contention with a 76 for a 147 total. His four-over-par round left him eight strokes behind the leaders and left the United States without a serious championship contender.

Furgol's blow-up left Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh as the leader of the Americans with 75-70—145 and the only one of them certain to qualify for the final 36 holes tomorrow.

Former American champion Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., had 72-75—147 and amateurs Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia and Joe Conrad, the British Amateur champion from San Antonio, Tex., both turned in scores of 72-76—148.

Auto Kills Woman in Bloomfield Hills

Mrs. Emilaja Krinschelis, 49, of Grosse Pointe, was struck and killed by an auto on North Woodward Avenue at Bloomfield Hills yesterday afternoon as she crossed the street to meet her niece, Mrs. Sylvia Birkerts, of North Woodward, who witnessed the accident.

The driver, Martin Wilkerson, 37, of 82 Earlmoor, Pontiac, was released after making a statement at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office.

Witnesses said Mrs. Krinschelis, who came to this country from Latvia in 1949, got off a northbound bus and started across the street in front of oncoming traffic.

Odds Against Lake 'Gator Rising as More Join Hunt

The odds against the alligator in Lower Long Lake continued to climb today, as would-be captors continued to assemble for a glimpse of the reptile.

A report that the monster slid into view yesterday for a brief sunning on the bank, before gliding back into the depths of the lagoon could not be verified.

Mrs. William O. Singleton, whose five-year-old son Danny first glimpsed the long-nosed visitor, had nothing new to report today.

"I heard that someone saw it come out of the lake and crawl around for a bit, but I haven't seen a sign of it," she said. She has instructed Danny to keep his distance from the lagoon, despite his Davy Crockett pop-gun armament.

The contingent of skeptical reporters was augmented yesterday by the arrival of a former 'gator wrestler now living in Royal Oak. Armed with a coil of line and a long knife, he proposed to "rassle" the monster.

Another alligator expert, this one from Florida, pooh-poohed attempts to stir the guileful 'gator into action with a couple of freshly-killed chickens as bait.

A detailed search of the shore line of the jungle-like lagoon failed to reveal the tell-tale track of the beast. The claw-prints on either side of the long drag mark of the tail were not to be found along the marshy banks.

Question Pair in Safe Thefts

Nab Lake Orion Men in Holly Auto Agency During Night

Nabbed in a Holly auto agency last night, two Lake Orion men were being questioned today in an attempt to link them with a recent series of safe thefts in this area.

The pair, Robert Jackson, 22, and Jack Young, 24, both of 84 W. Flint, were arrested by Holly Patrolmen William Wood and Wilbert Lankin.

Wood said he became suspicious when he noticed a safe missing from its usual place as he made a routine check of the building at about 11 p.m.

Seeing a shadow of a man dart across the room, apparently frightened by his flashlight beam, Wood said he smashed a window with his gun and ordered the man (Jackson) to halt. Young was found seconds later hiding in a restroom.

The officers said the safe had been moved 20 feet into the service department. A used car belonging to the agency had been moved near the door to the showroom. The rear seat had been removed.

Michigan Called a 'World Leader' in A-Development

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan is emerging as a "world leader" in atomic energy development, says Walker L. Cisler, president of Detroit Edison Co.

Cisler spoke yesterday at a University of Michigan "summer session." He cited the University of Michigan's Memorial Phoenix project and the Atomic Power Development Associates, Inc., an organization of 33 companies that combined in 1950 to build an industrial nuclear reactor.

"The state," he added, "also has an unexcelled resource of craftsmen, technicians, engineers, scientists—the men who have built what is perhaps the world's best known industrial center."

County Lake Yields Drowning Victim

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies have recovered a body tentatively identified as Allan M. Hessell, 22, of 3038 Bentrow, Rochester, from Walter's Lake, in Independence Township.

The drowning was reported at 11:40 p.m., and the body taken from the lake at noon.

The youth couldn't swim, according to deputies, but was diving from a dock into 14 feet of water, and pulling himself up by the dock piling.

Wild Life Here?... Shurr... but Tales Are Wilder

By OLD HERMAN

But when it comes to Wild Life (alligators and such), they're no longer top drawer. They failed in everything except their quest for a day off on a cool lake.

However, witness the Wild Life accounts another reporter from this diligent and zealous journal has dug up from citizens of our great commonwealth.

* * *

Pontiac's own Dr. Harold A. Furlong reports a deer within sight of the GMC Truck and Coach. "This wasn't a nebulous, uncertain and shadowy creature," says the great doctor. "It was a real deer. It was a live deer and it was right in the middle of this populous county of more than half a million people."

Harold is one of America's Greatest Heroes. His veracity is as unquestioned as his courage under fire in the first World War.

* * *

Also, may I introduce Mr. William R. Yaw to Messers Lowman and Hirsch. "I have seen a deer on my place on Long Lake road a couple of times lately," says Mr. Yaw. "Furthermore, it had a fawn. Neither of these was a creature of my imagination. They were strictly the flesh and blood variety. Furthermore, the fawn was more timid than the mama."

Mr. Yaw is a citizen of unimpeachable veracity and has a lifetime record of honor, character and probity.

* * *

Then we present the case of one Donald W. ("Bud") Bay. Bud went to the door of his Bloomfield residence the other morning and suddenly stifled a yawn as he looked squarely upon an amazing and astounding sight. There was a fox and to complete the picture and make the whole thing noteworthy, the fox had just captured a rabbit which he had in his mouth. He looked carefully at the astonished Mr. Bay and then turned with a swish of that intriguing tail and "went away from there."

* * *

Mr. Bay is a gentleman of unassailable honor as his hundreds of friends know and when he sees a fox complete with rabbit, that means Oakland County isn't just a haunt of civilization as half a million people believe.

And now we come to the case of Basil E. Brown. Mr. Brown ventured out into his own yard right on Mary Day avenue in the center of Pontiac and watched pop-eyed as a mama quail led eight or ten little fellers on a leisurely walk of exercise and sightseeing. "Neither she nor her flock seemed a bit perturbed about the half million people in Oakland County," says the factual Mr. Brown. "In fact they weren't disturbed by the 75,000 in Pontiac city or the thickly populated neighborhood around Mary Day."

Of course, our own Russell Bassett is entitled to creep into the act. He has often seen grouse on his own private estate north of Pontiac and you can't name me anything that creeps, crawls, flies, swims or breathes that's wilder than grouse. "These five or six hundred thousand people in Oakland County don't scare my birds a bit," said Mr. Bassett as he put a lot of ice in another one on the front porch of his near-Clarkston chateau.

* * *

Messers Lowman and Hirsch themselves could scare up a pheasant or two.

Yes, indeedy.

All 588,432 of our Oakland County residents have seen many pheasants many times.

It just goes to show that the second biggest county in Michigan, and one we think as super-civilized, contains many of nature's own creatures right here in what they probably consider reasonably primitive elements.

* * *

And, oh, yes.

One E. J. Anderson truthfully reports having seen many Lions in Oakland County, and Spike Briggs, a lifetime resident of this great sector, says he has seen lots of Tigers here at various times.

* * *

Ole Herman?

Send Lowman and Hirsch around.

Hensel Testifies on Arms Aid

Sees Overhaul of U.S. Assistance to Allies if Funds Are Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secret testimony made public today said the Defense Department would face 'a complete reprograming' of arms aid to America's allies if old foreign aid appropriations were canceled.

A House Appropriations subcommitte heard the testimony June 23 from H. Struve Hensel, whose resignation as assistant secretary of defense became effective June 30.

* * *

It was made public in the midst of a controversay over the department's action in obligating 575 million dollars of arms aid funds on June 30, just before authority for spending most of that amount would have expired. Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) accused the department yesterday of a "deliberate shortcut" of a congressional edict.

* * *

The newest development came as both houses of Congress prepared to take up for final action a compromise $3,285,800,000 foreign aid authorization bill for the year ending next June 30.

The authorization bill sets top figures. Actual funds still must be appropriated.

City Youth, 8, Hurt When Struck by Car

Crossing the street from an ice cream vendor's truck last night, 8-year-old James Richard Shanholtz, of 1030 Argyle Ave., was injured seriously when he was struck by a car near his home and hurled 30 feet through the air.

His condition was reported good by Henry Ford Hospital authorities where he was taken after emergency treatment at Pontiac General Hospital. Pontiac Police said he suffered multiple skull fractures.

Witnesses said the boy darted from the rear of the truck into the path of a car driven by Felix Mayo, 62, of 45 James St.

City Commission Sets Ticket Fee for Loose Dogs

A trip to the pound by a dog or a trip to the violations bureau by its master now costs the same.

The equalization came about when the City Commission adopted a resolution fixing the violation fee for dogs running at large at $3, the same fee charged when dogs are redeemed at the pound. Sixty cents a day is added for feed at the pound, also.

Formerly, it cost $5 to settle a loose dog ticket. Irate owners pointed out it was cheaper to have a dog taken to the pound that it was to keep the animal and receive a ticket.

Those unable to attend may join by telephoning FE 4-5750 or FE 3-7131, ext. 28, Heaton added.

Children's Home Librarian Retires After 9 Years

The Oakland County Children's Home needs a librarian.

For the past nine years, Mrs. Ione W. Bartholomew has voluntarily served as librarian for the 130 youngsters at the Home.

Because of ill health, Mrs. Bartholomew is looking for someone to carry on the work.

She started the library when the institution was called the Oakland County Juvenile Home. Books donated by citizens in the area now total 2,000 volumes.

Mrs. Bartholomew supplemented her library duties with a weekly story hour for the children, along with serving the teenagers.

Now she is leaving the home. Superintendent W. O. Moulton Jr. said, "The children and the staff here wish to publicly thank Mrs. Bartholomew for her effort and time she has donated in helping the children of Oakland County mold their lives to become better citizens in the years to come."

Women interested in the librarian's job may call Moulton at the Children's Home.

Hope Brightens for Two Bills

President Said Ready to Compromise on Road and Housing Measures

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported willing today to compromise on highway and housing legislation in an effort to get bills through Congress in its closing days.

A highly placed Republican who asked not to be named said the President has indicated he will settle for action in this session on five major bills: military reserve, atomic ship, foreign aid and some kind of housing and road-building measures.

The President was represented as giving high priority in conferences with GOP leaders to school construction, minimum wage, polio vaccine and Upper Colorado development measures.

But he apparently was not insisting on their consideration if that would delay adjournment unduly.

Eisenhower was said to have indicated he would be willing to accept a compromise highway bill which was self-financing. He proposed originally that a separate agency be set up to issue bond, not chargeable to the federal debt, to finance the federal contribution to a 10-year interstate road building program.

Vessel Carrying 21 Involved in Mystery

Then there was a scream and 20 minutes of silence

Finally, between 3:35 and 3:40 a.m., the radio telephone voice came through once more and, in extreme agitation, reported:

"A submarine is surfacing about 350 yards from us. It is coming alongside. It is proceeding to take survivors aboard. It is not an American submarine."

* * *

Following this were the last words:

"I don't think they'll let me talk any more."

From the start the tug captain, who lives at Talcottville, Conn., relayed his communications to the Coast Guard in New York.

The Coast Guard sent four ships and two planes racing to the location given by the Blue Star.

* * *

With the first report concerning the submarine, it was surmised that it might have been a vessel of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, stationed at a U. S. base on the East Coast.

However, this was not borne out by checks of sub bases.

Ticket Number Six Brings Cry of Woe

To the two officers issuing the ticket it was strictly routine. To the woeful recipient, Angel Lamberty, 29, it was number six in a lengthening series.

Officers Joseph Swift and Clarence Smith ticketed Lamberty in Beaudette Park yesterday for driving an auto without an operator's license. Later investigation showed four other traffic citations pending for the same charge.

A fifth cited him for running a stop sign and a sixth charged him with having an improper license plate on his auto. Police have Lamberty's address as 105 Raeburn St.

To Quiz Agent for Dixon-Yates

Call Adolphe Wenzell to Testify on His Role in Contract Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigating senators called for testimony today from Adolphe H. Wenzell about his role—said by President Eisenhower to have been an entirely proper one—in Dixon-Yates contract talks.

Wenzell served for a time as a consultant to the Budget Bureau while still a vice president of the First Boston Corp., which later became financial agent for the Dixon-Yates utility group.

Administration officials have repeatedly said Wenzell did not influence the contract but merely served as an adviser on financing. Eisenhower said at a news conference yesterday Wenzell's role was proper.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), however, opined there may have been a law violation in Wenzell's dual capacity.

Kefauver, an opponent of the Dixon-Yates plan, heads the judiciary subcommittee on monopoly matters which asked Wenzell to testify.

The subcommittee invited Atty. Gen. Brownell yesterday to explain why the FBI has been directed to check on the city of Memphis' plans to build its own power plant.

Arlington Reburial Set for Local Man

Word has been received here that the body of Capt. Donald R. France, who was killed in Korea in December, 1950, has arrived at Arlington National Cemetery.

Reburial service will take place there July 10.

Capt. France was formerly a police officer in Pontiac in 1939 and saw duty in the Pacific in World War II. He went to Korea in July, 1950.

Surviving are his widow in California; a son, Donnie at Pine Lake; his mother, Mrs. Carrie France Marshall; two brothers, Fred and Theodore and a sister, Mrs. Gerald Hockey, all of Pontiac.

Stock Wilson Sold Has Almost Doubled

NEW YORK (AP)—The dramatic jump in the price of General Motors stock is illustrated in the case of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, who sold his 40,000 shares of GM two years ago to take the Cabinet post.

Wilson, former GM president, received $65 a share in early 1953 for a total of around $2,600,000 for his holdings.

After the proposal for a three-for-one stock split, GM common soared today to $128. At that price, Wilson's former holdings would be worth $5,120,000—almost double.

The Day in Birmingham

International Scholars Arrive for Three-Day Stay

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham can now boast of being one of the Meccas of the American Field Service international scholarships program.

Once again this city has been chosen, because of its hospitality and surroundings, as a stopping-off place for 35 scholarship students here from foreign countries.

The 16-to-18-year-olds arrived from Ohio yesterday afternoon for a three-day stopper, one of their longer visits on a 2,000 mile trip through United States.

They have completed a year's schooling in this country under the non-profit American Field Service organization, which began its program in 1947 to "promote understanding between nations by bringing a younger, more-adaptable teenage group to America to study and live for a year."

ARRIVE BY BUS

Arriving by bus yesterday, students representing 14 countries were introduced to the 24 local families with whom they will stay, at a reception at the Fairfax Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sumner.

Today, a tour of the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp., Detroit, was arranged through its president, W. C. Newberg, also a Birmingham resident. Tonight at 8:30, the city's young people have been invited to a dance to be given for the visitors by the Community House.

Music will be furnished by the "Brook Brothers," Cranbrook School students.

FRIDAY OPEN

With the exception of a tea at Baldwin Public Library at 3 p.m. tomorrow, the day has been left open for the guests to choose their own activities, before leaving on Saturday.

Co-chairmen of the three-day event are James Joyce and R. G. Saltsman. The visitors are from Belgium, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey.

AEC to Reveal Information

Films, Exhibits Slated at Geneva Conference on U. S. Research

WASHINGTON (INS) — Atomic Energy Chairman Lewis L. Strauss has disclosed that a mass of new information including films of America's experimental nuclear power reactors will be unveiled at the Geneva atoms-for-peace conference in August.

Strauss also told a new conference that a $350,000 research reactor being set up as a part of America's exhibit at the conference would be available for showing during the "summit" meeting of Big Four leaders beginning July 18. He said no such advance showing has been definitely decided yet, and implied that would be up to President Eisenhower.

The AEC chief emphasized that the U.N.-sponsored international conference in August for peaceful uses of nuclear energy is "not a contest" and "not a nuclear Olympic game."

He said, however, that if the U. S. were to reveal in advance the information America will present in about 500 scientific papers and hundreds of exhibits, "then we might as well save the expense of holding the conference."

Strauss pointed out that scientists regularly hold national and international meetings at which information that may have been in preparation for years is revealed for the first time.

A total of seven films will be shown by the U.S. at the conference. One of these will show publicly for the first time a dramatic experiment in which a "boiling water" atomic reactor was allowed to explode in Idaho to determine the temperature limits at which it could be safely operated.

It All Makes Sense to Second Graders

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—As one of his second grade projects, Doug Goines made a card for his mother and proudly presented it.

It was addressed to "The best mother in the woald," also referred to as "The king of mothers."

Desert Victim Leaves Ex-Wife Only $3 in Will

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — A man who died in a desert tragedy bequeathed his divorced wife just "30 pieces of silver—$3" because of "the misery she has caused me."

Calvert S. Wilson's bequest came to light yesterday in a handwritten will entered for probate by attorneys for Wilson's "childhood sweetheart," to whom he left half his estate.

Attorneys estimated the estate left by Wilson, 49, restaurant supply firm operator, at $30,000. The will, dated May 21, left the other half of his estate to his children, Brenda, 14, and Tamara, 11.

The will read:

* * *

"To my childhood sweetheart, Mrs. Algene Hoskins, of Southern Pines, N.C.—for a love and a faith that has lived undiminished for 40 years—and because she has been my inspiration and encouragement in most of the worthwhile things I have accomplished in this life—I leave the other half of my estate and do hereby appoint her executrix."

Wilson and his wife, Elaine, married in 1940 and separated in 1954. Last June 17 she won an interlocutory decree. Six days later a jeep taking Wilson and three friends on a desert trip broke down near Barstow, Calif. Wilson died of exposure seeking help; one man died later. The others were rescued.

Chile Alerts Army in General Strike

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The government alerted troops for trouble today as a 24-hour nationwide general strike protesting living costs got under way.

The army reinforced its Santiago garrison and posted troops at vital areas throughout the nation.

The Central Labor Union (CUT) claimed it would pull out 1,300,000 workers. But those in Chile's largest industry—the copper companies CUT wants nationalized — said they had no grievance and wouldn't strike. They got wage increases last fall.

The walkout was to last until midnight. Already some 40,000 employes of government-owned railways, buses and communications have been striking for a week over wages. That dispute drove the Chilean peso down sharply on the Santiago exchange.

Controversial Vessel Sails

'Sealed' Cargo Causes Riot on Pier; Ship Off for Unknown Port

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP)—A cargo of clay that sparked mob reaction into violence in a 15-month old Kohler Co. strike left last night aboard a foreign freighter sailing under sealed orders.

* * *

The M. S. Fossum is under the command of Capt. F. Svensen who told newsmen he sailed under "sealed orders." He said he did not know his destination. The ship is out of Skien, Norway.

Kohler Co. announced earlier it would not try to unload the vessel. Loss of the shipment, the company said, would not force it to close.

* * *

About 100 persons watched the ship depart. The same dock 24 hours earlier was filled with a milling crowd estimate dto include 1,000 persons at times. The mob beat up a nonstriking Kohler worker, broke windows in the home of another nonstriker and tipped over his car, threw rocks at an auto carrying a company official and damaged unloading equipment bound for the dock.

STRIKE CAUSE

The plumbing ware firm, located in the nearby village of Kohler, has been the scene of a strike by local 833 of the UAW-CIO since April 5, 1954. Paramount issue is union security. A National Labor Relations Board hearing into unfair labor practice charges against the company is in recess until July 20.

The trouble broke out Tuesday when the Fossum, with clay consigned to Kohler from Fowley, England, docked and the firm tried to move a derrick alongside to unload it.

* * *

Police roped off the area Tuesday night but it was not until Sheboygan Mayor Rudolph Ploetz appealed to the crowd that the mob broke up. Ploetz announced that a meeting with the company was arranged for yesterday morning. The mayor planned to ask the firm not to unload the vessel.

* * *

That meeting broke up when Lyman Conger, counsel for Kohler, stalked out with other company representatives. Conger acted after Associated Press photographer Dan Nero asked to take a picture of the group before the meeting started.

Conger told Ploetz he (Ploetz) was "pulling a publicity stunt."

Red Chinese Buildup in Vladivostok Claimed

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists' official Tatao news agency said today a division of crack Chinese Communist troops was transferred early in June to the Siberian port of Vladivostok, near the borders of Manchuria and Korea.

The agency, operated by the Interior Ministry and claiming underground contacts on the mainland, said the move was "apparently connected with some new intrigue by the Soviet Union and Red China."

We Need More Roads

Michigan's State Highway Department has come up with some impressive figures on the numbers of cars that travel our busier roads. They offer irrefutable evidence that we need more roads and wider roads; that we need them badly, and that we need them now.

This survey was made in 1953, and traffic is far heavier today than it was two years ago. But even then, the figures were tremendous.

Fifty-five thousand cars a day were checked on Woodward Avenue, between Pontiac and Detroit. North of Pontiac, the number ranged from 13,000 to 25,000 a day. Telegraph road carried up to 24,000 a day. Orchard Lake road between Pontiac and Keego Harbor averaged 13,000 a day. Auburn avenue, east of Pontiac, ranged from 6,700 to 10,000.

Other outstate cities showed considerably lesser totals. This was natural in view of Pontiac's proximity to Detroit.

The Highway Department is now making new surveys. The figures will be interesting. They doubtless will show increased totals.

But anyone who travels the main highways in any direction about Oakland County knows that more roads are needed. The experts may argue about the details, whether they should be four lane or six, or eight. But everybody recognizes the need.

We need more roads, and wider roads.
We need divided highways.
We need them badly.

Where Little Ones Grow Big Fast

Property damage from fire in Pontiac city during 1954 was $508,133, according to Fire Chief John Schroeder. Whereas the state fire loss for the 12 months, $32 million, was the lowest since 1951, Pontiac's loss was the largest in a calendar year since 1942.

The 1942 Pontiac loss was $582,142. Loss in recent years was $306,232 in '51.

The $300,000 jump between '53 and last year does not mean that our citizens became suddenly careless nor that we suffered any breakdown in the services dedicated to preventing and combating fires.

★ ★ ★

Two major fires were responsible, one was at Benson Lumber Company and one at the Habel Chevrolet Agency. Two big blazes in a year can knock a city's fire prevention standing higher than the billowing smoke of the conflagrations.

★ ★ ★

And an occasional bad one is no reason to relax day-by-day efforts to prevent fires. Over recent years the city's fires have been decreasing in number and size, as the figures for '51, '52 and '53 indicate.

★ ★ ★

Fast and efficient work of our fire fighters has played a big part in holding down our loss. And for some time Chief Schroeder's department has been stepping up its routine inspection program, seeking out fire hazards and advising citizens on how to eliminate them. This program is showing results.

Every citizen can help by making a frequent inspection of his own home or business place to eliminate conditions in which a small fire might start.

All big fires start as little ones; Chief Schroeder says almost all can be prevented.

Help our firemen prevent the little ones and we will have little worry over big ones.

Power Line Dangers

Thomas Serra's painful experience recently should serve as another warning to parents as well as young people regarding the danger of bodily contact with high-voltage power lines.

This fourteen-year-old lad is interested in birds. So, when he spied a nest high up on a power company's substation, he started out to find what was in it. He had to climb over a ten-foot fence, topped by several strands of barbed wire before he could start climbing up to inspect the nest.

As he neared the nest, he brushed a live wire, carrying 24,000 volts of electricity. His shirt caught fire, and his sleeves were ablaze as he fell to the ground. He was seriously burned over 80 per cent of his body.

Power company officials many times have issued warnings of the dangers of bodily contact with wires carrying electric power. They also warn that kite strings may electrocute or badly shock a person flying a kite if the string comes in contact with a power line.

★ ★ ★

This case may well serve as an example for parents to use in pointing out again to their children the dangers of contact with power lines.

Leaves them to trained electricians.

I've had several good natured arguments over the years with my old friend, as to whether General Motors is, or is not, the largest corporation in the world. A current summary shows that General Motors is first in these categories:

Employes.

It falls into the second category in one division.

That's assets and GM is squeezed into second place by Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Two Strikes on Him Already

David Lawrence Says:

Menon Avoids Morality in Role of Roving Envoy

WASHINGTON—Krishna Menon, described as "India's roving ambassador" but who is really an instrument of Soviet policy, is busy carrying out his mission of so-called mediation between Red China and the United States.

* * *

Not only has Menon interjected himself as a "mediator" and virtually demanded that President Eisenhower give him time for conversation "at the summit" here, but he would, if he could, continually bypass the secretary of state. Fortunately, Eisenhower doesn't see alleged envoys of the Communist or Neutralist world without Dulles present.

Menon was given an opportunity to address the National Press Club here this week. He also obtained the limelight during the recent United Nations celebration in San Francisco. His doubletalk, however, has never been more vividly illustrated than in his answers to questions.

Thus, when he took issue at the press club with the blanket description of India as "neutralist," he said: "We are not neutral in regard to peace and social justice . . . We are not neutral toward attempts to conciliate international differences."

MORAL ISSUE

But a few minutes later Menon said his country was not "concerned with who is right and who is wrong" but wanted to find a way to solve the whole problem of Americans held by Red China.

* * *

It doesn't apparently make any difference to Krishna Menon whether the Communists have violated their written pledge, given at Panmunjom, to return all prisoners of war. His idea of impartiality was revealed when he was asked whether he regarded the present "softness" of the Soviet as genuine. He replied that "we have found it better to accept people for what they say and not suspect them."

Such studied indifference to the laws of morality and justice and to the honoring of sacred pledges can be expected from a Communist regime, but Menon is trying to pose as a "neutral" and as a "mediator" he actually accepts the immorality of the Soviet policies by calling it "realism."

Menon declared that the leaders of India—one of whom he professes to be—are "realists" and that, if adopting "any particular viewpoint" at a certain time "becomes advantageous, we try it."

FORGETS CASUALTIES

There's the whole case for expediency and against moral principle, as expressed by the man who is given prominence on his visits to this country and who is received with open arms in Moscow. Menon isn't influenced at all by the fact that 40,000 American boys were killed and 110,000 wounded in Korea in order to repel aggression and secure obedience to a United Nations resolution seeking to establish morality in the world.

The "roving ambassador" from New Delhi isn't evidently concerned either with the fact that the United Nations declared Red China an aggressor and that the Peiping government insulted and denounced the U. N. at Geneva last year and still refuses to allow a settlement of the Korean problem to be undertaken under the auspices of the U. N. The Red China government naturally wants its partisan, Kirshna Menon, to handle this matter because of a confidence that he will achieve what the U. N. refused to do for the Communists.

Menon, moreover, doesn't hesitate to say publicly now that the Matsu and Quemoy group of islands, as well as Formosa, should be handed over to the Red China regime. Why should anyone be trusted as a "mediator" who openly champions the cause of one or the other of the parties to a dispute?

This question presents no difficulty to the crafty mind of Kirshna Menon; but the situation makes little sense to those who respect the moral position of the United Nations and of this country in the disputes with Soviet Russia and Red China.

Menon's formula is for the United States to give up all bases and all her interests in the Far East, dissolve the Nationalist army which is helping to defend Southeast Asia and sell out the South Korean government to the Communists. It is a mystery why they waste so much time here with a self-appointed partisan of the Communists who doesn't speak for the people of India or even the important diplomats of that country who privately say they have no illusions about Menon's meddlesome crusade.

* * *

Menon may be relying on the naivete of some Americans. Who encourages him in such ideas? Incidentally, who gave U. Nu, the prime minister of Burma, what he says was an "impression" he derived during his recent visit to Washington that the United States government really favors admission of Red China to the United Nations and that the only question to be decided was the "timing"?

It's possible that there are "left wingers" here who are stimulating such erroneous thoughts but, if they ever submit the issue to the American people in any congressional or presidential election, they will find themselves much mistaken.

July Fourth Traditions Deepen Gratitude of Resident for Blessings of America

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

It's wonderful to live in America! It's boyhood thankfulness to wake up on the Fourth to the sound of firecrackers, to spend the day with 'ladyfingers,' tin cans, torpedoes and snakes.

Enjoying the annual family picnic with its ice cream and lemonade is part of it, too, along with having the day come to a close with sparklers, Roman candles, pinwheels and sky rockets.

It's manhood gratitude to wake up on the Fourth to the quietness of a beautiful day, the cheerful singing of the birds and the strains of organ music from the nearby church, played by an organist who waited to begin the glorious Fourth at the console of the church organ.

My gratitude for the blessings of America deepened as I listened intently to determine the organ selection. On a quiet Fourth of July the organist was playing "Be Still My Soul."

The baseball is a little thing . . . That does not cost so much . . . And for a million boys it has . . . That fond, familiar touch . . . It may destroy a window on . . . Its hefty home run mission . . . But it may also be the start . . . To big league recognition . . . It often sails outside the park . . . When major leaguers play . . . And how that ball is handled will . . . Determine yearly pay . . . The baseball is an instrument . . . That merely brings some pleasure . . . Or it becomes the test by which . . . We take an athlete's measure . . . But whether it is used for fun . . . Or in our search for fame . . . The baseball is America . . . And our historic game.

Hal Boyle Says:

Welsh Lass Makes Good but Isn't Taken Seriously

NEW YORK (AP)—She is just a young girl far from home trying to make good in a strange country.

And Dilys Lay has made good on the roughest street in America—Broadway. But not in the way she wanted to.

* * *

"All my life I've wanted to be glamorous and languid and—above all—to be taken seriously," sighed the Welsh lass, digging into a plate of luncheon eggs with the hearty sorrow of youth.

"And what do people call me? Cute—well, if it's cute they want me to be, it's cute I'll be. But I'd like once to be taken seriously. Even my friends call me Dilly."

* * *

Dilys made an instantaneous hit last fall as a giddy young flapper in "The Boy Friend," a musical which kids the skirts off life in the gay and memorable 1920s.

Playgoers found a Peter Pan quality in the vibrant little visitor, who can sing, dance or play comedy. A critic compared her skilled drollery to that of Beatrice Lillie.

* * *

But the hazel-eyed little actress, who had appeared in 10 plays before coming here, is now 21 and would like the world to realize that she is more than just a madcap.

"In England it is a wonderful and important day—the day a girl turns 21," she said. "You are given a key to the house. You are a woman at last—at last.

* * *

"You are free to marry anyone, even without your parents' consent. Not that I would ever consider doing that myself. I don't think I could bring myself to do it even if I were 25."

Dilys wanted her mother, a former actress who became an accountant, to accompany her here, but mother turned her down.

* * *

"Mum told me I was on my own," she said. "She doesn't want to try to live her own career over in her children's lives, and she doesn't want to become a typical stage mother, always hovering over her darling."

So Dilys and Julia Andrews, the pale and lovely ingenue of "The Boy Friend," moved into an East Side apartment together. They have shared the fun and excitement of exploring fabulous Manhattan, a new world to both of them.

* * *

"But you know you can be lonely in the middle of thousands of people," said Dilys, "and sometimes, just walking along the streets, I'd find myself suddenly lonesome for London — the deep quiet of London.

"You know there's a subtle difference between coming home to an apartment and coming home to a home. Last Christmas Julie and I gave each other a dachshund named Melody.

"Melody, that little dog, made us a home. We haven't felt so lonely since."

* * *

Dilys said the thing that impressed her most about America was the simplicity of social life, how much easier it was to make friends.

Boy friends?

"American boys always look so healthy," she said, "but they don't take you very seriously either, do they?"

Dilys takes both herself and her work seriously. She says—if the right serious young man comes along—she'd like to have four children, but hopes her husband "won't ever ask me to give up the theatre completely. It has always been my life."

* * *

Suddenly she held out a well-browned arm. She had been to the beach the day before.

"It's the first tan I ever had," she said. "It also brought out some freckles. But I'm not freckly all over—just on my face. What do you think of freckles?"

I admired her freckles and asked her if, at 21, she had any fears.

* * *

"I think I'm too young to be afraid of anything," she said and asked anxiously:

Fear of Impotency Drives Man Past 40 Into a Platonic Relationship With Wife

Homer's secret worry causes untold drunkenness in men past 40. It also drives them into clandestine affairs which would never have developed if their wives had understood the facts cited below. For wives are 50 per cent to blame for erring mates, at least by their sins of omission. A cooperative wife beats medical shots!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-376: Homer K., aged 47, is the man mentioned yesterday who dropped his weight from 215 to 172 lbs., meanwhile lowering his blood pressure from 184 to 155 points.

* * *

"Dr. Crane, I feel much better now that I am thinner," he admitted.

"But I still haven't solved this problem about platonic marriage. It has bothered me for several years.

"I spent a lot of money taking shots of testosterone and other drugs for six months, but didn't notice any improvement whatever, so I quit the shots.

"I thought my weight reduction would help improve my sex vigor, but it hasn't.

* * *

"So is there no hope? I think maybe part of the jitters that caused me to smoke like a fiend and overeat, was just an attempt to hide from my worry about impotence. Could that have been true?"

CLIMACTERIC WORRIES

Yes, when men pass 40 or 50 and get worried lest their love life become purely platonic, they often get panicky.

* * *

That's one reason why many previous non-drinkers suddenly take to whisky and become drunkards.

And many younger men of 25 to 30 are driven to drink for this same reason—namely, sexual inferiority complexes.

If it weren't for sexual fears and complexes, saloons would go almost bankrupt and there would be very little need for helpful organizations like Alcoholics Anonymous.

For alcoholism is a convenient smoke screen by which scared men as well as women, try to cover up their secret terror.

In my wide experience with patients, as well as from the mail input of 1,000 letters daily from you readers, I find that tobacco and obesity are the Siamese causes of premature impotence in men.

PLATONIC MARRIAGE

Homer's weight reduction should thus have left him with a great deal more surplus energy at the end of a working day, for he was no longer carrying those extra 40 pounds around from dawn to dark.

* * *

And if you think 40-lbs. of blubber aren't a cause of fatigue, ask any GI who has marched all day with a heavy pack.

But Homer had become a victim of chronic sex defeatism complex, so neither the weight reduction nor the 6 months' series of testosterone shots were able to change him.

Indeed, it has been my experience that medical shots, except for their psychological effect, can never change a platonic husband into a virile mate.

* * *

The most important element is to banish his mental defeatism. A smart wife can usually do this in a few moments of time, with or without medication for the male.

SEDUCTIVE WIFE

But it requires an understanding and seductive wife who will throw off her usual femine passivity and take a more aggressive role in the marital relationship.

* * *

Wives unwittingly permit their mates to get into the so-called climacteric by failing to pick up their cues and to affect more seductive allure.

After your husband has passed 40, it is imperative that you wives add at least 5 per cent more aggressiveness for each year that passes. Then you can prevent your husband from straying and save lots of money otherwise to be spent on medicines, hormones and vitamins.

Homer's wife employed the data therein and removed the word "platonic" from their marriage in one night.

Address Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. Be sure to enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime (to help cover printing and postage costs) for one booklet. Do not send for more than one booklet at a time. Allow two weeks for delivery of booklets.

Dr. Brady Says:

Pain Susceptibility Hinges on Calcium Metabolism

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

If I could stand it I might thumb through the files of back copy for a few decades and collect a substantial batch of pieces describing my bursitis, ivy poisoning, impacted Colles' fracture, diverticulosis, and whatnot—all of which were needless to say, pretty serious.

* * *

You see, I am endowed with such a delicate inhibitory mechanism that the very thought that something is going to hurt releases cerebral control and autonomically I begin to make noises such as ouch, take it easy and bloody murder. In politer words, my threshold of pain is scarcely noticeable.

Threshold in this physiological sense means the point at which an effect begins to be produced; or say the concentration or load of sugar in the blood at which sugar begins to escape through the kidneys into the urine; or the point at which stimulation of nerve or nerve center begins to produce response.

A physician can't exclude diabetes merely because a test of the urine shows no sugar. A test of the individual's carbohydrate (sugar and/or starch) tolerance is necessary too; that is, determination of the maximum amount of carbohydrate the patient can take without escape of sugar in the urine. This applies particularly to potential diabetics, persons who have inherited a tendency and those who are eating and drinking their way to diabetes.

GOOD QUESTION

Whether you are just ordinarily sensitive, oversensitive or insensitive to pain may or may not depend on inheritance and training. That's a good question for the sophomore psychologists to debate.

* * *

It is my belief that the state of calcium metabolism has a good deal to do with the threshold of pain. In the first place, one of the physiological functions of calcium is to regulate excitability of nerve fibres and nerve centres—or in more familiar language, "steady the nerves." In medical practice an injection of calcium into a vein is one of the most effective emergency measures for the relief of severe biliary (gall stone) colic, renal (kidney stone) colic, the colic of lead poisoning or the intensely painful cramps of black widow bite.

High calcium diet supplemented with an optimal daily ration of calcium and D has apparently brought relief and in some instances cure of neuralgic headache and/or periodic sick headache (migraine), many readers have reported.

Aspirin and acetanilide addicts should take some calcium and D with every dose of either of these sense-deadeners.

* * *

If you are subject to neuralgic headache or migraine (periodic sick headache) send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet Why Have Headache.

If you are an acetanilide addict—acetanilide (phenylacetamide) is the pain-killing, heart-poisoning ingredient in numerous nostrums with disarming parlor-car names; sometimes another coaltar derivative called phenacetin (acetophenetidin) having about the same effects, is used instead of acetanilid—the chapter on Abuse of Analgesic Drugs in the booklet C V D (about heart and artery troubles) may interest you. For the booklet send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

16 B & O Cars Derailed, Blocking Trains, Autos

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sixteen cars of a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train derailed here today, blocking both rail and highway traffic.

Two broke through an overpass and blocked traffic on a highway below. The company's main line was rendered temporarily useless and officials said traffic would be diverted into Pennsylvania Railroad lines. No injuries were reported.

How Would You Like to Have King's Phone?

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—a family here may get up to 22,700 wrong-number phone calls.

The Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo Assn. disclosed today it has sent out that many brochures with an entirely unrelated number instead of the rodeo office number. Officials said nobody noticed it until Clare W. King's home phone began jangling.

The Kings announced they'll be away from home most of the time.

An average truck pays more than four times as much to state governments as average passenger cars for licenses, and at least twice as much for its fuel taxes.

Civic Spirit Pays Off—Gets House and $$ Too

SANTA PAULA, Calif. (AP)—George Whitlock recently sold his house and lot to the school district, which is launching an expansion program. Price: $16,725.

Yesterday the district auctioned the house. Highest bidder: George Whitlock. His bid: $760.

Whitlock figures that even though he may have to pay a few thousands to have the house moved to a new location, he's still ahead a tidy sum.

Although the Roman god Mars usually is considered a war god, there is some evidence that he was, in the earliest times, also a god of agriculture.

Canoe Overturns, 1 Dead

DETROIT (AP) — An overturned canoe led to the drowning Wednesday of Jacob J. Gendron Jr., 16. The youth was boating with his father and Russell Straugh, 48, of Dearborn, in Newburgh Lake. The elder Gendron tried to save his son, who could not swim. Straugh was rescued.

Grapefruit Gift to Queen Causes Florida Rhubarb

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The question of who's going to pay for Queen Elizabeth's grapefruit juice hasn't been settled.

In 1953, Barney J. Cohen, Orlando citrus man, thought it a good idea for Florida to send her 800 cases for the coronation.

* * *

He campaigned for subscriptions. Southern Fruit Distributors Inc. of Orlando made the shipment.

In court yesterday Southern Fruit contended it had been paid only $350 and asked for $1,370 more.

Cohen said he started the promotion only as a public service and was not obligated. Only $650 was subscribed, and some of that was not paid, he said.

* * *

Would-Be Plumbers Escape Tough Test

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—That written test was just too tough for the boys seeking journeyman plumbers' licenses.

It "tended to confuse the candidate rather than measure his ability," the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners reported.

Worried because only 61 per cent passed the test, the board examined its examinations and reported the written questions were aimed at people with an 11th-grade reading level. The average test-taker, the board said, has a 9th-grade reading level.

The questions were simplified and emphasis put on practical plumbing demonstrations.

Bridges Demands U Nu Name Red China Advocates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) today called for a "full disclosure of all the names" of U. S. officials Burmese Premier U Nu contends do not oppose seating Communist China in the United Nations.

Aroused by U Nu's statement that responsible Washington officials feel Red China's admission to the U. N. is simply a question of timing, Bridges said in an interview:

"If there are any such responsible official as U Nu claims, let him name them."

IS U NU TRUE?

Chairman Richards (D-SC) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee commented in a separate interview there must be "a lot of irresponsible people in Washington" if what U Nu says is true.

U Nu visited Washington last week, discussing world affairs with President Eisenhower and others.

Yesterday he told a New York news conference that while no one had said so directly, he gained the impression that most of these officials feel Red China's admission to the U. N. is simply a question of proper timing.

Bridges noted Congress has gone on record several times against replacing Nationalist Chinese in the U. N. with representatives of the Peiping regime.

A new foreign aid bill near congressional approval says it is the sense of Congress that Communist China "has not demonstrated its willingness to fulfill the obligations contained in the charter of the United Nations..."

U. of Texas Discusses Admission of Negroes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—University of Texas regents met today to discuss whether the school and its many branches should be opened to Negroes.

Soviets Score Shoddy Toys

Trashy Playthings Get Official Blast; Don't Teach Kids Right

MOSCOW (AP) — It's still six months before Grandfather Frost (the Russian Santa Claus) comes around, but Soviet toymakers are being scolded again in the official press for producing trashy and unimaginative playthings.

* * *

What are toys for? asks Soviet Trade, official newspaper of the Ministry of Trade. Not only to make kids happy, but to "assist in the Communist training of the younger generation," it answers.

"All of us," says Soviet Trade, "are very much interested that our children should receive good toys —toys that will help in their Communist education.

"On the shelves we see either bad or unimaginative toys. How poor and small the assortment still is!

* * *

"And this is doubly regrettable because our Soviet children are growing up in an era of great events and great and daring achievements. They hear about the establishment of scientific stations at the North Pole. They know about the wonderful new machines which dig canals and erect power stations. And, naturally, a child not only wishes to have a pretty doll or doll's dishes, but also wants mechanical toys which tell what's going on around them.

* * *

"But to our regret such toys are very few. We are often shown excellent samples of toys which gladden the heart, but why do we not see them on sale? Why do we see for sale only toys made by the cold hands of indifferent people? Why do children have to play with an engine (locomotive) whose smokestack is painted in the colors of a parrot? That can only create mistrust in grownups who thought up such a toy. And a bad toy can teach a child inaccuracy.

Boyhood Dream Comes True for Fire Engine Fan

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—Lodi Mandel hasn't been a boy for several decades, but he got that old feeling while out for a drive when he noticed a fire engine in a farmer's yard.

* * *

The farmer, it turned out, had used the old engine for pumping water to his barn, but now had different means. He was delighted to sell it because it was cluttering up his farm.

Mandel, a druggist for 28 years, was so happy over his find that he got himself hip boots, helmet and the rest of what the properly dressed fireman wears.

He's going over the big pumper, which once worked for the Cleveland Heights department, from its tubular front bumper to its well-worn tailboard and get it into shape to run.

* * *

He doesn't anticipate any trouble finding passengers when he goes out. After all, kids are still kids.

"Family first, though," Mandel said.

Mayor Leaves Town So Sheriff Is Sued

DETROIT (AP) — A suit charging $10,000 damages was filed against Wayne County Sheriff Andrew Baird yesterday for allowing Dearborn's Mayor Orville Hubbard to leave the county.

Hubbard has been confined to Wayne County since 1950 on a jail limits bond which stems from a $7,500 libel judgment won by John J. Fish, a Dearborn attorney, from Hubbard. Hubbard has refused to pay it.

The suit, filed for Fish, charged that Hubbard was in Oakland County attending Camp Dearborn, his city's recreation area.

Chris M. Youngblood, acting for Fish, said the $10,000 represented the judgment plus interest and costs.

Weekend Shoppers Find Meats Attractively Priced

After-holiday food shoppers will find many attractive price tags to make meat selection easy. Fryers, beef, pork—in just that order—lamb and veal can provide good eating at a very low cost.

* * *

Although retail prices on frying chickens have been higher than they were at this time in 1954, they have been dropping rapidly. In most markets the average cost of frying chickens is about 47 to 50 cents per pound.

Many broiler-fryers are running small in size this season, but poultry authorities still recommend a 2 to 3-pound bird for broiling or barbecuing, while 3 to 4-pound birds are best for frying or roasting.

Of the different kinds of meat in your favorite store, the reliable beef continues to lead the list in supply and appealing prices. Hot-weather demand has encouraged many markets to feature round, sirloin, cube and porterhouse steaks for quick meal preparation or outdoor eating.

Economy-wise, such heavy roasts as the blade chuck down to 35 cents per pound, the arm or English-cut chuck at around 49 cents per pound, and the boneless rump down to 69 cents per pound, still offer the best values.

PORK PRICES DROP

Because demand for pork loin roasts has decreased with the rise in temperature, prices have taken a tremendous drop. For 39 to 45 cents per pound, rib-end loin roasts suggest an excellent way to relieve the holiday-taxed food budget. All styles of bacon are also more-for-your-money buys on most counters.

* * *

This is still the best time of the year to add veal to your market list. Veal legs, rump and sirloin roasts are still at the same low level price-wise, running from 39 to 49 cents per pound. Shoulder roasts cost even less.

A short supply has caused prices of lamb cuts to remain only steady. At 69 to 75 cents per pound, legs of lamb provide menu variety for special dinners; however, shoulder roasts and lamb's liver, for as little as 29 cents per pound, will meet with more favor.

Fresh whitefish and trout, and cod and haddock fillets are in adequate supply and are reasonably priced. There is still a steady increase in the cost of the large grade A eggs. But at 55 to 60 cents per dozen, they still represent the best value of the season.

* * *

Supplies of most locally grown produce are reported to be about two to three weeks early this year. Abundant displays of new green cabbage are much in evidence both at the farmers' markets and on retail counters for about five to seven cents per pound.

Ample supplies of crisp green snap beans are down to 2 pounds for 25 to 29 cents, and the yellow wax beans are less expensive, too. It takes only a few pennies to provide several varieties of early summer squash for delicious eating.

* * *

As the Michigan head lettuce crop continues to increase, a decided increase in quality is noted along with the rapid decrease in cost to two heads for 29 cents. At two for 15 to 19 cents, cucumbers have been comparatively high in price, but prices are expected to decrease.

The demand for the red hot-house tomatoes has kept the prices high in comparison to those grown outdoors, but now that the first fruit from nearby farms has appeared on the farmers' markets, competition should cause prices to begin to drop.

Extensive overlapping of potato shipments from several states has caused potato supplies to be very heavy. Therefore, market-wise shoppers will find the long-white variety from California to be a very inexpensive part of meal planning at 10 pounds for 47 to 59 cents.

* * *

MELONS GOOD BUY

The melon family has the good-buy spot of distinction on fruit counters this week due to drastic decreases in price.

Supplies of the juicy dark red Bing cherries continue to increase, and prices decrease to 29 to 39 cents per pound. Homegrown blueberries and both red and black raspberries are beginning to be in ample supply at very reasonable cost.

Says Comforting Word Helps Conquer Pain

CHICAGO (UP) — Pain can be conquered almost as well with understanding and a comforting word as it can with miracle drugs, according to Dr. B. B. Sankey, president of the American Society of Anesthesiologists.

"Medicine will always be a deeply personal and inexact science, in which a comforting word and dash of human understanding may contribute to the patient's peace of mind as will a brilliant new medical technique or miracle drug," he said.

Gibson Gets Contract

GREENVILLE (UP) — Albert Gibson, vice president in charge of Gibson Refrigerator Co. defense work, has announced receipt of an order to make stainless steel oil tanks for a J57 jet engine produced in Chicago. He said work on the project will begin sometime this month.

Salesman Governor Extols West Virginia

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — It is not every salesman who can walk into a big business corporation, announce himself to the receptionist and be ushered promptly to the inner sanctum of the top dog. But William G. Marland can.

* * *

Partly, it's because Marland is dapper, young and enthusiastic; but mainly it's because he is the governor of West Virginia. And with a brand new sales pitch never tested in this country before, he is touring the country to "sell" a state.

"Say, you ought to come down to West Virginia," he is telling folks, "and why don't you bring your little old business along?"

Marland, 37 years old, a Democrat and for many years a coal miner, started his nationwide stumping sales tour last week after a survey showed that West Virginia is suffering dramatically as the result of bad times in its big industry, bituminous coal.

* * *

He confesses that — with the exception of a lengthy campaign he once staged to sell the beautiful Mrs. Marland on the idea of marriage — he has never dabbled in the promotion business.

HE'S CONVINCING

"And yet this guy," said one New York industrialist after hearing Marland speak in his city, "could probably convince a Missourian that West Virginia was the best state in the union."

* * *

The governor himself is modest about it. "I don't know how successful a job I can do," he said, reclining in shirt sleeves in a hotel suite after a day of conferences with industry prospects, "but I've sure got to make a stab.

"You see we've been very complacent in our state about the coal business but now suddenly, in the last five years or so, mechanization in the mines has made available a great deal of labor." (He prefers the word "available" — see sales primers — to "unemployed.")

His campaign, he concedes, may flop. "After all I'm mighty inexperienced. I didn't even know enough to bring along a briefcase. When a salesman forgets a prop like that, how can he be confident of success?"

* * *

Gov. Marland did bring with him, however, his membership card in John L. Lewis' United Mine workers and a thorough understanding of the needs and potentials, both of his state and of the industries he wants most to entice.

HERE'S HIS PITCH

Not to mention a smooth little spiel:

"Now West Virginia offers four great assets, young lady," he said glibly—making it sound off-the-cuff rather than rehearsed. "First, we have an abundance of smart, willing laborers. We are accessible to the major markets of the country, with New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, and Detroit all within 500 miles of West Virginia.

"Then we have all the transportation facilities, railway, airlines, and highways. And our tax structure is excellent."

* * *

"What do you mean, excellent?" we asked.

"Extremely advantageous to business," said the governor, grinning. "I could get technical, but you would be bored. A good salesman never bores a client."

Marland, born a coal miner's son, worked for many years in the business before he went to school and became a lawyer. His career, interrupted by military service in World War II, was just building when he was elected to his top dog post.

Seeing immediately the way things were going (down) in the state he was to govern, he ordered a year-long industrial survey made. It revealed that in 1948, one of the best years in bituminous coal, 115,000 West Virginians were employed in the mines. Only about 60,000 were employed in 1954.

"The survey also showed a 3 per cent drop in population," he says. "That may not sound like much, but only one other state in the nation showed any loss at all."

WRITERS' PARADISE

No definite commitments were made to Marland during his two day stay in New York, but several industrialists have agreed to come down and look over the proposition personally.

* * *

When it was time to return to Charleston and pack for his Western sales tour, the governor picked up his hat, jammed his statistics in his pocket, and gave us a topical farewell . . .

"Goodbye for now, Ma'am," he said, "and may I leave you with this thought? There is no greater inspiration to be found, nor beauty to be seen, than in the rolling hills of West Virginia. It is a true paradise for writers."

"What's more," he said — poking his head back through the doorway — "it's an excellent hideaway from atom bombs!"

Has Cause to Remember Washington's Birthday

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — Charles E. Dean has more reason to remember George Washington's birthday than most people.

On Feb. 22, 1951, the 72-year-old elevator operator was struck and injured by a left-turning automobile at a downtown intersection.

Four years later, on the same date and at the same hour Dean was hit by a left-turning car at the same spot. Both times he was on his way to dinner, but the second time he suffered more severe injuries and had to be hospitalized for a time.

Meat, Poultry, Fish Gain on Family Menu

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP) — Americans are eating one-fourth more meat, poultry and fish per capita today than 20 years ago, a University of Minnesota marketing agent reported.

Mrs. Eleanor Loomis said that Americans are stepping up their consumption of such foods as meat, milk, eggs, fruit and green vegetables as they learn more of the value of proteins, vitamins and minerals.

During the past two years each American ate an average of 18 per cent more dairy products, other than butter, 26 per cent more eggs, 27 per cent more meat, poultry and fish and 16 per cent more citrus fruits and tomatoes than 20 years earlier, Mrs. Loomis said.

On the other hand, they ate 26 per cent less potatoes and sweet potatoes and 21 per cent less grain products.

He's 'a Pretty Busy Boy'—Still Hard at Work at 97

NEW YORK (INS)—Dr. Maurice J. Lewi thinks he's "a pretty busy boy" — and at age 97 he certainly is.

* * *

Dr. Lewi is head of the New York College of Podiatry and president of the foot clinics of New York. He works daily from 10 a.m. to five p.m. Once or twice a week he works until midnight.

"I enjoy life best when I'm at my desk," said the blue-eyed, frail doctor in an interview. He was wearing a natty charcoal suit flecked with blue and red, a hard boiled collar, a yellow tie with red and gray modern design and high shoes.

"I haven't taken a regular vacation in many, many years. Work is my vacation. But that's not my advice to others — it's still true that 'all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy'—I just don't happen to be Jack."

CREDITS HEREDITY

Dr. Lewi attributes his long life to heredity, saying:

"I come of a long-lived family on both sides. And of my 13 brothers and sisters, all but two who have passed on died in their 70s or 80s. There are only three of us left—my baby sister, aged 86, and my baby brother, aged 85."

* * *

"Possibly," Dr. Lewi said thoughtfully, "I owe my long life to the fact that our father was a very able doctor.

"My advice to others, gleaned from my father's teachings, is that when you're approaching adolescent years you should seek the companionship of older people."

"When you grow older you should align yourself with younger people. It keeps you in touch with what's going on in the world.

"As far as longevity is concerned, I have no recipe excepting that I do know that in all of my lifetime I have never overcrowded my stomach.

KEEPS ON BREEZING

"It stands to reason physiologically that the greater intake of food calls upon the organs for greater work in securing the vitamins contained in the food.

* * *

"And I keep on breezing. A man must keep in the middle of things. He must have a pleasing attitude and breeze along in the world.

"I take a drink of spiritous beverage before my dinner meal, and if I'm very tired I might take a second. Before retiring I take an additional drink and eat a snack."

As for smoking—"I smoke six or eight cigars a day. I've cut down recently. Until three of four years ago I smoked continuously all day long.

* * *

"I wouldn't advise anybody to smoke unless he goes to a doctor twice a year to see if he's equal to carrying on with 'King Nicotine.'"

First shot of World War II was fired at the Polish fortress known as the Westerplatte, in Danzig Harbor.

FIGHT TORTURING PAIN . . .

from Arthritis or Rheumatism in hands, arms, neck, back, legs

A famous medical authority, one of the nation's leading research specialists, holds out new hope for sufferers from all types of muscular aches and pains in hands, arms, neck, back, legs, feet.

This new approach is so sound, so logical that it is bound to appeal to you as the safe, sure way to obtain pain relief leading to a better, more enjoyable, more active and more comfortable life.

Hope lies in doing the following things: Relieving the muscular aches and pains, because pain acts in a vicious cycle. It prolongs the spasm of the muscles around the joints and this spasm causes the sufferer to refrain from movement of the joint. This voluntary immobilization may cause the muscle to atrophy or waste away.

Result is this vicious cycle. The joint may be on its way to deformity. Relieve the pain to break the vicious cycle and you take a very important step.

First . . . to break the vicious cycle of muscular pain a safe, harmless, fact-acting medication is indicated. This effective medication is contained in PAMIDE Tablets.

Yes, it is a fact that tens of thousands of sufferers have found their best answer in PAMIDE—quickest, longest lasting, non-narcotic relief—at a low cost made possible by wide-spread use and demand for PAMIDE Tablets. Old Italian Masters Lie Within Earshot of 1955

By EARL WILSON

FLORENCE — There's an American colony consisting of Gladys Swarthout and her husband Frank Chapman, the Frederic Marches and the John Sebastians here—I suppose you could call them "new Florentines."

★ ★ ★

Everything else is "old Florentine"—stumbling home at night you pass Dante's house, or Santa Croce, the church where Michelangelo, Galileo and Machiavelli are either resting or turning over in their graves about the American tourist invasion.

THE SEBASTIANS

"John Sebastian — oh, everybody knows John Sebastian," the man at Pan-Am said when I inquired about him.

"He lives up on the hill."

Yes, this was the young harmonica virtuoso John Sebastian you've seen on TV . . . a Philadelphian who fell in love with Florence while on a scholarship here. Mrs. Sebastian and I got along well talking Italian . . . No wonder, she comes from Dayton, O., and we were really talking Ohioese.

John drove us out to his place in a Mercedes-Benz . . . He mentioned that in Italy every car, wagon, scooter or bicycle coming from the right has the right of way.

"I shouted such insults at these people out my car window till I found out I was wrong," he said, still embarrassed.

Mrs. Sebastian, the pretty former Jean Bishir, had been writing a novel at a funny little old desk she found in the ancient palatial home they've leased.

"It is such a silly desk. No drawers or anything, but room to put stamps and the butcher bills, and I thought I'd like to buy it cheap and take it home some day.

"So I mentioned one day to the owner that I liked this funny little old desk.

"She said yes, it was a rather nice little desk—D'Annunzio used it for years."

But here in the city of Giotto, Raphael, and Botticelli, which had its greatest period of splendor from 1350 to 1550 A.D., you hear Frank Sinatra on the juke boxes. And a man speaking to another one on the street said in my hearing, "You were speaking of Liberace. Right there's his picture."

BONNIE LEE

John Sebastian led us and Jim Fassett of CBS up a hill to look down at the ancient rocks from where Michelangelo had got the stone for some of his masterworks.

"Look," he said, when we got to the top. There was an old Florentine farm house—and on top of it a TV antenna.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Eddie Fisher will drive to Los Angeles this week for a month-long vacation (and to see Debbie. The Mariners, fired by Godfrey, offered to appear July 13 on his ann'y. show. (No answer yet.)

Larry Puck flies to Chicago weekly to see his bride, Marion Marlowe, at the Chez Paree, and to bring her Lindy's cheesecake.

Ava Gardner will join Elsa Maxwell's "millionaire's cruise" in Greece next month . . . "Dollar a Second" is a hit on Italian TV, as "100 Lire a Second" . . . Bonnie Lee, vocalist with the Joe Loco band, once was head of the Loco fan club.

Ted Lewis signed a three-year deal with the Desert Inn . . . Gloria Vanderbilt's up for a role in "The Eddie Duchin" story . . . Betty Kean, getting onstage at the Latin Quarter with Sophie Tucker, announced, "I want you to know this isn't my sister Jane" . . . Sen. Kefauver's committee will invite Rocky Graziano to suggest ways to combat juvenile delinquency. That's earl, brother.

Chessman Learns of Sixth Reprieve

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Rapist-kidnaper Caryl Chessman first learned of his latest escape from the gas chamber through a newscast yesterday.

It was the book-writing rapist-kidnaper's sixth reprieve from a death sentence in the seven years he has been in San Quentin prison death row.

Chessman was reprieved by Justice Tom C. Clark until the Supreme Court can review his case. It doesn't meet until October.

Chessman was convicted in Los Angeles in 1948 of 17 charges: 4 kidnaping, 2 of sex perversion on his kidnap victims, 8 of robbery and 1 each of attempted robbery, attempted criminal assault and auto theft.

* * *

He got his first inkling of Clark's reprieve when told reporters were seeking interviews.

"I didn't expect action until Friday," Chessman told reporters. "I was sure that action had come. But what was the action?

* * *

"It was hell not to know . . . .

"I put on my radio headset and then I heard the news . . . .

"'It's come through, guys,' I yelled to the others in death row.

Senator Questions Vets' Reserve Role

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) today questioned the propriety of requiring veterans to continue to carry the chief burden under the administration's new military reserve plan.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committe, said in a statement prepared for the opening of committee hearings on the bill which has been strongly urged by President Eisenhower:

"Our prior-service men find themselves right where they were at the time of Korea. They are the only men available in this great nation of ours to shoulder the heavy burden of an active combat-ready reserve."

Russell protested against terming the administration program a new approach to the problem, declaring that as has been the case in the past the reserve burden will fall on men who volunteered or were drafted for military duty.

Nehru Arrives in Italy

ROME (AP)—India's Prime Minister Nehru arrived in Rome today from Yugoslavia for a two-day visit. Italian Premier Antonio Segni met him at the airport. Nehru will have an audience with Pope Pius XII tomorrow and meet President Giovanni Gronchi later.

Jet Pilot Apologizes to Upset Londoners

LONDON (AP)—A test pilot who startled Londoners out of their sleep with an unscheduled burst through the sound barrier apologized last night for the stir he caused.

Early Tuesday Dickie Martin was test-flying a twin-jet delta-winged Javelin over London at a routine 700 miles an hour.

Suddenly his oxygen tube got tangled in the parachute harness. The plane swerved, gathered speed and rocketed through the sound barrier.

Frightened Londoners phoned police that a bomb had gone off. Sailors on the Thames prepared to abandon ships, convinced the boilers had burst. Scotland Yard made extensive inquiries but could find no explanation.

The Gloster Aircraft Co. finally got in touch with the Air Ministry to explain what had happened and relay Martin's apologies.

Garbo Arrives on Riviera in House Slippers

CANNES, France (AP)—Greta Garbo arrived on the Riviera today in her usual manner — felt house slippers, slacks, a plain blouse, dark glasses and ducking photographers.

She came ashore from the liner Constitution with a friend identified as Arthur Schlee. Her frequent companion in New York is George Schlee, husband of dress designer Valentia.

* * *

At the customs office she at first refused to show her passport, surrendering it only after much pleading from Schlee. Spotting a photographer, she ducked back into the customs office until the cameraman disappeared.

Miss Garbo has bought the large villa l'Europe, at Cap d'Ail. While it is being repaired, she is staying at the Hotel de Paris in Monte Carlo.

Colors Cause Cops Copious Confusion

It's getting to the point where a broadcast bulletin for a stolen car sounds like "a loud speaker at a style show," they moan.

Radioman W. G. Nash explained that a car description nowadays is a tongue twister.

"It used to be we could describe a stolen vehicle as black, green, blue or red," he said. "Now it's at least 2-tone, and colors range from robin's egg blue and fuschia to lavender with a beige top.

What makes the situation even worse, said Nash, is that even the owner doesn't always know the color of his car.

Huge Computers Depend on Humans

By WARREN BENNETT
(For Sam Dawson)

NEW YORK (AP) — Those big electronic computers, called the "giant brain," have run into a bottleneck—a shortage of human brains to tell them what to do.

If the truth be known, a giant brain is really quite stupid. It does only what it is told.

A big brain like Sperry Rand Corp.'s UNIVAC or International Business Machine Co.'s model 702 has the computing ability of 25,000 trained mathematicians. It can remember enough information to fill an 1,825-page Manhattan telephone directory, perform logical operations at the rate of 7,200 a second and double check every one as it goes along. But when a big brain comes to a point in a problem where it hasn't been told previously what to do, it just stops.

* * *

People who tell the machine what to do are called programmers. They set up the steps the machine is to follow before it can solve any problem. It may take months to program a problem which the machine with its blinding speed solves within a split-second.

The giant electronic brain, weighing 11½ tons, is helpless without a programmer with a human brain, weighing about three pounds.

There is a shortage of good programmers. There is a shortage, too, of people suitable for training as programmers. Too much isn't known yet about all the qualifications but this much is sure. A Ph.D. degree no longer qualifies a prospect automatically. Too many learned experts with a string of graduate degrees have turned out to be lousy programmers.

* * *

"Perhaps the key is logic," said Dr. Herbert F. Mitchell Jr., director of Sperry Rand's UNIVAC applications. "Good old fashioned horse sense probably is a better term."

Both Sperry Rand and IBM found to their surprise that civilian business applications are harder to set up for the computer than the supposedly much more difficult scientific problems on which they worked for the government during the war.

Core of the current difficulty is the difference between the languages used by science and business. The language of science is mathematics—precise, definite, unvarying. One and one makes two. Always! But the language of business is different.

* * *

"Scientific applications are logical and simple," said Dr. Mitchell, "whereas commercial applications are subject to the individual interpretations of man."

Language is difficult because it is not precise. The word "fast" can mean fleet of foot or the dire opposite as in "tied fast." Or quote a different meaning as in a character reference.

Then there is the idiom. Idioms are pure torture to programmers because they are not logical. Take a word like "charleyhorse." Charley is a nickname for Charles. A horse is a type of animal but a charleyhorse does not mean a horse named Charley. It is a muscular contraction which may take place in the calf and can make you yell like crazy. And calf in this case does not mean a baby cow.

* * *

Finally, if this story were programmed and given to a big brain as a problem it would have read it in a little less than five thousandths of a second—.00458 of a second to be precise.

How long did it take you?

Never mind, it took longer than that for this three pound brain to write it. And a big brain never could.

10th Garage Slated

CHICAGO (UP) — Construction on the last of Chicago's 10 multi-level garages being built in the city's $50,000,000 off-street parking program will begin soon. Plans call for a four-level structure of reinforced concrete with a capacity of 261 cars. It will be of the ramp type with open walls. The city-owned garages offer both self-parking and attendant parking facilities.

In the past five years, Americans have bought more than two electric appliances for each man, woman and child in the country.

Use of asphalt for road paving has increased in the United States from about half a million tons in 1919 to 11 million tons in 1954.

THE ANTARCTIC—4

Richard Evelyn Byrd

The only man ever to fly over both the North Pole and the South Pole is Rear Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd. A native of Winchester, Va., the explorer, now 67 years old, flew over the North Pole on May 9, 1926, and circled the South Pole by air on Nov. 29, 1928.

Admiral Byrd was graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1912, and became a navy aviator four years later. In 1925 he led a naval expedition to Greenland.

The 1928 trip to the South Pole was his first to the Antarctic. He led his second expedition to Antarctica in 1933, and in 1934 he spent five months alone in a tiny hut buried in the snow 123 miles south of the Ross Sea.

Byrd returned to the Antarctic in 1939, and made still another expedition there in 1947. On the 1947 expedition, Byrd and his team of scientists discovered that the region is getting slightly warmer.

Today's picture shows Admiral Byrd preparing to raise the United States flag at his camp at Little America, the name he gave his 1928 base of operations.

Color the picture as you think it should be, remembering the proper colors for the American flag and that all the land and mountains are covered with ice and snow.

Etna Spews Rock, Flame for Prying Navy Aviators

IN A NAVY PLANE OVER MT. ETNA, Sicily (AP)—A little crater in Etna, Sicily (AP)—A little crater inside the big one glows dark red, then ever 8 or 10 minutes pops like a chesnut on a hot fire.

Flames and chunks of molten rock spout up 100 feet or more.

Those are the fireworws from Mt. Etna, which for five nights have been visible for 30 miles or more along the tourist - crowded east coast of Sicily.

It is the most activity Europe's highest volcano has shown for four years. But looking into the crater from only 500 feet away, there is no sign that a major eruption has begun.

* * *

A U. S. Navy R4D two-engine plane was piloted for this flight over the crater by John Riggins of Bluefield, W. Va., an aviation chief machinists mate. The co-pilot was Lt. R. M. Biggenho of Verona, Pa.

The new activity is inside a crater 250 feet by 300 feet formed 44 years ago. It is on the northeast side of the mountain. Three hundred feet above it, the huge main crater now is quiet.

* * *

Inside the northeast crater is a bed of black lava. The new volcanic mouth is a red pimple in the center, about 50 feet wide.

Smoke boils out in puffs and is whipped away by a 30-mile - an-hour wind. A dark red glow brightens to cherry red ever 8 or 10 minutes. That is when the flames lash up and the chunks of molten rock are hurled into the air, to fall back into the crater.

Dr. Salvatore Cocuzza of the Institute of Volcanology of the University of Catania reported the activity "considerably increased" in the past 24 hours.

If the spouts continue to go higher, some lava will begin spilling over the rim of the crater. But authorities reported villagers living in the possible path of a lava flow were showing no signs of fright.

'Work Break' Plan Just Not Practical

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UP)—A publication of the Charmin Paper Mills here reprinted this notice which it said appeared on the bulletin board of a midwest manufacturer:

"To all Employes—Due to the increased competition and a desire to stay in business, we find it necessary to institute a new policy. We are asking that somewhere between starting and quitting time and without infriging too much on the time usually devoted to lunch periods — coffee breaks — rest periods—story telling—ticket selling—vacation planning and the rehashing of last night's TV programs, each employe endeavor to find some time that can be set aside and known as the 'WORK BREAK.'"

Chicagoan Pawns Money at Loss; Saves Tickets

CHICAGO (AP)—A butcher who says for about three years he has been pawning money—and getting cash and pawn tickets—was seized by police yesterday.

But police said they don't know what to do about it.

Sgt. John Doyle of the Police pawn shop detail says that pawning money didn't seem to make sense. But, he added, there is no law against it.

* * *

The man Doyle arrested in a pawn shop, Joseph K. Johnson, 43, admitted pawning between $750 and $1,000 in the last three years, mostly in small amounts.

Doyle said Johnson told him he would pawn $30 for example, and receive $27.50 and a pawn ticket. He never went back to redeem the money.

NOTHING ILLEGAL

"What's the idea," asked Doyle, who has been looking for the man who's been pawning money.

"What do you think?" Johnson asked in reply. "There's nothing illegal about it."

Doyle said he found seven serial numbers, clipped from currency, in Johnson's possession and decided he would turn him over to the Secret Service and have Johnson investigated for mutilation of currency.

The Secret Service said it wasn't interested after police said the currency from which the numbers presumably were cut was not found on Johnson.

Johnson declined to offer any explanation for pawning money or for cutting serial numbers. Asked about the serial numbers, he replied only, "so what?"

Doyle said Johnson told him he was a butcher and said he had served a prison sentence in Minnesota for forgery. He was held overnight without charge.

Scores Bullseye

MANGUM, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. D. O. Givens found a skunk in her chicken house but it wouldn't be scared away when she tossed rocks. Finally, she grabbed a pitchfork and from 15 feet out threw a perfect strike, killing the skunk.

Religion Difference May Nullify Adoption

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis, who face the loss of their adopted daughter because they are Jewish and she is a Catholic, vowed today to "keep on doing everything we can to keep her."

The Ellises have been engaged in a long legal battle to keep 4-year-old Hildy McCoy since their adoption petition was nullified in 1953.

The nullification was based on a Massachusetts law which says that when practicable a child should be given for adoption to a couple of the same religious faith as the child.

In the latest court action, James Zisman, counsel for the Ellises, went before Supreme Court Judge Raymond L. Wilkins yesterday and argued for a review of proceedings in which the couple was ordered to surrender the child or face arrest.

Wilkins gave commonwealth's attorneys two weeks to answer Zisman's contentions that the arrest of the Ellises without a hearing would be a "deprivation of their fundamental rights."

Gen. Smith Chairman of Heritage Foundation

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Heritage Foundation has named Gen. Walter Bedell Smith as its board chairman and John C. Cornelius as president, it announced yesterday.

Smith succeeds Henry Ford II.

The foundation, which recently concluded its "Crusade for Freedom Campaign," said it plans a nonpartisan national campaign to persuade all eligibles to register and vote in the 1956 presidential election.

English Instructor Attends Conference

A member of the Pontiac High School faculty Monday will attend the fourth meeting of the Conference Series for English Teachers in Angell Hall at the University of Michigan.

Gertrude Overton will serve on the panel which will conduct the meeting and appraise the usefulness of grammar for developing skill in language.

Panelists will discuss grammatical structure, the lag between linguistic knowledge and classroom teaching, and grammar in relation to composition.

Chicks Airdropped

McCALL, Idaho (AP)—When Jim Larkin had to deliver 100 baby chicks to the isolated Francis Zonmiller ranch he dropped them by parachute. The ranch reported no injuries.

Auto Exhaust Fumes Called Prime Culprit

CHICAGO (UP)—Automobile exhaust appears to be the major cause of smog in the Los Angeles area, an air pollution control expert told the Midwestern Air Pollution Prevention Assn.

* * *

W. L. Faith, deputy director and chief engineer for the Southern California Air Pollution Foundation, said there is evidence "that automobile exhaust is the No. 1 culprit in our atmosphere."

* * *

Faith said that when evidence first was uncovered that hydrocarbons might be responsible for the eye-stinging smog, control measures were taken and hydrocarbon emissions from oil refineries were reduced.

* * *

"But later," he added, "it was found that even larger amounts of hydrocarbons were emitted in automobile exhaust."

Bob Considine Says:

Koreans Please Hostess With the Mostest

NEW YORK (INS)—A footloose foreign correspondent of considerable importance flashes me from Seoul as follows:

"Thought you'd like to get a little news out of Korea. When I decided to come to the Far East I knew it would be an interesting trip. What I didn't realize was just how much I could see and do in such a short time.

"I have been in Korea only three days and already I have visited in the homes of President and Madame Rhee, Mayor and Mrs. Tai Sun Kim and Dr. Helen Kim, president of Ewha University, Korea's largest women's college.

"It would take many pages to tell you about these gracious people and their lovely Korean homes and I hope to be able to tell you everything when I return to the States.

"I can say one thing: Even though I am thousands of miles from the United States, these friendly people have made it impossible for me to feel as a stranger.

* * *

"It was a great privilege to meet President and Madame Rhee. I have admired President Rhee from what I have read about him. But I can now confirm that he is a very conscientious and humble man, doing everything in his power to overcome communism, build up Korea and promote peace with the freedom-loving nations.

"Mayor Kim also has long been active in the fight against communism both in peace and war. He was the last Korean to cross the Han River bridge before it was blown up in one of the tragic retreats of a war that brought so much pain to such a fine friendly people.

"Yesterday the degree of doctor of law of Ewha University was conferred upon me by Dr. Kim. I was deeply moved. The brief ceremony was most impressive.

"Afterward, Dr. Kim gave a dinner in my honor. When I complimented her on the ceremony she laughingly said, 'Well, I wanted to keep it short and snappy! I think that was rather amusing, coming from a Korean.

* * *

"One of the greatest thrills I have had in Korea was my visit with our soldiers at the 8th Army Hospital this morning. The hospital has been open only a few days. It is positively spotless.

"Patients, personnel and staff are equally proud of their new quarters. I had chow with the boys in the mess hall. There were an Indian, an Englishman and two Americans at my table.

* * *

"My whole trip to Korea has been very gratifying, for I have found in the Korean people staunch friends and among our fine soldiers a very high morale. Most sincerely—Perle Mesta."

KALTENBORN UNAFRAID

H. V. Kaltenborn, vigorous anti-Communist for a long time, is about to depart for Russia. We asked him on John Daly's "Who Said That?" the other night if he had any qualms about visiting a country whose leaders he had identified as scoundrels for a long time.

Not a qualm, H. V. said. They wouldn't dare issue him and his wife a pair of visas and then ship them off to Siberia. They wouldn't dare, he repeated.

John Mason Brown, sitting next to him under the pitiless TV lights which bolstered New York's stupefying heat wave, wistfully responded, "At least it would be cooler."

Bugs Baer was holding forth on the races of man in Shor's pub. Finally he got to one whose menfolks are known for a thirst that is sometimes hereditary.

"It tried to drown its troubles in drink," he said, "but learned that troubles can swim."

10 MINUTES OWED

Bill Paying Habits Not Much Improved

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Despite current high employment, only slight improvement in bill-paying habits of the average family has been reported by the American Collectors Assn., Inc.

Glenn B. Sanberg, executive secretary, said the credit index was at 82.7 in June compared with March's 79.1 and 91.5 last December. Agencies over the nation report a general increase in accounts requiring special collection attention, he said.

"This trend continues to reflect the serious ineptitude of the average wage earner in meeting the demands of free credit spending," Sanberg said. He added this association estimates some six million families have credit problems.

Sanberg reported that personal and business failures in the year's second quarter were up 5.9 per cent from the first three months.

New West Coast Line Linking U.S., Mexico

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UP)—The West's newest passenger steamship service, connecting Southern California with the west coast of Mexico, began operations this month.

The 250-passenger liner S.S. Mazatlan sails every two weeks from San Diego and makes stops at two Mexican ports, Mazatlan and Acapulco.

Open Meetings Demanded in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP) — The Illinois legislature has been asked to pass a law to require public agencies to hold open meetings.

Chief sponsor of the bill was Democratic Rep. Paul Simon, youthful publisher of a weekly newspaper at Troy, Ill.

* * *

His proposal stated that it is "public policy" of the state that public commissions, boards and councils and other public agencies "exist to aid in the conduct of the people's business.

"It is the intent of this Act that their actions be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly," the bill added.

* * *

The bill does not apply to the legislature, since the constitution of Illinois allows secret legislature sessions under certain conditions. As introduced, the bill also would allow ejection of anyone who becomes unruly or boisterous at a public meeting.

Russians Start Tourist Trade

Will Allow Travelers to Pierce Iron Curtain on Pleasure Trips

MOSCOW, July 6 (AP)—The Kremlin has decided to throw open the borders of the Soviet Union to tourist travel.

For the first time since before World War II, a number of Soviet cities will be open to American and other tourists in what apparently will be a big effort to encourage foreign travelers.

This move has long been expected. Since the death of Stalin, preparations appear to have been under way to make certain selected areas of the Soviet Union ready for tourism. Many news correspondents and specially invited delegations of foreigners already have covered cities of Soviet Central Asia, the Caucasus, the Ukraine and the Central Russian Republic.

* * *

The aim of the Soviet government appears to be to contribute to its current campaign of slackening international tensions.

Western travel agents already are in Moscow making arrangements for tourist travel, which is expected to begin late in August or early in September. Travel agents from Norway, Sweden and Britain have been inspecting the facilities of Moscow hotels, and have told correspondents they were doing so in order to recommend accommodations to their clients.

Fourth Traffic Toll Winds Up as 407

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Final reports show that 407 persons died in traffic accidents over the Fourth of July weekend, a record.

The previous record for a three-day Fourth of July holiday was 366 in 1952. During a four-day Independence Day period in 1950, 491 persons died in traffic mishaps.

The National Safety Council's preholiday estimate for this year was 380.

Crash Kills Chicagoan, Injures Entire Family

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—Felix Monchunski, 31, of Chicago, was killed Tuesday and four passengers suffered injuries in a two-car crash on U. S. 31, about 12 miles north of Benton Harbor.

Sheriff's men said his car collided with one driven by Allen Gordon of Chicago. Police said his car cE8T9AOIN ETAOINUNU Monchunski's wife, Maxine, his son, Peter, 1, and a sister, Mrs. Clara Donato were taken to Mercy Hospital in Benton Harbor.

Good Cherry Harvest Indicates Profit Slash

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—A larger 1955 red tart cherry crop indicates a slash in returns for Michigan growers who eyed a new seven cents a pound packer price Tuesday.

Spokesmen in the Bellwether southwestern area noted the price was four cents under the seasonal average they received last year. The 1954 returns were reported at $10,430,000 from 94,000,000 pounds of cherries.

Packers report opening prices in the Southwest Michigan cherry district traditionally hold firm or edge upward, one said he can see no likelihood of a dip in Michigan's seven cents a pound price "unless the price in other cherry states weakens."

1,625 Mink Airlifted to Newfoundland

MINOT, N. D. (UP)—"Operation Mink" was carried off here on schedule recently. An airline moved 1,625 of the fancy little animals from here to Newfoundland.

They were from the McNeill mink farm, Fort Kappell, Sask., and the O. W. Francis mink farm at Moosejaw, Sash. Four hundred others were relayed through here from the McNeill farm in Denver.

The airborne operation was forced upon the owners because of a lack of food for their animals. The owners said there was a shortage of horsemeat and fish. In Newfoundland, the mink live on a diet of whale meat and ocean fish.

Truman Library Architect Expires

He was Edward F. Neild of Shreveport, La.

Neild, who was about 65, checked in at the Kansas City Club and went to his room, preparatory to going to breakfast with Lon Gentry, a member of a Kansas City architectural firm associated with Neild in the library job.

Wyoming Offering Lots for One Dollar

BYRON, Wyo. (UP) — Want a free lot on which to build a house? You can have one—provided you move to this little northwestern Wyoming town near the Montana border.

* * *

To encourage settlement in Byron (pop. 400), the township has offered to give a 75-by-100-foot lot free to anyone who will build a house on it. The only charge is a $1 fee to satisfy legal requirements in recording the deed.

The town made the offer, according to Mayor S. W. Cozzens, especially to entice oil workers in a nearby field to settle here.

* * *

"We had a little surplus in the treasury," Cozzens said, "so we decided that giving away lots would be the best way to encourage growth."

The town paid $125 each for the lots and has 20 available.

Landlords Change, Tenant Stays Same

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (UP)—Tenants come and tenants go while landlords remain the same—usually.

Mrs. Helen Williams, 80, has reversed the pattern.

She has rented the second floor of the Bartenbach Building here for 50 years, under four generations of Bartenbachs. She started renting under great-grandfather George, then under his son Henry, then Henry's son, George, and finally under George's son, Henry.

And the association has been pleasant. She is not paying much more now than she did when she first moved in.

Bird Bats Brains Against Reflection

CONWAY, Ark. (UP) — A robin has struck up a romance with a rear window at a plumbing shop here.

Since March 7, the robin has all but batted its bird brains out against its own reflection.

The shop's owner, Paul Moore, tried to stop the senseless assault by putting sticky glue on the bird's take-off point, a rack of plumbing pipe. The bird just pecked the glue off and kept on hitting the window.

"That bird fights the window for two or three hours at a time and goes off for food and rest," Moore said. "Then it returns and resumes its attack."

It stops only when the evening sun causes the reflection to disappear. But when the bird shows up the next day, so does the reflection.

3 Top Pacific Officers Fly to Taipei to Confer on Red Coastal Activity

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—Three top U.S. Air Force officers in the Pacific flew into Taipei today to confer on the buildup of Communist air power on the nearby Red mainland.

Simultaneously Chinese Nationalists said two Red air bases which would bring Formosa and offshore islands within easy striking distance of Communist jets were about completed.

* * *

The visiting officers are Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, commander of the Far East Air Force in Japan; Maj. Gen. Sory Smith, chief of the Pacific Air Command in Pearl Harbor, and Brig. Gen. William L. Lee, commander of the U.S. 13th Air Force in the Philippines.

In addition to the Red buildup, they will discuss operating problems of the U.S. air task force on Formosa. One possible result might be the rotation of additional U.S. Air Force squadrons on Formosa for training purposes.

* * *

Gen. Wang (Tiger) Shu-ming, Nationalist Air Force chief, said a new Communist jet field at Swatow, 200 miles west of Formosa, is almost ready for use. He also said, in an interview, that remodeling work on a Red base at Foochow is nearly complete. Foochow is 120 miles northwest of Formosa.

Wang said the Communists were continuing to shift their air power southward to the seaboard provinces from which Formosa could be threatened or attacked at any time.

* * *

He estimated the Reds had about 1,000 planes in these coastal provinces, about half of them Russian-type MIG15's.

The Nationalist Air Force, Wang said, is being built up with more modern planes, powerful radar equipment and better antiaircraft guns. More Formosan airports can be used for jet training, he said, and fewer pilots have to be sent to the United States for that purpose.

Salk Serum Supply Forecast Promised Soon

WASHINGTON (UP)—"An accurate forecast of available supply" of Salk polio vaccine for the rest of the summer has been promised by the U.S. Public Health Service, perhaps today.

A spokesman said yesterday the health service is working on a statement designed to show just how much vaccine is now on hand in processing plants and not yet cleared for use.

Alfalfa roots often extend into the ground as much as 15 feet.

Eaves-Lopping Answers House Moving Problem

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Eaves-lopping solved a knotty house-moving problem here. A four-unit apartment was being moved five miles. All went well until the 55-by-44-foot structure moved onto Loma Avenue. There it became a traffic block. The avenue is only 40 feet wide.

For two hours the crew tried to figure how to get moving. Then Foreman Cecil R. Martin had the eaves cut off — exactly two feet on each side — and got the house to its new lot.

Resigns From MSU

LANSING (AP)—Robert L. Scott, on leave of absence from Michigan State University, has submitted his resignation to continue as director of the youth division of the State Corrections Department.

Communists Violate Truce in Indochina and Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department told Congress the Communists have violated the truce agreement in Indochina, as well as in Korea, to increase their military strength in the northern part of the country.

* * *

Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, said in testimony made public today that expanded Communist Vietminh forces in North Indochina "have greatly increased their firepower."

Testifying June 27 before a House Appropriations subcommittee considering foreign aid, Robertson said:

HELPING VIETMINH

"They (the Vietminh) have a well equipped army there which has been brought up to some 350,000 men and been supplied with modern equipment, also in violation of the Geneva agreements." These agreements last year halted the seven-year Indochina war.

Secretary of State Dulles said a sort of tacit cease-fire has developed in the Formosa strait, without concessions by either side.

"I do not say that there is a stable situation yet, but it is a situation which is vastly improved over that which seemed to confront us earlier this year," he added.

Family's Birthdays Sure of Celebration

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — It may not be too surprising if one of the children of Edward and Virginia Fleche grows up to be president.

Peter, one, was born Feb. 12, Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

The Fleches' first daughter, Ellen Marie, got into the act this year. But it involved some duplication. She, like brother Michael, was born on Feb. 22.

All Attend 1 College

WATERVILLE, Me. (UP)—Eight-year-old Joseph Jabar, already engaging in athletics at St. Joseph's parochial school, has no problem in a choice of college. It'll be Colby. His five brothers were mainstays of Colby College basketball, football and baseball teams. Four of them—Herbert, Norman, John and Paul—graduated in the same year, 1953. The fifth, Tony, graduated last year.

Bridge Subs for Cop

OMAHA, Neb. (UP) — Trucks aren't allowed on Minne Lusa boulevard, and if the police don't catch errant truck drivers, a railroad bridge may. R. F. McNally, Lewellen, Neb., zipping along the boulevard, went under the bridge and looked back to find that the upper art of the trailer had been sheared off neatly by the span.

University of Michigan Glee Club Making Friends on European Tour

ROME (AP) — The University of Michigan Mens' Glee Club is making friends for the United States abroad in a unique manner this summer.

With money earned from concerts at home — plus $200 which each of the 41 young students dug up from his own pocket—they are traveling across Europe, showing Continentals that young America is a far cry from the combination of juvenile delinquency, hot jazz, panty raids and delux convertibles which Communist propaganda paints.

The peak crowd of the tour came yesterday when 3,500 heard the glee club sing beneath in the shadow of giant statues at a Fourth of July celebration in the stadium where the 1960 Olympic Games will be held.

After their concerts, the Michigan students—from 12 states—mix with foreign students in the equivalent of a college bull session.

EUROPE LIKES 'VICTORS'

"The audiences love best of all to hear "The Victors," Michigan's football song." With concerts still to do in Switzerland and France before they sail for home in mid-July, the glee club feels its trip has been 100 per cent successful.

The trip was off to a flying start when Queen Juliana of the Netherlands called the glee club for a command performance in the Hague almost as soon as they were ashore. Then came concerts at the University of Leiden, at the Hague and in Amsterdam, at the University of Cologne, for the U. S. Information Agency in Stuttgart, for U. S. soldiers and airmen at Weisbaden, at the University of Munich, at Eichstatt at the mayor's request and at Rothenburg to raise money to reconstruct local antiquities. At Salzburg they appeared at Mozarteum, noted music academy, and then came Zell Am See under municipal sponsorship. In Italy, until yesterday, they had been sightseeing and resting up.

SNAKE IS NECKPIECE — Not too many guests lined up to kiss the bride, and no wonder. Joan Hall, who charms snakes for a living, draped a real, live python around her shoulders as part of her wedding attire in London, England. The snake, a gift from the groom, behaved, so the wedding ties didn't include a stranglehold.

Glee club members who live as well as study in Michigan are: Dave Hagen, 2625 Traver Rd., Ann Arbor; James Hardy, 2011 De Volson, Ann Arbor; Richard Heusel, 419 Benjamin, Ann Arbor; Bruce McCubbrey, 16860 Oakfield, Detroit; Thomas Schill, 1206 Roosevelt, Ypsilanti; Jerry Van Otteren, 936 Lake Michigan Dr., Grand Rapids; Robert Brown, 1617 Brooklyn Ave., Ann Arbor.

It is estimated that one-sixth of the patents issued in the United States are related to automobile industries.

Misled Thief Flees

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Mrs. Ann J. Papandrea thwarted a hold-up man by telling him, "All the cash is in our other building." After the bandit had fled, she told police that a safe directly behind her was "loaded."

Like Grip on Lion

ARCHER, Neb. (UP) — Kenneth and Dick Luebbe and Stanley Sinsel captured a bald eagle with a lasso after it was wounded. The boys found they couldn't keep up with the eagle's rabbit-a-day appetite, couldn't kill it because of a $1,000 fine imposed to protect the prototype of the national emblem and couldn't let it go because it would prey on small farm animals. Nebraska's game commission finally took the bird for zoo purposes.

Belyea, Wile Vying for Position

Council Checks Job Applications

Walled Lake Board Finding to Be Given at Tuesday Meeting

WALLED LAKE—The City Council Tuesday narrowed applicants for the position as city manager to two when they approved considering Edward Belyea of DeWitt and Clifford Wile of Ferndale as contenders for the job. After application investigation, the council will announce its decision at a special meeting next Tuesday

Council said applications for extra policemen also will be considered at that time.

Representatives of a planned subdivision on Decker road north of Pontiac trail asked the city to pave the portion of Decker road marked for the main road of the subdivision. No action was taken.

An ordinance prohibiting the discarding of catchlock refrigerators and ice boxes was adopted. It will be effective July 26. Council also approved an amendment to the garbage ordinance.

Contract bids for garbage collection in the city will be accepted by council on July 19. Copies of specifications are available at the city office for interested contractors.

NEW CITY OFFICES

Council approved lease provisions for the relocation of the city offices in the Atkins Building, now being prepared for occupancy by July 15. The new offices will be located in the area formerly occupied by the post office.

Clerk Ray Price was told the council had approved a $50.00 monthly pay increase for his deputy.

Anaconda is the only one of the four major copper producing companies that has not been struck by a walkout of an estimated 30,000 union workers. The strike is in its seventh day.

Monday Afternoon Quarterback:

You'd Be Richer Today if You Bought GM in '08

NEW YORK (AP)—It's too late now, but you might like to know you'd be a very rich individual if you had invested $1,000 in General Motors when it was first organized in 1908.

The stock went up $14.37 to $127.75 a share yesterday following the announcement that the shares will be split three-for-one. That sent the statisticians to their files to see what history showed.

That $1,000 in 1908 would have purchased 10 shares of stock in what was then known as the General Motors Co. of New Jersey (It became General Motors Corp., a Delaware corporation, in 1916). Today, after taking into consideration stock splits and stock dividends over the years, those 10 shares would have become 5,047 shares.

* * *

You would have received a comfortable sum in dividends and the sale of rights to subscribe to additional shares. The total, up to the present: $338,470.

* * *

Of course, you may not have been around in 1908. So suppose you had had the foresight 10 years ago to buy 100 shares of GM. Even if you'd paid around $77 a share, near the top for 1945, you would have a fat profit now. Here's what's happened since:

* * *

The 100 shares for which you paid $7,700 were split two-for-one in 1950. Today you would have 200 shares selling at $127.75 apiece for a total of $25,550. Your profit would be $17,850.

* * *

Why so many splits? The reason usually given is that lower-priced shares attract many more investors than high-priced ones. That broadens the ownership, which is something many large corporations are seeking.

Rochester Area Plans Meeting

Future Open Forum Will Air Master Plan for Highways

ROCHESTER—Ten members of the Avon-Rochester-Oakland Planning Commission attended a special meeting last night in the Municipal Building, when plans were made for a future open forum meeting to acquaint the public with the Highway and Thoroughfare Plan which has been accepted by the commission.

The group has accepted the plan as a part of the master plan for the Avon-Rochester-Oakland area.

Howard T. Keating Jr. presented the Avon Heights plat, popularly knewn as the McKerchie Farm property, for approval of the commission. Keating's plat excludes lots 32-34 for an easement. A letter was sent to the Avon Zoning Board, giving commission approval.

A change of zoning for six lots of Rochdale Subdivision will be taken up at the next regular meeting of the group.

Commission members were asked to make a study of a proposed village municipal site. Consultant David Geer was asked to make a study of the site and give an early report.

Churchill's Gift Lion Shows Bad Disposition

LONDON (AP)—A lion cub — a present from America for Sir Winston Churchill—arrived today and became so enraged keepers couldn't take it from its cage.

"This lion," said C. G. Harwood, a London zoo official, "has no sense of humor at all and is very dangerous."

* * *

The 3-months-old lion arrived at London airport in a cargo flight from New York, the gift of Park Forest, Ill., members of Lions International, a service organization.

Zoo officials destroyed Churchill's pet lion Rota June 18 to save him from suffering the infirmities of old age.

President of Key Club

DETROIT (AP)—Edward Stebbins, 16, of Little Rock, Ark., was elected president Wednesday of Key Club International, Kiwanis-sponsored organizatio nof boy high school students. Tony Nisson of Iron Mountain was elected an international trustee at the group's final convention session.

The U.S. Marine Corps was first authorized by an act of the Continental Congress passed Nov. 10, 1775.

L. W. Pilcher, 60, Dies in Waterford

Funeral service for L. W. (Lote) Pilcher, 60, of 5786 Crescent Rd., Waterford Township, will be Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Pursley Funeral Home.

Mr. R. E. Gegoux, reader of the First Church of Christ Scientist here, will officiate. Graveside service will be conducted by Brotherhood Lodge No. 561 F&AM, and pallbearers will be past masters of the lodge.

* * *

Detroiters Plead Guilty to Breakin Charge

Three Detroiters, who pleaded guilty to breaking into two Royal Oak gas stations, pleaded guilty when they appeared before Royal Oak Judge Fletcher Renton yesterday.

Held in Oakland County Jail under $1,000 bond pending arraignment in Circuit Court July 18 are Gary Ferguson, 17; Gerhardt Luce, 22, and Theodore Franzel, 17.

Royal Oak Det. Virgil Scott said the three were picked up early Wednesday morning when caught siphoning gas from an auto in a residential neighborhood. Scott said tools taken from the two burglarized stations were found in their auto.

Woman and Dog Recover From Sleeping Pill Dose

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A woman and her dog were hospitalized last night after the woman reportedly gave the dog 12 sleeping pills and took 28 herself.

Frank Tufaro told police he came home about 5 p.m. and found his wife, Wilma, 52, in a dazed condition and the dog almost dead.

Tufaro said his wife told him she gave the dog 12 sleeping pills and took about 28 herself. He said she gave no reason for it. Both were reported recovering.

Honorably Mentioned

Gary Nelson of Royal Oak and Betty Lou King of Caro, area youngsters nominated for the Young American Medal for Bravery, both received honorable mention, according to an announcement by Gov. G. Mennen Williams yesterday.

Boys Attend 'Y' Camp

Two outstanding young men, Gary Evans and Hans Kristenuboth of Southfield Township, are attending Oakland County's YMCA camp, Camp Mahn-go-tah-se, reports S. N. Geal, camp director.

Gary is a recent winner of the Kiwanis Key Club state oratorical contest, and is training for a counselor position.

Hans, a German exchange student, has been attending Southfield High School and is now spending his last three weeks in the United States at the Y camp.

City Police Extradite Embezzling Suspect

Two Pontiac Police Detectives were in Miami, Fla., today to return Irwin H. Fisher to Michigan for prosecution on embezzlement charges.

Detective Sgt. William Hanger and Detective James Bale left yesterday to extradite Fisher, 28, an advance man for Cole and King Brothers circus. He is charged with embezzling $1,055 from a Pontiac businessman. Fisher also is charged with converting $210 of advance ticket sale money to his own use.

Miami authorities rearrested Fisher yesterday after he had jumped $5,000 bond. He had been released on the bond pending outcome of the extradition proceedings.

Copper is added to some steel to increase resistance to atmospheric corrision and increase strength.

Names Lawyer to Revise Work

Plans Call for 7-Man City Council Which Will Appoint Manager

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—The Southfield Charter Commission, at a meeting last night, approved seven points in a proposed city charter and appointed an attorney to rewrite the charter.

* * *

The attorney, Julius Burns, will sit in on commission meetings and make the final draft of the charter. He was hired on a contingent fee basis of $2,500.

Points in the planned charter given commission approval were:

1. A seven-man City Council.
2. All area (Single Ward) representation.
3. A non-partisan government.

4. A staggered Council term with four to be elected for four-year terms and three for two-year terms at the first election.

5. Council to appoint a city manager.

6. Mayor to act as president of the council with equal vote and no veto power. He will be goodwill ambassador and have emergency executive power.

7. Civil service will continue for police and fire departments but other departments will be left to discretion of the Council.

Duties and powers of the city manager will be studied in readiness for insertion in the charter during the next meeting.

A sheet of suggestions on forming a charter, prepared by Wardley McMasters (defeated candidate for charter commission), was turned in for the commission to study.

Suggestions from electors will be welcomed when presented in nine-copy form, officials said, so that each member of the commission may study them between meetings.

The township clerk was advised to delay registration of residents until the new afidavits on registration forms have arrived. They were to be available in two weeks' time.

Hair Dressing Now Has Color Built Right In

It's logical that some women are hesitant about tinting their hair. Even the new shampoo tints make some women feel they might look conspicuous.

* * *

For these even more sensitive souls, there's now a product. It's a cream hair dress with color in it.

The maker of this product explains that it's nonstaining, nongreasy and unsticky. It has lots of lanolin in it, according to the manufacturers, and can therefore be absorbed quickly by the hair.

It comes in shades of red, brunette, blonde, platinum or gray.

* * *

A little bit of it goes on finger tips or hairbrush and is brushed or rubbed through the hair.

It's lightly scented, also. The makers feel that it's a good conditioner and might be an aid to those who have overbleached or overcooked permanent wave hair. It should help dried hair ends and help keep a wave in.

Prevents Red Nose

You can prevent a red and peeling nose throughout the summer if you keep it covered while sitting in the sun. Make a noseguard out of paper and attach it to the bridge of your sun glasses with cellophane tape.

Room for Man Should Show His Interests

NEW YORK (INS) — When decorating a young man's room to please the masculine mood and mind, model the motif around his interests and hobbies.

A room setting at a New York department store accomplished this by covering one wall, down to workbench level, with pegboard. From this was suspended various sporting equipment such as rod and reel, baseball bat and glove.

Also on this wall were two brass drop lamps. A work shelf ran the width of the wall, painted bright green to match the three remaining walls.

In front of it were three square stools with wrought iron legs. The stools were covered in white fabric with either green, turquoise or chartreuse stripes.

A desk chair was of green and white striped fabric, and the cafe curtains on the window were striped in similar colors.

Accessory Colors to Match Car Hue

NEW YORK (UP)—Gone are the days when a woman just worried about coordinating the color of her clothes. Now the car gets in the act.

Latest fashion wrinkle is matching handbags and gloves, handkerchiefs and scarves, belts and umbrellas to the pastel shades of the family auto. Even ball point pens and sun glasses can be bought in colors to match some of the new two-tone car colors.

No Baby Pillow

It seems time to issue the perennial warning. A pillow for baby, however dainty, cute or important a gift, should not be used in his crib or carriage. Let it be a pincushion or a decoration for his chiff, but it's not safe for sleeping.

Nail holes and cracks in woodwork must be filled before painting if the results are going to look professional.

How to Start Retirement Program

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband and I and a group of friends would like to make some plans for retirement," a woman writes.

"We are all in the late 40s or early 50s. Some of the men will be retired at 60, others at 65.

"We would like to form a group that would meet, maybe once a month, to exchange ideas and start some kind of program for the people planning retirement. We have your list of recommended books on the subject and find them most helpful.

"Our town is small and has no organization of this kind. It has no money for such a project, so we'll have to do it on our own, but we don't know where to start.

"Could you make some suggestions for a project like this?"

CANVASS THE TOWN

That's a large order, but here are some suggestions which might be helpful.

First, make a canvass of your town and see how many people there are whose aid you might enlist.

Perhaps there is a doctor who handles a good many older people, and who might give a talk on safeguarding health. See if there is a psychologist, who might, for a small fee, set up a vocational testing and advisement plan oriented toward the older worker.

Check with your local minister or ministers. More and more, the churches are interesting themselves in problems such as this.

Your church might give you use of a room for your meetings and other kinds of help.

* * *

Talk also with the teachers in your high school and see what they might suggest. Also, make a canvass of all the people in town who have already retired. Many times, their stories would be most provocative and helpful.

SET UP PROGRAM

The first step, after you know exactly what resources the town has, is to find a location for your meetings and set up a program.

Once a month you might have a preliminary lecture series, with a minister, a psychologist, a medical doctor and some of the retired people, each giving a talk.

If possible, consult the local librarian and see that the library is well supplied with pertinent books.

If you make this beginning, you will find that more and more people will become interested and your seed will begin to grow like a weed.

Pitt Engineers Prefer Being Band Musicians

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Robert L. Arthur, director of the University of Pittsburgh band for 17 years, says there is a definite correlation between music and engineering students.

The director explained that it is more than coincidence that nearly a third of his 120-member Pitt varsity band are engineering students.

"In music the individual must produce the exact sound and tempo desired, just as an engineer must be exact in his engineering problems and drawing,' Arthur said. "There is no room for error in either field."

Arthur said the pains an engineer gives to his mathematical computations are reflected in his other activities. The engineer is willing to put in long, tedious hours of practice to help make him a musician.

The same urge for precision and ability to concentrate help make an engineer excellent material for a marching band, Arthur said.

Use Up Cloth Scraps

Use those scraps left from slip covering or reupholstery. They can be made into storage bags for the closet or as containers for small cleaning items and for small parts of the vacuum cleaner.

Do You Talk to Strangers on Trains?

Act Friendly, but Don't Chat Unless Encouraged

By EMILY POST

A typical question asked at this season of the year is this one: "When taking a long journey by train, is it permissible to talk to strangers to whom one has not been introduced?"

Answer: If you are seated next to someone who responds with friendliness to your greeting, then you may continue to talk, but you should not continue any advances that are not met with definite encouragement.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what is proper in the following situation: When a person leaves the city for an extended vacation, is it up to her to call her friends to say goodbye or are they supposed to call her?

"My understanding has always been that the person leaving calls her friends to say goodbye but that when she returns home her friends are supposed to call and welcome her back. Am I right about this?"

Answer: While there is no rule about this, anyone leaving on a vacation would almost certainly tell those of her friends she talks to that she is leaving—and on her return she would have to let them know she is back.

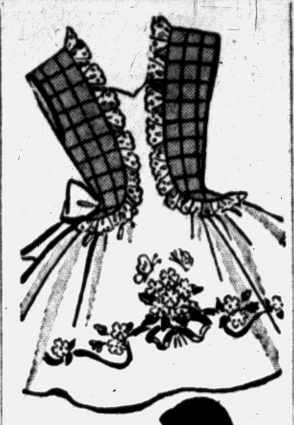

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct monogram to use on glassware which I intend to give as a 25th wedding anniversary present. Are the husband's or the wife's initials correct, or a combination of both their initials?"

Answer: There's no actual rule, but usually glasses that are set on the dining table are marked with the initials of the wife. Whisky glasses and cocktail glasses that are served away from the table are marked with his initials.

Garnet Abrasives Outlast Sandpaper

Most sandpaper is flint-coated but garnet paper, five times as expensive, is much harder and so lasts longer and speeds the job. Even harder than garnet paper is the aluminum oxide variety.

Don't Allow Dirt to Embed in Cloth

If neglected, dust and dirt become embedded in clothing just as they do in upholstery material. A neglected coat or suit, seldom brushed, shows signs of wear much more quickly than a garment which is vacuum cleaned frequently.

Any garment which is to be pressed should be given a vacuum cleaner treatment, so that there will be no danger of dirt being mashed into the fibers, thus to cut the material just as it does carpets and rugs.

Baby Paper Box

A toy chest is nice, but good big cardboard cartons have an advantage for the todling baby. They're light enough to be hauled around the house; they're easily replaceable. Also, if baby likes to crawl inside things, there's no danger in cartons.

Wise Mother Accepts Child's Wish

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. White's three-year-old George enjoys his evening bath. He likes the feeling of power he gets by churning its water into waves that make his celluloid bath toys bob wildly about. Intrigued by this god-like feeling, he will ignore his mother's demand that he stand up and be dried.

* * *

Then, what she'll do is to sit down on the tub's edge, towel spread over her lap and quietly pull the plug. And she'll say, "My, how you like splashing! You'd like to be a fish, wouldn't you?

"If you were a fish instead of a boy, you could follow that bath water right down the drain into the big pipes under the street. You'd swim and swim till you reached the ocean. There, you'd have real waves to splash in . . . "

By this time, George has been dried, put into pajamas and made ready for his evening meal.

* * *

Mrs. Black's three-year-old Ted also enjoys his bath. He, too, will ignore his mother's demand to stand up and be dried.

Then, Mrs. Black will say, "Did you hear me, Ted? I haven't time for fooling tonight. Stop splashing—and get up, I said! Are you going to do as you're told—or do I have to spank you?"

SUBDUED BY SLAP

At this point, she and Ted are so mutually resentful that his angry wriggling has to be subdued with the promised slap.

Why does George accept his mother's wish to remove him from his bath—and Ted resist the same wish in his mother?

The answer is a most important key to the discipline of children.

George accepted his mother's wish to remove him from his bath because she gave sympathetic acceptance to his wish to stay in it. Ted fights his mother's wish because she attacked his. As she refused any interest in what he wanted, she got none in return for what she wanted.

Children do not resent opposing action to their wishes, but attack of the wishes.

* * *

For some reason, many parents confuse accepting a child's wish with granting it. This idea that acceptance of wishes is "spoiling" causes terrible trouble.

In my two illustrations, it is Mrs. White, the accepter of the wish, who is the "nonspoiling" mother. While sympathizing with George's desire to splash, she acts in opposition to it. She removes the bath plug, takes him on her lap, towels him and puts him into pajamas.

ACTION PARALYZED

Mrs. Black who flatters herself that she is a "nonspoiling" mother takes no opposing action. Instead of moving herself, she asks Ted to do the moving. She's so busy attacking what he wants that her action is paralyzed.

* * *

This is always the way it works. The fighter of children's wishes is kept so busy fighting them that he never gets around to responsible action of his own.

Avoid Mess in Outdoor Decorating

Don't Splash Paint Over the Shrubs, Shingles, Windows

Last year an old and dear friend of ours set out to paint his house. Some weeks later the job was finished and we had to tell him man to man that the place looked better before he started work.

There was paint on most of the shrubs and bushes around the foundations. There was paint on the black asphalt shingles, paint on some of the red brick around the front door and paint on the concrete masonry block foundation.

Of course, there was plenty of paint on most of the window glass and that paint, along with most of the rest, is still there. There is even yet some paint on the shrubs and bushes.

It's just as important to be careful where the paint goes when you paint outdoors as for indoor painting. Surfaces such as roof shingles and masonry are very porus. If you by accident get paint on these surfaces, go right after it with terpentine or a solvent.

If you wait—the paint will soak into the material and then it's there to stay. The best solution is to be careful and not splatter the paint around.

Shrubs and bushes get a lot of paint spilt on them and the best remedy here is to cover them with a drop cloth—heavy building paper does just fine for this job.

Masking tape, a metal guard plate, a sash brush and care will help avoid getting paint on window glass.

You may find that after a wall has been painted and is dry, it's necessary to put your ladder up against it to get the trim around windows. If you do, put some clean coverings—a piece of soft cotton is fine—on the top ends of the ladder so that they won't leave nasty looking marks on the freshly painted surfaces.

Avoid using a container of paint that's full to the brim—it spills over the sides too easily, and also don't work with a brush that is so saturated with paint that it can't help but drip.

There's something new under the sun—an outstanding new development in sunscreen chemistry called Bronztan. This new product screens out the sun's harmful burning rays and yet lets through the healthful tanning rays, enabling the user to acquire a glorious bronze tan without going through the painful burn-then-peel process. It is a colorless, non-oily liquid and protects the skin even after swimming.

Explain a Hospital Visit

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP)—Tell your child why, if he is going to the hospital.

Even if its just for a tonsillectomy, your child should be prepared emotionally, says Dr. Nannette Dice, a University of Michigan psychiatrist.

"It is better," said Dr. Dice, "to answer questions frankly and briefly rather than keep the child in suspense."

It might make it easier to stay with the child while he is hospitalized. If this isn't possible, let the child take part of home with him in the form of a favorite toy, a baseball glove, or a family photograph.

TELL THE TRUTH

The psychiatrist cautioned against covering up the unpleasantness of the forthcoming hospital experience. Tell the child the truth, she advised.

The psychiatrist said that a certain amount of readjustment takes place after the child returns home.

"Most children," she said, "are mildly upset for a week or 10 days after an operation."

But often the child gains emotionally from the first hospital experience.

"A feeling of having been able to pass through and deal with danger and pain may add to the child's self-assurance and sense of security," she said.

Fellowship to See Playlet on Tuesday

A playlet entiled "Growing in Grace and Knowledge" will be presented for members of the Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church who gather Tuesday at the church.

Taking part in the program will be Mrs. W. T. Hoyt, Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. Paul Colton and Mrs. Joe Morgan.

Members are invited to bring their friends and children. A business meeting will be held at 10:45 and a sack lunch will precede the afternoon playlet.

Touch Room With Color

NEW YORK (INS) — If the monotony of a one-color room gives you that depressed feeling, keep in mind that just one touch of color can make all the difference.

* * *

A New York store is showing some model rooms that point this up.

A living room is almost completely devoted to a very light tan called putty. The walls and rug are putty and the pleated drapes are of a ribbed fabric in the same color.

The two sectionals, an overstuffed and two wood-showing chairs are all covered in the pale, almost off-white putty. End tables are in dark wood, with black, raised borders.

* * *

But the feature of the room is a round, light wood card table surrounded by cane-backed chairs painted a bright cerise. The contrasting color brightens up the room and shows to good advantage the serene shade of the other furniture.

Another room, this time a bedroom, uses pale beige carpeting, off-white walls and a dull gold print on off-white for bedspread, upholstery and draperies.

She Just Can't Keep Boys Around

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've gone out with lots of boys but I can't seem to keep one for any longer than three weeks. I've tried to think of what I've done or said that seems to make them change their minds about me—and I can't figure it out. Please give me some advice."

Answer: You're blaming yourself completely and entirely for the ups and outs of your friendships with boys. It well might be that none of the boys you've dated was really your type, or was in the mood to stick around and settle down.

It may be nothing actually that you've said and done. It's just that you didn't get together with a really congenial guy—one who went for your style of beauty as you did for his.

All boys like to be around girls who are pretty, gay, good-humored, amusing, lively and wide awake. They like girls who are appreciative and give out genuine interest and applause. Dating such girls goes on and on for weeks because they're fun to be with.

* * *

Girls who are slow on their feet, reticent, or turned inward on themselves in shyness or lack of interest, don't attract boys for long. They're a heavy load and boys get bored with a drag.

It's sparkle in a boy that attracts you. That's what they like in girls, too. They like ideas for things to do, and a girl who will play along with them lightheartedly. Congenially shared fun is what keeps boys coming back for more!

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 12 and in the seventh grade. The boy I like is 15 and a freshman. He liked me until a few days ago when another girl stepped into his life. She's my age but in the eighth grade.

"Don't you think it is perfectly silly for him to drop me and go with her just because she is a year ahead of me in school?"

Answer: If that's the real reason, it does seem sort of silly. On the other hand, it's logical to think that an eighth grader might have more dating privileges than a seventh grader. No matter what their age, eighth graders get around a bit more companionably with high school boys.

But no matter how silly you consider the reason, it's quite probable that your boy friend has had a slight change of heart because of this other girl's personality, looks, dating availability—and perhaps because he just wants a change of faces.

Don't blame yourself for that. But don't blame him either. Ons and offs happen fairly regularly when you first start dating. So don't let your heart break over something that's nobody's fault.

Add Dry Bleaches to Every Washing

To keep white clothes white and colorfast clothes bright, there's one good rule to follow. Add the new chlorine dry bleach to every washing.

It actually removes every speck of dirt and doesn't allow any greying or yellow to accumulate.

It does as much for household linens, nylons, dacrons and orlons, too, so keep a jar handy with your box of detergent and notice what a beautiful wash you have every time.

Want Dull Copper?

Most copper accessories these days are lacquered and will stay gleaming with just a swish of a soapy cloth. But if you want the aged copper look for any reason, you can take the lacquer off with denatured alcohol.

Duplicate Frock Need Not Alarm

NEW YORK (INS)—What's the polite thing to do when you meet another woman wearing the same kind of dress you've got on?

"Be gay about it," says Mollie Parnis, and "don't look, act or feel flustered."

Miss Parnis is the designer whose look-alike clothes on Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower and another lady recently caused a front page fuss, and that makes her opinion worth listening to.

The designer makes the point that you bought the dress because you liked it—and it's not "shameful" to react favorably to the same pretty dress just because another woman has it on.

Deplores Scanty Garb on the Stage

Famous Director Scores Nudity and Vulgarity

PARIS (INS)—A pretty girl may be just like a melody but a famed stage and screen director insists that the scantily clad ones don't belong in the legitimate theater.

Mamoulian agrees beautiful girls are "musts" for the success of any modern production. But he rules out Minsky-style scenes.

"If nudity was a necessity for the success of stage and screen plays, I'd jump into a lake and never come up," the director asserts.

"The public does not need nudity and doesn't look for it if it is given shows with good taste."

* * *

Mamoulian is in Paris with "Oklahoma!", which he originally directed 12 years ago when it made theater history on Broadway. The show is being presented in Paris as part of the United States' cultural homage program, "Salute to France."

DEPENDS UPON USE

"Sex and violence have predominated in several recent stage plays," Mamoulian notes. "Shakespeare's 'Hamlet' was also based on these two dramatic qualities. The objection shouldn't be against sex and violence, but how they are used in shows."

The director believes they can be portrayed to express real character and integrity, as in "Hamlet." He says:

"They should be used with artistic purpose and good taste."

Mamoulian added that a director condemns his audience to a "sort of immorality" by feeding it nudity or vulgarity.

"I am vehemently opposed to vulgarity in the theater," he asserts.

SEES IMPROVEMENT

Mamoulian has noted marked improvement in the American audience's tastes for stage plays and films.

"The public is certainly growing in taste. I think we underrate it."

* * *

But Mamoulian, who launched Katharine Hepburn on her career and directed such glamorous stars as Greta Garbo, Marlene Dietrich and Bette Davis, says the public is still attracted by glamor.

"The public mostly wants to see glamorous personalities," the director says. "Glamor is the most important quality for a stage or screen actress. It overrides every other attribute. If you have glamor, everything else becomes less important."

Mamoulian defines Glamor as "a kind of personality that intrigues and provokes your imagination involving a certain kind of mystery."

"Glamor can't be acquired," Mamoulian said. "A person has to be born with it. It's like talent. It must be there to be developed."

Pink is for shoes this summer in satin calf, linen. Nice as accent for black, brown, white, deep blue or red.

3,366,000 Miles of U.S. Roads, Yet Only 919,000 Are Improved

By ARTHUR MERIMS
(For SAM DAWSON)

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans will buy more cars this year than ever before. But driving on the nation's highways promises to become more uncomfortable, more hazardous and more costly.

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads reports there are 3,366,000 miles of roads in the country but that only 919,000 miles paved. The American Automobile Assn. claims one of every three miles is unsafe.

Most American roads were built at least 20 years ago when the automobile was still a luxury.

At the end of the 1930's there were less than 31 million vehicles and road travel amounted to about 270 billion miles. Gross national product (total goods and services produced) averaged about 80 billion dollars a year. Today we have 58 million vehicles, heavier and wider, traveling 57 billion miles a year. And the GNP is up to 357 billion dollars. Yet we are spending less for new roads now than we did in the 1930's.

DEATH RIDES ROADS

More Americans died in highway accidents than in battle. Except during the gas rationing periods of World War II, between 30,000 and 40,000 persons have been killed on the highways every year for the past 22 years, the National Safety Council says.

The 1954 traffic death toll was 36,300. If traffic increases 50 per cent in the next 10 years as expected accidents at the present rate will take 55,000 lives a year.

* * *

Some traffic specialists claim that highway accidents could be drastically reduced by improving our roads. Carl Fritts, vice president of the Automotive Safety Foundation figures a life could be saved every year for every 10 miles of improved roads.

Another thought is that good highways are essential to the farmer. More than half of all fruits and vegetables arrive at wholesale markets via trucks. Three out of every four livestock shipments move by truck. Indeed, nearly all farm products spend some time on highways before they reach the dinner table.

Youth Totes Cross on 400-Mile Walk

CASALPUSTERLENGO, Italy (AP)—Lionello Natoli trudged the road to Rome today, carrying a 6-foot, 75-pound wooden cross on his back. The Italian capital is 400 miles to the south.

Natoli left Milan Tuesday at daybreak, to carry the cross to Rome as penance for "youths who have lost the way, like myself, and are abandoned."

3 Condemned Men Win 8th Reprieve

OSSINING, N.Y. (AP)—Three men facing the electric chair in the slaying of a Reader's Digest messenger have won their 8th reprieve—on the very eve of their execution.

U.S. Supreme Court Justice John M. Harlan granted another stay of execution in their case yesterday in response to one of many last-ditch appeals made by their lawyers during the last 4½ years.

Preparations had gone forward for their execution at 11 p.m. tonight in New York's Sing Sing prison here after a State Court of Appeals judge refused to intercede.

Pioneer A-Researcher Succumbs in California

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Wendell M. Latimer, 62, one of the nation's leading chemists and a pioneer in the basic research that fathered the atomic bomb, died yesterday.

He was associate director of the University of California radiation laboratory and chemical division director of the Atomic Energy Commission laboratory at nearby Livermore.

Make Jelly, Jam Throughout the Year

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

At this time of the year the thrifty homemaker begins to think of filling her shelves with rows of jam and jelly. Oakland County homemakers are no different from others in this respect.

* * *

We would suggest to these homemakers a new idea for jam and jelly making. We would say to them: "Make this part of your food preparation a year-round one. Don't concentrate it all in a few short summer months."

We would have to sit down and plan what kind and how much jam and jelly your family is going to eat during the year. Then we would have you put up some each month. We think this would lend variety to your menus and make the work seem less arduous.

Right now there is still time to make strawberry jam and jelly. We hope that if this is one of your special likes, you tried Mrs. Elizabeth Peck's good recipe that appeared recently in the recipe column. We tried it and consider it a wonderfully easy method that produces excellent jam.

* * *

The last time we shopped for food we saw quart boxes of shiny red currants. So it's also currant jelly time. That will extend into July, during which time you can also make cherry preserves of all kinds, raspberry jam and blackberry jelly and jam.

Here's one jam and one jelly recipe to try.

Sweet Cherry Jam

4 cups prepared dark sweet cherries
4½ cups sugar
2½ ounce box powdered fruit pectin

Stem and pit about 3 pounds fully ripe dark sweet cherries. Chop fine or grind. Add a few crushed cherry pits during cooking. Measure 4 cups into large saucepan. Measure sugar and set aside.

Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to full rolling boil and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for five minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses.

Cover at once with one-eighth-inch hot paraffin. Yield: About eight medium glasses.

Blackberry Jelly

3¾ cups juice (about 2¼ quarts ripe blackberries)
¼ cup strained lemon juice (2 lemons)
7½ cups sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare the juice. Crush thoroughly about 2½ quarts fully ripe blackberries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure 3¾ cups juice into a very large saucepan.

Then, make the jelly. Add sugar to juice in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with one-eighth-inch hot paraffin. Makes about 11 medium glasses.

* * *

In August the great profusion of fruits begins. All the larger fruits, like peaches, pears, apricots and plums, are yours for the choosing. The supplies of these extend into September so that it is possible to do several kinds the first month and others the next month.

September brings grapes and apples, and these too carry over into a second month. September and October are the months to make grape jam and jelly or butter or to bottle the juice for future use.

They are also the time to make applesauce and apple butter and a fine time to do herb jellies with apple juice for the base.

MID-EUROPEAN PICNIC—This continental picnic includes rye bread, liverwurst, dill pickles and your favorite beverage. Sandwiches are kept fresh in their own breadbasket. You'll completely amaze your guests with this trick.

* * *

In November make your cranberry jelly for the holiday season. If you have a freezer you can make your Cranberry-Orange Relish and freeze it for future use. Even if you just refrigerate it, it keeps for a long time.

CHRISTMAS JELLY

Early in December make Christmas jelly. Use bottled apple juice and red cinnamon candies for Cinnamon Candy Jelly and frozen lemon juice with green food coloring for your green Christmas jelly. Or make mint jelly.

* * *

In January raid the pantry shelf for dried apricots and make Pinecot Jam with canned crushed pineapple.

Now it's February and time to take stock of your supplies. Decide whether you want to make citrus fruit marmalade, jelly from the wide array of frozen fruit juices available, or another batch of strawberry or raspberry jam from frozen fruits.

In March, do whatever you decided not to do in February. That will give you new variety.

April brings fresh pineapples to the stores which means it's time for fresh fruit jam again.

* * *

In May the rosy stalks of rhubarb suggest a conserve, rich with nuts and perhaps raisins. It is a good mixer and goes well with strawberries or pineapple.

Now we're back to June again. By this time you will know just what your family liked and what you want to repeat another year.

Set up your jam and jelly schedule for the coming year and start looking over your supplies of glasses and paraffin. You might like to start with this unusual conserve to put away for holiday eating.

Christmas Conserve

1 quart strawberries
1 quart red cherries
1 quart raspberries
1 quart currants
6 pounds sugar
1 bottle (4-ounce) green maraschino cherries

Wash the fruit and combine it with just enough water to prevent burning. Cook until tender over a low flame. When the fruit is tender, add the sugar and cook over low flame until thick.

Add the maraschino cherries, cut in quarters, and place in sterilized jars. Seal with paraffin when cool. Makes about 8 pints.

* * *

Wasn't it an easy way to keep the jelly and jam supply up? Didn't you have a grand variety of spreads for hot rolls, lunchbox sandwiches and breakfast toast?

Here's New Recipe for Veal Paprika

There seem to be as many ways to make veal paprika as there are people to eat it.

Here's a new one from Avanelle Day, a New York expert with Southern background.

Veal Paprika Gourmet

3 pounds boned shoulder of veal
1 pound small white onions
¾ pound (5 cups) sliced mushrooms
¼ cup butter or margarine
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
3 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons paprika
1/16 teaspoon ground cayenne pepper
2 cups sour cream
1 to 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Paprika for garnish

Roast meat until very tender. Cut meat into small pieces.

Boil peeled whole onions until tender. Saute mushrooms in butter or margarine; add veal, onions, seasonings, and sour cream.

European 'Breadbasket' Keeps Sandwiches Fresh

Ever go on a picnic in Germany or Denmark? Can be fun.

You usually ride out into the country on a bicycle with several friends. You most certainly will all sing together as you travel further from the city.

The food is apt to be packed in a wicker basket or a "rucksack," the canvas bag with straps which is worn over the shoulders.

When you stop to eat, everything will taste good even though, except for sausages and beer, there won't be the variety of foods we take along in the U.S.

* * *

Rye bread will be the standby. It will be fragrant and fresh. But as paper and foil is scarce in many European countries, you often find the sandwiches kept fresh in their own breadbasket.

That breadbasket idea is adaptable for picnics anywhere.

Breadbasket Sandwiches

Select a large, round loaf of rye bread. Using a long, sharp knife, slice the top off the loaf and set it aside for later use as the cover.

Next, loosen the bread from the side crust by cutting around the loaf directly downward to the bottom crust.

Then, make a slit just above the bottom crust, insert the knife and swing it back and forth in a wide arc to separate the bread from the bottom crust.

Lift out the bread and cut it into five or six wedges, then cut each wedge into four to six slices, depending upon the softness of the bread.

Spread each slice with softened butter and liverwurst, reassembling each wedge. Pack the tiered sandwiches in the breadbasket, replace the cover and refrigerate until time to serve.

Serve 2 Soups With Cold Meal

Puzling over suppertime menus? A bowl of simmering soup mates, topped with spices, supplies the "something hot" that makes a cold meal appetizing.

Please everyone's taste, too, by serving two of the family's soup favorites in a divided casserole or vegetable dish. If one person prefers vegetable soup, there it is. And to suit other tastes, there's green pea soup topped with curry.

More adventurous souls will combine both soups for an unusual new soup.

Add a salad, broiled sandwiches, a chocolate cake and plenty of milk or iced beverages for a porch supper that you'll repeat again and again.

Summer Soup Mates

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed vegetable soup
1 soup can water
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed green pea soup
1 soup can water

Blend vegetable soup and water in one saucepan. Combine green pea soup and water in another. Stir and heat soups slowly, do not boil.

* * *

Storing Butter Easy if Rules Followed

When butter is to be kept as long as one month, it should be stored in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator in its original wrapping and container without additional wrapping. If butter is to be kept longer than one month, then it should be wrapped in moisture, vaporproof freezer packaging material and frozen solidly.

* * *

Butter can be kept in the freezing compartment or in the deep freeze for several months in the original package without any danger of spoilage.

SPANISH BARBECUED CHICKEN—Chicken prepared with a green olive barbecue sauce is a good choice for summer meals. Corn on the cob served with parsley butter and cabbage-filled tomato salads are the accompaniments.

* * *

Serve Chicken Spanish Style

Here is a special way to prepare chicken and one to plan on when company is coming for dinner, because there is no last-minute fuss and bother.

The chicken is simmered in a delicious sauce of sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives and tomato juice seasoned with onion, chili powder, mustard and Worcestershire sauce. The olives add flavor and color to make chicken a real company dinner.

Spanish Barbecued Chicken

¼ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup wine vinegar
1 cup tomato juice
¼ cup water
½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives
1 3½ pound frying chicken, cut in serving pieces
Flour, salt and pepper
¼ cup butter or margarine

Combine onion, sugar, paprika, one-half teaspoon salt, mustard, chili powder, Worcestershire sauce, vinegar, tomato juice and water; mix well. Cook over low heat 10 minutes; add olives.

Dredge chicken in mixture of flour, salt and pepper. Melt butter or margarine over medium heat; add chicken and brown well.

Three-Minute Breakfast Perfect for Folks in Rush

Throw out any excuses you may have for skipping breakfast. Here's a three-minute breakfast. It's a breakfast that needs no watching or tending, one that's as nourishing and satisfying as any half-hour meal.

* * *

And you can dismiss those thoughts about calories, for nutritionists have long since proved that even if you are dieting, you need a good breakfast.

What could be faster than this automatic breakfast? In three minutes time you can have toast and coffee, cherry jam, soft-boiled eggs and the usual fruit juice.

The trick? There is a trick, of course—there always is. In this case, it's organization, with the right food and the right equipment.

* * *

Once you are set up for breakfast, breakfast is quick and easy the rest of the week, until Sunday comes and you can have the leisure to serve up something fancier.

SERVE YOURSELF

The new breakfast is a serve yourself one. Everything is put within easy reach, at the well-organized breakfast bar. Instant coffee is laid out, and an electric water cup—an instant coffee pot—is ready. Coffee cups, too, of course, and an automatic egg cooker and a toaster.

The eggs come from the cooker in three minutes flat, the toast pops up from the toaster, the hot water is ready for the coffee and there's jam on the spot.

Orange juice, fresh, frozen or delivered by the milk man, is chilled, ready and waiting in the refrigerator.

It was instant coffee that first started speeding up breakfast preparations and now, along with speed, instant coffee can be full-bodied enough to be a satisfying beverage as well as a quick one.

If your family is a "no-time-for-breakfast" family, take a tip from the instant coffee people and set up a three-minute bar.

Pack Up Sardines for Outdoor Meals

To insure fresh, tasty sandwiches, wrap the buttered bread separately! Place sliced tomatoes and cucumbers in a waxed container! Roll mixed salt and pepper in a paper twist and slip 2 cans of Maine sardines into the knapsack.

Men know that there's plenty of staying-power in Maine sardines, since the conquerors of Mount Everest depended almost entirely on the small fish for their high protein.

Summer Squash Is Tasty With Sauce

Summer squash takes to tomato sauce, but cut it into slices first and cook it in a small amount of boiling water. If you like you may add a little lightly browned onion to the cooked drained squash; but don't do so if the tomato sauce has a naticeable amount of onion in it.

Final treatment: Turn the squash and tomato sauce into a shallow baking dish, sprinkle heavily with grated cheese and heat in the oven or broiler.

Cheese Most Flavorful at Room Temperature

Most cheese is at its best flavor when served at room temperature. Low temperature numbs the flavor of cheese. So, be sure to remove from the refrigerator the amount to be served at least a half hour ahead of time. An hour is preferable.

Cheese can be brought to room temperature for serving and the remaining portion refrigerated again without harm to its keeping qualities. This sort of treatment may tend to dry the cheese somewhat and decrease its mold-free life.

Canned peaches, home or otherwise, can be given variety by adding a scoop of mint sherbet or ice cream, topped with a bittersweet chocolate sauce.

Food Editor Goes on Trip, Awed by Girls' Appetites

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Since last we chatted with you we have learned a lot about the eating habits of teenage girls. We have just returned from a trip to Washington with thirteen of them, so we feel qualified to speak.

MEALS PLANNED AHEAD

Before we made this trip, we had planned our meals and actually previewed them. Those parts of the menus that did not please everyone were discarded. Adolescents have no inhibitions about expressing their dislikes in frank terms. We prepared all our breakfasts and most of our dinners.

One hard and fast rule was set up by the adults in charge of the trip. The girls had to eat breakfast every morning or no sightseeing! We listed as a minimum meal fruit, milk cereal and/or toast.

Even the girls who said they hated breakfast and never ate it at home complied with good grace. One girl had a scrambled egg every morning—said her mother wouldn't believe it. We put out individual boxes of cereal, then took orders for any other food.

GIRLS ALWAYS HUNGRY

It seemed to us that the girls were constantly hungry. We would scarcely be on the bus, ready to sightsee, before some one would plaintively wail, "When can we eat?"

Every noon we ate in a different place, finding cafeterias much to our liking, since they catered to a wider taste. The girls ate hearty lunches. One girl had turkey and dressing every time it was available.

The adults usually satisfied themselves with a salad, a roll and a beverage. Not so the younger members of the party. The least they would settle for was a cheeseburger or two peanut butter sandwiches, milk or a coke and dessert, of course. Some were most reluctant to try any new foods.

CALORIE CONSUMPTION HIGH

A huge chocolate sundae was the piece de resistance, just the thing to top off a huge dinner. Four o'clock snack time was mandatory, as was the bedtime snack. We would hazard a guess that these girls consumed 3000-3500 calories each day. They walked it off.

In one cafeteria we saw a fruit salad plate that was different. It would be easy to fix and appealing in this hot weather. There was a square of gelatine fruit salad, a mound of cottage cheese on a pineapple ring, several stuffed prunes and a few pieces of pickled crabapple. There was also a piece of banana rolled in chopped nuts.

One seafood dish we enjoyed could be duplicated at home. It was served in a shallow copper casserole and came to us still sizzling.

It held a combination of lobster, shrimp and crabmeat, all sauteed in butter. That, plus a green salad and rolls made a complete dinner. You could easily fix the seafood dish at home, using frozen lobster tails and shrimp and canned crabmeat.

While we were waiting for the elevator at the Washington Monument, we talked casually with a woman sitting next to us. The conversation got around to cooking (we wonder how?), and she told us her pet way of fixing round steak.

From an unknown lady from Kentucky comes this recipe:

Simmered Round Steak

Have the butcher run a piece of round steak through the cube steak machine, once on each side. Flour and brown it in hot fat in a skillet.

Season with salt and pepper, add 3-4 tablespoons of kitchen bouquet and enough water to come halfway up the steak. Cover and simmer for one hour. Make gravy with the liquid left in the pan, using milk for any additional liquid.

Stuffed Hamburgs Are Tasty Surprise

Wonderful Grilled Hamburgers

½ pound ground beef
2 pitted green olives
1 rolled caper-stuffed anchovy fillet

Shape two matching patties of beef. Arrange halved olives on one; place anchovy in center. Top with remaining patty and press edges together firmly.

To cook indoors, brown in butter or margarine in hot skillet to desired doneness.

Use Fresh Peaches for Creamy Salad

Creamy Peach Salad

4 large fresh peaches
Citrus juice
Salad greens
8 ounces cream style cottage cheese
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
6 tablespoons olive oil

Peel, halve and pit peaches. Dip in citrus juice. Arrange on salad greens.

Beat salt, mustard, vinegar and olive oil together. Serve with salad. Makes four servings.

Note: If sour cream is available it may be used on this salad instead of the dressing given. Mix one half cup of the cream with one half cup mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing; stir in a dash of paprika.

Small-Fry Sandwiches

Peanut butter vegetable sandwiches pack a wallop for the sandlot set. Combine approximately equal parts of peanut butter, chopped raisins and raw carrot. Add a generous amount of celery, season with salt, and blend with mayonnaise. Spread filling between slices of enriched bread.

Fancy of solid-pack tuna fish comes in 3½, 7 and 13-ounce cans. Tuna of this sort is meaty and attractive and ideal to serve on a platter of hors d'oeuvre.

Hot-House Tomatoes Are Still Available

Hot-house tomatoes are still available—they will be until the delicious Michigan homegrown ones appear. The identifying mark of the hot-house tomato is the green calyx or stem which has been left on.

Green tomatoes will ripen satisfactorily if kept in a dry place at room temperature. They will not ripen in the refrigerator, but ripe tomatoes should be kept in the refrigerator and used as soon as possible. One pound of fresh tomatoes will make four servings.

Deluxe Luncheon Salad

Luncheon salad deluxe: A colorful luncheon salad is achieved by placing a slice of pineapple with three sections of grapefruit petal fashion in center of pineapple. Serve on crisp watercress or endive, and garnish with chilled strawberries and pineapple slices cut into bits. Serve chilled with French dressing.

COOL AND REFRESHING—Chilled soup mates spark lagging appetites when the temperature soars. Just take them off your refrigerator shelf and serve on those days when even the thought of cooking is overwhelming. Garnish bowls with a sprig of watercress.

Combine Soups and Chill for Easy Summer Meals

Much has been said about the emergency food shelf, but what of the summer refrigerator shelf for the dog days to come? When the temperature soars and even the thought of cooking is overwhelming, you can reach into the refrigerator's cool depths and pull out an appetizing meal.

To spark lagging appetites when days grow hot, chilled soup mates are a must. Easy to make ahead of time (with absolutely no cooking), soup mates should be the first addition to your summertime storage shelf.

Just mix two canned soup combinations with liquid, according to the recipe, add a few spices or condiments and store in the refrigerator in a quart container. With several possible combinations ready to serve, you can meet any emergency.

No need to reserve chilled soups for gourmet meals — they're a hot weather treat for the family, too.

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of celery soup
1 soup can milk
1 soup can watetr

Soup Mates With Onion

1½ cans milk
1 teaspoon grated onion
Parsley

Golden Smothered Chicken

1 package (1 pound) frozen chicken breasts
2 tablespoons flour
Salt, pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) cream of chicken soup (undiluted)
½ cup water
½ teaspoon curry powder
¼ cup chopped pimiento
¼ cup toasted slivered almonds

Thaw chicken breasts according to package directions. Mix flour with a dash of salt and pepper; dust over chicken.

Heat butter in 10-inch skillet; brown chicken thoroughly on all sides; add a little more butter if necessary.

Blend Fluffy Drink

Here's a real summer cooler—a California lemonade freeze. Make lemonade by mixing a can of frozen lemonade with water as directed; then add 2 scoops lemon sherbet to each cup. Blend, in electric blender or other mixer, until fluffy; serve in chilled glasses.

How about opening a can or jar of well-chilled ready-to-serve apple sauce for supper tonight? Try a shake of nutmeg on top and light cream poured around.

Small Fry Love Baked Alaska

Baked Alaskas for youngsters! Here's a new idea for small-fry party desserts that's just as elegant as it sounds and—here's the real surprise — is also such a "quick-and-easy" that mothers will find it a delight to make.

Surely one of the simplest fancy desserts ever invented, Fig Bar Baked Alaskas can actually be made in a jiffy. Rich square fig bars topped with ice cream and meringue make up this new treat that's full of good flavor and good nourishment.

Please the youngsters (and the grownsups in the family as well) by making it this easy way:

Fig Bar Baked Alaskas

3 egg whites
6 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 package (18) fig bars
1 pint vanilla or chocolate ice cream

Heat oven to 450 degrees (hot). To make meringue, beat egg whites stiff but not dry. Add sugar gradually, continuing to beat until whites are stiff and glossy. Add vanilla.

For each Baked Alaska, line up three of the square fig bars on a cookie sheet, end to end, making a rectangle one bar wide and three bars long. Repeat six times, spacing the sets of three fig bars at least 3 inches part on cookie sheet.

Top each group of fig bars with one-sixth of the ice cream. Quickly spread with meringue the top and sides of each set of the ice-cream covered bars. Place in preheated oven for about two minutes, or until meringue is lightly browned.

Remove from oven. With a spatula, lift each Baked Alaska onto a dessert plate. Serve at once. Makes six servings.

Gelatin Salad Stars Orange and Banana

Deliciously light and fragrant is this amber-hued gelatin, a perfect combination with vegetables, with fish, meat and fowl, with cheese of various kinds, and a boon to those of us who are always on the lookout for something new in salads.

Orange and Banana Salad

1 package apple-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup orange sections
1 banana, sliced

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in fruit. Pour into molds.

Chill until firm. Umold on crisp salad greens. Makes five servings.

It's "Weather-pruf" Salt!

BACON-EGG OPEN FACE ROLLS — Give the family a change by serving their bacon and eggs in sandwich form. Parker House rolls are used as the base. Hot hard-cooked eggs are mixed with salad dressing and green pepper, then topped with slices of crisp bacon. Wonderful luncheon idea.

Heap Tasty Bacon-Egg Combination on Parker House Rolls for Luncheon

Bacon is one of those foods that is always welcome at mealtime or as a sandwich snack during the day. Its wonderful, smoky flavor stimulates even summertime appetites, making bacon a natural choice for tempting warm weather fare.

Feature a variety of crisp, hearty bacon sandwiches for summertime suppers, lunches, or snacks. One of these appetite-satisfying sandwiches could combine popular franks and cheese with the bacon.

Cover a slice of toasted bread with sliced franks, top with shredded cheese, and complete the sandwich with a slice of bacon cut into thirds. Broil 3 inches from the heat source until the bacon is cooked and the cheese is melted.

Another simple but flavorful combination features chopped cooked bacon with peanut butter on whole wheat bread. Chopped bacon is also delicious combined in egg salad for a sandwich spread or with flavorful cooked, mashed poultry livers.

You'll find bacon sandwiches are perfect for outdoor summertime eating, too. Cook bacon outdoors on a grill, in a skillet, or on kabob-style sticks.

Be sure to have cheese, hard-cooked egg slices, and fresh tomatoes on hand so everybody ca make his own bacon sandwich variations. And include lots to satisfy outdoor appetites.

Of course, select a sweet smoke-flavored bacon that is branded for top quality. This roll and bacon recipe will be an exciting addition to luncheon or for an evening "something special."

Bacon-Egg Open Face Rolls

½ pound sliced bacon
4 eggs
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup salad dressing
5 or 6 Parker House rolls

Hard-cook eggs. Remove shells and chop eggs. Bake bacon on rack in a baking pan in a hot oven (400) about 10 minutes or until crisp. Heat rolls.

Crumble six slices of cooked bacon and combine with hot chopped eggs, green pepper and salad dressing. Split rolls and spread open.

Follow the Rules for Good Croquettes

When you are deep-fat frying croquettes, it is best to turn them only once in the fat as they cook. Allow about two-thirds of the cooking time for one side, about one-third of the cooking time for the other.

Use leftover chicken, turkey or beef for the croquettes, adding the amount called for in a standard recipe.

Bacon Crisps Well in Hot Oven

Bacon crisps well if baked in a hot oven—but be sure to put pan on the top shelf of the oven. Place the bacon slices on a wire rack in a shallow pan and allow 12 to 25 minutes to get the bacon golden and crisp.

About 12 per cent of the U. S. potato crop is made into potato chips.

Foods Need Space

Cool hot foods before storing them in the refrigerator. Foods keep longer if you leave plenty of space between containers for free circulation of air around them.

Nutritionists Must Know Reasons for Food Habits

Find out why people eat what they do, and you have a key to helping them select a balanced diet. Of course, there are certain traditions and customs that dictate what is eaten among special groups but, in getting people to enjoy the right foods, nutritionists must first of all understand the reasons individuals select the foods they do.

* * *

Like the man who eats steak and potatoes for breakfast because he thinks they have more "staying power." Encouraged to test the effect of fruit-cereal-and-milk or fruit-bacon-and-egg breakfasts, he should find (as recent tests have shown) that either of these well-chosen breakfasts will help him to work better, to be sharper and more alert, and to avoid getting tired, especially during the late morning hours.

The person who skips breakfast or has a skimpy breakfast of coffee and rolls can benefit from these tests, too.

Knowing the why of their food choices can help in improving the eating habits of children. If a child won't eat cereal and milk for breakfast because he like an egg and toast, then why not take the cereals out of their breakfast niche?

Serve crisp cereal flakes and milk later for dessert. Top with sweetened fruits or a scoop of fruited ice cream to make a dessert children will really go for. And they love cereal cookies served with milk for between meal snacks, too.

MILK PROBLEM

Then there is the person who likes milk except for drinking. This is easy for most nutritionists as there are so many attractive ways to feature milk in any meal . . . there are cereals cooked in milk and hundreds of delicious soups, entrees and desserts to be made with milk as the basic ingredient.

* * *

A balanced diet is a guide to easy-to-plan attractive meals:

1. Proteins: Milk and milk products, meats, poultry, eggs and fish. Serve meat, poultry or fish at least once daily. Serve eggs three to five times each week. Try to serve milk or milk products in varied forms and often.

2. Whole grain and enriched breads and cereals: Serve whole grain and enriched bread or cereal with each meal.

3. Fruits and vegetables: (a) Serve two or three fruits each day. Be sure one serving is a citrus fruit, tomatoes, strawberries or melon. (b) Serve two or three vegetables each day. Be sure one is a green leafy or yellow vegetable. Serve potatoes once daily and at least one other vegetable. (c) Dried beans or other legumes may be served as a meat substitute provided milk, milk products or other good quality proteins are part of the same meal.

* * *

4. Fats: Serve butter or margarine with each meal.

5. Note: (a) One key to a balanced diet is variety. Eat a variety of foods at each meal. (b) Sugars, starchy foods and tasty salad dressings have a legitimate place in the diet, but don't overdo them . . . for calories must be balanced, too, to keep weight within the range ideal for height and body build.

Pair Ice Cream and Doughnuts

Now is the time that all good children are apt to get on Mother's nerves. School is out and the days are long and warm. You can't blame the children for being merry and perhaps a little demanding of Mother.

* * *

Rather than resisting we recommend you try to work around them. To satisfy their eternal appetites, plan little between-meal snacks. And to channel their abundant energy into useful purposes, let them do things for themselves.

A suggestion for a snack is Doughnut-Ice Cream Sandwich. It's good and nourishing and simple enough for children to make.

Any flavor ice cream combines well with confectioner's sugar-coated doughnuts of the cake quality type. You can get these doughnuts from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department.

* * *

When the children request refreshment, just set out doughnuts and ice cream and tell them to help themselves. All they do is split a doughnut and place a slice of ice cream between the two halves.

* * *

We feel that summer can be a relaxing season for everyone in the family. If you keep chores to a minimum, take advantage of time-savers, and don't develop a guilty conscience (everyone slows up in the summertime), you'll be able to join the children for some fun.

DOUGHNUT ICE CREAM SANDWICH—Here's a new use for an old favorite—sugared doughnuts. Keep a box of store-bought doughnuts on hand along with your pet flavor of ice cream. Cut thin slices of ice cream, put between the doughnut halves, and look! A new kind of sandwich.

Dessert Features Berries, Pineapple

This recipe illustrates the whipping of magical instant nonfat dry milk which fills all milk uses in the home—drinking, cooking and baking—and then some!

Strawberry Pineapple Mallow

½ pound (32) marshmallows
¾ cup water
1½ cup fresh strawberries, sliced and sweetened
1 cup well drained, canned crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder

Place marshmallows and one-fourth cup of the water in the top of a double boiler. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until marshmallows are melted. Remove from heat. Stir in strawberries and pineapple. Chill until mixture thickens.

Pour remaining water and lemon juice into deep 1-quart bowl. Sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder over surface of water. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, about 8-10 minutes.

Fold whipped milk into fruit mixture. Pour into 1½ quart mold or individual sherbet glasses. Chill until firm, about four hours. Serves 8 to 10.

Dehydrofrozen Foods Promise Many Advances

If you were to look into a crystal ball you might see the future food market featuring "dehydrofrozen" fruits and vegetables according to Mrs. Frieda A. Bennett, Oakland County home demonstration agent.

"Dehydrofreezing" is a process combining freezing and partial dehydration and is now being used by large-scale food users. But before long this new process, developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is expected to be used for packages bought by homemakers.

Dehydrofreezing, already in use by six commercial firms, is being used with apples, apricots, peas and pimientos. The process offers several advantages over other methods of food preservation.

The dehydrofrozen fruits and vegetables weigh less and take less space than the same quantity of food prepared by ordinary freezing. Then too, the flavor and texture are more natural than those resulting from conventional dehydration. In some cases "dehydrofrozen" products are superior to those that are fresh frozen.

Ordinary freezing tends to rupture cellular structure. That's why some foods break down in texture after thawing. Partial dehydration helps the cells stand up better under the freezing process.

Chill Spiced Apples

Refreshing to serve as dessert on a warm day — and it's quick and easy, too: Chilled canned apple slices liberally sprinkled with cinnamon-sugar. Serve with light cream, if you wish. Pass the cookies.

Chicken, Asparagus Team Up for Lunch

Chicken and Asparagus Rolls

1½ pounds fresh asparagus (cooked and drained)
⅓ cup French dressing
6 slices cooked chicken
6 finger rolls (split in half lengthwise)
Homemade mayonnaise

Marinate the asparagus in the French dressing in a fat container; refrigerate for about an hour. Split rolls in half lengthwise and spread cut surfaces with butter. Arrange chicken on one half of rolls, asparagus spears on the other. Top with mayonnaise. Makes six servings.

Lemonade Aids Kids to Make Fine Sodas

Young soda-fountain geniuses love lemonade. Keep your freezer or refrigerator stocked with California frozen concentrate for lemonade, and let them operate at will!

Make fine ice-cream sodas: Just put a few spoonsful of frozen concentrate for lemonade in the bottom of a tall glass, add a big scoop of ice cream, and fill the glass with sparkling water.

Jellied Cranberry Sauce Comes to Rescue

Count on ready-to-serve cranberry sauce for warm weather luncheon menus this summer. Keep a supply on hand and be ready for unexpected guests or other emergencies.

* * *

Cranberry Chicken Salad

1 cup cooked rice
2 cups diced chicken
3-ounce can mushrooms
¼ cup French dressing
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons grated onion
½ teaspoon curry powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup diced celery
1-pound can jellied cranberry sauce

Place rice and chicken in bowl. Drain mushrooms. Reserve four whole mushrooms for garnish . . . quarter remaining ones; add to rice and chicken.

Add French dressing . . . toss lightly. Marinate in refrigerator for at least two hours. When ready to serve, drain off dressing.

Slice jellied cranberry sauce and garnish salads with half slices or cranberry chick cutouts.

* * *

Cranberry Salad Bowl

½ can jellied cranberry sauce
1 pint cottage cheese
1 small green pepper
1 grated carrot
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon celery seed
2 grapefruit
3 oranges
1 head lettuce
Mayonnaise

Cut slices of cranberry sauce into cubes with knife. Combine cottage cheese, green pepper slices, grated carrot, salt and celery seed. Fold in cubes of jellied cranberry sauce, saving a few for garnish.

Arrange lettuce leaves in salad bowl. Section oranges and grapefruit.

Dairy's Sour Cream Not Like Home Product

Sour cream is made from sweet cream which is pasteurized, homogenized, and inoculated with a culture of lactic acid bacteria. It is allowed then to develop acidity until the desired qualities are reached.

The same kind of product is not obtained in the home if cream sours because it is left in a warm spot or lost in the depths of the refrigerator. Because of the high heat necessary in the pasteurization process, it take so long for cream to sour normally that the resulting product is no longer fresh.

Curry Deviled Eggs

Eggs and curry powder go well together. Add ½ teaspoon of the yellow spice to your favorite deviled egg mixture. Good for hors d'oeuvres or picnic baskets.

Chocolate, Banana Featured in Sauce

The combination of banana and chocolate in this sauce will please addicts of those flavors.

Chocolate Banana Sauce

1 cup instant cocoa mix
2-3 cup hot milk
2-3 cup mashed strained banana
¼ teaspoon vanilla
Salt

Mix cocoa mix and milk until smooth and mix is dissolved. Stir in banana, vanilla and dash of salt. Chill. Makes 1 2/3 cups sauce.

Serve over squares of white cake, top with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream if desired. Sauce may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to four days.

ICED COFFEE—Take a cool shaded spot. Add one fan for lazy waving back and forth. The final touch is a glass of iced coffee. Suit yourself about the sugar and cream to be added. Instant coffee makes excellent iced coffee when properly prepared.

* * *

Relax in Cool, Shady Spot with Flavorful Iced Coffee

The story goes it was a restaurant man who first discovered that although tepid or cool coffee is not so good, iced coffee is wonderful. But the coffee must be good, full-bodied coffee to start with and it must be tingling with ice to be the kind of warm-weather beverage nature intended it to be.

* * *

Lovers of instant coffee have had trouble in the past making instant coffee as good iced as it is hot.

* * *

Now the makers of a brand new instant coffee have some good advice for these people:

Try starting out with just a little hot water first until the coffee is dissolved, then add cold water and ice. Everybody has different ideas of how strong or how mild coffee should be, but a general average is 1 teaspoon of instant to the cup.

One of the advantages of instant coffee is that it's cool to start with. You don't need as much ice and there's less melting to dilute the coffee.

* * *

For a crowd or a neighborhood coffee break on a steaming summer morning, make iced coffee in a pitcher using the same proportions of 1 teaspoon of instant coffee for each coffee cup of water.

* * *

Put in a little boiling or very hot water first, then add cold water. Have the ice in the glasses before you pour. And serve, of course, with sugar and cream.

Another variation of iced coffee, which is almost more dessert than coffee, is half coffee, half light cream, with a scoop of vanilla or coffee ice cream.

Try this on your husband when he comes in from gardening, or use it to stretch out a summer meal of sandwich and salad.

Use Up Egg Whites in Coconut Cookies

Coconut Meringues

2 egg whites
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cider vinegar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup shredded coconut
¼ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces

Beat egg whites and salt until foamy throughout. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is well combined.

Continue beating until mixture stands in straight stiff peaks. Beat in vinegar and vanilla. (All this beating will take about 10 minutes.) Fold in coconut.

Drop small amount of mixture from teaspoon onto greased cookie sheet; place two pieces of chocolate in center of each cookie; cover with small amount of mixture. Leave an inch of space between each cookie.

Bake in a very slow (250 degrees) oven about 30 minutes. Makes about 2½ dozen cookies.

Take Advantage of Economical Iceberg Lettuce

With these crisp, tender heads of fresh Iceberg lettuce in your local markets in great abundance and at such low prices, now is the time to take advantage o a great market value.

* * *

There are so many ways to include lettuce in the daily diet, each one adding crispness, refreshment and sparkling color and flavor to your meals.

Wedges of Iceberg lettuce are particularly excellent . . . they're quick and easy to serve and you get more of the vitamin A present in each head of lettuce. Just cut a firm, well chilled head of lettuce into quarters and top with your favorite dressing.

Lettuce cups make any salad more attractive . . . add crispness to gelatin salads, and provide an excellent flavor and texture combination for fresh fruit and vegetable salads.

* * *

Chicken, meat and seafood salads, too, have greater taste and eye appeal when served in bright lettuce cups.

* * *

Lettuce is the major ingredient for all tossed green salads that lend themselves so well to the imagination . . . the tender lettuce leaves combine with a variety of foods from raw broccoli flowerets to anchovies.

And the wonderful part of a lettuce salad is that it can be filling, delicious, and yet so low in calories . . . a boon to the waistline watchers!

We all like the cisp, refreshment of lettuce in our sandwiches and how grand to know that it's so inexpensive. Then, too, there are other lettuce treats that we all enjoy, such as lettuce soups and Hawaiian meats wrapped in lettuce leaves.

Apple Punch Is Easy

An easy patio party punch, and a festive looking one, is made by combining 1½ quarts of apple juice with 1 quart of gingerale, both thoroughly chilled. Pour over ice cubes and garnish the bowl with lemon and lime slices and maraschino cherries. This quality is enough for 10-12 servings.

Soup for Breakfast!

Breakfast on the porch, in the backyard and at camp, sing out for hot nourishing soup in the chill of morning. A hot cup of soup warms the whole body quickly and fits into summer meals consisting for the most part of chilled foods.

Grocery Account Is Paid in Full After 30 Years

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Mrs. Antoinette Dolenschek was paid recently for a 30-year-old grocery bill by a 78-year-old woman who said she had been bothered in conscience by the debt for all that time.

Mrs. Dolenshek was one of the operators of a West Allis grocery which went out of business in 1940, writing off bills of some 300 to 400 families in the amount of nearly $44,000.

The old woman who knocked at her door recently told her a delivery boy had dropped a $32 check she had given him in payment for groceries. She said she tore up the check and gave the money to her children to go downtown and spend as they wished.

But she cried with relief when she had told her story and made Mrs. Dolenshek accept the money although the latter assured the woman she need not pay.

The woman said sickness and trouble had prevented her from discharging the debt earlier.

Folks All Love Blackberry Pie

Now that blackberries are ripening beside every road and in every sunny meadow, it is time to revive the pleasant old custom of treating family and friends to Blackberry Pie.

* * *

The children will love to help with picking the berries, and this modern recipe will prove an easy guide to a pie of flavorful old-fashioned goodness.

Quick-cooking tapioca thickens the berry juice to perfection, keeping it pretty and clean.

Fresh Blackberry Pie

2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
4 cups fresh blackberries
Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie
2 tablespoons butter

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, and berries; let stand 15 minutes, or while preparing pastry.

Line a 9-inch pie pan with half of the pastry, rolled one-eighth-inch thick. Roll remaining pastry one-eighth-inch thick and cut into one-half-inch strips.

Fill pie shell with berry mixture and dot with butter. Adjust pastry strips in lattice across top of pie. Flute rim with fingers. Bake in hot oven (425) 45 minutes, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

Note: If desired, 1 tablespoon lemon juice may be added when combining berry-tapioca mixture.

Ferry Workers Want Weekend Pay Rule

LANSING (AP)—Straits of Mackinac ferry employes have handed the state an ultimatum in their fight for overtime pay for Saturday and Sunday work.

Arthur G. Rasch, director of the State Civil Service Commission, said today he has received a petition from 200 ferry employes who said they "expect to receive premium pay or the equivalent on or before July 15."

Some 400 ferry employes were given a 15-cent-an-hour pay increase at the June meeting of the commission. They had requested a 30-cent hourly wage increase or time-and-a-half for Saturday work and double time for Sunday duty.

"I don't know whether this means they will strike or not," Rasch said. "I have no comment on the petition."

Rasch said the next meeting of the commission would probably not be held until September.

Keep Several Kinds of Cheese in Refrigerator

Cheese is a food that keeps well, so it's easy, and wise, to have several kinds on hand all the time.

* * *

When cheese is stored, it should be wrapped tightly in either two wrappings of waxed paper, or waxed paper and aluminum foil, or any other airtight container or wrapper. To prevent transference of flavors when highly flavored and mild cheese are stored together, wrap each one separately.

Cheese should be kept in the refrigerator. The cooler the temperature at which cheese is stored, the longer it will keep without any changes in texture. Most cheeses keep well in the refrigerator for a month.

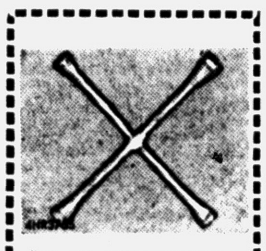

Even if mold develops, cheese can still be used. Simply cut off the mold and use the rest of the cheese because it is of good quality.

* * *

Packaged process cheese can be stored in the original wrapper if it is carefully opened. Cheese spreads in jars can be covered with the original cap.

Hollywood Headlines

Steve Allen Comes Back to Movieland in Triumph

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Having made his name in the big city, Steve Allen is back in Hollywood to collect his rewards.

Five years ago, the bespectacled wit was operating a midnight radio show here. It attracted a large following among the night owls, but was not what show business people call the Big Time.

* * *

He also dabbled in the movies, but on a small scale. He played a disc jockey in a Pune Haver-Gloria DeHaven musical, "I'll get by." And he starred in an amalgamation of clips from old Mack Sennett films called "Down Memory Lane"—"It's playing a lot on TV now, unfortunately," he says.

At that time Allen wanted to try his hand at network TV. But the coaxial cable hadn't yet wormed its way to California. So he headed for New York. After a slow start in the new medium, he made his mark as a bright panelist and as the sly, deadpan proprietor of NBC's late-hour Tonight show.

* * *

Allen returned to California for one of the prize film roles of the year. He's playing the King of Swing in Universal-International's "The Beny Goodman Story."

He paused between rehearsals for a spectacular and tests for the movie to discuss his multiple career. Besides the film and all his TV work, he writes songs, plays piano and sings on records, writes short stories and articles and may even do atomic research, for all anyone knows.

* * *

Does he worry about spreading himself too thin?

"No that doesn't concern me. When I was starting out, people told me I shouldn't waste time writing songs; I should concentrate on a few things. But I like writing songs. I like doing a variety of things.

* * *

"And it's easy to get by when you've made your name in another field. For instance, Milton Berle doesn't have to write the greatest song in the world, the way a beginner would have to. Lately I've been doing some singing. I don't have to do a great singing job, as an unknown would have to."

Three Town Fire Units Battle Elevator Blaze

CARSON CITY (AP) — Firemen from three communities battled two hours Wednesday before controlling a blaze which caused about $60,000 damage as it swept the Central Bean & Grain Co. storage elevator.

Five trucks from Carson City, Crystal and Perrinton were called to the fire. Manager Bert T. Pomeroy said the greatest loss was to elevating and cleaning equipment. The elevator, constructed in 1887, burned about 50 years ago but was remodeled in 1947.

Scouts Select Canada for World Jamboree

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Ont. (UP) — Officials of the Eighth World Scout Jamboree have selected the site where some 10,000 Boy Scouts from all over the world will gather Aug. 18 for 10 days.

* * *

The site, situated on the edge of this historic town 12 miles north of the world famous twin cataracts of Nagara Falls, covers approximately one square mile of rolling parkland, overlooked by restored Fort George with the stockade, moats and cannon forming a scenic background for all Jamboree activities.

* * *

A special feature will be a commemorative garden honoring Scouthood at historic Fort George. The mammoth floral display will have as its focus a large replica of the first class badge of the World Brotherhood of Scouts, done in special plants and to exact scale by Niagara Parks Commission gardeners and horticulturists.

Sailor Borrows Bus to Relieve His Boredom

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A sailor decided on a recipe of his own to break the tedium of a layover in a bus depot. He borrowed a bus.

He piloted the big Greyhound out of the depot and stopped to pick up three passengers. They said they wanted to go to Ocean View—in the other direction.

* * *

"Okay," said the sailor, so he turned the bus around and headed for the resort.

The passengers huddled and decided something was a bit unorthodox and disembarked.

A couple of cops overtook the bus at a stop light.

* * *

"I didn't steal the bus, I just borrowed it to go for a ride," said the sailor, John Balz, stationed at nearby Dam Neck. His home is at Pittston, Penn.

Balz said he came down on the bus from Dover, Del., on his way to Virginia Beach. There was a changeover at Norfolk, but he decided not to change. When the bus from Dover emptied, he climbed back aboard and drove away.

He was booked on a charge of unauthorized use of the bus.

Formosa Begins Work on $40 Million Reservoir

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A 40 million dollar water project passed from the blueprint stage today with a ground-breaking ceremony for the Shihmen Reservoir 30 miles southwest of Taipei.

The project, which will take five years, will eliminate the almost annual blight of drought in northern Formosa.

It will irrigate 135,000 acres, generate about 120,000 kilowatts and help avert floods by lowering the Tansui River level by 3 to 6 feet. The Tansui flows through Taipei.

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Lucy Hamilton, pretty secretary of private detective Michael Shayne, has been kidnapped by a killer they are both trying to trap. The man takes her to a secluded part of Miami, then opens the car door.

XXI

THE car came to a full stop. She heard him turn off the ignition and open his door and step out, then he swing the half of the front seat forward away from her, and she knew he must be standing there looking in to see if she had recovered consciousness yet.

She kept her eyes closed and tried to make all her muscles limp as she supposed an unconcious person would be.

She felt his hands on her shoulders lifting and pulling her roughly out, and she moaned faintly and fluttered her eyelids as convincingly as she could, staggering on the ground as he held her upright when she was out of the car, letting her eyes open wide as though she had just recovered consciousness, shrinking away from him and crying pitiably:

"Where am I? What happened? My head hurts dreadfully. Who are you? I never saw you before."

"Never mind who I am." He shook her roughly and shoved her back against the car. "You're Lucy Hamilton. Mike Shayne's secretary."

There was only one house visible. A large, three-story mansion on the right, built directly on the bluff overlooking the bay. There were no lights and the front windows were boarded up with wooden shutters the way many winter residents leave their homes during the summer and the early autumn hurricane season.

He laughed evilly as he saw her looking around in an attempt to orient herself, and said in his grating southern voice. Take yourself a good look, Ma'am. Then start screaming your fool head off if you're a mind to. Won't nobody hear you. Won't nobody ever come down this here dead-end street."

"Who are you" Lucy demanded again. "What do you want with me"

WANTS MONEY

"Nothing particular with you, Ma'am. I thought back yonder at the morgue maybe you'd recognize me, but if you do or don't it don't make no never mind to me now. All I want is that money from your smart redheaded boss. The money Jack Bristow gave to you or him tonight. That's all I want, Ma'am. And I sure intend to get it one way or another."

"We haven't got it," she protested weakly. "Jack didn't have any money. Or, at least we didnt see it."

HE shrugged and caught her upper arm to lead her away from the car toward the empty and deserted house. "Maybe Mister Shayne lied to you. I dunno. Maybe you lied to him. It don't matter much. He's sort of sweet on you, huh?"

"No, he isn't," she said defiantly. "Don't think you can put pressure on Mike Shayne through me. You can't."

"Maybe not. It sure can't hurt to try." He was half-dragging, half supporting her around the side of the house that faced toward the bay.

Lucy hesitated. There was no place to run to. No use shrieking for help, as he had pointed out.

While she hesitated, he caught her roughly and shoved her half over the windowsill, snarling, "Get on inside."

She pulled herself over onto the floor with the beam of his flashlight on her.

It was a library or study, she guessed, seeing the furniture with dust covers in the flickering light, but he seemed to know exactly where he was going, seizing her arm and leading her to an open door into a corridor, and down a passage to another door at the rear which opened onto a flight of wooden steps leading downward.

When they reached the bottom, he flashed the beam of his light around all four sides to show there were no windows, no other opening or means of egress except up the stairs.

"Just so you'll know for sure how things stand, Ma'am. You're gonna sit down and write him just note to your boss telling him just exactly how things are with you, and then I'm going to tie you up tight and leave you here to rot with your friend I mentioned."

AS he spoke he lowered the beam so it shone on a female figure bundled up with ropes on the ground near the wall. Her mouth was plastered tightly shut with surgeon's tape, and her face was white and haggard and desperate in the flashlight's gleam, but Lucy Hamilton had no difficulty at all in recognizing Arlene Bristow.

He swung the light away from Arlene's face with an evil chuckle and told Lucy, "She's been here keeping right quiet and good since before dark, and hasn't died for lack of air yet.

Howsomever, with two of you down here breathing up the oxygen and with that door at the top of the stairs shut tight and locked, I don't for sure know how long you'll last.

"Just think about how it is when you start writing your boss that note. Think how long it'll take you and your friend to die from lack of water or starvation locked up down here if Mister Mike Shayne is crazy enough to try and set another trap for me. Tell him just how things are with you if he doesn't cough up that 70 grand he got from Jack Bristow."

"But I tell you he didn't get it," said Lucy desperately.

"No matter about that now. I don't care if he did or not. I got you right here where I want you, and you're going to rot here unless he pays up."

Yes, but the H-Bomb Is Down Here on Earth

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP)—The tremendous explosion of a hydrogen bomb — fearful as it is viewed in its present form — would be dwarfed millions of times by the natural explosion of a supernova, a General Electric scientist revealed.

The supernova is a celestial explosion with the force of 1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 hydrogen bombs all going off at once, said John W. Ryan, development engineer.

Houseboy Faces Murder Charge

Police Arraign Student for Complicity in Death of Los Angeles Socialite

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Law Student John R. Crooker Jr. awaited arraignment today on murder charges for the death of auburn-haired socialite Norma McCauley.

Police say Crooker, 31, confessed he stabbed Mrs. McCauley, 33, and garroted her with her own stole after she fell asleep while he begged for a reconciliation.

She was found dead Tuesday morning, the bloody stole knotted about her neck.

Crooker, who was a houseboy in the attractive divorcee's home when he was attending the University of California at Los Angeles, confessed.

Detectives quoted him as saying:

"We talked about an hour, with my trying to get her to come back to me. She either went to sleep or pretended to go to sleep on the chaise lounge.

"When I tried to wake her up to continue our talks, I could not arouse her and this incensed me. I started to choke her with both hands and she started to scream. I put my left hand over her mouth to muffle her scream and reached into my coat pocket for a knife I had found earlier."

He said he stabbed her, made sure she was dead and then left, taking money from her purse.

Mrs. McCauley, mother of three sons, had been attending a July 4 party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson Sr. Thompson is a millionaire contractor.

Split Would Create 500 Million Shares

NEW YORK (AP)—If stockholders approve, the number of authorized shares of General Motors common stock will be raised to 500 million from the present limit of 150 million.

The increase would take care of the proposed 3-for-1 stock split voted by directors of the giant automotive empire yesterday. This would boost the number of GM shares of 92,894,500 to 278,683,500.

Stockholders will vote on both the stock split and the raising of the limit at a special meeting in Wilmington, Del., Sept. 23.

Present GM shares carry a "par value" of $5 a share. This would be changed to $1.67 a share after the increase in authorization. "Par value" has no direct relationship to the market value of the stock, which traded today at about $128.

Hunt for Horses With Mustaches Joined by Paper

"My friends and I," wrote Mrs. Bessie Myers, "have taken to examining strange horses in the street because my husband maintains that some horses have mustaches.

* * *

"More, he says that years ago drivers would wax them.

"So far we've drawn a blank — no mustaches on horses."

The paper, Daily Mirror, answered that it seemed to remember seeing carthorses "with a bit of a walrus effect on the top lip," but it asked its readers for confirmation.

Rules Texas College Must Admit Negroes

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—Federal Judge Joe Sheehy ruled yesterday that Kilgore (Tex.) Junior College must admit four Negro students if the college finds they are scholastically qualified.

Kilgore had been providing bus transportation to Tyler for Negro students to attend Texas College, a Negro institution here.

Menon to Brief Nehru on Talks

India's Roving Envoy Flies to London Today After U.S. Negotiations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Roving Indian Ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon planned to emplane for London this afternoon to give Prime Minister Nehru a full report on his efforts to set up direct U.S.-Red China talks.

Menon met twice with President Eisenhower and three times with Secretary of State Dulles during his month in the United States. The Indian diplomat said yesterday he had "no doubt the talks will make a contribution to lowering tensions in the world, particularly in the Far East."

* * *

Informed sources said privately the Americans made no concrete move to meet the Chinese Communists at the conference table.

After his second talk with Eisenhower yesterday, Menon said the President gave him a good will message for Nehru. The ambassador will meet his boss Friday.

Menon had already conferred with Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai concerning Chou's offer in April to negotiate directly with the United States on Far Eastern problems.

Following Menon's return to India, the Reds released four U.S. airmen held since the Korean War. American officials indicated the fate of other Americans still held in China was the chief issue discussed with Menon in Washington.

Auto Bootlegging Curb Gets Some Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation aimed at stamping out new car "bootlegging" has drawn the support of auto dealers but opposition from some government agencies.

The House Commerce Committee held hearings yesterday on a bill by Rep. Williams (D-Miss). The measure would permit automakers to enter into agreements with dealers to bar the sale of new cars to any "unauthorized person," such as used car dealers, for resale at cut prices.

Held for Bad Checks

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Ervin Storkel, 36, of Mount Clemens was handed over to Port Huron authorities Wednesday on charges of writing $50 in worthless checks. Police said Storkel also is wanted for questioning in bad check cases in Detroit, Mount Clemens and Western Michigan.

Chooses Wrong Cycle

DETROIT (AP)—Raymond O'Con was sentenced Wednesday to 21 to 24 months in prison. The offense: Stealing a motorcycle—from the police garage. Officers had to chase him for blocks to catch him.

A-Expert Begs for Scientists

Dr. Libby of AEC Asks Teachers to Encourage Gifted Students

CHICAGO (AP)—A top atomic scientist today called on teachers, for the sake of the nation, to inspire exceptional students to go into scientific research.

Dr. Willard F. Libby of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said the shortage of scientists and engineers "is a matter of serious concern."

In a speech prepared for delivery to the National Education Assn. he said "only about 2 per cent of those judged mentally capable of obtaining Ph. D. degrees do so."

Libby blamed the shortage on "inadequate" instruction in the colleges and secondary schools, a mistaken belief that the fields of discovery are narrowing, and lack of financial reward.

Libby, on leave himself from the University of Chicago faculty, called on the teachers to "inspire" the "superior" student to go on to greater things.

He said: "It is very important that adequate attention always be paid to this small but important fraction of the classes in mathematics and the sciences in high school. In many instances, only inspirational teaching will suffice. Nothing short of an attitude of this sort will excite and maintain their interest."

Scout Still Missing After 2-Day Search

MUSKEGON (AP)—A 12-year-old Boy Scout who wandered away from a hiking group two days ago still was missing today as a search for him spread between a nearby scout camp and his Evanston, Ill. home.

Peter Gorham became separated from the hikers less than a mile from Camp Wabaningo, where he was staying. More than 200 scouts from six camps in the area 12 miles north of Muskegon have been searching for the boy.

Garver's Sliders Key to Tiger Win

Just ask Ned Garver, who pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 5-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox yesterday by scattering 12 hits —and wiggling his glove.

The White Sox, trailing 3-2, filled the bases with two out. Bob Nieman, an ex-Tiger, was sent in to hit for starting pitcher Virgil Trucks.

Now listen to Garver:

"I struck him out on three straight sliders and I know the last one fooled him. Nieman used to hit my slider pretty good so I stopped throwing it to him. I'd pitch him a couple of high fast balls, then a slow nothin' pitch low and outside. It worked real good.

"When he came up this time I fired two quick sliders past him. They caught him by surprise.

"He's a 'guess' hitter and I know he expected another slider. The catcher gave me the sign for it, all right, but I shook my head no. But at the same time I was wiggling my glove. That means even though I was shaking my head no, I was okaying the pitch.

"He sure was surprised when the slider cut across the plate."

As it turned out, that was the White Sox last big threat, although they had the tying run at the plate in the 9th inning before Garver retired Minnie Minoso on a ground out to record his 1st victory since June 7.

"Sure, I gave up a lot of hits," he said, "but I won and that's all that counts. There are too many times in this game when you give up a few hits and lose."

Al Kaline started the Tigers off on the right foot, rifling a two-run homer over the left field screen. The kid also picked up a double later, and his 2-for-3 day pushed his batting average back to .375—by far the best in either league.

Kaline's homer was his 18th, tying him with New York's Mickey Mantle for the league lead. It also gave him 65 runs batted in, three behind Boston's Jackie Jenson.

Maybe, like someone hinted recently, Kaline will capture the triple crown in his 2nd full season in the majors. Certainly, he shows no signs of letting up.

After the game, he said the pitchers were working the same way to him. "Nothing different," he said. "They're still serving 'em up and I'm still swinging."

Fred Hatfield accounted for Detroit's 3rd run with a homer in the 2nd inning, his 6th of the season. Tigers added two more in the 8th on run-scoring singles by Earl Torgeson and Ray Boone.

55 Hopeful Youngsters Get Tryouts

Fifty-five boys, ages 18-23, reported for opening day workouts Wednesday at the two-day major league baseball tryout camp now being conducted by the Baltimore Orioles at Pontiac's Wisner Field. The number is expected to swell before the camp breaks up today.

Baseball hopefuls were present from near and not-so-near. Among the cities and towns represented were Pontiac, Birmingham, Dearborn, Hamtramck, Detroit, Lake Orion, Goodrich, Clarkston, Fenton, Holly, and distant Elkton.

Mickey Walker made the journey to Pontiac from the small village in Michigan's Thumb region for a crack at the big time. Walker starred as a pitcher and all-around athlete at Elkton High School, from which he graduated this year.

Tony Stiel of Birmingham, Baltimore scout for this area, is in charge of the camp. Assisting him are Lou D'Annunzio, a one-time scout for the Detroit Tigers, who now is the Midwest supervisor of scouts for the Oriole franchise; Ernie Zubalik of Pontiac, former St. Frederick's star athlete, now a part-time scout for the Baltimore club, and Art Conn of Detroit.

Baseball fundamentals were stressed during the 1st day's sessions. Batting, fielding and throwing drills received emphasis and Stiel devoted considerable time to the problems facing young pitchers.

A perpetual game is on todays' agenda, scheduled to start at 11 a.m. The non-stop contest is designed to give every candidate a chance to play and allow the scouts to study the performances under actual game conditions.

Baltimore generally pursues a "hands off" policy for American Legion prospects as do all other major league clubs, Stiel said. Legion players are ineligible for the trials unless granted written permission by their manager or coach, Stiel declared.

Puerto Rican Denies League Hurt NY Giants

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—The president of the Puerto Rican Winter League today slapped back at critics who blamed the loop for the poor showing of the New York Giants this season.

"Gomez' poor showing at the start of the season has been used as an unjust measuring stick," said President Ernesto Juan Fonrias. "I have not seen any stories crediting winter baseball with the fine showing of Luis Arroyo of the St. Louis Cardinals."

Williams Concentrates on Left Field Hitting Against Nats

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, left-handed slugging sparkplug of Boston's fast moving Red Sov, is having some fun wrecking the shift against him.

Ted, pounding out three hits in four official trips last night to raise his average to .402 in 25 games, did a job on Washington without once pulling the ball to right field.

His two-run homer in the fifth inning that was the big blow in the 7-5 victory went 400 feet into the left corner of the center field bleachers.

He singled in the second inning on an infield hit to the left side and in the sixth switched his stride to send a double down the left field line while the Nationals' players were moved well around to the right.

The shift on Williams came about in 1946 when then Cleveland Manager Lou Boudreau first pulled it. Since then it's become standard defensive equipment for Red Sox opponents.

Ted's 11th homer of the season and 377th of his major league career was a personal triumph over Washington relief pitcher Dean Stone. Stone's first inning strikeout of Williams in the final game of the 1954 season robbed him of his last chance of catching Cleveland's Bobby Avila for the American League batting crown.

* * *

Williams' slugging average stands at .805 with 10 doubles and 2 triples also numbered among his 35 hits.

Wednesday was a heavy-scoring day on the Pontiac sandlots, with the emphasis on run-making stressed to the greatest extent in the Knothole League.

Biggest output came from the Indians, who larruped Earl's Market, 30-8. Ronnie Joseph collected 5 hits and scored 6 runs in 6 times at bat for the Tribe. Ronnie Strivel and Joseph also shared mound duties and held Earl's hitless for 4 frames.

The other no-hitter was authored by Tom Murphy of Whitfield Cubs. He fanned 9 as he blanked Wing Lake, 15-0. GMC downed the Senators, 11-1, on Dave Abel's one-hit twirling, and Boys Club whipped White Sox, 17-5, with Bob Rabaja and Dick Smith contributing home runs.

Two forfeits were turned in as Dublin Community Center won from Clarkston in Class D, and East Siders in Class F claimed a win over North Side. In the other "F" game, Dick & Wes drubbed West Side, 18-4. Ken Biron limited the losers to 4 hits and Paul Probsch chipped in 3 hits.

Lunsford Market and Boys Club marked up victories in Class E. The unbeaten Boys Clubbers downed Vivian's Beauty Shop, 8-2, with Chuck Johnson, hitting a 2-run homer in the 1st inning.

Lunsford's, whose only loss was to Boys Club, laced St. George, 20-2, as Len Biallas tossed a 3-hitter. Tom Conley and Ron Iverson each had 3 hits for Lunsford's.

Russian Chess Players Win, But U. S. Impresses

MOSCOW (AP) — While they suffered a crushing defeat, the American chess players who lost to the Russians took solace today in the fact they succeeded in exploding the theory that Mikhail Botvinnik was unbeatable.

* * *

The final count was 25-7, which was even worse than the 20-12 winning margin of the Russians last year in New York. But every member of the Russian team was Grand Master of the game. Only Samuel Reshevsky and Isaac Kashdan of the American team were Grand Masters. The others were Masters.

* * *

So with it all, the Americans performed creditably and many officials here expressed the opinion that no other country could have done as well against the powerful Russians.

Reshevsky turned out to be the best news with his victory over Botvinnik. He whipped the great Russian player by 2½-1½, and became virtually the toast of the town. Even the Soviet political chiefs asked to have their pictures taken with him.

Hardtop Racers Have Big Night

Topping the program was the victory in the 25-lap feature by Rusty Kelly of Pontiac.

He took the lead at the halfway point, and fought off repeated challenges by Johnny Wallace of Royal Oak to nose him out in 8 minutes, 30.11 seconds. Dorris Sanders of Troy was 3rd.

Gerry Lafner, also of Pontiac, won the semi-final, while Waterford's Carm Ragatz won the Australian pursuit.

Sanders took the 4-lap dash, and also won a heat, while other heat winners included Lafner, E. Laurain of Pontiac, Ed Lang of Waterford, and B. Nutt of Wyandott.

The Land O'Lakes hardtoppers will be back at the M59 track Saturday night with races starting at 8:30 p.m.

Ex-National Open King Claims Poor Treatment of Visiting Players

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh shook off the effects of yesterday's bad round and posted a two-under-par 70 today in the second round of the British Open golf championships.

His 36-hole total of 145 seemed certain to qualify him for tomorrow's last two rounds, but it left him six strokes behind the early leaders.

D. F. Smalldon, a deliberate Welshman, and Eric Brown, a steady Scot, posted 139 totals to take the early lead. One stroke behind them came Englishman Johnny Fallon, who equalled the St. Andrews Old Course record with a second round of 67. He had a 15 foot putt for a new record on the last green but couldn't make it.

Bulla, who finished in a fit of disgust yesterday after an opening round of 75, said today he "wasn't much happier" because of divot marks on the course that caused him trouble several times.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (INS) —Ed Furgol, his temper somewhat cooled, returned to tricky St. Andrews with four other Americans today to take up the pursuit of the British Open golf championship.

The 1954 U. S. Open champion from Clayton, Mo., who scorched tournament officials yesterday for what he claimed was shoddy treatment of visiting players, began the 2nd 18-hole round of the 72-hole championship with the best score of his group.

But so torrid was the shooting as the three-day championship proper got under way yesterday, that 20 players beat par and Furgol's 71 was only good for 10th place.

Three British professionals wound up deadlocked for the lead with 69's—Dai Rees of Wales, runnerup in the last two British Opens; Syd Scott of England, who shared 2nd place with Rees and Bobby Locke last year when Australia's Peter Thomson won, and Eric Brown of Scotland.

Bracketed at 70 were three-time former champion Henry Cotton, Cecil Denhy, Bernard Hunt and qualifying medalist Frank Jowle, all of England, and Dennis Smalldon of Wales and Ian Martin of Scotland.

Behind Furgol, who shot 71 for the 3rd straight day, having had a pair of them as his qualifying effort, came three other Americans —veteran professional Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., and amateurs Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., and Jim McHale of Philadelphia—all with 72.

The 5th U. S. entry, massive Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh, who figures he has spent $7,000 in six previous stabs at the Open, made another wobbly start with a 75.

Tied with Furgol were 11 others, including Thomson.

'Birdie,' Walker Get $100 Fines for Diamond Bout

CINCINNATI (AP) — Peace and quiet settled over the Cincinnati Redlegs and the St. Louis Cardinals last night but managers Birdie Tebbetts of the Reds and Harry Walker of the Cards and Redbird catcher Bill Sarni have some bills to pay to the National League.

League president Warren Giles yesterday fined Tebbetts and Walker $100 each and Sarni $25 for their parts in a free-for-all fight in the ninth inning of a game between the two clubs here Tuesday night.

The brawl started between the two managers and then most of the players took a hand.

Johnson Shelved for Six Months

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Harold Johnson, longtime No. 1 contender for light heavyweight champion Archie Moore's boxing crown, was suspended for six months last night by the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

The commission, releasing its findings on a lengthy probe of Johnson's May 6 nationally televised bout with Julio Mederos, said Johnson acted "against the best interests of boxing" by failing to report prior to the fight that he was ill.

Johnson collapsed after the second round of the bout with the Cuban heavyweight and commission physicians subsequently reported that he had been drugged some time before he entered the ring.

The findings gave no indication that the commission or police investigators had been able to determine who administered the drug or how it got into Johnson's system.

Too Much Fighting

Tiffs With Mates Figure in Ferris Fain's Release

DETROIT (AP) — Ferris Fain, disgruntled because his knee injury forced him out of the regular lineup, was unconditionally released by the Detroit Tigers yesterday after having several run-ins with his teammates.

On the Tigers' recent road trip, Fain was involved in slight altercations with several of his teammates, including Earl Torgeson, the former National Leaguer who was given Fain's 1st base job three weeks ago after the Tigers purchased him from the Philadelphia Phillies.

In an official announcement, the Tigers said they released Fain because of his physical handicap, but it is no secret that manager Bucky Harris was displeased with his conduct on the road trip.

In Chicago, Fain became involved with Torgeson and Charley Maxwell, a substitute right fielder. Then, on the bus back from Cleveland last Monday, his target was Jack Homel, Tiger trainer.

He appeared in 58 games for the Tigers this season, hitting .264, but he obviously was handicapped by the painful knee injury, sustained last season when he was with the Chicago White Sox.

Fain was hurt in June, 1954, when he slid into Boston catcher Sammy White. He missed the rest of the season and the knee was operated on during the off season.

The Tigers, in dire need of a 1st baseman, gambled and acquired Fain in a six-player swap with the White Sox last Dec. 6. They sent pitcher Ted Gray, 1st baseman Walt Dropo and outfielder Bob Nieman to Cnicago in return for Fain, infielder Jack D. Phillips and pitcher Leo Cristante.

Despite his brief run-in with Torgeson, Fain said he held no hard feelings against him.

Fain twice led the American League in batting when he was with the old Philadelphia A's. He topped the league in 1951 with a .344 mark and again in 1952 with a .327 average.

Fain said he hoped to catch on with some other big league team "if somebody will have me."

7-Run Barrage in 3rd Gives Merchants Win

Auburn Nine Hands Elks a 10-5 Defeat in Six Inning Contest

Auburn's Merchants pushed across seven runs in the 3rd inning to assure themselves of a 10-5 victory over the Elks 723 squad in Class A City League baseball Wednesday night at Wisner Field.

Game was halted at the end of six innings because of darkness. Triumph enabled 2nd place Auburn to stay right on the heels of front running General Motors.

Winners sent 13 hitters to the plate in the wild stanza, four of them hitting safely in addition to the Elks committing six errors afield. The scoring spree more than atoned for the 2nd inning when the Elks tallied four times to take a temporary lead.

Bruce Wilson and Hud Johnson hurled for the Merchants, Johnson receiving credit for the win. Shortstop Walt Honchell sparked Auburn with three hits in four tries. The two teams made a total of 13 errors, the Elks guilty of eight.

Aussies' Hopman Figures Hoad Will Be Better Than America's Tony Trabert in Time to Regain Davis Cup

NEW YORK (AP)— An unusually optimistic Harry Hopman believes he has the man to whip America's Tony Trabert in a pivotal battle for the Davis Cup.

The wiry and wily captain of the Australian Davis Cup team won't say so outright but he doesn't leave much doubt that he thinks a "much more relaxed and settled "Lew Hoad will outgun the Yankee blaster in the big match at Forest Hills, Aug. 26-28.

* * *

"I think Hoad has the prospects of being the greatest player in the world by the time the challenge round comes around," said Hopman. "Lew is much more relaxed and settled now. He hasn't been distracted like he was in Australia last winter when he was courting.

* * *

"Now that he is married he has settled down. He'll be able to concentrate on tennis.

"On a stroke by stroke basis, Lew is the best player in the world. He has the best repertoire of strokes of anyone. Only in the past 15 months he hasn't put the strokes in action. The last time he showed it was in December of 1953."

It was then that the husky youngster made a smashing Davis Cup debut by leading the Aussie forces to a 3-2 victory over the U.S. Hoad whipped Trabert in a five-set duel of power and crushed Vic Seixas in straight sets.

* * *

Last December Trabert and Seixas wrested the cup away by sweeping the first three matches. Trabert scored the big one by walloping the 20-year-old Hoad in four sets.

Although Hoad was beaten in straight sets at Wimbledon by Budge Patty and Trabert went on to capture amateur tennis' greatest individual prize, Hopman said he wasn't "unhappy" over the results. The singles defeats by Hoad and Ken Rosewall (to Denmark's Kurt Nielsen) were compensated by the fine doubles play of two Australian teams, Hoad and Rex Hartwig and Neale Fraser and Rosewall.

* * *

The Fraser-Rosewall duo upset Trabert and Seixas in the semi-finals and then were beaten in turn by Hoad and Hartwig in the finals. The latter pair probably will be the cup combination since Hopman said he doesn't plan to pair Rosewall and Hoad again.

"I was satisfied with the play at Wimbledon," said Hopman. "The lads had played in only one other tournament since January. That was the Queens Club in London just before Wimbledon. At that Hoad needed only a little improvement at Wimbledon.

"If we get to the challenge round I'd say right now our chances are even. I'm hoping it will favor us a little by then."

Hopman, who arrived from London Wednesday with Hartwig to join Rosewall, Fraser and Ashley Cooper, was scheduled to fly to Chicago today to prepare his team for the North American Zone series with Mexico, July 15-17.

Vets on Young Oriole Roster Spill Yanks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Manager Paul Richards may have a sound idea for the future with his youth movement at Baltimore, but when it comes to winning here and now it's the old guys who get the job done for the Orioles.

With a flock of recently signed bonus youngsters on the roster, it was veterans like Jim Wilson (33), Dave Philley (35), Hoot Evers (34), Freddy Marsh (31), Chuck Diering (32) and Hank Majeski (38) who were in the lineup as the Orioles pasted the New York Yankees 4-0 last night.

* * *

The victory didn't mean too much to Baltimore, down in the basement 27½ games out of first, but it pared the Yanks' American League lead to 4½ games over Cleveland's Indians, who beat Kansas City 8-4.

* * *

Wilson was the crafty "old-timer" who sent New York to its fourth straight defeat. The big righthander, in his ninth big league season, gave the Yanks just four hits and didn't let a runner get past first. He fanned four and walked only two, winning his sixth against eight defeats.

It was Wilson, too, who lined a two-run single as the Orioles scored all their runs in the fourth inning off Whitey Ford, who like Wilson, is on the All-Star pitching staff. It was Ford's fourth defeat.

It was the second shutout of the year for Wilson, who had a no-hit game with Milwaukee last season, and it gave the Orioles two straight victories after losing 12 in a row.

While Cleveland closed in on the Yanks, Boston moved up on the third place Chicago White Sox. The Red Sox beat Washington 7-5 after Detroit had knocked off the Pale Hose 5-3. That left Boston 1½ games behind Chicago.

In the National, Brooklyn split with Pittsburgh winning 10-5 and losing 4-1 in a twi-nighter; Milwaukee snared Chicago 5-1; New York beat Philadelphia 4-2, and St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 6-4.

* * *

Cleveland tumbled the A's, who had won 10 of 12, as Bobby Avila doubled across two runs and Ralph Kiner homered for two more in a six-run eighth. Herb Score won it.

Ted Williams kept the Red Sox rolling, hitting his 11th homer, a double and a single to raise his batting average to .402 as Boston made it six straight.

Pittsburgh had consecutive homers by Jerry Lynch, Frank Thomas and Dale Long—tying a major league mark held by many clubs—off Carl Erskine, while losing the opener. In the nightcap, Vern Law fanned 10 and chipped in a run-scoring double.

* * *

Gene Conley, without a victory since June 20, acknowledged his All-Star game selection by winning his 10th with a three-hitter against the Cubs. Ed Mathews' 21st homer was among 11 Milwaukee hits off loser Bob Rush and two reliefers.

PRELUDE TO KNOCKOUT — Archie McBride, Trenton, N. J., heavyweight, sinks to canvas from a right-left combination by Floyd Patterson, of Brooklyn, in 7th round of their scheduled 10-round main bout at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night. This was the 2nd time during the fight that McBride went down for nine-count. He went down for 3rd and final time at 1:46 of 7th round to give Patterson a knockout victory.

Lions 'Walk' Into 1st Place

Sylvan Beaten in Wild Game, 30-16; All-Star Tilt Slated Friday

Waterford Lions had a half-game lead in the Waterford Softball League today, but only after surviving the wildest game of the season Wednesday night at Drayton Plains.

The Lions defeated Sylvan Center, 30-16, in a game that saw four Sylvan pitchers yield a total of 21 walks. Lions scored 13 runs in the 1st inning.

Pitching ace Harlan (Fat) Keith was listed as the starting pitcher, but had an ailing shoulder. When the Lions ran up the supposedly comfortable 13-run lead, he went to the bench. Sylvan promptly tied the score at 13-13 in the 2nd inning.

Lions broke the tie with a single run in the 3rd and made the game a runaway by scoring 16 runs in the next 3 innings. Stan Roosa had a double and 2 singles to pace the Lions.

Chuck Young and Wayne O'Shaughnessy each had 3 hits for Sylvan Center, which lost its 10th decision in 12 games. In the night's other game, Richardson Dairy forfeited to Day's Sanitary Service.

An all-star benefit game is planned Friday night at the Drayton Park. Two teams, the "Yankees," coached by Jack McCaffree, and the "Tigers," led by Jim Burt, will meet at 8 p.m. Proceeds are to go to Frank Keelean, who suffered a broken leg in a recent game at the park.

Hold 'Amateur Day' July 31

Pontiac's Class A City Baseball League will hold Amateur Day on Sunday, July 31, league director George Gary has announced.

A full afternoon of baseball is scheduled for area fans, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Three inning contests involving Midget and Class F teams of the Junior Leagues will open the program.

Team leading the circuit on Thursday, July 21, will be awarded the honor of playing the all-stars. General Motors is the current leader, closely pursued by the Auburn Merchants.

All-star squad will represent the remaining five teams in the league. Starting lineup will consist of players leading in hitting and fielding at their respective positions as of July 21. Starters must play at least three innings. Reserves will be comprised of players finishing 2nd statistically.

Pitching staff will be composed of hurlers topping the league in the won-and-lost columns. No pitcher is permitted to work more than three innings and the order of appearance will be determined by the manager.

All-stars' manager will be the pilot of the runner-up team on July 21. Skippers of remaining teams will complete the coaching staff as assistants.

Players selected for the honor squad must appear unless they are on the injured list, or have been excused by league director.

Sam Snead's Golf School

The dotted arms and hands show the area where you slowly begin to cock the wrist in the backswing. Until this hip-high point is reached, the club shaft should be simply a continuation of your straight left arm which is carrying the club back and, at the same time, winding up your hip and shoulder pivot. When you have reached the top of your backswing, as pictured in the solid line drawing at the left, your hands are in the fully cocked position. Keep them fully cocked until your hands reach the same place where you started to cock them (the hip-high dotted line position). From there on you start sm-o-o-o-thly to uncock them. You finish this important hand action at impact. At the right is a short shot with a highly lofted iron. It should be an upright swing. Notice how our player is bent well over the ball which makes the perpendicular swing easier.

Bass Biting at Pine Lake; 6-Pounder Caught

One of the largest taken from Pine Lake was the 6-pounder landed recently by John Bolton, 14745 Kinthrop, Detroit. Fishing out of Cronk's Boat Livery, Bolton hooked the 22-inch largemouth on a black jitterbug.

Trotters Prep for Hambletonian

Eyes on Scott Frost, Childs Hanover and Colbymite at Goshen

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP)—If the weatherman will behave, they will hold a major test for 3-year-old trotters with Hambletonian ambitions today at Historic Track, and sulky fans can get a glimpse of some of the big stars including one named Colbymite.

* * *

Chief interest in the race, the Historic-Dickerson Cup, will rest in how Scott Frost and Childs Hanover perform. These two, along with Colbymite and the rest were to have raced in the Dickerson cup, 2-out-of-three mile heats, Wednesday. But a heavy 30-minute rain drenched the clay half-mile oval, and all races were postponed 24 hours when the track turned into a sticky glue-like mud.

* * *

The Dickerson Cup will find Scot Frost, world champion 2-year-old trotter, and his stablemate, Home Free, the post-time favorite.

Waterford Nine Stretches Lead in Legion Loop

Leaders Whip Clawson as Rochester Is Upset; Birmingham Wins

Waterford's hopes for the 18th District's position in the American Legion zone baseball tournament were strengthened Wednesday night.

* * *

Dwight Thompson's Waterford club drubbed Clawson, 16-4, while Huron Valley Boys Club was upsetting the 2nd place Rochester team, 7-3. Birmingham stayed in the running by edging Berkley, 4-3.

Rochester and Clawson play a makeup game Friday, then the day of final decision regarding the tournament berth is Sunday as Waterford (6-2) meets Rochester (4-3) twice, including the playoff of an earlier tie.

Birmingham (6-3) will entertain Boys Club.

Waterford romped to a 9-1 lead in the 1st 2 innings against Clawson and coasted for the victory. Jerry Kruskie breezed to a 4-hit triumph and struck out 10. Harry Dearborn paced the Waterford attack with 3 hits.

* * *

Boys Club spotted Rochester a 3-run advantage in the 1st inning, then came back with 4 runs in the 3rd. Dan Lancaster and Dave Gaddis preserved the edge, limiting the losers to 3 hits.

Like the Huron Valley nine, Birmingham was forced to come from behind. Berkley took a 3-run lead in the 1st 2 innings, but Terry O'Connor relieved Don Picmann in the 2nd and blanked Berkley the rest of the route.

* * *

Birmingham picked up a run in the 4th, then pulled it out with 3 runs in the 5th as Ray Podulka's single, a walk and a hit batsman filled the bases. One run was walked home, then Bob Isbell unloaded a 2-run double.

Fish License Sales, Up Over '54 Totals

LANSING (AP)—New records may be set this year in the sale of resident fishing licenses and trout stamps, the conservation department said today.

Dealers have reported selling 115,000 trout stamps and 472,000 fishing licenses, compared to 90,000 trout stamps and 422,000 fishing licenses sold at this time last year.

A. L. McNeil, in charge of licensing, said total sales are the highest on record for this time of the year.

Adolph Rupp No Longer Upset by Reversals

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Basketball coach Adolph Rupp, long known for his excitable antics during games, was asked the other day about those two stunning losses Kentucky suffered last winter by Georgia Tech.

"We beat Georgia Tech 33 times in a row before they beat us. Those things happen. I've never lost a moment's sleep over either one of the defeats. You can't let things like that worry you. Years ago they might have bothered me terribly. But not any more."

Course Records Are Periled at Keller Layout

Tommy Bolt, Younger Circuit Stars Attract Gallery Attention

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Golf's flashy newcomers marched en masse against vulnerable course records today in the opening round of the $15,000 St. Paul Open. But the gallery magnets were a couple of warhorses, Sam Snead and Tommy Bolt.

* * *

No one held much hope for the optimistic par 72 on Keller Course's hardened fairways and flattened rough. The course record of 266 shared by Cary Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum is impressive but definitely within reach.

* * *

A year ago Snead and Bolt hooked up in a nerve-fraying quarter-final duel in the PGA tournament here, won by Bolt on the third extra hole after volatile Tommy blew up in the locker room in mid-match over what he claimed were slights by the gallery.

* * *

Snead, with $11,000 as the all-time top money winner in the St. Paul Open, is an immense favorite here. He won the event in 1946 and took the 1949 Western Open, also at Keller.

Joining the veterans were Jerry Barber, Ed Oliver, Freddie Haas, Dutch Harrison and Henry Ransom.

* * *

But aside from Bolt and Snead, most of the attention and top ratings belonged to younger blood like Mike Souchak, the circuit's leading money winner, Dow Finsterwald, winner of the Vancouver Open last week, Billy Maxwell, Bud Holscher Bob Rosburg, George Bayer and Walker Inman.

* * *

In its present condition, the 6,600 yard Keller layout is especially inviting to long drivers like Bayer and Souchak. Most of the top pros were expected to ignore the skimpy rough and simply go for distance off the tees.

The 160-man field includes former heavyweight champion Joe Louis and his golfing partner, Ted Rhodes. Also entered is former basketball star George Mikan.

'Jersey' Says Golden Rule Best Weapon

WASHINGTON (INS) — Former heavyweight boxing champion Jersey Joe Walcott believes the best way to fight juvenile delinquency is with the Golden Rule.

Walcott told a Senate labor subcommittee yesterday this applies both to children and to parents. The key to stopping juvenile delinquency, he added, is held by the nation's mothers and fathers.

"Actually, and to a larger extent," said Walcott, "what we have to deal with is parent delinquency."

Overtime Tilt, No Hit, No-Run Scrap Mark Loop Play

Shaw's 5-4 victory over Stadium Inn after 11 hectic innings and a no-hit, no-run game by GMC's Doug Hall highlighted Wednesday night's action in men's city league softball.

Shaw's Jewelers tightened its grip on 1st place in the American circuit with its overtime win at Beaudette. Shaw's now leads runnerup Stadium Inn by two full games.

A triple by outfielder Bill Mason and a sacrifice fly to left by Howard Willis scored the winning run in the bottom of the 11th. Mason proved poisonous to Stadium Inn earlier in the contest by blasting a 6th inning home run to tie the score at 3-all and force the battle into extra frames.

Each team collected 10 hits off opposing moundsmen. Clell Morse started for Shaw's, giving way to Glenn (Wimpy) Johnson in the 7th inning. Johnson was the winning pitcher. Verle Sheldon hurled the distance for Stadium Inn.

An error by 1st baseman Lynus Grant following a strikout in the 1st inning prevented General Motors' Doug Hall from hurling a perfect game at North Side Park. Grant muffed catcher Nessy Oshaugh's throw after Riteway's Chet Myren had fanned, permitting him to reach 1st. Myren proved to be Riteway's only base runner.

While Hall was retiring the opposition with monotonous regularity, his teammates were making the most of two hits off Roger Reynolds to hang up a 5-0 triumph.

Both Coacher hits were doubles by J. C. Jenkins and Oshaugh. Hall struck out 11 and walked none for his masterpiece, pitching to only 22 batters.

Patterson Flashes Championship Form

NEW YORK (AP)—"Floyd Patterson is going to be the youngest heavyweight champ of all time."

Cus D'Amato, a "neutral" observer who happens to be Patterson's manager, made that statement last night. Patterson, only 20, had just knocked out Archie McBride, his first man-sized heavyweight foe, after giving away 15½ pounds. The end came at 1:46 of the seventh round at Madison Square Garden with about 2,500 fans watching. McBride was down three times.

It didn't take any advanced math to figure out that Patterson must win before January 4, 1958 for that will be the Brooklyn boy's 23rd birthday. Joe Louis was only 23 when he knocked out Jimmy Braddock to become the youngest heavy champ in history.

* * *

"We'll be in a better position after the Archie Moore-Rocky Marciano bout in September," said D'Amato. "If Moore wins, we might go for the light heavy title. If Marciano wins, we might decide to leap frog the light heavy division."

In the meantime, D'Amato must go out of town to get action for his fighter for the manager went on the indefinitely suspended list after last night's fight. He had been set down for refusing to answer questions about the manage guild activities at the recent hearings of the New York State Athletic Commission.

* * *

Patterson, as calm as ever, didn't have much to say in his dressing room. He had a cut on his left cheek, another cut over the left eye and a scratch on the side of the right eye. "I had him figured after the fourth," he said. "I told Cus I was going to give him a hard time in the next round (fifth)."

* * *

McBride, 26-year-old Trenton, N. J. heavyweight, learned deep respect for Patterson's flashing hands although he thought he had the youngster "on the way" when he caught him with a left hook in the third round. "I lost him," he said. "He was too fast."

As McBride had fought ranked heavyweights like Nino Valdes, Hurricane Tommy Jackson and Satterfield, he was asked to comment on Patterson's ability.

"He'll be a champ," was the answer. "He's much faster than Valdes. He'd outlast Jackson, probably knock him out. Satterfield hits harder, punch for punch. I made my mistake when I got out of my crouch. Let my head out."

Ex-Pro Gridder Joins Staff at Montana State

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Montana State University has added another ex-pro football player to its all-new coaching staff.

John L. (Jack) Zilly has been named head baseball coach. Zilly, 33, also will coach freshman football and basketball at the Skyline Conference school. He played end at Notre Dame as well as for two pro teams—the Los Angeles Rams and the Philadelphia Eagles.

Famine, Then Feast for U-M Wolverines

ANN ARBOR (AP)—In the 1953-54 school year, the University of Michigan failed to win a single conference or national athletic championship.

Colored Geese Not Mirages, Just Experiment

TULE LAKE, Calif. (UP)—Birdwatchers near the Oregon border got the shock of their lives when they spotted pink, yellow, and bright green geese.

The state fish and game department calmed the watchers by explaining it was all part of an experiment. The experiment aims at tracking the birds during the migrating seasons and learning more of their habits.

Assistant Game Biologist, A. W. Miller, said state and federal waterfoul observers have been alerted to watch for the colorful birds all the way from Oregon to the Arctic Circle.

Several hundred birds were dyed for the experiment. Snow geese, the most numerous, were tinted pink, the rarer Ross' geese got a yellow rinse and green was reserved for late migrants.

The birds don't seem to mind the change in color, Miller said, and they'll loose their hues and revert to the normal white during the moulting season.

Just Trucking Along

DETROIT (UP) — If you think there are a lot of trucks on the road now, just wait until 1975. P. J. Monaghan, general manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division, told newsmen that the number of trucks 20 years from now will total 30,000,000, with annual sales running three times as high as at present.

Refrigerator cars are often used in the winter months to transport commodities that might be damaged by freezing.

New Picture Window Causes Nuisances

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—Picture windows and glass block construction make American homes lighter than ever before. They also make them noisier.

Glass doesn't absorb sound waves: It bounces them in close-order echoes.

Sound engineers are stopped, at least for the moment, on the idea of making glass itself sound absorbent. So they have been making every other part of the room surface that way.

Home decorators now put out sound-absorbent material in attractive colors and designs so they can be put up without further decorations, since paint cuts their usefulness.

Wheat Fights to Hold Gains

CHICAGO (AP) — Mills again gave a little support to wheat on the Board of Trade today but the bread grain had difficulty in maintaining early gains in the face of surrounding easiness.

* * *

At best wheat was up only fractionally, meeting opposition to its advance in the form of hedging pressure and some profit-taking from short term traders who had bought earlier in the week. Dealings were active in wheat but not in other cereals.

* * *

Wheat at the end of the first hour was unchanged to ½ higher, July $2.00¾; corn 1/8 to ⅜ lower, July $1.42¾; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, July 64¾; rye unchanged to ½ lower, July $1.02¼ soybeans unchanged to ¼ lower, July $2.42¾, and lard 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $11.82.

DuPont Tripling Holdings of GM

Three-for-One Split to Give 63 Million Shares to Chemical Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — The huge chemical firm of E. I. du Pont de Nemours will own 63 million shares of General Motors common stock when the GM shares are split 3 for 1 early this fall.

* * *

Since 1917, Du Pont has owned a 22.6 per cent interest in GM and at present holds 21 million shares. When the split takes place, this number will be tripled.

There are 45,604,345 shares of Du Pont common outstanding. Thus, after the split, each share of Du Pont will represent about 1⅓ shares of GM common.

Last year, Du Pont collected 92 million dollars, after taxes, in General Motors dividends. When GM sold additional shares in March, Du Pont exercised its right to subscribe, purchasing a million of the new shares for 75 million dollars.

* * *

Christiana Securities Co., a holding company set up by the Du Pont family, owns 27 per cent of Du Pont's common—12,199,200 shares. In addition, Christiana owns 170,000 shares of General Motors.

Christiana shares joined those of GM and Du Pont in rising to record heights following the GM split announcement. The stock closed Tuesday night at $16,500 a share. Wednesday it was quoted at $16,800 bid, $17,500 asked.

There are only 150,000 shares of Christiana common outstanding, which accounts for its high price.

Food Prices Falling on Wholesale List

ISHPEMING (AP) — Full scale operations are under way today at mines of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. after settlement of a strike that started last Thursday night.

Easy Washing Machine Headed for Merger

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Easy washing Machine Corp. today announced its directors had approved a merger with Union Chemical & Materials Corp., Pittsburgh.

They also approved a proposed operating agreement with the Murray Corp. of America, Detroit.

Under the plan, Easy would go out of existence but the other firms would continue its operations in Syracuse.

Judge Denies Union Plea to End Suit

MARQUETTE (AP)—Federal Judge W. Wallace Kent has denied a request by the CIO United Steelworkers that he dismiss a $3,500,000 damage suit filed against the union by Calumet & Hecla, Inc.

The judge also denied a company motion for a temporary injunction restraining picketing by the striking union.

The company's mines and smelter operations have been closed struck in demands for higher wages in a new contract.

Calumet & Hecla filed suit for damages it said resulted in part when the strikers walked out leaving molten copper to harden in expensive smelting equipment.

Ishpeming Iron Miners Win 16.8 Cent Pay Raise

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet Index declined this week to the previous low level of the year.

The Index stood at $6.33, the same figure touched on May 31. That was the lowest since April 7, 1953 when the Index was $6.32.

Foods rising at wholesale included corn, lard, milk, cocoa and steers. Lower were wheat, rye, oats, beef, hams, bellies, sugar, coffee, raisins and hogs.

Dividends Declared

DETROIT (AP)—Regular cash dividends of 50 cents a share on common stock and $1 a share on preferred stock, payable Sept. 1, were declared Wednesday by the Fruehauf Trailer Co. An additional 2 per cent stock dividend, payable Dec. 30, also was declared.

Transit Strike in Capital Nears End of First Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's transit strike neared the end of its first week today with no sign of settlement.

Among suggestions yesterday was one from Chairman Neely (D-WVa) and Sen. Morse (D-Ore) of the Senate District of Columbia Committee for a 60-day recess in the walkout which started last Friday.

The AFL Transit workers Union repeated its opposition to any recess unless the company agrees to arbitration of strike issues unsettled at that time.

The strike has tied up all District and Maryland operations of the Capital Transit Co., and forced 400,000 riders to seek other means of getting to and from work.

The company's 2,400 workers walked out when the company contended it could not meet their demands for higher wages and increased fringe benefits, including pensions.

The union seeks a 25-cent hourly increase for bus and streetcar operators who now earn $1.90 an hour, and 31 cents for mechanics now paid $2.09.

* * *

Financier Louis Wolfson, in San Francisco, says he doesn't know why Sen. Morse wants him to testify before a Senate committee about the walkout.

* * *

The San Francisco Examiner said Wolfson, board chairman of Washington's Capital Transit Co., is at the fashionable Fairmont Hotel here under an assumed name.

* * *

The newspaper quoted Wolfson: "I don't know what that man's point is. He must be crazy. He knew where I could be reached.

* * *

"I really don't know why they want me. A union went on strike, that's all. We have a president, a board of directors. They can handle all this."

Some Tourists in Paris Can't Pay Fare Home

PARIS (AP)—A middle-aged American woman who tucked away nearly $3,000 earned over the years flew to Paris for a fling.

"I always heard people talking about Paris," she said, "So I thought I'd save up and see for myself."

* * *

She turned her dollars into francs and her francs into good times. Days and nights of sightseeing and night-clubbing whirled by. Then there was nothing left but her clothes, seven pieces of luggage—and hotel bills.

An American agency came to the rescue, lent her money, and arranged for her to get back to New York. There she found another job and repaid the agency.

* * *

This year, with some 350,000 Americans making up the biggest postwar pilgrimage to the city of the Eiffel Tower, the U.S. Embassy, the American Aid Society, the American Hospital and the travel agencies are getting plenty of calls for help.

Most Americans come and go without any more trouble than understanding "tripes a la mode de Caen" on a menu. A few, with too much fun on their minds, wind up in a jam.

* * *

Many genuinely helpful Parisians lend a hand to the bewildered American. But accepting help off the beaten track can be dangerous.

Some Americans looking for an easy franc fall on the sidewalk money changer who offers 450 for a dollar—100 above the legal rate. But the black marketeer is also a sleight-of-hand artist, and the francs he leaves in his customer's hands are usually a lot less than the number a bank would have given.

Bituminous coal mining in the United States is twice as safe as it was back in 1910.

Olivier Movie to Be Televised

Sam Levenson Shows New Talent as Emcee on Quiz Program

By JANET KERN
International News Service

Just between us: CBS is due to reveal that it is going to drop the popular "Meet Millie" show to make room for an untested new comedy called "Joe and Mabel"—the story of a taxi driver and his girl friend.

"Millie" was kicked off CBS a long time ago—and the onslaught of viewer protests was so hot and heavy that the network had to restore it quickly.

Ever since, "Millie" has been a popular and profitable program, so now because of an idea for a new show, "Millie" has been ordered to jump in the ashcan, come fall!

BRITISH FILM DUE

On NBC, it is reported that the July 25 "Producer's Showcase" will present a British motion picture, "The Magic Box," starring Sir Laurence Olivier and Robert Donat.

Moreover, the grapevine also whispers that David O. Selznick has obtained the TV rights to Daphine Dumaurier's "Rebecca" to present it on NBC before the end of the year.

* * *

Summer is TV's time of trial and discovery. And so far, the discoveries have been highly encouraging.

For instance, Sam Levinson's first appearance as a quiz MC, as the summer moderator on Herb Shriner's "Two for the Money" demonstrated that Sam's talents go beyond the self-limited field of monology and made it clear that he ought to be snapped up by some smart quiz or panel show.

SID'S SUBSTITUTE

Then, there is Sid Caesar's summer replacement show, "Caesar Presents," with Bill Hayes, Phil Foster, Cliff Norton and several other people . . . a program which, its first time out, showed signs of having everything a comedy program needs to be a rousing success for a full two or three seasons.

Probably the best of the season's new shows, so far, is the "I Love Lucy" replacement called "Those Whiting Girls" with Margaret and Barbara Whiting in one of the easiest-going, calmest, yet funniest comedies to hit our screens since "Lucy" herself debuted.

Let's hope this show, if it stays as fine as its premier for the rest of the summer, doesn't get lost in the fall rush of "Joe and Mabels."

Loses Beard in Bed

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. (UP)—Cecil Adams' wife didn't like the beard he was growing for Cheboygan County's centennial celebration. One night while he was sleeping, she plugged in his elctric shaver and cleaned one side of his face before Adams woke up. Adams took a look in a mirror, plugged in the shaver again and took off the rest of the beard.

BIG SWITCH — Bob Maxwell, WWJ platter-spinner, moves into view on channel 4 tomorrow at 1 p. m. with his new show. Bob's program will feature bop music and celebrity interviews. He also plans talks with sports car enthusiasts and musicians.

Ailing Senator Johnson Still on Serious List

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) was said late yesterday to be making "satisfactory progress" following the heart attack he suffered last Saturday. A hospital report said: "Sen. Johnson has had a comfortable day and is making satisfactory progress. He is still on the serious list."

The Texan is Democratic floor leader in the Senate.

Flint TV Site Hearing Begins

WKNX, WWT, WTOM Object to New WJRT Location in Chesaning

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Federal Communications Commission examiner has begun a hearing on protests against the transmitter plans of a proposed Flint television station.

Worth Kramer, vice president and general manager of WJR, the Good Will Station Inc., Detroit, was the first witness.

The FCC 14 months ago granted WJR a permit to build a channel 12 TV station for Flint. It would be known as WJRT. Its transmitter was to have been erected at Clarkston, 17 miles southeast of Flint and 27 miles from Detroit. The FCC later approved a new transmitter location at Chesaning, 20 miles northwest of Flint.

Protesting the change are television station WKNX-TV, Saginaw; WWTV, Cadillac, and WTOM, Lansing. They contend WJR, from its new transmitter location, would hurt their business. WTOM also claims possible electrical interference with its operation.

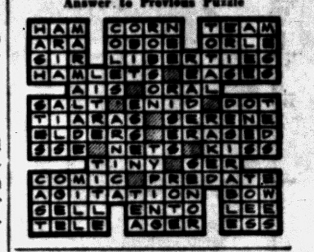

OTHERS WANTED IN

Two other companies which sought authority to build a Flint TV station have appealed the commission's award to WJR to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The rival concerns are Trebit Corp., which operates a Flint radio station, and W. S. Butterfield Theaters Inc., which is partly owned by the University of Michigan.

Examiner Herbert Sharfman said the present hearing probably will continue for several days.

Schools' Rivalry Eased By 'Chicken-Poxed' Actor

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UP)—The rivalry between Huntington High School and Huntington East High School was eased by a case of chickenpox.

The schools chose the same senior play by coincidence. East's production was scheduled a week earlier, but Larry Campbell, who was to play a high school principal in the East version, became ill with chickenpox the day of the performance.

East High sent an SOS to Huntington High and Harry Tweel, who was to play the same role in its version, had a hasty rehearsal with the East cast. The play went on as scheduled.

The probability of an American man dying within a year are 1 in 100 at age 45, rising steadily to 22 in 100 at age 80.

Flier Drops From Sky to Help Change a Tire

BOWMAN, N. D. (UP)—When Mrs. Ole Septon stopped at her mailbox on Highway 85 near here, she noticed that her auto had a flat tire.

While she struggled with repairs other motorists sped past on the highway. But Alfred Miller was more thoughtful.

Mother Hen May Appeal to Union for Overtime

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb. (UP) — John Vallery offers some advice for some amateur farmers who would like sure-fire success in raising watermelons.

This, he says, makes the seeds sprout quickly and eliminates all danger of bugs and beetles getting the germ while the seed is in the ground.
